Reds' Walkout Stalls Progress on Repatriation

Commies May Abandon Attempts to Persuade Reluctant PWs

PANMUNJOM (AP) — The Swedish delegate to the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission said tonight the commission was torn by "serious difficulties" and "anything might happen."

Czech and Polish delegates on the five-member commission walked out Monday when India, Sweden and Switzerland refused to vote to force 22,400 anti-Red prisoners to listen to Communist teams trying to coax them back home.

The two Communist members boycotted a scheduled session of the commission today, forcing a postponement, and the explanations themselves were halted indefinitely.

The explanations apparently were postponed indefinitely — at least until the NNRC can get operating again.

Observers speculated that the Red walkout could be a prelude to dropping their persuasion efforts entirely in an attempt to avoid more of a propaganda whipping than they have already taken in two days of interviews.

Only 19 of 921 Chinese who heard the Red pleas to return home chose the door to communism. The others refused—most of them with raucous, violent denunciations of the Reds.

Despite the lopsided results, the interviews with the 7,800 Chinese POWs had been proceeding smoothly, but the 14,600 Koreans completely stopped the show with a belligerent refusal to even listen to the Red persuaders.

In the repatriation commission Monday, the Polish and Czech members pressed the Red demands that the Korean government to the interviews by any means necessary.

Hospital Land Sale Contract Canceled

LANSING (AP) — The State Administrative Board today canceled a land contract it had approved earlier for the sale on time of 10 acres of surplus Pontiac State Hospital farm land.

Atty Gen. Frank G. Millard ruled that the Legislature in authorizing the sale of the surplus land had only approved a cash sale.

The board had agreed to sell the land for a total of $38,750 on a land contract to the Phoenix Investment Co. for $18,750 down and the balance in 10 years.

Millard said that the company was high bidder and that if it could come up with the cash the land would be turned over.

Brake to Run in Primary, Wants GOP Governorship

LANSING (UP)—State Treasurer D. Hale Brake today formally announced he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor in the 1954 primary election.

Brake, who has served as state treasurer since 1942, said he made his decision to analysis of the needs of the governorship and a soul searching of my own character and record of nineteen years of service in state government.

Brake, a native of Stanton, becomes the first person in either party to announce as a gubernatorial candidate for next year's elections.

Brake promised to "take the issues of this campaign to the voters with a unified Republican party behind me."

He said his primary campaign will be based on his record in public office and upon the issues which he said threaten Michigan's future. In his formal statement, Brake said:

"Many times in the past I have been urged to run for governor but have stepped aside in an attempt to secure party harmony. Today the financial situation, the bickering, the dangers to our state have become so apparent that I definitely answer the question raised by my friends from every

First Pheasant Reported

CONTEST ENTRY—Sports Editor H. Guy Moats measures a 2-pound 9-ounce pheasant, first reported to the Pontiac Press this morning, bagged just 10 minutes after the season opened by 17-year-old Jack Lloyd of 53 S. Roselawn Drive. Jack, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lloyd, downed the bird near Opdyke Road at 10:10 a. m., using a 16-gauge shotgun. He reported seeing six or seven other pheasants during the morning. Lloyd's bird was also the first entry in the Pontiac Press "Big Pheasant Derby" for 1953.

Clardy Begins Groundwork for Red Hearings in State

DETROIT (AP)—Rep. Kit Clardy (R-Mich) said today the first phase of a congressional probe into Reds in Detroit will get under way tomorrow.

He will confer with Federal Judge Frank A. Picard and U. S. District Attorney Fred W. Kaess on final plans for hearings scheduled to start in Detroit Nov. 30.

Clardy said he expected the hearings to spread to Flint and Lansing.

Clardy, chairman of the subcommittee conducting the probe into Communist activities in Michigan, said: "Our investigators have evidence there are Communists and former Communists in places and high positions that can do great harm."

"I don't want to sound alarming or give the impression of sensationalism but we have been able to run down the facts on more persons than the committee anticipated," he said.

Clardy indicated the suspects reach into labor unions, Michigan schools and the legal profession.

"All I can say at this time is that a lot of people in Michigan will be surprised when our hearings start Nov. 30," he declared.

The subcommittee hearings are scheduled for Flint, Detroit and Lansing.

The Michigan congressman said the hearings originally were to be confined to "a few situations." He said they were expanded while he was in Europe this summer investigating communism abroad.

He said the subcommittee would summon witnesses who "are Communists or who have been Communists."

Rescuers Rush to Reach Wreck of Mexican DC-3

14-20 Believed Aboard Plane That Crashed on Way to Dam Fiesta

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP)—Rescue parties struggled today to reach the wrecked wreckage of a government-owned plane that crashed yesterday en route to the U. S.-Mexican fiesta officially opening the Rio Grande's Falcon Dam.

The lack of any definite knowledge of how many persons were aboard the ill-fated plane added to the urgency of the search. Estimates ranged from the officially reported 14 believed to have been assigned seats on the two-engine DC3 to 20 or more.

Two of those on the official passenger list of 14 turned up elsewhere later, but officials feared others may have gotten aboard the ill-fated plane without listing their names.

There were unconfirmed reports in Mexico City that J. Clifford Salley, managing editor of the San Diego, Calif., Union, was aboard the plane.

Officials of the newspaper said they had not heard from him and expressed concern over the lack of any word. Mexican authorities reported they had no knowledge of his whereabouts.

The plane was one of more than a score assigned to take newspaper officials and editors to the dam ceremony, highlighted by the presence of President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife.

It crashed into the side of the canyon, about 2 miles from Monterrey, where it was en route to the dam.

The official estimate of the number of persons aboard was made by Col. Madanias Gudiño, assistant chief of President Ruiz Cortines' military staff.

Among them, he said, were several of Mexico's top newspapermen, including Carlos Violante, diplomatic reporter for Mexico City's El Universal; Carlos Sepúlveda, editor of Mexico City's weekly newspaper, and two newspaper cameramen.

Also missing and believed to have been aboard the plane were two men from the government's Finca Artes Institute. They had been scheduled to give an exhibition of traditional Mexican dances during the Eisenhower-Ruiz Cortines meeting.

Officials at Monterrey Airport said "about 20 persons actually climbed aboard the plane before it took off shortly after 7 a. m. yesterday."

U. S. Far East Air Force headquarters in Tokyo said "We don't have anything on it right now," and also referred newsmen to South Korean defense officials.

Nab Mail Theft Suspect in East

Donald Mitchell Held on Federal Warrant in Robbery Here

A former Pontiac Post Office employee who is accused of mail theft was arrested yesterday in the Boston, Mass., area.

Capt. Clark M. Whelan, chief of detectives, said Donald R. Mitchell, 34, was apprehended on a tip supplied postal inspectors by the Pontiac Police Department.

U. S. Postal Inspector John B. Demott of Boston said Mitchell would be arraigned before a U. S. commissioner in Boston on a charge of larceny of a registered letter. Demott quoted Mitchell as saying he had taken the money because he was out of work.

Det. John DePauw said yesterday he turned over information to Postal Inspector H. W. Loch of 74 Bloomfield Tr. that Mitchell apparently had applied for a job in a gear plant in Quincy, Mass.

A Pontiac business concern notified police that it had received a letter from the eastern firm asking for references on Mitchell. Mitchell was employed by the Post Office for less than a year.

Mitchell was charged last Friday in a federal warrant with taking a registered letter Oct. 9 from the sub-station at 526 N. Perry St. The letter contained the money and checks.

Authorities said he stole a mail truck, and posed as a regular postal pick-up man to get the registered letter.

Grand Days Won't Last Long Sub-Normal Temperatures Expected in Late October

Don't put your topcoat in mothballs or unpack your summer shirts.

This weather is just too good to last for long. And it probably won't.

For a 30-day forecast said temperatures would drop below normal from mid-October to mid-November.

Pontiac area's balmy, 80-plus weather has confounded the experts. But W. W. Oak, head of the U. S. Weather Bureau in Detroit, expects cooler, damp weather to move in near the end of this month.

Mother Nature is expected to turn on her faucets again after slighting this area—and the rest of Michigan.

POW Gets Wish After 34 Months

Prisoner of Red Korea Sees 89-Year-Old Dad in Pontiac

Cpl. Marcus Gonzales' most intense desire during 34 months in a Communist prison camp in Korea was to see his 89-year-old father, Aristeo, and his brother Jose's family again. He got that wish Sunday.

The 41-year-old soldier arrived at his home at 751 Portland St. by car from San Francisco with 30 days to spend with his invalid father.

Yesterday, balancing his nephew, Jose, 12, and niece, Guadalupe, 10, on his knees, Gonzales was reluctant to recount his prison camp experiences which he said were "better forgotten."

He did say he was captured Dec. 1, 1950, while fighting as a rifleman with Co. 338 of the 2nd Infantry Division.

"I was taken to Camp No. 2 and put in a small dirt-floor shed with 34 other prisoners. The floor was mud most of the time and we had to huddle together for warmth. They gave us Communist papers to read including the New York Daily Worker. It's good to be able to read a real American paper again.

"They fed us rice and raw potatoes twice a day. I'd rather not say how many died."

Gonzales entered the Army in September, 1942, and fought in Africa and Italy during World War II. He has re-enlisted for three years and will be stationed at Camp Hood, Tex., after his furlough.

200 Hear Pastor Start Campaign for 53 Agencies

Rev. C. G. Widdifield Gives Keynote Address at 'Kickoff' Breakfast

"In a democracy, human life is sacred—and in Pontiac, the United Fund is the touchstone of our concern for human life."

So the Rev. C. George Widdifield, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church, told some 200 campaign workers of Pontiac Area United Fund at their "kick-off breakfast" today.

The morning rally at Pontiac Boys' Club officially opened a drive to raise $487,200 for 53 local, state and national social agencies by Nov. 6. Mayor Arthur J. Law is campaign chairman.

Rev. Widdifield, main speaker for the morning meeting, warned that some people may question the need for social agencies which didn't exist 50 years ago. He pointed out that many who do, have forgotten the tragedies of those times. Medical science can now restore victims of certain diseases, such as epilepsy and cerebral palsy, to useful life, he said; but trained social workers and clinics are needed to do the job.

"Fifty years ago," he said, "Pontiac had about 12,000 people. The chances were that if you got into trouble, there'd be someone you knew well to help you."

But, he added, the larger cities grow, the more impersonal life becomes.

"It's easy to be your brother's keeper — if you don't have too many brothers," he said. "But through the United Fund, a community can provide oases of help and counsel in the desert of impersonality."

Rev. Widdifield said that no one has a guarantee that he won't be tossed by circumstance into a difficult, embarrassing or hopeless situation.

"If we have any security," he said, "I expect it is because we have a community which cares for us — for people — that treats people as people instead of throwing them on the discard heap when their usefulness is over or rehabilitation too costly."

He added that not all social agencies' work is the rescue type — that many, such as Pontiac YMCA and YWCA, Camp Fire Girls, and the Scouting movement, are "preventive medicine."

"When you go out to raise money for the United Fund," Rev. Widdifield said, "you are not only asking people to supply ambulances at the foot of life's precipice to pick up those who fall. You are also asking them to build a fence around the top of the precipice to keep people from falling in the first place."

Rev. William Immel of St. Michael Church gave the invocation. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4) for that matter—for 14 days.

The last measurable rain was recorded here Oct. 6.

Oak said conditions causing our present shirt-sleeve weather are similar to those that sent the mercury down to 30.

Alarm by Student Saves Man Inside Blazing Home

A 15-year-old Pontiac High School student was credited with saving the life of a man asleep in his burning home yesterday.

Keith Mittedorf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Mittedorf of 176 Liberty St., summoned Pontiac Fire Department when he saw smoke seeping through closed windows at the home of Harry Fortino, 95 Mark St.

Firemen wearing masks entered the home and rescued Fortino through a second-story window.

Fortino, alone in the house, said he was unaware of the fire in the basement, which filled the upper floor with dense smoke.

Keith, a Pontiac Press carrier, was on his way home to start his paper route when he noticed the fire.

Fire Chief John F. Schroeder said firemen were unable to determine conclusively how the fire started.

Although the oil furnace was cold, Schroeder said, the blaze started near the pipes in the basement.

Pontiac Patrolman Robert W. Verhine and Det. John Wilson said the home showed signs of having been ransacked. The possibility of robbery is being investigated, they said.

Birmingham OKs Porritt Land Zone Plan

Also Will Vacate Stubs of Roads

Agreement Opens Way to Annex Troy Plot for Adams Project

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM—With one additional change requested, the City Commission last night approved a "gentlemen's agreement" for the eventual zoning of the 40-acre Adams road Porritt property.

The lawmakers also vacated the 142-foot stub ends of Rugby and Cambridge roads, north of Buckingham, on the motion of Commissioner Richard Patterson, 1617 Dorchester.

The Porritt property agreement, which opens the way for annexation of the Troy Township plot within the city limits, restricts the development to single family, duplex, and business; forbidding multiple dwelling or terraces.

The owners, the W. E. Reid Development Co., are dedicating a 142x27-foot strip for the widening of Adams road, paying $5,250 as a share of the widening, and $7,137.09 for their share of the present Haynes street sewer.

The additional change requested in the agreement is that the developers agree to pay a share of an extension of the Webster street sewer when it becomes necessary.

Next step in the project will be petitioning Troy Township for severance and the city for admittance.

The agreement climaxes several months of negotiation over development of the site, and the density of population to live there.

Plans call for 240 residential units.

With Commissioner Charles Renfrew also dissenting, the lawmakers vacated the Rugby-Cambridge stubs over the protest of developer Arthur Nechman, who has graded streets up to the stubs for a subdivision.

Members of the subdivision group below the development opposed the streets as carrying high-speed through traffic and truck traffic.

Nechman countered that the vacation leaves only Adams road as an entrance to his area.

Circle III and IV of the Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church will meet jointly at 8 to 9 to night at the home of Mrs. George A. Ball, on Buckingham.

Included on the agenda for tonight's recreation board meeting will be a discussion of the Halloween parade, girl's rifle team, and a letter for Poppleton School.

Harold A. Fitzgerald, United Fund president, introduced Rev. Widdifield.

