City Remains in Grip of Heat

Famed Steeple Restored

AP Wirephoto

ON OLD NORTH CHURCH — A new 50-foot steeple was hoisted to the top of historic old North Church in Boston yesterday, less than a year after it was wrecked by a hurricane. The windows from which warning lanterns flashed their signals to Paul Revere to announce coming of the British in 1775 were saved, and with other ancient woodwork, are being built back into the restored steeple. The new spire is an exact reproduction of the original.

Fishing Vessel With 21 Aboard Reports Sinking

Coast Guard Can Find No Sign of Boat; Hoax Rumored

NEW YORK (AP)—A radio message relayed to the Coast Guard said today a fishing boat with 21 persons aboard was sinking off the New Jersey coast.

Seven hours later no trace of the vessel or survivors could be found, indicating a possible hoax.

Asked if the message and subsequent ones might have been a hoax, the Coast Guard would only say they were proceeding on the basis the messages were authentic.

The first message reported the boat had struck a mysterious object, caught fire and began to sink.

A subsequent message reported survivors were being taken aboard a submarine which was "not an American."

The Eastern Sea Frontier said an American submarine was 35 miles from the scene but it had no report of the mishap.

FIRST REPORT

First report of the mishap came from the fishing boat, Blue Star, at 2:30 a.m. At 3:40 a.m. the tugboat Nancy Moran said it picked up this message from the Blue Star:

"A submarine is surfacing about 350 yards from us. It is coming alongside. It is proceeding to take survivors aboard. It is not an American submarine."

There was speculation that the submarine might be a craft of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, some of which are stationed at Norfolk, Va.

The Blue Star said it struck the object in the water some 30 miles off Barnegat, N. J.

Another distress signal, as relayed by the tug Nancy Moran, indicated that fire aboard the sinking boat had destroyed most of its lifejackets.

RESCUERS SENT

Four Coast Guard vessels and two aircraft were dispatched to the scene after the distress message was received. At 7:30 a.m., the Coast Guard said three of the vessels had reached the scene and "found nothing."

The name of the owners of the Blue Star could not be immediately learned. Nor was it learned whether the craft was a commercial fishing vessel or a pleasure party boat.

Why Suffer With Heat? Just Melt Away Quietly

United Press Photo

DRIP, DRIP, DRIP — Among suggestions on how to outlast the heat wave comes one from Jack Rye, Decatur, Ill., newspaperman, who contends the easiest solution is just to melt away quietly. Above, he demonstrates. Of course he did not actually melt; the picture was made with mirrors. But if it gets any hotter some of us are going to do the same — without help of mirrors.

No Relief Seen From Dog Days; Forecast—Hot

No Water Restrictions Necessary Right Now, Officials Say

Pontiac today remained in the grip of the roasting heat wave which sent temperatures into the high-80s or mid-90s for the seventh straight day. And forecasters say tomorrow will bring no relief.

City officials say there will be no water restrictions imposed despite the heat. A new air conditioning ordinance limiting water usage for cooling is credited with keeping consumption within supply limitations.

"If we get through tomorrow noon—and I think we will—we will be O.K. through Tuesday, anyway," said Joseph B. Gable, water superintendent.

Gable explained consumption falls off over the weekend, beginning usually about noon Fridays. The wells supplying the city's water become replenished when use declines.

Meanwhile, weather forecasters say today's partly cloudy skies and high temperatures will continue through tomorrow, with mercury readings in the 90s predicted for both days. There is a chance of a few afternoon or evening thunderstorms Friday.

Gable commended Pontiac residents for helping to keep consumption down. "Although there is no sprinkling ban, people are really cooperating and using a lot of common sense in conserving water," he said.

He said the air conditioning ordinance, which became effective June 4, is resulting in lower water consumption than a year ago, which was the aim of the law's enactment by the City Commission.

Consumption last month was 14,000,000 gallons less than June, 1954, he said. "July also is going that way," he added.

But the water department head added a word of caution.

"With new houses being built every day and industry demanding more water, even with new wells we are not going to have enough water. Pontiac Motor, for instance, wants the promise of an additional 4,000,000 gallons a day.

"We are already getting some complaints about rusty water because we are getting water from such a low level.

"There is no use kidding ourselves. We need lake water."

High recorded in downtown Pontiac yesterday was 89 degrees, low 73. Reading at 8 a.m. today was 74 degrees. The 1 p.m. temperature was 88 degrees.

Guards Refuse to Re-Enter Prison Without Task Force

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Prison guards balked at re-entering the state penitentiary here today, fearing rebelling prisoners may have hidden weapons during a two-day revolt for use against them.

The guards called for an armed task force to precede them in a thorough search of the prison before moving in to take over control of the institution.

Thirty guards and 21 state patrolmen, the latter armed with rifles and sawed-off shotguns, assembled at 5 a.m., the hour agreed upon by revolt leaders and state officials for a formal end of the rebellion.

But after a conference with Warden Lawrence Gilmore Jr., the guards refused to enter the institution without armed support and still were outside the walls an hour later.

The guards' action and an announcement that at least concession granted the revolt leader would not be honored dampened hopes for a complete and peaceable settlement on schedule today.

Only a couple dozen weapons—estimated at one-third of those in the hands of the convicts—dribbled in as the clock crept toward today's 5 a.m. deadline.

The guards then announced they had no stomach for the task of conducting an unarmed cell-to-cell search for weapons while the tough prisoners remained in the cellblocks.

Question Pair in Safe Thefts

Nab Lake Orion Men in Holly Auto Agency During Night

Nabbed in a Holly auto agency last night, two Lake Orion men were being questioned today in an attempt to link them with a recent series of safe thefts in this area.

The pair, Robert Jackson, 22, and Jack Young, 24, both of 84 W. Flint, were arrested by Holly Patrolmen William Wood and Wilbert Lankin.

Wood said he became suspicious when he noticed a safe missing from its usual place as he made a routine check of the building at about 11 p.m.

Seeing a shadow of a man dart across the room, apparently frightened by his flashlight beam, Wood said he smashed a window with his gun and ordered the man (Jackson) to halt. Young was found seconds later hiding in a restroom.

The officers said the safe had been moved 20 feet into the service department. A used car belonging to the agency had been moved near the door to the showroom. The rear seat had been removed.

Sheriff's detectives quizzed the suspects more than three hours this morning in an attempt to link them with thefts at Lake Orion and Rochester.

Officers pointed out that the earlier thefts were from auto agencies and were carried out in the same manner.

Auto Kills Woman in Bloomfield Hills

Mrs. Emilaja Krinschelis, 49, of Grosse Pointe, was struck and killed by an auto on North Woodward Avenue at Bloomfield Hills yesterday afternoon as she crossed the street to meet her niece, Mrs. Sylvia Birkerts, of North Woodward, who witnessed the accident.

The driver, Martin Wilkerson, 37, of 82 Earlmoor, Pontiac, was released after making a statement at the Oakland County Prosecutor's office.

Witnesses said Mrs. Krinschelis, who came to this country from Latvia in 1949, got off a northbound bus and started across the street in front of oncoming traffic.

Wilkerson told police he did not realize he had struck the victim until he felt the impact.

Globemasters Soaring Over Pacific in World's Most Massive Airlift

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—A double-decker transport plane carrying 90 paratroops roared off for Japan at 12:10 a.m. today to start history's most massive long-range airlift.

Other huge C-124 Globemasters of the 18th Air Force followed at two-hour intervals, with one carrying 23 newsmen and 67 paratroopers departing at 8 a.m.

Altogether 43 planes will take off from here in two days on the 18,000-mile mission of swapping two airborne combat teams between the United States and Japan.

The planes are taking almost 4,000 officers and men of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team to Ashiya, Japan.

Within 60 hours of their arrival in Japan, the C-124s will take off again to return the 3,100 troopers of the 187th Airborne Regimental Combat Team to Ft. Bragg, N. C.

The movement will total 31½ million passenger-miles, a new record.

BIGGEST EVER

Maj. Gen. Chester E. McCarthy of Portland, Ore., commander of the 18th Air Force, said the exchange is the largest and longest troop movement by air ever undertaken.

McCarthy commanded the Korean airlift for 2½ years, and had charge of the movement of 4,000 men from Japan to Korea in 17 hours to quell prisoner-of-war riots in 1952.

"But we are treating it as routine—an exercise demonstrating our capabilities of airlifting anything or anybody, anytime, anywhere," McCarthy told newsmen.

The airlift is coordinated with the shipboard movement of 433 families—about 1,300 women and children dependents of soldiers of the 508th.

The dependents will be greeted by their husbands and fathers upon arriving about 10 days hence.

McCarthy said the airlift is part of the new Army operation known as "gyroscope," involving the replacement of entire overseas units every three years.

The first plane was commanded by 1st Lt. David Brazel, Carthage, N.Y.

Stops are scheduled at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., Hickam Field, Hawaii, and Wake Island.

Odds Against Lake 'Gator Rising as More Join Hunt

The odds against the alligator in Lower Long Lake continued to climb today, as would-be captors continued to assemble for a glimpse of the reptile.

A report that the monster slid into view yesterday for a brief sunning on the bank, before gliding back into the depths of the lagoon could not be verified.

Flotillas of rented boats continued to criss-cross the dark pool, loaded with perspiring newspaper reporters and trigger-happy photographers.

Mrs. William O. Singleton, whose five-year-old son Danny first glimpsed the long-nosed visitor, had nothing new to report today.

"I heard that someone saw it come out of the lake and crawl around for a bit, but I haven't seen a sign of it," she said. She has instructed Danny to keep his distance from the lagoon, despite his Davy Crockett pop-gun armament.

The contingent of skeptical reporters was augumented yesterday by the arrival of a former 'gator wrestler now living in Royal Oak. Armed with a coil of line and a long knife, he proposed to "rassle" the monster.

Another alligator expert, this one from Florida, pooh-poohed attempts to stir the guileful 'gator into action with a couple of freshly-killed chickens as bait.

A detailed search of the shore line of the jungle-like lagoon failed to reveal the tell-tale track of the beast. The claw-prints on either side of the long drag mark of the tail were not to be found along the marshy banks.

Ike to Live in Villa During Big 4 Talks

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP)—President Eisenhower will live in a luxurious 15-room villa five miles north of Geneva during the forthcoming Big Four summit conference.

