400 Volunteers Attend Kickoff of Area Drive

Dr. Irvin Lists Faith, Realism, Enthusiasm Needed by Workers

A rousing kick-off to the Pontiac area United Fund campaign was given before 400 volunteer workers by guest speaker Dr. Charles E. Irvin.

Dr. Irvin spoke at a breakfast sponsored by the Pontiac Manufacturers Association for volunteers who today will begin the three-week drive to reach UF's goal of $612,000.

He defined in his talk the factor which he believes leads to a successful community campaign. This factor he called "a force."

Taking each letter of the word "force" he listed the attributes which volunteer workers need to carry through a successful drive.

"The letter F," he said, stands for faith and is evidenced by a humbleness and a sense of goal, which guides an individual like a rudder does a ship."

The letter O is for obedience to "the unenforceable," which leads people to do things over and above the expected. "It is this," he said, "which causes individuals to volunteer as United Fund workers."

The letter R is for "realism which makes us aware of the uncertain factors in life and realize that someday we too could stand in need of the services of the UF agency."

CONVICTION NEEDED

The letter C stands for "conviction, because only a person with deep and unwavering convictions can serve the UF as a salesman, not merely a collector."

"E means enthusiasm," he said, "that unquenchable fire by which a volunteer can inspire those he calls upon."

Dr. Irvin said that UF to him stands for "Unleashed Force,"

Dog Touring Space in Second Satellite

MUTTNIK'S PASSENGER — This is "Malyshka," reported by Russia as the dog circling earth in the second satellite launched by that country. Shown here in its space suit, the dog is an experienced "astronaut," according to a Russian caption received with the picture. The Russians say they will try to bring both dog and satellite back to earth safely. The dog's special air-conditioned compartment in Muttnik contains food which she eats when a bell rings. Instruments register the animal's blood pressure, breathing and heartbeat and send it back to earth in coded "beeps."

Satellite Circles Earth With Dog Test Passenger

U.S. Legislators Demand Full-Scale Investigation of Missile Program

WASHINGTON (INS) — Top-level demands for a full investigation of the U.S. missile and satellite programs rang out today as Russia's dog-carrying Sputnik II whirled through space while the Soviets boasted of new achievements soon to be disclosed.

Soivet scientists hinted today they might score a double satellite coup with Sputnik II by returning its passenger — and maybe even the satellite itself to earth.

Sutnik II—dubbed "Muttnik" and "Pupnik" for the female husky aboard—was hurled into the heavens near midnight Saturday with the first living space traveler.

By early today is had completed more than 15 orbits about the earth and had reached heights of more than 1,000 miles.

Latest reports on the dog said she was in satisfactory condition and behaving quietly.

Chairman Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee led a delegation into conference with Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy while Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) urged President Eisenhower to call a special session of Congress.

NEW POST URGED

Kefauver declared the chief executive should recall the legislators for immediate creation of a new cabinet post—secretary of science—and for other steps to get the U. S. space-age probram off what the senator called "dead center."

Russell, Senate Majority Learer Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.), and Sen. Style Bridges (R-NH), an outspoken GOP critic of administration "complacency," scheduled a luncheon conference at the Pentagon with McElroy for a briefing on missile and satellite developments.

Russell declared grimly that the second Soviet satellite was "a very dramatic demonstration of Soviet achievements." He asserted: "it is time for us to end our complacency."

Sky Object Stalls Trucks, Creates Big Stir in Texas

LEVELLAND, Tex. (AP)—Reports of a mystery object which one witness said flew around with a "great sound and rush of wind" had officials and the public puzzled today.

Newsmen and authorities had reports of sightings over a wide West Texas area Saturday and yesterday.

Peace officers checking areas where landings were reported were unable to find any trace. Reese Air Force Base officials here declined to say whether an investigation was being made.

Pedro Saucedo, 30, a farm hand and part-time barber, told officers and newsmen, "I was driving out to a farm near the Pettit community west of here Saturday night with a friend, Joe Salaz, when we first saw the thing.

"When it got near, the lights of my truck went out and the motor died. I jumped out of the truck and hit the dirt because I was afraid. I called to Joe but he didn't get out.

"The thing passed directly over my truck with a great sound and a rush of wind. It sounded like thunder and my truck rocked from the blast. I felt a lot of heat. Then I got up and watched it go out of sight toward Levelland," he said.

Saucedo, a Korean war veteran, said it was "torpedo shaped" or like "a rocket, but much larger."

Ronald Martin, 18, a Levelland truck driver, said his truck engine died and the lights went out "when a big ball of fire dropped on the highway" east of here early Sunday.

LANDED ON ROAD

Martin said the object changed to a bluish green color when it settled on the highway, then changed to a fireball again when it rose straight up and disappeared.

Newell Wright, a Texas Tech student from here, reported a similar occurence east of Levelland.

Patrolman A. J. Fowler said Saucedo and about 14 others who called in reports of the object sounded upset and in some cases terrified.

"They seemed to agree that this

Sputnik II Gives the World Another Look at Red Skill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sputnik II, whirling more than 1,000 miles out in space with a little dog named Curly aboard, gave the world another convincing glimpse of Russian technical prowess today.

The Soviet Union's second earth satellite roared aloft about 11:38 p.m. EST Saturday. Data released by the Russians indicated it was propelled by a powerful new ballistic missile.

The announcement brought also a renewal of demands that this country speed up its missile and satellite programs to overtake the Russians. But Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy and other officials indicated they expect little or no change in this country's present schedule.

The feat gave the Russians another first—the first live space traveler, a Spitz-type female dog named Kudryavka, which is Russian for Curly.

Recordings of her breathing, heart beat and blood pressure, transmitted to earth in a coded radio hissing sound, will supply information on the hazards men would face in space travel.

Radio reports from the orbiting satellite indicated that Curly was alive and in good condition as Sputnik II shot round the world once every 103.7 minutes at 17,840 miles an hour.

There also were hints the little animal may be parachuted safe-

Military Heads, Journals Lick Khrushchev Boots

MOSCOW (AP)—The position of Nikita Khrushchev as top man in the Soviet Union appeared unchallengeable today following the political disgrace of Marshal Georgi Zhukov.

Military leaders and journals of the armed forces were quick to endorse the expulsion of the former defense minister from the Soviet Communist Party's Central Committee and from its ruling Presidium.

Crowds jamming Moscow streets in advance of the celebration Thursday of the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution displayed little interest in the fate of the World War II hero.

Their attention appeared captured by the launching of Sputnik II, the preparations for the two-day anniversary holiday, and reductions in the price of pork, ducks and geese.

The announcement of the marshal's degradation had been expected since soon after his dismissal from the post of defense minister was revealed Oct. 26.

The party Central Committee finally announced Saturday night that he had been stripped of his party posts.

The announcement added that he would be given a new job but did not say what it would be.

As expected, the Central Committee said the marshal was guilty of trying to liquidate the party's control of the armed forces and of trying to establish a "cult of personality" centered on himself.

He was also charged with a "tendency to adventurism in his understanding and evaluation of the most important problems of foreign policy."

Zhukov's successor, Marshal Rodion Y. Malinovsky, and other military leaders joined in public expressions of the political lessons of Zhukov's downfall.

Flint Map Paid Union for Peace

Company Official Tells Senate Probers of Deal With Shefferman Aide

WASHINGTON (INS) — A Michigan business man testified today he ended five months of Teamsters' terror and violence by making large payments to labor relations specialist George Kamenow.

Donald Skaff, secretary of the Skaff Road Co., Flint, said he has not been bothered with Teamster attempts to organize his salesmen since he began paying Kamenow, a former employe of alleged union buster Nathan Shefferman.

Skaff told Senate rackets probers he channeled $1,998.80 into Trans-World Airlines tickets at Kamenow's request, and has paid Kamenow $75 to $100 a month since August, 1956.

Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), demanded to know whether the money for Kamenow actually constituted a "payoff" to prevent the Teamsters from organizing Skaff's carpet salesmen.

Skaff denied the accusation, contending that he merely wanted "competent, professional people to represent us in a field we were completely unfamiliar with and in which we'd been whipped badly . . . we were preparing to close our store . . ."

McClellan persisted: "So, you were buying peace."

Skaff replied: "We were buying a labor relations service . . ."

Skaff said Kamenow was a Shefferman representative when the payments started. Before the payments began, he said, he, his employes, and his family suffered threats and violence while Teamsters attempted to organize the carpet layers without their approval.

With 'Ham' Operators in Area

Muttnik Plays Hide and Beep

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

A check of most "hams" this morning showed that none as yet has picked up the radio signals from the second earth satellite launched by Russia at 11:38 Saturday night.

"I think those Russians have given us the wrong frequencies," declared Dr. Wilson E. M. Pacific, after many hours of twisting dials yesterday in an attempt to listen to the second Sputnik.

This one has been tagged by many as Muttnik as it has as a passenger a dog named Curly. Last reports had Curly surviving this miracle of science.

Dr. Pacific, who lives at 6340 Commerce Rd., West Bloomfield Township, said he and another "ham" worked both Saturday night and all day Sunday on several receivers in the basement of the Pacific home. But no signal was heard.

"For some unknown reason it was not audible to us," said Wilson, who has been a "ham" for more than half his 40 years.

He and other area operators declared they had not given up. Most said they would return to their sets after work tonight to seek out the new beep.

This and the reactions from Sputnik I were expected to be the major topic of conversation at a meeting of Oakland County amateur radio operators tonight.

Pontiac attorney Mitchell L. Bacow said he would try tonight to pick up the signal. It is reportedly around 40 to 80 megacycles, according to Dr. Wilson.

He, Bacow and Albert Lewellen, Bloomfield Township "ham," all successfully picked up the signal from the first Russian artificial moon as it circled the globe.

New Pot-O-Gold Puzzle Brings Loot Up to $900

Another new puzzle means another $100 added to the overflowing pot, bringing the total loot for some lucky Pot-O-Gold winner to $900. If you're interested in tucking that into your own pocket, turn to page 9 and get busy.

For a few right numbers you can assure yourself the extra cash you've been wanting for those "extras" that otherwise would have been postponed indefinitely. And it's such fun, besides. Get the whole family working on it, and before you know it, that will be the first thing you look for when you get your paper.

Just a word of warning—be sure you put the numbers in the blanks, not the words. And you'll be disqualified, too, if you send your entry in an envelope. It must be on a postcard.

Former Pontiac Woman Dies

Mrs. J. L. Van Wagoner, Noted Civic Leader, Succumbs at 68

Prominent many years in Oakland County church and civic affairs, Mrs. Winifred Lydia Van Wagoner died yesterday at her home, 6545 Andersonville Rd., Waterford Township. She was 68.

A community leader, she was the wife of J. L. Van Wagoner, a Pontiac insurance agent and brother of former Michigan governor Murray D. Van Wagoner, of Birmingham.

Mrs. Van Wagoner was born in Waterford Village June 26, 1889, the daughter of Julian and Eva Harger Reid. She attended schools in Waterford, Pontiac High School and Pontiac Business College.

For several years a teacher in Waterford public schools, Mrs. Van Wagoner was active in her church, the YWCA and Community Activities Assn. Inc., in Waterford.

Her family has asked that memorial contributions be sent to the First Congregational Church or to the Pontiac YWCA, of which Mrs. Van Wagoner was a former board member.

Mrs. Van Wagoner also was a charter member of the Pillar Club and a member of the Oakland County Historical Society.

Besides her husband, who sold his Pontiac insurance agency four years ago, Mrs. Van Wagoner is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Arnold Kambly, of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Edward Andrews, of Birmingham, and five grandchildren.

Services will be at 10 a.m. Wednesday in the First Congregation Church under the direction of Rev. Malcolm K. Burton, pastor. Burial will be in Ottawa Park Cemetery.

The body will be at Farmer-Snover Funeral Home until Wednesday morning.

Lost Tot, 7, Dies of Exposure on California Peak

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — Lost with her puppy high on 7,510-foot Reyes Peak in the Los Padres National Forest, Jill Hatch, 7, Santa Barbara, Calif., fell asleep and perished in freezing weather.

Her body was found in the snow yesterday only a mile from Camp Sheideck, a private resort in the mountains, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Hatch, had gone to fish.

Coroner Virgil Payton said the girl apparently died of exposure. The temperature dropped to 32 Saturday night. Jill's companion, a dog, was not found.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Should wives wait for the barometer to rise before asking their husbands for that special favor?

There is a valid reason why this system, admitted folklore, is often a good one. It depends on the husband involved, to some degree, but it is a generally safe rule to follow.

A rising barometer makes us all feel better. For the husband with corns, bunions, old wounds or creaky bones, a low barometer affects his comfort and nerves. A drop of barometric pressure affects one mentally, and also one's nerves, by causing dehydration of the tissues of the body.

Thus, a high barometer means he will probably be feeling his best — other things being equal — and that's the time, girls, to break down his resistance!

Celebrate 40th Anniversary of Revolution

Red Chiefs Reach Moscow

MOSCOW (AP)—With Sputnik II whizzing through the heavens and the Zhukov affair out of the way, the Soviet Union threw out its chest today and got busy on a jubilee—the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

Communist dignitaries from the world over are arriving in Moscow one after the other to be greeted by headlines proclaiming another Communist victory for Soviet science—the second earth satellite.

The big day is Thursday but the festive occasion opens Wednesday with a jubilee session of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament).

With the exception of President Tito of Yugoslavia, who says he is staying home because of lumbago, the list of visiting dignitaries looks like a top-level Who's Who in communism.

Red China's Mao Tze-tung stood head and shoulders above the others in political stature and it was obvious from his remarks on his arrival here last week that he was giving the Soviet Union full support both at home and abroad.

Aside from the leaders of Communist nations in Eastern Europe, the list also includes Communist party leaders in the West—from Spain, Argentina, Mexico, Ecuador, Uruguay and Luxembourg.

One of the warmest welcomes received by a Western Communist leader went to Italian Palmiro Togliatti. Maurice Thorez, leader of the French Communist party, was scheduled to arrive later.

The climax of the celebration comes Thursday with the big military parade through Red Square. It is expected Kremlin leaders will produce surprises in the way of military and aerial developments.

something was 200 feet long, shaped like an egg and was lit up like it was on fire—but looked more like neon lights," he said.

"They said it was about 200 feet in the air, and when it got close car motors and lights would go off. Everybody that called was very excited," he asserted.

Sheriff Weir Clem said he saw a brilliant light in the distance but didn't get close enough for a good look.

Highway Patrolman Lee Hargrove and Floyd Cavin reported seeing similar flashes in the sky in about the same area. All were riding in separate cars.

There were reports of an unexplained light in the sky far across the state between Sherman and McKinney. Other sightings were reported around Amarillo, far to the north.

Calvin Harris and Sandy McKean, CAA control tower workers at the Amarillo Airport, said they saw a "blue gaseous object which moved swiftly and left an amber trail southeast of the city" Saturday night.

Sputnik II Reveals New Red Advances

ly back to earth before the new satellite plunges back into the atmosphere and is destroyed.

The Moscow announcement described Sputnik II as the third stage of the rocket which launched it into space. Total weight of the apparatus, which astonished some scientists was given as 1,120 pounds.

An accurate orbit for the new satellite still had not been calculated today, but residents of the United States were expected to be sighting Sputnik II before long. It is traveling substantially the same pattern as its predecessor, but is taking a little bit longer for each circuit.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory at Cambridge, Mass. said the new satellite "should be visible very soon as an evening object in United States latitudes."

The new Soviet satellite passed over the University of Colorado's high altitude observatory at Boulder about 12 minutes late this morning, a spokesman said.

Scientists recorded a strong, steady tone from 8:04 a.m. (EST) to 8:14 a.m., he said, with the radio signals strongest at 8:07 a.m.

The satellite had been expected to pass nearest this city at 7:42 a.m.

Moscow radio said Sputnik II swings 1,056 miles out into space at the farthest extent.

British and French commentators agreed today that the launching of the second earth satellite has given the Soviet Union another tremendous propaganda victory.

There were widespread speculations that the Red scientists may be on the verge of sending a rocket all the way to the moon, perhaps within days.

Military correspondents agreed that with rockets of the titanic power necessary to put Sputnik II into orbit just over a thousand miles out in space, the Soviet Union could easily pelt the United States with H-bombs.

Shot Ends Life of Lapeer Man

Trick-or-Treating on Halloween Starts Fatal Argument

Neil Kirby, 35, of 202 South Elba Rd., Lapeer, died late last night in St. Joseph Hospital, Flint, of gunshot wounds suffered late Saturday.

Lapeer deputies are holding Mrs. D. L. (Juanita) Tucker, 44, in the Lapeer County Jail for investigation in the fatal shooting. She lives in the same apartment building.

Following an argument starting over trick-or-treating by children on Halloween, which continued on Saturday, Mrs. Tucker grabbed a 12 gauge shotgun and shot Kirby in the abdomen, according to Sheriff W. J. Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker have no children, but the Kirbys are parents of three, Danny, 14; Delores, 10, and Jerry, 8.

Sheriff Porter said a first degree murder warrant will be asked.

Predicts Nov. 7 Ideal for Red Shot at Moon

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (INS) —America's top expert on meteorites predicted today the morning of November 7th — Thursday — will be an ideal time for the Russians to explode a rocket on the moon.

Dr. Lincoln La Paz, director of New Mexico University's Institute of Meteoritics, said the moon will be in total eclipse Thursday as seen from Siberia and a rocket's explosion would be clearly visible to Soviet ground observers.

The Assn. of Lunar and Planetary Observers and the institute ordered observers in the southwestern states to watch for flashes on the moon from 4:30 A.M. (MST) until the moon sets Thursday morning.

Chances for observation of such a flash in the U.S., Dr. La Paz said, are best in the Southwest and West Coast areas, although conditions for observation of the eclipse will be less than favorable in the Western hemisphere.

Dr. La Paz noted the Russians have indicated the world would receive some surprises on November 7, the 40th anniversary of the Russian revolution and a Soviet holiday.

BIRMINGHAM—Another of the informal hearings on the proposed zoning ordinance will be held this evening as a part of the regular commission meeting.

Officials emphasize that these hearings are held as an opportunity for all property owners to get full information on what the new ordinance entails. The session tonight will complete the section devoted to residential zoning.

When the informal sessions, including one held at the Community House 10 days ago, were scheduled, Mayor William Roberts commented on the importance of the ordinance, in that it affects every property owner.

"We want everyone to be familiar with the entire ordinance," Roberts said. "The informal hearings will give residents a chance to hear the whole ordinance. Comments, criticisms and suggestions made before the legal hearing will give us a chance to evaluate them and perhaps incorporate some of them into the new ordinance before adoption. We, of the commission, with members of the planning board and the city planner, hope residents and property owners will avail themselves of this opportunity."

October building showed both an increase and decrease as compared to the same month last year. The 1957 report shows 45 permits were issued for construction costs of $354,750, while a year ago the 59 permits represented a $320,245 program.

The construction last month called for 23 new buildings, including one business establishment on East Maple; 18 alterations; one swimming pool (private); razing one building and moving two others. The total cost is a little more than half that shown the previous month.

Mayor William Roberts is issuing an official proclamation for the City of Birmingham's observance of National Education Week, Nov. 10-16. In it, he urges residents to visit the city's numerous schools "that the bonds of cooperation between our homes and our schools be maintained and strengthened."

A detailed analysis of the comparison costs of buying all water supplies from the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority, as compared to the construction of a water softening plant in the city, will go to commissioners tonight.

Prepared by J. H. Purkiss Jr., director of finance, it shows the purchase plan to be less costly. Purkiss reveals that the buying of water supplies would keep the cost practically the same, while the plant construction would probably bring about an increase of six cents per 1,000 gallons to the consumer.

It also is brought out that it is considered advisable to retain at least two of the city-owned wells to assure an adequate water supply should some failure occur in the SOCWA system, or an emergency demand for additional water happen in the city, itself.

Safety Association of Waterford to Meet

A meeting of the Waterford Township Independent Safety Association will be held at the Waterford High School on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

All persons who signed petitions and form letters to State Senator L. Harvey Lodge have been urged to follow up their interest in school buses for all children until safe walking facilities are provided by attending the meeting and helping to solve these problems.

With the circulation of petitions nearing a close, Ralph W. Blain, chairman, said final results appear very promising toward the goal of 1,000 letters and 11,000 petition signatures.