"I wish I could transmit to you the enthusiasm I feel for this drive," Fitzgerald said. "We are an organization of givers—not an agency. We have a lot of small campaigns all wrapped up in one package—and we all pitch in and get the job done."

Fitzgerald introduced Mrs. E. L. Bradley, chairman, and Mrs. Donald Weaver, Waterford co-chairman of the geographical division; Frank S. Lyndall, Commercial division chairman and W. L. Whitfield of the industrial division. He also praised Robert M. Glenn, Robert S. Nelson and Harold J. Adams called on Leslie R. Ware, accountant at Universal Oil-Seal Co., who announced his company's employees already had given 120 per cent of their quota—"and we'll probably make 160 to 170 per cent by the time we're through."

Labor Leader Dies at Age 79

W. L. Hutcheson Was Head of AFL Carpenters for 36 Years

INDIANAPOLIS—William L. Hutcheson, 79, general president of the AFL carpenters union for 36 years and a towering figure in the American labor movement, died in Methodist hospital here today of a heart ailment.

The veteran labor leader was brought to the hospital Oct. 12 for a stomach examination and suffered a heart attack Oct. 15 before the stomach tests were completed. He had been in critical condition since.

Hutcheson, one of the few Republicans among top union officials, stepped down from the active presidency of the $22,000-member union Jan. 1, 1952, and was succeeded by his son, Maurice A. Hutcheson. The elder Hutcheson was named general president emeritus.

Hutcheson stood virtually alone in the ranks of organized labor as a severe critic of the administrations of President Franklin D. Roosevelt for what he called "government's inroads on free enterprise."

A native of Saginaw County, Mich., Hutcheson was reared on a farm and had only a country school education. His father, Daniel O. Hutcheson, had been a ship carpenter and the son took up the trade at 16.

He joined the union in 1902 while working at Midland, Mich., for the Dow Chemical Co. The union then was the most powerful in the American Federation of Labor, having been formed in 1881 and had helped form the AFL. Hutcheson became president of the Carpenters Union in 1915 on the death of James Kirby and was re-elected at every election until he retired in 1952.

curry into the 90s for 10 consecutive days about two months ago.

A high pressure area, causing the air to circulate clockwise has camped over the eastern seaboard. The result? Warm air flowing up from the South.

In late August and early September that air was fiery hot and loaded with moisture. Now it is dry—and warm.

Attesting to its warmth is yesterday's record 84 degrees. On Sunday, a high of 82 degrees in the Pontiac area matched a record for that date.

Since Oct. 10, the mercury has climbed over 70 degrees in all but two days, when a cold mass of air flowing down from Canada dropped temperatures into the 60s.

And those cold blasts from the north will play a repeat performance soon—if the experts are correct.

Tears that prevented a tragedy

Operator Lorraine De Lore knew something was wrong when she answered the signal. At first she heard nothing but a baby crying. Seconds later she heard the receiver drop, and then a woman moaning. She called Service Assistant Gloria Jean DeBri.

Quickly the Service Assistant called telephone repair service and got the address where the telephone was off the hook. Then she notified the police and a doctor.

When police arrived, they found Mrs. Barbara Verseput just regaining consciousness. Her four-month-old baby was still crying nearby. Police called Mrs. Verseput's husband and, when he arrived, took her to the hospital.

Later, Mrs. Verseput described what had happened. Weakened by recent illness, she started to telephone the doctor but passed out. She remembered nothing until the police arrived. Mr. Verseput said that if it hadn't been for the alertness of the two telephone girls who overheard his child crying, his wife might have died.

Here is another example of the quick thinking of telephone people that has often meant the difference between life and death.

It's people who make telephone service good

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Bobby Hager, 4, returned to his mother after straying away at the Texas State

Jack Dempsey Seeks Trainees for Television

No Previous Experience Needed Says Ex Champ

CHICAGO—(Special) Jack Dempsey, former world's heavy-weight boxing champion and one of America's foremost sports idols is part of a nationwide campaign to help enlist men to prepare for profitable jobs as television technicians.

Dempsey, who is now associated with DeForest's Training, Inc., 2539 N. Ashland Avenue, Chicago 14, Illinois—one of the nation's foremost television training centers—upon entering the campaign made these startling revelations:

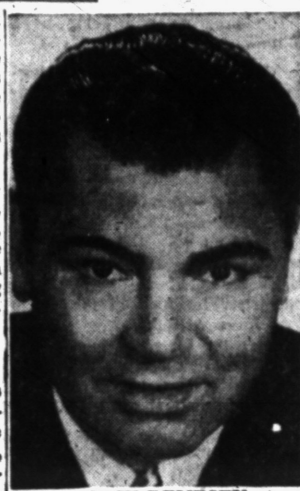

Startling Facts

"A man needs no previous experience or special education to prepare to enter the thrill-packed field of television, radio and electronics. As a matter of fact, he doesn't have to know how to splice a lamp cord or use a soldering iron to be eligible."

"We are seeking men who are willing to learn. Men who want to prepare for better jobs or a business of their own."

Train in Spare Time

Dempsey said the training could be carried on in a trainee's spare time and would in no way interfere with his present job.

"Anyone interested in learning how he may become a trainee should address a card or letter to DeForest's Training, Inc., 2539 N. Ashland Avenue, Chicago 14, Illinois. There is no obligation whatever for this information."

Lightning Fire Burns Big Store of Onions

GRANT (UP)—A fire, started by a bolt of lightning, swept through a warehouse owned by Bert Roeloff of Hudsonville Monday afternoon and destroyed 17,000 bushels of onions.

A second bolt later knocked out pumping facilities of the Grant tank. The White Cloud department assisted the Grant firemen.

Cripple Fights Off Bear From Wheel Chair

YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP)—A cripple confined to a wheel chair for 40 years yesterday related how he held off, then killed a 236-pound black bear in northern California's deer-hunting country.

Bryan Arritt, 50, was seated when he spotted a bear 60 feet away on a hillside while friends sought to drive a deer toward him.

He had four shells in his .300 rifle. "The first one caught him in the shoulder," said Arritt. "He got up and charged me. The next one got him in the front leg. As he came down I got him again under the right eye. I fired my last shell and hit him in the hind leg.

"He got up and came at me again. When he got about a foot and a half away, I poked him off with the barrel of my gun. The blood kept spattering all over me. He circled me. I threw a couple of rocks at him."

Arritt said he managed to get another shell in the gun.

"When he came in close, I let him have it between the eyes. He was pretty dead then."

Second 'Grandma' Moses

Evangelist Advises Wife to Be Obedient

DETROIT (UP)—Evangelist Billy Graham advised housewives Monday night against trying to brow-beat their husbands.

He said it was God's law that a husband, as head of the home, should be "respected and obeyed." "And be attractive," Graham added. "Every man wants a pretty wife. If that can't be, he demands an attractive one. I don't blame some men for not wanting to come home to unkempt and untidy wives."

Congregation Celebrates

117 Years Are Marked by Milford Methodists

MILFORD — Methodists celebrated 117 years of service in this community Sunday.

Two classes of Methodists were formed here 117 years ago. They were organized into a church in 1840 and began holding services in the Log School House.

A church, known as the Little White Church, was dedicated in 1844. Thirty years later the main structure of the present Methodist Church was begun. It was enlarged in 1888 and 1889 with the addition of a kitchen and choir loft.

Twenty-six members of the congregation were honored for their loyalty to the church Sunday. Some of them had been members for 47 years or more. Red roses were presented to 13 of the group present.

A potluck dinner was enjoyed by the families of the church. Mrs. Mayon Hoard read the history of the church and added facts about the setting of the community.

Mrs. Marden Lacey read off a long list of ministers who had been assigned since the beginning of the church.

Edward Ladd, who attended the dedication of the present sanctuary as a boy, also told several interesting episodes that had occurred through the years.

of the Nation's farm families enjoy this service.

As of June 30, the department says, there were 4,888,460 farms connected to lines of all power suppliers, leaving only 493,674 still dependent on other sources of light and power.

Of special interest to Michigan is the fact that our State raised its percentage of electrified farms to 99 during the year, as did Indiana and Washington.

These figures show the great change that has taken place in rural America during the past few decades. Most farm families now can enjoy all the comforts and conveniences formerly available only to urban dwellers.

Civil Defense Change

Acting under a law passed by the 1953 Legislature, the City Commission has decided to reorganize Pontiac's Civil Defense setup.

Provision in the new law not only require cities of over 10,000 to appoint a Civil Defense director but nullify appointments made prior to its effective date.

This means that JAMES LITTLE, Civil Defense director since February 5, 1951, probably will be replaced about November 1. Under the reorganization plan it also is probable that City Manager WILLMAN will be named director and that several heads of city departments will be on the new Civil Defense committee.

In his letter notifying LITTLE of the impending change, the City Manager commented on the difficulties under which the director had worked and praised the spade work already accomplished.

How the new plan will work out remains to be seen. But with the foundation work done, it seems reasonable to place responsibility for carrying on Civil Defense on a committee of department heads.

The Man About Town

It's Nutting Time
 Crop Is Good in This Area,
 but Not Many Trees Remain

Summer: A season we're pleased to have linger in the lap of fall.

Oakland County's back roads every autumn weekend find hundreds of parked cars, especially along the wooded areas. The people who came there in these cars are not hunting. While this almost is a lost art in this area, our people persist in this form of outing, although the squirrels usually garner the best of the harvest. Most of the walnut and butternut trees have been felled for their wood. The great majority of the shag bark hickories went that way a half century or more ago to furnish material for Pontiac-built buggies, road carts, wagons and sleighs. The hazel nut brush also is almost eliminated. But the 1953 crop on the nut trees that remain is much above the average. And it is a wise plan to follow that motto of the good hunter, "Ask the farmer first."

That long time Pontiac booster, Douglas Nash,
 now secretary of the Gaylord Chamber of Commerce, invites our people to participate in the annual Gaylord bear hunt Oct. 31 and Nov. 1. He even offers to furnish body guards for timid souls.

Formerly a resident of Pontiac, Mrs. J. B. Shannon of Traverse City, writes: "Have just returned from a visit back home, and want to say that we have nothing up here to beat the autumn colorings in Oakland County."

It now seems likely that Pontiac's good neighbor to the east, Rochester, will be the bloomingest place in Oakland County next spring. According to the president of the local Lions club,

Alex. Young,
 its members, in looking for a substitute for bingo in raising money, have sold 12,000 flowering bulbs to be planted by residents. Rochester will be in full bloom next May.

Pontiac Draft Boards are having some difficulty because some of the 18 year olds do not register as required by selective service regulations. With peace in Korea, some young men evidently think this is not necessary. The rule still is in effect and every young man must register with his draft board on his eighteenth birthday, or as near to that time as possible.
 Local boards are at 701 Pontiac State Building.

A new method of raising potatoes has been found successful by Arnold Evanson

of Drayton Plains. Last spring he scattered a bushel of seed potatoes on the ground and covered them with a foot of straw. The vines came up through the straw which killed off the weeds, bugs did not bother them, and under the straw seven bushels of potatoes of excellent quality grew to sizes up to a pound apiece.

Just a Few Things to Remember

Voice of the People

Says West Bloomfield Zoning Ordinance Should Have Provision for Light Industry

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

A plan for zoning West Bloomfield Township will be presented this evening. As proposed, it makes no provision for light industry.

Adoption of the ordinance without such provision would be a mistake, for industry usually creeps in anyway.

Often it starts in a neighbor's garage and gradually expands in unsuitable locations.

It is understandable when residents object to the introduction of light industry into a community. It is the natural reaction of people who have moved to the suburbs, but they cannot escape reality.

The population of West Bloomfield has increased 56 per cent from 1940 to 1950. An increase of about 40 per cent may be expected by 1960.

It is not surprising that a place to work must be an eyesore and a nuisance. Other communities have separated their industrial areas from residential areas by means of green strips planted for beauty and recreational use.

Elderly people are forced to continue working longer than they intended. It would be fine to provide small workshops nearby and at the same time lighten the tax load.

If the proposed ordinance is adopted "as is" I believe we should petition for a zoning ordinance that fits our needs.

James Clapp Wonders About Names on Quilt

Back in the winter of 1897-8 the Ladies Aid Society of the Wixom church made an "album" quilt.
 All you needed to get your name on that quilt was "a box top and a dime."

After it was completed it was auctioned off at a bazaar and the purchaser was Gertrude R. Sibley, who became my wife a few weeks later. For some time it was thrown up at us that I married her simply to get that quilt.

Lately I have been looking the quilt over and have wondered as to the people who had their names on it. Many of these folks have passed away, but seven are living in Pontiac.

The quilt is not for sale!

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Great peace have they which love thy law; and nothing shall offend them. — Psalm 119:165.

Peace doth not dwell in outward things, but within the soul;
 we may preserve it in the midst of the bitterest pain, if our will remain firm and submissive.
 Peace in this life springs from acceptance of the will of God, and from suffering. — Fenelon.

Lawrence Sees Sorry State of Affairs When Labor Leader in Prison Is Boss

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — No more fantastic revelation of invisible government in America has been made in a long time than that which has just been disclosed by the acting lieutenant governor of New York state, Arthur H. Wicks, who is also leader of the Republican Party in the Senate of the Empire State.

Wicks was making a speech primarily to defend himself against charges that he repeatedly visited in Sing Sing Prison, Joseph S.
 Fay, convicted labor extortionist, but, inadvertently perhaps, he managed at the same time to tell a story of interest far beyond the limits of New York State — a story which does not necessarily exculpate him from blame.

But the facts he exposed are shocking in their significance.

Organized labor will sit up and take notice as men of good citizenship in that movement recognize at once the dangers to their future which can develop if any stranglehold on the life of America, such as Wicks describes, is developed.

"The dictionary," declared Wicks, "says that democratic government is popularly determined authority which directs and restrains the actions of men. If that is so, there is more than one government in our state, that is, more than one authority directing and restraining the actions of part of our society at least."

"If you are a legislator in Albany, you would not be there long before you realized that within and under the democratic rights of men to organize, the laboring men and labor interests have organized a government, that under and by their own direction, they have determined their own leaders.

