

Space Walker Is Forced to Cut His Stroll Short

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut Richard F. Gordon Jr., cut short a space walk today and hurried back to the safety of the Gemini 11 cabin when "he got so hot and sweaty he couldn't see."

Gordon, husky, 36-year-old Navy lieutenant commander, remained outside only 44 minutes of the planned 115-minute excursion.

It was the third straight time that an American astronaut cut short a space stroll because of troubles.

Command pilot Charles Conrad Jr., flashed the word to a tracking station in the Indian Ocean that the Gemini was back inside the spacecraft, and that the cabin was depressurized.

"Listen," he said, "I just brought Dick back in. He just got so hot and sweaty he couldn't see."

"We know how hot it is," flight controllers on the ground radioed. "When it gets where he can't see, you've got to close the lid."

Conrad later reported: "He stayed out about 44 minutes. He couldn't see anymore out of his right eye, therefore I didn't want him to get any hotter. I called him in."

"We're just resting and he's getting his vision back in his right eye. Even though he rested five or 14 minutes outside, the sweat wouldn't evaporate and he had no way of getting it out of his eye."

Gordon had trouble organizing his 38-foot tether after opening the hatch and it apparently put a heavy work load on him.

Conrad had to hold onto the space-walker's legs to prevent him from floating out before he was ready.

"I'm breathing hard . . . I'm pooped," Gordon reported.

MOVES TO AGENA

Once outside, Gordon moved over to an Agena satellite attached to the nose of Gemini 11.

The astronauts had caught and docked with the Agena in record time after their launching Monday from Cape Kennedy.

"Ride it cowboy," Conrad told him, and then reported to the ground: "He's riding it like a cowboy."

Gordon rested for several minutes as he sat astride the 26-foot target rocket.

VITAL TASK

Before calling off the stroll, he accomplished a task vital to a high-flying experiment planned for tomorrow.

He unstowed one end of a 100-foot cord stored under the Agena docking collar. He attached the loose end to a ruler-like docking bar on the Gemini nose.

The bulk of the line remained coiled in a stowage area on the Agena, the other end attached to the target satellite.

Conrad and Gordon plan tomorrow to disconnect from the Agena and pull the 100-foot line taut between the two vehicles to see if this is an effective, fuel-saving means of flying formation in space.

The short walk was reminiscent of the Gemini 9 flight during which astronaut Eugene A. Cernan overworked and had his helmet visor fog up, then freeze.

Cernan returned to the cabin after a record two hours, 10 minutes, about 30 minutes shorter than planned.

On Gemini 10, Michael Collins was outside 30 minutes, but had to call the stroll off 25 minutes early because the spacecraft fuel supply ran low.

Collins also had to curtail a space stand — in which he poked the upper half of his body through the open hatch. That was caused when chemical fumes got into the suit lift support system.

Gordon plans a 140-minute space stand tomorrow to take photographs of stars.

Desegregate Classes

GRENADA, Miss. (AP) — Protected by 50 Mississippi highway patrolmen in riot gear, Negro pupils entered newly desegregated Grenada schools for the second day today without apparent difficulty. More than 100 white adults clustered in the area and jeered.

The whites, who beat Negro students and newsmen yesterday and threatened others, turned on newsmen again today. A window of one man's car was smashed on the street outside the school by the angry whites. Other cars were rocked and kicked.

A white man, mistaken for a reporter, was beaten to the ground as he talked with constable Grady Carroll. The man, identified as Henry Aaronson, a lawyer for the NAACP defense fund, was led away by officers. His head was bloody.

Griffin Voices Support for Rights Bill

By the Associated Press
Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said today he would support the 1966 Civil Rights Bill as it stands in the Senate.

At the same time, Griffin challenged President Johnson to go before the American people via radio and television and urge them to make their support known to their senators.

Griffin is one of 22 senators who have signed a petition forcing a vote tomorrow on invoking cloture cutting off debate on the measure.

Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois has been a leader of the opposition, which also includes most Southern senators.

"If the President really wants the bill to become law," Griffin said in a statement issued in Detroit, "he has a great deal of prestige and influence which he could put to work in behalf of this bill."

UPHILL BATTLE

"Those of us who strongly believe that additional legislation is needed to insure equal opportunity, regardless of a person's color, are fighting an uphill battle which is strangely devoid of any strong leadership from the White House."

A two-thirds vote would be required to shut off debate, and Democratic leader Mike Mansfield agrees with Griffin's view that the chances of getting it are slim.

'Project: Pontiac'

U. of D. Plan Unveiled

By L. GARY THORNE

The University of Detroit's "Project: Pontiac" was presented last night to a wide cross section of community leaders.

An estimated 200 to 300 business and civic leaders received their first look at the initial findings of the year-long study of Pontiac by the university's School of Architecture.

The study results, still only partially complete with a year more of study due, excited the interest of some leaders and angered others.

The U. of D. conclusions:

- Pontiac needs logical planning for its future growth.
- A drastic shortage of housing is the city's paramount problem.
- Steps must be taken to rid the city of an imbalance in its economic life.

Rain Possible Wednesday

This morning's sunny skies are expected to become partly overcast tonight and there's a chance of afternoon and evening thunderstorms tomorrow.

Temperatures will continue warm, the low 56 to 64 tonight. Highs will climb to 77 to 85 tomorrow. Clear and cooler is the outlook for Thursday.

A low of 62 was the recording in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury had registered 81 by 2 p.m.

Without proper planning, Wide Track can be a barrier to future growth of the central business district.

A "deck" approach can be employed to make maximum use of the downtown area by the city's human, rather than vehicular, population.

Some of these present last night objected to the U. of D. description of Pontiac's existing problems.

Pontiac realtor Bruce J. Annett charged, "You've condemned the city." Annett said he was "disappointed" in the outline given of the city's present problems.

The 3½-hour preview cited six symptoms of a "sick" city.

The diagnosis of ill health included public apathy (rated at epidemic proportions), racial unrest, migration, poverty, crime and broken homes.

It was emphasized that the same criticisms could be applied to nearly every city of comparable size in the nation.

Based on the thesis that cities can no longer grow by chance, the university study offered its view of Pontiac — the total city — in the year 2,000.

Theater at OU to Begin Jan. 4

The first 21-week season of the John Fernald Company of the Meadow Brook Theater will begin Jan. 4 on the Oakland University campus.

Plans for the premiere season of Michigan's first resident professional theater company were announced last night at a meeting of the Meadow Brook Theater Committee.

The more than 100 prominent southeastern Michigan residents attending the event included Mrs. George Romney, wife of the governor.

Mrs. Romney and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, OU's first lady, serve as honorary co-chairmen of the committee.

OU's drama center was established July 20 with the announcement that the university had attracted as its theatrical director the former head of England's Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts.

Fernald, who arrived on campus less than two weeks ago, has chosen the works of five major playwrights for his company's initial season.

Fire Dept. Levy Proposal Put on Waterford Ballot

Waterford Township voters will be asked to approve a fire department millage proposition in the Nov. 8 general election.

The Waterford Township Professional Fire Fighters Association received solid support last night from the Township Board, which unanimously approved placing the question on the ballot.

The firemen seek a one-mill levy extending over a 10-year period to finance the purchase of fire hall sites, motor vehicles and fire fighting equipment and to maintain vehicles, equipment and fire halls.

In an effort to gain public support and to inform township residents of the issue at stake, the fire fighters circulated several petitions.

Some success has been reflected in results thus far as more than 500 residents have signed petitions in support of the proposition.

If approved, the one-mill tax would not be collected until December 1967. It is expected the mill would raise between $125,000 and $150,000 in 1967 if the township's total equalized valuation shows an increase comparable to the 1965-66 differential.

It would probably mean about $7 more per year in taxes to the average property owner.

STATE STANDARDS

Fire Chief Lewis Goff contends it is essential that the department begin expansion as soon as possible to meet state standards and to provide better fire protection for a rising population.

HEAR SEASON DETAILS — Three prominent area residents who are promoting the John Fernald Company of the Meadow Brook Theater listen as plans for the first season are outlined by theater committee chairman Charles F. Merger of Welfare Units Urged

In a split 4-2 vote yesterday, the welfare committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors recommended merger of the county and state welfare agencies.

Welfare officials anticipate a saving to the county of $89,333 for the balance of this year if the full board approves the merger next Monday.

Yesterday's action by the committee reiterated its merger recommendation prior to the board of supervisors' June 27 meeting.

The full board then tabled action on the proposal. Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, said after the June merger delay that it would cost the county at least $50,000.

COMPUTED SAVINGS
Murphy computed merger savings at a minimum of $200,000 annually, or $50,000 per quarter.
If the board approves merger Monday, it will be effective July 1, 1966, which is the beginning of the current quarter.

Merger action after Oct. 1 would wipe out benefits of the July-September quarter.

Chief opponent of merger at yesterday's committee session was Vernon B. Edwards, who said he was not convinced it was a practical move.
"I may save the county money for a year or two but these savings might terminate in the future," Edwards said.

'67 Buicks Will Feature New Styling

With emphasis on major styling changes and two new engines, Buick Motor Division today officially announced its 1967 model line.

The new models will go on display in the following Pontiac area Buick dealerships Sept. 29:

Oliver Motor Sales, Inc., 210 Orchard Lake; Shelton Pontiac-Buick, Inc., 855 S. Rochester, Avon Township; Fischer Buick, 515 S. Woodward, Birmingham; Al Hasnate Chevrolet-Buick, Inc., 299 N. Park, Lake Orion; and Homer Hight Motors, Inc., 180 Washington, Oxford.

A new series, the GS 400, was introduced to give Buick a total of 37 different models in nine series. The various series are Special, Special Deluxe, Skylark, GS 400, Sportwagon, LeSabre, Wildcat, Electra 225 and Riviera.

Robert L. Kessler, Buick's general manager and a vice president of General Motors, noted that product improvements were a major consideration in designing the new models.

ADVANCEMENTS

"We have provided a number of advancements, particularly in the area of brakes," Kessler said.

Buick's general manager pointed out that brake systems were more closely tailored to the weight and power of the car, which varies from series to series and according to power plant options.

In addition, front wheel disc brakes are offered as optional equipment on most models.

Buick's regular-sized cars, the LeSabre, Wildcat and Electra 225, have new wheel covers and introduce new side appearance with a contoured line that sweeps from front fender to rear bumper.

Two-door and four-door hardtops have new rooflines, emphasizing a fastback appearance.

BUICK SPECIAL — Among Buick Motor Division's new models introduced today is this Special four-door sedan. The series is available in six styles and features a new grille and front-end design. Buick engineers cite braking systems as one of the chief areas of improvements in the Special and other Buick models.

Negro Students Guarded in Grenada

Mississippi town last night, had orders to protect the Negroes. About 100 Negro pupils desegregated the schools yesterday under federal court order.

A racially tense area in Atlanta, Ga., had its third straight night of riot and firebombing, throwing and an incident in Bogalusa, La., threatened to lead to open battling.

The highway patrol went into Grenada after Gov. Paul Johnson declared that "these who raise the sword of violence will be met by the sword of law enforcement."

The state troopers dispersed a hostile crowd early today which attempted to march toward a church where some 250 Negroes were meeting. The Negroes also threatened a march toward City Square where the whites were gathered, but were dissuaded by an aide to the governor.

During the attacks on the children, 12-year-old Richard Smith had to hobble nearly a block through the gantlet of whites on a broken leg. He was hospitalized along with three 16-year-olds also beaten by the mob.

Hearing Aims Hiring Age Restriction

The constitutionality of a maximum age restriction in fire department hiring practices was questioned yesterday at a hearing before the Michigan Civil Rights Commission (MCRC) in Pontiac.

Adversaries in the case are the Bloomfield Township Fire Department and a 48-year-old township volunteer firefighter turned down for regular duty because of his age.

Attorneys for both parties agreed yesterday to submit briefs regarding legal aspects of the discrimination complaint filed by Gregory A. Humphrey of 225 Hickory Court, Bloomfield Township.

Humphrey, whom the township admits was rejected for employment because of the fire department hiring age limit of 35 years, filed suit last October.

The MCRC investigated Humphrey's allegations and then initiated a formal complaint of its own against the township.

AGE DOESN'T TELL

Assistant attorney general William Bledsoe, arguing yesterday on behalf of the commission, said that "age alone does not indicate whether any individual is capable."

"Therefore," Bledsoe said, "the (hiring restriction) is discriminatory and contrary to state law."

Township Attorney Thomas J. Dillon Jr. told the three-member commission panel, however, that firefighting is "semi-military, dangerous work."

Dillon's summation of the township case followed testimony by Bloomfield Township Fire Chief Valentine Yauszeski and five other Pontiac area fire chiefs that a man 49 years old is "too old" to assume the regular duties of a full-time firefighter.

despite the urgings of civil rights leaders to end violence and allow city authorities to seek redress of grievances.

The violence last night did not last as long as on Saturday and Sunday nights. A cold, drizzly rain aided police in keeping the eight-block area cleared. Two fires were ignited by firebombs, but were quickly brought under control by firemen.

In Bogalusa, a white man, Farmer, an insurance salesman — pointed a shotgun at a Negro man outside a junior high school which was integrated without incident last week.

Underground Garage Discussed by Architects

BIRMINGHAM — The construction of an underground parking garage in the Civic Center is feasible from an engineering standpoint, city commissioners learned last night.

The only factor in determining the number of levels would be based on the amount of money the city intends to spend on the proposed facility, representatives of the Detroit architectural firm of Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates, Inc. told commissioners.

Soil conditions will easily permit as many as four levels, but construction costs would rise appreciably if more were built, according to B. L. Miller, vice president of the firm.

The commission retained the firm as a consultant in July to study the possibility of building an underground facility below the present surface lot immediately south of Shain Park.

Preliminary sketches presented to the commission for review also included preliminary plans of above and below ground facilities, and further utilization of the entire area for parking by building under Shain Park.

TREE REMOVAL

Miller noted, however, that if the commission should decide to proceed with plans under the park, it would be necessary to remove many of the trees.

The commission made no decision on any specific plan, but offered only guidelines as to what direction the firm should take in continuing its planning.

Chief among these is the number of cars that the facilities would house. The commission agreed that at least 500 spaces should be provided.

Tentative cost estimates for the seven plans offered ranged from slightly under a half million dollars for a single deck above-ground facility to $6 million for a three-story above-ground structure coupled with four underground decks.

When the firm completes its tentative plans and makes recommendations in two or three weeks, the commission will receive information on the practicality of building the garage in phases above ground as the need for parking increases.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—A 17-year-old Central American girl, Sonia Maribel Raygoza, arrived here today to attend Kingswood School Cranbrook on a scholarship that resulted from a school grant.

The scholarship was donated by United Fruit Co. after two Kingswood girls started collecting Chiquita banana labels and telling their friends they were getting money for the school's scholarship fund.

Sonia read about the escape in her hometown newspaper, applied for the scholarship and won.

Equality Study to Be Initiated

An extensive study of equality of educational opportunity in Pontiac is expected to be initiated by the board of education tomorrow night.

School trustees will consider a proposal to establish a citizens committee to conduct the study during 1966-67.

Schools Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitner also will recommend the appointment of John F. Perdue to direct the work.

Perdue last spring was named director of school-community and human relations for the school district.

Expected to take about 18 months, the study would be similar to those recently conducted in Grand Rapids, Lansing, Ann Arbor and other Michigan cities.

DISCUSSED AT SESSIONS

It has been discussed at several executive sessions of the Pontiac Board of Education.

As proposed, the study committee would cooperate with and utilize the resources of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, the State Department of Education and other appropriate agencies.

Initiation of the study has been backed by the Pontiac School District Citizens Committee on Human Relations.

CHANCES SLIM

But violence in the streets and administration refusal to back down on open housing threaten to bury any chance that the bill will pass this year.

Mansfield said it would take at least a majority vote to justify a second effort to end the debate. It would take two thirds of the senators voting to limit the debate.

Otherwise, although Mansfield did not say so, the bill clearly would be shelved for the year.

"The Emperor's New Clothes" had been picked as a children's play to be produced March 27-April 2.

All the plays are "gay and stimulating," Fernald said in commenting on his choices last night.

TELEPHONE HOOKUP

The director was not present at the meeting but spoke via a special telephone hookup between the university and William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak, where he is undergoing a five-day series of allergy tests.

Fernald said casting is nearly completed for the forthcoming season.

He announced the signing of Eric Berry as a senior character actor. Berry, who has appeared at New York's Phoenix Theater and American Shakespeare Festival in Stratford, Conn., recently drew rave notices as the cardinal in Edward Albee's "Tiny Alice," which he appeared with Sir John Gielgud and Irene Worth.

The housing shortage, termed chronic and critical by the study, drew much of the discussion last night both in presentation and during a question and answer period.

The study labeled 5,000 of the city's more than 24,000 homes as "unsound," while 50 per cent were rated as overcrowded.

Davidson cited property now in the site of Pontiac State Hospital as the prime area for future housing development.

PRIME AREA

This land, he said, could be available for housing if the hospital, "outdated by almost a hundred years," were redesigned as conceived by the university study.

Ken Morris, UAW regional director, interjected that the glad auto union had ordered a study of Pontiac's housing conditions.

The union executive said there were 30,000 UAW members working and living here, "and we have a vital stake in how they live."

Continued Morris, "This (the study) presents an opportunity to do something. I wonder if you have the courage?" he asked the community leaders.

CITY DEPICTED

The U. of D. design for Pontiac was physically illustrated last night through the presentation of extensive large-scale models, depicting the total city.

Walls of the real estate on North Saginaw were lined with over 600 feet of drawings, which detailed individual buildings and stages of the city's future growth to the year 2,000.

A new concept was advanced for reconstruction of the central business district. The university architects proposed an 18-foot "high deck" to cover the area within Wide Track Drive.

Auto parking and circulation would be under the deck, while pedestrian movement and the normal downtown activities would take place on top.

RULED FEASIBLE

The deck approach was ruled economically feasible by Davidson. He said the deck itself would cost about $3.30 per square foot, as compared to $8 per square foot for other proposed developments.

The two-part slide presentation "Pontiac: An Urban Crisis," and "Pontiac: Toward a New Environment," took up most of the evening.

According to the presentation, Pontiac needs to diversify its current auto economy in order to have both a stable economy and an increase in tax base.

The study results cited the importance of General Motors in the Pontiac study. General Motors, the study said, now gives the city its jobs, prestige and 65 per cent of its tax revenue.

Although the Taubman shopping center plan was termed "compatible with changes" with the U. of D. design for downtown, the shopping center proposal was sharply criticized.

Files Suit Against Village

Ex-Lake Orion Assessor Asks $700

LAKE ORION — Robert J. Swem, who contended he was still assessor of Lake Orion despite a delayed acceptance of his resignation during the stormy 1965-66 term, has filed suit against the village to collect his pay.

Councilmen were read a letter from Swem's attorney at their regular meeting last night, in which Swem asked for $700. He threatens legal action if he doesn't get it.

Swem was elected village assessor by a narrow margin in March 1965. In April he submitted a letter of resignation, reportedly withdrawing the letter, then found the council accepting the resignation belatedly.

The matter was never really settled until the position of assessor was legally filled by the election of Albert J. Rhodes last March.

In other business last night the council heard complaints from neighbors of Arthur D. Curran, 553 East Flint, who contended that the horses he stables on his village property constitute a sanitation menace.

GIVEN 30 DAYS
Curran was allowed to keep his horses when the ordinance prohibiting animals other than household pets in the village was passed in 1965. Under the nonconforming usage clause, a property owner may continue in his activities despite new zoning to the contrary.

In a letter to the council, Curran said the County Health Department had given him 30 days to move the animals.

He said that if he could have an extension of time in order to find proper accommodation outside the village he would move before next summer's hot weather.

Council voted to recommend the delay to the county.

OPPOSED TO CONSTRUCTION
Council voted to take steps to stop permission granted by the Michigan State Conservation Department allowing the construction of a seawall and a 15-foot fill on Long Point.

The work is to be done befor Oct. 1 on the Sharon Lee Neeph property. Permission was sought by Richard S. Gattler of Detroit to provide parking space on the fill.

Councilmen contended that the fill would block access to the lagoon and that should similar permission be granted to people on the other side, the water inlet would be obliterated, allowing the lagoon to become stagnant.

Mayor Robert Parenti was authorized to draw up an ordinance requiring village permission for such projects.

Tentative date for the public hearing on the new village charter is still Sept. 28, Parenti said.

140 at Meeting of Zone Board

AVON TOWNSHIP — A well-mannered crowd of about 140 showed up last night at the Zoning Board of Appeals meeting to protest the projected establishment of a sand and gravel operation in the northeast corner of the township.

Sidney Weinberger, Morris Aarons and Frank Wilcock of Superior Investment Co. of Uica would establish such an operation on 181 acres on Sheldon Road.

Area residents objected to increased traffic such a business would bring, and the nature of the operation.

They felt the land involved could be put to better use, according to Mrs. Doris Ungier, recording secretary of the board.

Representatives of the company showed a film depicting what has happened in other areas where such a job was ultimately carried through to a land-fill operation.

Company spokesmen also presented a preliminary layout of plans for the subdivision which they say will someday occupy the site.

Police Chief Resigns From Post in Holly

HOLLY — Police Chief Patrick Burke has resigned his position to accept a job with the Michigan State Police.

He will be replaced by a retired sergeant from the Detroit Police Department, Omar Teeples, who is to be sworn in tonight.

He also served as a deputy sheriff in Minneapolis.

A year ago Burke was instrumental in capturing a Shelby Township youth who had led area state and local police, sheriff's deputies and National Guardsmen on a two-day chase through Oakland County after a crime rampage.

After Kidney Transplant

Avon Woman Enjoying Life

AVON TOWNSHIP — The miracle of good health has been Mrs. James Shontz's for a year now, and she's not about to take it for granted.

Mrs. Shontz, 1895 Tamm, underwent a kidney transplant a year ago at the Cleveland Clinic. As far as she knows, she's the only patient who was there at the time in which the transplant worked.

"Wednesday will seem more like my first birthday than an anniversary," said the diminutive brunette.

Her blue eyes sparkle as she recounts how she rises in the morning with "no more headaches, no more upset stomachs."

Mrs. Shontz lost a kidney when she was 10 years old as the result of a childhood fall. The one remaining kidney began to fail after the birth of the Shontz' active 3-year-old son, Jimmy.

FATHER DONATES
Last September she received a healthy kidney from her father, Frank Farrell of St. Clair Shores. The operation was a success, and ever since things have been looking up for the small family.

Weighting only 71 pounds at the time of her operation, Mrs. Shontz confesses that she now weighs 125 pounds and her doctor wants her to lose weight. He thinks her blood pressure might benefit.

"But it's hard to do," said she, "particularly when they want you to drink beer and eat salty foods to help the kidney function."

Pot Shontz And Jimmy—'Birthday' Tomorrow

The prize patient returned to the Cleveland Clinic for a periodic checkup last Friday. Doctors told her everything was fine and that she was "too healthy to come back for another six months."

She will continue most of her life to have periodic checkups there, and meanwhile she appears at Ford Hospital in Detroit every two weeks for a routine analysis. This, too, she will continue to do indefinitely.

GOOD CHANCE
Mrs. Shontz reports that with all the wonderful discoveries in medicine she stands a good chance of living to a ripe old age.

"They now have injections against 'rejection,' so that if in a couple of years my body starts to reject the transplant, I will need only an injection," she reports.

"We're just a normal, average family now," she says, "and it's about time after seven years."

"Why this morning Jimmy, who's only 3, snuck out of the house with his underpants and one slipper on and ran down the street to catch the school bus. I had to go out and bring him back," she said.

It's easy to see that the ability to run and get him is not taken for granted either.

Mrs. Shontz, with her husband, an employee of the Ford Sterling plant, attends the Ascension Lutheran Church at 14 Mile and Woodward.

PATRON SAINT
"I haven't become any more religious. My best friend through all of this has been St. Jude, patron saint of the ill."

"Crowds, still bother me some, and it's hard for me to go to church in the summer," she reports, but she fully expects to be in her familiar seat come cool weather.

The Shontz's must still pay for Mrs. Shontz' trips to Ford Hospital, but most of the astronomical expenses of the operation have been taken care of.

"Blue Cross paid the hospital bill and Blue Shield paid $1,100 of the doctor bills. A fund of $3,000 was raised for the doctor's care of the rest of the doctor expenses," she explained.

"One thing that went was my archery equipment, but the doctor says I can start again in about a year. It takes a 38-pound pull on the bow, you know."

ENJOYS ARCHERY
"My husband is still interested in archery," she said as she pointed out several trophies that adorn the neat brick home.

Mrs. Shontz was thoughtful as she reviewed the past year.

"Really tomorrow will be about as special to us as our wedding anniversary." The Shontz's will be married seven years come Oct. 24.

Farmington Classes

Adult Sign-Up Is Near

FARMINGTON — Registration for the adult education program will be held tomorrow and Thursday from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Farmington High School.

Classes begin next Monday. Most of them are 10 weeks in length and meet Mondays through Thursdays.

Eight new courses being offered this year are bookkeeping and accounting, real estate investment, Gregg shorthand refresher, interior design, post-high school guidance for parents, orientation for substitute teachers, effective supervisory techniques and salesmanship.

Other classes will be offered in business, fine arts, homemaking, liberal arts, recreation, liberal arts, recreation, health and safety and community service.

A non-tuition course is offered for those who wish to complete their high school education and receive a fully accredited high school diploma.

Further details may be obtained by calling the adult education office between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Want More Time in Utica

Renewal Vote to Be Delayed

UTICA — City officials have decided to delay a vote, originally slated for next November, which would determine if the city will proceed with its urban renewal plans.

"We haven't had enough time to sell the project to the public," said UR Director Stanley Swierczynski, hired a year ago to carry out the survey and planning work.

The referendum, when it comes, will ask Utica residents to provide $300,000 as the city's share of the $1.2-million project.

The proposal is to levy 2 mills to cover the amount.

Federal funds would provide the other three-fourths of the estimated cost.

FACE-LIFTING
Due for a face-lifting under the program is Utica's downtown business district bounded roughly by M59, Van Dyke, Summers and the old Clinton-Kalamazoo Canal.

Some 17½ acres are involved. Please call for the creation of a Kalamazoo-type mall shopping area.

"The market ability study here shows that we are directly in the path of the Shelby-Sterling thrust from Detroit," said Swierczynski.

Utica itself contains a total area of 12 square miles. Boundaries are fixed on the east by the incorporation of Sterling Township as the city of Sterling Heights.

A November vote is due in Shelby Township which would incorporate that township into the city of Shelbyville.

Said Swierczynski, "We're caught in a sandwich squeeze here, and about the only way to revitalize Utica in its present form would be through urban renewal."

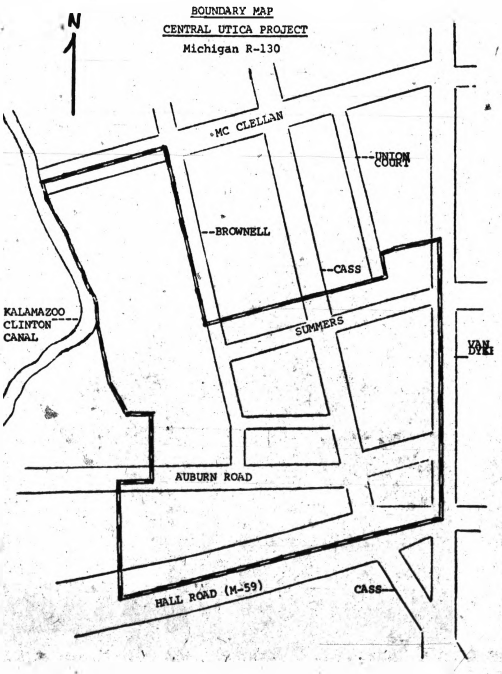

When queried about "form," Swierczynski said that should Shelby incorporate, about the only avenue left open to Utica to merge with other areas would be if the city charter were dissolved and the town were left open to annexation by either Shelby or Sterling Heights.

He admitted that this would be unlikely, but stressed that if Shelby votes to incorporate Utica will no longer be able to annex any adjacent territory to increase its tax base.

