18 Killed as RCAF Jet Rams Convent

County Official Dies Suddenly; Served 17 Years

Register of Deeds, 51, Heart Attack Victim; Career Wins Praise

Oakland County Register of Deeds Orrin McQuaid died suddenly last night in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital of a heart attack.

Mr. McQuaid, 51, had been in office since 1939. A resident of Bloomfield Township, he had previously lived in Pontiac since 1908.

A candidate this year for his 10th term, he was prominent in Republican circles throughout the state, and had sponsored successful bills in the Legislature.

He won high praise for his management of the office, which was regarded as a model by other counties. His streamlined and modernized recording procedure, widely copied by other counties, permitted more efficient and economical operation.

Under Mr. McQuaid's leadership, Oakland County became the first county in Michigan to use microfilm processes and automatic photostating methods.

During his 18 years in office, the volume of official activities quadrupled, yet costs of processing documents steadily dropped as his improved methods came into use.

Born Oct. 12, 1904, in Bay City, he attended Pontiac schools, graduated from Ferris Institute and attended the University of Detroit. He was a registered land surveyor.

He married the former Carolyn C. Heitsch of Pontiac in 1942. His wife, a daughter, Carol Ann, and three sisters, Mrs. Charles Hawley of Burma, Mrs. Galen W. Troutman of Texas, and Mrs. Alan Robertson of 16 Murphy St. survive.

Mr. McQuaid, who served in the U. S. Navy in World War II, is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Pontiac Elks Lodge 810.

He helped organize the first Young Men's Republican Club in Oakland County in 1932, and has served as treasurer of the National Federation of Young Republicans.

The Rosary will be recited Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home. Funeral will be Friday at 10 a.m. from St. Hugo of the Hills Church, Bloomfield Hills. Burial will follow in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Harper Woods Girls Missing

14-Year-Old Discloses Friends Are 'in Hands of' Armed Men in Car

DETROIT (INS) — Police disclosed today that two teenage girls from Harper Woods, a Detroit suburb, have been in the hands of a pair of unidentified armed men since Saturday.

* * *

The disappearance of Charlene Fentile, 14, and Betty Hilbert, 13, was reported by 14-year-old Linda Brauer, a third girl who left the other two while they were with the men.

Harper Woods detectives said a man about 30 driving an old convertible car picked up the three girls while they were hitchhiking home from an amusement park Saturday night.

The man, who Linda said called himself "Joe," drove to a park where they met another man who was introduced as "Johnny." He was described as about 35.

Officers said the group then got into "Johnny's" auto, a 1955 or 1956 model, and drove around until "Joe" began to make improper advances to one of the girls.

Linda at this point asked to get out of the car. She was permitted to leave and given bus fare.

The Brauer girl said "Johnny" had a rifle wrapped in a blanket and a .45 caliber pistol in a brief case stowed in the trunk of his car. She said the men talked throughout the ride of robbing the home of a barmaid acquaintance.

Thanksgiving Rite

LINCOLN PARK (AP) — Members of the tornado-wrecked St. George Greek Orthodox Church will gather at the ruins Thursday night for a candlelight service of thanksgiving. The group will offer thanks that no one was killed by the tornado which struck the community Saturday. The Rev. Fr. John Magoulias, pastor, said the service also will launch a drive to restore the church.

Postal Rate Hike Dead

WASHINGTON (INS) — A key Republican on the House Post Office Committee predicted today that President Eisenhower's request for postal rate increases will not be enacted this year.

Research Key to Survival, Says Curtice

GM Head, Eisenhower Speak on TV Circuit at Center Dedication

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp. said today the nation's survival may depend upon "more emphasis on basic research."

Technological progress, he added, was essential to the continuance "not only of American leadership in the free world, but of the democratic processes themselves."

Curtice made his remarks in an address prepared for delivery over a closed circuit television network at the official dedication of GM's new giant technical center at Mound and Twelve Mile Roads southeast of Pontiac.

The network carried the dedication ceremonies to 137 GM plants in 61 cities in the United States and Canada.

Later in the afternoon President Eisenhower was scheduled to deliver a personal message over the network.

Curtice, in his address, described the center as "one of the nation's great resources" important to national prosperity as well as to national strength.

One step toward meeting the challenge to American technological leadership, the GM president said, would be "to see to it that a larger proportion of our young people have the opportunity and the incentive for embarking on a scientific and engineering career."

CHOICE IS CLEAR

Curtice's statement that the United States must meet the challenge to its technological supremacy was seconded by Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, director of the GM research staff.

"Our choice," he said, "is brutally clear. As a society we can either learn mathematics and science—or Russian."

Concern over dwindling natural resources, Dr. Hafstad said, "is in the main misplaced." Research and technology, he added, will provide substitutes. As an example, he cited GM's experimental free piston automotive engine displayed at the Technical Center dedication.

Bus Strike Over, Service Normal

One Day Wildcat Strike by Greyhound Drivers Hits 25,000 Commuters

Service out of the Pontiac and Birmingham Great Lakes Greyhound bus terminals was back to normal today as drivers ended their one-day wildcat strike.

The strike, originated out of Detroit yesterday, and spread locally, forcing some 25,000 Oakland County commuters to seek other means of transportation.

All surburban, intercity, intrastate, and school bus service was resumed today after 100 drivers operating from the Birmingham terminal agreed at a meeting last night to return to their jobs.

William Marshall, president of Local 1303 of the Amalgamated Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes, termed the strike "strictly unauthorized."

The drivers struck in protest over a contract agreement between the company and the union. The company offered a 9-cent hourly wage increase this year, 10 cents next year and another cent the last six months of the two-year contract, which would expire in October, 1958. The old contract ran out May 1.

The Press erroneously reported yesterday that local Greyhound bus drivers were under Local 1097 of the AFL affiliated union. This local consists of City—Bus Line employes.

Vernon L. Crawford, vice president of the Detroit local, said the drivers wanted a 14-cent hourly wage hike this year and s similar raise in 1957. They also demanded six paid holidays and other fringe benefits.

Curtice Revises Estimate

GM Head Sees Car Output at 5.8 Million This Year

DETROIT (AP)—The president of General Motors, who last year accurately forecast record auto sales, has scaled down his 1956 prediction for the industry.

Harlow Curtice had said the current year would be the auto industry's second best with retail sales of 6½ million cars. Last night, at a news conference, he cut the figure to 5,800,000.

This is 1,600,000 under 1955. It would be the third highest sales total, exceeded in 1950 and 1955.

Curtice, under questioning, said General Motors now has 50,000 fewer hourly employes than it did last June. He did not go into detail. He said some additional layoffs are planned for this week and that he hoped these would be the last for the 1956 model run.

