Air Force Sonic Boom Startles Thousands

Air Force officials admitted today that two jet airplanes "inadvertently" cracked the sound barrier high above Oakland County early this morning, touching off near-panic throughout southeastern Michigan.

The planes set off sonic booms that rudely aroused and alarmed thousands of residents in Oakland County and surrounding areas, who flooded police switchboards with worried questions.

If it was any consolation, an Air Force spokesman pointed out to those whose slumber was shattered that the booms came from the nation's fastest jet plane, the F104 Starfighter, "involved in an exercise to give the Detroit area air protection."

The Starfighter, clocked once at 1,404 miles an hour, holds the world's speed record, said the spokesman, a member of the public information staff at Selfridge Air Force Base.

They were heading north in a routine exercise in which they had orders to intercept an "intruder aircraft" (a Strategic Air Command B52 bomber) headed toward Detroit from north of Pontiac.

It apparently was 30,000 feet or more above south Oakland County that the first jet dove to intercept the bomber at 12:21 a.m., cracking the sound barrier, the spokesman said. The second plane followed suit two minutes later, he added.

The explosions which followed echoed over an area 65 miles wide, embracing about 1,900 square miles and 5,000,000 people.

"Normally, efforts are made during exercises to intercept away from populated areas, but last night the interception inadvertently occurred where it did."

Exercises in which fighter planes "scramble" to intercept "the enemy" he explained, are planned in advance but carried out spontaneously.

Here's Explanation of Sonic Boom

All planes create air pressures that ripple through the air like waves in a pond. But, because of the peculiarity of the human ear, only those pressures are audible that are emitted when a jet plane passes the speed of sound (about 1,100 feet a second). Those slower or faster than sound aren't heard by humans.

At the speed of sound, the pressure trails out behind the plane in a funnel shape, spreading to earth in just one single wave. When that wave strikes your eardrum, it responds by vibrating and you hear a booming sound.

"The fighter pilot's job is to catch the enemy as soon as he can, wherever he can," it was pointed out.

Selfridge officers said the Air Force regretted disturbing the sleep of so many people, but pointed out that the exercises were a vital part of the Air Force's continual preparation for meeting enemy attacks.

The blast had a double beat to it that closely identified it with an unusual, but distinct peculiarity of some sonic booms.

The first boom, generally described as a deep rumble, was immediately followed by a lesser—but sharper — bang, most people said.

Although most sonic booms are caused by a wave of pressure from the nose and wings of a fast-moving jet, occasionally a second wave is produced by the tail. Apparently two pressure waves were heard last night.

Many persons said their houses were shaken by the shock. There

UAW Kicking Around Idea of $2 Boost in Union Dues

Steel on Ike's Mind as He Flies Home

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—President Eisenhower boarded an Air Force jet liner and left his Southern California desert vacation retreat today bound for Washington.

The President on arrival is expected to make a speedy decision on use of the Taft-Hartley law in the steel strike.

Meanwhile, acting on Eisenhower's orders, government attorneys in New York moved to seek a court order sending 85,000 striking longshoremen back to work from Maine to Texas.

There was little doubt a Taft-Hartley law injunction—requiring an 80-day return to work—would be issued promptly in U. S. District Court.

A judge's ruling was required, but never before has an injunction been refused in the 15 previous times the government has invoked the law's emergency provisions.

A court order ending the week-old strike was expected to send the workers back to the docks no later than Friday.

William V. Bradley, president of the striking International Longshoremen's Assn., said, "When we receive the order we will comply with it."

Steel negotiators in Pittsburgh came up against Eisenhower's implied strike settlement deadline without hope of quickly ending the 86-day-old strike and apparently resigned to government use of the Taft-Hartley law.

Each side said it did not want

Train-Car Crash Takes 6th Victim

Mother Dies in Hospital Leaving 2 Children Only Survivors of Tragedy

Mrs. Lynn D. Morris, 35, died of her injuries in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

The Morris car skidded into the side of a New York Central Railroad Beeliner three and a half miles northwest of Lapeer, killing the father, 38, and four of the Morris children who ranged in age from seven months to nine years.

Mrs. Morris and their eldest son, Earl, 16, suffered critical injuries in the accident. Earl remained in critical condition today.

Conservatives Favored to Win in English Vote

Both Parties Confident of Victory as Britons Choose Government

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative party was favored to win an unprecedented third term in office today as Britons voted to elect a new House of Commons.

Eleventh-hour public opinion polls, the stock market and the bookmakers — legal in Britain—all indicated the Conservatives would win a majority of the 630 House seats and with it five more years in control of the government.

After a final canvass of 100 key voting districts, Conservative leaders predicted their majority would be about 50 seats, three less than when Parliament was dissolved Sept. 18.

The Laborites also predicted victory for their side by a majority of about 15 seats.

Three final public opinion polls showed a jump in Conservative popularity. But they still reported a massive 16 per cent of "don't knows"—people who either hadn't decided which way to vote or wouldn't tell their decision.

On the London Stock Exchange steel shares made substantial gains. This indicated Britain's financiers were confident of a Conservative victory for Labor threatens to put the steel industry under government ownership if elected to office.

The bookies also were still betting on the Conservatives. You had to put up three pounds on the Tories for a chance at winning only one pound.

Reuther at Convention; Denies Large Income Tax Claim

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The United Auto Workers International Convention, opening here tomorrow, will be asked to raise dues to replenish the Union's strike-drained treasury.

How much has not yet been determined by the executive board in pre-convention policy-making sessions.

"We are still kicking it around," UAW President Walter P. Reuther said last night when asked by newsmen what the dues increase recommendation would be.

Union leaders say a dues increase is necessary to offset a decline in income that started during the 1958 recession when several hundred thousand members were laid off, and also to build up the strike fund.

The Union paid out nearly ten million dollars in strike benefits during the first six months of this year and the strike fund has dropped from nearly 20 million dollars last Dec. 31 to under 15 million despite a current special assessment of $1 a month.

On another front, the UAW said today that Reuther has made an additional income tax payment of $615 to the government for the three-year period of 1955-57.

But in the statement it denied a published report that there was a $31,000 tax claim against Reuther. It said the tax payment was on expense allowances — mostly travel costs — totaling $1,905.

DENIES REPORT

The union also denied a report by the Detroit Times that tax claims totaling $3,250,000 against 527 employes of the union were settled for $106,000.

It said UAW officers and staff members have made individual settlements with the government on expense accounts resulting, it said, from a "change in interpretation of this part of the Internal Revenue code."

★ ★ ★

"Any objective evaluation of the expense allowances of UAW officers would show them to be modest in comparison to those of many other labor organizations," the UAW said. "In comparison to the expense allowances for business executives they are insignificant."

★ ★ ★

The board reportedly was considering a proposal which would make basic dues $5 a month, an increase of $2 over the current level of $3.

Reuther ran into considerable

At the time of the attack, he was visiting his cattle ranch, arriving there last Thursday. The 69-year-old former president of General Motors has not had any previous heart attacks.

Gives Them What For

LONDON (UPI)—The Daily Mirror today published an election day reminder for devoted television viewers. The front page reminder said: "To hell with the telly until we've all voted."

Ziem Resigning Dec. 1, but Who'll Replace Him?

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem today confirmed reports he plans to step down from his position Dec. 1 to prepare for his elevation to Oakland County circuit judge the first of next year.

Questioned by The Pontiac Press, the four-term Republican prosecutor said he would spend December "getting together those things necessary before I take the bench."

Since Ziem's election to the bench in April, speculation has mounted as to who his successor will be. Mentioned most frequently is Chief Assistant George Taylor.

The five Oakland judges in all probability will soon make Ziem's Dec. 1 announcement date official with a statement pointing out how and when his successor will be named.

It has been precedent several times in Oakland County history that the chief assistant moves up. Donald C. Noggle was elevated to the top post in 1944 after being Prosecutor Charles L. Wilson's chief assistant.

Noggle named present State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge his chief assistant. Lodge moved up as prosecutor in 1946 when Noggle resigned under pressure.

Others, including several of Ziem's longtime assistants, have been mentioned as being in the running for the $13,500-a-year job.

Also mentioned in some circles has been present Circuit Judge Theodore F. Hughes who will be leaving his short-term, six-month judicial post when Ziem begins his six - year term. A Republican, Hughes said he plans to return to his law practice in Berkley.

LAW NAMES JUDGES

Michigan law states that the circuit judges of Oakland's Sixth Judicial Circuit will name Ziem's successor.

★ ★ ★

This term's presiding circuit judge, William J. Beer, said the new prosecutor will "have to be" named prior to Jan. 1 when Ziem ascends the bench and

Couldn't Get Job, Claims Comic

Banned Over Quiz Fix Charges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An unemployed comedian testified today he has been blackballed by the New York entertainment business because he "blew the whistle" on a rigged television quiz show.

The testimony was given to a House subcommittee by Edward Hilgemeier Jr., 25, of Kew Gardens, N. Y., who had touched off the TV quiz program scandal 17 months ago by charging that the "Dotto" show was fixed.

Hilgemeier testified after two former contestants on "Dotto" told the congressional probers that they got answers in advance.

One of them, David Huschle, young manager of a New York City restaurant, said the program was rigged to permit him to win $11,600 but that he then was ordered to "take a dive." Under questioning, he said he went along and participated in the fix.

Mrs. DuBarry Hillman of New York City, said she was given warm-up questions that tipped her off to answers which enabled her to win $1,460 in five appearances. She said she got a stern "shhh!" when she publicly thanked program aide Stan Green for the help she received.

Asked whether she felt fraud was involved, Mrs. Hillman said she was "perfectly blithe" about the experience. She said everybody was having a "good time."

Hilgemeier said that since he made his complaints public last year "I can't get a job in New York."

"I can't even get an audition," he added. "They won't even look at me. I've been thrown bodily out of several places."

Hilgemeier was a stand-by contestant for the daytime version of "Dotto" carried over the CBS network. He never actually got on the program but said he picked up notes of an actual contestant, Maria Winn, which proved she had been given answers in advance.

Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) said Miss Winn backed up Hilgemeier's charges when both appeared before a New York City grand jury. Miss Winn is in Europe now.

Hilgemeier's involvement in the show eventually netted him $1,500.

CALLED IN QUIZ PROBE—Former producer of "21," Albert Freedman, left, and Daniel Enright, co-owner of the TV show, were questioned in a closed hearing yesterday about charges that contestants on the quiz program were supplied with answers and told when to win and when to lose. A number of former contestants have admitted that they were supplied with the answers and coached on appropriate gestures.

Army Unveils New Firepower

Rocket Artillery Offers Close Troop Support, Better Tank Shown

ABERDEEN PROVING GROUNDS, Md. (UPI) — The Army today unveiled a new hybrid artillery piece called the "moritzer" which fires a rocket-motored shell to give lethal close support to troops.

Demonstrating a raft of new weapons, the Army also said its 75-mile range, solid-fueled Sergeant missile is light enough to be transported by air to any point in the world for supporting Army units.

A third front-runner in the Army's stable was the diesel engined M60 main battle tank carrying a 105 millimeter gun of British design. It will replace the present Patton Tank which carries a 90 millimeter gun.

The Army demonstrated 50 new weapons and other items of combat equipment at an all-day showing for 6,500 members of the American Ordnance Association.

The "moritzer," so named because it is a combination mortar and howitzer, is a 155-millimeter close support artillery weapon using the "booster rocket principle." The shell is boosted by the moritzer and then proceeds under its own rocket power at great speed.

Ziem Resigns Dec. 1 —but Who Follows?

sometime after his planned Dec. 1 resignation.

"There's no particular machinery set up for the appointment other than it will be up to the judges to make it," Judge Beer said.

* * *

This will leave the decision up to three Republicans and two Democrats, although judges are elected and serve on a nonpartisan basis.

Judges Beer and Clark J. Adams are Democrats, while veteran senior Judges Frank L. Doty and H. Russel Holland, and Hughes, are Republicans.

* * *

PROBABLY REPUBLICAN

The appointee likely will be a Republican and carry his party's colors in the November balloting.

The interim successor does not necessarily have to be a member of Ziem's present staff of 12 assistants.

* * *

However, odds are heavy that he will be. He could be any practicing attorney from the county, an observer said.

Ziem joined the Prosecutor's Office in 1947 as an assistant. He was named chief assistant in 1950 and elected first as prosecutor in 1952.

He was re-elected in 1954, 1956 and last year. He is 43 and lives at 595 Sylvan Shores, Waterford Township.

Reuther Is Talking Hike in Dues at Convention

opposition two years ago in putting through an increase of 50 cents a month.

But the leader of Reuther's opposition at the 1957 convention, Carl Stellato, president of the big Ford Rouge Plant Local No. 600 in Dearborn, Mich., is not a delegate at this convention.

Stellato plans to arrive here Sunday as an observer. He reportedly is staying in the background of Union politics and preparing for another try at the Democratic nomination for congressman in his district next year. He was defeated in the primary last year.

EXPECTS TO WIN

Reuther apparently has the power to win approval of a dues increase without too much difficulty. He also is expected to be re-elected president at next Tuesday's session along with other top Union officers on his slate.

The executive board contributed one million dollars last month to the United Steelworkers' strike and the convention will be asked to authorize further monthly contributions as long as the steel strike continues.

The UAW had an average number of 1,143,707 dues-paying members in the first six months of 1959, compared to the 1958 average of 1,026,050. Two years ago the union had a dues paying membership of 1,300,000.

To recoup, the Union is planning an aggressive organizing drive, particularly among white collar workers.

Despite financial troubles, the UAW isn't broke. Secretary-treasurer Emil Mazey reported the Union's net worth on June 30 as $24,975,231.67, a decrease of $3,533,305.98 from last Dec. 31.

* * *

Reuther said the convention will be asked to continue the board of review, which was created two years ago to keep an eye on the Union's morals and ethics.

He said the present seven members will be reappointed, with the exception of Chancellor Clark Kerr of the University of California, who declined reappointment because he has not had time to attend meetings in Detroit.

* * *

On the tax question the UAW said Reuther's "sole income is his UAW salary of $22,000 per year since he receives no salary as president of the industrial union department or as vice president of the AFL-CIO, and he contributes any other fees or honorariums for writings or speaking engagements to a scholarship fund."

* * *

Reuther has made no effort to hide his personal finances, for he gave the McClellan committee, on a purely voluntary basis, without being requested to do so, his income tax returns for the last 14 years and made available all his personal records to Carmine Bellino, the special staff accountant of the McClellan committee," the UAW said.

Steel on Ike's Mind as He Flies Home

government legal intervention. United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald said his union would undertake a legal fight to prevent it. But he said workers would obey the law of the land.

The actions of both sides, however, indicated they preferred operating under a court injunction rather than acceptance of the other's demands for a dispute-ending agreement.

The last joint negotiating session was held Tuesday night. It ended in complete deadlock. Since then there is no evidence that either side has attempted to arrange further joint meetings.

In ordering court action on the dock strike, Eisenhower repeated that if the strike were permitted to continue, it would imperil national health and safety and affect the food supply of the heavily populated Atlantic and Gulf Coast areas.

* * *

A fact-finding board held hearings in Washington Wednesday morning, wrote its report during the afternoon, and dispatched it by Navy jet plane Wednesday night to Eisenhower's vacation headquarters.

Plane's Sonic Boom Awakens Thousands

* * *

Scattered reports of damage were being investigated. A Milford woman reported she returned home after the blast to find her picture window shattered. Sheriff's detectives felt, though, that the damage might be attributed to children throwing stones.

The boom was heard in Essex, Ont., 15 miles southeast of Windsor; as far south as Monroe, as far west as Ypsilanti and Brighton and as far north as Lake Orion and Oxford.

Porch lights flashed on up and down hundreds of residential streets in the Pontiac area as residents looked outside for the cause of the boom.

* * *

A peculiarity of sonic booms, according to the Air Force, is that they seem to originate in the vicinity in which they are heard. They also seem to come "from all around" instead of from one direction.

* * *

Pontiac police handled more than 100 telephone queries, and several hundred worried people flooded the Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. switchboard with calls.

There were mixed reactions to the boom. Some thought it was an automobile backfiring, others said it sounded like a gun report.

There were others who, wakened suddenly from sleep, immediately connected the noise with prowlers.

"I thought it might be a bomb—that we were being attacked," said Mrs. Amelia Sands, 646 Homestead St.

* * *

Doing a little late house cleaning, Mrs. Sands said the shock caused her vacuum cleaner to jump out of her hands.

* * *

Mrs. Mildred Goss, 4173 Fieldview St., Commerce Township, was sleeping when the sound woke her.

She ran down three flights of stairs to the basement to check whether her new automatic furnace had exploded. It hadn't.

Aroused from her sleep, Mrs. Jean C. Lawson, 132 N. Telegraph Rd., thought her husband, Harley, had fallen out of bed. But Lawson was sleeping peacefully through the boom.

A Birmingham man feared it was the beginning of an atomic attack. "With all the talk about atomic bombs, you can imagine how it felt to be awakened this way," he angrily told Birmingham police.

* * *

The Birmingham station was one of the busiest, handling telephone calls. More than 50 came in within a few minutes.

One caller was Birmingham Police Lt. Robert Schaule, 1623 Webster St., who had just retired for the night when he heard the noise.

"I thought it was a gas explosion somewhere in the neighborhood," he said. "That sort of thing scares the daylights out of you."

Law agencies, checking quickly with each other by radio and telephone, immediately discerned that the boom was heard over such a wide area that its cause, if not a big bomb, was probably a jet plane.

Since there were no reports of a bomb, the latter explanation was quickly accepted.

* * *

Detroit police reporter receiving more than 1,000 telephone calls and other police units in south Oakland, Macomb and Washtenaw counties were swamped with queries.

* * *

Residents of Essex, Ont., said they heard a low-flying jet plane approach the ground and then climb. The maneuver was followed by an explosion, they said.

Freed in Fatal Shooting of Wife

Ex-Commerce Twp. Man Is Acquitted After 70 Minutes' Deliberation

It took a Circuit Court jury of 10 women and two men 70 minutes yesterday to acquit Elmo Marshall, 48 - year - old former Commerce Township man, of manslaughter in the shooting death of his wife.

Marshall, earlier in the day had taken the stand to say the Feb. 15 shooting of his wife Mabel, 44, was an accident.

Assistant Prosecutor Anthony Renne called two doctors, two sheriff's officers, and Marshall's daughter and son-in-law in an attempt to show Mrs. Marshall died April 6 as a result of a .38 caliber bullet wound in her stomach. The cause of death was listed as meningitis.

* * *

However, the daughter, Mrs. Hazel A. Fishell, at whose home the Marshalls lived, at 1841 Point Dr., testified Tuesday that her mother told her she had been shot by her father. "But he didn't mean to do it . . . it was an accident," she quoted her mother as saying.

Later in the hospital, her mother repeated this and said she didn't plan to press charges against her 300-pound husband, who is unemployed because of a heart condition, said Mrs. Fishell.

The prosecution then charged Marshall with careless use of firearms. This was changed to manslaughter when Mrs. Marshall died.

Can't Fly U.S. Flag at Bases in Spain

MERIDEN, Conn. (UPI) — Rep. Frank Kowalski (D-Conn.) protested to President Eisenhower Wednesday that the American flag is not permitted to fly at U.S. military bases in Spain.

He said Ambassador John Lodge advised him the flag can't be flown because "this would cause the United States difficulties with the Franco government."

★ ★ ★

Kowalski said "I cannot believe that the American people, who have contributed almost one and one-half billion dollars in military and economic aid to Spain, should have to accept this humiliating decision."

Track Sale at Jackson 'Unofficially' Refused

JACKSON (AP) — The Jackson County Board of Supervisors has turned down what racetrack owner Leon A. Slavin described as his final offer to purchase the 40-acre Jackson County Fairgrounds in downtown Jackson. Slavin offered $185,000.

Slavin has operated the Jackson raceway on the fairground's track since 1949. He estimates its average betting handle is $2,500,000 for a 36-night harness racing meet.

Slavin, who lives in Kalamazoo, said he would be forced to move his racing operation from Jackson unless supervisors agreed to sell him the fairgrounds. He declined to say what sites he was considering, but did say he might lease an established track.

Supervisors "received and filed" Slavin's final offer. They declined to vote on whether they wanted to sell, which members said amounted to a turn-down.

Fire Prevention Must Be Day-to-Day Habit

Fire prevention should not be a once-a-year reminder, instead it should become a day-to-day habit. Statistics show that 75 per cent of all fires result from carelessness.

Facts show that the United States listed nearly 850,000 fires last year, with 300,000 of them in homes. About 11,500 persons died in these fires.

★ ★ ★

Most of these deaths were unnecessary. Responsible people, both grown-ups and youngsters, were just plain careless. They allowed their shiftless ways to snuff out a life needlessly.

Figures of the overall total show 3,100 were persons aged 65 and over. Among the child victims, 2,320 were four or under and 1,370 were between 5 and 14.

Matches and smoking lead the list of causes of fire, with electricity and defective electrical equipment a close second.

Gasoline Tax Increase Keeps Roads Building

Every American motorist is now paying a penny more in Federal gasoline taxes. For this added tax, expected to raise $500 million, motorists will have the assurance that the 41,000 mile interstate superhighway construction program will continue although not up to schedule.

President Eisenhower had asked for a 1.5 cents a gallon Federal tax. This would have raised an estimated $750 million and would have enabled the Federal Government to allocate the full $2.2 billion scheduled for the road program.

However, last year Congress in trying to stave off the recession, increased the amount to $2.5 billion. This year it was cut back to $2 billion but due to the pay-as-you-build amendment to the Highway Act, that sum had to be lowered to $1.8 billion, the amount now available in the trust fund. The states will also receive $875 million from direct Congressional appropriation for primary, secondary and urban extension roads for fiscal 1960 and 1961.

The gasoline tax pays only part of the trust fund. One-half of the present 10 per cent Federal excise tax on automobiles and five-eighths of the 8 per cent tax on parts and accessories will be paid into the Highway Trust Fund. This also will amount to $500 million.

Cost of the 16 year program has jumped from an estimated $27 billion in 1956 to $45 billion. Part of this was due to a 15 per cent increase in construction costs and in part because Congress added 1,000 miles to the program and set higher standards.

Under the Highway Act, the Secretary of Commerce is required to make a full report on planning allocations, standards and aid formula in January, 1961. Congress can then revise the program as it sees fit.

America's Allies Urged to Carry More of Load

At a meeting of the Governors of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund Treasury Secretary ANDERSON called for a review of trade restrictions and for more contributions by other industrialized nations to less developed countries.

In the first few years of the postwar period, the United States was the only industrial power able to produce beyond its own needs. This country helped Western Europe and Japan back to prosperity and shouldered the bulk of the assistance extended to underdeveloped countries.

Mr. ANDERSON spoke of our $4.5 billion foreign accounts deficit for this year. He called attention to the fact that the other industrial countries of the free world had substantial payments surpluses not only in the U.S. but in the less developed countries.

Despite this changed picture, many industrial powers trading and even competing with the U.S. have maintained discriminations against dollar imports no longer needed for their protection. This, together with foreign hoarding of dollars has lessened the financial assistance that should be available for the economic growth of backward areas.

Of course, the U.S. has never carried the whole burden. Countries such as Britain, France, West Germany and Japan feel that at present they are exporting as much capital to those nations as is safe. However, the industrialized powers are giving earnest consideration to the Secretary's statement.

As there now is no dollar shortage, these nations all agreed that trade barriers against U.S. goods should be lowered gradually to prevent any sudden dislocation. Some of them already have moved in that direction.

To sum it all up, the Administration rightly thinks that the time has come for America's allies not only to lower their trade barriers but to shoulder more of the foreign economic aid load.

If He Can Make It Home

David Lawrence Says:

Nikita Is Calling China's Signals

WASHINGTON—What is Khrushchev's game in Red China? Since no formal communique was issued after his visit to Peiping, there have been some observers here and abroad who have jumped to the conclusion that all is not well between the Red China regime and the Soviet government.

LAWRENCE

But there are evidences that the Soviet Premier is playing a skillful role of seeming to avoid responsibility for what has been happening in the Far East—if only to convince Americans that he really means to be a peacemaker.

Actually the Moscow government is believed not only to be behind the trouble stirred up by the Communists in Laos, Pakistan and India but has been calling the signals on Quemoy.

Secretary of State Herter made a significant comment about all this at his Tuesday press conference, where the following colloquy occurred:

"Q. Mr. Secretary, how do you reconcile what you said about the possibility of a split between Russia and Red China on foreign policy and the statement of the Chinese . . . that they acknowledge Khrushchev as head of the Communist world?

"A. Well, that was a very difficult one to explain. There is no question in our mind that that demand for recognition as the leader of the Communist world places upon the Russians a degree of responsibility for the actions of other members of the bloc that is very real. . . .

"To a degree they (the Soviets) are responsible, as long as they are maintaining this position of being the leader in the bloc, and insisting, as they seem to have, each time they go to China, that the Chinese recognize that leadership.

TO BLAME FOR CHINA?

"Q. Do you mean by that, sir, that in the view of American policy, the Soviet government has some responsibility for China's action toward Korea, or Formosa, or Laos, specific places of that kind?

"A. A degree of responsibility, as long as they maintain that they are the leaders of the bloc."

From another well-informed individual, highly placed in the field of Far Eastern diplomacy, comes an authoritative comment to this correspondent:

"The Red Chinese are dependent upon the Soviet Union for this 'leap forward' program because it is already in the doldrums and it would be infinitely worse if they lost Moscow's support. Actually, I think, there is a lot of wishful thinking about Red China's relations with the Soviets.

