Temperature Tumbles to 3 Below Zero Here

Season's Low May Be Neared Again Tonight

Mercury Won't Reach Much Above 16 Friday as Winter Starts Hard

Winter — not yet one-day old—didn't take long to leave its icy trademark on Pontiac with a 3-degrees-below-zero reading early today.

It was the coldest reading so far this winter.

Some residents of Pontiac suburbs gazed in amazement to see some readings even lower than the 3 degrees below zero recorded in downtown Pontiac at 6 a.m.

Continued cold is in store, the Weather Bureau said. The long, thin red tube in the thermometer is expected to plummet again tonight around the bone-chilling zero mark.

Winter officially started at 7:37 p.m. yesterday.

Friday's high is expected to climb to around 16, accompanied by some winds that might make it feel much colder.

There may be some snow flurries, too.

Slippery roads in Pontiac sent two persons to the hospital in the last 24 hours.

Ronald J. Boyl, 21, of 52 Hildale St., suffered possible internal injuries when his car smashed into a parked car on E. Tennyson Street a few minutes after midnight.

He was in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today.

Police said Boyl lost control of his car due to snow on the road.

SKIDDED INTO TREE

Mrs. Albert Macadaeg, 24, of 151 Jordan St., was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday with face cuts received when her car skidded on icy South East Boulevard into a tree.

★ ★ ★

She was in satisfactory condition today.

The previous low this season recorded in Pontiac was 1 above on Dec. 13.

Some early risers this morning discovered that their automobile batteries had fallen victim to the season's coldest spell yet.

Once the engines turned over, however, motorists were relieved that roads, for the most part, were

Waterford Woman Hit by Car, Killed

A Waterford Township woman was struck and killed by a car yesterday evening as she was walking across Dixie Highway toward the Waterford Post Office to do her Christmas mailing.

Mrs. John S. Olszewski, 58, of 4192 Ledgestone St., was killed instantly when she stepped in front of a car driven by Gary Wilmot, 17, of 84 W. Fairmont St.

The youth told state police he saw the victim too late to stop on the snowy road.

Witnesses said Wilmot swerved in an effort to avoid hitting her, but Mrs. Olszewski jumped the same way as the car. Troopers said Wilmot's car was traveling at about 35 miles an hour.

Yule Trees Sold Out

NEWTON, Iowa (AP) — The bright Christmas season might be a little bleak in some Newton homes. It seems there isn't a Christmas tree to be bought in town. Merchants said Wednesday they have been sold out since last Saturday. More than 3,000 trees have been sold.

Blast Kills Father of 10, Hurts 3 in Troy

PILED HIGH IN PORT HURON — The snow was shoulder high to a small boy in Port Huron following a storm that by last night had dumped another 15 inches in that city. Stephen Polovich plays at shoveling snow while adults toiled hours digging out. It was the second heavy snowfall in Port Huron in 15 days, with a total of more than 30 inches so far this winter.

Construction Mishap Strikes Below School

Keego Harbor Official Milton Parry Is Among Injured Workers

A father of 10 was killed and three other construction workers injured today in an explosion in the basement of an elementary school under construction in Troy.

One of the injured was Milton Parry, 39, a Keego Harbor councilman. His injuries apparently were not serious.

Fatally injured was Joseph J. Foreman, 40, of Detroit.

At William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak was Donald Gagnon, 54, of Detroit, listed in serious condition.

Treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was Parry, 2952 Moss St., Keego Harbor, and James Hennessee, 34, of St. Clair Shores. Hennessee was placed in a wheel chair and taken for X-rays for possible broken bones.

The explosion occurred shortly before noon in the boiler room of the Leonard Elementary School, nearing completion at 4401 Tallman Road.

The four men testing the new boiler, starting it up for the first time, Hennessee told Troy Police Chief David Gratopp. The boiler is heated by gas.

Apparently either gas or hot air under pressure exploded within the lower bonnet of the boiler, said Gratopp, sending the four crashing against a wall four feet away.

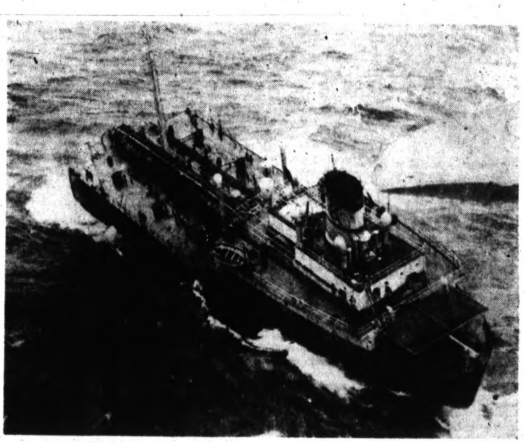

Gratopp said investigators were checking to determine the exact nature of the explosion.

There was no fire. Only minor damage occurred to the boiler.

The force of the explosion drove five bolts from the rear of the bonnet through a concrete block wall opposite the four men.

Foreman was employed by the Standish Electric Co. of Detroit. Parry and Hennessee are employes of the Kropf Plumbing & Heating Co. of Detroit and Gagnon works for Ray Burner Distributors of Detroit.

Ray Burner Distributors sold the boiler unit to the school district, according to Robert Marsano, project superintendent for the board of education.

MARGIN OF SURVIVAL — When violent seas ripped the 503-foot tanker Pine Ridge in two Wednesday, the ship's stern section mercifully remained afloat and upright. Because it did, at least 28 of the 37 men aboard were reported alive today as rescue operations began. The other part of the American vessel capsized and most of it slipped beneath the surface of the gale-battered Atlantic. The object at the right is the tip of a wing pontoon on the Coast Guard plane from which the picture was made.

Stern Held 28 Safely

Pluck Survivors From Tanker

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI)—At least 28 seamen aboard the stern half of a tanker broken in two by heavy waves were winning their battle against the sea today but seven others, apparently including the veteran skipper and several officers, were missing.

★ ★ ★

Survivors picked off the rolling hulk by helicopters from the Navy carrier Valley Forge said they spent a rough night in the stern section but were not worried because of confidence the compartment bulkhead would hold.

Helicopters from the carrier lifted survivors from the stern all morning long and prospects appeared good for rescue of all 28.

By noon 13 survivors had been rescued.

But the outlook was bleak for the captain, Clark Snyder, 42, of Havertown, Pa., his first mate, second mate, third mate, quartermaster, radio operator and steward.

The coast Guard said it had been established that there were 35 men aboard the ship and 28 were saved in the stern section.

OFFICERS IN BRIDGE

But the hapless officers apparently were in the bridge, on the forward part of the ship, when it broke in two shortly before noon Wednesday with such suddenness that the radio operator was unable to get out a distress call.

The stern gave the appearance today of a stubby, seaworthy vessel but the bow plunged partially under the waves shortly after the breakup and no sign of life was seen aboard the front section after that.

The skipper of another tanker in the area, about 125 miles east of Cape Hatteras, N.C., said "the seas were sometimes up to 20 feet high last night . . . I don't think anybody could live in it."

Shortly before dark Wednesday night, one rescue ship said it spotted five men in the 74-degree water with life jackets but they never again were seen.

Little Eddie Hangs On, Gets a Gift

An 8-year-old girl carried the spirit of Christmas yesterday to the bedside of a boy doctors fear might not live to Dec. 25.

The gift which Bridget Denihan, 160 Judson St., a second grader at St. Frederick's School, brought to 2-year-old Edward Reno of White Lake Township added to the mounting array of presents under the tiny Christmas tree that decorates the boy's room in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Edward has been in critical condition with extensive internal injuries after swallowing lye in his mother's kitchen six days before what was to be his first real Christmas. Attendants said he still was holding his own today.

Bridget was among 100 grade-schoolers from St. Frederick's who went to the hospital yesterday afternoon to sing Christmas carols for the patients.

Although she does not know Edward, Bridget had been touched when she heard about his plight and she brought him a pair of pajamas as a present.

The little girl was allowed to tiptoe into Edward's room where his mother Mrs. Lucy Reno, 2400 Bogie Lake Road, was sitting by his bedside.

"I and a few other girls had wanted to sing carols in Eddie's room, but they told us he was too sick," said Bridget. "So I handed the pajamas to his mother. We sang carols afterwards outside the door in the lobby."

Mrs. Reno, the mother of three other boys, and Edward's father Forest, who works for a rubbish disposal service, expressed gratitude for the sympathy of well-wishers.

★ ★ ★

"The hospital, the children who sang the carols in the hospital — everyone — has been wonderful to us," Mrs. Reno said. "We're going to try to have a regular Christmas for the rest of the boys, but I'm afraid it won't be much of a Christmas without Eddie."

Mercy College Will Move to Farmington Township

A $25-million campus will be built in Farmington Township by Detroit's Mercy College, it was announced today.

The 19-year-old school for girls will move its entire operation to a 240-acre site on the east side of Middle Belt Road between 11- and 12-Mile Roads.

Announcement of the plans were made today by Sister Mary Lucille Middleton, R.S.M., president of the college, and Mother Mary Nicholas Mulhall, R.S.M., mother superior of the province which serves Michigan, Indiana and Iowa.

The site of the new campus, to be known as "Maryland," was purchased by the college in 1959. Ground is expected to be broken for the new school Sept. 24, 1961, the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Detroit school, located at Southfield and Outer Drive.

No future plans have been announced for the present facility, built on a 40-acre site at an estimated cost of $1.3 million.

The new site was chosen, according to school officials, because of its accessibility to Detroit and its suburbs. The college will be 11½ miles from the James Couzens extension of the John C. Lodge expressway.

Preliminary drawings of the first of several administration buildings to be constructed at the campus have been prepared by the architectural firm of Donaldson & Meier.

Other facilities to be constructed include classrooms, an auditorium, library, fine arts building, science building, student teaching laboratory school, home economics building, dormitories, dining hall, student Center, single dwellings for faculty housing and a chaplin's residence.

The new campus will allow an

Summerfield Explains New Process

Pontiac Gets Peek at 'TV' Mail

By PETE LOCHBILER

Pontiac yesterday got the first public look at Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's plan for "televised" mail of the future.

A special film strip, prepared for President Eisenhower, was a highlight of Summerfield's appearance before a capacity crowd of nearly 400 at a luncheon for Pontiac service clubs sponsored by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Although many words have been written recently about what the Post Office Department calls "speed mail," heretofore only the President, his cabinet and a group of Washington correspondents had seen the filming of the process by which mail is now being sent across the country with the speed of television.

Summerfield said the electronic system could increase the speed and volume of written communication at the same time preserving the secrecy of the mails.

A few governmental offices are now using the system on a trial basis, Summerfield said, utilizing the broadcasting facilities of commercial television stations.

Messages written on special forms are fed into giant machines, wherein the messages are televised

FAA Won't Order Change in N.Y. Air Traffic Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Aviation Agency plans no change in the air traffic control system at New York where two airliners collided last Friday, on the basis of present information about the crash.

However, it was made plain that if the investigation by the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) develops information to the contrary, changes could be made.

An FAA spokesman was asked if the New York accident would have occurred if a new three-dimensional radar which the FAA is now developing had been available.

All radar now used in air traffic control shows only a two-dimensional picture; it gives location and distance but not height of individual planes.

He replied that with 3D radar which may not be ready for from three to five years yet, it would have been possible to give "positive" instructions to the aircraft involved rather than the present limitation of merely advising pilots on the basis of somewhat incomplete information.

Radio tapes released Wednesday show the United Airlines jet streaked off course just before colliding with the Trans World airliner over Staten Island, but the recordings offer no clue as to why.

The tapes, released by the Federal Aviation Agency, disclose that the La Guardia field controller tried, but failed, to reach the TWA Super Constellation after warning it of the approaching jet.

An instant later came the voice of the radar-scanning La Guardia controller saying: "I think we have trouble here with a TWA Connie. There's something wrong! He's not moving or anything. He might have got hit by another airplane."

In Washington Wednesday night FAA Administrator E. R. Quesada said the Preston holding stack —where planes circle while waiting to land—and the Idlewild radar were working normally at the time of the crash. The jet was headed for Idlewild, while the

Sheared Sheep to Aid Kennedy, Gets Bid to Ball

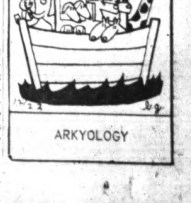

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — A 13-year-old Coleville, Calif., girl who bankrolled a television speech for President-Elect John F. Kennedy with the proceeds from her sheep-shearing is going to get a Christmas present—an invitation to Kennedy's inauguration Jan. 20.

During the recent election campaign, Sue Ellen Fullstone of Coleville sheared sheep for Kennedy. When she accumulated $100, she bought time on the local television station and made a speech in Kennedy's behalf.

Press Secretary Pierre Salinger said today that at the request of Kennedy, the inaugural committee in Washington had sent an invitation to Sue Ellen for the inauguration. She will have a seat in the stands on Capitol Hill and attend the inaugural ball.

Outlook for 1961 Pleases Donner

He Points to Soft Spots in Economy, However

DETROIT (UPI)—Frederick G. Donner, chairman of the board of General Motors, said today in a yearend statement that 1960 was a good year for the automobile industry and there is good reason for confidence in the outlook for 1961.

Donner's statement said 1960 was a good year for business in general, "although in recent months the forward progress of the economy has been influenced by a number of mixed trends."

The GM chief said employment has been at record levels for the fourth quarter, but, at the same time the level of unemployment remained "higher than was normal prior to 1958."

He said total volume of sales was close to levels estimated a year ago. He also said that the adjustment in manufacturers' inventories has proceeded on what he called "a broad front."

The cautiously worded statement on the outlook for the coming year took recognition of the recessional movement which has been a major political issue in recent months.

Donner said the demand for goods and services has been well maintained in 1960 but added, "there remain few excesses and imbalances in the economy which require further correction."

He said the auto industry sales results were "within three to four per cent of the typical forecast" made a year ago.

PROUD OF INDUSTRY

Donner said the industry could take great pride in the 1960 record which saw total retail sales of 7,675,000 cars and trucks, the second largest year in the industry's history. The record year was 1955 when 9,169,276 units were sold.

He said retail passenger car sales of about 6 million are about 10 per cent above 1959 levels.

Donner credited the industry ability to "have the type of cars and trucks customers want to buy in the right places at the right time" with the near-record sales figure.

He said General Motors entered the new year with, "the most attractive and broadest range of products it has ever offered."

Donner added that despite rising cost pressures the prices for comparable models have remained unchanged or been reduced since the 1959 models were introduced.

Donner termed buyer acceptance of the GM line of 1961 models "most gratifying." He said with consumer incomes at all-time levels and "with continued consumer confidence" the industry's and GM's 1960 sales could be matched or improved in 1961.

Donner also said GM, with planned expenditures at home and abroad of $1.25 billion in 1961 for plant, machinery, equipment and tooling, is looking forward confidently to the new year.

Philippine Airliner Crashes, Killing 28

MANILA (AP) — A Philippine airliner carrying college students home for Christmas crashed before dawn today moments after taking off from Cebu. It carried 28 of the 37 persons aboard to a flaming death.

The nine survivors suffered burns, fractures and cuts. One woman was pulled unconscious from the wreckage in critical condition.

Just 29 days ago another DC3 of the same airline on a night flight smashed into a mountain on Mindoro Island, south of Manila, killing all 33 on board.

Seeks Warrant, Charges Bribe

Vice Mayor T. C. Smith in Flint Is Accused of Liquor Favors

From Our News Wires

FLINT—Genesee County Prosecutor Jerome F. O'Rourke today sought a warrant against Flint Vice Mayor Thomas C. Smith on bribery charges.

Smith, 35, was charged specifically with accepting $200 in cash and the pledge of an additional $6,800 from George Townsend "under an agreement and understanding that his vote and that of a majority of the city commission be given in favor of an application by Townsend for a Class B liquor license in the 9th ward."

The arrest late Wednesday afternoon followed an investigation by state police and O'Rourke.

Smith was taken before Flint Municipal Judge Raymond C. French for arraignment on the bribery charge and demanded examination which was set for Jan. 4. The vice mayor was then released on $1,000 bond.

Smith, a barber who has operated his own shop since 1950, was elected to his first two-year term on the nine-member city commission in the Nov. 8 election. He defeated incumbent Norman Craine in the primary.

Smith was elected vice mayor by his fellow commissioners following the election.

Girardin Named Chief Probation Officer in Detroit

Ray Girardian, whose rise to the highest ranks of Michigan newspapermen began at The Pontiac Press, today was appointed chief probation officer of Detroit's Recorders Court.

Born in Detroit, Girardian was enrolled in a prelaw course at the University of Michigan when he joined The Pontiac Press as a police reporter in 1929.

Before joining the Times in 1931, Girardian worked as managing editor of the Birmingham Eccentric.

Girardin succeeds Kenneth J. Creagh, who retired last summer. His starting salary is $11,235.

School Board to Fill Post

Special Meeting Called to Name Administrative Assistant Here

The Pontiac Board of Education called a special board meeting for 5 p.m. today at the administration building, 40 Patterson St.

Major reason for the meeting will be selection of a man to fill the recently created position of administrative assistant.

In a 24-page report submitted to the board in September, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, school superintendent, outlined some 17 major areas of administrative responsibility which "need the attention an assistant could provide."

The new position was suggested after a survey of school districts in 20 Michigan cities comparable in size to Pontiac showed Pontiac ranking last in administrative expenditure.

"The basic average budget expenditure for administration is about 4 per cent; our average is 2.2 per cent," explained Dr. Philip J. Proud, assistant superintendent.

Tonight the board is expected to approve a man for the post.

Also on the agenda is a brief discussion of objections to a board decision last week refusing to remove the principal of Whitfield Elementary School.

A group of parents had requested that principal Margaret Luther, 50, be removed. The board supported Miss Luther's position after investigating parents' complaints.

Administrators will also report on progress of an appeal before the Michigan State Tenure Commission by former Herrington School teacher Mrs. Isa Vogel whom the board refused to reinstate last spring.

Jail-Break Pair Linked to Ohio Market Holdup

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A young couple, believed to be involved in a Michigan jail break, held up a meat market Wednesday night and escaped with $50.

Detective Sgt. Ray Vetter said the man and the woman, each carrying a revolver, match the description of Mrs. Brenda Ann Sargent, 26, of Highland Park, Mich., and her husband, Thomas, 29.

Mrs. Sargent walked into the Livingston County Jail in Howell, Mich. on Monday and pulled a snub nosed revolver. She ordered the jailer to release her husband who was held on a charge of breaking into a Brighton auto agency. The husband slugged the jailer and the two fled.

3 Senators Fear Red Influence in Africa

Urge Jack to Back Algerian Freedom

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy will be urged by three senators just back from a tour of Africa to back independence for Algeria lest the Communists extend their influence to that country and then to the entire continent.

"Africa is still reserving judgment on us and has great expectations of the Kennedy administration," said Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, expected to succeed Kennedy as chairman of the African subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Church said Africa's final decision on whether to side with the West would be based in part on this country's stand on independence in Algeria and elsewhere.

"If we fail them, I'm afraid all Africa will slip away," he said. He termed the French-Algerian struggle the "most critical problem" in the turbulent African continent.

INFLUENCE WOULD GROW

"If the war goes on much longer, the likelihood is not only that Russian and Chinese Communists will move in behind the Algerian rebels, but that their influence will grow markedly in all other African countries," Church declared.

Church and Sens. Gale McGee, D-Wyoming, and Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, returned Wednesday from a five-week African tour that covered 22,500 miles and 16 countries.

Traveling with them was Ted Kennedy, the president-elect's brother.

The senators expect to give their recommendations to the incoming chief executive.

Church told a news conference after his return that emotions about Algeria run deep in tropical Africa and "all our economic and technical aid will go for naught if in the showdown the African leaders believe we stand behind the old colonial powers and their policies."

Church said recent U.S. abstentions in the United Nations on the Algerian question "have done us very serious damage in Africa."

"I am at a loss to explain why we joined such notorious colonial powers as Spain, Portugal, South Africa, France and Great Britain in voting against a resolution sponsored by 46 Afro-Asian countries calling for an end to colonialism."

Church said Kennedy's Senate speech several years ago, supporting independence of Algeria, made a great impression in Africa.

He said Africans are "still inclined to think he believes in the cause of African independence" and are withholding judgment on the new administration.

WANTS U.A.R. AID

Moss said in an interview that he would recommend that the United States revive its interest in helping the United Arab Republic build the huge Aswan dam on the Nile River.

He said the dam has become a "great symbol" to African peoples in their drive for a better life and it would be a mistake for the United States not to help with the $2-billion project.

Russia has given substantial aid to start work on the dam after the U.S. withdrew from the project.

McGhee, who skipped several North African countries to spend more time in the Congo, said "We must put our policy on a 'For Africa' basis." Africans, he said, "deeply resent the fact that we react to their problems only when we find a Communist behind a banana tree."

City Gets Sneak Preview of Televised Mail System

and broadcast via the commercial stations to the designated reception point. There another machine duplicates the message in its original handwriting.

INSURES SECRECY

Much of the complicated machinery is designed to insure secrecy, Summerfield explained.

The messages are sealed by the sender. Once in the machine they are mechanically unsealed and opened before being televised. It is because television transmits an image that the messages can be duplicated in the original handwriting at the reception point. The received messages are sealed before postal employes get them for delivery.

Summerfield said that an electronic postal system was the logical answer to the ever-increasing flow of mail within the United States.

Now producing more than 63 billion pieces of mail annually —two-thirds of all the mail in the world — the United States nevertheless is stepping up mail to such an extent that Summerfield predicted the total load would double within 10 to 15 years.

"What is the country going to do?" he asked. "Will we double the 500,000 employes of the Post Office Department to handle this load or will we turn to technology for a less expensive, faster and more efficient answer?"

Summerfield noted that a speed mail system would be a national advantage in event of a military emergency.

The system in use at present was designed by International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. under contract to the Post Office Department.

It's most impressive application occurred a few weeks ago when a message of Summerfield's was transmitted from Washington to New Jersey, not by commercial television, but by the satellite Echo, which sent it 18 times around the world before it arrived at its destination, all within a few seconds.

Summerfield arrived in Michigan only yesterday morning to spend the holidays with his family in Flint. He was accompanied to the luncheon and introduced by Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press.

A grandfather of five and a Flint auto dealer before being summoned to Washington by Eisenhower in 1952, Summerfield touched on highlights of his eight years in Washington.

The 61-year-old postmaster is the only one of Eisenhower's original cabinet appointees still in service. Only two other postmaster generals in the nation's history served as many years as Summerfield.

In the area of finances, Summerfield's main concern over the years has been to reduce the annual deficits at which the Post Office Department traditionally has been operated.

CRITICIZES CONGRESS

He made his point once more by telling the Elks Temple audience that postal deficits from the end of World War II through 1959 amounted to almost one-fourth the $26 billion increase in the national debt.

On this subject, Summerfield criticized the Democratic Congress for upping postal expenses over revenue increases.

He said Congress granted salary increases, approved higher subsidies to airlines for carrying air mail and higher rates to railroads for regular mail, but hiked postage rates only once.

Summerfield said that Eisenhower repeatedly asked Congress for higher postage rates, only to see the bids die in committee.

Proud of the fact that the annual postal deficit had been reduced from $720 million in 1952 to $376 million last year, Summerfield blamed the disinterest of Congress in postage hikes for an anticipated $840 million deficit this year.

During his eight years in Washington, Summerfield noted, 5,400 new post offices have been built across the country, the first new post offices since 1938.

The new buildings—more than 375 of them located in Michigan — were financed by private capital under the lease-purchase arrangements.

Summerfield listed several other advances of the past eight years:

Mechanization of the postal system, one-day metropolitan area delivery service and the delivery by air on a "space available" basis of more than 2 billion pieces of regular mail a year.

Summerfield said he expected railroad interests would make a renewed attack on the latter innovation during the coming session of Congress.

ABERDEEN, Md. (AP)—There will be neither a merry Christmas nor a New Year at Aberdeen proving ground this year, Sgt. 1.C. Merry L. Christmas won't arrive here for assignment to the 80th ordnance group until Jan. 3, 1961, and Spec. 5 Raymond W. Newyear was transferred to the Army Reserve Dec. 9.

Tragic Blaze Carrier's 43rd

42 Other Fires Aboard Constellation This Year Put Out Easily

NEW YORK (AP)—There had been 42 fires this year aboard the aircraft carrier Constellation before the disastrous blaze that ravaged the huge vessel and killed 49 men.

★ ★ ★

Navy Lt. Vito Milano, in charge of hull construction on the ship, told a Navy board of inquiry Wednesday that the earlier fires had all been small ones. And in each case workers had put out the fire before dockside firemen had arrived.

Another witness before the three-man court probing the Monday fire that did damage estimated at $75 million to the giant carrier indicated a freak chain of events caused the disaster.

RECONSTRUCT EVENTS

The purpose of the court, in the words of its senior member, Vice Adm. Bernard Austin, president of the Naval War College, is to "try and develop step by step a picture of just what happened."

Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh, who directed his department's massive assault against the fire, is expected to testify.

Cavanagh had criticized the use of wooden platforms in scaffolding aboard the carrier. The Navy Wednesday set up a special board to determine whether metal should replace wood in shipbuilding.

Mercury Reaches -3; Low Mark for Season

somewhat clear compared to those Wednesday morning.

Elsewhere in Michigan the weatherman was even more cruel. He sent the mercury falling to 8 below in Alpena and 5 below in Ypsilanti.

The western Lower Peninsula escaped the extremely low temperatures, but areas bordering Lake Michigan received more snow which piled up to 8 inches in some places.

Port Huron, probably hit the hardest of any Lower Peninsula community, was still digging out of the last accumulation of 15 inches.

Meanwhile, some ski resorts wish they had that much snow. Iron Mountain ski lodge operators said they were canceling some Christmas weekend reservations because of a scant half-inch of ground cover.

There was so little snow around Iron Mountain yesterday that a grass fire broke out and burned a radio transmitting cable, knocking the station off the air.

Navy Copters Pluck Survivors From Ship

N.C., an oiler rescued by helicopter, said that although the seas were running high and "the weather was pretty bad," "we had three bulkheads in front of us" that provided water-tight compartments to keep them afloat.

Lewis said he did not see the captain and first mate during the time he was aboard the stern section.

The disaster might have gone unnoticed had not the Norwegian freighter Artemis seen in the area. The Artemis saw the ship breaking up and radioed a frantic SOS.

10 OTHERS HAVE SNAPPED

Ten similar "T2" tankers have snapped in two with a loss of 41 lives.

It was the third sea tragedy for Snyder, who twice had ships torpedoed from under him during World War II.

Crewmen could be seen walking on the stern's decks and during the night, lights could be seen.

'WE ARE OK'

Capt. Roland Parkhurst of the Esso James Town said he sent a blinker message to the stern section just before dusk Wednesday and "their answer was 'We are OK.' "

Midland Editor Stricken at His Home in Florida

MIDLAND (UPI) — Philip T. Rich, editor and publisher of the Midland Daily News, suffered a heart attack Wednesday at his winter home at Clermont, Fla. He was taken to the Clermont Hospital after the seizure. Rich had arrived in Florida Tuesday afternoon to join his wife for the holidays.

Asks Biweekly Meetings for City Commission

BIRMINGHAM — A suggestion that city commission meetings be held every other week rather than weekly will be studied by the city attorney.

City Commissioner William E. Roberts has requested a report from attorney Dean G. Beier concerning changes that would have to be made in the city charter to have the meetings rescheduled.

Roberts said shorter meetings in recent weeks have indicated fewer meetings could be held.

Commission meetings next week and the following week will be on and New Year's legally fall on Tuesday since both Christmas Monday.

A public hearing on a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance will be held at the city commission meeting Jan. 9.

The proposed amendment would affect lots with frontage on two streets.

It provides that when a rear lot abuts a street, accessory buildings shall be set back from the rear lot line the same distance as the front setbacks.

The City Commission has directed that downtown street sweeping be resumed in the spring.

Sunday street sweeping was authorized in September 1959 on a trial basis for eight weeks but was discontinued last year because of a wet spring and lack of provisions in the budget.

During the trial, merchants cooperated by sweeping litter from sidewalks on Saturday night.

City Manager L. R. Gare told the commission that the cost of the Sunday sweeping could be absorbed in the current budget of the department of public works.

Cranbrook School is among 15 independent secondary schools in the nation that will receive grants from the Donner Foundation, it was announced today.

The foundation announced that grants totaling $4.5 million will be awarded, $300,000 to each school to establish teaching chairs.

Robert A. Maes, foundation president, said "The purpose is to establish a high salary level for faculty at secondary schools which are among those now setting teaching standards."

"It will also serve to release salary funds that can be used to increase other salaries," he said.

The foundation was established by William H. Donner, president of Donner Steel Corp. in Buffalo, in 1945 in memory of his son Joseph.

Since then grants have totaled more than $14 million.

FAA Won't Switch NY Air Guide Setup

TWA plane was being brought into La Guardia.

Quesada said Idlewild's approach control was "prepared and ready" to guide the jet into the airport but could not locate the DC8 in or near the pattern to which it had been assigned.

Federal authorities previously had said the jet—Flight 826—was about 11 miles off course when it collided with TWA's Flight 266.

The recordings also disclosed that, with the TWA plane gone from the radarscope, La Guardia called Idlewild: "This is La Guardia. I think we've got an emergency. Nobody declared anything but who is that jet or fast-moving aircraft that went from Preston toward Flatbush (in Brooklyn)?"

"From Preston toward Flatbush?" Idlewild asked.

"Yes, he's at Flatbush right now," said La Guardia.

"A fast-moving aircraft going where?" asked Idlewild. "Do you know his destination?"

"I don't know," replied La Guardia. "I think he may have —now listen to this! He may have hit one of our aircraft. We're not sure."

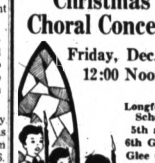

A pause, and then La Guardia saying: "All right, now we got troubles, but we're not sure of it. We lost contact with a TWA, 266. I believe his number is. He was on a collision course with an aircraft, an unknown aircraft heading northeast from Preston toward Flatbush.

Later, Idlewild told La Guardia: "He (the jet) was last cleared to 5,000 feet."

"Oh boy!" exclaimed the La Guardia controller. "Our man was at five (5,000 feet), too. We lost one aircraft. I don't know where he is now."

A short time later, from the La Guardia controller: "Hey Joe, we might have a midair collision, so Walt's going up to alert the emergency equipment. It's TWA 266."

NAACP Objecting to Three Stories

TORRINGTON, Conn. (AP) — The Board of Education is studying three short stories to see whether they should be banned in a high school classroom. A chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People says they contain references derogatory to Negroes.

A delegation said Negro pupils would be embarrassed by passages in an anthology used in third-year English classes at the high school.

Stories involved are Edgar Allen Poe's "The Gold Bug," which used the word "nigger"; Joel Chandler Harris' "Brer Rabbit"; and Ruth Stuart's "Sonny's Christening."

Swainson Leases 12-Room Trilevel

LANSING (UPI) — Governor-Elect John B. Swainson has leased a 12-room house west of the Lansing city limits for the next two years.

The governor-elect leased a trilevel, six-bedroom home at 4305 Appletree Lane in Delta Township, Eaton County.

He said the house is one year old and has an office where he can conduct necessary business.

Swainson's term as governor is for two years. He said his lease of the house has a option clause for a two-year renewal.

Material failures are responsible for only 12.4 per cent of the fatal airplane accidents in the U.S.

AF Chief Sends Yule Message to Soviet Prison

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Thomas D. White has sent a special Christmas message in care of the American Embassy in Moscow to the two U.S. Air Force officers who are held in Lubyanka Prison.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force chief of staff reported his message said "the spirit of comradeship knows no bounds and the thoughts of all of us go out to you."

★ ★ ★

The imprisoned officers, Capt. John R. McKone, Tonongnoxie, Kan., and Capt. Freeman B. Olmstead, Elmira, N.Y., were aboard an RB47 plane downed last July 1 over the Barents Sea on a research flight.

Car Does Gymnastics but Passengers Unhurt

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)—An automobile doing a police-estimated 110 miles an hour hit a sloping railroad crossing Wednesday night with these results:

It turned three complete somersaults, landed on its wheels, hit a tree, skidded back on the pavement and came to rest, still upright, a block and a half away. But none of the six teen-agers aboard suffered a scratch.

Crop, Livestock Prices Up 3 Pct.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The prices farmers received for their crops and livestock did an about face from August to November. They rose 3 per cent, although in recent years they declined during the heavy fall marketings.

At mid-November, farm prices were 4 per cent higher than they were a year earlier. The department's publications, "The Demand and Price Situation" and the "Agricultural Outlook Digest," noted that egg prices in November were up a third from August and 45 per cent above a year ago.

Some Rules to Follow When on Expressways

With expressways becoming more and more a part of our everyday life a few dos and don'ts seem to be in order. The following recommendations were made after a careful study and should be read to all members of the family. They follow:

★ ★ ★

Do drive at a constant speed, the maximum recommended. You'll get to your destination just as fast as you would trying to weave in and out of traffic.

Don't follow closer than 100 feet to the car ahead.

Do keep in the outer lane if you must dawdle, but remember, you're holding up and endangering other traffic.

Watch for ENTRY and EXIT lanes.

Don't try to pass other cars going into lanes leading to entry or exit. You're likely to run into a dangerous dead end.

Do take time to plan your trip before you get on the expressway. You will save time by predetermining the most convenient entry and exit.

Don't stop your car in a traffic lane.

This don't was tragically demonstrated recently when a driver halted his car and got out to help another driver with a flat tire. A truck smashed into the rescue car, hurling it into the disabled auto and seriously injuring both drivers.

Expressways are great, but please BE CAREFUL and FOLLOW INSTRUCTIONS.

Christmas Tree Selling Becoming Big Business

Christmas is almost here and, of course, the yule trees have been having their annual month of glory. Now that most of the buying is over all that remains of this multimillion dollar business is next year's harvest.

Few realize what a tremendous business this is. Statistics and sales are a little hard to come by, but the American Forest Products Industries Inc., report that between 40 and 44 million evergreens are sold in this country each year.

Canada shares a part of this with somewhere in the neighborhood of 12 million trees. The entire retail market reaches the staggering sum of 50 million.

Reports show that 90 per cent of the trees come from New England, Pacific Northwest, Middle Atlantic and the Great Lakes states. We account for a good share right here in Michigan.

An interesting phase of the Christmas tree production which ranges from one man organizations to giant forest products companies is that they continue to replace trees that are harvested.

Most woodsmen are conscious of the fact that yule trees are a standard part of Christmas. With this in mind, they are keeping a watchful eye on the forests to assure us of plenty of Christmas trees for the future.

More Safety Measures Vital for Crowded Sky

With all the various suggestions coming forth as to the cause of the air crash in New York, one point remains paramount and that is that plane controls must be made safer.

Investigations are in the process and neither time nor money should be spared in seeking the reason behind this tragedy. Two government agencies are involved in rectifying the problem. The Civil Aeronautics Board is responsible to find the cause and the Federal Aviation Agency to put into effect new controls if they are needed.

Apparently it is quite obvious there was a flaw some place along the line in the ground control of the incoming planes. In the terms of safety for passengers and crew this is a vital part of the operation.

It has been charged by the Airline Pilots Association in the past that more landing aids and airport safety standards were needed. Their reasoning is that more preventable accidents have been caused in this one function of air transportation than in any other.

★ ★ ★

To anyone that has been flying for the last 10 years it is quite apparent that our air lanes are fast becoming crowded. Not too long ago it was unusual to see another plane while in flight. Now it is odd to fly any distance and not encounter several large transports flying either above or below your line of flight.

★ ★ ★

A great deal of modernization of air traffic has already been undertaken but it is essential for all those who fly that more air-tight safety regulations be developed.

If just a few more stringent controls and the element of human error could be eliminated or drastically reduced the frightful collision of last week may not be repeated.

All of these good people are in such good health that they get together for a reunion once or twice a year, with most of them present.

Anyway, Jodi Ann has enough grandparents so there should be a top job done at spoiling the child, if they run true to grandparents' form.

David Lawrence Says:

Kennedy Plays Politics With Offers

WASHINGTON — It has often been said around Washington that the Eisenhower administration has not played politics enough. Before long, however, comments may be heard that the Kennedy administration is doing just the opposite—playing politics too much.

LAWRENCE

Certainly the high hopes of many observers that the selfish game of politics would be submerged, if not suppressed, in this critical period of world history, were somewhat dampened by the announcement issued by President-Elect Kennedy at Palm Beach, saying he had offered "a high position in the Defense Department" to former Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi.

★ ★ ★

It so happens that Coleman declined, but evidently it was regarded as good politics to publicize the offer.

Former Gov. Coleman did yeoman service for the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in the last campaign.

But the people of Mississippi gave more votes to the unpledged electors—who cast their ballots in the electoral college for Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia—than they did to regular Democratic nominees.

But somehow it is considered important by the Kennedy managers to show the faithful politicians in Mississippi that federal jobs will be forthcoming to them just the same.

What is surprising is the bold way in which this policy was played. One would think things like this would be relegated to the Democratic national chairman or a state chairman to handle.

KENNEDY SPEAKS

But the desire to give the episode wide publicity undoubtedly prompted the president-elect to take a hand, as he himself issued the following statement:

"Secretary of Defense-Designate Robert S. McNamara met the day before yesterday in Jackson, Miss., with Mississippi's former governor, James P. Coleman. Mr. McNamara offered Mr. Coleman a high position in the Defense Department.

"It was felt that Mr. Coleman's proven executive ability would have been a great asset to the Defense Department. Gov. Coleman reluctantly turned down the offer, feeling it was impossible for him to leave Mississippi at this time."

The foregoing will lead lots of people to suspect that various tenders of public office have recently been made by Kennedy more as political gestures than as bona fide offers.

There is, for instance, the case of Rep. William L. Dawson of Illinois, Democrat, a Negro who is chairman of the House Committee on Governmental Operations.

Kennedy during the campaign was quick to throw a political barb at Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican candidate for the vice presidency, because the latter said in a public speech that Nixon, if elected, would name a Negro to the Cabinet.

The Democratic presidential candidate piously proclaimed that he would not stoop to such politics, and that his appointments to the Cabinet would not be made because of considerations of race or creed or sex or color but solely on the basis of efficiency and ability.

When Rep. Dawson declined the offer to be postmaster general, he gave as his reason that his age — 74 years — would not permit him to engage in such executive duties as the post required. Kennedy must have known beforehand about the age of the Illinois congressman.

Certainly he could not persuasively argue that he looked throughout the whole United States to find the most efficient man he could get for postmaster general, and finally decided on a 74-year-old member of the House—who just happened to be a Negro.