The villa belongs to Geneva industrialist Andre Firmenich, international yacht racer. The Secret Service took over the property yesterday and Swiss uniformed police were posted at the entrance. The President is due to arrive July 17.

Current Heat Wave Has Detroit Gasping

The current heat wave which moved into its seventh day has the Detroit Water Department hanging on the ropes.

Laurence G. Lenhardt, general manager of the department, said the city would be in real trouble if today's water consumption in the Motor City equalled yesterday's.

By 2 p.m. yesterday, 323,000,000 gallons had been pumped, compared to 291,000,000 at the same time Tuesday. Total pumpage Tuesday was 666,300,000 gallons, and Wednesday's topped 695,000,000 gallons.

Australian Ties for British Lead

American's Chances for Title Dim; Bulla Is Low U.S. Player at 145

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Australia's Peter Thomson, the defending champion, rocketed into a three-way tie for the 36-hole lead in the British Open golf championship today as virtually all the American entries faded from contention.

Thomson, who has played on the American pro circuit for the past two seasons, shot a round of 34-34—68 over the testing St. Andrews old Course today for a two-day total of 139. He had a 71 yesterday.

Thomson, holed a 20-foot putt on the home green for his 68, one stroke off the course record which Englishman Johnny Fallon equalled today. Fallon was a stroke behind the leaders with 140.

D. F. Smaldon of Wales posted 70-69—139 and Eric Brown of Scotland 69-70—139 to share the lead with Thomson.

With Ed Furgol, 1954 U. S. Open champion from Clayton, Mo., still on the course, tall Johnny Bulla of Pittsburgh led the American group with a score of 75-70—145. He appeared sure to qualify for tomorrow's final 36 holes but the others were uncertain.

Former American champion Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex., had 72-75—147 and amateurs Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia and Joe Conrad, the British Amateur champion from San Antonio, Tex., both turned in scores of 72-76—148.

Firm OKs Work Shorts

CHICAGO (AP)—The president of a Chicago manufacturing plant decided that during the current heat wave employes could wear shorts to work. About 20 per cent of the Pentrone Corporation's 400 employes —both men and women—came to work yesterday in shorts. Irving Rossman, president, came in Bermuda shorts.

Wild Life Here? ... Shurr ... but Tales Are Wilder

By OLD HERMAN

Our own Al Lowman and Arnold Hirsch are reporters extraordinary on city hall and police beats.

They're the ne plus ultra.

They're the dernier cri.

They're terrif.

But when it comes to Wild Life (alligators and such), they're no longer top drawer. They failed in everything except their quest for a day off on a cool lake.

However, witness the Wild Life accounts another reporter from this diligent and zealous journal has dug up from citizens of our great commonwealth.

Pontiac's own Dr. Harold A. Furlong reports a deer within sight of the GMC Truck and Coach. "This wasn't a nebulous, uncertain and shadowy creature," says the great doctor. "It was a real deer. It was a live deer and it was right in the middle of this populous county of more than half a million people."

Harold is one of America's Greatest Heroes. His veracity is as unquestioned as his courage under fire in the first World War.

* * *

Also, may I introduce Mr. William R. Yaw to Messers Lowman and Hirsch. "I have seen a deer on my place on Long Lake road a couple of times lately," says Mr. Yaw. "Furthermore, it had a fawn. Neither of these was a creature of my imagination. They were strictly the flesh and blood variety. Furthermore, the fawn was more timid than the mama."

Mr. Yaw is a citizen of unimpeachable veracity and has a lifetime record of honor, character and probity.

* * *

Then we present the case of one Donald W. ("Bud") Bay. Bud went to the door of his Bloomfield residence the other morning and suddenly stifled a yawn as he looked squarely upon an amazing and astounding sight. There was a fox and to complete the picture and make the whole thing noreworthy, the fox had just captured a rabbit which he had in his mouth. He looked carefully at the astonished Mr. Bay and then turned with a swish of that intriguing tail and "went away from there."

* * *

Mr. Bay is a gentleman of unassailable honor as his hundreds of friends know and when he sees a fox complete with rabbit, that means Oakland County isn't just a haunt of civilization as half a million people believe.

And now we come to the case of Basil E. Brown. Mr. Brown ventured out into his own yard right on Mary Day avenue in the center of Pontiac and watched pop-eyed as a mama quail led eight or ten little fellers on a leisurely walk of exercise and sightseeing. "Neither she nor her flock seemed a bit perturbed about the half million people in Oakland County," says the factual Mr. Brown. "In fact they weren't disturbed by the 75,000 in Pontiac city or the thickly populated neighborhood around Mary Day."

(And two men with a boat and a day off couldn't locate an alligator? Fie on half-hearted reporting).

Of course, our own Russell Bassett is entitled to creep into the act. He has often seen grouse on his own private estate north of Pontiac and you can't name me anything that creeps, crawls, flies, swims or breathes that's wilder than grouse. "These five or six hundred thousand people in Oakland County don't scare my birds a bit," said Mr. Bassett as he put a lot of ice in another one on the front porch of his near-Clarkston chateau.

* * *

And pheasants!

Messers Lowman and Hirsch themselves could scare up a pheasant or two.

Yes, indeedy.

All 588,432 of our Oakland County residents have seen many pheasants many times.

It just goes to show that the second biggest county in Michigan, and one we think as super-civilized, contains many of nature's own creatures right here in what they probably consider reasonably primitive elements.

* * *

And, oh, yes.

One E. J. Anderson truthfully reports having seen many Lions in Oakland County, and Spike Briggs, a lifetime resident of this great sector, says he has seen lots of Tigers here at various times.

* * *

Me?

Ole Herman?

Shucks, I've seen sparrows, squirrels and even an occasional hawk.

Send Lowman and Hirsch around.

I'd like the day off, too.

Hensel Testifies on Arms Aid

Sees Overhaul of U.S. Assistance to Allies if Funds Are Canceled

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secret testimony made public today said the Defense Department would face 'a complete reprograming' of arms aid to America's allies if old foreign aid appropriations were canceled.

A House Appropriations subcommitte heard the testimony June 23 from H. Struve Hensel, whose resignation as assistant secretary of defense became effective June 30.

* * *

It was made public in the midst of a controversay over the department's action in obligating 575 million dollars of arms aid funds on June 30, just before authority for spending most of that amount would have expired. Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) accused the department yesterday of a "deliberate shortcut" of a congressional edict.

* * *

The newest development came as both houses of Congress prepared to take up for final action a compromise $3,285,800,000 foreign aid authorization bill for the year ending next June 30.

The authorization bill sets top figures. Actual funds still must be appropriated.

City Youth, 8, Hurt When Struck by Car

Crossing the street from an ice cream vendor's truck last night, 8-year-old James Richard Shanholtz, of 1030 Argyle Ave., was injured seriously when he was struck by a car near his home and hurled 30 feet through the air.

His condition was reported good by Henry Ford Hospital authorities where he was taken after emergency treatment at Pontiac General Hospital. Pontiac Police said he suffered multiple skull fractures.

Witnesses said the boy darted from the rear of the truck into the path of a car driven by Felix Mayo, 62, of 45 James St.

Children's Home Librarian Retires After 9 Years

The Oakland County Children's Home needs a librarian.

For the past nine years, Mrs. Ione W. Bartholomew has voluntarily served as librarian for the 130 youngsters at the Home.

Because of ill health, Mrs. Bartholomew is looking for someone to carry on the work.

She started the library when the institution was called the Oakland County Juvenile Home. Books donated by citizens in the area now total 2,000 volumes.

Mrs. Bartholomew supplemented her library duties with a weekly story hour for the children, along with serving the teenagers.

Now she is leaving the home.

Superintendent W. O. Moulton Jr. said, "The children and the staff here wish to publicly thank Mrs. Bartholomew for her effort and time she has donated in helping the children of Oakland County mold their lives to become better citizens in the years to come."

Women interested in the librarian's job may call Moulton at the Children's Home.

Teenagers Sought for Observer Post

Teenagers over 15 years old were urged today to join the Pontiac unit of the Ground Observer Corps.

Arthur J. Heaton, post supervisor, said over-15-year-olds desiring to take part in "Operation Skywatch" should attend the regular weekly post meeting at 7:30 p.m. today on the fifth floor, Oakland County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St.

Those unable to attend may join by telephoning FE 4-5750, or FE 3-7131, ext. 28, Heaton added.

Michigan Called a 'World Leader' in A-Development

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan is emerging as a "world leader" in atomic energy development, says Walker L. Cisler, president of Detroit Edison Co.

Cisler spoke yesterday at a University of Michigan "summer session." He cited the University of Michigan's Memorial Phoenix project and the Atomic Power Development Associates, Inc., an organization of 33 companies that combined in 1950 to build an industrial nuclear reactor.

He said the state possesses "the stimulating intellectual climate provided by our great universities."

"The state," he added, "also has an unexcelled resource of craftsmen, technicians, engineers, scientists—the men who have built what is perhaps the world's best known industrial center."

Hope Brightens for Two Bills

President Said Ready to Compromise on Road and Housing Measures

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was reported willing today to compromise on highway and housing legislation in an effort to get bills through Congress in its closing days.

A highly placed Republican who asked not to be named said the President has indicated he will settle for action in this session on five major bills: military reserve, atomic ship, foreign aid and some kind of housing and road-building measures.

The President was represented as giving high priority in conferences with GOP leaders to school construction, minimum wage, polio vaccine and Upper Colorado development measures.

But he apparently was not insisting on their consideration if that would delay adjournment unduly.

Eisenhower was said to have indicated he would be willing to accept a compromise highway bill which was self-financing. He proposed originally that a separate agency be set up to issue bond, not chargeable to the federal debt, to finance the federal contribution to a 10-year interstate road building program.

Stock Wilson Sold Has Almost Doubled

NEW YORK (AP)—The dramatic jump in the price of General Motors stock is illustrated in the case of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, who sold his 40,000 shares of GM two years ago to take the Cabinet post.

Wilson, former GM president, received $65 a share in early 1953 for a total of around $2,600,000 for his holdings.

After the proposal for a three-for-one stock split, GM common soared today to $128. At that price, Wilson's former holdings would be worth $5,120,000—almost double.