Utica's tax base currently stands at $10 million, about 1 per cent industrial, 55 per cent residential and 44 per cent business.

Home Improvement Tip:

Eliminate Old Troublesome House Windows With Low-Cost Nu-Sash Unique New Replacement Unit is Installed Easily and Economically to Modernize Home

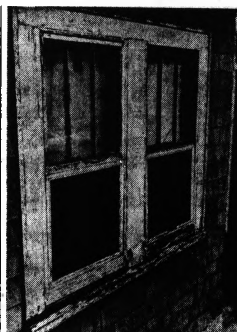

Costly problems caused by old-fashioned, troublesome, hard-to-wash house windows are quickly and economically answered for homeowners who need to modernize. Nu-Sash, a unique new product that has gained fantastic success in thousands of homes, provides the easy solution.

Nu-Sash is an aluminum unit specifically designed to replace old windows—at about 40% in savings over other methods of replacing.

One Low Price
One low-price includes complete installation. The reason Nu-Sash is so economical is due to the unique and exact method of installation.

No outside work or renovating is required. Plaster and woodwork are never disturbed. The old sash are removed, new side jamb liners are fitted into place, then the Nu-Sash units are inserted. The average window can be converted in about 20 minutes.

Nu-Sash replace most all types of house windows. Picture window models are available to replace old-fashioned twin and triple units. A heavy duty model is available for schools, apartments, and commercial buildings.

Nu-Sash replacements are so sturdy that test results show the window superior to standards set up by FHA for new-house construction requirements.

Nu-Sash Pays For Itself
Savings in heating bills and air conditioning will pay for a Nu-Sash conversion. Other costly painting, puttying, and constant maintenance are eliminated.

The windows are constructed entirely of rigid vinyl and aluminum. A satin-like anodized protective coating keeps the aluminum finish bright and new looking for years.

Complete fiberglass insulation all around the window, as well as complete full weatherstripping, seals out cold, dust, dirt, drafts, and air.

As an important and permanent addition to the home, Nu-Sash qualify for low interest home improvement loans. Additional details and free literature about this replacement window are available by mailing the coupon.

Cassius Wages War With Selective Service

CASSIUS CLAY has been doing well in most of his fights, except with the Selective Service law of the land—the draft. But perhaps the fact that he is still fighting with his fists instead of a rifle is a victory on his part, after all.
The latest round in this set-to is a move by CLAY's attorney to have him deferred from the draft because he is a Black Muslim minister.

Poverty War Proving Unpopular

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON — Director Sargent Shriver and his staff are somewhat bloodied but unbowed by a recent public opinion poll which indicates that only 4 per cent of the population considers the anti-poverty program "very successful."

Bob Considine Says:

Americans Can Learn From Viet Nam Election

SAIGON — The South Vietnamese elections for a constitutional assembly may not be remembered among the major demonstrations of pure Jeffersonian democracy.
Americans on hand who grew up to regard vote-casting as something you do on election day if there's nothing more pressing — like a game of golf — had reason to examine their consciences as a blizzard of Vietnamese votes was being counted.

Escalation Spurs Inflation Spiral

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — No one really knows how the economic issue — high interest rates and rising prices — will cut at election time. But many voters' today seem disposed to assign blame primarily to President Johnson and in lesser part, to unions linked with well-publicized, wage-boosting strikes.
A reading of varied judgments of the professional economists suggests that these attitudes vastly oversimplify the situation. Some of the real complexities deserve another look, even though voters most likely will act upon the simplicities—for instance, the rising cost of bread or mayonnaise — if they are aroused enough to act on this issue at all.

Voice of the People:

Accolades to The Press for Church News Pages

Thank you for the fine coverage, with pictures, you have given Seventh-day Adventists activities. We subscribe to a clipping service so we may know how our various local church press secretaries are doing. I have been greatly impressed with the clips from the Pontiac Press, and particularly with the photographs. Your photographers have a knack that enables them to get pictures that are far superior to most of those that come across my desk.
On a number of occasions, I have requested our local representative to obtain copies of these pictures for submission to some of our church papers which receive wider circulation. A number, with proper credit, have been submitted and will be used.
Again, congratulations for excellent journalism.

ERNEST N. WENDTH
PUBLIC RELATIONS
MICHIGAN CONFERENCE OF SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS
I very much enjoy your church pages, especially the way you have been featuring certain churches, one at a time, and the work of the pastor for the week.

'Teacher Critics Don't Consider All Angles'

I'd like to ask Mrs. Robert Stein, "Have you ever put yourself in a teacher's place?" To dedicate oneself to the service of humanity is fine if the people of the community are just as dedicated.
I ask where is the love, concern and dedication that parents had long ago? Instead of attending school meetings and school functions, parents are at the bowling alley, local bar, or too busy to attend to their children's education. If teachers are shirking their duties it is because they have been kicked around by parents and students for so long they are discouraged with the mess we have given them to work with. Too many parents fail to teach the children to respect their teachers or anyone else.
Investigate how much each teacher has invested in his or her education, what they earn, how many hours are involved in preparing work, attending meetings, workshops, night classes, summer classes. Weigh the fact that they buy groceries and other necessities at the same prices we pay.
Let's get off the teachers' backs. Let's all see what we can do to help our school districts. I am only a parent, citizen and taxpayer and I am especially proud of the Huron Valley schools which we feel are doing a fine job.

Question and Answer

Why do Lake Orion Jr. High students have to buy their books, but Pontiac, Waterford and Walled Lake all furnish them?
BROKE REPLY

Present Lake Orion school board policy is to provide books for kindergarten through sixth grades; grades seven through twelve buy their own. Superintendent Mundy says a study is under way to consider the possibility of providing them for all grades.

In Washington:

Escalation Spurs Inflation Spiral

The widely noted exceptions, of course, are in sales of automobiles and housing. And even in the automotive field, retail sales have firmed recently, and the Commerce Department reports buyers' intentions about as high for the next 10 months as for the comparable period (a record level) last year.
Housing is something else, admittedly crimped by high interest rates which have sluiced off vital mortgage money. But the high rates cannot be given all the blame. In California, experts estimate there may be 120,000 unsold houses — thousands of them planned and built well before the interest rate crisis.
The costly airline wage settlement exacted by the Machinists' union drew the public's ire and may have predisposed many Americans to look with disfavor on the high-wage bids more to be advanced by unions in several major industries due for negotiations in the next 12 months.

Illegal Meat Charges

To Name Grand Jury

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Kent County's four Circuit judges agreed yesterday to appoint a grand jury to investigate charges that improperly killed animals have been sold to the public as food.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley, who made the charges at a news conference earlier in the day, petitioned for the probe.

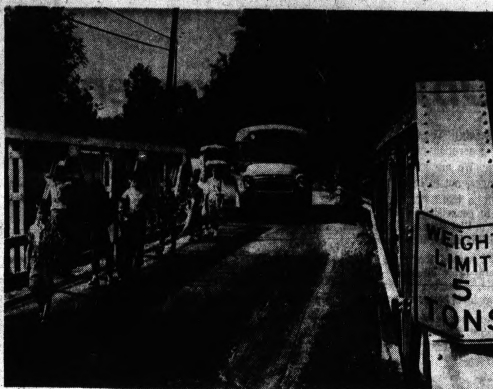

Kelley's petition followed arraignment of five Kent County men on charges of conspiracy to violate state agriculture laws.

The attorney general, described the operation as involving about 250,000 pounds of meat in the past year.

He said dead cows which had not been properly slaughtered were taken to the Cooper Tankage Co. in Grand Rapids, where they were transferred to "a secret butchering operation in nearby Rockford."

Arraigned on the felony charge yesterday were Roy Cooper, 62, of Rockford; John Thomasma of Holland; William Peterman of Rockford; Gerhard Ritsema, 31, of Holland, and Edwin Lee McIntyre, 24, of Holland.

WALKING FOR SAFETY — Pupils from the Stonestreet Elementary School in Jefferson County, Ky., walk across the Stonestreet Road bridge over Pond Creek after getting out of the school bus, which will pick them up on the other side. The bridge was damaged in spring rains and the children make the bus too heavy for the bridge's live-load limit. A new bridge is to be built across the creek.

Reagan Is Labeled a Liar on Racial Covenant Claim

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Republican Ronald Reagan today faces a Democratic charge he signed covenants aimed at preventing non-Caucasians from buying or renting property he bought in 1941.

Democratic State Chairman Charles Warren leveled the charge Monday and accused Reagan of "flatly lying" when he told a national television audience Sunday that he had opposed racially restrictive covenants "throughout his life."

Reagan immediately denied having any knowledge of the covenants. "This is the first time I ever knew they were in there," he said.

"I came from a small town and had never heard of such things. I was the first member of my family ever to own property. We rented all our lives," Reagan said.

"NEVER READ DEED"
"I never read the deed and wouldn't have known how to interpret the legal technology there,"

Warren, a Los Angeles assemblyman, charged Reagan "had to know he was lying — you don't sign restrictive covenants and then forget them."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown, also a Democrat, had appeared with Reagan on a national television show.

Brown, in a statement issued in Los Angeles, said he had accepted Reagan's television statement "at face value. I hope Mr. Reagan can satisfactorily explain his statement." Brown and Reagan appeared Sunday on separate segments of a television program.

Los Angeles County Recorder's Office documents show, said Warren, that Reagan purchased two lots in Los Angeles in 1941 from the United States Investment Co. The assemblyman said one section of the deed to the property, signed by Reagan, stated:

"No part of said property shall at any time be sold, conveyed, leased or rented to or inherited by or become the property of any person whose blood is not entirely that of the Caucasian race."

Warren said that seven months later, in October 1941, Reagan signed another covenant with the real estate company, reimposing the racial restrictions on his two lots and extending the agreement to cover six other lots owned by the company adjacent to Reagan's land.

Conscientious Objector Movement Is on Rise on Campuses

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the last of a two-part series.)

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Thousands of college seniors are starting classes this fall under assumption that, come next summer, they'll graduate to jail.

To enhance that possibility, they will do one of several things during the interim months: destroy their Selective Service cards, sock a member of an Armed Forces induction board, plead illness, drug addiction, religious opposition or homosexuality.

Some students may do all of these.

Draft dodging knows few excesses.

"I would blow up the White House," says one University of Illinois undergrad, "if I thought it would save myself or my friends from two years in the Army."

NOT WIDESPREAD

Actually, belief in the use of civilian force to object to the use of military force is not widespread among draft dodgers.

On the contrary, most agree that nonviolence is the only hope for young men facing "one Godawful" year in the combat arms.

Thus those who preach grudence have organized an increasingly popular movement to inform the nation's youth about the one way they can escape both the draft and the prison cell — that is Selective Service classification 1-D, the exemption by right of conscientious objection.

This campaign fosters the idea that a conscientious objector "is not a coward, but a courageous man standing up for his beliefs." And its aim is to "deny the government the right to force young people to carry out violent acts."

CLEAR COMMITMENT

Says Paul Booth, chairman of the Students for a Democratic Society: "The commitment of the generation we represent is clear. We are anxious to build villages, not to burn them; we want to teach not torture. We do in conscience object to the war in Viet Nam on the grounds that it is immoral to its roots."

To spread this word to as many draft eligibles as possible, a number of books and pamphlets have been written.

They make several general assertions. Among them:

"Do not fear your draft board. Fight it."

"Breaking unjust laws is morally correct."

WRONG TO DESTROY

"It is wrong to destroy human beings."

"Being in a prison is better than being in a platoon."

But the most pregnant point the propaganda promulgates is that a man "is certainly not limited to any formal religion" to qualify for military escape.

According to the "Guide to Conscientious Objection," a dodger does not have to go to church to beat the rap. He may even be an atheist.

MORAL PRINCIPLE

The guide says that the trick is to indicate "belief in a moral principle."

Courts have ruled that such can hold the same central place in life that the orthodox belief in God does.

All of this, of course, is intoxicating for many university types.

Fear of fighting in Viet Nam has reached epidemic proportions and students are looking for any out.

HAS DRAWBACKS

But even conscientious objection has its drawbacks.

For one thing, it doesn't completely exempt an applicant. The majority must still serve two years as non-combatants.

One such duty is with the Medical Corps where a draftee can quite easily find himself on a Vietnamese battlefield.

Such an alternative appeals to few. Prison is preferable.

'STINKING WAR'

"I'm going to burn my draft card," insists one University of California chap. "That way I know damn well that they'll never get me close to the stinking war."

He, a member of the Young Socialists League and Campus Americans for Democratic Action, is a bit more candid than most draft dodgers.

He says he has neither an overwhelming moral, religious, political nor social objection to fighting for his country.

Then, why won't he? "Well," he grins, "to tell the truth, I'm scared as hell."

Survivor Proves He Wasn't Average

DEWITT (AP)—Floyd Parks, 73, walked away from an accident near here that "would have killed an average man," DeWitt Township police and Clinton County sheriff's men reported. Parks' tractor was cut in half in a collision with an automobile, they said. Parks was thrown in the air, sailed over the top of the car and landed on the pavement. He got up and walked away. Lyle Price, 60, of Lansing, and his wife, Pearl, also walked away from the accident, police said, although their car was a total wreck.

Junior Editors Quiz on MINERALS

QUESTION: How do you identify minerals while on a field trip?

ANSWER: Being a "rockhound" (rock collector) is great fun. The study of rocks and the minerals they contain makes a wonderful hobby.

You need a small guide book which tells about them — preferably one you can slip into your pocket.

Take along a copper penny, a knife and a steel file. These will help to establish the hardness of the mineral, one of the chief ways of identifying them.

Hardness is spoken of as a scale between 1 and 10 (with talc as 1 and diamond as 10). Hardness values of the penny, knife, etc., are given in our picture.

Try scratching the penny with some bit of rock. If it scratches the penny, it is harder; if the penny scratches it, it is softer.

By checking this way, the boys determined the hardness of some rocks they found to be right for quartz. Then they checked for color.

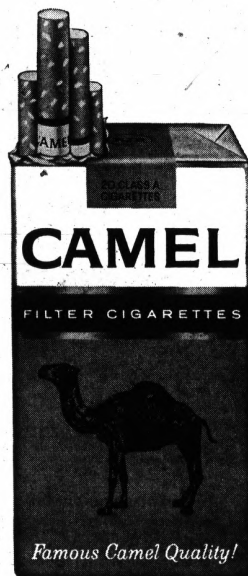

It was brown, which made it look like the form of quartz. There are other tests, but these are the simplest. They lence, dullness, etc.

The stones were very smooth, with a waxy feel, just the way chalcidony is described in the book.

There are other tests, but the are the simplest. They may not be final, but they will help you to learn.

FOR YOU TO DO: Have some real fun testing stones. When you've scratched a stone, wipe it off to be sure it's a real scratch.

Holding a decoupage panel of her three grandsons, Brian, Jeffrey and Scott Leak of Clarkston, is Mrs. Keith Leak of Independence Square Apartments on Dixie Highway. In the foreground is a lap desk with bird motif recently completed for her husband. Her favorites are the little jewelry chest and box.

Cutouts from a greeting card catalogue decorate the top of a basket-purse in the foreground. The lids and hinges were purchased at a basket shop. Black velvet with a strip of shocking pink edges the basket and the inside is lined. A ticket to the Hollyhock Festival in Kyoto, Japan, decorates the inside of the lid in the top basket.

Bluebirds pasted on wooden salad plates and then given the full varnish treatment are smooth as glass. A pair of these make a sumptuous Christmas gift. Unusual greeting cards in bird or floral motif mounted on laminated plywood receive similar treatment for a wall plaque.

Varnishing, Sanding Required

Decoupage, Poor Man's Art

By MADELEINE DOEREN

Paper decorations were a form of folk art in China at least 1,500 years before our time and Marie Antoinette worked with paste pot and scissors, according to Dorothy Harrower in her book on decoupage.

In Italy, decoupage was known as the poor man's art, providing sumptuous effects on furniture for those unable to have an artist do the work.

Decorating a box, a chest or a screen with colorful pasted cutouts to simulate painted surfaces is not to be confused with collage which is made up of a collection of cutouts to develop a particular composition.

LONG JOB

"Thirty coats of varnish on consecutive days in addition to a light sanding between each application is the finishing touch in decoupage," says Mrs. Keith Leak, local expert in the art form.

She uses cutouts of birds, trees, flowers, scrolls or figures from greeting cards, calendars, wall paper or whatever.

Any form of brush work is 'old hat' to Mrs. Leak who has refinished every article of furniture in the luxury lakeside apartment in Independence Square on the Dixie which she and Mr. Leak call home.

"The thing I like best in decoupage is the lack of litter or mess. I am of Danish-German descent and must have order in whatever I do. This hobby is ideal for cliff-dwellers as I call my apartment dwellers," she said.

Driving back and forth to Mrs. Marie Mitchell's decoupage classes in Grosse Pointe proved to be very rewarding to Mrs. Leak and she was able to purchase many of her supplies there.

When weary at the wheel, she thought of the folks in Siberia who, it is written, cut out decorations in felt over 3,000 years ago.

JAPANESE PURCHASE

Soon to be hung beside the door to their apartment is a narrow plaque purchased for a half-dollar in Japan.

Mrs. Leak has given this the usual 30 coats of varnish and her husband has inscribed their name "Leak" below a few leeks which the Japanese must use as the Italians do in their minstrelsy.

The welcoming inscription in Japanese says "Enter With Health and Happiness." (In other words, if you are ill or unhappy, stay away.)

Not pictured is a hollow glass cylinder about two feet tall which Mrs. Leak is decorating with gold leaf paper with characters on horseback. This will be mounted on a teakwood base and when complete with shade, will be a lovely lamp.

Mrs. Leak will teach decoupage at Decor by Ashton on the Dixie two afternoons and evenings for the next six weeks. Classes are limited to ten.

"My friends have literally talked me into this," she says. "I hope they like the classes."

WOMEN'S SECTION

Her Baby Will Be the Sufferer If You Allow Girl's Decision

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have taken a teen-age cousin into our home as she is in trouble. We have children of our own and are financially able to care for this girl and pay all her expenses.

She has one year of high school left, which she will finish after her baby is born.

Now the problem: She wants to keep her baby. We have had our doctor and lawyer talk to her, and no one can get through to her. She thinks it is a "sin" to give away her own flesh and blood.

Abby, this child is 16, the boy who will not marry her (for which she is lucky, as he is only a kid himself and not much good). My husband and I would adopt the child as a compromise, but we want her to put her past behind her, go on to college, and start life over where no one knows of her mistake.

We need your help in convincing her that this would be best for her and the baby. Please help us.

NO NAME, NO TOWN
DEAR N.N., N.T.: It would appear that the girl, under the guise of selflessness and sacrifice, feels guilty and is determined to punish herself for her mistake. Actually, she would be punishing the child more.

For you to adopt the baby would be as grave a mistake as for her to keep it. I know of no one more qualified to deal with "sin" than a clergyman. Ask yours to talk to the girl.

DEAR ABBY: What do you do with a boss who hasn't a thing to do all day but sit around and stare at his secretary? Actually, there isn't enough work for ME to do here. He's about 60, owns a small business and has no outside interests.

I've tried bringing him magazines and even crossword puzzle books, which he hands back to me without even looking at. He won't go home because he fights with his wife. He is so ignorant it's impossible to hold a conversation with him. One day I mentioned contact lenses. He'd never heard of them, and thought I was crazy when I tried to explain how they fit into your eyes.

He gets mad when I refuse to go to lunch with him. He's had nine secretaries in the year before I came. I've been here ten months and I'm bored stiff. I hate to quit because the pay is good and it's near my husband's work, but this man is making me nervous. Any suggestions?

DEAR OUT: Yes. Be Number Ten.

DEAR ABBY: Do you see anything wrong with keeping your old friends after you are married? I must know.

JACK
DEAR JACK: Certainly keep your "old friends" — but with a few reservations. Don't expect your wife, for example, to feel real affection for any of your old girlfriends, even though they may be safely married now.

And your wife shouldn't expect you to enjoy the company of an ex-beau, whether he's the one who got away, or the one she threw back.

MSU Seniors Honeymoon After Vows

The William Thomas Mitzelfelds (Mary Catherine Zumwalt) left for a honeymoon at Torch Lake after recent vows and reception in St. Philip's Episcopal Church, Rochester.

The Norman Zumwalt of East Auburn Road, Avon Township, and the Louis Mitzelfelds of Rochester are parents of the couple who are seniors at Michigan State University.

With her A-line gown of white silk organza and Chantilly lace over taffeta, the bride wore an illusion veil and carried a white orchid and Stephanotis.

Attendees were Jacqueline Haynes and bridesmaids Mrs. Carl Richardson, Ruth Zumwalt, June Mitzelfeld and Claudia Richardson, flower girl.

Nicholas Costes was best man. David Bourens, John Land and Michael Brannack were ushers.

Play Titles Announced for Theater at OU

By PAT McCARTY

Pontiac Press Staff Writer
Heady talk of important plays and hints of visits by exciting theatrical personalities filled the air at Oakland University's Matilda R. Wilson Hall last night. More than 100 prominent southeastern Michigan residents gathered there for the announcement of plans for the premiere season of the John Fernald Company of the Meadow Brook Theater.

Following a reception at the home of OU Chancellor Durward B. Varner and dinner in the art gallery of Wilson Hall, they moved to the auditorium which recently was christened the Meadow Brook Theater.

There they heard plans for the season outlined by Charles F. Adams, who with his wife heads the Meadow Brook Theater Committee.

TELEPHONE TALK
Fernald spoke to members of the committee via a special telephone hookup to his room at Royal Oak's William Beaumont Hospital, where he is recuperating from asthma caused by an allergy.

The theatrical director described the plays he has chosen and the company he is organizing for the season which will begin Jan. 4.

The 21-week season will offer the works of Brecht, Shakespeare, Shaw, Anouilh and Chekhov.

Plans also were announced for a gala premiere performance Jan. 3. The black-tie event will

Mrs. Marcus Freud (left) shows Rev. and Mrs. John E. Lee a preview of how her Lake Orion home gardens will look on the day set for a garden tea benefiting St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Building Fund. Rev. Lee is rector of the church. The event will be held from 2 to 5 p.m., Sept. 20. The Freud home is on Nakomis Drive, off Indianwood Road, North.

Niergarths Married on Saturday

Nancy Lynn Fournier exchanged vows with Hospitalman Appren. Raymond Duane Niergarth USN, Saturday, in the Evangelical United Brethren Church in Ewart.

After a reception in the Ewart High School cafeteria, they left for a brief northern wedding trip en route to Portsmouth, Va. where he will attend the Naval Pharmacy School.

The Donald E. Fourniers of First Avenue and the J. E. Niergarths of Ewart are the newlyweds' parents.

Alencon lace fashioned an Empire bodice and court train for the bride's sheath gown of white peau taffeta worn with illusion veil. She carried white rosebuds and chrysanthemums. Nancy Niergarth of Ewart, the bridegroom's sister, attended the bride at the evening rite.

Michael Bragg of Ewart was best man. Ushering at their brother's wedding were Ronald and Bradley Niergarth.

those attending also will receive two season tickets.

It is expected the audience will be sprinkled with theatrical luminaries who are fans of Fernald.

The director formerly headed England's Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, where Peter O'Toole, Rosemary Harris, Sir John Gielgud, Susanannah York, Charles Laughton and Albert Finney received their principal training.

Peter Ustinov recently described Fernald as "one of the prime architects of England's impressive array of young actors and actresses who are so much in demand on the stages and screens of the world."

Among persons attending last night's affair were Mrs. George Romney and her daughter, Mrs. Loren Keenan. Mrs. Romney, who serves as honorary cochairman of the theater committee with Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, thanked those present for their willingness to be involved.

OU's dramatic undertaking, she said, will add much to the cultural integration of Michigan residents and is "an intriguing, rounded opportunity for all of us."

SPECIAL CHAIRMEN

At the dinner, Adams announced the appointment of seven special assignments chairmen who will help coordinate the efforts of the 56-member executive committee.

They include Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wiefing of Bloomfield Hills, tickets; Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Moyer of Birmingham, promotion; and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Mathaei Jr. of Birmingham, special events.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick G. Bahr of Birmingham, school coordination; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph G. Standart Jr. of Grosse Pointe, programs; Olga M. Mader of Detroit, labor; and Mr. and Mrs. C. Allen Harlan of Bloomfield Hills, budget and finance.

They will report to a 12-member policy committee headed by Adams and his wife and including Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. John Z. DeLoe, the Benson, Fords, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Z. Niederlander and Mr. and Mrs. Alan E. Schwartz.

Couples Take Honeymoon Trips

Anderson-Brazel

Traveling east on their honeymoon are the Matthew James Andersons (Billie Jo Brazel), who were married Saturday in St. Benedict's Catholic Church.

Their parents are the Billy B. Brazels of Onagat Trail and the James J. Andersons of Elizabeth Lake Road who received with the newlyweds in the V.F.W. Hall, Keego Harbor.

White Chantilly lace over taffeta fashioned a bouffant gown and train for the bride who chose a floor-length illusion veil. She carried white orchids, Stephanotis and mini-ature carnations.

Attending their sister were Deborah Brazel, honor maid, and Rebecca Brazel with bridesmaids Mrs. James Hogan, Joan Meagher, Patricia Anderson, Susan Koskela and Judy Brazel, flower girl.

With best man, Richard Ghastin, were ushers David, Steve and Ralph Brazel, with Michael Anderson and John Green.

Galligan-Sewell

The First Methodist Church in Clarkston was the setting for the recent marriage of Jeanie Lynn Sewell to David Waig Galligan.

After a reception in the Oakland County Sportsman's Club, the couple left for a northern honeymoon.

Their parents are the Everett P. Sewells of Longworth Street and the Roger J. Galligans of Cherrylawn Street, Independence Township.

The bride wore an heirloom cross with her gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta and carried a train of white roses, Shasta daisies and ivy.

Honor attendants were Mrs. Lee Kessler and Kathy Haggard. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Wally Logan, Lee Smith and junior maid, Beth Sewell.

With best man, Dennis Galligan, were the ushers Jack McCall, Frank and Patrick Galligan.

Shore-Noggle

The Carl Michael Shores (Gloria Joyce Noggle) left for a trip to Mackinac Island after recent vows in the Walled Lake Methodist Church and reception in Masonic Temple.

Their parents are the Gerald Noggles of Welch Road, Commerce Township, Mrs. Bernard Ditterman of Keego Harbor and the late Carl Shore.

A shoulder-length veil of illusion complemented the bride's gown of sequin lace over taffeta for the candle-light ceremony.

With maid of honor, Linda Oetwile, were the bridesmaids, Sheri Hall and Shirley Wagner. Kelly Emerson was flower girl and Raymond LaPoint, ring-bearer.

Kenneth Shore was his brother's best man. Airman Z.C. Kenneth Noggle and the bridegroom's brother William, along with David Dodd and Gary MacDermaid, were ushers.

Emergency Misses Boat!

KEW GARDENS, N. Y. — District Attorney Nat Hentel maintains a "hot line" for emergency calls by citizens in fighting crime.

The phone rang the other evening. An Assistant DA answered the phone and heard a woman shriek, "Help me, help me. There's a mouse in my kitchen."

When she was told to call the Health Department, she protested the lack of cooperation and hung up.

Sorority Unit Names Charity

Psi Chapter of Sigma Beta Sorority held its first meeting of the year recently in the home of Mrs. Jack Kudray of East Iroquois Road. Mrs. Jerry McKay was cohostess.

Eight hundred dollars will be donated to the sorority's national charity, to be used for Indian education and mental health.

Committee chairmen for the coming year were announced by president, Mrs. McKay.

Mrs. Kudray announced that the chapter would have a booth at Miracle Mile Shopping Center during the birthday celebration Sept. 15 and 17.

Sisterhood Tea Draws Guests

The annual silver tea of Congregation B'nai Israel Sisterhood was held at the synagogue Monday afternoon. After the business meeting, Rabbi Israel Goodman introduced as special guests, Rabbi and Mrs. Philip Berkowitz of Temple Beth Jacob.

Mrs. Daniel Allen, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Evelyn Cohen, who presented a program of anecdotes exemplifying Jewish humor.

Co-chairmen of the tea were Mrs. David Saks and Mrs. David Utley, assisted by a committee composed of past presidents of the Sisterhood.

