

Premier Stands Firm as Trouble Boils in Iraq

City Motorists Ask for More One-Way Lanes

"We like them and would like to see more."
That was the general consensus of Pontiac area motorists when asked how they liked Pontiac's intensified one-way street program.

The random survey taken in downtown Pontiac also uncovered a few dissenting votes. "The streets are more congested now than ever before," one man exclaimed.

City Manager Walter K. Willman asked the public for comments after the most recent conversion of Pike and Lawrence streets between Perry and Cass.

Here is what the persons interviewed thought of the system:

Joseph Terfenko, 2539 Silverhill Rd., Waterford Township, a Fisher Body employee: "I've been driving in Pontiac for 25 years and I think this one-way system provides a smoother flow of traffic. I would like to see more streets converted if traffic would continue to go as smoothly."

TERFENKO says that this system of one-way streets is a little confusing at first, but wonderful when you get used to them. "The greatest advantage is that you get a faster and less interrupted flow of traffic than you do on the usual two-way streets."

A Bloomfield Hills resident who shops in Pontiac, Mrs. Ray Kyle, said some one-way streets "are convenient while others are not so."

"I would like to see the system continue of all ways having two streets converted together, so one would go one way and the adjacent one in the opposite direction," Mrs. Kyle explained.

Mrs. Rose Fuller, 105 E. Longfellow Ave., who has been driving in Pontiac for the past 16 years, said:

"I think I will like them when I get used to them, but I must admit that I think the city has enough. I agree with those who say they enable traffic to move along better."

The first objectionable vote came from William C. Redmond, 752 St. Clair St., an employee of GMC Truck and Coach.

"I don't like the system. We have to go too far out of the way to get where we are going. It is all too confusing and" REDMOND (Continued on Page 4, Col. 5)

Ted Husing Gravely Ill Despite Two Operations

WHITE PLAINS, N.Y. (U)—Ted Husing, 55, one of the foremost sports announcers in radio history, is gravely ill here in a convalescent home.

He is suffering from a brain tumor that two operations have failed to remove. The voice familiar to millions of Americans for 30 years is fading. So is his eyesight.

Eye Committee for Fund Raising

Group Would Ponder Collecting $1 Million for City Hospital

A six-person committee will be appointed to seek means of raising one million dollars to help equip the new Pontiac General Hospital addition.

This decision was reached at a meeting held last night of some 20 civic leaders who had gathered for the third time in an attempt to find ways of raising the money.

Mrs. P. Eugene Miller, president of the hospital's Women's Auxiliary, was selected to appoint five persons to the committee. The committee would appoint their chairman as a sixth member, Mrs. Miller said.

At previous meetings, Mrs. Lauretta Paul, director of the city hospital, outlined that $1,017,000 was needed to equip the hospital. Of this amount, there were $200,000 worth of purchase orders already issued, she added.

The new committee will coordinate with the Auxiliary which was selected as the collection agency to spearhead the drive.

Mrs. Miller said she did not know whether it would be formed in time for the Dec. 6 meeting of the Greater Pontiac Advisory Council. At this time, representatives of the hospital will present their case as to why the money is needed.

Time to Winterize; More Cold Tonight

Residents of the Pontiac area can ignore the snow shovels and rock salt tonight as the U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts mostly fair and cold to night with a low of 14-18.

The prediction for tomorrow is mostly cloudy and a little warmer, high 30-34. North-west winds at 10-18 miles an hour will become west to southwest tonight.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 15 degrees.

Commission to Get Tentative Budget

Must Approve Plan for 1957 by February

City Manager Asks Group to OK Hike; Cites Higher Costs

The 1957 proposed city budget designed to continue the same tax rate as before — will be presented to the Pontiac City Commission tonight.

It totals $5,381,779.14 or approximately $245,500 more than the 1956 budget of $5,136,276, according to City Manager Walter K. Willman.

"This proposed budget is designed on an estimate of assessed value to allow for the continuation of the same tax rate," Willman said.

He added that for the past three years the city was able to tax $15.70 per thousand of assessed value.

Under the City Charter, commissioners must pass the proposed budget by the end of January. Before that time, they will meet to approve the 1957 capital improvement program in line with the allocations of the budget.

Willman listed the following reasons for the added hike in this year's proposed budget:

(1) Increase in cost of supply and material, (2) Increase in compensation to keep in tune with scales of industry and other costs in local area, (3) Increased costs in pension requirements by reason of adding Social Security to the city's Employee Retirement System.

The city official also stressed that boosts were needed for the coming year because of the addition of 14 men to operate the new fire hall on West Huron.

Equipping the new Public Safety Building was considered in drawing up the tentative proposal, he added.

Commissioners tonight are expected to set a date in January for a public hearing on the budget.

Other items to be considered at the weekly session, will be the second reading and possible adoption of a proposed city ordinance establishing street and sidewalk grades in Pontiac.

A public hearing carried over from last week will be continued tonight on a special assessment roll to finance storm drains in the Dixieland Subdivision.

A new agreement concerning the construction of a proposed new Post Office on West Huron has a place on tonight's 10-point agenda after being deferred from last week.

The meeting is being held tonight instead of the customary Tuesday, as Willman and six commissioners just returned from the 33rd American Municipal Congress meeting in St. Louis.

Did Elvis Pay Bar Hanger-On for Publicity?

TOLEDO, Ohio (U)—The young man who went to jail for taking a swing at Elvis Presley here on Thanksgiving night has claimed he was promised $200 to fake the fight.

Louis Balint says that a "sharp character" he took to be a Presley employee made the deal with him in a Toledo bar.

Balint said he was told to "think up some good story" which would make "good publicity."

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (INS)—Elvis Presley emphatically denied a report from Toledo today that his fight with a jealous husband was a staged affair.

Presley, home in Memphis for a few days with his family, said his desire in life was to avoid trouble, but he couldn't because "there's always somebody who wants to prove something."

Britain, France to Begin Pullout

Both Reported Willing to Withdraw Soldiers From Egypt

LONDON (U)—The British government announced today its policy calls for a "phased withdrawal" of British forces from Egypt.

The report came from a qualified British official who said the French government had indicated privately its willingness to do likewise.

Announcement of an impending withdrawal from Egypt would provoke a split in the ruling Conservative party which could bring down the government of Prime Minister Eden, now recuperating in Jamaica from the overstrain of directing Britain's invasion of Egypt and the subsequent hubbub.

Although the opposition Laborites vigorously criticized the invasion of Egypt, they could be expected to meet any policy splitting the government party with a motion of nonconfidence.

If defeated on such a motion, Eden's cabinet would have to resign and call general elections which might return the labor party to power.

A qualified British informant said the government now planned to insist only that the United Nations and Egypt clear the Suez Canal at once.

Mrs. McCully is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Holbooth, of 362 N. Johnson Ave.

Lifer Died in Blaze

A convicted Oakland County killer today was charged with the flaming death Nov. 17 of one of Marquette State Prison's most hated and hardened criminals.

He is Harold Hummel, 26, who is serving a life sentence for a double shooting in Hazel Park four years ago.

Hummel was arraigned today on a charge he burned to death James Wiley Hudson, convicted murderer and a leader in the 1932 Jackson Prison riots.

Hummel is accused, Prosecutor George Hill said, of throwing "highly inflammable liquid" into Hudson's cell and touching it off with a match.

Hudson made a statement, Hill said, before his death 19 hours later from second and third degree burns over 80 per cent of his body.

DETROIT (U)—Parke, Davis & Co. confirmed today that it will build a new $10,000,000 medical research center on the University of Michigan's north campus area.

Harry J. Loynd, president of the Detroit pharmaceutical firm, said that the center will go up on a 50-acre site purchased from the university. Final papers will be signed next week, Loynd said.

The center will be completed by 1959, he added.

Nuri Government Denies Report Dozens Killed in Demonstrations

BAGHDAD, Iraq (U)—Iraq's Premier Nuri Said is reported standing firm against a mounting campaign aimed at stirring up trouble in Iraq and discrediting his government.

The controlling pro-Soviet army clique in Syria and the Egyptian government are believed sponsoring the campaign.

The Baghdad military governor broadcast an appeal to the people urging them to be calm and not to yield to "subversive elements" which the government says are trying to incite widespread demonstrations.

Nuri's government denied reports that dozens of persons have been killed and wounded in Iraq's main cities. It reiterated that only two civilians were killed and some police and civilians wounded in a clash in the holy Moslem city of Najaf, in southwest Iraq.

Damascus radio declared 104 Iraqis were killed in four days of antigovernment demonstrations in Najaf. It asserted the "victims fell by police fire" as they protested against Nuri's government and demanded support for Egypt. Iraq has accused Syria of waging a campaign of subversion against the Nuri government.

Syria has charged Iraq with seeking to undermine the governments of both Syria and Jordan. Egyptian President Nasser is believed spurring the Syrians on.

Evidence of Syria's propaganda campaign is as marked in Baghdad as in Lebanon. It is sparked by radio broadcasts of inflammatory rumors.

Khalil Ibrahim, Iraqi information director, asserted in an interview that the greatest danger in the Middle East comes from open efforts of world communism to attack Arab stability.

Ibrahim spiked one specific rumor broadcast by Syria—that Gen. Tarak Said, commander of the Habbaniya Air Base, had been arrested.

The government also denied Damascus reports that army officers were being court-martialed (Continued on Page 4, Col. 6)

World War to Cost U.S. $4 Trillion

HARTFORD, Conn. (U)—A third world war would cost the United States four trillion dollars, the National Resources Conference was told yesterday.

"There is only one thing that is worth that price," said Navy Capt. Lawrence Smith, "and that is freedom."

Capt. Smith said the estimate of the fantastic cost is based on what it cost this country in previous wars.

"Wars are financed by taxes and borrowed money that comes out of your pocket. And since the revolution, each one that we have fought has cost roughly 10 times more than the one that preceded it," Capt. Smith said.

He said world war two cost this country 383 billion dollars.

Removal Proceedings Begin

Hart to Hear Charges Against Madison Justice

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart today said he will preside over a hearing on charges that Madison Heights Justice Charles O. Williams made indecent proposals to an 18-year-old Ferndale girl, officials disclosed today.

Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said the hearing will be part of removal proceedings against the justice, asked last night in a resolution by the Madison Heights city council.

Taylor said a lie detector test, voluntarily taken yesterday by Patricia Dawn Slate, confirmed her story "in every respect."

Miss Slate had charged Williams, married and the father of nine children, had offered her $15 a night to spend two hours at a motel with him on each of six nights.

She said the proposal was made Monday night, when she went to Williams' house to ask him to reduce the sentence of her boyfriend, Larry Seigfried, 18, of Ferndale, now in Oakland County Jail after being sentenced by Williams for stealing gasoline.

Madison Heights city councilmen, who had asked Williams to appear at their formal meeting last night, paused two resolutions against him when he didn't appear.

One asked Gov. G. Mennen Williams to begin ouster proceedings against the associate justice, elected last spring. The other ordered that no city cases be judged in his court.

ADMITTED REGISTERING
In a statement to Taylor yesterday, Williams admitted he had taken the girl to the Bloomfield Township motel, where he registered alone under a false name. But he insisted Miss Slate had suggested the excursion.

Taylor said he will send Williams and Miss Slate's recorded statements, together with Miss Slate's affidavit and the results of the lie test, to the Madison Heights council as soon as the statements can be typed.

He added he is preparing a warrant against Williams charging him with false registration in renting a tourist room, a misdemeanor punishable by a maximum $100 fine and 60 days in jail.

Williams came under fire from the Oakland County Judicial Association last spring for charging $10 for $2 wedding ceremonies, and for advertising his services.

Quiz LaMarca in Slaying Trial

Attack Insanity Defense in Kidnap - Murder of Weinberger Baby

MINEOLA, N.Y. (U) — Angelo John LaMarca was called back for more cross-examination today at his trial on kidnaping and murder charges.

The prosecution has been attacking the credibility and character of the confessed kidnaper of 32-day-old Peter Weinberger.

LaMarca, 31-year-old Long Island mechanic and taxi driver, has told his life story in an attempt to convince the jury he was temporarily insane because of debts and other worries when he kidnaped the baby.

LaMarca could be sentenced to the electric chair if convicted. Dist. Atty. Frank A. Gulotta yesterday produced LaMarca's World War II Army service record to dispute parts of his testimony during two days on the witness stand.

The Army records showed the defendant served 2½ years—not 3½ as he had testified. Also—contrary to LaMarca's testimony—the records showed a Court-Martial conviction Feb. 17, 1944, for being absent without leave for six days from Camp Edwards, Mass.

As the prosecutor pointed out apparent discrepancies in LaMarca's account of his army service, LaMarca repeatedly answered "I don't know" or "I don't recall."

While under direct examination by chief defense counsel David Markowitz, LaMarca repeated two versions of how Peter Weinberger was kidnaped last July 4 from the patio of the Westbury, N.Y., home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weinberger, and abandoned to his death alongside a road.

LaMarca said he was not sure now that either version was true. But at another point in his direct examination, LaMarca testified that he alone kidnaped the baby and abandoned it in a honey-suckle thicket.

Mail Gifts by Saturday for Alaska, Puerto Rico

Christmas mail to Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico should be mailed by Saturday to ensure delivery before Christmas Day, Pontiac Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean said today.

Dean said available shipping schedules and possible weather delays necessitate the early surface mail deadline.

Army Puts Hex on Yule Cards in Pentagon

WASHINGTON (U) — The greeting card people, who like to spread good cheer around, just about wrote Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor off their list today.

Gen. Taylor, the Army chief of staff, has annoyed them considerably.

He signed a regulation saying that "the exchange of cards will be discouraged" this Christmas, and next Christmas, too, among civilians and military personnel working in army offices in and around Washington. There are about 19,000 of them.

The regulation said that since these people see each other almost every day, it is "unnecessary" to swap cards.

An unofficial explanation was crowded mailing facilities at the Pentagon and elsewhere.

The reaction from the greeting card sellers was prompt and strong.

"It will take a bigger man than Gen. Taylor to take Christmas out of Christmas," exclaimed Edward Aloysius Murphy of Cheerio Greetings, a Washington wholesaler.

The Air Force and the Navy said they had no such regulation as the one Taylor issued. However, the Air Force said that for the last couple of Christmases, those working in the headquarters of offices here were encouraged to take their cards home and mail them.

The Taylor action was obviously a surprise to the post office department. It said in a statement: "The post office department was not consulted. Our sole interest is to serve the public and we are not discouraging anyone in the use of greeting cards during the holiday season."

Gas Thieves Arrested for Siphoning Off Fuel

Robert E. Hewitt, 18, of 146 N. Jessie St. and a juvenile companion were arrested last night, Pontiac police said, for siphoning gas from a truck parked at 12 Mariva Ave.

The pair was arrested by Officers Wilbur Carrier and Donald Russ, who confiscated a four-foot piece of hose as evidence.

Hewitt faces arraignment today on a charge of larceny. The juvenile, 14, was turned over to juvenile authorities.

makes as much congestion as the city always had."

Arlen G. Peltrey, a bus driver for the City Bus Lines, said the conversion of Pike and Lawrence "is throwing all the congestion onto Perry street."

"I feel that the streets converted are all going the wrong way," he continued.

"Pike should be made eastbound and Lawrence westbound instead of the other way around."

"I'd like to see the city traffic engineer go from Glenwood to Mt. Clemens during congested periods in less than 15 minutes when it should only take five minutes," he added.

Mrs. Edna Brown, of Rochester, said the one-way streets was "solving the city's traffic problems."

"I like them very much because traffic can move faster and we can get where we're going with greater ease."

Mrs. Brown said. Mrs. BROWN, a taxi driver in the city, Mrs. Phyllis Houghtaling, 4278 Lotus Dr., Waterford, expressed her opinion this way:

"It certainly takes the traffic from the main streets, helping us move around a lot easier. I believe the rest of the drivers would agree with me that it is a great improvement. I haven't run into any snarl yet because of them."

Citizens Asked to Clear Walks for Postmen

With snow and ice glazing Pontiac sidewalks, Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean today issued a plea for consideration for his crops of postmen.

Dean asked city residents to keep their sidewalks and steps cleared, and suggested rural post office patrons should clear snow from around their mailboxes and spread ashes or sand so postal drivers won't slide into ditches. He urged rural patrons to clean snow from their mailboxes.

"Any help you can give your carrier to make his job easier will also be a help to you, for it will enable him to give you faster, more efficient service," Dean pointed out.

"I'd like to see the city traffic engineer go from Glenwood to Mt. Clemens during congested periods in less than 15 minutes when it should only take five minutes," he added.

Mrs. Edna Brown, of Rochester, said the one-way streets was "solving the city's traffic problems."

"I like them very much because traffic can move faster and we can get where we're going with greater ease."

Mrs. Brown said. Mrs. BROWN, a taxi driver in the city, Mrs. Phyllis Houghtaling, 4278 Lotus Dr., Waterford, expressed her opinion this way:

"It certainly takes the traffic from the main streets, helping us move around a lot easier. I believe the rest of the drivers would agree with me that it is a great improvement. I haven't run into any snarl yet because of them."

Hummel Is Charged in Prison Death also has served time in the prison's segregation block, where worst offenders are placed for serious offenses of prison rules.

Hummel had been transferred to Marquette after he was convicted at his murder trial here.

Hummel, who was extradited from Arkansas to face the murder charges, was sentenced to life imprisonment in solitary confinement at hard labor by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russell Holland.

GUilty IN SHOOTING A circuit court jury had found him guilty of the August, 1952 shooting of Hazel Park tavern owner Vidos Vinokurov, 63, and his son, Joseph, 30, during an attempted holdup.

The jury found Hummel and Michael J. Gisoni, 26, both escapees from Iowa prison at the time, guilty of the shooting. Gisoni was also sentenced to life imprisonment.

Hummel, a self-styled "Billy the Kid," wore full cowboy regalia throughout his trial. He had previously been sentenced to 3½-15 years in prison for a 1951 armed robbery.

Ibrahim declared the greatest Western mistake in recent years was the move by Britain and France against Egypt after Israel's thrust into Egypt's Sinai Peninsula. He said the action added strength to the propaganda campaign against the Baghdad Pact.

The information director urged the United States to join the Baghdad Alliance, which links Iraq, Iran, Pakistan, Turkey and Britain in a defense against the threat of Communist aggression.

Russia Adds 'Tension' in Mideast, Says U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today Russia is "adding to tensions" in the Middle East by shipping arms to Syria. It disclosed the American ambassador has expressed to Syria this government's concern over continuing Soviet weapons deliveries.

A department spokesman said "We know of substantial shipments of Soviet arms of various types and weights to Syria in recent months. We understand that since the Middle East crisis further shipments have been made."

He did not say what specific types and quantities of Soviet weapons had gone to Syria. But informed officials said more than 30 million dollars worth of such Communist military equipment has been delivered, including light tanks, armored cars and troop carriers, machineguns, some artillery and other light weapons.

Attempts to Delay New Driving Law

LANSING (AP)—Sen. Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit) said today he will ask the legislature in January to delay the effect of a bill making drivers training courses mandatory for youthful drivers.

Ryan said he is drafting a bill which would delay the effective date of the bill from Feb. 1, 1957 to Feb. 1, 1958.

"If that isn't done, I'm afraid that a lot of youngsters will not be able to drive," Ryan said.

Detroit Board of Education figures show there are some 54,000 tenth, 11th and 12th graders in Detroit, but that the schools could give driver training courses to only 2,000 of them between now and Feb. 1, 1957, Ryan said.

The law requires anyone under 18 years of age who obtains a drivers license to first show proof that he has successfully completed a drivers training course.

President Urges Prompt Usage of Salk Vaccine

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower, informed that about 17 million doses of Salk polio vaccine are lying unused on producers' shelves, urged prompt use of the supply to "prevent paralysis or even death."

Marion Folsom, secretary of health, education and welfare, used that language in reporting to the President last night that abundant stocks at he once scarce serum are being passed up by the public.

In advising Eisenhower that vaccine supplies now are plentiful and that "the means are largely at hand" to prevent the dread disease, Folsom added that a new problem has arisen.

"The danger," the Cabinet officer said, "is simply that because of public apathy, vaccine which would prevent paralysis or even death—next year—may lie unused."

British Dislike for U.S. Biting Hand That Feeds

Current advices from Great Britain indicate that the United States is falling into greater "disfavor."

Well, isn't that too bad.

As a matter of fact, many people think we're "in disfavor" in the British Isles any time they aren't actually under a state of siege or threatened with destruction. Perhaps this is exaggerated, but in spite of all the aid, men and money we've given them over an extended period of years, just basically a lot of them "don't like us."

The whole thing is reminiscent of a friendly and kindly admonition issued by L. R. BLANCHARD, well known Rochester newspaper editor to young employees entering his department.

"It isn't particularly important," said the Rochester sage, "whether you like me. But it's quite important to see that I like you."

England could well take this philosophy to heart and go to work on it.

Going South? May We Suggest...

Feel crowded in your present location? Neighbors too close? Not enough room for growth? Do you long for wide open spaces, as yet unspoiled by too much civilization?

We believe we've discovered just the place you will adore; and there's a building boom about to get under way.

We refer to the U. S. COLONY near the South Pole, in the Antarctica. The spot was colonized by a party of 8 Navy Seabees and 11 sled dogs. Just last week the population (human, that is) more than doubled when 11 construction workers flew in for work on a big building project.

The Americans are there, of course, as part of our contribution to the work of the International Geophysical Year, and the construction crews will build a scientific base for our operations and observations.

But with people crowding and pushing in many parts of the globe the unrestricted solitude of the South Pole holds a rugged fascination. There are advantages:

The area is still highly exclusive, and builders are not too particular about property lines; no taxes (as yet); you'll have no need of air conditioning as present temperatures are averaging about 25 degrees below zero. Mail service is likely to be slow, so those first-of-the-month open-faced letters will be a long time coming. And your draft board probably never heard of the place.

Yes, it has possibilities. And it may well be the world's last frontier.

Federal Excise Tax Cuts Unlikely Now

The ever present topic of Federal excise taxes—including the present rates and methods of administration has come up for hearings before the House Ways and Means subcommittee.

Until the current Middle East crisis the prospect looked good for some reduction this year. Now a re-evaluation is in order and a study is under way.

Prospects for the coming months would indicate that more defense spending would be necessary. This means more Treasury revenue is needed.

The current high level business activity makes the excise taxes highly productive and with the added revenue need this is probably no time to be thinking of reduction.

Any taxation hurts, but excise taxes are somewhat hidden and for most of us a less painful method of securing the needed money.

The excise taxes accounted for 10 billion in the fiscal year 1956. A breakdown shows 2.9 billion from alcoholic beverages, 1.6 billion from cigarettes and other tobacco, 1 billion from gasoline and 1.7 billion from automotive products.

Congress must take action to prevent certain excise taxes from being automatically reduced on April 1 and others from being terminated completely.

This is unfortunate, but with the world at odds and playing cat and mouse, it is far better to continue preparedness and be ready for any situation which may arise.

The person who falls in love at first sight should consult an oculist or a psychiatrist.

The Man About Town

We Like to Get It

Criticism Gives Us Urge to Produce Better Paper

Middle age: When we worry about the morning after when enjoying the night before.

We're really happy to acknowledge a friendly rebuke coming from Mrs. John Morehead of 23 Myrtle Drive. She has been a subscriber of The Pontiac Press for 29 years, and says she has never registered a complaint until now. "What's My Line" was omitted from a recent issue, and she protests.

Mrs. Morehead, you're entirely correct. We received the wrong material from our service, and were compelled to omit this fine feature one day.

I do the pesky puzzle myself nearly every day, so I know how she feels. To you, Mrs. Morehead—and to thousands of others—our abject apologies.

Another kindly missive comes from Mr. and Mrs. Gerhard Lampinen of Rochester, who write: "We look forward daily to the arrival of your newspaper with its most excellent accounts of the very latest news. We are long time subscribers."

"We like to follow your football and baseball contests," writes

Mrs. Fordman Hankinson of Walled Lake, who continues, "You're doing a lot to promote interest in our national sports. We never won anything, but are glad when somebody else does. In this year's football contest we threw in the sponge in the second round."

"Glad your football contest is over," writes

Mrs. Annabelle Ransom of Lake Orion, who writes further, "Now you'll have space again to give some attention to the things that make your column interesting."

From information coming to me from people in a position to know, I believe that

Mrs. John Doig of 35 Mary Day Ave. was the top Eisenhower booster among Pontiac women. A member of the Golden Age Group at the YWCA, she devoted most of her time during the campaign to plugging for Ike. One of her friends wrote him about it, and Mrs. Doig has a White House letter in acknowledgement.

David Lawrence Says:

Moral Law Can Solve Suez Crisis

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — This is a time to keep things in perspective. It is not a time for recriminations. The outburst of anti-American feeling in the British and French press is understandable. Nobody likes oil rationing.

It wasn't the American government which blocked the Suez Canal or blew up the pipelines in Syria. These were the consequences when national passions were aroused.

The problem now is how to cool things down — not how to inflame them more. The British editorials which point to the "disruption" of the western alliance — and the angry expressions of some of the conservatives in the British Parliament who think America is not co-operating in getting oil to Europe, but is chastising the British and French for their use of force — will not help move things toward a solution.

If there is to be a post-mortem on mistakes and errors of policy in the last few years Americans could refer back to the British restraint which stopped the United Nations armies from using maximum military power in Korea and securing a victory there. Yet one of the London editorials proudly claims now that Britain "backed America to the hilt in Korea."

It isn't all white or all black. To conduct international relations in a world of turmoil is very difficult. Indeed, especially in a world that has not been truly stabilized for a long, long time.

America is not the only country where there is grave concern about what the British and French started when they sent their forces into the Suez area. Canada, too, is having its internal debate on the subject. Lester Pearson, foreign minister at Ottawa, says the whole British Commonwealth came near "dissolution" a fortnight or so ago. He asserts boldly that Canada will not be tied up either to Britain or to the United States in shaping policy.

TENDENCIES OMINOUS

Clearly any tendencies to "go it alone" are ominous. Even when the United States endeavors now to strengthen the United Nations — trying not to throw her influence to any side but merely pleading for a course that can lead to a peaceful settlement — the brickbats come just the same.

Then there's the matter of paying for the Suez mess. The United States is expected abroad to put up the cash to get the oil so that the automobile users of Western Europe can enjoy normal conditions once more.

American taxpayers are generous but will not be browbeaten by French or British spokesmen in the press or in the parliament. Congress holds the purse strings and is sensitive about foreign criticism.

The demands for America to side with Britain and France and forget everything else that has happened will only add to the complications. London and Paris should know that American hearts are close to the British and French people no matter what the issues or the criticisms. President Eisenhower tried to express just that thought in his brief statement from Augusta on Tuesday.

But when all is said and done, a realistic course has to be followed by the United States. A policy has to be shaped to fit the changing circumstances of a troubled world. It will not avail to have the United States play the part of a leader who tries to boss the show and tell other nations what to do. There can be only an appeal to reason—a setting forth calmly of the basic principles that must govern all free nations in their relations to each other and in their efforts to liberate the oppressed peoples in those lands where dictators still hold sway.