The Country Parson

"A fellow often can do more good in the world if he'll do it without trying to get credit for it."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Do Your Joints Creak? Consider Cod Liver Oil

Even if your joints snap, crackle or creak, it would be childish to assume they need oiling.

There is no oil in a healthy joint. If anyone tells you your joints need oil, he is spoofing you or perhaps taking your money under false pretenses.

DR. BRADY

A few drops of serum, otherwise called plasma, the clear liquid part of the blood minus the blood corpuscles, keep the largest joint perfectly lubricated.

Long ago European fishwives—or perhaps this time I should say wives of European fishermen—discovered that a man-sized dose of cod liver oil each morning and evening would keep their husbands from getting laid up with the rheumatiz.

They gave their men two ounces of cod liver oil a day.

This is a formidable quantity to swallow. Perhaps the patient would be less likely to rebel if the daily ration is just one ounce—a tablespoonful of plain cod liver oil in the morning or forenoon, another tablespoonful after supper or later in the evening.

★ ★ ★

It is usually better to take cod liver oil an hour or two after a meal, for then the food is passing from stomach into the duodenum, first part of small intestine.

For the rheumatic cod liver oil should be taken daily for most of the year. It may be left off in the hot summer time.

Cod liver oil is good for the rheumatiz, not because it is an oil, but because it supplies two of the essentials of good nutrition which the modern Yankee ultra-refined diet usually fails to in amounts adequate to maintain good nutrition, namely, vitamin D and iodin.

Besides D and I, our namby-pamby everyday diet fails to supply enough vitamin B complex and calcium—and all four of these essentials of good nutrition are required to prevent and, possibly, cure the rheumatiz.

★ ★ ★

Cod liver oil, of course, is not a natural food although it is as nutritious as any food oil or fat.

No natural food is a very good source of vitamin D, although sardines, fresh and canned salmon, herring, kippers, and mackerel supply fair amounts.

Besides cod liver oil, sea fish and shell fish are good sources of iodin.

The best food source of vitamin B complex is plain wheat. How to use plain wheat in the everyday diet is described in the FREE pamphlet Wheat to Eat, for which send me a stamped envelope bearing your address.

Meanwhile, try your luck with cod liver oil.

Whether your joints creak or not.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Shopping Center Depicts Real Christmas Story

All parents of small children should give their children the opportunity to see and hear the real Christmas story, the Birth of Christ, at the Miracle Mile Shopping Center before Christmas. This story is beautifully portrayed in flannelgraph by women from the interdenominational group, Child Evangelism Fellowship.

Any merchants, whether in downtown Pontiac or any other place who are depicting the real Christmas story in their stores are to be commended.

'Santa Claus Keeps Warm, Long Hours'

Does anyone realize how hard it is to be Santa Claus? No matter how you may feel you have to be friendly and interested in each child. Older men tire after a few hours and Santa has to be on duty 8½ hours daily so younger men are employed.

When dressed in full suit, wig, and beard, Santa is far from comfortable. The men deserve a lot of credit for trying to portray our image of Santa Claus. Don't judge all Santas by one you may have seen.

'Too Much Expected by State Highway'

How does it happen that individuals have to sell their land to the state for roads, for less than half of what they can replace the land in that same vicinity? Why are business people not being adequately reimbursed for loss of business when they have to move from a four lane highway to a small side road?

How does it happen that people who have nice homes have to sell for much less than they can relocate and duplicate their homes? Do a certain few have to be victims of progress?

Why not reasonable compensation? Why are threats being used to try and force settlement? If this is progress, you can have it!

Complains Stores Don't Change Stock

For the past six months I have noticed that the stores have the same stock with a ridiculous price. It would seem that stores would vary their merchandise during the Christmas rush. I have been in these stores day after day and the same merchandise is still there.

Another thing is when you are looking around everywhere you turn someone is saying "Can I help you?" People will ask if they need help.

Careless improper packing resulted in boxes being torn to bits and the loose toys and gifts had to be given away to the poor.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Thursday, Dec. 22, the 357th day of the year with nine more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Mars, Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1775, the Continental naval fleet was actively organized under the command of New England sea Capt. Esek Hopkins.

In 1889, American poet Edwin Arlington Robinson was born.

In 1885, American composer and music critic Deems Taylor was born.

In 1894, a French court-martial found Capt. Alfred Dreyfus guilty of treason — an action that inflamed public opinion throughout the world.

In 1944, when the Germans demanded surrender of his troops at Bastogne, Belgium, Gen. Anthony McAuliffe replied, "Nuts."

Thought for today: American poet Edwin Arlington Robinson said: "Love that's wise will not say all it means."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

'Gift of Gab' Not an Inborn Factor

Larry is worried about entering the sales field for he says he was not born with a "gift of gab." You can easily learn a top-notch or "canned" sales talk, so don't fret about being quiet or taciturn. Good salesmen are "made," not "born" that way!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case G-458: Larry L., aged 24, has had two years of college and has spent three years working in a factory.

"But, Dr. Crane," he began, "our plant closed down last month and I have been out of work ever since.

DR. CRANE

"So I have been thinking about getting into the sales field where I could be on my own.

"But I don't have that 'gift of gab' that salesmen are supposed to possess, so would I be a success?"

A good salesman is not "born" but is "made" by studying the proper strategy.

And that "gift of gab" is really not an inborn factor but is acquired.

Any shy, timid chemist or machinist, accountant or farmer (introvert), can soon become a smooth talker and successful salesman, just as a nonpianist can likewise become adept at the keyboard if he just practices the proper action.

If you want to be a successful salesman, you need brains and a lot of health to stand up under a tough schedule of rebuffs.

For instance, the standard life insurance formula demands that a salesman make 40 calls. Of these, he will rate only 15 interviews, for 25 will slam the door or divert him from seeing them.

And of those 15 interviews, the average insurance salesman makes but one sale!

So, even when he does put on his sales interview, he loses 14 times against only one success per week!

Even the cellar occupants in the major baseball leagues win one out of every three games!

CHEER LEADER WIVES

So salesmen need vitality, nerve and plenty of sleep to start every day afresh. If married, they should have "cheer leader" wives who bolster their waning spirits at night instead of throwing a "wet blanket" over their drooping morale.

★ ★ ★

Shy, introvertive folks can offset their stage fright with a lot of determination.

And, with practice, they will soon have a memorized or "canned" sales talk down pat. Don't try to skip that vital rule for success, namely, a canned sales talk.

To help extrovert your personality, enroll in my Compliment Club, paying three honest compliments each day for 30 consecutive days.

Join a toastmaster's club or talk in church and at various club meetings to polish up your public speaking.

A salesman must build up his own clientele, which will usually stick to him, regardless of what firm he represents.

Thus, if he leaves one company, he can usually take most of his former clients with him to a rival firm.

And if he has finally developed 500 satisfied customers, even if one of them quits or dies or moves elsewhere, it doesn't reduce his income very much. Besides, he can soon recruit a new customer to replace the old.

But in other salaried jobs, he has only one boss. If that one dislikes him, or sells the business or wants to insert a relative, the hapless employe is out of luck.

Thus, salesmen have 500 to 1,000 "bosses" in the form of their customers, so they have top job security.

But pick worthwhile merchandise, not fly-by-night stuff.

And send for my booklet, "New Psychology of Advertising and Selling," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (nonprofit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4 cent stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

China Food Crisis Brings Parcel OK

LONDON (UPI) — The Communists are allowing Chinese expatriates to send food parcels to relatives in their Red-held homeland for the first time in years in an effort to offset a food crisis caused by drought, floods and mismanagement, it was reported today.

The reports said parcels are pouring in from such places as Hong Kong, Singapore and Malaya, but quantities received represent only a tiny fraction of Red China's needs.

The official Communist "People's Daily" in Peiping reported recently that more than half of China's cultivated land has been plagued this year by drought, floods or swarms of grasshoppers.

Ex-White Sox Manager Jack Onslow Dies at 72

WEST ACTON, Mass. (AP) — Jack Onslow, 72, veteran baseball figure who once managed the Chicago White Sox, died early today.

Gunfight Panics Bus Riders; 6 Hit

CHICAGO (AP) — A bus loaded with Christmas shoppers was the scene of panic and bloodshed Wednesday night in a wild gunfight between two passengers. Six persons were wounded, one critically.

Police said the battle apparently stemmed from a sudden quarrel near the exit to the crowded bus on the city's West Side.

Police gave this account: One man, complaining he was jostled by three others as he moved toward the exit, drew a pistol and threatened: "Either you get out of my way or I'll blast you in the mouth." One of the men blocking the exit fired back. About a dozen shots raked the rear of the bus.

In the melee the man who police said had provoked the shooting fled after pulling an emergency lever. The other gunman, identified as Thurston Burgess, 22, was listed in a serious condition in a hospital.

Luther Perkins, 18, one of the five passengers hit by bullets, was reported in critical condition. Two others, Otis Porch, 29, and Ernestine Russell, 16, were reported seriously wounded. Two others were less seriously hurt.

The gunmen and the wounded are Negroes.

East, West Germany Close to Trade Pact

BERLIN, Germany (UPI)—East and West Germany appeared today to be on the verge of a trade agreement that would lift the threat of a new Communist blockade of Berlin.

Officials of both sides cautiously expressed confidence that they could reach a compromise solution before the Jan. 1 deadline.

The two trade delegations arranged to meet for a seventh time today and informed sources said that barring an unexpected hitch the present trade pact would be continued into next year.

Stock Obstinacy Seen as Good

Wall Street Pros Turn Optimistic as Market Holds Its Own

NEW YORK (UPI) — The performance of the market in the past two months is causing a significant change in the market opinions of the professionals and the analysts in Wall Street, according to the Investors Research Co.

The refusal of the market to break the September low; the post-election rally; the length of time the market has held above 600 — all are being viewed as very favorable omens by the pros, especially in the face of a rather pallid business outlook.

Investors Research reports that these people have not shouted "bull market" in so many words but "are looking for something very big."

To them, IR says, the market picture has crystallized and it is a matter of time until the preliminary indications jell into a favorable environment for the market as a whole.

Some improvement in the bond market is likely early in 1961, but no return to the very low yields seen during the 1957-58 recession is in prospect, according to United Business Service. It forecasts a moderate decline in bond prices during the second half of 1961, and for the year as a whole the trend is expected to be slightly down.

James F. Hughes of Auchincloss, Redpath & Parker writes that there is justification for believing that the disappointing performance of the stock market had more to do with the business recession than fundamental economic factors.

Now that the technical background is extremely favorable it is conceivable that an encouraging advance in the stock market could prove to be an important psychological factor in reversing the declining trend in industrial activity, Hughes says.

Impact of Chains on Drugstores Causes Concern

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Small Business Committee is worried about the way grocery chains are swallowing up the traditional old-fashioned drugstore.

The staff, in a report made public Tuesday, said that food stores now sell more than one third of the nation's razor blades, baby powders and tooth paste.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said the report indicated that small retailers are facing increased competition from the larger chains but that other fields still offer opportunities "for enterprising persons" seeking their own business.

"The extensive merger activity by grocery chains during the last year suggests that the market structure of drug retailing may be transformed rapidly and significantly in the next few years," the report concluded.

The budding jewelry designer will be delighted with the Christmas kits for creating copper enameled jewelry. Kiln, colors, clasps, copper, all the equipment you need—is packed in the kit.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Our two-year-old Miniature Schnauzer objects to anyone taking off his shoes. She growls if we pick up a shoe and will actually bite. How can we cure her of this Fay Kravitz, Youngstown, Ohio.

A. It's a good thing your dog did not attend the recent U.N. Assembly session or we might have had a ticklish international incident. It may take quite a while to break her of this habit.

* * *

At some time she probably received a beating with a shoe and now associates shoes with punishment. Scolding and reprimands won't work. Try giving her a dog candy each time you take your shoes off.

* * *

After a time shoes will become associated with pleasant things. Then begin to offer her the candy when you pick up the shoes. If you follow this method, you should be able to cure her in six or eight months.

Says Representatives Should Be Increased

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Massachusetts congressman has suggested that membership in the House should be increased from 435 to 453 to protect the states which will lose seats because of the 1960 census.

* *

Rep. James J. Lane, D-Mass., said "it is only fair that states with rapidly growing population should have more representatives. But not at the expense of the other states when we can avoid such a drastic shift."

Lane said the House had been limited to 435 permanent members since 1910 despite the fact that the nation's population has almost doubled during the last five decades.

Annexation Ups Lansing Population to 113,058

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Census Bureau officially set the 1960 population count of Lansing, Mich., at 113,058.

The bureau said that when the 1960 population count was completed last April 1, Lansing's population was 107,807. But, it added, an area with a population of 5,251 was annexed to the city on Sept. 1 and increased its total population.

* * *

Census Director Robert W. Burgess said that the figure showing the Sept. 1 annexation will not appear in 1960 census reports because all data published on this year's count will reflect population as of April 1.

African Student in U.S. for School

Ends His 2,000-Mile Walk

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — "Is there a car?" the young African asked, "If not I shall walk. I shall be there tomorrow night."

Everyone laughed except Legson Kayira.

* * *

He had walked 2,000 miles from his native Nyasaland to Khartoum, Sudan, in pursuit of his dream of an American education. In Khartoum, he applied for and won a scholarship at Skagit Valley Junior College in little Mount Vernon, Wash., 60 miles north of here.

* * *

With $1,173 raised in a drive sponsored by the college, Kayira flew to Washington and then to Seattle, arriving Tuesday night.

Oh, yes, there was a car. Mr. and Mrs. William Atwood, with whom he will stay, took him in it to their dairy farm near Mount Vernon.

State's Crop Production 5 Pct. Lower Than in '59

LANSING (UPI) — Production of Michigan's 18 major field and fruit crops fell 5 per cent below last year, but was 14 per cent above the 10-year average, the state crop and livestock reporting service says.

The production was 11.1 million tons, according to the service.

Calls Stabbing an Accident

Dearborn Man Denies That Death of Accused Slayer Was Revenge

DETROIT (AP)—The fatal stabbing of a man accused of the knife slaying of a teen-ager in a street fight was an accident and not a revenge killing, the dead boy's older brother said Wednesday.

Raymond Molinari, 23, a suburban Dearborn truck driver, told police and Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor, George D. Kent that Daniel Palka, 20, came at him with a knife Sunday night in an alley back of Palka's home.

Molinari said he seized Palka's arm and shoved the knife back at him. He said Palka fell to the ground and he drove away. He said he did not know if the knife entered Palka's body and that he did not know Palka was dead until he read a newspaper Monday.

Palka was facing trial for the stabbing a year ago of Molinari's brother, Frank, 17.

Molinari made a formal statement to Kent who said that "his story may be consistent with self-defense, but there are many, many things in it I just can't buy. There are a few pieces to look into in this thing."

He said that he and the police would appear in court today to decide whether to release Molinari or secure a warrant against him.

In his statement, Molinari said Palka called him Sunday and asked him to come to his home. He said that when he arrived he found Palka and another man whom he did not know in the alley.

He said that as he got out of his car Palka rushed at him with a knife and "made an upward thrust."

That was when, Molinari said, he grabbed Palka's arm and the man fell to the ground.

Molinari said he and the other man then fled.

Dog's Nerve Replaced With Metal, Say Russ

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet surgeon claims to have replaced successfully a dog's sciatic nerve with one made of the metal tantalum. The effect is impressive, said Radio Moscow in reporting the operation Wednesday night.

He Got Through to Ethiopia

Sly Sergeant Saved Selassie

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An American plane in Liberia, an emperor racing to save his throne, a GI from Portsmouth, Va., a patched-together radio-telephone call.

★ ★ ★

The chance combination of these unrelated elements at the right time in the right place may have changed the course of history.

The throne belongs to Haile Selassie, emperor of Ethiopia. It was jeopardized by a revolt that broke out while Selassie was on a state visit to Brazil earlier this month.

The emperor flew back to Africa as soon as he learned of the revolt, and landed Dec. 15 at Monrovia, the capital of Liberia.

Before going on to Ethiopia, the Lion of Judah had to find out exactly what the situation was in his ancient kingdom—whether he would be welcomed home by loyal troops, or taken prisoner by the rebels.

He was unable to establish communication with his supporters through normal commercial or government channels. But the U.S. Embassy in Monrovia offered him a long-shot alternative.

By chance, an American transport plane happened to be on the ground at Roberts Field, in Monrovia when Selassie arrived. It was one of the planes flown by the "Special Missions Group" of the Military Air Transport Service—the outfit that flies the president, vice president and other VIP's on their official travels.

Special missions planes are loaded with modern, long-distance radio equipment. The U.S. Embassy asked the plane's radio operator, S. Sgt. Kenneth W. Morris of Portsmouth, Va., if he could place a radio-telephone call for the emperor to his supporters on the other side of Africa.

Morris tried to set up a direct call, but couldn't get through. Then he tried a relay-call via Europe, but bad atmospheric conditions prevented that. Finally he tried a last-ditch expedient.

He established radio-telephone contact with Andrews Air Force Base in far-off Washington, D.C., which set up an intricate "patchnet" circuit via Europe to Eritrea in East Africa.

Over this globe-girdling circuit, the emperor talked for 30 minutes to a general commanding loyalist forces.

On the basis of this telephone conference, Selassie returned to Ethiopia, the revolt collapsed, and he held his throne.

"Perhaps it's stretching a point," said an Air Force officer who told the story Wednesday, "but you could say that Sgt. Morris, by his imagination and skill at communications, saved an empire."

Slate Examination in Richland Robbery

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Two men accused of robbing the Richland branch of the American Bank and Trust Co. of $14,224 will be examined on the charge Jan. 6.

★ ★ ★

Arleigh W. Kranich of Portage Township and Donald Anglin of Brady Township, both 23, pleaded innocent at their arraignment Wednesday and demanded examination. United States Commissioner Gary Brown ordered them remanded to the Kalamazoo County Jail to await examination when they were unable to post $25,000 bond each.

The bank was robbed Tuesday by two men carrying a sawed-off shotgun and a pistol.

Kranich and Anglin were seized in a swampy area near Richland by a posse about three hours after the robbery. They denied the holdup.

★ ★ ★

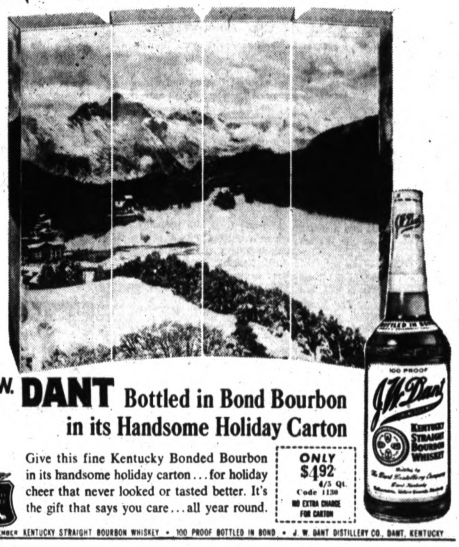

Sheriff's deputies said they had been identified in the bank holdup as well as three other area robberies.

Not a Care in the World

Relaxed Nixons Throw a Party

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — The Christmas lights etched brilliant patterns on the snow beside the stoop. The door swung open, wafting pine-scented air and the lyrical hi-fi strains of "Swan Lake."

★ ★ ★

Just inside, smiles wreathing their relaxed faces, stood Pat and Dick Nixon to greet their invited guests. The tension had dropped from their shoulders. Their faces had filled out, and the taut lines drawn by the strenuous campaign had softened into laugh wrinkles.

As they stood with hands outstretched to greet their favorite members of the Cabinet, little cabinet, press corps and the campaign staff they looked a perfect picture of blissful contentment.

If they had a care in the world, or a thought for their temporarily jobless tomorrow, no sign of it dulled their sparkling brown eyes.

The setting for a yuletide party was superb. The expansive, English-style manor house where they have spent their happiest and most productive years glowed with soft light, massive red poinsettia plants, balsam runners and holly sprigs.

YEARS YOUNGER

The aquamarine walls provided a becoming backdrop for Pat's princess-style creme damask gown, which accented her girlish figure. Dark-haired Dick, with his boyish grin, seemed 10 years younger than the haggard-appearing man who confronted challenger John F. Kennedy in the first of the TV "Great Debates."

If any bitterness lingered on, after the narrowest presidential defeat of the century, it had been assiduously disguised for the evening.

White-coated waiters expertly juggled trays of drinks and finger sandwiches between the festive, chatting huddles of old friends. A government official, pressing Pat's hand, told he he was convinced that the election had been "stolen."

The second lady's laugh tinkled hollowly. "Isn't it a dreadful thing," she mused, "if in this great country we lack the right to have our ballots counted correctly? That will be a goal for Bobby Kennedy to set himself as attorney general, won't it?"

Another friend spluttered: "If the votes had been counted honestly in Texas and Cook County, Illinois, you can be sure the results would have been different."

Pat's ramrod shoulder sagged for the merest moment as she replied: "Just those two states were all we needed. Think of it!"

★ ★ ★

It was really nothing special as a party. Just a happy couple of hours with congenial friends. Dozens of similar soirees were doubtless occurring all over town.

The thing that made it different was the unchanging graciousness of Pat and Dick Nixon, their heads-high reaction to heartbreaking defeat, and their unquenchable sportsmanship.

Youngsters Dial SANTA Hoping to Talk to Santa

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Children asking to speak to Santa Claus have been calling Mrs. George W. Potts for three weeks. She went along with the small fry until Wednesday when her curiosity prompted her to ask the boy on the telephone why he had chosen her number—7-2682.

A bakery's Christmas decorations include a dummy telephone which young visitors are encouraged to use in talking to Santa. All they have to do is dial the letters S-A-N-T-A (that's 72682 in numerals).

Mrs. Potts surmised the youngsters were trying to call Santa from their home.

Wrap an umbrella to resemble a candy cane. Use red and white striped paper and tie a giant holiday red bow on the umbrella's crook.

Start of Vigorous Year-End Rally Seen

NEW YORK (UPI) — The "Dow Theory Trader" says that slowly but surely, a vigorous year-end rally is beginning. Volume is picking up as stocks advance, and it looks like clear sailing ahead for a bull market to some point well into 1961.

Clark, Dodge & Co. views the firming of sulphur prices as an encouraging sign but does not believe the sulphur producers are close to solving their basic problem of excess capacity.

Bendix Is Showing Car Abandoning 2 Pedals

DETROIT (UP) — Bendix Corp. Wednesday showed off an experimental car which uses a divided floorboard to replace the conventional brake and gas pedals.

The portion of the floorboard which controls power brakes moves about one-eighth of an inch compared with the travel of a brake pedal of about six inches. The accelerator side of the floorboard moves 1⅛ inches compared with three inches for a normal gas pedal.

Bendix claims such controls would make a car safer since no time would be lost by the driver in moving his foot from one pedal to the other.

Both sections require about the same push to operate as do conventional pedals.

Bendix said one auto manufacturer is interested but there was no indication the system would be adopted in the immediate future.

Lots of Garbage Down the Drain

RACINE, Wis. (UPI) — Sink-installed garbage disposers will wash an estimated 4,745 billion pounds of garbage down the drain in 1960, an industry spokesman says.

★ ★ ★

Ever J. Hammes, a local disposer manufacturer (In-Sink-Erator Manufacturing Co.), based his estimate on the more than 4,500,000 disposers currently in use. He estimated 949 pounds of garbage are produced annually by an average family of four.

Yale University has about 4,000 undergraduate students.

Adams Bringing Energy, Versatility to Judgeship

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Donald E. Adams, soon to become probate judge, is a man who needs and has somehow found 30 hours in a day.

The versatile fireball of energy boasts a list of undertakings a proverbial mile long. Add another—Tuesday — when he takes the oath of office as the county's second probate judge, a post long needed in Oakland County.

Adams will be sworn in by his older brother by eight years, Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, who showed the way for the younger Adams into the legal profession.

The wavy-haired Waterford Township justice of the peace, a post he's held since 1937, will add something else the day he's sworn in. He'll put another candle on the birthday cake. The total will be 48.

Adams is a man wrapped up in his work. Equally absorbed with her husband's active legal career is Mrs. Elizabeth Sparks Adams, known better as Betty by her friends.

Mrs. Adams has her list of accomplishments, too.

HIS SPECIALTY

"Government has been my specialty for years," Adams said from behind his desk in his Dixie Highway law office. "Government is the biggest business in existence."

He worried through a recount recently of the Nov. 8 election, which he won by a scant but nevertheless winning margin of less than 700 votes.

He lost four pounds from his just-under-six-foot frame trying to protect his win over his challenger, Sen. L. Harvey Lodge.

Now he's busily trying to clean up his docket, stacked high during his months of campaigning for the $23,500 post, before he moves into the courthouse Jan. 3 to assist veteran Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

The county's first two probate judges will split their duties between probate and juvenile court matters. Adams seems particularly pleased to be able to work with the juvenile cases.

The Adamses have one son, David, a 16-year-old sophomore at Waterford Township High School. David is learning a little of his father's naval background by attending Culver Military Academy in Indiana during summer vacations.

Like many a son, Donald Adams credits his mother and father for instilling in him the desire for learning.

Both are former teachers.

WAS VALEDICTORIAN

Adams recalls his parents telling him there weren't any doors that education wouldn't unlock. The judge-elect has unlocked several himself. He was valedictorian of his Pontiac Central class of 1929 and practically an all-A student—"I averaged one B a semester"—at the University of Michigan.

He said he was an ordinary law student at the university because he had to combine books with working his way through school by waiting on fraternity tables.

The Adams family is prominent in Oakland County history. Adams' great-grandfather, Oliver Earl Adams, was a horseback riding minister in the county who's home was burned by the Indians, Adams says.

Adams and his wife, who doubles as the lawyer's secretary, make their home on the family farm on the north shore of Silver Lake.

They take pride that it has been built around a boathouse, their first home after the two high school sweethearts were married in 1936. They met as partners in a chemistry lab class.

Their first purchase was a canoe, a sign of Adams' great love of the out-of-doors.

A DEER HUNTER

When questioned how he would fit his many chores and loves into the busy court schedule ahead, Mrs. Adams made one thing clear from the other room.

"Don't worry," she said, "Don will take his usual vacation during deer hunting season."

"Whether we get anywhere else or not he'll get in his deer hunting."

The family has a cabin on Lake Gogebic in Ontonagon County in the Upper Peninsula. "I've crossed the bridge (or straits) 31 times," he remembers.

The clergy was nearly Adams' choosing as it was his great-grandfather's.

Recalling that he used to walk five miles to church, Adams, still showing some of the strains of the campaign and court schedule, has since served as deacon, trustee and elder at the First Presbyterian Church in Pontiac.

When Clark Adams enrolled at law school in Ann Arbor Donald Adams followed. He first took post graduatec ourses at Pontiac Central, after having graduated at age 16.

"They couldn't even find me in the class I was so small," Adams answered when asked about athletics. "I wore short pants right up until I graduated."

Only mark below an A was a B Adams received in speech. Mrs. Adams said it was because he wasn't enrolled in the speech teacher's dramatics class.

Adams is a staunch Democrat. He was a classmate of Gov. Williams at law school.

Outgoing Gov. Williams this year had named Adams to replace Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams in case the administration board member is killed in a national disaster. They are not related.

The new judge will reluctantly give up his position as the county's commissioner with the State Bar when he begins his two-year term.

★ ★ ★

He proudly displays a shiny plaque he received for his work with the State Association of Justices of the Peace. He once was president.

COURT STREAMLINER

He was one of 18 attorneys in Michigan who worked for three years to streamline the state's higher courts procedure. A bill to accomplish this was defeated in the last legislature.

Water safety is another pet project for Adams.

With the Dixie Highway (U.S. 10) running through the township, Justice Adams is kept busy, along with second Justice Patrick K. Daly, handling hundreds of traffic violations. He still finds time to keep up his law practice, he said.

While thumbing through a scrap book browned by the years, Adams dug back into the cases he has heard to pick out especially the auto death of Chief Little Elk and the brutal murder of a township housewife by Billy Ray Van Horn.

★

He first ran for justice April 3, 1937 to fill out a Democratic slate in the township. On it were Carlos G. Richardson, former Democratic county chairman, running for clerk, and the father of present Clerk James E. Seeterlin, who ran for highway commissioner.

ELECTION VETERAN

He was last elected to a four-year term last year, having survived in between two elections where he was the only Democrat elected in the township.

★

"I'm leaving it up to the township board whether they want me to resign," he said.

Adams long tenure as justice, interrupted only from 1942 through 1946 when he served in the Navy, will end at a time when his native township is growing by leaps and bounds.

"But this will always be home to me," he said.

The industrious civic leader said he runs his court and practice by following state statutes to the "T." He proudly displays on the wall of his office his 1936 law degree, his certificates to practice before the U.S. Court of Military Appeals and the Supreme Court of the United States.

Other noticeable mementoes fill his office in the Adams Building, 4533 Dixie Highway. One is a picture of former president Woodrow Wilson, which his father received when he purchased a Liberty Bond, and a sinister looking stuffed great-horned owl.

"Wilson has been with me ever since college days and will remain with me in court," Adams said, "but I'm afraid the owl will have to stay."

"I might scare the kids who come before the court," he said in jest.

REMINISCING — Sixteen-year-old David Adams with his mother, and father Probate Judge-Elect Donald E. Adams, look over a family scrapbook of his dad's long judicial and civic career. Adams is adding another page to the book, that of becoming the county's second probate judge after the first of the year.

MSU Learning to Pick Fruit

Blast of Air Has 2-Fold Job to Do Harvesting With No Damage

EAST LANSING (AP) — Research personnel at Michigan State University have reached the point at which they feel they can talk about their latest breakthrough in mechanical harvesting. It looks now as though it will work.

The latest: A mechanical tree fruit harvester.

The completely mechanical harvester shakes the fruit from the tree with a blast of air. The same air-blast provides a cushion that "floats" the fruit gently down to a perforated rubber conveyor belt, which carries the fruit to storage boxes.

The air blast comes from two horizontally mounted 36-inch fans, set at the bottom of a three-by-six foot box, or duct, that stands about eight feet high. The perforated conveyor belt runs across the bottom of the box, above the fans.

The entire device is pulled by a tractor.

After a year in the laboratory and fields, B. A. Stout, professor of agricultural engineering, and Stanley K. Ries, professor of horticulture, are sure of the principles involved.

Jets of air in the laboratory can "float" apples, they said. In the field, the chief problem is that of getting enough air power to do the job.

Tree fruits are the hardest — therefore, the last — crop to be harvested mechanically.

Still highly experimental, the tree fruit harvester may soon stand alongside MSU's now operational mechanical tomato harvester.

MSU agricultural research is also turning to the other three major crops that cannot be harvested mechanically: Asparagus, cucumber and cabbage harvester experiments are now under way.

Blind, Paralyzed Vet Insists He's 'a Very Lucky Fellow'

By RERA HEINTZELMAN

Although he is totally blind and paralyzed from the neck down, Jerry Farnell of Waterford Township was one of the happiest men in Oakland County last night. He was surrounded with music, good friends, devoted relatives and the gay Christmas spirit.

★ ★

Farnell was seriously wounded in Hawaii during World War II. For months he fought to stay alive aided by a team of army surgeons. Today Jerry considers himself "plenty lucky."

"I haven't a care in the world," he said. "I don't worry about racing to and from a job. The government pays my bills and I couldn't care less about the weather."

Sitting in a wheel chair, Jerry is kept cozy by a roaring fire in the winter and cooled by air-conditioned rooms in the summer.

Much of this is due to his devoted sister, Patricia, and her husband, Lonny McCullough, who own and operate the Huron Optical Co.

They all live together in the only ranch-type house in Oakland County that has eight bedrooms on one floor. It is located just behind Our Lady of the Lakes Church at 3938 Cambrook Lane.

The six McCullough children keep Jerry's big, wing apartment alive with activity. He is often consulted about problems ranging from a youngster's injured thumb, to a teen-age courtship.

There is baby Pat, 1½, Timmy, 6, Dan, 10, and pretty Nancy, 13. Larry, 17, and Mike, 19, at home for the holidays from Detroit's Sacred Heart Seminary where they are studying for the Catholic priesthood. Jerry's mother, Grandma Farnell, keeps a steady rein on the family while her daughter is away.

Last night's music was sparked by a family quartet from Detroit known as the "Jolly Rogers." One of the members, Ted Rogers was an Army buddy of Jerry's and the two have been close friends since the end of the war.

Each Christmas season, the Jolly Rogers — Ted, his brothers Bob and Bill and their father, Robert, present a private concert for Jerry. And each Christmas the group goes away, inspired by Jerry's sense of humor, wit and easy-going attitude.

Farnell, 40, a handsome blond 6-footer, finds the fine stereophonic music that fills the house a constant source of pleasure.

When all the turmoil and excitement of Christmas—there's plenty of it in the McCullough household—dies down, Jerry will lie back in a nest of soft pillows and listen to a tape recording which was made last night.

It's all there — the singing, the laughter, and happy voices projecting the wonderful spirit of Christmas to one who firmly believes that he is indeed "a very lucky fellow."

Some Glad News, Some Sad

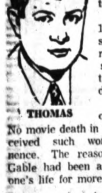

Quite a Year for Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Oh, it was quite a year!

Any year is bound to bring its share of news and surprises from the town called Hollywood. In 1960 it was more so. Rarely have a year's events seemed so varied.

Some news was momentous, some monumentally trivial, some sad, some amusing. As the first year of the new decade ended, it appeared that despite its business woes, Hollywood would continue to add its contribution to American culture and legend, for better or worse.

THOMAS

Here are the 10 stories that seemed the most newsy and significant to this reporter during 1960:

1. The death of Clark Gable. No movie death in recent years received such worldwide prominence. The reason was simple: Gable had been a part of everyone's life for more than 30 years.

★ ★ ★

2. The movie strikes. The already invalided film industry seemed in grave danger of extinction when hit by strikes of writers and actors. The gentlemanly strikes, without picketing or name-calling, ended in compromise when the guilds realized the producers wouldn't give them a royalty on old films sold to TV. Next year's end the invalid was still surviving.

★ ★ ★

3. The Desilu schism. TV's most famous team came to a personal and corporate division when Lucille Ball divorced Desi Arnaz.

4. The Monroe-Miller split. Marilyn was seldom out of the news, and her marriage to playwright Arthur Miller was rumored in danger of a backstage romance with Yves Montand. The marriage shattered, but the Montand issue remained unsettled.

BOLDER FILMS

5. New moral attitudes. Hollywood films were bolder and franker in 1960. This brought a wave of reaction from Roman Catholic bishops and Protestants, too, with indications of rough relations ahead between the film industry and the moralists.

6. Ben-Hur wins big race. The chariot race was nothing compared to "Ben-Hur's" triumph in the academy sweepstakes: A record 11 Oscars.

7. The squared-off triangle. Debbie Reynolds wedded Harry Karl quietly. She formerly was married to singer Eddie Fisher, now husband of Elizabeth Taylor.

8. Liz's ailments. Few toothaches earned as much coverage as Liz Taylor's, which delayed filming of "Cleopatra" amid much turmoil.

★ ★ ★

9. Hollywood's runaways. The most significant business development was the rise of production overseas. Main reasons: Tax breaks for stars living abroad; subsidies and cheaper costs.

★ ★ ★

10. Million-dollar wedding. Starlet Jill St. John suplied the Cinderella tale of the year by marrying heir-speedster Lance Reventlow.

And there was other news, too. Gary Crosby made it a grand slam by marrying a Las Vegas chorine, like his brothers. Elvis was back. Eva Marie Saint starded a banquet by using a word that is unprintable except in war novels. Hollywood helped put on a party in July for Peter Lawford's brother-in-law.

Brilliant Buddy Adler was a cancer casualty. An era ended with the passing of Mack Sennett. Wagonmaster Ward Bond died suddenly. An unfreindly witness, Dalton Trumbo, wrote two of the year's biggest epics. Frank Sinatra tussled in a parking lot. Cheryl Crane spent a restless year, and James Garner proved a real maverick by escaping from Warners. Sammy Davis Jr. got married.

Yes, quite a year. Fasten your safety belts, here comes another one.

It May Cost More for Bartender to Draw One

LANSING (AP) — A sales tax recommendation of the Michigan Table-Top Licensees' Congress here would send the 15-cent glass of draft beer the way of the penny post card.

★ ★ ★

The board of directors of the group, an organization of tavern and restaurant owners, met in Lansing Wednesday and said it favored using the so-called mathematical table of sales tax charges on the first dollar of purchase.

★ ★ ★

The mathematical system, proposed and recommended by State Revenue Commissioner Clarence Lock and Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams is one of several being discussed by state retailers.

The first penny in the mathematical system is charged on purchases of 13 cents and more.

Candidate for Congress Received Only $5 Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Reports of campaign expenses on file today disclosed that losing Democratic congressional candidate Edwin M. Nelson of Rockford, Ill., received only one $5 campaign contribution—from a Mrs. Harriet L. Saunders of Rockford.

Republican Chester E. Emanuelson, an unsuccessful candidate for Congress in Chicago, included a $3 traffic ticket in his campaign expenses.

A Clean Smashup

ALVA, Okla. (AP)—The Alva police department has two cars. Both were involved in smashups within a space of a few days.

Gone, too, is a milk processing plant (which utilized the refrigerators) that had been on the ground floor of the building and the estate's dairy farm offices that had been on the second floor.

Now providing homes for five young men, the house is in the center of a quadrangle of unused barns where the Wilsons previously kept their prize cattle and Belgian draft horses.

The barns will soon come down. They would crowd a $2 million science and engineering building now under construction.

First residents are Neil Smith, 23, of Fall River, Mass., Jack Leedy, 19, of Goshen, Ind., Lanny Eastman, 18, of Sebring, Fla., Jim Isler, 19, of Allen Park, and Colin Campbell, 18, of 2230 Fairway Drive, Birmingham.

Smith, a U.S. Navy veteran, is employed as a counseler for the house.

"Each of us has responsibilities," Smith said. "Housecleaning duties are divided and someone's always in the kitchen preparing a meal."

"Lance, an artist, has been decorating the place. He's just finishing his mural. Jim is our poet and Jack our clown. So far, Colin and I are the audience."

BIG FURNACE

Vacated about 10 years ago, the house was renovated by MSUO and now provides a dining room, two large bedrooms, three bathrooms and private study rooms for each resident.

Among its other peculiarities is an oil heating plant one-third the size of the building. It was used to provide steam for the milk processing system.

To the residents, the most interesting item in the house is the useless stairway. Long ago, it may have gone up to the second floor, but now it has a solid ceiling over it and the only access to the second floor is via an outside stairway.

"We've tried to find the place where the stairs came out on the second floor," Smith said. "But whoever concealed the opening did an excellent job and left no traces of it."

MSUO hopes to begin construction soon on cottage-type student accommodations.

But these—although they will be new, neat and nifty—will never have the richly paneled walls or unique history of this first one.