CLEAR & PREVENT CLOGGED SEWERS FOR ONLY $3.95 2-lb. Treatment

IT'S EASY WITH NEW R-D!
AN AMAZING DEVELOPMENT FROM THE HERCULES CHEMICAL COMPANY.
Exclusive new formula contains no lye, caustics or acids — absolutely safe in septic tank, cesspool or city systems.
New Hercules R-D chemical formula is the most economical and effective method ever found for preventing and clearing root stoppages. With Hercules R-D, there's no need for expensive labor, the unsightliness and trouble of digging up lawn and pavement. All you do is pour R-D crystals directly from the box into the toilet bowl. The exclusive R-D chemical compound does the rest.
One 2 lb. application of Hercules R-D will not only remove these roots permanently, but will prevent them from forming in your sewage system again! Semi-annual treatment with Hercules R-D will assure you root-free sewer and drain lines.
SO EFFECTIVE . . . YET SO SAFE! Hercules R-D is an exclusive formula of crystals and fine powders developed solely for root removal. It kills only the dangerous root . . . it cannot harm trees, lawns or shrubs . . . in fact, it can't even discolor a single leaf. AND R-D IS HARMLESS TO HANDS OR CLOTHING!

Simply pour R-D into toilet bowl or directly into sewer line. R-D crystals dissolve and are absorbed by the root. Fast-acting chemical kills the root — but does not harm the tree or shrub.
In most cases, R-D travels through the root and destroys it even beyond the sewer line. And that root cannot grow back into the sewer line to cause stoppage again!
GUARANTEE: R-D MUST WORK OR YOUR MONEY BACK
Use R-D as directed. If it doesn't clear your clogged sewerline of roots and prevent these roots from growing back for 6 months, Hercules will refund the full price.

Multiple Choice Drills Teach Differences

Develop Comprehension of Words

(After the first weeks of school, parents anxiously search for evidence of whether their child is being armed with the proper tools and enough of them. Following is the second of six articles explaining what and how America's grade school children are being taught).

By JOHN BARROW
INS Staff Writer

Johnny's first few weeks of school develop more reading skill than his parents realize. Each time he stumbles, some parents wonder if the so-called "word recognition" method used by his teacher isn't merely word guessing.

How does it work? Why is it used?

The thinking is that words are only sumbols. B-a-l-l to a beginning reader means no more than x-u-g-g—a four-part unit in which the last two parts look alike. But when b-a-l-l can be tied to the familiar sphere Johnny throws with his dad, the sumbol takes on meaning.

After a bombardment of pictures labeled with the words, the words gradually will reproduce the pictures in Johnny's imagination. But until he fixes in his mind the spelling of the word, what's to prevent him from confusing b-a-l-l with f-a-l-l when the picture is missing?

Johnny's paperback workbook, for example, shows a barnyard drawing with dogs, chicks, hen, house, window and tree. Those words are contained in a list which also includes kitten, girl, chair and bed—which do not appear in the picture.

T h beoy must draw a circle around the words which do apply. This helps develop recognition of the word as suggested by the image it represents.

Then he encounters the words without the pictures. He is to draw the picture. The word must make him see the cow or the tree.

He soon must associate phrases with the object. An animal group drawing again is used. Below in one column are such phrases as, "I am yellow." "I am red." Another column contains, "I say, 'peep, peep.'" and, "I can say, 'moo, moo.'"

A chick in the picture reminds Johnny to associate yellow wit peep, peep. This not only expands his us eof words in sentences. It also helps develop a logic of what fits and it stimulates his imagination to visualize the chicks and cows in the flesh—linking the picture with the real life objects.

Sharpening his eye to the differences between words, Johnny later meets a sentence: "Father will—the grass." A choice is given of "cup, cub, cut." Another is: "I like to write with my new—pet, pen, peg."

His instruction then has glided imperceptibly into second gear—blending phonics with recognition. Phonics is a refinement of time-honored "word calling"—sounding words aloud to recognize them by ear.

Bearing down on word structure, Johnny learns to spot where cer-"S," for instance, comes at th beginning of the word, salt; in the middle of basket, and at the end of bus.

DRILL ON LETTERS

Johnny tackles vowels—agai using pictures to help recognition by learning to "hear" similar sounds in different words. He learns that "kite," "light" and "five" use the long "I" sound. A test comes: "It was Don's birthday, he was 4, 5, 6, years old. The correct age has the long "I."

Analyzing words more minutely, the first grader must select from a list of words one that fits this sentence most closely: "Baby has a new red—." The word is "coal" and Johnny must change the "L" to a "T."

"Comprehension is the keyword, says a Chicago Board of Education spokesman in explaining how phonics, word recognition and other methods are combined. Drilling only with words, the beginning reader could memorize the speeling and parrot the pronounciation without ever comprehending the meaning—remaining unable to put the words to his own use.

By relating the words to images and stimulating Johnny to evaluate and figure out what the words convey, his understanding is deepened.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery
Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids
New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.
In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.
Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.
And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!
In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.
All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.
This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Woman Rescues Southfield Man Trapped in Fire

A resident of the Fons Lake Trailer and Coach Park, 30000 Southfield Rd., Southfield Township, came to the rescue of her next door neighbor Sunday morning, pulling him from his burning trailer.

Witnesses said Mrs. Earline McPhail, 30, rushed to the flaming trailer moments after she saw smoke coming from it.

She broke down the door and dragged James Stutts, 25, to safety with his clothing aflame.

The Southfield Township Fire Department arrived at the scene and brought the blaze under control only after it had engulfed the entire trailer. Firemen said Stutts may have fallen asleep while smoking.

He was taken to William Beaumont Hospital where he was treated for first and second degree burns of the face and hands, and released.

7 School Units to Be Dedicated

Programs at Emerson, Willis Buildings Tonight to Lead Series

The dedication of multi-purpose rooms in Emerson and Willis Elementary School tonight will lead off a four-night dedication of more than $1,250,000 worth of additions to seven Pontiac schools this week.

Each room, à 97 x 68 foot building added to the school, is identical and is connected to the main school by a corridor. Excluding the tie-in to the main school, building costs average $137,000 per building.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, schools superintendent, and Dr. Otto C. Hutziger, assistant superintendent in charge of business, each will make the presentation of the building in Willis and Emerson respectively. The programs begin at 7 o'clock.

Accepting the Emerson building will be Glenn H. Griffin, president of the Board of Education: Walter K. Willman, city manager, and Samuel Dow, executive member of the Parent-Teacher Association board.

Lola B. King, Board of Education secretary; Le Roy Davis, Pontiac Township supervisor; and Roy Hardy, vice president of the Willis PTA, will accept the Willis building.

Entertainment at the Emerson program will include the third grade glee club and square dancing and gym demonstrations by the 5th and 6th graders.

Willis students will demonstrate the many uses of the room and 5th and 6th grade choir will sing. Boy Scout Troop 64 also will demonstrate their use of the room.

The multi-purpose rooms of Crofoot and Central Schools will be dedicated tomorrow. Wednesday, LeBaron and McCarroll additions will be dedicated; and Thursday, Hawthorne School.

Men Questioned in Two Attacks

Suspect Lansing Pair of Beating and Robbing Student, Gas Attendant

EAST LANSING (AP) — Two Lansing men were being questioned by State Police today in the beating and robbing of a hitchhiking University of Michigan student and a service station attendant.

The student, Alan Robinett, 21, of Traverse City, said one of the men used his pocket knife to jab at him when he disobeyed orders to keep his eyes averted from his captors.

Held without charge were John H. Ouzts, 23, and William B. George, 28.

Police said after dumping Robinett on a country road northeast of East Lansing, Ouzts and George held up a Drake's refinery station attendant southwest of Lansing, and took between $400 and $500 in coins and currency.

The pair then fled south on U.S. 127 but were caught at a State Police roadblock near Jackson.

Both Robinett and the service station attendant, Claude Pettit of Lansing, were treated at Edward W. Sparrow Hospital for bruises of the face, and released, officers said.

Robinett, who exhibited a punctured trench coat and sports jacket, said he was relieved of 46 cents and a $110 wristwatch in addition to the pocket knife.

The student, on the way back to Ann Arbor from his home, said he was picked up at an intersection in Lansing, and immediately forced to get into the back seat of the car.

Enormous Uranium Vein Reported by Ohio Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An enormous vein of uranium ore, cutting a 5 to 20-mile path the entire breadth of Ohio, has been discovered by a 77-year-old retired mining engineer-geologist, the Columbus Dispatch reported yesterday.

The newspaper said the find is worth several billion dollars.

The Dispatch said the ore's discoverer, Laurance W. Huntington of nearby Groveport, has spent 2½ years in tracing the ore to its source and working out a method to process it cheaply.

Hungtington, who says he holds no college degrees in engineering or metallurgy, discovered a trace of the uranium in his drinking water and tested it by an ultraviolet light process and chemical analysis, the Dispatch story said.

The Dispatch said the total value of the vein could be as high as 10,000 billion dollars and added that if only one per cent of it were tapped, "the resultant 100-billion-dollar pot would still make the richest gold or diamond strike in history look like peanuts."

The uranium vein borders Lake Erie in northeastern Ohio and runs in a north-south strip 5 to 20 miles wide and more than 200 miles long, the newspaper said. Parts of the vein protrude into West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee, the story added.

The ore has a low uranium content the Dispatch said, and is in the form of a non-radioactive sulfide rather than an oxide.

Huntington has developed a process that separates the uranium from its surrounding material in one to three hours, the Dispatch said, adding that under present methods, the process usually takes 16-24 hours.

2 Cars Crash, Kill 9, in Southeast Texas

WALLER, Tex. (AP)—Nine persons died last night when two cars smashed together near here, throwing all the victims but an infant from the twisted wreckage of the automobiles.

Four of the dead were children. Seven of the victims were killed instantly. There were no survivors.

The accident occurred on a dry two-lane, black-top road about 41 miles northwest of Houston, in southeastern Texas. The road, U. S. 290, had a slight curve.

The dead were identified by relatives and by a deputy medical examiner, Frank Murray, as:

Henry Gaines, 52, driver of one of the cars; his wife; Gertrude, 54; Mrs. Emma Lee Cunningham, about 45, Gaines' sister; four of Mrs. Cunningham's children; Mrs. Hattie Lee Taplin, 25; Mrs. Catherine Gantt, 22; Emma Mae Bearden, 10, and Vernice Ray, 1; Mrs. Gantt's 6-week-old daughter, all of Houston; and Walter M. Newcomb, 51, of Hempstead, who was driving alone in his car.

Events of Past Month Prove Nickerson Right

More and more the case of Col. JOHN C. NICKERSON, a top expert on guided missiles, parallels that of Air Force Col. BILLY MITCHELL in 1926.

A month before Sputnik was launched Col. Nickerson stated that the Russians had beaten us by testing the first intercontinental ballistic missile. "We are in grave danger of being beaten again very soon by the Russians," he said, "this time on the earth satellite launching.

"The first nation to place a scientific satellite in an orbit around the earth will gain vital international prestige plus many technical gains. Our satellite program, however, has fallen badly behind in schedule."

This defiant warning was issued after Col. NICKERSON'S June court-martial in which he had been fined, reprimanded, deprived of rank for a year and banished to Panama. His crime was admitted carelessness with military secrets. In reality he was alerting the country and fighting for the Army's guided missile program.

Specifically he charged that the Army's missile work, headed by Dr. WERNHER VON BRAUN, had been hindered as a result of jealousy of the Air Force and Navy and by pressure of aircraft manufacturers and the surrender of the Defense Department to the anti-army forces. In a September 8 article in the Milwaukee Journal Col. NICKERSON said:

"There is still a good chance for us to win the earth satellite race if we give von Braun the go ahead immediately. He and his scientists have been working on a standby satellite and have done enough engineering and fabrication to be able to put up a satellite on short notice. If we don't give von Braun the go ahead and the Russians beat us again, we'll have no one to blame but ourselves."

In a recent television interview Sen. MIKE MANSFIELD said that he ascribed the Russian victory to "a division of authority in the development of the missile among our armed services and not enough emphasis on the great work done by the WERNHER VON BRAUN team . . ."

It is beginning to appear that our country would benefit by the return of Col. Nickerson to the guided missile program. Although he may have gone too far in his intense desire to alert the Nation, his object was entirely patriotic and selfless.

Perhaps Sputnik will do what nothing else has been able to do—end suicidal interservice rivalries.

Argentina Striving to Retain Freedom

For Argentina the road back to democracy over the rocky chaos left by the wasteful dictatorship of PERON is a difficult one.

The provisional government of ARAMBURO has had to come to grips with the problems created by a dictator who stripped the country of its wealth and corrupted its political life. The "shirtless ones" to whom PERON appealed do not understand that he alone is responsible for present conditions. They only see that the necessities of life are 30 to 60 per cent higher and labor troubles are erupting.

PERON nationalized industry. He "bought" a well operated British railway. Today that road can't even get produce to market and cattle, once the backbone of the ecnomy, remain on the range. The same conditions prevail in other parts of the economy.

From his exile in Venezuela, Peron continues to stir up trouble. His network of spies and saboteurs appeals to illiterate workers and promises them good times when he returns.

The provisional government is redrafting Argentina's constitution and plans to hold general elections in February for a government to reinstate democracy. We can hope it is successful. Freedom once lost is difficult to regain.

Bridge Dedication Brought Honors After a Dense Fog

Gun: What may make it necessary to refinance the wife's washing machine.

As the representative of the newspaper of the city named in honor of it was a great pleasure to be singled out in several respects at the Mackinac Bridge opening. It more than repaid me for the drive of nearly 300 miles in the worst fog in Michigan's history.

As such, I was accorded the front seat in the first busload of newspaper men to cross the bridge at its formal opening. This load led the procession. We waited at the north end for the official car of to arrive, and watched him buy the first ticket. But the newsmen were ahead of him. So who was the first person to cross?

A little later on the final trip of the last ferry, the Vacationland, the newsmen were special guests, and I was given a seat in the last auto to go aboard, which also was the last to unload. The ferry workers, many with tears in their eyes, gathered around that last car to shake the hands of its five occupants, thus definitely ending the ferry service.

Yes, it was worth that foggy drive, the first 40 miles of which, beginning at Holly in the early morning darkness, required over three hours. That white line on the pavement was a life saver.

C. D. Whitfield

of 544 West Iroquois Road, and

of 2900 Judah Road. They had picked UCLA to win. One of the four previous survivors had favored California to win, and the other predicted a tie game, so those two were eliminated.

On next Saturday's Georgia-Florida game, Mr. Whitfield picks Georgia and Miss Baer picks Florida, so it appears that one of them will win the $300.

The weather has been so good that a flock of wild geese who usually make a one-night migration stop-over in a bay on Cass Lake near the home of

Suicide

David Lawrence Asks:

What Is Present Mood of Voters?

WASHINGTON — Politics will be on people's minds this week in a few sections of the country where local elections are being held—but it's on the minds of the politicians here every week of the year.

LAWRENCE

Some evidence may emerge that will help to appraise national trends, but probably not enough to make a horizontal appraisal.

What is the present mood of the electorate? If the customary means of measurement were applied—selecting the basic issues and observing the natural reaction thereto—it might be said that the country today is in a dissatisfied but not by any means abnormal mood.

Every administration in power is the victim of day-by-day criticisms and complaints, as if all the ills of the hour can be cured by the highest officials in Washington merely by waving a magic wand and sweeping away the troubles, economic and international, that beset the country.

When election day arrives, however, there is always a sort of sober reflection as the voter asks himself whether things are as bad as they seem and whether any change in regime would really make them any better.

PERSONALITIES COUNT

What are the fundamental factors in the attitude of the voters toward elections of a national character? Personalities count much in local contests, but across the country a popular or even a more capable person can be beaten for the presidency by an unknown whose capacity has not been demonstrated. This is because issues are more controlling than personalities, assuming, of course, integrity and good character in any individual case.

The really important common denominators in American elections that have been revealed repeatedly as most influential are first, the economic condition of the country as it relates to the individual voter, and, second, the question of war or peace.

Curiously enough, if an emotional issue of a stirring nature arises such as an exposure of corruption, or proof that subversion has been tolerated, or that the nation's security is endangered, a subordination of the economic factor sometimes occurs. It all depends on whether the nation is in the midst of severe depression—when nothing else can counteract the vote against the party in power—or whether only a mild readjustment is going on in business, in which case other issues can play a more decisive role.

WAR OR PEACE?

But offsetting the spotty economic recession today the biggest emotional issue of our times is the question of war or peace. The main reason why Eisenhower won in 1952 was that the nation had become convinced that the Truman administration got the country into an unnecessary war in Korea, and that Ike would extricate America from that conflict—which he did.

The main reason, however, why Ike won in 1956 was that he still was regarded as a man who would work unceasingly to keep the nation out of war.

Emotional issues did play some part in 1952 in the talk about "corruption" and "softness toward communism," but these were fringe factors. There may be fringe factors of an emotional nature working against the Republicans next time.

Certainly if the presidential election were held today the Republicans would lose all types of the so-called border states—Virginia, Maryland, Kentucky, West Virginia, Missouri, Oklahoma, Tennessee. This is because the normally Republican vote in the rural areas has been lost either on farm issues or because of the emotional reaction to the Republican stand against segregation.

The rural communities in the border states which normally are Republican will take away more votes than the Republicans can possibly hope to gain from the anti-segregation blocs in the North.

HIGH COST COUNTS

In the cities the high cost of living may become almost the paramount influence in swinging voters away from the Republicans. It has done so before. The squeeze on profits of corporations is reflected in unemployment figures but the squeeze on the housewife's pocketbook is more potent politically.

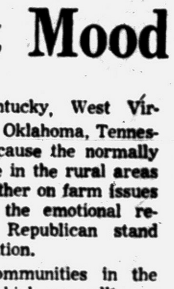

The one hope of the Republican administration is on the emotional side. Can the Republicans convince the country when election time comes that their party has not merely kept the peace but that any change in the White House might be hurtful? Foreign policy could dominate everything else.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Save Trouble by Knowing How to Treat Wounds

If a fresh wound is bleeding too freely, the best way to stop the bleeding is by gently holding the wound edges together under a gauze compress or pad of many layers of washed cheesecloth or a freshly ironed handkerchief or between thumb and fingers of one or both hands, until medical or hospital care can be had.

DR. BRADY

A minor wound which bleeds moderately usually heals best if it is not treated at all—provided it is protected from contamination or infection by fingers or hands, unsterilized dressings, soiled clothing, objects, flies.

If there is a possibility of any foreign matter being lodged or embedded in the flesh—be it street dust, gunpowder, wadding, a tiny bit of glass, metal, wood, or paper — it is not a minor wound. It is a major wound and it requires immediate surgical treatment — as a precaution against the development of tetanus (lockjaw).

More dangerous that such foreign matter in a wound is dead or damaged tissue; for such matter, even though it be a wee particle, is the best culture medium for the multiplication of any tetanus germs. (clostridium tetani) which may have been planted in the wound from the teeth or claws of animal or bird or from soil polluted by man, animals or birds (whose intestine is a natural habitat of the clostridium).

It is the toxin or poison produced by the tetanus germs that kills—not the germs.

"I'm so happy I don't know what to do—within two months after I began using the treatment you advise in your pamphlet my blackheads and pimples completely disappeared. Now my complexion is as clear as I could ever hope for . . (D. G., 17)."

Answer: I'm happy to know it, Dorothy. The pamphlet on Acne, Blackheads and Pimples is free to any one who asks for it and provides stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Day for Sabbath Still Undecided

Gladys is right that the Sabbath of the Bible is Saturday, and maybe the Catholic Church celebrates Sunday as the Sabbath because one of its Popes instituted it, but this does not hold true of all churches. I'm a Fundamentalist and our church and I believe all Protestant churches take Sunday as the Sabbath in memory of Christ's resurrection. I'd rather think the Catholic Church does the same because of Christ rather than because of what some man said.

Saved

Matthew 28:1 plainly shows the Sabbath is the seventh day, not just any day. I'm sure Christ knew which day was the true seventh and that he observed it. He kept the Sabbath the same day the Jews observed it.

We have a commandment to observe the Sabbath and if we break this one, we are guilty of breaking them all. James 2:10.

G. K. H.

Everyone is arguing about whether the Sabbath should be on Sunday, Saturday or what have you. It's true the Bible says it's the seventh day, but who's to say which day of the week is the first? Just because those who invented our calendar decided to put Sunday first does not mean that was the original first day.

It's Only Custom

The observance of Sunday as the Sabbath was not one divine edict as was the original Sabbath. That was God-made; Sunday was man-made by Roman Emperor Constantine. He wasn't a Christian, but he was interested in Christianity. He did one very good thing. He ended the 300-year persecution of Christians and later became a Christian himself. He was baptized on his deathbed in 323.

Criticizes Attitude on Nude Pictures

Figure studies are a part of every art course and photographic art does the same thing. A nude body in a refined pose is far less objectionable from the moral standpoint than many a bathing suit shot that even censors would be forced to O.K.