City Commissioners to Receive Notice of Hamlin Drain Hearing

Official notice advising of a public hearing on the Hamlin Storm Drain will be received tonight by the City Commission. The notice from the Oakland County Drain Commissioner will inform city officials that the hearing is set for 10 a.m. Sept. 28.

The drain, built under the direction of the drain commissioner, starts at East Boulevard and runs south along the railroad right-of-way to Kensington and Opdyke.

In other business, the commission is scheduled to consider proposed rezoning for a shopping center on the southeast corner of Woodward and the future East Boulevard extension.

Several other rezoning proposals are also to be taken up at the regular weekly meeting.

Street Light Districts OK'd Adult Classes Begin Monday

Two special assessment street lighting districts were established by the Waterford Township Board following public hearings last night.

Five lights will be installed on Seabald from Walton south to Louella in Loon Lake Heights Subdivision, and two lights will be erected on Edgegrove in Holiday Farms No. 3 Subdivision.

In each case, the township will contribute 10 per cent of the annual service charge for operation of the lights.

Based on 52 assessments, benefitting Seabald lot owners will be charged $3.64 each per year. Petitions previously had been signed by 44 home owners.

SERVICE CHARGE

Based on nine assessments, lot owners involved in the Edgegrove project will pay an annual service charge of $8.40.

The board delayed action two weeks on a request for a scrap iron license for a junk yard operation at 2242 Edinburgh after the applicant, Cecil Cordell, asked for a postponement.

In reapplying for the license, which the township board denied at its Aug. 15 meeting, Cordell now claims he can comply with a township ordinance which prohibits establishment of a junk yard within 500 feet of homes.

However, he told board members he is awaiting further information in order to make more formidable presentation.

LICENSE REQUEST

Trustee Loren Anderson said he failed to see why the issue should be prolonged in view of the board's previous unanimous rejection of the license request.

Anderson, in support of objecting Edinburgh residents, said that the disadvantages of the proposed business far outweigh the advantages.

Anderson's motion to deny the request was defeated by a 3-2 vote count.

At least a dozen residents attended last night's meeting in protest of Cordell's reapplication proposal.

CLEARED SITE

According to township officials, Cordell, as previously ordered, cleared the site of junk cars.

In other business last night, the board approved a request by Hamady Brothers food market, 3415 Elizabeth Lake, for transfer of an SDM-licensed business from National Food Stores.

Action had been tabled since July 18 pending upgrading of a sewage treatment plant which serves the store and adjacent businesses.

OTHER BUSINESS

Operation and maintenance of the treatment plant is now the responsibility of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, which was given $4,000 by Lakeland Realty, owner of the property, to guarantee the necessary improvements.

IN STILL OTHER BUSINESS

The board set an Oct. 3 hearing date for a special assessment street lighting district for Athens Street.

Three lights would be installed. Annual cost to benefiting residents would be $5.01, based on 204 assessments.

The board showed no objection to a petition from the Oakland County Road Commission to vacate a portion of LaBrosse in Cass-Sylvan Community Sub-

Six courses are being offered this fall in the Waterford Township School District's basic education program, slated to begin next Monday.

Primarily for adults without a high school degree, the program consists of basic reading and writing, lip reading, arithmetic, drafting, sewing and English for foreign-born people.

In the drafting and sewing classes, special emphasis will be placed on reading and writing of materials connected with the courses.

All classes will be held two nights a week from 7 to 10 at Waterford Township High School.

The 10-week classes are free. The program is financed through the U.S. Office of Economic Opportunity and the school district.

REGISTRATION

Interested persons can register by contacting the adult education office at Waterford Township High School between 7 p.m. and 10 p.m. Monday through Thursday.

First Notices Are Read on 6 Rezoning Proposals

Final action will be taken on six rezoning requests at the next two meetings of the Waterford Township Board. First notices of the proposals were read at last night's meeting.

Slated for action at the board's Sept. 19 meeting are requests to:

- Rezone from light industrial (M1) to single family residential (R1A) 40 lots on Warren Drive in Fairplains Subdivision.

- Rezone from R1A to local business (C1) property on M59 at Jeffwood for establishment of a drug store.

- Rezone from C1 to single family residential (R1B) property on Lochaven near Hunt.

PREVIOUS ACTION

The rezoning proposal for the Warren Drive lots previously had been recommended for denial by both the Township Planning Commission and Oakland County Coordinating, Planning and Zoning Committee.

The other two requests were given affirmative recommendations by both bodies.

Slated for action at the board's Sept. 26 meeting are requests to:

- Rezone from R1B to C1 a parcel at Tilden and Boston in Huron Gardens Subdivision to make a beauty shop operation a conforming use.

- Rezone from R1A to multiple dwelling residential (R2) a 26-acre plot of land on the northeast corner of Elizabeth Lake Road and Williams Lake Road for a multiple complex development.

- Rezone from extensive business (C3) and R1A to R2 property on M59 at Elizabeth Lake Road for apartments.

Township planners and the county committee, likewise.

Building Permits Dip in August

New construction in Waterford Township last month dipped below August 1965 figures, according to a report submitted to the township board last night.

Estimated cost of new construction, additions and alterations last month totaled $821,994 as 144 permits were issued by the township building department.

This compares with issuance of 189 permits for construction estimated to cost $1,168,436 in August 1965.

Despite the decline, total estimated valuation of new construction, additions and alterations the first eight months this year still tops the 1965 pace for the same period.

NEW HOMES

Major factors in last month's decline were drops in the number of permits issued for new home construction and for commercial establishments.

Last month, 34 permits were approved for new home construction estimated to cost $616,550. This compares with 48 permits for new home building worth an estimated $821,273 in August 1965.

Permits were issued for three commercial buildings estimated to cost $47,000 last month, far less than the five permits granted for commercial construction worth an estimated $129,300 the preceding August.

Permits issued for commercial construction last month were for an assembly hall at School District by the Housing and Urban Development agency, $35,000; Kentucky Fried Chicken, $7,000; and a car wash, 1400 Airport, $5,000.

OK School Grant for Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — A grant of $31,580 has been approved for the Walled Lake Consolidated School District by the Housing and Urban Development agency, $35,000; Kentucky Fried Chicken, $7,000; and a car wash, 1400 Airport, $5,000.

Congress Threatens Rights Bill Burial

WASHINGTON (AP) — Violence in the streets and the administration's refusal to back down on open housing threaten to bury any chance that Congress will pass civil rights legislation this year.

The Senate resumes perfunctory debate on the House-passed bill today, preliminary to a test vote Wednesday when the measure may be laid to rest.

Although Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., the bill's sponsor, said "it just does not make good sense" to kill the bill because of racial demonstrations and riots, most of his colleagues blame such disturbances for the lack of enthusiasm for the measure.

President Johnson said Monday "we will do everything we can" to obtain passage of the bill, but conceded at a news conference "we have some problems in the Senate which appear quite serious."

DIRKSEN KEY
Johnson said much depends on whether Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen will drop his opposition to the bill's controversial open housing provision.

"I am hopeful we can find some way to get this support," he said of Dirksen. Johnson said he had talked with the GOP leader, but did not say when or give details of their conversation.

Dirksen indicated in an interview the administration might have salvaged part of the legislation if it had abandoned the open housing section he contends is unconstitutional.

This provision, which would ban racial discrimination in the sale and rental of about 40 percent of the nation's housing, has drawn away support among Northern senators for the overall measure as they have assessed the violent reaction to efforts to integrate some all-white neighborhoods.

MAY COMPROMISE
Although he has criticized other sections of the measure—particularly a provision on selection of juries—Dirksen has never said he would be unwilling to entertain compromises on them. Such compromises might have made him agreeable to providing the margin of votes for the two-thirds majority required to halt a filibuster.

Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach's statement to Dirksen and Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield that the administration would rather have no bill at all than one without the housing section obviously left a political judgment by President Johnson.

As Senators read Johnson's position, it is that Republicans can be blamed for the failure to pass any civil rights legislation in an election year of racial turmoil.

If Dirksen has any fear of Negro retaliation against GOP candidates, he and his Republican senatorial followers are

Johnson Is Cautious on Viet Vote Views

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is taking a cautiously optimistic middle ground between the enthusiastic reaction of some senators to the South Viet Nam elections and the doubts of a leading Senate critic of administration foreign policy.

"We are glad the elections were held and we are glad the people participated," the President told a news conference Monday night.

"We think it is a good sign. We hope that they will go on and take additional steps," he said. Johnson refused to be drawn into further discussion of the balloting which picked a constituent assembly to draft a constitution for the war-torn country.

He cut off one questioner by saying "those correspondents out there (in Viet Nam) can give you all the information, I don't want to be misunderstood or misquoted."

His remarks were more guarded than those of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., who declared in a Senate speech that the Viet Cong "may well have" offered their Dien Bien Phu at the polls.

The battle of Dien Bien Phu led to the ouster of the French from Viet Nam in 1954. Kuchel, the assistant Republican leader, called the election "an extraordinary demonstration by a poor and humble people of their courageous devotion to self-government."

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said the 80 per cent voter turnout was a tonic to "those who believe our faith in the Vietnamese and their desire for self-determination has been fully vindicated."

Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, a critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, said, "I don't have any great faith in those elections considering that Mr. Ky (the premier) said only neutralists and non-communists could vote."

"That's pretty much like holding an election in the South and saying only Democrats could vote," he told a newsman. "It's difficult to judge an election in a country where they've never had an honest election."

Gruening said, however, the results "might be very good if the government is responsive to the desires of the people."

WAR NEGOTIATIONS
Another administration critic, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said establishment of a civilian government "would improve such prospects as there may be for a settlement" of the war through negotiations.

Twenty military men and 97 civilians were elected to the assembly.

AEC Probes Radiation Leak

FRENCHMAN FLAT New (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission was seeking to learn today by what route a measurable amount of radiation escaped from an underground nuclear blast site.

An AEC spokesman said the radiation leaked into the air after the 20,000-kiloton explosion Monday 307-feet deep in the desert. He said the radiation was not expected to leave the test site, and was not a public hazard.

The spokesman explained that the radiation could have followed a fault in the ground, come back up the vertical shaft that contained the nuclear device, or escaped along cables from the underground blast to government measuring devices.

The AEC did not say whether the explosion was of an atomic weapon, but it did say it was not part of its Plowshare series for peaceful atomic development.

Called 'Tragedy'

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., told the Senate it was a "tragedy" that proponents were bringing Dirksen for the imminent defeat of the bill and placing a "politically devastating weight" on the Republican leader's head.

Stennis said the measure is going down because "the rank and file of the people across this nation are against this bill."

Stennis predicted it will be defeated.

The six GOP members who signed are Sens. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, Hiram L. Fong of Hawaii, Jacob K. Javits of New York, Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, and Robert P. Griffin of Michigan.

ABOUT FACE — What started as a Polynesian nose rub turned into a full American kiss from New Zealand dancer Maria Nin for Vice President Hubert Humphrey as Mrs. Humphrey looks on. Humphrey was visiting

He Keeps the Old West Alive

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — This year, Reno's golden spurs for depicting the old West were awarded to John Wayne and A. C. Lyles. This prompted several citizens to ask: Who is A. C. Lyles?

He is the sole survivor of a doughty tribe, the makers of program Westerns. Years ago, nearly every studio employed producers to turn out regular programs of Westerns starring Buck Jones, Tim McCoy, Johnny Mack Brown, etc.

Today only Paramount's Lyles remains in action, and he has put some modern touches on the old western.

He's no old-timer, excepting in years of service. A deeply tanned, balding 40, he claims to have started his career with Paramount at 19 as call boy in a company theater in his native Jacksonville, Fla.

He graduated to usher and at 17 made the big leagues to the mailroom of the Hollywood studio.

EARLY CAREER
A. C. went on to the publicity department and for 15 years jangle-dazzled the press on behalf of William Pine and William Thomas, colorful producers of Paramount's B-movies.

It was a good school for learning how to squeeze a production dollar.

"I can get more on the screen for less money than any producer in town," Lyles boasts, and he could be right. His Westerns are crammed with recognizable if slightly faded names and they are filmed in first class sets.

How does he get the names?

"Friendship," explained the producer, who also has one of the widest acquaintances with stars in Hollywood. "Also, we fashion the scripts so that each character has at least one good scene. Thus I've been able to lure names like Pat O'Brien, William Bendix and Brian Donlevy to do one day's work because they have good scenes."

BORROWED TRICK
He borrowed a trick from mentors Pine and Thomas and uses sets that have been built for big-budget films.

"I always have a few finished scripts so I can start a movie whenever good sets become available," he said. "Another thing: I plan the films that have a lot of outdoor shooting to be made in the summertime, when I can get an hour's extra production."

NEW MRS. BRADLEY -- Gen. Omar Bradley, 73, former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and his bride, the former Kitty Buhler, 44, of Los Angeles, spend the day at Del Mar races following their wedding in the chambers of San Diego Superior Court Judge William Mahedy yesterday. The general's first wife died last December. They had been married 49 years. Mrs. Bradley is a television and motion picture writer.

Last of Teacher Strikes
Are Settled Across State

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan children returned to the classrooms today as a rash of teacher strikes that began last spring were finally settled.

Teachers yesterday ratified back-to-work agreements at Henry Ford Community College, suburban Dearborn and in Traverse City, ending six-day-old walkouts.

The surge of teacher boycotts began in May when the Michigan Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, and the Michigan Education Association began negotiating with school boards under a new state law to organize and bargain collectively.

The law, which prohibits strikes by public employees, provides no penalties and the state has not tried to prosecute any of the striking teachers.

The 150 teachers at Henry Ford Community College accepted pay raises ranging from $500 to $900 a year, boosting the pay scale to a range of $8,800 to $11,775, because of what a union spokesman called a board of education "ultimatum."

BOARD ORDER

The board ordered the teachers to return to work or face closing of the college for the semester. The teachers said they would return to work rather than jeopardize the education of the college's expected 12,500 students.

In Traverse City, 104 teachers yesterday accepted a contract including raises of about $500 that boosted the minimum to $5,200.

School reopened yesterday in another Detroit suburb, Riverview, when 150 teachers returned to work, ending a four-day strike that kept 3,000 students out of school.

Cross-Busing of Students
Still Banned

LANSING (UPI) — The Ingham County Circuit Court, acting "in light of serious constitutional questions," yesterday unanimously ordered the continuance of a temporary injunction banning cross-busing of Lansing sophomores to achieve better racial balance in the city's three public high schools.

The injunction, won by a group of protesting parents against the Lansing Board of Education, will stand until a trial is held on their petition for a permanent injunction.

No court date has been set. The three-judge panel in turn was asked to approve from an instant group of girls when it ordered the 177 affected 10th graders be allowed to attend their "regular" high schools, rather than ones to which they had been shifted by the board Aug. 4.

"It appears desirable that the status quo be maintained in light of the serious constitutional questions involved; and to allow the case to be heard on its merits," said Judge 8 a.m. Street Hughes.

Oil tycoon Harry Sinclair was said to have wagered half-a-million dollars on Brevity to win the Kentucky Derby in 1936; Brevity lost by a nose.

Nondefense Items
Need Cuts--Todd

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — U.S. Rep. Paul Todd, D-Mich., advocated a cutback of nondefense spending to counteract inflation in a joint appearance with his Republican opponent in their campaigns for a seat in Congress.

Todd and his challenger, State Sen. Garry Brown, R-Schoolcraft, agreed however, before the Steelworkers Union on the need for union shops, war on poverty programs and a strong civil rights bill.

In Jury-Tampering Case

ACLU Aiding Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Civil Liberties Union asked the U.S. Supreme Court Monday to set aside the jury tampering conviction of Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, claiming his constitutional rights were violated by the government.

The ACLU asked the court to set aside the conviction of one of Hoffa's lawyers, Z. T. Osborn Jr., on the same charge.

Hoffa was convicted in March, 1964, in Chattanooga, Tenn., of attempting to bribe the jury during his trial on conspiracy charges in Nashville, Tenn., in 1962. He was sentenced to eight years in prison and was fined $10,000.

Hoffa is currently appealing that conviction and another for mail fraud which together carry a penalty of 13 years in federal prison.

Osborn, one of Hoffa's lawyers in the 1962 trial, was convicted of authorizing payment of $10,000 to a member of a petit jury panel, to "induce him to vote for a Hoffa acquittal if he were chosen for the jury."

The ACLU said that in Hoffa's trial "there seems to have been little judicial consideration... of how privacy can be impaired by the use of spies and the encouragement of crime."

ADVICE FROM EV — Sen. Russell Long, D-La., listens to advice from Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., on the use of crutches as they engage in a bit of byplay outside the Senate chamber yesterday where they were on hand for debate on civil rights legislation. Long, injured in a softball game in July, does not need crutches but accepted one temporarily from Dirksen along with the advice. Dirksen has been on crutches since a fall at Walter Reed Hospital last fall when he was there for a checkup.

Dem Battles Top Primaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Thomas B. Adams, a Boston businessman, UNOPPOSED

Of the 11 states, nine elect governors this year. Republican Govs. John A. Volpe of Massachusetts, John A. Love of Colorado, John H. Chafee of Rhode Island and Warren P. Knowles of Wisconsin are unopposed for re-election.

Eleven states are holding primaries in the year's busiest day for ballot boxes except for Nov. 8 when all 435 members of the House, 35 senators and 10 governors will be elected.

Other states conducting primaries are Arizona, Colorado, Maryland, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Rhode Island, Utah, Vermont and Wisconsin.

OPPONENT

Rolvaag's primary opponent, endorsed by the convention, is Lt. Gov. A. M. (Sandy) Keith, 37.

Keith's backers argued in the convention that Rolvaag, 53, couldn't be reelected. He was elected to his first term in 1962 by 91 votes.

The dumping of Rolvaag stirred a wave of sympathy in the state. Many political analysts regarded him as the favorite in today's balloting, expected to bring out 600,000 to 700,000 votes.

In Massachusetts, Edward J. McCormack, former attorney general, contends with Kenneth P. O'Donnell, once an aide to President John F. Kennedy, for the Democratic nomination for reelection. Republicans Clifford McCormack, a nephew of P. Case of New Jersey and ew of House Speaker John Gordon Allott of Colorado, and McCormack, D-Mass., was endorsed by the state party of Rhode Island and Thomas H. McIntyre of New Hampshire.

Former Gov. Endicott Pea are without primary opposition. body, endorsed for the Senate Democratic Sen. Walter F. nomination, is opposed by May-Mondale of Minnesota has nominated John F. Collins of Boston and not opposition.

Viet War Sidetracks Rhodesian Issue

LONDON (AP) — An Australian demand for a discussion of the Viet Nam war and other world issues forced the 22-nation Commonwealth Conference today to interrupt talks on Rhodesia.

The move by Prime Minister Harold Holt angered Foreign Minister Simon Kapwepwe of Zambia, who stalked out of the conference room and told newsmen outside, "I am disgusted."

The bearded Zambian said he intended to telephone President Kenneth Kaunda about the de-

Delegates reported Holt arose during a secret session on Rhodesia to protest that after eight days the conference still had not come around to examining major world problems of the greatest importance to some member countries.

The outspoken Australian, whose country has troops fighting the Communists in Viet Nam, cited the crisis in Southeast Asia as one of the big is-

Smith.

Prime Ministers Keith Holyoake of New Zealand and Lee Kuan Yew of Singapore supported Holt's intervention.

The ministers ordered senior officials to begin work on terms of a joint declaration setting forth their objectives in Rhodesia and methods by which they hope to bring down the rebel white-settlers minority regime of Prime Minister Ian Smith.

To Vote on Plan for Consolidation

BATTLE CREEK (UPI)—The Calhoun County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved placing a proposal for the consolidation of Battle Creek, Battle Creek Township and Springfield on the Nov. 8 ballot.

A similar proposal that would have united six municipalities in the area was defeated in the Aug. 2 primary election.

Minnesota got its name from Dakota Indian word meaning "sky-limited water."

Steeler Offensive Line Offers Challenge

Tough Foes Ahead

Arrows 'Untouched'

The toughest foes of the Midwest Football League have yet to come for the Pontiac Arrows, but the local defending champs of the MFL appear to have the depth to fight off the challenges of Lansing, Dayton and Flint for the 1966 crown.

The Arrows haven't allowed a point in two regular season games against Ypsilanti and Detroit-Rouge, but these two teams are rated weaker offensively than the Dayton Colts or Lansing Stars.

Dayton scored a 41-25 victory over Lansing in a fast moving offensive game last weekend and these teams are expected to give the Arrows' defensive unit its real test.

Lansing is the next home foe for the Arrows, Saturday night Sept. 24, but the Pontiac team has to travel to Flint to meet the Blue Devils this Saturday night.

The Arrows cannot afford to look ahead to Lansing recalling the 1965 game at Flint where they were upset 19-14 and were nearly eliminated from the title chase.

15 attempts for 135 yards and two touchdowns. Jim Sytek, former U. of M. quarterback, also has thrown for two touchdowns and Tommy Myers, who joined the Arrows 10 days ago, has added another by passing.

Tony Odean, the big end from Mississippi Industrial College, leads the pass receivers with five receptions for 96 yards. Odean is also used on specialty teams and occasionally at defensive end, from where he has been outstanding in nailing opposing ball carriers.

Little Jesse Parrish is the leading punt and kickoff specialist and also leads the secondary with a pair of interceptions.

They have found themselves a strong kickoff man in Ed McQueen, former Denver Bronco reject who played a year with the Grand Rapids Blitzers.

McQueen, in five kickoffs against Rouge, booted one completely out of the end zone, three others into the end zone and the fifth to the two yard line.

His two extra point placements were perfect. The other failed as the result of poor snaps from center. Regular center Lyle Hildenbrand was out with a slight injury, but is expected to return this week.

Game time at Flint is 7:30 p.m. Saturday night. Tickets for the Lansing game Sept. 24, are available at numerous locations in the city.

UMPIRE DIES — William R. Summers, 70, who switched from boxing as a youth to become a baseball umpire, died yesterday in Upton, Mass. Summers worked in the American League from 1933 through 1959.

Young Golfer Tops Pro-Am at Pine Lake

Young Stan Brion, hopeful of making the Caribbean Golf Tour this winter, picked up most of the honors yesterday in the weekly pro-am at Pine Lake Country Club in Orchard Lake. The 23-year-old Brion, assistant to Warren Orlick at O'Shanter, teamed with Robert Scherer of Tam to win the pro-am division with an eight-under-par 31-35, 64 over the 6,429-yard course.

That wasn't all for Brion. He carded an actual 34-70 to lead the pro division and he joined Mac McElmurry, head pro at Knollwood CC, in firing a 69 to finish second in the pro division.

Jack Corbett, head pro at Arrowhead, and Ted Ardoyne of Lincoln Hills in Birmingham took the pro-pro prize with a 68. The best shot of the day in the field of 232 players was turned in by Paul Tischen of Birmingham Country Club. Playing the par-3 180-yard 17th, Tischen, used a driver and knocked the ball into the cup for a hole-in-one.

Pittsburgh 11 Surprising in Point Output

Lions' Defense Next Test for QB Nelson at Pitt Stadium

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
Surprises do happen, especially in pro football where from one Sunday to the next, even the impossible is probable.

The Lions did what everyone thought was impossible, beating the Bears 14-3, and the Pittsburgh Steelers provided a hard to believe story by scoring 34 points in their season opener.

Pittsburgh, everybody's choice to finish last and poorest of all the 13 NFL teams, including the new Atlanta Falcons, had victory within grasp last Sunday before Earl Morrall brought the Giants from a 31-17 deficit to a 34-34 deadlock.

Coach Bill Austin feels his young rebuilt offensive line provided the surprise performance and the Steelers will be ready for the likes of Alex Karras and Roger Brown, Darrell Mcard and Larry Hand of the Lions this season in Pitt Stadium.

Just as Lions' rookie Bob Kowalkowski had the chore of stopping the Bears' huge defensive tackle John Johnson 6-6 and 270, the Steelers are ready to pit rookie guard Larry Gagner, a 248 pounder from Florida, against 363-pound Roger Brown.

"It will be a real test for our offensive unit and for Gagner," said coach Austin, "we are all aware of the defensive reputation of the Lions."

BIG DEFENSIVE PLAY

Big Roger had one of the big defensive plays of the game Sunday when he shot through to smother the fleet Gage Sayers for a big loss in a situation when the Bears were threatening.

The Lions gave up 147 yards rushing to the talented Chicago running backs, most ground yardage in many regular season games, but the defensive unit rose to the occasion to stop the Bears in crucial third down situations forcing a punt.

The surprise of the Steelers offense was the quarterbacking of Bill Nelson, 4-year veteran from Southern Cal who completed 17 of 28 passes for 286 yards against the Giants.

He passed for three touchdowns including one to the Lions' leading receiver, Gary Ballman, a name familiar to Michigan football fans. Ballman, and all-state high school player at East Detroit has been with the Steelers five years since and outstanding career at Michigan State.

Big John Hilton, a 6-6 and 220 pounder who won the Lions draft 6th in 1964, has also become a top receiver for Pittsburgh. He was traded to the Steelers for a draft choice in 1964.

2nd Straight Win in Fisher League

The Fisher Body Monday Morning Ball League at Pontiac Country Club concluded its season yesterday with two teams having a nine-hole playoff to determine the champion.

Endell Stevens completed his second straight year on the league's list of champions, as he and Tom Zuck (38) defeated Tom Roman and Tony Wolfe (37-39).

The Stevens-Zuck duo had won the top's first-half competition, and the Roman-Wolfe entry was the leader during the just finished half season.

Evy Cautions Nelson: Prepare for Obscurity

NEWARK, Del. (NEA) — As the head coach of the University of Delaware football team for 15 years, Dave Nelson won exactly twice as much as he lost (84 victories, 42 defeats, two ties).

This year he gave up coaching to concentrate on being director of athletics at old Newark Academy, as Delaware was known back in 1955.

It was a step first taken by an old college buddy, Forest (Evy) Evashevski, five years ago.

Evy, eminently successful as the head coach of Iowa, retired from coaching after the 1960 season.

Evashevski and Nelson had played together on Fritz Crisler's great pre-war teams at Michigan, yet Tom Harrison and Bob Westfall in the same backfield.

As coaches, they had swapped tactical information. Nelson was the architect of the brilliant wing-tackle which Evashevski exploited to make Iowa a Rose Bowl team. Dave had chances to accept letter:

Dear Blue Chickens:

(note: Delaware athletic teams are known as Blue Hens)

I thought you coached in a small school so you couldn't have any pressure and now that the pressure gets you, you give up the ghost.

Prepare yourself for a life of obscurity and join the group of sacred directors who can stand neither defeat nor victory.

The biggest change I found from being coach to director was on Saturday nights following a big football victory. I used to meet the elite and esthete.

But now on Saturday nights I am examining the toilets in the stadium and filling the towel racks to appease the angry customers who paid $5 and found the facilities lacking.

Then on Sundays, rather than enjoying the rich glow that follows a hard-earned victory, you can spend the day after church placating the irate feminine customers who have torn their nylons on bleachers that should have been sanded and repaired prior to the start of the season.

The above mentioned are just some of the pleasures you will have now that you have joined us administrators as the watchdogs of intercollegiate athletics. Bow Wow.

I would write more but time is pressing and I have to administer some of my executive functions such as seeing if the film room is swept out so the football coaches are comfortable.

Good Luck, Evy

move on to bigger universities than Delaware, most notably Illinois and Baylor, but preferred the low pressure atmosphere of small college football.

Now, when Dave decided to quit an active field role, Evashevski was impelled to write his old friend a few words of advice on the adjustment in his life. The excerpted letter:

Buckeyes Nurse Sprains

CHICAGO (AP) — Midwest Football Briefs:
OHIO STATE — Sprained ankle held back Bo Hein and quarterback Bill Long in Saturday's scrimmage.

Monday, The Buckeyes cut practice sessions to one hour in the morning and full-scale in the afternoon.

PURDUE — Coach Jack McKelvey beamed up his offensive line by advancing 222-pound Mike Barnes to first string left tackle and moving 227-pound Chuck Erlenbaugh from tackle to guard.

