We Wouldn't Fight Land War in Europe—Ike

59ers' Leader Not Fired

For awhile, it appeared that Marino Sik, 30-year-old vice president of the group, had taken over the leadership from Ronald Jacobowitz, 23, the group's president.

Sik explained, however, that he had not taken over the leadership—but only as "lead driver." He said Jacobowitz doesn't drive a truck very well, and sometimes oversleeps.

"There has never been and is not now any question but that Jacobowitz is the leader of our expedition," said Sik, a World War II Navy veteran.

A garbage truck joined the caravan yesterday. A station wagon driven by William Orzechowski, 44, of Hamtramck, was wrecked when a truck smashed into it on a slippery, fog-bound highway near Fergus Falls, Minn. No one was hurt.

Orzechowski, not to be delayed by the mishap, unloaded his belongings from the rented station wagon and located the garbage truck.

Traveling in two station wagons, a truck and a trailer, the new group said they left Detroit two days after the 59ers and wanted to catch up.

Nikita Changes His West Berlin Signals Again

Says Russian Troops Must Serve With Allies in Any Token Force

BERLIN (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev has switched signals again on West Berlin, this time insisting that Russians serve alongside U.S., British and French troops in any token military force based there under his free city plan.

"We also belong to the victors," Khrushchev told a newsman at a Soviet embassy reception last night. "During the war we didn't drink coffee — we were shedding our blood."

The Soviet premier made no mention of his alternate proposal of troops from neutral nations to safeguard the city under U. N. control.

It was clear he meant that if the Western Allies keep troops in West Berlin—as they have firmly announced they intend to do—he would demand that Soviet forces join them.

On another issue, the word from the Russians was that the Soviet Union will conclude a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany whether the West likes it or not.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia put out that pronouncement in an article broadcast by Radio Moscow as Khrushchev entered the closing stages of his visit to East Germany.

"The Soviet Union cannot indefinitely postpone a task for which the German nation and other peoples of Europe have been waiting a long time," Izvestia said.

Khrushchev himself has been negotiating in East Berlin with East Germany's Premier Otto Grotewohl and Communist boss Walter Ulbricht on a treaty they propose to sign if East and West continue to disagree on terms for an all-German accord.

FLIES BACK TOMORROW

This draft may be completed in a matter of hours. The Soviet leader is due to fly back to Moscow tomorrow. An East German government spokesman said a communique on the talks would be issued tonight or tomorrow morning.

This was Grotewohl's 65th birthday and Khrushchev was among the first to go to the premier's office to congratulate him. He drank a toast to Grotewohl's health.

Fresh contacts were arranged between the Russians and West German Socialists, political foes of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Bonn government.

But Won't Flatly Mention Nuclear Weapons Use

U.S. Will Do Whatever Needed to Protect Its Rights in West Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States has no intention of fighting a ground war in Europe.

At a news conference, however, he declined to say flatly that nuclear weapons would be used by American forces in the event the Soviets start shooting.

He said firmly the United States will do whatever needs to be done to protect its rights and responsibilities in West Berlin.

This government, he said, will never back up in the face of Soviet pressure there.

At the same time he said the free world is not going to become hysterical and go off half-cocked over the Berlin crisis.

Eisenhower said he believes the American public is more soberly aware of dangers in the Berlin situation than a lot of people around Washington.

A reporter had asked the President if he feels that the people recognize the dangers in Soviet Premier Khrushchev's demand for the withdrawal of Allied troops from West Berlin by May 27.

The country knows how serious the situation is or it wouldn't be voting all of the money that is being required for defense, Eisenhower promptly replied.

He added, however, that those who are advocating still greater defense spending should have the courage to back higher taxes to pay for it.

NO INSTANT REACTION

Eisenhower was asked for his reaction to Khrushchev's proposal for a four-power guard in West Berlin.

The President replied with some asperity that he doesn't

State GOP Says Taxes on Beer, Tobacco, Motels Hold Best Hope

From Our News Wires

LANSING—Taxes on beer, tobacco and motels were cited as the "most promising" areas of compromise today by House GOP leaders after a caucus on Michigan's cash crisis.

Democrats also caucused for more than an hour but declined to cite specific taxes. More caucus sessions were expected later today.

Last night, another futile debate on the crisis ended with a rare bit of profanity by a Republican senator who said he will not seek reelection because he is "sick and tired" of bickering with Democrats.

Like punch drunk prizefighters, Republican and Democratic legislators today kept on bobbing and weaving to escape blame for Michigan's darkening financial prospects.

Some of them acted like there was still time to agree on a borrowing plan to put to voters April 6 for easing the cash emergency. Few really believed it.

A Democratic senator spoke of a 13th hour solution.

Yet in playing out the string, a bipartisan committee of 10 House members were to re-hash the "nuisance" tax approach with their respective caucuses before today's session scheduled at 2 p.m.

The idea was to test anew whether favorable party stands could be achieved on a package to be made up out of new or increased levies on tobacco, beer, insurance premiums, banks and hotels and motels.

If caucus decisions coincided, the plan was to pledge the resulting revenues in support of a 50 million dollar bond issue.

Since they took their stand two weeks ago after seven weeks of silence, GOP senators haven't budged an inch from their demand for a 100 million dollar bond issue tied to a four cent sales tax for two years.

This was anathema to Democrats, since it was a frank repudiation of Gov. Williams' recommended 140 million dollar tax increase program.

Creation of the bipartisan committee, an impromptu development reflected concern over possible repercussions from the public over the futility of the last nine weeks of political maneuvering while the state tobogganed toward insolvency.

The governor had renewed an offer to compromise on four grounds, with two coinciding with positions previously taken by the GOP House leadership.

His purpose, he said, was "to avoid the shattering effects" of a default on payrolls and a breakdown in essential state services. He said responsibility would be at the GOP door if these materialized.

When Rep. Allison Green of Kingston, Republican floor leader, replied in kind, Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski of Detroit, Williams' floor spokesman, jumped in with the 10-man committee idea.

The "nuisance" tax plan and giving the Veterans Trust Fund constitutional status in return for conversion of trust fund securities were mentioned by Williams as proposals favored last week by Republicans.

If Democrats were ready to talk "specifics," Green said, Republicans were ready to sit down with them.

Commissioners Salute Pontiac Sales, Award

The Pontiac City Commission last night saluted Pontiac Motor Division and the 1959 Pontiac automobile.

A resolution was sent to the company commending its "impressive" sales record this year and the selection by Motor Trends magazine of the 1959 Pontiac as the outstanding car of the year.

"The 1959 Pontiac is a community accomplishment," the resolution read.

"We extend our congratulations to Pontiac Motor Division, S. E. Knudsen, vice president and general manager; and the men and women who have worked to make this wonderful car possible."

$12.6 Million Sewer Bonds Receive State Approval

The Michigan Municipal Finance Commission has given the green light to Oakland County to sell $12.6 million in bonds to finance two large sanitary sewer systems.

Approval was given yesterday for the $6,919,000 Evergreen sewer to serve eight communities and for the $5,748,000 Farmington sewer to serve four communities.

The go-ahead was welcome news to members of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, planners of the sewers, who have seen most of the department's projects stymied in past years by some sort of legal action.

"I'm more optimistic than I have ever been," said Harold K. Schone, department director.

Schone said the department now can advertise for the sale of the general obligation (full faith and credit) bonds March 20. April 3 has been set for acceptance of bids and sale of the bonds, he said.

But more important to the hundreds of residents of the areas where the sewers will be built, Schone said, barring any unforeseen further delays, construction on both projects might begin soon after acceptance of the low bids.

The Evergreen sewer will serve the cities of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Lathrup Village, Troy, Southfield, the village of Beverly

Seventh Straley Hearing Slated for Tonight

The seventh session of the Civil Service Commission hearing into removal charges against suspended Police Chief Herbert W. Straley will be held at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the City Commission chambers.

★ ★ ★

On the stand will be City Manager Walter K. Willman, who suspended Straley Feb. 9 and forwarded charges against him to the Commission.

Straley is accused of incompetency and inefficiency, insubordination, neglect of duty and failure to maintain good behavior.

At the last session, Willman testified Straley did "a pretty fair job" and called him a meticulous and industrious" worker.

Willman's testimony may wind up the presentation of the charges against Straley. If so, the defense could begin its case tonight.

Awards $3 Million Job to City Plant

The Detroit Ordnance District was scheduled today to announce the awarding of a $3,003,000 contract to Pontiac Motor Division for repair parts for 20 mm. guns, Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Oakland County) said today.

The work will be done in Pontiac, he said.

Snow Predicted for Area Tonight

Old Man Winter is making a determined effort to cling to the Pontiac area. The weatherman reports he will drop snow here tonight and a low of 28 degrees.

Thursday's forecast calls for snow flurries and a high of 35.

Temperatures for the next five days will average about six degrees below the normal high of 42 and normal low of 26. Little change in temperature is predicted for the period.

Eighteen was the lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The reading at 2 p. m. was 32.

Michigan Bell Asks Rate Hike

Name No Specific Sum but Says Earnings Are Below Legal Limit

LANSING — The Michigan Bell Telephone Co. today asked the Michigan Public Service Commission to let it make the profit the state agency has said it should be making.

The telephone company asked for a rate increase, but its application named no specific amount.

In asking the commission to review the company's financial results, the application said that Michigan Bell's earnings in the postwar period have been substantially below the level approved by the commission.

"Given a satisfactory return on investment, our company can provide better type of service at the lowest price to our customers in the long run," Bell President William M. Day said.

"Michigan Bell is the state's fourth largest employer. It just seems good sense that a company that is so important to the prosperity of our state be given the opportunity to operate successfully," Day added.

Day compared the Bell return on investment of 5.6 per cent with the average figure of 13.2 per cent for 50 large manufacturing companies in 1948-57. The Public Service Commission indicated previously that Michigan Bell should be getting 6.6 per cent return.

In ten of the past 12 years, including 1958, the firm has been unable to achieve earnings of a level as high as the commission had found reasonable in the last preceding rate order, it stated.

Hearings on the company's application will be held by the commission. Should the commission authorize a revenue increase, the company then will seek changes in local and long distance rates to comply with the authorization.

Save 200 Hogs in Rochester Fire

Packing Company Hit by Blaze Shortly Before Noon

Employes braved smoke to herd the valuable animals out of one end of the Rochester Packing Co., 301 Hacker St., as flames devoured the other end of the $190,000 cement block building.

Firemen, who had flames under control at noon, were unable to give an immediate estimate of the damage.

About a quarter of the slaughter house appeared to be completely gutted within its cement block shell and smoke had quickly spread throughout the rest of the building soon after the fire broke out an hour earlier.

Samuel Hoyt, chief sausage maker, discovered the fire when he opened an inner door leading to the smoke house.

George Ross, chief of the Rochester Fire Department, said the cause of the blaze had not yet been determined, but believed that fat drippings from hams in the smoke house helped speed the spread of the blaze upwards between the ceiling and roof, where it stubbornly resisted firemen's efforts for more than 45 minutes.

Mrs. Eleanor Gruener, an office worker, put the $190,000 price tag on the building. She said a recent $120,000 addition to the slaughter house was not seriously damaged by flames.

Lenten Guideposts Spotlights Power of Faith

He Found Secret of Strength Through Weakness

By LEN LeSOURD

When the letter describing Roger Irving first arrived, I shook my head almost in disbelief. "How could one man take so much?" I asked myself.

The last sentence stuck in my mind particularly: "Despite all he has gone through, Mr. Irving's life is a triumph."

LEN LeSOURD

When a business trip was to take me to Florida, I remembered Mr. Irving lived in St. Petersburg. I pulled out the letter and reread the items:

Loss of right arm at 17 . . .
Loss of two sons at birth . . .
Financial disaster . . .
Cancer and removal of larynx. .
Loss of right eyesight . . .

Yet, today Mr. Irving was a successful appliance salesman.

Exactly what was it that enabled Roger Irving to withstand blow after blow and ultimately make his life a triumph? I asked myself.

I knew I had to find out.

A few days later, I met this tall, broad-shouldered man in his sixties. Behind thick glasses, one good eye fixed on me with friendly firmness. His voice startled me a bit, it was so throaty.

I came quickly to the point. "Mr. Irving, you have suffered a lot — more than any other man I know. Many people would have just folded up and quit. What's kept you going?"

"My faith that God has a worthwhile purpose — or plan — for my life," he answered simply.

"Then you think it was God's plan for these things to happen?"

"No, I don't believe God deliberately caused a seven-ton press to smash my arm or took my two sons away or gave me cancer. He gives us free will and many of our calamities we bring on ourselves. But God can show us how to turn a disaster into something worthwhile."

PROFIT FROM TROUBLE

"In other words, you think you are a better man today because of, not in spite of your troubles?"

"Yes, I do."

I liked the simple directness of the man, but I was determined to pin him down to specifics. "Let's start with the loss of your arm at 17," I said. "How did this make you a better man?"

"At the time of the accident I was a self-satisfied, headstrong kid with no particular ambition. After the accident, I saw I would have to go to school and learn an occupation if I were to support myself. So I did — and soon was doing well as a salesman."

"Then you married and had two children, both boys, each of whom died in childbirth. What possible good could come out of this?"

TOOK UP SCOUTING

"Losing those boys was a great heartache for both my wife and myself; at the time we were desolate. But gradually, with no boys of my own, I began to take a great interest in Scouting."

While devoting most of a lifetime to working with youth, in a sense he had hundreds of boys, instead of two.

★ ★ ★

"And the cancer, how was this turned into a blessing?" I asked.

For the first time, Roger Irving was slow in answering; when he did speak his voice was not steady.

"When they wheeled me into the operating room, the doctor asked me if there were any last words I wanted to say before he removed my voice box. I thought for a while . . . and God was

To Air Sewage Bond Proposal

Community Council to Hear Speakers on $3.3 Million Issue

The proposed $3,300,000 bond issue to finance new sewage treatment plant facilities will be aired before the Greater Pontiac Community Council at 8 p.m. tomorrow at City Hall.

Representatives from more than 160 civic, business, labor and social welfare organizations are expected to attend.

"The general public is also urged to attend this session of the Council, dealing with an important aspect of the health and safety of everyone living in this area," said Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, council president.

Five speakers will speak in behalf of the city's plans to use the bonds to finance construction of a new plant, additions to the old and connections between the two.

The city is asking property owners to approve the bond issue at the April 6 election.

Speaking will be Walter K. Willman, city manager; John Hennessey, treatment plant superintendent; Dr. John D. Monroe, acting director of the Pontiac Department of Public Health; Harold A. Kelley, consulting engineer; and Edward A. Maier, president of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

The council also will hear regular business reports from Mrs. S. V. Sekles, steering committee chairman for the social service planning division, and Mrs. Floyd Smith, steering committee chairman for the civic planning division.

Ex-Ferndale Principal Gets Tenure Hearing

FERNDALE — The State Tenure Commission has granted a hearing to Scott W. Street, ousted principal of the Best School in the Ferndale School District.

The hearing will be held March 20 at Wayne State University.

Street petitioned the commission to be restored as principal of the school. He was demoted last month to visiting teacher by the School Board in a dispute over educational policies.

Two Birmingham Men Take Top Speech Honors

Winner of this year's district finals was H. A. Berker of 2509 Manchester St. His talk was entitled "Playing The Game."

Top speakers from the Rochester and Pontiac clubs also competed. Berker now has qualified for the regional contest.

Courthouse Battle Appears to Be Over

It appeared today that the Oakland County Taxpayers League is through with its fight of nearly three years to upset plans for a new county courthouse on Telegraph Road.

Bruce J. Annett, league secretary, said, "I don't see anything else we can do unless some supervisors take action."

Annett made the statement as League attorneys had not met a 20-day limit in which to request a rehearing on a Feb. 19 State Supreme Court opinion freeing funds for construction of the new building.

The League in 1956 filed suit here claiming the Board of Supervisors had accumulated these funds illegally by padding annual budgets and transferring these surpluses to a current $1,666,661 building fund. The county appealed an adverse lower court decision handed down in 1957.

Glenn C. Gillespie, attorney for the League, said after the Supreme Court decision that he would advise against any further legal steps, such as the possible rehearing.

Meanwhile, Harry M. Denyes Jr., architect with the courthouse designing firm of O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham, said advertisement now could be made for construction bids since the deadline for a rehearing has passed.

Ads will be published this Saturday and next with bids to be taken at 10 a.m. April 21 in the office of the County Board of Auditors, 1 Lafayette St.

Sewer Bonds Get Approval of State

Hills and Bloomfield and Pontiac townships.

The city of Keego Harbor, the major portion of West Bloomfield Township, all of Farmington Township and a small section of the city of Southfield will benefit from the Farmington sewer project.

Approval yesterday of the sale of the bonds for both, Schone said, saved a $250,000 federal grant to apply to the construction of the Evergreen sewer (the portion north of 14 Mile road).

This would have been lost under a schedule set up by the State Water Resources Commission, if approval hadn't come by March 24.

* * *

Another snag in plans for the sewers, however, still is not out of the way.

Department officials have yet to receive an answer from the State Supreme Court on a second request for a rehearing of a recent test case which questioned the constitutionality of the provisions under which the Farmington project is going to be built.

* * *

The high court had ruled in a 4-4 decision, which, by reason of affirmation by equal division, allowed the DPW to proceed.

But Claude H. Stevens, the county's bonding attorney, and Louis H. Schimmel, municipal finance consultant, decided with county legal heads to put a little more legal teeth in the decision by asking for a rehearing.

It was feared, Schone pointed out, that the split decision might discourage some bond buyers from entering into the court tested project.

* * *

Schone said today, however, it appeared that no such reluctance still persists. But the real test will come April 3 during sale of the bonds.

* * *

Schone said Schimmel told him that he was "certain bonds will be sold."

Sale would be enhanced further should, between now and the sale, the Supreme Court hand down a supplementary opinion strengthening the county's position, Schone said.

The DPW currently holds contracts with all 12 areas to be served by the sewers. Contracts spell out yearly installments over a 30-year period which each area will pay to the county to help retire the general obligation bonds.

Schone said what each area will pay is based on its capacity of use of the sewer.

Municipalities, Schone explained, can raise money to meet these obligations to the county either by taxes levied to those homes to be served by the sewer, connecting charges, special assessments, increasing present sewage disposal rates, other funds, or a combination of these means.

Schone said most of the communities plan to levy connecting charges to raise the funds.

Pittsburgh Bus Runs Into Crowd; 2 Die, 16 Injured

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A bustling intersection in downtown Pittsburgh became a scene of horror Tuesday as a commuter bus jumped a sidewalk and plowed into a crowd during the evening rush hour.

* * *

Two persons were killed and 16 were injured, four seriously.

The Brentwood Motor Coach Co. bus was approaching a knot of waiting passengers at Smithfield street and Forbes avenue when it veered out of control. The driver said his air brakes failed.

The bus climbed the curb, cut down a fire alarm pole and a street light then tore into the crowd and nosed against a plate glass display window of Kaufmann's department store.

* * *

Three of the screaming victims were flung through the window. Several others were trapped under the bus.

One of those killed was Sam Hood, 40, a reporter and art critic for the Pittsburgh Press.

Believe Roadblock Crashed by Bandit

A car answering the description of one driven by a bandit who held up a Ferndale bank at 1 p.m. broke through a State Police roadblock at Eight Mile and Telegraph roads some 15 minutes later.

* * *

Troopers said the lone bandit, driving a black and red Oldsmobile or Pontiac, staged a daring daylight robbery at the First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. Office, 22741 Woodward Ave.

Troopers from the Redford Post, aided by Pontiac Post troopers immediately set up a system of roadblocks throughout the southern part of Oakland County.

The amount of money taken, if any, was not yet determined. Ferndale Police who got the first call said no one was injured.

Willis Brewers Will Host State Candidates

Three Democratic candidates for state educational posts to be voted on April 6 will be guests of the Willis Brewers in their home Friday at 1655 Lakeview Rd., Sylvan Lake.

There to answer questions of teachers, PTA members, and others will be Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, incumbent superintendent of public instruction, Melvin E. Bleich of Detroit, candidate for a seat on the new Wayne State University Board of Governors, and Mrs. Cornelia A. Robinson of Kalamazoo, a candidate for the State Board of Education.

The Friday night get-together will begin at 7:30.

Earlier in the day, the three candidates will be at the home of Mrs. William Essery, 747 E. Maple Rd., Birmingham, for a 1 p.m. coffee hour. The public is invited to both.

Seeks to Bolster Own Industries

U. S. Curbs Imports of Oil

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government, seeking to bolster the nation's domestic oil and coal industries, invoked sweeping mandatory curbs today on imports of foreign crude oil.

Similar cutbacks go into effect April 1 on imports of gasoline and other finished petroleum products.

* * *

Eisenhower's proclamation, advocated for some time by domestic oil and gas producers, is expected to reduce crude oil imports by about 15 per cent east of the Rocky Mountains.

There was no immediate indication what effect the new controls might have on domestic prices.

But in a statement accompanying the proclamation, Eisenhower indicated the government will watch to see whether consumers are hurt from the cutback in foreign supplies.

Eisenhower's imposition of mandatory curbs on imports of crude oil and petroleum products runs counter to his general philosophy on tariffs and trade which tends toward lowering barriers.

But tariff officials said today that his oil decision was based primarily on the national defense angle, that large imports discourage domestic producers from drilling for new sources.

They also noted the President promised that the new curbs will be flexibly administered with the twin aims of sharing the domestic market on an equitable basis with other producing areas and avoiding disruption of normal patterns of international trade.

Then he untied a handkerchief wrapped around his neck. Right under his Adam's apple was a hole big enough to insert a finger; through this opening he breathed. He described at length how people learn to talk and breathe after laryngectomic operations. Roger Irving had preserved many months to master this technique.

TAUGHT OTHERS

* * *

I knew that Roger Irving used his faith in God to triumph over calamity. But how did he obtain this kind of faith?

"I never would have made it by myself," he admitted. "If you want to know the answer to this question, you will have to see my wife."

Mrs. Irving was surprisingly small with friendly, understanding eyes. Coming from a simple, deeply religious background, she had felt a personal relationship to Christ during her teens.

"I had the feeling that with Jesus close to me nothing would go wrong and I would have a sort of 'pink cloud' type of life," she said. "How silly I was then."

PRAYED FOR HELP

"I don't know how many times there were," she said, "when I told myself, 'I simply cannot go on this way another day.' Yet, when I felt like quitting, I knew I had to pray. And there in my prayer I could feel the presence of Jesus. Then I would remember the passage 'For whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth.' But why must He chasten me so much?" I would ask.

"Almost as in answer I would see the suffering in Jesus' eyes as He looked down on his tormenters from His Cross. And then I began to see that it was through His suffering that Jesus means so much to the world. And as He did in His big way, so could I learn to do in my small way.

"Well, after a while I stopped feeling sorry for myself. My prayers began to focus more on others. Roger began to take more of an interest in the church. And I was thrilled to discover the great reservoir of faith power he had."

* * *

Pontiac Central Team Lauded by Commission

* * *

A resolution commending the team's 1958-59 record was adopted by the Commission and sent to Coach Art Van Ryzin today.

"Our Pontiac Chiefs have reached the peak in Saginaw Valley basketball league competition and stand alone as champions," the resolution said.

"From the start of the current season, their play has been characterized by united team efforts as opposed to individual glory.

* * *

"Such teamwork has overcome the opposition and won plaudits from other members who competed against them in this toughest league in the state.

"Through the capable and inspiring leadership of Coach Art VanRyzin and his staff, this great team has brought glory and acclaim to Pontiac Central High School and the City of Pontiac.

"Therefore, be it resolved that the members of the Pontiac City Commission, on behalf of the citizens of Pontiac, say 'Congratulations for a job well done,' and extend our best wishes for continued success in the tournament play ahead."

Europe Ground War Not Our Plan—Ike

ever expect to be in the business of reacting instantly to one of Khrushchev's wisecracks or whatever the Soviet premier calls them.

The free world is going to use the same Democratic procedure that the United States uses in dealing with such problems, Eisenhower said. He said that is the process of debate before decision.

* * *

Eisenhower also took up:

JOB BENEFITS—The administration is waiting for the various state legislatures to convene, in order to find out what the states intend to do about extension of emergency unemployment benefits.

SPENDING—Eisenhower said a balanced budget is a vital part of national security. He made that remark when asked whether he might be willing to spend more money for defense if more federal revenue were available.

With some show of irritation, Eisenhower went on to say he is tired of talk of having either a balanced budget or adequate national security. A balanced budget, he added, is a vital part of such security.

WOULD BE GARRISON STATE

Suppose, Eisenhower theorized, defense spending should go up five, seven or 10 billion dollars. That means, he said, we would have a garrison state.

It was at that point Eisenhower said somewhat heatedly that he doesn't see any of those calling for greater defense spending coupling it with a demand for higher taxes.

Why, he inquired, don't they have the courage to call for a tax rise?

* * *

SOVIET STRATEGY—A reporter said Eisenhower had been quoted as telling congressional leaders last week that he believes Soviet strategy is to try to induce the United States to spend itself into bankruptcy.

Eisenhower replied that he doesn't think that is applicable to the current Berlin situation. But as for the long run picture, the President said it isn't necessary to quote him — you can quote the Communists.

McELROY — For the second week in a row, Eisenhower warmly praised Secretary of Defense McElroy. He did so when a reporter asked whether the President feels there has been some diminution in the prestige of the secretary.

Urges Planning for Centennial

Commissioner Warns City Officials Not to Wait Too Long

Begin centennial planning now, Commissioner William W. Donaldson urged the City Commission last night.

"Other cities celebrating their centennials have found that planning should begin long in advance of the centennial date," said the former mayor.

"If we wait much longer, we may end up wishing we had more time to make preparations for this big event."

Donaldson pointed out that the city's centennial date is two years from Sunday — March 15, 1961.

"It seems probable that the city will have its new main library ready for dedication then as the highlight of the centennial observance.

"But there are many civic organizations and community agencies that will want to lay co-ordinated plans, too."

Mayor Philip E. Rowston at Donaldson's suggestion, said he would begin initial study leading to centennial planning.

Orion Dems Club to Hear U. of M. Board Aspirant

William K. McInally, Democratic candidate for the University of Michigan Board of Regents in the April 6 election, will be guest speaker Saturday at a meeting of the Orion Township Democratic Club.

Also speaking at the 2:30 p.m. affair will be Billie S. Farnum, deputy secretary of state and a former resident of Oakland County.

The club will meet at the Gingellville Community Center, 3575 Baldwin Rd.

The Day in Birmingham

Police Officers Complete MSUO Command Course

BIRMINGHAM — Four area police officers received their diplomas yesterday as members of the first class to graduate from Michigan State University Oakland.

Lt. Robert Schaule of the Birmingham Police Department and Safety Director Robert Stadler, Capt. Walter Sluiter and Sgt. Theodore Banks of the Bloomfield Hills Police Department completed the command officers training course.

Both Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills departments have patrolmen enrolled in the traffic course which starts at MSUO today.

A Grand Rapids woman, and former Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills resident, Mrs. Ann Burgess has been making Birmingham her temporary headquarters as she filled Oakland County speaking engagements as Republican candidate for the University of Michigan Board of Regents.

Mrs. Burgess met with small groups in private homes as well as making one major appearance before the American Federation of Women's Clubs in Pontiac last Monday.

Mrs. Francis J. Donnelly

Service for Mrs. Francis J. Donnelly, 82, of 486 Pilgrim Rd. will be at 10 a.m. Friday from Holy Name Catholic Church with burial in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Detroit.

Rosary service will be held at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co.

Mrs. Donnelly died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac Tuesday after a long illness.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Edward R. Hayes of Birmingham; two sons, James of Birmingham and Herbert of Farmington; one sister, seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Clinton H. Hyatt

Service for Mrs. Clinton H. Hyatt, 85, of 569 Pierce St. was to be held this afternoon at her home under the direction of the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial is in White Chapel Cemetery.

* * *

Mrs. Hyatt died at her home Sunday after a brief illness.

She was a member of the DAR and during and after World War I served in France with the Foyer des Soldats and helped with the reconstruction of Flavey le Martel village.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Lewis Marshall of Birmingham and two sisters in Texas.

William F. Johnson

Private service for William F. Johnson, 18-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Johnson Jr. of 1539 Cole St. is being held today from St. James Episcopal Church. Burial will be in White Chapel Cemetery.

The infant died Monday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac after a brief illness.