America is not on anybody's side except the side of justice. The questions that have inflamed the world in recent days are susceptible of solution if there's a return to considerations of moral law in the world.

If that should fail, military force will regrettably become the only answer.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Rheumatoid Arthritis Case Might Hard to Diagnose

Of the 10,904,436 men and women over 14 with chronic joint disability in the United States, 4,852,474 have rheumatoid arthritis, according to the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

It would take fifty times as much space as I have here to tell what I don't know about rheumatoid arthritis. Some recognized authorities on joint disability use two or three hundred times as much space to tell what they don't know about it.

So, though I hate to parade my ignorance like this, I must confess that it is a mystery to me how the experts determined that the 4,852,474 with joint disability have rheumatoid arthritis.

In fact, after a professional lifetime of study of joint trouble, I don't know how to distinguish rheumatoid arthritis, if there is rheumatoid—physical degeneration of joint tissues.

JOINT AILMENTS

In horse-and-buggy days, when Dr. Osler was at the head of the profession, there were just three kinds of chronic joint disability, namely, rheumatoid arthritis, chronic rheumatism and, believe it or not, gout.

Oh, we knew about arthritis, all right, as a specific joint inflammation due to tuberculous, septicemic, pneumococcal, gonococcal or other specific infection of the joint, but this was an acute, rather than a chronic joint disability.

Treatment of rheumatoid arthritis with "shots" (injection into muscle or directly into a vein) of gold chloride (perhaps 1/20th of a grain) "offers definite promise," says one authority. But gold treatment is so dangerous and the effects so doubtful that I mention it here only to advise against it.

Corollary to the 19th century notion that cold and damp cause rheumatism is the rooted popular conviction that one with chronic joint disability should go away, preferably far away, to a warm, dry, equable climate.

NO SUCH PLACE

In the first place, there's no such climate this side of paradise. In the next place, as nearly as I can ascertain, there is as much joint disability per thousand population, in a region where the climate is nearly ideal the year around as in a region where the climate and weather place a strain on—I was going to say ignorant, but lest some of them take offense, I'll say the poor souls whose education has been neglected.

I find that most of the poor souls, who journey for a season or come here to reside continue to creep up and coddle and cover against the air and sunshine just as they did when developing their trouble's back home.

In Little lesson 5, Call it C-R-I, for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope. I quote a distinguished British physiologist:

"It is absurd to put on an overcoat when going out for a walk. It is good to go out and be braced by feeling cold and so be impelled to take vigorous exercise."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady. If a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Handle Baby With Common Sense

Sonny's problem reminds me of a grudge I have carried for 26 years against an old bachelor pediatrician who complicated our feeding of our firstborn son. But with the next four babies, we used the "horse sense" plan outlined below.

Some people, however, prefer a folderol method, so smart doctors give it to them, with double fees, too.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-334: Sonny J., aged just six weeks, is the first child of a young married couple of my acquaintance.

"Dr. Crane, Mary makes herself sick with her excessive worry about Sonny," the husband explained.

"If she deviates five minutes from his feeding schedule, she is sure it will endanger his health."

"My parents and her parents, too, have urged her to use more common sense, but she does everything by the book."

"Our doctor has given her an elaborate formula and she spends half the morning sterilizing bottles for the entire day and night, with nipples, bottle covers, etc."

"Is that the way you doctors handle your own babies in your homes?"

"HORSE SENSE" MEDICINE

When our first baby was born, I was teaching psychology at Northwestern University and had not yet obtained my M.D. degree.

So I asked a pediatrician of Evanston for advice. Being an old bachelor, he gave me a complex formula and that routine about sterilizing at least six bottles, plus nipples, caps, etc.

It became quite a chore. So I

Parent Lets Boys Hunt, Feels It Is Good Thing

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I have read the letter headed "Wrong to leave school to hunt" and I don't agree. I also feel sorry for the boy lost in the woods, but can't see where hunting contributes to waywardness.

I have three sons of my own and they go hunting every year. However, their school work has to be all done in advance before they leave. Therefore, they don't miss any school lessons.

It seems to me a great deal better for boys to do something they enjoy with their own fathers than to roam the streets at will as some of them do. Perhaps hunting is dangerous, but then so is crossing the street.

I don't hunt myself, but I wouldn't miss the camping trip for the world. If it comes to a choice of buying a gun for my sons to hunt with their father or a hot rod to tear around in, I'll buy the gun.

Another Parent Heard From

Opinion Given by 'Long Hair'

I'm inclined to disagree with some of the ideas expressed about the haircuts. I have long hair and no one ever says anything to me about it except the ones who are bald or almost bald. I think the principal acted foolishly in expelling that boy.

Boys have been going to school for many years and no one said anything until some mixed-up character comes along and doesn't like some boy or girl's hair style. One person said they expelled him because they were "authorities." That's what's wrong with this country... too much authority. If a thing like that started in Pontiac, they would have to throw me and a lot of other guys out of school.

They call these haircuts Elvis Presley style. How long have boys and men had long hair and sideburns? Long before Presley became popular. I would like to see what the principal of Romeo looked like when he was 16 or 17 years old. It probably would make people laugh.

A Long Hair

Disappointment in Parade Felt

The parade sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the Retail Merchants Association was quite a disappointment to my children and the many other children lining downtown Saginaw street. Luckily my children got one piece of candy each; however, the balloons and feathers carrying gift certificates were out of reach of the adults, let alone the children.

How the sponsors of this parade could ever believe that gas-filled balloons that soared thousands of feet in the air would reach the hands of eager Pontiac children and adults is beyond my scope of imagination. Many balloons probably landed in southern Michigan.

The feathers that were released by plane over Saginaw Street probably landed on the municipal golf course or West Bloomfield Township.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Handle Baby With Common Sense

went to medical school and got the M.D. degree to supplement my Ph.D. in psychology.

And I soon found out that there are two types of physician. One is the typical textbook doctor who practices from books.

The other is the well-adjusted physician who uses "horse sense" or good old-fashioned gumption.

Obviously, not all methods work on all babies. A small percentage are allergic to certain proteins and require specialized diets.

But the great majority (99 per cent) are healthy, rugged infants, despite their diminutive size.

The main thing to remember about babies is to prevent flies or other germ contamination from getting into their food and water supply, and to have them inoculated and vaccinated on schedule.

Various fancy formulas please some society mothers and must be prescribed or those mothers will decry the doctors as lowbrow and incompetent.

When we find such snooty nannies, we load them up with complicated formulas. For they actually want their babies to be different from the rank and file.

But the average physician follows the method which I used with our last four youngsters.

We would thus acquire the required amount of evaporated milk from a tin can. Then we added sugar right out of the sugar bowl, instead of the fancy maltose concoctions.

Then we poured enough boiled water out of the teakettle to bring the volume in the bottle up to the prescribed amount.

THE DIAPER TEST

You can tell from the "diaper test" if your formula is too rich in sugar, for the stools will then be unduly loose. If there isn't enough sugar, the stools will be constipated.

So you can modify your formula accordingly. And when you find the baby has finished his bottle, rinse it well from the teakettle. Then put the nipple back on and set it in the refrigerator. But place a cone-shaped paper cup over the nipple for extra precaution.

With the next feeding, use the same bottle, unless it was dropped on the floor or otherwise contaminated. Thus, two or three sterile bottles will be adequate for the entire day's milk and orange juice feedings.

And when traveling by auto, take a thermos bottle of boiled water. Puncture a hole in a new can of evaporated milk. Add sugar and water.

Then stick the nipple in the baby's mouth. Simple, eh? I know from experience with five in our family. True science is always simple, anyway.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 26 stamped, self-addressed envelope and 26¢ to cover printing and postage when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

CONVIVIALITY IN CAMBODIA — Chou En-lai (left), foreign secretary of Red China, and Cambodian Prince Norodom Sihanouk laugh heartily on Chou's arrival at Pnomh Penh, Cambodia, this week. The Red leader, on a good-will tour of Southern Asia, invited Chinese Nationalist leader Chiang Kai-shek to return to Peiping and accept a high government post.

Frost Covers Florida Fruit Farm Areas

TAMPA, Fla. — The heaviest frost in many years covered most of Florida's farming areas yesterday, causing heavy damage. The frost was accompanied by the season's severest cold. "Undoubtedly, there was considerable damage to tender vegetables in most farming areas due to frost and freezing temperatures," said Warren O. Johnson, meteorologist of the Federal-State Frost Warning Service. Only area which escaped the frost and chill was the farming region south of Miami. Citrus men in the northern section of the fruit growing region kept smudge pots blazing most of the night to protect their trees. The same was true for groves in low spots of Central Florida. Johnson said there probably was some damage to fruit and tender parts of citrus trees in the low locations of Central Florida.

Molotov's New Position Provides World Puzzle

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

V. M. Molotov, five months after "resigning" as foreign minister, has been given a new job in Moscow, and the appointment has caused an international mystery.

Molotov, known as "Old Iron Pants" for his stubbornness as a diplomat in dealing with the West, is identified as a "Stalinist," meaning that he accepted and endorsed the ruthless rule of the late dictator as compared to committee rule.

He has now been given the post of minister of state control, an appointment open to various interpretations.

Molotov succeeds Vassily Gavrlovich Zhavoronkov, an almost unknown quantity.

But why has Molotov, at the age of 66, and who still is a deputy premier and a member of the ruling Politburo, been given this kind of ministry?

A FIRM HAND

Moscow dispatches say Western observers there believe the new job indicates merely that a firm and experienced hand is called for to weed out bureaucracy and assure more efficient administration in the Soviet Union.

The job is similar to that of state auditor, and it is a very important cog in the Soviet system's elaborate control network.

Some say that the job, which Stalin held for a time under Lenin, is not of much importance.

Others say that it is very important if a key man is there because the minister can control every branch of Soviet economic and social life, including production, distribution, the arts, sports and circus.

The post is one of many in the complicated Russian system. Controlling factors in Soviet life—aside from strong individuals—include the Communist Party, which also has its own control commission; a state planning committee; a state civil service commission; a ministry of finance; an attorney general and the ministry of state security. The latter means the secret police.

STRONG INDIVIDUALS

But over all of these are strong individuals working in a system that gives birth to dictators.

Yugoslav Communists have their own interpretation of the significance of the Molotov appointment. It is that Molotov has won an upper hand in Russia among two feuding factions—the Stalinists and the moderates.

They don't like their own interpretation because Molotov is an old foe of Yugoslav President Marshal Tito. He was the one who led the action in expelling Yugoslavia from the Moscow-directed Communist Information Bureau in 1948.

But the Yugoslav Reds, faithful to Tito, try to comfort themselves by saying Molotov will not exert top power for long. They say the "moderates" must win out in Russia, as Tito espouses, or international communism never will survive.

Nude Mermaid Denied Spot in Convention Hall

DETROIT (INS) — There will be no undraped statue in Detroit's new Convention Hall and Exhibits Building.

The statue, "Sunglitter," a study of a classically nude mermaid and dolphins, was offered to the city by the Art Commission.

However, Common Councilman Eugene I. Van Antwerp said he thought the uncovered lady by the late sculptor Carl Milles was unacceptable for display in the new building's foyer.

Council President Louis Miriani said he thought the statue looked like Gina Lollobrigida.

The debate ended today when Art Commission Secretary William A. Bostick informed council the offer was being withdrawn. He said the statue will be installed in a fountain at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Van Antwerp said: "That's the place for a mermaid—in the water."

What Price Peace? 44 Billions for Coming Year

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense officials disclosed that the money requests of the military services now total 44 billion dollars for the coming fiscal year.

They said it may be impossible to pare these below the 40 billion mark before Congress meets in January.

A 40 billion military budget would mean an increase of four billion dollars over the current spending rate, and would double the budget rise predicted by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson before the Hungarian and Mideast crises.

The new budget will give the Air Force nearly 50 cents out of every military dollar. This is partly a result of Wilson's sweeping decision Monday giving the Air Force all funds for land-launched long-range missiles.

Officials revealed that the initial new money request of the services asked 23 and one-half billion for the Air Force, 13 billion, 200 million for the Navy, and 11 billion, 300 million for the Army. The total is 44 billion, which Wilson described as "foolish" and "extreme."

Approximately four billions have since been pruned out of the requests, with the proportions between the services remaining about the same.

Wilson is holding almost continuous hearings in his Pentagon office this week in an effort to further reduce the aggregate requests down to 40 billion before they are submitted to the White House.

The Pentagon's recommendation will form the basis of President Eisenhower's budget message to Congress in January. In recent years, the White House has imposed only minor changes on defense department requests.

BUDGET BREAKDOWN
Current military spending is at a rate of 36 billion dollars a year, divided as follows: Air Force, 16 billion, 950 million; Navy, nine billion, 750 million; Army, eight billion, 650 million; and interservice, 200 million dollars.

Nearly 200 million dollars immediately, and billions in the future, were said to be involved in Wilson's award of exclusive operational control over long-range missiles to the Air Force.

Air Force jurisdiction is to be so far-reaching that, if the Army's project to build the 1,500-mile "Jupiter" rocket is continued at Huntsville, Ala., the funds must be obtained from Air Force appropriations.

Officials said there is no present hope of reducing the total budget requests below 40 billion.

However, a small percentage reduction in the size of the armed forces may be trimmed off later, if the forces, now at 2,800,000 men. So joint chiefs of staff can agree on a far, no agreement on a reduction.

Dems to Attack Auditing Group

State Senators to Fight Against Secret Work of All-GOP Committee

LANSING (AP) — Democratic senators have served notice they will put up a vigorous fight in January against secret practices of the all-Republican Audit and Appropriations Committee.

Sen. John B. Swainson (D-Detroit) said 11 Senate Democrats would demand a detailed report on the finances and activities of the committee.

Swainson revealed plans for the fight after reporters were barred from a two-day session of the committee in the Capitol.

Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield), chairman, refused to divulge the purpose of the meeting or what was discussed.

"Asked by reporters why the meeting was called, he replied: 'I just wanted to see the boys before Christmas.'"

Other members of the committee said only the chairman could make statements. However, one committee member who asked reporters to withhold his name said the committee was discussing a replacement for the late Eugene F. Sharkey, chief of the Legislative Service Bureau.

"Democrats, even if we are a minority, should have some voice in the selection of the holder of a $10,000-a-year job," Swainson said. "We're just as responsible for public money as Republicans are."

Swainson said the drive to end secret committee meetings would be coupled with a campaign to win Democratic representation on the committee.

Originally organized to check on spending by state agencies, the committee has been acting more and more as an investigative group.

Its most recent investigation centered around a complaint that managers of branch secretary of state offices were forced to contribute to the Democratic Party.

To Ask $4 Billion for Foreign Aid

Big Problem Is What to Do About Help for Middle East

WASHINGTON — The Eisenhower administration is tentatively planning to ask Congress for slightly more than four billion dollars to continue foreign aid for a 10th straight year.

Such a sum would boost to more than 50 billion dollars the amount of money the United States has granted for food, raw materials, weapons and technical assistance the Marshall plan was launched in 1948.

The new program, now being drafted by officials, would cover the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

President Eisenhower, who may officially disclose its size in his budget message in January, still must give final approval to the sum tentatively agreed upon.

The State and Defense Departments and the International Cooperation Administration, which operates the foreign aid program, have agreed on a figure of slightly more than four billion dollars and have submitted it to the Budget Bureau, an arm of the White House.

The sum is about 900 million dollars less than the administration sought from Congress this year. Congress cut about a billion dollars from the administration program, voting $3,760,000,000.

Officials said the sum to be asked in new money would make it possible to maintain spending for both economic and military aid at current levels. This spending now totals about $4,200,000,000 annually — $2,700,000,000 of it for military aid.

One big unresolved question at present, informants said, is what to do about foreign aid to the war-torn Middle East. Economic aid programs have been suspended for Egypt, Israel, Jordan and Syria.

Planners are holding off a decision on funds for the Middle East in the hope that outlines of a peaceful settlement of present tensions may become clear.

Some officials advocate that the U. S. government underwrite such projects as Jordan River development, Arab refugee resettlement and other projects in the interest of assuring a permanent peace.

Victims of Accident Settle for $70,000

DETROIT (AP) — Two Pikesville, Ky. men collected $70,000 in an out-of-court settlement yesterday of suits growing out of an auto accident in which both men were injured.

John B. Carter, 25, received $38,000 and John E. Collins, 28, $12,000. Each had sued for half a million dollars.

The two men were passengers in a car that drove into a pile of dirt, then plunged into a hole at a construction job in Flint Oct. 16, 1955.

The construction firm, Lewis and Farsinger Co., Ann Arbor, paid $60,000 of the settlement. The Genesee County Board of Road Commissioners paid the rest. Both were charged with negligence in the two suits.

Carter suffered a brain concussion, lost the sight of one eye and was partially blinded in the other. Collins received a brain injury which forced temporary confinement to a mental institution.

Detroit Mother Held in Husband Slaying

DETROIT (U) — A 31-year-old mother of three was held on a murder charge today in the slaying of her husband, who was found dead in his bed with two .22 caliber bullets in his head.

Detective Kenneth Perry said Mrs. Etta Fagan told him she shot her sleeping husband, Earl, 44, with a gun she had bought a few hours earlier.

suaded her to surrender to police a half hour later.

Perry quoted Mrs. Fagan as saying she and her husband had quarreled, first when he made verbal advances to one of her daughters, more recently when he accused her of putting poison in his coffee.

Mrs. Hill said Mrs. Fagan suffered a nervous breakdown six months ago.

Mrs. Fagan also is the mother of a son, Dallas, 11.

Family Car Favorite Means of Long Travel

ANN ARBOR (U)—A University of Michigan survey states that the family car is still the favorite mode of transportation on trips of over 100 miles.

The University study of national travel habits showed that if those who had taken a 100-mile plus trip last year, 55 per cent went by automobile, 11 per cent by rail, 7 per cent each by air and bus and the rest by other forms of transport.

Hearing to Be Held to Up Curfew Fine

DETROIT (U)—The Detroit City Council will conduct a hearing next Wednesday on a proposal to increase the present $100 fine for juvenile curfew violations.

Police Commissioner Edward Piggins and several traffic judges have recommended that parents be subject to a $500 fine if their children violate the midnight to 6 a.m. curfew ordinance. The law covers minors under 17 years old.

Back With Interest

DALLAS (U)—A complaint to the police brought prompt action for Mrs. O. A. Gartman. Mrs. Gartman reported someone stole her washing off the clothesline at her home. Next morning, Mrs.

Gartman went into her backyard and found all her washing and 16 other articles of clothing that she had never seen before.

About two-thirds of all South America's mineral resources are in Chile.

And He's Called Dumb!

DURHAM, N. C. (U)—Policeman C. J. Simpson tried to enforce an ordinance prohibiting stray mules.

The mule kept out of reach during a long chase and finally trotted over the city limit line where he was out of reach of the Durham ordinance. Said Simpson's official report: "When said mule left the city, I stopped."

British Columbia, it is estimated, has 400 million feet of standing timber.

Hit Mideast Opposition as 'Selfish Interest'

British See U. S. as Oil-Greedy Rival

LONDON (U. S. — "The Americans are deliberately opposing British policies, deliberately wooing the Arabs, in order to kick us out of the Middle East and take our oil." That argument is heard increasingly in British discussions of the Suez Canal dispute.

This attitude dominates the right-wing members of Prime Minister Eden's Conservative party. It also cuts across political boundaries. It can be heard on the official and man-in-the-street level.

Fights Increase on Union Dues

Pittsburgh Steelworker Opposes Monthly Boost by National Body

PITTSBURGH (U. S. — A 37-year-old steelworker who earns $6,500 a year said last night he will accept the challenge of possible union disciplinary action in his fight to have the United Steelworkers rescind a $2 monthly dues hike.

The challenge was laid down by David J. McDonald, $50,000-a-year president of the 1,200,000 member union.

Don Rarick, chairman of a self-styled "International Dues Protest Committee" within the union, said in a statement he not only will press his fight for a special union convention to rescind the dues hike but will continue his campaign to get enough support to run against McDonald next February when the USW holds its quadrennial elections.

McDonald wound up a two-day meeting of the USW's 33-member executive board yesterday by saying Rarick and his followers were acting illegally under the USW constitution in demanding a special convention to rescind the dues hike.

Rarick's committee was formed about two months ago in the wake of the USW National Convention which authorized that dues be $5 monthly. They were $3. Rarick works at the nearby Irvin Works of U. S. Steel Corp.

McDonald told a news conference the dues increase had been approved overwhelmingly and said no action on the matter could be taken before the 1958 convention.

Even those who oppose what they call "Eden's War in Egypt" ultimately come around to questioning America's motives.

"Of course, your oil interests, etc." is the way it is put.

The smell of oil pervades all arguments here.

Everyone is aware that Britain's industrial machine and standard of living depend on oil from the Middle East.

As a result there is suspicion of any move that could be interpreted as an American commercial victory at British expense. That is how American policy generally is being interpreted.

American officials say it was "psychologically natural" for the British, confused and increasingly insecure as their nation's influence dwindles, to seek a scapegoat.

The phrase "American oil lobby" is becoming common currency. It recalls the "China Lobby" description several years ago when many Britons argued that American support of Nationalist China was leading the world to war.

Stanley Evans, a Laborite, was forced to resign from the House of Commons because he supported Prime Minister Eden's Middle East policy. He said:

"The American State Department is the impregnable fortress of the American oil companies and they see British Middle East oil growing to the stage when it might become competitive."

"The Americans have been engrossed in two main struggles — one against communism and the other against the sterling area."

Plan for Distributing Hungarian Relief

NEW YORK (U. S. — A drive is under way to channel Hungarian relief to the Red Cross, CARE and the overseas relief agencies of major faiths.

The campaign was started yesterday by the Nonprofit Advertising Council, a national public service advertising organization. It is sponsored by six major trade organizations in the publishing and broadcasting field and supported by many business firms.

The drive is being undertaken, the council said, at the request of the Red Cross, CARE, Catholic Relief Services, Church World Service of the National Council of Churches (Protestant and Eastern Orthodox), and the United Jewish Appeal.

Rule Glass in Cheese No Cause for Damage

CLEVELAND (U. S. — An appellate court has ruled that just because a person bites a piece of glass in a chunk of cheese, it's not cause for a damage award.

The ruling was made by the Ninth District Court of Appeals against Mrs. Gladys Tuttle of Cleveland. Mrs. Tuttle had won a $1,500 verdict in Municipal Court here against Meyer Dairy Products Co., of Cleveland.

But the Appellate Court, reversing that decision, said Mrs. Tuttle expelled the glass from her mouth without suffering any cuts or scratches.

Traffic Deaths Drop Off

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's traffic death toll has taken a sharp drop — a turn the National Safety Council calls "amazing."

The council reported today that motor vehicle fatalities slumped 12 per cent in October.

It stated that the abrupt downturn:

halted a rise that had extended through 19 consecutive months.

Completely reversed the normal seasonal trend.

Set up a chance to keep the 1956 total from reaching record heights.

Deaths on the streets and roads in October numbered 3,450. That was 12 per cent under the number who died in October, 1955. And it was the lowest toll for any October since 1949.

"Not since January of 1948," the council said, "had traffic deaths been reduced as much as 12 per cent in any month."

Usually fatalities are higher in October than in any preceding month of a year.

Council statisticians said that, if the rising trend of the first nine months of this year had carried through October, the October death total would have been about 800 higher.

"Credit for this improvement," stated Ned H. Dearborn, council president, "must go mainly to the average driver and pedestrian, and certainly to alert public officials who were alarmed over the fact that the traffic accident problem was getting out of hand."

"We are getting action," Traffic fatalities in the first 10 months of this year added up to 32,420. The total was 5 per cent higher than in corresponding period of 1955. But at the end of nine months it was 8 per cent higher.

Dearborn said the October improvement had not eliminated the possibility that the 1956 total

Yankee Army Wants Confederate Buttons

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The Army is seeking forgiving Southerners who might willingly turn certain pieces of Confederate Army uniforms over to the "Union" — that is — U.S. Army.

The Army insists it's for a good cause — the Quartermaster Corps Memorial Museum. After all, it says, the museum is located at Ft. Lee, Va.

The special relics sought, said the Army Quartermaster depot at nearby Jeffersonville, Ind., are buttons and buckles belonging to Confederate officers' uniforms.

The buttons and buckles bear the insignia "C.S.A." — for Confederate States of America.

Fast Change Artists Set Record—With Jet Engine

LAREDO AIR FORCE BASE, Tex. (AP) — A six-man team of expert mechanics changed a jet plane's engine in less than seven minutes and claimed an official new national record.

The team, headed by T.Sgt. James E. Ware, went to work the instant the pilot of the Lockheed T-33 trainer turned off his Allison J35 engine. Six minutes, 55 seconds later the same plane started up again with a new engine.

Ware's team placed second at Oklahoma City last September in the national engine change competition, won by a team from Webb Air Force Base, Big Springs, Tex., in a little more than eight minutes.

that the toll will be well under 41,000. A couple of months ago it looked as if it might reach 42,000.

The council noted that the October decrease was spread out through all regions of the country.

Baby Boy Crushed

NEW YORK (AP) — An 11-month-old boy was crushed to death in his carriage yesterday by a taxicab which mounted the sidewalk after colliding with another car.

son of a policeman, had been left in the carriage while his mother went inside a Brooklyn delicatessen for a cup of tea.

Average U. S. freight train today has 66 cars.

Bob Considine Says:

Red Beats Grace's Hard-Working Brother

MELBOURNE (INS)—It is not true that Monaco will revert to France, now that Jack Kelly Jr. was beaten by a Russian and an Australian in the Olympic single sculls. Jack's sister appears to have intervened.

Young Kelly is a serious-minded father who works hard in his own father's construction business, works hard at his chosen sport, works hard at the whole prospect of what sport means in today's troubled world.

While the rest of the Kelly family and in-laws lived the gay, happy, sleep-late life that boomed in Monte Carlo last April, before and after Grace's wedding, her sober-sided brother went to bed early, got up at a time when baggy-eyed people in evening clothes were just leaving the casino, and jogged up and down the principality's steep hills.

He was strengthening his legs for the big test he faced here on Lake Wendouree Tuesday.

Even then, he knew that in order to win he would have to beat Australia's big Stuart McKenzie and a Russian named Vyacheslav Ivanov.

Jack had heard about Ivanov but did not know too much about him—save that the 19-year-old Russian seemed to have been born to be a galley Slav. Ivanov, who beat McKenzie and Kelly in the big test, has been sculling for a little less than one year.

DEPLORES SCORING

Kelly has one of the keener understandings of what the Olympics are all about. Like most of the Olympic brass, he deplores the point-scoring system which has come into vogue.

He would eliminate it on the ground that it breeds fierce nationalism which, in turn, could cause rhabarbs which would destroy the whole purpose of the games.

"I'm proud to wear the American uniform, of course," Kelly told me at Monaco in discussing this point. "But I think the ideal uniform anybody could wear in an Olympics would be one that was exactly like everybody else's."