"And the constituted and accepted leaders of labor are the men who, with incredible facility and success, make decisions that

Mrs. Heady Wants to Die With Hall

KANSAS CITY (AP) — "The only thing I want to do now is die in the gas chamber with Carl." That remark was attributed yesterday to Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, confessed kidnaper of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease. The Carl she referred to is 34-year-old Carl Austin Hall, who admitted slaying Bobby and burying the body in Mrs. Heady's back yard.

The police officer, who declined use of his name, also quoted Mrs. Heady, a 41-year-old divorcee, as saying she wanted to be buried in a cemetery near Clearmont, Mo., where she was born.

She and Hall are held in the Jackson County Jail under federal kidnapping charges. They were arrested in St. Louis a week after the kidnapping.

Mrs. Heady has declined to read religious tracts brought to the jail by various church organizations.

"I have never had anything to do with religion during my life and I don't intend to start now," she was quoted as saying.

Israel-Arab Truce Uneasy, Threatening to Blow Up

By PHIL NEWSON
UP Foreign News Editor

The uneasy, four-year truce between Israel and her Arab neighbors threatens to blow up in a renewal of full-scale warfare.

And so, another piece of unfinished business ranking with Korea, Trieste and the division of Germany comes forcibly to world attention.

It dropped unexpectedly into the laps of United States, British and French foreign ministers meeting in London during the last weekend. They promptly placed the unwanted baby on the doorstep of the United Nations.

Sparks that touched off the latest threat was an Israeli raid across the Jordan border, in which Jordan authorities claim, 66 persons, including women and children, were killed and nine wounded in the Jordan village in Kibya.

The raid followed an earlier one from Jordan across the Israeli frontier in which a woman and two children were killed.

Except for its ferocity, the Israeli raid was no different from literally hundreds of others which have occurred regularly along the Israeli-Jordan border since the signing of the U.N.-engineered truce in 1949.

In the 12 months ending in June, 1953, the United Nations mixed armistice commission ruled on nearly 200 such border raids, with blame attached to both sides.

Issues involved are both local and international, and four years of truce have increased rather than decreased the atmosphere of profound hostility between Israel and her Arab neighbors—Egypt, Jordan, Syria and the Lebanon.

Arab leaders frankly told U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles during his visit last spring that, while they have no sympathy with the Communist philosophy, their common enemy is Tel-Aviv and not Moscow.

The differences are more than religious ones between Moslems and Jew, and deeper than Arab resentment against this new Jewish state which sprang up in territory which the Arabs considered their own.

The Arabs fear that Israel intends to continue to annex territory—at Arab expense. They resent Israeli refusal to accept responsibility for some 800,000 Arab refugees driven from their Palestinian homes, while at the same time Israel says it will welcome another 2,000,000 Jews.

Aside from her row with Jordan, Israel has been seriously at odds with both Syria and Egypt within the last few days.

Egypt accused the Israeli of moving troops into a demilitarized zone in the Negev desert bordering Egypt.

A Syrian protest brought a halt to a vast Israeli hydro-electric project along Syria's border with the Jordan River. The 15-year project is designed both to irrigate the Negev and to drain Jordan River swamps which are age-old breeders of malaria.

A difficulty is that while each side points the finger of blame at the other, neither shows much real will for compromise.

About the only ones who profit are the hashish smugglers who slip back and forth across the frontiers, and the counterfeiters.

There are four "United States" in the Western Hemisphere—the United States of (North) America, the United Mexican States, the United States of Brazil, and the United States of Venezuela.

Some Lads Have Wrong Qualifications for Forming Steady-Dating Partnership

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Of course, if there's only one living male your age within 60 miles, you're limited in your choice. He'll have to be it—the guy you go steady with.

But if your local census reveals a variety of beautiful possibilities, you can take your pick. And a gal in her right mind would never pick one of these lads.

THE DIEHARD: He's the one you have to convince. He loves to flirt, always has one eye out for other girls, and wields a wicked but delicious line. It takes all the tricks in the book to overcome his constitutional aversion to settling down.

"Don't fence me in" is his battle cry. Of course, you could get him to change his tune. But he won't stay hooked for long. He's just not the type.

THE NEOPHYTE: He's the one who's never dated a girl before in his life. He may be deliriously aware of you—yet blissfully unaware of the slight difference between you and his boy friends.

His first dates with you are a bit of a strain. He doesn't know just what to say, what to do or how to act. He bumbles and fumbles. Makes you feel impatient and restless.

Let him get some experience dating around before you take him on as a steady deal. Of course, you may believe in bringing up someone who's young and tender in the way you want him to go. But I'd rather start out with a guy whose rough edges have already been smoothed off.

THE BOUNCER: He's the one with sudden whims, violent rushes, and a checkered record of many loves. He's been going steady since he first started dating—but no longer than two months with any one girl.

He's the kind who signs you up on the second date, rushes you off your feet while he's getting acquainted, makes your head spin, then cheerfully leaves you to dissolve while he chases a new crush. But, then,—of course, you may figure that a brief spin is better than none at all.

THE FIREBALL: The first time you were together did it. Fireworks, thunder and lightning—love at first sight. Without knowing who he is, where he comes from, or what he represents, you pledge steady stuff.

And then that first impression comes unstuck. Physical attraction isn't enough to make a solid, steady and satisfying deal. Seems only sensible to know your man before deciding he's the only one you want to go with.

BIG BUSINESS: He hasn't much time for a girl, no matter how much he likes her. Maybe he works at night. Maybe he lives inconvenient miles away.

Maybe he has no car, or has a car that is the love of his life. Maybe he's always in training. Or up to his ears in projects with his boy friends.

Interests make a boy interesting, to be sure. But too much big business can make his girl feel she's being cheated of her reasonable share of his time.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

"I love Ellen—but I groan whenever I see her drive up with her three young house wreckers." Do any of your friends feel that way about your little darlings? You can be sure they do if you leave your children to their own devices when you take them visiting. The mother who relaxes while her children run wild through a friend's house can be sure her hostess isn't as relaxed as she is.

Good manners make your children welcome guests.

The fastest human action is the winking of an eyelid.

New Ways to Remove Wallpaper

By HUBBARD COBB

It used to be that the only way to remove wallpaper from a wall was to soak it first with warm water applied with a sponge or wide brush.

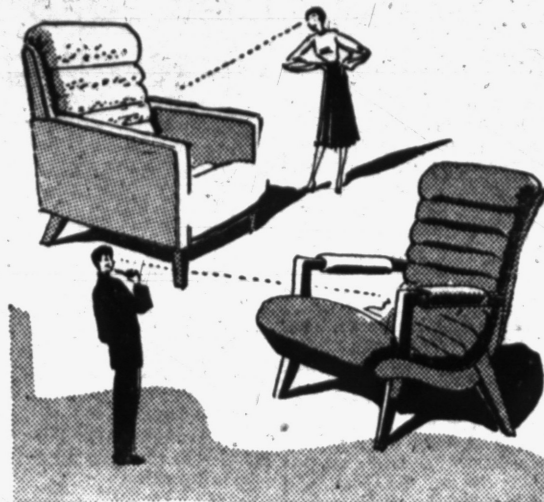

After the water had soaked through the paper and softened up the paste, the paper was pulled off in vertical sections. This is still a pretty good way of doing the job but it takes time and is sort of messy.

The job of removing paper can be speeded up considerably by using one of the prepared wallpaper removers. These are used either by themselves or added to the warm water.

What they do is to help the water penetrate through the paper faster than it can by itself. Of course, if the paper has been coated with varnish or lacquer, this must be sanded down so that the water can reach the paper.

If you've got a lot of wallpaper that has to come off, your best bet is to use a mechanical wallpaper remover. This consists of a burner that is operated either by electricity, gasoline or kerosene, a boiler, an air compressor and a concentrator which is fastened to the boiler by a length of hose. Steam generated by the boiler is forced under pressure through the hose to the concentrator.

You just have to run the concentrator over the wall and the paper is really given the works—and that goes for the paste too. You can rent this type of equipment at paint and hardware stores. It isn't worth it for small jobs, but for big ones there is nothing like it.

New Chairs Proportioned for Long or Short Waists

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

One of the newest theories of chair comfort takes the stand that it isn't necessary to assume a hammock position, head down and feet up, to get the full benefit of a nice cushioned fit to every inch of vertebra.

It's possible, according to this idea, to sit up and still feel fully comforted all the way from the head to below the knees.

The new sit-up-and-relax chair comes in two proportions, long-waisted and short-waisted, to make sure that for both types of figures that natural arch of the back is followed perfectly.

A series of rounded foam rubber pads is soft to sink into and gives plus cushioning at the front edge of the seat to take care of the knee problem—and there is a problem there in many chairs that isn't always realized.

The way the front edges of the seats of some chairs hit the back of the knees causes discomfort by restricting the circulation of the blood.

It's important indeed that chairs be as wonderfully comfortable as they can be, and if it takes doctor's prescriptions and tailors' measurements, we're on our way.

Mrs. M. E. Crysler Tells Ideal Recipe for After Game

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor
Here's a wonderful new way of fixing ground beef. It should prove useful for after-the-game parties, because you can get the meat all ready ahead of time and take only 20 minutes to cook it.

Mrs. Melvin E. Crysler of Commerce Lake is today's contributor.

Mrs. Crysler enjoys working around her home, painting and working in the garden. She had a hand in constructing the imposing rock wall that decorates her front yard.

On the lighter side, she crochets exquisite lace tablecloths and is actively interested in music. She is a member of the Julia Chafy Circle of her church.

HAMBURGER SQUARES

By Mrs. Melvin E. Crysler

1½ pound ground lean beef
Small green pepper, diced
Minced onion, as desired
1 egg
2 slices bread
1/4 cup catsup
Salt and pepper

Let a small amount of cold water run over the slices of bread. Immediately press the water out and mix the bread into the meat and the rest of the ingredients. The onion and green pepper are both optional.

Spread this mixture on a greased cookie sheet. Bake in a 375-degree oven for 20 minutes. As soon as the meat is cooked, cut it into squares and use for sandwiches.

This mixture may also be baked as individual meat loaves. Place it in greased muffin tins, dot with butter and bake as above.

Hips Spreading? Try Exercise the Lazy Way

The mistaken notion that middle-age spread is inevitable is apparently still circulating. Brushing off exercising as too boring, too time-consuming or too tiring, some women let the pounds come as they go right on forcing their flesh into tight foundations.

Yet doctors assert that extra weight puts a strain on the heart and that mild exercise, while helping to ward off that excess, encourages good circulation.

These exercises will accommodate the heaviest schedule because they are done in bed during the time one takes to "come to" in the morning. Try them in this order:

1. After pushing aside covers and pillow, stretch your legs one at a time down to the heels, then to the toes and wriggle them.
2. Throw your arms over your head and stretch toward the headboard. Then fling your arms out wide as possible and open and close the fingers.
3. Now relax completely, yawning and twisting.
4. Place pillow under buttocks. Go limp all over; then inhale slowly, pulling lower abdomen toward backbone. Let muscles come back slowly. Do this rhythmically six times; later build up to 12.

If you want to keep your Italian haircut looking smart, you will need to have it trimmed every three weeks.

County Republican Women Enjoy Breakfast at Clarkston Farm Home

New Slate Is Directing Garden Club

Mrs. A. W. Selden Assumes Duties as President

Mrs. Arthur W. Selden began her duties as president of the Pontiac Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association when the group met Monday at the Lake Angelus home of Mrs. Newton Skillman Jr.

Other new officers are Mrs. Standish Sibley, first vice president; Mrs. Mortimer Macaulay, second vice president; Mrs. Harcourt Patterson, recording secretary; Mrs. George Crane, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Edward Karkau, treasurer.

A newly-formed committee this year is the hortotherapy committee with Mrs. C. R. Gaffey as its head. Mary Heltsch and Jeanette Hubbard have charge of the telephone committee.

Plans were made for selling baked goods at the International Tea which will be held in the near future at Meadowbrook, the home of Mrs. Alfred Wilson.

Mrs. C. T. Ekelund reported on her activities as a delegate to the Associated Countrywomen of the World meeting in Toronto.

Slides of European gardens were shown by Mrs. Selden, Mrs. C. K. Patterson and Mrs. R. A. Armstrong.

Tea was served with Mrs. Paul Connolly, Mrs. William Jacob, Mrs. Edward Rawlings, Mrs. Robert Oliver, Mrs. Crane and Mrs. Philip Hubbard as hostess. Mrs. Arthur Young was chairman of the day.

Housewives Can Get Lift From Mood

The housewife who gets right to work in the morning with-out bothering to do more than whisk a comb through her hair and slip into a tired-looking housedress is dealing her morale a death blow. What she apparently does not realize is that good grooming could serve her as a kind of mental vitamin pill.

Starting out disgruntled and discouraged, she ends up disgusted, blaming her feeling on the drudgery of housekeeping. What is to blame, of course, is her failure to put herself in a mood for action.

If she would take a little time to select a neat and attractive dress, to arrange her hair becomingly and to dash on a bit of make-up, she would find that her attitude would undergo a sudden change.

These efforts will help her to feel refreshed and capable and will pay extra dividends by speeding her in her work.

If the chores she plans demand jeans or slacks, the homemaker can wear a gay sports shirt and complete the outfit with a practical and smart-looking carpenter's apron.

For regular household tasks, there are dresses available in sturdy, tub-loving materials that are as far removed from the old wrap-around as today's sports cars are from the Model T's.

Some models are styled like regular afternoon dresses, featuring dotman sleeves, wide necklines and good detailing. Even the practical terry cloth can be found now in pretty prints.

Names in Rubbers

If you have name-tapes for the children's clothes, glue a couple in their rubbers and overshoes, too, to save ownership arguments.

Spray Cologne

For an added note of graciousness, spray some cologne in your living room just before your guests are expected.

Too Much Frost Hinders Freezer

AUBURN, Ala. (INS) — Frost more than one-half inch thick will increase the cost of operating a home freezer.

Lavada Curtis, food preservationist at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, says that the frost can become as thick as 1½ inches without endangering the frozen foods inside the freezer but it will run up the cost.

