Rapist Strikes Again at Home North of City

U. S. Confirms Red H-Bomb Blast

Pressure Mounts for President Ike to Tell Weapon Status

(From AP and UP Dispatches)

WASHINGTON — The United States today confirmed Russia's boast of having touched off a hydrogen explosion.

However, the U. S. also implied that this country has a 2-year lead in the race to perfect the most awesome weapon known to science.

Whether either country has yet developed a true H-bomb—that is, a device compact enough to be carried aboard a warplane—remains unknown to the public.

The Communist newspaper Pravda said in Moscow late last night "the explosion of a type of hydrogen bomb was carried out with experimental aim."

This prompted Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to announce early today that (A) U. S. atomic sleuths had in fact detected a Soviet atomic blast eight days ago and then later determined that both conventional and H-type reactions were involved and (B) atomic tests in the Pacific in both 1951 and 1952 involved similar reactions.

There was no immediate explanation of why the United States waited for the Russian boast before putting out its own announcement.

Pressure has been mounting in Congress and elsewhere for President Eisenhower to tell the world more about the status of the U. S. atomic weapons program.

That pressure is certain to build up even more now.

Eisenhower undoubtedly was informed Aug. 12 when the United States learned of the Soviet tests.

He received further details yesterday at a breakfast conference with Strauss and C. D. Jackson, White House adviser on psychological warfare.

This meeting was in New York where the President had gone to dedicate a housing project.

Check Slaying Statement to Fix Scene of Crime

Eugene Gilleo, 27, and his wife will be ordered today to show Oakland County authorities the spot in Southfield Township where Gilleo claims he beat a Detroit restaurateur to death for making advances toward his wife.

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said he wants to check every angle of the couple's story to make sure the murder wasn't committed in Ohio, which has capital punishment.

Gilleo, in a statement to Ziem last night, said he beat John Caruso, 58, with a wrench early Aug. 2 in a dead-end road which fits the description of Kenosha street near Ten Mile road.

Denying that his wife, Roberta, 22, knew of the slaying until two days later, Gilleo said he became suspicious of her and concealed himself under a blanket in the rear of the car when she left a motel to "visit friends."

He said she picked up Caruso, owner of the Splendid Food Shoppe 10339 Woodward Ave., where Roberta had worked for several years, and drove to the dead-end road.

"When I began hitting him (Caruso) with a pipe wrench," said Gilleo, "my wife fainted. When she came to, I told her that Caruso had run away."

Gilleo said he put Caruso's body under the blanket in the back seat and left it there until that night when he abandoned it beside a road about 25 miles south

Stevenson Sees Freedom Ahead

30-Nation Tour Over, He Says War Chances Have Lessened

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Gov. Adlai Stevenson said today the free world is winning the cold war and the danger of a third world war has decreased, at least for the present.

Stevenson, Democratic candidate for the presidency last year, returned today from a six-month trip around the world.

His over-all conclusion, he said, was that American postwar policies have been successful.

"We have been winning the cold war step by step," Stevenson told a news conference. "In consequence, the danger of world war has diminished, at least for the present. But this is no time to relax or lower our guard."

Stevenson said he traveled through 30 countries.

"I talked with everybody from cobblers to kings," he said.

Some of his conclusions, in answer to a wide variety of questions, were:

"1. The spread of communism has been arrested. Signs of strain and defiance are evident, and cracks are opening in the iron curtain, notably in East Germany.

"2. Since Stalin's death, it appears that Russia has changed its tactics and begun a cautious retreat, but there is yet no certain evidence that the long-term

Syron Moves to Fourth Round on 1-Up Victory

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Lloyd Syron and Frank Malara, qualifying medalists, continued to set the pace as the National Caddies tournament went into its fourth round today.

Syron, the husky Pontiac, Mich., player, defeated Dick Phalen of Worcester, Mass., 1 up in the third round. Malara, White Plains, N. Y., favorite, won his match from Bob Brokaw of Columbus, Ohio, 8 holes up with 7 to play.

France Ousts Morocco Sultan

Ship Nationalist Leader to Island of Corsica in Mediterranean

PARIS (AP) — France today deposed the Sultan of Morocco, and the French Interior Ministry announced it was sending him and two of his sons into exile on Corsica, the Mediterranean isle.

The 44-year-old Sultan, Sidi Mohammed Ben Youssef, who has been giving the French trouble by his encouragement to independence-seeking nationalists, was ousted after the tough Berber tribesmen of Pasha Thami El Glaoui of Marrakech, the Sultan's bitter foe, began to march in from the hills on the palace at Rabat.

A fierce civil war threatened between fanatical nationalists supporting Sidi Mohammed, and the warlike Berber countrymen who follow El Glaoui.

The French clamped a curfew on their tense North African protectorate, where press censorship already is in effect, immediately after announcing the drastic action.

The dethronement, said the French Foreign Office, was decided upon because France "found herself confronted with an unequivocal will expressed with extreme firmness by the immense majority of the Morrocan people."

The Sultan and his sons were reported already en route to Corsica, birthplace of Napoleon.

There was no immediate indication of who would assume the throne in the turbulent North African protectorate.

The announcement of the action was made just after French Resident General Augustin Guillaume had returned to Morocco from Paris and talked with the Sultan at his palace in Rabat.

It remained to be seen whether a bloody civil war between the warlike followers of El Glaoui and the fanatical nationalist adherents of the Sultan would result. Many nationalists in the Arab world have been warning against any effort to unseat the Sultan.

Pontiac to Push Output by Using Chevrolet Unit

Powerglide Is Adapted to Cars; Will Step Up Conventional Shift

Pontiac Motor Division, faced with temporary loss of hydramatic transmissions because of the GM Livonia plant fire, will continue production with use of the powerglide automatic transmission made by Chevrolet.

Robert M. Critchfield, general manager of Pontiac and a GM vice president, announced today that the powerglide transmission has been adapted to Pontiac use, and will be used along with increased production of Pontiac's current synchromesh transmission.

"Pontiac engineers have adapted the powerglide transmission to the Pontiac engine with highly satisfactory results," Critchfield said.

Pontiac Division is still in production this week and the output of cars with conventional gear shift will be augumented by the powerglide transmission early in September, Critchfield said.

GMC Truck & Coach Division, which received hydramatic transmissions for its 6x6 military trucks and for some other of its vehicles from the Livonia plant, continues to operate this week, although no announcement has been made of schedules for the immediate future.

Meanwhile two other GM passenger car divisions have arranged to use transmissions from other GM units to maintain production.

Don E. Ahrens, general manager of Cadillac Division, said Cadillac expects to resume production Sept. 8 by adapting the dynaflow twin-turbine torque converter made by Buick to Cadillac cars.

Oldsmobile Division also has adapted the Buick dynaflow to its cars and will produce with both the Buick transmission and with its own synchromesh transmission.

Oldsmobile currently is operating on a curtailed production schedule, pending the changeover, expected early in December.

Bulletin

Three hundred employes of Pontiac Motor Division's Plant 7 were sent home today after a fire of unknown origin broke out in the plant's wiring system. The fire was extinguished within a half hour.

Tehran Radio Announces Mossadegh Taken Captive

LONDON (AP) — The royalist-controlled Tehran Radio today announced capture of ousted Premier Mohammed Mossadegh but said new street fighting with Mossadegh's supporters broke out in the capital.

Premier Fazollah Zahedi's forces reportedly arrested Mossadegh and three of his lieutenants in a house in the center of Tehran.

Late broadcasts from Tehran said the new Premier had started to form a cabinet and had messaged the Shah again to come home at once.

In Rome, Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi, his "heart full of joy," called upon the Iranian people today to obey the new Zahedi government and announced he was flying back to his country promptly.

Aides of 33-year-old Shah said he would leave later today.

Meanwhile, rumors swept through Tehran today that Mossadegh has escaped to the Kashghai tribal area of southern Iran. Some here thought an effort to overthrow the day-old royalist regime of Premier Zahedi might be in the making.

The Kashghai, 20,000 strong, have been firm supporters of the weeping old nationalist prime minister.

The announcement of Mossadegh's capture gave no details beyond saying that the aged, ailing former premier, his wife and children were removed from the Iranian capital under the protection of the new pro-Shah government.

Gen. Zahedi said the Shah had instructed him to prevent Mossadegh being lynched by the street crowds. Zahedi added that Mossadegh would stand public trial.

"We will wait for the nation to say what should be done with him," Zahedi said. The whereabouts of Mossadegh was not disclosed.

2 Smashups Kill Three Teenagers

Milford and Royal Oak Area Young People Die; 8 Others Injured

Three teenagers, including a 16-year-old girl, were killed and 8 youths injured in two separate auto accidents in Oakland County last night.

Gerald L. Emmons, 17, of 30183 Alger St., Royal Oak Township.

Patricia Ann Foster, 16, of 12 E. Katherine St., Royal Oak.

Robert Wheeler, 16, of 220 Keeweenaw Road, Milford.

Emmons and Miss Foster died this morning after a two-car, head-on crash on John R road north of Twelve Mile road in Royal Oak Township. Another youth, Wayne Lankford, 19, of 1048 Rosewood St., Ferndale, was reported in poor condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with multiple head cuts.

Four others were reported in fair condition. They are Douglas Foster, 16, Miss Foster's brother, Archibald Menzies, 25, of 1048 Rosewood, Ferndale; Thomas Hartsock, 17, of 1625 Woodward Heights, Ferndale; and Gerald

Intruder Flees From House as Woman Screams

Intended Victim Suffers Scratches; Identifies Drawing of Suspect

An Oakland Lake mother of four children today reported an attempted attack by a man who "has the same hair and glassy, wild-eyed look" as the rapist who killed a Pontiac woman and attacked a teen-aged girl.

Mrs. Mav White of 2409 Mann Rd., about five miles northwest of the sex attacks in Pontiac, said she had just put her older child to bed when she heard a noise last night.

Suddenly, she said, a man about six feet tall and weighing about 180 pounds, kicked in the portable screen in a front window and rushed toward her.

"He came through the window and made a leap at me," said Mrs. White, whose husband was at work in Pontiac.

"His right hand grabbed for my face and I pulled back. He scratched my face and chest."

She said she started screaming and fled through a rear door. She rushed to the home of her next-door neighbor, Mrs. J. Chappie, 33, 3435 Mann Rd. Mrs. Chapple said Mrs. White was in a state of shock.

When shown an artist's sketch of the rapist today, Mrs. White burst into tears and said the man looked similar.

Officers investigating the attempted attack said they thought the latest molestation is connected with the earlier ones in Pontiac.

Seventeen men have been questioned and released due to "lack of evidence" since the sex slaying of the Pontiac woman and the attack on the girl, police revealed today.

Meanwhile, Pontiac and State Police launched a house-to-house search in the Baldwin-Beverly Ave. area this morning for anyone who could identify the rapist from an artist's conception of the girl's assailant.

Recap on Saginaw Begun This Morning

Recapping of Saginaw street between Whittemore street and South boulevard started this morning. The work is scheduled to be completed in two weeks.

Lt. Davy Gilpin, head of the Pontiac Police Department's traffic bureau, said cars will be permitted to use part of the main artery during recapping.

A and A Asphalt Co. of Birmingham started work at the Whittemore street end of the 1.03-mile stretch. The firm submitted a low bid of $78,877 for the project.

The federal government is paying half of the cost, with the city and state each paying half of the balance, according to City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn. Saginaw was resurfaced last fall from Oakland avenue to Whittemore street.

'Sexual Behavior in the Human Female'

Alton Blakeslee, Associated Press Science Writer, Summarizes Dr. Kinsey's Book on Women

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Reporter)

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — The new Kinsey report released today finds women stay young longer than men in sex activity

Human sex lives, it also finds, are as different as fingerprints.

The only basic sex difference between men and women is mental or psychological, the female book says. Most women — with some surprising exceptions—aren't aroused as often as men by sights, talk, or anticipation of sex.

Most women need steady physical contact to achieve sex satisfaction.

As many persons suspected, it finds the roaring 20s really brough' a sharp change in American women's sex lives.

They changed toward less frigidity in marriage, and more experience and freedom before marriage.

Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey authorized publication today of the scientific findings in his long-awaited second book, "Sexual Behavior in the Human Female."

It is more than just statistics or candid confessions of what women do.

By comparing men and women, it offers keys for happier marriages and sounder sex laws. Five unusual chapters tell the full science of sex.

Some main findings are:

Ten per cent of wives remain frigid, never experiencing a sexual climax. So do 28 per cent of older single women.

Nude Sleeping Popular

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Half of married women tell Dr. Kinsey that they regularly sleep nude.

"There is every indication," he adds, "that the percentages are still increasing, much to the consternation of the manufacturers of night clothing."

Yet many such inexperienced women advise youths about sex, or help draft sex laws.

One in four wives—26 per cent or more—at some time commits adultery, whereas about half of all husbands ultimately have extra-marital affairs.

About half of all women have sex relations before marriage, about half of them just with fiances. Only about two-thirds ever reach a climax in these pre-marital relations.

Most women reach a peak of sexual activities about the age 27 or 28.

Once they reach it—it can be earlier or later than that—they usually maintain a steady level of activity until their 50s or 60s, with little decline from aging.

But most men reach a peak of activity in their late teens, then steadily decline with age. The male peak is most often far higher than women's, so that male activity remains higher throughout life than the activity of most females.

But the fact is most men are growing old in sexual capacity when their wives are becoming less inhibited in sex. This difference often leads to marital problems

Of 33 kinds of psychological arousals toward sex, only three stimulated higher percentages of women than men.

These three were seeing romantic movies, reading romantic literature, and being bitten. Men are usually more aroused by nude pictures, thoughts of sex, or other reminders.

A third of women are not aroused at all by any psychosexual stimuli. But 2 to 3 per cent are far more aroused than any man.

Trouble often comes when men expect women to react psychologically as men do. Men often fail to realize that women are more easily distracted from sex by noises or interruptions.

The ease of male mental arousal accounts for husband's wanting more frequent sexual contact, and men's difficulty in getting along without it. Wives often fail to understand that.

The sex response involves 20 bodily or physical changes, including faster pulse, higher blood pressure, shortage of oxygen, rapid breathing, lessened ability to see and hear.

Anger involves 14 of these same changes. Anger thus equals sex minus six.

This could explain some sex crimes, "why frustrated sexual response too readily turns into anger," or anger can lead on to sex. It could explain why marital quarrels sometimes lead to love-making.

Fear contains nine of the sex reactions, and epilepsy produces eight of them.

Basically, there's no difference in the anatomy and physiology of sex response in men and women. The nerve endings involved are the same.

People at times have tried schemes to abandon the family and home, but "none of these schemes has provided satisfactory substitutes for the home, and most of them have been short-lived.

"History confirms the importance of the family."

At marriage, about one-third of women have never had a sexual climax, but almost 100 per cent of men have.

The woman who experiences a climax before marriage, by any method, has a two to three times better chance of achieving sexual success earlier in marriage, Kinsey says.

No two persons are exactly alike in their sex lives. Each person can easily believe that what she or he does is normal.

Critic Claims Men Are 'Leering Goats'

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Women who never have had sex experiences often can't understand what sex means to other people, especially to men, says Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey.

This attitude, he says, was expressed by one woman who wrote to him after publication of the book on sexual behavior in men. She declared the whole study was a waste of effort, and that it just confirmed her opinion "that the male population is a herd of prancing, leering goats."

This individual variation "is the most persistent reality of human sexual behavior." And "There are no sexual qualities found in only one sex or the other."

Women show greater extremes in sex than do men. While some remain frigid, 14 per cent regularly have multiple climaxes during one sex act. One woman of 90 is still having regular sexual experience.

Women sense this greater variation, and so hesitate to discuss their sex lives with other women. This lack of comparing notes is often a reason for women's ignorance about sex.

Parents in the 1920s, the time of the big change, were right in complaining about wildness of the younger generation. Since then there's been little change, and less criticism from parents because the parents had followed the same pattern themselves.

Citizen Fire Study Group Plans September Report on Birmingham's Needs

(From Our Birmingham Bureau)

BIRMINGHAM — City Commission approval of taking bids on a new all-purpose fire truck and shifting $17,987.86 to a fire station fund has spurred the Citizens Fire Study Committee in its work, Chairman John O'Gorman said today.

He predicted a complete report of the committee's assignment—a recommendation to the City Commission on the fire needs of Birmingham—by early September.

Commissioners established the 40 member advisory group in January following a request from the Birmingham Villas Subdivision group that the commission submit the once defeated $350,000 fire station bond issue to the public again.

"The committee studying construction needs is meeting with Fire Chief V. M. Griffith now," O'Gorman said, "and it has been made clear at City Commission meetings that the first building will probably go on the west side of the city, to protect that area while Maple road is being widened."

Delivery of the $36,000 fire truck contemplated will take more than a year, City Manager Donald C. Egbert has explained, accounting for the action at the present time.

Mayor Ralph Main will meet with engineers of Troy Township and Birmingham to consider a plan to handle the storm and sanitary sewage flow of the Pembroke area just northeast of the city limits.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert has hailed as a positive step toward permanent solution of the problem, a communication from Norman Barnard, Troy Supervisor, outlining a method of jointly handling the problem.

The city has granted water and sanitary sewage flow to the proposed Birmingham school district school in the area, and sanitary service to a housing development, on condition that the developer will construct a storm drain along Derby road.

Troy, petitioned by the Birmingham School Board and property owners in the area just outside the city for sanitary and storm sewer relief, recommended the relief, Troy also favored review, from time to time, of including further areas in a sanitary drain down Coolidge road into the Southeastern Oakland County Sewage Disposal district.

Board of Education president Ernest Seaholm said plans were being developed for the school, but construction would not begin until the drainage problem was solved. When the city granted a water supply and sanitary sewage service outside the city, it was on the condition that the Board of Education provide adequate storm drainage.

Final operating budget of the Birmingham school district for 1953-54 submitted to the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission this week, shows an income of $1,971,943.76.

Of this figure, $1,067,555.01 will come from the 12-mill assessment on local property. Another $447,520 is scheduled to come from state aid, and $191,576 from sales tax receipts.

Breaking down the state aid, the district will receive $150 for each of its 4027 elementary students, and $170 each for its 1921 high school students. State aid is computed on the number of children in attendance during the past year, however, which leaves the school behind if enrollment rises.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dwight B. Ireland has estimated 7,000 students will be present opening day. Salaries of principals and teachers will consume $1,115,536 of the total income.

Bloomfield Hills City Clerk Robert Stadler said yesterday that $52,053.92 of the total tax spread of $83,155.40 has been collected to date. Percentage-wise, 62½ per cent of the city's taxes are in, compared with 59 per cent at this time last year.

Taxes are coming in more heavily now, he said, probably because as of September 1 there is a 0.75 per cent penalty per month, until next spring when they are turned into the County Treasurer as delinquent taxes.

A resolution stating: "Otaining right of way for Fourteen Mile Road between Southield and Cranbrook Roads is a necessary part of any plan for providing a reasonable, adequate system of east and west roads to serve the area," has been passed by the City Commission, and sent to the State Highway Commissioner, Oakland County Planning Commission, and the County Road Commission.

"With no major east and west street in the area between Twelve Mile Road and Long Lake Road, other than Maple Avenue, it is entirely possible for the traffic demands to reach such proportions as to materially affect property values in our central business section and residential values along Maple," City Manager Donald C. Egbert has stated.

Merritt A. Snyder

Service for Merritt A. Snyder, 45, of 6590 Crooks Rd., Troy Township, will be 2:30 p. m. Saturday from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Interment has not yet been determined.

Snyder died suddenly at his residence last night. Born in Indiana, he attended Valparaiso University there. He served in the U. S. Cavalry in World War I.

He had lived in this area for 30 years and married Irene Fuller in Pontiac in 1932. Snyder was personnel manager of the R. C. Mahon Structural Steel Co. in Detroit for 21 years and for the past nine years owned an operated the Snyder Dairy on Crooks Road.

Survivors include his widow, a son Thomas, attending Michigan State College, a daughter, Joyce Irene, at home, and a brother, Oscar Rickard of Detroit.

ment about Mossadegh's capture led to some speculation that Zahedi's regime might have made the broadcast in the hope of breaking the spirit of pro-Mossadegh groups.

American officials in Washington were hopeful the new government would be able to stabilize the country and secure it against any Communist bid for power. State Department officials were reported maintaining an attitude of watchful waiting.

British officials anxiously awaited an announcement of the ministers in the new cabinet, in the hope the list will give some hint of the Zahedi government's attitude on the British-Iranian oil dispute.

Stevenson Declares Free World Ahead

objective of world domination has changed.

"3. Just now, unhappily, our prestige and moral influence have declined, together with faith in our judgment and our leadership."

Stevenson said he found, generally, the following attitudes toward America and American foreign policy:

"Fatith in cooperation is being replaced by belief in unilateral action—a readiness to go it alone.

"It is hard for them to reconcile our view of the danger (of war) with a cut in our defense buildup.

"There is an impression that 'trade not aid' is becoming no aid and no trade.

With a broad smile, Stevenson opened his press conference by anticipating a question which he said is inevitably asked, about his candidacy for the White House in 1956.

"I don't know whether I am going to run in 1956," he said, "and if I did I wouldn't tell you."

photographs made by the Pontiac Press from the artist's sketch in hopes someone saw the suspect loitering in the neighborhood.

The girl, attacked nine hours after the body of Mrs. Hallie Perkins, 57, of 76 W. Longfellow Ave., was found near Baldwin and Beverly Aves. Saturday afternoon, failed to identify five of the suspects in a police show-up.

The other 12 were questioned and all 17 have been released, but some may be called back for further questioning, said Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of Pontiac detectives.

A statewide search for Thomas Martinelli, who escaped Aug. 1 from Ionia State Hospital where he was serving a term for a common-law rape, continued today. Martinelli, whose features and physique reportedly matched the girl's description, fled only four days before Mrs. Perkins disappeared.

Capt. Wheaton said a man's coat draped over the lower part of Mrs. Perkins' body failed to yield any new clues.

Detective John DePauw, investigation coordinator, and Capt. Wheaton said they received about 75 tips, by telephone and letters, yesterday.

They urged residents to continue forwarding information as "any possible tip given us might turn out to be the one we're looking for."

Police have been running down tips 24 hours a day. A special telephone number, FEderal 2-2426, has been designated for phoned tips.

Both the girl's attack and the slaying of Mrs. Perkins are linked, as the rapist used similar methods in both cases.

Stalin Peak, 24,950 feet, in the Pamir mountains, is the highest in the Soviet Union.

MRS. MARY RUTH CHEEK

Woman Missing From Royal Oak for Ten Days

DETROIT (AP)— Today was the tenth day since pretty Mrs. Mary Ruth Cheek, 30, disappeared from her Royal Oak Township home.

She vanished without a trace, according to her former serviceman husband, Gwen, 32, a factory welder.

On Monday comes the 10th birthday for Mary Gwynne, one of the Cheeks' two daughters. The other is Karen Lynne, 3.

"I don't want a present, Daddy, all I want is Mommy," Mary Gwynne said through tears.

Both state and township police are searching for Mrs. Cheek. The blue-eyed, brown-haired mother, a former Mt. Pleasant girl, disappeared the night of Aug. 10 two days after her 12th wedding anniversary.

Cheek said he had "no idea" why she left. There had been no trouble, he said.

Police said fellow workers of Mrs. Cheek at a metals moulding plant could give no clues. Mrs. Cheek was a press operator at the plant.

The police description said Mrs. Cheek is five feet six inches tall and weighs 135 pounds.

U. S. Verifies Soviets Now Have H-Bomb

mony. Eisenhower said a proper and decent living standard was a better defense against communism than "any bomb of whatever kind."

The Moscow announcement said that Soviet possesion of the H-bomb offered no cause for alarm among peoples of other countries. It called again for international acceptance of a Russian disarmament plan including a ban on atomic weapons.

The Russian disarmament plan proposes a one-third reduction in conventional arms by major powers and a ban on atomic and bacteriological weapons.

Western nations object that there is no provision for adequate international inspection to check on whether the projected ban on atomic weapons was being observed by Russia.