"We shouldn't compete as nations and as nationals. We should compete as human beings, brought together from all over the world by a mutual love for sports. We shouldn't have national subdivisions at Olympic Village. We should all live together as athletes and nothing else."

The American who ventures more than three meters away from fellow Americans in Australia is plainly a fool if he fails to arm himself with a copy of Nina Pulliam's delightful "I Traveled a Lonely Land," published last year by the Bobbs-Merrill people of Indianapolis.

Even if you don't plan to visit Australia, this one is a jewel of quick-witted but perserveringly kindly reporting.

ODD ADVENTURES

It has prepared us for what would have been certain unnerving adventures. For example, we quickly adjusted ourselves to the entrance into our room—without knocking—of almost all employees of the hotels in which we've stayed.

"Good morning," a nice man, aged early today, breezing into the blind-drawn room in which we were sound asleep. "Here's your myle." Daylight proved that he was speaking of the mail.

And the little question of water. There was none in our section of town today, not even for teeth-brushing. "One couldn't hazard a guess," the nice girl on the switchboard said pleasantly, when asked when and if it would be turned on.

And, of course, the wonderful slang. Mrs. Pulliam had a fine ear for it and gives us a summary in her book:

Banjo—a frying pan. Baptized—drowned. Barney—an argument. Barrack—Bronx cheer. Blinks—cigarette butts. Brickfielder—hot dry wind. Bushfire blonde—a redhead. Chalk and talker—a school-teacher. Cobber—pal. Cop shop—police station.

Dip south—reach for your money. Diddleums—delirium tremens. Drop your bundle—become panicky. Happy returns—retching. Inked—drunk. Jam—affection. Lodgings—jail. Poor wet—nincompoop. Poultry—mortgage. Rough as a pig's breakfast—uncouth.

Settlement—a cemetery. Smarty—unctuous. "Starve the crows"—you don't say. Stoop—a thief. Tanglefoot—bad booze. Thievocracy—upper crust criminals. Tonk—a cheap dude. Whereabouts—a man's underpants. Wower—kill-joy. Yike—a quarrel. And, of course, sticky-breakers—window shoppers.

More Teachers Ready

WASHINGTON — The 1956 crop of college graduates will include 57,348 prepared to become high-school teachers—30,195 men and 27,153 women. This is an increase of 15.4 per cent over the 49,697 members of the 1955 class who prepared for high-school teaching.

Northern Outpost Put on Alert: for Polar Bears

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N.M. — An Army Signal Corps officer says polar bears are getting into the act at the guided missile installation at Ft. Churchill in northern Canada.

Maj. C. R. Cartwright has returned from the icy base with a tale that the huge white bears have been roaming at will through the area where 30 men have been installing radar and communications in support of the International Geophysical Year.

No one has been injured, Cartwright said, but the men are taking no chances.

Rifles have been handed out and M. Sgt. Casimir Tatowicz has been put in charge of the polar bear defense platoon.

No silver dollars have been struck in the United States since 1935.

OGDENSBURG, N.Y. — A match, carelessly flipped onto a doll counter, is believed to have caused a 1½ million dollar fire in the crowded shopping district of this Canadian border community.

The four-story J. J. Newberry store, which had been jammed with pre-Christmas shoppers, was wrecked yesterday. Three adjacent buildings, also housing stores, were damaged.

No injuries were reported. Scores of customers were led from the Newberry store by sales girls.

Alderman James S. Graham gave the damage estimate.

LOS ANGELES — After two years of marriage Mrs. Janice Lee Satterwhite still gets red roses, orchids, candy and sentimental poetry from her husband, Frank.

According to George Heenan, of the architectural firm that designed the hall, work by the Chissus Construction Co. of Birmingham is about two weeks ahead of schedule. Contracts for the $37,000 one-story building were approved Oct. 2 by the City Commission. Work began around Oct. 13 and is expected to be completed in mid-March. When completed, the 89 by 74-foot hall will become the most modern of the city's fire stations and the first to be constructed since 1928. It is being financed from the city's capital improvement funds.

Kitchen Chores Eased

CHICAGO — It is estimated that the average American housewife of 1925 spent 3½ hours a day in preparing food in the home. By the start of 1956 that average was down to 1½ hours, the American Meat Institute reports.

Bunker Schedules Talks With Nehru, Resigns as Head of Red Cross

AUGUSTA, Ga. — President Eisenhower has chosen Ellsworth Bunker, retiring president of the American Red Cross, to be ambassador to India.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Bunker will take over his post in India early in January. But Hagerty added in response to questions that Bunker will join Eisenhower and Nehru at talks scheduled for next month.

Replying to another question, the press secretary said he is "quite sure" the President will send his private plane, Columbine III, to London to pick up the Indian Prime Minister. Nehru plans to visit the British capital in advance of his trip to the United States.

Hagerty said there still has been no final decision regarding selection of a site for the Eisenhower-Nehru talks. But he said it is possible the two leaders may spend at least one day at Eisenhower's country home at Gettysburg, Pa.

Bunker's retirement as president of the American Red Cross was announced a few days ago. He is being succeeded in that post by Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, who has just stepped down as supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe.

The only other Democrat who has served in a high diplomatic post in the Eisenhower administration was David Bruce. The President selected him in 1953 to be U.S. observer at the Paris meeting of the Interim Committee of the European Defense Community.

A native of Yonkers, N.Y., Bunker has been a member of the Red Cross board of governors since January 1954. Last July the President appointed him as a delegate to the United Nations General Assembly.

During 1951 Bunker was ambassador to Argentina. From April 1952 to April 1953 he served as ambassador to Italy.

Hagerty announced that as is customary Bunker will serve in his new assignment as ambassador to Nepal as well as to neighboring India.

Bunker is a former director of the National Sugar Refining Corp. He also served formerly as a director of the Bankers Trust Co.

CONSTIPATED? new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

amazing new laxative discovery is so effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, yet is so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONOID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT: Exercise tones your body! And COLONOID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONOID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98¢ for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2¢ per tablet.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

ONLY A BULK LAXATIVE can 1) re-moisten this dry, shrunken waste and 2) supply vital bulk to re-create a normal urge to purge. And, of all bulk laxatives, COLONOID, the

Excise Taxes Branded Unfair

Revenues From Kitchen Too Much for Poor, Says Appliance Official

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was told today present excise taxes are unfair because they hit the poor man's kitchen stove and water heater, but not the luxurious rugs, furniture and crystal of the rich.

Mrs. Pauline B. Duncel, executive secretary of the Institute of Appliance Manufacturers, made the argument before a House subcommittee studying excise taxes. These are in effect sales taxes collected from manufacturers.

Mrs. Duncel was one of several witnesses seeking repeal of excises on household and kitchen appliances.

"A tax on a range is, in effect, a tax on food," Mrs. Duncel said. "A tax on a water heater is as unsound as a tax on drugs because both are essential to good health."

She said low income families have no choice but to spend a substantial part of their funds for such things while "discretionary" spending in high income groups is more frequently for luxuries and untaxed rugs, draperies, furniture, china and glassware.

Charles R. Sligh Jr., speaking for the National Assn. of Manufacturers, proposed that most current excise taxes be abolished and replaced by a uniform tax on manufactured products, excepting food and some other items.

Sligh said such a system would open the way to eventual reduction of income taxes and would be fair, "above board and out in the open." The present excise system, he said, is "selective and discriminatory."

An automobile manufacturers' spokesman urged that the excise tax on automobiles be cut back to the pre-World War II level.

Was His Face Red

AUBURN, N. M. (AP) — State Sen. Calvin Horn spoke to a group of school teachers here about a bill which passed both houses of the Legislature and was vetoed. During a question period, a teacher asked, "Who vetoed the bill?" Horn patiently explained the grammar school civics class fact: The governor.

Toads are found everywhere in the world except Australia and Madagascar.

Wrecking Crew Blast Kills 2

Seven Others Injured at Train Crash Site in Indiana

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP) — Two wrecking crew members were killed today by an explosion in the wreckage of a crossing crash that had already killed two trainmen and a gasoline truck driver yesterday evening.

Seven other workers were injured, one critically, on the wreck clearing scene by today's explosion. A member of the train crew was burned yesterday in a rescue attempt just after the crash of the truck into the side of the Chesapeake & Ohio freight train.

Killed today as the explosion blew the bottom of the wrecked engine 40 feet were Otto Keen, 48, and George Marquardt, 56.

Wreckage of the truck, two locomotives and 10 derailed freight cars blocked the C&O line. Although the crossing on busy U. S. 20 three miles southwest of Michigan City, was cleared, police reported traffic because of the persistent all-night fire in the spilled oil and gasoline.

Five of the derailed cars burned with the locomotives and truck. The train, bound from Grand Rapids to Chicago, was carrying mostly auto parts, scrap and salt.

Waterford Police Find Stolen Cars

Chief Frank VanAtta disclosed yesterday.

Two of the cars were stolen by an escapee from the Oakland County Juvenile Home.

Sgt. Charles Whitlock arrested the youth as he was driving in a car he had stolen from the Huron Bowling Alley on West Huron St.

near Telegraph road. Sgt. Frank Randolph recovered a car that the boy had stolen from Pontiac before taking the one he was caught driving in.

The other auto was reported stolen from Flint and was recovered by officer Jack Hart.

2 Tickets, 20 Minutes Is a 'Good Average'

DETROIT (AP) — Harry Moore of Smith Creek got two traffic tickets within 20 minutes, one for going too slow, the other for going too fast. Police said Moore was stopped the first time for driving at only 25 miles an hour in the left-hand lane of an expressway. After being ticketed, Moore drove away at a high speed. The arresting officer ticketed him a second time for doing 70 miles an hour. Moore was fined $35 for the two offenses.

Press to Run Book in Serial Form

Prize Winner Whitehead Comes Out With FBI Story

(Editor's Note: The Pontiac Press will publish the below mentioned book in serial form shortly.)

NEW YORK (AP)—The secret of this country's A-bomb experiments was so closely guarded in the government during World War II that even the FBI first learned of it through the Communists.

Don Whitehead, twice a Pulitzer prize winner as an Associated Press reporter, describes the discovery in a new book, "The FBI Story," published today by Random House.

White spent eight months preparing the book, with the FBI's complete cooperation and with access to FBI files previously closed to the public.

He traces the Federal Bureau of Investigation's growth from the day in 1908 that President Theodore Roosevelt created it to investigate Western land grabs and Eastern trusts.

Much of the book is devoted to the FBI's continuing battle against communism. It tells how J. Edgar Hoover, then a young attorney in the Department of Justice, first spotted communism not as a harmless political theory but as a world conspiracy designed to infiltrate and take over other governments.

Whitehead tells for the first time how President Franklin D. Roosevelt, in 1936, ordered a continuing investigation of communism and its influence in this country, although the United States and Soviet Russia were later to become allies in World War II.

It was as a result of this that the FBI learned from one of its counterespionage operatives in a California laboratory that the Reds were aware that the United States was working on an atom bomb.

Roosevelt's order to the FBI, kept secret at the time and since, resulted in widespread attacks on the FBI and its work, both prior to World War II and after, when the Truman administration's loyalty drive on Reds in government was in full swing.

Whitehead traces the FBI's work in the postwar spy cases, from the day it first was discovered that A-bomb secrets had been sent to Russia, through the arrests of Klaus Fuchs, the British scientist; Harry Gold and David Greenglass, key figures in the network; and finally to Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, who were executed amid violent demonstrations engineered by Reds and fellow travelers.

Hoover, in a foreword to the book, says: "The acts of the subversive, particularly the 'died-in-the-wool' Communist, call for increased vigilance. The security of our country has suffered because too many of our people were 'hoodwinked' by the propaganda which claimed that the Communist party was a political party like the Democratic or Republican party."

About 92 per cent of the people of Massachusetts live in cities, towns and villages.

Convicted Iraqi to Be Deported

Sentenced for Murder, Student Ordered Back by Board of Inquiry

IONIA (AP)—Maurice Hamilton, 20, has been ordered deported to his native Iraq after serving less than four months of a life sentence for the love triangle murder of a Detroit grocer.

A special board of inquiry from the U.S. Immigration Department issued the order Tuesday after a two-hour hearing at Ionia State Reformatory, where Hamilton is confined.

However, Gov. Williams or the state parole board must approve the order before Hamilton can be turned over to federal custody.

Michael Kranson, the youth's attorney, said the board's decision would be forwarded to the governor, who is on a three-week vacation in South America.

Hamilton, who came to the United States on a student's visa, was convicted in the butcher-knife slaying of Aziz Hermiz, 38-year-old Iraqi immigrant, last Feb. 10. He was killed as he slept in his home.

Hermiz' wife, Victoria, 35, was named as co-conspirator in the slaying.

In a sensational 5½ week trial last summer, the prosecutor charged that the pair murdered Hermiz so they would be free to carry on an illicit love affair.

CONVICTED OF MURDER

Hamilton was convicted of first degree murder and drew a mandatory life sentence Aug. 1. Mrs. Hermiz was declared insane and was committed to the Ionia State Hospital for the criminally insane.

Hamilton was ordered deported under a provision of the McCarran Act, which decrees deportation for any immigrant who commits a major crime within five years after arrival in this country.

"Besides," said Kranson, "it would save the people of Michigan a lot of money."

Hamilton, who was present at the hearing, was overjoyed when he heard the ruling.

"I will be very happy to go back to my own country," he said.

If Gov. Williams or the parole board released the youth to federal custody, he probably will make the trip to Iraq with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hamilton.

The parents came to Detroit from their home in Baghdad for their son's trial.

Two Vessels to Be Burned in St. Clair

DETROIT (AP)—A lighted torch will put an end to a pair of once proud members of the Great Lakes pleasure boat fleet at sundown on Dec. 10.

The two vessels, the Greater Detroit and the Eastern States, will be set on fire in Lake St. Clair off the Grosse Pointe Yacht Club. When the wooden superstructures have burned, the metal hulls will be sold as scrap.

Both boats formerly were owned by the Detroit & Cleveland Navigation Co.

The owners, Abraham Siegel and Robert Rosen, said no one had responded to their offer to see the boats and that it would be economically unprofitable to put them back into operation.

Rosen and Siegel also own the Western States, another former D & C boat, which has been fitted out as a "Flotiel" in East Tawas. The state has started legal action against the owners, contending the boat unlawfully occupies state-owned submerged land.

Banking Agenda Topic

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The current money market, automation in banking and capital structure and earnings of banks will be the main topics on the agenda of the Michigan Bankers Assn. conference at the University of Michigan Dec. 6 and 7.

State of Union? We'll Soon See

Three Alaskans to Ask Seats in Congress When It Convenes

WASHINGTON (INS) — Three duly-elected representatives of the non-existent "State of Alaska" are completing preparations which they hope will bring their territory into the Union.

On Jan. 3, when the 85th congress convenes, Alaska's two senators-elect and its representative-elect may present themselves formally and demand that they be seated in the Senate and House.

They were elected Nov. 6 by the people of America's vast northern territory in conformance with Alaska's decision to employ the so-called Tennessee plan in an effort to become the 49th state.

The three are Ernest Gruening, former territorial governor, chosen for a six-year senate term; William A. Egan, elected to a four-year senate tenure; and Ralph J. Rivers, who was selected for the House.

John Adams, an official of the Alaska Statehood Committee, said a decision will probably be reached within the next fortnight on a plan of action.

If the three Alaskans do not appear personally at the doors of the senate and house chambers, they may submit a petition requesting that they be seated.

In this way they hope to dramatize Alaska's campaign for admission to the Union. A similar approach proved successful when Tennessee tried it in 1796.

Eleven other states used the same system after congress failed to act. They were California, Michigan, Ohio, Wyoming, Kansas, Idaho, Minnesota, Iowa, Oregon, Arkansas and Florida.

Basically, the Tennessee plan calls for a territory to adopt a state constitution, elect senators and representatives, and then demand admission to the Union. Alaska approved a state constitution last April.

Adams said a statehood caravan will leave Fairbanks Dec. 10 by automobile and travel over the Alcan highway to the U.S., where it will seek to stir up interest in the territory's aspirations.

Egan and Rivers will accompany the caravan, which will be joined enroute by Gruening. They expect to reach Washington, D.C., Dec. 31.

Pleasure Rides in Majority on Long Trips

NEW YORK (INS)—The University of Michigan National Travel Market Survey, disclosed in New York yesterday, shows that vacations and pleasure travel account for nearly two-thirds of all trips of 100 miles or more taken by American adults.

The survey also revealed that three out of every four adults have never taken an air trip, half have never been more than 100 miles on a bus, and 30 per cent have never taken a rail trip. All but 11 per cent have traveled 100 miles or more in a car trip, however.

John B. Lansing, program director at the U-M Survey Research Center told the first annual meeting of the Travel Research Association that the majority of vacation trips are undertaken with pleasure as the main objective, although many involve visits with friends or relatives.

The survey indicated that business travel, which accounted for one out of five trips, was about evenly divided between those traveling for their employer and persons who were self-employed.

Personal affairs, including family emergencies and moving to a new residence, were cited as the reason for another one out of five trips.

Regarding air travel, about three out of four adults in families with annual incomes of $15,000 or more have taken an air trip at one time, compared to only one in 10 among those with incomes of less than $3,000.

When asked, "What might keep some people from traveling by plane?" more than eight out of 10 mentioned fear of flying or air sickness as a factor.

Thirty per cent of those who have ever taken a trip cite cost as a disadvantage of air travel.

The study was financed by the New York Central Railroad and the Port of New York Authority. Some 4,000 persons were interviewed.

Bond Purchasers Back Payroll Savings Plan

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Ninety seven per cent of those using the Payroll Savings Plan where they work for purchase of savings bonds approve of this automatic method of savings, according to a University of Michigan survey.

U. of M.'s survey research center reported also that the majority of families want to save, but only one of three uses a regular savings plan. Those that do, regard it as the best way to save with regularity.

The first legislation barring communists from the ballot was enacted by Indiana's legislature in 1933.

Hal Boyle Says:

Traffic Jam Will Test a Man's Character

NEW YORK — One test of a man's character is what he does during a traffic jam.

Do you remain a fuming prisoner of the passing moments in such a situation? Or do you—this is the mark of the superior man—employ them for self-improvement and thus score a victory over time?

NOT ENOUGH TIME

Many busy people complain the day isn't long enough for them to get done half the things they'd like to. They complain often that traffic jams cause them to waste more time than anything else, and usually add, "But there doesn't seem to be anything that can be done about it."

They are looking at the problem from a short-sighted angle. They look for a solution that will end traffic jams, which, since the world is getting more crowded every day, is manifest nonsense.

The dynamic approach is this: "Since traffic jams are here to stay, how can I use wisely the time I spend caught in them?"

Inspect a line of motorists in any traffic jam, and what are they doing? The odds are high that the great majority will be (1) futility blowing their horns, (2) cursing, (3) girl watching, (4) either dozing, listening to their wife, or both.

WASTED ENERGY

With the possible exception of girl watching, none of these activities falls into a constructive category. All the rest waste precious time and energy.

One might well ask defensively, "Well, just what do you expect me to do during traffic jams—go through college?"

As a matter of fact, why not? An average of 25 million Americans must waste at least 15 minutes a day in traffic jams. That comes to about 2,281,000,000 lost hours a year. Since a college student spends only about 7,200 hours on his studies in a four-year

Maybe the idea of going through college while your car is stalled doesn't appeal to you. But you can at least study a few correspondence courses an hour to get ahead on your job.

A NEW CAREER

You can also even study for a new career while you are endlessly waiting for the car ahead to start. There are some jobs, of course, you can't practice while sitting in a stalled car—such as piano tuning, or, should you yearn to be a life guard, the technique of rescuing a drowning person.

On the other hand, there are certain pursuits which can easily be mastered while sitting in a car waiting for the lights to change, e.g., opera singing, clarinet playing, ventriloquism, public speaking, song writing, and cheating at cards.

Traffic jams can also be utilized to improve one's culture. During the 91 hours a year the average man spends in them he can easily read all the books on the best seller list. (One man who has to make frequent cab trips across midtown Manhattan said that he went through the Encyclopaedia Britannica in less than two years in this manner.)

If one doesn't mind carrying a small bag, it is also easy to follow one's hobby during traffic jams, whether it be stamp collecting, quilting, or making bird cages.

PATH TO SUCCESS

I have heard of one man, a swimming pool salesman, who says he owes his success in life to traffic jam. Instead of calling at the home of prospects, he merely drives along until he comes to a good traffic jam, then parks, gets out and makes his sales pitch to the stalled motorists.

"They can't get away," he observed, "and you'd be surprised at how many guys caught in an automobile on a hot day jump at the chance to buy a nice cool swimming pool."

Any guy can get caught in a traffic jam today. But it's the guy who uses this lost time to his own advantage who gets ahead in the battle of life.

$5 Million Home Project Planned at Midland

MIDLAND — Plans for a $5,000,000 private housing development, largest in Midland history, have been announced.

Julius Green, president of Consumers Construction Co. of Detroit, said 257 homes will be built on a 93-acre tract in the Jefferson subdivision. The development is due for completion by November, 1937.

Best cutlery customer for French industry in 1936 was the United States. Of the 5 million dollars worth of cutlery exported by French factories during the year, $435,500 worth came to the United States.

Farmers Pay Hands More Than Selves

KALAMAZOO — Some dairy farmers pay their help more than they make themselves, says a Michigan State University economist.

Karl Wright of the MSU faculty told a government hearing that the average dairy farmer gets only $1.10 an hour return on his labor.

Wright testified at an inquiry to determine whether a milk marketing order should be issued for the Kalamazoo-Battle Creek area. The order, requested by 600 farmers in the Kalamazoo Milk Producers Assn., would put a floor under milk prices in the area.

The hearing is being conducted by Clarence Girard, examiner for the U.S. department of agriculture. Opposition to the proposal came from E. L. Kronke of Pelton, who said administrative costs would add $500 a day to Kalamazoo Consumers' milk bills.

There are some 25,000 known species of spiders, each with its own style of web.

Ft. Wayne May Become Detroit Waterfront Park

DETROIT — Detroit officials would like to take over Fort Wayne from the Army and convert it into a waterfront park and boating center, according to recreation director John J. Considine.

Considine said the Army had already indicated it would be willing to sell the grimy, 136-year-old fort for an inland city-owned site.

Official Michigan Election Canvass Result: GOP Closest in Auditor General Race

By ROGER LANE

LANSING (U)—Aside from President Eisenhower, Prof. Paul D. Bagwell, nominee for auditor general, came closer than any other Republican to carrying the state in the Nov. 6 general election.

This was disclosed in the official state canvass of election results, which showed Bagwell losing to Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski, the Democratic incumbent, by 32,010.

Other Democrats on the state ticket, all seeking reelection, won by margins ranging from the 81,675 plurality chalked up by Secretary of State James M. Hare to the resounding 290,313 triumph registered by Gov. Williams.

Here are some of the standout facts emerging from the official count:

1. Justice George Edwards, running on the non-partisan ballot for the remainder of an unexpired State Supreme Court term, defeated Circuit Judge John Simpson, the Republican nominee, by a record shattering 849,070 votes.

His margin was by far the largest ever recorded in any statewide contest, eclipsing the 556,633 votes by which Republican Fred W. Green beat Democrat William A. Comstock for governor in 1928.

2. The total vote for President, counting 6,923 ballots cast for Enoch A. Holtwick, the Prohibition Party candidate, reached 3,090,468, also a record. The figure topped by 214,482 the previous high vote for any office, cast for governor in 1932.

3. Democratic Gov. Williams won an unprecedented fifth consecutive term by tagging Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, the Republican nominee with a 290,313 vote defeat. Williams attracted 1,666,689 votes to Cobo's 1,376,376.

4. Apparently as a result of the combining of the state and national ballot, the total vote for President exceeded the total vote for governor by 30,817. Four years ago, the gubernatorial total vote was higher than that for President by 67,398.

In racking up his statewide margin of 353,749, President Eisenhower pulled a whopping 1,231,864 votes in the 82 outstate counties as against 685,280 for Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee. This gave Eisenhower a 536,584 advantage outstate.

Running stronger than he did four years ago in Detroit and Wayne county, Stevenson sliced his opponent's plurality by 182,835 votes—but without coming even close to catching up. The Wayne county totals were Stevenson 661,618 and Eisenhower 481,618.

In the contest for governor, Williams carried Wayne county over Cobo 759,704 to 377,177, a margin of 382,527, but lost outstate 906,983 to 999,199 to pare his overall plurality by 92,214.

Thus, Eisenhower's margin outstate was nearly six times that of Cobo.

The closest race for congress saw Republican Charles E. Chamberlain upset Democratic Rep. Don Hayworth in the sixth district by 3,967. Chamberlain's vote was 116,570 to Hayworth's 112,603.

The narrowest margin in a legislative race occurred in the 30th senatorial district where Democratic William E. Miron was declared the winner by only 129 votes. Miron received 24,686 to 24,557 polled by Kent T. Lundgren.

Robert M. Montgomery, state elections director, said he was unofficially advised by Lundgren's attorney that the loser will demand a recount, something he has 48 hours to do.

Montgomery said if Lundgren follows through with this intention a decision in the matter would be up to the senate after it comes in for its 1957 regular session in January.

The official vote totals in statewide races other than governor, together with the plurality of the winner, the Democratic incumbent in each case:

For lieutenant governor: Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, 1,565,704, Clarence A. Reid, 1,421,966, plurality 143,738.

For secretary of state: Secretary of State James M. Hare, 1,531,456, John B. Martin Jr., 1,449,781, plurality 81,675.

For attorney general: Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, 1,530,663, Richard C. Van Dusen, 1,443,107, plurality 87,556.

For state treasurer: Treasurer Sanford A. Brown, 1,525,866, Frank C. Padzieski, 1,438,461, plurality 87,405.

For auditor general: Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski, 1,496,809, Paul D. Bagwell, 1,464,799, plurality of 32,010.

For supreme court justice: Justice George Edwards, 1,406,677, Judge John Simpson, 557,607, plurality of 849,070.

For supreme court justice: Justice Talbot Smith, 1,028,689, Atty. Michael D. O'Hara, 974,746, plurality of 53,943.

Music Reaching New Popularity

Instruments Owned by Americans Now at All-Time High

With America's interest in music and music-making now at an all-time peak, Christmas this year will be the most "musical" the nation has ever known.

This is, more musical instruments than ever before will be found around the Christmas trees of American families. This is a foregone conclusion, because more people than ever before, children and adults, are now playing musical instruments in the United States.

The American Music Conference estimates that, in 1956, the number of instruments owned in the U.S. reached the all-time record high of 28,600,000. And, when Santa Claus has completed his rounds this year, a new mark will be set.

The tremendous enthusiasm for making music will have thousands of youngsters expecting an instrument of their own this Christmas morning—and they will not be disappointed.

In addition, more and more adults are learning the pleasures music can bring, and many of these mothers and fathers will find that favorite instrument as a musical offering among their other Christmas gifts.

All signs indicate that Santa Claus is going musical this year in a way that will make his bundle of gifts a big package of harmony.

