3 Youths Feared Drowned

An air-and-water search continued today for three West Bloomfield Township teen-agers who were reported missing and presumed drowned yesterday during a duck-hunting trip in Saginaw Bay off Bay Port in Huron County.

The youths have been identified by authorities as Michael Weakland, 18, of 1940 Allendale, Kenneth Krieg, 18, of 1911 Auburndale, and Edward Lowen, 16, of 1841 Auburndale.

Weakland and Krieg are juniors at West Bloomfield High School. Lowen is in the eighth grade at Abbott Junior High.

The boys were reported missing by Weakland's father, James, after he and a Huron County resident, Robert Rowe of Mud Creek, found the boys' 14-foot boat submerged about a half mile off shore from Wallace Cut north of Bay Port.

SEARCH LAUNCHED

Weakland had launched the search when the boys failed to return to keep an appointment with him around noon.

★ ★ ★

It was about 5½ hours later when the small craft was discovered. Later, 20 duck decoys the boys had taken with them were found strewn along the beach of Wild Fowl Bay near Bay Port.

★ ★ ★

Law enforcement authorities in the area were called in, but when it became dark their search was called off until daybreak this morning.

★ ★ ★

Taking part in the search are deputies from the Marine Divisions of the Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola county sheriff departments, as well as the U.S. Coast Guard from Bay City.

Huron County deputies said that they were told that there were no life preservers aboard the boat, but that there were a couple floatable cushions.

★ ★ ★

During the night temperatures in the area dropped to freezing, though the water temperature stayed at around 50 degrees, according to deputies.

★ ★ ★

When the three boys left about 8 a.m. yesterday they headed for North Island at the mouth of Wild Fowl Bay, according to police. The small island is about five miles offshore. The water was reportedly "rough" at the time.

Bodies Are Lifted From Air Crash Site; Toll 32

HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — Workers today began removing the bodies of 32 persons killed last night in the crash of a Northeast Airlines plane on 2,700-foot Moose Mountain.

The plane carried 39 passengers and a crew of three. Ten survived.

★ ★ ★

The two-engine propjet crashed in fog about 60 feet from the top of the mountain and then burned.

The injured walked or were carried from the scene last night.

PATH ABANDONED

The first bodies removed today were taken out by a Coast Guard helicopter and indications were that all bodies would be taken from the site that way. An attempt to have bulldozers clear a path to the scene was abandoned.

Heavy woods and ledges made the slope extremely difficult to traverse by foot.

★ ★ ★

From the air today, only the tail section of the craft could be seen in the still-smouldering area.

The dead included the pilot, Capt. John A. Rapsis, 52, of Nashua, N.H., who had been with the line 14 years.

HUNDREDS OF TRIPS

The airline said he had made the trip "hundreds of time" and the last radio contact with the plane was a half hour after its scheduled landing time.

The only crew member to survive was Miss Betty J. Frail, 21, of Berkeley Heights, N.J., and Winthrop, Mass., who suffered a broken leg but was credited with saving lives by opening a rear cargo door to let passengers out.

Survivors also included Robert Kimball, 45, assistant dean of Tuck Business School at Dartmouth College, and Dr. Richard L. Veech of Oxford, England.

All the survivors were taken to Mary Hitchcock Memorial Hospital, which said today that none were in critical condition.

The Weather Bureau said fog in the area at the time would have obscured about the top 700 feet of the mountain.

Cosmonaut Orbits, Tries Rendezvous

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched a rookie cosmonaut into space today aboard Soyuz 3, the first Russian manned shot in more than a year, and Tass announced he approached an unmanned sister ship during his first orbit in what appeared to be an attempt at rendezvous.

The Soviet news agency said Soyuz, 3, carrying Col Georgy Beregovoi, moved toward Soyuz 2, which it reported was sent aloft in a near — earth orbit yesterday at first by an automatic system, later by manual control.

★ ★ ★

It added that Soyuz 2 was launched for the purpose of "joint experiments with Soyuz 3, which it said was transmitting television pictures.

None of the transmissions appeared immediately on Soviet television, which was using preflight pictures of Beregovoi in its reports on the launching.

WITHIN 200 YARDS

Tass said the automatic system of Soyuz 3 brought it to within 200 yards of Soyuz 2, after which Beregovoi took over with the manual control system. The report did not say how close he came.

Beregovoi, identified as a "Soviet pilot-cosmonaut, Hero of the Soviet Union and a merited test pilot," was launched aboard Soyuz 3 at 11:34 a.m. Moscow time — 5:34 a.m. EDT.

First report from him, Tass said, was that he "feels well and that all systems aboard his craft were functioning normally.

The later announcement was the first mention that the unmanned spacecraft had been launched. It cleared up the mystery of why Beregovoi's carried the number 3.

The only previous Soyuz flight had been the Soiet Union's last manned experiment in April 1967, when Cosmonaut Vladimir Komaro died in the crash of Soyuz 1.

Beregovio is the 12th Soviet cosmonaut to be put into obit.

Those before him have achieved an impressive list of "firsts," including the first manned launching and Alexei Lekov's first space walk in March 1965.

LBJ Presses Secret Talks?

Bomb Halt Bid Still Alive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite an angry denial from Hanoi of any bombing-halt deal, President Johnson was reported today to be pressing ahead with secret negotiations for an agreement with North Vietnam to deescalate the war.

While the Hanoi blast could be read as a rejection of Johnson's still-secret proposals, authorities chose to interpret it as a propaganda attack which did not necessarily reflect the final decision of North Vietnamese leaders.

★ ★ ★

The broadcast by Hanoi radio yesterday, however, was receiving careful study.

As reported in press dispatches from Hong Kong, it said:

"Statements by U.S. propagandists that Hanoi has accepted U.S. conditions in return for a bombing halt are nothing but deliberate lies.

'DELIBERATE LIES'

"These deliberate falsehoods, which have no foundation whatsoever in truth, are nothing but an attempt at psychological warfare aimed at spreading confusion and misleading public opinion."

Washington authorities took the position that there was still at least an even chance, probably better, for reaching some understanding on scaling down the war and advancing the Paris peace talks which would enable Johnson to end the bombing in the near future. This estimate presumably figured in a statement made yesterday by Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon in New York.

★ ★ ★

"I am told," Nixon said, "that top officials in the administration have been driving very hard for an agreement on a bombing halt, accompanied possibly by a cease-fire, in the immediate future. I have since learned these reports are true."

News dispatches from Saigon reported yesterday that President Nguyen Van Thieu had informed U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker that he would approve the National Liberation Front's presence at the negotiating table only if representatives were a part of the Hanoi delegation.

U.S. Is Pushing for Truce—Nixon

By United Press International

Richard M. Nixon says he has received confirmed reports a cease-fire may be included in an agreement to halt U.S. bombing in Vietnam.

The Republican presidential candidate said yesterday he had been told within "the last 36 hours" that top officials in the Johnson administration "have been driving very hard for an agreement on a bombing halt, accompanied possibly by a cease-fire, in the immediate future."

★ ★ ★

Vice President Humphrey, meanwhile, criticized his Republican rival for speaking irresponsibly — accusing Nixon of playing politics with our national security, undermining the confidence of our allies, encouraging recklessness among our enemies and undermining our long and patient efforts to bring a rational end to the madness of the strategic arms race."

American Independent third party candidate George Wallace ran into noisy heckling yesterday as he campaigned in New Jersey.

OFFERED A CHANCE

Edmund Muskie, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, offered a group of Wallace supporters in Vermont a chance to speak their minds. But they declined and walked out.

Spiro T. Agnew, the GOP nominee for vice president campaigning in Minneapolis, said Humphrey's "only answer to our problems is to spend, spend, spend."

NY Labor Woes No Nearer End

NEW YORK (AP) — The school dispute remained deadlocked today after the state proposed — and the teachers' union rejected — a formula for ending the walkout that has cost more than a million pupils 21 days of classes.

Nor was there any change in the status of the city's other labor woes as leaders of 32,500 unionized policemen and firemen defied a state Supreme Court order and told their men to continue their work slowdowns.

★ ★ ★

In the school crisis, State Education Commissioner James E. Allen's offer was rejected by Albert Shanker, president of the striking 55,000-member AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, who termed it "obviously a complete capitulation to the demands" of the local board.

In the work slowdowns, State Supreme Court Justice Saul S. Streit issued a back-to-work order for 22,000 patrolmen and 10,500 firemen — but the mandate was no more effective than similar actions in the teachers' strike.

Enemy Suffers Heavy Casualties

GIs Repel Red Attackers

SAIGON (AP) — A strong enemy force attacked U.S. troops today, 59 miles north of Saigon, but was beaten back with heavy casualties.

It was the first enemy-initiated combat in a month, coinciding with statements from Hanoi rejecting U.S. peace overtures.

American spokesmen said about 200 enemy, supported by a mortar barrage, attacked a bivouac position of U.S. 1st Division infantrymen two miles from the Cambodian border.

The attack followed an artillery barrage on Vietcong base camps in the area that triggered 128 secondary explosions, indicating that sizable munitions dumps were blown up.

FREQUENT TARGET

The storage site was seven miles east of the Katum Special Forces camp, a frequent target of enemy shellings.

The spokesmen also reported that allied troops killed 46 enemy for every American or allied soldier lost in combat in the past two days, an extraordinary high kill ratio.

In today's battle near the Cambodian border, the U.S. infantrymen called in artillery strikes on the attackers. After a fierce fire-fight they found 80 enemy bodies around the camp perimeter. U.S. losses were five killed and 28 wounded.

A senior American spokesman said he did not consider today's fighting an end to the month-long lull in the ground war. He said he didn't think the enemy attack was premeditated.

INFILTRATION ROUTE

"I think this is a traditional Vietcong infiltration route," he said. "The 1st Division troops probably just got in the way. Any time we get into an area where they don't want us, they'll fight."

Today's battle raised to 516 the number of enemy troops killed since yesterday. Military spokesmen said 963 enemy have been killed in the past five days across South Vietnam.

* * *

Striking from land, sea and air, allied forces killed 436 enemy yesterday in two battles along a 260-mile stretch of coast from the demilitarized zone to Nha Trang.

Troops of the U.S. 5th Mechanized Infantry Division, supported by jet fighter-bombers, helicopter gunships, artillery and offshore bombardments from the battleship New Jersey, decimated more than half of an estimated 400-strong North Vietnamese force.

* * *

In the second fight, 260 miles south of the DMZ near Nha Trang, South Korean infantrymen from the White Horse Division cordoned off a mountainous area honeycombed with natural caves.

Backed up by U.S. air strikes and artillery they killed 204 enemy soldiers in 16 separate engagements that tapered off late yesterday.

CARDINAL TO RESIGN — Richard Cardinal Cushing, 74, said yesterday he will resign as archbishop of Boston at the end of the year, citing publicity he received after his defense of Jacqueline Kennedy's marriage to Aristotle Onassis. The cardinal said he had received many letters condemning him for urging a tolerant attitude toward the remarriage.

Four Bellwether Counties Lean Toward Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four of five counties considered political weathervanes because they backed every winning presidential candidate in the 20th Century are leaning toward Republican Richard M. Nixon, a variety of indicators show.

* * *

A fifth, Palo Alto County, Iowa, is considered very close, partly because of uncertainty as to how many normally Republican voters will support third-party candiate George C. Wallace.

* * *

In all five, an Associated Press survey of local political leaders, newspaper editors and registered voters shows Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey far behind the 1964 position of President Johnson, who carried them then by top-heavy majorities.

* * *

The four in which Nixon is considered ahead are Coos and Stafford counties, N.H., Crook County, Ore., and Laramie County, Wyo. The surveys were made earlier this month.

MAKEUP OF COUNTIES

The counties range from predominantly urban Stafford to the farmland of Palo Alto to sparsely settled Crook. Two, Coos and Laramie, combine normally Democratic industrial areas with predominantly Republican rural regions.

* * *

Many interviews brought out a feeling of uncertainty or confusion over the three-cornered campaign pitting Humphrey and Nixon against American Independent candidate George C. Wallace.

* * *

Another theme, heard in all five, was a desire to change parties in power, if only to try something different.

* * *

In Palo Alto County, Iowa, a farm area with declining population but no Negroes or crime, Democratic chairman Richard Kibbie of Curlew says his party is behind, but "the momentum has swung to Humphrey and we'll be on top by election day." Republican Chairman John F. Doran says "If the Wallace vote is big, the Democrats win."

Turkey Wooed by De Gaulle

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Seeking to build French influence in the Middle East, President Charles de Gaulle begins talks today with Turkey's President Cevdet Sunay.

The 77-year-old French chief of state, who arrived yesterday for a five-day state visit, urged this key nation in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to join France in breaking ties with power blocs that "divide Europe."

* * *

The two statements were seen as evidence of the independent role de Gaulle has been trying to steer with the Moslem countries of the Middle East since the Arab-Israeli war on June 1967.

An increasing friendship with the Soviets and riots that broke out last summer when the U.S. 6th Fleet visited Turkey indicate de Gaulle may find fertile ground for his efforts.

* * *

Officials estimated 100,000 persons lined the streets of the capital to see de Gaulle in a motorcade, rivaling the throng that turned out to see President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1958.

Bonn Eyeing Spy Case

BONN, Germany (AP) — The disclosure that six Communist East German agents were hurriedly pulled out of West Germany early this month has increased speculation that a major spy case might be developing.

Conrad Ahlers, a West German government spokesman, told newsmen about the agents Friday. Informants in Bonn are speculating that removal of the agents might be connected with the suicides and violent deaths of three senior German officers and two government employes.

Quinine Price-Fix Charged Against 15 Firms, 8 Persons

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifteen U.S. and foreign companies have been accused by the Justice Department of conspiring to fix prices and monopolize the sale of quinine and drugs related to it.

The 15, along with eight of their executives, were named Friday in an indictment charging them with violations of the Sherman Antitrust Law.

The American firms involved are the Rexall Drug and Chemical Co. of Los Angeles; Mead Johnson and Co. of Evansville, Ind. and R.W. Greef and Co. Inc., a New York importing firm.

The only American executive named was Harry Y. de Schepper, president of R.W. Greef.

A spokesman for Rexall said the antitrust action concerns certain quinine transactions of a British firm formerly owned by Rexall's British subsidiary. He said the firm was liquidated in 1964.

He said Rexall had no knowledge of the quinine transactions complained of and was cooperating with the Justice Department's investigation.

* * *

Officials of the other companies named were not available for comment.

The companies are charged with conspiring to defraud the U.S. government during its sale of 13.8 million ounces of stockpiled cinchona tree bark from 1960 to 1964.

The bark is used to manufacture quinine, the anti-malaria drug, and quindine, used against heart disorders.

The indictment charges that the companies conspired so that only two of them submitted bids for the cinchona, which was later apportioned among the rest.

* * *

The two bidders were the N.V. Nederlandsche Combinatie Voor Chemische Industrie (Nedchem) of Holland and Buchler & Co. of Germany.

Of the other companies indicted, four are based in the Netherlands, three in West Germany, two in Great Britain and one in France.

Maximum punishment for violation of the Sherman Act is a $50,000 fine for the company and a $50,000 fine and one year in jail for the individuals involved.

COG SPEAKER — Milford Township Supervisor William L. Mainland, chairman of the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (COG), addresses the COG General Assembly yesterday during its meeting in Detroit. Main item of business was adoption of a 1969 budget for the regional organization.

$525,000 Budget Adopted by COG; Reports Are Aired

The Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (COG) approved a $525,000 budget for 1969 yesterday and heard several progress reports in their general assembly yesterday.

Meeting in Detroit's Veterans Memorial, COG approved the budget as a "flexible" amount. Amost half of the total, $240,000, is dependent on grants from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

* * *

Most of the rest of the anticipated income will come from fees charged to memberships. Governmental units and school districts in the six-county area belonging to COG pay yearly fees on the basis of population.

In expected costs, most expense will go for salaries, $303,000. The COG organization will complete its first year of existence this Dec. 31.

'ORGANIZATIONAL STAGE'

Executive director of COG, E. Robert Turner, reported COG is still in an organizational stage and a more exact budget presentation was not possible.

Chairman of COG, William Mainland of Milford Township, also touched upon the formative phase of COG's existence.

* * *

He said, "No dramatic steps have been taken, but we are laying foundations."

An indication of what areas COG is working in was revealed in reports given by officials and by committee members. Among the projects reported on were:

- Implementation of an area cooperative solid waste disposal program.
- Development of a study for comprehensive health planning or coordination.
- A public safety program.
- Promotion and coordination of water pollution control.
- Uniform building code and enforcement.
- Development of a regional joint purchasing program. (A questionnaire concerning this is going out to school districts, it was announced.

New Shop Specializes in Handicraft

BIRMINGHAM — The Bee's Hive, 325 S. Eton, is a new shop specializing in handcrafted items.

More than 250 local contributors bring in their wares to sell. Items include hand-painted china, ceramics, dolls and stuffed animals.

* * *

Wall hangings of all sorts, including old tavern signs, paintings and portraits, are for sale. One of the craftsmen operating from the shop even specializes in orders for dog portraits.

* * *

Several of the shop's contributors are handicapped and many are teen-agers. One girl makes earrings, and another paints napkins.

* * *

Co-owners of the shop, Betty Fitzgerald and Barbara Blauman, call it a "fun project" and work the schedules of their large families around shop hours, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturdays.

HANDCRAFTING CLASSES

The enterprising women teach some handcrafting classes in a back room of their shop, and have even filled such requests as finding speakers for club meetings.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Edward E. Hopper, 4136 Meadowlane, has been appointed general sales manager for CIMAT, an Italian manufacturer of standard and special machine tools, and a wholly owned subsidiary of LaSalle Machine Tool, Inc., Warren.

* * *

An engineering graduate of General Motors Institute, Hopper is a registered professional mechanical engineer.

He and his family will take up residence in Turin, Italy, as Hopper fills this assignment.

HOPPER

BETTI

BIRMINGHAM — John A. Betti, 1369 N. Glenhurst, has been appointed chief engineer, light trucks, in Ford Motor Co. car and truck engineering operations.

LIGHT TRUCKS

In this capacity Betti reports to the chief truck engineer and will be responsible for all design and development activities for Ford's light trucks, including Bronco, Econoline and F-100 through F-350 pickups.

* * *

A graduate of the Illinois Institute of Technology, he has a master's degree from the Chrysler Institute of Engineering. Betti joined Ford in 1962.

Lapeer State Hospital Union's Status Periled

LANSING (AP) — The State Civil Service Commission yesterday stepped into labor disputes at two state hospitals.

The commission threatened to withdraw state recognition from Local 567 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFSCME), which was involved in a partial work stoppage last week at the Lapeer State Home and Training School.

* * *

In a separate action the commission moved in to prevent the firing of the AFSCME local president at the Mount Pleasant State Home and Training School.

HENRY GAMBLE

Teen of Week Is an Athlete

This week's Pontiac Teen of the Week wants to follow in the footsteps of Pontiac's Hayes Jones — to become an Olympic trackman.

Henry Gamble, a ninth grader at Jefferson Junior High School, also has visions of being a Bob Hayes — becoming a professional football player.

★ ★ ★

At Jefferson, he is an outstanding member of the football, track and wrestling teams and is president of the student council with a B-plus average.

The son of Mrs. Edith Gamble, Hank is the third oldest of five children. The Gambles live at 129 Bagley.

★ ★ ★ ★

Hank is concerned about the world of men and says if it is ever to have lasting peace and equality men must come to regard each other as individuals rather than as members of different races.

'Slight Progress' in Strike Talks Involving Sewer

Only "slight progress" was reported yesterday in negotiations over a strike which has halted work on Oakland County's $28.5-million Clinton-Oakland Interceptor sewer.

★ ★ ★

On strike are the digging machinery operators of the statewide Local 324 of the International Union of Operating Engineers. They have been on strike over wages and fringe benefits since Oct. 1 against a group of large firms represented in the Associated Underground Contractors.

★ ★

Negotiators met with federal mediators in Detroit yesterday. Another meeting has been called for Monday. The strike, affecting about 600 of the union's 11,000 members, has slowed down most large digging and tunneling operations in the state.

Douglas Raps Army as Troops Go to Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice William O. Douglas has accused the Army and the U.S. solicitor general of "flouting" a Supreme Court rule by sending a group of Kentucky soldiers to Vietnam before an appeal challenging their callup could be heard.

"This hurried, calculated change in military plans has deprived petitioners of the full hearing to which they were entitled," Douglas said Friday in a statement released by the court.

★ ★ ★

"No one—not even the Department of Justice nor the military—is above the law," Douglas said in criticism of the Army and of Solicitor Gen. Erwin N. Griswold.

The case involved 105 Kentucky National Guardsmen who had asked Douglas earlier in the week to block their shipment to Vietnam on grounds they were state militia who may be mobilized only to fight in a declared war, suppress insurrection or repel invasion.

Their lawyer had told the court they were scheduled to leave for Vietnam Friday. But Douglas said they were shipped out Thursday so they would be on their way when the court met for its regular Friday conference.

Douglas said the government, through Griswold, had contended the guardsmen were similar in legal status to mobilized reservists whose shipment to Vietnam already has been approved by the high court over Douglas dissent.

★ ★ ★

The Army replied to Douglas' statement by saying the unit was shipped out "in accordance with original plans." The Justice Department said Griswold would have no comment.

Debris Found May Be From Plane Lost Over Lake

HOUGHTON (AP) — The Coast Guard has found debris, possibly from a missing airplane, washed up on the beach in Lake Superior near Houghton.

The debris was found about 12½ miles west of Hancock.

★ ★ ★

A combined Coast guard-Air Force sea and air search is under way in the area for a twin-engine plane with three men abpard. The plane has been missing since late Wednesday night.

The aircraft, operated by the National Center of Atmospheric Research at Boulder, Colo., was being used in radiation temperature studies conducted by the University of Wisconsin at Madison.

SEATS, ALUMINUM

A spokesman at Ninth District Search and Rescue operations in Cleveland said the debris included two blue, upholstered seats and pieces of aluminum "that could be from the aircraft fuselage. There are traces of blue paint on the aluminum." The plane was described as being blue and white.

Another aircraft from the research center, which has been helping in the search, was en route to Houghton to try and identify the debris.

★ ★ ★

The plane reportedly crashed off Houghton. Aboard were Robert C. Carew of Boulder; Gordon E. Jones of Broomfield, Colo., and Velayudh Krishna Menon, 36, of Kottayam, India, a graduate student at the University of Wisconsin.

★ ★ ★

The Coast Guard and Air Force have helicopters and fixed wing planes from Traverse City and Selfridge A F B in Michigan and Elizabeth City, N.C. searching for the missing aircraft along with Coast Guard cutters and s m a l l e r craft.

Smith, Carlos Reap Deserved Fate

As the Olympics fade into the background, the insult to the American flag by SMITH and CARLOS stands out in sharper relief.

When they mounted the victors' stand and gave the movements and positions of "black power" instead of respect for the Nation's emblem, the whole world in Mexico turned against them. At the outset, the American Olympic Committee seemed inclined to make excuses and overlook the flagrant violation of national patriotism and loyalty.

★ ★ ★

But the rest of the world spoke in no uncertain terms. The U.S. authorities were told what to do—or else. And they complied, or the entire delegation might have been tossed out of the world games right on a burning U.S. ear.

Even the Russians joined the general movement. They stood squarely with the delegates at large and ignored the feeble attempts this Nation made to pass the matter over.

Differences of opinion are justified. But disrespect for the Nation's flag and emblem of national security and unity cannot be tolerated. And it wasn't in Mexico. The two offenders lost world standing for sure.

Hits Union Leaders' Use of Campaign Funds

Along with a whole host of others, we're puzzled at the ease with which union leaders disburse huge union funds for the election of candidates they happen to prefer, personally.

Quite obviously, a large segment of that money must have come through the dues of members who don't believe in the individuals the union officers like. And yet, their dough goes into the backing of someone they may repudiate.

Here's "democracy" at its lowest ebb. Isn't this a flagrant and shocking disregard for the rights of other people?

Once union members accepted the orders of leaders as absolute. But that day has gone. The selections of the bosses have been repudiated repeatedly. Apparently they will again, as the union heads are for Humphrey; and Nixon seems very likely to sweep the Country.

★ ★ ★

Early prognostications suggested the unions were going to pour twenty-five million dollars ($25,000,000) into the HUMPHREY cause, although business is denied the same opportunity.

Union workers who oppose HUMPHREY should protest against the use of their money to try and elect a candidate they don't want.

Private Enterprise Spearheads War on Poverty

It appears that the U.S. economy is doing pretty well in winning the war on poverty. Last year, half of all American families had annual incomes of more than $8,000 for the first time, according to the Council of Economic Advisers. Some 600,000 families moved out of the official poverty category last year, leaving 5.3 million in that classification out of the Nation's total 49.8 million families.

It looks as if the private-enterprise-free-market economy will be able to eliminate poverty in the United States on its own hook, provided the Government will control itself to the extent of not bankrupting the Country with deficit spending or regulating and regimenting the productivity out of our economic system.

