Waterford Speedboat Pilot Dies in Crash

Auto Accidents Result in Three Other Fatalities

Royal Oak Youngster Drowns in Lake Orion Saturday

A 51-year-old Waterford Township speedboat pilot was killed in the Detroit Memorial regatta Saturday while three other Oakland County persons died in weekend auto accidents and a fourth drowned.

The dead are:

Mark R. McCollum, 2, of Royal Oak.

Maddock, a building contractor, died when his 135-cubic-inch racing hydroplane stalled and was rammed at nearly 100 miles an hour by another entry in the Detroit River race.

His boat was rammed by one driven by Harry Vogel, 49, of Dearborn. Vogel running behind Maddock and fighting for the lead, said he was unable to avoid the crash when Maddock's craft, the Holiday, stalled in front of him.

SUFFERED BROKEN HIP

Vogel suffered a broken hip when his boat ran over the top of Maddock's. "Lloyd started to stand up and wave at me. I was too close. I had no chance to turn, and ran right over him," Vogel related.

Maddock, ranked second nationally last year in the 135 class, was commodore of the Oakland County Boat Club at Sylvan Lake. He is survived by his wife, a son, Lloyd Jr., and a married daughter, Mrs. Betty Jane Begovich.

Funeral service will be held Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at Huntoon Funeral Home. Burial will be in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

Stasin, a passenger in a car driven by James Johnson, 56, of Pontiac, was killed when Johnson's car collided with another at Telegraph Rd. and Northwestern Hwy. Saturday night.

INJURIES TREATED

Theodore Stokes, 22, and Lee Baker, 23, both of Flint, occupants of the other car, were taken to Pontiac General Hospital where they were treated for minor injuries.

Gora was killed Saturday night in a 2-car crash near Detroit.

Detroit Regatta Officials Decried in Racer's Death

DETROIT (INS)—A high-ranking, U.S. Coast Guard officer today said Saturday's race boat regatta held on the Detroit River, which resulted in the death of a Waterford Township driver, should not have been held.

Cdr. Robert D. Brodie who is in charge of Detroit area Coast Guard facilities declared:

"They were lucky more people weren't hurt or even killed. It was like shutting off the traffic lights on Woodward avenue and sanctioning a race while the street is covered with slush and mud."

RACE APPROVED

Cdr. Brodie said the race was sanctioned by the Cleveland District Office of the U. S. Coast Guard, and added no official investigation is being conducted.

Cdr. Brodie, who was on the judge's stand, said all boats except one in the race in which Maddock was killed jumped the gun in the first heat.

He said:

"Everyone ignored the red flag and there was no communication with the stake boat at the first turn so that the heat could not be stopped."

Nationalist Jet Training Plane Downed by Reds

MIGs Also Attack Ship Carrying U. S. Doctor; Said Unhurt

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Nationalist Defense Ministry reported today Chinese Communist MIGs shot down a T33 jet training plane near the Matsu Islands within two hours after Red jets attacked an unarmed commercial amphibian plane.

The ministry said the training plane plunged into the sea 10 miles south of the island group after two of them had been attacked in the area. The pilot was not recovered, the ministry added.

U.S. Military Headquarters here reported an American officer — Lt. John J. Goodrich, 26, Rayne, La. — was aboard the twin-engine Catalina, but gave no other information.

The American earlier was identified by Foshing Airlines as an Army doctor bound for Matsu to examine seriously ill Nationalist soldiers. The airline reported also that he had been slightly wounded in the attack, but pilot Chen Kuo-min said when the plane returned here that none aboard was hurt.

Newsmen were barred from approaching the Catalina when it landed at Taipei's Pinehill airport until after the American was whisked away in a jeep. He did not appear wounded.

The pilot said two MIGs made four passes at the plane, hitting it on the first pass. Newsmen inspected bullet holes in the left wing and left float. A wing spar was damaged, also.

The attack occurred off Tungchuan, or East White Dog Island 11 miles south of Matsu and about 14 miles off the mainland.

It was the first reported instance of Red MIGs appearing south of the Nationalist-held Matsu Island group.

Bosox' Agganis Dies Suddenly

Boston First Baseman Has Relapse Following Battle With Pneumonia

Agganis, a native of Lynn, Mass., was the regular first baseman for the Red Sox until he was taken ill with pneumonia last month. He reported back for duty with the Sox but was sent back to Santa Maria Hospital, here, when he suffered a relapse.

Agganis broke into baseball with Louisville in 1953 after an outstanding career as a Boston University athlete.

He batted .281 for the 1953 season with Louisville in the American Association and joined the parent Red Sox last year, batting .251 in 132 games.

Agganis was a popular player. His death was unexpected, a spokesman for the Red Sox said. No cause of death was announced by the hospital immediately.

He was a star quarterback with BU and was signed by the Red Sox upon finishing college in November 1952. He was a veteran of the Marine Corps.

Chrysler Wage Parley Begins

Opposition Unexpected as UAW Negotiators Seek Contract Demands

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. opens new contract negotiations with the CIO United Auto Workers today.

Chrysler is the third and last of the Big Three auto makers to be served with the union's demand for a guaranteed wage plan. Ford and General Motors already have accepted a modified version of the plan.

In addition to company-paid supplemental unemployment benefits the union also is expected to seek wage and pension increases, liberalized insurance programs, added fringe benefits and a full union shop.

The union shop provision was included in the June 12 settlement with GM. It was already in force with Ford.

Under the provision an hourly rated worker must join the union to hold his job.

Big 4 Send Hammarskjold to Arrange Geneva Talks

SAN FRANCISCO (IN)—The United Nations' top executive, given the go-ahead by the Big Four in an unprecedented move, leaves the scene of the world organization's 10th birthday assembly today to head for Geneva where he will set the stage for next month's "summit" talks.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, armed with a peace and disarmament pledge unanimously adopted by the 60-nation anniversary conclave at its closing session in San Francisco yesterday, is flying to New York to plunge immediately into his task of shaping the Geneva conference.

Before his scheduled departure for the Swiss city July 9, the secretary-general will first confer with Russia's Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov Tuesday or Wednesday at U.N. headquarters in New York on arrangements and procedures for the meeting of the Big Four government chiefs.

After Molotov leaves for Moscow at midweek, Hammarskjold will have a series of intensive consultations with America's U.N. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Britain's Chief Delegate Sir Pierson Dixon and France's U.N. Envoy Henri Hoppenot to put the finishing touches on the preparatory blueprint for the Geneva meeting.

Hammarskjold's mission marks the first time the world's four leading powers ever designated the U.N. as the host-manager of a high-level international conference.

The Big Four foreign ministers, meeting in San Francisco during the weeklong anniversary assembly, formally asked the U.N. to provide its "European home"—Geneva's Palace of Nations—as the site of the approaching top-level talks aimed at liquidating the cold war. The "summit" conference is scheduled to start July 18.

At the close of the U.N.'s commemorative conclave, Hammarskjold announced he would not only go to Geneva to set up the facilities but stand by in the Swiss city throughout the meeting of President Eisenhower, Russian Premier Bulganin, British Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure.

There was thus the possibility that the Big Four heads of government might decide to assign some tasks to the U.N. in implementing whatever decisions they may agree upon in their negotiations aimed at a cold war cease-fire.

Patty, Trabert Win in England

Hoad Upset in Tennis Tourney at Wimbledon; Drobny Beaten

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Budge Patty of Los Angeles upset Australia's Lewis Hoad 6-4, 6-4, 6-4 today to join fellow American Tony Trabert in the semi-finals of the all-England tennis championships. Trabert ousted the defending titleholder, Jaroslav Drobny, 8-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Patty, a 31-year-old internationalist who won the Wimbledon crown in 1950, buoyed his chances of making the United States Davis Cup team this summer.

The Californian, who spends most of his time in Paris, has been overlooked by Cup selectors in the past because he preferred European to American competition.

Trabert's victory boosted him into a co-favorite's role for the title with Ken Rosewall of Australia.

Drobny, a former Czech who fled the Communist country to take up citizenship in Egypt, tired visibly after battling the power-hitting American through 14 games of the opening set.

Drobny, playing in his 125h Wimbledon, saved three match points in the ninth game of the third set and the crowd, pulling hard for the self-exiled Czech, cheered wildly.

Airliner Loses Wheel in Emergency Landing

LONDON(AP)—A Spanish Airlines Skymaster made an emergency landing safely today at London Airport but one wheel fell off as the plane rolled down the runway.

The airliner had circled the airport several times to use up fuel. Emergency airport fire and ambulance services stood by.

Dulles Rushing to Talk With Ike

Secretary Is Flying to Maine to Discuss Jet Attack With President

WASHINGTON (INS)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flies to Bangor, Maine, today for urgent talks with President Eisenhower on the Bering Sea incident in which an American naval patrol plane was forced down by Russian jets.

Dulles' surprise flight to Maine created a sense of urgency about the incident which has been soft-pedaled by both American and Russian officials.

It will permit him to talk with the President a few hours earlier than planned. Originally, the White House announced Dulles would visit the President late tonight after Eisenhower returns to Washington from his New England trip.

Under the new plan, the President and Dulles will confer in the President's airplane on the return flight to the nation's capital.

DISCUSS U.N. TALKS

They are expected to talk not only about the plane incident but also about the discussion Dulles had with Russian and other diplomats during the United Nations meeting in San Francisco last week.

Announcement of the jet attack on the Navy Neptune airplane was made Friday evening. Dulles immediately filed a personal protest with Molotov in San Francisco.

Molotov acted with unprecedented speed and within 24 hours told Dulles that the Soviet government regretted the incident and would pay half the damages.

Dulles said he was gratified with the expression of regret but that the Soviet offer fell short of the U. S. demand that the Soviets pay the full damages.

Twins 'Repeter' and 'Duplikate' Saved by Vicar

BIRMINGHAM, England, (AP)—A couple had twin boys. They wanted one christened Peter and the other Repeter.

Another couple had twin girls. They wanted one christened Kate and the other Duplikate.

So says the Rev. John Jackson, vicar of St. John's church. In each case, he said today in a letter to his parishioners, he persuaded the parents to drop the idea.

The Rev. Mr. Jackson said he thinks the Church of England should lay down rules banning absurd names at baptisms and so prevent children going through life with a grudge "because of the labels tacked on their helpless heads."

He has two children — Janet and John.

Little Temperature Change Seen Here

Today's weather is expected to be generally fair with little change in temperature tonight and tomorrow, according to the U. S. weather bureau forecast.

Pontiac Motor Division Unit Votes Tomorrow

Agreement Is Approved by Fisher Body, Truck and Coach Employes

Two of Pontiac's three UAW-CIO union locals voted ratification of the new 3-year General Motors contract agreement yesterday.

The pact was approved by Fisher Body Division Local 596 and General Motors Truck and Coach Division Local 594.

Pontiac Motor Division Local 653 will meet tomorrow night in Pontiac High School auditorium to rule on international and local settlements.

About 600 GMC workers voted unanimously for the agreements yesterday in the PHS auditorium after hearing an explanation of the new contract by Ernie Moran, local international representative, according to Andy Wilson, local president.

FISHER EMPLOYES MEET

Ted Harsen, international representative, and Gerald Kehoe, chairman of the shop committee, outlined the settlements, said local President Harold A. Grant. The vote was also unanimous.

The 3-year international pact was reached on June 13 providing increased pay, pension, vacation and holiday benefits.

Wildcat strikes over local issues idled about 18,000 workers here June 13, but normal production was resumed the following day.

GUEST SPEAKER

International UAW-CIO president Jack Livingston will be guest speaker tomorrow night at the Pontiac Motor Local 653 meeting.

Charles Curry, president of Local 653, urges all members to attend, as both national and local agreements concerning supplementary lay-off pay will be duscussed and ratified.

Employes on the day and third shift will meet in the auditorium at 7 p.m., while afternoon shift workers will meet after midnight.

Livingston will give a comprehensive explanation on the changes and gains which were made in the negotiations.

Floods Inundate Wyoming Valley

Damage to Sugar Beet Crop Heavy; No Deaths Reported in Area

TORRINGTON, Wyo. (AP)—Cloudbursts which dumped up to 20 inches of rain and hail on southeastern Wyoming caused hundreds of thousands of dollars damages to sugar beet crops in the North Platte Valley last night.

Towns and highways were flooded, communications were cut off, and many motorists were stranded as the storms moved through a 75-mile wide area.

No deaths or serious injuries were reported.

The National Guard was called out at Torrington as travel was cut off south and west of the city. The North Platte received millions of gallons of water from creeks and irrigation ditches.

Similar conditions were reported at Fort Laramie, Lingle and Guernsey, farther north of the valley.

The rain and hail fell for eight hours. It stopped about an hour after midnight.

Shortly after, the Wyoming Highway Patrol reported the water had receded on U.S. 26 so cars could move from Fort Laramie into Torrington, which had facilities to accommodate them.

Maine's Muskie to Welcome Ike

Sen. Smith Cooking Up Clambake in Honor of President, Governor

The governor, the first Democrat to be elected the state's chief executive in 20 years, will greet the President at Skowhegan, home of Republican Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine. Muskie and Eisenhower will attend a clambake at Mrs. Smith's home.

A few hours later Eisenhower will fly back to Washington, ending a six-day tour of northern New England, and go to a late evening White House conference with Secretary of State Dulles on the shooting down of a U.S. Navy patrol plane by Soviet aircraft.

Eisenhower fished for about six hours yesterday and caught two salmon and a mess of trout in the Magalloway River at Little Boy Falls. One of the salmon was an 18-incher weighing about two pounds. The other was under the legal "keeping" size of 14 inches and the President threw it back.

The trout averaged 10 to 12 inches, and Eisenhower, who reportedly caught them "fast and furiously," had them stored in the refrigerator for his breakfast this morning.

The president arranged to break camp shortly after noon today after lunch at the Parmachenee Lake Club with Sen. Payne (R-Maine); Maine's three GOP House members, Representatives Hale, Nelson and McIntire; and State Republican Chairman John F. Weston of Fryeburg.

Watson to Head City Boys' Club Directors Board

George M. Watson, personnel director at Pontiac Motor, was unanimously elected to a second term of office as president of the Boy's Club Board of Directors at a regularly scheduled meeting Saturday.

Watson has been a member of the board of directors for the past five years, serving on various committees.

He is vice president of the Pontiac Kiwanis Club, past president of the Chamber of Commerce and has been active in many civic affairs throughout the years.

Also elected were Addison K. Oakley, 1st vice president; Ralph T. Norvell, 2nd vice president; Dawson Baer, secretary.

Reelected for 3-year terms on the board of directors were: Addison Oakley, James F. Nye, D. B. Eames, Monroe Osmun, Dean Beier, Frank Lyndall, Robert Baker and Robert Fisher.

Paulin Named Head of State Gas Group

New directors elected were William H. Huffmaster, general manager of Southeastern Michigan Gas Co., Port Huron; David Eckman, operations vice president of Battle Creek Gas Co., Battle Creek and John B. Simpson, general supervisor of gas operations for Consumers Power, Jackson.

Speedboat Driver Perishes in Crash

tiac General Hospital yesterday after being crushed under his sports car and later hurled against the side of an ambulance when it collided with another car at Telegraph Rd. and Huron St.

The first accident occurred as Garfunkel was making a qualifying run in the second annual speed climbing event at Haven Hill in the Highland Recreation Area.

Witnesses said his car rolled over on a turn. A spot check when he was placed in the ambulance indicated he suffered a multiple skull fracture.

The ambulance, equipped with a flashing red light but no siren, ran the red light at Telegraph and Huron, colliding with a car, driven by Henry Helms, 65, of 362 N. Johnson Ave. Helms was unhurt but his wife, Maude, 52, was treated at the hospital.

DAMAGE SLIGHT

Damage was slight but the impact slammed Garfunkel's head against the back of the cab, according to Pontiac Police.

Authorities said they are not sure which accident killed Garfunkel.

The McCollum boy drowned Saturday evening when he apparently fell into Lake Orion while playing on a dock. His grandfather, Robert Melvin, of 362 Summit, where the child was staying, said the boy was found in four feet of water about eight feet from shore.

Mark was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCollum, of 2304 Middlesex, Royal Oak. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Oakland County Deputy Coroner Dr. Isaac C. Prevette.

Meanwhile, authorities at Pontiac General and St. Joseph Mercy Hospitals said 37 persons were given emergency treatment for auto accident injuries over the weekend as countless motorists jammed county roads and highways.

Admitted with injuries were:

Michael Morarity, 72, of 97 Augusta St., whose condition was listed as poor by Pontiac General Hospital attendants.

He suffered a broken arm and leg in a 2-car collision yesterday at Scott Lake road and Wanamaker, State Police said. Two others in the car were treated for minor injuries.

SUFFERED CONCUSSION

Earl Swift, 22, of Oxbow Lake, who suffered a concussion early Sunday morning when the car in which he was riding hit a parked auto, was reported in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General. Another passenger was treated for minor injuries, according to Pontiac Police.

The driver, B. R. Short, 23, of Oxbow Lake, said he fell asleep at the wheel and struck the parked car on Oakland avenue.

Hangman Elusive Chap, Island Monarch Finds

AUCKLAND, New Zealand, (AP)—Queen Salote of Tonga, monarch of the Friendly Islands, has asked Fijian authorities for the loan of a hangman. He is needed to execute two convicted murders in Tonga.

The Fiji government is considering the request but the executioner is a difficult man to find. He lives deep in the forest on the island of Viti Levu.

Acres of land, cows, cowbells, horses, military warrants, oxen, and even whisky, were used as mediums of exchange in the United States before general use of currency and banknotes.

Accidents Claim 25 in Michigan

State Chalks Up One of Heaviest Weekend Death Tolls of 1955

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

June's last weekend, which lured thousands to highways and waterways, took one of the year's largest tolls in accidental deaths in Michigan.

Mishaps between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday claimed 25 lives, 20 of them in traffic.

Three persons drowned, a speedboat racer was killed on the Detroit River, and a baby died in a three-story fall.

Last weekend's accident toll was only 15.

Ike Reportedly Favors Probing Security Setup

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration reportedly has decided to go along with a Democratic-sponsored proposal for a bipartisan commission to study the controversial federal employe security program.

The measure, sponsored by Senators Humphrey (D-Minn) and Stennis (D-Miss), was scheduled for Senate debate today with all signs pointing to overwhelming passage.

As the Senate took up the matter, informed sources reported the administration — after several weeks of apparent indecision—has decided to support the proposal.

Up to now, President Eisenhower and Atty. Gen. Brownell have indicated they felt there was no need for such a study.

The proposed 12-member commission would make recommendations to improve the functioning of the security program.

A House committee already has approved a companion measure sponsored by Rep. Walter (D-Pa).

The first large suspension bridge built in the United States spanned the Ohio River at Covington, Ky. and was finished in 1881.

The Day in Birmingham

Commission to Consider Change in Building Code

BIRMINGHAM—An amendment to the city building code allowing expanded usage of frame buildings in the business district will face city commissioners tonight.

The amendment, which would alter present restrictions, is the subject of an informal public hearing. The proposed change was written by the city attorney, and reviewed by The Building Code Board of Appeals.

Oakland County Drain Commissioner Ralph A. Main has urged the city as one of the members slated to participate in the Evergreen Interceptor Sewer Project, to take action guaranteeing the payment of engineering costs.

This would insure the preparation of final plans and specifications for the job, Main said.

Up for study by the lawmakers is a request from the City of Livonia that Birmingham join it in asking the State Legislature and Senate to investigate the high prices of gasoline charged in Michigan, compared to gas prices in Ohio.

A hearing on mat and seal road improvements in Golfview Heights subdivision is scheduled.

Streets included in the program are: Arden Lane, Hillside, Fairway, and Golfview and Greenlawn Boulevards.

Frederick H. Morse

Frederick H. Morse, 166 W. Lincoln Ave., died Sunday in Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, after a long illness.

He was born in Port Huron, April 13, 1880 and was a retired manager of the Royal Typewriter Co. for Michigan. Mr. Morse was a member of St. John's Episcopal Church, Detroit.

Surviving are his wife Carolyn Morse; one son, Edson of Hudson, Ohio, and a daughter, Mrs. Don C. Miller of Birmingham.

Germans Mob Rally to Hear Graham

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP)—American evangelist Billy Graham addressed his largest revival meeting crowd in Germany last night—65,000, according to police estimates.

About 9,000 U.S. servicemen and their families were in the audience at the former Nazi party rally grounds here. At the conclusion of Graham's sermon, 6,000 persons — 1,200 Americans among them — stepped forward at his urging to make "decisions for Christ."

* * *

He told a news conference here that he had been invited by the Manhattan Protestant Council to conduct a "Crusade for Christ" in New York City and will discuss the project with the council when he returns to the United States next month. Graham said the New York crusade could not be scheduled before 1957.

Anti-Peron Leaders Freed by Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina today released 19 leaders of the Radical party who had been detained since the June 16 revolt against President Juan D. Peron's regime. Four other party members were still held.

Simultaneously, police at Eva Peron, in Buenos Aires province in eastern Argentina, announced the arrest of two persons identified as Communists and two Radical party members on charges of spreading rumors. The nature of the rumors was not disclosed.

The Radical party is the main opposition group, holding 14 of the 166 seats in the Chamber of Deputies. All the other seats are held by Peronistas.

Yesterday, for the second Sunday since the bloody revolt against the government, police furnished protection for thousands of Roman Catholics thronging churches in Buenos Aires. The worshipers knelt amid wreckage before improvised altars in churches damaged during the revolt and prayed for victims of the uprising.

Transmission Plant to Continue Striking

DETROIT (AP)—Wildcat strikers have voted for the second time to continue their walkout at General Motors' transmission plant in suburban Willow Run.

Despite pleas of CIO United Auto Workers officials, urging them to return to work, more than 1,000 wildcatters voted nine to one yesterday to continue their unauthorized strike.

And by a 514-367 vote, they turned down the national agreement signed with General Motors two weeks ago.

The five-day strike has idled 8,800 at the transmission plant. It was spearheaded by some 100 tool sharpeners dissatisfied with the national contract. Other workers refused to cross their picket lines.

Probe Red-Tinged California Camps

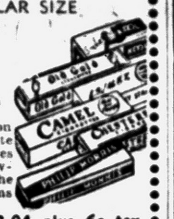

LOS ANGELES (IN) — Communist-tinged summer camps in California come under the scrutiny of the House subcommittee on un-American activities in Los Angeles today.