"I think they are working in absolute collusion. I think Mr. Khrushchev is cleverly pursuing a tactic. I don't think either one of them has changed in any way their ultimate objectives."

"Maybe," it was suggested, "Mr. Khrushchev is trying to get prestige in the West as the man who is keeping Red China from jumping on us." Here is the reply:

"As a matter of fact, Khrushchev is the one who can keep them from doing it because they are dependent upon Russia for their basic materials and spare parts and planes and guns and ammunition.

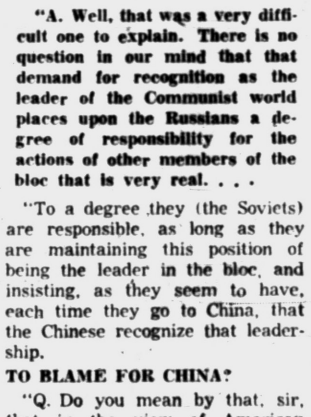

"You know our people examined hundreds of shells that were fired at Quemoy and Matsu, and not a single solitary one of them was made in China.

"Red China could not get into a major war without the consent of Russia because, after the Chinese used up their first reserves, Russia would have to supply them through that long line of communication down through Siberia.

"So that the very fact that Red China is dependent upon the Soviets is a great factor for peace in the Pacific."

The Country Parson

"The fellow who allows himself to think about doing wrong shouldn't be surprised if eventually he does it."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Good Physicians Doubt Thymico-Lymphaticus

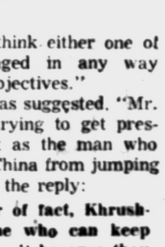

A Western reader writes:

"We lost our only granddaughter—they were ready to remove her tonsils, but she died under anesthesia — the doctor said she had an enlarged thymus and the effect caused her death . . . I wish people would realize what can happen. . .

(Signed ———)"

Enlarged thymus, eh?

This was formerly a convenient explanation for sudden death of infants or young children. In fact there was a plausible presumption, accepted as fact by many physicians, of so-called status thymico-lymphaticus, a condition in infancy and early childhood, characterized by enlargement of the thymus gland, stridor (noisy breathing) choking spells and sometimes cyanosis (bluish color).

DR. BRADY

Today good physicians doubt the very existence of the thymico-lymphatic state.

Moreover, a good many infants and young children have "enlarged thymus," as demonstrated by X ray, but never any of the signs or symptoms mentioned above.

Accordingly physicians of the present era have generally piped down about "enlarged thymus" or the thymico-lymphatic state—except in cases where deep anesthesia proves fatal.

Instead of postulating "enlarged thymus" or thymico-lymphatic state, the perpetrators of tonsillectomy today have another alibi, namely, "cardiac arrest," or in ordinary language, the heart stops beating.

Doctors who still attempt to "get every bit of tonsil" must necessarily make a major operation out of it, which is attended with grave risks in every instance, more serious hazards, in fact, than ordinary abdominal operations.

Surgery is frequently necessary to prevent or relieve obstruction of breathing, impairment of hearing, interference with swallowing or thickening or deadening of the voice by enlarged tonsils. The minor operation, tosillotomy, instantaneous "clipping" or slicing off the obstructing portion, is all that is justified in such circumstances.

Tonsillotomy (done with the tonsillotime or snicker-snee requires no more time, takes no deeper anesthesia and involves no greater risk than extraction of a tooth.

★ ★ ★

Operators who dissect deep in the neck in the attempt to "get every bit of tonsil" (as though tonsil tissue were malignant) usually leave portion of tonsil in the throat and frequently remove bits of throat muscle — working blindly in a blood covered field. Whereas the doctor sees clearly what he is doing when he merely slices off the obstructing portion of tonsil.

As reports of these tragic tonsillectomies continue to come from here, there and everywhere, and I continue sounding off about it, apparently to deaf ears, sometimes I become discouraged and, if I reach this point just a few minutes too late to get to the bowling green in time for the afternoon draw, I'm in the dumps and unable to write for the rest of the day.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

'What's Fair Price if You Don't Want to Sell Home?'

Under urban renewal you get "a fair market price for your home." In my opinion that price is fair only if the property is for sale. If you are being forced to sell something you don't want to sell, no price would seem fair.

Also, if you have to go out and pay two or three thousand dollars more for a place to live and go into debt when your home was free and clear, how fair is that?

Youngster's Work Was All in Vain

'We Should All Have Nikita's Honesty'

Having read with great interest your fine editorial on Khrushchev and the many letters from your reading public, I readily admit this man and his communistic philosophy nauseates me. However, Mr. K. has a certain amount of honesty.

He frankly admits being an atheist, a militant Communist and a ruthless foe of anything or anyone that stands in the way of Soviet expansion. Would that we were so dedicated to our Christian way of life.

Was Mr. Eisenhower wrong in being host to this monstrosity? Was his hope of gaining a foothold to world peace justified? One might ask if Christ was justified in consorting with sinners.

★ ★ ★

In all fairness, one must admit any good Communist can be premier of the U.S.S.R., but one must conform to certain racial and religious standards to be President of the U.S.A. Yet we have the gall to criticize Mr. K. and call his philosophy unGodly.

'Save Lives Before Building Library'

We're wondering if the person who ran over our dog and killed it and didn't stop was sure it wasn't a child? We have our doubts.

Why don't we have speed limits and enforcement of them on many of our speedway streets in Waterford? Wouldn't saving lives be more essential than an elaborate library?

We have no assurance that $7.50 a year is all it will cost us or for how many years. If the population increases, we'll have to build and pay for more schools. The library proposal was rejected once by democratic procedure. Don't be forced into accepting the wish of a certain faction. Taxes are high now. Vote "no."

'Why's Radio So Far Behind TV?'

TV broadcasts baseball games from Los Angeles and the picture and voices are perfect. On the other hand, stations can't even broadcast just voices alone from out of town unless they sound like they had a mouth full of mush. It's so bad sometimes you can't even understand the words and TV brings the voice in perfectly and a picture, which must be a lot harder to send across the country. How come radio is so far behind times? Don't be fooled.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Crane Lauds Advertising Benefits

Erskine Gallant is typical of those efficient business leaders who use newspaper advertising to help benefit both their own companies, as well as the general public. America leads the world largely because we are the greatest advertising people on earth. Our "creation" of new products contrasts with the "stagnation" typical of non-advertising countries.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case C - 464: Erskine Gallant, aged 58, is a successful merchant who proves the value of newspaper advertising.

"Dr. Crane," said Wilton Hall, the publisher of the newspaper at Anderson, South Carolina, "Mr. Gallant has run a display advertisement in our papers for more than 14,750 consecutive days.

DR. CRANE

"That's over 40 years: Meanwhile, he has built up a chain of big department stores that now total 36, and which cover several states.

"Mr. Gallant is diligent, shrewd in money matters, but one of the most generous backers of all civic and moral projects.

"He has thus been a main spark plug in building our Memorial Hospital, and is a pillar of the First Presbyterian Church.

★ ★ ★

HOW ADS PAY

"Dr. Crane," an introvertive chemist or engineer has often asked, "doesn't advertising just make us pay more for goods?

"For the cost of those ads in newspapers, or on radio and TV, must be paid for us consumers, in the long run."

At first glance, this argument may sound valid, but advertising actually gives us merchandise at LOWER prices.

For advertising creates such a large volume of demand, that mass production methods in agriculture or manufacturing then pull down the actual unit price of the goods.

About 50 years ago, for example, oranges were a luxury, usually sold at Christmas. Their price was very high.

Then a big advertising campaign was launched to sell us Americans on the value of fruit juices at breakfast.

Soon we included orange juice as a standard breakfast item, and the tremendous volume of business actually lowered the price of oranges.

The same thing has been true of clothing and other department store items. In fact, the former custom-built automobiles, tooled by hand, were far higher in price than are modern cars, even though we live in an inflation age.

The United States is the greatest go-getter, advertising nation on earth!

And it is not by chance that our world leadership and luxurious living standards correlate directly with our vast advertising budgets.

BY-PRODUCTS OF ADS

For years I taught the courses on the "Psychology of Advertising" at Northwestern University, as well as George Washington University and other colleges, so I am not kidding you readers.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, it gives us cultural and recreational by-products that buoy up the morale of the entire nation.

Need I mention the symphonies as well as popular music on radio and TV? Or the sports broadcasts of baseball, football, basketball, etc?

Or the modern TV movies and other programs that are a boon to housewives, as well as invalids and paraplegics in our Veterans' Hospitals?

How about the comic strips, sports section and other valuable newspaper features?

This newspaper would cost you probably 25 cents per copy if it were not for the fact that advertisers like Erskine Gallant defray much of the basic production costs via their daily display ads.

So send for my booklet "New Psychology of Advertising," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). It will further open your eyes!

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Dinosaur Park Fossil Treasury

It Provides a Textbook of Geologic Changes in North America

WASHINGTON — Dinosaur National Monument, proposed as the 30th national park, has been abundantly blessed by nature.

It contains a unique fossil storehouse, an eloquent narrative of the area's geology, an intriguing archeological site and a starkly beautiful wilderness preserve.

The 328-square-mile area straddles the Colorado-Utah border where the Green and Yampa Rivers meet, the National Geographic Society says. Eighty acres were set aside as a national monument in 1915 to preserve the fossils, and in 1938 the boundaries were extended to include the adjoining scenic canyon country.

In the southwest corner of Utah's portion of the Monument lies the famous dinosauer quarry from which a million pounds of petrified bones have been removed since its discovery in 1909.

The quarry holds perhaps the greatest deposit of fossil dinosaur bones ever unearthed anywhere. Twenty-six nearly complete skeletons and a large number of partial ones have been recovered—the longest an 84-foot Diplodocus, the shortest a 6-foot Laosaurus.

A recent National Park Service study indicates that the bones accumulated over many years and were not, as once believed, the result of a mysterious disaster. The bone deposit began growing some 140 million years ago at the delta of a river.

Erosion has worn away the sedimentary rocks, exposing vital pages of the earth's history. These rock strata, lifted into a plateau by the forces that created the Rocky Mountains, have been carved into a wilderness of rugged canyons, benches, and ridges.

Many traces have been found of cave-dwelling Indians who lived in the area as long as 3,400 years ago. Excavators have unearthed corncobs, beans, pumpkins, and pottery.

Seaman's Attorney Sure He's Innocent

BOSTON (UPI)—Defense counsel for Willem M. L. van Rie said last night they could account for their client's every move the night pretty Lynn Kauffman vanished from aboard the Dutch freighter Utrecht.

Attys. Samuel Silverman and David Flower added in a statement to newsmen that at the time the state claims the 23-year-old Chicago divorcee was dumped into the sea, Van Rie was sitting with Mrs. Juanita Spector in the ship's lounge.

After a two-hour visit with Van Rie, Silverman said, "I was never more convinced that I had a client who was innocent."

Van Rie earlier yesterday was arraigned on a first degree murder charge and pleaded innocent in a calm voice.

The trial was not expected to start for six months.

Policeman Shows Scars in Court

BEULAH (UPI) — A Frankfort policeman stripped to the waist to show a jury scars of four bullet wounds as the trial of a retired lumber dealer on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder began yesterday.

The Benzie County court action against Henry Nielsen, 49, Frankfort, continued today with the prosecution presenting more witnesses to back up the accusation that Nielsen shot officer Donald Moore, 35, while he investigated a complaint that Nielsen was threatening his ex-wife, Mrs. Signe Nielsen.

Ex-Union Man in Jail for '54 Kohler Beatings

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (AP) — Nick Vrckovic, former member of the United Auto Workers Union, has been sentenced to six months in the Sheboygan County Jail and fined $250 and costs for beating two non-striking Kohler Co. workers five years ago.

Vrckovic, 35, now of North Hollywood, Calif., originally had pleaded innocent to charges of assault, but he changed his plea to no contest when he appeared yesterday before Circuit Judge Lincoln Neprud.

Soviets Warned: 'You'll Call God'

Billy Graham Brings Up Khrushchev's Attitude at Indianapolis Crusade

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham said Wednesday night, "Mr. Khrushchev, despite all you say about believing in God, someday you and all your kind will call upon him."

He referred to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who toured this country recently. He added to the 8,100 persons gathered for the second night of his 27-night crusade here: "And all those here tonight who have never prayed will know an hour when you will call upon His name.

"But the tragedy is that someday it will be too late to pray. The Bible tells about a man who waited until he got to Hell to pray, and then it was too late. Our prayers are to be prayed this side of the grave."

World standard time is reckoned from Greenwich, England, which is regarded as the prime meridian.

He Likes It but Won't Re-Enlist

Elvis All Shook Up About Army

By HANNS NEUERBOURG

BAD NAUHEIM, Germany (AP)—Elvis Presley has completed his first year with the U. S. Army in Germany. He says he likes it—but doesn't plan to re-elnist.

Looking tanned and trim in well worn green fatigues, the guitar-strumming rock 'n' roller talked to a reporter about the first 12 months of his 18-month hitch.

"I enjoy it very much," he said. "It was quite a change, of course. But for me, it was a test to prove to other people that you're a man who can take it. I didn't want anybody to think that this is the man who had it easy. I was determined to go to any limits to make this clear. I hope I have.

"I made a lot of friends that I would never have met otherwise. Of course, I was very homesick at times but so are thousands of other guys."

Presley doesn't sleep on base. During off-duty hours, he stays in a house here with his father and grandmother, who prepares his food. The camp is in Friedberg.

ELVIS PRESLEY

For 10 days his unit had been on a field exercise and he had to get out of bed at 3 every morning. But he looked fresh and vigorous, more so than when he disembarked from a transatlantic troop transport a year ago.

He'll be out of uniform next February or March—like the rest of his fellow draftees.

"We'll be discharged in the States," he observed. "I look forward very much to be back home and to be back on my job. I'm going to be very, very busy."

One of his first jobs will be to star in a picture, "G.I. Blues," a light piece about an American soldier's life in Germany.

He plans to take home a German-made guitar, an amplifier, a stereo set and a German tape recorder.

Every night, he has some singing practice. "Actually, I sing every chance I have," he says. But there is not much time left between duty, autographs and fan mail—he sets that at 8,000 to 10,000 a week.

What has been his nicest experience overseas?

"The 10 days I spent in Paris. It was just wonderful. I had a great time. If you want to have fun you've got to see Paris. I went there to recuperate from a bout with tonsilitis. But I wound up in worse shape than when I got there. I didn't have much sleep.

"I hope to come back to Europe as an entertainer. Then I'll have a chance to go places. But of all, I would like to get back to Paris."

Has he fallen in love overseas?

"I had a few different dates but nothing special, not what you call a steady one."

★ ★ ★

"If he were a career soldier, he would have a bright future," said Sgt. Billy G. Wilson, his platoon leader, of 13311 S. Hoover St., Gardena, Calif. "He makes out real fine and takes a real interest in his military job."

Capt. Hubert Childress of Coleman, Tex., commented:

"He is a fine soldier. Amazingly fine. All the guys like him. Apparently he came here with the right attitude."

Presley is with the Third Armored Division. Most of the time he drives a platoon scout jeep. He is a specialist fourth, a rank equivalent to corporal.

Kremlin Walled Off

"Kremlin" is the Russian word for citadel. It refers to Moscow's most ancient and strategic area, which is still walled in by fortifications. The citadel contains old royal palaces, governmental bureaus, and churches where the tsars were crowned and buried. Some government offices, including that of Premier Nikita Khrushchev, are still located there and are closed to casual visitors. Other buildings have been opened to tourists since the death of Stalin.

Pennsylvania Governor Dislikes Delay on Steel

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania says President Eisenhower should have made attempts to head off the steel strike before it got started.

"If I'd been president I would have had these people (opposing sides) in to meet before the strike occurred," the Democratic governor told a news conference Wednesday. "He might have gotten it (a settlement)."

Lawrence also voiced opposition to invocation of the Taft-Hartley law.

Los Angeles Wins Right to Tax Film Negative

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles County has won its claim to $100,000 in taxes on the negative of the motion picture "Around the World in 80 days."

Superior Court Wednesday objected to the contention of the producing company, Michael Todd Co. Inc., that the negative and the copyright are intangibles and thus not taxable.

The case was a test of the county's right to levy the film tax, which has produced some two million dollars annually. Counsel for Todd is expected to appeal.

U.S. Makes Tax Deal for Firms in India

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Treasury Department has announced a new liberalized tax credit proposal for American firms doing business in India. It may be a forerunner for similar agreements in other countries.

The plan, incorporated in a new income tax treaty with India, must be approved by the State Department and ratified by the Senate.

Under the pact, American corporations would be allowed credits for taxes which the Indian government exempts under other special agreements.

Alabama's KKK Wants to Kill Another Book

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Alabama Ku Klux Klan says it will try to rid school libraries of another children's book that is "a lot worse than 'The Rabbits' Wedding.'"

★ ★ ★

State Grand Dragon Bobby Shelton said "Two Is a Team," a story that illustrates white and Negro children playing together, is one of about a dozen books the Klan will campaign against as prointegration literature.

★ ★ ★

"The Rabbits' Wedding" was removed from general circulation after a bitter legislative fight recently. It is a story about the marriage of a black rabbit and a white rabbit.

"Two Is a Team," an illustrated tale by Lorraine and Jerrold Beim, tells of a Negro boy and a white boy who are playmates.

'Draft Rockefeller' Drive in New York

A non-partisan group backing the governor for the Republican presidential nomination filed a certificate of incorporation with the secretary of state.

The group, through its legal counsel, Edward Zabielski, Schenectady attorney, filed the certificate "for the purpose of forming a non-partisan political membership corporation to promote the nomination and election of Nelson A. Rockefeller to the office of President of the United States."

Could Belong to Saginaw Family

May Claim Site of Shrine

SAGINAW (AP)— Do Michigan residents in fact own most of the land on which the famed shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre, Que., is located?

★ ★ ★

A Saginaw clan thinks that maybe it does. It is going to investigate further, and says some 36 million dollars may be involved.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Syed started looking through family records after reading in the Saginaw News' "Bygone Days" column that in 1929 some Saginaw residents were making efforts to obtain what was described as part of an unclaimed estate at Montreal.

Syed said that story revived his interest in a story he'd heard 16 years ago that his family might own Ste. Anne de Beaupre, including its famous shrine.

The Syeds said they found, with the help of Syed's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Inman of Los Angeles, that their great-grandfather, Louis Portlance, had discovered years ago that his family owned most of the land in and around Ste. Anne de Beaupre.

The Syeds said a letter was found showing that Portlance agreed to settle for half the estate's estimated 36 million dollar value, but that before he could collect he was killed in a shipping accident at Cleveland, Ohio, in 1913.

Syed said he planned to write officials of Ste. Anne and inquire about whether the estate existed, and that if it did his family would make a claim.

James L. Gale of Zilwaukee, Mich., got into the Ste. Anne picture, telling the Saginaw News that there were at least 180 direct descendents of the great-grandfather in question in the Saginaw-Bay City area of Michigan.

Gale said that the great-grandfather was known hereabout as Louis Gale, but that his real name was Louis Pont de Lance.

He said Pont de Lance was buried in a Saginaw cemetery and had been a boat builder here and in Bay City.

★ ★ ★

Receiving Clerk Should Be Lucky if Clover Counts

MILWAUKEE (AP)—William H. Kaliebe figures he ought to be one of the luckiest men alive if there's anything to the legend of the four leaf clover bringing good luck.

★ ★ ★

The 55-year-old department store receiving clerk claims to have found about 2,000 four leaf clovers in the last 45 years. Moreover, he says he has plucked hundreds of five and six leafers, a few seven and eight leafers and even one 10-leaf job.

★ ★ ★

Summit Meeting Before Spring?

Nikita Seems to Think So as He Praises Ike in Vladivostok

Making a leisurely trip home from Peiping, the Soviet Premier told a crowd in Vladivostok Tuesday:

"The summit meeting . . . which may apparently be called this autumn or winter will continue the exchange of views on problems agitating the peoples."

Khrushchev praised President Eisenhower as "a wise man" and said:

"The wisdom shown by President Eisenhower in inviting me to his country and in expressing the desire to come to the Soviet Union attests not only to his foresightness but also to the American people's striving for peace."

★ ★ ★

The Premier also stressed the continuing close relationship of the Soviet Union and Red China, but he struck hard on his current line of a rivalry between capitalism and communism without shooting.

Remains a Policeman for Only Eight Hours

McALESTER, Okla. (AP)—Police officer Leon Palmarchuck probably was on the McAlester department's payroll the shortest time of any man.

He was a policeman only eight hours. He was dismissed when it was learned he hadn't been a McAlester resident for one year.

Mount Clemens Woman Heads Osteopathic Aides

The group met in conjunction with the 61st annual convention of the Michigan Assn. of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

Others elected to office with the medical assistants were Mrs. Ruth Marinier, Richmond, vice president; Mrs. Georgia M. Garrison, Albion, secretary, and Mrs. Betty Phelps, Flint, treasurer.

Nigeria Large Place

Flint Officials Meet on City's Problems

FLINT (UPI) — Area officials were still seeking methods of solving local governmental problems.

City officials and representatives of the now defunct "New Flint" plan met Tuesday with the Genesee County Board of Supervisors in a special meeting to discuss the problems.

Metropolitan legislation in three areas was suggested. The recommendations included making separate agreements between the participating cities and the county for special services; creation of a metropolitan district in the Greater Flint area, and establishment of a municipal corporation based on a merger of the various metropolitan area within Genesee County.

★ ★ ★

Leaders on Cyprus Make Up Quarrel

RHODES (AP)—Feuding Greek Cypriot leaders say they have settled a quarrel that threatened to wreck the agreement promising independence to the British island colony of Cyprus.

Archbishop Makarios and the underground chief who led the British, Col. George Grivas, emerged from a 5½-hour conference Wednesday night and announced, "All our misunderstandings are over."

Grivas had denounced Makarios for approving an agreement that fell short of uniting Cyprus with Greece. The archbishop accused Grivas of plotting his assassination.

Makarios told newsmen after conferring with Grivas: "Some misunderstandings had arisen, but we were not responsible for them. Third parties were. After mutual explanations, everything has been settled."

Firm Charged With Collusion

Union Also Accused of $15,500 Take in Labor Relations Bargaining

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—A federal grand jury Wednesday indicted the C. F. Mueller Co., two of its top officers and two union representatives for alleged violations of the Taft-Hartley Act.

The indictment charges the spaghetti and macaroni firm and the two executives paid $15,500 to bakery union representatives in illegally collusive labor-management relations between December 1954 and December 1958.

Also indicted were C. Frederick Mueller, executive vice president of the company, Anthony J. Auriema, president of Local 262, United Bakery Workers, and George Braverman, general organizer for the local.

Nine counts in the indictment charge the company and its officials paid the money. Nine others charge the union officials with accepting it.

The federal investigation began in June when the FBI moved into the case.

U. S. Atty. Chester A. Weidenburner said today:

"This indictment demonstrates that, where evidence is available, prosecutions can and will be instituted against all who attempt to corrupt the bargaining ability of either labor or management."

SENSITIVE TELESCOPE — This University of Michigan 85-foot radio telescope, the most sensitive of its kind in the world, was put into operation Wednesday at its site on Peach Mountain, 16 miles northwest of Ann Arbor. Rear Adm. Rawson Bennett, chief of U.S. Navy research, spoke at the dedication of the 10-story-high instrument. The telescope was built by the university with the support of the Office of Naval Research. The celebration continues today with radio astronomers holding a meeting on "the next five years in radio astronomy." Sunday there will be an 'Open House' at the telescope site.

Threaten to Halt Unloading

Hog Farmers Get Unruly as Prices Tumble Down

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—About 200 men, worried by falling hog prices, threatened to prevent truckers from unloading hogs Wednesday night at the stockyards here.

However, the crowd broke up after deputy sheriffs were called to the scene. The officers were jeered but there was no violence.

The demonstration tied in with a campaign by the National Farmers Organization for an embargo on farm-to-market hog shipments until prices increase.

Tuesday, the NFO asked all farmers to hold hogs off the market until the price for the best grades reaches $19.60 per 100 pounds.

Most Midwest markets said this had little effect on Wednesday's receipts and prices still went down. Top quotations were $13.50 at St. Joseph, $13.35 at Kansas City and $13.25 at East St. Louis, Ill. These were the lowest levels in 3½ years.

The demonstration at the stockyard followed a rally here at which Ora Lee Staley of Rea, Mo., president of the NFO, said the embargo is beginning to work.

He told a crowd of about 1,000 from Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska that the markets are "juggling receipts in order to conceal the true picture that farmers in this and other areas are withholding their hogs."

Hal Boyle Says:

Moss Hart Makes Career of Thinking Big

NEW YORK (AP) — Once upon a time a poverty-ridden young office boy in a theatrical office picked up his pen and wrote his way to five million dollars.

BOYLE

"I have none of the money left, and I have no regrets," said playwright Moss Hart, who at 54 is still one of the theater's top earners.

"Looking back this summer, I was amazed to find I had written 22 plays and directed 11 others. It's a wonder, coming up to the firing line so often, I don't look 54.

"The week before 'Once in a Lifetime' opened I was making $45 a week, the next week $2,000. And when it closed a year and a half later, I only had $750 left.

"But someone once said you only keep what you spend, and I believe it.