Rumors of Breakthrough in Vietnam

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

The air has been filled with rumors that a breakthrough is possible in the struggle in Vietnam. Whether the rumors originated in Saigon, Paris or here, what person anywhere in the world, with the slightest compassion, does not prayerfully hope that something may come of it?

DIRKSEN

A cessation of the fighting in Vietnam has been a hope of everyone. The result is obvious. Our prestige will be strengthened all over the world.

Everybody knows we are not paper tigers, that we carry an awful clout if we want to use it. Red China may actually be unhappy that we are making progress on ending the fighting in Vietnam.

Many military and diplomatic experts have been saying for some time that America's logical and most effective defense perimeter in the Pacific area is our enormous, all-powerful Pacific fleet and that no land war on the Continent of Asia will ever be effectively fought by the United States.

Let's have a fresh look at the problem. For 90 years or more the French exercised a protectorate over Indochina, which included North and South Vietnam. They siphoned off the resources and returned little in the form of improvements to the country and its people. Guerrilla warfare got under way, and French rule came under fire.

We assisted the French (CASE) by as much as $700 million. As a result of World War II, the Japanese took over. When the war ended, the French returned and the struggle resumed. The capture of Dien Bien Phu ended French rule over Indochina, including Cambodia and Laos. The problem then went to the peace table in Geneva.

An accord was reached in 1954. The United States did not sign the accord, but did serve as an adviser. Under its terms, Laos and Cambodia became independent. Indochina proper was divided at the 17th parallel. A demilitarized zone 10 kilometers wide divided North and South Vietnam.

To preserve the independence of South Vietnam, we undertook the training of the South Vietnamese army. This and other functions required something less than a thousand "advisers." They were not referred to as troops.

The North Vietnamese violated the demilitarized zone and indicated by their harassment that they intended to prevent the existence of South Vietnam under the leadership of Ngo Dien Diem. When they proposed to overrun the country, it became necessary to send additional U.S. advisers. This included mainly military leaders who undertook to advise the South Vietnamese on strategy and the building of their army to a formidable size.

★ ★ ★

It should be pointed out that the United States had an obligation under the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization to come to the defense of South Vietnam whenever such a request was made by the chief of state.

That request was actually made, and in pursuance of the needs recited by the South Vietnamese leaders we continued to send in advisers until the number reached substantial proportions. At some point the reference to advisers was dropped and the increments of men sent to South Vietnam became known as "troops."

The United States now has about 541,000 troops in South Vietnam.

When the time came for South Vietnam to undertake the construction of a new government, selected by a vote of the people, that free election was conducted under rather careful supervision. A contingent of senators went to Vietnam to oversee the election arrangements and to make sure the election was conducted in conformity with what should happen in any free election.

Determined efforts were made to induce the leaders of North Vietnam to send preliminary peace negotiators to an agreed spot — eventually, Paris — in the hope that such negotiations would eventuate in a truce, a bombing pause and a consideration of the real issues.

From time to time the North Vietnamese negotiators, as well as their leaders back home, insisted on a complete cessation of bombing and the withdrawal of our troops. They refused, however, to give any reciprocal assurances with respect to the restoration of the demilitarized zone, the shelling of the southern cities and the recognition of the South Vietnamese government.

That is where the matter rests, and it remains to be seen whether an agreement can be reached under which all parties will come to the peace table for meaningful talks. I think we can reasonably hope for such good events.

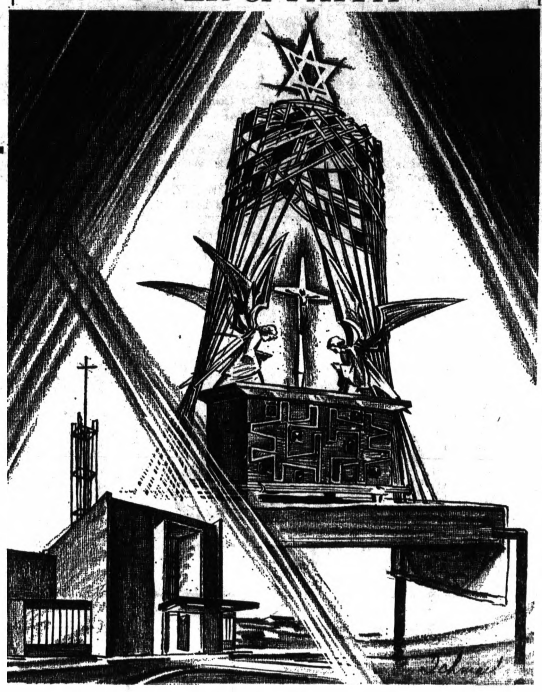
The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL



The ecumenical movement in the Christian world has brought about many changes, and new concepts have developed in many aspects of religious life. Among them are the architecture and design of our churches, which have been greatly affected.

One of the most interesting new churches is to be found in Brievengat, Curacao—the Church of the Virgin of Lourdes. It was conceived by its Dutch Dominican priests as a result of their belief that a church should be integrated into community life and should be used for purposeful functions other than worship.

The Church of the Virgin of Lourdes meets this requirement. It is designed with a portable altar that can be removed from the dais, which is in the middle of the church between a large and a small auditorium. It can be used for concerts, lectures and pageants. The church is available for Protestants and Jews, as well as the Catholics in the community.

The circular baptismal area is unique, with running water around it, representing the Jordan River, and there are fish in it. The beautifully designed portable altar is startling in its symbolism. Topped by the Star of David with the crucifix and guardian angels at prayer, it is a reflection of the Bishop of Curacao's statement, "Jesus was of the House of David and the Ark of Covenant of the Old Testament was carried over into the New." The ecumenical movement has made changes and will continue to do so. Through them the world may have a deeper understanding of the full meaning of the teachings of Jesus.

Confident Living:

Defeat Problem of Divided Self

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Some people fail to get going in life simply because they are half-a-minders. For example, there was Charlie whom I met when I gave a talk to a business convention in Chicago. Back in my hotel room after the speech the phone rang and a woman's voice announced, "I am bringing my husband up to see you."

DR. PEALE

"But I have to leave in a few minutes to catch a plane," I protested.

"A few minutes will be long enough," she countered firmly. We heard your speech. I am bringing him up to see you." And with that she hung up.

Soon appeared a determined-looking little woman flanked by a burly fellow with a faint, embarrassed smile on his face. "I'm Mabel," said the woman. "This is my husband Charlie. And the problem is Charlie."

"He looks like a nice fellow," I remarked.

"He's a good man," his wife interposed. "He has brains and ability. But he can't seem to get himself organized. He lives in a dream world. He just isn't getting ahead. I've tried and tried to get him motivated, but nothing happens. As I listened to your speech I thought maybe you could straighten him out."

Well, I took a liking to Charlie. And I liked Mabel, too. Her aggressive bossiness was because she loved her husband. She believed in him and wanted him to make something of himself. I agreed to work with him at intervals and try to help. In the months that followed we had several talks.

Presently I noticed that always he would mention something he had thought of for increasing his job productivity. For example, he would say, "I have half a mind to do that," or "I have half a mind to try this." Asked later how his latest idea had worked out, it was always the same: "Oh, that, well I had second thoughts about it and dropped it."

Once the repetitiveness of this pattern was evident I knew his difficulty, and said, "Charlie, the trouble with you is you're a half-a-minder."

I explained, "A lot of people have this trouble. It's the problem of a divided self. Once you understand it you can correct it. In your case, part of your personality is enterprising, has ambition, comes up with dynamic ideas. But another part timorously holds you back from taking bold initiative.

"Subconsciously you expect to make a mess of anything new you might undertake. You lack self-confidence, you're afraid to take a chance. And to go ahead in this world you have to take chances. So you never get further than having half a mind to.

"That part of you that produces creative ideas, Charlie," I told him, "is your real self. The part that shrinks from acting is your defeatist self. And in inner conflict of this nature the defeatist self tends to rationalize failure, and finds convenient reasons for not acting on your ideas."

I continued, "The cure for your difficulty, as I see it, is to check off that half-a-minder attitude, and start acting on the ideas you get." Reminding him of one interesting concept he had been talking about intermittently I said, "All this time you've stymied yourself by that half-a-mind attitude. O.K., try it now! Sure, it will take courage. But nothing ventured, nothing gained. Break the grip of this endless hesitating. Now! And I mean now. Pronto. If you don't, you'll be a flop for life. But you don't need to be a flop. So don't be one."

Thus admonished and pushed, Charlie ventured. And things worked out fine. That was his big turning point. He soon went into action with another creative idea. Before long Charlie's irresoluteness was a thing of the past. Today he is a successful man.

"There is no more miserable human being," wrote psychologist William James, "than the one in whom nothing is habitual but indecision." So don't be a half-a-minder. Implement your creative ideas with your whole mind. Go all out and watch things really work out.

Voice of the People:

'Need for Clarification of Statement on Escape'

Recently Mr. Panaretos of the Pontiac State Hospital expressed concern about a statement issued by this office on the escape of a patient from the State hospital. Our statement was intended to relate the fact that a criminal defendant charged with a serious felony had escaped from the hospital; that the escape was one of several since criminal patients have been placed at Pontiac State Hospital; that the escape itself raised questions as to the security measures then in effect at Pontiac State Hospital; and that the prosecuting attorney and I continue to be concerned that all criminal forensic patients remain confined in the hospitals where they may be placed.

★ ★ ★

The fact that The Pontiac Press mentioned the escape on Sept. 25, and again on Oct. 2, does not diminish my responsibility to report the active concern of this office about such an escape. It is my sworn responsibility to serve the people of this entire County. The fact that interim security measures were implemented on the day following the escape is not particularly satisfying in light of the history of escapes and the previously expressed concern of both my office and that of the Attorney General.

★ ★ ★

Our relations with hospital personnel have been excellent and we intend that they remain so. Under no circumstances, however, may I as a public official hesitate to report to the people those things which may make the job of the hospital's community relations director more difficult.

'Urge Yes Vote on Clean Water Bond Issue'

Michigan citizens will have a chance at the polls November 5th to open a major attack on the pollution that is tarnishing the title "Michigan Water Wonderland." Lake Michigan is the one Great Lake that has no active flushing system to cleanse itself. Man's effluent in the form of waste sewage, and draining of pesticides from cities, industries and agricultural acreage finds its way to the lake.

★ ★ ★

At least 150 communities are in violation of Michigan pollution control laws. Lack of funds is the pressing problem. Under the $335 million bonding program Michigan can build 210 new municipal treatment plants, improve 126 existing sewage treatment facilities, build sewers for an additional 3.5 million people and control storm water runoff. It will also give assistance for sewer construction to communities without sewers contributing to existing pollution.

★ ★ ★

The bonding program will meet the challenge of pollution control by 1980. Vote "yes" for Michigan Clean Water Bonding Issue.

'Police Harassment Report Prompts Letter'

I feel sorry for the two policemen in Lake Orion who are being harassed. Now that we live in a police state everyone fears the police. You can be given a ticket by the police for anything they think up. A citizen cannot appeal even if there are witnesses proving the police wrong. I have lived in Avon Township all my life and never thought I would be ashamed of our law enforcement, but now I'm just plain scared. Go ahead and shake in your boots. Welcome to the club. At least you aren't afraid of being sent to jail for sneezing.

Teacher Gives Views on Catholic Education

Inasmuch as I could not in good conscience teach children the type of man-oriented religion in the "Word and Worship" series, that I was told to teach, I preferred to quit. Catholic children have a right to be taught Catholic truths.

Question and Answer

Where can I write to find out more about police work for a female prospective college graduate?

CURIOUS

REPLY

Jobs vary from city to city, but Detroit has a large women's division, and Rosemary Klug will be glad to send you information about qualifications, job descriptions, etc. Write her care of Women's Division, Detroit Police Department, Detroit.

Question and Answer

Concerning this new school issue, why don't we have a remedial reading teacher in every school as was promised if the millage passed? Can we impeach the millage vote? Can we sue the Board of Education for breach of promise?

MRS. DISGUSTED

REPLY

Mr. Lacy, Asst. Superintendent, says reading teachers were promised in every school as soon as possible, and the Board is committed to that. Some progress was made this year, but personnel salary settlements took more than anticipated, leaving less money for other things. The Board hopes to add more next year. The wording of the millage proposal did not stipulate building site or method of disbursement, so it's highly unlikely the vote could be impeached. As for suing the Board, you can always sue. An attorney could better tell you your chances of winning. We've asked the Board to reply in writing to your other questions, and we'll forward the answers as soon as we get them.

Dr. Oaks Says:

Nursing Is Updated and Vital

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is another in a weekly series of articles issued by the Oakland County Medical Society. Dr. Oaks is the collective voice of the society.)

The professional nurse is no longer the engineer of the thermometer, the bedpan passer or the bedside handholder. To be sure, these are important functions that still must be done, but they are no longer the province of the highly trained nurse.

Her and the day is rapidly approaching when it will be his — activities are much more extensive and responsible. Her knowledge has expanded to a remarkable degree.

★ ★ ★

Today's nurse: recognizes the dangers of allergic reactions, is aware of the side effects of a variety of drugs, is observant of the post-operative scene, and often is required to render life-saving judgments.

Science and service are the bywords of health care. Rapid advances, however, have hampered fulfillment of this two fold creed. Just as increased knowledge has forced greater specialization among physicians, so as it effected the nursing profession.

MORE NURSES NEEDED

Nursing is the profession most intimately and directly associated with service, but it is hampered by the lack of "manpower." There are just not enough nurses to aid the not—enough doctors to supply the increasing diversifed and sophisticated services to a growing population.

To date, the answer has been to delegate responsibilities. Physicians delegate to nurses many services they once performed, while nurses, in turn, delegate to auxiliary personnel tasks that can safely be performed by such persons.

★ ★ ★

The nursing profession has faced up to the changes by planning for the preparation of nurses for an era when nursing will be practiced on several different levels. The quality of education is determined by the needs of specialization.

Viewing its position in the current health scene, the nursing profession recognizes that the professional nurse of the future will be university-trained, have a bachelor of science degree and certainly some specialty training.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Prospective students will select the school offering the program they desire to pursue.

Michigan currently produces its nurse practitioners from four different types of preparatory programs:

- A two-year junior or community college program giving an associate of arts degree.
- A three-year hospital school of nursing program with a diploma.
- A four-year university or college program giving a bachelor of science degree.
- A one-year training program for Licensed Practical Nurses (LPN's.)

★ ★ ★

Michigan has eight baccalaureate degree programs, 12 associate degree schools, 21 hospital diploma institutions and 30 practical nurse hospital training programs.

* * *

Talks Deteriorate in UAW Flint Strike

FLINT (UPI) — The 10-day-old Buick Division strike was marked Friday by a set of discouraging negotiations in which both General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Local 599 blamed the other for the walkout.

The strike has idled 21,000 workers here and threatened Buick production elsewhere.

The union was charging the walkout was touched off by a work speedup, but GM officials countered that those charges were a front in order to wring concessions from the auto maker.

If the dispute continues into next week, Buick Division General Manager R. L. Kessler said production could be hampered or halted in GM assembly plants in Wilmington, Del., Kansas City, Kan., Doraville, Ga., and Fremont and South Gate, Calif.

'Teachers Can Better Ghetto Pupils' Lives'

Disadvantaged students will achieve more if teachers "treat them as human beings with potential," a national teacher organization coordinator told some 400 Pontiac educators yesterday.

"If we recognize these students as individuals and treat them as having potential we can improve their lives," Boyd Bosma, coordinator for civil liberties of the new Human Relations Center of the National Education Association in Washington, D.C., said.

* * *

He was the main speaker at the Pontiac Education Association regional conference on human relations. His topic was "The Human Relations Center: Its Purpose, Activities and Goals."

Bosma said the following paragraph from the Pontiac schools' Citizens Committee on Equality of Educational Opportunity (EEO) is what teachers need to do:

"It is an accepted fact that the reference to the so-called disadvantaged youth is primarily a reference to minority group youths and this paragraph (one preceding, describing disadvantaged youth) presents a very negative picture of them and their environment.

"The background of some of these students may be different from that of the 'middle class' students but it is not sterile — they have many rich and varied experiences. These students cannot be helped to realize their full potential if educators see their 'mission' to be one of compensating for the 'sterile environment.'

"The Pontiac school system cannot begin to recruit personnel who are fully qualified until the system itself becomes aware of both the positive and negative realities of life that these children face.

* * *

"Recruiting of competent teachers and administrators is impossible until the system defines more adequately for itself just what equal educational opportunity is when applied to children from economically deprived families.

"The needs of the children must be understood and accepted before the qualities desired in the professional staff can be determined."

PROGRAM PRAISED

He praised the program at Bethune Elementary School which instills a positive self-concept in pupils.

The rest of the all-day program included small group sessions and a review of the EEO report.

Recent Sale Opens Vistas for Creative Continuum Grads

By JUNE ELERT

Like some 1500 other women during the past three years, June Wisby of Birmingham enrolled in the "Investigation Into Identity" program offered by the Continuum Center for Women at Oakland University.

Sometime during that period Emma Auld of New Life Lane, Avon Township, also went through the program, as did Donna Kaipio of Southfield, Margaret Malanyn of Dearborn, Adele Vickers of Royal Oak, Julie Wieferman, Mount Clemens, Jo-Anne Westerby, Troy, and others.

★ ★ ★

These women, strangers to each other, had several things in common. They did not fit into the usual pattern of program graduates because:

- They were not really interested in going back to work on a five-days-a-week basis.
- They were not primarily interested in returning to College.
- They wanted something else to do besides the volunteer work that was the third alternative offered.

Most of them were married women, restricted in their activities by the necessity of caring for homes and families. And they all possessed creative talents of one kind or another. Their homes were overflowing with the products of their minds and hands.

Their talents run the gamut from flower arrangements to sculpture, including charcoal portraits, oils, pastels, watercolors, fused glass, jewelry and many other crafts items.

Out of all this has sprung a new organization, the "Continuum Center of Creativity" through which these women hope to channel their marketable products into the public eye through the media of art shows and sales.

Their objective, quite frankly, is to make money.

As several of them put it, "There comes a time when the praise of friends and loving relatives becomes just a tiny bit forced. You know they really like your work, but it's just not enough."

They displayed their work last week in the basement of the Hobby Mall in Rochester, and racked up sales, individually, ranging from $4 to $200.

Natalie Halpern was down with the flu when a telephone call informed her that her sculptured figure of the Biblical Ruth had been sold. She said, "All of a sudden I felt much better.

A $200 score on the first try is enough to raise the spirits of any aspiring artist.

Dorothy Abramson, who paints in oils, was not so lucky, but said, "I'm dejected but not discouraged." She has sold some of her work in the past.

FUTURE PLANS

Barbara Hoffmann, presiding at the post sale meeting where checks were handed out, urged members to "take themselves seriously." She said the show's success (total sales of over $400) proved that they should "quit looking upon themselves as amateurs."

They discussed plans for the future which would take them out of the category of "a roaming rummage sale," as Barbara expressed it.

The group is a hard-core nucleous of 30 women. Another sale is contemplated some time in December.

★ ★

Credit for the formation of the group is given to Lee Santiwan, employment adviser for the Continuum Center, who recognized the need for an opportunity for these women to exchange ideas and obtain know-how to market their products.

The Continuum Center provides the group with a location for their once-a-month meetings.

The guiding spirit behind a new organization, "The Continuum Center of Creativity," is Mrs. Phillip D. (Barbara) Hoffmann, left, of West Tienken Road, Avon Township. At right is Mrs. M. S. (Natalie) Halpern of Oak Park whose "Kneeling Figure of Ruth" brought her the thrill of a first sale recently. Barbara's specialty is glass tile mosaics.

Mrs. William Gay of Bingham Farms displays a number of the products of her creativity. She works in many crafts media, including wall hangings, creative stitchery, sand castings, silk screening, etc.

Woman Wishes to End Yearly Yule Presents

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: In what way would it be proper to inform relatives that I can't exchange Christmas gifts with them this year? This is a difficult financial problem for us.

Please don't suggest homemade items as I am the unhandiest person and really have not the time.—Mrs. Burns

Dear Mrs. Burns: Frankness is the only answer. Well in advance before the relatives have bought presents, call or write: "Let's just make it cards this year please. With the baby coming, we just can't give presents . . ."

BRIDESMAID'S LODGING

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter has asked three girl friends from New York to be her attendants in her wedding in Miami. Who pays for their plane fare and motel bill? —Mrs. Sands

Dear Mrs. Sands: The bridesmaids pay for their own transportation but your daughter is responsible for their lodging. Could she arrange for them to stay with friends — either hers or the groom's?

That, if possible, is the best solution.

In Marriage There's No Time Off for Any Good or Bad Behavior

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Al and I have been married for 16 years, if you can call this a marriage. Al says that marriage is a job, like any other job, and since everybody gets at least one day a week off from his job, a man should get a day off from his marriage, so Al works at our marriage six days a week, but he takes Sundays off.

ABBY

He leaves the house late Saturday night, and I don't see him again until early Monday morning. He puts about 200 miles on his car and I don't have the slightest idea where he's been. This doesn't make much sense to me, but I can't talk him out of it. IS he crazy, or am I?

AL'S BETTY

DEAR BETTY: Marriage is a seven-day-a-week job, and there's no time off for good (or "bad") behavior. Al is far from "crazy," if he's able to sell this deal, but I'm not so sure about you, if you're buying it.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Because so many service men read your column, I hope you'll print this. We realize that most men in service don't have time to write letters, but if they are well, they can take five minutes to write two words, "I'M FINE" and then sign it.

My brother has been in Vietnam for five months. Our whole family writes to him regularly but he's written only three times. My poor mother refuses to leave the house until the mail comes, and I've seen her age 10 years in five months. The first we heard from him in five weeks was yesterday. He said he was fine. He could have said that five weeks ago!

DISGUSTED WITH BROTHER

DEAR DISGUSTED: A man who is in the service could conceivably have many legitimate reasons for not writing. He could be on the move and unable to write. Also, mail is not always delivered without a hitch from the war zone. Some can't write for security reasons.

But how about children who are just away from home and don't write either! Sharper than a serpent's tooth.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, c/o The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cushing's Charity Toward Jackie Lauded by Catholic Free Press

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Catholic Free Press today praised Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Boston, for his remarks about the wedding of Jacqueline Kennedy and Aristotle Onassis.

"We leave it to the theologians and the canon lawyers to discuss the validity of both the cardinal's remarks and the validity of the marriage," the newspaper said.

★ ★ ★

"But we welcome his impassioned plea for charity . . . This is the whole meaning of the Second Vatican Council; love for the individual person and total charity."

The Free Press is the official newspaper of the diocese of Worcester, but is edited by laymen and given editorial freedom by Bishop Bernard J. Flanagan of Worcester.

★ ★ ★

In an address Tuesday to the Caritas Guild in Boston, Cardinal Cushing said Jacqueline Kennedy should not be condemned for marrying Onassis, a divorced man, and those criticizing the marriage should be more charitable toward her.

Program Set to Influence Teen Smokers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — When a 19-year-old has smoker's cough, when upwards of a million of today's school-age children can be expected to die someday of lung cancer, when the average young heavy smoker is potentially cutting eight years off his life, it is time for the schools to face up to their own responsibilities toward young smokers.

* * *

So says the American Association for Health, Physical Education, and recreation (AAHPER).

When educators rub the smoke out of their own eyes, says AAHPER, they will find that "all too often" smoking begins in elementary grades. About 10 to 12 per cent of all 13-year-olds smoke, and as the children graduate so does the smoking percentage. At age 18, some 50 per cent smoke regularly.

'NO SMOKING' IN SCHOOLS

So a program, under the impressive title of Leadership Development Project on Smoking and Health, has been set up to see about hanging out "no smoking" signs at schools, increasing attention to sports activities, and initiating education in the hazards of smoking.

In short, educators are out to smoke out teen-age smoking habits.

Girl Watches Alaskan Birds

BETHEL, Alaska (UPI) — Barbara Holden, a parasitologist, is a wilderness birdwatcher for the U.S. Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife in the Yukon-Kusokwim delta.

Miss Holden, of Baltimore, Md., holds a master's degree from John Hopkins University. In this remote area of Alaska she is studying a parasite called heart worm which has infested trumpeter and whistling swans and other waterfowl such as whitefronted geese.

* * *

She also assists in counting birds and trapping and banding them. She is stationed at Old Chevak field station along with five to six men. She may be the only woman in camp but she does no more housework than any of the othrs.

The study is being made in the Clarence Rhode National Wildlife Refuge, established in 1960 to insure the preservation of one of the most important units of waterfowl habitat in the far North.

* * *

This 1.8 million acre area is the largest of the more than 180 units of the National Wildlife Refuge System primarily devoted to water birds.

Doll House Not Just for Dolls

The bed in the upstairs bedroom is big enough for Robin to nap in. Sheley plans to electrify the doll mansion so that the toy appliances can be operable.

Aid in Hair Care

If you color or bleach your own hair, keep a pair of rubber gloves just for this purpose rather than the thin ones that come with the kits. These stronger gloves also have the advantage of a cuff to keep the solution from running down your arm.