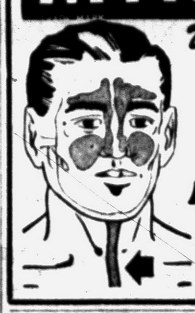

A secret nationwide investigation of the camps has been under way for two months. There reportedly are three such camps in California.

A 3-man subcommittee headed by Rep. Clyde Doyle (D-Calif) will spend five days digging into the operations of Reds and Red sympathizers who reportedly use summer camps to indoctrinate vacationing school children.

Loaded to Be Unloaded

ANNAPOLIS, Md, (UP) — It's illegal for a hunter in Maryland to carry a loaded gun when he is "loaded." Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin recently signed into law a General Assembly bill forbidding an intoxicated hunter from carrying a loaded firearm.

Suggests Cut in Travel Need

Better City Planning Offered as Answer to Traffic Problem

CHICAGO (AP) — A city planning engineer has suggested that 1-way cities might solve their mass transportation problem is to remove the need for so much travel.

Corwin R. Mocine, Oakland, Calif., engineer, said this might be accomplished in some cities by these steps:

1. Development of desirable residential areas near factories or other places where large numbers are employed.
2. Development for business and residential use of blighted lands on the perimeter of cities downtown districts.
3. Better functional organization of cities through which factories would be situated as close as possible to the supply of materials they process.

Mocine said detailed studies must precede any such moves to determine the exact transportation needs of a community.

In most cities, he said, the only critical transportation problem is during the peak rush hours.

If cities can find a way to reduce this load, he said, they could extend the life of their existing facilities 30 to 40 years before replacement would be needed.

Mocine spoke at a press seminar on "The Nation's Urban Transportation Crisis," sponsored by the Public Administration Clearing House.

Store Owner Collects, Burns Horror Comics

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — Basil Merenda has this sign in a window of his South Philadelphia food market:

"Free to every child: One coloring book for every three comics of crime or horror."

He figured that while a local committee on clean comics would fight to halt sale of publications listed as objectionable, he'd get rid of those already in the possession of neighborhood youngsters. He burns the comics turned in to

Corregidor Fortress Open to Tourists in Philippines

MANILA—The "Rock" has now been opened to tourists.

The "Rock" is Corregidor, the famous island fortress in Manila Bay, and its opening has created a major attraction for visitors, particularly for Americans who still remember the valiant five-month defense of Corregidor during World War II.

Both Corregidor and Bataan peninsula, scene of another heroic stand against the Japanese, were declared national shrines by the Philippine government recently and President Modesto Farolan of the Philippine Tourist and Travel Assn. reports progress on a program to make them more readily available to visitors.

Opening of these historic spots, Farolan said, will give impetus to a campaign to attract more tourists to the Philippines—a campaign based on the easing of travel restrictions and large-scale improvements in the quality of hotel accommodations.

The Manila Hotel, for example, is being renovated and completely air conditioned, and improvements are being made in the hotels at Tagaytay in Baguio operated by the same company.

RICH IN HISTORY

In addition to Corregidor and Bataan, the Manila area offers a number of historic and scenic attractions, including old Spanish Churches, water buffalo pulling plows in fields alongside modern highways and the picturesque lake country of Tagaytay and mountain scenery of Baguio.

The popular tourist spots in the capital are the Malacanan Palace where the president of the Philippines lives; Santo Thomas University, older even than Harvard, founded in 1611; the Spanish Walled City or Intramuros, now in ruins; Fort Santiago, an old dungeon built by the Spaniards and used by the Japanese as a prison; and Manila's Sports Center—Rizal Stadium.

A short drive out of the city, over highways maintained to American standards, is the breeze-swept Tagaytay Ridge, overlooking beautiful Lake Taal. Along the way, at the church in Las Pinas is the only bamboo organ in the world. Other interesting side trips out of Manila include visits to the Balara Filters, Pagsanjan Falls and Clark Air Force Base.

By air, Baguio is only one hour from the city. Because of the cool temperatures Baguio enjoys during the warm months, it has become the summer capital of the islands. North of there are the rich rice terraces in Banaue where whole fields and farms have been carved out of the mountainside.

Manila means good eating, too. Besides the hot spicy foods of the Orient and Indonesia, a restaurant on Dewey Boulevard, Max's, features some of the best fried chicken this side of Nashville.

Only 4 per cent of Brazil's people are over 60 years old.

Survivors of Desert Trip Describe 3-Day Ordeal

TWENTYNINE PALMS, Calif. (AP) — Murderous heat, drifting sands and shivering nights were a grim memory today for a survivor of a desert jeep ride that claimed two lives.

"It's the worst thing I've been through in 20 years on the desert," said Chester Bunker, 67, local real estate promoter. He recalled watching one man walk to his death and another die of exposure on the blistering desert when their jeep broke down on an outing last Wednesday.

He and three others set out in the jeep to inspect the Amazon Valley area, which Bunker described as "ripe for development." They carried water but no food for the half-day journey.

The jeep sank in drifting sand in Amazon Canyon, about 30 miles east of here, and the differential broke.

At nightfall, Calvert Wilson, 49, prominent southern California Democratic politician, set out on foot for the highway about 15 miles away.

His sun-blackened body was found by searchers two days later about five miles from the jeep, where he had died of exposure and thirst.

Bunker; James Thompson, 75, retired Joshua tree businessman; and Lyle W. Robertson, 49, local hardware store owner, remained closer to the jeep.

"We figured we had more chance of being seen on Cadiz Dry Lake and we did," Bunker said. "They tell us we walked about 5,000 yards."

Their water ran out the next day. The temperature hit 120 degrees. Bunker and Robertson lay on the desert and covered their heads with their shirts.

"But Thompson got away from us and started running in circles," Bunker said. He died a few hours later.

Thompson's body and the two survivors prostrate on the shimmering dry lake were spotted about 8:30 that morning by a civilian plane. A helicopter rushed Bunker and Robertson to a Needles hospital. They were later transferred to Twentynine Palms, which is about 120 miles east of Los Angeles.

Both are recovering and Bunker said he has learned one thing:

Probe Hollywood Communist Activity

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Another probe into alleged Communist activity in Hollywood and environs opens today before a three-man subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Rep. Clyde Doyle (D-Calif) is acting chairman of the group.

About 40 witnesses are expected to appear before the subcommittee in a five-day session, Counsel Frank Tavenner says. At least 14 have served notice they will not cooperate, relying on the protection of the Fifth Amendment.

The subcommittee also will question witnesses in San Diego July 6 and 7.

Woman Dentist Dies; Practiced 52 Years

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Dr. Fanny Z. Miner, 88, who claimed to be the oldest practicing woman dentist in the United States, died yesterday. She had been a dentist for 52 years.

Dr. Miner, born in Missouri, once said that the "painless extraction" was the "worst thing that had happened" to her profession, because people always preferred "a painless extraction to a painful filling."

Deaths Last Night

BRONXVILLE, N.Y.—Edwin A. Scott, 77, chairman and publisher of Scott-Choate Publications, which publishes trade magazines.

WAKEFIELD, Neb.—Frank Victor Turney, 48, weekly newspaper editor and publisher who invented an adjustable base for metal casts and cuts.

Davy Crockett Ignored as Thief Picks Marilyn

ROANOKE, Va. (AP)—The folks at a Roanoke theater don't know who stole their property Saturday night but they're pretty sure it was (1) male and (2) no child.

The stolen property was a seven-foot cardboard picture of Marilyn Monroe, skirts a-flying, which had been set in the lobby to advertise her newest film.

Good Thing He Isn't an Avid Beer Drinker

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Al Cristo turned on the cold water tap yesterday—and thereby possibly averted an explosion.

Instead of water, the faucet emitted a blast of live steam. He called firemen. They discovered that a hot water heater on the second floor had vaporized water in all lines in the house.

They turned off the heater and drained the pipes to remove the threat of explosion.

Registration Deadline July 2 for Fun Club

Deadline for registration in the Summer Fun Club, sponsored by the YMCA is July 2, it was announced today by George Balch, youth director.

Only 200 boys and girls can be accepted and it is advisable to register as soon as possible, Balch said.

Swimming, gym and handicraft will be included in program activities, from July 5 through Aug. 12.

Oakland Gets Gypped

We're practically ignored.

What's wrong?

There are eighty-three counties in Michigan. In population, we're the second largest by six country miles. Neither Kent nor Genesee is even close. Furthermore, we're the third largest county in square miles.

Also, we're probably the second largest in automotive traffic. And last, but far from least, we pay the second biggest gas tax.

Yet, what happens?

Ziegler awards us fourteen and a half million dollars out of one billion two hundred thirteen million. That is just about one per cent. Oakland has close to ten per cent of the State's population.

What's wrong?

Outside of Wayne, we believe the traffic is heavier in Oakland County than it is anywhere else in the state. We have the population right here and in addition, we're one of the main gateways to the north.

The Press has queried the Oakland County Road Commission. Lee Brooks has no explanation for the way Oakland has been treated. Perhaps Oakland has not been sufficiently well presented to the State officials.

At any rate, Mr. Brooks indicates that he will press the matter at once, and Senator William S. Broomfield asserts he is now gathering data to show State officials.

Can it be possible Oakland has been skipped to help the toll road?

Do State officials feel that if Oakland is by-passed, some of our overload will be cared for by outside parties?

Again we ask: "What's wrong?"

Clark Adams Named New Circuit Judge

Appointment of Clark J. Adams as Oakland County's fourth Circuit Court Judge should meet with widespread approval. Certainly Gov. Williams' choice of this well known and highly respected Waterford Township resident came as no surprise.

The fact that Judge Adams already had served as a justice of the Michigan Supreme Court, in addition to his years of service at Lansing in other State posts, made him a natural selection for the fourth Circuit Judgeship.

Clark Adams qualifies for this post on all counts. Not only is he a lifelong Democrat, and a practicing attorney of many years experience. He also is well and favorably known throughout Michigan as a result of his very considerable experience in State service.

But one of his most important qualifications is his fine judicial mind and temperament. This fits him to sit as a trial judge; to sift the conflicting charges, claims and objections of opposing attorneys, to weigh the evidence, to instruct jurors, and to do all the things a circuit judge must do to enable our courts to perform their very important role in a democratic society.

Governor Williams has made a fine appointment.

Heavyweight Division Reaching Lowest Point

According to our own private and unassailable authorities, heavyweight prize fighting has fallen to an especially low and unhappy estate.

Mr. Marciano is an unusually inept and bungling craftsman according to our soothsayer and is only atop the sour science because of a woeful dearth of opponents.

The fact that this Mr. Moore has been picked as the "most likely opponent" lends credence to our secret authority. Mr. Moore has reached the advanced age of 38, and fighting for the "championship", at this fantastic milestone simply means there's no one else around. The country side is barren.

There are no prospects.

Had Mr. Moore at 38 entered the ring against Joe Louis, Jack Johnson, Jim Corbett, Jack Dempsey, Jim Jeffries or many other champions when they were in their prime as Marciano is, Mr. Moore's head would have been bounding around among the customers in the eighth or tenth rows no later than the third round.

Whoever wins the dreary event in September will be a rosin curio—probably the saddest champ of them all.

The Man About Town

Local Recollections

Regarding Wilber Brucker, New Secretary of the Army

Income: What it is almost as difficult to live within as without.

largely center in his fight in the Grand Rapids convention of 1940. In one of the noisiest, most turbulent, vehement and vindictive meetings in Michigan's political history, he, almost single handedly set out to wrest control of the big Wayne County delegation from who had brought them to the convention on a special train. At first, the Oakland County delegation, under the guidance of such prominent local men as the late

Roy Annett,

was inclined toward Barnard, fearing patronage reprisals. They were loath to string along with Brucker, who at the age of 36 had been elected governor in 1930, defeating the Democrat nominee, only to be beaten by him for the same office in the Roosevelt landslide of 1932. Brucker's oratory won out, although the Wayne gang tried to hoot him down, and even threw chairs at him. The Barnard bunch, completely licked, left the convention and returned home on what since has been known in political annals as the "funeral train."

William A. Comstock,

A phone call from

of Bloomfield Hills, who drives 40,000 miles a year, mostly in Southeastern Michigan, says the advance dope on the billion dollar proposed highway improvements in the state indicates that this area, which foots most of the bill, is not to get a square deal. "The Mackinaw bridge," he says, "already has plenty of feeders, without building 200 miles of wider highways that is sorely needed where the traffic is heaviest."

What Is So Rare as a Day in June

David Lawrence Says:

U. S. Delays Attack News to Let Dulles Speak Mind

EN ROUTE FROM SAN FRANCISCO—There's a story going the rounds which tells far better than thousands of words of speeches and diplomatic notes just why there is to be a four-power conference in Geneva next month, and maybe another conference later, and then another as the Western diplomats seek to keep peace in the world.

It's a story that was told in the presence of Sir Winston Churchill and some members of the President's cabinet as they chatted over the breakfast table when the distinguished Briton last visited Washington as prime minister. It concerns some mythical Middle Eastern country, ruled by a shah and an unfortunate but ingenious prisoner who was discussing with his fellow prisoners—all about to be executed—some way by which he could escape having his head chopped off.

"If I could only get a reprieve for a single year," he said, "I would promise the Shah that in one year I would teach his favorite bull to fly."

"But," said one of the other prisoners, "the rest of us are to have a merciful death. It will all be over in an instant, while you—if you fail to teach the bull to fly—will die a thousand deaths under torture. So better not try it."

LOT CAN HAPPEN

"Oh, I don't know about that," replied the scheming prisoner. "Lots of things can happen in a year. In the first place, the Shah might die. In the second place, I might die. In the third place, the bull might die—and, perhaps who knows, maybe in a year's time, I might just possibly teach that bull to fly."

Time, patience, forbearance, the mysterious workings of public opinion on both sides of the Iron Curtain, and a determined effort to postpone, to defer, to keep local frictions and climaxes from reaching the stage of open hostilities in a big war—these are all part of the techniques and efforts, voluntary and involuntary, of Western diplomats nowadays to earn a reprieve of a year or more for the world.

Wars have come in the past as a consequence of what seems to be local incidents. No country wants to let such incidents, however aggravating, inflame public opinion. Twice now President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have exhibited this very kind of patience and restraint in handling attacks on American citizens in airplanes.

Now, in the last few days, when word came to the President that a Navy patrol plane had been fired on by Soviet planes near Alaska and far away from Russian territory, the news was suppressed for a few hours so that Secretary Dulles could make his address before the United Nations Assembly in San Francisco without having his words taken to mean something in connection with the incident which, of course, was not intended, as he had written the speech before he had any news about the airplane incident.

This was a fine sense of restraint, and it didn't impair the firmness with which Dulles a few hours later told Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov about the painful impression on American public opinion which the attack by the Russian fighter planes would make.

But the most significant aspect of the incident was Soviet Russia's prompt expression of regret and willingness to pay half the indemnity. This is subject to further discussion as to total liability, but it is interesting to note that, by a quick handling of the matter, the Soviets took it out of the realm of a crisis which could have affected adversely the four-power conference at Geneva.

SOVIETS RANKLING

The episode may have been deliberate, as Sen. Knowland conjectures. The Soviets are still rankling over the shooting down of some of their planes which ventured into South Korea recently. It may have been prompted, too, by a desire to satisfy domestic pressures inside Russia or to show a species of defiance of the Western fliers in that very ticklish situation in the Far East. But the world will note that what might have been a dangerous turn of affairs has been averted by the speedy and adroit action of the Soviet government.

Molotov traveled eastward by train, as did this correspondent. Maybe Molotov, who has made the journey both ways by train, will find that our good trains, with excellent food and all the comforts that are so noticeably absent on the socalled best trains of Europe, are a symbol of America's high standard of living which no American in his right mind would want to see disturbed by another war.

The Soviet foreign minister will discover perhaps that America's democracy and free-enterprise system have made possible the building up of the many wonderful cities he will have passed through on his trip, and dozens of other cities like them.

Maybe in the not-far-distant future the Russion people will come out of bondage. Maybe they will have performed the miracle—they may teach the "favorite bull" to fly. Then the world as a whole will have won a reprieve from the horrors of World War III.

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published unless the writer so requests, unless the matter is critical in its nature.

The great birthday celebration of this so wonderful set-up for peace, the U.N., has come and gone. According to reports everyone was very friendly, even Molotov.

Could there be a reason for the friendliness of this wolf in sheep's clothing? Are we, the great U.S., ever waking up before it's too late. But of course we want peace at any price. For God and Country.

Reader Warns People to Fight for Freedom

Our greatest danger comes from within. Too many people believe in fantastic socialist ideas. They believe that the Government should take over and run business.

This is only a stepping stone to Communism and dictatorship. That is where a few take over, live off the fat of the land and the great majority actually become slaves.

As a strong nation of believers in the freedom of the individual and in free enterprise we can take care of ourselves against the aggression of the dictators of slaves for one free man can take care of a hundred slaves. In unity there is strength but it must be the unity of free men, not slaves.

We should not stand for Socialistic and Communistic spies in our midst and actually holding government positions. They should be shown no mercy if they obtain power they will show none. We should not believe any of their fancy promises of security for all. We will only get security by working for and earning it.

Every true American must fight this danger that faces us. We must all awaken and fight for the grand American idea of freedom for all.

Manufacturer Should Help Keep Products in Repair

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER INS Economic Commentator

The philosophy of scientific management, guided by cost accounting, is to face up to realities, and not hide costs and problems by tucking them under the desk blotter.

In this spirit, one of the difficult problems, growing out of mass consumption of complicated comfort goods produced through quantity production techniques, is the problem of servicing. As machines become more complex in their engineering, servicing becomes more difficult.

The use of experts for servicing by upwards of 63,000,000 self-supporting Americans is rendered difficult and expensive by rising minimum wage rates, high service charges, and heavy labor costs, growing out of contemporary tax and social trends.

As an offset to skyrocketing costs, the typical American is developing the "do it yourself" habit. And this refers not only to the hobby of making things for household use, but also includes the less romantic role of servicing and maintaining old products made in factories.

SATURATION POINT

Recognizing that expensive servicing tends to create a saturation point, manufacturers have used their ingenuity to simplify installation of durable household products through merely plugging in a connection in an electric outlet.

But simple observation of the facts of life from coast to coast indicates that little business in the servicing end is having difficulty in keeping apace of the volume set by big manufacturing business.

If the roadblocks to continued progress are to be removed, then top management in manufacturing should take a fresh look at the whole servicing problem. It is not enough to stand on legal technicalities, and disavow responsibility for the methods, trade practices, and competency of independent firms, who do the selling and servicing of the manufacturer's products.

Since, under the American free-choice system, the customer is the kingpin, it would be more prudent in the long run for large companies to exert leadership in behalf of greater consideration for the customer than for extraneous matters, such as fixing re-sale prices.

MAKER'S DUTY

Whatever may be said for the economic soundness of fair trade laws, they are more controversial as to whether they are in the customer's interest than is the matter of prompt, efficient, and reasonable servicing of durable products.

In the final competition for customer loyalty and support, the manufacturer who stays with the customer all through the useful life of the product will win out. After the original sale has been completed, the manufacturer should not maintain a hands-off attitude and permit affiliated outsiders to exploit the customer.

The fact is that big business has multiplied many fold the opportunities for small businessmen. But it is time to look at the other side of the coin, and make sure that the little businessmen are adhering to high standards of efficiency, economics and ethics in dealing with the joint customers.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Bad Comic Books Don't Harm Children If Parents Create a Happy Environment

Judge Murhpy has "horse sense," so he doesn't try to make a national scapegoat out of comic books. But many parents pass the buck for their own poor home psychology by making a great fuss over comics. Even bad comics are only a minor influence on children if their parents rate average on the tests cited below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case 0-367: Judge Charles F. Murphy, of New York, has become the head of the Comics Magazine Assn., and his new job is to analyze comic books so that bad ones can be weeded out.

But Judge Murphy disagrees with those who think crime and horror comics have zoomed juvenile delinquency.

"Long before comic books we had young criminals," says Judge Murphy.

"Many factors contribute to delinquency, but in my opinion the greatest single cause is an unhappy home life.

"A happy home is one where the child is brought up with proper religious training. One where the child is taught to honor his parents and to respect authority.

"Being a parent is a 24-hour per day job. Some parents barely give it a 40-hour week!"

BUCK PASSING

Many parents nowadays are passing the buck. They blame comic books for their children's delinquency instead of facing the facts.

If father and mother play the game of marriage, as well as the game of parenthood, according to the rules, they can dismiss all worries about comic books.

In previous Case Records I have pointed out the same fact which Judge Murphy has so well expressed, namely, a good home environment far exceeds the influence of even bad comics.

Millions of adult Americans, too, have read detective stories and murder mysteries. They have even been the favorites of scientists, as well as presidents of the U.S.A.

DIME NOVELS

Yet we haven't banned murder mysteries! The parents of previous generations often thought the dime novels about "Dead-Eye-Dick" and "Nick Carter" were a terrible influence on youth. They weren't.

* * *

So it is wise to use more "horse sense" in modern America and not get unduly excited about comics, even of the less desirable sort.

Obviously, we psychologists prefer that children read good comics, but we don't grow alarmed even about bad comics, if the children have happy homes.

And if the homes are broken up by divorce, drunkenness, etc., then why blame the comics when the children thereof become delinquent.

TESTS FOR PARENTS

If you are good parents, you are active together in the same church.

You encourage fun at home, as by having a play room in your house or basement where the kids can entertain their friends.

You do not serve alcoholic beverages in your home or come home with liquor on your breath from imbibing elsewhere.

CHURCH STRESSED

You go with your children to Sunday school and church. You don't just send them there, while you lazily lie abed.

* * *

You play with your children and teach them to be at least average in common childhood sports, as baseball, swimming, football, etc.

You encourage your children to earn their spending money and don't place them on a "dole" which is what the "allowance" plan really is.

You encourage free and frank discussions at the table, and tutor them in advance regarding sexual matters, social etiquette, etc.

For further marks of excellent parents, send for my 200-point "Tests for Good Parents," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Use them at P-T-A meetings and even let your children rate you thereon, as Mrs. Crane and I let our 5 youngsters rate us, for you will stay on your toes thereafter and be more than 40-hour per week parents, as Judge Murphy so ably suggests.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Take Doc Brady's Advice and Sunburn in Comfort

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Sunburn can be painful, disfiguring and dangerous. It spoils many a vacation when the vacationist tries to get tanned in a hurry.

