Soft Landing Is Acclaimed

Surveyor Sends Excellent Moon Photos

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 1, in an amazing first-try success, televised excellent close-ups from the moon today after an apparently perfect gentle landing in the Sea of Storms.

Scientists, after viewing the first 144 pictures showing the 620-pound craft in good condition on a broad and featureless plain seemingly hard enough to support a manned landing craft, hailed it as a technical and informational triumph.

The spidery vehicle, laden with complex and sophisticated instrumentation, climaxed a 63-hour, quarter-million-mile flight from earth by braking to a soft landing at 1:17:37 a.m. (Pontiac time) —precisely on schedule and within feet of its target. It came to rest nearly vertical and so far as is known, undamaged.

At a morning news conference at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, which guided Surveyor's flight, project officials made no attempt to hide their joy. "Extremely excellent" and "I don't expect to see anything like this again in my lifetime" were two of the comments.

Dr. Leonard Jaffe, project scientist, said of the pictures: "They show a surface generally level, as expected, with objects that appear to be rocks and boulders, or fragments, from close to the spacecraft for as far as the eye can see, apparently to the horizon.

"Some appear to be a foot across. Some are much less than an inch. There are craters, one 10 feet across about 25 or 30 feet from the spacecraft."

R. F. Garbarini, of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said "This in my opinion puts the Surveyor program ahead a year.

"We thought it would take three or four flights to get the craft operational. This means future Surveyors should provide more information about more sites than originally planned. It also means the Apollo manned spacecraft landing system, similar to Surveyor's, has been proved out."

★ ★ ★

Surveyor 1, three years late due to a multitude of problems, was given small chance of success on the first launch due to its complexities.

Rep. Joseph E. Karth, D-Minn., head of a committee which once criticized the program as poorly managed, offered "the congratulations of all American people" to the officials.

Jaffe, commenting on a photo that showed a shadow around one of Surveyor's three padded feet, said this indicates that impact was hard enough to cause a slight depression — a few inches deep — in the lunar crust.

He said it appears about the same that which would have been made in sandy soil on earth.

The photos were first televised on a screen at the laboratory. Most were fuzzy and hard to distinguish, showing legs and other parts of the spacecraft and murky views of the plain.

ROCK EVIDENT — This photograph transmitted from the moon by the Surveyor spacecraft shows a lunar rock six inches high and 12 inches long, according to the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif., which released the picture today. The smaller pebbles are several inches in diameter, and the bright spots are reflections of the sun.

Soapy Gets Backing of AFL-CIO

LANSING (AP) — Democrats G. Mennen Williams and Zolton Ferency won overwhelming endorsement for U.S. senator and governor, respectively, from the Michigan AFL-CIO yesterday.

Anticipating their losses, three other major candidates all challenged the union during an afternoon of speeches to either stay neutral or get out of politics.

Former Gov. Williams outpolled Detroit Democratic Mayor Jerome Cavanagh 532-42, with six votes going to incumbent Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., and two to little-known Democrat James Elsman of Birmingham.

Ferency, the resigning Democratic state chairman, picked up 561 votes at the special convention to 11 for Democrat Paul Livingston and seven for Republican Gov. George Romney.

Each of the seven candidates spoke for 20 minutes to the union delegates before the balloting. Later, as votes were being counted, State AFL-CIO Director August Scholle and

Gemini Crews Are Confident

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Elated by the dramatic success of the Surveyor moonship, rocket crews felt confident today that the U.S. can score a follow-up triumph tomorrow by overcoming the jinx of Gemini 9.

Astronauts Thomas P. Stafford and Eugene A. Cernan, frustrated twice in an effort to carry out the nation's most daring manned space flight, were reported "intent and ready" for a third try Friday.

The satellite launched yesterday as a space chase target for the astronauts flashed across the cape in its 15th orbit of the earth when Stafford and Cernan plunged into new briefings today.

In reviewing a revised flight plan, they paid particular attention to in-flight changes that may be made if a protective shroud still is attached to the target vehicle.

If the fiberglass shroud did not separate, and still covers the satellite docking collar, the astronauts probably will not be able to attempt a linkup in space. But the satellite still can be useful in rendezvous practices.

★ ★ ★

Satisfactory weather was forecast for tomorrow's attempt.

2 SETBACKS

Twice, Stafford and Cernan have donned their bulky space suits and crammed themselves into the tiny Gemini ship.

And twice they have gloomily taken the slow elevator ride back to the ground.

They get another chance tomorrow at 8:39 a.m. EST to set out on their 70-hour flight, including satellite rendezvous and 2½-hour space walk after a frustrating two-day delay.

★ ★ ★

Engineers pinned the blame for the scrubbed Gemini 9 flight yesterday on a faulty signal relay system.

S. Viet Nam Asks for U.N. Election Aid

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — South Viet Nam today formally requested U.N. observers for its elections of a constituent assembly in September.

The request was put verbally to Secretary General U Thant by Ambassador Nguyen Duy Lien, South Vietnamese observer to the United Nations.

It was not immediately clear whether the Saigon government wanted the world organization merely to send observers or whether it envisaged a supervisory role for the U.N. in the elections.

A U.N. spokesman said Lien "informed the secretary general that the government of South Viet Nam intends to hold elections for a constituent assembly in September and requested the United Nations to send observers."

★ ★ ★

He said South Viet Nam would make its request in writing later.

BEFORE REQUEST

Only last weekend, before the request was made, Thant said in Windsor, Ont., he could not see the use of U.N. supervision of Vietnamese elections "at this time."

★ ★ ★

On his return from Europe on May 5, Thant also said he saw no possibility of a U.N. supervisory role in Vietnamese elections because it would run into Soviet opposition in the Security Council.

11 Millionth Auto Adds to Pontiac Div. Records

Another page was added to Pontiac Motor Division's record book today as the 11 millionth Pontiac was assembled at the division's home facilities in Pontiac.

The milestone unit — a burgundy Pontiac LeMans convertible — was built just 13 months and 20 days after the 10-millionth Pontiac came off the assembly line.

"The building of our 11 millionth car is one of the highlights of Pontiac's 40th anniversary year and it is an accomplishment each Pontiac employe may view with pride as a job well done," said John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors vice president and general manager of the division.

In ceremonies, where the record car was lifted into the air attached to a crane by a standard seat belt, DeLorean added, "Of course production milestones such as this are not possible unless our sales make them so.

"Pontiac's long history of applying the latest technical know-how to build safe and dependable automobiles accounts for the fact that today our sales are at record levels."

DeLorean also noted the significance of the 11-millionth Pontiac being a LeMans.

He said that Pontiac's entire intermediate-size line-up of models has been one of the most successful sales stories in the history of the industry.

Pontiac is the third-largest selling car in the industry for the sixth consecutive year and is currently producing at a rate which will exceed last year's production record of 802,000 units.

SWING HIGH — The 11 millionth car built by Pontiac Motor Division is loaded onto a motor carrier in a special manner. The milestone car, a Pontiac LeMans convertible, came off the assembly line this morning. Here illustrating the strength of the car's standard seat belt, the 3,400-pound vehicle is lifted 15 feet and swung into place with the seat belt carrying the entire load. The belt is attached to a crossbar in the car.

New Findings Disclosed

Cancer Cure Hopes Rise

CHICAGO (AP) — Two findings that open a new approach toward the elusive goal of finding the cause and prevention of cancer were disclosed today by a medical research team from Columbia University.

The researchers presented the strongest tentative evidence yet that cancers may be started by viruses which then move on to repeat their destructive work in adjoining cells.

Dr. John K. Lattimer, co-chairman of the department of urology at Columbia University in New York, said that virus-like particles have been found for the first time in healthy looking cells lying adjacent to cancer cells in prostate glands.

They were not found in the cancer cells.

He said his researchers also discovered that these cells, which appeared normal under ordinary-light microscopes, actually were growing at the "same tremendous rate" as cancer cells.

"The discovery of either condition was unusual, but when

Foe of Bosch Claims Victory

Balaguer Way Ahead in Dominican Election

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Amid scenes of wild jubilation, headquarters of conservative Joaquin Balaguer claimed today a smashing victory over former President Juan Bosch in Dominican elections.

Dr. Jose A. Quesada, private secretary to the Reform party candidate, predicted that Bosch, standard-bearer of the Dominican Revolutionary party, would be beaten by a 2-1 margin when all returns are in.

A heavy vote piled up in the conservative-minded rural areas for Balaguer, who served as vice president under dictator Rafael Leonidas Trujillo and as president after Trujillo's assassination.

The vote was interpreted by some observers as a protest in general against the sort of violence which erupted in civil war and U.S. military intervention last year and a longing for tranquility.

Even in Santo Domingo, Bosch's stronghold when he won by a landslide in 1963 — only to be ousted by a military coup seven months later — Bosch was badly hurt. He failed even to capture one area in the heart of the section held by armed rebels in the nation's civil war.

★ ★ ★

But Bosch suffered even more in the rural areas.

In San Cristobal, which he swept by a 14-1 margin in 1963, he was trailing 5-1.

Balaguer adherents in front of his headquarters celebrated joyously, shouting "To the cave!" a reference to Bosch's refusal in the campaign to emerge from his home.

Quesada claimed Balaguer would roll up 800,000 of the 1,200,000 or so votes cast and "Bosch will not even get 400,000."

Bosch's headquarters was sudued and there was glumness among his supporters in the capital. Some teen-agers in the capital were shouting "There will be war here!" But an uprising like last year's might be difficult to mount in the face of a decisive victory in an election hailed by foreign observers from all over the hemisphere as completely fair.

A third candidate, Rafael F. Bonelly, was far behind. He never was given much of a chance.

Burglar Eats His Profit

The burglar was something of a Goldilocks.

He was so hungry he ate the leftovers from a meal and forgot the loot.

Judy Heineman, occupant of an upstairs apartment at 6387 Hatchery, Waterford Township, noticed the missing food upon returning home last night.

She told township police that pork chops which had been left on a table had been eaten and that a partial glass of iced tea had been drunk.

★ ★ ★

And for atmosphere, the intruder flicked on the television set. It was still tuned in when Miss Heineman returned home.

★ ★ ★

The burglar left the premises with a full stomach but no loot, according to police.

Named to Post in Scout Drive

Donald C. Grudt has been appointed chairman of the church cooperation division for the Clinton Valley Council of Boy Scouts Lost Lake Reservation Development Fund campaign, it was announced today by John Z. DeLorean, campaign manager.

Grudt, of 1143 Dudley, is a sales representative for the Greer Steel Co.

In announcing the appointment, DeLorean said Grudt and the area churches will play a key role in achieving the campaign goal and providing adequate camping facilities for the Scouting program.

The Lost Lake campaign, which is now under way, has a goal of $550,000 for the purchase and development of a camping site on Lost Lake Reservation near Clare.

"The Lost Lake Reservation is an absolute necessity to properly carry out the future Scouting program in the Clinton Valley Council," Grudt said.

Grudt is a past trustee of Post 9222 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and a member of the Elks Lodge of Clawson and Troy.

Decision Due Later on Trial of Cheyz

The preliminary court examination of White Lake Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz on Grand Jury charges ended today, but a decision on whether he will be bound over for Circuit Court trial won't be made until June 21.

The postponement was granted to allow Cheyz' attorney, Joseph Louisell of Detroit, to prepare a legal memorandum and time for Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth H. Hempstead to study it.

Cheyz is charged with conspiracy, bribery and extortion in an alleged deal whereby he would use his influence to have a parcel of property in the township rezoned from agricultural to multiple dwellings.

The only witness to testify today was Richard H. Hanson, a friend of Cheyz and a public relations man with the Waterford Township consulting engineering firm of Johnson & Anderson.

Hanson, 34, of 2771 North Lake, Waterford Township, was the only person to testify at the hearing, which had been continued from May 24.

HAD TESTIFIED

He admitted upon questioning from Louisell that he had testified before the Grand Jury being conducted now by Circuit Judge Philip Pratt, and that he had been granted immunity from any charges stemming from the case against Cheyz.

Hanson was named in the warrant against Cheyz as a co-conspirator, but was not charged with any criminal offense.

Cheyz, 39, of 1900 Ridge, White Lake, is accused of extorting $3,000 from Mrs. Willard Dawson, a White Lake township businesswoman, and then accepting $1,500.

Hanson was arrested in early February by grand jury investigators, State Police Trooper Johan Aird and Detective Ned Seeth as Mrs. Dawson turned over the $1,500 to Hanson during a meeting in a restaurant at the Pontiac Mall.

TELLS OF DEAL

Hanson said that in December Cheyz suggested that he work for Mrs. Dawson to promote the proposed development on the site.

According to Hanson he accepted the job and said he would charge $3,000, of which he would give Cheyz $1,000 because he felt indebted to him.

He said that he never told Mrs. Dawson that he was going to pay the money to Cheyz.

'Soil Caused Building Fall'

The collapse of Clyde E. Hornung, Inc., shoe store in Birmingham Tuesday night was caused by pressure from the sandy soil which forced the underpinnings to give way, John Saefke, assistant city manager, said today.

★ ★ ★

The building, at 245 Pierce, had no basement, but was built on a concrete slab. Excavation next door loosened the earth underneath the shoe store, according to Saefke.

A side wall and the roof of the store collapsed into the excavation. No one was in the building.

Based on Birmingham City Assessor's records, the structure was worth approximately $30,000. Owners said they wouldn't have an accurate estimate of damage to the building and contents until Monday.

other union leaders attacked the records of Romney and Republicans.

Cavanagh accused unions of only going through the motions of listening to both sides in his fight with Williams.

"Has the mighty labor movement fallen to so little measure that it must play with a stacked deck?" he asked. He said the AFL-CIO should remain neutral in the Aug. 2 primary as has the Democratic State Central Committee.

The only "boos" of the restrained and orderly meeting came when Griffin said Romney would win an AFL-CIO endorsement if all rank-and filers instead of only delegates balloted secretly.

Griffin, with perhaps the toughest labor row to hoe, defended the Landrum-Griffin act at length. He insisted it only protected rights of individual union members.

Williams attacked Griffin's record on labor legislation and called for a $2.00 minimum wage by 1970. Pending legislation would increase the minimum wage to $1.60 by 1969.

Cavanagh repeated earlier declarations favoring the admission of Red China to the United Nations and the neutralization of Viet Nam.

Bribery Exam Gets Evidence

Detroit Judge OKs Page of 'Black Book'

DETROIT (AP) — A little black book listing names of individuals and amounts of money has been offered as evidence in the pretrial examination of two Detroit restaurateurs accused of bribery.

Recorder's Judge Vincent Brennan approved only one page of the book as evidence at this time.

A police undercover agent, Sgt. Billy Starks, said he personally confiscated the little black book, along with a sheet of paper headed "Christmas" and another little book containing a list of names and telephone numbers.

The items were seized when police raided the Grecian Gardens restaurant in a move ordered by a one-man grand jury investigating crime in Wayne County.

Charged with bribery and conspiracy to bribe are Costas Colacasides, owner of the cafe, and Peter Vitale, the night manager.

Sgt. Starks testified that both defendants bribed him to ignore gambling at the restaurant and his name was entered in the little black book.

At least 30 names were listed on the page of the book admitted in evidence, while another 40 were on the $7000 "Christmas list" which was shown and described by the prosecution but not admitted in evidence.

they appear in combination it becomes exciting," he said in an interview at the annual meeting of the American Urological Association.

Dr. Myron Tannenbaum, pathologist member of the research team which made the twin discoveries, described the findings and exhibited picture slides at the urologists' convention.

Lattimer, who heads the research project, said "the next step which we're working on now" is to attempt to isolate the virus-like particles.

"Under the electron microscope the particles are identical in appearance to the Lucke tumor virus which causes cancers in frog kidneys.

The next step would be to attempt to grow the viruses in a tissue culture and to infect healthy tissue cultures with them.

If the virus proved to be cancer-causing, the final step would be an attempt to produce an anticancer vaccine, patterned after the polio vaccines and using dead or attenuated cancer viruses.

He said the work would require "six or seven years" before the final answer is found.

Other medical investigators have theorized that some cancers, including leukemia, are caused by viruses, but laboratory confirmation has been spotty.

Ban on Sewers Still in Effect

Ten Macomb County communities are still under a sewer construction ban in spite of officials' hopes that the ban would be lifted at a special meeting yesterday.

Representatives of the communities met with state and county health officials to discuss a possible solution to the problem of pollution of the Clinton River.

"We're not any better off now than we were before the meeting," said Mrs. Eunice Kopietz, Utica city clerk. "We were hoping that by showing good faith, we could get the ban lifted."

The Macomb County Board of Supervisors recently appropriated $50,000 for a study of the problem which officials of the communities hoped would show "good faith."

Dr. Albert Heustis, State Health Department director, announced last month that no permits would be granted for extending sewer systems in the 3 communities until a plan was developed to control pollution of the Clinton River.

MAKES DECLARATION

The State Water Resources Commission also has declared that unlawful pollution exists in the river.

Heustis called the meeting to "facilitate and speed up the development of a pollution control plan for the entire lower Clinton River."

He said the ban was necessary even though it "can have a temporary adverse effect on the continuing economic growth of the communities."

★ ★ ★

The communities involved are Utica, Warren, Fraser, Mount Clemens, and the townships of Shelby, Macomb, Sterling, Clinton, Harrison and Chesterfield.

Shelby is not directly affected at this time because it has no sanitary sewers. Township officials, however, want to participate in a solution to the problem.

DANGER SIGN — Russell M. Many of 1215 Stoney Creek, Oakland Township, fastens "slow vehicle" warning sign to the back of his farm wagon. Designed to warn approaching motorists of a slow-moving vehicle, the reflectorized safety signs are being promoted by the East Orion Farm Bureau, of which Many is president.

Clarkston Barber Applies Lots of Community Spirit

By HUDSON WILLSE

CLARKSTON — A community leader. A jack-of-all-trades. A do-it-yourself type. A man who has given unselfishly to his community for years.

This in capsule form describes Frank Ronk, a good-humored 36-year-old Clarkston barber whose shop has become a nerve center of the community.

Ronk, his wife, Mary, son, Steven, 8, and daughter, Kathryn, 11, live at 6056 Overlook.

He serves his community in several ways.

The barber might be out fighting a fire, pumping out water from a flooded basement at 3 in the morning, attending a school board meeting, rescuing a cat from a tree or reinstalling Christmas decorations.

GIVE INFORMATION

If anything worthwhile is happening, Ronk and fellow barbers Olen Betzer and Fred Vess will gladly pass out the information. And it's a safe bet they'll know about it.

Strangers often are referred to the barber shop when inquiring about directions or other information.

"We figure if one of the three of us doesn't know it, it's not worth knowing," quipped Ronk.

A four-sport athlete at Clarkston High School in the mid-40s, Ronk is known as Tink to friends and acquaintances alike.

Ronk says his brother was unable to pronounce his first name when they were toddlers. It came out Tank and later Tink.

In 1962, Ronk was rewarded for his unending contributions to the community when he was named recipient of the Clarkston Area Jaycees' first distinguished service award.

A friend remarked that Ronk is deserving of the honor every year.

The short, stocky Ronk — who sometimes wears glasses — belongs to a number of organizations.

He's a member of the Clarkston Rotary Club, American Legion Post 63, Clarkston First Methodist Church, Independence Township Volunteer Fire Department and the Clarkston Board of Education.

A native of Clarkston, Ronk graduated from high school in 1946. He participated in varsity football, basketball, baseball and golf.

He graduated from the Flint Institute of Barbering and served in the U.S. Army from 1951-53, spending part of his tour of duty in Alaska.

Ronk is especially active as a member of the volunteer fire department, which he has served for nearly 20 years.

Daytime fire calls are phoned into the barber shop, which is equipped with a fixed frequency FM band radio.

Ronk says he is called away from his business on an average of three or four times a week because of fires or rescue runs.

However, it sometimes adds up to five or six runs a day during the grass fire season, according to Ronk.

Unfortunately, he sometimes is forced to leave his customers in the middle of a haircut. But so far, no one has complained.

Ronk says volunteer firemen must be able to maintain all of the equipment, know rescue methods, drive trucks and be hosemen.

"Volunteers have to know all the jobs," said Ronk. 'You never know what you're going to have to do next."

The fire fighting force consists of 30 men, including three mechanics.

★ ★ ★

Most of them are frequent visitors at the barber shop. Members of community organizations also come to the shop on occasion to find out about forthcoming activities.

NOT TOO INVOLVED

"We don't really get too involved in issues," said Ronk, "because you can get in some pretty heated arguments with customers."

At election time, candidates of both parties are welcome to place their posters in the front window of the barber shop.

"The main thing is that they vote," said Ronk. "We don't care how."

At the recent village election, voters were told to cast their ballots at the village hall, which, they were reminded, is next door to Ronk's Barber Shop.

ADEQUATE SPEAKER

Although no Everett Dirksen, Ronk is an adequate speaker, blending humor with his talks.

He really loosened up the audience at this year's Clarkston Area Jaycees Bosses' Night.

Ronk regards his board of education post as quite challenging.

"I'm getting quite an education myself," he said. "I've learned a lot of things I didn't know about school operation."

Ronk is completing the first year of a four-year term on the board.

Schools in State Face Wave of Teacher Strikes

By The Associated Press

A wave of teacher walkouts was expected to hit southeastern Michigan schools today and Friday to underscore the educators' labor contract demands.

Leaders of Michigan Federation of Teachers locals in Ecorse, Melvindale and North Dearborn Heights have been authorized by teachers to call strikes if necessary to enforce the demands.

In Taylor Township, a strike was ordered to begin at 6 a.m.

Meanwhile, four Genesee County circuit judges denied a petition by the Flint school board to stop a planned "day of protest" walkout today by some 1,800 teachers there.

The Flint action was planned by the Flint Education Association, an affiliate of the Michigan Education Association, which officially frowns on strikes.

Gov. George Romney had harsh words for striking teachers Wednesday.

At a Lansing news conference, the governor said there apparently is a widespread misconception that workers on the public payroll may back their demands with strikes.

★ ★ ★

"You can't have law and order if public employes can strike with impunity," he declared.

STATE LAW

Strikes by public employes are prohibited by Michigan law, and governing bodies are empowered to dismiss striking employes.

Romney said public officials had failed to indicate any intention of applying penalties where strike threats were developing.

