S. Africa Quarantine Doomed in the U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., (AP)—The U.N. special political committee today approved by a slender margin an American resolution calling for a diplomatic and economic quarantine of South Africa because of its racial policies.

The proposal was doomed, however, because it failed to get the two-thirds majority required for final approval in the General Assembly.

The Hour Nears for Eichmann

He Will Face Survivors of Nazi Extermination Camps in Israel

JERUSALEM (AP)—Adolf Eichmann today neared the fateful hour that will bring him face to face in court with Jewish survivors of the Nazi extermination camps— including some who claim to have suffered personally at his hands.

Eichmann was chief of the Gestapo's Jewish Affairs Section during World War II. He goes to trial before Israeli judges in Jerusalem Tuesday morning.

Israel, in a massive, 15-count indictment, accuses him of "crimes against the Jewish people and crimes against humanity." Death is the maximum penalty.

The second paragraph of the indictment reads:

"The accused, together with others during the period, 1939 to 1945, caused the killing of millions of Jews in his capacity as the person responsible for the execution of the Nazi plan for the physical extermination of the Jews, known as 'the final solution of the Jewish problem.'"

Part of the support for this charge comes from 200 pages of letters and reports captured in the Foreign Office of Nazi Germany during the war.

The state has scheduled 30 witnesses to testify. Of these, 13 met Eichmann personally during the dark years when the prosecution alleges he was carrying out "the final solution."

One of the witnesses, Yehon Brand, his wife, Hansi, and Philip Freidiger, met Eichmann in Hungary in 1944. This was when the Nazis devised the scheme to release a million Jews in exchange for 10,000 Allied army trucks.

Brand will testify that Eichmann said: "Blood goods for blood."

Another witness, Dr. Hugo Kratzky, was among a group of 1,000 Jews deported from Czechoslovakia to Poland. When the train arrived, Eichmann met it. He allegedly told the deportees that they would have to build their own concentration camp.

Watch Your Step, Miss

END OF THE LINE — Passengers are helped out of a dented car in an Indiana wheat field after the Hummingbird collided with a tank truck near Terre Haute today. Fifteen persons were sent to the hospital but no one died as a number of the passenger cars jackknifed down the track.

Public to Help Pick Queen

To Seek 'Miss Centennial'

The search for "Miss Centennial" begins in one week.

Representatives of more than 325 Pontiac area business and service clubs, churches and community organizations have been invited to send representatives also, said Mrs. S. V. Sekles, contest chairman.

The prize for the young lady who will reign over the June 1st celebration is a new Temperst.

There will be other prizes for the 10 runners-up who will constitute the queen's court, Mrs. Sekles said.

The contest, Mrs. Sekles announced, will not be of the bathing beauty variety, but rather will be based on such factors as poise, charm and personality.

Geographically, the contest will be wide open, welcoming candidates from the entire area under the sponsorship of a new y established organization with regular membership, the announcement indicated.

Details about age limits and other aspects of the contest will be held up for Monday's meeting.

But it was indicated that the public will have a hand in choosing the queen and the contest will be held to the sale of tickets to the centennial spectacle, June 18-24 in Winner Stadium.

The queen and other winners will be selected shortly before the official celebration.

They'll play an important part in the centennial parade June 17.

and the nightly goings-on at Winner Stadium.

The elaborate costumes for these roles will be supplied to the winners.

For the queen, there'll be a full-length gold satin gown, gold and blue sash and gold crown.

The change required that after Jan. 1, 1961 specific authorization must be granted by Congress before appropriations can be made for aircraft, missiles and naval vessels.

Previously, appropriations were requested by the executive branch and there was no requirement that authorization be granted prior to the approval of the actual spending.

The $11,947,800,000 authorization measure contained the following amounts: Aircrafts $3,983,600,000; missiles $5,976,200,000 and ships $2,915,000,000.

It's the Biggest Money Measure Ever Introduced

Would Provide Funds for Missiles, Planes and Warships

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The largest single money authorization bill in history was introduced in Congress today—an $11.9 billion defense measure for new missiles, warplanes and ships.

Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, presented the measure on behalf of the administration.

He said it would provide 10 additional Polaris nuclear missile submarines, bringing the total number authorized up to 29. Five already are in commission with 14 more contracted.

Vinson said in a statement that the accelerated Polaris construction program would result in the delivery of 12 of the super subs each year, beginning in June 1963. This compares with the previous rate of five a year.

He said the range of the present Polaris missile is 1,200 miles but a newer version will have a capability of 1,500 miles.

Vinson also said that a third generation of the deadly missile is under development which will increase its range to 2,000 miles.

The military procurement bill was the largest ever presented to Congress because of a change in the law made two years ago.

Riot Over Singing Ban in Greenwich Village

NEW YORK (AP)—Folk-singing fans and police turned Greenwich Village's Washington Square into an eight-acre wrestling ring Sunday in a shouting, bruising battle over a ban on impromptu songfests.

When the tumult and the shouting had died after about three hours, 10 demonstrators—including novelist Harold L. Humes—were under arrest and several nursed assorted scratches and bruises.

One policeman suffered a bit ten hand. He said a dog did it.

Nine of the 10 arrested were released in bail on charges of holding a demonstration in the park without a permit.

Five of them also were tagged with an additional charge of disorderly conduct.

The tenth defendant, Louis Pagliaro, remained in a cell on charges of felonious assault on a policeman and of interfering with an arrest.

It said without them it would have to shut the doors on the branch in Birmingham which treats emotionally-disturbed children, as does the other two offices.

Police met the demonstrators and suggested that they take their instruments to the amphitheater in East River Park. Morris previously had suggested that the singers apply for permits to use the amphitheater, which seats 2,000.

April Snowfall Buries Spring

By G. T. TRUMBULL JR.

Ah, sweet spring. What spring? It never falls here in the Water Wonderland. Let the yellow and blue crocuses poke their heads above ground, give the green tulips leave their first vision of light, let the golfers get itchy, attack the crabgrass or fertilize the lawn, and whamoo, spring pulls a double-cross on you.

Looking out their windows at the white covering — "I wonder how it will affect my crabgrass killer" — over a sheet of lawn just barely turning green, housewives today thought twice about getting the winter clothes set for storage.

For sure, some of these might be needed in Detroit tomorrow as the new Detroit Tigers play host to the Cleveland Indians in the season's opener.

Save the ear muffs Ma, I might need them. At the same time, hubby got a chuckle when he thought of the golf date he was supposed to have Sunday.

And a neighbor's mums probably took an early liking with the surprise white stuff. She didn't really know Michigan well and uncovered the plants. The temptation was just too great Saturday.

She wanted to scamper out fast Sunday when the flurries appeared to be more than flurries. But no use. Hubby had gone and done it. He had destroyed what the wife had used to protect the mums with over the winter.

Kids saw another chance for sledding, although it appeared mighty thin. Dad cursed. He thought he had dragged the rusty runners over the gravel driveway for the last time.

It wasn't too uncommon either for Dad to search high and low this morning for the windshield scraper. An equally frustrating search went on for Dad's overhauls.

There was lots of talk about Florida and California, but it was just talk. It happens about this time every year in our great state.

So does the white stuff.

Guidance Clinic Fund Awaits Tuesday Vote

The board of supervisors will vote tomorrow on giving the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic the $26,857 it needs to keep its Birmingham branch open, and at the same time urge creation of a committee to evaluate future financial contributions of the county to the clinic.

A usually reliable spokesman for the county confirmed this today as the board prepared to meet to put the lid on the clinic's 1961 financial problems, and receive copies of the county's tentative 1962 budget of $14,775,941.

Before the $3 supervisors get around to voting on the clinic's request for the deficiency appropriation, it will elect a chairman and vice chairman for the coming year.

Deles Hainlin, 56-year-old retired Farmington businessman, and chairman since 1958, is expected to be unopposed for a sixth consecutive term, and Arno L. Hulet, Bloomfield Township supervisor, is expected to be elected a second term as his vice chairman.

David Levinson, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee which must make the recommendation on the clinic funds to the full in the Senate after tonight's session, is expected to be elected a second term as his vice chairman.

"We'll meet in the morning to decide our action," he said.

A member of Levinson's committee, who wished his name withheld, did, however, confirm that this will be the recommendation. He also predicted that the board would approve it.

The board tomorrow will simply receive copies of next year's operating budget — already trimmed some $413,000 since it was passed out to Levinson's committee last month — and study it at home in preparation for approval for tax allocation purposes only at an April 17 meeting.

Formal approval comes in the fall.

In preparation for what the special study committee might recommend, Levinson's committee has taken the $23,200 allocated for the clinic out of the tentative budget and increased the county's contingent fund by that amount.

The clinic asked establishment of the committee, which is expected to be appointed by Hamilton when it urged that it receive the emergency funds at a March 23 hearing before Levinson's committee.

It said without them it would have to shut the doors on the branch in Birmingham which treats emotionally-disturbed children, as does the other two offices.

Will Keep Nuclear Potential

U.S. to Boost NATO Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy pledged today the United States will strengthen its conventional military forces in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and also maintain an effective nuclear weapons capability.

In apparent response to stated fears that nuclear war might be set off unnecessarily by trigger-happy response to small-scale aggression, the President stressed U.S. determination to keep all its own forces under high command control at all times.

The aim, Kennedy said, is to make deterrent strength "do what we wish, neither more nor less."

Charred British Liner Sinks From Salvagers

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—The burned-out wreck of the British liner Dana sank today as salvage ships were trying to beach her in the Persian Gulf. Hope dwindled for 175 passengers and crew.

The Dana, a 7,000-ton liner, was hit by a missile from a British ship on Saturday. The Dana kept going but at 4:40 a.m. an explosion in the engine room rocked the liner and fire broke out. The flames spread rapidly through the ship.

Bravely, explosions, fire-fighting parties from the British and U.S. navies boarded the blazing liner and reported Sunday they had the fire under control.

The ship's owners, the British India Steamship Co., said the British Navy had planned to start towing her to the Persian Gulf island of Bahrain today "but a deterioration in the condition of the Dana overnight" caused the decision to try to beach her. She sank about 15 miles off the Oman coast of the Arabian Peninsula.

A British government spokesman said most of the 740 persons aboard were Indians and other Asians. Some jumped in panic into the stormy gulf waters infested with sharks.

Roberts Pledges to Seek MSUO Aid

Gov. John B. Swainson, Swainson, state officials and educators have raised a storm of protest over the $462,203.018 austerity budget for higher education in 1961-62 in Michigan.

Roberts warned as he sought a way to keep more revenue coming into the state treasury, that it is "all very well to have the boards of the different institutions yell for more money, but it's not there."

He termed "overly optimistic" Gov. Swainson's revenue estimate of $477 million. Roberts put it closer to $462 million based on actual income for January and February.

Roberts said continuing the state's $55 million in so-called "austerity" cuts in tobacco, beer and other items, including $10 million from a tax on telephone and telegraph lines, or some form of a state income tax were two of the alternatives he sees to provide the additional revenue for the universities.

Roberts has introduced a bill in the Senate to extend the telephone tax past its expiration date of June 30.

Where the funds can be found to aid MSUO, he said, will eventually aid MSUO, he said.

"What the problem we face here is that we have a governor that has recommended no increase in taxes," Roberts said. "When he recommended (the state's) tax package the net increase in his package was zero."

That's two approaches to the problem, he said.

"We're willing to accept either, if there are some, except we can't appropriate more than the $426 million unless we have taxes to cover the appropriation."

Not only is he worried about funds for the schools, Roberts said the proposed slice of $5 million in mental health appropriations for the coming year also concerned him.

He said the Republican caucus would probably have an amendment to offer for the Senate appropriations bill for higher education "before the week is out."

Keystone Cops Come Acropper of Real Coppers

Citizens turned into jailbirds by the Keystone Cops—guardians of the municipal parking lot across from the city hall—were something to chuckle about today.

The guardians of the law felt the sting of the law, compliments of the city's regular police officers. The Keystone Cops trooped into police headquarters in the Public Safety Building Saturday.

Looking for boardless beings without permits to shelve? "Nope. They'd come in to pay tickets issued for overtime parking in the municipal parking lot across from central headquarters in the library."

They were directed to the violation bureau of Municipal Court.

GOP Club to Show Two Banned Films

Local residents will have an opportunity tomorrow to view the anti-communism films which Gov. Swainson has stopped the State Police from showing.

The Waterford Township Republican Club has scheduled the films for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday meeting at the John D. Pierce Junior High School, and has opened the meeting to the public.

The films are entitled "Communism on the Map," and "Operation Abolition." No charge will be made.

Masked Bandit Gets $75 at Bar

A masked bandit robbed a White Lake Township bar owner of $75 and pistol-whipped her piano player early this morning, while an accomplice stood outside the bar.

The 6-year-old owner of Schogel's Bar at 1015 Highland Road, Mrs. Frances McPeck, said she and the piano player were upstairs in her apartment eating at 3 a.m. when they heard a car pull up at the back of the building.

She went downstairs to investigate when a male voice called her by name from outside. When Mrs. McPeck opened the door, a wearing a red mask over the lower part of his face, armed with a revolver said "I want your money," she told sheriff deputies.

The woman screamed as the desperado stepped inside. He ransacked the apartment, taking $75 and a light-colored, late-model car. They sped east on M59 as Mrs. McPeck telephoned the sheriff's department.

Deputies found a full-face plastic mask, evidently worn by the bandit who remained outside in a canvas overnight bag on the back porch. They discovered a gash in the carpet and a red flannel mask worn by the other robber alongside M59, near the scene.

Mrs. McPeck described her assailant as about 5 feet 10, weighing approximately 150 pounds. The other desperado, who remained in the shadows outside, could not be described.

Hearing Today on Proxies Suit

Dann Claims Chrysler Counting May Not Be Properly Conducted

DETROIT (UPI)—A hearing was scheduled before Federal Judge Theodore Levin today on a suit by Detroit Attorney Sol A. Dann to impound all proxies to be voted at the April 18 Chrysler Corp. shareholders meeting.

Dann filed the suit last week after Levin denied Dann's request for an order to delay the Chrysler shareholder's meeting for 312 months.

In his latest move aimed at ousting the Chrysler management headed by board chairman and President L. I. Coltrane, Dann said he was "apprehensive" that proxies might not be properly counted by the auto firm.

He asked that proxies and all proxy material be impounded by the court on the chance a recount might be necessary.

Dann said a recount could result "in the event it was determined that certain proxies were improperly solicited or counted."

Dann, who was restrained by federal court from soliciting proxies on a complaint filed by the Securities & Exchange Commission, charged Chrysler made "false and misleading" representations to shareholders by saying proxies would not be honored if given to opponents of management.

He also charged that Chrysler employees participating in the company stock plan were not informed of their voting rights on stock held under the program by National Bank of Detroit.

Burglars made off with $207.50 in cash after entering the apartment of Dixie White, 651 Auburn Ave., through an unlocked window, according to Pontiac police.

The burglary was discovered Sunday. White, manager of the apartment building, had kept the money from rental collections in a box in a closet, according to detectives.

Whitney retired in 1954 as head of the analytical chemistry section of the Johns-Manville Research Center in Manville. He was born in Hampton in Arden, England, and came to the United States in 1917.

The Day in Birmingham

Two New Commissioners Will Be Sworn In Tonight

BIRMINGHAM—Two city commissioners-elect will take the oath of office and a mayor will be elected at the weekly commission meeting tonight.

Robert Page and Ralph Main will be sworn in to 3-year terms of office by City Clerk Irene Hanley.

Page, an incumbent, was appointed by the commission last year to fill the vacancy created with the resignation of Lance Minor.

Main, a former commissioner and mayor, won the commission post that was held by Harry Denney Jr. Denney did not seek another term in the April 3 election.

Before a mayor is elected a temporary chairman will be named to preside over the meeting. This is necessary since Mayor Florence Willett legally relinquished her authority at the commission meeting last Monday.

The mayor will take charge.

The Spring Rummage Sale sponsored by the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham will be held Thursday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Articles for sale will include clothing, books, toys, dishes, shoes, furniture and other household items. A snack bar will be set up. Adequate parking will be provided.

Ambulance Unit Ends Crisis

Midwest Firm Takes Over Emergency Runs in City Over Weekend

A new ambulance company began taking emergency calls from the police and fire departments over the weekend, plugging the gap in ambulance service.