Woman Head of Scrap Firm

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Women today may be found in almost all walks of life, but Frances Brody believes she is the nation's only head of a major scrap metal company.

Miss Brody joined the firm of Alpert & Alpert Iron & Metal Inc. in 1930 as a secretary. She was appointed president recently upon the retirement of Mandel Alpert who remains an advisor as board chairman.

Alpert & Alpert has 200 employes and has annual sales of about $25 million.

Miss Brody sees nothing unusual about her position.

"A good protion of the company's business is done by telephone," she says. "And a 'yes' or 'no' over the phone is a binding deal for both the buyer and seller."

Miss Brody's customers range form city-wide deals to out of state and foreign customers.

The firm now has three plants in the Los Angeles area. The newest is a $3 million automobile shredding facility.

Tieing Into Trend

Men's ties are wild and wide this year— in fact, men's fashions are so wild, so "arty" they're a girl's delight to shop for when she's looking for a "special gift." Male fashion accessories run quite a gamut — from fake sideburns to historic chains and medallions, to Nehru jackets.

Save Handsavers

Rubber gloves are a boon to some women but can protect hands properly only if kept scrupulously clean. After use, wash them in sudsy water, rinse thoroughly and dry on a glove caddy which holds each glove upright and open to permit good drainage and air circulation.

2 Lame-Duck Congressmen Take Last Fling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two lame-duck congressmen are taking one last fling at a privilege of their office: Trips abroad at government expense.

For Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., it is a two-month junket around the world that will take him to 19 countries. Rep. Barratt O'Hara, D-Ill., left Friday for New York and what a House committee spokesman said was the beginning of a one-month tour of Africa.

★ ★ ★

Normally, congressional trips abroad are for the purpose of making legislative recommendations. But Congress has adjourned for the year and since Long was defeated in the Missouri Democratic primary in August and O'Hara was beaten for renomination in June, neither man will be back for the opening of the new Congress next year.

★ ★ ★

Long's administrative assistant, Daniel Miles, said the senator was making his world trip for the Senate Banking and Currency Committee "to study export insurance and the Export-Import Bank."

The bank, headquartered here, has no offices abroad but does have projects in many countries. A spokesman said, however, that Long had not consulted anyone at the bank about making the trip.

Miles said the chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee, Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., had authorized the trip. Sparkman could not be reached for comment.

★ ★ ★

Long and his personal secretary, Miss Helen Dunlop, left Oct. 6 and are expected to return Nov. 24 to St. Louis. Their trip takes them to Hawaii, Japan, Hong Kong, Thailand, Pakistan, Nepal, India, Afganistan, Iran, Lebanon, Turkey, Italy, Spain, Germany, England, France, Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway.

O'Hara, 86, is chairman of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on Africa.

At his Capitol Hill office Friday afternoon, he said he was flying to New York "but after that I don't know where I'm going."

But Boyd Crawford, staff administrator of the Foreign Affairs Committee, said O'Hara and "several staff members" were headed for South Africa, Somalia, Tanzania, Malagasy, Senegal and Guinea on a tour to last until Nov. 23.

Of the 28 other members of Congress retiring or beaten in primary elections, only one other is out of the country on a personal trip at personal expense.

Normally congressmen traveling abroad on congressional business are paid expenses plus $50 a day allowances.

Sen. Long was investigated by the Senate Ethics Committee last year after Life magazine suggested that he had received payments from a St. Louis attorney in connectiin with a wire-tap probe. It was alleged that Long misused the inquiry to help James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union.

Long denied it and the committee cleared him but later reopened the investigation and has yet to report further conclusions.

Life charged in July that Long was instrumental in halting construction of a St. Louis public housing unit until it was redesigned to use gas instead of electric heat.

The article said Lawrence Callanan, business agent for Local 562 of the Pipefitters Union, wanted the change and flew to Washington to discuss it with Long.

Gift to Reuther Professorship Asked of UAW

DETROIT (AP) — Officials of the 1.5 - million member United Auto Workers Union have urged their locals to raise 30 cents per member to finance a professorship at an institute in Israel, it was reported today.

The Detroit Free Press said in a front-page story that the locals were asked for the contributions to finance the Walter P. Reuther Chair in Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy at the Weizmann Institute of Science in Rehovoth, Israel. Reuther is president of the UAW.

★ ★ ★

"Many have declined to pay," said the story by labor writer Patrick J. Owens.

It said some critics within the union "complained that the money had been taken out of Michigan and the United States in a political year when Hubert H. Humphrey's UAW-blessed presidential campaign is suffering financial anemia."

★ ★ ★

Last Saturday night, the U.S. committee for the institute gave Reuther a $100-a-plate testimonial dinner in Detroit. Main speaker was Abba Eban, foreign minister of Israel.

Hippies Getting Hepatitus, Say County Officials

Oakland County hippies are getting hepatitus — or maybe they call it "hipititus."

The Oakland County Health Department reports only a slight increase in numbers of cases this season over a comparable period last year.

★ ★ ★

But much of the upswing is from the hippie element, a Health Department official said. The "swinging set" appears to be transmitting to each other by use of the same hypodermic needle, the official indicated.

The disease is usually transmitted by contact with unsanitary conditions. Jaundice is its most prominent sympton along with fever and anusea and damage to the liver and even death can result from infection, health authorities point out. Cleanliness is known as the best preventive.

SPANISH AMERICAN CLASS — Mrs. Edward H. Webster of 5741 Savoy, Waterford Township, helps Lucy Reyes of 201 Whittemore with English. Women volunteer to serve as tutors through churches and the Volunteer Bureau. Many young people from Oakland University are also giving several hours a week.

At McConnell School

Kindness Opens Door to Growth

One of the most heart warming kind of human relationships developing in areas of social, welfare, concerns, and in the field of education is taking place at McConnell Elementary School.

It is personalized attention.

Kindness and understanding is the key.

★ ★ ★

"Children develop into sturdy grownups when nourished on this kind of special attention, whether it comes from the family, school professionals or from an interested friend. The volunteer citizen is that kind of friend," said Howard Caldwell, principal of McConnell School.

And Mrs. Geraldine Clemmons, director of Oakland County Volunteer Bureau, stated "I believe very deeply in this natural warmth as extended by volunteers."

A planned program involving educational, cultural activities developed by Mrs. Clemmons and Caldwell was put into effect last year. More avenues were opened to volunteers this school season.

TUTORING

In addition to individual and group tutoring in the basic subjects, Caldwell has installed programs in art instruction for artistically talented children, English tutoring for newly arrived Spanish speaking youngsters, and cultural enrichment field trips.

★ ★ ★

Volunteers introduce boys and girls to a new world of fascinating places and events on these trips.

Social friendships are also developed between teen - agers from neighboring communities and the McConnell students on a one to one basis.

Extemporating in the classroom is a delight to the students because they are given the opportunity to act out every day human relationships under the direction of a volunteer group leader.

★ ★ ★

Calwell said he is pleased with his volunteers who are selected by the Oakland County Volunteer Bureau according to assignment. They are chosen for their warmth and abilities in assisting teachers in all areas of instruction, paralleling success in school to success in the community.

CHURCH GROUPS

Most of our 60 volunteers per week come from churches in the Pontiac, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills area. There are 25 students who come twice a week from Oakland University to work with boys and girls.

Citizenship and guidance is another important program with the volunteer, student and counselor working together as a team.

Caldwell said "volunteers are relieving the teacher, for about an hour in the classroom, in order that she may pay a personal visit in homes of parents, thus establishing a close relationship between teacher and parent.

"Another volunteer role is assisting the music teacher in showing students how to act out songs in expression and movement."

Volunteer organizations sponsor 5th and 6th grade toastmasters for lunch, in this way rewarding pupils for achievements.

PROBLEMS

There are times when families in the school district are confronted with seemingly hopeless poverty or human welfare problems. When an emergency like this happens, Caldwell and Mrs. Clemmons quickly solve the problem by utilizing contributions and personal guidance provided by volunteers.

Caldwell is optimistic about the future of his 716 children.

He expressed his feelings in this way, "As children grow older, their attitudes are shaped by the successes, failures and rejections they experience, and the responsibilities they carry.

"By the time they enter the upper grades, many children are frustrated and disillusioned. They must be guided and encouraged in both behavior and spirit before they make any educational gains.

"The problem that elementary school educators face is that of helping children to develop and maintain forward looking attitudes while they acquire understanding and skills to deal successfully with their daily lives in school and the community.

"The school administration and teaching staff hope that each student will progress at his own rate with a feeling of self worth and hope for the future."

Sloping Lot at Rouge River

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

A sloping lot bordering a River Rouge tributary could be a headache. But to the Henry Barnes family of Bloomfield Township, it was a challenge.

Chosen as the perfect site for the Barnes' gray brick colonial, the lot drops sharply to the river. To avoid an erosion problem, Barnes banked the serpentine shore line with field stone and broken concrete.

★ ★ ★

"During that one bad storm in June," said Mrs. Barnes, "the river spilled over and completely covered the yard.

"We were afraid for awhile that we would lose everything. But we didn't. It did set the dahlias back though."

Terraces lead from the lower level to twin patios and a concrete platform which is the base for a future screened-in porch. The porch will open into the family room.

Draped in beige boucle, the family room reiterates the Barnes interest in nature. The snapping turtle mounted on the reclaimed brick fireplace was found by Barnes as it wandered across the flagstones near the river.

Teasel, wampa bush, dyed wheat, Queen Anne's lace and Chinese lantern makeup the dried arrangement on the raised hearth.

More dried wampa bush fronds add an exotic touch to the formal living room carpeted in olive green.

"We chose the room's color theme from the pattern in the high back chair," said Mrs. Barnes.

"After we'd ordered everything, the chair manufacturer informed us that they had discontinued the chair's fabric.

"Were we disappointed! Finally the manufacturer found a piece of material just large enough to cover the chair and we were saved."

The fruitwood-banded chair features shades of gold, olive green and brown on an antiqued gold background.

Effect Is Exciting

Live Dangerously—Upholster a Wall

Why not upholster a wall?

Many people are afraid to tackle a wall-covering project because of the fear of failure. There is always the thought of a taunting husband in the background, saying, "I told you so" if it doesn't work.

If inexpensive fabric, such as ticking, is used, the investment is small. If the idea doesn't pan out, take the fabric down and use it for something else. You'll have lost little but time and you'll have gained experience.

PROFESSIONAL COST

The professional tab for putting fabric on a wall may be high (one upholsterer quoted $75 for an 8 by 10 wall) but you'll discover if you do the job that the high price is not based on intricacies or special skills.

* * *

The project is time consuming. It takes two people and at times there are small frustrations as you tack and retack to smooth the fabric into place. The effect is worth it.

* * *

If a wall isn't smooth or straight, decorators put furring strips on the wall and stretch the fabric over it. Some decorators use felt backing (too expensive); some use flannel.

Muslin has been used by some people. The backing should be ironed smooth before being put up.

NEW ROOM

If you are lucky enough to be upholstering a wall in a new room, perhaps one that is at the plywood stage, the job will be easier and you will not need furring strips around the wall.

One woman used striped mattress ticking — white, lettuce green, dark green and watermelon stripes — on a wall. She had used it to cover a slipcover and upholstered armless chair in a garden room. She planned to keep up the zepel-treated ticking for the life of the slipcovers so she staple-gunned it.

* * *

First, she covered the plywood with flannel, stapling it carefully and smoothly. She stood on a step stool at one end of the wall, and a friend stood on a ladder at the other end. Each held one end of the fabric.

After one end was tacked in the place, the other end was thumbtacked and the top center temporarily tacked so that it would hold neatly in place until she got to that point with the stapling gun.

NEEDS SMOOTHING

Invariably, a temporarily tacked place needs smoothing and retacking before a final fastener is used. The entire project depends on the preparations.

Tiny tacks may be used instead of a stapler but small tacks are a nuisance — difficult to grasp and hammer and they require a great deal of patience. Tacks must be pounded so that heads will not be apparent when the fabric is stretched over it.

It is best to cut the flannel needed with allowances and then cut the remaining bit with a razor than to hold the entire bolt in your hand.

The fabric is stretched over the flannel and tacked with thumbtacks before the stapler is used.

If the fabric is put up temporarily, use only removable tacks such as flat-head thumbtacks. These will not show when you cover them with stick-on tape.

NYLON TAPE

The woman who applied the ticking used wide white nylon suede-finish tape, but many trimming choices are available, including cut-out velvet. Regular upholstery braid is another possibility and this too is available in the stick-on type.

* * *

If a 54-inch fabric or 72-inch ticking is used crosswise, perhaps one seam only will be necessary. If used lengthwise, more seams may be required, depending on the length of the wall.

Stripes are a little difficult to work with but the good point is that seams can be eased so they aren't noticed.

* * *

After getting the fabric perfectly into place, thumbtacked and excess fabric removed (a razor blade is a good tool), one can then staple it to the wall, removing the thumbtacks. Tape goes over staples.

If fabric is to be temporary and fastened with thumbtacks, make sure you can afford marks made by the thumbtacks. Test the wall. If a husband is going to make a thing of it, the idea isn't worth it.

It isn't necessary to match the wall covering to other fabrics in the room to enjoy this idea. Occasionally, one finds a large remnant at a fabric counter.

For the small investment, one might try putting it on the wall. It can be good fun in an otherwise conservative room, especially if one does something dramatic.

Shiny vinyls offer lots of possibilities for a "different" look.

* * *

Your adventure at upholstering a wall need not be expensive. Ticking offers lots of possibilities. A good-size wall might be done for less than $10.

Many decorators stretch expensive fabrics, silks, brocades and velvets rather than pasting them to walls.

Basis of Tone Is Flooring

Home builders sometimes give scant time and thought to the choice of floor coverings for the houses they construct. This is a pity, since the flooring is an essential part of the pervading atmosphere in a home.

* * *

It is the basis for whatever environment a homemaker wishes to create. Right now, the "total environment" concept is "in" with home decorators.

* * *

If your are saddled with a house that has a flooring inappropriate to your "total" look, why not cover or replace it with one of the new resilient floorings now available throughout this country. Vinyl asbestos tile is an example. In many instances, it can be installed directly over an old flooring.

* * *

Vinyl asbestos tile is now made in an astonishing array of patterns and colors. Manufacturers have learned to make embossed tile that resembles stone, slate, brick, pebble or travertine with remarkable fidelity and smooth-surface tile now comes in clearer, brighter colors and in a wide assortment of new neutral tones in marble and chip patterns.

* * *

The idea of total environment in home decorating has been described as an approach that "goes far beyond considerations of color matching, working out style coordinates or searching for appropriate texture. The totalist is aware of how flooring contributes to an environment, its ambience and psychology. This is an added dimension."

Check Area's Light Distribution

On bright, sunny days, you may think there is plenty of light in your home. But it may not be the quality of light that you want, according to Mrs. Rosalie Hawley, home economist with the Cooperative Extension Service in Oakland and Wayne counties.

★ ★ ★

In a well lighted room, light is evenly distributed and free from glare, bright spots and deep shadows. Light shouldn't reflect unfavorably from large surfaces, the home economist said.

★ ★ ★

Improving the lighting in your home needn't mean a complete replacement of all the lighting fixtures or lamps. But it could mean changing the color of the room.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hawley explained that walls of light, pastel colors and ceilings of white or near white using flat or low gloss paints can make a difference in your lighting. It helps diffuse light, and thus makes it more comfortable. Using sheer curtains and draperies in light and pastel tints helps too.

IMPROVE QUALITY

"Even though you actually have enough light in the room, you sometimes can improve the quality of the light by adding one or more portable lamps for better balanced lighting," she said.

★ ★ ★

If lamp placement is inconvenient, add additional convenience outlets. This can prevent dangerous use of "cube" plugs and extension cords. Surface wiring strips can be added along baseboards and counter tops. These strips may be less expensive than adding built-in convenience outlets, the home economist noted. But she cautioned that you should be sure the surface wiring system you choose is the correct size and carries the Underwriter's Laboratories seal of approval.

★ ★ ★

For little cost you can replace outmoded bare bulb fixtures with well-shielded ones. This helps diffuse the light, making it easier on the eyes.

★ ★ ★

If you're willing to do more extensive building and redecorating, structural lighting in a valance or cornice may improve the quality of light in the home.

"Structural lighting is well suited to living areas where there is no ceiling light or only one. And eight to twenty feet of wall lighting will add a feeling of spaciousness to the average room. In addition to making lighting more flexible, it can also be a vaulable decorator touch," Mrs. Hawley said.

For efficiency, she recommended using one large bulb rather than several small ones. "A 100-watt bulb gives as much light as six 25-watt bulbs, but only uses about two-thirds as much current," she said.

She also recommended that homemakers check their lamps to make sure shades follow standard specifications for good lighting. These specifications are available from Cooperative Extension Service home economists and from most power companies. In general, if the bulb is too high and restricts the amount of light going down from the lamp, small risers can be added to raise the shade. They're placed on the "harp," the metal piece around the bulb that holds the shade.

★ ★ ★

If the shade is too high and exposes the bare bulb below the shade with a deeper one, use a shade with a deeper one, use a shorter harp, or add a different diffusing bowl around the bottom. Shades of translucent materials — ones that allow some lighting through without glare — and white linings and open tops give softer, better light.

Design Extras Spark Modest Two-Story

UNUSUAL TOPPING—Symmetrical lines of two-story, four-bedroom house are topped by a metal roof, painted chocolate brown with white overhang and raised seams. The balanced proportions are further relived by the attached one-story garage, with a similar roof.

While all the principles of good design are incorporated in this two-story dwelling, some out-of-the ordinary touches give it a distinctive flavor.

An exterior example of this nature is the roof, a painted metal material with raised seams that cast delicate decorative shadows in a repetitive pattern.

* * *

The roof overhang, in contrast, casts a bold shadow.

The entrance canopy recalls the main roof with the same material and color, with gentle detailing of its own.

All outside facades have pleasant proportions, scale and a balanced relation between walls and windows.

SIDING

The narrow cedar siding in its natural color, the white trim and the chocolate brown roof all contribute to a sophisticated but charming exterior.

* * *

The attached one-story, two-car garage relieves the rigid symmetry and creates more interest.

* * *

Going to the inside, the main portion of the house is a perfect square — 32' by 32' — a most economical shape.

The simplicity of the exterior is reflected in the interior.

The central foyer, from which all rooms emanate, includes a wide stair with a subtle curve at its foot.

WINDOWS

The living and dining rooms, on either side of the foyer, feature protruding square bay windows at the ends facing the street.

On the long exterior side of the living room are two long, narrow windows reaching almost to the floor.

* * *

Architect Samuel Paul has placed the family room toward the rear, accessible from the main fayer and also from the living room by means of folding doors.

* * *

One wall is adorned with a fireplace and has a raised hearth which extends across the room.

* * *

KITCHEN

A few steps away from the family room is the kitchen, which features a large glass bay window. The space created by it is suitable for a round table for breakfast and informal meals.

* * *

The kitchen equipment is efficiently arranged on two walls and there is a handy utility closet in one corner.

* * *

The laundry room acts as a service entry to the kitchen, with direct access to the garage.

* * *

Out of the way of circulation is the space for washer and dryer, plus wall cabinets for soap and miscellany and a closet that can be used for a multitude of purposes.

* * *

A storage space in one part of the garage, located so it does not interfere with the movement of cars, can also be used as a work area.

LAVATORY

A lavatory is strategically located at the end of the foyer.

Moving up the stair to the second floor, one gets a dramatic view of a large dome skylight that penetrates the flat portion of the roof and is located in the center of the upstairs foyer.

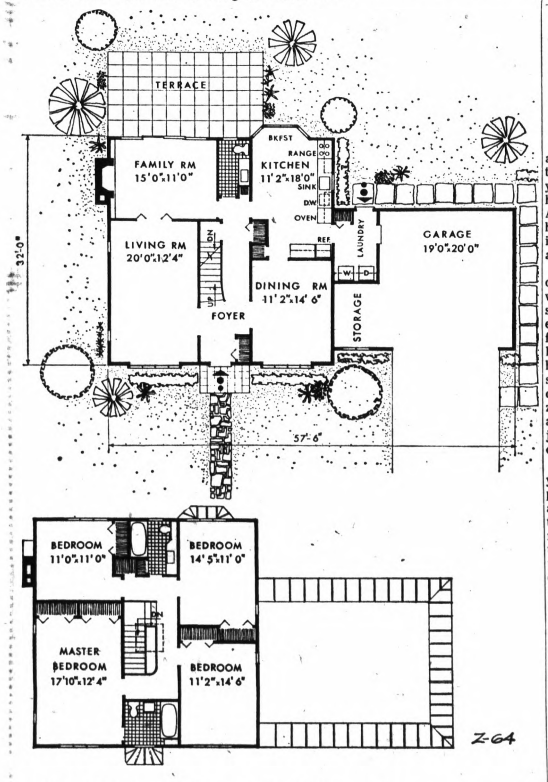
* * *

Off the latter are four bedrooms and two baths, with an abundance of closets.

The construction of this two-story house is relatively simple, with two main bearing walls on each side of the foyer.

There is a full basement under the basic house, which has 1024 square feet of livability on each floor.

In all, this is an innovative, accent on the contemporary efficient and economical place but with a taste of the tradi- in which to live, with the main tional.



FLOOR PLANS — With dimensions of basic house forming a perfect square, architect has been able to utilize a simple but effective center hall arrangement to provide entry to all rooms. Similar layout is used on second floor.

Zoned System Controls Heating for More Comfort

With the heating season almost here, this is a good time to evaluate the efficiency of your heating system. Will you have any trouble this winter? A common problem in many homes is uneven heat — stifling in one room and cold in another.

Heating contractors most often correct this problem by what they call 'zoning' the system. A zoned system, especially adaptable to any form of hydronic (hot water) heating has two or more heating zones supplied by a single boiler. A thermostat controls temperature in each zone, permitting individual areas of the home to be kept just as warm or as cool as desired.

Thermostats more than ten years old are often obsolete by present precision standards, not as accurate or fast-acting as they should be. Some of the new models are available with integral timer — a clock that permits setting the temperature desired several hours in advance.

With this type of thermostat, room temperatures lowered at night for sleeping are automatically raised just prior to "getting-up" time in the morning.

Modern thermostats are designed to give precise control of the heat delivered throughout your home. A reputable heating contractor is best qualified to recommend and install the most suitable system and controls to provide continuous maximum comfort.

Z-64 STATISTICS

Design Z-64 has a living room, dining room, family room and kitchen, with breakfast nook, on the first floor, totaling 1024 square feet in habitable space. A laundry room is off the kitchen and a terrace is at the rear, accessible through sliding glass doors from the family room. The two-car garage contains a large storage area. There are 1024 additional square feet on the second floor, split up into four bedrooms, two baths, a foyer and plenty of closets.

Protect Washer From Scale, Scum

A reaction between soap and the calcium and magnesium in hard water is what causes the gummy, sticky film in your clothes washer.

Softened water flows clear and clean through pipes and drains, leaving no scale or grime trail.

* * *

Appliances last longer, look better and operate more efficiently with softened water. Clothes come cleaner, too.

About 85 per cent of the U.S. has "hard water." Ask your local water conditioning dealer what can be done about "hard water."

Any home handyman can easily install plastic-finished paneling, using conventional tools and adhesive.

Three Coats

For best results in finishing fir plywood or lumber, apply three coats of paint:

- Flat paint, enamel undercoat or resign thinner; when dry fill surface blemishes and sand smooth.
- Second coat, following directions on the can; when dry sand lightly.
- Final coat just as the paint comes from the can.

Louver Doors Add Appeal to Interior

Every door in a house can be decorative.

But, while exterior doors are generally chosen for visual appeal, the decorative possibilities of interior doors are often overlooked.

* * *

Closet doors — which are as much a part of room decor as ceilings, walls and floors — are probably the most neglected.

Among the most decorative closet door styles are folding and sliding wood louvers.

VERSATILE

The louver design dates back to Colonial days, and is used extensively with traditional decor. The doors are also beautifully appropriate to modern interior design, because of their distinctively "textured" appearance.

In addition to their good looks, louver doors have a number of practical advantages for closets. Since they slide open and closed, or fold back against each other, they can be used in areas without sufficient floor clearance for the outward swing of a regular door.

The louvers also allow a free flow of air which helps prevent mildew and the stale odor that can occur in damp or air-tight closets. Wood louver doors can be painted to blend or contrast with room colors, or simply stained or varnished to bring out the rich, natural grain.

Stock louver doors of ponderosa pine are available at local lumber dealers or building supply stores. They come with full or partial louvers (slats in the top section, and a closed wood panel in the bottom half), and with special tracks and hardware for easy operation.

Preparing Masonry for Paint Project

Preparing the surface is part and parcel of painting. When dealing with masonry surfaces, a wire brush is handy for removing dirt, loose particles and other extraneous materials.

Efflorescence, a white, salt-like material caused by the reaction between moisture and salts in alkaline materials, must also be removed.

* * *

This may be accomplished by washing with dilute muriatic acid solution. Detergent and water or a commercial cleaning agent will eliminate grease and oil. As a final step, use a grout-coat or fill-coat before painting porous surfaces.