★

The Michigan Association of School Boards has urged local boards to impose penalties against strikers. These could include dismissal, demotion and loss of tenure.

But Tom Hill, assistant to the president of the Michigan Federation of Teachers, declared that teachers would not be intimidated by the threats.

UNSOPHISTICATED

Describing the school board group's statement as an unsophisticated approach to collective bargaining, Hill said:

"I think it will give teachers a good deal more determination. To talk about blacklisting teachers is one of the most odious things I ever heard."

Motor Bike Mishap Kills Utica Student

UTICA — A 17-year-old Utica High School student died early this morning after an accident with his motor bike in the school parking lot last night.

Shelby Township police said Gerald Guillou of 45288 Vanker struck his head when he was thrown from the bike after hitting a curb.

The boy died at 5:45 a.m. today in St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens.

Ceremony Set for Seniors

WALLED LAKE — Members of Walled Lake Senior High School's Class of 1966 will participate in the traditional Baccalaureate Service on June 12 at 8 p.m.

The address will be delivered by the Rev. Raphael Dakoske, assistant pastor of St. William's Church. The Rev. J. A. McCory, Minister of Crossroads Presbyterian Church will give both the invocation and the benediction.

Music will be furnished by the 1966-67 high school choir under the direction of Alexander Zerban.

Voter League Members Will Solicit Funds

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The League of Women Voters will solicit funds Saturday towards a goal of over $700 to be raised for the 1966-67 year.

Each league member will call on three or four citizens who have already received letters requesting contributions.

The league is requesting contributions from citizens and businesses in the township in order to provide future election information to the community.

Fire Damages Oxford Firm

OXFORD — A fire in the roof of the Hampton Concrete Block Co., 60 E. Burdick, early yesterday caused an estimated $1,500 worth of damage.

Fire Chief Perry Earp said the fire is believed to have started from a liquid propane heater in the block-drying room.

He said the fire, which broke out about 4 a.m., was confined to the one room.

Bloodmobile Location

A Red Cross Bloodmobile will park by the Pontiac Township Building, 2060 Opdyke, next Monday between 2 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Election, Charter for Constables

The Oakland County Division of the Michigan Constables Association recently received its charter and elected officers.

Chosen to head the organization was John Stickney of Clawson. Edward LaDouceur of Oxford was elected secretary and Harry Yoh of Clarkston was named treasurer.

The objective of the organization is to "develop friendship among the members and to improve the administration of justice and law enforcement."

It will also propose and support such legislation "as will be for the best welfare of the people of the state of Michigan."

★ ★ ★

The organization will instruct and disseminate literature to its members concerning the laws applicable to constables and will set up a code of ethics and rules of conduct for its members.

Dems Reject Help on Possible Veto

Vets' Bill Move Loses

LANSING (AP) — House Democrats yesterday turned down a Republican's offer to help them override Gov. George Romney's veto as the veterans property tax exemption was killed for apparently the last time.

Defeated 57-41 was a move by Rep. Harry Demaso, R-Battle Creek, to discharge from the general taxation committee a bill to increase property tax relief to veterans this year.

"I'll give you the vote you need if this bill is passed and vetoed by the governor," said Rep. Joseph Swallow, R-Alpena. "So, there's no excuse for not getting it out of committee and passing it."

Romney has twice vetoed bills to grant a flat increase in the $2,000 exemption on the property of disabled veterans and widows of all veterans.

He has insisted on a graduated plan — pegged to the degree of disability — and an exemption for widows set at the $2,500 level granted to senior citizens.

HELD FIRM

House Republicans have held firm both times — denying the Democrats the one vote they needed for a two-thirds majority (74 votes) to override Romney's veto.

Rep. George Montgomery, D-Detroit, chairman of the general taxation committee, said, "You are welcome to any bill in my committee, but it is my personal conclusion that time has run out for this year."

Montgomery said he would be happy to call a committee meeting immediately if some other Republicans would agree to go along with Swallow. None volunteered.

Sen. Lausche Against Hike in Seaway Tolls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, said Wednesday he is opposed to an increase in St. Lawrence Seaway tolls.

★ ★ ★

Stating that the St. Lawrence Seaway Corp. is considering a 10 per cent increase, Lausche added:

"Any increase will certainly discourage, not encourage, increased tonnage with a resultant reduction in total revenues. Instead of increasing the tolls charged, it would be more prudent to extend the time within which the debt must be paid to the United States government."

State Manpower Study Predicts Growth

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan of 1980 will have a population of 10.2 million, employment will be up about 1.2 million from the present figure and the unemployed will number 4.3 per cent of the labor force, a study by an Ohio research group predicts.

These are some of the changes indicated by "The Michigan Manpower Study — Phase I," delivered to the Michigan Employment Security Commission this week by Battelle Institute of Columbus, Ohio.

Battelle Institute collaborated with the MESC in compiling the first two-decade study of a state's employment by both occupation and industry, MESC Director Malcolm Lovell Jr. said today.

Phase II of the study is to be completed in November.

The state's population will increase from 1960's 7.8 million to 8.6 million in 1970, 9.3 million in 1975 and 10.2 million in 1980, the study indicated.

Employment in the same four periods is estimated as 2.7 million in 1960; 3.2 million in 1970; 3.5 million in 1975 and 3.9 million in 1980.

The study reported that unemployment will be lower than it has been, but higher than it is now: 217,000 in 1960; 150,000 in 1970; 170,000 in 1975 and 1980. The 1960 figure represents 7.4 per cent of the labor force and the 1980 figure 4.3 per cent.

The proportion of total employment in Michigan devoted to the professional category will increase from slightly over 11 per cent of total employment in 1960 to approximately 17 per cent in 1980, the study said.

GROWTH RATE

Engineers are expected to grow from 43,800 in 1960 to 86,800 in 1980; nurses from 23,500 in 1960 to 49,040 in 1980; teachers from 68,700 in 1960 to 134,810 in 1980.

Increasing parallel to employment growth will be mechanics and repairmen and truck and tractor drivers, the study said. Other rapidly growing occupations will include clerks, waiters and waitresses, janitors and protective service workers.

Agricultural workers, declining for years, are expected to drop from 93,700 in 1960 to 55,000 in 1980, the study indicated.

DeLorean Talks to Service Clubs

Several hundred members of the combined service clubs in Pontiac had an opportunity for the first time to meet and hear JOHN Z. DELOREAN,. General Manager of Pontiac Motor Division when he addressed their gathering at the Elks Club.

DE LOREAN

Mr. DELOREAN outlined the success of the Pontiac car and told the group that production this year would pass 900,000 and predicted that before long Pontiac would be building a million cars in a single year.

★ ★ ★

The crux of the DeLorean talk centered around the fact that the City of Pontiac should strive to emulate the success of the Pontiac car by redeveloping downtown Pontiac. He said it was not solely the job of the City Commission.

★ ★ ★

With our economy at an all-time high and General Motors going well, DELOREAN pointed out that the time was ripe to rejuvenate and get Pontiac on the move.

In closing he said that he had great faith in the area because of all that has taken place and he was sure that the group assembled would rise to the occasion to change the City of Pontiac's image.

★ ★ ★

His speech was forthright and certainly left the audience with the feeling that the General Manager of Pontiac Motor has a deep-seated interest in our City.

Voice of the People:

Local Law Enforcement True Defenders of Right

Justice is only blind in the minds of people who do not stand up for their rights. The court is just and impartial to anyone who cares enough to make use of it. It isn't necessary to have money, prestige or an attorney behind you. All you need is honesty, sincerity and a belief in our democracy. You can stand up against injustice as an individual.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Police Department and the Pontiac Municipal Court have proven this to me at a time when I was beginning to doubt that justice and honesty exist in the world today.

★ ★ ★

The law is the defender of truth, guardian of our fundamental rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Better Business Bureau Warns of Pitfalls

Many hard-pressed people living on fixed incomes search for ways to earn extra money in their spare time. There are always promoters prepared to tell them how to make fabulous profits.

★ ★ ★

In the front rank is the mail-order promoter who offers to set you up in a highly profitable mail-order business in your own home with virtually no expense or labor. All you do is sit back and count the flood of orders.

★ ★ ★

People lured into the mail-order business have little chance of making a profit. Mail order is a hard, demanding business in which the professoinal often loses his investment. The odds against the beginner are astronomical.

Electricity is taken for granted by many people. This is not true of the lineman. At times rain, sleet, ice, high winds, freezing cold and darkness make working conditions poor. Still the dedicated lineman works to serve the public.

Says Preachers Not Entitled to 'Reverend'

Nowhere in the Bible is there an example of a person wearing the title "Reverend." The only time the word appears in the Bible, it is applied to God.

★ ★ ★

Preachers are not a special class who deserve a title to set them apart. We are all brethren in Christ. The New Testament makes no distinction between the clergy and the laity. Man makes this distinction. We all stand equal before God.

★ ★ ★

This truly is a vain practice which cannot be justified in the sight of God.

Question and Answer

Is a zip code necessary for mailing inside the city?
MRS. L. K.

REPLY

Right now it isn't necessary. However, Postmaster Donaldson says before long all mail will be handled through zip codes, and the sooner we get in the habit of using them for all mail, the sooner the system can be fully implemented, thereby providing us with faster and more efficient mail service without increasing the cost. So use a zip code even for city mail.

Reds Labor to Rationalize 'Unemployment'

It has always been the proud boast of the Communists that nobody is unemployed in Russia. How could anyone be, under an economy based on the philosophy of KARL MARX: "From each according to his ability; to each, according to his need"?

But now there is unemployment in Russia, according to a dispatch from Moscow to the Wall Street Journal. There is almost as much as in the United States. Some 3 per cent of Russian industrial workers are jobless now, compared to an over-all 3.7 per cent of the U.S. labor force.

Radio Moscow is now proclaiming stridently, "For more than 30 years there hasn't been a single unemployed person in this country." This is because Soviet officialdom takes the unusual position that anyone looking for work who hasn't yet found it is not actually unemployed.

The reason for such topsy-turvy thinking is that job openings in the whole Russian economy exceed the number of workers available to fill them. But that's like saying that if there are jobs in Los Angeles and workers who can fill them in New York, then the worker in New York is really not unemployed because he can go to Los Angeles. It's a nice theory, but it doesn't work here and it works even less well in the vast spaces of Russia and Siberia, much bigger than the whole U. S.

The new rulers of Russia, searching desperately for ways to increase productivity and to satisfy consumer demands for a better life, are beginning to inch toward the automated free-enterprise system that works so well in the West because it is based on individual incentive.

David Lawrence Says:

U.N. Doing Nothing to End War

WASHINGTON — What is going on behind the scenes in the United Nations to prevent that organization from settling the Viet Nam war? This is probably the biggest of the unwritten stories of the day.

LAWRENCE

Plenty of discussion has taken place among the diplomats, but not in public, and the net result is that nothing is being done to settle a war which is involving hundreds of thousands of troops of the United States and Viet Nam.

The conflict also has a far-reaching impact on the economic condition of other countries as well as the United States.

Strangely enough, this is a common denominator that sometimes can be more influential than even humanitarian considerations.

Inside the United Nations, even Secretary General U Thant, however, has hesitated to assume any initiative in bringing the subject before the General Assembly, which does not hesitate to intervene in Africa, not only to keep the peace but to affect the destiny of smaller nations seeking independence.

The secretary general himself has no obligation to get nations to sit down together at the peace table. But he might take a decisive step if encouraged to do so by some of the major powers.

U Thant's state of mind, on the other hand, as revealed a week ago in a speech at Atlantic City, is one of frustration.

He said that, although it would seem normal to give the United Nations the task of bringing the warring parties to negotiation, the world organization is not now constituted to play such a role.

He admitted that in his personal capacity he had made a number of suggestions to the interested parties.

There are logical reasons why the U. N. General Assembly should invite representatives of all governments and factions to sit down together with U. N. mediators.

The U. N. is in a position to bring about significant discussions and to make some fundamental proposals for the settlement of the Viet Nam war.

There is nothing in the charter which prevents the U. N. General Assembly from appointing a commission to take the initiative in negotiating peace in Viet Nam.

Experience has proved that an outside organization can do more to negotiate the peace than can the parties involved.

Whatever efforts are being made behind the scenes need full publicity and exposure so that people everywhere may exert their helpful influence in bringing about a peace conference.

U.S. Will Kill De Gaulle --With Kindness, That Is

WASHINGTON — The Johnson administration intends to continue its policy of killing French President Charles de Gaulle with kindness and keeping a full complement of U.S. troops in western Europe, despite senatorial pressure to begin pulling them out of NATO.

Ruth Montgomery

Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester told this columnist that we have no intention "in the foreseeable future" of reducing our NATO forces, or retaliating against de Gaulle for his eviction notice to NATO.

He added that although 13,000 to 15,000 experienced fighting men are being transferred from Europe to Viet Nam, other U.S. troops will have filled their places in NATO by December.

Sylvester said he has repeatedly pointed out to European newsmen that "it's their land which would be attacked, and that their governments are prosperous enough to put up a proportionate share of the troops."

★ ★ ★

He particularly blamed the Germans for doing less than they have promised defensewise, although their economy is booming.

FOOT-DRAGGING

"The Italians are all right, and the British," he continued, "but the Germans are foot-dragging, and what can you do about the French under de Gaulle?

"We're leaving an empty chair for him, while trying to hold the other 14 NATO partners together."

Sylvester emphasized that the administration has no intention of taking retaliatory measures against the recalcitrant French president.

★ ★ ★

He said such action would probably "solidify the French behind him," whereas the last election and recent polls indicate that many of them are dissatisfied with de Gaulle's move to pull out from under the umbrella of the alliance.

Sylvester expressed the opinion that de Gaulle had hoped we would attempt retaliation, so that the other partners would resent us instead of him.

★ ★ ★

"But we have not attacked or criticized him," he continued. "Therefore, it is clear to the other 14 who the offender is. De Gaulle did it with his own little hatchet."

Insults in Four Tongues Aim of Dictionary

Anyone who has tried to practice his fractured French or ghastly German or damaged Danish while abroad by asking such inane questions as "When will your mother's aunt return from the countryside?" will welcome a new tourist dictionary brought out by a British publisher.

It is a compendium of suitable insults in four languages — French, German, Italian and Spanish.

For example, when encountering a bad restaurant, one can say such devastating things as "Do you serve indigestion tablets with every meal?" or "Do you keep pigs here?" or "When did the waiters go on strike?"

The publisher, however, disclaims responsibility "for any consequences that may flow from the use of terms contained in this book."

Confab to Supply Rights Goals

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — President Johnson, a great believer in being backed up by a broad consensus when he tries to put an idea across, is laying the foundation for a lot of future action on civil rights.

MARLOW

A two-day White House Conference on Civil Rights, with about 2,400 people taking part at his suggestion, opened yesterday and when it is over, will send him a bundle of recommendations.

In a speech a year ago, Johnson said that trying to obtain justice for the Negro "will be a chief goal of my administration" for the years to come.

He said he would call a White House conference in the fall of 1965 — as a starter — to help the American Negro "fulfill the rights which, after the long time of injustice, he is finally about to secure."

He called the conference in the fall. Eight panels of civil rights workers, experts in various fields, and government officials were asked by Johnson to come up with ideas for a big White House conference this spring.

★ ★ ★

A planning council was created. Now that second conference has begun.

VARIED DELEGATES

The delegates include representatives of business, labor, all levels of government, churches, foundations, educational institutions, civil rights workers, and what the conference calls the "grass roots" of society.

The 2,400 delegates were divided into groups of 200 each to discuss a 100-page report which the council sent last week to all those taking part in the conference.

It contained dozens of recommendations for immediate and long-range action to bring the Negro into equal status in housing, education, economic and job security, and the administration of justice.

★ ★ ★

Discussions and suggestions will be recorded and reflected in a report to be submitted to Johnson within a few weeks.

JUMPING-OFF POINT

The chairman of the planning council — Ben W. Heineman Jr., a railroad executive —sees the conference as a jumping-off point for a full-scale involvement by society at every level, by private citizens as well as government officials.

He denied the goals are "pie in the sky" although acknowledging that all the measures recommended might cost billions of dollars.

One idea emphasized by the council and already proposed to Congress by Johnson is running into tough opposition there. This was the call for an unrestricted market in housing.

In the years ahead, as Johnson tries to translate into action the ideas from the council and the conference, he can claim, especially to a Congress where he is bound to encounter some opposition, that the ideas didn't just spring from his administration.

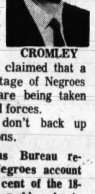
Draft Inequities Charge Refuted

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There's a lot of nonsense written about the draft these days.



CROMLEY

For one, it's charged that the draft is loaded against the poor and that it favors the well-to-do and rich.

Negroes are allegedly discriminated against. That is, it is claimed that a higher percentage of Negroes than whites are being taken into the armed forces.

The facts don't back up these allegations.

The Census Bureau reports that Negroes account for 11.7 per cent of the 18-through-25-year-old males in the United States.

But in all 1965, Negroes accounted for only 11.3 of those taken into the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines.

In the last half of 1965, the Negro percentage eased to 10.4 per cent.

The percentage of Negroes in the armed forces has been rising steadily. Negro enlisted men accounted for 13.4 per cent of the Army total at the end of 1964 and the percentage is still going up.

But that's because the first-term reenlistment rate of Negroes in the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines is phenomenally high. It's more than twice the first-term reenlistment rate for white soldiers.

For example, Army figures show that in 1965 first-term white reenlistments were running at 18.5 per cent, Negro at 49.2 per cent. Negro-white first term reenlistment ratios are comparable in the other services.

As a result, Negroes are moving into a proportionately large share of the staff sergeant, sergeant and corporal slots in the Army, the staff sergeant rank in the Air Force and the corporal and sergeant ranks in the Marines.

Draft critics often refer to those deferred to go to college as the privileged well-to-do.

But the statistics indicate that for every young man deferred for schooling, three are excluded from service for inability to pass the mental or physical tests.

Indications are that the bulk of these rejectees come from the underprivileged sections of the population.

Not all do, of course. But then not all college students come from well-to-do homes.

Then, too, some of those deferred for college attendance are drafted after they graduate.

The draft, in fact, is set up to draw in the deferred students once they're out of school. Inductions are from the top down, beginning at age 25. That is, available 25-year-olds are taken first, before the 24-year-olds, and so on down to 21, 20, 19 and 18½-year-olds.

But, of course, some young men find ways to keep on going to school past age 25. Some marry and have children before 25. Some get essential jobs. These men may miss being called.

But if the forces in Viet Nam and the draft calls are expanded, then the less-serious or less-able students are going to become liable for drafting.

★ ★ ★

Freshmen who don't stay in the upper half of their class, sophomores who don't stay in the upper two-thirds, juniors who don't stay in the upper three-fourths may turn out to be vulnerable unless they take the Selective Service college qualification test and get 70 or better. Things will likely tighten up for graduate students, too.

Business Focuses on 3 Elections

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bankers, builders and businessmen have a particular interest in this year's Senate elections in Virginia, Alabama and Illinois.

Involved in the contests are the three top Democrats on the Senate Banking Committee. All appear to have hard reelection fights.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson, 79, chairman of the committee, is engaged in Virginia in a slugging primary campaign with William B. Spong, 46, a state senator from Portsmouth, Va. The primary is July 12.

WINS NOMINATION

Sen. John J. Sparkman, 65, who is next in line for the chairmanship, already has won the Democratic nomination in Alabama. But in the cross-currents of emotion in that state, the Democratic nomination is not the assurance of election that it has been for years. Four years ago, Democrat Lister Hill of Alabama won reelection by only about 6,800 votes.

Alabama Republicans will choose their Senate candidate in a convention July 29. The expectation is that the nomination will go to John Grenier of Birmingham, former executive of the Republican National Committee.

CAMPAIGNING VIGOROUSLY

Sen. Paul A. Douglas, 74, who ranks behind Sparkman in committee seniority, already is campaigning vigorously in Illinois against his expected Republican opponent, Charles H. Percy.

Percy, 46, ran for governor two years ago but was defeated in the Democratic landslide of that presidential election year. He is a former chief executive of Bell & Howell Co.

In addition to legislation dealing with banks, the Banking Committee handles a variety of other business legislation. Housing matters come under its jurisdiction. It would handle wage-price control measures if world developments led Congress to consider them.

The chairman of the committee, as is true of any major congressional committee, has great power. Particularly, he can expedite or delay consideration of specific bills.

For instance, Douglas has been trying for years to get enactment of a law requiring that installment purchasers be given more complete information on finance charges.

'OFTEN MISLED'

He argues they often are misled. For example, a 4 per cent financing charge commonly means 4 per cent a year on the original amount of financing although the amount owned is constantly reduced by monthly payments.

Douglas' bill once came out of a subcommittee, which he headed, but the full committee sent it back there. Robertson opposes the bill.

In the Virginia primary, there have been suggestions from the Spong camp that bankers are putting money into Robertson's reelection campaign.

Robertson took note of them by saying he had received volunteer contributions from many bankers but had not asked campaign contributions.

In the highly improbable event that Robertson, Sparkman and Douglas all were defeated, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., would be in line for committee chairman.

BELIEVES SON ON POSTER — Mrs. Alex Petras of Wyandotte spotted this U.S. Marine Corps recruiting poster on a billboard in Tennessee while on a trip in April. It was a likeness of her son, Sgt. Gerald J. Petras, wounded recently in Viet Nam. A Detroit recruiter is sending a 10-by-20-foot billboard sheet, a desk poster and one for a bulletin board to Mrs. Petras to present to her son when he returns home for a visit.

Marine to Get the Picture, From Giant Size to Small

WYANDOTTE (AP) — When wounded Marine Sgt. Gerald J. Petras comes marching home from Viet Nam, he could find a likeness of himself as big as the side of a house welcoming him.

But is it likely he will not.

Just the same, for that hoped-for visit in July or August, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Petras are saving a bigger-than-life poster, 10 by 20 feet, of their son as a present for him.

Mama doubts they'll plaster the outside of the house with it, explaining: "We don't have much room."

★ ★ ★

The big one may stay rolled up, but the Petrases still will have a poster of Gerald the size of a bulletin board and one for a desk, as well.

SPOTS PICTURE

It all came about thus:

Mrs. Petras, whose son has been in Viet Nam since last July, was on her way to Florida April 9 when she spotted a picture on a highway billboard near Etowah, Tenn.