INDIANA — Tight end Rick Spickard, who started all 10 games as a sophomore last season, is out for the year with a knee injury. Spickard, considered the best blocking end in the Big Ten by Coach John Pont, was injured in Saturday's scrimmage.

NORTHWESTERN — The Wildcats were bolstered by the return of three first string players who were idled a week by injuries. Back were fullback Bob McKelvey, halfback Woody Campbell and safety Tom Garretson.

ILLINOIS — Tackle Jerry Carbone might miss the Southern Methodist opener because of a bruise on his leg. However, coming off the Illinois injured list was Ron Guesbner, fullback Rich Johnson and defensive guards Larry Davis and Tony Plevin.

NOTRE DAME — The battle for No. 1 quarterback job at Notre Dame continues between Tony Hanratty and Coley O'Brien. Their prime targets have been Ed Jim Seymour and halfbacks Nick Eddy and Bob Bleier.

WISCONSIN — Wisconsin's walking wounded began returning to the field. Quarterback John Ryan worked out an injured ankle as did back Tom Loukas. Sophomore Ken Critter, slated for a starting job as linebacker and feared lost for the season with a leg bone dislocation, should be ready in three weeks.

MINNESOTA — The Gophers named Curt Wilson, a junior, to nine.

replace Larry Carlson as No. 1 quarterback. Wilson threw a touchdown pass and ran Minnesota's option play well in Saturday's scrimmage.

IOWA — Iowa worked on passing and punting as they moved to the final stages of preparation for Saturday's opener with Arizona. Coach Ray Nagel said he expects Arizona to be improved from last year when it defeated Nagel's Utah team.

NEW YORK (AP) — Houston, Kansas City and New York — Three of the four unbeaten teams in the American Football League — dominate the team statistics released today.

French N-Test Due Tomorrow

PARIS (AP) — If weather conditions permit Wednesday, France will test a bomb with thermonuclear characteristics on the Pacific at Fangatau, officials said today.

Previously, and most recently on Sunday, France tested atomic bombs at its Pacific site and earlier in the Sahara.

The planned explosion is said to be an intermediate step toward a hydrogen bomb.

Fangatau is located about 40 miles south of Mururoa, where the atomic tests were held.

Place on Sunday while President Charles de Gaulle watched.

Trace Popularity Skid to Domestic Problems

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's popularity has slipped to 50 percent — the lowest level since he entered the White House, according to a nationwide public opinion survey.

A five-year contract covering six unions and several contractors' associations will expire Oct. 1.

Five of the unions are demanding a 25-cent-an-hour increase in benefits paid into the insurance fund for each week by the contractors.

The contractors, who are paying 15 cents an hour, have offered a five-cent hike.

The sixth union, the Detroit District of Carpenters, has demanded a switch to a 12 percent insurance contribution and to be let out of the group's Detroit and vicinity Construction Workers Insurance Fund.

L. M. Weir, council secretary, said the carpenters have done most of the fighting for benefits while the other unions "have sat back and shared."

The other five unions are the cement finishers, masons, laborers, operating engineers and reinforced steelworkers.

Johnson signed Peace Corps Authorization

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson told Peace Corps members today he hopes to see a day when "some form of voluntary service to the community and the nation and the world is as common in America as going to school, when no man has truly lived who only serves himself."

Johnson drove to Georgetown, Guyana where 97 volunteers are in training for service in Brazil, and made his remarks in signing the Peace Corps authorization there.

The bill authorizes an appropriation of $10 million for the fiscal year which started July 1 and provides for 16,000 volunteers and trainees, which compares with 14,000 volunteers and trainees in the last fiscal year.

Recalling that this is the sixth time a president has signed a Peace Corps law, Johnson said there were doubters at the beginning but the doubters to him are much fewer.

He said Peace Corps volunteers in 36 countries have proven them wrong.

Won't Dismiss Botulism Suit

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — A request from Kroger Co. and four trucking firms for dismissal of a $500,000 damage suit growing out of the 1963 botulism outbreak was denied Monday by Ottawa Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith.

The suit was brought in June, 1965, by H. J. Dornbos & Bro., a Grand Haven fish processor, against Kroger, Rooks Transfer Lines of Holland and Adkins Transfer Co., Adkins Cargo Express and Tennessee Cartage Co., all of Tennessee.

Dornbos cited personal illness and loss of business resulting from alleged negligent handling of smoked fish by the defendants.

The five defendants had asked for dismissal of the suit on grounds of lack of jurisdiction on the part of the Ottawa County court.

No trial date was set.

Gunshot Death Ruled Suicide

The gunshot death of a Pontiac woman early yesterday has been termed self-inflicted following investigation by Pontiac police.

Barbara I. Carry, 45, of 111 Reburn died after firing a 20-caliber revolver into her chest, police said.

Boy Crawls to Freedom

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP) — An East German schoolboy escaped to West Germany Monday — by crawling on his stomach through a minefield, officials here reported today.

The boy, 14, who has an aunt in West Germany, left his parents in East Germany, officials said.

He was taken to West Germany by a German border guard also escaped by swimming the fast flowing Elbe River.

New Strike Looming in Building

DETROIT (UPI) — Southeastern Michigan may suffer the effects of another major construction strike next month because of contract disagreements over health and insurance benefits.

A five-year contract covering six unions and several contractors' associations will expire Oct. 1.

Five of the unions are demanding a 25-cent-an-hour increase in benefits paid into the insurance fund for each week by the contractors.

The contractors, who are paying 15 cents an hour, have offered a five-cent hike.

The sixth union, the Detroit District of Carpenters, has demanded a switch to a 12 percent insurance contribution and to be let out of the group's Detroit and vicinity Construction Workers Insurance Fund.

L. M. Weir, council secretary, said the carpenters have done most of the fighting for benefits while the other unions "have sat back and shared."

The other five unions are the cement finishers, masons, laborers, operating engineers and reinforced steelworkers.

Johnson Signs Peace Corps Authorization

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson told Peace Corps members today he hopes to see a day when "some form of voluntary service to the community and the nation and the world is as common in America as going to school, when no man has truly lived who only serves himself."

Johnson drove to Georgetown, Guyana where 97 volunteers are in training for service in Brazil, and made his remarks in signing the Peace Corps authorization there.

The bill authorizes an appropriation of $10 million for the fiscal year which started July 1 and provides for 16,000 volunteers and trainees, which compares with 14,000 volunteers and trainees in the last fiscal year.

Recalling that this is the sixth time a president has signed a Peace Corps law, Johnson said there were doubters at the beginning but the doubters to him are much fewer.

He said Peace Corps volunteers in 36 countries have proven them wrong.

Won't Dismiss Botulism Suit

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — A request from Kroger Co. and four trucking firms for dismissal of a $500,000 damage suit growing out of the 1963 botulism outbreak was denied Monday by Ottawa Circuit Judge Raymond L. Smith.

The suit was brought in June, 1965, by H. J. Dornbos & Bro., a Grand Haven fish processor, against Kroger, Rooks Transfer Lines of Holland and Adkins Transfer Co., Adkins Cargo Express and Tennessee Cartage Co., all of Tennessee.

Dornbos cited personal illness and loss of business resulting from alleged negligent handling of smoked fish by the defendants.

The five defendants had asked for dismissal of the suit on grounds of lack of jurisdiction on the part of the Ottawa County court.

No trial date was set.

Gunshot Death Ruled Suicide

The gunshot death of a Pontiac woman early yesterday has been termed self-inflicted following investigation by Pontiac police.

Barbara I. Carry, 45, of 111 Reburn died after firing a 20-caliber revolver into her chest, police said.

Boy Crawls to Freedom

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP) — An East German schoolboy escaped to West Germany Monday — by crawling on his stomach through a minefield, officials here reported today.

The boy, 14, who has an aunt in West Germany, left his parents in East Germany, officials said.

He was taken to West Germany by a German border guard also escaped by swimming the fast flowing Elbe River.

Ex-Cleric to Tell of Defection

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Russians said today a former Roman Catholic priest would publicly explain on Moscow television why he defected from the United States.

The Soviet news agency Tass announced an interview with the former priest, Hans M. Koch of Chicago, would be screened today.

American embassy officials here said before the interview was shown they would welcome an opportunity to make sure Koch, 34, had defected of his own free will.

They said they had not yet asked to interview him personally.

"We aren't even sure he is in Moscow yet," an official said, noting the television interview could have been filmed elsewhere.

Police Capture 3

SAGINAW (AP) — Police continued their search today for the two remaining escapees from the Saginaw County Jail. Three of the men have been recaptured.

Captured Monday night was Frank Winder, 25, of Bridgeport. State police arrested Winder when they found him walking along Baker Road at the I-75 overpass, a few miles southeast of Saginaw.

Officers were on their way to the Winder home on Baker Road when they saw the fugitive. He gave no resistance, police said.

Winder had been in jail awaiting trial on a murder charge in the death of his stepfather.

Sunday night, Stewart Waud, 26, of Saginaw, who had been awaiting trial for breaking and entering and larceny by conversion, was apprehended at the home of his mother in Saginaw.

Police said the arrest came quietly during a stake-out of the home.

Chisholm, 25, of Brown City, who previously escaped from prison camp near Jackson, and Ira P. Patton, 34, of Saginaw, who had been jailed awaiting trial for burglary.

The five escaped Sunday morning after jumping two guards at the old jail.

Exam Is Set for City Man

A 25-year-old Pontiac man who allegedly burglarized a doctor's office faces preliminary examination Sept. 21 following his arraignment yesterday on a charge of breaking and entering.

Dennis Gillespie of 78 Norton was released on $500 bond after appearing in Municipal Court.

A second man arrested with Gillespie, 22-year-old Joseph Hubbell was released by Pontiac police because of lack of evidence implicating him in the break-in.

Police said Gillespie was apprehended early Sunday as he hid behind a refrigerator in a doctor's office at 358 N. East Blvd. Money and drugs were reported missing from the office.

Hubbell was charged with breaking and entering.

JAN DANGORA

Doctors Rejoin Severed Leg

Boston Teen Awaits Operation's Outcome

BOSTON (AP) — Doctors at Boston City Hospital have rejoined the severed left leg of an 18-year-old Boston boy and are watching to see if the heroic effort will succeed.

To date, no attempt to rejoin a severed leg is known to have fully succeeded. It is believed that the first successful reattachment of a human limb occurred in 1962 at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston when surgeons rejoined the right arm of 12-year-old Everett (Red) Knowles.

The battle to save the leg of Jan Dangora began Sept. 1 when his left leg was cut off eight inches below the knee in a motorcycle-automobile collision. Only a small portion of skin connected the two parts of Jan's leg.

It's still too early to know if the replant will work—and that means not only healing but restoration of function and feel to some useful degree.

CIRCULATION RESTORED
It was learned, however, that blood circulation has been fully restored.

His condition remains delicate and the fight for his recovery can be said to be only beginning, with the risk of serious complications not yet out of the picture.

Details of the surgery and progress report are expected to be presented later this week.

Major Crime Up in Many State Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Bureau of Investigation reports most major crimes were up in the first six months of this year in most of the Michigan cities on which it keeps tab.

Auto thefts were up in all, except Flint; forcible rape in all except Grand Rapids and robbery up in all except Dearborn.

The cities involved are Dearborn, Flint, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Saginaw and Warren. Detroit was left out, the FBI saying its figures for the first six months of 1965 and 1966 were not reported on a comparable basis.

Package Becomes a Weary Traveler

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP) — After 11 months, numerous postmarks, and several thousand miles, a package has arrived here for Lt. James A. Castle.

His family had mailed it from Cecilia, a community about 15 miles away, to Castle in South Vietnam.

While it was en route, so was Castle. He had been wounded and was assigned to Ft. Knox. The travel-worn package had been rewrapped in California.

Man Sought in Robbery of Warren Sisters

WARREN (UPI)—Warren police continued their search today for a young man who robbed four Warren sisters and assaulted one of them in their home Saturday night.

Police said the man, who was armed with a knife and revolver, broke into the house through a rear window and tied up the oldest sister, aged 28, and then accosted a second sister, aged 24, when she returned home.

When two younger sisters, aged 20 and 21, returned home, they were bound and gagged, but were not assaulted, police said.

The sisters quoted the intruder as saying he wanted the incident "to make big headlines," police said.

The man escaped with $85 from the girls' purses after holding them captive for about four hours.

Schoolchildren in N.J. Identify With Animals

BRICK TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP) — A typical Brick Township schoolchild finishes his last class in the afternoon, then grabs a tiger home from school.

The child really takes a bus, but in order for him to identify the correct bus to take, pictures of animals have been placed in the windows of the vehicles.

"We don't want any mistakes if we can help it," School Superintendent Henry E. Dux said after the opening of school Monday. "We tell the children what number their bus is but we also tell them to ride home in the rabbit bus. It works."

7 Die in Portugal

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — An explosion in a fish canning plant boiler killed seven workers and injured 25, near Lobito, Portuguese Angola, the semi-official Lusitania news agency reported today. The accident occurred Monday.

ONE COLOR

Rights Housing Act Has Been Diluted

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.
National Urban League
Executive Director

The Civil Rights Act of 1966 is now before the Senate. The act contains provisions for jury reform, protection for civil rights workers, and the first federal fair housing law.

It is this last part of the act, known as Title IV, which has attracted the most attention. It was originally submitted to Congress in a much stronger form, outlawing discrimination in the sale and rental of most of the housing units in the country. But an amendment added by the House of Representatives limits the application of this title to only 40 per cent of the housing market.

Other amendments in the House weakened some of the provisions. For example, the original version of the act empowered the attorney general to initiate legal action against segregated school systems.

This was changed to allow him to do so only after receiving a written complaint from individuals who had been discriminated against. This seems like a small change, but the net result is that many persons, especially in the Deep South, will be afraid to sign their names to a public complaint, thereby inviting retaliation from the local segregationists.

It is the weakening of the housing title, however, which has come in for the most criticism. The new amendment would limit the bill's effect to houses of five or more units and would exempt trailers from its provisions if the owner of the house asks him to discriminate.

ARGUMENT USED

One of the reasons for the change was the argument that to restrict a person's right to choose a buyer would be to limit the rights of private property. But it is the Negro's rights to own property which is being infringed by discriminatory practices. The seller of property should have only one main concern — to get the best price he can.

The result of the bill as it now stands is to draw a line around the city limits and forbid discrimination within the city, while allowing it in the suburbs since that is where most of the exempt housing is located.

This could intensify the alarming trend toward fly-while suburbs ringing cities made up of poor minority groups. I wonder if the Senate, too, will agree to one law for the cities and one law for the suburbs.

Part of the need for fair housing laws is found in the high rate of segregated housing in northern cities. The segregation index in housing shows this quite clearly. In Chicago it is 92.5 per cent; in St. Louis it is 91 per cent; in all of our big cities it is far too high. This has resulted in Negro families who can afford good housing in better sections or in the suburbs being forced to live in slums because of discrimination.

Just as federal intervention has led to expanded competition and a stronger free enterprise system, so too federal action now can lead to a free housing market. Freedom of choice is a cornerstone of American democracy and to deny a man the right to buy a house or rent an apartment because of the color of his skin is to deny this freedom of choice and to make a mockery of free enterprise. There is no freedom in the market place when the market has a "white only" sign.

FOLLOWING PROGRESS

Because of the importance of this bill, its progress is being followed closely by all Americans, but especially by the GI's in Vietnam. Open housing there means sharing the same barracks and even the same fox hole.

Negro GI's especially, are following it with interest. When I was there recently, I found they were concerned about the debate over their rights as citizens at home although they didn't question their obligations as citizens when they entered the army.

One soldier spoke with me from his hospital bed, concerned that the summer riots were being used as an excuse to limit fair housing rights. He said "Mr. Young, I shed my blood here for my country, but I just can't face going back home and trying to find a decent apartment for my family. I know I'll be forced to take a place in the same slum I joined the army to get out of. They are debating about our rights and talking about a few rioters, but they are forgetting the thousands of us out here fighting for our country."

Road Opening

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — American and Canadian officials will celebrate the opening of Interstate Route 59 at the border Sept. 19.

Federal, state and local officials will participate in a ribbon-cutting and shrub-planting ceremony.

Written OK Needed for Drug Experiment

By Science Service
WASHINGTON — A requirement for physicians to obtain the written consent of patients for the use of investigational drugs has been spelled out in guidelines published in the Federal Register.

Dr. James L. Goddard, commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration, said information given by doctors must include the purpose of the drug, the duration and method of use, hazards expected, alternative therapy available, if any, and possible effects on the patient's health.

By DICK WEST
United Press International
WASHINGTON — It's back to school time again and all over America tender little scenes have been taking place. Like the one at my house.

We stood in the doorway that morning and watched him go. Our youngest child, Off to enlist in kindergarten. As the station wagon from the Kiddie Kollege pulled away from the curb, we saw him fling up his arm and wave. We flung up our arms and waved back. It was a gripping moment.

"Ma," I said huskily, "do you realize this will be the first time in more than 20 years that you haven't had a preschool child around the house during the day?"

Yes, Pa.
'And do you realize that if the pills hold out we won't be having any more preschool children?'

Yes, Pa.

"Looks like we've sort of come to the end of an era, doesn't it, Ma?"

"Yes, Pa."

"This old house is going to seem mighty quiet for a while, isn't it, Ma?"

"Yes, Pa."

"Well, Ma, when are you going to stop jumping up and clicking your heels together?"

"As soon as you stop tossing your hat in the air."

resumption of school was short-lived, however. It lasted only until the older children came home that afternoon.

"I have to buy a few supplies," said the one in the sixth grade.

NICE TOTAL

I totaled up the list and it came to slightly under $3,000.

"I'm sorry," I said, "but this appears to exceed President Johnson's anti-inflation guidelines."

"You will have to clear it with the Council of Economic Advisers. Otherwise it may touch off another wage-price spiral."

Our free school system is indeed one of the glories of America. As long as you can afford it.

Egad! Peerless Hoople

Already Picking Upsets

By MAJOR AMOS R. HOOPLE
Football's Foremost Forecaster

Egad, friends, here we go again! Your favorite forecaster is fairly bursting at the seams in his anxiety to tangle with the complex problems of pliskin prognosticating — kaff-kaff!

My preliminary studies indicated this would be a turbulent season on the nation's collegiate gridirons and the projected results of the first week's meetings bear this out.

The Hoople System has upsets galore in store for you this Saturday, dear readers, so on with the show:

The biggest explosions will occur in the Indiana-Miami (O.), and Navy - Boston College melees.

Bruce Matte, younger brother of the Baltimore Colts' Tom Matte, will give the Hoosiers the jitters, as he leads little Miami to a 19-10 upset triumph over its Big Ten foe. Meanwhile, the Eagles of Boston College will soar over, around through Navy's midshipmen at Annapolis. I predict an 18-7 victory for BC—kak-kaff!

There are several mild upsets in the making, two of which we have pegged for the followers of the Hoople System.

Watch for Texas Christian to surprise powerful Nebraska at Lincoln. And with great pass catcher Kenny Last showing the way, the Golden Gophers will finish first — heh-heh — in their joust with host Missouri.

Six Coaches Make Debuts in County

By JERE CRAIG

The 1966 football season for Oakland County eleven will commence Friday afternoon with little change compared to the situation at the beginning of last season.

At that time, 11 coaches were making their debuts in the county and two parochial leagues had under gone considerable realignment.

This week the leagues will be the same as last season except for one addition to the Inter-Lakes loop, and only six new faces will be seen among the coaching ranks. Oddly, three of the changes involve schools that also had new men last fall.

Livonia Stevenson advances to varsity status in football and becomes the fifth member of the I-L League. Madison Heights Bishop Foley will not play varsity grid foot for at least one more season.

CHANGES

However, there will be changes in conference alignments next season. The Oakland A and Tri-County circuits definitely will change members, and possibly the Macomb Catholic League if Pontiac's Catholic Central High School is open.

Romeo of the Tri-County League and Utica from the Bi-County will replace Warren Fitzgerald and Warren Cousino in the O-A race.

The coaching changes include Tom Prieur at Lake Orion, Al Klukach at Northville and Bob Keezer at South Lyon.

An Eastern Michigan graduate, Klukach was promoted to the Northville post vacated by longtime mentor Ron Horwath who had a 65-32-3 mark for 13 seasons with the Mustangs and Royal Oak Shrine's Knights. This is Klukach's first varsity campaign.

The three school's reporting changes for the second season in a row are Holly, Farmington and Madison Heights Lathpore.

DIAMOND STAR

Bob Mistele, who took over the baseball reigns last spring at Farmington, now is guiding the Falcons' grid fortunes. A former major league diamond prospect, Mistele has a 74-35-7 coaching mark in Oklahoma and Texas prep football.

Elmer Rose switched from Eaton Rapids to Holly this season, bringing a 32-42-3 record. He's an Olivet grad.

George Jesko has moved up to the top spot at Lathpore. There were two changes among the area school's head coaching ranks. Romeo advanced Dick Caruso, and George Olman has been promoted at Cousino.

SWAMI ASSOCIATION OF THE GRAPEVINE

The Fraternal Order of Swamis is now in session and chairman of the Grapevine pickers for 1966 is Swami Spears.

After a close race to the final week last Grapevine season, Swami Spears pulled far ahead of Swami Craig, winning the chairmanship by six games.

Swami Spears finished with 272 right, 90 wrong and 15 ties; Swami Craig had 266 right, 105 wrong and 15 ties; Swami Vogel had 256 right, 115 wrong and 15 ties; Swami Kearns was 253-118-15.

11th Top Prep to Be Named After Season

Thom-McAn, Press Award Recipients Talented Group

Oakland County's Bronze Shoe Club will have a full football team in its membership when the prep season ends in a little over nine weeks.

The 11th annual Thom-McAn award will be presented to the county's top 1966 prep football player by The Pontiac Press. And the winner will join an extremely talented club.

Seven of the 10 previous winners have gone on to play on college varsity teams. The eighth is expected to make his Big Ten debut this fall.

Steve Juday of Northville, the 1961 winner, became an All-America last fall while quarterbacking Michigan State to 10 straight wins and the Big Ten championship.

Fullback John Gabler from Royal Oak Kimball was last year's recipient and is reported to be enrolling at the University of Michigan. He will not be eligible for the varsity until he is a sophomore.

Roger Ruminski, a 260-pound tackle from Walled Lake who won the Shoe in 1964, is expected to see considerable action for MSU this fall.

ALSO AT MSU

Two other former winners saw limited service with the Spartans last fall and are returning this year. Defensive back Chuck Lowther (1962) is a senior and linebacker Ron Ranieri (1963) is a junior.

Both prepped at Royal Oak Shrine.

Pontiac Central's Charlie Brown (1959) was the first of the winners to enroll at Michigan State. He went on to become a regular guard for the Spartans.

Gabler's selection of Michigan may reverse the trend away from Michigan State. Coach Duffy Daugherty lured five of six Shoe winners to East Lansing before Gabler's selection.

Only quarterback Mike Brown (1960) of Ferndale slipped away from the MSU mentor. He enrolled at Iowa was dropped out after his first year.

The first three winners went to Michigan.

Two Grid Coaches Have Unblemished Records

The current ranking of Oakland County high school football mentors' winning percentages reflects the successful 1965 debuts made by two coaches.

Paul Ternerian of Royal Oak Kimball and Mike Boyd at Waterford Our Lady of Lakes each broke in with an unbeaten season and thus rank one-two on the coaches' list.

The likeable Ternerian guided the Knights through nine victorious starts and to a South-eastern Michigan Association grid title after a successful tenure as the ROK diamond mentor.

Boyd, a youthful Saginaw product, found his first varsity coaching stint highly enjoyable as the Lakers of WOLL rolled to seven straight wins and the Macomb Catholic League crown.

The two first-year men moved to the top of the list that this season finds 38 coaches returning. Six new men have taken positions in the county. Bishop Foley High School in Madison Heights won't start competing at the varsity level this season.

SELECT FEW

Again, there are four coaches who have seen their team lose that, nonetheless, have a .800-plus winning percentages.

Ferndale St. James' veteran boss John Shada continues to lead the select group. He has enjoyed 51 triumphs in seven campaigns — including 16 straight since 1963.

Should the Dales triumph in their first three outings, Shada would have the distinction of being the only coach with more than one year's experience having a .900 success ratio.

Also still above the .800 mark are Walled Lake's Dave Smith and Ferndale's Frank Joranko. Both saw their marks drop slightly despite fine 1965 campaigns.

Newcomer Bob Hamilton — another baseball coach who switched to football — saw his inaugural team at Clawson lose only once in eight starts, and he replaces Bud Webster whose Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows' record dipped to .784 despite a 6-2 log last fall.

HIGH MAN

Smith's 70 conquests with the Walled Lake team are second high to Rochester's Gene Koneley. The 22-year Falcon coach has 130 wins and 55 defeats (also tops) but fell under the .700 career winning mark with last year's 4-4-1 record.

Another fine campaign for 1965's county prep grid coach of the year Paul Dellerba could enable him to even his Pontiac Central wins and losses (now 22-26-6).

There is only one returning coach who hasn't tasted a victory in county grid competition — Oak Park's Tom Scullen. He was winless in nine games last season.

Battle Looms for Second

Expect Bay City Central to Win SVC

One of the safest predictions in the Saginaw Valley Conference is to make Bay City Central the favorite for the football championship.

Although the Wolfpack hasn't always been on top when the firing stopped, BCC always seems to be the team to beat. The same holds true this year.

The defending champion is loaded with talent, as usual, and the question being asked around the Valley is who will finish second?

Teams most frequently mentioned for this honor are Flint Northern, Saginaw Arthur Hill and Pontiac Central. Midland, Central and Southwestern are rated a step lower.

Bay City Handy and Saginaw are expected to be at the bottom.

The SVC usually comes up with a surprise or two, however, and this season may be no exception. Two years ago Arthur Hill torpedoed BC Central and last year the Wolves were hard-pressed to get out of Pontiac with a 14-12 win and the crown.

Coach Elmer Engle is working with 29 lettermen at BCC. Rich Glish will be the quarterback and Walt Gruber, Mike Smith and Bill Maxwell the primary ball carriers.

The line is big and experienced. Engle always sees to it that the juniors see plenty of action so that they are experienced for the following season.

BIG MOVE

Coach Hi Becker at Arthur Hill suffered through a building campaign in 1965 and now is hoping the Lumberjacks are ready to make their big move.

Arthur Hill has 18 lettermen back and every position manned by at least one veteran.

Top holdover is quarterback John Decker who can pass, run and kick and play safety on defense. Ton Bondell, Tim Schreder and Bill White round out the backfield.

The line will average 190 pounds and three of the five ends listed on the roster go 6-4 or better.

Ten of Flint Northern's 12 top backs from 1965 are among a group of 20 monogram winners. Eighteen were starters at one time or another last season.

Junior quarterback William Wallace was a regular last season and halfback Tony Smith was the top gainer. Tackle Jerry Dermaid starts his third season on the varsity.

Northern's problem, over the last two seasons has been a lack of scoring. The Vikings have scored only 184 points in 18 games.

Little is known about Midland except that the Chemics always come up with better than average unit.

Flint Southwestern returns tackle Jerry Kramer, guards Ron Campbell and Jeff Hale and center Judson Gambill. The backfield, however, is inexperienced.

Flint Central has only two offensive and two defensive regulars back. Tim Bograkov is slated to be the quarterback. Nick Kolos (215) and Charles Bottoms (225) will anchor the line at tackle.

Saginaw is short on manpower. Nine junior varsity players had to be moved up to give the varsity 34 players. Tackle Tom Orange (235) is the best line man.

Bay City Handy has a new coach, Bill Carr, and the biggest turnout in five years. Among the 82 candidates are only six lettermen including quarterback Jack Jerry List.

The Forecast:

1. Bay City Central
2. Saginaw Arthur Hill
3. Flint Northern
4. Pontiac Central
5. Midland
6. Flint Southwestern
7. Flint Central
8. Saginaw
9. Bay City Handy

One Regular Returns; Not Pessimistic

Graduation skimmed the cream of the crop from one of the finest football teams ever produced at Pontiac Central.

The Chiefs lost 23 lettermen from the 1965 squad that posted a 7-1-1 record and finished second in the Saginaw Valley Conference. PCH came close to taking all the spoils, but lost to Bay City Central, 14-12, in the prep game of the year.