Blonds are more sensitive to sunlight than brunets. So if your skin is fair you should shorten the duration of exposure somewhat. If your complexion is dark you may safely lengthen the duration of exposure to direct sunlight in the first days of your vacation. if you choose to follow the schedule here outlined.

One who lives, works, studies or plays indoors should not forget to wear some suitable protection for the lips when exposed to strong sunlight, as when in bathing, on an outing in the mountains or at the beach or on the water boating or fishing. Lip sunburn is painful and slow to heal. To prevent it wear either heavy lipstick or zinc oxide ointment.

It is well to begin taking sunbaths daily in advance of vacation, in order to accustom your skin to exposure.

SCHEDULE

First Day. Between 11 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. expose only the legs from knees down and the arms from elbows down, for five minutes.

* * *

Second Day. Repeat that same exposure for five minutes, then expose the same areas for five minutes more plus arms from shoulders to elbows for five minutes.

Third Day. Repeat yesterday's exposure, but the legs and arms for 15 minutes, arms from elbows to shoulders for 10 minutes, front of thighs for 5 minutes.

Fourth Day. Repeat as on third day, but legs and arms 20 minutes, arms from elbows to shoulders 15 minutes, front of thighs 10 minutes, back 5 minutes.

LAST TWO DAYS

Fifth Day. Legs and arms 25 minutes, arms from elbows to thighs 15 minutes, back ten minutes, front of chest 5 minutes.

Sixth Day. As before, but each area 5 minutes more and finally for 5 minutes the face and neck taking care to wear dark lipstick and smoked glasses or dark ventilated sun goggles.

By the end of the week you should have enough tan to protect you against ordinary exposure.

Incidentally, it is absurd to imagine that anything you can apply to the skin will promote tanning and at the same time prevent sunburn. Only clothing, heavy salve or dark paint can prevent sunburn if the exposure is prolonged unduly and the skin will not tan if it is too well protected from sunlight.

One unaccustomed to exposure to the sun should remember that on the water, on a sandy or gravel beach, or even in the shade of a tree when the sun shines brightly, sunburn may still occur from the light reflected unless one carefully covers up.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Pitfalls Face West in Coming Big Four Talks

(Editor's Note: When President Eisenhower confers with the leaders of Russia, Britain and France in Geneva next month, it will be the first top-level East-West meeting since the Potsdam conference 10 years ago. What new ideas or plans do President Eisenhower, Premier Faure of France and Prime Minister Eden of Britain expect Soviet Premier Bulganin to produce? Are there dangers "at the summit"?)

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Soviet campaign to break or cripple the free world defensive alliance is expected to reach a peak at the "summit" meeting in Geneva on July 18.

United States and Allied leaders anticipate that the over-all objective of the Russians in Geneva will be to crack the alliance which so far has stood firm against all sorts of Soviet pressure.

The Allied leaders anticipate a two-front Russian offensive.

On one front they think the Reds will try to "choke the cat with cream" by offering enticing promises of security to any who will listen.

The other front will be an echo of the tough line sounded in San Francisco last Wednesday by Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who demanded abandonment of all U.S. overseas bases, cession of Formosa to Red China and withdrawal of all foreign troops from Germany.

Combined, the two fronts may be used to try to persuade Western peoples that they can have the goodies if they swallow the bitter pills first.

Two Soviet weapons are the concept of neutrality and the real and terrible free world dread of the hydrogen bomb.

U.S. officials said that the major propaganda effort of the Soviets today is to make free world peoples believe that neutrality offers the only hope for safety from the bomb.

Right now West Germany and Yugoslavia are two important Soviet targets. American experts believe the campaign for neutrality of those countries is long-range, pegged for success five or ten years from now. They also believe the stakes are so high that the time is worth it to the Russians.

NEUTRAL SHIFT

The reasoning is that if West Germany goes neutral France and Italy would almost certainly have to follow and then even Britain might be forced to fall in line.

That would leave each member of the present alliance of free nations alone and ripe for picking by the Soviet colossus which would be unchallengeable militarily if the free world alliance was dissolved.

A real nightmare for American leaders as they prepare for the meeting "at the summit" is this:

If the Soviet Union agrees to reasonable settlements of some current problems and appears to ease current tensions, how long will the people of the free world continue to bear the tremendous defense spending they now carry on their shoulders?

British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan recently warned in a New York speach that in the face of the new Soviet approach "there will be great temptation to relax our efforts." He said:

"I beg of you to help us to prevent our folk from being deluded into these specious snares."

An American official said he expects the Russians to appeal to West Europeans on three points. They are:

1. Your alternative is neutrality or oblivion.
2. Neutralization means lower budgets, lower taxes and better living.
3. Why would you need to bear the cost of NATO or have American troops in your country if your security is guaranteed by neutrality?

Arguments like those could be turned on Americans, too, he said, with some hope of success. He pointed out that until the Korean War began in 1950 the U.S. military budget was under 13 billion dollars but had to be jumped to 40 billion overnight.

Taipei Residents Cool to Most Safety Plans

TAIPEI (UP)—An American war movie, drawing capacity audiences to its seven daily showings in this Formosan capital, is far more popular than the Nationalist Chinese government's attempts to thin out this densely populated city in case of Communist air raids.

The government contends the city lacks enough underground bomb shelters to handle the approximately 650,000 Taipei dwellers.

Officials would like to see half the population dispersed to the countryside, but the man in the street has show no interest.

Taipei has more than doubled in size since 1949 when hundreds of thousands of Chinese fled here from the mainland with President Chiang Kai-shek's government.

Official Nationalist fears that the Communist soon will bomb this provisional capital seem to bore the average resident.

NO CURFEW

"I'll start moving when the first bomb falls," one said.

Taipei's paved streets are crowded from morning until late night with pedicabs, a three-wheel bicycle with a seat for two passengers, and American automobiles purchased by taxi companies from workers who imported them duty-free.

Unlike Seoul, Korea, another city within easy reach of Communist bombers, Taipei has no curfew laws shooing people into their houses at night.

The restaurants, tea houses, seamy night clubs and the popular pingpong rooms are supposed to close at midnight. Most do, but if customers linger, managers make "proper arrangements" with the police to remain open.

The Japanese, during their 50-year occupation of Formosa, built Taipei into a modern city of brick and concrete buildings. Neon lights have been added, winking invitations in Chinese and English to spend money.

Dancing is supposed to be outlawed by the strigent austerity program. But police tolerate dancing in clubs for foreigners, and Chinese couples flock to them in droves.

BAD AREA

A block of cheap, gaudy night clubs not far from the U. S. military assistance advisory group's headquarters are patronized largely by lonely American servicemen.

GI's buy black market American beer in clubs such as the Black Cat or Ciro's and dance with young hostesses squeezed into skin-tight Chinese dresses.

The prices are the equivalent of $1 at the legal exchange rate (about 50 cents black market) for one bottle of beer and $1.33 legal rate for one cup of tea, served at the rate of one every 20 minutes as part of the transaction for a hostess.

About 3,000 Americans, including families, live in Formosa, probably 90 per cent of them in Taipei. Most of them work for the military assistance group of the state department.

Their social life centers in the Officers' Club, the ornate Grand Hotel and the Friends of China Club, where visiting foreign newsmen live and work.

The Chinese most Americans meet here are from upper-crust government and professional circles. Many of them formerly were residents of cosmopolitan Shanghai.

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Damage was insignificant, but Bob Johnson insisted upon being charged with careless driving when his car bumped into another.

In traffic court two days later, Municipal Judge Johnson stepped down from his bench, pleaded guilty to the charge, was fined $10. Then he went back to work, listening with sympathetic ear to other people's troubles.

3 Bites Too Many

WINDSOR, Conn. (UP)—It was positively the last straw for John Movchuk, dog warden. For the third time within a few weeks, the same collie bit him as he was walking on a street. This time, Movchuk found the dog's owner and made him pay the doctor bill.

Bob Considine Says:

Bobo Needed Oxygen in Ring, Not in Corner

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing show—

Bobo Olson's handlers were indignant when the New York State Athletic Commission turned down their request that oxygen be administered to their man in his corner during the fight against Archie Moore.

But, looking back on it, it wouldn't have done Bobo any good. Where he needed the oxygen was in the middle of the ring, after 1:19 of the third round.

A new name goes up on the wall at the overseas press club's memorial press center her in New York—that of foreign correspondent John Graham Dowling, son of famed actor-producer Eddie Dowling and Comedienne Ray Dooley. Young Dowling was killed enroute to the fighting in Buenos Aires. He was working against time,, for Time magazine.

From Guadalcanal to New Guinea, to Leyte to France's war in Indo-China, Dowling was in the thick of things. Wars are superbly covered in our press because men like Dowling get to the heart of a conflict and others follow the perilous trail.

A man who weathered the Normandy landings, let us say, doesn't want to bow out with a story about the shortage of canned peanuts in the PX. He wants to go as Jack Singer of International News Service did—with a blazing eye-witness account of the sinking of a Japanese aircraft carrier, or he wants to say au revoir with a well-turned lead.

HIS EXIT LINE

Dowling leaves on a feature about the boom in Paraguayan coffee plantations but no roaming reporter could have wished for a better exit line than the way he began his last story:

"On the fringe of nowhere in the heart of South America, the Paraguayan town of Pedro Juan Caballero and the Brazilian town of Ponta Pora Doze in the green, rolling forests of the Amabay plateau, a broad, straight strip of grass between the red-roofed towns marks the international border. But they really form a single frontier community of bearded, mud-stained gauchos and Syrian merchants.

Tens of thousands saw Edward Steichen's collection of photographs of man from the womb to the tomb, an exhibit at New York's Museum of Modern Art which Capt. Steichen called "The Family of Man."

Judging from advance sales "the Family of Man" will become as much a part of the family library as the Bible.

U.S. amateur photographers have about 34 million cameras.

Wisconsin Scientist 'Fingerprints' Weather

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—A meteorologist at the University of Wisconsin has announced plans for "fingerprinting" weather.

Prof. Reid Bryson said "Operation Fingerprint" was begun to find a series of code numbers to apply to wavy pressure lines on weather maps.

As in crime deterction, the code numbers would be on hand to identify a recurrence of a particular type of weather.

The technique isn't new, but Bryson said the system never has been worked out fully.

Judge Won't Take 'But,' Autoist Gets Crew Cut

MINNEAPOLIS (UP)—Bruno V. Berg was told either to get a haircut or quit driving.

Berg was arrested after officers saw his car swerving from one side of the street to the other. When the arresting officers pulled up alongside his car, they saw Berg in the driver's seat combing his hair with both hands while his wife held the steering wheel.

Berg told the traffic court judge his hair kept falling in his eyes.

Bob Squirrel's Teeth to Help His Eating

COVINGTON, Ky. (UP) — A pet squirrel named Skippy is able to tackle even the hardest nuts again, thanks to his dentist. R. T. Bosley noticed Skippy was having trouble with his extra-long teeth and decided to do something about it. He took him to Dr. W. M. Hickman, his own dentist.

After a brief diagnosis, Dr. Hickman clipped the three offending teeth, evening Skippy's bite and improving his looks.

"Nothing to it," Dr. Hickman said. "Three of us held him in a towel to keep him from squirming. He took it very well."

Automobiles in Nation Increasing Every Year

DETROIT (UP) — If the highways seem a little crowded to you nowadays, it isn't your imagination.

There are a lot more cars there every year than the year before.

According to George P. Hitchings, economic analysis department manager of Ford Motor Company, the number of the cars on the highway in 1945 will have doubled in 1957.

The industry this year will turn out more cars in the first six months than it did in any 12 months of a pre-war year except in 1929 and 1941.

Madison Heights Cancels Recount of Charter Ballot Votes

Abusive Calls Flood Petitioner

Procedure Called Off by Voter; Hardship on Family Is Charged

MADISON HEIGHTS—A recount of votes in the June 7 Madison Heights charter election, scheduled for 9 a.m. Saturday, didn't come off.

Teddie R. Przybylski, voter who two weeks ago petitioned for the recount, asked that it be canceled.

Przybylski gave as the reason for the reversal of his demand for a recount, "pressure, and a flood of abusive telephone calls."

He said that "abusive" phone calls demanded that he "leave well enough alone." So many calls had come in that "I lost track of the number," Przybylski said.

WIFE UPSET

"My wife had twins a month ago, and the calls were causing hardship to our family and making her ill."

One ballot box in the June 7 voting had been left unsealed for 24 hours, according to a charge by the Madison Citizens League. Przybylski said he understood these votes had been voided, and claimed this might have effected the results of the election, in which the city charter was defeated by only 82 votes.

"I have been accused of trying to further myself politically," Przybylski stated. "My only reason for asking the recount was to see fair play."

The Madison Citizens League, which opposed Przybylski on the recount, has filed petitions with the Oakland County clerk asking for election of a new charter commission.

Wheat Farmers Vote for Price Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—By a decisive majority, the nation's wheat farmers have voted for tight controls on their next year's crop in return for a government-guaranteed price averaging $1.81 a bushel.

In doing so, the growers caused Secretary of Agriculture Benson to lay aside a proposal that they seek broader markets at home and abroad by offering the grain at considerably lower prices than would prevail otherwise.

Over 328,000 wheat farmers took part in an Agriculture Department referendum on the question Saturday. By a 77½ per cent majority, they voted to continue next year marketing quotas designed to hold wheat production at roughly 30 per cent below postwar peaks. This was well over the two-thirds approval required to put the quotas into effect on the 1956 crop. About one million wheat farmers were eligible to vote in the referendum.

The controls are designed to prevent the accumulation of still more surplus stocks of wheat.

The heavy support given quotas came as a surprise to many farm leaders because advance reports from various producing areas had indicated a closer vote. These reports stressed farmer dissatisfaction with sharp income reductions resulting from already-imposed cutbacks in wheat production.

There had been speculation too that farmers would vote against quotas as a way of registering disapproval of the Eisenhower administration's flexible support program under which Benson can set price props on most basic crops at between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, depending on the size of supplies.

Under the program adopted Saturday, growers will be allotted 55 million acres for the next year's wheat crop—the same as this year, but 30 million less than the peak. Farmers will be allowed to sell, free of penalty, wheat grown on their individual shares of the allotment.

The 1956 crop will be supported at 76 per cent of parity, or a national average of $1.81 a bushel under the new flexible price support system. This compares with 82½ per cent, or $2.06, for this year's crop and $2.20 for last year's crop, which was supported at 90 per cent of parity under the now-junked high, rigid support system.

Had growers rejected the 1956 quotas, the support price would have dropped to 50 per cent of parity, or about $1.19 a bushel.

Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Gronchi Bares Premier Choice

ROME (AP)—Antonio Segni, 64-year-old farmer, scholar and left-of-center Christian Democrat, has until Thursday to accept or reject an invitation to try to become Italy's seventh postwar premier.

He was asked last night by President Giovanni Gronchi to see if he could line up a new government. Segni said he would investigate the situation further before undertaking the task officially.

Following a procedure first used in 1953 by the late Alcide de Gasperi and former President Luigi Einaudi, Segni will talk with political leaders and explore the possibilities for a new Cabinet before being formally charged by Gronchi with formation of a government.

If he decides that his chances of finding a group of ministers to work with him are slim and declines Gronchi's bid, the President is expected to turn to Ezio Vanoni, budget minister in the outgoing Cabinet of Mario Scelba.

As he left the President last night, Segni said he hoped democratic parties would support him, indicating that, like Scelba, he would seek a coalition of the center parties — Social Democrats, Liberals and possibly Republicans — to give the Christian Democrats the marginal support they need in Parliament.

Chicago Officials Set to Welcome Molotov

CHICAGO (INS)—Officials of six Chicago institutions were ready to welcome Russian Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov who will arrive in the city today.

The diplomat, en route home from the United Nations' 10th anniversary commemorative session in San Francisco, was scheduled to arrive at the Chicago & Northwestern Station at noon aboard the Union Pacific streamliner City of San Francisco.

Molotov yesterday said he would like to see the sights in Chicago again. He had stopped off in the city en route to San Francisco.

The officials of the six institutions waiting to host Molotov are those at the Museum of Science and Industry, Chicago Natural History Museum, Chicago Academy of Science, Art Institute, Adler Planetarium and Shedd Aquarium.

Molotov will arrive in New York tomorrow and is booked to sail Wednesday on the Queen Elizabeth.

East Germans Making Pullman for Mao

BERLIN, (AP)—A West Berlin newspaper said today Communist East Germany is constructing a luxurious armored railroad car for Mao Tze-tung, President of Red China.

Der Abend said the gift from East German President Wilhelm Pieck will be equipped with bullet proof glass, two bedrooms, a bath, air conditioning, a telephone and a radio set.

'Peach Queen' Contest Begins

'Miss Romeo' Selection Scheduled Tomorrow in H. S. Auditorium

ROMEO—The first phase of the Michigan Peach Festival will begin with the selection of "Miss Romeo," in a contest to be staged at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Romeo High School auditorium.

"Miss Romeo" will compete for the title of "Michigan Peach Queen," August 9 with winners from four other counties. The peach queen will reign over the annual peach festival, Sept. 3-5, in Romeo.

Candidates in the "Miss Romeo" contest will be publicly interviewed before three out-of-town judges. Final decision will be based on personality, poise, beauty, and general appearance.

Gerald McLean, local attorney, will be master of ceremonies. Entertainment will also be offered as part of the contest program.

City Man Demands Exam on Charge of Forgery

Charged with forging a $25 check, Frank Durnen, 24, of 229 E. Walton Blvd., demanded examination when he was arraigned Saturday before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Durnen, accused of passing the check in a downtown grocery store, was arrested Saturday by Pontiac Police. He was being held at the Oakland County Jail under $100 bond pending examination Wednesday.

Britain Charges Athens Inciting Revolt in Cyprus

LONDON, (AP)—Britain protested to Greece today against an Athens radio broadcast which the Foreign Office said incited the people of Cyprus to revolt against British rule.

A British note delivered to the Foreign Ministry in Athens accused the Greeks of breaking past promises that they would control the broadcasts put out by the government radio.

MR. & MRS. JOHN L. JENKINS

Jenkins-Kibbe Nuptials Solemnized in Evening

An evening wedding in the First Baptist Church of Lake Orion recently united Dorice Ardine Kibbe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kibbe of Lake Orion, and John L. Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jenkins of Lake Orion.

The bride chose for the occasion a gown fashioned of Chantilly lace over bridal satin. The fitted bodice and pointed sleeves were of lace and her coronet secured a fingertip veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Bonnie Jenkins of Pontiac was matron of honor and Sharon Martin of Pontiac and Pat Kibbe of Flint, cousins of the bride, were bridesmaids.

Clyde Jenkins of Pontiac was best man, while Robert Kibbe Jr., and Buddy Jenkins, both of Lake Orion and Bob Sayre of Oxford acted as ushers.

Rev. Cheney, 67, of Disco, Dies

Long-Time Minister Expires in Hospital at Mount Clemens

ALMONT — The Rev. Herbert H Cheney, 67, of Disco, a minister in the area for over half a century, died Saturday in St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens, after a short illness.

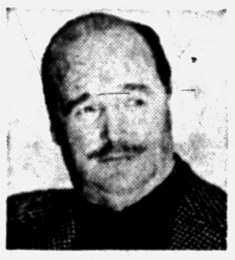

Rev. Cheney had served as pastor at Disco for the past three years and was pastor of Almont Baptpist Church from 1931-1934.

He was a past master of the Almont F&AM Lodge 51 and a member of Utica OES.

Surviving Rev. Cheney are a son, Gordon, of Tuscola; three daughters, Mrs. Katherine Horn, of Caseville; Mrs. Leona VanWagoner, of Tuscola, and Mrs. Nellie Price of Franklin; a brother, Claire, of North Branch, 10 grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Service will be held at Muir Brothers Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Tuesday, with Dr. Ray E. Wilson, pastor of Mt. Hope Methodist Church, Detroit, officiating. Burial will be in the West Burlington Cemetery near Silverwood, with members of the Almont Masonic lodge in charge of graveside service.

Silliman Evans, Publisher, Dies

Noted Newspaperman Called Key Political Figure in Tennessee

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Silliman Evans, the Nashville Tennessean president-publisher who was called a key political figure, was found dead in his bed yesterday, victim of a heart attack.

The body will be flown to Nashville tonight after resting at a funeral home here.

Evans, 61, died in his sleep Saturday night a few hours after attending the funeral of his old friend and former employer Amon G. Carter, publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, who died Thursday.

The crusading son of a crusading father, Evans rose from virtual obscurity to eminence in the newspaper world and a place of leadership not only in Tennessee politics but in the national Democratic party. He had suffered since World War I from a heart ailment, which caused his discharge from the Army.

Evans was the son of the Rev. Columbus Asbury and Alice Silliman Evans. It was from the father, friends said, that he probably inherited his crusading zeal. The father was an ardent prohibitionist. Evans, in his early days with Carter's Fort Worth newspaper, uncovered the highway scandal of the Ferguson administration which resulted in the election of Dan Moody as governor of Texas.

One of Evans' first political fights in Tennessee was against the administration of Gov. Gordon Browning, whom Evans successfully supported for the same office a decade later.

The newspaper under Evans' leadership also embarked on a long campaign for repeal of Tennessee's poll tax and battled successfully the political organization headed by the late E. H. Crump.

The Crump machine's defeat in 1948—its first in 20 years—led a state political writer to describe Evans as occupying "the No. 1 place in Tennessee politics." In that campaign Evans supported Browning for governor, Rep. Estes Kefauver for the U.S. Senate and President Truman for re-election.

He started in the newspaper business as a printer's devil (apprentice) at the age of 12 on the DeLeon (Tex.) Press, not far from Joshua, Tex., where he was born April 2, 1894.

When the bankrupt Nashville Tennessean was put up for sale in 1937, Evans scraped up the money to buy it. Under his generalship it became one of the South's most widely known dailies.

Seductive Korean Claims 70 Women

SEOUL (AP)—A Korean Don Juan boasted today that he seduced more than 70 women in 12 months.

He is lanky, handsome Pak In Soo, 25, who was dishonorably discharged last August for being AWOL from the South Korean Marine Corps.

Six women 20 or 21 years old sue him charging false promises of marriage. Pak denied that.

"There was mutual consent," he told a courtroom jammed with women.

Pak, whose trial is in recess, told reporters he used the routine on more than 70 women, mainly college girls.