Under a cooperative arrangement with the city, Midwest Ambulance Service, 375 S. Saginaw St., is operating without any city subsidy, but with assurances that it will get first crack at such city business as auto accidents and fire calls.

Midwest began operations on schedule Saturday morning and during its first 72 hours handled five city calls, four stemming from auto accidents and one involving a home injury.

The first run came unexpectedly Friday when the company zipped out to White Lake Township to take a woman, injured in a fall, to a Pontiac hospital.

Mr. Fine, Midwest's manager, said the company is operating three, radio-dispatched ambulances, including two 1961 models and a 1958.

24-HOUR SERVICE

Midwest offers 24-hour-a-day service, seven days a week, he said, with crews of two men per ambulance trained in Red Cross first aid.

The company has offered its services to surrounding communities. Fine said.

Inauguration of Midwest service apparently justifies the City Commissioner's stand against subsidies or city-operated ambulance service.

When Superior Ambulance Service closed up shop last Feb. 24, commissioners let the city go without ambulance service more than a month in anticipation that some company would be willing to do business without a subsidy.

Although several offers were made to City Hall during that time, Midwest was the first that didn't include a subsidy to cover losses stemming from bills left unpaid by emergency victims.

Superior, claiming to have lost $3,000 in six months, went out of business after the city failed to act on its request for a subsidy.

Hope to Recover Space Capsule

Plan to Bring Back Discoverer Object in Wednesday Attempt

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI)—Scientists today watched Discoverer XXIII and waited, hopeful of recovering a capsule from it after a record four days in orbit.

The 25-foot satellite—whipping the Pole every 96 minutes—could send back its 300-pound capsule any time now on command from the ground. But Air Force officers said they hoped to bring it back Wednesday after a record 15-million mile trip through space.

Weather conditions in the vast recovery area off Hawaii and the operation of the satellite itself would be attempted, officials said.

Discoverer XXIII, termed a "disagnostic" shot by the Air Force, was blasted into polar orbit Saturday from this seaside base. Its path around the world varied from 402 to 186 miles above earth.

"She looks real good. Right now, said an officer. They're all hoping we can pull it off after four days."

Contents of the capsule were not disclosed. The Air Force said simply that instruments aboard were designed to watch the operation of the satellite itself.

"We hope information from this shot will enable us to put these things into a more accurate orbit," said the spokesman.

"That would give us a much better chance at recovery."

Today is the beginning of a special week for more than 600,000 youngsters across the nation—including 2,000 in the Pontiac area. The occasion is the annual nationwide observance of Boys Club Week.

Like the other 579 clubs in America, the Boys Club of Pontiac has planned several special programs during the next several days.

Today will feature "Buddy Nite" at the club with all members allowed to bring a friend to participate in the program. "Buddy Nite" will get under way at 3:30, running until 9 p.m.

Crosby B. Larson, the club's executive director, said that former members of the club who have dropped out will be allowed to renew their membership at half price tonight only.

"Family Nite" will be the featured affair Tuesday, with special games and programs for the boys and their families.

The annual "Miss Boys Club Contest" is scheduled for 7 p.m. Wednesday, with youngsters entering sisters or other relatives between the ages of 2 to 6 to pick the young lady who will reign at club affairs throughout the year.

California Town Picks Up Pieces After Bad Quake

HOLLISTER, Calif. (AP)—This little county seat town 80 miles south of San Francisco was still picking up today after the heaviest earthquake in its history.

"I've lived in Hollister all my life," said Sam Benito County Corner Eugene Patterson, 57, "and this was the worst quake I've seen." There were no casualties.

In addition to extensive but relatively minor damage, Hollister had to contend Sunday with thousands of curious motorists who poured into this community of 6,071 people which frequently gets shaken up by tremors along the San Andreas fault beneath it.

Plans Large Survey of Ocean Depths

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government said Saturday it is undertaking history's most ambitious exploration of the ocean depths—a survey blanketing 3 million square miles of the Pacific between Alaska and Hawaii.

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges said in a statement the work will be done by the coast and geodetic survey ship Pioneer. The Pioneer will leave San Francisco for the North Pacific within a few days.

The vessel won't be able to complete the whole chore this year. It will make as much progress as it can toward covering an area 300 miles wide and 2,000 miles long between the Aleutians and Oahu.

In 1960 the school population of the United States is expected to be 59 million.

Local Officials at Confab on Rising Hospital Costs

Three hospital officials from Pontiac last week attended a conference at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor to probe industry's methods of scientific management to seek ways to control rising hospital costs.

Among the 40 top administrators at the two-day conference were Donald Carros and Robert DeCleene of Pontiac General Hospital; and John Robin of Pontiac State Hospital.

They heard a dozen reports on work-simplification studies made at University Hospital during the past 18 months. The studies covered diverse activities ranging from surgical-pack preparation to running the elevators.

We Are Becoming Income Tax Silly

Memory says a State income tax has been voted down by Michigan citizens four times. Over the last spell of years under G. MARSHALL WILLIAMS, the State fought off the puppet Governor's income measures repeatedly.

Now they're at it again.

It seems that the dear voters may be given a chance to decide whether they want a local income tax—either city or county.

Sure. Let's have more income taxes. Let's allow the Boy Scouts to spread an income tax to finance their new canoes. And let's let the Camp Fire Girls start one so they can abandon the cookie sale. Let's have a special de luxe income tax for newspapers and employees. Let's income tax our selves silly, dizzy and into utter unconsciousness.

Financially, we're close to it now.

Puerto Rican Chosen as U.S. Representative

The Administration has made a good choice in the appointment of Puerto Rico's 50-year-old Traxosom Moscoso to be the U.S. ambassador to Venezuela.

A prominent leader in his own country Mr. Moscoso was born in Spain of American parents and has lived in Puerto Rico most of his life. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and since 1950 has been administrator of Puerto Rico's Economic Development Administration which attacked the island's fundamental problems.

One of the leaders of the very successful "Operation Bootstrap" which did so much for his country's development, Mr. Moscoso will be sympathetic to the democratic government of Venezuela's President ROMULO BETANCOURT. Under the former dictatorship of Gen. PEREZ JIMENEZ the rich grew richer from the country's fabulous oil income and little if any benefits trickled down for needed reforms.

But as an example of what can be done in underdeveloped areas, Puerto Rico's methods cannot be followed exactly in Latin America. The commonwealth was favored by U.S. aid and tax and tariff reductions which cannot possibly be extended to Latin American countries.

It is interesting to note that Puerto Rico ranks third, after Great Britain and the United States, in the percentage of national income that is distributed to workers of all classes.

Ambassador Moscoso will be a worthy representative of a democratic country and of great help to hard pressed President Betancourt.

House Vote Eliminates Trujillo Sugar Windfall

The Sugar Control Act came up for extension on March 31 and Congress eliminated the mischievous provision requiring that the Dominican Republic be given a windfall share of Cuba's sugar quota.

Last year President Eisenhower urged flexibility in re-allocating the Cuban share but the Agriculture Committee insisted on giving the Dominican Republic 321,557 tons—more than double its normal quota.

As a result Latin Americans charged, and with reason, that the United States had handed a bonus to TRUJILLO on the heels of severe censure by the Organization of American States (U.S. included) for his part in a Venezuelan plot to assassinate President BETANCOURT.

This time Chairman Cooley of the House Agriculture Committee led the fight against the Dominican windfall and resisted pressure for increasing the quota for domestic producers. This will be considered separately next month. The new bill also would give special privileges to countries buying U.S. farm products.

The State Department was properly concerned over last year's ill-advised measure and the damage done to our relations with Latin America. If the Senate passes the new bill also, we will be back on the right track.

The Biggest Ever

Entries in Our Baseball Contest Now in 14 Years

Hoping: What 3,217 good sports will be doing until May 11.

Our 1961 baseball contest has the largest number of entries of any year since it was started 14 years ago. Tabulation of those received before the entry time closed shows that 3,217 were in good order, and in proper line to compete for the prize of $250 in U.S. bonds.

That prize goes to the person naming the player who will be leading the American League on the night of May 11, and predicts the nearest to his batting average.

The contestants surely covered a wide range, votes being cast for 180 different players. Those given ten or more votes are:

Kalline, 382; Fox, 148; Mantle, 147; Maris, 130; Skowron, 90; Cash, 87; Runnels, 81; Colavita, 72; Jensen, 67; Robinson, 67; Yastrzemski, 65; Minno, 64; Boros, 61; Wood, 59; Power, 52; Bruton, 51; Francona, 45; Kubek, 37; Piersall, 34; Smith, 33; Killebrew, 31; Maxwell, 30; Malone, 28; Berra, 26; Howard, 25; Gentile, 23; Allison, 22; Sievers, 21; Hanson, 21; Siebern, 18; Thronberry, 17; Morton, 17; Woodling, 16; Brown, 16; Cerv, 15; Lumpe, 15; Lopez, 15; Lemay, 14; Aparicio, 14; Geiger, 14; Held, 13; Richardson, 13; Bianchi, 13; Wertz, 12; Kirkland, 12; Klumback, 12; Pasada, 12; Dobbek, 12; Boyd, 11; Trimmer, 11; Tempe, 11; Fernandez, 11; Mincher, 11.

David Lawrence Says:

The West Has to Grow Tougher

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The big illusion lingers on. Two world leaders—President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan—now have held their "summit" meeting and have issued a state-ment phrased in cautious generalities. The purpose is to give the impression that a state-ment phrased in cautious generalities. The purpose is to give the impression that a state-ment phrased in cautious generalities.

For peace doesn't depend on what the United States and Great Britain may wishfully say about it. Peace today depends upon mobilizing adequate forces to check the palpable effort of the Communist regime in Moscow to dominate the world either by threat and a peaceful takeover or by military action in enough "local" areas to bring about submission by the West.

The big unanswered question is what the West will do about it. What hovers over every "summit" meeting is the stark fact that the West doesn't want to fight a war and conveys the idea it will make almost any concession to avert one.

The West is a loose alliance with each nation paying its service to unity but going its own way just the same.

A dictatorship has only one thing to think about—its own force. Its allies are so dependent upon the power of the dictator's military machine that they must go along with him.

Democratic governments have no such power over each other. Hence irresolution is manifest, and this gives the dictator—a Hitler or a Khrushchev—the feeling that conquest can be achieved by bluff. Eventually comes the disillusionment, as the other side finally determines to fight. But it is then too late to avert a war.

WHAT'S WRONG?

What's happened recently to the West? Despite the Macmillan-Kennedy pronouncements, the truth is the West is weaker than it was a year ago. Due to the stagnation of allied policy because of the American election campaign, the Soviets have had several months to entrench themselves further and to carry on their intensive infiltration in different parts of the world. The West as yet has furnished no answer to this.

Several nations that should be allied with the West are tolerantly referred to as "neutral" or "uncommitted" when the truth is a life-and-death struggle is going on that makes it dangerous to permit any power to remain aloof and play one side against the other for material advantage.

Khrushchev smiles with satisfaction as he reads that in America there is ridicule in high places now for the Dulles truism—"If you're not for us, you are against us."

The Country Parson

"It seems like these males who quarrel a good deal, moan most when one of them dies."

Meanwhile, all over the West the Communists are getting the benefit of the pressure for a nuclear ban or for disarmament. The pacifists, the quillists and the ill-informed among us are creating on a platform that might realistically be described as "disarm the West but not Russia."

Nobody, of course, in any responsible position of leadership in the West agrees with the doctrines of those who want a disarmament agreement in which Russia can cheat. But there are many false ideas inside Britain and the United States who feel that any nuclear agreement is simpler than none.

The whole emphasis is on weakening the West, though few participants in the crusade are aware that this is so. Still demonstration after demonstration occurs in this country and Europe calling for an end to the nuclear tests.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Busted Hip Can't Bind Patients to Hospital Bed

A break or fracture of the neck of the femur (thigh bone) is commonly called broken hip. Most frequently it happens to elderly persons and usually from comparatively slight injury.

Years ago, when an elderly person suffered a fracture of the hip, the poor old fellow or lady was confined to bed for weeks of suffering and was likely to succumb to sheer exhaustion.

That was the prospect when the crude treatment of a broken hip was applied—DR. BRADY was known as Buck's extension. The patient was strapped in a splint reaching from armpit to ankle, with sandbag or other weight (perhaps 10 or 12 pounds) constantly pulled on the leg which is kept straight.

Actually it was impossible to keep the fragments aligned unless the patient lay on his back in a position for, say eight or ten weeks. Therefore very little movement of the victim, such as necessary nursing care, cleaning, change of linen required, not only altered position of the fragments but added to the suffering of the victim.

So it is no wonder that in the past twenty-five years various new methods of treating fractured thigh or hip have been introduced, nearly all of them purporting to keep the fragments in place ("fixed") without subjecting the victim to prolonged confinement in bed.

These methods vary from a plaster of paris cast applied from armpit level to instep, to an immediate operation: to nail, screw or otherwise hold the fragments together. The chief advantage of these new methods is that they enable the patient to get out of bed and perhaps move about, with some help, within a week. This is a tremendous boon.

Does drinking wine help make good blood, as some think? Wouldn't unfermented grape juice be better? (S.T.M. wine doesn't make good blood. Unfermented grape juice would be better, although fresh grapes contain a significant amount of iron. Best blood-making foods are liver (especially pig liver), kidney, chicken gizzard, oysters, prunes, dates, peaches, raisins, plain wheat (grain from which nothing has been removed), oatmeal, lima beans, dried beans, dried peas, dried lentils, egg yolk, turnip tops and dandelion greens.

Is there anything one can do for hammer toe? Exercise, splint or the like? (Mrs. H.N.C. Ans.—If the deformity is slight, straighten the toe and hold it in corrected position by means of a Voice of the People:

'Unable to Locate Schools for Emotionally Disturbed'

A letter signed "Experienced One," stated we should visit the child guidance clinic and schools for the emotionally disturbed children. We would be only too happy to visit such a school if one could be found. We have located schools for the mentally retarded and the exceptional child, but where does one look for the school in between?

Our experience with the child guidance clinic was equally disappointing. We were honestly looking for constructive help and happily complied with all the demands made by the clinic. Our complete response was "Yes, I'm doing a house job, keep up the good work." We left the clinic feeling our time and personal expense had been wasted.

SHILL BASKING HOP

'Don't Contribute to Private Drives'

I strongly urge all people in Southeast Michigan to stick to the United Fund and not give to the cancer society that considers itself above the United Fund and worth having a private drive of its own.

The 55 agencies that stay in the deserve strong protection from those that try to break the ranks for their own selfish gains. We want one big drive and one big drive only. Any agency that breaks away and goes on its own to hog more than its regular share, should be shunned as a pest from our community.

Fortunately, that is the way it is working out to a big extent, but there is no use for some other to give in and make the main job together for all the rest of us.

Annual United Fund Worker

Has Much to Say About Dr. Brady

Dr. Brady states, "Yes, husbands should see their child born." Birth is a miracle, not a spectacle, but there are also a lot of things that accompany birth that are not for men with a weak stomach. A doctor is trained and conditioned to see the miracle. Not many men would savor that sight. My child, the only one thus far, was stillborn. How would it have affected my husband to see his child born dead? It was bad enough for me.

I agree with the person who sent him the article from another paper voicing disagreement. Dr. Brady is being egotistical when he says all other doctors are wrong and he's right. Every other doctor can't be wrong.

He has stated that women should have their babies at home and that doctors don't want the inconvenience of home delivery. He has stopped to consider the patient's comfort. I had a lot more comfort and ease of mind because I was in the hospital when complications came.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Home Slaves Often Office Tyrants

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE H-455: John J., aged 13, is a high school senior.

"Dr. Crane, when our new high school principal took office, he vowed to stop all tardiness and absenteeism," John began.

The first semester of this school year I was tardy three times, but I worked a full 8-hour shift each day in a large industrial plant and then carried a full high school course besides.

"Our principal is a pettifogger and a dictator. He threatened to have me expelled. I had to work another time. And if a boy is absent, he has to be the boy's father or mother telephone."

"Then he will greet us with the sarcastic comment, 'How do I know it was your mother who telephoned?'"

"Or he will say, 'How do I know you were really ill? Your mother would lie to excuse you.'"

"Dr. Crane, do you think it is fair to us students for a principal to accuse our mothers of telling lies?"