If we ban pictures of nude bodies, it will mean that a good share of the world's greatest art will be unprintable. The human body is a most wonderful and miraculous thing, adaptable to artistic composition of the finest lines and forms. What a pity so many viewers possess such coarse sensibilities.

DR. CRANE

"Daddy," she began at lunch yesterday, "do you suppose we might be going too far in offering free education to American children through high school?

"A lot of them are disinterested after the eighth grade and just fool around during high school.

"If we teach them to be good readers and to do simple arithmetic rapidly, isn't that the basic aim of public education?

"And couldn't that be done even before they graduate from the 8th grade?"

PUBLIC SCHOOL PROBLEMS

I reminded Judy that Dean E.T. McSwain, head of our Northwestern University School of Education, recently recommended that we stop the compulsory education of children at the end of Junior High (9th grade).

And I also told Judy that the State of South Carolina recently eliminated compulsory schooling at all ages, so she had some precedent for her idea.

"Daddy, why should we clutter up the curriculum with courses that duplicate things the kids will learn anyway without cost to taxpayers?

"For example, why teach girls to cook at the taxpayer's expense? After they can read, they can soon do a fair job of cooking just by studying the recipes in the newspaper or in any cook book!

"And after they become good readers, they can then depend on the newspaper the rest of their lives to keep them informed on history and politics, finance and all other daily problems of vital importance.

"Besides, a lot of high schoolers aren't sufficiently interested or possessed of enough I. Q., to carry high school courses. They are a drag on education, as leading professors have often admitted.

NEW SCHOOL POLICY

"So I'd suggest that we stop compulsory free schooling at the end of the eighth year of grade school.

"If the kids then wanted more education, fine. But they would have to pay tuition, just as I did in college.

"But I'd make this exception, namely, if the boys and girls had earned at least a 'B' average during their sixth, seventh and eighth grades in grammar school, then they would be entitled to free tuition in high school until they dropped below a 'B' average.

"This would make parents take far more interest in the school progress of their children. For Papa and Mama would then realize they'd be compelled to pay tuition for high school unless their boy or girl maintained that 'B' average in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

"And wealthy playboys in high school would all have to pay tuition if their averages fell below a 'B'.

"In this manner, we'd improve the morale of the kids as well as their grades. And teaching should be more pleasant for the teachers, too.

"Besides, the kids of low I.Q. and those who attend largely for athletics or to engage in horse play, would have to pay their own way.

"In Europe, I found that children have a more respectful and appreciative attitude toward school. We may have overly indulged our American children, so let's reduce the drain on our taxpayers.

"Deserving kids who make a 'B' average would still have free schooling through Senior High. The others would stop after the 8th grade or pay tuition thereafter."

Well, what do you readers think of Judy's challenge? Free public schooling is a late innovation in civilization. Are we going too far?

Parochial schools make the parents pay, even beginning at kindergarten.

Hospital Insurance Up

Security for You

Wife's Payment Half of Husband's Rate

By RAY HENRY

From Mrs. B. B. of Charlottesville, Va.: "When my husband retires and I'm eligible to draw Social Security payments, how big will they be? If he should die before then, how big will my payments be? I'll be 65 when my husband reaches that age."

Your payments as a wife could range from $15 a month to $54.30 a month. I can't give you an exact amount because you have not given me any idea of how much your husband's payments will be. The size of your payments are based on the size of his and will always be an amount equal to half of his.

Your payments as a widow after age 62 will be an amount equal to three-fourths of your husband's retirement payments, if he had lived to collect them.

From R. E. H. of Buffalo, N. Y.: "Does a person working for the Federal government under Civil Service have a compulsory retirement age?"

Yes. Any employe who has served at least 15 years is automatically separated for age retirement at the end of the month in which he reaches 70, unless he is continued in service by the President or the Civil Service Commission.

CITIZENSHIP NOT REQUISITE

From T. C. S. of Emporia, Kan.: "My father came to the United States about 1910 with my mother. He worked until two years ago when he died. He never became a citizen, nor did my mother. Is it possible for my mother to draw Social Security payments even though there is no citizenship for my mother and father?"

Citizenship has nothing to do with the right to draw Social Security payments in the United States.

From W. B. of New York City: "If a person has worked under Social Security ever since it started and has always paid the maximum Social Security tax, how much will his payments be when he retires?"

$108.50 a month.

From O. S. A. of Orlando, Fla.: "Would you please give me a short explanation of how earnings before age 72 affect the right to Social Security payments?"

You may lose one month's check for each $80 or fraction of $80 that you earn in excess of $1,200 in a year. However, you don't lose a check for any month in which you:

1. Neither earn more than $80 in wages, if you work for someone else,

2. Nor render substantial services in self-employment.

Whether you give substantial services in a self-employed job depends on how much actual work you perform on the job and other factors. Your Social Security office can give you the exact details if you're in doubt.

From A. F. of San Bernardino, Calif.: "I'm very near retirement age and drawing a small payment due to a disability I got during World War I. Will this payment affect my Social Security payments?"

No.

(Questions on Social Security problems may be addressed to "Social Security," in care of The Pontiac Press. Questions will be answered by mail from the Pontiac office of the Social Security Administration. There is no charge for this service.)

Venezuela Spends $70 Million on Roads

CARACAS The first phase of Venezuela's highway-building program is expected to be completed before the start of 1958.

After the roads now under construction are finished, the country will be crisscrossed with a network of paved highways permitting speeds up to 80 mph.

Several roads were completed in 1956 at a cost of more than $70,000,000, including the Pan American Highway, which runs 550 miles from Caracas to San Antonio de Tachira on the Colombian border.

This is now all paved and is 126 miles shorter than the old road. Also completed was 130 miles from Coro, in Falcon State, to Palmarejo, in Zulia State, on the eastern shore of Lake Maracaibo.

Wastes Little Time Observing 'Girls' ' Legs

DES MOINES (AP) — Pat Thompson, 8, overheard his parents discussing the propriety of very short shorts a young woman wore on a downtown street here.

"I'll admit she does have beautiful legs," said Mrs. Thompson.

"Yeh," Pat commented. "For a girl."

The Proxy Murder

By ERLE STANLEY GARDNER

Copyright 1957

THE STORY SO FAR: Jerry Conway is alarmed by an advertising campaign Gifford Farrell, a discharged employe, is conducting to obtain proxies and oust Conway at a stockholders' meeting. In a mysterious telephone call a woman calling herself Rosalind offers to supply Conway with a list of the proxies Farrell has acquired. Though he suspects a trap Conway agrees to follow directions. Asking the hotel clerk for a message for Gerald Boswell he obtains a key to a hotel suite for the meeting, but instead of finding Rosalind there's a young woman scantily attired with a mud pack on her face. She points a gun at Conway, which he takes from her. Since the gun has been recently fired Conway suspects a frame-up and calls Perry Mason, attorney. Mason and Paul Drake, detective, go to the hotel room and find a woman murdered. Mason traps Evangeline Farrell into admitting she is Rosalind. She is divorcing Gifford and wants to help Conway. Farrell must have given Conway the telephone directions that trapped him. Farrell is having an affair with Rose Calvert, a secretary. Mrs. Farrell obtains carbons of the proxy list from Rose's wastebasket. Mason calls on Rose's husband, learns Rose wants a divorce, sees her pictures, and tells him his wife was involved in a murder. Rose was afraid of Mrs. Farrell. Mason tells Paul Drake the body is that of Rose Calvert.

Chapter 19

"It will be this way, Paul," Mason said. "The police will decide to give my client the works. They'll check on Rose Calvert, and find out that during the last few weeks of her life she had been very, very much involved with Gifford Farrell. They will, therefore, jump at the conclusion that Farrell is my client. They'll descend on him, and they'll probably be rather inconsiderate and ungentle.

"Find out anything about that gun, Paul?"

"Not yet! That information is supposed to be available only during office hours, at least to the general public. However, I took it on myself to issue a gratuity of fifty dollars and I'm expecting . . ."

"Well, grab this coffee while it's hot," Della Street said, "and you can do your expecting right here."

Drake said dubiously, "I've been swigging down coffee all night."

Mason picked up one of the big mugs, put in sugar and cream, stood with his feet apart, leaning slightly forward. He picked up a doughnut with his left hand, raised the coffee mug to his lips with his right.

"How is it?" Della Street asked apprehensively.

"Couldn't be better," Mason said.

"I'm afraid it's stale and bitter."

"It's wonderful!"

Drake tasted his coffee, said "Well, you have to admit one thing, it's strong."

HE PULLED A FAST ONE

"I need it that way," Mason said. "At nine o'clock I'm going to have to face an irate district attorney, and by that time the police are going to feel I've pulled at least one fast one on them."

The telephone rang, and Della Street said, "That's probably your office calling you now, Paul."

Drake put down his coffee mug and picked up the telephone.

"Hello," he said, "yes, yes, this is Drake talking . . . How's that again . . ." Drake said, "Hold the phone a second." He looked up at Della Street, said, "Make a note, will you, Della? Pitcairn Hardware & Sporting Goods. Okay, I've got it. What's the date? September 2nd, three years ago. "Okay."

Drake hung up the telephone, said, "Well, we've got the gun located. I don't know whether this is going to do you any good or not, Perry."

"What do you mean?" Mason asked.

"The gun was sold to the Texas Global for the protection of a cashier. The signature was that of the cashier but the charge was made to the company itself, on an order made by Conway.

"You can see what that does. It brings that weapon right home to Jerry Conway."

Mason thought for a moment, then a slow grin suffused his features. "That," he said, "brings the gun right home to Gifford Farrell. Gifford Farrell was with the company at that time, and was taking a very active part in the office management."

"What do you think happened?" Della Street asked.

Mason stood holding his doughnut in one hand, his coffee mug in the other.

"What I think happened is that Gifford Farrell had a fight with his sweetheart and probably caught her cheating. He lost his head, pulled a gun and fired. Or it may have been that Rose Calvert found Gifford was cheating and committed suicide.

"In any event Farrell must have had Conway's telephone tapped. He knew that Conway was going to a public telephone booth to get directions at six-fifteen. Farrell took a chance. He had a girl call in at six-twelve and Conway was there a few minutes early waiting for the other call. So Conway took the wrong message and was gone by the time the real message came in.

"Conway was just like a guided missile that's being directed by radio. When he got to a certain point someone with another more powerful radio stepped in, took control and sent the missile off on an entirely new path."

"Well," Drake said, "it's a two-edged sword. Remember that both Farrell and Conway could have had access to the fatal weapon."

"It's all right," Mason said, "unless . . ."

CONWAY GOT SMART

"Unless," Mason said, "Conway got smart and decided to . . . No, he wouldn't do anything like that . . . However, I didn't take the number of the gun when he first showed it to us. It wasn't until after he was down at the motel I wrote down the number . . . Anyway it's all right. We'll go down to see the D.A. in the morning, and there'll be nothing to it. He can't make a case against Conway now, and he's going to be afraid to try. What did you find out about checkouts, Paul?"

"There was only one checkout at the hotel between six and nine from the seventh floor."

"What time was that checkout, Paul?"

"About six-fifty."

"Who was it?"

"A young woman named Ruth Culver."

"The room number?" Mason asked.

"Seven twenty-eight."

"Where is that with reference to seven twenty-nine?"

"Directly across the hall."

"Have you got that room sewed up?" Mason asked.

"I have an operative in it right now. He'll stay until we give him the word."

"What have you found out about the Culver girl?"

"I've got men working on her. She's in the twenties with auburn hair, a fairly good-looking babe. Here's the strange thing, Perry. She checked in about ten in the morning, then left at around seven that night."

"Did she make any explanation as to how she happened to check out at that time?"

"She said she'd had a long distance call. Her father who lives in San Diego is very ill."

"Baggage?" Mason asked.

"Quite a bit of it."

Mason said, "Check the San Diego planes, Paul. Find out if one of them had a passenger named Ruth Culver, and . . ."

"Now look," Drake interrupted, "you don't have to do all my thinking for me, Perry. That's routine. However, the clerk thinks this girl said she was going to drive down."

Della Street turned the silver spigot and let coffee trickle into the mug.

"What about your operative up in Room 728? Can I trust him?" Mason asked.

"You can trust him unless the police start putting pressure on him," Drake said. "None of these operatives is going to stand up to the police, Perry. They need the good will of the police to keep working."

"What's the name of this operative in Room 728?"

"Fred Inskip."

"Does he know me?"

"I don't think so."

"Give him a ring," Mason said. "Tell him that I'm going to come up some time before noon. Tell him to leave the door unlocked. I want to take a look in there. How about the police? Have they cleared out?"

"They've cleared out," Drake said. "They sealed up Room 729."

East Germans Say Allies Misuse Air

BERLIN (AP) — An East German Communist newspaper today accused the Western Big Three of misusing their air corridors to isolate West Berlin.

The Berliner Zeitung, apparently speaking with the sanction of the satellite regime, claimed the Allied right of free air access guaranteed by Russia in 1945 was only temporary. It charged the Allies were flying in and out of Berlin persons "working illegally against the German Democratic Republic."

The paper demanded that France, Britain and the United States come to a reasonable air traffic accord with East Germany. Allied officials said this looked like another effort to pressure the West into recognizing the East German regime.

In September, 1955, the Russians unilaterally canceled the 1945 four-power air accord but the Allies have never recognized it.

NAACP Tries Legal Escape

Seeks Restraining Order Against New Ordinance in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Arkansas chapter of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People attempted to squeeze out of a legal stranglehold today as the tortuous Little Rock integration crisis entered its third month.

A hearing was scheduled in U.S. District Court on a motion by the NAACP for a temporary restraining order against enforcement of a new Little Rock ordinance.

The law, obviously aimed at the NAACP, requires certain organizations to submit confidential files to the city clerk. Three pro-segregationist organizations did so before last Thursday's deadline. The NAACP did not.

Two known officials, Mrs. L. C. Bates and the Rev. J. C. Crenchaw, later surrendered to police. They were released on $300 bond each.

"Something will come out at today's federal hearing," said Mrs. Bates, NAACP state president, last night.

NAACP officials view the new ordinance as an attempt to cripple their organization by exposing membership lists in the midst of an emotionally charged racial controversy.

Meantime, nine Negro students prepared for their sixth week of classes today at 2,000-pupil Central High School. Last week they went to and from the school without escort. A skeleton force of federal soldiers remains at Central.

India recently returned to the United States 50 million fine ounces of silver as partial payment for lend-lease aid given during the last war.

Junior Editors Quiz on POLITICS

QUESTION: Why do the elephant and the donkey symbolize our political parties?

ANSWER: Politicians and editors like to have a symbol to represent a political party because such a symbol makes plain at once just what party it is that they are talking about or writing about.

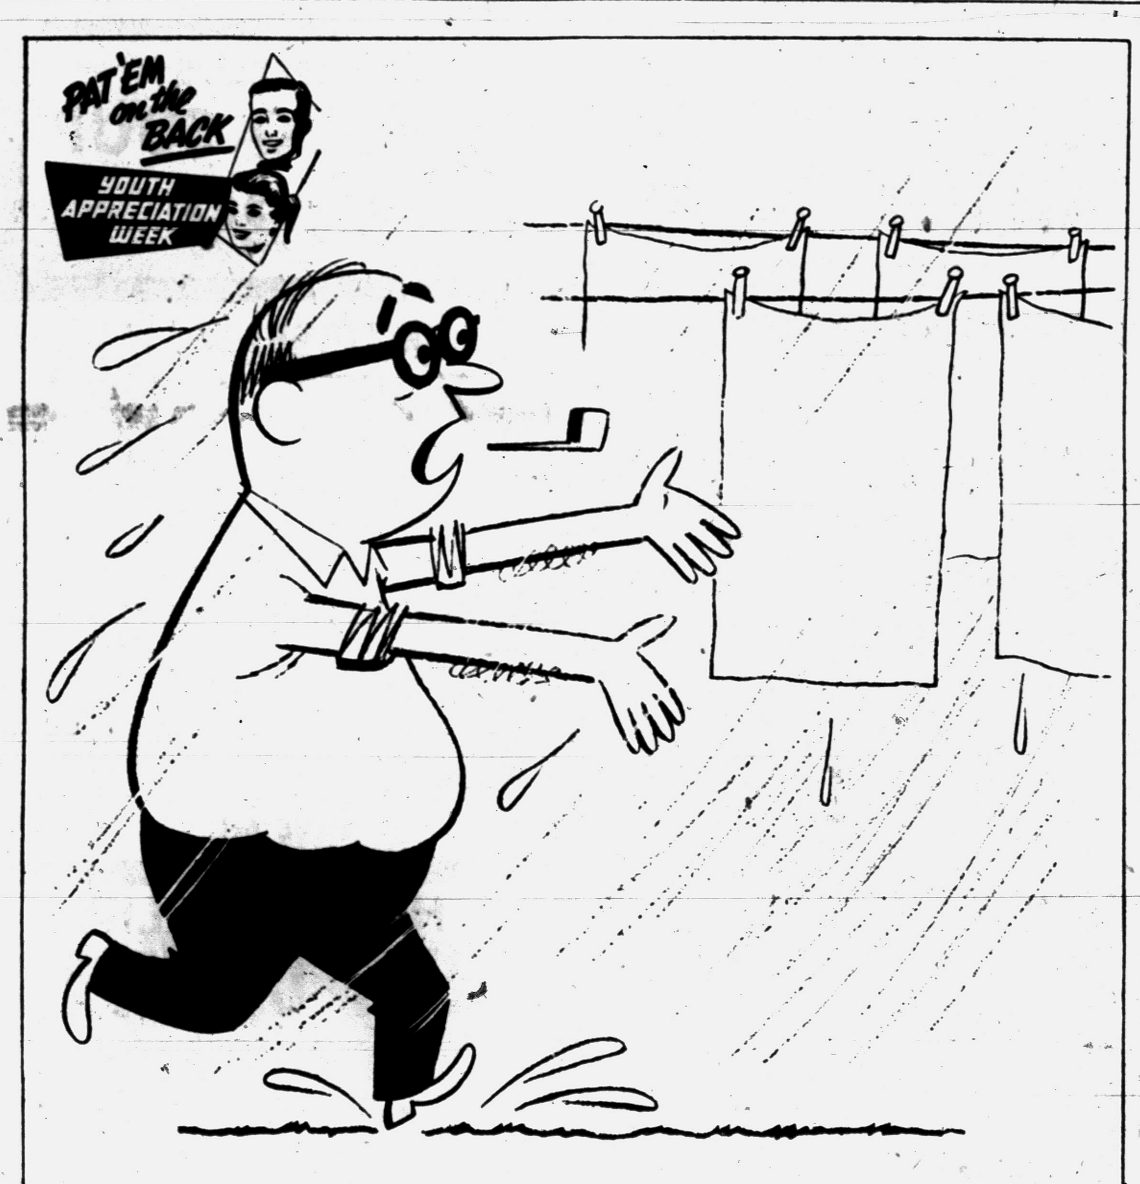

The donkey became the symbol of the Democratic party and the elephant became the symbol of the Republican party nearly 100 years ago, after first being used that way by a famous political cartoonist named Thomas Nast. Nast was so well known that most anything of the sort he did was apt to be adopted generally. For instance, it was Nast who first pictured Santa Claus as we know him today. Artists have been following his lead ever since.

FOR YOU TO DO: With election time near, color this elephant and donkey if you wish and paste on cardboard. Cut around on outline, fold bottom panel forward, small panel back and it will stand up. Also watch newspapers and magazines and see how often you see these symbols used.

Seeks to Help Brilliant Student

President of Cal Tech Calls Program Needed to Bolster Scientists

CHICAGO (INS) — A leading educator believes the granting of special opportunities for the few "brilliant and creative" science students will greatly strengthen the nation's scientific program.

Dr. Lee A. Dubridge, president of the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena, backed up his idea last night at the engineering and scientific education conference in Chicago by declaring:

"The major new ideas of the next decade will come from a dozen minds; the major advances in putting those ideas to work will come from a few hundred exceptionally able and well-trained scientists and engineers."

Dr. Dubridge told the 300 educators who are seeking ways of narrowing the 2-to-1 superiority of Russia in turning out scientists that "while we are educating 100 students, we should not fail to find and encourage and give special attention to 'The One.'"

The Cal Tech president also suggested that a few top schools should be chosen to get the most out of these outstanding students by giving them "a supremely challenging program."

To get a first-rate faculty in these schools as well as the other universities and colleges is another big problem, Dubridge said.

He urged the realization of the second report of the President's Commission on Education beyond the high school which flatly recommends that average salaries for college instructors should be "doubled in the next five to 10 years."