Sunburn Pain Disappears Smooth Tan Emerges Without Peeling or Blistering

Science Discovers New Ointment That Instantly Stops Pain of Sunburn... Turns Redness Into Comfortable Tan

New York, N. Y. (Special): A leading research institution has discovered a new medical substance that instantly stops pain of sunburn . . . and prevents blistering or peeling, so angry redness may turn to handsome, comfortable tan.

Doctors know that sunburn affects skin just as any ordinary burn does. They also know the body needs oxygen for healing burns. The secret of this new substance is its astonishing ability to draw healing oxygen and nutrients directly from the bloodstream into the sunburned area. Thus, the sunburned skin heals completely and, except in unusual cases, smooth tan emerges.

This substance is known as Sperti® Ointment. Sperti Ointment does not sting or stain. It is now sold at all drugstores for 98¢ a large tube. Buy Sperti Ointment with the amazing guarantee that your sunburn will turn to a handsome tan, or your money is refunded.

CIO Steelmen Spurn New Offer

Officials Meet Today to Discuss Further Wage Hike Demands

PITTSBURGH (AP)—CIO United Steelworkers officials — spurning steel industry offers of 10 and 10½-cent hourly wage increases—meet today with the union Wage Policy Committee to chart future negotiations.

Inland Steel Co. submitted the 10½-cent offer yesterday. U.S. Steel Corp.'s 10-cent offer was given last Thursday. The union promptly rejected each offer. The Wage Policy Committee undoubtedly will uphold the rejection.

Union President David J. McDonald has notified 96 basic steel companies and iron ore mining firms the union wants a substantial wage increase. He has not stated any specific figure publicly. He says the union will strike at midnight Thursday if an agreement is not reached.

The union said it has received no offer from any other company.

Most of the firms, however, usually wait for U.S. Steel, the world's largest producer, to reach agreement and adopt those terms as a pattern.

U.S. Steel met with the union Saturday for nearly three hours. There was no indication the company made any move to improve the 10-cent offer.

The union's demand for wage hikes affects 600,000 union members in basic steel mills. They now earn an average of $2.33 an hour.

The wage talks are being conducted under a wage reopening clause in a two-year pact signed last year. The union cannot make demands for a guaranteed wage.

Smithy Concedes to Automobile Age

CHICAGO (AP)—The automobile age has caught up with Frank J. Hauser, suburban Hinsdale's blacksmith, and the shop he has operated for 54 years.

Hauser, 74, announced yesterday he is hanging up his leather apron for good and will spend his time tilling his truck garden and traveling.

Hinsdale's horsey set kept him in the horseshoeing business until 1948 and since then he has capitalized on the demand for wrought iron gadgets.

The smithy Hauser took over in 1901 will be razed to make way for an automobile parking lot.

Here's a Church Where the Plate Won't Be Passed

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Sam Gafford has a church and steeple but no people.

The one-armed maintenance man built Pentecost Powerhouse himself although he isn't a preacher and has no congregation.

Gafford, who mortgaged his home to pay for the $8,000 structure, started the project more than two years ago because he wanted a church free of the influence of money.

Gafford said his church will be "pure Pentecostal' and that a preacher will be called in if attendance warrants it.

There will be no collections except for special purposes, like helping somebody who is in trouble.

Girl Found Dead in Mental Hospital

SPADRA, Calif. (AP) — Sheriff's officers today investigated the strangling of a 10-year-old girl in a children's ward of the Pacific State Hospital for Mentaly Retarded last Saturday night.

A nurse found Linda Sue Kirk, a patient since 1949, with shoe laces tied around her throat.

Dr. George Tarjan, hospital medical director, said there are no adults in the ward and that the strangulation could not have been self-inflicted. Deputies theorized that the girl may have been strangled by another child in the ward.

Snowball Trade Booms as Children Use Booze

Several male customers were wading into the icy confection and several more were clamoring for service.

Mrs. Spurlock went to investigate. She found the children had disdained the conventional fruit syrups and were spiking the snowballs with two bottles of her best liqueurs.

The snowball business melted away after she rescued the remaining half bottle.

Candidate Gets Zero; Voted for Opponent

GRANARD, Ireland (AP) — John McGovern, an independent candidate in Town Council elections held over the weekend, didn't get a single vote—not even his own.

"I voted for the other chap," he said. "I thought it was the decent thing to do."

An editorial in the Dublin Mail offered the consolation that perhaps his popularty was such that almost everyone thought he would win and no one bothered to vote for him.

Would-Be Employer Flees Job Applicants

GREENSBRO, N.C. (AP)—Henry Brosius leaves by plane today for Iceland, as good a way as any to escape the hordes who want to follow him for fat-salaried jobs.

Brosius, a safety engineer, has been beseiged ever since the Greensboro Daily News carried his want ad for high-paid aides to help build Iceland air bases for NATO countries. He finally had to call on an employment agency to handle his dozens of applicants so he could finish packing.

Seeking Airman in 3 Slayings

Serviceman Seen With Murder Victims; Car Also Missing

DICKINSON, Tex. (AP)—An all-points alert for a tall, young 190-pound airman officers believe may have killed three persons here continued today after a California lead proved no good.

Inglewood, Calif., police last night discovered a car without licenses plates which they thought could be one believed driven by the suspect. But it proved to be an Inglewood-owned vehicle.

The airman, described as about 25, is wanted for questioning in the slayings of Mrs. Ruby C. McPherson, 44; her son George Richard McPherson, 12; and Mrs. Zola Norman, about 65, the mother of Mrs. McPherson.

All were found shot to death Saturday night in the pine-shaded McPherson home near the traffic-heavy Houston-Galveston Gulf Freeway.

Mrs. McPherson's 1953 automobile was missing, but police said nothing apparently had been taken from the home, and Texas Ranger Johnny Klevenhagen said there was no evidence of a sex crime.

Local and state police both said they could find no motive for the slayings, believed to have occurred late Wednesday or early Thursday.

Mrs. McPherson returned Wednesday afternoon from Sulphur, La., where her husband John M. McPherson Sr. and their elder son John Jr., 22, were working on an oil well project.

Two waitresses told investigators that Mrs. McPherson appeared at a restaurant Wednesday night with an airman she introduced as a friend of her son.

Both waitresses said the airman told them he was en route to California to visit his parents but did not say where in that state he lived.

14 Killed in Mine

GELSENKIRCHEN, Germany (AP)—Fourteen coal miners were killed yesterday by air pressure from an explosion 2,400 feet below the surface in the Nordstern diggings in the Ruhr. The blast occurred during dynamiting operations and caused collapse of the gallery in which the victims were working.

ONE AMONG MANY—Helen Humphreys of Hollywood, sole female undergraduate among 1,072 men in the University of Southern California's School of Engineering, prepares solution for chemistry laboratory experiment in Los Angeles.

Pope Says Unions Are Just Rights

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII told Roman railroad workers yesterday that no true Christian could oppose their uniting in strong organizations to defend their rights and improve their conditions of life.

"You are therefore acting fully in conformity with the church's social teaching when, by all means morally permissible, you vindicate your just rights," the pontiff said.

"We said—by all means morally permissible. It is unnecessary to remind you that acts of violence which damage the property and goods of others are not even contemplated by true Christians."

The railroadmen had massed in St. Peter's Basilica to receive the Pope's blessing.

Steeple Poses Problem

BOSTON (AP)—Plans to lower a new steeple on historical Old North Church with a helicopter have been abandoned as "too risky." Civil Aeronautics Authority investigators said there was not enough latitude for safety in the congested area if something went wrong. The old spire was toppled by a hurricane last year.

Daredevil Falls as Pole Breaks in Aerial Show

SHREWSBURY, Mass. (AP) — Aerial daredevil Herman Hoger, 32, of New York, was in serious condition today with injuries he suffered when the 65-foot pole on which he performs broke and toppled him onto a crowd.

He suffered two fractured feet and possible spine injuries.

Four spectators at White City amusemen park were injured, none seriously.

Working without a net, Hoger was attempting to perform a headstand on a unicycle on a three-foot-square platform atop the swaying pole.

From his hospital bed, he said: "I felt the pole sway more than usual. I went to the center of the pole but it kept swaying. I tried to slide down the pole. When I was about 10 feet down, the top 50 feet bent like a sapling."

The pole crashed into the crowd and Hoger fell about 55 feet. His wife, who assists him, stood helpless on the ground holding a useless pull rope.

There usually are two total eclipses of the sun every three years, visible someplace on earth.

Congenial Congress May Lack Issues

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said today Democrats in Congress are supporting so much of the Eisenhower program that "they may lack issues for next year's elections."

He said he has enjoyed "this very congenial session, and I'm not critical of Majority Leader Johns (D-Tex). He's my friend and has done a good job."

* * *

"But the Democrats have not created any major issues nor solidified any opposition groups to aid their presidential candidate next time, Mundt said in an interview.

"Their presidential candidate will have to brew his own campaign issues."

Silver is 10.5 times as heavy as water.

Bomber Crewmen Die

TRIER, Germany (AP) — Five members of a British bomber crew were killed yesterday when their plane collided with an American jet fighter during NATO air maneuvers near here. The American pilot was injured only slightly when he bailed out. No names were released.

IT'S A PSYCHOLOGICAL FACT: PLEASURE HELPS YOUR DISPOSITION

How's your disposition today?

FEELING SNAPPISH? That's only human when little irritations irk you. Cheer up! It's a psychological fact that pleasure helps your disposition! That means everyday pleasures, like smoking for instance, are important. And, if you're a smoker, then your wise choice in cigarettes should be the most pleasure-giving cigarette. Camel, of course!

For more pure pleasure _have a Camel

MORE people smoke Camels and get more pure pleasure from Camels than from any other cigarette! No other cigarette is so rich-tasting, yet so mild as Camel! So, the way to get the most possible pleasure is to smoke Camels! Remember: it's a psychological fact that pleasure helps your disposition. For more pure pleasure — have a Camel!

African Pastor Makes Own Breaks in Life

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Young Ndabaningi Sithole—born a pagan, bred in an African mud hut, nourished on witch doctor diets and destined to be an illiterate—walked in, wearing a neat navy suit and a shy smile.

"How do you do?" he said. "It's warm, isn't it? Thank the good Lord, it's warm."

This was the 34-year-old man from Southern Rhodesia who is every man's answer to the universal plaint which goes, "You've got to have the breaks."

For Ndabaningi (the name means "He Who Adventures") had none of the breaks at all—had never seen a white man, a car, a book until he was 10 years old—and today he is one of the brightest apprentice ministers in the U. S.

"It never occurred to me that I would ever read or write," he said, telling his story in perfect English, "until I was 15. Nobody I knew could do these things.

"Then while I was working as a kitchen boy in Shabani (a mining town in Rhodesia) I received a letter from my cousin who was five years my junior and I had to get someone to read it to me.

HE WAS ASHAMED

"This made me chagrined. He was five years my junior, and I was five years his senior, yet he could write and I could not even read. I decided to run away and get educated."

For a boy who had spent the first 12 years of his life wearing loin cloths, herding cattle for an illiterate father who was opposed to education, this was a bold move.

But he moved anyway, leaving eight brothers and sisters, and heading for the Dadaya Mission nearby where he was taken sympathetically in hand by the Rev. Garfield Todd, now Prime Minister of Southern Rhodesia.

It was no breeze, this business of learning, even under friendly guidance, because Ndabaningi had started late.

He also had the problem of overcoming old superstitions and habits ("I used to believe that inhaling the smoke from a burning goat's horn was what kept me healthy"), and he had to work at night in the mission dispensary to earn his tuition of $1.50 a year.

BUT HE LEARNED

But with wholly concentrated effort the boy was not only reading and writing in less than five years, he was also capable of teaching illiterates, at various small mission schools around his little country.

He also found time to be married and now has four children: Sipikellelo, meaning "Perseverance"; Dilgindelela, "Find the Way"; Zibonele, "See It for Yourself," and Sifio, "Wish."

"I thought I was serving my Lord while I was teaching," he remembers, "but all at once I realzed that this was only part-time serving and I owed him more than that."

So when Ndabaningi was 22, he took a course of Bible study and began preaching on Sundays at the British Methodist Church.

The next 10 years were spent teaching, preaching, learning, and "trying to summon the courage to come to America, where I knew I could really learn to preach well enough to convert my people—but which I feared.

"My wife thought, and I thought, that there would be much racial discrimination here among a land of white people, and that there would be no place to take refuge."

NO NEED TO HIDE

"I have not had to look for a hiding place after all, he grinned.

Ndabaningi is now preaching occasionally at small churches in New England and waiting for September, when he will enter the Andover Theological School and receive his bachelor of divinity degree in three years.

Then he will go home to his wife, his four children and his people, who still cling to the religion of the Amadlozi—meaning "departed spirits."

"They believe in a god. But they reach him through making sacrifices to the departed spirits of loved ones, in the time of trouble," he says.

"When I return and try to teach them a new way, I think I can be very useful. Not very popular perhaps," and his shy smile squared away, "but very useful."

The six New England states have 9,843 people in 66,608 square miles.

Dr. James M. McHugh, psychiatrist at Pontiac State Hospital, was a speaker at the meeting of the horticultural therapy group Friday at Devon Gables. Another speaker, Mrs. Eleanore McCurry OTR (second from left) is director of the Occupational Therapy Department at the hospital. They were photographed with members of the program Mrs. Mason Case of Rochester (second from right) and Mrs. William A. Hyland of Birmingham (right).

Members of the Pontiac Branch of the National Farm and Garden Association aiding with the horticultural therapy program at Pontiac State Hospital, attended the workshop-meeting held at Devon Gables Friday. Among them were (left to right) Mrs. Oscar Lundbeck of Chippewa road, Mrs. D. C. McKay of Franklin, Mrs. Standish Sibley of Oriole road and Mrs. A. Floyd Blakeslee of West Iroquois road.

Mrs. William H. Burlingame (left) organizer of the horticultural therapy program at Pontiac State Hospital points out some important features for discussion at the Friday meeting of the group held at Devon Gables. Among those participating in the discussions were Mrs. James R. Sanborn, Mrs. R. C. Banker and Mrs. H. C. Hall, all of Walnut Lake. They are members of the "Happy Gardeners' Club" which aids patients at the hospital in designing gardens.

Staff Members Explain

Program Brightens Life at Hospital

It was three years ago that the horticultural therapy program was begun at Pontiac State Hospital.

Organized by Mrs. William H. Burlingame, the volunteers (all members of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association) are sharing in the gratifying experience such a program affords.

These women take time to help others, and they are reaping rewards for this service. Their rewards come from the smiles of the patients from those who say, "My volunteer will be here today"

Their rewards also come from staff members such as Dr. James M. McHugh who spoke to them Friday when they gathered at Devon Gables to evaluate the program.

PRAISES VOLUNTEERS

In his talk to the volunteers, Dr. McHugh said that there is no doubt but that the volunteer horticultural therapy program has been, and continues to be an excellent adjunct to the total therapeutic program for the patients at Pontiac State Hospital.

This meeting, he said is significant in that a group of individuals from the community are meeting to decide how they might improve their methods of assisting patients who are seriously ill mentally.

"There is no question that horticultural therapy, working with plants of all kinds, is of value in a given program for patients who are emotionally disturbed," Dr. McHugh stated.

A second accomplishment, the psychiatrist said, is the promotion of cooperation by members of a group.

This, he said, is essential for the therapeutic success of anyone with mental illness.

Paying tribute to the volunteers, Dr. McHugh said a third accomplishment is the contact and identification by the patient of an interested member of the community.

This more than anything else, the psychiatrist declared, points out the essential fact that the community is not against nor hostile toward mental illness.

FIGURES SPEAK

Stressing the importance of community understanding, Dr. McHugh said that more than half of all hospital beds are for the mentally ill, and that one-seventh of the budget of the State of Michigan is devoted to mental illness.

In conclusion Dr. McHugh said that a fourth aspect is the reality displayed by the volunteer—that individuals in the community do not reject the patient in a mental hospital. "This program is an intelligent understanding of mental illness and an intelligent use of community resources," he said.

Also speaking at the meeting was Mrs. Eleanore McCurry, director of the Occupational Therapy Department at Pontiac State Hospital.

She discussed other volunteer programs throughout the hospital and told of the progress being made.

Discussing the growth, Mrs. McCurry said that it is heartwarming to note the improvement in patients participating in the program. There have been several, she said, who have shown dramatic improvement.

"This form of treatment," Mrs. McCurry said, "is often an opening wedge to enable patients to profit by further treatment — a sustaining factor in maintaining improved mental health in conjunction with medical treatment."

How to Act During Job Interview

Woman Graduate Asks Emily Post for Pointers

By EMILY POST

A young woman writes as follows: "I have just been graduated from college and intend to start looking for a job. As this will be my first experience along this line, I would very much appreciate any pointers you can give me as to how to conduct myself when being interviewed for a job."

Answer: First of all, be neat in your appearance. Clothes brushed shoes shined, hair neat. Nails must be clean. When you are asked a question, don't break in with your answer before your interviewer has finished the question.

Don't be flippant or slangy. State your qualifications briefly and truthfully. Wait to be asked to sit down and let your manner be straightforward.

Don't pretend to have experience when you do not, but say instead that you will do your best to learn. Tell a clear straight story and make it short.

The important point is not to be nervous. Don't imagine the man who is granting you an interview is an ogre. Remember employers are human beings, too.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Do you think it kind to stand aside for a much older woman to go first, or kinder not to draw attention to the difference in our ages?"

Answer: This depends upon how much difference there is. Certainly you would not stand aside for one only a few years older than you. But to stand aside for one who is of your mother's generation —or older—could not cause annoyance.

"Dear Mrs. Post: May brown and white shoes be worn with white flannel trousers and a blue coat at a wedding in the suburbs by the men in the wedding party?"

Answer: All white shoes would be best taste at a wedding. At other times, in the country, brown and white shoes are very smart with white or even gray flannel trousers and a blue or tweed coat.

Shake Those Duds

Shake clothes well before putting soiled clothes in washing machine or tub. It'll make the washing job easier.

MR. and MRS. WAYNE EDWIN LONG

Elaine L. Grennier Is Wed at Our Lady of the Lakes

A cascade bouquet of gardenias, carnations, stephanotis and ivy was carried by Elaine Lillian Grennier as she approached the altar of Our Lady of the Lakes Church in Waterford to become the bride of Wayne Edwin Long.

The bride's gown was fashioned of nylon tulle over satin with criss-crossed bodice of tulle. A redingote of Chantilly lace with scalloped edge and traditionally long sleeves was also worn by the bride.

A four tiered shoulder veil of nylon net was secured by a scalloped coronation crown of iridescent sequins and pearls. Her only jewelry was a pair of tiny pearl earrings.

The Rev. F. J. DeLaney performed the 12 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 300 guests. Mrs. Charleton Brown and Ralph Coin were soloists.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grennier of Mariva street and Wayne is the son of Mrs. Earl Long of South Telegraph road and the late Mr. Long.

ATTEND BRIDE

Helen Coffer attended the bride as maid of honor wearing a powder blue gown fashioned with tiered skirt of nylon tulle over taffeta and silk halter-neck bodice with matching shrug jacket. She wore a net picture hat matching the gown and carried pink feathered carnations in the form of a cross.

Mary Lou Kramp and Marjorie Porter were bridesmaids wearing ensembles like the maid of honor's in a shade of orchid. They carried cross shaped bouquets of deep purple feathered carnations.

Wendy Johnson wore a similar orchid dress for her duties as flower girl. Deep purple, white and orchid flowers formed the halo worn on her head and she carried an orchid basket of rose petals.

The bride's mother wore a cornflower blue lace dress with navy accessories and an orchid corsage. A blue gray cotton silk dress with navy accessories and an orchid corsage was worn by Mrs. Long.

She Changes Defeat Into Victory

BY ANNE HEYWOOD

"The do-it-yourself fad nearly ruined my home business" a woman writes me, "but with a little careful thought I was able to turn it to my advantage."

She goes on to say that she is in her late 40s, lives at home and takes care of her parents who are well on in years.

MOTHER IS CHIPPER

"The other children do chip in," she continued cheerfully, "but there is just barely enough money to get by on. Mother is quite healthy and chipper and does a lot of the housework, but Father is bedridden.

"I knew, years ago, that I would have to find something I could do at home, so that I could could keep an eye on them and still make a little money.

"Since I'm pretty handy with my needle and I do like decorating, I started making drapes and slipcovers to order.

"Customers came steadly; some of them as a result of an occasional ad, others were recommended by friends.

ORDERS FALL OFF

"But several years ago, my orders began falling off. Many of my customers learned to make their own covers. The patterns are so good today and it is easy to get instructions.

"For a while," she continued, "I was terribly upset; we really did need the money. But everywhere I turned, people were doing their own work. Not only were they coverning the furniture, they were also painting it!

"And that gave me an idea.

"Why not design a beautiful work smock, with big convenient pockets, but still attractive and becoming? Why not help people to protect their good clothes and still look pretty while they take part in the do-it-yourself trend?

"So I made some up, experimenting as I went along. I gave a few samples to some of my neighbors.

"If I say so myself," she concluded, "my work smocks are terribly attractive and they are selling like hotcakes.

"The prices are reasonable and the designs are unusual. And now that several shops stock them for me, it's all I can do to keep up with the demand. I'm making more money than I did in the past!"

Honeymooning in the Smoky Mountains and Williamsburg, Va., are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Walter Geiger who were married Friday. The bride is the former Nancy Ann Calhoun, daughter of the Eugene Calhouns of Spokane drive. He is the son of the Peter Geigers of West Walton boulevard.

MRS. RONALD WALTER GEIGER

Nancy A. Calhoun Is Wed

Central Methodist Church was the setting for the marriage of Nancy Ann Calhoun and Ronald Walter Geiger. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Calhoun and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Geiger of West Walton boulevard.

The eight o'clock candlelight ceremony was performed by Dr. Milton H. Bank in the presence of 300 guests.

The bride's gown was fashioned of nylon tulle with overdress of Chantilly lace. She wore lace mitts and a cap of the lace, embroidered with pearls, secured her veil of nylon tulle.

A cascade arrangement of white orchids, stephanotis and ivy was carried by the bride and she wore the bridegroom's gift of a single strand of pearls.

Barbara Calhoun attended her sister as maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Barbara Hunt and Carol Geiger, sister of the bridegroom.