"Something must be wrong with this principal, for he actually snoops around on his own time at the bowling alleys just to see if he can find any boys there who may later be tardy."

"If so, he makes it doubly hard for them. Instead of going home to his family after school is over, he thinks he is a one-man detective bureau."

he meets us, but if we fall to speak to him, then he hawks us out about it later before the whole student body. He says, 'You were late.'"

"He told us students that there were 49 senior boys working in this big plant when school started last fall, but already he says he has kicked out 47 of the boys."

"I don't think that is anything for a principal to boast about, do you, Dr. Crane?"

"Why he acts as if he doesn't care whether we finish high school or not. All he seems to think about is his record which he hopes to publish in some magazine after a 5-year survey."

"He wants to boast about how HE cut down absenteeism and tardiness. One of my pals got kicked out the last two weeks of the year for year. The principal finally said he would grant his credit if he would return which he did."

"But the first week this boy was back, he was tardy two minutes, after having spent 3 hours at his industrial plant. The principal hauled him out, so the boy got kicked."

"It seems to me the principal should be tried to help this boy and encourage him to go to college, instead of slapping him in the face, so to speak. This boy's whole life may be ruined by his not having a high school diploma."

DIAGNOSIS

After checking with several of the boys in the high school, I found that John's objections were valid. He was not exaggerating. Apparently, this principal had a warped outlook on life and a serious misunderstanding of what a good teacher or leader should be.

Despite an excellent college training, he was proving a grave handicap to high school education by driving young people out of school. Can you imagine any good teacher boasting about having kicked out 13 boys?

Perhaps this principal is handicapped in his home life, for we have an adage that the "best" exterior covers a "house of horrors."

Student From Oak Park Wins $500 Scholarship

An Oak Park student received a $500 college scholarship and a Royal Oak student an alternate award of a leather brief case, at a luncheon today in the Rackham Building, Detroit, as part of "Chemical Progress Week." The scholarship, one of three, went to Hina Saito of Oak Park High School. The brief case, also one of three, went to Barbara Michniewicz of St. Mary's High School Royal Oak.

The luncheon and scholarships were sponsored by the Detroit Activities Chapter of the Manufacturing Chemists Association in an effort to encourage high school students to consider the field of science, particularly chemistry, for further study.

State Couple Escape

Fear Ruled Burning Ship

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—"Passengers were jumping and falling to the water all over in desperate confusion. Everyone was completely terrified."

That was the story of terror on the sea as told by Mrs. H. G. Lykerk, wife of a Holland, Mich., missionary, who was one of the survivors of the fire-swept liner Dura.

Mrs. Lykerk and her husband were picked up by a lifeboat from the tanker British Energy after a series of explosions and fires had driven the Dura's 735 passengers and crewmembers into the storm-tossed Persian Gulf. More than 150 persons were missing.

This was Mrs. Lykerk's story:

"I was in bed when an explosion occurred. Suddenly the gangways and corridors were filled with people rushing about in a frenzy shouting 'fire, fire' and the order was given to abandon ship. Many had only their night clothes on."

"My husband tried unsuccessfully with others to lower a lifeboat but we could not operate the davits. A rope was pushed over the side but no one wanted to go down because of the heat and smoke. My husband forced me to go down to give an example to the others, and I climbed down the swinging ladder to the bottom screaming with every step."

GET IN LIFEBOAT

"Eventually I and my husband were dragged onto a lifeboat," she said.

The Lykerks are members of the Dutch Reformed Church of Holland, (Mich.) and are both graduates of Hope College.

They were enroute to a mission at Koodie-Kanal, India, to attend the high school graduation of two of their three children, David, 19, and Nancy, 17. Another daughter, Laila, 15, also attends the inter-denominational mission school.

Dr. Lykerk, 46, is a surgeon and has been active in the missionary field for 20 years.

He had just begun a year's leave of absence from his post in Manama to return to the U.S. and Holland, where David and Nancy planned to enter Hope College in the fall.

LA Man Is Killed in Collision With Son

SALTION CITY, Calif. (UPI)—A Los Angeles man driving a tiny battery-driven car was killed Sunday when it collided in an intersection with an auto driven by his 16-year-old son.

Ocell James Miller, 46, a truck service manager for an auto dealer, was thrown from the small vehicle by the impact.

Investigators said apparently neither Miller nor his son James saw each other until the last minute. The son swerved the family car in an effort to avoid the collision, but his father appeared to have swerved into the car's path.

The family had been spending the weekend relaxing in this desert resort city in Southern California, investigators said.

Noted for Ghost Stories, British Novelist Dies

LONDON (AP)—Oliver Onions, 86, British novelist noted for his ghost stories, died Sunday in a hospital in Wales.

He wrote more than 20 novels, among them "The Story of Ragged Robin," a tragic tale set in the 17th century, and "Poor Man's Pastry," about the era of the Wars of the Roses, which won him the James Tate Black prize in 1946.

Onions probably gained his greatest fame for "The Beckoning Fair One," a ghost story printed in many languages.

The State Conservation Department, which will conduct the auctions, estimates the value of all the lands at $132,485. All money received will be returned to the counties.

In Pontiac there will be 143 units auctioned off from Jackson, Macomb, St. Clair and Oakland counties.

Genesee Canvass Trims Vote Edge

DETROIT (UPI)—The official canvass of last Monday's biennial state election in Genesee County trimmed Bloomfield Hills Republican Thomas Adams' edge over Democrat Ralph E. Richman to 601,512 to 600,386.

1,126 in the race for a second seat on the Wayne State University Board of Governors.

Adams lost 19 votes in the official canvass, in Genesee County and Richman picked up 119 votes.

With all precincts reported, and official canvasses reported from 20 of Michigan's 83 counties, Adams' vote total stands at 601,512 and Richman's total at 600,386.

Bill for Parents of Handicapped

Broomfield Seeks Tax Break for Those Who Can't Claim Children

WASHINGTON—Tax breaks for parents of handicapped children who are unable to claim a living dependent would "end an injustice in our income tax system which prevents some families from claiming their children as exemptions," even though these children are unemployable because of mental or physical disease.

Broomfield said the bill he has introduced in the House of Representatives would "end an injustice in our income tax system which prevents some families from claiming their children as exemptions," even though these children are unemployable because of mental or physical disease.

Broomfield's bill has been referred to the House Ways and Means Committee for further action.

Under the terms of the bill, taxpayers would be able to claim a personal exemption for a child over age 13 if such child is unemployable because of disability.

The bill was introduced because "a number of people called my attention to the injustice of present federal tax policies for those who are faced with this situation," said Broomfield.

"I am urging the Ways and Means Committee to act on this bill promptly so that tax relief will be available to these families as soon as possible," he said.

Pro-West President Wins in S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Pro-Western President Ngo Dinh Diem won re-election by an even bigger margin than expected as voters rejected Communist attempts to sabotage South Viet Nam's first democratic-style national election.

The 60-year-old bachelor president polled well over 80 per cent of the vote cast and showed his greatest strength in the hotbed of Red rebel terrorism—the swamps and ricefields of the Mekong River delta southwest of Saigon. He racked up better than 90 per cent of the vote in this region.

The Sunday voting apparently went off peacefully, without a single major incident. One grenade throwing and an ambush — with no casualties — were reported in the south.

'Yes, Grandma, I'll Be Good'

Southfield Boy in Chute

SOUTHFIELD — A one-sided game of hide-and-seek got 7-year-old Allen Brody into trouble here yesterday.

Allen rebelled at an instruction from his grandmother, Mrs. Jennifer Lamer, and hid in the bathroom.

Not content with his hiding place, he found a more secure spot—a clothes chute between the first floor and the basement.

He went into the chute feet first, but it took the efforts of his grandmother, his parents and the Southfield police and fire departments to get him out.

Allen got stuck in the two-foot-long chute with his legs dangling into the basement. Only his eyes and the top of his head were visible from above.

Allen's grandmother tried to free him for half an hour. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brody of 2612 Martha Washington St., also had little success and they decided to call in the police.

Waterford Couple Hurt in Collision

An elderly Waterford Township couple was injured in a two-car collision at a West Bloomfield Township intersection Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Sweet of 5620 Opaline St., were reported in fair condition today at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. Both suffered possible concussions and back injuries when their car collided with one driven by Roger Graver, 36, of 1881 Bracken Road, Bloomfield Township.

The accident occurred at Mid-dlebelt and Long Lake roads when Sweet pulled out into the intersection from a stop street. He is 73 and his wife is 74.

Neither Graver nor the five members of his family in the car were injured in the crash.

Sweet told Pontiac state police he had stopped at the intersection and failed to notice any traffic on Long Lake Road when he pulled out and struck Graver's car broad-side.

Dem Politico Is Dead

To Process Claims for Benefit Extension

DETROIT (UPI)—Max M. Horton, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, said Sunday first claims for temporary extended unemployment compensation in Michigan will be processed Monday at 66 MESCC offices throughout the state.

Horton said about 70,000 unemployed men and women have exhausted their benefits since last June 30 and will make application for benefits under the federal extension program this week.

He said first checks will be payable Monday, April 17, with the first check to be paid at the Lansing branch office by Gov. Swainson.

While the U.S. population was increasing 15 per cent from 1940-50, per capita use of oil jumped 36 per cent.

Private shoppers for your savings vie with each other to get you to darken their particular door or save through payroll plans. Various institutions entice new customers with premiums. Commercial and mutual savings banks have raised the interest they pay on deposits, in many cases as high as various laws will allow.

Savings and loan associations have raised interest rates—especially in growing West Coast communities where demand for loans is pressing. They advertise their higher yields in East Coast papers where rates are lower.

Of late Washington has urged a stop to the hiking of interest on savings so that the associations can lower mortgage charges as a spur to more home building.

Credit unions have been growing steadily—and meeting competition from in-plant savings and lending plans of banks.

Mutual funds and insurance companies have been singing the praises of their own form of investing your savings as preferable to others.

Just now the insurance companies are boasting of big gains in the payroll deduction way of taking out insurance. Individuals buy life insurance through their office or plant.

In 1948 such salary savings came to $300 million. In 1959 more than $1.5 billion was put on the books this way. The Institute of Life Insurance estimates that in 1960 the sum topped $2 billion, with more than 30,000 companies providing such service — 6,000 of them for the first time last year.

Man in Space

Astronaut to Circle Globe in 25 Breaths

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU

NEW YORK (UPI) — For America's first astronaut in orbit, it will be around the world in just a shade under 25 deep breaths.

That's the amount of oxygen he's expected to use, in normal rather than deep respiration, during one earth circuit of the first Mercury shot into orbit.

The trip is scheduled for three times around in four and a half hours, and there will be oxygen aboard to last him many times that length of time. But it is still one of the smallest areas of atmosphere in which man has ever attempted to live.

The Mercury's life support system—45 pounds of chemicals bubbling, tanks, fans and 60 watts of power—provides more than the breathing oxygen for the man in space. It also holds the pressure to maintain his capsule and space suit at the equivalent of livable altitudes, and the air conditioning to protect him from temperatures that freeze or burn.

With the addition of 8 pounds of oxygen under pressure in round steel tanks and 35 pounds of water, for the cooling system, the apparatus makes up about 5 per cent of the total weight of the manned capsule.

The system has already traveled down range with Ham the chimpanzee and is ready to make the first nonorbital trip with a man, but the big test awaited is the first shot into orbit.

To a large extent this is a miniature and highly refined version of the pressurization systems which keep pilots and passengers alert and comfortable in high-flying airliners. The fundamental difference is that planes operating in lower space don't have to pack their air and carry it with them, they pick it up from outside as they go along.

25 HOURS OF LIFE

The oxygen in each 4-pound bottle expands to 160 cubic feet at the pressure in the astronaut's suit. The space engineers calculate that at 80 cubic feet for breathing, or enough for 28 hours of life, and the other half for loss in leakage or absorption. The second bottle is pure safeguard.

Pure oxygen, sometimes believed to be unhealthy to breathe for long periods, apparently has no adverse effect at the high altitudes involved in space flight. Dr. James N. Waggoner of the Garrett Corp., said. Its danger is greatest to deep sea divers, in pressures greater than sea level, Waggoner said, and has seldom been known to cause the "bends" at altitudes over 30,000 feet.

The oxygen system also provides the temperature and humidity control which are designed to keep the astronaut in temperatures between 55 and 80 degrees Fahrenheit despite an outside temperature range figured at from 61 degrees below to several thousand degrees above zero.

To some extent he can control this himself, and watchers on the ground can control aspects of the system should instrument reports of his body condition show it necessary.

In the last stages of descent when friction in the heavy atmosphere makes the cooling system inadequate, a snorkel opens to bring in outside air.

COMFORT

The scientists fondly call their astronaut's tiny atmosphere one of "shirt sleeve comfort," although the shirt sleeves are admittedly a little stiff at the elbows in a pressurized space suit.

The refinements are something else again, as is particularly evident to engineers and space scientists of his manufacturer, the AllResearch Manufacturing Division of Garrett Corp.

They pioneered 20 years ago in providing the pressurization system for the then top-secret B29 bomber, the first production line plane which could be flown above livable altitudes without an oxygen mask.

Exceptional cleanliness becomes a life and death concern in the short loop which circulates the oxygen that maintains life in the astronaut's space suit.

At each return to the circulating apparatus under his contour seat, the oxygen runs through:

—A solids trap which removes such materials as a fallen eyelash, the remnants of a sneeze or unexpected body wastes;

—A filter which absorbs exhaled carbon dioxide and eliminates odors;

—A water evaporator which both cools the oxygen and condenses excess moisture from breath and perspiration.

This moisture is dripped into a sponge which is mechanically squeezed every 30 minutes, draining into a small tank to provide an additional emergency supply of drinking water.

Separate pressurization systems keep the astronaut's suit at the equivalent of 27,000 feet altitude, a little lower than Mt. Everest, and the cabin at the equivalent of about 30,000 feet.

Should the suit circulation fail, the spaceman may open his face plate to the cabin atmosphere. If an electrical fire or other unexpected occurrence fouls the cabin atmosphere, the astronaut can let in outside air, 3,000 rebar and 50,000 out the cabin air and refill and to 180,000 antelopes.

pressurize it from his emergency oxygen supply.

That hasn't kept the scientists from extending the principle another step into space. A back-pack version of the life support system is already on the boards—for exploring the moon.

Concentrated Authority Is Petrifying Progress

NEW YORK (UPI) — You can petrify progress by trying to make all decisions yourself — since nobody else knows how.

The American Management Association (AMA), in its publication Management Review, says so. The AMA also said progress is petrified when you permit no criticism of established routines.

NOW THE BIGGEST CHANGE IN GASOLINE IN 38 YEARS

(since Ethyl was discovered)

Today at 7 A.M. all Speedway stations in Michigan began pumping two great new Tethyl gasolines—Speedway 79 Super Regular and Super Premium.

Tethyl, science's newest and most effective anti-knock compound, is a product of the Ethyl Corporation and only Speedway has it.

Here's how Tethyl works: When your engine knocks, chances are the knock is taking place in only one cylinder . . . which is just plain starved for octane. Tethyl corrects this "octane-starvation" by distributing octane evenly to all cylinders. Then every cylinder works at top efficiency, and you get top power and mileage.

Both Speedway 79 gasolines—Super Regular and Super Premium—are Tethyl gasolines. Try a tankful today.

THE BIG CHANGE AT SPEEDWAY!

- In Oil Resources: Today, our petroleum fields dot the maps of three continents . . .
- In Transportation: Our products are transported by tanker ship, tank trucks and thousands of miles of our own pipelines.
- In Refining: At our three great plants, modern refinery methods assure continuous quality control.
- In Service Stations: Hundreds of bright new service stations display the new Speedway 79 emblem.
- In Credit Cards: Stations in 33 states and Canada honor your Speedway credit card.
- In Sports Sponsorship: Speedway has added hockey to our 9-year Tigers and 7-year Lions sponsorship . . . biggest coverage by any sponsor in America.

Easter Seals Short of Goal

Account Will Remain
Open for Late Donors;
Drive Locks $26,000

Easter has come and gone, but crippled and handicapped children in Oakland County hope some of the Easter spirit will linger for awhile.

The annual Easter Seal appeal of the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults is over, but the Easter Seal account will remain open until July 1 to accept all late donations.