Besides his parents he is survived by a brother, Thomas and a sister, Barbara at home, his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Pottinger of Royal Oak and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. A. D. Williams of Ann Arbor.

Red China Will Select New President in April

TOKYO (AP)—Peiping radio indicated today that Mao Tze-tung's successor as president of Red China would be named at a "national people's congress" opening April 17 in Peiping.

* * *

The 65-year-old Mao stepped down as Red China's chairman—the equivalent of president — in December, but announced that he was keeping the more powerful job of head of the Communist party.

The broadcast said the meeting also would "decide the national economic plan for 1959."

City OKs Financing Plan to Repair General Hospital

City commissioners last night agreed on a new financing plan to get the Pontiac General Hospital expansion program under way again.

On recommendation of City Manager Walter K. Willman, they agreed to pay cash to meet the cost of an estimated $350,000-$400,000 in unexpected repairs that have halted the construction program six months.

Under the new plan, the money would be expended by the hospital administration on a bi-weekly basis, with no more than $60,000 spent during each two-week period.

To provide a ready source of cash, commissioners agreed the hospital could tap $200,000 that is tied up in equipment funds, until construction is completed and the equipment can be purchased.

They further agreed to reimburse the equipment fund by Feb. 1, 1960, the approximate date the equipment will be needed, said Willman.

Willman said the new plan tentatively has been agreed upon by himself, the hospital administration and three local contractors, who are scheduled to undertake the repairs and complete the expansion program on a time-and-material basis.

Under the old plan, the contractors had agreed the city wouldn't have to pay for the repairs until a year after their completion. But this scheme was killed by a legal technicality that won't permit the city to owe more than $20,000 at any one time to a contractor working on a cost-plus basis, Willman said.

TO DRAFT AGREEMENTS

The manager said he and the city attorney now will prepare final working agreements with the contractors, J. A. Fredman Inc., Eames & Brown and Fred W. Moote Electrical, Inc. The agreements will have to be approved by the City Commission before work can start.

Inserted in the new plan at Commission insistance is a provision reserving to the city the right to terminate working agreements on a two-week notice.

"The city will be able to exercise very close control as the repairs and construction proceed," Willman predicted.

The untapped equipment funds were provided by the city last year when $317,000 was borrowed for equipment in anticipation of this year's taxes.

* * *

Finance Director Marvin Alward applied to the State Municipal Finance Commission yesterday for permission to borrow another $316,000 in anticipation of 1960 taxes, as the third installment of a total $950,000 the city promised the hospital for equipment.

The city originally had planned to pay for the repairs directly out of tax revenues in 1961 when existing financial commitments to the hospital are paid off.

Now, more tax anticipation notes (on 1961 taxes) may have to be sold to reimburse the hospital by the Feb. 1 deadline, Willman said.

2-PHASES UNCHANGED

Financing plans remain unchanged in two important phases, Willman pointed out:

1. The hospital still hopes to win a $300,000 construction grant from the Detroit Area Hospital Council to finance the repairs.

2. The hospital still agrees to reimburse the city eventually for whatever public funds are used to pay for the repairs.

* * *

The repairs involve replacement of defective heating, plumbing and electrical installation in the hospital's old east wing, which is to be remodeled into a patient area with a net 155 beds to complement the completed 216-bed addition.

Applauded in State Senate

Yankus Nixes Writing Offer

STANLEY A. YANKUS JR.

LANSING (AP)—Rebel Stanley A. Yankus Jr. says he shrugged off an offer of $7,000 to make speeches and write newspaper articles.

"The money isn't important," said the maverick Dowagiac chicken farmer. "I can make money the way I have learned from experience."

Yankus, guest yesterday of Sen. Harry Litowich (R-Benton Harbor), was introduced in the Senate as "one of the most controversial men in the nation." He was roundly applauded.

Fines and penalties assessed for his defiance in growing 35-40 acres of wheat a year on a 10-acre allotment amounted to more than $5,000. He said he fed the grain to chickens on his farm.

Yankus told newsmen and lawmakers the speaking-writing offer came from a Chicago publicity agent three or four days ago by telephone.

"I told him to write me a letter if he wanted to, but that I had no intention of accepting the offer," he related.

He was spared possible embarrassment when a House committee held up a vote on a resolution to commend him for "courage, substance and tenacity." Committee members were ready to kill it.

Some of them said it likely would be construed as endorsement of resistance to the law.

"After all, the basic principle is that we are still a nation governed by law," said Rep. Russell H. Strange Jr. (R-Clare). The division on the committee reportedly was 6 to 3 against.

Yankus, who was a guest of the Senate Agriculture Committee at lunch, told newsmen he scrupulously avoided accepting any federal "giveaways" in his 18 years of farming in Berrien and Cass counties.

Although he was entitled to, he said, he never claimed federal money for liming his fields, planting windbreaks and other compensable activities.

"Whatever needed to be done, I did. There's no reason why a farmer shouldn't do it himself," he said.

Yankus said he saved money to buy his first farm, purchased in 1939, while employed in a Chicago mail order house at wages ranging from $17 to $24 a week.

Everybody Is Invited!

A Note to YOU from Our President...

We wish we could invite all our friends and customers to a more intimate party so that we could show our appreciation for the fine cooperation and favors you have tendered us during the past year. This is physically and humanly impossible.

To reciprocate for your loyalty, indulgence and all the other niceties you have extended to all of us at Simms, we are inviting you to what we believe will be our greatest party of all times.

Perhaps during the year you were slighted by one of our colleagues, possibly you may have been dissatisfied with some purchase. You may have been inconvenienced by the crowds at Christmas time.

We are now attempting to make amends by inviting you to this President's Party.

We are making it possible for everyone to satisfy all their needs and desires at unheard of savings. Each and every item is priced far below what you expect to pay. We are serving refreshments for everyone—there will be favors and samples.

Our store is big enough to serve you yet small enough to know you. We hope you will feel that Simms is "your" store and use it. Let's all enjoy this party together.

Surprise! Group RETURNS $$ to State Capitol

LANSING (AP)—A group bringing in money—instead of asking for it or arguing about it—was an unusual and welcome visitor at the state Capitol yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Representatives of the Michigan Artificial Breeders Cooperative appeared at the office of State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown with a check for $25,000.

It represented repayment of a 1948 legislative appropriation. Veteran lawmakers could not recall any group ever returning such a state appropriation.

★ ★ ★

A resolution was introduced in the House thanking the group.

"We'll take five minutes out any time to receive $25,000," said House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan).

The money was appropriated by the legislature to build a barn for the group when it was getting organized.

There were about 25 million natives in the New World when Columbus "discovered" it.

Holland Man Wins GOP Nomination

★ ★ ★

Van Til, who led a nine-man special primary field, will face Democrat Malcolm Ferguson of Spring Lake in a special election April 6. Ferguson, a machinist, was unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

Van Peursem, former House speaker, resigned last month.

The total Ottawa County unofficial vote was 7,648. The county has about 44,000 registered voters.

Van Til won by a close margin. He polled 1,705 votes as against 1,676 for Asa Kelly of Coopersville. Raymond Vander Laan of Hudsonville was third with 1,313. Ferguson received 493 votes.

Hal Boyle Says:

Best-Selling Author Put Iron to His Rejects

—NEW YORK (AP) — A boyish-looking ex-Army officer virtually unknown to the public is making a strong bid to become America's best-selling author.

"I never bothered to learn to parse a sentence in school," drily remarked John D. MacDonald.

But he now earns more in a year than Edgar Allen Poe earned in a lifetime, and is creeping up fast on Erskine Caldwell and Mickey Spillane.

—This one-man fiction factory became an author by accident. But he has turned out 38 books and some 500 short stories, novelettes and serials—a total of more than 15 million words—since 1945. His books have sold some 14 million copies in 10 countries.

MacDonald, 42, who emerged from the war a lieutenant colonel, first turned to his typewriter in 1944 when he was stationed with the Office of Strategic Services in Ceylon.

★ ★ ★

"The only kind of letters you could get through censorship then made pretty dull reading," he recalled. "So, instead of a letter, I wrote my wife a short story.

"She sold it to a magazine for $25, and I decided right then that it looked like an easy way to earn a living."

But it didn't turn out to be so easy. In the four months of his terminal Army leave MacDonald wrote 800,000 words—the equivalent of 10 books — and lost 20 pounds.

"It was pretty horrible stuff," he acknowledged, "but it taught me my trade. At times I had 50 short stories in the mails at once.

"When they came back rejected and crinkled, I used to iron the pages flat to save the trouble of retyping them and send them out again. Later, I burned them all."

He started clicking in 1946.

MacDonald, who is tanned and wears a graying crew cut, lives in Sarasota, Fla. He writes on almost any topic.

★ ★ ★

He is so prolific that once he had four books published on successive days.

"I usually write from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day," he said.

His latest novel, a story of hijinks in an American art colony in Mexico, took him 20 months. It gave him a lot of trouble. But during this same period he turned out four light suspense novels.

What qualities make a writer?

"If you're not by nature an omnivorous reader, forget about being a writer," he said. "The one thing that all writers I know have in common is that they are all compulsive readers.

"Secondly, a writer has to be an iconoclast. If you believe all that you are taught, read or told, you will have too standard a mind to become a writer.

"You will lack an individual viewpoint of your own. This a writer must have."

Bells Are Ringing for Theater Tickets

LONDON (UPI) — Thanks to an American musical comedy, Londoners can now order theater tickets even in the dead of night.

A theatrical booking agency has installed a telephone answering service which allows the caller to make his request when the agency is not open. When staff members arrive at work in the morning, they just play back a tape recorder and process the orders.

Peter Cadbury, of the booking agency, said he got the idea from the telephone answering service featured in the musical, "Bells Are Ringing."

Farm Housing Decried as 77 Pct. Substandard

ITHACA, N. Y. (UPI)—A Cornell University researcher says about 77 per cent of all farmhouses in the United States are substandard and there's little prospect of an immediate improvement.

Prof. Glenn H. Beyer, director of the Cornell housing research center, said most of the substandard dwellings are in the cotton belt.

Sales of foreign-made typewriters in the United States during 1957 accounted for 13 per cent of the total American sales compared with 6 per cent of the market in 1953.

Help Maintain Freedom; Buy U.S. Savings Bonds

"Every American should own United States Savings Bonds" is the motto of a five day campaign locally to increase the number of employes buying U.S. Savings Bonds through regular payroll deductions.

★ ★ ★

The motto should be enough. It is self-explanatory and tells the story. But unfortunately we are a nation used to accepting our blessings as a matter of course.

We are a country of power and peace. But to maintain our freedom, our abundance and our opportunities, we do have certain responsibilities. All these cherished possessions must be paid for.

★ ★ ★

America must remain strong and one of the best methods is through the purchase of United States Savings Bonds through payroll deductions. To have a strong America we must first have a strong community.

The personal advantages of buying and owning Savings Bonds is already known to most of us. Our Government's need for this money is greater today than ever before.

★ ★ ★

If we are to maintain our world supremacy, all patriotic Americans should feel an obligation to take an active part. To guard our rights and privileges what easier way exists than buying a bond and being a part of the "Share in America" campaign now in progress.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Savings Bonds are indestructible and they are your guarantee for the future. Let's help make America grow, by joining the payroll savings plan for bonds where we work.

Russian People Learn What Westerners Think

With courtesy and firmness Mr. MACMILLAN told his audience of the West's accomplishments, its goals, system and freedom. He described his own country's production, twice as much per capita as the Soviet Union; its modern achievements from radar to penicillin; its new housing, doubled university enrollment and its interest in increased trade.

The Prime Minister spoke of Britain's lack of natural resources which caused its people to live by the skill of their hands, the sweat of their brows and the inventiveness of their minds. His country's political system was well explained in these words:

"In our small island, we have thought a lot about political philosophy and we have worked out our system gradually over a period of a thousand years. For the freedom of the organized society is really how to combine order and freedom . . . We believe that man has a spiritual destiny also. Every individual should have freedom to develop his personality. On this foundation our whole political system is built . . . We hold the State exists for the man."

Touching on the present state of the world the Prime Minister warned that conflict between great powers can bring victory to no one, but disaster to all; that in the political field any attempt to gain total victory could bring disaster. He appealed for patience and understanding.

We've been too quick to write off Mr. MACMILLAN'S mission as a total failure. He did a highly commendable job of presenting the British position and the general Western viewpoint without bluster or damagoguery.

IT IS wondered how the devil manages to maintain complete control of hell, despite the fact that there are a large number of slick politicians there and many others arriving daily.

The Man About Town

Built on Timber

Forests of Pontiac Area Foundation of Fortunes

Pontiac's early financial fortunes were built on our primeval forests. Nature supplied the material. Man only worked it up.

The incentive was twofold. Farming was the primary objective of our early settlers. They wanted the trees cut off so the ground could be made to produce their livelihood. They cared little for the timber.

That's where the lumber barons came in. They got the trees for almost nothing, and converted them into lumber in saw mills driven by nature's water power. Dozens of these mills were driven by water along our streams. Lumber was needed to build everything. It always had a good market.

To garner a few of the local fortunes built in this way, come up the names of Norton, Williams, Phelps, Parke, Farnsworth, Voorheis, Howard, Sibley, Conant, Woodbridge, Galloway, Bagley, Richardson and some others.

Although not among the first, our did the best of all, later extending his activities to Northern Michigan and to other states.

While Detroit's early big fortunes also were built on timber, like those of the Newberrys, McMillans and Algers, they also dabbled in politics, and frittered away much of their wealth in that manner. But Ward was too smart for that, and at one time was considered to be the wealthiest man in Michigan.

"We knead dough to live."

And there's also that greenhouse sign at Lake Orion:

"Every blooming thing that grows."

of Waterford recently told me, after his car had been damaged three times within a month, as he managed to dodge a deer, dog and pheasant, all of which got away.

My good friend down at Toledo,

Robert Alexander,

writes me in defense of his city of over 300,000 population, which is claimed to be "the least heard of" among our nation's large cities. While it has no league baseball team and no world famous stores, it has a great diversity of industry, leads the nation in schools and churches per capita, is the

Triumphant Arc

David Lawrence Says:

Sen. Proxmire Exposes Weakness

WASHINGTON — When Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wisc) says that the Democrats, with their two-thirds membership in the Senate, are not functioning as a majority that is representative of the people, he is exposing a serious weakness in the American system.

LAWRENCE

What the Wisconsin senator criticizes in his second speech of a series is the way policy is determined by the Democratic Party in the Senate. He says:

"The cold fact is that Democratic policy in the Senate is made entirely on an ad lib, off-the-cuff basis. The initiative as well as the final decision is almost always resolved by the majority leader himself on the basis of his own judgment of what is desirable and what is possible.

"This is not to say that the individual Democratic senator doesn't play a part in determining policy. His individual vote and whatever influence he may have that goes beyond his individual vote is a factor in the majority leader's calculus.

"But it is the majority leader who does the computing of the possible. And the critical point is that he does it without the over-all conscious guidance of Senate Democrats either in caucus or in policy committee.

It is my position that this is an unnecessary delegation of responsibility by Democratic senators. In the vast majority of Democratic legislative bodies throughout this country and the world, no such delegation is found necessary for action."

★ ★ ★

What Sen. Proxmire is describing, in euphemistic and gently spoken phrases, is a system of one-man rule which hardly squares with the word "democratic."

The job of a majority leader is indeed concerned with reconciling conflicting views so as to arrive at a consensus.

But this is a far different matter from the delegation to one man of power to assign members to committees and to bestow other favors with respect to taking up particular bills in which a senator may be deeply interested.

Many a senator finds that his re-election may depend on whether he gets through the Senate certain legislation that benefits his state.

If the majority leader doesn't look with favor on a senator who bucks the views of that leader on other subjects, the end result might be blocking the bill and ultimate defeat for the senator who stood up for his convictions.

It was never intended by the founding fathers that the two senators who represent a sovereign state would be subject to the rule of a single senator from some other state on whether a particular piece of legislation shall be pushed to passage or left to wither on the vine.

Rebellions against one-man rule in both houses of Congress have made the front pages in past history. The revolt against Speaker Joe Cannon, Republican, in the House of Representatives in 1910 was hailed as an expression of progressive spirit.

It led to an overwhelming defeat of the Republican Party in that year's election—their first loss of Congress in 16 years.

The American people have again and again disapproved of one-man rule in political organizations, whether it be outside or inside Congress.

Today it is evident that few members of the Senate dare to criticise the leader. They prefer to acquiesce in a code of expediency lest they lose favor with the man in control.

Yet, privately, many senators do concede that some bills are kept buried in committee or delayed till the final days of a session when they can be rushed through or defeated, as the case may be, without much debate.

Election of United States senators by popular vote—instead of by state legislatures, so as to overcome "boss rule" in those legislatures—was proclaimed as in line with the democratic process when the Seventeenth Amendment was adopted in 1913.

Yet few people who favored this amendment ever thought that one-man rule in the Senate could nullify the wishes of a whole state and block consideration of measures submitted by one state to the other states for approval or disapproval.

The Country Parson

"When we pray we ought to be careful that we don't ask for all the things we don't have—whether we need them or not."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Why Are U.S. Children Weaker Than Europeans?

Most European schoolboys can chin themselves.

Most American schoolboys cannot.

So the physical education experts propose to omit this stunt from the standard tests to determine whether a boy is physically capable—say to qualify for a commission in the Army, Navy or Air Force.

DR. BRADY

After all, it seems pretty silly to build our national defense with material selected on such a basis. Even if a boy can't chin himself, he may still be able to press a button as well as the next fellow if our foreign aid programs should ever run dry and some disgruntled have-nots start shooting.

The experts who would eliminate the chinning test did not explain, but one of them suggested why European schoolboys make American schoolboys look like namby-pambies. In Europe they walk or run to and from school, and often for considerable distances. In America they ride.

It is not the youngsters' fault that they are weak and steadily getting weaker. It is, I think, the fault of education. I mean to say their education is being sadly neglected. The physical part of it, that is.

NO PLACE TO PLAY

Automobile traffic has virtually deprived youngsters in village and in cities of the right to play. Playgrounds? Even getting to and from the playground involves hazard.

Dogs and kids brought up in villages or small towns led the life of Riley—before everybody got a license to own a deadly weapon, the automobile.

Because such freedom to play has been lost, along with other freedoms we formerly enjoyed in Yankeeland, we parents and grandparents are morally bound to see to it that school children receive a course of physical training under competent teachers and that all school children, except those disabled by disease or defect, be required to DO certain things to qualify for graduation—such as chin themselves, swim 10 yards, turn a handspring or cartwheel or do six pushups.

As so-called physical education is administered in most schools, there seems to be no definite course, no particular goal to aim for, and no specific examination or test at the end of the term to show whether the student has gotten anything worthwhile.

This is scandalous—not just because it is wasteful but because it is unfair to the future citizens of America.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Work 'With' Psychological Gravity

Note Henry's challenging question about my technique in hypnotizing patients. The answer thereto is of vital concern to advertising men, too, for you get far better results if you go "with" psychological gravity instead of trying to oppose it. And send for the helpful booklet below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, I have noticed your use of hypnosis on some patients, so I'd like to ask question.

DR. CRANE

"For example, you may tell a person that he can't open his eyes or raise his arm or unclasp his fingers when his hands are folded.

"Why don't you tell him he can't close his eyes or lower his arm after it is outstretched or fold his hands?"

GO "WITH" GRAVITY

In psychology we usually urge people to go "with" gravity, so to speak, and cooperate with natural laws instead of opposing them.

Apropos of Henry's question, it would obviously be harder to lift one's arm than to lower it after it was already outstretched, wouldn't it.

For in trying to lift it, the patient would have to overcome the force of gravity, whereas in lowering his arm, gravity would make the task that much easier.

After a patient is under deep hypnosis, it makes little difference, but at the start, the hypnotist capitalizes on inertia and friction and gravity.

Thus, when one's hands are folded, friction makes it somewhat difficult to pull the fingers apart.

ADVERTISING STRATEGY

The most successful modern advertising men likewise try to go "with" established habits and psychological laws, instead of "against" them.

★ ★ ★

"Take —— soap when going on your camping trip."

"Going on a camping trip? Then take —— soap."

Before I answer the above question, here's an experiment you can perform on the other members of your family.

Let them take pencil and paper. At a given signal, have them write the alphabet in A-B-C order. Time them.

★ ★ ★

Then give them a second test but at your signal, let them write the alphabet in reverse order, as Z-Y-X, etc. Time them again.

You will find that it requires much longer to write the alphabet backwards. Why?

Because you have been accustomed to thinking forward from A to Z, instead of from Z to A. Yet you have seen the letters the same number of times, side by side, but you are habituated to going from left to right.

In life's normal situation, the usual sequence is to think, "Let's go on a camping trip, so I better take —— soap."

The advertiser who says, "Take —— soap when going on

He wastes much of his money, for his ads don't pull the volume of business they should.

Don't blame the newspaper when your ads fail to be as successful as you wish, for there are definite laws of psychology that often are violated, even by supposedly smart advertising men.

You must learn the proper psychology and use it in the right order, if you wish maximum results.

For further specific advice on this vital topic of the "Psychology of Advertising and Selling," send for the booklet of that title, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'Property Tax Supported Schools Thing of the Past'

It was fine in the days of the little red schoolhouse and three R's to support public schools and child education from property tax, but today with the parents, PTA and others demanding multi-million schoolhouses, with all the trimmings such as sports and school activities, plus highpriced kindergarten teachers to relieve mothers of their obligations, it's just a little more than property taxpayers can take.

State income tax is the most fair and equitable tax to meet school problems, because you pay taxes on assets and not liabilities. Many property taxpayers are social security recipients and should be exempt from all school tax, due to their small income.

'Is That Too Old for Airline Pilots?'

That bad airplane accident in New York had a 59-year-old pilot in control. Could it be that this is too old for that particular job and I wonder how long the air force allows pilots to handle high speed airplanes.

'Keep Courthouse Where It is Now'

Is Pontiac losing her dignity? Many people proudly point to their courthouse square in the heart of the city. How humiliating it would be to have the heart of the city shoved off to one side in such surroundings as proposed, while we keep the jail in the center. County folks like it where it is, handy for everyone. There's plenty of room to build on to it. Don't let anyone chuck Pontiac and Oakland's heart off to one side.

'Let's Investigate Our Own Welfare'

Why not investigate the welfare in Oakland County? We hear so much about Detroit. My husband and our two children are on relief. He's allowed $1.50 an hour. He's a graduate from Pontiac Central. Our neighbor graduated from the same school and he gets $70 a week and gas and oil money for his car mileage. His wife is also working part time in a local hospital.

On Relief

'Pass Message On to Miriani'

Won't someone please tell Mayor Miriani the simple way of solving the problem of police force integration. Just have the NAACP pressure Ike into sending Federal troops armed with rifle and bayonet and force integration down their throats.

Wise Guy

'Is This Liberty, Justice for All?'

One of the things I'm confident of is that if Russia ever takes over the United States, the only change we'll notice in The Pontiac Press is that we'll be reading about the good deeds of the Communists instead of the Republicans.

This Is Justice and Equality for All?

Seconds Suggestion About Insurance

I, too, think a law should compel car owners to carry property damage and public liability. It isn't fair for those of us who carry the maximum insurance.

Several months ago I was parked downtown and a lady backed into me and drove off. I got the license number and found she had no insurance, no driver's license and she hit and ran. I was told by the Police Department I could do nothing but sue her, which I'm now doing.

I have maximum insurance with $50 deductible, so I have to pay for fixing my car, since the damage is under $50, unless I win the suit. Let's hear from others about what we should do to people who disobey all traffic laws and we have to pay.

'Dems Will Pass Over Johnson'

Lyndon Johnson may be considered by the Democratic convention in 1960, but he will probably never run close. He has a heart condition which some say is worse than the President's. The Dems will pass over him.

Income Tax Notes

DIVIDEND INCOME

Dividends received from foreign and domestic corporations are taxable income and must be shown on the tax return. In some cases, dividends are paid in stock . . . these generally are not taxable.

★ ★ ★

Occasionally a corporation will make a distribution to its shareholders which is not out of the earnings and profits of the corporation.

The portion not from earnings is not a dividend, but is a return of your investment. After the investment is recovered, these amounts are taxed as a capital gain.

Individuals who are members of investment clubs must report their proportionate share of dividends earned from the group's investments.

You may exclude the first $50 of qualified dividends from income. This pertains to domestic (United States) corporations.

When using the Form 1040, dividends must be listed on Schedule A of such return. Those who can use the Form 1040-A, enter the amount of dividends after deducting the exclusion as "other income."

A 4 per cent credit against your income tax is allowed on the qualifying dividends. This credit can only be claimed by filing the Form 1040 . . . it cannot be claimed on the 1040-A.

★ ★ ★

Read the instructions for both the Form 1040 and 1040-A and most of your questions can be answered. If you do have any questions, telephone your local Internal Revenue Service office for the answers.

Blasts Dems' School Policy

State Education Chief Candidate Charges Too Much Politics

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—The Republican candidate for state school chief says the Democratic administration is making "a political football" of the public school system.

"There is too much politics, too much paper work and too much bureaucracy in the department of public instruction," said Hugh H. Holloway, Sault Ste. Marie school superintendent.

Holloway, campaigning for superintendent of public instruction, told a Berrien County audience yesterday that many schools have been forced to borrow to keep going and "many superintendents are worried about being able to finish out the school year."

Notwithstanding this concern, he said, the Democratic-run government "seems to be more concerned with making a political point than with saving the schools."

The department of public instruction, run by Democrat Lynn M. Bartlett, "should be spending its time helping work out adequate financial solutions on the basis of what is best for the schools and the education of our children," Holloway said, "not 'pie in the sky,' politics."

A honeymoon is the interval between the bridal toast and the burnt toast . . . In a family argument the kids usually line up behind Mother; they want to stick with a winner . . . A business consultant is often a man who's too lazy to run his own business. —Earl Wilson.

Says Old One Just as Cockeyed

Lopsided Penny to Stay in Circulation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new Lincoln penny is lopsided but will stay in circulation. It seems that the old penny, which has been knocking around for 50 years is just as cockeyed.

Rumors about the new coin have been spreading ever since distribution began in January. There has been talk it is marred by one or more blunders and will be withdrawn from circulation.

Some people have gathered the coins in quantity, believing they will soon become a valuable collector's item.

Leland Howard, director of the mint, said today every such rumor is without foundation and that no mistakes were made in design or manufacture.

One side of the new coin, with the profile of Abraham Lincoln, is unchanged from the model introduced in 1909. The "tail" side is brand new and features a reproduction of the Lincoln Memorial.

"Every time we bring out a new coin there are a lot of rumors and we get a big batch of mail and phone calls," Howard said.

★ ★ ★

"People pay more attention to a new coin and see things they never noticed before," he said.

Take the latest rumor—that the coin is lopsided and must be scrapped because it won't stack properly.

Howard fished a new penny from his pocket and inspected the rim. Pointing, he said: "Here the rim is thinner than at any other point. You can see it with the naked eye."

★ ★ ★

It is caused by the heavy press that stamps the coin design onto a flat disc of metal, Howard explained.

"The metal needed to form the head and shoulder has to come from somewhere," Howard said. It normally comes from the closest point — the rim right below the shoulder. Hence, the rim is narrower at this point.

Howard said almost every U.S. coin, regardless of denomination, has such a thin spot. He picked up a quarter and examined it. The rim was thinner above the head of Washington.

Does this lopsidedness affect the odds on a heads-or-tails flip, Howard was asked.

"I doubt it," he said, "but you can find out by flipping one 1,000 times and keeping track."

Guest Speakers Will Be Heard

Waterford PTAs to Meet

Waterford Township Recreation Director Tom Belton will present "The Fabulous 500," a color movie, at the 8 p.m. Monteith School Parent-Teacher Association meeting Thursday.

This will be Father's Night. Following the film, there will be a question and answer session. A bake sale will climax the evening's activities.

At the Lambert PTA meeting, Oakland County psychologist Leon Hall will present a talk on "The Trend in Special Education in Oakland County." The meeting will go under way at 8 p.m. A coffee hour will conclude the program.

Members of the Drayton Plains PTA will hear guest speaker W. W. Oak explain operations of the Detroit Weather Bureau, of which he is in charge. He also will show a film on tornadoes.

★ ★ ★

There will be an election of new officers, and a representative from the Waterford Township Library committee will present a report.

Classrooms with the greatest percentage of parents present will be awarded a prize. Registration will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Fairer Sex Sails Into Male Seas at Scholar's Ark

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Things are different now in the naval architecture classes at University of Michigan.