They wore gowns of pale pink embroidered silk organza fashioned with long fitted bodices and bouffant skirts. Pink forget-me-nots were scattered over the tulle headpieces which held their veils.

They wore seed pearl necklaces and carried semi-cascade bouquets of white carnations, demure roses and ivy.

Peter Geiger came from Washington, D.C. to attend his brother as best man and seating the guests were John Geiger of Pontiac and Roy Midgley of Detroit.

A reception followed the Friday ceremony in the church parlors. The bride's mother wore a sky blue jacketed sheath dress of Chantilly lace and taffeta. Her accessories were pink.

Brunch Party Held for Church Society

Mrs. Howard Hall entertained the Ladies Aid Society of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church recently at a brunch party in her home on Detroit drive.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Percy Blynn, Mrs. Charles Shearer, Mrs. Ernal Lloyd and Mrs. Iva Vanderkay.

Nineteen members and two guests attended the affair. Mrs. D. M. Keefer gave devotions. The July meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Johnson.

Pudding Is Made Rich With Dates

Mrs. Guy Hackett's Treat Baked, Cooled and Cut in Squares

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Families with growing children usually include puddings in their list of favorite desserts. If yours is such a family, you may decide to add this Date Pudding to the list.

Mrs. Guy Hackett, a member of the Westside Extension group shares this recipe with us today. She describes her pudding as "very rich, but delicious."

An active member of the Ladies Guild of her church, Mrs. Hackett likes both indoor and outdoor hobbies. She enjoys sewing and is also fond of gardening.

DATE PUDDING
By Mrs. Guy Hackett

1 cup dates, cut fine
1 cup milk
1 cup sugar
½ cup nutmeats, cut up
1½ cup soft bread crumbs
2 teaspoons baking powder
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix all ingredients and stir until bread crumbs have soaked up the milk. Pour into greased shallow pan, about 8x8 inches. Bake in a moderate oven until brown and rather dry. Cool and cut in squares. Serve with whipped cream.

Fairway Golf Club Has 'Guest' Day and Picnic

Forty members and guests of the Fairway Golf Club gathered recently to play golf at Pontiac Country Club. Following the morning's activities an outdoor picnic was held at the Motorway drive home of Mrs. Earl Stevenson.

Card games and boating were enjoyed during the afternoon, and the birthday of Mrs. George Miller was celebrated.

Guests at the annual "Guest Day" were Mrs. Clinton Richards, Mrs. Russell Hoyt, Mrs. William Bull, Mrs. Mabel Miller and Mrs. Wade Dick.

Other guests were Mrs. Stanley Savage, Mrs. Russell Murett, Mrs. Michael Frank, Mrs. Leslie Hutchinson, Dorothy Baxter and Mrs. Sidney Baer.

Mrs. John Shoemaker was chairman for the day, assisted by Mrs. Quirinus Breen, Mrs. Robert Bradley, Mrs. Adrian Kempf, Mrs. Stevenson, Mrs. Glen Hickson and Mrs. Charles V. Barker.

Girl Can Help Her Beau Ward Off Teasing

BY ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Sometimes whe I talk with him he acts as though he's interested in me, and other times he seems cold and indifferent, He's very quiet—not shy or bashful, though, and doesn't like to be teased.

"Whenever anyone sees us together he gets teased about me and I know he doesn't like it. If it doesn't stop he'll stop liking me and being seen with me. He'll just plain avoid me and I don't want that.

"If anyone teases me I either ignore it or give back a bright remark, but I don't know what to do about someone teasing him. Please help me 'cause I don't want to lose him."

Answer: You've no trouble deflecting barbs that come your way. You admit that you either pretend they don't exist or you bat back a sharp crack that shows you're wide -awake. Why not do as much to protect this boy who dosen't seem to know how to cope with teasing?

Obviously, you can't pretend it isn't going on and convince him to ignore it. He has his own ears and his own reactions. But you can come to his rescue with some bright remarks that will take the sting out of the teasing and earn his undying gratitude.

Twist their cracks back at them to take the pressure off him. Remove him gently from the scene of action with some clucking talk that will make him feel you're in accord with him about their brainless persecution. But add just enough comment to make it clear that you don't take it seriously.

If you'll show him how to react to teasing, he may learn to defend himself. He should love you for that.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I like him very much and considered him my boy friend until lately. But a short time ago another boy invited me to a dance, and since I wasn't going steady I saw no harm in going with him.

"But it seems that my boy friend had planned to ask me but just never got around to it, so he was furious and he took another girl to the dance.

"He hardly speaks to me now and I like him so much and want to get our friendship back to normal again. Can you help me?"

Answer: His nose was very much out of joint because of that dance. He was disappointed in himself for not being quicker with his bid, jealous because you went with someone else, and dissatisfied over the evening he had for himself. But he paid you back, and you're even, though he may have too much pride to admit it.

So, why not come to his rescue with an apology for all the hurt you unwittingly caused him? It will give you a chance to talk things over.

You can say you're sorry he's cross, you miss him, and you wish he wouldn't stay mad. If you humbly tell him you've been punished enough, he may snap out of his fury.

MRS. RICHARD L. CORL

Bethany Baptist Church was the setting Saturday evening for the marriage of Helen Deloraine Cate and Richard L. Corl. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Cate of West Huron street and Mr. and Mrs. Cliden Corl of Elwell are the bridegroom's parents.

Newlyweds Motor South Following Church Rite

Motoring through the south to Houston, Texas where they will make their home are Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Corl.

The bride is the former Helen Deloraine Cate, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Cate of West Huron Street. Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cliden Corl of Elwell.

The Rev. Fred R. Tiffany performed the seven o'clock wedding ceremony Saturday evening at Bethany Baptist Church. The altar was decorated with palms, candelabra and beauty vases of white delphinium, pompons and gladioli.

A gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin was worn by Helen for her marriage. The bodice was fashioned with long pointed sleeves and the neckline was trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

The bouffant skirt was inserted in back with shirred nylon tulle which blended into the chapel length train.

WEARS PEARLS

A cap embellished with seed pearls and iridescent sequins secured her fingertip veil of illusion. She wore a single strand of pearls and carried a cascade arrangement of white roses, feathered carnations and stephanotis.

Mrs. Neil Ricketts was matron of honor and Gretchen Pearson of Detroit and Jean Ford of Flint, college roommates of the bride, were bridesmaids. Gail Beesley of Royal Oak, cousin of the bride was a junior bridesmaid.

The matron of honor wore a dark rose headpiece and shoes and the bridesmaids wore pearl trimmed headpieces. Their corsages of roses and feathered carnations matched their gowns.

The junior bridesmaid wore a white organdy dress over pink, fashioned after the dresses of the other attendants, with wide pink sash. She wore a headband of white daisies and pink roses and carried a nosegay of the same flowers.

Howard Cate, brother of the bride, was best man. Seating the guests were James Maxwell of Chicago, Ill., Paul Jankovsky and Thomas Cate, brother of the bride, who was a junior usher.

The new Mrs. Corl is a graduate of Michigan State Normal College where she was a member of Kappa Mu Delta sorority. Richard is a graduate of General Motors Institute of Technology and was a member of Phi Tau Alpha fraternity.

He is stationed in Houston with the U. S. Air Force.

Mrs. Carl Shindorf Heads VFW Auxiliary

Mrs. Carl Keller and Mrs. Leo Mineweaser were co-hostesses for the dinner.

Mrs. Carl Shindorf was elected president at the recent meeting and Mrs. Gladys Williams was elected secretary-treasurer.

MRS. ROBERT W. WRIGHT

Robert W. Wright claimed Marlyn Sherman as his bride Saturday evening at First Congregational Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Sherman of Cheltingham drive and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Wright of Lakeview avenue.

Marlyn Sherman Weds Robert Wright Saturday

A gown of imported organdy over taffeta was worn by Marlyn Sherman Saturday evening for her marriage to Robert W. Wright.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Sherman of Cheltingham drive and Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Wright of Lakeview avenue.

Embroidered organdy medallions and seed pearls trimmed the neckline of the bridal gown. The bouffant skirt extended into a cathedral length train.

WEARS DEEP PURPLE

The bridal gown and those worn by the attendants were designed and made by the bride's mother.

Virginia carried a nosegay of light pink roses and shattered carnations. The other attendants' bouquets were of a deeper shade of pink roses and shattered carnations.

Mrs. Sherman wore a cocktail length gown of blue silk organza with matching accessories and a corsage of pink rosettes with touches of white.

Mrs. Wright chose a cocktail length gown of pink lace with matching accessories. Her corsage was composed of garnet rosettes with white touches.

Hal Boyle Says:

Hawks, Not A-Bomb Spell Doom for Mice

NEW YORK (AP)—Once upon a time there were two little mice, and one was named Oswald—and he whispered to the other, "Harriet.'

When he called her name she heard it like the tinkling summons of a three - syllabeled bell. "Harriet,' he called, and she ran to the wire restraint of her laboratory cage. Across a small space she could see Oswald, running up and down his wire cage and sticking his eager pink muzle through at her.

She thought modestly, but still excited, that in all her born days she had never seen a mouse with quite such gay whiskers. Her heart rose and fell as Oswald's whiskers diti. She felt she must brush them or die.

All of a sudden Oswald and Harriet were plumped into a darkened case. They felt movement, hear the dull plod of feet in sand, and—

A miracle—light dawned—they saw each other again left alone in a strange house on a strange floor. They scurried to a corner as mice do, and looked around.

Why this was heaven. Food scattered around an no traps to worry about. The two little mice ran toward each other.

"Harriet!" cried Oswald, and each syllable was a bell tone. "I'll bet you can't gallop like a pony."

'Oh, yes I can,' 'she answered, blushing. And with no other word she held out her tiny paw, and he took her paw in his paw, and around and around they pranced like miniature ponies.

They swirled into the living room, and saw four gangling people—a father, mother and two children — sitting wide-eyed and silent on a sofa.

The two mice ran from them with quaking hearts and hid under a chair.

"Are they human?" asked Harriet. "They don't move."

"They can't be human," replied Oswald, "because there are four of them — and not one is complaining."

Actually, the four family figures were clothing store dummies. They and the mice had been put there for a purpose, but neither dummies nor mice knew why.

"Oh, Harriet," sighed her bell-toned lover, "let us dance like ponies again."

Her small warm paw crept back again into his paw. But just as they were ready to dance again together there was a sudden dull boom outside. The windows splintered around them, the ceiling caved in. Beams crashed down. Falling plaster raised a dust.

Harriet and Oswald scurried outside. A tremendous mushroom grew in the sky above them.

Swiftly behind the clearing atomic cloud moved in two circling hawks.

One hawk peeled off and dived as he engulfed her she cried weakly "Oswald! Oswald." And then the second hawk hit Oswald and the last sound she heard was him calling "Harriet! My Harriet." Then the tinkling ceased.

Above them the mushroom cloud sprawled higher in lazy power.

As it blew away the human engineers moved in to see what had happened to the test house. They had geiger counters to test the shattered dummies in the home, but none that could plumb the sky for the fate of Oswald and Harriet.

Moral: Beware of hawks.

STEPS TOWARD LIBERTY—1
Boston Tea Party

Many people who lived in the American colonies about 180 years ago were angry with the British government. It had passed laws the colonists thought were unfair.

These laws taxed the people and put British troops among them. The British policies hurt colonial business and the colonists were resentful. The best known thing the colonists did to show the British how they felt was the Boston Tea Party.

This is how it happened: The British tea company was having business trouble. So it sent shiploads of tea to the colonies. Even after paying the required tax the company sold its tea at lower prices than the tea merchants in the colonies could sell theirs.

Some of the resentful colonists decided upon a daring plan. They dressed themselves up like Indians and carried tomahawks. They rowed out to the English ships in Boston Harbor and went on board. Then they emptied 342 chests of tea in the bay. The raid took place on Dec. 16, 1773.

Up and down the coast the colonists got rid of the British tea or refused to use it. The British passed laws to punish the colonists for doing this. Before too long the Revolutionary War was being fought, the war in which the colonies won their independence from England.

This is the first picture and story in a week's series. Color each one as you like, clip out, and save as your own history of our forefathers' steps toward freedom.

Tomorrow: Patrick Henry's "Give me liberty" speech.

Red Korean Air Buildup Violates Armistice Rules

SEOUL (AP) — Communist North Korea has built up an air force of 580 planes — part jets — in violation of the armistice agreement, the Republic of Korea charged today.

The government said the North Korean Reds have three divisions of MIG15 jets, a fighter-bomber force, 15 air bases in operation and two more under construction.

The ROK statement attributed the figures to two North Korean air force pilots who fled the Communists last week.

The Communist Korean air force now has 500 pilots and 25,000 men — with more being trained in Red China by Russian advisers and more planes coming in by rail, the government statement charged.

At the time of the armistice North Korea had no air force in operation and no air bases that could be used for warplanes. The armistice forbids any stepup in forces over those in being on July 27, 1953 — the armistice date.

The two pilots, Capt. Lee Un Yong and Lt. Lee Eun Sung, fled from North Korea June 21 and landed their Russian-built Yak fighter at Seoul Airport. They were taken into custody by the ROK government. Today's statement was the first official account of the information they gave.

The government release said the two gave these details:

1. The North Korean air force has three air divisions of MIG15 jets, each with 92 planes, and a fighter-bomber force and other planes to bring it to the 580 total. It is constantly expanding.

2. The North Korean army, once shattered by the Allies, has been rebuilt into a 600,000-man force organized into 60 divisions in nine separate corps. At present, 21 divisions are at the front.

* * *

3. During the Korean War, both Russian and Chinese Communist pilots flew from Manchuria and not from North Korea. Russian pilots then flew as far as south of the Taedong River, which flows past Pyongyang.

* * *

4. North Korean pilots are being trained in China under Russian advisers in groups of from 40 to 80. Each man flies 150 hours in propeller engine planes and 300 hours in jets during the training course.

* * *

5. There are still more Chinese than North Korean Communist troops in North Korea, but the pilots did not know the exact number.

* * *

6. North Korean policy is to always say that the Allies are attacking or planning to attack the North but, actually, the North Koreans "are planning an offensive — not a defensive." Incidents in the demilitarized zone are played up as Allied violations and North Korean planes have orders to fire on Allied planes.

* * *

7. Little actual reconstruction has been done in North Korea, except for transport and industry vital to war. There are still no streetcars in Pyongyang, the capital, and citizens are told they don't need them "because all will have automobiles." Some Russian buses have been imported.

* * *

8. New motorized artillery has been brought in from Russia.

The two North Korean fliers, the government release said, "want to become ROK citizens."

The men were questioned by Dr. Hong Kee Karl, director of the ROK office of public information.

Russians Lack Our Industrial Potential

By JOHN H. MARTIN
(INS Foreign Director)

Who's ahead in air power—the United States or Soviet Russia?

The reason for this stormy controversy in Washington and elsewhere is that air power is now the key to American military superiority over the U.S.S.R., if the Americans have that superiority.

A few years ago the key was possession of atomic and hydrogen bombs. But if Moscow has those bombs in quantity now, as it apparently has, then a new key is involved. This is the capacity of planes to deliver the bomb and of planes to intercept enemy craft carrying the bomb.

Nobody knows just what Russia has, but the comments of Frederick B. Rentschler, chairman of the United Aircraft Corporation, are very interesting—and comforting — although he stresses there can be no relaxation, or place for "boastful optimism" on America's part.

Rentschler, a veteran of 30 years in the aircraft power plant field, recalled to a news group the other day the hubbub raised by some during the Korean War about the superiority of the Soviet MIG-15 fighter.

MIG WAS GOOD

Yet "our experience in Korea," he said, "proved that the Russian MIG-15 fighter was good, but not as good as our own North American F86 Sabre, and the combat records proved this."

"This country," says Rentschler, "is in far better position than it was in World War II.

"Engine excellence, not air frames, is the big thing. I think we are unmatched today and for ten years ahead. But naturally we cannot relax.

"I think that in Russia the thing that may catch up with them is lack of background, particularly on engines. We've been in business for 30 years, and have a team in being.

"Let's don't go crazy about Russia. Russia is not an industrial country. If war came how could Russia reach down in its pocket and produce the necessary stuff?

"Russia cannot buy machine tools. They used ours in the last war and flew our planes. Our machine tool industry is a going concern. You've got to sit down to make those tools.

"If we ever went to war with Russia it would not be one or two things that won. It would be industrial potential, air bases, machine tools.

"I cannot persuade myself that we are behind Russia in the overall aviation picture. All in all, we have not yet relinquished military leadership in the air.

America's 'First Lady of Courage' Is 75

World Hails Helen Keller Today

On her 75th birthday today, millions throughout the world pay tribute to blind, deaf and once-totally-mute Helen Keller. For more than 50 years of dedicated humanitarian service she has risen to such achievements as to justify Mark Twain's declaration "The two most interesting characters of the 19th century are Napoleon and Helen Keller."

More than 30 nationally prominent persons, including our two living ex-presidents, are on the birthday committee formed by the American Foundation for the Blind and the American Foundation for Overseas Blind to pay honor to their beloved counsellor.

Acting Mayor Abraham Stark of New York City and Gov. James Folsom of her native Alabama, have proclaimed today Helen Keller Day.

More than a dozen leading railroads, foreign and domestic airlines and steamship lines will salute Miss Keller with a special commemorative seal on menus and flight kits. The celebration will even pierce the Iron Curtain. More than two million copies of a special Helen Keller edition of "Free Hungary," a miniature magazine, will be dropped on that Communist country from giant plastic balloons by Free Europe Press. Her birthplace, "Ivy Green," at Tuscumbria, Ala., is now a permanent shrine.

Helen Keller was born there June 27, 1880, a normal child. At the age of 19 months, she was stricken by an illness that left her blind and deaf. She grew into childhood wild and unruly, unable to talk.

When she was seven, her parents sought advice from Alexander Graham Bell. Through him, 20-year-old Anne Sullivan, once blind herself, was brought in as a teacher for Helen. She straightened out the little hoyden, won her love and they were inseparable companions until "Teacher's" death in 1936. Helen learned quickly. She mastered the alphabet, both manual and Braille and developed facility in reading.

In 1904 she was graduated from Radcliffe College with a B. A., cum laude. Today she has honorary degrees from universities in the U. S., Europe and Africa. Her awards from foreign governments are too numerous to detail.

From her youth on, Miss Keller has devoted herself to work for her fellow-blind and deaf-blind throughout the world. Early in June she returned to the U. S. from a five-month, 40,000-mile trip through the Orient on behalf of the sightless.

Seven-year-old Helen Keller in 1887. It was then that "Teacher" came to help her overcome handicaps of body and spirit.

1926 brought Helen's first friendship with a President — Calvin Coolidge. She has known every president since then.

Miss Keller is thrilled to "see" President Eisenhower's smile at the White House. Her private world of touch, smell and vibration is fascinating. She loved President Roosevelt's strong features and "the great, wonderful dome" of Winston Churchill's forehead.

Helen Keller today. At 75, she is healthy, vigorous, serene — and angry at those who suggest it's time for her to retire.

Imported Foodstuffs Rising in Value; Now Pegged at $3.25 Billion Per Year

WASHINGTON (INS)—Since the turn of the century, the value of foodstuffs brought into the United States each year has increased from 250 million dollars to more than three billion 250 millions.

Despite this 1,200 per cent jump, foodstuffs have represented a fairly constant proportion of total U. S. imports, increasing over the period from 24 per cent to 31 per cent.

Only since World War II has the annual average value of imported foods exceeded one billion dollars, but there has been a steady increase during the decade.

Coffee is way out in front as the leading food import, outpacing sugar—the second place item—by more than three to one in value.

Nearly three billion pounds of coffee, valued at one and one-half billion dollars, are brought in every year. Brazil furnishes 43 per cent and Colombia 28 per cent, but Mexico, Salvador and Guatemala also are considered principal countries of supply.

CUBAN SUGAR

About four million tons of sugar are bought annually at a cost of 500 million dollars. Three-fourths of it comes from Cuba and the remainder of it from the Philippines.

Tropical goods not commercially grown in the United States make up more than half of all food imports. Principally, these are coffee, cocoa, bananas, tea and black pepper.

Foreign sources also supply the United States with 60 to 80 per cent of her olives, olive oil and lobster, 40 per cent of the tuna and 25 per cent of the shrimp.

80 PER CENT

These two categories—plus imports of whisky, pork, oats, beef, barley, cheese and wines — comprise 80 per cent of the value of all foodstuffs bought from other countries.

Imports of food also grown in this country are mainly of special varieties available only from foreign sources.

Canned corned beef from South America, for example, usually is of a superior grade which U.S. meat packers market in other forms. Pork is mainly canned ham; cheeses are special European varieties; beverages are Scotch whisky and French and Italian wines.

Commodity groups as proportions of total food imports rank as follows:

Meat products, 6 per cent; dairy products, .9 per cent; fish, shellfish and products, 5.9; grains, fodders and feeds, 6.4; vegetables and preparations, 1.7; fruits and preparations, 4.4; edible nuts and preparations, 1.7; cocoa, coffee, tea and spices, 53.5; sugar and related products, 14.5; beverages, 4.8; and others, .2.

Red China to Execute Nine 'Chiang Agents'

HONG KONG, (AP)—Nine "Chiang Kai-shek agents" have been sentenced to death on charges of spying and sabotage in Shantung and Shansi provinces, the official Communist New China News Agency reported today from Peiping.

Death sentences given 14 others were suspended for two years, or commuted to imprisonment ranging up to life.

The Reds charged the group of 23 passed on military, political and economic information to a Nationalist espionage organization in Hong Kong.

PRESSing Questions:

What Might Be Done to Reduce Accidents?

This week's 'PRESSing Question' is a matter of life and death.

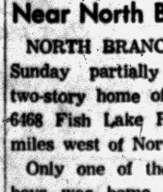

Most people are vaguely aware of having read somewhere that highway accidents take more lives and cost more money than wars.

But it doesn't seem to register. And the accident rate keeps rising steadily —

The Pontiac Press has taken a cross section of public opinion on what might be done to reduce the accident toll, especially on summer weekends when pleasure driving is at its peak. Here is what the man (and woman) on the street think:

Mrs. Carl Juengel, 2140 Rochester Road:

"If we could make more people stay home over the weekends it would relieve some of the traffic hazards, but of course that is impractical. If the public could be educated to drive a little slower and stay a reasonable distance behind the cars they are following I think that would be helpful. Paying more attention to weather and highway conditions would also help."