The educator said that since the brilliant student cannot always be picked out early and since there must be a broad base of scientists and technologists to back up his work, "we must provide opportunities for many."

Dr. Dubridge reported that in 1956 there were 2,300,000 enrolled in 1,800 colleges and universities. In 1972, he said, there will be a 70 per cent increase to 3,900,000 collegians.

According to present estimates, in order to provide physical facilities for the students, $15 billion will have to be spent.

He asserted if American Telephone and Telegraph can spend a billion dollars a year for new plans, the nation surely should be able to expend a like amount for education, which is the "foundation of national strength."

Group to Propose Ordinance to City

11 P.M. May Be Curfew for City's Teens

By SYLVIA de STEIGER

Pontiac teenagers will have to be off the streets by no later than 11 p.m. if the city commission approves a curfew ordinance now being drawn up by a group of parents and students.

And curfew violations will find the parents in as much, or more, trouble as their children.

Donnie Smith Jr., junior and senior high school counselor, reports that a committee of five parents and three junior high school students, selected to represent the Pontiac Council of PTA, have set up a proposed city curfew ordinance which will be presented to the city commission Tuesday night.

The ordinance, based on a model curfew ordinance published by the Michigan Municipal League, sets a 10 p.m. curfew for all youngsters under 16 years old and 11 p.m. as the deadline for all 16 to 17 years old, from Sunday through Thursday night.

The curfew would be extended to midnight on Friday and Saturday nights for both groups.

The parent or guardian will be the ones to blame if their youngster violates the curfew, according to the proposed ordinance. The parents could be penalized a minimum fine of $10 and a maximum of $50 and-or a minimum of three days to a maximum of 30 days in jail.

PROBLEM CHILDREN

If a parent realizes he can not control his child to abide by the curfew, he will probably not be penalized if he has notified the police previously regarding the problem child, Smith explained.

The proposed law is modeled after a loitering-type ordinance which affords greater flexibility, he added. It provides that no child shall "idle, wander, stroll or play upon the streets or in public places during the hours of curfew."

The committee was organized early this week in protest of the present 1915 outdated and unreasonable city ordinance which requires youngsters under 16 to be off the streets by 8 p.m. during school months and 9 p.m. during the summer.

LIST COMMITTEES

Committee members who drew up the proposed ordinance include: Smith, John F. Perdue, principal of Bagley elementary school and youth chairman of the council; Mrs. William Mihalek, council president; Mrs. William Anderson, council first vice president, and L. D. McLaughlin, council juvenile protection chairman.

The students who are members of the Parent Teacher Student Association and the curfew committee include: Peggy Weeks, of 15369 Lakeview St., Washington Junior High School; Terry Braun, 250 Chamberlain Ave., Eastern Junior High School and Donald Curtiss, 681 Third St., Madison Junior High School.

This committee will meet with student representatives from Lincoln and Jefferson Junior High Schools and Pontiac Senior High School Monday to receive their approval of the proposed ordinance and make final plans for the Tuesday night city commission meeting.

All PTA youth protection chairman are requested to meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Bagley Elementary School for an explanation of the new proposed ordinance by Perdue.

Jehangir Diamond History Recalled

LONDON — The 83-carat Jehangir Diamond, which sold recently at a London auction for about $40,000, dates back at least to the early 17th century, New Delhi reports.

Unitil it was sold to a London firm of auctioneers it belonged to the Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, India. Its new owner is the Greek shipping magnate Stavros Niarchos but its original owner, as far as known, was Jehangir, who ruled the Mogul empire from 1606 to 1627 A.D.

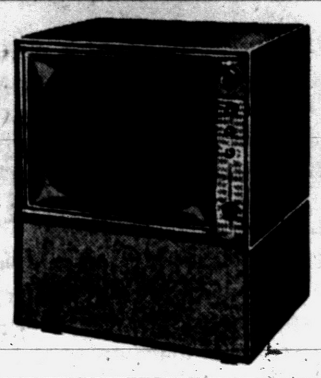

Its history was unknown until two Persian inscriptions engraved on it were translated in the office of India's director-general of archaeology. One inscription carries the name of Jehangir and the date 1021 of the Hegira—the year of the flight of the Prophet Mohammed from Mecca.

Frisco Mayor Says He Won't Quit Race

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — George Christopher, San Francisco's mayor, insists he'll run for the Republican Senate nomination next year no matter what Gov. Goodwin Knight does.

But Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown, declared candidate for the Democratic governor nomination, commented:

"Does anyone seriously believe that the same forces that shunted the governor into the Senate race won't be able to keep Mr. Christopher out of it?"

Published reports say Knight has pulled out of the contest with Sen. William F. Knowland for the Republican nomination for governor and will instead seek Knowland's Senate seat. Knight, in vacation seclusion, has not denied the reports.

Greater Cooperation Sought

2nd Sputnik Adds Urgency to Western Science Pool

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (UP) — Russia's launching of a second satellite added urgency today to the Eisenhower administration's slowly developing drive for a pooling of Western scientific brainpower and greater cooperation among Allied nations.

A new Soviet achievement in outer space flight had been anticipated following the launching of the first satellite a month ago and was somewhat discounted in advance. Nevertheless officials recognized that it afforded fresh evidence of Russia's lead in the missiles field—a matter of great military as well as scientific significance.

The impact of this second rocket triumph on world opinion is offset somewhat, however, by the Moscow announcement Saturday that Marshal Georgi Zhukov had been stripped of all his political authority as well as the position of defense minister which he had lost a week ago.

The United States immediately pointed up Zhukov's ouster as significant evidence of the existence of "stresses and strains" in the Soviet system.

Officials said privately that this removal of one of Russia's top war heroes and greatest military leaders from the ruling group in which he had seemed to be a powerful figure was convincing proof that the whole Soviet system is subject to great political instability.

Insofar as Russia's military power is concerned, this means the existence of a worrisome element of uncertainty for free world leaders in estimating what course the Soviet Union may follow over even a relatively short time.

Officials also said that this fact, together with Russia's progress in missile science, makes it more important than ever for the Allied powers to begin moving actively along the line which President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan laid down here 10 days ago.

Responding to the challenge of the first Sputnik and Russia's earlier claim to the successful firing of an intercontinental missile, they called on the free world and particularly the NATO allies to pool resources. This aim was fixed in order to overtake the Soviet lead in space science and to prepare for a long continuation of the cold war. It is to promote work toward these goals that Eisenhower plans to attend a NATO summit conference at Paris in December.

The State Department is rushing preparation of plans for specific proposals to be made by the President at that time. It also seems probable that he will then be able to announce a U.S. decision to stockpile atomic arms in Europe for use by the Allied forces there should war come.

Has U.S. Fumbled in Use of Scientists?

WASHINGTON (UP) — A House group starts hearings today on whether there's fumbling in the government's use of its scientists and engineers.

The inquiry, by the Manpower Utilization subcommittee of the House Civil Service Committee, was arranged months ago, long before Russia's two satellite launchings turned increased attention toward this country's scientific efforts.

Committee sources said the probe will look into interservice rivalry over missile development, the dual supervision of military and civilian personnel and the duplication of responsibility.

Summoned as the first witness was William H. Francis Jr., asstiant secretary of defense for manpower, personnel and reserve.

Rep. Davis (D-Ga), subcommittee chairman, asked the Civil Service Commission more than a year ago for a study to see if every scientist and engineer on the federal payroll had a full chance to use his technical training.

Visiting Editors Report on California Fashions

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, Pontiac Press

Fashion and women's editors from all over the United States arrived in Los Angeles yesterday to report on latest fashion trends from the West Coast.

As guests of the California Fashion Creators at their seventh annual National Press Week, we're at our headquarters in the Beverly Hilton Hotel. Sunday night we were given a reception in the hotel's Cadoro Room hosted by the manufacturers and designers.

We'll be able to give you an actual account of fashions as we see them on Tuesday. (We haven't seen any of the dresses as yet). In the meantime let's look into trends from California for 1958.

The silhouette is relaxed, with the chemise best defining this new look. It is not a "sack," but rather there is a flexible look above the waist with a fitted lower torso, explain the California designers. The beginning of this look was in the bloused-top clothes in the spring and resort collections.

We've learned that attention is given to the skirt, where a more rounded look prevails, and where bows, back-paneling or spherical cut draws the eye away from the top of the figure.

Waistlines are wavering, but are most often lowered or, if natural, have a lower echo in a banded hipline. The wrapped or twisted waist is another look, with crushed cummerbunds on dresses and sports clothes.

MRS. CLEMENCE

Back interest will be even more important this year, with low backs or no backs at all in dresses, swimsuits and playclothes. (Note the pictures on these pages). Back panels, loops, cascades o fabric from waist to hem, bows and fishtail insets are used to create "after" effects.

DARING PLUNGES

Halter, cowled and squared necklines will be prevalent in every collection and the daring plunges and large standaway collars will continue in importance.

Dresses will be shorter in California this year, by about 1 inch. And they will be narrower, with many harem-draped. Some evening fashions will have uneven hemlines tending toward the upward look.

Cottons and silks highlight the fashion fabric scene, with linen vying for importance. Colors, they tell us, are like fresh garden fruits and vegetables such as artichoke green, carrot orange, eggplant purple and tomato red.

Designers believe that in 1958 new fashion orbits will be established and that an era of change has now begun. Defending the new look which smacks of the roaring '20s, designers admit that fashion repeats itself and that there is a similarity but that it stops short of an actual copy.

Even though the hemlines move, waistlines wander and necklines retreat to the rear, California promises wearable and exciting clothes this season.

(More About California Fashions Tuesday)

This is the look for spring and resort wear, claims California designer Eddy George. This chemise, with its unfitted waistline, is done for Casual Time of California in a silk broadcloth stripe, accented at the hipline by a horizontal trio of matching stripes.

"Roman Holiday" is the name of this ribbon sheath by Pat Premo. The back is bared low and a windfall of divided loops cascade down the skirt. Soft drawstring forms the front neckline of the multi-colored dress.

Gals Take Vital Role in Defense

Women in Uniform Aided by Advisory Committee

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of five Washington Letters on the women's branches of the armed forces.)

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — It took time, but people finally got used to seeing women in uniform during World War II years.

Now some people are wondering why the women don't get back into more feminine attire and take other jobs or get married.

Truth is, women still have a vital place in the nation's defense picture. This is one of the main reasons the Defense Advisory Committee on Women in the Services remains in existence.

BEATING THE DRUMS

This committee of leading civilian women, first set up by the secretary of defense in 1951 to help in recruiting for the WAC, WAVES, WAF, Women Marines and nurse and medical specialist corps, still is beating the drums for the woman in uniform.

Miss Margaret Divver of Boston, advertising manager of one of the country's largest insurance companies and current committee chairman, says each committee woman in her particular field of interest and geographical area is working toward public acceptance of the idea of military service for women as a "facet of good citizenship."

Specifically, said Miss Divver, they are trying to bring home to the public that women in uniform are doing some important military jobs that must be done.

Besides carrying out a unified program of public education in behalf of all women in the services, the committee advises the Department of Defense on policies relating to servicewomen.

SETS STANDARDS

Members are appointed by the secretary of defense to serve three years. Each year a new chairman is appointed.

The committee as a whole meets twice a year in Washington, where permanent headquarters are maintained in the Pentagon under direction of an executive secretary. This job rotates among the services.

Lt. Col. Elizabeth Ray of the Air Force is the present executive secretary. Her job is to assist and advise the chairman and act as liaison between the committee and the Department of Defense.

Catalina's "Moon Madness" exemplifies the trend to the slender swim sheath with a halter plunging neckline and back completely bare to the waist. The black boucle lastex is flecked with silver, reflecting the trend to opulent fabrics.

State BPW Names Woman of Year

EAST LANSING (AP) — Mrs. Marguerite Irene Wilson has been named "Business and Professional Woman of the Year in Michigan."

* * *

Mrs. Wilson, who is acting postmaster at Lincoln Park, was chosen by the Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Michigan at the end of a two-day meeting here yesterday.

* * *

Mrs. Joan Bassett of Muskegon was second and Miss Lillian Hogue of Detroit was third in the judging.

This plaid lastex creation, sans bagpipes, has a low V-type back which captures the style headlines for 1958. The suit is by Maurice Handler of California.

From Elaine Terry's shipboard romance collection comes this short-sleeved white denim sheath with striped V inset topped by a bright red cardigan jacket.

Lackluster Hair

Hair that has lost its luster may not be traced to the wrong shampoo. It may be accompanied by a rough skin and a more tired-than-usual feeling. If this is true, check to see if you are eating properly and getting sufficient rest.

Get Perfect Fit

If you've been used to wearing open-toed shoes, you may find it difficult to adjust to the new, pointed, closed shoes. The trick is to make sure that the ball of your foot and the ball of the shoe fit perfectly.

Short Nails Best

Women with chubby feet may find that the new, pointed shoes are not for them. Similarly, the long-nailed pedicure doesn't take to the pointed shoe. To wear the new styles, you'll have to forego those long toenails.

Reducing Improves His Appearance and Health

Tubby Hubby Benefits From Diet, Exercise

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Men are prone to want their women slim, but are satisfied with their own rotund figures. Yet overweight affects their appearance just as it does a woman's. It also shortens their life expectancy. Statistics prove the latter and the mirror will tell a man that extra padding adds years to the impression he gives.

The idea that men should have no personal vanity is passe and instead, an interest in physical fitness has become popular.

When a man counts calories he should not cut his intake as low as his wife's. Men require more food because of their greater stature. My reducing diet for men has around 1,600 calories a day.

The average sedentary man who is overweight should cut down on starches, leave off fat meat and gravy, forget oils, pies and other rich desserts. He should consume a varied diet which contains whole grain products, skimmed milk, eggs, lean meat and many fruits and vegetables.

At noon a cup of vegetable soup, broiled fish and a baked potato filling and nutritious and not too high in calories if the man in question goes easy on butter.

SPECIAL EXERCISES

Exercise is just as important for a man as it is for a woman. Golf on weekends is splendid but this does not take the place of special exercises. Men usually like the following one:

Lie on the floor on your back with your arms resting on the floor at your sides. Lift both legs as you raise your arms and trunk.

Exercise is just as important for a man as it is for a woman. Men usually like this one: Lift both legs as you raise your trunk. Touch the fingertips to toes.

Touch the fingertips to the toes. Return arms, trunk and legs to the floor. Continue.

If you men would like to lose from 7 to 12 pounds in 12 days' time, you may want my Tubby Hubby Reducing Diet booklet. If so, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

I write more often about overweight women than those who are too slim because overweight is a health hazard. Also, those with too many pounds are more uncomfortable and more unhappy with their figures.

However, periodically I begin receiving wails of despair from the thin gals. They feel that I have neglected them. Today I am going to give you a quick review of first aids to gaining those coveted pounds.

5 SMALLER MEALS

1. Eat five smaller meals a day rather than three large ones. Two of these can consist of snacks such as cheese and crackers and fresh fruit and milk.

One pleasant plan is to have a meal of this sort before going to sleep at night, and to drink a malted milk shake at midafternoon. The habit of adding ice cream to soft drinks is most palatable and piles up the calorie count.

2. Try to cut all hurry out of your life—even if you have to get up earlier in the morning!

3. Take short rest periods if it is possible. It is a good idea to lie down in a room alone and relax completely before meals, at least before your heaviest meal.

4. Vitamin B complex seems to help with a gain of weight.

5. You must have plenty of sleep; at least eight hours as a regular habit.

6. Most underweight folks are tense and high strung. For this reason, swimming is a wonderful help in putting on pounds because it is so relaxing. Swim indoors this winter!

EXERCISES HELPFUL

7. Mild exercises, especially the stretching and deep-breathing exercises, will be helpful. You may also need those which build up the bust measurement and the calves.

8. Be sure to eat a well-balanced diet. Do not try to stuff with rich foods and neglect the vitamin-rich fruits and vegetables. Even though these are low in calorie count they are essential not only to health but to gaining. Vitamin deficiency is one reason for underweight.

If you would like to have my menus for gaining weight, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 41 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tamale Pie Has 2 Kinds of Corn in It

Mrs. Hopkins Bakes Cornmeal Batter on Spicy Beef Mixture

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Have company coming for lunch or Sunday night supper? This Cornbread Tamale Pie makes a good main dish. It serves 12 easily and needs only a salad and a dessert.

Mrs. Clair Hopkins of Clarkston served it at a luncheon for her Past Matrons group recently. She is a member of the Eastern Star. Crocheting is her hobby.

CORNBREAD TAMALE PIE
By Mrs. Clair Hopkins

1 pound ground beef
1 large chopped onion
1 can condensed tomato soup
2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon chili powder
1 can whole kernel corn
½ cup chopped green pepper

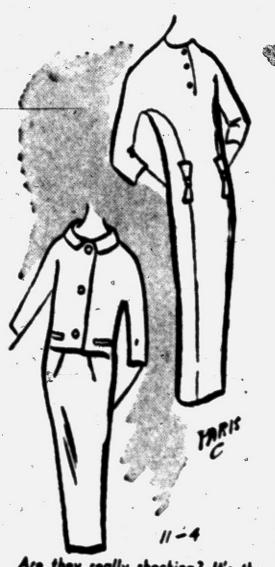

Brown meat and onion. Add soup, water and seasonings. Put in corn and green pepper. Simmer for 15 minutes. Cover with a cornmeal batter. Bake 20-25 minutes in a 425-degree oven.

Cornmeal Batter

¾ cup cornmeal
1 tablespoon flour
1 tablespoon sugar
1 beaten egg
1 tablespoon melted fat
½ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ cup milk

Mix all ingredients together and pour over prepared meat mixture.

The recent Inventors Fair in Paris revealed that the French have built a helicopter on skis.

Are they really shocking? It's the same silhouette as pullover and straight skirt. Back or front buttoning makes the chemise wearable.

Grass Stains Now Removed From Garments

KINGSTON, R. I. (INS) — Stubborn grass stains can be removed safely from most washable clothing if the treatment is suited to the fabric.

Mrs. Mary E. Jacobson, extension economist at the University of Rhode Island, suggests rubbing soap or synthetic detergent into the stain, and then washing the garment.

If tests on the inside edge of a seam or other hidden part of the garment shows that alcohol won't affect the dye, sponge the stain with alcohol. On acetate fabrics, dilute the alcohol with water.

Sodium perborate bleach may be used for stubborn stains. Sprinkle the moist stain with bleach, gently cover the garment with a solution of one tablespoon of sodium perborate per pint of water, and let it soak for several hours. Use cool water for wool, silk and Dynel, and hot water for other washable fabrics. Rinse well. If the grass stain persists, you can use stronger sodium perborate on the stain and dip it into very hot or boiling water. Rinse well and repeat if necessary.

Many of the new gas incinerators feature a pedal that controls the opening and closing of the trap door for garbage, leaving both hands free to carry and dump. What a quick and easy system to dispose of refuse!

Crocheted from soft chenille and trimmed with sparkling sequins, this lovely hat and ascot set are ideal for date-time wear. (Or make it from knitting worsted and trim with a pretty pin for everyday costumes!)

Pattern No. 5830 contains crochet directions for both hat and ascot; material requirements; stitch illustrations.

Ask Friend to Be Sure About Book

Owner Doubts That Borrowed Volume Was Returned

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: About six months ago I loaned a friend a book which cannot be easily replaced. She said she returned it to me but I've searched high and low for it and cannot find it. I don't remember her ever having returned it.

"I really hate to lose this book, and I think she probably put it somewhere for safekeeping and just thinks she returned it to me. Would it seem accusing if I asked her to please look again for the book? I would greatly appreciate any advice you can give me."

Answer I think you can risk saying to her, "Do you know, I have looked everywhere for that book and cannot find it? Would you mind looking again to be sure you haven't still got it?"

"Dear Mrs. Post: When lunching or dining with a friend who dislikes alcoholic beverages, is it discourteous to order a cocktail before dinner if you happen to enjoy it, or must you forego this pleasure in deference to your nondrinking friend? I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: Most people who do not themselves take any alcoholic drink have no objection to their friends doing so. Unless you know she does not want anyone to drink in her presence you may certainly order the cocktail you wish.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I was called away from home because of illness in my family. I was gone about a month and during my absence many friends and neighbors showed my husband considerable hospitality by inviting him to meals, or sending food into the house.

"Now that I am back, I am wondering if there is anything I should do to show proper appreciation for these kindnesses?"

Answer: It is not necessary to do anything except, when you see your friends, to second your husband's thanks for their kindness to him while you were away.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When served tea in a cup that has no handles—such as those used in Chinese restaurants—should it be held in one hand or, two?"

