Holiday Travelers to Tax Highways

Some Showers Due Tomorrow and Labor Day

But Area Police Caution 'Play Safe' on Crowded Roads, at Lakes

Summer will take its final fling this Labor Day weekend, with showers expected to dampen local enthusiasm.

The highways, nationally and locally, are expected to hold a record crowd of motorists taking a final weekend vacation and closing summer cottages to return home. The latter group is expected to jam the highways in the late hours of the holiday weekend Monday.

The area weather forecast calls for scattered showers Saturday and Monday with above normal temperatures expected to reach near 80 during the weekend.

The showers are expected to be heavier out-state and in the Upper Peninsula.

The National Safety Council predicts that 420 persons will be killed in traffic accidents during the 78-hour holiday weekend from 6 p.m. today to midnight Monday.

CAUTIONS DRIVERS

Council president Ned H. Dearborn urged motorists to show the same caution and cooperation with police that marked the Memorial Day and July 4 weekends. Both holidays produced traffic death tolls no worse than normal weekends because of that extra care, Dearborn said.

Locally, Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons said police agencies in the county are primed to equal last year's deathless Labor Day weekend on the highways.

Waterbound Oakland County is also a water safety problem on holiday weekends, and officials joined today in urging that this last swimming outing be a safe one by observance of water safety rules.

EXTRA POLICE

The state's various police agencies have been mobilized to swing into extra duty action late today. National Guardsmen have been assigned to aid State Police and sheriff patrols. Many law enforcement agencies are manning desk jobs with non-uniformed officers to free uniformed men for highway patrol work.

State troopers are beginning 10-hour shifts today for the duration of the weekend.

Labor Day is an official holiday and local merchants, banks and plants will close Monday. Governmental offices — city, county, state and federal — also will close, with the exception of law enforcement agencies.

All are expected to resume normal operation Tuesday at regular hours.

Some essential retailers, including food and drug stores and gasoline service stations, are expected to be open all or part of Monday.

Some barbers have indicated they will remain closed Tuesday for an extra day of vacation.

AP Wirephoto

Senate OKs Civil Rights Bill as Filibuster Sets Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first civil rights bill to pass Congress in more than 82 years was on its way to President Eisenhower today.

The Senate completed congressional action on the compromise measure late last night after 39 hours of continuous session, passing it by an overwhelming 60-15 vote. The House had passed the bill last Tuesday.

The end of the months-long battle over civil rights came two hours after Sen. Thurmond (D-SC) ended a record-setting filibuster against the bill.

Thurmond held the floor for 24 hours and 19 minutes. The previous record was set in 1953 by Sen. Morse (D-Ore) in an equally futile effort to defeat the submerged oil lands bill.

Thurmond's filibuster was singled-handed. Other Southerners refrained from joining in because they felt it was fruitless and might boomerang.

Final passage of the civil rights measure cleared the way for adjournment of Congress, probably today.

MANY ABSENTEES

On the final role call, 15 Southerners voted "no." Thirty-seven Republicans and 23 Democrats joined in support of the bill. There were many absentees.

Related Story, Page 14

The bill provides broad new federal enforcement powers in the field of voting rights, although it does not contain some of the far-ranging provisions originally asked by Eisenhower.

Nevertheless, its passage is an outstanding victory for Eisenhower and for members of both parties who have struggled for years to win action on civil rights.

The political repercussions are certain to be felt for a long time.

The key feature of the bill is a provision giving the Justice Department authority to seek federal court injuctions to enforce the WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's two U.S. senators, Mcnamara (D) and Potter (R), both voted for the civil rights bill which was sent to President Eisenhower for his approval last night.

Confidential Trial Awaits Stars for Role of Witness

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Confidential magazine libel trial—which so far has heard the names of many celebrities but has seen none of them on the witness stand—resumes today after a one-day recess.

Both sides promise surprise witnesses.

Defense Atty. Arthur J. Crowley says he expects to complete calling his witnesses today, but is holding back several "of an interesting nature" to call in rebuttal.

Dep. Dist. Atty. William L. Ritzi would not say whether he intends calling actress Maureen O'Hara but he did say he will call rebuttal witnesses of a "sensational nature."

Miss O'Hara was the subject of a Confidential story asserting that she "cuddled in row 35" of Grauman's Chinese Theater. She has denied the story, saying she was in Europe at the time.

As the trial moves toward conclusion, the jury of six men and women has yet to see a movie star. Pre-trial statements of attorneys had promised a cast of celebrities.

Confidential and its sister publication, Whisper magazine, and their Hollywood agents, Fred and Marjorie Meade, are being tried on charges of conspiracy to commit criminal libel and to print lewd and obscene matter.

In the absence of Hollywood stars the trial has turned into a name-dropping affair, with more than 50 film people mentioned.

One of them, actress Francesca de Scaffa, former wife of actor Bruce Cabot who figured prominently in trial testimony, is the subject of a two-country search.

Slain Detroiter Is Found Behind Waterford Plant

Contractor Comes Upon Body of Earl Atwood, Shot in Head

The body of a 40-year-old Detroit man shot to death was found on the grounds of a Waterford Township cement company this morning.

He was identified as Earl E. Atwood, of 4808 Cabot St., apparently a robbery victim.

The pockets of his clothing were turned inside out, said Captain Millard Pender of the township police department. No money or wallet was found on the victim. There were indications that a ring and watch had been taken off his body.

Tire tracks indicated that Atwood had been shot in a car and then dumped out.

The body was found shortly after 10 a.m. about 10 feet off a circular drive in the yard of the Airport Ready Mix & Building Supply Co., 3770 Airport Rd.

Atwood lay crumpled on his right side, a small blot of blood on the ground beneath his head. There was a bullet wound in his right temple.

Tire tracks were found leading from the circular drive to the spot where the body lay and then back to the road, Pender said. Detectives were making casts of a portion of the tracks left on soft ground.

A deputy coroner fixed the time of death as between 2:30 a.m. and 3 a.m. today. The dead man's body had lain unnoticed from then until a customer drove down the road about 10:10 this morning.

Arni Arnason, 36, of 1085 Bird Rd., Ortonville said he was driving to the Ready Mix plant for a load of sand. Arnason is a masonry contractor.

At the rear of the yard, about 900 feet east of Airport road, Arnason saw the body, stopped his truck, got out and walked to it.

He saw blood and deciding the man was dead, drove on to the office, where police were called.

Arnason, who suffers a weak heart, had to be taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for brief treatment.

Atwood was identified by means of a driver's license found in an address book. There was also a car registration, made out to his wife, Phyllis, of the same Detroit address.

Pender was trying to reach Mrs. Atwood today in hopes she could shed some light on the death.

From the tire tracks and the 300 Jam Meeting to Hear Plan for Legal Drag Strip in County

By MAX E. SIMON

From all parts of Oakland County, 300 hotrodders and parents converged on Pontiac last night.

Many drove the cars that they hope to race someday on a drag strip in the Pontiac area. Parents, anxious to learn about the new movement which has so aroused the enthusiasm of their teenage children, were also on hand.

From as far away as Detroit the hotrodders came, to gather as much information as they could about the organization which is fighting for the establishment of legalized drag racing under proper supervision in Oakland County.

And to report back to the hotrod enthusiasts in Detroit how they could best participate in the drag racing program here.

The occasion was another meeting of the Oakland County Timing Assn., a newly organized group of local teenagers and other hotrod fans, which believes in building a drag strip in Oakland County to keep teenagers from racing their cars on the highway.

"I guess you all realize that we've got a lot of competition," President Bill Martin, 21, of Waterford Township, told those present.

He was referring to charges by Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore that drag racing is "dangerous."

'WE'LL PROVE SINCERITY'

"We've got to show those who oppose us that we are sincere in trying to build a safe drag strip," he asserted, "and when they see that we mean what we say, they'll come over to our side."

Martin warned the youths that it would take only one act of recklessness by a member of the association resulting in an accident to blow up their dream of a strip.

Officers of the group feel that it will be two to three years before the drag strip becomes a reality.

The crowd listening to Martin was sitting on the back lawn of Wisner School. Originally, the meeting had been scheduled in a room of the Oakland County Jail. But, early in the evening, it was obvious that there wouldn't be enough room to hold the many persons who have become interested in the program. Only 80

Big-Three Reply to UAW Chief

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

DETROIT—United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther stood accused today of trying to cover up inflation and not curb it.

This was the general reaction from the "Big Three" of the automotive industry after Reuther's latest blast at the manufacturers. The UAW chief announced that he has again sought the aid of President Eisenhower in his battle to have Ford, Chrysler and General Motors cut 1958 car prices by $100.

The auto companies responded that Reuther's statement yesterday has not changed his original proposal and again called it an attempt to "smokescreen the inflation-fanning demands he will make of the auto industry next June."

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, in response to requests for comment on Reuther's statement of Thursday, said:

CURTICE REPLIES

"Mr. Reuther's 14-page publicity release re-argues his letter to General Motors to which we replied in detail on Aug. 22, but ignores the constructive suggestion made by General Motors that he announce a willingness to extend the GM-UAW contract for a period of two years beyond May 29, 1958. Such an extension would have a constructive and stabilizing effect on the whole economy.

"It would continue the GM wage formula which provides for cost-of-living adjustments based upon the BLS Consumer Price Index and also for annual increases in wages of 2½ per cent or 6 cents per hour whichever is greater.

"For our part, we reiterate, we will continue to do all in our power to resist inflationary pressures and promote stability."

Ford Motor Co. president, Henry Ford II, accused Reuther of an attempt to "shift the blame for inflation from himself to someone else."

"I think it is unfortunate," Ford

Giant Parade in Detroit Kicks Off 10-Day Affair for Young and Old

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan State Fair, with competition for farmers, rides for the kiddies and a carnival for all, opened its 10-day stand today.

First was a giant parade through downtown Detroit. Floats, 21 bands, 10 horseback units, seven marching groups and six majorette groups took part.

An estimated 75,000 Wayne County union members marched in the parade from Woodward and Willis past the old city hall. It is the last time the county AFL and CIO groups will march as separate organizations.

The principal speaker after the parade was U.S. Sen. Patrick V. McNamara (D-Mich). He also was grand marshal of the parade.

Other speakers were Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Lt. Gov. Philip Hart, City Council President Louis C. Miriani, United Auto Workers Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey and Andrew McFarlane, president of the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Labor.

The Fairgrounds will open at 9 a.m. daily and close at 10 p.m. The opening hour on weekends is 8 a.m.

Set for Exodus as Both Houses Pass Major Bills

Foreign Aid, Security Rights Measures Sent to Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (INS) — The legislative decks were cleared for final adjournment today of the first session of the 85th Congress.

Senators and congressmen were poised for their exodus from Washington, weary from eight months of law making, speeches and investigations, but most of them were exultant over passage of the hard-fought civil rights bill.

The House completed congressional action on all major pending legislation today.

It approved and sent to the White House the bill limiting disclosure of FBI information to defendants in federal prosecutions.

It also adopted and sent to President Eisenhower the compromise $3,436,000,000 foreign aid appropriation bill.

The Senate approved these two measures and completed action on an emergency immigration bill late last night at the end of a marathon, 39-hour-session — longest of the year.

The flurry of voting came after the Senate passed and sent to the White House the major civil rights legislation as majority Leader Lyndon Johnson cleared the decks of everything but a few minor bills in order to adjourn promptly.

The session, which began last January with attention on President Eisenhower's second inaugural, winds up with the chief executive's expression of "tremendous disappointment" over the record of the Democratic-controlled Congress.

Many of the stormiest issues have been put over until next year. Political figures will squabble in the meantime over whether the accomplishments or failures outweigh each other.

Many of the bills that got in the shuffle will be revived in the second session starting in January.

Lawmakers investigated a broad field of activity. They pried into nuclear fall-out, organized labor, baseball, cigarettes, the oil industry, Indiana highway scandals, the administration's monetary policies and the use of farm surpluses as an instrument of foreign policy.

A number of the probes will be resumed this fall after members of Congress have had belated vacations.

To Pay His Share of U.S. Debt

Wills Bonds to Uncle Sam

LAMAR, Colo. (AP) — Uncle Sam's huge national debt worried Arthur E. Lamper, who died recently at 72.

His will, filed for probate yesterday, gives the government all his U. S. investment bonds.

The retired American Sugar Co. executive said in his will:

"I feel a moral obligation for my share of the debt of the United States and this bequest of bonds will in some measure take care of my share of the debt as well as my mother's."

The bequest was estimated at between $5,000 and $10,000.

Stabs Father With Arrow

Detroit Youth Flees After Attack in Defense of Mother

DETROIT (INS)—A Detroit man was reported in serious condition today after his son stabbed him in the chest with a steel-tipped arrow.

The victim was identified as John McCallum, 39, of 3904 Fenkell. The son, Hugh (age unknown) fled the house after the incident and is being sought.

Police said another son, John Jr., 15, told them Hugh stabbed his father after McCallum and his wife quarreled.

Young John said his older brother had planned for some time to attack his father if the latter continued to drink and abuse his mother.

Mrs. Nancy McCallum, 40, was too upset to give police any details of the stabbing. Another son, William, 11, also was aroused by the fighting.

The weapon was a 30-inch broad-tipped hunting arrow.

Police said they were told McCallum is a heavy drinker and often abused his wife. They were informed he once blackened both her eyes and on another occasion placed a burning cigaret on her neck.

Search for Clues in Chicago Slaying

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 650 policemen, including some 500 trainees, today searched alleys, houses and garages on Chicago's north and northwest sides for clues in the slaying of Judith Mae Andersen.

Police commissioner Timothy O'Connor said the search will include sites that could have been used to kill the 15-year-old school girl and pack her dismembered body parts into two oil drums, which were recovered last week from Lake Michigan.

A task force of 22 men investigating the 4700 block of N. Malden yesterday dug up reports that residents had heard nighttime gunshots and hollow, booming noises on the night of Aug. 19 and the morning of Aug. 20. Judith Mae disappeared Aug. 16 after she left the home of a friend.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Why should business meetings, sales meetings and business calls sometimes be planned in consideration of prevailing weather conditions?

We have suggested in an earlier piece that salesmen can profitably take advantage of high pressure periods for making calls and do their "homework" during low pressure periods.

This is true because low pressure automatically affects the nerves by causing dehydration of the tissues. Some people begin to ache and others feel a mental depression. This is not imaginary; it is quite real.

Thus sales meetings, conferences and sales calls could be profitably planned to take place in good weather periods, quite often, when salesmen and prospective buyers are feeling their best. A glance at the weather map will show when high pressure areas (usually fair weather periods) can be expected to arrive in your locality.

Squelch Reports Barkley's Widow, Rayburn to Wed

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"For heaven's sake," Mrs. Alben Barkley said last night when she was asked about reports she might marry House Speaker Sam Rayburn.

NBC commentator David Brinkley in a television broadcast said Rayburn, a 75-year-old bachelor, had been squiring the widow of the former vice president "to parties around town and people are enjoying the gossip that we may soon have a wedding here."

"There is nothing at all to it," Mrs. Barkley said when contacted by a Globe-Democrat reporter in Washington.

"Mr. Rayburn is an old, old friend. He was originally a friend of Sen. Barkley, and he has been very, very nice to me since Mr. Barkley died.

teenagers had attended the previous meeting two weeks ago.

On hand for the meeting was Pontiac attorney Anthony Renne, who volunteered to draw up a constitution for the association in accordance with state and local laws.

He said that the group would then be able to apply for a charter from the state as a non-profit organization with the right to purchase land.

To give the teenagers an idea of the main rules of the association, their officers read off a skeleton outline of some of the items to be put into the group's constitution.

Members of the club would be dropped if they lost their license because of a traffic violation, if they were convicted of reckless driving, or if they received a negative report from the safety committee of the association.

The safety committee would see that all cars owned by members were fit to be safely operated. If the safety committee had to warn a member as much as three times for a safety violation, his name would be brought before the entire group for a vote on whether he should be dropped from the group.

The teenagers also were addressed by a member of the Board of Directors of the Michigan Hotrod Association, Don Houck of Farmington, He said that the Oakland County Timing Assn., if properly organized and following the rules of the sheriff's department, could use the drag strip near New Baltimore.

He pointed out that it had cost the Michigan Hotrod Assn. more than $53,000 to build the strip in New Baltimore.

The local group discussed the possibility of using the already-built site until enough money was raised in Oakland County to construct a strip here. It is estimated that the cost would run between $50,000 and $75,000.

Meanshile, the group plans to launch a drive for new members. Dances and dinners will be major activities of the local drag association.

Takes Engine 3 Days to Make 40 Mile Run

JACKSON (INS) — The Grand Trunk and Western Railroad's steam engine No. 5030 took three days and 188 miles to travel from Battle Creek to Jackson, a distance of 40 miles as the crow flies.

The trip took so long because there is no direct link between the two cities. The engine had to go from Battle Creek to Durand, 82 miles; Durand to Pontiac, 36 miles, and from there to Jackson, another 70 miles.

The locomotive was a gift from the railroad to the city to commemorate the passing of the "Iron Horse" now replaced with diesels.

Ford Car Deliveries Will Cost $5.50 More

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. announced today a $5.50 increase in the destination charge of its cars and trucks to cover the cost of a recent railroad freight rate increase.

The company has always reflected fright cost changes, up or down, in its destination charges.

Railroad freight rate increases were authorized by the Interstate Commerce Commission Aug. 6, and went into effect Monday.

The company's destination charge increase became effective yesterday.

No Auditing of Books in County Seen Likely

The State is auditing Wayne County's books for the first time in recent years, but almost certainly at the expense of a similar audit in Oakland and at least 18 other counties.

That is the decision of Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski, it was confirmed in Lansing today.

Oakland may have to pay $20,000 or more for an independent outside audit, said Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the county Board of Auditors.

County Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt declared that he can find no law authorizing the Auditor General's office to skip its audit of Oakland County.

In Lansing, Deputy Auditor General William R. Hart said the situation was "unfortunate," but indicated that no law was being broken.

"We are supposed to audit the books of every county in the state, that's true," he said. "But because of a shortage of auditors we have not been able to audit Wayne County for a long time.

"This year we are determined to audit Wayne. If we don't have enough auditors left to cover all the other counties, that's unfortunate, but we can't help it," Hart said.

Szymanski advised the affected counties to hire outside auditors for the job. Merritt, in turn, suggested that the State come up with the money for an independent audit.

Moore said that published reports earlier today quoting him as estimating the cost at $50,000 were untrue. "I never said that since I don't know how much an audit would cost," said Moore. "But it probably will cost at least $20,000."

Moore said that the State had already completed at least "a partial" audit of the county's books, since state auditors have already visited the county in February and briefly in July.

The audit in question is of the 1956 books, since final audits are not usually completed until 1½ years after the end of the audit period.

Hill said that more auditors were requested of the legislature this spring, but were turned down.

In Detroit, Charles F. Edgecomb, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Auditors, welcomed the change.

In the past, he said, audits by independent outside firms have been irregular. The last one cost about $80,000, he said.

Manslaughter Case Examination Starts

McEvers is charged in the death of Henry E. McCurry, 42, of 4975 Inkster Rd., Bloomfield Township, after a headon collision on M59 near Woodstock drive, Waterford Township, June 20. McCurry died July 21.

One of three Pontiac General Hospital doctors who testified yesterday, Dr. Len Bylfma said that McCurry's death was due to heart failure, adding that McCurry had heart disease before the accident, and the crash and operations were too much for him.

Examination will continue Sept. 5 in the township hall.

An official investigation into the cause of the blast is held up until Mrs. Bray recovers sufficiently to make an official statement, said Richard Hurtubise, Keego Harbor Police Chief.

The unofficial theory has been that gas, leaking from a pipeline break, was touched off by the flame of the automatic water heater. The break reported was caused shortly before the explosion during well-digging operations at the Bray home.

Continue to Investigate Argentine Ship Crash

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentine authorities held the Moore-McCormack Lines freighter Mormacsurf in port today, continuing investigation of its collision Tuesday night with an Argentine river steamer. Hope waned for the 94 persons listed as missing after the steamer sank.

The passenger list of the steamer, City of Buenos Aires, did not include children under six. It was feared several such children were aboard and lost, and the toll actually was above 94. There were no casualties on the Mormacsurf.

The river boat's owners blamed the 7,890-ton U. S. vessel for the collision. There was no immediate reply to the charge by Moore-McCormack, and the Mormacsurf's captain, Kenneth Sommers of San Francisco, was being held incommunicado by the Argentines.

Straits Bridge Could Be Free

Potter Claims Michigan Should Ask to Be Under Interstate System

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Knox (R-Mich) said today the new Mackinac Straits bridge could become toll-free under federal interstate highway program.

The bridge, linking Mackinaw City and St. Ignace, is scheduled to open in November on toll basis.

Knox said the federal government could reimburse the bridge authority under the new highway program since the bridge has been designated as part of interstate system. That would make the bridge toll-free.

The first step, he said, would be for the Michigan Highway Department to ask the Federal Bureau of Roads to include the bridge in its report to Congress next December.

He said it is the policy of Congress to reimburse states for all portions of the interstate system, whether toll or free, if construction is completed after Aug. 2, 1957.

Under the highway program, the federal government would pay 90 per cent of the costs.

"Numerous bridges, tunnels and portions of toll roads, all financed by private bond issues, have been submitted to the Bureau of Public Roads and the Commerce Department," Knox said.

"Michigan should get in step with other states."

Auto Industry Men Reply to Reuther

said, "that Mr. Reuther chooses to convert a grave national problem into a propaganda platform designed to divert public criticism from himself.

"The public interest is not served by continued irresponsible attacks that are deliberately contrived to create confusion. This latest statement by Mr. Reuther is another desperate attempt on his part to smoke-screen the inflation-fanned demands he will make of the auto companies next June."

President L. L. Colbert of Chrysler said Reuther's statement provided "nothing new."

In Washington, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty made public a letter sent to Reuther Aug. 22 by Gabriel Hauge, economic adviser to the President.

Hauge wrote that Eisenhower had asked him to thank Reuther for his Aug. 16 letter, in which the proposal first was made.

"It would be inappropriate," the letter said, "for the President to express a view on the specific proposals set forth in your letters to the three major automobile producers. He regards the sentiments expressed in your letter, however, as a hopeful augury that a sense of civic responsibility will prevail in the future negotiations between labor and management."

At his news conference last week Eisenhower said he had referred Reuther's proposal to the labor department and his economic advisers for study.

Reuther Won't Talk

Stars Yet to Appear in Confidential Trial

SEEN FLEEING

"We really want that young lady and have a warrant for her arrest," Ritzi said. Miss de Scaffa is under grand jury indictment with other accused defendants in the Confidential trial.

Former Confidential editor Howard Rushmore has testified that Miss de Scaffa offered to have an affair "with anyone in Hollywood" to get scandal stories for the magazine. The Mexican government has ordered her to leave that country.

Producer—Mike Todd, whose name also came up in testimony, said yesterday in Provincetown, Mass., that he would like to offer a deposition or testify at the trial but that no one had approached him.

Todd, vacationing on Cape Cod with his wife, actress Elizabeth Taylor, denied that he was an informer for Confidential or that he turned over photographs to the publication.

Albert De Stefano, Confidential's legal adviser, testified Monday that Todd not only helped with the story but supplied photos and the tag line. The story: "How Mike Todd Made a Chump Out of a Movie Mogul."

"Ludicrous, a ridiculous thing," said Todd, adding:

"If I had furnished them with photos, I'd have given them a better one than they used.

"There doesn't seem to be any way to defend yourself against these people — unless maybe I could challenge them to an old-fashioned duel."

Take Tiny Victim of Hit-Run Mishap for Operqtion

Tiny Michael Cassidy, 23-month-old victim of a hit-run accident, last night was taken from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital by his parents to University of Pennsylvania Hospital for a delicate operation on his broken jaw.

The child was injured Tuesday afternoon in Avon Township while visiting an aunt. The driver of the car did not stop.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cassidy, residents of Pennsylvania, made an appeal to the driver to come forth and identify himself, before leaving by auto with their son.

"We are certain that Michael was not hit, but ran into the side of a passing car," Mrs. Cassidy said. "Doctors agree if he had been hit, his injuries would have been far worse."

Expect Social Center Done by November

Salvation Army officials here are looking forward to a November completion date of the Men's Social Service Center at 118 W. Lawrence St., it was learned today.

Major Ernest Adler, manager of the new center, said the resale shop and the baling room might be done by the end of September.

The Salvation Army purchased the two-story structure from the Whitfield, Walter & Dawson wholesale grocery firm last year.

A $271,000 remodeling job is being done to the two floors by the Smith & Andrews Construction Co. of Oak Park.