The way it stands today, late donations will make or break the society's work this year. The traditional seals have brought total donations of $34,883.71 to date.

The 1961 goal was $60,000. Of more 177,000 Easter Seal envelopes mailed to county residents early in March, 15,785 have been returned. Of these, 1,265 envelopes were empty and 14,520 contained donations.

There have been 5,169 donations of $5 or more, according to Mrs. Elizabeth A. Kiskaly, executive secretary.

"The bright spot comes right here in Pontiac. It looks like Pontiac residents are doing better than ever before," she said. Donations from Pontiac residents so far total $5,422 with nearly three months to go. The total for the entire 1960 appeal in Pontiac was $5,947.

Says 'Fall-Out' Peril Not New to Michigan

DETROIT (AP) — Fall-out was a danger in Michigan nearly 100 years ago, State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis told the American Conference of Government Industrial Hygienists.

"Only this fall-out came from the colorful blooms of wallpaper, not from H-bombs, Heustis told the American Conference of Government Industrial Hygienists. Arsenic was used in the wallpaper ink, and particles of it sifted down to cause sickness in many Michigan families, Heustis said. Among symptoms listed were pains in the bones and joints, chronic rheumatism, headaches and general debility.

The arsenic problem, Heustis said, indicates the important place of occupational health in the whole field of public health. There was a modern day sequel, Heustis said, when then U.S. Ambassador to Italy Clare Booth Luce was poisoned by grains of arsenic falling from the paint in the ceiling of her house in Rome.

Mechanized Golf Buggy Has That 'Light' Touch

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — For the man who has everything: a mechanized golf buggy whose "touch is so light it runs over a model's hand unaided. It costs $1,205. In a demonstration of its new golfmobile last week, the Pomona, Calif., manufacturer proved the vehicle was harmless to a young woman's pretty hand and left no visible marks on a putting green. Extra wide, low pressure tires of king-size dimensions account for the buggy's performance, company engineers said.

Birch Society 'Isn't Secret'

Founder States Goals of Controversial Group to LA Churchman

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The founder of the controversial John Birch Society says it isn't a secret society — and it has only two secrets.

"We don't tell how many members we have, and we'll not tell the names of our members," explained Robert Welch, of Belmont, Mass., when interviewed on a local television program Sunday night.

Welch appeared with Dr. James W. Fife, Jr., minister of the First Congregational church of Los Angeles, on the latter's weekly program on a local TV channel.

The retired candy manufacturer arrived Saturday for Southern California, speaking engagements. He will speak Tuesday night in a 6,000-seat Shrine auditorium. All the seats are sold.

Welch, 61, said the John Birch Society, named for a missionary and Air Force intelligence officer who was killed by Chinese Communists, is "trying to prevent the breakdown of morality."

OPPOSES COLLECTIVISM
He said it opposes "the disease of collectivism. We've got to stop the Communists first. Our primary objective is to educate our neighbors and fellow citizens to what is happening."

Fife said he had heard that a purpose of the society is to get Chief Justice Earl Warren deposed.

"That's just one of our specific objectives," said Welch.

Some congressmen have called for investigation of the organization. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said last week he thinks the society is ridiculous, that its members "make no contribution to the fight against communism here in the United States, and in fact I think if anything they are a hindrance."

The California Senate fact-finding committee on Un-American Activities announced Saturday it has scheduled an inquiry into the society for some time after the legislature adjourns in June.

Noted Minister Dies

ATLANTA (AP)—Dr. W. Aiken Smart, 77, long prominent in Southern Methodistism and one of the original members of Emory University's Candler School of Theology, died Saturday after an illness of several months. He was born in Newberry, S.C., ordained a Methodist minister in 1907 and went to Emory in 1914.

'Spring' Fever Sends Students to Bed (Rolling)

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—The kind of spring fever that sends college boys pushing beds along highways brought six University of Houston students to Texas A&I College here Sunday.

It took them slightly less than two days to cover the 235 miles from Houston to Kingsville in south Texas. They hauled their four-wheeler bed over to Alpha Tau Omega fraternity brothers here.

A&T students propose to shove it on to Pan American College at Edinburg, Tex., or possibly to Monterrey, Mexico.

New Hampshire was one of the early colonies that derived wealth from its natural resources rather than only from the use of the soil.

Snubs Mobutu's Bid for Truce
Chief of Stanleyville Army Wants Political Agreement First

By ANTOINE YARÉD
STANLEYVILLE, the Congo (AP) — The army chief of the Stanleyville government, Gen. Victor Lundula, today snubbed a bid from Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu of Leopoldville government for a military truce.

Lundula said he would hold out until the Stanleyville government headed by Antoine Gizenga and the Leopoldville government reach political agreement.

Mobutu flew from Leopoldville to neighboring Equator Province Sunday, hoping to open negotiations with Lundula on the border of Oriental Province, of which Stanleyville is the capital.

ONE GOVERNMENT
"There will be no military agreement as long as a political agreement is not reached which will permit the establishment of one government," Lundula declared through a press secretary.

Political talks between the rival regimes were scheduled to open today but struck a snag over a meeting place. The talks were postponed.

They were to have been held on neutral ground between Oriental and Equator provinces but Gizenga showed fears for his personal safety. He suggested either Stanleyville or the Ethiopian capital of Addis Ababa.

In Leopoldville, the Congolese army expressed formal regret for two attacks on U. S. Embassy personnel yesterday at a road-block 20 miles off of the capital. They promised immediate disciplinary action against Congolese soldiers who hit an American and tore the American flag off an embassy car.

Tom Rodda of Alexandria, Va., visual aids officer for the U. S. Information Agency, was pulled from his car and struck.
Rodda's wife, Frances Irma, and their son, David Lee, 14, were also forced out of the car but were not touched.

Hears Counters Are Integrated

JFK Learns at Mass of Desegregation Act Near Virginia Estate

MIDDLEBURG, Va. (AP) — President Kennedy learned at Mass of the quiet integration of three lunch counters in the capital of the Virginia hunt country.

Apparently, the first word the President had was the announcement at Mass Sunday, "that the first bridge of understanding between the races had been crossed gracefully."

The focal white citizenry attributed the change at least indirectly to Kennedy.

The reasoning was that Negroes made Middleburg a special target of successful efforts to obtain service at lunch counters because the President is a part-time resident. He has taken an estate here.

HINT AT MOVE
There was unverified talk among the Negro population that Kennedy took some sort of direct steps to break the color line at eating places after Negroes on the household staff at his estate, Glen Ora, had been refused service at the Coach Stop Restaurant.

But Dimes did tell newsmen that "a very important person in the government came to talk to my wife yesterday." He declined to identify the individual but said he meant a person in the federal government who lives in this area.

Dimes said his wife was told the practical thing to do was to go ahead and serve Negroes, since they actually wanted to be turned down for the sake of the publicity they would get.

Kennedy was unavailable for comment on all this. He spent the weekend here and arranged to return to Washington this morning.

More Comfort Wearing FALSE TEETH

Here is a pleasant way to overcome those embarrassing moments when you wear an ill-fitting denture. The new "False Teeth" are made of a soft, flexible material that conforms to the shape of your mouth. They are comfortable, easy to wear, and they look just like the real thing. They are available at all drug stores everywhere.

area, has announced that the 24th Scottish Rite Reunion will take place in Detroit on two successive weekends.

The degree schedule has been planned so that it is possible for the 235 candidates to become 2nd Degree Masons through participating in two meetings on Friday evening, April 21, Saturday afternoon and evening, April 22, Friday evening, April 23 and Saturday afternoon and evening, April 24.

Officers of the Oakland club serving with Townsend of 118 Henry Clay, Ave., Pontiac, are: Floyd J. Temple, Pontiac, first vice president; William C. Plabbert, chaplain; Harry Griffith, Pontiac, secretary; and Roy W. Wilton, Pontiac, treasurer.

Dick Nixon Wins Place in Party

Expected to Introduce Ex-President Instead of Either Competitor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon apparently has won an intraparty scuffle involving a $100-a-plate dinner here June 1.

He tentatively is scheduled to introduce former President Dwight D. Eisenhower at the dinner honoring Republican members of Congress.

GOP congressional leaders, well aware of the tug of war between Nixon, Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of California, previously had decided that Eisenhower would be the only speaker.

Nixon, Goldwater and Rockefeller were told they would be welcome as silent guests.

But the congressional contingent, some of which has been vocal in blaming Nixon personally for his loss of the presidential contest to John F. Kennedy, seemingly underestimated the former vice president's determination to assert his position as titular head of the party.

Before leaving office, Eisenhower knighted Nixon as head of the party. Rockefeller wouldn't go along with that. Goldwater said that unless Nixon ran for governor of California — which Nixon said he won't do — the former vice president would be only a Republican lawyer whose voice would not carry too much weight in the party.

The award will be made by Gov. Swanson, who will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Ambassadors that day in the Michigan Union.

The University of Michigan and the Ann Arbor Chamber of Commerce will host the meeting which will explore what part the research facilities of the university can play in the industrial future of Michigan.

The new Ambassador chairman, Roblee B. Martin, president of the Dundee Cement Co., Dundee, will outline a work and action program for the Ambassadors, who have the job of looking for industrial plant prospects for Michigan during their trips to other states and countries.

SOUTH MANCHURIA
IN SUDDEN STROKE

CITIES SEIZED IN CHINA; PROTEST FILED

ROW BEGINS ON RAILWAY

(By the Associated Press)
Diplomatic relations between China and Japan were sorely threatened today by the occupation of Manchuria by Japanese troops and the landing of a Japanese force in China proper.

Japanese soldiers bombarded and captured the walled city of Mukden and another force landed at Tatung on the southern coast of the Bohai Peninsula, midway between it and southernmost tip of Manchuria and Shanghai.

The Japanese attributed the action to the alleged destruction of a section of the Manchuria railway, operated by the Japanese government leased line. The Chinese tended that the railway damaged by Japanese soldiers as a pretext for it tack on Mukden.

Japanese sources estimated their own casualties at and 7 to 10 wounded, a Chinese losses at 124 seriously wounded and 800 captured.

HITLER ORDERS ARREST OF 100 REB MEMBERS

COMMUNIST BAN LOOMS

(By the Associated Press)
BERLIN, Feb. 28.—President
Hindenburg today placed the German republic under virtual martial law by signing an emergency decree giving the police extraordinary powers to enforce order.

(By the Associated Press)

BERLIN, Feb. 28.—Virtual martial law under police regime was decided upon by the German cabinet today.

The cabinet had heard a report from Wilhelm Goering, minister without portfolio, upon the fire which damaged the Reichstag building Monday and the result of a raid last week by police on Karl Lobkowitz, House, Communist headquarters.

A military state of emergency was declared in order to keep the Reichstag (standing army) out of political action, but the measure to be decreed will have the effect of placing Germany under a state of emergency with the sole object of meeting Communist danger.

Hitler Government stated it was certain that Communist leaders were directly connected with the Reichstag fire.

The Communists, he said, were prepared for further acts of terrorism.

May Outlaw Communists

The Hitler government ordered prohibition of the entire left press and the arrest of the 100 Communist members of the last parliament today.

With Reichstag and Prussian elections 5 days off, both orders were regarded as necessary in the outbreak of the Communist party.

Police squadrons combed the building housing the Vorwaerts principal newspaper of the Reich last night for 4 hours this morning confiscating thousands of election propaganda.

Outlawing of only the Communist party.

SCIENCE FAIR WINNER — Jim Phillips, 16, a junior at Romeo Community High School, Friday won the plaque as grand prize winner in the school's annual Science Fair. Son of Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips of 146 S. Fremont St., Jim first was named winner in the biology division for his project entitled "Induced Bacterial Mutation." During his experimentation he discovered a new strain of bacteria that University of Michigan scientists say he will be able to name himself.

Decisions Due Tonight on Key Appointments

By LEE WINBORN
Area News Editor

Standing-Room-Only crowds of local citizens are expected at tonight's village council meetings in Romeo and Rochester.

Controversies which have arisen over a key appointment in each community are the reasons for the citizen concern over the respective council proceedings.

In Rochester a move to replace Village Attorney Roscoe R. Martin with "fresh new blood" split the council 5-2 two weeks ago.

Tabbed then, the appointment is slated to come up for council consideration again tonight.

Petitions have been circulated in Romeo urging retention of Police Chief Edgar Welsh, who has been notified that he will not be reappointed at tonight's organizational meeting of the local council.

Mrs. Dorothy Poey, Romeo's license examiner, dispatcher and police matron, also has been told her services no longer will be needed. Her job is not appointive but rather of continuing duration unless she is otherwise notified.

Petitions also have been circulated in her behalf.

At the Rochester council meeting March 27, a motion was made asking for "revitalization" of the attorney office and limiting of Martin's term. Arthur R. Cox was nominated to succeed him.

Longly debate brought out no evidence of incompetency on Martin's part during his 14 years in the village post. On the contrary, he was cited as having done a "good job" and as being held in "high esteem" by the council and the village even by those seeking to oust him.

The motivation prompting the five-man political bloc on the Rochester Council to change legal advisors at this time has not been made public.

The same is true in Romeo where the only reason given for not reappointing the police chief is that the council members want appointees who will be "more help" to them.

Welch has served as chief for three years. He was on the Michigan State Police force for over 26 years, seven of them as commander of the Romeo Post. He retired as a lieutenant in 1953.

Both councils have had a change in control in the past two years with most men who were serving when the previous two appointments were made no longer being in office.

Only one of the "old guard" in Romeo, Donald Payne, remains on the council.

It was in this year's spring election in Rochester that the sole councilman who was in office when Martin was appointed was defeated. He was Clarence M. Burr, who had been a councilman for 14 years.

Under Romeo's village charter, the president has the full power to make appointments for the coming year. Then the appointments must be confirmed by the council.

In Rochester, the Council elects the village attorney, clerk and manager and they may serve for indefinite terms.

Two Area Men Die in Traffic Over Weekend

Two area residents died in traffic accidents which occurred outside Oakland County over the weekend.

The victims were Albert Heikila, 49, of 3485 Berg Road, Southfield, and Floyd L. Sloan, 30, of 1076 Birchwood St., Troy.

Sloan died Sunday in a Gary, Ind., hospital from injuries received in a mishap near there Saturday.

Indiana State Police said they believe Sloan was the driver of a car which overturned at high speed on U.S. 36, southeast of Gary.

George H. Baugher of Burket, Ind., was seriously injured when Sloan's car flipped over. Sloan reportedly was thrown from the car as it overturned.

Heikila died Saturday in Northwest General Hospital, Detroit, an hour after he stepped off a curb in Detroit and was struck by a coal truck.

The truck driver, Roosevelt Collins, 36, of Mount Clemens, was to appear today in the Wayne County prosecutor's office to make a formal statement.

New Group May Act

Zoning Case Appeal Seen Likely in Troy

TROY — A motion to appeal a controversial zoning case to the State Supreme Court is likely to be the first major action taken tonight by the new power group on the Troy City Commission.

An earlier attempt to appeal the case was defeated by the "old guard" on the commission, the political faction which lost control of the city government in last Monday's election.

Louis Yanich, the incumbent commissioner who was defeated in his bid for re-election, was one of the "old guard" who led the fight against taking the zoning case to the high court.

Yanich's defeat is believed to have resulted mainly from his refusal to appeal the case between the city and developer Robert L. Silberstein of Detroit.

Two officials who favored the appeal, Mayor Robert J. Huber and Commissioner Wallace B. Hudson, have asked that the matter be placed on the agenda for tonight's agenda.

TO MAKE APPOINTMENTS
Before getting to this matter, however, the commission will appoint its mayor pro tem and three representatives to the county board of supervisors.

The oath of office also will be administered to Robert J. Barger and James F. Carey, the two candidates who will replace Yanich and the retired Stanley Smith on the commission.

Barger and Carey stated they were in favor of appealing the case while campaigning as a team for the two commission seats.

They are expected to ally themselves with Huber, Hudson and Commissioner Vincent J. McAvoy in favor of an appeal.

In January, Circuit Court Judge H. Russell Holland ruled in favor of Silberstein, stating that zoning which required lots of 1/4 and 1/2 acres in the city was "unreasonable."

Mayor Huber and his two commission cohorts believed they should get a decision on the zoning from the higher court. City Manager David E. Firestone and City Attorney Stanley E. Burke also are on record as favoring the appeal.