The United States has long advocated international control over atomic weapons with a system of international inspection.

IMPORTANT ATOMIC DATES

Dec. 2, 1942—First self-sustaining atomic chain reaction, in Chicago.
July 16, 1945—First A-bomb test, in the desert near Alamogordo, N. M.
Aug. 6, 1945—First use of A-bomb in war, the bombing of Hiroshima, Japan.
Sept. 23, 1949—President Truman's announcement of the first Russian atomic explosion.
May 1951—First U.S. hydrogen test explosion, at Eniwetok.
Oct. 2, 1952—Test explosion in Australia of the first British A-bomb.
Nov. 1, 1952—Second U.S. hydrogen test explosion, at Eniwetok.
Aug. 8, 1953—Soviet Premier Malenkov's assertion that Russia has "developed" the hydrogen bomb.
Aug. 12—First Russian hydrogen test explosion.
Aug. 20—United States confirms Soviet H-bomb test.

The Russian disarmament plan to which the Soviets referred today proposes a one-third reduction in conventional arms by the Big Five — the United States, Britain, France, Russia and China — as well as an outright and immediate ban on atomic and bacteriological weapons.

The West has repeatedly rejected the Russian plan on the grounds that it would permit international inspectors to check on Soviet atomic production only when and where the Kremlin decreed.

The Soviets in turn have consistently turned down a Western plan for arms reduction — approved by an overwhelming majority of the United Nations — calling for step-by-step inspection and counting of arms throughout the world and iron-clad controls over atomic energy production with the aim of eventual prohibition of mass destruction weapons.

In Denver, President Eisenhower's press secretary James C. Hagerty, said the chief executive would have no comment on the Soviet announcement.

Hagerty told newsmen the President had been informed of the Atomic Energy Commission's findings but added, "I can't tell you when."

Following Malenkov's Aug. 8 announcement, Western atomic experts generally conceded that the Russians probably knew the principles of construction of a hydrogen bomb but doubted that the Soviets were nearly so far advanced in the field as the United States.

Gilleos Are Returned on Murder Charge

of Toledo. He claims his wife didn't know the body was in the car.

The body was discovered in Toledo Aug. 4 and Ohio authorities issued a first degree warrant against Gilleo and his wife.

They tentatively withdrew the warrant when Gilleo maintained that the murder occurred in Oakland County when questioned after their arrest in Knoxville, Tenn., by FBI agents early Tuesday morning.

Authorities have been skeptical of the story in the belief Gilleo wanted to be tried in Michigan, rather than Ohio. His maximum term in Michigan for first degree murder, would be life in prison, while in Ohio he could be sentenced to death.

The Gilleos were flown to Pontiac yesterday from Knoxville under custody of Oakland County Undersheriff Donald O. Menzies and Detective Leo Hazen.

Sheriff's detectives Mahlon France and David Brann returned to Pontiac with the Gilleos' car this morning. The car will be checked for evidence, said officials.

Ziem said a first degree murder warrant issued against Gilleo will stand, but a similar charge against his wife may be reduced after further investigation. Both Gilleo and his wife are confined in Oakland County Jail after making statements to Ziem last night.

Meanwhile, authorities speculated that a trunk containing bloody garments found in Lapeer Counyt may have been abandoned by the Gilleos.

Gileo told Ziem he put a blanket, hat and bloody floor mat in a small trunk and left it beside a road between Port Huron and Flint after a radio broacast forced him to tell his wife of thet slaying.

Pontiac Deaths

Clarence E. Hardy

Clarence E. Hardy, 21, of 8795 Cooley Beach Dr. died Wednesday at Pontiac General Hospital after a two-day illness.

Mr. Hardy, who was born in Detroit, was the son of Edward B. and Susan Hegedus Hardy. He was a premedical student at the University of Michigan where he was a member of the Premedical Society, Zoological Club, Botany Club and president of the Camera Club.

Graduating from Walled Lake High School in 1950, he was the valedictorian of his class as well as winner of the Regents Alumni Scholarship. He was a member of the Pontiac Art Scoiety and had won several awards for his paintings.

Surviving besides his parents is a sister, Gail, and a brother, Gerald, both at home.

Burial will be Saturday at 11 a. m. at Donelson-Johns Funeral Home where the body may be viewed at 7:30 this evening.

Mrs. Ada B. Watson

Ada B. Watson, 84, of 270 Liberty St., died early this morning on the way to Pontiac General Hospital.

Born in White Lake Township, she was the daughter of William and Martha Bird Cheal. In 1889 she married Jesse A. Watson in Pontiac and spent her entire life in the county.

Surviving her are three sons, Charles E. of Fort Thomas, Ky., Glenn H. and Ernest J. of Pontiac; and one daughter, Mrs. Elmer J. Kingsland of Phoenix, Ariz.

One sister, Miss Bess Cheal of East Lansing, a brother G. L. Cheal of Pontiac, eight grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren also survive.

Service will be Saturday at 2:30 from Donelson-Johns Funeral Home. Burial will follow at Oak Hill Cemetery.

Lynda Sue Wilson

Lynda Sue Wilson, 9, of 437 S. Opdyke Rd., died yesterday at the Pontiac General Hospital after a lengthy illness.

She was born in Pontiac on June 3, 1944 the daughter of Max E. and Laura M. Tessman Wilson.

She attended Auburn Heights Elementary School and was a member of the St. Trinity Lutheran Church.

Surviving besides her parents are her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tessman and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Wilson both of Pontiac and a sister Sally Lou at home.

The body may be viewed after 7 p. m. this evening at the Dudley Moore Funera. Home.

Country Club Employe Beaten, Robbed of $40

Raymond Bullard, an employe at Pine Lake Country Club's bathing beach, reported to Oakland County sheriff's deputies that he was beaten and robbed of $40 yesterday by two men who were driving him home after the three met in a Keego Harbor bar.

The two drove Bullard to a field near Richardson and Union Lake roads and left him unconscious deputies said. A passerby found Bullard and took him to Pontiac General Hospital, they explained where he was treated for multiple cuts and bruises.

School to Open as Scheduled in Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM—Hopes of area youngsters for some reason why school won't open September 8 as scheduled were dashed today by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dwight B. Ireland.

"Present plans indicate an assurance that the schools will open on schedule, with elementary pupils reporting at 9 a.m. and junior and senior high school students at 8:20 a.m. for a half day session," he said.

Sixty-two new faculty members will report for duty that day, following a four day pre-school conference.

"One of the major problems for the administration is the housing of new teachers," Ireland stated.

He urged residents to call the Board of Education office if they have housing available. Ireland added that all new pupils not yet registered should enroll any day between 9-11 a.m. and 2-4 p.m. at the school they will attend.

Saginaw Sheriff Quits to Become Postmaster

SAGINAW (UP)—Saginaw County was in the market today for a new sheriff to succeed William A. Munroe, who was scheduled to resign next Saturday to become Saginaw postmaster.

Munroe will be the city's first Republican postmaster in 21 years. A committee composed of the county clerk, prosecutor and probate judge will pick his successor as sheriff.

Quake Awakes Sleepy Town

Tehachapi, California, Formerly Prison Site, Now Booming

TEHACHAPI, Calif. (INS) — It took an earthquake, one of the worst in California's history, to shake Tehachapi out of 100 years of sleepy living and the stigma of a prison town.

Prior to July 21, 1952 the Indian community, buried in the towering Tehachapi Mountains north of Los Angeles, was infamous as the home of the California State Prison for Women.

Today tiny Tehachapi has actually jumped its population from 1,500 to 2,300 and the rubble that made front-page newspaper pictures last July has been cleared in favor of a spanking new business district. Thirteen persons perished in the 'quake.

The mayor of Tehachapi, rotund Gus Koutroulis, credited the rebirth of the town to:

"American faith coupled with a large amount of capital mixed with hard work and an optimistic forecast."

To date $1,500,000 has been invested in Tehachapi building improvements with these results:

Down G street, where 12 buildings were destroyed and nearly 30 stores damaged, spanking new buildings line the litter-freed sidewalks.

The cornerstone has been laid and construction is under way on a new Masonic Temple—with the nearby Monolith Corporation, the community's biggest single industry—donating all the cement.

Another block of stores is planned for the new-cleared site where the Juanita Hotel, its wall sheared off and its beds dangling grotesquely over the street, once stood.

A $250,000 hospital with 32 beds will be erected on the present site where the 16-bed Tehachapi Hospital, made untenable by the 'quake, once stood.

And perhaps the most gratifying project of all, the old women's prison, its still-standing walls belying the dangerous hazards that forced the occupants to leave, will be entirely renovated and will become a new "Boys Town" for orphans.

As Mayor Koutroulis puts it:

"Tehachapi became world known for its shambles. It is now time to let people know that this is probably the most modern old town in the world today."

Build New Airship

AKRON, Ohio (AP)— Goodyear Aircraft Corp. is building a new lighter-than-air ship for use as a submarine spotter. The ship, the ZP5K, is expected to replace the K-type airships used in anti-submarine warfare during World War II. It will carry an eight man crew. Goodyear did not disclose how many of the ships it plans to build.

Boys Club Plans Bicycle Derby for Friday

Some 200-bike-riding members of Boys' Club of Pontiac, Inc., will compete Friday for 25 prizes in the annual "Bicycle Derby" at Eastern Junior High School.

The "Derby," scheduled for 1 p.m., will be the last Boy's club project for two weeks. The club will close Friday at 9 p.m., reopening Sept. 8, to give employes a two-week holiday.

Friday's bicycle "rodeo," directed by George "Ted" Cavin and Joe Chevalier, includes obstacle races, speed races, stunts and awards for the best-decorated bicycles. The prizes, bicycle accessories, will be awarded in two classifications: for boys 14 years old and older and juniors 13 and under.

Contestants will be limited to Boys' Club members.

Air Force Secretary Back From Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force Secretary Talbott returned from a two-week tour of European air installations today with word that "I saw some things I liked very much and some things I didn't like."

It was his first visit to that area since taking office.

Asked what his particular points of dissatisfaction were, Talbott said there are always some things that are not just right, but he declined to elaborate.

He said he was very much impressed with the training operations of the Strategic Air Command, the U. S. long range striking force. He added that he considered the command a major deterrent to aggression.

Observing the morning paper's news that Russia had set off a hydrogen bomb, Talbott remarked, "that's a helluva headline."

Reds Have No Worries, (Nor Fun) on Vacations

By WALTER G. RUNDLE
(For Phil Neewsom)

This is the season when harrassed capitalist wage slaves either are fretting over road maps, travel folders and resort reservations or trying to salvage the family budget after a couple of weeks at some seaside hotel or mountain lodge with the wife and kiddies.

We have the testimony of the Communist press and radio that no such aggravations beset the peoples of the proletarian paradise of Communist East Europe.

"We have created conditions for the working people of which the people of Rome, Paris, London and even the Americans overseas do not even dare to dream," gloats Hungary's Radio Kossuth.

"For the first time Hungarian workers are free from exploitation and a happy carefree vacation has been assured them."

Let's have a look:

First of all there is no problem of picking a vacation spot. In the people's democracies, that vexing chore is handled for you by the state.

If your factory and personal production quotas have been met, a vacation certificate will be handed you by your trade union council or shop foreman. No problem either about when you'll go. The date and state resort at which you'll stay are stamped on your card.

There's no fretting about how you'll meet the cost of taking the wife and children along. You can't. And anyhow, they'd probably feel a bit out of place sleeping in the big resort dormitories.

No need either for our fortunate Stakhanovite vacationist to stew about whether to spend the day on the golf links, in the pool, the bar or on some bridle trail. His day is cut out for him.

8:30—Breakfast.

9 to 11—Group meetings at which political topics are discussed.

12 to 1 Lunch (soup, meat and dessert).

1 to 4—Rest.

4 to 4:30—Snack (Bread and marmalade.)

4:30 to 6—Free leisure time.

6—Meeting at which vacationers listen to speeches over loudspeakers.

7:30 to 8:30—Dinner (meat and fruit).

8:30 to 10:30—Group singing, folk dances fireside talks.

10:30—Lights out.

Refugees in West Europe who've vacationed at such resorts report that guests are marched in formation to and from meals, "singing all the way." Even movies, dances and excursions, they say, are organized for group participation.

Party activists who run the resorts discourage private recreational activities and "legitimate excuses" must be offered by the man who asks to be excused from planned activity.

Funny thing though:

The Sofia (Bulgaria) newspaper Trud reported that "In spite of the wonderful conditions for relaxation and recuperation at these resorts . . . The Central Committee of Professional Unions cannot fulfill its yearly quota . . . Only five to 10 workers registered where 200 can be accommodated." Similar reports from Warsaw and Prague.

Could be, of course, that conditions in those state-owned factories are so wonderful the comrades just can't tear themselves away.

Well, you downtrodden capitalists, what are you waiting for. You have nothing to lose but your chains—and the right to decide where and how you'll acquire your annual quota of sunburn and insect bites.

Members Will Discuss Controversial Venture in Publishing

DETROIT (AP) — Delegates to the 95th International Typographical Union today were slated to take up the affairs of the union's controversial publishing venture — Unitypo.

The publishing venture, which has not been self-supporting, is a "hot issue" between the ITU's two political factions, the "progressives," headed by union President Woodruff Randolph, and the "independents."

Established by the ITU to print newspapers in cities where members are on strike, Unitypo has received financial aid from the ITU's general defense fund.

Members of the Baltimore local have introduced a bylaw change which would take away Randolph's power to use defense funds to aid the printing venture. This proposition comes up today.

Delegates yesterday endorsed statehood for Hawaii, expanded social security legislation, reduced federal taxes, and the legislative program of Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore).

The convention turned down five bylaw changes which would have expanded benefits from the ITU's self-financed pension program.

Other action included:

1 — Rejection of a proposition to move the ITU's international headquarters from Indianapolis to Washington, D. C.

2 — Approval of a proposition commending the United Nations for its action in halting the Korean fighting.

3 — Approval of a proposition calling for the restoration of "home rule" to the District of Columbia.

President Registers for Absentee Ballot

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower registered yesterday and applied for an absentee ballot so he can vote in the city's mayoralty election in November.

After Eisenhower signed his name to the necessary papers, a reporter inquired: "Mr. President, will you tell us how you're going to vote."

The President replied: "How do you think?"

The Kinsey Report

The Pontiac Press believes that it is performing a very real and needed public service in publishing extracts from the latest Kinsey report.

This report is based on a survey made by Indiana University scientists on the sexual behavior of women.

Public attitudes toward many things have changed gradually over the years. For centuries sex has been a taboo subject. No lady would even use the word. It could be discussed only in the privacy of a physician's office.

Because of this feeling, generation after generation of children grew up without proper or adequate instruction regarding their sex life and the normal, proper place of sex in their lives.

Just as real progress in the control of venereal disease has been aided greatly by treating it openly and like any other disease, so can a franker discussion of sex prove beneficial.

That is the thought and aim of Dr. Kinsey and his co-workers. The Press believes that wider knowledge of sex, properly presented by qualified persons, is desirable and we believe that today's article constitutes a step in that direction.

Mossadegh's Downfall

The overthrow of Iran's weeping Premier Mossadegh was a wholly logical sequel to that country's recent tragic history.

Until normal communications are restored no one can know how strong a grip pro-Shah elements have on the government.

First reports indicate that the 78-year-old premier had escaped the mob. But his home was set afire and his bodyguard and foreign minister were slain in a day of bloody rioting.

Tehran radio reported that General Zahedi, appointed premier by the Shah before his flight to Italy when last Sunday's royalist revolt failed, is in full control. Speaking over the government radio Zahedi told the people his regime would "raise the standard of living and insure social justice." About the same time leaders of the revolt urged the Shah to return immediately to Tehran.

For two and a half years Mossadegh has been leading his country dizzily down the road to ruin. In recent weeks his insatiable ambition to become a dictator and destroy all vestiges of democratic rule had further warped his judgment.

Wednesday Dr. Mossadegh learned that he had overestimated his own political power and the willingness of the masses to commit national suicide.

Restoration of the Shah might not result in denationalization of Iran's oil fields and Britain's great refinery at Abadan. But observers in this country feel it will pave the way for a quick and satisfactory settlement of the long smoldering dispute with Britain.

It was Mossadegh's refusal to accept any settlement and his playing of the Communists against the West which made Iran the subject of so much free world concern. Western statesmen feared that he was making it easy for Russia eventually to take over Iran's vast oil resources.

Perhaps at long last Iran has started back along the road to sanity and national solvency.

"Snake Bites Man Seven Times."—Headline. That's what happens when a fast snake comes in contact with a slow man.

Aid Rushed to Quake Area

Natural disasters have a way of bringing out the best qualities of mankind and the quakes which leveled the Ionian Isles are no exception.

The one bright spot on the rubble strewn islands of Cephalonia, Ithaca and Zante is the speed with which aid has been forthcoming.

It has come not only from Greece itself, but from American, British, French, Italian and Israeli naval units. In addition the International Red Cross, the American Red Cross, Church World Service and Greek War Relief are doing their best to relieve the suffering of survivors.

Although the complete toll of human lives and property may never be known, estimated losses are staggering. These include 1,000 dead, 4,000 injured and 100,000 homeless.

During the five days of almost continuous earth shocks, giant cliffs were seen to break off and fall into the sea. Landslides isolated or even buried interior villages. Wells are choked with mud. On the Island of Zante a hospital collapsed burying uncounted numbers of wounded being treated there.

The most urgent immediate needs for food, water and medicine are being met. But the quakes have created a huge long range relief problem friends of Greece in this and other countries already are organizing to meet.

The national suicide rate is at a new low. Most people are so busy worrying they don't have time to kill themselves.

Early Railroading

Pontiac on First Chartered Line, but It Wasn't Built

Daffynition

License number: The best thing to take when you're run down.

Pontiac was to be at one end of the first railroad chartered in Michigan. The first franchise for the Detroit and Pontiac Railway was granted on July 31, 1830, by the Michigan Territorial Council. But this project did not materialize. In 1833 the Erie and Kalamazoo line was built from Toledo to Adrian, the first in Michigan. A little later the same line laid tracks from Monroe to Adrian. This road continues to exist, now being a part of the New York Central System, and of 327 West Iroquois Road, Pontiac, is its president. The Detroit and Pontiac Road later got another charter and was completed to Pontiac in 1844, now a part of the Grand Trunk System.

This area's lake and outdoor recreational centers are congesting our highways, some of the biggest traffic counts being on roads leading to them.

that we are such an outdoor state that most of the requests for better roads in the lake and recreational sections come from people who live in the cities.

David Speer Says Traffic Surveys Help Improve Road Conditions; Urges Support

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

It was interesting to read the letter which appeared Aug. 18 signed by "A Disgusted Taxpayer." The person complained of the survey being made on Middlebelt Road.

I talked to one of the men who is helping supervise the survey, which is being conducted by the state, city of Detroit and a couple of other government agencies.

This survey is of utmost importance for it will be used in a few years time to create better road conditions.

The roads being surveyed are either main roads or feeder roads, which cause traffic congestion at various times. Knowing where the great majority of drivers are going will help the state plan future road and crossing construction. Similar surveys have been made in many large cities.

The state undertook the present survey with the knowledge that some folks would not be able to see the overall picture. Many drivers enter into the spirit of the survey and know it will be to their future advantage.

Most of the men making the survey are college boys getting about $250 a month for standing out in the road in all sorts of weather. They now and then get abused by some short-sighted drivers.

Let's try to co-operate the next time we are stopped.

Russia's H-Bomb News Arouses Talk of Ike Discussing U. S. Achievements

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Perhaps President Eisenhower — now that the Russians have had two rides with one ticket on the hydrogen bomb — will make a public statement about this country's progress with the same weapon.

Malenkov told the Supreme Soviet Aug. 8 the United States no longer had a monopoly on production of the bomb. Today the Communist newspaper Pravda said Russia had actually tested an H-bomb.

This country never has officially claimed to have produced this bomb although the carefully worded statements given out after tests at Eniwetok indicated the United States had the H-bomb.

But when Malenkov made his claim two members of the House of Representatives—both on the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee—said this country has the H-bomb.

And after Pravda's announcement, Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, in a still carefully worded statement said that on Aug. 12 Russia had produced atomic explosions similar to the reaction this country got at Eniwetok.

For weeks there have been Washington rumors that Eisenhower was considering making a talk to the nation, and the world, about this country's achievements with the H-bomb and its awful destructiveness.

One report floating around the capital was:

That there were two schools of thought among Eisenhower's advisers, one urging him to disclose at least some of America's development with the bomb and its awful nature, and the other urging him to say nothing.

C. D. Jackson, Eisenhower's adviser on psychological warfare and certainly one of those to be consulted in any decision about a public statement of this kind, was asked within the past few days:

Was there any truth in a report that a speech on the bomb was already written and lying on Eisenhower's desk, awaiting his decision to deliver it or junk it?

Jackson said he knew nothing about it. Yesterday on his New York trip Eisenhower had breakfast with Jackson and Strauss. This was hours before the Pravda announcement, but seven days after this government had learned of the Aug 12 Russian atomic explosion.

Strauss, in his statement last night, said this country learned of the atomic explosion by the Communists on Aug. 12 but subsequently—he didn't say precisely when—learned it was of a kind involving "both fission and thermonuclear reactions." Thermonuclear is the scientific term for the hydrogen explosion reaction.

This delay in government announcement about Russian atomic experiments was not unprecedented. When President Truman in 1949 disclosed an atomic test in Russia he said it had occurred several weeks before.

Malenkov's Aug. 8 statement—that the United States no longer had a monopoly on production of the hydrogen bomb—was carefully worded and, because it was, it set the Western world guessing.

It implied rather than claimed that Russia had mastered production of the bomb.

The question remained: Russia might have the information but was it capable of making the bomb yet?

On Aug. 12, the day of the Russian test, Secretary of State Dulles said:

There was no evidence that Russia had produced the H-bomb. But he spoke several hours, apparently, before this country's sensitive devices began to pick up evidence of the Russian test that morning.

Since Malenkov spoke only four days before his government made its test, he knew the test would soon be made. It was thought at the time he might be bluffing. Now it seems he was understating his claims. Why?

His first guarded statement got a sensational reaction around the world. Just as it began to die down, Pravda made the second claim. Whatever the Russian reason for handling news of the bomb this way, they at least got twice as much attention as they would if nothing had been said until Pravda broke the news today.

And the next time Malenkov makes a guarded claim, even if it's phony, he'll get more attention, and perhaps more belief, than he did this time. Psychologically, the Russians figured this one closely.

Eisenhower will have to decide whether he wants to offset this news from Russia with news about American work on the bomb, plus statements about the future, including national defense and atomic policy.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Encourages 'Two-Story' Farming on Hilly Ground

"Tree Crops" are the food hope of the future, so encourage "two-story" farming on hilly ground. And fatten your livestock on honey locust pods, mulberries, acorns, hickory nuts, etc. If you know of any extra good fruit or nut trees, send the information to Cliff Hirschman at once.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case H-364: Cliff Hirschman, aged 45, is a truly dynamic personality, who often visits my Bible class in the Chicago Loop.

Officially, he is a manufacturer at Indianapolis, but unofficially he also teaches a large Bible class and among other hobbies is vitally concerned with soil conservation.

Knowing my interest in such things, too, he recently sent me a copy of Dr. J. Russell Smith's new book called "Tree Crops." And I sat up most of the night reading it.

Dr. Smith says the food hope of the future lies in planting our hilly land with trees which bear crops of nuts, berries, fruits, honey locust pods, etc.

Dr. Smith calls corn the "killer of continents", for it involves plowed fields which soon erode under heavy rainfall, become gullied and ultimately barren, unless the land is flat.

Dr. Smith also cites the fact that the long sweet pods of the honey locust tree are excellent food for cattle, hogs, etc.

And he points out that an acre of honey locusts will furnish the food equivalent of 275 bushels of oats per acre!

Besides, the honey locust pods, ground up with corn meal, make dandy muffins.

About the only objection to them is the fact some folks think they are too sweet, but that wouldn't bother me for I like my food doubly sweetened, anyway.