City Commission Sets Ticket Fee for Loose Dogs

A trip to the pound by a dog or a trip to the violations bureau by its master now costs the same.

The equalization came about when the City Commission adopted a resolution fixing the violation fee for dogs running at large at $3, the same fee charged when dogs are redeemed at the pound. Sixty cents a day is added for feed at the pound, also.

Formerly, it cost $5 to settle a loose dog ticket. Irate owners pointed out it was cheaper to have a dog taken to the pound that it was to keep the animal and receive a ticket.

Ticket Number Six Brings Cry of Woe

To the two officers issuing the ticket it was strictly routine. To the woeful recipient, Angel Lamberty, 29, it was number six in a lengthening series.

Officers Joseph Swift and Clarence Smith ticketed Lamberty in Beaudette Park yesterday for driving an auto without an operator's license. Later investigation showed four other traffic citations pending for the same charge.

A fifth cited him for running a stop sign and a sixth charged him with having an improper license plate on his auto. Police have Lamberty's address as 105 Raeburn St.

Charlevoix Boy Drowns

CHARLEVOIX (AP) — Raymond Belding, 7, drowned Wednesday in Walloon Lake. Sheriff's deputies said the boy apparently strayed away from a supervised group while the others were resting after lunch. He was found a short time later but attempts to revive him failed.

Average U.S. production for each person in the country per year is 175 pounds of sulphuric acid, 40 pounds of caustic soda and 35 pounds of chlorine.

Stevenson Rips School Program

Teachers Told Ike Has Failed to Keep Word on Prompt Assistance

CHICAGO (INS)—Adlai Stevenson has blasted President Eisenhower's public school program as too little and too late.

The 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, speaking last night in Chicago before the National Education Association convention, declared:

"Just after he assumed office, President Eisenhower said: 'Our school system demands some prompt, effective help.'

"Yet today, two and a half years later, when this need has become acutely critical, nothing has been done."

$7 BILLION PROGRAM

Stevenson recalled that the President had told Congress the nation needs seven billion dollars worth of new schools, but that he had proposed grants of only 66 million dollars a year for three years.

In outlining his own program of federal school financing, the Democratic leader said local communities should be responsible for meeting what educational shortages they can and then to allocate from taxes whatever is necessary to do the rest of the job.

He estimated that at least 250,000 new classrooms and 180,000 more teachers are needed to bring the nation's educational system up to par.

* * *

Stevenson called for the immediate support of proposals for 400 million dollars of federal funds each year for the next four years for school construction, to be matched by state funds.

Reburial service will take place there July 10.

Capt. France was formerly a police officer in Pontiac in 1939 and saw duty in the Pacific in World War II. He went to Korea in July, 1950.

The Day in Birmingham

International Scholars Arrive for 3-Day Stay

BIRMINGHAM — Birmingham can now boast of being one of the Meccas of the American Field Service international scholarships program.

Once again this city has been chosen, because of its hospitality and surroundings, as a stopping off place for 35 scholarship students here from foreign countries.

The 16-to-18-year-olds arrived from Ohio yesterday afternoon for a three-day stopper, one of their longer visits on a 2,000 mile trip through United States.

They have completed a year's schooling in this country under the non-profit American Field Service organization, which began its program in 1947 to "promote understanding between nations by bringing a younger, more-adaptable teenage group to America to study and live for a year."

ARRIVE BY BUS

Arriving by bus yesterday, students representing 14 countries were introduced to the 24 local families with whom they will stay, at a reception at the Fairfax Avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sumner.

Today, a tour of the Dodge Division of Chrysler Corp., Detroit, was arranged through its president, W. C. Newberg, also a Birmingham resident. Tonight at 8:30, the city's young people have been invited to a dance to be given for the visitors by the Community House.

Music will be furnished by the "Brook Brothers," Cranbrook School students.

FRIDAY OPEN

With the exception of a tea at Baldwin Public Library at 3 p.m. tomorrow, the day has been left open for the guests to choose their own activities, before leaving on Saturday.

Co-chairmen of the three-day event are James Joyce and R. G. Saltsman. The visitors are from Belgium, Denmark, Finland, Germany, Great Britain, Italy, The Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland and Turkey.

Two wins were chalked up by Birmingham National Bank, 5-1 over Michigan Bell, and 6-3 over Reeves Auto Service. A 2-2 tie game between Reeves and the Varsity Shop was called because of darkness.

Soviets Score Shoddy Toys

Trashy Playthings Get Official Blast; Don't Teach Kids Right

MOSCOW (AP) — It's still six months before Grandfather Frost (the Russian Santa Claus) comes around, but Soviet toymakers are being scolded again in the official press for producing trashy and unimaginative playthings.

* * *

What are toys for? asks Soviet Trade, official newspaper of the Ministry of Trade. Not only to make kids happy, but to "assist in the Communist training of the younger generation," it answers.

"All of us," says Soviet Trade, "are very much interested that our children should receive good toys —toys that will help in their Communist education.

"On the shelves we see either bad or unimaginative toys. How poor and small the assortment still is!

* * *

"And this is doubly regrettable because our Soviet children are growing up in an era of great events and great and daring achievements. They hear about the establishment of scientific stations at the North Pole. They know about the wonderful new machines which dig canals and erect power stations. And, naturally, a child not only wishes to have a pretty doll or doll's dishes, but also wants mechanical toys which tell what's going on around them.

* * *

"But to our regret such toys are very few. We are often shown excellent samples of toys which gladden the heart, but why do we not see them on sale? Why do we see for sale only toys made by the cold hands of indifferent people? Why do children have to play with an engine (locomotive) whose smokestack is painted in the colors of a parrot? That can only create mistrust in grownups who thought up such a toy. And a bad toy can teach a child inaccuracy.

Boyhood Dream Comes True for Fire Engine Fan

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP)—Lodi Mandel hasn't been a boy for several decades, but he got that old feeling while out for a drive when he noticed a fire engine in a farmer's yard.

* * *

The farmer, it turned out, had used the old engine for pumping water to his barn, but now had different means. He was delighted to sell it because it was cluttering up his farm.

Mandel, a druggist for 28 years, was so happy over his find that he got himself hip boots, helmet and the rest of what the properly dressed fireman wears.

He's going over the big pumper, which once worked for the Cleveland Heights department, from its tubular front bumper to its well-worn tailboard and get it into shape to run.

* * *

He doesn't anticipate any trouble finding passengers when he goes out. After all, kids are still kids.

"Family first, though," Mandel said.

Colors Cause Cops Copious Confusion

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—Police dispatchers here are complaining about the color schemes of the new automobiles.

It's getting to the point where a broadcast bulletin for a stolen car sounds like "a loud speaker at a style show," they moan.

Radioman W. G. Nash explained that a car description nowadays is a tongue twister.

"It used to be we could describe a stolen vehicle as black, green, blue or red," he said. "Now it's at least 2-tone, and colors range from robin's egg blue and fuschia to lavender with a beige top.

What makes the situation even worse, said Nash, is that even the owner doesn't always know the color of his car.

Huge Computers Depend on Humans

By WARREN BENNETT
(For Sam Dawson)

NEW YORK (AP) — Those big electronic computers, called the "giant brain," have run into a bottleneck—a shortage of human brains to tell them what to do.

If the truth be known, a giant brain is really quite stupid. It does only what it is told.

A big brain like Sperry Rand Corp.'s UNIVAC or International Business Machine Co.'s model 702 has the computing ability of 25,000 trained mathematicians. It can remember enough information to fill an 1,825-page Manhattan telephone directory, perform logical operations at the rate of 7,200 a second and double check every one as it goes along. But when a big brain comes to a point in a problem where it hasn't been told previously what to do, it just stops.

* * *

People who tell the machine what to do are called programmers. They set up the steps the machine is to follow before it can solve any problem. It may take months to program a problem which the machine with its blinding speed solves within a split-second.

The giant electronic brain, weighing 11½ tons, is helpless without a programmer with a human brain, weighing about three pounds.

There is a shortage of good programmers. There is a shortage, too, of people suitable for training as programmers. Too much isn't known yet about all the qualifications but this much is sure. A Ph.D. degree no longer qualifies a prospect automatically. Too many learned experts with a string of graduate degrees have turned out to be lousy programmers.

* * *

"Perhaps the key is logic," said Dr. Herbert F. Mitchell Jr., director of Sperry Rand's UNIVAC applications. "Good old fashioned horse sense probably is a better term."

Both Sperry Rand and IBM found to their surprise that civilian business applications are harder to set up for the computer than the supposedly much more difficult scientific problems on which they worked for the government during the war.

Core of the current difficulty is the difference between the languages used by science and business. The language of science is mathematics—precise, definite, unvarying. One and one makes two. Always! But the language of business is different.

* * *

"Scientific applications are logical and simple," said Dr. Mitchell, "whereas commercial applications are subject to the individual interpretations of man."

Language is difficult because it is not precise. The word "fast" can mean fleet of foot or the dire opposite as in "tied fast." Or quote a different meaning as in a character reference.

Then there is the idiom. Idioms are pure torture to programmers because they are not logical. Take a word like "charleyhorse." Charley is a nickname for Charles. A horse is a type of animal but a charleyhorse does not mean a horse named Charley. It is a muscular contraction which may take place in the calf and can make you yell like crazy. And calf in this case does not mean a baby cow.

* * *

Finally, if this story were programmed and given to a big brain as a problem it would have read it in a little less than five thousandths of a second—.00458 of a second to be precise.

How long did it take you?

Never mind, it took longer than that for this three pound brain to write it. And a big brain never could.

10th Garage Slated

CHICAGO (UP) — Construction on the last of Chicago's 10 multi-level garages being built in the city's $50,000,000 off-street parking program will begin soon. Plans call for a four-level structure of reinforced concrete with a capacity of 261 cars. It will be of the ramp type with open walls. The city-owned garages offer both self-parking and attendant parking facilities.

In the past five years, Americans have bought more than two electric appliances for each man, woman and child in the country.

Use of asphalt for road paving has increased in the United States from about half a million tons in 1919 to 11 million tons in 1954.

Bob Considine Says:

Koreans Please Hostess With the Mostest

NEW YORK (INS)—A footloose foreign correspondent of considerable importance flashes me from Seoul as follows:

"Thought you'd like to get a little news out of Korea. When I decided to come to the Far East I knew it would be an interesting trip. What I didn't realize was just how much I could see and do in such a short time.