He said the industry as a whole had run into several difficulties in selling cars this year. But, he said, as far as General Motors is concerned, overproduction in 1955 was not one of the difficulties.

A questioner suggested that Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, and others had laid some of the blame for the poor market on overproduction and oversupply of cars in 1955.

Curtice said: "We have not indulged in overproduction at any time."

Among the difficulties, he said, were the Federal Reserve Board's policy of tighter credit and the great amount of speculation that 1957 models would be revolutionary.

Curtice said the credit controls were bad and should be reversed.

He said predictions of revolutionary changes just weren't so.

He said 1957 models will cost more than 1956 models. He said labor and all raw materials are somewhat higher and that the price of steel is expected to rise.

Seamen Stymie Shipping

MONTREAL (AP) — Shipments of Canadian iron ore, grain, coal and general cargo continued to fall off today along the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence River as a shipping strike went into its seventh day.

An unofficial survey showed more than 100 ships of the Lake Carriers' Assn. idle from Lake Superior to the lower St. Lawrence. Farmers and manufacturers feared a serious shortage of feed grains and other supplies unless agreement came soon.

The strike was called last Thursday by the Seafarers' International Union (SIU) against two members of the carriers' association to back demands for higher wages.

The other five member companies supported the struck lines by calling a partial tieup of their ships and threatening a complete stoppage. The seven companies operate 220 of Canada's Great Lakes merchant fleet of 260 vessels.

An association official said "not a propeller will be turning on the Great Lakes by this weekend" unless the dispute is settled.

Union negotiators yesterday walked out on talks being conducted by a federal mediator.

The union men said they were protesting the action of a company official who issued a statement to reporters while the talks were going on.

Mediator H. Carl Goldenberg said the walkout did not mean an end to mediation efforts and that the disputing groups would meet for a sixth round of talks before the end of the week.

The Seamen's Union originally demanded a monthly wage increase of $78.15 and a 40-hour week for deckhands now getting $190 monthly for a seven-day week. A shipping company official indicated the demand had not been changed materially.

Judge to Resign for Higher Post

Wayne County Circuit Jurist Declares He'll Take Chair Soon

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams yesterday appointed Judge George Edwards of the Wayne County Circuit Court to the state Supreme Court.

Judge Edwards said he plans to resign his present post and to take the high court seat as soon as present duties can be discharged — probably within a few days.

Edwards, on the probate and circuit bench in Wayne County since 1951, was named to fill the vacancy resulting from the death last week of Justice Nell E. Reid of Mount Clemens.

Edwards, 41, came to Detroit in the 1930s from his native Texas and was appointed by then Mayor Edward J. Jeffries as director-secretary of the Detroit Housing Commission in 1940.

In 1941, he was elected to the first of four consecutive two year terms on the Detroit Common Council. He was council president for two of the terms.

In 1949, he unsuccessfully opposed Mayor Albert E. Cobo in the mayoralty election and took his place on the probate court as head of the juvenile division in 1951.

In order to accept the appointment, Edwards will have to take a $6,000 a year pay cut. His salary as a circuit judge is $24,500. On the Supreme Court bench he will receive $18,500.

The highest temperature this time a year ago was 79 while the low experienced was 43.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in Pontiac was 34. The thermometer registered 38 degrees at 1 p.m.

Scenic Voyages All Summer

Stern-Wheeler to Make Maiden Cruise on Lake

A substantial addition to Oakland County's lake craft will be the "Island Queen." It will begin public operation on May 26 on Kent Lake, just south of Milford.

One of the projects of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, this lake of 1,200 acres is four miles long, and is formed by impounding the waters of the Huron River. It is located in the authority's 4,500 acre Kensington Metropolitan Park.

The boat is 60 feet long and will carry 55 passengers. It is a good replica of the Mississippi River stern-wheeler of many years ago, but is powered with a single diesel engine turning an eight-foot paddle wheel.

When fully loaded the 'Island Queen" draws but 11 inches of water. It was built at Saugatuck, and for the past two seasons has been carrying passengers on the Kalamazoo River.

It was recently purchased by the authority.

The cruise around Kent Lake will require about 50 minutes and covers several miles among the many islands and into some of its numerous bays.

The boat will be berthed at the launching dock near the main Grand River entrance to the park. It will make hourly trips from noon until 7 p.m. on week ends until mid-June.

After that the service will be in effect every day throughout the season. It will also be available for charter before and after its regular hours.

Aged, Ill Sisters Die in Inferno; 22 Escape Fire

Ottawa Convalescent Home Erupts in Flames as Plane Hits Roof

OTTAWA (AP) — A jet fighter rocketed from 33,000 feet into a rest home for Roman Catholic nuns last night, killing 18 persons. Most of the victims were aged and bed-confined nuns.

They perished in an inferno lit by the Royal Canadian Air Force CF100 jet.

The plane smashed like a bomb into the three-story brick convalescent home of the Grey Nuns of the Cross, alongside the Ottawa River, seven miles east of Ottawa.

The bodies of three nuns and a priest had been recovered from the smouldering debris early today.

Sister Marie Edmond, assistant general of the order, said there were 36 sisters in the convent.

22 ESCAPE

She said 11 were missing and presumed dead. Twenty-two other nuns, including three injured, escaped.

Also missing and presumed dead are the two-man crew of the plane and a woman cook employed at the home.

The tragedy was the worst of its kind in Canada. An RCAF bomber crashed into a Montreal tenement district in 1944, killing 16 persons.

Within seconds after the jet hit, the convent was a pyre. The explosion was heard 15 miles away.

NEVER HAD A CHANCE

Said one eyewitness:

"They never had a chance."

"The whole building seemed to burst into flames at once," said Sister Louise Auguste, a survivor.

"It was horrible. I think everyone on the top floor must have been burned. Many on the ground floor also were unable to get out. It happened so fast . . . The whole building seemed to go up like a torch."

Screams of the trapped shrilled from the blazing building. Some of the nuns fought their way through flames to safety.

At least one jumped. Rescuers saved others.

COAL FEEDS FIRE

The two airmen were returning to the Ottawa's Uplands Airport after identifying an unknown air craft as a Canadian transport. There was no indication what caused the crash.

Hours after the crash, coal stored in the convent basement still fed the fire. Fire-blackened walls and a 40-foot chimney remained standing. A warped steel fire escape clung crazily to one wall.

The convent, a rest home of the order of the Grey Nuns of the Cross, was located on the Ottawa River. It was valued at a million dollars.

Firemen rushed to the blazing building from nearby communities, the air force base and Ottawa. There was little they could do.

Crowds clogged the roads. Police kept thousands of onlookers a safe distance from the blaze.