As much electricity is spent holding the frost at zero temperatures as would be used to keep frozen foods cold in the same amount of space, she says.

To remove frost while the freezer is operating, she advises a scoop tool that catches the frost as it is scraped off.

Carve Comical Pumpkin

In many schools all over the country there are contests for the pupil who brings in the pumpkin face which is the funniest, the ugliest one, or the one which shows the most work. Here are some ideas for contests such as these, or you can use them for the pumpkin face which you make at home.

Perhaps you and Mother can cooperate on this. You may be the one to make the pumpkin face and Mother may want to help you dig out the inside. This is not too hard, for the center of a pumpkin is full of seeds and stringy membrane.

So many times people are in such a hurry to cut the features that they do not stop to think of some funny little thing which can really make the pumpkin humorous.

In the first picture in the upper left hand corner I have shown a pumpkin man with triangular eyes and nose and funny crooked teeth. The next one has eyes at a slant and a double pug nose. He also wears a straw hat.

The other man in the top row looks more like a man from Mars. His main difference is that he has large ears which stick out. These are made from the top and bottom of a tin can.

In the lower corner is a clown. Follow his features and make a clown hat from a cone of paper with a brim of a paper plate. Notice the derby and cigar on the next man. The crooked features on the last one with the hair of straw are a different touch. Laugh at your pumpkin face.

Neighbor's Dust Flies in Windows

Housewife Objects to Nearby Shaking of Mops and Rugs

By EMILY POST

A housewife tells me: "The houses on our street are rather close together and my next door neighbor has a habit of shaking her rugs and mops out of the window."

"All the dust and dirt comes into my bedroom windows which I always have open, except in the very cold weather. Will you please tell me how to handle this situation tactfully? She is not a very friendly person, which makes it all the more difficult."

Answer: The fact that she is not a friend makes it much easier to ask her please not to shake her mop into your window. If she were a friend, it would be very hard to say.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am giving a luncheon for 12 women friends and wonder who should be seated at my right and left. I am not giving the party for anyone in particular and I know these friends equally well.

Answer: Place on your right the one whom you see least often and on your left another whom you see seldom.

In other words, don't put your neighbors whom you see every day of your life next to you, but rather those whom you see only now and then.

Dear Mrs. Post: My young daughter, aged 8, was invited to the birthday party of a schoolmate who lives in a neighboring town. I drove her to the party and then did some shopping until it was time to pick her up.

When I got there, my daughter was still at the party, so I waited out in the car for her. I have been wondering ever since, whether I did the right thing by waiting in the car, or whether this could be considered discourteous to the mother of the young hostess, who knew I was to meet my daughter.

Answer: Unless you went to the house and said that you had come for your daughter, how could she have known you were there?

Depth is the newest thing about fall handbag fashions. It's depth that makes for harmony with the slender fall silhouette. Closed bucket bag (upper left) is in antique amber calf, has a vibrant color tone. Grained leather satchel with slim handles (upper center) is in maple-toned calf, is lined in honey-color smooth leather. Typical of larger sizes in dressy bags for late day is elongated, sleek box (upper right) in red chiffon velvet. This is lined in blonde leather.

Oversized deep bucket (lower left) is in rich silver gray mouton fur with longer than average handle in black leather. French purse (lower center) is leopard-dyed rabbit, is worn opened out, not folded over as in previous years. This is a smart bag for dressy daytime or late day wear. Dramatic satchel in giant size (lower right) is made of black wool yarn, has gros point design of single huge rose in varied shades of pink and spray of green leaves in two tones.

Good Business Ideas Will Be Accepted Only If They Are Presented Properly

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I keep getting good ideas for ways in which stores could improve their businesses, or advertisers could improve their slogans — all kinds of good ideas — but nobody ever listens to them. I just get polite turn-downs."

Anyone in the personnel field is apt to hear that complaint with monotonous regularity. It frequently comes from older women who have been at home all their lives and who have been customers of these stores and businesses.

Often, there is some value in their ideas. But they go about it the wrong way.

The only way to get a business to listen to your ideas is to get into the business. If you are on the outside, you have two strikes against you.

First, without knowing the particular situation from the inside, your bright idea is apt to be highly impractical for reasons of which you aren't aware.

Second, there are legal complications for the company that takes outside ideas — they may have been used before, and the company might then be open to suit.

Mrs. Helen R. is an example of a woman who handled her idea properly.

"I always wondered why our local stores didn't make things more convenient for the shopper," she told me.

"Sometimes you had to chase all over the store to assemble several items that logically went together. Why couldn't a store put them all together in one place?"

"I used to be privately about it," she went on. "But then the day came when I desperately needed a job."

"I applied at our big department store, and they took me on as a salesgirl. I liked the selling, but I certainly didn't want to stay at it forever."

For a month in the summer, they stuck me in the store's flower shop. I got acquainted with my customers. They were all people who cared about plants and flowers — most of them had terraces or backyards or gardens.

"Often they would ask me where to find grills for outdoor cooking, and other similar things."

"Finally I suggested to my supervisor that we set up an 'Outdoor Chef' department, right next to the flower shop. I thought we should assemble all the grills and cooking equipment, all the fancy herbs and utensils, even the wonderful chef's aprons and caps."

"The flower shop customers would be likely buyers for such things, and if these were in an adjoining department, I thought we might do a lot of business."

Helen R. had a good idea and the store recognized it. They put her in charge of that department, and she is doing extremely well.

Moral: Business wants your ideas, but only if you present them in a businesslike manner.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Old People Should Learn How to Receive Gratefully

"I'm of no use any more, to myself or anyone else."

That, according to a specialist in the field of geriatrics, is the frequent plaint of old people. Scientists who are working in the field of medicine dealing with the aging hope to find soon a way to employ the still-active skills and energies of their patients so that they won't get into this melancholy state.

The feeling of being unneeded is especially difficult to bear for men and women who had thrown themselves wholeheartedly into their life job, whether this was raising a family or running a business. Loneliness and boredom become acute for the mothers of big families when their children leave home.

Men who have had the responsibility of making important decisions and carrying heavy burdens in industry often collapse when they retire and find their business still going on without them.

Fortunately, future generations may have less difficulty with this problem, for the effort from now on will be to prepare human beings for old age before they reach it. In fact, there is time for all of us still working to take lessons.

My teacher might easily be my mother. She was typical of Middlewestern women of her time. We were poor, her children—five of us—came close together, and because my father always felt that big luck was just around the corner, we moved constantly from one farm to another.

For years, my mother got up at 4 every morning, and I can scarcely remember a time in my childhood when she wasn't busy at something — sweeping, churning, baking, cooking, nursing a sick child.

I thought she worked far too hard, and I was always planning for the time when she could have leisure and pretty hats and dresses.

Yet when we children were in a position to make life easier for our mother, we discovered that being on the receiving end was almost unbearable for her. After we had all gone away from her, she went with my father to live in Florida and complained that even the flowers, blooming in profusion in the agreeable climate, didn't really need her ministrations.

She sent us all boxes of our favorite foods, she wrote us long letters, and whenever she could get hold of a grandchild, she did a good deal of spoiling, but it didn't seem to be enough.

Then she had a stroke which left her unable to walk without help. She had to have a nurse who washed her, dressed her and tended her as if she were a baby. My mother felt so utterly useless that she just wanted to die.

Then, because she was a deeply religious woman, she began to

New Purses Accent Slim Silhouette

Oval, Rectangular Lines Are Autumn Pace-Setters

NEW YORK (NEA)—Depth is the most important single feature of the new fall handbags. It's depth that ties in with the slender fashion silhouette, that makes handbags more dramatic and more elegant.

In a year of a lean, spare silhouette, accessories take on added importance. That's why the newest bags are deeply rectangular or deeply oval.

There are many big bucket bags, pouches and market bags. Even the ever-popular box shows signs of change: It's become deeper or it's elongated.

Elegance follows depth in importance. Bags this year are elegant in cut, line and detailing. Materials are rich and so are the trimmings.

Suede gets emphasis as a good companion to fall fabrics such as broadcloth and zibeline. It sometimes appears solo, then again is used in combination with another leather in a bag.

Patent gloves on into fall but this time its role is that of trimming.

Velvet bags have almost as much importance as suede since this is a year of velvet fashions in ready-to-wear.

These are stressed for wear with smooth fabrics but can also form an alliance with other velvet accessories.

Bags of both fake and real fur appear as deep pouches, satchels, giant market bags. Rabbit fur is dyed to take on the look of leopard, zebra or ermine.

Silvery mouton is one of the real furs that's getting ahead in handbag fashion—since it's reasonably priced.

Consider Money a Tool and Teach Kids to Use It

We all want our children to show good sense about dollars and cents. But we sometimes forget that the ability to spend wisely comes from experience and practice.

Writing in two national magazines, Sidonie M. Gruenberg, formerly director and now consultant of the Child Study Association of America, shows how a child can learn to handle money wisely. Says she:

"If we can only think of money as a tool, we will see that the only way a child can learn to use it skillfully is by using it. A weekly allowance offers him this necessary firsthand spending experience."

Of course he will make mistakes in the beginning, she admits. He may waste his allowance by buying candy and junk. She adds: "Learning is a slow process of trial and error. Your child learns from his mistakes as well as from his wise buys. If he spends his last quarter on a flimsy toy truck he will feel disappointed when the wheels drop off."

Chances are, next time he inspect that tempting toy more carefully before he pays good money for it."

Of course a youngster can learn this without being given a weekly allowance, she says, but not nearly so well. Hit-or-miss handouts are like pennies from heaven.

He can't plan ahead when he knows neither when he will have money nor how much. If he always gets his money on the spur of the moment or if he has to haggle and beg for every cent, he can't learn to take responsibility for spending and he never needs to think of saving.

There are, too, other ways in which a child gets lessons in spending, she points out. Boys and girls learn about money by doing minor marketing for mother or going along on shopping trips for clothing and housewares. Children can take part in some of the purchases the family makes for the home.

The amount of money you allot your child is really not so important as seeing to it that he can count on a definite sum each week, she says. There isn't any right amount for every child at a given age.

The family budget and the price of things will influence the amount you can afford to set aside, and this can be explained to the child. Other questions to consider are these: Where do you live?

Are there lots of alluring neighborhood stores, providing plenty of opportunity for spending? What things does your child need to buy? How much spending money do his friends have?

Playmates' allowances need not dictate the precise amount you give your own child, but knowing the facts will help you make a reasonable estimate. Family incomes differ, and allowances among children of the same age will also differ, she says.

Webster Cub Scouts Tour Historic Places

Twenty-five Webster School Cub Scouts of Pack 9 toured several historic places in Pontiac as well as the police and fire stations and the Oakland County Courthouse Thursday afternoon.

They were accompanied by Mrs. David Sidwell and Mrs. David Willson, both den mothers. The Cubs went to Apple Island in Orchard Lake, where Chief Pontiac is believed to be buried, and visited two old iron hitching posts on Williams street.

AAUW Has Gathering on Monday

A report on the International Federation of University Women which met in London in August was heard when Pontiac Branch of AAUW gathered Monday evening at the YWCA.

Ismay McNaughton, social studies teacher from Flint, told how meeting other professional people around a conference table gave her a chance to gain insight into the thinking and customs of many people of the world.

She also showed colored slides of her trip and her stay at Oxford, where she attended the World Conference of Teachers.

Mrs. Clarence Huemiller introduced new members preceding Miss McNaughton's talk, and it was announced that Mrs. Robert Anderson will head a study group to take up the problem of juvenile delinquency in Oakland County.

Hostesses for the evening were Wilma Edline, Cora Krueger and Amy Krueger. Name tags were made by Clara Gaylord.

Attends Meeting

Mrs. Carl Clifford of North Telegraph road attended a meeting of the International Piano Guild of America Monday in Detroit.

French Rabbit Population Succumbing to Disease
PARIS (INS) — France's rabbit population is threatened with extinction because a French landowner got angry over paying heavy fines for damage to his neighbors' crops by rabbits from his own property.
And several industries are facing hard times because of the situation.
Already 20 per cent of France is ravaged by "myxomatosis," a rabbit's disease reportedly created in Australia by order of the government to rid the country of rabbits which were destroying Australia's crops and driving it to famine.
The disease is rapidly engulfing the French rabbit world. Pasteur Institute warned that the "myxomatosis" epidemic will be the worst of all such known diseases within two years.
It predicted all Europe's cottontails will be struck by the disease if proper vaccinations are not given to the healthy ones. Some rabbits reportedly have already been vaccinated.
The plague started at the end of last year. A French landowner angrily revolted against paying heavy fines imposed upon him for damages on his land in the region of Chateaufort-en-Thymerais near Dreux West of Paris.
He decided that the only way

Bob Considine Says:

Hollywood Publicist Pens Minor Work on Redheads

NEW YORK (INS)—As this is written, a Broadway and Hollywood publicity man and sometime magazine contributor, Irving Hoffman, is starting on a four-month trip around the world. It may be his last.

The eyesight of this still young man is failing so badly that he—who has roamed the world at every possible opportunity in recent years wants to be certain he sees the rest of it before the long night sets in.

Our paths have seldom crossed. His life was bound to the theater, the screen and the anonymous production of some of our better known Broadway columns from time to time. But I'd occasionally see him on an off-Broadway story, like a trial or hearing.

The purpose of the above, really, is to salute (in a state of wonder) a man who goes to more effort to get a "plug" in a newspaper for a client than any publicist of my experience.

Lord only knows how many reputations as industrious diggers for detail the man has made for blokes who find it more and more tiresome through the years to pick up a telephone.

Here's an example of the man's work in behalf of a picture named "The Golden Blade," starring one Piper Laurie. The picture, which I will not see until it shows up on color radio or, still later, reaches my neighborhood, apparently has to do generally with the sensual efficacy of red headed females.

Hoffman sends a 7½-page type-written treatise on red hair that has only one mention of the Universal-International film. The American Peoples' Encyclopedia, which is the most up-to-date I know about, could not begin to scrutinize the subject as thoroughly.

From this tract I learn:

"G. Calvert Holland, an 11-time hair expert, may have lived a hundred years ago, but he sure was thinking of those Hollywood redheads when he described red-haired misses. 'They have,' he said, 'well-formed chests and active abdominal viscera.'"