Winter Season Fire Hazards Listed by Chief

Winter, and the approach of the Christmas season, brought warnings of fire hazards from Pontiac Fire Chief John F. Schroeder today.

Fire is deliberately brought into the home when weather turns cold he said.

It's set in the furnace, in space heaters, in fireplaces. Careless heating of the home can result in costly fire, destroying property and perhaps claiming lives, Schroeder warned.

Oil heaters — whether stove, range, or space heaters, are responsible for a large number of fatal fires in dwellings, he said.

Portable heaters are even more dangerous, he stated.

tional Board of Fire Underwriters:

Don't place the heater near a doorway where the exit could be blocked.

Don't put it where it can easily be tipped over.

Keep it away from curtains, bedding or other combustibles.

Don't fill it when hot or when in use.

Be sure there's ventilation in the room at night.

Don't let children play near the heater.

An open fireplace fire is inviting trouble, Schroeder said. Coals can roll out of the fireplace when there is no protective screen. Too large a fireplace fire also is dangerous, he added.

Overheated furnaces are blamed for many home fires. Improper regulation of the fresh air vent is the cause,

COAL GAS DANGERS

Fresh air causes the fire to blaze stronger. If the furnace gets too hot, the fire can get out of control, Schroeder also listed dangers of coal gas from improperly ventilated furnaces.

Christmas brings inflammable materials and additional electrical systems into the home, he pointed out.

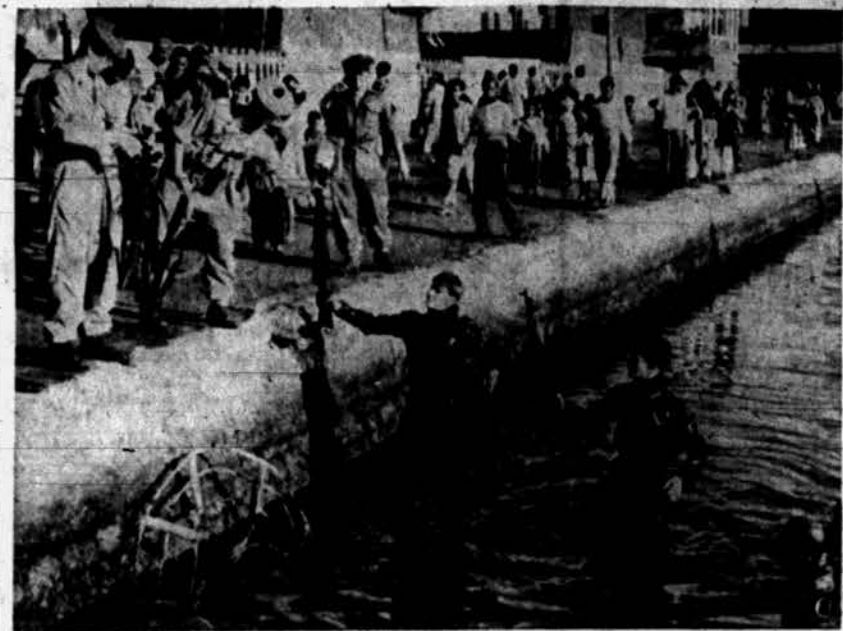

The Christmas tree, its decorations and Christmas wrapping paper all go up like tinder, he said. Christmas tree lights should be checked for possible short circuits which may cause a spark or smoldering wires in the inflammable tree, he said.

Lights also cause an additional strain on the home wiring system, which may cause overheating.

Holland to Take Refugees

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Holland will temporarily house another 3,000 Hungarian refugees, Social Affairs Minister Jacob Suurhoff told Parliament today.

Jangadas are peeled-log rafts used by fishermen along the Brazilian seacoast.

RECOVER SUEZ ARMS — British frogmen, part of the expeditionary force in Port Said, remove arms from the backwater of the Suez Canal and hand them to members of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders. The officials said most of the recovered arms are of Russian make.

Children Vie for Best Slogan

A county-wide safety slogan contest involving 101 elementary schools got underway here today under the sponsorship of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department Safety Division.

Nine prizes totaling $120 in U.S. savings bonds and stamps will be awarded for the top slogans submitted before the Dec. 31 deadline. All students of grades three through six are eligible to take part.

The awards will include $25 savings bonds for the top three slogans, $10 worth of savings stamps for the second three, and $5 in stamps for the third trio. All the prizes were donated by area merchants.

The Sheriff Department is conducting the contest with the cooperation of school officials. Entries may be sent directly to the Department office, 104 Wayne St., Pontiac, or turned over to any school principal.

Contest rules limit the slogans to 10 words or less. Entries must be original with only one slogan accepted per person. Rules and regulations have been sent to all schools. Any further information may be obtained by contacting Deputy Stephen Navarre at the sheriff's office.

The outstanding slogans submitted will be placed in the sheriff's safety display cabinet located in front of the county jail for public viewing.

Good Citizens, These Railroads

OF ALL forms of transportation only the railroads and the pipelines fully pay their way.

The railroads build and maintain their own roadways and terminal facilities.

They have spent millions in the construction of bridges to meet the requirements of waterway navigation, used—without charge—by competing barge lines.

Untold millions of their taxes have gone into the construction and maintenance of highways used by their competitors, the trucks and busses.

They have repaid the Federal Government many times over in reduced passenger, freight and mail rates for the land grants of the 1850s-1860s.

They have repaid practically all loans from the Government and full interest on such loans and those from private investors.

And hundreds of millions of their taxes help support federal, state and local governments, help maintain military establishments and schools, and all other governmental activities.

Curtice Gives Success Recipe

GM Head Says There Is 'No Guarantee' of Annual Progress

NEW YORK (U) — Adequate capital, the "inquiring mind" and a desire for an improved standard of living are the driving forces behind technological progress, says General Motors President Harlow Curtice.

There is no such thing as guaranteed annual progress, he told the American Institute of Consulting Engineers last night at its annual banquet.

"Advances in technology are by no means automatic," he said, but are "the product of many forces, all operating within the framework of our free enterprise system."

"Every American desires to improve his own standard of living," he continued, "and these wants of individual customers set up a compelling and cumulative pressure for more things and better things."

Adequate capital is also important to technological progress, Curtice said, adding:

"A principal source of such capital is the successful and profitable business whose earnings are available for re-investment or for distribution through dividends to the investing public."

Equally important, he said, is "what I like to call the attitude of the inquiring mind."

"This attitude of mind is never satisfied with things as they are," he explained. "It assumes that anything and everything can be improved. It is always seeking better ways to make things and better things to make."

Resigns FEPC Post

DETROIT (U) — The Rev. Chester A. McPheters of Detroit's Metropolitan Methodist Church resigned Tuesday as a member of the State Fair Employment Practices Commission. In a letter to Gov. Williams, he said the press of other duties forced him to resign.

State Lacks Control of Near Beer Sales

LANSING (U) — The State Liquor Control Commission has no jurisdiction over the sale of near beer, an attorney general's opinion held yesterday.

The opinion, by Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh, defined near beer as a beverage with less than one half of one per cent of alcohol by volume.

Harry T. Running, Traverse City prosecuting attorney, raised the question, citing a local problem about the purchase of near beer by minors.

Some of the minors, Running said, are in the habit of purchasing near beer and exchanging the contents of the container for beer.

Traverse City is considering an ordinance to forbid the purchase of near beer by minors but is concerned about possible conflict with the jurisdiction of the Liquor Control Commission, he said.

Kavanagh said that since near beer is not within the jurisdiction of the Commission, the validity of an ordinance regulating its sale depends only on the limitations of the police power of the city.

Appoint Michigan Man

LANSING (U) — John C. Lorenz, assistant state librarian, has been appointed assistant director of the library services branch of the federal office of education.

Lorenz, assistant state librarian for the past 11 years, will assume the Washington, D. C., position Jan. 2. He will administer the library services act which provides financial assistance for the extension and improvement of public library services to rural areas.

High Waves Continue Pounding Oahu Island

HONOLULU (U) — The Weather Bureau warned that high waves would continue pounding Oahu's north shore today and more residents prepared to evacuate if necessary.

Thunderous 30-foot waves crashed ashore yesterday causing damage to half a dozen beachfront homes and several injuries. No deaths were reported.

The Weather Bureau said the freak conditions are caused by a large low pressure area some 2,000 miles north of here.

Testimony by Witnesses Links Him to Stabbing 22 Years Ago

On the testimony of two witnesses who claim to have seen a knife 32 years ago, Saint Helm, 57-year-old former Pontiac man, was bound over yesterday for arraignment Monday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Helm, who has served 34 years in prison on conviction of two other murders, is accused of the first degree murder of Cora Wickwire at 56 Wessen St. in 1924.

A mother and daughter, now living in Ann Arbor, testified before Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum yesterday.

They are Mattie Watkins and Mary Corley, whose testimony was that Helm stabbed the woman twice in anger. They stated another woman tried to wrest the knife from his hand and as a result was so severely cut that her hand remained permanently crippled.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor presented the evidence against Helm.

Helm was arrested after his recent release from State Prison of Southern Michigan where he had finished the remainder of a sentence for a 1918 shooting here. He also served time in New York state for a 1926 killing. The Wickwire death came after Helm's parole for the first murder.

Valentine Joins Chinese Couple: Call Her Aline

Pontiac's Valentine couple now have a little Valentine. A six-pound 12-ounce baby girl was born yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital to Custer S. L. and Lin Kven Hong.

Custer, proprietor of the China City Restaurant in the city, married Lin, his childhood sweetheart last March after waiting eight years to have her come to this country from her native Hong Kong. Pretty Lin, 22, arrived in Pontiac last Valentine's Day.

The proud parents who live at 985 Boston St., have named the new arrival Aline Lee Hong.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Voorhees, now a New York attorney and a consultant to the Defense Department, is taking over the new assignment immediately and will serve without pay.

The President recently directed that up to 5,000 refugees from Soviet oppression in Hungary be admitted to the United States. The

Kadar Tells Why

MOSCOW (AP) — Pravda said today Janos Kadar refused to admit United Nations observers to Hungary for fear the people might mistake them for American troops. Pravda further quoted the premier as asking why U. N. observers were necessary "when 600 foreign correspondents in Hungary saw everything, knew everything."

first groups have been arriving at a reception center at Camp Killmer, N.J., and elsewhere since Nov. 21.

Hagerty said anew today it has been a possibility all along that the quota might be increased to more than 5,000. He said Voorhees will study that matter with Scott McLeod, ad-

Sylvan Manor Assn. Meeting on Monday

SYLVAN MANOR — The Sylvan Manor Civic Assn. will meet on Monday, at 8 p.m. in the town hall.

Residents are urged by the president, Paul S. Kearns, to attend and offer suggestions and their services for the association's Fourth Annual Christmas party. Nazar Malkasian, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, will report on the committee's plans for the party.

Refreshments will be served during the social hour immediately following the business meeting.

Kearns also requests that all residents complete their Civil Defense registration cards and return them to the block captains.

County Deaths

George B. Smith
ROCHESTER — Arrangements are pending for George B. Smith, 47, of 1960 Cortland, at William R. Potere Funeral Home here. Mr. Smith was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital this morning. He had just completed a night's work at Fisher Body when stricken by a heart attack.

At Waterford Township Opening Cancer Center

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The Waterford Township Branch of the American Cancer Society will be holding "Open House" in its newly established headquarters Monday from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.

This new cancer-center is located in the library of the CAI Building, 5640 Williams Lake Road, and will be open on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 12 noon to 3 p.m. It will have a loan-closet to dispense dressings and medical supplies, not only for cancer patients but also for others seriously ill, such as diabetics.

Monday's program will include a film, "Man Alive", to be shown at 2 p.m. Christopher Dean, chairman of the Oakland County District of the American Cancer Society, will be discussant. Mrs. Helen Williams, the organization's North Oakland Voluntary Activities Chairman, will also be on hand. Films and other educational facilities will be available through the center.

Forest Fire Set by Indian Boy

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Investigators say that an Indian youth has admitted setting a fire which caused 11 deaths and burned over more than 44,000 acres before it was controlled.

U.S. Forest Service investigator Elwood Stone reported that 16-year-old Gilbert Paipa told him:

"I just got a crazy idea to throw a match in the grass to see if it would burn."

The fire started on the campsite in the Inaja Indian Reservation where Paipa's family has lived for two generations. Paipa was booked on suspicion of arson.

No Diphtheria Cases Reported in County

Although the toll of diphtheria in Detroit has increased rapidly in the past few days with a record 13 cases reported in the area yesterday, Oakland County is thus far free of the disease.

Only one case of diphtheria has been reported in the county this year, said Dr. John D. Monroe, health director.

Detroit health officials in an effort to halt further spread of the disease plan mass immunization immediately. They hope to immunize approximately 100,000 school children before the Christmas holidays.

U. S. Will Defend With A-Weapons, Says Quarles

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of the Air Force Quarles has reaffirmed the "determination" of the United States to use nuclear weapons if necessary against Communist aggression.

Addressing 1,300 persons at a dinner of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Quarles also declared last night:

"Any thought that under present conditions nations will rule out a nuclear war or any other kind of war on moral grounds ignores the lessons of history, some of which are recent history."

Aides of Quarles said his reference to the lessons of "recent history" was aimed at Russia's use of force to crush the Hungarians.

Do Your Shopping Early, Urges City's Postmaster

Pontiac acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean today repeated his plea to post office patrons to do their Christmas shopping and mailing early.

Dean said he expects a Christmas mail volume breaking the 1955 record of 5 million letters, cards and packages, and pointed out the mountains of mail will be easier to handle if they're spread over the holiday season.

"Every facility of the post office will be pressed into service so that again this year, as in the past, the building will be cleared of all Christmas mail by Christmas, if possible," Dean pledged.

He added: "By following the simple suggestions of mailing early, wrapping carefully and addressing plainly, Pontiac citizens will be assured of the safe and timely arrival of their Christmas mail."

Area Planners Eye Land Uses

Predict Facts to Alter Projections for County's Future Building

Land use of Southern Oakland County, and how knowledge of it will change current projections in the future will be detailed at the 8 p.m. Dec. 5 meeting of the South Oakland Planning Council at the Huntington Woods City Hall.

The council's program committee harks back to the time when the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission first presented its preliminary regional land use plan.

Then, the question was raised "how can the commission be sure of its future land use projections without first having made a detailed land use survey?"

Aerial photographs, checks with utility companies and governmental units, and spot field checks had been used.

Now the results of the 1366 land use survey are being revealed. Representation of each community is urged, so that the council's accomplishments may be enhanced by their support.

Democratic Club in Waterford Asks Candidates

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

Chapter 30

"You asked Steve to be at your meeting this afternoon to see if he's a murderer," I said to Detective Lieutenant Bolling. "Do you think Steve could possibly be a murderer?"

"Now, Mrs. Barton, if murderers looked like murderers, seemed like murderers, acted like murderers, we could put them away before they murdered anyone. In fact, a murderer isn't a murderer until somebody knows he committed a murder. And that applies even to a charming fellow like your husband, Mrs. Barton."

I didn't detain him; I was glad to see him go.

"That man," I said, "has a special talent for ruining a girl's wedding anniversary. What time is it?"

"Almost ten," said Steve. "Ten o'clock. You've got six hours..."

"Yeah, Connie. Six hours to prove I'm not a murderer."

"Steve," I said, "darling, let's get going."

We took a cab to the corner of West Twenty-fifth and Ninth Avenue. Steve took time out to buy Harriet Kroll and Mrs. Zeigler a present. He did his shopping in Manny's Bar and Grille. He bought two quart cartons of foaming, cold tap beer.

We didn't encounter the landlady again, but we didn't need her. Steve had learned that our ladies lived on the second floor front. He tapped gently on that door. We stood waiting. Upstairs someone was playing scales on a clarinet. Steve tapped again, gently this time. The door opened.

A stalwart, hearty looking woman in a blouse, tweed skirt and sensible shoes stood facing us. She was the goalie type. In fact, she could have been the older sister of a girl I played field hockey against back in 1946. We didn't score against her.

And I was sure no one had ever scored against this woman in any game, including what is laughingly called the game of life.

"Mrs. Zeigler," Steve said.

"Yes," she said.

I couldn't believe it. This tower of bubbling health and strength with clear eyes could not have been stumbling drunk last night. But she had been, and my admiration for her increased. No hangover ever dared trespass on this lady.

"And Miss Kroll?" Steve asked.

"Is she in?"

"Yes, she is," Mrs. Zeigler was studying Steve. "You look familiar."

"We met last night."

"Oh, really? Well, come in, come in!" She drew us through the doorway. "Harriet and I meet so many people, but so few of them develop into lasting friendships. Harriet's in the bathroom, bathing. Call me Clara."

"I'm Steve Barton. This is my wife, Connie."

"How do you do, Connie? We were just about to have some breakfast."

In the center of the large, somewhat barren room a gate-legged table had been set up. Two places had been laid for a breakfast of tomato juice, sticky sweet rolls and tall glasses of milk. In the middle of the table stood a defiant looking geranium. There were some uneasy appearing chairs, two day beds, neatly made, and one chest of drawers.

"What," Clara said, "is in the bag?"

"Beer. Sparkling fresh-drawn tap beer." Steve put the bag on the table. "But if you haven't had breakfast yet..."

The bathroom door opened and Harriet Kroll drifted through it. My first impression was that she was a slip of a girl, aged about eighteen.

Then I saw past the wide, pleading eyes, the dainty, timid touch of lipstick, the halo of curly, silken hair, I saw the tiny wrinkles, the infinite weariness in her face, and I felt very sad.

"Harriet," Clara said, "this is Connie and Steve Barton."

"Who?" Harriet asked.

"Friends of ours."

"Oh."

"We'll have our breakfast," Clara said, "while we chat. Drink your tomato juice, Harriet."

The two ladies sat at the table. Steve and I shared a day bed. Harriet lifted her tomato juice to her lips, her little finger extended elegantly. But she put the juice down untasted. She peeked into the beer bag. She began to speak with a startling vivacity.

"How lovely! Yes, fresh-drawn from the tap, just as it should be! Just like home! At home we never had anything that came from a can. Mother would not stand for it. I can still hear her. 'Tin,' she would say, 'tin is for roofing. If the good Lord meant for food and drink to be in tins, he would have put it there.' I can still hear her saying that..."

Harriet had taken a carton of beer out of the bag, lifted off its lid. She picked up her glass of milk, hesitated a moment, then emptied it into the geranium pot. She poured beer into the glass.

"Mother was a great believer in the proper thing. She just dined it into us girls. There were four of us, all girls... and we couldn't have been more shocked than when she left us to go off with Mr. Campbell..."

Harriet had, in quick little darts, drunk half a glass of beer. Her eyes were already beginning to shine and her frailty was disappearing. She finished the glass quickly, then refilled it. Clara got herself a clean glass and she was drinking beer, too.

"Truthfully, though," Harriet said, "Mr. Campbell was quite a charming man..."

"Harriet," Clara said, "you're prattling."

"Am I? And you've spoken to me about it so often."

Steve made his move. "I suppose you're wondering why we're really here. I never actually met Frank Stubbs but we have mutual friends..."

"Frank," Harriet said gently, "one of the few truly gallant men of our time. He never lifted a hand against me. He always calls me his little one. Little one, this, little one, that. Oh, yes, there's an enchantment about Frank. I've always thought Frank would be much further along today if his last name weren't Stubbs. Stubbs is so very plain..."

"Harriet," Clara said.

"Oh, yes. Prattling?"

"I've heard so much about Frank," Steve said. "I'm very anxious to meet him."

"Oh, dear," Harriet said. "Now isn't that a shame."

"You mean," Steve asked, "Frank's out of town?"

"Out of town!" Harriet cried.

"Out of town! Did you hear that, Clara? My dear young man, I should say that yes, Frank is out of town."

She leaned toward Steve, her voice almost a conspiratorial whisper. "Very, very much so, indeed."

"Well!" Steve said, and it seemed to fit the occasion so perfectly that he said it once more.

"Well!"

"Yes!" Harriet whispered. "Government business."

"Oh," Steve said.

"United Nations."

"Oh," Steve said.

"Of the utmost importance. Top secret."

"I understand."

"He can't even write to me," said Harriet. "His letters might be traced."

Liquor Bills Passed

CHICAGO—A new volume record was established last year when 1,835 bills affecting alcoholic beverages were introduced in the various State legislatures. That was 24 more than in 1942, the previous record year. One hundred fifty of the 1935 bills were finally passed.

Auditor General 'Out of Bounds'

Charged Local Justices With 'Excessive, Illegal' Fee Label

LANSING — Auditor General Frank S. Szymanski was "out of bounds" in his public criticism of Oakland County justices of the peace, the Michigan Association of Justices of the Peace charged today.

Adrian Jaffee of Okemos, association president, said Szymanski had incorrectly charged that costs being charged by the Oakland justices were excessive and illegal. "The association went on record as feeling very strongly that Mr. Szymanski was overstepping his bounds in his criticism and that he had destroyed public confidence in justices of the peace as the result of it," Jaffee said.

"In this instance, there was no question of fraud or mishandling of funds by any justice," he said. "It was merely a matter of the auditor general objecting to an accounting system that had been approved by the proper Oakland county authorities. But his vocal protests made it appear that Oakland justices were doing something wrong."

Jaffee said the attorney general's office had been asked for a legal opinion on the Oakland county accounting practices and that the opinion is still pending. In view of this, he said, Szymanski was out of place with his criticism.

The justices voted to ask the state legislature to restore their probationary powers, taken away last year by an Oakland county circuit court decision.

They also voted to ask the legislature to set up minimum requirements for justices and to approve a uniform system of auditing and record keeping.

One Marker on Drummond Island Select Five Historical Sites

LANSING — Five more locations have been selected for historical site markers, the State Historical Commission reports.

The markers will be set up near Leslie, at Fort Drummond, at Fort Miami, near the Michigan-Ohio line and along Lake Huron. The Leslie marker will designate the spot from which pioneer surveyors began surveys that opened up Michigan for settlement.

The Fort Drummond marker, on Drummond Island, will be at the site of the stockade built by the British in 1815 after they abandoned Fort Mackinac on Mackinac Island at the end of the war in 1812.

The Fort Miami marker will be on the site of the stockade built by the French explorer LaSalle at the mouth of the St. Joseph River in 1679.

The comic opera "war" between Michigan and Ohio in 1835 will be memorialized by a marker between Monroe and Toledo on the Michigan side of the line. Ohio gained a strip near Toledo from the conflict and Michigan was given the Upper Peninsula.

The Lake Huron marker will commemorate the Great Lakes storm of Nov. 9, 1913, during which at least eight ships were lost on Lake Huron alone. Exact site of the marker has not yet been selected.

Yesterday, Swanski was no longer a lodger, but an inmate. He had been identified by Chief of Police Oscar Brewer of Duluth, Minn., as a man wanted on a forgery warrant there. Swanski agreed to extradition.

Hudson's bay in Canada is 900 miles long and 500 miles wide. It has a greater water area by four times than that of all the Great lakes combined engineering surveys show.

Identify Car Victim

DETROIT — A woman, killed while walking on the Willow Run expressway early Tuesday, was identified 18 hours later from fingerprints as Ruth Alter, 42, of Detroit. She was struck by a tractor-trailer at 1 a.m. in Romulus Township.

Candy Your Own Pineapple

Here are two recipes for Candied Pineapple Rings. Use some of the rings in your holiday fruit cakes, and the rest will add glamour to candies, cookies and puddings right now and all through the holidays.

This pineapple will not have the sugary coating that is characteristic of the commercially candied pineapple, but it is completely satisfactory for use in Christmas fruit cakes, candies, cookies and puddings.

Candied Pineapple Rings

2 cups sugar
1 cup water
1/2 cup corn syrup
2 No. 2 cans sliced pineapple

Combine sugar, water and corn syrup in a saucepan. Cook over moderate heat until mixture spins a thread (234 degrees). Drop in a few slices of well drained pineapple, being careful not to crowd the slices.

Simmer gently until pineapple becomes clear, about 15 to 20 minutes. Remove pineapple from pan and drain on wire racks. Continue until all the pineapple is candied.

Three-Day Candied Pineapple

1 No. 2 can sliced pineapple
1 1/2 cups granulated sugar
Confectioners' sugar

Drain syrup from pineapple thoroughly. (Allow to drain in a colander several minutes.) Cover bottom and top of slices with the granulated sugar; store about 24 hours at room temperature. Empty into large skillet and boil 5 minutes.

Reduce heat and simmer 15 minutes. Turn occasionally during the cooking, taking care that it does not scorch or turn brown.

Remove slices to a wire rack to dry about 24 hours. Pat sides and edges of slices heavily with sifted confectioners' sugar. A crusty glaze will form after standing on the wire rack overnight.

Note: If surface is not dry after standing, re-roll in confectioners' sugar.

CANDIED PINEAPPLE RINGS — Have you ever thought of candying your own pineapple? The result will be different from the commercial product you buy, but will be delicious. Try either one of these recipes.

Encourage Milk Drinking Use Baked Apples With New Tasty Recipes and Figs Together

This is all the equipment needed — tall glasses or paper cups, long-handled spoons, an ice cream scoop or sturdy tablespoon, straws and a quart mason jar with a tightly fitting cover. A rotary beater, electric mixer or electric blender makes it even easier to whip up milk drinks as glamorous as any soda fountain.

Pineapple Joy

Combine 1 1/2 cups chilled pineapple juice, 1 tablespoon lemon or lime juice and 2 tablespoons sugar. Add 1/2 cup chilled milk and shake vigorously.

If pineapple juice is unsweet-ened, add extra sugar to taste. Garnish with half of a canned pineapple slice or insert a fresh pineapple spear for stirring. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Maple Moo

Stir 1 or 2 tablespoons maple syrup (or 1/2 teaspoon maple flavoring and 1 or 2 teaspoons sugar) into a glass three-fourths full of cold milk. Add a dash of cinnamon and a sipping straw.

Chocolate Mini Float

2 cups cold milk
1 cup chocolate-flavored syrup
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 teaspoon peppermint extract
1 pint chocolate ice cream

Mix small amount of the milk with the chocolate syrup, then add rest of milk and extracts. Shake well and pour into chilled glasses. Top each with a generous scoop of ice cream. Makes 4 servings.

Honeykist Cooler

2 tablespoons honey
1/2 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 cup orange juice
2 cups cold milk
1 pint vanilla ice cream
4 orange slices

Blend honey, orange peel and juice. Beat in milk and ice cream. Beat in milk and ice cream. Top rim of each glass with an orange slice. Makes 4 servings.

Brussels Sprouts With Different Taste

Here's a nice combination of flavors.

Caraway Brussels Sprouts
1 quart basket (about 3 pounds) Brussels sprouts
Clear chicken stock
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
Salt, pepper
2 teaspoons whole caraway seeds

Wash Brussels sprouts in cold water; remove wilted leaves and soak in salted water about 20 minutes.

Rinse and place in saucepan with 1 inch of boiling chicken stock. Bring to boiling point; boil 3 minutes without cover.