MRS. JUENGEL

John R. Marcin, 16260 Lauderdale, Birmingham:

"I think that a crackdown by police and stiffer fines that would make people realize that we mean business. I think we should put more police on duty and put them in cars which are very plainly marked. When a person sees a lot of police cars in a certain vicinity he is liable to be more careful. In my work at Pontiac Motor, we test the effect of collisions by driving cars up against concrete walls at various speeds. Our tests show that a head-on collision at 25 miles an hour is very likely to prove fatal to everyone in the car."

MARCIN

Mrs. Elaine Malone, 29 Liberty St.:

"If people were not in such a big hurry and would regard the speed limits, there would't be so many traffic accidents. Fast driving, as far as I am concerned, is the major cause of the great many accidents we have today. A little common sense would go a long way toward making our highways safer, as would an intensive public education campaign."

MRS. MALONE

Claude Campbell, 35 Taylor St.:

"I don't know what can be done except educate the public to drive more carefully. After all, it is squarely up to the motoring public. They are the ones that suffer if they don't drive safely. One of the glaring faults is the tendency to insist on the right-of-way, even at the risk of an accident. Another common mistake is passing on a hill. Speed is the big killer, but how can we get that across to the average driver?"

CAMPBELL

Mrs. Clarence E. Brown, 5605 Shore Dr.:

"We make it a practice to stay off the highways as much as we can over the weekends and one of the reasons is that the reckless driving habits of many people take the pleasure out of driving. If people would practice a little of the common courtesy on the highway that they show in their homes and also drive more carefully, I think that would help a lot."

MRS. BROWN

Fire Strikes Home Near North Branch

NORTH BRANCH—A fire early Sunday partially destroyed the two-story home of Lewis Lake at 6468 Fish Lake Rd., about three miles west of North Branch.

Only one of the younger Lake boys was home when the blaze broke out, and the origin of the fire was undetermined. Contents of the home were completely destroyed, Lake said. Damage has not been estimated.

U.S. Adds Two Refugee Ships

Gerety Urges Citizens to Sponsor Displaced Persons Transportation

WASHINGTON (INS)—The State Department is speeding up its lagging refugee program by putting two trans-Atlantic transports into service to bring 12,000 immigrants to the U.S. this year.

The department's new deputy refugee administrator, Pierce J. Gerety, also urged more U.S. Citizens to sponsor the refugees.

The department has blamed the slow movement of the program, designed to admit 209,000 immigrants to the U.S. by the end of the year, on the lack of individual sponsors who are required by law to guarantee a home and a job for the refugee.

The two ships are the Navy transport, Gen. W. C. Langfitt, and a still-to-be chartered vessel. The Langfitt is now en route to Bremerhaven, Germany, and is expected to leave for the U.S. on July 2 with 1,215 Germans and Austrians.

Latest immigration and naturalization service figures, dated June 17, show that only 25,524 immigrants have come into the U.S. under the refugee program.

However, the department said that more than 35,000 visas have been issued and about 1,000 are being handed out every week, a 50 per cent increase since the first of the year.

It said the two ships are needed "in order to meet the need for supplementary ocean transportation created by the steadily-increased volume of visa issuance under the refugee relief act."

Toddler Dies in Fall From Apartment Window

DETROIT (INS) — Robert Branner, 18 months, died in Providence Hospital last night of injuries suffered yesterday when he fell from a third story apartment window in Detroit.

The child's father, David, 23, told police another son, Daniel, 2, apparently unlocked a screen on a low bedroom window and Robert lost his balance.

Bistro Comedian Attacks Montreal's Mayor for Current Cleanup Drive

MONTREAL (AP)—It was 2 a.m., and the night club comedian was signing off.

"Now,' he cracked, "I'm going to say two dirty words: Jean Drapeau."

Drapeau, elected mayor on a cleanup ticket, chuckled when he heard about the incident. He had touched a nerve in his drive against law-breaking clubs in this Canadian metropolis.

"That remark is enough to identify both the type of club and the mayor," he said. "I'm happy because people know it's no 'front' we're putting up here. I'm very satisfied that it's in clubs of bad reputation that things like that are said."

For years many night clubs had ignored a 2 a.m. closing hour for weekdays. A few still do despite Drapeau's threats to cancel licenses. Several cases are pending in court.

Night clubs are just one of the problems professor-like Drapeau has taken on. Montrealers gave Drapeau a landslide mandate last October. He succeeded Camillion Houde, an easy-going, much-loved politician who held office 18 years.

Pacifique (Pax) Plante, Drapeau's law partner and long-time friend, became assistant director of police. He has been cracking down on gambling.

"Our teamwork is enduring," the mayor says with a smile. "Our mandate for reform is never forgotten. But just now the city's three main problems are housing, traffic and mass transportation.

"The problem of slum clearance —which should have been faced 25 years ago—is acute. We need family housing badly. There are more than 23,000 dwellings of 80-year vintage in 13 districts of Montreal.

"What we need is a general attack. Our first attempt must be a success—even financially, or it might lead to discouragement, and another do-nothing period."

To solve traffic and mass transportation bottlenecks, Drapeau pins his hopes on one-way throughways and possibly the monorail system of transport used in some German cities.

Pontiac Girl, 11, Sets New Mark for Pogo Stick

A young group of pogo stick fanciers report a new record for consecutive jumps was claimed over the weekend when Mary Lou McLaughlin, 11, mounted the contraption and bounded 2,207 times.

The feat was established Saturday at the home of Marjorie Rapaport, 10, 183 E. Iroquois Rd. Marjorie owns the pogo stick and counted the jumps.

"It took Mary Lou about a half hour to jump 2,207 times, then she had to rest and drink two glasses of water," Marjorie explained.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A teen-ager who advertised for a job got one that left her holding two babies for nine days.

They were left with the 15-year-old girl on June 16 by Mrs. Donna Whitson, 20, who offered Brenda $15 a week to sit with Leslie Ann, 18 months, and Lynn, 2 months.

Navy Undersea Plans Attacked

Sen. Byrd Questions Building of Obsolete Submarines for Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va) announced today he will ask that top naval officials be called soon to explain why the Navy still is building conventional submarines and not going all-out on atomic-powered undersea craft.

Byrd said he wanted the officials summoned before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

He said he was disappointed the 32-billion-dollar defense money bill carried funds for only five new atomic submarines while aos providing for four of the conventional type. The bill has been passed by both the House and Senate, but in somewhat different forms which must be adjusted.

The Navy already has one atomic sub, the Nautilus, afloat. A second, the Seawolf, is scheduled to be launched next month at Groton, Conn.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash), a member both of the Armed Services group and the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, predicted in a separate interview that Russia soon will be launching atomic-drive submarines of her own.

Jackson suggested the Russians may already have completed some craft of that advanced type and may be holding them back for surprise disclosure in numbers.

He said Russia already has more conventional submarines than the United States and is concentrating largely in that field.

Jackson said he has the impression the Navy is reluctant to proceed.

"It's the same old story,' he said. "The admirals wanted to keep on building battleships and it was not until after Pearl Harbor that the aircraft carrier really came into its own."

Sees No Fast Action on Social Secruity

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chances for early action on Democratic-sponsored changes in the social security system were dimmed yesterday by an announcement by Chairman Byrd (D-Va) that the Senate Finance Committee will insist on full hearings.

Byrd said the Finance Committee "isn't going to act hastily" on the proposals to expand benefits for older women and disabled persons. With Congress aiming for a July 30 adjournment, full hearings might result in delaying Senate action on social security changes until next year.

The proposals were advanced by Democratic leaders in the House and are being studied by the House Ways and Means Committee. Action there would precede Senate consideration of the measure.

Los Angeles Strike Grounds Thousands

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Transit Lines strike, affecting about a million riders, moved into its second week and police planned today to combat ever-increasing traffic problems in the downtown area.

Federal conciliator Harry Malcom called company and AFL union representatives into session with only slight hope of progress. He said he would welcome "any ideas to get the show back on the road."

The transit lines' offer of a 12-cent hourly raise within two years was defeated by union vote last Friday. Some 2,300 bus and streetcar operators are involved in the dispute. They want a 20-cent boost from the previous $1.91 per hour.

Chicagoan Grateful to Scrupulous Cop

CHICAGO (AP)—A dirty three-inch piece of bone found 100 feet from an accident scene may enable Harold Walat, 19, to recover completely from a serious leg injury in a motorcycle-truck collision.

Today, five days after the accident, doctors said Walat's leg is mending well. Had not the bone fragment been found, they said, the leg might have been shortened or Walat would have faced an expensive bone graft.

90 Ships in Antwerp Tied Up by Walkout

ANTWERP, Belgium (AP)—Twelve thousand Antwerp dockers went on strike this morning. Ninety ships are affected.

The dockers demanded revised unemployment indemnities and a pay increase. They want an extra 40 francs (80 cents) a shift, to bring the wage for a seven-hour day to 257 francs (5.14).

For Principle's Sake

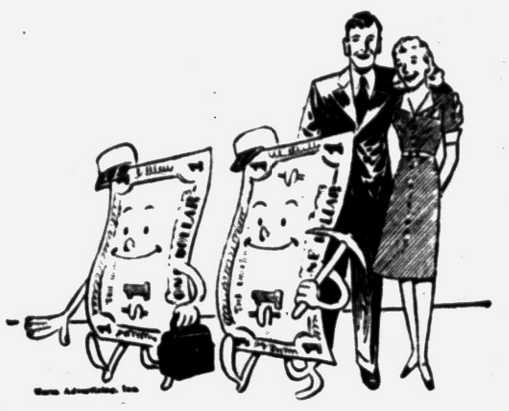

WATERBURY, Conn. (UP) — Told by a pair of armed bandits to hand over her money, Mrs. Max Fischer replied, "Shut up!" The bandits fled. Later she disclosed she wasn't carrying any money but balked because of the "principle of the thing."

Drawbridge Span Rolls Into New Location

The old span of the Southern Railroad was moved a short distance downriver to the new piers on a steel beam placed between old and new piers after the bridge was swung open. Rollers were placed under it and the bridge was freed from its old base. After rolling it to the new center pier, the workers swung it into position.

Senator Says Soviet 'Holds All Cards'

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said today the Soviet Union "holds all the real cards" in next month's discussions with the West on Germany.

He said administration foreign policy leaders have "overemphasized the tenuous relationship that now exists between West Germany and Western Europe and hypnotized themselves that this relationship will continue indefinitely."

If Russia really wants a neutral, reunified Germany, he said in an interview, Soviet leaders may well disclose at the Big Four summit conference an intent to advance these "attractive" propositions to West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer:

Invite him to "take over" Soviet East Germany; offer him Soviet-controlled territory now held by Poland and the Czechoslovakia Sudetenland, both of which Germany once controlled; and hold out a guarantee of trade concessions.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Mansfield said, served notice in his San Francisco speech two days ago that Russian leaders will demand the United States give up its air base system in Europe and Africa when the Big Four talks begin at Geneva July 18.

"This is the most significant portion of Molotov's speech," Mansfield said.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California, meanwhile, demanded that the United States refuse to discuss Far East tensions at any international meeting until all Americans held by Communist China are freed.

In a speech here last night, Knowland said "the Chinese Communists should be told that we will not permit them to use our men" in an attempt to extort gain from the United States, and he added:

"Both the United States and the U.N. should make it clear that before any discussions are entered into relative to tensions in the Pacific, all Americans, military and civilians, who are being illegally held should be freed."

In his only direct reference to the Geneva conference, Knowland said that in his judgment "there is nothing to foreclose our representatives . . . to raise any or all problems and issues of existing tensions." He did not explain how the United States could raise issues distasteful to Russia while refusing to discuss any Far Eastern issues.

The United States, Britain and France were reported prepared to discuss Far Eastern problems, provided Russia brings them to the conference table.

All Bedrooms of Future to Have Adjoining Baths

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UP) — The day is not too far off when the average home will have a bath with each bedroom, according to Arthur F. Weiskopf, president of the Illinois Master Plumbers Assn.

Weiskopf said 70 per cent of all American homes are now more than 20 years old, and most of them have only one bath.

"A single bath is now considered inadequate where two or more persons live under one roof," he said.

'Bonanzagram'

Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Pontiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. Solution will appear in the Press July 8.

CLAIM CHECK

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 17 is published Friday, July 8. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 17

Joan and Bill were way ahead of everyone else in the annual August Treasure Hunt. After many adventures, they reached the place where the last clue was supposed to be hidden—a curving beach, empty under the midnight moon. On the high chair where the lifeguard usually perched, they found the piece of paper they sought. Like the other clues, it was very tricky, with many of the letters left out to make it harder. After a good deal of argument, they managed to fill in the missing letters and succeeded in finding the treasure. Can you, too, decipher the clues and plot the way to the treasure?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story or anecdote accompanying the message itself and in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation will help solve the message but is not necessary to win.

All missing letters must be correctly inserted to win a Bonanzagram prize. Punctuation will not be considered in judging a correct answer.

When properly filled in the 'Bonanzagram' will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office 48 W. Huron St. until 5 p. m. Tuesday, July 5. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, July 5 for Bonanzagram No. 17. Address "Bonanzagram, %, Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

4. Copies of the Press need not be purchased to enter. Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and, if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person, he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." This letter must reach the Press not later than 5 p.m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

About Eligibility, Information, Etc.

1. Anyone is eligible for the "Bonanzagram" contest except employes of the Press and members of their immediate families. (Immediate family means all those living in an employe's household.)

2. No question as to winners will be answered by phone.

3. The Press will award a prize of $100 to the winner of each weekly Bonanzagram. If more than one winning answer is received, the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If no correct solution is received, the $100 will be added to the next week's prize. If the winner is a subscriber of record to the Press a $20 bonus will be added to the $100.

4. Only one winning entry from a family will be eligible for the prize, but there is no limit on number of entries.

5. The Press retains the right to correct typographical errors.

Cannon Employed in Aircraft Tests

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UP)—A 20-mm cannon is being used by the Convair division of General Dynamics Corp. to test the effect of rain on supersonic aircraft.

Convair said that various metals and shapes are tested under controlled rain conditions. The company said some materials survive only a few seconds at high speeds in rain.

A special nose on the cannon allows materials being tested to be fired through the rain for ¾ of a second. Speeds can be controlled up to 1,900 miles per hour, or Mach 2.5.

On the rear of each piece of test material is a tracer element which burns during the test.

This ignites a black power charge just after the material has passed through the rain and releases a small parachute. This lowers the tested material undamaged about 1,500 feet from the firing point.

Servants Getting Scarcer in Britain Since Last War

LONDON (INS) — The apron is moving steadily from the maid to the married male in Britain today.

Earls and bishops, judges and business executives, government officials and professional men are helping with the housework as the worsening servant problem changes the way of life of millions of Britons.

Less than a quarter of a century ago there were over 1,500,000 servants, resident and daily, in Britain. Today there are only a little over 400,000.

In the years preceding the last World War some half a million households had nearly 750,000 servants living under their roofs. Today less than 180,000 households share the nation's remaining 200,000 resident domestic servants, and the vast majority are one-servant households.

The position in regard to domestic servants who work on a daily basis is strikingly similar. Their numbers have declined in less than 25 years from 750,000 to about 200,000.

War, heavy taxation, social revolution and full employment have been responsible for this transformation in the British domestic scene.

The overwhelming majority of domestic servants in Britain have always been women. The war carried them into factories and offices and the regular hours, good working conditions, camaraderie and independence they enjoyed have made them reluctant to return to domestic service.

TAXES HEAVY

At the same time heavy taxation forced many of Britain's aristocrats and country gentry to close down parts of the big mansions which took up to 20 servants to keep going. Today only about 3,000 households have three or more servants.

The under parlormaid, the upstairs maid and the pantry girl have virtually disappeared because simultaneously with the closing of mansion wings more and more Britons have been moving into flats.

A generation ago women servants fell into nearly three dozen categories. Today there only half a dozen grades, ranging from cook-housekeeper and general maid to mother's help and daily woman. The categories for male servants have also dwindled. A footman is a rarity today. Households employing male servants in 1955 have either a butler or a houseman whose duties are legion.

Although fewer Britons can afford domestic servants the demand still greatly exceeds the supply. Advertisements for cooks mother's helps and daily women continue to appear regularly in the daily press and periodicals.

Deathly Impression

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP) — A Milwaukee mechanic gave a few people something to think about the other day as he rode through the city in a Cadillac hearse. The impression he made wouldn't have been quite so startling if he hadn't been lying on the casket table listening for a squeak in the rear of the hearse.

Vote to Continue London Dock Strike

LONDON, (AP)—Waterfront strikers voted today to continue their six-week docks walkout "to the bitter end."

The dockers' strike of 18,500 workers in Britain has tied up nearly 200 ships and millions of dollars in vital exports and imports. It has split the ranks of the union on strike.

One bright spot in the British labor picture was the weekend settlement of the 27-day-old unofficial seamen's strike in Liverpool and Southampton. It had cost the shipping companies more than 5½ million dollars and inconvenienced more than 15,000 transatlantic passengers at the height of the tourist season.

Vaudeville Showman Dies in Paris at 52

PARIS (AP)—Borrah Minnevitch, 52, leader of the Harmonica Rascals who played in vaudeville theaters throughout the United States, died yesterday of a cerebral hemmorrhage at the American hospital in suburban Neuilly.

Minnevitch was stricken while driving with his wife, the former Lucille Little Taylor. He had been living in Paris since 1947, producing films and operating a night club. His daughter Lydia lives in Los Angeles, Calif.

DSR Driver Robbed by Two Armed Bandits

DETROIT (INS) — Two armed bandits robbed a DSR driver last night and left him bound and gagged but the man struggled to his feet in time to catch the license number of the getaway car.

The driver, William Battenfield, 28, of Detroit, told police he was sitting in his bus at the end of the line when the pair boarded the bus and paid fares.

When the men saw the bus was empty one pulled out a nickel plated revolver and demanded the fares and bus tickets. Battenfield gave the bandits $90 in fares and $10 worth of bus tickets before the men bound him with his belt and a length of clothesline.

Wilson's Going to Miss Athens' Sidewalk Cafes

By EARL WILSON

ATHENS, Greece, Not Ohio—Maybe it's the rube in me, but I wish America could have sidewalk cafes where I could sit with my coffee watching the world passing by — where people would stop by and give me news.

★ ★ ★ ★

"How's Bernie Kamber?" he asked, referring to the N.Y. publicist who did such a colossal job for the picture "Marty."

COLUMN-IST

"I mentioned that Bernie had just put our son on a Pan-Am plane to join us in Rome. Then Mrs. Moisseiff told us a story—about a Hollywood star.

"We were in a bus," she said, "and I said, 'Oh, there's the Acropolis!'

"Do they have television here?" I inquired.

"I don't think Spyros Skouras"—the big boss of the company, who was born here and is the idol of all ambitious Greeks—"would let them have television in Greece!"

"What does the wine taste like in Greece?" I inquired.

"Like turpentine," I was told. It has resin in it and the morning after you notice that you have resin in your head.

Leo (Pancho) Carrillo told me this voyage that some of his TV kid fans have gotten wise to him. "We like you Pancho," one told him, "but you don't fool us—we know you're going around that same rock all the time!"

GOP Asks Revision of Jobless Pay Law

LANSING (AP)—Michigan Republicans have taken the lead in proposing amendment of the State Unemployment Compensation Law to make it fit the new wage plan negotiated between the CIO United Auto Workers and Ford and General Motors.

The Republican State Central Committee Saturday formally requested the Legislature to enact whatever changes are necessary to make the auto industry contracts meaningful.

Senator Edward Hutchinson R-Fennville) told the committee that the contract provisions for supplemental unemployment benefits would not go into effect until July 1, 1956, so that the Legislature could handle the changes when it meets next January.

He said Michigan law now forbids payment of state unemployment compensation to an idle worker who receives from other sources more than 50 per cent of his idleness benefits. This, Hutchinson said, apparently would rob some men of the full benefits of the wage contracts.

11,000 in Cleveland for Kiwanis Convention

CLEVELAND (INS)—More than 11,000 delegates and their wives were on hand today at the first full session of Kiwanis International's 40th annual convention in Cleveland.

The Kiwanians began converging on the city over the weekend. They arrived by nine special trains, a chartered ship, an assortment of planes, buses and cars, and came from every state in the nation, in addition to Alaska, Canada and Hawaii.

The delegates packed Public Hall last night for a twilight service, at which Dr. Reuben K. Youngdahl, pastor of Mount Olivet Lutheran Church in Minneapolis, was the main speaker.

Girl's Killer Loses Appeal on Verdict

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Bernard Schreiber, 18-year-old convicted killer of a Sylvania, Ohio, high school girl, today lost another round in his fight to save himself from the electric chair.

By a 2-1 decision, the Sixth District Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment of a common pleas court 3-judge panel which fiund Schreiber guilty of slaying Mary Jolene Friess last August.

Judges Amos L. Conn and Lehr Fess upheld the conviction. Judge Clyde L. Deeds dissented in a 5-page opinion in which he said that judicial investigation by common pleas court to determine Schreiber's sanity did not comply with Ohio law.

Schreiber's execution was first set for June 1 but was postponed until Aug. 1 to permit an appeal. His attorneys said today they will carry the case to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Driver Goes Berserk After Getting Ticket

DETROIT (INS)—A felonious assault warrant is to be sought against Norman Thomas of Detroit, who according to police yesterday went berserk and tried to run down 1 of 2 patrolmen who issued him a parking ticket.

Patrolman Jack Duggan, 24, said he had just finished ticketing the car when Thomas slipped behind the wheel and roared the vehicle into him. Duggan's partner, Raymond Maternowski, 24, seized Thomas but the angry driver broke free and slugged the prone Duggan.

Scramble Seen for Lead in Lawrence Biography

By DOROTHY MANNERS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The prize biography of the season "Gertrude Lawrence as "Mrs. A" goes to Paramount and producer Jack Rose and director Mel Shavelson should batten down the hatches against the onslaught of every top actress in the business wanting to play the fascinating Gertie.

Already in second spot on the national list o f non-fiction best sellers, Richard Aldrich's beautifully told story about his late wife as a great star and a great woman, has had enormous circulation. The British magazine, Woman, paid the highest price put down by a London magazine to reprint it.

Aldrich, now attached to the American embassy in Madrid, and recently remarried, isn't telling the price agent Fanny Holtzmann received from Paramount,—but you can bet it was pul-enty!