"I'm not a fool about money. It's because I know the value of money that I'm not afraid of it, and refuse to worry about it. I feel that if you think poor, you write poor."

Moss, haunted by poverty and great dreams, had to go to work before he was old enough to enter high school. He has told of his early struggles memorably in "Act One," a best-selling autobiography that has met instant acclaim, which he hugely enjoys.

"I'm taking it big," he said pleasantly. "I hate mock modesty. I believe people should enjoy success to the full.

"But everything in life has its price. The wisdom lies in deciding when the price is too high.

"Some people are left in life with nothing but success. But you can't wake up in the morning and wrap your arms around a good press notice.

"To strike a balance—that's the trick. One has to strike a balance, so that one's work doesn't rob one of all the other things."

"I used to lie about it," he admitted. "But it doesn't bother me a bit now. You don't really need a college education to be a playwright.

"It's a talent. You either have it or you don't.

"It is also a kind of suicide. A play runs to only 125 typewritten pages, but it takes two years to write one. Then on opening night in 2½ hours you put everything at stake—those two years of your life, your hopes, your reputation.

"In eight weeks of lying flat in bed you make a lot of hospital resolves, and some of them you keep," he said. "After that nothing that happens seems quite so calamitous, and every sunny day seems a bit sunnier."

BEST TALKER?

Author Somerset Maugham recently described Hart as "the world's best talker." He puffs meditatively on a caramel-colored meerschaum pipe.

"I'm a greater believer in not sitting down in your own mind," Moss said. "You can't let yourself become too comfortable. You have to shake up your life now and then—even if to do so is boring, unpleasant or even dangerous."

Hart, whose hobby is shopping, says his only real unachieved goal in life is to become a beachcomber. But not a poor one—a rich beachcomber.

★ ★ ★

"I can't afford to, however," he said. "There are too many things in the world I haven't bought.

"Anyway, retirement is for bankers and firemen. A writer doesn't retire. He keeps writing until the public retires him."

Asked his advice to young writers, Moss said crisply: "Sit down and write. There is no other way. Writing is learned only by writing."

Southfield Would Ease Drain Tax by Amendment

SOUTHFIELD—Faced with the possibility of residents here being assessed $2,006 per acre for the planned Eight Mile storm drain, the city council has drawn up a proposed charter amendment that would extend the time to pay the added tax.

If approved by city voters in a special election, the amendment would extend the time limit on paying off special assessments from 10 to 30 years.

This would ease the tax burden by spreading it over a longer period of time, explained City Clerk Patrick Flannery.

The issue, in relation to the Eight Mile storm drain is theoretical inasmuch as a method of financing the proposed $4,760,000 drain has not been decided to the satisfaction of the county Board of Supervisors.

Mayor Donald L. Swanson, representing Southfield on the Board of Supervisors spearheaded a move which has been able to delay spreading the assessment until local tax committees have had a chance to study it in detail.

Supervisors will reconvene Oct. 26 to receive the committees report.

The issue is presently before the Oakland County Circuit Court where attorneys are debating whether current drain assessment proceedings should be scrapped altogether and new ones initiated where the benefitted areas (Southfield and Oak Park) would be assessed at large instead of through a special assessment district.

The proposed amendment to the city charter would see the city and taxpayers share Southfield's part of the Eight Mile storm drain cost, said Flannery.

A date for the special election on the amendment will be scheduled at the Oct. 19 meeting of the city council, he said.

Oak Park hasn't decided yet what action it will take on the drain construction, its City Manager Virgil C. Knowles said yesterday.

Predict Farm Surplus Gone Within 20 Years

ROCKTON, Ill. (UPI)—A group of leading farm editors predicts that all farm surpluses will vanish in the next 20 years.

It also showed the editors believe that farmer-controlled marketing organizations will take over the government's role in agriculture by 1980.

District to Get $50,000 More

Another Carver Loan OK'd

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP —Already heavily in debt, the George Washington Carver School District here today received approval from the State Department of Public Instruction to borrow an additional $50,000.

★ ★ ★

The loan will be sought on the strength of state support forthcoming for the stricken school district.

The state department has advocated continued borrowing here until the school district can somehow be bailed out of a $132,000 deficit.

A total of $125,000 in loans has been approved since an auditor's report revealed the deficit last month.

Other borrowings approved by the state public instruction authorities today include $200,000 for Clarkston, $350,000 for Troy, $100,000 for North Branch and $81,600 for Almont.

FUN WITH NATURE — Youngsters like Sandra Morley, 11, of 30100 Beck Rd., Wixom, enjoy matching pictures of fall flowers with their names at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford. Guided tours along a nature trail also are available for groups by reservation with the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority in Detroit.

Press Toward Truth, Clergy Told

Dean of Harvard Chapel Addresses 100 at MSUO

By LEE WINBORN

The occasion was the first Clergymen's Convocation at Michigan State University Oakland with Dr. George A. Buttrick, Dean of Chapel at Harvard University, as the principal speaker.

In an inspiring address, Dr. Buttrick defined truth as a "land of fact, ever increasing with the addition of more facts, organized into self-harmonious knowledge through which the mind steadily presses and may eventually reach."

He said he hoped that the new university, without imposed pattern or crippling entanglements, will have the courage to teach Biblical thought in its true light.

The renowned theologian said truth in Biblical terms is "the withdrawal of the veil of the eternal mystery of God."

Dr. Buttrick urged his ministerial colleagues to preach to the "dynamic depths of the subconscious" of man whom he described as having "one leg in time and one in eternity."

One of the primary objectives of the day-long convocation was to explore the educational needs the new university can serve.

Fields considered by the clergymen were guidance and counseling, church business administration, church architectural trends, changes in secular education, and teaching techniques and methods.

They also explored the possibility of offering Bible education, leadership development, sermon preparation and interprofessional encounters.

The steering committee, calling itself the "Clergy Friends of MSUO" yesterday was named to act as the permanent committee.

Another six members will be elected next year with all 12 to serve for two years with an overlap of experience on the board.

★ ★ ★

Elected were the Rev. Robert Hermanson, University Presbyterian Church, Avon Township, the Rev. Raymond Wolf, American Lutheran Church, Mount Clemens; the Rev. J. Douglas Parker, First Methodist Church, Rochester, and the Rev. J. E. Yates, Emmanuel Evangelical and Reformed Church, Royal Oak.

The rest of the permanent members of the committee are the Rev. Lenworth R. Miner, Macedonia Baptist Church, Pontiac and the Rev. Joseph Chapman, Bethany Baptist Church, Pontiac;

Dr. Lowell R. Eklund, director of continuing education at MSUO, is an ex-officio member of the permanent body.

The group yesterday decided to try launching the first in a series of programs for church school teachers in November. The subject will be teaching techniques and methods of instruction.

Other programs also will be held for religious education directors and the ministers themselves during the coming year.

The newly elected committee will serve as a liaison between the larger group of clergymen and the university.

The programs it is planning are designed to appeal not only to the protestant clergymen, but also to ministers and laymen of all faiths. It is hoped that the larger organization will become interdenominational with representation from all faiths in the area MSUO serves.

Chancellor D. B. Varner, speaking to the clergymen in the morning session, told them MSUO stands ready to assist all professional groups in their pursuit of excellence, helping them to improve the quality of their performance.

Boy, 15, Faces Trial as Adult

Oak Park Man Shot in Holdup Remains on Critical List

Willie Mays, 15, of Detroit, charged with armed robbery with intent to kill, will stand trial as an adult.

Detroit police said the youth has admitted shooting Joseph Weinman, 38, of 22110 Cloverlawn St., Oak Park, in his Detroit pawnshop Sept. 29 during a holdup.

Mays faces a preliminary hearing in Detroit Recorder's Court tomorrow morning.

Juvenile Court Judge Nathan J. Kaufman waived jurisdiction over the boy after he allegedly confessed the crime to police.

Weinman was robbed of $60 during the holdup and his brother, who was in the store at the time, was slugged over the head and passed out momentarily.

Mays also admitted that he stabbed a private policeman about a week earlier when he surprised Mays and his accomplice at the rear of a home in Detroit's Palmer Woods section, Detroit police said.

Oakland Firm to Aid Students

Two Scholarships for MSUO Given by Local National Twist Drill

The tuition awards, amounting to more than $500, represented the enthusiasm and interest felt by the company in having a new university in the community, McGregor said.

He said that the firm, like many other business interests in the area, wanted to accept the responsibility of doing all in their power to support higher education in the Oakland-Macomb community.

D. B. Varner, chancellor of MSUO, welcomed the gift of the two scholarships as an act of generosity that will have two notable benefits.

First, he said, the scholarships will make it possible for two worthy students to go to college. And second, the scholarships will give the company an active interest in the university as a community enterprise.

The fact that some 50 scholarships have been donated by individuals and firms in the area, attest, Varner said, to an unusual degree of community interest in, and support of, the university's program.

3 County Collegians to Attend Bear Game

Three Oakland County students, who are members of the 110-piece Central Michigan University Marching Band, will attend the Chicago Bears-Los Angeles Rams football game at Wrigley field Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The are Julia A. Federico, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Federico, 145 Shadbolt St., Lake Orion; Ronald D. Swanson, a 1959 graduate of Brandon High School in Ortonville, and Allen R. Warren, son of Homer Warren, 429 Parkdale St., Rochester.

All three students play the clarinet.

The band will be featured in half-time ceremonies which will be telecast from coast to coast.

U.S. Buys Ground Lamb for School Lunchrooms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department has announced the purchase of 147,000 pounds of frozen ground lamb for donation to school lunchrooms. The cost was $88,000.

Officials said the lamb purchasing program will continue next week. So far, 189 thousand pounds have been bought at a total price of $113,000.

Food Best Way to Rival Soviet

Economist Says U. S. Should Use Agriculture to Fight Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A White House economic adviser says America should make agriculture "a major testing ground" in its rivalry with the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

Don Paarlberg, President Eisenhower's special assistant on economic matters, said there was no other area where American strength so greatly exceeds Russia.

He said the way to turn America's agricultural superiority to international advantage was to share the fruits of U. S. abundance and help other nations step up their own farm production.

Paarlberg, who spoke at the Agriculture Department yesterday, took his theme from President Eisenhower's proposal to set up a "food for peace" program.

★ ★ ★

He said the United States already has gone a long way toward using surplus farm goods for advancing American foreign policy but more should be done.

★ ★ ★

Paarlberg said, though, that care must also be taken to avoid "dumping" crops on other countries and threatening international price structures.

$95,000 Pledged for New Church in Clarkston

CLARKSTON—A final tabulation of the Methodist Church Ground-Breaking Crusade this week shows a total of $95,000 pledged for a new church, according to the Rev. William J. Richards, pastor.

More than 100 men of the church called at 600 Clarkston area homes in the campaign for the new church scheduled for construction in early April.

Kingscott Architects and Engineers Co. of Kalamazoo has been hired to design and supervise the construction.

The new church will be of colonial architecture to coincide with the parsonage across from the Clarkston high school.

With a balance of some $81,000 in the building fund, and the new total pledged, church officials plan to borrow an equal amount to begin construction next spring.

Auction Saturday, 5 P.M. at Paint Creek Church

GOODISON — The Paint Creek Community Methodist Church will stage an auction Saturday, beginning at 5 p.m., at the church located at the intersection of Orion and Collins roads.

★ ★ ★

Auctioneer will be Duane Upton. He will take bids on furniture, farm equipment, electrical equipment, dishes and other donated items.

The final pick-up of contributions will be made Saturday. Persons with articles to donate are asked to contact either Harold Brion or Mickael Mannino.

Boys Club Gets Land; Begins Building Fund

KEEGO HARBOR — The homeless Boys' Club of West Bloomfield has its major problem half solved.

Heart of the Lakes VFW Post 2706 here has made a site available to the boys for a new clubhouse. They lost their old one behind the Roosevelt High School when it was torn down this summer to allow expansion of the school building.

A 99-year lease on 300 square feet of property on Summers street, behind the VFW Hall, was given to the boys' club by the VFW for a token fee of $1 a year with an option to buy the site.

The next step for the boys is to raise money to build a new clubhouse on the site. They have $1,750 in the kitty and already have gained another $250 in their current "Bucks for Blocks" campaign.

"We want to build a 50 by 70 foot clubhouse on the site," announced Carl Misfelt Sr., director of the Boys' Club.

"We figure we can build it ourselves, with a little volunteer help perhaps, for $10,000," he added.

Plans for the building are being prepared by the National Boys' Club, parent organization.

The local Boys' Club has had to discontinue its meetings until a temporary location is offered before the new clubhouse can be completed.

Four Nations' Grain Soars to Record High

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Grain stocks of the world's four major exporting countries hit a record-high level during the first half of this year.

★ ★ ★

The government's Foreign Agricultural Service said total stocks on July 1 were 12 per cent higher than a year ago at the same time.

The figure was 153 million short tons for the five major grains: wheat, corn, rye, barley and oats.

The countries are the United States, Canada, Australia and Argentina.

A considerable part of the sharp increase came because of record carryover stocks of wheat and corn in the United States.

The Panama Canal was opened on Aug. 15, 1914.

MAKE IT LEGAL — Members of Heart of the Lakes VFW Post 2706 at Keego Harbor sign legal papers giving Boys Club of West Bloomfield a site for a new clubhouse behind the VFW hall. The boys now have a 99-year lease on the property for $1 a year with an option to buy. Signing is Shirley Currie while looking on from left are Justice Elmer Dieterle, legal advisor; William Johnson and Avery Parker. Also present for the "legal work" but not shown was Fred Harbrueger of the local VFW Post.

Drop Drunk Charge Against Utica Official

UTICA — Drunk charges against utica City Assessor Louis Ruby, 48, were dismissed yesterday in Macomb County Justice Court because of insufficient evidence.

Ruby was arrested Sept. 2 at his home, 7488 River Vista, after his wife, police said, fled to the local police station and asked for protection.

He was charged with beating his wife and being drunk in a public place which is contrary to a city ordinance. The wife-beating charge was dismissed Sept. 10 when his wife, Madeline, decided not to prosecute.

Justice Francis A. Castellucci ruled that the evidence that Ruby was drunk in a public place was insufficient because he was arrested at home.

It's So Easy for You to Lose

Gambling With Fire Is Dangerous

By AP Newsfeatures

"Clean that attic
And the yard
Stopping fires
Isn't hard."

This simple rhyme written by a fifth grader in a fire prevention contest shows his awareness of the causes and dangers of fires.

Unfortunately, too few Americans take his lead.

Last year fires killed more than 11,000 persons in the United States—one every 47 minutes—and caused more than one billion dollars property damage. Ninety per cent of the fires could have been prevented.

Fire Prevention Week (Oct. 4-10) is an ideal time to school yourself on ways to avert fire.

Be alert to the causes of fire and inspect your home regularly.

LIGHTNING 9 PER CENT

One-fourth of all fires are started by careless use of matches or smoking; 15 per cent by the misuse of electricity. Nature's greatest fire starter—lightning—accounts for 9 per cent.

★ ★ ★

During the winter season your home is more vulnerable than usual for fire. Defective heating units cause 8 per cent of home fires and overheated chimneys and flues account for another 4 per cent. Have them checked before they're put in use.

Never overwork a heater or furnace that's giving insufficient heat.

Keep a metal screen in front of a burning fireplace and use care in handling hot ashes. Always deposit ashes in a metal container with cover. Keep wood, coal and flammable liquids away from the furnace, and the furnace room free of trash. Dispose of all trash regularly.

HEATERS DANGEROUS

Great care should be taken in using portable heaters — they can be very dangerous. They should always be level and in a spot where there is no danger of tripping over them. Be cautious in filling oil or kerosene heaters and wipe off any spillgae immediately. Never fill a heater when it is hot or in use.

Gas heaters should be vented to the outdoors unless specifically approved for unvented use. Oil and gas heaters use up oxygen when they burn, so the room should always be ventilated when one is in use. Don't use an electric heater in the bathroom where water increases the shock hazard.

Keep all heaters a safe distance from bedding, clothing, furniture and other combustibles.

Be careful in wearing robes or dresses with flowing sleeves—they're a hazard, especially for elderly people. Painful, often fatal, burns sometimes occur when a person wearing such sleeves reaches across an open burner.

★ ★ ★

When you need to repair or extend wiring, call a competent electrician. Buy only electric appliances and cords listed by Underwriter's Laboratories, Inc. Don't run wires under rugs, over hooks, or in a place where they may be subject to wear or mechanical damage.

Consult an electrician when you replace a large appliance—it may require more current than your present wiring can carry.

At Christmas time, keep the tree outdoors until ready to set it up. While it is outdoors, occasionally throw water over it to keep it moist and fresh.

When you bring the tree into the house cut the bottom of the trunk diagonally and put water with sugar in it into the hollow part of the stand that holds the tree.

Never place a tree near the fireplace, stove, television set, radiator or electric bulbs. Use non-flammable decorations of glass or metal, and "fireproof" snow in decorating the Christmas tree.

A milk cow drinks about 35 gallons of water a day.

TOSS IT OUT! — Don't let piles of junk accumulate in attics or basements. An accidentally dropped cigarette or electrical short nearby could ignite the papers, clothing and paint, and the fire could be out of control before it was noticed.

OVERLOADED — An electrical outlet in this condition is extremely hazardous. Either lighten the load or have your home adequately wired.

Pleads Guilty in Grand Rapids

Pontiac Man Awaiting Sentencing on Charge of Assault

Herbert O. Wilson, 30, of 607 Granada St., today awaited sentencing on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder in the beating of a disabled war veteran whose former wife married Wilson.

Wilson, who was arrested by Pontiac state police near here Aug. 5 just hours after the beating of Jack Levandoski, 35, Grand Rapids, in a downtown Grand Rapids hotel, yesterday changed his plea to guilty as charged in Grand Rapids Municipal Court.

Wilson is being held under $10,000 bond in the Kent County Jail.

After his arrest, police said Wilson admitted driving to Grand Rapids and asking Levandoski by telephone to meet him at the hotel on the pretext that Levandoski's ex-wife and two sons by their marriage were there.

★ ★ ★

Levandoski, who is receiving a government pension for a service disability, entered the hotel room and sat in a chair, police said. Wilson admitted beating him over the head with a table lamp, police said.

Levandoski was hospitalized with a skull fracture.

There had been tension between the two men, police said, since Wilson's marriage recently to the veteran's former wife.

The ban shuts Turkish cigarettes and tobacco out of Arab markets from Morocco in North Africa to the Middle East. Turkish tobacco is a favorite among Arab water pipe smokers.

Rambler Line to Be Unveiled Oct. 14

American Adds 4-Door Sedan

A new four-door sedan model has been added to the Rambler American line for 1960, which will be unveiled Oct. 14 across the nation.

The American line also includes two-door sedans and station wagons, and accounted for almost 25 per cent of total Rambler production in 1959.

"This new model was added to the popular 100-inch-wheelbase American series because of public demand for a four-door model," according to Roy Abernethy, vice-president of automotive distribution and marketing.

In line with American Motors' policy of retaining styling stability, the American for 1960 has only slight styling changes.

Door opening angles have been changed from last year's 55 degrees to 75 degrees to allow easier entry. The rear doors on the four-door sedan also open to 75 degrees.

Window area has been increased by elimination of the "lip" on the upper edge of the doors and rear quarter panel. In addition to providing smoother body line and enlarging the glass area, it provides more comfort for those who like to drive or ride with an elbow resting on the window sill. The change increases the glass area of sedans by 5.1 per cent and of station wagons by 2.5 per cent.

The four-door sedan features rear quarter side windows to eliminate blind spots for rear seat passengers, thereby providing virtually the same glass area as on the two-door sedan.

The car's compact length and wheelbase results in a turning diameter of only 36 feet.

The six-cylinder engine develops 90 horsepower and has a compression ratio of 8 to 1.

Regular grade gasoline is recommended.

All Rambler American models are less than 15 feet long (178.3 inches), but provide interior room for five adult passengers.

The cargo compartment of the station wagon has a carrying capacity of 52 cubic feet with the rear seat down. The Super station wagon has a chrome roof-top Travel-Rack which provides additional luggage space.

One mechanical change for 1960 is the use of bonded brake linings instead of riveted linings. The new linings offer longer life with no danger of scored brake drums.

LANSING (AP)— Arguments for discontinuance of the night Beeliner train between Detroit and Bay City were heard Tuesday by the State Public Service Commission.

Atlanta Will Celebrate Its Millionth Resident

ATLANTA (UPI) — The city of Atlanta is looking for a clean-cut, Yankee type to spread the message of grits, goobers and Gone With the Wind to the world.

This Saturday, Atlanta will embrace its one millionth resident. Chances are he will be fairly young, fairly well educated, fairly well off and be wearing a gray flannel suit. Chances are better that he will hail from New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania or some other Northern outpost.

There are those who insist that only that type of person would be representative of the New Atlanta—the city that Gen. William T. Sherman burned down 95 years ago last month.

"Yankees get to be the most southern people in the world after a while here," said W. Wailes Thomas, co-chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce executive committee sponsoring the big event. "First thing you know they are sitting under the magnolias wearing string ties and sipping mint juleps."

The city which began as the little town of Terminus on the banks of the Chattahoochee River in 1837 has come a long way. Sherman wouldn't recognize the chromium, steel and concrete skyscrapers which now make up the least southern of southern cities this side of Miami Beach.

Whether Atlanta now is a city of one million people is open to question, too, but it doesn't really matter. The 1950 census gave the city proper only 331,000 residents, but since then two more counties have been added to its "metropolitan area" which the best guess put last year at 929,000 people.

West Welcomes Red Plan for Talks on Outer Space

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States and Britain Wednesday welcomed a Soviet proposal for an international scientific conference on outer space. This boost from the West virtually assured that such a conference would take place.

Vasily V. Kuznetsov, Soviet deputy foreign minister, disclosed the proposal in a speech to the U. N. General Assembly Tuesday.

He said the Soviet Union would seek a conference under U. N. auspices as soon as possible. It would be along the lines of the U. N. conferences on peaceful uses of atomic energy—a plan advanced originally by President Eisenhower.

"We welcome this new departure in Soviet policy and hope that it means cooperation in the future work of the United Nations in the field of outer space," U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said in a statement.

He declared the United States still supports strongly the establishment by the present assembly of a special U. N. space committee.

The Soviet Union boycotted a committee set up last year on the grounds Communist and neutral nations did not have sufficient representation. Kuznetsov said Tuesday the Soviet stand was unchanged.

The committee went ahead with its work and submitted reports to the present assembly for its consideration. The assembly will be asked to approve the reports and also to decide whether to establish another committee for next year.

The United States took the view that there was no conflict between the work of a U. N. outer space committee, which dealt with technical and legal aspects of outer space cooperation, and an international conference.

"The idea of an exchange of experiences in exploring outer space advanced by Mr. Kuznetsov is illustrative of the many useful things which might be achieved through cooperative action in such a United Nations body," Lodge declared.

In London the British Foreign Office said it had no details on the Soviet proposal "but we very much welcome the Soviet intentions. Our policy is to encourage the fullest possible international exchange on these matters."

The Soviet Union was expected to press a formal proposal for an international conference of scientists when the assembly turns to the general subject of outer space.

Reliable sources said the Russians envisaged conferences similar to those held in Geneva in 1955 and 1957 on peaceful uses of atomic energy.

This would include the setting up of elaborate scientific displays and the submission of technical papers dealing with all aspects of outer space research.

U. S. scientific circles would be expected to press the Soviet Union for declassification of as much material as possible. This would be a touchy matter since military secrets are involved.

While no date was mentioned by the Russians, speculation here was that an international conference could not be held until late next year at the earliest.

Farmers Win Highway Battle

Van Buren Group Now Permitted to Hold Up Work on Xway

LANSING (AP) — A group of Van Buren County farmers who blocked the route of the Detroit-Chicago expressway have won a legal round from the State Highway Department.

The farmers, land owners on M40 five miles west of Paw Paw, are bickering with the Highway Department over the price of their land—needed for continuation of the expressway.

Ingham County Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash yesterday dissolved a temporary restraining order forbidding the local residents from interfering with a $1,800,000 construction project in the area.

He also refused a Highway Department request for a permanent injunction.

The department obtained the order after a group of friends and neighbors of the land owners barricaded the highway route with wagons, cars and tractors.

Attorneys for the property owners said although they signed a writ of entry agreement this stipulated that it could be revoked at any time. It was revoked because the department did not reappraise the land as promised, they said.

Howard E. Hill, Highway Department managing director, estimated any delay in work on the property would cost the department $2,600 a day.

"The owners of the property are trying to pressure us into an agreement on price for this property that we consider exorbitant," Hill said. "They agreed to let us work on their land if we would reappraise it, which we are doing."

Hill said the property originally was appraised at $8,875, including damages, but this offer was rejected by the owners.

Singer, 38, Died in Rome Wednesday

Lanza Teeter-Tottered on Success Ladder

From Our News Wires

HOLLYWOOD — Mario Lanza's career was one of the movies' strangest.

The one-time piano mover who might have become the greatest singing star in movie history, died of a heart attack Wednesday in Rome, Italy, at age 38, thousands of miles from the Hollywood he hated.

From poor beginnings in Philadelphia's tough neighborhoods, he won quick success that brought him more than a million dollars in one year. His golden tenor voice made him popular with millions—both bobby soxers and their mothers.