Jaunty Truman Now in France

Looks Beyond Travels to Some Campaigning for Democrats

LE HAVRE, France (AP)—Harry S. Truman arrived today with Mrs. Truman on the liner United States, jaunty as ever and looking beyond his seven-week tour of Europe to some campaigning for the Democratic presidential nominee.

* * *

The former U. S. president entered a news conference in the ship's lounge swinging a shiny black cane. He was favoring a foot injured about two weeks ago.

Asked if he thought President Eisenhower would win a second term, the Missourian jutted out his jaw and cracked.

"I'm not doing any crystal gazing but I'm going to try to beat him."

He said the Russian announcement of a huge armed forces cutback should be taken "with a pinch of salt."

"I don't trust the Russians," he said, adding that while he was in the White House the Russians violated 32 agreements with the United States.

Truman and his wife went to Paris by train after the brief shipboard news conference.

Residency Vote in November

City Commission Vetoes Police Association's August Request

The vote on police and fire personnel residency in the city definitely will be before Pontiac voters in November.

The City Commission vetoed a request from the Pontiac Police Officer's Assn. that the question, originated by the group, be placed on the Aug. 7 primary ballot.

The November decision was offered in a motion by Commissioner Floyd P. Miles (District 4) who said the residency amendment would interfere with another city charter amendment already on the August ballot.

No one from the association was present last night to present the case. A communication had been forwarded to the commission stating a preference for August.

The vote will decide whether police and fire employes should be required "to live within a 10 mile radius of the Huron and Saginaw intersection."

The association had objected to 1932 city charter ruling that they live within the city limits.

A memorial has been unveiled in Nairobi, Kenya, to 2,400 men and women of the Commonwealth land forces who fell in Italian Somaliland, Ethiopia, Kenya and Madagascar during World War II.

GM Boosts Aid to U.S. Students

Firm's Education Outlay Tops $5 Million After New Increases

Increased General Motors financial aid to education, which will provide four-year scholarships to an additional 200 students while benefiting 32 more institutions, was announced yesterday by President Harlow H. Curtice.

The expanded program will increase General Motors' annual contribution toward support of higher education to more than $5 million and will benefit more than 350 colleges and universities in all 48 states.

Curtice disclosed the enlarged program at a news conference at Hotel Statler on the eve of dedication activities of GM's new Technical Center here.

The additional scholarships are part of the "College Plan," one of three plans that make up the GM program, and brings to 400 the number of four-year scholarships which will be awarded each year under the overall program.

Under the plan four-year college scholarships are awarded annually by 110 private and 68 public colleges and universities from which General Motors draws many of its employes. This year's plan benefits institutions in all 48 states, 10 more than previously included.

Another part of the program, the "National Plan," provides 100 new four-year scholarships each year. Winners have been selected on the basis of secondary school achievements and a competitive examination during each of the last two years.

The amount of the scholarship awarded to the student depends upon demonstrated need, and ranges from an honorary award of $200 up to a maximum of $2,000 annually.

Privately financed institutions also receive grants from GM equal to the tuition of each award winner with a maximum of $800 and a minimum of $500.

Another grant in the amount of $100,000 has been made to the National Fund for Medical Education, to be distributed to the 81 accredited medical schools in the U.S. and Puerto Rico.

Twister Signal Discussed Again

Suggest Aerial Bombs or Defense Sirens for Warning People

Once again the topic of a tornado warning system for Pontiac came up again at the City Commission meeting last night.

Mayor William W. Donaldson led the fight by questioning whether Fourth of July aerial bombs could not be used. He said they could be set off if a tornado was sighted by fire department personnel who are on duty 24 hours.

This was suggested in lieu of using the Civil Defense siren which Commissioner John A. Dugan has been fighting for more than a month.

State officials are pessimistic on the use of the siren because of the possible interference with its original purpose.

Dugan once again insisted on the use of the siren. "I understand they are being used in other cities for tornado warning," he said. "We would only have to work out a means to distinguish between the air attack and natural disster warning."

Pontiac City Affairs

$500,000 for New Hospital Addition Gets Formal Commission Approval

The City Commission formally approved last night setting up a $500,000 reserve in a three-year capital improvement program to aid in the construction of the new Pontiac General Hospital addition.

The city manager and Director of Finance Oscar Eckman were authorized establishing the money, which along with the $2,900,000 general obligation bond issue, will be "sufficient to authorize the acceptance of construction bids."

The City Commission met with the hospital board members last Thursday at which time the half-million dollar allocation was adopted.

Other action at last night's City Commission meeting included the approval of a land contract for a lot west of the hospital owned by Charles Durkee. Durkee will be paid $27,500 from hospital funds for the property which is intended to be used by hospital interns.

The commissioners also approved a standard agreement with the Rando Building Co. for engineering inspection services in the Glendale Manor Subdivision.

Public hearings will be held next Tuesday night on the following public improvement projects on which engineer estimates were aired last night by the city clerk:

Curb, gutter, grade, gravel, and related work for Liberty street from Henderson to Johnson (Assessed cost $4,163.24; city cost $13,333.19).

Curb, gutter, grade, gravel, and related work for Motor street from Alton to Pearsall (Assessed cost: $1,219.20; city cost $1,157.24).

Curb, gutter, grade, gravel, and related work for Nebraska avenue from Earlmoor to Howland (Assessed cost $4,748.40; city cost $7,134.68).

Water main in Mansfield avenue from Kennett road to east property line of lot 166 Buena Vista Heights Subdivision and for Kennett road from west property line of lot 58 to east property line of lot 62 of the subdivision (Assessed cost: $2,286.75; city cost: $2,286.75).

Public hearings will also be held next week on special assessment rolls for recap, curb repair and related work on State street from Huron to Johnson and on Osmun street from Saginaw to Sanford.

A hearing will also be on an assessment roll for a water main in Peacock avenue from Joslyn to Fuller, Clara avenue from Fuller to east property line of lot 30 assessor's plat 102, and for Fuller street from Peacock to Columbia.

Other business taken up on the 23-point slate included four public hearings on projects to be assessed at which no citizens were present to be heard.

The commissioners also accepted a resolution of public necessity for concrete paving, curb, gutter and related work on Mansfield avenue from Baldwin to Kennett. An estimated cost was ordered prepared by the city engineer.

May 28 at 2 p.m. was set as the closing of bids on the sale of city owned buildings on lots to be used in the new off-street parking program.

A hearing will be held June 12 on an ordinance to rezone to Commercial 1 use part of lots 62-66 in the Hillside Manor Subdivision providing a 20 foot alley is deeded.

City Engineer Lewis Wrenn was instructed to prepare a planned profile and estimate for grading and graveling the alley in assessor's plat 13 from Linda Vista drive to the east line of lot 40 of the plat. A petition more than 50 per cent signed requested the work.