First on the Campus

MSUO Dorm Filled With Atmosphere

By MAX E. SIMON

A stairway that goes nowhere, a mural — "Saturday Night in Denver"—and a built-in bank of commercial refrigerators set Michigan State University Oakland's first student housing apart from the run-of-the-campus dormitory.

★ ★ ★

Situated in the gently rolling land to the south of other university buildings, the MSUO dorm once was a vital part of the operation of 40-year-old Meadow Brook Farm, the 1,600-acre estate given by the Alfred G. Wilsons to the state along with $2 million to establish the university.

The students came, the livestock went.

OUT AND UP—The only way to get upstairs in Michigan State University Oakland's first dormitory is by way of an outside stairway—and that's what three of the dorm's five residents are doing here. They are (from left) Jim Isler of Allen Park, Neil Smith of Fall River, Mass., and Jack Leedy of Goshen, Ind. The first dorm is a converted farm office building.

Hobby, Large and Small

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (UPI)—Retired refinery worker W. W. Smiley has built 171 houses in his spare time. Two of them are full-sized dwellings the other 169 were hobby projects — dog, cat, bird and chicken houses.

Pontiac Press Photo

TEACHER-CAROLERS — Sixteen music teachers in the Waterford Township School System made the rounds of 24 schools this week, singing Christmas carols for pupils. The project has been an annual one for the last 10 years, according to director Mary Phipps. A 15-minute program is given at each school.

Laos Considers Joining SEATO

Pro-Western Premier Eyes Pact as Red China Rattles Sabers

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—The pro-Western provisional government of Premier Prince Boun Oum said Wednesday that it might join the United States-backed Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) to bolster its defense against Communist threats.

The declaration came as Red China said it would "do all it can" to halt "U.S. imperialism, intervention and aggression" in Laos.

In a four-point program, Boun Oum's government said that Laos would "adhere to defense pacts against all forms of imperialism" and support the principles of the United Nations Charter.

Asked the meaning of the word "pacts," Laotian information minister Bouvan Norasing said:

"The government will not hesitate to join SEATO if it becomes necessary for the defense of the country."

Laos is not a member of SEATO at present. But it is considered a SEATO "protocol state" and falls under its so-called protective umbrella of defense against outside aggression, along with Cambodia and South Viet Nam.

N.C. Governor's Children to Be 'Integrated'

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — When Terry Sanford takes the oath of office as governor of North Carolina Jan. 5 he will hold a unique distinction.

Sanford will be the only southern governor who has children attending an integrated public school.

Sanford's two children, Terry, 8, and Betsy, 11, will enroll at the Murphey Public School a block and a half from the governor's mansion. Terry will be in the third grade and Betsy in the sixth.

William Campabell, 7, a second-grader, is the only Negro child attending a previously all - white school in North Carolina's capital city.

"I understand it is a good school," Sanford said. "We expect our children to be treated just like the children of any other family moving to Raleigh.

Last of the Earps Dies in Home at 96

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP)—George Washington Earp, the last of the "Fighting Earps" died Wednesday in a Joplin nursing home.

The 96-year-old Earp, former cowboy and U.S. marshal, was a first cousin of sheriff Wyatt Earp of frontier fame.

Earp before his retirement served as a chief field officer of the Internal Revenue Service later as income tax consultant here.

As a youth, Earp joined his famous cousin in Dodge City. Here he was taught to handle a pistol.

He was appointed U.S. marshal at Wichita in 1893.

Action Coming From New Cabinet but Nothing That Will Startle Public

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy has picked a 10-man Cabinet in his own image: It's conservative - liberal and hard-driving. Therefore, a lot of action can be expected from the new administration.

★ ★ ★

The incoming Cabinet differs from President Eisenhower's first Cabinet of 1953 in two obvious ways: Eisenhower's was much more conservative, and Kennedy's is far more scholarly.

While action can be expected from the new administration, it does not—judging from the records of Kennedy himself and his hand-picked top 10 men—figure to be of the startling kind.

There is a basic difference between the Kennedy administration and Eisenhower's: The new one is already committed to having the government take a stronger hand in American life than Eisenhower favored.

For example, the five - point plan on which Kennedy Tuesday said he will seek quick congressional action: federal aid to education, raising the minimum wage from $1 to $1.25, a program for medical care for the aged tied to Social Security, expansion of federal aid to housing, and help for depressed areas.

HE PROMISED

None of the five points is new or startling. Kennedy promised them all in his campaign. All would put the fingers of the government deeper into American life.

Some may not like the thought of this, but those fingers have been going deeper year by year as the American society becomes more complex and interdependent.

There is an explanation why the Kennedy Cabinet should be conservative-liberal stead of extreme-ly liberal or wholly conservative.

This is not a time of acute distress, requiring extreme and sudden remedies as was the case with President Roosevelt's early New Deal when innovations were needed to cope with the depression and bring America up to date.

Kennedy, like Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, is both conservative and liberal. He would hardly pick a Cabinet which reflected anything but his own views. Eisenhower's Cabinet represented his own conservative thinking.

★ ★ ★

None of Kennedy's Cabinet has unusual national stature, such as Adlai E. Stevenson has. Thus Kennedy, who never left any doubt in the campaign he would be the boss, figures to be dominant in his administration or in any disagreement with a Cabinet member.

MEMBERS SUBDUED

It is perhaps significant he put Stevenson in a secondary role as American ambassador to the United Nations. Stevenson, with a large following here and abroad and aware of it, might have created a national problem for the new president if the two men disagreed.

None of the 10 Cabinet members—including Kennedy's brother, Robert, the new attorney general—has been a very controversial figure. With the exception of Robert Kennedy, who sometimes gets fiery, the Cabinet members have a pretty subdued public record.

The reason for that appears to be this. All of them, whether their experience was in government or business or politics, have been managers trying to get things done. Therefore, starting out, the Kennedy administration should be able to run smoothly.

Christmas Dinner at White House for Eisenhowers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower family will gather at the White House for Christmas dinner Sunday.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower will be joined by their son and daughter-in-law, Lt. Col. and Mrs. John Eisenhower, and the four Eisenhower grandchildren, the White House announced.

For the youngest of the grandchildren, Mary Jean, it will be something of a combination birthday and Christmas celebration. She was five years old Wednesday.

Contract for $698,700 Awarded to Continental

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Army Ordnance District has announced the award of a $698,700 contract to Continental Motors Corp. of Muskegon.

The district said the award was for "engineering in support of engines being produced by Continental for installation in the Army's new M60 main battle tank." It said the project would employ 100 persons at least one year.

Louisiana House Rejects Anti-Integration Tax Rise

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Administration leaders were undecided today whether to press for a new House vote on a controversial sales tax raise, designed to aid segregated schools, after their efforts were rebuffed in both the Legislature and the federal courts.

The House Wednesday turned back the $28 million tax hike, which would lift the statewide sales tax from two to three per cent for the first eight months of 1961. The vote in favor was 65-36, three short of the necessary two-thirds.

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis proposed the tax raise to support the state's grant in aid program for private schools.

Speculation was the measure would either be brought up for another vote on reconsideration when the House meets this morning, or it would be held over while the Legislature takes a long Christmas and New Year's holiday. The Senate also meets today.

MUST HONOR CHECKS

Minutes before the House vote, a three-judge federal panel in New Orleans cited Lt. Gov. C. C. Aycock and two other state officials for contempt and ordered New Orleans banks to honor checks of the embattled Orleans Parish School Board.

Aycock, House Speaker Thomas Jewell and State Education Supt. Shelby M. Jackson were cited for refusing to release salaries for teachers and other employes at William Frantz and McDonogh No. 19.

These are the two elementary schools integrated Nov. 14 by federal court order. White boycotts have cut attendance to eight whites and one Negro at Frantz and just three Negroes at McDonogh.

The Legislature has cut off funds to the school board and ordered the banks to freeze some $728,000 in the board's account because the board had complied with U. S. Dist. Judge J. Skelly Wright's integration order.

The court also restrained the City of New Orleans from withholding some $300,000 in tax money due the board.

REPLACEMENT FORBIDDEN

The judges also restrained Gov. Davis and other officials from using newly passed legislation to name a five-man board to replace the Orleans School Board. This was the fourth time the court has prevented the Legislature from replacing the board.

The court set Jan. 13 for Aycock, Jewell and Jackson to show cause why they should not be held for contempt. The three, along with Davis, the Legislature and other officials, have been enjoined from interfering with operation of New Orleans schools.

In Baton Rouge, Rep. Risley Triche, administration House leader, said the court's action would make it impossible for the Legislature to meet the $2-million teacher payroll due Friday. He said the Legislature would have to reappraise resolutions providing for teachers' pay.

During the 3½-hour debate in the House Wednesday opponents of the tax complained that no private school system had ever been set up.

Tax foes loudly and frequently warned the Davis administration was using the segregation cause as an excuse for a tax hike without proving it really was needed for that or any other purpose.

Most of Louisiana's large daily newspapers, some Chambers of Commerce, and labor leaders are opposing the sales tax hike. The newspapers include those which supported and others which opposed Davis for governor.

REBELS' BATTLE LINE — Communist rebels in Laos were reported to be digging in Wednesday, along a line from Boun Phong to Vang Vieng (both underlined), for a showdown battle with pro-Western forces which drove them from the capital of Vientiane. Two Soviet planes are shuttling military supplies to the rebels, presumably from Communist North Viet Nam. Skirmishes also were reported in the area of the royal capital.

Business Good for Drug Firm

Dr. Upjohn Sees High Sales, Deplores Probe and Its Effect

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The head of one of the largest ethical drug firms says the industry's relative setback in 1960 was more apparent than real.

Dr. E. Gilford Upjohn, president of the Upjohn Co., said final returns still might show sales of his own firm topped the record high $157 million of 1959. He acknowledged a third quarter "leveling off" of earnings.

Pointing to a resumption of rapid industry growth, he said, are "the number of unsolved medical problems and the enormous amount of money and manpower that is being devoted to solving them."

Upjohn said the Kalamazoo firm's investment in research and development was up 10 per cent from 1959's input of $15 million.

In a yearend statement, he criticized the congressional probe of the drug business headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), saying it had an "unwholesome effect on public confidence."

Among promising new drugs in sight for 1961, he said, was an appetite-surpressing tablet which has produced dramatic weight losses in a series of clinical trials.

Takes a Brave Man

HARLOW, England (AP) — The Rev. Peter O'Beirne, vicar of St. Mary's, advertised in his parish magazine for "a brave man, wanted." The job: "Taking over a "highly disorganized" youth club.

Pontiac Man Faces Unarmed Robbery Charge

Accused as one of a trio who beat and robbed an 18-year-old Royal Oak youth in front of the Oakland County Courthouse, Joel Ramirez, 24, 48 Oak Hill St., was bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment following examination in Municipal Court.

Unable to furnish $10,000 bond set by Judge Cecil McCallum, he is being held in the Oakland County Jail pending arraignment Dec. 27 on an unarmed robbery charge.

Two others—John A. Haase, 17, 181 S. Marshall St., and Francis Ramirez, 17, 404 Franklin Rd.—stood mute to similar charges in Circuit Court Monday.

The three are accused of strong-arming Allen Lee Eaton of Royal Oak the night of Dec. 7, taking his wallet containing a class ring and $20.

Girl Identified as Dead Is Home for Christmas

NEW YORK (AP) — Mary Hawthorne, a girl mistakenly identified as dead after a California traffic accident involving three other airline stewardesses, was back in New York today — "happy to be alive and home for Christmas."

The tall, 26-year-old blonde flew here from California with her mother, Mrs. Elsie Schnell. She had been hospitalized since the accident.

"I'm not anxious for any publicity," Miss Hawthorne said at the Bronx home of her mother and stepfather, John Schnell. "I'm thinking about the Frosts and their feelings," she explained.

She was referring to the parents of Joan Frost, 26, her friend who is dead.

Puffy and Pretty

NEW YORK (UPI) — Christmas headlines — bouffant mop caps to cover a bedtime coiffure — are perfect for females from 15 to 85 on your gift list.

In a choice of brilliant cotton prints, sparkle nylon, lace, gingham cheeks, polka dot nylon and many other styles, these puffy caps make a girl pretty after a shampoo and set.

It Washes, Too

NEW YORK (UPI)—A truly sophisticated poinsettia-patterned tablecloth makes an ideal gift for the most gracious hostess on your list.

Metallic yarn sparkles on a deep-toned background, and the cloth, in several sizes, has fringe border trim. Despite the sparkle, the cloth is machine-washable.

Adding Charms

The charms a woman adds to her bracelet are becoming more elaborate, according to experts at New York Jewelry Store.

Diamond-studded gold charms are gaining favor. For Christmas, it's glowing charms —light-up earrings in the shape of sparkling gold and enamel Christmas trees. They operate on tiny batteries and mite-sized bulbs.

Have Clean Record

Experts agree that records must be kept clean to provide top performance. Well known makers of fine records recommend washing them with circular motions, using a cloth wrung out of warm soap or detergent suds.

Powder Eyebrows After You Pencil

(NEA)—If you pencil on your eyebrows each day, you probably envy the beauties with perfect, sweeping brows. Remember, however, that you're fortunate to have fine cosmetics with which to reshape your brow line as you will.

And keep in mind that to maintain a natural look, the best method is to press powder lightly onto the penciled brows with a swansdown puff. This helps to set the pencil-ing, too.

Toilet Water Is Stronger Than Cologne

(NEA) — There is a great deal of confusion among women as to the exact meaning of the terms "toilet water" and "cologne." This is particularly true when one beauty house makes both.

★ ★ ★

Of the two, toilet water has the greatest strength and lasts longest generally. Cologne is lighter and can therefore be used in greater quality.

But just to increase confusion, this rule doesn't always hold. "Strengthened cologne" falls into the same category as toilet water and lasts the same length of time, about three to four hours.

CHECK LATER

The best way to discover the strength of the cologne or toilet water you're considering is to ask the saleslady to spray your wrists. Check a couple of hours later to see how the cologne is holding up. If it stays with you and you like the scent, then this is for you.

Abby Says Bone Up on Sports

Read, Talk or Do Something

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My problem may seem silly to you, but it's very serious to me. I am home all day with three children to take care of. Nothing exciting ever happens. I do the same thing every day. When my husband comes home, I just don't have anything to talk about. He certainly doesn't want to hear that I ironed today, did the dishes or vacuumed.

ABBY

Lately he's been asking why I don't talk to him. Well, I just don't have anything to talk about. We've been married 8 years and are both 25. Have you any suggestions?

NOTHING TO SAY

DEAR NOTHING: If you want to iron the wrinkles out of your marriage, start by vacuuming the cobwebs out of your mind. Read this newspaper thoroughly every day and bone up on what's going on in the world. (And don't forget the sports section.) Ask hubby how he feels about the elections, Castro, the 49ers or the Colts. The wife who has nothing to say can clobber a marriage quicker than one who has too much to say.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My name is Sandra and I am six years old. I have two friends and I hate both of them. What should I do?

"FRIEND-HATER"

DEAR "FRIEND-HATER": The Bible tells us we should love our enemies. It says nothing about hating our friends. Try hard to be the kind of person you would want for a friend and see what happens.

DEAR ABBY: While shopping in one of our large stores, I happened to see a young girl put a couple of records under her coat. This upset me terribly because I had never seen anybody steal before.

I didn't want to tell the salesman because I didn't want to be responsible if they took her to jail. I didn't have nerve enough to talk to the girl because I didn't know what to say.

Now my conscience bothers me because I don't think I should have let it go. But what should I have done?

WITNESS

DEAR WITNESS: If you lacked the courage to talk to the girl, you should have told the salesman. Now that she has succeeded in stealing the records, she'll probably steal something else. The embarrassment of being caught could have cured her. You missed a golden opportunity to perform a real service.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Maybe you can help us barbers. Why do women wait until Saturday to bring their kids in for haircuts? These women have all day? When working men come into the barber shop on Saturday, it is always full of kids.

Also, we barbers would rather have fathers bring in their kids than mothers. The women stand around the chair and tell the barber how to cut hair. I wish the days would come back when no respectable woman would be seen in a barber shop.

Will Open Academy at Interlochen

INTERLOCHEN (AP)—Long an acknowledged center for talented young musicians, this wooded cultural retreat is expanding to provide for complete training of the superior scholar.

Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, founder of the National Music Camp, has announced a 1961 start of operations by the Interlochen Arts Academy. He describes it the outgrowth of of successful experimentation in the educational and personal guidance of highly talented young people.

The academy will use facilities of the camp and will operate under direction of a governing board which includes members of the board of trustees of the National Music Camp.

Dr. Maddy says it answers requests from parents of National Music Camp students for a year-around school combining the special and highly motivated arts activities of the camp with a well rounded high school academic program leading to admission to college.

* * *

It brought construction of dormitories, classrooms and a student center designed especially for use in winter months.

The academy student is promised "a superior academic high school education along with a highly superior program in his or her major artistic interest."

Dr. Maddy says the program also provides a wholesome experience in group living among young people of similar interests and ambitions.

A general tuition fee of $2,750 is established for the school year tentatively set to open next Sept. 10. It includes board and room, all class courses and group instruction, private lessons plus use of instruments, health services, recreation facilities and other items.

* * *

The basic education program and administration, plus library and other physical facilities of the academy, are being developed to comply with public laws of the school district, the Michigan Department of Public Instruction and standards of the University of Michigan and the North Central Associations of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

The academy thus moves into new fields of education through a program rising with the National Music Camp founding 33 years ago.

Fashioned of white tissue satin, the bride's gown featured a basque waistline and draped skirt with front panel of re-embroidered rose pointe lace and chapel train.

Hand-clipped lace outlined the modified Sabrina neckline. Fingertip veiling was secured by a crown of seed pearls and sequins.

Matched pearls were entwined in the white satin streamers.

* *

On the esquire side were E. Daniel Woodruff of Detroit, best man; with ushers Charles Hawley of Paw Paw and Jerry Garner of Milford fraternity brothers of the bridegroom; and A. J. Meyer of Ypsilanti, brother of the bride; James Smith of Pontiac and James Hetherington of Waterford.

The bridegroom's brother Jon was junior usher.

For the honeymoon trip to St. Clair Inn, the new Mrs. Hartman chose a navy blue wool sheath, white leather coat and black patent accessories.

The bride is a sophomore at Michigan State University Oakland, a member of the MSUO Chorus and secretary of the association of women students.

MSU GRADUATE

A graduate of MSU, her husband is affiliated with Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity, and Scabbard and Blade Military Honorary Society. He teaches at Washington Junior High School.

Slow Down . . . Relax

Avoid That Holiday Ulcer!

Holiday tension getting you down? Fortunately, there now are some drugs which help you take it easy. Physicians report that the incidence of ulcers takes an upturn in the fall and continues all through the holiday season.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Did you know that peptic ulcers are seasonal? Well, this is not literally true because many folks have ulcers all year long. However, I think it is interesting to know that the incidence of ulcers takes an upturn in the fall and continues all through the holiday season.

This seems to show definitely that the holidays are hard on our insides as well as our outsides! Christmas is a gay time for children and grownups alike, but it brings its quota of wear and tear to the older generation.

Many physicians agree that the bumper crop of ulcers they treat each year for four months, beginning in October, is a result of the strenuousness of the holidays which are crammed into a few months at this time of year.

RICH FOODS

There seems to be no doubt that over-indulgence in rich foods and drink plays a part in this yearly upswing. The tensions and hectic-ness and hurry of the Christmas season also have their influence.

It also is believed that financial pressure (the bills which are run up) is a potent factor in the increase in ulcers at this time. We all spend more than we planned to and have to dig in to dig out.

So, don't buy yourself an ulcer for Christmas! Holiday ulcers probably could be controlled if the owner would eat a bland diet. However, he must be very stoic to do so while everyone else is stuffing on gourmet foods.

Physicians suggest another preventive measure. Slow down, take it easy, be more relaxed. This is difficult to do, too, with all of the festivities and shopping and preparation going on!

Fortunately, doctors now have are of the tranquilizer type, some are nerve blocking and slow down the secretion of acid in the stomach while others neutralize the stomach acids. One relatively new drug combines the action of all three types.

Slow up, relax, be moderate and enjoy the holidays!

Chapter Holds Christmas Party

Alpha Chapter of Beta Theta Phi Sorority celebrated its Christmas party Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Russell Beam on Whitmore Drive, Birmingham.

After singing carols and exchanging gifts, members heard a Christmas reading "Howie and the Manger Scene," by Mrs. Walter Teeuwissen. Some 20 members attended.

Hosts Classmates

Songs and games were followed by a smorgasbord. Each child gave his mother a silhouette and holiday greeting.

Believe That Fear of Atom Is Responsible

Teen-Agers See Religion Gaining in U.S.

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

As Christmas approaches, you may be interested to know that the younger generation feels there is a growing belief in God in the United States.

"You see it all around," says an 18-year-old girl from Cleveland, Okla. "The uncertainties, the insecurities, the threats of annihilation that are by-products of the atomic age are responsible," she says.

Of 867 teen-agers questioned, 78 per cent agree there is increased religious belief.

Going back through our files, we find evidence to back them up. Seventy-four per cent say they attend religious services regularly.

In a similar poll three years ago, 61 per cent claimed regular attendance, and that was a 2 per cent increase over a 1955 survey.

Seventy-five per cent say they take their religious seriously, an increase of 6 per cent over 1957.

Most of the young people cite increased church attendance as evidence of a return to religion. And the reasons?

"Science can't answer everything God can," says 18-year-old Joe Garrow of Portland, Ore.

"People are more insecure," says 19-year-old Harold J. Heyman of Chicago.

Among the minority who find no evidence of a surge in religious interest is 17-year-old Mary Ann Tenfelder of St. Louis. "Americans have less faith than before with the increase in birth control and divorce," she says.

"I think parents are deemphasizing religion, and it is passed down," says Edward Pacher, 19, of Yonkers, N.Y.

ATOMIC INFLUENCE

We asked specifically whether the teen-agers "think the threat of atomic destruction has made people closer to religion." Seventy per cent answered yes.

"The threat of immediate annihilation," says Ben Vanek, 19, of St. Louis, "draws people closer to a security outside of this world."

"Fear has often caused faith in an almighty Power," says 18-year-old Sheldon Lewis of Chicago.

But there are dissenters. "I don't believe most people think the earth will be destroyed through atom bombs," says 16-year-old Jacquie Moulder of Cleveland, Okla.

And 15-year-old Patricia Condit, of Portland, Ore., says she thinks the increased interest in religion has come about simply because "it has become the popular thing to do."

Linda Blomquist, 19, of Astoria, Ore., one of the 90 per cent who say they feel they have a religion, explains: "I have accepted it, and feel that it is an important part of me."

"The rabbi always reminds me," says Ralph Helft, 16, of Hoosick Falls, N.Y.

There are two groups among the 10 per cent who disclaim a religion.

"I am an atheist," says Harold Heyman, a representative of one group.

"I feel close to God without it," says Marjory Schonfield, 17, of Chicago, who is typical of the other group.

Of the 75 per cent who say they are serious about their religion, Patricia Condit explains: "My life is centered around it."

CALLS RELIGION "HOKUM"

But among the minority, Don Willis, 17, of Wichita, Kan., says, "It is largely a mess of hokum."

Seventy-nine per cent say they think most teen-agers are more serious about religion.

Teen-agers are no different from adults," says Sandra Vinyard, 17, of Mt. Pleasant, Tex. "They, too, are serious."

Some of the youngsters however, take a jaundiced view of the teen-age approach to religion, however.

"They turn to God only when they want something," says 17-year-old Kathy Rubin of Syracuse, N.Y.

Only 37 per cent believe today's teen-agers are more religious than the teen-agers of other generations.

"They are not as close to nature as before," says Jody Dargger, 16, of St. Louis.

Sandra Vinyard feels "Because of other attractions, they have been drawn away."

And Don Willis says: "They are rising above the petty fears and reassuring myths of their forefathers."

Sixty-eight per cent of the young people don't believe teen-agers are as religious as adults. This contrasts with 82 per cent in the 1957 poll.

Fifty-seven per cent feel the churches are not making great enough efforts to attract young people.

"They cater to the bulk of the congregation, the adults," says Louis Dennis, 17, of Portland, Ore.

George L. Mitchell, 19, of Hartford, Conn., credits churches with trying to attract young people. But he says, "these efforts assume only social significance."

Polite Guest Doesn't Ask for Extras

By the Emily Post Institute

Question: A short while ago an incident occurred which several have been discussing. It happened at a rather formal dinner party. One of the guests, when served the main course (which was steamed pork chops) asked the hostess for some catchup before she had even tasted the food.

This was embarrassing to the hostess as she felt it was a reflection on her cooking, or, at best, that catchup should have been on the table, and wasn't. Catchup is not put on dinner tables, according to my understanding.

My stand is that a guest in such a situation should not ask for anything extra. Others say I am wrong, and that if she wanted catchup or anything else, she should ask for it.

Is it right to ask for something at a dinner table under these circumstances, or should one presume the hostess has supplied the correct foods, and not embarrass her by asking for anything additional?

My friends all say I am far too much of a stickler about these things. I would never ask anyone like that to my house, as I feel they are ignorant and ill-bred. Am I right or wrong about this?

Answer: You are much too severe in your judgment of the guest who asked for catchup, but you are right in that a guest should not ask for anything that is not on the table nor being served to everyone. She could, however, have properly asked for it from an old friend in whose house she was eating an informal meal.

Question: It has always been my understanding that when bread and butter plates are not used at a meal, the correct place for bread is on the table beside one's plate. My friend insists that it would be put on the edge of one's dinner plate. Will you please tell me which is correct?

Answer: You are. When there are no bread and butter plates the bread is correctly placed on the table itself.

Question: My sister has a habit, when introducing any of her friends, of adding, "She is a teacher of language at such and such a college" or "She writes for the X magazine," etc. I think this is very bad form and can be embarrassing to the person being introduced. What is your opinion?

Answer: At times a few words of explanation are entirely proper, but this can be very much overdone and give the impression that one is trying to impress the world with the importance of one's friends.

Question: When a lady and gentleman are leaving a hotel elevator, does the gentleman step out first and escort the lady out, or does the lady step out first followed by the gentleman?

Answer: He stands aside and lets her go first.

The Suburban Life Pretty Nice to Wife

By RUTH MILLETT

"I guess I ought to be unhappy," says one of my women readers.

"I am one of those poor unfortunates—the suburban housewife—stuck off in my split-level prison, abandoned each morning by a hard-working husband and school-age children and left to my own frustrations and sense of inadequacy.

"Maybe I'm just too stupid to be miserable the way the magazine writers claim I am—but the truth is I love my life the way it is.

"In the first place what is so lonely about the suburbs? Who can afford to be alone in the suburbs these days—with the price of suburban lots what they are?

COUNTS DOZEN HOUSES

"I can look out the windows of my house and count at least a dozen homes—and I know the housewives who live in every one of them.

"There is someone handy for companionship any time that I can knock off for a coffee break.

"There's a car in my driveway I can hop into any time I like and take off from the four walls that are supposed to be driving me crazy—but happily aren't.

★ ★ ★

"There's a telephone handy, too, that will connect me with the busy, bustling outside world I'm supposed to be so cut off from.

"Daily papers, magazines, books, television and radio keep me in touch with the world outside my suburb.

"I have a garden to work in when the fancy strikes me, community work to do, friends to keep in touch with, a home to run, a husband to love and children to keep life eternally interesting.

"So why do I keep reading about the unhappy lot of the lonely suburban housewife? Just what women in the world have more to be thankful for, I'd like to know?"

Even If Milady Is

Rudeness Is Not Pretty

By ALICIA HART

(NEA)—An absolute essential for charm in any woman is a gracious manner. The woman who is gracious is never rude. She doesn't raise her voice. She doesn't make life miserable for department store clerks or waitresses. She isn't aggressive. She may be firm but she is polite about it. She doesn't think it clever to take small advantages.

★ ★ ★

Stop and think now. Does this describe you? Or are you guilty of shoving your way through stores, grabbing, trying to get ahead of others in line or deviling a waitress? If you know that you are, don't congratulate yourself. You may have secured some small edge some place but to do it, you have sacrificed your womanly charm. And it doesn't matter, really, that you're pretty and well-dressed if you're rude.

★ ★ ★

The next time you're tempted to a petty action, ask yourself if this really is what you want to do. Or would you rather be feminine in the very best sense of the word?

Christmas Party Follows Dinner

Following a dinner Tuesday at Old Mill Tavern, the Lake Shores Extension Club attended a Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Jones. Mrs. John Gerranics and Mrs. Robert Mann were cohostesses.

Members discussed a visit to the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. office in January and received pamphlets on "The Use of Herbs."

Gifts purchased by the club for a needy family were wrapped.

Ham and Turkey to Cost About Same Per Serving

Every home is beginning to look like Christmas. Trees are up, gifts are being wrapped, and children are more excited. It's time to make the food list for the gala weekend.

Family preferences will help decide the meat you serve at Christmas, but more shoppers will choose turkey and ham than other meats states the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

If one considers convenience and price, canned ham will be the choice of many. Canned ham can be sliced and tied at the store. It's easy to heat in a 325-degree oven and it can be decorated and basted as any other ham. Because there is no bone or skin, canned ham will serve about five portions from each pound at 18 to 18 cents per serving, depending upon the size ham.

Smoked ham is prepared so many ways, it's sometimes difficult to decide which is the best value. This guide will help one compare price per serving of fully cooked and regular hams:

	Number of servings per pound
Precooked
With bone	3½
Shankless	4¼
Boneless	5
Regular
With bone	2½
Shankless	3
Boneless	3½

Most regular and precooked hams are within the 20 to 28 cents per serving price range this week. Remember, you can expect more servings per pound from half or whole hams than from ham portions. Portions have the leaner center slices removed.

Turkey will be the most popular poultry choice this week, but roasting chickens, duck and geese will be favorites of some families.

If you choose turkey, the story is about the same as it was Thanksgiving. There is an abundance of large size turkeys and those over 17 pounds are the best buy for the money spent. Price per pound is lower, and there is more meat in proportion to bone when the bird is a large one. Cost per serving is about 20 to 25 cents depending upon the size you choose.

A 25 pound tom turkey yields 56 per cent roasted meat, while a 15 pound tom yields about 50 per cent. For each average size serving (3 to 4 ounces of cooked turkey), plan to buy one-half pound of ready-to-cook turkey. From a 14 to 15 pound ready-to-cook turkey you can count on 40 to 41 three-ounce servings and from a 27 to 28½ pound bird there will be 85 servings of the same size.

There is much variety in cirtus and you'll notice some price differences compared with a week ago. The 88 size California navel oranges are specially priced for holiday salads and fruit bowls. You'll find more Florida tangerines, tangelos (a cross between a tangerine and grapefruit), and oranges. Most tangerines are of small size, but the price per dozen is low in accordance.

As one would expect, much emphasis is being given foods considered holiday fare. Cranberries, peaches, fruit cocktail, frozen vegetables, cream cheese, ice cream are a few of these many items.

It's time to finish the Christmas food list. A list will help you keep within the amount you want to spend, will help you to remember the items you need, and thus will help you have a MERRIER CHRISTMAS.

Germans, Danes Would Like It

Old-fashioned and still a delicious combination.

Franks With Spicy Red Cabbage

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 cups knife-shredded red cabbage (firmly packed)
¼ cup (1 small) finely chopped onion
¼ cup light brown sugar (firmly packed)
⅓ cup cider vinegar
1½ teaspoons salt
1 large red baking apple (cored and cut into eighths)
8 to 10 (1 to 1¼ pounds) frankfurters

Melt butter in 12-inch skillet over low heat; add red cabbage, onion, brown sugar, vinegar and salt; mix well. Add unpeeled apple. Cover and simmer, stirring occasionally, for 20 minutes; apple will take on red color of cabbage.

Bury frankfurters in cabbage; cover and simmer 20 minutes longer or until franks are hot through and cabbage as soft as desired; stir cabbage a few times and turn franks over. Makes 4 to 5 servings. If baking apples are used, they should not disintegrate during cooking.

Biscuits Are Cheap Food However They Come

Do you like to mix biscuits, use a biscuit mix, or buy canned biscuits? Which ever way you serve them, there is not much difference in cost says the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

If you make biscuits at home, and make them the same size as those in the cans, they cost almost one cent each. If you use biscuit mix, they cost one cent each. If you buy canned biscuits they cost about 1½ cents each.

Twenty-five years ago only 17,000 dozen packages of biscuits were sold in a year. In 1958, 60,000 dozen packages of biscuits were sold.

Excellent With Soup

Sesame Cheese Biscuits are a quick holiday brunch bread. Dip 1 package refrigerated baking powder biscuits (10) in ¼ cup (½ stick) melted butter. Mix ¾ cup grated Parmesan cheese and 3 tablespoons sesame seeds in a shallow pan; roll each biscuit in mixture, coating both sides well. Bake on ungreased cooky sheet, in preheated 500 degree oven, 8 minutes.

Lemons and Oranges Wonderful With Fowl

Simplicity is the keynote —juicy orange and lemon slices covering chicken pieces that have been dipped liberally in melted butter, seasoned with salt, paprika and crushed rosemary. It's all so easy . . . bake in shallow foil-lined pan in moderate oven about 1 hour or until you just can't resist it any longer.

Fresh orange juice thickened slightly with flour and stirred into remaining juices in pan make a tasty gravy to be spooned over chicken. Steamed rice will make this dish a Speciale de Maison during the holiday season.

Green lima beans (canned or frozen) are delicous when they are seasoned with butter and thyme. Black pepper helps, too!

Team cooked prunes with fresh orange sections for breakfast fruit.

Different Sauce for Chops Is Creamy Pickle One

For the budget-minded homemaker, this is the time to serve pork — the supply is plentiful and prices are low.

The problem, of course, is to find ways of presenting it to the family without provoking anguished complaints of "not pork chops again!" from both the man of the house and the small fry.

If you've been wracking your brains for "new" ways to serve pork, try dressing up your pork chops with a sauce made of sour cream and chopped sweet pickles or pickle relish. For an added touch, top each chop with a slice of onion after browning. Five minutes before they are finished cooking, add a slice of tomato and the sauce to each chop and cover again to permit the sauce and tomato to heat.

You'll find that the combination of the sour cream pickle sauce and the onion and tomato will bring out all the hearty flavor of the pork, and, at the same time, bring the touch of "difference" which will please even the most bored appetite.

Pork Chops with Pickle Sauce

6 pork chops, cut ½ inch thick
Flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup fat or cooking oil
6 thin Bermuda onion slices (about ½ inch thick)
6 tomato slices (about ½ inch thick)
¼ cup water or bouillon

Sauce

½ cup dairy sour cream
¼ cup well-drained finely chopped sweet pickles or pickle relish
¼ teaspoon salt

Dredge chops in flour. Sprinkle with salt. Brown chops lightly in hot fat or oil; turn and brown on second side. Top each chop with an onion slice. Cover and cook slowly until fork tender, 25 to 35 minutes.

Combine sauce ingredients. Five minutes before end of cooking time, top each onion slice with a tomato slice and 1/6 of the sauce. Cover and allow sauce to heat. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Shrimp Appetizer Starts the Meal

Use homemade or prepared mayonnaise for this appetizer.

Shrimp Remoulade

1 cup mayonnaise
2 hard-cooked eggs (minced)
¼ cup minced pimiento-stuffed olives
1 tablespoon minced green pepper
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 small clove garlic (crushed)
1½ pounds shrimp

Mix mayonnaise with eggs, olives, green pepper, mustard, Worcestershire and garlic; chill to blend flavors. Have shrimp cooked and shelled and deveined; cut in half lengthwise if medium-size or larger and if desired.

Serve shrimp with sauce; garnish with salad greens or parsley. Makes 6 servings. Garlic may be omitted.

With This Fudge on Hand You're Set for Guests

For a speedy dessert that fits right in with holiday preparation, make smooth, creamy fudge with evaporated milk's 5-minute method. Make several batches, if you please — store some for holiday entertaining, and earmark the rest for family desserts. Everyone will be pleased, for the excellent blending qualities of evaporated milk will give the candy perfect texture, and the preparation will use a minimum of your precious pre-holiday time.

Both recipes given here, Coconut Fudge Roll and Fudge Fingers, have been developed for you in a test kitchen; both cook in just 5 minutes, and require neither soft ball tests nor candy thermometers.

Coconut Fudge Roll

⅔ cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk
1½ cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups (about 16 medium) diced marshmallows
1½ cups (11½ 6-ounce packages) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
¼ teaspoon peppermint extract
1 cup flaked coconut

Combine evaporated milk, sugar, and salt in saucepan over medium heat. Bringing to a boil and cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. (Start timing when mixture starts to "bubble" around edges of pan.) Remove from heat. Stir in marshmallows, chocolate and peppermint extract.

★ ★ ★

Stir vigorously for 1 minute, or until marshmallows are completely melted and blended. Cool 5-10 minutes. Shape into 18 inch roll. Roll in coconut. Cut into slices.

Fudge Fingers

⅔ cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk
1½ cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups (about 16 medium) diced marshmallows
1½ cups (11½ 6-ounce packages) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon maple extract
½ cup finely chopped mixed candied fruit
1 cup finely chopped walnuts

Combine evaporated milk, sugar and salt in saucepan over medium heat. Bring to a boil, and cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. (Start timing when mixture starts to "bubble" around edges of pan.) Remove from heat. Stir in marshmallows, chocolate, vanilla, maple extract and mixed fruit.

★ ★ ★

Stir vigorously for 1 minute (or until marshmallows are completely melted and blended.) Cool 5-10 minutes. Shape into 2¾ x 1-inch fingers. Roll in walnuts. Cool. Makes about 2 pounds.

Purple Plum Dressing

Dress up your dinner table with individual Blossom Pear Salads. Combine pitted and chopped purple plums from an 8 ounce can with a small package of softened cream cheese and 2 tablespoons honey; mix until smooth. Place drained canned pear halves on crisp greens. Spoon plum-cheese dressing over the pears. Garnish with sprigs of parsley.

ANOTHER FINE PRODUCT FROM STANDARD BRANDS INC.

FESTIVE GARNISH — If your turkey platter or carving board is large enough, trim the turkey with a Christmas garnish of gelatin filled orange shells. To serve, cut the oranges in wedges and add sprigs of holly. Little lemon angels keep watch over the Christmas feast. Baste the turkey with lemon glaze while roasting.

Lemons, Oranges Add Flavorful Color to Meal

The modern homemaker is looking for streamlined recipes with the personality of old-fashioned goodness. This taste tingling glaze for your turkey will bring appeals for seconds. Combine fresh, tangy lemon juice with melted butter (or use the drippings in the pan), grated onion, marjoram, salt and pepper. Brushed on the almost done turkey, it imparts a new look and taste.