Britain Claims Tops for Aircraft Altitude

LONDON (AP) — Britain today claimed a world altitude record for aircraft—70,000 feet.

The Royal Aero Club said the mark was set two days ago by a Canberra bomber, powered by two turbojets and two rocket motors. It was piloted by Michael Randrup, chief test pilot for D. Napier & Son.

The previous record was 65,890 feet, set by a Canberra in 1955.

The Royal Aero Club said the record was subject to confirmation. An unofficial altitude record of 126,000 feet was credited to an American Bell X2 plane, a rocket research ship, at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., in September 1956.

Charged With Assault, Man Is Bound Over

Emory Cox, 44, of 531 Arthur St., has been bound over to Circuit Court by Municipal Court Judge Cecil B. McCallum on a charge of assault.

Cox was charged following the shooting of James M. Brandon, of 220 Branch St., on May 4.

Brandon was in Cox's car when the shooting occurred during a scuffle between Cox and a third man following an argument, police said.

The Day in Birmingham

Area Community House Opening Doors Tuesday

BIRMINGHAM—Tuesday marks the reopening of the 1957-58 season at the Birmingham Community House.

Clubs which, through the summer have suspended activities or have been meeting in different places, will return to the fold for dinner meetings and programs.

House-sponsored activities, including the craft and hobby classes will be getting under way. Myra Showman, registrar, urges early enrollment for the many classes offered.

She stressed again that registration must be made in person and enrollment fees paid in advance.

One of the principal activities of the house will be the Senior Men's Club, entering its second year. The group meets Tuesdays and Fridays, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., for recreation, luncheon and visiting.

The outdoor shuffleboard courts are now ready for use, house spokesman said.

Reports of the past year and plans for the future will be heard when the annual meeting of officials and contributors is held on Oct. 7.

City Treasurer Russell T. Berger announced today that, beginning Sept. 1, taxes due July 1 this year will carry a penalty of ¾ of one per cent.

He said, however, that mail payments postmarked before midnight tomorrow will be accepted without penalty.

City Commissioners have approved the plan of night lighting on the ski slope at 14-Mile and Cranbrook Roads.

Assistant City Manager Robert Kenning announces the receipt of a check from the Federal Office of Civil Defense in the amount of $4,827.88, in defense matching funds.

Of this amount, $2,293.03 was for the air raid siren system, with the balance going for the DPW radio equipment.

Civil Rights Bill Approved by Senate right of every citizen to vote, regardless of race or color.

MODIFIED FORM

In its final form, this provision was modified so that persons charged with criminal contempt for violating such injunctions would be granted a jury trial if they were tried first by a judge alone and sentenced to more than 45 days in jail or fined more than $300.

But no jury trials would be authorized in civil contempt cases stemming from voting rights injunctions. Some legislators say the bulk of court orders in voting rights cases could be enforced through civil contempt action.

Civil contempt actions are aimed at obtaining compliance with a court order. Criminal contempt is intended to punish for non-compliance.

Find Slain Detroiter Near Waterford Plant

From the limited amount of blood on the ground, it was apparent that Atwood had been shot prior to the time his body was left in the concrete company's grounds.

The grounds are mostly bare and covered with sand and gravel. But a high spot in the yard contained a good print of the death car's tracks, said Pender.

Atwood was employed as a salesman for a Detroit shatterproof glass firm.

The owner of the concrete firm, Ben Soave, said he and the firm's employes usually drive to work by means of a front driveway. That was probably the reason the body wasn't discovered sooner, Soave said.

Election News Reported Fairly, Survey Indicates

BOSTON (AP) — Most readers think newspapers gave both sides fair play in the 1956 presidential election, according to a survey conducted by two University of Michigan professors.

About two-thirds of the persons questioned by Profs. Dean Baker and Charles Cannel considered the treatment of the parties equal in the newspapers.

The findings, based on questionnaires given to 1,772 voters considered to be representative of the entire adult population in the United States, were used in a discussion at a journalism meeting here yesterday.

Investigating Spread of Dutch Elm Disease

A survey of Dutch elm disease among trees in Ward's Point, West Bloomfield Township, is being conducted by a local tree surgeon, James G. Thornberry, 132 Norton Avenue.

Thornberry has been authorized by the state to investigate the spread of the disease there. Specimens will be forwarded to Lansing for laboratory analysis.

Birmingham Couple in Fair Condition

A Birmingham couple, injured yesterday in an accident near Saginaw in which three persons were killed, were reported in fair condition today by the Saginaw hospitals to which they were taken.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hitchcock, of 3300 Burning Bush Rd., had been reported in critical condition after the accident.

Authorities at St. Mary's, where Mrs. Hitchcock, 44, was taken, said that, although she was "fair," her injuries included multiple rib fractures and two fractured ankles.

First Jet Flight Like an Answer to Prayer for Nun

MCGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N.J. (AP)—A 62-year-old Roman Catholic nun who is a licensed pilot said her first jet flight yesterday was like the answer to a prayer.

Sister Mary Aquinas averaged 525 miles an hour in her T33 jet trainer flight with Air Force Maj. Chester A. Biedul, Detroit. She took over the controls part of the time from Madison, Wis., to McGuire. A science teacher at Holy Family College, Manitowoc, Wis., she came to New Jersey to give a lecture.

"Ever since I heard they invented a jet engine, I've wanted to ride in this kind of plane," said Sister Mary, who hails from Zanesville, Ohio. "If I ever felt good about being a science teacher, it was while I was up there as close to God as I could get and knowing it was an application of some of the scientific principles we teach that made such a flight possible."

Navy Pushing Construction of Fleet of Nuclear Vessels

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Navy plans to build two atomic powered ships every six months in its program for a nuclear fleet.

This was revealed in a report by Rear Admiral H. G. Rickover, chief of the Atomic Energy Commission's naval reactor branch, to the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee.

The atomic ships planned include submarines, aircraft carriers, cruisers and, eventually, destroyers.

Rickover said that under present plans, the Navy will have in commission or on the ways by 1963 atomic ships with a combined power capacity of two and a half million kilowatts, or 600,000 more than the capacity of Grand Coulee Dam, the world's largest.

By comparson, the combined power of the contemplated Naval atomic engines would be able to supply the needs of a city the size of Chicago.

Rickover told the committee "We are right in the middle of a vast program for changing our Navy" and the changeover will be in high gear by 1961 when the first atomic-powered aircraft carrier is scheduled for completion.

The Navy has said it wants to launch five giant nuclear carriers at the rate of one a year after 1961. The first carrier will be built by Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co., and will be the world's largest warship — displacing 86,000 tons.

It will have a 1,100-foot flight deck and will be powered by eight reactors for four shafts designed by Westinghouse Electric Corp. near Pittsburgh.

Richover also told the committee that the Navy has practically reached its goal of designing a ship of fighting a war without refueling.

He added: "Ultimately, you might get a reactor which will last the life of the ship."

C. of C. Manager Takes $1,135 Gas Bill

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The Chamber of Commerce manager at Barstow, Calif., fished his personal credit card out of his wallet and signed for $1,135 worth of gasoline for a transpacific airplane. But he didn't get the bill.

Samuel L. Wilson, Transocean Airlines' senior vice president who lives here, blamed an inexperienced gas station attendant for the mixup at the Ontario, Calif., International Airport and said Bill Hendrie of Barstow was not billed.

Wilson explained that Transocean planes normally use Esso or Standard gasoline and carry credit cards for those brands. At Ontario, he continued, Transocean uses Shell gas but the Hawaii-bound Constellation's crew did not have the proper credit card. That caused the trouble, until Hendrie stepped in and volunteered his card.

Farrar declared "Transocean is a reputable company. We billed them direct as is our regular procedure."

Doctor's Home Treatment Rinses Away Blackheads

by Claire Hoffman

A LEADING New York dermatologist has developed a simple medicated home treatment that rinses away blackheads and whiteheads in a matter of minutes.

I saw it demonstrated recently on five women and two teenage boys. The results were almost breathtaking. Blackheads really rinsed away. In fact, many could be seen on the cleansing tissues that finished each treatment.

But this wasn't all! I saw enlarged pores reduced, and rough, muddy complexions made cleaner, clearer and smoother-looking. In the case of two older women, I saw flabby, sagging skin tighten and wrinkles flatten and fade . . . After seeing these results, I can well understand why so many beauticians are now acclaiming this doctor's treatment one of the most important beauty discoveries of the century.

Anyone Can Use It

The treatment starts with a thorough skin cleansing. A special laboratory - developed whipped cleansing cream is used that takes off not only surface dirt, but also softens and loosens pore-caked grime with its emollient action. It liquefies as soon as it is applied and literally floats the dirt right off your face.

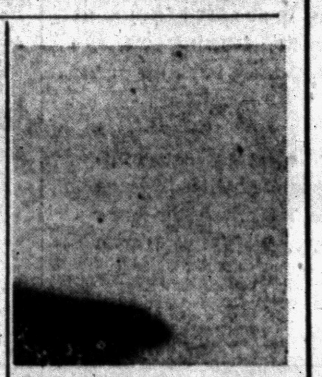

After this is tissued off, a delightful mint-scented cream is applied. Within 2 or 3 minutes an absorbing agent called Argilla dries and turns this specially medicated cream into a plastic-like masque. As it firms and hardens, its suction action draws on waste matter in the pores . . . In 8 or 10 minutes you simply rinse the masque away with lukewarm water which dissolves it immediately. When you wipe your face, you can see blackheads and other pore "filler" actually come off on your washcloth. And your skin feels clean—really clean—and refreshed and smooth, like velvet!

The third step in the treatment is an exhilarating application of a unique antiseptic astringent — a facial "mint julep" that sponges and tightens emptied pores and leaves a protective invisible film that helps guard your skin against dust, dirt and bacteria for hours and hours.

Nothing Else Like It

Even after a single treatment, women who have been troubled by blackheads for years see a marked improvement. Many find it hard to believe their eyes. Some blackheads and whiteheads just rinse away. Others are softened and made ready to be drawn out by future treatments. Enlarged pores appear to be smaller. The skin looks smoother and firmer — feels fresher and more alive!

In short, after a single treatment taking only 15 minutes, you can expect to see results that normally you would not dare hope for even after many weeks . . . but don't expect everything at once. Damage done by years of neglect can't be undone in a day. Yet with 3 or 4 treatments a week, you may confidently look forward to startling complexion improvements within 30 days.

SAME PATCH OF SKIN after treatment. 4 of the blackheads are gone, while the fifth has been loosened somewhat. Skin pores also appear smaller.

Then one treatment a week — or every second week — will probably be all your skin will need to keep it clear, lovely and healthy looking.

The medically developed products used in this treatment are manufactured and quality-controlled by QUEEN HELENE. They are Queen Helene Whipped Cleansing Cream, Queen Helene Medicated Masque and Queen Helen Penetrating Astringent. The three items are sold as a complete skin and beauty kit for 3.98 plus tax. Quite a bargain when you think of what it will do for a person's good looks — and self-esteem!

Boom Bringing Italy A New Way of Life

For other European nations postwar prosperity is bringing back good times, but for Italians it is something they've never had before.

However, while they are still poorer on a per capita basis than either the Germans or French, they are much better off than at any time in history. Ten years of booming prosperity have changed this land of traditional poverty more and faster than any other European country, says U.S. News & World Report.

Still the poorest of West Europe's industrial nations, the change in living conditions is startling. Industrial production has doubled and the purchasing power of the average family is 50 per cent greater than before World War II.

The Italian people are spending money, too. Their diet includes more meat, eggs and vegetables and they are buying entertainment and amusement in the form of theater tickets, radios and television sets. Italy now has a half million sets whereas three years ago there were scarcely any.

The biggest change, however, is in transportation. Motorcycles, scooters, small and big cars are multiplying so fast the statisticians can't keep count. There are at least four million vehicles on the roads, quadruple the 1950 number.

Italy's change has an "American" air. The first drive-in movie is being built on the outskirts of Rome. Hamburgers are featured at snack bars, juke boxes play the latest American tunes and even blue jeans are in evidence. A U.S. style supermarket, opened a year ago, is so successful that others are planned.

Nevertheless, amid all this prosperity there still are two million unemployed and great poverty exists in underdeveloped areas. However, the Organization of European Economic Cooperation (OEEC) comprising 16 nations is giving a helping hand and has approved a $5.5 million program to develop poor areas. Pilot projects in industrial, agricultural, social and economic development will be directed in the Oristo region of Sardinia.

This agency is a part of the Marshall Plan to revive Europe and was established in 1948. It isn't too much to claim that the imaginative and productive program is responsible in large part for Italy's present prosperity as well as that of the rest of Europe.

Law Will Save Lives

Everyone who drives a car will have at least a mild interest in a new law which was passed by the present legislature and signed by Gov. WILLIAMS. It takes effect September 22.

This provides that roadside hucksters of fruits, vegetables and other merchandise must operate at least one hundred twenty feet from the center of State and county highways.

This law will eliminate accidents and save lives, which is its primary purpose. In many cases it will lead the hucksters to provide more adequate parking area for cars, thus eliminating congestion at the very side of busy highways.

By moving the operators farther back, it will provide a more open view for motorists using the highways. Both of these changes will tend to reduce the number of accidents which have resulted from drivers suddenly checking their speed to stop at roadside markets, turning off the highway, and moving back on again after making their purchases.

The new law may cause inconvenience and expense to some of the operators, but its primary aim is safety. With the traffic toll what it is today, few will quarrel with that phase of its operation.

Parking Problem: What once was only in getting the girl to agree to it.

Inspired by the recent story in this column about the difficulties in getting the manufacture of automobiles under way.

Mrs. C. D. Benninger

of 3144 Dixie Highway, sends me an editorial on

"The Automobile Nuisance,"

taken from a 1912 Canadian paper.

It seeks a law to prohibit them on the highways, "because the nuisance threatens to become more general, and if not stopped no road will be sacred from them. Horses that are easily controlled in the presence of a railroad train go crazy at the sight of one of these things. Farmers are being driven off the roads which they were taxed to build."

It suggested that every candidate for parliament be required to pledge that he would do all in his power to do away with "a nuisance that threatens our very lives."

I have it directly from General Manager

"You can judge the intelligence of any city by its newspaper," writes

Digging among some files of a period ten years before he was born, finds a freight way-bill covering the shipment of three barrels of oil on the Pontiac, Oxford and Port Austin Railroad from Pontiac to Caseville on Dec. 22, 1886. This road had just been built, covering the 100 miles between the above points. It now is part of the Grand Trunk System.

The Teamster Line

David Lawrence Says:

U.S. Paid High Price for Rights Bill

WASHINGTON—By far the highest price paid for a single piece of legislation has been paid by the American people for the so-called "civil rights" bill.

LAWRENCE

It has meant the curtailment of financial aid for our allies in the "cold war," the arbitrary slashing of the defense budget, dangerous procrastination over measures to close loopholes in the law against Communist espionage, the squelching of aid to schools, the refusal to pass needed legislation increasing postal rates, and the creation of bitter antagonisms which will make the January session of Congress even more frustrating than the session just ending.

Was it worthwhile for the Republicans to risk the intensification of partisan bitterness just to corral a doubtful number of votes in the north in the coming elections? "Civil rights" certainly didn't help the Republicans in this week's election in Wisconsin.

Judging, moreover, by the trend of the protest among voters there, irrespective of color, it is the failure of the Republicans to come to grips with the economic problems of the hour which is proving their undoing.

The record of the voting in both houses shows that deep-seated feeling against the administration prevailed among the Democrats, and some of them were skillful enough to maneuver the course of needed legislation so as to block final passage.

There have been persistent rumors that some of the Southern Democrats were ready at one time to make some reciprocal deals or arrangements. The leaders would naturally foster such compromises if they saw a chance. Whether a so-called trade was at any time feasible will never be known.

FACTS NEEDED FIRST

But it can be accepted as a truism of life on Capitol Hill here that a better atmosphere would have been created for "foreign aid" appropriations, as well as a better treatment of the whole series of administration recommendations on the defense program, if the "civil rights" bill had been milder and had been confined to a national commission of investigation to establish the facts.

What the Southerners resent is the implication that the officials of their states will not enforce their own state laws governing voter qualifications. They contend that the Southern states should not have been singled out for attack when there are restrictive qualifications for voting in nearly every state of the Union.

The so-called "civil rights" bill is a police measure which assumes that the South has been acting in bad faith when, in fact, more and more Negroes have been qualifying for the voting privilege every year and more than 1,500,000 Negroes now are registered to vote in the Southern States.

Bad feeling among the conservatives of the South toward the Republican administration cannot but result in grave damage to the coalition which has hitherto kept the Northern radicals in the Democratic party from getting a majority for their legislative proposals in either house.

The situation now is so chaotic as between conservatives and the bitterness is so deep that the coalition may be said to have been dealt a blow from which it may never recover.

The Country Parson

"I doubt if we are in as much need of broadmindedness as minds of greater depth."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Sodium Citrate Selling Under Federal Control?

Sodium citrate was formerly used to modify milk for infant feeding. A grain or two of it in each ounce of milk, prevented formation of large curds.

Today the alarmingly dwindling number of doctors who are not in the trick specialist or "clinic" racket just dilute fresh milk with, say, an equal quantity or just a third or a quarter as much water, hand it to the young gentleman and tell him to take it or else.

DR. BRADY

For some time, readers of this column, who wanted to whip up a batch of Doc Brady's Home Made Fool Proof Cough Medicine for gramp or one of the children, had only to follow the directions in Volumette V of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health.

The recipe calls for simple ingredients which may well be found in any well regulated home — everything, that is, except perhaps citrate of soda.

But druggists never harped about selling an ounce or a pound of sodium citrate when customers asked for it. There was nothing printed on the can or carton that gave the druggist an excuse for refusing to sell it.

Not until the demand of readers became so great, that the venders of ready-made cough medicine became concerned about the decreasing popularity of their concoctions —usually laden with one or another kind of dope.

When things came to such a pass, the businessmen went into a huddle with the Federal food and drugs politicians, and presently, by golly, readers began complaining to me that they could no longer get sodium citrate without a prescription.

I said this was ridiculous, but readers told me that when they told the druggist what I said the druggist showed 'em the label on the sodium citrate bottle to prove it.

But, not so fast. Just what DOES the label say? Consider the testimony of two pharmacists on that point:

"Dear Sir:

Now you are mad at the druggist for not selling items because it is against the law. The legend: "Federal law prohibits dispensing without prescription" was put on the container, not by the druggist, but by a ruling of the Federal Government . . .

Sincerely,

_____"

(Pharmacist)

"Dear Dr. Brady:

I am a pharmacist. I have never refused to sell sodium citrate without a prescription. Although the label on the bottle says "For Prescription Compounding" it does not say: "Federal Law prohibits dispensing without prescription."

Satisfaction derived from helping people means more than the money.

A lot of this current crime wave on the part of teenagers is caused by these television crime pictures. Every night ordinary citizens and police officers are shot down by bank robbers, burglars, safe blowers and people that just get mad in arguments.

The other night a man killed his brother-in-law because he wouldn't leave the house, and many pretexts are less. Can't we have some comedies and dramas that revolve around the lives of decent folks?

U.N. Disarmament Talk Seems Near to Collapse

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The five-nation U.N. disarmament subcommittee negotiations again seem to be on the point of collapse.

Soviet Russia has rejected the western proposal for inspection zones that would embrace big areas in Europe, the Soviet Union and North America. Moscow also wants nothing to do with the plan that would link a suspension of nuclear weapons testing with a halt in the production of fissionable material that makes up those weapons.

As usual, the Soviets have charged the west with preparing for a new war. This is an old propaganda cry which overlooks the fact that the western bases to which Moscow objects resulted only from aggressive post-war Soviet policy, including the 1950 communist attack on Korea.

The impact of Soviet rejections of western plans this time is more significant with the announcement that the Russians have tested successfully an inter-continental ballistics missile, the so-called "ultimate weapon" which the west also is developing.

Russia's missile announcement is not regarded, however, as sheer propaganda. It is believed that Russia has developed such a missile although there is no way of telling just how accurate it is.

REDS AHEAD

Moscow claimed in 1953 it had the hydrogen bomb, a claim later proved to be correct. The implication is that Soviet scientists are ahead in this deadly race.

Moscow, throughout the long years of disarmament talks, always has demanded an outright declaration outlawing the use of nuclear weapons. But it has never given a convincing reply to western proposals that a fool-proof inspection system must be created to insure observance of such a declaration.

The Soviet Union, in the face of President Eisenhower's plan for "an open skies" aerial inspection as a partial step toward disarmament, has objected.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Discusses Jealousy as Symptom

Alan has grown abnormally suspicious of his faithful wife. He accuses her of affairs with men half her age. His own brother says Alan is wholly at fault and wonders what makes Alan act this way. Wives, be sure to study the advice below for this is a classical picture of the male who is panicky about his own virility.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-377: Alan Z., aged 55, is a prominent advertising executive.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I know you are a good friend of Alan's" his brother informed me.

"So I hope somehow you can help me straighten him out. For he is so suspicious of his wife.

"I know she is a wonderful woman and quite devoted to Alan. They have been married for 25 years.

"But my brother always is jealous of other men. I don't know why he should develop such a complex, but for ten years he has imagined that she runs around with other men.

"Once he moved into an entirely different apartment building just because he said his wife was too fond of the 30-year-old rental agent for the former building.

"Well, his wife is 54, so you can realize that it isn't likely this younger man would be madly captivated of her charms.

"And I positively know that it's my brother who is wrong and not his wife. So what is wrong with Alan?"

Jealousy usually indicates an inferiority complex. The person who makes the charges of unfaithfulness may thus feel inferior.

So he thinks other men can far outbid him. That's why he carries a constant chip on his shoulder and watches other men like a hawk.

"How can my wife love me?" Alan later admitted in some embarrassment, after a lengthy interview.

"For I have been a platonic husband for 10 years. Yet I know wives have even greater desire for physical affection than men, so she must be having an affair with another man, or she'd not be calm and satisfied in my company when I get home."

Notice this usual pattern of the impotent husband. For he quickly begins to ascribe an abnormal erotic hunger to his wife.

Wives are relatively frigid as measured by the usual male standard.

But as soon as a husband begins to feel inferior, he is likely to impute double or treble the erotic urge to his wife.

Then he may develop all sorts of neurotic symptoms. For example, it is common knowledge to us psychiatrists that such husbands will even hire detectives to trail their innocent wives, though the latter rival Caesar's wife in being above reproach.

ADVICE TO WIVES

If you wives thus have husbands who are unduly suspicious or who are caustic and sarcastic, or inclined to criticize the children unmercifully as a means of getting back at you, then the solution is easy.

Just restore the erotic ego of your mate. For those are symptoms of the male who is panicky lest he be losing his virility.

Other classical symptoms of this condition are a tendency for the man to drink heavily, although he had been a teetotaler or but moderate drinker prior to this age.

Some victims also gamble excessively or stay out late at lodge meetings and even church or YMCA projects, for they conjure up such legitimate excuses to remain away from home, lest their wife will wonder why they are no longer affectionate.

If they can stay out till the wee hours, even in constructive YMCA work, this serves as a convenient camouflage or "red herring" to divert the wife's attention from the real basis of their panic.

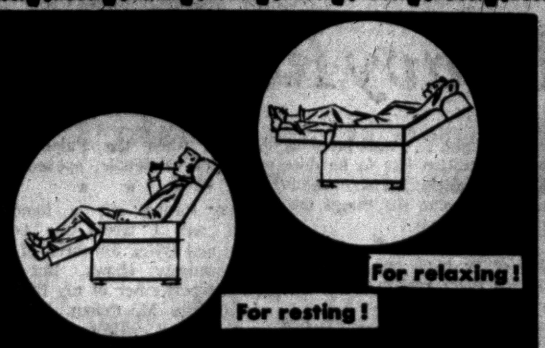

So send for my booklet "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It gets to the source of these symptoms.

Comedian Ed Wynn Takes Heavy Role at 70

SCHROON LAKE, N.Y. (AP) — Nearing 71, Ed Wynn, a gentle titan of the show world for two generations, can still stand on the first step of a flight of stairs and bend down and touch the ground.

And his mind remains as flexible as his body and his marvelously mobile face.

Next month the American Theater Wing will pay tribute to "The Perfect Fool" in a 90-minute television show honoring his 55 years as an entertainer.

But Ed, a performer who has done everything in his fabulous career except be shot out of a cannon, is even more excited by his new rise to stardom (after many said he was through) as a dramatic actor. He plays Uncle Samson in "Marjorie Morningstar," a film now being shot here at Scaroon Manor, an Adirondacks resort hotel.