Anne Bancroft, coming up fast as a dramatic actress, ends an MGM search of two months for the right girl to play the Indian girl opposite Robert Taylor and Stewart Granger in "The Last Hunt."

With only six months of the year gone, Anne has scored in "New York Confidential" and "Last Frontier." An Italian by birth, she recently changed her name from Anne Italiano to the more American Bancroft. Incidentally, director Richard Brooks informs me that Anne Bancroft's mother is a full-blooded Cherokee.

Hollywood in shorts: Gary Crosby, 22-years old Saturday, celebrated his birthday in Las Vegas siting ringside listening to the other singers. It's his last vacation before his radio show starts July 3.

Ginger Rogers and Jacques Bergerac were with the Dean Martins at the Mocambo, Ginger looking all of sixteen and very, very slim again. (Beauty hint—she no smokee, no drinkee).

The social Ray Hommes were there, astounded to read in a columnist's copy from Istanbul (not Louella's) that he 'ran into the Hommes in the lobby of the Istanbul-Hilton Hotel.". Said Ray, "We haven't been any closer to Istanbul than the lobby of the Beverly Hills."

But the piece de resistance of the evening was Tallulah Bankhead, in lounging pajamas, (?) taking over for Joe E. Lewis on the bandstand! Oooooh, Tallulah!

Burkemo Waltzes to Open Title by Seven Strokes

ANN ARBOR — Wally Burkemo, showing the form that brought him the PGA crown two years ago, came from 5th place at the halfway mark to win the Michigan Open Golf tournament yesterday.

The Detroit pro added rounds of 70 and 67 to a pair of 1-under par 71's for a 279 total. He was seven shots ahead of his nearest rival, Max Evans, unattached Utica pro.

Mike Dietz of Indianwood, who led the first two rounds with 67-7., skidded to 77-74, and tied Bob Inman for fourth at 289. Another notch back at 290 were Chuck Kocsis, Tom Talkington, and 1951 champ John Barnum of Grand Rapids.

Defending champion Horton Smith had a 291. PGA champion Chick Harbert, pre-tourney favorite and four-time winner, never broke par with a 294 total.

"This was a big lift after what happened in San Francisco," Burkemo said yesterday referring to the National Open.

"I was hooking off the tee real bad in the National Open. So I made a change in my grip Monday, sliding my left hand around to the right. All of a sudden I started driving real good here," he said.

Pete Cooper of Knollwood, just one stroke back of Dietz after Friday's play, filed 74-76 Sunday to finish 9th on a 291 total. Emerick Kocsis was one shot back of Harbert at 295.

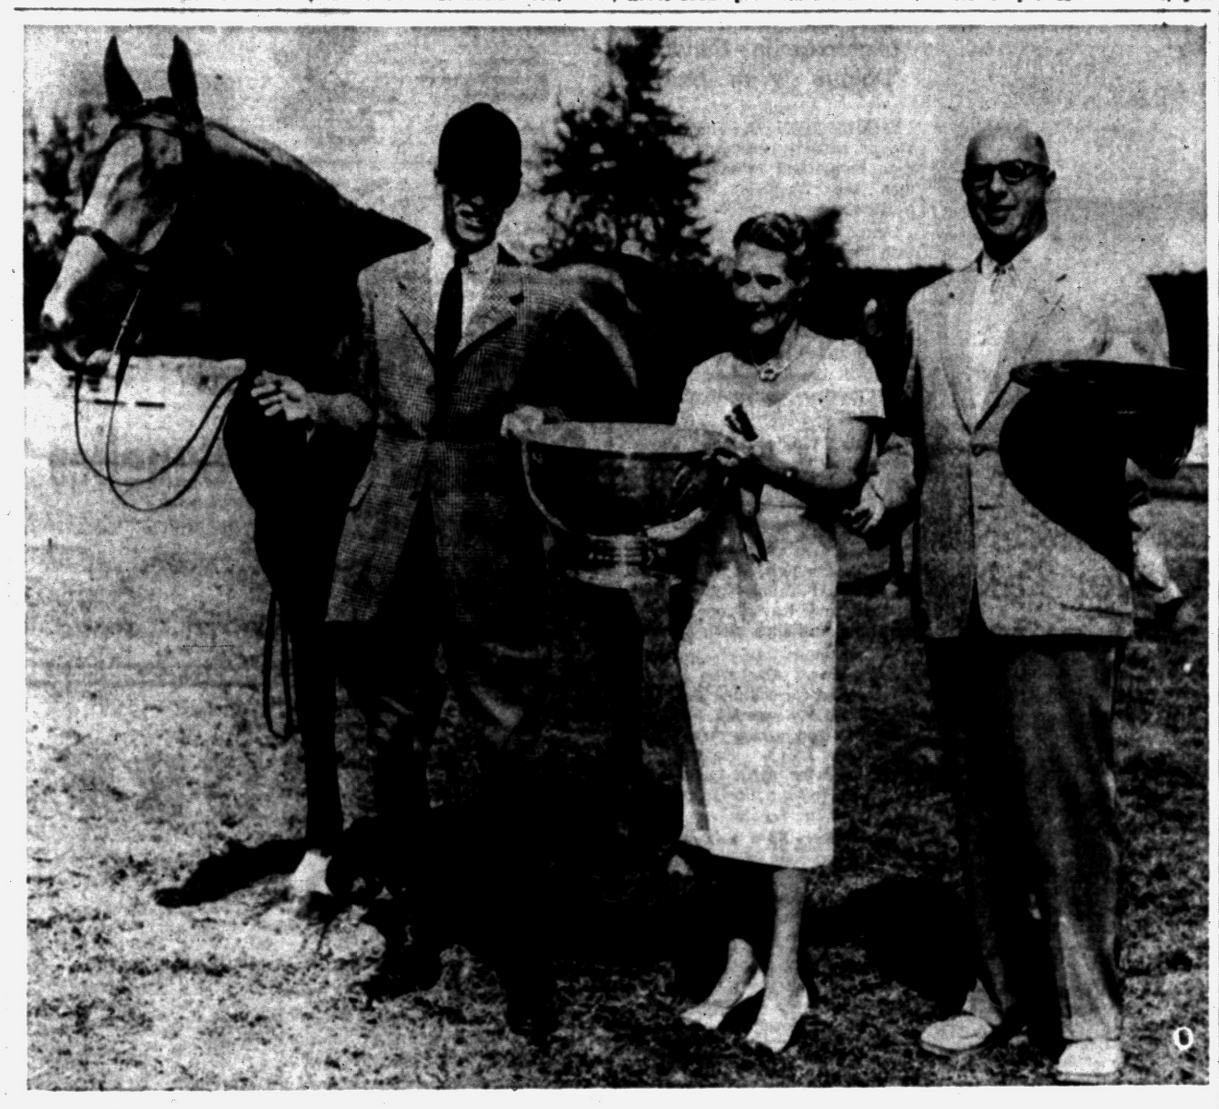

Among the other Oakland County area players' scores were amateur Dick Whiting of Red Run, 297; Gene Bone of Tam O'Shanter, 299; amateur Tom Draper of Red Run, 300; Bill Graham of Bloomfield Hills, 302; Larry Pentiuk, 304; Joe Watrous, 307; Warren Orlick of Tam O'Shanter, 308; and Ray Maguire of Birmingham CC, 311.

Dennehy Tops Show Honors

Dennehy, 24-year-old member of the 1952 U.S. Olympic Equestrian team, won the grand jumper championship on accumulated triumphs in the Midwest U.S.E.T. challenge trophy, the F.E.I. "big jumping" event, the Professional Horsemen's Association Trophy, and the knock-down-and-out sweepstakes.

Six other championships were claimed in Sunday's final events and winners were crowned in three $1,000 stake classes and two $500 stakes.

Spanish Fleet, owned by Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Motch of Keene, Virginia, won the $500 green working hunter stake, and another Motch horse, Thou Swell, took honors in the $500 green hunter stake.

Victoria Buchen of Grand Rapids, atop Lively Sal, took the junior hunter championship. She also won the Joan Coulson Memorial trophy for working hunters and the hunter appointments class.

Supreme Lady, owned by Patti Bugas, and ridden by sister Jani, both of Bloomfield Hills, won the junior jumper championship in addition to the Junior F.E.I. "big jumping" event.

Mrs. J. Dean Rucker of Grosse Pointe was the winner of the regular hunter championship after taking 1st place in the open hunters and middle and heavyweight hunters.

A record audience of 15,000 attended Sunday's wind-up. During the four days of the show a total of 42,500 spectators viewed the proceedings, according to Charles E. Carey, vice-president in charge of admissions.

Middlecoff's Hot 63 Wins Western Open by 2 Shots

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Dr. Cary Middlecoff headed for his Memphis, Tenn., home today for a three-week rest after pocketing the $2,400 top money in the 52nd annual Western Open here.

The golfing dentist came from behind with a dramatic 29-34—63 in the final round Sunday to overtake Mike Souchak, husky Durham, N.C., pro, who had led him by four strokes after 54 holes.

Middlecoff, at 272, was 16 strokes under par for the four-day, 72-hole event.

Middlecoff, a Mississippi University alumnus playing out of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., tied the Portland Golf Club course's 18-hole record as he clubbed out nine birdies.

Souchak, an ex-Duke University football player, battled hard to catch Middlecoff after he ended the first nine holes in 34 to find that the dentist was one stroke ahead of him.

But the powerful Souchak's approaches and putts were not sharp enough. He finished with 34-35—69 for a total of 274.

Middlecoff's final-round score tied a Portland Golf Club course record set by Ben Hogan in 1945 and equaled by Jim Ferrier in 1946.

The handsome Memphis pro launched his assault on the fast, straight 6,604 yard par-72 layout at the third hole. There, he got his first birdie with a long approach shot and an 18-inch putt.

At the end of nine he was six under par. That's when most of the crowd estimated at 5,000 switched from other favorites such as Sam Snead and Souchak to swell Middlecoff's gallery and cheer him on.

He birdied three of the first eight final holes. Then at the 18th, on which he had suffered over-par experiences in two earlier rounds, Middlecoff played it safe to get a par 5.

Middlecoff, who won the recent Masters at Augusta, Ga., said his next tournament will be at Milwaukee, Wis., in three weeks.

Snead disappointed his usual big gallery by taking a 74 to wind up in a tie with five others for 10th at 283.

Fifth place and $1,000 went to Julius Boros, Mid Pines, N., with 276.

Coachers Win Pair in State Baseball Loop

Keating, Hruska Pitch Weekend Victories Over Dearborn Nine

General Motors handed Dearborn a 6-3 thumping in a Michigan State Baseball League game Sunday afternoon at Wisner Field to complete a weekend sweep of a double-header with the Dearborn nine. The Coachers nosed out Dearborn, 4-3, Saturday night on the latter's diamond.

GMC lashed out with a 13-hit attack yesterday in support of Dan Keating's 8-hit pitching. Two singles and an in-between stolen base broke the scoring ice in the 3rd inning to pave the way for the Coachers' five-run outburst in the 6th. GMC batted around in the hefty inning, making six hits, all singles.

In the meanwhile Keating was setting the opposition down with consistency. He struck out eight, walked six, and hit one. His poorest inning was the 4th when three singles and a brace of errors netted Dearborn two runs.

Jack Hruska hurled Saturday night's game at Dearborn, limiting the losers to five hits. Dearborn collected four of them in the 1st stanza when all of its three runs were made.

GMC hacked away at the deficit until the score was 3-3 entering the 9th. "Boots" Krings singled, moved to 2nd on a fielder's choice, stole 3rd and scored, the winning run on catcher Al Barkeley's single.

Jimmy Bryan Victor in Langhorne 100-Miler

Bryan successfully defended his championship Sunday at the Langhorne Speedway when he covered the 100 miles in 62:40.71, finishing about 10 seconds ahead of Bob Sweikert, winner if the classic Indianapolis 500 mile race.

Weighs Money Offers

Fleck Wants to Keep Playing Tourney Golf

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Fleck, a golfing nonentity until he won the U.S. Open a week ago, still was weighing a bagful of money making offers today—but he's sure of only one thing:

He wants to get back to the tournament circuit.

"I've had all sorts of financial offers," he said as he took a breather between television appearances. "I have had inducements from factories, from shirt and hat manufacturers, and I even had a proposition to invest in a table on wheels.

"But I want to stay in golf and I will. I want to get back to the game as soon as possible."

The 32-year-old Davenport, Iowa, professional, who beat Ben Hogan in a playoff for the title after shooting an 87 in a practice round, said he would like to play in as many tournaments as possible.

"Right now, though," he added, "I'm not quite sure what my schedule will be except the Professional Golfers Assn. Championship in Detroit starting July 20. The promoters in San Francisco (site of the Open) told me I'd be forgotten next year and that I should retire and make investments. But I'm still young and physically fit, so I'll continue playing."

Was he nervous facing the old master, Hogan, in a playoff after tieing him at the end of the regulation tournament?

"Well," he smiled, "I had eight hours sleep the night before the playoff and eight hours every night of the tournament. Otherwise, I don't think I'd have made it."

What happened when President Eisenhower was looking for him the day after he won the coveted crown:?

"I just had my breakfast and went off on a little sightseeing," he related. "But when I returned I was told that I was a hard man to find. That the President would like to talk to me. And so I was whisked off by the secret service.

"The President made me feel at home right away and I told him that my experience in meeting him couldn't happen anywhere except in the United States. I have been invited back to the White House on July 11. That's my only set commitment."

Wimbledon Win Might Move Trabert to Pros

Tony Playing Well and Would Likely Listen to Money Offers

WIMBELDON, England (AP)—This could be a golden week for the globe-trotting Tony Trabert from Cincinnati, Ohio, as just three matches against a handful of the world's premier tennis artists separate him from a title which is almost a prerequisite for turning professional.

Last year a cluster of blisters on his racquet hand ended his chances of pulling off the title. This year he's feeling fine, no blisters bother him and he's playing well enough to win the Wimbledon title. The title would surely lead to tempting offers to join the ranks of the play-for-pay boys.

Trabert, who so far hasn't lost a set in the three matches he's played, has said often he wouldn't look down his nose at any offer.

If Trabert does win, he'll help keep alive a postwar Wimbledon tradition — each year since the tournament restarted in 1946, there's been a new name on the title cup.

Jaroslav Drobny, the Czech who turned Egyptian and now lives in Britain, is the current titleholder. He wanted to turn professional back in 1951, but he didn't even make the quarter-finals that year.

Since the war three men who won the Wimbledon have gone on and turned pro. Yvon Petra of France, winner in 1946 did it. So did Jack Kramer of the U.S., the following year. Last to do it was Frank Sedgeman, who won for Australia in 1952. Two winner—Bob Falkenberg and Ted Schroeder — didn't come back the next year to defend their titles. Budge Patty, the Los Angeles artist who lives in Paris, Dick Savitt, Orange, N. J., and Vic Seixas, Philadelphia, all came back, but couldn't make the grade the next time.

Patty and Drobny are trying again this year. Seixas tried, but was knocked out in the second round last week by Gil Shea of Los Angeles.

Brooks Victor in Race Feature

Takes 50-Lap Event at Speedway as Fair Misses Chance

Felix Brooks won the 50-lap feature race of Sunday's old model stock car racing program at the Pontiac Speedway. He covered the distance in 19 minutes, 59.94 seconds.

Wayne Bennett was 2nd and Dale Priest, 3rd. Joy Fair, who had won the pursuit and a heat race, missed a chance for a clean sweep of honors when his car threw a wheel while he was leading the feature.

Fair also posted the best qualifying time in a fast (for old models) 20.09 seconds. Two "powder puff" events were held for the women drivers with Gladys Hood winning both.

Rochester Club Slips by Clawson to Take Over Slim Lead in 18th District Legion Junior Loop

Rochester held a slim lead in the 18th District American Legion junior baseball league following Sunday's action in the Oakland County circuit which also saw Waterford dump Birmingham from the lead and Berkley win its 3rd straight game.

Rochester slipped by Clawson, 7-5, in 10 innings for its 3rd win in 4 games, while Waterford spilled Birmingham, 5-1. The Waterford record is 2-1 and the 1st and 2nd place teams have played a tie against each other.

Birmingham stands at 4-2 now, just a half-game ahead of Berkley, which dropped its 1st 2 games by forfeit, but has come along fast. Huron Valley bowed to Berkley Sunday in the 9th inning, 7-6.

Herb Duncan pitched 3-hit ball for Berkley, but still was trailing 6-5 until his mates came up with a 2-run rally in the last of the 9th to make "Berkley Day" a success. Duncan whiffed 19 batters.

Jerry Kruskie was the pacesetter in Waterford's 5-1 win over Birmingham. He pitched a 5-hitter, struck out 10, and collected 2 doubles and a single at the plate. Doubles by Kruskie and Leroy Nicholas and Ran Beedle's single gave Waterford a 2-0 lead in the 2nd.

Each team talled in the 5th, but the winners put it away with 2 runs in the 7th on a walk, Kruskie's double, an error and Jack Swindeman's single.

Clawson wiped out a 4-1 Rochester lead in their game and the teams went into the 10th inning led, 5-5, but Jack McDaniels settled the issue for Rochester by belting a 2-run homer. Bill Henderson was tagged for 12 hits, but was the winner.

Hawaii-California in 15 Days

Twin-Hulled Sailing Craft of Ancient Design Challenging Orthodox Vessels

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Orthodox ocean racing yachts today were challenged by the skipper of a strange, twin-hulled sailing craft of ancient Polynesian design that skimmed from Hawaii to California in a surprising 15 days.

Before the Saturday night arrival of the Waikiki Surf, a craft patterned after those built hundreds of years ago by Pacific island natives, the Coast Guard estimated the trip would take her 26 days against the prevailing winds.

Skipper Ernie Nowell, 33, a Honolulu hotelman, and the four other crew members sailed the $20,000 boat, called a catamaran, here seeking to enter the trans-Pacific yacht race back to Hawaii starting July 4.

"We feel we can beat anything in the race," Nowell said. "Our 'cat' attains speeds of 25 to 30 knots at times and we are sure that with favorable weather we can beat the best yachts in the race by many days."

Nowell conceded there may be difficulty in having the catamaran accepted and assigned a handicap because the conventional standards of weight and sail area would be hard to apply. But even if the Waikiki Surf isn't formally accepted for competition, Nowell declared, the 'cat' would race with the yachts anyway.

The Waikiki Surf carries 1,500 square feet of sail. Designer Rudy Choy, 31, a crew member, said she weighs only 1½ tons, has a draft of just 20 inches and because of the light weight almost skims the water like a giant surf board.

The two hulls are of plywood covered with fiber glass. A platform ties them together. On it is a low cabin with a double bunk and below the deck are two double bunks, galley, lavatory and storage space. The craft has a 13-foot beam.

"The distance across is 2,200 miles," Nowell said, "but we actually sailed 3,000 miles looking for favorable winds. We encountered head winds much of the time, struck calms twice and storms twice."

With Nowell and Choy were Woody Brown, 40, who built the Waikiki Surf; Richard Muirhead, 24, navigator who is on leave from the Coast Guard; and Wally Froiseth, 36, an inspector with the Honolulu Fire Department.

Kell Tops AL 3rd Base List

CHICAGO (AP)—George Kell of the Chicago White Sox took the lead among American League third basemen today in the All-Star Baseball Poll.

Kell passed Jim Finigan of the Kansas City Athletics by 11,715 votes. The balloting ends Friday midnight and final returns will be announced next Monday.

The contest is to determine the starting lineups for the 22nd annual All-Star game which will be played at Milwaukee July 12.

BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams sidelined for three days with an aching back, was left home today as the Boston Red Sox flew to Pittsburgh for an exhibition game tonight with the Pirates.

The big slugger, who missed the Red Sox four-game series with the Chicago White Sox, said he is hopeful of returning to the lineup in Washington tomorrow.

Trainer Jack Fadden said Williams felt better after heat treatments yesterday, and added: "I anticipate him playing Tuesday."

Jewelers Upset by Motors Nine

General Motors produced the prime upset of the city league softball season Sunday night at Beaudette Park by blanking Shaw's Jewelers, 1-0.

On the rebound after three straight losses, the Coachers pushed across a lone tally in the 4th inning and made it stick to hand Shaw's its 1st setback of the year.

Doug Hall and Lynus Grant shared pitching duties for GMC. Grant taking over in the 6th stanza to get Hall out of a jam. Hall received credit for the victory. Cleil (Mutt) Morse went the distance for Shaw's.

Both teams managed to garner only five hits, but the Coachers made one of theirs count. Fay Douglas reached 1st on an error, took 2nd on a sacrifice, reached 3rd on another miscue and scored the clincher on a safety by catcher Jerry Dennis.

In other games last night, the Knights of Columbus nosed out Ashland Flying Octane, 5-4, also at Beaudette. Giles Realty spanked Shaw's gigis, 11-1, at North Side Park, and defeated Gingellville, 7-0, on a forfeit.

Frick Pleased With Response to Questions

Prolonged Games Seem to Be Major Gripe About Big League Baseball

NEW YORK (AP)—Commissioner Ford Frick is extremely pleased with the response his office is getting to questionnaires inviting the country's fans and sports writers to tell him how baseball can be improved.

"We are getting a fine response from every quarter," he said today, "and from what I've seen I think there are going to be some big surprises when the final result is tallied. I believe the club owners will profit from it."

Without elaborating on the surprises in store, he seemed to make it clear as he went along that he was hearing a great deal about the length of today's big league games. Or perhaps it was only that we drew him out on the subject, it being this long-suffering critic's pet peeve.

"Of course they are running too long," he said. "Everybody must know it by this time. What you say about the managers slowing things down with all their pitching changes is true, but the pitchers and batters are just as guilty. Too many pitchers won't come in there with that ball, which is what they're out there to do, and the batters keep stepping out of the box just as the pitchers finally start their delivery.

"If I had any say about the playing rules, which I don't, I think I would make it so that a batter steps out at his own peril once he takes his stance. If a strike came over after he stepped out, that's what it would be.

"I think we've lost something in having the bullpens clear out in the country the way they are in most parks now. It seems to take a pitcher an hour to walk in. Most bullpens used to be close to the stands where you could watch them warming up, and I always liked that."

Walled Lake Angler Takes Lead in Fishing Contest

Young Charles Knechtel's leadership in the bass division of the annual Pontiac Press "Big Fish Derby" was short-lived. Knechtel, who showed his catch Thursday, held the lead one day.