★ ★ ★

His first movies were fantastic successes. Then he tossed over his career and did nothing for a year. He got in a fight with that Hollywood giant, MGM, over his role in "Student Prince." They said he was washed up.

★ ★ ★

Yet he came back, making headlines again and again. He never equaled his first success, but nonetheless was doing well.

Remember these incidents?

1955—A Las Vegas casino canceled his $100,000 night club engagement because he failed to appear. His story was that he had laryngitis.

1954—A storm of controversy when he starred in a TV spectacular, and it was learned afterward that his songs were recorded. He was only mouthing the lyrics. Later, to prove he hadn't lost his voice, he did another show, singing live.

BATTLED WEIGHT

Mario's biggest battle was with weight. He loved spaghetti and the grape. Without trying he could balloon to 200 pounds, plus. He tried to slim down for his movie roles.

But in some films he appeared slimmer in certain scenes than in others. Several of his movies were delayed because he failed to trim down in time to start them.

In 1957 he shed nearly 100 pounds, getting down to a slender (for him) 184 and embarked on a new career in Europe.

He has since appeared in a series of films abroad, interspersing movie work with concert tours.

In 1951, at 29, Lanza was the wonder boy of the music world. His rise from piano mover to triple-threat king of concerts, phonograph records and movie boxoffices had all show business talking.

A handsome fellow with dark curly hair and a cleft chin, his booming voice and emotional delivery had made him the darling of the bobby soxers. But his popularity didn't stop there. Matrons, business men and grandmothers queued up to him him, too.

He was a one-man bonanza, too.

'THE GREAT CARUSO'

His recording of "Be My Love" sold about 1,500,000 copies, "unbelievable" according to RCA Victor for a Red Seal classic. Another "Loveliest Night of the Year," also topped 1,000,000.

His concert tours were the most remunerative since Nelson Eddy's.

Yet his critical reception was only fair. The consensus was that he had warmth and great power, but was technically crude and needed training.

Lanza was largely self-taught. He came to Hollywood with only 15 months of lessons.

Lanza's rags to riches saga:

The only son of poor Italian parents, he grew up amid the tenements of Philadelphia's South Side. It was an "opera" neighborhood—the families discussed music like Brooklyners talk baseball.

From the age of six Mario haunted a record shop owned by a neighbor, playing operatic arias. He listened by the hour to his father's collection of Caruso records.

But he didn't get seriously interested in singing until he was 19. Having no money for training, he began to sing along with Caruso on records.

A friend introduced him to an opera singer who took him to the head of a concert agency. He was told to practice more. Instead, Mario went to work for his grandfather, hauling pianos in a truck.

WON 1ST OVATION

One day, delivering a piano to the Philadelphia Academy of Music, he again met the agency head, William Huff. Huff introduced him to his companion and suggested that Mario sing. He did, and the friend was impressed.

The friend it turned out, was Conductor Serge Koussevitzky. He invited Lanza to the Berkshire Music Festival, where he won his first ovation.

Shortly after his New York debut, Mario was called into the Army. He served nearly three years in various entertainment units. Discharged in 1945, he was almost broke.

Jim Murray, the former RCA Victor vice president, interviewed him at that time and recalls:

"He weighed nearly 300 pounds—100 more than he does now. He told me he was bothered by catarrh so badly that on some days he couldn't sing."

Murray signed him anyway and it was quite a deal—for Lanza. He got a $3,000 bonus and the contract stipulated he would work only "when" and "if" he felt he was ready. As it turned out, he didn't record for three years.

Lanza buckled down. He saw a doctor for his catarrh. He dieted and exercised to lose weight. He studied under Enrico Rosati in New York. And gradually his career gained momentum.

He made concert tours. One summer he sang for Jan Peerce while the latter vacationed from his radio show. He got offers from Hollywood, but turned them down. They weren't big enough.

When he made his first appearance at the Hollywood Bowl in 1947, representatives of most of the big studios were on hand.

Lanza got a huge ovation after his first aria (his wife says it lasted 12 minutes). After that, the studio offers were much bigger.

He signed with MGM—on practically his own terms. His contract allowed him to make any entertainment deals he wanted to except for television.

GOP Long Range Report Accents Liberation Note

WASHINGTON (AP) — American foreign policy should give top priority to "peaceful liberation" of captive peoples from Communist domination, a Republican study committee said today.

"We must encourage and exploit any weakening of the bonds that tie the satellites to Moscow," said the 40-member committee, named last March to recommend long-range goals for the GOP.

It thus sounded the "liberation" note that formed a prominent part of the Republican party's 1952 platform, but which administration foreign policy pronouncements have soft-pedaled in recent years. The committee, however, was careful to qualify its liberation proposal with the words "peaceful" and "nonviolent."

The group, called the Committee on Program and Progress, also endorsed a proposed international agreement for the demilitarization of outer space.

Its report of 8,500 words on "national security and peace," made public by the Republican National Committee, is a comprehensive statement on foreign and defense policies, recommended as guide lines for future party planning.

In the foreign affairs field, the report favored (1) progressive shifting of foreign economic aid from government grants to private investments and loans, (2) conditional trade with Communist states that will "help thaw the cold war," and (3) creation of an emergency military force by the United Nations in the event of crisis.

The committee advocated maintenance of a balanced and rounded defense with a variety of weapons for either global or limited wars, but with the United States striving constantly for disarmament agreements.

"We seek to insure that the frontiers of the free world rest not on our own shores, not on the shores of the Atlantic and the Pacific, but on the very borders of the Sino-Soviet bloc itself," the committee said.

Government Units Can Check Off Union Dues

LANSING (AP) — Governmental units can lawfully check off union dues of employes at their request, an attorney general's opinion has decided.

Rep. F. Charles Raap (D-Twin Lake) asked for the ruling, specifically inquiring if road commissions can agree to a dues checkoff for employes belonging to the Michigan County and Municipal Employes union.

Viewers Brawl in Rome

Rossellini Film Stirring

ROME (AP)—Cries of "Viva fascism" set off a wave of fist fights early today during Rome's first showing of Robert Rossellini's new film, a story of anti-fascist partisans.

Carabinieri had to rush into the fashionable theater to restore order.

The film, "Il Generale Della Rovere," was having its first public showing since it shared the first prize at the Venice Film Festival a month ago.

Soon after midnight, with the film about at midpoint, cries of "Viva fascism" and "Down with Rossellini" came from the balcony. A shower of leaflets carrying similar slogans rained down on the orchestra seats.

★ ★ ★

In the general uproar the house lights went on. Fist fight after fist fight broke out. Police rushed in. No one was injured seriously. A half dozen youths were taken into custody.

It is the story of an Italian picked by the Germans to pose as a fictitious general to be sent to jail to spy on imprisoned partisans. In the end he prefers death to betraying his countrymen.

College Planning Course in Proper Social Graces

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco State College plans to offer a course in the social graces called "Put Your Right Foot Forward."

Five faculty members will instruct students in etiquette, proper dress and how to write a letter, the school announced.

Lest anyone complain about frills or snap courses, the college is not giving any credit for the course.

He will play a Marine machine gunner in the movie "All the Young Men." The Hollywood studio, that employs Ingemar says film work will keep him in movieland until Nov. 5.

To Be SAC Division Headquarters

Oscoda Air Base Mushrooms

OSCODA (UPI) — A ribbon of concrete nearly two feet thick and stretching 2¼ miles is the symbol of a new defense arm of the U.S. Air Force rising on 4,000 acres of land here.

Wurtsmith Air Force base officially becomes the 40th Division headquarters of the Strategic Air Command on April 1, 1960.

The ribbon of concrete—$10,500,000 worth of cement, sand, gravel and steel reinforcement—will be the take-off and roosting spot for the Air Force's big B52 atomic bombers and their KC135 tankers that refuel the bombers in flight.

The government is pouring 40 million dollars into Wurtsmith AFB to turn it into a Headquarters SAC base. Currently, Wurtsmith is linked to the Air Defense Command and has only fighter planes.

By next April, it will have two squadrons of the "heavy stuff" — one squadron of B52's and a squadron of fueling tankers, plus a squadron of F101 fighter planes.

The base now has about 1,500 men. How many it will have when it becomes a SAC headquarters is classified information. But some idea can be gained by the size of some of the installations now under construction.

Being built now are 618 houses of two, three and four bedroom size which will house Air Force personnel and their families. Another 390 houses will be built next spring.

In addition, four dormitories to house 200 men each are being built for airman personnel without families. A bachelor officers quarters for 40 men is under construction. So is a new 800-man mess hall. There will be a 50 bed hospital, a base exchange, a motor pool compound, shops and utilities.

A new chapel with 300 seats has just been completed. So has a new crash and fire station.

In addition, navigational aids are being installed, as well as new hangars, fuel storage facilities and maintenance buildings.

All during the summer months, civilian personnel, including construction workers, carpenters, plumbers, electricians, steel workers and laborers, has totaled 3,000, engaged in building the new base.

When completed, in addition to the Air Force personnel based at the station, the new SAC divisional headquarters will employ about 300 civilian personnel.

Other SAC bases for which Wurtsmith will be headquarters include K. I. Sawyer AFB at Marquette and Kincheloe AFB, formerly Kinross, near Sault Ste. Marie.

New 'Happy Town' Moves, but Where?

By JACK GAVER
UPI Drama Editor

NEW YORK — Despite the fact that it is busy and boisterous—or maybe because of it—"Happy Town" proved to be a most pedestrian musical as it opened at the 54th Street Theater last night.

Obviously designed to be simply a fast fun show, there just isn't much fun in it. There is no wit in the slender fable around which the show is constructed, and there is no appreciable help in the song department.

For all that there are a couple of melodious numbers in the score by Harry M. Haldane (lyrics), Gordon Duffy (music) and Paul Nassau (both).

Allan A. Buckhantz, the director and also a member of the producing firm, seems to feel that bustle and entertainment are synonymous.

He not only has the players on the run most of the time, but there is an awful lot of scenery designed by Curt Nations and it never seems to be still.

Carole and Doctor Await Arraignment

The 22-year-old ex-model and Dr. Bernard Finch, 41, were indicted by the county grand jury Wednesday for murder and conspiracy to murder Barbara Jean Finch, 33, last July 18.

Although both already had been ordered held for trial on murder charges, the prosecution sought the grand jury indictment to sidestep a second preliminary hearing and further court delays.

It also wanted the indictments as a means of returning the auburn-haired girl to jail pending trial. Miss Tregoff, who had been free on $25,000 bond, was returned to jail Wednesday.

Dixie Work Waits 'til Spring

Although land has been cleared for a left-turn right-of-way from Dixie highway at Williams Lake road in Waterford Township, construction of the project will not begin until next spring, a spokesman for the State Highway Department said today.

District Engineer John Wills said bids for the project will be accepted early next month, but that it was too late in the season to build poured-concrete pavement for the cutoffs.

For more than four years, plans for two cutoff roads to handle heavy left-turn traffic on Dixie highway to Williams Lake road on the west and Walton boulevard to the east have been in progress.

Nonne's Restaurant was purchased by the state and a dismantling contract was awarded a local company to tear down the building and clear the land which is located on the west side of Dixie highway.

CONDEMNATION PENDING

At the present time there are condemnation proceedings pending in Circuit Court for a parcel of land adjacent to the A&P store on the east side of Dixie highway.

However, the state has a right-of-entry order and could start construction work if the weather were favorable, Willis said.

Motorists approaching Pontiac on Dixie highway wishing to make a left turn onto Walton boulevard must continue one-eighth of a mile to Floradale street. Motorists heading toward Flint who want to turn left onto Williams Lake road are forced to drive north on Dixie highway for almost a half-mile to Hatfield street then back to Williams Lake road.

Both Hatfield and Floradale are narrow gravel roads.

Steel Strike Ousts 12,000 GM Workers

DETROIT (AP)—Some 12,000 General Motors Corp. workers across the country have been laid off because of the nationwide steel strike.

The steel shortage brought about by the strike has resulted in increasing layoffs at GM parts and equipment plants.

GM's Saginaw Steering Gear Division said yesterday that at least 1,000 of the 4,200 workers at its Saginaw plants would be laid off this week. Some 1,700 division workers have been on a four-day week for three weeks.

The Chevrolet transmission plant at Saginaw has notified 250 of its 1,350 workers not to report Monday, and Saginaw Malleable Iron's layoff total has risen to 140 with the layoff yesterday of 76 more men. The iron plant also said 1,000 would work a three-day week this week and its 1,000 others would be on a four-day week.

The largest GM layoff thus far came Tuesday when 4,400 production workers at the Ternstedt Division in Flint were furloughed.

GM and Chrysler Corp. said they hoped to be able to continue building cars into November. Ford Motor Co., which produces about half of its own steel, said it hoped to continue production for 45 days.

Detroit Company Gets Contracts for Missile

DETROIT (UPI) — American Metal Products Co., Detroit, said today it has received contracts totaling about one million dollars from Thiokol Chemical Corp. for manufacture of high temperature materials to be used on the Air Force Minuteman missile.

The company said the materials will be used as nozzles and aft closure insulation in the Minuteman, the most advanced intercontinental ballistic missile in the U.S. missile program.

AMP's material is produced by means of a proprietary process recently developed at its engineering science division at Ann Arbor. The components will be manufactured at AMP's Detroit plant.

Gets Stung on Duty

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UPI) — Patrolman Gerald Bruzdzinski came upon a unique supplement to a burglar alarm while making a routine investigation. The patrolman was stung by a swarm of bees as he approached an open window at the home of a vacationing resident.

RELATED TO GIRAFFE—This is the first formal portrait of a baby okapi, born in the Brookfield Zoo near Chicago, as it tried its wobbly legs one day recently. It is believed to be the first okapi born in the U. S. The okapi is closely related to the giraffe but is smaller and has a much shorter neck.

New Typesetter Could Do It

Chinese Puzzle Solved?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A refugee Chinese scholar has invented a simplified Chinese language photo typesetter which he describes as a "formidable weapon" to combat printed Communist propaganda in Asia.

Chung Shu Kwei, formerly of Shanghai and now a Yale University professor, said in an interview that the portable 80-pound machine could provide inexpensive printed material for millions of Chinese for the first time in history.

Kwei, an internationally known lawyer, journalist and author, also has developed a decoding device which would speed up the transmission of Chinese messages through use of English characters.

The photo typesetter consists of a translucent drum, covered with 7,500 Chinese characters, and a 35 mm. camera.

ROTATES DRUM

The operator composing a newspaper, book or other matter, rotates the drum until the proper character is in front of the shutter.

The film strips are pasted together to make full pages which then are photographed and printed by the offset or letter press process.

This process would replace the method in which the printer has to compose pages from thousands of metal Chinese characters in wall racks and then replace the characters after the pages are printed.

He also has worked out a new method of sending Chinese telegraph messages, a simplified Chinese dictionary and a Chinese shorthand system using an English stenograph machine.

A researcher at Cornell University has discovered that young people who have frequent accidents tend to be poor thinkers, while older accident victims more often lack coordination and dexterity.

Village Wins Fight to Stay on the Map

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Marvin Terrace has won its battle to stay on the map.

A group of residents, bent on disincorporating the tiny village, narrowly missed getting the signatures of three-fourths of its registered voters — required for a petition to disband the town.

Another group, including many city officials, a month later gathered the signatures of more than one-fourth of the registered voters. This settled the question, at least for the time being.

The starfish sends its stomach out to dinner. That is, it slides the stomach out of its mouth, surrounds it with food and then pulls it back into its body.

MPA Head Eric Johnston Says:

Let Reds See Any U.S. Picture

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"Let the Russians see all the American movies they want — even 'The Grapes of Wrath' and 'Tobacco Road' — it's good propaganda for our own country," says Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Association of America.

Johnston claims depicting the United States at its worst still shows how much better off we are than Iron Curtain countries.

"Here's an example," he said, "'Grapes of Wrath' was shown in Yugoslavia right after the war to illustrate the horrible plight of American workers. It was intended to be purely anti-American propaganda.

"But when Tito's people saw the migrant crop workers, poor as they were, driving around in their own jalopies, they realized not even the rich in their own country had automobiles of their own.

"After a striked was knocked down the audience could see he was wearing brand new shoes. They were used to being slugged by cops, but the Russians couldn't afford new shoes.

"We are inclined to take things for granted here, not seeing the small luxuries that other nations consider great wealth."

Johnston said the Russian film commission asked for many pictures showing the American way of life in a bad light, but the U.S. State Department banned them from the exchange program.

"One of those was 'Blackboard Jungle,'" he explained. "But there were many good people in the story. In addition, the Russians would have been impressed by the fact that juvenile delinquents can afford wrist watches."

Johnston is disgusted with American tourists who howl about the kind of Hollywood films being shown abroad.

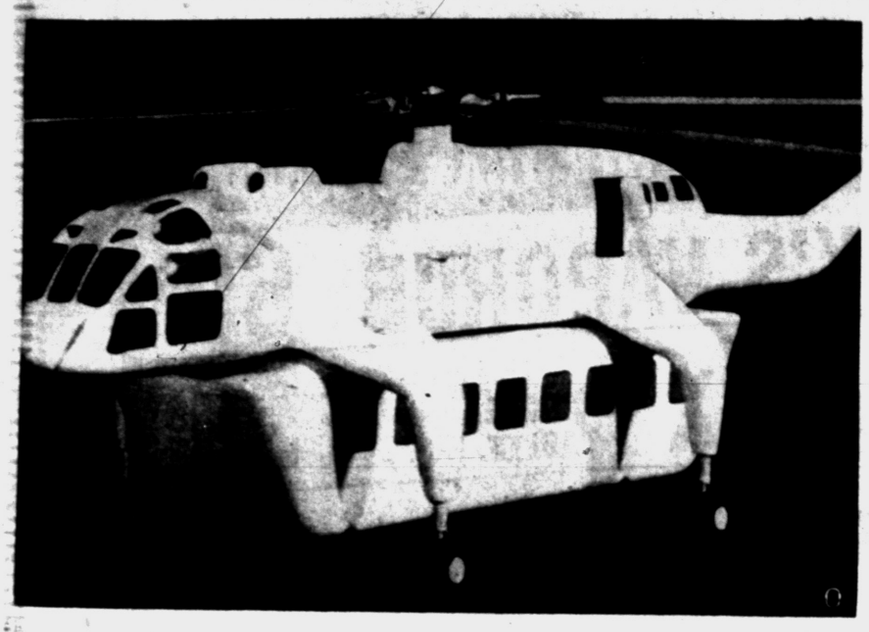

"Good or bad, movies are the most effective means we have of telling people about our country," he said. "We can't judge the reaction of foreigners by our own reactions.

"We've made a constant study of reactions to viewers abroad to our pictures, and we've found it is the best possible propaganda weapon this country has — for the simple reason that in reality it is no propaganda at all."

Civilians to Man Control Towers

Move Will Save Funds at Military Air Bases, FAA Leader Says

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Civilian air traffic controllers will take over most of the air control jobs now handled by military personnel under a program outlined here Wednesday night. It was called an economy move.

E. R. (Pete) Quesada, administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, told the Air Traffic Control Assn. convention the FAA is ready to assume operation of 2,095 military air traffic control centers at 337 global locations.

He said the switch probably will be completed by 1963.

Quesada said the proposed new system will require an additional 9,000 traffic controllers and 6,000 maintenance technicians.

Despite the additions, Quesada described the proposal as an economy move.

"We discovered that the operation of these 2,095 facilities currently required 20,000 military personnel. We have estimated we can do the job with 13,300 persons," he said.

Heliport Fails to Pay Off; Reverts to Cars

The City Board of Estimates voted Wednesday to reconvert a Baltimore Harbor pier from a heliport to an automobile parking area.

The board was told that in two years of operation the revenue from helicopter traffic at the pier was only $253 while the revenue formerly was $500 monthly when the pier was used for automobile parking.

Pumpkin Pie Mixture Frozen With Ice Cream

If you are ever on the lookout for new and delicious ways to make pumpkin pie, you'll be delighted with this year's version.

First a layer of softened vanilla ice cream is spread over a baked pie shell. Then spicy flavored pumpkin is mixed gently with whipped cream and poured over the ice cream.

Into the freezer or freezing compartment for four hours and you have a conversation piece for dessert. You may freeze the pumpkin mixture in little fluted cups and serve it with an ice cream topping.

Pumpkin "Peace-Pipe" Pie

1 pint vanilla ice cream softened
1 10-inch pie shell, baked
1 1-lb can (2 cups) Pumpkin
1½ cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups whipping cream
1 cup slivered almonds
¼ cup sugar

Spread softened ice cream in cooled pie shell; place in freezer. Mix pumpkin with 1½ cups sugar, salt, spices and vanilla. Whip 1 cup whipping cream until stiff and fold into pumpkin mixture. Pour mixture over ice cream in shell. Cover with foil; freeze about 4 hours.

Meanwhile, carmelize almonds: combine nuts and ¼ cup sugar in small skillet. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, and rapidly, as the sugar begins to turn color to prevent burning almonds. Remove from heat when almonds are carmel-colored and spread on a greased cooky sheet.

Note: If a 9-inch pie pan is used, freeze the extra cup of pumpkin filling in paper cupcake liners and serve topped with maple nut or vanilla ice cream.

Try These Out on Your Family

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Before we get too involved in other fall food activities we want to give you the recipes we promised you last week in our stories from the Food Editors Conference.

First of all, let's talk about the rice souffle that won't fall if you make it wait. The one we ate at the Rice Industry dinner was delicately flavored with saffron.

You may make just a plain souffle or one that contains meat, vegetables or even sweetened fruit. This last type is served as a dessert. Plan on using about a cup of whatever extra ingredient you add.

Souffle pronounced soo-flay) is the French word for "puffed up." The addition of cooked rice stabilizes the egg and cream sauce mixture so that it will hold up longer. We're giving you the basic recipe to which you can add any ingredient you choose; also an onion souffle that would be a delightful vegetable dish for a buffet or a luncheon.

Basic No-Fail Rice Souffle

1 cup heavy white sauce*
4 eggs, separated
¾ cup cooked rice

Gradually add hot white sauce to slightly beaten egg yolks. Add the rice. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into rice mixture. Pour into an ungreased 2-quart casserole and bake at 325 degrees F. for 1 hour.

Onion Rice Souffle

1 cup heavy white sauce*
4 eggs, separated
¾ cup cooked rice
½ cup drained and minced boiled onions
2 tablespoons minced parsley
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon basil

Gradually add white sauce to slightly beaten egg yolks. Blend in rice, onions, parsley and seasonings. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into rice mixture. Pour into an ungreased 2-quart casserole and bake at 325 degrees F. for 45 minutes. Makes 5 servings.

*White Sauce:

Melt ¼ cup butter or margarine in a saucepan. Stir in ¼ cup flour. Then blend in 1 cup milk and ½ teaspoon salt. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened.

Pontiac is fortunate to have butchers who put out a variety of lamb cuts. We heard of other parts of the country where lamb is almost unobtainable.

One of the best lamb roasts we ever had was a boned and rolled shoulder. We had to buy the whole shoulder, but the butcher cut the roll into several smaller roasts and we froze it.

Lamb Riblets With Pineapple

⅓ cup vinegar
¼ cup grated onion
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
¾ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ pounds lamb riblets
2 tablespoons cornstarch

Drain pineapple; reserve syrup. Combine syrup, vinegar, onion, parsley, salt and pepper; mix well. Add lamb and chill 1 hour. Drain lamb; reserve marinade.

Broil lamb 3-4 inches from source of heat 7 minutes. Turn and add pineapple. Broil 5-7 minutes, or until lamb is done.

Meanwhile, combine marinade and cornstarch; blend. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Serve lamb and pineapple with sauce.

And now for that recipe for Sauerkraut Ice Cream. We suggest you serve it to your guests, then tell them what it is made of or they may not try it. It really is a good tart ice cream that tastes a little like buttermilk sherbet. It's bound to be a conversation piece.

Lemon Kraut Ice Cream

2 tablespoons corstarch
1½ cups milk
1 cup sugar
¼ cup grated lemon rind
2 eggs, separated
⅓ cup lemon juice
½ cup canned sauerkraut juice
1 quart heavy cream, whipped

Blend cornstarch with ¼ cup milk. Combine cornstarch mixture, remaining milk, sugar and lemon rind. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thickened and smooth. Remove from heat.

Beat egg yolks slightly. Gradually add egg yolks to milk mixture; mix well. Cool. Stir in lemon juice and kraut juice.

Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Fold egg whites and cream into cornstarch mixture. Turn into refrigerator trays.

Freeze until ice crystals form around edges of trays. Turn mixture into large bowl and beat well. Return to refirgerator trays. Freeze until firm.

ONION RICE SOUFFLE — Onion Rice Souffle is an unusual and very impressive dish to serve for lunch or supper or with meat at the main meal. It's a delicious light souffle that is failure-proof. It won't fall even if you keep it waiting. Adding rice to the eggs and white sauce is the secret.

Garlic Spaghetti a Base for Calico Creamed Eggs

Calico Creamed Eggs on Garlic-Buttered Spaghetti have a taste-tempting way of showing the Mediterranean side of their personality! This unique dinner dish makes a feast of plentiful, economical eggs, nested in garlic-buttered spaghetti, and "calicoed" with sliced or whole olives, pimientos cut into fancy shapes, and diced celery.

When quartering the hard-cooked eggs, cut them lengthwise and then crosswise to get generous chunks that enhance the appearance of this easy, exciting dish.