Natalie Wood and Gene Kelly are also starred, but Ed, once called "one of the nine most charming people in the world," is the top favorite with the resort guests.

"People still come up and talk to me, even the kids, and I like that," he said. "I think that aloofness—or a swelled head, as we used to call it—is one of the greatest dangers to youngsters who achieve a quick success.

"But many of the kids today feel they don't need help, and have nothing to learn.

"The great artists of the past often didn't have enough to eat. But they lived for posterity. Today there is too much reaching for the fast buck. A singer can make funny noises on a single record, and overnight he's a star. But he has nothing to fall back on.

"Commercialism has taken a wrong tangent in this country. What we need is to inherit from those who went before, and not simply regard them as corny. There are certain traditions we need in our lives to give us stability.

"Something has changed. . . . people have changed. This looseness of thought. . . . .this breaking down of tradition has to be done away with quickly, if this nation is to hold true to the things that put it where it is.

"All of us have our best time when we don't realize it. . . . . in childhood.

"I've had my career, and I don't have to worry now. I made $400 a week when I was 16. I was the only American performer on the bill when the Palace, the mecca of vaudeville, opened.

"I've turned out a hundred songs, and I wrote the book, music and lyrics for three of my 18 Broadway shows. But the greatest performer of my lifetime was George M. Cohan. He had versatility. . . . . He could do anything.

"Happiness is a mental attitude. I realize I could die at any moment, but I never think of the calendar. I think young. . . and I'll die young. But I respect my age. I don't conduct myself like a schoolboy.

"I don't have a formula for a long life, but if I did I wouldn't sell it—I'd give it away to everyone. . . . I don't go to church. . . . But I often pray, and I feel my prayers have been answered.

"Why do I go on. Because I do love the theater. I'd rather drop dead on a stage before a laughing audience than die in bed with my relatives around me crying.

"My son, Keenan, tells everybody I've got a million dollars. I wonder what he will say when he finds out all I'm leaving him is a lot of old jokes?"

But Only to Test 'Drunk-O-Meter'

Booze It Up in Courtroom!

NEWARK, N. J. (INS)—The five men went up to the bar and began drinking.

Nothing unusual about that—except this bar was the bar of justice—in the courtroom of Superior Court Judge Mark A. Sullivan.

County Prosecutor Charles V. Webb Jr. looked on with delight. Later, he congratulated the men for their performance.

The five volunteers were participating in a test to demonstrate the accuracy of a Harger Drunk-O-Meter."

The device is used to determine whether a drinking driver has drunk too much to drive safely.

TOOK 19 OUNCES

One man consumed 19 ounces of alcohol before he was declared unfit to drive. The man who drank the least consumed but 11 ounces. He then dropped out voluntarily. One man drank 17 ounces, the two others 14 before being declared unfit drivers.

Scotch, rye and bourbon were used in the test. The volunteers drank up the original supply and more had to be ordered.

Three ounces were drunk within a half-hour period, then the test—which took an hour—was made. Then the drinking was resumed.

Beer was not used in the test, officials explained, because too much of it would have been required.

One man said after two drinks that he felt unfit to drive. But the test showed he did not have enough alcohol in his blood to be considered a drunken driver until he consumed 14 drinks—over a five-hour period. He was the first to be so adjudged.

Boston Papers Publishing Again

Mailers' Union Strike Settled; First Issues Today Since Aug. 9

BOSTON (AP) — Six Boston daily newspapers resumed publication today for the first time since a strike of 300 mailing room employes forced their suspension last Aug. 9.

The 5,000 employes of the newspapers were called back to work last night immediately following settlement of the dispute.

Agreement on the salary issue was reached at a State House meeting yesterday between the publishers and representatives of the Mailers' Union, an affiliate of the International Typographical Union.

The striking mailers ratified by a vote of 144-25 the agreement which will give them a $10.50 two-year package salary increase, plus arbitration of wage differences above that figure.

Max Milstein, president of the Mailers Local, said there is no ceiling on the amount to be arbitrated above the $10.50 figure — "whether it be $10, one cent or nothing."

Both sides agreed the arbitraters' decision would be final.

W. A. "Bud" Engelhart

There never has been a car like the Edsel.

Behind it lie all of the resources of Ford Motor Company, all of the experience, all of the engineering skill.

Behind the Edsel, too, is the finest group of dealers any new car has ever had.

Their facilities are as new in concept as the Edsel itself. One example: service departments built around a completely new idea in car care—Edsel Green Light Service.

In getting ready to serve you, Edsel Dealers have matched the quarter-billion-dollar investment of the Ford Motor Company in the Edsel.

Why have these men invested so much in a car you haven't seen? The answer is this: they have seen it, they have driven it. They know that you will find many things that make the Edsel different from any car you have ever driven. More exciting, more sure, more safe.

Driving a car that is truly original—not a copy of any existing car, not a compromise—is an experience you will never forget. Plan now to accept your Edsel Dealer's invitation to see and drive the Edsel.

Aid Ketch Found Adrift in Pacific

Four Aboard Without Food, Dead Battery, Mainsail Torn

HONOLULU (AP) — A Navy ship has reprovisioned and supplied repair equipment to a battered San Diego, Calif., ketch it found adrift in rough weather in the Pacific Ocean 550 miles northeast of Honolulu.

The ketch Soncy with four aboard is expected to reach Honolulu Sunday or Monday.

Lt. Philip A. Roe, skipper of the seaplane tender Orca, said last night he spotted the Soncy Tuesday with her mainsail torn, her battery dead and food exhausted.

Roe said those aboard included Rockne H. Johnson, a mechanical engineer at the Scripps Institute at La Jolla, Calif. and two teenagers.

The seas were so rough Roe said, that he could approach the Soncy only briefly, but Johnson told him that food had run out three days before.

Roe said while the Orca was alongside he was able to pass over three cases of fresh vegetables, six cases of canned food, candy cigarettes, a new battery and wire to re-rig the mainsail.

Thomas A. Price, here from the Scripps Institute, said Johnson was coming here to join him in a tidal wave study for the International Geophysical Year. He said Johnson had sailed from San Diego Aug. 8.

Russian Movies Have No Stars—Only 'Workers'

VENICE (INS)—Two of Russia's top movie actresses took time out from sunbathing on the beach at Venice today to declare firmly that in the Soviet film industry there are no stars — only "workers."

But Nadia Ceredniceno and Tatiana Plisizkaia could have fooled the INS correspondent, whose previous experience with film actresses has been limited to those in capitalist U. S., Italy and Japan.

They were wearing brief, bright swimsuits and sunglasses. Through the latter they peered at showfolk from a score of nations gathered for the annual Venice film festivals.

But there was a difference. The pretty pair scoffed at money. Nadia said:

"How much money we are paid means nothing. It's important what you can buy with the money you receive."

The girls admitted they were paid to go to dramatic school. Tatiana explained:

"We always get paid, even if we don't work."

And if they work?

"We get more money."

How much? "More than the ordinary workers."

Do they like American actors and actresses—and films?

"They're just the same as in the Soviet Union. Some are good, some bad."

Both said they never heard of Marilyn Monroe. Two Soviet newsmen blurted: "But she's the blonde . . .!"

Nadia, from Moscow, also is blonde, but her resemblance to Marilyn is as remote as a red stop-light in the Venice canals. Nadio is cool, concise and built like concrete.

Tatiana is a lass from Leningrad with eight years behind the Kremlin kleig-lights. She's wholesome but wary of the westerner.

Both actresses are in their 20's. They spent the usual ten years in grade and high schools and then applied for dramatic school. Both had to pass an exam, and almost before they realized it, they were "workers" in the theater and movie.

The state paid them so they might purchase textbooks, clothes and have money to see films. All lived in the same, special house where they ate and slept.

Nadia and Tatiana said they climbed up the ladder as "popular actresses—not stars" but now, they explained, virtually everyone in the Soviet Union knows their names.

French Claim Rebels Smashed in Algiers

ALGIERS (AP) — French authorities claim they have deal the Nationalist rebels a smashing blow in the Algiers area.

French military and security spokesmen told a news conference last night the Algiers regional command of the Algerian National Liberation Front (FLN) had been broken up and what is left of it now has to operate from nearby Tunisia.

The spokesmen said rebel attacks in Algiers this month dropped to six, compared with 120 last August.

SAFETY TRAINING—Trooper Gerald J. Tafel, of the Pontiac, Michigan State Police post, discusses a traffic safety problem with Bruce Madsen, Michigan State University Highway Traffic Safety Center consultant, at the nation's first training course for state traffic safety fieldmen held recently at the university. The course was designed to train fieldmen to aid counties and communities in cutting traffic death and injury tolls in their areas.

Levittown Quiet Again; Negroes Get Welcome

A stranger passing the long rows of neat little ranch style homes wouldn't know this neighborhood from a dozen others clustered along Route 13 some 25 miles northeast of Philadelphia.

He could hardly be aware that this was the scene a fortnight ago of jeering crowds and police lines, vandalism and violence. For more than a week, emotions ran riot after word spread that the first Negro family had bought a home in the Dogwood Hollow section of Levittown.

Things are "back to normal" now. On the surface, at least, there has been a quiet return to normal living.

William and Daisy Myers have been in their new home on Deepgreen Lane for nearly two weeks. He drives to work every day in nearby Trenton, N.J., without incident and Mrs. Myers has been working in the garden, after staying indoors most of the first week. They have frequent callers, both white and Negro. Baby Lynda has been with them since they moved. Two older children, both boys, are still living with friends.

"We are approaching a normal life now," Mrs. Myers said yesterday, expressing her appreciation for the "wonderful show of friendship" from people in Levittown and surrounding communities.

She was referring to the cakes and cookies and little notes of encouragement that have arrived since they moved in, and to the chip-in collection that paid for two broken picture windows.

"All quiet. Back to normal up there," is the police report. But patrol cars still cruise the area and Bristol Twp. Chief William Stewart checks out daily telephone calls from all over sprawling Levittown that "another colored family has moved in."

Another false report — but still the rumors fly.

Civic, church and labor groups in the area have openly backed the Myers family.

James Newell, a Dogwood Hollow resident and head of the Levittown Betterment Committee which seeks to oust the Myers family by any means short of violence, has called a meeting of his committee for tonight.

Nobody is quite certain where the meeting is to be held or what will be discussed but most Dogwood Hollow residents seem agreed that the Myers family is in Levittown to stay.

Reds Shell Quemoy

TAIPEI (AP)—The Chinese Communists fired 49 shells at Quemoy Thursday night but caused no damage or casualties, the Nationalist Defense Ministry reported.

The shelling came from Tateng, a tiny island between Quemoy and the Red China coast.

In the modern lighthouse, the equipment which supplies the power for the big lamps is installed in triplicate, now as an extra insurance against possible power failures.

Or Should He Have His Own?

When Should a Teenager Be Allowed to Use the Family Car?—Opinions Differ

(More teenagers today are driving more cars than ever before. Many youngsters own cars but usually they borrow the family auto. The final article on teenage driving discusses this problem.)

By IRWIN SAFCHIK
INS Staff Writer

A major question in teenage driving problems is how often the son or daughter should have access to the family car and whether they should be given a car of their own or be permitted to buy one.

"Teenagers should get the use of the family car twice a week, say Wednesday and Saturday nights," said Richard W. Anderson, 19, of Boston.

But Ellen McParland, 17, of Quincy, Mass., replied: "I think they should be allowed the use of the family car anytime their parents aren't using it."

From the parents came these answers:

"In our family," said Mrs. Josephine Gray of Denver, "if an adult wants to use the car, they have priority. Otherwise, it is whoever asks for it first."

Nat Kravitz of Philadelphia said he believes teenagers "should be given the family car on special occasions or any other time when the reason is important enough for him to have it."

SHOULD BE REWARD

Mrs. L. A. Kesler of Salt Lake City: "Once in a while it's all right to have youngsters take the family car, but it should be as a reward for behaving and driving carefully."

Most youngsters feel they are entitled to the family car on a particular one or two nights of the week. Their parents prefer to restrict it to "special occasions."

As for whether a teenager should be allowed to have his own car, both generations agree generally that such a privilege should go only to those capable of raising enough cash to make the purchase themselves—or at least to maintain the vehicle without family help.

For that, too, would be a sign of maturity—a sign that the teenager has enough respect for life and property to seek safety when he's behind the wheel—not suicide.

As any husband can tell you, the deadliest of all blunt instruments is a woman's tongue . . . We heard of a scientist who was barred from Radio City Music Hall for trying to take a Rockette to the moon. — Earl Wilson.

Ike Names New Treasury Official

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today it is reliably reported that Julian B. Biard, chairman of the board of the First National Bank of St. Paul, Minn., will be named by President Eisenhower as undersecretary of the Treasury for monetary affairs.

A Washington dispatch to the Times carried the report of the selection of Baird as successor to W. Randolph Burgess, who will leave in October for his new job as ambassador to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Baird, 64, has been with the St. Paul bank since 1920. He is active in national bankers' groups.

Soviets to Seek Prestige; Regular Jet Route to U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., (INS) —East European diplomats indicated today the arrival in New York shortly of two Soviet jet airliners may set the stage for regular jet service between Moscow and the United States.

The visit of the two TU-104S has been allowed by the state department because Russia previously granted permission for American planes to land at Moscow.

Forerunners of an entire new family of Soviet jet and turbo-prop airepatt, the TU-104S will whoosh in with the Soviet delegation to the United Nations General Assembly.

The first is due next week and the second, bearing foreign minister Andrei Gromyko and his top aides, is expected between Sept. 13-17.

SEEK PRESTIGE

The clear implication gathered from talks with communist diplomatic sources and borne out by articles in recent Soviet publications is that the Russians hope to gain aviation prestige and make propaganda hay with their jet resources.

If their plans crystallize, it seems aparent the TU-104S would be followed across the Atlantic —or possibly via hops over the polar route—by the more modern TU-104A, the T-U-110, the Ukraine," the "Moscow" or even the apparently phenomenal "Russia."

The TU-104A like the TU-104 is a two-engine jet, but can carry 70 passengers—20 more than her sister ship—and through superior rating of her engines can reach maximum speeds of about 620 miles per hour. Both were designed by the famed Andrei Tupolev.

The TU-110, designed by Arkhip Lyulko under Tupolev's guidance, is a four turbo-jet craft which the Soviets claim can land on a 1,300 yard runway. It has a flying range of nearly 2,200 miles and achieves speeds of "well over 600" m.p.h.

Next in size come the "Ukraine" and the "Moscow." According to the Aug. 1 edition of the periodical, "Soviet Weekly," the four turbo-prop "Ukraine" can carry 84 passengers and 3½ tons of cargo over a range of 2,400 miles as she now stands.

"A tourist variant of this plane is being built to carry 126 passengers and a crew of five," the article added.

PLAN POLAR RUNS

The "Moscow" evidently was designed by Sergei Ilyushin for polar runs. It is an all-metal cantilever low-wing plane with rectangular wings "specially designed to cope with extremes of climate."

Her four turbo-prop engines can bear the weight of 75 to 100 passengers at a cruising speed of over 400 m.p.h., according to Soviet authorities.

Newest and biggest of the new jet lot, the "Russia," is the apple of the Kremlin's eye.

Details of her specifications and performance possibilities are still unavailable, but it has been announced she will make her first flight in November.

This was "Soviet Weekly's" terse comment on the new flying machine:

"The Russia will be able to carry 170 passengers non-stop from Moscow to New York at a speed of 600 m.p.h."

U.S. Aids Other Nations

WASHINGTON — Countries outside North America received $4,900,000,000 in goods, services, and cash in 1956 under the various assistance programs of the United States Government. This was an increase of 8 per cent over 1955.

Gold Production Drops

MANILA — Gold production in the Philippines in 1956 amounted to 406,163 ounces — 12,949 ounces less than in 1955. Silver output increased by 39,099 ounces — to 451,168 ounces.

Met Opened in 1887

NEW YORK — Metropolitan Opera House in New York City was opened April 7, 1880.

Money Mounts in Pot-O-Gold to $2,300

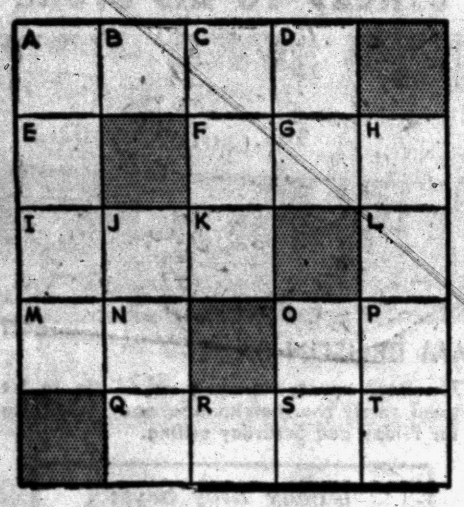

A grand total of $2,300 now waits for some lucky person who wins Pot-O-Gold. Unless you don't mind someone else getting all the glory, not to mention the cash, you better get started right now on the new puzzle below.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

Wednesday's Unidentified

Second Missile Is Believed Ready for Firing by U. S.

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (UP) — Reports that a second missile may be shot from here this week circulated today in the wake of the test-firing of a projectile with a range of 1,500 miles.

The Defense Department would not comment on whether the firing was a reply to Russia's claim that Soviet scientists have tested successfully an intercontinental missile able to deliver a hydrogen bomb load anywhere in the world.

Neither would officials at Washington or at Patrick Air Force Base near here disclose whether the missile fired yesterday was a Thor or a Jupiter. Both have ranges of 1,500 miles: The Jupiter was developed by the Army, the Thor by the Air Force.

The long, slender missile rose slowly at first, climbing almost vertically with a needle of flame streaming from its tail. It gathered speed and disappeared from the view of watching newsmen in 40 seconds. The roar of its passage could be heard for almost two minutes after it vanished into a gray cloud bank.

Crash boats were seen patrolling the Atlantic in the area of the firing range about two hours before the missile blasted off at 4:04 p.m. This is routine procedure before a firing to clear fishing boats and other craft from the danger zone.

The 50-foot Jupiter has been fired successfully before. Unofficial reports say a Jupiter rose 700 miles into the atmosphere at a previous test and traveled 1,650 miles over the Atlantic at an average speed of more than 5,000 m.p.h.

Reports before the firing were that the Jupiter would be tested yesterday and the Thor would be fired Friday. Some sources here said it was the Thor which was tested yesterday.

Rocket experts from the Redstone Arsenal in Alabama where the Jupiter was developed are reported on hand here, lending weight to the belief the Army missile is a subject of some of the testing.

At Patrick AFB, Maj. Gen. D. N. Yates, commander of the base, said he didn't believe there was anything unusual about yesterday's test. He told reporters he could add nothing to the standard release stating that a firing had taken place.

Votes to Pay Back Hitler Regime Debts

BONN, Germany (UP) — The Bundestag voted today to pay debts of five billion marks owed by Hitler's regime to Germans and foreigners. The payment would be completed in 25 years. Of that sum, 500 million marks (120 million dollars) is owed to foreigners.

The money that will go to foreigners involves loans dating back as far as the days of Kaiser Wilhelm II before World War I.

The Bundestag's approval is not the final action. The legislation must be ratified by the Bundesrat, or upper house, before becoming law.

Native Rite Honors Dr. Dooley for Friendship, Service to Laos

AMBULANCE SERVICE IN LAOS is a litter like this one bringing a native patient to Dr. Dooley's Nam Tha hospital.

By DON DUNHAM
(Last of Four Dispatches)

SAIGON, Viet Nam (NEA) — When the Laos tribesmen working at Dr. Thomas A. Dooley's Nam Tha hospital discovered he is returning to the U. S. on Sept. 1 for several months, they immediately arranged a festive rite called a Buddhist Baci.

When we gathered at the hospital, a cone of flowers three and a half feet high occupied the center of the porch. Around it in silver bowls was fruit and other foods to appease Buddha and the good spirits. It was not food for us.

Dr. Dooley is turning over the hospital and all its supplies and equipment — even his personal equipment — to the Laos government to carry on the work he began in this remote spot five miles from the Red Chinese border. In turn, the government will pay the salaries of the help, buy rice to feed the patients, provide the drugs.

The Baci was to honor Dr. Dooley and to acquire all his "good spirits" for the continued operation of the hospital. It was only one minor evidence of the respect and affection held for Dr. Dooley by these people.

While many persons in Saigon attack Dr. Dooley's book, "Deliver Us From Evil," the only criticism of his "Operation Laos" comes down to this:

"He is doing a good job, but to what purpose? When he leaves, it will end."

Well, he is going to write another book when he comes back to the U. S. this fall. But nobody has to spend many months in such spots as Vang Vieng and Nam Tha to write a book.

And he has well answered the first and what appeared to be a sound criticism. That was done by turning the hospital over to the government with all of his drugs and equipment. Laos already has sent a young medical graduate here to take over. Two new nurses have been sent to replace his two U. S. aides.

NURSES TRAINED

Dr. Dooley has trained his nurses and midwives during these months. When they finished their course, each was presented with a midwife's kit, supplied by CARE, with complete equipment for delivering a baby.

"I have tried to do several things," says Dr. Dooley. "First I tried to make myself expendable. If I have succeeded in that, I have done a good job.

"Also I tried to practice as good medicine as could be done out here with what was available and what these people would accept. I tried to do a job of American public relations. I thought it a good thing for them to see four fine young Americans walking around their village, interested in them and helping them.

"I want Americans to know that this kind of a job can be done by very ordinary guys like we are. They don't have to be Albert Schweitzers or millionaires. These two Notre Dame boys wrote to me saying they admired what I was doing and they would like to help. They were picked out of dozens who wrote such letters."

John de Vitry, of Bainbridge, Pa., and Bob Waters, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., plan to leave by boat with Dr. Dooley. They are believed to be the first white men ever to go down the Nam Tha River. It will be a dangerous cruise. In Thailand, they will leave the boat and fly to Vientiane. Along the river they will stop at each village and treat the sick until the medicines they are able to carry with them are gone.

Speaking of Dr. Schweitzer, Dr. Dooley plans to visit the great musician, organ-builder, religious leader, philosopher and physician in Africa on his way back to the U. S.

But I can testify to the strongest recommendation any man can get. Two days I walked all around this community with Tom Dooley.

I have never seen any man short of a president of our country receive such respect, warm friendship and adulation as he received from small children, their parents and the aged grandparents. The children romped with him, sat on his knee, laughed with him.

From porches, windows and dirt path, the parents all made the gracious little bow so typical of this part of the world, with hands held in front in a praying position, and said "Sam Baidde," meaning something like our "good health to you."

Many of the elders address him as "Thanh," a very rare tribute indeed. It means "excellency," a very honorific title here. And you can be sure there will be many more Bacis (Buddhist rite) for "Thanh" Dr. Dooley when he returns to Laos next year.

Making Rights Bill Work Will Be Major Task for Ike

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — First stumbling block for the Eisenhower administration—as soon as the civil rights bill becomes law — is in setting up the commission to study civil rights problems.

The bill calls for the President to appoint a six-man bipartisan commission to do that. Commission members are subject to approval by the Senate.

The commission also will need money to operate.

But Congress is expected to adjourn today. So it will have no time at this session to vote the money or approve the commission members, who won't be named until after President Eisenhower signs the bill.

Congress won't be able to act on these matters until it returns in January.

That could mean a delay of months in getting the commission set up and working.

Eisenhower could appoint an interim commission—to get it started fast—and then hope his selection of the six men would get Senate approval. But he probably won't.

And no doubt he could provide money for its operations — until Congress gets around to voting money for it next year—out of special presidential funds. He probably won't.

For one thing, Eisenhower has to look around for prospective commission members who will draw a minimum of opposition when it comes time for Senate consideration of their nominations. Senate Southerners will certainly scrutinize Eisenhower's selections carefully.

Even then — since they're opposed to the civil rights bill anyway — the Southerners may do their best to block his nominees, no matter who they are, to delay as long as possible start of the commission's work.

If Eisenhower did set up an interim commission, it would certainly anger the Southerners. And it could antagonize other senators. They might feel he tried to take advantage of Congress' absence to get the commission into motion.

The key man m whatever the commission eventually investigates will be its staff director. The bill instructs the president to name this director, who also is subject to Senate approval.

But Eisenhower can't appoint a staff director until he appoints the commission. The reason: the bill says the President must consult with the commission members on prospective nominees for staff director.

When the commission is finally in business, it will have two years to do its work.

Each commission member is to be paid $50 a day for each day he puts in, plus $12 a day for subsistence. The staff director is to get $22,500 a year. In addition, money will be needed to pay the staff and the expenses of its investigations.

Under the bill, the President also will appoint a new assistant attorney general in the Justice Department to head up a new civil rights division. The department now has only a civil rights section in the criminal division.