"Judging from their plays, the Greeks really had a word for red hair, and it wasn't good. When actors wore black wigs, they signified villains; blonde wigs meant young heroes; red wigs—unfaithful slaves."

"The first great red-haired beauty—Helen of Troy—was still so beautiful at the age of 40, when she was executed, her executioner was ordered to blindfold himself—just in case. . . . Even though Cleopatra was a dazzling redhead, she always wore a black wig."

And so on. This gives you an idea.

There are pages more of it, and about half way through it I forget the name of the picture. But, anyway, happy trip, Mr. H. See it all, and it will always be with you.

Auditors Check Clerk's Records

Already Find Shortage of $40,000 in Wayne County Court Office

DETROIT (UP)—Auditors checked through the records of a former court clerk today in an effort to trace shortages of more than $40,000 in her books.

Willie E. Davey, chief Wayne county accountant, said it was possible the shortage figure might rise to as high as $100,000 in the books of the late Mrs. Freda Crofutt, chancery clerk of Wayne County Circuit Court commissioners.

Davey began an audit of the widow's books following her death Sept. 30.

He was asked to do so by presiding Commissioner Arthur W. Sempliner, who said he discovered what he believed to be "irregularities" while seeking to dispose of a $30 rent check.

Sempliner said Mrs. Crofutt had held her court job since the office of circuit court commissioner was created in 1918.

"She was sole custodian of money received and paid out in the sale of property on mortgage and land contract foreclosures and partitions of property in joint ownership," he said.

Davey said his auditors found shortages in 64 of the cases they studied so far.

Mrs. Crofutt, who was earning $6,096 a year at the time of her death, lived alone in a sumptuous Detroit waterfront hotel. Friends said she never was known to have taken vacations.

Sempliner said that "routine inspections" during the past 35 years had failed to turn up any "irregularities" in Mrs. Crofutt's books.

Bath Farmer Killed

May Ask for Boost in Minimum Wage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration was reported today seriously considering asking Congress to increase the present 75-cent-an-hour minimum wage.

Former Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin had decided before he resigned last month to ask White House clearance for a request to raise the minimum to $1. Durkin's successor, James P. Mitchell, is now putting finishing touches on all the department's legislative proposals. Responsible sources, both on Capitol Hill and in the Labor Department, said they think Mitchell will give full support to a higher minimum wage and that the odds are in favor of White House endorsement.

Also Will Report on Civil Defense

List for Commission Tonight Includes Many Street Hearings

Pontiac City Commission tonight will hear a report from City Manager Walter K. Willman on plans and cost estimate for a new branch library.

The library would be located at Glenwood Ave. and Rundell St. and cost about $60,000. It would be the first library construction undertaken by Pontiac.

Willman also will report on the reorganization of Pontiac's civil defense set-up.

He has indicated the system would be "within the scope of the city's permanent staff under a director to be named by the City Commission."

An ordinance to make it unlawful for any person to leave outdoors any icebox, refrigerator or container with a door or lock that cannot be opened from the inside will be given a second reading.

The Commission will hold public hearings on the following:

Straight curb, gutter and related work on Deland from Oakland to Murray. Two-inch blacktop pavement on Nebraska from Franklin to Howard. Storm drain on Center from Osburn to a point north of Park place.

Storm drain on Center from Auburn to a point south of Judson. Curb, gutter and related work on Center from Auburn to Whittemore. Resurfacing to C-1 lots 11 to 18 and 71 to 78 of the Perry addition.

Resurfacing to R-3 lots 11 to 18 and 71 to 78 of the Perry addition. Resurfacing to R-3 lots 80 to 108 of the Linda Vista subdivision. A communication from Milton F. Cooney regarding his resignation as a member of the Civil Defense Council will be heard. A request from the Hawthorne School Parent-Teacher Association for sidewalk construction will be considered.

The Commission will tabulate bids for construction of the Paddock street bridge and consider a request for transfer of a beer and wine distributing license at 10 Center St. to Ethel and Donna Stottmeyer and a request to drop a partner from the beer and wine license for 340 Osburn St.

The city engineer will report on estimated construction costs for a sidewalk on west side of Joslyn road from Columbia to Walton.

A hearing will be held on intention to construct a sanitary sewer, pumping station and related work on Brooklyn avenue from Stanley to Kenilworth and on Chicago avenue from Carlisle to the PO&N.

A request by Lottie Brannan on behalf of the Majestic Cafe for a Class C liquor license will be considered, along with a request to purchase property on LeGrande avenue and one to operate a small drop-off and pick-up laundry at 63-65 E. Howard St.

A resolution will be presented to receive a special assessment roll prepared by the city assessor for a water main in Crescent drive from Mt. Clemens to Belvidere.

The following ordinances will be introduced and given first reading:

Resurfacing of outlot A of Washington Park subdivision to C-1. Resurfacing to C-1 lot 108 of assessor's plot 47 providing land for a future alley is desired.

Resurfacing to M-1 part of Section 15 bounded on the west by the eastern line of the Bell Line Railroad, south by the northern line of Perry street, east by the west line of Giddings road and north by the centerline of Section 15.

Resurfacing to C-1 lot 108 of assessor's plot 139, providing a 20-foot alley is taken from the rear of the property. Resurfacing to C-1 lots 1 and 2 of assessor's plot 108, providing a 20-foot alley is left at the rear of the property.

Sweet Potato Chips Latest Nibbling News

STILLWATER, Okla. (U) — The lowly yam finally may get in the chips—sweet potato chips, that is.

After studying the surplus yam situation for years, scientists at Oklahoma A&M think they've finally hit on a solution.

If you can make potato chips from regular potatoes, why not fry up sweet potatoes?

Frank Cross, head of the horticulture department, says experiments show the new chips may soon be the nibbling sensation.

They're big, golden yellow and crisp with the sweet potato flavor brought out.

Some of the first experimental chips have been served this month at field days around Oklahoma and a survey of those munching the delicacy show they're enthusiastic.

"Besides being colorful and tasty, the chips made from sweet potatoes are healthier," Cross pointed out. "They have all the nourishment of regular potato chips plus vitamins."

Only a small part of the sweet potato harvest can be sent to the grocers because the majority is jumbo size and too big and pithy for the table.

The sweet potatoes are processed for chips virtually the same as Irish potatoes.

Over Trieste Issue Italian Students in Rome Demonstrate Against Reds

ROME (U)—Club-swinging police beat back protesting Italian students in front of the Russian Embassy today as demonstrations over the disputed free territory of Trieste broke out in various parts of Rome.

The students answered the police club attacks with sticks. Many of the demonstrators were bruised but no serious injuries were reported.

Hundreds paraded elsewhere, carrying Italian flags, angrily shouting against Yugoslav President Tito's stand on Trieste and demanding the strategic Adriatic Peninsula be returned to Italy.

Some of the demonstrators marched past the Yugoslav legation near the heart of the city but no violence was reported as mobile riot police, armed with sub-machine guns guarded the building.

It was the first demonstration in Rome on the Trieste issue since the United States and Britain announced Oct. 8 they planned to pull out their 7,000 occupation troops from Zone A of the free territory, including the port city of Trieste, and turn the area over to Italian administration.

Huge placards read: "Tito Equals Russia," "Tito Leave Trieste," and "Long Live the Italian Army." And the students shouted "Down with Tito" and "Slavs Out of Trieste."

The demonstration in front of the Russian Embassy apparently was in protest against the Soviet demand that the Security Council meet soon to appoint an international administration for the area under permanent U.N. supervision.

Both Italy and Yugoslavia have denounced the Russian move, but Italians believe such a proposal favors Yugoslavia more than their own country.

Thousands of teenagers and university students milled around the Russian embassy. Armed police grabbed the suspected ringleaders and trundled them off in army vans. The arrested demonstrators sang pro-Trieste songs as they were driven away.

There were so many police in the area that their jeeps and trucks tied up traffic for blocks. Demonstrators in other parts of the city also stalled the morning rush hour.

Thousands of other students staged demonstrations in front of the American and British embassies but police kept them at a distance and there was no scuffling.

Yugoslavs already have reacted violently on several occasions to the latest Western decisions on Trieste, with attacks on the American and British diplomatic mission installations and personnel in Belgrade.

The Yugoslav demonstrations have subsided, but officials of that independent Communist country continued to voice their determination to fight to the bitter end the Allied decision to give Trieste to Italy.

Ballot Listings Supply Names Careful Process Assures Court's Supply of Jurors

The names of 600 persons from every voting precinct in Oakland County are submitted to the County Clerk's office each year as prospective jurors for trials in Circuit Court.

The Board of Review of each political subdivision in the county submits a specified number of names, based on population figures, from the tax rolls.

Choice of these names is made each year about March 1, sorted according to voting precincts, and filed in the clerk's office. Each name is typed on a separate slip of paper before filing.

When the presiding judge of each term of court notifies the clerk to draw jurors, (from 40 to 130 are chosen each term) names are picked alternately from city and township slips.

All names are drawn from a large box by the Oakland County sheriff in the presence of the county clerk and a justice of the peace or municipal judge.

These names are then culled for persons who have served jury duty within the past 12 months, those physically unable to answer the jury call or for those persons that would suffer a personal hardship by serving as a juror.

This system of culling and choosing is repeated until the required number of jurors has been chosen.

These individuals are notified by the sheriff that they are to serve on a jury and the regular 12-man jury is chosen by the court clerk before each trial.

Each person serving jury duty is paid $6 a day plus six cents per mile for traveling to and from court.

Lt. Stahl to Retire From State Police

LANSING (UP)—Michigan State Police today announced the retirement on pension of Lt. Erdman W. C. Stahl, assistant commander of the East Lansing District, after completion of more than 25 years service.

Stahl, whose retirement will start Nov. 1, joined the state police in 1926 and served in posts at Paw Paw, St. Clair, Bay City, Gaylord, Romeo, Cheboygan and East Lansing.

Stahl, who has three citations for meritorious service and two honorable mentions, became a sergeant in 1938 and lieutenant in 1950.

Transworld Makes Aviation History

NEW YORK (U)—A Transworld Airlines Constellation today completed what the company described as the first scheduled non-stop transcontinental passenger flight in history.

The plane arrived at Idlewild Airport at 6:26 a. m. (EST), 8 hours and 17 minutes after it left Los Angeles to inaugurate daily service.

It had been expected to make the trip in eight hours, but a slight ground fog delayed the craft's landing.

Among those aboard the 64-passenger skyliner was Mrs. Helen Wright Russell, a niece of the late aviation pioneer, Orville and Wilbur Wright, and their closest surviving relative.

Last night an American Airlines DC-7 landed in New York after a flight of 6 hours and 52 minutes from Los Angeles. The airline said the flight was a training operation for regular non-stop service to start Nov. 29.

DR. JOHN M. STEVENS

Supervisor's Aide Named by Hospital

Pontiac State Hospital today announced the appointment of Dr. John M. Stevens as assistant medical superintendent.

Dr. Ivan LaCore, medical superintendent of the 3,000-patient institution, named Dr. Stevens his assistant subject to approval of Michigan Mental Health Commission. The new assistant superintendent had been assistant clinical director for a year.

He joined the Pontiac State Hospital staff in 1950 as a psychiatrist.

Homes of the Famous

1775. HANCOCK-CLARKE HOUSE, Lexington, Mass.

On April 18, 1775, Paul Revere galloped by this old house, spreading the alarm to the country folk. Asleep in the house, until aroused by his call, were John Hancock and Samuel Adams. Later, John Hancock's signature would stand out prominently on the Declaration of Independence.

The gambrel-roofed portion of the house (now the ell) was built by Hancock's grandfather, the Rev. John Hancock, in 1698; and its hand-hewn oaken frame shows little sign of decay. The signer's father was born here.

In 1734 the residence was enlarged to its present size and at the outbreak of the Revolution was the home of the Rev. Jonas Clarke.

The property today serves as headquarters of the Lexington Historical Society.

McCarthy, Stevens to Visit Monmouth

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) goes today to the Ft. Monmouth, N. J., Army Signal Corps radar laboratories to check on security and look for leads in his investigation of alleged espionage.

Accompanying him on the trip is Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens. Their arrival time was uncertain.

McCarthy contends his Senate Investigations subcommittee has unearthed evidence that a spy ring formerly headed by the executed atomic spy, Julius Rosenberg, stole secret documents from the installation.

Military Order to Meet

LANSING (UP)—The 52nd Annual reunion of the Michigan Commandery, Military Order of Foreign Wars, will be held here Saturday, Oct. 31.

Brig. Gen. S. L. A. Marshall, Detroit News military analyst and member of the Army Historical Division, will be principal speaker, reporting on his recent inspection tours in Germany and Korea.

Other speakers will include Brig. Gen. John W. Morgan, New York, commander general of the National Commandery. Col. Frank G. Millard, state attorney general and vice commander of the state military organization, will be chairman of arrangements for the reunion and toastmaster for the banquet session.

Two Michigan airmen recently returned from Korean prison camps, Capt. Byron Dobbs, Clio, and Lt. Dennis F. Haley, Lansing, will be honor guests.

Other honor guests will be Maj. Gen. William B. Kean, Chicago, commanding general of the 5th Army, and Lt. Col. Roy A. Jameson, senior Army adviser to the Michigan National Guard.

A Century of Contribution

U. of M. Engineering College Celebrates Centennial

ANN ARBOR (U)—A century of contribution to Michigan industry stands behind the University of Michigan College of Engineering which celebrates its 100th birthday this week.

From the 1850's when the campus' one engineering building was heated by immense wood-burning stoves to the present day with its plans for a 267-acre North Campus, a substantial part of the engineering college's work has been devoted to industrial research.

In the old days, the Michigan engineer included among his studies courses in bridge construction and the distribution of water in cities. He was also expected to know which season of the year was best for working earthen roads and the most economical way to grade a hill.

Today, however, the college records among its achievements work on the problem of shore erosion around the Great Lakes and a survey of Michigan shore lines, a bridge-planning project conducted with the cooperation of the state automobile seat designs for the Detroit auto industry, investigations into methods of smoke control, and the design and development of a capacitor-type single-phase alternating current motor.