Then he shows how many farmers fatten their hogs on mulberry groves and oak forests which drop tons of edible berries and acorns.

Hogs are also delighted with hickory nuts and even black walnuts. The latter, when cracked, serve as excellent chicken feed, too.

And when you let your livestock dine off the fruit and nuts, this is "lazy farming" for you don't even need to shovel the food to them. It is delivered afresh with every new breeze that shakes the tree tops.

Dr. Smith likewise stresses what he calls "two-story" farming. By that, he means grain or hay crops planted beneath trees which bear fruit or nuts.

If the trees are not too thick, they don't interfere seriously with the lower story grain crops, and then add their own harvest at the second story level.

Trees will take root in semi-arid and almost barren, gullied land. So crop yielding trees offer the best medium for extending agriculture to hills and rocky ground.

Since erosion of our top soil is fast destroying our land, we should all take heed. Even people living on small plots of ground should plant mulberry trees in their chicken yard to serve as food.

Besides, the freak tree, like the naval orange, which could never reproduce itself, can quickly be salvaged for all future generations of mankind just by grafting it upon other trees.

For example, one freak tree in an Iowa fence row, thus gave us the Red Delicious apple.

So keep your eyes open for any tree that bears unusually large fruit or nuts, or that bears later than usual or earlier than usual.

These freaks can be grafted or budded so wonderful benefits will accrue to the human race.

And, Boy Scouts, try some acorn meal. Soak the bitter tannin out of the mashed acorns, and they will then be edible. That was standard Indian foodstuff.

And plant mulberry trees, oaks, hickory, walnut, chestnut, plum, haw, persimmon, pecan, chinquapin, hazelnuts, wild cherry, honey locusts, etc.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER
(International News Service)

Now that Congress is paroled let's look over the toned-down headlines.

Since January we have been reading Ike wants this, Ike wants that and Ike wants those.

Most of it was money, some of it was immigration, a lot was legislation and the rest was preparedness. When Ike goes shopping he uses the Grand Canyon for a market basket.

How does Ike arrive at those astronomical nibbles at the national fall money? Does he whip it after bivouacking on the elbow in the pagoda of the imperial mirage? Does he shake the dice up in a hat? Does he light up when they tilt him?

First of all Ike is working on a 1952 Truman budget. Do you know that Harry left seven months ago and they haven't been able to find the switch that shuts off the piano?

A Democratic budget in a Republican administration is an all-Havana cheroot with a bonus filler. It's like inheriting a recipe for caviar. Ike had everything laid out for him like a Duke's evening clothes.

Then Ike has a little organization called the cabinet. And a cabinet officer is a dealt-in kibitzer.

This corporal's squad of generals advises Ike on everything from Alpha to Omega and a bit of Upsilon. The voice may be Ike's but the hand-out is Esau's.

Reader's Letter Comments on Coffee; Dr. Brady Agrees That It Ups the Jitters

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

I tried out your prevention of stage fright, writes H. S. W., but I'm not sure it really helped. I was just as jittery before playing, but did find my hands perspired less.

Through personal experience I have learned that abstinence from coffee, especially in the three hours before a performance, is advisable. Caffeine really ups the jitters!

I thoroughly enjoy your column, but think you quibble too much about the harmlessness of chilling.

You disregard the fact that the incidence and degree of infection varies with the virulence of the infectious agent as opposed to the resistance of the host. Can you argue that chilling has nothing to do with resistance? (H. L. W.)

Thank you for your observation concerning coffee. It certainly does!

Nowadays when I read what I say about coffee in the red book (What to Eat and Why) my face is red too.

Please remember that I wrote the chapters on coffee when the beverage was within the reach of the common man, and in the consant haste of keeping things up to date I failed to revise the chapters about coffee.

In the next edition I'll give coffee less attention and tea more.

No, Ma'am, I can't argue about the effect of chilling on resistance because I don't know what resistance means.

To my mind resistance is a charm possessed by everyone who hasn't lately caught or succumbed to anything.

Any reader who offers a better definition of resistance, in less than 50 words, which I consider good enough to print here will receive as a token of my esteem, a full set of Little Lessons in the ways of Health (23 volumes) with the author's compliments.

No matter what you think about chilling, wet feet, exposure, dampness, draft, insufficient clothing, I'm as fond of comfort as you are.

To the best of my knowlede or belief physical discomfort from any of these environmental factors, is of no benefit to health.

On the other hand, it seems absurd to worry about "exposure" to these factors in everyday life, and, indeed, such worry or mental discomfort or uneasiness in itself is probably injurious to health.

In Call it CRI, for which send 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope, I quote a statement uttered by Dr. Leonard Hill, distinguished English, physiologist and authority on ventilation—

"It is absurd to put on an overcoat when going out for a walk. It is good to go out and be braced by feeling cold and so be impelled to take vigorous exercise."

Cut this out and paste it where you will see it when you reach for your hat, coat, muffler, overshoes, chest protector, boa or mittmittens — next winter, that is.

Pelts on the Hoof Stun Colorado Tourists

BLACK HAWK, Colo. (AP)—Astonished tourists have been reporting they've seen silver foxes racing through Golden Gate Canyon area north of here.

They're right.

A year ago a disgusted fur farmer, Arthur Crow, turned 120 silver foxes loose in the area. He said he had been offered only $5 each for them and they cost $22 apiece to raise.

The foxes have thrived in the mountains.

When Timbuktu was a center of Moslem culture in the 15th and 16th Centuries, caravans with as many as 10,000 camels were seen there, often carrying gold and ostrich plumes.

School Uses Mousetraps in Atomic Demonstration

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Carnegie Institute of Techology is using the mousetraps to explain the intricacies of atomic energy.

Enclosed in a plexi-glass case are 60 mousetraps (like atomic nuclei) with rubber corks on them (similar to neutrons in the atom nucleus. This represents the critical mass needed to ge and keep the chain reaction going.

A rubber cork "triggers" the mousetrap-nuclei, dropping like an atom-smashing neutron through a hole in the case. Boom go the snapping traps, bouncing the corks to other traps and other corks, with the whole chain reacting like a slow-motion A-bomb

Moliere to Be Presented in Railroad Language

BRAZZAVILLE (French Equatoriail Africa (AP)—Molier's 1' "Avare (the Miser) will be played in yet another new language here soon. A speaker of Radio Brazzaville is preparing in cooperation with native artists a translation of l'Avare in monokoutouba.

The performance will take place in Brazzaville. Monokoutouba is a sort of native esperanto, "the railway language." It is a spontaneously born combination of dialects spoken by native workers who helped build the railroad from Brazzaville to the sea coast.

The first regular diesel-powered passenger service on U. S. railroads was started in 1934, although diesel switch engines were used regularly as early as 1925.

Robbers Steal Building, Leaving Only Tracks

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Police are searching for a 20-by-30-foot building.

Alvin Rose reported the structure was stolen from a lot where it had been used for storage by a construction company.

Detective R. F. Raulerson said the only clues to the strange disappearance were some large vehicle tracks leading away from the site.

Report Harvest Moving Forward

Lower Peninsula Grain About Finished; Corn Outlook Is Good

LANSING (AP) — Despite scattered showers, Michigan farmers made good progress with harvest operations during the past week, the federal-state crop reporting service said yesterday.

The grain harvest was about finished in Lower Peninsula counties and some plowing for wheat was reported.

Corn was looking good. Early corn in the Lower Peninsula was beginning to dent. About 40 per cent of the corn was past the roasting ear stage and in some counties the figure was 70 per cent.

Field beans, soybeans and sugar beets were looking good although some water damage to field beans occurred in the eastern Thumb area during rains the weekend of Aug. 8.

Due to better weather, weeding and spraying operations were back on schedule in potato areas of the Upper Peninsula.

The small grain harvest was completed in most counties of the Lower Peninsula. The harvest was in full swing in the Upper Peninsula with yields generally good despite a heavy rust infestation.

The harvest of cantaloups, sweet corn and cucumbers for slicing was at volume in the southern half of the state.

A few sour cherries remained to be harvested in the northwest cherry area. Early peaches, apples and plums were being harvested. Redhaven, fairhaven and halehaven peaches were being harvested in southern countigs. The harvest of Elberta peaches was expected to reach volume around Sept. 1.

Jersey at Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP)—The 45,000-ton U. S. battleship New Jersey arrived for a courtesy call today but was too big for Hong Kong's shallow harbor. So it anchored five miles outside while passenger ferries brought the 2,500 crewmen ashore.

Ike Examines H-Bomb Report

Has No Comment Yet on Pravda's Statement or AEC's Words

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower was back at the summer White House today with a top secret report on how the United States learned about Soviet Union tests indicating Russia may have the hydrogen bomb.

Eisenhower had no comment on the Moscow newspaper Pravdas' statement last night that Russia recently touched off a hydrogen bomb explosion.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen there would be no elaboration here on the Atomic Energy Commission's quick follow-up announcement in Washington that the Soviet conducted tests Aug. 12 — which, on the basis of the commission's information, involved "both fission and thermonuclear reactions."

Fission means atomic tests while thermonuclear is the technical term for hydrogen bomb activity.

Eisenhower returned to his vacation headquarters here by plane last night from New York.

Senate Group Begins Probe of Child Crime

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New York area, Washington and Los Angeles were under discussion today by a special Senate subcommittee as the first targets of an investigation into the causes of juvenile delinquency.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ), is undertaking an intensive study of narcotics peddling to children, a reported upsurge in the number of juvenile gangs across the nation and related subjects.

* * *

After a subcommittee meeting yesterday, Hendrickson announced the appointment of Herbert J. Hannoch, Newark, N. J., lawyer, as chief counsel. Dates and places of hearings were not finally decided, but New York, Los Angeles and the nation's capital were reported the most likely first prospects. Some of the hearings, it was reported, may be televised.

Japan Brides Seek End to Water Rites

TOKYO (AP) — Modern day brides in Kyushu have asked the attorney general's office to do something to halt the old Southern Japanese custom of tossing water on the bride as she goes to her wedding. Centuries ago somebody, possibly a prophet, figured that wetting down a bride would bring her luck.

The girls today say they have to put out a lot of yen for a bridal costume, and they don't think it is lucky to have it drenched. The Human Rights Protective Bureau of the attorney general's office is searching the law books for a regulation that might protect the brides.

The National Geographic Society says Mt. Rainier, Washington, has 40 square miles of glaciers.

Red Reports 'Planted'?

VIENNA (INS) — Western economic experts said recently that the Soviet Union's satellites far exceeded their industrial production targets set for 1952 and the first half of 1953. It was claimed that reports filtering through the Iron Curtain indicating that the Soviet orbit's industry failed to reach the Moscow-orded quotas might well be planted by the Red rulers in order to misguide the West about the real industrial potential of the East.

Jail No Place for Dog

BOONVILLE, Ind. (UP)—Jail is no place for a dog—in spite of what his master does — Deputy Sheriff Gabe Feltner decided. When State Trooper Keith Shelton brought in a motorist for drunken driving Feltner locked up the man, but refused to punish the pet which was riding in the car with him: Shelton took the dog to his home in Evansville, 17 miles away.

Greased Pigs Sky-High; Bovine Economy Wins

MT. PLEASANT, Mich. (AP) — County 4-H Club Agent Robert Acker admitted that he just couldn't bring home the bacon.

Of course, he was after live bacon in the form of thirty 60-pound feeder hogs for the annual greased pig scramble at the Farm and Youth Fair Aug. 25-29.

The high price of pork was the reason, Acker said. Farmers just won't sell.

In the event, young boys chase the pigs, catch them, feed them until December and collect the profit. Acker was happy to announce though that the price of beef was cheaper and the calf scramble would be held as scheduled.

Thrown Thirty Feet, Child Lands Unhurt

BINGER, Okla. (AP) — Two-year-old Phillis Clay was thrown 30 feet from a car driven by her mother when it veered from the highway. She landed unhurt on a pillow also thrown from the car.

But her mother, Mrs. Minnie Bell Clay, 29, was killed as the car hurtled into a melon patch after striking a pipe jarred loose from a passing truck.

Cops Surround Robbers; Find Flickering Bulb

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Two alert scout car officers, D. C. Mosshart and P. E. Ming, spotted a flickering light in the early morning hours and radioed for help.

"Burglars using a welding torch on safe at this moment at a vending machine establishment," the officers reported.

Noisy Flicker Flees While Family Fumes

MILWAUKEE (UP) — The Thomas W. Crook family had been having trouble with a noisy member of the woodpecker family. Every morning at 5 o'clock, a flicker awakened them by pecking at their raingutter.

The Crook family called the police to have the bird shot. But the police suggested they see the game warden.

The warden said he couldn't do it but suggested they get a shooting permit from the sheriff and do it themselves. The sheriff said he couldn't give them the permit.

So back to the police went Mr. and Mrs. Crook. The police promised they'd throw rocks or fire a gun to scare the bird, but they couldn't kill it.

Then the Crooks suddenly realized the bird hadn't bothered them for several days. They told the police to skip it.

Claims Apple a Day Keeps Dentist Away

YAKIMA, Wash. (UP) — Now it's "an apple a day keeps the dentist away."

Washington state dentists were told here that "apples do a better job of cleaning the teeth and mouth than a toothbrush."

So said James Robinson, executive secretary of the Southern California Dental Association.

Robinson also made the observation: "Children are literally taking sugar baths and destroying their teeth in doing so." He advocated removal of candy vending machines in schools and theaters.

Newport Opens Historic House

Restored Mansion Once Was Dwelling Place of Famous Americans

NEWPORT, R. I. (UP) — One of the nation's most famous pre-Revolutionary houses — completely restored and furnished with a half-million dollars worth of Colonial American antiques — has been opened to the public.

The Hunter House, built more than 200 years ago, was the home of William R. Hunter, American minister to Brazil during the second quarter of the 19th century.

Much earlier it was the plush residence of Rhode Island colonial governors.

Gilbert Stuart, the great early American portrait painter, painted his first picture there while apprenticed to the household. Adm. Chevalier de Ternay, commander of the French Navy during the American Revolution, was quartered in the house and died in an upstairs bedroom.

The Preservation Society of Newport County bought the house five years ago. For many years it had been occupied by the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Restoration included the removal of a sunporch and other structural changes and the painting of the entire interior in the original colors. Some of the most beautiful early American paneling was renovated.

The furnishings, all originally made in Newport during the 18th century, are on loan from private homes and institutions throughout the nation. Most will be on display until early October.

Included in the exhibition are the first spinet made in America, three Stuart paintings, a secretary-bookcase made by John Goddard in 1761 valued at about $40,000 and silver made by 14 colonial silversmiths.

The house is on Washington Street where the merchant princes of 18th century Newport built their mansions. It was built with the gold that flowed into that early Newport when the city was a seat of commerical power.

The back of the house faces the harbor. As you look down the cool 18th century front hall and out the back door, you can see units of the modern U. S. Navy ride at anchor where once were sailing ships that carried rum, molasses and slaves.

Toward the back of the hall, now plastered up, is the doorway to a secret passageway to the water.

It's a passageway that perhaps a British officer once used when ordered to abandon Newport in the face of a patriot army; or a French naval officer used on the way to Yorktown.

Woman Remodels Chair, Finds $140 in Bills

ISLAND POND, Vt. (UP) — With true Vermont thrift Mrs. Leon Currie decided that rather than let her husband dispose of an old chair she'd make a kitchen stool out of it.

She removed the padded seat and found beneath it an old tobacco pouch which contained $140 — seven $20 bills.

Rising Economy Helped Immortalize Hamilton, Elect Truman

ITHACA, N.Y. (UP) — A rising price level has more to do with the selection of national heroes than their personal characteristics, according to a Cornell University farm economist.

"Good times may have saved many of our national heroes from oblivion," said Dr. F. A. Pearson.

Dr. Pearson, incidentally, is the same economist who received national recognition in 1948 when he predicted the election of former President Truman on the basis of a rising price level.

Right now, he said, the nation has the same favorable conditions which have made secure reputations of past heroes and "the good old days." These are rising prices and increased building, a combination the country is seing for only the fifth time.

Dr. Pearson said George Washington and Alexander Hamilton owed their reputations to rising prices and an upturning building cycle.

Had it been the other way around, with prices and the building levels falling, Dr. Pearson says, "all would not have been serene in the early days of the republic and George Washington might have been the last president as well as the first.

The next period of great expansion was 1830-36.

"The president then was Andrew Jackson, and rising prices and rising building made him one of the idols of the Democratic party," Dr. Pearson said.

The nation saw the third rising cycle in 1848-54. And then it waited 50 years for another one. 1900-0..

"During this era the farmer was prosperous, the new immigrants were happy, workers were fully employed, business was active, and Theodore Roosevelt was busy with his big stick defending the public from monopolies," he explained.

The fifth period opened right after the end of World War II.

Steel Joints Let Crippled Pets Walk Like New

CHICAGO (UP) — Household pets, crippled by bone disease or fractures of the hip, can be helped to walk normally again on stainless steel joints.

Spokesmen for the American Veterinary Medical Association said the operation was first used on human beings 10 years ago. Its adaptation for use on cats and dogs is a recent one, they said.

The operation replaces the diseased or broken part of the hip with a steel ball and shaft.

The AVMA referred to a report by Dr. Roger E. Brown, veterinary graduate student at Michigan State College on the techniques used to make the substitution.

X-rays are first taken to determine the size needed for the replacement part. After the ball and shaft are shaped to fit, surgery is performed under anesthetic to remove the diseased or broken bones. The replacement part is then installed.

Brown reported that dogs regained full use of their legs and a normal gait within a week.

Cat Not Conducive to Auto's Purring Engine

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (UP)—James E. Knapp couldn't understand why his car's motor coughed and sputtered.

"It sounded as if the bottom fell out," he said.

He got and looked under the hood. Pinned under the fan belt he saw "a big blob of matted fur."

He borrowed some tools and went to work — and released his Angora cat, apparently none the worse for wear.

Two Wounded POWs Go AWOL Off Ship

INCHON, Korea (AP) — A Marine band boarded the hospital ship Haven before it sailed for the United States to play a concert for sick and wounded Americans freed from Communist prison camps.

When the concert ended, Navy officials revealed today, two patients quickly donned fatigue clothes, picked up instrument cases and walked off the ship.

The two were AWOL in Inchon two days. They were not punished.

POW Had Frozen Feet, Got Dystentery Medicine

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (AP) —An American Indian freed by the Communists today said he gave up on Red doctors after one visit to a hospital.

Cpl. Faustino R. Chutnicut of Pala, Calf., said he asked for something to help his frozen feet and was given "dysentery medicine."

Print Directory of Social Groups

United Fund's One-Year Project Climaxed by 60-Page Booklet

The staff of the Pontiac Area United Fund climaxed almost a year of work this week as the first Pontiac "Directory of Social Resources" in four years went to press.

The 60-page pamphlet, crammed with facts about Pontiac's social agencies, will be sold for 50 cents a copy — a charge which staff members say does not quite cover printing costs.

"There certainly seems to be a lot of need for such a directory," Dwight S. Adams, United Fund director, said today. "We already have paid orders for several hundred copies."

The booklet lists the names, addresses, office hours, executives and services of 149 tax supported or privately supported social agencies and welfare organizations.

The list ranges from such units as the Oakland County Health Department to hospitals and clinics, from the Salvation Army and Boy Scouts through Oakland County Probate and Circuit Court services down to local service clubs.

"The last such directory," Adams said, "was published in 1949 by a committee of the Community Service Council — a local social workers' organization with Miss Estella Martin as chairman. Since then, the directory has been outdated.

"We had to deny a lot of requests for such a directory," he said. "We hope this one will be really useful to many local people as well as social and service agencies."

Adams said the United Fund staff hopes to keep the directory up to date by inserting correction sheets periodically.

Nasser Threatens British in Egypt With Total War

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's acting president, Vice Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser, opened the Moslem Feast of Bairam today with a call for Egyptians to prepare for total war against "British occupation."

His warning to Britons to evacuate their military forces from the disputed Suez Canal zone was cheered wildly by an estimated 100,000 Egyptians packing the big square outside the former royal palace. Nasser spoke in the absence of President Mohamed Naguib, who is on a pilgrimage to Mecca.

"We must prepare ourselves for a fight of all the people, not only a group of commandos," Nasser said. "We must teach the women and children how to defend our country. This is the way to liberation."

* * *

"You must be ready to fight at any moment and at any place, and we shall be leading you," he declared.

"Life is limited," he added. "one can die in the Suez Canal zone as well as anywhere else if fate wants it so."

8th Army Announces Korea Inspection Plan

SEOUL (AP)—The U. S. 8th Army said today a huge inspection program, designed to keep the Army in top fighting shape, is in full swing in Korea.

Teams of inspectors are examining all equipment to bring it to a peak of combat readiness, said an official Army release.

Germans Hear Molotov Explain Kremlin Offer

BERLIN (AP)—Fifteen top men of the East German Communist government flew by Russian plane to Moscow today to hear from Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov what the Kremlin really means by its proposal for German unity talks.

Prime Minister Otto Grotewohl said at the Schoenefeld Airport that his delegation regards the trip as "a most important step" for the future of Germany. And he added:

"Our people need unity, democracy and a peace treaty as soon as possible. Negotiations in Moscow will be a decisive step in the fulfilment of this goal."

Ford Planning Secret Research

DETROIT (UP) — Ford Motor Co. plans highly secret research on gas turbine engines for automobiles at its expanding $80,000,000 research center in Dearborn, it was learned today.

The proposed study was revealed in a request to the Dearborn City Council for permission to close a main arterial highway running parallel to the center for "security" reasons.

The Dearborn planning commission said it had been told by Ford that the company intends to spend several million dollars on a new building where turbine work will be done.

Other auto companies are experimenting with turbine engines for cars, but the Ford research appears to be the most extensive planned to date.

Red Cross Lists Jobs Open for Men, Women

The American Red Cross announced today that it has openings for trained women recreational workers for two-year assignments in the Far East and openings for men as counselors for overseas servicemen.

Women between 23 and 40 years of age, with college training or special aptitude in recreation, education, music, dramatics, speech or art are eligible. Men must be college graduates between the ages of 25 and 35. Further information may be obtained from the Red Cross office, 4050 Lindell Blvd., St. Louis, Mo., or at the local Red Cross office.

Prisoner Dislikes Quiet

FOLSOM PRISON, Calif (AP) — Nineteen convicts recently were disciplined for breaking up wash bowls and setting their bedding afire. One prisoner refused to join the riot and, as a reward, was moved to a quieter cell.

He promptly smashed his toilet bowl and fired his bedding. Warden Robert A. Heinze said he did not know why.

Local Air Force Reservists Train at Selfridge

GOING ALOFT—Maj. Leroy C. Felton of 164 Albertson St., Rohester, climbs into an F-51 Mustang to participate in a cross-country formation hop. He is commander of the 93rd squadron, 439th Fighter-Bomber Wing of the Air Force Reserve, and is a machine shop instructor at Rochester Community High School. Maj. Felton was a fighter pilot during World War II and saw action in the South Pacific. He is married and has three children.

"WOLV-AIR-INES" COMMANDER—Col. F. L. Vidal, commander of the 439th Fighter-Bomber Wing of the Air Force Reserve, checks flight records of the group with M/Sgt. Ernest George. Col. Vidal commanded Pontiac's 9613th VAR" Squadron of the Air Force Reserve for two years before moving to Detroit in 1951. Sgt. George lives at 3569 Oakshire Dr.

LEARNING ABOUT JETS—The intricacies of the hydraulic system of a jet aircraft are explained to 2nd Lt. Lavern Bradach and 1st Lt. John Goggin by S/Sgt. Roger Henning as part of their training during the two weeks summer encampment of members of the 439th Fighter-Bomber Wing at Selfridge Air Base. Lt. Bradach lives at 13500 Lakeshore Dr., Oxbow Lake and Lt. Goggin lives at the Fox and Hounds apartments on N. Woodward Ave. in Bloomfield Township. The classroom instruction is part of their training before changing from propeller driven aircraft to jets.