* * *

The combination of fill-coat and finish coat will provide a good seal against moisture, plus a smooth, attractive finish.

Mud Room Acts as Mom's Helper

What's a mud room? It's a room that traps dirt before it gets into the rest of the house by controlling the traffic pattern. It should have at least a sink with hot and cold water and room to clean muddy boots and hang damp clothes.

★ ★ ★

It becomes even more convenient if you include a water closet and shower, and a work counter for arranging flowers or cleaning vegetables fresh from the garden.

Textured Walls Create Warmth

It's "cool" to have textured walls these days, and yet they warm things up nicely. Whatever the material, a smooth wall will seem less warm — regardless of actual temperature — than one with an uneven surface.

★ ★ ★

Textures in great variety are available today. Ceramic tile, for example, usually thought of as a "smooth" material, now comes in many textured, and even "sculptured," faces.

Clutter Eliminated

Build Toolhouse

Just the thing to do away with that clutter of flower pots and garden tools around the back door or in the garage is a tool house set toward the rear of the lot.

★ ★ ★

Building one can be a highly satisfying project for the experienced do-it-yourselfer, because its appearance won't suffer greatly from a little mediocre workmanship here and there.

And the instant convenience produced by the tool house will make any weekend carpenter proud.

Don't worry about trying to match the tool house exterior to that of the home. Usually, it can be treated as strictly a garden structure. With planting beds added around it, the tool house relates strongly to the garden scene, and will look more permanent, less shed-like.

ROOF

A flat roof is easiest to build. But the boxy appearance can be minimized by extending the roof joists forward to form an arbor for climbers like wisteria or clematis.

Roof joists need be no larger than 2x4s. Posts and crossbeam supporting the arbor should be 4x4s. Extending the roof surface to form a 12-inch-deep overhang on all sides helps protect the structure.

★ ★ ★

Siding for the garden house can be one or a mixture of wood products, such as rough-sawn plywood or lumber, or the newly-popular cedar shingles.

The entire unit can be stained or left to weather naturally. Either assures minimum maintenance, but, if stain is used, it should be the semi-transparent type labeled "exterior grade." Letting the structure weather eliminates finishing costs and, in appearance, is simply great with plantings.

LARGER SIZE

A 6x6-foot size is the minimum for storage, and might be the easisest to roof with plywood panels. But an 8x8-footer will serve and look much better, even allowing space for a small workbench. The bench should have a window for light, and a stock wood unit will blend best with the wood siding.

★ ★ ★

In the larger size, the tool house also becomes a prime stashing spot for deck furniture in winter, and for snow tires and the like in summer.

Cut Down Spatter When You Paint

Spatters and splashes — they're pretty hard to avoid when painting outdoors. But you can minimize the damage they do.

First, protect your plants and lawn furniture with tarpaulin or plastic dropcloths.

★ ★ ★

Next, protect yourself by wearing old, comfortable clothes.

As a final touch, rub protective cream on your hands and arms before you begin to paint. That way, paint smears and splashes will wash right off with soap and water when you've finished.

Tile: an Asset to a Shangri-La in the Back Yard

You don't have to venture farther then your own back yard to "get away from it all." A private "back yard shangri-La" can be quickly, easily and inexpensively built.

It's nothing more than a sheltered patio or an elaborate affair complete with bath, kitchen, heating and air conditioning, a garden house built to accommodate people as well as plants can be the perfect place for informal entertaining or just plain relaxing.

★ ★ ★

It offers protection from the elements so that a back yard barbecue cannot be rained out and it offers privacy so mother can take a relaxation break during a chore-filled day.

Domestic ceramic tile seems made to order for the job of turning a garden house into an outdoor family room. Tile has proved time and again that it is just as durable outdoors as it is indoors. And, it is noted, since ceramic tile comes in a thousand colors and color combinations and a hundred different sizes and shapes, it can easily fit into any designing idea you may have.

★ ★ ★

Tile fits the bill for garden house building in another way too. You can't scratch it, burn it or stain it, and you just can't grind dirt into it. So mother can spend more time enjoying and less time cleaning the garden house.

Junior Editors Quiz on SHRIMPS

Question: Do shrimps have shells?

* * *

Answer: Shrimps are crustaceans, related to the lobsters and crabs. Their bodies are in two main parts, the front or thorax, and the abdomen or tail.

* * *

Shrimps generally swim forward, using the little feet under the tail. To get real speed, they hunch the tail in sharply and dart backward. Strong muscles are needed inside the tail part to do this. It is these which produce the delicious shrimp meat we eat. All of the shrimp can be used, for the front part can be ground up for animal food.

Shrimps do have shells; jointed ones which protect the body. These are light and translucent, however, rather than thick and rigid like the shells of the sea shell mollusks.

As a shrimp grows, he sheds his old shell to develop a new one which fits more comfortably.

* * *

In our picture, two young visitors to a Florida Gulf Coast port are admiring one of the fine looking vessels used in the important shrimp fishery. Notice the very high bow, useful in riding over ocean waves. The big net is shown hoisted up in the air so that it can dry out.

* * *

Hassle Brewing Over Rights to Energy Drink

GAINSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Thousands of products spurt out of university research laboratories each year and a few of them click commercially.

Then comes the scramble for the cash.

* * *

One that appears to be clicking now is Gatorade, a quick-energy drink favored by many football players and other athletes around the country.

Its developers say the lemon-lime beverage moves into the human system 12 times faster than water, putting back body minerals and making players stronger.

UP TO $2.5 MILLION

The University of Florida professor who invented Gatorade says his group expects to realize possibly $2.5 million a year from sales of the beverage.

But the U.S. government claims it owns the rights and will take legal steps to gain control.

* * *

The university itself, where the work was done under a federal grant, waived its rights, thinking Gatorade was not commercial. Now it is rethinking the matter with hopes of grabbing some of the profits.

Neither the federal government nor Florida taxpayers, joint supporters of the research, has received one dollar from the sale. In fact, the university football team—which acted as a guinea pig while the drink was being tested—now buys its stock of Gatorade from the Stokely—Van Camp Corp., which bought the rights.

Charles Brown, director of the Patents Office in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington which paid $57,295 directly toward research that created Gatorade, said until recently the government was unaware of the sale. Brown said the government decided in June 1967, seven months after the invention was reported to them, to retain government rights to Gatorade.

He said the government would move legally to deny Stokely—Van Camp's patent application.

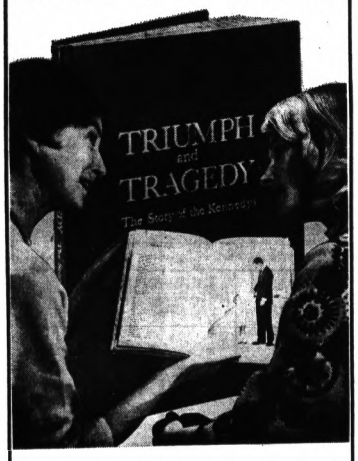
* * *

Sale of Gatorade rights was made by a group headed by Dr. Robert Cade, 41, director of renal (kidney) medicine at the University of Florida's J. Hillis Miller Health Center.

Sales of Gatorade have been under way to athletic teams across the country and at consumer markets in eight test cities (none in Michigan).

Cade developed Gatorade while making a study—through a $30,000 research grant—on how a hormone, aldosterone, affects rats. The hormone is involved in the body's salt metabolism and is related to perspiration.

You Mean You Haven't Read It?



One of the most talked about books in this year of tremendous news is 'Triumph and Tragedy: the Story of the Kennedys.' Shortly after the assassination of Senator Robert Kennedy, it was produced by a team of the best writers in The Associated Press, the world's largest news gathering organization. Unlike some team efforts, it proved to be a smooth flowing minor masterpiece telling not merely the story of the one assassination but the whole sweeping saga of a family that advanced in four generations from famine-stricken Ireland to seats of wealth, power, fame—and personal disaster—in the United States. A third of a million copies have been sold already in this country alone. It has been translated also into a dozen foreign languages. By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

The Egyptians outbid Alvin Roth and Bill Root of the United States team on this hand from the Olympiad. At least East and West can make either three spades or three diamonds if declarer decides to play North for the king-queen - small of diamonds.

JACOBY

However, it is doubtful if many players would go to the three-level vulnerable with the East-West cards. Certainly the Egyptian East-West pair let Edgar Kaplan play three clubs at the other table.

The end result was quite favorable to the United States. Kaplan had no trouble making three clubs. Roth came up with a brilliant defensive play that caused South to take a wrong view and go down.

The defense at both tables started with the jack-queen and ace of diamonds. Three rounds of spades followed with the jack-queen and ace of diamonds. Three rounds of spades followed with the Egyptian ruffing with the four spot. Then the Egyptian declarer played his ace of clubs and Roth dropped the queen.

★ ★ ★

What would you do if you were South? Probably just what the unfortunate Egyptian did. He wanted to get to dummy twice to finesse hearts twice. He could do this safely by playing the jack of clubs and then a club to the king but then he would have to give up trump control for his second entry to dummy.

It looked so easy to lead a low club and stick in dummy's nine. He did just that and Roth made his 10 spot.

★ ★ ★

Edgar Kaplan had no such problem at the other table. When he led the ace of clubs East dropped the 10 and Edgar decided to play the clubs to divide two-two.

Nixon Trying to Diffuse Impact of Peace Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon is trying to diffuse the political impact of any Vietnam bombing halt or cease-fire before Election Day.

In an hour-long live television broadcast last night, the Republican presidential candidate reaffirmed his public support of President Johnson's peace search and again said he would welcome a preelection breakthrough in the Paris talks.

* * *

But earlier in the day, Nixon issued a statement in which he aired—and simultaneously rejected—what he called rumors and speculation that a spurt in peace-seeking activity was "a cynical, last-minute attempt" by Johnson to promote the candidacy of Hubert H. Humphrey, Nixon's Democratic opponent.

The GOP candidate said Johnson has been "impartial and candid" in dealing with him on Vietnam. But he did not say that all members of the Johnson administration were equally impartial.

'PUSHING IT HARDER'

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's manager of communications, subsequently told newsmen, "We feel that there are some people who are pushing it harder politically."

The potential impact of a Vietnam breakthrough on Nixon's political fortunes has been a major item for discussion within the Republican candidate's camp for the past 10 days.

* * *

All Nixon's moves, including the latest one, have been aimed at neutralizing the question. Three Republican governors met with the Nixon press corps Friday night and were asked to assess the possible impact of a Vietnam peace move on the election.

John Rhodes of Ohio declined to "prejudge the event." Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania said it would have some effect but would not change the outcome: a Nixon victory, as he sees it. John Volpe of Massachusetts expressed the opinion that "for a bombing halt to have had any real effect, it would have had to have happened a month or more ago."

WELFARE EQUALIZATION

In his paid political telecast, aired by stations in eight states in the northwestern quadrant of the nation and the District of Columbia, Nixon said that if elected he would try to find a way to equalize welfare payments in such states as Mississippi and Alabama, where benefits are low, with the higher payments made in such states as New York.

Unequal payments, he said, cause the poor of the rural South to migrate to Northern cities.

* * *

He said that if he negotiated from strength, he might as president be able to reach agreement on curbing the arms race not only with the Soviet Union but Communist China, too.

And he said that while he thinks the Democrats have neglected national defense, he doesn't think it's necessary to return to "the awesome superiority of 10 years ago."

Nixon campaigns today in New Jersey suburban communities.

The nation's 25,380 miles of commercially navigable inland waterways saw a 3.5 per cent increase in tons of freight moved in 1966 and an increase of 7.7 per cent in ton-miles moved.

Hubert Seeks College Votes

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Vice president Hubert H. Humphrey says youthful militants have helped move the country toward peace in Vietnam, and now should work within the two-party system for their other goals.

* * *

Bidding for campus support in his campaign for the presidency, Humphrey told a student audience Friday in San Jose, Calif., that if elected he would work for the changes at home and abroad that they are clamoring for.

* * *

Humphrey's speech appeared to draw a favorable response from students at San Jose State College, who packed a campus field in broiling sun to hear him.

The vice president was nearly mobbed by well-wishers when he finished.

Student body president Dick Miner, who introduced Humphrey, said most of the students regarded Humphrey as the least of three evils running for president. He challenged the vice president to tell them why they should help him defeat Republican Richard M. Nixon, Nov. 5.

ADVANCE NOTICE

Humphrey, who had advance notice from Miner that he would receive such a challenge, said he and his running mate, Edmund S. Muskie, offered the students their best chance "to change the things you cannot tolerate."

Citing their grievances about the war, the persistence of poverty, racial discrimination and draft inequities, he said, "I'm prepared to change all those things if you give me the chance."

* * *

Humphrey opened his speech by saying he was "glad to be at the home school of Olympic medal winners Tommy Smith and John Carlos" who were banished from the U.S. team after staging a clenched-fist Black Power protest when receiving their medals.

The students were quiet and listened attentively throughout the speech.

APPEALS TO STUDENTS

Humphrey also appealed to the students to help him fight for the things they want and an acknowledgement that their protest in the past had been effective.

"Make no mistake," he said. "The voices of the students have had an impact on public opinion. Like helping to bring the war to an end . . . helping reform a party . . . and awakening the conscience of this nation."

* * *

Having accomplished so much, Humphrey said, they now face a choice: "Are you going to keep at it, or are you going to pack up and opt out?"

He urged them to stay and fight within the political process and said he will be glad to lead the kind of party in which they are the "captains and the candidates."

* * *

Miner said he felt the speech had been a success from Humphrey's point of view.

"I think a lot of people here are going to change their views because of what happened here today," he said.

Muskie Cites U.S. Challenge

'Haves Must Share Affluence With Poor'

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, touching home base before his final campaign swing, says the great challenge of the times is this:

"Whether or not Americans who already have a stake in our society, who are already enjoying its affluence, are willing to share it with those who have not."

* * *

Unless the answer is yes, he told one audience, in Manchester, N.H., Friday, America will face ultimate extinction.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate, speaking to 1,300 at a Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner in the Maine capital of Augusta Friday night, said that "the easy answer is to protect what we have and let the others look out for themselves. Then he added, "That won't work. That simply won't work."

"You can talk about law and order," Muskie said. "You can pass criminal laws or any other kind of legislation you can conceive of. But that answer won't work, unless in addition to insisting on law and order you do something about the conditions which make the have-not Americans restless and dissatisfied with their lot . . . .

Muskie flies west today, after a television taping in Washington, with a stop scheduled in Minnesota.

Wallace Jabs Lightly at Foes

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — George C. Wallace jibed his presidential opponents in a relaxed, low-key speech Friday night, sharpening his attack on Richard M. Nixon for refusing to debate and saying that his Democratic opponent, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is out of the running.

Wallace's spirits were visibly buoyant as he neared the end of what he considers one of his most successful weeks of campaigning. His comments drew cheers and laughter from 400 supporters who paid $25 a plate.

* * *

He speaks today at Terre Haute, Ind., and Cincinnati, Ohio, before returning to Montgomery, Ala., for a day of rest Sunday.

Wallace said the pollsters now were hedging their reports that he has support of about 20 per cent of the electorate.

'HARD TO GAUGE'

"Now they're writing, 'this election is hard to gauge'," Wallace said. "They're laying the predicate for being wrong."

* * *

Concerning the television debate proposal, Wallace said he had withdrawn as a potential participant not only to strip away Nixon's stated reason for refusing but also because he felt he would be the beneficiary of a Nixon-Humphrey confrontation.

* * *

"I thought that if both of them got to telling on each other, it would help us," Wallace said.

Wallace cited an article written by Nixon in 1964 which said television debates "contribute significantly to. . . the public interest."

GIVE AND TAKE

He had hoped, Wallace said, that Nixon would "get down in the arena with the American people and discuss the issues.

LeMay Warns of More Viets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Third-party vice presidential candidate Curtis E. LeMay predicted Friday night that there may be more Vietnams.

LeMay told an American Independent party fund-raising dinner that the United States must settle a war against communism in Vietnam or face more of them.

* * *

And to do that, LeMay said, "We have to convince North Vietnam that we're going to destroy everything they have and then start doing it."

The $25-a-plate dinner climaxed the retired general's blitz campaign through his home state of Ohio.

Bond: No Negro Should Vote for Nixon or Wallace

DETROIT (AP) — State Rep. Julian Bond of Georgia said Friday that any Negro votes for Richard M. Nixon or George Wallace will be cast by persons "who don't know what they are doing."

The 28-year-old Negro legislator predicted most black persons will support Democratic presidential nominee Hubert H. Humphrey in the Nov. 5 election.

* * *

Bond said that domestic events could become worse if the Republican Nixon is elected. He described Wallace, the American Independent party candidate, as a "hillbilly Hitler."

Bond was in Detroit campaigning for Robert Tindal, the only Negro among four candidates for Detroit Common Council. Bond said he was asked to campaign for Tindal by Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich.

Interception Wins for PCH; Waterford Loses Title Game

Foes' Mistakes Help Chiefs Tie for Third Place

By DON VOGEL

Just when it began to look like Pontiac Central would have to settle for a tie in its Saginaw Valley Conference football game at Wisner Field Last night...the tide turned.

* * *

Dennis Brown neatly stepped in front of a Flint Central pass receiver to intercept and then raced 35 yards for the touchdown that gave the Chiefs a 20-13 victory.

* * *

A couple of minutes later Don Russell picked off another Indian aerial and Pontiac Central killed the clock while marching to the Flint six.

It was the fourth victory in SVC play for the Chiefs who have lost twice. They are tied with Bay City Central for third place. The Wolves were clipped by second place Saginaw, 20-13, last night.

Midland remained a half game up on the Trojans by whipping Flint Northern, 28-12, and Bay City Handy overcame a 21-6 halftime deficit to beat Saginaw Arthur Hill, 27-21, and quit the cellar.

PCH and Bay City Central will square off next Friday in Bay City.

END SWEEPS

Last night's game was not one of PCH's better performances. The Chiefs had trouble containing the constant diet of end sweeps dished up by the Indians, (2-4) and let the ivsitors score on the final play of the first half.

* * *

They also missed at least three good scoring chances because of dropped passes, a fumble and missed blocks. But they took advantage of Flint Central mistakes when it counted.

PCH opened the scoring with 1:31 remaining in the second quarter by marching 50 yards in 10 plays. Quarterback Rollie Garcia carried over from the eight on an option play and Jerry Hinsperger kicked the conversion.

* * *

But Flint Central took the kick and rode the passing arm of new starting quarterback Sid DeCou to the PCH 11. DeCou missed three passes and then threaded the needle to end Dwight Reynolds who was between two defenders as the half ended. Tom Viilo passed to Jim Murdock from fake kick formation for the conversion.

* * *

A fumbled punt gave the Chiefs possession on the Flint 30 in the third quarter. They moved to a fourth and six on the 12 and Garcia fired a pass well over the head of the intended receiver. But an Indian defender interferred unnecessarily giving PCH a first down. Vance Richardson carried over from the four.

MARCHED BACK

Flint Central promptly marched 54 yards in seven plays with Bob Patton carrying the final four.

* * *

The game settled down to an apparent tie until Brown, a sophomore defensive halfback who shows a lot of promise, broke it open with 5:22 left.

Hinsperger was the leading rusher with 100 yards in 31 carried.

Roeper Ends Season With 13-12 Triumph

Roeper put the finishing touches on the 1968 campaign last night with a 13-12 victory over Detroit Country Day's junior varsity.

* * *

Art Luby tallied on a 25-yard pass from Dale Scarlett in the second and Tim Teasley intercepted a fumble in midair and raced 50 yards with the clincher in the third stanza. Gary Blackwell booted the lone extra point after Luby's tally. Roeper finished with a 2-4 record.

Davis picked up 11 yards on this second quarter play, but suffered a hip injury and did not return to the game. Pontiac Central won, 20-13, to gain a tie for third place.

SKIPPIN' SKIPPER—Waterford's Bruce Saffron finds room on this play in the first half against Livonia Stevenson yesterday on the Livonia field. Giving chase on the play is tackle Robert Harris (73). Livonia won, 32-6.

Stevenson Halts Skippers; W. Lake Routs Farmington

By FLETCHER SPEARS

It was a while coming, but the opposition has finally put the brakes on Walled Lake's football machine.

For the past decade, the proud Vikings of Walled Lake have terrorized the Inter-Lakes Conference, but their reign ended yesterday and there's a new king today — Livonia Stevenson.

HALTS WATERFORD

Stevenson sewed up the championship in typical Walled Lake fashion yesterday by turning mistakes into points in a 32-6 decision over Waterford's Skippers.

* * *

It was a game the Skippers had to win, but they were guilty of too many miscues, while the Spartans of Stevenson were nearly faultless as they carved out the win before their first Homecoming crowd.

VIKINGS SECOND

While Waterford (5-2) was bowing to the Spartans, coach Leo Folsom and the Vikings (6-1) were in the process of pinning a 54-6 setback on Farmington and claiming the runner-up spot in the I-Lx.

* * *

Had Waterford stopped the Spartans, it would have enabled the Vikings and Skippers to share the championship with Stevenson. Walled Lake's lone loss this season was to Stevenson, 13-7.

Stevenson's win was its seventh in a row and it gave the squad a 5-0 league record.

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS

Against Waterford, the Spartans intercepted four passes, picked up two fumbles and burned the losers on an unsuccessful gamble.

* * *

After the Skippers failed on a fourth-and-two situation at their own 44 early in the second quarter, Stevenson took the ball across the goal line in four plays with junior quarterback Russell Gregg hitting end Ron Ochala for the final 18 yards. Dale Danver ran the PAT and it was 7-0.

Moments later, after holding on downs, halfback Jerry Detter fielded a punt by the Skippers' Bill Foley and raced 55 yards down the left sideline for a touchdown.

* * *

It was the Skippers' turn, then. From their own 22, they moved 78 yards in six plays with the payoff coming on a 52-yard pass from Mike Sheldon to end Steve Lohff with just 20 seconds left in the half.

OUT OF REACH

Eugene Walker's five-yard run capped a 66-yard drive at the start of the third and boosted Livonia into a 19-6 lead, and halfback Dave Loewe put it out of reach when he picked off a Sheldon pass and raced 60 yards for a touchdown early in the fourth.

* * *

The final Spartan tally came on a 53-yard drive that ended with reserve quarterback Ron Smith sneaking the final three yards.

* * *

At Farmington, halfback Bill Welsh had a big afternoon going both ways for Walled Lake. He hauled in scoring passes for 55, 28 and 45 yards from junior Roy Coomer; and the speedy senior picked off three Farmington aerials.

In all, the Vikings intercepted five passes, giving them 21 in seven games. Dan Stapula stopped the Falcons the first time they had the ball.

Battle Creek 11 Still Undefeated

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Some 7,000 fans watched as undefeated Battle Creek Central nipped Ann Arbor Pioneer 9-7 Friday night in the 50th game of a football series between the rival teams.

Pioneer, which lost its first game after six victories, grabbed a 7-0 halftime lead when halfback Wayne Marshall romped 67 yards with a pass from quarterback Jerry Schneider.

In the third period, senior guard Jim Roebuck booted a 34-yard field goal for Central.

Battle Creek Central's winning touchdown came with less than a minute remaining in the game as John Simms plunged through from the three-yard line. The final drive was highlighted by a freak play in which Pioneer safety man Ted Kennedy deflected a pass from Kalamazoo quarterback Ron Gifford — right into the hands of Kalamazoo halfback Guy Portis. Portis romped 29 yards on that play.

It was only the 13th time Battle Creek Central has beaten Pioneer in the series.

Jim Kolenko, senior tailback, and Craig Camp, junior tailback, scored three touchdowns each Friday leading Watervliet to a 58-7 victory over Bridgman. Kolenko, who carries an 8.2 yard per carry rushing average, has now scored 19 touchdowns in seven games.

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A touchdown that was nullified by a holding penalty spelled the difference between victory and a tie for Traverse City as the football team duelled to a 7-7 deadlock with Kalamazoo Hacket Friday night.

Traverse City, the 10th-ranked team in last week's Associated Press Michigan High School Football Poll, lost the potential touchdown in the first half.

In the third quarter, Kalamazoo took the kickoff and stormed all the way to lead 7-0.

* * *

Traverse City opened the fourth quarter on the Kalamazoo one-yard line on its fourth down. A push to within six inches of the goal gave Traverse City a first down, and Earl Babcock scored on a quarterback sneak.

The tie left Traverse City with a 6-0-1 record. Kalamazoo is 4-2-1.

Little senior halfback Roy Schryer scored three touchdowns and two extra points Friday night in Cheboygan Catholic's 60-0 football victory over Rudyard. The points boosted the 155-pound Shryer's total to 99 this season.

Shryer, however, was topped for touchdowns in the contest by junior fullback David Sullivan who scored five, plus one point after TD.

The victory gave Cheboygan a tie for the championship in the Eastern Upper Peninsula League with DeTour. DeTour 7-0-1 has finished its season ranked as the No. 1 school in Class D of the Associated Press High School Football Poll. Cheboygan has a 6-0-1 record, with a game to play.