Calico Creamed Eggs Deluxe

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
2¼ cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground pepper
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
⅓ cup diced celery
3 pimientos, diced, or cut in fancy shape, if desired
9 hard-cooked eggs, quartered

1 package spaghetti (about 8 oz.)
1 garlic clove, minced
½ cup butter or margarine
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup minced parsley
Olives

Prepare Creamed Eggs: Melt ¼ cup butter or margarine over low heat, add flour, and stir until blended. Add milk all at once. Cook, stirring constantly, until uniformly thickened and bubbly. Add the 1 teaspoon salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, celery, and pimientos.

Meanwhile cook spaghetti in a large amount of rapidly boiling salted water until just fork-tender, about 15 minutes. Drain. Heat garlic in the ½ cup butter or margarine in a large saucepan over low heat.

★ ★ ★

Add spaghetti the ½ teaspoon salt, and parsley. Toss together lightly. Place in hot serving dish. Top with Creamed Eggs Deluxe. Garnish with olives and egg quarters. Makes 6 servings.

Diabetics, Take Note of Book

Diabetics who want to help themselves to a greater measure of normal living will find a wealth of practical advice in the Second Edition of THE DIABETIC'S HANDBOOK by Anthony M. Sindoni, Jr., M.D., published October 5 (The Ronald Press Company, $4.50).

Eighteen well-known specialists have worked with Dr. Sindoni to answer scores of questions about the causes, symptoms, diagnosis, and traetment of diabetes. They explain the administration and effects of the various insulins and new oral medications such as Orinase, DBI, and Diabinese; discuss the complications arising from hypertension, surgery, cancer, pregnancy, and other health problems.

The book also includes typical menus and single portion recipes and shows how the Food Exchange System can be used to prepare a varied, near-normal diet. Written in nontechnical language, this new book tells the diabetic everything he needs to know and do to simplify his daily routine; enables him to cooperate fully with his physician.

Anthony M. Sindoni, Jr., is Chief of the Department of Metabolism at the St. Joseph and Philadelphia General Hospitals. He is also Medical Director of the Sindoni Clinic in Philadelphia, which is devoted exclusively to diabetes and associated conditions.

Hot Water Bath Cuts Potato Baking Time

You can cut the baking time of potatoes in half by soaking them for 20 minutes in very hot water just before putting 'em in the oven.

As soon as potatoes finish baking, prick the skins with a fork to allow the steam to escape.

A valuable hint on reheating left-over baked potatoes is this; they will be as good as new if first you dip them in hot water before slow rebaking.

Any liquid from pickled beets in the kitchen refrigerator? You can pickle hard-cooked eggs in it.

Pineapple Tops This Sandwich

Sandwiches are no longer limited to "on the run" meals. They may very well appear at party luncheons, backyard buffets or Sunday night suppers.

Broiled Chicken Sandwich, Tropicana, combines chicken, celery, deviled ham and cheese atop English muffins. Add to this the crisp goodness of juicy glazed pineapple slices, and you have a sunny, tropical dish.

Broiled Chicken Sandwich, Tropicana

10 slices canned pineapple
1½ cups finely chopped cooked chicken
1½ cups finely chopped celery
⅓ cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup grated sharp Cheddar cheese
5 English muffins
1 (4½ ounce) can deviled ham
2 tablespoons soft butter
2 tablespoons honey
Nutmeg

Drain pineapple slices on paper towels. Combine chicken, celery, mayonnaise, salt, lemon juice and half the cheese. Split English muffins and toast lightly. Spread with deviled ham then with chicken. Autumn Special Is Concord Grape Pie

Plump, delicious Concord grapes abound in the markets, so now is the perfect time to introduce your family to Concord Grape Pie. This is a pie to outrank all fruit pies this season.

★ ★ ★

When you use enriched flour to make the tender, flaky pie crust, you are providing your family with food iron and the three essential B-vitamins, thiamine, riboflavin and niacin. These nutrients are needed for children's growth and development, and to maintain good health.

Concord Grape Pie

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅔ cup shortening
3 to 5 tablespoons cold water
6 cups stemmed Concord grapes
⅓ cup cornstarch
1¼ cups sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons grated orange rind.

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and press dough together. Cover or wrap in waxed paper. Place in refrigerator while preparing grape filling.

Wash grapes thoroughly. Slip skins from pulp, reserving skins. Heat pulp to boiling and rub through coarse sieve to remove seeds. In a large saucepan, combine cornstarch, sugar, salt and orange rind. Add grape pulp. Bring mixture to boiling and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Stir in skins and cool.

Divide pastry in half. Roll one half to circle about ⅛ inch thick and fit into 9-inch pie pan. Roll remaining half of dough for top crust. Turn filling into bottom crust. Arrange top crust over filling. Seal and flute edge. Cut design in top pastry with sharp knife to allow steam to escape.

Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Reduce heat to modern (350 degrees F.) and bake about 25 minutes longer. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Use Buttermilk in Dinner Rolls for Tenderness

The cool, crisp evenings of autumn are on the way. What could be more mouth-watering than the aroma of hot Buttermilk Rolls coming from the kitchen?

Soften 1 package compressed or dry yeast in ¼ cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry). Scald 2 cups buttermilk. Add ¼ cup sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon soda and ¼ cup shortening. Cool to lukewarm.

Measure 5½ cups sifted enriched flour. Add enough flour to make a thick batter. Mix well. Add softened yeast and beat well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough.

Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise until doubled (about 1½ hours). When light, punch down and let rest 10 minutes.

Shape into rolls. Let rise until doubled (about 45 minutes). Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Makes about 5 dozen small rolls. Serve 'em hot the way everyone likes them, especially the men!

Close that honey container tightly or the sweet may absorb moisture and ferment.

Reveals 10 Pct. Rate Cut on Small Car Insurance

CHICAGO (UPI)—A special insurance rate for small car owners was announced today by Allstate Insurance Co.

Judson B. Branch, Allstate president, said that effective Nov. 1, owners of compact and small cars would be offered a 10 per cent discount on insurance premiums.

Branch said the special discount would apply on bodily injury, property damage, collision and medical payments coverages for private passenger cars of limited size, weight, horsepower and price.

The rates will apply to cars in the lower price range exceeding 2,750 pounds, 200 inches in length and 125 horsepower. The cars must be priced under $2,300 f. o. b. at the factory for domestic cars or at the port of entry for foreign models.

★ ★ ★

The company said the discount would be offered to owners of the new Ford Falcon and Chevrolet Corvair sedans and probably the yet-to-be-released Chrysler Valiant.

The foreign models eligible include Volkswagen, Vauxhall, English Ford, Hillman, Fiat, Simca, Renault, Triumph TR-10 and Opel.

Branch said the small cars are considered better insurance risks.

"Our experience in insuring compact-type cars indicates that due to lower acceleration, smaller size and weight and other related factors, these cars cause less damage in an accident than the standard size cars," he said.

Skilled Trades Body Dissolution Upheld

DETROIT (AP)— Dissolution of the Greater Detroit Skilled Trades Council by the United Auto Workers Union has been upheld by the UAW's public review board.

Members of the council contended the UAW international executive board violated the union constitution by dissolving the board last February.

But the review board ruled the council was created at the discretion of the executive board and could be dissolved in the same way.

Report Siamese Twins Okay After Operation

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Denett and Jeanett Stublefield, the newly separated Siamese twins, were reported to be "doing much better" today at University of Oregon Medical School Hospital.

Attending physicians said they were "exceptionally satisfied" with the condition of the three-month-old girls, who were separated in a five-hour operation Tuesday.

Detroit Catholic Order Requests Rezoning of Cotes Property

ADDISON TOWNSHIP — A Roman Catholic religious order in Detroit has made application to the Township Zoning Board for rezoning of a 140-acre piece of property on E. Drahner road for a monastery.

The property is owned by Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Cote, whose home is said to be one of the finest in Oakland County. A beautiful private lake is one of the scenic attractions on the site located one and a half miles west of Lake George road where Hosner road ends.

In making the request for rezoning from suburban farm to public or institutional classification the Cotes explain that St. Benedict's, a religious order of Catholic men, will use present facilities as they are for the time being.

Later they expect to build a monastery. The proposed building program will probably include a chapel which will be open to the public on special occasions and living quarters for an additional 12 priests and novices.

The only objection that might be raised to the rezoning is that it will take a sizeable piece of property off the tax roll, Richard A. Young, zoning board chairman, said today.

Public hearing on the request is set for Oct. 27 at Rowland Hall, Leonard.

Earned $1,350 in Prison

Cashes Dad's Bonds

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—David P. Russell Jr. was a baby when his father was sent to prison for life in 1931 for killing another man over a debt.

Russell, now 29, pleaded guilty Wednesday to forging his father's name to $1,350 in U.S. Savings Bonds. The father, 59, had bought the bonds with money earned from shining shoes at Southern Michigan Prison.

Young Russell, a service station attendant, said he cashed the bonds and used the money to pay debts. He was released on $1,000 bail pending sentence in U.S. District Court.

The father, who had been convicted of manslaughter, said he learned of the forgery when he told his son to transfer the bonds to a relative and the son failed to comply. The elder Russell notified authorities and volunteered to testify against his son.

The younger Russell said he cashed the 27 bonds of $50 face value each at banks in Detroit and Cleveland by forging his father's name to them.

★ ★ ★

David Sr., still shining shoes in prison, told a Secret Service agent: "I would gladly testify against him. I no longer have any use for him."

U.S. Slaps Controls on Highway Monies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today slapped stringent controls over state spending of federal funds for roadbuilding.

Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller trimmed state highway allotments 700 million dollars and said the curbs were necessary to keep the interstate highway program on a pay-as-you-build basis.

He said that even with the temporary one cent increase in the federal gas tax, the roadbuilding trust fund would not be able to support construction projects at their old pace.

The commerce chief said the states will be permitted to spend $1,800,000,000 on express roads during the current fiscal year that ends next June 30.

Each state was told how much it can spend and at what rate the funds can be parceled out.

Pleads Guilty Then Appeals Charge

Paul H. Shewmaker, 38, of 395 N. Saginaw St., pleaded guilty to drunk driving before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum today but appealed the case to the Oakland County Circuit Court after being sentenced.

Judge McCallum fined Shewmaker $100 and ordered him to jail for two days — or a straight 17 days in jail.

Shewmaker appealed the case to the higher court shortly after the sentence. His appeal is set for Oct. 19.

Meanwhile, he was released under $20 bond set by Judge McCallum.

Griffin Considers Senate Run in '60

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Rep. Robert P. Griffin (R-Mich) today said he would bid in 1960 for the post now held by Sen. Patrick V. McNamara (D-Mich) "if conditions are right."

But, he added, "right now I am interested only in re-election as congressman from the ninth district."

Griffin, who gained national repute recently as coauthor of the Landrum-Griffin labor law, was traveling to Grand Rapids today where he was scheduled principal speaker at the 42nd annual West Michigan Tourist and Resort Assn. membership meeting.

Needlework Officers Plan Fall Work

Guild Ingathering Nov. 12

By MARY ANGLEMIER

Some 60 section presidents and directors of the Pontiac Branch of Needlework Guild of America Inc. completed arrangements for the 47th annual Ingathering on Nov. 12 in First Presbyterian Church when Mrs. Anthony J. Michal opened her Malibu drive home for a morning coffee Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Edward A. Barrett, president, announced directors should take their garments to the church between 9 and 10 on the morning of the Ingathering.

★ ★ ★

The Queen Mary Section of the guild will serve coffee, tea and British pastries from 10 to 11:30 a.m. All members of this group are of English, Welsh, Irish and Scottish descent.

★ ★ ★

Following the annual meeting at 11:30 a.m., Mrs. Chauncey G. Burke and Mrs. George H. Crane will be in charge of distribution.

TRIBUTE PAID

To acquaint new directors with Needlework Guild background, Mrs. Basil E. Brown gave a brief history of the organization and paid tribute to the late Mrs. Harry Y. Fitzgerald, president of the Pontiac group for many years.

The guild had its beginning more than 70 years ago in Dorsetshire, England, following a mining disaster when hundreds of children were orphaned.

★ ★ ★

Lord and Lady Wolverton who lived in a great manor near there heard of the disaster and immediately sought help from friends to construct an orphanage.

★ ★ ★

It was built, but the children needed clothing. Lady Wolverton invited a group of friends to tea asking them to bring enough material to make two garments. The women sewed, making one garment "to wear" and one "to wash."

★ ★ ★

When Mrs. Alenson Harpence returned to Philadelphia from a trip to England, she told her niece of the idea started by Lady Wolverton to supply the wardrobe of an orphanage by personal contributions. Once a year two new articles of wearing apparel or household linen were to be donated.

GUILD STARTED

So, with the aid of six young friends, all members of a Sunday School class in the Oxford Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia, Needlework Guild was started in the United States.

Incorporated in 1896, the guild distributed nearly 1,000,000 pairs of new garments, sheets and blankets in all parts of the country last year.

★ ★ ★

The local group was formed May 21, 1912 at the home of Mrs. W. T. Barbour in Bloomfield Hills through the efforts of Ella Green who was the first president and is now an honorary president.

Needlework Guild is "The Charity That Helps Other Charities."

NEW ARTICLES ONLY

Only new articles are accepted by the guild as it attempts to lift the morale of the recipient, to give him a feeling of hope and courage.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Barrett introduced fellow officers, Mrs. Charles Rogers, first vice president; Mrs. Burke, second vice president; Mrs. Harold A. Furlong, third vice president; and Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald, fourth vice presioent.

★ ★ ★

Others were Mrs. Michal, executive secretary; Mrs. Donald A. Nicholie, recording secretary; and Mrs. W. Ross Thompson, treasurer.

Miss Green and Mrs. Herbert Lowes are honorary presidents.

Purchasing committee for special cases consists of Mrs. Claire R. Gaukler, Mrs. Henry F. Gaukler and Mrs. Robert F. Pack.

Mrs. Donald D. Bos is chairman of membership.

Wouldn't you like to feel the joy of giving two new articles of clothing or household linen to someone through the guild? If you wish to join, call Mrs. Bos or any officer.

★ ★ ★

Clothing may be made at home or purchased. Needed articles include sweaters, socks, shirts, overalls, underwear, nightwear, towels, wash cloths, sheets, outing flannel pajamas, mittens, caps, and dresses, slips and blouses for girls. Elderly men and women appreciate bed socks and outing flannel sheets. Shoes, galoshes and jackets are purchased with cash gifts.

★ ★ ★

Caterer Advises

Budget Reception Costs

Let price, not family pride, rule when telling a caterer about the needs for a wedding reception.

This advice comes from Fred Thibold, who for more than 30 years has been catering manager for a New York firm whose list of customers reads like something right out of society's "Four Hundred."

Thibold said the reception menu should be determined by the amount the bride's family plans to spend, plus the number of guests, plus the wedding date and hour of the day.

A firm budget saves time, he explained in an interview, because it will prevent the wife from approving a bill of fare whose cost is vetoed later by the husband.

Today's brides plan farther ahead and also plan simpler repasts.

★ ★ ★

Many simply serve sandwiches, ice cream, cake and coffee, the caterer explained. For a country wedding in the afternoon, the menu may include a salad and a hot dish.

HELPFUL TIPS

Whether your reception is large or small, formal or informal, these tips from the caterer will help guarantee its success:

Double check the acceptances for an exact guest total. One acceptance usually means two individuals, if the invitation went to a couple.

Let your choice of menu and manner of serving (buffet or seated) be guided by the date, the hour, the type of wedding (formal or informal) and religious appropriateness.

For a late afternoon suburban or country wedding, which would put departing guests on the road at mealtime, the caterer suggests a substantial dinner. It might include chicken salad as well as a hot seafood dish with rice, sandwiches, ice cream, cake and coffee.

If you're serving champagne, count on half a bottle per person, or six glasses to a bottle.

Rely on your caterer's experience in choosing and serving. Chances are, he's been planning wedding receptions for years, while you may plan only one in a lifetime.

ILENE SHARETTE

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Sharette of Elizabeth Lake road announce the engagement of their daughter Ilene Elizabeth Ann to James Austin Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin P. Webb of Port Austin. No date has been set for the wedding.

Flooring News

Classic designs for area rugs now provide inspiration for designs in solid vinyl and rubber flooring. A wide variety of precut borders and motifs in these resilient flooring materials make it easy to achieve a custom look.

Decorate for Men

Soft, plush carpet, drapes of solid colors or containing designs of masculine interest, provide a man with a den he can call his very own. Walls can be paneled or papered in an appropriate "woody" pattern. A comfortable chair, desk and bookcase complete this delightful room.

Final plans for the card party Tuesday at the Boys Club were made when these three members of the Mothers Club group got together. Buy Gay Umbrella

Nothing can pick up the spirits on a rainy day like an umbrella that's a burst of color. Try one in turquoise with a gold handle. Or a flower print in vivid shades on a white background.

Shoes for the high school crowd are going up. High vamps, high scuffs and high colors, reports the Leather Industries of America. Only heels will be lowdown among teen shoe styles.

Three Ways to Greet Middle Age

There are two ways of going at middle age: you can accept it graciously and be charming or you can get desperate about it and try to look and act twenty.

If you do try to act half your age, you will, of course, be ridiculous. You'll wear bouffant skirts, tight slacks, fussy sweaters and elaborate hairdos. (Not even youngsters can get away with some of these but they'll look better than you will.)

There's a third possibly way: the lumpy figure, sagging print dress and rimless glasses routine. This is the opposite of the recaptured youth act and just as extreme.

What's open to you is far more pleasant. If you want beauty at your age, shop for clothes which are trim, flattering and fun to wear. They should be neither youthful nor dowdy.

Wear your hair in a soft and classic style and skip the extremes. Watch your diet and keep your figure trim. Use soft make-up but don't overdo it and don't abandon it altogether.

Expect 10 Years as Widow

Retirement Years Longer

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I received a very interesting pamphlet today. It is a summary of views given by experts in the field of aging. These were presented before the subcommittee on problems of the aged and aging of the Committee on Labor and Public Welfare, United States Senate.

These experts from every field testified before the subcommittee in Washington this past June. I think you will be interested in a few facts which were highlighted and which will certainly give you food for thought.

A man of 65 today has a life expectancy of another 13 years. A woman of 65 may expect to live another 15½ years. Since women have a greater life expectancy at birth and usually marry men older than they, a married woman today, as an average, can expect to be a widow for 10 years.

The average age at death in the United States is now 70. The way things are going it will be 82 in the year 2000. If the medical profession continues to progress as it has in recent years it is entirely possible that persons will be living to the age of 125. I wish I were a little younger so I could have a shot at that. I would love it!

If medical research ever conquers the vascular diseases (and it doesn't seem too far away from it now) in 1970 we will have about 30 to 40 million people in the United States 65 years or older as compared to the present estimate of 20 million.

In testimony it was brought out that a large percentage of mental breakdowns can be traced to retirement and the resulting feeling of being removed from a life with meaning.

Sen. Patrick V. McNamara (D-Mich), chairman of the Senate subcommittee on problems of the aged and aging announced Aug. 20 the committee will take a grass roots tour this fall.

I think this is a wonderful idea! The committee will visit many different cities and will talk with older people themselves, with city and state officials, and local agencies. They also hope to visit nursing and old age homes and hospitals.

Chairman McNamara said, "It is hoped that the presence of our subcommittee will focus more public attention on the magnitude of the situation and on the fact that solutions will require the understanding and cooperation of every level from the private individual through top levels of government."

This hits every one of us in our homes and personal lives! It is now your personal problem or will be, because of the older members of our family and because, like it or not, some day we will get there ourselves!

The problems of the older folks have received a thorough study by the Senate Subcommittee on Problems of the Aged and Aging of the Committee on Labor and Public Welfare.

Gilbert Nationwide Teen Survey Reveals:

Boys Want Their Girls to Be Wholesome

By EUGENE GILBERT

Brigitte and Marilyn may draw the loudest wolf whistles but when it comes right down to picking a girl for closer companionship teenaged boys go for something less spectacular.

Their ideal girl:

She's a blue-eyed blonde, not too thin and not too plump. She's a trifle shorter than her boy friend and not quite as bright. She gets medium grades in school. She doesn't smoke; doesn't drink.

She dresses conservatively, usually in casual clothes. She prefers short shorts in sportswear but, at the beach, she scorns brief bathing suits. She uses little, if any, artificial beauty aids.

And, she doesn't have to be particularly beautiful as long as she is sincere.

The survey showed that physical attributes, over which a girl has no control, are not as important as they would seem. Personality and the way she does things are what count with the boys.

"I like girls who are ladies," Fred Nestle, 14, of Birmingham, Ala., told us.

"Naturalness" was the nomination of Roy Glenn, 16, of Dayton, Ohio.

The blue-eyed blonde scored with three out of five boys. But there was a good percentage going for green-eyed girls (one out of four) and chicks with black or red hair (one out of six for each).

Three out of four boys like to catch a faint scent of perfume on their date; four out of five prefer only a bare touch of lipstick. Eye shadow has no appeal at all for more than nine out of 10.

Devices that add curves in places where nature has fallen down on the job are frowned upon. Five out of six boys don't think their girls should wear falsies. One in 10 thinks it's okay if they're used artfully.

Short shorts are the boys' favorite for girls' sportswear, with three boys out of eight, although Bermudas and slacks were tops with one in five.

Leotards and toreador pants trailed badly.

In bathing suits, though, it was a conservative job nine times out of 10. Bobby socks are preferred by a good margin over stockings.

On the mental level, five out of six boys told us they would like their girls to be not quite their equal in intelligence. Nearly one in six said he likes a girl just as smart. The real brainy girls drew only a scattering of votes.

★ ★ ★

In summing up the personality of their ideal girl, almost all the boys told us they prefer a plain young lady who is sincere as against all the beautiful but insincere charmers in the world. Only one in 50 would take a chance on the latter type.

"She'd be great," said one Southern boy. "Do you know where I can find one like this?"

Gilbert has gone as far as he can, son. That last question is up to you.

Thank heaven for little girls! Ready for bed in these checkered ski-jamas, these toddlers steal your heart. No trouble keeping these pajamas charming either, for this design is made of sanforized flannelette. Comes in red, blue or pink. Available locally.

Teenagers' Moms Are Social Secretaries

By RUTH MILLETT

Many times I've seen lists of the various jobs performed by the average housewife and mother. The lists always include such items as chauffeur, laundress, cook, babysitter, cleaning woman, and so on.

But so far I've never found "social secretary" on any such list. It ought to be there if the housewife and mother has even one teenager in the family. If she has more than one, it ought to be underlined.

How does mom perform as social secretary? Why, she runs an answering service for her teenage son or daughter — taking dozens of telephone calls every day, keeping messages straight, remembering which boys are to be told "Jane is at Anne's. You can call her there if you like," and which ones are to be discouraged with, "I'm sorry. Jane isn't here right now. No, I'm not sure just when she'll be back."

She not only has to be able to say where her own son or daughter can be reached by telephone when they aren't at home—she has to know who all their companions are.

For teenagers never give up when they want to reach a friend by telephone. So when the telephone isn't ringing for her own teenager, it is very likely ringing for a friend. Half the time, the caller is trying to track down another teenager who might just happen to be with Jane. So Jane's mother has to be able to say just who went in the car with Jane.

And then there are the messages: "Judy wants you to call and tell her what you are wearing to the party tonight." "Bill says you are double-dating with Joe and Barbara, and so he'll be by at seven-thirty instead of seven-fifteen." And on-and-on-and-on.

But what makes the job such a headache is this: no matter if mom gets a dozen messages straight and keeps half a dozen boys either encouraged or discouraged, according to daughter's instructions, the one message she forgets is sure to be the most important.

"Oh, Mother, how could you have forgotten to tell me Jane said they had all decided to wear flats instead of heels?" wails her daughter. And mom realizes she has flubbed her job as social secretary, over the heels versus flats issue.

Take Food Nearest You Carefully

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Last evening my husband and I were invited to dinner at the house of his employer. I was seated on the host's right and when the waitress came around with the serving dishes, I was served first instead of the hostess. I was never so embarrassed in all my life as I had no idea how to attack the beautifully arranged but complicated dish that was presented to me.

"I was almost tempted to refuse it but took a deep breath and broke into it, making a mess of it. I ask you, Mrs. Post, what does one do when one is served a complicated dish first? Wouldn't it have been more thoughtful of her guest, for the hostess to have herself served first?"

Answer: Your hostess was right in having you served first and you should not have been embarrassed. With the serving spoon you cut out as large a portion as you wish and then lift it out with the fork in the left hand, balancing the food on the spoon to be sure none falls off. You take your portion from that part of the dish nearest you or you may touch the part you think you should take lightly with the spoon and ask the waitress, "Do I start here?"

"Dear Mrs. Post: We are in the midst of addressing wedding invitations and a question has arisen as to where the reception card should be placed. The invitation fits into the envelope without folding. Should the reception card be placed on the face of the invitation, or should it be put inside?"

Answer: The reception card is placed on the face of an invitation that is not folded.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me the correct way to eat frog's legs? Is it permissible to use the fingers?

Answer: Frog's legs should be eaten with a knife and fork and not in the fingers.

A slimming streak of a dress to live in happily all day. Curved yoke repeats smart line of the hip pockets. Sew it easily in glowing wool, drip-dry blend or jersey in new "earth" tones. Tomorrow's pattern: Misses' apron.

Printed Pattern 4933: Misses' sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18. Size 16 takes 2¼ yards 54-inch fabric.