The new assistant attorney general also would be subject to Senate approval. The President could probably appoint him on an interim basis and ask Senate approval when Congress returns.

But Eisenhower may wait until Congress does come back next year. Meanwhile, the civil rights section can handle civil rights problems, particularly in voting rights cases.

The bill says the attorney general can step in—getting a court order if necessary—to stop violations of voting rights. What the administration does about this will show how earnest it is in carrying out the new law.

The attorney general probably will not start action in the cases of some few individual Negroes who may have been prevented from voting. Instead, it probably will pick some Southern county where masses of Negroes have been interfered with in voting.

When will it start doing this? Perhaps the administration doesn't know the answer to that one right now.

Waterford Justice to Aid in Water Safety Study Ordered by Governor

Waterford Township Justice of Peace Donald E. Adams, has been appointed as a member of the newly organized safety commission by Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

To be known as the Water Safety Study Commission, its specific purposes will be to examine methods of promoting safety and preventing accidents in boating operations and in swimming.

It will, in addition, review federal-state relations on marine affairs and formulate methods whereby a greater public consciousness of water safety can be created, Adams said.

The commission will also examine existing statutes to determine if any legislative changes or additions need to be made.

In making the appointment, Gov. Williams said, "The state's shocking death toll during the vacation months indicates that we have a public water safety problem, second only to that of highway safety."

Authorities connected with lake and river activities have stated that before intelligent solutions can be carried out, collection of factual information is needed, Adams said.

The Water Safety Study Commission has been appointed to function for the remainder of this water season and into the next, Williams said.

George Clay of Grand Rapids has been selected Commission Chairman. Executive secretary will be E. E. Tucker of the Department of Conservation.

Science Using Weed 'Perfume' to Trap Insects

WASHINGTON (INS) — Agricultural chemists are extracting perfumes from weeds and vegetables in efforts to control some of the nation's worst insect pests.

Working with apparatus like big coffee percolators, the researchers are finding thousands of odors for testing on the insects—hoping to find ways to lure the pests into traps.

One of the most successful uses of insect perfumes has helped the eradication program for the Mediterranean fruit fly in Florida.

In this program, both a natural and a synthetic "attractant" have been used to lure the flies into traps to detect their presence and abundance in different areas.

Bob Considine Says:

6,000 Hungarians Returned--To What Fate?

NEW YORK (INS) — What of the Hungarians, 6,000 of them, who returned to their Communist-controlled homeland after successfully making the break for freedom?

Helen Zotos, a first class reporter and fellow member of the Overseas Press Club, is fresh back from a tour of the Austro-Hungarian border and refugee camps. She informs me:

"Counting the executions reported so far in the newspapers alone, some 800 persons, including returnees, have been killed by the Kadar police for their alleged conspiracy during the revolution.

"Returnees are sorted into three groups: Those held guilty of 'illegal border crossing' (they are summarily sentenced to up to five years in concentration camps); those guilty of having played a part in the revolution (they're shipped to Budapest for the show trials), and those former Communists who 'betrayed the party' by fleeing when it was in danger of being overthrown (they may be given a second chance).

"Only July 17 a show trial was held in Miskolc, near the Russian border. Seven workers were sentenced to death; seven others to life imprisonment, before an irate crowd which was carefully watched by AVH secret policemen and policewomen.

"Hungarian newspapers shamelessly reported that when sentence was pronounced on one old man an old woman shouted, 'Then hang me, and hang the country, too.' She was arrested. Then a man cried out, 'Believe in God' and the police removed him. In the shuffle, a third voice, that of a child, weakly appealed, 'Father, father, don't leave me.' But the trial was over.

"Other returnees haven't had the benefit of being heroes of show trials. They've just disappeared. Kadar's revenge knows no limits. He has propagandized for their return in various European camps. He has made offers of amnesty. But in truth, and in contrast to his satellite neighbors who pride themselves on their 'come home' campaigns, Kadar has turned his back. If they persist in coming home, they face death or worse."

Few escape to the west these days, Miss Zotos reports.

"On Kadar's order, Hungarian frontiersmen may shoot at sight any unidentifiable person approaching either side of the border," she writes. "Since January the Communist puppet leader has been recommissioning the barbed wire, mines, booby traps, watchtowers and bloodhounds that make up the visible Iron Curtain.

IRON CURTAIN REAL

"Communist dictators from Nikita Khrushchev down may persist in calling the Iron Curtain a mere 'American invention,' but there was no mistaking what I saw when I traveled there under escort of Austrian border guards. The Iron Curtain is a real, dreary, frightful fact.

"There is one escape route that exists nevertheless—providing one wishes to chance it and can afford the price. Among the world's more vulnerable human beings luckily are some of Kadar's frontiersmen.

"According to an escapee Hungarian worker who made it to safety this way recently, the charge is currently 70,000 forints, or about $500 per person. The arrangement worked for him and his family, but he warns that it isn't necessarily watertight. How reliable is the receiver of any bribe?"

Why do these people go home again, having run a fiery gantlet and escaped to breathe free air?

The reasons are generally plausible and valid, Miss Zotos writes. In the heat of the fight for freedom, and the break for liberty, they had to leave loved ones and moral responsibilities behind. Their feeling of conscience is perhaps stronger than their wholesome desire to start like anew in new and friendly lands. So they return to hell.

And the bitterest irony of all is that enticement plays little part in their return. They must apply for passports, entry visas, pay their way from far-off lands, only to die or again wear the clanking chains of the slave.

Aluminum ore, bauxite, is named for the French village, Les Baux, where it was first identified.

New Book Promises Fulfillment of Wishes

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — It was a specially called evening church service. The congregation had gathered in larger than average proportions, but the minister looked nonetheless disappointed.

All the people, eager to get to the business at hand, wondered why.

"I thank you all for coming tonight," the pastor finally said, "to help us pray for rain to end our terrible drought. But . . . where in the world are your umbrellas?"

This is the gist of the newest do-it-yourself book on the constructing of faith, by Mrs. Bonnie Wise. It comes, hopefully hot off the presses, in the form of an 183-page pep talk. And "It is aglow," as Dr. Norman Vincent Peale writes in a foreword, "with real idea-ism. The kind that soars high because it is rooted in sound realism."

What Mrs. Wise's idea is, is that old adage coined by Tin Pan Alley which says "Wishing can make it so."

The author, a 43-year-old vice president of a multi-million-dollar corporation, says that any man or woman's wish can be brought to reality, but the catch is: The wish cannot be a flimsy business such as a child's wishes are built upon, of fireflies and pink cobwebs.

This wish Mrs. Wise has in mind has got to be a BURNING DESIRE to DO something that is worthwhile. In other words, if it's a real 18-karat grade-A wish, which truly will benefit its originator and guarantee not to hurt one other soul, then—with a great deal of work—it can come true.

Inspirational as this project obviously is intended to be, it's wondered here whether the world is ready yet to dream up such a wholesome and unselfish type of wish—much less to work for its fulfillment.

NEED EARNEST THINKING

Mrs. Wise suggests earnestly that one find himself a "special wishing place" for thinking about this matter. "There's an island of incentive and an ocean of opportunity right in your own backyard," she maintains, "waiting for the ones who will wish."

But I would like to suggest that, unless the author gives some specifics on what exactly is a grade-A come-trueable type of wish, there will be confusion, even in the rose arbor. For "dreaming" and "wanting" have become so confused with "wishing" in the mind of man that it seems likely even a young child, scarcely touched by the world beyond his back yard, would answer Mrs. Wise's gentle question in the following manner:

"What do you wish for most, sonny?"

"A millions bucks."

Not so crass but equally earthy, a young woman probably would wish for "a husband." And a mature man in America automatically would wish for "success."

This is not what Mrs. Wise wants, in her book "Best Wishes, Bonnie Wise." In spite of the fact that she is a successful businesswoman, she apparently attained that position by wishing for much finer things than business promotions and hard, cold cash. She wants the reader to select the most magnificent wish he can conceive, ethically and spiritually, and she'll show him how to work it out.

It occurs to me that the man whose thoughts are that ideal, whose wishes are that selfless, doesn't really need a book to find fulfillment.

College-Bound or on the Job—You'll Like Fall Styles

Variations on the stripe are important in new, wrinkle-resistant fall suits. The suit at left has narrow stripes in the traditional diagonal weave in charcoal gray on light gray. Dark royal blue is the background for vertical chalk stripes in the suit at right.

There's the feel of luxury in this three-button natural shoulder sport coat. Made of orlon and wool, it features olive-colored stripes on a gray background. Slacks are charcoal gray.

She Brings African Art to America

Capetown Diplomat Hopes to Introduce Negro Culture

By ANNETTE DAVIS
(For Jane Eads)

WASHINGTON — A tall fervent blonde has just arrived in Washington as the new cultural attache of the South Africa Embassy.

On her first assignment abroad, Miss Elizabeth Meyer (pronounced May-er) hopes to introduce America to the arts and crafts of her country.

"There seems to be a revival of interest in crafts among women everywhere," she told me.

She concluded this after spending several months in Europe investigating crafts before assuming her duties here.

Miss Meyer went back to her first love, she said, when she started working in arts and crafts. "I was encouraged in high school to study art but I never thought I was good enough to make a career of it," she explained.

CAPETOWN GRADUATE

After graduating from the University of Capetown with a major in social science, she did rehabilitation work with the blind. Later she became affiliated with the South African Assn. of Arts, similar to the Council of Fine Arts in England. This led to a job with the cultural section of the information service in her country's foreign office.

At 30 she is the only woman diplomat in South Africa's foreign service.

HOPES TO TOUR

Later this year she hopes to tour this country with the exhibit. The show includes examples of South African pottery, weaving, bead work, painting and sculpture.

In her short stay here Miss Meyer has been impressed by American homemakers. Abroad, she said, American women are thought of as career women. But they are "house proud," she told me, "just as the women at home."

She has been impressed also with the American woman's interest in foreign affairs. She thinks this may be due to the many women's organizations and clubs. "They are not so common in my country," she noted.

Buttons With Beads Are Stylish

Paris Designers Are Showing 'Gilded' Look for '58

By NORA W. MARTIN

PARIS (INS) — To score a kayo in the 1958 fashion fight, strike a blow on the button.

Paris designers are punching with gilded, initialed, beaded, burntwood and even embroidered buttons on the new fall and winter styles.

Chanel uses special gold buttons to give a new touch to her timeless jersey suits. A quartet of gold-carved turtles fastens one suit in a double-breasted style to attract attention to the semi-fitted midriff. Dressy suits take on an air of nobility through gold buttons with crowns and crests.

"Sun-burst" buttons are another novelty.

The most personal trimming on a garment are buttons with your initials. Nina Ricci uses monogram silver buttons as the French way to individuality.

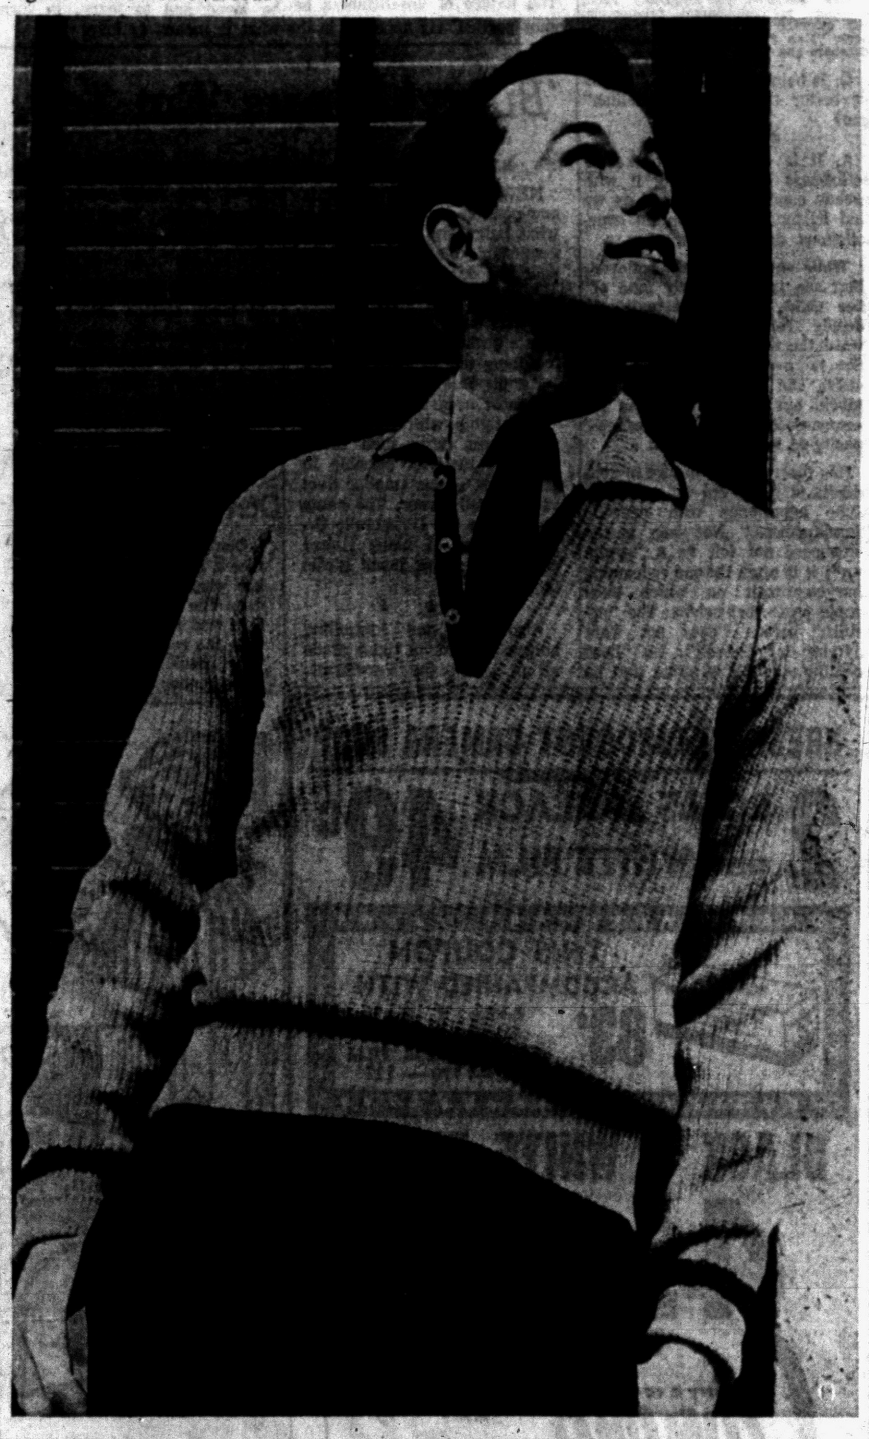

LOOK FOR BUTTONS

When shopping for your new autumn clothes look for buttons with a beaded surface. Balenciaga and Dior show them, sometimes two inches in diameter, on suits and dresses. In gun-metal gray, bronze or jet-black, their surface reminds one of breaded bags.

Very smart for dressy outfits are buttons covered with embroidered lace or trimmed with a frill of braid. One designer shows buttons covered with real, crushed walnut shells. Others use "net-megs" to fasten suits and dresses.

And since it is fashionable to button-up smartly this season, you can even fix up last year's clothes with these novelty trimmings as "badges" of the 1958 look.

Attache Cases Tailored Girls' 'Carry-All'

Attache cases have emerged from their diplomatic status to become a trim carry-all for "the tailored woman"—whether she be career girl or homemaker. And they are now available in the popular price range.

The lass who is as fastidious as she is practical will be intrigued with the new plastic-covered attache cases neatly trimmed with stitching like the more expensive leather models. They come in a wide range of colors to complement a feminine costume and — last but not least — they're washable.

Weekly Pedicure Needed

It's fun to wear polish on your toenails, particularly in the warm weather that's left to us this year. Your feet look the prettier in sheer stockings or open sandals for the gleam of rosy polish.

But this doesn't mean that you can get by with merely applying polish now and then. Give yourself a thorough pedicure once a week, just as you give yourself a manicure.

Begin by removing the old polish. Then, file your toenails straight across with an emery board. Don't file them down at the sides or you'll sprout ingrown toenails. Soak your feet in warm, soapy water, dry them carefully and separate the toes with small rolls of cotton.

Now, brush on a thin coat of base coat and pick your polish shade. It should be in the same color family if not the same color as your nail polish. You might like to try one of the iridescent polishes in a pastel shade. Stir the polish thoroughly so that the iridescence is evenly distributed and apply it just as you would any other polish.

Wrap Ice in Towel

Women who use ice as an astringent may wonder about tiny red veins popping out on their skin. When using ice near the skin, always wrap it in a towel or washcloth. Ice applied directly to the skin may cause tiny blood vessels to break under the surface.

Or Try a Vegetable Rinse

Don't Like Gray Hair?--Then Dye It

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "My hair is mousy to say the least. Actually it is worse than that. The brown part looks dull and I have scattered gray hairs all through it. I am not really gray — just some gray hair.

"I wouldn't mind if I were completely gray — or maybe I would — but I mind this stage even more! Please advise me."

A. It seems evident to me that you do mind getting gray and will hate having gray hair. So, why not do something about it! I think it is a shame for any woman who minds having gray hair to fail to dye it. This is one age sign we do not have to have.

There are very good vegetable rinses which will hide and blend the scattered gray hairs you now have. When you become grayer you will have to use a real dye. You can experiment with different colors in the vegetable rinses, since they can be shampooed out.

Q. "Are bunions inherited? I have them and so does my father."

A. I do not think we could say that bunions are inherited but it is true that the bone structure of the foot is inherited. Bunions often come from incorrectly fitted shoes.

Q. "Is it more stylish to use clear nail polish than colored polish? I see so many women with it on today."

A. This is a question of individual taste. Many smart women wear colored polish only for gala occasions in the evening.

Q. "I am 40 years old. Am I too old to learn to swim?"

A. Heavens, no! I would advise you to learn soon — it's enjoyable and good for you.

Q. "Is there any difference between the number of calories in butter and in margarine?"

A. No. They are approximately the same.

Q. "Is it necessary for a housewife to take special exercises to reduce or is her housework enough along with dieting?"

A. The exercise a woman gets doing the housework will not decrease inches in certain spots as special exercises will.

Q. "I have been shaving my legs and I notice that the hairs seem stiffer. Shall I stop shaving or what?"

Housework is not enough! You must take special exercise to decrease inches in certain spots.

A. Shaving does leave the hairs with blunt ends when they grow out again. I think you will find that a depilatory is more satisfactory. This melts the end of the hair.

Color Is Rage in Bathrooms, Plumbers Say

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — The conventional white bathtub is going the way of the somber black auto in this color-conscious America.

Plumbers say that bathroom accessories in soft pastel colors are the latest rage. Yellow and coral pink are running a close race as the most popular shades.

And, by the way, should you care to have your bathroom fixtures replaced by gold ones the job can be done for about $350.

In the way of more utilitarian equipment plumbers say low-rim and wide-rim tubs are proving to be a definite boon to elderly persons who have a hard time getting in and out of their baths.

They advise that every bathtub should be equipped with a "grab bar" to which the bather may hold to prevent falling in case he slips. The delegates also said new tubs with "slip proof" bottoms now on the market will be a great safety factor in bathing.

Other points that were brought out included:

—Making America's bathrooms prettier seems to be causing Americans to bathe oftener.

—The once-a-week bath tradition has gone the way of the kerosene

This has the effect of expensive, real gold jewelry with pearls or stones in a gold polished framework..in Jubilee colors.

'Unselfish' Mother May Be Gentle Tyrant

By ERIC FROMM
For Muriel Lawrence

(Mrs. Muriel Lawrence is on vacation. In her absence, noted psychiatrist Eric Fromm discusses six frequently asked questions on child-parent relationship. His answers are condensed from his book, "Man For Himself," published by Rinehart and Co.)

Q. Is being an "unselfish" mother better than being a "selfish" one?

A. It is easier to understand selfishness by comparing it with greedy concern for others, as we find it, for instance, in an oversolicitous, dominating mother.

While she consciously believes that she is particularly fond of her child, she has actually a deeply repressed hostility toward the object of her concern. She is overconcerned not because she loves the child too much, but because she has to compensate for her lack of capacity to love him at all.

This theory of the nature of selfishness is borne out by psychoanalytic experience with neurotic "unselfishness." Not only is unselfishness not felt as a "symptom"; it is often the one redeeming character trait on which such people pride themselves. The "unselfish" person "does not want anything for himself"; he "lives only for others," is proud that he does not consider himself important.

The nature of unselfishness becomes particularly apparent in the effect the "unselfish" mother has on her children. She believes that by her unselfishness her children will experience what it means to be loved and to learn, in turn, what it means to love.

The effect, however, does not at all correspond to her expectations. The children do not show the happiness of persons who are convinced they are loved; they are anxious, tense, afraid of the mother's disapproval and anxious to live up to her expectations.

Altogether, the effect of the "unselfish" mother is not too different from that of the selfish one; indeed, it is often worse because the mother's unselfishness prevents the children from criticizing her. They are put under the obligation not to disappoint her; they are taught, under the mask of virtue, dislike for life.

If one has a chance to study the effect of a mother with genuine self-love, one can see that there is nothing more conducive to giving a child the experience of what love, joy and happiness are than being loved by a mother who loves herself.

'Bulgy' Wears 'Em Too

BY OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — It is now possible for even the somewhat bulgy girl to wear those fashionable black skinny pants built like dancers' tights.

Reason: They're putting pantie girdles in them, or making them out of girdle fabric.

Result: Bulge control where it's most needed.

The tights with the built-in girdle cost more than most, but they make it possible to buy tights a size smaller than you'd usually wear. The pants themselves (by D'Esterelle Originals) are of black ribbed cotton knit; the inner girdle is of elastic.

Also good for controlling bulges is a pair of tights made all of lastex (by Par-Form). These have a high-rise waistband that helps smooth the tummy line. They come in gray or brown striped lastex.

There are also cheaper tights in black stretch cotton or in cotton-and-elastic mix fabrics. All of them have exactly the same shape: They cling from waist to just-above-ankle in imitation of the leotards professional dancers wear to rehearsals.

Don't Cheat Face

Don't cheat when giving your face a beauty pickup. Remember what you can't see others can. The back of your neck, ears and nostrils walk around with the rest of your body. So why shouldn't they get the same tender care?

Add a touch of gayness to your kitchen with these attractive Dutch designs embroidered in easy-to-do cross-stitch and bright colors.

Pattern No. 5569 contains hot-iron transfer for eight motifs—measuring from 10"x9" to 5"x3½"; stitch illustration; color chart.

Girl Who Has Ring Needn't Delay News of Engagement

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to announce my engagement in the newspaper even though there are no definite plans for the wedding and this is not likely to take place for almost a year? I received my ring for my birthday but my mother thinks it too long ahead to make any public announcement."

Answer: Since wearing your ring will announce the engagement to all of those who know you well, your parents might much better send an announcement to the papers, and add the not at all unusual information that no date has as yet been set for the wedding, or that it will not take place until after the bridegroom finishes his postgraduate work, or whatever the reason for the delay.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I asked a friend, for whom I was best man my wedding. As this friend works a year ago, to be best man at in a distant city he regretted his inability to come on that date. I lost no time in asking a relative to serve.

"Now comes a letter from the friend saying he can be here after all and would love to be best man. My cousin was very pleased when I asked him to fill this position and will be terribly disappointed. What to do and how is the question."

Answer: Tell the first friend exactly what you have written me and that now it would be very unfair to spoil your cousin's pleasure, and ask the friend if he will serve as usher instead. You can have extra ushers but not two best men.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married soon and will have both a flower girl and ring bearer in the wedding party. Where are they seated at the wedding reception. Do they have to be seated at the bridal table along with the other members of the bridal party?"

Answer: The flower girl and the ring bearer should be seated at the bridal table only if they can be seated beside a parent or an uncle or aunt who can keep them interested and reasonably quiet.

Cracked Ice Better

Use cracked ice rather than ice cubes in your vacuum insulated container. Spoon it in gently, using a plastic-type utensil. In order to get maximum temperature retention, the glass used in the lining of vacuum insulated bottles is finer than the glass employed in the most expensive crystal. To avoid breakage, it should be handled with care.

Country Business Takes Planning

By ANNE HEYWOOD

This is the time of year when people return from vacations bound and determined to start a business in the country so that they can live there all year round.

"Living is so much less expensive in the country," one woman writes. "My husband and I are sure we could find some lucrative little business."

It turns out that her husband has worked in a large company, in a clerical capacity, for over 25 years. She has lived in the city most of her life and would probably be perfectly helpless coping with housekeeping in more than three rooms, especially if the storm broke the electricity and telephone wires.