Anwer: You pick the cup up with both hands.

Treat Humiliated Child With Forgiveness

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Unamused, John's mother said, "Good gracious, how would you like it if Sister treated your things like this?" Then she sent Wes home; and after ordering John to help her tidy his sister's dressing table, told him he'd have to spend the rest of the afternoon in his room.

Shortly before supper, she went back upstairs. To John, she said, "Now this punishment is over. Daddy and I have missed you. So we want you to come back downstairs to us and look at some TV cartoons."

She did not say "How would you like to come back downstairs and watch TV?"

For she knew that when you've been punished, pride makes it hard to confess your wish to rejoin the family community. As a person hurt by its disapproval, you fear to expose yourself to more of it.

So you cannot jump up joyfully from your wounding isolation, crying, "Oh, thank you for taking me off the hook! Indeed, I want very much to return to your good graces."

How we deal with a child who has been humiliated by punishment is as important to our tranquility as it is to his.

The Biblical text for parents approaching a child after punishment always is, "God requires that which is past."

With its moral authority, we can reject the uncertainty that so often scares us into moralizing over his misdeed — and impels us into those cowardly questions that try to force him to admit his wish to return to the family fold. It enables us to take the initiative for him by inviting him back.

Gradually as he gains more experience of our genuine forgiveness, he can trust us with his wish for it. But until this growth is made, it is unfair to try and pry it out of him.

Hair Style Important to Women

Both Scalp, Hair Must Be Kept in Good Condition

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

We all know it is impossible for a woman to be truly smart unless her hair is well styled. But even the most beautifully styled hairdo will not be successful if the hair and scalp are not in good condition.

* * *

There is little excuse today for dingy hair, unless it is caused by some serious scalp trouble that requires medical attention. If you have no scalp disorder, shop around to find which of the many excellent shampoos and hair conditioners suit your hair best and use them faithfully. You will find that your hair will become springy, alive and easy to manage.

Don't try to cut your hair at home. Get a good professional haircut. It's well worth the expense, for a style that is created just for you will minimize many beauty flaws.

Most of the current hair styles are simple to care for. With the use of non-lacquer sprays, they can be kept in place from one shampoo to the next, with no additional setting required during the week.

A home permanent is another excellent aid for keeping your hairdo in place. It will give body to the hair and hold the setting more firmly.

The home wave, which at one time was such a bother to apply, is now a good deal simpler and less messy to handle.

One of the home wave manufacturers offers a new applicator that applies both lotion and neutralizer to the hair. This beauty helpmate is a pink plastic, squeeze - type bottle that holds enough lotion and neutralizer to finish each operation, so that you needn't bother filling and refilling halfway through each step. It is topped with a removable sponge exactly the width of one curl. This sponge spreads on the lotion in one easy, even stroke, thus eliminating combing, sqirting and dripping.

When the curls are wound and soaked with lotion, simply remove the sponge top and you'll find eight tiny spray tips. Refill the bottle with neutralizer and spray it right into the heart of the curl.

With modern hair sprays, lovely color tints, easy-to-give home waves and hairdressings that bring out beautiful highlights, there is no need for anyone to have dull, lifeless hair.

Make use of them all, and remember to brush your hair religiously. Lovely hair is the frame for a pretty face and is a far greater contributing factor to beauty than the loveliest clothes or the most expensive cosmetics.

Ike, Harry Spotlighted With Voice

NEW YORK (INS)—Dwight D. Eisenhower, Harry S. Truman and Frank Sinatra today rubbed narrow shoulders on the nation's best-dressed men list.

The nation's President was picked by the Custom Tailors Guild of America as the best-dressed man in politics, while Harry S. Truman won top honors in the field of statesmen.

Sinatra represented the motion picture field, while Guy Lombardo was called the best outfitted in the music industry, Ricardo Montalban, currently starring in the Broadway musical, "Jamaica," got the nod in the theater.

U. S. Ambassador to the U.N. Henry Cabot Lodge was picked as the best-dressed American at the U. N., Beverly Hills investment broker Earl Cohen topped the financial world in sartorial splendor, while Larry Mack, head of Slenderella International, represented business, Chicago's NBC-TV favorite Howard Miller was chosen from the television field and Joseph P. Kennedy of Boston and New York won in the society field.

The farthest north Lafayette traveled in the United States was to Portland, Maine.

DELUXE SKID TRAILER — Designed to be towed behind a light truck is this "skid trailer" developed by General Motors Proving Ground staffers for checking the coefficient of friction or "skidability" of all types of pavement surfaces. The drums in the back of the truck provide water to wet the highway being tested.

Skid Trailer to Test Friction Coefficient

General Motors Proving Grounds staff members at Milford have developed a simple, inexpensive "skid trailer" for measuring the "skidability" of road surfaces.

Formally known as a "road coefficient of friction trailer," the device is an assembly of truck and auto parts from any parts department or junkyard.

Assistant Proving Ground Director Kenneth A. Stonex and Experimental Engineer Paul C. Skeels deliberatedly designed the unit from salvage materials so any highway department could duplicate and operate it at low cost.

Already the Michigan State Highway Department has built a duplicate unit and other highway agencies have inquired about it. In fact, in two weeks of operating over rural and city pavements in an eastern state, the trailer made 4,000 tests

"We estimate we skidded the trailer wheels at least 27 miles during those runs," Skeels declared.

"We believe anything we can do to help highway people with safety checks of road surfaces will certainly help our automotive people," Skeels said. "This unit can be towed anywhere in the traffic flow, uphill or downhill. Other devices used to require blocking off stretches of road, interfering with traffic."

A little more than three years ago Skeels and Stonex began working on their trailer idea when GM was planning new roads for its private network. The problem was to check surface coefficients of friction to compare various types of concrete and bituminous materials.

First they used a large tank truck operating in tandem with a standard automobile. The auto braked only with its rear wheels, whenever the tank truck doused a section of the road with water. Strain gauges measured the forces developed between the road surface and the skidding rear tires.

This technique indicated immediately the comparative slipperiness of various surfaces particularly when wet — the friction coefficient between tire and road.

"This was a rather slow and awkward way to do the job," Skeels admitted, "so we tried doing it with a standard light truck pulling a trailer. Moreover, we realize information we were getting about our own roads was an important safety factor that certainly would interest highway engineers."

The new unit consists of water tanks (converted oil drums) on the truck. Water is piped to two spouts in front of the trailer wheels. As the unit cruises along the highway, the operator in the truck cab merely flicks a switch that squirts water under the trailer wheels and locks the trailer brakes.

As the trailer wheels skid, the coefficient of friction is instantly registered on a dial in the truck cab in front of the operator. In some runs, Skeels said, the "skid trailer" has checked road surfaces every one-tenth of a mile.

Skeels pointed out that surface friction coefficients vary not only with the type of materials used but also from the constant polishing action of automobile and truck tires on heavily traveled stretches. The "skid trailer" enables highway engineers to detect these changes from tire polishing action and resurface slippery spots.

Washington Chores Behind—C. E. Wilsons Are Home

By HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

Oakland County's recent Secretary of Defense, Charles E. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson are home.

Five years of arduous, strenuous and exhausting labors in behalf of the United States—and the free world—have come to an end. Now retired completely from governmental activities, Mr. Wilson stands as this country's and this state's most distinguished citizen.

Long Lake Road spells "Sanctuary" with a capital "S." It means peace, tranquility and contentment. The Wilsons plan to spend some time in Florida, in Louisiana and at Walloon Lake, but Oakland County constitutes "headquarters." Here, ten of the twelve daughters, sons and daughters-and-sons-in-law reside. Here are 14 of the 15 grandchildren. And here are the old friends and associates with whom both can relax completely.

"Out for dinner," now means a meal with old pals they've known for years and neither needs to be "on guard." No Russians are skulking in the background to overhear an unguarded remark from the most powerful figure in world defense.

If Erwin Wilson wishes to tell an associate he thinks he's way off base, he does so; and vice versa. An Asiatic Shangri La can't be miffed or take offense and stage an international sulk. Flash bulbs no longer pop all over the place. They can live normally and relax.

Your reporter caught Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Jean Wilson Hargreaves in the handsome library at Long Meadow.

"It was an exciting and worthwhile experience," says the former Secretary, "but I still enjoy telling a joke to my Jeannie here more than I do to an eminent statesman from Astralasia."

"O. K." said Jean, "Have you heard about the new Russian cocktail?"

We confessed we hadn't.

"It's three parts Vodka and three parts sour grapes."

Everyone grinned.

"Now," said her father, "do you know why Russian cowboys can see better than ours?"

Three listeners cogitated.

"Because," said Mr. Wilson, "they have satellites."

See what I mean?

"Many people think our Defense Department was outpointed in this Sputnik race," I said. Mr. Wilson shook his head. "The facts are it's in the hands of our scientists. The Defense Department did cooperate and the Navy was officially designated as the executive agent to handle the contracts. But the scientists mapped out the program.

"In '54," he continued, "world powers met in Rome and it was agreed to try and come up with a satellite during the geophysical year. We turned our assignment over to our Science Foundation. About all Defense had to do with the program was to advance some money when they ran short.

"The Russians combined their ballistic missile and satellite programs into one operation, although the latter actually isn't a weapon. Our scientists wanted to put quite a few more instruments into our own satellite for greater research and greater fact finding possibilities.

"When all is said and done, Sputnik—and now the Russian pup—are just scientific tricks—but good ones. They aren't weapons. When the Russians first threw Sputnik into the heavens, President Eisenhower issued a statement saying that the satellite program and our military programs were kept separate, but in the excitement of first learning that this ball was whirling around our earth, his statement passed almost unnoticed."

Right now Mr. and Mrs. Wilson plan to spend Christmas at home and shortly after the turn of the year they leave for Florida.

"But we'll head back here," they chorused.

Few individuals in history have served any country as faithfully and as importantly. Few have ever earned a rest so richly. And the same goes for Mrs. Wilson. She was abreast every step of the way.

"I don't expect to sit with my hands folded," grinned the former Secretary. "Several propositions have already popped in unannounced and unsolicited. I'll have an office and will become interested in a lot of things."

And so, a fine international figure comes home. A man that gave his country the greatest manufacturing know-how it ever received (for peanuts to him) proudly returns to his own hearth and heath. No matter how great—or how humble—there's always an inexplicable magic in the word "home."

That's first.

There is the maximum contentment. There are the great thrills and joys that only family and friends can bring. All else fades before these twin titans of existence. In them—and in them primarily—lies the great peace that wells within each of us and which everyone seeks forever.

Welcome home, neighbors.

Drop in any time.

The latch string's out for you two all over the area.

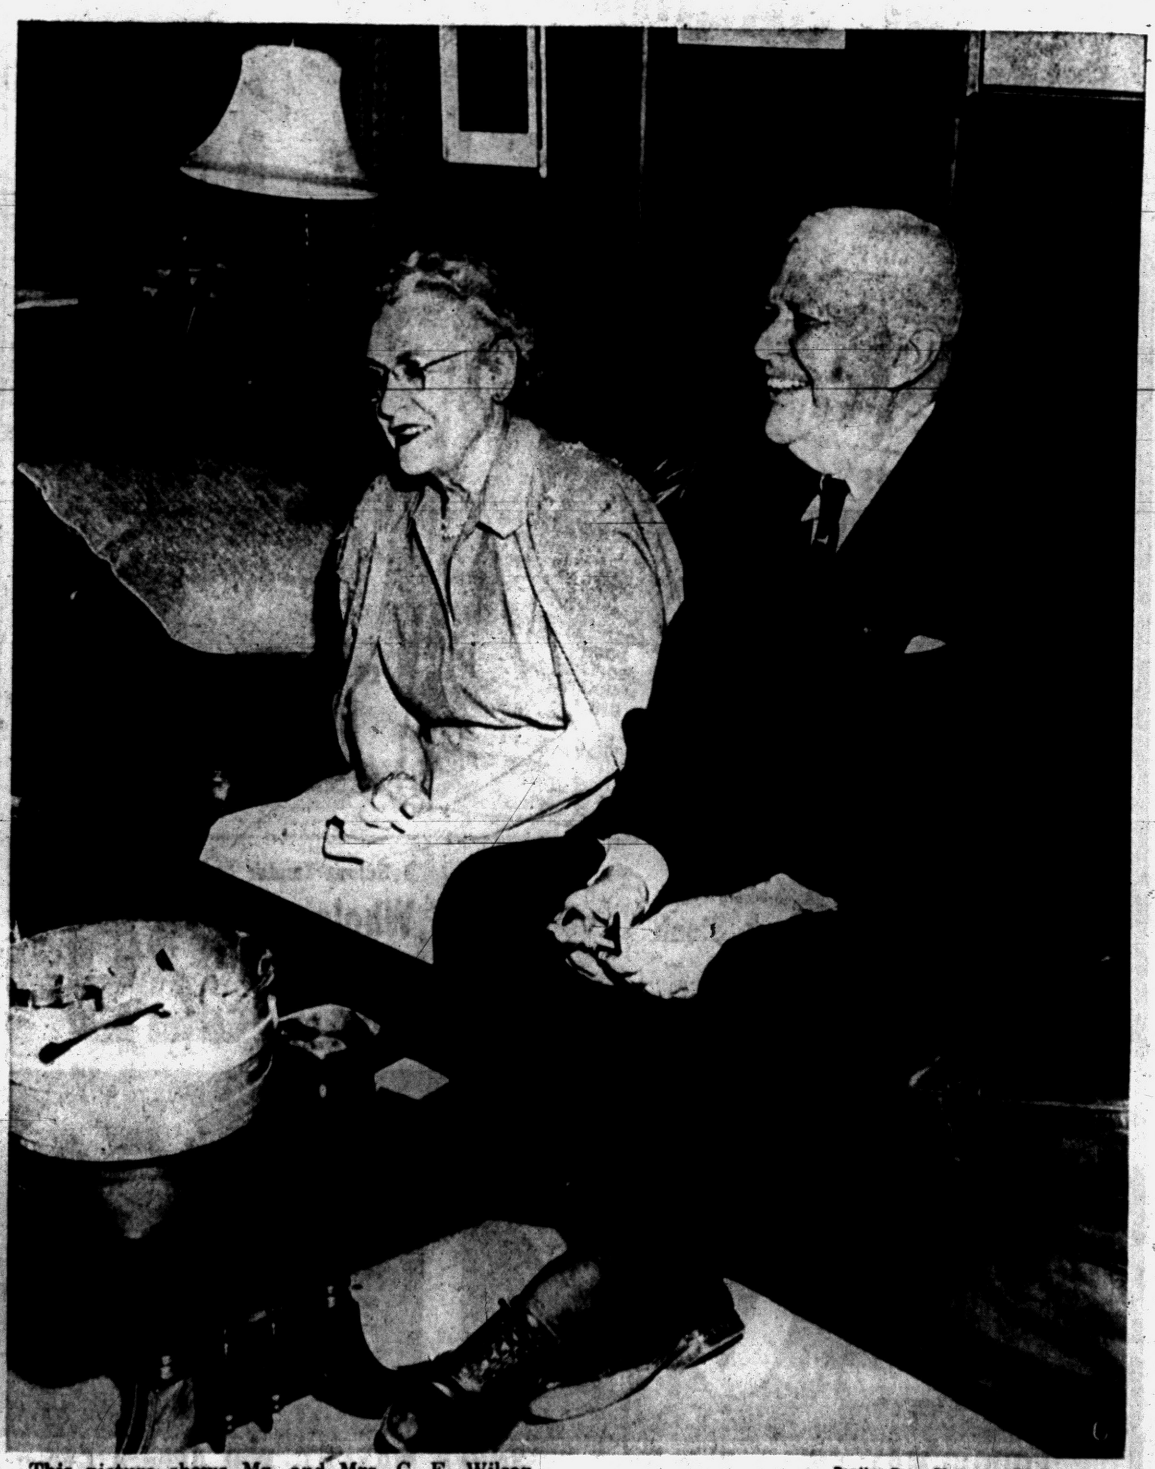

This picture was taken in the Wilson library. Mr. Wilson is occupying the chair which he used in his office in the Pentagon building when he served as Secretary of Defense. The President gave him the chair with a small plate on the back indicating the date he reported and the date he resigned.

This picture shows Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wilson seated in their beautifully paneled library. This room is a favorite and is used frequently by both.

Gaillard Eyes French Victory

PARIS (AP)—Finance expert Felix Gaillard today seemed assured of becoming France's 24th postwar premier with a wide range of support in the National Assembly.

The 37-year-old Radical Socialist passed a crucial hurdle yesterday, winning promises of support from the Socialists, Conservative Independents and Gaullists. The Socialists and Independents both agreed to serve in the Cabinet, a major victory for Gaillard.

He already had been assured of backing from his own party, a badly divided middle-of-the-road group; the Popular Republican Movement, Catholic and somewhat left of center; and other smaller groups.

Before then he must put together a Cabinet acceptable to the parties pledging him support.

Gaillard served as finance minister in the outgoing government of Maurice Bourges-Maunoury, who resigned after the Assembly defeated his bill for limited Algerian home rule.

Feels Sorry for Person Who Stole Great Dane

McALESTER, Okla. (AP) — Dick Gossett isn't angry at the person who took his dog, he feels sorry for the abductor.

Unless Ailing or Having Other Interests

Doctor Believes Men Should Work Until at Least 68

CLEVELAND (INS)—Unless a man is ailing or has other interests to occupy his time, he should continue working until at least the age of 68.

That is the view of Dr. Robert J. Havighurst of the University of Chicago, president of the Gerontological Society, Inc., which is holding its 10th annual scientific meeting in Cleveland.

CALLED TOO YOUNG

"Age 65 is definitely too young at which to retire under normal conditions," Dr. Havighurst said today. "I'd say age 68 is about the best average for retirement.

"The average man's life is not prolonged by retirement at an early age. I'd say as a whole we'd be better off if we could prolong the work-life.

"Americans are more work-centered than any people we know about," Dr. Havighurst said. "They enjoy their work more, and invest more of their emotional capital in it. And they come to enjoy their work more as they grow older.

RETIRE EARLY

"Young men and women generally say that they want to retire 'early,' perhaps at 55 or 60, so as to 'enjoy' their later years.

"Then, as they reach middle age, they postpone the age at which they would like to retire; and when they reach the age of 65, most of those who are able-bodied would like to keep on working.

"Indeed," Dr. Havighurst continued, "it is often said that some men are killed by enforced retirement at age 65. It is often said that a man may be so frustrated by arbitrary retirement that he mopes around for a few months and then gives up and dies."

There is no scientific evidence to support this thesis, Dr. Havighurst conceded, and he emphasized:

"Probably a larger number of tired and ailing men have their lives prolonged by enforced retirement at 65 than the number of vigorous work-centered men who fall ill and die from the frustrations of retirement."

Dr. Havighurst said the reason retirement is so difficult for many people is that they get many values besides money from their work—such as a sense of self-respect, a feeling of prestige or high status in the community, a chance to associate with friends, means of avoiding boredom and a chance to be or service.

"The secret of successful retirement," he said, "lies in learning to secure these values by other means than through one's work."

The University of Chicago specialist predicted that the average life span—now about 70—will be increased sharply—possibly to 80 years — when medical science breaks through the barriers and conquers cancer and heart disease.

"When we get those two killers under control we'll see a radical jump in longevity," Dr. Havighurst said.

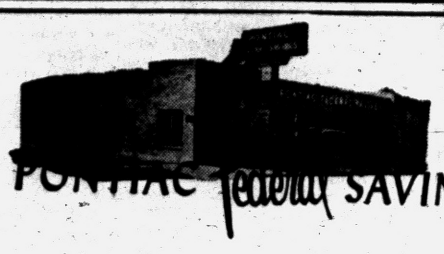

Health Officials Care for Orphaned Squirrels

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The Stark County Health Department lost one of its bright spots when the mother of a family of five squirrels living outside the county building was killed by a car. But things are looking better now.

After a strenuous game of hide and seek officials using laborers rounded up the orphans and are now hand feeding them until they are old enough to venture outside.

Before being killed the mother was a frequent visitor of the health department. She would loll on the department's porch, eat from employes' hands and run over their typewriter keys.

Army to Enter Utica Factory to Step Up Making of Redstone

UTICA (AP) — Chrysler Corp. was reported prepared today to step up missile production and research at its jet engine plant in Utica, 20 miles north of Detroit.

The Army confirmed yesterday it has received permission to take over more than one million square feet of the plant.

Until now the plant has been held in reserve by the Navy to produce jet engines in case of emergency. The Army had permission to use nly 300,000 of the plant's 2,100,000 square feet.