"I have been in Korea only three days and already I have visited in the homes of President and Madame Rhee, Mayor and Mrs. Tai Sun Kim and Dr. Helen Kim, president of Ewha University, Korea's largest women's college.

"It would take many pages to tell you about these gracious people and their lovely Korean homes and I hope to be able to tell you everything when I return to the States.

"I can say one thing: Even though I am thousands of miles from the United States, these friendly people have made it impossible for me to feel as a stranger.

* * *

"It was a great privilege to meet President and Madame Rhee. I have admired President Rhee from what I have read about him. But I can now confirm that he is a very conscientious and humble man, doing everything in his power to overcome communism, build up Korea and promote peace with the freedom-loving nations.

"Mayor Kim also has long been active in the fight against communism both in peace and war. He was the last Korean to cross the Han River bridge before it was blown up in one of the tragic retreats of a war that brought so much pain to such a fine friendly people.

"Yesterday the degree of doctor of law of Ewha University was conferred upon me by Dr. Kim. I was deeply moved. The brief ceremony was most impressive.

"Afterward, Dr. Kim gave a dinner in my honor. When I complimented her on the ceremony she laughingly said, 'Well, I wanted to keep it short and snappy! I think that was rather amusing, coming from a Korean.

* * *

"One of the greatest thrills I have had in Korea was my visit with our soldiers at the 8th Army Hospital this morning. The hospital has been open only a few days. It is positively spotless.

"Patients, personnel and staff are equally proud of their new quarters. I had chow with the boys in the mess hall. There were an Indian, an Englishman and two Americans at my table.

* * *

"My whole trip to Korea has been very gratifying, for I have found in the Korean people staunch friends and among our fine soldiers a very high morale. Most sincerely—Perle Mesta."

KALTENBORN UNAFRAID

H. V. Kaltenborn, vigorous anti-Communist for a long time, is about to depart for Russia. We asked him on John Daly's "Who Said That?" the other night if he had any qualms about visiting a country whose leaders he had identified as scoundrels for a long time.

Not a qualm, H. V. said. They wouldn't dare issue him and his wife a pair of visas and then ship them off to Siberia. They wouldn't dare, he repeated.

John Mason Brown, sitting next to him under the pitiless TV lights which bolstered New York's stupefying heat wave, wistfully responded, "At least it would be cooler."

Bugs Baer was holding forth on the races of man in Shor's pub. Finally he got to one whose menfolks are known for a thirst that is sometimes hereditary.

"It tried to drown its troubles in drink," he said, "but learned that troubles can swim."

10 MINUTES OWED

Agriculture Secretary Benson kept U Nu, the Burmese Prime Minister, waiting for five minutes. U Nu stomped out. Benson called on him, to offer an apology, and U Nu kept Benson waiting 15 minutes.

War will be averted, but Burma still owes us 10 minutes.

Bill Paying Habits Not Much Improved

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Despite current high employment, only slight improvement in bill-paying habits of the average family has been reported by the American Collectors Assn., Inc.

Glenn B. Sanberg, executive secretary, said the credit index was at 82.7 in June compared with March's 79.1 and 91.5 last December. Agencies over the nation report a general increase in accounts requiring special collection attention, he said.

"This trend continues to reflect the serious ineptitude of the average wage earner in meeting the demands of free credit spending," Sanberg said. He added this association estimates some six million families have credit problems.

Sanberg reported that personal and business failures in the year's second quarter were up 5.9 per cent from the first three months.

New West Coast Line Linking U.S., Mexico

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UP)—The West's newest passenger steamship service, connecting Southern California with the west coast of Mexico, began operations this month.

The 250-passenger liner S.S. Mazatlan sails every two weeks from San Diego and makes stops at two Mexican ports, Mazatlan and Acapulco.

Open Meetings Demanded in Illinois

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (UP) — The Illinois legislature has been asked to pass a law to require public agencies to hold open meetings.

Chief sponsor of the bill was Democratic Rep. Paul Simon, youthful publisher of a weekly newspaper at Troy, Ill.

* * *

His proposal stated that it is "public policy" of the state that public commissions, boards and councils and other public agencies "exist to aid in the conduct of the people's business.

"It is the intent of this Act that their actions be taken openly and that their deliberations be conducted openly," the bill added.

* * *

The bill does not apply to the legislature, since the constitution of Illinois allows secret legislature sessions under certain conditions. As introduced, the bill also would allow ejection of anyone who becomes unruly or boisterous at a public meeting.

Family's Birthdays Sure of Celebration

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP) — It may not be too surprising if one of the children of Edward and Virginia Fleche grows up to be president.

The couple's oldest boy, Timothy, seven, was born on Oct. 27—the late Theodore Roosevelt's birthday.

Michael, three, was born on Feb. 22—George Washington's birthday.

Peter, one, was born Feb. 12, Abraham Lincoln's birthday.

The Fleches' first daughter, Ellen Marie, got into the act this year. But it involved some duplication. She, like brother Michael, was born on Feb. 22.

Solid rubber tires are being used more extensively on vehicles in coal mines, having been found more effective for some operations.

Bridge Subs for Cop

OMAHA, Neb. (UP) — Trucks aren't allowed on Minne Lusa boulevard, and if the police don't catch errant truck drivers, a railroad bridge may. R. F. McNally, Lewellen, Neb., zipping along the boulevard, went under the bridge and looked back to find that the upper art of the trailer had been sheared off neatly by the span.

Southfield Group OKs Seven Points in Proposed Charter

Names Lawyer to Revise Work

Plans Call for 7-Man City Council Which Will Appoint Manager

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—The Southfield Charter Commission, at a meeting last night, approved seven points in a proposed city charter and appointed an attorney to rewrite the charter.

* * *

The attorney, Julius Burns, will sit in on commission meetings and make the final draft of the charter. He was hired on a contingent fee basis of $2,500.

Points in the planned charter given commission approval were:

1. A seven-man City Council.
2. All area (Single Ward) representation.
3. A non-partisan government.

4. A staggered Council term with four to be elected for four-year terms and three for two-year terms at the first election.

5. Council to appoint a city manager.

6. Mayor to act as president of the council with equal vote and no veto power. He will be goodwill ambassador and have emergency executive power.

7. Civil service will continue for police and fire departments but other departments will be left to discretion of the Council.

Duties and powers of the city manager will be studied in readiness for insertion in the charter during the next meeting.

A sheet of suggestions on forming a charter, prepared by Wardley McMasters (defeated candidate for charter commission), was turned in for the commission to study.

Suggestions from electors will be welcomed when presented in nine-copy form, officials said, so that each member of the commission may study them between meetings.

The township clerk was advised to delay registration of residents until the new afidavits on registration forms have arrived. They were to be available in two weeks' time.

Make Jelly, Jam Throughout the Year

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

At this time of the year the thrifty homemaker begins to think of filling her shelves with rows of jam and jelly. Oakland County homemakers are no different from others in this respect.

* * *

We would suggest to these homemakers a new idea for jam and jelly making. We would say to them: "Make this part of your food preparation a year-round one. Don't concentrate it all in a few short summer months."

We would have to sit down and plan what kind and how much jam and jelly your family is going to eat during the year. Then we would have you put up some each month. We think this would lend variety to your menus and make the work seem less arduous.

Right now there is still time to make strawberry jam and jelly. We hope that if this is one of your special likes, you tried Mrs. Elizabeth Peck's good recipe that appeared recently in the recipe column. We tried it and consider it a wonderfully easy method that produces excellent jam.

* * *

The last time we shopped for food we saw quart boxes of shiny red currants. So it's also currant jelly time. That will extend into July, during which time you can also make cherry preserves of all kinds, raspberry jam and blackberry jelly and jam.

Here's one jam and one jelly recipe to try.

Sweet Cherry Jam

4 cups prepared dark sweet cherries
4½ cups sugar
2½ ounce box powdered fruit pectin

Stem and pit about 3 pounds fully ripe dark sweet cherries. Chop fine or grind. Add a few crushed cherry pits during cooking. Measure 4 cups into large saucepan. Measure sugar and set aside.

Add powdered fruit pectin to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and stir until mixture comes to a hard boil. At once stir in sugar. Bring to full rolling boil and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat. Skim off foam with metal spoon. Then stir and skim by turns for five minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses.

Cover at once with one-eighth-inch hot paraffin. Yield: About eight medium glasses.

Blackberry Jelly

3¾ cups juice (about 2½ quarts ripe blackberries)
⅛ cup strained lemon juice (2 lemons)
7½ cups sugar
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin

First, prepare the juice. Crush thoroughly about 2½ quarts fully ripe blackberries. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Measure 3¾ cups juice into a very large saucepan.

Then, make the jelly. Add sugar to juice in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat and bring to a boil, stirring constantly. At once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat, skim off foam with metal spoon and pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with one-eighth-inch hot paraffin. Makes about 11 medium glasses.

* * *

In August the great profusion of fruits begins. All the larger fruits, like peaches, pears, apricots and plums, are yours for the choosing. The supplies of these extend into September so that it is possible to do several kinds the first month and others the next month.

September brings grapes and apples, and these too carry over into a second month. September and October are the months to make grape jam and jelly or butter or to bottle the juice for future use.

They are also the time to make applesauce and apple butter and a fine time to do herb jellies with apple juice for the base.

MID-EUROPEAN PICNIC—This continental picnic includes rye bread, liverwurst, dill pickles and your favorite beverage. Sandwiches are kept fresh in their own breadbasket. You'll completely amaze your guests with this trick.

* * *

European 'Breadbasket' Keeps Sandwiches Fresh

Ever go on a picnic in Germany or Denmark? Can be fun.

You usually ride out into the country on a bicycle with several friends. You most certainly will all sing together as you travel further from the city.

The food is apt to be packed in a wicker basket or a "rucksack," the canvas bag with straps which is worn over the shoulders.

When you stop to eat, everything will taste good even though, except for sausages and beer, there won't be the variety of foods we take along in the U.S.

* * *

Rye bread will be the standby. It will be fragrant and fresh. But as paper and foil is scarce in many European countries, you often find the sandwiches kept fresh in their own breadbasket.

That breadbasket idea is adaptable for picnics anywhere.