This is a new season, however, and for tackle Keith Dextrom, the only returning regular, and nine other lettermen, the road to success probably will prove rough.

Coach Paul Dellerba isn't pessimistic.

"I can tell you one thing," he said, "we aren't going to finish last. Every team we play is going to know it has been in a ball game."

Quarterback Jerry Murphy and ball carriers Ken Seay and Don Lavalais will have to be replaced. So will stand-out guards Leroy Jackson, an all-stater, and Sylvester Robinson and tackle Tom Jenkins.

The Chiefs will have one of the biggest backfields in the SVC.

Bruce Turpin (170) and Alton Wilson (205) are slated to be the halfbacks with Bennie Williams (205) at fullback. Lee White (150) has moved in at quarterback.

Wilson is a junior while the other three are senior lettermen.

Senior Bob Boyce (185) and junior Mike Shorters (190) saw considerable action at end last season.

Among the newcomers who have a good chance of starting are senior guard Eddie Copeland (190), junior halfback Walter Terry (158) and junior end Bob Copeland (175).

"Our over-all team will be bigger than last year," said Dellerba, "but we lack experience and depth. Also, I don't believe we are as quick as last year's club."

"Our defense will be questionable because we graduated almost all of them, but we feel that our first unit can do the job."

The Chiefs get down to business in the nine-team SVC in a hurry. They open the season at home Friday against Saginaw Arthur Hill.

This will be Dellerba's seventh season as coach of the Chiefs.

East Detroit's Shamrocks After 2nd Straight Title

The rest of the league is still a little way behind East Detroit in the Eastern Michigan loop.

The Shamrocks won the EML championship last during a disappointing season.

After four straight shutouts opening the season, the Shamrocks dropped four of their next five games, all of them non-conference encounters.

But in league play, East Detroit is tough and the team is a heavy favorite to win its second in a row.

After the Shamrocks come Roseville. Mount Clemens, Port Huron and Port Huron Northern.

HELP BACK

Roseville, like East Detroit, has a host of returning lettermen and promises a big improvement over its 1-2 league mark last season. Over - all, Roseville closed with a 5-4 mark.

Mount Clemens has only 10 lettermen returning and coach Dick Chapman will have a team made up mostly of juniors.

On the brighter side for Mount Clemens, 6-2 last year, are tackle Dick Harder, a 6-4, 245-pounder, and end Dave Yonka, a 6-3, 220-pound junior. Another lineman with a little experience is guard John McCleary (5-11, 195).

Chapman is looking for a quarterback among the newcomers to fit into the backfield with halfbacks Jerry Whitaker (5-6, 165) and Larry Szumal (5-9, 165) and fullback Bob Duda (6-1, 197).

Port Huron has a candidate for All-League honors in halfback Jerry Noble, a 6-2, 195-pounder, but after Noble the talent is thin.

Knights Eying Success in '66

Another winning season is in the making for Coach Al Fracassa and the Knights of Royal Oak Shrine.

Fracassa has a lot of talent returning in his backfield alignment, and with a little more help on the line, the Knights will be a lot better than last year's 4-2-1 squad.

On hand to quarterback the club will be senior and captain Dave Yeager. Working with him in the backfield will be fullback Ken Caratelli and halfback Mickey Brzezinski, both juniors.

On the line, Fracassa has three top performers in Junior end Paul Seymour, tackle Bob Eady and center Tom Torongo.

Optimism Prevails at PNH

Tackles Lost to Huskies

If you glance lightly at Pontiac Northern's 1965 record on the football field, the 3-6 mark looks bad.

It really isn't. Coach Dave Schmidt had a solid unit at PNH. It's just that the season ended too soon.

Northern dropped its first five games, two by the margin of a touchdown. Then, the team righted itself and won three in a row before bowing to crosstown rival Pontiac Central in the season finale, 14-8.

And in losing to PCH, the Huskies were knocked off by the seventh-ranked Class A squad in the state.

Coach Schmidt would like to start the '66 season with the same team. He can't, since graduation took some of the power and injuries sapped a little of the strength.

OPTIMISM PREVAILS

But still a feeling of optimism prevails at PNH as the team prepares to take on a rugged '66 schedule.

There are 14 lettermen on hand at PNH and Schmidt's immediate problem is to put together an offensive and defensive line.

The starting tackles on the '65 team — Nick Loulakis (5-8, 190) and John Backalukas (6-0, 190) elected to pass up football this fall so Schmidt will have to pull a pair of tackles from the reserves.

The loss of those two hurts, but Schmidt still has Frank Laferty (5-10, 190), Dennis Shields (5-10, 175), Greg Frazier (5-11, 170) and Dave Mihalek, a 230-pounder who sat out a year because of illness.

A little trouble may crop up at guard and end where few experienced players return.

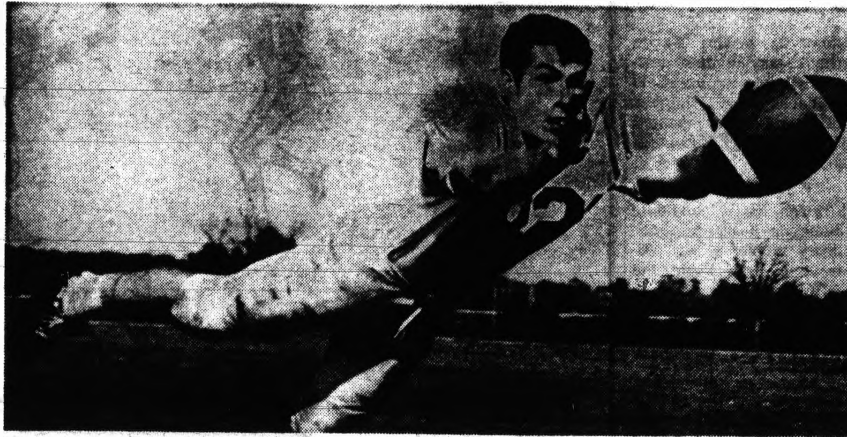

STRONG BACKFIELD

The Huskies strong suit is the backfield, which will be perhaps the best in the league.

Getting the call at quarterback is Tony DeLaRosa (5-5, 140), a good runner and adequate passer. A newcomer who might move into the signal-calling slot is Mike Clancy, a 6-0, 175-pound junior.

Dana Coin, 6-2 and 195 pounds, and Dan Couture (5-7, 165) give the Huskies power at the running back positions, while Larry Gilyard (5-7, 145) and Mel Cole (5-10, 165) provide the speed. Cole's a hurdler and could give the PNH running game a big boost.

Northern's main problem, obviously, is the line. Whether the newcomers can fill the holes at the start of the season is questionable.

HUNGRY HUSKIE—Northern's end Bob Fulks goes all out for any thrown ball he can reach. The Huskies will be host to Troy Friday night at Wisner Stadium, and Fulks wants to test the Colts' defensive secondary.

Poem for Officials

The Ref is a party with stripes on his shirt
He goes 60 minutes & rarely gets hurt
He romps & he whistles the afternoon through While seeing how tough he can make it for you.

Livonia 11 Newcomer to League

The Vikings of Walled Lake don't take a 'Ho-Hum' attitude toward the Inter-Lakes League football race, but you couldn't blame them if they did.

The Vikings seem to bloom every year about football time, and as they head into the '66 campaign, the team will be looking for its eighth title in a row.

The only blemish on the championship record of the Vikings is the 1959 campaign when they were forced to share the title with Southfield.

It will come as no shock to area football fans to know that the Walled Lakers are picked to win the title again this year.

After the Vikings come Pontiac Northern, Farmington, Waterford and newcomer Livonia Stevenson.

TOUCH JOB

Farmington lost 21 lettermen through graduation so coach Robert Mistele has his work cut out for him.

Among the returnees are All-League candidate Jerry Tinkle, a 6-3, 215-pound end, and full-back Fritz Simons, a 6-2, 197-pounder.

Mistele needs some help in the line and he'll have to go with newcomer Dan Wolfman, a 5-10, 168-pound junior, at quarterback.

Livonia will field a light but fast team, but one which is not expected to be a threat in the I-L race.

Supplying the speed in the backfield are Paul Pender, Dave Regiani and Dan Keith.

Blue-Gold 'Greenish' for WTHS

The Skippers of Waterford wear Blue and Gold but a bunch of 'em will be green this year.

Coach John Moffat handed out 47 letters last year and 24 of the winners are back, but many of them saw little action, so, experience-wise, they're a little green.

The Skippers closed with a 2-7 record last year and 1-2 in the Inter-Lakes League for a second-place finish, and despite being a little inexperienced, the squad is expected to turn in a better performance than last year.

Moffat has three of the best linemen in the league, but he'll have to put a backfield on the gridiron that's seen little varsity action.

Among the linemen is Steve Main, a rugged, 6-0, 200-pounder who's earned a pair of letters at guard. His running mate at the guard post is junior Gregg Ballard, a 5-10, 175-pounder.

REAL 'GREEN'

And a 'Green' who really isn't green is center Steve Green, a 5-10, 180-pounder, a two-year man at that post, who gives the Skippers good blocking in the middle of the line.

Trying to take the quarterback spot are junior Bob Thomas (5-10, 180) and sophomore Greg Potter (5-6, 165).

Among the candidates for running back positions are Steve Goit (5-10, 180) and Bruce Saffron (5-10, 175). Both are sophomores.

Vikings Have 'Win Habit' in League

A winning habit is hard to kick. But then, who would want to kick a winning habit.

That's the way it's been for some time at Walled Lake, where coach Dave Smith tutors the players on the finer points of winning football games.

And winning has become a habit with Smith and the Vikings.

They're not boastful. They don't knock their opponents. It's hard to believe they would be good losers. They haven't had any practice.

Smith is starting his 11th year at the helm of the Vikings, and during the past 10 years, his teams have rolled up a record of 70-13-1.

The Vikings have won the last seven Inter-Lakes League championships in a row and they're favored to make it eight in a row this season.

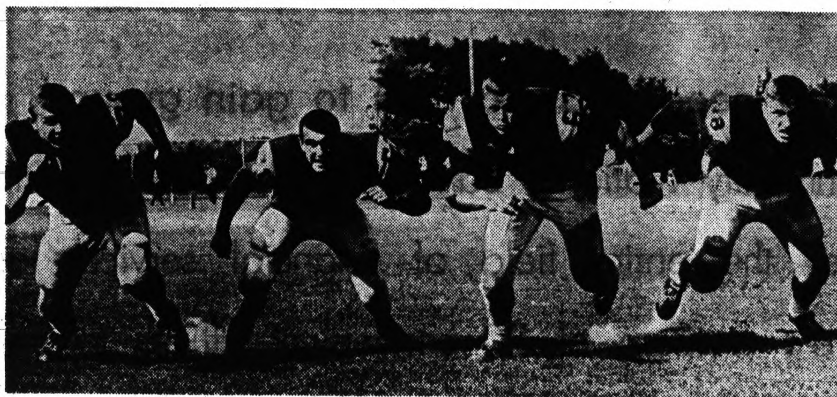

Smith and the Vikings are tuning up for the '66 campaign with a few problems, but they're no major obstacles that 17 returning lettermen cannot hurdle.

The team needs a quarterback and a few linemen and both are available among the newcomers on Smith's list of good players.

The team will have a strong, veteran backfield with the four-some of Dennis Fitzgerald (5-10, 165), Steve Fogle (5-10, 190), Gus Maragos (5-9, 155) and Russ Herron (6-0, 190) sharing the duties.

On the line there are only two holdovers — tackle Dennis Brandt (5-10, 210) and guard Ron James (5-11, 218).

Although Smith must plug a few gaps, over-all the Vikings look like one of the best in the area.

VIKING STANDARD—Walled Lake has always been known for its tough front line and this year will be no different for the Vikings

Barrier Broken at Brother Rice

Birmingham Brother Rice broke the football win barrier last fall and coach Joe Pascuzzi has 14 letterwinners returning this campaign.

Optimism prevails at the Detroit Catholic League Central Division school, and one of the prime reasons for it is spelled Pilette. Senior cocaptain Greg Pilette is expected to put sparkle in the Warriors' offense.

The 5-10, 175-pound whippet accounted for most of the Brother Rice first downs and touchdowns last fall. He averaged better than one trip across the goal line per game in a 4-3-1.

Two-year letterwinning backs Paul Lutz, a diminutive halfback, and Dan Parks, a 6-5, 220-pound fullback, should give the opposition enough problems to keep it from concentrating on Pilette.

A passing attack also shouldn't be a problem since ends Doug Keating (6-2, 175) and Lee Hart (6-6, 240) both have two years of varsity experience.

GOOD SIZE

The forward line has good size, led by tackle Ed Shafko (205-pound senior) and cocaptain guard Bill Tucker (6-0, 180 pounds). Sophomore tackle John Fontanesi brings a 6-0, 230-pound frame to the varsity. But the biggest prospect is 6-2 junior Jim Ciagowski, a 265-pounder.

Pascuzzi foresees a fine season for Brother Rice if injuries don't deplete the first string who doesn't have much experience backing it up.

Their division of the Catholic League appears at its strongest. The Warriors' schedule includes a Sept. 30th date at the University of Detroit Stadium against Catholic Central in the Boys' Bowl. They will open on the Groves' field Saturday night against Salesian.

New Signal Caller

Utica Coaches Make Move

The key to Utica's grid fortune this year lies in a move made by the coaching staff.

The Chieftains lost quarterback Tom Orlowsky through graduation and he was the one that made things click last year as the team piled up a 6-1 record and shared the championship in the Bi-County League with Lakeview.

Without Orlowsky, coach Bob Dilday turned to senior Roy Thibodeau, who has spent two years as a running back in the Chieftains backfield.

Thibodeau is now the quarterback and Dilday admits that much of the team's success will depend on the new signal-caller.

The other positions are solid.

The Chieftains have All-State material in tackle Dan Krause and fullback Gary Lieber. Both were All-League last year.

Real Obliging

BUFFALO (NEA)—The television age and football have become so synonymous that a fan actually wrote a letter to Jackie Kemp, the Buffalo Bills quarterback, asking him to please keep his passes in range of the cameras.

Jackie politely responded: "Dear sir: you have my full sympathy. I'll do my best to develop a 21-inch pass."

Krause is 6-1 and 220 pounds and his efforts have drawn college scouts like that sweet stuff does bees.

Lieber is a speedy, solid 180-pounder, who'll team with another speedster in the backfield, Gordon Schwartz, 6-0 and 175 pounds.

Two other positions where Dilday has no worries are at guard and end. Mike Masakowski, 6-0 and 170 pounds, fills the guard post and Jim Jilek, a 6-3, 185-pounder, has the good hands and the move at end.

Norwegian Sheds Skis to Kick Field Goals

Darrell Royal, No. 8, starred at quarterback and halfback for Wilkinson's Sooners before launching a resurgence of University of Texas gridiron prestige.

Mississippi's Johnny Vaught, in the runner-up spot, and Paul Bryant of Alabama, in fifth, are kingpins of the SEC.

RUNNERUP

Frank Broyles of the amazing Arkansas Razorbacks and Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd are 9-10. Broyles played at Tech before it left the SEC and Dodd gained fame on the field at Tennessee.

Tied for sixth at .747 are Big Ten taskmaster Woody Hayes of Ohio State and the man who rules the Ivy League with a cherubic face and a finely-drilled team, Dartmouth's Bob Blackman.

Devaney missed a '65 sweep when lighter, whippet-like 'Bama outmaneuvered the Huskers in the Orange Bowl, 39-28. But the 10-0 season's mark was the first unbeaten effort over the regular schedule for Nebraska since 1915.

The Huskers won nine of a possible 13 league crowns in the period 1928-40. Devaney brought 'em back to national prominence with their first-since title in 1963 and in four years he's been the overseer of a 38-6 reconstruction record.

Vaught keeps Mississippi rolling along with a 149-41-10 relentless flow through the South, good for a .781 average over 19 years. Devaney follows with an 84-24-7, .778 in 11 campaigns. He moved that close to Vaught by directing his Tigers to a 20-18 Sugar Bowl triumph over Florida last New Year's Day.

EX-SPARTAN

Kush was a headliner at guard at Michigan State in 1962 when Duffy Daugherty, currently ranked 15th for his efforts at that school, was an aide to Biggie Munn. He consistently turns out sprint-T clubs dotted with Olympic Track and pro football prospects.

The crafty Bryant, recuperating from an off-season collapse, will have 'Bama ready again. The Bears elevens have lost only six of their last 64 starts.

The ratings are based on schools which have been classified as major for better than five years.

UTICA ACE—College scouts are eager to have the 1966 season end so they'll have a chance to try and engage the services of Utica tackle Dan Krause, a 6-1 220-pounder.

FIRST CALL — Jerry Beseau is coach Jim Larkin's first choice for the Kettering quarterback berth now that two-year regular Dick Miceli is sidelined for at least the first two games.

Captains Have Early Setback

Kettering's Captains have already run afoul of an ill wind in trimming their sails for the 1966 Tri-County football race.

Quarterback Dick Miceli was scuttled late last week when he suffered an elbow injury and his exit's expected to crimp the Captains' style.

With Miceli out, coach Jim Larkin has turned the reins over to senior Jerry Beseau, who has a lot of talent but little experience at the post.

The loss of Miceli may slow the Captains in their first two encounters, but the senior signal-caller should be back in uniform Oct. 1 when Kettering entertains Romeo in a league opener.

Larkin will have an experienced squad and one which should challenge L'Anse Creuse for the Tri-County championship.

SHARED SECOND

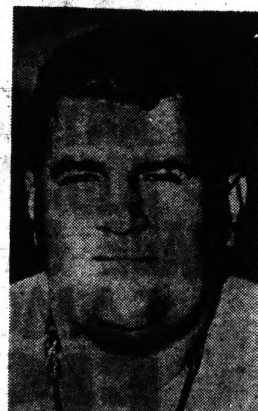

The Captains rolled up a 4-3-2 record last year, winding up in a tie with Romeo at 1-1-2 for second place in the league.

One of the losses was a 27-26 squeaker to L'Anse and the rematch this year promises to be a thriller since both squads have much of the same personnel returning.

The Captains have strength in the line where five regulars return.

Mike Mobey, a 6-2, 240-pound senior, will hold down one of the tackle spots, while Dan Runyan (5-11, 190) and Ken McLean (5-11, 185) will occupy the guard posts. Both are seniors.

At end the Captains have one of the best in the league in Bob VonBargen, a 5-9, 185-pounder. Working at the other side of the line will be Vince Griffin, a 5-10, 170-pounder who earned a letter last year.

L'Anse Eleven Favored to Keep League Crown

Everyone looks like a winner in the Tri-County League scramble.

Defending champion L'Anse Creuse lost several members of its 1965 title team and yet the squad has enough talent on hand to occupy the favorite's role as the season opener nears.

L'Anse's reign is in jeopardy, however.

Kettering is, as usual, strong and the Captains will have a team that should keep pace with the best in the area.

Looking on down the ladders, Lapeer, Romeo and Oxford are fairly strong and with a little luck and some strength from the reserves, anyone could step in and take over.

RESERVE HELP

L'Anse is counting on reserves to fill the gaps caused by graduation.

The Captains of Kettering will be big and fast and they are given the best chance of knocking the crown from L'Anse's brow.

Romeo and Lapeer should stay near the top, particularly Lapeer, while Oxford — with speed to burn — could race off with all the marbles.

The over-all balance, from a pre-season standpoint, is the best this year than at any time in recent years.

The consensus:
1. L'Anse Creuse
2. Kettering
3. Lapeer
4. Romeo
5. Oxford

Champs Ready

The accent's on speed at L'Anse Creuse where coach John Antico and the Lancers are preparing to defend their Tri-County League championship.

The Lancers closed with a 6-2 record over-all last year, taking the league title with a 4-0 mark.

Antico has only 12 lettermen back from that team but he has a good crop of reserves giving him what could be another banner year.

Carrying the offensive load for the Lancers this fall will be halfback Rick Saunders, a 5-6, 145-pound senior, who averaged 5.5 yards a carry last year.

Missing from the offensive unit is Steve Skelton, since graduated, who led the team in scoring with 66 points in '65.

FILL GAP

But Saunders, along with Bill

Fisher, a 155-pound senior and newcomer Mike Burback, a 5-10, 168-pound junior, are expected to fill the scoring gap left by Skelton.

Another top performer on the '65 Lancer squad is guard Tom Doescher, who weighs in at 179 pounds and is rated one of the best blockers in the league.

Among the newcomers are tackles Dave Berger (234) and Mark Skipper (234) and guard Ron Caster (208) and center Pete DeBlock (215).

The Lancers have a schedule that fits their inexperienced team.

With home dates at the start, the team should gain the valuable experience it needs for the late-season road games.

Comparison?

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — Ara Parseghian, the Notre Dame football coach, is constantly besieged by fans for pre-season predictions.

"I'm often asked how we look," Ara said. "And I'm always at a loss how to answer. I feel like the man who was asked, 'How's your wife?' And And he replied, 'Compared to what?'"

South Bend — Notre Dame's eleveners under Knute Rockne won 105, lost 12, tied 5.

Explanation

of Pass Play

---Quite Simple

NEW YORK (NEA) — It was after Earl Morrall had won a game for the Detroit Lions with a 79-yard pass to Dave Middleton.

The television announcer, breathless as usual, asked Earl for an explanation of the play. Earl commented:

"It's our eight-look-in," he said, "which is like a bend-in deep with green left slow."

It's not much more than a back dividing to the left, or the same as a swing in to the left. This time we did it off our opposite, making it from a two right.

Any questions?"

New Coach at Romeo

Little Bulldogs Face Tough Assignment

Romeo's little Bulldogs have a big job ahead of them under new coach Richard C. Caruss.

ROMEO: Richard Caruss

ASSISTANTS: Larry Randall, Rick Balch, Tom Cvengros

Although lacking size, the Bulldogs have plenty of speed and that alone makes them a force to be reckoned with in Tri-County League action.

Romeo wound up second in the league last season with a 1-1-2 record, and 17 members of that squad were graduated. Caruss, replacing Stan Motschenbacher, has 14 of that team back.

Caruss has been an assistant coach for the past seven years so he'll have no trouble getting acquainted with the squad.

Over-all, the new coach likes what he sees so far in the '66 Bulldogs.

"We're small with average speed," Caruss says. "If we develop a good team spirit we could have a winner."

Speedy Backs Carry Oxford's Title Hopes

Oxford's Wildcats could well turn out to be the surprise of the Tri-County League.

The team has speed and power.

"The boys seem to have a lot of enthusiasm, too," says coach Gerry Neidlinger.

"If some of our young kids come through and are ready by game time," the coach continued, "We won't be bad off."

One speedy problem defenders will face when they meet the Wildcats this fall is Tim Kelley, a senior who runs the 100 in 10 seconds flat.

NOT ALL

And that's not all the speed.

Mickey Cummings almost keeps pace with Kelley, and Mickey's brother, Gary, is another speedster who's after a backfield job.

A battle at quarterback is in the making with Bryan Edgett and Dan Jones, both juniors, trying for the job.

Neidlinger is also using Mickey Cummings at the signal-calling post and he may get the call when the season arrives.

On the line, Neidlinger has a pair of tackles and an end who may all make All-League. They all have the potential.

ALL-LEAGUER

Richard Kraus, a 6-2, 235-pounder, was an All-League selection last year and he's almost a cinch to repeat. His running mate at tackle will be Steve Porter, a 205-pound senior.

Holding down one of the end spots will be Roger Miller, a 6-3, 205-pounder with good hands and who is capable of getting the job accomplished on blocking assignments.

The team wound up with a miserable 1-7-1 mark last season. This edition of the Wildcats should improve that mark by a great deal and challenge Kettering and L'Anse Creuse for the title.

Imlay City Not Being Taken Lightly

Imlay City was lightly taken in the preseason ratings last year, but other members of the South Central Conference aren't making the same mistake twice in a row.

The Spartans surprised by tying for the championship.

Although coach Tom Hood calls this year's edition of the Spartans "green and an average team to below average" the opinion thinks otherwise.

Imlay is being tabbed the team to beat.

Eleven lettermen from the 1965 team, that posted a 5-3 over-all record, return. Greatest loss appears to be in the backfield.

Quarterback Bill Hoeksema and top ball carrier Mike

Schonfield have departed. Losses in the line include tackle John Van Conant and end Rick Vincent.

Three double letterwinners return. They are guards Eugene Carter and Gene Watt and back Gary Maples. End John Donovan and tackle Mike Kempf lettered last year as sophomores.

Millington has a big line and experience in the backfield and appears ready to move out of the cellar. In fact, the Cardinals may be the darkhorse.

Four letterwinners will man the backfield spots.

FOURTH SEASON

Larry Hohrtienne will be the quarterback. He is a junior. Tom Eno starts his fourth season at fullback and halfbacks Wayne Oliver and Ted Germain are two-time lettermen.

Stan Hahn, a two-year veteran, will be at tackle and Joe Denski returns at end. Tackle Dan Burden saw enough action last year to earn a letter.

North Branch is always strong and so is Deckerville. Harbor Beach is a question mark.

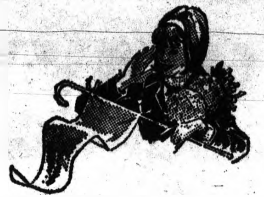

Coach Bruce Gardner feels it "will be a close race."

The forecast:
1. Imlay City
2. North Branch
3. Millington
4. Deckerville
5. Harbor Beach

GUARD THE AIRPLANES — St. Michael defensive performers Mike Lozano (left) and Bill Cook work on batting down passes. Cook will be a linebacker for the Shamrocks while Lozano is a halfback.

NOT THIS TIME—Bob Crichton (right) seems to be taking a hands off position toward the ball Jim Burton is holding during a Rochester practice.

The Falcons, who finished last season with a flourish, are to start fast this year.

In League Race

Decision Due Early for Troy's Colts

There won't be any moments of anxious waiting for Troy's Colts.

Coach Bob McElreath and the '66 squad are going to find out in a hurry just what the new campaign holds for them.

The Colts are on the road for their first three games.

First comes Pontiac Northern, and the Huskies won't be pushovers. Next in line is Madison and then Fitzgerald, the cream of the crop in the Oakland A League.

The Colts lack depth, so if they survive those first three games in good shape, they could turn in a respectable season.

Lacking depth and veterans, however, will put the Colts in the role of the underdog in all three games. PNH is expected to battle for the Inter-Lakes title while Madison and Fitzgerald are favorites in the O-A.

So the season could end in a hurry for the Colts.

Troy has 10 returnees from the '65 team that finished fifth in the league and would up with an over-all mark of 3-4-1.

And a key member of that team is back — junior quarterback Gary Griffith, a 6-0, 180-pound junior, who sparkled last year as a sophomore.

Griffith can run or throw and he has a couple of able receivers in backfield mates Dave Humphrey (6-2, 195) and Phil Keelin (6-2, 195).

There's only one veteran line-man returning — Dean Lamm. The 6-1, 175-pound Lamm will hold down one of the end spots. The young man has a good pair of hands so he should be another good target for Griffith.

Falcons Hoping for Flying Start

The Falcons of Rochester started the '65 campaign looking like a loser, and finished with a winning flourish, and coach Gene Konley's hoping the team'll pick up where it left off.

Rochester dropped its first four games, righted itself and posted a 4-0-1 record in the final five games to close with an overall 4-4-1 mark.

Despite the poor start, the Falcons wound up fourth at 3-3-1 in the Oakland A race, and they've got 12 letter winners returning from that squad.

Konley has an experienced backfield but he'll have to find some newcomers to fill key line posts to challenge for the O-A championship.

The big plus in the Falcons' plan is quarterback Jim Ball, a senior 175-pounder who has earned two letters at that position.

TWO SENIORS

Working with Ball will be a couple other seniors — Craig Valley, 6-0 and 165 pounds, and Jim Burton, a 6-2, 170-pounder.

Along the line, Konley has experienced performers at only three of the seven vacancies.

Randy Hinds, a 195-pound senior guard, Brian Russell, a 213-pound junior-center and senior end Don Golding, a 6-1, 185-pound end are the only holdovers on the offensive line, leaving Konley with the big task of working in some of his new players.