Jim Shivas, 7600 Honeysuckle, Walled Lake, route 5, reported to the Press sports department Friday a 5-pound, 12-ounce large-mouth bass to become the new leader.

Shivas nabbed the big specimen last week in Reed Lake while fishing with William McCool, his next-door neighbor. He employed a spinning rod and hula popper bait. The fish was 22 inches long.

Another Oakland County youth entered a bass Friday, but found out he was shy of the mark. Don Gibbs, 2332 Fordham, Keego Harbor, turned in a large-mouth weighing 5 pounds, 5 ounces.

The 16-year-old Gibbs caught the fish in a private lake near Upper Straits. He was angling with his father, Clyde Gibbs, and a cousin, Doug Hallett of Farmington.

The Pontiac Press "Big Fish Derby" awards $50 U. S. Savings Bonds to Oakland County fishermen landing the heaviest catch in bass, pike, and bluegill divisions. Contest ends Labor Day.

Rangers in Squeaker

Win Opener but Drop Nightcap in Sunday's 'Double' With Nats

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Detroit Tigers looked westward to Chicago today and to sterner stuff than the 7th-place Washington Nationals.

Detroit ended a four-game series with the Nats yesterday, splitting a double-header 6-4 and 4-12. The nightcap defeat was Detroit's only loss of the series. It left them with a 5-7 won-lost mark on the Eastern leg of their long road trip.

They'll meet Chicago, Kansas and Cleveland before they return to Briggs Stadium.

Ferris Fain's pinch single saved the Tigers in the opener. He singled with two out in the 9th inning, scoring Reno Bertoia and giving Detroit a 4-4 tie.

Detroit then pushed across two runs in the 10th off loser Dean Stone as Al Kaline walked, Jack Phillips and Ray Boone singled and Bubba Phillips hit a sacrifice fly.

In the 2nd game, Washington rapped out 12 hits. Eight of them were good for extra bases. The victory snapped a nine-game losing streak for the Senators.

Roy Sievers hit a pair of triples scoring two runs each time. Harmon Killebrew rapped a two-run homer and Jose Valdivielso supplied two doubles.

Detroit used four pitchers after pulling Frank Lary in the 4th in a futile attempt to check the National onslaught. Lary was marked with the loss.

Maury McDermott went the distance for the Senators to chalk up his 6th win. He was nicked for 10 hits including a triple and two singles by Bill Tuttle.

There was one out in the last half of the 9th in the opener and the Senators were holding a 4-3 lead when their 3rd baseman Bob Kline fumbled Bubba Phillips' bunt. Phillips was forced by Red Wilson, but Harry Malmberg walked and Fain batted for Ned Garver. He singled in pinch-runner Bertoia.

Purdue's Campbell Wins College Title

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Purdue University's Joe Campbell, playing "the finest golf of my life," won the National Collegiate Golf Championship Sunday, defeating Johnny Garrett of Rice 3 and 2.

The 36-hole match was spread over two days with the players all even after the first 18 Saturday.

Campbell, a 19-year-old from Anderson, Ind., took a one-up lead on the 20th hole, increased his lead to four-up on the 28th, dropped the 33rd to a birdie 3, and halved the 34th with a par 4 to close out the match.

Cardinal Duo Battling for Rookie Honors

The Associated Press

If St. Louis outfielder Bill Virdon doesn't win the National League rookie-of-the-year award, his teammate, pitcher Luis Arroyo, will. Anyway, it's almost a cinch to be in the Cardinal family.

Virdon was the whole show Sunday as the Cardinals swept both ends of a doubleheader for the first time this year, walloping the new York Giants 9-2 and 7-2. The bespectacled center fielder batted in six runs with a single, two doubles, a triple and home run to boost his average to .324.

Saturday night, Arroyo whipped the Giants for his ninth victory against two losses (both by one-run margins). The Puerto Rican southpaw leads all National League hurlers with a brilliant 2.01 earned-run average.

The sudden collapse of Chicago's Bob Speake and the demise of Ken Boyer (another Cardinal), strengthens the claim of Virdon and Arroyo. Speake, the early season sensation, has slumped to .254 and Boyer is hitting .240.

A couple of American League rookies—New York's Elston Howard and Cleveland's Herb Score boosted their stock as the Yankees increased their first-place lead to three games with a split against the Indians. Howard singled and scored the insurance run as the Yankees shut out the Indians 2-0 behind Whitey Ford's four-hitter in the nightcap. Early Wynn furnished the Indians with their only victory in the four-game set with a nifty three-hit 5-0 performance in the opener.

Score worked five relief innings in the nightcap and pitched brilliantly. He permitted only one hit, walked two and struck out nine in five innings to boost his strikeout lead to 120.

The Yankees picked up a full game on the runner-up Chicago White Sox who saw their five-game winning streak go up in smoke by losing two games to Boston 5-2 and 8-2. The third place Indians remained six games behind New York.

Kansas City handed Baltimore its sixth and seventh straight defeats with 1-0 and 5-2 triumphs. Washington snapped its nine-game losing streak with a smashing 12-4 victory over Detroit after the Tigers had come from behind to win the opener 6-4 in 10 innings.

The Brooklyn Dodgers' huge first place lead in the National League was cut slightly when Milwaukee shut them out 4-0 behind Bob Buhl's five-hitter. The runner-up Chicago Cubs advanced to within 12½ games of the Brooks, splitting their doubleheader with Pittsburgh.

Cincinnati climbed to within one percentage point of the fourth-place Giants, knocking off the Philadelphia Phillies twice 16-5 and 5-0.

The Cardinals moved past the Phillies into sixth place, only a game and a half out of the first division as Harvey Haddix turned in his fifth success and rookie Larry Jackson his third.

Wynn, sidelined the first three weeks of the season because of sickness, notched his 10th triumph against two losses with his three hitter against the Yankees. Ralph Kiner's 10th homer of the season and his first at Yankee Stadium, was all he needed. Kiner now has 361 homers which ties him with Joe DiMaggio for sixth place among the all-time home run leaders.

The Red Sox advanced to within a game of the fourth place Tigers with their two triumphs over Chicago. Willard Nixon won his own game in the opener with a bases-loaded double in the eighth that broke up a 2-2 deadlock. Jackie Jensen took charge in the second game, driving in three runs with his 15th homer and two singles.

Status of Long Spanish Yacht Race Uncertain

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain (AP)—What's happening in the Havana-San Sebastian yacht race?

Well, now, the Ticonderoga, America's entry in the 4,200-mile grind, might be ahead and then again she might not.

The Spanish escort vessel reported today the Ticonderga was the only yacht to state its position. The escorting frigate reported, however, that the silence of Spain's Mare Nostrum might be a trick of its skipper to surprise the other entries.

* * *

The Argentine Gaucho also is silent, but she has been having radio trouble.

Miss Berg Cards 292 to Beat Crocker, Suggs by 2 Strokes

On the final day of the 72-hole grind of medal play which began Thursday, Miss Berg carded a par 73 for a total of 292. She finished two strokes ahead of a pair of other pros, Fay Crocker of Uruguay and Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., who also sought her 5th crown.

Miss Berg won $1,000. The runnersup each took away $650 by splitting 2nd and 3rd place money.

Miss Berg, representing the St. Andrews, Ill., club, began the final 18 holes over the Maple Bluff course with a 54-hole total of 219, one shot ahead of the field.

As usual, she was straight and long off the tees and had nine single-putt greens and five birdies.

She succeeds Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Tex., who finished 14th among the pros with 311, good for $100.

No Distance Too Great (within reason)

Sowell Shatters Half-Mile Mark

BOULDER, Colo. (UP) — Pittsburgh's Arnie Sowell, only 20, can run the half-mile faster than any other American, but he had to run one under the world's record at a mile above sea level to prove it.

The young Pittsburgh University junior, despite the fact that the Air Force's Parry O'Brien was the only double winner, carried off high individual honors at the National AAU track and field championships here Saturday.

Sowell ran the 880-yard race so fast he attracted four also-rans over with him in faster times than had ever been clocked in an AAU meet.

Sowell himself ran the distance in 1:47.6, a full second under the official world record held jointly by Mal Whitfield of the United States and Gunnar Nielsen of Denmark.

Sowell made it clear that he was the best half-miler in the United States when Lonnie Spurrier of the Air Force, who has an unofficial 1:47.5 to his credit, ran fifth.

Howell Winner of Feature in Taylor Benefit

Benny Howell of Pontiac won the 50-lap feature race of the Tommy Taylor benefit racing program at the Gay-Day Speedway Sunday. Chuck Partello was 2nd and Dorris Sanders 3rd, as Howell won his 1st featufe of the season.

Carm Ragatz of Waterford took the 25-lap semi-final and pursuit victors were Howell and Bill Salisbury. Winners of heat races were Ragatz, Jerry Lafner, Ed Lang, Cliff McKinney and Partello.

The track qualifying record was bettered twice Sunday. Rusty Kelly turned in a 21.95 single lap, but Ken Schon regained the record with a 21.80 clocking. First place money in each event went to Taylor, the starter who was seriously injured at the track earlier this year.

State Cherry Crop to Be 65,000 Tons

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's sour cherry crop is estimated by the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service at 65,000 tons—33 per cent more than last year but 16 per cent less than the average.

The service said the sour cherry prospects were damaged by the May 9 freeze.

The indicated crop in the northwestern area is more than 2½ tons larger than last year but still a fourth smaller than the 1953 harvest. In Grand Traverse and Leelanau Counties the prospects are better than in the fringe areas, the service said. The central-western counties expect about the same crop as last year.

The service said the harvest is expected to start by June 30 in southwestern Michigan, a week to 10 days earlier than usual.

Doldrums Fade as Wheat Jumps

CHICAGO (AP)—Doldrums disappeared on the Board of Trade today in the wake of Saturday's wheat grower referendum. Trading was the most active in weeks.

Wheat jumped nearly four cents higher on some contracts at the start on a burst of weekend buying orders. Other grains gained with wheat although at a lesser advance.

Soybeans started higher on initial strength in soyoil and meal, then settled back to around steady with Friday's closes. Lard lost ground with the lower prices set in the live hog market. Once accumulated orders were absorbed, some deliveries of wheat fell back a couple of cents in evening up advance lines.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1¼ to 2⅜ cents higher, July $2.00½; corn was ⅛ to ½ higher, July $1.42⅞; oats were ⅜ to ½ higher, July 65⅞, and rye was unchanged to ¾ higher, July $1.04¼. Soybeans were ½ lower to ⅜ higher, July $2.43½, and lard was 15 to 23 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $11.82.

Michigander Arrested for California Thefts

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Calif. (INS)—Howard Jay Bernard, 30, held in connection with a kidnap car theft and armed robbery in Roseville, Mich., last February, today faced arraignment in California Federal Court for unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Bernard is accused in Macomb County warrants of kidnaping Alexander Feldbush, 49, of Warren Township, and of taking his car to stage a holdup of a drug store at the Eastgate Shopping Center.

He also is charged with the $3,400 robbery of a California supermarket.

Airplane experts say the time is not far distant when a plane will leave New York at noon and arrive at Los Angeles at noon on the same day.

Justice Douglas Urges Optimism Regarding Asia

TOKYO (AP)—U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, embarking on a tour that will include Soviet Russia, said today Americans should be optimistic about Asia.

"The picture is much more cheerful than we often get reading American newspapers," he told the Japan-America Society. "Asia has come a long way in the 10 years since World War II."

In an interview, he suggested that as part of an Asian settlement the permanent Chinese seat on the U.N. Security Council be assigned to some other Asian nation.

He said the seat held by Nationalist China could rotate or be assigned to India, Pakistan or Japan—if and when the latter is admitted.

He said the West should reach "an amicable political settlement" with Red China "leading to eventual recognition by the United Nations."

Douglas plans to enter Russia from Iran and stay there six weeks.

"I have been trying for five years to get in just to see it," he said.

He leaves tomorrow for Manila en route to Calcutta, India, where he will lecture 10 days before proceeding to Russia.

Hoover Urges Law Revisions

Claims Policy Makers Should Be Permitted to Keep Stockholdings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Hoover Commission recommends changing the law which requires policy-making government officials to divest themselves of corporation stockholdings.

This was one of a set of recommendations in a report yesterday setting forth ideas for improvements in Defense Department administration and business methods—improvements which the commision said could result in annual savings of as much as two billion dollars.

* * *

The group headed by ex-President Herbert Hoover also considered some of the department's other problems.

* * *

One of them is the difficulty in getting high-salaried business executives to take comparatively low-salaried government jobs and at the same time to dispose of stock in their companies. That was a decision Charles E. Wilson, present secretary of defense and former General Motors Corp. president, had to make when he came to the Pentagon.

* * *

The commission said ways must be found to encourage appointees to remain longer in government service, noting that "during the past decade, the average length of service of members of the defense secretariats has ranged from 16 months for under and assistant secretaries, to 22 months for secretaries." It recommended higher salaries as one way.

Lyon, Inc., Buys Out Canadian Parts Firm

Controlling interest in the Canadian Motor Lamp Co., Ltd., was purchased by Lyon, Inc., at the final meeting of the old board of directors held in the company offices in Windsor, Ont., last week, according to an announcement by George A. Lyon Jr., president of the purchasing company.

New board members include: George A. Lyon Jr., of Birmingham, elected chairman of the board; Harry J. Warner, re-elected president; Robert M. Hodgson, also of Birmingham, vice president, and Nixon T. Berry, of Toronto, Canadian counsel for Lyon.

Retiring are Robert T. Hertegen, of Grosse Pointe, former chairman of the board; James Armer, of Toronto, former vice president; and Leonard O. Zick of Kalamazoo, a former board member.

Sullivan Marks 7th Anniversary of 'Toast'

Show Holding Own in Ratings

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Even for television, in which the exceptional is commonplace, Ed Sullivan comes close to being phenomenal.

The broad shouldered, veteran newspaperman marked the seventh anniversary of his CBS-TV Toast of the Town last night at the peak of his popularity as a showman in the newest and ficklest form of show business.

Sullivan, rarely has been first in ratings and has had rough times from critics. But he has held a firm place in the upper ratings and has bowled over the best the rival NBC network could toss at him. In the past 52 weeks he has outscored every one of NBC's Sunday night spectaculars and topped all but three comedy hour telecasts.

Not only was Sullivan primarily a newspaperman by profession when he launched one of TV's most successful shows, but he had and still has few of the attributes of the professional entertainer. In his early TV days he often was referred to as Mr. Stoneface, and even now is sparing with his smiles.

Starting in the early 30's as a master of ceremonies for benefit shows, he branched into vaudeville and also had his own radio show, which he did in addition to a daily newspaper column.

HE STARTED MANY

Among those first put on the air by Sullivan, on his radio show, was one Jack Benny, who later became perhaps radio's greatest alltime star and now is among TV's elite. There were many others—some already famous and some then unknown — including Jimmy Durante, Frances Langford, Irving Berlin, Jack Haley, George M. Cohan and Flornz Zigfeld.

On the inaugural program were the famed Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein and Eugene List, the young GI pianist who had played for the Big Four heads of state at the Potsdam Conference. But the bill also included Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis whose big success still lay ahead, Singer Monica Lewis and the June Taylor girls, now famous as a feature on the Jackie Gleason show.

What's Sullivan's formula? He defines it this way:

"Definitely something for the kids. Something, if it can be done legitimately and is not phony, that will touch the emotions of the people. "Something that's completely topical—currently in the news—such as Marion Marlowe after she had been fired from the Godfrey show. "Introductions of people in the audience. "And to have the audience come to feel over the months and years that they always can tune in without being offended, without seeing or hearing anything that's in bad taste."

"I hardly know Godfrey," says Sullivan. "I've seen him only about twice in the seven years I've been with CBS. How can you feud with somebody you don't know?"

Sullivan says he booked the ex-Godfreyites because the public was interested in them.

Sullivan and his wife Sylvia live in a Park Ave. hotel apartment where Sullivan also makes his office. They have one daughter, Betty, married to Navy Lt. Robert Precht Jr., and an infant grandson, Robert.

Nehru Repeats Five Principles of Coexistence

Nehru leaves the Austrian capital late tonight for Salzburg to preside at a conference there of Indian diplomatic envoys in Europe.

Nehru and Polish Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz issued a joint statement last night reaffirming the five principles of peaceful coexistence which the Indian Prime Minister and Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai have been sponsoring. Nehru and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin issued a similar statement last week at the end of the Indian's visit to the Soviet Union.

Williams Given Examiner Slate

Woman on Canvassers Board Assured by Republican Selections

LANSING (AP) — The Republican party today sent Gov. Williams its nominations for two places on the new board of State Canvassers, rigging its choices so that one of the Governor's appointees must be a woman.

The new board, created by the last Legislature, will consist of two Republicans and two Democrats named by the Governor from party nominations to supervise the state elections system. Each party must nominate three persons for each of its two posts.

The Republicans packed the nominations for one post with women to insure at least one woman on the board. For the other post the GOP named three men.

The women nominees are Mrs. Paul Goebel, of Grand Rapids, wife of a former mayor of that city; Miss Zoe Schaffer, Benton Harbor attorney, and Mrs. Eleanor Smith, of Lansing, former chairman of the Ingham County Board of Canvassers.

The men nominated for the other post are James Schoener, of Muskegon, state chairman of Young Republicans; Paul Schneider, of Marquette, former Marquette County Republican chairman, and Donald Strong, of Kalamazoo, executive of a printing firm which specializes in ballots and election materials.

The Republican Central Committee, heeding the pleas of State Chairman John Feikens to "get it settled," agreed to meet July 9 to elect a successor to David W. Kendall, of Jackson, as GOP national committeeman.

Kendall has been waiting to resign for six months, since he was appointed counsel to the Treasury Department.

Knifed Convict Dies Despite Medical Help

DETROIT (INS)—A 25-year-old Jackson Prison inmate died in Detroit's Receiving Hospital today after having been kept alive since last Thursday with the aid of an artificial kidney.

Robert Eaton was stabbed June 18 in a row with another prisoner. Doctors at the prison removed Eaton's spleen, damaged by the knifing, and the inmate was rushed to Detroit where the mechanical kidney was utilized.

Eaton was serving a 6 months to 5 year sentence for car theft.

Prison officials said his assailant who was not identified, will be tried for murder in Jackson County Circuit Court.

University Women Open Los Angeles Conference

LOS ANGELES (INS) — The American Association of University Women opens its 1955 biennial convention in Los Angeles today with an expected attendance of more than 2,000 for the 5-day meeting.

Delegates from the United States, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii and Guam will follow an agenda which includes considering legislative issues, awarding educational fellowships, electing officers and other matters.

Two of the featured speakers will be Sir Leslie Munro, New Zealand representative to the United Nations and ambassador to the United States, and Prince Way Waithayakon, Thailand's minister of foreign affairs and delegate to the United Nations.

There are about 33,000 swimming pools in the United States, half of them private, compared to 8,000 at the end of World War II, most of them public.

Deadline Near for Draft Law

House, Senate Dispute Over Doctors Threatens Selective Service

WASHINGTON (INS) — A bitter fight over attempts to kill the doctors' draft threatened today to end all selective service inductions on Thursday.

That is when the nation's selective service law is due to expire unless Congress approves legislation to extend it, allowing the continued induction of men 18½ through 25 years of age.

A 4-year extension has been voted by both the House and the Senate, but the latter also wants to continue the doctors' draft for two years beyond its expiration date on Thursday.

A House-Senate conference committee has approved both extensions, but the drafting of physicians, dentists and veterinarians is strongly opposed by many both in Congress and in the professions themselves.

House Armed Services Committee Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga) admitted he has "the fight of my life on my hands to get the conference bill approved."

Opponents will try to get the House to send the legislation back to the conference committee with instructions that the doctors' draft be dropped from it.

Senate conferees would be under strong pressure to give in, since prolonged resistance would endanger all other inductions as well as the continued mailing of dependents' allowances to the wives and parents of servicemen, which would also expire Thursday unless extended.

The doctors' draft now covers men through the age of 50. Vinson did succeed in dropping the age limit to 45 in the conference committee, but foes of all such inductions are not satisfied.

Editor Urges Photos in Court

Newspaperman Claims 'Silent Cameras' Cannot Cause Trial Confusion

PALO ALTO, Calif. (INS)—J. R. Wiggins, managing editor of the Washington Post and Times Herald, has stated that cameras should be used in courts so that the public can get the benefit of a public trial.

Wiggins said the press should demonstrate to the courts that "this is a new camera age" by using small noiseless cameras that do not require flash or strobe lights.

He pointed out: "As long as the only cameras judges ever see, at the non-legal public functions they attend, are large boxes with blicking shutters and crashing holders and exploding lights, they are going to be hard to persuade that this is a new camera age.

Wiggins delcared that the camera can "bring to millions of Americans, who never otherwise will see a court session, the benefits of public trial. . . ."

The newspaper executive said that when the use of cameras has been permitted in other public functions, "its very presence has improved the written reports of the proceedings." He added: "This has been notably true of the Presidential press conferences."

Wiggins declared that the California Editors' Conference at Stanford University, charged that "many lawyers wish to see a veil of secrecy drawn over the administration of justice, from the time an accused person is arrested until he is convicted or acquitted."

The Washington editor said lawyers have spoken much about what they call the ordeal of "trial by newspaper." Wiggins conceded that not all newspapermen are happy about the coverage of papers in all court cases.

Detroit Stop Wanted by Airline Company

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allegheny Airlines has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for authority to serve Detroit, Cincinnati and a series of other cities.

Among routes Allegheny proposed were:

Cincinnati to Detroit via Dayton, Lima and Toledo.

Pittsburgh to Detroit via Youngstown, Akron, Cleveland and Toledo.

Northwest Airlines, which already serves Detroit on some flights, asked the CAB for permission to extend its system into Florida and for permission to serve Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia without restrictions on flights between Detroit and New York.

Two Hurt as 3 Cars Collide on Golf Drive

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Treated at Pontiac General Hospital for injuries received in a three-car accident Saturday were drivers of two of the autos, Rocco S. Valenti, 38, of 241 Tilden Ave., Pontiac and Mrs. Henry Mercer, 31, of Berkley.

Police said Valenti was travel-Telegraph road when he passed ing east on Golf Drive, east of another car, striking Mrs. Mercer's westbound auto headon. The impact threw her car into one driven by George M. Labash, 36, of Ferndale, who escaped injury.