WOULD IT WORK?

The thought that her husband, with no experience in a business of his own, could dream one up and make a living in the country is plain foolish. It can be done, but it takes a lot of doing, planning, thinking—and saving!

The J's learned that the hard way.

Mr. and Mrs. J fell in love with a charming village in Pennsylvania. They decided to sell their little suburban house and move, lock, stock and barrel.

Mr. J was a commercial artist for a big company, but he was sure he could find something to do, perhaps at an arts or crafts shop. Mrs. J was good at ceramics and felt she could make out nicely selling her own vases and ash trays.

LEARNED HARD WAY

Inside of two years, they realized the move had been a mistake.

Mrs. J wasn't good enough at ceramics to find any market. Her things were frankly amateurish. Mr. J found that just about everybody in the village had an arts and crafts project.

In distress, Mrs. J brushed up her typing and shorthand, which she hadn't used in years, and got a job with one of the doctors in an adjoining city.

After much thought, Mr. J realized what he could do. He was good at lettering and designing signs for businesses. With practically everybody in town in business, he began to build up a trade.

And now he's lettering cards, menus, signs, letterheads and all kinds of things. He'll never make a fortune at it, but at least the J's are eating again.

How much better it would have been, if they had gone to the village for vacations, year after year, while saving their money, building capital and getting to know the villagers. They could have saved a lot of heartaches plus a good deal of money!

If you want to go about it the right way, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I'll send you the names of some good books on making a living in the country.

Avoid Middle-Age Slump by Tackling New Things

Woman Who Is Ever Eager to Learn Won't Become Victim of 'Doldrums'

By RUTH MILLETT

"What have you been doing with yourself, lately?"

When your friends put that question to you, do you always answer, "Same old routine" or "Nothing very exciting"? They're the only answer a lot of women—especially middle-aged women—have for such a question.

But not Sue. Any time you run into Sue and ask her what she has been up to lately you get an enthusiastic answer.

Last winter she was enrolled in a university class designed to increase reading speed. Sue was all excited over that.

"As much as I love to read," she explained, "I figured I might as well learn how to read as rapidly as possible."

This summer Sue is taking swimming lessons. She has been swimming for years, but not with an easy, strong, powerful stroke. Now she is learning to swim all over again.

No telling what Sue will be learning this fall. But something, for sure.

The fact that she is always eager to learn something new makes Sue seem younger and more enthusiastic than most women her age.

The fact that she isn't afraid to do things on her own gives her personality a strength that is lacking in the woman who never dares to do anything alone.

Sue's answer to avoiding the middle-age doldrums is one any woman could follow.

All it takes is the desire to keep learning and the determination not to fall into a dull routine.

Boil Spuds Day Before, Then Bake

Mrs. Pearsall Chops Potatoes Fine, Adds Milk and Butter

By JANET ODELL

Haven't you often wished that you could get more dishes prepared the day before a party in order to cut down your work on THE day? Mrs. A. O. Pearsall's recipe for a potato casserole can be started the previous day and slipped into the oven about an hour before guests arrive.

Because of ill health, Mrs. Pearsall is no longer active in many organizations. She does serve as manager for the apartments her husband has recently built.

CREAMY POTATOES

By Mrs. A. O. Pearsall

1 potato per person to be served
Salt and pepper
Butter or margarine
Milk

Boil potatoes in their jackets the day before. When ready to use, peel and chop fine. Place in a greased casserole. Add salt and pepper, melted butter and milk just to cover. Bake about one hour in a 350-degree oven.

Pre-Treat Vacuum

To get the most efficient use from your vacuum insulated bottle, pre-treat it before filling. For hot foods or liquids, pour very hot tap water (boiling water isn't needed) into the vacuum bottle and let it stand for 3 to 4 minutes. Then empty the water and fill up the bottle with the food or drink. For cold drinks or chilled foods, prepare the vacuum container by filling it with iced water. Let it stand 3 to 4 minutes before emptying the water and refilling with the food or drink.

Show Pioneer in Family Room Furniture Styles

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) —The new frontier on the home front is the family room, just the place for the Western style rugged charm.

Supple plastic upholstery in saddle tones encourages informality and fun. Stitching outlines Western symbols on chair and sofa backs.

A long couch becomes a double bed to turn the recreational center into a guest room. A polished bar with ash plank counter and two tall stools, an easy chair, occasional tables, book shelves and a desk — with the old-fashioned hinged top — complete the group.

Both children and mothers enjoy toys that are safe and washable.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army reportedly believes it has a proven answer to Russia's claimed intercontinental missile — an American missile, ready for production, that could hit key Soviet areas from advance bases.

The Army's proposed counterweapon is the Jupiter, an intermediate range ballistic missile which soared 1,500 miles over the Atlantic Tuesday in a test flight from Cape Canaveral, Fla. Secretary of the Army Brucker labeled the Jupiter "a spectacular success."

It is understood that only the Pentagon's secrecy lid on missile developments prevents the Army from saying flatly that the Jupiter could be in production within 30 days.

Brucker said in Florida yesterday that the Soviet announcement last Monday of a successful test of a 5,000-mile missile indicated the Russians were talking of a "research test vehicle." That is a long way, he said, from "an operational vehicle."

There have been no known successful U.S. tests of an intercontinental ballistic missile.

The United States has an advantage in land bases—its own plus those in friendly hands around the world. A missile launched from Communist territory would have to travel thousands of miles to reach the United States.

A darker view of America's place in the missiles race was presented yesterday by Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) after four hours of closed-door testimony by Acting Secretary of Defense Quarles and other officials before a Senate-House Atomic Energy Weapons subcommittee which Jackson heads.

Jackson said all U.S. intermediate and long range ballistic missiles, except the Jupiter, are behind schedule because of technical problems. He also said the number of both types of missiles proposed for production has been cut back by Pentagon-imposed money limitations.

Order Case Back to Original Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Caryl Chessman, the convicted sex terrorist who has staved off execution for nine years and written three books, has won the right to take his case back to Los Angeles where it began in 1948.

The state supreme court, while denying his petition to be transferred to Los Angeles County Jail so he can carry on his fight there, did refer to Los Angeles Superior Court Chessman's argument that the death of a court reporter before transcription of his shorthand notes resulted in a fraudulent trial transcript.

The referral complied with a U.S. Supreme Court order which said that if the Los Angeles court does not hear Chessman's plea he may be freed by federal court on a writ of habeas corpus.

Suspend Highway Work Over Coming Weekend

LANSING (AP) — Work will be suspended during the Labor Day weekend on all state trunkline projects where traffic is being maintained, the State Highway Department said yesterday.

Construction will resume Tuesday morning, the department said.

Preparing for their final holiday rush period before going out of business in November, the five state-owned ferries at the Straits of Mackinac are set for peak operation, the department said. Boats will dock at Mackinaw City and St. Ignace every 25 minutes.

Reuther Plans Labor University

Solidarity House Symbol of Union Ideal

DETROIT (AP)—"And this house, which is high, shall be an astonishment to everyone that passeth by it."

The United Auto Workers Union proudly quotes this verse from Chronicles II to describe Solidarity House, its international headquarters on the Detroit River.

Built six years ago at a cost of 1½ million dollars, Solidarity House is an ultra-modern structure of glass, aluminum, steel, brick and stone. An addition, costing 1½ million is nearing completion.

Solidarity House symbolizes the growth of the 1½ million-member union.

It is only a beginning. UAW President Walter P. Reuther is planning to develop Solidarity House into the "labor university of the future."

The UAW is big business. The union has a net worth of about 35 million dollars and liquid assets of more than 26 million. It meets a $500,000 monthly payroll.

The building houses more than 50 departments and councils. There are departments for education, research, political action, citizenship, retired workers.

From a radio studio broadcasts are made twice a day, timed to reach workers going to and returning from work. The UAW broadcasts from 44 stations in cities where the union has a sizable membership.

A research department and a library provide union leaders information needed for speeches or contract negotiations. On the UAW staff are economists and lawyers.

Solidarity House is expanding too. The union has acquired the old Edsel Ford stone mansion, birthplace of Henry Ford II. It is now used as an annex for the UAW's social security department.

The UAW also has acquired next door a three-story brick mansion for its educational department. It was bought from Chrysler Corp.

In developing a labor university, the UAW plans to convert the old Ford mansion into a residential hall for full-time students. The mansion next door will be made into an education center.

Reuther says:

"In labor educational circles, for a long time, there has been felt a need for a 'labor university.' It should be possible at this institution to help UAW staff members and local union officers broaden their understanding of the history, philosophy and morality of the union movement and to offer training which can be put to use in the administration of the union, and in collective bargaining.

"At almost every institution of higher learning in the United States of America, management groups have available to them schools of business administration, in which are being trained future leaders of the business community of the United States. No university makes available to the labor movement any really comparable service."

At Solidarity House Reuther accents brains, not muscles.

The UAW education department publishes more than 200 pamphlets. It says the subjects are on everything "from the ABC of time study to semantics for shop stewards."

Want Second Term for Hammarskjold

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Security Council will meet next week to recommend another five-year term for Dag Hammarskjold as U.N. secretary general.

A unanimous vote is expected both in the 11-nation Council and later in the 81-nation General Assembly.

Hammarskjold's term does not end until next April 10, but delegates have agreed they should act as early as possible to assure him of five more years in the top U.N. post.

A former Swedish minister of state, he was elected secretary general after a stormy period during which Soviet bloc delegates refused to recognize his predecessor, Trygve Lie.

Despite his active role in some of the big political controversies, he has received very little personal criticism. The only notable instance was Israel's allegation that some of his actions were pro-Egyptian in the Middle East crisis last fall.

Hammarskjold is 52. His job pays $40,000 a year plus allowances of $15,000—all tax free. But Hammarskjold does not have to work for a living. He lives simply, for one thing, and he has a private income.

Back in June 1956, some 150 friends of Miss Margaret Bodnar and Thomas Kucharsky, both of South River, gave them a wedding shower.

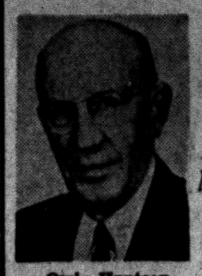

After the shower Kucharsky, with his fiancee's consent, took the 63 gifts to the apartment where the happy couple was to live.

A day later, however, they called off the wedding because of arguments about the gifts. Miss Bodnar demanded their return. Kucharsky refused.

So she filed suit asking return of the presents or $750.

Fundless Court Called Liability

Lower Judicial Branch to Cost County Money for Operation

Oakland County is not planning on any justice court income for next year's budget.

Instead of showing a profit, which in the past would have paid for justice court administration, the lower courts are expected to be a liability, said Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors.

DROP ASKED

Moore has recommended to the Ways and Means Committee that an anticipated $40,000 revenue from justice court costs be dropped from the budget.

The revenue was estimated this spring before it became clear, Moore said, whether the money was actually going to be forthcoming.

Clouding the picture at that time was an Attorney General's opinion that Oakland County justices no longer could charge so-called "excess costs" that would provide revenues for county and township governments.

Since then, justices have fallen in line under the new opinion and consequently revenues have been eliminated, although there is an attempt under way to upset the opinion in Circuit Court.

FUNDS NEEDED

"Not only have the court revenues been lost," said Moore, "but we probably will be forced to ask for an appropriation to run our justice court administration."

Saying the county should be allowed at least "to break even" on justice courts, Moore maintained that the county's position to the attorney general ruling was a sound one.

"Justices charged enough in costs so that money was available for an audit of justices' records, supplies, dockets and other expenses."

Now the county will have to pay these expenses out of its own pocket, Moore said.

The Ways and Means Committee is finalizing the 1957 budget for presentation to the Board of Supervisors Sept. 16.

Complete 1st Phase of State Park Plan

LANSING (AP) — Three years of dredging and fill work have been completed at Sterling State Park on Lake Erie, the State Conservation Department said today.

The work is one phase of a master plan designed to enlarge the park to include 360 acres of land and 140 acres of lagoons able to accommodate up to 50,000 visitors daily.

The park, one of the most popular of the 59 parks and recreation areas owned by the state, was nearly washed away during a severe storm on Lake Erie several years ago.

During three years of rebuilding, 2½ million cubic yards of earth have been dredged up to form 140 acres of park lagoons and 240 acres of upland.

But City Holds High Rank

Defense Week Will Go Unnoticed

National Civil Defense Week, Sept. 15-21, will pass in Pontiac and Oakland County without much fanfare.

This may prompt some citizens to question why local Civil Defense officials, who continually are striving to alert the public to the possibility of enemy attack, don't take full advantage of the nationwide observance.

NO PICKLE PICKERS

Robert A. Stierers, assistant CD director from Pontiac, answered the question with a question. "There's National Pickle Week, and not everybody gets out to pick pickles do they?" he asked.

Not trying to ridicule the role Civil Defense plays in this country, Stierer explained Pontiac's non-participation as nothing to be ashamed of. He placed the city well ahead of other municipalities in Michigan, and on a level with many others in the country, when it comes to preparedness.

He declared Pontiac was in tune with the unwritten and unofficial belief of the new Federal Civil Defense Administrator Leo A. Hoegh, that governmental units, like police and fire, take the leading role in Civil Defense functions.

Stierer agreed that Pontiac officials faced a task confronting most CD leaders throughout the country, that of removing public indifference and apathy toward defense measures and exercises. "We haven't been anymore successful in Pontiac in getting people interested than in other cities," he said.

Possibly ready for adoption by the City Commission during Sept. 15-21 will be the city's Michigan Municipal League designed disaster plan.

"When this plan is finished," the official stressed, "Pontiac will become the only city in Michigan, and one of the few in the country, with such a plan."

The plan outlines in detail what each city department and key personnel would do in case an attack alert was sounded.

When does the public learn what to do? one might ask. Stierer emphasized that the public's part would fit into the overall scheme when the plan is complete.

For instance, the plan, also to be used in case of natural disaster, calls for a test exercise each year. If Pontiac is to have one yet this year, Stierer said he did not know.

Like FCDA officials, Stierer pointed out that volunteers and the public could not be ignored in CD plans.

HELP NEEDED

Concurring wholeheartedly with this idea was Ransford Bromley, assistant CD director for Oakland County. "Besides the leading roles of government units," he said, "you need the many volunteers in the different areas to help carry out any program."

He said the county department did not plan any special activities in conjunction with the week's observance. He added that a continuing inventory would be made of the status of preparedness of the 25 township CD departments.

Like Stierer, he and Lewis C. Jarrendt, county director, will attend the Sept. 3-6 U.S. Civil Defense Council annual meeting in Detroit. Also attending will be Mrs. Marie Rodriquez, emergency medical instructor for the county department, and Mrs. Virginia Warren, CD welfare coordinator for the Oakland County.

Bromley judged the county's CD activities "as good as any in the state." "This is based on the activities and the inventory of the number of volunteers we have," he said.

A change in existing federal laws to make it more mandatory for citizens to participate in Civil Defense "guards," was called for by Charles E. Cardon, chairman of the Oakland County Civil Defense Council.

MEETING POSSIBLE

He said council members might call for a meeting with Congressional officials to "see what could be done" to establish what he termed "volunteer or mandatory home guards."

"This would be a very sharp departure from what we as Americans are used to," Cardon admitted, "but at the same time it might be necessary."

The council was established in February. It consists of 10 representatives from cities of 10,000 or more population.

City's Kindergarten Kids Rapidly Nearing D-Day

The "once-in-a-lifetime" day is just a few days away for 2,000 children in Pontiac.

On September 9 they will be taken by their parents to the city's elementary schools and begin attending regular kindergarten classes.

Children not yet enrolled in kindergarten may be registered on Sept. 5 and 6. To enter kindergarten, a child must be five years of age on or before the first day of December.

Upon registering children in kindergarten, the parent must present the child's birth certificate, the Board of Education emphasizes, adding that a hospital certificate is not acceptable.

Before classes actually begin, the board recommended that parents accustom their sons and daughters to the thought of remaining away from the home for a prolonged period of time.

The School Health Department has urged each parent to obtain a complete physical and dental examination for each child in an effort to correct any existing physical defects early in the child's school career.

Higher Education Needs Decentralization in State

EAST LANSING (AP) — A researcher studying higher education in Michigan says one of its most pressing needs is decentralization.

Dr. John Dale Russell, New Mexico educator hired by a special legislative committee, yesterday made a progress report to the lawmakers on the $161,000, two-year survey.

A specialist brought in by Russell last fall already has recommended establishment of 23 new community colleges in the state, institutions that would offer the first two years of college courses.

Russell said he hasn't decided exactly how many more community colleges, junior colleges and branches of existing institutions should be established, but that it is obvious many more schools in the general category are needed.

There is no reason, he said, why a boy or girl graduating from high school in Grand Rapids should immediately start pursuing advanced studies away from home or the University of Michigan.

ALUMNI WILL RESIST

Russell acknowledged that the decentralization idea will encounter resistance, particularly from alumni groups of existing institutions. But he said it should be pushed — gradually.

He said the core of the state's higher education system should be formed by four institutions, each limited to an enrollment of about 25,000.

"As to higher education, we haven't begun to see the impact of the baby boom," he cautioned the lawmakers. "The curve will go up sharply in 1965."

Russell said another need of the Michigan system is for better coordination among higher education institutions.

He expressed astonishment as to how the Legislature solves the problem of apportioning available funds in this field, and at the dearth of information the lawmakers have to go on.

GIVE NO INFORMATION

Two institutions, he said, without naming them, don't tell the Legislature what they do with funds they receive.

Russell said he thought the Legislature did a good job under the circumstances, but that there was too much pressure at the time the legislative decisions are made and not enough broad understanding.

Dr. John X. Jamrich, Russell's new assistant, was introduced to the lawmakers. A former Muskegon resident, Jamrich now is dean of Doane College in Crete, Neb.

He succeeds Dr. Orvin T. Richardson who returned to hs duties at Washington University in St. Louis after a year's leave of absence.

his recommendations in concrete shape in time for action by the 1958 legislative session, which convenes next January.

Ike Is Sent Bill on Immigration

Measure Falls Short of President's Request; Asks More Next Year

WASHINGTON (INS)—A stripped down immigration bill which would permit about 60,000 aliens to enter the U. S. went to the White House today.

The immigration measure was passed shortly after midnight following Senate approval of amendments tacked on by the House.

The bill was viewed by supporters of immigration reform as the best that could be obtained. They promised to press for broader legislation next year to carry out President Eisenhower's program.

The legislation fails to grant permanent status to about 27,000 Hungarian refugees in this country. It also ignores Eisenhower's plan for revising the controversial national origins quotas system to allow the entry of more immigrants.

However, the bill provides for reviving some 18,656 unused visas left over from the expired Refugee Relief Act.

Included are 14,000 to be shared by refugees from communism on a worldwide basis and victims of persecution in the Middle East.

In addition, the bill eases the way for some 27,000 relatives to rejoin immigrants in the U. S.

It also permits the administration to waive the controversial fingerprint requirement for foreign visitors, and admits an unlimited number of orphans during the next two years.

Summerfield Pleads for Hike in Postal Rates

WASHINGTON (INS) — Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield made a last-ditch appeal to the Senate yesterday to approve the postal rate increase bill, designed to bring in about a half billion dollars a year in new revenue.

The rate measure, which passed the House by a 2-1 margin, is bottled up in a Senate committee and action is not expected this year.

In a telegram to Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, with copies to all senators, Summerfield declared the post office department expects a 686-million-dollar postal deficit for the year ending next June 30.

Detroit's Traffic Deaths Lowest Per Cent-Wise

CHICAGO (AP) — Detroit had a smaller percentage of traffic fatalities than any city of its size in the first seven months of 1957.

Figures released yesterday by the National Safety Council showed Detroit with 2.8 fatalities for every 10,000 registered vehicles. Detroit headed the list of cities with populations of more than one million.

Mussolini's Body Returned to Widow

ROME (INS) — The Italian Interior Ministry announced today that Benito Mussolini's body has been returned to his widow, Rachele, more than 12 years after the dictator's execution.

Mussilini's body had been buried in a secret place since World War II to avoid pro-fascist demonstrations and to keep his followers from stealing it for use as a symbol of "Fascist Martyrdom."

The body was turned over to the cemetery San Cassiano, near Mussolini's birthplace of Predappio (Forli) in Northern Italy.

The widow of the founder of fascism and ruler of Italy for almost 20 years, long had sought return of the remains of her husband.

Mussilini's control over Italy ended July 25, 1943, when, owing to allied successes in Tunisia and Sicilly, he was forced to resign as premier.

He was "liberated" from Italian custody by Nazi agents who parachuted onto Gran Sasso Montain where he was being held in September, 1943.

PRISONER'S VIEW—This will be a rare sight when the new Pontiac Public Safety Building is opened. Peering out of the six-woman dormitory cell in the building's jail is a visitor who hopes it will be the last time looking from the inside out. The jail will have a maximum capacity of about 30 prisoners, both men and women. This includes two maximum security cell blocks, two incorrigible cells, two dormitory cells like the one pictured, and several "bullpens." The jail will be Pontiac's first. Prisoners for many years have been housed in the Oakland County jail.

Expert Reveals Tips on Fall Lawn Care

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Asst. County Agricultural Agent

With fall close at hand, lawns have begun to perk up. Cool weather has helped this somewhat, but fall rains will be the big factor in this sudden revival.

Even with new growth, those brown stems and leaves from midsummer are still there. The off-color green can be corrected by one close cutting. Whereas lawns have been cut at 1½" and 2" during hot, dry weather, one cutting at one inch completely removes all of this stubble. If mowers are then reset at 1½" or 2" only a fine green turf can be seen.

FALL RESEEDING

When turf begins to thin out, is often the signal to put on some more seed. Many extension and research workers are convinced reseeding is not an economical practice unless you are trying to establish a new kind of grass in the existing turf.

If bluegrass or fescue plants already exist, these will seriously crowd new seedlings which try to become established. Often the basic cause of thinning turf is low fertility, weeds or insects.

Where low fertility and weeds is a major cause, periodic additions of fertilizer greatly assist existing plants to enlarge and fill nearby small open areas. If a single bare spot is longer than twelve inches in diameter, then reseeding is necessary.

HARD TO ESTABLISH

It is rather difficult to establish a permanent turf where a temporary planting of rye now exists. Rye is quite vigorous and seriously crowds nearby smaller plants.

Second year plantings of rye usually begin to thin out by fall, making a good ground cover for new seedings. A thick spring seeding of rye should be allowed to go until a second year before seeding is attempted.

When seeding is attempted in rye, a thin top dressing of soil often makes a fine seed bed. When top soil is not used, the soil is often hard and crusted. For young seedlings of Bluegrass, this just isn't sufficient.

New plantings, whether a new seeding or a reseeding, need water every day. After the new planting reaches the "fuzz" stage then less frequent, but deep waterings will be sufficient.

Greenskeepers and home owners with bent grass may profitably top dress their turf with good top dressing or compost.

Most top soil which is available today contains large numbers of weed seed—these top dressings often smother small plants. When uneven places develop, however, this is a better program than rolling, providing only a small amount is added each year.

If fertilizer is the objective, it can be more easily and cheaply supplied as a commercial product, even if the top dressing is free. Where home-made composts are concerned, these find their greatest value on flower beds or around nursery plants.

Wild carrot, dandelion and buckhorn are still pests in many lawn areas. These annoying weeds still may be completely destroyed. One application of 2-4D applied in September and October will completely destroy mature plants and seedlings.

For a fall application mix two tablespoonsful of 40 per cent, 2—4-D in each gallon of water, lightly moistening the foliage and grass is sufficient to destroy the pests without damaging the grass.

A new weed control compound has proven more effective for poison ivy control than any product previously known. This new compound, Amino Triazole, should be applied before the middle of September for good effect. This material has also proven surprisingly successful on Canada thistle and horse nettle as well.

Many lilac clumps are being seriously damaged this year by the lilac borer. This moth lays eggs in May. The larva enter crevices in the bark in late May and remain active until September.

At this season, piles of yellow sawdust signal the presence of a borer in the clump. A pellet sized hole near the ground indicates the exact location. Control is difficult once the insects are inside. The best control is two DDT sprays in May.

Methods of destroying the borers present include digging them out, puncturing them by probing in the holes with wire and squirting poisonous liquids in the hole, then sealing the hole. One such liquid is carbon tetrachloride, used as a spot remover from clothing.

SEEM UNTIMELY? — Yes, that's a lawn mower you see in the photo, converted to wintertime duty with a snow blade attachment. The three-and-one-half horsepower motor makes the device a dual blessing to its owner, since shoveling snow probably ranks close behind lawn-mowing as chores we householders can do without. Both mower and snow blade are available locally.