DODGE CITY, Kan. (UPI) — Undefeated and scored upon only twice, Taft, Calif., has been named No. 1 in the National Junior College Athletic Association football ratings.

Two Games Left

F-Birds in Road Tilt

Pontiac's Firebirds return to action tonight at Wyandotte after a week layoff and they'll be bidding to rise above the .500 level in Midwest Football League competition.

* * *

The Firebirds' foe at Wyandotte will be the Vikings of Ypsilanti, and a full house is expected to be on hand at Roosevelt Field for the 7:30 kickoff. The field is located on Eureka Road.

CHARITY TILT

The game is being sponsored by the Wyandotte Rotary Club with proceeds being donated to a hospital fund. Spokesmen said the game last year raised $4,700 and they were predicting a much larger gate this evening.

* * *

Dayton's Colts (8-0) are currently setting the pace in the MFL and Pontiac is out of contention with a 5-5 mark and only two games remaining.

HOME FOR FINALE

After tonight's encounter, the Firebirds return home to wrap up the season next Saturday night at Wisner Stadium against Fort Wayne.

Getting the call at quarterback this evening for the Firebirds is Doug Holcomb, the former Purdue University signal-caller, who got his first real taste of MFL action two weeks ago in a 22-6 loss to Lackawanna, N.Y.

Ex-Tiger Outfielder Named to Coach New Kansas City Club

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jo Jo White and Mel Harder, two baseball veterans, were named by Manager Joe Gordon to be coaches of the new Kansas City Royals expansion club of the American League.

* * *

White, once a star outfielder for the Detroit Tigers, served as third base coach for Gordon when he managed the Kansas City Athletics, now the Oakland A's.

* * *

Harder, a stalwart hurler for the Cleveland Indians in his playing days, has been in the game 41 years, 22 years as a pitching coach. White also is a 41-year veteran in organized baseball.

Imlay City Falters

Imlay City's Spartans ran into a buzz-saw against Bay City All Saints last night and came home with a 32-12 loss.

John Mason scored both TDs for Imlay City, which is now 5-2 on the season.

Tomorrow, the 19th Olympiad, which everyone figured, in the Baden-Baden, Germany meeting of 1963, should have been awarded to Detroit, will come to a close.

Within the next 100 years, Mexico City may never have another Olympiad. Of course neither will Detroit after the courage-less decision of the mayor of that city not to bid for the 1976 games.

At any rate, as a postscript today this writer's first coverage of an Olympiad, we would have to commend the Mexicans for doing the best job they know how in staging such a mamouth event.

There were a lot of problems which prevailed, primarily because of language barriers and economic or travel conditions, but there were some 200,000 Mexicans assigned to duties from bussing athletes and writers to keeping statistics, and at least 199,998 of them did their jobs enthusiastically and earnestly as they could.

When you have 21 sites engaged in competition within a 100 mile radius of Mexico City, the line of communications and responsibility of getting the information to central points is unbelievable. And the Mexicans did their job unbelievably well.

The people themselves are the most sociable and courteous people we have ever encountered.

Naturally, there are a few hustlers who feast on the circumstances to reap the harvest, but this is the fault of the visitor, if he fails to ask before he pays.

BEAUTY AND UGLINESS

There is a modern beauty in downtown Mexico City and there's natural beauty in its country side, but this pleasing bit of tourism constitutes maybe 20 per cent of it all.

The ugliness is not in the people, but in the conditions in which they must live.

★ ★ ★

It is heartbreaking to see the extreme poverty in which they must live along the roadsides and even just a few blocks from luxuries of downtown.

A person with a heart has to extend it to these people; to children without shoes and raggedy clothes trying to make a centavo selling anything from pins to gum; to old women in the 80's sitting from sun up to sundown trying to make a couple pesos from anything their handiwork talents produce.

In the lounge of the Hotel Maria Isabel, we asked one of the young bartenders about his wages.

"About 20-30 pesos a day," was his reply.

In our money that amounts to about $2.40 a day.

2 DRINKS PAYS WAGE

Then we pointed out to him that the hotel charges 12 pesos for a mixed drink and after two drinks we had paid his wages for the day. A peso is 8 cents in our money.

"How could you exist on such low wages and yet it is evident that the business in the lounge was fantastic," we asked him.

"They pay big taxes in Mexico," he replied referring of course the businesses.

But, a good shirt we noted was $6-$7, pants $18-$20; and we noted that a couple going out for a sociable evening, say to the lounge we were in, would have to live it up on one drink, a total of 24 pesos.

That's all of what our friend, Edmundo Soto the bartender was making for his 9-hour day and on his $2.50 he had a wife, mother, father and three brothers and sisters to support.

★ ★ ★

Yes, Mexico City overall did a fine job to host the Olympiad, and if anything else it gave 7,400 athletes, 1,700 newsmen and hundreds of thousands of visitors the opportunity to count their own blessings upon leaving.

Avondale Upsets Rochester, 7-0

Mott, Lahser Fail to Seize Chances

By JERE CRAIG

Winning football teams capitalize on their opponents' mistakes. Waterford Mott and Bloomfield Hills Lahser couldn't take advantage of each other's misplays Friday night and appropriately fought to a 7-7 tie before a small gathering of fans at WTHS' field and failed to improve their losing records.

★ ★ ★

Both teams scored their touchdowns in the first half. Although the game approached comical proportions at the end, it was exciting for the fans as both teams had their chance.

Lahser (2-3-1) drove to the host Corsairs' five-yard-line late in the period but Randy Cooper intercepted a third-down pass at his own two and returned the ball to the 26.

Gerry McNair hit Terry Ruffato for 17 yards, then found Bob Schupbach wide open on the right side and the pass play covered 47 yards to the Knights' 10-yard-line.

On third down at the seven, the Corsairs (1-4-2) fumbled the ball back to their visitors.

CHANGES BACKFIELD

Lahser tried operating from a spread formation but after a pass moved the ball to the 16, Tom Burgess and Steve Burns threw Jim Coe for a loss at the two.

★ ★ ★

The Corsairs twiced stopped the clock with timeouts twice; but on fourth down at its own one, Lahser elected to run rather than punt.

About 12 seconds remained when the play ended at the three, but the home team couldn't get its offensive unit on the field in time to run a play before time ran out.

★ ★ ★

The game began as if Mott would have a big evening at the expense of Knights' errors. The Waterford unit came up with the football in a pile up at the visitors' 24 in the first two minutes of play.

Five plays later Terry Ruffato sprinted outside left tackle and into the end zone on an 11-yard counter play. McNair booted the PAT.

Lahser lost the ball on another fumble on the kickoff. This time WMHS took over at the visitors' 30. The Corsairs ground out the yardage to the one, but Bob Zywicki was stopped just shy of the goal line on a fourth-down plunge.

★ ★ ★

Early in the second period, the Knights began a drive at their own 11-yard-line. After a penalty moved the pigskin out to the 16, they pushed their way to the 43. At this point, tailback Coe swung to his right then passed to Mike Atkins around the Mott 40.

★ ★ ★

The speedy wingback streaked down the sideline for a 57-yard touchdown. Eric Tirrell plunged for the tying conversion.

Lahser had the advantage in net yardage for the game, outgaining its hosts by more than 100 yards. But it lost the ball twice on interceptions and twice on fumbles.

RETURNS FAVOR

Mott, meanwhile, turned the pigskin back to the Knights four times on fumbles. Lahser's Coe led all the rushers with 104 yards in 26 tries before being thrown back 14 yards attempting to pass.

Coe, who moved to tailback due to an injury to the Knights' top scorer Jeff Kezlarian, also completed three of four aerials for 77 yards.

★ ★ ★

Mott's best runner was Chuck Dohner who needed 17 tries to gain 48 yards. Next week, Lahser will invade the same gridiron to face Waterford Township, while Mott will go to Marine City.

Novi Wins, 20-6 for Sixth Straight

Novi's Wildcats ran their winning streak to six last night with a 20-6 triumph over Williamston.

The Wildcats spotted Williamston a second-period touchdown and then came back with six-pointers in each of the last three periods to wrap it up.

After Dan Guilik put Williamston ahead with a 15-yard pass for a touchdown, Novi came back on a one-yard run by Gary Boyer and John Davey's PAT run to take a 7-6 lead at intermission.

Davey hauled in a 52-yard pass from Boyer in the third and Joe Morrison tallied on a four-yard scamper in the fourth to close the scoring. Novi is now 6-1 on the season.

Dragons Savor Loop Win Feast

Lake Orion's resurgent Dragons like the taste of Oakland A gridiron victory, indulging in a huge second helping last night at Utica.

★ ★ ★

The Dragons, after going winless in the league for 34 games and five years, savored their second straight win with a 33-14 feast against the Chieftains.

The victory, coupled with Romeo's 20-13 loss to Madison, boosted the Dragons into sole possession of fifth place at 2-3-1 with one game remaining in the league. They finished last the past four seasons.

★ ★ ★

Orion jumped into a 20-0 advantage in the first half. Bill Baker plunged into the end zone from the one to open the scoring.

Chuck Whippo reached paydirt on a three-yard dive. He and Walt Hagelin each had a PAT in the initial quarter. Hagelin added a six-pointer with a two-yard run in the next period.

OFFSET RALLY

Whippo's two four-yard runs and another PAT kick by Hagelin offset two Utica scores in the last session. Bruce Brennan caught TD passes for 37 and 77 yards from Bob Dilday of the home team.

Dave Marini added both Chieftain extra points. The loss dropped Utica to a 1-4-1 log and in a fifth-place deadlock with Romeo and Avondale.

The Dragons ended their long league famine with a 14-7 triumph over Romeo last week. The 33 points scored last night are the most by them in any game also since 1963. Their previous high in the same dry spell was 24 in this fall's opening win at Kettering.

Romeo fell behind Madison when Doug Meadows bolted into paydirt from the one-yard-line and Gary Morrow counted six points on a 60-yard pass play engineered by Bob Tremblay.

★ ★ ★

Mike Schmidt's 22-yard run and Ron Tabar's PAT boot reduced the margin to 13-7, but Meadows tallied in the third quarter on a nine-yard run to put it out of reach.

COMPLETES SCORING

Sophomore Marv Craft ended the scoring with his 18-yard run for Romeo's Bulldogs. Meadows of the Eagles saw two TD runs nullified by penalties against Madison.

The victory ties Madison for third place at 3-2-1 with Troy, the defending league champion who was eliminated last night when Clawson's Trojans defeated it.

★ ★ ★

The Eagles will travel to Lake Orion in the wrapup, and Romeo is slated to visit Troy next week.

★ ★ ★

For the game Welsh caught five passes for 155 yards. Wayne Morenz led the ball carriers with 63 yards in 11 rushes, scoring one touchdown.

★ ★ ★

Kevin Hildenbrandt caught a 29-yard toss from Dan Steinke for the losers' lone score. Walled Lake will visit Plymouth, Farmington will be host to Southfield and Waterford will entertain Bloomfield Hills Lahser next week.

Parents of Minors May Be Arrested for Hunt Violations

LANSING (UPI)—The Department of Conservation has issued a warning that their officers will press hard for arrest of parents who knowingly allow their children under 17 to hunt on lands where they don't live.

★ ★ ★

State law requires that young hunters, when hunting on other lands, be accompanied by someone over 17.

Supervision over the minors may be designated by their parents or guardians.

★ ★ ★

"This restriction was written into law expressly to give young, inexperienced hunters a greater margin of safety when they hunt alone," said Kenneth McCord, the department's hunter safety specialist.

McCord said the fatal shooting of two young unaccompanied minors this season "is a sad example of what can happen when this law is ignored."

Yellow Jackets Slow Falcons' Title Express

Avondale's Yellow Jackets have upset the applecart in the Oakland A League.

Apparently unaware that they weren't supposed to win, the Yellow jackets, put a wrench in Rochester's championship plans by pinning a 7-0 setback on the Falcons.

★ ★ ★

That result coupled with Clawson's 26-7 victory over Troy left Rochester and Clawson sharing first place in the league with 5-1 recordds.

NO CHANCE!

Avondale went into the game before the home fans with a 0-5-1 record overall. On the other hand, Rochester, bidding to move up among the state's Class A teams, had compiled a 6-0 record and was considered a shoo-in for the title.

★ ★ ★

But the Yellow Jackets checked Rochester with a tenacious defense and displayed a brand of ball control seldom seen to pull off the upset.

MONROE SCORES

The only score came early in the fourth when senior fullback Gary Monroe bulled his way in from one yard out and Clyde McCauley ran the extra point.

★ ★ ★

In the scoring drive which took 20 plays, the Yellow Jackets ate up nearly nine minutes. After Rochester punted early in the third — the only time the Falcons had the ball in the third — Avondale took over on its own 32 and proceeded to grind it out.

USE UP TIME

The Jackets used up the remainder of the third and 51 seconds of the fourth before the payoff.

★ ★ ★

Defensively, the Jackets held Rochester to only 31 yards rushing in the second half, and the Falcons, who normally fare well in the passing department, completed none and the Jackets picked off two of the five they tried.

SPEARHEADS DEFENSE

Linebacker Mitch Vogeli spearheaded the defense that choked off the Rochester attack. Aiding and abetting Vogeli were guards Harry Ramsey and Gary Patterson, end Clyde McCauley and halfback Billy Lester. It was Avon's best showing against Rochester since the 13-13 tie in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Rochester had a few opportunities but the Jackets had the stopper each time. The Falcons best shot at the goal came in the second when they moved from their own five-yard line to a first down at the Avondale 1. The Falcons lost two yards in four tries and the Jackets took over on their own 3.

★ ★ ★

From a ball-control standpoint, Avon ran off 32 plays in the second half while Rochester managed just 14.

SPURS CLAWSON

Mike Heist flipped a pair of scoring tosses and Bill Weakley tallied twice on runs to spark the Clawson attack.

Heist hit Chuck Currie with a 15-yarder in the first and tossed a 23-yarder to Ron Gegenheimer in the fourth. Weakley went over on runs of 7 and 32 yards in the second. Brad Faber scored for Troy on an 81-yard kickoff return.

Lakers, Andover Showdown Next

The suspense will linger for another week in the Wayne-Oakland League football race.

And in the offing is one of those neighborhood brawls that promises to be a dandy, one that will settle the debate about who's ebst this season in the W-O.

TOP CONTEST

The big one is at West Bloomfield Friday evening where the Lakers will play host to once-beaten Bloomfield Hills Andover.

★ ★ ★

It's one of those backyard fights — like the M-MSU thing — and both are primed for the skirmish after racking up impressive victories yesterday.

Andover rolled past downtrodden Brighton in the afternoon, 38-0, while the Lakers saddled Clarkston with its fourth loss of the campaign, 44-6, to clinch a share of the title

★ ★ ★

Now, the Lakers are 6-0 in the league and Andover is 5-1. If the Lakers win next week, they take all the marbles. If Andover wins, the two split the title.

SHARP ATTACK

The Barons of Andover, now with an over-all mark of 6-1, parlayed a crunching ground attack and a hard-nosed defense into the easy win over Brighton.

Chuck Palaian scored twice for the Barons on runs of 8 and 1 yards as the squad totaled 204 yards on the ground.

Rick Starr hauled in a seven-yard pass from Scott Roley, Howard Tyron raced 55 yards with an intercepted pass and Richard Hodson fell on a blocked punt in the endzone for the other six-pointers.

Kicker Mark Okla booted two extra points and a 28-yard field goal. Larry Appleby took a PAT pass from Roley and the other two points came on a safety when a Brighton center snapped the ball out of the endzone.

LAKERS ROMP

Clarkston's Wolves couldn't contain the West Bloomfield juggenaut that rolled up 519 yards in total offense, 445 of that on the ground.

★ ★ ★

The Lakers raced to a 25-0 lead at intermission and it was no contest. Clarkston scored in the fourth.

SCORES 4 TD'S

Speedster Terry Conley tightened his hold on the Oakland County scoring lead with four six-pointers against the Wolves. He now has 19 for the season.

Conley tallied on runs of 35, 6, 9 and 6 yards. Kim Woodruff made it over on a four-yard run, Bill Latimer scored on a five-yard dash and John Sopko dived a yard for the other score. Jim Taperek booted two extra points.

Mark Walters took a 10-yard pass from Steve Warman for Clarkston's lone tally.

Titans Remain Hopeful in Catholic Grid Race

A half is better than none at all, but with a helping hand, the Titans of Pontiac Catholic rule the roost all alone by the time the sun sets on the Northwest Catholic League football race tomorrow.

The title picture has come down to the final Sunday of play and it won't clear until the Titans and the Dales of Ferndale St. James trod off the field tomorrow.

ENTERTAIN EAGLETS

The Titans are playing host to Orchard Lake St. Mary in their finale, while the Dales are entertaining Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows. In both cases, the visitors are expected to succumb easily.

★ ★ ★

Going into the final day, the Titans and Dales are both 5-1, and if both win tomorrow, the St. James squad will advance to the Catholic League playoffs since it defeated Pontiac Catholic in their earlier meeting, 8-0.

The Titans will get the nod in the playoffs only if they win and then if the Dales loes or tie.

LAKERS COULD WIN

If both the Dales and Titans should lose, then Waterford Our Lady of Lakes (4-1-1) could win the championship by downing Royal Oak St. Mary this evening at Kettering High School.

★ ★ ★

While the Titans are occupied with thoughts of winning the title, the invading Eaglets of Orchard Lake St. Mary are eager to get the sesaon in the record book.

LONG FALL

The Eaglets go into the game facing the prospect of falling from first to last in one campaign.

★ ★ ★

They won the title last year, and should they lose tomorrow they could finish last if Royal Oak St. Mary upsets WOLL tonight. ROMS and OLSM are both 1-5 for the season.

This will be the Titans final shot at the Northwest championship. When the curtain falls tomorrow afternoon, it'll also be curtains for the Titans in the league. They'll be in another division of the Catholic League next year. A realignment of the teams is slated for early next year.

Punt Plays Backfire on Almont

Almont tumbled from all hope of a share of the Southern Thumb grid championship when it couldn't cope with the punting tactics of Armada's Tigers last evening.

New Haven and Anchor Bay continue tied atop the race with 5-1 records after the Rockets blasted Dryden, 26-0, and Anchor Bay was a 27-0 winner over Memphis.

Armada'a 19-6 victory at Almont and Richmonds 57-0 rout of Capac leave those two winners knotted in third place at 4-2 while Almont's Raiders now are fifth with their 3-3 mark.

Anchor Bay must get by Richmond's Blue Devils next week while New Haven closes with once-victorious Memphis.

★ ★ ★

Almont roughed the Tigers' punter early in the game and the penalty enabled them to keep their drive going for touchdown No. 1. John King went 48 yards on a reverse for the score.

FUMBLE PUNT

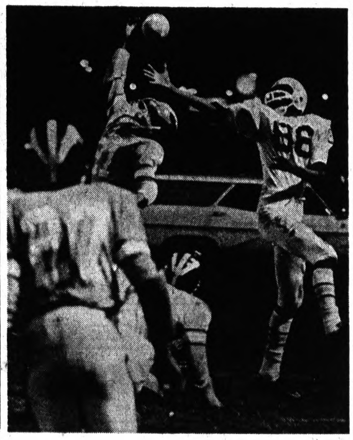
In the second period, Armada fell on a fumble when the Almont deep back couldn't handle a punt. Gary Hofer passed five yards to Ron Rusk and also hit him on the PAT toss to make it 13-0 at the intermission.

John Bacholzky finally got Almont moving in the third quarter. He hit Dennis Garner on a 25-yard pass to set up the quarterback's own two-yard scoring plunge.

But the visitors widened their lead on Conrad Reiter's 25-yard run after another roughing-the-kicker penalty against Almont kept their drive going. Reiter finished with 148 yards for the winners, and Frank Bacholzky ran for 90 in a losing cause.

★ ★ ★

New Haven's Ty Moore ran three and six yards for TD's, in the opening half, and teammate Lynn Ryan pass 60 yards to Eli Sims and plunged two yards for another pair against Dryden.



BATTED AWAY — Flint Central's Willie Duncan goes high to deflect a pass intended for Pontiac Central's A. B. Davis as Ronnie Anderson (27) of the Indians runs toward the action. PCH quarterback Rollie Garcia completed one of nine aerials, but three were dropped. Two of the miscues would have been touchdowns.

Montreal Tops Oakland, 4-2

OAKLAND (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens have continued their unbeaten string at the expense of the Oakland Seals.

★ ★ ★

The Stanley Cup champions won 4-2 Friday night, gaining first place in the National Hockey League's East Division.

It was the NHL's only game scheduled.

★ ★ ★

The Canadiens dashed to a 4-0 lead with Jean Beliveau counting a goal and an assist as three shots were zipped past Oakland goalie Gary Smith in a span of 1:42.

The Seals fought back, but Joe Szura's goal in the second period and Ted Hampson's power-play deflection in the final period were not enough.

★ ★ ★

The Canadiens, winners of five straight, moved ahead of idle Chicago.

Communist Chief Voices Discontent

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's top leader, Communist Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, expressed displeasure Friday over the performance of the Soviet Olympic team in Mexico City.

Addressing the Soviet Youth Organization, Brezhnev said, "The international standards of our sports must be improved. These days we all follow the Mexico Olympics, and we have watched the performance of our team.

"Our sportsmen," he added, "did not manage to achieve all they wished. The struggle was really very difficult and we welcome the winners who came back home with Olympic medals."

Kimball Second

Ferndale Takes SEMA Title

Ferndale's Eagles did as expected. They are the new kingpins in the Southeastern Michigan Association.

The Eagles, ranked No. 4 among the state's Class A squads, wrapped up their first SEMA crown since 1964 last night with a 47-19 victory over a stubborn Berkley squad.

OTHER RESULTS

In other games, defending champion Royal Oak Kimball (4-1) wound up second by knocking off Hazel Park, 26-6, while Southfield (2-2-1) slipped into the No. 3 spot by pinning a 27-21 setback on Birmingham Seaholm (2-3).

★ ★ ★

Ferndale won the SEMA crown outright in 1963 and shared the No. 1 spot with Berkley the following year. It's been bleak since then.

PACE ATTACK

Sam DeGrate and Jim Thomas sparked the Ferndale attack with three touchdowns apiece.

★ ★ ★

De Grate tallied on runs of 7, 5 and 4 yards, while Thomas reached paydirt on runs of 1, 10 and 8 yards. John Owens picked up the other Ferndale tally on a four-yard run.

Roger Reynolds raced 80 yards for one TD and took a pass of 60 yards from Jim Karshner for two of Berkley's tallies. Dennis Schade picked up the other on a one-yard run.

EARLY LEAD

Seaholm broke into an early 7-0 lead on a 27-yard run by Dave Robinson, but Southfield then put 27 points on the board before the Maples found the range again.

★ ★ ★

Dave Wieland scored twice on runs of 29 and 2 yards. Jeff Farland scored on a three-yard run and Rick Streby picked off a Seaholm pass and went 35 yards for the other tally.

★ ★ ★

Seaholm countered again in the fourth when Jack Hartrick went 35 yards and Ed Neff scampered three yards for six-pointers.

HALFTIME BULGE

Kimball rolled up a 19-0 lead at intermission and coasted to victory. Carl Roehling started the romp with a three-yard run, Bud Hurst tallied on a 10-yard pass from Jerry Wasen, and Wasen produced the third TD of the period with a 20-yard run. Rick Campbell took a 20-yard aerial from Wasen for the final Kimball tally in the fourth.

★ ★ ★

John Sehphard's four-yard run in the fourth kept Hazel Park from the shutout.

Clay Court Tennis May Move in '69

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — The National Clay Courts tennis championships, played in Milwaukee the past three years, may be in Indianapolis next year.

★ ★ ★

A U.S. Lawn Tennis Association official said Milwaukee may lose the tournament if it gets an open tournament. If Indianapolis gets the tournament, the Western Open would be played elsewhere.

Yomiuri Giants Cancel Plans

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's pro baseball club, The Yomiuri Giants, has canceled plans to train in Honolulu in February next year, a spokesman for the team said Saturday.

★ ★ ★

He said the plans were called off because the Honolulu Stadium will be under repair and not be usable from the middle of January.

N. Farmington Shares Crown

Blanks John Glenn; Groves Can't Help

The running of Paul Adamian and John Thomas Friday night at Wayne John Glenn carried North Farmington back to the prominence it last enjoyed in 1965.

The Raiders gained a share of the Northwest Suburban grid title for the first time in three years with their 35-0 rout off John Glenn.

Detroit Thurston trimmed Birmingham Groves, 21-6, to join NFHS in first place, and both expect company this afternoon after Oak Park visits Livonia. Franklin's only loss was at North Farmington last Saturday and it is a heavy favorite in bounce back.

★ ★ ★

Thomas started the North Farmington scoring at WJG, scampering 20 yards to complete a drive following the opening kickoff. The converted halfback later ran eight yards from his quarterback post to give the winners a 28-0 halftime bulge.

Adamian, a talented senior tailback, tallied the next two times the Raiders had the ball, running 21 and 15 yards. He ended the pointmaking with a 21-yard dash. Chuck Button kicked five straight PAT's.