Among the new candidates for line jobs are tackles Brian Esch, a 230-pounder, and Bob Kowales, a 205-pounder. They're both juniors.

Paul Becker, a junior who goes at 6-1 and 185 pounds, is bidding for the other end spot, and Dan Wheeler, a 170-pound junior is seeking the fullback post.

ALL THE WAY

Over-all, the Falcons will face the season with a lot of inexperience at several important positions. If they come up with performers who can fill those spots, the team could go all the way.

But unless the newcomers come through, the Falcons could wind up with a season similar to the '65 campaign.

Time Just Ran Out Says Doak of Layne

DALLAS (NEA) — Doak Walker and Bobby Layne are close friends. Both have tremendous respect for each other. And loyalty.
"Bobby never lost a game in his life," Doak said, "time just ran out on him a few times."

Fitzgerald Gets Nod in O-A Race

Coach Al Drath and the Spartans of Warren Fitzgerald are pulling out of the Oakland A League at the close of the 1966-67 season, and chances are the rest of the loop squads are glad to see them go.

The Spartans were picked to capture the O-A football championship last year and they did. And they did it convincingly.

Fitzgerald chewed up nine opponents and wound up with a 9-0 record, 7-0 in the league and a game ahead of runner-up Clawson.

Madison wound up third and Rochester grabbed the No. 4 spot.

That's almost the same order in which the coaches view the 1966 finish.

SPARTANS STRONG

Fitzgerald has a powerhouse and the Spartans are odds-on favorites to take their final O-A crown. Next year, they'll be playing in the All - Warren League.

Drath has 23 lettermen returning at Fitzgerald and among them are quarterback Don Billy and halfback Bill Kinnie.

Kinnie, a 5-11, 170-pounder, led the team in rushing last year with 761 yards for an average of 10.2 a try. Billy rushed for 481 yards and completed 9 of 20 passes, 5 for touchdowns.

Madison, third last year at 5-2 in the loop, has 14 lettermen back and the Eagles are big and experienced.

Among the big men are tackles Marshall Putnam (210) and Larry Zimmerman (206) and guard Bill Pietrosky (210).

GOOD QB

Clawson has 19 lettermen back and one of the area's top quarterbacks in Larry Pinchback and should give Rochester a battle for the No. 3 spot.

After the fourth spot, it looks like Avondale, Troy, Warren Cousino and Lake Orion.

Avondale has a lot of speed but some problems in the line.

Troy is rebuilding from a 2-4-1 season and the Colts rate the darkhorse role in the race.

Cousino has Paul Papak, All-League quarterback, but the team still has defensive problems.

Groza's Toe Is Property of Museum

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lou Groza's toe now belongs to the Cleveland Health Museum.

Lou Regalbuto, a sculptor recently made a bronze casting for display at the museum after taking a plaster cast of Groza's size 12D right foot. It took 20 pounds of plaster to do the job.

Groza, 41, has scored 1,195 points for the Browns, a National Football League record. His total includes one touchdown, 547 conversions and 214 field goals.

At Lamphere

Repair Sign Hoisted

It'll take a while to repair the damage graduation left in the Madison Lamphere football squad.

Thirteen of the Rams picked up diplomas last spring and with them also went any hopes of a Central Suburban League championship this fall.

Coach George D. Jesko has only seven returnees from the '65 team that compiled a 6-2 record—5-1 in league play.

Most of the vacancies have occurred in the line, and if by chance he finds some players capable of filling them, the Rams could be a surprise.

But asking newcomers to step into a starting role is risky. You can't count on them until they have had a few games under their belts.

TOP PERFORMERS

In the backfield, the Rams have two of the best performers in the league.

Quarterback Dan Leskiewicz, a 5-10, 170-pounder, has earned two letters at the signal-calling post and he'll team with another two-year player in full-back John Cova, a 5-11, 185-pounder.

The only holdover on the line is guard Steve Sinclair, a 5-10, 180-pound senior.

There is some talent in the newcomers, but they need game experience.

Among the new players are backs Steve Dunlop, a 6-1, 195-pound sophomore; Tom McComb, a 5-8, 165-pound junior; and Bill Dunlop, a 6-2, 180-pounder.

Jesko has a couple promising linemen in junior Dean Downs, a 5-10, 205-pound tackle, and guard Chuck Kowalski, a 5-10, 170-pound junior.

Junior High Gridders Await Season's Start

Pontiac's six junior high schools are busy readying their Class A, B and C football teams for this fall's schedule of 126 games that will begin next month.

More than 550 boys are expected to be classified under the Kiwanis Olympic Classification Chart according to age, weight and height and then assigned to a division accordingly.

One new coach will appear on the junior high gridirons. Kennedy's forces will be guided by Dave Yarbrough. The veteran is Washington's Don Kelly, entering his 11th season.

Eastern's Bill Harrington and Curt Cooper at Lincoln saw their charges finish in a first place tie last fall. Earl McKee at Jefferson and Jerry Strickler at Madison round out the list.

Games for the "A" teams will be Thursdays with the sixth game being a position round, matching the first and second place teams, the third and fourth, and the fifth and sixth.

New Coach at Helm

Team Spirit Gives Orion a Lift

If team spirit could win ball games, Lake Orion's Dragons would have a champion this fall.

“The team spirit has been most encouraging,” says coach Tom Prieur, who steps into the head coaching post after two years at Memphis in the Southern Thumb League.

The Dragons suffered through an 8-3 season last year, and they have only 13 lettermen returning, so coach

Prieur has his work cut out for him.

Prieur has been stressing fundamentals — blocking and conditioning — so the Dragons could pull a few surprises along the way.

No one expects the team to win the Oakland A title this year, so it could be that the squad may take that “There's nothing to lose” attitude and give the favorites a run for their money.

FEW SCORES

Offensively, the Dragons scored only six touchdowns last season. It's one area that Prieur will be trying to improve since few games are won in the O-A on defense alone.

The back field shows promise, and if Prieur can find some linemen, the Dragons could gain some respectability on the field.

Among the candidates for the backfield spots are Tim O'Dea and Jim Rose, both speedsters and both seniors.

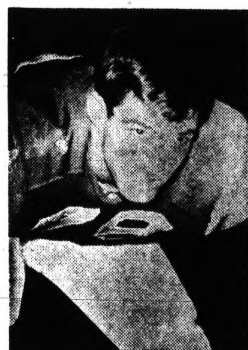

Poem for Punters

The center snap was wide & high
The punter groaned as it went by
He nailed it, half a field away
Fourth down; they got it anyway.

Michigan State's last four head football coaches — Jim Crowley (1929-32), Charley Bachman (1933-46), Biggie Munn (1947-53) and Duffy Daugherty (1954 to present) — all produced strong winning records with the Spartans.

Avondale Unit Pinning Hopes on Fast Backs

Team Finished 7th
Last Year in O-A Gridiron Race

If Avondale's Yellow Jackets find enough room to run, they'll probably outrace everyone this season in the O-A.

Coach Dick Bye has probably the fastest set of backs in the conference and he's hoping he can come up with the linemen who'll give the speedsters enough room to maneuver.

Bye lost most of the big line from 1965, and the team's success this season is tied to the newcomers who'll man those line posts.

The new forward wall will be built around center Glen Hadfield, a 6-4, 250-pounder, and end Lee Saunders, a 6-1, 170-pounder.

Bye smiles when he comes to backfield crew. Here, he has speed to burn.

WORKS AT QB

Directing the speed merchants is quarterback Archie Anderson, a 6-0, 180-pounder, who had a lot of playing time last year.

With Anderson are seniors Robert Coronado and Jim Roe along with junior Robert Burt.

Coronado, a 5-5, 140-pounder, can move the mail at halfback and Burt does the same at the other halfback slot. Roe combines power and speed on his 180-pound frame.

And among the newcomers are juniors Karl Rykert, a 5-7, 132-pounder and Donald Brown, a 5-8, 158-pounder. Both are expected to see a lot of action in the backfield.

Bye has a couple of top prospects in guards James Wood and Dale Harden. And here again, it'll be a matter of speed since Wood weighs in at 165 and Harden at 155.

FINISH SEVENTH

Overall, the Jackets wound up with a 2-5-2 mark last year, seventh in the O-A race at 1-4-2.

In their last three games, they battled Troy and Rochester to ties and knocked off Monroe Jefferson in the season finale.

Bye hopes he and the team can pick up where they left off.

Former Michigan State cross country ace Henry Kennedy won IC4A championships in 1955 and 1956 and his brother, Fordy, followed with titles in 1957, 1958 and 1959.

Rams' Squad Ready

St. Frederick
Set to Battle for Loop Title

They've got a football machine at St. Frederick that's itching to get under way.

The word is that this is 'The Year' for the Rams of St. Frederick.

Coach Wilfred 'Bud' Duff has a strong first eleven, and barring injuries while at the same time picking up a little luck, he could put the Rams on top of the Macomb Catholic League heap.

Duff has seasoned performers at every position. He lacks depth, but if the regulars stay healthy, he won't need much depth.

Guiding the Rams will be John Guilean, a 5-10, 175-pounder who's in his third year at quarterback.

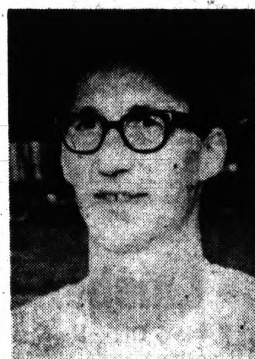

IN BACKFIELD

Operating with Guilean will be halfback Joe Murphy, a co-captain, and fullback Mike Carey (5-10, 150). Bidding for the other running spot are Mike Hakka (5-10, 175) and Greg Almas (5-9, 135), a sophomore.

Anchoring the line is a lightweight — John LaLonde, the other co-captain. The 5-7, 135-pound LaLonde holds down the center spot, and his play at that position last season earned him All-County Class C honors.

St. Michaels Lacks Depth

It looks a lot like last year for coach Jim Neibauer and the Shamrocks of St. Michael.

The Mikemen lost only one game last year in what was one of the finest seasons in recent years but could only claim second place in the Macomb Catholic League race.

Neibauer has much the same team on hand this year, but again, he faces tough opposition in Waterford Our Lady and St. Frederick.

The Shamrocks have some of the finest performers in the league, but it's questionable whether the team has the depth needed for a shot at the title.

The backfield is pretty well set with holdovers, but Neibauer will have to turn to newcomers to fill a few holes along the line. Obviously, he can't afford injuries.

The big man in the Shamrocks' lineup is quarterback Greg Glynn, a good play-caller and runner. It's Glynn's fourth year at quarterback.

In Macomb League

WOLL Title Favorite

It looks like another banner year for coach Mike Boyd and the Lakers of Waterford Our Lady of Lakes.

It won't be easy, but the Lakers, with 10 lettermen returning, should go all the way again in the Macomb Catholic League.

WOLL rolled up a 7-4 record last year in Boyd's first year at the helm.

The Lakers have four players on hand who've been regulars for three years.

Heading the list is quarterback Tom Sirbaugh, a 6-3, 190-pound senior, whose poise represents a big asset for the defending champions.

OTHER VETS

The other three-year men are guards Jerry Methner (6-10, 180) and John Seurnyck (5-10, 170) and Rick St. Louis, a 6-3, 210-pound defensive tackle.

Boyd's reserves are light but quick, a trademark of the 1965 squad.

George Lee, a 5-10, 165-pounder, is expected to get a call at tackle, while Brian Haskins, a 5-10, 160-pound junior, is slated for duty at end.

Boyd has a couple of promising halfbacks in Vic Tersigni (5-8, 150) and Mike Webster (5-7, 150), a freshman.

WOLL's strongest competition is expected to come from St. Frederick and St. Michael.

STRONGER TEAM

Richmond St. Augustine is stronger but still without the depth of the top three. Marine City Holy Cross could be the surprise in the league.

Detroit St. Rose is rebuilding and it's doubtful if the team can handle the top three.

The consensus:

1. Waterford Our Lady
2. St. Frederick
3. St. Michael
4. St. Augustine
5. Marine City Holy Cross
6. New Baltimore St. Mary
7. St. Rose

OLSM Eleven Starting New Gridiron Era

Eaglets Launching Season With Junior Quarterback at Helm

They're starting a new era at Orchard Lake St. Mary.

It's an era without Conrad Krogulecki, the slick ball-handler who quarterbacked the Eaglets the past four years.

He's gone now. Not really gone. He was graduated last spring and has returned to attend St. Mary College and give coach Fr. John Rakoczy a hand with the Eaglet grid-ers.

The heir to Krogulecki's job is junior Dan Kowalski, a 5-9, 155-pounder, who was a back-up man for Krogulecki last year.

Kowalski is a capable quarter-back and Fr. Rakoczy has a strong first team, but it's doubtful if the Eaglets can take the Northwest Catholic League title away from Ferndale St. James.

OTHER BACKS

Joining Kowalski in the back-field will be Dan Kubasiak (5-10, 160), Mike Cymans (6-2, 190) and Tim Megge (5-11, 145). Cymans and Megge are sophomores.

The Eaglets have a good pair of ends in Stan Szepietowski (5-11, 185) and Greg Fior (6-0, 165) and an All-League candidate in center John Wojtya (6-1, 175).

Tim Kowalski, Dan's brother, is a 6-0, 183-pounder and he's expected to get a call at guard. Another candidate for a line post is tackle Andrew Vogt, a 6-8, 170-pound junior.

Fr. Rakoczy admits he is concerned about he lack of depth. "We feel we can cause some trouble if we can keep injuries at a minimum," is the way he sums it up.

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows and St. James will both toss strong teams on the field and the title picture could find those two along with OLSM leading the way.

QB RETURNS

FOLS has 14 lettermen back, including quarterback Jim McGarth and runners Clift LaFond and Dave Hickey. Coach Bud Webster also has tackles Frank Walsh (5-11, 220) and Tom Horner back for another year.

St. James rolled through a perfect (7-0) season last year, finishing a game ahead of OLSM in the league race.

Coach John Shada has the makings of another good squad if he can find a quarterback to make things click.

Shada has excellent backfield talent in Len Chartier, Bob Slivatz and Bob Canfield. The quarterback post apparently will go to junior Dave Burt, who saw some action at that post last year.

KEY SPOT — Junior Dan Kowalski finds himself in a key position — at quarterback — as he and his Orchard Lake St. Mary teammates tune for the '66 season. Kowalski is replacing Conrad Krogulecki, an All-League performer who graduated last year.

Lions Ready to Move Up in Loop Play

New Coach Keezer Takes Over; Pair of Quarterbacks

They were toothless Lions last year, but new coach Robert Keezer is hoping he'll be able to make the team growl a little louder this year at South Lyon.

Keezer takes over a squad that finished with a 1-8 mark and in the basement of the Southeastern Conference.

There are only 10 lettermen on hand but there is strength in the backfield and promising linemen among the newcomers.

At the key position — the quarterback spot — Keezer has a pair of veterans in Chuck Bavol and Bill Hehnbostel.

Also working in the backfield will be fullback Jim Richardson and halfbacks Mike Hardesty and Don Schwarc.

CAPTAINS

Bavol and Richardson, cocaptains, saw a lot of action last year and Keezer is counting on them to knit the team together.

Dehnbostel, a senior, may wind up at a halfback spot since Bavol is an almost certain starter at quarterback. Keezer is hoping Dehnbostel could move in at halfback and give the team a passing threat at that position.

Lettermen returning to man line positions are George Bennett at end, John Riordan and Marty Lakvold at tackle, Ron Kluck at guard and Jon Czarnicki at center. Czarnicki is a junior. The other four are seniors.

Almont Set for Top Spot

Dryden, the smallest school in the Southern Thumb Conference, has had two years of grid-iron glory.

Now its arch-rival and chief football tormentor — Almont — appears ready to shove the Cardinals out of the throne room. But a couple of non-football injuries may hamper the Raiders.

Dryden has lost 31 players from its small squad over the last two years, including Class D All-State end Dennis Hilliker. And a farm injury has set the Cardinals back another notch.

John Malinich, expected to be the starting quarterback, is expected to miss the first three games because of an injury suffered when a tractor ran over his foot.

Dale Laidlow returns at guard and Jim Sterner (220) and Jim Cline (220), a pair of tackles, add heft to the line.

Tackles Lonnie Herr (180) and Wayne Tessmer (210) still are recuperating from off-season injuries and this could hurt Almont's bid.

"Barring any other injuries, we have great potential with experienced players at every position," said coach Bill Briggs. "Much of our success will depend on complete recoveries by Herr and Tessmer, both all-league selections."

GOOD PASSER

John Schulte, a double letter winner, will hold down one of the halfback slots. He can pass very well in addition to his running ability.

Al Currey will be the quarterback. Tom Bassier and Dick Bowman are experienced ends.

Some of the better looking newcomers bidding for starting berths are fullbacks Chuck Orr and George Pflaunt, halfback Frank Bachelzky, quarterback John Bachelzky and guard Jim Wade.

Although losing 15 of 23 lettermen to graduation, Anchor Bay always is considered a title threat because as a Class B school it is the largest in the league.

A pair of 200-pound tackles, Mike Johnson and Lou Sink, and halfback Bryan Mousseau are expected to lead the Tars.

New Haven and Armada are considered darkhorses. Fourteen of 18 lettermen return at New Haven, including tackle Tom Vennard and back Greg Davis.

Armada has a strong backfield led by ball carriers Karl Reiter and James Lyons and quarterback Lee Thompson.

Capac no longer has a Kobayashi on the roster, but the Chiefs are hoping to better their fourth place standing. Halfbacks Bill Schultz and Bill Evans, tackle John Schaefer, guard Ed Conrad and center Terry Markwart return.

Memphis is expected to be another darkhorse, but Brown City still looks too weak to challenge.

The Forecast:
1. Almont
2. Anchor Bay
3. New Haven
4. Capac
5. Memphis
6. Armada
7. Dryden
8. Brown City

LEADS CARDINALS — Guard Dale Laidlow has been named captain of the Dryden Cardinals. Dryden, hard hit by graduation, is the defending Southern Thumb football champion.

OFFER PROTECTION—Fullbacks Dick Trickey (left) and Jim Tripp (56) are big enough to provide good protection for Seaholm quarterback Sparky Renault in passing situations this fall. All are veterans of coach Carl Lemle's system. They'll receive their first test Friday night against crosstown rival Birmingham Groves.

Kimball's Hold on Loop Crown Shaky

The Knights of Royal Oak Kimball may have trouble hanging onto their Southeastern Michigan Association championship.

Most of the power on the '65 squad that rolled through the season (9-0) and ranked fourth among the state Class A teams is gone.

There's a lot of talent left but indications are that it won't be another perfect year.

Coach Paul Temerian, in his second year with the Knights, goes no further than to say: "We plan to show up at all our games."

Temerian's kidding. He still has quality ball players. Whether enough to win the SEMA crown again, however, is doubtful. But the team will make some noise.

STARS GONE

Gone from the squad are All-Stater John Gabler, guard-line-backer Jim Gallery, one of the best in Oakland County in '65; center Ken McCarter; and quarterback Eric Sorenson.

Gabler did everything for the Knights. He was the top rusher, a good receiver and he paced the team in scoring with 12 touchdowns.

Temerian doesn't have another Gabler but he does have a few backs who can move with the ball.

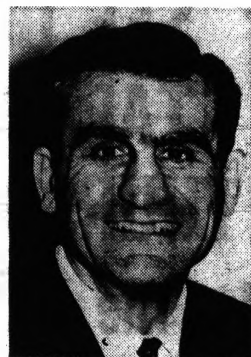

Heading the list is Ken Dockett, a 6-0, 178-pound senior, along with Larry Lancaster (5-11, 170) and Mike Yankee (5-11, 170).

On the line Temerian has talent as good as any in the SEMA.

HEAD TEAM

Ken Scislowicz, a 6-1, 218-pounder, holds down a guard position and will captain the team along with tackle Larry Zimmerman, a 5-11, 220-pounder. Both are seniors.

The consensus:
1. Ferndale
2. Birmingham Seaholm
3. Royal Oak Kimball
4. Berkley
5. Southfield
6. Hazel Park

Seaholm Ready to Unveil Team

Coach Carl Lemle and Seaholm's Maples spent last season rebuilding while posting a 3-5-1 record.

Now, Lemle is about to find out what he built.

First impression is that Lemle put this one together to last, to withstand a lot of pressure.

It has no rough edges. Rather, it's finely shaped for speed.

And it may be built just good enough to carry the Southeastern Michigan Association football trophy from Royal Oak Kimball to Seaholm.

THIRD IN '65

Lemle built this '66 edition of the Maples with 13 lettermen from the '65 team that wound up third in the SEMA with a 2-2-1 record.

Most of the players who're back saw a lot of action last season and they're eager to get on the winning side of the ledger.

The Maples have a good first team and then the talent begins to taper off so they'll have to avoid injuries if this is to be a title year.

In the backfield the Maples have one of the best runners in the league in Chris Charlton, a 5-10, 170-pound halfback, who has speed and quickness.

Hanging onto the quarterback spot is Sparky Renault, a 5-10, 175-pounder.

OTHER BACKS

Among the candidates for the other running back slots are juniors Gar Thomas (180), Lynn Fill (175) and Scott Clarkson (155).

At the foundation of this grid structure are tackles Chuck Loike (6-2, 206) and Biff Staples (6-3, 206).

John Hilty, a 6-0, 220-pounder, gets the call at one of the guard posts. The other is still uncertain.

Expected to open at the end positions are Al Waters (168) and Bill Holmes (185).

If Lemle can keep this unit intact, along with finding a few replacements to spell the veterans, Seaholm followers will like what the coach built.

Berkley, Southfield Eying Rough Road

Southfield and Berkley are looking up but what they see is a rough road ahead in the Southeastern Michigan Association.

Southfield, with a 1-4-0 record, wound up fifth in the SEMA last season and Berkley, 0-4-1, finished in the basement.

Both would like to climb a little higher in the standings, but to do so, they'll have to move ahead of teams like Ferndale, Royal Oak Kimball, Birmingham Seaholm and Hazel Park.

It's not impossible, but it'll take a lot of doing since all of the teams in the league are strong this year.

As usual, Ferndale is cast in the role of the favorite.

TALENT APLENTY

The Eagles have a lot of talent returning from last year's runner-up club. Among the returnees are the backfield quartet of Jim Luxton, Monte Heclo, Bill McFarland and Mike Kay. Those four are expected to key the Ferndale attack.

Southfield has 10 lettermen returning and the Blue Jays are priming for their opener against Ferndale.

With the game against Ferndale, the team should find out quickly what '66 will have to offer.

Among the letterwinners are six backs headed by Ted Simmons, a speedy All-County performer and the Blue Jays' top prospect for All-State honors.

Tim Fawcett is expected to handle the quarterbacking chores for the Blue Jays, and joining him in the backfield, along with Simmons, will be Jim Watts and Glenn Fink.

INEXPERIENCED

Berkley has 12 lettermen back, but the Bears will go into the '66 campaign with an inexperienced line.

Coach Hugh F. Wilson will have veteran Pete Schmaus at quarterback and another veteran, Larry Israel, at halfback.

Among the letterwinners slated for line duty are tackle Mason Haynes (6-2, 200), guard Ron Smith (6-0, 180), center Brad Moore (6-1, 190) and end Jack Mouilso (6-1, 190).

The Bears may have trouble in their first few games due to inexperience, but with a few games under their belts, they could give some of the other squads something to think about in the second half of the campaign.

Poem for Coaches

Our coaches could well be more thankful

There's a fairly good deal
They're blistered & rapped, & quite often scrapped,
But what if the hangings were real?

Pasadena — Southern California has played in the famous Rose Bowl 11 times—more than any other team—and has also won the most football victories there, nine in number.

Midgets in Annual Drive Champion Trying Speed

Practice began this week at various Pontiac elementary schools for the Midget Football program sponsored by the city Parks and Recreation Department.

All boys, age 10-12 and in the fifth or sixth grade, are eligible by reporting to the coach at their respective school.

They will need a permission slip signed by their parents, a helmet and shoulder pads approved by the coach, and tennis shoes. None can reach his 13th birthday before Oct. 16th.

Practice will be once-a-week after school and Saturday mornings. Beginning Sept. 24, the Saturday games will be at Jaycee Park.

Football Poem

They ground his chin
Into the grass
Stepped on his back
And caught a pass.

The annual All Star Nite will be Wednesday Oct. 19 at Wisner Stadium.

PASSING TALK—End John Mann (left) and quarterback Paul Most discuss Dondero's passing attack during a recent practice. The Oaks are contenders for the Border Cities Conference championship.

Championship Fever Sweeps RO Dondero

A contagious ailment known as championship fever is spreading at Royal Oak Dondero.

The Oaks, boasting 20 lettermen in the ranks, are taking aim on the Border Cities title and most experts close to the league feel they have an even chance of reaching the top.

From tackle to tackle, the line is big and manned by experienced players. Dondero also has two of the top top backs in the league.

"If our quarterbacking and end play develops," said coach Ivy Loftin, "we should be in the race."

Halfbacks Al Sheplar and Rod Rider, a pair of 5-11 speedsters who tip the scales at 175 each, are scoring threats everytime they handle the ball.

Opening the holes up front will be tackles Bill Orosz (205) and John Rehbine (190), guards Rob Zins (180) and Gordon Dodd (180) and center Mike Kimber (250).

John Mann is slated to start at one end. Dan Sutton probably will be the starting fullback.

KEY POST

The important quarterback post is being placed in the hands of Paul Most who played enough last season behind departed Bob DeJulius to earn a letter.

Loftin opened practice with 55 candidates, the largest turnout in six years.

Wyandotte, the favorite, will be the league opener on Sept. 30. Grosse Pointe and Monroe are expected to be in the thick of the fight.

WMU to Honor 'Day for Gary'

Western Michigan University will sponsor a "Mike Gary Day" in conjunction with a home football game, Saturday October 8 with Bowling Green the opponent.

The day will honor Gary who has been at WMU since 1928; he is presently athletic director. Gary was head football coach of the Broncos from 1929-1941 at which time he left for naval duty as a lieutenant commander.

Gary coached the 1941 WMU team to an unbeaten season, WMU's last unbeaten season.

Rocky Road Awaits Holly in '66 W-O Gridiron Race

There are few horses at Holly this year so the Broncoes may have a tough time galloping through their Wayne - Oakland League schedule.

ELMER ROSE

Holly has a new coach — Elmer Rose — and he has only 11 lettermen on hand from the 1965 team that wound up 3-3-1.

There's a lot of talent in those 11 returnees, but unless Rose finds some assistance among the reserves, it could be a long year for the Broncoes.

On the brighter side, Rose has fullback Mike Carnes, a 5-10, 190-pounder, on hand. The hard-running Carnes has earned a pair of letters with the varsity.

Another position he won't have to worry about is at quarterback where senior Tom Kundinger, a 5-11, 153-pounder, will operate.

OTHER LETTERMEN

Among the other lettermen back are tackles Lynn Bravender (6-0, 170) and Roger Gillespie (6-1, 205), along with halfbacks Mike Belby (5-9, 165) and Jeff Hayes (5-9, 170).

Among the newcomers is Greg Averyhardt, a 6-2, 180-pound end who makes a good target for Kundinger's passes.

Success will depend on depth, so Rose'll have to come up with some top-notch reserves if he and the Broncoes hope to stay in the W-O race.

HOLLY STALWARTS—Holly's opponents will have to contend with this pair of tackles this season. They are Lynn Bravender (left) and Roger Gillespie. Both are seniors.

SPARKPLUG—Clarkston quarterback Dan Fife is rated one of the best in the Wayne-Oakland League.

Season Ends Quickly for Walled Lake Soph

It was a short season for young John Bubnes, a promising member of the Walled Lake varsity.

Bubnes, a sophomore, was slated to handle a linebacker post. But in practice last week, he suffered a broken leg and will sit out the season.

Air Game Seen for Clarkston 11

The fans who like to see the ball in the air will enjoy Clarkston's 1966 football team.

The team will move on the ground, to be sure, but coach Ralph Kenyon has a young man who can throw the ball and a few who can catch it.

Stands to reason that he'll probably let them do it.

Clarkston went through a dismal season last year, tumbling to a 4-5 record over-all and 3-4 in the Wayne-Oakland League.