The men no longer tell salty stories, and they outdo themselves in being polite.

Prof. Harry Benford says, "I used to begin my class sessions by saying 'Men, today you will —' Now I begin by saying, 'Ladies and gentlemen.' "

★ ★ ★

Pretty redhaired Judy Robinson of Monroe, Mich., was the first coed to break in the exclusive male circle. Now a senior, she broke down barriers in the Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering Dept. for Susan Ott of Dearborn, Mich., and Darien Pinney of Libertyville, Ill., who are sophomores.

★ ★ ★

"I was scared to death at first because the fellows pretended to be rather unhappy about my being here," says Judy. "But I guess I've been accepted by now for they elected me, appropriately enough, purser of the Quarterdeck Society."

As a freshman, Judy joined a sailing club and became interested in naval architecture. Susan figured the only way she'd ever get a sailboat would be to build one. Darien liked math and physics and figured it would be appealing to be a boat designer.

There are more than 800,000 municipal firemen in the United States, but only about one of eight is a full time professional fire fighter. The others are volunteers.

Shuns Dem Cries for More Men, Missiles

Ike Holding Firm on Defense Plan

In advance of a White House news conference, Eisenhower was depicted as determined to hold military spending to the 41-billion-dollar level he set in his budget for the year beginning July 1.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass), a member of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, said Eisenhower had told party leaders at a White House conference Tuesday that attempts to spend more would result in waste.

"The President said that the defense program had been planned and balanced carefully and that any more money put into it would be wasted," Saltonstall said.

Leading Democrats made it clear they don't agree. They called the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Budget Director Maurice Stans before the Preparedness group which starts today an overall survey of military needs.

★ ★ ★

Spearheading an attack on administration is relying on massive Stuart Symington (D-Mo) told the Senate Tuesday that recent statements of Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy indicate the administration is relyin gon massive retaliation rather than preparing for a possible limited war over Berlin.

★ ★ ★

Symington said McElroy seemed to have taken this position "because the Army is neither modern nor mobile."

Sen. A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla) said McElroy had minimized the importance of "having an adequate airlift instantly available" if the Communists close the access routes to Berlin.

"We must not reduce our bargaining power further by continuing dangerous cuts in our military strength," Monroney said. "By these economy moves we run the risk of costs of millions of lives and hundreds of billions of dollars should our weakness lead to the outbreak of World War III."

★ ★ ★

Dean Acheson, who served as secretary of state under former President Truman, told a news conference that Eisenhower is refusing to spend enough money on missiles. He called this a form of national suicide.

In New York Adlai E. Stevenson, twice the Democratic presidential nominee, disputed the contention of Republicans that Eisenhower knows best what the country's defense needs are.

★ ★ ★

"Military men can make as many, if not more, mistakes than non-military men in office," Stevenson said. But he joined Eisenhower in opposing any general mobilization of military forces because of the Berlin crisis.

★ ★ ★

Sen. John M. Butler (R-Md) called on his colleagues, meanwhile, to unite behind Eisenhower as the chief spokesman for the West in the Berlin situation.

Long, Mud, Rice Prove Most Popular Lake Names

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI) — Minnesota has so many lakes there just aren't enough names to go around. In fact, the Minnesota Historical Society counted 99 bodies of water called "Long Lake." Ninety-one were dubbed "Mud Lake" and 76 "Rice Lake."

To make matters worse, some of the state's 11,000 lakes have three or more names each.

Mackinac Prohibits Cars

LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—Mackinac Island, situated between Michigan's two peninsulas in the Straits of Mackinac is one place where parking is no problem. No automobiles are allowed. Sightseeing must be done on foot, or from a bicycle or horse and carriage.

Ending Quiet to Preminger Divorce Battle

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Producer-director Otto Preminger's wife has divorced him in a quiet ending to their bitter court fight.

★ ★ ★

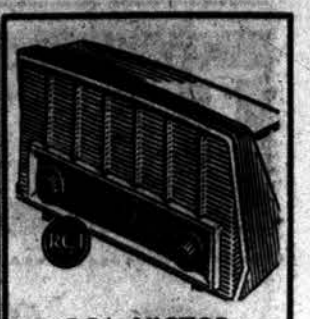

Under a property settlement, Mrs. Mary Gardner Preminger, 40, one-time New York model, will receive property and cash worth nearly a quarter-million dollars. They had been married seven years.

★ ★ ★

Both withdrew earlier accusasations of unfaithfulness by the other. Preminger had named British actor Michael Rennie as the other man. She had listed three London models as co-respondents.

City Girl Wed in Ann Arbor

Mrs. Harold Lewis Blackwood of Ottawa drive announces the marriage of her daughter Barbara Anne, to Robert Wolcott Bradley, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Pointer Bradley of Detroit.

The couple was married Friday evening in Ann Arbor. A reception was held at the bride's home following the ceremony.

Tape Removes Lint

Pontiac Press Photos

Troops From 3 Schools to Present Scoutarama

In commemoration of Girl Scout Week, the Wisner-Lincoln-Alcott School area is presenting a Scoutarama at 3 p.m. Thursday in Wisner School gymnasium. The affair is open to the public.

The program will be based on "The 11 Fields of Interest in Scouting" with each of the 11 troops in the neighborhood taking part.

TO GIVE SKIT

Brownie troop 566 will present a skit, "Animals in Woodland," and a nature display. Agriculture was chosen by Brownie Troop 578. The girls have planted and are growing seeds, wheat, oats and even alfalfa.

For the field of song and game, "Good Night Ladies," will be presented by Brownie Troop 355 in costume. Brownie Troop 300 specializes in arts and crafts and its members will hold a workshop. They will exhibit a floor plan of a doll house complete with furniture.

★ ★ ★

"The Chipmunks," will be sung in pantomime by Brownie Troop 140. Homemade cookies and aprons will be featured by the girls in Intermediate Troop 415. Intermediate Troop 579 will give a health and safety display.

TO DISPLAY FLAGS

Project of Intermediate Troop 280 is a display of hand-sewn flags of the 43 member countries in the Girl Scout movement. The troop will also have the 49-star American Flag displayed.

A style show on what to wear out-doors and an exhibit of outdoor camp equipment will be shown by Intermediate Troop 312.

Intermediate Troop 31 will give a musical comedy. A flannel graph narration of a "Little Bug," will be done by Senior Troop 23.

★ ★ ★

On special display will be a scale model ranch style home. The dollhouse has been a program project for all Girl Scouts this year.

Mrs. Vern McCracken is program chairman and Mrs. Edmond Vaughn is master of ceremonies.

Children Plan Show for Parents

Children of Wever kindergarten will present a program for their mothers at 1:30 p.m. Thursday in the school gymnasium.

The morning class will enact a Tom Thumb Wedding. Taking part will be Janet Martin, William Wallace Jr., Ronald Ritchie, Pattie Gene Moore, Andy Turner and Ginger Cork.

A pageant, "The Shoe Children Welcome Spring," will be given by the afternoon children. The children will portray a number of nursery rhymes. Taking part are Linda Leitch, Michael Carie, Rodger Fite and Wanta Tesnear.

Mrs. Byford Laur is kindergarten teacher. Assisting her is Marilyn Goode, student teacher from Wayne State University. Accompanist for the program is Mrs. Melvin Boersma.

Nurses Group to Hear GMTC Safety Leader

Elwood Bigler, safety supervisor of General Motors Truck and Coach Division, will be guest speaker at the meeting of Oakland County District Nurses Association to be held Tuesday at McAuley School of Practical Nursing.

At the meeting, to be held at 8 p.m., preceded by a social hour at 7:30 p.m., Mr. Elwood will speak on "Two Eyes Have You."

Mrs. E. A. Rasak, R.N., is program chairman. Hostesses will be Sister Mary Niceta, RSM, and Mrs. Vernon Harcourt, R. N.

Wed in Pontiac

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Barnes of Waterford announce the marriage of their daughter Janice Kaye, to Pfc. Karl A. Stickel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Stickle of Featherstone drive.

The double-ring ceremony was performed Saturday evening by the Rev. T. R. Allebach at Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church before members of the immediate family.

DIANE A. SPRATT

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spratt of Clarence street announce the engagement of their daughter, Diane Alee, to Charles D. Sobocienski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sobocienski of Madison Heights. Miss Spratt is attending Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing. An Aug. 22 wedding is planned.

Gardeners Hear Talk at Meeting

Roy Aldrich of a local nursery showed a movie on landscaping a new home and answered questions about it at the meeting of Holiday Farms Branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

The meeting was held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Raymond McMorris of Lynsue Lane. Mrs. Charles Murphy was cohostess.

Members voted to sponsor a pruning workshop in April in cooperation with the Oakland County Extension Service. Mrs. Richard Cardona was appointed chairman of the project.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Melvin Gemmell, charter president who has moved from the area, was elected honorary member to the Holiday Farms Branch.

Mrs. Hemstrom Is Honored at Stork Shower

Mrs. Douglas Menzel was hostess at her Mt. Royal street home Sunday for a stork shower honoring Mrs. Gunnar Hemstrom of Warren. Cohostesses were Mrs. Edward Grant and Mrs. Gordon Blonde of Inkster. Mrs. Ernest Yeager poured.

Guests included Mrs. R. W. Faulman, Mrs. Vina Mumbrue, Mrs. Lynn Allen Jr., Mrs. Albert Faulman, Audry Faulman, Lora Lee Faulman, Judy Faulman, Mrs. Carl Frederickson, Mrs. August Cremer and Mrs. Theodore Cremer.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Clarence Faulman, Mrs. Robert Diesing, Suzanne Yeager and Gail Diesing of Birmingham, Mrs. William Colton Jr., of Detroit, Mrs. V. A. DePew of Flint and Mrs. Paul Cummings of Millington.

Officers Elected by Baptist Class

Officers for the coming year were elected at the Monday evening meeting and cooperative dinner of Berea Class of Memorial Baptist Church, held in the church basement.

They are Mrs. Lon Brown, teacher; Mrs. John Venneman, assistant teacher; Mrs. Lee Schuler, president; Mrs. Cecil Lankford, vice president; Mrs. August Erickson, secretary; Mrs. Albert La Fountain, assistant secretary; Mrs. Kyle Wharff, treasurer; Mrs. A. A. Garner, assistant treasurer, and Mrs. Lankford, devotions.

Pontiac Press Photo

"I'm no artist, but I just love to make things with my hands," says Mrs. Howard L. White of South Shirley street, as she demonstrates how she makes delicate Easter egg dolls for her youngsters and friends each year. But we ask you, did you ever see anything more artistic than the fragile, skillfully fashioned little figures adorning her dining table?

Pontiac Mother Makes Eggshell Dolls

She Creates Easter Art

By MARGARET BROWN

One day several years ago a local mother—in a creative mood, for it was nearing Easter—took some raw eggs, punctured small holes in each end, blew out the contents, and painted the oval shells in gay colors for her youngsters' Easter baskets.

As she decorated an egg with a bunny face, the thought struck her, "Say, wouldn't these make cute dolls!" And with that, Mrs. Howard L. White of South Shirley street was launched into an egg art venture that since has given her hours of creative satisfaction and has brought delight to many others as well.

EYE-CATCHING DISPLAY

Right now the buffet in the Whites' homey dining room is bedecked with an eye-catching array of pipe-stem figures, each with a pert expression painted on its eggshell face, clad in colorful crepe paper—and each, by the way, spoken for by her children for friends and teachers.

There are Indian braves and maids, clowns, oriental ladies, gypsies and old fashioned belles, who appear to peek at one demurely from behind their paper parasols.

Mrs. White affectionately has named many of her creations, and some of them actually seem to have a genuine personality, as they stand poised on display. Any child would have no trouble envisioning the tiny doll populace awakening to life after the adult world has retired for the night.

Mrs. White buys small eggs with lots of color for her dolls. She begins saving the shells about a month ahead of Easter. Of course, the family has to eat all the eggs, so the mother is kept active trying to serve dishes calling for lots of them.

SCRAPS FOR COSTUMES

Every conceivable kind of scrap material is saved for making the dolls' costumes. Among items we noted Mrs. White has done wonders with were thread spools, string, yarn, felt, net, doilies, fur pieces, inner soles, old hat ornaments, and even parakeet feathers "borrowed" from a feathered friend of her mother. "I seldom buy any materials, except for tape or crepe paper," she relates.

Especially striking are some of the coiffures the talented mother has styled for her figures. Snipping myriad minute pieces of yarn, she painstakingly glues them to the shell, fashioning smart closely cropped bobs. Strips of yarn make long curls, chignons and pigtails; and next on the list, says Mrs. White, are a ponytail and an upsweep.

Our photographer seemed most captivated by a young brave who sported a Mohawk cut right down the middle of his little egghead. The hairdos always are done last, so they may be matched with the doll's clothing and coloring. Hard boiled eggs wouldn't do for this kind of work, as they're too heavy, according to Mrs. White.

'RELAXING WORK'

"I find my work so relaxing that I'm sometimes up until 2 in the morning puttering around," states Mrs. White.

The attractive mother, who has been a Cub Scout den mother for the past three years and belongs to the McConnell School PTA, also likes to work with other forms of art. She makes corsages and centerpieces for school affairs, paints her windows during the holidays with shoe polish and food coloring, and decorates cakes. One year she placed a miniature Indian village atop a birthday cake.

Mr. White, a captain at Station No. 5 of the Pontiac Fire Department, also has been active in Boy Scout work and has taught civil defense courses. The couple has a daughter, 16, and two boys, 13 and 7 years old.

And just how does this family feel about mother's absorbing hobby? Well, they're really all for it. "But," jokes Mrs. White, "they wish Easter would hurry up and come so they can stop eating eggs for a while!"

Emerson PTA Set for Election

Tonight's Meeting Also Will Feature Program

Officers will be elected at Emerson School PTA meeting, to be held at 7:30 tonight in the school multi-purpose room.

Names to be placed on the ballot by the nominating committee are Mrs. Lawrence Curtis, president; Mrs. Warren Waldbillig, vice president; Mr. Curtis, father vice president; and Mrs. Gerald Livingston, teacher vice president.

★ ★ ★

Council delegates on the ballot are Mrs. Thomas McKeever, Mrs. Donald Agar, and Mrs. Lloyd Clancy, and council alternate is Mrs. Ernest Thorndycraft. There will also be opportunities to write in candidates.

PROGRAM PLANNED

A program on Mental Health will be presented. Douglas Everhart and staff members of Pontiac State Hospital will show techniques of physcodrama used at the hospital.

Planning to represent Emerson PTA at board of education meetings are Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. McLauchlin, Mrs. Flanagan, Mrs. Clancy and Mrs. George Tucker.

There will be announcement of leadership training, problems clinic, polio clinics and the results of past clinics at tonight's meeting. Plans for a square dance and bake sale, to be held in April, will be presented. Revised bylaws will be voted on.

Kindergarten children are furnishing the name tags this month and refreshments will be served by mothers of Mrs. Livingston's, Mrs. Lillian Walter's and Lois Coans' rooms.

Tuesday Musicale Concert Well Received

By CHRIS GAENSBAUER

Any performance by the Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Chorus before its own club is warmly received. This seemed especially true Tuesday afternoon when members of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale and guests met in the Grace Lutheran Church Fellowship Hall for the annual spring concert by the chorus, under the fine direction of Jean Putnam.

To open, the chorus vigorously proclaimed that "Everyone of Us Has Something to Sing About" from "Holiday Song" by William Schumann, and everyone listening agreed.

In the first place, the sun was shining, many a spring bonnet was making its debut and the members of the chorus were looking most attractive in their new pastel-colored shirtwaist dresses. The new costume was occasioned by the invitation for the Pontiac Chorus to sing before the State Federation of Music Clubs Convention in Detroit in April.

CHANGE OF PACE

Next on the program was "Lachrymosa" from Mozart's "Requiem." This quiet, reverent number was sung with lovely tone quality and deep feeling. Three excerpts from the "Peasant Cantata" of Bach provided another change of pace. These show the great Bach in a secular, lighthearted mood and are delightful. Singing without accompaniment, the chorus handled the gay interweaving melodies with musical skill and precision. "Love Can Be Dreamed" by Johann Strauss finished this group.

★ ★ ★

In their second group the chorus sang "Clouds" by Charles, then "My Johann" by Grieg. In this they maintained an appropriate light tone quality while singing with much spirit and very effective contrasts in volume. The humorous American folksong "Lollytudum" introduced an element of "corn" to the concert and much amusement for the audience.

HIGH POINT

"Agnus Dei" by Bizet closed the program and was the high point of the afternoon. Robert Peterson of the Pontiac School Instrumental Department played the violin solo with Mary Louise Lindquist carrying the soprano solo part. Mrs. Putnam produced from the chorus a full, mellow tone which provided a rich background and ended the performance on an inspired and deeply moving note.

★ ★ ★

The soloist for the afternoon was Judith Dickstein, pianist, a resident of Pontiac and a student at the University of Michigan. She has developed much musical understanding and a fine technique.

This was apparent in the clean finger work in extremely rapid passages of the "Mozart Sonata (F Major)." In "Jeux d'Eau" by Debussy, she achieved the covered, dreamy tone needed for this impressionistic work, while maintaining clarity in the rippling arpeggios.

MODERN RHYTHMS

The four short pieces of "A Suite for Piano" by the contemporary Della Joio was Miss Dickstein's last number. These were full of interesting modern rhythms, dissonances and contrasting moods. As played by her with skill and assurance, they were most attractive.

Flora Wager provided the excellent piano accompaniment for the chorus.

Mrs. Ralph Norvell, club president, discussed some of the program of the state convention for which Pontiac is one of the hostess clubs. Mrs. Gordon Woolcock was program chairman for the day. As scholarship chairman, she mentioned the Interlochen Scholarship auditions to be held in April. Students wishing to audition must present applications to her before March 15.

Mrs. Curtis Patton was social chairman of the day with Mrs. Owen Kline as cochairman. Others were Mrs. Corliss Armstrong, Mrs. Alex Capsalis, Mrs. Walter Wharton, Mrs. Marvin Alward, Mrs. John Blamy and Mrs. Milton Hathaway.

Door hostesses were Mrs. Hathaway and Mrs. W. H. Eustice. Mrs. Norman Kuijala and Mrs. L. J. Enos presided over the tea table. Mrs. Earl Bartlett and Mrs. Carroll Osmun were in charge of floral arrangements.

Hostess to Lucky 13

Mrs. John Bee of East Chicago avenue was hostess at her home to Lucky 13 Club Tuesday evening to honor the birthday of Mrs. Stephen Sapelak. Prizes were won by Mary Burmaster, Nettie Buss, Mrs. Sapelak and Mrs. Ray Deem.

Giant standout pockets and a slightly molded waistline add distinction to this youthful two-piece orlon and wool dress by Jacques Griffe. A French couture favorite, the dress has a wide shoulder line and back-buttoned bolero. Colors are green, navy, and white check.

Fresh and dainty as spring itself, is this batiste "Sunday" pinafore designed especially for a young lady. The fluffed skirt is accented with lace and faggoting and bound in pink. The ponytail bonnet is designed to match the dress.

Such notables as Dr. Wilson Paul of Michigan State University, Roy J. Alexander of MSUO and Mrs. F. G. Garrison have been assisting Mrs. Maxwell Shadley, program chairman fo rthe Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall 1959-60 season, to line up lectures and speakers for the new group's meetings throughout the year.

Dr. Paul is director of the lecture concert series and a professor at MSU. His experience in booking has enabled the committee to plan a program with the aim of bringing "personalities of national and international repute to Pontiac." People with fresh talent and vigorous ideas—"rising stars in the world of today," as Dr. Paul likes to call them.

ARRANGED CONFERENCES

Director of student services at MSUO, Mr. Alexander is interested in Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall as a means of presenting to student and faculty members of the university an opportunity to attend lectures on important topics of the day. He has been instrumental in arranging conferences with Dr. Paul.

* * *

Mrs. Garrison is co-chairman for planning Town Hall programs for the season. A professional speaker, she has worked on program planning for the Village Women's Club of Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills and has served as program chairman for many outstanding organizations.

5 LECTURES PLANNED

Five lectures on varied subjects, both serious and entertaining, will be offered this season.

Town Hall programs in Pontiac will be on Wednesday from 10:30 to 11:30 at the Oakland Theater, and will be followed by celebrity luncheons at which subscribers to Town Hall will have opportunity to meet and talk with the many exciting personalities scheduled to appear.

Committee Leaders Named by Auxiliary

Mrs. Robert Miller, president of Woman's Auxiliary of Episcopal Church of the Advent has appointed her committee chairmen.

They are Mrs. Clements White, worship; Mrs. Arthur Skelton, united thank offering; Mrs. Gilbert K. Hause, publicity; Mrs. Frederick Laffery, historian; Mrs. Rogers I. Marquis, parliamentarian; Mrs. J. Robert Kent, Christian social relations; Mrs. Edward Hansz, hospitality, and Mrs. C. Sanborn Hutchins, Fall Fair.

The next meeting is to be at 8 p. m. April 7, at the church.

Club Plans Open House on April 12

The Italian-American Club women's auxiliary made plans for an open house to be held April 12, when members met Monday in the club's hall with Mrs. Robert Mazza and Mrs. Ralph Mazza.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be the most Rev. G. Pollio, PIME, archbishop of Kaifeng, China, who was a prisoner of war in 1950. The public has been invited to attend the program.

The group also is making plans for a fashion show and card party to be held at the hall April 28. Mrs. Robert Ranzilla is chairman for the event.

Beauty Clinic

ART OF DECEPTION

The master stroke of success in your make up is the application of a foundation. Too much cannot be said of your careful selection and application. Dry skin will react favorably to the moisturizing base of a tinted foundation cream or liquid. For an oily skin, experiment with pan cake base.

Care and time are important in the application. Blend upward and outward and never, never rush. Then let it set while you comb out curls or some other grooming step, before going on from there.

Should Gifts Be Equaled in Value?

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I both come from quite large families. We used to exchange birthday presents with all the members of the family but it became too much and so we all agreed just to give presents to the children in the family. We all more or less spend the same amount for gifts.

"This is my problem: I am the only one in the family with three children, all the others have two. In this case, don't you think I should give their children more expensive gifts to make up for the extra present they have to buy, or do I spend the same amount.

"I feel rather guilty about this and think we should make up for it in the way I suggest. My husband thinks I am wrong. Will you please give me your opinion?"

Answer: Much as I dislike the idea that presents should be balanced on an adding machine, I think you would do well to give two somewhat nicer presents in exchange for the three your children receive.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What can one say, without being rude, to someone who keeps coaxing you to have something to eat or drink? On quite a few occasions I have been confronted with this problem and have wound up eating something I really didn't want because the hostess just wouldn't take 'no thank you' for an answer."

Answer: When a hostess intending to be hospitable insists that one of her guests take a drink or let us say, a second helping of food, and refuses to take "No thank you" for an answer, the guest can add, "I only wish I could, but it's doctor's orders."

"Dear Mrs. Post: In order to settle a dispute, will you please tell me whether it is proper to give a baby shower after the arrival of a baby?"

Answer: Yes, certainly! In my opinion, better than before.

Housing facilities will not be available at present on the Michigan State University Oakland campus, although in special cases housing may be arranged in the community.

Mrs. Laur will give a resume of the activities in a day at kindergarten.

'Geraniums' Topic for Dirt Gardeners

Revisions to the constitution and a round-table discussion on geranium culture highlighted the Tuesday meeting of the Pontiac Dirt Gardeners Club. Members met at Adah Shelly Library.

Mrs. C. B. Lawrence, sixth grade teacher at Dublin School reported on the conservation meeting at Higgins Lake, where she was sent to represent the club.

Luncheon was in a St. Patrick Day motif with a shamrock plant grown by a member as a centerpiece. Hostesses were Mrs. Kenneth Gidley and Mrs. Louis Guellec.

On April 14, the group will meet at 1 p.m. at Adah Shelly Library for a birthday tea. Mrs. Donald Nagel will present a study of birds.

New Home Means New Outlook on Life

By RUTH MILLETT

At sixty, with their children grown and gone from home, they sold the big, old-fashioned house that was dark and gloomy and bought a light, cheerful, convenient, modern house.

The change in houses has not only lightened their house and yard work, it has brightened their personalities, too.

A year ago they were rattling around in a house that was cheerful enough when four children and their friends were about, but which became mighty dark and quiet and depressing when there were only two left in a house big enough to hold a family of six.

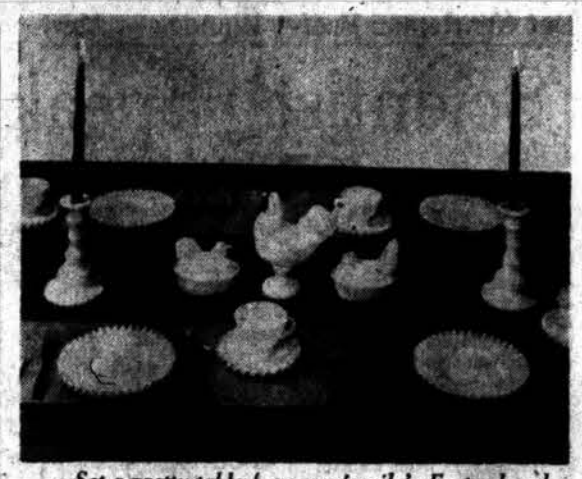

Now they are in a house built for a young couple — a perfect house for two. And even though they are not a young couple — the house makes them feel as if they were.

Once again they are having the fun of fixing up a home, just to suit the two of them. The yard is small — because there is no longer any need for a large one and they have had enough of the back-breaking work of keeping up a large yard.

There are no extra rooms in the house that have to be cleaned — because they have just the space that they use every day.

And the new house has built-in conveniences that the old one lacked, so that day-to-day living is much simpler and easier.

People outgrow their surroundings, just as they outgrow other things. But often a couple will cling to the old background and live in a big, old house like a couple of ghosts instead of facing the fact that they are "just two" once again and that the kind of home they need is a house for two, not a house for a family.

Set a pretty table for your family's Easter breakfast! A festive note is created easily just by adding the gay American handmade milk glass figures for the centerpiece and flanking them with milk glass candlesticks.

To give windows extra sparkle, wash them with warm soapy water containing a little bluing and a few drops of kerosene. Then rinse with warm water and polish dry with a clean, lintless cloth.

Table Setting One Way to Express Individuality

One of the pleasures of keeping house is setting a pretty table. All of us take pride in using candles, flowers, an unusual centerpiece, or colorful china and glassware to express our individuality.

Table settings today are not as formal as they were in our mother's day, but they can be just as attractive. It's always easier to set a charming table if you have a central theme with which to start.

GAY EASTER THEME

If you are planning a party, you can make a centerpiece out of yellow crepe paper and flank it with candles. A lavender cloth, yellow napkins and amethyst glassware make a stunning picture.

VARIETY OF CHOICE

There is a wider choice of cloths, napkins, china and glassware than ever before, and for a very small amount you can create a beautiful table. Plastic placemats are colorful as well as utilitarian.

With a limited amount of money and some imagination you can discover color combinations and complementary settings that will make every meal a festive occasion.

But Gentlemen Prefer Blondes — Abby

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I have heard that gentlemen prefer blondes so I decided to make a study of blondes for the sake of experiment. In 1958 I dated 156 blondes. They included silver blondes, strawberry blondes, platinum blondes and dishwater blondes. In order to compare them, I dated the same number of brunettes.

"My survey showed that 97 blondes were too stupid for conversation, 101 blondes were willing to park on the first date (67 suggested it) and only 23 blondes asked me if I was married. I found the brunettes to be brighter by far, much more discriminating and far more sincere. Now, what do you think of that?"

SCIENTIST

DEAR SCIENTIST: I think I know why gentlemen prefer blondes.

"DEAR ABBY: My husband runs a grocery store. It is supposed to be strictly cash and carry but we extend credit to some of our good customers who can't pay cash all the time. One family has been six to eight months behind with their bills but we still give them groceries.

"I wouldn't take food out of the mouths of children but, Abby, do you think it is right for people to ask us to charge (and deliver) beer and cigarettes? I told my husband to tell them we wouldn't stand for it, but he is afraid they will get mad and trade elsewhere and we will be stuck for what they owe us. Should he talk to them or not?"