Speakers will include William Pickelman, chairman of the Lapeer County Board of supervisors; Everett Bristol, former supervisor and past chairman of the jail building committee; and Ivan Outhbert Jr., one of the architects who designed the structure.

When completed, it will contain cells for 36 prisoners, offices for the Lapeer County Sheriff's Department, drivers' license bureau and a five-car garage.

The new concrete block and brick structure will replace the present century-old jail which has facilities for only 10 men and was condemned in 1954.

Master of ceremonies for the groundbreaking will be George Brigham, present chairman of the building committee. The event is open to the public.

General construction work for the new jail will be done by the Peron Construction Co., 21201 Meyers Road, Oak Park.

Southfield to Inaugurate Newly Elected Officials

SOUTHFIELD—Inaugural ceremonies for newly elected officials of this 3-year-old city will be held today at 8 p.m. in the Southfield High School auditorium at Lahser and 10-Mile roads.

A new council will be sworn in and three members of the council will be appointed to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Newly elected Mayor S. James Clarkson automatically becomes a member of the board of supervisors.

The program for the inauguration will begin with music by the high school band. There will be an address by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem.

Municipal Judge Clarence A. Field Jr. will swear in City Clerk Patrick G. Flannery. Flannery was elected the first city clerk when Southfield became a city April 3, 1958.

Flannery will then swear in the council members. For the three 4-year terms the council are past president C. Hugh Bohany, and newcomers Robert C. Landers and Philip P. Peter.

For the four 2-year terms they are incumbents Clarence C. Durbin, O. David Edwards and newcomers Thomas C. Rowley.

Also up for consideration at the meeting by the mayor and the council is a request to the Michigan State Legislature to prohibit levying income tax on nonresident workers in the city of Southfield.

Dohany said today that this request stems from the city of Detroit's proposal to tax residents as well as nonresident workers.

Men at Troy Church To Hear Missile Talk

TROY — A representative of a Detroit missile-producing firm will be guest speaker at tomorrow's 7:30 p.m. meeting of the Men's Club of the First Presbyterian Church of Troy.

Discussing the manufacturing and launching of earth satellites will be Ralph Gillespie, advertising and public relations manager for Brooks and Perkins, Inc., a concern engaged in satellite and missile work for several years.

Gillespie's talk will be followed by a short business meeting in the social hall of the church on Livermore Road just north of Wattle's Road.

Caning, Weaving to Highlight Antique Show on April 18-20

Vivid hand-sewn quilts, coverlets and colorful calico prints will adorn the balcony overlooking Stevens Hall for All Saints Episcopal Church's 9th annual antique show and sale April 18-20.

Women of the congregation, attired in old-time finery, will be stationed at the various antique displays on the main floor, surrounded by arrangements of fragrant spring flowers.

A highlight of the show will be a chair-caning and rush-weaving demonstration by Herb Martin who has been blind for almost 20 years.

The photographs on today's women's page were taken in the Henderson Street home of Mrs. Whitney Prall. Mrs. Robert E. Niesselt, publicity chairman for the gala event, said, "Mrs. Prall's home is a veritable storehouse of treasures."

Antiques similar to Mrs. Prall's silver water tankards, candle holders, marble top table, cruet, egg stands, spoon holder and beaded fringe shades, purchased at Tiffany's in New York, will be on sale at the show.

SOCIETY MEMBER

Mrs. Prall is a member of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society and the Oakland County Historical Foundation, organized to support the Wisner Home project.

Among dealers responding to the church's request for a listing of their wares is Sorta Quaint Antiques of Detroit which offers candy sticks in 20 old-time flavors, including coltsfoot, sassafras, anise, horchound and cranberry.

Old fashioned apple suckers in licorice pipes, rock candy, bacon strips, jaw breakers, as well as homemade creamy fudge, milk chocolate nut bark and milk chocolate Napoleons also will be on sale.

H. Thayer Fletcher, dealer

from Flint, will offer antique Wedgwood soup tureens, old china and bisque dolls, china cow creamers, old muff boxes, miniature pistols and revolvers and a collection of old steno.

A general line of antiques including a Mary-Gregory black milk glass lamp and bowl and a Holly-amber bowl will be displayed by Garnette Waters antique shop.

Mrs. Carl Sparks of Thornapple Lake, Nashville, will present a line of antiques including paper weights, cut glass and colored glass.

Leonard Berry of East-How and Street will show decorative accessories in wall hangings, pictures and mirrors, along with pine furniture and novel lamps.

Hours for the show will be from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

Club Planning Mad Hat Party

The women's social committee of Forest Lake Country Club will feature a bridge luncheon and "Mad Hatters" party Wednesday noon. Prizes will be awarded for the most unusual hat in its category.

"An Undying Love," story of two hats told on color slides with characters posed by club members, will be presented. Mrs. A. P. Pfaff of Hickory Grove Road, Bloomfield Township is party chairman.

Antiques similar to these being examined by Mrs. Irving Stearns of Woodbine Drive will be on display at the All Saints 9th annual antique show and sale April 18-20. Mrs. Stearns is admiring a small ebony box, inlaid with mother-of-pearl which holds a set of perfume bottles. An ornate brass lamp sits on the old marble top table.

Richard Kilbys Honeymoon in Chicago

Richard A. Kilby and his bride, the former Patricia Ann Jones of Milan, are honeymooning in Chicago following their Saturday marriage in the Marble Memorial Methodist Church, Milan. The Rev. William M. Hughes performed the four o'clock ceremony.

Daughter of Mrs. Grant M. Jones of Milan and the late Mr. Jones, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Ethan C. Jones of Milan. The Samuel A. Kilbys of Hazel Bend Avenue are parents of the bridegroom.

Swiss guller lace accented the portrait neckline and Empire waistline of the bridal gown of white delustered satin. The bouffant skirt cascaded into a chapel train.

Silk illusion veil was attached to a queen's crown of pearl-and-sequin encrusted satin. Ivy foliage, white roses and stephanotis comprised the cascade bouquet.

Attending the bride were honor maid Lois Anne Alderdyce of Milan, sorority sisters Gayle Atkins of Muskegon Heights and Sandra Seppala of Sault Ste. Marie, and Bobbie carried blue carnations, stephanotis and ivy. On the escort side were Joy Elbridge of Detroit, best man, with Jack Suler of East Lansing, David Newell of Hudson and Douglas M. Justus ushering.

Receiving guests with the newlyweds in the church parlors, Mrs. Jones was attired in navy tulle, pink flower hat and corsage of pink cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Kilby appeared in powder blue silk shantung with matching chiffon beehive hat. Her flowers were pink carnations.

The couple hold degrees from Michigan State University. The new Mrs. Kilby, who is affiliated with Phi Mu National Sorority and Kappa Delta Pi Education Honorary, will teach in the Royal Oak school system.

Abby Says Mother Confused

Her Generosity's a Fault

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN DEAR ABBY: What can be done about a very generous person who knocks herself out helping others, but doesn't keep her own house clean?

Her husband works out of town and she has three children. She will leave her own children alone to stay with other children if their mother is ill. She works for church suppers. P.T.A. rummage sales and is always selling tickets for good causes.

She will run errands or even do the laundry for her neighbors—but her own house is a mess. She cooked an elaborate holiday dinner for a motherless family in her black and later we learned her own children ate tuna sandwiches. How do you set a big-hearted person like that straight without hurting her feelings? A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: You can't "set her straight"—but you can try to understand her. I don't mean to discredit your "big-hearted" friend, but her kind of "generosity" is misguided.

She "knocks herself out" for friends and neighbors because she thrives on the applause, thanks and reputation for helping others.

If her own family does without, it doesn't bother her. A truly "generous" person gives her best to her family first. And if there is any time and energy to spare—she extends it to others.

DEAR ABBY: Exactly what is a flirt?

"TOUGH" DEAR "TOUGH": A flirt is someone who advertises something she has no intention of delivering.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 19 I married a man who was 27, and we were so much in love we never thought we would have any problems. We have been married two years and I am miserable.

He is a professional man, and I never got past the ninth grade. He is always correcting my English and has even suggested I go back to school and graduate.

Abby, I feel that he thinks I am not good enough for him. If he loved me as I was, why is he ashamed of me now? What should I do?

MISERABLE DEAR MISERABLE: Get in touch with your public education system and resume your schooling where you quit. It can be done by mail, or in evening classes, with other adults.

Your husband loves you, or he wouldn't encourage you to graduate. There is no shame in not knowing—only in refusing to learn.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SALLY: A young lady should not accept gifts of intimate apparel from a young man. And the article you mention is intimate.

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Getting married? For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif.

So, Here Comes That Diet Again

Summer Brings Out the Bulges

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Editor's Note: "No woman ever looks so fat to herself, or dislikes overweight so much as she does in the spring," says Josephine Lowman. Because Mrs. Lowman realizes most women feel this way, she brings her Nine-Day Reducing Diet to readers each year at this time. The menus appearing each day will be for the following day, so dieters may shop for necessary items.)

If your figure isn't quite like you meant to have it for the Easter parade, and your outfit was uncomfortable, maybe it was because you have gained 5 or 10 pounds.

These few pounds can make such a difference! Well, Easter is a thing of the past now but summer soon will be here, and with it will come more revealing garments, play clothes and swim suits.

Each spring thousands of women become aware of pounds they have gained during the winter and lose them with my 9-Day Reducing Diet. If you want to get ready for summer and have only 5 to 10 pounds to lose, you can complete the job in just nine days. Any woman can stick to a diet for that long when she knows what results to expect.

Each day in this column, starting today and continuing for nine days, I will give you the menus for the following day. Here is your diet for tomorrow:

Spring Fever Brings Same Old Thoughts

By RUTH MILLETT

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

What is it about spring—

That makes a woman feel she can't rest comfortably until the garage and attic have had a thorough going over?

That makes a man suddenly decide he has to clean out his fishing tackle box?

That makes school children spend more time looking out of windows than at the blackboard?

That makes a woman wish she could redo her whole house?

That prompts a man to get a burr haircut, buy a loud sports shirt, and start prying little sports cars?

That sets husbands and wives to looking through travel folders or seed catalogues?

That sends a woman to her beauty shop with the plaintive cry, "You've got to give me a different hairdo. I'm sick of wearing my hair the same old way!"

That makes almost any woman—regardless of what she weighs—decide she has to lose 10 pounds?

That makes a woman suddenly bored with every single thing in her wardrobe?

That makes even the most ardent clubwoman wonder if she isn't spending too much of her time in meetings?

That makes it possible for so many wives to persuade their husbands to spend Sunday afternoons looking at new houses?

That makes yard work seem so much more appealing than housework?

That makes the gardener so certain that this time HE is going to win in his yearly battle against weeds, bugs, and blight?

That makes college boys dream up such stunts as seeing how many of them can crowd into a telephone booth or the lower bunk of bunk beds?

Wings Need Victory on Chicago Stadium Ice

Bassen to Stay in Goal Tonight Against Hawks

Cup Series Now Even at One Victory Each; Pronovost Out

CHICAGO (U)—Detroit's patched up Red Wings hope to gain the upper hand against the Chicago Black Hawks tonight in their "score first and win" Stanley Cup Playoff series.

The team which has scored first also has won in the championship showdown which is tied at once game and resumes in Chicago Stadium tonight.

Boosted by their 3-1 triumph over the Hawks in Detroit Saturday night, the Red Wings realize they must win in Chicago if they hope to grab the cup because Chicago has the advantage of playing four games at home in the best-of-seven series goes the distance.

Red Wing coach Sid Abel was in high spirits last night when the Red Wings arrived in town following a rough flight from Detroit. "We have to win in one in Chicago and there's no time like the present," he said. "We've had to do things before and we've come through. It was the same story in Detroit Saturday, we had to win."

"We might be out of it if we had lost," continued Abel, "I mean coming to Chicago and being behind 2-0 might have killed off all the spirit and fight the club has been building up."

Goalie Terry Sawchuk and defenseman Marcel Pronovost both made the trip with the Red Wings. Sawchuk, who injured his shoulder in the first period of the first game which Chicago won 3-2, is ready but might not start since Hank Bassen has filled in brilliantly.

Pronovost has an injured ankle and probably will not be used. The Hawks, somewhat befuddled by Detroit's run-and-shoot tactics, hope to regain the class and power they displayed in the first period of the opening game when they scored three goals and then hung on for the triumph.

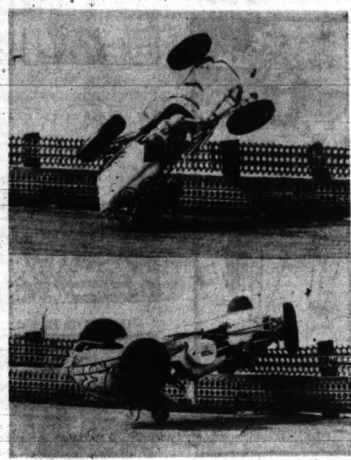

Chicago also has been experiencing difficulty with veteran star Gordie Howe who, according to the Hawks, never seems to take a rest. Howe has failed to score in the series but he has set up three goals, broken up numerous plays, worked the power plays, assisted on lines other than his own and killed penalties.

And just as flustering to the Chicagoans has been the inability to take advantage of their edge in weight.

"That better skelter attack of theirs (Detroit's) is throwing us off," said Hawk coach Rudy Pilous. "The adjustment is simple. We have to stop chasing them. If each guy sticks to his position we'll break it up. We've got a better balanced club than they have."

SOME AIR PLEASE — Miss Eleanor Slatoff of Waterford gets some help from YMCA Scuba Instructor Bill Jackson (center) and from Don Mastia his assistant (left) at the YMCA pool where classes in scuba diving start today. Interested students can still register for the course by calling the Pontiac YMCA.

AND ONLY A CUT LIP — Bobby Marshman of Potomac, Pa., suffered chafe and only a cut lip when his car smashed into the rail during the 38th lap of the season's first race at the Trenton (N. J.) Speedway. The bottom photo would make it appear that Marshman could have been crushed. The 100 mile race was won by Eddie Sachs of Center Valley, Pa.

Mock Attacks Halted by AF

Fighter Pilots Ordered to Stop Until Missile Tragedy Is Solved

GRANTS, N. M. (AP)—The Air Force has ordered fighter pilots to stop making practice attacks on other airplanes until it finds out how a Maverick missile knocked a B52 bomber out of the sky.

Three crewmen were killed Friday when the B52 crashed and exploded after an air-to-air Sidewinder missile broke loose from an F100 fighter and hit one of the bomber's right jet engines.

The fighter was making a run at the bomber when the accident occurred. In Washington Sunday the Air Force announced suspension of all practice intercepts.

Five of the bomber's crew men escaped. Three were picked up within hours after the accident. The other two were not found until Sunday.

SURVIVE BLIZZARD
Capt. Ray C. Ouel, 28, Logan, Ohio, the bomber's copilot, and Ssgt. Manuel C. Mieras, 29, crew chief from Flagstaff, Ariz., suffered through a blizzard that dropped temperatures to 10 degrees and produced winds of 40 miles per hour.

Nonetheless, a military hospital said their conditions were good.

Mieras, who broke a leg when he fell from the ground, sustained a crutch from a tree limb and hobbled to an abandoned sheepherder's hut. He found a deck of cards and spent the time playing "one-handed pinocle—I was sure I was going to win on it."

Ouel and Mieras, who bailed out at 35,000 feet, were found at widely separated spots in the Mt. Taylor area northeast of here. Ouel suffered a broken vertebrae.

Diesel S-P Trucks Ist of Type in U.S.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Studebaker-Packard Corp. will begin production this June of diesel-powered medium duty trucks, according to L. E. Minkel, vice president of marketing for the firm.

Minkel said the truck will be the first of its type in the U.S. and that they will hit the truck field like compact cars affected the auto market. The vehicles will range up to 41,000 pounds gross combination weight, he said.

Frank T. Corcoran, sales manager of the S-P Truck Division, said the four cylinder engines are designed to run as far as 30,000 miles without overhaul. The engines are being manufactured by Detroit Diesel Co.