Kenyon and the Wolves are eyeing a little higher rung on the league ladder this season and on hand to try and get the job done are 15 lettermen.

TOP QB

The team will have one of the finest quarterbacks in the state in Dan Fife, a 6-2, 180-pound senior, who's been Mr. Sport at Clarkston for the past three years.

Fife is a good ball handler and a sharp passer and it's a safe bet that Kenyon won't try to hide Fife's aerial prowess.

A couple of fellows most likely to be Fife's main targets are ends Tom Allen (5-10, 165) and Richard Bass (6-1, 165). Both are seniors.

Also scheduled to work with Fife in the backfield are fullback Cecil Caverly (5-9, 170) and halfback Mark Erickson (5-10, 165).

The backfield is definitely a plus for the Wolves and it'll probably be the best in the league.

SOME PROBLEMS

The team may have problems, however, in the line.

Kenyon has only one letterman back with any great deal of line experience. He's guard George King, a 5-8, 190-pound junior.

From there, Kenyon will turn to reserves and trust that they'll do the job.

Among the newcomers are tackles Ray Hipsheer (5-11, 195) and Tom Bullard (6-2, 180) and guards Brian Gallipo (5-9, 160) and Gary Stelmach (5-7, 165). All are juniors.

The questionmark will be the line. If Kenyon's newcomers ripen quick enough, the team could go all the way. There's no problem in the backfield.

Clarkston System Has Booster Club

The newly formed Clarkston Athletic Boosters Club has initiated a season ticket campaign for all the Wolves' home varsity and junior varsity football games.

The ticket costs $5 and permits entry to nine home games. Tickets may be bought at the high school office, Ronk's Barber Shop in Clarkston or from club members.

The organization also is looking for members. Dues are $2 per year. Anyone interested in supporting the activities program of the Clarkston Community Schools' system is eligible to join.

Lakers Thin; Hills Seeking Second Straight Title

Coach Paddy Working With New Players

At this stage of the football proceedings, it'd be difficult to get West Bloomfield coach Art Paddy to admit that he'd win at least one game this season.

Paddy's teams have seldom looked like winners in tuning up for the actual campaign, but rival Wayne-Oakland League coaches know what to expect when the whistle blows.

The team, win, lose or draw, leaves an impression.

The lack of optimism by Paddy isn't new. Art makes no predictions about how well the Lakers will fare, and he's quick to point out the weak spots in his squad.

Rival teams know the Lakers have been tough under Paddy and the record supports the claim. Starting his 10th year at West Bloomfield, Paddy's teams have compiled a won-lost-tied record of 50-19-3.

SHARE TITLE

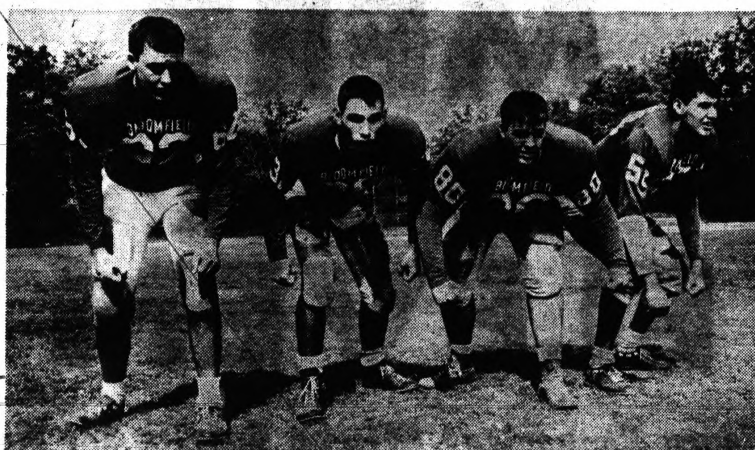

The last time the Lakers were in the championship picture was 1962 when they shared the title with Bloomfield Hills.

The 1966 Lakers don't look like a title team, nor does the squad resemble a last place outfit.

Art has only four lettermen returning from last year's squad that posted a 3-5 record, 3-4 in league play.

Returning are tackles Jim Simpson, a 239-pounder, and Gary Hankin, 5-9 and 193 pounds; Roger Hollier, a 142-pound guard; and halfback Pat Windy, a speedy 170-pounder.

A big setback for the Lakers came when junior Tim Moller, a 6-2, 190-pound end suffered a broken leg in a motorcycle accident. Moller, who scored four touchdowns last fall, will miss the football season, although he may return in time for the basketball campaign.

THE BIG FOUR — Opposing runners will find the going tough when they run into this menacing defensive line of Bloomfield Hills

In League Race

Coaches Like Barons' 11

It's unanimous in the Wayne-Oakland League: Bloomfield Hills will win its second title in a row.

The Hills squad is a veteran unit, one without any real problems.

The same is not true of the remainder of the league.

Clarkston is rated second on the strength of a good quarterback and a pair of receivers. Any injury here could send the Wolves plummeting.

Milford earned the coaches' nod for the third spot, but the Redskins are young and may have trouble staying in the top five.

After Milford come Northville and Holly. Northville could be the sleeper of the league.

Veteran Team Set to Battle in W-O Race

You get the impression in watching the team practice and in talking to the coach that Bloomfield Hills is going to win the Wayne-Oakland League football championship.

Coach Bill Tunnicliff, former University of Michigan fullback, doesn't come right out and say the team will take all the marbles. But he doesn't say it won't, either.

Bill's in his third year at Hills. He took his lumps the first year with a 3-5 record, but last year he put together a team that rolled up a 7-1 record and captured the league title.

"You can say we're cautiously optimistic," said Bill, and he smiled a little.

The optimism is understandable and so is the smile. Most of that '65 team is back.

SCORERS BACK

In eight games, the Barons rolled up 212 points—the opposition picked up 65—and 175 of those points were scored by fellows who are back for more.

All of the backfield is on hand and most of the line is still around. Bill will have to come up with some ends and he has plenty of talent around so that cannot be considered a problem.

The big guns in the Barons' attack are fullback Randy DeArment, a 185-pounder, and 170-pound halfback Dick Kraatz. Both are seniors.

Kraatz turned out to be a long distance threat last year.

The speedy Kraatz scored 13 touchdowns and the average distance of each was 39 yards. He picked up an extra point along the way and wound up with 79 points to lead the team.

When the opposition stacked its defense to stop Kraatz, DeArment would give them something else to think about. He tallied eight TDs to rank second to Kraatz.

Grid Outlook Brightens for Cranbrook's Cranes

The Cranes of Cranbrook would like to be in on the other side of the ledger for a change—the winning side.

Three years ago the record was 1-7. Two years back it was 2-6. Last year it was 3-5. They're getting closer.

This could be the year they even things up or move over to the win column.

Coach Delvin Walden has only eight lettermen returning from the '65 squad but there's a lot of quality in those eight and he has some promising newcomers to take up the slack.

Most of the line and three members of the backfield are on hand.

QB RETURNS

Leading the way is quarterback Ted Lowrie, a 5-8, 150-pounder, who's earned two letters at that position.

Joining Lowrie in the backfield will be Ed Randle (6-0, 185) and Craig Tallberg (6-0, 185) along with newcomer Mark Steiner (6-0, 180).

Along the line Walden has tackles Pete Strylar (6-0, 185) and John Brandt (5-11, 180), ends Hugh Mahler (5-11, 170) and John Pavloff (6-4, 215) and guard Chuck McCuen (5-8, 145).

Ferndale Rates Favorites Role in SEMA Race

It's the same old race in the Southeastern Michigan Association.

Royal Oak Kimball's Knights are defending champions. Birmingham Seaholm looks like a contender. And Ferndale's Eagles are favored to capture the title.

Being favored is nothing new for Ferndale.

The squad dominated activities in the old Eastern Michigan League, and in the two seasons the SEMA has been in operation, the Eagles shared the grid title with Berkley the first year and wound up second to Kimball last year.

Behind Ferndale come Seaholm and Kimball in the second and third spots.

A TOSS UP

Behind the third position, it's a tossup.

Berkley has the nucleus of a good ball club back so it's conceivable that the Bears could rank better than fourth.

Lancers Need Good Health

Emmanuel Christian
Lacking Depth

Good health is still a problem for the Lancers of Emmanuel Christian.

The coaches can put a good first unit on the field but then they run out of players, leaving no one around to spell the regulars or fill the gaps in case of injuries.

Coach Roger Sykes combat-ed the thin-team problem a little last year by playing only five games.

By playing only five, Sykes reasoned, it could permit time for old wounds to heal, thus giving the team a better chance on the field.

Sykes is continuing along the same line of thought this season by scheduling only six games. He and the Lancers closed with a 1-4 mark last year.

TWO VETERANS

A couple of veterans Sykes will build a team around are juniors Len Loveless, a half-back, and Chuck Caldwell, a 6-7, 155-pound quarterback.

Among the newcomers are tackle Bill DeVaney and full-back Bud Savage.

Things look better for the Lancers, if they stay healthy.

Takes Gridiron Post

Northville Coach Making First Big Step

That first step is a big one and new coach Alex Klukach is hoping he makes the right one at Northville.

The 32-year-old Klukach, a small college All-America selection during his senior year at Eastern Michigan University, has inherited a team that finished third in the Wayne-Oakland League last year with a 4-2-1 record.

Returning from that squad

Clarenceville Hoping to End Doormat Label

Things look better, but then they always do after you've been to the bottom.

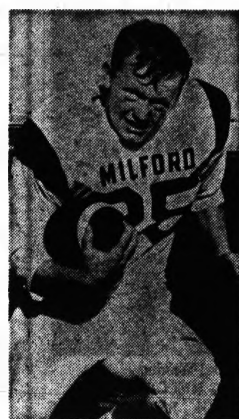

Clarenceville's Trojans, a perennial doormat in the Wayne-Oakland League, may not make it to the top this season but the team has enough power to cause a few problems for the favorites.

The Trojans wound up seventh in the league race last year and finished with a 2-6 record. There are only eight returnees from that team.

The Trojan strength lies in the line where two veterans return and where coach Ralph Temby has four promising candidates.

The two vets are Tom Schlack, 5-10, 180 pounds, and John McClory, also 5-10 and 180 pounds. Among the newcomer linemen are Dennis Russo and Steve Clark, both 180, Ron Ray, 190, and Russ Hoffman, 160.

If the backs come through, the team could easily improve on its '65 standing.

ON THE WAY — Milford's Redskins are counting on Chris Mortimore to do much of the ball carrying chores this season. Mortimore is a 5-8, 155-pound fullback.

Milford Turning to Speed Game

The power is gone, so Milford's Redskins will turn to finesse on the gridiron this fall.

For the past couple years, the 'Skins runners found a lot of room to move behind tackles Chuck Andrews (220), John Griffin (260) and Keith Grantham (260).

And the team fared well in those two years, winning 12 and losing 7.

But the big boys are gone now — via graduation — so coach Jerry Ganzel is trying to fill those spots with smaller players.

The speed will still be there, but Ganzel may have to turn to untested sophomores to get the weight he'll need to stay in the Wayne-Oakland race.

FINISHED SECOND

There are 10 lettermen back from the '65 squad that finished with a 5-2 league mark and knocked off league champion Bloomfield Hills, 20-19. It was Hills only loss of the campaign.

Despite the losses, the 'Skins still have a team that must be reckoned with.

A couple of bright spots for Ganzel are Bruce Larson, a 6-0, 205-pound center, and guard Herb Mick, a 5-10, 180-pounder. Larson has earned two letters at his post.

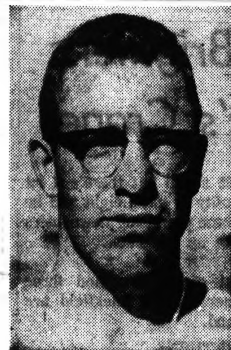

Two other veterans who give balance to the backfield are junior Bob McFarland (145) and Ranky Wilkins (160).

A junior — Skip Harris, 5-10 and 155 pounds — and a sophomore — Bob Clinard, 5-10 and 150 — are battling for the quarterback spot.

OTHER NEWCOMERS

Among the other newcomers are end Mark Giegler, a 6-1, 160-pound sophomore, and Mike Perkins, a 165-pound junior defensive end.

With the young talent, Ganzel and the Skins may find the going rough at the start, but with a few games under their belts, the team may stage a few late-season uprisings.

are 15 lettermen and indications are that Klukach and the Mustangs will do okay this campaign.

The Mustangs need a little seasoning and their schedule is tailor-made for such a start. According to pre-season estimates, the Mustangs will be meeting the league's second division clubs the first three weeks — Holly, Brighton and West Bloomfield — before running into the powerhouses of Bloomfield Hills, Clarkston and Milford.

So if Klukach and the Mustangs survive the first three games, the team should have the experience it needs to go all the way.

NO TITLE TALK

Klukach isn't talking title. He just suggests that early success would make the team a lot stronger.

Brighton Eleven May Surprise W-O

The surprise in the Wayne-Oakland. That's the way rival coaches see Brighton.

The Bulldogs, last in the loop with a 1-6 mark last year, have 15 lettermen returning, making the prospects of a better season brighter.

Among the returnees are tackle Terry Feret, a 6-3, 210-pounder, and junior halfback Kevin Rosswarm, a 170-pound, 6-1 speedster.

The over-all line is light and inexperienced but a couple of games under their belts and the Bulldogs could prove troublesome.

One of the key spots to be filled is at fullback, a post held by Larry Flowers last season. Flowers, a 6-0, 185-pounder was graduated.

Groves Hopeful; Raiders Have Gaps

Falcons Watch Ailing Passer

Mike Rafferty Key to Attack Plans

Birmingham Groves has an all-league tackle to build its line upon but the Falcons are molding their offense around a quarterback who hasn't had the season quite a few experts are confident he can, nor has the senior signal caller practiced a week this season.

Talented Mike Rafferty, a 6-4 All-Northwest Suburban Activities Association basketball and baseball choice, began his 1966 football practice yesterday after undergoing treatment for a back condition.

It was discovered this summer that the slender passer has one leg shorter than the other and this was creating back spasms. A built-up shoe now has been provided in an effort to correct the muscle strain.

If he is sound, Groves could develop into NWSAA contender should Rafferty reach the potential many observers have seen in him.

Coach Jim Kinnison doesn't have the depth he would like but there are 12 other letterwinners listed on the Groves' roster. These include seven backfield candidates led by versatile 6-2, 185-pound Bob Hamilton.

VERSATILE

He is punter, halfback and back-up quarterback in the Falcons' plans. Fullback Steve Deahler doubles as a rugged linebacker. The runners also list veterans Tel Felker, Tom Hampson, Bob Wolfe and Rob Cornille. Wolfe is a 6-0, 205-pounder.

The Falcons' returning all-league performer is tackle Gary Wallace, 205-pound, 6-4 senior. Aiding him are returning guards Gordon Geiger, Ralph Burton, tackle Bob Muma (another 205-pounder) and lanky end Jon Kleist.

BACK UP LINE—Linebackers Bob Wolfe and Gordon Geiger should be difficult for opposing blockers if the Birmingham Groves' pair maintain their aggressiveness during the season. The Falcons plan to rebound from last season's rough gridiron lessons.

NSL Choices in Favor of N. Farmington

It'll be North Farmington or Detroit Thurston in the Northwest Suburban League say the league coaches.

Take your pick. Both are strong with veterans manning most positions.

The Raiders of North Farmington took the title last year with a 5-0 mark, while Thurston wound up down the list in fourth at 2-3.

Hoping for a rebound is Livonia Franklin which has only six letterwinners on hand. The Franklin crew wound up second, in '65 at 4-1.

Birmingham Groves could sneak into the top three if the reserves come through.

Wayne John Glenn will be a darkhorse in the race along with Oak Park.

The coaches' consensus:

1. Detroit Thurston
2. North Farmington
3. Livonia Franklin
4. Birmingham Groves
5. Wayne Glenn
6. Oak Park

N. Farmington Must Rebuild

4 Key Losses Hurt Suburban Champion

Four very big names are missing from this year's North Farmington football roster — names that won all-league and all-county recognition as the raiders zoomed to the North-west Suburban Activities Association crown and an unbeaten season.

Gone are quarterback Bill Oldershaw, his favorite receiver Chuck Viane, workhorse tackle Pete Dolan and hard-running full back Craig Wycinsky.

Oldershaw and Viane both earned all-county honors last season. Dolan was an all-Class A first team tackle while Wycinsky gained a berth in the second team backfield.

But coach Ron Holland has a reputation for producing gridiron winners — averaging seven victories a season for four campaigns at the 13 Mile Road school. The team has only lost once in its last 18 starts.

CONFIDENT

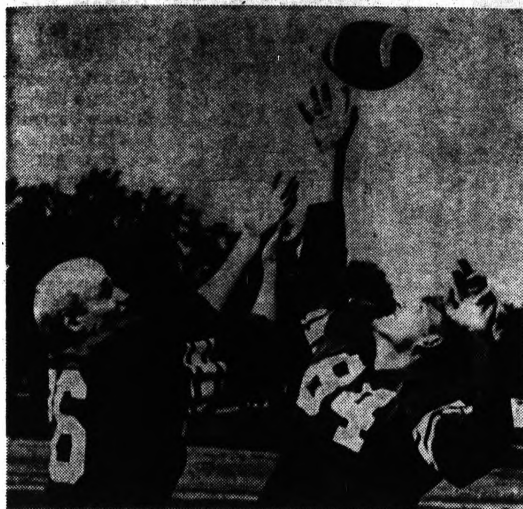

Holland confidently sees the Raiders as battling pre-season favorite Detroit Thurston for the title (last year's meeting ended 17-14). His hopes for another undefeated season could hinge on Friday's trip to Grand Rapids Central for the opening game.

North Farmington's early league schedule could be a factor since the tough opposition likely will come in late October.

Holland has 12 letterminners to build around, though most of them are in the line, and there's isn't a great deal of weight among those. Roger Schamaneck, a fullback, is the top returning back. Jay Durling is a small, (5-7, 160 pounds) senior returner who should add speed to the attack.

AERIAL TARGETS — Ends-Joe McCullough (left) and Ray Thompson are expected to have plenty of passes thrown their way this season in Ortonville Brandon's pro style of offense.

Brandon: One Way to Go

Ortonville Brandon can only go up in the Flint Suburban C League this season.

The Black Hawks have posted only one victory and a tie during the last two seasons. This equals two last place finishes in the league.

The major problem last year was a lack of scoring punch. The defense held the opposition to six points in two games and 14 in another, but Brandon scored only 20 points all season.

That one win was 6-0 over Hartland.

The defensive line looks strong again this year. Ron Waller (210) has been moved from fullback to tackle. He will probably be paired with Don Martin, a 260-pound sophomore, on defense.

Ends Ray Thompson and Dan McCullough return as does guard Dean Harper. Waller, Harper, Thompson, McCullough and junior quarterback Gary McDowell are double letterwinners.

Humidity Can Be 'Lethal' Opponent

United Press International
 The lure of the gridiron and the honor that goes with toiling on the football field has begun to cast its annual spell on America's 750,000 high school and 60,000 college players.
 For some, the 1966 football campaign will mean championships, all-star awards, perhaps national recognition.

Others won't be so lucky. A number will pay for a few minutes of glory with their lives. Most of the deaths will be unnecessary.
 Heat illness and head and-or neck injuries are the No. 1 killers of football players.

Twenty-seven youths suffered fatal injuries or illnesses playing football last year. Two have died already this season.

The first three weeks of the season — when summer's heat and humidity linger and coaches strive for perfection for the first game — are the most crucial.

This is when most of the nation's football deaths occur.

Of the nine heat illness deaths last season, four were on the first day of practice. All nine came during a "lethal" period when the relative humidity was 100 per cent and the temperature above 87.

The victims were large interior linemen whose overexertion led to excessive weight loss.

FOUR MEASURES

Dr. Robert Murphy, team physician at Ohio State University, has listed four preventative measures which can eliminate heat illness deaths:

1. A preseason conditioning program.

"It is essential for the athlete to prepare for August and September practices . . . in a warm or hot environment. No conditioning program carried out in air conditioned surroundings will acclimate men to work in heat," he said.

2. Lightweight uniforms.

Murphy said coaches should allow their players to practice in shorts and T-shirts when the humidity reaches 90 coupled with temperatures above 83.

And "there is no place for stockings and long-sleeved jersey until it is cold," he said.

3. All players should be weighed before and after practice. Weight losses of more than 10 pounds approach the danger level.

4. Most importantly, water and salt should be provided for all players.

... the player does not replace his sweat losses by fluid intake, a state of dehydration results.

His reflexes become slow; he does not think clearly, and may even have a sense of well being when in fact he is near collapse," Murphy said.

OSU Top Threat to MSU

Purdue Also Considered Challenger

From Our Wire Services
Ohio State, runnerup for the Big Ten title last year, Purdue, beaten by only four points in Michigan State's toughest regular season game last year and Illinois are ranked as the pre-season favorites to knock the Spartans from their throne this season.

Only twice in the past 20 years has a school retained the Big Ten title, Ohio State in 1954-55 and Michigan in 1947-48, and Spartan Coach Duffy Daugherty contends his club lost too much from the 1965 team, beaten only in the Rose Bowl, to be a solid choice.

Offensively, though, he starts from strength since Clint Jones at halfback and Gene Washington at end return along with fullback Bob Apisa and halfback Dwight Lee; but he has to find a quarterback. Among his defensive veterans too are end Bubba Smith and Rover George Webster.

POTENTIAL THREATS

Ohio State could be the eventual winner since Coach Woody Hayes found sophomore surprises in quarterback Bill Long, tackle Dave Foley and halfback Leroy Peyton to promise a stronger offense. His deep defensive unit also has showed up well.

Purdue boasts one of the league's most prominent contenders for all-America honors, quarterback Bob Griese, but Coach Jack Mollenkopf feels his value will be lost unless "we can find some bodies to protect him."

Illinois will be smaller and faster at almost every position, and Coach Pete Elliott, though worried about his defense, expected an explosive attack with Cyril Pinder and Ron Beas at halfbacks, and John Wright and Craig Timko at ends.

Michigan, Northwestern and Indiana were classed as potential upsets along the way, but no better than contenders for a first division finish, while Wisconsin, Minnesota and Iowa figured to battle to escape last place.

Northwestern and Coach Alex Agase also have problems in the line, on both offense and defense, but boast excellent ends, particularly Cas Banaszek, and backs with quarterback Dennis Boothe, halfback Woody Campbell and Larry Gates, and fullback Bob McKelvey.

UCLA Punch Line

LOS ANGELES (NEA) — Red Sanders, the former UCLA coach, always came up with the quick line. Once when the Bruins had scored on Stanford, he looked at the Stanford stands and said:

"They were so quiet it was as if a world convention of undertakers had just been informed that somebody had really discovered the secret of eternal life."

AERIAL QUARTET — Northwestern University has a four-way battle going at quarterback, but only one is a letterman, Denny Boothe the front man. He is from Mundelein, Ill. Behind him are Dick Venturi of Pekin, Ill., Bill Melzer of Clintonville, Wis., and Mike Bryniarski of Chicago. The Wildcats are figured to be in the middle of the Big Ten pack this season.

Bump Elliott Studies 'M' Medical Reports

Injuries Still Cast Shadow at Ann Arbor

Wolverines' Success Dependent on Health of Returnees

ANN ARBOR — Coach Chalmers (Bump) Elliott, the son of a doctor, sometimes has to study medical reports more than scouting reports to keep his Michigan Wolverines prowling for football success.

An injury hex which plagued Michigan last season when the Wolverines swooned to a seventh-place finish as defending Big Ten champion, still casts a shadow over a club tabbed for a comeback.

Much depends upon quarterback Dick Vidmer's return to his sophomore form of 1964, before he suffered a broken leg which reduced him to a 1965 substitute for now-graduated Wally Gabler.

It also remains to be seen whether halfback Jim Detwiler, also a sophomore standout in 1964, is fully sound after a severe knee injury which benched him most of his junior year last fall.

COLLAPSE

Injury to Detwiler, linebacker Barry Dehlin and guard Bill Keating early last season contributed heavily to the Wolverine collapse to a 4-6 mark after winning the 1964 Big Ten and Rose Bowl crowns in an overall 9-1 season.

Keating has graduated, but Dehlin is back to test a knee subjected to surgery two years ago before the rugged linebacker was hurt again last season.

As a matter of fact, Elliott's lads seem to win an extra year of eligibility on injury easier than their monogram.

In this boat are Vidmer, now a junior competitively, a senior; Capt. Jack Clancy, a senior ranked as one of the nation's finest ends; and two superb defensive halfbacks, seniors Rick Sygar and John Rowser.

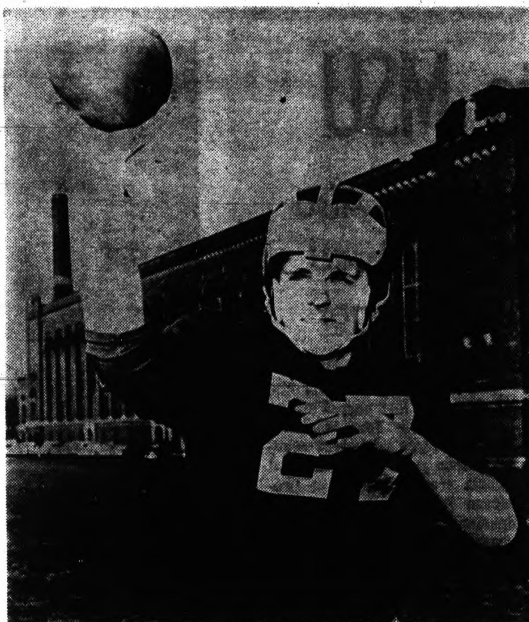

Vidmer spent the summer tossing some 300 passes daily to Clancy, who last year set a Michigan record with 52 catches for 782 yards.

Elliott, whose late father was a coach and a doctor at Bloomington, Ill., is keeping a clinical eye on both Vidmer and Detwiler.

Elliott's basic problem concerns both offensive and defensive tackles following graduation of such standouts as Bill Yearby, Tom Mack and Charlie Kines.

As a result, Michigan will feature a five-man instead of a six-man front defensive line.

FIRST CALL — Quarterbacking assignment at the University of Michigan this season appears to be resting on the shoulders of Richard Vidmer, 6-1 and 185 pounds from Greensburg, Pa.

HIGH HOPES — Western Michigan's head football coach Bill Doolittle talks with three Oakland County gridders who will be counted on to improve Doolittle's fine first season record of 6-2-1. Left to right Dave Kakkuri, 6-3 and 235 pound sophomore tackle from Berkley; Rick Trudeau, 6-0 and 190 pound junior from Walled Lake and Bill Haviland, 200 pound senior fullback who played at Kettering.

Title Hope High at W. Michigan

Western Michigan University football coach Bill Doolittle didn't beat around the bush when asked how he thought the Broncos would do in the Mid-American Conference.

"We are going to win it," answered Doolittle, who is starting his third season as director of the WMU football fortunes.

"Defensively, we hope to be strong," he said, "but we have to replace 17 seniors and have offensive shortcomings."

Reason for Doolittle's optimism is the return of juniors Ron Siefert and Jim Boreland at quarterback. Siefert, from South Bend, Ind., handled most of the signal calling duties last fall when the Broncos posted a 3-2-1 MAC mark and finished third.

But Boreland, from Hazel Park, looked good late in the season and was impressive during spring practice.

Another thing in Western's favor is the fact that most experts feel the MAC will be a wide open race this year. Miami, defending co-champion with Bowling Green, is given a slight edge mainly because of the return of all-league quarterback Bruce Matie.

Bill Haviland, former Waterford Kettering star, is vying for a starting fullback berth at Western. The 5-10, 200-pound senior saw considerable action last year on both offense and defense.

He gained 132 yards in 36 carries, third best on the team.

OTHER HOPEFULS

Another area hopeful at fullback is 200-pound Jeff Hicks from Ferndale. Rick Trudeau of Walled Lake, a junior, is bidding for a halfback spot. A pair of sophomore tackles from Berkley, 235-pound Dave Kakkuri and Terry Fitzpatrick, also 235, are trying for varsity berths.