Formal celebration of the centennial begins with registration Thursday, Oct. 22 and will run through Saturday.

Featured speakers will include Secretary of Defense Wilson, who will speak on "The Continuing Frontier," Harvey M. Merker, James W. Parker, a past chairman of the industrial advisory group to the Atomic Energy Commission, and Robert Moses, New York City Park commissioner.

General chairman of the centennial celebration is Prof. Stephen S. Atwood of the University of Michigan Chemical Engineering Department.

The celebration will be highlighted by the dedication of the $1,150,000 Cooley Memorial Laboratory on the North Campus Saturday.

Farmer Given 20-Day Stay

Schreiber Granted Time to Harvest Crop Before Beginning Sentence

LAPEER—Floyd Schreiber, the second Lapeer County farmer convicted in a row over eviction of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens, has been granted 20 days of freedom before beginning a term at Southern Michigan Prison.

The 20-day stay of commitment was granted by Circuit Judge Anthony C. Quinn to allow Schreiber time to harvest his corn crop. Schreiber's wife is also expecting her ninth child during the stay.

Schreiber was one of 10 farmers charged with assaulting Sheriff Clark Gregory when he and a deputy attempted to evict Mrs. Stevens in June, 1952. Her farm was sold at auction for failure to pay a judgment after the collapse of the Lapeer County Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Assn. in 1936.

Gregory returned with reinforcements a month after he was driven off by the angry farmers and successfully evicted Mrs. Stevens.

Schreiber was convicted last month and Judge Quinn sentenced him yesterday to 18 months to two years but recommended the shorter term.

Erwin Russell drew a similar sentence several weeks ago. Eight others similarly accused, of the assault on Gregory still face trial. Dates for trying the remaining eight have not been set.

2 Men Plead Guilty to Station Holdup

Two Pontiac men pleaded guilty and waived examination Monday before Pontiac Judge Maurice P. Finnegan to an armed robbery charge.

The men, Joseph Slusher, 17, and Frank Freely, 53, both of a local hotel, were returned to Oakland County Jail after failure to produce $5,000 bonds each.

Slusher and Freely are charged with the Oct. 17 toy pistol hold-up of a filling station at 605 S. Saginaw St., in which $158 was taken.

HEROINE—Anne Louise Krause, above, stewardess aboard the ill-fated Eastern Airlines plane which crashed shortly after taking off from New York's International Airport is credited with saving the lives of all but two of the 27 persons aboard the plane, The Philadelphia, Pa., girl ignoring her own severe burns, calmly led the passengers to safety.

$700 Is Taken in Two Holdups

2 Bandits Rob Ferndale Service Station, Avon Township Hardware

Two holdups, one in Ferndale early today and the other in Avon Township Monday, netted bandits a total of nearly $700, according to police reports.

A filling station attendant, Kenneth Cody of 512 Vester St., was robbed of $177 and his money changer, and tied by his belt in a back room of the station at Nine Mile Rd. and Hilton Rd. in Ferndale.

Cody told police that two men, about five feet nine, weighing about 160 and dressed in hunting clothes, asked for service after driving into the station. No weapon was shown during the holdup. The bandits were last seen driving East on Nine Mile Road.

Two armed men Monday held up the McBride Hardware at 1927 Auburn Rd., Avon Township, and escaped with $500 in bills, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

R. B. McBride, owner of the store, told deputies that a teen-ager youth held a gun on him while a second bandit collected the money.

According to police reports, the holdups were not made by the same men.

Lake Orion Girl Injured as Driver Loses Control

A 17-year-old Lake Orion girl is in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital today with internal injuries suffered last night in an auto accident on Metamora road west of M-24.

Marilyn May of 224 S. Conklin Rd. told Oakland County sheriff's deputies she was riding with Michael Nagel of 4943 Baldwin Rd. on M-24 when Nagel veered onto Metamora Rd. to avoid an oncoming car and lost control of his vehicle.

Three-fourths of the active volcanoes are in the Pacific half of the globe.

Gilleos' Trial Delayed for Day

Pair Accused of Slaying Detroit Restaurant Man in Oak Park

The first degree murder trial of Eugene and Roberta Gilleo in the slaying of a Detroit restaurateur in Oak Park Aug. 2 was recessed today in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Judge Frank L. Doty is presiding and Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem is representing the state.

The jury of nine women and three men heard 18 witnesses testify Monday on the first day of the trial.

The trial resumes Wednesday at 9:30 a.m.

Gilleo, 27, and his 22-year-old wife are charged with the death of John Caruso, 58, owner of a restaurant at 10339 Woodward Ave., whose body was discovered Aug. 3 in a roadside ditch 25 miles south of Toledo.

Although the couple admitted the killing in a statement to Ziem they pleaded innocent when arraigned before Judge Doty Sept. 11. The Gilleos were arrested in Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 18 when police recognized their auto from an FBI description.

Gilleo's attorney, Arthur J. Hollis, and Mrs. Gilleo's attorney, Phil Pratt, said their clients may take the stand in their own defense later in the week.

MSC, Terps Press Irish for Grid Lead

Spartans Make Strong Gain in Weekly Ballot

Cut Notre Dame's Edge to Only 46 Points on Total of 1107

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK (AP)—Notre Dame is leading the national football ranking list for the fourth straight week, but next Saturday the Fighting Irish faces a double threat to their hold on first place.

After last week's 23-14 victory over Pittsburgh, Notre Dame polled 57 first-place votes out of 134 cast in the fourth weekly Associated Press ranking poll. The Irish haven't been displaced since the nation's sports writers and broadcasters picked them in the preseason poll as the team most likely to succeed.

But their two closest rivals in the weekly balloting, Michigan State and Maryland, were closer than ever before when the points were totaled up on the usual basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, etc.

Notre Dame wound up with 1,153 points and a margin of only 46 points over runner-up Michigan State. A week ago, Notre Dame had 74 first-place votes and 1,226 points to 14 and 977 for Michigan State.

Not only is the balloting closer, but on Saturday Notre Dame must meet fourth-ranked Georgia Tech in a game that could completely upset the standings. Tech, a team that didn't show much offense in its early games, got started against Tulane a week ago and rolled over threatening Auburn by a 36-6 count last Saturday to climb from sixth place to fourth in the rankings.

Michigan State, an easy winner over Indiana, collected 31 votes for first place and 1,107 points this week while Maryland, breezing past North Carolina as easily as its earlier opponents, polled 27 firsts and 1,004 points. Georgia Tech, with only three firsts, received 769 points.

The top 10 (first-place votes in parentheses):
1. Notre Dame (57) 1153
2. Michigan State (31) 1107
3. Maryland (27) 1004
4. Georgia Tech (3) 769
5. Michigan 683
6. Baylor (1) 623
7. Illinois (1) 531
8. West Virginia (12) 299
9. Oklahoma (1) 287
10. Navy 158

He's Lost No Skill Stamina Is Only Item Earle Sande Is Lacking

By JOHN CHANDLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Old-timers as well as present-day racing officials and observers agreed today that Earl Sande hasn't lost any of the riding skill that made him the nation's premier jockey in the Golden Twenties.

It is just that at the age of 54 years, "the Handy Guy" doesn't have the stamina to ride a full day's program every afternoon—something Sande himself is first to admit.

"He still has the quality that makes great riders," said Marshall Cassidy, steward representing the Jockey Club at New York tracks.

"From the stands, he looks almost identical to the Sande of 25 years ago, crouching low and with his head down riding all out to win. You recognize him instantly," Cassidy said.

Eddie Arcaro, acknowledged the top rider of the present generation, said he couldn't compare the Sande of today with other years. "I was just starting out West when Sande retired, and I never saw him then. I have seen him a few times since he returned, and I think he'll make the grade, for he looks awfully good on a horse."

Another who was impressed with the grey-haired rider who's back in the saddle because "I need the money" is Clem McCarthy, the veteran announcer.

"I guess I saw him ride in 200 races, many of his greatest," said McCarthy. "When I saw him again the other day, I could see that he'll teach a lot of the younger riders how it should be done."

Clarenceville Host to 5 Harrier Teams

Second annual Clarenceville Invitational cross country meet will be held this afternoon at the course near the school on Middlebelt road. Livonia Bentley, which won last year's meet, is not competing this time.

Five schools are in the field, including the host team. Others are Milford, Keego Harbor, Avondale and Howell. Milford's Dick Jackman is the individual favorite. Meet starts at 4:15 p.m.

Midget Football Program Slated Saturday Night

Youngsters Will Play Six Exhibition Games at Wisner Stadium

Youngsters from the city midget football leagues will have a chance Saturday night to show what they've learned in the program this fall.

Occasion will be the annual Midget Football Night, featuring games involving eight 5th and 6th grade teams and four 7th-grade squads. Kickoff time for the 1st game is set for 7 p.m. at Wisner Memorial Stadium.

Event is under the joint auspices of the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce, Board of Education and City Recreation Department. First $300 proceeds, after expenses, will go back into the midget grid program and the remainder will be used in the junior chamber of commerce youth activities fund, according to jaycee chairman William L. Treanor.

Tickets may be obtained from jaycee members or at downtown stores.

Alert Defense Wins for Preps

By JACK SAYLOR

Defensive alertness keynoted a number of prep football games in the Oakland County area last Friday.

Fumbles and intercepted passes were responsible for the decisions in at least four important games involving county eleven.

Brighton dropped on a Keego Harbor huddle at the 15-yard line, moved in to score the game's only touchdown in a 6-0 upset of the previously undefeated Presidents. Milford used a similar break in dumping Holly, 6-0.

Angelo Carritti recovered a Holly fumble on the 30-yard line and Jerry Winterhalter passed to Jim Davidson for the score. Winterhalter was a standout in the backfield along with Don Colegrove and Chuck Redmond.

End Don Peruchin turned in another fine performance both ways and tackled Davis, Siocum and Dean Wentworth also starred.

Head-up play of Joe Burke and Bob Parent gained a 13-13 tie for Holly and Southfield.

Burke recovered a fumble in the 1st quarter and the Vikings tallied on a 10-yard pass from Mike Ryan to John Reid.

In the 3rd period, Parent intercepted a Southfield pass and ran 60 yards to the Bluejays' 10. Ryan scored on a sneak, Southfield's fine back, Bill Long, registered both of his team's TD's, one from four yards out and the other on a 57-yard screen pass.

Berkley broke up a 6-6 deadlock with Rochester on a fumble recovery in the 3rd period after which Harry Berman plunged over from the two. Game was tied in the final quarter when Dick Wolstenholme went 16 yards with a pass interception.

Paul Delaire tallied for Rochester on a 28-yard run.

Waterford's backfield stars sparked in the Skippers' 19-0 win over Farmington. Kerry Keating ran for 114 yards and scored on a 22-yard run. The fleet-footed halfback also scampered 81 yards on a double reverse, but the TD was nullified by an offside penalty.

Ray Campbell showed no ill effects from the automobile accident he was in last week by traveling 71 yards in seven carries, including a 21-yard touchdown run. Fullback Pat O'Neill averaged five yards per try, scored a touchdown and played well defensively.

Van Dyke's ace halfback, Johnny Malone, pulled a 20-13 win over Hamtramck out of the fire with an 80-yard punt return for a TD in the final minute. Another all-state candidate, Dick Nash of Royal Oak, got a pair of touchdowns against Monroe.

Imlay City went on a nine-touchdown spree against Ortonville, winning 60-14. Dick Campbell and Leonard Schuneman tallied two apiece. Romeo uncovered a sophomore flash in John McFall.

McFall, a six-foot, 160-pounder, paced the Bulldogs to a 19-0 triumph over Lapeer by scoring two touchdowns himself on runs of 8 and 36 yards and setting up another with a 25-yard pass to Bob Griffin.

Jim Miller May Answer Badgers' Problem at QB

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Has Ivy Williamson come up with another sleeper?

On the basis of one football game, it seems possible the wily Wisconsin coach has produced a capable sophomore quarterback for the second year running, this one a 169-pound youngster named Jim Miller.

Young Miller, making his first collegiate start, had a field day Saturday as Wisconsin opened defense of its Big 10 co-championship with a 28-19 victory over Purdue, with whom it shared the title a year ago.

The kid from Eau Claire, Wis., scored two touchdowns, ran for 88 yards on five stabs and completed two of six passes for 32 yards.

Even Williamson, who is not given to lavish praise, admits he may have something in Miller.

"He's quick," the Badger coach says, "he can be off in a flash. His greatest opportunities develop when he drops back to pass and the defense begins to scatter."

"You know, there's a little bit of Giel in that boy."

Giel, the Minnesota All-American, was the lad who almost alone

Skaters Seen in Exhibition at Rolladium

City's U. S. Champions Stage Demonstration on Monday Evening

A skating exhibition, featuring members of the most outstanding team ever to represent Pontiac in an American championship, was held Monday evening at the Pontiac Rolladium.

Laurene Anselmy, 3-time winner of the national senior ladies title, appeared in a solo number, while junior pairs champions Martha Lee Rogers and Gary Meeker gave a pairs exhibition.

Dance exhibitions were given by Patricia Jarrard and Mary Landon, who recently earned gold medals in skating; Susan Danner, Sherill Lyon and Robert Mills, 2nd and 3rd place winners in the recent American event, were introduced.

The first time Detroit Lion rookie Lew Carpenter got the ball in a regular National Football League game he ran for a touchdown on a 73-yard interception return against the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Wings' Rookie Leads Scorers

Reibel Tops Teammate Gordie Howe With 11 Points in 2 Weeks

MONTREAL (AP)—Earl (Dutch) Reibel, brash young center of the Detroit Red Wings tops the National Hockey League scorers with 11 points with the season only two weeks old, official statistics revealed today.

The rookie center is two points ahead of Gordie Howe, his teammate and defending champion. Boom Boom Geoffrion of Montreal is tied with Detroit's Ted Lindsay for third, each with eight points.

Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, Canadiens' veteran stickman, has five goals to lead that department.

Terry Sawchuk of the Red Wings heads the goalies with a 1.67 goals-against average.