Cover and boil until tender-crisp — 10 to 20 minutes. Drain if necessary. Add butter, salt and pepper to taste and caraway seed. Toss lightly. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

New Fish Sauce in Big Demand, Says Proud Chef

A few miles north of Sarasota, Fla., there's a delightful restaurant called, appropriately, Holiday House. The main dining room is colorful and gay. At one end of the room, a large picture window looks out on palm trees and flowering bushes, lighted at night.

Chef Grosscup is proud of his cuisine and likes to cater to the fish and shellfish preferences of his guests. Fishery products figure prominently on the attractive long buffet table, laid each Sunday night for patrons who want to eat informally but well, and also are on all luncheon and dinner menus. Many times the fish served has been caught in Florida waters.

However, the chef also finds a demand for the ever-popular fish stick, for which he has developed his own special sauce. He suggests that the woman who serves fish sticks to her family follow the directions on the package in preparing the sticks and use this recipe for a hot, spicy sauce.

The sauce, of course, may be used for any fried, sauteed, or broiled fish or shellfish.

Holiday House Fish Sauce
To one cup bottled cocktail sauce, add 1 tablespoon horseradish, dash Tabasco, 1 tablespoon capers. Heat but do not let boil.

Egg-Cheese Float Dandy for Lunch

This egg and cheese dish will be a dandy to serve for the children's lunch. Lots of nutrition packed in to it.

Cheese Egg Float

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon onion juice
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
2 eggs
1 cup grated sharp cheese

Melt butter in saucepan over low heat; blend in flour. Add milk slowly, stirring constantly and cook until sauce is smooth and thickened. Pour into flat buttered baking dish.

Break eggs and drop on surface; sprinkle with grated cheese.

Bake in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for about 10 minutes, or until eggs are done to desired degree and cheese is nicely toasted. Serve on hot buttered toast. Makes 6 servings.

Make Cheese Whip for Buffet Supper

For open house buffets, easy whips which can be prepared in advance are timesavers.

Served with finger-size crackers and dark breads, they have lasting qualities far beyond toasted or plain white bread canapes.

Cheese Whip

In a small bowl, marinate one-half pound of Roquefort cheese in enough whisky to cover. Store in refrigerator overnight. Adding two tablespoons of mayonnaise, whip cheese in remaining liquid, and keep chilled until ready to serve.

Cellar Is Good Spot for Old Gas Range

What happens to the old gas range when the home improver provides a shiny new one for the kitchen? The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association recommends a cellar spot for the old one.

It will be ready for coffee breaks for the improver himself when he's at workbench tasks, or for his wife when she's at the laundry or other cellar chores.

The extra cooking capacity fits in when the guest list taxes even the staid modern gas range.

ARCTIC CACHE — In 1934 a Joint Canadian and American Expedition to the Ellesmere Ice Shelf in Greenland discovered a cache which included some tea, left on the island 45 years before by D. B. McMillan, assistant to Commander A. E. Peary on his expedition to the Arctic in 1908-9. The cache contained an oil lamp stove, a sled, milk and canisters of tea that were still usable. A handwritten note from McMillan said: "To whom it may concern: At the request of Commander A. E. Peary who is now out on the Polar Sea at about latitude 85, I am leaving this cache as a possible aid to some one landing near here by a westerly drift. D. B. McMillan, assistant."

Many Purposes of Eggs: Color, Flavor, Nutrition

EAST LANSING — Eggs are a many-purpose food. In some foods, cakes and custards, they add flavor and color. When beaten and used in sponge and angel cakes, they provide a leavening.

They thicken mixtures and also act as binder. And, in mayonnaise they are used as a stabilizer to hold oil in a mixture of vinegar and seasonings.

Mary Coleman, instructor in foods and nutrition at Michigan State University, explains that when you understand how eggs accomplish these many feats, you will have more consistent good results in egg cookery.

For example, when eggs are used in dishes such as baked custards or rice pudding, two things can make the difference between a smooth product and one which is watery.

First, you must use a low enough temperature (325 degrees). And, second it should be baked only until it is set enough so that when a silver knife is inserted it comes out clean.

Prolonged baking or baking at too high temperatures cause the eggs to shrink away from the liquid in the mixture. Thus, it will be watery when cut into.

Miss Coleman suggests that setting the dish of custard in a pan of water while baking will prevent the edges from being overcooked while the center is getting firm.

Whether made commercially or in your own kitchen, mayonnaise has a tendency to separate. Mixing seems to do no good, so, Miss Coleman suggests beating up a whole egg or an egg yolk and very gradually adding it to the mayonnaise.

Eggs serve as a leavening agent in meringues. If the whites are overbeaten, a meringue will have beads of water on the surface after baking. Underbeating tends to collapse the meringue during baking and it won't hold the foamy swirls that make a meringue topping on a pie so attractive.

Meringue will stick to a pie much more easily if spread on it while the filling is still quite hot. Be sure the meringue in spread right over to the edges of the crust so it won't shrink away while browning in the oven.

COOL FILLINGS FIRST

When eggs are used for thickening in cornstarch puddings and pie fillings, it might be a good idea to cook the cornstarch or flour until it has thickened and then broil. Makes 4 servings.

let it cool 4 or 5 minutes before adding the eggs.

Miss Coleman suggests this because cornstarch or flour do not reach their full degree of thickening until heated to the boiling point. If eggs are heated to this temperature, they may curdle and clump in the mixture.

After the mixture has cooled and the egg has been added, reheat the mixture very slowly until the egg has thickened. Be sure you do not heat it to the boiling temperature. Miss Coleman says heating in a double boiler is a safe practice.

Fix It in Jigtime — Creole Shrimp

If you use frozen, peeled and deveined shrimp for this recipe you can prepare it in jigtime.

Jigtime Creole Shrimp

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes
1 clove garlic (crushed)
1/2 cup small cooked shrimp (peeled and deveined)
Salt, pepper

Melt butter over low heat in medium-sized skillet or saucepan. Stir in flour. Remove from heat. Stir in gradually the juice from the stewed tomatoes; make sure mixture is smooth. Add stewed tomatoes. Cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened and bubbly. Add shrimp and salt and pepper to taste. Reheat but do not

Eliminate Tears and Hot Spots—

To ease the culinary burden, science has perfected built-in kitchens and up-to-date appliances ranging from do-it-yourself gadgets to radar ranges. But the wise housewife also takes advantage of the latest shortcuts in food preparation.

For example, the tedious, tearful chore of chopping onions for poultry stuffing has followed the horse and buggy into the past. Instead of endless chop-chop-chopping over a cumbersome wooden board, today's kitchen whiz uses bottled onion juice . . . and never sheds a tear.

Pure onion juice permeates the zesty onion flavor more evenly throughout the stuffing. There's no chance of those harsh "hot spots" which often crop up to insult a sensitive palate when chopped or minced onions are used.

Bottled garlic juice also is offered by the makers of this onion juice. This recent advance in seasonings conveniently replaces clove garlic in any recipe.

Get Frozen Meats—Good for Braising

Commercially frozen meats to be braised take little or no longer than the corresponding cuts of fresh meat. If the meat is to be floured before browning and cooking in water, thaw meat slightly, then sprinkle with oil, pound in the seasoned flour.

Meats that require no flouring may be browned without thawing, but require a little additional cooking time.

To braise frozen meats, follow the same procedure as for fresh meats: brown meat in a little hot fat in a heavy pan, add seasonings and a small amount of liquid. Cover and cook over low heat until tender.

Some of the commercially frozen meats now available that are best cooked by braising are: pot roasts, veal cutlets, pork chops and tenderloin patties.

Curry Turkey, Serve on Rice

Let us look ahead to when you have served the good left-over slices of your holiday turkey in gravy for one meal and are down to the slivers and small pieces.

The bones have been simmered for soup and you have a clear, strong stock to use. Perhaps you want to give a buffet supper, or it is your turn to entertain the cannasta club.

Try this rather exotic dish which can be prepared quickly and easily on the top of your stove.

The basis of this dish is a good cream sauce, but instead of using milk, substitute for one half the milk the strong, clear stock made from the turkey bones. This gives the sauce a professional touch and more flavor.

Curried Turkey Over Rice Mounds

4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon paprika
Few grains cayenne
1 cup turkey stock
1 cup milk
1 or more cups cut-up turkey
Sliced rice olives
Pimiento cut or button mushrooms

Mix butter, flour and seasoning into soft paste, have cup of stock heated on top burner and milk warmed. Add stock to paste in saucepan, heat and smooth out all lumps, add milk, stirring constantly. Cook gently on top burner of your gas range until sauce is thick.

Add sliced ripe olives and pimiento cut in small pieces, but if neither of these is available, slice one small can of button mushrooms.

Add turkey cut in pieces and serve over mounds of cooked rice, which you have prepared on another top burner. For those who like it, add 1/4 cup sherry to the turkey mixture just before serving.

This dish may be poured over toast points instead of the rice which is traditional with curries. Have dishes of chutney, dried currants, coconut or whatever you desire to use, but it is rich enough to need nothing extra.

With this, serve a tossed salad and a simple French dressing.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

The Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman Chapter gives us, this week, Mrs. Bessie Holland, with NUT SALAD. She says, "This was a favorite when I was in business and served it to clubs and lodges."

1/2 cup sugar
1 level tablespoon flour
1 pint sweet milk
1 egg yolk, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 medium apples, cored, peeled and sliced
2 medium bananas sliced
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 pint pecan nuts broken
Stir sugar into flour, then stir in the milk, and add beaten egg yolk. Place over low heat in double boiler and cook, stirring constantly, until it becomes thickened (about 10 minutes).

Remove from heat and stir in the vanilla. Cool. This should be about the thickness of rich cream when cold.

Prepare the fruit, and sprinkle the lemon juice over it to delay discoloring. Chill, and combine. Sauce, fruit and nuts just before serving.

Mrs. Holland suggests this sauce for strawberry shortcake, too.

SPAGHETTI SAUCE from Joan Corbett, Buffalo, Courier-Express Chapter. She says she knows we have other recipes for this, but that one more won't hurt.

"I haven't been cooking too long," she adds, "but I know what I like, and I am too lazy to fuss."

I fix my sauce by throwing everything available in a pot and turning the fire low, then forgetting the whole thing for about four chapters of a good book.

"I'm trying your meat loaf now and if it isn't good, you will receive it by parcel post!" (The meat loaf must have been O. K. — it never appeared in our mail.)

2 tablespoons olive oil
1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 pound ground beef
1 No. 2 can tomato puree
1 can tomato paste
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Heat oil in a deep pan, and cook celery, green pepper, onion and beef about 5 minutes, then stir in tomato puree, paste, 3 paste cans of water, add salt and pepper, and simmer 1 1/2 hours. Check the seasoning, adding salt and pepper (and maybe a dash of hot sauce). Serves 5 or 6.

If she wants meat balls with this, she mixes 1/2 pound ground beef with 1 egg, 1/4 cup bread crumbs and 1/4 cup grated Parmesan or Romano cheese, forms balls, browns them on all sides in bacon fat, and tosses them right in the pot with the sauce.

SKILLET TIP. On cooking spaghetti or macaroni starting about 2 inches from the top of the pot, rub olive oil in a 2-inch band around the inside of the pot.

Delicious Dessert for Cold Supper Is Spicy, Rich

A perfect dessert for a cold evening supper or for Saturday lunch. A new and delicious combination of flavors and spice.

About 16 dried figs
1 No. 2 can pie cherries
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons cake flour
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons butter, melted
Miscellaneous dough

With scissors, snip off the stems of the figs. Then cut the figs into small bits. In a pudding dish, combine the figs, cherries and their syrup. Mix the cinnamon, cake flour and sugar together and stir into the fruit. Melt the butter and stir into the fruit.

Make half the amount of your favorite biscuit recipe—or use biscuit mix—and be sure to add 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 teaspoon cinnamon and 3 tablespoons more milk than the recipe calls for. Drop the biscuit dough from a teaspoon onto the fruit.

Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) for 6 minutes, then lower heat to moderate (350 degrees) for about 20 minutes or until the cobbler is bubbly and the biscuits quite done. Serves 5 or 6. Pass top milk flavored with cinnamon, vanilla and generously sweetened.

Quick salad: Drain canned green (snap) beans and mix with French dressing and some finely diced onion. Serve on salad greens.

Red Tomatoes Top Macaroni Casserole

Tomato-Topped Macaroni and Cheese

4 servings cooked macaroni mixed with cheese sauce
4 small tomatoes (about 1 pound)
Salt, pepper
1/2 teaspoon sugar
Grated cheese
Paprika

Turn macaroni and cheese sauce (hot or cold) into a small shallow baking dish—a deep heat-resistant glass pie plate is fine. Wash and dry tomatoes; cut out stem ends, then cut a thin slice from each end; cut each tomato in half.

Arrange tomato halves over macaroni and cheese. Sprinkle tomatoes with salt and pepper to taste, sugar, grated cheese and dust lightly with paprika.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven until cheese sauce bubbles and tomatoes are hot through—15 to 20 minutes or longer. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

To Thicken Soup

Soup stock too thin? Add one of the colorful strained or junior vegetables. Whether you pick carrots or creamed spinach, the vegetable will add flavor and nutritive values. Same for stews.

You'll Find Good Buys in Pork Cuts This Week

To market, to market to buy the family's food. To satisfy the protein needs, pork and poultry are among the best values, says the Consumer Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawler. Good supplies are keeping prices at an advantage to the consumer.

Michigan potatoes, squash, cabbage and dry onions are still low on the vegetable price list, while apples, cherries, and increasing quantities of citrus gain recognition in the fruit department. Add eggs from the good supplies of medium and large sizes, and the family's quota of milk and cheese for a health filled market basket.

MEATS—Please the piggy bank with pork purchases. Since 8 percent fewer pigs were born in the spring of 1956, neither the supply nor the low price pork reached in 1955 is expected.

But pork cuts are seasonally plentiful now and represent a good value compared to most other meats in the market.

Rib-end pork loin roast at 23 to 39 cents a pound will find its way to many tables. The loin end at 35 to 59 cents a pound, or a whole loin from 43 to 49 cents a pound may be the better choice. Have it cut into a rib-end roast, choice center cut pork chops, and loin chops or roast.

Perhaps turkey will be less in style this week, especially if it served as a Thanksgiving choice, but fryers continue to be a popular bird. Compared to other years, about a fifth more are available at this time. 29 to 39 cents a pound makes fryers a popular contender at the meat counter.

FRUITS—Michigan fruits are important items in the "best buy" picture for the weekend. The bountiful apple harvest is displayed everywhere, economically priced, too. Varieties seem limitless as do the uses. Canned tart cherries are ever handy for a quick dessert or meat sauce. Sweetened and spiced, hot cherry sauce is truly a treat served with white cake or ice cream.

Citrus fruits are increasing in volume, and thanks to marketing regulations much of the fruit arriving from Florida is even better quality than in past years. Since grapefruit is on the average over three-fourths liquid, heaviness is a good indication of juice content. Look for grapefruit that is heavy, firm and smoothly textured with a well-rounded shape.

VEGETABLES—Economy-wise shoppers will look for potatoes, squash, cabbage and dry onions to fill the vegetable bin.

EGGS & DAIRY—Eggs are in plentiful supply and medium sizes are still in the limelight.

When medium sized eggs are 7 cents a dozen less than large eggs they are the economy buy.

Creamy egg nog, now available in the dairy department, reminds everyone of the Christmas season ahead. The bountiful supplies of other dairy products assure good health in every package. Milk, cheese, butter, and ice cream are regular items for the market list.

Cherry King Salad
1 envelope plain gelatin
1 cup cold water
1 cup cherry juice
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon liquid red food color
2 cups drained canned red sour pitted cherries

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine remaining ingredients, except cherries; heat to boiling. Add gelatin; stir until dissolved. Cool until mixture starts to "set." Fold in cherries. Pour into 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Unmold; serve with Cream Cheese Dressing. Serves 6.

Cream Cheese Dressing
1 package (1 oz.) cream cheese
2 tablespoons salad dressing
2 tablespoons cream
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Blend ingredients, except nuts, together until smooth. Fold in nuts. Makes about 1 cup of dressing.

Brazil Nut Glaze Brings Elegance to Vegetables

Brazil nuts are good blenders. They are congenial in flavor with most of the vegetables now bountiful at food stores. They share their flavor with a touch of elegance, and in this way heighten interest in the most lowly of vegetable dishes.

Also count on Brazils for adding protein, B vitamins and energy values to their vegetable team-mate.

Acorn Squash With Brazil Nut Glaze

3 acorn squash
1/2 cup butter, or margarine
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup chopped Brazil nuts
1 tablespoon grated orange rind

Cut acorn squash in half lengthwise, then scrape out seeds and stringy portion. Put remaining ingredients in a mixing bowl. Cut in butter with two knives or a pastry blender.

Place squash in a baking pan; divide nut mixture among the 6 squash halves. Cover bottom of baking pan with hot water; cover and bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) 30 minutes; uncover and bake 30 minutes longer. Yield: Six servings.

with butter, Brazil nuts, sugar, salt and pepper. Cover and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 1 hour or until onions are tender. Stir once after the first 15 minutes of baking. Yield: six servings.

Brazil Nut Sweet Potato Surprise

1/2 cup ground Brazil nuts
1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine melted
1/2 tablespoon orange juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups mashed sweet potatoes (about 1 1/2 lbs.)
4 marshmallows

Combine Brazil nuts with brown sugar in shallow pan. Set aside. Add melted butter, orange juice and salt to mashed sweet potatoes; mix well.

Place whole marshmallow in center of tablespoon portion of the sweet potato mixture. Roll so that the marshmallow is in the center of the sweet potato balls. Drop into Brazil nuts-brown sugar mixture and roll until ball is covered.

Place in greased baking dish and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 10 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Yield: 8 servings.

Tomato Juice Good Hot

Try serving hot tomato juice accompanied by toasted saltines that have been spread with curried butter for a different appetizer, suggest Michigan State University food specialists.

Glazed Onions With Brazil Nuts

24 small onion (1 1/2 lbs.)
1/2 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 cup sliced Brazil nuts
1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Peel onions, place in baking dish

What's in a Soup? Most Anything at All the simmering of meats and vegetables. Bouillon is clear beef soup made from lean meat.

In a stew about soups? There are many different types of soups; here's what's in them.

Shredded or diced meats or vegetables in a thin white sauce are known as cream soups.

Broil to Taste

Your family and guests differ in the way they like their steak cooked? Then broil individual steaks, timing them for individual tastes.

CRANBERRY FESTIVAL SALAD—Cranberry salad made with cider should be an interesting dish on your holiday table. This salad was featured at the autumn Cranberry Festival held in Massachusetts earlier this fall.

Festive Salad for Special Meal

It's Cranberry Festival Time! Time to celebrate the cranberry harvest.

Folks in Massachusetts started the celebration off with a bang earlier this fall with a Cranberry Festival held in Carver, Massachusetts.

People at the festival were asked to judge a favorite cranberry recipe. All recipes were winners in contests through the years.

Here's what folks picked as fourth on the list. A Cranberry Festival Salad... combining the tang of canned whole cranberry sauce and the unusual flavor of sweet cider. Visiting homemakers took the recipe home for the holiday season ahead... but they'll serve it all year around.

Cranberry Festival Salad
1 1/2 cups sweet cider
1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 (12-oz.) can whole cranberry sauce

Heat 3/4 cup cider to boiling. Stir in lemon gelatin until it dissolves. Add remaining 3/4 cup cold cider. Stir in salt. Cool. Stir in whole cranberry sauce. Chill until firm.

Delicious with turkey, ham or other meats.

Steak Has Snob Appeal

When the family gets "steak-hungry" remember that London Broil, made from flank steak, will fill the bill very satisfactorily at a considerable saving. It has snob appeal, too, as it is served in the finest restaurants.

Refreshing Drink

A simple-to-make refreshment can be whipped up by using carbonated water, rather than plain water, to reconstitute frozen fruit juice or lemonade. Serve "as is" or with added sherbet or frozen fruits.

Holly Church Publishes Holiday Cookie Cookbook

By JANET ODELL,
Pontiac Press Home Editor

One of the "fun" parts of my job is receiving and looking over new cookbooks. They range in size from the revised edition of the Betty Crocker cookbook to slim little pamphlets put out by church groups or other organizations.

One of the latter came to my desk recently. Called the Centennial Cookie Book, it is published by the Women's Guild of the First Presbyterian Church of Holly.

Fourteen years ago this same group put out a similar cookie book. It was so well received that they decided to issue a revised edition. Since 1922 will be the hundredth anniversary of the church, they took advantage of that and called their book the Centennial one.

At this time of the year we begin to look over our collection of holiday cookie recipes and to get all supplies in the house for the annual cookie-making spree. We prowl through housewares departments, looking for unusual cookie cutters.

Let's look through this little green book with its sprig of holly on the cover and sample some of the recipes. Mrs. Bert McKeachie

TOFFEE SQUARES

By Mrs. Bert McKeachie

1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg yolk
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 pound sweet chocolate
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Cream butter. Add sugar gradually. Beat well. Add egg yolk and vanilla. Blend well. Add flour and salt, blending to moisten the flour. Spread in a 10x13 greased cookie sheet. Bake at 350 degrees about 20 minutes.

While slightly warm, spread with melted chocolate and sprinkle with chopped nuts. Cut in small squares. Makes 67 dozen.

Dates are plentiful this year. Mrs. Charles Coggins suggests using them in a refrigerator cookie.

REFRIGERATOR DATE PINWHEELS

By Mrs. Charles Coggins

3/4 cups dates, sliced
1 cup sugar
1 cup water
1 cup R. & M. margarine
1 cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs
4 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking soda

Combine dates, sugar and water and cook until thick. Add nuts and cool. Cream shortening and add brown sugar gradually. Add beaten eggs and beat well. Add rest of ingredients sifted together and mix well. Chill.

Divide mixture in two or three parts and roll out separately about 1/4 inch thick. Spread each with the date filling and roll up as a jelly roll. Chill overnight, then cut with sharp knife into slices 1/4 inch thick. Bake in moderate oven at 375 degrees for 10-12 minutes. Makes 8-9 dozen.

Have you ever heard of putting carrots in cookies? Here's a recipe in which you do just that.

CARROT COOKIES

By Mrs. R. A. Rainey

1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup white sugar

1 egg
1 cup cooked carrots (mashed)
2 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup raisins or nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream together sugars and shortening. Add carrots, eggs and vanilla. Beat until well blended. Add gradually flour, salt and baking powder sifted together. Add raisins or nuts with the last half cup of flour mixture.

Chill 1/2 hour in freezer or 3 hours in refrigerator. Drop by rounded teaspoon 2 inches apart on cookie sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for 10-12 minutes. Makes 3 dozen soft chewy cookies.

I am happy to have this attractive little cookbook chockful of interesting cookie recipes. I have followed the admonition given in this little verse printed at the back of the book.

"A blessing be upon the cook
Who seeing, buys this little book
And buying, tries and tests its wares;
And testing, throws away her cares;
And caring, tells her neighbor cook
To get another such a book."

Garnish Roast Duck With Spiced Pineapple

Garnish for duck: Next time you serve roast duckling, surround it with pineapple slices that have been lightly browned in a little butter or margarine. This makes a delicious main course for a company meal.

Broiled pineapple slices with a touch of ginger added also make a garnish that is exotic and delicious with duck, turkey or chicken.

Chilled Soup Made With Bread Crumbs

An unusual icy cold soup made with enriched yeast-raised bread crumbs will sharpen the appetite for a hearty dinner.

Combine 1/2 cup enriched yeast-raised bread crumbs, not too fine, with 4 cups tomato juice. Grate 1 medium or 2 small white onions. Add and heat to boiling.

Chill; add 6 thin slices of cucumber for each portion. Season with salt, pepper and tabasco.

Serve well-chilled. Makes four servings.

Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner — Cranberries Add Fillip!

DETROIT (INS)—Cranberry season is here again, but the 1956 berries are no longer content to sit in sauce beside the main dish. Cranberries are spreading out in new and exciting dishes to color the holiday season.

Here's how to make it: grind four cups of raw cranberries with two cups raw apples (remove skins if tough). Add one pound of marshmallows, cut up, and add a cup of sugar. Let it stand overnight.

Next morning, stir one-half cup of chopped nuts and one pint of whipped cream. Place in refrigerator and freeze.

TASTY WITH PORK

For an excellent side dish to pork, goose and duck, combine cranberry sauce with an equal amount of freshly grated tart apple, and freeze to a mush in the freezing tray of your refrigerator. Stir once during freezing. Cranberry juice poured over sliced bananas can be served for breakfast or as a first course.

You also can glaze a ham with cranberry sauce. Score and stud it with whole cloves. Then coat it with a mixture of one cup of cranberry sauce and one-half cup of brown sugar. Glaze the ham one-half hour before the end of the baking time.

And the rich, red color of cranberries adds eye-appeal to punch. One of the many good cranberry punch recipes calls for one 12-oz. can of frozen orange juice, one 6-oz. can of frozen lemonade, one No. 2 can of pineapple juice, one and one-half quarts of cranberry juice, and one and one-half quarts of water. This mixture is good for 50 servings.

Store cranberries can easily be stored in the freezer for year-round use. Simply wash and sort the berries, drain and pack in freezer container.

Here's Budget Saver

For a fish dinner, substitute canned mackerel for canned salmon in your favorite recipe for salmon loaf. Your family will never know the difference but your budget will, as mackerel costs about one third as much. Use mackerel, too, in your "standby" recipes with noodles or macaroni on loaf. Your family will never know the difference but your budget will, as mackerel costs about one third as much.

What's in an Onion?

The smart cook never buys onions, but instead selects a particular onion for her particular need. There are yellow, white and red onions, each with a distinctive flavor. Generally, onions can be grouped into mild or strong flavored classes, says the Consumer Marketing Information agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. The white and yellow globe onions are mild; the large Spanish and Bermuda and red onions are strong flavored.

Slice of White Bread Contains 65 Calories

A great deal has been written about bread, and no wonder when it has been considered the staff of life by so many peoples over the centuries. Once in a while erroneous ideas cause confusion to those interested in diet and nutrition.

Probably one of the most common misconceptions that has grown up is that bread is "fattening."

This is far from true. A slice of enriched yeast-raised bread is on a par with other low calorie foods that would probably be included in a strict reducing diet.

A slice of enriched yeast-raised bread contains 65 calories which is equivalent to less than 1 medium orange, 1 egg, 1/2 cup milk, 4 medium prunes or 1/2 cup yogurt. Recent laws in many states require commercial bread to be enriched with important quantities of riboflavin, thiamine, niacin and iron are added to the ingredients that make up the calories in bread.

Top Angel Food Cake

Hospital Cites Volunteers

Once again volunteers at Pontiac State Hospital reaped rewards and awards at a presentation held Wednesday in the hospital chapel.

Dr. Ivan A. LaCore, medical superintendent, reminded them of the tremendous service they are giving to the hospital and to the community.

He recalled for them the plight of the mentally ill in early "insane asylums" — how patients were seen only for the amusement of the visitors, and were teased and treated like animals.