Adamian gained 190 yards in 14 carries, picked off two enemy passes and made both receptions recorded by the winners.

Cards Nip Tokyo in Goodwill Tour

TOKYO (AP) — The National League champion St. Louis Cardinals needed every one of their 14 hits, including a homer by Lou Brock, to defeat Tokyo's Yomiuri Giants 9-8 Friday in the opening game of their goodwill tour of Japan.

The Giants, 1968 Japanese League champs, banged out 11 hits off three St. Louis pitchers, including ace righthander Bob Gibson. Gibson was tagged for four runs, including a homer, in the two innings he worked.

Stovall to Play in Sunday's Game

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Former LSU All-America Jerry Stovall was activated by St. Louis Friday for the Cardinals' National Football League match Sunday against New Orleans.

The defensive back has been out with a thigh bruise but team officials said they hope he will be ready by game time.

Kettering Victorious

Milford Off Throne

Milford's defending Wayne-Oakland League champion was unseated Friday night by a scrappy Northville eleven who along with Waterford Kettering, moved up two notches in the 1968 race.

Kettering shook off its losing ways with a rousing 40-19 conquest of Clarenceville. The Captains jumped past the Livonia unit in the standings, going from sixth to fourth place.

Northville also advanced from sixth to fourth with its 7-6 upset of Milford who slipped two games behind leader West Bloomfield with just one league outing remaining.

Both Milford and Northville had scoring bids thwarted by the other's defense in the opening half. The host Mustangs, though, pushed 60 yards after the second half kickoff to snap the tie.

Fred Holdsworth hauled in Rich Adams' pass for a 32-yard TD and Terry Mills added the decisive PAT. Milford came right back but was stopped when Barry Deal made a clutch interception in the Northville end zone.

But after a punt in the same period, the Redskins cracked the homesters' defense. The 55-yard drive was climaxed by Bob Clinard's 11-yard scoring aerial to Matt Partridge.

The run for the conversion was stopped. Northville stymied the visitors thereafter and registered a big Homecoming win.

EARLY CUSHION

Kettering jumped into a 27-0 first half margin behind the running of Mike Copeman. After short scoring runs of 3, 4 and 2 yards, the swift pigskin-toter scampered 15 yards to wrap up the first-half pointmaking.

Teammate Harry Booker went over twice on passes of 40 yards (from Jim Walton) and 35 (from Paul Curry) to offset three last-half TD's by Clarenceville.

Dave Brandemihl sandwiched scoring passes of 20 and 38 to Jim Trouteaud around a one-yard plunge by Bill Wagner. But Booker's two six-pointers and Barry Barker's third conversion kick kept WKHS comfortably ahead.

Kettering can finish 3-3 in its first W-O campaign by prevailing at winless Brighton next week. Copeman finished with 120 yards in 16 rushes, while Walton and Curry combined to hit 8 of 16 aerials for 186 yards.

U.S. Cage Team Convinces Critics of Its Ability

MEXICO CITY (AP) — America's pick-up basketball team, shunned by many of the top collegiate stars but molded into a precision outfit by Coach Henry Iba brought the United States its 40th gold medal of the Olympic Games.

The Americans, never beaten in Olympic basketball competition, whipped Yugoslavia 65-50 Friday night, extending their unbeaten Olympic string to 75 games.

Sleeping giant Russia awoke and grabbed a double fistful of medals, 16 in all, and pert Vera Caslavska of Czechoslovakia became the darling of the Games as she picked up three more gold medals in gymnastics for a total of four.

Russia's huge haul of medals, including five gold, pushed their total to 69, 27 of them gold. They're assured of at least six more medals today—the last full day of competition in these 19th Games—and also should collect another flock in men's gymnastics and Greco-Roman wrestling.

SWIM EVENTS

But the move may be too late. The United States, out-scored by Russia in total medals in every Olympics since 1952 now has 99 medals and should add to that in the final three swimming events, which the Americans have dominated.

Claudia Kolb, Santa Clara, Calif., took the women's 400-meter individual medley by 40 meters in olympic record time of 5:08.5, and Lillian "Pokey" Watson, a UCLA freshman, took the women's 200-meter backstroke in 2:24.8, also an Olympic record.

They represented the 19th and 20th golds collected by the swimming and diving team—but the day belonged to the basketball team.

★ ★ ★

They trailed several times during the first half and led only 32-29 at halftime, but Jo Jo White and Spencer Haywood of Detroit scored 26 points in 12 minutes of the second half. Haywood finished with 23 points and White with 14

"We knew we were not expected to win," said Haywood, a doubtful starter because of a case of diarrhea. "We knew we were a downgraded team and this made us want to prove something to ourselves."

"I play 40 minutes," said Iba. "I don't play 10. At the half, I told my boys not to worry—to go out and get the basketball as fast as we can. I told them if they had a shot to take it."

ALL OVER

Haywood and White, behind an aggressive defense, did just that. The United States reeled off 10 consecutive points at the start of the half and it was all over.

Russia, silver medalists in the four previous games, settled for the bronze medal, beating Brazil 70-53.

Miss Caslavska, a 26-year-old blonde, captured the imagination of the Mexican fans with her graceful, athletic, near-perfect performances in women's gymnastics.

★ ★ ★

She had taken the women's all-around title Wednesday, and Friday won vault horse and uneven parallel bars competition, and tied for first with Larissa Petrik of Russia in floor exercises. Both were awarded gold medals.

The Russians also picked up two gold medals, and a total of six, in canoeing, and Ivan Izimov, riding Ijor, won the individual dressage.

Defending champion Ludmilla Pinaeva won the women's 500-meter kayak singles in 2:11.09, and Alexander Shaparenko and Vladimir Morozov took the men's double kayaks, finishing the 1,000 meters in 3:37.54.

U.S. BLANKED

Hungary dominated the canoeing competition with two gold, three silver and one bronze. The United States was blanked.

Miss Kolb, 18, winner of two gold medals, announced her retirement from competitive swimming after accepting the gold medal for the 400-meter individual medley.

One more bizarre incident was added to the long list of controversies, this time in Greco-Roman wrestling.

★ ★ ★

A Bulgarian, Hristo Traikov, who scored a clean win over American bantamweight David Hazewinkel of Coon Rapids, Minn., was disqualified when it was discovered he was sniffing smelling salts in a towel during the elimination bout.

★ ★ ★

"You know it is not allowed to eat, drink or even breathe during these games," said international wrestling doctor Per Stromback of Sweden. "The Bulgarian breathed smelling salts from his towel. We had to throw him out."

Dick Tiger Bounces Back to Gain Ring Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Tiger is getting old for a fighter but he's not ready for medicare. And no visits from doctors either, please.

Tiger was knocked down in the fourth round—his second trip to the canvas in the fight—of his light heavyweight battle with Frank DePaula, and at the end of the round the fight physician visited Tiger's corner.

★ ★ ★

"Where are you Dick?" asked the doctor.

"Doc, what are you talking about?" Tiger replied, "I'm in Madison Square Garden fighting."

Fighting he was, and the 39-year-old former middleweight and light heavyweight champion from Biafra did most of it for the next six rounds to win a unanimous decision over the 29-year-old slugger from Jersey City, N.J.

The crowd of 13,201, which paid a gross of $105,756, spent very little time in its seats during the first four rounds as each fighter was knocked down twice.

LEFT HOOK

DePaula floored Tiger in the second round with a left hook. Tiger then dropped DePaula twice in the third round and had him in real trouble for the last minute of the round, but DePaula came back to deck Tiger again in the fourth.

DePaula hurt his right thumb in the fourth round and it cut down some of his fire power. However, Tiger also helped his own cause by staying in close and working on DePaula's body. Tiger was shaken a few times in the last three rounds but he won most of the rounds by his steadier punching.

So the old man probably will get another shot at the light heavyweight title Bob Foster took from him with a fourth-round knockout last May.

No Need to Worry About Cutoff Point

COSTA MESA, Calif. (AP) — Ninety-nine golfers headed into the third round of the $110,000 Haig National Open Tournament today, paced by a young man who was afraid he might not qualify for the final 36 holes.

Bob Dickson of Tulsa, Okla., a rookie in professional golf but internationally known as an amateur, hit the mid-way point with rounds of 68-65—133 and a lead of two strokes.

★ ★ ★

Dickson, 24, a 210-pound, 6-foot-3, with sandy hair, finished the Friday round early and said he doubted his lead would stand up.

★ ★ ★

Dickson in 1967 won the U.S. and British amateur championships, the first to win these crowns in the same year since the late Lawson Little scored the double in 1934 and 1935.

★ ★ ★

As play got under way over the 6,650-yard, par 36-35—71 Mesa Verde Country Club course, Dickson's nearest challengers were Bruce Crampton, Bill Collins and a relative unknown, Dick Rhyan Jr., from Sylvania, Ohio.

Lions Aiming for No. 1 Spot

No other Goal Set; Play 49ers Sunday

DETROIT (AP) — "No. 1" is the only figure the Detroit Lions are aiming for this season as they prepare to meet the San Francisco 49ers in a National Football League game Sunday in Detroit.

As the leading team in the Central Division of the NFL, the Lions have powered to their 3-2-1 record with Bill Munson as the No. 1 passer in the league and Mel Farr as the top rusher.

★ ★ ★

With a year's experience backing him up, Farr has rushed for 490 yards. Munson, acquired this year from Los Angeles in a trade, has clicked on 65 of his 98 attempts, for 943 yards and nine touchdowns.

But the 49ers have their own NFL No. 1 threat, too—Clifton McNeil who in his first year with San Francisco already has snagged 34 passes.

EVEN RECORD

The 49ers enter the contest with a 3-3 record.

Undoubtedly the biggest challenge to the 49ers combination of quarterback John Brodie and McNeil will be cornerback Lem Barney. Barney has robbed opponents of four passes this season. The other Lions cornerback, Dick LeBeau, has intercepted two.

DRC Purchase Offer Made

Minority Stockholder Threatens to Sue

DETROIT (AP) — Plans to purchase the Detroit Race Course—reportedly worth upwards of $6 million and the largest horse racing facility in Michigan—were announced Friday in a surprise move.

Detroit sportsman Frederick L. Van Lennep, whose interests have been mainly with harness racing, said he was heading a Detroit-based group that has offered to purchase the DRC, which ends its 84-day thoroughbred meet Nov. 2

★ ★ ★

He declined to release details of the offer.

William McKay, DRC president, said 340,000 shares of stock have been selling across the counter for $10 a share.

"If ultimately accepted and the sale is consummated, the stockholders will get more than that," McKay said, "and they will all be treated equally."

One stockholder, Joseph Spadea, has threatened to file suit in Oakland County court to block the sale in behalf of minority stockholders.

MAKES CLAIM

Spadea had charged other DRC officials with improper management and claimed the course was in financial trouble.

Asked if Spadea's charge that the track was in financial trouble were true, McKay said, "categorically not."

"It's an absurd charge," he added. "It's obviously just made to further his course of harassment."

★ ★ ★

McKay said Spadea owns 1.4 per cent of the stock of DRC. Spadea's attorney, Carlton S. Roeser, put the figure at 4,820 shares.

McKay accused Spadea of harassing other owners because, McKay said, Spadea is trying to sell his stock for "an extra high price."

★ ★ ★

Kathy Cornelius finished the first 18 holes with 32-38—70 to take second place. Clifford Ann Creed, Sybil Griffin, Sherry Wilder and Carol Mann were tied for third with one-over-par 72s.

★ ★ ★

The $12,500 tournament at the 6,400-yard Montgomery County course will end Sunday.

Detroit Downs 76ers

Piston Coach Happy

By The Associated Press

A third child and a second straight victory have to make Dennis Butcher the happiest man in the National Basketball Association today.

The Detroit coach, plagued by recent rumors that all was not harmony between him and his players after losing their first three games of the season, welcomed the birth of his third child Friday afternoon. And in the evening, he welcomed the Pistons' second victory in a row, a 132-122 decision over Philadelphia in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

In the other two games, Los Angeles beat Baltimore 117-111 and Seattle tripped Atlanta 123-112.

In the only American Basketball Association contest, visiting Kentucky held off the New York Nets 99-92.

The Pistons, who held a 63-61 lead at intermission, wasted little time building a 21-point bulge from there behind Dave Bing, Happy Hairston and Dave DeBusschere.

The 76ers did close within six points with little more than a minute left but Bing dropped in three points and Eddie Miles a rebound for the clinchers.

Bing finished with 37 points and Hairston contributed 31. Hal Greer had 30 points for the 76ers.

PACED LAKERS

Jerry West, with 34 points, and Wilt Chamberlain, with 24, paced the Lakers to their home victory over Baltimore. A 17-2 spurt in the second period gave them a 47-31 lead and they stayed ahead. Gus Johnson topped the Bullets with 27 points.

Tom Meschery and Len Wilkens provided the scoring punch with 24 and 21 points, respectively, in triggering the Sonics' success over the Hawks at Seattle. Joe Caldwell was high for Atlanta with 23.

Louie Dampier and Darel Carrier combined for 54 points, 27 each, to lead Kentucky over New York in the ABA. It was the home opener at Commack, N.Y., for the Nets, known last year as the New Jersey Americans. Walt Simon and Dan Anderson each got 15 points to lead the Nets.

Taliaferro Leads Boston in Return to Namathland

By United Press International

The last time Mike Taliaferro trotted onto the turf at Shea Stadium in New York, he was garbed in the green and white of the New York Jets and playing the role of understudy to Joe Namath.

★ ★ ★

Sunday, Taliaferro will be on the other side of the field — in the red, white and blue of Boston, and he will be attempting to direct the Patriots to their first victory over the Jets since 1965.

★ ★ ★

A Boston win would deadlock the two teams at the top of the Eastern Division of the American Football League.

Taliaferro, a five-year veteran, spent his first four years sitting on the bench behind Namath. In an earlier meeting between the two teams this year, in Birmingham, Taliaferro completed 17 of 30 passes for 276 yards — compared to 13 out 25 completions for 196 yards by Namath — but the Jets also picked off four Taliaferro passes and won 47-31.

HEAD-TO-HEAD

The Boston-New York game shares the spotlight Sunday with the head-to-head encounter between Western Division leader Kansas City and runnerup San Diego.

In other AFL action, Miami is at Denver, Houston at Buffalo and Cincinnati at Oakland.

The Jets are best known for their high-flying offense, but go into the game with Buffalo with the AFL's leading defense. The two teams to beat New York — Buffalo and Denver — have accounted for all three Boston victories. Besides New York, Buffalo lost also to Oakland and Houston.

The Patriots have Jim Nance back in good health again, which means the Boston ground game should be considerably stronger. Field goal specialist Gino Cappelletti needs only 11 points to hit the 1,000-point mark in his career.

Waterford Twp. Slates Hearing on 1969 Budget

A public hearing on the 1969 Waterford Township budget will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Waterford Township High School, Crescent Lake and M-59.

The proposed budget of $1,618,000 is $142,000 higher than current 1968 expenditures.

★ ★ ★

Much of the increase is for salary adjustments. Another $25,000 has been allocated for purchase of a fire truck.

★ ★ ★

The township board will also consider an ordinance amendment that would reduce sewer rates for multiple dwellings by 60 per cent.

News in Brief

An estimated $200 worth of tools were reported stolen some time last night from a garage at the Pontiac Municipal Golf Course, 800 Golf Dr., according to Pontiac police. A plywood panel in a garage door was kicked out to gain entry.

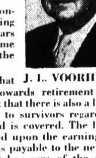
Reflections

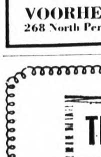
SOCIAL SECURITY

The Social Security Act was passed by Congress with the primary purpose of providing for individuals after their working years have been completed. At the present time nine out of ten people are covered by the Social Security law.



J. L. VOORHEES

Most people today are aware of the fact that they are building towards retirement but very few are cognizant that there is also a lump sum benefit payable to survivors regardless of age if the deceased is covered. The lump sum payment is based upon the earnings of the individual. This is payable to the next of kin or to whoever takes care of the final arrangements even though no relationship exists.



M. E. SIPLE

In addition to the lump sum payment, a monthly check is paid to a widow regardless of her age when there are dependent children under 18 years of age. All claims must be submitted within two years from the date of death.

THINK ABOUT IT!

HOW WE WIN

Victory vs. defeat. Victory is not always commendable. And surely, defeat need not be disgraceful.

In human experience, there are levels in both victory and defeat. For example, when we see a bewildered man defeated because he lacked the courage to win, we pity his pathetic picture. But, when we see a courageous man going down to defeat after trying his best to win, we glory him in defeat. At times it can even be a tragic defeat. This is especially true if a principle of justice, integrity, fair play or personal honor is involved.

None of us can win every time. How we lose is often more important than how we win. To succumb or be subdued because we lack the courage for the struggle to win is the only time disgrace can be linked to defeat. Actually, it is possible to win when one loses. Man Bound Over on a Charge of Resisting Arrest

Springfield Township Justice Emmett Leib yesterday bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court a Roseville attorney charged with resisting arrest.

★ ★ ★

The attorney, Wilson M. Jackson, 50, was released on $1,000 bond, pending Circuit Court arraignment Nov. 8.

★ ★ ★

Last month, Jackson filed a $900,000 false arrest suit against State Police Trooper Robert Beadle, the officer who charged the attorney with resisting arrest after stopping Jackson June 7 on I-75 near Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Jackson has demanded a jury trial on the traffic charges for which he was stopped.

These charges were speeding, driving with a suspended license and driving without proof of insurance.

Boy Hospitalized After 1-Car Crash

Listed in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with multiple facial and head cuts is a 16-year-old Madison Heights youth, injured in a single-car accident last night in Independence Township.

★ ★ ★

Terry Kenski was a passenger in a car driven by Winifred L. Bates, 17, also of Madison Heights.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said the car, going south on Sashabaw a half-mile south of Pine Knob Road, left the road about 11:15 last night.

★ ★ ★

Bates told officers he lost control of the car when it slipped off the pavement. Bates was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital.

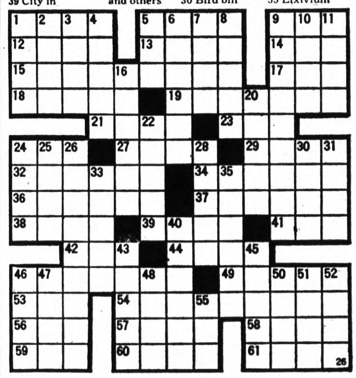
Answer to Previous Puzzle



Striking Bus Drivers Face Firing in Clio

CLIO (AP)—The Clio Board of Education Friday issued a warning to striking school bus drivers that if they don't return to work by 4 p.m. Monday they will be fired.

* * *

The board also advised its attorney to start legal action against the drivers and began locking up their buses in a central compound.

* * *

The drivers are striking for higher wages and have set up picket lines. Teachers won't cross the lines and thus schools are closed.

Carpenters End 2-Month Strike

MUSKEGON (AP) — Striking carpenters ratified a new three-year contract with the American Store Equipment Co. of Muskegon Friday and are scheduled to return to work Monday.

* * *

The Muskegon plant employs 120 carpenters, who walked out last Aug. 15 in support of new contract demands. The carpenters are members of Local 1033.

3 Youths Feared Drowned

An air-and-water search continued today for three West Bloomfield Township teen-agers who were reported missing and presumed drowned yesterday during a duck-hunting trip in Saginaw Bay off Bay Port in Huron County.

The youths have been identified by authorities as Michael Weakland, 18, of 1940 Allendale, Kenneth Krieg, 18, of 1911 Auburndale, and Edward Lowen, 16, of 1841 Auburndale.

Weakland and Krieg are juniors at West Bloomfield High School. Lowen is in the eighth grade at Abbott Junior High.

The boys were reported missing by Weakland's father James after he and a Huron County resident, Robert Rowe of Mud Creek, found the boys' 14-foot boat submerged about a half mile off shore from Wallace Cut north of Bay Port.

SEARCH LAUNCHED

Weakland had launched the search when the boys failed to return to keep an appointment with him around noon.

★ ★ ★

It was about 5½ hours later when the small craft was discovered. Later, 20 duck decoys the boys had taken with them were found strewn along the beach of Wild Fowl Bay near Bay Port.

★ ★ ★

Law enforcement authorities in the area were called in, but when it became dark their search was called off until daybreak this morning.

★ ★ ★

Taking part in the search are deputies from the marine Division of the Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola counties sheriff departments, as well as the U.S. Coast Guard from Bay City.

Huron County deputies said that they were told that there were no life preservers aboard the boat, but that there were a couple floatable cushions.

★ ★ ★

During the night temperatures in the area dropped to freezing, though the water temperature stayed at around 50 degrees, according to deputies.

★ ★ ★

When the three boys left about 8 a.m. yesterday they headed for North Island at the mouth of Wild Fowl Bay, according to police. The small island is about five miles offshore. The water was reportedly "rough" at the time.

IT'S JUST ROUTINE — Men of the U.S. 199th Light Infantry Brigade move out on a patrol through northern Mekong delta. The unit is responsible for security of Saigon's southern approaches. It conducts patrols like this one on a daily basis. Related story, Page A-2.

32 of 42 Die in N.Hampshire Airliner Crash

HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — A Northeast Airlines plane carrying 39 passengers and a crew of three crashed in a fog and burned 60 feet from the top of 2,700-foot Moose Mountain near Hanover last night. Thirty-two died. Helicopters took the 10 survivors off the mountain.

Northeast said the pilot, Capt. John A. Rapsis, 52, of Nashua, N.H., with the airline 14 years, had made the trip "hundreds of times." He was not among the survivors.

★ ★ ★

The hospital said one of the injured, Bernard Desmond Jr. of Springfield, Vt., was in critical condition. He suffered head injuries. The rescue helicopters landed in the glare of auto headlights on the campus green at Dartmouth College. Ambulances whisked the injured three blocks to the hospital.

Rescuers who had labored for hours in the rough, rocky terrain, guided at times only by flashlights, suspended work until daybreak.

1½ HOURS LATE

The Fairchild-Hiller FH227 propjet left Boston at 4:55 p.m. with 17 passengers for Lebanon, N.H., and 22 for Montpelier, Vt. an hour and a half after the plane's scheduled 5:30 p.m. arrival at Lebanon, Northeast announced it was overdue.

Almost simultaneously, a fire that lit the sky was spotted high on Moose Mountain and fire fighters and volunteers began the tortuous climb.

★ ★ ★

Two women and a man walked to the helicopter landing area. The other survivors were carried out. The helicopters brought in doctors and medical supplies.

Attempts to use bulldozers to make a road to the crash site were abandoned.

The plane was making an approach to Lebanon airport when it crashed seven miles northeast of the field. The U.S. Weather Bureau in Boston said there was overcast at 2,000 feet at Lebanon, low enough to obscure higher peaks.

Cosmonaut Orbits; 1st Since April '67

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today launched a rookie cosmonaut into space, its first manned shot in more than a year, the news agency Tass reported.

The ship, Soyuz 3, carried Col. Georgy Beregovoi on his first trip into orbit, Tass said. It identified him as a "Soviet pilot-cosmonaut, hero of the Soviet Union and a merited test pilot."

★ ★ ★

Tass said Beregovoi has "started fulfilling the program of the flight" but issued no details of what maneuvers might be performed. It said Beregovoi "feels well" and all systems aboard the craft were functioning normally.

The last Soviet manned space flight was Soyuz 1, launched in April 1967. It crashed to earth, killing Cosmonaut Vladimir Kommarov.

12TH IN ORBIT

Beregovio is the 12th Soviet cosmonaut to be put into orbit.

Those before him have achieved an impressive list of "firsts," including the first manned launching and Alexei Lekov's first space walk in March 1965.

★ ★ ★

Soviet space plans are not announced in advance, so that failures are not publicized unless the circumstances are extraordinary, such as the death of Kommarov.

★ ★ ★

Although the Soviet space program is veiled in secrecy, there had been indications that the Russians would concentrate on unmanned experiments. Cosmonauts traveling aboard made no mention of plans to send a man into orbit.

Tass said the ship was launched at 11:34 a.m. Moscow time by "a powerful rocket booster."

The ship may have been launched to coincide with the Oct. 28 anniversary of the Community youth organization Komsomol and the 51st birthday of the Soviet state Nov. 7.

LBJ Presses Secret Talks?

Bomb Halt Bid Still Alive

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite an angry denial from Hanoi of any bombing-halt deal, President Johnson was reported today to be pressing ahead with secret negotiations for an agreement with North Vietnam to deescalate the war.

While the Hanoi blast could be read as a rejection of Johnson's still-secret proposals, authorities chose to interpret it as a propaganda attack which did not necessarily reflect the final decision of North Vietnamese leaders.

★ ★ ★

The broadcast by Hanoi radio yesterday, however, was receiving careful study.

As reported in press dispatches from Hong Kong, it said:

"Statements by U.S. propagandists that Hanoi has accepted U.S. conditions in return for a bombing halt are nothing but deliberate lies.

'DELIBERATE LIES

"These deliberate falsehoods, which have no foundation whatsoever in truth, are nothing but an attempt at psychological warfare aimed at spreading confusion and misleading public opinion."