Col. Edward D. Mohlere, commander of the Army's Detroit ordnance district, said the Army will take over the additional space as soon as possible.

The added space will permit stepped-up production of the Army's Redstone Missile. It also will allow more room for research and development and engineering production work on the Army Jupiter, an intermediate range ballistic missile.

Chrysler was awarded a $3,175,000 contract for the Jupiter work last june.

A Chrysler spokesman said the company has not yet received official word from Washington on the shift of control at the plant. He said the plant now employs 4,000 workers.

He added, "It means probably" there will be more jobs available soon. Other work still under way at the plant includes aircraft and tank projects.

Hollywood Headlines

FBI Story Stars Stewart —but Not as J. Edgar

By DOROTHY MANNERS
(For Louella Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—It's Jimmy Stewart to play the leading role in "The FBI Story"—but not the J. Edgar Hoover role. Producer-director Mervin Le Roy puts Pulitzer Prize winner Don Whitehead's story of the U. S. Government's famed law enforcement department before the cameras at Warner's early in 1958.

With Stewart set for the FBI agent, the task now is to find the actor to play the J. Edgar Hoover part when Hoover was about 29. Although Hoover's role is not dominant, it was J. Edgar himself who personally negotiated the deal with Warner head Jack Warner for the screen rights.

WAGNER WOOS NATALIE

If the strings can be pulled, Robert Wagner will do Romeo opposite Natalie Wood's Juliet in the "Romeo and Juliet" sequence in "Marjorie Morningstar." This is the best little bit of showmanship since old Massa Mike Todd thought of sprinkling stars through "80 days."

Having Bob and Natalie make love on the screen should start a fan stampede at the box office because the fact these two are in love is getting more space in columns and fan magazines than Sputnik is in the newspapers.

STARS DOLL UP

It was a lead pipe cinch that at the first masquerade party around these parts, some guests were sure to come as Dodger baseball players. Sure enough, Harry James, Betty Grable and Mrs. Monte Proser did it first at the "howling" Halloween shindig hosted by Sy Devore and Sol Meadows.

Nat "King" Cole showed up as Elvis Presley, although the original was present.

Debbie Reynolds was a clown and Eddie Fisher a "teenage" werewolf. Marie McDonald had no trouble looking like a gorgeous princess on the arm of Harry Karl, her private life prince. Joanne Bradshaw came as "backless" Vikki Dougan.

No people in the world love getting dressed up in costume more than actors who spend their lives getting dressed up in costume for a living, so a large time was had by all.

LOUELLA REPORTS

Louella Parsons reporting from New York: "Sat back of Sidney Poitier's agent, Martin Baum, at the exciting opening of 'Jamaica' and he confirmed that he had just an hour before signed Sidney to play Porgy in 'Porgy and Bess' for Sam Goldwyn. Sidney is one of our very best Negro actors. His 'Something of Value.' 'Blackboard Jungle' and more recently 'Band of Angels' are all proof of his talent.

Sam is negotiating for Dorothy Dandridge to play Bess. I'm told that Rouben Mamoulian, who will direct 'P and B' will take to Ozzie Davis and Joe Adams, who are so good in 'Jamaica,' about the picture.

SOME SNAPSHOTS

Snapshots of New York collected by Miss L O P: "More about the 'Jamaica' opening, one of the New York season's brightest events. It was a very long three hours, but the Harold Arlen music and E. Y. Harburg lyrics are wonderful as sung by Lena Horne and the others.

"Lena is breath-takingly beautiful and I have always loved her voice. As for Ricardo Montalban, he covers himself with glory dancing and singing as well as the acting we know he can do so well.

"Josephine Premice's comedy gets many laughs and an oldtimer, Adelaide Hall, has a fine voice. Some of the tunes I predict we'll all be singing are 'Ain't It the Truth,' 'Take It Slow,' 'Joe,' and the opening 'Savannah' which Ricardo sings to Lena.

After the show, Patti Page, Charlie O'Curran, Jimmy McHugh and I went to the St. Regis where Fernanda Montel opened in the Mathonette room. Why don't we get her out in Hollywood? She's entirely different, sings American songs as well as French, and is a first class comedienne.

"Other guests included Mario Braggiotti, brother of Mrs. John Davis Lodge, and his charming mother and father. I asked him about Lily Lodge, daughter of the John Cabot Lodges. He told me Lily is living with Helen Hayes and wants to be an actress.

"That's all for the weekend."

March Release Date for Film on Bridge

The exciting operations that made possible the link between Michigan's two peninsulas may be seen locally in a new motion picture, "Mackinac Bridge Diary," expected to be released early next March.

It is planned to provide "Mackinac Bridge Diary" for free showings before technical and educational groups, civic and service clubs, and similar organizations.

The film follows the history of the $100,000,000 bridge from its earliest inception through the blue print stage and on to completion. The story of the world's longest suspension bridge is graphically portrayed in color and sound.

HANGING ON — Detroit's Yale Lary (28) has a firm grip on the helmet of end Billy Wilson of San Francisco as he attempts to bring Wilson down. Wilson caught a pass from Y. A. Tittle in a game which the 49ers won, 35-31.

49ers Beat Lions With 'Overdrive', 35-31

Winning Tally on Spectacular Catch by Owens

Only 11 Seconds Left When Tittle Completes 41-Yard Aerial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Detroit Lions matched storybook endings with the San Francisco 49'ers yesterday, only to see their spectacular fourth-quarter scoring spree topped by 49'ers quarterback Y. A. Tittle in the game's final 11 seconds.

The Lions got a brief glimpse at a tie for the leadership in the National Football League's western conference before a 41-yard scoring pass gave the 49'ers a 35-31 victory and undisputed lead in the standings.

It was a heart-breaker for the Lions who staged a rally with one minute and 20 seconds to go to lead the 49'ers, 31-28.

The 59,702 fans who crowded into Kezar Stadium were still roaring over the Lions' feat when the 30-year-old Tittle uncorked a high, looping pass to rookie R.C. (Overdrive) Owens as the officials were getting ready to signal the end of the see-saw contest.

Owens leaped into the air over two Lion defenders in a thrilling end-zone catch.

One minute and 9 seconds before, Detroit's Tobin Rote had completed his fourth touchdown pass of the afternoon — a 13-yard effort to Steve Junker. It was the third Lions touchdown of the last quarter.

The loss put Detroit in a tie with the Baltimore Colts for second place in the Western Conference with a 3-3 record. San Francisco is in first place with a 5-1 record.

Rote had his best afternoon of the current season with touchdown passes of 34, 31 and eight yards to Jim Doran besides his last one to Junker. Bobby Layne, who alternates with Rote at quarterback, kicked all four conversions and added a nine-yard field goal in the second period.

Tittle completed 21 passes to boost his 49'er total to 843, breaking a team record set by coach Frankie Albert.

The Lions jumped to an early lead on their fifth play of the game capping a drive of 69 yards. Rote hit Doran for a touchdown in a pass play that covered 34 yards.

Layne then booted his field goal to put the Lions ahead 10-0 going into the second quarter.

The 49'ers came back to score with Tittle completing five passes during a 57-yard march which ended with Clyde Connor catching a Tittle pass in the end zone. Tittle came back later to score on a one-foot sneak putting the 49'ers ahead 14-10 at the half.

The San Francisco club continued to put it on in the third quarter. Hugh McElhenny scored from the six-yard line climaxing a 50-yard drive which featured a surprising 26-yard run by Tittle.

LONG AERIAL GAIN — Detroit quarterback Bobby Layne (22) gets off a long pass to Steve Junker (88) despite pressure from charging 49ers in the game at San Francisco yesterday. Frisco put on a whirlwind finish to win the game in the last 11 seconds with a 41-yard pass from Y. A. Tittle to R. C. (Overdrive) Owens to win 35-31. The pass was good for 22 yards on the play in this picture.

SPORTS

R. C. Has Earned Pay

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco 49ers, who stage finishes you wouldn't believe in movies, perched alone atop the National Football League's Western Conference today thanks to a veteran pro and a pogo stick rookie.

Quarterback Y. A. Tittle hit leaping R. C. Owens with a 41-yard circus scoring pass in the final 11 seconds yesterday for a 35-31 victory over the Detroit Lions.

Owens, the 6-3 flanker back from Idaho, went up between defenders Jim David and Jack Christiansen to pull in the ball.

Of five 'Frisco victories, three have come in the anxious waning minutes or seconds through the Y. A. to Owens pass combine.

"I knew I had to catch that ball and I just went up there to get it," the rookie declared in the dressing room. Asked if it were his greatest catch, he replied:

"It's got to be."

Coach Frankie Albert, who takes his club to Los Angeles this week to open the four-week final road trip, declared:

"R. C. earned his salary with that one catch. And how about Tittle? It was Y. A.'s greatest game. I have never seen a quarterback, past or present, who could do the things he did today."

Tittle engineered all five touchdowns. He completed 21 out of 28 passes for 230 yards, two six-pointers and a 75 per cent average, the latter a 49er record. The completions boosted his total to 843 and eclipsed the team record of 831 set by Albert.

Any other day, Tobin Rote, Detroit's quarterback, would have been the hero. He threw four touchdown passes.

The ending recalled the finishes of 49er games against the Bears at Chicago and the Rams here. Owens was on his knees in the end zone in Chicago when Tittle hit him with the winning pass with 27 seconds remaining.

Against Los Angeles, the Tittle-Owens combine clicked on an 11-yard scoring pass in the waning minutes.

Tittle commented about yesterday's winning play:

"I decided to go for the alley-oop pass. I knew I had to lay it in the end zone, high, and I just rared back and threw as hard as I could. But I never thought he was going to get it and when he jumped up there and pulled it down, I couldn't believe it."

The 59,702 fans, the third capacity crowd of the season for the 49ers in Kezar Stadium, almost couldn't believe it either.

Titans Maul Cincinnati's Heralded Defensive Line

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Detroit Titans acted like they hadn't heard about Cincinnati's line.

With halfback Tom Hunter leading the way, Detroit team rushed for 199 yards, and passed for 100 yards and came from behind with two touchdowns in the fourth quarter to dump Cincinnati 20-12 here Saturday.

LEADER — University of Detroit's quarterback Lou Faoro, a junior from Joliet, Ill., sparked the Titans to a 20-12 win over Cincinnati Saturday.

Going into the game the vaunted Cincinnati line was ranked eighth in the nation with the enviable record of holding opposing teams to an average of 116 yards a game.

Hunter, a senior from Detroit Cass Tech, gained 76 yards on 13 carries against the Bearcats.

It was Hunter, this time as a passer, who helped put Detroit in the lead to stay in the fourth quarter. He fired a 10-yard pass to halfback Al Korpak in the end zone, lifting Detroit to a 13-12 lead. Bruce Maher added an insurance touchdown seven minutes later with a four-yard plunge that climaxed a 42-yard drive.

Detroit's first touchdown was scored by Lou Faoro who grabbed a lateral from Korpak and raced seven yards to the goal.

Cincinnati scored on Joe Morrison's one-foot plunge in the second quarter, ending a 53-yard drive, and on Jack Lee's five-yard run in the fourth quarter, capping a 61-yard drive.

Wally Fromhart's charges won impressively. They had 19 first downs and held Cincinnati to only 91 yards rushing.

The Titans were in Bearcat territory throughout the first period and Cincinnati was fortunate to get away unscathed.

Strong Choices in Cotton Bowl

DALLAS (AP)—The Cotton Bowl won't start contacting teams until Nov. 15 at the earliest but President Bob Collum said today "We were never in a better position to put on the best football game in the country on New Year's Day."

This is because of the strength of the Southwest Conference, whose champion is the host team. "There isn't a weak team in the league," he declared. "And the champion will be a great attraction even though it might have lost a game."

Schools still in the conference race will submit preferential lists Nov. 15. Then the Cotton Bowl will start making contacts. Collum wouldn't signal out any school likely to be invited to play the Southwest Conference champion in the Cotton Bowl.

But he did mention Navy and Army as strong possibilities and listed Tennessee, Mississippi and Georgia Tech among the top contenders.

Parker's Steelers Help Lions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pro football's 30-year-old "Man With The Golden Arm" — San Francisco's Y. A. Tittle — today reflected on an opinion he expressed before the 1957 National Football League season began.

Speaking about a club that was experimenting at quarterback with former Michigan State star Earl Morrall and John Brodie the outstanding rookie from Stanford, Tittle said: "With all these young quarterbacks around I just hope I can make the ball club."

Today, Morrall is pitching 'em for Pittsburgh, Brodie rides the bench and Tittle, a 10-year NFL veteran, has led the Forty-Niners to within striking distance of their first Conference title since they entered the league in 1950.

Tittle directed all five scoring thrusts against Detroit yesterday for a 35-31 victory over the Lions. That left the 49'ers all alone atop the Western Division with a 5-1 mark. The Lions and Baltimore are tied for second with 3-3 records.

In the Eastern Division, the Cleveland Browns, led by Jimmy Brown and Tommy O'Connell, retained their grip on first place with a 21-17 defeat of Washington. The Browns are now 5-1. The New York Giants, 31-17 victors over Green Bay, and Pittsburgh, which helped the Lions by beating Baltimore, 19-13, remained a game behind with 4-2 records.

Chicago's Bears, pre-season Western favorites, captured their second victory in six starts, overcoming Los Angeles 16-10, and Philadelphia eased past Chicago's Cardinals 38-21 in the league's other games.

Cleveland made good use of former Syracuse All-American Brown, who scored twice and gained 109 yards in 21 tries O'Connell who made good on eight of 12 passes —and the absence of the Redskins' league-leading passer Eddie LeBaron. LeBaron was injured in the second quarter and did not return to the game. Washington led 10-7 in the third period before Brown and O'Connell went over to ice it.

The Giants broke a 7-7 tie at Green Bay with 17 points in the second period on Ben Agajanian's 12-yard field goal Frank Gifford's 3-yard TD run and Charley Conerly to Ken MacAfee pass. Green Bay charged back but a brilliant goal line stand in which the Giants held for four downs on their own one with the score 24-17 in the final quarter averted disaster.

Johnny Unitas chalked up his 15th scoring pass for the Colts but Morrall notched two for the Steelers. Both Morrall throws went to end Ray Mathews, good for the win, but Pittsburgh added a field goal and a safety to put it beyond reach.

Rookie Jon Arnett went 98 yards for Los Angeles with the opening kickoff but three field goals by George Blanda and a 43-yard run with a recovered fumble by Vic Zucco gave the Bears their victory.

The Eagles picked up 17 points in the first 10 minutes and continued to romp all afternoon. Bobby Thomason passed to two touchdowns for the Eagles and scored one himself, but Bobby Walston was high scorer with 14 points on a TD catch, a field goal and five extra points.

Pontiac Boys Pace Small College Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Central Michigan, hard put to find football victories this year, rolled back the calendar Saturday and looked like the Chippewas of last year.

With Walt Beach of Pontiac and Al Bernardi each scoring twice, they trounced Eastern Illinois 61-6 in an interstate intercollege athletic conference football game.

The Chippewas, who won all nine of their games last season, now have a 2-6 record this year. They took a 40-0 shellacking at the hands of Louisville the previous week.

Eastern Michigan smothered Northern Illinois 54-20 with Kerry Keating of Waterford scoring four touchdowns in the only other IIAC game.

Hillsdale's Dales entended the Nation's second longest winning streak, smashing Kalamazoo College 48-0. Doug Maison passed for three touchdowns. The victory was the Dales' 32nd in a row, second only to Oklahoma's 46.

Walt Poe of Pontiac scored one touchdown on a 60 yard pass play from Maison and Wayne O'Shaughnessy of West Blomfield scored once on a 23 yard pass from Maison and he added six extra points.

Albion nipped Alma 13-6 on Don VanGilder's 15-yard run through left guard in the fourth quarter in an MIAA contest. Hope spanked Olivet 28-7 with the help of Ron Bekius' two touchdowns in another MIAA game.

Fred Hobert threw four touchdown passes, leading Adrian to an easy 34-14 triumph over Ferris Institute.

Unbeaten St. Norbert College (Wis) trampled Michigan Tech 43-19 with halfback Norm Jarock scoring three touchdowns and halfback Bill Van Lanen adding another with an 86-yard kickoff return. It was St. Norbert's seventh straight victory.

Ohio University handed Western Michigan its fourth consecutive loss 20-7 in a Mid-American conference game.

FIELD DAY — Former Cranbrook star, Pete Dawkins from Royal Oak, scored three touchdowns and passed for another as Army whipped Colgate 53-7 at West Point Saturday.

San Diego Win 4th of Year for Palmer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A one-stroke victory by Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., in the $20,000 San Diego Open Golf Tournament yesterday was his fourth win of the year.

He finished with a 72-hole score of 271, 17 under par for the 6,800-yard Mission Valley Country Club course.

The 28-year-old Palmer collected $2,800. This brought his official Professional Golfers Assn earnings for the year to $26,627.

Wayne Drops Second Tilt

BUFFALO — If the football coaches of Wayne State University are heard mumbling to themselves this week, it'll probably be something about asking the NCAA to ban sophomore quarterbacks.

Twice this season the Tartars have faced first-year signal-callers. They lost both times.

In the second game of the campaign, the Green and Gold met John Carroll's Chuck St. John who guided his squad masterfully to a 19-6 win.

Last Saturday, University of Buffalo, with four men to choose from, tried soph quarterback Jim Allegretto against the Detroiters. The result was overwhelming success: 33-7.

The 19-year-old, 160-pounder ran for two touchdowns himself and threw passes of 16 and 29 yards for two others.

"But it wasn't a one-man show for the Bulls. The game was won in the line, where the lighter Buffalo forwards outcharged the visitors all afternoon. As a result, Wayne couldn't manage even one sustained offensive threat.

Their only counter came when end John Poplawski pilfered an Allegretto pitchout and scooted 67 yards for the score. That was early in the third quarter and put WSU back in the game, but only momentarily.

Saturday the Tartars stay on the road, traveling to La Porte, Ind., where they'll meet Valparaiso in a night contest.

Grosse Pte. High School won the Border Cities League football crown Saturday afternoon at Grosse Pte. with an easy 43-0 victory over outclassed Royal Oak Dondero. It was Dondero's 2nd league setback in four games and gave the Oaks an overall record of 3-3.

Boots Aid MSU; 'M' in 2nd Half Letdown

Game at Wisconsin Is Played in Mud; Duffy Pleased With Defense

EAST LANSING (AP) — "Genuine old fashioned football," was the way coach Duffy Daugherty described Michigan State's 21-7 victory over Wisconsin Saturday in rain and mud.

Daugherty got a particular boot out of the way his booters got away their booming punts to keep Wisconsin continually in the hole.

"After all," Daugherty said, "it was a kicking game that gave football its name."

Blanche Martin and Dean Look, doing the kicking, compiled a fine average of 41 yards per try in the punting game.

"It was also our best defensive showing this year," Daugherty said. "We controlled the ball throughout the game except for that one lapse that allowed the Wisconsin touchdown."

"We also showed that you don't have to pass to move the ball," Daugherty said. "In that last march, we went 52 yards on the ground for a touchdown without throwing a single pass."

Those were the old-fashioned aspects of the game. But Michigan State started off with an offense geared to this modern age of guided missiles.

Quarterback Jim Ninowski had orders to pass on his first three plays to open up the stacked up Wisconsin defense.

Ninowski completed two of the first three pass tries. A 28-yard completion to Walt Kowalczyk was the key play in the initial MSU scoring drive, topped when Don Gilbert smashed in from the four for the touchdown.

Wisconsin recovered a fumbled lateral pass that went dribbling down to the MSU 11 to enable its single score. Three line bucks carried to the one and Danny Lewis went in from there.

Martin escaped on a 65-yard punt return to the Wisconsin 32 before his ankle was grabbed by Lewis to put the Spartans in position for their second score.

In the key play, Ninowski tried a fourth down pass that was incomplete. The officials ruled interference, however, and the ball was moved from the Wisconsin 14 to the 3. Martin slashed in from there.