GROCER'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Your husband should tell these people (privately, of course) that you are doing them a special favor by giving them credit and they should not abuse the favor by charging anything but necessities.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: Our son is 13 years old and he goes in for the sports boys of his age enjoy. We are worried about him because he is such a poor loser. When he comes home from a game we don't have to ask him how he did. It shows on his face a block away. He has even come home with the tears standing in his eyes. Is it natural for a boy to be such a poor loser?"

CONCERNED

DEAR CONCERNED: There are no "good losers"—just good actors. Your son should learn how to control his feelings a little better.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am the oldest of five children. My father is sick and cannot work so our house is pretty run down. A boy who belongs to a very well-to-do family has asked me for several dates and I have accepted but I tell him to meet me at the show for I do not want him to see our house. He keeps asking me why he can't pick me up at home and also take me home. I don't know what to tell him. I am 16. What should I say?"

ASHAMED

DEAR ASHAMED: You need not be ashamed of your home no matter how plain it is. By all means, have him call for you at home and return you there, if he's the right kind of a boy, it won't matter.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SHEEPISH" IN THE STOCK ROOM: Take it on the lamb. She's too temperamental.

LEG CRAMPS?

One of the most common causes of painful muscle cramps in legs, feet, toes, arms and hands is a prolonged deficiency of calcium. The use of famous doctor and widely-read newspaper columnist, formerly with the Mayo Clinic, and other well-known health authorities.

When meals, consistently deficient in calcium, are fortified with DYNA-CAL Calcium Tablets, tormenting calcium-deficient muscle cramps can be promptly relieved. But don't confuse DYNA-CAL Tablets with ordinary calcium-phosphorus products. DYNA-CAL Tablets contain no phosphorus which frequently interferes with the absorption of calcium. And DYNA-CAL Tablets contain a special ingredient which helps to put calcium into the blood stream quicker — bringing faster relief to cramping, calcium-starved muscles. Pleasant-to-take DYNA-CAL Tablets with calcium, betaine hydrochloride, and vitamins D and C contain no drugs. They are safe, harmless, calcium food supplements. If you are suffering miserable muscle cramps, and suspect you are not getting enough calcium, ask for DYNA-CAL Tablets, today. Bottles of 90 tablets, $1.50.

Busy Puppeteer

Shari Lewis Gives Advice on Life

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Shari Lewis has so much magnetism and such a special quality of aliveness, warmth and freshness, that I decided I wanted to know more about her and what makes her that way. I am sure that most of you have seen Shari and her puppets either on her "Hi Mom" show or as a guest on one of the big network shows.

This five foot high, ninety pound mite, is one of the busiest persons you can imagine. Besides her regular television work she now is doing a series with the Girl Scouts called, "Adventuring in The Hand Arts."

Shari seems incredibly fit both physically and emotionally. It is difficult to imagine that she has ever had any disappointments or even temporary physical setbacks or ever becomes tired. Yet she really has what most people would consider to be a grueling schedule.

When I asked her when in the world she ever found time to write her book about puppets, she replied "Actually that book was a form of relaxation for me. Whenever I had a few moments I would devise a new puppet, until I had enough for a book!"

When questioned concerning what she does to stay fit she said, "I believe that a lot of healthy interests make for healthy bodies and that a mind which is taken up with constructive endeavors will automatically fall into a relaxed state by the end of the day."

When Shari was 17 she broke her leg. Her parents provided her with so many things to do and make and read that she hardly realized she was convalescing. She devloped so many new interests during this time that she was able to bear the thought of discontinuing her dancing. When she recovered, it seemed perfectly natural to go right ahead into the new career of puppeteering and ventriloquism.

WONDERFUL EXAMPLE

Even though she is a very young woman (only 25) Miss Lewis seems wise beyond her years and is a wonderful example of a constructive approach to life. Even at this early age she seems aware of the dangers of boredom and the magic benefits of many interests.

Evidently she loves life and is intersted in everything. She also seems to have learned, or just naturally had the talent of working in a relaxed way. She also is adaptable.

Shari is a strong believer in hobbies (as is "Why Grow Old?") She said, "Incidentally, I would advise anyone looking for a hobby to watch the Scout show, 'Adventuring in the Hand Arts,' because it is crammed with interesting things to do to occupy the mind and the hands."

In the meantime, if you would like to have my leaflet, "Hobbies," which gives you many suggestions, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 66. Address it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

YEARS OF CONFLICT — The so-called era of peace which the world welcomed after World War II has been anything but peaceful, as Newsmap above shows. The same year the war ended, fighting broke out between The Netherlands and Indonesia. All over the world, nationalistic feelings, held in check during the global struggle, rose to a tide that has swept in a wide series of "limited wars" since then. They have included overthrowing — or attempts to overthrow — foreign domination, civil insurrections and subversion, boundary disputes and the ousting of home-grown dictators, the most recent being the Cuban Revolution. Background to it all has been the continuing "Cold War" between Eastern communism and Western democracy. It has been the most war-filled "peacetime" era in history.

Waterford Water System Hook-Up Fee Set at $200

Any new home owner in Waterford Township wishing to make a connection to one of the eight township operated water systems will be required to pay a $200 privilege fee.

This resolution was approved at the board's weekly meeting after the township engineering firm of Johnson & Anderson had submitted the recommendation, relative to a recently compiled survey.

Six blacktopping construction bids were opened for paving Lansdowne street and six were received for three blocks on Marion street.

The lowest bidder for the Lansdowne project was Doherty & Doherty, of Detroit, submitting a $16,977 bid. New low bidder was Detroit Concrete Products with $18,073.

Low bidder for paving Marion street was Detroit Concrete Products with a bid of $10,964. Next low bid for this project was Doherty & Doherty with a $11,021 bid.

The bids were referred to township engineer and a final hearing will be held at 8 p.m. Monday for both projects.

There were no objectors to the zoning change.

The owner has indicated that he wishes to construct a gas station, hardware store and another business on the site.

Lotus Lake Subdivision developers have agreed to pay $7,500 into escrow for the construction of a storm drain from a swamp in their subdivision to the lake.

They also paid $2,015 to the township last night for past due inspection fees on their two subdivisions on Williams Lake road. The board then approved the subdivision plat No. 2.

An application for a soft drink license for the Catfish Pond owner, Warren Chambers, at M59 at Williams Lake road, was denied pending investigation of the business when the catfish season opens.

Beginning Saturday the Waterford Township Hall offices will be closed all day.

Would-Be Thief Locked in Men's Room Overnight

ROME (UPI) — Sergio Ibisco, 20, locked himself in the men's room of a tavern with the intention of looting the place after it closed.

But the tavern's owner locked the room from the outside, too. Ibisco tried to smash the door. He tried to burn it. But he was found the next morning and captured. Adding to his humiliation was this —another key to the door had been lying on a shelf all the time.

U.S. Air Force Group

WHEELUS FIELD, Libya (UPI) —A U.S. Air Force fighter-interceptor squadron stationed in Morocco has shattered all European and possibly worldwide records for air-to-air rocketry by American pilots, it was announced yesterday.

Scorekeepers at this U. S. rocketry range near Tripoli said the 7th Air Force's 357th fighter-interceptor squadron from Nouasseur Air Base tallied 436 hits on aerial targets during a 30-day firing period. This was described as a new high for this kind of shooting.

Revolt Splits Iraq and U.A.R.

The Baghdad government claimed it had smashed the revolt against Premier Abdel Karim Kassem and reports spread that some of the rebel army officers were trying to escape across the Syrian border. Other reports said fighting was still going on, apparently by desperate holdouts trying to flee the country.

The U.A.R.'s semi-official Middle East News Agency charged that Iraqi planes had shot up a Syrian border village. The agency also reported that Iraqi planes had strafed several Iraqi villages in the Mosul area near the border.

Kassem meanwhile expelled 10 U.A.R. diplomats assigned to the Baghdad embassy, declaring they were a menace to public safety. The Baghdad correspondent of the Middle East News Agency also was ordered out.

Nine of the ousted diplomats arrived in Cairo and reported that the Baghdad government apparently was still digging in for a fight.

First reports of the revolt made clear that the rebellious army officers wanted to swing the Iraqi government toward Nasser and opposed the growing influence of the Iraqi communists on Kassem.

Military governor Ahmed Saleh el Abdi in a broadcast over Baghdad radio blamed a "foreign power" for sparking the rebellion. It was plain he referred to the U.A.R. Street demonstrations staged in Baghdad to support Kassem turned into anti-Egyptian rallies.

Debate Begins Over Hawaii

Statehood Is Assured as Senate, House Vie for First Passage

WASHINGTON (AP)—Statehood for Hawaii, an issue in Congress for 40 years, burst into full flame today as both Senate and House prepared to take up the bill.

★ ★ ★

In the Senate, the Hawaii admission bill is co-sponsored by 56 senators, more than a majority.

The House Rules Committee cleared the way Tuesday for House consideration of the measure under procedure allowing six hours of general debate in addition to time spent considering amendments. Action may come Thursday. The Senate arranged to take up the measure after disposing of a draft extension bill.

Pontiac City Affairs

Approve Rezoning for Beer Warehouse

Rezoning for a beer distributor's warehouse north of Columbia avenue was completed last night over the objections of Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, in whose district it will be located, and Commissioner Wesley J. Wood.

By a 5-2 vote, the City Commission rezoned nine lots north of Columbia along the western side of the Pontiac, Oxford & Northern Railroad from residential to commercial.

"This is putting another objectionable operation within District 4," said Miles, who has traditionally opposed adding liquor facilities within the city.

By the same vote, the Commission resolved to vacate an alley on the warehouse site and prepared to vacate right-of-way there for E. Ann Arbor avenue.

There were no objections raised at a public hearing on vacating the street.

Preparation of cost estimates were ordered for recapping several major streets, including: Orchard Lake avenue, Clinton River to Saginaw; E. Huron street, Saginaw to Perry; Sanderson avenue, Oakland to Cass; S. Johnson avenue, Orchard Lake to Huron; Judson street, Saginaw to Parke; Cass avenue, Pike to Orchard Lake; Prall street, Huron to Washington; and Raeburn street, Paddock to Sanford.

The City Clerk's Office erroneously reported yesterday that the Raeburn improvement would be on Prospect street, from Paddock eastward.

Commissioners also asked for costs to lay 22-foot wide pavement on Joslyn road from Walton boulevard to the city limits. For economy reason, the pavement will be narrower than the standard 28-feet width.

On recommendation of the Planning Commission, an ordinance was ordered to provide for rezoning of 169 lots in the Glenwood Estates subdivision from manufacturing to residential.

The rezoning, largely correcting non-conforming usage of the land by homes, is to back a developer's bid for FHA help in building new homes along Walton boulevard near Highwood street, said Henry Smith, plan commission secretary.

For the same reason, the Commission also is planning to rezone the sites of nearby Malkim School and Jaycee Park from manufacturing to residential at the same time.

A hearing to vacate the alley paralleling Highwood in the subdivision will be held April 14. On the same date, there will be a hearing to vacate the alley behind commercial property at the southeast corner of Orchard Lake and Telegraph road.

The Planning Commission recommended both steps.

Another change in the special assessment formula was approved, this one providing for side-lot property to pay 60 per cent on improvements for the first 150 front feet and the city 40 per cent.

★ ★ ★

City Attorney William A. Ewart announced that an ordinance amendment had been drawn up on recommendation of the Health Department, placing ice-vending machines within the scope of the city's ice code.

It was scheduled for preliminary discussion at the Commission's next informal meeting, March 20.

Also set for discussion then will be the future of the citizens' Unemployment Arbitration Committee, which reported it has had no cases before it since Jan. 23.

Fred V. Haggard, the committee's chairman, asked for permission to disband, but several commissioners suggested that the committee recess subject to call, instead.

Haggard reported the committee has arbitrated 44 cases between debtor and creditor since the committee was appointed last summer.

Cost estimates were ordered for grading and graveling the contested alley south of Walton between University and Baldwin. Commercial interests on one side of the block want the alley and residents on the other side don't want it.

"Both sides should state their cases at a public hearing," said Miles, in whose district the fight is being waged.

A decision on whether salvaging at the Kennett road dump should be permitted again was referred to the March 20 meeting.

Under consideration are two plans, one to allow salvaging under city permits, the other to sell salvaging rights through competitive bidding.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The General Services Administration has announced a $37,862 contract for post office building improvement to the Robert L. Zieve Co. of Detroit.

Mayor Rowston Searches Map for Hubbardston

Close examination showed the hamlet of 350 persons lies in the northwest corner of Clinton County, some 35 miles northwest of Lansing as the crow flies.

It's there that Rowston will be honorary village president on Exchange of Mayors Day, May 18, an annual event during Michigan Week.

The exchange was set yesterday in a drawing by Michigan Week officials that also scheduled these exchange visits for other towns in the immediate Pontiac area:

Birmingham and Saugatuck, Bloomfield Hills and Kinde, Keego Harbor and Owosso, Lake Angelus and Calumet, Sylvan Lake and Cement City, Troy and Addison, Rochester and Luther.

Deaths of Twin Girls Attributed to Measles

Darlene and Karlene Riddle, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Homer E. Riddle, were being treated for measles at the time of their deaths, family members said.

Foot Soldiers May Have Baby A-Bomb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Baby-sized nuclear weapons for use by foot soldiers may now be part of the U.S. arsenal.

Without any elaboration, the Atomic Energy Commission disclosed Tuesday that it has developed or is trying to develop nuclear weapons with a wallop of only one ton of TNT.

Such a weapon, only 1-20,000 as powerful as the first atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima, presumably would be designed for infantry use similar to the anti-tank bazooka gun.

The AEC mentioned the baby-sized weapons in a report listing for the first time specific explosive yields of the 19 test shots during last fall's "Hardtack" series in Nevada.

The average barrel of crude oil is broken down as follows: 43.79 per cent becomes gasoline, 3.77 per cent kerosene, 23.14 per cent diesel and home heating fuels, 14.39 per cent residuals, 1.93 per cent lubricants and 12.98 per cent other refined products.

New York GOP Chiefs Push Budget Before Rift Widens

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The state legislature's Republican leaders moved swiftly to pass Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's two-billion-dollar budget today while the broken Assembly revolt still was under control.

The state Senate was scheduled to pass the trimmed $2,000,577,797 version of the budget first.

Assembly GOP leaders, having cracked a rebellion in the ranks Tuesday, appeared confident. But they were taking no chances.

Speaker Oswald D. Heck hoped to rush the record tax and spending program through the House as soon as the Senate was finished. He had pledges of at least 78 votes — only two more than the majority he needed.

At last count, 14 Republican assemblymen were still "off the reservation" and grumbling. But Heck said he expected a few of them would return to the party fold when the floor vote was taken.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the Rockefeller administration prepared to put the tax system into effect April 1, the start of the 1959-60 fiscal year.

Collections will be shifted to a payroll withholding basis and taxes will be raised by about 112 million dollars, as personal exemptions are cut to $600 apiece.

Current exemptions are $1,000 for a single taxpayer, $2,500 for a married couple filing a joint return and $400 for each dependent.

The Rockefeller plan also will raise the state cigarette tax from three to five cents a package and impose a 15 per cent tax on the wholesale price of cigars and other tobacco products.

As part of the governor's fiscal program, the state gasoline tax was increased March 1 from four to six cents a gallon.

The budget is the first in New York's history to top two billion dollars, and it calls for the greatest round of tax increases New Yorkers have ever seen.

Originally Rockefeller asked for 277 million in new or increased revenues, including a 150-million boost in income taxes, to support a $2,041,000,000 budget.

After a general clamor against the income tax plan arose, however, GOP legislative leaders chopped 40 million from the budget and used most of it to cut back the tax increase.

Save Alaska Missionary From Arctic

BARROW, Alaska (AP)—A flying missionary and his Eskimo companion were plucked from the arctic wilderness Tuesday after surviving 40-below zero blasts in a tent sewn by the minister's wife.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. John Chambers, 29, former Scotia, N.Y., clergyman who now serves the Presbyterian mission here, and Jesse Ahgak appeared in good condition despite their 24-hour ordeal. They were picked up by bush pilots and flown to the village of Umiat.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Mr. Chambers was able to send out a radio distress message when his single-engine Cessna 170 was forced down about 130 miles southwest of here. He and the Eskimo made camp beside the downed craft and stayed snug in a tent Mrs. Chambers had presented her husband as a surprise gift just before takeoff.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Chambers is formerly from Schenectady, N.Y. The Rev. Mr. Chambers, a native of Mifflinburg, Pa., also is Associated Press correspondent in this arctic area.

MONTPELIER, Vt. (UPI)—The Vermont Supreme Court's budget for fiscal 1960-61 was cut $350 after it was discovered the court was purchasing its stationery from a Philadelphia printing firm at a higher price than Vermont companies charged.

Delay Naming Brazil Envoy

Cooling - Off Period Asked Before OKing Clare Boothe Luce

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee may delay until after Easter approval of Clare Boothe Luce's nomination as ambassador to Brazil.

Sen. Russell B. Long (D-La) said that some of the members want to allow time for a "cooling-off" period before acting.

★ ★ ★

He said some members are concerned because of the publication in the Latin American edition of Time magazine of an article blamed for setting off anti-American rioting in Bolivia. Mrs. Luce's husband, Henry R. Luce, is editor-in-chief of Time.

Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore), chairman of the subcommittee on Latin American affairs, said he got the committee to postpone action "for the time being until the nomination can be given further consideration."

★ ★ ★

Long said he was not disposed to oppose confirmation as "Mrs. Luce is able and talented and there is no objection to her on the part of the Brazilian government."

"But I think she ought to use some of her diplomacy on her husband's magazine," he said.

French Train Runs Off Rails, Two Killed

MONTPELLIER, France (AP) — The Bordeaux-Riviera express ran off the rails near here early today, killing two people and injuring 12 others. About 600 passengers were aboard.

The accident apparently was due to a failure in a coupling between two cars.

Cadillac

A Wonderful Story...Told in Silence!

But we think no one tells the story quite as well—or quite as convincingly—as the car itself.

And how does a Cadillac put it? Well, the next time you are in the "car of cars"—just listen!

Listen, for instance, to its absolute freedom from vibration. Here, it says, is the kind of craftsmanship that can only have come from years of devotion to the very highest quality ideals.

Then listen to its freedom from wind noise. Here, it says, is perfection in styling—as scientifically sound as it is majestically beautiful.

Or listen to the incredible quiet of that great engine. Here, it says, is truly masterful engineering—with every phase of the car's performance working in perfect harmony.

And listen to the marvelous manner in which it closes out the sound of city traffic. Here, it says, you will find perfect serenity throughout the longest of journeys—a wonderful sanctuary in a busy world.

Yes, just listen—and we think you'll agree that the Cadillac story is never more eloquent than when told by the "voice" of its own silence.

In fact, we earnestly suggest that you visit your authorized Cadillac dealer very soon—and spend an hour or so in the driver's seat.

You will find that your dealer is long practiced in the art of satisfying a motorist's personal needs and requirements—and he will make you his welcome guest at any time.

Oh, the Misery of It All; Irish Band Can't Play

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sure and it was a sad day for the Shamrocks of Cleveland.

The Irish folk here had a big shindig Tuesday night for the Shamrocks, launching a new season in the Gaelic football conference. Mick Delahunty's band from the Ould Sod was to play.

★ ★ ★

But Delahunty's boys never touched an instrument. Singer Carmel Quinn explained the band learned that an okay from the International Musicians Union was good only in New York.

Delahunty and the Shamrocks danced to Irish jigs played by Joe Hruby and his Bohemian band.

The first man to use the Santa Fa Trail from Independence to Santa Fe, N. M., was William Becknell, a trader from St. Louis, in 1821.

Are You So Run-Down You Can't Give Your Husband Real Companionship? Then Discover The Wonderful Blood-Strengthening Action of This Special Iron Tonic for Women!

How tragic when a woman feels so tired, so run-down, she can't be a real companion! This can turn marriage into misery! Luckily, it's often due to "Iron-Hungry Blood" (simple iron deficiency anemia). Then it's needless for women to suffer this awful weariness. Now, a wonderful iron tonic can help relieve this condition...thus renew your vigor and vitality. It's Lydia E. Pinkham's Tablets, only blood enriching iron tonic made especially for women!

Rich in iron, Pinkham's Tablets start to strengthen "Iron-Hungry Blood" within one day! Thus quickly help build rich, red blood...to restore your strength and energy . . . so you feel fine again fast . . . able to enjoy life!

Pinkham's unique formula can also bring blessed relief from functionally-caused "female distress". Even torturous monthly cramps and "Hot Flashes" of change-of-life were relieved in doctors' tests! No wonder so many women use Pinkham's Tablets all through their lives!

If you're tired, weak and rundown due to "Iron-Hungry Blood", get Pinkham's Tablets from druggists. See if you don't soon feel "all" woman again!

FOR FEMALE AILMENTS! Doctors' tests prove famous Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound (liquid) also brings quick relief from discomforts of monthly pain and change-of-life.

LUMBER SLUMBER — Talk about a housing shortage, even these raccoons at Swope Park Zoo in Topeka, Kans. are hard put to find a spot for their afternoon siesta. The animals that got to the tree stump "apartment house" first are slumbering peacefully, but the latecomers have to wait their turn at the bottom.

In a showgirl's lexicon, a man who's ambidextrous is one who can sign checks with either hand . . . During this period of high prices (says J. L. Jones of Kecoughton, Va.) the average family might find it thrifty to plant shoe trees in the back yard. —Earl Wilson.

AFL-CIO Jobless Bill Introduced in Legislature

LANSING (AP) — A labor-backed bill to increase and extend jobless pay benefits came into the Legislature today.

Rep. Albert R. Horrigan (D-Flint) said it was supported by the AFL-CIO and was designed chiefly to:

1. Bring more workers under the unemployment compensation program.

2. Increase weekly benefits and period of eligibility.

3. Reduce assessments against stable employers.

4. Ease qualification requirements for jobless workers.

Maximum period for collecting unemployment benefits in any year would be raised from 26 to 39 weeks, with all those qualifying for payments eligible for the maximum period.

SET BY LENGTH

Present law sets the maximum according to the length of employment.

Workers would be allowed to collect 50 per cent of their average wages, plus $5 for each dependent, or the amount specified for their situation in jobless pay tables—whichever was higher.

Another proposal would wipe out the solvency account of the unemployment compensation fund, a bookkeeping arrangement within the fund which taxes all employers ½ per cent when the fund drops to a certain level whether they have layoffs or not.

Maximum employer tax rate would drop from 4½ to 2.7 per cent on the first $15,000 of wages subject to contributions to the fund. This feature was aimed at helping smaller employers.

Benefits of $800 or less would not be charged to an employer's account.

The labor program would not require that an unemployed worker be actively seeking a job only that he "be able and available to perform suitable work."

Workers would not need to be laid off a week before qualifying for benefits.

An employer would need to employ only one person for as little as 20 hours a week to come under the act. Present law sets the minimum at four employes.

Aides to Gov. Williams stressed that the governor had not taken a stand for or against the AFL-CIO proposal. Williams has yet to decide whether to submit a bill, they said.

Measures which came into the Legislature yesterday included those to:

Pay up to $100 moving expenses to persons whose homes are condemned because of state highway building projects (Edwards).

Outlaw sale of any new pump-action or self-loading guns containing a safety device which does not lock the seat or hammer or striker, unless there is a warning attached (Whinery).

Detroit Steel Mills Busy

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit area steel mills, operating at 99.5 per cent of capacity, produced a record 151,880 tons of steel last week, the magazine Iron Age reports. The figure betters the previous record of 146,290 tons produced the week ending Jan. 10, 1959. Last week's output, the national metalworking weekly said, marked the first time in two years the local operating rate has exceeded 99 per cent of capacity. Steel output this week is expected to dip to 148,540 tons as Detroit area mills ease operating schedules to 97.3 per cent of capacity.

Rackets in Chicago's Produce Market Probed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Labor-Management Committee set out today to explore charges of labor extortion rackets in Chicago's huge produce market.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) said the hearings will center on Joey Glimco, president of Chicago Teamsters Union Local No. 777.

Glimco was described by McClellan as a former corner newsstand dealer who rose "to a $26,000 a year executive through the medium of labor unions."

State Man Kills Wife in Florida

Hammer Slaying Ends Argument Over Other Men at Bradenton

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP)—An unemployed painter from Kalamazoo beat his wife to death with a claw hammer yesterday and was charged with second degree murder.

Woodrow James Byers, 46, told officers he and his wife, Vivian Fern Byers, 42, began arguing in their trailer home about her association with other men.

State Atty. W. Mack Smiley quoted Byers as saying he suddenly picked up a hammer and started beating his wife on the head with it. The couple's sons, Ernest, 12, and Richard, 10, witnessed the slaying.

Smiley, who filed the charges, said he found no indication of premeditation to substantiate a first degree charge. He said the couple had been drinking.

★ ★ ★

The state attorney said the family came to Florida several months ago from Kalamazoo, Mich., where Byers had worked with his father in the building trades business.

In addition to the two boys living in the trailer, the couple had two other children, Woodrow Jr., 18, and Yvonne, 16, who both live at Bradenton.

Pavement stripes on the new 187-mile Illinois tollway system required more than 26,000 gallons of paint.

School Officials Press for Passage of Aid Bill

LANSING (AP)—School men are exerting "terrific" pressure to hurry passage of a bill to guarantee state school aid payments at a $190 per pupil level, Michigan's public school chief said today.

"We've had a flood of phone calls and letters from individuals, school districts and school organizations all over the state," said Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction.

Some districts, he said, warn they may face bankruptcy if the bill is killed or gets bogged down. Distressed districts, already up to their necks in debt, need it to get additional bank loans, he said.

Twin measures guaranteeing the $190 through next June 30 were introduced in both the House and Senate in January.

Under prodding from school organizations, however, the upper chamber probably will start the ball rolling toward passage this week. If not, House finance leaders promised to step into the act and get something done.

"Whether or not the money is in sight as yet, the mere fact the state would agree to pay the full $190 is enough to establish credit for most school districts and give them more favorable interest rates," Bartlett said. "Until it's passed, banks will look twice before they make any more loans."

Schools have borrowed about 58 million dollars for operational purposes since July 1, Bartlett said. Interest payments on the loans will cost schools about two million dollars, he added.

"That's enough money to build a school for 1,000 to 1,500 pupils or enough to hire 400 teachers at $5,000 salaries," he said. "It's too bad that interest money couldn't have been spent for such worthwhile purposes."

Caribbean Island Wars Loom in Wake of Castro's Successful Revolt

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW
President, UPI

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (UPI) —The Caribbean area today presents all three Americas—North, South and Central—with another Balkans on their doorstep that could erupt in warfare.

Tensions appear to be mounting steadily in the potentially explosive military-political situations involving the island republics.

If the first gun is fired in invasion attempts against the probable initial targets of the Dominican Republic of Haiti, it seems equally probable a whole series of wars may start in chain reaction around the Spanish main.

The decision appears to rest on the dramatic person of Fidel Castro who ousted Dictator Fulgencio Batista from Cuba and who is committed to supporting revolutions in the Dominican Republic, Haiti, and Nicaragua in the Caribbean and Paraguay in South America. His argument is that their presidents are as dictatorial as Batista was.

Catching his zeal, revolutionaries from these target nations have been holding meetings in Cuba, many of them public and well advertised, to formulate their own plans.

A typical incident was observed by this correspondent in a crowded Rancho Luna suburban restaurant outside Havana. Multi-colored handbills distributed at the tables called for "liberation of Santo Domingo (the Dominican Republic)" and concluded "down with the tyranny of Trujillo."

An excited Dominican leaped on a table, called for silence and addressed himself to the Cubans present:

"As you fought in the jungles of Oriente (province), so will we soon fight in the forests of the Dominican Republic."

★ ★ ★

A public address system in the restaurant played the Cuban revolutionary song "Day of Freedom," ending in a simulated burst of machine gun fire.

Haiti, under president Francois Duvalier, seems to be regarded as the ripest target at the moment with an invasion unit under former Haitian Senator Louis De Joie announcing itself ready to take off this month.

The overthrow of Duvalier in Port Au Prince would not only place a man friendly to Castro in control, but would give the Cuban leader an operating base against Trujillo—his primary target—since Haiti and the Dominican Republic share the same island.

Responding to the mounting pressure, Trujillo has announced formation of an "anti-communist legion" of 25,000 men armed with new machine guns to supplement his regular army.

Trujillo has begun dispersal of his Air Force, the most modern in the Caribbean and his primary defense, amid repeated rumors that American soldiers of fortune friendly to Castro have assembled surplus warplanes on an isolated island in the British West Indies in hopes of destroying the Dominican Air Force in a single raid.