Green Bean Imperial Salad is a hostess' dream. Make it early in the day and refrigerate. The green beans are marinated in a French dressing made with fresh lemon juice, oil and seasonings.

For a quick trick garnish for your turkey, fill California navel orange half shells, left from breakfast juice, with slightly thickened cooled cherry gelatin. Use 1 cup water, 1 cup fresh orange juice, ½ cup maraschino cherries, and ½ cup chopped nuts. Refrigerate until set. When ready to serve, cut orange shells in half.

Lemon Angels

With India ink or a thick black paint, decorate California lemons with angelic faces. Cut angel wings and halos from aluminum foil. Hold wings in place by pinning to back of lemon with a thumbtack. Put a bobbypin through center of each halo and push into top of lemon. Leave a little showing and tie a ribbon through the top. Your lemon angel is ready for the holiday season . . . to tie onto trees, decorate tables or hand on the front door.

Lemon Glazed Turkey

¾ cup melted butter or drippings
4 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 teaspoon marjoram
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika

Combine all ingredients. About one hour before turkey is done, brush all over with lemon mixture. Continue basting until turkey is finished.

Green Bean Imperial Salad

1 medium onion, sliced thin
2 packages frozen cut green beans, cooked, drained, cooled
3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
¼ cup salad oil
1 clove garlic, optional
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Pimiento
Thin lemon slices

Add sliced onion to cooked, cooled beans. Mix lemon juice, oil, garlic, mustard, salt and pepper together. Let stand for an hour. Stir dressing through beans. Keep in refrigerator until serving time (at least an hour). Decorate with strips of pimiento and lemon slices. Makes 6 servings.

Proper Care Means Better Frozen Foods

Do you get the best eating quality from the frozen foods you buy? asks the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Do you protect the quality of frozen foods by keeping them cold enough and using them soon enough?

Frozen food should be stored at zero degrees Fahrenheit or lower. At temperatures above zero, chemical changes in the food cause rapid loss of color, flavor, texture and some of the health or nutritive value.

If the temperature of your home freezer or freezing compartment is above zero, frozen foods should only be kept a few days.

A new bulletin entitled "Home Care of Purchased Frozen Foods" (Home and Garden Bulletin 69) lists the time period various commercially frozen foods will hold good quality at zero degrees in a home freezer. For your free copy, write the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Date Filling

Old-fashioned cake filling: sliced pitted dates cooked until mushy with a little water, lemon juice and a dash of salt. Delicious between layers of white or yellow cake with a covering of chocolate frosting.

Stuff Sweets With Bits of Crumbled Bacon

New Jersey grows excellent sweet potatoes. So we asked some Jersey cooks how they use them. This fluffy stuffed sweet potato recipe with bacon curls is one of the best we found. Try it with that crispy brown roast loin of pork.

Stuffed Baked Sweets

6 large sweet potatoes (even size)
Salad oil or bacon drippings
10 strips bacon
2 tablespoons onion, minced
2 tablespoons bacon drippings
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melter butter or margarine
Minced parsley

Preheat oven to 450 degrees. Scrub and dry sweet potatoes. Rub each with small amount of salad oil or bacon drippings. Arrange on baking sheet or even rack and bake until tender when tested with a fork — about 35 minutes.

Roll 6 bacon strips into curls. Saute bacon until crisp. Drain on paper towel. Keep bacon curls warm and reserve for garnish.

Crumble remaining four bacon strips. Saute onion in bacon drippings until tender. Cut a lengthwise slice from each baked sweet potato, leaving about two-thirds of the sweet potato; scoop out sweet potato, being careful not to tear jacket.

Place scooped out potato in a bowl together with salt, melted butter or margarine, crumbled bacon and sauteed onion. Blend and then beat until light and fluffy. Fill sweet potato jackets with mixture. Return potatoes to oven until steaming hot and slightly brown —about 10 minutes. Sprinkle with minced parsley and top with warm bacon curles. Serves 6.

Ice Cream Sandwiches

Put a ½ inch slice of red raspberry ice cream on a cinnamon graham cracker, spread 1 tablespoon of peach preserves over the ice cream and top with another cinnamon graham cracker. Wrap and freeze. Sandwiches may also be made using chocolate covered graham crackers or chocolate cookies, red raspberry ice cream, and omitting the peach preserves.

Chive Biscuits Add Gay Touch

Many hostesses prefer inviting guests to Christmas Eve buffet, leaving Christmas day for family get-togethers. Simple elegance is the keynote to this type of service.

★ ★ ★

Foods should be carefully selected, tasty and attractive with a special effort to have one recipe blend with the occasion for a topic of conversation. For the latter, serve star shaped sour cream chive biscuits.

★ ★ ★

Now that chives are available locally chopped and fresh frozen, these biscuits are easily prepared:

Chive Sour Cream Star Biscuits

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup shortening
¼ cup frozen chopped chives
¾ cup sour cream
½ cup milk

Sift dry ingredients together; cut in shortening until very fine. Add frozen chopped chives, sour cream and milk, stirring lightly with fork to make soft dough. Pat out dough gently on floured board to ¾-inch thickness. Cut with star cutter, brush with beaten egg yolk or milk. Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees, 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 12 stars.

★ ★ ★

For hasty chive biscuits, add frozen chopped chives to biscuit mix and proceed according to package directions.

Misty Winter Cooler

For a new holiday conversation piece serve a "Misty Winter Cooler." Fill punch bowl half full of cracked ice or ice cubes. For each cup of punch desired, add one egg, well beaten, one teaspoon powdered sugar, and a quarter cup of lemon juice. Fill remainder of bowl with apple cider, stir. After serving nutmeg may be grated over top of cups.

CHIVE BISCUITS — Add a Christmas touch to any dinner at this season of the year. In the above picture — it's a Cristmas Eve buffet — it's star shaped biscuits that have frozen chives added to them. Make from scratch or from a prepared biscuit mix.

A record 2.75 billion Christmas cards are expected to go through the U.S. mails this year.

Choose veal from the shoulder or leg when you want to bread slices of the meat.

Shredded coconut and currants are delicious added to a rice stuffing for a roast chicken.

Big Pancake to Feed the Family

There's a tingle in the air at this season of the year; you can see it, feel it, hear it, sense it. It's fashioned of many things: carols, pageants, shopping, addressing cards, hiding gifts, being kind, perhaps smiling more than other times of the year.

★ ★ ★

Since it's the kind of season it is, why not let the holiday tingle creep into your cooking, and try some things that are a bit different from the usual run of meals? You may think you've served chicken in just about every way imaginable, but have you tried Chicken-Pancake Wedges? They're different and easy.

This is a good season to include chicken in your meals, in case you hadn't thought of it, because the supply of chicken is large and prices are low, so says the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

For Chicken-Pancake Wedges, you'll need 1½ cups of white sauce, made by your favorite recipe; 1 cup of cubed chicken meat; and ½ cup of sliced mushrooms. Stir the chicken and mushrooms into the white sauce and heat to serving temperature.

Using any pancake mix, make enough batter to serve four persons. Pour it into a hot, greased frying pan to make one big pancake. As soon as the pancake is fried to a golden brown on both sides, place it on a warmed platter and pour half the chicken sauce over it; fold the pancake over and top with the remaining sauce. Sprinkle with grated parsley and serve. Makes four servings.

Open Addition to Orion School

200 Pupils Attending Classes at Carpenter in New Facilities

LAKE ORION — Some 200 pupils in the Lake Orion Community School District now are attending their first week of classes in an addition to the Carpenter Elementary School, School Supt. A. A. Reed said today.

★ ★ ★

The five-room addition is occupied by elementary students who formerly attended the Blanche Sims and Proper elementary schools in the district.

Carpenter School is closer to the homes of the pupils than the schools from which they were transferred, according to Reed.

★ ★ ★

Besides the five classrooms, the Carpenter addition also includes a multipurpose room, principal's office and space for kitchen facilities.

Hot lunches shipped from the kitchen at Lake Orion Community High School in portable electric lunch carts now are available to Carpenter pupils in the new multipurpose room.

When more funds are available, a kitchen will be opened at the elementary school. The kitchen facilities at Carpenter will be paid for through extra funds from the high school kitchen, which is self supporting, Reed said.

The school superintendent explained that the construction of the addition was the second part of a three-stage building program started in 1956 with the construction of four other classrooms.

OTHER PROJECTS

"A six-room wing which will be built at the back of the school is the final phase of the expansion project planned at Carpenter," Reed reported. He said no date has been set for construction of the proposed wing.

Reed said a move similar to the one made to Carpenter was completed Nov. 14 when 130 students were shifted to a four-classroom addition built at Webber Elementary School.

Sixth graders moved to Webber School formerly attended classes in a temporary setup at Lake Orion Junior High School. The rest of those in Webber School's new classrooms were transferred from Blanche Sims School.

Reed stated that the opening of the two additions required the hiring of four new teachers in the school district. The move included pupils from kindergarten through the sixth grade.

★ ★ ★

Voters in the school district approved the funds for construction of the two additions in a special election March 21. Reed said the new classrooms will be paid for by 1962.

SHARE JOY — Two families, one from New Zealand, are celebrating the Christmas season with a new baby in the Avon Township home of The Russell L. New Arrival Delights Couple 12,000 Miles From Homeland

By LEE WINBORN
Suburban Editor

AVON TOWNSHIP — The birth of a son and a reunion that brings together two families separated by over 12,000 miles are causes for happiness in an Avon Township home this Christmas season.

★ ★ ★

Center of attention in the Russell L. Otto household is five-week-old Barry Thomas, whose birth Nov. 19 brought his grandparents from New Zealand to await the event.

Mrs. Otto's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Hildreth of Auckland, New Zealand, traveled half way round the globe to be on hand for the baby's arrival.

Their visit here will continue until Jan. 31 when they will return to their homeland for what will be the hottest time of the year there.

Barry is the Otto's only child after 14 years of marriage and the only grandchild on the husband's side of the family. Consequently both parents are still up in the clouds out of sheer delight.

The Avon Township couple met in 1944 when Otto was in the Army stationed in New Zealand. He met his future wife at a dance, and they were engaged 2½ years before governmental red tape could be cut to allow her to come to the United States and be married.

Now with their son — a happy, contented baby — the Ottos are really celebrating the true meaning of Christmas with full hearts and the warmth of new-found happiness.

The Hildreths, who don't have snow on their North Island of New Zealand, say they are enjoying their stay here — especially Mrs. Hildreth.

The reason for her added joy is that she has found a staunch new friend, Mrs. Claude Hudson, who lives on the grounds of the State Hospital near Pontiac, where she is employed as a cook.

The events that led up to their meeting date back to when Mrs. Otto and Mrs. Hudson's daughter, Mrs. John Devereaux, lived in the same apartment building on Silver Bell Road.

The two young women decided it would be an interesting idea if their mothers became "pen pals" and began corresponding with each other.

Little did the two older women dream that they would get to meet this year. Now that they have become acquainted, they act like two school chums who grew up together in the same neighborhood.

Mrs. Hudson was at the Otto home, 46 Cloverport St., yesterday to see little Barry for the first time. The joy that radiates in the modest happy home is contagious to all who visit there.

For 4-Mill Operating Tax

Walled Lake School Vote Jan. 30

WALLED LAKE—A special election in the Walled Lake School District proposing the renewal of a four-mill operating tax has been rescheduled for Jan. 30.

School Superintendent Clifford H. Smart said the formerly scheduled date of Feb. 13, a Monday, was revised because it was discovered the day is a legal holiday since Lincoln's birthday falls on a Sunday.

Another reason for changing the date, Smart said, is that the election will come within 60 days of the spring election in April.

Continuation of the special millage will not increase the current tax levy, Smart has pointed out.

He added that all voters in the school district will be allowed to cast ballots.

Smart explained that extension of the four-mill operation tax is necessary because the current levy will be discontinued at the end of the school year.

The present four-mill levy for day-to-day operation of the schools was approved by voters in 1957 for a four-year period.

The proposed levy also will terminate in four years.

The four mills brings approximately $350,000 into the school district annually, the superintendent said.

The Walled Lake School District has a total operating levy of $14.12 for each $1,000 assessed valuation.

This includes $8.12 allocated by the county and another $2 special tax voted by the people several years ago. The additional two-mill levy will expire in two years.

Smart said the special four mills represent 28 per cent of the total school budget.

School district voters last went to the polls in June.

At that time they approved a $250,000 bond issue for site improvements.

The superintendent said the bonds, which will be used to finance athletic field improvements and pave school parking lots, has been sold to the First of Michigan Corp. of Detroit at a 3.03 per cent interest rate.

Smart said the bonds will mature in less time than the designated eight years as a result of increased property valuation in the school district.

Candidates Are Warned to File

Nominating petitions of candidates seeking township or village offices in the February primary must be returned no later than Jan. 2.

In several instances the filing deadline in townships is Dec. 30 or 31.

The filing deadline is up to individual clerks but for no reason will the deadline be extended beyond 4 p.m. Jan. 2, a legal holiday.

If other arrangements haven't been made, clerks must either keep their offices open Jan. 2, or post a notice where they can be reached to receive the petitions for the Feb. 20 primary.

All candidates are urged by County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr. to contact their respective clerks to find out what date has been set for the deadline.

Candidates must submit their petitions in person and not by mail.

Murphy said some candidates and clerks believed that since Jan. 2 was a holiday the deadline for filing petitions would be extended another day.

Rules Mrs. Averill Guilty of Embezzling $56,513

A Detroit Recorder's Court jury yesterday found 59-year-old Mrs. Mary M. Averill of Almont guilty of embezzling $56,513 from the architectural firm of Giffels and Vallet, Inc.

Mrs. Averill and her husband Glenn, a retired Detroit policeman, maintained a $660,000 farm estate at 6330 W. Bordman Road.

She had been employed as head bookkeeper at the firm, now known as Giffels and Rossetti, at a salary of $30,000 a year.

When the jury of five men and seven women returned the verdict, Mrs. Averill said simply, "God will find the path."

DUE AT HOSPITAL

She was to enter Receiving Hospital in Detroit today for treatment of high blood pressure, an ailment which has plagued her during the nine-week trial.

Although the trial was marked by frequent clashes between defense attorneys and Assistant Prosecutor William P. Long, Mrs. Averill broke down only once.

She cried while the jury was in its 3-hour-and-20-minute deliberation.

Mrs. Averill was specifically charged with embezzling $100,513 in 1955-56.

However, the jury agreed to convict her on an amount of $56,513, the exact sum proven missing from the firm's accounts and deposited in her accounts.

The maximum penalty is 10 years in jail.

JURY GETS CHOICE

Judge Elvin L. Davenport had given the jury a choice of three verdicts—guilty as charged, guilty of embezzling less than the $100,513, or innocent.

The judge set Jan. 19 for sentencing. Mrs. Averill's attorney said they intend to appeal.

She still faces a Circuit Court trial in a civil suit by the company, which charges her with taking $856,757 over a six-year period.

The figure was derived from an audit of the firm's books for a period between 1950 and February 1956—the same audit on which the criminal charges were based.

Mrs. Averill retired in April 1956 as the firm's head bookkeeper and office manager.

Car Hits School Bus; No Injuries Reported

ROMEO — A school bus filled with 50 Romeo Community School District students was struck by a car in front of Ford Motor Co.'s proving grounds near here yesterday, according to Romeo State police.

No one was reported injured.

The driver of the car, John Siegler, 38, of 959 Brown City Road, Imlay City, told police he had stopped for the red blinker light at 34-Mile and Fisher Roads.

Police said Siegler, who had been traveling north on Fisher Road, hit the left side of the bus with his car as he was turning onto 34-Mile Road.

Siegler was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way. Police said there was only minor damage to the bus and car.

Rev. Stewart urges residents to take their children to church and announces that there will be no church school Christmas Day.

Pinned by 2 Cars, Man May Lose Legs

SOUTHFIELD — A 27-year-old Farmington man is in critical condition in Redford General Hospital after being pinned between two cars early this morning.

★ ★ ★

Suffering severe injuries to both legs is Ronald A. Krist of 35085 Bridgeman Road. He was struck by a car shortly before 2 a.m. on 8-Mile Road just west of Evergreen Road.

★ ★ ★

Southfield Police said Krist had gotten out of his car which had apparently stalled and was trying to flag down a car driven by William J. Thurston, 46, of 23065 Warner Road, Farmington.

★ ★ ★

Thurston told police that he did not see Krist in time to avoid hitting him. He said he swerved and crushed Krist between the bumpers of the two cars.

★ ★ ★

Krist, who may lose both legs, was unable to make a statement to police after undergoing emergency surgery.

At odds with the majority of Southfield's City Council for most of the two years he was administrator, McNutt was fired in July and resigned in August.

Saginaw Crash Fatal

SAGINAW (AP) — William Pippo Jr., 19, was killed Wednesday night when an auto hit a tree in Saginaw.

Hearing to Be Feb. 13 for Joseph Austin Will

ARMADA — A probate court hearing on the will of suicide-slayer Joseph Austin, who gunned down attorney Wendell Lichtenfelt in his office here Dec. 9, will be held Feb. 13 in Mount Clemens.

Austin, 67, took his own life after beating to death his 53-year-old wife Tessie and shooting Lichtenfelt, 46, her attorney in divorce proceedings between the couple.

The hearing date was set by Macomb County Probate Judge Joseph V. Trombley.

One of the Austins' two daughters, Norma J. Austin of Detroit, yesterday petitioned the court to be appointed administrator of her slain mother's estate.

Mrs. Austin's estate, including holdings in both Wayne and Macomb counties, is estimated at $41,000 in the petition. The deceased woman left no will.

The petition, which is endorsed by the Austins' other daughter, Mrs. Jacqueline F. Ellinger of Park Ridge, Ill., lists the couple's two children as legal heirs.

The value of Mrs. Austin's property in Macomb County is estimated at about $15,000 and real estate in Wayne County at $26,000.

Austin left a will which bequeathed only $1 apiece to his two children. The balance of his estimated $20,000 estate was left to his nephew and niece in Lithuania.

It is possible that Austin's will may be contested by Lichtenfelt's widow, Lila, and their five children. A special fund has been set up to help pay for the education of the Lichtenfelt children.

★ ★ ★

The attorney was a former chief assistant prosecutor for Macomb County. Austin, a farmer, lived with his wife in Armada Township. He had cut his wife out of his will just prior to the double slaying and suicide.

'Blessed Art Thou, Mary' . . . Chap. Four

Joseph Disbelieves 'Til God Speaks

Editor's Note: Even the great human love story of the Gospels had its moments of tribulation. Here, based on ancient but nonscanonical accounts, is a reconstruction of the greatest and unique trial of Mary and Joseph.

By GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Back from his building expedition, Joseph bar Jacob entered the house and found Mary standing alone before the hearth. Her back was toward him. She did not move. Quickly he hooked the door curtain aside to admit more light.

He started toward her, swept with eager devotion. He had not seen her for six months.

She turned about, facing him. An armload of firewood she held crashed to the floor at her feet.

He stopped.

Beneath the gray cowl, her face was pale and drawn, and her eyes burned with anguish. Her palms spread imploringly, defenselessly, at her side. Her body bulged. She was full, meleah, with child!

Breath failed him, and his countenance sagged in disbelief and dismay. He took a step or two, and halted again, staring at her in shattered incredulity.

She seemed to shrink from him, her fingers twisting at the folds of her cloak. She lowered her head, and then, clenching her lips, bent and began rapidly picking up the kindling and stacking it in a heap.

★

He opened his mouth to speak, but no words came. A wave of helpless compassion came over him, an urge to take her in his arms and console her. Yet he remained rooted, sick at heart, shocked and confounded.

Abruptly he turned and plunged out of the house into his carpentry shed. He flung himself down on a pile of sackcloth.

'WHAT SHALL I SAY?'

"Oh Lord, my God," he moaned. "What shall I say concerning her?"

He wept bitterly.

"For I received her a virgin out of the Temple of the Lord, and have not preserved her such."

Rage boiled in him.

"Who has thus deceived me? Who has committed this evil in my house? Who hath defiled her?"

In the very dawn of matrimony had come betrayal. At the beginning of paradise, it was lost.

"Is not the history of Adam repeated in me? For at the very hour of his giving thanks, the serpent came and found Eve alone, and deceived her."

His fingers dug in his face.

"So hath it befallen me also."

★ ★ ★

Angrily he lurched to his feet. With a stroke of his arm, he sent a rack of boards smashing against the wall. He strode outside and into the grove. He walked until his bones ached along with his heart, and then returned to confront her.

★ ★ ★

Now it was night, and a lamp flamed on the sideboard. He called to her, and she emerged from an inner chamber, looking on him with swollen, defiant eyes. He drew himself up determinedly, and said:

"Why hast thou done this?"

Her lips parted and her throat muscles moved in little spasms, but speech eluded her. He could see the veins purpling beneath her translucent skin, and sorrow shook him.

All his senses insisted that she could not have done this thing, she who was so prudent and full of grace, she who was schooled in the very Temple itself, yet here she stood, her unfaithfulness a taunt to his face.

"Why . . .?" He shook his head. "Why hast thou, who has been so much favored of God, thus debased thy soul?"

Suddenly, tears burst from her in a flood, and she clasped her hands to her face, crying out shrilly:

"I am innocent, and have known no man!"

He stood here, dumbstruck, pitying her, loving her, detesting her, believing her, doubting her.

"Then," he said unsteadily, "how comes it to pass you are with child?"

A new burst of tears convulsed her.

"As the Lord my God liveth, I know not by what means."

She bent almost double, covering

"Why hast thou, who has been so much favored of God thus debased thy soul?"

her face in her arms, and whirling, rushed from the room.

For a time, he stood there, abashed, deadened, hearing her rending sobs from the blackness of the inner chamber. Then, his shoulders slumped, he went out again into the night.

An edge of fear formed in him, along with his shame and grief.

"I am innocent . . ."

She had been under strict covenant to him, and any breach in it was adultery.

Mosaic law said, "If a damsel that is virgin be betrothed . . . and another man lie with her . . . then ye shall stone them with stones until they die."

Yet he could not see her slain.

His head throbbed. He could put her away privately. Yea, so he could, without trial or clamor. He would deliver her to kinsmen in Judea, away from the prattling tongues of Nazareth. He was a just man, and had loved her greatly.

He stumbled, on in darkness, oblivious to the limbs that whipped his face.

Oh God, the day star is fallen and hope is become despair. It would not have been unlawful, even thought unseemly, if he himself had known her before. Jealousy consumed him,' and her cry haunted him like some wraith of Sheol.

'I AM INNOCENT'

"I am innocent! . . . innocent!"

If only, within reason, he could believe her, or pardon—for a good man is long-suffering, and unafraid of scorn—but he could not.

Somewhere in the night, somewhere in the gulf past purpose or return, he dropped to his knees, bitter tears mingling with his supplications. He could not say how long he prayed there, and finally he fell to the ground and slept a tumid and teeming sleep.

Joseph, thou son of David, fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. And she shall bring forth a son . . . He shall save His people from their sins.

He jerked erect, his heart beating wildly, his eyes feverish and exultant. It was true! A mystery unveiled! It was their Maker's doing, and the Lord of Hosts is his name. For this cause had the Lord wrought and kept her. He got up, his body stiff, his mind aflame.

He ran, dodging and leaping, as the sun shot silver through the trees. He came to the house and found her waiting. His arms went around her, and with these two, all was well.

But there was suspicion and glowering looks in Nazareth. After Mary's state was known, women pointed and whispered. Joseph found himself shunned. His salutes went ignored.

For, while cohabitation was not illegal for the betrothed, it was considered a violation of decorum. The case was especially notorious in regard to Mary, for her merit and rectitude had been especially acclaimed.

Joseph also had been credited as a temperate and judicious man.

Thus the community was scandalized, and Joseph, along with Mary, was summoned before the elders to confess the deed or denounce her.

"Bear no false witness but speak the truth," the beetle-browed rabbi demanded. "Thou hast married her by stealth . . . and hast not bowed thy head under the mighty hand of God that thy seed should be blessed."

Joseph stood silently, yielding to the indictment. For to have resisted it would have subjected Mary to a capital offense. He walked out of the synagogue a silent Psalm of fortitude in his soul.

"For a good man sheweth favor, and lendeth . . . He shall not be afraid of evil tidings: his heart is fixed, trusting in the Lord. His heart is established, he shall not be afraid."

At the quiet, unpublished ceremony of marriage, the ancient words before entry into the chuppah, the canopied, symbolic tent of the bride, were repeated.

"Therefore shall a man . . . cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one flesh."

At that moment, it is said, a couple's name is proclaimed in heaven. And they were not ashamed nor confounded, and none could remove their peace.

About that time, it was decreed by the provincial Roman legate that all citizens should register in the cities of their birth to be taxed. Since Joseph was of Bethlehem, he journeyed there, taking Mary with him, even though this was not required, for he would not leave her among the mockers of Nazareth.

Packers Drill in Zero Weather

Injuries May Be Factor in Title Contest

Running Ace Taylor Hampered by Bruises in Workouts

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The temperature dropped near zero in this hotbed of professional football Wednesday but there was no rest for the Green Bay Packers as they ran through another spirited drill on frozen turf.

"This intense cold makes it tough to keep the players sharp in practice," Coach Vince Lombardi said. "But we've got to play Monday regardless how cold it is and we may as well get used to it."

The Packer coach relented, however, after hif players had braved the near zero weather and sharp northwest winds for about one half hour. He herded them indoors for a long chalk-talk in preparation for their National Football League championship game against the Eagles at Philadelphia Monday.

Lombardi said he planned a longer drill for the team today, regardless of the weather. The forecast was continued cold and sharp winds.

Lombardi added that injuries may prove a factor in the game with the Eagles.

"I'm sure everyone will play," Lombardi said, "but at the moment Jim Taylor, Jesse Whittenton and Jim Ringo are not well."

Taylor, who has gained more than half of the Packers total ground yardage with 1,101, is hampered with leg and shoulder bruises that give him considerable pain.

Whittenton, one of the team's top men on pass defense, suffered a pulled leg muscle last Saturday while the Packers were beating the Los Angeles Rams for the Western Conference title.

All-pro center Ringo has a charley horse and still is bothered with a sore hand that was spiked in the San Francisco game Dec. 10 when Taylor stepped on it.

"There are other assorted bumps and bruises," Lombardi said.

Lombardi made it clear that injuries should not be excuses.

"The game is the boys'," he said. "It's up to them to get themselves up for it. They've got plenty of incentive."

Players on the winning team will get about $6,000 each while the losers get about $4,000.

'Stop Taylor' Is Eagles' Plan

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — De-250-pound first string lineman, "It fensive end Marion Campbell said will take 60 minutes of hard head today the Philadelphia Eagles must pursue the ball carrier and gang tackle to stop the hard-running attack of Green Bay in the National Football League championship game here Monday.

"If we do I'm sure we can come out the winner," said the 6-foot-3,

Campbell said Green Bay has powerful runners in Jim Taylor, who finished second in the league in ground gaining, and Paul Hornung, who was seventh, but that the club wasn't any more of a running threat than Cleveland. He didn't think Taylor and Hornung were as elusive as Bobby Mitchell of the Browns.

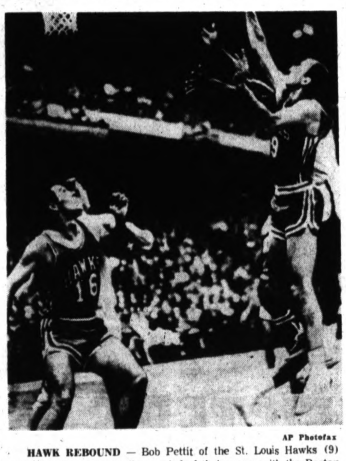

"Taylor will go over you rather than around you," said Campbell. "But if we pursue and gang tackle like we did against Cleveland (the second game) I'm sure we can come out the winner. By pursuit I mean reading the play and going to the ball—getting all the linemen there."

Ed Khayat, defensive tackle, said he would admit Green Bay had a great runing attack "but I don't think its as fearsome as that of Cleveland."

"As good as Taylor is," said the 6-4, 225-pound tackle, "I don't see where he's any better than Jimmy Brown and we did a good job on him in the second game. And we stopped John Crow of St. Louis pretty well."

When Cleveland defeated the Eagles 41-24 in the opener Mitchell and Brown racked up 309 yards between them but when Philadelphia beat the Browns 21-20 in the return Oct. 23 game—which sent the Eagles on their way to the Eastern Conference crown—Mitchell and Brown were held to 181 yards.

This points up the fact that in key must games, the Eagles, who rank next to last in rushing defense, were able to rise to the occasion and contain any kind of an attack enough to win.

Retain Half-Game Edge

Celtics Beat Hawks Again

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Celtics owe their Eastern Division lead in the National Basketball Association today to their mastery over those playoff-troublesome St. Louis Hawks.

Boston's defending world champions led all the way to down St. Louis 120-108 Wednesday night and keep a one half game margin over Philadelphia in the hectic division struggle.

Philadelphia edged New York 122-117 in the opener of the doubleheader, the only two games played. No NBA games are scheduled tonight.

Boston has a 3-0 series margin on the Hawks this season — the same St. Louis club which took the champs the full seven games in the April playoffs.

Like Boston, St. Louis has a 21-9 record. The difference: The Hawks lead runnerup Los Angeles by 9 games in the Western Division.

Sam Jones paced Boston with 28 points and 21 assists for the Celts. Tom Heinsohn 24 points and Bill Russell 22 points and 28 rebounds.

Wilt Chamberlain tossed in 33 points and had 26 rebounds for Philadelphia. Paul Arizin and Tom Gola tallied 23 each. Willie Naulls hit for 31 for New York.

The twin bill was delayed an hour when Referee Dick Powers missed travel connections. New York Coach Carl Braun refused to start the game with one official, Earl Strom, or to accept former NBA whistle blower Jim Gaffney as the second man.

Braun wondered about his firm stand for Powers later when the latter ousted Dick Garmaker, the game's high scorer at halftime, early in the third quarter.

North Lineups Are About Set

But Coaches of South Keep Juggling Linemen for Monday's Game

MIAMI, Fla., (AP)—The North offensive and defensive lineups were pretty well set but the South lineups had yet to jell as the rival all-star college football squads drilled today for their Monday night game in the Orange Bowl.

Coaches Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama and Darrell Royal of Texas had put together two distinct backfield units for the South team, but have been shifting the linemen considerably.

Although Bryant declined to name his No. 1 offensive backfield, onlookers considered it would have Howard Dyer of VMI at quarter, Lauren Sapp of Alabama at fullback, and Bud Whitehead of Florida State and Don Kern of VMI at the halves.

The other unit is made up of Bobby Skelton of Alabama at quarter, Bobby Nay of Vanderbilt at fullback, and Leon Fuller of Alabama and Russ Morris of Vanderbilt at the halves.

Both teams have stressed passing, indicating a wide-open game.

Dale Hall of Army and Bump Elliott of Michigan, the North coaches, are high on their two quarterbacks — Tom Blanda of Army and Jerry Keeling of Tulsa. Hall indicated Blanda would get the starting call because "I know what he can do," but said Keeling would see plenty of offensive action.

Bowling Fault Finder

KEEP IT STRAIGHT
By Olga Gloor

Many bowlers could qualify for a top-notch basketball team, judging from their side-to-side footwork.

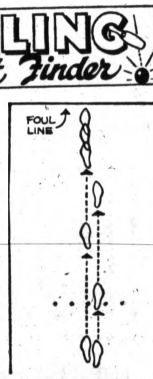

They either drift to the right or left of their starting point as they approach the foul line, or even worse, weave from right to left and back again.

Walk to the foul line in a straight line. The left foot should finish its slide on exactly the same board on which you started the delivery at the rear end of the approach runway.

For a right-handed bowler to end up to the left of his starting position would mean that he would have to pitch the ball out to the right in order to hit his spot. He may hit his spot all right, but the ball will probably end up in or near the right-hand gutter.

Should he finish up to the right of his starting spot, he will have to sidearm the ball onto the lane to hit his spot. Ball will head for the extreme left-hand side of the lane.

Keep everything straight — footwork and armswing — at all times.

Night of Truth for Titans at OSU

De Busschere Ruled Healthy for Big Game

Michigan State Plays at Home; Wolverines Lose Again

By The Associated Press

This is the night of truth for Bob Calihan and his Detroit Titans.

★ ★ ★

They clash with Jerry Lucas and Co.—Ohio State's reigning national basketball champions, the nation's top-ranked team.

It's the game the Detroit coach has been awaiting eagerly for nearly a year.

Calihan figures his eighth-ranked Titans can win it—but they'll have to be at their best, a peak they haven't been able to regain since the Indiana upset two weeks ago. They'll also have to overcome their road jinx.

Detroit arrived here with good news. Dave DeBusschere, Detroit's answer to All-America Lucas, is as healthy as ever. DeBusschere even passed up the physical checkup Calihan suggested, saying he no longer felt tired.

The Titan ace, an All-America candidate himself, has looked drab and run down in his last two games.

DeBusschere's health has made Calihan feel better. He assigned DeBusschere to guard Lucas.

Ohio State sports a 10-game winning streak with 14 straight victories on his home court.

Michigan State, still smarting from thumpings imposed by two other Big Eight basketball teams, takes on Iowa State at home tonight.

The Spartans started off fast by beating Butler and Bowling Green State, but then were whipped 93-69 by Kansas and 104-83 by Kansas State over the weekend.

Iowa State has won three out of five, losing the last time out to Marquette.

The Wolverines hit home on only 29.4 per cent of their shots as they lost to Denver University 68-59. Denver's mark was little better—only 42.9 per cent.

It was a tight contest during the first half, and it took Denver 17 minutes to take the lead for good. The Pioneers held a 31-28 advantage at halftime.

Michigan is now 2-6 for the season, Denver is 2-4.

Proposal by Brundage Is Under Attack

LONDON (AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, ran into arguments from may sides Wednesday on his proposal that gold medal winners should not be allowed to defend their titles.

Brundage wants to see the proposal discussed because he thinks it would be a menas "of opening the Games to more people and diminishing the chances of athletes making a career out of sports."

Jack Crump, secretary of the British Amateur Athletic Board, described the proposal as "nonsense. If it is Brundage's plan to deprofessionalize the Games he is right off the track. It is little more than a crazy proposal."

Pulling Worsley Pays Off

"I don't remember the last time it happened with the Rangers," goalie Gump Worsley of the New York National Hockey League team said after he left the ice in favor of six skaters and the team scored to gain a 2-2 tie with the Chicago Black Hawks.

★ ★ ★

New York trailed 2-1 going into the last minute at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night in the only NHL game scheduled. Chicago's Al Arbour was sent to the penalty coop at 18:16.

When Worsley went out, leaving the New York goal mouth wide open, the Rangers enjoyed a 6-5 manpower advantage.

Andy Hebenton, Ranger forward who had been in a six-game scoring slump, fired a 20-footer from a scramble in Chicago ice, and knotted the score at 19:21.

"Usually, it backfires against you," Worsley admitted. An opposing player need only break away, and he's got an open net.

This was the Rangers' third tie in six games, while Chicago failed in a bid to win its second game in the last 10.

Ron Murphy scored the first Chicago goal but New York made it 1-1 on Johnny Wilson's 60-footer.

Earl Balfour got a backhander from 10 feet out at 15:04 of the second period to put Chicago in front 2-1.

Detroit-Navy Football Game at Briggs Stadium

DETROIT (AP) — The University of Detroit has decided it can draw more fans and make more money if it turns next year's Oct. 21 football date with Navy into a night game at Briggs Stadium.

University officials plan to use the 52,000-plus seat stadium instead of its own U-D Stadium, which seats only 20,000.

John Mulroy, Detroit's vice president for athletics, said the game was set some time ago for Briggs Stadium.

Floyd-Ingo Details Are Expected Today

Milford Wins, 4 Games Tomorrow

Pulling away late in the 3rd quarter sparked by two reserves, Milford stayed close on Holly's heels in the Wayne-Oakland race with a 59-46 victory over Bloomfield Hills last night.

Four games, featuring two more in the W-O, will wrap up the pre-Christmas prep basketball slate Friday night.

The big contest of local interest will be at Clarkston where Coach Art Paddy's improving West Bloomfield quintet tries for an upset. Clarenceville goes to Northville for the other loop game, South Lyon hosts big Willow Run and Flint Northern travels to Jackson.

Gary Painter and Ernie Miller were the subs who came off the bench to help break up the game at Milford. They combined for five straight baskets in a hurry and the Redskins rolled from then on.

Milford led all through the last three periods but it had been close until the Painter-Miller surge. It had been 11-11 after one quarter and 22-19 at halftime. It was up to 38-28 starting the last eight minutes.

Tim Kurnick of MHS topped both schools with 20 points. Miller added 11 and Painter 10. Art Tregenza swished 13 and Bruce Billings 10 for the Barons, who left much to be desired in the rebound department.

Clarkston will be favored to move back into a 2nd place deadlock with Milford as the Wolves try to bounce back from a surprising setback.

★ ★ ★

The Lakers ending their losing ways by toppling Brighton and could be ready to cause plenty of trouble around the loop.

★ ★ ★

Clarenceville is still looking for its 1st triumph of the season. Northville has been coming along slowly and showed its stuff in beating the Wolves.

★ ★ ★

South Lyon may be out of its class against Willow Run. Flint Northern hopes to end a victory-less drouth.

Await Rice in Sugar Bowl

Rugged Rebels Healthy Again

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI)—Mississippi's rugged Rebels will greet Rice in the Sugar Bowl with a team possibly as strong as the Ole Miss crew which inflicted a 21-0 punishment upon LSU in last January's New Orleans classic.

The unbeaten Rebs are big, fast and well-tutored. There is so much talent throughout the squad that veteran coach John Vaught frequently has third-stringers playing aside starters, even in the few instances when the going is tough.

Only once this year was Mississippi's record marred. Rival LSU, intent on avenging its Sugar Bowl drubbing, caught the Rebels when they were nursing more injuries than in any other weekend in recent years. Three starters were benched and four other first-teamers, including All-America quarterback Jake Gibbs, were operating at well less than full speed. Vaught figures he was lucky to get out with a 6-6 tie.

Rice can't expect to find Ole Miss in such a vulnerable position Jan. 2. The Rebels closed their regular season with lop-sided wins over Tennessee and Mississippi State and should be in continued good form against the Owls.

The Ole Miss defense turned in what the NCAA Service Bureau called the best performance of the year in college football when it allowed Tennessee only 24 yards total offense. But most Rebel followers consider Ole Miss better on offense.

The man who makes the Reb attack go is Gibbs, a natural athlete who turned down up to $75,000 in baseball offers to continue as Vaught's No. 1 quarterback. An authentic triple-threat, Gibbs is an outstanding punter, an elusive runner and a passer competent enough to have completed 28 of his 32 most recent tosses.