Breadbasket Sandwiches

Select a large, round loaf of rye bread. Using a long, sharp knife, slice the top off the loaf and set it aside for later use as the cover.

Next, loosen the bread from the side crust by cutting around the loaf directly downward to the bottom crust.

Then, make a slit just above the bottom crust, insert the knife and swing it back and forth in a wide arc to separate the bread from the bottom crust.

Lift out the bread and cut it into five or six wedges, then cut each wedge into four to six slices, depending upon the softness of the bread.

Spread each slice with softened butter and liverwurst, reassembling each wedge. Pack the tiered sandwiches in the breadbasket, replace the cover and refrigerate until time to serve.

Here's New Recipe for Veal Paprika

There seem to be as many ways to make veal paprika as there are people to eat it.

Here's a new one from Avanelle Day, a New York expert with Southern background.

Veal Paprika Gourmet

3 pounds boned shoulder of veal
1 pound small white onions
¾ pound (5 cups) sliced mushrooms
¼ cup butter or margarine
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
3 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons paprika
1/16 teaspoon ground cayenne pepper
2 cups sour cream
1 to 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Paprika for garnish

Roast meat until very tender. Cut meat into small pieces.

Boil peeled whole onions until tender. Saute mushrooms in butter or margarine; add veal, onions, seasonings, and sour cream.

Cook only until thoroughly heated. Turn into a serving dish. Garnish with chopped parsley and paprika. Makes eight servings.

In November make your cranberry jelly for the holiday season. If you have a freezer you can make your Cranberry-Orange Relish and freeze it for future use. Even if you just refrigerate it, it keeps for a long time.

CHRISTMAS JELLY

Early in December make Christmas jelly. Use bottled apple juice and red cinnamon candies for Cinnamon Candy Jelly and frozen lemon juice with green food coloring for your green Christmas jelly. Or make mint jelly.

* * *

In January raid the pantry shelf for dried apricots and make Pinecot Jam with canned crushed pineapple.

Now it's February and time to take stock of your supplies. Decide whether you want to make citrus fruit marmalade, jelly from the wide array of frozen fruit juices available, or another batch of strawberry or raspberry jam from frozen fruits.

In March, do whatever you decided not to do in February. That will give you new variety.

April brings fresh pineapples to the stores which means it's time for fresh fruit jam again.

* * *

In May the rosy stalks of rhubarb suggest a conserve, rich with nuts and perhaps raisins. It is a good mixer and goes well with strawberries or pineapple.

Now we're back to June again. By this time you will know just what your family liked and what you want to repeat another year.

Set up your jam and jelly schedule for the coming year and start looking over your supplies of glasses and paraffin. You might like to start with this unusual conserve to put away for holiday eating.

Christmas Conserve

1 quart strawberries
1 quart red cherries
1 quart raspberries
1 quart currants
6 pounds sugar
1 bottle (4-ounce) green maraschino cherries

Wash the fruit and combine it with just enough water to prevent burning. Cook until tender over a low flame. When the fruit is tender, add the sugar and cook over low flame until thick.

Add the maraschino cherries, cut in quarters, and place in sterilized jars. Seal with paraffin when cool. Makes about 8 pints.

* * *

Wasn't it an easy way to keep the jelly and jam supply up? Didn't you have a grand variety of spreads for hot rolls, lunchbox sandwiches and breakfast toast?

Serve 2 Soups With Cold Meal

Puzling over suppertime menus? A bowl of simmering soup mates, topped with spices, supplies the "something hot" that makes a cold meal appetizing.

Please everyone's taste, too, by serving two of the family's soup favorites in a divided casserole or vegetable dish. If one person prefers vegetable soup, there it is. And to suit other tastes, there's green pea soup topped with curry.

More adventurous souls will combine both soups for an unusual new soup.

Add a salad, broiled sandwiches, a chocolate cake and plenty of milk or iced beverages for a porch supper that you'll repeat again and again.

Summer Soup Mates

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed vegetable soup
1 soup can water
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed green pea soup
1 soup can water

Blend vegetable soup and water in one saucepan. Combine green pea soup and water in another. Stir and heat soups slowly, do not boil.

* * *

Pour into divided vegetable dish or casserole. Top green pea soup with curry. Serves four generously.

Storing Butter Easy if Rules Followed

When butter is to be kept as long as one month, it should be stored in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator in its original wrapping and container without additional wrapping. If butter is to be kept longer than one month, then it should be wrapped in moisture, vaporproof freezer packaging material and frozen solidly.

* * *

Butter can be kept in the freezing compartment or in the deep freeze for several months in the original package without any danger of spoilage.

COOL AND REFRESHING—Chilled soup mates spark lagging appetites when the temperature soars. Just take them off your refrigerator shelf and serve on those days when even the thought of cooking is overwhelming. Garnish bowls with a sprig of watercress.

Combine Soups and Chill for Easy Summer Meals

Much has been said about the emergency food shelf, but what of the summer refrigerator shelf for the dog days to come? When the temperature soars and even the thought of cooking is overwhelming, you can reach into the refrigerator's cool depths and pull out an appetizing meal.

To spark lagging appetites when days grow hot, chilled soup mates are a must. Easy to make ahead of time (with absolutely no cooking), soup mates should be the first addition to your summertime storage shelf.

Just mix two canned soup combinations with liquid, according to the recipe, add a few spices or condiments and store in the refrigerator in a quart container. With several possible combinations ready to serve, you can meet any emergency.

No need to reserve chilled soups for gourmet meals — they're a hot weather treat for the family, too.

Shrimp Soup Mates

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of chicken soup
2 cans water
½ cup chopped, cooked shrimp

Stir soups together; gradually add water. Chill four hours. Add shrimp just before serving in chilled bowls. Garnish each serving with minced watercress or parsley. Serves four.

Sherried Soup Mates

1 can (1¼ cups) condensed black bean soup
2 cans water
1 teaspoon sherry
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed tomato soup
Lemon or lime slices

Small Fry Love Baked Alaska

Baked Alaskas for youngsters! Here's a new idea for small-fry party desserts that's just as elegant as it sounds and—here's the real surprise — is also such a "quick - and - easy" that mothers will find it a delight to make.

Surely one of the simplest fancy desserts ever invented, Fig Bar Baked Alaskas can actually be made in a jiffy. Rich square fig bars topped with ice cream and meringue make up this new treat that's full of good flavor and good nourishment.

Please the youngsters (and the grownsups in the family as well) by making it this easy way:

Fig Bar Baked Alaskas

3 egg whites
6 tablespoons sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 package (18) fig bars
1 pint vanilla or chocolate ice cream

Heat oven to 450 degrees (hot). To make meringue, beat egg whites stiff but not dry. Add sugar gradually, continuing to beat until whites are stiff and glossy. Add vanilla.

For each Baked Alaska, line up three of the square fig bars on a cookie sheet, end to end, making a rectangle one bar wide and three bars long. Repeat six times, spacing the sets of three fig bars at least 3 inches part on cookie sheet.

Top each group of fig bars with one-sixth of the ice cream. Quickly spread with meringue the top and sides of each set of the ice-cream covered bars. Place in preheated oven for about two minutes, or until meringue is lightly browned.

Remove from oven. With a spatula, lift each Baked Alaska onto a dessert plate. Serve at once. Makes six servings.

Blend Fluffy Drink

Here's a real summer cooler—a California lemonade freeze. Make lemonade by mixing a can of frozen lemonade with water as directed; then add 2 scoops lemon sherbet to each cup. Blend, in electric blender or other mixer, until fluffy; serve in chilled glasses.

BACON-EGG OPEN FACE ROLLS — Give the family a change by serving their bacon and eggs in sandwich form. Parker House rolls are used as the base. Hot hard-cooked eggs are mixed with salad dressing and green pepper, then topped with slices of crisp bacon. Wonderful luncheon idea.

Heap Tasty Bacon-Egg Combination on Parker House Rolls for Luncheon

Bacon is one of those foods that is always welcome at mealtime or as a sandwich snack during the day. Its wonderful, smoky flavor stimulates even summertime appetites, making bacon a natural choice for tempting warm weather fare.

Feature a variety of crisp, hearty bacon sandwiches for summertime suppers, lunches, or snacks. One of these appetite-satisfying sandwiches could combine popular franks and cheese with the bacon.

Cover a slice of toasted bread with sliced franks, top with shredded cheese, and complete the sandwich with a slice of bacon cut into thirds. Broil 3 inches from the heat source until the bacon is cooked and the cheese is melted.

Another simple but flavorful combination features chopped cooked bacon with peanut butter on whole wheat bread. Chopped bacon is also delicious combined in egg salad for a sandwich spread or with flavorful cooked, mashed poultry livers.

* * *

You'll find bacon sandwiches are perfect for outdoor summertime eating, too. Cook bacon outdoors on a grill, in a skillet, or on kabob-style sticks.

Be sure to have cheese, hard-cooked egg slices, and fresh tomatoes on hand so everybody can make his own bacon sandwich variations. And include lots to satisfy outdoor appetites.

Of course, select a sweet smoke-flavored bacon that is branded for top quality. This roll and bacon recipe will be an exciting addition to luncheon or for an evening "something special."

Bacon-Egg Open Face Rolls

½ pound sliced bacon
4 eggs
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup salad dressing
5 or 6 Parker House rolls

Hard-cook eggs. Remove shells and chop eggs. Bake bacon on rack in a baking pan in a hot oven (400) about 10 minutes or until crisp. Heat rolls.

Crumble six slices of cooked bacon and combine with hot chopped eggs, green pepper and salad dressing. Split rolls and spread open.

Top each roll with hot bacon-egg mixture. Garnish with a strip of crisp bacon. Makes five to six servings.

Follow the Rules for Good Croquettes

When you are deep-fat frying croquettes, it is best to turn them only once in the fat as they cook. Allow about two-thirds of the cooking time for one side, about one-third of the cooking time for the other.

Use leftover chicken, turkey or beef for the croquettes, adding the amount called for in a standard recipe.

Bacon Crisps Well in Hot Oven

Bacon crisps well if baked in a hot oven—but be sure to put pan on the top shelf of the oven. Place the bacon slices on a wire rack in a shallow pan and allow 12 to 25 minutes to get the bacon golden and crisp.

About 12 per cent of the U. S. potato crop is made into potato chips.