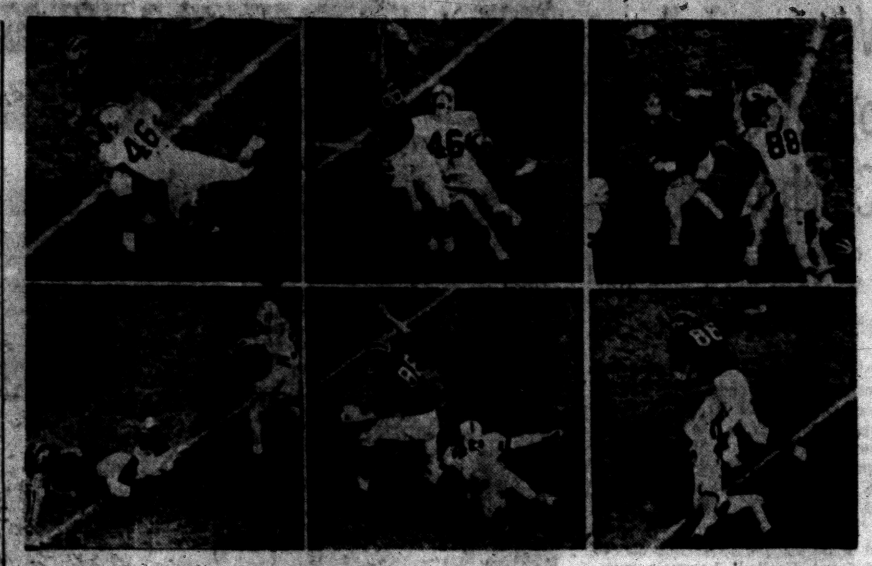

State controlled the ball during the last five minutes of play while grinding 52 yards overland for the final touchdown. Kowalczyk and Look alternated in the carrying with big Walt making the biggest yardage of the drive and the longest run—an 18 yarder.

State went down to the Wisconsin one just before the clock ticked off the last few seconds. The Wisconsin defensive center tried to grab the ball and an off side penalty gave Michigan State a final play after the clock had actually run out. Kowalczyk plowed the last three feet for the score.

Green SMU Eyes Aggies

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist's green but growing team, which gave its backers visions of greatness for the first time Saturday with its 19-12 upset of Texas, is feeling its oats.

The Methodists, still with a chance at the Southwest Conference championship, meet undefeated, untied Texas A&M at College Station Saturday night.

Pistons Win, 94-88

CINCINNATI (AP) — Rangy George Yardley scored 23 points as the Detroit Pistons came from behind to defeat the Cincinnati Royals, 94-88, in a National Basketball Assn. game last night.

The Pistons had a hot evening at the free throw line as they shackled big Clyde Lovellette, the Royals', 20-point-a-gamt threat, holding him to 9 points.

Veteran Harry Gallatin gave the Pistons an 88-86 advantage when he sank two free throws. The Royals had moved into the final quarter with a 70-66 lead.

The Pistons went on to sink 6 more points on two free throws by Yardley and four points by Chuck Noble.

The victory moved the Detroit cagers into a first place tie with the Royals in the Western Division, each having a 2-2 record.

This is the third straight game in which Yardley was the high scorer. He hit 41 against Philadelphia and 28 against Minneapolis.

STRIKES AND SPARES

By Joe Wilman

If you're stuck at home with the youngsters when you'd like to be out practicing your bowling with the boys, don't give up. I think you can STILL get some valuable practice time in at home. It's not as good as getting out on the lanes, but it's better than nothing.

Mark out a 16-foot approach in your basement or recreation room or kitchen or anywhere in the house you can find room. Keep the width at the standard 42 inches, too.

Then, you can walk through your approach time after time to get your footwork, armswing and timing under control. If you have a mattress or an old couch to absorb the shock, you can even deliver the ball. Don't roll it on cement or concrete, though, as you'll scratch the ball's surface.

So, the next time you find yourself forced baby-sitting, why not use the time to improve your footwork, armswing and timing.

Young, Beamer in Hot Race

Lansing Harrier Champion

Jerry Young, 17-year-old Berkley high junior and Pontiac's converted half-miler, Larry Beamer, put on a glittering battle for state prep cross-country honors Saturday at Washtenaw CC, with the husky Chief finishing only a few steps back. Young, only Berkley runner, finished at 10:36: Beamer, running in his first state harrier meet was timed at 10:38.

Both runners were close all the way. Young was the pace-setter from the start. He was also the 1956 champion.

Lansing Eastern's balanced squad retained its team title with 118 points, followed by the EML champions, Birmingham, with 141. Pontiac finished 14th, coach Mike Andonian reported, with its captain, Rog Coats in 21st place.

Class B title went to River Rouge with 89 points and the combined C-D crown was taken by Camden with 80. Orchard Lake St. Mary's was 8th with 214, led Chet Wlodkowski 23rd.

Saturday's event was the 35th annual state meet.

Maples' 2nd place was their best. They were 5th a year ago. Lee Tout, Birmingham ace, was 9th.

The scores:

Class A—Lansing Eastern 118; BIRMINGHAM 141; Flint Central 160; Arthur Hill 163; Jackson 177; Wayne 217; Lincoln Park 235; RO Kimball 271; Edsel Ford 278; Dearborn 299; Wyandotte 274; Redford Union 300; PONTIAC 305; Inkster 416; Hazel Park 419; Muskegon 438; Allen Park 443; Walled Lake 472; and Kalamazoo Cent. 485 (20 teams).

Hawkeyes Settle for 21-21 Tie With Michigan

Wolverines Falter Again in Final Two Periods to Lose Lead

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Second-half paralysis, a common Michigan affliction this season, is a major cruse for the Walverines virtual elimination from the Big 10 title chase.

Michigan has let up after halftime in all six of its 1957 games. Five times the Wolverines have taken healthy margins to the dressing rooms at intermission.

Only once were they behind. That was against Michigan State when they trailed 8-0. They saw the Spartans swamp them in the second half with four touchdowns to win easily 35-6.

The Wolverines' second-half doldrums have been most evident in the last three games. Twice they were fortunate and won.

Northwestern evened a 14-0 ball game with two third-quarter tallies, but frightened the Wolverines into scoring three touchdowns in the final period.

Against Minnesota, Michigan had a 24-0 halftime advantage and was capable of coasting the rest of the way to triumph, 24-7.

But Saturday, Iowa's still-unbeaten Hawkeyes were able to catch fading Michigan with two second-half touchdowns to earn a 21-21 tie.

The Wolverines had led 21-7 at the half and looked invincible. They cashed in their breaks for two second-period scores and countered another on Jim Pace's 65-yard punt return.

"Our picture no longer is bright," Coach Bennie Oosterbaan glumly admitted. "Now somebody has to beat Ohio State twice and Iowa and Michigan State have to lose, too."

The Wolverines (2-1-1) are in fourth place behind Ohio (4-0), Iowa (3-0-1) and Michigan State (4-1).

Iowa will long remember its tie with Michigan after four straight frustrating losses. The Hawkeyes reversed what had become a Wolverines script to accomplish its moral victory. It usually is Michigan that comes back to overtake Iowa in the second half.

It probably was the first time Hawkeye Coach Forest Evashevski smiled after a Michigan-Iowa game since 1939 when as Wolverine quarterback, he helped his team to a 27-7 victory.

Evy admitted he was more than agreeable to accept the deadlock as he hugged the game ball in the Hawkeye locker room. He had ordered Iowa to freeze the pigskin during the last three minutes instead of going all out for the winning counter.

Iowa gave possession on its 19 after a punt. Passes were too dangerous, Evy said. His backs merely kept on the ground and killed the clock.

"We had too far to go," said Evashevski. "If we had fielded the punt, we'd have gone for it."

Lou Little Calls 'em

Another week-end has been recorded in which once again the gridiron map was dotted with many so-called upsets as strongly favored teams went down to defeat—results stimulating to football and marking the finest season, I think, that we have ever had.

There may be a tendency to write off these upsets as accidental, but that can't be true, of course, when so many occur week after week and when the margin of victory so often is convincing.

I talked about this with Bobby Dodd in Atlanta last Friday before the Duke game, which his Georgia Tech team won so impressively.

"We know more about each other's team these days," he said, "and thorough study of the films of current and past seasons provides much of the reason. When we depended upon the old methods of scouting only by eye it was impossible to be as thorough in study of opponents' over-all play as we can be now."

Not one of the most surprising, but certainly one of the most convincing examples of good coaching and play by a well-manned squad was the provided by Navy against Notre Dame.

They fooled me a bit one week earlier when I saw them against Penn, which was not a strenuous test, by playing apparently just as hard as they had to, and not aggressively.

There is striking evidence now that Navy, especially when Forrestal is in command, will compare favorably with the best.

The Army-Navy classic looks good. Army has built steadily and was a good team even on the day of its close defeat by Notre Dame. Army has an outstanding running attack based on speed and excellence in blocking, and will also show good passing to complement its running when needed.

I saw Georgia Tech upset highly favored Duke. The Engineers put on a notable show of ball control, especially in the first period when Duke had the ball for only six plays—four running plays and two punts. You can't win football games with the ball in the opponents' possession unless the team with the ball makes bad mistakes—which good teams seldom do.

Six acknowledged major teams started last Saturday with perfect records. Notre Dame lost, Dartmouth and Iowa were tied, Texas A&M, Oklahoma and Auburn retained clean slates.

Rangers Clip Hawk String

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There are two less streaks on the boards today in the National Hockey League—and both are on opposite ends of the pole.

Up in Boston they're smiling again as the Bruins snapped a six game losing streak and a famine of 135 scoreless minutes in beating the Detroit Red Wings 4-0 last night.

Out in Chicago, though, things aren't as jovial as the resurgent Black Hawks lost their first game in the last five to the sizzling New York Rangers 3-2 in Sunday's only other NHL activity.

The Rangers, who now are only a game behind the Montreal Canadiens, took their victory on a long shot by Harry Howell midway in the third period. The puck scooted through a mass of players as it eluded goalie Glenn Hall.

The Hawks Ed Litzenberger tied the score twice after the Rangers had gone ahead 1-0 and 2-1. However, Marcel Paille, playing his second big league game, had it when it counted as he up 39 saves to 27 for Hall.

In Saturday's games, the Rangers defeated the Bruins 5-0 in a nationally televised game; the Canadiens defeated Detroit 6-3, and Toronto played a 3-3 tie.

Mikes Win, 21-0; Rams Lose

Victory reigned over the St. Michael and Orchard Lake St. Mary football scene, but defeat was in the air at St. Frederick following weekend Suburban Catholic League action.

St. Mike celebrated its annual Dad's Night-Homecoming festivities with a 21-0 triumph over Royal Oak St. Mary in the Roamin' Jug battle Saturday night at Wisner Stadium.

St. Fred ran into more than it could handle Sunday afternoon at Hazel Park as the Rams bowed to league-leading St. Rita, 26-13. A 20-point 2nd quarter sent the Eaglets on their way to a 27-19 verdict over St. Clement of Center Line yesterday at Orchard Lake.

The Shamrocks brought the jug back to Pontiac after a one-year absence by scoring two touchdowns in the 2nd quarter and adding another in the 4th as four players shared in the point-making.

Fullback Jim Fox broke the scoring ice with a 35-yard sweep around end on a pitchout from quarterback Mike Flynn. Flynn tallied the 2nd TD with a sneak from one yard out to give the Mikes a 14-0 lead at halftime.

Pat Campbell, sophomore halfback, accounted for St. Mike's 3rd touchdown with a seven-yard scamper. Jerry Ohngren made all the three extra points, twice from placement and once on a smash through the line.

The victory was the Shamrocks' 4th in six games. Royal Oak's weak Irish are now winless in half a dozen starts.

Halfback Mike Young and quarterback Al Sleyter were too much for St. Fred. Young scored three of St. Rita's four touchdowns, one on a pass from Sleyter, as the Vikings rolled to their 7th straight decision.

Young galloped 65 yards for his final six-point effort and the Sleyter-to-Young aerial covered 40 yards. Norman Warrick tallied the other TD on a 30-yard end run and Sleyter kicked two extra points.

St. Rita led at halftime, 13-0, and boosted the margin to 19-0 before Jack Lyon sparked a Ram surge which pulled them within one touchdown. Lyon scored on dashes of 42 and 6 yards and Chuck Deschaine converted after the 1st TD.

St. Fred reached the Viking four in the 4th period before losing the ball on downs, then St. Rita iced the decision with its 4th TD. It was St. Fred's 2nd loss in three games.

Three 2nd-period touchdowns clinched Orchard Lake's win. Ron Novak passed to Art Goisdzinski for a 10-yard tally to start the parade, then hit Terry Raymond for a 15-yard scoring aerial. The 3rd TD came when Mitchell Skorski intercepted a pass and lateraled to Stan Moniuszko, who went 60 yards to score.

Raymond scored the last Eaglet touchdown with an 18-yard burst through the middle in the 3rd stanza. Tony Chojnowski kicked three conversions. Phil Van Hulle, Bill Misterovich and Fred Forbush scored for St. Clement's Crusaders.

In Sunday's other SCL game, unbeaten St. Benedict kept right on the heels of St. Rita with a 40-12 victory over St. James at Ferndale as Larry Gacki scored four touchdowns.

Ex - Detroiter Bucyk Scores Two Assists in Boston Win

BOSTON (AP) — Detroit Red Wings goalie Terry Sawchuk made 48 saves in a return to his old haunts last night, but despite his efforts the Boston Bruins skated their way to a 4-0 shutout to stay one notch above the Wings in National Hockey League standings.

The Bruins broke a six-game losing streak, wrapping up the decision in the first period with two goals against Sawchuk who left the Bruins in mid-season a year ago for what he termed a bad case of nerves. It was Sawchuk's first appearance in Boston since his abrupt departure.

Horvath scored again on a 25-footer in the second period and Jerry Toppazzini closed it out with another in the finale.

Ironically, Johnny Bucyk, who was acquired by the Bruins in the deal that sent Sawchuk back to Detroit, notched two assists for the Boston club during its barrage against the Red Wing goalie.

Saturday Race Will Determine Horse of Year

The race of the century to settle 1957 horse of the year honors, as well as a dramatic showdown for the 3-year-old championship, appeared all set for Garden State Park at Camden, N. J., Saturday in the $75,000-added Trenton Handicap.

Rhubarb On in East Over 'Illegal' Sub

MEDFORD, Mass. (INS) — Will the "rhubarb" in the Yale Bowl result in changes in the football substitution rule?

That was the big question being asked today in intercollegiate gridiron circles.

The "mistake" of Henry Hormel—if it was a "mistake"—cost the Bulldogs 15 yards during the last minute touchdown scoring march of Dartmouth in Saturday's game.

Hormel gave Yale a 15-yard penalty for an illegal substitution with 10 seconds left to play. The score was Yale 14, Dartmouth 7. Within the next 10 seconds Dartmouth tied the game 14-14.

Field judge Tormel said:

"I can't say I made a mistake. I don't know that I did. If the motion pictures show I made one, I'm willing to admit it.

"All I know is that on my sheet I circled No. 88 for the fourth period. He could not come in again."

Yale is convinced that it was No. 83 that Hormel mistook for No. 88. This is because the movies show that Bill McLean (88) played the last play of the third period, the first eight plays of the fourth period and then was replaced by end Pete Riddle (83) whose jersey was mud-caked. The penalty put the Green on the Eli 25-yard line and in position for the tying touchdown.

Yale's head coach Jordan Oliver said he is "going to leave it at that," adding that Hormel is an experienced, capable and conscientious official.

Sooner Track Coach Has No Grid Tickets

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—The University of Oklahoma-Notre Dame football game Nov. 16 has been sold out since last May, but Sooner track coach John Jacobs still gets requests from friends for tickets.

He had 2,000 copies of this notice printed:

"Dear Mrs. ——— (He explains the men always make the women write). Thanks for your great interest in my welfare and thanks for your congratulations on my all-victorious 1927 track team.

"It would give me great pleasure if I could make it possible for you to see the Notre Dame-Oklahoma football game here, but I cannot. Sincerely, your relative, Jake."

Ferraris Win Title; One Driver Injured

CARACAS (AP) — Hap Dressel, Arlington, Va., sports car driver, fought for his life today as the result of injuries suffered in the Grand Prix of Venezuela won by a Ferrari 4100 driven by Britain's Peter Collins and Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif.

Dressel was injured when his AC Bristol was hit by a Maserati driven by Stirling Moss of England midway in the nearly-600 miles race yesterday.

The latest hospital report said Dressel was in a coma with a fractured pelvis and femur and superficial wounds of the face, arms and legs. Moss skidded for about 500 yards but was not injured.

Collins and Hill were the only ones to finish the 101 laps. Their time was six hours, 31 minutes and 55 seconds giving the Ferraris the 1957 sports car racing title.

PGA Discloses Tourney Setup

Winter Schedule Starts in January and Goes to Masters in April

DUNEDIN, Fla. (INS) — The Professional Golfers' Association of America has made public its 1957 winter tournament schedule.

A total of $298,000 in prize money will be up for grabs during the winter, a $33,000 boost over last season's aggregate.

The tour will start with the Los Angeles Open Invitational Jan. 3-6, and end with the traditional Masters tourney at Augusta, Ga., April 3-6.

Changes in the schedule include the $30,000 Houston meet which will be an Invitational event this year instead of an open as it was last season.

And the Bing Crosby national 72-hole pro-amateur tourney will boast a purse of $50,000 — an increase of $35,000.

New tournaments on the schedule include the Panama Invitational, $10,000; the Puerto Rico Open Invitational, $7,500, and the Jamaica Open Invitational, $6,500 — all highlights on the first PGA Caribbean tour.

Other new tourneys are the greater New Orleans Open Invitational, $20,000, and the Metairie (La.) pro-amateur, $2,500.

League Races Into Home Stretch

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With the football season entering the home stretch (most colleges have only three games left), the major conferences still are involved in life-and-death struggles for the championships and the gold and glory that go with them.

Perhaps the best examples of the way the current season is progressing is the Big Eight. Before the campaign got under way, was there a man alive—with the possible exception of Coach Bud Wilkinson—who would suggest that Oklahoma might not win the title?

Probably not, but here is a team that has won 46 straight games, yet appears to be simply begging to get beaten. Two weeks ago the powerful Sooners eked out a one-point decision over Colorado. Last Saturday, they managed to scrape by Kansas State, a team that had won just two of its previous six games, 13-0.

This week, Oklahoma goes against Missouri, which warmed up to its task by polishing off Colorado 9-6 last Saturday. The Tigers know they have the ammunition, they know Oklahoma is vulnerable and they know they'll wind up in the Orange Bowl if they win the game. It should be interesting.

Then there is the case of Texas A & M. The No. 1 team in the country has gone through seven games unscathed and certainly ranks as heavy favorite to get the host spot in the Cotton Bowl.

The only one of the big conferences that appears to be all settled is the Pacific Coast, and that's because there are more teams ineligible for the Rose Bowl than are eligible.

Having beaten all three other eligibles, Oregon can start making reservations for the trip to Pasadena for the first time since 1920.

Ohio State, which got off to a bad start, has developed into the heavy choice for the Big Ten title and Rose Bowl trip.

North Carolina State appears to be the class of the Atlantic Coast League since Georgia Tech punctured Duke's bubble. But NC State is in bad with the NCAA and can't play in the Orange Bowl, so Duke still is the favorite.

Since Auburn, the Southeastern leader, also is on the NCAA's black list and can't play in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 1, Mississippi, Mississippi State and Tennessee are scrambling for the runner-up spot.

Defending Southern champion West Virginia has finished its conference schedule and shows a 3-0 mark. But VMI has 4-0 and still has two loop games to go.

Celtics Roll on in NBA, Hand Nats Double Loss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Even without Bob Cousy, Boston's talent-rich Celtics seem to be much too much for the rest of the National Basketball Assn.

With the great little scorer and playmaker still recuperating from a flu attack and seeing only limited service, the Celts twice took on the tough Syracuse Nationals over the week end.

Saturday, the Nats fell 107-83 at Boston. Last night it was the same story in the opener of a doubleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden. Cousy showed up for about 12 minutes of action but the Celts had more than enough to win, 113-95.

After two weeks of the new pro season, the defending champion Celts have won five in a row to outclass the rest of the league. The only other club with a better than .500 record is New York, which moved up to second at 2-1 in the Eastern Division by belting Philadelphia 123-105. In the Western half, Detroit spilled Cincinnati 94-88 to pull into a first place tie with the Royals, each with two wins and two losses.

Bill Sharman had 27 points, Tommy Heinsohn 26 and Bill Russell 23 in keeping the Celtics unbeaten, while Bob Hopkins, with 23, and Dolph Schayes, with 21, led Syracuse.

New York's Knicks broke loose for 71 points in the second half to overwhelm the Warriors, although Philly's Neil Johnston took scoring honors with 31. Carl Braun led New York with 22.

South African Boy Astounds Educators

PRETORIA, S. Africa—A seven-year-old boy in Pretoria has become the talk of South African educators.

He is writing an analytical study of Shakespeare's characters and school authorities don't know what to do with him. His intelligence quotient has been established at 200 plus—the scales are only graded to the 200 mark. This boy, whose name thus far has been withheld, taught himself to read and write by the time he was three. Before long he was using a dictionary and explaining lead stories in newspapers to his parents.