Washington authorities took the position that there was still at least an even chance, probably better, for reaching some understanding on scaling down the war and advancing the Paris peace talks which would enable Johnson to end the bombing in the near future. This estimate presumably figured in a statement made yesterday by Republican presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon in New York.

★ ★ ★

"I am told," Nixon said, "that top officials in the administration have been driving very hard for an agreement on a bombing halt, accompanied possibly by a cease-fire, in the immediate future. I have since learned these reports are true."

News dispatches from Saigon reported yesterday that President Nguyen Van Thieu had informed U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker that he would approve the National Liberation Front's presence at the negotiating table only if representatives were a part of the Hanoi delegation.

U.S. Is Pushing for Truce—Nixon

By United Press International

Richard M. Nixon says he has received confirmed reports a cease-fire may be included in an agreement to halt U.S. bombing in Vietnam.

The Republican presidential candidate said yesterday he had been told within "the last 36 hours" that top officials in the Johnson administration "have been driving very hard for an agreement on a bombing halt, accompanied possibly by a cease-fire, in the immediate future."

★ ★ ★

Vice President Humphrey, meanwhile, criticized his Republican rival for speaking irresponsibly — accusing Nixon of playing politics with our national security, undermining the confidence of our allies, encouraging recklessness among our enemies and undermining our long and patient efforts to bring a rational end to the madness of the strategic arms race."

American Independent third party candidate George Wallace ran into noisy heckling yesterday as he campaigned in New Jersey.

OFFERED A CHANCE

Edmund Muskei, the Democratic vice presidential candidate, offered a group of Wallace supporters in Vermont a chance to speak their minds. But they declined and walked out.

Spiro T. Agnew, the GOP nominee for vice president campaigning in Minneapolis, said Humphrey's "only answer to our problems is to spend, spend, spend."

NY Labor Woes No Nearer End

NEW YORK (AP) — The school dispute remained deadlocked today after the state proposed — and the teachers' union rejected — a formula for ending the walkout that has cost more than a million pupils 21 days of classes.

Nor was there any change in the status of the city's other labor woes as leaders of 32,500 unionized policemen and firemen defied a state Supreme Court order and told their men to continue their work slowdowns.

★ ★ ★

In the school crisis, State Education Commissioner James E. Allen's offer was rejected by Albert Shanker, president of the striking 55,000-member AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers, who termed it "obviously a complete capitulation to the demands" of the local board.

★ ★ ★

In the work slowdowns, State Supreme Court Justice Saul S. Streit issued a back-to-work order for 22,000 patrolmen and 10,500 firemen — but the mandate was no more effective than similar actions in the teachers' strike.

Enemy Suffers Heavy Casualties

GIs Repel Red Attackers

SAIGON (AP) — A strong enemy force attacked U.S. troops today, 59 miles north of Saigon, but was beaten back with heavy casualties.

It was the first enemy-initiated combat in a month, coinciding with statements from Hanoi rejecting U.S. peace overtures.

American spokesmen said about 200 enemy, supported by a mortar barrage, attacked a bivouac position of U.S. 1st Division infantrymen two miles from the Cambodian border.

The attack followed an artillery barrage on Vietcong base camps in the area that triggered 128 secondary explosions, indicating that sibable munitions dumps were blown up.

FREQUENT TARGET

The storage site was seven miles east of the Katum Special Forces camp, a frequent target of enemy shellings.

The spokesmen also reported that allied troops killed 46 enemy for every American or allied soldier lost in combat in the past two days, an extraordinary high kill ratio.

In today's battle near the Cambodian border, the U.S. infantrymen called in artillery strikes on the attackers. After a fierce fire-fight they found 80 enemy bodies around the camp perimeter. U.S. losses were five killed and 28 wounded.

A senior American spokesman said he did not consider today's fighting an end to the month-long lull in the ground war. He said he didn't think the enemy attack was premeditated.

INFILTRATION ROUTE

"I think this is a traditional Vietcong infiltration route," he said. "The 1st Division troops probably just got in the way. Any time we get into an area where they don't want us, they'll fight."

Today's battle raised to 516 the number of enemy troops killed since yesterday. Military spokesmen said 963 enemy have been killed in the past five days across South Vietnam.

* * *

Striking from land, sea and air, allied forces killed 436 enemy yesterday in two battles along a 260-mile stretch of coast from the demilitarized zone to Nha Trang.

Troops of the U.S. 5th Mechanized Infantry Division, supported by jet fighter-bombers, helicopter gunships, artillery and offshore bombardments from the battleship New Jersey, decimated more than half of an estimated 400-strong North Vietnamese force.

* * *

In the second fight, 260 miles south of the DMZ near Nha Trang, South Korean infantrymen from the White Horse Division cordoned off a mountainous area honeycombed with natural caves.

Backed up by U.S. air strikes and artillery they killed 204 enemy soldiers in 16 separate engagements that tapered off late yesterday.

CARDINAL TO RESIGN — Richard Cardinal Cushing, 74, said yesterday he will resign as archbishop of Boston at the end of the year, citing publicity he received after his defense of Jacqueline Kennedy's marriage to Aristotle Onassis. Four Bellwether Counties Lean Toward Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four of five counties considered political weathervanes because they backed every winning presidential candidate in the 20th Century are leaning toward Republican Richard M. Nixon, a variety of indicators show.

* * *

A fifth, Palo Alto County, Iowa, is considered very close, partly because of uncertainty as to how many normally Republican voters will support third-party candiate George C. Wallace.

* * *

In all five, an Associated Press survey of local political leaders, newspaper editors and registered voters shows Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey far behind the 1964 position of President Johnson, who carried them then by top-heavy majorities.

* * *

The four in which Nixon is considered ahead are Coos and Stafford counties, N.H., Crook County, Ore., and Laramie County, Wyo. The surveys were made earlier this month.

MAKEUP OF COUNTIES

The counties range from predominantly urban Stafford to the farmland of Palo Alto to sparsely settled Crook. Two, Coos and Laramie, combine normally Democratic industrial areas with predominantly Republican rural regions.

* * *

Many interviews brought out a feeling uncertainty or confusion over the three-cornered campaign pitting Humphrey and Nixon against American Independent candidate George C. Wallace.

* * *

Another theme, heard in all five, was a desire to change parties in power, if only to try something different.

* * *

In Palo Alto County, Iowa, a farm area with declining population but no Negroes or crime. Democratic chairman Richard Kibbie of Curlew says his party is behind, but "the momentum has swung to Humphrey and we'll be on top by election day." Republican Chairman John F. Doran says "If the Wallace vote is big, the Democrats win."

Turkey Wooed by De Gaulle

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Seeking to build French influence in the Middle East, President Charles de Gaulle begins talks today with Turkey's President Cevdet Sunay.

The 77-year-old French chief of state, who arrived yesterday for a five-day state visit, urged this key nation in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to join France in breaking ties with power blocs that "divide Europe."

* * *

The two statements were seen as evidence of the independent role de Gaulle has been trying to steer with the Moslem countries of the Middle East since the Arab-Israeli war on June 1967.

An increasing friendship with the Soviets and riots that broke out last summer when the U.S. 6th Fleet visited Turkey indicate de Gaulle may find fertile ground for his efforts.

* * *

Officials estimated 100,000 persons lined the streets of the capital to see de Gaulle in a motorcade, rivaling the throng that turned out to see President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1958.

Bonn Eyeing Spy Case

BONN, Germany (AP) — The disclosure that six Communist East German agents were hurriedly pulled out of West Germany early this month has increased speculation that a major spy case might be developing.

Conrad Ahlers, a West German government spokesman, told newsmen about the agents Friday. Informants in Bonn are speculating that removal of the agents might be connected with the suicides and violent deaths of three senior German officers and two government employes.

Quinine Price-Fix Charged Against 15 Firms, 8 Persons

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifteen U.S. and foreign companies have been accused by the Justice Department of conspiring to fix prices and monopolize the sale of quinine and drugs related to it.

The 15, along with eight of their executives, were named Friday in an indictment charging them with violations of the Sherman Antitrust Law.

The American firms involved are the Rexall Drug and Chemical Co. of Los Angeles; Mead Johnson and Co. of Evansville, Ind. and R.W. Greef and Co. Inc., a New York importing firm.

The only American executive named was Harry Y. de Schepper, president of R.W. Greef.

A spokesman for Rexall said the antitrust action concerns certain quinine transactions of a British firm formerly owned by Rexall's British subsidiary. He said the firm was liquidated in 1964.

He said Recall had no knowledge of the quinine transactions complained of and was cooperating with the Justice Department's investigation.

* * *

Officials of the other companies named were not available for comment.

The companies are charged with conspiring to defraud the U.S. government during its sale of 13.8 million ounces of stockpiled cinchona tree bark from 1960 to 1964.

The bark is used to manufacture quinine, the anti-malaria drug, and quindine, used against heart disorders.

The indictment charges that the companies conspired so that only two of them submitted bids for the cinchona, which was later apportioned among the rest.

* * *

The two bidders were the N.V. Nederlandsche Combinatie Voor Chemische Industrie (Nedchem) of Holland and Buchler & Co. of Germany.

Of the other companies indicted, four are based in the Netherlands, three in West Germany, two in Great Britain and one in France.

Maximum punishment for violation of the Sherman Act is a $50,000 fine for the company and a $50,000 fine and one year in jail for the individuals involved.

COG SPEAKER — Milford Township Supervisor William L. Mainland, chairman of the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (COG), addresses the COG General Assembly yesterday during its meeting in Detroit. Main item of business was adoption of a 1969 budget for the regional organization.

$525,000 Budget Adopted by COG; Reports Are Aired

The Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (COG) approved a $525,000 budget for 1969 yesterday and heard several progress reports in their general assembly yesterday.

Meeting in Detroit's Veterans Memorial, COG approved the budget as a "flexible" amount. Amost half of the total, $240,000, is dependent on grants from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

* * *

Most of the rest of the anticipated income will come from fees charged to memberships. Governmental units and school districts in the six-county area belonging to COG pay yearly fees on the basis of population.

In expected costs, most expense will go for salaries, $303,000. The COG organization will complete its first year of existence this Dec. 31.

'ORGANIZATIONAL STAGE'

Executive director of COG, E. Robert Turner, reported COG is still in an organizational stage and a more exact budget presentation was not possible.

Chairman of COG, William Mainland of Milford Township, also touched upon the formative phase of COG's existence.

* * *

He said, "No dramatic steps have been taken, but we are laying foundations."

An indication of what areas COG is working in was revealed in reports given by officials and by committee members. Among the projects reported on were:

- Implementation of an area cooperative solid waste disposal program.
- Development of a study for comprehensive health planning or coordination.
- A public safety program.
- Promotion and coordination of water pollution control.
- Uniform building code and enforcement.
- Deevlopment of a reigonal joint purchasing program. (A questionnaire concerning this is going out to school districts, it was announced.

Talks Deteriorate in UAW Flint Strike

FLINT (UPI) — The 10-day-old Buick Division strike was marked Friday by a set of discouraging negotiations in which both General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers Local 599 blamed the other for the walkout.

The strike has idled 21,000 workers here and threatened Buick production elsewhere.

The union was charging the walkout was touched off by a work speedup, but GM officials countered that those charges were a front in order to wring concessions from the auto maker.

If the dispute continues into next week, Buick Division General Manager R. L. Kessler said production could be hampered or halted in GM assembly plants in Wilmington, Del., Kansas City, Kan., Doraville, Ga., and Fremont and South Gate, Calif.

'Teachers Can Better Ghetto Pupils' Lives'

Disadvantaged students will achieve more if teachers "treat them as human beings with potential," a national teacher organization coordinator told some 400 Pontiac educators yesterday.

"'If we recognize these students as individuals and treat them as having potential we can improve their lives," Boyd Bosma, coordinator for civil liberties of the new Human Relations Center of the National Education Association in Washington, D.C., said.

* * *

He was the main speaker at the Pontiac Education Association regional conference on human relations. His topic was "The Human Relations Center: Its Purpose, Activities and Goals."

Bosma said the following paragraph from the Pontiac schools' Citizens Committee on Equality of Educational Opportunity (EEO) is what teachers need to do:

"It is an accepted fact that the reference to the so-called disadvantaged youth is primarily a reference to minority group youths and this paragraph (one preceding, describing disadvantaged youth) presents a very negative picture of them and their environment.

"The background of some of these students may be different from that of the 'middle class' students but it is not sterile — they have many rich and varied experiences. These students cannot be helped to realize their full potential if educators see their 'mission' to be one of compensating for the 'sterile environment.'

"The Pontiac school system cannot begin to recruit personnel who are fully qualified until the system itself becomes aware of both the positive and negative realities of life that these children face.

* * *

"Recruiting of competent teachers and administrators is impossible until the system defines more adequately for itself just what equal educational opportunity is when applied to children from economically deprived families.

"The needs of the children must be understood and accepted before the qualities desired in the professional staff can be determined."

PROGRAM PRAISED

He praised the program at Bethune Elementary School which instills a positive self-concept in pupils.

The rest of the all-day program included small group sessions and a review of the EEO report.

Recent Sale Opens Vistas for Creative Continuum Grads

By JUNE ELERT

Like some 1500 other women during the past three years, June Wisby of Birmingham enrolled in the "Investigation Into Identity" program offered by the Continuum Center for Women at Oakland University.

Sometime during that period Emma Auld of New Life Lane, Avon Township, also went through the program, as did Donna Kaipio of Southfield, Margaret Malanyn of Dearborn, Adele Vickers of Royal Oak, Julie Wieferman, Mount Clemens, Jo-Anne Westerby, Troy, and others.

* * *

These women, strangers to each other, had several things in common. They did not fit into the usual pattern of program graduates because:

- They were not really interested in going back to work on a five-days-a-week basis.
- They were not primarily interested in returning to College.
- They wanted something else to do besides the volunteer work that was the third alternative offered.

Most of them were married women, restricted in their activities by the necessity of caring for homes and families. And they all possessed creative talents of one kind or another. Their homes were overflowing with the products of their minds and hands.

Their talents run the gamut from flower arrangements to sculpture, including charcoal portraits, oils, pastels, watercolors, fused glass, jewelry and many other crafts items.

Out of all this has sprung a new organization, the "Continuum Center of Creativity" through which these women hope to channel their marketable products into the public eye through the media of art shows and sales.

Their objective, quite frankly, is to make money.

As several of them put it, "There comes a time when the praise of friends and loving relatives becomes just a tiny bit forced. You know they really like your work, but it's just not enough."

They displayed their work last week in the basement of the Hobby Mall in Rochester, and racked up sales, individually, ranging from $4 to $200.

Natalie Halpern was down with the flu when a telephone call informed her that her sculptured figure of the Biblical Ruth had been sold. She said, "All of a sudden I felt much better.

A $200 score on the first try is enough to raise the spirits of any aspiring artist.

Dorothy Abramson, who paints in oils, was not so lucky, but said, "I'm dejected but not discouraged." She has sold some of her work in the past.

FUTURE PLANS

Barbara Hoffmann, presiding at the post sale meeting where checks were handed out, urged members to "take themselves seriously." She said the show's success (total sales of over $400) proved that they should "quit looking upon themselves as amateurs."

They discussed plans for the future which would take them out of the category of "a roaming rummage sale," as Barbara expressed it.

The group is a hard-core nucleous of 30 women. Another sale is contemplated some time in December.

* * *

Credit for the formation of the group is given to Lee Santiwan, employment adviser for the Continuum Center, who recognized the need for an opportunity for these women to exchange ideas and obtain know-how to market their products.

The Continuum Center provides the group with a location for their once-a-month meetings.

The guiding spirit behind a new organization, "The Continuum Center of Creativity," is Mrs. Phillip D. (Barbara) Hoffmann, left, of West Tienken Road, Avon Township. At right is Mrs. M. S. (Natalie) Halpern of Oak Park whose "Kneeling Figure of Ruth" brought her the thrill of a first sale recently. Barbara's specialty is glass tile mosaics.

Mrs. William Gay of Bingham Farms displays a number of the products of her creativity. She works in many crafts media, including wall hangings, creative stitchery, sand castings, silk screening, etc.

Cushing's Charity Toward Jackie Lauded by Catholic Free Press

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Catholic Free Press today praised Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Boston, for his remarks about the wedding of Jacqueline Kennedy and Aristotle Onassis.

"We leave it to the theologians and the canon lawyers to discuss the validity of both the cardinal's remarks and the validity of the marriage," the newspaper said.

* * *

"But we welcome his impassioned plea for charity. . . . This is the whole meaning of the Second Vatican Council; love for the individual person and total charity."

The Free Press is the official newspaper of the diocese of Worcester, but is edited by laymen and given editorial freedom by Bishop Bernard J. Flanagan of Worcester.

* * *

In an address Tuesday to the Caritas Guild in Boston, Cardinal Cushing said Jacqueline Kennedy should not be condemned for marrying Onassis, a divorced man, and those criticizing the marriage should be more charitable toward her.

MAKE OVER PACE Women Wishes to End Yearly Yule Presents

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: In what way would it be proper to inform relatives that I can't exchange Christmas gifts with them this year? This is a difficult financial problem for us.

Please don't suggest homemade items as I am the unhandiest person and really have not the time.—Mrs. Burns

Dear Mrs. Burns: Frankness is the only answer. Well in advance before the relatives have bought presents, call or write: "Let's just make it cards this year please. With the baby coming, we just can't give presents . . ."

BRIDESMAID'S LODGING

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter has asked three girl friends from New York to be her attendants in her wedding in Miami. Who pays for their plane fare and motel bill? —Mrs. Sands

Dear Mrs. Sands: The bridesmaids pay for their own transportation but your daughter is responsible for their lodging. Could she arrange for them to stay with friends — either hers or the groom's?

That, if possible, is the best solution.

In Marriage There's No Time Off for Any Good or Bad Behavior

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Al and I have been married for 16 years, if you can call this a marriage. Al says that marriage is a job, like any other job, and since everybody gets at least one day a week off from his job, a man should get a day off from his marriage, so Al works at our marriage six days a week, but he takes Sundays off.

ABBY

He leaves the house late Saturday night, and I don't see him again until early Monday morning. He puts about 200 miles on his car and I don't have the slightest idea where he's been. This doesn't make much sense to me, but I can't talk him out of it. IS he crazy, or am I?

AL'S BETTY

DEAR BETTY: Marriage is a seven-day-a-week job, and there's no time off for good (or "bad") behavior. Al is far from "crazy," if he's able to sell this deal, but I'm not so sure about you, if you're buying it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Because so many service men read your column, I hope you'll print this. We realize that most men in service don't have time to write letters, but if they are well, they can take five minutes to write two words, "I'M FINE" and then sign it.

My brother has been in Vietnam for five months. Our whole family writes to him regularly but he's written only three times. My poor mother refuses to leave the house until the mail comes, and I've seen her age 10 years in five months! The first we heard from him in five weeks was yesterday. He said he was fine. He could have said that five weeks ago!

DISGUSTED WITH BROTHER

DEAR DISGUSTED: A man who is in the service could conceivably have many legitimate reasons for not writing. He could be on the move and unable to write. Also, mail is not always delivered without a hitch from the war zone. Some can't write for security reasons.

But how about children who are just away from home and don't write either! Sharper than a serpent's tooth.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, c/o The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

2 Lame-Duck Congressmen Take Last Fling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two lame-duck congressmen are taking one last fling at a privilege of their office: Trips abroad at government expense.

For Sen. Edward V. Long, D-Mo., it is a two-month junket around the world that will take him to 19 countries. Rep. Barratt O'Hara, D-Ill., left Friday for New York and what a House committee spokesman said was the beginning of a one-month tour of Africa.

★ ★ ★

Normally, congressional trips abroad are for the purpose of making legislative recommendations. But Congress has adjourned for the year and since Long was defeated in the Missouri Democratic primary in August and O'Hara was beaten for renomination in June, neither man will be back for the opening of the new Congress next year.

★ ★ ★

Long's administrative assistant, Daniel Miles, said the senator was making his world trip for the Senate Banking and Currency Committee "to study export insurance and the Export-Import Bank."

The bank, headquartered here, has no offices abroad but does have projects in many countries. A spokesman said, however, that Long had not consulted anyone at the bank about making the trip.

Miles said the chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee, Sen. John J. Sparkman, D-Ala., had authorized the trip. Sparkman could not be reached for comment.

★ ★

Long and his personal secretary, Miss Helen Dunlop, left Oct. 6 and are expected to return Nov. 24 to St. Louis. Their trip takes them to Hawaii, Japan, Hong Kong, Thailand, Pakistan, Nepal, India, Afganistan, Iran, Lebanon, Turkey, Italy, Spain, Germany, England, France, Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway.

O'Hara, 86, is chairman of the House Foreign Affairs subcommittee on Africa.

At his Capitol Hill office Friday afternoon, he said he was flying to New York "but after that I don't know where I'm going."

But Boyd Crawford, staff administrator of the Foreign Affairs Committee, said O'Hara and "several staff members" were headed for South Africa, Somalia, Tanzania, Malagasy, Senegal and Guinea on a tour to last until Nov. 23.

Of the 28 other members of Congress retiring or beaten in primary elections, only one other is out of the country on a personal trip at personal expense.

Normally congressmen traveling abroad on congressional business are paid expenses plus $50 a day allowances.

Sen. Long was investigated by the Senate Ethics Committee last year after Life magazine suggested that he had received payments from a St. Louis attorney in connectiin with a wire-tap probe. It was alleged that Long misused the inquiry to help James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union.

Long denied it and the committee cleared him but later reopened the investigation and has yet to report further conclusions.

Life charged in July that Long was instrumental in halting construction of a St. Louis public housing unit until it was redesigned to use gas instead of electric heat.

The article said Lawrence Callanan, business agent for Local 562 of the Pipefitters Union, wanted the change and flew to Washington to discuss it with Long.

Gift to Reuther Professorship Asked of UAW

DETROIT (AP) — Officials of the 1.5 - million member United Auto Workers Union have urged their locals to raise 30 cents per member to finance a professorship at an institute in Israel, it was reported today.

The Detroit Free Press said in a front-page story that the locals were asked for the contributions to finance the Walter P. Reuther Chair in Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy at the Weizmann Institute of Science in Rehovoth, Israel. Reuther is president of the UAW.

★ ★ ★

"Many have declined to pay," said the story by labor writer Patrick J. Owens.

It said some critics within the union "complained that the money had been taken out of Michigan and the United States in a political year when Hubert H. Humphrey's UAW-blessed presidential campaign is suffering financial anemia."

★ ★ ★

Last Saturday night, the U.S. committee for the institute gave Reuther a $100-a-plate testimonial dinner in Detroit. Main speaker was Abba Eban, foreign minister of Israel.

Hippies Getting Hepatitus, Say County Officials

Oakland County hippies are getting hepatitus — or maybe they call it "hipititus."

The Oakland County Health Department reports only a slight increase in numbers of cases this season over a comparable period last year.

★ ★ ★

But much of the upswing is from the hippie element, a Health Department official said. The "swinging set" appears to be transmitting to each other by use of the same hypodermic needle, the official indicated.

The disease is usually transmitted by contact with unsanitary conditions. Jaundice is its most prominent sympton along with fever and anusea and damage to the liver and even death can result from infection, health authorities point out. Cleanliness is known as the best preventive.

Sloping Lot at Rouge River

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

A sloping lot bordering a River Rouge tributary could be a headache. But to the Henry Barnes family of Bloomfield Township, it was a challenge.

Chosen as the perfect site for the Barnes' gray brick colonial, the lot drops sharply to the river. To avoid an erosion problem, Barnes banked the serpentine shore line with field stone and broken concrete.

★ ★ ★

"During that one bad storm in June," said Mrs. Barnes, "the river spilled over and completely covered the yard.

"We were afraid for awhile that we would lose everything. But we didn't. It did set the dahlias back though."

Terraces lead from the lower level to twin patios and a concrete platform which is the base for a future screened-in porch. The porch will open into the family room.

Draped in beige boucle, the family room reiterates the Barnes interest in nature. The snapping turtle mounted on the reclaimed brick fireplace was found by Barnes as it wandered across the flagstones near the river.

Teasel, wampa bush, dyed wheat, Queen Anne's lace and Chinese lantern makeup the dried arrangement on the raised hearth.

More dried wampa bush fronds add an exotic touch to the formal living room carpeted in olive green.

"We chose the room's color theme from the pattern in the high back chair," said Mrs. Barnes.

"After we'd ordered everything, the chair manufacturer informed us that they had discontinued the chair's fabric.

"Were we disappointed! Finally the manufacturer found a piece of material just large enough to cover the chair and we were saved."

The fruitwood-banded chair features shades of gold, olive green and brown on an antiqued gold background.

Design Extras Spark Modest Two-Story

UNUSUAL TOPPING—Symmetrical lines of two-story, four-bedroom house are topped by a metal roof, painted chocolate brown with white overhang and raised seams. The balanced proportions are further relived by the attached one-story garage, with a similar roof.