Foods Need Space

Cool hot foods before storing them in the refrigerator. Foods keep longer if you leave plenty of space between containers for free circulation of air around them.

Nutritionists Must Know Reasons for Food Habits

Find out why people eat what they do, and you have a key to helping them select a balanced diet. Of course, there are certain traditions and customs that dictate what is eaten among special groups but, in getting people to enjoy the right foods, nutritionists must first of all understand the reasons individuals select the foods they do.

* * *

Like the man who eats steak and potatoes for breakfast because he thinks they have more "staying power." Encouraged to test the effect of fruit-cereal-and-milk or fruit-bacon-and-egg breakfasts he should find (as recent tests have shown) that either of these well-chosen breakfasts will help him to work better, to be sharper and more alert, and to avoid getting tired, especially during the late morning hours.

The person who skips breakfast or has a skimpy breakfast of coffee and rolls can benefit from these tests, too.

Knowing the why of their food choices can help in improving the eating habits of children. If a child won't eat cereal and milk for breakfast because he like an egg and toast, then why not take the cereals out of their breakfast niche?

Serve crisp cereal flakes and milk later for dessert. Top with sweetened fruits or a scoop of fruited ice cream to make a dessert children will really go for. And they love cereal cookies served with milk for between meal snacks, too.

MILK PROBLEM

Then there is the person who likes milk except for drinking. This is easy for most nutritionists as there are so many attractive ways to feature milk in any meal . . . there are cereals cooked in milk and hundreds of delicious soups, entrees and desserts to be made with milk as the basic ingredient.

* * *

A balanced diet is a guide to easy-to-plan attractive meals:

1. Proteins: Milk and milk products, meats, poultry, eggs and fish. Serve meat, poultry or fish at least once daily. Serve eggs three to five times each week. Try to serve milk or milk products in varied forms and often.

2. Whole grain and enriched breads and cereals: Serve whole grain and enriched bread or cereal with each meal.

3. Fruits and vegetables: (a) Serve two or three fruits each day. Be sure one serving is a citrus fruit, tomatoes, strawberries or melon. (b) Serve two or three vegetables each day. Be sure one is a green leafy or yellow vegetable. Serve potatoes once daily and at least one other vegetable. (c) Dried beans or other legumes may be served as a meat substitute provided milk, milk products or other good quality proteins are part of the same meal.

* * *

4. Fats: Serve butter or margarine with each meal.

5. Note: (a) One key to a balanced diet is variety. Eat a variety of foods at each meal. (b) Sugars, starchy foods and tasty salad dressings have a legitimate place in the diet, but don't overdo them . . . for calories must be balanced, too, to keep weight within the range ideal for height and body build.

BLEACH + DISINFECTANT—DOUBLE BENEFITS SAVE WORK

Pair Ice Cream and Doughnuts

Now is the time that all good children are apt to get on Mother's nerves. School is out and the days are long and warm. You can't blame the children for being merry and perhaps a little demanding of Mother.

* * *

Rather than resisting we recommend you try to work around them. To satisfy their eternal appetites, plan little between-meal snacks. And to channel their abundant energy into useful purposes, let them do things for themselves.

A suggestion for a snack is Doughnut-Ice Cream Sandwich. It's good and nourishing and simple enough for children to make.

Any flavor ice cream combines well with confectioner's sugar-coated doughnuts of the cake quality type. You can get these doughnuts from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department.

* * *

When the children request refreshment, just set out doughnuts and ice cream and tell them to help themselves. All they do is split a doughnut and place a slice of ice cream between the two halves.

* * *

We feel that summer can be a relaxing season for everyone in the family. If you keep chores to a minimum, take advantage of time-savers, and don't develop a guilty conscience (everyone slows up in the summertime), you'll be able to join the children for some fun.

DOUGHNUT ICE CREAM SANDWICH—Here's a new use for an old favorite—sugared doughnuts. Keep a box of store-bought doughnuts on hand along with your pet flavor of ice cream. Cut thin slices of ice cream, put between the doughnut halves, and look! A new kind of sandwich.

Chicken, Asparagus Team Up for Lunch

Team chicken with asparagus to make luscious rolls for a women's lunch. Here's the recipe:

Chicken and Asparagus Rolls

1½ pounds fresh asparagus (cooked and drained)
½ cup French dressing
6 slices cooked chicken
6 finger rolls (split in half lengthwise)
Homemade mayonnaise

Marinate the asparagus in the French dressing in a fat container; refrigerate for about an hour. Split rolls in half lengthwise and spread cut surfaces with butter. Arrange chicken on one half of rolls, asparagus spears on the other. Top with mayonnaise. Makes six servings.

Lemonade Aids Kids to Make Fine Sodas

Young soda-fountain geniuses love lemonade. Keep your freezer or refrigerator stocked with California's frozen concentrate for lemonade, and let them operate at will!

Make fine ice-cream sodas: Just put a few spoonsful of frozen concentrate for lemonade in the bottom of a tall glass, add a big scoop of ice cream, and fill the glass with sparkling water.

Dessert Features Berries, Pineapple

Plentiful strawberries team up with another plentiful food—instant nonfat dry milk—in this yummy dessert, Strawberry Pineapple Mallow.

This recipe illustrates the whipping of magical instant nonfat dry milk which fills all milk uses in the home—drinking, cooking and baking—and then some!

Strawberry Pineapple Mallow

½ pound (32) marshmallows
¾ cup water
½ cup fresh strawberries, sliced and sweetened
1 cup well drained, canned crushed pineapple
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup instant nonfat dry milk powder

Place marshmallows and one-fourth cup of the water in the top of a double boiler. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until marshmallows are melted. Remove from heat. Stir in strawberries and pineapple. Chill until mixture thickens.

Pour remaining water and lemon juice into deep 1-quart bowl. Sprinkle instant nonfat dry milk powder over surface of water. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until stiff, about 8-10 minutes.

Fold whipped milk into fruit mixture. Pour into 1½ quart mold or individual sherbet glasses. Chill until firm, about four hours. Serves 8 to 10.

1 (10-ounce) package frozen sliced strawberries, defrosted, may be substituted for fresh strawberries.

Dehydrofrozen Foods Promise Many Advances

If you were to look into a crystal ball you might see the future food market featuring "dehydrofrozen" fruits and vegetables according to Mrs. Frieda A. Bennett, Oakland County home demonstration agent.

"Dehydrofreezing" is a process combining freezing and partial dehydration and is now being used by large-scale food users. But before long this new process, developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is expected to be used for packages bought by homemakers.

Dehydrofreezing, already in use by six commercial firms, is being used with apples, apricots, peas and pimientos. The process offers several advantages over other methods of food preservation.

The dehydrofrozen fruits and vegetables weigh less and take less space than the same quantity of food prepared by ordinary freezing. Then too, the flavor and texture are more natural than those resulting from conventional dehydration. In some cases "dehydrofrozen" products are superior to those that are fresh frozen.

Ordinary freezing tends to rupture cellular structure. That's why some foods break down in texture after thawing. Partial dehydration helps the cells stand up better under the freezing process.

Chill Spiced Apples

Refreshing to serve as dessert on a warm day — and it's quick and easy, too: Chilled canned apple slices liberally sprinkled with cinnamon-sugar. Serve with light cream, if you wish. Pass the cookies.

Perk-up Summer Meals with frozen Downyflake 1-minute WAFFLES

Jellied Cranberry Sauce Comes to Rescue

Count on ready-to-serve cranberry sauce for warm weather luncheon menus this summer. Keep a supply on hand and be ready for unexpected guests or other emergencies.

* * *

The first recipe is for a whole meal salad. Served with hot rolls, a relish plate and a light dessert, it makes an ideal company luncheon.

Cranberry Chicken Salad

1 cup cooked rice
2 cups diced chicken
3-ounce can mushrooms
¼ cup French dressing
¾ cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons grated onion
½ teaspoon curry powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup diced celery
1-pound can jellied cranberry sauce

Place rice and chicken in bowl. Drain mushrooms. Reserve four whole mushrooms for garnish . . . quarter remaining ones; add to rice and chicken.

Add French dressing . . . toss lightly. Marinate in refrigerator for at least two hours. When ready to serve, drain off dressing.

Add mayonnaise, onion, curry, salt and lemon juice. Add the celery. Toss lightly. Pile on lettuce cups. Top with mushrooms.

Slice jellied cranberry sauce and garnish salads with half slices or cranberry chick cutouts.

* * *

The second salad is good Friday fare or even a dieter's lunch. Furthermore, it's colorful.

Cranberry Salad Bowl

½ can jellied cranberry sauce
1 pint cottage cheese
1 small green pepper
1 grated carrot
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon celery seed
2 grapefruit
3 oranges
1 head lettuce
Mayonnaise

Cut slices of cranberry sauce into cubes with knife. Combine cottage cheese, green pepper slices, grated carrot, salt and celery seed. Fold in cubes of jellied cranberry sauce, saving a few for garnish.

Arrange lettuce leaves in salad bowl. Section oranges and grapefruit.

Pile cottage cheese mixture into center of bowl and surround with alternate sections of grapefruit and orange. Serve with mayonnaise or desired dressing. Serves six.

Dairy's Sour Cream Not Like Home Product

Sour cream is made from sweet cream which is pasteurized, homogenized, and inoculated with a culture of lactic acid bacteria. It is allowed then to develop acidity until the desired qualities are reached.

The same kind of product is not obtained in the home if cream sours because it is left in a warm spot or lost in the depths of the refrigerator. Because of the high heat necessary in the pasteurization process, it take so long for cream to sour normally that the resulting product is no longer fresh.

Curry Deviled Eggs

Eggs and curry powder go well together. Add ½ teaspoon of the yellow spice to your favorite deviled egg mixture. Good for hors d'oeuvres or picnic baskets.

Chocolate, Banana Featured in Sauce

The combination of banana and chocolate in this sauce will please addicts of those flavors.

Chocolate Banana Sauce

1 cup instant cocoa mix
2-3 cup hot milk
2-3 cup mashed strained banana
¼ teaspoon vanilla
Salt

Mix cocoa mix and milk until smooth and mix is dissolved. Stir in banana, vanilla and dash of salt. Chill. Makes 1 2/3 cups sauce.