Research Is Key, Claims Curtice

This is an engine that will run on many fuels other than gasoline.

"Ultimately," Dr. Hafstad added, "direct energy from the sun stored up in last year's corn or cotton crop, may, in the form of alcohol or cotton seed oil, fuel this year's automobiles."

A BETTER TOMORROW

The center, which consists of 25 buildings on a 330-acre site, has been described as dedicated to "a better tomorrow through research today."

Among the various structures are five staff building groups — styling, research, engineering, process development and service.

Within the buildings guests saw an assembly machine which puts together 75 parts of a cylinder head mechanically, the first successful mechanical heart, a new artificial lung, a device used to purify polio vaccines and blood plasmas, and the electro stethograph, which record's the human heart's inaudible or low frequency sounds.

They also saw a demonstration of laboratory "road testing" of motor vehicles with a "bump and shake" rig, cutaway versions of GM's latest experimental gas turbine automobile, and the even newer experimental automobile powered with a so-called "free piston" engine.

Joining in the dedication program were 137 GM plants in the United States and Canada which held "open house" programs for employes and friends. A roving television camera was to carry much of the Technical Center program to most of these plants.

Mayor Proclaims Armed Forces Day

Mayor William W. Donaldson last night proclaimed this Saturday "Armed Forces Day in Pontiac" and the week of May 27-June 2 as "Pontiac Foundation Week."

The mayor urged all Pontiac residents to attend the armed forces parade in the city Saturday and visit the military displays to be located on West Huron at Wayne.

"I call upon my fellow citizens to also display the flag on this day in manifestation of their recognition of the sacrifice and devotion to duty of the members of the Armed Forces," the proclamation read.

The second proclamation urged citizens to consider using the facilities of the Pontiac Foundation in making donations, bequests, and memorials to their community for worthy projects."

2 Police Officers Await Decision on Overtime Pay

Two Pontiac police officers were assured by the City Commission last night that they will hear the answer on their request for 11 hours overtime pay reportedly denied them by the police chief.

Officers Harold Hayden and Billy Jones sat through a long 23-point agenda only to be told the decision on the case would not be announced because of the absence of the city manager.

They originally appeared before the commission April 3 but the answer has been postponed several times pending the return of one of the officers from vacation.

Both claimed they were denied the pay by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley because they were not given authorization to work overtime on a February felony case.

The commissioners reportedly reached a decision at an informal meeting but deferred action upon the request of City Manager W. K. Willman.

Free tickets may be obtained from any policeman. A price of 25 cents a couple will be charged at the door.

55 Area Firms Will Participate

Pontiac Schools Hosts for All Day Activities on May 23

Approximately 150 local business and industry men representing some 55 firms will visit the Pontiac Schools on Education-Business-Industry-Day May 23, according to John Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

Title of the annual day has been changed from Business-Industry-Education Day this year, because the school system is host to the activities.

The annual program, sponsored by the chamber, is under the direction of James Nye, chairman of the educational committee. J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, is handling arrangements for the schools.

Visitors to the schools will meet in Pontiac High School auditorium at 8:45 a.m. for an orientation program. The Pontiac High band under the direction of Dale C. Harris will play a few numbers. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, Louis Schimmel, president of the Board of Education and two chamber representative will be among the speakers for the morning session.

Following the program the visitors will separate and go to different schools to study classroom procedure at 10 a.m. There are 25 public and 3 parochial schools participating in the day's activities.

Francis Staley, principal of Pontiac High, said that the business and industry representatives will be shown different departments and heads of these departments will explain procedure and study matter to them.

Visitors will have lunch at their assigned schools with the teachers If they desire, they may return to Pontiac High at 1:30 p.m. for a question and answer period during which Dr. Whitmer will explain the local building program.

This session is not included in the day's official program, but is an added explanation period, Staley said.

Business and industry members can still sign up for the EBI Day program by calling the Chamber of Commerce office, Hirlinger said. Principals of schools assigned will then issue invitations to the expected visitors.

The Day in Birmingham

Long-Discussed Terrace Zoning Change Is Voted

BIRMINGHAM — Terrace zoning should be extended westward on three unplatted parcels on North Woodward but the city should retain the flood area along the Rouge River, the Planning Commission recommended last night. Final decision will be by the City Commission.

Unplatted Parcels 1A and 1B, where a terrace zoning for the first 300 feet back from Woodward did not meet with owners' plans for locations of terrace units, have been discussed for months, but last night unplatted Parcel No. 2, just adjacent, was added in the debating.

City planning officials indicated they were relieved to conclude negotiations of the long-discussed zoning last night. A committee of adjacent property owners raised no serious objections to the extension of the terrace zoning.

New owner of 1A and 1B is William Berman, while Raymond Smith, who has not any immediate terrace building plans, owns Parcel No. 2.

The flood plain area along the river follows a policy kept by the city over a period of years, giving the river space for flooding. Purcaase by the city was discussed, but it was decided that was unnecessary.

* * *

Chief of Police Ralph Moxley has been directed to post several $100 fine signs to help enforce the ordinance against throwing trash on roadways.

Objectors to the nuisance wrote several letters recently to the city, causing city commissioners to ask this week for the signs.

Commissioners also asked that a four-way stop be instituted at the Eton and Lincoln intersection.

The Birmingham Civil Defense Office has announced that a limited supply of pamphlets, "Lean-to Shelters," and "Corner Room Shelters," from the Michigan Office of Civil Defense are available without charge at the director's office, Room 106, Municipal Building.

* * *

Final square dance for the YMCA is set for Saturday, at 8:30 p.m. at the "Y". Mark Smith will call and the Y's Men's Club will be host group.

* * *

Springdale Park facilities will be available at the same rates and fees charged last year, city commissioners have decided. Admission will be by membership cards issued to residents or taxpayers with three guests allowed.

But at picnics, at which attendance is limited to 50, the ratio of three residents to one non-resident should be maintained.

19 Residents Protest Rezoning of 5 Lots

Nineteen residents of Anderson's Western Addition subdivision last night continued their fight to block the rezoning of five lots in the area despite the fact the City Commission unanimously approved the rezoning last week.

And indications are that the group will continue its battle up to the public hearing scheduled for June 12.

The contingent objects to the rezoning to Residential 3 lots 85-89 of the addition in the city's southwest side because it will permit construction of a multiple-dwelling apartment building.

Last week the City Commission instructed the city attorney to prepare an ordinance to amend the city's building zone law permitting the rezoning. The first reading of the ordinance was held last night.

It will now go back to the City Plan Commission, who had recommended the rezoning, and will be aired in a public hearing June 12.