Fighter-Bomber Wing Prepares for Jet Change

By ROBERT F. MAHER

"Michigan's 439th Fighter-Bomber Wing will be the fastest, best equipped and most functional Air Force reserve unit in the country before the end of the year," according to its commander Col. F. L. Vidal.

The prediction was made yesterday at Selfridge Air Force Base where the "Wolv-air-ines" are preparing for a transition from the fastest propeller driven plane in the country to jet aircraft.

Members of the unit now fly F-51 Mustangs which won air supremacy in Europe during World War II and which commanded enemy respect during the Korean conflict.

Almost 500 members of the unit have been working as a close knit team during a two weeks summer encampment at the air base which will end Sunday.

Classroom instruction in jet aircraft has been underway at Selfridge for months in preparation for the transition so that actual flight instruction can be undertaken as soon as the promised jets arrive.

More than 15 men from the Pontiac area are members of the wing and in civilian life hold down jobs as school teachers, postal employes, truck drivers, mechanics and a host of other diversified activities.

Each weekend, however, they return to Selfridge to keep in touch with the latest developments in armament, ordnance, gunnery, navigation, flight training and other phases that make up an organized, well-functioning unit.

The pilots fly all over the midwest performing strafing, bombing, reconnaissance and navigation missions. Typical is Maj. LeRoy C. Felton of 164 Albertson St., Rochester, commander of the 93rd squadron. Married and the father of three children, Maj. Felton teaches machine shop students at Rochester Community High School.

Maj. Oscar A. Williamson of 141 N. Tilden St. is commander of the Motor Vehicle Squadron and supervises the maintenance and scheduling of all types of powered equipment from gas trucks to command cars.

Lt. Manuel W. Geiger of 9520 Hadley Road, Clarkston, is one of the few pilots in the wing with jet experience. He just returned from active duty in January and signed up immediately with the Air Reserve. Lt. Geiger was sent to Europe as a jet pilot shortly after being recalled to active duty in 1951 and spent nine months in Korea before he left in Oct., 1952.

The wing also boasts a World War II ace.

He is Maj. R. M. Barkey of 1879 Beverly Road, Sylvan Lake. Married and the father of two children, Maj. Barkey became a World War II ace with six enemy planes to his credit in the European theater of operations. He is now deputy group commander of the 439th Fighter-Bomber Wing.

Other men like T-Sgt. Wilmore A. Green of 223 Crestwood St. make sure that the plane's armament is in perfect shape before the pilots take off.

He is with the armament group and checks rockets, machine guns and other weapons. Green is a postal clerk at the Pontiac Post Office.

Wing Sgt. Major Ernest George of 3569 Oakshire Dr., coordinates all group activities and records in wing headquarters with Col. Vidal, wing commander. Also in wing headquarters is S-Sgt. Frank C. Pavlinac of 375 N. Paddock St. Pavlinac is a Pontiac Post Office employe.

Col. Vidal is justly proud of his reserve unit and considers it one of the best in the country.

"Even though we are operating efficiently with the 500 members of the wing, additional members would be a blessing," Col. Vidal said. Most of our outfit is comprised of World War II veterans and I'm sure that if other ex-servicemen looked our outfit over they'd be anxious to join us."

Anyone with 90 days service in any branch of the armed forces is eligible to joing the reserve unit, Col. Vidal said, and we make it a point to let our men in whatever branch of the unit they are interested in.

PRE-FLIGHT INSTRUCTIONS—Maj. William H. Sypher, group operations officer of the 439th Fighter-Bomber Wing, (left) briefs Capt. Thomas W. Dodson of the particulars of a flight. Maj. Sypher is a resident physician at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and Capt. Dodson lives at 310 Tilden Ave. They are participating in a two weeks summer encampment of the Air Force Reserve ending Sunday.

Rain Hurts Dry Town

ROBERT LEE, Tex. (UP)—Drought-stricken residents were out of water today because it rained too much.

The town's 1,100 residents for two years have had water trucked in because of lack of rain. Eight inches fell Tuesday night, overflowing the municipal reservoir and breaking the reservoir's outlet pipe.

SWALWELL-ON-TYNE, England (UI)—Alf Radford, 50, built his own auto in the front parlor of his home even though he'll have to rip out the front window next month to remove it.

Request Blood for Polio Fight

One Pint Almost Makes Unit Gamma Globulin to Attack Virus

Leaders of Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, pointed out today that "It's more important than ever at this time of year to collect blood to fight polio."

The chapter will sponsor a Red Cross bloodmobile visit here Monday at Pontiac Elks' Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave. from 2 until 8 p.m. Two hundred donors are still needed.

"We need slightly over one pint of whole blood to make one unit of immune globulin (gamma globulin)," Mrs. N. E. Durocher, Red Cross North Oakland blood donor recruitment chairman, said today.

"When the antibodies in this substance attack polio virus while it is still in the bloodstream—before it gets to the nerve centers—they can prevent or minimize paralysis," she pointed out.

"We can get globulin only from blood," she said, and volunteers are our only source."

Mrs. Durocher appealed to anyone who can give blood Monday to contact the Red Cross chapter office, FEderal 4-3575, any day this week. Blood also helps ill or injured servicemen and civilians and is stockpiled in case of emergency here at home.

Unknown Eliminates Western's Favorite

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Henry Loeb, an unknown 18-year-old from Highland Park, Ill., scored a stunning upset today by eliminating tournament favorite Harvie Ward Jr. of Atlanta, Ga. in the second round of the Western Amateur Golf Championship.

104 Wounded Americans Start Long Voyage Home

INCHON, Korea (UP)—The hospital ship Haven sailed today for San Francisco with 104 sick and wounded American servicemen freed from Communist prison camps in the past two weeks.

The Haven will stop briefly at Yokosuka, Japan, to take aboard more patients. Unless there is an unexpected delay, the great white ship will dock in San Francisco, Sept. 14.

Crewmen aboard the Haven said they expect to pick up some sick Americans who were repatriated from North Korean camps and flown to hospitals in Japan. They expect most patients who board in Japan to be ill servicemen from units in Korea and Japan, however.

Some of the 104 repatriates aboard the Haven have been waiting to sail since Aug. 4, when the exchange of prisoners began.

Only a trickle of less seriously ill repatriates arrived on the Haven by helicopter each day from Panmunjom. The more seriously ill were flown to Japan. Two troop ships carrying able-bodied repatriates are already approaching the west coast.

A doctor aboard the Haven this morning said most of the patients aboard were suffering from tuberculosis and malnutrition.

Department of Defense rules forbid correspondents from interviewing returned prisoners aboard ships. But newsmen were allowed aboard the Haven to inspect wards and take pictures.

The patients mostly are ambulatory. They sat about the wards playing chess and checkers and listening to records. The wards are comfortable, with thick mattresses on the bunks—a contrast to the living quarters aboard the troop ships General Walker and General Hase which are carrying able-bodied men home.

Army officers are aboard the Haven to process the returnees during the voyage.

Cream Floods Town

SUPERIOR, Ariz. (UP)—Withbrakes burned out, a truck carrying a load of 2,700 gallons of cream struck a curve entering this mountain mining town at 80 miles an hour and overturned, spilling the cream down the main street and crushing the truck into sheet metal. The driver, Thomas Brooks of Dallas, Tex., was treated in the hospital for slight facial scratches and released.

B50 Blows Up in Arizona Sky

12-Man Crew Jumps From Bomber; 1 Killed, Several Injured

PICHACHO, Ariz. (UP)—A giant B-50 bomber exploded in the air and scattered flaming wreckage over a wide area of the Arizona desert near Pichacho Peak early today.

The 12-man crew paracheted from the four-engine ship. Several were reported injured and the Pinal County Sheriff's Office said one had died at the scene.

A ground rescue team from Davis-Monthan Air Force Base at Tucson was summoned. Ambulances from nearby towns also were called.

The plane, based at Davis-Monthan, was from the 65th Bomb Squadron of the 43rd Bombardment Wing.

First word of a crash came shortly after 2 a.m., Mountain Standard Time.

Pete Van Herron, town marshal at Florence, Ariz., said he saw a flash in the sky. Shortly afterward, police and sheriff's telephones began ringing with reports that a big plane had exploded and hurtled to the ground near the towering peak, midway between Tucson and Phoenix.

Pinal sheriff deputies were among the first to arrive. They reported back by radio that the pilot, identified as Capt. John D. Winters, had been found and was not hurt.

Winters said the No. 3 engine of the ship caught fire at 15,000 feet altitude. He ordered the crew to bail out immediately.

He said he counted 11 parachutes and believed all had cleared the ship before he bailed out. The survivors were scattered over such a wide area it could not be immediately confirmed if all had gotten out safely. Eight had been found by 5 a.m.

Underground Hangars?

Long-Range Bomber Wins Top Priority in Soviet Defense Scheme

By ANTHONY VANDYK

(Condensed From American Aviation)

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The build up of Russia's long-range bomber force is now a top priority item in Soviet defense planning, latest information from behind the Iron Curtain reveals.

To safeguard the big new "America bomber" now starting to roll off production lines, a vast program is under way to provide air bases with underground hangars and facilities.

Hitherto strategic bombing has had a very small role in Red Air Force planning. Until the end of World War II only 1 per cent of all planes built in Russia were long-range bombers. Today that figure is 7 per cent and continuing upward.

Blueprint of the new Soviet Strategic Air Command calls for a force of 400 six-engine "America bombers" in the TU-52 performance category, backed by about 1,100 four-engine models with performance approximating that of our B-50.

The four-engine fleet — Tupolev Tu-4 bombers — is now virtually complete, although production is still in full swing at 55 to 65 a month. But there are indications that plants will soon swing most of their resources to the "America bomber"—the TuG-75 (Type 31) now in limited production in the Far East.

At least two Red Air Force wings based in northwest Russia are equipped with the "America," which in its present version has turbojet engines giving a cruising speed in the 500 mph bracket and a range of 6,500 miles.

One of the main mass production centers for the "America" is Molotov, one of Russia's biggest arsenals in the Ural mountains. In one of the largest aircraft factories in the Soviet Union, 24,000 workers operate around the clock in bomber production. Another factory produces 500 engines a month. Raw material comes from relatively close sources.

Establishment of U.S. Air Force bases in Alaska and at such strategic points as Thule in Greenland has made Soviet planners think twice about the "invulnerability" of production centers in and beyond the Urals, such as Molotov.

There is growing realization that no point in the Soviet Union is outside American bomber range, and that complete security can be achieved only by going underground. As yet there is only slight indication that aircraft plants are being "buried," but Red Air Force policy now requires that strategic bombers be kept in underground hangars.

Russian planners believe the complexity of the modern bomber requires that it operate from a well-equipped base with permanent facilities and a large technical staff. In time of war planes would stay underground at permanent bases when not flying, rather than be moved to auxiliary fields to prevent attack.

They admit there is danger that enemy attacks may damage runways while planes are safe underground, but point out runways are easier to repair than planes. Moreover, bases would have their own anti-aircraft artillery and protective fighter units.

The underground hangar program is still in an early stage, and it is estimated present facilities would only accommodate about 120 six-engine planes. Ultimately, life at such bases will be completely underground, although present living quarters for personnel are still above ground.

Most common type of underground hangar is excavated out of hills on the edge of the airfield, but in flat country hangars are buried with their roofs as much as 25 feet below ground. Fuel and ammunition are similarly protected.

At the moment the Russian underground hangar program is largely restricted to the Soviet Union itself. Certain fields in Germany, northeast Hungary and the Ploesti oilfield area of Romania, however, are equipped with underground facilities.

Pastor Accuses Thief of Stealing From God

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (UP)—"You stole from God," the pastor of Lockport's Baptist Church admonishes the thief who took $60 from an offering box during Sunday services.

Return the money and ask God's forgiveness, the Rev. Harleigh M. Rosenberger advised in an open letter to the thief. It was published in the Lockport Union Sun and Journal.

"This may be the turning point in your life. Let it be toward God and not evil," the pastor said.

Gas Company Asks Rate Hike

Six Years of Litigation Finally Brings Firm to State Commission

LANSING (UP) — A gas rate increase for Mt. Pleasant that would nearly double the present rate was asked yesterday by the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

The gas company finally got before the State Public Service Commission to present its case after more than six years of litigation.

The city and the company have a franchise agreement and various legal moves prevented the company from going before the commission. The State Supreme Court recently held the company had a right to present its case, upsetting an Isabella Circuit Court restraining order.

The company contends that gas rates in Mt. Pleasant should be the same as for the rest of the western Michigan area.

rates at Mt. Pleasant have not been changed since 1934 and that some customers are paying less than the wholesale price the company pays for its gas.

If the rate increase is granted, it was estimated that gas will cost customers there an additional $246,536 a year.

Police in Probe of Milan Office

$13,500 Shortage Case Records Go to Lansing for Investigation

LANSING (UP)— State police detectives today joined other state investigators in probing a $13,000 shortage in the Milan Branch office of the Department of State.

Secretary of State Owen J. Ceary said he had "asked and promptly secured the cooperation of the state police" to look for possibilities of criminal action.

The Department of State accounting division and representatives of the auditor general's office are also combing the records of the closed branch.

Joining too is a representative of the bonding company which must make up any loss to the state.

All the records of the branch have been assembled in Lansing for investigation.

Branch manager Lloyd Tooman has been suspended during the probe.

"It is planned," Cleary said, "that a branch office will be opened in Milan as soon as possible in order that service to the people in that area may be resumed."

Jap-American Shyly Receives Highest Honor

By ROBERT GIBSON

FREEDOM VILLAGE, Korea (UP) —A shy young Japanese-American who all alone held back attacking Reds while his men withdrew returned from a Communist prison today to learn with astonishment that he had won the Medal of Honor.

Sgt. Hiroshi H. Miyamura, 27, of Gallup, N. M., looked bewildered when Brig. Gen. Ralph Osborne told him he had won America's highest award for heroism. Osborne said news of the Sergeant's award was kept secret because he was a prisoner and "the Communists might have made it rough for him" if they had known.

There were no official records here to show when Miyamura won the medal, but after much coaxing he shyly acknowledged that it probably was in the battle just before his capture April 25, 1951.

He commanded a machine gun squad of 13 men from the 3rd Division when thousands of Chinese attacked along the Imjin River.

When the Reds overran part of his position, Miyamura said, "I told my men to pull back a little. I stayed and fired until they got there, then I went back too."

"There were just five of us left. In our new positions we fired the guns and threw grenades until we ran out of ammo and grenades. Then I told the men to withdraw. I let them go and I was covering them with an M1 rifle.

"After they took off I went myself. I ran into some Chinese and they threw some grenades and wounded me in the leg. I kept going but got hung up on our own wire."

That was when the Chinese captured him.

Relief Cases Rise During Last Month

LANSING (UP) — A "disturbing upward trend" in direct relief cases in the state during July was reported today by State Social Welfare Director W. J. Maxey.

The case load at the end of the month stood at 11,389, an increase of 15 cases.

"The increase is small," Maxey said, "but during the summer, the case load should be dropping."

The rise was the first in over a year, Maxey added.

He said all of the new cases were in the southeast part of the state and apparently reflected a softening of industrial employment.

The fire at the General Motors Transmission plant at Livonia, he said, did not figure in the July totals.

Plan Punishes Teen Motorists

First Offense Violators Write City, State Code Provisions

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UP) A disciplinary program for teenage traffic law violators has been devised by Circuit Judge Donald Black to discourage young drivers from future infractions and to familiarize them with traffic regulations.

Black, who also presides over juvenile court, said the plan thus far has proved very successful.

When a young motorist is arraigned for the first time for reckless driving or speeding, his license is turned over to a probation officer for a revocation period of 60 to 90 days. During this time, the juvenile must:

1. Write in longhand all the provisions of the city code which cover operation of a motor vehicle, including those pertaining to white lines, double lines, traffic lights, parking, etc.

2. Write in longhand all provisions of the state code covering operation of a motor vehicle.

3. Compute the distance an automobile travels at the speed of 15 miles an hour in one second, and then compute the distance an automobile travels for every mile of speed beyond 15 miles an hour up to the speed that the offender was traveling when arrested.

The "homework" must be turned in and approved before the driver's permit is returned to him.

The city and state driving laws cover several pages, Judge Black explained, and when the offender has completed the task of writing them, he will be familiar with the regulations.

By computing the distances covered by speeding vehicles, the driver is given an understanding of the dangers to himself and to

U. S. Revises Method of Giving Beet Support

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has revised its method for computing price support payments to growers of sugar beets. It estimated the revision will reduce payments an average of about 2½ cents a ton on the estimated crop of 11,200,000 tons.

For the 1953 and future crops there will be a moving base for figuring the amount of sugar commercially recoverable from beets. This replaces a fixed base which has been used in the past.

Support payments to beet growers this year are expected to be about 28 million dollars.

Gets Bronze Star for Good Cooking

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The Army has awarded a Bronze Star to former Sgt. Boyce Edwards of Fairfield, Va.—for being a good cook.

Edwards, recently discharged after a hitch in Korea with the 196th Field Artillery Battalion, 10th Corps, received a citation which said:

"The ingenuity in food preparation and inexhaustible energy demonstrated by him assisted in maintaining a high quality mess.

"Any meal prepared by him was sure to be palatable, which was an ever present factor in the excellent morale enjoyed by his unit."

Add to Fish Stories: This One Leaped in Boat

WELLSVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—Ray Geer and his sons, Elwin and Ronald, came back from a fishing trip displaying a 19-inch, 3½-pound bass.

Their story—and they're sticking to it—is that the bass leaped out of the water and into their boat as they were bringing it into the dock.

Capital-Hopper to Hit Lansing

Will Visit All 48 States for 50th Anniversary of Powered Flight

LANSING (AP)—A "flying Paul Revere" with the mission of visiting the capitals of all the 48 states, is due to arrive in Lansing Sunday.

Max Conrad, 50-year-old pilot and holder of several world air records, will be the first pilot to visit all 48 capitals by air since Anne and Charles A. Lindbergh did it in 1929.

Conrad will report to the governors of the 48 states on the progress of this year's celebration of the 50th anniversary of powered flight.

He is making the trip in a Piper Pacer with a 125 horsepower motor, the same plane he used to span the Atlantic twice and to fly cross-country from Los Angeles to New York.

Conrad is due in Lansing at 1:25 p.m. Sunday. Representatives of the governor's office and of the state Aeronautics Department will greet him at a luncheon. It will be his only stop in Michigan.

Road Department Sues Truck Firm for Ruining Bridge

LANSING (AP)—A $100,000 damage suit involving the collapse of a bridge five years ago at Berrien Springs was being heard in Circuit Court here today.

The State Highway Department is suing the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., the Reliable Cartage Co. of Grand Rapids and Harm Boomstra of Belmont, listed as driver of the cartage company truck.

The suit claims that Boomstra, driving a cartage company truck on April 23, 1948 on highway U.S. 31 struck one end of the bridge crossing the St. Joseph river at Berrien Springs.

The suit claims the collision collapsed the bridge, also throwing the truck into the river.

The defendants are being sued jointly by the state for the $100,000 to cover damage to the bridge, cost of erecting a temporary span and the cost of building a new bridge to replace the old one, dating back to 1904. Negligence is charged.

Railroad Prayers

WORCESTER, Mass. (UP) — During the building of the railroad from here to Springfield in 1837, so much adverse criticism was directed against the project that the promoters sent letters to all Massachusetts churches asking that sermons be preached on the beneficiail moral effect of the railroads.

Married in Church, Then Robs It Later

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Only a few weeks ago, Rudolph Hunt, 31, was married in Park Place Methodist church here.

Yesterday he was sentenced to eight years imprisonment for going back to the church and, with an accomplice, rifling its two strong boxes of $978.

Truck Strike Talks Continue in Toronto

A union delegation headed by James Hoffa of Detroit International Vice-President of the Teamsters' Union (AFL), yesterday met with representatives of transport companies. No details of the discussions were made public.

The walkout, involving upwards of 1,500 drivers, has centered in Hamilton and Windsor and this week moved into the Niagara peninsula. It started July 20 when 36 firms were tied up over the Hamilton and Windsor locals' demands for pay increases.

The Toronto local, not on strike, yesterday instructed its members to smash through any picket lines that may be set up in Toronto by the Hamilton and Windsor locals.

Ballot Today on Strike at Grand Rapids Plant

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Members of the CIO-United Auto Workers Local 330 will ballot today on an agreement which would end the month-old strike at Lear, Inc.

Double Death Ruled Murder and Suicide

FRASER (UP)—A coroner's verdict of murder and suicide was returned today in the fatal stabbings of Mrs. Esther M. Erickson and her moody 30-year-old son, John.

Dr. Raymond Markle, Macomb County Coroner, said the stabbings occurred late Monday. They were not discovered until Wednesday, when a laundryman called at their home and came upon the bodies.

The body of Mrs. Erickson, a widow, showed signs of being stabbed repeatedly with a butcher knife. Her son's body was found nearby, his throat cut with another knife. Police said there were signs of a terrific struggle.

Mrs. Erickson and her son moved here from Fenton 18 months ago. Ralph Olafson of Fenton, a boyhood companion of the dead son, said he suffered a nervous breakdown while serving in the Coast Guard in World War II.

Neighbors said the son had been despondent since his invalid father committed suicide last year.

Slayer of Daughter Is Adjudged Insane

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A 28-year-old expectant mother, Mrs. Thelma O'Boyle, who was convicted last Monday of fatally beating her infant daughter, has been adjudged insane.

Superior Judge Joseph M. Maltby made the finding yesterday on the basis of reports by three psychiatrists. Mrs. O'Boyle, who has two other children, will be committed to a state institution.

Her 19-month-old baby died May 23. Mrs. O'Boyle maintained the child was injured in a fall and denied she inflicted a beating. She and her husband, James, came here recently from Indiana.

Movable Meadows

These Days Dairy Cows Lunch at the Automat

WASHINGTON — The life of a cow, once lived in pastoral association with daisies and dairymaids, has become a factory existence.

Modern cows have cafeterias. They have efficiency ratings, on which the marks, as far as they are concerned, read from Grade-A to Abattoir. Moveable electric fencing confines them to shrewdly calculated daily bits of meadow.

Cow cafeterias deliver breakfast of cut grass, says the National Geographic Society. Overhead feeding devices, for all the world like automat restaurants, dole out scientifically measured rations of hay and grain.

When they are allowed to eat out, cows are chaperoned by disagreeably but not dangerously charged wires. Dairy operators using the modern system of "accordion pastures" divide their meadows into plots that are varied in size to suit the growing season. Each day, fence and herd are moved.

Favorable reports on the system have come in from such widely separated states as California and New Hampshire. Proponents say it provides as much as a third more feed, which means less supplementary grain feeding.

Also, they add, it makes cows eat a varied diet, for a cow is a great one to wander around a large pasture, eating only one variety of its grasses. In a small space, she eats everything rather than go hungry.

Like factory workers coming off a shift, cows have hot shower baths. Dairy farm loafing barns and stainless steel milking sheds with electric milking machines are nothing more than industrial processing plants.

Assembly line living for dairy cows reaches the acme of modernity in the Los Angeles milkshed, where a farmer speaks of a cow as he would of a machine. There the herds never see rolling meadows, but live in corrals.

They get "shotgun feedings" of orange and beet pulp, copra meal, molasses and grains — all of it calculated to be transformed into milk as quickly and efficiently as possible.

As to those efficiency reports, as long as a production cow turns out about four gallons of milk a day, she is kept on the payroll, but few can stand the pace for more than two years. In modern dairying, there can be no sentiment for a burned-out Bossie, so as soon as she fails to meet her quota, she goes to the abattoir to be turned into beefsteaks and hamburger.

Roof Tree

KENTLAND, Ind. (UP)—When Wilbur Hayes looke out of his window during s violent windstorm he saw a 40-foot limb of a nearby tree sailing through the air, but couldn't see where it landed. Later, he found it balanced perfectly atop the roof of his house.

Last Wish Fulfilled

CORINTH, Miss. (UP)—A dying six-year-old cancer victim's last wish that Mrs. Onie Potts write her a song has enriched the cancer fund here by $100. Mrs. Potts did write a song, entitled "I've Got to Go Now." She sold it for $100 and donated that amount to the fund.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A walkout against the six-state Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., began today after union representatives rejected a company offer minutes before the strike deadline.