Over a period of years, Dr. LaCore said, the changes have been startling—real progress has been

The Rev. C. George Widdfield, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, told the volunteers that their efforts and work have been felt in Pontiac and surrounding communities, and he said that he believes we are on a threshold of dramatic psychiatric discoveries.

Statistics showing that patients are cared for at a fee of $4 per day drew the attention of the volunteers. They learned the only amount allotted by the State.

More favorable statistics show that 500 volunteers assist with projects throughout the hospital.

in an attempt to give more than the bare necessities to these patients. Awards were given to 17 organizations and 55 individuals at the session Wednesday. Assisting Dr. LaCore with the presentation were Marguerite Parrish and Dorothy Roe.

Flower arranging and working with plants proves a real pleasure for patients at Pontiac State Hospital. They look forward to the arrival of members of the Pontiac and Birmingham Branches of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association each week. Captain of the project for the Pontiac Branch is Mrs.

Standish Sibley (left) of Oriole road. She is photographed with a project worker, Mrs. Goodloe H. Rogers of Ottawa drive. They work under the supervision of Mrs. Eleanore McCurry, director of the Occupational Therapy Department.

Two volunteers who received their awards from Dorothy Roe, director of the Recreational Therapy Department, are (left) Mrs. Leon Glynn of Elizabeth Lake road and Mrs. Paul Felice of Pioneer avenue. These volunteers devote many hours each week assisting with recreational therapy.

Volunteers came all the way from Detroit for the tea Wednesday. Receiving awards for B'nai B'rith of Detroit were Mrs. Morrey Ager (left) and Mrs. Sey-

Dr. Ivan A. LaCore (right) expressed gratitude to the 200 volunteers attending the tea in their honor at Pontiac State Hospital Wednesday. He is shown with Joseph T. Franz of Pleasant Ridge, a volunteer, and Marguerite Parrish, director of the hospital's Social Service Department. There are 500 volunteers who devote time to some department of the hospital.

Cranbrook Schedules Art Exhibit

Christmas Display and Sale Opens on Friday Evening

The annual Christmas exhibition and sale of student work opens at Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries Friday from 8 to 10 p.m. and continues Saturday from 2 to 5 and 8 to 10 p.m. and on Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. The hours are the same for the following Saturday and Sunday.

Student-made objects for exhibition and sale are first displayed in the various studios, for faculty acceptance.

The unusual Christmas cards are always in great demand by the public, as are small sculptures, paintings and jewelry.

Nancy Fisher of Franklin is in charge of sales and Charles Holzbog and members of the Student Council are involved in collecting objects and displaying them in the galleries.

The public is welcome on the days and hours announced. Proceeds from the sale go to the individual students, many of whom depend upon their own efforts for tuition and board at Cranbrook Academy of Art.

Colors Likely to Look Different Outside Stores

ITHACA, N. Y. (INS) — The housewife should not be surprised if some of the colored dresses, vases or pictures she buys appear different in her own home than they did on the rack or the department store sales table.

This information was imparted by Dorothy Nickerson, color technologist of the cotton division, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Miss Nickerson added:

"Some forms of lighting have a tendency to bring out different strains of color than other forms do. This is a good development in lighting, for it allows the decorator to establish a variety of moods by using a variety of light sources."

"But it gives the buyer an added responsibility of choosing color tones that have a pleasant appearance under the lighting in the room for which they are intended."

Manufacturers, she continued, are becoming more conscientious of this condition and are beginning to use tones that reproduce pleasantly under fluorescent lighting—a lighting source growing in popularity—as well as under incandescent lamps.

"But there is still room for a great deal of thinking on this subject," she said, "and it is bound to come."

Teens Take Practical View of Matrimony

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of Gilbert Youth Research Co.,

More girls marry at 18 than at any other age. Yet only a year or two before that, most of them are thinking of marriage as something far in the future.

This was what surprised us most in talking with the pre-marriage group of boys and girls—those between 13 and 17—to discover their ideas on early marriage.

A great majority of them favored matrimony at 23. Girls preferred 22 and boys 24.

A Nebraska youth said: "Early marriages are no longer practical. First, there's school. Then the Army. A fellow has to be at least in his mid-20s before he can possibly support a family."

Said a Raleigh, N. C., girl: "Wives expect to work after marriage. And a good job is almost impossible to find without a college degree. So it's much more sensible to wait until education is finished and a girl can settle down to being a wife."

WANT TO GROW

Most youngsters, however, feel that they would be ready for marriage within two or three years after high school graduation. They want time to mature and to get used to handling responsibilities before starting their own families.

"An 18-year-old getting married today doesn't stand much chance of having a really good marriage," asserted a teen from Delaware.

"Why, at that age he or she hasn't learned anything about life. We all need time to grow, like plants."

One of our interviewers, a 1952 high school graduate, noted: "The only two divorces so far among my classmates took place with girls who had married at 18 or 19."

Isn't this excellent proof of the danger of the too-early marriage?"

Then how long should engagements last?

JUST ENOUGH TIME

Between 3 and 12 months, say 82 per cent of the 13-17-year-olds. Just enough time to get to know one another, they figure, without letting the relationship become a stale habit.

If the engagement is too long, the romantic glow burns out. Too short—and the young bride and bridegroom don't know each other well enough to hurdle their first argument.

And while the teenagers were all in favor of romance, they were overwhelmingly positive about a well-paying job being necessary before marriage. The figures: Lads 92 per cent, girls 87 per cent.

In fact, when asked what was the most important prerequisite for marriage, 35 per cent voted for money.

This ranked closely behind disposition, 38 per cent, and personality, 36 per cent. The teens made it clear, however, that they were looking for material means in a mate only because it would give the marriage a greater chance for success.

SO EXPENSIVE

"It's not that I'm materialistic," explained a 16-year-old lass from South Dakota, "but everything is so expensive today. And marriage is tough enough without the added gamble of trying to make out on limited funds."

They turned thumbs down on money as an end in itself.

"The most loathsome people I've ever met," exclaimed a Tennessee high school girl, "are those who are looking for a rich husband or wife. They are the lowest element in the world."

"It's like buying the most expensive dress in the store just because it costs the most money—not because it's the prettiest!"

On the other hand, about half of the group felt that if they did marry in their teens their families should help support them. The percentages were: 65 for boys; 32 for girls.

A smaller number believed their own family would contribute if they married very young—36 per cent boys, 30 per cent girls.

Seventy per cent said they wouldn't object if their parents supported them after marriage. A Minnesota lad explained: "It is the obligation of the older generation to provide for the younger until they are able to provide for themselves."

Know Your Labels

Save Yule Shopping Time

The wise shopper always reads labels. So, being able to understand them will greatly decrease the time you spend Christmas shopping.

The names of quite a few fibers will appear on labels this season. Among these will be Dynel, Fortisan, Dacron, Acrilan and Arnel.

Dynel has high bulking power and can be made into the same articles as wool can. Unlike wool, though, Dynel is washable and dries quickly. Two disadvantages of Dynel are its properties to collect static electricity and to melt at a very low temperature. You will be likely to find Dynel in mittens, children's snow suits and snow boots and blankets.

A fiber similar to rayon, Fort-isan, is very sheer in appearance. A very stable fiber, it is being used mainly for curtains.

When you are looking at Jersey, sweaters or hand knitting yarn, you are likely to come across the fiber Dacron. Dacron is very similar to Dynel and Dacron fabrics need no finishes to improve their dimensional stability. However, water-repellent and anti-static finishes may be added.

Acrilan has been used primarily for blankets, dress fabrics and sweaters. This fiber dries quickly but picks up static electricity. It also discolors when in direct contact with dry heat. Acrilan gives a soft hand, warmth without weight, bulk, drapability and is washable.

Arnel is now being used in challis, flannel, gabardine and sharkskin fabrics. Arnel can be washed or dry cleaned, and it requires the same temperature as cotton when ironing.

Remember to read those labels so you know what fiber is in the article you are purchasing. Labels are your only way of knowing what care to give the article.

Cheerful Wreath a Welcome Sign to Holiday Guests

A wreath to hang on your front door as a welcome sign to all your holiday guests can be easily made out of styrofoam or tuffite, a material very similar to styrofoam.

Wrap your tuffite or styrofoam wreath base with plastic gold roping or other roping that is available on the market. There isn't any need to wrap the upper left hand corner of the wreath because that is where your greens will be placed.

Your greens may be stuck in the base or fastened with wire. Wire insures that they will stay permanently in place though. Among your greens fasten magnolia leaves which have been sprayed with gold, or other waxy leaves sprayed with gold. The gold spray is available at your local art and hardware stores.

Clusters of medium size red balls add the needed accent to make your wreath complete.

Cheerful Attitude Really Pays Off

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There's an old saying to the effect that if you're going to do a thing, you might as well do it cheerfully and well.

Most of us give lip service to that doctrine, but go about our lives doing a good many things carelessly and complainingly—giving the job a lick and a promise, as my mother used to say.

One good reason for doing things cheerfully and thoroughly is that it really pays.

For example, Mr. and Mrs. B., a retired couple in their 60s, had just barely enough to live on.

Last Christmas they had a pretty sad time. Their budget didn't cover decent Christmas presents for their children, grandchildren and friends.

"Next year," Mr. B. said firmly, "is going to be different!"

HOW TO DO IT?

Mrs. B. agreed, although neither of them had any idea how this miracle was to be achieved.

"The first thing we did," Mrs. B. told me recently, "was to go over our expenses for the past year and figure every kind of economy that was possible."

"My husband pounced upon the repair bills for clocks, radios, vacuum cleaner and lamps. He decided we were paying far too much for such repairs and he sent away for books and booklets on how to do it himself."

"He really went to it with a right good will," his wife continued proudly.

"He got pretty good at it, especially at watch repairing. He even repaired the children's clocks and watches, and then began practicing on the neighbors."

RESENTFUL PEOPLE

Many people, you realize, would have felt sorry for themselves. They would have grudgingly gone through the gestures of doing their own repairing and finally learned how to do it adequately, but they would have resented every minute of it.

But not Mr. B. Once he decided to do it, he did it with all his might and got fun out of it.

"Best of all," he piped in, "I began to get actual customers. When their clocks or watches went out of order they'd ask me to fix them but they refused to let me do it for nothing."

"Then the neighbors followed suit, and pretty soon they began to refer their friends. Our town doesn't have a good watch-repair shop, so darned if I'm not in business!"

This year, Mr. and Mrs. B. have not only the money they've saved, but the income they've earned from Mr. B.'s watch-repairing service.

If you'd like to learn watch-repairing, send me a stamped self-addressed envelope in care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you a list of books on the subject. (Copyright 1936)

Package wrapping can be a highlight of the Christmas season. Collect your equipment for wrapping in one work area. You will need a variety of papers, ribbons, seals, tape and various trims for the packages such as pine cones, balls, holly, mistletoe, string tinsel or candy canes.

There are prints, solid colors and tissue to choose from in wrapping papers. Wrapping packages in the same color scheme is very interesting: try using shades of pinks and reds together. Or, gold paper with accents of moss green is attractive.

Tactfulness Makes You Parents Instead of In-laws

Accept and Approve Child's Spouse to Build Happy Relationship

By RUTH MILLETT

Want a recipe for making yourself welcome and completely at ease in the home of your married son or daughter?

Well, you'll find it in this letter from a young wife. She writes:

"I used to wonder why it was that my husband always seems as comfortable and easy around my parents as I do and why he has always seemed just as pleased as I when they came for a visit.

"Now I think I've figured out why. In the seven years that we have been married, my parents have never made a single critical remark about my husband. They have never even hinted that he might have a fault.

"Not only that, but they never miss an opportunity to build him up and make him feel pleased with himself. And they always treat him like the head of his own home.

"I'm sure that is why my husband feels so comfortable around my parents and why I feel so comfortable when we are all together.

NOT ON THE DEFENSIVE

He never has to defend himself, and I know I'll never have to defend him.

"I know so many marriages where parents are so definitely 'in-laws' to one half of a couple I just wanted to write and tell you how it works when parents act like 'parents' to a couple, instead of just to their own child."

There's the recipe. If you want to feel at home in your married child's house set the stage for easy companionship by your complete acceptance and approval of your child's marriage partner "as is."

Remember that you are visiting "your children," not just your son-or daughter, and you won't make any of the common mistakes of visiting in-laws.

Does your Christmas tree shed its needles long before you want to take it down?

Lester Bell, Michigan State University extension forester, offers advice on the selection and care of your Christmas tree to help you get the most enjoyment from it.

Some trees hold their needles much longer than others. Red, white and Scotch pines have excellent needle holding ability. In the low humidity and high temperatures of your home, you may expect these trees to hold their needles from the second week of December into January. Firs will hold their needles through the holidays; spruce are the first to shed their needles.

Its fragrance is one of the most noticeable features of an evergreen. All of the pines, the white pine in particular, have a very pleasant fragrance. Firs have quite a pleasing fragrance but that of the spruces is sometimes objectionable.

After you have decided whether a pine, spruce or fir best suits your needs, you must choose your individual tree. Bell lists a few important things to consider in your selection. The most attractive tree is quite dense and has good balance. The setting for the tree will dictate what type of balance you need.

A tree with three full sides and one rather flat side is perfect to use against a wall. A tree in a corner needs only two full sides while a tree in a picture window must have four attractive sides. A good taper is also important. The sides of a perfect tree taper at a 30 degree angle from the bottom straight to the top. The

'Ivy League' Trend in Men's Fashions

European men have it all over Americans when it comes to wearing the correct clothes for classified occasions, says Harold Neuman, U. S. sportswear manufacturer who spends much of his time globetrotting in search of new ideas for men's sweater and swimwear designs.

"Over there they have special clothes for motoring, golf, hunting, fishing, hiking and going to the races," says he. "Here a man is likely just to wear an old pair of pants for anything that's not business or a formal affair."

Neuman believes, however, that American men slowly are becoming more fashion conscious, particularly about clothes for sports and leisure wear. This winter the favorites in sweaters for men and boys are conservative tones of Oxford gray and dark muted colors strictly in the Ivy League tradition.

Bulky wool knit sweaters with crew necks are high in popularity this season, as are the jacquard knits with Scandinavian motifs.

Most men don't have enough sweaters, says Neuman—a tipoff to the woman who is having trouble with her gift list. Every man should have a V-neck sleeveless sweater to wear with a sports coat, a husky pullover for outdoor sports, a comfortable coat sweater for lounging around the house, a turtle-neck bulky knit sweater for really rugged winter sports and an assortment of pullovers with or without sleeves, to match or harmonize with various slacks and sport coats.

A smart Christmas idea is the matched pair of sweaters for father and son—a sure-fire hit.

Slipper Practical

There is a place in every heart for the good old-fashioned leather "house slipper." Its standard design for men and women varies little through the years. But for comfort's sake the best ones have soles and linings of fine leather to keep out drafts while keeping feet from getting uncomfortably hot in steam-heated rooms.

Doesn't Appreciate Neighbor's Offer to Lend Books

By EMILY POST

A reader asks: "How can I refuse to accept books from a neighbor who always insists that I take books home and return them any time? I'd much rather rent these books home and return them any personal basis, but how can I explain this to my neighbor?"

Answer: It ought to be easy enough to say you have more things to read at the moment than you have time for, and that you hope she will let you ask later when you are ready for something new. Then, if you prefer, "later" need never come.

"Dear Mrs. Post: After the recession is over, do the parents and relatives of the bride and bridegroom wait at their seats for the ushers to come back, or do they get up and walk out as they would after church services on Sunday?"

Answer: As soon as the recession is over, the ushers hurry back and escort the mothers of the bride and bridegroom and other members of the immediate family out of church.

Those in front of the ribbon follow immediately—with or without the escort of ushers. All those back of the ribbons stand at their seats until those who were in the front pews have gone down the aisle, then they leave exactly as after church.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Can you tell me if women traveling on a coach train are supposed to remain for the night in their traveling clothes, or is it permissible and customary for one to change into a housecoat or other suitable lounging dress?"

Answer: It is entirely proper to change into a long plain housecoat that will surely stay closed.

Only about 25 per cent of the country is adequately mapped so far, according to the U.S. Geological survey.

This Napoli short dinner dress, designed by Howard Greer of California, is of black, white and pink silk shantung. Velvet trimming accents the neckline and the scalloped hemline.

Cranbrook Music Guild Stages Second Concert

By RUTH SAUNDERS
BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Hostesses at the Cranbrook Music Guild's second concert of the season at Cranbrook House Tuesday evening were Mrs. Marcus W. Frost, Mrs. Marshall Fredericks, Mrs. Orren Mohler.
Presiding at the coffee table after the concert were Mrs. Edward R. Chapman, Mrs. John W. Sanders, Mrs. Walter F. Skinner and Mrs. LeRoy W. Dahlberg.

The concert was given by Therman Bailey, baritone, who recently won the Grinnell Opera Award.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Booth will be hosts at dinner this evening in honor of Dr. and Mrs. William E. Menninger of Topeka, Kan.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Budd have invited guests for a holiday open house Dec. 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Beverly R. Boyd have invited a group of friends for cocktails and buffet supper Friday evening in their new home on Rathmor road.

SECOND DANCE

The Cotillion Club will have its second dance of the season Friday evening at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest F. Kern and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reid will chaperone.

Greeting the guests as they arrive will be Jane Wilson, Sue Fletcher, John Buttel, John Dady and Jeff Crawford.

Miss Dorothy Bell, president of Bradford Junior College in Bradford, Mass., was honored at a luncheon given at Devon Gables Tuesday afternoon by the Detroit Bradford Club.

Miss Bell is the houseguest for several days of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sanders of Epping lane.

SUPER PLANNED

Members of the Bloomfield Hills Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association will entertain their husbands at a cooperative supper Monday in Bloomfield Hills High School.

For the program, Denis Glenn Cooper will show colored films of Isle Royale.

Mrs. Edward S. Wellock, president of the branch; Mrs. Robert Vanderkloot, program chairman; Mrs. William Ferguson and Mrs. Donald L. O'Toole are arranging the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Gray Muzzy are planning their Christmas holiday to include their family. They will spend Christmas Day with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Muzzy, in Anderson, S. C.

From there they will go to Miami, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. ter, to meet their son-in-law and daughter, to fly with them to Montego Bay, Jamaica, for 10 days at the Half Moon Hotel.

This smart new blouse combines a cowl neckline with a soft bloused bow. For wear with a suit or separate skirt, it is tailored in washable rayon and acetate tissue crepe.

Sizes of Patterns Have Not Altered

If you plan on sewing over the holidays, be sure you understand the change that has been made in pattern sizes. According to Evelyn Mansfield, textiles and clothing professor at Michigan State University, you should buy the same pattern size as you formerly bought.

The pattern companies are now merely giving you measurements that more nearly correspond to the measurements you take at home. Formerly, the pattern companies were taking measurements in different places than the average homemaker was taking them.

If you have never bought a pattern before, take your measurements to the pattern store. A ready-to-wear size 12 will not compare exactly with a pattern size 12, but will usually be at least one size larger than the pattern size 12.

Rabbits have sharp but short-distance eyesight. They can see well in almost a full circle.

Exercises May Improve Bowlegs

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many women are truly unhappy because they have bowlegs. It's no use pretending! This is a defect in figure beauty. When skirts swept the floor it was not such a problem. Today, however, the bowleg cannot be hidden.

In the true bowleg the bone is curved. This may be slight or extreme. Sometimes the appearance of bowing is due partly at least to poor muscle development of the calves.

Such abnormalities as the pigeon chest and bowlegs usually are caused by rickets, a childhood malady. Today this is not so prevalent since most children are given cod liver oil and are exposed to sunlight.

If the bone is badly curved there is no way to correct this except through surgery. If the bone is only slightly curved and the muscles are underdeveloped, exercises can improve the condition greatly. Do these regularly:

1. Sit on the floor with your legs resting on the floor in front of you. Lean on your hands. Point both toes HARD. Hold for a few moments. Relax. Continue.
2. Take the same position. Point the toes and at the same time turn the soles of the feet toward one another. Touch. Hold for a few moments. Relax. Continue.
3. Stand. Rise high on the toes. Slowly lower heels to the floor. Continue rising and lowering heels to place.

If you have bowlegs you should wear seamless stockings. This makes them less noticeable from the back.

There is another physical irregularity which causes distress. I am thinking of "saw-cer" ears, or protruding ears. These can be remedied by plastic surgery.

She's too pretty to have bowlegs—so she's doing something about it—she rises high on her toes, then lowers heels to the floor.

The most usual figure faults can be conquered with exercise. If you wish to have my waist, abdominal or hip-slimming exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 5 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Style in Capes Most Popular

The cape craze in fur as well as in wool has a champion in the Duchess of Windsor—and she saw it coming. As early as last March, the Duchess ordered Leo Ritter's fabulous seven-eighths length dark ranch mink cape, to be delivered this October when she returned to New York to launch her memoirs "The Heart Has Its Reasons."

Hollywood, too, loves fur capes. Sonia Henie's wedding gift from her husband, Swedish shipping magnate Nils Onstad, was a full length Imperial crown sable cape. Claudette Colbert and Mary Livingston Benny both had Leo Ritter make them wrist length sable capes. Both of the latter, too, went home with super-elegant black Russian broadtail afternoon coats.

Short Knit Jacket Most Practical

Looking for a new idea to knit? Then make yourself one of the very smart little waist-length sweater jackets. Almost as short as a bolero, with no buttons—or with buttons, to look like a short cardigan.

Orion yarn, of course, is a grand choice because it never needs blocking. It can be sudsed, rinsed, and dried so easily, so quickly.

Pick First Toy Railway With Care

NEW YORK (INS)—Toy railroading is one of the biggest hobbies in America, but pity the poor kid whose father is a train enthusiast!

Just so Pop will remember that Christmas is for Junior, here are a few good rules for the father who is starting his son on his first toy railroad journey.

Get a set simple enough for Junior to operate—an engine and three or four cars instead of three or four separate trains and miles of track.

Get a set to build on. Freight trains have proved to be more interesting to young children than diesel passenger trains because action cars do things and the locomotive puffs smoke and toots.

Get extra track, switches and rubber roadbed because right after Christmas they may be scarce and Junior will soon want to start varying his first simple oval layout.

Make a permanent layout for the train because, after a few days, packing and unpacking tracks and having the family stepping on a few rails on the living room floor tends to make this sport rather unpopular.

If space is scarce, tracks can be fixed to a piece of plywood and tucked in a closet or under Junior's bed.

Suds-Pack Facial Is Most Beneficial

Here's a blessing any woman should be thankful for—that one of the best beauty treatments for your complexion is the simplest and most inexpensive.

It's none too soon to learn that a suds-pack facial—applying lots of thick soap-suds and warm water—is the safest way to cleanse clogged pores, banish blackheads, and do away with minor skin disorders.

The first known American motion picture feature on record was produced and exhibited to the public in 1903.

No More Cause for Fear

Safe Electric Blankets

Are you afraid to sleep under an electric blanket, afraid it may give you a shock or catch fire? At one time, such fears may have had at least a little justification. But today there is no cause for worry.

An article in a national magazine admits that some of the first electric blankets made didn't work well. But today they are designed and manufactured with such care and must pass such rigid tests before the Underwriters' Laboratories seal can be used, that safety is assured.

Today, the wires and all electrical parts are built even for abuse. The wires themselves are covered with rugged, water-proof insulation. There is no more reason to fear the insulated wires in an electric blanket than to fear the cord that runs from a table to a wall outlet.

An insulated wire can cause shock or spark only if the wire should break or the insulation wear through, leaving an exposed live wire. Engineers report the chances of this happening in an electric blanket are wholly remote. But if it did happen, to eliminate even the slightest chance of spark, the wires used in today's electric blankets are under tension. If they break they will pull apart.

Today's electric blankets have many other safety factors. For example, Underwriters' Laboratories insists that cord connections be strong and thermostats made for many years of operation. Blankets must even pass current-leakage tests when wet.

An electric blanket will probably last as long as an ordinary blanket of similar quality. Chances are its fabric will wear thin before anything fails in the heating system.

More elaborate jewelry makes a point of this season's fashion for black. Jewelry draws the eye to the personality in the face.

Practical Fabrics Yet Luxury Too

Remember when satin brocade was a luxury fabric for wealthy women to wear as ball gowns? It's still a luxurious fabric, but now it's made of washable nylon—so sudsable and inexpensive that any modern Mrs. America can enjoy wearing satin brocade. It's even made into practical housecoats.

Forced Retirement Misery for Numerous Old Folk

By RAY HENRY

Retirement to many people is like being shackled to a ball and chain.

This shows up in my letters. Part of the reason for the feeling results from the drop in income older people must take when they retire. But, that's by no means the whole story.

Many retired people are unhappy because they can't feel useful any longer. They have a deep sense of loneliness coupled with a feeling of being rejected by the people around them.

Of course, there's no ready or easy answer for older people with such problems.

However, the cause of the problems is obvious: America has changed from a rural to an urban society.

There are no longer many family homesteads where the old folks can live happily with their sons or daughters and keep busy with chores that replace their regular jobs. Now it's a rare occasion when the children don't break away from their parents early and permanently.

Few things have grown up in our present day society to replace the "old homestead" arrangement which gave the old folks a feeling of belonging. They've been left to search by themselves for something to replace it. Few seem to have found it.

Yet, their needs are much the same as younger people. Besides life's necessities—food, shelter, clothing—they need to be useful, whether with their family or in the world outside their family. They need and want to be active, to keep their body and mind from withering.

In the past few years, organizations in some cities have sprung up to try to give retired folks a life. Many are very successful and may be a partial answer to the problems.

Los Angeles, for example, with some 400,000 people 65 or older has been particularly active in organizing senior citizens clubs.

The activities of the clubs range from home craft to literary lectures and are specifically designed to answer the problems of loneliness and rejection among older people.

CLUBS ORGANIZED

Recently, some 50 senior citizens clubs organized into a Los Angeles County Senior Citizens Assn. One of the clubs has a membership of 1,700 members.

The organization was set up to provide for exchange of information among member clubs, arrange for joint programs and offer help to new clubs. It's also interested in the problems of health, housing, employment and other matters that concern older people.

Although few cities have developed their programs for older people to this degree, senior citizens clubs and golden age clubs are being organized in hundreds of communities.

Thus far, they're a far cry from being a really nationwide movement, but they do represent the hopes of many people for a solution to the problems my letters indicate exist among older folks.

(You may write Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your Social Security or retirement problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

State Employees Given Bonuses

First Longevity Checks for Veteran Workers Go Into Mail

LANSING — Longevity "bonus" checks for veteran state employees working outside Lansing went into the mails yesterday.

They represented the first increment of over two and one quarter million dollars that will be parceled out to state workers by Friday as a kind of special reward for faithful service.

The checks range in amount from $150 for some employees with six years of service to a top of $360 for a few in the "over 18" category.

They go to civil service workers who have reached the salary ceiling within their classification and face no immediate prospect for promotion.

The idea is to provide an incentive for these persons to stick in their state career positions rather than answer the lure of higher paid jobs in private employment.