Name Oldest Living Trees —Sequoias

Literally nothing organic grows so high, wide or handsome as a tree. The sugar maple, American linden, tulip tree, sweetgum, Moraine locust, red pine, white fir, white spruce all grow to be over 100 years old.

The sugar maple lives to 500 years. Oaks live to 1,500 years, junipers to 2,000 years.

Oldest of the living trees, the giant sequoias of California live to nearly 4,000 years.

Trees are natural landmarks of many famous people and historical events. Many trees of a long list, perhaps 300 species, were planted before the birth of the oldest living man today.

A family tree, or a tree for each member of the family, as preferred, makes a memorial of lasting value.

New Building Not Needed

Make Room for Corn Storage

Farmers short of corn storage space for this year's crop may be able to solve their problem without putting up another building, according to Jay Poffenberger, assistant Oakland County Agricultural Agent.

He has received word from Bob Maddex, agricultural engineer at Michigan State University, that a farmer could use the center drive of a drive-through crib to store corn if he had a simple, unheated air drying system.

REMOVE SLATTING

Maddex advises building the driver flue in the center of the drive and removing the slatting from inside the two cribs. This will give farmers one large storage area for cob corn and the dryer will prevent spoilage.

Farmers would be able to tell how much fan power is needed by the amount of corn they plan to dry. According to Maddex, farmers can take care of 500 bushels or 1,000 baskets of corn for every horse-power on the fan.

This type of unheated air drying isn't usually fast enough if the farmer plans to sell corn to the elevator in the winter or put it under loan.

WORKS OUT FINE

But it is inexpensive and works out fine for corn farmers plan to use as feed or hold for next summer. The total cost of drying will run about three to five cents a bushel, Maddex says.

Fall weather is not always warm and dry enough to finish drying corn from 30 down to 20 per cent moisture. B farmers can take out enough moisture to be sure it won't mold during the winter and then run the fan in spring to finish the job.

But, Don't Wet Their Foliage

Roses Thirstier in August; Steady Watering Needed

During the hot summer months, especially in peak heat of August, roses need ample water. The rose is one of the sturdiest of plants but extra summer care is needed to keep this thirsty beauty at its best. Water your roses regularly, spraying them for a steady flow of vital moisture.

It is essential that the watering be thorough—this means soaking the soil to a depth of eight to ten inches without wetting the foliage.

Roses of tested hardiness, are rugged champions and if given this extra attention will continue to flower magnificently throughout long dry speels.

Despite the August heat roses will stay prolific with regular application of plant food early in the growing season. At this particular stage, commercial fertilizers are best and will carry your rose plants through the rest of the growing season. If you delay fertilizing until colder weather it's too late and you will get tender growth with subsequent frost damage. Good commercial fertilizers may be obtained from your nurserymen.

Weeding can be greatly simplified by the use of a mulch of ordinary wood shavings or coarse sawdust. Mulching helps to keep down the weeds at the same time keeping the rose bed soil damp an dcool. Where no mulch has been used, light cultivation of the surface will help to remove weeds and prevent caking.

The successful summer gardener who has thus laid out for himself a simple yet systematic routine of rose care during the worst of August's heat is assured of two things: easy gardening and beautiful blooms.

$3,000 Soil Bank Limit Clarified by Officials

WASHINGTON (INS) — The agriculture Department has announced that it will regard the $3,000 limit on soil bank acreage reserve payments as applying to each farm, not as the ceiling on the amount paid to a producer for all the farms in which he has an interest.

The department said yesterday that its ruling hinged on the interpretation of the word "producer" as inserted in the congressional amendment limiting the payments.

Cattle with a severe case of pinkeye have been known to die because they couldn't see well enough to find food or water.

CROP DRYING FAN

Fan for Farms Devised

Controlled drying can bring the moisture content of the crop down below the danger level in jig time. The possibility of the crop igniting and destroying valuable farm property is greatly reduced. Key to today's drying programs is the crop dryer, which lets the farmer get better quality crops and safer, mold-free storage.

A new direct-driven crop drying fan has been designed to fit into drying programs on farms of all sizes by delivering high air volume at low power requirements.

Run by a five - horsepower, single-phase motor, the 36-inch fan is built to handle up to 50 tons of hay or 3,500 bushels of grain at one time — all on 25 per cent less electric current.

The motor requires a minimum of attention. It's the only two-value capacitor type motor on the market which is totally enclosed for longer life.

Dirt and mice can't get in at the mechanism to cause costly breakdowns. A built-in automatic safety device protects the motor from the danger of overload.

Versatility of the portable fan is pointed up by its use as a direct air dryer for baled, loose or chopped hay, as well as for shelled corn, ear corn or other small grains. A fuel heat unit is available which can easily be attached to the fan, for even faster drying.

Green Flowers Regain Favor

Bells of Ireland Ideal for Bouquet Interest; Grow In Any State

About 20 years ago a seedsman in Chicago "discovered" a new flower that was most unique in that actually it was green in color. He was so enthusiastic about it that he reproduced it in full color on the cover of his catalogue.

He gave it all of the publicity that he possibly could. However, it proved to be a dud. Almost no interest was shown in it by flower gardeners. Leaves were supposed to be green. But not flowers! It lingered for a few years in spring catalogues and dropped completely out of sight and out of mind.

Our Chicago friend was twenty years ahead of his time. For quite recently the green flower appeared again; this time under the name of Bells of Ireland. It almost instantly became one of the most popular of flowers.

Why all the enthusiasm this time? There may be several reasons. But the essential one is that this time there was much greater interest in flower arrangements among flower gardeners in general and among garden club members in particular.

Bells of Ireland is ideal for use in bouquets and arrangements. The bloom itself is unimportant.

The Bells appear on long, curving stalks, scores of them crowded together for a foot or more on each stalk—all a soft light green that is most attractive. As the green goes well with any flower it can be sure in a bouquet to bring out the colors of the flowers by contrast. The tall spikes lend character to the arrangement in their own right.

Small leaves also appear along the stems. Although they are attractive, they do tend to hide the beauty of the Bells. Most people remove the leaves before using the stalks. Some leave an occasional leaf to add interest. It is all a matter of taste.

Bells of Ireland are easy to grow. While one should not expect 100 per cent germination, seeds sown two or three inches apart will produce an ample "stand." They should not be planted any deeper than the packet states, usually an eighth or a quarter of an inch.

The seedlings should be thinned or transplanted so that the plants will be at least a foot apart and preferably a few inches farther. The Bells will grow and produce excellent results in any state of the Union.

Plant this variety in full sun either in your cutting garden or between colorful flowers in your beds and borders. They are as excellent for background and contrast in the garden as in bouquets.

Close Call Cuts Sleep

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—Lightning hit the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Tucker, splitting the bedstead and scorching the mattress and bedding. The couple escaped injury but got no sleep the rest of the night.

A good time to kill quackgrass spots in fields is while summer-fallow is in progress. A new chemical weed killer, Dalapon, is effective.

Late Vacationers: Give Trees Drink Before You Go

It pays to soak the rich, as long as they're trees rich in greenery.

When lawns and gardens need water, your trees, evergreens and woody shrubs need it to. These woody plants need a good, long, drink just before you leave on that late summer vacation. The dog days are here and even dogwoods will have their trouble seeking out moisture from drying soils.

When the thermometer zooms, trees and foundation plantings are likely to give off more moisture than they can replenish from the ground. This can mean foliage wilt and general debility.

Mulches help preserve moisture but trees growing under lawn conditions often suffer at this season. Make sure entire root areas are thoroughly saturated just prior to departure time or you and your trees may be sorry you ever left home.

Major landsacpe sentinels need wetting that reaches at least two feet into the ground. This is not merely around the base of the tree. Roots generally reach out a little beyond the widest branch spread.

Late vacationers should seek out tree watchers, especially those who have newly planted trees to worry about. If you don't want to impose on neighbors, it is usually possible to hire professional gardeners to care for lawns and trees.

Drying trees have another problem on their hands and foliage — spider mites. These minute pests thrive in hot dry weather and feed on many spcies of trees, shrubs, evergreens and flowers.

JACK'S BEANSTALK? — The sun must really shine in Independence, Mo., where three-year-old Kathy Taylor lives. Even though she's six feet tall —ladder included—she is just knee-high to her grandparent's towering sunflower. The giant plant is 13 feet high.

School Buses Ready for Opening Day

Pontiac's 17 school buses are ready to hit the road when school bells summon the city's 19,000 youngsters back to classes Sept. 5.

Last year the city transported 2,021 children to its schools in buses. The majority of the passengers lived a mile away from school and outside the Pontiac School District.

The district formerly was subsidized by the state for transporting children into the city who lived more than a mile from school.

This year, however, the state will reimburse the district only for children who live a mile and a half from their classrooms.

Additional cost of transporting the students who live between a mile and a mile and a half from their school will fall entirely on the local district. Cost is estimated at approximately $10,000.

384 WITHIN CITY

The Board of Education will also provide transportation to some students who are shifted from schools near their homes to others to relieve overcrowding.

Three-hundred-and-sixty-four students within the city were bused to school last year for this reason.

In addition to its regular 48-passenger buses, the School District has one special bus to move orthopedic patients and two station wagons to carry the hard-of-hearing and those with sight difficulties.

Pontiac will also take part in a special program for the training of school bus drivers this year.

The program — both for new drivers and veterans — will be introduced into southern Michigan schools through the field services division of Western Michigan University and Eastern Michigan College.

One of the classes for experienced drivers will be held here in November. The class will meet once a week for four evenings. Sessions will be three hours long.

Among the subjects in the course will be "Advanced Highway Safety" and "Human Relations," getting along with children, preparing them for a day in school, and counseling possibilities.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—Football fans around Michigan and the Midwest know of Central Michigan College, the fine institution in Mt. Pleasant which produces good calibre of football in its class.

But across the country when professional football followers look over the rosters of the NFL, Central Michigan is just one of dozens of little unknowns who feed the pro ranks a greater percentage of its players.

Schools like North Texas State, Sam Houston, Scottsbluff, West Chester Teachers, Alcorn A&M and Florence Teachers among many others have products throughout the NFL.

North Texas for instance had players on seven of the 12 pro team rosters in 1956.

PODOLEY BIG MAN FROM SMALL SCHOOL

Kuharich is sure Podoley has what it takes but it will be up to the former Chippewa star to show it in the NFL. As a decathlon champion Podoley doesn't have to be introduced for his ability.

He can run, he can jump, he can hurdle and anyone who goes through the decathlon grind is by no means wanting as far as stamina goes.

GRID MARK MORE IMPRESSIVE

For Marshall, the boss of the Skins, however, it was Podoley's records on the gridiron which convinced him. At Central, the 200 pound, 6-foot-2 back scored 54 times from mid-field or longer and on 10 occasions he scampered 75 yards or better.

His touchdown runs averaged 42 yards and he finished his college career at 7.9 yards per crack.

WILL START AGAINST LIONS

It will be something close to old home week for Podoley when he starts at right half against the Lions here in Birmingham, Ala., tomorrow night.

Last week he started his first pro game against Frisco and picked up 34 yards rushing, and hauled in three passes for 98 yards.

Besides the offensive duties, Kuharich says "Jim is the man we want back there on punt and kickoff returns. He'll be better than Ollie Matson with a little polish."

The Skins have been a jinx for the Lions, and Kuharich may well be thinking that Podoley will double the whammy from a local standpoint for Detroit.

Middleton Has Fans' Interest in Birmingham

Lions Go After Third Victory in Steel City of the South

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Professional football is somewhat of a novelty in this Southern steel town, but at least 25,000 of the 40,000 seats at Legion Field are expected to be filled Saturday night when the Detroit Lions and the Washington Redskins meet in a charity game sponsored by Birmingham Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Most of the fans at the game will come out to see fleet Dave Middleton in his home debut in pro grid ranks. Middleton, now attending the University of Tennessee medical school, got his undergraduate training at Auburn in premed work.

The 190-pound offensive end was the Lions' No. 1 draft choice in 1955 as a halfback, but in the middle of the '55 campaign when the Lions were dawdling in the Western Division cellar, Middleton was shifted to the terminal position.

It didn't take long for him to become one of the most respected pass receivers in pro football.

While at Auburn he ran the 100-yard dash in 9.7, so when he gets his hands on the ball at the end of an aerial, he always becomes a threat for the long score.

In 1955 he grabbed 44 passes for 663 yards and three touchdowns and last season he picked off 39 aerials for 606 yards and five tallies.

Middleton has been commuting for the pre-season games from medical school. In his showing against the Eagles in Toledo last week, he caught two passes for 46 yards.

He will join the team permanently just before the season opener against Baltimore.

A squad of 44 players left Cranbrook at 7.45 a.m. this morning and at 9:00 a.m. boarded a chartered plane for Birmingham.

A 3:00 p.m. workout at Legion Field was slated for this afternoon, with a session of movies and scouting reports tonight.

Despite the two losses which Washington has suffered in preseason action, Lion scouts report the Skins are expecting to be in their best physical condition for the game.

Al Dorow who saw only limited action in alternating with Eddie Le Baron at quarterback is expected to be fully recovered from a slight injury.

The former Michigan State star gives Washington the long pass threat while LeBaron is used for the short aerials. Two other Michigan State products, halfback Billy Wells and defensive back Gary Lowe will be in the Skins' starting lineup, along with rookie Jim Podoley, Little All-America sensation from Central Michigan, who is being used as an iron man. Podoley is expected to start at right half, and also be the deep man on punt and kickoff returns.

Game time Saturday night is 8:00 p.m. with a direct broadcast.

Parker Holds 1st Practice With Steelers

Parker, who arrived here yesterday by plane en route to the Steelers training camp at Olean, N. Y., denied he quit the Lions because of trouble with players.

He said reports of dissension apparently stemmed from a "talking to" he gave the players before the first exhibition game.

"I wanted to shake them up a little bit," he said. "It was all very routine. Something I've done every year."

Asked if he quit because of trouble with the front office, Parker said only: "I'm very happy to be with the Steelers."

Jewelers See Action Today

Shaw's 9 Meets Strong Kalamazoo in 1st Game of State Tourney

Shaw's hopes to be a "giant killer" today when the Michigan Amateur Baseball Association tournament gets under way at Battle Creek.

Pontiac's Class A champion tangles with Sutherland Paper Co. from Kalamazoo this afternoon at Bailey Stadium in the 1st round of the annual state tournament. Game time is 4 o'clock.

The Jewelers are heavy underdogs against the Kalamazoo nine, which boasts 18 city crowns in the last 19 years, seven state titles over an eight-year span, and national championships in 1949 and 1951.

Sixteen teams from all parts of Michigan are entered in the double knockout tourney, which runs today through Labor Day at Bailey Stadium and Post Park. The winner qualifies for the "Amateur World Series" beginning Sept. 6.

Other teams playing in the tourney are Dearborn, Jackson, Detroit, Lansing, Wayne, Monroe, Saginaw, Wyandotte, Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Bay City, River Rouge, the Upper Peninsula champion, and host Battle Creek.

Jockey Can Reach 3,000 With 4 Wins

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—The Portuguese pepperpot from San Francisco, Ralph Neves, is about to join one of thoroughbred racing's select clubs—jockeys who have ridden 3,000 or more winners.

Neves, riding in great form at the Del Mar track, where the turf meets the surf, needs only four more winners to join the four jockeys who have 3,000 or more winners to their credit. They are Johnny Longden, the world champion; Eddie Arcaro, Ted Atkinson and Johnny Adams.

Robinson Wins Theater-TV Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—"Now I've got to concentrate on beating Carmen Basilio," said middleweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson today after scoring a decisive victory in the nine-day battle over theater-television.

The crafty, veteran fighter said his winning holdout for a money guarantee for the closed circuit telecast "has been a great strain on me. I've lost weight and I've had to take sleeping pills. Now I've got to build up my strength. I don't want to disappoint Carmen on Sept. 23."

As the Harlem dandy returned to his Greenwood Lake, N.Y., training camp he found himself listed as an 8-5 underdog to the welterweight king from Chittenango, N.Y. Basilio, who has maintained all along that Robinson will fight "because he won't pass up this kind of dough," has been training steadily at Alexandria Bay, N.Y.

Robinson won decisively over both the promoting International Boxing Club and Theater Network Television, Inc. (TNT), at Thursday's five-hour meetings at the state athletic commission offices.

He agreed again to defend his crown against Basilio at Yankee Stadium, Sept. 23, after TNT President Nat Halpern met Robinson's terms on theater-TV and the IBC spelled out the details for radio and movies.

Under the new theater-TV pact, Robinson will collect a minimum guarantee of $255,000 and Teleprompter Corp., favored by Sugar Ray, will be included in the picture. Basilio gains, too. Halpern said Carmen will be guaranteed a minimum of $110,000 against his 20 per cent. Robinson gets 45 per cent.

Teleprompter was licensed to exhibit in theaters in four cities — Amarillo, Tex., Medford, Ore., Orlando, Fla., and Duluth, Minn. Halpern said he already has signed up a record 165 theaters in 122 cities in the U.S. and Canada. He said close to 500,000 seats were available.

Solons Approve Any-Deer Areas

31 Sectors Designated for Shooting Antlerless Deer

LANSING (AP) — Despite some serious charges leveled by members of a fledgling conservation group, the State Conservation Department's program for any-deer seasons this fall survived final Legislative scrutiny in good shape.

The Joint Legislative Interim Committee on Administrative Rules, which had authority to call off all any-deer seasons if it so chose, put its okay this week on 31 of 32 areas designated for shooting of antlerless deer. Special seasons are scheduled in areas where deer are threatened with starvation or where they damage farm crops.

The lawmakers removed one area in Dickinson and Marquette counties from the list of 18 scheduled for seasons to run concurrently with the regular Nov. 15-30 "bucks only" season.

With a final decision still to be made on a season for the Dickinson-Marquette counties area, approved regulations provide for issuing 59,130 any-deer permits designated to harvest 17,790 antlerless deer.

As usual, permits will be valid in only one area.

Marquardt Plays Gamble in Final

Mrs. Harold (Rylma) Marquardt and Mrs. Robert Gamble will meet today in the 18-hole finals of the Women's District golf championship at Detroit Golf Club.

Mrs. Gamble advanced to the final round with a 5-4 victory over Mrs. F. L. Thompson while Mrs. Marquardt defeated Mrs. S. E. Gawne, 7-6, in their semifinal match. Both winners were even par for the distance.

Mrs. Marquardt, champion in 1951 and runner-up last year, rules a slight favorite.

Hardtops Sunday, Midgets Monday

Holiday Thrills at M-59

There will be action aplenty over the Labor Day weekend at Pontiac Speedway.

Manager-promoter "Easy" Ed Jones has lined up an all-star program for both Sunday and Monday on the quarter-mile asphalt track.

The 5th annual state championship races for modified hardtops are on tap Sunday, followed by a star-studded midget program on the Labor Day holiday.

Hardtops seize the spotlight Sunday in a nine-event show, which will be topped by a 100-lap feature run.

Pontiac's Joy Fair, who has won every feature race he has entered this year at the M-59 oval, will be the target of many of the state's finest drivers.

Among the pilots shooting at the Pontiac ace will be Nelson Ward, Johnny Logan, Nolan Johnwek, Johnny Roberts, Chuck Partello, Bill Kourt, Joe Doyle and Johnny Wallace.

A $1,200 guaranteed purse is at stake. Time trials begin at 1 p. m., with the 1st race at 2:30.

Midgets make their 1st appearance of the year in Pontiac Monday, with 25 drivers expected for the eight-event card.

A 30-lap feature will climax the program and a $1,000 purse is assured. Starting times are the same as Sunday.

Fall Horse Show Set for Sept. 8

CLARKSTON — Ninth annual fall horse show, sponsored by the Dixie Saddle Club, will be held Sunday, Sept. 8 at the Glenn Ellis Farm, 9331 Dixie highway. The show will start promptly at 9 a.m. with 28 events scheduled.

Special attractions will be the grand entry and the relay race in which the Oxford Pioneers Saddle Club, Huron Valley Saddle Club, Michigan Rangers from Davisburg and Dixie Saddle Club will contend for a trophy.

Judges for the affair will be H. M. Moxley, Michigan State College for the western classes and Lou Peters for the English. Ardie Grubaugh will act as ring master. Lyle Garnett is chairman of the show. In case of rain the show will be held Sept. 15.

Ashley Cooper Seeded No. 1

New Champion Guaranteed

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — About the only thing certain in the National Tennis Championships which opened today on the polished turf of the West Side Tennis Club is that there will be a new champion.

Pint-sized Ken Rosewall, last year's winner, has joined Jack Kramer's pro tour, so he won't be on hand. Likewise, his Australian countryman, Lew Hoad, the other finalist, is in the pro ranks.

The seeding brass, therefore, was faced with a difficult task. Who to seed first?

On the premise, probably, that the Aussies should be in there at the end, they placed the No. 1 tag on Ashley Cooper, who is supposed to inherit one of the spots on the Aussie Davis Cup team this year.

"Cooper has a good, respectable record," said W. Harcourt Woods, the tournament's major - domo. "After all, he is the Australian champion and was runner-up to Hoad at Wimbledon."

Cooper definitely is no Hoad or Rosewall — not yet, at least. He's an erratic player who has been beaten by players who couldn't have won a game against Hoad or Rosewall.

His first-round opponent was John Brownlow of Cleveland, against whom he figured to have no trouble. But in the second round, he'll probably draw Irvin Dorfman of New York a pretty fair journeyman.

The only one of the eight seeded players, in fact, who was faced with any kind of a first-round problem was Herbie Flam of Beverly Hills, Calif., who went up against tough Alejandro Olmedo. That one is being held over until tomorrow on the theory that it could provide the first major upset of the tournament.

Dick Savitt, the top hope to bring the title back to the United States, is seeded second and gets into action against Calvin McCracken of Tenafly, N.J.

All-Stars Blast Baptist, 13-6

The Pontiac Church League All-Stars scored nine runs in the 1st three innings and went on from there to wallop the league champion First Baptist contingent 13-6 in the 4th annual post-season game last night. It was the 1st time a league winner had been beaten in the series.

Everett Gauthier, Chuck Young and Wes DeVault combined for eight of the Stars' 14 hits and accounted for 11 of the runs in blasting retiring Baptist starter Perry Vaughn and Floyd Hicks.

Badder, who defeated Baptist twice during the regular season, was the winning hurler with relief help. Dave Stubbs batted in three of the losers' markers.

3 City Women's Teams Enter State Tourneys

Three Pontiac women's softball teams — North Side Auto Supply, Commerce Drive-In Theater and Gingellville — enter state Michigan Softball Association tournaments today through Labor Day.

Little Team Competition for Positions

Tigers Have Not Been 'Hungry' Ball Club

This is the third and final part of a series of articles on the Detroit Tigers. What has the club accomplished over the past six seasons? What direction is it going? What improvements are necessary to become a contending team? What are the Tiger weaknesses?

By DAVE DILES
AP Sports Editor

DETROIT (AP) — Their general manager says the Detroit Tigers need (1) another starting pitcher, (2) bullpen help, (3) reserve strength, (4) a lefthanded power hitter and (5) a team leader.

The similarity between current needs and the needs of a year ago is indeed striking.

John J. McHale, the youthful general manager of the Tigers, understands why the club has not flourished this season after the "experts" — brimming with optimism — confidently predicted a second-place finish for the team that was reported ready to challenge New York Yankee supremacy.

Buoyed by a fast finish in the 1956 season and equipped with a new manager and new owners — but with practically the same team that finished in fifth place — the Tigers expected too much. In mid-April, they found the competition much tougher than that in the Hot Stove League.

"We haven't had the experience to throw off slumps," said McHale. "We've lacked confidence and maturity, and confidence comes mainly from success. We don't have that inspirational leader. Last year, Harvey Kuenn showed signs of acquiring that quality but he started poorly this year and didn't develop.

"Other teams have leaders — like Nellie Fox, Gil McDougald, Jackie Robinson, Red Schoendienst and Ted Williams — but one wonders how much leadership those fellows would show if they didn't hit .300.

"The Tigers of 1957 haven't had the know-how to take advantage of situations. Our teams over the past few years have been dependent upon kids who weren't quite ready for the big leagues. They're like two-year-old race horses — they don't run according to form."

It is no secret that the front office in the past has been too generous with the players. McHale agreed that some of the current crop leaped into the high-salary bracket almost overnight. Only one player ever performed on a championship team. That was Ray Boone, who was so unpopular as the Cleveland Indian shortstop that he was traded to Detroit.