The final rejection came after all-night negotiating sessions with union and company officials meeting independently and jointly with federal and state conciliators.

Southwestern Bell operates in Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas and a part of Illinois. Approximately 53,000 union members are involved.

The company offered wage increases ranging from $1 to $3 weekly, and offered to reclassify for wage purposes 11 cities and towns. This upward revision would give some top-pay employes a maximum increase of $8 a week and lower paid employes a top of $5 a week.

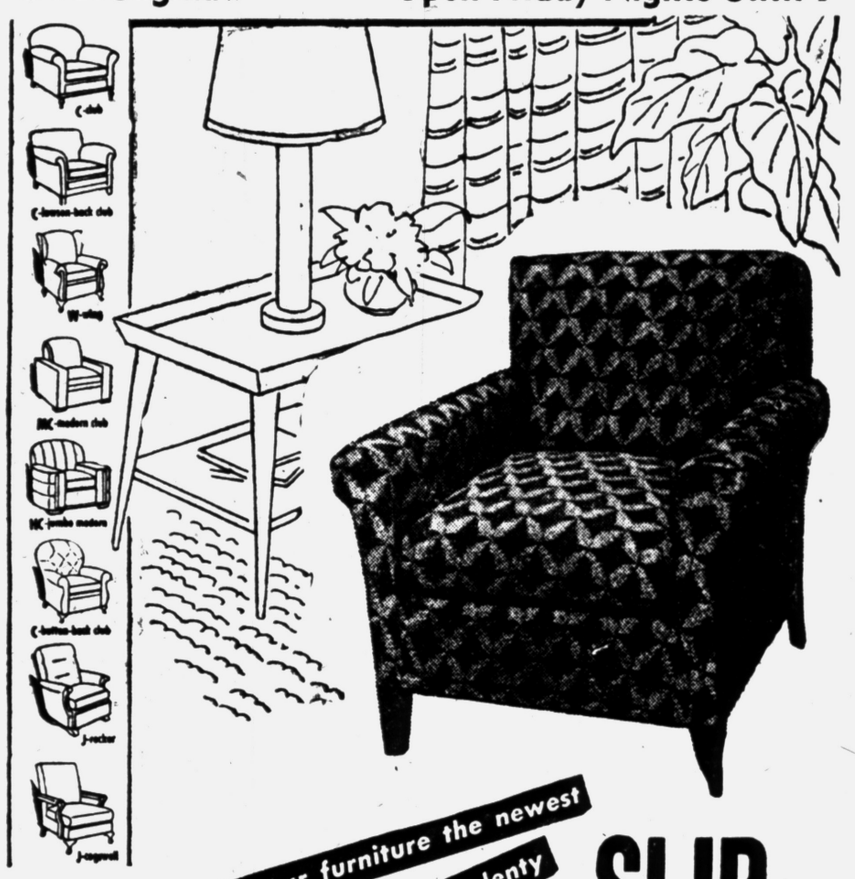

Dads Must File Proof by 25th to Be Deferred

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft eligibles were reminded yesterday that if they expect to be deferred from military service for fatherhood, they must file evidence of it with their local draft boards by Aug. 25.

Under a change in draft rules ordered by President Eisenhower in July, fatherhood in itself will not be grounds for exemption after Aug. 25 unless there is "proven hardship and privation."

AP Science Writer Summarizes Latest Kinsey Report

duced frigidity in marriage by one third to one half what it was among wives born before 1900.

There's little correlation between sex hormones and sex activity. The amounts of female or male sex hormones don't explain why males reach an early peak and decline, or why there's no such aging effect in women. Differences in amounts of certain adrenal hormones, called 17-ketosteroids, might explain this difference.

After castration, many men, and almost all women can still have sex relations.

Females do not develop earlier sexually than males. It is a mystery why adolescent girls are slower than boys to develop in sexual responsiveness. The 17-ketosteroids might be the reason.

There is no physical reason why women may be slower than men to reach a sexual climax. The average female is not slower if she is sufficiently stimulated physically, is not inhibited, and if effective techniques are used.

Fifteen years in preparation, the new 842-page book will be published Sept. 14 (W. B. Saunders Co., Philadelphia, $8.00).

More readable than the male book published five years ago, the new report is authored by all 14 members of the staff of the Institute for Sex Research, Inc., at Indiana University. Main Co-authors with Dr. Kinsey are Doctors Wardell B. Pomeroy, Clyde E. Martin and Paul K. Gebhard.

All profits go to the institute to continue the male and female studies and for future reports on sex laws, marital adjustments, sex education and other projects.

The female report draws on interviews with 5,940 females aged 2 to 90, of various religions, education and occupations.

Biology Text Is Best Seller for Dr. Kinsey

BLOOMFIELD, Ind. (AP) — Browsing in a bookstore, Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey casually introduced himself to the owner.

"Oh, Dr. Kinsey!" the man said. "I know about you. You wrote "Edible Wild Plants of Eastern North America."

Scientist Kinsey, a zoologist of Indiana University, was co-author of that volume. He was better known to most Americans at the time as author of "Sexual Behavior in the Human Male," or popularly, the Kinsey report.

The male book has sold 250,000 copies so far, with translations into other languages.

But his biggest seller is a textbook on biology, with sales totaling over 400,000.

It also draws upon the institute's 16,000-volume sex library, upon studies of anthropologists, gynecologists, psychiatrists and other experts, upon analysis of sex laws, sex life in other countries, sex life of animals, and individuals' sex diaries and calendars.

Five special chapters tell of the anatomy, physiology, psychology, nerve mechanisms and hormone influenxes in sex.

Despite its title, Dr. Kinsey says the book does not pretend to report sex behavior of all American women, much less women throughout the world.

It excludes Negro women because not enough had been interviewed. It has some limitations in geographical representation.

The purpose—as with other studies—is to learn scientific facts about a field of human activity long beclouded by ignorance, Dr. Kinsey explains. He holds that before sexual behavior can be understood, or any phases of it more intelligently controlled, it must first be learned what people actually do:

Other findings:

The decree of school education has less effect on sex behavior of women than men. Premarital relations were more common among girls who had gone to college and high school than among those of grade school education only. The opposite was true of men.

The "double standard" is becoming more of a single standard due to greater premarriage experiences of modern women.

Fewer women than men are homosexuals. Better educated women are more likely to be homosexual. Giving sexual hormones to homosexuals does not make them less homosexual.

It is untrue and harmful to many women to say that most women do not enjoy sex.

"The church, home, and school are the chief sources of sexual inhibitions, the distaste for all aspects of sex, the fears of physical difficulties and the feelings of guilt which many females carry with them into their marriages."

Laws and customs: 85 per cent of women and 95 per cent of men could be jailed for their sex acts by strict interpretation of laws.

"Many people, perhaps fortunately, have no conception that their everyday sexual activities may, in actuality, be contrary to law."

Others live in dread that their actions, considered normal by many other persons, may be found out.

In some states, a man can be jailed as a sexual psychopath for wanting sex relations oftener than his wife does, if a doctor judges his desires to be excessive. "Excessive" could be anything more than what the doctor himself does and believes is normal.

The law makes no provision for about 40 per cent of the population which is sexually mature, but not married, and "many youths and older unmarried females are seriously disturbed because the only sources of sexual outlet available to them are either legally or socially disapproved."

Marriage: "Men will never learn to get along better with women, or women with men, until each understands the other as they are, and not as they hope or imagine them to be."

About two thirds of marriages at some time run into trouble over sex factors were among causes of 75 per cent of divorces in these case histories.

"Sexual adjustment represents only one aspect and not necessarily the most important aspect of marriage. No balanced program for American youth can be confined to preparing them only for the sexual relationship in marriage."

"There is no magic in the marriage ceremony which can make a person instantly lose inhibitions acquired since childhood."

Petting: About 40 per cent of girls have petted by age 15. Nearly 100 per cent of the younger generation pets before marrigae.

Many feel guilty, but "little has been said about the psychological disturbances and subsequent marital difficulties which may develop when there is such condemnation of any type of behavior which has become so nearly universal, as petting is among American females and males."

Petting gives most girls their first real understanding of experience with the other sex. It gives a girl "an opportunity to learn to adjust emotionally to various types of males. Thus she may acquire some wisdom in choosing the particular male with whom she hopes to make a permanent, life - long adjustment."

Physical: All parts of the body, not just the sex organs, are involved in sexual response. Sexual reactions, because of their speed, apparently depend upon nerve mechanisms.

It is not true that women have more erogenous or sexually stimulating areas on their bodies than men.

Almost every sexual organ has its counterpart in the other sex, and the differences "are or no great significance in the development of sexual response."

The brain controls reactions to psychosexual stimuli, and differences in chemistry of men's and women's brains might explain their different reactions psychologically.

Smaller percentages of devoutly religious girls and women engage in premarital sex relations.

Venereal disease may be less a problem than it formerly was. Of 1,753 women having premarriage elations, only 44 ever contracted such a disease.

Too often what is called a nymphomaniac is merely a person who has more climaxes than the doctor or other person to whom she is talking.

"It is apparent that if parents or other adults are to be the sources of a child's first information on sex, they must give that information by the time a child is 10 or 12," or earlier, or the child will learn from companions.

Official estimates say some 130,000 children are born out of wedlock annually in the United States, but "the actual facts might multiply this figure several times." Of 2,094 women having premarital affairs (with union a total of 460,000 times) 476 became pregnant.

Humans learn a major part of their sexual techniques. They make choices, and develop preferences, as for blondes, brunettes, et cetera. Hormones have nothing to do with these choices. The choices and experiences usually come to seem reasonable to the person, though they may seem abnormal to someone with different experience.

Despite what Freud and some other psychiatrists say about the importance of childhood experiences, people do keep on learning, and "it is incorrect to minimize the importance of all except childhood behavior in the development of adult patterns of behavior."

Discarded Notes Burned to Guard Survey Secrets

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—To keep top secrets, you carefully burn everything going into wastebaskets in your office.

That's what Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey and staff of the Institute for Sex Research, Inc., at Indiana University here did during five years between publication of their books on men and on women.

Dr. Kinsey took such precautions to defeat book and other authors who, he says wanted to publish pre-views of his study of women, or get into print fast with book summaries of what his 850-page volume on women actually says.

He invited newspaper and magazine writers to come here to read proofs of the female book. They had to sign contracts pledging to keep the data secret until today, and pledging not to write or supply information to other writers for summarizing books which could appear before Dec. 20. The Kinsey book on Women is scheduled to appear Sept. 14.

The usual contract required that all stories be submitted in advance for checking upon accuracy of facts—not upon interpretations or writers' impressions. Dr. Kinsey said he invited the writers and required the unusual contracts to give the wide and factually correct publication of the study's findings.

Anniversary Quarrel Causes Wife's Death

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — Wounded during a quarrel with her 41-year-old husband on her second wedding anniversary last Friday, Mrs. Ethel Mae Beckman, 66, died yesterday.

Her husband, Edward, a poultryman, has been held since the shooting. Officers say he told them he and his wife quarreled over money.

Canadian Police Check for Forest Fire Arson

FORESTVILLE, Que. (AP)—Provincial police searched today for evidence of arson in the two forest fires which burned more than 165 square miles of timberland near here before being checked.

Two men are being held under guard as "important" witnesses, and investigations are continuing, police said.

Pontiac Library Notes 'Interest' in Kinsey Book

Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey's forthcoming book on the sexual behavior of women already has stirred several Pontiac residents to contact Pontiac City Library.

"There seems to be quite a bit of interest," said Miss Adah Shelly, city librarian. "We've received several calls asking if we have the book and when it will be in." Miss Shelly said the library expects the new book about the middle of September.

Understanding Aid Helps Kinsey to Get Interviews

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (INS) — How did Dr. Kinsey and his staff find the subjects they interviewed?

First, Dr. Kinsey and his colleagues would try, through lectures and other means, to convince an entire community — for example, a college—of the sincerity and value of their project.

Then they would interview members of two or three sororities and fraternities; several faculty a graduate students' club; one or two dormitories and rooming houses;

The families in a veterans' housing project and the members of the janitors' union, to mention typical examples.

On a larger scale, in towns and cities, the interviews might cover a number of church groups of all faiths, a Rotary Club, several factories, a YWCA chapter, and so on.

Dr. Kinsey's findings are not based on the life-stories of over-eager volunteers or stray personalities with peculiar sex histories.

The majority of his interviews come from groups in which 50 to 90 per cent of the members cooperated.

Individual, unaffiliated volunteers were never accepted.

If anything, Dr. Kinsey says, his facts are based on interviews with too many—rather than too few — highly respectable, well-educated persons from upper economic and social levels, including a considerable number of devoutly religious persons of all faiths.

He concedes his study includes too few women over 50; divorced, separated or widowed women; women from rural areas and from the Southeastern states, the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific Northwest.

He makes it clear that names and personal histories are never disclosed. The interviewee can see that all answers—even their names—are written down in a special code and placed in double-locked steel files.

The key to that code has never been written down. It is memorized by the four scientists who do the interviewing.

He insists he has no interest in changing moral codes and is interested only in scientific information. He does not act as judge.

Behind all this work, Dr. Kinsey says, is this belief:

"Most men and women and adolescent children. . . at times face problems which some greater knowledge of sex would help solve.

"Sex knowledge has been lacking to serve the millions of boys and girls, men and women who need such information to guide them in their everyday affairs."

Firemen, Police Salaries Rising

U. S. Survey Indicates Wages Up $100-$300 Per Year

CHICAGO (UP)—A recent survey by the International City Managers' Association showed that salaries of firemen and policemen are increasing and their working hours decreasing. The number of full-time firemen and policemen per 1,000 population is rising steadily.

The survey showed that the average city over 10,000 population employs 1.24 full-time firemen and 1.35 policemen for every 1,000 residents.

Policemen's salaries have risen $200 to $300 above last year, while salaries of firemen have gone up $100 to $200.

The minimum average salaries for firemen range from $3,042 in cities from 10,000 to 25,000, to a high of $3,687 in cities over half a million residents. Maximum salaries range from $3,300 to $4,400 in the same population groups.

Salaries for policemen range from a minimum of $3,093 in smaller cities to $3,660 in larger cities. Maximum salaries are from $3,376 to $4,400.

Seventy-two hours is still the average work week for firemen in cities under 100,000 population.

Firemen work an average of 67 hours in cities between 100,000 and 250,000, and 60 hours in cities over 500,000.

Policemen work an average of 44 hours in cities of over half a million population and 48 hours in all other cities.

A total of 139 cities reduced the policemen's work week during 1952. Sixty-six cities reduced the work week to 40 hours; 28 to 44 hours, and 24 to 48 hours.

Unofficial temperature readings of 180 degrees in the sun have been recorded along the Persian Gulf coast of Iran.

Car Not for Sale; It's Just Forsaken

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — Frank Sharkiewicz left his automobile in Mrs. Mary Lepone's yard several years ago, agreeing to pay $1 a month rent.

When Sharkiewicz stopped paying rent, she ordered him to remove the car. He refused.

The fire marshal also ordered Sharkiewicz to take the car out of the yard. But he still refused.

Finally, Mrs. Lepone sold the car for junk, and received $1.

Sharkiewicz sued for $20, but lost the case because the court said he had abandoned it.

However, the state supreme court reversed the decision, saying that there was no indication Sharkiewicz had intended to relinquish the car.

The high tribunal ordered Mrs. Lepone to pay the $20.

Cambodian King Remains in Exile

SIEM REAP, Cambodia, Indochina (AP)—King Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia said today France still hasn't satisfactorily met his country's demands for complete independence.

The King also said he wouldn't quit his self-imposed exile here in north-central Cambodia and return to his capital Phnom Penh "until we have obtained complete satisfaction."

Norodom said in an interview that France's recent promise of independence was acceptable in principle "but on several questions it is going to be difficult to work out agreement."

He did not specify what these questions were but said "it is still too early to make any optimistic declarations on French-Cambodian relations."

France recently offered to give the kingdom nearly complete independence, but said she would maintain troops in the kingdom as long as Indochina is threatened by the Communist - led Vietminh rebels.

Marilyn Monroe Hurt in 2nd Fall in Week

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marilyn Monroe is finding Canada rugged.

The actress was injured in a fall yesterday for the second time in a week while working in a movie near Jasper, Alta. Her studio, 20th Century-Fox, said she suffered torn ligaments in her left leg.

Production on the film, "River of No Return," has been halted. The studio sent Dr. Robert Rosenfeld to Jasper by plane to attend the actress.

Library of Congress Gets Zane Grey's Manuscripts

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Library of Congress, which already owns such items as Jefferson's letters, Lincoln's papers, Samuel Johnson's walking- stick and Fritz Kreisler's violin, has added some more originals.

It now has the manuscripts, written full speed ahead in pencil, of 17 novels by Zane Grey.

In case you wonder why a writer of Westerns finds himself in such fast company, the answer is simple.

Here Grey won in a gallop.

Before his death in 1939 he had proved that few authors could write faster, turn out a greater number of books or get themselves more widely read.

He scratched away at the rate of 100,000 words a month, enough to fill an average size novel. During the first 20 years of his career, 25 of his novels sold 17 million copies. Someone has figured that 56 million people have read one or more of his 50 books.

The librarians like original manuscripts because scholars get tips from them on how an author has worked. Most word carpenters do an astonishing amount of tearing out, resawing and rebuilding for a better fit.

The manuscripts were the gift of the author's widow, who lives in Altadena, Calif. She has indicated she also will give it Grey's notebooks and correspondence. Bell hopes these may supply more clues on how Grey went about his highly productive business.

Incidentally, although the library is world renowned for its rare books, it never has overlooked the commoner stuff.

It isn't generally known but possibly no place on earth has such a fine collection of comic books.

Promise 150 Americans in Tomorrow's Trade, but No British

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The great Korean War prisoner exchange passed the halfway mark today and there was every indication the Reds will start sending back larger numbers of Americans daily.

They promised 150 tomorrow, the biggest U. S. group yet, and it appeared the stepped - up rate would continue indefinitely. Three hundred South Koreans also will be freed tomorrow.

Sixty Americans, 90 British and 300 Koreans were freed today in the 16th day of exchange at this tiny village.

No British were scheduled to return Friday. The Reds have delivered 809 of the 922 British promised. They have turned over only 1,315 Americans, well under half of the 3,313 they listed.

Thursday's shipment brought the number of Allied troops freed to 6,533, just over half of the 12,763 the Reds promised.

No Communists were sent north Thursday and no more are scheduled until Saturday. Typhoon conditions disrupted Allied shipping from the Koje Island prison camps off southern Korea.

Reject All Bids for Fire Hall

West Bloomfield Seeks Estimates on Structure at Walnut Lake

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — All bids for a proposed fire hall at Walnut Lake were rejected by the Township Board at its meeting Tuesday night.

Supervisor H. M. Thatcher said the board would seek new bids for the structure.

In other business an authority was established for garbage and rubbish disposal with Commerce and White Lake Townships, and funds were voted for grass and weed cutting on all township local roads.

Also authorized was the contracting of Johnson and Anderson, Pontiac engineers, regarding waterworks requirements in new subdivisions.

28 Thunderjets on Nonstop Flight Across Atlantic

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Twenty-eight F84 Thunderjets took off from Turner Air Force Base at 3 a.m. today in a scheduled non-stop flight of more than 4,000 miles over the Atlantic Ocean.

Twenty of the planes, of the 508th Fighter Escort Wing, are bound for Laken Heath, England, and the remaining eight jets, of the 31st Fighter Escort Wing, are bound for Casablanca, French Morocco.

The project is dubbed Operation Long Stretch.

Never before in U. S. aviation history have jet aircraft attempted such a lengthy flight non-stop. The planes will refuel in flight.

The flight is intended to give pilots and crews opportunity to develop air to air refueling in flight. The Strategic Air Command is seeking to establish by the flight that distance can be overcome by jet fighter craft.

The England-bound group is scheduled to arrive about 2 p.m. (EST) today. The African group expected to land about an hour earlier.

Potter Suggests H-Bomb Treason

Says Russian Weapon Development Possibly Aided by Espionage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Potter (R-Mich) said today Russia's development of the hydrogen bomb may have been speeded by espionage in this country that "would make the Alger Hiss case look like petty larceny in comparison."

Potter's statement was read by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) at a public hearing of the Senate investigations subcommittee. The group is investigating charges that secret information has leaked from the Government Printing Office (GPO).

The Michigan senator himself is out of town.

Potter said in his statement that the subcommittee's disclosures of "lax and inept" security measures at the print plant give rise to the question whether these are "typical of the security procedures in other government agencies."

Senate investigators made public today sworn testimony by a former government printing office (GPO) employe that she knew Edward Rothschild took a code book and other secret military data from the plant during World Warr II.

The testimony had been received previously in secret session from Miss Cleta Guess, now a New Orleans storekeeper.

McCarthy said Miss Guess could not testify in person today because she has a heart condition and her doctor advised her to avoid excitement.

Rothschild, a bookbinder, declined earlier this week to tell the Senate investigations subcommittee whether he is a Communist or whether he ever engaged in espionage at the printing office, which handles much secret data.

Boy, 4, Suffers Head Cuts From Auto Accident

Joseph Woods, 4, of 5091 Eastview, Rt. 4, Pontiac, was treated for head cuts at Pontiac General Hospital Wednesday after being involved in a two-car crash at Waterford and Pelton roads, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

A car driven by his mother, Mrs. Margaret A. Woods, 37, same address, collided with one driven by George W. Eckalbar, 66, of 1674 Giddings Rd., deputies said.

Appear Before Board Meeting

Committee to Include Persons For, Against New Buildings

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

ROCHESTER—A voluntary citizens group this week assumed responsibility for doing something about Rochester's "school building program stalemate."

With the two recent building and site defeats in mind, this group appeared before the regular meeting of the Rochester Community board of education Tuesday and offered to get some citizen planning under way.

The board said it had been waiting for a movement of this sort to come from the people.

Dr. Edgar J. Geist Jr. was appointed chairman of a citizen's meeting to be held in the Rochester high school gymnasium on Aug. 25 at 7:30 p.m.

George Funkey, acting as spokesman for the group, said that he felt it was important for a steering committee to include all areas of interests.

"Those who opposed the bond issues as well as supported them should be included. If we can get the thinking of a representative group of people from this district, it will be easier to plan a building program acceptable to the majority," said Mr. Funkey.

Donald Baldwin, superintendent of Rochester schools, said this was the best thing that could have happened.

"I have faith in this type of citizen meeting. When people acquaint themselves with the problems and come face to face with the issues, they believe in doing something about it. A citizens' group of this type is really democracy in action," he pointed out.

A suggestion that the board appoint a citizen committee was vetoed.

"This could be open to criticism," said the board. "It might be said that we had hand-picked the group. We want this to come from the people of their own volition."

First grader will go on half-day sessions in the Harrison-Central and Brooklands schools and many high school students will only be in school during actual class assignment this year to help relieve the over-crowded classroom situation in the Rochester schools.

Several of the parents present at this week's meeting have children involved in this part-time program and are insisting that immediate steps be taken to put them back on full-time schedules as soon as possible.

MRS. ROBERT L. FITZPATRICK

Florence Ormsby Speaks Vows in Rochester Rite

ROCHESTER — Florence Ellen Ormsby became the bride of Robert L. Fitzpatrick of Plymouth in a double-ring ceremony Aug. 8 in First Congregational Church.

Florence is the daughter of Mrs. Ethel Ormsby of Rochester. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Maude Fitzpatrick of Union City, Tenn.

The bride's gown was of white net over taffeta. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of pearls. She also wore pearls given by the bridegroom and carried white roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Clarence Nedrou. Margaret and Joan, sisters of the bride, served as bridesmaids.

The bridegroom chose Clarence Nedrow as his best man. Glenn Allen of Lake Orion and Paul Lilly of Detroit served as ushers.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. The wedding party and guests also gathered at the home of Clarence Nedrow on Romeo road after the reception.