2-Year Probation Plus $250 Costs in Homicide Case

Probation for two years and $250 court costs was the sentence handed out this morning to a 37-year-old West Bloomfield Township man whose car collided with another in May 1959 killing of a young Pontiac couple.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams imposed the sentence on Heronimus Soleatus Ben, of 5383 Elder St. As he was awaiting trial for manslaughter in the May 13 deaths of Leo R. Collins, 20, and his wife Marie, 19, of 854 Cedar St., Ben last month appeared before Judge Adams and pleaded guilty to a second count of negligent homicide.

He had stood mute to the first charge. The Collins couple was killed, and three others injured, one critically, in a two-car, head-on collision on Williams Lake Road just north of Cooley Lake Road in Waterford Township. Ben, with a bad driving record, police said, was one of those injured.

A witness said Ben's car was speeding and a deputy said Ben admitted drinking before the accident. A test, however, would not have been sufficient grounds to prove intoxication to win the manslaughter case against Ben. Prosecutor George F. Taylor said when offering to reduce the charge.

Asks for More State Students

Says Universities Must Cut Costs and Admit Michigan Applicants

MIDLAND (AP)—The chairman of the State Senate Education Committee proposed today that tax-supported universities be compelled to accept Michigan students in preference to out-of-state students in order to keep costs down.

Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland, said "there are more than 7,500 students from other states at the University of Michigan. Each is costing the taxpayers about $800 a year because of our low tuition fees."

Francis said in a statement that if costs become such that qualified graduates of Michigan high schools are denied admission to the state's tax-supported colleges and universities, "We will provide by law that preference must be given to Michigan's young people before the institutions can welcome students from across the country."

In opposition to Gov. Swainson's committee has suggested raises in tuition fees of $20 a year for Michigan students and $150 a year for those from other states.

American farms produced about one-third of the value of their lands and equipment in 1950, as compared with only about one-sixth of the value they were producing in 1900.

Piggy Back Hit by Union Head

Hoffa Blames Truck Jobless on Railroad Competition

More than 200 members of the Volunteer Truckers Association of Pontiac yesterday heard Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa declare unemployment in the trucking industry stems from railroad competition.

In a nationwide telephone hookup, Hoffa urged local groups to fight so-called "piggy back" rate cuts by railroads by endorsing corrective legislation in Congress. Specifically, support was sought for Senate bill 1187 and House bill 3937, both introduced this session.

Hoffa's talk was carried to meetings across the nation. In Pontiac, the talk was heard at Teamster Local 614 hall, 1410 S. Telegraph Road.

Leann Harrison, president of Local 614, is scheduled to address women of the association tonight at P. J. Rottell Driveway Co., 240 E. Walton Blvd.

Wants Johnson to Be Head of Space Council

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy today asked Congress to approve legislation which would make Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson chairman of the National Aeronautics and Space Council.

Under present law the President is chairman of the council. Kennedy had announced while he still was president-elect that he planned to have Johnson head the council.

Before he became vice president, Johnson headed the Senate Space Committee.

In letters to Johnson as the Senate's present officer and to House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., Kennedy said:

"I believe that the vice president can contribute importantly, and give me valuable counsel and assistance with respect to space programs and that the chairmanship of the National Aeronautics and Space Council will materially enhance his opportunity and capability to render maximum service."

Victim of Theft in City Angered Over Method

How the theft was committed angered a Pontiac man as much as the theft itself, according to Pontiac police.

Gerry Mansfield, 21, 117 Putnam St., reported to officers Saturday that two pairs of trousers with a combined value of $15 had been taken from his car in front of his home.

The thief cut a hole in the top of his 1959 Pontiac to get into the car, Mansfield said.

New Polaris Sub to Take Out Official Groups

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Polaris submarine Theodore Roosevelt today began a two-day run as an excursion ship before getting final checkouts for combat patrol duty.

Scheduled to take half-day submerged trips today were groups of congressmen and newsmen. The nuclear-powered craft Tuesday will take aboard a delegation from the White House, Navy officials and their guests.

The Roosevelt successfully fired a Polaris from beneath the sea last Thursday to complete a series of four test firings. Two were successful.

Detroit Boy Home Following Abduction

DETROIT (AP)—Seven-year-old Gary Sharp, an apparent abductor's victim, was safe at home today after an overnight Toledo visit and police rescue.

Officers of both Detroit and the Ohio city meanwhile compared notes in an effort to find the man who Gary said took him for the 50-mile ride Sunday night on the promise of "a dollar" for his help in moving some house furniture.

Gary never got the dollar. There was no furniture to be moved. The man disappeared in Toledo. But Gary was unharmed.

Before police found Gary hiding and cold in a doorway, 100 Detroit officers had searched for him.

Gary, one of two children of Delmer Lee Sharp, 22, a bakery worker, vanished after he had gone out to play Sunday.

Pick Spanish Youth for Boys' Club Honor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—It was six years ago when tragedy struck the home of 11-year-old Richard Lopez in an El Paso, Tex., slum. His father died, leaving him to help his working mother care for three younger brothers.

Richard went to the White House at noon today, where he met President Kennedy and received acclamation as the nation's finest example of juvenile decency.

The 17-year-old high school senior of Spanish and Mexican descent was chosen Boy of the Year from among more than 600,000 members of the Boys' Clubs of America.

Fiery Behan Better, Would Quit Canada

TORONTO (UPI)—Playwright Brendan Behan, his Irish temper up, climbed out of a sickbed last night and told Canada off.

The fiery Dubliner, recovering from two alcoholic seizures suffered two weeks ago, declared his one desire is to get out of this "little country."

Behan said the reception he got in Toronto left him feeling like a mixture of Alfred Dreyfus and Oscar Wilde.

"The attitude here seems to be, 'If you don't like it here you can leave' and that's what I want to do," he said. "I want to be let out. I have no desire to bolster the sagging cultural economy of this country."

Two English surveyors, Charles Mason and Jeremiah Dixon, worked from 1783 to 1787 to set up the Mason-Dixon Line, which ended a boundary dispute between the Calverts of Maryland and the Penns of Pennsylvania.

Slate Reports

on 'V' Drive

Fund Division to Give

$500,000 Goal

Report meetings will be the main order of business this week in the Pontiac YMCA expansion program campaign, Robert M. Critch-field, general chairman of the $500,000 "V" drive, said today.

Four groups are scheduled for reports at 4 p.m. Tuesday. These are the Advance Gifts, Special

Gifts "A", Medical and Osteopathic divisions.

Special Gifts "B", Lawyers and the Business and Professional

Groups have been asked for reports at 4 p.m.

Tuesday.

Both report meetings will be at

"Y" Building, 131 Mt. Clemens St.

"We have been given a challenging task by the General Motor

Corp. gift of $500,000," Critch-field said. "It is now up to our citizens to close the gap of $400,

000 in order to meet the $500,000 goal and make the expanded

YMCA a reality to the advantage of the community."

Critchfield emphasized that four tax years were allowed for payment of gifts and stated: "This method should encourage contributions commensurate with the magnitude of the project."

2nd Burglar Team

Finds Slim Pickings

Burglars paid a pair of visits over the weekend to the offices of the Jerome Motor Sales Co., 280

S. Saginaw St.

The first break-in was discovered Saturday morning. The intruders, who broke a window to enter the building, got an undetermined amount of change from five vending machines.

The other burglary was discovered this morning. Again breaking a window to get in, the burglars found the loot slim.

Their targets were the vending machines, the coin boxes of which were almost completely empty because of the earlier intruders' work.

Adenauer Due Tuesday

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President

Kennedy prepared today for conferences with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, the second western leader to visit Washington within a week. Adenauer was scheduled to arrive tomorrow.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—

Tornado winds damaged a number of homes in the northeastern

Florida and injured six persons aboard an Eastern Air Lines plane coming in for a landing.

Three women were hospitalized with bruises and abrasions. Three others among the 47 aboard the EAL flight from Miami to St.

Louis, Mo., received minor injuries when the twin-engine plane encountered turbulent weather

over Jacksonville Beach, 15 miles

M.P.H. WINDS

Those hospitalized were Catherine Martin of Haddonfield, N.J.;

Mrs. F. P. Avis of Providence,

R. I., and Wilma Kenyon of Yel-linton, Mich.

On the ground, winds up to 60 miles an hour in gusts demolished an house at Jacksonville Beach, damaged another and smashed

plate glass windows in a service station. Several roads were damaged, power disrupted and trees uprooted. Rain in a two-hour period totaled 1.6 inches.

What residents described as a "baby tornado" struck Elkton, 11 miles southwest of St. Augustine.

The sheriff's office said two homes and a church were destroyed and many trees flattened, but no injuries were reported.

nually.

May Beam City Film

Around the World

The Pontiac Story of Progress and Promise" is going to Washington, D.C., next month and may be beamed around the world later.

John W. Hiringer, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, said that Sen. Philip

A. Hart, D-Mich., had expressed interest in the chamber-sponsored film and wants the U.S.

Information Service to view it.

"Sen. Hart sees the possibility that the film may be of use to the information service, to be shown around the world as an example of a typical industrial city in America," said Hiringer.

Created as a centennial sidelight, the film is already scheduled to be shown to several congressional groups on invitation of

Rep. William S. Broomfield, R.

Oakland County.

The showings will take place

early in May while a delegation from the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce is in Washington for the annual meeting of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

The 26-minute, sound-color film is to be shown to the Jackson

Independence home March 12.

Justice of the Peace William H. Stamp bound the case over to Circuit Court for April 24.

Sheriff's detectives said Rowley was struck repeatedly apparently with a wooden chair and a shoe fitted with a steel clasp belonging to Young. Both items were found near Rowley's battered body.

Mrs. Young, mother of a 17-month-old girl, told detectives that she did not see her husband beating Rowley, but had fled the cabin at 6761 Andersonville Road when her husband went berserk.

She said the men had been drinking together since earlier in the day. Young, 47½, Lotus Drive, has insisted he remembers nothing that occurred at the cabin.

Mrs. Young had a neighbor of

husband's beatings.

Deputies arrived at the cabin to find Young's baby crying because her father fallen and Row-

head and face, lying unconscious nearby.

He never regained consciousness, but succumbed to his injuries

four days later at Pontiac General Hospital.

Phil Crosby's Spouse

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Phillip

Crosby, one of crooner Bing's

wife, Sandra Drummond, are back together.

Mrs. Crosby said they agreed after a family dinner at Bing's

their separation.

The couple, married in Las Vegas Sept. 25, 1958, split last month and she filed for separate maintenance, charging cruelty.

She said she is dropping the action. They are parents of two children.

Two Weekend Fires

Quickly Extinguished

Two weekend fires, both quickly

an estimated $400 damage.

One of the fires, at the home of

Eric Price, 171 W. Russell St.,

started when a sudden gust of wind blew a tablecloth onto a lighted gas stove. Damage was

The other blaze was at the of-

Co., 41 N. Parker St. Damage was $250.

Firemen said the flames were started by discarding a cigarette

in a wastepaper container.

Howled on Only Two Days

March Purred Like a Kitten

The roar of the March lion was more than its bite—most of the time. Compared to that notorious March of a year ago, the lion didn't even roar this year. He purred.

Last month Pontiac area residents were treated to 15 completely sunny days. On three others, the sun came out after rain showers—and stayed out for most of those days.

Rain? That was food for conversation on only five days. Cloudy? Only three days.

And snow? Pontiac residents, hunkering back to 1960, shivered at the thought as the month began. But all the snow the area saw was on two successive days—March 8 and 9 when a half inch fell in each 24-hour period.

A few flurries on two other days completed the month's snow news. With that type of performance, March maintained its reputation as an unpredictable performer. Especially if this March and last year's are set side by side.

The winters of both years were downright kind—until March, and there the comparison ended.

For March in 1960 was the howling, blowing, wettest, coldest and miserablest month of them all. The March lion that year dumped snow like sand from a hopper, bit everybody's toes with rockbottom temperatures (a low of 4 was recorded) and buffeted the area like a giant windbag.

That's not to say that the March lion was in hibernation all 31 days of 1961. He can still put on a show—or he proved a couple of times.

March 8 and 14 were the days he picked to howl. The earlier date saw freezing rain turning to snow, making driving hazardous throughout Oakland County.

But those days weren't typical. March was a welcome visitor this year.

Three teen-agers took a plunge into Sylvan Lake March 6—a chilling experience, they said afterward, but one they would not have dared so early last year. (In 1960, they waited until April 15 before venturing into the water.)

Spring's entrance came on a cloudy day—but a few days later the mercury climbed to the month's high of 76 on March 27. That was the highest temperature of the year through March.

And the month's low wasn't really very low—12 above on March 10. (The sun came out later and up went the mercury. Next day's low was 14 degrees higher.)

The average high temperature last month was 53.6 degrees, the average low 30.4, and the average median 37.7.

If the weather last month was March madness, Pontiac residents made the most of it.

April Snowfall Buries Spring

By G. T. TRUMBULL JR.

Ah, sweet spring.
What spring?
It never falls here in the Water Wonderland. Let the yellow and blue crocuses poke their heads above ground, give the green tulip leaves their first vision of light, let the golfers get itchy, attack the crabgrass or fertilize the lawn, and whamoo, spring pulls a double-cross on you.

Looking out their windows at the white covering—"I wonder how it will affect my crabgrass killer"—over a sheet of lawn just barely turning green, housewives today thought twice about getting the winter clothes set for storage.

For sure, some of these might be needed in Detroit tomorrow as the new Detroit Tigers play host to the Cleveland Indians in the season's opener.

Save the car muffs Ma, I might need them.

At the same time, hubby got a chuckle when he thought of the golf date he was supposed to have Sunday.

And a neighbor's mums probably took an early licking with the surprise white stuff. She didn't really know Michigan well and uncovered the plants. The temptation was just too great Saturday.

BACK TO THE SLEDS

She wanted to scamper out fast Sunday when the flurries appeared to be more than flurries. But no use. Hubby had gone and done it. He had destroyed what the wife had used to protect the mums with over the winter.

Kids saw another chance for sledding, although it appeared mighty thin. Dad cursed. He thought he had dragged the rusty runners over the gravel driveway for the last time.

It wasn't too uncommon either for Dad to search high and low this morning for the windshield scraper. An equally frustrating search went on for Dad's overshoes.

There was lots of talk about Florida and California, but it was just talk. It happens about this time every year in our great state.

California Town Picks Up Pieces After Bad Quake

HOLLISTER, Calif. (AP)—This little county seat town 90 miles south of San Francisco was still picking up today after the heaviest earthquake in its history.

"I've lived in Hollister all my life," said San Benito County Coroner Eugene Patterson, 57, "and this was the worst quake I've seen." There were no casualties.

In addition to extensive but relatively minor damage, Hollister had to contend Sunday with thousands of curious motorists who poured into this community of 6,071 people which frequently gets shaken up by tremors along the San Andreas fault beneath it.

Roberts Pledges to Help MSUO

Will Join With Block Pushing for More Funds to Aid Higher Education

Sen Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, promised help for financially hard-pressed Michigan warred of the core of the problem: Where will the money come from.

He said he will join with a group of "young moderate" Republicans in the Senate after tonight's session in Lansing in an effort to seek means of increasing the state appropriation for higher education.

Chancellor D. B. Varner of MSUO said Saturday that the appropriation threatened "disaster" for the 11-year-old institution, because it would be receiving but $12,300 more than the $879,000 in a year when it planned to add a third—junior—class for the first time.

"It is rather obvious that you cannot have a school operate with two classes and have a shift to three with a fraction of 1 percent in the appropriation at the same time," Roberts said.

"It just can't be done," he added.

Varner was to join with members of the MSUO Board of Trustees this afternoon in a meeting with Gov. John B. Swainson, Swainson, state officials and educators have raised a storm of protest over the $462,200,018 austerity budget for higher education in 1961-62 in Michigan.

35 Anti-Castro Pilots Answer Call to Arms

Head for Secret Camp to Prepare Second War of Liberation

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—More than 35 anti-Castro airplane pilots were reported headed for a secret training camp today to heed a call by the Cuban Revolutionary Council for a "second war of liberation."

The pilots, including some formerly associated with Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista, reportedly left Miami Sunday for a secret training camp, probably in Central America.

Family members and friends said the men were stripped of their clothing and identification, given uniforms and told to say their goodbyes before being spirited out of the United States.

It was the first time so-called "Batistianos" were reported to have joined forces against Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Those with Batista ties previously had been excluded from major revolutionary organizations.