By five he knew a lot about Shakespeare. In school he is ruled "too intelligent" for his grade but can't be promoted because he hasn't "developed sufficiently emotionally to mingle with older classmates."

Soybeans Lead Grain Advance

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains and soybeans moved higher on the board of trade today.

Soybeans led the advance, jumping ahead more than two cents a bushel on the distant May delivery. Most wheat deliveries were up about a cent a bushel and corn advanced fractionally to more than one cent.

Wheat was strengthened by firmer cash wheat markets. A private estimate by R. C. Leslie, commodity analyst for Francis I. Du Pont & Co., placed the amount of wheat under government price supports as of Oct. 15 at 149 million bushels. This is 49 million mushels smaller than on Oct. 15 a year ago.

Near the end of the first hour, wheat was ⅝ to 1¼ higher, December $2.20; corn ⅞ to 1⅛ higher, December $1.19⅝; oats ¼ to ½ higher, December 68⅛; rye 1¾ to 2¼ higher; December $1.29½; soybeans 1 to 1⅜ higher, November $2.28; and lard was 5 to 12 cents a hundred pounds higher, November $11.70.

All residents living in the areas in question have been informed of the proposed changes and specific action is expected tonight after a postponement of the issues from last week's meeting.

Other issues to be discussed by board members are the presentation of a plat for Rainbow Subdivision on Airport road near Rural street and the assurance of a central water system in the Belmoral Subdivision on Hatchery road near Crescent Lake road.

Red Chiefs Boast of Better Sputniks

being kept fully informed on all developments.

The second and surprisingly much heavier satellite—weighing more than half a ton — was broadcasting both cosmic data and reactions of the dog back to Soviet monitoring stations.

A second Soviet satellite to follow up the space victory of Sputnik launched on Oct. 4 was not unexpected. But Sputnik II was full of just about every other kind of surprise and sailed off into the skies ahead of the launching date anticipated in the west.

Western observers in Moscow had expected Sputnik II to go up in a blaze of glory Nov. 6 to celebrate the 40th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution.

SHOWS RED ADVANCE

Sputnik II also gave hints of possible powerful new Soviet rocket fuels because of its tremendous weight as well as advanced rocket developments.

It also means the Russians are well on their way to carrying out their promise to send rockets to the moon.

These are the officially announced facts about Sputnik II:

—It was launched early Sunday (late Saturday night in the United States) from an undisclosed location, but its orbit at 65 degrees to the equator indicates it was fired from the same launching site as Sputnik I and possibly the Soviet intercontinental ballistic missile.

—Its shape may be aerodynamic rather than spherical like Sputnik I, and the satellite itself is the final stage of the carrier rocket which took it into its orbit. Inside is a container with the dog and scientific instruments.

— The weight of the container and apparatus is an astounding 1,120 pounds, more than six times that of 184-pound Sputnik I.

103-MINUTE CYCLE

— Sputnik II is speeding around the earth at a speed just under 18,000 miles an hour once every 103 minutes. Its altitude averages about 930 miles, but it has sailed as high as 1,056 miles.

— Strong radio signals are being transmitted on 40.002 and 20.005 megacycles (7.5 and 15 meters).

Soviet scientists have hinted that the dog — named Linda — will be returned to earth by catapulting her hermetically sealed container from the satellite and dropping it by parachute.

The Russians already have brought dogs back to earth safely after firing them to heights of more than 60 miles in rockets.

DOG IS TRAINED

Linda, aside from being weightless as she sails through space, is comfortable lodged in an air conditioned container and provided with food and water. She's been trained to eat just a little every day instead of following the usual doggy habit of gulping everything at once.

Instruments attached to Linda are radioing back her breathing and heart action in the oxygen-supplied container in the airless ionosphere. Other instruments are sending signals on cosmic rays, temperature and pressure and solar radiation in the short wave ultraviolet and Roentgen region of the spectrum.

The Journal of Soviet Aviation quotes Soviet scientists as saying they are confident a dog—or even a human passenger—can be brought down safely from the satellite by parachute.

There is an increasing belief in Moscow that Sputnik II may return without burning up on nosing into the heavy atmosphere surrounding the earth.

It's believed Sputnik II's shape is aerodynamic to permit it to fall through the air without encountering destructive friction.

Such an accomplishment would have great strategic significance since presumably what can be done with a rocket-shaped Sputnik can be done with an intercontinental ballistic missile.

One of the toughest problems in designing an effective ICBM is having it reach the target without burning up in the atmosphere.

Scientific observers also look with great interest on the size and weight of the orbiting rocket.

Using fuel equivalent to that used in the American Vanguard rocket, the weight of a booster rocket for a Sputnik weighing over half-a-ton would have to be about 700 tons.

The only other possibility would be that the Russians have developed a more powerful fuel than that used in the American Vanguard — permitting a smaller rocket to deliver great lift.

In either case, scientific observers believe the launching of the latest satellite brings manned space stations to the verge of reality. It also means the Russians are now well able to send rockets to the moon.

Shaggy Linda's flight into space may also solve the mystery of the effects of cosmic rays on animals and humans. A scientist speaking over radio Moscow, said the dog "undoubtedly was being subjected to solar radiation. He said study of the information would give scientists invaluable material for study on man's flight through space.

Ford Describes Tug-of-War

Firm's Vice President Claims It Dims Bright Prospects of 1958

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Benson Ford, vice president of Ford Motor Co., today described the upward tug of war between wages and prices as a "struggle between prosperity and disaster" and said it dimmed bright economic prospects for 1958.

The question of wages vs. prices no longer is limited to the perennial contract struggle between labor and management, Ford said.

Instead, he said, it is a problem that "affects not only our industry, but the whole economy and all the people of this country."

Ford, addressing a meeting of the Mississippi Automobile Dealers Assn., said automobile prices went up on the 1958 models because of "one thing—increased labor costs."

He said the price increases of recent years "are directly traceable to earlier wage settlements in our industry and in other industries that supply us with parts, raw materials, machine tools and services."

Wages have outstripped productivity, he said, and this has meant an "inevitable increase in manufacturing costs that sooner or later has had to be reflected in increased prices."

Police, Doctor Team Up to Save Royal Oak Tot

ROYAL OAK — Debra Guest, 2, was recovering here today after having swallowed a near-fatal dose of antitension pills. The baby had gotten into the pills and taken eight of them, unobserved, in an aunt's home in Owosso Saturday.

As the parents Mr. and Mrs. Donald Guest, headed home from Owosso, the aunt discovered the pills were missing and called a relative who notified State Police.

An alert for the Guests stopped the family car at Brighton and two city policemen there rushed the tot, unconscious by that time, to the hospital.

Dr. Clarence Van, administering antidotes at the Brighton Hospital, reveved Debra. He said the child would have been dead in another 30 minutes.

Big Brother Is True Friend to Lonely Lad

Ricky is 12. In many respects he is like every other 12 year old on his block, but there is one big difference, Ricky has no father. It's not that his dad is dead, he just isn't around.

Ricky remembers some years back when the word that was on the lips of his mother and father was divorce. He has never been sure what it means, but he has recognized a void in his life.

He was told that his father could come to "visit" him, and for a while this happened. Lately, however, he spent many long hours waiting for someone who did not show up.

Then he noticed a difference in his mother. She no longer was sweet and kind. She cried easily and hit him, when things made her unhappy. But he was not alone in this unhappiness; his mother recognized that she had problems and did something about it.

She has received help from a family agency, and he was glad, but he still had no one. He wondered what his mother meant when she said, perhaps if she had gone for help earlier, the family would be together today.

Ricky is lucky, he has many attributes of his own, a pleasant outgoing personality, an ability to make friends easily, but with all this he is deeply sensitive. He was, therefore, surprised and somewhat dubious when his mother explained to him that she was seeking help from Big Brothers of Oakland County. The suggestion had been made by her own social worker.

His mother pointed out that if things worked well, the Big Brother agency would find a man who lived near him, who is of his same general religion and who had the same kind of interests he did, to be his friend.

BIG BROTHER PLAN

He wondered about this, and while he liked the idea, was not sure what the man might expect of him. An interview with the Director of the Pontiac Big Brother Agency allayed his fears. He was told that he and his Big Brother would go on hikes together, fishing, camping, rides in the car and perhaps work up a hobby.

He was surprised to hear the director continually refer to the man as "his accepting friend," and he was not altogether sure what was meant when the director pointed out that any problems that the mother had would be handled through the professional staff. He did know however, that it sounded like a great idea.

All of this was 11 months ago, now Ricky and his Big Brother are "real buddies." He is happy when his Big Brother proudly introduces him as, "my friend."

Ricky has noticed also, that his mother seems more relieved and that he is no longer quite as upset as he was about little things at home and at school. He does not know it, but he is on an "adventure in friendship."

Ricky is but one of 45 "little brothers" now receiving help through the Pontiac Big Brother Agency. He doesn't know it, but it is the dimes and dollars contributed by Pontiac area residents to the United Fund that supports the agency which has made his life brighter and more stable.

William Clark, agency director, says that a long waiting list of boys who need help exists, but since it takes one Big Brother for every boy, progress depends on volunteers.

MORE MEN NEEDED

"We need men desperately who can give two or three hours a week, at their own convenience to help a boy," he said.

The 45 Pontiac and Waterford Township Big Brothers come from all walks of life and are both single and married. They are given an orientation course and then sit in on juvenile court cases until they get a fair idea of what the problems are that bring boys to court.

Not all the boys, however, are sent by the court to the Big Brother Agency. Schools, social agencies and parents bring in many of them.

"With public support through the Pontiac Area United Fund, and with enough men who will give their time, Clark said, "We could do so much more to help boys before they get into serious trouble and become a menace or a burden to our community."

BIG BROTHER — Pearson Wood, 27, of 2768 Winkleman St., is one of those devoted men who give two or three hours a week to helping a boy who needs a "Big Brother." Wood is shown as he sets off on a motorcycle ride with his "Little Brother," a boy who lacked adult interest and companionship. Supported by Pontiac Area United Fund, Big Brothers of Pontiac annually help scores of boys grow up into useful, responsible citizens through adult guidance.

Attorneys Cool to Divorce Suit 'Cooling' Period

DETROIT (AP) — The "cooling off" period legislated into Michigan divorce law is getting a cool reception from many Michigan judges and attorneys, says a Detroit newspaper after a survey.

Some judges take the stand that it is too early to tell yet whether the law is a good one, but many flatly say it does nothing but delay litigation an additional 60 days.

The law went into effect Sept. 27, requiring a 60-day lapse between the filing of the original divorce papers and the filing of the bill of complaint listing the charges.

The idea, patterned after a similar law in Illinois, is that spatting couples will find a path to reconciliation if forced to wait 60 days for their divorce.

But, said Judge George E. Bowles:

"It's a waste of time if they just sit around and glare at each other."

Geiger Counter Goes Wild

He Jumbles Defense Drill With Lethal Radium Vial

TORONTO (AP)—A German immigrant threw a civil defense drill into an uproar yesterday by pulling a vial of lethal radium from his pocket. He said he wanted it tested for potency.

An astonished policeman a few feet away pointed his Geiger counter and the indicator gyrated wildly right off the dial.

The mild-mannered German Gunder Kuhn, 29, was searched and promptly arrested on a charge of carrying an unregistered and loaded revolver.

He was hustled off to jail and given a decontamination bath while police and civil defense agents spread out to run down the radioactivity in his wake.

Kuhn told police he brought the radium into Canada from West Germany eight months ago. He said he had been working with it for a year, applying it to the dials of wrist watches and various instruments to make them luminous. He works for a hospital equipment company as a mechanic.

Police found an adhesive bandage covering an open sore beside Kuhn's left eye. One expert said such sores are common in the later stages of radiation sickness. Other officials said there was no doubt the man's blood is infected.

Police said the vial contained about 20 grams of the gray powder, more than is kept on hand by a metropolitan hospital for radiation treatment.

Police found Kuhn's rented room strongly contaminated. It was sealed after the bedclothes were burned. Nine occupants of the rooming house were advised to wash with soap and water to neutralize any radiation. Blood tests were ordered for them and for policemen who came in contact with the German.

Kuhn has a wife and infant daughter living in Luebeck, West Germany.

Three Fires Strike Waterford Saturday

Faulty wiring was blamed for the fire at the home of George Palmateer, of 61 Hickory Ln., at 1:30 p.m. Firemen battled the blaze for more than an hour. Damage was estimated at $1,500.

A four-year-old boy playing with matches and candles in a closet caused a $1,000 fire at the home of E. M. Zarrvan, at 3363 Carmen St., at 7 a.m., firemen said.

FBI Nabs City Youth on Desertion Charge

Charles W. Brown, special agent in charge of the Detroit office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, announced today the arrest of Sgt. Earl D. Vance, 29, in Pontiac on a charge of desertion.

Vance is charged with deserting the U. S. Army at Fort Lewis, Wash., on July 24, 1957. Brown identified Vance as a native of Kentucky, who was living at 3205 Sashabaw Rd., Drayton Plains. He was turned over to military authorities at Fort Wayne, Detroit.

Algerian Nationalists Renew Activities

ALGIERS (AP)—The French reported today nearly 150 nationalist rebels were killed or captured over the weekend and a number of rebel arms, food and medical depots were discovered.

The rebels removed bolts on a railroad near Orleansville, derailing 13 cars of a freight train. Near Algiers, 42 acres of orange trees were cut down.

Algiers had its first grenade-tossings in 40 days. One Moslem was killed and 22 wounded.

Howl Goes Up at Use of Dog

Animal Lovers Protest Russia's Sending Canine in New Satellite

NEW YORK (AP)—Animal lovers around the world are protesting Russia's use of a dog as a passenger in its new earth satellite.

Warren W. McSpadden, general manager of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals said yesterday a protest to the Soviet Union would be sent through the State Department.

McSpadden said he dog is fice" or with "great pain and suffering should it survive."

Sending a dog to outer space, he said, "cannot possibly advance human health and welfare."

In another protest, telegraphed to the Soviet Embassy in Washington, Mrs. D. Kibbe Riddell, president of Bid-a-Wee Assn., Inc., condemned "this atrocity."

Mrs. Riddell said the Russian government "has once again proved its inhumanity." Her association maintains an adoption center for animals in Manhattan.

In London, the National Canine Defense League asked dog-lovers everywhere to observe a minute of silence each day on behalf of Curly.

The organization said it will send a delegation marching on the Soviet Embassy to condemn use of the dog on the artificial moon.

The Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, said at Liverpool it was being flooded with protest calls. An official said the possibility of Curly's being burned by cosmic rays "are too horrible to contemplate."

Bing and Kathy Attend Dedication of Crosby Library

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Bing Crosby introduced his new bride to cronies of his college days, showed her around the neighborhood where he grew up and then helped dedicate Crosby Library at his alma mater yesterday.

The library is Bing's $700,000 gift to Gonzaga University. He formally turned over the keys in a 50-minute ceremony. His pretty 23-year-old wife of 10 days sat beside him on the platform.

Bing wore the colorful academic robes and the square mortarboard of an honorary doctor of music. He stepped to the podium, flanked by 70 professors in full regalia, a crowd of about 5,000 on the library steps in front of him.

"I wish Hope could see me now," he said.

He shifted to solemnity: If I've gotten anywhere in show business, if I've achieved anything, it's directly attributable to the environmental influences that I was exposed to here."

He turned to the professors: "Say, how about that — gosh—."

Kathy Grant joined in the laughter. So did Bing's twin sons, Dennis and Philip, only a few months younger than their new stepmother.

Ted and Larry Crosby, Bing's brothers, were there, too.

Half a dozen speakers extolled Bing as the most famous, the best loved and the most generous Gonzagan since Father Jean Pierre DeSmet founded the Jesuit school in 1887.

Bing grew up a block away, graduated from Gonzaga High School, was a pre-law student in the university for two years — class of 1924—before he struck out into show business. Gonzaga gave him the honorary degree in 1937.

You Need a Psychiatrist to Marry on Broadway

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Once a guy needed a girl and $2 to get married, today on Broadway or in Hollywood he needs a psychiatrist.

Away back in '56, Marlon Brando confided to a Hollywood friend, "One more year of analysis and I'll be able to get married."

WILSON

Rod Steiger, "the best TV actor of 1953," and since that acknowledged to be one of the great movie actors, applauds Marlon's marriage, saying, "In analysis, he took a great step along the journey of hard work to improve himself."

Rod would like to get married, too—except that he already is.

"Meet my wife from whom I'm separated," he said when we met. I nodded to attractive actress Sally Grace.

"I used to be shy," he said, concerning the benefits of analysis. "At parties I would sit in the corner and get the books down. I didn't really want to read the books.

"I had a fear of women. I would try to break up a relationship first. My attitude was, 'You're not going to hurt me. I'll hurt you first.' I dress better now. I realize these are my golden years. It would be terrible to miss a great romance because I didn't have the right clothes on."

STEIGER

Rod resents having been called "The Weeper" because he was always crying in his acting jobs.

"I quit it because in analysis I learned I was being self-indulgent . . . pitying myself," he said. And he added, "Show business is a glamorous, vicious, dirty business. I like it, and especially the Actors Studio which is the only place young actors can make mistakes today. I'd still like to be married though, because when you wake up in the morning you feel funny with your arm around a book."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Shelley Winters told her agents to get her some TV jobs in Hollywood 'cause her husband Tony Franciosa "will be in jail for a month for punching a photographer and I may as well work" . . . Jane Frohman was given a 100 per cent o.k. by her Palm Springs doctors, first time in 14 years . . . Charles Addams saw a gal at Bourbon Street and said, "She's so repulsive, I've got to meet her."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "We are all in the gutter, but some of us are looking at the stars."—Oscar Wilde . . . That's earl, brother.

Glamor Gowns Replace Aprons

George's Video Wife Becomes Career Girl Like Debbie

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

And she was inspired by his alternating NBC-TV show with Eddie Fisher.

If Eddie can have a career wife, Debbie Reynolds, Alice insists she should be a career doll, too—the reason for Jeff Donnell's singing on the first Gobel show of the season.

But it was a "tone deaf" Jeff laughing to me after the show:

"I'll probably be voted the 'Sweetheart of the TV Repairmen.' Every time I sing people will figure there's something wrong with their sets and will call in a repairman.

"George is threatening to take up a pool from the cast and crew guessing what key I'll hit."

'FANTASTIC GOWNS'

But at least Jeff's happy about hanging up her apron for a change and wiggling into some "fantastic gowns."

Jeff's career as Alice has been fantastic, too. She teamed up with Gobel on a more or less regular basis for two years and then in the third season a new producer-director decided domestic comedy wasn't George's cup of tea.

But after five months without Alice, the show's fans were chanting "We want Alice" — and she was brought back to finish out the season. This year she's signed for six shows, with an option for more.

After a summer vacation on Cape Cod, perky Jeff is as wide-eyed as ever about her impact on audiences as Alice.

She told me: "Several people stopped me on the street and asked, 'Pardon me, Alice, but is George with you on the Cape?'"

Urges Public Voice on 'Right to Work'

DETROIT (AP)—State Rep. George Van Perusem (R-Zeeland) says people should have the final say on the fate of so-called right-to-work legislation.

Van Perusem, speaker of the Michigan House, said in a radio interview yesterday that it is impossible to pass such legislation on a state level in Michigan because of the Democratic administration and the stand taken by Democratic Legislators.

"I would like very much, personally, to have the people of Michigan themselves decide on a referendum whether or not they want right-to-work legislation," Van Perusem said.

Profits Higher Despite Pinch

11 Top Money Makers Running Ahead Though Rest Are Slow

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The squeeze on profits is on in earnest today. But at the three-quarter mark of the year all but one of the 12 top money makers of big business report profits running well ahead of the nine month figures for 1956.

Half of the top dozen of the big earners had a poorer July-September quarter this year than last. But the carry over of earnings from the first half of the year made their combined total for the first nine months 25.9 per cent above the 1956 period.

The record of industry as a whole is poor by comparison with the biggest firms. Earnings statements now pouring in show most corporate profits down from the second quarter of this year, and a sizable percentage of the companies show declines from a year ago.

A congressional committee is questioning steel officials about the price rise of last summer. Steel firms reporting so far show earnings averaging 22 per cent above last year, more because of the steel strike in the summer of 1956, perhaps, than because of the price boost.

As a whole, oil industry profits are running 15 per cent ahead of last year, but many of the smaller companies report declines.

General Motors was the only one of the top 12 money makers among nonfinancial corporations to show lower nine month figures than a year ago. And this decline in net income after taxes drops it from first to third place among the "golden dozen."