New Building Totals $196,903

Commercial Permits Account for Most Gain in Rochester

ROCHESTER — Value of building permits issued here in July reached a total of $196,903, according to a monthly report by Village Manager Robert Slone.

The major part of the total was made up by two permits issued for commercial and industrial buildings, however. Permits for a new Avon Tube Co. building and for a new super market were estimated at $146,000.

Oakland Foundry also was issued a permit for $5,000 in alterations to a building on Woodward Street. Other permits included a new residence, two commercial alterations, five residential alterations, five gas permits and a wrecking permit at Higbie Manufacturing Co.

Total fines collected by the village during July amounted to $411, according to the Police Department report. There were 170 calls made by police, including 38 moving violations, 223 parking violations, two stolen cars and three bicycles recovered and 360 driver's licenses issued.

The Village Fire Department reported that there were no fires in Rochester during July, and that one fire in Avon Township resulted in only $850 damage.

Two new water services and two sewer services were installed, 12 meters set and 14 hydrants flushed, the Public Works Department reported.

Council Receives Financial Report

Rochester Fathers Told Bank Balance $30,122 With $194,897 Receipts

ROCHESTER — A report on Rochester's financial condition for the fiscal year ending June 30 was accepted by the Village Council at a special meeting Tuesday night.

The report showed a bank balance of $30,122 compared with $18,622 on hand at the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1, 1952. Receipts for the year totaled $194,897 against $183,397 paid out.

Receipts for the previous fiscal year were $182,707 compared with disbursements of $194,418.

Only loss shown by the village was $2,170 in the Water and Sewer Department.

In other business at the meeting, bids were opened for the purchase of a two-ton dump truck for the village and bids on the water and sewer project for Campbell, Hiel and Fraser Streets and for North Hill Gardens Subdivision.

Lowest bid for the truck was $2,513.89 from Crissman Sales. George F. Landgraf of Royal Oak was low bidder for the water and sewer project with an estimate of $5,074.

A request was also received from Carl Hash, Dr. E. J. Geist and Dr. James I Arcure for a rezoning of lots in Albertonson Subdivision on Woodward Street from heavy industry to multiple dwelling. The request was referred to the Area Planning Commission.

The doctors are planning a professional clinic on the lots.

Rochester Safety Program to Start September 12

ROCHESTER—September 12 has been set aside as the date for a city-wide bicycle safety program by the Rochester City Council.

Designated as "Light a Bike Day," the program is under the sponsorship of the Police and Fire Departments in cooperation with the National Twist Drill and Tool Co. here.

According to the sponsors, bicycle owners will be registered at Rochester Village Fire Hall by police and firemen. Reflecting tape will be placed on each bicycle brought in for registration.

The program is designed to lessen bicycle riding hazards at night, the sponsors state.

Mason VFW Auxiliary to Hold Box Social

ROCHESTER—The Auxiliary of Jack A. Mason Post, VFW, will sponsor a box social Saturday at 8 p. m. in the Community Hall at 276 West Auburn Rd. The public is invited.

Proceeds will be used to purchase flags for Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, high schools or other groups.

Building Permits Jump $93,550

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Value of building permits issued by the Township Board for July jumped $93,550 over the amount for the same month last year.

The permits issued included those for 30 new homes as a total estimated cost of $413,600. Permits were also issued for 12 additions to homes costing $13,000 and for eight garages estimated at $7,700.

A commercial addition was estimated at $10,000 and one barn at $7,500.

Wonder What the Colonel Said to the Sergeant?

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. (AP) — Said the sergeant to the colonel: "Time to get up."

But when Co. Arthur D. Kamp of Yeadon, Pa., Pennsylvania National Guardsman, walked into the mess hall, no one was on hand but the cooks.

Right behind was Sgt. Richard J. Staples, unofficial bugler.

The sergeant checked his watch and it was 4:15 a.m.

His face turned red and then he said:

"Sorry, sir, I saw a rifle company heading for mess and thought it was time to get up."

But the company, as it turned out, was up early to set up targets for the day's firing.

Egg Croquettes Can Serve Five

A famous author, Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings, contributes one of her mother's best recipes, Egg Croquettes. Those who have tried them say they are "more than merely exceptional. "Won't you try them too?

Mother's Egg Croquettes

7 hardboiled eggs
3 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
½ to ¾ teaspoon salt, to taste
1 very small onion
4 sprigs parsley

Peel the hardboiled eggs and put them through the meat grinder, along with the onion and parsley. Make a very thick cream sauce of the butter, flour, salt and milk. Sauce this thick is hard to handle, and must be beaten until smooth. Add the ground eggs and onion and parsley to the hot cream sauce. Let cool, then place the skillet in the ice box to chill the mixture thoroughly.

Mould the mixture into 10 croquettes. Return croquettes, placed on wax paper, to the ice box to chill again.

When ready to fry, dip quickly in slightly beaten whole egg, then roll in fine bread crumbs. The croquettes are soft and somewhat hard to handle, but there will be no damage done in handling quickly.

Fry in a basket in deep 375 degree oil until a rich brown. Do not crowd croquettes in basket, as contact makes them burst open. Serve at once. Serves 4 to 5.

Salad Drenched With Sweetness

Tangy Orange Flavor Is Featured by Frothy White Dressing

Marshmallows add sweetness and light to fresh fruit salads. Whether whipped into a frosty white dressing or snipped into bits and tossed about with chunks of plump ripe fruit, marshmallows provide the needed sweetness and a light note of color contrast to the deep tones of blueberries, strawberries, grapes or whatever fruit is in season.

Arrange your salad plate with a medley of summer fruit and pass the orange marshmallow salad dressing. Never fear that the men will call it sissy food; they like sweet stuff, too.

Orange Marshmallow Salad Dressing

1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon all-purpose flour
1 egg, well beaten
⅔ cup orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
¼ pound marshmallows (about 16 marshmallows)
2 tablespoons light cream or top milk

In the top of a double boiler, combine sugar, flour, egg, orange juice and orange rind; mix well. Place over hot water and cook until thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Cool.

In the top of another double boiler, combine marshmallows and cream. Place over boiling water and cook until marshmallows are melted, stirring occasionally.

Remove from heat and cool slightly. Fold into cooled orange mixture. Chill. Serve with fruit salad. Makes about 1½ cups.

Prepare Honey Mixture

For a nutritious main dish beat two eggs well, then add three tablespoons honey gradually while beating. Beat in two cups milk and sprinkle with nutmeg. Serve immediately atop bowl of hot oatmeal for four to six servings.

Freedom From Shortage Given by Home Freezer

By JANET ODELL

"Our gadgets set us free," says Dorothy Thompson in a recent magazine article. American women have more gadgets to help them keep house than any other women in the world. We take them for granted most of the time, forgetting that many of them are recent innovations.

The "Gadget" that has contributed most to raising the standard of living of many families, especially those living on farms, is the home freezer. It has practically revolutionized the food industry.

Just over thirty years ago, in 1921, Clarence Birdseye invented a method of freezing food satisfactorily. By the late thirties there was some frozen food in the market, and some farm families had lockers in which they stored their home butchered meat.

The tremendous increase in the frozen food industry has come since 1945. At first the housewife bought one or two packages of frozen food that she had to use almost immediately because of lack of storage. Then came the commercial lockers for townspeople as well as rural folk.

Refrigerator manufacturers added frozen food units to their products. And now the home freezer is commonplace. It is estimated that over two million freezers will be purchased in 1953.

To keep pace with this interest in and demand for frozen foods, the companies producing them maintain laboratories in which they constantly test new dishes for the public.

One company is now distributing the result of three years of such testing. French fried fish sticks reflect a really new approach to seafood processing. Cod, haddock or perch are cut into uniform pieces, dipped in batter quick frozen.

All Mrs. America has to do is heat them in a hot oven for fifteen minutes. She can have a fish dinner on the table in less time than it takes to tell about it. Best of all, there will be no lingering smell in the house to tell later guests what the family had for dinner.

To accompany these delicious new fish treats you may serve lemon wedges, catsup sauce or tartare suace.

½ cup good mayonnaise
1 tablespoon chopped capers
1 tablespoon chopped gherkins
1 tablespoon chopped chives
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 tablespoon chopped dill pickles

Place the chopped ingredients in a clean cloth and wring out. Then add to the mayonnaise, and you will have a Tartare Sauce of a good consistency, one that does not curdle.

Put Coconut Shreds in Whole Apricot Pie

Golden tart apricots teamed with shredded coconut make a summer pie that is out of this world. It's so easy to do, for you don't have to peel the apricots.

Apricot Coconut Pie

3 cups fresh apricots, halved
1 cup sugar
½ cup shredded coconut
3 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon butter

Pastry for 9-inch double crust pie.

Line pie plate with pastry. Combine apricots with coconut and place in pastry shell. Mix together flour and sugar and sprinkle over fruit. Sprinkle with lemon juice and dot with butter. Cover with top crust and vent to allow steam to escape. Bake at 425 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes, or until nicely browned. Will serve 6 to 8.

Portable 'Canned Ice' Cools Food 72 Hours

In Brooklyn, N. Y., a company is selling canned ice. It is a liquid chemical in a vacuum can. You freeze it in your ice box and then take it along to keep picnic drinks cold or on fishing trips to preserve your catch. The company says it will keep food cold for 72 hours.

Beef and Spaghetti

A can of spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese adds up to a grand lunch or supper dish when teamed with a little dried beef. Pour spaghetti into a greased casserole; stir in about ¼ cup of chopped dried beef. Dot the top with butter. Bake in 400 oven until hot and slightly brown on top.

TANGERINE REFRIGERATOR DESSERT — This cool looking pudding is an ideal way to end a meal on a hot summer's day. Made like an English Trifle, it uses frozen tangerine juice to give it a different flavor. Serve it plain or with a bowl of whipped cream.

Let Guest Mix Sherbet Cooler

When the crowd gathers at your house this summer, help them to add a "cool" note by letting them make their own sherbet coolers. One or two flavors or sherbet kept on hand in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator, or in your home freezer, will do the trick. Fruit sherbets, plus a variety of sparkling beverages will let each member of the crowd concoct his or her favorite combination.

Grape soda, or cola with scoops of lemon sherbet, ginger ale with orange sherbet and black cherry soda with lemon or pineapple sherbet are only a few of the many delightful sparkling coolers they'll enjoy. Raspberry soda and pineapple sherbet is another pretty-to-look-at and delightful-to-sip sherbet specialty.

SHERBET SPARKLERS — Whenever teen-agers gather, there is one must: plenty of food. They may differ on their idea of what is fun to do. They will agree that plenty of long cool drinks are essential if the gathering is a success.

Mmmm!

Cooling Salads Ideal for August

For those hot August days, when even top stove cookery is not to be thought of, there's nothing like the coolness of a greens and vegetable salad, spiced with an olive sauce and served with sandwiches of tuna or cold meat.

Such a combination is packed with nutrition, and better still it pleases the heat-jaded palate.

Indoors or outdoors, wherever you carry the luncheon tray, in mid-summer, you'll satisfy the family or guests with this simple but imaginative salad and sandwich meal.

Green Salad — Olive Mayonnaise

Lettuce, romaine, escarole
3 tomatoes, cut in wedges
15-20 cauliflower flowerettes
1 cucumber, scored and sliced
1 bunch scallions, chopped
½ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon wine vinegar
2 tablespoons heavy cream
¼ cup chopped, stuffed olives

Wash, dry and chill greens. Break up greens into bowl and add vegetables. Blend mayonnaise, vinegar and cream and add chopped olives. Toss gently, but thoroughly to coat the greens. Yield: 6 servings.

Rice Expands

One cup of raw rice usually makes three cups after it's cooked, so count on one-third cup of raw rice for each person to be served.

Tangy Tangerine Trifle Makes Unusual Dessert

A chilled dessert is a wonderful treat these warm days. So we turn to a recipe for delicious Tangerine Refrigerator Dessert. This is really first cousin to our old friend, English Trifle — but it's trifle with a flair, with an unusual taste of tangerine.

You make a beautiful, smooth custard, flavoring it with fresh-frozen tangerine juice. Then add gelatin for extra firmness. If you want to be a show-off, this is a dessert you can unmold on a platter and garnish with those fancy rosettes of whipped cream. That's for a party. For family style we choose the simple style — in a dish — with whipped cream on the side, in the prettiest, coolest looking sauce dish you can find.

Tangerine Refrigerator Dessert

2 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
1 cup milk, scalded
1 can (6 oz.) fresh-frozen tangerine juice (undiluted)
1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
¼ cup water
1 package ladyfingers or leftover sponge cake

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored. Add sugar gradually, continuing to beat. Add scalded milk very slowly, still beating. Place mixture in double boiler over hot (not boiling) water, and stir until it coats back of spoon. Remove from heat and add tangerine juice, undiluted, 1 tablespoon at a time, stirring after each addition.

Allow gelatin to soften in cold water 5 minutes; stir over moderate heat until completely dissolved. Beat gelatin mixture into custard. Place in refrigerator until partially set. Then fold in 2 egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Grease a dish about 8 inches diameter, 4 inches deep and line with ladyfingers, split in half lengthwise, or leftover sponge cake. Add tangerine mixture, then cover top with remaining ladyfingers or cake. Chill in refrigerator at least 6 hours, preferably overnight.

If you wish to unmold, run a spatula gently around edge of dessert and invert onto serving platter. Serve with whipped cream if desired. Serves 6-8.

Summer Squash Is Simple to Prepare

You don't have to be an experienced cook to make this recipe turn out right! Even a bride can boil squash to a tender sweetness this new easy way.

Four ingredients and a few minutes of your time are all you need. Here's how:

Broiled Squash

2 small summer squash
3 tablespoons melted margarine
Salt
Pepper

Wash squash and cut off stem and blossom ends. Cut in halves lengthwise. If seeds are large, scoop them out with spoon. Cook in boiling water with 1 teaspoon salt 7 to 9 minutes, depending on size of squash. When just fork-tender, remove from water and drain well.

Place cut side up on broiler pan. Sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Pour or brush a little melted margarine over each. Broil under medium heat until surface of squash is lightly browned, about 10 minutes.

Spoon melted margarine over squash several times during broiling. Pour any remaining melted margarine over squash halves just before serving.

Squash halves may be browned in margarine in skillet instead of in broiler, if preferred. Melt 3 tablespoons margarine in heavy skillet, sprinkle parboiled squash halves lightly with salt and pepper and place cut side down in skillet. Cook gently over moderate heat until cut side of squash is lightly browned.

Dress Up Flank Steak

Here's how to lift flank steak out of the ordinary and into the outstanding! Dip ¼-inch thick slices into seasoned flour (salt, pepper, monosodium glutamate). Roll up and tie securely. Or, roll around a bread dressing. Pan brown in hot fat. Transfer to casserole; add tomato juice; cover and bake slowly until tender.

Try Sandwiches of Ice Cream for Dessert

We're thinking of Ice Cream Sandwiches when we suggest sandwiches for dessert.

Like most sandwiches, these made with ice cream go together in a hurry. And, they can be fixed ahead of time, wrapped in aluminum foil and kept in the freezer until dessert time.

Ginger Cream Sandwiches

Fill gingersnaps or ginger cookies with vanilla ice cream. Wrap in foil and keep in the freezer. Eat out of hand, or serve with marshmallow or penuche sauce.

Pyramids

Alternate strawberry or black raspberry ice cream with vanilla wafers or sugar cookies — use 3 cookies for each serving. Frost with whipped cream and garnish with fresh berries.

Open Face Sandwiches

Buttermilk Rates High as Low-Calorie Food

Buttermilk compares favorably in food value and calories to whole milk. It is equal in nutitive value except in butterfat and vitamin A. An article in a national magazine reports that it is therefore an equally excellent source of high-quality protein, calcium, and B vitamins — particularly riboflavin. Best of all, it is a calorie bargain — an 8 ounce glass yields only 85 calories, compared with the 170 provided by whole milk.

Lemon Adds Flavor to Green Vegetables

For added flavor in seasoning vegetables, especially such succulent green ones as asparagus or broccoli, mix a tablespoon of lemo juice with one-fourth cup melted margarine. Pour over the hot, freshly cooked vegetables. The flavor is excellent, and the seasoning much simpler to prepare than a sauce.

Grill Shrimp Over Open Fire

Let your backyard guests make their own shrimp kabobs. Have on hand plenty of shrimp and garlic butter. Then it's each man for himself.

Remove shells from 2 pounds of fresh or frozen shrimp. Make a sauce by melting ¼ pound butter or margarine, adding 1 clove of garlic (minced fine), and simmering 3 minutes.

Skewer the shrimp. Brush with the garlic butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper before holding or placing over the hot coals. Cook about five minutes. Turn often, brushing with sauce.

GRILLED SHRIMP — Spear your shrimp, right in your own backyard. If you are tired of batter dipped french fried shrimp, try cooking fresh or frozen shrimp over an open fire. Garlic butter adds a piquant flavor.

Separate Beef Portions

Bake your ground beef mixture in muffin pans. This gives you quick and easy-to-serve individual meat loaves, ideal for a summer day.

Soybean Products Eaten Unknowingly by Everyone

WASHINGTON, D. C. — How will you have your soy?

The average man, woman and child in the United States probably eats soybean products in one form or another every day without necessarily knowing it, according to the Soya Food Research Council of Washington, D. C.

Breakfast cearals, bread and sweet rolls frequently contain soy flour. Margarine for toast often is 60 per cent soybean oil. Jams, jellies and other spreads may contain considerable quantities of soy flour as an ingredient.

Soy flour is likely to be eaten at lunch. It may be used as a thickener in soup. It is a popular ingredient in sausages, frankfurters, cold cuts and other luncheon meats, meat loafs and cheese.

It is a desireble ingredient for hard and soft rolls. It is used in many prepared mixes for pancakes waffles, cakes and other desserts. It is also used in soft drinks.

If you have a salad with a dressing or mayonnaise, you are pretty likely to eat soybean oil, which is also a major ingredient of many shortenings and cooking fats.

That afternoon chocolate bar has a soybean product in it too. It is the soy lecethin which keeps the chocolate a deep rich brown instead of letting it turn gray when being transferred from factory to retailer during hot weather.

Macaroni Salad With New Guise

Ham and Macaroni Salad Loaf

1 teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons dry mustard
Few grains cayenne
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
1 tall can evaporated milk (1⅔ cups)
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
1 quart boiling water
1 teaspoon salt
⅔ cup elbow macaroni (uncooked)
1¼ cups cubed cooked ham
¾ cup diced celery
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
1 teaspoon grated onion
¼ cup lemon juice

Mix the 1 teaspoon salt, mustard, cayenne and sugar in top of double boiler. Stir in the egg, blending thoroughly. Stir in milk. Cook over hot water until thickened, stirring occasionally.

Sprinkle gelatin over top of the ¼ cup water. When gelatin is softened, add to hot milk mixture and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Cool.

Cook macaroni until tender in the boiling water to which the 1 teaspoon salt has been added. Rinse with cold water and drain thoroughly.

When milk mixture is cold, stir in the macaroni and remaining ingredients. Turn into a loaf pan 8½x4½x2½ inches. Chill until set, about two to three hours.

When ready to serve, unmold on chilled platter and garnish with radishes and olives or salad greens. Makes six to eight servings.

TreeSweet Orange Juice Tastes So Much Better!

Special Dessert Not for Dieters

Ambrosia — food for the gods. That is a good description of this yummy dessert. But it's not for weight watchers!

Honeydew Ambrosia

- ⅔ cup orange juice
- ¼ cup fresh, frozen, or canned lemon juice
- ¼ cup pineapple juice
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
- 4 to 6 honeydew or cantaloupe wedges

At your convenience: Turn temperature control of regrigerator to coldest setting. Combine first 5 ingredients; fold into cream. Pour into freezing tray; freeze until firm, stirring once. Then return temperature control to normal setting. To serve, heap mixture on melon wedges; top with more orange rind. Makes 6 servings.

If you have a freezer: Ambrosia mixture stores in home freezer.

August Is Sandwich Time So Try These Whoppers

By JANET ODELL

With a special time prescribed for everything under the sun, it is only proper that sandwiches have their day — or their month in this case. August has been proclaimed Sandwich Month.

Outdoor meals call for sandwiches; nothing is easier to make; and you can try out some new recipes now for use in lunch boxes when school starts.

In Denmark there is a restaurant that lists 172 kinds of sandwiches on its menu. Most of them are open faced sandwiches. The advantage of this kind is that it has only one slice of bread, a boon to dieters; also, there is nothing to hide the delectable contents.

Our first recipe is for that type of sandwich. It is a meal in itself and should appeal to men who look down their noses at dainty tea sandwiches. Your editor has eaten it at a famous restaurant in Illinois and will vouch for its deliciousness.

Whole Meal Sandwich

For each sandwich butter a large round slice of good rye bread. Cover with a thin slice of baked or boiled ham. Add several leaves of head lettuce, then a layer of thin slices of Swiss cheese. Add large lettuce cup, reverse side up. Cover with slices of white meat of chicken. Pour over Thousand Island Dressing. Garnish with tomato slices and hard-cooked eggs. Add crisp, hot bacon slices, ripe olives and parsley, if desired.

One of the newest ideas for a sandwich is the Hero. It really takes a hero to take a full-width bite of this concoction at one time.

Hero Sandwich

Cut a small loaf of French bread lengthwise into halves. Spread both halves with butter and mayonnaise, then put together with favorite fillings. To serve, cut the loaf crosswise into two hero-size helpings, or cut the loaf into more conservative two-inch lengths. Wonderful after that game of bridge!

Our third recipe is for a sandwich spread that should be perfect in lunch boxes. Butter or margarine is blended with the other ingredients, thus eliminating double spreading of the bread. It can be the answer to Friday's lunch menu.

Penobscot Spread

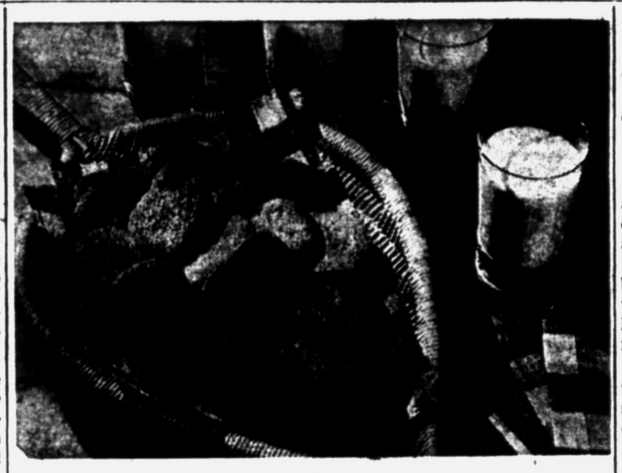

- 1 bar (⅓ cup) margarine or butter
- 1 cup minced salmon
- 2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped very fine
- 2 tablespoons chopped cucumber pickles
- 3 tablespoons chopped walnuts
- 1½ teaspoon lemon juice
- ¼ teaspoon salt

Quick Sauce for Meat Add Crunch to Fillings

Undiluted condensed cream of mushroom or cream of tomato soup make quick and tasty sauces for ordinary meat dishes such as meat loaf and meat pie. Add monosodium glutamate to the sauce as well as the meat, for fullness of flavor.

WHEAT GERM COOKIES — Refrigerator cookies are the answer for a harassed homemaker. If you can keep a roll of these spicy Wheat Germ Refrigerator cookies ready for instant baking, you won't mind unexpected guests or cookie-jar raiders.

Full Cookie Jar Pleasing to Youngsters, Hubby Too

Children always seem to demand snacks when mother is in the midst of housework. Friend husband prowls around the kitchen looking for his midnight snack.

Guests drop in unexpectedly. Be prepared for all of them with tasty nutritious cookies made with wheat germ.

All will call for seconds when they once taste the nutlike flavor of these different cookies.

Wheat Germ Refrigerator Cookies

- 6 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ¾ cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- ⅛ teaspoon ground cloves
- ½ cup wheat germ

In a bowl, cream butter or margarine and sugar until light. Add egg and vanilla; beat well. Sift flour, baking powder, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves togethr; add wheat germ. Add wheat germ mixture to butter mixture and stir until well blended.