Dear Abby Says 'Move Out'

He LOVES His Freedom, Dear

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with this man for eleven years. He was married when I met him but his wife was sick. He asked me to move into his house and be his housekeeper and take care of his wife and four children. I did.

ABBY

All this time we were sweethearth. He said he'd marry me in time. His wife passed away two years ago. Since then, he hasn't mentioned one word about marrying me, but he says he loves me. Do you call that love?

HOUSEKEEPER

DEAR HOUSEKEEPER: It's love all right! He loves your company, but he loves his freedom. He loves your housekeeping, but he would love to keep things exactly as they are. If you want a husband, I suggest you move your loving self out of his house and find a nice single man who is satisfied to love his own wife.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I know that parents are supposed to treat all their children alike, but we can't help favoring our middle child. Our oldest (a girl 16) is selfish and mule-headed and we can't do a thing with her. The baby (a boy, 8) won't let us kiss or touch him. He lies and is a real little trouble maker.

But the middle child is the kind all parents dream of having. He is truthful, loving and helpful. Everyone notices that he is our favorite. We know it isn't right, but how can we change the situation?

PRAYING FOR HELP

DEAR PRAYING: Since all children do not behave the same way, they don't deserve the same treatment. Treat each child as an individual. When a child is mule-headed, deceitful and generally disagreeable, there is usually a reason for it. Professional help (starting with your family physician) could unearth those reasons, and possibly remove them.

DEAR ABBY: You often refer to a female woman with loose morals as a "dog." This, in my opinion, is an insult to any dog. Mongrel or pedigreed.

In a female dog, it is twice a year, and once mated she will refuse all other males. Show me a woman with such standards and I will marry her.

DEAR ABBY: After being married to this woman for 17 years I guess maybe I don't have too much to complain about. But here is my problem. She never uses our outsized living room except for showers and a visit from our minister.

All the other company she squeezes into our kitchen or den.

I told her I didn't know what we needed this nice house for if she was only going to use half of it. It makes me so mad when she crowds everybody into the smallest rooms in the house.

CRAMPED

DEAR CRAMPED: Don't ask me why, but most people enjoy crowding into a small den or kitchen. If they enjoy the coziness — relax and accept it.

★ ★ ★

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Drapek-Mallett Wedding in Home Setting

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Mallett of Mt. Clemens street announce the Sept. 4 marriage of their daughter, Florence Marie, to Stanley Drapek. He is the son of Mrs. Pauline Drapek of Northview court.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Eugene Gross assisted her sister as matron of honor and Donald Gerber served as best man.

It's Different Now —Thank Goodness

Time was when the priest kissed the bridegroom, the groom kissed the bride, the priest kissed his assistants and they kissed the guests!

You take a little color slide, hardly bigger than two 4-cent stamps. You put it in a slide projector. And suddenly you've got a happy memory on the screen as big and colorful as the day it happened.

That's the special, unbeatable magic of color slide photography, the magic that seems to be putting more and more people under its spell every day.

Of course, another of the potent lures is that it's so easy to get started taking color slides. You can get everything you need to take color slides indoors or outdoors, in one smartly-designed package.

One wonderful way to get started is with a moderately priced slide camera. Let me give you a quick look inside. First, the new cameras are trim, smartly styled, small and compact, easy to handle. You can count on getting good slides with the new cameras with your first roll of film.

That's plenty to pack into an outfit — but not all. There's also a Pocket Viewer that lets you show your slides any time, any place. COME IN — BROWSE AROUND AND ASK TO SEE THESE CAMERAS.

Golden Cancels Tour on Doctor's Orders

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A heart condition has forced author Harry Golden to cancel a tour which had included an appearance here.

Golden was to have appeared tonight on a panel at the Kansas City Press Club's annual Griddle Show. He told club officials by telephone Tuesday his doctor had forbidden him to make the trip.

Golden, editor of the weekly Carolina Israelite at Charlotte, N.C., said a checkup disclosed the return of a heart palpitation. He is the author of two recent best-selling books, "Only in America," and "For 2 Cents Plain."

British Foreign Minister Prospect

Bevan's Goal Full Socialism

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON (AP)—Aneurin Bevan, expected to become foreign minister of Britain if the Labor party wins today's election, has for years been one of the country's most provocative leaders on the left wing of politics.

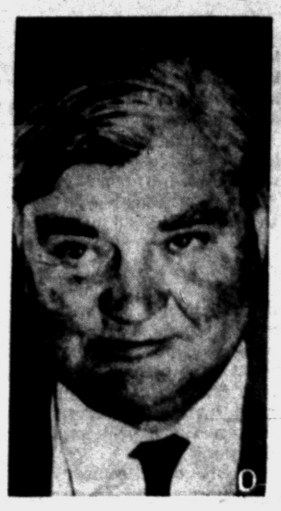

The foreign ministry would be a fine personal triumph for this politician who came up from a miner's hut in Wales. But many of his associates believe the responsibility for guiding Britain's foreign policy is not exactly the job he would choose for himself.

He would prefer to be prime minister, wielding sweeping authority in the domestic affairs which have been his chief preoccupation since he first entered Parliament in 1929.

There has been a subtle change in Bevan's personality lately. He has not mellowed, he still uses fierce phrases in speech and his goal remains a complete Socialist system for Great Britain.

But, since Hugh Gaitskell captured leadership of the Labor party, Bevan has been frozen in second position, traditionally entitled to the foreign secretaryship. For months he has applied his mind to problems of international affairs.

The conclusion of many friends is that he realizes that his undoubted talents will not have full scope in foreign affairs. International relations require the delicate touch, long and unspectacular study, and a dependence on briefs by experts and reports from ambassadors. There is less room for the brilliant and unexpected strokes which for many years have been a Bevan trademark.

ANEURIN BEVAN

WOULD BE LOYAL

But his friends also say he would be a loyal foreign minister, throwing his bouncing vitality into the job. It is even thought that at 61 — he was born Nov. 15, 1897 — he might resign himself to never being party leader or prime minister. He is too loyal to the party to wreck it at a moment of success. But if it should lose Thursday, Bevan could decide that the party needs an overhauling and might wage another campaign for leadership.

Bevan is adored and abused. Few Britons are indifferent to him. His clashes with Sir Winston Churchill in the House of Commons are well remembered, as well as his famous observation that many Conservative party supporters, especially industrialists he held responsible for the impoverishment of miners in his youth, are "lower than vermin."

Bevan, who never forgets those years in the Welsh mine — he left school at 13 — lives politics, and he is intense about everything.

Grand Haven Police Get Too Many Coins

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — The city council is considering a halt to mailed payment of Grand Haven parking meter fines as too costly for the police department and municipal court.

It was explained that fines of 50 cents generally are paid by the violator placing a half-dollar in an envelope provided by the police department with six cents postage.

Some violators recently have mailed in 50 pennies. Such mail requires the city to pay 36 cents postage, leaving only 14 cents to cover the infraction.

Maharaja Rules Remote Bhutan

Half Size of Indiana, Little Buffer Country Plays Silent Role

WASHINGTON — The people of Bhutan, a tiny nation tucked between India and Communist-dominated Tibet, call themselves the "thunder people" and cherish the dragon as a national symbol. But until recent troubles with Communist Chinas, their country had played an almost silent role in world history. Hidden in the Himalayas, the earth's highest mountains, peaceful Bhutan was so remote as to make Tibet seem like a crossroads. Not until 1951 was an American allowed to visit the country.

About half the size of Indiana, Bhutan touches both Indian jungles and Tibetan peaks, the National Geographic Society says. Like Nepal and Sikkim, it stands buffer between the Indians and the Chinese Communists. The pastoral country is ruled by a hereditary maharaja.

TALL MONGOLOID PEOPLE

Bhutan's 300,000 people have Mongoloid features. They are tall, muscular, and good-looking. Men and women share equally in providing for the household, and housewives may be seen carrying 80-pound loads from the fields.

The people have a keen sense of humor and a marked trait of honesty and straightforwardness. Western observers have found them polite, courteous, and willing to help at every chance.

The Bhutanese speak a Tibetan dialect, mixed with words borrowed from neighboring peoples. Their religion is virtually the same as Tibetan Lamaism, a mixture of Buddhism and animism.

A loose, knee-length robe bound by a tight sash is worn by men. Women go about in a bedspread-sized cloth held in place by silver clasps and a wait band. Their voluminous clothing serves for blankets at night.

A land of villages and farms, Bhutan has no great concentrations of wealth and, at the same goods are bartered, not bought and erty seen else where in Asia. Practically everybody in Bhutan has enough to eat and wear.

The Bhutanese grow rice, which they often puff and eat like popcorn. They also raise yaks, whose shaggy fur is exported to make Santa Claus beards in the West.

Technologically backward, Bhutan has no wheeled vehicles. Most goods are bartered, not brought and sold, and the government accepts taxes in kind or labor. There are no high schools, colleges, hotels, restaurants, cinema houses, or newspapers.

Rhino Is Winner by a Landslide in Brazilian City

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP — A rhinoceros named Cacareco—a write-in candidate—polled more votes than anyone else in Wednesday's election of city councilmen. Election officials conceded Cacareco 88,000 votes.

★ ★ ★ ★

Members of Mayor Adhemar de Barros' Social Progressive faction, with more than 44,000 votes, led the two-legged candidates.

★ ★ ★ ★

The vote was interpreted as a protest demonstration against all politicians since Cacareco, who was lent only recently by the Rio de Janeiro zoo to Sao Paulo's, is ineligible to serve.

National Highway Group Plans Detroit Convention

LANSING (AP)— Detroit will be host to 1,500 of the nation's top highway administrators in November 1960, at the annual meeting of the American Assn. of State Highway Officials.

The group sets national standards and policies for highway construction and maintenance.

State Highway Commissioner, John C. Mackie, who announced selection of Detroit as the convention site, will attend the 1959 convention next week in Boston.

Boy Returns Wallet Following Long Route

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Philip Eddy, 16, a delivery boy for the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot, was unable to arouse the James S. Bartlette family in the early morning when he delivered the Sunday paper. Auto Club Officer Hits Postcard Report Plan

DETROIT (AP) — Ernest P. Davis, safety and traffic director of the Automobile Club of Michigan, has condemned a proposed plan under which Michigan motorists would report on traffic violators by postal card.

"This is an attempted revival of a crackpot idea which was begun in Detroit 30 years ago, has been tried elsewhere and never lived," Davis said.

Pacifier Meats Need

He fed the meat to the family dog to keep him from barking. The hamburger was stolen from the family refrigerator.

Have Right Mascot

The U. S. Air Force Academy keeps an appropriate mascot—the falcon — at its new headquarters near Colorado Spring, Colo. Usually there are half a dozen of the handsome birds on hand, ready to demonstrate their soaring and swooping skills. Falcon, spelled with capital F, means an Air Force Academy cadet.

Thanks to Shoemaker, Ted Has All Four Legs to Stand on Now

By DICK SAUNDERS

Ted, a one-year-old German shepherd, lost the "pat" in his "pit-ter-pat" last June when his left rear leg was cut off in a power mower.

When Donald Rigsby, who owns Don's Shoe Service, 234 E. Pike St., heard of the dog's plight, he went to work on an artificial leg for Ted.

"I've done a lot of orthopedic work, making shoes for crippled persons, so when the doctor contacted me I figured it would be worth a try," explained the 42-year-old shoemaker.

Ted's owner, Marion Bunch of 3181 Dartmouth Rd., Oxford Township, brought him to the office of Dr. Richard A. McNeil, a veterinarian of 44 E. Flint St., Lake Orion.

Bunch is an employe of a large farm, Devon Acres North, at 4517 Seymour Lake Rd. and lives on the farm property. He explained that he was cutting hay with a large hay mower when Ted jumped through a barbed wire fence into the churning blades.

McNeil patched up the leg, which had been amputated just below the joint, and called Rigsby, who also has a shoe store at his home, 28 E. Flint St., next to the doctor's office.

FIRST TIME

"The dog had a good disposition and I thought we might be able to do something like this, although it's the first time a patient of mine has ever had an artificial limb made for him," the doctor said.

"There aren't many men with the talent and patience to make an artificial leg for a dog. It's quite rare," he continued.

Rigsby went to work on the project. "The leg had to be about six inches long. I made the body of cork and covered it with leather extended at the top with a lace-like effect," Rigsby recalled.

Just like people lace up their shoes, Ted would lace up his leg —or at least that was the idea.

"After several weeks of work, we got it on him and it didn't work," the shoemaker said.

Pontiac Press Photo

BEST FOOT FORWARD — Not so long ago this German Shepherd named Ted had only three feet to choose from, but he's standing firmly now on all four. Ted is the fortunate owner of an artificial left rear leg. Happy with the unusual achievement is the man who made it, Don Rigsby, shown here with Ted next to Rigsby's store, Don's Shoe Service, 234 E. Pike St.

"The new leg stayed on all right, but it wasn't secure enough and wobbled when he ran. It would swing over and hit his other hind leg and scare the poor dog."

Rigsby didn't give up though. At least one thing good came of the first try, Ted was beginning to "warm up" to Rigsby.

"At first he was pretty reluctant about anyone handling that stump, but after I tried the first leg Ted seemed to realize I was trying to help him.

"Many days I'd bring him into the Pontiac store (where all the work was done) and he eventually got so friendly that whenever I'd walk toward him with material in my hand, he'd automatically get up and stick that stump out for a fitting," Rigsby said with a smile.

The second leg was also made of cork, but this time the shoemaker hollowed out the top so that it would fit over the dog's stump.

Then he lined the hollowed out portion with soft foam rubber and covered it again with leather. A strap extended at the top runs up over the bend in his leg, around it and down to a buckle.

CUSTOM FIT

"This one was really custom fitted. The job took about five or six weeks," Rigsby said.

Rigsby and Ted spent the last day alone together at the shop. The big day took place about two weeks ago.

"I put it on him and took him outside. He took a few cautious steps. About every third step he'd put his weight on his new leg," Rigsby related.

"Then suddenly he stopped. First he raised the new leg and looked at it. Then he raised his good leg. And then he ran back to me, as though he was convinced everything was going to be OK," said the happy shoemaker turned leg-maker.

★ ★ ★

"There's no wobble in this leg, but I knew there was something I forgot and Ted brought it to my attention before long."

Looking at the leg you wonder what could possibly be missing.

"Claws!" exclaimed Rigsby. "It makes a lousy ear scratcher," he mused. "Later that first day I saw Ted sit down and try for a flea behind his ear. It was a futile attempt. I forgot the claws."

Every other aspect of the paw is made to perfection. The artistic shoemaker measured Ted's paw, it was nine inches around, and made a paw that size.

"It's shaped like a miniature horse's hoof, a little higher in the back, with a leather sole an eighth of an inch thick. The leg weighs about a half pound.

"The dog is reacting as I thought he would," says Dr. McNeil after several weeks trial period on his new limb.

"He's well tempered and hasn't tried to chew it off, just accepts it like it was the real thing. We may make a few minor adjustments as time goes by, but he's really only a pup and should adapt to the leg much more easily than if he were eight or nine years old."

"We're getting along just fine," says owner Bunch. "I take the leg off each night so he won't develop any sores."

Bigger, Better Clams on Way

Selective Breeding of Hard Shells Increases Growth 17 Per Cent

WASHINGTON — There's good news for oyster lovers—bigger and better bivalves may be on the way.

Interior Department scientists are encouraged by initial results of experiments to improve shellfish through selective breeding. In one year of tests, top-quality specimens of hard-shelled clams grew 17 per cent faster than unselected mollusks.

A similar project to produce fast-growing oysters is now in progress.

If the tests prove successful, oysters may eventually be bred for taste and other desirable qualities, says John B. Glude, chief of the Branch of Shellfisheries.

Popular belief notwithstanding, oysters are good eating all year long in the United States, the National Geographic Society says. The belief that oysters are safe only in months spelled with an "r" is a hangover from the past. Lack of refrigeration once caused spoilage of oysters during the summer.

In Europe, however, summer oysters are sometimes gritty because the species there carry the young for days after they are hatched. The tiny shells of the immature oyster make the adult look and taste sandy.

Science has dismissed another cherished bit of oyster lore—that an oyster-eater may make his fortune by cracking his teeth on a valuable pearl.

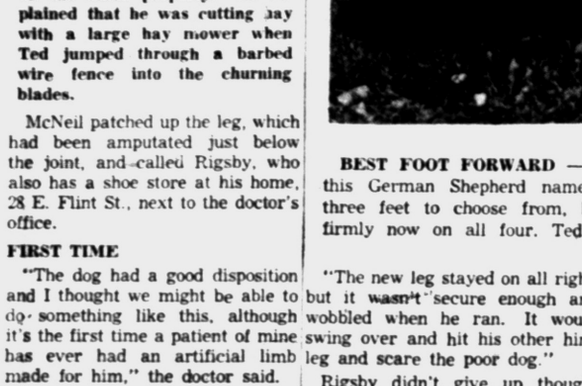

Occasional calcareous concretions may develop in eatable oysters, but they have no luster and are worthless. The pearl-bearing oysters found on America's Pacific Coast and in the Persian Gulf are inedible.

There were 205,643 prisoners in the nation's state and Federal penitentiaries at the end of 1958, a record high and an increase of 10,229 or 5.2 per cent over 1957.

Russia Takes Step to 40-Hour Week

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union took a step Wednesday toward putting factory and office workers on a 40-hour week.

Commissions of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament) published a draft of proposed labor legislation for public discussion and later submission to the lawmakers.

It would fix the working day of factory and office personnel at not more than seven hours and the working week at not more than 40 hours. The standard has been an eight-hour-day, six-day week except in heavy industry, where hours vary.

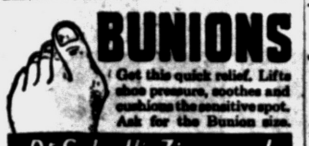

Port of Muskegon Doing a Booming Business

MUSKEGON (UPI) — Muskegon port officials report that by the end of November the number of overseas ships logged here will be nearly double the entire 1958 season.

★ ★ ★

Scheduled calls at the Muskegon port through the end of this month will bring the overseas vessel total to 60, compared with 38 overseas ships stopping here all of last year.

A-Scarred Girl Is Model

TOKYO (AP)—An atom-scarred Hiroshima maiden who was treated and trained in New York was launched on a career in fashion Wednesday.

"All I have been able to do," Toyoko Minowa said, "is because of my American friends."

Fourteen years ago, when Toyoko was 18, she was critically burned in the atomic bombing of Hiroshima. She was one of 25 "Hiroshima Maidens" sent to New York for plastic surgery under the project sponsored by Norman Cousins, editor of the Saturday Review.

Red China-U.A.R. Split Fast Becoming Canyon

CARO, U.A.R. (UPI)—The rift between the United Arab Republic and Communist China widened today with Cairo newspapers accusing the Peiping regime of "new provocations."

The charges came in Peiping-datelined reports quoting news agencies as saying that the Lebanese Communist leader attacked the U.A.R. and Arab nationalism in a recent speech during Red China's 10th anniversary celebrations.

Famous Lighthouse Opens as Museum

High U.S. Officials Due to Explain Air Base Halt

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Air Force Secretary James Douglas and other high officials will explain to irate residents of Racine and Kenosha counties today why construction was halted on the multi-million dollar Bong Air Force Base.

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) announced that the high ranking panel would appear at the Racine County courthouse in the latest development in the growing controversy over cancellation of the 5,400 acre base.

Holding Down Violence After Attack on Kassem

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Authorities today sought to head off mob violence in Iraq after the attempted assassination of Premier Abdel Karim Kassem in Baghdad. Kassem was shot three times but the Iraqi government said he suffered only minor wounds.

★ ★ ★

The 45-year-old revolutionary leader was fired on Wednesday by an unidentified gunman during his regular afternoon drive down Baghdad's main street. Official announcements did not link the assailant — who apparently escaped — with any group.

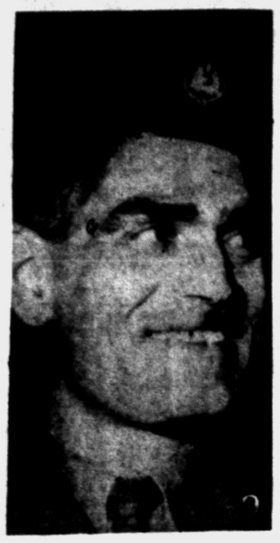

Kassem assured the populace of his well-being in a radio broadcast from his hospital bed. He blamed the attack "on traitors who wanted to get rid of me so the people would be without leadership."

SOUNDED WEAK

The Premier's voice sounded weak and depressed. Listeners thought he must have been in pain.

Radio Baghdad, quoting a medical bulletin, said Kassem was hit three times but his wounds were superficial. The worst resulted from a shot in his upper left arm that broke a bone.

A curfew was clamped on Baghdad and its suburbs. Schools were ordered closed today. Presumably army units in and around the Iraqi capital were placed on the alert to counter any violence quickly.

Lunik Goes On After Moon Run

Reds Give No Word on Survey; Rocket Turns Back Saturday

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Lunik III, its historic trip past the moon completed, presumably continued on out into space today on a wide curving course scheduled to bring it rocketing back past the earth Oct. 18.

An official announcement Wednesday night said the 614-pound flying vehicle will not start its turn back toward the earth until Saturday, after reaching a point 292,043 miles from the earth.

When radio contact was made Wednesday, the vehicle was 78,750 miles from the moon and 258,957 miles from the earth.

There was no word on the results — if any — of the vehicle's survey of the hidden side of the moon. The announcement said only that "the scientific measuring instruments, the thermal regulation and power supply systems, continue functioning normally."

"After passing the point of minimum distance from the moon," the announcement said, "the automatic interplanetary station continues to move firmly along the preset orbit."

The announcement added that Lunik's "shortest distance from the earth's surface will be about 40,000 kilometers (24,854 miles)" when it passes the planet.

At the time of last Sunday's launching, Soviet scientists predicted the vehicle might approach within 1,240 miles of the earth. But the new figure indicated it would continue in orbit indefinitely, since it would be far out of the earth's atmospheric friction which would burn it up on contact.

State Osteopaths Ask a Tax-Paid College

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — State osteopaths want public funds to erect a tax-supported college of osteopathic medicine in Michigan.

The unprecedented move came last night in the inaugural address of Dr. Alan M. Potts of Royal Oak, new president of the Michigan Assn. of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons.

"It is just and right that part of the tax money expended for the preparation of physicians should be used for education of osteopathic students," Potts told the closing session of the Association's 61st annual convention here.

"Michigan's 1,448 osteopathic doctors provide for the health needs of about 25 ot 30 per cent of the people of the state," he said.

Traditionally, osteopaths have supported their own colleges and hospitals. There are six osteopathic colleges, none in Michigan.

Potts said 40 osteopathic hospitals in the state provide ample clinical facilities. A faculty could be drawn from Michigan practitioners, he added.

Potts said the school is "necessary if the people of Michigan are to be able to continue exercising their choice of the kind of physicians to provide their health care."

No suggestion was made as to location of the proposed school, or whether it should be affiliated with an existing university.

Rapist Beats Woman, Throws Her Into Furnace

She managed to escape but was in critical condition with third degree burns covering her body.

Week's Car Output Highest in 2 Months

DETROIT (AP)—Automotive News said today that car production this week will reach its highest level in more than two months, despite some short work weeks caused by steel shortages.

Domestic production was estimated at 116,451 cars, up from 105,720 last week. In the similar week a year ago 34,834 cars were built.

Some Chevrolet assembly plants are on four work days this week because of dwindling steel supplies. However, both Ford and American Motors have scheduled six-day work weeks.

Ford makes 50 per cent of its own steel and American says its steel inventory is one of the best in the industry.

Last year at this time the industry was hampered by its own labor difficulties which slowed the start of 1959 model production.

Truck production this week was estimated at 24,079 against 21,871 last week and 11,867 in 1958.

Canadian production rose to 6,065 this week compared with 5,410 cars and trucks last week and 5,294 a year ago.

UF Women Canvass

Two thousand women canvassers for this year's United Fund drive today were continuing their house-to-house soilcitation, striving to pass their $25,157 goal.

Throughout the Pontiac, Waterford and Lake Angelus areas, door bells are ringing as the volunteer workers ask for dollar bills to support the 52 UF agencies.

Women canvassers are answering questions such as, "My husband gives at work," or "I can't afford to give."

Recent training sessions held at the Community Services Building, 132 Franklin Blvd., and Community Activities Building in Waterford Township have helped many women to better understand why door-to-door solicitation is done.

Mrs. Noel Buckner, Women's Division chairman, explained that in many cases, retired or semi-retired people like to be solicited at home.

Mrs. Buckner added "Many women of the house have indicated they feel it's part of their duty to give one, two or three dollars of their own household money."

The rain has slowed the normally heavy amount of solicitation during the first few days of the campaign.

With fair weather again, the goal deadline of Oct. 12 for the women and the Oct. 16 Women's Victory luncheon promise to be gala affairs.

Slate Meeting on Water Plans

Oakland and Macomb Officials to Set Stage for Detroit Parley

Six men, three each from Oakland and Macomb counties, will meet Tuesday with the Southeastern Michigan Water Authority preliminary to meeting with Detroit water officials about buying water from that city.

Named to a special water committee representing the two counties were Walter K. Willman, Pontiac city manager, Fred L. Yockey, Huntington Woods city manager and chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors' special water committee, and Harold K. Schone, director of the Oakland Department of Public Works.