Detectives of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department were investigating an early morning breakin at an Oxford Township liquor store today. The store was believed to have been entered at 1 a.m.

LANSING (AP) — The State Supreme Court has refused to step into the trial of James F. (Prophet) Jones of Detroit, charged with gross indecency.

* * *

The court denied the Negro religious leader's application for leave to appeal and for a stay of proceedings in Detroit Recorders Court.

It also turned down his request to overturn a ruling by Judge John P. O'Hara of Detroit Recorders Court that certain evidence offered by Detroit police should not be quashed.

The high court's action was made without comment.

New Trial Set in Murder Case

Mother Expected to Tell Jury of Lover's Hand in Husband's Slaying

NEWBURYPORT, Mass. (AP) — Mrs. Lorraine Clark, 30, serving life after admitting she killed her husband, is scheduled to go before a grand jury today in a unique reopening of the spicy murder case.

* * *

The four Boston morning papers say Mrs. Clark is expected to tell the jury that her "lover," Arthur Jackson, 24, had a hand in her husband's death.

Jackson is serving three years in Salem jail for adultery with Mrs. Clark, a mother of three.

State Atty. Gen. George Fingold told newsmen last night: "We feel we have gathered some very strong evidence indicating the participation of someone else" in the slaying.

* * *

Fingold reopened the case after Jackson was taken from his cell in Salem jail to the women's reformatory in Framingham to confront Mrs. Clark.

Judge Charles Fairhurst, in sentencing Jackson, accused him of "half the responsibility for wrecking the (Clark) family . . ."

Jackson met Mrs. Clark at a party through her husband Melvin W. Clark Jr., 29.

* * *

A few months later, Clark's weighed body ws found in the salt flat. He had been shot in the Lake Attitash cottage, Amesbury, where he lived with his wife and children.

2nd Farm Bill Facing Changes

Holland, Aiken Leading Final Efforts to Reshape Plan Favorable to Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — A last-ditch effort to reshape a second 1956 farm bill in line with President Eisenhower's program was promised in the Senate today by Sens. Holland (D-Fla) and Aiken (R-Vt).

* * *

They said in separate interviews they would seek to kill or modify provisions calling for higher government price supports on oats, rye, barley, grain sorghums and corn grown outside the commercial corn area.

"Unless the feed grain section is cleared up there may be no farm legislation this year," said Aiken, senior Republican on the Senate Agriculture Committee.

"It's the worst section of the new bill," Holland agreed. "It would penalize dairy, poultry and livestock farmers nationwide much more than it would help the feed grain producers."

A version of the measure has passed the House. A Senate-House conference will adjust differences.

To Be Guest Speaker

Bob Considine Says:

81,000 Words Are Used to Say 'No Bomb'

ABOARD USS MOUNT McKINLEY (INS) — More than 81,000 words of copy were sent from this communications ship in the first seven days of its occupancy by the 15 news media men assigned to cover the first disposable American H-bomb.

Most of the stuff was sent by the nine newspapermen aboard and all of it went at the average rate of 12 cents a word. Total cost was $10,000.

It could have been said for 24 cents: "No bomb."

The little knot of men burdened with the task of deciding when a bomb can be touched off and when it cannot had to take many serious matters into consideration as the days and delays dragged on.

They knew of all the degrees of impatience around them. The crew of the McKinley, for example, had been promised they'd be back at their home base of San Diego for long shore leaves some weeks ago, then the ship was reassigned to this duty. The boys were promised that it would be a matter of a few days.

* * *

Then there were the thousands of men working the barren and dusty coral islands; the construction crews, the scientists and technicians who set the supersensitive instrumentation that is flung over thousands of square miles of sea and coral. They wanted done with it, and so did the crew of the drop plane.

* * *

And last but not least there was the matter of the news, radio and TV people recording each delay — which, no matter how discreetly phrased or photographed, probably caused millions of Americans to lose interest in an experiment directly involved with the survival of the free world.

TAKE PRECEDENCE

On the other hand, there were two factors which readily took precedence over impatience and growing indifference. These two factors were our relations with the Asiatic world and our allergy toward hurting even people whose cries we could censor if we were that type of power. A handful of Marshallese, for example.

* * *

There is no doubt that we lost face in Japan, India and elsewhere because of the unhappy events that followed the touching off of our surface H-shot March 1, 1954.

Our people unquestionably took many more pains than the Russians take in their experiments, yet this device (it could not be called a bomb because it was not portable) probably yielded twice its expected power.

On top of that, though we had made what under normal conditions would be considered an excessively exhaustive study of weather conditions, the winds sprinkled radioactive dust over several Marshall Islands almost as far away from ground zero as Washington is from New York, and it made 80 odd people sick for a while.

* * *

The great sea patrol of that expense overlooked a small Japanese tuna trawler a similar distance away (and the trawler's skipper ignored radio warnings.) The trawler was sprinkled, most of its crew was contaminated.

* * *

The Japanese would not let our specialists treat the men. When one of the crew died some months later of hepititis, we were blamed. A wave of anti-American sentiment swept the Asiatic world, undoing the work of years and the expenditure of breath-taking sums of taxpayers' money.

Russian propagandists had a field day, neglecting to mention, of course, that the Reds set off their own nuclear weapons with about as much concern for the well-being of people in the way of the radioactive cloud as they have for the athlete's foot situation in Lower Slobovia.

A seaman on the McKinley who retired to his bunk last Thursday night off the target islet of Namu (the bomb was supposed to go off at 5:51 a.m. Friday but there was a weather postponement and our ship was sent back to the place it came from) woke up at 7 a.m. and, looking at his porthole, recognized the adjacent island.

"Gosh, what a bomb that must have been," he said, in awe. "Blew us all the way back to Eniwetok from Bikini."

Graham Joins Doomed Killers

Bomber, Set for Death Aug. 29, Still Refuses to Appeal for Retrial

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP)—John Gilbert Graham joined three other condemned murderers in death row today for his first full day behind the sandstone walls of the Colorado Penitentiary.

One hundred feet from his small cell is the state's lethal gas chamber, where he is sentenced to die the week of Aug. 26.

* * *

Graham, 24, convicted of bombing an airliner which plunged his mother and 43 others to death, was sentenced in Denver District Court yesterday by Judge Joseph M. McDonald.

Judge McDonald passed sentence after hearing Graham spurn his court-appointed lawyers' motions for a new trial.

SATISFIED WITH VERDICT

"I don't see why I should have to make a political rally or something out of this," said Graham, married and the father of two children. "I don't see why it can't stop right here. I believe I had as fair a trial as could be had under the circumstances."