As usual, Vaught has a big team. The starting line averages 219 pounds per man and the second-unit line is only six pounds per player lighter. The starting backfield boasts a 199-pound average and the second backs average 190 pounds.

Still, Ole Miss has outstanding team speed. Such big fellows as Bobby Crespino (211 pounds), Johnny Brewer (230) and George Blair (195) all possess the speed of a sprinter.

Line mainstays for the Southeastern Conference champions are Brewer, an All-SEC end, tackles Bob Benton and Jerry Brown, guards Richard Price and Treva Bolin, field goal-kicking center Allen Brown, and Ralph Smith, a tank-tough defensive end.

Ferris Tourney Champ

FLINT (UPI) — Ferris Institute overwhelmed Hillsdale to win the seventh annual Flint Christmas basketball tournament, 84-63, last night.

Host team Flint Junior College grabbed consolation honors by downing Eastern Michigan, 86-76.

Hillsdale, which broke a seven-game losing streak with a victory over Eastern in the opening round Tuesday night, was never in the game. Ferris led at the half 41-24.

Toy Palmer of Ferndale paced the Big Rapids club with 22 points on 10 field goals and two foul shots. Dave Simmons was high for the Dales with 14 points.

Ferris is now 6-1 on the season while Hillsdale is 1-7.

In the game for runner-up honors Flint J.C. rolled to a 47-38 halftime advantage and fended off the Hurons the rest of the way.

Dale Lucas hit 13 field goals and one foul shot for 27 points, high for the game and the night for Flint. Ron Gulyas had 24 points for Eastern Michigan.

Lounge Cagers Still Undefeated

Class A Leaders Edge Newman Five, 77-75, in Overtime Battle

The first real "cliff-hanger" of the 1960-61 City League basketball season happened last night at Pontiac Central when unbeaten 300 Lounge nosed out Newman A.M.E., 77-75, in a Class A overtime thriller.

Dave Diehm's bucket at the final gun enabled Lounge to tie the score, 69-69, and force the contest into over time. Newman was outscored by an 8-6 margin in the extra period.

Dalton Cantrell tallied 25 points to pace the Lounge attack while Jerry Williams led Newman's offense with 23.

Buckner Finance soared over the century mark in a 110-48 massacre of the Baldwin Merchants in a Class B game. Nick Neiris and Jerry Paul each scored 32 points for the undefeated Buckner quintet. Don Mountain and Del Norman tallied 11 apiece for the Merchants.

In Class C action at Pontiac Northern, Felice Market nipped Booth Builders, 42-41, and Town & Country downed Smith Fuel, 45-37. Jerry Sherer bagged 14 points for Felice, Jim Wheatley 14 for Booth, Howard Fulhion 17 for T&C and John Lovelace 14 for Smith.

The Warriors trounced Northside, 58-30, in Class D action at Lincoln with Dick Morgan netting 17 points for the winners and Jon Blocker making 12 in a losing cause. Jesse Cohen had 17 points to lead the Westside Kiwanis to a 34-26 victory over the Knights. Bill Olmstead notched 12 in defeat.

Lions, Bears Get Money Back

NEW YORK (AP) — Pete Rozelle, National Football League commissioner, said Wednesday night he has rescinded the $25 fines assessed against players of the Detroit Lions and Chicago Bears for their free-for-all battle at Chicago last month.

★ ★ ★

Rozelle said he returned the fines a couple of days ago because of the good conduct of the teams since then. The teams closed the season against each other last Sunday in a game won by Detroit, 36-0, and without any incidents.

★ ★ ★

"It's been league policy for years to return such fines if the players merited it," said Rozelle. "At the time I imposed the fines I told the clubs the fines would be rescinded if I received reports of good conduct from the coaches and officials."

★ ★ ★

Rozelle, however, declined to comment on a report Bruce Maher, defensive halfback for Detroit, did not get his penalty money back. Maher, ejected from the game, was fined $50.

Here's Correct Way

The Ski Jump—From Top-to-Stop

ISHPEMING (AP)—Here's a run-down from the national ski association on what a ski jumper should do, top-to-stop:

On the in-run (that part of the hill above the takeoff) the jumper should maintain a well-controlled and quiet position, the skis held close together and arms stretched forward and downward. Just before arriving at the takeoff a jumper should take a position ready for the actual spring.

The actual spring should take place in one concerted movement. As a preliminary, the arms should be gradually drawn back until they are in line with the body. Then follows a quick forward and upward stretching movement and a simultaneous throwing forward of the arms. This stretching movement should finish at the identical moment when the feet leave the edge of the takeoff.

In the air during the first part of the jump the skis should be so directed that in the upper part of the jump they are in parallel with the alighting ground.

The knees and the body must be rigid. A bend at the hips is correct. In either case the legs should be at acute angle to the skis, the feet pressed together, the arms forward and upward or else to the sides (the European fish style. During the whole jump the other and in the same place. Any movements made should be free of jerkiness and in complete control.

The landing should be sure and elastic, this being attained through the bending of the knees and the forward lean of the upper body at the same time. The skis must be together, one foot slightly in advance of the other, the arms forward and outward to maintain balance.

After landing, the jumper must adopt a natural and well-controlled position; ready on the curve leading to the outrun. When conditions permit, the jumper should finish up with a turn.

Chargers Resume Drills for Oilers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Chargers have resumed practice for their American Football League title game with the Houston Oilers Jan. 1 in Houston.

Coach Sid Gillman called his players together Wednesday and announced a revamping of his three linebackers. Ron Botchan moves from middle to left linebacker; Emil Karas takes over the middle linebacking spot, vacating the right linebacker post, which goes to Rommie Loudd.

Gillman said the changes were made on the basis of his defensive team's play in the closing game of the regular season against the New York Titans here last Sunday.

The changes may be due to the known proficiency of Houston quarterback George Blanda as a forward passer. The Oilers led the AFL in passing yardage and in total offense. They also have the No. 3 and 4 rushers in Billy Cannon and Dave Smith.

Style Counts Plenty in Ski Jump Scoring

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — Style counts as much as distance in ski jumping.

Everybody starts with a perfect score. There are three judges and a chief scorer. The judges watch only for flaws in style. The chief scorer records jump distances on a master sheet.

Each judge gives each jumper 20 points — a perfect 60 style score — to start with. Each deducts anywhere from ½ to 20 points for each style flaw. The scoring begins as soon as the rider begins his so-called in-run from the top of the slide.

He loses all 20 points if he falls on the in-run down the slide; a half-point if in bad position on the in-run. No spring at takeoff at the end of the slide costs 4 to 5 points; a feeble spring ½ to 3. There are also deductions for premature or late springs.

A fall on landing can cost 8 to 12 points. Points also are knocked off for bent knees; body too far forward; ski-points too high or too low; skis not held together, etc.

Each jumper also gets 20 points from each judge, a total of 60, for distance. He loses fractions of points, usually .2 or .3 for each foot he is short of a predetermined long jump for a particular hill.

Judges, as in football and baseball, call faults "as they see 'em," according to E. O. (Buck) Erickson, editor of the Iron Mountain news and dean of Michigan's ski-jumping writers.

"But," says Erickson, one official may see a fault and the other two may miss it altogether. So, as in all sports, the official decision is not always a popular one. 'Blind Tim' and 'I wuz robbed' are not exactly unknown terms in skiing."

Wade Wants to Be Rams' No. 1 QB

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The battered Los Angeles Rams should scrap their multiple quarterback system, quarterback Billy Wade said Wednesday.

"I want to be the No. 1 quarterback from the opening day of spring training next year. I do not believe in the two-quarterback system," he said.

★ ★ ★

Wade, who shared most of the Ram T-quarterback chores this season with Frank Ryan, said he has asked for a meeting with Ram Coach Bob Waterfield and General Manager Elroy Hirsch.

"I want to find out just where I stand here," he told sports writer Maxwell Styles of the Mirror. "I will be perfectly honest—I am not interested in sitting on the bench."

Wade blamed part of the Rams' miserable showing this season on platooning quarterbacks.

TKO Win for LaStarza

PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—Roland LaStarza, 192, Bronx, N.Y., stopped Ike Thomas, 181¼, of New York at 2:20 of the third of a scheduled eight-round bout Wednesday night.

LaStarza, who twice fought retired heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, was floored with a left to the chin in the first round for an eight count.

300 Game Odds—Phew!

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (NEA) — The odds for an American Bowling Congress member rolling a 300 game in a sanctioned league or tournament last season rose to one for each 1.2 million games.

Lakeland, Merchants and Ron's Post Wins

Lakeland Pharmacy in Class A and B teams Ron's Sunoco and Greek Merchants were Waterford basketball winners Wednesday night.

Augie Eichorn tallied 24 points as Lakeland bombed Tom Thumb Grill 68-32. Jim Jones Jr. had 10 in defeat. Ron's slammed R & R Motors 52-49 featuring 20 for Jim Robinson. Phil Felice canned 14 for R & R. Gus Pantel topped the Greeks with 17 as they whipped George's Super Service 62-50. Max Jarrett swished 22 for the Supermen.

Rafer Top Nominee for Sullivan Award

MIAMI, Fla. (UPI)—The coveted Sullivan award, presented annually to the nation's top amateur athlete, is up for grabs today and the nod appears to be favoring the big guy who did it the hard way.

A total of two fistfuls of deserving Olympians have been nominated for the award. Each one would honor it and yet, of the 10 candidates, the feeling here is that the man who won the toughest event of them all — after helping to coach his chief opposition — is a stickout.

That would be, of course, Olympic decathlon champion Rafer Johnson.

In an Olympic year, it is no surprise that all the nominees should have sprung from the lists of the international games. Track naturally dominates the list, this being the glamor section of the contests.

Members of the spiked shoe set on the ballot in addition to Johnson are triple gold medal winner Wilma Rudolph — who well may win the trophy — Don (Tarzan) Bragg and Duke's rambling redhead Dave Sime.

Swimming contributes blond Chris Von Saltza of Santa Clara Mike Troy of Indianapolis and Jef Farrell of New Haven plus Ohio State basketball star Jerry Lucas, wrestler Tarry McCannof Tulsa, weight lifter Tommy Kono of Honolulu.

Anybody who has watched the agonies of the 10-event decathlon championship knows that this is the toughest amateur event of them all. You get a feeling, as you sweat it out, that the man who wins it should be awarded 10 gold medals, one for each event, when he finishes that two-day grind against a large, well-muscled field from all over the world.

But Johnson, the man who is build in the wedge-shaped proportions of a piece of pie, did more than merely win titles with world and Olympic records while rubbing out the marks of such as Bob Mathias and Russia's Vassily Kuznetsov. He also helped coach the man who finished second, formidable C. K. Yang of Formosa and his one-time classmate at UCLA this unselfishness alone would grace the Sullivan Award.

Miss Rudolph, the Tennessee State gazelle, made a big pitch by copping three gold medals in the olympics and dominating the action with victories in the 100 and 200 meters and the 400-meter relay. The records prove she is the greatest women's spring star of all time.

St. Louis 5, Kentucky Clash for Title

Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Billikens, in the past always willing to slug it out point-for-point on a basketball court, have the new look of a fine defensive team this year and this may be the formula they'll need to beat Kentucky tonight for the title in the Wildcats own tourney.

The Bills' 54-53 overtime victory over California, one of the best ball control and defensive outfits in college basketball, Wednesday night must have also driven home the point to Coach Adolph Rupp's team, which won over Illinois 83-78 in the other tourney game.

The victory was St. Louis' sixth in seven starts, during which they have allowed an average of only 49 points a game. This compares with Kentucky's scoring average of 63 for a 4-2 mark. Offensively the Bills, whose only loss was 81-66 to top-ranked Ohio State, have averaged 64 points compared to Kentucky's 62 points allowed six opponents.

Duke's Blue Devils, seventh-ranked in the current Associated Press poll, got another fine performance from soph Art Heyman and breezed past Florida 83-64, North Carolina State (No. 10) held off LaSalle's late rush for a 71-68 win afterwhich Temple handed Penn its first loss 72-58.

Louisville, unbeaten in nine starts, won over Louisiana State 72-53 and Vanderbilt, also undefeated, beat New Mexico 66-59. Kansas State won its fifth in a row, 63-56 over Colorado State U., while Colorado lost its first in eight starts, 64-54 to Wichita and Dayton handed Seton Hall its first defeat 66-45

St. Louis warmed up to Wednesday night's task with a 52-26 victory over San Jose State Monday night, using a tenacious man-to-man defense. The Bills beat job against a major opponent was a 57-40 victory over Cincinnati, though the Bearcats' high-scoring center Paul Hogue was suffering from the flu at the time. They gave the Davis branch of the University of California only 24 points, Iowa only 55 but caught Ohio State when the Buckeyes were having their best shooting night of the year.

St. Louis' defense almost didn't make it for a while Wednesday night as Cal overcame a 28-20 halftime deficit and tied the score 49-49 at the end of regulation time. But three straight points by Tom Kiefer put the Bills in front for good, Bob Nordman led St. Louis with 19 points while Dave Stafford and Bill McClintock each had 11 for the Bears.

★ ★ ★

Roger Newman scored 24 for Kentucky, and the Wildcats got 21 more from Larry Pursiful. But Jim McDonald's three-point play in the final 47 seconds killed off any Illini hopes. Dave Downey scored 23 for Illinois which meets California for consolation honors tonight.

Duke's Heyman flipped in 34 points to pace a sharp-shooting Blue Devil team that broke Florida's zone defense and also held its high-scoring Bobby Shiver to only four points. N. C. State (6-1) had a 62-54 lead with six and a half to go but didn't breathe easily until Ken Rohloff's foul shot gave it the final margin with five seconds to play. Anton Muehlbauer led the Wolfpack with 19 points.

John Turner's 24 points and 16 rebounds paced Louisville while Bobby Bland got 18 for Vanderbilt (7-0) which took advantage of cold shooting by New Mexico in the second half. K-State beat back a late surge by Colorado State and got 15-point performances from Larry Comely and Ced Price. A 2½ minute brawl between players of both teams interrupted Wichita's victory but the Shockers were never in trouble of losing. Dayton surged from a 46-42 lead with Seton Hall (4-1) in the second period, going 12-0 when the Pirates couldn't score for nine minutes.

In other games, Cornell Green scored 22 points as Utah State broke open Kent State's ball control tactics for an 83-62 victory. Giants and Bears Want Rest of $$ TORONTO (AP)—Two National Football League clubs, the New York Giants and Chicago Bears, Wednesday filed a writ seeking $25,000 from promoters of an exhibition game here last August.

The writ states that the two clubs have received only half of the $50,000 guarantee agreed to in a contract with the promoters, Sol Hart, Mike Carroll and Jack Churchill, all of Toronto.

None of the promoters, who operated as Exhibition Football Enterprises, Inc., was available for comment.

The game, played Aug. 15, drew only 5,421 fans at 27,000-seat Varsity Stadium. It was reported at the time that gate receits totaled about $30,000 and that the promoters, who had expected a crowd of 25,000, lost approximately $35,000 on the venture.

Italian Village Settled by Scots

Gurro in Piedmont Full of Desmonds, Patricks and MacDonalds

WASHINGTON—Among the first families of Gurro, a remote mountain village in Italy's Piedmont Province, are the MacDonalds, the Desmonds, and the Patricks.

They have been living there since the 1520s, the National Geographic Society says. For 400 years the villagers were secluded in the highland glen near the Swiss border, surrounded by the region with nearby Lake Maggiore resort towns.

Even after the highway came, few outsiders noticed anything different about Gurro's inhabitants. Recently, however, a list of Celtic names on a local parish register caught the attention of sociologists, and the romantic origin of Gurro's people came to light.

The villagers' ancestors were mercenary Scottish archers who served as bodyguards of the French king, Francis I. Their settlement in Gurro was most unexpected.

His desire to conquer Italy was heightened by his triumphal Marignano expedition in 1515 and his political rivalry with Charles V, Holy Roman Emperor and King of Spain.

In 1525, Francis besieged Pavia, south of Milan. He led his army to disaster and was himself captured by Charles V. "Of all things," he wrote to his mother after the defeat, "nothing remains to me but honor and life."

The battle separated Francis from two companies of his Scottish archers. Since more than 8,000 French soldiers were killed, including all their commanders, the Scots were thought to be among the victims.

★ ★ ★

Actually, the Scots escaped and tried to walk home. They headed north along the Ticoni River, crossed Lake Maggiore, and journeyed into Valle Cannobina en route to Alpine passes. Winter snow halted their march, and they camped at Gurro to await spring.

★ ★ ★

After surveying the terrain, the mercenaries found the soil rich and the valley easy to defend.

★ ★ ★

The setting was so pleasant they decided to stay. Later, they took local wives and built a fortress town.

Today, the Scots are Italianized.

Not Much Foot Room

ALBURG, Vt. (UPI) — When state trooper Dana Goodnow found a Canadian visitor napping in a sleeping bag beside his small foreign car in a snowstorm, he got this story: the car had broken down but was too small for the driver to curl up inside and sleep so he decided to "camp" outdoors.

Direct That Negro Get Top Position at Indian School

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Interior Department Thursday directed the Bureau of Indian Affairs to promote Cleveland M. Miller, a Negro, to be principal of a new Indian boarding school at Chinle, Ariz.

Miller had been principal of an older Navajo school in Chinle since 1954 and was considered by his superior to be highly qualified to head the new school. When the new school was opened he was bypassed for the principal's job.

It was awarded by the bureau's area director at Gallup, N.M., to Lawrence Capps, a white man.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) protested to the department, claiming racial discrimination.

After an investigation, D. Otis Beasley, administrative assistant secretary of the department, said the appointment of Capps was "unfair to all concerned," that it was "unfortunate" that Capps, "a highly qualified man," was projected for the job at Chinle."

Beasley said bureau management "ignored the realities of the Chinle situation," and "ignored the fact that Miller was being openly groomed for the job." He ruled that Miller get the job.

SANTA CLAUS IS GOOD — For a greeting message you can choose anything from "Like, man, dig this cool Yule," to the old English carol . . . Christmas is coming, the geese are getting fat, Please to put a penny in the old man's hat; If you haven't got a penny, a ha'penny will do, If you haven't got a ha'penny, God Bless You.

Growing More Colorful

Cards Are Big Business

The first World War saw the advent of huge "poster cards" to hang in the window alongside the holly wreath, wishing pedestrians a Merry Christmas. It was the same year, too, that cards began enclosing little "discs" which sang you your Christmas greeting in rich baritone choruses when you put them on the phonograph.

★ ★ ★

The Roaring Twenties were flooded with "useful" cards — cards that could double as calendars, blotters, bookmarks.

These were succeeded by special cards for all the family — for Pop, Mom, Brother and Sister.

Other motifs such as Santa Claus, fireplaces with stockings, holly and snow scenes, became popular in the United States through the influence of German art.

American Christmas card contests offered artists prizes totaling up to $80,000.

Advances in printing during the last century have given this public a mass-produced quality which would have satisfied even the exacting tastes of Sir Henry Cole.

Research in the problems of color reproduction points to a future for greeting cards which will be as colorful as their Christmases will be white.

Current taste in Christmas art ranges from chubby cheeked St. Nick holding one nostril as he lifts his foot into the chimney . . . to elegant reproductions of early Renaissance Nativity scenes.

Since 1953, the Weather Bureau has called tropical storms by girls' names. The list for 1960 runs from Abby to Winny.

Taft Carillon Rings 'Long'; Melodies Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — To save senatorial ears, the tunes ringing out from the Taft Carillon heard by the Capital have been cut from about a dozen to two a day.

★ ★ ★

The electronic mechanism in the memorial to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft has been reset to play melodies only at 11 a.m. and 5 p.m.

★ ★ ★

A dissenting voice was that of Rep. Clarence Brown, a fellow Ohio Republican who headed the subcommittee which supervised design and construction of the memorial to the longtime GOP leader.

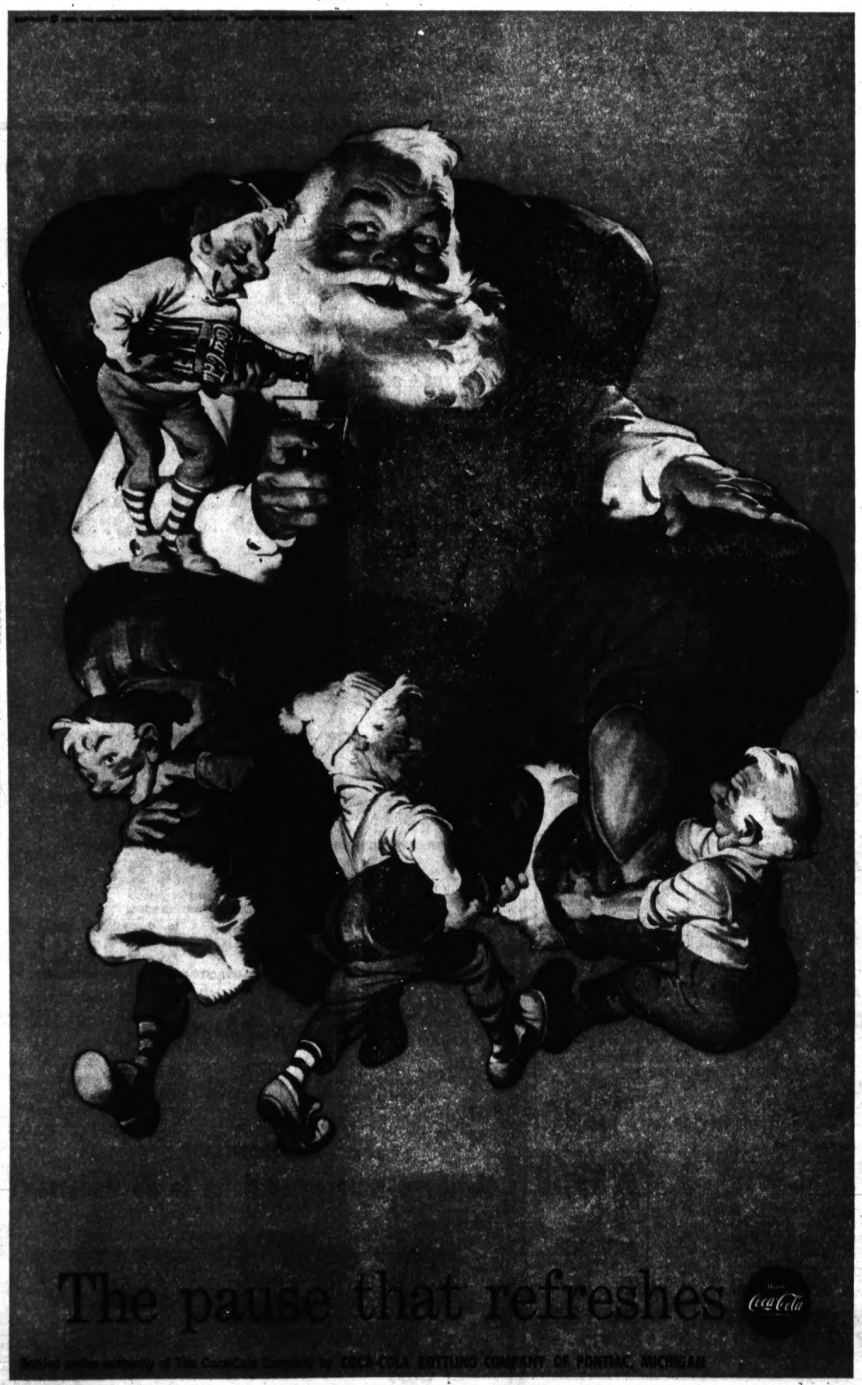

The only complaints he'd heard, Brown said, were that the bells didn't sound often enough.

Hot Evidence Leads to Capture of Suspect

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Evidence, he was trying to destroy by fire, led the police to a thief charged with taking two women's purses from a car.

★ ★ ★

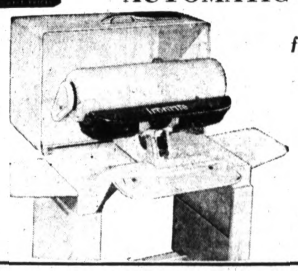

The smell of burning plastic billfolds in the vicinity of a bridge prompted rookie patrolman Richard Donnelli to look under the bridge and come up with the alleged thief.

Space Mouse Gives Birth to 5 Babies

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—One of three black mice fired 600 miles into space by the Air Force in October became a mother Tuesday night.

Amy, one of the two females who made the 4,400-mile trip from Cape Canaveral to the South Atlantic near Ascension Island, gave birth to five tiny offspring at the School of Aviation Medicine here.

The other female, Sally, also is expecting, Dr. Hans G. Clamann, chief of the school's department of space medicine, said.

The mother, the mother-to-be, the children and the father—Moe—all are in "excellent condition," Clamann said.

Air Force scientists sent the rorents up in the nose of an Atlas Intercontinental. Ballistic Missile to determine the effects of radiation and weightlessness.

Clamann saaid tufts and streaks of white hair in the female mice indicate they were hit by a few heavy particles of radiation.

The general level of radiation encountered during the 20-minute flight was low enough that scientists do not expect any genetic (hereditary) effects to become evident in the mice.

LOTS OF CARDS — Dorothy Ridgeway, 9, of Hardy, Va., poses with some of the 300 Christmas cards she's received since last week. The youngster has had a fatal bone disease since 1953. Dorothy's plea for a lot of cards for Christmas received worldwide attention Wednesday when the U. S. Weather Bureau circuits relayed her wish.

Dillon's Action Disappoints Ike

Papers Say President Warned New Secretary He'd Have Trouble

DES MOINES, Iowa (UP) — Republican Douglas Dillon, secretary of the Treasury in the Kennedy Administration, was told in forceful language by President Eisenhower not to accept the appointment, two Midwest newspapers said Wednesday.

The Des Moines Register & Tribune and the Minneapolis Tribune & Star said in a copyrighted story from their Washington Bureau Correspondent Richard Wilson:

"It is learned that both the President and (Treasury secretary Robert) Anderson told Dillon in a forceful and firm fashion that he should not accept the post unless he got a firm commitment from Kennedy that the president-elect was repudiating the Democratic platform and statements on fiscal policy made during the campaign."

The story said the acceptance by Dillon, undersecretary of state in the Eisenhower administration, came as a surprise to the President, to Anderson and to Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Dillon, a New York investment banker, reportedly was told that unless he got such commitments he would end up as did Lewis Douglas of Arizona, President Franklin D. Roosevelt's first director of the budget. Douglas broke with Roosevelt on spending policies early in the New Deal.

Earlier this week White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty declined comment on a report that Eisenhower was annoyed because Dillon accepted the incoming Democratic administration job.

Miami Has 40,000 Refugees From Cuba

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has been told there are about 40,000 anti-Castro refugees in the Miami area and that they are increasing at a rate of about 1,000 a week.

The problem was described in an interim report by Tracy S. Voorhees, the president's special representative on Cuban refugees.

Voorhees said Miami's capacity for handling the refugees already is overtaxed and that the situation is becoming acute.

He said federal money so far has been used to maintain a Cuban emergency center in the Florida city and to repay private agencies for the transportation of refugees to other cities where jobs are available.

Asking Slow Integration for Chattanooga Schools

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI)— The city school board has submitted to Federal District Court a proposal to desegregate the first three grades at selected schools at the start of the 1962-63 school year.

★ ★ ★

The board, which is appealing against the Federal Court's order to submit a plan, also proposed a "grade-a-year" plan of desegregation to begin after the limited integration of selected schools. Judge Leslie R. Darr said he would hear arguments Jan. 9 on the proposals.

February Draft Call for Army Is 6,000

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Army Wednesday issued a draft call for 6,000 men in February.

This is the same quota previously announced for January and compares with 8,000 to 7,000, respectively, in November and December this year.

The new call brings to 2,595,930 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since the resumption of Selective Service in September 1950.

Santa and the Boy Fish

by Lucrece Hudgins Beale

CHAPTER 16

The three-eyed viperfish was long and snake-like. It opened and closed its powerful jaws and snapped together its needle-like teeth.

As it drew nearer, Michael saw that one of its three eyes was missing and he knew it was the Monster of the Deep, who destroyed three times, still had two lives left.

For a moment Michael was too frightened to move. The viperfish swam up to his mask as though it knew the black pearl was inside.

It opened its jaws to bite through the tube that led to Michael's lung. Michael struck out with his hands and, catching the creature by the tail, yanked it from his face.

The big fish was enraged. It blinked its yellow eyes and tried to shake off the boy. Michael hung stubbornly on. There was a furious fight on the deck of the sunken ship.

The tentacle fastened around his waist.

The viperfish twisted and looped and snapped its tail but could not shake Michael off. Clouds of sand and debris rose from the deck. Michael could no longer see the creature but he could sense its panic and he knew that if he held on long enough he would win the battle.

SQUASHED FISH

Suddenly the fish stopped struggling and took off for the captain's bridge towing Michael behind. The remains of an old rusty cannon were on the bride and, in desperation, the fish lunged into the cannon's mouth.

Instantly Michael released its tail and, snatching up a cannon ball from the deck, rammed it into the cannon mouth squashing the imprisoned fish.

Michael trembled with relief. He leaned for a moment to rest against the tilted bridge. All the fish who had sped away during the battle now returned eager to see the strange Boyfish who had bested both squid and viperfish in one short hour.

* * *

It was clear they wanted Michael to stay and be their leader. But Michael had had enough of the ghostly ARADOON.

"I hope I never see it again—gold and all!" he thought fervently. Then, waving to the friendly fish, he kicked off and swam away in the dark blue sea.

As he glided back toward the Turtle City he could feel the black pearl rolling around inside his face mask.

He thought to himself that all was now well for surely the Monster of the Deep, with only one life left would bother him no more.

But he was wrong for, even then, the shadow of a balloon passed overhead and, looking up in surprise, he saw a Portuguese man-of-war hovering above him.

The bright blue jelly fish was floating on the surface of the water on its balloon-like, air-filled bladder.

* * *

A stinging tentacle, 50 feet long, dangled from the bladder. Michael knew that the man-of-war has numerous tentacles and when he saw that this one had only one he knew that the monster of the deep had changed his shape again and come to do battle once more.

* * *

Michael rushed faster and faster through the water but no matter how fast he swam the balloon above him sailed just as fast until finally the exhausted Boyfish could swim no more.

As soon as he stopped, the ever present tentacle fastened around his waist and slowly drew him out of the sea.

AT&T Raises Its Dividend

Hike and Option Offer Boom Share Price to $103.50, All-Time High

NEW YORK (AP)—Stockholders of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. have received a surprise package in the form of higher dividends and valuable rights to buy more stock at a bargain rate.

As a result, the price of their stock skyrocketed Wednesday to an all-time high of $103.50 a share before dipping slightly in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

* * *

The nation's largest family of stockowners, 1.9 million strong, will begin collecting $3.60 a share annually in July. The rate has been $3.30 a year since July 1959.

Next March they will receive rights to buy at an undetermined price, lower than market value, 1 share of AT&T stock for each 20 held on Feb. 23, 1961. This financing promises to be the largest in U. S. corporate history, with a total value of over $750 million.

Directors of the world's largest utility came up with the surprise package at their regular monthly meeting yesterday. They said the company needs money for a $2.5 billion expansion program planned in 1961.

UP 9 PER CENT

The dividend increase, amounting to about nine per cent, is only the second for the famous "blue-chip" stock since 1921.

The first, amounting to 10 per cent, was proposed in another Christmas season surprise on Dec. 17, 1958.

Stockholders attending the 1960 annual meeting this April in New York expected another increase, based on the continued record earnings of the Bell System. However, there was no change.

* * *

The day's high was equal to $310.50 a share on the old stock before last year's 3 for 1 split. The previous all-time high was set Sept. 19, 1929 at $310.25 a share.

AT&T wound up the second most active issue on the New York Stock Exchange Wednesday with 102,800 shares changing hands. The value of the shares traded was about $10 million.

Last Stock Profit Day Is Dec. 23

NEW YORK (UPI) — Friday of this week, Dec. 23, is the last chance to take a profit on a regular delivery basis for inclusion in 1960 income tax returns.

* * *

The deadline happens to fall on Dec. 23, because in the case of a profit, the delivery date is the determining factor—not the date of trade. The normal delivery date, of course, is four trading days after the date of sale.

The final day for profit-taking comes unusually early this year because Monday, Dec. 26, will be a stock market holiday (Christmas). Also, Dec. 31 falls on a Saturday, and Friday, Dec. 30 will stand as the last business day of 1960.

Losses, however, can be put into the 1960 tax return right up to the end of business on Dec. 30. The Internal Revenue Service says that you take a loss when you make a sales contract, but that you do not take a profit till you get your money.

Consumers Will Spend $98 Million in Michigan

JACKSON (AP)—Consumers Power Co. said today it planned to spend more than $9 million in Michigan next year to expand its services to outstate communities.

The utility said projects included continuing construction of three electric generating plants; expansion of gas storage fields near Allegan, and extension of gas service to St. Charles, Chesaning, Grass Lake, Stockbridge, Bath, Dewitt and Hemlock. It said it also included further work on the nuclear power plant at Big Rock Point near Charlevoix.

Grain Futures Hold Steady to Firm

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures held generally within a steady to firm range during active early dealings today on the board of trade but soybeans met fairly general selling pressure and turned weak.

★ ★ ★

All advances during the first several minutes were limited to small fractions but dealers said there was a brisk two-sided trade. Offerings apparently included some selling for profit and hedging.

★ ★ ★

Brokers ascribed the weakness in soybeans to a government report on crushings for November which showed an increase over October but stocks on hand by processors climbed rather sharply to 122,390,000 bushels. A month ago the total was 99,150,000 bushels.

★ ★ ★

By the end of the first hour trade was slow and the market generally weak.

Adrian's Hopes for Jobs Remain

GSA Turns Down All Bids for Surplus AF Plant There

ADRIAN (AP)—Hope for more jobs in hard-hit Adrian has been boosted by the General Services Administration's rejection of all bids received for a surplus Air Force plant in the city.

The GSA rejected the bids Wednesday. It received three on Dec. 1.

The highest were from Strom Machinery Co. of Hammond, Ind., and Harvey Aluminum Co. of Torrance, Calif. Strom bid $3,050,000 and Harvey $2,256,000.

Strom planned to dismantle the plant for salvage. Harvey said it would operate it in Adrian.

OPERATE ON LEASE

The plant formerly was operated by Bridgeport Brass Co. on lease from the Air Force. Bridgeport shut it down last April 30, idling 615 workers in Adrian, already a high unemployment area.

State officials and congressmen, such as Rep. George Meader, R-Mich., as well as Gov. Williams, all had urged the GSA to sell the plant to Harvey which said it would operate the plant and employ up to 2,500 workers.

They conteded it was not in "the best interests of the United States" to dismantle a plant capable of employing 2,500 workers when it is located in a high unemployment area.

The GSA said it would put the property on the market again in the near future and that "it is hoped that bids to be received at that time will be more acceptable."

The plant has an appraised value of $3.5 million. Harvey has indicated it would raise its bid if given a chance.

Five other companies had leased the plant from the Air Force prior to Bridgeport. They all had pulled out because they could not make a profit.

When the plant was shut down the closing affected Adrian's tax base so severely that the city had to revise its budget and cut its school spending.

The number of motor vehicle accident fatalities in the United States is expected to rise from 37,000 in 1958 to about 39,000 in 1959, based on the toll for the first six months of this year.

Selected Issues Emerge Strong

NEW YORK (AP) — Rails, oils, drugs and some specially situated issues made gains as the stock market managed an irregular advance in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

★ ★ ★

American Telephone dipped about a point on profit taking from its upsurge to an historic peak Wednesday when news came of a dividend boost and stock rights distribution.

★ ★ ★

Standard Oil (New Jersey) continued to pace a recovery by oils on the basis of the sales and earnings of Jersey Standard forecast the other day.

Rails had one of their periodic rallies and drugs were mostly on the upside. Autos, steels, nonferrous metals and chemicals were mixed. Building material issues declined.

Fractional gains were posted by Jersey Standard, Texaco, Royal Dutch and Standard of Indiana.

Baltimore & Ohio's gain of more than a point was outstanding among rails. Chesapeake & Ohio, which now has control of B & O and wants to merge, was up fractionally along with Southern Pacific, Illinois Central, Pennsylvania Railroad, New York Central and other carriers.

Fluor Corp. was active and up a couple of points following publication of a report of a substantial increase in earnings.

★ ★ ★

Universal Match advanced a point in brisk trading on publication of a report that it has been negotiating merger with Universal-Controls. The latter was extremely active and fractionally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

★ ★ ★

Minute Maid was a point higher and Coca Cola rose a fraction as stockholders approved the merger of these firms.

★ ★ ★

Certain-teed, up a point, was in a continued rise, as was American Tobacco. Otis Elevator advanced more than a point. Losses of about 2 points were taken by Texas Instruments and U.S. Gypsum.

Plane Victim Insured Lately for $700,000

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (UPI)—One of the victims of last week's plane collision in New York City carried $700,000 in insurance, according to Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Co.

The company refused to identify the person but said one of the two policies, for $500,000 was taken out nine months ago and the other before that.

The firm said early reports indicated five other victims, insured by Massachusetts Mutual, carried a total of $138,000.

Dynamic Dispute Arbitrated

Ordered to Rehire 50

Dynamic Manufacturers, Inc., of Troy has been ordered to rehire with back pay and full seniority 50 workers who took part in an 80-day strike at the plant early this year.

Lewis A. Crane, a Detroit attorney who was named arbitrator by the company and Local 935 of the International Union of Electrical Workers, made the decision as part of the 100 grievances he was asked to hear.

Local 935 struck the Troy plant Feb. 13 when negotiations on a new contract broke down. The present contract expires in less than two months.

The firm hired other workers to replace the union members during the strike. When the union membership voted to return to work in May, the company said they no longer had seniority.

Officials of the electrical firm, located at 4755 Rochester Road, told union members they should have to wait for openings rather than displace the men hired during the strike.

However, the ruling by Crane rejected the theory that an economic strike broke seniority.

Dynamic Manufacturers reportedly is employing fewer than 150 persons at present. Approximately 285 workers were employed before the strike.

HE'S ACCUSED OF STABBING HER—Author Norman Mailer, 37, poses with his wife Adele in New York's Felony Court Wednesday where a hearing on a felonious assault charge that Mailer stabbed his wife was adjourned. Report Burning of Cuban Crops

$50,000 Damage This Week Is Claimed by Returning Travelers

HAVANA (UPI) — Travelers arriving from Western Cuba said today fires set by foes of Premier Fidel Castro have caused more than $50,000 damage to crops and farm equipment this week.

Canefield fires were reported at four other points in Pinar del Rio Province—San Luis, Los Palacios, Cabanas and San Cristobal—causing undetermined damage.