The call for a "second war of liberation" was sounded by Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, president of the anti-Castro Cuban Revolutionary Council in New York. He said his country is occupied by "a foreign army at the service of those who betrayed the revolution."

Miro Cardona refused to discuss any timetable for possible landings on Cuban soil or strength of the invasion forces. He said when these forces become active inside Cuba they will number six million, embracing "all of Cuba."

In a nationwide TV talk Sunday, Castro repeated earlier warnings that insurgent bands and expeditionary forces invading Cuba would be liquidated. He did not refer directly to the latest call to arms against his regime. Castro told Cubans that despite a U.S. economic blockade they would not lack the essentials of life. He said Cuba is the only nation in the Western Hemisphere that can guarantee food, clothing, medicine and education for all its people.

ADVISER DEFEATS

In Montreal, Canada, Dr. Oscar Abello, a legal adviser to the Castro government who was defending a breach of contract action involving ships bought while Batista was in power, said he has defeated and plans to join anti-Castro forces.

Public to Help Pick Queen

To Seek 'Miss Centennial'

The search for "Miss Centennial" began in one week.

Representatives of more than 325 Pontiac area business and service clubs, churches and community organizations have been invited to hear details next Monday night at Elks Temple, launching the biggest contest in Pontiac area history.

Other groups, inadvertently missing from the centennial's mailing list, are invited to send representatives also, said Mrs. S. V. Sekles, contest chairman.

The prize for the young lady who will reign over the June 17-24 celebration is a new Tempeset.

There will be other prizes for the 10 runners-up who will constitute the queen's court. Mrs. Sekles said.

There will not be of the bathing beauty variety, but rather will be based on such factors as poise, Geographically, the contest will be wide open and the contest welcoming candidates from the entire area under the sponsorship of any established organization with regular membership, the announcement indicated.

Details about age limits and other aspects of the contest were held up for Monday's meeting.

But it was indicated that the public will have a hand in choosing the queen and the contest will be tied to the sale of tickets to the centennial spectacle, June 15-24 in Warner Stadium.

They'll play an important part in the centennial parade June 17 and the nightly goings-on at Warner Stadium.

The elaborate costumes for these roles will be supplied to the winners.

For the queen, there'll be a full-length gold satin gown, gold brocade sash train and gold crown.

His Hour Draws Near

SETS AND WAITS — Adolf Eichmann sits at a desk in his cell at the fortress near Haifa in Israel as he awaits trial on charges of complicity in the mass execution of millions of Jews during World II. The trial opens Tuesday in Jerusalem.

Trial Convenes Tuesday

Survivors of Nazi Terror to Face Eichmann in Court

JERUSALEM (AP)—Adolf Eichmann today neared the fateful hour that will bring him face to face in court with Jewish survivors of the Nazi extermination camps—including some who claim to have suffered personally at his hands.

Eichmann was chief of the Gestapo's Jewish Affairs Section during World War II. He goes to trial before a special panel of three Israeli judges in Jerusalem Tuesday morning.

Israel, in a massive, 15-count indictment, accuses him of "crimes against the Jewish people and crimes against humanity." Death is the maximum penalty.

The second paragraph of the indictment reads:

"The accused, together with others during the period, 1939 to 1945, caused the killing of millions of Jews in his capacity as the person responsible for the physical extermination of the Jews, known as 'the final solution of the Jewish problem.'"

Part of the support for this charge comes from 242 papers, letters and reports captured in the Foreign Office of Nazi Germany during the war.

Fighter Pilots Ordered to Stop Until Missile Tragedy Is Solved

GRANTS, N.M. (AP)—The Air Force has ordered fighter pilots to stop making practice attacks on other airplanes until it finds out how a missile mysteriously killed a B-52 bomber out of the sky.

Three crewmen were killed Friday when the B-52 crashed and exploded after an air-to-air Sidewinder missile hit it and hit one of the bomber's jet engines.

The fighter was making a run at the bomber when the accident occurred in Washington Sunday the Air Force announced suspension of all practice intercepts.

Five of the bomber's crew escaped. Three were picked up within hours after the accident. The other two were not found until Sunday.

SURVIVE BLIZZARD

Capt. Ray C. Obel, 28, Logan, Ohio, the bomber's copilot, and Sgt. Mace, 21, were killed. Crew chief, from Springfield, Ariz., suffered through a blizzard that dropped temperatures to 10 degrees and produced winds of 65 miles per hour.

Nonetheless, a military hospital said their conditions were good.

Mieras, who broke a leg when he hit the ground, fashioned a crutch from a tree limb and hobbled to an abandoned shepherd's hut. He found a deck of cards and spent the time playing "one-handed pinocle—I was sure I was going to win on it."

Obel and Mieras, who bailed out at 35,000 feet, were found at widely separated spots in the Mt. Taylor area northeast of here. Obel suffered a broken vertebrae.

JFK's Message Also to Propose Business Aid

May Ask Withholding on Stock Profits; to Study Foreign Earnings

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy is preparing to ask Congress to raise taxes on dividends received by some 3.5 million stockholders and to withhold taxes on dividends and interest.

A presidential tax message which may be ready next week also was certain to propose investment incentives for business in the form of tax savings.

White House, Treasury, Commerce and State Department aides were still trying to agree on an administration position on taxation of income from abroad.

The foreign tax question was almost as thorny an issue as the 7½ percent cut of depletion allowance—on which the President's message was expected to say little.

As for taxes on foreign income, one good possibility was that Kennedy would ask Congress to narrow or eliminate the present deduction of taxes on earnings left abroad.

ON TAX HAVENS

Such a tightening up, some experts said, also would remedy the problem of tax havens—countries in which American-controlled firms are taxed lightly or not at all by foreign governments.

The Treasury wants to gain as much revenue through the dividend, interest and foreign income tax proposals as it may lose through the investment incentives.

A rough estimate was that the new gains and losses would each be about $1 billion.

Kennedy was reported ready to say that overall tax reform and reduction should be considered in the future, not 1961. He also was asked for extension of corporate profits and excise levies due to expire June 30.

Principal emphasis of the presidential message was expected to be on the investment incentive. Kennedy has expressed concern that America's "aging industrial plant" is at a disadvantage in worldwide competition for markets.

Guidance Clinic Fund Awaits Tuesday Vote

The board of supervisors will vote tomorrow on giving the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic the $26,857 it needs to keep its Birmingham branch open, and at the same time urge creation of a committee to evaluate future financial contributions of the county to the clinic.

A usually reliable spokesman for the county confirmed this today as the board prepared to meet to put the lid on the clinic's 1961 financial problems, and receive copies of the county's tentative 1962 budget of $14,775,941.

Before the 85 supervisors get around to voting on the clinic's request for the deficiency appropriation, it will elect a chairman and vice chairman for the coming year.

Delos Hamlin, 46-year-old retired Farmington businessman, and chairman since 1956, is expected to be succeeded by a sixth consecutive term, and Arno L. Hulet, Bloomfield Township supervisor, is expected to be accorded a second term as his vice chairman.

David Levinson, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee which must make the recommendation on the clinic funds to the full board, refused today to confirm or deny the report of the spokesman.

"We'll meet in the morning to decide our action," he said.

A member of Levinson's committee, who wished his name withheld, did, however, confirm that this will be the recommendation. He also predicted that the board would approve it.

The board tomorrow will simply receive copies of next year's operating budget—already trimmed some $453,000 since it was passed out to Levinson's committee last month—and study it at home in preparation for approval for tax preparation purposes only at a April 17 meeting.

Formal approval comes in the fall.

In preparation for what the special study committee might recommend, Levinson's committee has taken the $35,000 allocated for the clinic out of the tentative budget and increased the county's contingent fund by that amount.

The clinic asked establishment of the committee, which is expected to be appointed by Hamlin, when it urged that it receive the emergency funds at a March 22 hearing before Levinson's committee.

Foreign Auto Men Meet

DETROIT (AP)—Thirty-one delegates from 12 European countries were present today for the opening of a three-day meeting of the International Bureau of Automobile Manufacturers. The three-day gathering marks the first time the 42-year-old European organization ever has held its semiannual meeting in the United States. Delegates represent their national auto associations rather than their own companies.

Riot Over Singing Ban in Greenwich Village

NEW YORK (AP)—Folk-singing fans and police turned Greenwich Village's Washington Square into an eight-acre wrestling ring Sunday in a shoving, bruising battle over a ban on impromptu songfests.

When the tumult and the shouting had died after about three hours, 10 demonstrators—including novelist, Harold L. Humes—were under arrest and several nursed assorted scratches and bruises.

One policeman suffered a bit in hand. He said a dog did it.

Nine of the 10 arrested were released in bail on charges of holding a demonstration in the park without a permit.

Five of them also were tagged with an additional charge of disorderly conduct.

The tenth defendant, Louis Pagliaroli, remained in a cell on charges of felonious assault on a policeman and of interfering with an arrest.

PROTESTING BAN

The demonstrators showed up at the park at 2 p.m., protesting a ruling by Parks Commissioner Newbold Morris against Sunday afternoon musicals there.

The get-togethers are a tradition that villagers have kept alive for almost two decades. But Morris says activities of the itinerant musicians make it impossible to turn the park into an attractive area.

Police met the demonstrators and suggested that they take their instruments to the amphitheater in East River Park. Morris previously had suggested that the singers apply for permits to use the amphitheater, which seats 2,000.

WON'T STRING ALONG WITH SING ALONG — A Sunday afternoon sing-along in New York's Washington Square Park turned into a slugfest. Greenwich Village folk-singing fans, shown here clustered around a group of vocalists, clashed with police in protest against a ban on impromptu song gatherings. Seven persons were arrested.

U.S. to Boost NATO Force

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy pledged today the United States will strengthen its conventional military forces in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and also maintain an effective nuclear weapons capability.

In apparent response to stated fears that nuclear war might be set off unnecessarily by trigger-happy response to small-scale aggression, the President stressed U.S. determination to keep all its own forces under high command control at all times.

The aim, Kennedy said, is to make deterrent strength "do what we wish, neither more nor less."

Kennedy made his pledges in an address prepared for a meeting of the NATO military committee.

"NATO needs to be able to respond to any conventional attack with conventional resistance which will be effective as long as long enough, in Gen. Norstad's phrase, to force a pause," Kennedy said.

He was referring to Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme commander of NATO forces in Europe.

Charred British Liner Sinks From Salvagers

MANAMA, Bahrain (AP)—The burned wreck of the British liner Darya sank today as salvagers were trying to beach her in the Persian Gulf. Hope died for 175 passengers and crewmen missing in the shark-infested gulf.

A British government spokesman said 363 survivors were accounted for, and that some of the missing might have been picked up by rescue ships that had not yet reported. But it was doubtful that this could account for many.

The 5,000-ton Darya had 740 passengers and crewmen aboard when she was hit by a Soviet submarine on Saturday night. The ship was hit during a storm. The Darya kept going but at 4:43 a.m. an explosion in the engine room wrecked the liner and fire broke out. The flames spread rapidly through the ship.

Braving explosions, fire-fighting parties from the British and U.S. navies boarded the blazing liner and reported Sunday they had the fire under control.

The ship's owners, the British India Steamship Co., said the British Navy had planned to start towing her to the Persian Gulf island of Bahrain today "but a deterioration in the condition of the Darya overnight" caused the decision to try to beach her. She sank about 15 miles off the Oman coast of the Arabian Peninsula.

A British government spokesman said most of the 740 persons aboard were Indians and other Asians. Scores jumped in panic into the stormy gulf waters infested with sharks.

into the state treasury, that it "all very well to have the boards of the different institutions yell for more money, but it's not there."

He termed "overly optimistic" Gov. Swann's revenue estimate of $477 million. Roberts put it closer to $460 million based on actual income for January and February.

Roberts said continuing the state's $35 million in so-called net income on tobacco, beer and other items, including $10 million from a tax on telephone and telegraph leases, or some form of a state income tax were two of the alternatives he sees to provide the additional revenue for the universities.

Roberts has introduced a bill in the Senate to extend the telephone tax past its expiration date of June 30.

Where the funds can be found is all of higher education, he eventually said MSUO, he said.

"What the problem we face here is that we have a governor that has recommended no increase in taxes," Roberts said.

"When he recommended the state's tax package the net income in his package was zero."

"That's two approaches to the problem, he said."

"We're willing to accept others. If there are some, except we can't appropriate more than the $20 million unless we have taxes to cover the appropriation."

Not only is he worried about funds for the schools, Roberts said the proposed slice of $3 million in mental health appropriations for the coming year also concerned him.

Young Man Sought in Boy's Abduction

DETROIT (UPI)—Police today sought a young man for questioning in the apparent abduction of a 7-year-old Detroit boy.

The boy, Gary Sharp, was last seen standing in a doorway at Toledo, Ohio, early today. He had been reported missing Sunday night by his mother.

Officers said the man apparently gave Gary to Toledo and left out of the car in the Ohio city.

Thug Pistol-Whips Man in Early Morning Theft in White Lake Twp.

A masked bandit robbed a White Lake Township bar owner of $75 and pistol-whipped his piano player early this morning, while an accomplice stood outside the bar.

The 45-year-old owner of Schooler's Bar at 10193 Highland Road, Mrs. Frances McPeck, said she and the piano player were upstairs and struck him repeatedly on the head with a bar stool when they heard a car pull up to the back of the building.

She went downstairs to investigate when a male voice called her by name from outside. When Mrs. McPeck opened the door, a man wearing a red mask over the lower part of his face and armed with a revolver said "I want your money," she told sheriff deputies.

The woman screamed as the desperado stepped inside. He screamed summoned the piano player, Harold Kinney, 47, of 1442 Iris Drive.

The armed bandit chased Kinney back upstairs, dragging Mrs. McPeck after him.

He caught up with the piano player in the apartment bathroom and struck him repeatedly on the head with the pistol butt. Kinney finally feigned unconsciousness and slumped to the floor.

While the bandit was ordering Mrs. McPeck to open the bar downstairs, Kinney started to run toward the bathroom window. He was turned back by another masked bandit waiting outside, who said "Get back in there, or I'll blow your head off."

Mrs. McPeck was fumbling in her purse for the key to the bar when the gunman suddenly snatched the $75 from her purse and fled with his accomplice in a light-colored, late-model car. They sped east on M50 as Mrs. McPeck telephoned the sheriff's department.

Deputies found a full-face plastic mask, evidently worn by the bandit who remained outside in a car, was overnight bag on the back porch. They discovered a gabardine trenchcoat and a red flannel mask worn by the other robber alongside M50, near the scene.

Mrs. McPeck described her assailant as about 5 feet 10, weighing approximately 180 pounds. The other desperado, who remained in the shadows outside, could not be described.

Dann Claims Chrysler Counting May Not Be Properly Conducted

DETROIT (UPI)—A hearing was scheduled before Federal Judge Theodore Levin today on a suit by Detroit Attorney Sol A. Dann to impound all proxies to be voted at the April 18 Chrysler Corp. shareholders meeting.

Dann filed the suit last week after Levin denied Dann's request for an order to delay the Chrysler shareholders' meeting for six months.

In his latest move aimed at ousting the Chrysler management headed by board chairman and President L. I. Oelbert, Dann said he was "apprehensive" that proxies might not be properly counted by the auto firm.

He asked that proxies and all proxy material be impounded by the court on the chance a recount might be necessary.

Dann said a recount could result "in the event it was determined that certain proxies were improperly solicited or counted."

Dann, who was restrained by federal court from soliciting proxies on a complaint filed by the Securities & Exchange Commission, charged Chrysler made "false representations" to shareholders by saying proxies would not be honored if given to opponents of management.

He also charged that Chrysler employees participating in the company stock plan were not informed of their voting rights on stock held under the program by National Bank of Detroit.

Ambulance Unit Ends Crisis

Midwest Firm Takes Over Emergency Runs in City Over Weekend

A new ambulance company began taking emergency calls for the police and fire departments over the weekend, plunging the gap in ambulance service.

Under a cooperative arrangement with the city, Midwest Ambulance Service, 372 S. Saginaw St., is operating without any city subsidy, but with assurances that it will get first crack at such city business as auto accidents and fires.

Midwest began operations on Saturday morning and during its first 72 hours handled five city calls, four stemming from auto accidents and one involving a home injury.

The first run came unexpectedly Friday when the company zipped out to White Lake Township to rescue a woman, injured in a fall, to a Pontiac hospital.