The longevity pay plan was adopted by the state Civil Service Commission last January to become effective Dec. 1.

The minimum eligibility period was fixed at six years because employees already may earn step increases in salary during their first four years.

From the Press Box

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Just how interested is Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty in the coaching job at the University of California? A few loyal Spartans close to the scene feel that the popular MSU coach is very interested, and could be persuaded to head for the coast.

Other Michigan Staters however think Duffy has his sights set on the Big Ten title and he will stick around to try again for it next season.

DUFFY DAUGHERTY

But no matter what either side thinks, Duffy was in true form hailing the praises for the Green and White at the wonderful banquet arranged by the Michigan State Club of Oakland County in Birmingham last night.

In his own inimitable way, after flying into Willow Run from Chicago and rushing in for the affair, Duffy's after dinner message was as fresh and convincing as only he can put it over.

Whenever Duffy talks you can look for three things in what he says—a bit of humor, a bit of philosophy and a bit of common sense.

His bit of humor can't get away without being repeated for those other than the several hundred who heard it last night.

"We try to teach our players something else beside football," said Duffy, "we want them to use diplomacy no matter what they do."

"When we went out to the coast for the Rose Bowl last year, we told the boys to remember that diplomacy in their associations," he continued.

So at a dance one evening in which the visiting Spartans were the guests, one of the big linemen took to the dance floor with one of the shapely California coeds.

"She was a little on the plump side," Duffy continued, "and they seemed to be doing very well with the dance."

"Remembering what we stressed about diplomacy, when the dance ended the football player walked the girl off the floor and after he thanked her, he said, 'You sweat less than any fat girl I ever danced with'."

"So you see how important diplomacy is," Duffy laughed.

NOT DISAPPOINTED WITH SEASON

In regard to the present season, Daugherty said, "we were satisfied, and we have no alibis."

"Last year we got all the breaks, we had only one serious injury, and this year we lost seven top players by mid-season."

"This is no alibi, we all figure the breaks eventually even up and they did, so we have no complaints," Duffy added.

"The only thing wrong is that no sooner did I find an explanation for the Illinois game than Minnesota knocked us off," he finished.

BANQUET A GREAT SUCCESS

For the committee, including Al Connor, Don Ernst, Don Borgeson and the others, it was a well organized success.

Very seldom do the coaches of the County's 32 high schools and their top athletes get a chance to sit together as a county unit.

Among the guests were toastmaster Chuck Davey, Nick Kerbawy, the MSU assistant coaches and Byron Boyd, editor of Football News.

Spieser Kayos Hoepner

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Detroit's Chuck Spieser, the No. 1 challenger among the light heavyweights, knocked out Willi Hoepner of Hamburg, Germany in the second round of their scheduled 10 rounder in the Milwaukee arena last night. Spieser won 1724; Hoepner 1744.

The end came quickly for the left handed swinging German once the rugged Spieser went to work. A right to the chin sprang Hoepner for an eight count just after the second round got under way. The pair mixed it up in a brief flurry after Hoepner regained his feet, but then Spieser slashed him with hard and fast lefts and rights to put him down for the full count.

Spieser said that after Hoepner went down the first time, "I knew I had him." His manager, Hec Knowles, took up the talking at that point and said:

"If Archie Moore beats Floyd Patterson and has to vacate his light heavyweight title, we'd like to fight Hans Stretz, the next ranking contender, with the winner to be declared the successor to Moore." Moore and Patterson

Rugged Bears Can Demolish Detroit's Bid

Chicago Has Won Last Three Games Against Motor City 11

DETROIT (AP)—The Chicago Bears, with power to spare on the ground and in the air, can all but demolish the title hopes of the Detroit Lions with a victory Sunday when the two teams clash in a National Football League scramble before another Briggs Stadium sell-out crowd.

The Bears, who have the league's top runner in Rick Casares and the leading passer in Ed Brown, hold a half-game edge over the Lions in the hectic Western Division race.

Six times in the past nine years the Bears have managed a second-place finish, but a victory Sunday would put them in a commanding position for their first division championship since 1946.

The Lions, with plenty of rest since their Thanksgiving Day loss to Green Bay, are on a comeback binge. Never in the history of the National Football League has a team made the big jump from the bottom to the top.

Detroit finished in the division basement last season with a 3-9 record.

Currently the club has seven wins and two setbacks, and with only three games remaining, a triumph over the Bears would make the Lions the favorites to reclaim the division title they held in 1952-53-54.

From all indications, it will be the Bears' high-powered offense against a stout Detroit defense. The Bears have scored 305 points in winning seven times against one loss and a tie, for a 33.8 average. Detroit has restricted nine opponents to a 14.8 average per game.

Chicago has whipped the Lions in three consecutive meetings. The last Detroit victory was in the 1954 opener.

It was the Bears' passing that pulled out a 17-17 deadlock with the New York Giants last Sunday. Brown and end Earl Hill combined for a 54-yard late in the contest that climaxed Chicago's uphill battle after Bill McColl had connected with Hill on a 79-yard touchdown pass play earlier in the game.

The Giants repelled the Chicago running attack and the Detroit club has been on extra duty this week, preparing for the versatile Bears.

U.S. Team Increases Olympic Lead

MELBOURNE (AP)—America's Olympians stuffed their 19th victory into an already bulging bag of gold, set up another in the demanding decathlon and gave Russia a 30-point whipping in basketball today. But they surrendered the spotlight to the first full-fledged rhubarb of the 1956 Games.

The 3,000-meter steeplechase, which usually manages to produce a surprise, came through in king-sized fashion when rank-outsider Chris Brasher of England won, lost, then won again after hitting the tape a full 15 yards clear in a record-smashing performance. The Olympic jury of honor finally awarded Brasher the gold medal after he had first been announced the winner, then disqualified for interference in favor of Hungary's Sandor Rozsnyoi.

A squabble over the result raged long after Villanova's Charlie Jenkins had rushed home first in the 400-meter run, versatile Milt Campbell and Rafer Johnson had begun opening up a big lead in the decathlon and Bill Russell and Co.

had smothered Russia, 85-55 in another star-spangled display. With the day's finals over, the U.S. led Russia 318 to 219½ in the unofficial team totals.

Brasher's victory, and his spectacular clocking of 8 minutes, 41 and two-tenths seconds—more than four seconds under the Olympic mark set by Horace Ashenfelter in his stunning victory for the U.S. in 1952, was announced to an almost empty stadium three hours after the race was won.

Rozsnyoi, so close to revoluting Hungary's first gold medal of the Games, was second. The only U.S. entry, Charles Jones of Boys Town, Neb., was a well-beaten ninth. Ashenfelter—"I guess I'm just too old"—failed to make it in Tuesday's trials.

Jenkins, whose home is in Cambridge, Mass. and who has done his best running indoors, ignored a bitter, cold wind to win the 400 by a stride from Germany's Karl Haas while world record holder Lou Jones of the U.S. was a disappointing fifth. Jenkins' time, 46.7, eight-tenths off the Games' record.

AP LINEMAN — Big Ron Kramer, Michigan end, was honored as the Associated Press Lineman of the week in his final collegiate football game of his career, for his play against Ohio State last Saturday. The Wolverines won, 19-0, and Kramer also won the shiner he displays.

A sparse crowd saw Spieser win his 19th bout, 14th by a knockout. Bout was nationally televised.

The council momentarily ducked the touchy subject of whether the number of basketball games a school should be allowed to play each year should be increased.

The matter will be thrashed out this afternoon. At present, schools are allowed a limit of 24 games in basketball and football. There may be no more than 24 games in the two sports and a limit of nine in football and 13 in basketball.

Some high school coaches have been pressing for the addition of two more games. Results of a poll taken on the question will be released at the afternoon session.

Even before the poll results were released, there were some objections to it. The council received a letter from the Detroit Suburban High School Principals Roundtable objecting to the fact that the coaches and athletic directors were given equal voice with principals and school superintendents in voting on the matter.

The council postponed until its May meeting a final decision on whether or not there should be a change in the present Class A classifications for sports competition.

It was the 12th gold medal scored by Uncle Sam's track and field squad and the cast for another was forged as Campbell, a former Indiana track and football star from Plainfield, N.J., and Johnson, a UCLA student from Kingsburg, Calif., pulled well ahead of the field in the first day of the decathlon competition.

With four of the day's five events completed, Campbell led with 3,642 points and Johnson was next with 3,475. Pole vault champion Bob Richards of La Verne, Calif., the third U.S. decathlon entry, was well down the list and waiting for his specialty tomorrow to move up.

U.S. swimmer's got off to a big start at the huge glass-enclosed pool. Reid Patterson, an ex-Georgia student from Pineville, Ky., smashed the existing Olympic record in winning a trial heat in the men's 100-meter freestyle in :56.8. Dick Hanley of Evanston, Ill., and Michigan, and Billy Woolsey, a

Kramer Ends College Play as AP Lineman

ANN ARBOR (AP)—For Ron Kramer, a burly lad who has just finished three years of brilliant football for the Michigan Wolverines, this is just the beginning.

Named the Associated Press lineman of the week for his performance last Saturday when the Wolverines routed Ohio State 19-0, Kramer finished a collegiate career that has been stormy and starry too.

Only one year before, against Ohio State, Kramer was accused in print of slugging on the field of play as the Wolverines seemed frantic in desperately fighting off defeat. A special Big Ten report cleared him of the charges, but it took concerted action to do it.

His coaches, who are constantly amazed at his athletic prowess, believed then as now that he was misjudged. They were reluctant to make more of the incident than the momentary storm it created.

But other college officials saw to it that the films of the game were taken to Big Ten committee.

Toronto Drops Into 5th Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Toronto Maple Leafs, seeking to improve their fifth place standing in the National Hockey League, may be bolstered by the return of former captain Ted Kennedy.

Kennedy said today he will attempt a comeback "if it will help the club."

And the Leafs need help. Last night they were dumped into fifth place as the New York Rangers edged the pacesetter Boston Bruins 2-1 in the league's only action. The triumph moved the Rangers into fourth place with 17 points. Toronto has 16.

Kennedy, a star center, for 12 seasons, retired last April. He needs the approval of the five other NHL clubs to be reinstated since the league rules stipulate a player must remain on the voluntarily retired list for at least one year.

Clarence Campbell, NHL president, said he doesn't "force any difficulty" along these lines.

Judy Goodrich Eliminated in Olympic Fencing

MELBOURNE (AP)—Young Judy Goodrich of Lapeer, Mich., lost her opening round foil event today and was eliminated from Olympic competition.

The 17-year-old high school girl was the youngest member of the U. S. fencing team.

Another American, Janice-Lee Romary of Tarzana, Calif., qualified for the finals in Women's foils by splitting even in four bouts.

Kerby Farrell Named New Cleveland Indian Manager

CLEVELAND (AP)—Pleasure teasing his face into an almost constant grin, Kerby Farrell emerged in public last night as the new manager of the Cleveland Indians.

So far as could be learned from him or Hank Greenberg, Cleveland general manager, Farrell, 43, took the job with no definite understanding on either the length of his contract or his salary.

"All I wanted was the chance to manage a big league team, and this was it," said the native of Tennessee who piloted the Indianapolis Indians to baseball's Little World Series championship last fall. "I can't tell you how happy and thrilled I am to get it."

Greenberg's response to questions about Farrell's contract was indirect: "The length of the contract's not the important thing. We wanted Kerby. We think he's the man. We're glad to have him."

A common guess is Farrell will get around $25,000 in his first year as the 16th manager in the American League history of the Indians. His succession to Al Lopez, who quit the Indians last September and later was hired to manage the Chicago White Sox, was formally announced at a press conference in a downtown restaurant. No one was surprised.

Farrell was the first self-declared candidate when Lopez quit after six seasons. And since Greenberg said several weeks ago Leo Durocher would not take over the Indians, the name of Farrell has been about the only one mentioned.

As Cleveland manager, Farrell becomes head of a club that finished the pennant drive second to the New York Yankees last season and was somewhat of a disappointment to its management and fans.

Indianapolis last season won the American Assn. pennant and swept the Little World Series from Rochester in four games. Farrell also guided the club to a pennant in 1954.

Bloomington, Ind. (AP)—Indiana University today began looking for a new football coach and more talented football players—and went ahead with plans for a giant new stadium.

Bernie Crimmins, who left the backfield coaching job at Notre Dame to try to revive I. U. football, resigned yesterday after five losing seasons.

The red-haired Louisville Irishman, who shifted from backfield to guard on Notre Dame's undefeated 1941 team, said—in effect—that five years of being out-gunned and out-lucked at Indiana was enough. During that span he won 13 games and lost 32.

The father of five children said he had no future plans but he was resigning in hope that "somebody else can get the ball to bouncing the right way."

Frank E. Allen, I.U. athletic director, went before the Indianapolis Downtown Quarterbacks Club, shortly after Crimmins resigned, and asserted that he was "not ready to quit."

Allen, a career school administrator, said every Big Ten school has had better athletic facilities than Indiana.

Declines Texas Offer

Munn Remains at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP)—Clarence (Biggie) Munn, Michigan State Athletic Director, said today he was crossing himself off the list of those interested in the joint football coaching-athletic director job at the University of Texas.

Texas scouts have been in touch with "them," both at the MSU campus and by telephone, talking up the job. They recently started talking cash and terms.

Munn said he had asked that he be eliminated from consideration.

"Throughout the past 10 years, with many offers of other jobs coming my way," Munn said, "my loyalty to Michigan State has been unflinching. I have a big undertaking here in the athletic plant expansion and planning and I am most happy with it."

"However, I do want to express my appreciation to the Texas people for the consideration accorded me and their interest."

U.S. Team Eliminated

Bloomfield Gets Two Mentioned

Almont Has 2 on AP 'C' 11

By DAVE DILES
Michigan AP Sports Editor

Four fabulous backs whose scoring feats border on the fantastic feature the Associated Press Class

C high school all-state football team for 1956.

It is doubtful if any quartet of backs in the 15-year history of the AP selections ever skyrocketed to such scoring heights. Assembled on one gridiron—Carl Charon of Boyne City, Bill Knapp of Hudson, Alex Iloncaie of Almont and Duane Taylor of Corunna—could total 76 touchdowns and 477 points over the season's route.

And three of the four are juniors!

There was hardly a flicker of discussion as the four were nominated for the dream team by a panel of AP member sports writers who gathered in all-day session to sift through the more than 300 ballots from high school coaches the state over.

Charon scored 153 points for the Boyne City club that compiled a perfect record in eight games and won the North Michigan C league championship. He averaged more than 12 yards a try and gained 1416 yards.

Carl—whose grades are in the high "B" category—scored 23 touchdowns and added 15 extra points.

Knapp scored 164 points on 24 touchdowns and 2 conversions for the undefeated varsity Hudson crew. A three-year varsity star, Knapp gained 1,344 yards rushing for a 12.5 average and used his speed and agility for a batch of long touchdown runs.

Iloncaie's team suffered just one deadlock in eight games, and Alex scored 18 touchdowns for 108 points.

There's plenty of talent in the line to go with this dazzling backfield. So point-happy is the collection of stars that the first-string ends—Larry Miller of Oscoda and Larry Kersten of Almont—collected 100 points between them!

'Dead' Bear Comes to Life

HESEL, Mich. (U.S.) — Next time, William Nye Jr. of Hessel won't be in such a hurry to unload his gun and claim his prize.

Hunting yesterday with a Detroit area friend, Roy Washburn of Centerline, he was stalking deer in the upper Michigan woods near Hessel. He and Washburn separated working out a gunfire code to call one another.

Later Nye saw something back in the underbrush. It was a 410 pound male black bear. With his first shot, Nye dropped the animal and fired two more shots to call Washburn.

With Washburn alerted but still minutes away, Nye walked over to the fallen animal carrying an empty gun. Whereupon the supposedly dead bear began to get up with fire in its eyes. Nye, working feverishly, managed to load his gun in time and finish off the bear, which he presented to Washburn as a souvenir.

Broadcasters Are Rejected by Prep Body

MARTB's Plea to Stop Commercial Fees Turned Down by State Council

LANSING (U.S.) — The state high school athletic council has rejected a request of Michigan broadcasters that it stop charging for commercial broadcasts of state high school basketball tournament games.

Gordon Jenkins, representing the Michigan Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, said the group felt it should be allowed to report the games free and should be treated the same way as newspapers and wire services.

"Newspapers also carry advertising, but because radio stations have advertising to make a go of it, you want part of the fee," Jenkins said.

Radio stations, Jenkins said, give year-around free publicity to high school sports events and then are unfairly charged a fee when they want to charge for the tournament.

The council, rejecting his plea, voted to continue its present policy which allows free broadcast of a game on a non-commercial basis but requires a fee when the game is broadcast with a commercial sponsor.

Charles E. Forsythe, state high school athletic director, noted in connection with the question that a recent Colorado court decision held that individual schools and the State Athletic Association had a right to charge for the broadcasting of their sports events.

The association realized about $4,000 from radio broadcasts of the tournament games last year. Forsythe said. He added that most of this was eaten up by expenses and said the fee mostly amounted to a service charge.

The council also was told that a study of nearby states showed that 11 of 17 of the states contacted charged for commercial sports broadcasts.

Forsythe told the council that this year, for the first time, the association had been approached by a television station with the idea of televising the tournament finals. Forsythe said the proposal was not far enough along to allow naming of the station.

Chief Cagers Move Into Gear

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

With the season opener just a few days hence, Pontiac High School basketball coach Art Van Ryzin has moved the team into high gear with daily scrimmage sessions hoping to find the starting combination which takes the floor against Detroit Catholic Central next Tuesday.

"We've got to pick up more speed on the court, and we need a lot more work on defense," said Van Ryzin.

The Chiefs will have three regulars in the lineup from the 1955 squad which won 13 of 19 games, including a setback by next Tuesday's opponent in the state quarter-finals last years.

Leading Pontiac's attack will be 6-5 Junior Hudson Ray along with veteran guards Dave Diehm and Larry Peet.

Ray will carry the burden of the team's rebounding and he is expected to be a more serious scoring threat from the pivot.

Coach Van Ryzin however has been working with Ray in effort to polish his defensive game.

Diehm, who was one the team's best outside shots last year, and Peet have shown mid-season form in their floor play, although Peet has not been able to hit the hoop with too much consistency as yet.

"He'll start hitting before long and when he does we will be tough from the outside," said Van Ryzin.

Last season Peet suffered a fractured ankle late in the season and his absence during the tournament sessions was a big loss for the Chiefs.

The big problem for Pontiac is up front where the losses of all-star Willie DeWalt and Rod Treals have to be filled.

Another loss came as result of an injury several weeks ago to Terry Zellhart, a 6-2 senior, who was being groomed to fill one of the forward posts. Zellhart suffered a leg injury and will be out of action indefinitely.

Presently Dick Whitmer, 6-2, Roosevelt Alexander, 6-4, John Bundy 6-0 and Dick McLaughlin, 6-2, have been alternating at the starting forward posts.

Alexander, a lanky sophomore, has shown promise and his presence would give Pontiac valuable height. But inexperience shows and Van Ryzin is hoping Alexander will smooth out as the season progresses.

Whitmer, who recently shed his football 'togs, could nail down the other forward slot, as could Bundy, but in either instance the speed up front is lacking.

Tuesday's home opener against Catholic Central should put the Chiefs in the right frame of mind, remembering that twice they beat the Shamrocks last year only to be eliminated from the state tourney in a third meeting.

Celtics Win Again, Boost League Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics with more stars than a television spectacular, have moved four-and-one-half games in front of the National Basketball Assn's Eastern Division.

With Jim Loscutoff moving in to the take charge role and Tom Heinsohn and Bill Sharman in support the Celtics defeated the Minneapolis Lakers 105-93 last night. It was their seventh consecutive victory.

Loscutoff, with 12 field goals, pumped in 26 points as Heinsohn and Sharman each hit for 24. Bill Cousy contributed 13.

Argument for Raise

Newk Wins Young Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Don Newcombe was all set today to argue his case for a sizeable salary increase, armed with irrefutable ammunition consisting of the Cy Young Memorial Award added to his National League's most valuable player prize.

The huge Brooklyn righthander, who was slated to hold a salary confab with Dodge vice-president E. J. (Buzze) Bavasi this afternoon, was honored for the second time in a little over a week yesterday when he became the first winner of the annual award given to the outstanding pitcher of both major leagues.

The latest accolade is awarded in the memory of Denton (Cy) Young, immortal Hall of Fame pitcher who won 511 major league games.

Newcombe had been voted his league's MVP award Nov. 20, becoming the first pitcher to gain this honor since Jim Konstanty of the Philadelphia Phillies in 1950.

Newcombe received 10 of the 16 votes from a special committee of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America, consisting of representatives of each of the 16 big league clubs. Sal Maglie, Don's pitching mate with the Dodgers, was runner-up, just as he was in the MVP voting, with four votes. One vote each was given to southpaws Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves and Eddie (Whitey) Ford of the New York Yankees.

The writers considered only Newcombe's regular season work during which time he won 27 games while losing seven. He was the Dodgers' biggest winner since Dazzy Vance won 28 in 1924. Newcombe's ineffective hurling against the Yankees in the World Series was not taken into account.

"I'm overwhelmed," was all the 235-pound, 6-4 pitcher could say when he was informed by telephone in his home in Colonia, N.J. of his second honor. "No one could possibly realize what these honors mean to me. They'll just make me work all the harder next year."

Campanella's Thumb Undergoing Surgery

BROOKLYN (AP)—Catcher Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers enters Long Island College Hospital today for surgery, hoping history will repeat itself.

Campanella, three times the National League's most valuable player, will have bone chips removed from his right thumb by Dr. Herbert Fett, who performed two previous operations on Campanella's left hand. The operation is scheduled for tomorrow.

Hampered throughout the season by the damaged thumb, Campanella hit for a .219 average with 20 home runs and 73 runs batted in.

Campanella had an even poorer year in 1954 but after corrective surgery bounced back to hit .318, with 32 homers and 107 RBIs the following season. He climaxed the comeback by winning his third MVP award.

Lake Orion - Troy, Northville Stronger

Oakland B, W-O Defending Champs Hurting

The winners of the Oakland B and Wayne-Oakland basketball races for the 1956-57 season won't be known until March. But one thing seems certain—the defending champions will have trouble repeating.

Fitzgerald, last season's Oakland B League titlist, and Milford, defending Wayne-Oakland Conference champion, are hurting before the schedule begins. Both teams were riddled by graduation and the outlook is not rosy.

Norm Pruitt and a handful of other stalwarts departed at Fitzgerald, leaving Bob Bush as the lone returning regular. High-scoring Jim Davidson, Fred Baker and Jim Green left the Milford ranks to sadly deplete the Redskin forces.

Graduation has also taken its toll at Madison and Avondale, strong Oakland B title contenders a year ago. Madison lost sharp-shooting Jim Simer while Avondale saw the departure of Jerry Paul, Larry Herron and Sam Sheehy.

Avondale's hopes will rest on the shoulders of Dwight Moulton and Ken Sheehy plus three other letter winners who saw limited action last season. Madison's big gun looks like Harold Perkins, the Eagles' No. 2 scorer a season ago.

Prospects are better at Lake Orion and Troy, league doormats in 1955-56. The Dragons and the Colts are rated strong contenders in league circles.

The return of Jim Drake and Nick Niera, Lake Orion's top point-makers last season, along with Ralph MacLachlan and Dave Golladay, offers encouraging signs. Troy's hopes will be built around 6-1 forward Slim Acton and 6-2 center Don Killwald.

Forward Larry Dorr will be the ringleader of Clawson's attack, which is bound to suffer from the loss of Tom Trexler. Len Martyniak's graduation removes a dangerous scoring threat at Roseville.

Clarkston's chances in the

Wayne-Oakland circuit, will be handicapped by a lack of height. The Wolves' attack will revolve around guards George Lang and Leroy Parks and center Dick Lippert, whose 6-2 frame provides their only rebounding strength.

West Bloomfield will also be fighting a height disadvantage. Returning letter winners are

Big Field Tees Off in Pro-Am Tourney

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A host of professional golfers and many amateurs including Bing Crosby and bandleader Phil Harris tee off today in an 18-hole pro-am golf tournament which is a prelude to the $10,000 West Palm Beach Open which starts tomorrow.

About 130 professional golfers, including Sam Snead, Ed Furgol, Doug Ford, Jack Fleck, Ed Oliver, Bob Toski and Dow Finsterwald, are here to compete in the $10,000 main tournament. The city upped the purse from $5,000 this year.

Brian Watson and Herb Snyder, Brighton's twin scoring punch last season, lift hopes for the Bulldogs. Dave Hanaford and Dale Devitt head a veteran-thin contingent at Clarenceville.

Northville could be the No. 1 power in the W-O loop if rangy Clayton Pethers gets into the lineup. Pethers broke his leg during football and his status is uncertain. In the meantime, the lead will rest with Bud Bell and Bill Yahn.

Clarkston's chances in the

U. S. Cagers Trim Soviets

MELBOURNE (INS) — Uncle Sam's tall and talented basketball men crushed Russia's press-agented Olympic boys, 85 to 55, today, despite a meager half-time lead.

The Soviets had held America's undefeated Melbourne five to a seven-point lead, 39 to 32, by the half.

Then K. C. Jones of the University of San Francisco opened the whirlwind by scoring three fast baskets, including two set shots. Bob Jeangard also dumped in three to give the U. S. a 19-point lead.

The Russian's big but unswift Ian Kroumich, who stands seven feet, two inches high, did not play in the semi-final contest. Arkadii Botchkarev led the Reds and scored 21 points to wind up high man of the game.

MSU Pins Hope on Sophomores for Puck Squad

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State is hoping that a bunch of scrappy sophomores, mostly Canadian imports, will lift the Spartans out of their hockey doldrums this year.

MSU opens its ice season Friday and Saturday nights with a twin bill against North Dakota at Grand Forks, N.D.

The Spartans had a 5-16 win and loss record last year and were last in the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League.

Return of the two leading scorers from last year helps the hopes of coach Arno Besonne.

Ross Parke of Winnipeg, Man., leading scorer last season with 15 goals and 21 assists for 36 points and Gene Grazia of West Springfield, Mass., second with 23 points, will lead the attack.

Wildlife Session Dec. 10

LANSING (AP) — Some 500 wildlife specialists from eight or more states are expected to attend the 18th Midwest Wildlife Conference Dec. 10-12 in Lansing.

Patterson's Hopes Rest on Surviving Early Test

CHICAGO (AP)—If Floyd Patterson can take a punch, Archie Moore may be in trouble tomorrow night when the world's heavyweight boxing title goes up for grabs at Chicago Stadium.

Patterson, 21, can be hit, and has been. Only once, however, has he been floored. That was by Jacques Royer-Crety July 12, 1954, Floyd's 15th pro bout.

"This fellow hit Floyd on the back with a right," recalls C. D'Amato, manager of the 1952 Olympic middleweight champion. "I insisted it was a slip. But Floyd told me, and the press, that it wasn't — that he was knocked down. Anyway, Floyd got right up. He knocked out Royer-Crety in the seventh."