However, the judge ordered Graham's lawyers to ask the Colorado Supreme Court what disposition should be made of their new trial motion, which Judge McDonald rejected. It claimed 36 points of alleged errors in Graham's trial, which ended May 4.

If the court accepts jurisdiction, it could order an appeal and stay the execution. Otherwise, the execution would proceed as scheduled.

* * *

Graham was convicted of murdering his mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, by placing a dynamite time bomb in her luggage shortly before she boarded a United Air Lines plane at Denver last Nov. 1. The craft exploded and crashed 11 minutes after takeoff near Longmont, Colo.

May Help Beaches

LOS ANGELES (AP) — To find ways of eliminating pollution of bathing beaches, engineers will experiment next week with radioactive isotopes as a means of tracing the flow of sewage into the ocean. Beach cities in the bay area have complained repeatedly that sewage is making their waters unfit for bathing.

The pedestrian record reflected the 5th consecutive year of improvement for motor vehicle accidents in 1955.

Moscow Awaits 50,000 Iowan Hybrid Eggs

DES MOINES (AP) — Russia will soon be getting a shipment of 50,000 hybrid chicken eggs from Iowa.

* * *

Simon Casady Jr., secretary of the Hy-Line poultry farm of Journston, announced the eggs were being shipped today by air to Moscow.

A delegation of Russians who visited this country last summer saw the Hy-Line operations and ordered the eggs. The cost, including air freight, is about $33,000. The eggs run from 16 to 70 cents apiece.

The hybrids are all fertile and are to be hatched after they reach Moscow.

* * *

Hy-Line has a farm in Holland which serves European markets but the Russians wanted eggs direct from the Iowa farm, Casady said. If they want more, the Holland farm likely will supply them, he explained.

Prelate Opposes Ban on Church Remarriage

LONDON (AP)—The Archbishop of Canterbury, an outspoken opponent of divorce, has warned Anglican Church leaders against a proposed ban on church marriage of a divorced person whose former spouse is still alive.

* * *

The archbishop, Dr. Geoffrey Fisher, told the church's top legislative body it should continue to express its disapproval of such marriages by resolution rather than outright ban.

He said Parliament might challenge the state-supported church in a ban that went beyond the civil law.

* * *

He added that some clergy value their liberty under civil law to remarry such divorced persons.

More than 766,000 persons were injured in weekend traffic accidents last year.

Letter to Ike Asks Auto Layoffs Probe

A letter was sent to President Eisenhower this week from some 9,100 members of Fisher Body Local 596 (UAW-CIO) requesting an investigation of continued lay-offs in the automobile industry.

According to Harold A. Grant, president of the local, 2,200 Fisher Body Division workers in the Pontiac plant are presently laid off.

* * *

The letter suggested a committee be appointed to "investigate the drastic cutback in the automobile industry."

Two weeks ago, the president of Pontiac Motor Division Local 653 (UAW-CIO) requested UAW President Walter Reuther to investigate guaranteed annual wage grievances as the result of lay-offs of some 4,000 workers at the Pontiac factory.

Charles Curry said yesterday he had received no answer from the Detroit union office.

Commercial Industry Boom for Government

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new survey shows the government is a big scale owner of commercial-industrial type plants.

* * *

The survey, conducted by at least 32 federal agencies under Budget Bureau direction, listed 19,771 business-type activities as owned by the government. The capital assets of these plants total $11,861,569, according to the survey. The government operates most of the facilities. Some are run by private contractors.

'Errors' Are Admitted by British Communists

LONDON (AP)—Britain's Communist party has made an admission of mistakes, including attitudes on Yugoslav Communist leaders.

A party statement following the new Moscow line, blamed the mistakes on its uncritical acceptance of Stalin dictates. Russia's present leadership has ordered the late dictator put into disrepute by Communists at home and abroad.

Harry Pollitt, 65, staunch Stalin supporter, resigned last week as general secretary of the British Communist party. John Gollan, 45, promoter of Communist youth units, replaced him.

Gambol in Flood Water

Over Protests of Many Present

Board Acts to Bring Issue to Referendum; Petitions Asked

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—The Township Board, in special meeting last night, unanimously approved a proposal to rezone 244 acres in the southwest section of the township, to make way for a $5,500,000 race track and sports arena.

* * *

The proposal was passed over the protest of many of those present in the crowded town hall. However, it was pointed out immediately that it is the prerogative of those opposed to petition for a referendum.

LABEL CONTROVERSIAL

Fred Westlake and Mrs. Elise Avery, trustees, who made and supported the motion, stated that the issue is clearly a controversial one in the township, and that it is the desire of the board to bring it to a referendum.

"Unless the board takes some action, this cannot come to a vote," said Mrs. Avery, "and I think it is up to the people to decide this issue."

Westlake said, "No matter how we vote, a lot of people are going to think we voted the wrong way. The people themselves should make the decision."

* * *

The board, snarled last week in legal technicalities depended upon Judge Arthur E. Moore of Pontiac to answer legal questions tossed at them by a well prepared citizenry.

All present were given an opportunity to be heard by Ward Eagle, township supervisor.

"The township board is open minded," Eagle said, "we want to do the will of the people—we are not trying to railroad anything through."

Judge Moore was asked how soon petitions would be available for a referendum. He replied that they should be ready this week.

ATTEND BOOK CLUB LUNCHEON — Mrs. Eugene T. Cleland, center, goes over a few points in her review of the book "Wild Wings," by Frank S. Stuart, prior to an anniversary luncheon Monday at which she discussed the book for the Waterford Book Review Club. Talking with her are other club members Mrs. Francis L. Kinkle (left), treasurer, and Mrs. Leland J. Bunyan, right. Forty women attended the luncheon, held at Haven Hill Lodge. The club grew out of an initial group which established the Waterford Township CAI library 10 years ago.

Seeking Opinion on Annexation

Five Southfield Sections Ask Legal Advice on Joining Birmingham

SOUTHFIELD — Five subdivisions in the northeast corner of Southfield would like to annex to neighboring Birmingham and are seeking legal opinion in the matter.

Petitions already have been filed to convert the southern three quarters of Southfield into a new city, leaving the northern section to go its own way.

Voters in the southern section approved incorporation almost a year ago, but turned down a proposed city charter at the polls.

A second charter commission is now drafting another charter, which is expected to be voted on next fall.

Waterford Area Book Club Holds Birthday Party

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Some of the forty women who gathered at Haven Hill Lodge for the luncheon which celebrated the birthday of The Book Review Club Monday were original members of that organization.

Ten years ago a small group of these women met to talk about establishing a township library. Shortly after library facilities were set up in the CAI Building, the group began having monthly meetings with a dual purpose in mind —to stimulate interest in the library and to raise funds for it.