Appointed to represent Macomb County were Kenneth Sandborn, Fenton Township supervisor, Frank Biehl, Erwin Township supervisor, and Clarence Steinhauser, controller and supervisor of Warren.

The six will meet with the six members of the SMWA in Mount Clemens at 10 a.m. Tuesday to map plans for a future meeting with Detroit officials. Quentin Buss, authority chairman, called the meeting.

The authority, created three years ago to bring Lake Huron water to the two counties, has suggested it serve now as merely selling agent between Detroit and the two counties after a Detroit metropolitan plan appeared to be winning favor over SMWA proposals.

Willman and Schone have both said they favored the Detroit plan, mainly because it was closer to realization than the authority's.

It was Thomas Jefferson who said: "Were it left to me to decide whether we should have a government without newspapers, or newspapers without a government, I should not hesitate a moment to prefer the latter."

Man Bound to Court on Larceny Charge

Lyle D. Lynn, 25, of 1793 Beechcroft St., Keego Harbor, was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday for trial on a charge of larceny from a building.

Lynn was returned to the Oakland County Jail following examination before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum. He was unable to furnish bond of $3,000.

Wynn Carries Chicago's Hopes in 'Must' Game

CAN'T DODGE HIM—The Los Angeles Dodgers find that Early Wynn is one guy they can't dodge. Wynn is all set for his third start for the White Sox today against Los Angeles in Comiskey Park. A wide angle camera accentuates the pitching arm and the size of the ball. A win for the Dodgers would end the World Series. A win for the Sox would carry it into the 7th game tomorrow. AP Wirephoto

How important are crowd reactions, noises and cheering fans to athletes and athletic teams?

The tennis player would like to use the strings of his racquet to sew up your mouth while he concentrates on a back hand shot.

In complete reversal, the basketball player, hockey player, football player feels like an unwanted outcast when the home crowd sits with zipped lips.

Even the pros know what noisy partisan home crowd means to the game they are playing.

"In Baltimore, the crowds scream so much, it gives the opposing players the jitters," said Detroit Lions' business manager Maurie Shubot, "That's what makes it so much tougher to win a game in Baltimore."

Ask Forddy Anderson, MSU basketball coach, and he'll tell you how he feels about having a fieldhouse full of continuous noise.

"I want the band at every game and I want the student body sitting in one central location," says Forddy, "and I don't want them to stop yelling for a minute."

That's the way it is in Notre Dame's tight gymnasium where crowd sounds shake the shoes off the opponents.

That's why it is almost impossible to win a game in the Oklahoma State fieldhouse. The place is filled to capacity of 7,500 at each cage game with 3,000 students tolling their cow bells.

Look at the trend of the so-called upsets in pro football and even in college and high school football.

In most cases its always the favored visiting team which is the upset victim. You can see it in the pointmakers odds. In Baltimore the Lions were 10 point underdogs, in Detroit they are six points down.

The odds even change in the World Series in favor of the home team.

Jim Hickey, new North Carolina football coach, is another who agrees that home crowds have a great bearing on the game. When he played at Notre Dame couple weeks ago, he kept his team at the extreme end of the field because he thought the vacuum of noise was greater in the center of the field.

Many say that knowledge of the home court, home field, home ice or home course is the big reason for home team success. That may be true, but a lot of coaches will vouch for the confidence home crowds can give their players.

In this regard, Pontiac Northern has gained the reputation in less than a year of athletic existence, for having the most spirited student body and following in the country. The upstart Huskies are playing their part, too.

Hobbling Duke Snider Starts for LA Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Duke Snider, gimpy knee and all, will be in the Los Angeles lineup today when the Dodgers face the Chicago White Sox in the sixth game of the World Series.

★ ★ ★

Snider will be in the lineup because he asked to play. You might even say he sold Manager Walter Alston a bill of goods.

The Dodger team was up in the air — winging on its way from Los Angeles to Chicago—Tuesday night after the White Sox' dramatic 1-0 victory when Snider sought out Alston.

"Skipper," he began, "put me in the lineup Thursday. I want to play against (Early) Wynn (Chicago starting pitcher). I feel in my own heart that I'm going to get a hit that will help us win."

"How's the knee?" he asked.

"Still not A-1," said Snider, "but good enough to play."

Except for an unsuccessful pinch hit appearance Tuesday, Snider saw no action at all in the three games at the Los Angeles Coliseum. He played in both games in Chicago and got one single in seven official times at bat.

"Skip," Snider said earnestly, "I know (Don) Demeter can do a better job defensively, but I've been in six Series and I feel my experience can help in this one. I didn't ask to play back home because I felt I would handicap then but the knee feels better now—much better."

★ ★ ★

That's how Alston came to announce yesterday that Snider would play today. He will bat in his usual cleanup spot. Gil Hodges will bat fifth with Norm Larker sixth. Otherwise the batting order will be the same one that has earned a 3-2 edge in the Series thus far.

★ ★ ★

Hodges, incidentally, was nursing a slight sore shoulder yesterday. He hurt it throwing while out of position after fielding Bob Shaw's bunt in the eighth inning of Tuesday's game. Club trainer Doc Wendler treated it with hot towels and massages.

"It isn't serious," Hodges said. "It won't affect my hitting but I may have a little difficulty when it comes to throwing."

Another Dodger who spent some time on the rubbing table yesterday was Johnny Podres, the lefthanded ace, who is slated to pitch today.

COULD END IT — Pitcher Johnny Podres has a grim expression as he warmed up today with the hope of ending the World Series in favor of the Los Angeles Dodgers. Podres was credited with the 4-3 victory in the second game.

Old Pro Duels Podres in 6th Series Contest

White Sox Confident Again in Home Park Despite L.A. Edge

After waiting 40 years to get into a Series, the White Sox now must win the final two games to take the best-of-7-series. The Dodgers have a 3-2 lead in games and need just one more to put away their second title, first since their shift to the West Coast.

Early Wynn, the Sox' Old Man right-hander who won the opener, was Manager Al Lopez' pitching choice. He faced southpaw Johnny Podres, also 1-0 for this 56th World Series and the hero of the Dodgers' 1955 world title back in Brooklyn.

The White Sox, having barely survived the three-game set at Memorial Coliseum in Los Angeles, were favored at 11-10 to win today.

But the Dodgers were 5-2 choices to take the Series. History favors the oddsmakers. Only the 1925 Pittsburgh Pirates and last year's New York Yankees ever had enough of what it takes to win after dropping three of the first four games in a best-of-7-series.

The White Sox insist that just being back home, away from the Coliseum, is enough to boot 'em in the rest of the way. Because of the poor background afforded in the huge, 93-000-plus seat oval, the Coliseum brought smiles to Chicago faces only when the gate receipts were announced.

At Comiskey Park, where they split the first two games, the batters have a fan-less, dark green background behind the pitcher. And the fielders have a normal background of shaded grandstand to help them pick the ball from the bat.

For the sixth game, the Dodgers again had left-handed power man Duke Snider batting cleanup and playing center. A chronic knee condition which freed him for only part-time duty during the season, had him on the bench for the last three games.

Lopez made no changes in the Sox' line-up, retaining his platoon pattern against Podres. Bubba Phillips was at third and rookie Jim McAnany was in right. Both were in Tuesday's starting lineup when the White Sox beat lefthander Sandy Koufax and gained some breathing room in the fifth game.

Wynn, 39, top winner among active major leaguers at 271, won the opener 11-0, with Gerry Staley's relief mop-up after his elbow stiffened in a chilly wind. Podres, at 27 the winningest Dodger Series pitcher ever with three victories, took the second game 4-3 when Los Angeles rallied after he left for a pinch hitter.

'Battle of Arthur Hill' Next for PCH

By BILL CORNWELL

Bunker Hill and Arthur Hill are a long ways apart, both historically and geographically, but the latter struggle is yet to come and will be every bit as important to the Pontiac Central High School football team as the other one was to the Colonials in the fight for independence.

The "battle of Arthur Hill" will indeed be a crucial test for the hustling Chiefs.

The feeling is prevalent that if the Chiefs could get off to a winning start in the rugged Valley campaign, they would stand a good chance of making a very respectable finish this fall in Michigan's roughest Class A league.

The first one to go along with this feeling is head coach Jesse MacLeay. "If we can beat Arthur Hill, I think it will do wonders for the morale of our entire squad," MacLeay said. "It would be a tremendous shot in the arm for the boys."

MacLeay has great confidence in his 1959 team and is more lavish in his praises than he has been for any previous PCH club he has coached.

"This is a wonderful bunch of boys to coach," MacLeay enthused, "the best I've ever had in my three years here. Their spirit is excellent, they have a top-notch attitude and they've done everything in their power with limited personnel to come up with a winning football team."

"I'm proud of them whether they win or lose tomorrow night," said MacLeay, "but I'm positive that they'll give everything they have to pull out a victory."

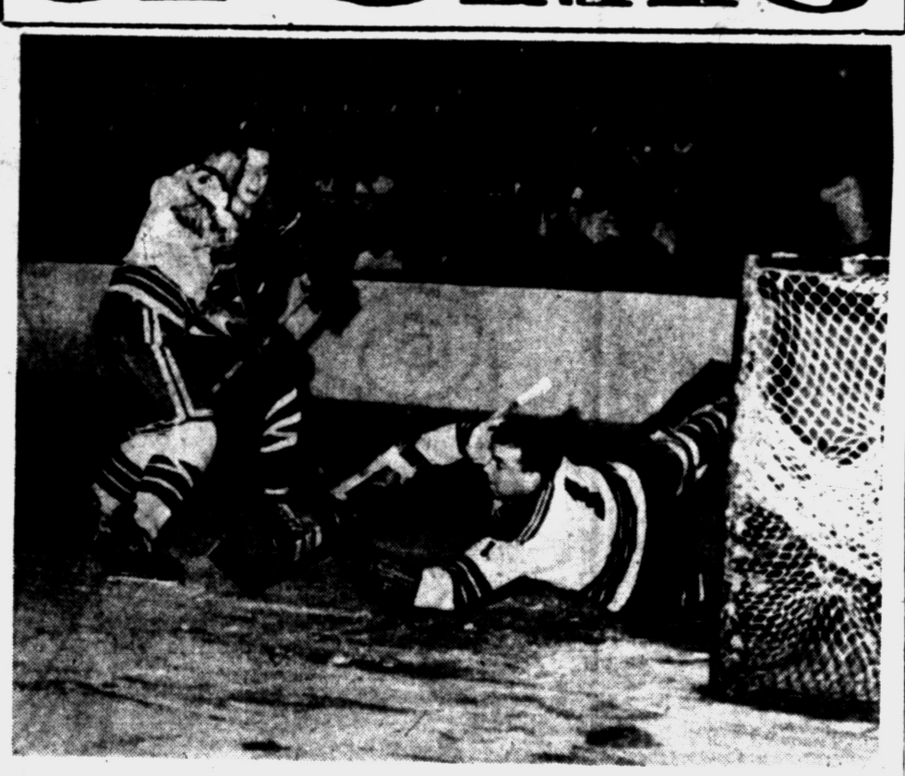

Record-wise, the Chiefs appear to have all the better of it. They rolled past Waterford, Wyandotte and River Rouge with little difficulty while the Hillites were absorbing defeats at the hands of Grand Rapids Catholic Central, Midland and Jackson.

This same situation prevailed last year. The Chiefs went to Saginaw with an unbeaten record to meet the Hillites who were winless. PCH took a bad 28-0 lacing from the Hillites in that contest and never fully recovered.

Once again Arthur Hill is winless. But MacLeay scouted the Hillites in their loss at Jackson last Friday and he reports that coach Kurt Kampe has a solid football team with both size and speed. "They pushed Jackson all over the field and won everything except the final score," claimed MacLeay.

The PCH-Arthur Hill battle, which gets under way at 8 o'clock at Wisner, is one of three Saginaw Valley games on tomorrow night's schedule. Completing the slate will be Bay City Central at Flint Central and Flint Northern at Saginaw.

SPORTS

THAT ICY SPORT IS BACK — Hockey, the 1959-60 edition, got started last night in Chicago where the Black Hawks scored a 5-2 decision over the New York Rangers. Ranger goalie Lorne Worsley leaps from the cage to stop the disc in mid-air in the second period. At left are Bill Gadsby of the Rangers and Murray Balfour of the Hawks (dark uniform).

As our friend The Ole Boy Hoople from the other order of Swami prognosticators would say, EGAD!

Leader Swami Cornwell could tumble if he had to pick the pros as he missed them all last week, but those unpredictable preps keep him atop the ladder.

Of course the big stumper was Pontiac Northern's upset over Farmington and this week the Huskies match wits with Waterford. Now there's a humdinger to try to pick. On paper Waterford should win, but the Northern spirit has prevailed thus far.

Is Pontiac Central that good or will this be another one of those years when the Chiefs collapse as soon as they get into Valley play?

Miler Moves From Kansas to Wichita

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Archie San Romani Jr., who has bettered the interscholastic record for the mile run, has withdrawn from the University of Kansas where he is a freshman, and will transfer to the University of Wichita.

His father said last night "Archie returned to Wichita because he felt he would further his career best by running in his home town."

Van Patrick Is Out as Voice of Tigers

Harry M. Sisson, club vice president, said yesterday a new broadcaster will handle Tigers games next season. Patrick's replacement has not been selected.

George Kell, former Detroit third baseman who was Patrick's broadcasting partner last season, is expected to return next season.

Stroh Brewery Co. recently signed a five-year contract for radio and television rights on Tiger games. The action ended a 17-year tenure of Goebel Brewing Co. for whom Patrick had been broadcasting both baseball and football games.

"It was a condition of Stroh's sponsorship of the 1960 games and the ball club accepted it," Sisson said. "We were told a week ago that Patrick would not be acceptable and Van was given the same information a couple of days ago."

★ ★ ★

Kell will settle his status with the Tigers next week. He had been informed that his brief association with the previous sponsor would not affect his post.

A reliable source said the new sponsor also will discontinue the practice where one broadcaster handles both radio and television.

Purdue Coach Battles for QB

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Coach Jack Mollenkopf said Wednesday Purdue University will ask the Big Ten to grant another year of eligibility to quarterback Ross Fichtner, whose shoulder was broken in the game with Notre Dame last Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Mollenkopf told the Downtown Quarterback Club the senior from McKeesport, Pa., "might get another year, minus a couple of games." Notre Dame was Purdue's second opponent this season.

★ ★ ★

The coach said Bernie Allen, junior from East Liverpool, Ohio, has moved up into Fichtner's spot, but the next quarterback in line is "anybody's guess."

Spartan Booters Win

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State blanked Calvin College 9-0 in a Midwest Soccer Conference game here yesterday.

The Spartans have settled for several ties but are unbeaten in 24 games stretching over four seasons. Cecil Heron, sophomore center forward from Detroit, was high for the booters with four goals.

Wynn Shocked by Death of Mario Lanza

CHICAGO (AP) — White Sox pitcher Early Wynn heard yesterday en route to Comiskey Park for a workout that singer-actor Mario Lanza had died of a heart attack in Rome.

★ ★ ★

Wynn said he was shocked at the news of the singer's death. "We had been friends for a long time," he said.

HOOK VARIES FROM LANE TO LANE

By BILLY WELU

What with bowling in tournaments all over the country, as well as moving around from place to place even within cities, I find that my hook acts differently, however slightly, in each of the bowling centers. Sometimes, it breaks so much that it can almost be classified a curve. Other times, it's barely a wrinkle.

Cutting down on my hook is a relatively easy matter — I either speed my ball up or release the ball with my thumb close to 12 o'clock (straight up and down) as compared with the 10 o'clock that I let it go on normal lanes.

However, it's tougher to get a hook ball working on "fast" or slick lanes. I've found that when my natural hook doesn't work, I must give the ball a slight wrist turn from right to left as I place the ball down on the lane and increase the finger lift. This turn of the wrist will give similar spinning motion to the ball which will cause it to break to the left as it approaches the pins.

I make certain I don't turn my whole arm and shoulder — just the wrist — because that could cause me to "top" the ball. A "topped" ball merely results in a spinner ball which is an ineffective type delivery.

This wrist turn must be carefully controlled. I know. It took me many years of experimenting to get just the correct touch when faced with a lane that won't take a hook. And I definitely would not recommend this to anyone except the more advanced bowler. Until a person fits into this category, he should stay with the normal finger "lift" to produce his hook using no wrist turn.

Orion and Oxford Renew Rivalry, Avon vs Cranes Friday

Ailing Maples Play Port Huron

By CHUCK ABAIR

There will likely be very little resemblance between the Birmingham Seaholm team which won its first three games and the Maple eleven which will face Port Huron in an important Eastern Michigan League game tomorrow night.

At least three Maple starters are certain to miss the contest and three others are doubtful performers.

Halfback Chuck Hartung, end Boyd Mayhew and center John Sisson are the sidelined Birmingham gridders. Quarterback George Forrest, Sam Reeve, the fullback, and end-tackle Phil Isbell may see limited service.

Jim Stephenson is slated to open at quarterback at Port Huron while three different backs will alternate at Hartung's post. BHS coach Carl Lemle plans to use complete units trying to overcome the injuries. Port Huron's young team has been losing but playing impressive ball.

Royal Oak Kimball will visit Hazel Park and Ferndale plays Mt. Clemens in other EML action.

High-riding Oxford should have too many guns for Lake Orion featuring the likes of Doug Stott, Jeff Brady and Jim Casey. The Dragons are still seeking their initial triumph of the season.

Avondale will put a 2-0-1 record on the line against Cranbrook eleven which has displayed strong scoring punch in winning two of three.

The outside outings for Orion and Avon will leave only two Oakland B contests. Clawson will play at Madison and Fitzgerald goes to Troy.

PNH will rate the edge at Waterford after its big victory over Farmington. Waterford suffered a damaging loss yesterday when fullback Jim Hoke suffered a fractured sturnum bone in a scrimmage. Tom Goff will open at that position.

Elsewhere in the Inter-Lakes, unbeaten Walled Lake should make it four straight at Berkley and Farmington and Southfield renew their rivalry at the Bluejay field.

The big one of the Wayne-Oakland will be at Keego Harbor where powerful West Bloomfield entertains a rugged Brighton contingent. Clarkston goes to Holly, Bloomfield Hills is at Clarenceville and Milford at Northville completing the slate.

A pair of games will launch the Tri-County League. Rochester will host defending champion but winless Lapeer as Romeo is at home to meet L'Anse Creuse.

In the South Central Conference, Imlay City travels to meet unpredictable North Branch while Millington and Ortonville tangle.

The Southern Thumb war continues with Dryden seeking a 2nd successive triumph against Brown City, Almont trying to bounce back into the win column at New Haven, unbeaten Memphis is host to Armada and strong Anchor Bay visits Capac.

Memphis has scored only three touchdowns yet is 3-0 — each score being 6-0.

Oak Park will play at Huron, Country Day meets Harper Woods, South Lyon hosts Monroe Catholic Central and Utica is guest of Roseville.

Brennan Illini Candidate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Terry Brennan, former Notre Dame halfback and head football coach, is one of the prime candidates for the head coaching job at the University of Illinois, the sports publicity director at Illinois said Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

On a local radio sports show, Charles Belatti said that Brennan has been interviewed for the job along with former Illinois star quarterback Perry Moss, who is now coaching at Florida State University.

Belatti said that the present members of the Illinois coaching staff are also being considered.

Pistons Play Twice in Pontiac Area

Bill Mosienko Calls It Quits

WINNIPEG (AP)—Bill Mosienko, 37-year-old veteran of 18 years in professional hockey, retired Wednesday.

Mosienko, who has played with the Winnipeg Warriors of the Western Hockey League since 1955 after 14 years with the Chicago Black Hawks said:

"I came to the conclusion that I'd stretched my career long enough. I've got enough bruises to remember it by."

★ ★ ★

Mosienko, a slightly built right winger, ranks seventh among all-time National Hockey League scorers. He made 358 goals and 282 assists in 14 regular seasons and 10 playoff games.

Form Winter Sandlot to Hunt for Talent

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Six major league baseball teams have formed a winter sandlot league to provide a training program for potential big leaguers in the San Francisco Bay area.

The 10-week schedule, with two games each weekend for each club, will open Saturday in suburban south San Francisco, Burlingame and San Mateo.

★ ★ ★

Major league clubs sponsoring the teams are the San Francisco Giants, Los Angeles Dodgers, Pittsburgh Pirates, Philadelphia Phillies, Baltimore Orioles and New York Yankees.

★ ★ ★

Three former major leaguers are among the league's managers: Dolph Camilli, former Dodger first baseman, will pilot the Phillies; Charley Silvera will manage the Yankees; and Jack Shepard, a former Pittsburgh catcher, will skipper the Pirates.

He's No. 1 QB at Navy

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—Coach Wayne Hardin, who has been contending he has two equal quarterbacks in Joe Tranchini and Jim Maxfield, now feels otherwise.

"It's Tranchini," the Navy mentor told a news conference yesterday. "He has the experience, and we've got to go with him as No. 1."

C'mon Ole Boy, Stop Taking So Many Bows

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
World's Upset Champion

"If my eye doctor hadn't checked me out at 20-20 with the new bifocals, I'd have to belfeve the old eyes were playing tricks.

"But there it was," continues McClancy, "in black and white in my favorite paper, '. . . the Fighting Irish will record an easy triumph over North Carolina . . . Northwestern over Oklahoma . . . Columbia to upset Brown.' What really gets me is how close you come to actual scores: Cornell 21, Colgate 14. How do you do it?" (Ed. Note: Actual score, Cornell 20, Colgate 15.)

Egad, Clancy, what a fine tribute you pay this humble forecaster. However, the uncanny results were routine for the Hoople System, which knows no limitations. As for that wayward point in the Cornell-Colgate tiff, when I have the time I shall recheck my worksheets.

It may be that the wind velocity was a mile or two more than anticipated.

But one must not rest on his laurels, so on to this week's scrimmages. Prof. Quentin Zlobotny, just back from a vacation spent spotting Sputniks as a member of his local moon watch team, concurs in my prediction of a rugged weekend for the Service teams, with only the Air Force Academy coming through. The Army will fall prey to the aerial attack of Penn State. Navy will be torpedoed by Syracuse.

Upsets worthy of special note will

Air Force Academy 22, Idaho 7
Penn State 24, Army 16
Notre Dame 32, California 13
Harvard 32, Cornell 21
Tennessee 10, Georgia Tech 8
Iowa 16, Michigan St. 12

Stitch Beats Dupas in Televised Fight

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Who Rudell Stitch will fight next is the major question in local boxing circles today.

There were no knockdowns in the fight, as the 144-pound Stitch, ranked No. 8 contender by the National Boxing Assn., took advantage of a longer reach to catch Dupas with sharp head and body blows in the fourth and eighth, his best rounds.

Louisville Promoter Bill King has offered welterweight titleholder Don Jordan $75,000 to fight Stitch here, but no reply has been forthcoming. Last night's gate was only $6,043, but King says the offer still stands.

NBA Quintets at Birmingham and Then PNH

Game in Northern Gym October 21 Sponsored by Jaycees

The following week, Wednesday, Oct. 21st, the Pistons will meet the Minneapolis Lakers at Pontiac Northern High School.

The Pistons will be counting heavily on the rookies, the best known of which is Gary Alcorn, a 6-10 cager from Fresno State College where he bettered the career scoring record for Central California Association, originally set by Bill Russell of the Boston Celtics.

With the NBA season less than two weeks away, Alcorn has cinched the No. 2 job at center behind veteran Walt Dukes.

The Birmingham High gym has a capacity of 3,000 while the seating at PNH runs around 2,000.

Things Get Hot Even Off Field for Packer Back

Taylor, burned on the right hand and right foot by hot grease, hobbled to the Packer practice field Wednesday morning but is a doubtful starter in next Sunday's National Football League game here against the San Francisco 49ers.

Mrs. Taylor was frying potatoes on the kitchen stove when the grease ignited. Taylor, in stocking feet, grabbed the frying pan off the stove. The pan tilted and hot grease poured on Taylor's hand and foot.

College of Idaho Ace Leads Total Offense

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Charlie Alvaro, College of Idaho quarterback, rolled up 267 yards against Lewis and Clark College last weekend to take the total offense lead in the National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics statistics.

Midwestern backs mostly were slogging in mud, helping Alvaro jump from eighth place to first. He has averaged 197 yards in three games.

Horse Show Opens Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The six-day Washington International Horse Show opens today with teams from five nations competing in jumping events.

The United States equestrian team, captained by William Steinkraus, will take the jumps against riders from Argentina, Brazil, Canada and Mexico.

Hockey Game Halted by Heavy Fog in Building

By The Associated Press

The Providence Reds were alone at the top of the American Hockey League today, thanks to their second straight victory over the Quebec Aces and also to the fact it was foggy in Hershey, Pa.

The Hershey Bears and the Cleveland Barons played to a 1-1 deadlock last night when a heavy indoor fog forced the halting of their opening game at the end of 30 seconds of an overtime period. At times players could not be seen at all, and Dunc Fisher of the Bears came out of the haze to score the tieing goal with 14 seconds remaining in the final period. Greg Hicks scored for Cleveland in the first period.

The game was marred by five fights in the final period.

Raiders End Season

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit Raiders, who won their first game in the Ontario Rugby Football Union last week, will close out their season against the first-place Lords in London, Ont., next Wednesday.

14 Game Card for Michigan Teams

By The Associated Press

Michigan college football teams clash with nine out-of-state opponents this weekend on a 14-game card.