"I thought it was Gerry, but I couldn't be sure," Mrs. Petras said. "So I stopped and took pictures of it. I was so excited I couldn't think what to do."

Mrs. Petras stayed overnight in Etowah, hoping to learn where she could get a copy of the poster, but since it was Easter, local recruiting offices were closed.

★ ★ ★

Later in Detroit, the Petrases tried to obtain a copy of the poster. It was 18 months old and outdated.

But Marine Sgt. Kelton Riley, a recruiter, dug around and now says he is sending them a giant billboard sheet, 10 by 22 feet, a desk poster and one for a bulletin board.

Researchers Hunt Virus Causing Leukemia

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the concluding part of a two-part series on leukemia research in Michigan.)

By GENE SCHROEDER
Associated Press Writer

EAST LANSING (AP) — The search in Michigan for a virus that may cause human leukemia is a story of mice and men, of dogs and chickens.

On the University of Michigan campus in Ann Arbor, it concerns laboratory attempts to find a virus in the bone marrow of leukemia patients, with mice used in one phase of the experiments.

★ ★ ★

At Michigan State University in East Lansing, the research goal is to transmit leukemia from man to dog, and from dog to dog.

★ ★ ★

And at the U.S. Poultry Research Laboratory on the MSU campus, scientists already have proved that a specific virus is the cause of leukemia in chickens, and can be transmitted from the hen to the chick through the egg.

CONDUCTING RESEARCH

On both Michigan campuses, scientists are conducting research along separate paths as part of a $10 million federally financed program which involves research in other states as well.

Michigan State's contract with the U.S. Public Health Service is about $600,000 a year, and the project is expected to run a minimum of three years.

★ ★ ★

"Our first year—just completed recently—was what might be called the tooling-up stage," explained Dr. Gabel Conner, professor in surgery and medicine and research director of the leukemia project.

Sometimes termed cancer of the blood, leukemia is characterized by a wild, abnormal growth of white blood cells. It usually is fatal.

NORMAL VALUES

"During the first year, we've been getting normal values on blood readings from our animals and building up a stockpile of background information," Dr. Conner said.

"We're using purebred beagles because there is more information available on their ancestry lines and heredity."

The animals usually are furnished by a commercial breeder of purebred beagles.

Newborn pups are inoculated with human leukemia, and the progress of the disease—if it develops—is charted step by step. Other pups are inoculated with leukemia material of canine origin.

Most of the experiments are being carried out at a newly built "transmission" building in which every precaution has been taken to protect the surrounding area as well as its occupants.

FILTERED, STERILIZED

All air is either filtered or sterilized at 1,600-1,700 degrees before it is released, according to Dr. John Moore, instructor in veterinary surgery and medicine, who is in charge of the building.

The structure is elaborately equipped to screen out all pathogens (parasites which cause disease) in the part where the inoculated animals are kept in three-by-five foot cages, eight to a room.

Workers in this section don special clothing on entering and take showers on leaving to avoid the possibility, however small, of contamination.

In another phase of the MSU study, researchers at the Michigan Department of Health, working under a subcontract, are examining the kind and amount of antibodies produced by dogs inoculated with material from leukemic animals and people.

RAISED QUESTION

The findings of the U.S. Poultry Research laboratories several years ago of transmission of virus-caused leukemia from a chicken to an embryo offspring through the egg raised the question of whether the disease could be passed on from one generation to another.

Dr. Conner found in a recent study of dairy herds in Michigan that leukemia is found more frequently in large herds than in small ones. Bovine leukemia also is more prevalent than human leukemia.

Eventually, it is hoped, if a virus does cause leukemia it will be trapped and isolated in one or more of the laboratories —and a cure can be found.

Michigan scientists have as good a chance as any to make the discovery.

Sky-Happy Husband Needs Someone to Clip His Wings

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: After my husband had a close call, he promised me he would quit flying for a hobby, but he sneaks off and flies any way. He's even lied to our insurance man about it. I know he still flies because when the weather is bad and he can't get home, he has to call me.

ABBY

I love him, but I've even threatened to leave him. We have four children and I don't want a divorce, but I can't take worrying about him all the time. What is your advice?

FLYING WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If you can't persuade your husband to quit flying and you don't want a divorce, your remaining alternative is to learn to live with it.

Apparently your man is determined to have wings, and from your description of him, he's not likely to sprout any.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have a sister-in-law who's smart, bookwise, and she doesn't let anybody forget it for a minute. She's a Stanford graduate. Big deal! My complaint: Whenever there is a family gathering, she suggests word games like "Twenty Questions" or "Charades," or something where she can show off how smart she is.

We are a fairly intelligent bunch, but nobody except this one sister-in-law is interested in playing these brain games, which are more like contests. She's the bossy type and talks everyone into it every time we get together.

How can we get out of playing these games without looking like poor sports?

HATES THOSE GAMES

DEAR HATES: Speak for yourself. If you don't want to participate in "brain games," say so. And by the way, the rest of the bunch can't be as "intelligent" as you say they are, or they wouldn't permit themselves to be maneuvered into playing games in which they have no interest. Not consistently, anyway.

CONFIDENTAIL TO J. G. IN ABILENE: Here's a good rule to follow: If you don't know a person well enough to borrow money from him, don't lend him any.

His Mistake Was Honest

Sometimes a person can make a perfectly honest mistake and wind up paying dearly for it.

Take the case of Jean Belier of Lyon, France, for example. The Insider's Newsletter reports that Belier was sentenced to three months in jail and fined $160 for striking a 25-year-old girl who winked at him.

Belier's explanation would seem to warrant some sympathy. He told the court he thought "she" was a man. "It was the close-cropped hair and the trousers that fooled me," he said sheepishly.

Cotton calico, chintz, gingham, madras, and muslin all came from India originally.

After a luncheon members were entertained by a showing of high fashion hats.

Commentary on the hats by Mrs. Frederic G. Garrison, mistress of ceremonies, was a witty review of the club's past ten years. Modeling were some of the charter members.

Hostesses were Mrs. William A. McNamee, Mrs. Paul R. Rill, Mrs. Robert L. Saffell and Mrs. Loren C. Spademan Jr.

Star Names Best-Dressed

A recent interview with Robert Taylor of the films, touched on men's fashions and their part in the success of some of the male starts in Hollywood.

When requested to select a list of those who would qualify as the best-dressed actors during his long and distinguished career, he unhesitatingly suggested Clark Gable, Gary Cooper, Fred Astaire and Cary Grant as being outstanding — as being able to look well in everything from sports clothes to white tie and tails. Among the younger actors of today, he felt that Dick Van Dyke, Chad Everett and James Garner were among the best-groomed. (The interviewer noted that Mr. Taylor would certainly have to be near the top of any such list—if one existed!)

Fete Mrs. Haggerty

Mrs. George Haggerty was honored recently by friends and fellow teachers at a dinner in Devon Gables. A teacher of mentally handicapped children at Central Elementary School, she is retiring after 42 years.

Ikebana International, Detroit chapter, sponsored a flower show "A Glimpse of Japan" Wednesday in the Bloomfield Art Association, Birmingham. In connection with the floral arrangements was this traditional tea ceremony performed by (from left) Mrs. Taro Suzuki of Birmingham, Mrs. W. D. Sexauer of Ottawa Lane and Mrs. Glenn W. Bedell of Sylvan Lake.

The Bruce E. Dexters of Cherrylawn Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Carol Joyce, to David Howard Hahn, son of the Raymond Hahns of Meadowlawn Avenue.

Tender Tradition Often Omitted in Nuptial Rite

NEW YORK (NEA) — Very personal gifts for a bride are remembered through the years. One such present that fits this special category is the bridal handkerchief.

A crisp, white, beautifully edged hanky tucked within a sleeve or pocket of the bridal gown is an age-old tradition.

But in this era of action with little thought such an item often is forgotten.

The gift has lasting meaning primarily because it can be handed down through the family.

After its use in the wedding ceremony, the hanky can be turned into a christening bonnet for the first child, taken apart for the marriage of the child years later.

Select a richly laced handkerchief and include instructions for turning it from hanky to bonnet and back in the package.

SPRAY STARCH

Select a 11- to 12-inch handkerchief. Use spray starch and iron it crisp and square.

Fold handkerchief in half and fold in half again so a square a quarter of the original size is formed. Slipstitch folded edges together.

Maintain a double thickness and open the square out to form a point. Bring point down 1½ inches along stitched edge to form a triangle and tack in place. This forms a basic hat shape.

For further shaping, backstitch two ¼-inch darts about 2 inches long, 1½ inches from either side of center back.

★ ★ ★

Finish with ribbon rosettes or bows and narrow ribbon ties. Since all is hand-stitched, merely clip the thread to return hanky to original form.

Polly's Pointers

Keep Box Open

DEAR POLLY — My mother always keeps the box of adhesive bandages OPEN in the bathroom cabinet or on the kitchen shelf, so we do not have to struggle to open the box when any of us has a cut finger. — TREVA

★ ★ ★

DEAR POLLY — Do you want to safely transport a homemade pie or cake to a party, to Aunt Susie's house or to a picnic? Take a large tin box (perhaps one that a fruit cake came in), remove the cover and place the cover upside down on the kitchen counter.

Now place the cake or pie in the cover and invert the bottom of the tin box in the cover and over the baked goods. Carry the whole thing upside down and you have a tight compartment to protect those precious goodies. — L. M.

DEAR POLLY — When I decided to give myself a haircut and home permanent I wished that I had medicine cabinets with swinging mirror doors on opposite walls so that I could adjust them to see the back of my hair and still have both hands free.

Since I did not have this convenience, I taped a hand mirror to the thickness of the bathroom door which is on the wall opposite to the single swing mirror door to the medicine cabinet. By moving the two mirrors back and forth I can adjust them to be able to see any part of the back of my head. — LOIS

DEAR POLLY — I have a simple way to have clean, fresh kitchen window shades at all times. I buy medium-weight yard material such as denim, Indian Head or the like, in white or ivory in the width to fit my window shade roller.

Cut to the desired length and make a hem in the bottom wide enough for the wooden stick to slip through. Fasten this shade on to the old roller with five or six thumbtacks. When soiled it is easy to remove and pitch into the washing machine, starch lightly (optional) and replace on the same roller with the same tacks.

A colorful remnant might be used for such a shade and brighten up the kitchen. — MRS. J. J. B.

The engagement is announced of Cheryl Ann Hatch, daughter of Mrs. Wayne Pray of Jackson and Donald C. Hatch of Rochester, to Pvt. Robert Merlin Donnelly, son of the Merlin J. Donnellys of Dill Road. Her fiance is stationed at Fort Ord, Calif.

Devious cut-outs in the new swimwear will make for some provocative suntans in the months ahead. Typical is this Swiss-cheese tank suit by DeWeese in a figure-firming two-way stretch weave powered with "Lycra" spandex.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer:

You have given me so much confidence in my sewing that instead of being a nervous wreck when I worked on a new garment, I am more relaxed. Consequently, I make so many less mistakes.

I am making a summer dress with a yoke in a contrasting color. The yoke is set into the bodice in a V, and although there is a center front seam, I can't get the point of the yoke to fit in. It looks rounded and no matter how much I clip, it just won't come out right. Help! MRS. B. B. G.

Dear Mrs. B. B. G.:

You're so right about the importance of relaxing when sewing. I give my students the same lecture almost every week. A positive attitude can work wonders for you.

As to the yoke with the V to be set in, you must remember to stitch the center front seam only to a mark ⅝ inch from the edge of fabric. You DO NOT machine stitch the entire seam closed. You must have the extra edge of fabric to work with. Be sure to back tack or secure the machine stitching where you have ended the seam.

First pin one side of the yoke so that the mark in the point of the yoke will match the point where you back stitched the seam. Stitch your seams up to this point and back stitch to secure. Remove from the machine and pin the other side of the yoke beginning at the point of the yoke and stitch and the end of the seam.

Remember you never cross over a seam when stitching, but remove the fabric and begin stitching again on the other side of your seam. This is one of the details that are described in detail in my leaflet "All About Gussets." You might not think about this in relation to a gusset, but the construction detail is very similar and if you can do the gusset detail perfectly, you will be able to construct many such details to perfection.

If you would like this informative booklet, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope plus 10 cents to Eunice Farmer in care of The Pontiac Press and your copy will be sent to you promptly.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. C. W. Papapey, Louisbury, Mo. wins a Tailor Trix pressing board for the following idea:

"With the newest styles coming out with so many contrasting colors for yokes, set-in-bands, and parts of a garment in different colors, it is often a problem trying to find just the right color zipper to use.

"If you need a two-tone zipper because of the colors, buy white for the white portion of your garment and dye the contrasting part of the zipper to match the contrasting color of your dress. A new felt-tipped pen works beautifully for this and can be found in almost every color."

Dear Readers:

Recent surveys show that 84 per cent of the teen-agers today are doing part of their own sewing. This seems like a fantastic proportion of teen-agers. We are curious as to why so many more are sewing today. About a year ago I asked the women to write and tell me why they enjoyed sewing. The answers were a real inspiration.

★ ★ ★

Now, won't you sit down today and tell me why you enjoy sewing and what you would like in patterns and fabrics, to make you want to sew even more? Just send me a card or a note, but please let me hear from you! Send your letters to Eunice Farmer in care of The Pontiac Press.

It's Hard to Admit Feelings of Jealousy

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My sister and her husband have installed a toy auto-racing electrical system in their youngsters' play room. It is very expensive equipment and we can't afford one for our son. He is 10, just a year older than his younger cousin.

Though he enjoys playing with their racing cars when we visit their home, I can see how envious he is. His cousins have always had so much more than he has. . .

ANSWER: Are you jealous of your sister's bigger income? Children can manage this kind of envy quite well if we are free of envy. Aware that we possess advantages that we would not sacrifice for our sister's bigger income, it is easy to help our cousin-envious child see that he possesses advantages he wouldn't give up for all the toy racing cars in the world.

But if we are not aware of our own advantages, then we will indeed be as sympathetic with our son's sense of deprivation as we are toward our son and encourage his envy.

But if we are not aware of our own advantages, then we will indeed be as sympathetic with our son's sense of deprivation as we are toward our son and encourage his envy.

You are jealous of your sister's bigger income, aren't you? It's idiotic to be so ashamed of this kind of jealousy that we can't admit it.

It's idiotic because if we can't admit it we can't look at it. And if we can't look at it we can't recognize the irrational greed in it.

We can't see that our envy of our sister's money excludes all knowledge that her husband and children go along with her money. You don't want to exchange your husband for hers, do you? But that's part of the deal that includes enjoyment of her income.

Do you want to exchange your child for her children? But this exchange, too, is part of the deal of exchanging incomes with your sister's income.

Look. We can't have everything we want.

Jealousy is cruel because it seduces us into forgetting this fact. It is cruel because it so centers our attention on the one coveted advantage possessed by the envied person that we forget that the coveted advantage is all mixed up with other involvements that we do not want.

Jealousy says to us: "You are entitled to your sister's income while retaining your own husband, your own child."

Whether its irrational greediness is centered on our sister's bigger income or the bigger prettiness of the divorcee who makes a pass at our husband, jealousy blinds us to the truth that we can't have our sister's income without her family nor the divorcee's prettiness without her loneliness.

★ ★ ★

If the truth can clarify for us, it is easy to help a child remember why he doesn't want to be his cousins.

Men's Styles Gain Color

Men's summer formal wear used to consist of the white dinner jacket or the black dinner jacket if a man didn't own a white one.

Now reports Gentlemen's Quarterly, the men are wearing blue, red and gold, and dinner jackets made also of madras, batik, seersucker, or silk. Typical in the white silk scroll embroidery on the shawl collar and cuffs.

Spinster Apt to Have Had Happy Youth

BERKELEY, Calif. (UPI) — The old saying "happy marriages produce old maid daughters" could be true, says a woman psychiatrist.

Dr. Genevieve Knupfer, of the Mental Research Institute here, recently completed a survey among 785 adults over 23 years old.

★ ★ ★

Her findings indicated that single women have had the happiest childhoods.

The lot of the single woman was indeed happy, particularly compared to single men.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, she said men who escape the marriage race were "more psychologically impaired to begin with."

★ ★ ★

Since women usually are more anxious to get married, the fellows who "get away" are more likely to be rejects, she said.

★ ★ ★

She said her studies showed single men were more likely to have lived with only one parent, have had childhood difficulties, and to have been uncertain of their parents.

5 Northwood Institute Coeds Admit Jump to Business World Is Scary

MIDLAND (AP) — Some 526,000 college students graduate this spring as the class of 1966 — a class that many educators have described as having a "know-it-all attitude."

Five of these 1966 graduates are women leaders at Northwood Institute, Midland, and despite the charge of know-it-all airs, they confess to being somewhat frightened at jumping into the world of business from the smallness of the campus.

The women are Gayle Leonard, an advertising major from Manitou Beach; Joanna Slanker, retailing major, Mecosta; Leslie Adams, retailing major, and Helen Howe, secretarial science major, both of Grosse Pointe; and Carmen Uezu, secretarial science major from Lima, Peru.

All graduated May 29 from Northwood, a two-year Institute whose president is Arthur E. Turner. Turner, named one of America's "Ten Outstanding Young Men of 1965" by the U.S. Jaycees, founded Northwood Institute in 1959 to give instruction geared to the needs of free enterprise.

Gayle, who studied copywriting, confessed to being somewhat scared to leave the campus. She started her studies at the Northwood extension campus at Alma where she was vice president of the Alma Student Senate. Even the move to the campus at Midland in the fall was a challenge because she found many of the offices and activities already filled.

* * *

The move that Gayle made to the larger campus was only a reflection of the nationwide trends.

Enrollments in the two-year technological schools during the 1965-66 school year jumped 13.6 per cent with 189,034 full-time students enrolled in some 70 technological schools.

Enrollments in junior and community colleges rose 22.6 per cent, with Michigan alone registering an increase of 12,000 students in 24 colleges.

ENROLLMENT CLIMB

Founded at Alma, the Northwood enrollment has climbed to 850 from the less than 100 students only seven years ago.

"Northwood is just big enough," commented Joanna. "I would hate to see it get bigger because now the students are individuals, not numbers."

* * *

Each of the women expressed the idea that college experience in her major field is most important and each of the five has created her own unique experience to help her career.

Leslie said her biggest experience was attending school in Quito, Ecuador, last year. Noting the contrast in the countries, she said the problem was the breach between the highest and the lowest classes and her challenge was attempting to understand a way of life different from hers.

JOB TRAINING

Joanna's challenge was on-the-job training. During winter quarter she worked in retailing for a large department store in Grand Rapids where her duties included everything from interviewing prospective employes in the personnel office to direct selling in the bridal shop. After her marriage she will live in Lansing, working as a junior executive trainee and hopes to take night school courses.

A writing course was Gayle's challenge. "It was while I was in the middle of exam year," she recalled, "and I was stumped." A professor assigned a story on "bow and arrow fishing" to be told in 600 words and completed in two days. "I had to research the entire article because what girl knows about that subject?" Being from a resort town, Gayle said she thought of how small boys might proceed if they wanted to bow and arrow fish.

* * *

"An old arrow with a nail on it, and I was off," she said. Her professor suggested she attempt to sell the article and Gayle has recently completed a second story on the construction of an artist's desk.

Carmen's challenge is language and she wants to become better in her English which is now nearly perfect. She wishes to return to her native country and become a secretary.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES

Helen met her challenge with her sorority life and campus activities.

Currently secretary of the Northwood Student Senate, Helen said the council sponsored dances and activities to keep the students on campus during week ends. Helen said this forced the students "to develop creativity and their own ideas."

* * *

Contrary to opinion, the women said the idea of a snap two-year school is false. Helen said "this school wakes you up faster and makes you grow up. You find you have to be prepared in two years to accept adult responsibility where other students have the traditional four years."

Joanna, who is the only woman of the five now engaged, said that the key rests with what one can do when she leaves school. "I eventually hope to have my own business because even if a woman is married that is no excuse to hide her education."

SIGNED CONTRACT

Gayle will work to prove herself. "It has been a joke at our house that I signed a contract with my dad saying I would not marry or even get engaged until I had completed two years of school and worked for a year."

"I am an individual and intend to prove it," Leslie said. "It is not so much what I do, but the need to feel adequate in whatever I will be doing."

Carmen said she wants to feel that she has become interested enough in people to give of herself and to be able to understand their feelings.

The Northwood degree is the feeling of knowing that one has accomplished something which is beyond just the ordinary. . . and knowing that accomplishment is done well, said Helen. "It is the idea of unselfishness," summarized Helen.

"It is not only doing what you want to do, but knowing that you have done a particular job well, no matter how small that job may be," said Gayle.

Caterers Lose on Liquor Bill

Measure to Allow Sale at Parties Dies

LANSING (AP) — Many wedding receptions and large private parties apparently will be much drier affairs from now on, as the result of House action Wednesday.

The House killed a substitute bill that would have legalized the sale of liquor by caterers who operate private party halls.

Many such caterers have admitted they have been selling liquor for years as part of their service to private parties —a violation of state law, although it is done with the knowledge of local police authorities.

Rep. Edward Michalski, D-Detroit, chairman of the liquor control committee, said the bill was intended to provide control where none exists now.

OPENED DOOR

Opponents argued that it opened the door to increased liquor sales in total disregard of state laws establishing a maximum ratio of one liquor license for each 1,500 persons in a community, and banning the sale of alcohol within 500 feet of a church or school.

The bill would have required the caterers to pay a licensing fee of $1,000 a year and post a $5,000 bond.

The issue came to a head in Detroit last December. Detroit police ordered a crackdown when at least one caterer advertised a party, open to the public, at which liquor was to be sold.

"The House already killed this bill—by about 66-22," said Rep. John Bennett, D-Redford Township, objecting to the Liquor Committee's tactics in getting the question back on the House floor.

The committee amended a Senate bill that would allow waiver of one - year residence requirement for firms going into the liquor business in the state.

House Passes County Home Rule Bill With Restricted Taxing Powers

LANSING (AP) — The House approved a county home rule bill, Wednesday after nearly 16 months of work, debate and delay.

The much-revised, controversial measure was approved 78-29 and sent to the Senate for concurrence in House amendments.

★ ★ ★

The bill, which passed the Senate early last year, was described as "a cordial invitation to Michigan's counties to accept the opportunity to reorganize their government," by Rep. Francis Beedon, D-Muskegon, chairman of the Towns and Counties Committee.