An informal organization is the Book Review Club with membership open to anyone in the township who is interested in good books.

Mrs. Ralph Eaton is the present chairman; Mrs. Francis L. Kinkle, treasurer; and Mrs. George A. Dean, publicity chairman. On the program committee are Mrs. William A. Shunck, Mrs. John Maz, Mrs. William H. Vann, and Mrs. Leland Bunyan.

A tax rate of $11.75 for each $1,000 assessed valuation was also set up by the commission at Monday night's meeting.

Home Week Proclaimed

ROCHESTER—The week of May 21 through May 27 has been proclaimed "Rochester Home Week" by Village President Clarence Burr, in conjunction with the Builders and Home Show sponsored by the Rochester Lions Club, to be held May 25-27.

Troy Rejects Factory Plan

Board Okays Plans for Dry Cleaning; Studies Others

TROY—Board of Appeals members last night denied approval to plans for a factory on a less than two-acre site here and for a used car lot.

Go-ahead was given to a dry cleaning plant and requests for permission to build a mushroom house and homes with a new three-ply construction of relatively low grade wood were taken under advisement.

The city engineer is studying the home construction method proposed by the John Barling Construction Company of Waterford for a group of home.

The city attorney will decide whether William Baker's five acres, where he wants to build a mushroom house with possibly three stories, is now zoned agricultural. Then at next month's meeting the appeals board will decide on whether mushroom growing in such a structure is agricultural.

Chester F. Mally of Ferndale, must have two acres for his factory because parking land is also need, the board ruled. He wished to build on Stevenson south of 15 Mile.

If Maney L. Elrod wishes to establish a used car lot at Rochester and 19 Mile, he will have to call a public hearing at his own expense, the board ruled.

F. B. Visner's alterations of his tool shop front would be too slight to increase business, the board ruled as they approved it.

Too Much Leisure Proves Boring

By ANNE HEWWOOD

An old sea captain once said: "Leisure, like a kiss, must be stolen to be enjoyed," and I think of that often when the subject of retirement comes up.

We think it will be just divine to have nothing to do—and we find that it's only divine if it's sandwiched in between many activities.

Bertha L. has found that out.

"I was a businesswoman for 35 years," she writes. "It was an okay job, and I didn't mind it too much.

"But there were days when I hated the alarm clock and used to dream of just throwing it out the window and turning over for a nice long snooze. I used to think: 'Someday, when I retire, I'll do just that!'

"Well, I was retired two months ago.

* * *

"I had a fine time the first week—no alarm, plenty of sleep and lazing around. I got the apartment in good shape—never had had time before to do it up brown.

"I got my clothes all organized. I figured my budget, and fortunately I do have enough to live on. I had planned it well through the years.

MOVIES, PLAYS

"I saw the movies I wanted to see, and the plays I'd missed. I'm caught up with everything.

"But now, let's face it—I'm miserable! Everything is in shape, and I've slept, myself out—and I'm bored to death! Last month I took a trip I've always wanted to take, but it wasn't nearly the fun I expected it to be.

"I guess this business of having all the time in the world isn't what it's cracked up to be."

Yes, a life full of leisure is like a menu full of dessert. That may be hard for you to believe this minute, but the day will doubtless come when you will learn it all too well.

* * *

The answer is to plan now against that day. Start now thinking of extra-curricular hobbies or interests which you can develop as you go along.

It's well known that you have to plan financially against your retirement, but remember you also save to plan emotionally and vocationally.

START READING

One good step is to start reading about various job possibilities, and exploring them while you have time.

If you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, I'll send you a list of books on planning for retirement.

Then, when the day comes that you have leisure to burn, you won't have to burn it! You'll be too busy having fun!

Romeo Parking Being Studied

Planners, Businessmen to Seek Accessible Land for Off-Street Lots

ROMEO — The problem of inadequate parking facilities in downtown Romeo was brought to a head at a meeting of the village council.

Edward B. Emmett, president of Romeo Retail Businessmen's Assn. presented an analysis of the tax revenue derived from local business, correlating it with the need for additional parking areas downtown, at the Monday night meeting.

According to his report, there should be 2,486 parking spaces to service the $29,720,000 shopping potential in the Romeo area. He pointed out that 40 per cent of the village tax revenue was from local business, and urged the village to act to protect that investment.

As the first step in a three-pronged program, Emmett requested that the village Planning Commission work with businessmen to study the acquisition of accessible property for parking. The request was granted, with the stipulation that a progress report be given at the special May 28 meeting of the Council.

Also slated for consideration at the special meeting is the question of progress on the resurfacing of Croswell and Pleasant streets. Representatives of the Walter Lehner & Son Co. will be asked to report on plans for completion of the project.

Two requests for rezoning of properties on South Main street from residential to business were referred to the Planning Commission. Edgar Priest, commission secretary, said in 30 to 60 days a recommendation on the zoning laws will be forthcoming from the commission.

One new subdivision and a landscaped luxury trailer park, to be located in the Ewell street section of town, were approved by the council. The trailer park issue had been a subject of controversy at Council meetings for several months.

Studebaker Dealers Complete Driveaway

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—In the auto industry's biggest "dealer driveaway" in six years, 1,200 Studebaker dealers drove three million dollars worth of cars out of South Bend yesterday.

* * *

Harold E. Churchill, Studebaker general manager, and William A. Keller, general sales manager, called on the group to work to win "the share of the market which our new cars and trucks justify."

Churchill told the dealers "there is a healthy niche in the auto market for Studebaker, but we have to fight for it."

Troy Mayor Due to Hear of 'Bad Hombre' Costello

TROY — When Troy's Mayor Frank Costello visits Milan on Mayor's Exchange day next Monday, he'll be hearing about the man who was Milan's most notorious resident, another Frank Costello.

The Costello who was a New York City gambler recently left Milan, after serving his term in the federal penitentiary located there. Troy's mayor claims no relation to the New Yorker who had been convicted of income tax evasion.

The city commission has appropriated $300 for Mayor's Exchange day, to entertain Milan's delegation and sent the Troy mayor and others to Milan

Accompanying Mayor Costello will be his wife, the city manager and his wife, several school board members, and several school children, some commissioners may also attend, but final plans are not complete.

From Milan will come Village President Grant Jones, the chief of police, their wives, and others, 16 in all.

They will be shown several industrial plants, dairy farms, schools and churches. At noon, they will join with other mayoral delegations and city officials of communities in this area at a Northwood Inn luncheon.

Dinner is planned for them at the Sylvan Glen Golf Course with Troy City commissioners.

Introduce Gas Bill After Lengthy Debate

OTTAWA, Can. (AP)—The Canadian government's controversial bill to help finance a 375-million-dollar transcontinental natural gas pipeline was introduced in Parliament just before dawn today after 12 tumultuous hours of preliminary wrangling.