State gridders hold a 16-13 edge in interstate battles but the Michigan boys might have a tough time maintaining the edge this weekend.

A full slate of MIAA games is on schedule, as usual, with Hope going outside the loop for a home game against Wabash. The Indiana school was a 27-7 winner over another MIAA school, Kalamazoo, in its opener, but last lost two straight since.

The honeymoon may be over for Olivet, riding on cloud nine after winning two of three games. Hillsdale, one of the state's three undefeated-united teams, probably will puncture the bubble Saturday night at Hillsdale. Olivet has not beaten a Hillsdale team since 1937, and the victory before that was all the way back to 1926.

Adrian and Albion renew a feud that began back in 1909. This year's game will be played at Adrian, and hometown Bulldogs will be seeking to end a string of nine straight victories by the Albion crew. Adrian's last victory over Albion was a 26-7 verdict in 1949, and the bulldogs have scored only three touchdowns against Albion in the last four years.

Alma is at Kalamazoo for the other MIAA contest.

Eastern Michigan goes to Northern Michigan, the two teams meeting for the second time on the football field. Central Michigan tries to get back in the interstate conference title picture, taking on Illinois normal, a team the chippewas have defeated seven times in nine previous meetings.

Tulane is a one-touchdown favorite to nip Detroit Friday night, despite the fact Detroit enters the contest with a 2-1 record and Tulane has a 1-2 mark.

Moorhead State has lost four in a row and will be the underdog against Michigan Tech in the game at Houghton. Allegheny is rated a slight favorite over Wayne State in a Presidents' Conference game.

Western Michigan tries again for its first Mid-American Conference victory but the outlook is dim. The Broncos face Bowling Green, always tough and winner of two straight so far.

Oregon State and Michigan are rated even and Iowa is slightly favored over Michigan State in the Big Ten encounters.

FRIDAY NIGHT
Detroit (2-1) at Tulane (1-2)
SATURDAY AFTERNOON
Wabash (1-2) at Hope (3-0)
Alma (1-2) at Kalamazoo (1-2)
Albion (2-1) at Adrian (1-2)
Eastern Michigan (1-1) at Northern Michigan (2-1)
Western Michigan (1-2) at Bowling Green (2-0)
William Penn (2-2) at Ferris (0-2)
Allegheny (1-1) at Wayne State (1-0)
Central Michigan (2-2) at Illinois Normal (1-1)
Oregon State (0-3) at Michigan (0-3)
Michigan State (1-1) at Iowa (1-1)
SATURDAY NIGHT
Chicago Wright JC (3-0) at Grand Rapids JC (2-2)
Moorhead State (0-4) at Michigan Tech (2-2)
Olivet (2-1) at Hillsdale (3-0)

Hawks Rout Rangers, 5-2; Canadiens Skate Tonight

By The Associated Press

The talent-laden Montreal Canadiens swing into the 43rd National Hockey League season tonight as the strong favorites to wrap up their fifth straight championship and Stanley Cup.

Boston's Bruins, beaten by Toronto in the first round of the 1958-59 playoffs, furnish the opposition at Montreal. A year ago the Flying Frenchmen were a little slow off the mark but once they got rolling they spread-eagled the field.

Coach Toe Blake, who readily admits he has quite a hockey aggregation in the Canadiens, calls the Chicago Black Hawks the team he fears most. Last season the Canadiens eliminated the Hawks in the first round of the Stanley Cup competition after a fierce struggle.

"They have shed their losing complex," said Blake of the Hawks which finished third last year after missing the playoffs for many years.

And the Hawks showed the Montreal coach knew what he was talking about when they whipped the New York Rangers 5-2 in the league opener at Chicago last night.

With virtually the same crew which surprised last season, the Hawks jumped off to a 1-0 lead in the first period and never were headed. They were paced by the newly formed line of rookie center Stan Mikita and veteran wings Bobby Hull and Eric Nesterenko. Hull and Mikita each scored a goal and picked up one assist.

★ ★ ★

Boston Ring Clubs Merge

The first bout, matching former world heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles and New England heavyweight champion Lee Williams, will be held Oct. 20.

The new partnership—a merger of the Sharkey A.A. and the Goodwin A.C. — brings together Sam Silverman, Johnny Buckley, Tony Valenti and Nuno Cam. It will operate as the Sharkey A.A. with Silverman the matchmaker.

Joe Campbell Named Golf's No. 1 Rookie

Twenty-three-year-old Joe Campbell has been named "Golf Rookie of the Year" for 1959, it was announced today. Campbell was selected for the honor by vote of the year's twenty-five leading money-winners on the Professional Golfer's Association tour. He is the third to win the coveted award. Ken Venturi was the first winner in 1957 with Bob Goalby named last year.

Campbell has earned over $10,000 in prize money this season and is a natural athlete despite his relatively small stature. A native of Indiana, he played guard on the Purdue University basketball team in addition to his "major" in golf. In college, he won the NCAA Championship in 1955 and was the Western Conference individual titlist the following two years.

As an amateur, Campbell won a place on the 1958 United States Walker Cup team, and finished second in the Western Amateur that year. He turned pro after the 1958 Master's tournament in Augusta where he racked up a creditable 314. He did not, however, immediately go on tour but accepted a playing pro job at the Beaverbrook Country Club in Knoxville, Tenn., a position he still holds.

Wings Win, 4-3 in Exhibition

Detroit Skaters Score 12 Straight Preseason Victories

SUDBURY, Ont. (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings overcame a two-goal deficit last night, scoring three times in the final period to pull out a 4-3 victory over Sudbury of the Eastern Professional Hockey League.

The Wings, down 3-1 at the end of two periods, exploded in the third. Norm Ullman fired a goal, Gordie Howe then tied the score and Alex Delvecchio posted the winner.

Detroit plays its final exhibition tonight, opening the National Hockey League season at Montreal Saturday and returning home Sunday to meet the New York Rangers.

Hanovers Featured in Futurity Today

★ ★ ★

They will be among a field of 10 in a race valued at $53,930 if all start. Also in the field is Tie Silk, stablemate of Diller Hanover, who finished second in the Hambletonian.

★ ★ ★

But Others Are Crowding the Track

Corvair and Falcon All Set for Race

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT—The two main participants are in the ring and the battle for the 1960 auto sales championship is ready to begin.

The contestants are Chevrolet, the defending champion, and Ford, the ever dangerous challenger. That much is familiar. But the bout for the coming year is apt to look more like one of those tag matches between teams of wrestlers than a straight man-to-man (or car-to-car) fight.

This year there are two Chevrolets and two Fords, plus a host of other things that could mix up the whole show.

Chevrolet has its compact Corvair. Ford has its compact Falcon. Chevy has one week's head start on sales. Ford, which put its cars on sale today, has steel to outbuild Chevrolet by quite a bit in the next month or so—a vital factor as long as the steel strike continues.

The usual script has called for Ford and Chevrolet to meet head on with Plymouth running a not-too-close third. For 1960 there is a fourth car, the Dodge Dart, set firmly in the Ford-Chevrolet-Plymouth price class.

For example, eight-month sales figures, which still aren't complete, give Chevrolet a margin of only slightly more than 27,000 units of Ford out of total sales of the two makes of almost 1,870,000.

In the compact field there is no assurance that either Ford or Chevrolet will come out on top. In this area they will contest with Rambler, a firmly established leader; Studebaker-Packard's Lark, which did quite nicely in its first year; and the brand new Chrysler Valiant, which will enter the fray at the end of this month.

Rambler says it sold more than 350,000 cars during the 1959 model year and Lark chipped in with another 140,000. Chevrolet and Ford expect to devote roughly 20 per cent of their production to the new compact models.

In the standard size field Ford has a completely redesigned entry—wider, longer and loaded with new styling features such as front grille, hood, windshield, fins and tail lights.

Chevrolet has changed its grille and modified the sweeping gull fins in the rear, but has stuck pretty much to the styling which was new last year.

The Falcon has a front engine and more conventional styling. Ford claims gas mileage in the neighborhood of 30 miles to the gallon, a nice neighborhood.

The cheapest Falcon has a $64 price edge over the cheapest Corvair. Rambler beats them both with its American deluxe models and Lark also beats the Corvair price slightly.

For standard sized cars, Ford shades Chevrolet by $5 on its cheapest model. Dart prices for most comparable models run about $25 higher than Ford or Chevrolet. Plymouth prices haven't been announced but probably won't deviate noticeably from the other lines.

The steel situation may alter the early sales pattern drastically. Chevrolet admits it is hurting for steel and already has cut some of its big car assembly plants to four day weeks.

Ford makes 50 per cent of its own steel. Its assembly lines are running overtime and quarterly production schedules have been stepped up twice in recent weeks.

If Corvair supplies dry up in the next few weeks and Ford dealers can deliver Falcons, the little Ford may get a sizable head start in sales. And it could be spring before the sales picture clears.

Discounts His 'Cyrano'

Ferrer Leans Toward Directing

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Jose Ferrer has the reputation for being a fine actor—and the greatest "Cyrano" of our time.

He qualifies both compliments, thank you.

As an honest man, he admits he is getting away from acting in favor of a director's role. And he cannot bear to see himself in the film version of "Cyrano de Bergerac" which won him an Oscar in 1951.

About acting: "One side of me still likes it, and another side says it's childish. It's a younger man's game. I hate to say this—it sounds arrogant, as though I'm saying one shouldn't act after a certain age—but for my temperament, acting is not the end-all.

"For my temperament, the idea of putting a whole piece together, as a director, is more satisfying. I like to think of myself as the writer's agent.

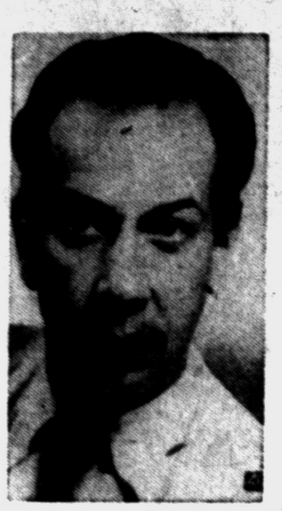

"I get personal satisfaction out of seeing that everything—the sets, costumes, mood, the pace, the acting—conspires to cause an audience to feel as purely as I did the emotion I felt in reading a writer's play."

The only reason he ever does "anything at all," Ferrer says, "is because someone, somewhere, sat down at a typewriter and created something that moved me. . . .

IN PUERTO RICO

The Academy Award Oscar for "Cyrano" is not on his mantelpiece where he and wife Rosemary Clooney and their four kids can bask in Hollywood's symbol of success.

JOSE FERRER

It is in San Juan, Puerto Rico (Joe's homeland), serving as a more important symbol, "that a Puerto Rican CAN come to the States and achieve a certain amount of success under what are sometimes enormous odds."

A print of the movie "Cyrano" is in the Ferrer home at Ossining, N.Y., but if anyone puts it on, Joe leaves the room immediately. "I have only seen it once, and that was enough. God, I'd die looking at it again."

The reason: He, as an artist, is so identified with this film, rather than with other theatrical achievements of which he is more proud. And he feels that "if I were somebody else, and I were to see myself in 'Cyrano,' I would say this guy's trying hard. He's pretty good. But I wouldn't think he was great."

Ferrer also has a reputation for accepting all challenges—for doing everything well, and tackling many jobs at once. Again, as an honest man, he must qualify the charge.

FALLS INTO CELLAR

"The word 'challenge' has a connotation of defiance, and when you love your work it's impossible to be defiant about it. I would say that when I take on a new job it's a result of an invitation I can't resist, rather than a challenge.

"And it's funny, this reputation I have for doing many things at the same time. (Currently he is acting in a GE Theater TV play called "Survival" and directing a Broadway play, "The Anderson-ville Trial.")

"It's an exaggeration. Everything I do takes the same pattern. I start out to be a world-beater, then I fall down in the cellar, and then I work my way back over four or five years.

"For instance, I played tennis for nine years before I had the basis of a good game. I've been riding horseback for three or four years and am just beginning to get the feel of it. In sports or artistic jobs where I don't feel I can do the job well—which I don't find enough pleasure in to work my way out of the cellar—I drop out.

Educators Want Video Tape Use

May Replace Plans for State Microwave Net in School Broadcasts

LANSING (UPI) — Video tape machines may replace a proposed Michigan microwave network for educational television, Paul Lutzeier, chairman of the working committee on educational television, said today.

The committee, established by Lynn Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction, met yesterday to plan an action program designed to bring education by television to all 83 counties in Michigan.

"A year ago we were much more interested in microwave," Lutzeier said, "but now we are encouraging all universities and school systems to buy video tapt machines so that programs may be easily interchanged."

Lutzeier said the machines would be much cheaper than building microwave towers and would allow individual stations to fit a program in their schedules at their convenience.

The working committee is a fact-finding and idea-initiating unit for the larger Michigan Citizens Committee for Educational Television.

Michigan State University will host more than 200 civic leaders, educators and other citizen members of the parent group Dec. 16 when it holds its second annual meeting.

Baltimore Bear May Ride Atop Britisher's Head

Not long afterward there was a bit of a fuss in London about the condition of some of the bearskin caps worn by the Brigade of Guards which patrols the palace.

So Tommy Dukehart, a radio executive, is having the skin tanned and will send it to England, with the suggestion it be cut up for new caps.

Stocks Awaiting T-H Steel Action

NEW YORK (AP) — Airlines and selected issues posted gains in a cautious and irregular stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Key stocks produced gains or losses going from fractions to about a point. Most moves were minor.

The Big Three motors were narrowly mixed while American Motors touched a new high and the Studebaker-Packard issues gained slightly.

3rd Polio Clinic Starting Monday at City Schools

The third series of polio clinics sponsored by the Pontiac PTA Council begins Monday.

Josephine Seeley, co-director of the clinics, said 14,453 shots were given during the first two series but that many thousands of people in and around Pontiac still have little or no protection against the crippling disease.

"People of all ages should be protected," says Miss Seeley, "including those over 40 years old. It is not necessary to have begun the series with the February and March clinics."

There have been 31 cases of polio reported in Oakland County so far this year, 11 of them paralytic. Two of the cases resulted in death. Only one of the 31 cases reported had received any vaccine.

The clinics will be held 1 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. Monday at the Madison Junior High School, Tuesday at Wilson School, Wednesday at Bethune School, and Thursday at Owen School.

Arrives at Work on a Stretcher After Accident

Charleen Owen, 20, of 1464 Avondale Dr. and a passenger in her car, Mary Bisbiskis, 21, of 133 Maynard Ct., were injured when the vehicle crashed on Woodward avenue just north of Long Lake road in Bloomfield Hills late last night.

Hospital authorities reported both women to be in good condition today. Both suffered bruises and facial cuts.

Miss Owen told Bloomfield Hills police she lost control of her car when it blew a tire. The auto careened into a telephone pole, knocking it over, and bounced into a bus-stop sign, knocking it over, too, before coming to a stop.

T-H Law Aids Bean Futures

Soybeans continued to provide major interest in the grain trade. Continued unfavorable conditions for resuming the long delayed harvest and expectations of any early end of the longeshoremen's strike on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts were factors in advancing bean futures prices.

Government intervention to halt the dock workers strike was regarded by the trade as a rather bullish development. Settlement of the walkout would free large quantities of export grains now tied up at Atlantic and Gulf ports for movement overseas. Also, traders anticipate increased foreign demand as soon as the strike ends.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was unchanged to ¼ higher, December $1.07⅛; corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, December $1.10½; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, December 72⅝; rye ⅛ to ⅜ higher, December $1.32⅞; and soybeans ½ to 1 higher, November $2.17½.

Ferndale Crash Injures Pontiac Real Estate Man

A Pontiac real estate agent was in serious condition today at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after being seriously injured when his car skidded into two parked vehicles on Woodward avenue north of Lewiston street early this morning.

Ferndale Police Sgt. David Burt said he was cruising south on Woodward avenue when suddenly Goodspeed's car, also headed south just in front of him, picked up speed and crossed over from the second land of traffic into the fourth lane and then skidded out of control, ramming the two parked cars.

Goodspeed will be cited on a reckless driving charge, according to Ferndale police.

Asks Reduction in Union Bonds

Teamster VP Wants Landrum-Griffin Law Clarified

DETROIT (AP) — Teamsters Vice President Bert Brennan petitioned the secretary of labor and attorney general today for a reduction and clarification of regulations covering bond security on union officers handling money.

Brennan noted that currently all union officials are bonded at the rate of 33 cents per $1,000.

"We enjoy a good, low rate because of our good record," Brennan told delegates last night at the Michigan Conference of Teamsters meeting.

"Under the new bill," he said, "because of the type of bonds, the cost to union members will jump to $11.25 per $1,000."

Brennan said the law provides that a union official must be bonded for each office held. He said the fee on James R. Hoffa, international Teamsters president, would increase to $65,000 because "Hoffa holds many other offices and titles in the union."

★ ★ ★

Brennan also referred to another provision of the bill which forbids anyone convicted of a felony within the last five years to hold union office. He said 90 per cent of Michigan Teamsters officers have signed the necessary affidavits.

"The rest just haven't gotten around to it yet," he added.

Laos Probers Talk to Wounded Troops

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The United Nations fact-finding team returned here today after interviewing at Luang Prabang Military Hospital royal army soldiers wounded in the Laos jungle fighting.

The trip to the royal capital of Laos, 130 miles north of here, was believed the last phase of the four-nation subcommittee's inquiry into Laotian charges of North Vietnamese aggression.

Canada's Stamp Misprints Worth $1,000 Apiece

OTTAWA (AP)—Canadian postal officials estimated today 300 misprinted copies of a 5-cent St. Lawrence Seaway stamp are at large. One dealer has offered up to $1,000 apiece.

The misprints were among 40 million stamps issued to mark the formal opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway by Queen Elizabeth II and President Eisenhower last June 26.

A Winnipeg dealer, Kasimer Bileski, said he had negotiated the purchase of 58 of the stamps for a total of $50,000. Ottawa collectors said with an official estimate of 300 in circulation, the price may go down.

Postmaster General William Hamilton said it was the first Canadian stamp misprint in the 108 years Canada has been printing stamps.

★ ★ ★

What happened was that the central blue design—a symbolic seaway link of the American Eagle and Canadian maple leaf—as inverted when it was printed over the red printing at the top and bottom of the stamp. Hamilton said the printer had devised an "ingenious printing technique" to guard against future such errors.

Everyone Feels Effects of World Series Games

By EARL WILSON

BEVERLY HILLS — When I look back on the World Series I wonder whether it was me or the baseball fans who needed a psychiatrist. During the height of the hubbub I visited the bravest — and maybe the only — White Sox fan on the gold coast of movietown. He trotted into the living room of his two-acre estate in Bel-Air balancing two plates of chicken paprika which he'd cooked himself.

WILSON

"It's fantastic," producer Joe Pasternak said, pausing to look at the color TV set on which we were watching the game, "the amount of hell the world series has raised with the movie studios.

"I had Doris Day in a love scene with Dave Niven," continued the peppery little Hungarian, once a dishwasher at a delicatessen in N.Y. "Right in the middle of the kissing, Doris says 'Who's on first' then she says, 'Charlie Neal should punt.'

Joe, who never learned baseball very well, asked, "Or is it bunt?" He poured some beer and explained that in Hungary they didn't know from baseball. "The main sport there," he laughed, "was love. You've heard of Zsa Zsa Gabor?" Anyway, Joe said, out at N-C-M studios, they were doing a scene in "Please Don't Eat the Daisies," on sets made up to resemble Macy's and Sardi's in N.Y.

DORIS

"There was a little noise that we couldn't locate. It was an extra who had brought a little transistor radio right into the scene to listen to the ball game. A guy that sells coffee passed right out when the White Sox won a game. I'm for Chicago just to be different — just to be Hungarian."

Nehru Warns Red Chinese

Says India Will Resist More Border Moves, Accept Present Losses

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru warned Peiping today that India will resist any further moves across the Tibetan border by Chinese Communist troops.

But for the time being, he said, India will not try to eject the Chinese from disputed outposts they have seized.

★ ★ ★

"We do not intend to start military operations against these places at this stage when we are dealing with the situation on a political level," he told his monthly news conference.

"If any change is made from existing positions, that certainly will be resisted."

'SOME IMPROVEMENT'

Nehru said that Chou's message indicated some improvement in the tense relations between the two countries but added: "How far that is an improvement on the situation I cannot say."

Chou was replying to greetings sent by Nehru on Red China's 10th anniversary. He made no mention of Nehru's recent letter rejecting Red China's claims to some 400,000 square miles of border territory.

Nehru said India would remain calm but firm in the dispute. He pointed out that the Chinese actually are on Indian-claimed soil at only a few points, including the Longju outpost in northeast India and parts of the Ladakh sector of Kashmir state.

Waterford Area Halloween to Get a Glowing Start

The glare of red flares will signal the start of "trick or treating" in two Waterford Township subdivisions this Halloween.

As part of a new Kiwanis Club plan, residents in the Lake Oakland Heights and Lotus Lake subdivisions will light the front-yard flares at 7 p. m. Oct. 31. The signal will come from the township fire siren.

At the conclusion of these Halloween activities, the youngsters will congratulate the subdivision parks for cider and doughnuts. They'll play games, and prizes will be awarded for various types of costumes.

A sales campaign to raise funds for the parties will get under way tonight at Lake Oakland Heights, when Kiwanians will make a door-to-door canvass to sell the flares. Lotus Lake residents will be approached by the group Tuesday night.

If the experiment is successful this year, the Kiwanis Club plans to make it an annual township-wide project, according to president Loren Aris.

Rail Chief Urges Competitive Merger

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The proposed merger of the Erie Railroad and Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad had powerful backing today from the nation's largest railroad, the Pennsylvania.

President James M. Symes of the Pennsylvania, said the merged line would be good for the industry although it would be a stronger competitor to his railroad.

Private Eye or Travelogue? Beaches Replace Bullets

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—A milestone in TV private eye history was reached last night when ABC-TV unloaded its new series, Hawaiian Eye.

The show went through a full hour without a gunshot.

The regular characters, all played without distinction, are Anthony Eisley as private-eye Tracy Steele; Bob Conrad as Tom Lopaka, Tracy's partner; Connie Stevens as Cricket Blake, Steele's aide who also works as a nightclub camera girl; and Poncie Ponce as Kim, a jive-talking cab driver.

The plot, a conventional excursion into uncovering the cause of some dangerous accidents that continually befall a visiting Englishwoman, was introduced by Efrem Zimbalist Jr., a star of ABC-TV's most successful private-eye series, 77 Sunset Strip.

Efrem spoke to Steele by phone to tell him to keep an eye on the case. Maybe next week Edd "Kookie" Byrnes will call up Poncie Ponce to chat about the 1960 car models.

Ozzie and Harriet began season No. 8 in tedious fashion last night.

The ABC-TV episode, filmed last summer, centered around a visit by an old sailor friend of Ozzie's and David Nelson's desire to leave school and join the globe-girdling sailor.

DIALING AND FILING: This is Your Life, the NBC-TV videobiography that was stayed on its appointed tear-jerking rounds last week by Lowell Thomas, returned to the old rut last night. Ralph Edwards made note of the Thomas affair by crying out "Hello, Lowell Thomas, wherever you are," as he handed his cooperative surprise guest some gifts . . . One of the wilder scenes on TV occurred on ABC-TV Charley Weaver's Hobby Lobby show. At the close of the show, Weaver (Cliff Arquette) was standing in a giant fish tank, with real fish nibbling at his shoes, waving goodbye to guest Gypsy Rose Lee.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Ed Sullivan is inserting a filmed interview with Mario Lanza into this Sunday's CBS-TV hour. The interview was filmed in Rome last summer, where Lanza, 38, died yesterday.

Bob Cummings, whose age is variously given as 49, 52 and 54, is writing a book about his special germ food diet, "How to Stay Young and Vital" . . . the late Paul Douglas appears on NBC-TV's Goodyear Theater Monday in a half-hour drama called "The Incorrigibles."

Reminders Remain

America Called Cultural Pygmy

Musicians' Head Says That at This Rate We'll Leave Minor Heritage

NEW YORK — Herman Kenin, president of the American Federation of Musicians, said Tuesday that unless America develops its culture and art, it will leave only a minor mark in the history of man.

Kenin, chairman of a lunch of President Eisenhower's music committee of the people-to-people program, said in an address prepared for delivery to the committee and its guests that "until recently we have been immersed in the physical problems of a pioneer nation."

In addition, he said, America has had to fight two major wars and generally defend its ideals.

"Now we have reached our national maturity," he said.

"It is a time to consolidate our gains, to reflect upon our future. But above all it is a time when we can afford to apply our talents and our energies to the greater development of our national culture and our native arts.

"Indeed, unless we do develop our human resources to match our physical prowess," he said, "our mark in the vast history of mankind may well be a minor one."

Red Ocean Research Amazes Westerners

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (UPI) —The Soviet Union apparently is as far down in ocean research as it is up in space technology.

This was the feeling today among Western scientists attending the 61 nation, 47th annual international council for the exploration of the sea here.

This area includes the eastern North Atlantic from the Barents Sea to West Greenland and from the ice border to the equator.

It is well known Soviet ocean research also is being conducted on a large scale in the Arctic Sea off Siberia, the Pacific and in the northwest Atlantic.

Hank Meyer, city publicity director, announced the contest will be held in conjunction with "International Month," a tribute to the 50 or more nations expected to be represented.