Opponents called it a destruction of local government.

One of the chief changes in the bill since it came from committee last month was the restriction of county taxing powers. In its committee form, a county that adopted a home rule charter could levy any tax that was not prohibited by law.

In its final House shape, it prohibits any specific tax unless it is authorized by the Legislature. Property taxes are not affected by the prohibition.

★ ★ ★

The bill was only slightly altered on the floor Wednesday. Among the unsuccessful last-minute attempt to change the bill was one to restore the broader taxing powers.

Backers said it would be easier for the Legislature to restrict county taxation than to draw up a list of specific taxes that the county could levy.

RESTRICTED POWER

Beedon said the Legislature could not give a county taxing powers that were broader than those enjoyed by home rule cities.

The bill allows a county board of supervisors to call an election on the question of whether it would go to a home rule form of government.

It also allows five per cent of the registered voters in the county to demand such an election.

The county charter commission and the board of supervisors elected under the new charter — if it were adopted—would have to be elected on a one-man, one-vote basis from single-member districts.

APPROVAL NEEDED

The measure prohibits the county from taking over a service (such as a water or sewer system) provided by a city without the approval of the city council or commission, or from forcing a service on a city that didn't want it.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has ruled that such a provision would violate state laws establishing home rule cities.

★ ★ ★

The bill calls for the partisan election of the sheriff, prosecuting attorney, county clerk, treasurer, registrar of deeds and for either the election or appointment of the drain commissioner.

Puerto Rican Mayor Says Migration Less

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The mayor of San Juan says that the flow of immigrants between Puerto Rico and the United States now is greater southward and the trend is likely to continue.

★ ★ ★

Felisa de Gautier said living conditions in Puerto Rico have improved so that fewer Puerto Ricans migrate north.

Gets Jail Term After Stowing Away on Plane

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UPI) — David J. Barratt, 29, who identified himself as a Detroit motor body designer, was sentenced to 20 days in jail yesterday after stowing away on a Northwest Airline plane.

Municipal Court Judge Bruce Stone fined him $70.36, double the fare from Detroit to Minneapolis, but Barrett was unable to pay.

★ ★ ★

Barratt said a buzzing in his head told him to board the plane "to get my wife in England." He said he had been recently living in Chicago and his wife in Perkhamsted, England.

Barratt, who was going the wrong way, was convicted of disorderly conduct.

Walkout Stops Western Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thousands of Western Union workers have staged a four-hour walkout across the nation to dramatize their demands for more pay.

The walkout completely halted the company's operations from noon to 4 p.m. yesterday.

The workers, members of the AFL-CIO Commercial Telegraphers Union, are seeking wage boosts of 7 and 6 per cent in the next two years.

Union President E. L. Hageman said his members would not accept the agreement Western Union has reached with the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America, which represents 4,000 telegraph workers in New York City.

That agreement calls for wage increases of about 4 per cent annually in a three-year contract.

State Vote Changes Nixed

LANSING (AP) — The Senate rejected Wednesday two proposed election law changes that could have hurt — or at least embarrassed — Republicans in November.

One would have put the U.S. gubernatorial race, at the head of the ballot.

★ ★ ★

Under the present system, the Republican ticket leader in 1966 will be Gov. George Romney, favored to win a third term in his race against Democratic challenger Zolton Ferency.

The change would have allowed Democrats to lead their ticket with their Senate Candidate, either former Gov. G. Mennen Williams or Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh.

Sen. Edward Robinson, D-Dearborn, argued that the change would put the ballot in logical order, with national races first, then state and then local.

The other proposed change would have banned the picture of any living person in political party vignettes which appear on ballots. Romney's likeness is in the GOP vignette. Williams' recently was removed from the Democratic vignette because of his primary contest against Cavanagh.

★ ★ ★

Robinson said, "I don't think we want to establish personality cults."

Sen. Robert VanderLaan, R-Grand Rapids, said Robinson "must fear a disastrous November (election) and I hope his fears come true."

★ ★ ★

VanderLaan called the proposal "not worth debate."

TO REOFFER AMENDMENT

Robinson said he would reoffer the amendment when the bill to which they were attached comes to a final vote.

★ ★ ★

Even if the proposals are adopted, however, Republicans are expected to prevent them from taking effect this year. But Democrats could still use the GOP action as an arguing point to embarrass Romney.

★ ★ ★

In other action, the Senate gave approval to four bills but refused again to adopt a measure easing procedures for adoption of village bond issues for purposes of land acquisition.

MALAYSIA-INDONESIA ACCORD — Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik (left) and Malaysian Deputy Prime Minister Tun Abdul Razak exchange notes of agreement in Bangkok yesterday after three days of talks to end their nations' undeclared war. Educators Coming Here to Observe New Alphabet

Educators from Michigan and Ohio have been invited to the offices of Oakland Schools June 10 to explore the potential of UNIFON — a synthetic 40-letter alphabet — as a means of teaching reading.

The program will begin at 9:30 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m.

Planning to attend are John R. Malone, inventor of the code, and Dr. Margaret S. Ratz, who has developed the UNIFON teaching program and materials.

Malone, a resident of Chicago, and Dr. Ratz, chairman of the education department at Principia College, Elsah, Ill., will explain their new reading program and demonstrate its use with kindergarten children.

★ ★ ★

Philip G. Hilaire, reading consultant for Oakland Schools, explained UNIFON has a single symbol for each sound, or phoneme, in English.

TESTED FOR YEAR

The new method has been tested for a year with apparent success in Illinois, Washington, D. C., and Detroit.

Oakland County schools have been testing another system, the 44-letter initial teaching alphabet (ITA) for two years.

Teachers from 72 first grade classes, six classes for mentally handicapped children and two for the deaf have reported from satisfactory to excellent results using the ITA method.

★ ★ ★

The symbols used in UNIFON resemble Greek. Unlike the ITA designed by Sir James Pitman, UNIFON is not readable until the code system has been learned.

Teachers have reported at least one advantage to the new system. They claim that children enjoy learning a "secret" kind of writing.

The dependable sound-for-sybol system enables children to recognize and write their spoken vocabularies much more quickly than with traditional English symbols and spellings, adherents of the program point out.

Transition from UNIFON to traditional orthography is said to occur with most children after the first 8 to 16 weeks of the first grade.

Another advantage of UNIFON, note exponents, is that it is computer-compatible.

Computers can be programmed to convert spoken language directly to UNIFON and deliver an immediate printed transcript.

The UNIFON transcript can then be fed to a scanning device and relayed through a computer programmed to convert UNIFON into traditional English.

Congress Is Blocking Red Trade Boost

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

When Secretary of State Dean Rusk asked Congress last May 11 to relax trade restrictions with Communist nations, he was acting upon the express wishes of President Johnson.

NEWSOM

Also supporting him was a resolution passed more than a year ago by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber asked a cutback in the number of items barred from sale to the Soviet Union and other European Communist states equal to that of the United States' European allies.

Running athwart the views of the President and of American business, as expressed by the U.S. Chamber, is the Congress, which has indicated it will not act upon the President's proposals this year.

Each operates from a point of view.

BUILDING BRIDGE

The President sees relaxed trade as part of his bridge-building program to Eastern Europe.

Within Congress is ingrained anticommunism and a belief that any relaxation of the U.S. attitude simply helps to build Communist war-making potential.

The business view, as contained in the Chamber of Commerce resolution, holds that U.S. policy has not had the effect "to deprive the Communist countries of goods but to divert business to European suppliers."

★ ★ ★

The volume of trade between Western Europe and Japan and the Communist countries is about $3 billion per year.

SHOWS DECLINE

Similar U.S. trade is not much more than $100 million and in some cases has shown a decline.

Poland, for example, is one of two Communist countries receiving favored nation treatment from the United States. Yugoslavia is the other.

Trade with the Poles came to $42.1 million in 1962, but declined to $41.3 million in 1963.

★ ★ ★

The Poles blamed pressures from the John Birch Society and a boycott on Polish goods in department stores and supermarkets.

PRESSING HARD

With West Germany in the lead, the West European nations, Britain, France and Italy, are pressing hard to open up the Communist market.

The Krupp organization of West Germany provides management and know-how to the Poles and is active elsewhere in the Eastern bloc.

West German and French firms are being invited to set up plants on a joint basis in Poland and Hungary.

★ ★ ★

Poland is thinking of inviting Western capital in to build and manage hotels for its tourist trade.

PARTNERSHIP

A Czech trade group and a British firm have formed a partnership to produce and market automatic equipment.

Italian and French automobile manufacturers are expected soon to be active within the Soviet Union.

And this correspondent can testify that all of the capitals of Eastern Europe swarm with Western businessmen hoping to increase the margin of trade. And attempts are being made to encourage them.

Yugoslavia is working on plans for profit-sharing ventures with Western businessmen.

The Hungarians also plan basic economic reforms beginning in 1968 and including expanded trade with the West.

Report Raps CMU Policies

Probers Recommend Bigger Faculty Role

LANSING (AP) — A Senate investigating committee declared today "trust and respect" is lacking at Central Michigan University, and recommended an increased policy role for faculty at the school.

It also concluded CMU was unjust in denying pay raises to four faculty members whose criticisms of the school administration helped spark a lengthy series of hearings.

A minority statement challenging the 86-page report by committee chairman Sen. Edward Robinson, D-Dearborn, is expected shortly along with an attorney general's opinion on whether the year - long investigation violated constitutional autonomy of the Mount Pleasant institution.

The investigation and hearings, which grew out of faculty comments to Robinson in early 1965, centered around faculty - administration relations and delved into issues ranging from parking tickets to the leadership ability and temper of CMU President Judson Foust.

NEW POLICIES

The committee recommended the faculty senate, board of trustees and administration "develop and encourage and implement policies that will allow full faculty participation in academic policymaking at all levels."

Dissidents had complained of lack of voice in selection of department chairmen, new faculty members, curriculum and other areas.

The report said the administration's organizational structure should be revamped "to permit greater delegation of authority and flexibility."

Sailor to Get a Surprise on His 1st Ship

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — Chief Boatswain Mate Ben Blakeman, 52, El Monte, Calif., got a letter from his seaman apprentice son yesterday about his first Navy assignment. He thinks the boy is in for a surprise.

Bruce Blakeman, 20, will serve aboard the Polaris submarine tender Proteus, but he doesn't know his father got orders this week transferring him to the same vessel.

Five Men Asphyxiated in Pennsylvania Mine

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa. (AP) — Five men were asphyxiated last night in a soft coal mine near this western Pennsylvania town. Two others escaped safely.

Dr. Robert L. Shaffer, Jefferson county coroner, said the men were working in the Dora No. 2 mine of the Doverspike Brothers Coal Co. when they opened an abandoned working containing "black damp," a miner's term for air without oxygen.

Shaffer said five of the crew of seven working with a continuous mining machine managed to get out but two apparently were unable to flee.

Three of the men returned to try and help their companions, and died.

* * *

Shaffer said the dead men were John Kramer, 33, Sam Gaul, 39, and Bob White, 47, all of Punxsutawney; Hilton Neiswoger, 27, of Mayport; and Ronald Moore, about 25, of Dubois.

* * *

James Ishman of Brookville and Oran Anthony, 39, of New Bethlehem escaped, said Shaffer.

* * *

The men cut into the old working last night. Rescue operations were delayed for several hours until fans cleared the air. The bodies were recovered early today, about 14 hours after the tragedy. The men were about one mile inside the mine.

Four Special Pie Recipes Geared to Everyone's Taste

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

No restaurant catering to the general public would consider a menu without pie for dessert. A typical American food, pies seem to be an essential dish for the majority—especially men.

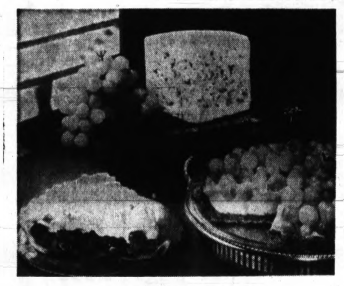
Many men, including the one whom I've cooked during the past 30 years, prefer fruit pies to any other kind. But there are times when some other kind of pie is desirable.

Women like airy chiffon pies. Perhaps they delude themselves that there are fewer calories in this kind. Not always.

You won't find the usual pie recipes on this page. Each one given here is a bit on the different side.

My only problem was limiting the choice to four. Each one will be good in its own fashion for the summer months.

Most sophisticated of the group is this recipe for Danish cheese and fruit pie. Try the cherry one now and the grape one when that fruit is on the market.



DANISH CHEESE, FRUIT PIES

Danish Cherry Cheese Pie

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
½ pound Danish Blue Cheese (2 cups, crumbled)
1 cup heavy cream
1 can (1-lb., 4-oz.) cherry pie filling baked 9-inch pie shell
½ cup toasted slivered almonds

Soak gelatin in cold water to soften, stir over hot water or low heat until gelatin is dissolved and mixture is clear.

Mash Danish Blue Cheese well, stir in gelatin, and mix until well blended. Whip cream until stiff and fold in gently.

Pour cherry pie filling into prepared pie shell and spread Blue Cheese mixture thickly over it, swirling top with flat of knife for meringue-like effect. Chill until firmly set before serving.

★ ★ ★

DANISH GRAPE CHEESE PIE: Follow directions for Danish Cherry Cheese Pie and pour filling into pumpernickel crumb crust.

Cover thickly with green grapes, placed upright. Or use red tokay or black ribier grapes, in season, split in half and seeded. Chill until firmly set before serving.

Pumpernickel Crumb Crust

1 loaf (11-oz.) thin-sliced square dark pumpernickel
½ cup butter, melted
¼ cup sugar

Dry bread in a slow oven, break it into small pieces and whirl in blender; or crush to crumbs with a rolling pin. Blend crumbs, butter and sugar and press firmly against the bottom and sides of a 9-inch pie plate.

Flatten the bottom by pressing with an 8-inch pie plate. Bake the crust in a 350-degree oven for 15 minutes; cool well before filling.

Avocado Halves Hold More Fruit

Here's a delightful salad to serve on a fish menu.

Avocado Citrus Salad

2 ripe avocados
2 cups each torn lettuce and chicory
Membrane-free sections from 2 large oranges and 1 large grapefruit
½ cup slivered fresh dates

Halve avocados; remove seeds and peel. Place halves cavity-side down and slice thin; arrange on the torn greens with the citrus fruit; sprinkle with dates. Makes 6 servings.

Serve with this dressing: Beat until smooth ¾ cup salad oil, ⅓ cup catchup, ¼ cup red wine vinegar, 2 tablespoons sugar, ¾ teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon instant minced onion. Chill. Beat before serving. Makes 1½ cups dressing.

Mold Is Harmless

Don't worry if the cheddar cheese you have stored in the refrigerator acquires some surface mold; just cut or scrape away the mold before you use the cheese.

MACAROON PEACH PIE

Macaroon Peach Pie

A second recipe using prepared pie filling is Macaroon Peach Pie. There's a surprise under the fruit layer.

MACAROON PEACH PIE

½ cup blanched almonds
¼ cup shredded coconut
⅔ cup (small can) evaporated milk
1 egg
¼ cup sugar
3 tablespoons frozen orange juice concentrate, defrosted
1 9-inch unbaked pastry shell
1 No. 2 can (2 cups) peach pie filling

Put almonds and coconut through blender or grinder or chop very fine. Mix with evaporated milk. Beat egg until fluffy; add sugar and beat until light. Slowly beat in orange juice and almond-coconut mixture. Pour into pastry shell.

Bake in a 425-degree oven for 15 minutes; reduce temperature to 350 degrees. Spoon pie filling over filling and bake 10 to 15 minutes longer. Cool.

Dreamy Mint Chiffon Pie

Just the pie for that next luncheon you're having is Dreamy Mint Chiffon Pie. Even when the temperature soars, this is appealing. You could even use the filling for a pretty dessert served in parfait glasses.

DREAMY MINT CHIFFON PIE

1¼ cups finely crushed chocolate wafers
3 tablespoons sugar
¼ cup melted butter
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1½ cups milk
2 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon peppermint extract
15 drops green food color
½ cup heavy vream, whipped
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
¼ teaspoon salt

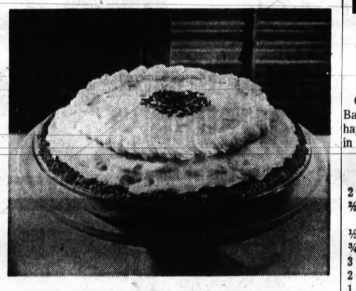
Combine crushed cookies, the 3 tablespoons sugar and butter. Pat evenly over bottom and around side of 10-inch pie plate. Bake in 350-degree oven 5 minutes. Cool.

Add gelatine to milk. Beat egg yolks; add to milk with ¼ cup of the sugar. Cook, stirring constantly, over medium heat until mixture just simmers. Remove from heat. Cool; add extract and food color, mixing well.

Chill until mixture begins to set. Fold in whipped cream.

Add cream of tartar and salt to egg whites and beat until soft peaks form. Gradually add the remaining ¼ cup sugar and continue beating until stiff but not dry; fold into filling. Pour into crust. Chill.

Serve with additional whipped cream if desired.



DREAMY MINT CHIFFON PIE

BUTTERSCOTCH BANANA PIE

Butterscotch Banana Pie

Children will like Butterscotch Banana Pie and mothers will be happy to get milk in their diet in such a delectable way.

BUTTERSCOTCH BANANA PIE

2 cups milk
⅔ cup firmly packed light brown sugar
⅓ cup flour
¾ teaspoon salt
3 eggs, slightly beaten
2 teaspoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 9-inch baked pie shell
3 ripe bananas, sliced

Scald milk in heavy saucepan. Combine and mix sugar, flour and salt. Stir into milk slowly. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick and flour is thoroughly cooked, about 10 minutes.

Stir a small amount of hot mixture into beaten eggs, and stir it into remaining hot mixture. Cook 1 minute. Remove from heat; stir in butter and vanilla. Cool thoroughly.

Cover bottom of pie shell with a small amount of filling. Top with alternate layers of sliced bananas and butterscotch filling, ending with filling. Chill.

Serve plain or topped with sweetened whipped cream and additional banana slices, if desired. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Beans Turn Special Treat

To make green beans something special, try this: combine 2 (1 pound) cans of cut green beans, drained, 1 (11-ounce) can of condensed cheddar cheese soup, ¼ cup of milk and ½ teaspoon of onion salt in baking dish.

Combine 3 round shredded wheat biscuits, crumbled, and 3 tablespoons of melted butter or margarine; sprinkle over green bean base.

Bake in preheated 375-degree oven about 25 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

All Convenience Foods

Vegetables Trim Fish

With the many convenience foods so readily available, putting a good meal on the table presents no problem to busy young homemakers. Yet, how many users of convenience foods serve them "as is," without imagination and consequently without sparkle?

★ ★ ★

The recipe given here, which isn't really a recipe, but rather a way of serving convenience foods, is suggested by the National Fisheries Institute in an effort to give a lift to the serving of the many convenient fishery products available today.

★ ★ ★

Although the recipe calls for fish sticks or breaded fish portions which are sold as fillets or cutlets, the dish also would be suitable for frozen breaded seafood.

CRISPY BREADED FISH WITH SPINACH BORDER

1 package frozen fish sticks or fish portions
Juice of lemon
1 teaspoon salt
White pepper
1 9 to 10 oz. package frozen creamed spinach
1 10 oz. package frozen whipped potatoes

★ ★ ★

Heat fish sticks or fish portions in hot oven as package directs. Meanwhile, prepare frozen creamed spinach and frozen whipped potatoes as packages direct. Place fish on warm platter and sprinkle with lemon juice, salt and white pepper.

★ ★ ★

Arrange creamed spinach as a border around fish, then line outer edge of platter with a ruffle of frozen whipped potatoes pushed through a pastry tube. Makes 3 servings.

Juice Useful, Too

The syrup from canned purple plums may be used in fruit beverages, combined with orange or pineapple juice for a breakfast drink, used with plain or fruit-flavored gelatins for salads and desserts. Not too sweet, not too tart, this syrup lends itself to a variety of enjoyable uses.

Serve This Relish

A fresh vegetable relish is delightful to serve along with the usual condiments — chutney, coconut, peanuts — that accompany chicken, lamb or beef curry. You can make the relish from chopped tomatoes, cucumber and scallions (green onions) seasoned with salt, pepper, sugar and vinegar.

Dutch Lunch on Rye Wins Prize

CHICAGO, Ill. — A triple-decker sandwich, the "Dutch Diplomat," was recently acclaimed one of the 20 Best Sandwiches of the year, in ceremonies at the National Restaurant Association Convention, McCormirk Place.

* * *

Clyde Allison, manager of the cafeteria, service dining room and snack bar for Montgomery Ward and Company in Portland, Oregon, created the "Dutch Biplomat," one of 1,400 entries in the 11th annual National Sandwich Idea Contest.

He said his inspiration came from a popular cold plate, known as "Dutch Lunch." Allison said he felt that a combination of the well-liked ingredients would make a palatable and attractive sandwich.

Allsion will now compete with 19 other Contest finalists for top prizes. Winners named in July will each receive $500 and a trip to New York for the Coronation Party.

* * *

The top winner will be crowned Sandwich King or Queen of 1966, and will be awarded an all expense, two-week holiday for two anywhere in the world, plus an additional $500.

The American Dairy Association, National Live Stock and Meat Board, National Restaurant Association, Poultry and Egg National Board and Wheat Flour Institute co-sponsor the competition which is designed to distinguish and reward creative American talent in the food service industry.

1½ cups prepared coleslaw, drained
6 slices (1½ oz. each) baked ham
6 slices (1½ oz. each) cooked turkey
Butter, softened
French fried potatoes
Dill pickles
Pimiento-stuffed green olives

* * *

Spread break with mayonnaise or salad dressing. Cover each of 6 slices with 1 cheese slice, 1 rounded tablespoonful coleslaw and ham. Cover with 6 bread slices, spread side down. Cover with turkey, remaining coleslaw, cheese and bread, spread side down.

* * *

Spread top slice of sandwich with butter. Place on preheated grill or frypan, buttered side down; spread top slice with butter. Grill sandwiches on both sides until golden brown. Cut sandwiches diagonally in half; secure with wooden picks.