The administration's Liberal Party forced through a rarely-used closure rule limiting each speaker to 20 minutes. The opposition Progressive Conservative and Socialist CCF parties threw up a barrage of delaying motions and forced nine votes.

The session vacillated from angry bedlam to exuberant singing. When the final vote was taken at 4:41 a. m., only three members had left to get some sleep.

Opponents charged the bill is a "sell-out" to a U. S.-controlled pipeline company.

The final vote introducing the bill was 156-55.

The next test comes tomorrow with debate on the bill itself. The measure must go through three readings, and with the government having set a June 7 deadline for final passage, there was considerable further use of closure would be necessary.

Romeo Civil Defense Test Alert Tonight

ROMEO—The local 75-man Civil Defense Corps, headed by Director Maurice Foltz, plans a test alert at 8 p.m. tonight.

A steady three-minute blast of the fire siren will signal the disaster approach. An all-clear will follow some 45 minutes to one hour later, indicated by two 30-second blasts of the siren, 30 seconds apart.

Twenty "casualties" have been advised to take positions at strategic points in the village to test rescue training by CD corpsmen. All CD crews will wear white overalls and white helmet liners.

The village has been divided into quarters with Main and St. Clair Sts. as the dividing lines. Each segment has its own command post which will be staffed with a full complement of CD personnel.

Higher Prices for Cherries?

Gov. Williams to Urge U.S. Aid for Growers, Purchase for Schools

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Gov. Williams will seek federal aid to get Michigan cherry growers a higher price for their crop.

Williams said he will urge the government to buy more Michigan cherries for its school lunch program.

Cherry growers say they will lose money unless they get more than the 4½ cents a pound they received last year.

Williams' promise to seek aid came on a "report to the people" tour of this rich fruit growing center this week.

The governor and members of his Democratic Administrative Board appeared on a local television program and later at a public question-and-answer session.

Democrats forestalled needling by Republicans by adopting tactics the GOP has used in other cities where Williams and his administrative board have appeared.

The Democrats bought newspaper space to ask of Republican Party leaders questions bearing on campaign funds and the intra-party fight between Don Leonard and Mayor Albert Cobo of Detroit, rival candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Stock Market on the Rebound

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was higher today in early dealings. The rise was a rebound from the severe depression of the past two days.

* * *

All divisions of the market were higher with the exception of the steady motors and mixed chemicals. Best acting areas were oils, railroads, steels, some coppers and the aluminums, which are talking about higher prices for the lightweight metal.

Gains were up between 1 and 2 points at the best while losses went to a point.

* * *

The market in the last two days has been depressed by the Russian attempt to convince the world that it is reducing its military forces. Late yesterday the market rallied with a good show of spirit, and that buoyancy carried over today at the start.

General Motors, which announced a further cut in production, opened on 6,000 shares off ¼ at 41⅞ and continued trading around that price. Chrysler was up ⅛ at 62¾ on a starting block of 1,000 shares. Studebaker-Packard was steady as government officials searched for some defense work for the company.

* * *

Houston Oil, up 4½ yesterday, gained 3 at 163¼ today on a block of 2,000 shares as Atlantic Refining got a favorable tax ruling in its proposed purchase of Houston.

Twentieth Century-Fox lost ¾ at 27¾ on 1,200 shares. The company late yesterday declared its regular dividend of 40 cents. Loew's, which has been quite strong lately, was up ⅝ at 25 on 3,000 shares after starting on 5,000 at 24¾.

* * *

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off 90 cents at $184.80. The previous day the average lost $2.20.

Prices Steady for Most Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — Steady prices ruled for most grains in relatively quiet dealings on the Board of Trade today.

* * *

Old crop soybeans jumped several cents at one time but otherwise price changes were limited to small fractions. While the urgent selling of the previous session appeared to have let up, it wasn't replaced by any aggressive demand.

Buying in old crop soybeans largely reflected an advance in soybean meal, which in turn was based on larger exports of this commodity.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ⅝ higher, May $2.27¼; corn ⅛ lower to higher, May $1.48¾; oats ⅜ to ¾ higher, May 67; rye, unchanged to ½ lower, July $1.25¼; soybeans, ¾ lower to 2 cents higher, May $3.22; lard, 3 cents lower to 7 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $13.07.

Lumber Camp Ain't What It Used to Be

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP)—The lumberjack—once a hard-bitten, rip-roaring character of the North Woods—looks more and more like the wellbred suburban commuter.

Loggers wear plaid shirts instead of gray flannel suits, but they can commute to work in their cars and enjoy a home life as routine as any 9 to 5 white collar worker.

The oldtime lumberjack lived in camp all winter, darning his own sox and underwear to save money. Then he'd spend his earnings in a wild three days when he did hit town.

Today's logger is likely to live in town or on a farm. He drives to work in the forest over distances that once kept his grandfather in camp the winter long.

BINGES TOO CLOSE

Logging camps, once a familiar center of woods life in the Upper Peninsula, have dwindled to a fraction of their former size. Only a few large camps now have many as 75 or 80 men. Logging settlements with 125 to 150 men once were commonplace. Now a camp is considered good sized with 25 men.

There's one aspect of modern logging that didn't arise in the oldtime camps. Coming of auto travel, say some loggers, has increased absenteeism by making taverns more accessible. Lumberjacks used to have to wait until they got out of camp to go on a binge.

Life in a logging camp was always rough and ready. In September living quarters were set up and roads cut into the forest to timber stands, crews' arrived in October to start cutting.

INDUSTRIAL OPERATION

From fall to spring timber was stacked and hauled out on the ice covered roads. When spring thaws came, loggers put on caulked boots and took to riding the logs on flood swollen streams to the mills.

New and better machines changed logging from a way of life to an industrial operation. Bulldozers built roads that made it possible to move timber from the stump direct to the mill.

Power loaders and logging trucks took over more the manual work. Tractors replaced horses, power saws were used instead of the hand drawn crosscut saw.

Timber tracts are smaller now—but operators use only half the men needed 40 years ago to turn out the same volume of timber.

"An old Jack wouldn't know his business today," said Carl Sawyer of the Sawyer - Stoll Timber Co. in Escanaba.

"A power saw will cut twice as much timber in a day as the old cedar saw and it cuts the stump much lower. The timber was so heavy we'd get two or three million feet to a 40-acre tract. Now it's a very good hardwood 40 that has a half million or 600,000 feet."

* * *

They tell the story that timber was once so dense a woman who saw a cedar block pavement in Gladstone remarked, "The trees were certainly thick before they cut them down here, weren't they?"