Shape dough into a smooth roll about 2 inches in diameter. Wrap in waxed paper and chill until firm enough to slice, about 3 hours. Cut into thin slices and place on greased baking sheet. Bake in 375 oven 10-12 minutes. Makes 4 dozen cookies.

Blend Dry Milk With Ripe Bananas

Children love bananas. If your child is not fond of milk in its plain form, perhaps he will drink it with pleasure made into a Banana Milk Shake. Nonfat dry milk makes it an economical drink.

Banana Milk Shake

- 1 large ripe banana
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 cup ice-cold water
- ½ teaspoon vanilla
- ½ cup nonfat dry milk

Cut the banana into thin slices into a bowl. Add the sugar and beat with a rotary beater until smooth. Beat in the water and vanilla. Sprinkle the nonfat dry milk over the top and beat until all lumps disappear. Serve cold. Makes 2 servings.

To make Banana Milk Float, put in scoop of vanilla ice cream into each glassful of ice-cold Banana Milk Shake just before serving.

Rubber-Covered Racks Help Preserve Dishes

Rubber-covered racks are easier on dishes than those of tinned wire. If you are buying one of these racks, make sure it has a smooth unbroken rubber coating that is fairly thick. Be sure, too, that the rubber is a type that will not be softened by grease or hardened by heat.

Local Peaches Fine for Summer Dessert

There never can be too many peach recipes. With local peaches now on the market, you can serve them for dessert with this smooth and delectable sauce.

Peach Custard Dessert

- 1½ cups water
- 2 eggs
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- Pinch of salt
- ½ cup nonfat dry milk powder
- ½ teaspoon lemon extract

Pour water into top of double boiler; add eggs, sugar and salt; sprinkle nonfat dry milk over. Beat with rotary beater until blended. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture coats a metal spoon. Remove from heat.

Chill in bowl of ice cubes. Continue to stir until sauce is cool. Stir in lemon extract. Chill thoroughly. Makes 3 cups. Serve sauce over fresh peach halves.

Food Fads Bad for U. S. Health

From recent studies on nutrition and the eating habits of the American people the following facts are apparent:

Food fads and fallacies flourish because so many people want them, like them, and blindly follow them. They are in search of nutritional help.

The average Mrs. Homemaker is too easily swayed by the faddists' startling announcement of the dread diseases that may be caused by eating this food, or by not eating some other food.

An adequate or complete diet and the recognized nutritional essentials established by the science of nutrition are necessary for health, but health depends on many other factors than those provided by such diet, or nutritional essentials. No one food alone is essential for health. There are no health foods.

Leading medical and nutrition authorities recommend that we divide our total day's intake over three meals, making sure to include necessary nutrients in each menu. Breakfast should be the first of these meals, supply ¼ to 1-3 of the day's needs. Five foods which furnish nutrients most people need are fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter.

To be well fed, then, the important point is to obtain all the essential nutrients, and enough of them . . . Variety is not only the spice of life, it is the staff of life as well.

Use Pineapples With Meat Dishes

One of our good friends who wishes to remain anonymous gave us this recipe for a wonderful fruit accompaniment for meat dishes. She says it is also delightful as a light dessert.

Pineapple Sandwiches

- Pineapple slices
- Bananas
- Sugar and cinnamon

Drain canned pineapple. Peel and cut bananas in half, then in slices. Place on pineapple slices, sprinkle with cinnamon and cover with a second slice of pineapple. Sprinkle top with the cinnamon and sugar. Broil until brown, watching carefully so as not to burn the fruit. Serve on meat platter or as dessert. Especially good with ham.

Quickie for Lunch

Here's a luncheon quickie that suits the whole family. Completely split 4 hamburger or frankfurter rolls to make separate halves. Spread with deviled ham. Top each with slice easy-to-melt process cheese. Broil until cheese bubbles and melts. Serve hot.

Make Sure Cookie Tin Has Room to Spare

A cookie sheet for baking will help you turn out perfect cookies if it fits into your oven with at least an inch to spare between its edges and the oven walls. Too large a sheet will block heat circulation and cookies will be too brown on the bottom and too light on top.

Seasoning Salts Pack Spicy Flavor 'Punch'

Easy-to-pack jars of seasoning salt pack a powerful lot of flavor in a small space, and here's how to make it really count.

When you're making a dish like hamburgers save the seasoning salts until they're in the pan. Don't mix them into the meat as you might do with spices like pepper. And try a combination of salts — garlic, onion and celery. They make perfect flavoring for any beef dish.

FRIED CHICKEN RANCHERO — Succulent chicken, fried to a golden brown, is wonderful served with fluffy white rice and delightfully seasoned Curry Sauce. Fryers are beginning to come into the market now and will make delicious party food.

Serve Luscious Chicken With Rice, Curry Sauce

What could be more downright mouth-watering than a colorful platter of golden-fried chicken, served with fluffy rice and bubbling-hot curry sauce? One whiff of its tantalizing aroma and guests will come running to porch, pati or terrace — wherever your outdoor table is set.

Fried Chicken Ranchero

⅓ cup flour
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon ginger
3-pound frying chicken, cut in serving pieces
½ cup shortening
2 cups pared, chopped apples
½ cup chopped onions
½ cup grated fresh coconut or chopped moist, shredded coconut
2 cups water
½ cup milk
3 cups cooked rice (1 cup raw)

Put first 6 ingredients in paper bag. . . . Put 2 pieces of chicken at a time in paper bag and shake to coat evenly. . . . Heat shortening in skillet. Place chicken in hot fat and fry until golden-brown on all sides. Cover and cook over low heat until tender (about 30 minutes).

Remove chicken to hot platter and make curry sauce as follows: Add apples, onions, and coconut to remaining fat in the skillet. Fry, stirring occasionally until onions become transparent. . . . Add remaining seasoned flour and blend. . . . Stir in water and milk gradually. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. . . . Serve with hot rice. Garnish with perky clusters of parsley. . . . Makes 4-6 servings.

Thaw Frozen Chickens Before Trying to Cook

If you use quick-frozen chickens, thaw them completely before you cook them. You can do this by leaving wrapped birds in the food compartment of your refrigerator at night or, for a quicker method, unwrap birds and thaw in running cold water until pliable.

Buy fresh ready-to-cook chickens only from a retailer who refrigerates them. Once they're home, quickly remove film or other wrapper; then wrap loosely, with ends open, in waxed paper or foil. Store just below freezing unit and use in one or two days.

Inadequate Diet Seen as Accident Factor

Accidents and eating habits have a relationship according to Dr. Sidney A. Portis of the University of Illinois Medical School at Chicago. Accidents are much more frequent an hour before lunch, when the effects of an inadequate breakfast become manifest in a human through fatigue, Dr. Portis maintains.

"I think if we see accident-prone individuals in the morning hours," Dr. Portis said, "we should very definitely inquire into their eating habits, particularly before coming to work.

"No matter how you try to rationalize on a program, the body just can't get along without food. Coffee, alcohol and tobacco are not long-range substitutes."

Soup for Baby Helps Appetite

Has your toddler's appetite fallen off these hot summer days? Or is your youngster whiny about his food because of teething? If so, here's an announcement of junior plate magic that will please you.

A leading manufacturer of baby foods has just stocked the local markets with a brand new variety for the tiny master or miss in your family. It is junior split peas with vegetables and ham, sold in 7¾-ounce jars along with their complete line of strained and junior foods.

Remember the captivating aroma that permeated your mother's kitchen when she prepared good, old-fashioned ham and split pea soup. Well, here it is again in junior style with just a popping of the lid from the junior glass jar.

Like mother's soup, it is a skillful blending of ham stock and smoked ham, split peas, potatoes, carrots, wholle milk powder, wheat flour, celery, salt and onions. Mothers who have used it in their children's diets say it has more appetite appeal than any other vegetable they've tried so far.

This meal-in-a-dish is not only satisfying to the palate, but also rates very high nutritionally. It provides a dependable source of protein and contributes greatly to the calcium, phosphorus and thiamine content of your child's diet.

Serve Sherbet in Watermelon for Eye Catcher

Every day more exciting recipes for serving ice cream come to our desk. We think this one merits attention because it is so unusual, yet easy to fix.

Watermelon Fooler

Early in day: Make "bowl" by cutting watermelon in half lengthwise, with one section (the prettier one from the outside) slightly larger than the other. Scoop out pink meat from larger half. (Serve pink meat that day.)

Fill "bowl" with raspberry sherbet till level with top; smooth surface. For "seeds," tuck in rows of semi-sweet chocolate pieces or raisins. Store in freezer short time before serving. To serve, cut into wedges.

Or if you prefer to use it as table center-piece, freeze a day or so ahead till extra firm; let guests spoon out servings for dessert.

Cake Sandwich Novel

Luncheon, Bridge, Fur Preview Spark Activity at Oakland Hills Club

Pontiac Press Photos

Oakland Hills Country Club was filled with activity Wednesday afternoon when a number of Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills residents gathered for luncheon and bridge, and to see a preview of furs which will be worn this winter. In the upper left photo, Mrs. M. Homer Alldredge (left) of Detroit entertained a number of friends at the luncheon and cocktail hour. Among her guests were Mrs. J. F. Wolfrom (center) of East Lansing and Mrs. Arvid E. Kallen of Birmingham.

Bride-Elect Mary Maze Honored at Coons Home

The shower was given by Mary's aunts, Mrs. Frank Coons, Mrs. L. F. Cobb and Mrs. C. A. Coons.

Guests included the honoree's mother, Mrs. M. E. Baldwin, the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. E. J. Aebersold of Tecumseh, Mrs. R. E. Rossell of Flushing, Mrs. Orse Vorheis of Royal Oak, Mrs. J. E. Stapleton, Mrs. J. D. O'Dea, Mrs. Frank Cobb, Mrs. Frank Bowers, Mrs. Walter Feneley, Phyllis Coons, Karen Sampson, Novello Davies, Mrs. Arthur Sampson and Mrs. Earl Holliday.

Mrs. James Cobb, Mrs. H. V. Lankey, Mrs. Harold V. Lankey Jr., Mrs. H. J. Smith of Tecumseh, Mrs. Clifford Martin of Linden, Mrs. Cornelius Jewell, Mrs. George McKnight, Mrs. Paul Miller, Mrs. Lenora Stephens, Mrs. T. E. Horne, and Donajean Feneley were others.

Completing the list were Mrs. Michael O'Dea, Mrs. Robert O'Dea Mrs. A. J. Brockie, Mrs. Jerry Cobb, Catherine O'Dea and Mrs. Harry Stowell.

Husband as Cook Takes Patience, Hard Work

DALLAS (INS) — A murmur of admiration sweeps the patio when the husband of the house steps up to the barbecue pit, dons asbestos gloves and masterfully sets about to prove only men understand outdoor cooking.

However, the chances are that long before the guests arrived, his wife had set out all the equipment, started the fire, run the errands and done about everything but actually plunk the steaks on the coals.

So, for the loving wife who doesn't mind doing the work while hubby gets the applause, here are a few helpful hints.

Place next to the pit a long-handled fork, spoon and spatula, a poker, matches and a pair of tongs for turning and lifting foods. A big skillet with a long-handle is needed if anything is to be fried. Also essential are a sharp carving knife, a brush to apply barbecue sauce, rolls of paper toweling, a tray of seasoning and a long-handled, hinged wire broiler for broiling fish or steaks.

Dainty Hair Washed Often

To create an aura of dainty femininity , a woman's skin, hair, hands, and clothes must be fresh as a flower. You just can't create the illusion unless you're meticulous about soap and water cleanliness.

If you scrub your skin to a rosy glow, but neglect your hair, the whole picture is spoiled. It's got to be a tip-to-toe job.

And you've got to put those soapsuds to work every day of your life. Daintiness is something you achieve day by day, not all of a sudden.

MOMS Unit Two Gathers for Picnic

Mrs. Frank Fuller was hostess at her Pine Knob road home Tuesday when Unit Two, MOMS of America, Inc., met for a picnic.

Guests for the day were Mrs. Lorena Ogg and Mrs. T. M. Nelsey of Unit 60.

Invitations were read from the Ferndale unit to attend its installation Monday and from the Gingellville unit to attend Fun Night Aug 31.

Mrs. Clarence Hickmott, Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. Charles O'Brien and Mrs. Duncan McVean attended the Berkley installation services Tuesday evening. Mrs. McVean was installing chaplain.

Crepey Nylons Here for Good

It's a trend! The new crepe finish on nylons is here to stay. It's not only pleasingly dull, but gives your hosiery superbly smooth fit. Crepey nylons cling to the legs but have enough elasticity to allow for plenty of movement.

They're also cool for summer. Squeeze them in lukewarm soapsuds and rinses (don't twist or wring), and let them dry in a direct air current.

Countess Finds Women Improve Her Parties

PARIS (INS) — "Pretty women can replace cocktails to make any party a success."

That's the opinion of the French "hostess with the mostest on the ball."

Countess Gisele d'Assailly, great-granddaughter of General Lafayette, is famous in Paris for her parties. She gives an average of two parties a week, plus one hundred luncheons, dinners and receptions per year.

The Countess, who is married to publisher Rene Julliard, has discovered that the presence of beautiful women is a sure bet to make a party successful. In her opinion the pretty guests do not even need to be overly intelligent.

"In talking to a pretty woman, men go out of their way to be brilliant. Their conversation becomes more witty and they make amusing and interesting table-neighbors," Madame d'Assailly said.

"Count on pretty women rather than on cocktails to provide the right atmosphere at your parties."

This experienced French hostess is against several hours of cocktail drinking before a meal. In her opinion one should not take drinks for more than half an hour before any luncheon or dinner party.

"The idea of cocktails," she said, "is to pass the time till all the guests have arrived. Then proceed to table.

For most of her dinner parties Madame d'Assailly invites six, eight or at most twelve people.

"Six and twelve are the 'golden numbers,' she said. "Six people form an idea! group for conversation. If you have twelve guests you will have two groups, even if you seat them at one table.

"For parties up to twelve invite people who know each other or who want to meet," is her advice. "If you have a guest of honor, it is a nice idea to send him or her a list of the guests with a little briefing."

A hostess without help should not have more than six guests for a sit-down dinner party. A buffet is more practical for larger numbers.

Use a serving table with a hot plate to avoid running forth and back to the kitchen, advises Madame d'Assailly.

"Even after an intimate dinner among friends, do not let the guests help to wash the dishes," says the Countess firmly.

"If you do invite people you must expect to do some things yourself. Dish-washing takes away the atmosphere."

To be a good hostess, she says, rule number one is: "Don't worry!

After you have planned your party and gone through all the preparations . . . relax!

"Do not worry about little things or whether the guests will like the food," she stressed. "Just let it go and have fun yourself."

New York Milliner Says Hat Gives Paris Touch

PARIS (INS)—Paris inspiration will blossom forth on American women's heads this fall, according to Sally Victor, the trend-setting New York milliner who believes that "a woman without a hat is like a painting without a frame."

Mrs. Victor, who does hats for Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, visited Paris to gather inspiration for new chapeaux.

"The most important hat news I'll take back from Paris," said the milliner, "is the growing importance of dinner hats. No smart Parisienne would feel dressed up for dinner without a chapeau. And I forecast a similar trend for American women come fall.

"Usually tiny, simple in cut but of precious material, it's the dinner hat that gives the Paris touch to all the fashionable women I saw at elegant and expensive places."

Mrs. Victor added:

"Men too are hat conscious. A man wants to be envied for the smartness and chic of his girlfriend. He doesn't want her to look like just any other girl. And it's the hat that makes the difference."

If in doubt what color to choose for a dressy hat, take white, advises Sally Victor.

"White hats are very becoming, fresh, dressy and always right," she said. "Do like the Parisienne; wear a simple little shape — —coil, pillbox or a small beret — —to which you add a personal detail such as a jewel clip, a flower or a special veil.

"Always choose a hat in front of a full length mirror," she continued, "because in buying a hat a woman must consider the overall picture and see what the hat does for her."

Speaking about Mamie Eisenhower's hats, the milliner said:

Gathering Is Held by Mothersingers

Mrs. John Bills opened her home at Watkins Lake to members of the Pontiac Mothersingers Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Roy Beattie assisted the hostess. The next meeting will be held Sept. 1 at the home of Mrs. Charles Chapman on Silverdown drive.

Secret pals will be revealed at the September meeting and new members are invited to join the singers at that time.

Bride-Elect Feted

Mrs. Harold Baldwin and Mrs. Hazel Defibaugh were hostesses recently at a bridal shower given at the Baldwin home on South Ardmore avenue. The shower honored Patricia DeLano who will speak her vows Sept. 5 with Donald Harrison.

Patio dress of handkerchief cotton features the empire waist and full tucked bosom. The skirt is of unpressed pleats. The kerchief stole is trimmed with velvet banding that matches the belt and shoulder straps.

Pattersons Will Travel to Seattle

Plan to Visit Their Family and Stop at Points of Interest

The C. K. Pattersons of Dow Ridge will be leaving soon for a trip to the west to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. T. D. Loughrin of Seattle, Wash.

Their long cross-country trip will be broken up by stops at Jasper National Park and Banff, Alta., near Lake Louise.

The Russell Gortners of South Johnson Ave., with their daughter, Janet Lee, and her friend, Joyce Priest, have just returned from a five-week trip through the west.

During the trip they visited an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Pittman of Los Angeles. They stopped with friends in Phoenix, Ariz., and visited Mrs. Gortner's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Whisner, in Omaha, Neb.

Other stops included the homes of Mrs. Gortner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Whisner of Des Moines, Iowa, and Mr. Gortner's parents, the William Monahans of Davenport, Iowa, as well as such scenic spots as Grand Canyon and Salt Lake City.

Dr. Robert Vosburg of Concord, Calif., is visiting this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Vosburg of Nelson Street.

While Dr. Vosburg is visiting here, Mrs. Vosburg is traveling with her sister, Mary Ellen Wyngarden of Nelson Street, to Bremmerton, Wash., where the Robert Vosburgs will make their home.

Frank Crowell and Mrs. Ralph O. Ellsworth, both of Pontiac are among the 243 students who will receive degrees or certificates this month from Central Michigan college in Mt. Pleasant.

Frank will receive a state secondary permanent certificate, and Mrs. Ellsworth will receive a state secondary provisional certificate without degree. She received her master of science degree from the University of Michigan in 1950.

Four residents of the Pontiac area will be headed for Valparaiso, Ind., early in September to start Freshman Week orientation at Valparaiso University on Sept. 9.

Paul F. Dremann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Dremann of Birmingham, will enter the College of Engineering.

Marlene Beyer will enter the College of Arts and Sciences with Joan Koggenhop. Marlene is the daughter of the Henry J. Beyers of South Marshall street, and the William Koggenhops of Kendry avenue are Joan's uncle and aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brandt's son, Arnold W. Brandt of Glendale Avenue, will enter the College of Engineering.

Announcement comes from Cherry Pointe, N. C., of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Keith Breckenridge. Mrs. Breckenridge is the former Donna Jean Wagner.

The baby, Joyce Marie, who was born Aug. 18, is the granddaughter of the Odina Wagners of South Merrimac street and Mr. and Mrs. James Breckenridge of Auburn Heights.

Lt. and Mrs. Wallace D. Riley (Nancy Baldwin) of Arlington, Va., are announcing the birth of a daughter, Linda Shannon, Aug. 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baldwin of Sylvan Lake are the grandparents.

4 New Members Join Study Club

Four new members were elected when women of the Parliamentary Study Club met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. James Hampton on Sylvan Shores.

Those elected were Mrs. Aden Thornton, Mrs. Russell Marion, Mrs. Stanton Deyo and Mrs. Eugene Perkio.

Mrs. Russell French, Mrs. John Sheehan and Mrs. Homer Feneley were appointed to the fall luncheon committee.

Wash Bug Spray Off Hands Soon

Use common sense and caution when you use insecticides. U. S. Department of Agriculture experts advise you to wash off any insecticides you might spill on yourself promptly, and with soap and water.

If your clothes get splashed with such chemicals, put on fresh ones and wash the others as soon as you can.

Is Your Collection Sparkling-Clean?

If you collect curios, porcelain, jade, or paperweights and exhibit them behind glass, be sure that your friends can really see them.

Wipe the doodads with a soapy cloth and the glass with thick soap; then rinse with a clean and damp cloth. This makes all the difference in the pride you can take in your collection.

Girl Says Pride Keeps Her From Riding in Hearse

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: My boy friend and some pals of his got some money together and brought a hearse. Imagine!

"They have an orchestra, and they thought it would be useful for carrying their instruments. But mostly they bought it for laughs.

"Well, I think they're carrying a joke too far—But that's their business. What concerns me is this: My boy friend brought it up to show me and was very provoked when I refused to go out with him in it.

"I simply refuse to have anything to do with that hearse. After all, a girl has to have some pride—and where would mine by, riding around in a hearse?

"Don't you think it's too much to expect of me? He doesn't—and I'm afraid this is going to break us up.

"I like him so much. Which do I keep — my boy friend or my pride?"

Your boy friend expects you and everybody else to get a laugh out of that hearse. I'm laughing myself at the picture of it breezing along at anything but a stately pace, bulging with drums, horns and music stands.

I think it would be fun to paint it pink! And I'd take an admiring and enthusiastic ride in it, too—just for the sake of adding to the pleasure of its proud owners.

What's standing in your way is not pride but self-consciousness. You're afraid someone would see you in it. You're afraid someone might think it's not a proper vehicle for taking a girl dating in.

Of course, if you're behaving yourself, you shouldn't care what people you don't know might be thinking.

And by this time the ones you do know are in on the joke. The rest of your crowd would probably be willing to pay for a ride! And a lot of the grownups are finding the whole operation highly amusing.

Some boys I know bought an old fire engine in which they roar around town slowly but noisily. If their mothers could only enlist at home one-third of the elbow grease they lavish on its nickel!

Another enterprising gang has invested its all on an old dump truck. They've painted it sky-blue and have equipped its high-type rumble seat with rug, deck chairs and bridge table. Highly honored is the girl who's invited to ride "in the back of the truck."

Would your pride balk at tqking a ride in that fire engine, or joining three others for bridge in that truck? Fun's fun—and so is a ride in that hearse.

Be a good sport and go out for a spin with your boy friend. Take the stuffy starch out of your sense of humor and give with the laughs he expects from you.

Then when the novelty wears off, you'll still have him around.

Briefly Tell Newcomer Gist of Talk

Explain Subject of Discussion to One Joining Group

By EMILY POST

A man writes me: "When five or six people are sitting in a group and one of them is relating a story, or they are in the midst of a discussion, and another persons joins the group, is it necessary to tell the new arrival very quickly what the story is about, or the subject of the discussion?

"I think it is very rude to allow a person to sit in complete ignorance of the conversation. Do you agree?"

Answer: I do agree, but you should make your explanation as brief as you possibly can.

Dear Mrs. Post: When dining out, I am in the habit of speaking of my hostess' delicious food. Sometimes I tell her about her lovely china or beautiful house. I think every hostess likes to hear such appreciative remraks.

But my sister tells me that people of good breeding never comment on these things. Will you please tell me if she is right about this?

Answer: Occasional comments are all right, but you certainly don't make it a point of always telling her how beautiful everything is.

Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance gave me a set of rhinestone earrings and necklace for my birthday. I have been wearing them in the evening only and with rather dressy dresses.

My fiance thinks I should wear them more often. Will you please tell me when and with what sort of attire it is proper to wear rhinestones? May they be worn with summer cotton dresses?

Answer: You can't wear them any other way than as you have been wearing them. With cotton evening dresses, yes.

Dear Mrs. Post: I was married recently and as I am not going to keep house at this time most of the guests gave me cash gifts.

I would like to know if it is proper to mention the amount of money in my thank-you notes, or just thank them for their gifts and not mention money at all? I would appreciate your telling me the correct wording of such a note.

Answer: You say, "Thank you for your generous (or very generous or most generous) gift"—and don't mention the amount.