Serve over squares of white cake, top with whipped cream or vanilla ice cream if desired. Sauce may be covered and stored in refrigerator up to four days.

Grocery Account Is Paid in Full After 30 Years

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Mrs. Antoinette Dolenschek was paid recently for a 30-year-old grocery bill by a 78-year-old woman who said she had been bothered in conscience by the debt for all that time.

Mrs. Dolenshek was one of the operators of a West Allis grocery which went out of business in 1940, writing off bills of some 300 to 400 families in the amount of nearly $44,000.

The old woman who knocked at her door recently told her a delivery boy had dropped a $32 check she had given him in payment for groceries. She said she tore up the check and gave the money to her children to go downtown and spend as they wished.

But she cried with relief when she had told her story and made Mrs. Dolenshek accept the money although the latter assured the woman she need not pay.

The woman said sickness and trouble had prevented her from discharging the debt earlier.

"She restored my faith in the deep down honesty of man," Mrs. Dolenshek said.

Folks All Love Blackberry Pie

Now that blackberries are ripening beside every road and in every sunny meadow, it is time to revive the pleasant old custom of treating family and friends to Blackberry Pie.

* * *

The children will love to help with picking the berries, and this modern recipe will prove an easy guide to a pie of flavorful old-fashioned goodness.

Quick-cooking tapioca thickens the berry juice to perfection, keeping it pretty and clear.

Fresh Blackberry Pie

2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
4 cups fresh blackberries
Pastry for two-crust 9-inch pie
2 tablespoons butter

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt, and berries; let stand 15 minutes, or while preparing pastry.

Line a 9-inch pie pan with half of the pastry, rolled one-eighth-inch thick. Roll remaining pastry one-eighth-inch thick and cut into one-half-inch strips.

Fill pie shell with berry-mixture and dot with butter. Adjust pastry strips in lattice across top of pie. Flute rim with fingers. Bake in hot oven (425) 45 minutes, or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst.

Note: If desired, 1 tablespoon lemon juice may be added when combining berry-tapioca mixture.

Ferry Workers Want Weekend Pay Rule

LANSING (AP)—Straits of Mackinac ferry employes have handed the state an ultimatum in their fight for overtime pay for Saturday and Sunday work.

Arthur G. Rasch, director of the State Civil Service Commission, said today he has received a petition from 200 ferry employes who said they "expect to receive premium pay or the equivalent on or before July 15."

Some 400 ferry employes were given a 15-cent-an-hour pay increase at the June meeting of the commission. They had requested a 30-cent hourly wage increase or time-and-a-half for Saturday work and double time for Sunday duty.

"I don't know whether this means they will strike or not," Rasch said. "I have no comment on the petition."

Rasch said the next meeting of the commission would probably not be held until September.

That's Some Rock

ANDERSON, Ind. (UP) — Sewer diggers found a huge granite-like rock 14 feet across and 7 feet high several feet underground. They estimated its weight at 14 tons and figured it was part of a glacial deposit pushed here ages ago.

Keep Several Kinds of Cheese in Refrigerator

Cheese is a food that keeps well, so it's easy, and wise, to have several kinds on hand all the time.

* * *

When cheese is stored, it should be wrapped tightly in either two wrappings of waxed paper, or waxed paper and aluminum foil, or any other airtight container or wrapper. To prevent transference of flavors when highly flavored and mild cheese are stored together, wrap each one separately.

Cheese should be kept in the refrigerator. The cooler the temperature at which cheese is stored, the longer it will keep without any changes in texture. Most cheeses keep well in the refrigerator for a month.

Even if mold develops, cheese can still be used. Simply cut off the mold and use the rest of the cheese because it is of good quality.

* * *

Packaged process cheese can be stored in the original wrapper if it is carefully opened. Cheese spreads in jars can be covered with the original cap.

Death Has 3 Lives

by Brett Halliday

Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Lucy Hamilton, pretty secretary of private detective Michael Shayne has been kidnapped by a killer they are both trying to trap. The man takes her to a secluded part of Miami, then opens the car door.

XXI

THE car came to a full stop. She heard him turn off the ignition and open his door and step out; then he swing the half of the front seat forward away from her, and she knew he must be standing there looking in to see if she had recovered consciousness yet.

She kept her eyes closed and tried to make all her muscles limp as she supposed an unconcious person would be.

She felt his hands on her shoulders lifting and pulling her roughly out, and she moaned faintly and fluttered her eyelids as convincingly as she could, staggering on the ground as he held her upright when she was out of the car, letting her eyes open wide as though she had just recovered consciousness, shrinking away from him and crying pitiably:

"Where am I? What happened? My head hurts dreadfully. Who are you? I never saw you before."

"Never mind who I am." He shook her roughly and shoved her back against the car. "You're Lucy Hamilton, Mike Shayne's secretary."

There was only one house visible. A large, three-story mansion on the right, built directly on the bluff overlooking the bay. There were no lights and the front windows were boarded up with wooden shutters the way many winter residents leave their homes during the summer and the early autumn hurricane season.

He laughed evilly as he saw her looking around in an attempt to orient herself, and said in his grating southern voice. Take yourself a good look, Ma'am. Then start screaming your fool head off if you're a mind to. Won't nobody hear you. Won't nobody ever come down this here dead-end street."

"Who are you" Lucy demanded again. "What do you want with me"

WANTS MONEY

"Nothing particular with you, Ma'am. I thought back yonder at the morgue maybe you'd recognize me, but if you do or don't it don't make no never mind to me now. All I want is that money from your smart redheaded boss. The money Jack Bristow gave to you or him tonight. That's all I want, Ma'am. And I sure intend to get it one way or another."

"We haven't got it," she protested weakly. "Jack didn't have any money. Or, at least we didnt see it."

HE shrugged and caught her upper arm to lead her away from the car toward the empty and deserted house. "Maybe Mister Shayne lied to you. I dunno. Maybe you lied to him. It don't matter much. He's sort of sweet on you, huh?"

"No, he isn't," she said defiantly. "Don't think you can put pressure on Mike Shayne through me. You can't."

"Maybe not. It sure can't hurt to try." He was half-dragging, half supporting her around the side of the house that faced toward the bay.

Lucy hesitated. There was no place to run to. No use shrieking for help, as he had pointed out.

While she hesitated, he caught her roughly and shoved her half over the windowsill, snarling, "Get on inside."

She pulled herself over onto the floor with the beam of his flashlight on her.

It was a library or study, she guessed, seeing the furniture with dust covers in the flickering light, but he seemed to know exactly where he was going, seizing her arm and leading her to an open door into a corridor, and down a passage to another door at the rear which opened onto a flight of wooden steps leading downward.

When they reached the bottom, he flashed the beam of his light around all four sides to show there were no windows, no other opening or means of egress except up the stairs.

"Just so you'll know for sure how things stand, Ma'am. You're gonna sit down and write him just note to your boss telling him just exactly how things are with you, and then I'm going to tie you up tight and leave you here to rot with your friend I mentioned."

AS he spoke he lowered the beam so it shone on a female figure bundled up with ropes on the ground near the wall. Her mouth was plastered tightly shut with surgeon's tape, and her face was white and haggard and desperate in the flashlight's gleam, but Lucy Hamilton had no difficulty at all in recognizing Arlene Bristow.

He swung the light away from Arlene's face with an evil chuckle and told Lucy, "She's been here keeping right quiet and good since before dark, and hasn't died for lack of air yet.

Howsomever, with two of you down here breathing up the oxygen and with that door at the top of the stairs shut tight and locked, I don't for sure know how long you'll last.

"Just think about how it is when you start writing your boss that note. Think how long it'll take you and your friend to die from lack of water or starvation locked up down here if Mister Mike Shayne is crazy enough to try and set another trap for me. Tell him just how things are with you if he doesn't cough up that 70 grand he got from Jack Bristow."

"But I tell you he didn't get it," said Lucy desperately.

"No matter about that now. I don't care if he did or not. I got you right here where I want you, and you're going to rot here unless he pays up."

Yes, but the H-Bomb Is Down Here on Earth

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP)—The tremendous explosion of a hydrogen bomb — fearful as it is viewed in its present form — would be dwarfed millions of times by the natural explosion of a supernova, a General Electric scientist revealed.

The supernova is a celestial explosion with the force of 1,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 hydrogen bombs all going off at once, said John W. Ryan, development engineer.

Twin Pipes that play sweet music!

Chevrolet's "Super Turbo-Fire V8"* with 180 h.p.

Some like it hot . . . and the hottest of the lot is Chevrolet's "Super Turbo-Fire V8."*

You can spot this one by the twin tailpipes. They're easy to see because the back view is just about the only glimpse you get of this astounding performer! No matter what you drive, you're going to have to get used to the idea of seeing twin-exhaust Chevrolets pulling away—in traffic, on the toughest hills, on the long straightaways.

. . . Unless you have a "Super Turbo-Fire V8" of your own. And then you'll know what it's like to pilot the car that sets the pace for everything else—and doesn't pause to read the price tags!

What makes the Super scat? Chevrolet's superb valve-in-head V8, with the shortest stroke in the industry, the most power per pound, and the only 12-volt electrical system in its field—all this plus a four-barrel carburetor and free-breathing twin exhausts.†

Want to sample this silk-lined cyclone? Just give us a call, any day this week, and we'll be proud to show you just how hot a V8 can be.

*Optional at extra cost.
†Station wagon models have single exhaust pipes.

Hold 'Amateur Day' July 31

Pontiac's Class A City Baseball League will hold Amateur Day on Sunday, July 31, league director George Gary has announced.

A full afternoon of baseball is scheduled for area fans, beginning at 1:30 p.m. Three inning contests involving Midget and Class F teams of the Junior Leagues will open the program.

Highlight of the afternoon's activity is the game slated at 3 p.m. between the league all-stars and the Class A loop leader.

Team leading the circuit on Thursday, July 21, will be awarded the honor of playing the all-stars. General Motors is the current leader, closely pursued by the Auburn Merchants.

All-star squad will represent the remaining five teams in the league. Starting lineup will consist of players leading in hitting and fielding at their respective positions as of July 21. Starters must play at least three innings. Reserves will be comprised of players finishing 2nd statistically.

Pitching staff will be composed of hurlers topping the league in the won-and-lost columns. No pitcher is permitted to work more than three innings and the order of appearance will be determined by the manager.