The probability at the moment is that Castro himself would not directly participate in any military moves against the target nations. But he is believed to have given so much direct encouragement and the promise of arms to revolutionaries from these lands that they may launch offensives on their own, unless he orders them to stop.

But so far, offensive plans continue to be made in Cuba, while defense measures are taken in Haiti, the Dominican Republic, Nicaragua and Paraguay.

Since Paraguay is not in the Caribbean it does not appear to be involved in immediate developments by revolutionaries.

There seems a good chance that the warlike talk in all the countries visited by this correspondent may subside, exhausted by its very violence.

Despite all threats, no trigger has been pulled yet. And each day without gunfire is one more day of stability.

At the same time, it is evident that the emotional level of exiles is so high and arms are so plentiful that an international military adventure may start anywhere in the Caribbean unless the man of the hour in Cuba takes specific steps to halt it.

Intended for Capitol Office

'Hot' Carpeting Goes to MSU

LANSING (AP)—A $666 bundle of "hot" carpeting that kicked up a fuss around the Capitol last fall is destined to muffle footbeats at Michigan State University.

The floor covering, 74 yards of it, is "hot" only politically.

It has been paid for — and how! It changed hands twice for cash, including $24.54 from the personal jeans of State Controller James W. Miller, not to mention a high additional price in official sweat and embarrassment.

Bought first by the State, it now has been peddled to MSU, which paid in Kellogg Foundation funds and will use it in a new wing at Kellogg Center, MSU continuing education center.

Originally, the carpet was destined to cover floors in a side chamber of the Governor's office occupied by staff aides and secretaries.

In service 10 years, the present carpet has been trod on by an estimated one million pairs of feet that beat it into a symbol of Michigan's fallen financial estate for newspaper readers across the country.

Innocently, Miller entered the picture last summer as state supervisor of Capitol maintenance. He foresaw possible injuries to women whose high heels might catch on frayed spots or holes.

Miller ordered its replacement, and subordinates bought a loom end of high quality, wool twist material at a bargain of $9 a yard.

About this time, Gov. Williams, then in a political campaign found out what was going on, and so did Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Drayton Plains), the legislature's No. 1 governmental waste detector.

Williams put his foot down hard. No new carpet. Lodge fixed a beady stare on Miller. The carpet gathered dust, first in the shop of the vendor and then in state storage. Nobody moved.

Rather than be accused of causing any financial loss, Miller dipped into his own pocket to pay up on carrying charges assessed by the rug merchant.

And so Michigan still can lay claim to floor coverings in its chief executive office that without doubt are unmatched in any like place in the nation.

Nation's Educators Attend Flint Clinic

FLINT (AP) — Educators from cities throughout the United States attended the opening of the first national Community School Clinic at Flint last night.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Ernest O. Melby of Michigan State University, was the keynote speaker. He described the full role education must play in the life of the nation.

Dr. Shane MacCarthy, executive director of President Eisenhower's Citizens' Advisory Council on youth fitness, also spoke at the opening dinner at Flint Junior College's Ballenger Field House.

The President's council held a quarterly meeting in Flint yesterday. The meeting was secret.

★ ★ ★

MacCarthy said it was held here to give council members an opportunity to study the Flint community school concept under which the city's schools serve as a service center for the entire community.

Develop Top Grade Synthetic Rubber

NEW YORK (AP) — Development of a synthetic rubber described as tough and durable as the tree grown variety — and just as cheap — was announced today by top officials of Shell Chemical Corp. and U.S. Rubber Co.

They said the man-made product can make the United States independent of foreign rubber in case of war.

The synthetic rubber, known as poly-isoprene, is now in limited production at a Shell Chemical Corp. plant in the Los Angeles area, the joint announcement said.

U.S. Rubber Co. said it is using the new synthetic in the manufacture of truck tires.

A temperature of 135.4 degrees below zero Fahrenheit has been recorded 13 miles above the South Pole by an airborne instrument. This is believed to be the lowest temperature ever recorded at any height anywhere.

Kennedy Leads Pack According to Polls

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Paul M. Butler, Democratic party national chairman, said Tuesday that according to polls, Sen. John Kennedy (D-Mass) leads the pack for the party nomination as president. But, he said, it's a long time before next year's party convention.

★ ★ ★

Butler told a news conference he was not writing off Adlai Stevenson as a candidate, but added that to get the nomination, a man must seek it.

★ ★ ★

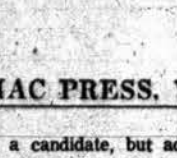

"There are a lot of people who think you will have a chance to wear your Stevenson buttons again in 1960," he said. "In my opinion, the country has never had offered to it by either party a man so well qualified to be president as Stevenson."

The United States has more than 25,000 high-school drama groups and 2,300 community and civic theaters.

Party-Crasher Kills 1, Wounds Another Badly

DETROIT (AP)—A gunman forced his way into a party in a Detroit apartment last night, killed an innocent bystander and wounded another man seriously.

Witnesses said the intruder apparently was disgruntled because he wasn't invited to the party.

Killed by a .38 caliber slug in his stomach was James Quinney, 25. In receiving hospital with wounds in the left side and right arm is Luther Johnson, 27.

Witnesses told the police the gunman, pistol in hand, pushed open the door of the apartment and fired three times at Johnson. Then he turned to Quinney and said:

"I don't like your looks."

$420,000 Worth of Jewels Taken

Valuables Were Stolen From Parked Rolls Royce of Lady Norah Docker

LONDON (AP) — Flying squads from Scotland Yard raided the homes of two London gang leaders early today but no trace was found of Lady Norah Docker's missing $420,000 worth of jewels.

The two underworld figures had been spotted in Southampton Monday night a few hours before the jewels were stolen in the port city from the Dockers' parked Rolls Royce.

Homes of suspected fences also were raided. The detectives prodded furniture, poked around the floorboards, tapped the walls, peered up chimneys and dipped into water tanks. There was no sign of the missing baubles.

A London insurance firm offered a $42,000 reward.

Lady Norah and her millionaire third husband, Sir Bernard Docker, left the two boxes of jewels and his briefcase in their silver and blue Rolls on a Southampton street while they had dinner Monday night. When they returned the jewel boxes and the briefcase was gone. The car was still locked the windows intact and there were no fingerprints but the Dockers'.

Detectives were convinced the robbery was the work of a gang of specialists that had tailed the couple for months.

"Norah is terribly upset," said Sir Bernard. "Now she is practically down to the jewelry she stands up in—about 15 to 20 thousand pounds worth."

The Food Fad Racket

Americans Squandering Millions on Phony Cures

(The nostrum has yet to be found that cures everything, but every day millions of Americans shell out good money for a variety of drug and food products that are alleged to cure just about whatever ails you. This is the first of three dispatches reporting on the efforts of the Federal government and the medical profession to protect the public from being victimized by false claims.)

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans are wasting $500,000,000 a year on vitamin pills, mineral products and other so-called "food supplements" which they don't need and which they wrongly regard as short-cuts to health.

This estimate comes from the American Medical Association. It is termed "conservative" by a spokesman for the U.S. Food & Drug Administration.

The two organizations have joined with the National Better Business Bureau in a concerted campaign to warn the public against what the AMA calls "a racket that is spreading with alarming speed."

Their efforts are strongly endorsed by Arthur S. Flemming, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, who says that unscrupulous promotion of food fads "has become the most widespread and expensive form of medical quackery in the country today."

★ ★ ★

It should be emphasized that special vitamin and mineral products MAY serve a useful purpose if, for some special reason, your diet requires this kind of supplement.

But leading nutrition authorities say that the vast majority of Americans can get all of the vitamins and minerals they need from an ordinary balanced diet.

The AMA estimates about 10,000,000 persons in the nation today are regularly dosing themselves with costly "food supplements" which they don't need. It is these people—not the relatively few for whom vitamins and minerals are medically indicated—who are wasting their money.

The stuff they buy (with a few exceptions) is not harmful in itself. It usually contains the specific vitamin and mineral concentrates advertised on the label, plus assorted fillers such as alfalfa, seaweed and ground eggshells.

The danger—says the government and the AMA — lies in the fact that many of these products are being peddled to the public by high-pressure salesmen who falsely represent them as cure-alls for virtually every known ailment from dandruff to cancer.

"The results can be tragic," Flemming says.

"People who have serious medical problems are misled by these false claims to rely on products which do not actually help them, and thus fail to get proper medical attention until it is too late."

Fad food racketeers have two primary methods of making their pitch.

One is the so-called "health lecture" at which a glib pseudo-scientist dispenses a persuasive blend of superstition, sex and salesmanship to convince his audience that all human illness can be traced to improper diet and remedied by his particular "wonder food."

The other is door-to-door selling, carried on by an army of perhaps 50,000 men and women. Some of them are legitimate salesmen who simply offer vitamin products as part of their line without making any extravagant claims.

But many are doorstep-diagnosticians who do not hesitate to prescribe that high-priced nostrums as a cure for any ache, pain or disease symptom that the prospective customer may mention.

Tavern Joke Turns Serious, Four Become Bank Robbers

MASSAPEQUA, N.Y. (AP) — How do a plumber, an insurance salesman, a blueprint developer and a tavernkeeper suddenly turn into a gang of bank robbers?

Authorities pondered this question today as they held four Long Island men accused of the $72,000 holdup of a bank here Monday.

The four were nabbed in less than 24 hours. All the loot taken from the Security National Bank was recovered.

★ ★ ★

It started across the bar one night, say police, when a joke about how to solve money worries suddenly turned into a serious crime plot.

Anatole, whose friends call him Andy, is behind the bar. He is a round-faced, husky ex-wrestler who occasionally drinks more than he should.

Once Andy went on a water diet for 21 days to "clean out" his body. Once his wife told him he should see a psychiatrist but he didn't take to the idea.

On the other side of the bar are several of Andy's pals and regular customers, who often visit him in the Rylskys' apartment upstairs.

Tom Parks and Bill McHenry are younger fellows, 27 and 31 to Rylsky's 44. The old-timer of the quartet is Dick Hatch, who is 53.

Parks is a plumber with a wife and two daughters and a home at Bay Shore just east of West Babylon. A husky, handsome fellow with a crew cut, he looks like he might be a policeman and actually is the son of a retired New York City detective. He frequently complains of "blinding" headaches.

McHenry sells insurance and lives in West Babylon with his wife and three children. His father, a prosperous real estate man, is president of the West Babylon Board of Education. McHenry had polio when he was a child, and was thrilled when he was able to get into the Navy during World War II. After the war he joined the Marines for a hitch.

Hatch has four children. Like Rylsky he was in the Army before World War II, but he isn't as crazy about military stuff as Andy is. For many years he has just been the quiet, bespectacled blueprint man in the state highway office.

The four are drinking beer, and somebody says: "I sure could use some more money."

The general reaction is: "Who couldn't?" and then one of the four suggests that maybe they should rob a bank.

★ ★ ★

Why the kidding conversation of the insurance salesman, the plumber, the blueprint man, and the tavern keeper suddenly turned serious, no one can say.

"We're not in debt except for the mortgage," says Rylsky's wife, as mystified as any one.

Coat Purchased 27 Years Ago Paid for at Last

People's Credit Clothing store at 8 N. Saginaw St. finally has been paid in full for a $19.95 lady's coat purchased almost 27 years ago.

The store reecived a $14.95 check yesterday from Mrs. Elma Fisher of St. Petersburg, Fla., who explained in an accompaiying letter:

"I put $5 down on the coat when I bought it a long time ago. But I lost my job soon after in the depression and was never able to finish paying for it."

W. H. Leonard, the store manager, said records showed the coat was purchased March 18, 1932.

'Russia in 3D' Topic Thursday at Teacher Meet

The Area "D" Department of Classroom Teachers will hold a monthly dinner-meeting at the E. J. Lederle Elementary School on W. Nine Mile Road in Southfield at 6 p.m. tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

The speaker will be Dr. Marion Edman of Wayne State University, Detroit, whose topic is "Russia in 3D."

Dr. Edman was one of the Michigan educators who toured schools behind the Iron Curtain last summer.

Walled Lake to Request School Financial Aid

WALLED LAKE — An application to the Municipal Finance Committee for funds to operate schools against this year's tax levies in case full state aid is not paid is being prepared by School Superintendent Clifford H. Smart today.

★ ★ ★

The action follows authorization by the local Board of Education earlier this week.

Smart also has been authorized by the Board to procure acreage adjoining the Wixom School site from John Parvu at a cost of $1,750. It would be used for additional playground space.

The Board has announced it is presently considering a fire hazards survey of the district's schools recently completed by the state fire marshal.

DIFFICULT, COSTLY

One hazard which will be most difficult and probably expensive to correct entails enclosing stairways and installing fire doors in the present junior high school, Smart said.

Actual cost of this project has not yet been explored.

Administrators were given the go-ahead to secure bids for equipment for the new junior high school and the senior high addition after the Board has studied the lists and estimated cost of $90,000.

A special meeting of the Board to consider salaries and budget needs for 1959-60 will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the Junior High School, Smart announced. Meanwhile, Board members John Clark and Joseph Long will meet with representatives of the Walled Lake Michigan Educational Assn. and discuss salaries at 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The Board has canvassed reports of the election boards and certified them to be correct as reported, Smart said.

JOSEPH R. KLEIN

Local Man Directs Eastern Scout Camp

AVON TOWNSHIP — Joseph R. Klein, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Klein, 3305 Auburn Rd., here, was recently named director of the Ten Mile River Scout Camp of the Greater New York Scout Council.

He will continue his duties as director of special gifts in the Council's finance service unit.

Klein was honored recently by being selected by the Catholic Archdiocese of New York to receive the St. George award for continued outstanding service to Catholic youth through scouting.

★ ★ ★

Klein attended St. Michael school in Pontiac, Notre Dame, Michigan State University, and took a special Schiff training course for professional scouting executives.

KATHLEEN LaFOUNTAIN

The betrothal of their daughter Kathleen to Keith Sandusky is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Jed LaFountain of 6163 Lanman Rd., Drayton Plains. The fiance is the son of Lorie Sandusky of 90 Christie Dr., Waterford Township. A fall wedding is planned.

Mormon Women Plan Baked Ham Dinner

LAKE ORION — The Women's Department of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints here will sponsor a family-style baked ham dinner tomorrow.

Servings will be from 5 to 7 p.m. in the church hall at 531 E. Flint St. The public is invited. Proceeds will go toward the church building fund.

Your PTA Is Planning

Slides, Sales, Votes on Agendas

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Slides on Alaska will be shown when the Pontiac Lake PTA meets in the school gymnasium at 8 p.m. tomorrow. The meeting will be preceded by an open house at 7:30

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Taig will show slides taken on their trip through the union's newest state and through the Yukon Territory and British Columbia in Canada during the summer of 1956.

Refreshments will be served by second grade mothers.

CLARKSTON — Mental health consultant Dr. Wallace Wafts will address the Clarkston Elementary School PTA at tomorrow's meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the school. His subject will be, "Bringing Out the Best in Our Children."

A panel discussion with two foreign exchange students and two American students will be held at the Sashabaw Elementary School PTA meeting here at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

The discussion will be conducted by Mrs. Frank E. Wickham who is with the American Field Service.

Election of officers will follow the discussion. Second grade mothers will serve refreshments.

ROCHESTER — The nominating committee will present officers for the coming yaar at the Brooklands-Avon PTA meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Brooklands School.

After the regular business meeting, Girl Scouts from the Brooklands troop will present a special program. This will be followed by a bake sale to be held by leaders and mothers of the girls.

FOUR TOWNS — Girl Scouts, Brownies, Boy Scouts and Cubs will be represented by one member each for a special program during tomorrow's meeting of the Four Towns School PTA in the school.

An open house will be conducted from 7:30 to 8 p.m. before the meeting to enable parents to meet their children's teachers.

Refreshments will be served by mothers of the third grade with Mrs. Irvin Maynard and Mrs. Richard Vershure in charge.

ORCHARD LAKE — PTA Film Night is scheduled for 8 p.m. to-

Avon Dems Plan Dance

AVON TOWNSHIP — Members of the Avon Democratic Club and their friends will gather Saturday night for a square dance from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 at the Avon Pavilion in Avon Park Rochester.

Philip Hammial, 22, of 2589 Ridgewood Rd. in Farmington and Bradley A. Richardson, 22, of Vandalia confessed setting the fires "for excitement." They pleaded guilty of malicious destruction of property.

Both also were ordered to make restitution of $75 each within 30 days or go to jail for 30 days. The penalties were imposed in Circuit Court at Charlotte.

Penny Supper Planned

LAKEVILLE — The Lakeville PTA will sponsor a penny supper Saturday at the school. The committee, headed by Mrs. Arthur Burny, will begin serving at 5 p.m.

Begins Tomorrow in Rochester

Offers Dog Training Class

ROCHESTER—The first instructional classes in obedience training for dogs offered by the Adult Education Dept. of the Rochester Community Schools are scheduled for tomorrow evening in Woodward Elementary School gymnasium.

★ ★ ★

A class for small dogs will be held from 7 to 8 p.m. and for larger dogs from 8 to 9 p.m.

Instruction will be directed by John McNary and his assistants, trainers for the Southern Michigan Obedience Club.

The classes which will be held regularly for 10 weeks are open to any dog owner whether the dog has had any previous training or not. Fee for the course will be $10 per dog.

DOROTHY LEE SUTTON

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Sutton of 300 Davisburg Rd., Holly, announce the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Lee, to William Knecht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knecht of Berrien Springs. A July 12 wedding is planned.

3 Arrested in Romeo After Speedy Chase

ROMEO — Three men were arrested here last night after they were stopped for speeding, Romeo Police reported today.

★ ★ ★

Arrested was the driver of the car, Charles E. Huddleston, 27, of Allen Park, who was ticketed for speeding. His passengers, Ridley M. Pippen of East Detroit and James T. Hubleston of Detroit were arrested for disorderly conduct.

Pippen and Hubleston allegedly caused trouble in the police station where the three were taken when officers found a loaded shotgun and spotlight in their car.

★ ★ ★

The trio was to be arraigned today before Justice Francis A. Castellucci in Mount Clemens. They were lodged in Macomb County Jail overnight.

Troy Votes Boost in School Tax

TROY — The eight-mill school tax increase won Troy electors' support in a special balloting yesterday by a 1,410 to 870 majority.

About half of the 4,600 registered school voters went to the polls to approve the previously defeated proposal.

The current $15.18 per thousand assessment will be reduced by $2.50 through the expiration of a special tax at the end of this fiscal year.

With the newly approved increase, school taxes for the coming fiscal year will be $20.68 per thousand, Alex Tunstall, school board secretary, said today.

Stereo to Use Tape in Future

Three Channel System Hard to Put in Single Groove on Record

By PRESTON McGRAW
United Press International

The next development in stereophonic sound probably will be a true three-channel system.

It is a little hard to see how three channels can be put into a single groove on a record, so the three-channel system probably will use tape.

As an interim sterio improvement, Paul W. Klipsch, the audio engineer and speaker manufacturer, has worked out a system of taking a third channel from two-channel stereo.

Klipsch explains it this way:

"The principle of operation depends upon the simple fact that if two microphones are properly spaced relative to each other and to the plane of the sound source, their combined output will be that of a single microphone midway between them. Indigenous to two-channel stereo is a middle channel recoverable by combination.

* * *

Recovery and reproduction of this center channel offers accurate focusing of center stage events; ability to localize individual sounds becomes substantially the same as when listening to the original.

"Accurate focusing of a soloist is an outstanding feature. Though popularly called 'filling the hole in the middle,' this is only a small part of the function.

In application, his "phantom" system amounts to using the eight or 16-ohm taps on two power amplifiers to connect speakers to the true channels and attaching wires to a four-ohm tap on both the amplifiers to get part of the signal from both channels to a third speaker.

The third speaker, of course, is positioned midway between the two main speakers. Klipsch points out that the importance of compatibility of the speakers cannot be over-emphasized.

Who Shot Grandma, Asks Little TV Viewer

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI)—Mrs. J. L. Alexander of Houston is now convinced that television has an influence on children, especially on her three-year-old daughter Vicki.

Mrs. Alexander reports that when she mentioned Vicki's grandmother to the youngster one day, the girl asked, "Where is my grandmother?"

When Mrs. Alexander explained that grandmother had died many years ago, Vicki pondered a moment and asked: "Who shot her?"

Buried Treasure Just Boy's Old Play Money

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — Two plumbers thought they had made a lucky discovery when they uncovered a rusty tin box containing about $4,000 in 1864 Confederate money.

But 14-year-old Peck Jackson burst the bubble when he told them he put the bills in a fishing tackle box and buried it in 1953.

"I just buried it to be burying something," said Peck. The money was worthless.

Soviet Russia Only 3½ Miles Away From Little Alaskan Island Outpost

(Two small islands off Alaska, one American, the other Russian, are cool neighbors in the cold war. Their defenses are less than formidable, but their mutual watchfulness is constant. An AP reporter who paid a rare visit to little Diomede tells about life on Uncle Sam's odd western outpost.)

By SAUL PETT
AP Feature Writer

LITTLE DIOMEDE ISLAND, off Alaska (AP)—We were flying north toward the Bering Strait.

"There's American radar on that mountain," said Martin Olson, bush pilot, pointing toward the Alaskan Peninsula on our right. "You can be sure they see us."

"That's the Siberian mainland. You can be sure the Russians are also watching us on their radar."

It was an odd, unreal picture: Three men and an Eskimo boy in a tiny, single-engine plane being closely watched by the electronic eyes of the two giants of the cold war.

But odder still was the sight that lay directly ahead, in the narrow neck of the Bering Strait separating the mainlands of the United States and Soviet Russia.

Ahead of us, in the middle of the strait, we could see two rocky, snow-covered crags—the Diomede Islands, one American, the other Russian, only 3½ miles apart and welded together by a frozen channel. And somewhere halfway between them, stretched the International Dateline.

Olson made one low pass between the islands, between today and tomorrow, between two ideologies, two nations, two continents glaring at each other in close, icy silence.

On Little Diomede, we could see a tiny cluster of about 20 clapboard and tarpaper houses, a school house and a church, all hugging the foot of a steep 1,600-foot mountain. The island is about four miles long and two miles wide and is all rise.

On Big Diomede, we saw an equally steep rise. The Russian island is about twice as large as its American neighbor. From the plane, we could see no buildings or signs of life. Olson, who's been flying this part of Alaska for about 12 years, said the Siberian Eskimos lived on the west, or hidden side, of Big Diomede.

When we landed on the island, the wind was sharp and the temperature was 21 below, so we adjourned quickly to the neat but tiny schoolhouse for interviews. The whole military contingent of Little Diomede—10 Eskimo members of the National Guard—followed me. Like most natives on the island, they spoke good English.

Had they seen any Russians lately?

"We see them almost every day when the weather is clear," said Master Sgt. Mike Okpealuk. "Through our binoculars or telescope, we see their dog teams, supply planes landing behind the ridge, and their observation post, which is near the north end of the ridge.

"They carry rifles or tommy guns. We carry only M-1 rifles. They wear long dark coats and sometimes, looking through our binoculars, we can see them looking at us through their binoculars."

What was the last contact they had with the Russian Eskimos?

"Last winter. One night, before any of us guardsmen knew it, a man named Odoyuk walked over the ice from Big Diomede and suddenly appeared in one of our houses. He said he wanted to see his relatives here. He said he wanted to trade, to get fish for ivory. He got the fish and promised to return with the ivory. He never did."

★ ★ ★

Before the Korean War, he said, everybody on both islands used to go back and forth across the ice without passports or incidents. Then the Russians began to discourage visitors. The last time American Eskimos went over was six years ago.

★ ★ ★

"There were about 25 of our people and they went over in skin boats to trade cigarets for ivory. The Russians held them there 45 days. Since then nobody from here has tried to go over. We do go out about half way, up to where we think the dateline is, to hunt and fish, but not over the line. The Siberians never come out on the ice at all to hunt or fish."

Fish Store Proprietor Collector of Clocks

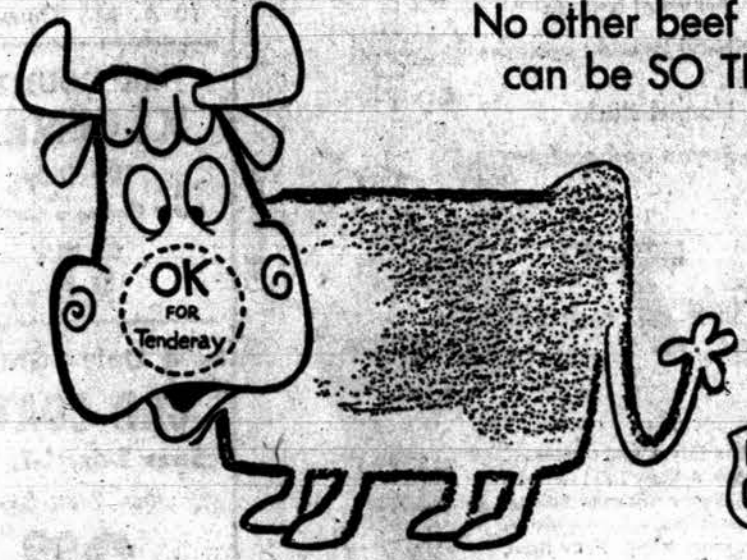

UNION CITY, N. J. (AP)—Walk into Cipriano Lippi's fish store and you might think you were in a watchmaker's. He has 500 clocks lining three walls of the place.

Lippi started the collection some years ago when he couldn't bear to throw out two old broken clocks. "So much skill and labor had gone into making them," he said.

Tenderay Beef
BRAND

No other beef so fresh
can be SO TENDER

NO OTHER BEEF So Fresh can be so Tender!

1. U.S. CHOICE GRADE. Produced from young, well-fed cattle. Consistently tender with rich, full beef flavor.

2. Corn-fed. Controlled feeding produces enough fat within the lean to assure tenderness and juiciness.

3. More tender. With controlled temperature and humidity, we're able to equal the tenderness of 3 weeks' natural aging—but in just 36 to 48 hours. No tricks to hurt the natural, fresh beef flavor.

4. Guaranteed tender. Because Tenderay Beef is quick-aged under Kroger supervision, each cut is guaranteed tender by your Kroger store manager, or your money back.

Women Are Challenged by Men Who Are Shy

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

His cat-caught tongue has her bewitched. His seeming vulnerability has her bothered. His hesitation at the front gate has her decidedly bewildered.

Having grown accustmoed to glib, speedy, men about town, a woman looks upon a shy one as a challenge. There are other attractions — like he brings out the mother in her, or makes her feel needed; or reminds her of the sweeter years of popsickles and scuffed shoes — but basically, he's a challenge.

This was the big attraction of Frank Sinatra, until he put on long ties and a fighting face. It was much of the charm of Jimmy Stewart and Gary Cooper, of George Gobel and Sid Caesar. Women wanted subconsciously to give them a good steak dinner, a fireside and a chance to murmur, "At last, I am at ease with someone."

Newest of the "challenges" in show business is a 32-year-old singer named Anthony Benedetto. On records and marquees they spell it Tony Bennett.

He will not be pleased to read that he impresses us girls as shy, because for 10 years he has worked at walloping a song into a perfection of subservience to his vocal chords.

At the Copacabana in New York, or swank spots in Florida, Hollywood and Las Vegas, Tony puts on what he must figure is a Highly-polished performance. He figures this way because the fans, particularly female, go mad. They pick him to ribbons every now and then; some of his suits, and sometimes his flesh, have small holes where once there were souvenirs of Tony Bennett.

He thinks all this is because his singing is to the taste of the ladies. Doesn't realize that it's also a vulnerable, humble smile causing the havoc.

We went backstage last night, after he'd bowed off, to see if the himility is sincerity or stagecraft.

The room was swarming with fans, agents, managers and friends of fans, agents and managers. Slumped in the middle of it, straining to hear a stereophonic rendition of a ravel waltz, was Tony Bennett. He stood up to shake hands, then sat down to listen again.

Tony's very serious-minded, a manager said. He paints, oils and charcoal — went to industrial arts high school.

But he loves being around people, an agent said. Those two tables full of girls out front — did you notice them? They were fans of Tony's years ago when he was playing the Paramount. Once a fan of Tony's, always a fan.

A great talent, said the friend of an agent. He's had a half-dozen golden records (which sold over a million), and he never stops trying to improve himself. Takes lessons at the American theatre wing to be a better actor. Supports more people than you can imagine. Never lets it go to his head. . .