Arson, combined with shortages of insecticides and fertilizer and other factors, is expected to reduce crop yields in Pinar del Rio 20 per cent or more this year.

Much of the antigovernment activity in Pinar del Rio is attributed to the Western Anti-Communist Organization whose alleged founder, Herman Soler Fernandez, was sentenced this week to serve 10 years in prison.

Father Jose M. Couce, a priest accused of aiding another anti-Communist group in Consolacion del Sur, was exonerated.

The government followed up its purge of the supreme court today by revamping the entire judicial system, giving the Castro regime absolute control of the courts.

A decree abolished several lower courts, concentrating their powers in the hands of the "Castroized" supreme court. Among the tribunals abolished was the court of constitutional and social guarantees.

Absolve Officials Involved in Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional investigators feel there was nothing wrong in the off-the-record talks between Thomas G. (Tommy the Cork) Corcoran and members of the Federal Power Commission.

Corcoran, one-time New Deal braintruster and now a $60,000-a-year lawyer, 14 months ago spoke to the commissioners on behalf of the Midwestern Gas Transmission Co.'s request for a new pipeline in the Midwest.

Both Corcoran and the three commissioners with whom he talked were publicly rebuked for the chats by several members of a House investigating subcommittee which last spring held two weeks of public hearings into the matter.

The subcommittee made public Wednesday a staff report which absolved Corcoran and the FPC commissioners from any blame.

S-P Board May Pick Top Men Next Week

DETROIT (AP)—A new chairman of the board and chief executive officer for Studebaker-Packard Corp. may be picked next week when the firm's board of directors meets in New York.

Reports in financial circles indicate a successor has been found for Clarence Francis in the top posts and that his name will be revealed at the board meeting Wednesday.

Francis, 71, said when he took over the company's top post Sept. 1 that he was willing to serve up to two years or until a capable man could be found.

He said again last month that he expected to be succeeded by a "vigorous, capable, younger" man.

★ ★ ★

Officials at company headquarters in South Bend, Ind., declined comment on the reports but a spokesman said it was no secret that several men have been interviewed.

★ ★ ★

He declined to give any names but added that "Obviously, it is much closer than it was a month or two ago."

Retired Group to Gather at the Center

The newly chartered Pontiac Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons has made arrangements through the Pontiac Area United Fund to hold all of its meetings at the Community Center Building, 132 Franklin Blvd.

Maurice E. Fitzgerald, president, announced today that all meetings in 1961 would be held on the second Wednesday of each month.

The chapter's next meeting will be Jan. 11 at 1:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The group was chartered by the national organization last week and its membership now stands at more than 60 persons, Fitzgerald said.

★ ★ ★

"Rolls for the hospital insurance plan offered AARP members will be opened Feb. 1," said Fitzgerald. "This will be the major topic of our next meeting."

Membership is limited to persons 55 years old or older.

Panel of 15 Probes Rail Work Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 15-man commission meets at the White House today under the leadership of Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell to try to find a solution to the work rules problem that plagues the nation's railroads.

★ ★ ★

The railroads contend that because of union featherbedding, or maintaining jobs that are no longer necessary, the industry pays about $500 million a year more than it should in payroll costs.

The unions argue that their members work harder, on the average, for their pay than rail workers ever did before.

A member of the AIA, he received an AIA First Honor Award in 1959.

His major works include the St. Louis Airport Terminal, Reynolds Metal Co. regional headquarters building in Southfield, and the Oberlin College Music Conservatory.

OK Multiparty Phone Service Cut for Utica

LANSING (UPI)—Michigan Bell Telephone Co. has been granted authority to discontinue multiparty service in its Utica exchange in Macomb County, Michigan Public Service Commission Executive Secretary Norman Berkowitz said today.

The commission authorized Michigan Bell to discontinue its four-party residential and two-party business service in the exchange area as part of the utility's changeover to direct dial service in the state.

Berkowitz said the commission order also allowed Michigan Bell to "slightly enlarge" its Utica base rate area, including transfer of parts of the Rochester and Washington exchanges to the Utica area.

Some 2,000 customers were affected by the change in services, Berkowitz said.

The change in service was expected to result in an $11,900 annual increase in gross revenue for the company, he said.

Airman Chooses Bullet Over Divorce

Death Separates Pair Reunited by Ike

DENVER (UPI)—They had married young, Norman and Betty Steed, and the demands of a young man fulfilling his military obligations had kept them separated for months.

★ ★ ★

He was an airman basic at Lackland AFT in Texas and then was transferred to Denver's Lowry AFB.

Betty, bloode, 17, and just out of high school, moved here last summer in hopes she could be with her husband.

But she ran into the obstacle of military regulations — basic airmen at Lowry were not permitted to live off the base and she faced several weeks more of living alone.

ACTS AS IKE VISITS

Then, last July 29, President Eisenhower came to Denver to visit his mother-in-law and Betty Steed saw an opportunity.

As the President left his hotel Mrs. Steed broke through the ring of Secret Service men and tearfully blurted out her plight to the commander in chief.

The sympathetic President interceded and Airman Steed was given the special privilege of living off the base with his wife.

They settled in a small East Denver apartment and by the rules of fiction should have lived happily ever after.

But this was not so in the case of the young couple and domestic trouble, which Norman's mother Wednesday described only as "a long story," interrupted.

The former high school sweethearts, both from Mesquite, Tex., quarreled and Tuesday night Betty asked her husband for a divorce.

BULLET IN HEAD

She went to bed, leaving her stunned husband standing by a closet door.

Then there was a shot. When she reached his side he was dying from a .30 caliber bullet wound in the head.

Police Chief Spencer Garrett of suburban Aurora said it was an apparent suicide.

Betty was hospitalized in a state of shock, too emotionally torn even to discuss the domestic strife which led to Norman's death.

Kennedy Pays Great Heed to Politics in Selections

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy appears to be touching every available political base in his efforts to weld Democratic harmony behind his forthcoming administration.

An announcement Wednesday by Kennedy that former Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi had been offered a high defense post was interpreted as another gesture for Southern moderate support which the new president will need in Congress and behind his executive acts.

Previously he had pleased Southerners generally by naming Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina as secretary of commerce.

Coleman turned down the defense job. This move paralleled the decision of Rep. William L. Dawson, veteran Negro congressman from Illinois, not to accept the postmaster generalship.

FAVORS 2 SEGMENTS

In both instances, Kennedy gave recognition to two segments of voters who helped him get elected president—party faithful Southerners who believed vital Dixie electoral votes to him and the Negroes who helped him win such touch-and-go states as Illinois.

Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, gave the bulk of his Cabinet assignments to Protestants. His selections include two members of the Jewish faith, two Presbyterians, two Methodists, a Mormon, an Episcopalian, a Lutheran and a Catholic.

He gave his blessing to Connecticut State Chairman John Bailey, another Catholic, as the new Democratic national chairman.

Kennedy tossed a political nosegay to big business and to independents who supported him by the appointment of his defense secretary, Robert S. McNamara, president of Ford Motor Co., is a registered Republican who worked for the election of Sen. Philip A. Hart, a Michigan Democrat.

The president-elect dipped into labor's councils to name Arthur J. Goldberg as secretary of labor. He pleased many Democratic liberals when he named Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota as secretary of agriculture.

He confounded the Republicans and pleased the conservatives by selecting GOP Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon as Secretary of Treasury.

News in Brief

A break-in at Williams Drive-In at 3520 Woodland Road, Highland Township, in which $9 was stolen from the cash register and an undetermined amount of change from a cigarette machine, was reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday by owner George F. Williams. The day before he reported $40 stolen during a break-in.

Vandals last night threw bricks through seven windows of a construction office located at the new Waterford Kettering High School on Bender Street, according to township police.

Sheriff's deputies discovered a break-in at the East Highland Bowling Alley at Duck Lake Road and M59 in Highland Township early this morning. Apparently nothing was taken, according to the owner, Arthur Burns of Holly.

40 Companies Agree to Teamster Pay Hike

CHICAGO (UPI— The Teamsters Union reached agreement Wednesday with 40 Midwest trucking companies on new contracts calling for a 28-cent hourly pay increase over the next three years.

The agreement, expected to set the pattern for a half million Teamsters, provides for an immediate 7 cent increase, another 3 cents in six months, an additional 8 cents during the second year, and a 10-cent raise for the third year.

The new contracts also improve vacation schedules, mileage pay and health and welfare benefits.

Bargaining sessions will be resumed Tuesday with negotiators representing other Midwest trucking companies.

Called '60's Biggest Kennedy Story Tops

NEW YORK (UPI) — The "man in the street" in the United States believes the Kennedy election victory was 1960's biggest news story, closely followed by the U2 incident and the summit collapse.

That was indicated in results of a poll taken by United Press International in which a cross section of citizens in six metropolitan areas across the country was asked to name the "ten biggest stories of 1960."

Those polled included waitresses, salesmen, grocers, elevator operators, cab drivers, executives, housewives, students, clerks, a stock and bond analyst, parking lot attendants, merchants, store managers, policemen, steelworkers, social workers, librarians, maintenance men—as varied a list as possible.

Here are the two lists:

3. Khrushchev Summit break-up.
4. Ike-Japan trip canceled.
5. Chessman executed.

Fisher Plant at Grand Blanc to Add Space

GRAND BLANC — A program calling for the addition of 103,000 square feet of floor space to the Fisher Body stamping plant in Grand Blanc was announced here today by G. J. Bates, plant manager.

"Construction will begin sometime in February 1961," he said, "and it is expected that the work will be completed in the fall of 1961."

Upon completion of the new construction, the Fisher plant will have over 1,640,000 square feet of floor space for manufacturing, offices and employe facilities.

The Grand Blanc plant currently employs approximately 3,450 people and produces metal stampings and sub-assemblies for Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac automobile bodies.

Parke, Davis Declares Usual, Extra Dividend

DETROIT (AP)—An extra dividend of 40 cents a share was declared Wednesday at a meeting of directors of Parke, Davis & Co. pharmaceutical firm.

The board in addition voted the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents. Both were made payable Jan. 31 to shareholders of record Jan. 5.

The action marked the 293rd consecutive dividend paid by the 94-year-old company. In 1960, Parke, Davis voted dividends totaling $1.40 a share compared with $1.30 in 1959.

Biting Wave of Arctic Air Slices Deep Into Dixie

By The Associated Press

A huge mass of icy air enveloped much of the country today from the eastern Rockies to the Atlantic seaboard. Dixie got its chilliest weather of the year.

The cold came in the wake of a heavy snowstorm on the first day of winter which left a blanket of white across wide areas.

Not much relief from the cold in the Eastern half of the country was in prospect immediately.

At least 55 deaths were blamed on the snowy, cold and blustery weather. Ohio alone counted 25 deaths, 24 due to overexertion while shoveling snow.

Other storm deaths included 8 in Illinois, 5 in Michigan, 4 each in Kentucky, Missouri, New York and Indiana and 1 in West Virginia.

It was much colder in Atlanta this morning than in Anchorage, Alaska, as the mercury dipped to 13 above in the Georgia metropolis. At the same time it was 28 in Anchorage.

The cold air covered parts of northwest Florida, with a reading of 29 in Gainesville. It was freezing in Daytona Beach and a cool 45 in Miami.

Gale-force winds broke in half the 10,417-ton tanker Pine Ridge about 100 miles east of Cape Hatteras, the storied graveyard of the Atlantic. The tanker carried a crew of 39. Fifteen crewmen had been spotted late Wednesday before rescue operations were called off because of the stormy seas.

The below-zero temperatures, which were general in much of the area from Montana and North-east Wyoming eastward to the upper Mississippi spread into the Ohio Valley during the night.

Louisville, Ky., shivered in 4 below zero, the same reading as in Terre Haute, Ind. Ohio also was hit by subzero marks, with some areas reporting around 6. It was a chilly 9 above in Chattanooga, Tenn.

The mercury, which failed to climb above zero in some northern Midwest areas Wednesday, plunged deeper during the night. One of the coldest spots was Miles City, Mont., with -13.

Denies Israel Misled the U.S.

Report America Was Told Atomic Reactor Was Textile Plant

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—An authorized Israeli source denied today that Israel misled the United States about the atomic reactor under construction in the Negev Desert.

The source termed "ridiculous" reports that Israel told the United States the building was that of a textile plant.

Premier David Ben-Gurion made the first official admission that an atomic reactor was being built in the Negev to the Knesset (parliament) Wednesday. His statement followed reports that Israel was building a reactor to be used to produce atomic bombs with the aid of the French.

Ben-Gurion said the reactor, which would be completed in three or four years, would be dedicated entirely to research for peaceful use of atomic energy.

He said the plant would have a capacity of 24,000 thermal kilowatts when completed "which will serve the needs of industry, agriculture, health and science."

★ ★ ★

Israeli Ambassador Avraham Harman gave excerpts on Ben-Gurion's statement to the State Department in Washington Wednesday in reply to previous U.S. questions. (U.S. officials refused to say whether they were satisfied with the explanation.)

The reactor will be Israel's second. It has a small reactor, with a capacity of about 1,000 kilowatts, built in the Rehovoth area with American aid.

Work on the atomic plant in the Negev, east of Dimona, began 18 months ago with the help of French scientists and technicians. Its estimated cost is $700 million.

The source denied that Israel attempted to keep the construction secret. He said it just was not publicized so as not to arouse the Arab nations.

Hare May Resign to Join MSU Board

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James M. Hare may move out of political office into the key and better paying job of secretary of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, political sources said today.

The MSU post pays up to $23,500 a year, depending on the appointee and his qualifications.

It will be vacated Jan. 1 with the resignation of Dr. James W. Miller, who will become president of Western Michigan University.

More than half a dozen candidates have been under consideration by the MSU Trustees.

The board is 5-1 Democratic and members are expected to go along with party wishes when the choice of candidate is announced.

Michigan Bell Official Elected to AT&T Post

DETROIT (AP)—Allen G. Garry, vice president and general manager and a director of Michigan Bell Telephone Co., was elected vice president and secretary of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. Wednesday.

Frederick E. Eckley, director of personnel and public relations for AT&T's long lines department, was named to succeed Barry at Michigan Bell. The changes are effective Jan. 1.

Dennis Crosby Doubts Being Girl's Father

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dennis Crosby and divorcee Marilyn Miller Scott agree they were intimate, but he says he seriously doubts he fathered her 3-year-old daughter. Crosby says the intimacies were under alcoholic circumstances on his part.

★ ★ ★

Twice they were intimate, Mrs. Scott testified Wednesday, between outbursts of tears, in her paternity suit against the 26-year-old twin, one of crooner Bing Crosby's four singing sons.

★ ★ ★

"I was in love with him," the tall, 28-year-old brunette told the jury. She is asking that the jurors declare Dennis Michael Crosby the father of her daughter Denise Michelle.

★ ★ ★

Dennis entered a formal denial of paternity and said his doubts are based on what he called Mrs. Scott's "bad morals."

"She has been seen out late in this type of bars, and I have heard rumors that I wasn't the one," he told the jury of nine married women and three married men.

Ad Organization Adds an Office

Minneapolis Branch Is Opened by MacManus Agency of Bloomfield

The establishment of a new office of MacManus, Johns & Adams, Inc., in Minneapolis, Minn., was announced today by Ernest A. Jones, president of the Bloomfield Hills advertising firm.

★ ★ ★

Jones said the agency has merged the facilities and personnel of Olmsted & Foley, Inc., a well known and long-established Minneapolis agency.

"The new MacManus, John & Adams office opens with billings approaching $5 million," Jones said, "and will occupy the former Olmsted & Foley quarters."

The local agency has been active in the Twin Cities area for a number of years, representing several divisions of Minnesota Mining & Manufacturing Co.

Ward H. Olmsted will become chairman of the executive committee of the new office.

William B. Everson, MacManus, John & Adams vice president, is being transferred to the new office where he will take over as vice president in charge of client service.

Robert L. Garrison, senior vice president, will coordinate affairs between the new office and headquarters, and John Foley, president of the former Minneapolis agency, will be vice president in charge of administration.

Still a Bergman Fan—Tony Misses Europe

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Tony Perkins flew in from four months in Paris—and I quickly asked him about rumors that he had been battling with Ingrid Bergman.

WILSON

"That's preposterous!" exclaimed Tony. "We had dinner in Paris last night.

"Anatole Litvak," he explained, "gave a farewell dinner for us at the completion of the picture ('Goodbye, Again'). Ingrid and I often sat around on the set three or four hours at a time and never ran out of things to talk about. She and I would go to movies together. I visited her and her husband at their house in the country. We exchanged pictures and gifts. I was sorry to leave Europe because we had such a grand time together."

Tony's looking for a Broadway show and, having enjoyed singing in "Greenwillow," he'd like one with songs. In the future, he shall have music!

Eye Advance on Sewer Funds

County Board Expected to Ask $65,000 From Federal Agency

The board of supervisors on Jan. 10 is expected to approve a request for a planning advance of $65,000 from the federal government toward a master sewer plan for Southwest Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

The board of public works has already drafted the application to the Housing and Home Finance Agency to design a sanitary sewer network for the Huron and Rouge River basins.

The area involved includes Novi, Lyon, Commerce, Milford, White Lake and Highland Townships, and municipalities in these townships.

"If we get the money," said R. J. Alexander, director of the department of public works, "we'll make a land use and population inventory of the whole area, and also prepare a master preliminary sanitary sewer plan for the entire area."

Creation of the two river basin plans would, he said, mean that 90 per cent of the county was covered in one of eight sewer master plans. Only the northwest corner of the country remains outside, Alexander said.

The director said the proposed study involves 222 square miles and an estimated population of 695,000 in about 50 years.

It is considered, Alexander said, that the outlet for the sewage in this area would be Detroit.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the board of supervisors, today announced the meeting next month to approve the application to the HHFA.

Morocco Says It Gets Russ Aid as a Neutral

ONE COLOR

WRAPPED IN FOIL — For a Christmas gift in good taste give a homemade fruit cake trimmed in brightly colored wrappings.

It's Yummy As Can Be

Fruit Cake a Good Gift

Holiday season is a natural time for gift giving, for sharing the joys of the season with loved ones and friends. Finding the right gift can be difficult as we all know. But homemade fruit cakes are always "just right."

They're just the right remembrance for the postman and your husband's secretary, for little Cousin Jimmy who loves to snack and for Aunt Jenny whom you want to remember in an especially personal way.

Homemade fruit cakes say you care: You save the recipe, select the very finest ingredients from the pantry and refrigerator shelves, mix and blend them into the tastiest batter, wash the bowls and beaters while the goodies bake, and then ever so patiently you wait for them to cool.

But these homemade treats bring joy to you, too. For you have the truly good time of preparing them, the fun of practicing your culinary arts as the pungent aroma of spices drifts through the kitchen and the warmth of the oven fills your home.

And there's still another nice thing about homemade fruit cakes. You can make them far in advance—way ahead of the hustle and bustle that appears with the holiday season. When everyone else is worrying about what to give, you can sit contentedly back knowing your fruit cakes taste even better days after they were prepared because they were made with butter.

Baked foods prepared with butter even improve in flavor as they sit on your shelf. And butter adds old-fashioned richness and tenderness synonomous with fruit cake.

Aunt Jenny make like her fruit cake light, or she may prefer it dark. Satisfy her liking with either of these handcome cakes.

DARK FRUIT CAKE
(9 pounds)

3 loaf pans
9¼x3¼x2¾ inches
Preheated 250 degree oven
½ pound chopped candied fruit
1½ pounds dark raisins
1 pound sultana raisins
¼ pound candied citron, cut up
1 candied lemon peel, cut up
1 candied orange peel, cut up
¼ pound whole candied cherries
¼ pound pitted dates, cut up
2 pieces each red, green, white candied pineapple, cut up
¼ cup fruit juice
1 cup (2 sticks) butter
1½ cups sugar
6 eggs, well beaten
½ cup molasses
3½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup milk

Prepare fruit and soak it in the fruit juice while preparing batter. Cream butter and sugar and add well beaten eggs. Add molasses, then sifted dry ingredients and milk alternately, starting and ending with dry ingredients. Add fruit with the last amount of flour. Pour batter into pans which have been greased, lined with waxed paper and buttered over the paper. Bake 3 hours. Remove from pan immediately. Cool on cake racks. Store in a covered container.

WHITE FRUIT CAKE
(8 pounds)

3 loaf pans
9¼x3¼x2¾ inches
Preheated 250 degree oven
½ pound candied citron, chopped
½ pound whole candied cherries
¾ pound orange and lemon peel, chopped
2 pounds white raisins
¾ pound candied pineapple, chopped
¼ cup fruit juice
1 pound (4 sticks) butter
2 cups sugar
10 eggs
4 cups sifted flour
1½ pounds whole pecans

Prepare fruit and soak in fruit juice while preparing batter. Cream butter and add sugar gradually. Then add one egg at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flour and mix well, then the nuts and fruit. Pour into three loaf pans which have been greased, lined with waxed paper and buttered over the waxed paper. Bake 2 hours. Remove from pan immediately. Cool on cake racks. Store in a covered container.

Both are filled with candied fruit, dark or white raisins, orange and lemon peel, plenty of eggs and of course flavor-rich butter. Each recipe makes three cakes: The dark cake more highly spiced by the addition of cinnamon, cloves and molasses; the white cake nutty with pecans.

When the cakes have cooled, wrap them securely in aluminum foil before storing in a tightly covered container in a cool place. When ready to decorate—and what's a merry fruit cake without an artful topping—mix equal parts water and light corn syrup which has boiled vigorously for one minute.

Glaze the top of the cakes with this glistening mixture, then colorfully decorate with red and green cherry pieces, almond slivers and other nut meats. A final top glaze should again be applied of the same hot corn syrup mixture.

For the final labor of love, wrap the cakes in aluminum foil and then in the gay tissue of the season. Flute the perkiest bow you can, tying it to the beribboned package for a charming touch up. The fruit cake recipe neatly copied and tucked into the package will bring never ending pleasure to Aunt Jenny who might make a

Migrant Farmer to Get U.S. Gift

He'll Be Protected by Regulations Which Halt Some Exploitation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Half a million of America's poorest people are getting a Christmas present from Uncle Sam.

The beneficiaries are migrant farm workers and their families who "follow the seasons" from state to state, harvesting the nation's crops.

The present is a set of federal regulations designed to protect migrants from exploitation.

The regulations, issued by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, prescribe certain conditions that must be met before migrant farm workers can be recruited through the facilities of the Federal-State Employment Service.

Employment service officials are required to make sure that migrants are offered wages and working conditions equal to those prevailing among "domestic" farm workers in the same area; and that "hygienic and adequate housing facilities" are available for migrant families.

Mitchell is the first to acknowledge that these rules don't lift migrants very far from their present position "at the very bottom of the American economic scale."

Their effect will be limited by at least three factors:

1. The rules don't apply to "free-wheelers" — perhaps half of the total migrant army — who find work on their own instead of lining up jobs through the public employment service.

2. The floor under migrant wages will be a very low one at best, since the "prevailing" scale for domestic farm workers is often about 50 cents an hour, or less.

3. Housing judged "adequate" for migrant families can still be pretty ghastly. This reporter has visited many migrant camps that are officially regarded as unusually good. He was appalled at the conditions he found there.

★ ★ ★

Despite their restricted scope, the new regulations have brought protests from large farm organizations. They charge that Mitchell's action will interfere with "farm freedom" and drive up farm production costs.

The Secretary of Labor has a sharp answer to these complaints.

"There is no freedom to exploit," he says. "The conditions under which many of our farm workers live and work is an affront to the conscience of the American people.

In this country we do not choose to keep down our bills, including our fodd bills, at the cost of overworking and underpaying human beings.

Mitchell believes that problems of the migrants will never be substantially relieved until Congress provides them with "the protection of a minimum wage of some kind."

The Labor Department is currently making a study to determine what kind of law would be feasible, and recommendations may be sent to Congress next year.

Problem-Posing Toys Could Cause a Dizzy Whirl

Well, Doctor, It Started With That Game

NEW YORK (NEA) — If junior has any complaints about the toys he gets for Christmas, he won't go to Santa Claus with them. He'll probably go to the family psychiatrist.

You see, some toys and games this year will give children problems, read problems, to cope with. The people at the Toy Guidance Council, Inc., among others, realize this and they are doing everything possible to see that the problems don't become acute.

The Council, an independent business organization, ironically was founded by Freud (Melvin, not Sigmund) in 1938. It "aids parents in selection of correct play equipment for their children."

A panel of educators peering into a room of children who "test" the toys by playing with them, analyze whether the toys are safe, purposeful and nonfrustrating.

A Council spokesman hastily adds:

"Also, some of us forget that toys must be fun, too."

One council worker, an attractive young lady in her 20's, for example, says she gets frustrated trying to piece together the problem presented by one popular toy. Imagine a child faced with the same problem. When the council thinks in terms of toys, it also thinks in terms of suitability—is the child too old or too young for a particular toy?

Bernard L. Gottlieb, council vice president, says the Intelligence Quotient (I.Q.) level of toys and games seems to be going up so that parents and children can equally enjoy the same game or puzzle or toy. Of course, this doesn't rule out those toys which are strictly for children.

What type of problems do children face, playing with games and toys? Well, there's a board game called "Game of Life" to which the council nods approvingly.

"Life," according to the manufacturer, offers a "record board of cash—$7.5 million." Players go through a dizzy round of financial ups and downs. They have to decide whether to go to college or start earning more money immediately. The winner winds up on a palatial estate.

Then there's "Etch-a-Sketch," a toy Gottlieb considers "nearly perfect" because it meets all the requirements; it is good the year round, indoors and out.

TRYING TO BEAT THE HAZARDS

To operate, the child (recommended from four on up) manipulates two knobs, one controlling vertical lines, the other horizontal, which are drawn on a flat, television-like screen.

By turning the knobs, lines are drawn in every direction forming a perfect "what is it?" If the child doesn't like what he sees, he merely shakes the board and it all goes away.

'USEFUL IN THERAPY'

The council spokesman says: "Being familiar with some of the tools psychologists use, I would say this toy would be very useful in therapy, too."

Who knows what could be read into those lines the child drews?

If you haven't had enough yet, you might be interested to know that the toy industry also is concerned about "togetherness," particularly father and son.

For those dads who are interested in playing with the toys by themselves, the council spokesman notes:

"The child usually won't let a parent hog the toy. Only if a new father hearing that 'It's a boy' runs out to buy an electric train," will he have the pleasure of having a toy all to himself."

The council spokesman sighs:

"It's impossible to tell which toy will go over big. You know, kids are so unpredictable." And dads, too?

Wake That Sleeper Next Time He Walks

NEW YORK (UPI) — Some four million families in America have a sleep walker on the homefront.

★ ★ ★

If there's one in your family, don't hesitate to wake him next time.

Despite popular belief you will not subject him to harmful shock and you may save him from serious injury.

PILED HIGH IN PORT HURON — The snow was shoulder high to a small boy in Port Huron following a storm that by last night had dumped another 15 inches in that city. Stephen Polovich plays at shoveling snow while adults toiled hours digging out. It was the second heavy snowfall in Port Huron in 15 days, with a total of more than 30 inches so far this winter.

Winter — not yet one-day old—didn't take long to leave its icy trademark on Pontiac with a 3-degrees-below-zero reading early today.

It was the coldest reading so far this winter.

Some residents of Pontiac suburbs gazed in amazement to see some readings even lower than the 3-degrees-below-zero recorded in downtown Pontiac at 6 a. m.

Continued cold is in store, the Weather Bureau said. The long, thin red tube in the thermometer is expected to plummet again tonight around the bone-chilling zero mark.

Winter officially started at 3:27 p. m. yesterday.

Friday's high is expected to climb to around 16, accompanied by some winds that might make it feel much colder.

There may be some snow flurries, too.

Slippery roads in Pontiac sent two persons to the hospital in the last 24 hours.

Ronald J. Boyl, 21, of 52 Hilldale St., suffered possible internal injuries when his car smashed into a parked car on E. Tennyson Street a few minutes after midnight.

He was in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today.

Police said Boyl lost control of his car due to snow on the road.

SKIDDED INTO TREE

Mrs. Albert Macadaeg, 24, of 151 Jordan St., was admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday with face cuts received when her car skidded on icy South East Boulevard into a tree.

MARGIN OF SURVIVAL — When violent seas ripped the 503-foot tanker Pine Ridge in two Wednesday, the ship's stern section mercifully remained afloat and upright. Because it did, at least 28 of the 37 men aboard were reported alive today as rescue operations began. The other part of the American vessel capsized and most of it slipped beneath the surface of the gale-battered Atlantic. The object at the right is the tip of a wing pontoon on the Coast Guard plane from which the picture was made.

But 7-9 Others in Tanker Crew Feared Lost

Navy Copters Remove Men Riding Stern in Battle Against Sea

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — At least 28 seamen aboard the stern half of a storm-broken tanker appeared to be winning a battle against the sea today but the outlook was bleak for their companions, some of whom had been reported in the water before dark last night.

Helicopters from the Navy's antisubmarine aircraft carrier Valley Forge began pulling survivors off the stern of the tanker Pine Ridge shortly after dawn today.

The Navy said eight had been rescued by midmorning of a total of 28 survivors reported aboard the battered ship half.

It said five additional crewmen were "on the way in" to safety, and that the rescue effort was continuing.

But from seven to nine others were missing and the skipper of another tanker in the area, about 125 miles east of Cape Hatteras, N. C., said "the seas were sometimes up to 20 feet high last night . . . I don't think anybody could live in it."

Those not aboard the stern, which was floating well, would be in the partially-submerged bow or in the 74-degree water.

The 503-foot Pine Ridge broke in two shortly before noon Wednesday, apparently with such suddenness that she was unable to radio for help.

The breakup was reported by the Norwegian freighter Artemis which happened to be in the vicinity and saw the tanker was in trouble.

The 10,417-ton Pine Ridge, operated by Keystone Shipping Co. of Wilmington, Del., is one of a class of ships with a long history of sea disasters.

10 OTHERS HAVE SNAPPED

Ten similar "T2" tankers have snapped in two with a loss of 41 lives.

There was no immediate word as to whether the Pine Ridge's skipper, Capt. Clark Snyder, 42, of Havertown, Pa., was among the survivors.

It was the third sea tragedy for Snyder, who twice had ships torpedoed from under him during World War II.

The suddenness with which the ship broke apparently drew a fatalistic line between those who had been in the ship's comfortable

Tapes Reveal Drama of Collision

Fail to Learn Why Jet Strayed

NEW YORK (AP)—Radio tapes show that a United Airlines jet streaked off course just before colliding with a Trans World airliner over Staten Island, but the recordings offer no clue as to why.

The tapes released Wednesday by the Federal Aviation Agency disclose that the La Guardia field controller tried, but failed, to reach the TWA Super Constellation after warning it of the approaching jet.

An instant later came the voice of the radar-scanning La Guardia controller saying: "I think we have trouble here with a TWA Comsie. There's something wrong! He's not moving or anything. He might have got hit by another airplane."

★ ★ ★

Last Friday's crash was the worst in aviation history. The TWA craft went down in flames on Staten Island. The United jet crashed 11 miles away into crowded Brooklyn area.

QUESADA DEFENDS CONTROLS

In Washington Wednesday night FAA Administrator E. R. Quesada said the Preston holding stack—where planes circle while waiting to land—and the Idlewild radar were working normally at the time of the crash. The jet was headed for Idlewild, while the TWA plane was being brought into La Guardia.

Quesada said Idlewild's approach control was "prepared and ready" to guide the jet into the airport but could not locate the DC8 in or near the pattern to which it had been assigned.

Federal authorities previously had said the jet—Flight 826—was about 11 miles off course when it collided with TWA's Flight 266.

The recordings also disclosed that, with the TWA plane gone from the radarscope, La Guardia called Idlewild: "This is La Guardia. I think we've got an emergency. Nobody declared anything but who is that jet or fast-moving aircraft that went from Preston toward Flatbush (in Brooklyn)?"

"From Preston toward Flatbush?" Idlewild asked.

"Yes, he's at Flatbush right now," said La Guardia.

"A fast-moving aircraft going where?" asked Idlewild. "Do you know his destination?"

"I don't know," replied La Guardia. "I think he may have —now listen to this! He may have hit one of our aircraft. We're not sure."

A pause, and then La Guardia saying: "All right, now we got troubles, but we're not sure of it. We lost contact with a TWA, 266 I believe his number is. He was on a collision course with an aircraft, an unknown aircraft heading northeast from Preston toward Flatbush.

BOTH AT 5,000 FEET

Later, Idlewild told La Guardia: "He (the jet) was last cleared to 5,000 feet."

"Oh boy!" exclaimed the La Guardia controller. "Our man was at five (5,000 feet), too. We lost one aircraft. I don't know where he is now."

A short time later, from the La Guardia controller: "Hey Joe, we might have a midair collision, so Walt's going up to alert the emergency equipment. It's TWA '266.'"

Yule Trees Sold Out

NEWTON, Iowa (AP) — The bright Christmas season might be a little bleak in some Newton homes. It seems there isn't a Christmas tree to be bought in town. Merchants said Wednesday they have been sold out since last Saturday. More than 3,000 trees have been sold.

Little Eddie Hangs On, Gets a Gift

An eight-year-old girl carried the spirit of Christmas yesterday to the bedside of a boy doctors fear might not live to Dec. 25.

The gift which Bridget Denihan, 160 Judson St., a second grader at St. Frederick's School, brought to 2-year-old Edward Reno of White Lake Township added to the mounting array of presents under the tiny Christmas tree that decorates the boy's room in Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Edward has been in critical condition with extensive internal injuries after swallowing lye in his mother's kitchen six days before what was to be his first real Christmas. Attendants said he still was holding his own today.

Bridget was among 100 grade-schoolers from St. Frederick's who went to the hospital yesterday afternoon to sing Christmas carols for the patients.

Although she does not know Edward, Bridget had been touched when she heard about his plight and she brought him a pair of pajamas as a present.

The little girl was allowed to tiptoe into Edward's room where his mother Mrs. Lucy Reno, 2400 Bogle Lake Road, was sitting by his bedside.

"I and a few other girls had wanted to sing carols in Eddie's room, but they told us he was too sick," said Bridget. "So I handed the pajamas to his mother. We sang carols afterwards outside the door in the lobby."

Mrs. Reno, the mother of three other boys, and Edward's father Forest, who works for a rubbish disposal service, expressed gratitude for the sympathy of well-wishers.

"The hospital, the children who sang the carols in the hospital — everyone — has been wonderful to us," Mrs. Reno said. "We're going to try to have a regular Christmas for the rest of the boys, but I'm afraid it won't be much of a Christmas without Eddie."

As Usual, Sir Winston Gets What He Wants

LONDON (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill wanted to spend Christmas at his lovely home in the country.

His doctors thought he ought to spend it at his town house, where he slipped and broke a bone in his back last Nov. 15.

So, as is usual when Sir Winston puts that bulldog jaw, he will spend Christmas in the country.

Biting Wave of Arctic Air Slices Deep Into Dixie

By The Associated Press

A huge mass of icy air enveloped much of the country today from the eastern Rockies to the Atlantic seaboard. Dixie got its chilliest weather of the year.

The cold came in the wake of a heavy snowstorm on the first day of winter which left a blanket of white across wide areas.

Not much relief from the cold in the Eastern half of the country was in prospect immediately.

At least 35 deaths were blamed on the snowy, cold and blustery weather. Ohio alone counted 25 deaths, 24 due to overexertion while shoveling snow.

Other storm deaths included 8 in Illinois, 5 in Michigan, 4 each in Kentucky, Missouri, New York and Indiana and 1 in West Virginia.

It was much colder in Atlanta this morning than in Anchorage, Alaska, as the mercury dipped to 13 above in the Georgia metropolis. At the same time it was 28 in Anchorage.

The cold air covered parts of northwest Florida, with a reading of 29 in Gainesville. It was freezing in Daytona Beach and a cool 45 in Miami.

Gale-force winds broke in half the 10,417-ton tanker Pine Ridge about 100 miles east of Cape Hatteras, the storied graveyard of the Atlantic. The tanker carried a crew of 39. Fifteen crewmen had spotted late Wednesday before rescue operations were called off because of the stormy seas.

★ ★ ★

The below-zero temperatures, which were general in much of the area from Montana and Northeast Wyoming eastward to the upper Mississippi spread into the Ohio Valley during the night.

Louisville, Ky., shivered in 4 below zero, the same reading as in Terre Haute, Ind. Ohio also was hit by subzero marks, with some areas reporting around -6. It was a chilly 9 above in Chattanooga, Tenn.

The mercury, which failed to climb above zero in some northern Midwest areas Wednesday, plunged deeper during the night. One of the coldest spots was Miles City, Mont., with -13.

★ ★ ★

Snow flurries continued in the Great Lakes region, with some locally heavy snowfalls in western Michigan and along the southern shores of Lake Superior. Another belt of light snow extended from central Kansas northwestward across Wyoming and western Montana.

Summerfield Explains New Process

Pontiac Gets Peek at 'TV' Mail

By PETE LOCHBILER

Pontiac yesterday got the first public look at Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield's plan for "televised" mail of the future.

A special film strip, prepared for President Eisenhower, was a highlight of Summerfield's appearance before a capacity crowd of nearly 400 at a luncheon for Pontiac service clubs sponsored by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Although many words have been written recently about what the Post Office Department calls "speed mail," heretofore only the president, his cabinet and a group of Washington correspondents had seen the filming of the process by which mail is now being sent across the country with the speed of television.

Summerfield said the electronic system could increase the speed and volume of written communication, at the same time preserving the secrecy of the mails.

A few governmental offices are now using the system on a trial basis, Summerfield said, utilizing the broadcasting facilities of commercial television stations.

Messages written on special forms are fed into giant machines, wherein the messages are televised

Lovely Gifts Available to Last-Minute Shopper

By JANET ODELL

We've made the last round of the stores doing our Christmas snooping. There are still lots of lovely gifts left.

There are heart-shaped cigarette lighters with "I Love You" engraved on them in several languages. There are exquisite glass figurines imported from Italy.

We fell in love with a small thumb print pitcher in cranberry glass. We liked the teakwood servers with a set of bowls or a tile insert for dips or cheese.

Give someone a glamorous holiday tablecloth. There's still time to buy a length of gold lame and hem it for the Christmas table.

Dress up your favorite lady's bathroom with a gift of matching accessories—waste basket, cups and tissue holder.

How about a lamp for the den of a bird hunter? The one we saw had a pheasant on the base with pheasant feathers printed on the shade.

Put some colored pipe cleaners in the youngsters' stockings. They're good clean fun. So is crazy putty.

Junior will feel almost grown up when he opens the box that contains a tie, hankie and tie rack—just like Dad's.

We saw an electric golf game named for Ike. Wouldn't the snow-bound golf lover be pleased to receive it?