Jan Fine, Midwest manager, said the company is operating three, radio-dispatched ambulances, including two 1961 models and a 1958.

Midwest offers 24-hour-a-day service, seven days a week, he said, with crews of two men per ambulance trained in Red Cross first aid.

The company has offered its services to surrounding communities. Fine said.

Inauguration of Midwest service apparently justifies the City Commission's stand against subsidies or city-operated ambulance service.

When Superior Ambulance Service closed up shop last Feb. 24, commissioners left the city go without ambulance service more than a month in anticipation that some company would be willing to do business without a subsidy.

Although several offers were made to City Hall during that time, Midwest was the first that didn't include a subsidy to cover losses stemming from bills left unpaid by emergency victims.

Superior, claiming to have lost $3,000 in six months, went out of business after the city failed to act on its request for a subsidy.

Plan to Bring Back Discoverer Object in Wednesday Attempt

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — Scientists today watched Discoverer XXIII and waited, hopeful of recovering a capsule from it after a record four days in orbit.

The 25-foot satellite — whipping over the Poles every 94 minutes — could send back its 300-pound capsule any time now on command from the ground. But Air Force officers said they hoped to bring it back Wednesday after a record 1.5-million mile trip through space.

Weather conditions in the vast recovery area off Hawaii and the operation of the satellite itself would determine when the recovery will be attempted, officers said.

Discoverer XXIII, termed a "diagnostic" shot by the Air Force, was blasted into polar orbit Saturday from the world around its path to 108 miles above earth.

"She looks real good right now," said an officer. "They're all hoping we can pull it off after four days."

Contents of the capsule were not disclosed. The Air Force said simply that instruments aboard were designed to watch the operation of the satellite itself.

"We hope information from this shot will enable us to put these things into a more accurate orbit," said the spokesman.

GOP Club to Show Two Banned Films

Local residents will have an opportunity tomorrow to view the anti-communist films which Gov. Swann has stopped the State Police from showing.

The Waterford Township Republican Club has scheduled the films for 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the John D. Pierce Junior High School, and has opened the meeting to the public.

The films are entitled "Communism on the Map" and "Operation Abolition." No charge will be made.

Adenauer Due Tuesday

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy prepared today for conferences with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, the second western leader to visit Washington within a week. Adenauer was scheduled to arrive tomorrow.

Barbershop Harmony Week

"Sweet Adeline" is the theme song of a centennial slide set for this week by Mayor Philip E. Pontiac (above), signing an official proclamation. With Brewster are Jerry Larson (left), resident of the Pontiac Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, and Rayley Hallman, director of the SPERSQSA's Pontiac chorus. Part of a national observance, Barbershop Harmony Week in Pontiac will be climaxed by the chorus with a radio broadcast song-fest, beginning at 7 p.m. Friday on the courthouse steps in downtown Pontiac.

The Honeymoon's Nearly Over

Republican Official Rattles New Frontier

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—The traditional hundred-day "honeymoon" for a new president still has a squeak five under the strain.

An official spokesman for the committee said President Kennedy's lack of concrete accomplishment to date reminds him more of Napoleon's famed hundred days, than of Roosevelt's.

"Napoleon's led to Waterloo," he grimaced.

Feeling their oats after the spectacular showing of a Republican senatorial candidate in Texas last week, the big wheels of the Grand Old Party took a long look at the New Frontier and decided that it simply won't do.

They find little to admire on any front from the golf course to the Pentagon, and from Laos to Cuba.

LISTS OBJECTIONS

A top official who can speak for the committee has these objections to voice:

—Despite candidate Kennedy's campaign charges about a missile gap, he obviously didn't find one. When he finally sent up his new defense budget, the 5 per cent increase was mainly earmarked for the Polaris system, which was the last thing developed under President Eisenhower.

—The Kennedy administration is trying to blame the Republicans for the Laos situation, but the Soviet shift did not begin until the last days of the Eisenhower administration, when the lame duck President felt honor bound to leave the decision for action to his successor. Every day since Kennedy took office, the shift has been carrying in 30 times as many military supplies as "our side," and Kennedy has done "absolutely nothing" to stop it.

—Kennedy said during the campaign that he would "get Castro," but most U. S. newspapers this week carried pictures of Castro playing golf in Cuba. He looked confident and undisturbed.

—Democrats kept waiting about our loss of prestige around the world, but since the new administration took over the Congo is in a worse mess than before, and Lisbon has been staging anti-American riots for the first time in history.

—Kennedy was extremely critical of "summitry" and "personal diplomacy" during the campaign, but since becoming President he has held more private huddles with world leaders in a shorter period of time than any predecessor. He also criticized the too much foreign travel, but little more than two months after taking office, he has announced plans to visit French President Charles DeGaulle in Paris.

—On the domestic front, the Republican National Committee claims it is swamped with protests that the Kennedy administration is ignoring veterans' preference in filling civil service jobs. The GOP is considering appointing a committee of lawyers to investigate.

—Kennedy won a lot of votes by promising a $1.25-an-hour minimum wage bill. The one he sent up postponed such a floor until after the next Congress meets in 1962, and his Democratic-controlled House often defeated that.

STAFF SMALLER?

—The new President announced he would drastically reduce the White House staff, but the GOP can find no evidence that he has done so. Mrs. Kennedy is the only first lady in history to have her own press secretary, besides a personal and social secretary, and she has further added a curator for the executive mansion.

It is on the subject of golf, however, that the GOP spokesman really sizzles. Says he:

"We Republicans think that any President should be able to get whatever recreation he needs. The trouble is that Kennedy repeatedly let his golf playing during the campaign."

Window Responds on Its Own to Weather

NEW YORK (UPI) — An experimental window for homes closes automatically when it rains, snows or a strong wind blows upon it.

The window was developed by Republic Steel, but it is not commercially available as yet.

White clover, a three-leaf plant that is good for cattle, grows all winter.

Caning, Weaving to Highlight Antique Show on April 18-20

Vivid hand-sewn quilts, coverlets and colorful calico prints will adorn the balcony overlooking Stevens Hall for All Saints Episcopal Church's 9th annual antique show and sale April 18-20.

Women of the congregation, attired in old-time finery, will be stationed at the various antique displays on the main floor, surrounded by arrangements of fragrant spring flowers.

The photographs on today's women's page were taken in the Henderson Street home of Mrs. Whitney Prall. Mrs. Robert E. Nienstedt, publicity chairman for the gala event, said, "Mrs. Prall's home is a veritable storehouse of treasures."

Antiques similar to Mrs. Prall's silver water tankards, candle holders, marble top table, crocks, egg stands, spoon holder and beaded fringe shades, purchased at Tiffany's in New York, will be on sale at the show.

SOCIETY MEMBER

Mrs. Prall is a member of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society and the Oakland County Historical Foundation, organized to support the Winesap Home project.

Among dealers responding to the church's request for a listing of their wares is Sorta Quaint Antiques of Detroit which offers candy sticks in 20 old-time flavors, including coltsfoot, sassafras, anise, horehound and cranberry.

Old fashioned apple suckers in licorice pipes, rock candy, bacon strips, jaw breakers, as well as homemade creamery fudge, milk chocolate nut bark and milk chocolate! Napoléons also will be on sale. H. Thayer Fletcher, dealer

cow creamers, old snuff boxes, miniature pistols and revolvers and a collection of old steins.

A general line of antiques including a Mury-Gregory black milk glass lamp and bowl and a Holly-amber bowl will be displayed by Garnette Walters antique shop.

Mrs. Carl Sparks of Thornapple Lake, Nashville, will present a line of antiques including paper weights, cut glass and colored glass.

Leonard Berry of East Howard Street will show decorative accessories in wall hangings, pictures and mirrors, along with pine furniture and novel lamps.

Hours for the show will be from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

Antiques similar to these being examined by Mrs. Irving Stearns of Woodbine Drive will be on display at the All Saints 9th annual antique show and sale April 18-20. Mrs. Stearns is admiring a small ebony box, inlaid with mother-of-pearl which holds a set of perfume bottles. An ornate brass lamp sits on the old marble top table.

Pontiac Press Photos

Emphasizing a centennial theme of the All Saints antique show, women of the church will appear in old finery reminiscent of Pontiac's early days.

Richard Kilbys Honeymoon in Chicago

Richard A. Kilby and his bride, the former Patricia Ann Jones, of Milan, are honeymooning in Chicago following their Saturday marriage in Marble Memorial Methodist Church, Milan. The Rev. William M. Hughes performed the four o'clock ceremony.

Daughter of Mrs. Grant M. Jones of Milan and the late Mr. Jones, the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Ethan C. Jones of Milan. The Samuel A. Kilbys of Hazel Bend Avenue are parents of the bridegroom.

Swiss guipure lace accented the portrait neckline and Empire waistline of the bridal gown of white delustrated satin. The bouffant skirt cascaded into a chapel train.

Silk illusion veiling was attached to a queen's crown of pearl- and sequin-encrusted satin. Ivy foliage, white roses and Stephanotis comprised the cascade bouquet.

Attending the bride were honorary maid Lois Anne Alderidge of Milan, sorority sisters Gayle Atkins of Muskegon Heights and Sandra Seppola of Saint Ste. Marie, and Bobbie

MRS. RICHARD A. KILBY

Kilby, sister of the bridegroom.

Blue nylon crowns complemented their bouffant dresses of periwinkle blue nylon sheer styled with gathered bodices and satin cummerbunds. They carried blue carnations, Stephanotis and ivy.

On the escort side were Jay Elbridge of Detroit, best man, with Jack Suter of East Lansing, David Newell of Hudson and Douglas M. Justus ushering.

Receiving guests with the newlyweds in the church parlors, Mrs. Jones was attired in navy tulle, pink flower hat and corsage of pink cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Kilby appeared in powder blue silk chanting with matching chiffon leotard hat. Her flowers were pink carnations.

The couple hold degrees from Michigan State University. The new Mrs. Kilby, who is affiliated with Phi Mu National Sorority and Kappa Delta Pi Education Honorary, will teach in the Royal Oak school system.

Her husband, a member of Triangle Fraternity and Beta Alpha Sigma Urban Planning Honorary, is employed at Wayne State University urban planning division while working on his master's degree. The newlyweds will live in Ferndale.

Abby Says Mother Confused

Her Generosity's a Fault

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: What can be done about a very generous person who knocks herself out helping others, but doesn't keep her own house clean?

Her husband works out of town and she has three children.

She will leave her own children alone to stay with their mother. If their mother is ill, she works for church suppers, P.T.A. rummage sales and is always selling tickets for good causes.

She will run errands or even do the laundry for her neighbors — but her own house is a mess.

She cooked an elaborate holiday dinner for a motherless family in her block and later we learned her own children ate tuna sandwiches. How do you set a big-hearted person like that straight without hurting her feelings? A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: You can't "set her straight" — but you can try to understand her. I don't mean to discredit your "big-hearted" friend, but her kind of "generosity" is misguided.

She "knocks herself out" for friends and neighbors because she thrives on the applause, thanks and reputation for helping others.

If her own family does without, it doesn't bother her. A truly "generous" person gives her best to her family first, and if there is any time and energy to spare — she extends it to others.

DEAR ABBY: Exactly what is a flirt?

"TOUGH": A flirt is someone who advertises something she has no intention of delivering.

DEAR ABBY: When I was 19 I married a man who was 27, and we were so much in love we never thought we would have any problems. We have been married two years and I am miserable.

He is a professional man, and I never got past the ninth grade. He is always correcting my English and has even suggested I go back to school and graduate.

Abby, I feel that he thinks I am not good enough for him. I am loved me as I was, why is he ashamed of me now? What should I do?

MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: Get in touch with your public education system and resume your schooling where you quit. It can be done by mail, or in evening classes, with other adults. Your husband loves you, or he wouldn't encourage you to graduate. There is no shame in not knowing — only in refusing to learn.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SALLY:

A young lady should not accept gifts of intimate apparel from a young man. And the article you mention is intimate.

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABBY, Box 355, Beverly Hills, Calif., and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Getting married? For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovey Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 355, Beverly Hills, Calif.

'Perry Mason' Burdening Role

Actor Burr a Human Machine

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—With all that is going on today, with all the opportunities that are available, a person should be pretty darned sure that when he kicks off he leaves this world a better place—or at least not a worse one.

Short of psychoanalysis, this is perhaps the best explanation of the phenomenon of Raymond Burr. It comes from Burr himself, a man whose almost punishing capacity for work has stirred the admiration and puzzlement of his fellow actors.

Ask any of them who is the hardest-working actor in Hollywood and the reply will be Raymond Burr. He is considered an acting machine—though his work is by no means mechanical. Sometimes the machine breaks down. Burr was hospitalized more than once during the first two years of his "Perry Mason" TV series. He was back in the hospital recently for two sieges totaling 18 days.

ADVANCES BACK
"When my strength gets down, I am susceptible to ailments," he said. "This time I got a virus that I couldn't shake off. It got into the muscle of my back and chest and I had to go into the hospital. I was in traction much of the time."

"But he bounced back and is once again laboring as Mason. He talked about his rigorous routine over a weight-watching lunch of consommé and hamburger steak; he said it was the first lunch interview he had been able to arrange in four years. Such is his schedule."

Did he know what he was getting into when he signed on as Perry?

"I thought I did," he said. "I had had offers for several series. I took Mason because I thought it would be done with quality. "I was right about that. But I didn't realize that other hour shows had two or more leading characters to carry the load; Mason couldn't. And I didn't realize I would not only have an immense amount of dialogue to learn, but it would be much questioning with no continuing train of thought—the most difficult dialogue to learn."

DOES LITTLE ELSE
"On each hour show, Bill Talman has as much dialogue as the star of an average feature movie. I have four times the dialogue Bill has."

How does he learn and deliver all this wordage, plus the changes that sometimes come hourly? By doing little else. He has a lovely home beside the breakers north of Malibu, but he sees it only on weekends. During the week he lives at General Service Studios, where the series is filmed.

Burr finishes the season in June, takes a breather and then plunges into his fifth year in the courtroom. That will end his contract. What then?

"I think five years is enough for one series," he observed. "We have some great plans for making the fifth season our best, and I think it's right that we should go out with our best effort. "After that? Well, I've got enough plans to keep me busy for 10 years."

Hunt Goes on for Woodsman

Detroit on Way North Hoping UP Looter May Be Sick Nephew

STEPHENSON (UPI)—A sheriff's posse continued the hunt today through the snow-covered Upper Peninsula woods for the bearded, backwoods burglar, popularly known as the "abominable woodsman."

In the past week, as many as 50 men have troked through the cedar swamps in search of the elusive, grizzled outdoorsman who has been able to live off the land in below-freezing temperatures.

"I know he's a great woodsman—and very cunning," said Menominee County Sheriff Edward J. Riendi, who sent two 10-man patrols through the area searching for the plaid-jacketed woodsman who has looted several cabins in the area.

Sheriff Riendi was taking more than a professional interest in the hunt, for his was one of the cabins looted. The woodsman's plaid jacket and black boots were among the articles taken from the cabin, according to Riendi.

Meredith is a draftsman at the General Motors Technical Center in Warren, disappeared last May, three days after he was released from a hospital for head injuries suffered in an auto accident.

The car was found a few days later, near Newberry in the Upper Peninsula—about 100 miles from the scene of the present manhunt.

The Meredith family believes that David, who suffered a 31-stitch cut in the accident, may be suffering from amnesia and is the woodsman, wandering free among the cedars he knows and loves.

Meredith's father Earl said his son often made solitary trips into the Upper Peninsula and was an expert hunter, fisherman and skier.

Finds Evidence of Cancer Fighter in Cigarettes

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Dr. Ernest L. Wynder, of the Sloan-Kettering Institute for Cancer Research in New York City, says cigarette smoke may contain a chemical that acts to block the cancer-causing process in humans.

He discussed the chemical—a wax-like substance—in a paper read Sunday at the annual meeting of the American Association for Cancer Research.

Wynder said cigarette smoke contains two other substances—one that acts to cause cancer and another without whose promotion the other chemical could not cause the disease.

The cancer-causing chemicals in cigarette smoke are known as carcinogens, he said.

Wynder said these chemicals are stimulated into deadly action by a second group of chemicals known as promoters. He said the carcinogens cannot cause cancer without the promoters. He called the cancer blocker an anticarcinogen.