While all the principles of good design are incorporated in this two-story dwelling, some out-of-the ordinary touches give it a distinctive flavor.

An exterior example of this nature is the roof, a painted metal material with raised seams that cast delicate decorative shadows in a repetitive pattern.

★ ★ ★

The roof overhang, in contrast, casts a bold shadow.

The entrance canopy recalls the main roof with the same material and color, with gentle detailing of its own.

All outside facades have pleasant proportions, scale and a balanced relation between walls and windows.

SIDING

The narrow cedar siding in its natural color, the white trim and the chocolate brown roof all contribute to a sophisticated but charming exterior.

★ ★ ★

The attached one-story, two-car garage relieves the rigid symmetry and creates more interest.

★ ★ ★

Going to the inside, the main portion of the house is a perfect square — 32' by 32' — a most economical shape.

The simplicity of the exterior is reflected in the interior.

The central foyer, from which all rooms emanate, includes a wide stair with a subtle curve at its foot.

WINDOWS

The living and dining rooms, on either side of the foyer, feature protruding square bay windows at the ends facing the street.

On the long exterior side of the living room are two long, narrow windows reaching almost to the floor.

★ ★ ★

Architect Samuel Paul has placed the family room toward the rear, accessible from the main fayer and also from the living room by means of folding doors.

★ ★ ★

One wall is adorned with a fireplace and has a raised hearth which extends across the room.

★ ★ ★

On the rear wall the sliding glass doors which lead to a rear terrace.

KITCHEN

A few steps away from the family room is the kitchen, which features a large glass bay window. The space created by it is suitable for a round table for breakfast and informal meals.

★ ★ ★

The kitchen equipment is efficiently arranged on two walls and there is a handy utility closet in one corner.

★ ★ ★

The laundry room acts as a service entry to the kitchen, with direct access to the garage.

★ ★ ★

Out of the way of circulation is the space for washer and dryer, plus wall cabinets for soap and miscellany and a closet that can be used for a multitude of purposes.

★ ★ ★

A storage space in one part of the garage, located so it does not interfere with the movement of cars, can also be used as a work area.

LAVATORY

A lavatory is strategically located at the end of the foyer.

Moving up the stair to the second floor, one gets a dramatic view of a large dome skylight that penetrates the flat portion of the roof and is located in the center of the upstairs foyer.

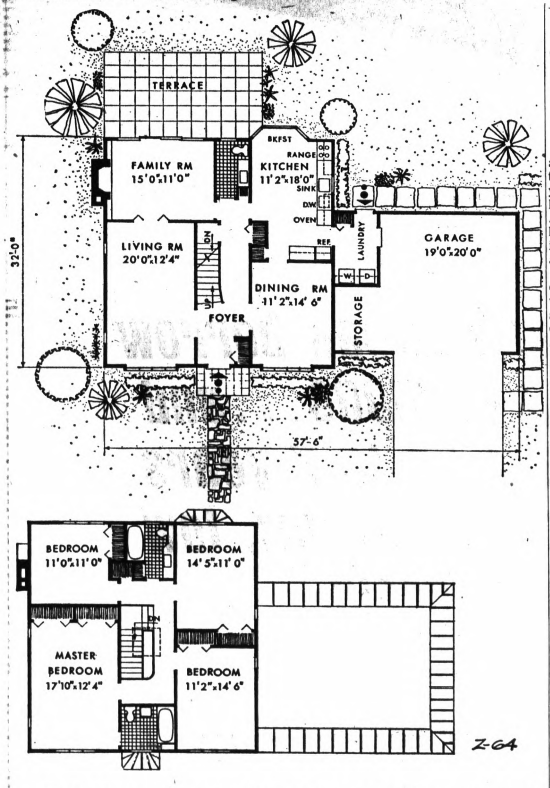
★ ★ ★

Off the latter are four bedrooms and two baths, with an abundance of closets.

The construction of this two-story house is relatively simple, with two main bearing walls on each side of the foyer.

There is a full basement under the basic house, which has 1024 square feet of livability on each floor.

In all, this is an innovative, efficient and economical place in which to live, with the main accent on the comtemporary but with a taste of the traditional.



FLOOR PLANS — With dimensions of basic house forming a perfect square, architect has been able to utilize a simple but effective center hall arrangement to provide entry to all rooms. Similar layout is used on second floor.

Zoned System Controls Heating for More Comfort

With the heating season almost here, this is a good time to evaluate the efficiency of your heating system. Will you have any trouble this winter? A common problem in many homes is uneven heat — stifling in one room and cold in another.

Heating contractors most often correct this problem by what they call 'zoning' the system. A zoned system, especially adaptable to any form of hydronic (hot water) heating has two or more heating zones supplied by a single boiler. A thermostat controls temperature in each zone, permitting individual areas of the home to be kept just as warm or as cool as desired.

Thermostats more than ten years old are often obsolete by present precision standards, not as accurate or fast-acting as they should be. Some of the new models are available with integral timer — a clock that permits setting the temperature desired several hours in advance.

With this type of thermostat, room temperatures lowered at night for sleeping are automatically raised just prior to "getting-up" time in the morning.

Modern thermostats are designed to give precise control of the heat delivered throughout your home. A reputable heating contractor is best qualified to recommend and install the most suitable system and controls to provide continuous maximum comfort.

Protect Washer From Scale, Scum

A reaction between soap and the calcium and magnesium in hard water is what causes the gummy, sticky film in your clothes washer.

Softened water flows clear and clean through pipes and drains, leaving no scale or grime trail.

★ ★ ★

Appliances last longer, look better and operate more efficiently with softened water. Clothes come cleaner, too.

About 85 per cent of the U.S. has "hard water." Ask your local water conditioning dealer what can be done about "hard water."

Any home handyman can easily install plastic-finished paneling, using conventional tools and adhesive.

Three Coats

For best results in finishing fir plywood or lumber, apply three coats of paint:

- Flat paint, enamel undercoat or resign thinner; when dry fill surface blemishes and sand smooth.
- Second coat, following directions on the can; when dry sand lightly.
- Final coat just as the paint comes from the can.

Junior Editors Quiz on SHRIMPS

Question: Do shrimps have shells?

* * *

Answer: Shrimps are crustaceans, related to the lobsters and crabs. Their bodies are in two main parts, the front or thorax, and the abdomen or tail.

* * *

Shrimps generally swim forward, using the little feet under the tail. To get real speed, they hunch the tail in sharply and dart backward. Strong muscles are needed inside the tail part to do this. It is these which produce the delicious shrimp meat we eat. All of the shrimp can be used, for the front part can be ground up for animal food.

Shrimps do have shells; jointed ones which protect the body. These are light and translucent, however, rather than thick and rigid like the shells of the sea shell mollusks.

As a shrimp grows, he sheds his old shell to develop a new one which fits more comfortably.

* * *

In our picture, two young visitors to a Florida Gulf Coast port are admiring one of the fine looking vessels used in the important shrimp fishery. Notice the very high bow, useful in riding over ocean waves. The big net is shown hoisted up in the air so that it can dry out.

Hassle Brewing Over Rights to Energy Drink

GAINSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Thousands of products spurt out of university research laboratories each year and a few of them click commercially.

Then comes the scramble for the cash.

* * *

One that appears to be clicking now is Gatorade, a quick-energy drink favored by many football players and other athletes around the country.

Its developers say the lemon-lime beverage moves into the human system 12 times faster than water, putting back body minerals and making players stronger.

UP TO $2.5 MILLION

The University of Florida professor who invented Gatorade says his group expects to realize possibly $2.5 million a year from sales of the beverage.

But the U.S. government claims it owns the rights and will take legal steps to gain control.

* * *

The university itself, where the work was done under a federal grant, waived its rights, thinking Gatorade was not commercial. Now it is rethinking the matter with hopes of grabbing some of the profits.

Neither the federal government nor Florida taxpayers, joint supporters of the research, has received one dollar from the sale. In fact, the university football team—which acted as a guinea pig while the drink was being tested—now buys its stock of Gatorade from the Stokely—Van Camp Corp., which bought the rights.

Charles Brown, director of the Patents Office in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington which paid $57,295 directly toward research that created Gatorade, said until recently the government was unaware of the sale. Brown said the government decided in June 1967, seven months after the invention was reported to them, to retain government rights to Gatorade.

He said the government would move legally to deny Stokely—Van Camp's patent application.

* * *

Sale of Gatorade rights was made by a group headed by Dr. Robert Cade, 41, director of renal (kidney) medicine at the University of Florida's J. Hillis Miller Health Center.

Sales of Gatorade have been under way to athletic teams across the country and at consumer markets in eight test cities (none in Michigan).

Cade developed Gatorade while making a study—through a $30,000 research grant—on how a hormone, aldosterone, affects rats. The hormone is involved in the body's salt metabolism and is related to perspiration.

You Mean You Haven't Read It?

One of the most talked about books in this year of tremendous news is 'Triumph and Tragedy: the Story of the Kennedys.' Shortly after the assassination of Senator Robert Kennedy, it was produced by a team of the best writers in The Associated Press, the world's largest news gathering organization. Unlike some team efforts, it proved to be a smooth flowing minor masterpiece telling not merely the story of the one assassination but the whole sweeping saga of a family that advanced in four generations from famine-stricken Ireland to seats of wealth, power, fame—and personal disaster—in the United States. A third of a million copies have been sold already in this country alone. It has been translated also into a dozen foreign languages. Tomorrow, the 19th Olympiad, which everyone figured, in the Baden-Baden, Germany meeting of 1963, should have been awarded to Detroit, will come to a close.

Within the next 100 years, Mexico City may never have another Olympiad. Of course neither will Detroit after the courage-less decision of the mayor of that city not to bid for the 1976 games.

At any rate, as a postscript today this writer's first coverage of an Olympiad, we would have to commend the Mexicans for doing the best job they know how in staging such a mamouth event.

There were a lot of problems which prevailed, primarily because of language barriers and economic or travel conditions, but there were some 200,000 Mexicans assigned to duties from bussing athletes and writers to keeping statistics, and at least 199,998 of them did their jobs enthusiastically and earnestly as they could.

When you have 21 sites engaged in competition within a 100 mile radius of Mexico City, the line of communications and responsibility of getting the information to central points is unbelievable. And the Mexicans did their job unbelievably well.

The people themselves are the most sociable and courteous people we have ever encountered.

Naturally, there are a few hustlers who feast on the circumstances to reap the harvest, but this is the fault of the visitor, if he fails to ask before he pays.

BEAUTY AND UGLINESS

There is a modern beauty in downtown Mexico City and there's natural beauty in its country side, but this pleasing bit of tourism constitutes maybe 20 per cent of it all.

The ugliness is not in the people, but in the conditions in which they must live.

* * *

It is heartbreaking to see the extreme poverty in which they must live along the roadsides and even just a few blocks from luxuries of downtown.

A person with a heart has to extend it to these people; to children without shoes and raggedy clothes trying to make a centavo selling anything from pins to gum; to old women in the 80's sitting from sun up to sundown trying to make a couple pesos from anything their handiwork talents produce.

In the lounge of the Hotel Maria Isabel, we asked one of the young bartenders about his wages.

"About 20-30 pesos a day," was his reply.

In our money that amounts to about $2.40 a day.

2 DRINKS PAYS WAGE

Then we pointed out to him that the hotel charges 12 pesos for a mixed drink and after two drinks we had paid his wages for the day. A peso is 8 cents in our money.

"How could you exist on such low wages and yet it is evident that the business in the lounge was fantastic," we asked him.

"They pay big taxes in Mexico," he replied referring of course the businesses.

* * *

But, a good shirt we noted was $6-$7, pants $18-$20; and we noted that a couple going out for a sociable evening, say to the lounge we were in, would have to live it up on one drink, a total of 24 pesos.

That's all of what our friend, Edmundo Soto the bartender was making for his 9-hour day and on his $2.50 he had a wife, mother, father and three brothers and sisters to support.

* * *

Yes, Mexico City overall did a fine job to host the Olympiad, and if anything else it gave 7,400 athletes, 1,700 newsmen and hundreds of thousands of visitors the opportunity to count their own blessings upon leaving.

Junior Gridder Dies After Injury in Game; Led Defense

CHICAGO (AP) — Wayne State University junior linebacker Ronald A. Solack died Friday in a Chicago hospital following post-surgery complications to correct an injury he suffered in a football game Oct. 4.

* * *

Solack, 20, of Taylor, Mich., had undergone surgery Oct. 5 to correct a double puncture of the bowel suffered at Soldier Field in a game against the University of Illinois-Chicago Circle.

He had been WSU's leading defensive player since being converted from quarterback his freshman season.

Mott, Lahser Fail to Seize Chances

By JERE CRAIG

Winning football teams capitalize on their opponents' mistakes. Waterford Mott and Bloomfield Hills Lahser couldn't take advantage of each other's misplays Friday night and appropriately fought to a 7-7 tie before a small gathering of fans at WTHS' field and failed to improve their losing records.

* * *

Both teams scored their touchdowns in the first half. Although the game approached comical proportions at the end, it was exciting for the fans as both teams had their chance.

Lahser (2-3-1) drove to the host Corsairs' five-yard-line late in the period but Randy Cooper intercepted a third-down pass at his own two and returned the ball to the 26.

Gerry McNair hit Terry Ruffato for 17 yards, then found Bob Schupbach wide open on the right side and the pass play covered 47 yards to the Knights' 10-yard-line.

On third down at the seven, the Corsairs (1-4-2) fumbled the ball back to their visitors.

CHANGES BACKFIELD

Lahser tried operating from a spread formation but after a pass moved the ball to the 16, Tom Burgess and Steve Burns threw Jim Coe for a loss at the two.

* * *

The Corsairs twiced stopped the clock with timeouts twice; but on fourth down at its own one, Lahser elected to run rather than punt.

About 12 seconds remained when the play ended at the three, but the home team couldn't get its offensive unit on the field in time to run a play before time ran out.

* * *

The game began as if Mott would have a big evening at the expense of Knights' errors. The Waterford unit came up with the football in a pile up at the visitors' 24 in the first two minutes of play.

Five plays later Terry Ruffato sprinted outside left tackle and into the end zone on an 11-yard counter play. McNair booted the PAT.

Lahser lost the ball on another fumble on the kickoff. This time WMHS took over at the visitors' 30. The Corsairs ground out the yardage to the one, but Bob Zywicki was stopped just shy of the goal line on a fourth-down plunge.

* * *

Early in the second period, the Knights began a drive at their own 11-yard-line. After a penalty moved the pigskin out to the 16, they pushed their way to the 43. At this point, tailback Coe swung to his right then passed to Mike Atkins around the Mott 40.

* * *

The speedy wingback streaked down the sideline for a 57-yard touchdown. Eric Tirrell plunged for the tying conversion.

Lahser had the advantage in net yardage for the game, outgaining its hosts by more than 100 yards. But it lost the ball twice on interceptions and twice on fumbles.

RETURNS FAVOR

Mott, meanwhile, turned the pigskin back to the Knights four times on fumbles. Lahser's Coe led all the rushers with 104 yards in 26 tries before being thrown back 14 yards attempting to pass.

Coe, who moved to tailback due to an injury to the Knights' top scorer Jeff Kezlarian, also completed three of four aerials for 77 yards.

* * *

Mott's best runner was Chuck Dohner who needed 17 tries to gain 48 yards. Next week, Lahser will invade the same gridiron to face Waterford Township, while Mott will go to Marine City.

Novi's Wildcats ran their winning streak to six last night with a 20-6 triumph over Williamston.

The Wildcats spotted Williamston a second-period touchdown and then came back with six-pointers in each of the last three periods to wrap it up.

After Dan Guilik put Williamston ahead with a 15-yard pass for a touchdown, Novi came back on a one-yard run by Gary Boyer and John Davey's PAT run to take a 7-6 lead at intermission.

Davey hauled in a 52-yard pass from Boyer in the third and Joe Morrison tallied on a four-yard scamper in the fourth to close the scoring. Novi is now 6-1 on the season.

Dragons Savor Loop Win Feast

Lake Orion's resurgent Dragons like the taste of Oakland A gridiron victory, indulging in a huge second helping last night at Utica.

* * *

The Dragons, after going winless in the league for 34 games and five years, savored their second straight win with a 33-14 feast against the Chieftains.

The victory, coupled with Romeo's 20-13 loss to Madison, boosted the Dragons into sole possession of fifth place at 2-3-1 with one game remaining in the league. They finished last the past four seasons.

* * *

Orion jumped into a 20-0 advantage in the first half. Bill Baker plunged into the end zone from the one to open the scoring.

Chuck Whippo reached paydirt on a three-yard dive. He and Walt Hagelin each had a PAT in the initial quarter. Hagelin added a six-pointer with a two-yard run in the next period.

OFFSET RALLY

Whippo's two four-yard runs and another PAT kick by Hagelin offset two Utica scores in the last session. Bruce Brennan caught TD passes for 37 and 77 yards from Bob Dilday of the home team.

Dave Marini added both Chieftain extra points. The loss dropped Utica to a 1-4-1 log and in a fifth-place deadlock with Romeo and Avondale.

The Dragons ended their long league famine with a 14-7 triumph over Romeo last week. The 33 points scored last night are the most by them in any game also since 1963. Their previous high in the same dry spell was 24 in this fall's opening win at Kettering.

Romeo fell behind Madison when Doug Meadows bolted into paydirt from the one-yard-line and Gary Morrow counted six points on a 60-yard pass play engineered by Bob Tremblay.

* * *

Mike Schmidt's 22-yard run and Ron Tabar's PAT boot reduced the margin to 13-7, but Meadows tallied in the third quarter on a nine-yard run to put it out of reach.

COMPLETES SCORING

Sophomore Marv Craft ended the scoring with his 18-yard run for Romeo's Bulldogs. Meadows of the Eagles saw two TD runs nullified by penalties against Madison.

The victory ties Madison for third place at 3-2-1 with Troy, the defending league champion who was eliminated last night when Clawson's Trojans defeated it.

* * *

The Eagles will travel to Lake Orion in the wrapup, and Romeo is slated to visit Troy next week.

Coomer hit Welsh and he outran the secondary for the 55-yard TD that started the scoring parade. Welsh then intercepted and the winners drove in from the Farmington 39.

* * *

For the game Welsh caught five passes for 155 yards. Wayne Morenz led the ball carriers with 63 yards in 11 rushes, scoring one touchdown.

* * *

Kevin Hildenbrandt caught a 29-yard toss from Dan Steinke for the losers' lone score. Walled Lake will visit Plymouth, Farmington will be host to Southfield and Waterford will entertain Bloomfield Hills Lahser next week.

Parents of Minors May Be Arrested for Hunt Violations

LANSING (UPI)—The Department of Conservation has issued a warning that their officers will press hard for arrest of parents who knowingly allow their children under 17 to hunt on lands where they don't live.

* * *

State law requires that young hunters, when hunting on other lands, be accompanied by someone over 17.

Supervision over the minors may be designated by their parents or guardians.

* * *

"This restriction was written into law expressly to give young, inexperienced hunters a greater margin of safety when they hunt alone," said Kenneth McCord, the department's hunter safety specialist.

McCord said the fatal shooting of two young unaccompanied minors this season "is a sad example of what can happen when this law is ignored."

Yellow Jackets Slow Falcons' Title Express

Avondale's Yellow Jackets have upset the applecart in the Oakland A League.

Apparently unaware that they weren't supposed to win, the Yellow jackets, put a wrench in Rochester's championship plans by pinning a 7-0 setback on the Falcons.

* * *

NO CHANCE!

Avondale went into the game before the home fans with a 0-5-1 record overall. On the other hand, Rochester, bidding to move up among the state's Class A teams, had compiled a 6-0 record and was considered a shoo-in for the title.

* * *

MONROE SCORES

The only score came early in the fourth when senior fullback Gary Monroe bulled his way in from one yard out and Clyde McCauley ran the extra point.

* * *

In the scoring drive which took 20 plays, the Yellow Jackets ate up nearly nine minutes. After Rochester punted early in the third — the only time the Falcons had the ball in the third — Avondale took over on its own 32 and proceeded to grind it out.

USE UP TIME

The Jackets used up the remainder of the third and 51 seconds of the fourth before the payoff.

* * *

Defensively, the Jackets held Rochester to only 31 yards rushing in the second half, and the Falcons, who normally fare well in the passing department, completed none and the Jackets picked off two of the five they tried.

SPEARHEADS DEFENSE

Linebacker Mitch Vogeli spearheaded the defense that choked off the Rochester attack. Aiding and abetting Vogeli were guards Harry Ramsey and Gary Patterson, end Clyde McCauley and halfback Billy Lester. It was Avon's best showing against Rochester since the 13-13 tie in 1964.

* * *

Rochester had a few opportunities but the Jackets had the stopper each time. The Falcons best shot at the goal came in the second when they moved from their own five-yard line to a first down at the Avondale 1. The Falcons lost two yards in four tries and the Jackets took over on their own 3.

* * *

From a ball-control standpoint, Avon ran off 32 plays in the second half while Rochester managed just 14.

SPURS CLAWSON

Mike Heist flipped a pair of scoring tosses and Bill Weakley tallied twice on runs to spark the Clawson attack.

Heist hit Chuck Currie with a 15-yarder in the first and tossed a 23-yarder to Ron Gegenheimer in the fourth. Weakley went over on runs of 7 and 32 yards in the second. Brad Faber scored for Troy on an 81-yard kickoff return.

Heavyweight Boxer Doesn't Fear Reds; Only Black Cats

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Big George Foreman, America's Olympic heavyweight boxing hope, doesn't fear Russians, hell or high water. But a black cat can turn him into a shrinking, sniveling coward.

"Man, I admit it — I am probably the most supersititious man in the world," said the tall, hard-hitting Negro from Pleasanton, Calif., today as he sweated out tonight's gold medal bout with the Soviet Union's tough Ionas Chepelis.

* * *

"I don't walk under ladders. I'm careful with mirrors. I don't light three on a match. I spit on my thumb when I see a load of hay.

"Every morning, I read my horoscope. I'm a nut on astrology, numbers and things like that."

Waterford Twp. Slates Hearing on 1969 Budget

A public hearing on the 1969 Waterford Township budget will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in Waterford Township High School, Crescent Lake and M-59.

The proposed budget of $1,618,000 is $142,000 higher than current 1968 expenditures.

* * *

Much of the increase is for salary adjustments. Another $25,000 has been allocated for purchase of a fire truck.

* * *

The township board will also consider an ordinance amendment that would reduce sewer rates for multiple dwellings by 60 per cent.

News in Brief

An estimated $200 worth of tools were reported stolen some time last night from a garage at the Pontiac Municipal Golf Course, 800 Golf Dr., according to Pontiac police. A plywood panel in a garage door was kicked out to gain entry.

SOCIAL SECURITY

The Social Security Act was passed by Congress with the primary purpose of providing for individuals after their working years have been completed. At the present time nine out of ten people are covered by the Social Security law.

Most people today are aware of the fact that they are building towards retirement but very few are cognizant that there is also a lump sum benefit payable to survivors regardless of age if the deceased is covered. The lump sum payment is based upon the earnings of the individual. This is payable to the next of kin or to whoever takes care of the final arrangements even though no relationship exists.

In addition to the lump sum payment, a monthly check is paid to a widow regardless of her age when there are dependent children under 18 years of age. All claims must be submitted within two years from the date of death.

THINK ABOUT IT!

HOW WE WIN

Victory vs. defeat. Victory is not always commendable. And surely, defeat need not be disgraceful.

In human experience, there are levels in both victory and defeat. For example, when we see a bewildered man defeated because he lacked the courage to win, we pity his pathetic picture. But, when we see a courageous man going down to defeat after trying his best to win, we glory him in defeat. At times it can even be a tragic defeat. This is especially true if a principle of justice, integrity, fair play or personal honor is involved.

None of us can win every time. How we lose is often more important than how we win. To succumb or be subdued because we lack the courage for the struggle to win is the only time disgrace can be linked to defeat. Actually, it is possible to win when one loses. Man Bound Over on a Charge of Resisting Arrest

Springfield Township Justice Emmett Leib yesterday bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court a Roseville attorney charged with resisting arrest.

* * *

The attorney, Wilson M. Jackson, 50, was released on $1,000 bond, pending Circuit Court arraignment Nov. 8.

* * *

Last month, Jackson filed a $900,000 false arrest suit against State Police Trooper Robert Beadle, the officer who charged the attorney with resisting arrest after stopping Jackson June 7 on I-75 near Pontiac.

* * *

Jackson has demanded a jury trial on the traffic charges for which he was stopped.

These charges were speeding, driving with a suspended license and driving without proof of insurance.

Boy Hospitalized After 1-Car Crash

Listed in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with multiple facial and head cuts is a 16-year-old Madison Heights youth, injured in a single-car accident last night in Independence Township.

* * *

Terry Kenski was a passenger in a car driven by Winifred L. Bates, 17, also of Madison Heights.

* * *

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said the car, going south on Sashabaw a half-mile south of Pine Knob Road, left the road about 11:15 last night.

* * *

Bates told officers he lost control of the car when it slipped off the pavement. Bates was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital.