* * *

Serve hot, with French fried potatoes, dill pickles and olives. Makes 6 sandwiches.

PRIZE WINNER—The "Dutch Diplomat" calls for caraway rye bread, coleslaw, and slices of Swiss cheese, baked ham and rolled turkey. The sandwich is grilled and served with French fried potatoes, pickles and olives.

Slices of Smoked Ham Butt Flavor Bean Skillet

Pork and beans for dinner on Saturday night is as New England as Plymouth Rock. Time flies by, but that old-fashioned pork and beans Saturday dinner remains a favorite.

* * *

Colonial cooks spent long hours preparing pork and beans. Now we can run to the stonre, buy flavorful smoked boneless pork shoulder roll and canned beans, and with a few simple seasoning tricks have an elegant dinner ready to enjoy in minutes.

Years ago cooks didn't have fine smoked pork shoulder roll to cook with beans. They missed the distinctive goodness the flavor of smoked pork adds to beans.

Go all the way when you want a simple but special old-fashioned Saturday night dinner. Serve smoked pork and beans dinner with coleslaw, brown bread or corn sticks, felishes and wedges of freshly baked frozen or home-made apple pie for dessert.

SMOKED PORK AND BEANDS DINNER

1 small smoked boneless pork shoulder roll (about 2 pounds)
1 tablespoon shortening
3 cans (14 to 16 oz. each) pork and beans with tomato sauce
1½ cups coarsely chopped onion
½ cup catsup or chili sauce
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup molasses
¼ cup sweet pickle relish, optional

* * *

Cut smoked boneless pork shoulder roll into slices ⅜ to ½ inch thick. Heat shortening in large fry pan over moderate heat, or in large electric fry pan or buffet server with heat control turned to 340 degrees. Brown meat slices lightly on both sides in hot shortening; remove slices from pan and set aside.

* * *

Turn heat to low, or to about 210 degrees, if an electric pan is used. Add remaining ingredients to pan; mix well. Arrange meat slices on beans. Cover and cook until meat is thoroughly tender, 35 to 40 minutes. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

DINNER IN A SKILLET — Everybody will love this smoked pork and bean dinner. Here's old-fashioned goodness that's ready to enjoy in minutes.

WHIPPED VELVET — This high-protein, light-textured salad is a delicious combination of cottage cheese, velvetized evaporated milk and fresh or canned fruits. Perfect for luncheon or a buffet table.

Garnish Snowy Salad With Fruit

Luncheons, dinners, buffets take on a special glow when a tasty refreshing salad is on the menu.

Here is one your family and friends will love—Whipped Velvet Fruit Ring. It combines lime flavor gelatin with velvetized evaporated milk, cottage cheese and fruits. The creamy evaporated milk is whipped into fluffy mounds and then folded into the salad mixture, giving it an airy light texture.

Besides making salads more delicious, convenient-to-use velvetized evaporated milk is an economical basis for cream sauces, soups, ice creams, pies and other recipes where milk and cream are an ingredient.

Whipped Velvet Fruit Ring

1 package (3-ozs.) lime flavor gelatin
¾ cup hot limeade
1 cup undiluted velvetized evaporated milk
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¾ cup chopped celery
1 cup (8-ozs.) creamed cottage cheese
Canned or fresh fruit

Dissolve lime gelatin in limeade. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white.

Chill evaporated milk in refrigerator tray until soft ice crystals form around edges (15 to 20 minutes). Whip until stiff (about 1 minute). Add lemon juice and whip very stiff (about 2 minutes).

Add celery and cottage cheese to gelatin. Fold in whipped evaporated milk. Turn into 6-cup ring mold. Chill. Unmold and fill center with fruit.

Curried Sauce Good for Fish

Once regarded exclusively as tidbits, almonds are now an important ingredient in numerous cooked dishes. Their buttery flavor adds distinction to a variety of foods; they toast to a golden brown which enhances even the simplest offering.

* * *

Here almonds work their magic on curried fish fillets, transforming them into glamorous Curried Fillets Amandine. The National Fisheries Institute suggests completing the menu with chutney in lemon cups, French-fried potatoes and a salad of grapefruit sections and chicory.

Curried Fish Fillete Amandine

½ cup flour
2 teaspoons curry powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1 pound fresh or frozen fish fillets (haddock, ocean perch flounder, cod)
½ cup (1 stick) butter or margarine
½ cup chopped blanched almonds Chutney

Combine flour, curry powder, salt. Roll fillets in this mixture, coating throughly. Heat butter in large skillet.

Add floured fillets and cook over moderate heat until browned (about four minutes). Turn and brown other side, cooking until fish flakes easily with fork (about three minutes more). Remove to heated platter.

To butter remaining in pan, add almonds and stir over moderate heat until browned. Pour over fish. Serve with chutney in scooped-out lemon or orange halves. Makes four servings.

Coat It First

Dip sliced eggplant (as is or pared) in slightly beaten egg and seasoned fine dry bread crumbs; brown in butter. Serve with a tomato sauce for a meatless meal.

Let Guests Watch as You Cook Crab

We often think of the crab as the tiny fellow who hides in the sand, but there is also the Alaska King crab which we find in our supermarket frozen food cabinets. The National Fisheries Institute tells us that this giant crab weighs up to 15 or 20 pounds and may be six feet in length; he would have a difficult time hiding in the sand!

King crabs are caught only in the Pacific waters off the coast of Alaska. From the far north, they are shipped all over the country in frozen form so that the delicate flavor of this pink crab meat may be enjoyed all year around.

A dish fit for an epicure is "Crabmeat Epicure."

Crabmeat Epicure

¼ cup butter or margarine
2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms (4 large)
4 tablespoons chopped pimiento
1 tomato, peeled and cut in thin wedges
1 tablespoon minced sweet onion
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups light cream
2 packages (6 oz. each) frozen crabmeat, thawed, drained and flaked coarsely
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon coarsely ground black pepper
3 teaspoons minced chives, (fresh, frozen or dried)
¼ cup bourbon whisky

* * *

Melt butter in a large skillet (range-to-table type preferred). Add mushrooms and cook over moderate heat, stirring occasionally, five minutes. Add pimiento, tomato and onion. Cook one minute.

Sprinkle with flour. Slowly add cream, stirring. Add crab, salt and pepper. Heat, stirring gently, until bubbling and warmed through. Add chives and bourbon.

Serve at once over rice or green noodles. Makes six servings.

Gilding the Lily

As a topping for apple pie, you can melt processed cheddar cheese in a little milk. Serve this topping hot. The pie will probably also benefit from being served hot.

APRICOT PEAR BREAD — Using a package of Apricot Nut Bread Mix, prepare as directed on package, decreasing water to ¼ cup and adding one cup mashed canned pears. Add ¼ teaspoon almond flavoring to egg and water mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 55-60 minutes. Serve with Ginger Fluff. Combine an 8-oz. package cream cheese softened with ¼ cup sifted confectioners' sugar, two tablespoons milk and ½ teaspoon ginger. Beat until light and fluffy.

When a recipe calls for a half cup of chopped onion, you'll be safe in using one medium-size onion.

When you are using a cookie press for cookies, press out only a small amount of the dough at a time.

U.S. Berlin Brigade Proud of Job It's Doing While Surrounded

BERLIN (AP) — John Hancock Hay and the 6,000 other soldiers of U.S. Army Berlin are surrounded. They stand watch 110 miles inside Communist East Germany.

★ ★ ★

Both Brig Gen. Hay and the soldiers of the Berlin Brigade are proud of their unique status. As one tanker sergeant put it, "Who else is surrounded by the Russians and gets away with it?"

Hay finds things quieter than they were in the first 12 months after he arrived to take command, July 5, 1964.

"We've had our interesting moments, though," he adds, citing delays along the East Germany highway U.S. troops use going and coming from West Germany, illegal helicopter flights over West Berlin by the East Germans, and the "routine harassment" of U.S. patrols inside Communist East Berlin.

NO MAJOR DIFFICULTIES

Since the U.S. forces in Berlin are not out looking for trouble, Hay considers it a job well done if there are no major difficulties in helping maintain West Berlin as a free society while guarding the allies' rights and practices.

Hay is 48, dark-haired, 6 feet 1 and 178 pounds. A parachutist and holder of the Silver Star, he reached general rank despite his entering the army as a Reservist, not a regular. He became a soldier after having worked as a forest ranger in the rim district of Oregon's Crater Lake.

The general describes his basic mission as "maintaining a highly trained combat force ready to go at a minute's notice." He added that his job is made easier because of the high degree of motivation of his men.

With his second star already approved by President Johnson and Congress, Hay says he hopes as a major general to command a division in combat. He is being reassigned to Hawaii in August and may be on his way to Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Hay was born in Thief River Falls, Minn., but was reared in Montana. He received a degree in forestry and civil engineering at the University of Montana.

Congress Hopeful, Skeptical on LBJ Viet Report

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's optimistic report that preparations for elections in South Viet Nam are moving in a sound direction aroused both hope and skepticism in Congress Thursday.

Johnson told a news conference Wednesday that "while there will be missteps, the direction is sound" toward voting aimed at installing a civilian regime to replace the military government in Saigon.

Senatorial critics and supporters of the President's Viet Nam policies joined in expressing hope that Johnson was right in saying that with "reasonable unity and proper diligence and constant regard for our national interest, we will achieve our objectives here — at home — and there in Viet Nam."

NOT AS ENCOURAGED

Among those willing to speak out, however, none found quite as much encouragement as Johnson said he did by the progress of a special Vietnamese committee preparing for the election of a constitutional assembly.

Armed Services Committee Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., who supports Johnson's Viet Nam policies, said he thinks "some progress has been made but just how substantial it is will be determined by future events."

"It is exceedingly difficult to have a fair expression of the country's sentiment under the conditions that exist," he said.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., a foreign relations committeeman who has criticized Johnson's course, said in a separate interview "I hope he's right."

"But I think we are in serious trouble not only in Viet Nam but all over the world," he added.

Johnson covered a wide variety of subjects in his Cabinet room meeting with reporters, including an expression of satisfaction with the course of the national economy and the pace with which Congress is dealing with his legislative programs. On other matters, He:

● Complained that he doesn't see in the newspapers the kind of "indepth reporting" he would like to have on political progress in South Viet Nam.

● Said he rather agrees with the view of Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen that leaders of both parties should be briefed on Viet Nam developments. He said he had talked to Dirksen twice in the last few weeks.

● Reported that the U.S. program of dealing with France's forthcoming withdrawal of troops from NATO "is going very well."

● Classified the civil rights situation as one "we think desperately needs attention."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., course, called Johnson's report on the Viet Nam election situation "clearly a holding statement."

"He isn't really defining this country's posture yet," Javits said. "Events have not yet crystalized and the President has been careful to hedge on commitments."

Sen. Leverett M. Saltonstall, R-Mass., who has gone along with the war policies, said "I hope he (Johnson) may be right."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., who has backed the President, said he is not optimistic that the proposed elections will bring the desired results.

"We are asking a people to hold their first national election in the midst of one of the cruelest wars in history," he said. "I don't think we can expect a normal election result. I only hope that the voting will result in bringing some civilians into the government."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who has urged a restrained U. S. military effort in Viet Nam, declined comment.

* * *

Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, who wants a U. S. withdrawal, predicted that premier Nyugen Cao Ky's government is on the way out.

But Russell, Javits and Jackson said Ky's agreement with his Buddhist critics to add 10 civilians to the 10-member military directorate was a step in the right direction. Russell said Ky had shown better judgment and firmness in handling the protests against his regime than the senator had expected.

Ahead of Normal Time

2 Heroes Up for Promotion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Viet Nam war's first Medal of Honor winner and a former West Point All-America football player have been tapped for promotion to major.

Capt. Roger H. Donlon, the Medal of Honor holder, and Capt. Pter Dawkins, of Royal Oak, the all-America player, were selected by Army boards ahead of their normal time for promotion.

Donlon, 32, has just completed an advanced officers course at Ft. Benning, Ga., and will spend the year at Omaha University.

Dawkins, 28, who played at West Point in the late 1950s, now is an adviser to a Vietnamese airborne unit.

NEA Acquires Almanac Firm

News Service Buys Famed Book of Facts

NEW YORK (NEA) — The Newspaper Enterprise Association, America's oldest and largest basic newspaper feature service, today announced acquisition of the World Almanac and Book of Facts, popular reference work for nearly 100 years.

NEA features regularly appear in the Pontiac Press.

The World Almanac was first published in 1868 by the New York World. Its present circulation is over one million copies.

When the Joseph Pulitzer estate sold the World to the Scripps-Howard Newspapers in 1931, the World Almanac passed to the management of the New York World-Telegram, which has continued publication to the present.

★ ★ ★

The World Almanac was not involved in the merger of the World-Telegram and the Sun with two other New York newspapers.

SEVEN FIGURES

NEA purchased the book and its assets for an amount in seven figures and took over the editorial and production staff headed by Luman Long, editor.

The seller was 125 Barclay Street, Inc., successor, by change of name, to the World-Telegram and the Sun.

The World Almanac moved this week from the newspaper building in downtown Manhattan to new quarters at 230 Park Avenue, close by the editorial headquarters of the parent Newspaper Enterprise Association at 7 E. 43rd St.

★ ★ ★

In making the announcement, Boyd Lewis, NEA president and editor, said: "This acquisition links the proud tradition of the World Almanac for completeness and authenticity of our newspaper service."

Checks Stolen at City Firm; One Cashed

Pontiac police are seeking a man who apparently stole 30 company checks from a city firm and then cashed one of them yesterday for $68.30 at the A & P Market, 125 W. Pike.

★ ★ ★

Joseph DiPalma, manager of the grocery store, was credited with alerting police to the theft of the checks when he became suspicious after cashing one of them.

DiPalma phoned John R. Morton, co-owner of Oscar's Motor Sales, 948 S. Saginaw—firm off which the checks were drawn.

Morton then discovered 30 of the checks had been stolen.

★ ★ ★

Police said a description given them by Morton of a man seen around the motor firm closely matched DiPalma's description of the man who cashed the check.

'Dr. Strangelove' Author Is Found Dead in Britain

ST. LEONARDS, England (AP) —Author Peter George, whose book was filmed as "Dr. Strangelove—Or How I Learned to Stop Worrying and Love the Bomb," was found dead last night. He was 41.

Police said he died of a head wound and a discharged single-barrelled shot gun was between his knees. His wife found him slumped in a chair in his study.

A friend said the author had not been in good health recently and had been depressed. William Holden, a director of Heinemann, George's British publishers, said:

"He had been suffering from ulcers for sometime and had been working on another book."

Billy Graham's New Rally Off to Successful Start

LONDON (AP) — Billy Graham today declared the opening of his second British crusade a success after addressing 18,038 persons and counting 450 "decisions for Christ."

"I believe it is only the beginning of a great spiritual tide," said the American evangelist after the start Wednesday night of the one-month crusade in Earls Court Arena. Graham's organization had expected 25,000 for the first night.

★ ★ ★

Graham said he was delighted with the audience and that it was quieter and more responsive than the one at the staart of his 1954 British crusade.

"Several times more people made decisions tonight than on opening night at Harringay (in 1954), he said.

There were Negroes in the audience, and Graham urged those who had made decisions to offer their "hands and hearts" to persons of other races.

He said no people were better equipped than the British to help the world's hungry, illiterate and despondent people.

★ ★ ★

"This could be your finest hour," he said. "What a moment to be alive. What a thrill to live at this momentous hour in London when the people on every continent — speaking many languages, with different colored skins — are crying for help."

CARRIES HER LUNCH — Neville Russell, caretaker at a park in Louisville, Ky., doesn't have to eat lunch alone. Each day, Pet, a little lady squirrel, accepts a sandwich — peanut butter on toast preferred. She then retires to a nearby tree to enjoy the meal.

She's Not for You, Buddy

Beauty? Good Cook? Forget It

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — She's a bright-eyed blonde with a wild and wonderful watusi?

In the kitchen she's a regular Mary Margaret McBride?

Break it to her gently, boy. She's not for you.

The way to pick a wife is the way J. Edgar Hoover picks a G-man. Find a girl who's an accountant or an attorney.

A wife should be a helpmate. Think you need help in the kitchen? Not with television dinners, not with cakes that come in boxes, not with electric dishwashers, you don't.

FOOD NO PROBLEM

A married man's problem is not food. It's his bank account, his income tax, his hospitalization insurance, his time payments.

The ball-point pen is mightier than the egg beater.

It's not the chick's figure you should be interested in — it's the way she figures. The emphasis is on the fiscal, not the physical.

Right at the beginning you'll need one of those big beer coolers the girls call refrigerators. Is it cheaper to pay $3.37 a week on a time payment contract the credit department shoves at you, or should you borrow the money from your company credit union at one per cent a month? Cash? What's that?

A bright girl with an abacus in her purse can give you the straight pitch before you have time to make your first big mistake.

PROTECTIVE MEASURES

Marriage is the sound institution it is today because we protect ourselves against unforeseen emergencies with things like major medical insurance. All that is required from the insured is a payroll deduction, a big filing cabinet, and a clever bookkeeper with plenty of time to keep records, correspond with the medical and dental professions, and make a few trigonometric computations.

There's also hospital insurance, surgical insurance, accident insurance, mortgage, fire and wind insurance on your house, liability insurance, insurance covering repairs to the television set and washing machine, five kinds of car insurance, camera insurance, and life insurance on everybody including the dog.

In early spring comes the Form 1040. You've finally saved a buck and invested it — wisely, if you listened to a wife who has had time to digest brokers' reports and pour over the financial pages every day. Now you discover Schedule D. Do you have a long-term capital loss carry-over from preceding taxable years? Or a gain from disposition of depreciable property under sections 1245 and 1250?

LET WIFE WORK

If you played your cards right in the beginning, you can be playing pool while your wife works this all out.

For the bachelor, the affluent society is a rich dish. But the married man has learned the truth: Affluent is what the other guy is at your expense.

Camera Can See Around Corners

By Science Service

HUNTSVILLE, Ala.—A winding coil that looks like a segment of garden hose allows a camera to literally see around corners, over obstructions and even twist itself back to see the camera itself.

This is a fiber-optics, a relatively new technology that will be used in spacecraft in combination with television to check on the operation of the vehicles after launch.

A fiber-optics tube containing thousands of optical fibers can be twisted into places inside a rocket between a TV camera and the area being watched.

Small numbers of tiny optical-quality glass fibers are fused into blocks from which "bundles" containing hundreds of thousands of fibers are made.

* * *

They are then placed into the bundles made of flexible, stainless steel, hydraulic hose.

A TV camera is set at one end and an optically clear, heavy quartz window at the other holds it nearest the section of the spacecraft being observed.

A TV system using a fiber-optics viewing system designed by the Boeing Co. will be used to transmit four views of the operation of the first stage of the Saturn V booster from the beginning of ground fueling until separation of the S-IC stage about 40 miles above the earth after launch from the Marshall Space Flight Center.

Steve Evans Allows Chiefs 3 Hits

Northville Stops PCH, 3-2

By JERE CRAIG

Northville shook off the effects of two bad breaks to nip Pontiac Central, 3-2, Wednesday night at Jaycee Park and reach the finals of the Pontiac Invitational High School Baseball Tournament.

The Mustangs (18-2) thus became the first finalist in the fifth annual competition cosponsored by The Press and the city Parks and Recreation Department.

Defending champion Southfield and Birmingham Brother Rice, a first-time participant, are the other remaining hopefuls from the original 16 teams that started the single-elimination tourney.

They battle at 7:30 p.m. today in the concluding semifinal contest with the winner meeting Northville at 7:30 p.m. Friday for the coveted championship trophy.

Northville led all the way last night but didn't have an easy time of it. First-inning singles by John Jameson and Dave Boerger gave it a 1-0 edge.

PCH had the tying run cut down at the plate in the bottom of the frame. The first four Central batters reached base off Northville ace Steve Evans, but poor base running led to two outs.

SETBACK

The first setback for Northville came in the third inning during an unusual play at first base.

The Mustangs' left fielder (and No. 2 moundsman) Dennis Primeau was on first base when John Jameson looped a fly that PCH infielder Rick Farms made an excellent catch on. His throw attempting to double Primeau off first bounced off Cecil Martin's glove.

★ ★ ★

But Johnson had interfered with Martin's attempt to field the throw and the runner was declared out, also. PCH catcher Paul Roberts alertly grabbed the loose ball and in attempting to tag Primeau for insurance tripped over the bag, plowing into the runner from behind and fracturing Primeau's left leg.

A grim Evans continued to mow down Central batters on strikes, holding a no-hitter into the bottom of the fifth.

Meanwhile, Northville plated two key runs in the top of that inning on Gerry Imsland's rbi single and Martin's errant throw after cutting off the throw to the infield.

RALLY

Tom Howard started the Chiefs' comeback by beating out a high chopper for the first safety off Evans. Dan Irwin walked following a strikeout and Martin unloaded a high fly that Pat Hall — subbing in left for the injured Primeau — couldn't hang onto after a long chase.

The double scored one run and Irwin came on to score when Imsland bobbled the cutoff. Another error followed by slow running kept the run from scoring.

Evans got the next two hitters to escape the jam. He allowed a lead-off single in the sixth for PCH's final hit. The righthander then fanned four of the final six batters to run his game total to 16 whiffs.

This is the second time Northville has reached the finals. The Mustangs defeated Southfield, 1-0, in 1962 to win the initial tournament.

Leg Broken in Tag Play

It was a freak play that ended the baseball season prematurely for Northville's Dennis Primeau last night at Jaycee Park in the fifth annual Pontiac Invitational High School Baseball Tournament.

The Mustang base-runner was caught off first base when Pontiac Central's Rick Farms made an excellent catch of bloop pop fly to short right field. The throw to the bag eluded the first baseman but PCH catcher Paul Roberts alertly backed up the play, retrieved the ball and tried to tag the runner.

Ironically, Primeau had already been declared out on an interference ruling; but the action continued in order to make sure of the out.

3-Run Margin Not Sufficient for Minnesota

Lumpe's Single Puts Tigers Ahead in 7th; Kaline Drives In 4

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Those come-from-behind Detroit Tigers survived the first-inning blues, capitalized on Minnesota errors, and romped to a 9-4 victory Wednesday night.

The Tigers play the Twins here again tonight.

Things looked grim in the first inning. Minnesota scored two runs as Jimmy Hall doubled in one and Harmon Killebrew blasted his second homer.