All-stars' manager will be the pilot of the runner-up team on July 21. Skippers of remaining teams will complete the coaching staff as assistants.

Players selected for the honor squad must appear unless they are on the injured list, or have been excused by league director.

The top 10 hitters and 10 leading pitchers are listed below. Batting is based on 13 times at bat. Figures include June 21.

The dotted arms and hands show the area where you slowly begin to cock the wrist in the backswing. Until this hip-high point is reached, the club shaft should be simply a continuation of your straight left arm which is carrying the club back and, at the same time, winding up your hip and shoulder pivot. When you have reached the top of your backswing, as pictured in the solid line drawing at the left, your hands are in the fully cocked position. Keep them fully cocked until your hands reach the same place where you started to cock them (the hip-high dotted line position). From there on you start sm-o-o-o-thly to uncock them. You finish this important hand action at impact. At the right is a short shot with a highly lofted iron. It should be an upright swing. Notice how our player is bent well over the ball which makes the perpendicular swing easier.

Bass Biting at Pine Lake; 6-Pounder Caught

Bass reportedly are biting very well on Pine Lake. Fishermen reported in with 12 good-sized bass before noon Wednesday.

One of the largest taken from Pine Lake was the 6-pounder landed recently by John Bolton, 14745 Kinthrop, Detroit. Fishing out of Cronk's Boat Livery, Bolton hooked the 22-inch largemouth on a black jitterbug.

Trotters Prep for Hambletonian

Eyes on Scott Frost, Childs Hanover and Colbymite at Goshen

GOSHEN, N.Y. (AP)—If the weatherman will behave, they will hold a major test for 3-year-old trotters with Hambletonian ambitions today at Historic Track, and sulky fans can get a glimpse of some of the big stars including one named Colbymite.

* * *

Chief interest in the race, the Historic-Dickerson Cup, will rest in how Scott Frost and Childs Hanover perform. These two, along with Colbymite and the rest were to have raced in the Dickerson cup, 2-out-of-three mile heats, Wednesday. But a heavy 30-minute rain drenched the clay half-mile oval, and all races were postponed 24 hours when the track turned into a sticky glue-like mud.

* * *

Colbymite is a rarity, a trotter whose mother was a pacing mare —Helmite.

The Dickerson Cup will find Scot Frost, world champion 2-year-old trotter, and his stablemate, Home Free, the post-time favorite.

Waterford Nine Stretches Lead in Legion Loop

Leaders Whip Clawson as Rochester Is Upset; Birmingham Wins

Waterford's hopes for the 18th District's position in the American Legion zone baseball tournament were strengthened Wednesday night.

* * *

Dwight Thompson's Waterford club drubbed Clawson, 16-4, while Huron Valley Boys Club was upsetting the 2nd place Rochester team, 7-3. Birmingham stayed in the running by edging Berkley, 4-3.

Rochester and Clawson play a makeup game Friday, then the day of final decision regarding the tournament berth is Sunday as Waterford (6-2) meets Rochester (4-3) twice, including the playoff of an earlier tie.

Birmingham (6-3) will entertain Boys Club.

Waterford romped to a 9-1 lead in the 1st 2 innings against Clawson and coasted for the victory. Jerry Kruskie breezed to a 4-hit triumph and struck out 10. Harry Dearborn paced the Waterford attack with 3 hits.

* * *

LeRoy Nicholas added a pair and Jack Swindeman collected 2 including a 2nd inning homer.

Boys Club spotted Rochester a 3-run advantage in the 1st inning, then came back with 4 runs in the 3rd. Dan Lancaster and Dave Gaddis preserved the edge, limiting the losers to 3 hits.

Like the Huron Valley nine, Birmingham was forced to come from behind. Berkley took a 3-run lead in the 1st 2 innings, but Terry O'Connor relieved Don Picmann in the 2nd and blanked Berkley the rest of the route.

* * *

Birmingham picked up a run in the 4th, then pulled it out with 3 runs in the 5th as Ray Podulka's single, a walk and a hit batsman filled the bases. One run was walked home, then Bob Isbell unloaded a 2-run double.

Some Tourists in Paris Can't Pay Fare Home

PARIS (AP)—A middle-aged American woman who tucked away nearly $3,000 earned over the years flew to Paris for a fling.

"I always heard people talking about Paris," she said, "So I thought I'd save up and see for myself."

* * *

She turned her dollars into francs and her francs into good times. Days and nights of sightseeing and night-clubbing whirled by. Then there was nothing left but her clothes, seven pieces of luggage—and hotel bills.

An American agency came to the rescue, lent her money, and arranged for her to get back to New York. There she found another job and repaid the agency.

* * *

This year, with some 350,000 Americans making up the biggest postwar pilgrimage to the city of the Eiffel Tower, the U.S. Embassy, the American Aid Society, the American Hospital and the travel agencies are getting plenty of calls for help.

Most Americans come and go without any more trouble than understanding "tripes a la mode de Caen" on a menu. A few, with too much fun on their minds, wind up in a jam.

* * *

Many genuinely helpful Parisians lend a hand to the bewildered American. But accepting help off the beaten track can be dangerous.

Some Americans looking for an easy franc fall on the sidewalk money changer who offers 450 for a dollar—100 above the legal rate. But the black marketeer is also a sleight-of-hand artist, and the francs he leaves in his customer's hands are usually a lot less than the number a bank would have given.

DuPont Tripling Holdings of GM

Three-for-One Split to Give 63 Million Shares to Chemical Firm

NEW YORK (AP) — The huge chemical firm of E. I. du Pont de Nemours will own 63 million shares of General Motors common stock when the GM shares are split 3 for 1 early this fall.

* * *

Since 1917, Du Pont has owned a 22.6 per cent interest in GM and at present holds 21 million shares. When the split takes place, this number will be tripled.

There are 45,604,345 shares of Du Pont common outstanding. Thus, after the split, each share of Du Pont will represent about 1⅛ shares of GM common.

Last year, Du Pont collected 92 million dollars, after taxes, in General Motors dividends. When GM sold additional shares in March, Du Pont exercised its right to subscribe, purchasing a million of the new shares for 75 million dollars.

* * *

Christiana Securities Co., a holding company set up by the Du Pont family, owns 27 per cent of Du Pont's common—12,199,200 shares. In addition, Christiana owns 170,000 shares of General Motors.

Christiana shares joined those of GM and Du Pont in rising to record heights following the GM split announcement. The stock closed Tuesday night at $16,500 a share. Wednesday it was quoted at $16,800 bid, $17,500 asked.

There are only 150,000 shares of Christiana common outstanding, which accounts for its high price.

Food Prices Falling on Wholesale List

ISHPEMING (AP) — Full scale operations are under way today at mines of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. after settlement of a strike that started last Thursday night.

The agreement, affecting 2,500 CIO United Steelworkers, follows the steel industry pattern granting wage increases of 16.8 cents an hour.

A similar settlement was reached Friday for 670 mine workers at iron ore properties of the Inland Steel Co. in the Upper Penirisula and Minnesota.

Easy Washing Machine Headed for Merger

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Easy washing Machine Corp. today announced its directors had approved a merger with Union Chemical & Materials Corp., Pittsburgh.

They also approved a proposed operating agreement with the Murray Corp. of America, Detroit.

Under the plan, Easy would go out of existence but the other firms would continue its operations in Syracuse.

Mine Unions Urge Plea to End Suit

MARQUETTE (AP)—Federal Judge W. Wallace Kent has denied a request by the CIO United Steelworkers that he dismiss a $3,500,000 damage suit filed against the union by Calumet & Hecla, Inc.

The judge also denied a company motion for a temporary injunction restraining picketing by the striking union.

The company's mines and smelter operations have been closed struck in demands for higher wages in a new contract.

Calumet & Hecla filed suit for damages it said resulted in part when the strikers walked out leaving molten copper to harden in expensive smelting equipment.

Ishpeming Iron Miners Win 16.8 Cent Pay Raise

NEW YORK (AP)—Wholesale food prices as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet Index declined this week to the previous low level of the year.

The Index stood at $6.33, the same figure touched on May 31. That was the lowest since April 7, 1953 when the Index was $6.22.

A week ago the figure was 6.42 and a year ago $7.22.

The Index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Foods rising at wholesale included corn, lard, milk, cocoa and coffee, raising and hogs.

Transit Strike in Capital Nears End of First Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington's transit strike neared the end of its first week today with no sign of settlement.

Among suggestions yesterday was one from Chairman Neely (D-WVa) and Sen. Morse (D-Ore) of the Senate District of Columbia Committee for a 60-day recess in the walkout which started last Friday.

The AFL Transit workers Union repeated its opposition to any recess unless the company agrees to arbitration of strike issues unsettled at that time.

The strike has tied up all District and Maryland operations of the Capital Transit Co., and forced 400,000 riders to seek other means of getting to and from work.

The company's 2,400 workers walked out when the company contended it could not meet their demands for higher wages and increased fringe benefits, including pensions.

The union seeks a 25-cent hourly increase for bus and streetcar operators who now earn $1.90 an hour, and 31 cents for mechanics now paid $2.09.

* * *

Financier Louis Wolfson, in San Francisco, says he doesn't know why Sen. Morse wants him to testify before a Senate committee about the walkout.

* * *

The San Francisco Examiner said Wolfson, board chairman of Washington's Capital Transit Co., is at the fashionable Fairmont Hotel here under an assumed name.

* * *

The newspaper quoted Wolfson: "I don't know what that man's point is. He must be crazy. He knew where I could be reached.

* * *

"I really don't know why they want me. A union went on strike, that's all. We have a president, a board of directors. They can handle all this."

City Police Extradite Embezzling Suspect

Two Pontiac Police Detectives were in Miami, Fla., today to return Irwin H. Fisher to Michigan for prosecution on embezzlement charges.

Detective Sgt. William Hanger and Detective James Bale left yesterday to extradite Fisher, 28, an advance man for Cole and King Brothers circus. He is charged with embezzling $1,055 from a Pontiac businessman. Fisher also is charged with converting $210 of advance ticket sale money to his own use.

* * *

The circus played here June 4.

Miami authorities rearrested Fisher yesterday after he had jumped $5,000 bond. He had been released on the bond pending outcome of the extradition proceedings.