Most of the others who have hit Patterson were feather dusters compared to the power-packed Moore, who in 20 years of sledding has won 131 fights out of 156 and scored 90 knockouts.

In being steered through 31 matches against a wide assortment of opponents by the crafty "pick-the-spot" handling of D'Amato, Patterson has lost only once while growing up to heavyweight proportions. That was a disputed eight-round decision to Joey Maxim before he took on Royer-Crety.

Most experts feel Moore will get a chance to test Floyd's chin early in the scheduled 15-rounder, which is being home televised and broadcast, NBC, 10 p.m. EST, with Chicago and a 150-mile radius blacked out.

"If Moore hits Patterson early and the kid survives, then Moore is in trouble," one observer said. "Patterson then will come on, and his speed and lightning-fast punches will have Moore in hot water."

"But if Moore hits Patterson and hurts him, then he can call his own shots. I think Moore will try to hurt him early."

Patterson is a jolting hitter, who can rain punches with either hand

but is not considered a one-punch knockout artist despite his record of 21 kayoes.

He figures to enter the ring weighing 182-183 pounds. The most he ever carried before was 181 when he polished off Dave Whitlock in three rounds, Sept. 29, 1955.

Moore plans to come in at about 185. The official weigh-in will be at Chicago Stadium at noon tomorrow.

Feller Through, Hank Indicates

Cleveland Hurler Faces Release After 20 Years With Club

CLEVELAND (AP)—General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians indicated today that Bob Feller would soon be given his release after 20 years as a pitcher for the Indians.

Greenberg and Feller conferred over the weekend in Hartford, Conn., where the general manager had a speaking engagement and Feller is attending an insurance school.

"We have offered him a very attractive job with us which would give him a chance to learn the baseball business from the front office," Greenberg said today. "With his ability, this could lead to an important executive position, but he doesn't seem particularly interested."

Greenberg said Feller gave him the feeling that he still wants to pitch "and would like to prove he can next spring with some club."

Hillsdale Places 4 on All-MIAA Team

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Hillsdale's champion Dales placed four men, runnerup Kalamazoo three on the All-MIAA football team announced today by the league.

The ends are Andy Kincannon of Hillsdale, Leon Harper of Adrian and Vic Landeryou of Kalamazoo; tackles Warren Spragg of Hillsdale, and Phil Perry of Kalamazoo; guards Dave Trippett of Hillsdale, Phil Katsas of Albion and Julius Cantos of Hope; center Eric Sundek of Alma.

In the five-man backfield are Bob Urschaltz of Kalamazoo, Bill McNally of Olivet, Dave Kuyers of Hope, Jim Hurd of Albion and Nate Clark of Hillsdale.

Dick Dunkel's COLLEGE FOOTBALL POWER INDEX

Power Index ratings are post performance averages. Example: a 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team, against equally rated opposition.

By DICK DUNKEL

Never an old fashioned cadence, the Army-Navy game this year ought to be a head-knocker to rank with the best in this ancient series.

There's only one-tenth of a point difference in their Power Index ratings.

Oddly enough they've arrived at this 50-50 status by two widely different routes. Army has traveled the rocky road, against such toughies as Michigan, Syracuse, Pitt, and Penn State. Navy's strongest opponents have been Tulane and Duke. That takes the steam out of Navy's better record of 6-1-1 compared to Army's 5-2.

In covering 188 games this season to date, the Power Index has indicated winners correctly in 71.3 per cent, omitting the 11-11 tie between the difference-makers from the record, between opponents in other big games of the coming week-end.

Thursday: Texas A & M 24 over Texas.

Saturday: Oklahoma 34 over Okla. A & M. Tennessee 19 over Vanderbilt. So. California 13 over Notre Dame. Baylor 7 over Rice, & Auburn 7 over Alabama.

Lake Orion - Troy, Northville Stronger

Oakland B, W-O Defending Champs Hurting

The winners of the Oakland B and Wayne-Oakland basketball races for the 1956-57 season won't be known until March. But one thing seems certain—the defending champions will have trouble repeating.

Fitzgerald, last season's Oakland B League titlist, and Milford, defending Wayne-Oakland Conference champion, are hurting before the schedule begins. Both teams were riddled by graduation and the outlook is not rosy.

Norm Pruitt and a handful of other stalwarts departed at Fitzgerald, leaving Bob Bush as the lone returning regular. High-scoring Jim Davidson, Fred Baker and Jim Green left the Milford ranks to sadly deplete the Redskin forces.

Graduation has also taken its toll at Madison and Avondale, strong Oakland B title contenders a year ago. Madison lost sharp shooting Jim Simer while Avondale saw the departure of Jerry Paul, Larry Herron and Sam Sheehy.

Avondale's hopes will rest on the shoulders of Dwight Moulton and Ken Sheehy plus three other letter winners who saw limited action last season. Madison's big gun looks like Harold Perkins, the Eagles' No. 2 scorer a season ago.

Prospects are better at Lake Orion and Troy, league doormats in 1955-56. The Dragons and the Colts are rated strong contenders in league circles.

The return of Jim Drake and Nick Niera, Lake Orion's top top-makers last season, along with Ralph MacLachlan and Dave Golladay, offers encouraging signs. Troy's hopes will be built around 6-1 forward Sim Acton and 6-2 center Don Killwald.

Forward Larry Dorr will be the ringleader of Clawson's attack, which is bound to suffer from the loss of Tom Trexler. Len Martyniak's graduation removes a dangerous scoring threat at Roseville.

Clarkston's chances in the

Wayne-Oakland circuit will be handicapped by a lack of height. The Wolves' attack will revolve around guards George Lang and Leroy Parks and center Dick Lippert, whose 6-2 frame provides their only rebounding strength.

West Bloomfield will also be fighting a height disadvantage. Returning letter winners are

Big Field Tees Off in Pro-Am Tourney

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A host of professional golfers and many amateurs including Bing Crosby and bandleader Phil Harris tee off today in an 18-hole pro-am golf tournament which is a prelude to the $10,000 West Palm Beach Open which starts tomorrow.

John Lucadami, Larry Hollister and Ray LeFratt, sophomore center George McDaniel, who stands 6-5, and Rolfe Harms, Jack Rhoades and Amos Bradsher boost title hopes at Holly.

Brian Watson and Herb Snyder, Brighton's twin scoring punch last season, lift hopes for the Bulldogs. Dave Hanaford and Dale Devitt head a veteran-thin contingent at Clarenceville.

Northville could be the No. power in the W-O loop if rangy Clayton Pethers gets into the lineup. Pethers broke his leg during football and his status is uncertain. In the meantime, the lead will rest with Bud Bell and Bill Yahne.

Forward Larry Dorr will be the ringleader of Clawson's attack, which is bound to suffer from the loss of Tom Trexler. Len Martyniak's graduation removes a dangerous scoring threat at Roseville.

U. S. Cagers Trim Soviets

MELBOURNE (INS) — Uncle Sam's tall and talented basketball men crushed Russia's press-agented Olympic boys, 85 to 55, today, despite a meager half-time lead.

The Soviets had held America's undefeated Melbourne five to a seven-point lead, 39 to 32, by the half.

Then K. C. Jones of the University of San Francisco opened the whirligig by scoring three fast baskets, including two set shots. Bob Jeagerard also dumped in three to give the U. S. a 19-point lead.

The Russian's big but unswift Ian Kroumlich, who stands seven feet, two inches high, did not play

BOX SCORE

Totals: 26 15 55. Officials: Strach, Australia, Soaki, Japan. Free throws missed: Russia 3, United States 1.

MSU Pins Hope on Sophomores for Puck Squad

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State is hoping that a bunch of scrappy sophomores, mostly Canadian imports, will lift the Spartans out of their hockey doldrums this year.

MSU opens its ice season Friday and Saturday nights with a twin bill against North Dakota at Grand Forks, N.D.

The Spartans had a 5-16 win and loss record last year and were last in the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League.

Return of the two leading scorers from last year helps the hopes of coach Arno Bessone. Ross Parke of Winnipeg, Man., leading scorer last season with 15 goals and 21 assists for 36 points and Gene Grazia of West Springfield, Mass., second with 23 points, will lead the attack.

Wildlife Session Dec. 10

LANSING (AP)—Some 500 wildlife specialists from eight or more states are expected to attend the 18th Midwest Wildlife Conference Dec. 10-12 in Lansing.

Patterson's Hopes Rest on Surviving Early Test

CHICAGO (AP)—If Floyd Patterson can take a punch, Archie Moore may be in trouble tomorrow night when the world's heavyweight boxing title goes up for grabs at Chicago Stadium.

Patterson, 21, can be hit, and has been. Only once, however, has he been floored. That was by Jacques Royer-Crety July 12, 1954, Floyd's 15th pro bout.

"This fellow hit Floyd on the back with a right," recalls Cus D'Amato, manager of the 1952 Olympic middleweight champion. "I insisted it was a slip. But Floyd told me, and the press, that it wasn't — that he was knocked down. Anyway, Floyd got right up. He knocked out Royer-Crety in the seventh."

Most of the others who have hit Patterson were feather dusters compared to the power-packed Moore, who in 20 years of sledding has won 131 fights out of 156 and scored 90 knockouts.

In being steered through 31 matches against a wide assortment of opponents by the crafty "pick-the-spot" handling of D'Amato, Patterson has lost only once while growing up to heavyweight proportions. That was a disputed eight-round decision to Joey Maxim before he took on Royer-Crety.

Most experts feel Moore will get a chance to test Floyd's chin early in the scheduled 15-rounder, which is being home televised and broadcast, NBC, 10 p.m. EST, with Chicago and a 150-mile radius blacked out.

"If Moore hits Patterson early and the kid survives, then Moore is in trouble," one observer said. "Patterson then will come on, and his speed and lightning-fast punches will have Moore in hot water. But if Moore hits Patterson and hurts him, then he can call his own shots. I think Moore will try to hurt him early."

but is not considered a one-punch knockout artist despite his record of 21 kayoes.

He figures to enter the ring weighing 182-183 pounds. The most he ever carried before was 181 when he polished off Dave Whitlock in three rounds, Sept. 29, 1955.

Moore plans to come in at about 185. The official weigh-in will be at Chicago Stadium at noon tomorrow.

Feller Through, Hank Indicates

Cleveland Hurler Faces Release After 20 Years With Club

CLEVELAND (AP)—General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians indicated today that Bob Feller would soon be given his release after 20 years as a pitcher for the Indians.

Greenberg and Feller conferred over the weekend in Hartford, Conn., where the general manager had speaking engagements and Feller is attending an insurance school.

"We have offered him a very attractive job with us which would give him a chance to learn the baseball business from the front office," Greenberg said today. "With his ability, this could lead to an important executive position, but he doesn't seem particularly interested."

Greenberg said Feller gave him the feeling that he still wants to pitch "and would like to prove he can next spring with some club."

Hillsdale Places 4 on All-MIAA Team

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Hillsdale's champion Dales placed four men, runner-up Kalamazoo three on the All-MIAA football team announced today by the league.

The ends are Andy Kincannon of Hillsdale, Leon Harper of Adrian and Vic Landeryou of Kalamazoo; tackles Warren Spragg of Hillsdale and Phil Perry of Kalamazoo; guards Dave Trippett of Hillsdale, Phil Kaitzas of Albion and Julius Cantos of Hope; center Eric Sundek of Alma.

In the five-man backfield are Bob Urschaltz of Kalamazoo, Bill McNally of Olivet, Dave Kuyers of Hope, Jim Hurd of Albion and Nate Clark of Hillsdale.

Dick Dunkel's College Football Power Index

Power Index ratings are past performance averages. Example: a 50.0 team has been 10 scoring points stronger, per game, than a 40.0 team, against equally rated opposition.

By DICK DUNKEL

Never an old fashioned cadence, the Army-Navy game this year ought to be a head-knocker to rank with the best in this ancient series.

There's only one-tenth of a point difference in their Power Index ratings.

Oddly enough they've arrived at this 50-50 status by two widely different routes. Army has traveled the roadster road, against such toughies as Michigan, Syracuse, Pitt, and Penn State. Navy's strongest opponents have been Tulane, California 15 over Notre Dame, Baylor 7 over Rice, and Auburn 7 over Alabama.

Farmington to Appoint Coordinator for Township Water

Moore Submits Bill for $5,950

Board Sets Meet With Planners Dec. 10 to Study Regulation

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Township Board here agreed this week to appoint a coordinator for subdivision water systems which the township is expected to take over early next year.

A candidate was mentioned for the post, but no decision was contemplated.

The move followed a remark by Mrs. Elise Avery, "We have to do something to straighten out this mess," referring to confusion resulting from water system problems.

The board agreed to meet sometime in December with Joseph Lynch, receiver for the water system in section 36 of the township, to discuss in detail means of gaining the control of the system.

It has been in receivership since 1949.

A proposal by the planning for subdivision regulations was tabled because all board members except Mrs. Elise Avery objected to the wording of the rule.

The board will meet with the planning board and planning consultants on Dec. 10, to study a revised version of the regulation.

Members accepted the lowest bid on the construction of a vault at the town hall. It will be built onto the building with a door opening into the town hall's central room.

The contract went to Henry Stamper Contractors for $1,150. A contribution of $300 to the Goodfellow fund also was approved.

Judge Arthur E. Moore submitted an itemized statement for $5,950 for his work on the proposed water system for the township's dry area.

Floyd A. Cairns, township clerk, reported that to date the township had spent $1,279 working on the proposed water system besides funds that forthcoming bills might require.

The board passed a traffic ordinance under which share of the money from "court costs" collected from people in justice court would be returned to the township.

At present they go into the state library fund, Cairns says.

Add Art Program at Oxford Schools

OXFORD—One of the first curriculum changes for the recently consolidated Oxford Area schools has been the addition of an art program for all elementary schools in the district.

Only the Daniel Axford and Oxford High School have previously had such a program, with Ruth Williams, their instructor, supervising the new courses.

Mrs. Fred Gilliam has been assigned as art instructor for the Leonard, Lakeville, and Thomas schools. Although she is a qualified art teacher, she has been teaching kindergarten in the Daniel Axford School.

Mrs. Robert Green of Lake Orion will take over Mrs. Gilliam's kindergarten class.

Donors Get Rebates!

ST. JOSEPH — Something new in fund collections—rebates—is being made by the St. Joseph Improvement Assn. The group solicited $19,375 from 95 contributors to help acquire land for a new company to build a plant in the city. Some 29.8 per cent of the total was not needed, so $5,758 is being returned to donors.

Lakevillers Look to Aids in Study, Music, Lunches

LAKEVILLE — The Lakeville School can look for standardized curriculum, books, and testing, an expanded music program, special aids, new buildings, and hot lunch facilities for commuting students because of the Oxford consolidation, PTA members were told recently.

Already accomplished under the eight-point program outlined by Tom Culbert, elementary administrator of the Oxford Community Schools, are an art program providing a visiting art teacher to hold weekly classes, and a library of about 400 film strips available for visual education.

Aids that will be available will include speech, hearing, and health features, he explained.

Ruth Williams, Oxford art supervisor, was introduced and talked briefly on art's importance in the curriculum, pointing out the aid derived by the individual student in self expression and thought.

Mrs. Fred Gilliam of Leonard, who will take over the weekly art classes under the new program, was also introduced.

Reds Pay, Say Czechs

LONDON (INS) — The Czech Communist Party newspaper has denied that Russia pays bargain basement prices for Czechoslovakia's precious uranium. On the contrary, Rude Pravo said, "we are receiving in return more than the world price—the safety of the republic as well as the possibility of quick development of Czech science."

Oil Crisis Seen as Red Weapon

Russia's Petroleum May Placate Europe Shut Off From Mideast Supply

MOSCOW (U)—Developments in the Middle East have given the Soviet Union a new political weapon for possible use in oil-hungry Europe.

Russian petroleum production, it has been officially announced here, will reach 86 million metric tons this year. Only about a quarter of U.S. production and about one half as much as that of combined Middle Eastern countries. Russia's output is by far the largest of any European country.

In Paris, spokesmen for the French Ministry of Industry and trade said today the Soviet Union had offered to increase her oil shipments to France from 20,000 tons monthly to 100,000.

The spokesman said the negotiations are still under way and the figures are approximate. He said it was almost certain that the offer would be accepted but that even so it amounted "to a drop in the bucket" of France's needs because of the Suez crisis.

HIGH IMPORTS

France imported about 23 million tons annually from the Middle East prior to the current crisis.

The spokesman said the Russian offer was within the framework of other trade agreements reached by the two countries last year.

(WASHINGTON)—State Department officials have expressed doubt that Russian oil shipments could help Western Europe meet its enormous needs while the Suez Canal is blocked.

Movie Glory Isn't Enough to Satisfy Jack Lemmon

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (U)—Most movie stars are a study in frustration. Few seem content with their lot. They want to be directors, producers, writers, business executives, resort owners, artists—anything but just plain actors. Jack Lemmon is a case in point.

Now Lemmon has been hailed as the greatest new master of light comedy since Cary Grant graduated from juveniles. The lad even drew an Oscar for his pains as the scatterbrained Ens. Pulver in "Master Roberts."

But does that satisfy him. Oh, no. He's got to be a songwriter.

"Until recently, I was the world's most frustrated songwriter," he declared. "I guess I've written a hundred songs and hundreds of melodies. I even wrote the score for a Broadway musical—which was never produced. I've never even had a song published—until now."

That's when his eyes light up. Success is finally his!

Columbia needed a theme for "Fire Down Below," in which Lemmon stars with Rita Hayworth and Robert Mitchum. Lemmon had played some of his works for Jonie Tappes, head of music matters at the studio. When someone suggested Lemmon compose a theme, Tappes said okay.

Recently the Lemmon theme was recorded at the studio by Morris Stoloff. It is hoped that the tune will do as well as Stoloff's "Picnic" theme, a solid hit with the juke box crowd.

"I went over to the stage when they were recording," Lemmon enthused. "I never had such a good time in my life. Even winning the Oscar didn't give me as big a thrill."

I asked him about his musical background. He explained he took piano lessons as a youngster. But like so many others, he forgot everything he learned.

Despite his acting success, he still harbored the songwriting urge.

"It's a terrific outlet for me," he commented. "If I go for two or three days without touching a piano, I start getting uneasy. Usually when I get home at night from a party, I'll sit down and play for an hour or two. It's a great relaxer."

Luxury Gloves Make Gift of Elegance

The Leather Glove Producers of France suggest that every lady should have a pair of luxury gloves for Christmas if they're ladies who don't want something strictly utilitarian but a gift that is personal and elegant.

They don't refer to the French leather glove "classics" women buy for themselves season-in-season-out... but to the embroidered, jeweled, spangled, flowered, laced beauties that are decorative and romantic.

These run a little higher in price, naturally, than plain gloves... that's why women wait till Christmas to get them. But they're in a class with ermine wraps, real jewelry, and fine French perfume and don't cost nearly as much.

Doorbells will ring tonight as volunteer marchers for Muscular Dystrophy seek funds for their cause in Pontiac.

Over 100 marchers will be stationed in all sections of the city to visit residents between 7 and 9 p.m.

Funds collected tonight will go to about 15 research agencies seeking the cause and cure of the weakening malady which first renders its victims to wheel chairs and then to their beds, completely helpless.

One fourth of the money will go to Detroit Memorial Hospital which supports a muscular dystrophy clinic for area victims.

Union Seeking Ban on Picket Picketing

OKLAHOMA CITY (U)—An Oklahoma City labor organization went to court to stop a picket from picketing its picket.

The Building and Construction Trades Council complained in federal court that a spare picket showed up at a construction project here and began following one of its own sign-bearers.

Council attorneys said Dennis Boyles, not further identified, had ordered the man to trail the council picket, carrying a sign saying: "Forced Labor Tactics are Communist."

Judge W. R. Wallace issued a temporary restraining order halting the picket picketer.

Self-Service Thief Held

PORT HURON (U)—William Strabel, 35, of Port Huron was held for investigation of breaking and entering Thursday after he turned in a wrist watch to a jewelry store that had been robbed of $3,000 in jewelry. Strabel told Police Chief Virgil James that he had picked the watch out of the window of the already broken into store. He said he did not break into the store.

SYDNEY, Australia (INS)—The visiting Duke of Edinburgh drove by without batting an eye yesterday as an onlooker shouted abuse at the husband of Queen Elizabeth II and made threatening gestures.

Float With Greatest of Ease 8-Ton Tractor, Toothbrush Parachuted to South Pole

By DON GUY

McMURDO SOUND, Antarctica. — An eight-ton tractor and a toothbrush floated gently down to the South Pole today.

They were dropped to 19 Americans building a U.S. scientific outpost for use in the International Geophysical Year program.

The tractor, dropped on three 100-foot parachutes from 2,000 feet, will be used to speed construction.

The toothbrush, wrapped in towel and tied to a bundle of oil drums, will be used by Sgt. Richard J. Patton, 31-year-old St. Louisan who made history's first parachute jump to the Pole Sunday.

day. He had radioed that he got to pack a toothbrush.

The tractor made a perfect landing and was observed in operation shortly after touching down.

Lt. Richard A. Bowers of Quonset, R.I., and Harrisburg, Pa., leader of the Seabee ground party, messaged that all was well. He said his group was spending its first night at the pole in a heated building. The workers set up a portable wood frame building covered with insulated fabric. It is heated by an oil stove. The task force had been using tiny survival tents.

The Air Force Globemaster which made the tractor drop plowed into a snowbank when landing and blocked the 6,000-foot ice strip at this base for a time. None of the 17 men aboard the plane, the State of Tennessee, was hurt. The plane was piloted by Col. H. A. Crosswell of Atlanta and Miami. The plane's nose wheel collapsed when it set down, causing it to skid into the snowbank.

Lt. Jack Tuck of Auburn, Mass., second in command, volunteered to stay over there as head of eight Navy men for the winter. It will be the second antarctic winter for the 24-year-old Dartmouth graduate. He spent last winter here at McMurdo.

Market Prices Drift Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices drifted lower in moderately active stock market trading early today.

Key issues were off from fractions to a point.

No pressure appeared in any major division of the list. There were a few scattered gains.

The market was still laboring under the effects of the tight money and high interest rate situation, foreign uncertainties, tax-loss selling for the year-end and irregularity in the nation's business picture, brokers said.

Losses of a point or so were taken by American Cyanamid, United Aircraft, DuPont and Boeing.

Declines of a major fraction hit Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Sinclair and Kennecott Copper.

Smaller fractional losses were taken by International Harvester, Phelps Dodge, International Nickel, Union Carbide, General Electric, American Can, American Tobacco, New York Central, Texas Co. and Gulf Oil.

Small gains were posted by Phillips, Douglas Aircraft, International Paper and Johns-Manville.

Opening blocks included U. S. Steel unchanged at 87 1/4 on 4,000 shares, Gulf Oil up 1/4 at 101 1/4 on 2,000, National Distillers off 1/4 at 25 on 1,500 and Ford off 1/4 at 37 1/2 on 1,200.

STOCK RACE CHAMP—Among the highlights of the New York Automobile Show next month will be the Chrysler 300-C which will make its public debut featuring a 375-horsepower engine, dual headlights and high-rate torsion bar suspension for flat cornering.

The powerful auto smashed the stock car record at the Chrysler Proving Grounds, Chelsea, by averaging 145.7 miles an hour over the 4.7-mile course. The car show is scheduled to begin Dec. 8.

Erratic Grains Can't Hold Pace

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains churned about in a nervous and erratic market on the board of trade today, once again failing to establish a definite trend in early dealings.

Most futures opened higher as the international situation appeared to deteriorate further, but best gains were not held. Here and there some weakness was displayed, notably in December wheat. Trading was only moderately active.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, December $2.34 1/2, corn unchanged at 1 1/4 higher, December $1.37 1/2, oats 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, December 79 1/2, rye unchanged to 1/4 lower, December $1.45 1/2, soybeans unchanged to 1/4 higher, January $2.61 1/4, and lard 7 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, December $15.30.

Husband Held in Wife's Death

Charged With Murder in New York Triangle; Milkman Kills Self

LITTLE VALLEY, N.Y. (AP)—A young milkman, found in the room where a woman was slain by her husband, last night killed himself outside of the funeral home where the woman's body was resting.

A wreath of red roses "For Sue" and a note were beside him in his car.

Police said Albert Marsh Jr., 24, a delivery man for a dairy in this western New York community, shot himself in the head.

The body of Mrs. Sue Ann Riggs, 24, mother of three children, had been taken to the funeral home earlier in the day.

Sheriff Morgan L. Sigel identified Marsh as the man found in a closet of Mrs. Riggs' bedroom early yesterday by her husband, Ralph, 26, a draftsman.

Riggs told police he shot his

All-Night Vigil at Bier Sees Thousands Pay Final Respects

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nearly half the automobiles looked over at the Washington inspection stations fail to pass the tests and have to be sent away for readjustments or repairs before they can get the windshield stickers that signify they're "safe to drive."

Officials told the American Municipal Assn. that in the most recent 12-month period 210,314 vehicles were inspected at the city's two stations and only 104,638 were approved the first time.

Headlights were the chief source of trouble. Some 18 out of every 100 cars had faulty lights, often in the beams.

Other frequent trouble spots: brakes, 16 out of every 100; steering mechanism, 15 out of 100; lights, 12 in every 100; windshield wipers, six in 100; and exhaust, four in 100.

All-Night Vigil at Bier Sees Thousands Pay Final Respects

NEW YORK (AP)—Tommy Dorsey, famed "sentimental gentleman of swing" for more than a quarter of a century, will be laid to rest today.

Several thousand persons paid their respects to the bandleader throughout yesterday, last night and the early morning hours today.

A funeral chapel remained open all night so that theatrical people and musicians, working during the evening, might visit. Among them were members of the Dorsey Bros. band—led by Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey.

Among those filing past the bier were Lt. Thomas Dorsey III, stationed with the Navy in Hawaii, and Mrs. Lester Hooker of

U. S. Ponders Next Move as Europe Cries for Oil

Washington (AP)—Administration officials concerned with the petroleum shortages spreading rapidly in Western Europe because of the Middle East crisis are wrestling with a two-pronged problem.

On the one hand, there is deep concern at the widening split with Britain and France and a desire to demonstrate U.S. friendship and support for those U.S. Allies were possible.

On the other, there is fear that if U.S. oil supplies start moving to Europe in great volume the reduced supplies still going to Europe from Arab countries in the Middle East may be jeopardized.

Fresh urgency has been assigned to U.S. plans for oil deliveries from the Western Hemisphere to offset the grave shortage caused by the blocking of the Suez Canal and damage to pipelines which followed the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt.

Court Won't Dismiss Suit Against Disney

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A court has refused to dismiss a suit against Walt Disney Productions.

Superior Judge Leon T. David denied the defense motion yesterday and gave Disney 20 days to answer.

Douglas' claim that pictures of the actor and his children taken at the Disney home Aug. 1 were used without authorization.

"It is not enough to say that because it is a motion picture personality and a public character, he has no private rights in the matter," said the court, adding: "Motion picture actors are not altogether 'goldfish in a bowl,'" as the defense had argued.