Then in the third the Twins scored an unearned run to make it 3-0.

But two errors by Minnesota second baseman Bernie Allen and a wild pitch by Dave Boswell put two runners in scoring position in the fourth. Al Kaline, continuing his hot streak, singled home two runs to make it 3-2.

★ ★ ★

Dick McAuliffe's triple and Norm Cash's ground single tied it 3-3 in the sixth.

Detroit broke the game open in the seventh. Don Wert singled and Johnny Podres walked. Podres replaced Tiger starter Dave Wickersham in the fourth and took the victory, his second against one loss.

LOAD BASES

McAuliffe walked to load the bases and Jerry Lumpe singled to drive in two runs. Kaline followed with a one-run single.

It was 6-3 when the Twins came up in the eighth, and a single, a walk and a double by Sandy Valdespino drove in a run.

However, Detroit iced the match in the ninth. McAuliffe tripled and scored on a grounder by Kaline. Bill Freehan singled and drove in Cash and Kaline.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers pounded out nine hits, two each by McAuliffe and Kaline and one each by Lumpe, Cash, Jim Northrup, Freehan and Wert.

4 RBI's

Kaline drove in four runs and Lumpe and Freehan two each.

Lumpe banged his tie-breaking, two-run single off reliever Jim Merritt, but the loser was starter Dave Boswell, now 0-4 for the season. Wickersham failed again to get a decision and remained 0-0 for the year.

Dick Radatz Dealt for Two Indians

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox today traded relief Pitcher Dick Radatz to the Cleveland Indians for righthander Lee Stange and Don McMahon.

The 29-year-old Radatz, who had been a sensational relief pitcher for Boston from 1962 through 1964 when he was twice named "Fireman of the Year," had a disappointing 1965 season and to date this year has an 0-2 record in 16 relief appearances. He is a resident of Royal Oak, Mich.

★ ★ ★

Boston obtains a 29-year-old starter and reliever in Stange, who has a major league record of 33 wins and 26 losses since he came up with the Minnesota Twins in 1961. He was traded to Cleveland in June, 1964.

In seven games with the Indians this year he had a record of one win and no losses, with a complete-game 2 - 1 victory over Baltimore.

McMahon, 36, like Radatz has always been a reliever. He was with the Milwaukee Braves from 1957 through 1961, and with the Houston Colts in 1962-63. He has been with the Indians since September, 1963.

His major league record, all in relief, is 38 wins and 36 losses. In nine games for Cleveland this year he has no official record.

Brother Rice Detroit Loser

Birmingham Brother Rice, featuring the sons of an ex-Detroit Tiger pitcher, ran into a frequent curse of the Bengals in dropping the Detroit Catholic League championship game yesterday at Tiger Stadium.

The Warriors left 12 runners stranded while losing a 6-2 extra-inning tilt to Hamtramck St. Ladislaus.

Former Detroit hurler Steve Gromek, a St. Lads' graduate, nonetheless was present to cheer on Brother Rice which uses his sons Carl and Greg as its keystone combination. Each had one hit in the game.

The Warriors meet Southfield in the semifinals of the Pontiac Invitational Baseball Tournament tonight.

Angels' Staff Needs 'Wings'

ANAHEIM (AP) — Bill Rigney, manager of the California Angels, averages three pitchers a game and his skillful and frequent changes usually payoff. But the well may run dry.

The Angels are in a desperate fix after employing six hurlers in a 17-inning loss to Cleveland Tuesday night and six more in a 10-inning, 9-7, defeated by Baltimore Wednesday night.

In fact, the entire Angel team may be dead on its feet this afternoon when it squares off against the Orioles in the second and final game of the series at Anaheim Stadium.

NO BREATHERS

The Angels have four weekend games here against Detroit, including a Sunday double-header, and they won't have a day off until June 9th.

Only five Angel pitchers have managed to go the route in the first 44 games, so Rigney is hoping that Veteran Jack Sanford 5-1 can give the bullpen a breather when he goes to the mound against Baltimore's John Miller 0-1.

Pinchhitter Jerry Adair won the game with a tie-breaking single off Howie Reed. Luis Aparicio added an insurance run with a sacrifice fly.

Elsewhere, Kansas City walloped Cleveland 8-3, the Chicago White Sox downed the New York Yankees 6-2 and Washington whipped Boston 6-3 before the Red Sox took the night cap 5-0.

The A's tagged Indians' starter John O'Donoghue and two successors for 13 hits, including homers by Ed Charles and Ken Harrelson and triples by Dick Green and Danny Cater. Green's triple and a single by Joe Nossek in the sixth inning broke a 3-3 tie and put Kansas City ahead to stay.

Tom Tresh's error and singles by Tom Agee, Bill Skowron and Floyd Robinson gave the White Sox two runs in the third inning. The Agee scored what turned out to be the decisive run in the fifth when he walked, stole second and came all the way home on Bill Skowron's grounder.

Two-run doubles by Bob Chance and Dick Nen in the last two innings brought the Senators their opening game victory.

Phillies' Star Provides Strength With Hitting

By The Associated Press

Rich Allen can't throw over 60 feet, but he's having no difficulty hitting over 400.

Philadelphia's star third baseman, who missed 20 games with a dislocated right shoulder, is recuperating in the outfield and making the Phillies healthy with his bat.

Allen drove in four runs — three of them with a 447-foot home run — Wednesday night as the Phillies rallied for a 7-4 victory in the second game and completed a sweep of their doubleheader against Chicago. Philadelphia won the opener 4-3.

It was Allen's second 400-foot homer since returning to the line-up last week. He's had nine hits in 30 swings and shows a season's average of .338. With him back, the Phils have won six of eight.

Elsewhere Wednesday night, Willie Mays hit his 517th career homer as San Francisco edged Atlanta 4-3, Los Angeles blanked St. Louis 1-0 on Sandy Koufax' seven-hitter, Houston shut out Cincinnati 2-0 and Pittsburgh downed New York 3-1.

Mays' two-run homer in the first inning was an inside-the-park shot that broke off Mack Jones' glove as he and Hank Aaron collided. Willie McCovey followed with a solo homer and Jim Davenport hit one in the sixth.

Koufax struck out nine and walked just one in gaining his ninth victory in 10 decisions. He got the only run he needed in the seventh when Willie Davis tripled and came home on Bob Tolan's error.

"This is the best I've thrown all year," said the Dodger ace, who won his sixth straight and lowered his earned run average to 1.48.

Dave Giusti and Claude Raymond combined on Houston's five-hit shutout of the Reds, who dropped their fifth in a row. Jim Wynn drove in one run with a single and Rusty Staub homered for the other Astro run.

Matty Alou drove in one run and scored another in the Pirates' victory over the Mets.

49ers' Passer Lets Attorney Carry Ball

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Quarterback John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers has thrown the ball to an attorney in lining up for his 1966 contract negotiations while the price war between pro football leagues rages.

The 31-year-old veteran, who set a National Football League completion record last season, engaged John Elliot Cook to represent him.

★ ★ ★

That came just a day after Don Klosterman, general manager for Houston in the American Football League, told of talks with the 49er star in the Texas city.

In San Francisco, that brought immediate speculation that the former Stanford great might be considering a switch of allegiance. That could mean forfeiture of a pension already earned.

The 49ers say Brodie's 1965 contract contained the option clause for his services in 1966. Under established club policy, officials would not discuss either prior contracts or present negotiations.

★ ★ ★

There were reports the ace passer received in the neighborhood of $40,000 last year and wanted $75,000 this time, perhaps spaced over a number of years.

Seymour Gets EBA Contract

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Paul Seymour, a former coach in the National Basketball Association, has signed a one-year contract to coach the Scranton Miners of the Eastern Basketball League, it was announced Wednesday.

Seymour, a 20-year-old veteran of the NBA who coached six years, said the close proximity to his home in Syracuse, N.Y., and the fact that the FBL which plays only weekend games, has short travel jumps had much to do with his signing.

Seymour, 38, a native of Toledo, Ohio, became a pro at the age of 18. He coached three years at Syracuse, two at St. Louis and one at Baltimore. He led St. Louis to one Western Division title.

Ward Lost to Chisox

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago White Sox were dealt another serious blow Wednesday night when it was learned that third baseman Pete Ward will be lost to the club for from four to six weeks because of a hernia.

★ ★ ★

Only 24 hours earlier, the White Sox lost the services of shortstop Ron Hansen for the rest of the season because of a ruptured spinal disc.

City Leaguers Score in 2 Softball Loops

You could hardly distinguish the city recreation fast pitch softball teams from the slow pitch ones by looking at the scoreboard last night.

Bud and Lou's Bar trimmed Local 653, 15-5, with a 10-run fifth inning, and L and S Standard nudged by J. A. Fredman, 11-7, in the Beaudette Park National League action.

At Northside Park, the slow pitch men had their usual high-scoring battles with Sport-O-Rama trimming National Cash Register, 19-10, and MGM and Shalea whipping Artco, 17-8.

Carl Pace had a double and triple and Jim Fields had a single and double in Bud & Lou's big inning. L&S overcame Fredman's despite Ken Carpenter's bases loaded inside-the-park home run.

Howard Menzies had two singles and a double for the winners.

Home runs sparked the slow pitch action. Bob Courtney (four hits) Dan Kursteiner (twice) and Bill Manser connected for Sport-O-Rama, and Larry Olsen hit a grandslam blow for Artco.

Miss Richey Clears Hurdle

PARIS (AP) — Nancy Richey, the determined little 23-year-old star from Texas, has cleared another hurdle in her bid to win the women's singles title in the French International Tennis Tournament.

Miss Richey's major roadblock is just ahead, though, because her opponent in the semi-finals will be Margaret Smith of Australia, the tournament favorite.

The Dallas girl, co-holder of the No. 1 ranking in the United States, beat Annette Van Zyl of South Africa 3-6, 6-3, 6-2 and Miss Smith, the Wimbledon champion, eliminated Julie Heldman of New York 6-2, 6-2 in quarter-final matches Wednesday.

Broncos Sign Gridder

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Eddie Fletcher, a baker who played last year with Grand Rapids, Mich., was signed Wednesday by the Denver Broncos of the American Football League.

Memphis Open Starts After Warm-Up 63

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — "You can't watch Jack Nicklaus, Tony Lema, Gene Littler and the others without learning and improving."

That's the observation of Randy Petri, a pro golf newcomer in the field for today's first round of the $100,000 Memphis Open.

Petri, who helped the University of Houston win the NCAA title a year ago, joined the protour in January.

"In college, you ran into a dozen or so good golfers a year," Petri said. "In the PGA, there are 144 of them every week, and they're all capable of 65s."

Littler birdied five holes and eagled another Wednesday in posting his warm-up seven-under-par 63—equaling the Colonial oCuntry Club course record.

Trainers Plan Varying Tactics for Belmont

NEW YORK (AP) — Trainers of nine 3-year-olds mapped today the strategy which they hope will carry their finely tuned thoroughbreds to victory Saturday in the 98th running of the Belmont Stakes and ruin favored Kauai King's bid for the turf's Triple Crown.

To some the strategy calls for sending their horses out in front at the start of the 1½ miles with the hope that they'll have enough left to win when they reach the home stretch.

To others the plans call for keeping Kauai King within range and hoping their horses can outfinish the winner of the Kentucky Derby and Preakness.

Red Oppression Can't Stop Free Expression

NEW YORK (NEA) — Yulia Vishnevskaya, a bright 17-year-old Moscow girl, was recently arrested by the Russian secret police and charged with belonging to a secret association of poets, writers and artists.

The Soviet press, of course, did not report young Yulia's arrest. But according to private information from Moscow she was also accused of another "serious crime" against the Communist dictatorship.

She took part in a public demonstration for the writers Andrei Sinyavski and Yuli Daniel.

Both were sentenced recently by a Moscow court to hard labor in Siberia for having dared to publish some of their novels and stories in the West without permission from the Kremlin.

Yulia Vishnevskaya was declared "mentally ill" and sent to the notorious insane asylum which another exiled Russian writer, Valery Tarsis, described in his grim novel, "Ward 7."

FINDS MEMBERS

When she reached the asylum, Yulia found there two other members of her association of writers and artists, Vladimir Bukowski, 22, and Leonid Gubanov, 20.

They were also interned secretly and without a trial for having taken part in the "illegal" Sinyavski-Daniel protest demonstration.

Yulia and her friends are lucky. When Stalin ruled Russia public dissenters were shot without trial. Under his successors they are merely sent to prison or the insane asylum.

Almost 50 years after the Communists seized power in Russia they are still in mortal fear of public dissent.

The Marxist-Leninist rulers do not as yet dare to grant ordinary citizens — especially intellectuals — the right to challenge openly their rigid doctrine and policies.

Yet there is increasing evidence that they fight a battle already lost.

Even the stiff sentences passed on Sinyavski and Daniel, it is clear, have done little to stem the swelling current of opposition displayed in secret and even some official Soviet literature.

The process of free thought in literature and art that began after Stalin's death in 1953 moves forward regardless of who is on top in the Kremlin.

In Russia as in other Communist-dominated countries powerful forces of revolutionary changes already are in motion.

The Communist leaders, by their own admission, are baffled by growing opposition among young intellectuals.

They tried to adopt relatively liberal policies and make some concessions to check the trend toward "free thinking" among the young.

Having failed, they decided to resort to more ruthless measures as in the case of Sinyavski and Daniel. They will fail again.

Even in prerevolutionary czarist Russia there were always intellectuals like the poet Pushkin or writers like Tolstoy and Alexander Herzen who dared to criticize and undermine the czar's autocracy.

Body May Rust in Future

By Science Service

MOSCOW — Unless medical metallurgy keeps pace with advances in artificial body components, people some day might be faced with the same problem that plagued Nick Chopper, the Tin Woodman of Oz: rusting solid.

People with artificial metal parts in their bodies—plates, joints, etc.,—face one problem that "normal" people do not: corrosion.

Infection or irritated tissue is likely to occur when a nearby part is corroding more than a hundred-thousandth of an inch per year. Such corrosion often results from the presence of human plasma or body fluid, which produces in metal an effect similar to warm, aerated seawater.

An instrument to measure this corrosion as it happens, thus enabling doctors to predict the effective life of the implant, was described here at the Third International Congress on Metallic Corrosion.

Heart of the unit is its electrodes, which were originally designed as instrumentation for astronauts, reported Dr. Robert D. Greene, director of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute's corrosion research laboratory, Troy, N. Y.

The relative strengths of a succession of completed circuits indicate the rate of corrosion.

Sewage Plan OK Is Urged

2 Groups Recommend County Participation

Oakland County officials yesterday recommended approval by the County Board of Supervisors of a sewage disposal and drainage plan for southeastern Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Completed in December 1964 by the National Sanitation Foundation, the plan includes the counties of Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, Monroe and St. Clair.

Yesterday's recommendation at a joint meeting of the drain committee of the board of supervisors and the board of public works will be referred to the full board of supervisors.

Approval by the supervisors is required if a county seeks federal participation in drainage or sewage programs.

★ ★ ★

County officials are hopeful of receiving up to 50 per cent in federal matching funds for the proposed $16.5-million Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System, according to R. J. Alexander, director of the county Department of Public Works.

★ ★ ★

The project, which will serve eight municipalities, has been in the planning stage for two years.

Workers Vow Further Texas Farm Strikes

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (UPI)—Striking Mexican-American farm workers, aroused by a veteran of farm labor struggles in California, vowed today to mount more picket lines and step up their drive for the national minimum wage of $1.25 an-hour.

★ ★ ★

The strike has disrupted operations on three major cantaloupe farms in the lush Rio Grande Valley, one of the nation's leading suppliers of melon and other fruit.

The farmers who own the vast fruit plantations said they were determined to ride out the walkout, contending the 50-cent-an-hour wage they now pay is all they can afford.

The strike leader, Eugene Nelson, was jailed last night when he and a group of workers assembled at the Rio Grande City train depot, and an engineer said he was forced to stop a train. Nelson, accused of disturbing the peace, was put under $500 bond.

★ ★ ★

Officers said Nelson put his left foot over the track, forcing the slow-moving train to halt. Some of the workers carried picket signs.

★ ★ ★

The strike began yesterday on the Suntex Farm, La Casita Farm, and Los Puertos Plantation.

Thousands Watch as Four Congolese Are Hanged

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — A crowd of more than 100,000 looked on today as four Congolese politicians were hanged in Leopoldville's main square on charges of plotting to kill President Joseph Mobutu.

The government declared a holiday for the execution, and the government radio urged a large turnout to watch "the end of those who wanted to overthrow the regime and betray their fatherland."

★ ★ ★

One by one, the four condemned men stepped barefooted from a military jeep and climbed the steps to the gallows under a blazing sun. They wore black hoods over their faces and blue-striped shorts.

The hanging took less than half an hour. Estimates of the crowd ranged from 100,000 to 200,000. There were a few shouts as the trap was sprung beneath the first man, but otherwise the crowd was quiet.

EX-PREMIER

Those hanged were former Premier Evariste Kimba and former cabinet ministers Emmanuel Bamba, Jerome Anany and Alexandre Mahamba. They were arrested Monday and convicted and sentenced by a military court Tuesday after a 90-minute trial.

★ ★ ★

Mobutu's cabinet held a special meeting during the night to consider appeals for clemency from foreign diplomats and Catholic church leaders. But "pressure exerted on the government to pardon the conspirators brought no new element to the affair. The sentence of the military court is thus maintained," a government statement said.

★ ★ ★

Leopoldville radio said the government had received messages from throughout the nation approving the sentences.

A few minutes before the first hanging, two bare-breasted women in tears and four children were taken from the scene in an official car. They apparently were families of one or more of the condemned men but were not allowed to speak to them.

PUT IN COFFINS

Each body was cut down before the next hanging, placed in a white wood coffin and put in a jail van.

Kimba had been appointed premier by ex-President Joseph Kasavubu and served for six weeks before he and Kasavubu were ousted in a coup last November by Mobutu, the army commander.

The other three men were cabinet members under Premier Cyrille Adoula, now ambassador to Belgium. The government charged that Bamba, a close friend of Kasavubu, was the chief plotter and that Anany was to become premier.

The government announced Wednesday that Alain Rens, second secretary of the Belgian embassy, has been ordered to leave the country for being involved in the plot. Foreign Minister Justin Bomboko charged that Rens told the plotters Belgium was unwilling to get involved in the scheme but that he would consider giving them financial aid privately.

REJECT CHARGE

The Belgian government rejected the charge.

The Mobutu cabinet held a special session and issued a communique which said:

"The study of the file in the abortive plot having shown numerous complicities, the council of ministers has decided to bring to trial all Congolese or foreign persons connected, closely or not, in this plot."

Former cabinet minister Cleophas Kamitatu, another alleged conspirator, gave himself up to military authorities and told newsmen that he had nothing to do with the plot.

Airline Postpones Metro Move Again

DETROIT (UPI) — United Air Lines once again has postponed its scheduled move from Willow Run to Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

★ ★ ★

The airline announced today that the transfer of operations has been delayed because of incomplete facilities at Metro, and that a firm date would be announced only after the facilities are available.

★ ★ ★

Originally, United planned to move to Metro June 4, but postponed it until June 11. A spokesman said yesterday it now will be June 18 or later.

TEARFUL REUNION — Two venturesome 14-year-old boys were tearfully reunited with their parents yesterday after being missing for 24 hours in abandoned coal mines at Nortonville, Calif. Chris Corso and his father, Angelo, of Lafayette and George Schroeder and his mother, Mrs. Cynthia Schroeder of Walnut Creek, embrace after the youths emerged from the mine shaft. More than 100 persons joined a search for the boys.

'State Treated Fairly in Draft'

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan draft director declared Wednesday he does not think the state "is being treated unfairly based on the availability of manpower."

A statement released this week by 13 Republican congressmen indicated Michigan was being tapped for proportionately more draftees than Texas.

★ ★ ★

But the director, Col. Arthur Holmes, said the states are on equal footing when both enlistments and inductions are considered.

BASED ON DRAFTEES

U.S. Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., one of the 13 Republicans, acknowledged the figures were based only on draftees. He said the Republicans primarily had been calling for a restudy of the draft and had included the comparative figures.

★ ★ ★

Holmes explained that an area's rate of enlistments are considered when national Selective Service headquarters sets draft quotas.

In an area where many young men are enlisting, fewer draftees are required.

Holmes said Michigan probably has more inductions "because for economic reasons it has fewer enlistments. The boys are not enlisting at as rapid a rate as in the poorer states."

Draft Common Around World

By the Associated Press

Compulsory military service in one form or another is commonplace around the world. Britain, Canada and Japan are among the few nations that do not have it.

The questions of who is drafted, who is deferred and who is exempt are major issues in U.S. debate. These also are issues in many other countries. An Associated Press survey shows these highlights:

In Italy, which has a long, complex list of grounds for exemption and deferment, the son or brother of someone killed in a war cannot be drafted. The oldest or only grandson of someone with no unmarried children also is draft exempt, as is the oldest son in a family of seven or more children.

France grants an exemption if a member of the potential draftee's family was killed in the service of the nation.

Exemption or deferment because of service by other members of a man's family is allowed in several countries. In the Netherlands, if two sons have been drafted, all others in a family are exempt.

In Italy, if two brothers are called up, one may ask for a delay in his induction until the other has completed his service.

A Syrian can avoid conscription if he is an only child.

One of the toughest draft laws is in Iraq, which has been waging a costly antiguerrilla war against Kurdish tribesmen in its northern provinces for several years. Iraq's emergency regulations, passed in March, require service of anyone 18-50 who has not been in the armed forces before, including students. Deferments are granted only to persons sent abroad on government missions.

Switzerland has no exemptions except physical or mental disability. Moral or religious grounds do not bring deferment. Every male Swiss is ordered to begin service at 20, but in practice a man can apply for service as early as 18 or as late as 24.

South Africa's government, which maintains a policy of strict racial segregation, drafts only white males. Nonwhites are exempt.

After nine months of active duty and brief summer stints for three years, the South African has no further training, but he remains in the reserves until he is 65.

Mexico is one of the rare countries that does not defer students. Draftees train only on Sundays, when students are not in class. Exemptions are granted only for physical disabilities.

CERTAIN AGE

Peru's draft applies only to youths 20 years old.