The major problem is personnel. No one to fill the gap when Frank Lary and Bill Hoeft faltered. No one to take over for Harvey Kuenn, Bill Tuttle, Boone and others when their batting averages nosedived.

McHale agreed that the club has few "hungry" players.

"Our boys haven't had enough experience with smoky buses and greasy-spoon restaurants. They haven't had it tough enough, maybe. Few of our boys have had to get out and really dig their way up the ladder to the Major Leagues."

Teacher's Sectional Tourney at Lansing

The fifth annual Teacher's Trophy Sectional Tournament for the Michigan PGA Seniors' Championship will be played on Sept. 9 at the Lansing Country Club, Lansing, it was announced today by Warren Orlick, president of the Michigan section of the PGA.

Winner of this sectional event will receive an expense paid trip to Dunedin, Florida next January to play in the National PGA Seniors' Championship.

Defending Michigan Senior champion and also National PGA Senior champion is Al Watrous of Birmingham. As national champion, Watrous automatically receives his trip to Florida, so the Michigan title should be a wide open affair. Jim Barfield of Grand Rapids, 1955 section winner, finished one stroke behind Watrous in the national championship.

Whiting Replaces Babbish

Dick Whiting of Plum Hollow will replace Bob Babbish in the National Amateur golf tournament Sept. 9-14 at Brookline, Mass. Babbish of Detroit Golf Club, the medalist in Tuesday's local qualifiers, announced that he would be forced to pass up the trip because of business pressures. Whiting is the No. 1 alternate.

CHIP AHOY — Former AAU decathlon champion and Little All-America gridder from Central Michigan, Jim Podoley, will give the Detroit Lions some local flavor on the opposing team when they meet the Washington Redskins in Birmingham, Ala., Saturday night. Podoley is expected to start at right halfback for the Skins.

Welterweight Larry Baker won 35 of 45 amateur bouts before he turned professional in the 1952 season.

Tigers' 3rd Place Hopes Dwindle

Sox Complete Series Sweep With 6-1 Win

Tighe to Start Philley and Porter in Defense of Fourth at Cleveland

DETROIT (AP)—Dave Philley will start at first base and J. W. Porter behind the plate tonight as the Detroit Tigers invade Cleveland for a three-game weekend series.

Manager Jack Tighe said bluntly after getting a new one-year contract yesterday that "I'm not afraid to try something new and make some changes. We have to find out whether Porter can catch and Ray Boone needs a rest."

After blowing a three-game series to Boston, the final game yesterday by a 6-1 score, the Tigers have only a game and a half advantage over the fifth place Indians.

And whether the new moves flop or flourish, Tighe cannot be criticized for making them because: Frank House, the Tigers' left-handed hitting catcher, has not driven in a run in 10 games. Red Wilson, the righthanded hitting receiver, has gone eight games without producing a run.

The 34-year-old Boone hasn't had an RBI in nine games, and has only four base hits in his last 28 at-bats.

Porter, who has been tried at almost every position in the lineup without finding a permanent "home," has a .271 batting average. At bat 51 fewer times than Wilson, he has driven in six more runs than the veteran redhead.

Philley has been used primarily as a pinch hitter since he was acquired in the Earl Torgeson trade with Chicago. But he has hit safely in four straight pinch hitting appearances.

"Boone is tired, both physically and mentally fatigued," said Tighe. "Maybe a few days' rest will do him good. He isn't helping us in there now."

Tighe said the changes would last four or five games, at least.

The Tigers never were in contention yesterday against the Red Sox. The only thing good was that outfielder Johnny Groth extended his hitting streak to 14 games with a fifth inning single.

The Sox, behind Tom Brewer's six-hit pitching, made it three straight over the Tigers, whom they now lead by four and one-half games. They scored twice in the fifth inning on two walks, two singles and a sacrifice fly.

Three walks, an infield out and Jackie Jensen's two-run double brought in three more tallies in the ninth off righthander Jim Stump.

The young righthander, just purchased from Birmingham and making his first appearance in Tiger colors, walked Jim Piersall and Ted Williams. Piersall stole third base and crossed on Frank Malzone's single.

U.S. Team Favored

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Uncle Sam's solidly favored Walker Cuppers, backed by a record of nearly unbroken success in the British-American amateur golf rivalry, today sent a corps of hardened competitors against Britain's "team of the future."

For the British, there was a nothing-to-lose aura about the matches that injected a measure of cheerful defiance. The underdogs were inviting the Americans to prove their right to stand alongside some of the great U.S. Walker Cup teams.

Leading off for the United States in the opener of four Scotch foursome matches at Minikahda course were Billy Joe Patton, the belting lumberman from Morganton, N.C., and Rex Baxter of Amarillo, Tex., 21-year-old national intercollegiate champ from Houston University.

Paired against them were lanky Joe Carr of Ireland, making his sixth Walker Cup appearance, and Dr. Frank Deighton of Scotland.

Bill Campbell, former U.S. Walker Cup captain from Huntington, W. Va., and Dr. Bud Taylor of Pomona, Calif., both veterans, were matched against Philip Scrutton and 20-year-old Alan Bussell.

Eight singles matches wind it up Saturday. All matches are for 36 holes.

Savitt Reaches Tennis Finals

RYE, N. Y. (INS) — Dick Savitt of South Orange, N. J., and Denmark's Kurt Nielsen meet tomorrow in the finals of the Westchester Bowl tennis tournament.

Today's opening of the U.S. Nationals at Forest Hills, where Savitt is the top-seeded American, forced a 24-hour postponement of the title match.

Yesterday, Savitt battled past Chile's Luis Ayala in the semi-finals, 6-2, 7-9, 8-6, while Nielsen halted Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn, N. Y., 6-1, 9-7.

Detroit Car Sets Mark

In the D streamliner class, Don Clark of North Hollywood, Calif., reached a record average of 248.281 m.p.h. in his car, owned by Fred LaVell of Detroit. The old record was 216.54 m.p.h.

Graybiel Joins Shamrocks

Ed Graybiel, who resigned as head football coach at Pontiac High School last year, has been signed to the gridiron staff of St. Michael, it was announced today.

Graybiel will join veteran coach Bob Mineweaser and assistant Mike Kazakos at Pontiac's north side parochial high school for the 1957 season and his duties begin immediately.

"We're very happy to have Ed on our football staff here at St. Mike," Mineweaser said this morning. "We know that he can help us a lot."

Ed will teach in the social science department this year at P. H. S.

Joe Louis made 26 successful defenses of his heavyweight boxing championship in his career and won 22 of these fights by knockouts, five of them in the first round.

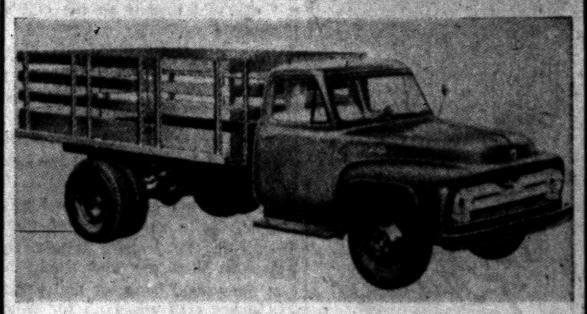

The Dodgers paid only $105 for Carl Furillo from the Eastern league.

Tighe Says He Oversold Himself

DETROIT (AP) — Jack Tighe, armed with a new one-year contract to manage the Detroit Tigers in 1958, says he "oversold" himself on this year's team.

Reviewing his rookie season as a major league manager and looking ahead to the next, the 44-year-old Tighe said he is not satisfied with the club.

"It doesn't mean much to be in the first division if you're 20 games out of first place," he said. "We've had some players having off-years, but generally I oversold myself on the club's potential."

Tighe got a vote of confidence and a new contract yesterday. It calls for a salary of about $27,000.

The manager said he "made a lot of mistakes. I believe the team and I will profit by the mistakes next year."

Asked what he considered mistakes, Tighe said "One of them was being too lenient, figuring the players liked me and would be on their good behavior and giving 1,000 per cent effort all the time. I was wrong there. I found out you have to prod and push them."

Tighe said that last winter he looked upon the Tigers as "nice kids."

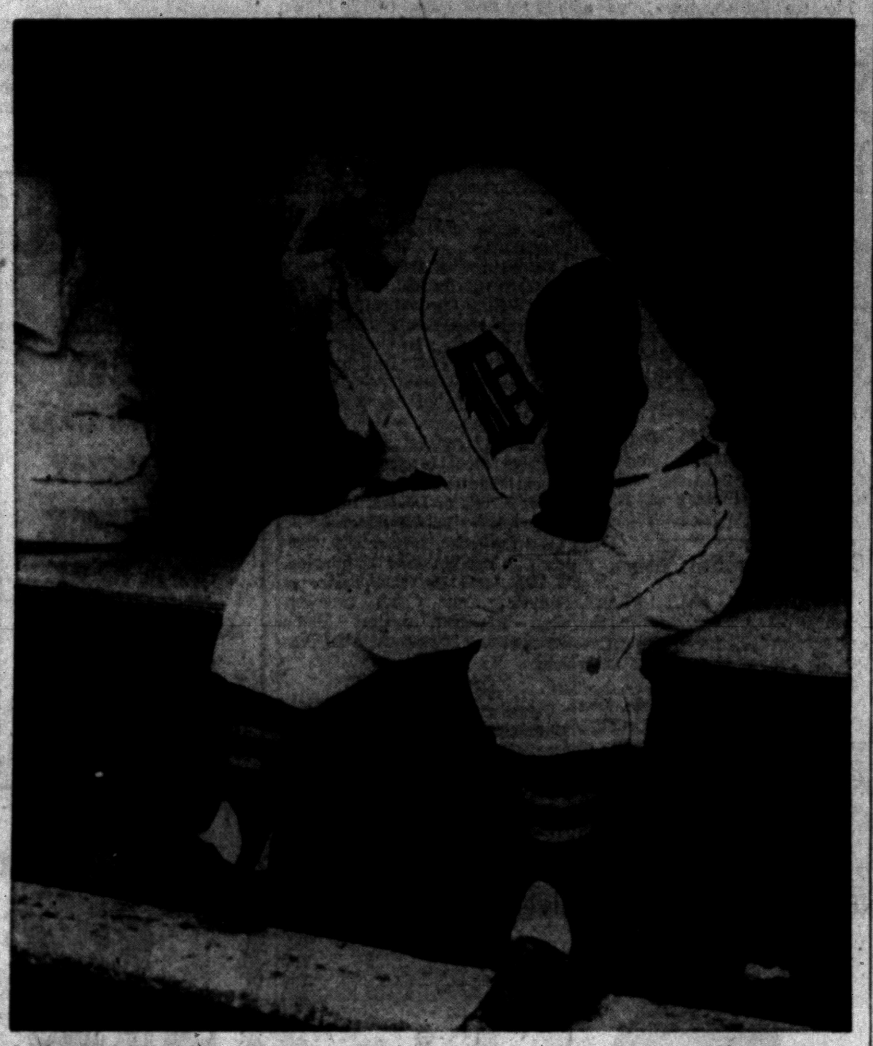

"Now I'm going to take a hard, cold look at things as they are, not as I'd like them to be," he added. "My success or failure will be measured on what I do here in Detroit — and not because I get Christmas cards from 25 or 30 ball players."

He is certain the Tigers — currently in fourth place 19 games out of first — will revamp their lineup to become a contender in 1958. That means more activity on the trade market and a bolder approach to player dealings, he said.

"You can't rebuild your entire club on trades but you can get immediate help," said Tighe. "And that's what we must have. Four or five clubs around the league are in the same spot we are. So I think there might be a general exchange, a big shuffle of players around the league. I'm confident the club will give me better material next season."

General manager John J. McHale says the club will trade "any player — there are no exceptions — if we can help ourselves."

Tighe said he hopes to move all-star shortstop Harvey Kuenn either to third base or the outfield, "both for his own good and for the good of the team."

LOOKS AHEAD — Manager Jack Tighe of the Detroit Tigers, given a new one-year contract yesterday, watches from a seat in the dugout as Tigers go down 6-1 for the third straight loss to the Boston Red Sox. Reviewing his rookie season as a major league manager and looking ahead to the next, Tighe says he "oversold" himself on this year's team. The club is currently in fourth place in the American League.

Texas 9 'Pony' Choice

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP)—Lufkin, Tex., was favored in tonight's battle with Maywood, Ill., to determine the champion of the sixth annual Pony League World Series.

Maywood took advantage of two errors and two consecutive wild pitches to defeat Waltham, Mass. 4-3 last night and advance to the final round.

Joseph Beats Smith by Unanimous Decision

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Charley Joseph, 158, New Orleans, won a unanimous decision over Charley (Tombstone) Smith, 158½, Los Angeles, in a 10-round bout at Olympic Auditorium last night.

Smith, although fighting out of his division, had the advantage of height, reach and even weight. His eye was cut and bled in the first round.

Saturday at Michigan

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan footballers will start working the kinks out of their summer-rested muscles tomorrow as gridiron practice opens for the hopeful Wolverines.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, himself bronzed from a summer vacation, will greet his 71 equally tanned athletes with the usual first-day pep talk.

Then, spruced up in their game maize and blue togs, the players will romp through their paces for the benefit of newsmen and photographers.

These formalities completed, Michigan will settle down to three weeks of double sessions leading up to the annual intrasquad scrimmage in Michigan Stadium.

A week later, on Sept. 28, Michigan will face Southern California in Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum. It will be the first meeting between the two since the 1948 Rose Bowl when Michigan paraded up and down the Pasadena turf in a 49-0 victory.

Oosterbaan says a real challenge faces the Wolverines. With seven Big Ten opponents on their schedule plus SC and Georgia, he is pessimistic.

"We won't be as good as we were last year," he says.

Most observers agree with him. They regard Michigan as thin along the line and uncertain despite material at end and right halfback.

Three starting linemen — guard Dick Hill, center Mike Rotunno and tackle Al Sigman — are gone. All three berths are open with battle-tested center Gene Snider, guard Larry Faul and tackle Joe Davies having first chance at them.

Gary Prahst and Chuck Teuscher are expected to move in at the ends where Ron Kramer and Tom Maentz cavorted for three seasons. Again Michigan's real problem at end is depth.

Australian Swim Star Rose Will Study at USC

LOS ANGELES (INS) — The University of Southern California announced today that Australian swimming star Murray Rose has enrolled at the school for the fall term which opens Sept. 18.

Rose, 18, is now in Los Angeles with his parents, the Ian F. Roses, after a tour of the United States, during which they looked over numerous American schools.

One of the factors that caused him to chose SC was a promise that the school would make available to him on the campus certain foods he requires for his strict diet.

The young aquatic star not only eats no meat, he eats no processed foods such as processed cereals.

Busso, Dupas Fight Tonight

Miami Beach Battle Matches Lightweights on TV

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A whirlwind fight flavored with incentive is expected tonight when lightweights Johnny Busso of New York and Ralph Dupas of New Orleans meet in a 10-rounder in the Auditorium Arena.

Busso, ranked 10th among the lightweights and fresh from an upset victory over Larry Boardman, said with confidence that "I think I can stop anybody I hit right, including Dupas."

Busso has won 30 out of 34 fights, 14 of them by knockout. The 23-year-old fighter said he wouldn't have lost four times "if I had listened to my corner."

Dupas, who is ranked No. 4 in the latest listings, will have even more incentive than Busso in view of his court fight in New Orleans to obtain a birth certificate stating he is white.

The 22-year-old New Orleans fighter indicated he is miffed at testimony saying he is a Negro and will be ready for revenge.

Dupas Returns to Ring as Court Case Goes On

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The rights of thousands yet unborn are at stake, said the chief counsel for boxer Ralph Dupas, whose fight for a birth certificate showing him to be white was interrupted by a five-week court continuance.

Civil Rights Court Judge Rene Viosca left on his summer vacation and ordered the case conducted without a jury.

The 21-year-old Dupas, fourth-ranking contender for the lightweight title, is asking the court to force the city to issue him a delayed birth certificate stating he is white. Without such a certificate, Dupas cannot fight in Louisiana where law forbids competition between white and Negro athletes.

Mrs. Naomi Drake, director of the city's bureau of vital statistics, was on the stand when yesterday's session ended.

Mrs. Drake, who is also deputy registrar for Orleans Parish (county), has refused to give Dupas the birth certificate he asks.

Mrs. Drake said she ordered the racial designation on birth certificates of Dupas and his brothers and sisters changed from white to Negro after an exhaustive examination. She testified this was done despite affidavits filed by other persons attesting that the Dupas family was white.

Dupas, in Miami, Fla., where he will meet Johnny Busso tonight in a nationally-televised 10-round match, said he was determined to fight the case to the end.

Yanks Send Chisox on Their Way, 2-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Go-Go Chicago White Sox are gone.

They put the heat on New York's slumping Yankees and the champs got hot, sweeping a three-game series and regaining a 6½-game American League lead with a 2-1 victory yesterday. Enos Slaughter's 11th-inning home run and five innings of one-hit shutout relief by sore-shouldered Whitey Ford did it.

Just 72 hours earlier, the Sox surprisingly were still in the race, a race this Yankee team, rated in the spring as possibly the greatest yet, was supposed to have unofficially wrapped up long before this final week of August.

Going into the set, the White Sox had won six in a row and had their best, righthanders Jim Wilson and Dick Donovan, and southpaw Billy Pierce, rested and ready. The Yankees, their pitching pooped by injuries, had lost five of seven on their final swing through the West.

A sweep would have put the Sox within percentage points of the champs and would have left the two clubs even in the loss column.

By being swept the Sox are six games back on the lost side and with 28 games remaining have only eight more left at home. The Yankees have 27 to go, with all but nine at home.

For the sadists, the Yankees magic number is 22—any combination of New York victories and Chicago defeats totaling 22 gives the Yankees their third consecutive pennant, eighth in nine years.

The Yankee mop up job was one of but three games scheduled in the majors yesterday, all in the AL. Boston swept Detroit in three with a 6-1 finale and Cleveland regained fifth from Baltimore by beating the Orioles 13-4.

In the NL, where first-place Milwaukee also has a magic number of 22, the Braves resume play at Cincinnati with a seven-game lead tonight. Second-place Brooklyn is home to New York's Giants. Third-place St. Louis is at Chicago.

The big home run, as much a Yankee trade-mark as ever, and clutch relief pitching swept the White Sox out of contention.

In the opener, it had been Yogi Berra's three-run homer in the eighth, cracking a 6-all tie, and Bob Turley's relief that won 12-6.

In the second game, it was Hank Bauer's solo homer in the eighth that provided the edge in a 5-4 victory as Turley again came on to save it.

And in the finale, it was Bauer who rapped his 16th home run in the third for the first Yankee hit and then Slaughter's payoff punch that beat Donovan, a 15-game winner who went all the way with an eight-hitter to lose his fourth after winning seven straight.

Keg Play Starts Next Week

By CHUCK ABAIR

Bowling hits the Pontiac area and all of Oakland County with a bang next week as league play gets underway in the majority of the local keg establishments.

Most of the houses are now holding open bowling while completing plans for one of the biggest seasons in history here. The alleys will be on full league schedules starting immediately after Labor Day.

One which has already jumped the gun on the pack is Red's Recreation at Oxford. The Merchants League began season play Tuesday night.

Dixie Recreation, Land-O-Lakes, Fairgrounds in Milford, Auburn Lanes and the new Lakewood Lanes have joined the houses with automatic pinsetters in a move certain to boost the sport in the years to come.

Montcalm, Huron Bowl, the Elks, Cooley Lanes, Birmingham Recreation, Bloomfield Lanes, Hilltop in Rochester and Pontiac Recreation already had the automatics which are said to make it a "more scientific game." Automatic bowling prices are 45 cents except those "houses" belonging to the Detroit Association. They charge 50.

Dixie has had open bowling since Aug. 1 with proprietor Frank Palazolla hoping to be able to accommodate more leagues and open keglers this year. He expects to top 25 leagues.

Lee Miller at Land-O-Lakes is raring to go with his automatics. He will have new competition after Sept. 19 when the 14-alley Lakewood Lanes opens league play with Bill and Bob Kuklinski in charge. Fairgrounds will have 12 leagues and its annual tournament.

Interest is growing considerably at Auburn Lanes where league play starts Wednesday. Auburn, Land-O-Lakes, Huron Bowl and Dixie Recreation all took part in the 1st Pontiac Press Bowlerama last season.

Stan Mayes, Montcalm proprietor, expects to have 20 leagues going starting Tuesday. He hopes to have some tournaments late in the season and is organizing a women's league for beginners.

One of the Montcalm features this year will be a Classic 850 loop with teams playing for a $400 prize and trophies. The major improvement at the 16-alley house is the installation of electric hand dryers replacing towels.

One of the outstanding leagues in the city will be at Huron with 14 teams averaging 930 or better battling in the Classic League. A total of 19 leagues are expected to bowl there during the season with a doubles tournament planned next spring.

Activity starts Labor Day at the Elks with 15 teams set to go. A mixed doubles tourney and possibly others will be held late in the season.

Cooley Lanes is anticipating plenty of excitement with top keglers Paul George and Bill Titus forming a match team to represent the alley and the Cooley Lanes Majorettes returning to defend their many honors. Proprietor Paul Rabaut is planning on about 16 leagues with the annual Union Lake Fire Dept., tournament one of the annual features.

The 1st of 30 leagues opens play Wednesday at Birmingham Recreation. It will be the strong 18-team Junior House loop. An instruction program for youngsters and the annual Southern Oakland County Champions tourney are planned there. It is one of the few area Houses to have air conditioning.

Bloomfield Lanes opens league play Tuesday. A total of 30 different leagues, including some high school teams, will bowl during the season. A mixed doubles tournament is set for spring. Hilltop has open bowling now and starts the league grind Tuesday.

Frank Jennings at Pontiac Recreation is looking forward to "a busy season." He has full bookings five nights a week.

Those alleys without automatics, but a lower bowling cost of 40 cents a line, won't have to take a backseat in the business rush.

Motor Inn will have at least 18 leagues, according to Lou Koprince one of the top keglers in this sector. Sept. 7 is the loop opener. Howe's Lanes at Clarkston, featuring new telescore machines, begin league action next week. Twelve leagues and a house tourney should keep Barb and Les Howe on the go.

Leagues are still being organized at Royal Recreation in Lake Orion. Play starts next week at the six-alley house. West Side Recreation here has 15 leagues ready to start with still an opening for a small loop on Wednesdays.

Art Grissom has not completed his league slate at B & M Recreation in Walled Lake but expects to have about 12 leagues going on seven alleys. Remodeling work is being completed at Holly Lanes. League play starts there Tuesday. Rochester Recreation and East Highland Recreation of Milford are others opening after Labor Day.

High-Scoring Grid Action Expected in Border Race

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Touchdowns are likely to be a dime a dozen in the Border Conference this season.

Most of the league members boast fast, experienced backfields and promise a wide-open, high scoring brand of football.

Prospects indicate one of the tightest conference football races in years. There will be no push-overs, coaches agree.

The conference champion is expected to be named on Nov. 9 at El Paso, Tex. That's when the defending champion Texas Western Miners meet Arizona State of Tempe.

The Miners are considered the class of the conference. Arizona State, runner-up last year, is next in line.

From there on its a battle for third place between the University of Arizona, West Texas State and Hardin-Simmons. Improving New Mexico A&M still seems destined for its customary spot in last place.

Texas Western has its fleet field of 1956 returning in full. It includes such stars as halfbacks Don Maynard, Jimmy Bevers, Bobby Coleman, quarterbacks Bob Larraba and Bob Forrest and fullback Charlie Ward.

Rookie of the squad will be Coach Ben Collins.

Coach Dan Devine of Arizona State has experience in nearly all positions. The Sun Devils finished last season with a 9-1 record, losing only to Texas Western.

The team is considered potentially one of the greatest in Arizona State history. Devine has a nucleus of his backfield returning and the line is essentially the same.

New Cafeterias Will Open in 4 Schools Next Week

New cafeterias will be opened in four public schools next week, Otto Hufziger, assistant superintendent of schools in charge of business, announced today.

The cafeterias will be in the multi-purpose rooms at Central, McCarroll, Lebaron, and Emerson Schools.

Opening of cafeterias in Hawthorne and Willis schools will be slightly delayed, Hufziger said.

He advised parents to send their children, at those two schools, with lunches until notified by school authorities.

Malkim School's Cafeteria will not be opened until completion of its multi-purpose room, said Hufziger. Parents will be notified when the cafeteria is ready for business, he said.

For further information on school cafeterias, he suggested that parents contact school principals.

The American Red Cross numbers nearly 2,000,000 volunteer workers in its 3,717 chapters.