Suddenly we asked Tony to speak for himself. "Are you shy?"

"Well," he said gently, "I don't talk much, if that's what you mean." He glanced around warmly at his friends and dependents. "When you're about five years old, old, you say some things that are very profound in their innocence.

"Later on, you realize you can't do any better."

Eyes Bigger Than House

MARTINSVILLE, Va. (AP)—Frank B. Netherland, 22, has always loved theater organs. So when a North Carolina radio station wanted to sell one, Netherland bought it. He took it down, shipped it here and reassembled it. Trouble was, it wouldn't fit in his home. A theater gave him space and he drops in regularly to play.

New Bedford Marks 1871 as Disaster Year

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (UPI)— In this town, 1871 is remembered as the year "the roof fell in." That was when this old whaling port lost 34 whaleships in the Alaskan ice fields.

The financial loss came to $2,000,000, but, miraculously, every member of the fleet—1,219 persons, including the wives and children of whaling captains—survived.

They traveled overland along the coast for three days through a violent gale before they were rescued by seven whalers in open water.

Chief export of Libya in North Africa is esparto grass. This is used in manufacture of high grade paper and banknotes.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

New Marine Diesel Engines Lower, Smaller, Lighter

In keeping with the growing demand for smaller, more compact inboard power plants, the new marine diesel engines are lighter weight with lower silhouettes.

In addition, many of the 1959 lines feature smaller models more suitable for use in sailing auxiliaries and small work boats.

Curtis-Wright, sole U. S. distributor for the German-built Mercedes-Benz marine engines, has four new engines. The fresh air cooled models feature low-fuel consumption and low weight-to-horsepower ratio.

Allis - Chalmers 1959 marine diesels include a new lightweight 844 cubic inch engine that develops 240 hp at 2,800 rpm and has high horsepower output per gallon of fuel consumed.

Another model is the improved lightweight 85 hp engine that develops 2,800 rpm. The engine runs smoothly with lack of noise and vibration and requires a minimum of maintenance and servicing.

Eight new engines in the vee and in-line series, ideal for either pleasure or work boats, are offered by Detroit Diesel for 1959.

The General Motors marine engine division's line ranges in horsepower from 20 to 1,650 for all uses.

Two new air cooled diesels have been introduced by Lister Blackstone, English marine engine builder. They are the 20 and 30 hp models, both rated at 1,800 rpm.

These four stroke diesels are compact, light, economical of operation and require a minimum of servicing. They feature positive cooling which is provided by an impeller, integral with the flywheel and fan shroud.

Another English marine engine builder, Peter, is offering a new four cylinder model for 1959 that weighs 511 pounds and is claimed by the maker to run a full hour on a single gallon of diesel fuel.

The engine is also air cooled. Other models in the new line of one to four cylinder engines develop up to 20 hp at 3,000 rpm.

Four new diesel engines, imported from Sweden by Volvo Import, are available in the United States for the first time. The new Volvo engines range in horsepower from 11.5 to 46 and each has a maximum rpm of 1,500.

Outboard Motor Needs Checking

Plugs, Propeller Should Be Inspected, Fittings Properly Greased

Putting your old outboard motor in shape for use again this boating season requires a few basic steps. Try these and have trouble-free outboarding when the weather is nice:

1. Remove, clean and regap spark plugs.

2. With spark plug wires attached to motor frame as a ground, spin motor rapidly a few times to remove excess oil from cylinders.

As motor spins, check spark at the point where wires touch motor frame. If spark is weak, check wiring for cracked or worn spots. Rub breaker points in magneto gently with a piece of fine sandpaper.

Recheck spark. If still weak, take motor to a repair shop where an experienced mechanic can make necessary repairs.

3. Lubricate moving parts. Fill all grease fittings with proper grade of grease. Apply a little grease to throttle-magneto gear and other working parts of engine.

4. Remove propeller and check for dents, cracks or chips. Straighten minor dents by tapping with wooden mallet. If prop is seriously damaged, take to repair shop.

5. Clear propeller shaft of all impediments. Apply a thin coat of grease.

★ ★ ★

6. Check shear pin. If bent, broken or damaged, replace with new one.

7. Check gear case to be sure it is clear of water. Refill with fresh lubricant.

8. Reassemble motor and "test run" in tank or barrel of water. Make final adjustments of carburetor, choke, etc.

Boating Great for Shutter-Bugs

Special Care Is Needed for Water Photography

Many of the 37,000,000 American men, women and children who participate in the mushrooming boating sport have found that one of the enjoyable adjuncts of the sport is photography.

Well-taken pictures provide the boating family with visual-memories of their days afloat, and the days and scenes they want to remember.

Both still phography and motion pictures are used. Pictures of the sky and fascinating cloud formations and the water itself, sleek craft, fishing, water skiing, swimming, boat races — all are part of the boating sport and photographable.

Taking pictures on or near the water, however, poses problems that the photographer would not normally find ashore.

Certain precautions are also necessary to prevent damage to photographic equipment and film. Spray will corrode a camera and will cause working parts to bind. Salt water spray may etch the lens.

The good photographer will make sure that his camera and equipment is protected when he goes aboard.

A leather carrying case will provide a certain amount of weather protection, but experts suggest that the nautical lensman wrap his equipment, the camera especially, in oilskin or a thick plastic bag when not in use.

Another precaution that the photographer must take is to protect his film from fogging, which is caused by hot sun's rays beating on the camera. Camera and film must be kept in a cool, shaded place except when filming.

Also, water reflects light, and an exposure meter should be used to provide the correct lens opening. If in doubt, close down one more stop on a bright day.

On water there is additional ultra-violet light, which is normally absorbed by trees, grass and ground surfaces. This can be overcome by using a filter on the lens which does not change the exposure.

Motion is another problem, and especially for the still photographer, in shooting nautical scenes. On a small boat the camera man must learn to "give" with the movement of the craft by standing with his feet apart and firmly set.

Simplicity Should Be Aim in Planning a Boat Trip

Simplicity should be the keynote in planning a boat trip.

No one expects a banquet aboard a boat, and no one wants to waste part of an outing doing K. P.

Keep the menu simple. Prepare as much of the food as possible before coming aboard. Mixes, salad dressing and sandwich spreads in sealproof containers lighten the load of the lady in the galley, and the simple, hearty meal can be as much fun as a Fourth of July picnic.

With paper plates or non-breakable plastics, all you need is a paper bag to handle the clean up chores. (Unwritten rules of boating forbid careless garbage disposal on the waterways, so don't be a "water-litterbug"!)

Denims or T-shirt and seersucker pants suffice for the men. Women like tapered, cuffless slacks, pedal pushers or Bermuda shorts; scarves for their hair, and the complete absence of "detail" trim that might catch on hardware.

Deep pockets for cigarettes, that ever necessary lipstick, keys, handkerchief, and other miscellany are always welcome.

It is smart, too, to have a roomy, catchall bag large enough for suntan oil, light meter (if photographing your family when they are having a good time is part of the holiday schedule), and other vacation accessories.

Forget the elaborateness of entertaining ashore. Save the complicated dishes and fancier dress for the patio parties or the living room get-to-gethers. Keep it simple and enjoy your holiday afloat.

Fourth of Boats to Be Aluminum

New Craft Expected to Average 20 Pounds More, Be Roomier

More than one-fourth of new outboard boats to be built in the United States in 1959 will be constructed of aluminum.

Over 30 new models will be introduced by builders this year, and they will feature styles made possible by better paints and laminates, improved welding techniques, resin bonding and structural design advances.

The weight of the average aluminum boat is expected to increase 20 pounds—from 155 last year to 175 pounds this year. This means larger, roomier boats.

Aluminum boat sales are expected to reach 210,000 units by 1961, a gain of about 50 per cent over 1957.

The chief reasons for the rise in the use of aluminum as a boat construction material are found in the metal's simple maintenance requirements. It will not shrink, swell, rot or become waterlogged, and its light weight contributes to easy boat trailing.

Ann Arbor Man Named Prexy

Long-Time Educator to Head Montana School Beginning in July

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Dr. Harry K. Newburn, 53-year-old one-time president of the University of Oregan, now living in Ann Arbor, was hired yesterday as president of Montana State University at Missoula. His salary was not announced.

Newburn is to start work on a part-time basis July 1 and take over as fulltime president Aug. 15.

He will succeed Dr. Gordon B. Castle, university scientist who has been acting president about nine months.

Newburn, who was born at Cuba, Ill., Jan. 1, 1906, is a former dean of the College of Liberal Arts at Iowa State University.

He was a member of the President's commission on higher education in 1945-47 and was a consultant for a U. S. operations mission to Brazil in December 1956 and January 1957.

Newburn was president of the educational television and radio center at Ann Arbor, Mich., for five years, an organization financially supported by the Ford Foundation.

He resigned last spring, and since that time has been a consultant for the foundation, conducting a study on personnel policies at selected state universities.

Spring Means Tune-Up Time for Boating Fans

For those with boat trailers, chances are they spent the winter months outside. Even if the trailer is stored in the garage, several precautions should be taken before putting it on the road.

1. Sand or file rusted surfaces and retouch.
2. Replace winch-rope or cable if it shows any fray.
3. Wheel bearings should be cleaned and repacked. Have bearings checked for wear. Replacement is cheaper and less time consuming than a roadside breakdown.
4. Tighten all bolts.
5. Lubricate all moving parts with heavy grease.
6. Cradle and bunker padding must be checked for frayed or torn places. Replace if needed.
7. Check coupler and replace if lip is sprung. Check coupler alignment with tongue. Straighten if not true.

200 Attend Funeral of Actor Fred Stone

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — More than 200 persons attended funeral service yesterday for actor Fred Stone, veteran film and musical comedy star.

Stone, 85, the creator of the strawman role in "The Wizard of Oz," died last Friday.

Most Boat Losses Because of Fire

The U. S. Coast Guard warns boat owners that the majority of motor boat losses usually occur from either fire or explosion.

To provide the utmost protection, owners should heed the following safeguards:

1. Gasoline should not be allowed below decks except in the proper fuel tanks.

2. No lighted lantern, spark or flame should be allowed in the engine or fuel compartments.

3. Engine and fuel compartments should be ventilated in such a way that five minutes after fueling no gasoline vapor is present.

Check weather signs before getting under way. If it looks threatening, call off the cruise. If caught in a bad storm, have passengers sit in the bottom of the boat and keep the bow pointed at an angle into the waves.

Varnish should never be shaken. Shaking causes bubbles that are often impossible to remove in brushing.

Hollywood Headlines:

Debbie Joins Tony Curtis, Dean Martin in New Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD—Had a long talk with George Sidney at the Norman Taurogs' dinner and he said nary a word about his contract with Debbie Reynolds, only that Columbia had a story for me, and a good one, I couldn't pry it loose.

But bright and early on John Flinn's first day at Columbia he gave me the news that Debbie Reynolds will costar with Dean Martin and Tony Curtis in "Who Is That Lady?" adapted from Norman Krasna's stage hit, "Who Is That Lady I Saw You With?"

The print of "John Paul Jones" has arrived in town and was shown at Warner Bros. Jack Warner was delighted with what Samuel Bronston showed him, and with John Farrow's work as the director.

MacDonald Carey goes into "Blue Denim" as the father of Carol Lynley. The reason I mention MacDonald Carey is because he is in "John Paul Jones," and John Farrow was very upset when Mac made arrangements to make a picture for a Spanish company of the story of Father Damien, since that has been Johnny's favorite project for a long time.

I don't know how it came out, but I believe Johnny is going to make his picture, and that Mac is going to make his.

Carroll Baker says she doesn't care about those wild rumors that she and Bill Perlberg aren't getting along, because she's having fun making "But Not for Me" and she thinks it's going to be a good picture. Bill has said nothing, not even admitting there's a quarrel or that Carroll has been on her high horse.

She confides that she and her husband, Jack Garfein, have plans to become a producing team.

At the Norman Taurogs' party for Lorena Mayer, Maggie Ettinger and Mecca Graham, who leave Thursday for Europe, Norman brought in a little business with his social activities. He introduced his two new actors who will be starred in "Skinny and Me," his TV show.

Red-haired tousled Steve Winter with crooked teeth, who in a couple of years would be a perfect Huckleberry Finn, plays Skinny. Cute little dark-eyed Charlie Herbert, who was in "House Boat," plays Me.

If you ever saw a worried bridegroom, it's Greg Bautzer who hasn't been able to get a telephone call through to Dana Wynter, who is visiting her parents in South Rhodesia, just 20 miles from where the natives are stoning all cars carrying white people.

"I have had a cable from her that she's all right, but I cabled her when I couldn't get her on the telephone to come home right away and get out of there. I am sending a TWA plane for her."

I asked if her parents would leave and Greg said, no, that her father's a doctor, his hospital is there, he's needed, and he's dedicated to his profession.

Someone in Miami who stood in line to purchase a general admission ticket on the night "Al Capone" premiered, said that the widow of the noted gangster was also among those in the line.

Mrs. Capone, it's said, registered complete indifference about the picture as long as Allied Artists kept her out of it. The producers never contacted her again after learning this was the way she felt about the proposed story of her husband's life. Neither she nor their son is mentioned in the picture.

X15 Makes 1st Flight Under Wing of B52

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The X15 manned rocket plane, designed to fly 100 miles into space at 3,600 miles-an-hour, has gone aloft in its first captive test under the wing of a B52 mother ship.

★ ★ ★

It was flown to 38,000 feet Tuesday out of Edwards Air Force Base, suspended on a pylon under the right wing of the eight-jet bomber. It was not dropped during the initial test and carried no fuel.

★ ★ ★

The X15 was returned to the runway 50 minutes early because of a malfunction in the communications system between the two planes.

Automobiles can be given speed tests up to 125 miles an hour while standing perfectly still in a special electronics laboratory which measures vibrations as small as .0001 inch.

Hibernation Hurts Power Lawn Mowers

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The power mower that lies dormant in the winter months causes as much trouble as the automobile that goes unused.

★ ★ ★

"Without periodic starting you are bound to find trouble ahead in the spring," said T. M. Hoxsey of Tucson, Ariz., who rents out power mowers and claimed it's less trouble in the long run to rent one than to buy one.

Private Doctor Hates Red Tape

By HAL R. COOPER

LONDON (AP)—Our doctor is one of only 700 general practitioners in Britain — out of 23,000 — who have stayed out of the so-called free national health scheme.

Among the population in general, only two million out of 50 million have declined to use the scheme and insisted on private treatment.

These patients still have to pony up a weekly national health contribution, so they pay for their medical treatment twice.

The way things are going, both our doctor and the ruggedly individual two million can look forward to having a lot more company in the near future.

The biggest of the nation's private health insurance groups, which now cover only fees for hospitalization and specialist treatment, has branched out. Now it covers G.P. fees as well.

It expects membership, now three quarters of a million, to mushroom. That will mean a demand for more doctors who are free of the state scheme.

Our own doctor's main reasons for staying out of the state scheme, he said, are that he can make more money in private practice, has a better class of patient, and hates paper work.

He is certainly doing a lot better than the health scheme doctors, who have traded private practice for the security represented by an average annual income of $5,600.

Why do the two million patients insist on paying private practitioners?

For one thing, the private practitioner seldom has more than 400 or 500 patients on his active list at any given time and he can give them a great deal of individual attention.

The state scheme man is entitled to 3,500 patients, if he can get them, and often has to treat more persons in a day than the private doctor sees in a week.

Bob Considine Says:

Air Show to Prove Need for Human Element

NEW YORK—Las Vegas will be the scene next month of the greatest air show ever held, the World Congress of Flight. If it achieves nothing else, it should prove that, like women, the flying machine still needs a man around the house.

A racetrack that never quite made the grade (in Las Vegas the gamblers were too impatient to wait half an hour for every win-or-lose decision), will supply the grandstand for the big air show. The State of Nevada, which has plenty of it, will supply the great outdoors, blue skies and sun.

It will, of course, be a Must for any air buff in his right mind. Here are some of the events on tap, as outlined by Roy Neal, the NBC producer of General Motors' television treatment of the show on the afternoon of its conclusion, April 19:

A B52 will attempt to fly from New York, circle over Los Angeles, and put down at Las Vegas in the less elapsed time than it takes some of us to get to an airport. Douglas' DC8 and Convair's slick 880 jets will be in operation at the show. The Air Force will present its magnificent team of "century-class" interceptors and all-weather fighters, as well as its colossal air carriers, and put on a "firepower" demonstration. On NATO Day, fighter pilots from the 15 treaty powers will spook overhead leading a wing of B52s and '47s. All types of exotic craft will be on hand, including planes that inflate like a basketball bladder, or rise and descend vertically.

And here and there about the premises there will be a reminder of Tomorrow, missiles as big as the Atlas and Titan and shattering little air-to-air affairs hardly the size of a man's arm.

Ought to be wonderful.

It's hard to believe that the Father of the Jet Engine, Air Commodore Sir Frank Whittle, K.B.E., C.B., R.A.F. (ret.), F.R.S., M.A., etc. is just over 50 years of age and as spry as a young cadet.

TWA's United Kingdom public relations manager, L. H. Langley, tracked Whittle down recently at his estate in Scotland. His findings, in the current TWA Ambassador house organ, make interesting reading for airplane buffs:

The jet, as we know it today, emerged from a thesis Whittle wrote as a cadet officer at the Royal Air Force college in 1928. He called it "Future Developments in Aircraft Design." A major theme was that the piston engine would, in time, need replacement by some surer, simpler, more powerful means of propulsion.

There were the usual frustrations which haunt the pioneer, but finally work on the engine started in March 1936 and was crowned with success on May 15, 1941, when it lifted an experimental plane on its maiden flight. You know the rest: They missed World War II, but dominated every conflict since then, have revolutionized passenger travel.

Whittle revealed to Langley that in the early days of jet development he thought of commercial jets only in connection with possible transatlantic mail-carrying planes. He didn't dream that more passengers would one day fly the ocean than sail. If he were still experimenting, he said, he would attempt to build jets capable of providing speeds of 1,500 m.p.h. for large passenger planes at 70,000 feet. He foresees no discomfort for passengers flying twice the speed of sound, thanks to the refinement of aircraft design. What's beyond the jet?

"We must await the next major discovery in the use and control of atomic energy . . . a discovery which I am sure can take place at any time now and maybe sooner than we think; resulting in the use of atomic power for aircraft propulsion. The nuclear engine of the future, when it arrives, will bear as much relation to the atomic pile of today as the jet engine bears to Watt's steam engine."

Wonders . . . wonders: A big jet burns one ton of fuel making a single turn around an airfield at low level. . . . The Air Force has a fighter on the boards which will fly faster than a bullet fired from a high velocity rifle. . . . It takes 5,000 engineers to build one B52. . . . The escape capsules designed to prevent cinderization of humans returning from earth orbiting are being tested in a wind tunnel that cost $5 million. . . . A company in search of heat-resistant materials has produced a jet of ionized gas that reaches 30,000 degrees Fahrenheit—three times hotter than the surface of the sun. Jeeves, my fan.

This One Didn't Count

SAVANNAH, Ga. (UPI)—State Rep. Norman McGee got an unorthodox hole in one at a local golf course. He hit the ball off the 13th tee and it rolled into the cup on the 12th green after bouncing off a tree.

About 10,000 oil wells drilled in the U. S. annually do not reach oil. Some oil wells cost as much as $1 million for the drilling operations.

Vauxhall Victor 6th Among Foreign Cars

Pontiac Motor Division's small car import, the British-built Vauxhall Victor, ranks number six among new foreign car registrations in the United States for the year 1958.

During 1958 Vauxhall sales totaled 17,912, making it the sixth largest seller among foreign imports, said F. V. Bridge, general sales manager.

Vauxhalls are marketed in this country by Pontiac dealers who offer the four-cylinder car in four-door sedan and station wagon models.

Vauxhall was first introduced in the U. S. by Pontiac in September of 1957. Since then it has witnessed a steady growth in popularity.

LAKELAND, Fla. — Frank Lane, talkative general manager of the Cleveland Indians, and manager Casey Stengel of the Yankees, another man who always has a few choice words, appear to be playing a game of "cat and mouse" in Florida.

The Tribe "trader" has been singing the praises of the trades made by other American League clubs besides those made by Cleveland. He has called on everyone to gang up on the Yankees and he feels Boston, Detroit and Cleveland have been strengthened by trades.

Of course this is contrary to the way Chuck Comiskey of the White Sox feels. "We're still the number one contenders for the Yanks," says Comiskey.

"No one was strengthened by trades, except Detroit," says Comiskey, "but the Tigers still aren't top contenders."

So it's obvious Lane and Comiskey do not see eye to eye on the strength of the trades, but as for Lane and Stengel — they're riding a merry-go-round.

Lane went to visit the Yank training camp in St. Petersburg. Stengel flew out of sight while Lane toured around the field talking to players.

When he left Casey asked in his inimitable sarcastic way "Well, did he cook up any deals?" "Should've asked him if he'd trade Colavito," he added.

A day later they couldn't hide from each other. When all the writers, sportscasters and Major League celebrities gathered for the annual governor's banquet, Stengel and Lane were brought together for a TV interview.

They appeared very friendly, but when it was all over, Lane was back in form. He called Stengel a "poor manager" and said the Yanks won't be as lucky this year.

★ ★ ★

He also said he was "happy to see Stengel feud with his own players about staying in shape and siding with the ball club against the players."

"They've got too many old men on the team, and their hitting isn't as good as many people think," he added.

Ole Casey then blew off the handle. "Let him worry about his ball club. If we don't win the pennant I should be fired," he was quoted as saying.

But Casey is still the shrewd professor. He knows he won't be fired whether he wins or loses this year, because the odds say he will quit after the 1959 season.

Chicago Team Bids for ABC Lead Tonight

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Detroit Pfeiffers face their most serious challenge for the American Bowling Congress tournament leadership in more than a week when the Munsingwears of Chicago take to the St. Louis Armory lanes tonight.

★ ★ ★

Led by Buddy Bomar, this team of polished professionals is aiming to fracture the 3,243 record which put the Pfeiffers on top of the open team division nearly two weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

Bomar was the skipper of the Chicago Falstaff team which won the ABC team title in 1956. Since acquiring Munsingwear as a sponsor, Bomar has rebuilt his club with such outstanding bowlers as Bill Bunetta, Chuck Hamilton, Bud Schalbly and Johnny King.

12-Team Tournament Under Way Thursday at New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Bradley, beaten out by Cincinnati for the Missouri Valley Conference title, has been top seeded for the 12-team National Invitation basketball tournament opening at Madison Square Garden Thursday night.

The Braves, who ran second in the MVC although they split their two games with Cincinnati and snapped Cincy's 16-game winning streak last Saturday, will make their first start Saturday night.

Bradley draws a bye as do the other three seeded teams, in order, St. Louis, St. Bonaventure and Oklahoma City.

St. Thomas Trips Rams, 41-28, in Regional Test

Poor Free Throwing Beats Locals; Imlay City Eliminated, 60-39

By H. GUY MOATS

Plagued by its worst night of the season at the foul line, Pontiac's St. Frederick cage squads bowed out of the class C regional tournament at Birmingham High gymnasium, last night.

Rams converted only two of 18 chances at the charity line, while Detroit St. Thomas dunked 11 of 23 to help compile a 41-28 victory, and move the Blue Streaks into Thursday's semifinals.

In other "C" opening round contests Imlay City's Spartans ran into a pair of scoring buzzsaws and were eliminated, 60-39, by St. Paul of Grosse Pte., while New Haven dumped Detroit St. Gabriel, 58-35.

New Haven faces St. Bernard at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, following the St. Thomas-St. Paul scrap, at 7 o'clock. Bernards byed the first round.

After a 6-6 count in the first session, Rams never came close. They trailed at halftime 23-13, scoring only three points in the 2nd frame. The Pontiac club made one charity toss in each half, missing the last 12 in a row.

While every Ram starter contributed, none was in double figures, for the first time this season. Tom Derocher's nine was the best. Tops for the Streaks was Frank Orlando, a "dead-eye Dick," with 19.

New Haven had to wipe out a 23-19 deficit at intermission to gain a lead and eventually win over a taller St. Gabriel outfit. But after Nate Petty's bucket broke a 26-26 knot midway the 3rd period, the Havens rolled to a 35-26 edge going into the finale. Four hit double figures for winners, Petty and Fred Diemer the leaders with 13 each.

The Imlay club never was in contention against St. Paul. Closest it got to the winners was three points at end of the first period. Randy Clark's 12 total, Spartans' best, was less than half of either of the Laker flashes, Bob Bigham (25) and Dave Ayrault (23). Ayrault's amazing string of 8 straight goals, starting with five in the 3rd frame, was a great performance.

Bentley Hangs Up 60-50 Victory Over Shamrocks to Reach Finals

By BILL CORNWELL

If it's true that the coach of an underdog team sits in a cozy position as he prepares his forces for battle, then Rochester's Gene Konley is the most comfortable mentor in Oakland County today.

His Rochester basketball squad will be an underdog in the fullest sense of the word tonight when the Falcons tangle with mighty Pontiac Central in the semifinal round of the Southfield Class A regional tournament.

Don Petroff continued to play the hero's role for East Detroit as the Shamrocks came from behind to eliminate Lakeview, 60-57, in the opening game of the Class A regional at East Detroit.

East Detroit overcame a 5-point deficit late in the 4th quarter and tied the score at 57-57 with 30 seconds remaining. Then Petroff bagged a field goal to win it and Bud Weinert added the 60th point from the foul line after the final buzzer. Petroff took scoring honors with 25 points.

A five-point spurt in the last minute of the 1st period gave Bentley an 18-13 lead and the Bulldogs led Catholic Central the rest of the way, twice by 13 points. A 4th-quarter Shamrock rally fizzled after once cutting the gap to five, 51-46.

Three players hit double figures on each side. Big Jim Carmichael paced Bentley with 20 points while Don Wisner collected 16 for Catholic Central.

Ticket windows at Southfield High School will open to the public at 6 p.m. for tonight's game between Rochester and the Chiefs, Saginaw Valley champions.

Romeo Wins; Wolves Play Tonight

By CHUCK ABAIR

Romeo burst Bloomfield Hills' victory bubble with a loud bang last night, displaying all its celebrated power in the last half of a 67-46 romp in the Class B regional opener at Pontiac Central's gym.

The triumph moved the high-riding Bulldogs into Friday's final. Clarkston and Port Huron St. Stephens will battle for the other berth tonight at 7:30.

Holly and Brighton, the two other remaining "B" hopefuls will also begin regional action tonight. The Broncos will put a 14-game win string on the line at the Flint IMA against St. Johns. Brighton goes against 1958 state runnerup River Rouge at Willow Run. The Wayne-Oakland champions have won their last 12 starts.

Romeo's victory, which also was a 12th straight, cut down one of the four W-O teams to gain district honors—the most unexpected one. Bloomfield Hills had amazed this sector by sweeping through three opponents in four nights in its home district and the Barons started out against strong Romeo primed for an upset.

The underdogs gave indications there might be a surprise in the air by forcing the bigger Bulldogs to forsake their own running game for the slow, deliberate style of play used by the Blue and White.

But the well-planned maneuvers of coach Hal Trott went up in smoke in the 3rd quarter when Romeo piled up an 18-4 advantage. It was all over but the shouting early after the intermission as the Bulldogs got their fast break going in high gear and took charge of both backboards.

Each team fired in 19 points in the final quarter marred by numerous trips to the foul line by both sides. Twenty of the 38 points were on charity tosses.

Despite inconsistent shooting, Bloomfield Hills had kept it close the 1st 11 minutes of play. Their fans had little chance to cheer the rest of the way except for occasional contributions by John Thompson and Doug Danziger.

The Barons opened fast with a 7-2 lead. Romeo actually got in front to stay two minutes later but the Macomb County lads had to push hard until the 3rd period. It was 17-13 after one quarter and the difference was still four with 3:18 left before intermission.

A basket and a foul by capable reserve Don Fowler and Ray Ritter's two free throws made it 30-23 at halftime. Charley Peterson, a little guy with excellent spring in his legs, hit two successive jump shots starting the 3rd and Romeo was on its way.

Detroit Blows 3-0 Lead to Canadiens

Wings Play 5-5 Tie

DETROIT (UPI)—There'll be an empty spot the rest of the season for the Montreal Canadiens—they don't play their golden goose again and most likely won't meet them until next fall.