The Soviet Union drafts youths 17-18 who have finished high school and those 19 regardless of whether they have finished.

College students receive military training during the school year and also spend periods in training after their second and fourth years. After they graduate from college, most enroll in the Officers' Reserve and are subject to call in national emergencies. But some college graduates are called into service immediately, usually those with engineering or other technical specialities.

All men in Red China are subject to the draft at 18. Those who enter the army serve three years. The term of service in the air force is four years and in the navy five years.

Most West Germans fulfill their military commitment after they finish high school and before they start college. There are few 18-year-olds in German universities—that is when they become eligible for call-up.

PROBLEM: Where do Plants breathe?

NEEDED: A house plant and a jar of petroleum jelly.

DO THIS: Coat the top sides of two leaves with petroleum jelly; coat the under sides of two other leaves. Leave them on the plant for a day or two, and then compare them. The leaves coated on their under sides will be dying.

HERE'S WHY: The openings through which leaves breathe are on the under sides. They are called stomata. Petroleum jelly closes them and the leaf suffocates.

Light used by the plant in its production of food shines mostly on the upper sides of the leaves, and the jelly does not cut it off. Another ingredient of the plant's food, water, generally comes up through the roots and is not affected by the presence of petroleum jelly.

Solicitors Will Be Seeking Funds for New Scout Camp

An army of volunteer solicitors will be scouring 33 townships in Oakland and Macomb county the next few days seeking funds to purpurchase and develop a new camp site for the Clinton Valley Council of Boy Scouts.

Currently under way is a $550,000 drive for Lost Lake Reservation, located 15 miles northwest of Clare, a two-and-one-half hour drive from the council area.

Church groups, community leaders, friends of Scouting, labor and industry alike are being contacted to aid in the drive to make Lost Lake Reservation a reality.

John Z. DeLorean, a General Motors Corp. vice president and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division, is general chairman of the drive, which is slated to end in mid-June.

★ ★ ★

"The need is genuine; the cause is boys; the investment will pay rich dividends in years to come," said DeLorean.

2,284 ACRES

A tract of 2,284 acres of forests and fields, hills and lowland, three lakes and a number of trout streams comprise Lost Lake Reservation.

Last year the Clinton Valley Council decided to acquire this property since the present Scout camp, Camp Agawam near Lake Orion, was not large enough to handle all those who wanted to go to camp.

As one Scout official points out, Camp Agawam was purchased in 1918 when the Clinton Valley Council had 200 boys.

Today the membership of the council is at an all-time high—over 11,000 boys — in an area which had been, and is experiencing, the greatest population growth in the state.

BY 1975

Long-range plans indicate that there will be more than 20,000 registered boys in the council by 1975.

"For over 40 years Camp Agawam has served thousands of Cubs, Scouts and Explorers but present facilities at the camp can accommodate less than 30 per cent of the membership and there is no place for expansion," said DeLorean.

As a result the council decided to purchase Lost Lake Reservation. In doing so, it received the endorsement of the national engineering service of the Boy Scouts of America.

★ ★ ★

Competent real estate appraisers have pronounced this to be "a find" since good camping sites are rapidly disappearing in Michigan.

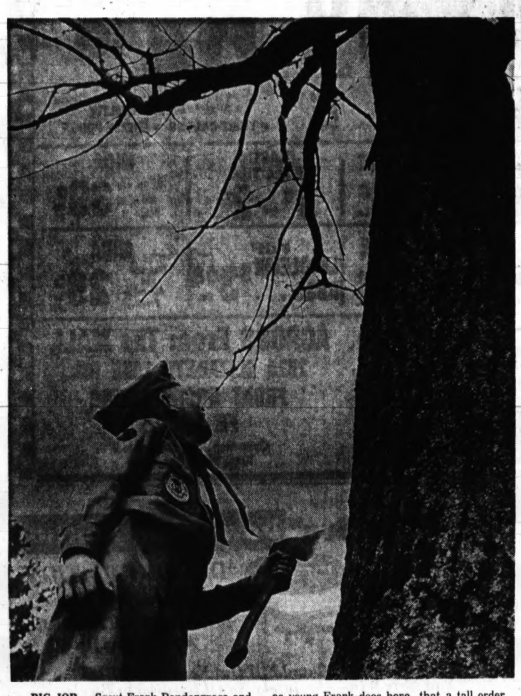
TALL TALES

When the boys from the Clinton Valley Council gather in the big lodge at Lost Lake Reservation, they'll be able to swap some tall tales about its famous former owner.

★ ★ ★

He's the legendary Harry Bennett, longtime aide to the late Henry Ford.

Bennett used the lodge and its surrounding acreage of forests and lakes as a summer retreat until about six years ago.



BIG JOB — Scout Frank Pendergrass and the army of volunteer solicitors seeking funds to purchase a new campsite have discovered, as young Frank does here, that a tall order has to be filled. A little hatchet, however, can sometimes do a big job.

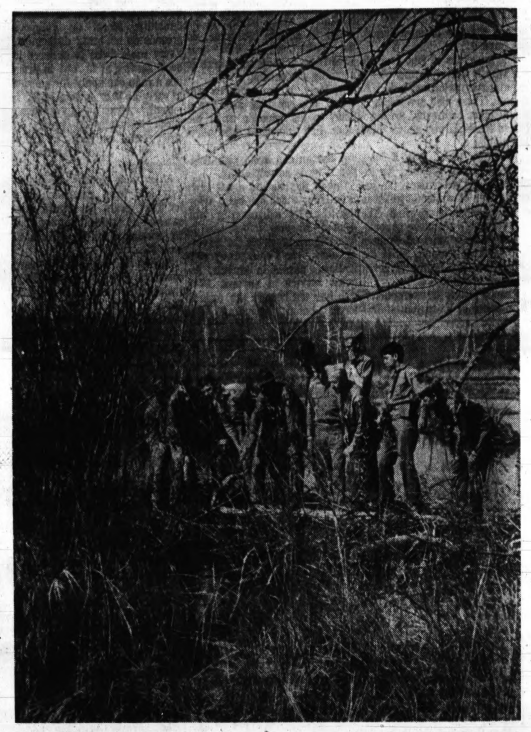
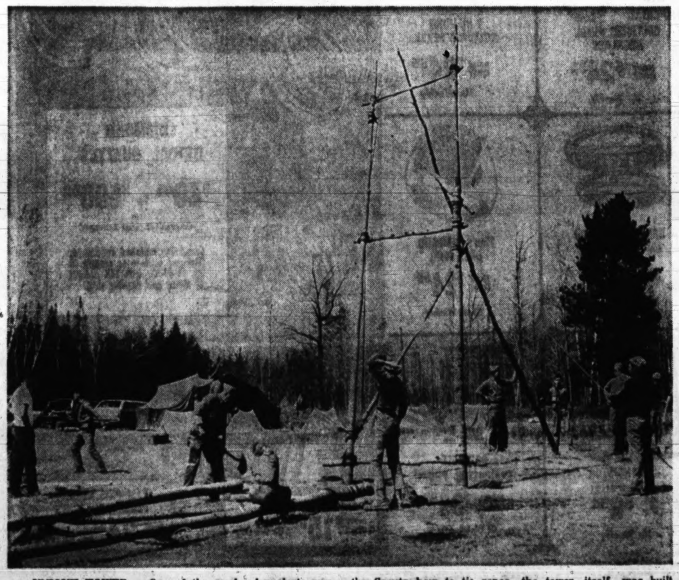
JUST TWO — These Boy Scouts, Art Scafe (left) and Dan Hazlett, are just two of the more than 11,000 boys to benefit from the purchase of a new campsite with funds to be raised through the current drive for $550,000.



BEAVERS, TOO — The waters of the three lakes and the numerous trout streams at Lost Lake Reservation are also homes for a number of beaver. Some of the beaver-built dams are large enough to walk on as these scouts are doing while they look for the "home owner."



UNIQUE TOWER — One of the weekend projects was building a 25-foot-high lookout tower. While used to teach the Scouts how to tie ropes, the tower, itself, was built without the use of any knots.

SCENE IN TBILISI — The framework of a new tourist hotel (upper right) rises over the slum area in Tbilisi in the Soviet Union. Tbilisi is the capital of a region of the Soviet Union with a violent history of wars and invasions. It is in the region of the Black Sea.

'Texans of Soviet Union' Have History of Violence

TBILISI, South Georgia (AP) — The noise up and down the tree-lined streets in the center of Tbilisi was almost deafening, and people on the sidewalks listened with interest.

From loudspeakers came a roar of cheering and an account of an out-of-town game of the Tbilisi soccer team. It lost 1-0.

"This hurt us very much," said a young man with big sad eyes.

* * *

Soccer is the main form of combat now for the people of Tbilisi, capital of a region of the Soviet Union with a violent history of wars and invasions.

This region—a long green valley reaching east from the Black Sea between the two folds of the Caucasian Mountains—is Georgia. Its history began some 2,000 years before a part of the New World was given the same name to honor an English king.

TALK BIGGER

The 4.5 million people of this Georgia have been called the Texans of the Soviet Union. They talk a bit bigger, act a bit bolder, and seem a bit wealthier than their Russian comrades.

They also are noted as one of the most enterprising of the peoples under communism's theoretically equalizing sway.

Fruit and other fresh produce from this lush southern land somehow manage to be sold at handsome private profits in distant Soviet cities, despite the lack of a legal private trade network. Such scarce consumer goods as cars somehow are more abundant here than elsewhere in the car-starved Soviet Union.

This follows an old Georgian habit of adapting to stronger outside forces and sometimes dominating them. Joseph V. Stalin was a Georgian.

These mountains were on the frontier of the ancient Greek and Roman worlds. They were far enough from the centers of power to be controlled only sporadically but near enough to develop an alphabet for the Georgian language many centuries before Russian was written.

Georgian towns were built around hilltop forts and Christian churches with simple round cupola tops. Tbilisi grew up where a fortress rose over the Kura River and, in the sixth century, became the capital of Georgia.

The name Tbilisi means "warm" in Georgian, from warm sulphuric springs here. The Russian version of Tiflis was used for a time, but Tbilisi has been restored.

* * *

Tbilisi looks like a lot of cities that are pinched into mountain ravines, from the mountains of Wales to northern Italy. Except for the church cupolas—instead of spires—and the dull new Soviet buildings, this could be an old central European city with rooftops laddering up both sides of a river.

Down narrow streets that twisted between old buildings was a police-supervised curb market for flowers, pigs, chickens and turkeys. Housewives gathered to look over the private produce and carried it away for dinner.

And then the loudspeakers came on.

Eaters of Deer Measure High in Radioactivity

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Radioactive polonium 210 concentrations are 80 times higher in northern Canadian residents who eat reindeer and caribou than in London, England, people who are on a different diet.

Dr. C. R. Hill of the Institute of Cancer Research, Belmont, Surrey, England, reports in Science that he made his Canadian measurements on 32 human placentas obtained in three general areas of the Yukon and Northwest Territories. Cesium 137 also was found in the placentas.

Reindeer and caribou graze on lichens. Dr. Hill explained that the animals are dependent on large areas of the slow-growing vegetation known to accumulate both nuclides (Po-210 and Cs-137) effectively after they are deposited from the atmosphere.

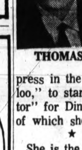
Raquel Really Big Among Europeans

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

ROME—In America they still ask, "Who Is Raquel Welch?" In Europe, they know.

Raquel's splended 37-22½-35½ can be seen on every newsstand; recently she appeared on five French magazine covers vs. Ursula Andress's two. She is besieged by film offers—to costar with Marcello Mastroianni in a comedy, to play the French empress in the super-epic "Waterloo," to star in "Fraulein Doktor" for Dino de Laurentiis, all of which she will probably do.



THOMAS

★ ★ ★

She is the darling of Europe's photographers, who consistently ask her: "Are you really an American?"

DEB STAR

Indeed she is. Born in Chicago and reared in La Jolla, Calif., she was a Hollywood deb star just a couple of years ago. But her exotic looks and Spanish name — she is of Spanish-French-German - English - Scottish descent — make Europeans believe she is one of them.

Raquel is now appearing in "The Biggest Bundle of Them All" with Vittorio DeSica, Edward G. Robinson, Robert Wagner and Godfrey Cambridge. She is living in a villa near Rome, and there she expounded on the amazing turns in her career.

★ ★ ★

She made one starring film in Hollywood last year, the unreleased science-fiction film "Fantastic Voyage." Perhaps because she was clothed in a space suit, she attracted no great notice.

ATTRACTS APPROVAL

The avalanche began when Raquel went to England and the Canary Islands to star in "One Million B.C." Her striking appearance in a skimpy prehistoric costume attracted wide approval. Raquel was delighted to supply other poses.

★ ★ ★

"I wouldn't have been able to do the same thing in Hollywood," she commented. "There they worry about showing the navel and cleavage."

Unlike Andress, Raquel refuses to undress.

"Nudes? I haven't done any," she said. "And I don't see any reason why I should, as long as they are buying me without being nude."

FILM OFFERS

Raquel has enough film offers to extend her stay in Europe another two or three years, and it's likely that her film making will be centered here.

★ ★ ★

"Hollywood doesn't know what to do with me," she explained. "I'm not the girl-next-door type; I don't look a bit like Natalie Wood. So I don't fit into the kind of movies they make in Hollywood.

"I'm not anti-Hollywood by any means; I just have to go where the work is."

Italy, a nation of 52 million persons, now has six million telephones.

'Preserve the Met' Group Fights Opera House Demise

NEW YORK (AP) — In April the great golden curtain came down "for the last time" at the Metropolitan Opera House. Now some people want to raise it again.

The Metropolitan Opera Co. opens its new season in September in sparkling new quarters at the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. The old opera house is to be torn down to make way for a 40-story office building.

★ ★ ★

A fight is being led by the Citizens Committee for the Preservation of the Metropolitan Opera House, whose executive chairman is Leonard Altman. It received support this week from Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Chief among those who want the opera house to fall before the wrecking ball is the opera company itself. It would receive an average of $484,000 a year in rent for the next 50 years from the builder, Keystone Associates.

The committee estimates that the opera house could be renovated for about $7.5 million — the same amount they figure the building could be purchased for. Anthony Bliss, Met president, says renovation probably would cost closer to $14 million, and that $12 million would be needed for outright purchase.

★ ★ ★

The state legislature in Albany has passed a bill which provides a six-month stay in demolition of the opera house. It has not yet reached the desk of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Ford Assembly Plant Proposed for Israel

HEAT HELD CAUSE OF MANY DEATHS

Michigan Studies Show That Frequency Rises After 60

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—A University of Michigan scientist says that "a killer of a heat wave" can be more than an expression; it often poses a real threat to human life.

According to Dr. Stanley H. Schuman, there is strong evidence that prolonged summer heat waves cause a striking number of deaths. But medical and engineering advances can prolong life and protect persons in homes, cars and industries from unusual heat stress. Thus many persons are surviving despite low physiological tolerance for high temperatures and humidity, he says.

While these people are clearly in jeopardy during severe heat waves, the actual extent of the problem is still unknown. Dr. Schuman explains that "heat illness or heat stroke has never been a cause of death noted frequently on routine death certificates."

Recent studies show "remarkable rises in mortality in large urban populations from periods of sustained, but not necessarily record-breaking, heat," according to Dr. Schuman, an assistant professor of epidemiology.

With James T. Oliver, principal statistician of the Detroit Health Department and assistant professor at Wayne State University, Dr. Schuman collected data on the number of deaths that occurred in 108 United States cities on days with "unusually high temperatures" in the last three summers.

They compared this information with mortality statistics for periods with normal mean temperatures and discovered, for example, that 4,665 "excess deaths" occurred during June and July, 1963.

Dr. Schuman pointed out that these unpredicted deaths often resulted from cerebral strokes.

"Over the past 10 years, strokes have consistently accounted for about 10 per cent of the deaths in Michigan, but in periods of heat stress during 1962 and 1963, the number of such deaths in the state rose to 15 per cent," he said.

He also found that "excess deaths" frequently occurred among those more than 60 years old, adding: "There is a fixed pool of susceptibles among the elderly who are unable to survive sudden stresses, such as influenza or unusual heat."

However, this is not exclusively a problem for the elderly, he said, explaining: "Preventable deaths will continue to occur among youngsters engaging in competitive sports, among military recruits, and among summer workers."

This business of being careless about the play of the second trick is not confined to average players.

JACOBY

Lots of experts are inclined to play too fast when the hand appears to be a cinch.

At both tables in an important match in England the bidding and play of the first two tricks went quickly and identically. Each declarer won the diamond opening with dummy's ace and led a trump to his ace. West was unkind enough to show out and play slowed down to a turtle's pace.

Eventually, each expert led a heart to dummy's queen. Then each led a heart back toward his own hand and played low after East produced the nine.

The East players proceeded to do a little celebrating of their own and came up with the killing lead of the queen of trumps.

The unfortunate Souths won with their kings and had the choice of death by hanging or shooting. They could ruff one losing heart in dummy but that play would establish East's nine of trumps and they would wind up losing one trump, one club and two hearts or they could pull East's last trump and lose three hearts and a club. You can't make four spades if you lose four tricks and both experts went down.

If either South had stopped for some real study before leading that first trump he would have had no trouble making his game. He would simply have led the queen of hearts from dummy to make it impossible for two trumps to be led before South was ready to ruff some hearts. Of course, this might have lost against some very bad break in hearts but there was less chance for it to happen than for the actual distribution.

♥♣ CARD Sense ♦♠

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
		1 ♥	1 ♠
Pass	2 ♦	Pass	Pass
2 ♥	3 ♣	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ A Q 9 5 3 ♥ 3 2 ♦ 4 2 ♣ K J 7 5
What do you do?

A—Bid four clubs. Your partner is not compelled to go on but if he does you should have a good play for the club game.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three clubs over two hearts, your partner bids two spades. East bids three hearts. What do you do now?

No reason was given for the shooting, but police speculated a love triangle may have been involved.

Detroit Area Building Back to Near-Normal

DETROIT (AP) — Building construction in the Detroit area has returned to a near-normal pace after a series of strikes crippled work for some five weeks. The laborers union, last of the building trades unions to sign a contract with contractors, ended a walkout Tuesday.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The appointment of Rep. Donald Rumsfeld of Illinois to the Republican Policy Committee was announced today by Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, the House Republican leader.

The GOP Policy Committee is an advisory body which help determine policy for Republican members.

Rumsfeld's appointment resulted from the vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert Griffin of Michigan, a member of the House who was recently appointed to the Senate by Gov. George Romney.

Blaze Fatal to Paralytic

DEARBORN HEIGHTS (UPI)—A 60-year-old paralyzed man died in a fire which swept his bedroom yesterday.

Mrs. Werner Russ told authorities she had just helped her husband into bed to take a nap. She said she then went outside to talk with her daughter who lives next door and after a few minutes noticed the smoke.

Russ was partially paralyzed when he suffered a stroke two years ago. No cause was given for the fire.

Trade Continues Slack

Market Holds Moderate Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market held a moderate gain early this afternoon as trading continued slack.

Stocks were higher from the start as they resumed the recovery drive which cut losses late Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Brokers said that factors working toward higher prices included mounting evidence there would be no tax increase and the government's notice that machine tool orders will increase because of the Viet Nam struggle.

The successful landing of the Surveyor spacecraft on the moon also helped increase the general feeling of confidence.

LOSES STEAM

The updrive began to lose steam after an hour or so, however, and it was evident that traders were taking some profits.

Aerospace issues, color televisions, other electronics and airlines were about the best gainers.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .7 at 320.2 with industrials up .2, rails up .9 and utilities up .6.

Du Pont, relapsed into a 2-point loss after overcoming a drop of 1¼ at the opening.

★ ★ ★

Prices advanced in moderate trading on the American Stock Exchange. Solitron Devices rose 3, Conductron, Rogers Corp. and Teleprompter about 2, Alloys Unlimited, Audio Devices, Syntex, Simmonds Precision, Airport Parking "A," National Video, Ryan Consolidated Petroleum, Servo Corp., Xtra Inc., Westec and Valley Metallurgical a point or so.

China Softens Tone on Cuba

Says Soviets Betray Latin Nation's People

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China made an open move today to mend its relations with Fidel Castro's Cuba and charged that Moscow is betraying the Cuban people.

★ ★ ★

An article in the official Peking People's Daily claimed the Russians are not really supporting the Cubans in recent incidents at the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo. It said China is Cuba's "most faithful and dependable" friend.

The article came a day after Peking announced that it had renewed its trade and scientific cooperation agreement with Cuba. The New China News Agency said the agreement was signed in Havana a week ago.

★ ★ ★

The Cuban government had announced earlier that the two countries signed a pact for the exchange of rice and sugar.

COLLAPSED

The collapse of a similar barter agreement last fall led to a deterioration in relations between the two countries.

In a speech on March 14, Castro accused Peking of "launching an imperialist-type campaign against Cuba." China implied that Castro was moving ideologically toward Russia, and there were reports that he was purging pro-Peking elements in Cuba.

★ ★ ★

What brought the apparent change in China's attitude was not clear.

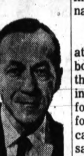
U.S. Interest Rates Below Most Others

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Rising interest rates have been blamed for many things:



DAWSON

For causing nervous investors to sell stocks.

For chilling the hopes for a revival of an ailing housing industry.

For forcing some businesses to shelve expansion plans.

For discouraging some prospective new car buyers.

For causing some state and local governments to withdraw bond offerings to finance public projects.

But the interest rates in the United States, although much higher than a year or two back, are still well below those in most other leading industrial nations.

★ ★ ★

And most lenders here scoff at the argument that heftier borrowing charges are slowing the business boom. They point instead to the increased demand for loans in most fields, if not for home mortgages or new cars. The problem, the bankers say, is to lure more savings their way, by paying savers higher interest, so the banks can lend more, at the higher interest rate.

SPECULATIVE FEVER

Most agree, however, that if interest rates hadn't started going up last December, by now the speculative fever might have sent stock markets on a wild spree and might have encouraged many risky business ventures that could only cause trouble later.

In the United States today, short-term lending rates start at 5½ per cent. This is the lowest figure at which businesses of the highest credit rating can get a bank loan on an unsecured basis. Most bank customers have to pay more than this prime rate. And the charges vary from region to region and even city to city.