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Motion Picture Editor

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Our own young Susan Kohner gets a lead on Broadway this fall in "The Young Strangers," a play by Irene Kamp, to be directed by playwright Elmer Rice. There's a confusion over the title since a motion picture and TV show of the same name have already been released. So, the title will be changed, possibly to "Amy," the character Susan plays.

Susan, who is the daughter of Paul Kohner, was also asked to read for two other plays, but "The Young Strangers" was her choice. Only 20, she has a great future, and it's believed this part may do for her what "Gigi" did for Audrey Hepburn and "The Diary of Anne Frank" for Susan Strasburg.

The red carpet will be spread when famed mystery writer Mary Roberts Rinehart arrives in Hollywood in 10 days to make her TV debut! The world's most celebrated woman mystery writer reports to Hal Roach studios to film an interview at the end of one of her best known books, "After House," for the telephone TV program.

The star of the show is Claudette Colbert who plays the role Mrs. Rinehart created in real life — that of a woman writer who interviews a man in prison and then proves his innocence by solving the crime in a novel she writes.

With Dr. Frank Baxter as the M.C. of the program, this is a show I don't want to miss.

The singing of Eli Wallach, stage actor and one of the leads in "Baby Doll," by Columbia, brings to mind that Wallach almost had the role of the Italian boy in "From Here to Eternity" which started Frank Sinatra back on the road to fame. Wallach wanted too much money.

He gets here early next month to star in "The Line-Up" for Frank Cooper, and this time he doesn't ask for the moon, sun and stars to make a movie in Hollywood, but he gets a sizable amount.

"Baby Doll," you remember, was made in New York.

Gary Cooper laughed so hard when comic Don Rickles of the Slate Brothers Club had him up on the floor, he couldn't speak the one line given him in the sketch.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Bing Crosby will announce, when he comes back to town, that he'll do a half hour CBS radio show every Sunday afternoon starting in October.

An heir to the Huntington Hartford fortune is expected by Marjorie Steel and Huntington.

That's all today.

Laborer First to Cross Tunnel at Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — An unidentified workman is the first man to cross from one end to the other in the 130-million-dollar Baltimore Harbor Tunnel.

For the breakthrough yesterday, Gov. Theodore McKeldin stood on one side of the final barrier and Chairman Robert O. Bonnell of the State Roads Commission waited on the other side.

The governor wielded a torch, with some expert help, and when a panel was cut a grinning, helmeted workman stepped through the opening — just before Bonnell. No one even got his name.

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—Costa Rica says the "invasion" of neighboring Nicaragua by about 10 refugee Nicaraguans bent on guerrilla warfare is over.

Costa Rican officials said all but two of the armed insurgents were captured yesterday by a detachment of 75 Costa Rican soldiers rushed to the border. The band had raided an estate in Costa Rica Monday and headed for Nicaragua.

SEOUL (AP) — Gen. George H. Decker, commander of U.S. and U.N. forces in Korea, said today the danger of Communist aggression from North Korea "has likely lessened."

Decker attributed the lessened Red threat to the recent move to Seoul of his command and the U.N. command decision to nullify the armistice ban on introduction of modern weapons into Korea.

Too much exposure to strong sunshine is usually harmful to any skin eruption, specialists warn. Prickly heat or damage to skin surfaces that touch each other may be caused by sweating, which can result from exposure to the sun or from physical activity, which also should be restricted in cases of skin eruption.

From Railroad Yard to Prison Laundry

WILLIAMSTOWN, Ky. (AP)—George Crawford, 45, wanted to hop a train and wasn't particular about the direction.

Before depot employes arrived for work, Crawford pulled stop signals for trains going north and south.

Soon a fast passenger train screeched to an unscheduled stop, but Crawford didn't have time to climb aboard. He was arrested by a railroad detective.

"Guess I'll go back to my old job now," sighed Crawford.

He'd been released a few months ago from prison, where he worked in the laundry.

Delivery Notices Lower Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures were mostly lower on the board of trade today, influenced mainly by notices of intentions to deliver fairly large amounts of September wheat and corn.

Cash houses reportedly were transferring their hedges from the nearby September wheat contract future, which has been selling at 6½ cent a bushel premium over September.

Corn, which has declined to new lows several times this week, continued downward as liberal delivery notices caused further selling of September for liquidation.

Favorable crop forecasts also were factors in the corn market, with higher temperatures expected to give the crop a needed lift.

Near the end of the first hour new style wheat was ⅜ to ⅝ lower, Sept. $2.15, corn was ¼ to ¾ lower, Sept. $1.20⅝, oats were ¼ to ½ lower, Sept. 65½, rye was ⅜ to ⅝ lower, Sept. $1.28¾, soybeans were ½ to ⅞ lower, Sept. $2.40, and lard was 5 cents lower to 2 cents higher a hundred pounds Sept. $12.57.

Censure Youths Visiting in China

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Forty-one young Americans now in Red China were censured today by delegates to the National Student Congress.

The censure resolution prompted the most heated session of the 10-day conference. The measure, as finally adopted today, said the 41 visitors violated existing passport regulations, a situation which the congress regarded as "deplorable."

The 1,000 student leaders said also there should be student exchange between the United States and nations in the Soviet bloc. A measure to specifically cite student exchange with Red China as a policy for the sponsoring National Student Assn., was defeated after a demonstrative hour-long debate.

In another resolution, the congress protested what it described as denial of academic freedom of Okinawan students attending the University of Ryukyus. The resolution involved the expulsion of six Okinawan students for participating in a parade last year.

The delegates reaffirmed their stand not to participate in the Moscow Youth Festival. They also called for expeditious granting of statehood to Hawaii and Alaska.

The congress ends today with the election of officers.

Markets Close Monday

NEW YORK (AP)—Financial and commodity markets throughout the United States and Canada will be closed Labor Day, Monday Sept. 2.

Stock Market Continues Rising

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market rose in early trading today, continuing its late trend to the upside at the close of yesterday's session.

Aircrafts and missile - making shares which paced the recovery movement yesterday were mixed. Leading rails posted gains in a rebound from their drop to new 1957 lows yesterday.

Among key stocks generally the gains ran from fractions to a point or more. There was a scattering of fractional losses.

Chrysler, one of the late favorites yesterday on news that its "Jupiter" missile was a success, was off fractionally on profit-taking.

Gains of less than a point were posted by Illinois Central, Southern Railway, New York Central, Baltimore & Ohio and Chesapeake & Ohio.

Cities Service was up around a point in fair activity following news that the company has become the first American oil firm to take official steps to explore for oil in the Sahara Desert.

Amerada, Royal Dutch and Sinclair were ahead around a point or better.

Other gainers were U.S. Steel, U.S. Rubber, Radio Corp., American Telephone, Allied Chemical, International Paper and American Tobacco.

Opening blocks included Sears Roebuck unchanged at 25⅞ on 1,000 shares; Royal Dutch up 1⅛ at 53⅜ on 3,500; and Chrysler off ⅛ at 76½ on 2,500.

Sorcerers Meet for Magic Week

Anything Goes at Niles as Legerdemain Artists Compare Tricks

NILES (AP) — By now a blonde suspended in air or a brunette seemingly sliced in half on Main Street probably wouldn't cause a ripple of excitement in this southwestern Michigan city of 15,000.

This is magic week in Niles, the scene of Percy Abbott's 24th annual magic get-together.

Abbott, a hustling, gray-haired gentleman, runs the Abbott Magic Co. in Colon, Mich., 50 miles east of Niles. He says it is the only firm in the world devoted exclusively to the manufacture of paraphernalia for professional and top-flight amateur magicians. His firm is the host in Niles.

About 300 modern sorcerers have gathered for the week-long show. Opening sessions were devoted strictly to the trade. The public got in the act yesterday when D'Leta, an escape artist, was shackled, placed in a sealed wooden box and lowered into the murky St. Joseph River. Naturally he escaped.

An old show business maxim says that more than one magician on a program is a crowd. But the entertainers here spend their time learning new tricks and entertaining the natives with off-the-cuff shows anywhere there is a gathering.

The artists of legerdemain include Neil Foster, world renowned manipulator who performed during Queen Elizabeth's coronation festivities, and Max Terhune, whose hands have performed most of the magic for stars in recent movies.

Brothers Return Home Safely

Chicago Woman Said She Saw Man Throw 2 Boys in Car Trunk

CHICAGO (AP)—Two young brothers, hunted by police after a woman reported she saw a man throw two boys in the trunk of a car and drive away, returned to their home early today.

More than 30 policemen had searched several hours for the youngsters after they failed to return home for supper.

Mrs. June Kalazu told police her sons, Daniel, 8, and Dennis, 7, were brought home in a car by a man who drove off before she was able to learn his identity. She said the boys told her the man had picked them up and driven them home after he had told them it was too late for them to be on the street.

Meanwhile, police investigated the report by Mrs. Theresa Dittrich, 75, that she had seen two small boys thrown into the trunk of a car on the North Side, some three miles from the Kalazu home.

Police said no young boys had been reported missing in the North Side districts near the scene of the reported abduction. They said a license number of the car Mrs. Dittrich reported had been traced but the owner accounted for his activities.

Nazis Trying for Comeback in Germany

From the North Sea to the Alps, the small Deutsche Reichs party is fighting more moderate parties for seats in the new federal Parliament. It has no seats now and is not expected to gain the five per cent minimum vote necessary to give it representation.

The party is a catch-all for unrepentant Nazis, radical rightists and nationalists who dream of a new German empire dominating Europe.

West German security authorities, closely watching its activities say it is better to have the old Hitlerites operating in the open and in one party than underground in moderate groups.

Here in Lower Saxony, the nation's third largest state, the party holds 6 seats of 161 in the provincial legislature.

Weather Pattern Across Nation Remains Same

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The contrasting weather pattern of the past several days showed little change today—cool along the northern tier of states and warm and humid across the Southern states.

Some of the warm and humid air moved slightly north and temperatures were higher in the Great Lakes region, upper New York State and southern New England.

Skies were mostly clear from Texas and eastern Kansas eastward to the mid and south Atlantic coastal states although some cloudiness and rain were reported along the Gulf Coast.

Generally fair weather prevailed along the Pacific Coast.

Thundershowers were reported over wide areas in the plateau region and the Rockies. Scattered showers and thunderstorms hit sections from the Dakotas and the central Plains eastward through the Great Lakes and the mid and upper Mississippi Valleys into New England. Isolated thundershowers fell along the Gulf Coast.

Fair weather was the outlook in the Pacific Coast states, the Ohio Valley and parts of New England.

Compulsory Driver Insurance Backed

LANSING (AP)—Overwhelming approval of proposed compulsory auto insurance for Michigan's motorists was shown in results of a poll ordered by Secretary of State James M. Hare.

Hare, announcing the results yesterday, said replies came from 53 per cent of more than 2,000 persons polled on the matter. Of these, 1,051 favored compulsory liability insurance and 174 were against it.

Another proposal for an uncollectable judgments fund to pay victims of uninsured motorists was approved by 789 persons and rejected by 386.

The survey showed 696 persons favoring a special insignia on the license plate of uninsured motorists and 565 opposing the idea.

Hare, injured himself last fall in an accident involving an uninsured driver, has been pushing hard for compulsory auto insurance.

"It seems obvious," he said, "that with a ten to one vote in favor of compulsory insurance that the Legislature will give substantial attention to the recommendations of the governor's study commission on the uninsured motorist, which will report at the end of this year."

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Andrew E. Johnson, who passed away one year ago today, August 30, 1956

Nothing but memories as we linger on,
Longing for a smile from someone gone;
None know the depths of our deep regret,
But we remember while others forget.
Sadly missed by his Wife and Children

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Gerald Leroy Sutton, who died August 30, 1956.

You are not forgotten, Jerry dear,
Nor ever will you be;
As long as life and memory last,
We shall remember thee.
Sadly missed by Mother, Father, Sisters and Brothers.

January Eyed for Sid, Imogene

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — The gimmick by which the big new color spectacular "Command Performance"—which will "honor" some worthy entertainment oldtimer (Ed Wynn will be first)—hopes to recruit the biggest stars involves a side payment to a stage charity of $10,000 a week.

The name talents solicited are expected to perform for $5,000 apiece . . . when they can get up to $10,000 and sometimes more on the weekly TV varieties (Allen, Sullivan, Como, The Big Record, etc.)

NBC now has definite hopes Caesar and Coca will have a show in January, when the customary flop shows can't lift ratings or options . . .

Sid, who once claimed he couldn't put on a TV show below $110,000, now will accept considerably less than half that for everything, including equal pay for Imogene . . .

COSTUMES READY

Mary Martin's NBC special, "Annie Get Your Gun," won't be seen until Nov. 27 but her costumes are all ready and waiting now . . .

The General Motors NBC "special" now is trying for Spencer Tracy . . . They missed with William Holden, so now will try even higher . . .

Paul Whiteman may be aboard, and whatever format is selected, Dinah Shore and Pat Boone (General Motors TV stars) must be inserted somewhere . . .

While the General Motors special seeks its format, Ford's huge "Edsel Show" Oct. 13, starring Bing Crosby and Frank Sinatra, has added Louis Armstrong . . . Add her serene highness and they could do a TV remake of "High Society." . . .

Bandleader Orrin Tucker, who introduced wee Bonnie Baker, is making a comeback and wants to try TV . . .

Ernie Kovacs joins the permanent "What's My Line" panel on the momentum of his TV and imminent movie accomplishments at the same scale as the other panel regulars: $750 per Sunday night half-hour . . .

IDEA ISN'T NEW

Mike Wallace's new "Great Men" inquisition, interviewing great figures of history who will reply in their own documented words, was done on CBS-TV's "Camera Three" last February.

Then, in a parody of the Wallace Nightbeat style, Catherine the Great and Frederick the Great were similarly pinned down to their old quotes . . . It's still a good idea.

Segregation Rally Held in Nashville

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Pro-segregationists staged a rally on the campus of a previously all-white school last night and called for a boycott by white students.

Speakers included the Rev. Fred Stroud, who has been associated with Northern segregationist John Kasper, and E. S. Dollar, head of the Davidson County chapter of the Ku Klux Klan.

They urged white parents to keep their children out of schools slated for mixed first-grade classes this fall under the school board's court-approved desegregation plan. Classes start Sept. 9.

The rally, attended by about 250 persons, was held on the grounds of Buena Ista school, where three Negro 6-year-olds were enrolled Tuesday.

Thirteen Negro first-graders registered without incident at five preciously all-white schools, and a 6-year-old white girl enrolled at a previously all-Negro school.

Reds in Syria Snag Aid Plans

West's Hopes of Solving Arab Refugee Problem Out the Window

WASHINGTON (AP)—Syria's pro-Soviet moves have virtually killed the West's faint hopes of developing a new plan this year for permanent settlement of the nine-year-old Arab refugee problem.

Western diplomats have concluded that consideration of any such plan now would be useless because Syria's leftist leaders, in their present mood, would almost certainly refuse to cooperate.

The plight of some 900,000 refugees, a product of the 1948 Palestine war, is to be discussed at the United Nations General Assembly session in New York next month. The refugees are being cared for in makeshift emergency camps, mainly in Egypt, Jordan and Syria.

A serious shortage of money already is complicating the problem. Unless more U.N. countries contribute, present funds to operate the camps will run out by January, these officials said.

The decision to postpone a permanent solution to the refugee problem is a disappointment for many State Department officials who view that problem as a major roadblock to Mid-East peace.

Earlier in the year, some officials were fairly optimistic that some new international plan could be worked out to find permanent homes for the refugees. This view was based on a feeling that Jordan, Iraq, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia might adopt a more reasonable attitude.

Informal soundings during the past few months showed, however, that Egypt's President Nasser gave no sign of wanting to solve the problem. Israeli authorities, who have consistently refused to allow the refugees to return, also stood firm in their attitude.

You're Right at Home in This Brazilian City

By EARL WILSON

BROOKLYN (I) Brazil—Yes, there's a Brooklyn in Brazil—and it's right next to Indianapolis.

In fact, Brooklyn's so popular here in Sao Paulo, "the Chicago of Brazil," that there are two suburbs of that name—an "Old Brooklyn" and a "New Brooklyn." I rode the street car out from one of the many squares in Sao Paulo, a booming industrial city of 3,000,000.

WILSON

"New Brooklyn" has streets named after our states, so you can find Nebraska, Ohio, Utah and even California—in Brooklyn.

Here in Brooklyn, Brazil, they can't quite decide how to spell it. It's Brooklyn, "Brooklin," "Brooklim" and sometimes "Brookline." The street cars are reputed to have been dicarded by Brooklyn, U.S.A., several years ago and sold to the local transportation company. They looked it.

I saw little confectionaries and bake shops—"candy stores," just like Brooklyn back home. Attractive young girls in very tight sweaters and slacks bounced past the candy stores, but I didn't hear any of the Brazil wolves whistle.

Some of them are more direct. They step right up to a gal and pinch her. But that's mostly in Argentina. Here the men are often pursued by the girls. And a girl holds onto a guy's arm very firmly when they walk down the street.

Brooklyn, Brazil, is said to be 65% American or American descent. But I wasn't able to find anybody here who came from Brooklyn, U.S.A.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . IN NEW YORK . . .

Steve Allen asked Sugar Ray Robinson and Carmen Basilio to dance on his TV'er before the fight. Robinson agreed, but Basilio's afraid of twisting an ankle . . . CBS took over Jackie Gleason's plush penthouse office . . . The Arnie Rosens (he's a comedy writer, she's model Freda Larsen) expects the baby in November.

Joel McCrea refused $1,500,000 for a quarter of his ranch. (The would-be buyer gasped, "Why, you crazy cowboy, you!") . . . Producer Michael Grace told Lionel Hampton to stop leading his band—and audience—out of Central Park and up the street. Who do you think is heard singing in Frank Sinatra's new film, "The Joker Is Wild"? Bing Crosby, that's who!

EARL'S PEARLS: A local gent has a bad case of insomnia he can't even fall asleep when his wife's talking to him . . . That's earl, brother.

Jet Fuel Ignites, Killing Two Korean Children

KUNSAN, South Korea (AP)—U.S. jet fuel flushed from an inoperative pipeline caught fire and ignited a Korean house yesterday, killing two children and seriously injuring two others.

The Army said water was being forced through the pipe preparatory to relocating and rebuilding the line away fro mpopulation centers. A small amount of fuel was forced out. How it caught fire was not disclosed.

Benedict Arnold died in London, England.

Helpfulness Also Rates High

Outgoing Person Wins Friends in Grade School

WASHINGTON (AP) — A game of "Guess Who?" indicated to sociologists yesterday that neither the bully nor the big dome is the Dale Carnegie of the elementary school set.

Martin Gold of the University of Michigan described the game—actually a serious bit of research—in a paper presented Wednesday for the American Sociological Society. The research covered 152 pupils at a school on the university campus.

Helpfulness and an outgoing personality are what win friends and influence grade schoolers, Gold said.

"Acts friendly," "A good person to do things with," "Asks you to do things in a nice way," "Doesn't start fights and doesn't tease" were some of the ways the children described their most popular classmates.

Only among younger boys were such characteristics as "knows how to fight" highly esteemed.

Gold said he was surprised to learn that being smart in school was not highly valued, at least in terms of establishing leadership.

"Perhaps," he said, "this characteristic of being smart implies nothing about ability or willingness to help others with their work."

The "Guess Who?" game was really a sugar coated questionnaire.

Gold and his fellow researchers, working on a study of "power in the classroom," rated 17 characteristics of children—one a leader and one not — and asked their classmates to "guess who" had each characteristic.

"The more often a property was regarded as important," Gold said, "the more often it was assigned to a high rather than a low power child."

A clue as to how children attain the type of personality that makes them classroom leaders was offered by three other Michigan researchers, Sidney Rosen, Lois Hoffman and Ronald Lippitt.

They found, in another study at university elementary school, that children who enjoy high freedom of action at home but are called to time by their parents if they step too far out of line are the ones who are most influential at school.

Like any boy or girl, they said, the high-freedom child resents disciplinary action when it comes, but he is more able to roll with it and find new ways to assert himself.

Among this group, it was found, "There was more use of force but also more friendliness and greater liking expressed for classmates."

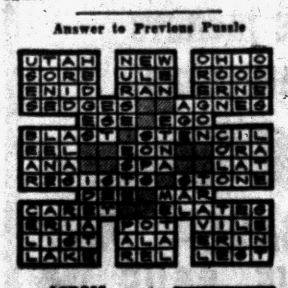

"The disciplined, low freedom group," the researchers said, "showed the opposite pattern."

Here Is Solution for Puzzle 64

The following are the correct answers and explanations for the Pot-O-Gold puzzle which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (1) SLACKS. Even a pretty woman's figure seldom looks improved by wearing SLACKS. While snacks are certainly wrong for a plump girl, what about the underweights who are trying to gain?

B. (4) CONCLUSION. In civil cases, if the judge disapproves of the jury's verdict (as, for instance, the amount allowed in a damage suit), he often overrules their finding. When there is confusion among the jury, they will send out and ask for clarification of some part of the evidence, but the judge will not interfere with their deliberation.

C. (6) DAILY. A person in deep trouble could hardly carry on gaily, but he could carry on without complaint DAILY (from day to day).

D. (7) PREMISE. A brilliant writer sometimes tees off from some startling argument or point of view that others challenge; this stirs up much discussion. The preface, if any — an introductory passage, is more likely to give the circumstances of writing the book.

E. (9) WARNING. The peevish old man is not actively warding off, or fending off, trespassers. He's more likely to fire a shot in the air by way of WARNING them not to come nearer.

F. (11) DECEIT. If one partner is guilty of cheating or fraud against the other, it would certainly break up the partnership. Defeat should not stop a promising new venture; ambitious people rise above it, and try again.

G. (14) INFERNAL. Communist agitators in newly independent countries are a diabolical, malicious nuisance. They are not just an internal problem, since their activities are usually inspired from outside the country.

H. (16) PECULATION. The missing bank teller may have used the bank's money for speculation, but just as often it may have been used in betting or extravagant buying or a dozen other ways. Accident or foul play may be the answer to the situation, but "often" it is the teller's embezzlement or PECULATION that comes to light.

I. (18) SHATTERED. SHATTERED windows would indicate that no one lived in the house to stop such vandalism, or to fix the windows. If they were shuttered, the tenants may only be away for a time.

J. (20) DIFFERENCE. The clerk who greets co-workers with brash familiarity will show a DIFFERENCE of manner toward the boss; it may be one of deference, or respect, but perhaps it is only more formal and less hearty. In any case, there is a DIFFERENCE of manner.

K. (21) BATTERING. A burlesque comedy team is likely to be a rough-and-tumble kind of act, where they bang each other around. Bantering—good-natured raillery—is much more polite comedy.

L. (23) ALOFT. An adventurous boy would probably be delighted to go ALOFT in a jet plane, even to the point of wanting to take it up himself. "Adventurous" is the clue; almost any boy would like to go along with his father on such an occasion.

M. (26) CATTLE. If "properly cared for" suggests CATTLE. A reference to castle would be better phrased as "if properly kept up."

N. (27) HAUNTED. The escaped convict who has since led a new life may be HAUNTED in his dreams by police. It's more than being hunted or sought after; his nightmares would include contacts after he was caught — police guards, prison, etc.

O. (29) SHREWD. Wives who are shrews, scolding and ill-tempered, are likely to cause resentment in their husbands, and lazy husbands would become even more stubborn about loafing. But SHREWD wives are intelligent and use tact, and lazy husbands wouldn't realize they were being pushed.

P. (31) BEQUEST. Sometimes heirs have to dispose unwillingly of property because of a BEQUEST, or legacy, in a will. Father's BEQUEST is indicated by the phrasing; usually, behest, or command, calls for "at" — at father's behest.

Q. (33) PERPETRATE. Slang terms commit many errors in the English language, but most slang expressions are a passing fad. They are cruder than colloquialisms, in which common speech sometimes misuses words so continuously that they are perpetuated in the English language, becoming a permanent part of it. Slang rarely does this.

R. (35) GENTLE. GENTLE effort could finally bring an end to a long quarrel, when kind, indulgent words are needed to smooth ruffled feelings. Mental effort is not so good; a long standing quarrel has become a matter of emotions rather than the mind.

S. (38) CLIQUE. The opening night of a show has many of the star's personal CLIQUE — friends and relatives — in the audience, who appland even a bad show. A claque, paid to applaud, is an old tradition of opera, rather than the stage.

T (39) IMPECCABLE. There's no use arguing with someone whose reasoning on the subject is flawless; there are no loopholes to argue about. An IMPLACABLE point of view is an angry one that can't be pacified, but an argument is useful in showing this up, and giving both parties a chance to let off steam.