Talent Spread Too Thin for American and NL Rivals to Seriously Threaten Yankees and Dodgers

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—In this waning autumn season of Indian summer, it is generally conceded in baseball circles that the Yankees and the Dodgers are far in front for 1954.

This is football time, but there is still a slight opening for some baseball talk. It might be said in advance that the Dodgers would be in an even surer position if they were not so jittery, especially Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella and Carl Furillo, about being hit with a pitched ball.

Brooklyn pitchers socked Yogi Berra in the back twice. If that had been Campanella there would have been a riot. Yogi took it as part of the game, not as an attack to murder him.

Robinson's charge that Casey Stengel ordered his pitchers to "stick it in their ear" is, of course, a complete falsehood.

Getting back to the dominance of Yankees and Dodgers, it now comes to a matter of picking the team or teams who might challenge the eagle's aerie in 1954.

In the American League, the Indians, White Sox and Red Sox finished in the first division. You can throw the other four out. The Indians still have the pitching and Al Rosen. They haven't too much else.

White Sox have an able manager, Billy Pierce and Virgil Trucks, a good shortstop and nothing else you speak about. Red Sox have the best team coming up. Lou Boudreau, the Red Sox manager, felt well satisfied with the way things were coming along.

"We already have a fine defensive team," he said. "And we have others who may be much better on offense. And there is still Ted Williams, our .400 hitter, keen to have another full year at it."

What is happening to the National League? It is just as badly off as the American League is. National League teams, outside of Milwaukee, were even further away from the Dodgers.

Milwaukee has the better chance, but Milwaukee has to be much stronger than it was last season. What about the Cardinals? They finished far out. And next spring they report without Vinegar Bend Mizell. Phillies have Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons, and Richie Ashburn. Who else? The outlook is dark, drab and dreary.

Cadets Get Up Early

Army's Earl Blaik Still Favors Two Platoons, Despite Upset of Duke II

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—If Coach Earl (Red) Blaik of the Army football team had not previously been recognized as a man of rare distinction, there would be no denying him the accolade now.

Within minutes after his reviving Cadets had upset the Duke Blue Devils at the Polo Grounds last Saturday, the master was on the phone to tell a somewhat starred Associated Press reporter that he still didn't like it—that is, one-platoon football. One can only believe now that Red really means it.

The man who perhaps did more than any other coach to make the two-platoon game fashionable said that his boys were worn to a frazzle, especially those among them who had battled the invaders for the full hour without relief.

Ex-New England Prep Star Is Busy Moving

BOSTON (AP)—Former high school football star Billy Donlan isn't even playing the game this season, but he is keeping New England college gridiron fans on their toes trying to keep track of him.

First he accepted a Harvard scholarship but left after five days because "I just didn't feel at home." He moved to Holy Cross College.

Last night his father said the boy will enroll at Boston College today "so he can be near his ailing mother." Because of the transfers he isn't eligible for freshman football.

TODAY A YEAR AGO—Hugh McElhenny starred as the unbeaten San Francisco 49ers defeated the Chicago Bears 40-16.

'Unconscious' Is Summation of Stanford's Play

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—"Bob Garrett got unconscious!" That's how Stanford coach Chuck Taylor explains his Indians' big upset win, 21-20, over then No. 4 ranked UCLA Saturday.

"And his receivers simply couldn't drop anything," Taylor added today. "I anticipate we'll never again see a passing day like that at Stanford."

"I don't know what UCLA could have done. How can you stop a pass attack that's unconscious?"

T-quarterback Garrett completed 13 of 15 passes on two successive touchdown drives of 69 and 63 yards, and 18 of 27 for the day.

Golden Gloves Winner Starts Prison Sentence

FLINT (UP)—Samuel Carson, who won the Golden Gloves heavyweight boxing championship here last spring, began a 3-to-10-year prison term today.

Carson, 22, was sentenced Monday following his conviction on hold-up charges. A jury found Carson guilty of pulling a knife on Charles A. Hutchinson, 56, and taking $42.

Carson, a former champion, was sentenced to 10 years in the Michigan State Prison for the hold-up.

Judy, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lobeck and driven by Irving Utter, won three of six starts and finished a strong 3rd last Wednesday night behind Laurel Scott.

Another Lobeck entry, Fasttime, won on Oct. 7, and finished 3rd Wednesday, but Fasttime-Ellen has yet to visit the winner's circle at Jackson.

Beach Sparks AF Team Win

Walter Beach, former all-around athletic star at Pontiac High School, recently scored the winning touchdown for the Bremerhaven Port of Embarkation (Germany) Blue Devils in a USAF football league game.

The speedy halfback went 16 yards in the last two minutes of play for a score as the Blue Devils defeated Frankfurt's Black Knights, 24-19. He accounted for 182 yards of his team's total 305 in 16 tries for an 11.4 yard average.

Beach, an Airman 1st-Class stationed with the Air Force at Bremerhaven, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Beach Sr., of 592 Wyoming street.

Crawford Mims, senior guard on the University of Mississippi grid team, has started in the last 70 college and high school games in which he has played.

Pontiac Horses Are Busy Campaigners at Jackson

JACKSON—Pontiac pacers and trotters are among the busiest campaigners at the Jackson Raceway fall harness meeting, and one of them, Pastime Judy, is among the top winners.

Judy, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lobeck and driven by Irving Utter, won three of six starts and finished a strong 3rd last Wednesday night behind Laurel Scott.

Another Lobeck entry, Fasttime, won on Oct. 7, and finished 3rd Wednesday, but Fasttime-Ellen has yet to visit the winner's circle at Jackson.

Fast Delivery, owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Shelton and Mr. and Mrs. E. Shelton of Pontiac, has started four times here but has not finished in the money.

Leo Metz' Calvin Mc has been fairly successful at Jackson, having two seconds and a third in three starts. Scotty Hal, another Metz entry, has been in the money 13 times in 21 starts this year including a 1st and a 2nd in his last two Jackson starts.

Marcella Spencer, owned by Edward M. Stout, Sr., and driven by Tommy Winn, has two victories and a place in four Jackson tries.

Quaker Scout Rates Navy Best Since '45

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Red and Blue gridgers of the University of Pennsylvania, smarting under consecutive defeats by California and Ohio State, got little consolation from their backfield coach yesterday.

Bill Talerico, who scouted Navy at their roughed 65-7 victory over Princeton last Saturday, reports the Middles are the best football team out of Annapolis since 1945. That's the last year the Midshipmen marched off Franklin Field with a victory over Penn in the annual rivalry.

The two clash again Saturday with Penn a decided underdog. Last year's contest ended in a 7-7 deadlock.

Dry Fields Problems to Officials, Hunters

By JAMES A. O. CROW
Associated Press Outdoor Writer

A throng of hunters, estimated at more than 250,000, fanned out today over Michigan's dry fields as the season on pheasants and other small game opened in the southern Lower Peninsula.

Widely scattered and light showers did little to relieve the conditions of extreme dryness which was worrying authorities and hunters alike.

The dryness had led at least one county to ask for the closing of hunting to prevent grass and woods fires. Officials of Kalamazoo county asked conservation director

G. E. Eddy to defer the season opening.

Eddy answered he has authority only to recommend that Gov. Williams issue an emergency proclamation.

But, though the condition is bad, Eddy said, it is not bad enough to warrant that recommendation.

He urged all hunters, however, to use the greatest care with fires, lighted matches and tobacco.

The shooting started at 10 a.m. throughout the Lower Peninsula on all species.

Hunters found the dry fields noisy and hard to hunt. Dogs had difficulty working without moisture on the ground.

Southern small game season, which runs through Nov. 10, also opened shooting on rabbits, squirrels and ruffed grouse. Little hunting for these species was being done, however, except incidental to pheasant hunting.

Pheasants were more plentiful than they had been in more than a decade. Conservation department field surveys indicate the population to be up as much as 30 per cent over last year.

Last year's total kill of pheasants was computed at just over 900,000. This year's kill is expected to go over 1,000,000 for the first time since the early 1940's.

The southern upland small game hunters are joining upland game gunners in the north and waterfowl and bow and arrow deer hunters throughout the state, all of whom have been hard at it since Oct. 1.

EASTERN SEASON DELAYED
BOSTON (U.P.)—Massachusetts

woodlands were closed today—the scheduled opening of the hunting season—because of the forest fire menace.

Gov. Hester closed the woods by proclamation yesterday for the third time this year as scores of forest fires blazed in various sections of Massachusetts.

AIR BROWN—It looks like the whole game has taken to the air as these four soccer players tangle about two feet off the ground, during the game between Milan and Florence at Milan. The Florentine goalie (1) got the best of the battle by punching the ball (left) from the area and control of the Milanese player at left, who seems amazed by the whole affair.

Return of Hunting Season Increases Accident Threat

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Return of the hunting season increases the threat of firearm accidents which take about 2,200 lives annually in the United States, warn life insurance statisticians.

Activities most frequently responsible for firearm fatalities in hunting, statisticians report, are: walking into the line of fire; the unintentional discharge of loaded guns when men carrying them trip, or stumble, or handle the weapon carelessly; and hunters being mistaken for game.

More hunters are killed by the guns of their own companions than by the members of other hunting parties. At least four out of every five hunters reported killed by others were shot by members of their own group, statisticians show.

The statisticians point out, however, that firearm accidents in hunt about the home actually account for more deaths than hunting. Many fatal mishaps also occur in outdoor activities other than hunting, and in such indoor places as garages, barns, taverns, and stores.

CASE—Balance in Stride
Keep Footwork in Line — Top bowlers don't vary an inch in stride. Most of them can finish on a dime at the line. In his prime Jimmy Smith practiced sliding into a chalked impression of his left foot at the foul line for hours, using no ball. Shadow bowling he called it.

It was the answer for his reign as world match king from 1906 to 1922. As my coach he stressed: "Footwork is like a matter of holding the line."

"Third step as straight on as the first." Extend left arm, as illustrated, keeps shoulders squared, ball swinging close to side, in the groove.

Kress Still on Top
ANN ARBOR (U.P.)—Ted Kress, Michigan's versatile halfback from Detroit, maintained his position today as the top Wolverine yard-gainer.

Kress gained 66 yards against Northwestern Saturday to achieve a four-game total of 319 yards, 57 yards ahead of Flint halfback Tony Branoff, his closest pursuer.

Panoramic TV Grid Coverage Set Saturday

Parts of 4 Games Will Be Seen Under NCAA's Weekly Setup

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK (U.P.)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. serves up its four-for-one package in football television Saturday.

It's the so-called panoramic experiment, tried for the first time this year, in which parts of four games in widely separated parts of the country will be shown instead of one complete contest.

Here's the program, to be beamed over the NBC network starting at 1:45 p.m., EST:

2 p.m.—Princeton vs. Cornell at Princeton, N.J.

2:30 p.m.—Illinois vs. Syracuse at Champaign, Ill.

2:30 p.m.—Iowa vs. Indiana at Iowa City.

3 p.m.—Arkansas vs. Mississippi at Memphis.

Tom Gallery, NBC sports director, said today the panorama won't present a quarter from each game but will switch back and forth among the sites to record action where it is thickest.

An effort will be made to have an equal portion of each game on the television screen, he added, but the primary objective will be to keep the liveliest action in front of the camera at all times.

For instance, suppose Arkansas and Mississippi are knocking heads in midfield at Memphis while an interesting touchdown situation arises at Iowa City. The picture will be shifted immediately to Iowa City.

To do this, it has been necessary to set up complete TV equipment and crews at all sites with a central monitoring point at Chicago.

Simultaneously the four games will be beamed to four giant screens in Chicago, where the producer, Bill Garden, will make the switches.

This is one of two panoramic programs scheduled for the year. The other is Nov. 7 when games will be Georgia at Florida, North Carolina at South Carolina, Northwestern at Wisconsin and Kansas State at Kansas.

Wolverines Set Ground Defenses for Minnesota

By JOHN F. MAYHEW
ANN ARBOR (U.P.)—Michigan, more vulnerable to running plays than passes, was hard at work today bolstering ground defenses for its invasion of Minnesota Saturday.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan's Wolverines have come up with a relatively tight defense against passes in four games this season. But they've yielded 395 yards to the running attacks of Iowa and Northwestern in the last two games.

Iowa averaged 4.4 yards of play in running through and around Michigan for a total of 225 yards. Northwestern gained 3.9 yards of play for a 170 yard total.

Michigan coach hoped to improve the Wolverine defenses in time to hamper Minnesota's great halfback, Paul Giel, and his sidekick Bob McNamara.

Although Minnesota has lost three of four games this season, that someone has caused all kinds of trouble for opponents.

In addition, Giel is a top notch passer. Oosterbaan will throw at him the same defense that limited Northwestern's passing star Dick Thomas to 133 yards on 13 completed passes.

Battle Creek Will Vouch for Ability of AA 11

Pioneers Rush for 261 Yards, Hold BC to 8; Morenci Keeps Going

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bouncing around on the high school football fronts:

Rick Love of Midland has little love for Saginaw. In Friday's game, both teams engaged in some spirited fistfuffs and Love was ejected, along with Saginaw's Bill Sargent.

Ask the Battle Creek players who they rate as the top team in the state, and don't be surprised if they all say: "Ann Arbor." The teams met Friday night and Ann Arbor rolled up 261 yards rushing and held Battle Creek to a skimpy eight. AA, of course, was the winner.

And I'll Morenci keeps plugging away. The Class C-D school trimmed Blissfield, 13-6, for its 48th game without a loss. One tie mars the streak, doggone it.

Jackson made 98 yards rushing against Lansing Eastern and all but 20 of these were ground out by fullback Bill Waller.

Bay City Central trounced Pontiac, 20-0, and as usual the Wolves' defense looked mighty strong. Closest the Chiefs got to the Central goal line was the 22.

This week's victim on the Bay City crunch parade is Owosso. The teams play Saturday night.

Wildcat Grid Fortunes
Take Turn for Better

MANHATTAN, Kan. (U.P.)—How come Kansas State, a school that set a modern record for losing football games just a few years ago, suddenly has become a power to be reckoned with in the Big Seven Conference?