The "golden goose," of course, is the Detroit Red Wings. The National Hockey League champions nearly plucked the Wings bare this season and they weren't about to give up last night at Olympia even after Detroit jumped into a 3-0 lead with the first period only 10 minutes old.

The Habs bounced back for a 5-5 tie that kept Detroit in the league cellar and put the Wings a step closer to elimination from the playoffs.

Dickie Moore broke his own one-season scoring record against Detroit when he notched his 37th goal of the campaign at 13:09 of the final period and two minutes later rookie Ralph Backstrom tied it up.

Detroit even had a two-man advantage in the closing minute but couldn't come back with a goal.

Moore's marker was his 11th of the season against the Wings and coupled with 15 assists gave him 26 points—nearly one-third of his entire output for the season and the chief reason why he's the league's top scorer. No other player in NHL history has hit the Wings so hard. Moore tallied 14 goals and assisted on 11 others against Detroit last season on his way to the scoring title.

Big Jean Beliveau, who picked up five points in the Habs' 10-2 win over Detroit Saturday, added a pair of assists last night to take over undisputed possession of second place in the scoring race.

Detroit started out like a five-alarm fire with goals by Len Lunde, Alex Delvecchio and Gordie Howe, but Don Marshall cut the lead to 3-1 by the end of the period and Claude Provost narrowed it to 3-2 in the middle session.

The Wings rebounded and Howe caged his 30th of the season and second of the night to open the third period. Henri Richard got that one back but then the Wings got a goal from the most unexpected source — Forbes Kennedy. It was Kennedy's first of the season and he was the last regular NHL forward to score a goal.

Green 'Most Valuable'

EAST LANSING (AP)—Teammates have named John Green, high-jumping rebound expert, most valuable player on the Michigan State Big Ten basketball champions.

Green, who closed out the regular season with 384 points and an 18.2 average, was also a unanimous choice for the Associated Press all-Big Ten first team.

Detroit Gets Little Rookie Aid Beating LA, 3-2

Old Hands Pace Tiger Wins

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

LAKELAND, Fla. — If the Tigers make any kind of bid in the American League pennant race this year, it will hardly seem likely that rookies will play an important part.

During the Grapefruit Circuit games thus far, Tiger veterans have been responsible for the three victories in four starts with very little assistance from the rookies on the squad.

In beating the Dodgers yesterday, 3-2, at Henley Field, familiar names like Frank Bolling, John Groth and Eddie Yost, along with Lou Berberet, all Major League veterans, supplied the necessary scoring punch.

This was true in the other three games in which Harvey Kuenn, Al Kaline, Gail Harris and Bob Wilson were the instrumental figures.

For Los Angeles, however, rookies are definitely figured to play an important role. Yesterday three outstanding prospects made sparkling appearances for the Dodgers despite the defeat.

The Tigers have no prospect with the likes of Ron Fairly, well-built rookie outfielder whom the Dodgers paid an $80,000 bonus for signing off the Southern California University campus.

Fairly had three solid hits and two runs batted in to show for his five trips to the plate and Dodger officials strongly feel he will make the grade in the majors.

Two other new faces who are tabbed for Major League futures are outfielder Frank Howard, former Ohio State basketball star, and catcher Joe Pignatano.

Howard, Pignatano and Fairly accounted for seven of the Los Angeles hits. Pignatano had two doubles and a single.

The Tigers are without new hitting prospects such as these. Detroit's hope for rookie assistance may come in the pitching department from hurlers like Jim Raugh, Jerry Davie or Pete Burnside.

All three are getting thorough tryouts, however before being considered as having made the grade.

Burnside did a good job in four innings yesterday. He gave up three hits and a run and struck out four batters during his stay. Bob Bruce was not as effective in the next three innings, but Davie worked well in his two-inning stint.

The Tigers got one run in the second when Bolling drove home Earl Hersch who had walked. But the Dodgers tied it in the 4th on Pignatano's double and Fairly's single.

★ ★ ★

In the 5th, Rocky Bridges singled and scored after advancing on a fielder's choice on a single by Yost. The Dodgers tied it again in the 6th when Fairly again drove in Pignatano, but in the 7th the Tigers scored the winning run when Groth hit a sacrifice fly to bring in Ossie Alvarez from third.

The Tigers have an open date today, but Thursday start a four-game home stay in Lakeland against the Cardinals, Yankees, Redlegs and White Sox.

HIGH-STEPPING — Eddie Yost, Detroit Tigers' infielder, is forced at 2nd base as Harvey Kuenn grounded to shortstop in the 3rd inning of Tuesday's exhibition game with the Los Angeles Dodgers at Lakeland, Fla. Charlie Neal, Dodgers' 2nd sacker, makes a wide step to avoid the sliding runner as he attempts to complete a double play. The ball was too late and Yost was successful in breaking up the twin killing.

Navy Stuns North Carolina; MSU Will Battle Marquette

By The Associated Press

Unsung Navy stood out today as the team to watch—if not the team to beat—as the far-flung NCAA basketball tournament moved toward its four weekend regional doubleheaders at Charlotte, N. C., Evanston, Ill., Lawrence, Kan. and San Francisco.

On a night when West Virginia won its first NCAA tournament game in five years of trying, Navy emerged with most of the attention after a 76-63 whipping of touted North Carolina.

The Middies, as well balanced and finely tuned as a machine, simply dismantled Frank McGuire's rebuilt North Carolina Tar Heels in the windup of a firstround Eastern regional tripleheader at New York's Madison Square Garden.

West Virginia — an 82-68 winner over Dartmouth's Ivy League champions, and the Middies advanced to the second round with Boston University, Marquette and Louisville.

West Virginia scored its long-awaited victory—ending a jinx of four straight first round defeats, and Boston U. whipped Connecticut, 60-58 in other New York games.

With St. Joseph's (Pa), the Middle Atlantic champ which drew a first round bye, the three winners set up camp at Charlotte Friday and Saturday to pick the Eastern region's representative for the national semi-finals at Louisville, March 20.

Marquette whipped Bowling Green, 89-71, and Louisville turned back Eastern Kentucky, 77-63, in first round play in the Mideast regional at Lexington, Ky. They join defending NCAA champion Kentucky and Big 10 champ Michigan State in the Mideast wrap-up at Evanston, Friday and Saturday.

★ ★ ★

With only one first round game remaining, New Mexico State vs Idaho State at Las Crues, N. M., tonight, the Friday regionals shape up this way:

Eastern at Charlotte: West Virginia (26-4) vs. St. Joseph's (Pa), (23-3); Boston U. (19-6) vs. Navy (17-5).

Mid-Eastern at Evanston: Louisville (17-10) vs. Kentucky (23-2); Marquette (23-4) vs. Michigan State (18-3).

Mid-Western at Lawrence, Kan.: Texas Christian (19-5) vs. Cincinnati (23-3); DePaul (13-9) vs. Kansas State (24-1).

Far Western at San Francisco: St. Mary's (Calif.) (18-5) vs. New Mexico State-Idaho State winner; California (21-4) vs. Utah (21-5).

K-State Wins Poll, MSU 7

Here's the top 10 teams in the final Associated Press college basketball poll of the season. First place and won-lost records, including Tuesday night, in parentheses (points on 10-9-8 etc. basis):

1. Kansas State (36) (24-1) 981
2. Kentucky (33) (23-2) 972
3. Mississippi State (20) (24-1) 760
4. Bradley (8) (23-3) 665
5. Cincinnati (3) (23-3) 663
6. N. Carolina State (6) (22-4) 575
7. Michigan State (1) (18-3) 566
8. Auburn (20-2) 420
9. North Carolina (1) (20-5) 411
10. West Virginia (6) (26-4) 354

Second 10: California (5) 213; St. Louis (1) 171; Seattle 88; St. Joseph's (Pa.) 62; St. Mary's (Calif.) 46; Texas Christian 36; Oklahoma City 48; Utah 46; St. Bonaventure (1) 40; Marquette 36.

2 Lopsided Victories in Waterford Playoff

Waterford Faculty and Ron & Don Service were one-sided winners last night in the opening round of the Class B Waterford League basketball playoffs at Crary Junior High.

The Faculty buried Van Welt's Auto Sales under an 82-36 avalanche with Stu Thorell netting 20 points for the victors. Ron & Don was a landslide 60-35 winner over Northern Lumber behind the 24-point effort of Clarence Beers. Tom Ritchie scored 11 in defeat.

New York Lands Title Bout

NEW YORK (UPI) — Promoter Bill Rosensohn began gunning for the Archie Moore-Ray Robinson light heavyweight title fight today, less than 24 hours after locking up the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight championship match for Yankee Stadium, June 23.

"My first step was to make sure that Moore and Robinson haven't been signed by any other promoter," said eager young Bill. "Both assured me by telephone that they're free and ready to negotiate. Now, we can begin to consider terms."

At the same time, slender, dark-haired, 38-year-old Rosensohn bore down on negotiations for the home-TV presentation of his Patterson-Johansson international classic, for which he accepted a $800,000 gate guarantee yesterday to keep the fight in New York.

"In considering a home-TV offer," he explained, "money is not my only interest. I might accept $300,000 from one network instead of $400,000 from another, if the lesser offer carried the assurance that I could get a contiguity of fight shows on the network. I mean a nationally televised fight every two weeks, three weeks or even once a month, at the start."

In connection with those home-TV negotiations representatives of the three major networks attended yesterday's press luncheon at the Manhattan Hotel, where Rosensohn announced that the fight would be staged in New York.

Michigan State's first entrance into NCAA championship basketball competition was in 1957, when the Spartans went to the semi-finals before losing to eventual champ North Carolina.

'The Babe and I'

Dixie Girl Marries 'Yankee'

By MRS. BABE RUTH with Bill Slocum

(Condensed from "The Babe and I," Copyright 1959, by Mrs. Babe Ruth and published by Prentice-Hall, Inc.)

For a girl who came to New York "scared of all them damn Yankees" I did pretty well, I married the most famous Yankee of them all.

I met him in May of 1923 and I certainly had no girlish tremors that suggested I would ever be his wife.

I knew quite well who Babe was. In Georgia, I had known Ty Cobb very well. And it was because I liked baseball that I happened to meet the Babe.

★ ★ ★

I met him in the Washington ball park. We shook hands, talked a little, and when he left I told my roommate, Bobbie Kane, "He's just a big kid." Neither liking him nor disliking him.

Through the years to come, Babe had a gallant habit of rising to an occasion, such as a wedding day, with a home run. On this occasion he was as dull in the field as he was in conversation.

I was at the ball park because I was in a show, "Dew Drop Inn," which starred Jimmy Barton, who was a friend of Babe's. Jimmy invited my roommate and me to the game to meet his friend.

I'm sure glad he did.

NOT A CHORUS GIRL

I have read that I was a chorus girl and a show girl. I was neither. I couldn't dance well enough to be in the chorus, and I wasn't tall enough to be a clothes horse.

What I was, in truth, was a good looking young woman and a mediocre actress who had a baby. I must have been attractive since I had no talent other than good looks to support myself, my child and a maid for three long, hard years.

I had come to New York for whatever reasons there are that make small towns small and unhappy marriages unhappy.

I was born near Athens, Ga. My father, Col. James Monroe Merritt, was the very model of a southern lawyer. In addition to his law practice he taught at the University of Georgia. My mother was Irish. They were nice. They were strict. Very, very strict.

RUNAWAY BRIDE

Just before my 15th birthday I dropped my school books off in the grocery store and ran off with a man named Frank Bishop Hodgson.

Small town girl, age 13

Mr. Hodgson was a widower and the catch of the town. His people were wealthy cotton brokers and he owned a small residential hotel.

I spent my marriage day in the movies. Alone. At 6 o'clock Mr. Hodgson came to claim his bride. And thus did my father and mother learn that their only child, not yet 15, was a married woman.

★ ★ ★

It didn't work out, of course. Mr. Hodgson was every minute of 33, and he wasn't exactly the type to sit around the house all day with a child bride.

A year and a half after we were married, my daughter Julia was born. Mr. Hodgson was right pleased, but not enough to save a marriage that was doomed from the very start.

BUCKING NEW YORK

Determined to be a model, and protected by 20-year-old Marie Martin, a colored friend and maid, I went to New York. I had a letter to Howard Chandler Christy, the famous artist.

So in November of 1920, Julia, Marie and I checked into the Waldorf. It was the only hotel name I knew in New York City.

The prices at the Waldorf sent me looking for work the day after I arrived. I went at once to the Hotel des Artistes, where Christy had his studio.

I was armed with the letter and chaperoned by my maid and the baby in my arms. I did not realize, of course, that Christy, the premier painter of women in America, was constantly besieged by hopeful young women. Most of them with letters from somebody.

★ ★ ★

But Christy had a colored maid who took pity on a fellow Georgian in distress and insisted that her master see me.

I must admit that Christy was at once obviously enchanted. With Julia. He gooed at her and she gooed back. I was ignored.

NOT MUCH FUN

However, he called next morning at 7:45 a.m. to growl, "Be here at 9. This morning."

I got $10 a day for posing from 9 a.m. until the sun went down. And I loved every second of it.

I also posed for other artists of the day. Soon, Julia, Marie and I were able to move into a four-room flat not very far from where I now live on Riverside Drive.

MEETING THE BABE

In 1922, I learned that Frank Hodgson had died. It was thought down in Athens that it would be a good idea for me to come back with Frank's baby. There would be no money problem because, although Frank was penniless, the family was in excellent financial shape.

I wouldn't have gone back if I was starving. And I was a long way from starving.

In 1923, my father died and my mother came to live with me in New York. I was unbelievably happy to have her with me.

★ ★ ★

I thought I'd like to try the stage. Christy had introduced me to Sigmund Romberg, the composer, and Romberg gave me a note to the producer of "Dew Drop Inn." I got a small job. The show broke in at the National in Washington, and one fine day the star, Jim Barton, said to my roommate and me, "Would you like to go to the ball game? The Yanks and Babe Ruth are in town. Babe's a friend of mine. I'll introduce you both to him."

I said sure. Why not? I always liked baseball.

Tomorrow: On first date she sets a record of her own by telling Babe he drinks too much.

NBA Schedule Ends Tonight

The National Basketball Assn. season comes to a close tonight with the Detroit Pistons at Minneapolis in a preview of their first playoff game scheduled for Saturday.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Last night at Boston the New York Knickerbockers defeated the Celtics, Eastern division champs, 138-116 in the finale for both clubs. In another game, the Philadelphia Warriors defeated the Royals at Cincinnati, 102-94, ending the season for those teams.

★ ★ ★

Syracuse plays the Knicks in New York Friday night in the opener of their best-of-3 playoff. On Saturday, Detroit tackles the Lakers in Minneapolis in the first tilt of their semifinal playoff.

Royals Stay Alive in Class D

Oliver Cagers in 'C' Final

Oliver Buick advanced to Class C City League basketball playoffs and the Lakeside Royals forced the Class D tourney to the double elimination limit in Tuesday night's action.

With Paul Emerson firing 16 points to show the way, the Oliver quintet scored a 47-40 triumph over Towne & Country, regular season winner, in "C" activity at Madison Junior High.

Roger Reynolds tallied 10 points for T & C, which held a 26-22 halftime lead. Oliver outscored T & C, 15 to 4, in the 4th quarter to ice the decision.

In last night's other Class C playoff game, also on the Madison court, the Vikings eliminated Winglemire's of Holly, 50-37. Earl McKee meshed 15 to pace the Vikings while Bradsher hit 14 for the Holly cagers.

The Royals came from behind with a prosperous 2nd half to defeat Welden's, 49-44, after trailing at the half, 28-23. Larry Douglas netted 19 points to spark the Lakeside victory and Ken Hall notched 11 in a losing cause.

Welden's and the Royals, now both with one loss, clash tonight at Lincoln Junior High for the Class D city crown.

Stress Outdoors Education

By The Press Outdoor Editor

Pointing up the genuine need for extension and expansion of education along the line of conservation, the National Wildlife Week, this year, puts stress on the value of conservation teaching in the schools of the nation.

Carrying out this idea the theme for national observance of the week is "Conservation in the Schools." The week is from March 15 to 21.

The Michigan Department of Conservation, like all other similar state bodies, has the interests of its great natural resources at heart, and has a strong education committee to see that every means possible is used to expand knowledge and appreciation of these invaluable resources.

MUCH PROGRESS REPORTED

The State Conservation Committee is composed of college and university professors, administrators, instructors and others from the Conservation and Public Instruction departments.

★ ★ ★

This committee is credited with the marked progress which has been made in Michigan along the line of conservation education.

Assistance is extended by the committee to teachers in handling related matters, techniques and curriculum revisions.

Ultimate object of these teacher-training programs, the Conservation Department points out, is to raise the quality of conservation education in the public schools by integrating these principles with other subjects and revising curriculum for specific conservation courses.

Extent of conservation training in the Lower Peninsula, particularly in the southern portion, is noted in the fact that this work annually reaches about 12,000 students from some 100 school systems, through school camping. A number of Oakland county schools participate in this program each year.

BASIC APPEAL TO YOUNGSTERS

A recent report from the Boy Scouts of America, showing how the youngsters of America spend their time, revealed some interesting angles. The report was prepared by the University of Michigan Research Center with the help of the BSA research service, and showed that 98 per cent of all high school boys remain in the "juvenile decency" class.

★ ★ ★

From a group in the 7-12 grades interviewed about 31 different leisure-time activities, their preference were: swimming 87 per cent, baseball (85), fishing (81), football (73), hunting and shooting (68), boating, canoeing and sailing (53). It is interesting to note that fishing and hunting rated well up, largely because of their basic outdoors appeal to most boys.

Along the Outdoor Trail

With H. GUY MOATS
Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

Tags on Fish Help Research

LANSING (UPI)—If a fisherman comes across part of his catch with odd-looking tags, he shouldn't toss the fish back on fear that he has something he shouldn't.

He should just turn the tag in to the conservation department or some fisheries agency.

Chances are the fish might be an important part of research on various habits of our finney friends that is aimed at helping the fisherman enjoy the sport more.

Robert Ball, with the fisheries and wildlife department at Michigan State University, said tagging, which has been going on in Michigan for about 25 years, is the source of information of relative abundance of fish, population, movement and aging.

But the researchers only get a small return on their efforts. Ball said about 10 per cent of the tagged fish are recovered.

MSU does tagging, so does the University of Michigan and so does the Conservation Department.

Doug Ford Hits 65 in Practice

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Doug Ford has let it be known he'll be hard to beat in his defense of the Pensacola Open golf title.

★ ★ ★

The veteran pro from Paradise, Fla., shot a sizzling 65—seven under par—in a practice round yesterday.

Ford won the $15,000 open on the last hole last year by sinking a shot from more than 50 feet out.

Archers Find Bobcats Scarce, Snow Plentiful

The Michigan Bow Hunters first annual organized "archers only" bobcat hunt near Cedarville (UP) last weekend failed to take a single bobcat, but it did set a Michigan record for the most hunters in one group at one time on snowshoes.

More than 60 webfooted Robin Hoods from all over the state found that bobcat hunting in three-foot snow is the most rugged of outdoor sports, and a half-dozen hardy bear and bobcat guides found that the bowhunters can take it.

Public Told to Shy Away From Tame Fox

That's the advice of State Conservation Department game biologists and it particularly applies to the eastern end of the Upper Peninsula.

First cases of rabies in the two species of wild animals were reported from the Upper Peninsula last year.

No cases have been reported this year, but the experts explain that the disease subsides for a while, then crops up again.

3-Day Boat, Sports Show Under Way on Thursday

Pontiac area boat and equipment dealers and sports merchandisers have arranged for a 3-day boat and sport show, starting Thursday at the Miracle Mile center. The show is the group's 4th annual affair.

Marine equipment, including scores of such items as motors, gadgets of all kinds, boats of all sizes and types, water ski equipment, will be displayed.

There will be archery demonstrations, and probably a sports fashion show each night.

Members of the Pontiac Ski club are expected to present films of winter activities on the slopes of Teeple Hill, along with demonstrations relating to the sport.

A taxidermy group will be a feature of the exhibits, and there will be a showing of life-saving material used by the Oakland County sheriff's water patrol.

Show will be open from 1 to 10 p.m. Thursday and Friday, and from 10 a.m. Saturday.

Production at Peak in West Side Classic

There were 12 games over 1000, 5 series of 3000 or more, 89 scores of 200 or better and twenty 600 series.

High scorers were led by Ken Senior at 265 and Ozzie Jewett who had a series of 693 pins. Others included Al Pietz 249, "Mo" Moore 248 and 648, Jewett 247, Jim Kirkpatrick 246, and 686, Jay Lovett 645, and Berj. Gerjekian 638.

High Team Games were rolled by Slaters Concrete 1127-1048 in 3085; Huron Bowl 1031-1016-1006 in 3053; Furtney Drugs 1061, 11th Frame Bar 1083 in 3020, and Coca Cola 1014.

MSU Among 6 Schools in New Hockey League

CHICAGO (AP) — A new Western Hockey League has been born.

Six midwest colleges and universities which were members of the defunct Western Intercollegiate Hockey League organized the new conference at a meeting yesterday.

It is to be known as the Western Collegiate Hockey Assn. Schedules and other matters are to be discussed at a meeting in Minneapolis in April.

Members of the new group are Michigan State, Minnesota, Michigan Tech, the University of North Dakota, University of Denver and Colorado College. The University of Michigan may join later.

The old WIHL broke up in a disagreement over policy, particularly over the recruitment of experienced Canadian players. The league broke up after Minnesota, Michigan and Michigan State of the Big Ten withdrew.

Solunar Tables

Sportsmen seeking most productive periods for fishing and hunting in this area can receive considerable assistance by consulting the John Alden Knight solunar tables, shown below. These tables are prepared specially for the Pontiac area, and show the times for greatest activity of fish and game. Major periods last from an hour to an hour and a half, minor periods somewhat less. Tables are for the ensuing week.

At Walnut Ridge Field

Full Polo Season Set

With a full schedule of matches already set up, Walnut Ridge Polo club, Walled Lake, is looking ahead to an active, interesting season.

Opening match has been set for Saturday, June 20, at the club field, 7571 Walnut Lake Rd. Opposing clubs will battle for the benefit of "sweet charity", with the Michigan Epileptic society the recipient. Game is sponsored by Wayne County Medical Service group.

The club has also listed six other matches which include contests for the benefit of Amvets, several games to aid the hospital committee of the Allied Veterans Council, and others for the benefit of Kiwanis and Rotary charitable activities.

Potential players in the area for the coming season, as scouted by the club's Rich Gibson, himself a high-goal USPA-rated player, are Jack Ivory (veteran Ivory Ranger star, and former top-rated player) George Benjamin, Mike Wacker, Larry and Dave Williams, Jack Stefani (former Ivory player), Gwen Brown, Tom Young, Franklin Levinson, Wendy Smith, Bob Peterson, Rich Gibson, Len Foley and Ben Levinson.

Monmouth Park racetrack at Oceanport, N. J., has a parking area that holds 18,000 automobiles.

OCSC Shooters Double Victors Over Ferndale

Shooting against a Ferndale team during a weekend match, Oakland County Sportsmen's Club riflemen captured both ends of the match, 940-928 actual and 1018-1014 handicap. There were 12 OCSC and 8 Ferndale club shooters.

High guns were U. of M. student Nancy Newman with 192 actual and Dan Marvel with 215 handicap. Nancy was the lowest handicap (8) shooter for the match, shot over the OSCS range.

The scores:

Equipment in Parks Damaged by Vandals

LANSING (UPI)—Vandalism in 46 of Michigan's 59 state parks and recreation areas cost taxpayers more than $5,500 in 1958, the Conservation Department reports.

Damage and defacing was greatest in heavily populated southeastern Michigan, the department said.

Items which needed repair last year included buildings, stoves, tables, signs, power equipment, pumps, wells, gates and fences, the department said.

Gloves Tourney Resumes

CHICAGO (AP) — Twenty-two young men aiming at eight individual titles battle in the semi-finals and finals of the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions in Chicago Stadium tonight.

Volunteer Feed Cutting Can Aid Starving Deer

Conservation department workers recently got together in an unusual conference to talk over means of making use of an unprecedented public interest in lower Michigan's starving deer population.

Top question studied was how to use offers of help in cutting browse. Sportsmen groups, Boy Scouts, school children and others have shown an unprecedented interest in the situation.

It was pointed out that groups planning cutting projects should notify the conservation district headquarters in the area of their choice in advance of their trip. All possible assistance will be given them. They will receive advice on what types of trees to cut, how to cut them, and most important, where to cut them. Cutting without permission is against the law on either state or private land.

Groups should understand, it was said, that cutting trees for deer food is not a "one-shot job"; that repeated cutting in an area is essential. "If you cut food just once, and don't go back, it's worse than no cutting at all," said a veteran game biologist. "A single cutting will attract deer, they'll clean it up in a hurry, and may stay there to starve," he said.

I. H. Bartlett, department deer authority, pointed out that timber cutting is not the solution to the deer starvation problem, but it does help. "It is an expedient that could mean the vital difference of a week or two of life at the end of winter," he said. Basic reason for the present condition of the herd is the deer range, according to Bartlett.

Island Road Needs Continuous Attention

Mackinac 'Highway' Big Headache

By TOM SHAWVER

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — When summer comes to Mackinac Island, John Wilson will hop aboard a bicycle and begin his regular circular tours of one of the strangest highways in America.

Wilson works for the state highway department. In the summertime, when tourists by the thousands flock to this Great Lakes resort, it's his job to retrieve the litter that collects along the 8.1 miles of state highway M185, which circles the island.

Almost from the turn of the century, motor vehicles, excluding an ambulance and fire truck, have been banned from the island. Partly it's to preserve a peaceful, rustic atmosphere for tourists seeking relief from the rumbles and roars of the city. Partly, it's because M185 couldn't stand heavy traffic.

* * *

Once a year, a truck is brought over by ferry for grading purposes. Oil is sprayed on the surface to keep the dust down.

It sounds simple enough as well worth $14,000 a year in maintenance costs. But state park Outer drive, as the road is formally known, mile for mile is one of the highway department's biggest headaches.

There's some question whether it legitimately belongs to the highway system in the first place, let alone deserves classification in the exclusive trunkline category reserved for the state's most vital traffic arteries.

State highways are built and maintained with gas tax revenues. The Mackinac Island state park commission furnishes equipment and materials for maintenance, but since gas-driven vehicles aren't allowed, the road doesn't begin to pay for its upkeep.

Wilfird F. Doyle, Lansing lobbyist and long-time summer resident of the island, questions whether the City of Mackinac Island acted within its rights in turning it over to the highway system in the first place.

* * *

Most of it, he said, still rightfully belongs to the park.

"It's like giving your neighbor's house to your cousin," he said. "It's a nice gesture but it isn't legal."

It was in 1933 that island officials persuaded highway commissioner Murray Van Wagoner to bring the road into the state highway system, complaining their budget wouldn't cover maintenance costs.

The crumbly base of limestone soil posed a continuous maintenance problem. The ravages of winter weather and the steady pounding of horses' hooves tore it up regularly.

* * *

The highway department budget didn't always provide funds for keeping it up and the unhappy cries of tourists and summertime residents of the fashionable resort island rose in protest every year.

* * *

* * *

Four years ago, when the Moral Re-armament Organization Built its headquarters on the island, truckers were ferried across from the mainland to carry materials. They damaged the roads, so the state sued for $2,700. The case is still pending in Ingham County Circuit Court.

Pondering ways to cure these headaches, state highway engineers suggested a solid blacktop surface. But laboratory analysis showed the crumbly base, liberally cushioned with "animal organic matter," wouldn't support it. Only a complete rebuilding, at a cost considered prohibitive, would do the job.

It thus appears that the job routine for Marcelias Hubbard, John Wilson, horse, wagon and bicycle will continue without interruption.

Wheat Leads Weak Futures

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat contracts were the leaders again today in further setbacks on a mostly weak grain futures market.

Old crop months were off as much as a cent a bushel within the first few minutes, adding to yesterday's closing declines of more than a cent on the Board of Trade.

★ ★ ★

The liquidation appeared to have opened some stop-loss selling at the lower levels. Nearby rye deliveries also slid about a cent while corn and oats held steady and soybeans were mixed with small gains on the new crop contracts.

★ ★ ★

After about an hour wheat was unchanged to ¾ lower, March $2.06; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, March old type contract $1.16⅞; oats unchanged to ½ higher, March 64¾; rye ¾ lower to ⅜ higher, March $1.40⅝; soybeans ¼ lower to ⅝ higher, March $2.21.