Here are capsule comments from MAC coaches on the outlook for the upcoming campaign:

Frank Lautnerbur, Toledo — We have a young club with only four seniors among our 22 starters. Biggest loss is All-MAC end Fred Zimmerman.

Bob Gibson, Bowling Green — We will be better than last year but may not do so well because the conference is stronger. Our backfield speed is better but we have to improve our offense.

Leo Strang, Kent State — Our team is relatively young with 26 juniors. We could be the biggest team in the league but I don't know if we have the speed. Defensively, most of the team is intact.

Charles Snyder, Marshall — Our defense is inexperienced and we must find a quarterback.

Bill Hess, Ohio University — Our offense is revamped and we now operate completely from the I-formation.

Professor Gets Kicks Out of Punts

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — When Prof. Elizabeth Mortimer Roberts of the University of Wisconsin goes to a football game, she gets her kicks out of punting.

And so, she speaks with some authority when she says punters would do better to approach the ball at almost a right angle instead of straight-on.

Prof. Roberts' opinion is based on research experiments under her direction in the department of physical education at the university as well as personal observation. Although not an avid fan, she does attend Wisconsin games.

"Mainly I watch the punting," she said.

Her findings on the angled approach by punters came from filmed studies of movement patterns in kicking. The studies were made by some 30 students in advanced kinesiology classes.

ANGLE APPROACH

She didn't say if the films included the performances of the Gogolak brothers, who approach the ball from an angle and kick with their instep as in soccer.

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Duffy Daugherty, the Michigan State football coach, installed a pool table in his home and immediately was besieged with questions.

"It's mainly for my kids," Duffy explained. "I want them to have the same start in life that I did."

MSU Hopes to Crack Post-Rose Bowl Jinx

Duffy Aware of Woes for Past Champs

Rivals Still Expect Spartans to Display Grid Powers

EAST LANSING — If it's possible to be rich and poor simultaneously footballwise, that is the plight of Coach Duffy Daugherty of defending Big Ten champion Michigan State.

"We have an underabundance of excellence," Daugherty joked Monday on the threshold of his 13th Spartan season.

Daugherty could be wary of an unlucky 13th in the wake of graduating 12 starters from his 1965 powerhouse which won all the Big Ten battles but lost the Rose Bowl war.

HIGH RATING

Rival coaches think Michigan State still has enough superb players in halfback Clinton Jones, linebacker George Webster, end Gene Washington, end Bubba Smith and tackle Jerry West to crack a post Rose Bowl jinx of which Daugherty is well aware.

Daugherty thinks Michigan State can prove this hex may be whipped by exerting mind over matter—if he can muster enough matter.

"I talked to the squad this spring and this fall, emphasizing that if winning the Big Ten title isn't incentive enough by itself, something is wrong with going to the Rose Bowl," Daugherty said.

The very fact we had a perfect season ruined by two points in the Rose Bowl (losing to UCLA 14-12) should instill more desire by squad holdovers this year.

"These boys still are rankled and want to atone for that Pasadena embarrassment.

If we fail, it won't be because of complacency. We had a hustle team last year and two of the most spirited backs are our talented co-captains, Jones and Webster."

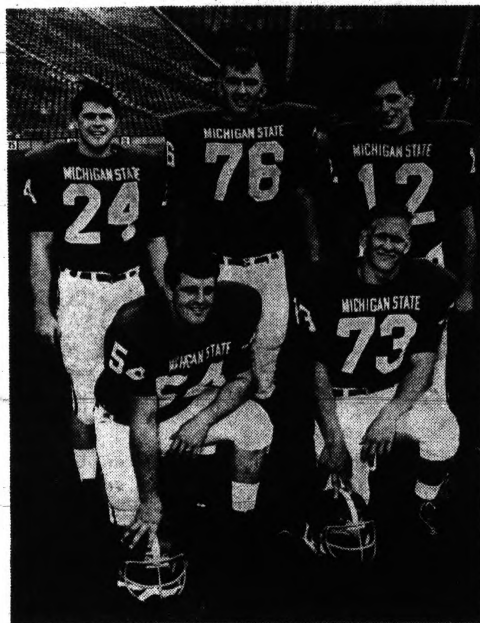

That's the mind bit. As for matter, Daugherty means:

—That he will have the Big Ten's smallest defensive line — averaging 207 excepting the 268-pound Bubba Smith at end.

—That there is less over-all experience and depth than he can remember at Michigan State.

—And that injury to either Jones or Webster would make Michigan State an underdog in any Big Ten game. Presumably, Duffy specifically has in mind consecutive jousts with Illinois, Michigan, Ohio State and Purdue, all tabbed distinct title threats.

Jones Is First Spartan to Win Scoring Crown

The 68 points scored by Clinton Jones of Michigan State during the 1965 Big Ten football season in seven games was the first time a Michigan State player has ever won the conference scoring championship.

His 11 touchdowns and two extra points for 68 points is the second highest total in Big Ten scoring for a season.

The scoring record is 78 points in six games held by Tony Butkovich with Purdue in 1943.

Bob Timberlake of Michigan had 67 last year and Howard Cassady of Ohio State had 66 points during the 1955 Big Ten season in six games.

Central Michigan Has County Grid Hopefuls

Central Michigan's football fortunes during coach Bill Kellys final campaign could depend significantly on the efforts of Oakland County prep graduates.

Kelly begins his 16th and his final season with 34 lettermen returning from last season's 5-5 team that finished with four straight victories.

A key man could be Bob Miles, slender sophomore quarterback hopeful from Royal Oak Kimball, who could move into the No. 1 signal caller's slot.

A former Hazel Park passer, southpaw Bob Husband may earn a starting berth on defense. Ex-North Farmington ace Jim Acitelli was a sophomore running surprise last year, being an All-Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference first team choice.

Another letterman halfback, Tom Armour of Hazel Park, and sophomore Larry Michalek, Kimball, add depth to the backfield.

Two Hazel Park linemen, Ray Richie and Ernie Thacker, are hoping to gain experience as sophomores. Andy Stubl, formerly of Kimball, is bidding for an end slot as a second-year man.

Junior Tom Dobberstein, a 6-5 pass catcher, lettered last season after a standout career at Warren Fitzgerald in the Oakland A League.

The Chippewas will play Youngstown 1:30 p.m. Saturday on their own gridiron at Mount Pleasant after last week's opener against Wisconsin State at Saginaw.

Since moving to CMU after a highly successful tenure at Saginaw Arthur Hill, Kelly has compiled an 86-53-2 record. The 1956 team posted a 9-0 mark and won the IIAA crown.

Eastern Illinois is expected to challenge CMU for the title this fall. Other league members are Western Illinois and Illinois State.

Door Is Open for Local Boys on Albion 11

The loss of the starting offensive backfield at Albion, the defending Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association champion, has opened the door for several young prospects from the Pontiac area.

Among those bidding for varsity jobs will include freshmen Rick Ziem, a quarterback from Waterford Township, and Rick Bensinger, a Birmingham halfback. "Sandy" Sutton of Rochester is a sophomore running prospect.

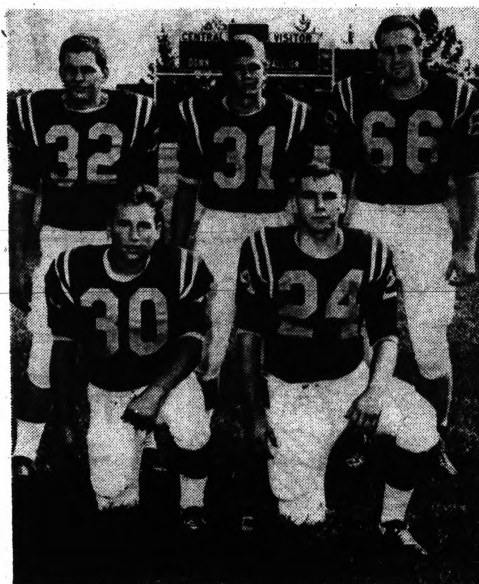

Senior cocaptain Lloyd Harper of Royal Oak and junior Vaughn McGraw, former West Bloomfield standout, are regular defensive backs returning from last season and may see some offensive duty this season for coach Morley Fraser.

In the line, local candidates include freshman Pete Dolan, a center from Birmingham, and guards King Cotton, a sophomore, and Mike Perry, a plebe, both from Farmington.

The 1966 season opens Saturday night at Wheaton, Ill. Albion has a seven-game MIAA winning streak that includes five loop victories from last year's 7-2 season.

Ex-Army Coach Sees Rose on Gridiron

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP)—Paul Dietzel, the University of South Carolina's new head football coach who never has been likened to a shrinking violet, says the school's football program is "like a rose — ready to bloom."

His program for success is a long one — "it won't be realized overnight" — and he has a 10-year contract at $25,000 a year to develop it.

Dietzel, 41, and 6-foot-4, is in the position of starting all over again from back in the pack after national success in seven years at Louisiana State and four years at West Point.

The Mansfield, Ohio, native brings apparently inexhaustible energy to the formidable task he and his staff of long-time assistants face at South Carolina.

The keystone of his plan is to drum up financial support for athletic scholarships, support that far exceeds the wildest dreams of previous coaching administrations at South Carolina.

"You never know whether it can be done until it's been tried," the genial, fast-talking Dietzel says of the job he faces. "No one's ever tried it before in South Carolina."

FACES APATHY

Admittedly he is meeting some apathy to an all-out program of financial support for university athletics. This just seems to spur him on.

The immediate details include long range planning for ticket sales, with special divisions of what was the Gamecock Club, made up of alumni and others contributing to the athletic program.

These divisions entail memberships ranging from $25 to $1,000. The initial result has been that sales of season tickets, about 3,000 last year, have jumped to more than 6,000.

Another is assigning an assistant coach to be director of relations with high schools.

Dick Weldon, a hometown product, has been given this new and important job.

5th Place Is Choice for Lions

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

It's been heard almost every year since the heartbreaking 1962 season.

"The Lions just aren't that bad on paper."

Then the question comes up, "What's wrong with the Lions?"

The answer must be very simple. They must not have been as good, even on paper, and they were just a 5th place team playing as a 5th place team.

There isn't a pre-season forecast which gives the Lions a chance for anything better than 5th place this year.

The only time this writer ever picked the Lions to win was in 1964 and we honestly felt they had it, on paper and on the field.

Earl Morrall, replaced Milt Plum in the second game of the season on the West Coast, had an auspicious start and looked like he could carry the Lions through as a contender to the last game.

But then came his shoulder injury in the 5th game against the Bears, hit by none other than big Doug Atkins, and as other injuries mounted including Milt Plum's elbow the Lions still managed to finish in 4th place, actually only a half game out of second place which had a two-way tie.

This year, the Lions would have to have a repeat of the 1967 team, a soft drink team with champagne ideas, to be any kind of a threat.

Lions' football fans could hope this may be the year that this is a better team on the field than it is on paper.

Fifth place — the lowest finish we've ever picked for the Lions, is where we expect them to finish.

Western Division

1. Green Bay isn't kidding anyone by two exhibition game losses. The Packers are loaded with depth and a million dollar backfield.

2. Baltimore is healthy again and coach Don Shula is getting the spurs into the Colts.

3. Chicago Bears still Halas' Monsters of the Midway. They'll keep the division honest.

4. Minnesota has improved its defense but not enough to balance with its offense.

5. Los Angeles always seems to have the late season rush. It will happen again.

6. The Lions seem to have a tough time convincing themselves they've got to be "up" every game as underdogs.

7. San Francisco may have similar problems to Detroit's. Brodie could lead the league in passing, but do the 49ers play as a team.

Dallas Choice of Kearns to Conquer NFLGreen Bay Picked in Western Division Race With Colts

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
Green Bay is loaded and waiting, Dallas has its lasso ready and these are the two teams which should do battle for the NFL championship, Sunday Jan. 1, 1967 in the warm Dallas sunshine.

The following week, in the planned showdown between the National Football League and American Football League probably in Los Angeles Coliseum, our choice is Dallas against San Diego.

Then many of the NFL-AFL arguments will be settled.

Green Bay has a million dollar backfield depth, good balance and coach Lombardi is building a dynasty with the draft choices he's picking up, which could make the Packers the untouchables for years to come.

Baltimore and Chicago appear to be the only real challengers to Green Bay, and will be until the Colts lose John Unitas by injury or retirement and the Gale Sayers of the Bears slips on a banana peel.

Minnesota and Los Angeles have no balance or depth. The Vikings should have the Rams' defense and the Rams would be better off with Minnesota's offensive backfield.

SAME PROBLEMS

Detroit and San Francisco, strangely have similar problems as far as team unity. The 49ers have good passing and the Lions don't. The Lions have good defense and the 49ers don't.

Cleveland will miss Jimmy Brown, but still has a team which will be somewhere 1-2-3. The Browns have had trouble beating St. Louis in any year and if the Cardinals play ball against lower division teams as they do against the top teams, they could be trouble for Dallas.

The Earl of New York, Earl Morrall is a good field general. He's got the kids thinking big, but the Giants will miss Tucker Fredrickson and are in need of another year's experience.

Washington might pull an upset, and the Eagles are a fly by night outfit, stopping and starting.

The Eastern Division might want to taxi the Atlanta Falcons and Pittsburgh Steelers.

OUR SELECTIONS
Western	Eastern
Green Bay	Dallas
Baltimore	St. Louis
Chicago	Cleveland
Minnesota	New York
Detroit	Philadelphia
Los Angeles	Washington
San Francisco	Atlanta
	Pittsburgh

Eastern Division

1. Talking days are over for the Dallas Cowboys. This could be one of the fastest teams as a unit in many NFL year. This is title year.

2. St. Louis has been able to handle the Browns and without Jimmy Brown they should have enough to do it again and fall behind Dallas.

3. The Browns minus-Jimmy Brown will lose enough to be pushed off the throne. Pietrosante will have some good days.

4. Earl Morrall is commander of the Giants could have gone farther, but Tucker Fredrickson is out.

5. Philadelphia made a lot of noise during exhibition season.

6. Washington has good secondary and Charley Taylor, that's all.

7. Atlanta will beat a few more teams than Pittsburgh.

8. Steelers might like to play the Arrows.

Lewis Wears Jets' No. 7

Ex-Spartan Needs Big Chest

NEW YORK (AP) — When Sherman Lewis, the former Michigan State star who had been playing Canadian football for two years, reported to the New York Jets he was issued uniform No. 7.

Since single-unit numbers usually are not handed out to defensive backs — quarterback John Huarte wore No. 7 last year — it wasn't long before the Jets were being asked the significance in assigning Lewis the number.

"Lewis got No. 7," explained one Jet official, "because a double number won't fit across his chest."

And that's because there's not much chest on a body that carries only 158 pounds on a 5-foot-9 frame.

But despite his size, or because of it, Lewis was the Jets' defensive back and kickoff return specialist when they opened their American Football League season at Miami last Friday night.

"I'd be better off if I was 6-1," Lewis admits. "But my speed and quickness can make up for a lot I don't have in size."

NEEDS TIMING

"When you're playing defense timing has a great deal to do with it, even if you have to go up and jump for a ball."

"Then it's a matter of who wants the ball more."

Lewis wanted the ball so badly he first went to Canada to play professional football because the Jets and Cleveland Browns of the National League weren't interested in him as an offensive back. And that's what Lewis was interested in.

"But the same thing happened to me in Canada," Lewis explained,

"They didn't think I was big enough. I carried 30 times my first year and averaged six yards a try, but you can see I didn't carry much. They seemed to feel I'd get cracked up eventually.

"Finally I had my fill. I didn't particularly care for the game — it's not as good a game as American football. It's not real first class ball, which isn't saying much for myself. But I had to get out."

So he contacted the Jets. And he made his big decision.

'66 NFL Report Cards

Pre-season report cards are out and it looks like Green Bay and Baltimore in the West and Dallas and Cleveland in the East as the top "scholars" among NFL teams.

High ratings of units go to the Bears in running, the Colts in passing, the Packers' linebacking, the Rams' front line.

There isn't a solid "A" in the Eastern Division but there's a good balance of A-Minus and B Units.

Poorest grade goes to Pittsburgh's passing and Atlanta's defensive line.

Continental Grid Loop Has High Ambitions

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Continental Football League boasts professional football's only executive in the baseball Hall of Fame, and a host of famous coaches.

The ambition of the CFL is to become the third major professional league in the United States, which explains the presence of such big names as Jackie Robinson, Andy Robustelli, Ken Carpenter and Wayne Hardin.

There are few players of all-America stature scattered among the league's 10 teams at present so the emphasis has been on attracting the fans into the stands with competitive football and a generous helping of managerial personnel who have gained fame on the field.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, one of the three new teams in the league, hired Robinson, the Hall of Fame second baseman with the baseball Dodgers and a brilliant halfback at UCLA, as well as Robustelli, a perennial all-pro defensive end with the New York Giants, and his former teammate Jack Stroud to hype the team's gate appeal.

Robinson is handling the general manager's role while Robustelli is making his head coaching debut, with Stroud as assistant.

Then there is Carpenter, a great pro with the Cleveland Browns who now handles the Charleston Rockets, defending CFL champions. There's also Gary Glick, a defensive stand-out for the Pittsburgh Steelers and now the coach of the Norfolk Neptunes.

Hardin, a highly successful coach at the Naval Academy, is the pilot of the Philadelphia Bulldogs. He has an assistant by the name of Steve Van Buren, who made quite a name for himself in the same town with the Eagles more than a decade ago.

Marv Bass stepped down as coach at South Carolina to take a similar job with the Montreal Beavers.

Geographical Situation?

NEW YORK (NEA) — defensive back Jim Patton of the New York Giants was reminiscing about some of his former teammates, Dick Modzelewski included.

It seemed that the 260-pound tackle wound up in the defensive backfield drills one day. The Giants name their varied defenses after cities.

On one play, Patton yelled, "Denver," and the backs moved into position. On another, Lindon Crow hollered, "Omaha."

Finally a play came toward Little Mo., who was so confused that he could only yell, "Warsaw."

'66 AFL Report Cards

American Football League report cards have the Oilers of Houston and the San Diego Chargers leading the units in their respective divisions.

The Charger pass receivers received the only solid A in the league.

Miami's new franchise, the Dolphins are figured for last in the Eastern Division, as is Denver in the West.

NFL Official Checks Board With Device

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League, using an electronic device triggered by an on-the-field official, is working toward making scoreboard clocks the official time pieces for its games this season.

The devices have been tested with success during the exhibition season and the league's objective is to have scoreboard clocks show the official time in all parks by the end of the 1966 season.

Until now, the scoreboard clocks at NFL games have been unofficial with the official time kept by one of the on-the-field officials.

The on-the-field official now has been equipped with a special electronic transmitter, the size of two king-size cigarette packages, and his watch.

When he pushes a button, the transmitter sends a signal to a receiver on the scoreboard, which starts and stops that clock.

With the watch and clock thus working simultaneously, the scoreboard clock will be just as accurate as the watch on the official's hand.

Chicago-Bronko Nagurski is credited with 4,031 yards rushing as a pro player for the Bears in what was considered to be an all-time mark.

DICKIE

Western Division

1. San Diego has a stockpile of talent. The Chargers should win the division again and this time take the AFL championship.

2. The Raiders of Oakland are ready to raid the division and move into second.

3. Kansas City be possible surprise.

4. Denver definitely weakest in division.

Eastern Division

1. Houston Oilers tough on defense with lots of offensive experience.

2. Buffalo Bills have won on team unity and tough defense. Running only fair.

3. New York Jets are improved but a year away.

4. Boston Patriots are lucky Miami in division to take cellar spot.

5. It will be long season in Miami for George Wilson.

AFL Crown Is Destined to San Diego

The San Diego Chargers, champions of the West in the AFL, but losers in the East to Buffalo when the title chips were at stake, should be ready to go all the way this year.

Houston's Oilers have enough balance to dethrone Buffalo in the Eastern Division, but won't be as fortunate as the Bills in the title game with San Diego.

Houston has a tough defensive line, first class pass receivers and a trio of good passers.

The Chargers may have lost some by sending Ernie Ladd to Houston but getting Lance Alworth and Willie Frazier in return gives them first class receivers for John Hadl's passing.

Buffalo's passing is among the best and also its defensive line but the Bills are a shade behind Houston and San Diego in other departments, receiving, running and offensive line.

Oakland could take it all but there's depth missing and the young team needs another year or two to develop.

Kansas City is strong all the way, but not great, and Denver has a lot of weak spots which will keep the Broncos in the cellar.

The New York Jets are on the move upward but must rest behind Houston and Buffalo.

County Preps With Rockets

Regular defensive tackle Ray Hayes from Clawson is one of two Oakland County former prep grid performers on the Toledo Rockets' roster this season.

Hayes, a junior, and sophomore linebacker Mike Chapman of Royal Oak reported to coach Frank Lauterbur for his third season of competition with the Mid-American Conference university.

A 250-pound sophomore Guy Gross of Toledo reportedly will challenge Hayes for his starting berth despite the fact the 6-5, 240-pound junior ranked fifth in tackles on the team last season. Hayes was a 10-letter winner at Clawson.

Albion Picked MIAA Favorite

By the Associated Press

Five of the MIAA's six football coaches agreed at their recent meeting that defending champion Albion is the team to beat again this fall.

The lone dissenter was Britons Coach Morley Fraser who believes any of the six teams can win.

But, on the surface, Albion will be tough to dislodge from the throne it has occupied for the past two seasons.

Fraser lost his entire offensive backfield and has several holes to fill in a defensive line but has 30 lettermen anxious to fill the gaps.

Lloyd Harper, end and defensive halfback; defensive end Barry Siler, tackle John Teeter and guard Jerry Rittenbury are the top linemen. Jim Royer is the only experienced back.

CHALLENGER

Coach Rolla Anderson's Kalamazoo team, with 22 lettermen, rates as Albion's top challenger. Anderson, dean of MIAA coaches with 14 years at the helm, feels his offense will move with quarterback Rick Russell and fullback Mike Lukomski leading the way, and with a fine crop of freshmen backs on hand.

Tackle Tom McArthur, center Dan Austin and guard George Lindenberg are line standouts for the Hornets.

1966 Major-College Player Form Charts

The following listing — by statistical departments — covers the 1966 season's top 200 returning players, ranked in the order of their finish in last year's final statistics tabulations. Figures shown in figures show the position in the final statistics tabulations. Its purpose is to provide a convenient "check sheet" of the players who, on last year's form, at least, will be doing the most with the football on college grids this year.

Position-weight-height-class data are at the start of the 1966 season. Players who will defend individual championships, won last year, are indicated by daggers (†).

NEW YORK (NEA) — The stories about Harry Wismer's New York Titans (now Sonny Werblin's Jets) never stop.

For example, in 1962, at training camp, there was a sign that hung over an equipment hamper. It read:

"Throw T-shirts, socks and shorts in this basket and please remove them from your body before throwing."

Chicago — Colors of the Chicago pro football Bears team are navy blue and orange.

Los Angeles — Only twice since Southern California started football has it lost as many as five straight contests.

HEAD COACH & GENERAL MANAGER — LYLE WELLS
 Assistants — Bill Harrington, Dick McDonald, Walt Kowalczyk, Tom Kennedy Trainer — Bud Duff

LYLE WELLS

Coach Finds Win Formula

Year in and year out coach Lyle Wells finds himself on the winning side of the ledger.

He has a lot of player talent to be sure. But coaching plays a major role in a team's progress.

Since 1958, Wells has compiled an enviable record as coach of the semi-pro Arrows, who started out in Detroit, moved to Mount Clemens and then to Pontiac in 1965.

In eight seasons, Wells had chalked up a 75-15 won-lost record, best of any coach in the Midwest Football League.

Dayton wound up second with a 5-2-1 mark, while the Arrows took the crown with a 6-2 mark.

With most of that '65 crew back in harness, along with a few new faces, coach Lyle Wells and the Arrows are looking for their fourth title in five seasons in the MFL.

The MFL was organized in 1962, and since that time, the Arrows have won the championship three times, missing out when Lansing finished on top in 1964.

FAVORITES

The Arrows are solid favorites to lead the pack again this year.

The competition's better, particularly at Ypsilanti, but overall, the Arrows have the cream of the MFL crop.

The runner-up position is a tossup between Dayton and Ypsilanti.

Dayton still has a solid defensive line and a better-than-average offense, and it's the ability to move the ball that gives the Colts the nod over the Vikings.

Ypsilanti, coached by former Detroit Lions' fullback Tom 'The Bomb' Tracy, is a greatly improved ball club, and if Tracy can put some spark in the offense, the Vikings will easily be the surprise of the '66 campaign.

Flint, with a strong defense, still has trouble moving the ball, and the Blue Devils are expected to battle Lansing for the fourth spot in the race.

River Rouge is new and untested and it's unlikely the Steelers have the ability at this stage of the game to handle the top teams.

The consensus:
 1. Pontiac Arrows
 2. Dayton Colts
 3. Ypsilanti Vikings
 4. Lansing All-Stars
 5. Flint Blue Devils
 6. River Rouge Steelers

Midwest Football League Final Standings 1965
Pontiac Arrows	6	2	0
Dayton Colts	5	2	1
Lansing All-Stars	3	4	1
Flint Blue Devils	2	4	2
Ypsilanti Vikings	2	4	0

There's nothing but good news for the Pontiac Arrows this year and that means nothing but bad news for the rest of the teams in the Midwest Football League.

The Arrows backed into the championship on the final day of the season last year when Flint's Blue Devils battled Dayton's Colts to a 7-7 tie.

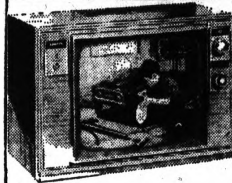

LITTLE DOLPHIN — The smallest player in pro football is Wes Matthews, 5-7 and 155 pound flankerback of the Miami Dolphins. He was signed as a free agent after graduating from Northeastern Oklahoma University. He will be catching passes from 6-5 Dick Wood with the Dolphins.

MFL Gaining Grid Respect

The Midwest Football League is getting its feet on the ground. The league, organized in 1962, went through three years in near obscurity before breaking the publicity barrier in 1965.

Through 1964, there was little organized effort by MFL officials to secure publicity. Most team owners and coaches were content to play their games and forget them.

The outlook changed last year, and a big reason for the change was a young man by the name of Karl Sweetan, who was given a brief try at quarterback by the Detroit Lions and then released.

The Lions liked Sweetan—not enough to keep him on the roster—but enough to keep him from some other club so they let him play last season with the Pontiac Arrows.

REJOINS LIONS

The experience helped Sweetan, since the Lions put him back on their roster and now he's battling Milt Plum for the No. 1 quarterback spot on the club.

Getting one player from the Lions resulted in statewide attention in the press for the MFL. Team owners also saw that it meant a bigger gate.

The mention was brief. But it helped.

Another move to strengthen the league came this year when the owners talked John Abel of Pontiac into taking the MFL commissioner's post.

It's a non-paying job, but Abel, former football and baseball star at Western Michigan, has devoted a lot of time to his task and his efforts have given the MFL a shot in the arm.

BIG CONCERN

One of Abel's big concerns for the league is expansion and he is conducting talks with individuals in several Michigan cities concerning franchises for 1967. Among them are Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Battle Creek, Saginaw and Bay City.

Another big boost for the league came last week when the Lions released four players and sent them to the MFL.

Pontiac's Arrows picked up two of them—quarterback Tom Myers and defensive tackle Jim Edgerly, and Ypsilanti took the other two—backs Frank Marsh and Jim Kearney.

Two other moves that have given the league added stature were made by Flint and Ypsilanti.

Ypsilanti's Vikings went looking for a coach and came up with Tom 'The Bomb' Tracy, former fullback with the Detroit Lions.

Flint also went looking for a coach and came up with Bob Suci of Grand Blanc, former defensive back with Boston in the American Football League.

Oklahoma Has Best Quarter Century Mark

By The Associated Press
Streak-bolstered Oklahoma, unable to defeat Texas the past eight seasons, still tops the consistent Longhorns for major college football's 25-year championship.

Notre Dame holds down the third spot hotly pursued by Ohio State, Michigan State and Army in a quarter century survey of gridiron achievements.

The Sooners owe their supremacy for the period 1941 through 1965 to the fact they put together amazing winning streaks of 47 and 31 games.