Coach Bill Meek, who saw his teams take 18 lickings against one minor success his first two seasons at K-State, sums it up this way:

"We've won three league games against our conference opponents because of the switch back to two-way football, the burning desire on the part of our kids to win, more experience, a little more weight and better squad balance."

The International Boxing Club said there was a lively interest in ringside seats with about $85,000 in advance sale. Best guess on the crowd probably is 15,000 paying $140,000. The bout will be carried on CBS network radio and television with New York and a 75-mile area blacked out of the TV picture.

By the sea at Asbury Park, N. J., Olson quietly prepares for his most important fight. After road work and shadow boxing he weighed 161 pounds. Although he hasn't overdone his boxing, he has worked on a consistent schedule for a total of 70 rounds in 22 days. Turpin boxed about 27 rounds in five workouts in the mountains but

McDonald Again Named AP Wolverine of Week

ANN ARBOR (U.P.)—For the second straight week, Michigan quarterback Duncan McDonald today was selected as the Wolverines' star of the week.

The Flint, Mich., 175-pounder was honored by the Associated Press for his performance in Saturday's game, the score of which might well have read: McDonald 20, Northwestern 12.

Appearing briefly four times during the contest, he threw three touchdowns passes and kicked two extra points.

Kress Still on Top

ANN ARBOR (U.P.)—Ted Kress, Michigan's versatile halfback from Detroit, maintained his position today as the top Wolverine yard-gainer.

Kress gained 66 yards against Northwestern Saturday to achieve a four-game total of 319 yards, 57 yards ahead of Flint halfback Tony Branoff, his closest pursuer.

Grid Argument Stays

By ED CORRIGAN
NEW YORK (U.P.)—Now that the coaches have had a chance to get used to the one-plateon system of football and work the bugs out, you'd think there would be some agreement among them on its benefits, if any.

There isn't.

The Associated Press today asked seven well-known coaches around the country how they were doing. Two said they liked it, three couldn't see it at all, and two more merely pointed to some of

Haas Thinks Movies Need More Realism

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — The film industry's censorship code has loosened up, film maker Hugo Haas reported today, but he argues that it still has further to go. Haas is that amazing Czech who gave up a fairly lucrative career of playing what he calls accent parts in Hollywood movies. He scraped together his savings and financed, wrote, directed, produced and starred in a film called "Pickup." The picture was a success, and he has made six one-man productions since then. He starts his seventh soon.

The Haas films generally deal with basic human situations such as the eternal triangle. He has thus come to grips many times with the Breen Office, the industry's self-censorship body headed by Joseph Breen. Strangely enough, he is a fan of the office.

"They have been very considerate and helpful," he remarked. "I argue with them that my pictures cannot have the big stars and production of major studios, so I must have some other asset to offer the public. That is often sex."

"The Breen Office understands my problem. They give in a little and I give in a little. On my last picture, 'Bait,' we went round for three days on the scene where Cleo Moore gets out of the bathtub and into a nightgown. We argued over the shot frame by frame and finally arrived at a compromise."

Haas observed that the code has loosened up in the past year or so. He cited "From Here to Eternity" as evidence of that. He said "The Moon Is Blue," which did not receive the code's approval, was a fluke.

"That involved a successful stage play that was transplanted almost intact to the movies," he said. "The controversy was over the use of certain words, without the picture would not have been as effective."

Haas feels the code should be loosened up some more. "I think it should be changed in regard to 'punishment,'" he said. "The ending of a Hollywood picture is always pre-arranged. The bad must die or be punished and the good must triumph. There can be no suspense or no surprise about what is going to happen."

"But life is not like that. The bad very often are not punished, and the good can suffer. Why can't we make movies that are true to life?"

He also feels that subject matter should be broadened. "For instance, narcotics have become an increasing danger, especially to our young people," he said. "Yet we cannot treat the subject on the screen. It can't even be mentioned."

"I once had a line in a picture about somebody being a 'dope peddler.' It was taken out. I feel movies can do a great deal of good in pointing out the evils of dope."

However, censorship turns Haas intends to continue grinding out his one-man films. He makes them with his own money, then sells them outright to studios like Columbia and 20th-Fox. He earns enough to live on, but finance the next picture.

Once Columbia boss Harry Cohn asked how much he made on "Pickup." Haas replied $21,000. Cohn said Columbia had made a million dollars. "I'm happy for you," Haas commented.

"I'm happy with what I'm doing," Haas told me. "I can remember a few years back when I stood outside Schwab's drugstore waiting for a familiar face to come by so I could borrow five or ten dollars."

"Now I can ask actors what they're making and when they tell me, say 'Okay, you're hired.' That's a nice feeling."

Less Productive

LIVERPOOL (INS) — More than 700,000 men working in England's nationalized coal mines produced only 280 million tons in 1952, as compared with 465 million tons produced in the U. S. by 350,000 men.

Gets an Education in His 93rd Year

ROME (INS) — A 93-year-old Italian peasant has received his grade-school diploma. He is Rocco Stillitano, of Calabria in southern Italy.

According to Agence France Presse Stillitano spent 92 years without being able to read or write. Last year he suddenly made up his mind he needed an education.

With the help of a young tutor he made such rapid progress that he was able to take the grade-months of instruction.

Stillitano reportedly astounded the examiners with his personal recollections of the Boer War and the funeral of Italian national hero Giuseppe Garibaldi, which he attended at the age of 28.

Navy Official Discounts 'Failure' Theory in Blast

BOSTON — A high-ranking Navy official today discounted the theory of "personnel failure" and brushed aside any suggestion of sabotage in the explosive fire which rattled the aircraft carrier Leyte and killed 36 men aboard.

Vice Adm. John J. Ballentine, commander of the Atlantic Fleet air arm, came to Boston yesterday from his headquarters at Norfolk, Va. to survey the wrecked below decks section of the 856-foot carrier.

Evacuation to Be Slowed Down

Report U. S., Britain to Cut Trieste Withdrawal to Forestall Tito

WASHINGTON — The United States and Britain reportedly have decided to slow down evacuation of their troops from disputed Trieste while they try to resolve Italy's and Yugoslavia's bitter quarrel over the area.

Secretary of State Dulles had an appointment to review this potentially explosive problem with President Eisenhower today in a personal report on the London Big Three foreign ministers' conference.

The idea was that a slowdown would lessen the chance that Marshal Tito would make good his threat to move his troops into the Allied zone rather than let Italian forces take over in accordance with the U. S.-British proposal of last week.

It would also give American, British and French diplomats time to arrange an acceptable basis for a conference with Yugoslavia and Italy.

Informed diplomats emphasized any decision to delay U.S.-British evacuation would in no way mean the two powers are backing down in their decision to turn over the zone to Italian control.

Korea—The State Department favors sending Special Ambassador Arthur Dean to Panmunjom Thursday on schedule to discuss a Korean peace conference with the Communists, even though the latest Red China note on this is regarded as unsatisfactory.

Dean would be empowered to listen to Communist demands that neutrals such as India be included in the peace parley but could make no commitments, only report back to Washington for a final decision.

Germany—Austria — Dulles believes there is only a slim chance the Russians would agree to attend a Big Four foreign ministers conference at Lugano, Switzerland, No. 9 to discuss peace settlements for Austria and Germany. The Big Three powers formally invited Russia to do so in identical notes sent over the weekend.

Israel-Jordan — Dulles takes an extremely grave view of Israel's alleged violations along its frontiers of United Nations decisions and also of the Israeli determination to make Jerusalem her capital.

Dulles, it was learned, personally informed Israel's Ambassador, Abba Eban the United States will withhold some 60 million dollars in economic aid until the new Jewish state changes its attitude.

The secretary notified Eban of this move after Israel refused to stop trying to divert waters from the River Jordan along the Syrian frontier, despite a United Nations ruling it should do so.

Grains Give Up Gains at Noon

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains had difficulty holding steady on the Board of Trade today. They pushed ahead in active dealings right after the opening, only to give up their gains as quickly as they had made them.

Strength in soybean oil and light receipts of both soybeans and corn got the market off to its good start. However, there wasn't much follow-through demand and there appeared to be some profit-taking after yesterday's upturn.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was $\frac{1}{4}$ - $\frac{1}{2}$ cent lower, December, \$1.94 $\frac{1}{4}$; corn was unchanged to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher, December \$1.46 $\frac{1}{2}$, and oats were $\frac{1}{4}$ lower to $\frac{1}{2}$ higher, December 77. Soybeans were $\frac{1}{4}$ lower to $\frac{1}{2}$ higher, November \$2.72, and lard was 10 to 33 cents a hundred pounds higher, October \$17.40.

Hal Boyle Says:

Work Is Key to Success, Writer-Actress Shows

NEW YORK (U.S.)—All women have a way with words, but Peg Lynch has a way of making them pay.

One of the brightest girls in the big town, she has turned out so much prose her output makes the biggest dictionary look like a pocket magazine.

We sat down and figured out how many words she had authored in her career as a radio and television writer. The total was roughly 11,000,000—the equivalent of 116 books of 100,000 words each.

"But I still want to write a real book, or a good Broadway play," she said wistfully. "If I ever can find the time."

Time is what Peg has the least of. She both writes and plays the leading role in "Ethel and Albert," a radio and TV marital comedy she has kept going for nine years.

She spends Sunday and Monday writing it, and the rest of the week endlessly rehearsing and polishing it. Her average day begins at 5 a. m., and may go on until nearly midnight. She never has a full day off.

Peg is a slender, friendly brunette who looks just like the kind of a wife the average guy would like to come home to, which explains her charm as an actress. She also likes to write about typical married life situations she recalls from her Midwest days.

Peg's success formula boils down to a simple four-letter word: "work." It just eats your mind alive. Any way you spell it it comes out "work."

"I wouldn't trade that experi-

Peg was born in Lincoln, Neb. Her dad died when she was an infant. She was raised in Minnesota, went to the state university, wrote and acted in school plays. After working for the Mayo Clinic, she landed a job with a small Minnesota radio station.

"I wrote 250 spot commercial announcements a week," she recalled. "And I also turned out a daily half-hour woman's show, a weekly little theater show, a 15-minute farm news program, three 10-minute plays and two 5-minute sketches a week."

The pay was $70 a month—and the problem was trying to find time to sleep. She still has the same problem, but the pay now is $1,000,000," she said. "Anyone who wants to do anything in radio or TV can't beat the training you get in a small town, where you have to learn to do everything."

She rather dismays her that most people think of writing as easy, and acting as difficult.

"Writing is work to me—the acting is fun," she said. "People look on writing as something they could do as well as you or better, if they just weren't so busy. Everybody feels he could have been a writer if life hadn't sidetracked him into doing something more important."

She glanced down at the paper with figures totaling her output at 11,000,000 words.

"It's appalling," she said, grinning ruefully. "Plain appalling. Television is a monster. It's insatiable. It just eats your mind alive."

But it shows no signs of wear-

Report Rhee Undecided on Parley Participation

SEOUL (U.S.)—The South Korean Foreign Office said today President Syngman Rhee's government had not decided whether it will participate in a possible preliminary Korean political conference at Panmunjom.

Acting Foreign Minister Chung W. Cho said the decision will be made after the arrival tomorrow of Foreign Minister Y. T. Pym from the United States.

Must Rely on Coal

WASHINGTON (INS)—Even if all potential hydroelectric power sites are fully developed by 1975, the West will still have to rely on steam generating plants fired with coal for more than half its power requirements, according to the Interior Department.

Two Presidents Dedicate Dam

Eisenhower, Cortines Meet to Open Project on Rio Grande

By ROBERT H. JOHNSON JR.

gleaming monument of stainless steel marks the border where the Presidents of the United States and Mexico pledged friendship as strong as international Falcon Dam.

Presidents Eisenhower and Adolfo Ruiz Cortines stood yesterday in front of the monument where an imaginary line across the dam separates their countries and dedicated the Falcon project as a symbol of unity.

Earlier, Eisenhower crossed the Rio Grande to the brand new town of Nuevo Guerrero as the guest of Ruiz Cortines at a musical festival that had a note of tragedy.

A plane carrying 14 or more persons to the fiesta, including ballet dancers to perform for Eisenhower, crashed between Monterrey and Nuevo Guerrero. All aboard were believed lost. But there was no indication that either President had been informed of the crash.

Following the fiesta, Eisenhower entertained Ruiz Cortines and some 500 guests at lunch on the Texas side of the dam before the dedication ceremony. Both presidents flew back to their capitals last night.

Three thousand sweating citizens of both nations held out against the blazing border sun to cheer their chiefs of state at the dedication.

The sun struck shafts of light from the V-shaped, 60-foot monument. The moment of dedication came when drapings around its base were dropped, revealing the great seals of both nations, one on each side of the V.

Speaking slowly, intensely and in Spanish, President Ruiz Cortines told the crowd at the dedication that the dam was more than anything a source of "human prosperity" for "a vast group of human beings—men, women and children—without distinction of nationality, race, language or religion."

President Eisenhower, looking out over Falcon Lake toward the church tower that is the only thing you can still see of the inundated town of Falcon, Tex., said the dam in the deepest sense was "created in the hearts of the citizens of two nations who respect and believe in one another."

He said these are people who despise totalitarianism in any form and he promised friendship and concern for the well-being not only of Mexico but of all the neighbor Americas.

Artillery pieces boomed 21-gun salutes as the two Presidents left the border to return to their own banks of the Rio Grande.

The dam was built to conserve water and to irrigate the rich citrus and vegetable lands that extend through the river's lower valley to the Gulf of Mexico. It cost about 47 million dollars.

Sign Painter Shifts Maryland Town 30 Miles

HANCOCK, Md. — A sign on a roof here could turn a lot of fliers into Wrong Way Corrigan.

The sign says this is Sandy Hook.

Hook. Sandy Hook is 30 miles southeast of here. What apparently caused the snafu is that there are two Shamrock Inns in Washington County—one here, one at Sandy Hook.

Walter Mills, owner of the Hancock Shamrock, said a man in uniform painted a guide sign for fliers on the roof. Turned out it said

Sandy Hook. Mills said that months ago the man promised to correct the mistake but hasn't yet. Richard Jamison, state director of aeronautics, said he'd look into the matter.