Just for fun, give some family a family doghouse. There are five little wooden dogs with blank name tags. Each can be given a name of a family member.

Outlook Upon 1961 Pleases Donner

He Points to Soft Spots in Economy, However

DETROIT (AP)—Frederick G. Donner, chairman of the board of General Motors, said today in a yearend statement that 1960 was a good year for the automobile industry and there is good reason for confidence in the outlook for 1961.

Donner's statement said 1960 was a good year for business in general, "although in recent months the forward progress of the economy has been influenced by a number of mixed trends."

The GM chief said employment has been at record levels for the fourth quarter, but, at the same time the level of unemployment remained "higher than was normal prior to 1958."

He said total volume of sales was close to levels estimated a year ago. He also said that the adjustment in manufacturers' inventories has proceeded on what he called "a broad front."

* * *

The cautiously worded statement on the outlook for the coming year took recognition of the recessional movement which has been a major political issue in recent months.

Donner said the demand for goods and services has been well maintained in 1960 but added, "there remain few excesses and imbalances in the economy which require further correction."

He said the auto industry sales results were "within three to four per cent of the typical forecast" made a year ago.

PROUD OF INDUSTRY

Donner said the industry could take great pride in the 1960 record which saw total retail sales of 7,675,000 cars and trucks, the second largest year in the industry's history. The record year was 1955 when 9,169,276 units were sold.

He said retail passenger car sales of about 6 million are about 10 per cent above 1959 levels.

Donner credited the industry ability to "have the type of cars and trucks customers want to buy in the right places at the right time" with the near-record sales figure.

He said General Motors entered the new year with, "the most attractive and broadest range of products it has ever offered."

Donner added that despite rising cost pressures the prices for comparable models have remained unchanged or been reduced since the 1959 models were introduced.

Donner termed buyer acceptance of the GM line of 1961 models "most gratifying." He said with consumer incomes at all-time levels and "with continued consumer confidence" the industry's and GM's 1960 sales could be matched or improved in 1961.

* * *

Donner also said GM, with planned expenditures at home and abroad of $1.25 billion in 1961 for plant, machinery, equipment and tooling, is looking forward confidently to the new year.

Flint Official Placed in Jail

Vice Mayor T. C. Smith Arrested in Violation of Bribery Law

FLINT (AP) — Thomas C. Smith, 35, newly elected vice mayor of Flint, was arrested Wednesday and jailed on a charge of violating the state bribery statute.

Smith was arrested by Lt. Carl W. Robinson of the state police rackets squad.

Jerome O'Rourke, Genesee County prosecutor, said he had issued a warrant charging Smith with violating the statute but refused to elaborate.

Robinson said Smith was taken to the Flint City Jail. He said he, O'Rourke and the Flint city police were continuing their investigation and that details would be released when it was complete.

Mayor Charles Mobley declined comment on the arrest.

Smith, a barber who has operated his own shop since 1950, was elected to his first two-year term on the nine-member city commission in the Nov. 8 election. He defeated incumbent Norman Craine in the primary.

Smith was elected vice mayor by his fellow commissioners following the election.

Bullets Fly in Ethiopia; Women Flee

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) —A bullet shattered a window of the Ghion Hotel dining room Wednesday night, and women delegates from 45 countries hit the floor.

Still nervous from their ordeal during the abortive rebellion last week against Emperor Haile Selassie's rule, the women crawled down the stairs to the basement and stayed there until the shooting subsided a few minutes later.

Among them were two Americans, Mrs. Oswald B. Lord of Minneapolis, the Eisenhower administration's chief woman delegate to the United Nations, and Mrs. Forrest Crawford, U.S. cultural attache in Tunis.

Army headquarters told a hotel official who telephoned: "Tell the ladies it was all a mistake. We have ordered the shooting to stop."

Philippines Plane Crashes; 28 Dead?

MANILA (UPI)—A Philippine Airlines plane crashed shortly after takeoff at Cebu City today and 28 of the 37 persons aboard were feared dead.

The crash of the DC3 with 34 passengers and three crewmen came on a regularly scheduled flight from Cebu City to Davao in the Southern Philippines.

Shortly afterward, President Carlos P. Garcia suspended "until further notice" all night flights by the airline.

A PAL spokesman said there were 9 known survivors but refused to confirm Manila newspaper reports that other 28 were dead.

Two of the survivors said the twin-engine plane just nosedived suddenly after takeoff. It crashed three-fourths of a mile from Cebu City Airport.

3 Senators Fear Red Influence in Africa

Urge Jack to Back Algerian Freedom

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy will be urged by three senators just back from a tour of Africa to back independence for Algeria lest the Communists extend their influence to that country and then to the entire continent.

* * *

"Africa is still reserving judgment on us and has great expectations of the Kennedy administration," said Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, expected to succeed Kennedy as chairman of the African subcommittee of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Church said Africa's "final decision on whether to side with the West would be based in part on this country's stand on independence in Algeria and elsewhere.

"If we fail them, I'm afraid all Africa will slip away," he said. He termed the French-Algerian struggle the "most critical problem" in the turbulent African continent.

INFLUENCE WOULD GROW

"If the war goes on much longer, the likelihood is not only that Russian and Chinese Communists will move in behind the Algerian rebels, but that their influence will grow markedly in all other African countries," Church declared.

* * *

Church and Sens. Gale McGee, D-Wyoming, and Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, returned Wednesday from a five-week African tour that covered 22,500 miles and 16 countries.

Traveling with them was Ted Kennedy, the president-elect's brother.

* * *

Church told a news conference after his return that emotions about Algeria run deep in tropical Africa and "all our economic and technical aid will go for naught if in the showdown the African leaders believe we stand behind the old colonial powers and their policies."

* * *

Church said recent U.S. abstentions in the United Nations on the Algerian question "have done us very serious damage in Africa."

"I am at a loss to explain why we joined such notorious colonial powers as Spain, Portugal, South Africa, France and Great Britain in voting against a resolution sponsored by 46 Afro-Asian countries calling for an end to colonialism."

Church said Kennedy's Senate speech several years ago, supporting independence of Algeria, made a great impression in Africa.

He said Africans are "still inclined to think he believes in the cause of African independence" and are withholding judgment on the new administration.

WANTS U.A.R. AID

Moss said in an interview that he would recommend that the United States revive its interest in helping the United Arab Republic build the huge Aswan dam on the Nile River.

He said the dam has become a "great symbol" to African peoples in their drive for a better life and it would be a mistake for the United States not to help with the $2-billion project.

Russia has given substantial aid to start work on the dam after the U.S. withdrew from the project.

McGhee, who skipped several North African countries to spend more time in the Congo, said "We must put our policy on a 'For Africa' basis." Africans, he said, "deeply resent the fact that we react to their problems only when we find a Communist behind a banana tree."

School Board to Fill Post

Special Meeting Called to Name Administrative Assistant Here

The Pontiac Board of Education called a special board meeting for 5 p.m. today at the administration building, 40 Patterson St.

Major reason for the meeting will be selection of a man to fill the recently created position of administrative assistant.

In a 24-page report submitted to the board in September, Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, school superintendent, outlined some 17 major areas of administrative responsibility which "need the attention an assistant could provide."

The new position was suggested after a survey of school districts in 20 Michigan cities comparable in size to Pontiac showed Pontiac ranking last in administrative expenditure.

* * *

"The basic average budget expenditure for administration is about 4 per cent; our average is 2.2 per cent," explained Dr. Philip J. Proud, assistant superintendent.

Tonight the board is expected to approve a man for the post.

Also on the agenda is a brief discussion of objections to a board decision last week refusing to remove the principal of Whitfield Elementary School.

A group of parents had requested that principal Margaret Luther, 50, be removed. The board supported Miss Luther's position after investigating parents' complaints.

* * *

Administrators will also report on progress of an appeal before the Michigan State Tenure Commission by former Herrington School teacher Mrs. Isa Vogel whom the board refused to reinstate last spring.

Jail-Break Pair Linked to Ohio Market Holdup

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A young couple, believed to be involved in a Michigan jail break, held up a meat market Wednesday night and escaped with $50.

Detective Sgt. Ray Vetter said the man and the woman, each carrying a revolver, match the description of Mrs. Brenda Ann Sargent, 20, of Highland Park, Mich., and her husband, Thomas, 29.

Mrs. Sargent walked into the Livingston County Jail in Howell, Mich. on Monday and pulled a snub nosed revolver. She ordered the jailer to release her husband who was held on a charge of breaking into a Brighton auto agency. The husband slugged the jailer and the two fled.

Wilmot swerved in an effort to avoid hitting her, but Mrs. Olszewski jumped the same way as the car. Troopers said Wilmot's car was traveling at about 35 miles an hour.

City Gets Sneak Preview of Televised Mail System

and broadcast via the commercial stations to the designated reception point. There another machine duplicates the message in its original handwriting.

INSURES SECRECY

Much of the complicated machinery is designed to insure secrecy, Summerfield explained.

The messages are sealed by the sender. Once in the machine they are mechanically unsealed and opened before being televised. It is because television transmits an image that the messages can be duplicated in the original handwriting at the reception point. The received messages are sealed before postal employes get them for delivery.

* * *

Summerfield said that an electronic postal system was the logical answer to the ever-increasing flow of mail within the United States.

Now producing more than 63 billion pieces of mail annually —two-thirds of all the mail in the world — the United States nevertheless is stepping up mail to such an extent that Summerfield predicted the total load would double within 10 to 15 years.

"What is the country going to do?" he asked. "Will we double the 500,000 employes of the Post Office Department to handle this load or will we turn to technology for a less expensive, faster and more efficient answer?"

Summerfield noted that a speed mail system would be a national advantage in event of a military emergency.

The system in use at present was designed by International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. under contract to the Post Office Department.

It's most impressive application occurred a few weeks ago when a message of Summerfield's was transmitted from Washington to New Jersey, not by commercial television, but by the satellite Echo, which sent it 18 times around the world before it arrived at its destination, all within a few seconds.

* * *

Summerfield arrived in Michigan only yesterday morning to spend the holidays with his family in Flint. He was accompanied to the luncheon and introduced by Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press.

A grandfather of five and a Flint auto dealer before being summoned to Washington by Eisenhower in 1952, Summerfield touched on highlights of his eight years in Washington.

The 61-year-old postmaster is the only one of Eisenhower's original cabinet appointees still in service. Only two other postmaster generals in the nation's history served as many years as Summerfield.

In the area of finances, Summerfield's main concern over the years has been to reduce the annual deficits at which the Post Office Department traditionally has been operated.

CRITICIZES CONGRESS

He made his point once more by telling the Elks Temple audience that postal deficits from the end of World War II through 1959 amounted to almost one-fourth the $26 billion increase in the national debt.

On this subject, Summerfield criticized the Democratic Congress for upping postal expenses over revenue increases.

He said Congress granted salary increases, approved higher subsidies to airlines for carrying air mail and higher rates to railroads for regular mail, but hiked postage rates only once.

Summerfield said that Eisenhower repeatedly asked Congress for higher postage rates, only to see the bids die in committee.

Proud of the fact that the annual postal deficit had been reduced from $720 million, in 1952 to $376 million last year, Summerfield blamed the disinterest of Congress in postage hikes for an anticipated $840 million deficit this year.

* * *

During his eight years in Washington, Summerfield noted, 5,400 new post offices have been build across the country, the first new post offices since 1938.

The new buildings—more than 375 of them located in Michigan — were financed by private capital under the lease-purchase arrangements.

Summerfield listed several other advances of the past eight years:

Mechanization of the postal system, one-day metropolitan area delivery service and the delivery by air on a "space available" basis of more than 2 billion pieces of regular mail a year.

Summerfield said he expected railroad interests would make a renewed attack on the latter innovation during the comirig session of Congress.

Tragic Blaze Carrier's 43rd

42 Other Fires Aboard Constellation This Year Put Out Easily

NEW YORK (AP)—There had been 42 fires this year aboard the aircraft carrier Constellation before the disastrous blaze that ravaged the huge vessel and killed 49 men.

* * *

Navy Lt. Vito Milano, in charge of hull construction on the ship, told a Navy board of inquiry Wednesday that the earlier fires had all been small ones. And in each case workers had put out the fire before dockside firemen had arrived.

The hearing resumes at the Brooklyn Navy Yard today.

Another witness before the three-man court probing the Monday fire that did damage estimated at $75 million to the giant carrier indicated a freak chain of events caused the disaster.

RECONSTRUCT EVENTS

The purpose of the court, in the words of its senior member, Vice Adm. Bernard Austin, president of the Naval War College, is to "try and develop step by step a picture of just what happened."

Fire Commissioner Edward F. Cavanagh, who directed his department's massive assault against the fire, is expected to testify.

* * *

Cavanagh had criticized the use of wooden platforms in scaffolding aboard the carrier. The Navy Wednesday set up a special board to determine whether metal should replace wood in shipbuilding.

stern section and those who had been forward.

While the bow partially went under almost immediately, the stern gave the appearance today of a stubby, seaworthy ship.

Crewmen could be seen walking on the decks and during the night, lights could be seen.

'WE ARE OK'

Capt. Roland Parkhurst of the Esso James Town said he sent a blinker message to the stern section just before dusk Wednesday and "their answer was 'We are OK.'"

Parkhurst said he had searchlights played on the water around the ship, however, and said he did not see how anyone could remain in the water for any period without drowning, although the water temperature was only 74 degrees since the area is in the Gulf Stream.

Parkhurst, who explained the two sections were about 12 miles apart, said the winds that had driven the seas to fury Wednesday had moderated somewhat today.

Mercury Reaches -3; Low Mark for Season

recorded in Pontiac was 1 above on Dec. 13.

Some early risers this morning discovered that their automobile batteries had fallen victim to the season's coldest spell yet.

Once the engines turned over, however, motorists were relieved that roads, for the most part, were somewhat clear compared to those Wednesday morning.

Elsewhere in Michigan the weatherman was even more cruel, He sent the mercury falling to 8 below in Alpena and 5 below in Ypsilanti.

The western Lower Peninsula escaped the extremely low temperatures, but areas bordering Lake Michigan received more snow which piled up to 8 inches in some places.

* * *

Port Huron, probably hit the hardest of any Lower Peninsula community, was still digging out of the last accumulation of 15 inches.

* * *

Meanwhile, some ski resorts wish they had that much snow. Iron Mountain ski lodge operators said they were canceling some Christmas weekend reservations because of a scant half-inch of ground cover.

There was so little snow around Iron Mountain yesterday that a grass fire broke out and burned a radio transmitting cable, knocking the station off the air.

Asks Biweekly Meetings for City Commission

BIRMINGHAM — A suggestion every other week rather than weekly will be studied by the city attorney.

* * *

City Commissioner William E. Roberts has requested a report from attorney Dean G. Beier concerning changes that would have to be made in the city charter to have the meetings rescheduled.

Roberts said shorter meetings in recent weeks have indicated fewer meetings could be held.

Comission meetings next week and the following week will be on and New Years legally fall on Tuesday since both Christmas Monday.

A public hearing on a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance will be held at the city commission meeting Jan. 9.

The proposed amendment would affect lots with frontage on two streets.

It provides that when a rear lot abuts a street, accessory buildings shall be set back from the rear lot line the same distance as the front setbacks.

The City Commission has directed that downtown street sweeping be resumed in the spring.

* * *

Sunday street sweeping was authorized in September 1959 on a trial basis for eight weeks but was discontinued last year because of a wet spring and lack of provisions in the budget.

During the trial, merchants cooperated by sweeping litter from sidewalks on Saturday night.

City Manager L. R. Gare told the commission that the cost of the Sunday sweeping could be absorbed in the current budget of the department of public works.

Cranbrook School is among 15 independent secondary schools in the nation that will receive grants from the Donner Foundation, it was announced today.

* * *

The foundation announced that grants totaling $4.5 million will be awarded, $300,000 to each school to establish teaching chairs.

Robert A. Maes, foundation president, said "The purpose is to establish a high salary level for faculty at secondary schools which are among those now setting teaching standards."

"It will also serve to release salary funds that can be used to increase other salaries," he said.

* * *

The foundation was established by William H. Donner, president of Donner Steel Corp. in Buffalo, in 1945 in memory of his son Joseph.

Since then grants have totaled more than $14 million.

He Might Have Chosen Better Name to Forge

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Mack Tankersley admitted to Judge Ben Hardeman Wednesday that he forged the name of Lester Holley to a $15 check.

* * *

"I think I would have picked a better name than that," the judge said and bound Tankersley over to the Grand Jury.

Lester Holley is president of the Alabama Sheriffs' Association.

NAACP Objecting to Three Stories

TORRINGTON, Conn. (AP) — The Board of Education is studying three short stories to see if whether they should be banned in a high school classroom. A chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People says they contain references derogatory to Negroes.

A delegation said Negro pupils would be embarrassed by passages in an anthology used in third-year English classes at the high school.

Stories involved are Edgar Allen Poe's "The Gold Bug," which used the word "nigger"; Joel Chandler Harris' "Brer Rabbit"; and Ruth Stuart's "Sonny's Christening."

Swainson Leases 12-Room Trilevel

LANSING (UPI) — Governor-Elect John B. Swainson has leased a 12-room house west of the Lansing city limits for the next two years.

The governor-elect leased a trilevel, six-bedroom home at 4305 Appletree Lane in Delta Township, Eaton County.

He said the home is one year old and has an office where he can conduct necessary business.

Swainson's term as governor is for two years. He said his lease of the house has a option clause for a two-year renewal.

RETURN ENGAGEMENT — Last year the kindergarten class at Franklin Elementary School invited youngsters at Washington Irving School to their Christmas party. This week Irving pupils returned the favor, and it looks like the joint party will become an annual event. Taking part in the festivities were (from left, standing) Spencer Baylor, Franklin School; Cynthia Young, Irving School; and Diane Hudson, Franklin School. Seated are (from left) Diana Lose, Margaret Batts, and Carol Lynn Buchman, all of Irving School. Cynthia was a story-teller in the program and Margaret holds a miniature electric organ used in the presentation.

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP)— An automobile doing a police-estimated 110 miles an hour hit a sloping railroad crossing Wednesday night with these results:

Crop, Livestock Prices Up 3 Pct.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The prices farmers received for their crops and livestock did an about face from August to November. They rose 3 per cent, although in recent years they declined during the heavy fall marketings.

At mid-November, farm prices were 4 per cent higher than they were a year earlier. The department's publications, "The Demand and Price Situation" and the "Agricultural Outlook Digest," noted that egg prices in November were up a third from August and 45 per cent above a year ago.

China Food Crisis Brings Parcel OK

LONDON (UPI) — The Communists are allowing Chinese expatriates to send food parcels to relatives in their Red-held homeland for the first time in years in an effort to offset a food crisis caused by drought, floods and mismanagement, it was reported today.

The reports said parcels are pouring in from such places as Hong Kong, Singapore and Malaya, but quantities received represent only a tiny fraction of Red China's needs.

The official Communist "People's Daily" in Peiping reported recently that more than half of China's cultivated land has been plagued this year by drought, floods or swarms of grasshoppers.

Gunfight Panics Bus Riders; 6 Hit

CHICAGO (AP) — A bus loaded with Christmas shoppers was the scene of panic and bloodshed Wednesday night in a wild gun-rel near the exit to the crowded bus on the city's West Side.

Police gave this account: One man, complaining he was jostled by three others as he moved toward the exit, drew a pistol and threatened: "Either you get out of my way or I'll blast you in the mouth." One of the men blocking the exit fired back. About a dozen shots raked the rear of the bus.

In the melee the man who police said had provoked the shooting fled after pulling an emergency lever. The other gunman, identified as Thurston Burgess, 22, was listed in a serious condition in a hospital.

Luther Perkins, 18, one of the five passengers hit by bullets, was reported in critical condition. Two others, Otis Porch, 29, and Ernestine Russell, 16, were reported seriously wounded. Two others were less seriously hurt.

The gunmen and the wounded are Negroes.

East, West Germany Close to Trade Pact

BERLIN, Germany (UPI)—East and West Germany appeared today to be on the verge of a trade agreement that would lift the threat of a new Communist blockade of Berlin.

Officials of both sides cautiously expressed confidence that they could reach a compromise solution before the Jan. 1 deadline.

The two trade delegations arranged to meet for a seventh time today and informed sources said that barring an unexpected hitch the present trade pact would be continued into next year.

Stock Obstinacy Seen as Good

Wall Street Pros Turn Optimistic as Market Holds Its Own

NEW YORK (UPI) — The performance of the market in the past two months is causing a significant change in the market opinions of the professionals and the analysts in Wall Street, according to the Investors Research Co.

The refusal of the market to break the September low; the post-election rally; the length of time the market has held above 600 — all are being viewed as very favorable omens by the pros, especially in the face of a rather pallid business outlook.

Investors Research reports that these people have not shouted "bull market" in so many words but "are looking for something very big."

To them, IR says, the market picture has crystalized and it is a matter of time until the preliminary indications jell into a favorable environment for the market as a whole.

Some improvement in the bond market is likely early in 1961, but no return to the very low yields seen during the 1957-58 recession is in prospect, according to United Business Service. It forecasts a moderate decline in bond prices during the second half of 1961, and for the year as a whole the trend is expected to be slightly down.

James F. Hughes of Auchincloss, Redpath & Parker writes that there is justification for believing that the disappointing performance of the stock market had more to do with the business recession than fundamental economic factors.

Now that the technical background is extremely favorable it is conceivable that an encouraging advance in the stock market could prove to be an important psychological factor in reversing the declining trend in industrial activity, Hughes says.

Impact of Chains on Drugstores Causes Concern

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Small Business Committee is worried about the way grocery chains are swallowing up the traditional old-fashioned drugstore.

The staff, in a report made public Tuesday, said that food stores now sell more than one third of the nation's razor blades, baby powders and tooth paste.

Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said the report indicated that small retailers are facing increased competition from the larger chains but that other fields still offer opportunities "for enterprising persons" seeking their own business.

"The extensive merger activity by grocery chains during the last year suggests that the market structure of drug retailing may be transformed rapidly and significantly in the next few years," the report concluded.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

Q. Our two-year-old Miniature Schnauzer objects to anyone taking off his shoes. She growls if we pick up a shoe and will actually bite. How can we cure her of this Fay Kravits, Youngstown, Ohio.

A. It's a good thing your dog did not attend the recent U.N. Assembly session or we might have had a ticklish international incident. It may take quite a while to break her of this habit.

* * *

At some time she probably received a beating with a shoe and now associates shoes with punishment. Scolding and reprimands won't work. Try giving her a dog candy each time you take your shoes off.

* * *

After a time shoes will become associated with pleasant things. Then begin to offer her the candy when you pick up the shoes. If you follow this method, you should be able to cure her in six or eight months.

Says Representatives Should Be Increased

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Massachusetts congressman has suggested that membership in the House should be increased from 435 to 451 to protect the states which will lose seats because of the 1960 census.

* * *

Rep. James J. Lane, D-Mass., said "it is only fair that states with rapidly growing population should have more representatives. But not at the expense of the other states when we can avoid such a drastic shift."

Lane said the House had been limited to 435 permanent members since 1910 despite the fact that the nation's population has almost doubled during the last five decades.

Annexation Ups Lansing Population to 113,058

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Census Bureau officially set the 1960 population count of Lansing, Mich., at 113,058.

The bureau said that when the 1960 population count was completed last April 1, Lansing's population was 107,807. But, it added, an area with a population of 5,251 was annexed to the city on Sept. 1 and increased its total population.

* * *

Census Director Robert W. Burgess said that the figure showing the Sept. 1 annexation will not appear in 1960 census reports because all data published on this year's count will reflect population as of April 1.

African Student in U.S. for School

Ends His 2,000-Mile Walk

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — "Is there a car?" the young African asked, "If not I shall walk. I shall be there tomorrow night."

Everyone laughed except Legson Kayira.

* * *

He had walked 2,000 miles from his native Nyasaland to Khartoum, Sudan, in pursuit of his dream of an American education. In Khartoum, he applied for and won a scholarship at Skagit Valley Junior College in little Mount Vernon, Wash., 60 miles north of here.

* * *

With $1,173 raised in a drive sponsored by the college, Kayira flew to Washington and then to Seattle, arriving Tuesday night.

Oh, yes, there was a car. Mr. and Mrs. William Atwood, with whom he will stay, took him in it to their dairy farm near Mount Vernon.

State's Crop Production 5 Pct. Lower Than in '59

LANSING (UPI) — Production of Michigan's 18 major field and fruit crops fell 5 per cent below last year, but was 14 per cent above the 10-year average, the state crop and livestock reporting service says.

The production was 11.1 million tons, according to the service.

Nehru Working to End Slavery

Problem in Tibet 'Not Serious' but Premier Wants to Solve It

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru acknowledged today that slavery is still practiced among tribesmen in the Northeast Frontier Agency. But he said his government is going about abolition as fast as it can and liberated 160 this year.

The total number of slaves was put at "only a few hundred." Nehru told parliament the problem is not a serious one. But he said the government is anxious to find a solution because of "developments across the border."

The agency area adjoins Communist-occupied Tibet and parts of the area are claimed by Communist China. Nehru fears the existence of slavery may be exploited by Red Chinese propagandists.

Nehru said the government for years has been doing its best to pry or even to buy slaves out of bondage.

This year the government allotted 25,000 rupees ($5,300) to buy freedom for slaves. The frontier agency may spend up to 500 rupees ($105) to free a man.

Nehru warned that it is a slow process, however, and it would only add to the problem if a slave was liberated without provision for his rehabilitation—"and in many cases his master's rehabilitation as well." He described the slavery as a heritage of past feuds between villages and tribes.

PICK OF CROP — Finishing up a tree-mendous job is James Edwards of Orlando, Fla., busy trimming the 6-foot Christmas tree he made out of 25,500 toothpicks. Edwards placed the toothpicks in small chunks of foam plastic to form spiky clusters which he attached to wires hung from a 6-foot pole. It took him two months to finish the job.

7th Fleet to Play Santa Earlier to Aid Orphans

TOKYO (UPI) — Santa Claus is making the rounds early this year aboard fighting ships of the powerful U.S. Seventh Fleet much to the delight of hundreds of Japanese orphans.

Many of the fleet's combat vessels decided to hold Christmas parties for the orphans ahead of time since they will be out on patrol on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

Sailors on the attack aircraft carrier U.S.S. Hancock got the celebrations started last Friday with a party for 100 orphans at the Koiku-en orphanage in the ancient city of Kamakura, south of Tokyo.

Assistant Fire Chief Has Warm Homecoming

Pleasant arrived in time to aid the Chandler force in battling a fire at his own home.

Cuba Refugees to Get U.S. Aid

Philip Bonsal Tells OAS We'd Welcome Ideas on 100,000 Here

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Wednesday pledged all possible assistance to more than 100,000 Cuban refugees in this country.

★ ★ ★

Ambassador Philip Bonsal told the council of the 21-nation Organization of American States that the United States would welcome any suggestions from the other members in dealing with what he called a humanitarian problem.

Bonsal, in a report to the OAS on the Cuban refugees, said Communist propaganda "through its Allies and its dupes, has done its best to distort the situation and to slander the role played by the government of the United States in dealing with it."

He said an increasing number of Cuban men, women and children "under the circumstances prevailing in their country have found it necessary or advisable to leave their own homes and seek refuge in the United States as well as in the other American Republics.

MORE DISTURBING

"A more recent and even more disturbing problem," Bonsal continued, "is the current influx of Cuban children who are not accompanied by their parents and who are often without substantial financial means."

President Eisenhower has appointed Tracy S. Voorhees as his personal representative to study the situation and has made available over $1 million to help needy Cubans in this country.

Bonsal also said a Cuban refugee emergency center in Miami has been set up to find job opportunities and provide other services to the refugees.

But, he said, the concentration of Cuban refugees in Florida, particularly in the Miami area, has caused a heavy burden on public and private welfare agencies there.

Different Sauce for Chops Is Creamy Pickle One

For the budget-minded homemaker, this is the time to serve pork — the supply is plentiful and prices are low.

The problem, of course, is to find ways of presenting it to the family without provoking anguished complaints of "not pork chops again!" from both the man of the house and the small fry.

If you've been wracking your brains for "new" ways to serve pork, try dressing up your pork chops with a sauce made of sour cream and chopped sweet pickles or pickle relish. For an added touch, top each chop with a slice of onion after browning. Five minutes before they are finished cooking, add a slice of tomato and the sauce to each chop and cover again to permit the sauce and tomato to heat.

You'll find that the combination of the sour cream pickle sauce and the onion and tomato will bring out all the hearty flavor of the pork, and, at the same time, bring the touch of "difference" which will please even the most bored appetite.

Pork Chops with Pickle Sauce

6 pork chops, cut ½ inch thick
Flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup fat or cooking oil
6 thin Bermuda onion slices (about ¼ inch thick)
6 tomato slices (about ¼ inch thick)
¼ cup water or bouillon

Sauce

½ cup dairy sour cream
½ cup well-drained finely chopped sweet pickles or pickle relish
½ teaspoon salt

Dredge chops in flour. Sprinkle with salt. Brown chops lightly in hot fat or oil; turn and brown on second side. Top each chop with an onion slice. Cover and cook slowly until fork tender, 25 to 35 minutes.

Combine sauce ingredients. Five minutes before end of cooking time, top each onion slice with a tomato slice and 1/6 of the sauce. Cover and allow sauce to heat. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Shrimp Appetizer Starts the Meal

Use homemade or prepared mayonnaise for this appetizer.

Shrimp Remoulade

1 cup mayonnaise
2 hard-cooked eggs (minced)
¼ cup minced pimiento-stuffed olives
1 tablespoon minced green pepper
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 small clove garlic (crushed)
1½ pounds shrimp

Mix mayonnaise with eggs, olives, green pepper, mustard, Worcestershire and garlic; chill to blend flavors. Have shrimp cooked and shelled and deveined; cut in half lengthwise if medium-size or larger and if desired.

Serve shrimp with sauce; garnish with salad greens or parsley. Makes 6 servings. Garlic may be omitted.

With This Fudge on Hand You're Set for Guests

For a speedy dessert that fits right in with holiday preparation, make smooth, creamy fudge with evaporated milk's 5-minute method. Make several batches, if you please — store some for holiday entertaining, and earmark the rest for family desserts. Everyone will be pleased, for the excellent blending qualities of evaporated milk will give the candy perfect texture, and the preparation will use a minimum of your precious preholiday time.

Both recipes given here, Coconut Fudge Roll and Fudge Fingers, have been developed for you in a test kitchen; both cook in just 5 minutes, and require neither soft ball tests nor candy thermometers.

Coconut Fudge Roll

⅔ cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk
1½ cups sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups (about 16 medium) diced marshmallows
1½ cups (1½ 6-ounce packages) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
½ teaspoon peppermint extract
1 cup flaked coconut

Combine evaporated milk, sugar, and salt in saucepan over medium heat. Bringing to a boil and cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. (Start timing when mixture starts to "bubble" around edges of pan.) Remove from heat. Stir in marshmallows, chocolate, and peppermint extract. Stir vigorously for 1 minute or until marshmallows are completely melted and blended. Cool 5-10 minutes. Shape into 18 inch roll. Roll in coconut. Cut into slices.

Fudge Fingers

⅔ cup (small can) undiluted evaporated milk
1½ cups sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups (about 16 medium) diced marshmallows
1½ cups (1½ 6-ounce packages) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon maple extract
½ cup finely chopped mixed candied fruit
1 cup finely chopped walnuts

Combine evaporated milk, sugar and salt in saucepan over medium heat. Bring to a boil, and cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. (Start timing when mixture starts to "bubble" around edges of pan.) Remove from heat. Stir in marshmallows, chocolate, vanilla, maple extract and mixed fruit.

* * *

Stir vigorously for 1 minute (or until marshmallows are completely melted and blended.) Cool 5-10 minutes. Shape into 2¾ x 1-inch fingers. Roll in walnuts. Cool. Makes about 2 pounds.

Purple Plum Dressing

Dress up your dinner table with individual Blossom Pear Salads. Combine pitted and chopped purple plums from an 8 ounce can with a small package of softened cream cheese and 2 tablespoons honey; mix until smooth. Place drained canned pear halves on crisp greens. Spoon plum-cheese dressing over the pears. Garnish with sprigs of parsley.

Chive Biscuits Add Gay Touch

Many hostesses prefer inviting guests to Christmas Eve buffet, leaving Christmas day for family get-togethers. Simple elegance is the keynote to this type of service.

★ ★ ★

Foods should be carefully selected, tasty and attractive with a special effort to have one recipe blend with the occasion for a topic of conversation. For the latter, serve star shaped sour cream chive biscuits.

★ ★ ★

Now that chives are available locally chopped and fresh frozen, these biscuits are easily prepared:

Chive Sour Cream Star Biscuits

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup shortening
¼ cup frozen chopped chives
¾ cup sour cream
¼ cup milk

Sift dry ingredients together; cut in shortening until very fine. Add frozen chopped chives, sour cream and milk, stirring lightly with fork to make soft dough. Pat out dough gently on floured board to ¾-inch thickness. Cut with star cutter, brush with beaten egg yolk or milk. Bake in hot oven, 450 degrees, 12 to 15 minutes. Makes 12 stars.

★ ★ ★

For hasty chive biscuits, add frozen chopped chives to biscuit mix and proceed according to package directions.

Misty Winter Cooler

For a new holiday conversation piece serve a "Misty Winter Cooler." Fill punch bowl half full of cracked ice or ice cubes. For each cup of punch desired, add one egg, well beaten, one teaspoon powdered sugar, and a quarter cup of lemon juice. Fill remainder of bowl with apple cider, stir. After serving nutmeg may be grated over top of cups.

CHIVE BISCUITS — Add a Christmas touch to any dinner at this season of the year. In the above picture — it's a Cristmas Eve buffet — it's star shaped biscuits that have frozen chives added to them. Make from scratch or from a prepared biscuit mix.

A record 2.75 billion Christmas cards are expected to go through the U.S. mails this year.

Choose veal from the shoulder or leg when you want to bread slices of the meat.

Shredded coconut and currants are delicious added to a rice stuffing for a roast chicken.

Big Pancake to Feed the Family

There's a tingle in the air at this season of the year; you can see it, feel it, hear it, sense it. It's fashioned of many things: carols, pageants, shopping, addressing cards, hiding gifts, being kind, perhaps smiling more than other times of the year.

★ ★ ★

Since it's the kind of season it is, why not let the holiday tingle creep into your cooking, and try some things that are a bit different from the usual run of meals? You may think you've served chicken in just about every way imaginable, but have you tried Chicken-Pancake Wedges? They're different and easy.

This is a good season to include chicken in your meals, in case you hadn't thought of it, because the supply of chicken is large and prices are low, so says the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

For Chicken-Pancake Wedges, you'll need 1½ cups of white sauce, made by your favorite recipe; 1 cup of cubed chicken meat; and ½ cup of sliced mushrooms. Stir the chicken and mushrooms into the white sauce and heat to serving temperature.

Using any pancake mix, make enough batter to serve four persons. Pour it into a hot, greased frying pan to make one big pancake. As soon as the pancake is fried to a golden brown on both sides, place it on a warmed platter and pour half the chicken sauce over it; fold the pancake over and top with the remaining sauce. Sprinkle with grated parsley and serve. Makes four servings.

Proper Care Means Better Frozen Foods

Do you get the best eating quality from the frozen foods you buy? asks the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Do you protect the quality of frozen foods by keeping them cold enough and using them soon enough?

Frozen food should be stored at zero degrees Fahrenheit or lower. At temperatures above zero, chemical changes in the food cause rapid loss of color, flavor, texture and some of the health or nutritive value.

If the temperature of your home freezer or freezing compartment is above zero, frozen foods should only be kept a few days.

A new bulletin entitled "Home Care of Purchased Frozen Foods" (Home and Garden Bulletin 69) lists the time period various commercially frozen foods will hold good quality at zero degrees in a home freezer. For your free copy, write the Office of Information, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Date Filling

Old-fashioned cake filling: sliced pitted dates cooked until mushy with a little water, lemon juice and a dash of salt. Delicious between layers of white or yellow cake with a covering of chocolate frosting.

Stuff Sweets With Bits of Crumbled Bacon

New Jersey grows excellent sweet potatoes. So we asked some Jersey cooks how they use them. This fluffy stuffed sweet potato recipe with bacon curls is one of the best we found. Try it with that crisply brown roast loin of pork.

Stuffed Baked Sweets

6 large sweet potatoes (even size)
Salad oil or bacon drippings
10 strips bacon
2 tablespoons onion, minced
2 tablespoons bacon drippings
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
Minced parsley

Preheat oven to 450 degrees. Scrub and dry sweet potatoes. Rub each with small amount of salad oil or bacon drippings. Arrange on baking sheet or even rack and bake until tender when tested with a fork — about 35 minutes.

Roll 6 bacon strips into curls. Saute bacon until crisp. Drain on paper towel. Keep bacon curls warm and reserve for garnish.

Crumble remaining four bacon strips. Saute onion in bacon drippings until tender. Cut a lengthwise slice from each baked sweet potato, leaving about two-thirds of the sweet potato; scoop out sweet potato, being careful not to tear jacket.

Place scooped out potato in a bowl together with salt, melted butter or margarine, crumbled bacon and sauteed onion. Blend and then beat until light and fluffy. Fill sweet potato jackets with mixture. Return potatoes to oven until steaming hot and slightly brown —about 10 minutes. Sprinkle with minced parsley and top with warm bacon curles. Serves 6.

Ice Cream Sandwiches

Put a ½ inch slice of red raspberry ice cream on a cinnamon graham cracker, spread 1 tablespoon of peach preserves over the ice cream and top with another cinnamon graham cracker. Wrap and freeze. Sandwiches may also be made using chocolate covered graham crackers or chocolate cookies, red raspberry ice cream, and omitting the peach preserves.

Santa and the Boy Fish

by Lucrece Hudgins Beale

CHAPTER 16

The three-eyed viperfish was long and snake-like. It opened and closed its powerful jaws and snapped together its needle-like teeth.

As it drew nearer, Michael saw that one of its three eyes was missing and he knew it was the Monster of the Deep, who destroyed three times, still had two lives left.

For a moment Michael was too frightened to move. The viperfish swam up to his mask as though it knew the black pearl was inside.

It opened its jaws to bite through the tube that led to Michael's lung. Michael struck out with his hands and, catching the creature by the tail, yanked it from his face.

The big fish was enraged. It

blinked its yellow eyes and tried to shake off the boy. Michael hung stubbornly on. There was a furious fight on the deck of the sunken ship.

The viperfish twisted and looped and snapped its tail but could not shake Michael off. Clouds of sand and debris rose from the deck. Michael could no longer see the creature but he could sense its panic and he knew that if he held on long enough he would win the battle.