Alcoholism Film Planned Here Tomorrow

"Out of Orbit," a film story of a family conflict caused by alcoholism, will be shown to Pontiac public and social workers and professional people tomorrow.

The movie, to be presented at the Pontiac Department of Public Health in the City Hall at 1:30 p.m., was produced to arouse public interest and support for combating the illness that now affects more than 14,000 Oakland County residents, according to Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County health director.

★ ★ ★

Members of family services, the American Red Cross, schools and clergy have been invited to view the 14-minute film. Representatives of industry, the Pontiac Police Dept., Salvation Army, and local physicians also have been invited.

★ ★ ★

The movie was produced by the Michigan State Board of Alcoholism and is being sponsored locally by the Pontiac Alcoholism Information Center.

Following the showing the group will discuss how the film can be used as a tool for community education, Dr. Monroe said.

County Photo Contest Winners to Show Prints

Open house will be held from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday and Friday at the Sayles Photographic Studio at 4431 Dixie Highway. Twenty state award-winning portraits will be displayed.

The Sayler family, including Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sayles, Barbara, 22, and Donald, 20, submitted 24 prints at the State Photographers 18th annual Association convention. All but four of the prints won awards of excellence and merit.

During the two-day exhibition, there will be a drawing and the winner will receive a direct-color portrait, Sayles said.

Rocket Stocks Rise on Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Electronics and rocket-fuel stocks were active as the stock market advanced in heavy early trading today.

Gains of key stocks ran from fractions to about a point. Some of the glamour stocks did better.

Both international and domestic oils were mixed following President Eisenhower's proclamation of mandatory import curbs on petroleum imports as well as oil price policing.

Anderson-Prichard and Standard Oil ((New Jersey) were off fractions. Richfield, Amerada and Royal Dutch were up slightly.

Thiokol advanced more than 2 points and General Tire more than a point as the latter's rocket subsidiary, Aerojet, coontinued to rise on the American Stock Exchange. Philco was up about a point.

International Telephone was in demand and more than a point higher following a rate increase to its Puerto Rico subsidiary.

Moderate gains were posted by Kennecott, American Smelting, Lorillard, United Aircraft, International Paper, American Telephone, U.S. Steel and American Tobacco.

Williams Pushes Foe Out of Lansing's Snow

LANSING (AP) — John B. Martin, Republican National committeeman from Michigan, got a helping hand from Gov. G. Mennen Williams, a Democrat and long-time political foe.

Martin's car was stuck in the snow in downtown Lansing Tuesday. The Governor, coming from a meeting, saw Martin's predicament and with three others got behind the car and pushed it free.

"Just charge this up to the Republican State Central Committee," Williams said to Martin.

MSUO to Give Traffic Course

5-Day Program on Laws, Ordinances Set for Local Campus

Michigan police officers concerned with traffic laws and ordinances will attend a five-day course opening today on the Michigan State University Oakland campus.

The course is one of a special traffic series for Michigan police sponsored by the Michigan State University School of Police Administration and Public Safety of the College of Business and Public Service, the Highway Traffic Safety Center and Continuing Education Service at the university.

Sessions have been scheduled for today, March 17 and 18, and March 24 and 25. Course officials said the sessions have been planned for mid-week days for the convenience of busy police department personnel desiring to attend.

Guest instructors will be Holden LeRoy, Detroit Department of Streets and Traffic; Chief Ralph W. Moxley, Birmingham Police Dept.; Chief Charles F. Pegg, East Lansing Police Dept.; and Walter Pletcher, Detroit Traffic Safety Assn.

Others will be Senior Inspector William Polkinghorn, Detroit Police Dept.; Sgt. Michael Sibal, and Cpl. Casimer Szocinski of the State Police.

MSU faculty members will also serve as instructors.

Flannery, Dad to Take Stand

Defense Builds Case on Insanity Claim in Hillsdale Slaying

HILLSDALE (AP)—Defense counsel in the murder trial of Patrick J. Flannery planned to put both the college youth and his father on the witness stand today.

The defense, headed by Joseph W. Louisell, Detroit criminal lawyer, has indicated it will build its case on a claim Flannery was insane at the time of the slaying and is still out of his mind.

Fellow students of Flannery were among defense witnesses in the crowded courtroom yesterday after the prosecution closed its case.

Robert Moreland, Hillsdale junior from Grosse Pointe Park, described the defendant as "a real nice guy, quiet and reserved" but said that he sometimes acted in a surprising manner.

"He looked up to Tom Neitling terrifically and seemed to idolize him," Moreland said.

Wayne Kinjorski, 20, of Detroit, a prosecution witness earlier, said under cross-examination that Flannery's behavior was strange at times. He said he appeared to be "drawing into himself."

Area Postmasters Meeting Tonight

Prior to the 6:45 p.m. dinner meeting the group will tour the new Pontiac Post Office, according to Robert C. Miller, acting postmaster.

Adeline Phillips, secretary of the state association, will be guest speaker. She will answer questions about the association's present program and what its legislative committee is now studying.

Plans and legislative proposals to be presented at the national convention in June in Washington, D. C., also will be discussed.

Empire City Lawyers Back Up Supreme Court

The resolution, passed unanimously, urged all lawyers to back the high court's authority to interpret the Constitution and laws of the land.

The resolution said criticism by some lawyers of court decisions on internal security had been misinterpreted as criticism of the court.

Liquor Case Sales Up

LANSING (AP)—Liquor case sales last month were up slightly from a year ago, the state Liquor Control Commission reports. February case sales totaled 255,622 compared with 251,137 cases in February 1958.

Says Chrysler Has One Ready

Colbert Answers Small Car Quiz

By WILLIAM FERRIS
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—How about that American small car?

L.L. Colbert, president of Chrysler Corp., was peppered with questions at a news conference yesterday on the possibility Chrysler will introduce a small car this autumn.

Is it ready?

We've got a small car we could release for production. The prototypes are on our test tracks now.

How much have you spent on it.

About 10 million dollars.

Will you put it on the market?

If our dealers and our public want it.

Do they want it?

We haven't made a decision and I don't think our competitors have either. We don't want to be the fair haired boys and be first, but we'll come right along with them.

What kind of a car is it?

It's a six-cylinder car which will hold six people. It will do 25 miles to a gallon. It's on a 105 to 110 inch wheelbase and the engine is up in front where an engine belongs.

What will it cost?

The thing to remember is that our production cost will be only $100 to $150 a car less than that for our smallest Plymouth. That's an 118 inch wheelbase car with a list price of $2,102.

What is holding you up in announcing it?

We don't know if the public wants it. Put that small car on your driveway and put the smallest Plymouth beside it.? /Take a look at the difference.

★ ★ ★

The Plymouth is bigger, roomier, flashier, has more chrome. Wouldn't the average American rather buy that, and impress his neighbors, even if he does have to take a few more sticks out of his garage?

If you did announce a new car, wouldn't it hurt 1959 car sales?

Yes, but that's not our reason. We haven't reached a decision.

When will you decide?

The "point-of-no-return" is late summer. If we don't make the decision then, we can't get a car out for the upcoming model year.

If your decision is yes, how soon can you produce the car?

Colbert also said Chrysler would turn out 100,000 cars a month from now to the end of July; estimated the company would sell 1,000,000 cars this year (against 750,000 last year); stated sales of Simca cars were going very well; said the foreign market for American made cars is dwindling; and asserted labor conditions at Chrysler had improved but "we still have some work to do on productivity."

One-Dose Oral Vaccine for Polio Tested by Group

Some of the answers may come from a group experiment to test a cherry-flavored liquid vaccine said to be safe enough for a day-old infant to take.

It is being given to 65 married couples attending the University of Minnesota and to their children.

The vaccine is of the type described as "attenuated," meaning it contains a live but tamed and weakened virus. Scientists say this type can not only prevent paralysis but also check the disease from spreading from one person to another.

The Minnesota Board of Health, conducting the experiment, is confident the vaccine will prove to be superior to the Salk vaccine, which contains a chemically-killed virus.

"If these studies substantiate the effectiveness of liquid vaccine, then the world is on the way toward eradication of polio," said Dr. Robert Barr of the health department.

Oral vaccines have been under development for several years. One was advanced in 1956 by Dr. Albert Sabin of Cincinnati. The one in use in the current experiment, involving a different substrain, was developed by Dr. Herald R. Cox (of American Cyanamid Corp.).

A year ago a group of University of Minnesota students was given a tamed-virus vaccine in three capsules, each containing one of the three main virus strains.

Results of the experiment, said Dr. Henry Bauer of the health department, "were as good as, and in some instances better than, results from Salk vaccine."

Scientists now want to learn whether the liquid version of the vaccine—containing all three viruses—can provide the same protection as the three-dosage method.

Half of the volunteers are getting the catch-all dose, taken by spoon, vial or mixed with fruit juices. The others are taking the three single-virus doses, three weeks apart.

Solons Hit Committee Report

MSU Professor Charged With Marxist Tax Views

LANSING (AP) — Two legislators have complained that a Michigan State University professor's contribution to the Conlin tax committee report smacks of Marxism.

The committee head has previously denied any such slant.

Reps. Roy H. Brigham (R-Battle Creek) and Frederic J. Marshall (R-Allen) made the complaint in a letter to Connor D. Smith, a member of the State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

The lawmakers said they were "amazed. . .and. . .appalled. . . that a professor of economics in a tax-supported university would advocate the redistribution of income as Milton C. Taylor of Michigan State University has done in his tax report. . ."

The phrase they particularly objected to said:

"The progressive income tax is an instrument for leveling inequalities in the distribution of wealth and income. The advantage of redistribution of income is that it checks the tendency toward cumulative economic inequality, and so assures more nearly equal economic opportunity."

Brigham and Marshall said this was the same progressive income tax which Karl Marx advocated.

Taylor was in Viet Nam and thus unavailable for comment. But Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), head of the tax study committee, answered similar criticism before by reeling off a list of business executives, labor leaders, farm bureau members, industrialists and educators on his advisory committee.

"I don't believe there is a Communist there," he said. "If this is a Communist doctrine, then the United States has been operating under it since 1913 and 23 other states have it."

'Impeach Me? Let 'Em Try!'

Rep. Harmon Scorns Critics, Puts $1,800 Bite on Post Office

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Randall S. Harmon (D-Ind) — he of the celebrated front porch—isn't a bit perturbed by word that some of the voters back home would like him to come back home and stay.

Harmon, the 55-year-old freshman congressman, reported with no trace of alarm yesterday that a number of folks in his 10th District of Indiana want him impeached.

"Let 'em try," Harmon challenged. "I've got this job until Jan. 2, 1961 and I mean to keep it."

The former factory worker from Muncie also allowed he likes the pay. He figured his congressional wages at $62.50 a day, which may be a dollar or so off the going rate but not enough off to ruffle Harmon.

Harmon is the congressman who rents his closed-in front porch to the government for use as a district office—Harmon's district office, that is. The government pays $100 a month. It also pays Mrs. Harmon $344.10 a month to run the office.

Harmon now says Uncle Sam owes him $1,800 for using the porch as a drop-off point for sacks of mail. He has a date with Postmaster General Summerfield tomorrow to thrash this one out.

Harmon said the post office has been placing mail for sorting by a carrier on the Harmon porch for nine years. A Post Office Department spokesman said this kind of operation is not unusual but that use of Harmon's all-purpose porch has been discontinued.

Wild West Saga in New York County Ended

HARRISON, N. Y. (AP) — A fusillade of bullets Tuesday brought down two tons of beef on the hoof — and ended Westchester County's wild West story.

It started last August, when six steers weighing about half a ton apiece broke out of a corral on the Norda Experimental Farms here.

One was shot down a few days later. The other five hung around, just out of reach, until shortly before Christmas.

Then they took off and started to roam over the county. Reports poured in from startled drivers, harassed suburban homeowners, and fearful parents.

Authorities were deluged with suggestions on how to corral the critters. The merits of tranquilizer bullets and doped hay were hotly argued. Some favored bringing in hired gunslingers.

★ ★ ★

Last week somebody shot one of the steers. Then there were four.

Tuesday the remaining four were spotted. Sheriff John E. Hoy sent word to his posse, bring 'em back—dead or alive.

It took five hours of hard riding, but the posse finally caught up with the steers. A burst of gunfire signaled the last roundup.

Waterford Jaycees to Hold Home Show

With only nine days to go before the opening of the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce annual Sports and Builders Show, booth space is nearing a complete sellout, according to chairman William Goulet.

More than 50 merchants are busy preparing their displays for the show which will be held March 20, 21 and 22 at the Community Activities Center.

At 6 p.m. Friday, March 20, township officials will have a "board-sawing ceremony to open the show.

Featured exhibits include the latest methods for home improvements, new home appliances, the latest in music entertainment for the home and new trends in outdoor sports equipment.

Special talent from the area will be presented in a stage show during the three day event, which will be climaxed by the judging of the 1959 Miss Waterford queen's contest. So far, 14 applications have been submitted for the contest.

There will be an admission charged at the door and all proceeds from the show will be turned over to community projects, Goulet said.

Time schedules have been set up for 6 to 11 p.m. March 20, and from 1 to 11 p.m. March 21 and 22.

Soo Bridge on Schedule

Work on Rail Span Between U.S., Canada Continues

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Builders of a new $3,350,000 railroad bridge connecting the American and Canadian shores reported the work on scheule today.

The last major job, the hanging of 48 lengths of wire rope tieing counterweights to the bridge span, was completed today, said U.S. Steel's American Bridge Division.

The new bridge, being built over the old swing-span bridge as the latter remains in service, is to be ready for late August.

Williams Blasts 'Unfair' Article

Says News Magazine Gives Distorted View of State's Troubles

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today launched a personal campaign to combat what he called a "totally unfair" picture of Michigan's financial difficulties as depicted by a national news magazine.

The Governor said he had written to the editor of U. S. News & World Report in protest against an article describing Michigan as a "welfare state." Excessive expenditures and high taxes contributed to the situation, the article said.

"This totally unfair and one-sided picture of the Michigan situation touched off a nationwide campaign of misrepresentation against this state," Williams' letter said. He asked the magazine to get the "full facts" of the state's financial situation in a later issue.

To combat effects of the article, and editorials written about it, the Governor said copies of his protest letter would be sent to between 200 and 300 newspapers across the country. With it, he said, would go information showing that Michigan ranks in per capita expenses:

31st among the states in taxes as related to income,

15th in total general expenditures, fifth in education expenses, 11th in state outlay for local schools, 28th in highway expenditures and 34th in public welfare costs.

★ ★ ★

"In only one respect—state expenditures for higher education—does Michigan rank first, and for that we certainly have no apologies to make," he said.

The Governor noted the magazine in its March issue acknowledged Michigan stood 31st in taxes as related to income.

This, he asserted, failed to make "adequate amends to a state which you have made the victim of a nationwide campaign of half-truth and distortion."

HARRY L. EMERSON

Named to Post at Fisher Body

Harry Emerson Gets Production Manager's Job Here

The appointment of Harry L. Emerson as production manager of Fisher Body's Pontiac Plant was announced today by R. H. Gathman, general manufacturing manager for Fisher Body Division of General Motors.

Emerson is being transferred from Kansas City where he has been plant superintendent since 1949. He will replace Chalmers B. Gough who is transferred to the general manufacturing manager's staff in Detroit.

Emerson started with Fisher Body in 1929 as an hourly rate employe at the Norwood, Ohio, plant. He was promoted to foreman in 1934, and in 1939 was transferred to the Pontiac plant where he eventually was made assistant to the supervisor of labor relations.

In 1943 he was transferred and promoted to supervisor of personnel procedures at the Fisher Body plant in Cleveland.

Two more promotions resulted in Emerson being named as assistant director of industrial relations, a position which he carried with him to the Kansas City plant in 1945.

Emerson became director of industrial relations at Kansas City in 1946, and plant superintendent three years later.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear mother and grandmother, Mary Lou Baynes, who passed away March 11, 1958.
Dear Mother, you are not forgotten,
Though on earth you are no more;
Still in memory you are with us,
As you always were before.
Sadly missed by her loved ones.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR husband & father John Ross, who passed away March 11th, 1958.
One year has passed since that sad day,
When one we loved was called away;
God took him home — it was His will:
Within our hearts he liveth still.
Sadly missed by his wife Lois and children, Donna, David & JoAnne.

Business Urged to Use Ballots

Sligh Claims Michigan Now Has 'Hostile Labor Government'

MOUNT CLEEMNS (AP)—Charles R. Sligh Jr. urges business to get out the vote in the April 6 state election to combat what he calls a "hostile labor government."

The Holland manufacturer, executive vice president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers, said in a speech here last night that business participation in politics is "sound business."

"There is only one thing to do, one sound business move. That is to fight our troubles where they originate — the ballot box," Sligh said.

He asserted that business must fight what he called the "mushy thinking" of labor politicians. He said Michigan has a "labor government" and that the same may be true of the United States in 1960.

The NAM executive said there is hope of reversing the political trend in Michigan.

"I think there is very great hope," he said. "There were already signs last November when our radical, liberal governor obtained only half the majority he is accustomed to receiving from the voters of the state."

"Every company and individual businessman in the state" Sligh added, "has a business interest in combatting an administration that thinks its mission is to make Michigan the best state in the United States in which to be out of a job and the best state in which to conduct a strike."

Old Friend Tells Convicted Paar Justice Prevailed

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Jack Paar, who has repeatedly told on his nightly television show how he was arrested and "unjustly" convicted in 1940 of failure to return a book to the Cleveland library, had a rude shock last night when he learned the library was right after all.

★ ★ ★

The mild-spoken comic, who contended all along he returned the book to the library and that his conviction was a blatant example of injustice, found out last night before his national television audience that actually he had given the book to a friend, Minnette King.

Miss King returned the book—still checked out in the name of Paar—after 19 years with the comment that Paar now owed $131.40 in fines at the rate of two cents a day for the past 6,570 days.

Saloon Circuit Sits Up to See Keefe Brasselle

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Another one of our Ohio boys, Keefe Brasselle, from Elyria, Cleveland and such places, has gone and done us proud on the Saloon Circuit.

WILSON

You'll remember when Keefe played Eddie Cantor's life story in Hollywood. Then he married Arlene DeMarco of the singing DeMarco Sisters.

He showed up the other night as a singer, dancer and comedian and was the surprise of the year.

For example, he said you don't have to have a voice today to be a singer. You have to have a gimmick. You take Billy Daniels, he said. Billy has the itch. If you've noticed Billy scratching himself, practically, you know what Keefe means.

Keefe looks like a young Cary Grant or an old Eddie Hodges. He sang a song to his mother-in-law and he also mentioned that he was appearing in a "psychological western" on TV.

This psychological western concerned a Texan, sho' enough, who had 10,000 oil wells giving milk, and 10,000 cows giving oil. The problem is, he said, "How do you milk an oil well?"

Zsa Zsa Gabor threw a loud, screaming, tantrum at a Steve Allen TV rehearsal — claiming Steve's writers weren't giving her enough laughs. They patched it up for the weekend show. A reporter said, "I guess she'll never be on Steve's program again?" And a spokesman answered. "That is an understatement!"

Jack says the shortest business conference he ever held in his years in Show Biz was with Al Capone in Chicago. "Al threw me a cigar and said 'Anybody bodderin' ya?' I said 'No.' He said 'Dat's all kid beat it.' I was O.K. with the mob."

Rocky Graziano's decided not to take any acting lessons for the ABC TV "Naked City" episode he's doing next month. U. S. Informality, Coffee Bring Out Maria's Sparkle

NEW YORK (NEA—"There are things in America," says Maria Schell, "that I have a need for."

The lovely and talented actress sat in a booth in a Chinese restaurant, eating moo goo gai pan and kumquats and musing about her first lengthy stay in New York.

What brought her here was the two-part Playhouse 90 production of "For Whom the Bell Tolls," over CBS on Thursdays, March 12 and 19.

"I am in love with America," Miss Schell said. "The openness, the friendliness. Calling people when you just meet them by first names—that is unheard of in Europe. Here the tax driver calls me Maria. I like that."

She popped a kumquat into her mouth and thought of other things she likes.

"Your coffee. You can drink five cups without getting heart-pounding. In Germany, only four cups. In France, three cups. In Italy, two cups. In Turkey, only one cup."

★ ★ ★

Miss Schell is wisely steering a middle course between Europe and America, between films and television. She likes them all.

"An actor today," she says, "cannot work in one or other medium, or in one or other continent. An actor must enjoy them all."

She grew serious as she said that. But, in a twinkling, she could become bright and animated. Her whole face can light up like a miniature sun — or brood like the moon.

They sparkled when she talked about the home she and her husband, film director Horst Haechler, are building near Munich.

"Our house is almost terminated," she said, meaning "finished." (She learned her English in England, and has some trouble with American idioms.

★ ★ ★

"We bought a place outside of Munich, on the Inn River," she said. "On one side are the mountains, on the other an old village. I don't know if I'll be able to spend much time there, but I don't care—just to have it, to know it is there. That is enough."

She and Haechler have been married a year and a half.

"But we knew each other much longer than that," she said. "I want my marriage to last. In that, I am old-fashioned."

"You have to know what you want out of life. For me, the theater—the joy of creating, the fame, the money—they are all not as important as marriage. To know there is always someone by your side, that is the important thing.

MARIA SCHELL

Miss Schell is Swiss originally, so avoided any personal tragedy during World War II.

"My husband had such a terrible time, he has only spoken of it to me twice. And, when he does, I look at him and cannot understand how he can have a normal face when he has seen what he has seen."

There was no sparkle in her eyes when she said that.

"There is Chinese food all over the world," she said. "But everywhere it is cooked as that nation cooks—in Italy, it is swimming in oil, in India, it has curry. I like it very much here."

40 Papers Will Send Photographers to MSU

LANSING (AP) — Some 40 newspapers will send their photographers to Michigan State University Friday and Saturday. The photographers will exhibit their pictures in a prize competition highlighting the 11th annual Michigan Press Assn. photo-journalism short course.

Thomas J. Masterson, public information director for the State Police, and Martin Bouchan of the State Civil Defense Office will give the photographers tips on how to cut red tape at disaster areas.

Swift Passage Due Water Bill

Quick Action by House on Chicago's Diversion of Lake Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Supporters of the Lake Michigan water diversion bill have predicted swift passage when the measure comes up in the House.

The House Rules Committee, as expected, quickly cleared the legislation yesterday for floor action, probably on Friday.

Rep. Sidney R. Yates (D-Ill), an active worker for the bill, said he looked for the House passage "by an overwhelming majority, at least as good as the 233-144 margin it got last year."

But bills to permit Chicago to divert additional water from Lake Michigan have been passed by Congress twice in the past, only to receive vetoes from President Eisenhower. The diverson proposal is opposed by Canada and six Great Lakes states.

Outgunned opponents predict Eisenhower will veto the bill again if it reaches his desk. The Senate has not held hearings on a companion bill sponsored by Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill).

Under the plan, Chicago would divert an additional 1,000 cubic feet of water a second from Lake Michigan into the Illinois waterway for a one-year trial period. Chicago now is permitted to divert an average of 1,500 c.f.s. into the waterway for navigational and sanitary purposes.

Canada and the opposing Great Lakes states contend the additional diversion would damage shipping and hydroelectric projects by lowering lake levels. Supporters of the bill contend that any damage would be negligible.

Toronto Police Hunting Man Who Took Sitter to Supposed Job

TORONTO (AP) — Most of metropolitan Toronto's 2,300-man police force was thrown into a search today for a man seen talking with 12-year-old Patricia Lupton less than an hour before her strangled body was found in a snowbank Monday night.

A schoolgirl yesterday gave police a description of the man, believed to be the one who telephoned the Lupton home in suburban Searborough that evening and asked Patricia to take a baby-sitting assignment.

Carole Halsey, 12, said she saw Patricia talking to a dark-haired man outside a drugstore. Carole said there was a black and cream car parked nearby.

Sharon Burridge, 12, who went into the drugstore five minutes earlier, saw Patricia standing alone outside. When she and Carole came out of the store together Patricia and the car had vanished.

Has Success Spoiled Comic George Gobel?

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—George Gobel nailed down his NBC-TV season last night with an hour that pointed up some of the shortcomings and longcomings of Gobel.

Gobel's principal asset always has been his littleness. He was the wee man boxed in by life who somehow managed to squeeze slabs of sly humor out of a crusher world.

It was possible to feel rapport with this Gobel because it is one of the conditions of human beingness to feel an isolation, solitariness. And it is always heartening to watch a fellow gull joking about it all.

But the problem with the on-stage Gobel of recent seasons is that the rapport has begun to wither. He looks sleek now. He has fattened on success.

Playing a Viennese chess champion in an unfunny sketch, he was all wise guy. On the other hand, earlier in the show, he came close to his old elf-self in the role of a bewildered bellhop trying to coax a man off a window ledge — it was, not so incidentally, a very funny sketch enlivened considerably by the presence of Paul Lynde.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: CBS-TV will fold Your Hit Parade on April 24 and move the starting time of its western, Rawhide, up a half hour into the Hit Parade spot on May 1 — Rawhide will be followed in the Friday night lineup by The Invisible Man, which was jerked off the network earlier this season.

Snark Complete Very Successful Tuneup Journey

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A jet-powered Snark, destined to be the nation's first operational intercontinental range missile, returned to the cape without a scratch after completing a highly successful round trip ocean flight Tuesday.

The launching, which sources said ran smoothly several thousand miles down range and back, was one of the final tuneups for the sleek missile that will soon be deployed at strategic bases throughout the country.

It was the second time this particular Snark had logged a successful two-way flight from the cape. The missile was equipped with special landing skids.

The 69-foot missile uses two booster rockets for takeoff and a turbo-jet engine for the long flight. Once airborne, the Snark is on its own, steering by a self-contained guidence system.

The Snark cruises at about 600 m.p.h. Shortly after it approaches the target, the nose cone breaks away from the main body of the missile and soars in alone like a bomb. The Snark would carry a nuclear device in the event of war.

House Trailer Burns in Highland Township

Mrs. Mary Turman, who lives in the trailer at 2859 Duck Lake Rd., told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies that she left the trailer to visit a neighbor.

When she returned an hour later there was smoke coming from inside the trailer. Highland Township firemen, who were called to the scene, said the fire had too big a start on them.

Fire Chief Kenneth Hayden estimated the damages at $3200. The blaze was started by an overheated refrigerator motor, Hayden said.

South America Deceptive Land

Neat Triangle on Map Can Brag of Oddities and Irregularities

BUENOS AIRES(UPI) — South America, as any schoolboy knows, is a neat triangle with a geographical bump on top.

It is the land of the tallest mountain peak in the hemisphere (23,085-foot Aconcagua in Argentina). And it is a land of fascination.

From Asuncion, Paraguay, to La Paz, Bolivia, for example, is 1,100 air miles. Overland, it's 3,000 miles. There just isn't any direct overland route between the two capitals and the traveler must backtrack to Buenos Aires before going on to La Paz.

Incidentally, La Paz is so high (12,130 feet) that the city hardly needs a fire department. Not enough oxygen to feed a fire.

Speaking of altitude, there's a sightseeing cable railroad in Bogota, Colombia, that climbs Mount Monserrate at a 75 per cent gradient.

In Quito, Ecuador, there's a 281-mile stretch of railroad that takes 40 hours to negotiate because of the loops, zig zags and switchbacks necessary to climb 11,841 feet.

Roads and railroads are old hat in South America. Both the Chileans and the Peruvians claim the first railway on the continent (1851).

For roads, look to the Incas. When Columbus was still talking about reaching India, the Incas had constructed a wide road from Cuzco to Quito, more than 1,000 miles.

As for the natives populating South America today, not all of them are friendly or content to sell souvenirs to the white man.

Reports still trickle out of raids on Amazon frontier villages, and eyes in the oil-rich country around Maracaibo, Venezuela, there is a tribe called the Motilones who attack not only white men but other Indians as well.

In Iquitos, Peru, the big evening diversion is bus riding. It's so popular that the bus companies hire musicians to entertain the passengers. Outside Concepcion, Uruguay, many women set off their colorful costumes by smoking big cigars.

South America is a land, too, of sightseeing grandeur. The Andes include more than a score of 20,000-foot peaks. From Latacunga, Ecuador, it is possible to see nine volcano cones on a clear day.

Three-Ounce Pike Hooks Prize for Lucky Angler

Plate and 799 other anglers had gathered on the ice of Lake Pepin, Wis., for the fish derby. In three hours, the only fish caught was Plate's pigmy pike.