The big city banks in the United States are the hardest pushed to find money to lend to their big, and pressing, customers. In smaller localities the banks mostly are finding that savings and other deposits have increased in about the same proportion as the demand for loans, with both savings and loans likely to be seasonal in character.

In only two other of the major industrial countries is the prime, or lowest, rate lower than here. In France and Japan it is slightly below 5½ per cent. Even so, local customs of handling loans make strict comparisons impossible.

RATE RANGE

In Switzerland the prime rate ranges from 5¼ per cent to 6 per cent, depending upon type of loans. Canada's 6 per cent prime rate has been under fire from bankers who would like to see it higher.

Rates from 6 to 7 per cent prevail in the Netherlands, West Germany, Britain and Belgium. Italian rates are complex but average 7½ per cent, and in Sweden the prime rate is as high as 7¾ per cent. In most of these countries commercial bank-lending rates are higher than a year ago, just as in the United States.

But in less industrially developed countries the businessman really had to pay when he borrows. Bank rates in Latin America range from 10 per cent in Ecuador to 24 per cent in Brazil. Mostly this is due to shortages of capital, but rapid depreciation of money also plays a large part.

On Rights 'Miracles'

LBJ Cautions Negroes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has cautioned Negroes not to expect presidential miracles in the struggle against racial injustice.

"No national government, however enlightened, can by itself change the conditions of Negro life in America," he told his White House Conference on Civil Rights Wednesday night.

But he brought the 2,400 delegates to their feet with the measured declaration that "we are moving — we shall not turn back."

He pledged "to give my days, and such talents as I have been given, to the pursuit of justice and opportunity for those so long denied that."

MORALE SHOT

Johnson's unannounced appearance at the conference was seen by many delegates as a morale booster to an event that had limped from the starting line in a welter of parliamentary squabbling.

Discussions of the planning council's 100 recommendations to bring the Negro into full equality in jobs, housing, education and justice resume today at a midtown hotel.

★ ★ ★

In the last few hours before the conference ends, delegates will have their hard-won chance to vote on the resolutions to be tacked onto the council recommendations in a report to the President.

It is here that the Viet Nam issue may be injected into the two-day conference for the first time. Floyd McKissick, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, has promised resolutions "dealing with the effect of the war in Viet Nam on the Negro in the ghetto."

★ ★ ★

"We have made mistakes," Johnson said in his soft-spoken address. "We will make others for we know our weaknesses. We will arouse hopes as we have already done that cannot be quickly fulfilled.

"Do not expect from me, or any man, a miracle. Do not expect us, even together to put right in one year or four all that took centuries to make wrong."

GMC Truck, Pontiac Div. Output Is Up

Preliminary figures released today by General Motors Corp. showed a continued upsurge in Pontiac Motor Division and GMC Truck & Coach Division production through the first five months of this year.

May output of the Pontiac Division was estimated at 82,606, an increase of 4,093 over the same month in 1965.

Last month's production brought the 1966 total to 408,682, slightly more than a 2½ per cent jump over last year's five-month figure of 398,818.

Chief reason for the increase is a sharp rise in production of Tempests, presently at 184,218 units, about 30,000 ahead of the 1965 figure of 153,053.

★ ★ ★

Output of regular model Pontiacs fell by 3,892 cars last month from the 48,691 total recorded for May 1965.

PONTIAC OUTPUT

The drop left Pontiac production for the year at 224,464, compared to 245,765 through the first five months of 1965.

GMC Truck & Coach Division, with an increase of 997 units in May 1966, over the same month last year, moved further ahead in total production figures for the first five months.

GMC production is now at 59,428 for the year, compared with 58,360 for the same period of 1965. GMC produced 11,852 units last month.

Total GM production through five months stands at 2,870,727, well ahead of last year's figure of 2,496,647.

Q) "I am 50 years old, have two sons in college, and earn $20,000 a year. We own 100 Corn Products; 200 Safeway Stores; 220 American Telephone; 100 General Telephone; 100 Royal Dutch; 100 W. R. Grace; 100 Puget Sound Power & Light. We have $60,000 in savings banks and Treasury bills. I realize the stocks I own are conservative and of high quality. I'd like to buy some more aggressive growth companies so that I can help my retirement 10-15 years hence. Could you give me some suggestions?" H.S.

A) I do not advise you — under present circumstances — to buy such issues, unless you have competent professional advice. As this is written, there is no sign that pressure on these stocks has lessened.

I advise you to keep in touch with your broker or investment adviser and ask him to inform you when and if we have a selling climax or any other indication of a turnaround. When the timing seems right, I suggest Avon Products; Bristol-Myers; American Hospital Supply; Delta Air Lines and Polaroid. These are all stocks that would meet your objective.

Q) "I have a relative who is a widow. She will soon receive $150,000. It was my thought that she should invest this money in corporated bonds to receive a fixed income. Do you think this is the best method for her to pursue?" R. W.

A) Under present market conditions, I believe she might well invest the bulk of this money in corporate bonds of the highest quality. Commonwealth Edison 5¼s of April 1, 1966, selling at 101 to yield 5.17 per cent, would be a good starting point.

I believe she should put $50,000 of her funds into savings for complete stability and ultimately invest in conservative growth stocks as a long-term inflation hedge.

Russians, U.S. 7th Fleet Play Game of 'Comrade' in Seas Off Viet Nam

ABOARD CARRIER ENTERPRISE, Off North Viet Nam (AP) — The Russians and the U. S. 7th Fleet are following each other around in the seas off Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

The game is called "Comrade" by the Americans. It's played this way:

★ ★ ★

A Soviet fishing trawler, equipped with an unusual amount of radar, shows up a few miles from the 90,000-ton, nuclear-powered Enterprise.

Its mission, apart from fishing, is snooping.

SEEKS INFORMATION

It wants to find out how many planes are aboard the carrier, how many are launched each day for attacks against North Viet Nam and any other information.

When the trawler shows up, the word goes round the Enterprise: "Comrade is shadowing us again."

A few miles behind, however, the fast nuclear-powered missile frigate Bainbridge is shadowing the Soviet shadower.

DISAPPEARS, REAPPEARS

This keeps up for a few hours until Comrade drops out of sight, only to reappear a day or two later.

No guns are fired. No one makes any hostile moves. The ships don't even signal each other.

"They seem to want to be friendly," says Capt. James L. Holloway, skipper of the Enterprise.

Trio Hunted After Escape, Kidnaping

HILLSBORO, Ore. (AP) — Oregon lawmen pressed a search with scant clues today for three men who escaped from the Washington county jail Wednesday and abducted a 60-year-old man.

Washington county sheriff's deputies said the escapees were holding Harold E. Gladden, a contractor from Dayton.

★ ★ ★

Police identified the escapees as Thomas Floyd Cantrell, 22, Ronald John Parks, 21, and Vernon Wilhut, 22, all of Oregon.

CONVICTED OF STABBING

Cantrell had been convicted of stabbing a man with a rat-tail comb in a tavern brawl. Parks was awaiting sentence on an armed robbery conviction, and Wilcut was awaiting trial on a charge of obtaining money under false pretense.

★ ★ ★

Police said the three men left an unconscious jailer behind them. Richard Hiser, 61, was beaten with a club made of long-handled scrub brush and a cloth-wrapped water faucet.

Hiser underwent surgery Wednesday night, and was scheduled for more surgery today.

In Dayton, about 40 miles southwest of Portland, police stayed with Mrs. Gladden, 59.

WIFE WORRIED

"I guess I'm really worried, but he's a friendly man," she said. "Everybody likes him and I know he'll be alright."

Police said the trio may have a gun, since Gladden customarily had carried a pistol in his car.

A witness, Terry Moore, said he saw Gladden driving off with the men.

Small Town Growling After Bears Are 'Croaked'

CORUNNA, (AP) — The bears are gone, and some people here can't bear it.

For 60 years, the children of Corunna had trudged down to McCurdy Park to see the several generations of black bears kept penned there.

But one morning last week, Arthur Graham, the street commissioner for this Central Southern Lower Michigan town of about 3,000 residents, shot the last two remaining bears. They died quietly but the residents howled.

"I couldn't see spending money for tranquilizers when they were going to be shot anyway," said Graham. "That would have been a waste of money."

★ ★ ★

The town budget included money this year for either fixing the bears' pens or getting rid of the animals.

NO DEMAND

Efforts were made by city officials to place the bears elsewhere but they found that there is no call for black bears in the state.

City Clerk Bernice Hagadon said a conservation officer told her the town should get a veterinarian to put the bears to sleep before shooting them.

"I couldn't see any sense in monkeying around for half a day doing that," Graham commented. "They would have suffered more if we had tried to put them asleep with tranquilizers than this way.

"They didn't suffer at all when I shot them."

STRONG OPINION

A random sampling of opinion by an Owosso Argus Press reporter showed strong sentiment for keeping the bears, however. Only one of some 30 persons interviewed indicated satisfaction with the city's action.

"I feel we have lost a little something that was part of Corunna," said Mrs. Cecilia Townsend, owner of one of the town's two drugstores. "I've taken my grandchildren to see the bears, and I know a lot of children liked them."

Soviets Upset With Canada

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union charged the Canadian government Wednesday with using the Gerda Munsinger sex and security scandal to stir up anti-Soviet propaganda.

★ ★ ★

In a note handed to Canadian Counsellor H. F. Clark, the Soviet Union claimed that Canada has done nothing to end "the crude anti-Soviet campaigns but has contributed to their fanning up by fabricating reports about so-called Soviet espionage."

★ ★ ★

Canada's Liberal government claimed earlier this year that Mrs. Munsinger had been a Soviet spy in Germany and that her affair with the associate defense minister in a previous Conservative government endangered Canada's security.

★ ★ ★

A royal commission is now investigating the government's allegations.

The Soviet note expressed the hope that "the government of Canada will take the necessary measures to put an end to anti-Soviet provocations and to insure normal conditions for the work of the Soviet Embassy."

The note climaxed a wave of complaints in the Soviet press about efforts to link the Munsinger scandal with the Soviet Union and about other alleged anti-Soviet incidents.

Weather Stays Cool in Areas of North, East

By The Associated Press

The advent of June has failed to raise unseasonably chilly temperatures in much of the eastern and northern sections of the country.

Many low temperature records were broken in Ohio early today. The mercury plunged to 39 at the Canton, Ohio, airport, breaking by one degree a record that had stood since 1905.

★ ★ ★

Thermometer readings were also low in large sections of the South. Temperatures were in the 40s in North Carolina and the north half of Georgia and in the 50s in parts of northern Florida.

Heavy thunderstorms were reported in areas of Kansas and the panhandle regions of Texas and Oklahoma. Strong wind gusts, up to 58 miles per hour, were recorded in Kansas.

Boycott Effect Still at School

Could Alter Detroit Educational Setup

DETROIT (AP)—Nobody paid much attention when a handful of dissatisfied students organized a boycott of classes six weeks ago at Detroit's predominantly Negro Northern High School.

But within days, the handful had been joined by most of the school's 2,300 students in a four-day walkout, had won support from adult civil rights groups, set up a freedom school and won the apparent removal of their principal.

Northern still bears the marks of the bloodless rebellion and students, teachers and parents are attempting to resolve grievances in a move that could alter the city's entire educational setup.

The student attitude is perhaps best described by 17-year-old Charles Colding's comment that he is adopting a "wait and see attitude" pending a final settlement of school problems.

Colding was a leader of the April 20 boycott which sought the removal of Principal Arthur T. Carty and improvement in what the students claimed was inferior education in inner city schools.

Carty, who officially still is principal, has not been at the school since April 26. School board officials say he has not been removed, but is studying Northern's problems at the Schools Center Building 25 blocks away.

Several teachers have charged that Carty's removal caused a breakdown in discipline and eroded the student's respect for authority.

Two instructors said their lives had been threatened several times by students.

SCARED

"I'm so scared it isn't funny," said Mrs. Dimitra LeBeau.

Student leaders deny faculty members have been threatened or mistreated and counter with a charge that some teachers have been changing grades in reprisal against the students.

A 19-member committee composed of students, faculty and parents, is looking into grading standards, faculty qualifications, the physical plant, extracurricular activities and other conditions at Northern.

Junior Editors Quiz on WORD SQUARES

QUESTION: Where did crossword puzzles come from?

ANSWER: During the 19th century, in England, simple puzzles called "word squares" were printed in children's books with words arranged so the letters read the same both down and across.

This idea developed into the modern crossword puzzle. The first one appeared in the New York World Dec. 12, 1913.

People enjoyed them so much that by 1923 they were being published all over the U.S.A.—and soon reappeared in England in their modern form.

The idea of the crossword puzzle is that each letter you put in an empty box is part of two words, one going across and one down.

This makes many of the words cross each other; hence the name "crossword puzzle."

Unused squares are in black.

Numbers appear in the first of each group of vacant squares which you are to fill with a word, some words going across and some down.

You can find out which is which by checking the number on the printed key under the puzzle.

This key also gives clues to the words. We show a very small crossword puzzle. We have filled in one word to show how it works.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Try a crossword puzzle in your newspaper. To warm you up for the real thing, do the tiny puzzle we include. Here's the key: ACROSS—1. Enthusiast. 4. Our Country. 5. Bite. DOWN—1. Enjoyment. 2. Spanish word meaning "thus". 3. Short sleep.

Irish Ballots Are Counted

DUBLIN (UPI) — Officials began counting votes today to determine whether 84-year-old Eamon De Valera won reelection to another seven-year term as Ireland's president.

De Valera's only opponent, Tom O'Higgins, a 49-year-old Dublin lawyer, appealed to the nation to forget the past and look to the future, gearing his campaign to the younger voters.

The president, on the other hand, appealed to the past.

His campaign, managed by the ruling Fianna Fail Party, cited De Valera's past service to the nation, including his part in the 1916 Easter rebellion against British rule.

★ ★ ★

About 1.7 million persons, only 56 per cent of those eligible, voted. That was approximately the same number that cast ballots in 1959 when De Valera won his first term by 120,000 votes.

Education Study Set by Saugatuck Schools

SAUGATUCK (AP) — Public schools in Saugatuck plan a study Aug. 2-26 of the educational processes, teacher-student relationships and experimental ideas in teaching. The project headed by Dr. J. Clayton Lafferty of Detroit will work with pupils to determine cultural and scholastic needs of students and their areas of special interest.

Old Frankie and Mia Rumor Brought Out of Mothballs

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Stop me if you've heard this one—and you have—but the word's around that Frank Sinatra and Mia Farrow are getting married (again!)

Yeah, yeah, I know. That was last summer's rumor. I even remember the yacht.

But they've resumed steady-dating, were at the Bistro in Beverly Hills looking madly devoted and happy, and now the gossips are pointing out certain "circumstantial" evidence.

WILSON

Mia's sister Prudence, here in New York, was rather vague when we asked her about a rumor Mia's marrying.

"Who's she marrying?" she said.

"Aw come on now!" we said.

"One of my girlfriends at school said she was marrying some ball player."

"Yeah? Who?"

"Sandy Koufax."

★ ★ ★

It looks like a long hot summer for us who report such events. We hope they do get married real, real soon, and have eternal happiness, like the rest of us Marrieds.

Fearless Forecast: Sinatra will win the 1967 Oscar song trophy for "Strangers in The Night." In the song charts, Frank is finally topping his daughter Nancy's "Boots."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor will do poetry readings in July at the Acropolis in Athens, and give their fee to an orphanage, as part of the International Festival . . . Hal Prince, visiting Moscow, found the Russians had pirated "West Side Story" and just laughed when he suggested they pay royalties. He shrugged, said "I guess there's nothing I can do," and asked if they'd at least give him a recording of their version.

They agreed. He brought it back to the U.S., and turned it over to Columbia Records. He will make a bundle selling a pirated record of the Russian version.

Leggy Jane Zachary, ex-Copa girl, got the female lead in the summer production of "You Can't Take It With You" starring Cliff Arquette . . . Horace McMahon points out that one-nighters used to be cheap engagements but Barbra Streisand's at Toronto's Maple Leaf Stadium will pay her $100,000.

Veteran Lindy's waiter Sam Jaeger, a colorful character, is ailing. (It was Sam who, asked to appear on the Jack Paar TV'er without pay, said stiffly, "Only the birds sing for nothing!") . . . The elegant Voisin will cater lunches at Manhattan's new Banque Continentale (which requires patrons to have a 25G balance) . . . Joey Heatherton'll appear at the Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas, with Woody Allen . . . Otto Preminger'll return to acting, as a "guest-villain" on a "Batman" TV'er.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A flabby local character tells us he can't wear those new tapered shirts: "Not till I start tapering where they do."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The reason worry kills more people than work is that more people worry than work."—Robert Lee Frost.

EARL'S PEARLS: Pity the fellow who can't brag that he sold his $50,000 boat for $75,000—because he'd already told the neighbors he paid $100,000 for it.

The greeting card people are very inventive, reports Pic Larmour. They have a get-well card for a boy who's just shaved for the first time. . . . That's earl, brother.

Expect Appeal for Overpass

Parents of Leggett Pupils Likely to Act

Parents of Leggett Elementary School pupils are expected to attend tonight's Waterford Township Board of Education meeting to appeal for a pedestrian overpass at Pontiac Lake and Cass Lake roads near the school.

The site for the township's third pedestrian overpass has been earmarked for Scott Lake Road near Otsego to serve pupils of the new Cherokee Hills Elementary School, slated to open in September.

However, at the May 23 meeting of the Waterford Township Board, it was pointed out that the traffic volume is heavier at the Pontiac Lake-Cass Lake site than on Scott Lake Road as determined by a recent Oakland County Road Commission study.

Township Board members agreed to meet with school officials to arrive at an agreement on the location of the $15,000 overpass, financed equally from the township and school budgets.

★ ★ ★

Residents contend that Pontiac Lake Road is dangerous for children to cross.

DISPUTE PRIORITY

They also have said they do not understand why a new school — not yet completed — should be given priority over a school which has been in operation several years.

In other business, a report will be given on the school district's new federally financed Learning Improvement Center.

The center provides assistance to about 516 pupils in kindergarten through third grade who are experiencing learning difficulties.

Tonight's meeting will begin at 7:30.

British-U.S. Deal on Ships Is in Trouble

LONDON (AP) — The deal for Britain to build ships for the U.S. Navy to offset the cost of buying American F111 swing-wing bombers has run into trouble, a Defense Ministry spokesman said today.

British shipyards were competing for bids to build an unspecified number of minesweepers for the United States, he reported, but the U.S. Navy's Bureau of Ships has suddenly withdrawn the call for bids.

Defense Secretary Denis Healey said last February that the foreign exchange needed for the F111 purchases would be met by the sales of British equipment to the United States.

He announced later that the United States would invite British bids for $50 million worth of naval auxiliaries.

Britain has already ordered 10 F111 bombers at a cost of $58.8 million.

Two Charged With Adultery

A Bloomfield Township woman and a New York man face preliminary court examination Monday in Bloomfield Township Justice Court on charges of adultery.

Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson ordered the warrants under the rarely used state adultery law after the woman's husband, Robert Adell, 40, a Detroit manufacturer, signed a complaint.

★ ★ ★

Adell, 350 Billingsgate, Bloomfield Township, pressed the charges against his wife, Serene, and Stanley Kleinfeld, 44, of Jamaica, N.Y., after Adell and several companions photographed the couple together in a bedroom of the family's home at 1525 Ardmoor, according to police.

Adell and his wife are suing each other for divorce. They have two children.

'Hot Bed' of Crime

BOYNE FALLS (UPI) — William Grote, owner of a motel near here, reported to police yesterday that someone stole a double bed and mattress from one of his motel units.

AP Photofax

FRINGE BENEFIT — Former presidential assistant Jack Valenti, in his new role as executive director of the Motion Picture Association of America, chats with actress Joanne Woodward at Houston last night. They were attending the world premiere of "A Big Hand for the Little Lady" in which Miss Woodward, the wife of actor Paul Newman, stars. It was the first public appearance for Valenti in his new job.

Tire Innovations Due in 1967

DETROIT (AP) — The 1967 model cars rolling into dealer showrooms this fall will feature many innovations in tires.

This was apparent this week as both auto makers and tire manufacturers moved to emphasize safety and head off further criticism.

★ ★ ★

George R. Vila, chairman and president of United States Rubber Co., said in a Rochester, N.Y. speech the tire industry had not replied strongly enough to criticism of tire safety.

LISTED EFFORTS

Vila listed his firm's tire safety efforts and added:

"In spite of our efforts to make the best tire that advanced technology will allow, we must still contend with the way some drivers misuse and abuse tires.

"Tires are sometimes driven bald — long after any visible tread has disappeared. Tire cuts are frequently ignored. Although tires retain air much longer than formerly, it still is necessary for the driver to have the air pressure checked just as he has the oil level checked in his crankcase.

Another tire company president — P. W. Perdriau of B.F. Goodrich Tire Co. — said, "I don't believe it is unreasonable to ask a driver to keep the air in his tires at proper level. The lowest priced tires we manufacture, properly inflated, could be safer than our most expensive tire, improperly inflated."

Detroit automotive circles said one certainty in the tire field is that there will be increased use of two-ply tires as original equipment.

SWITCH DUE?

Indications are that Thunderbird will switch to two-ply tires in 1967, leaving the Lincoln and Imperial as the only four-ply users.

"The two-ply tire introduced about three years ago represented progress in tire and textile engineering that produced a better product," said Perdriau.

He said tire plies have been made through the years with different numbers and sizes of tire cords, resulting in plies of different strengths.

Vila said, "The fact is that two-ply tires with four-ply ratings are better than the four-ply tires they replaced. They are an improvement brought about by technological advances and provide the motorist with a greater margin of safety."

STUDY MADE

Vila said U.S. Rubber recently made a computerized study of customer returns under the company's warranty program.

He said the over-all average showed that for every 100 four-ply tires returned, only 69 of the two-ply variety were brought back.

Goodyear, Firestone and General Tire, along with U.S. Rubber and Goodrich, will have a bevy of new tire designs, new cords, new compounds and different tire sizes in 1967, according to industry sources.

Automotive News commented: "The great majority of 1967 tires will have a tire wear indicator to inform motorists and motor vehicle inspectors when tires are worn out to a point where they need replacement."

★ ★ ★

The tire wear indicator consists of six so-called "tie bars" at the bottom of the tread design. When the tire is new, they are not visible but as the tire wears, they become visible one by one.

When you see all six, it is a danger sign.