SQUASHED FISH

Suddenly the fish stopped struggling and took off for the captain's bridge towing Michael behind. The remains of an old rusty cannon were on the bride and, in desperation, the fish lunged into the cannon's mouth.

Instantly Michael released its tail and, snatching up a cannon ball from the deck, rammed it into the cannon mouth squashing the imprisoned fish.

Michael trembled with relief. He leaned for a moment to rest against the tilted bridge. All the fish who had sped away during the battle now returned eager to see the strange Boyfish who had bested both squid and viperfish in one short hour.

* * *

It was clear they wanted Michael to stay and be their leader. But Michael had had enough of the ghostly ARADOON.

"I hope I never see it again—gold and all!" he thought fervently. Then, waving to the friendly fish, he kicked off and swam away in the dark blue sea.

As he glided back toward the Turtle City he could feel the black pearl rolling around inside his face mask.

He thought to himself that all was now well for surely the Monster of the Deep, with only one life left would bother him no more.

But he was wrong for, even then, the shadow of a balloon passed overhead and, looking up in surprise, he saw a Portuguese man-of-war hovering above him.

The bright blue jelly fish was floating on the surface of the water on its balloon-like, air-filled bladder.

* * *

A stinging tentacle, 50 feet long, dangled from the bladder. Michael knew that the man-of-war has numerous tentacles and when he saw that this one had only one he knew that the monster of the deep had changed his shape again and come to do battle once more.

* * *

Michael rushed faster and faster through the water but no matter how fast he swam the balloon above him sailed just as fast until finally the exhausted Boyfish could swim no more.

As soon as he stopped, the ever present tentacle fastened around his waist and slowly drew him out of the sea.

AT&T Raises Its Dividend

Hike and Option Offer Boom Share Price to $103.50, All-Time High

NEW YORK (AP)—Stockholders of American Telephone & Telegraph Co. have received a surprise package in the form of higher dividends and valuable rights to buy more stock at a bargain rate.

As a result, the price of their stock skyrocketed Wednesday to an all-time high of $103.50 a share before dipping slightly in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

* * *

The nation's largest family of stockowners, 1.9 million strong, will begin collecting $3.60 a share annually in July. The rate has been $3.30 a year since July 1959.

Next March they will receive rights to buy at an undetermined price, lower than market value, 1 share of AT&T stock for each 20 held on Feb. 23, 1961. This financing promises to be the largest in U. S. corporate history, with a total value of over $750 million.

Directors of the world's largest utility came up with the surprise package at their regular monthly meeting yesterday. They said the company needs money for a $2.5 billion expansion program planned in 1961.

UP 8 PER CENT

The dividend increase, amounting to about nine per cent, is only the second for the famous "blue-chip" stock since 1921.

The first, amounting to 10 per cent, was proposed in another Christmas season surprise on Dec. 17, 1958.

Stockholders attending the 1960 annual meeting this April in New York expected another increase, based on the continued record earnings of the Bell System. However, there was no change.

* * *

The day's high was equal to $310.50 a share on the old stock before last year's 3- for 1 split. The previous all-time high was set Sept. 19, 1929 at $310.25 a share.

AT&T wound up the second most active issue on the New York Stock Exchange Wednesday with 102,800 shares changing hands. The value of the shares traded was about $10 million.

Last Stock Profit Day Is Dec. 23

NEW YORK (UPI) — Friday of this week, Dec. 23, is the last chance to take a profit on a regular delivery basis for inclusion in 1960 income tax returns.

* * *

The deadline happens to fall on Dec. 23, because in the case of a profit, the delivery date is the determining factor—not the date of trade. The normal delivery date, of course, is four trading days after the date of sale.

The final day for profit-taking comes unusually early this year because Monday, Dec. 26, will be a stock market holiday (Christmas). Also, Dec. 31 falls on a Saturday, and Friday, Dec. 30 will stand as the last business day of 1960.

Losses, however, can be put into the 1960 tax return right up to the end of business on Dec. 30. The Internal Revenue Service says that you take a loss when you make a sales contract, but that you do not take a profit till you get your money.

Consumers Will Spend $98 Million in Michigan

JACKSON (AP)—Consumers Power Co. said today it planned to spend more than $9 million in Michigan next year to expand its services to outstate communities.

The utility said projects included continuing construction of three electric generating plants; expansion of gas storage fields near Allegan, and extension of gas service to St. Charles, Chesaning, Grass Lake, Stockbridge, Bath, Dewitt and Hemlock. It said it also included further work on the nuclear power plant at Big Rock Point near Charlevoix.

Grain Futures Hold Steady to Firm

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures held generally within a steady to firm range during active early dealings today on the board of trade but soybeans met fairly general selling pressure and turned weak.

All advances during the first several minutes were limited to small fractions but dealers said there was a brisk two-sided trade. Offerings apparently included some selling for profit and hedging.

Brokers ascribed the weakness in soybeans to a government report on crushings for November which showed an increase over October but stocks on hand by processors climbed rather sharply to 122,390,000 bushels. A month ago the total was 99,150,000 bushels.

By the end of the first hour trade was slow and the market generally weak.

Adrian's Hopes for Jobs Remain

GSA Turns Down All Bids for Surplus AF Plant There

ADRIAN (AP)—Hope for more jobs in hard-hit Adrian has been boosted by the General Services Administration's rejection of all bids received for a surplus Air Force plant in the city.

The GSA rejected the bids Wednesday. It received three on Dec. 1.

The highest were from Strom Machinery Co. of Hammond, Ind., and Harvey Aluminum Co. of Torrance, Calif., Strom bid $3,600,000 and Harvey $2,256,000.

Strom planned to dismantle the plant for salvage. Harvey said it would operate it in Adrian.

OPERATE ON LEASE

The plant formerly was operated by Bridgeport Brass Co. on lease from the Air Force. Bridgeport shut it down last April 30, idling 615 workers in Adrian, already a high unemployment area.

State officials and congressmen, such as Rep. George Meader, R-Mich., as well as Gov. Williams, all had urged the GSA to sell the plant to Harvey which said it would operate the plant and employ up to 2,500 workers.

They contended it was not in "the best interests of the United States" to dismantle a plant capable of employing 2,500 persons when it is located in a high unemployment area.

The GSA said it would put the property on the market again in the near future and that "it is hoped that bids to be received at that time will be more acceptable."

The plant has an appraised value of $3.5 million. Harvey has indicated it would raise its bid if given a chance.

Five other companies had leased the plant from the Air Force prior to Bridgeport. They all had pulled out because they could not make a profit.

When the plant was shut down the closing affected Adrian's tax base so severly that the city had to revise its budget and cut its school spending.

Parke, Davis Declares Usual, Extra Dividend

DETROIT (AP)—An extra dividend of 40 cents a share was declared Wednesday at a meeting of directors of Parke, Davis & Co., pharmaceutical firm.

The board in addition voted the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents. Both were made payable Jan. 31 to shareholders of record Jan. 5.

The action marked the 293rd consecutive dividend paid by the 94-year-old company. In 1960, Parke, Davis voted dividends totaling $1.40 a share compared with $1.30 in 1959.

Dynamic Dispute Arbitrated

Ordered to Rehire 50

Dynamic Manufacturers, Inc., of Troy has been ordered to rehire with back pay and full seniority 50 workers who took part in an 80-day strike at the plant early this year.

Lewis A. Crane, a Detroit attorney who was named arbitrator by the company and Local 935 of the International Union of Electrical Workers, made the decision as part of the 100 grievances he was asked to hear.

Local 935 struck the Troy plant Feb. 15 when negotiations on a new contract broke down. The present contract expires in less than two months.

The firm hired other workers to replace the union members during the strike. When the union membership voted to return to work in May, the company said they no longer had seniority.

Officials of the electrical firm, located at 4755 Rochester Road, told union members they would have to wait for openings rather than displace the men hired during the strike.

However, the ruling by Crane rejected the theory that an economic strike broke seniority.

Dynamic Manufacturers reportedly is employing fewer than 150 persons at present. Approximately 285 workers were employed before the strike.

S-P Board May Pick Top Men Next Week

DETROIT (AP)—A new chairman of the board and chief executive officer for Studebaker-Packard Corp. may be picked next week when the firm's board of directors meets in New York.

Reports in financial circles indicate a successor has been found for Clarence Francis in the top posts and that his name will be revealed at the board meeting Wednesday.

Francis, 71, said when he took over the company's top post Sept. 1 that he was willing to serve up to two years or until a capable man could be found.

He said again last month that he expected to be succeeded by a "vigorous, capable, younger" man.

★ ★ ★

Officials of company headquarters in South Bend, Ind., declined comment on the reports but a spokesman said it was no secret that several men have been interviewed.

★ ★ ★

He declined to give any names but added that "Obviously, it is much closer than it was a month or two ago."

Ray Girardin Named Chief Probation Officer

DETROIT (AP) — Ray Girardin, long-time reporter for the now defunct Detroit Times, has been named chief probation officer for Recorder's Court.

Girardin, 56, was named to the post Wednesday by the Recorder's Judges.

Stocks Showing Wavering Trend

★ ★ ★

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the usual thing among key stocks.

★ ★ ★

American Telephone, after touching a new historic high Wednesday on news of a dividend boost and stock rights offerings, encountered mild profit taking and slipped fractionally after opening unchanged.

The initial trade on AT&T was a 10,000-share block at 102¼.

Other sizeable blocks were traded as the yearend business of reshuffling large investment portfolios continued and traders kept on with the remains of tax-loss selling and switching.

The trend was lower among steels, airlines and rubbers. Rails nudged ahead on balance. Autos, nonferrous metals, aircrafts and tobaccos were mixed.

★ ★ ★

American Machine & Foundry was off nearly 3 points at the start, then halved the loss. U.S. Gypsum dropped a couple of points.

Otis Elevator picked up about 2 points. American Tobacco was about a point higher.

★ ★ ★

Small gains were made by Boeing, Philco, Anaconda, Kennecott, International Paper, Chesapeake & Ohio, Southern Pacific and Lorillard.

A bit lower were U.S. Steel, Jones & Laughlin, U.S. Rubber, United Aircraft, Air Reduction, United Air Lines, American Airlines, General Electric and American Smelting.

Michigan Bell Official Elected to AT&T Post

DETROIT (AP)—Allen G. Garry, vice president and general manager and a director of Michigan Bell Telephone Co., was elected vice president and secretary of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Frederick E. Eckley, director of personnel and public relations for AT&T's long lines department, was named to succeed Barry at Michigan Bell. The changes are effective Jan. 1.

The number of motor vehicle accident fatalities in the United States is expected to rise from 37,000 in 1959 to about 39,000 in 1960, based on the toll for the first six months of this year.

HE'S ACCUSED OF STABBING HER—Author Norman Mailer, 37, poses with his wife Adele in New York's Felony Court Wednesday where a hearing on a felonious assault charge that Mailer stabbed his wife was adjourned. He's alleged to have stabbed his wife after a party last month in their New York apartment. Mrs. Mailer's attorney says she has no intention of signing a complaint against her husband.

Will Zero In on Our Youth

U. S. Communists Plan Dec. 31 Chicago Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—FBI director J. Edgar Hoover said today that "at this very moment, the Communists are completing final arrangements for a conference to be held in Chicago beginning Dec. 31 . . . to formulate plans for a new national youth organization."

★ ★ ★

The Communist party, U.S.A., remains the largest subversive organization in the United States, Hoover said in a year-end report on FBI activities to Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers.

★ ★ ★

Hoover did not elaborate on his announcement about the Chicago meeting. But an FBI spokesman said there were indications the session would draw a substantial attendance of representatives from various areas of the Communist party. He declined to give other information on the meeting.

STRENGTHENS TIES

Hoover said that under the leadership of Moscow-trained Gus Hall the U. S. Communist party has strengthened ties with the Soviet Union and with Communits in Cuba and elsewhere.

The new national youth organization, Hoover said, "will be clandestinely directed by party members." He said the U. S. party has started a new publication, New Horizons for Youth, under editorial direction of its national youth director, identified by the FBI as Daniel Rubin of New York.

★ ★ ★

"In addition," Hoover said, "the Communists hope to repeat the success which they achieved on the West Coast last May in spearheading mob demonstrations by people against a committee of Congress."

CHARGES DISMISSED

This referred to a demonstration in San Francisco at a hearing of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. Hoover's claim that demonstrators were goaded by Communists, echoed by committee Chairman Francis E. Walter, D-Pa., was denied by a group of students involved.

Riot charges against 62 of the student demonstrators were dismissed by Municipal Judge. Albert A. Axelrod, who said they were merely trying to protest what they believed to be an undemocratic hearing. Axelrod added, "I am convinced they were not engaged in subversive activity."

Dennis Crosby Doubts Being Girl's Father

LOS ANGELES (AP)— Dennis Crosby and divorcee Marilyn Miller Scott agree they were intimate, but he says he seriously doubts he fathered her 3-year-old daughter. Crosby says the intimacies were under alcoholic circumstances on his part.

★ ★ ★

Twice they were intimate, Mrs. Scott testified Wednesday, between outbursts of tears, in her paternity suit against the 26-year-old twin, one of crooner Bing Crosby's four singing sons.

★ ★ ★

"I was in love with him," the tall, 28-year-old brunette told the jury. She is asking that the jurors declare Dennis Michael Crosby the father of her daughter Denise Michelle.

★ ★ ★

Dennis entered a formal denial of paternity and said his doubts are based on what he called Mrs. Scott's "bad morals."

"She has been seen out late in this type of bars, and I have heard rumors that I wasn't the one," he told the jury of nine married women and three married men.

Absolve Officials Involved in Talks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congressional investigators feel there was nothing wrong in the off-the-record talks between Thomas G. (Tommy the Cork) Corcoran and members of the Federal Power Commission.

Corcoran, one-time New Deal braintruster and now a $60,000-a-year lawyer, 14 months ago spoke to the commissioners on behalf of the Midwestern Gas Transmission Co.'s request for a new pipeline in the Midwest.

Both Corcoran and the three commissioners with whom he talked were publicly rebuked for the chats by several members of a House investigating subcommittee which last spring held two weeks of public hearings into the matter.

★ ★ ★

The subcommittee made public Wednesday a staff report which absolved Corcoran and the FPC commissioners from any blame.

His selection was announced by the American Institute of Architects which administers the $25,000 annual international award.

A member of the AIA, he received an AIA First Honor Award in 1959.

His major works include the St. Louis Airport Terminal, Reynolds Metal Co. regional headquarters building in Southfield, and the Oberlin College Music Conservatory.

Retired Group to Gather at the Center

The newly chartered Pontiac Chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons has made arrangements through the Pontiac Area United Fund to hold all of its meetings at the Community Center Building, 132 Franklin Blvd.

Maurice E. Fitzgerald, president, announced today that all meetings in 1961 would be held on the second Wednesday of each month.

The chapter's next meeting will be Jan. 11 at 1:30 p.m.

The group was chartered by the national organization last week and its membership now stands at more than 60 persons, Fitzgerald said.

★ ★ ★

"Rolls for the hospital insurance plan offered AARP members will be opened Feb. 1," said Fitzgerald. "This will be the major topic of our next meeting."

Membership is limited to persons 55 years old or older.

Panel of 15 Probes Rail Work Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 15-man commission meets at the White House today under the leadership of Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell to try to find a solution to the work rules problem that plagues the nation's railroads.

★ ★ ★

The railroads contend that because of union featherbedding, or maintaining jobs that are no longer necessary, the industry pays about $500 million a year more than it should in payroll costs.

The unions argue that their members work harder, on the average, for their pay than rail workers ever did before.

Little Girl Hasn't Seen Him

Is Santa Claus Still Alive?

By LAMAR FALKNER

NEW YORK (AP)—If there is a real Santa Claus, a little farm girl from the Arkansas Ozarks is out to find him. She has enlisted the aid of the New York City cops.

Coleta Burns, 11, has decided Santa either doesn't know where she lives, or he's dead. He hasn't called on her in a long time.

"Is there a real Santa in New York?" Coleta wrote in a letter to the police department. "You see, if there is a real Santa, he doesn't know where we live. I thought I would write a letter to him, and if he doesn't come this time, I know he must of died."

"You know," she went on chattily, "he hasn't been to our house for a long time. He must have been dead for a lot of years. If he is alive, I hope you will read this letter to him."

MAKES A LIST

Then Coleta systematically listed the things her family needs from Santa.

"I hope you have some encyclopedias for my big brothers . . .

"I have two sisters. They are 13 years old. They are twins. They want a old piano so they can learn to play at church.

"I want a pair of cowboy boots and some blue jeans and a cowboy hat.

"I have a little brother and sister. . . . They want a little car that they can ride in. . . .

★ ★ ★

"I sure hope you are still live, for I hope we can have Christmas at our house this year."

Coleta added that she lives "five miles southwest of Viola, Ark."

"If Santa is dead," she concluded, "will you write and tell me?"

Viola is a town of 196 persons, nestled in the foothills of the Ozarks, Wednesday night most of the town was in church singing Christmas carols, School Supt. Max Harber was there, and he said, sure, he knows Coleta.

She's in the sixth grade," he said, "and she makes mostly A's and B's. Her family's not very well off, but they're good people, well thought of."

THINGS NOT GOOD

Postmaster Jim Feltz was at church, too, and he knows Coleta.

"Her father is a farmer and a carpenter, and he works when he can," he said, "and I doubt if Santa has been there lately. Things haven't been so good here lately."

Fulton County, Ark., is a cattle-growing area with a little corn and hay on the side. Most of the people depend on the rocky land for their living.

Coleta's letter was turned over to the Police Athletic League, which plays Santa to many New York kids, and deputy Police Commissioner Walter Arm answered the child's letter promptly.

"I am sure there is a real Santa," wrote Arm, "not only in New York but everywhere.

"However, he has been very busy and, somehow, he must have overlooked you and your brothers and sisters . . .

"I hope he gets to Viola by Christmas day. If not, please be patient—he has a lot of territory to cover."

Kennedy Pays Great Heed to Politics in Selections

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-Elect John F. Kennedy appears to be touching every available political base in his efforts to weld Democratic harmony behind his forthcoming administration.

An announcement Wednesday by Kennedy that former Gov. James P. Coleman of Mississippi had been offered a high, defense post was interpreted as another gesture for Southern moderate support which the new president will need in Congress and behind his executive acts.

Previously he had pleased Southerners generally by naming Gov. Luther H. Hodges of North Carolina as secretary of commerce.

Coleman turned down the defense job. This move paralleled the decision of Rep. William L. Dawson, veteran Negro congressman from Illinois, not to accept the postmaster generalship.

FAVORS 2 SEGMENTS

In both instances, Kennedy gave recognition to two segments of voters who helped him get elected president—party faithful Southerners who believed vital Dixie electoral votes to him and the Negroes who helped him win such touch-and-go states as Illinois.

Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, gave the bulk of his Cabinet assignments to Protestants. His selections include two members of the Jewish faith, two Presbyterians, two Methodists, a Mormon, an Episcopalian, a Lutheran and a Catholic.

He gave his blessing to Connecticut State Chairman John Bailey, another Catholic, as the new Democratic national chairman.

Kennedy tossed a political nosegay to big business and to independents who supported him by the appointment of his defense secretary, Robert S. McNamara, president of Ford Motor Co., is a registered Republican who worked for the election of Sen. Philip A. Hart, a Michigan Democrat.

The president-elect dipped into labor's councils to name Arthur J. Goldberg as secretary of labor. He pleased many Democratic liberals when he named Gov. Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota as secretary of agriculture.

He confounded the Republicans and pleased the conservatives by selecting GOP Undersecretary of State Douglas Dillon as Secretary of the Treasury.

News in Brief

A break-in at Williams Drive-In at 3520 Woodland Road, Highland Township, in which $9 was stolen from the cash register and an undetermined amount of change from a cigarette machine, was reported to sheriff's deputies yesterday by owner George F. Williams. The day before he reported $40 stolen during a break-in.

Vandals last night threw bricks through seven windows of a construction office located at the new Waterford Kettering High School on Elizabeth Street, according to township police.

Sheriff's deputies discovered a break-in at the East Highland Bowling Alley at Duck Lake Road and M59 in Highland Township early this morning. Apparently nothing was taken, according to the owner, Arthur Burns of Holly.

40 Companies Agree to Teamster Pay Hike

CHICAGO (UPI)— The Teamsters Union reached agreement Wednesday with 40 Midwest trucking companies on new contracts calling for a 28-cent hourly pay increase over the next three years.

The agreement, expected to set the pattern for a half-million Teamsters, provides for an immediate 7 cent increase, another 3 cents in six months, an additional 8 cents during the second year, and a 10-cent raise for the third year.

The new contracts also improve vacation schedules, mileage pay and health and welfare benefits.

Bargaining sessions will be resumed Tuesday with negotiators representing other Midwest trucking companies.

Called '60's Biggest

Kennedy Story Tops

NEW YORK (UPI) — The "man in the street" in the United States believes the Kennedy election victory was 1960's biggest news story, closely followed by the U-2 incident and the summit collapse.

That was indicated in results of a poll taken by United Press International in which a cross section of citizens in six metropolitan areas across the country was asked to name the "ten biggest stories of 1960."

Those polled included waitresses, salesmen, grocers, elevator operators, cab drivers, executives, housewives, students, clerks, a stock and bond analyst, parking lot attendants, merchants, store managers, policemen, steelworkers, social workers, librarians, maintenance men—as varied a list as possible.

Here are the two lists:

MAN-IN-STREET

1. Kennedy's Election.
2. U2 Incident.
3. Khrushchev Summit break-up.
4. Ike-Japan trip canceled.
5. Chessman executed.
6. Negro sit-ins.
7. (Tie) Cuba; Triton.
8. Eichmann.
9. Polaris.
10. Pirates win.

EDITORS

1. Kennedy.
2. U2 and Khrushchev break-up
3. (Tie) U.N.; Congo.
4. Cuba.
5. Ike-Japan.
6. Chessman.
7. Negro Sit-ins.
8. Hurricane Donna.
9. Triton.
10. Polaris.

The "man in street vote totals —from Boston, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Atlanta, Chicago, and Dallas—produced a 10-biggest list that differed with that voted by UPI subscribing editors last week.

★ ★ ★

It left out four stories selected by the editors: The Congo's troubles, the heads-of-state United Nations Assembly, Hurricane Donna, and the Pittsburgh Pirate World Series win.

The man in the street poll selected three stories the editors left out: U.S. submarine Triton's voyage around the world, Nazi executioner Eichmann's capture and the Polaris missile.

It divided the editors' No. 2—U2 and aftermath—into two stories. The poll was made before the New York air collision of last weekend.

After the airliner collision in New York, the UPI revised its original editors' list to insert the United-TWA collision as No. 9, push the hurricane down to No. 10, and drop the Pirates.

Fisher Plant at Grand Blanc to Add Space

GRAND BLANC — A program calling for the addition of 163,000 square feet of floor space to the Fisher Body stamping plant in Grand Blanc was announced here today by G. J. Bates, plant manager.

"Construction will begin sometime in February 1961," he said, "and it is expected that the work will be completed by the fall of 1961."

Upon completion of the new construction, the Fisher plant will have over 1,640,000 square feet of floor space for manufacturing, offices and employe facilities.

The Grand Blanc plant currently employs approximately 3,450 people, and produces metal stampings and sub-assemblies for Chevrolet, Pontiac, Oldsmobile, Buick and Cadillac automobile bodies.

Bolivian Workers Stage Red-Leaning Stoppage

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The Bolivian workers' union staged a three-hour work stoppage Wednesday to salute the arrival of four Soviet legislators. Some of the workers were at the airport when the Russians arrived. The workers carried red hammer-and-sickle flags and Bolivian banners.

FED CARRIER FIRE — This fuel tank was a link in the chain reaction leading to disaster aboard the aircraft carrier Constellation Monday at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. An unidentified workman flashes his light under the tank in an inspection after the blaze. The holocaust was touched off when a fork lift truck nudged the metal plate (lower right). The plate sheared a pipe under the tank, permitting volatile fuel to spread onto the hangar deck. A workman's acetylene torch touched off the fuel and set in motion flames which took 48 lives and caused $75 million damage. AP Photofax

'Coming of Christ' Fulfills All the Publicity Raves

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—The words of the Bible provided the script for Wednesday night's "Project 20" holiday presentation, "The Coming of Christ." The "cast" consisted of about 300 camera-caressed painting masterpieces.

★ ★ ★

With that kind of borrowing going on, I'll simply borrow words from the program's advance publicity and let them serve as my basic review. (It's not often, you know, that a TV show lives up to its own advance publicity.) Said the handout:

"Under the direction of Producer Donald B. Hyatt, the three elements — the paintings, the Biblical words, and the music — have been fused into a reverent and inspiring drama of the Savior's coming into the world and of the opening years of his ministry on earth."

I would also compliment Alexander Scourby for his narration and Robert Russell Bennett for his background music. They helped turn out an altogether beautiful and quietly moving interlude.

But then, it seems I have a weakness for the "still-picture-in-motion" technique. When done well, it's powerful stuff and it certainly was done well last night.

★ ★ ★

I tried watching a little of "The Coming of Christ" in black and white, to see if color made a difference in my enjoyment of the program.

Color made a big difference. Since a number of readers have asked whether color TV is worthwhile, let me use this space to give my opinion.

Color TV has me hooked. Man, without an occasional carefully produced color TV show, I'd probably go batty looking at black-and-white exclusively.

In fact, if I sometimes sound enthusiastic about a TV show — it has happened, you know — and it's a show you thought was a black-and-white blob of blah, perhaps one factor contributing to my enjoyment was the expert use of color.

★ ★ ★

I'm sure, for example, that "The Dinah Shore Show" would probably bore me stiff much of the time if not for its frequently dramatic, usually tasteful use of color.

"The Perry Como Show" is good any way you see it, but it is usually superb in color. And then there is "Peter Pan," the all-time champion in high-fidelity living color.

There are color shows that are awful, too. "The Shirley Temple Show" tapes aren't very impressive. Baseball and football are great pageants when the sun is high and the shadows are short.

So, if Uncle Charley sends a color TV set to your house for Christmas, don't chop it up for firewood.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: A full-hour special consisting of taped performances by international stars appearing at London's famed Palladium will be presented on NBC-TV next spring.

Laurence Harvey will serve as host of the program, which is titled, "A Night at the Palladium."

Production problems continue to plague "The Gershwin Years," the 90-minute CBS-TV special scheduled for Sunday, Jan. 15. Eileen Farrell has pulled out of the show following a dispute over billing.

On the plus side, Maurice Chevalier has been added to the cast. He'll sing two Gershwin tunes.

Garry Moore's CBS-TV hour for Tuesday, Feb. 7, which originates in Hollywood, will star Mel Torme and Gale Storm . . . A decision is expected very soon concerning Perry Como's TV plans for '61-62.

Como is said to be interested in doing a series of specials and getting away from a weekly program.

Still a Bergman Fan— Tony Misses Europe

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Tony Perkins flew in from four months in Paris—and I quickly asked him about rumors that he had been battling with Ingrid Bergman.

WILSON

"That's preposterous!" exclaimed Tony. "We had dinner in Paris last night.

"Anatole Litvak," he explained, "gave a farewell dinner for us at the completion of the picture ('Goodbye, Again'). Ingrid and I often sat around on the set three or four hours at a time and never ran out of things to talk about. She and I would go to movies together. I visited her and her husband at their house in the country. We exchanged pictures and gifts, I was sorry to leave Europe because we had such a grand time together."

Tony's looking for a Broadway show and, having enjoyed singing in "Greenwillow," he'd like one with songs. In the future, he shall have music!

★ ★ ★

Julie Wilson, the singing doll, will marry Michael McAloney, the young Irish-born producer who used to be a steeplechase jockey.

JULIE

London diplomats are applauding JFK's decision that Cabinet members and other Gov't. officials leave their wives at home on short trips abroad. (JFK supposedly told brother Edward and others on a fact-finding mission to Africa that it was to be a business trip; hence, no wives). The diplomat may applaud—but I'll bet the husbands involved get plenty of hell from their wives both before and after the trips—and I mean a long time after!

Hare May Resign to Join MSU Board

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James M. Hare may move out of political office into the key and better paying job of secretary of the Michigan State University Board of Trustees, political sources said today.

★ ★ ★

The MSU post pays up to $23,500 a year, depending on the appointee and his qualifications.

It will be vacated Jan. 1 with the resignation of Dr. James W. Miller, who will become president of Western Michigan University.

More than half a dozen candidates have been under consideration by the MSU Trustees.

The board is 5-1 Democratic and members are expected to go along with party wishes when the choice of candidate is announced.

Take 6,000-Pound Shark in Fish Net for Record

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. (AP) —A 24-foot shark weighing 6,000 pounds was caught in the nets of a commercial fishing boat Wednesday.

John Fitch, director of the California Marine Laboratory, said it was a harmless basking shark that feeds on shrimp and small fish. He said it was the largest ever caught on the Pacific Coast.

Sen. Monroney to Ask Funds to Build Fields Away From Population

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sen. Mike Monroney, D-Mont., said Wednesday he will ask Congress for more than $100 million to help build airports as much as 50 miles away from major cities to avoid tragedies such as last week's New York collision which claimed 134 lives.

★ ★ ★

Monroney told reporters he was convinced the air space above metropolitan New York, with planes landing at three major airports, was becoming "saturated."

Similar situations exist at Washington and Baltimore, he said.

★ ★ ★

Monroney, chairman of the Senate Aviation Subcommittee, was briefed on the collision and crash last Friday of the United Airlines DC-8 and Trans World Airlines Constellation by federal investigators here.

★ ★ ★

Monroney said he intended to introduce his measure in the Senate early next year.

It would provide federal funds on a 50-50 matching basis with money appropriated by individual states.

The Montana senator, who declined to comment on the collision of the United and Trans World planes, said his measure would require some airports to be at least 50 miles from major cities as a safety factor.

★ ★ ★

The federal aviation agency would be required to approve the sites selected by airports before states could qualify for the federal aid.

Morocco Says It Gets Russ Aid as a Neutral

RABAT, Morocco (AP) — King Mohammed V said Wednesday Morocco's acceptance of Soviet military equipment is part of his government's policy of nonalignment in world affairs. He told some visiting Americans, his country had received more than $150 million worth of economic aid from the United States.

Fruit Cake a Good Gift

Holiday season is a natural time for gift giving, for sharing the joys of the season with loved ones and friends. Finding the right gift can be difficult as we all know. But homemade fruit cakes are always "just right."

They're just the right remembrance for the postman and your husband's secretary, for little Cousin Jimmy who loves to snack and for Aunt Jenny whom you want to remember in an especially personal way.

Homemade fruit cakes say you care: You save the recipe, select the very finest ingredients from the pantry and refrigerator shelves, mix and blend them into the tastiest batter, wash the bowls and beaters while the goodies bake, and then ever so patiently you wait for them to cool.

But these homemade treats bring joy to you, too. For you have the truly good time of preparing them, the fun of practicing your culinary arts as the pungent aroma of spices drifts through the kitchen and the warmth of the oven fills your home.

And there's still another nice thing about homemade fruit cakes. You can make them far in advance—way ahead of the hustle and bustle that appears with the holiday season. When everyone else is worrying about what to give, you can sit contentedly back knowing your fruit cakes taste even better days after they were prepared because they were made with butter.

Baked foods prepared with butter even improve in flavor as they sit on your shelf. And butter adds old-fashioned richness and tenderness synonomous with fruit cake.

Aunt Jenny make like her fruit cake light, or she may prefer it dark. Satisfy her liking with either of these handcome cakes.

DARK FRUIT CAKE
(9 pounds)

3 loaf pans
9¼x3¼x2¾ inches
Preheated 250 degree oven
½ pound chopped, candied fruit
1½ pounds dark raisins
1 pound sultana raisins
¼ pound candied citron, cut up
1 candied lemon peel, cut up
1 candied orange peel, cut up
¼ pound whole candied cherries
¼ pound pitted dates, cut up
2 pieces each red, green, white candied pineapple, cut up
¼ cup fruit juice
1 cup (2 sticks) butter
1½ cups sugar
6 eggs, well beaten
½ cup molasses
3½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup milk

Prepare fruit and soak it in the fruit juice while preparing batter. Cream butter and sugar and add well beaten eggs. Add molasses, then sifted dry ingredients and milk alternately, starting and ending with dry ingredients. Add fruit with the last amount of flour. Pour batter into pans which have been greased, lined with waxed paper and buttered over the paper. Bake 3 hours. Remove from pan immediately. Cool on cake racks. Store in a covered container.

WHITE FRUIT CAKE
(8 pounds)

3 loaf pans
9¼x3¼x2¾ inches
Preheated 250 degree oven
½ pound candied citron, chopped
½ pound whole candied cherries
½ pound orange and lemon peel, chopped
2 pounds white raisins
¾ pound candied pineapple, chopped
¾ cup fruit juice
1 pound (4 sticks) butter
2 cups sugar
10 eggs
4 cups sifted flour
1½ pounds whole pecans

Prepare fruit and soak in fruit juice while preparing batter. Cream butter and add sugar gradually. Then add one egg at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flour and mix well, then the nuts and fruit. Pour into three loaf pans which have been greased, lined with waxed paper and buttered over the waxed paper. Bake 2 hours. Remove from pan immediately. Cool on cake racks. Store in a covered container.

Both are filled with candied fruit, dark or white raisins, orange and lemon peel, plenty of eggs and of course flavor-rich butter. Each recipe makes three cakes: The dark cake more highly spiced by the addition of cinnamon, cloves and molasses; the white cake nutty with pecans.

When the cakes have cooled, wrap them securely in aluminum foil before storing in a tightly covered container in a cool place. When ready to decorate—and what's a merry fruit cake without an artful topping—mix equal parts water and light corn syrup which has boiled vigorously for one minute.

Glaze the top of the cakes with this glistening mixture, then colorfully decorate with red and green cherry pieces, almond slivers and other nut meats. A final top glaze should again be applied of the same hot corn syrup mixture.

For the final labor of love, wrap the cakes in aluminum foil and then in the gay tissue of the season. Flute the perkiest bow you can, tying it to the beribboned package for a charming touch up. The fruit cake recipe neatly copied and tucked into the package will bring never ending pleasure to Aunt Jenny who might make a

Migrant Farmer to Get U.S. Gift

He'll Be Protected by Regulations Which Halt Some Exploitation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Half a million of America's poorest people are getting a Christmas present from Uncle Sam.

The beneficiaries are migrant farm workers and their families who "follow the seasons" from state to state, harvesting the nation's crops.

The present is a set of federal regulations designed to protect migrants from exploitation.

The regulations, issued by Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, prescribe certain conditions that must be met before migrant farm workers can be recruited through the facilities of the Federal-State Employment Service.

Employment service officials are required to make sure that migrants are offered wages and working conditions equal to those prevailing among "domestic" farm workers in the same area; and that "hygienic and adequate housing facilities" are available for migrant families.

Mitchell is the first to acknowledge that these rules don't lift migrants very far from their present position "at the very bottom of the American economic scale."

Their effect will be limited by at least three factors:

1. The rules don't apply to "free-wheelers" — perhaps half of the total migrant army — who find work on their own instead of lining up jobs through the public employment service.

2. The floor under migrant wages will be a very low one at best, since the "prevailing" scale for domestic farm workers is often about 50 cents an hour, or less.

3. Housing judged "adequate" for migrant families can still be pretty ghastly. This reporter has visited many migrant camps that are officially regarded as unusually good. He was appalled at the conditions he found there.

Despite their restricted scope, the new regulations have brought protests from large farm organizations. They charge that Mitchell's action will interfere with "farm freedom" and drive up farm production costs.

The Secretary of Labor has a sharp answer to these complaints.

"There is no freedom to exploit," he says. "The conditions under which many of our farm workers live and work is an affront to the conscience of the American people.

In this country we do not choose to keep down our bills, including our food bills, at the cost of overworking and underpaying human beings.

Mitchell believes that problems of the migrants will never be substantially relieved until Congress provides them with "the protection of a minimum wage of some kind."

The Labor Department is currently making a study to determine what kind of law would be feasible, and recommendations may be sent to Congress next year.

Problem-Posing Toys Could Cause a Dizzy Whirl

Well, Doctor, It Started With That Game

NEW YORK (NEA) — If junior has any complaints about the toys he gets for Christmas, he won't go to Santa Claus with them. He'll probably go to the family psychiatrist.

You see, some toys and games this year will give children problems, read problems, to cope with. The people at the Toy Guidance Council, Inc., among others, realize this and they are doing everything possible to see that the problems don't become acute.

The Council, an independent business organization, ironically was founded by Freud (Mejvin, not Sigmund) in 1933. It "aids parents in selection of correct play equipment for their children."

A panel of educators peering into a room of children who "test" the toys by playing with them, analyze whether the toys are safe, purposeful and nonfrustrating.

A Council spokesman hastily adds:

One council worker, an attractive young lady in her 20's, for example, says she gets frustrated trying to piece together the problem presented by one popular toy. Imagine a child faced with the same problem. When the council thinks in terms of toys, it also thinks in terms of suitability—is the child too old or too young for a particular toy?

Bernard L. Gottlieb, council vice president, says the Intelligence Quotient (I.Q.) level of toys and games seems to be going up so that parents and children can equally enjoy the same game or puzzle or toy. Of course, this doesn't rule out those toys which are strictly for children.

What type of problems do children face, playing with games and toys? Well, there's a board game called "Game of Life" to which the council nods approvingly.

"Life," according to the manufacturer, offers a "record board of cash—$7.5 million." Players go through a dizzy round of financial ups and downs. They have to decide whether to go to college or start earning more money immediately. The winner winds up on a palatial estate.

Then there's "Etch-a-Sketch," a toy Gottlieb considers "nearly perfect" because it meets all the requirements; it is good the year round, indoors and out.

TRYING TO BEAT THE HAZARDS

To operate, the child (recommended from four on up) manipulates two knobs, one controlling vertical lines, the other horizontal, which are drawn on a flat, television-like screen.

By turning the knobs, lines are drawn in every direction forming a perfect "what is it?" If the child doesn't like what he sees he merely shakes the board and it all goes away.

'USEFUL IN THERAPY'

The council spokesman says: "Being familiar with some of the tools psychologists use, I would say this toy would be very useful in therapy, too."

Who knows what could be read into those lines the child draws?

If you haven't had enough yet, you might be interested to know that the toy industry also is concerned about "togetherness," particularly father and son.

For those dads who are interested in playing with the toys by themselves, the council spokesman notes:

"The child usually won't let a parent hog the toy. Only if a new father hearing that 'it's a boy' runs out to buy an electric train," will he have the pleasure of having a toy all to himself."

The council spokesman sighs: "It's impossible to tell which toy will go over big. You know, kids are so unpredictable." And dads, too?