Jewelry Bug Bites Males

American men are more jewelry-conscious than at any time since the turn of the century, and the reason can be traced mainly to the womenfolk.

Not only are more men wearing more jewelry, but they are choosing up-to-the-minute styles that are a far cry from the ultra-conservative designs once regarded as men's jewelry.

Wives and sweethearts, with the active cooperation of the jewelry industry, are chiefly responsible for this "new look." The ladies are mostly responsible because they still buy almost 70 per cent of the jewelry worn by men.

More and more men have been convinced that high-styled jewelry is not necessarily unmasculine. Instead of the rather drab signet rings, unornamented tie bars, and cuff-links worn 20 and 30 years ago, they are now sporting designs set with diamonds, rubies and sapphires.

Formerly, they wore gold jewelry almost exclusively, but now are following the ladies' growing preference for the white precious metals platinum and palladium to accent gems.

Latest example of jewelry to make a hit with men are the sparkling new styles in "friendship" rings. Style-wise, these rings stress greater use if diamonds and colored stones in gold and white palladium two-tone treatments. One highly popular design consists of setting one or more diamonds in palladium ornaments, which are mounted in black onyx or a bloodstone. A 25 per cent rise in sales of friendship rings is reported since 1946.

Sisal Mattings Match Chairs

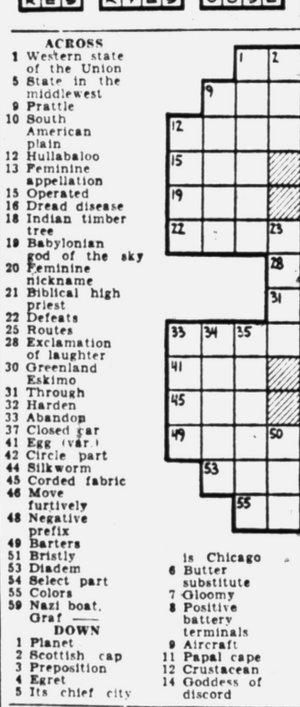

When you invest in new furniture, you have little left over these days to spend in covering your floors.

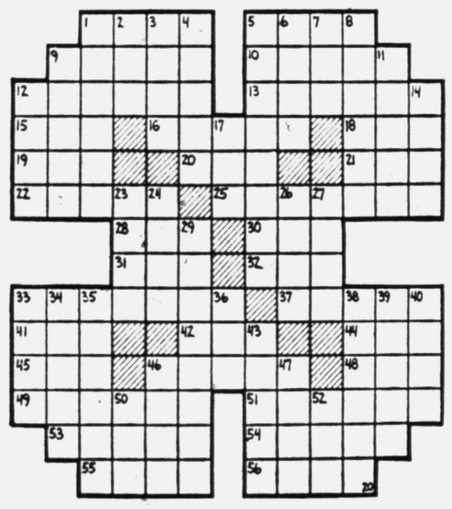

It is good news that the "Far East Look" furniture combines exceptionally well with mattings of grass, straw, hemp and sisal — all relatively inexpensive floor coverings.

No longer need you be limited to natural straw color — manufacturers are now dyeing the fibers in decorator tones to blend with and color schemes.

Hills Friends Will Attend Massachusetts Wedding

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Among Bloomfield friends going east to attend the Saturday wedding of Carolyn Ballou to John Eden of Cranbrook lane will be Mrs. Albert J. Browning of Quarton road.

The wedding will take place at the summer home of the bride's parents at Edgarton, Martha's Vineyard, Mass.

Mrs. John G. Wood and her daughter, Judy, who have spent several weeks at the Harbor Pointe Club, returned home recently.

Also home from Harbor Pointe is the R. C. Lawler family of Martel drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Black will be hosts at a cocktail party Saturday evening in their Orchard Lake home.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert J. Mason of Overhill road, Bloomfield Village, announce the marriage of their daughter, Suzanne, to Denis Lenane Feb. 24 at Angola, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Hargreaves moved recently from Bloomfield village to their new home on Orchard Ridge road, Bloomfield Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Curtis Matthews of Lone Pine court have gone up to Walloon Lake to spend a fortnight at the C. E. Wilson lodge there.

Mrs. Claire H. Backhurst and her children are here from New York City for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Robert C. Hargreaves of Cranbrook road.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Keenan of Hills drive will give a Monday evening party honoring Molly Sylvester and her fiance, Bill Beresford. Their marriage will be an event of Aug. 29.

On Tuesday Mrs. Marc Jung, who will be a bridesmaid, will entertain at a tea for Miss Sylvester, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Sylvester, and on Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. James A. Beresford will entertain at a swimming party and supper dance at their Metamora farm.

At noon Aug. 27 Mr. and Mrs. West Gallogly and their daughter, Mrs. John A. Bacon Jr. of Groton, Conn., will entertain with a picnic at the Galloglys' summer home at Lake Angelus.

That evening Mrs. John Crim of Elma, N. Y., sister of Mr. Beresford, and Molly's sister, Mrs. Frank Little, will give the spinster dinner. John Beresford will give the bachelor dinner for his cousin.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Beresford, parents of the prospective bridegroom, will give the rehearsal dinner Aug. 28 in their home on Cottontail lane.

Mrs. Charles Rendig of Cincinnati, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Donald James, will spend several days next week with Mr. and Mrs. James P. Baldwin of Orchard Lake.

New Bloomfield residents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. Fredericks who have recently moved to Lahser road from Huntington Woods.

Tommy Lee, son of the David W. Lees of Country Club drive, returned home Wednesday from camp in New Hampshire.

White linen accents the stand-away collar and cuffs of this cotton town suit. The straight skirt is topped with a fitted, double-breasted jacket. It is in taupe or gray.

Delicate Acetate Requires Care in Laundering

Acetate is a favorite fiber with girls who enjoy its subdued sheen, cool (but not clammy) feel, absorbency, and soft, smooth touch on the skin.

You have to be gentle with a garment made from this fiber. It has a delicate look and actually it is delicate. If you have a beautiful peignoir, blouse or other luxury type of garment made from acetate, here's how to care for it:

Wash in lukewarm water only with mild soapsuds or detergent. If you're using the washing machine, put the garment in a mesh bag. First test for colorfastness. Don't put it in among dark colors.

The garment should be faintly damp for pressing. Acetate dries in almost no time at all.

Press on the wrong side. You want the natural gloss of acetate, not an excessive shine. No heavyweight muscular pressure on the iron is necessary. Just glide over the surface, with the grain, and the heat will take care of the wrinkles.

It should be a very low heat because acetate can melt under a too-warm iron. Finish details on the right side, using a piece of thin muslin for a press cloth.

Your pressing job is over in minutes because you needn't press bone-dry. Air and the slight steam left in the garment will finish your blouse for you when you hang it up (on a padded hanger.)

Coming Events

Dorothy Huff, missionary from China, will be guest speaker at a meeting to be held in Barnett Chapel of First Baptist Church this evening at 7:30. Colored slides of her work in association with Henrietta Wilson will be shown.

Ladies Auxiliary to Post 1370 VFW will hold a hospital party this evening at 7 at Pontiac State Hospital.

Ladies Auxiliary to Eagles Aerie 1230 will meet this evening in the hall on West Montcalm street.

Daughters of Union Veterans will meet this evening in the Grotto Hall, 128 W. Pike St.

VFW Auxiliary 1008 will meet at Murphy Park Saturday at 5:30 p.m. for a co-operative picnic luncheon.

Highway Signs Show Humor

Highway signs not only provide some of this country's best signs of the times, but also are excellent commentaries on American humor and inherent horse sense.

Most states are deeply concerned about highway accidents, but they put across their messages through punning, not preaching. Their sound advice runs a gamut from: "life is like a baseball game. It's how many times you reach home safely that counts" to "death is a five-letter word. So is speed. Life is a four-letter word. So is slow." Another witty warning goes: "spring is here. The grass is riz. Here's where last year's driver is." Such signs as "if you lived here, you'd be home now" and "this is God's country, don't drive through it like a heathen" attest to regional pride.

Restaurant signs such as "steak $2.50, value 50c" and "the best barbecue in the world—or anyplace" are another source of highway humor. A roadside restaurant in the Eastern United States proudly advertises "sho' nuff northern fried chicken." One in the South advises: "if you think eating our steaks is tough, wait until you try paying your check." Cemetery signs offer a grim variety of humor with such signs as "don't rush. We can wait" or "slow down. We've been here a long time." Signs in some parts of the West play on the gullibility of Easterners advising them to: "watch out for buffalo" and "look out for Indians."

Roadside signs are vivid symbols of American humor and ingenuity.

Personality-Plus 'Ginny' Doll Boasts Six New Costumes, All Zippered

Treated Fabrics No Longer Get Crumpled Look

What is a "crease - resistant" finish? These questions are asked by girls who want to get the most for their clothes money.

This finish is intended to overcome cotton's old drawbacks — To prevent this wilted look, a processor applies a finish to the fabric, which may be made from linen, wool or other fibers and not just cotton.

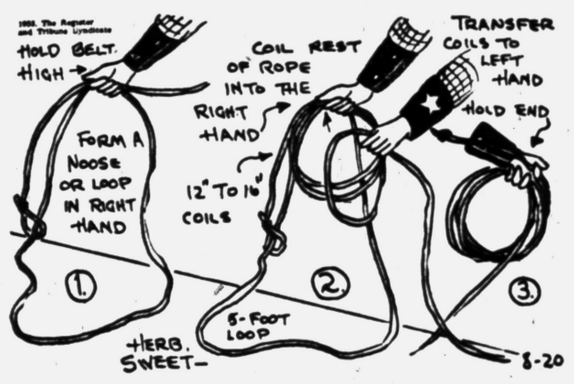

This finish, when given by a reliable processing firm, really enables these fadrics to recover from wrinkles, You simply hang the garments up for a rest and the creases fall out.

Many kinds of fabrics, chambrays, taffetas, tweeds, and so on, are treated.

Don't depend on any salesperson's word for your information.

Look for a hang-tag which gives the manufacturer's name and tells you just what permanence you can expect from the finish, which will be trade-marked, and just how to care for the garment.

Tests have proven these fabrics absorb less soil than the same fabrics untreated. They'll also hold less moisture.This makes strenuous washing unnecessary and fast drying a certainty.

Try It

Coil Rope Cowboy-Style

Here is another step in the art of rope throwing. Have you ever seen a picture of a cowboy with a coiled rope in his hand or on his saddle? You never see a rope which is not coiled neatly and properly, for the coiling of the rope just seems to "run out" or does not tangle.

When a cowboy throws his rope, he speaks of it "running out," for the limber and neatly coiled rope just sems to "run out" or "flow." Perhaps you have seen your Mother get a tangle in her yarn—the same thing can happen with a rope when it is not properly coiled.

Hold your rope waist high and form a noose or loop in your right hand. Let this loop hang loose and coil the rest of the rope in 12 to 16-inch coils.

Each time you put the rope into your hand give it a twist toward you. This little turn will make the rope lie flat.

After it is all coiled, transfer it to your left hand and hold the loop and honda in your right hand. When the rope is thrown it "feeds out" from your left and the loop is thrown with your right hand.

Coeds Demand Basic Dresses

The demand of college girls for "more basic wool dresses" has been met this year with a host of new fabrics and silhouettes that vary from the classic button-front coat-dress to easy skirted princess line dresses with stand-away necklines.

There is more variety in the styling of sportswear dresses than there has been for many seasons. The tulip silhouette has influenced the classic dress so that even the old basic sheath looks new when combined with widened, sometimes padded tops and stand-away necklines filled in with dickies.

There will be more strength this year in cottons. There not only is more selection, but the cotton fashions themselves have greater scope. They look like both wools and silks, and as such can be worn well into the winter season. This year-round character is encouraged in heavy cotton coats and jackets which look like bright wool tweeds.

Dressy fashions in silk-woven cottons are suitable all year round. This adaptability to climate makes cottons appropriate for all sections of the country.

All colors look like different degrees of black, white, and gray to dogs.

Red Pepper Jelly Good With Meat

Mixed Into Cream Cheese for Tasty Cracker Spread

By JANET ODELL

A jelly that is beautiful to see and delicious to eat is our contribution for today. Mrs. V. L. Newcomb uses this red pepper jelly with meat and also to mix with cream cheese as a spread for crackers.

During World War II Mrs. Newcomb was an efficient volunteer in civil defense work. For the past few years she has turned her talents to the business world.

Her love of children and kindness to them endears her to many a young person. Membership in the Junior Women's Club, gardening, reading and occasional travel amply fill her leisure hours.

RED PEPPER JELLY
By Mrs. V. L. Newcomb

12 large red sweet peppers
1½ cups cider vinegar
6½ cups sugar
1 bottle pectin

Remove the seeds and put the peppers through the food chopper twice, using the fine blade. Drain thoroughly. This should make 2 cups of pulp, solidly packed so that the liquid comes to the top and may be poured off.

Add vinegar and sugar and heat to the boiling point, stirring constantly. Boil two minutes. Remove from heat. Add pectin.

Wardrobe Will Meet Every Need

Little Mother Sure to Be Delighted by This High Style

"Ginny", a very personable Miss, who is all of 8 inches tall, has long been the favorite doll of the Little Mother set. Her pert braids, dimple cheeks, and even her harlequin eyeglasses, make "Ginny" an outstanding personality in the make-believe world of dolls.

Something new has happened to little "Ginny", fashion leader in doll society. A brand new, grown-up wardrobe has been designed for her.

Six wonderful new fashions are shown — a costume for every occasion, all with zippers which enable tiny fingers to dress and undress this petite dol easily as well as adding the perfect finishing touch.

In "Ginny's" new wardrobe there is a costume that will meet every need — for school, for play and for dressy occasions — rain or shine.

Blue denims with a bright gingham shirt . . . just the thing for out-of-doors play; a frilly, white nylon lace bedecked party frock; a new full-skirted school dress; and a Sunday outfit that has velvet ribbon touches are four of the exciting new "Ginny" designs.

To protect this little Miss from the elements on stormy days, a classic rain slicker complete with carrying case has been created for her. When "Ginny" is all set for a bedtime story, she wears a smart housecoat that zips right up the front.

Consider Hips in Styling Hair

Teen-agers, when choosing a hair style, do you consider the ful' length of you, from head to toes? Your friends don't look at a hair style or even a head, alone. They see you as a unit.

Therefore, have a full - length mirror as your guide when choosing a fall hair style. And a hand mirror as well so that you can check the sides and rear.

Here are a few of the factors that bear out this viewpoint:

1. A head that's disproportionately large in relation to the body will look even more so with a bushy, built-out hair style. This girl should have her hair tapered close to her head, and neatly shaped for a smaller-looking head.

2. A tall, lean girl can avoid seeming to touch the sky if she wears her hair flat on top. In many cases she can wear it fairly long, at least to cover the back of her neck.

3. A short, plump girl will seem even more so with a round or square hair style. The outline should be small and neat.

4. Keep wide hips balanced with a hair style that's also a little wide or you'll be out of proportion.

5. If you're a shortie, add height with a brushed-up hair style but avoid any stiff crown effect.

Wash Cards With Sponge

If it's a card party you're giving, remember that the cards you "serve" are as important as the sandwiches and cakes. Offering attractive cards to your guests is no trouble since washable ones are available everywhere these days.

Advised to Wed Widower If He'll Make Her Happy

By ANNE HEYWOOD

A short while ago I received a touching letter from a woman who has a problem that is heartbreakingly frequent in our society.

"My husband was an alcoholic," she wrote, "and I have two little boys. Our family life became so horrible that my doctor advised me to get a divorce for the sake of the children.

"I was divorced three years ago, and I have been supporting the children ever since, having gone back to the job I had before I was married.

"Now I have met a wonderful man, a widower with one child of his own.

"He wants me to marry him, and I would like nothing better, but everyone is warning me that it will be too complicated and too difficult for the children.

"I love the children and want to do what is right for them.

"Their own father is now dead, and half the time I think that a stepfather is better than no father, and the other half of the time my friends terrify me with tales of stepfathers who were wonderful before the marriage and awful after."

The first thing children need is a happy mother, and if this mother can be happy with this man, I think she should marry him.

If she doesn't, she will subconsciously hold it against the children the rest of her life, and expect them to make up to her for all she has lost in giving him up.

I would heartily recommend that she read a new book called "Children of Divorce," written by J. Louise Despert, M.D., who is a leading child psychiatrist.

She discusses every possible factor that arises when parents are divorced, which will give this woman additional insight into understanding her own children now and throughout the adjustment period which a second marriage inevitably brings.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

Somebody once said that everybody complains about the weather but nobody does anything about it. Since you can't do anything about it, it is kind of silly to complain all summer about the heat and all winter about the cold and rain.

Anyway, talking constantly about the weather shows a lack of something more interesting to talk about.

Emerald-Shape Settings Take Round Stones

The fashion-smart emerald-shaped setting for precious gems has acquired an exciting new look, with the announcement that this type of mounting in palladium, platinum or white gold now has been styled to take a round diamond.

The combination makes style news because it concerns a type of setting once associated only with fabulous gems. Until the last decade, emerald-shaped jewelry settings were synonymous with lavish and costly designs, and relatively few were thus available.

They have always been highly admired by women for their sophisticated appearance as well as the kind of simplicity which marks contemporary design.

Now a series of emerald-shaped settings has been styled so as to hold a round stone. Also known as the brilliant-cut, round diamonds are by far the most popular with the public and have been leading the popularity parade for many years.

In recent years, with more and more jewelers offering smaller emerald-cut stones in response to fashion demands, this style and the marquise shape have climbed to a spot close behind the round-cut.

A feature of the new settings is the "illusion-type" styling, so named because the diamond seems much larger than its actual size.

This is accomplished by using more of this brilliant white metal around the gem, raising the prongs and piercing the sides to permit light to reflect off the metal and onto the gem.

Men's Shorts Now Crested

Remember when men wore dull, drab clothing, and left color and high style to women?

Along with the bowler hat and button-shoes, those days are gone forever. Today men are sprucing up—they are becoming more style conscious.

Have you noticed the cummerbunds and matching ties so prevalent after dark? And now there's another innovation on the fashion horizon—an embroidered, heraldic crest on underwear.

Created by a leading manufacturer, the crest-decorated underwear is available in a number of styles and designs, including gold and shadings of red, blue and green.

About 90 per cent of the proved reserves of natural gas in the United States are in five states — Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas.

Big Liners Are Heaven to Gourmets

Transatlantic Ships Cater to Travelers' Food Whims

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — Transatlantic shipping lanes are almost the last hunting grounds of the gourmet and his greedy brother, the gourmand.

Not only do passengers on today's luxury liners have leisure for epicurean adventures, but their cost is absorbed completely in first-class passage fares.

"Today, about the only possible competition between passenger ships is based on service and food," says Arch Mundy. "Modern ships are all pretty luxurious and they take about the same length of time to cross."

Mundy is in charge of the first-class dining room on the liner United States. He sees to it that there's practically nothing edible in season his pampered passengers can't order, from black, shiny Russian caviar, through the game family (grouse, partridge and pheasant are in the larders now) to such alien dishes as bacaloa, a fish stew beloved by Central Americans and pasta pacherra, an aristocratic Italian bean soup garnished with salami.

Mundy notes a great difference between the food-yearning of outbound passengers and those coming home. Bound for a European vacation, they go for rich, fancy dishes and ladle sauce with a lavish hand. On the trip home, most passengers are simple chop-and-steak eaters.

Most veteran travelers stick to simple fare. Gen. George C. Marshall is a light, plain eater—roast beef and grilled chicken. Mrs. Vincent Astor eats lamb chops almost exclusively and her husband, rare roast beef sliced very thin. The Duke and Duchess of Windsor also stick to roast chicken and roast beef, while Lily Pons—also a lamb chop and chicken fancier—varies her menu with a bit of caviar and champagne.

Robert Taylor, says Mundy, is a steak-potatoes-vegetable-and- salad eater, and Margaret Truman isn't a fussy eater at all.

Points to Check in Buying Dress

Career girls, have you discovered in the middle of a heat wave that you haven't enough summer dresses? Here are some shopping suggestions for you to think about while in the fitting room.

1. Will the dress be cool? Cotton is generally considered the coolest of fabrics. If the dress is nylon, examine for a porous weave.

2. Will the dress pay for itself in general usefulness? It's economical to choose a color and style adaptable to your present accessories.

3. Do you have the proper underpinnings for it? If not, you'll have to spend more money for them, to say nothing of the shopping time involved. Even though the dress may not look sheer at first glance, hold it up to the light. Do you have a petticoat if the skirt is full? Will the neckline reveal your bra straps?

4. If you can't get a perfect fit, you'll be wiser to take a larger size, rather than a smaller one. Estimate the cost of alterations before buying.

5. Examine the workmanship.

6. To estimate the comfort of the dress, sit, bend over, and raise your arms.

7. Will it wash? Is it colorfast? Is it preshrunk? Look for hangtags giving this information.

8. Does the dress look like you and feel like you?

Fabric Makers' Terms Listed

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Surface interest in these days of modernized fabrics refers to more than the color and design. You'll find your shopping expeditions are more satisfactory if you know the terms the manufacturers use in describing their products.

The processes used in finishing to give special qualities or to improve the appearance have names and these are some of the more important finishes:

Permanent starching, often given to organdies and to some curtain fabrics, indicates a process whereby the textile is treated with a chemical that penetrates the fibers. This gives a permanent finish that stands up through repeated washings.

Sizing is a process whereby starch, or some other filler, is added to the cotton yarn before weaving. It helps strengthen the yarn. However, flimsy materials are sometimes excessively sized to give them a firmly woven appearance; test the amount by rubbing the fabric between your fingers and then holding it up to the light to examine the weave

Mr. and Mrs. Morris E. Murphy of Rochester are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Mildred, to Robert J. Farris. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cloys Farris of Auburn avenue. No date has been set for the wedding.

Scoffing Hubby, Silenced, Buys Washer-Dryer

One of the reasons why many a bride gets mad enough to grind her teeth into powder is the smug assurance of her soul mate that the "little gal" has a comparatively easy time of it while he's out sweating and toiling the live-long day.

He should only stay at home some washday and watch how the other half lives, as Jeff had to do not long ago because of a cold.

A few days later he casually announced that there were a few dollars "wasting away" in the bank that might better be employed in the purchase of some laundry equipment. Ha!

"Remember, we haven't got much space," he screamed, but I had already squeezed into my bonnet and was stretching my nylons in the direction of the nearest dealer store to gaze fondly on the wonders of dryers and washers.

Long before the sun had set that day I had a new love in my life—or I should say two loves, for it consists of two units, matching dryer and washer. As far as space goes, why it takes up less room than a couple of small kitchen chairs!

And to almost echo my husband, space is something that this family has to hoard like a miser.

Another cute innovation is casters. Both washer and electric dryer can be wheeled away and stored when not in use.

What a change from the "hope it will be sunny tomorrow" routine. Now every day is a perfect drying day with no "fuss or muss" as the man says The dryer units are available in either gas or electric models. I could hardly believe it when I found that the capacity of my compact couple was the same as many small "standard-size" washers and dryers.

The units are available in either gas or electric models—but no matter which you prefer, the one-piece wrap-around cabinet is sure to draw "ahhhs" from admiring neighbors as mine did.

Controls on the top of the back insure convenience for you and protection for the ceaseless reconnaissance known as childhood.

Girdle Too Tight? Read and Be Grateful

For upwards of 4000 years, women have pushed, pulled, pinched and otherwise refashioned their figures to emulate an ideal.

Just when corsetry had its real beginning, it is difficult to say. But it is known that the women of Crete, probably as far back as 2500 B. C., held their waists rigid with a series of heavy rings.

Grecian women bound their breasts with a band of woolen cloth and wore a woolen band around the waist. In Egypt the women wore a narrow, tight band under the bust to give support.

In the 11th century, the drapery of the costume was drawn tightly around the body and held in place by an ornamental cord, or girdle. By the 13th century, the fashion for molding the figure had been incorporated into the lacing of the dresses.

In 16th century England, each rank of society was allowed certain distinctions of dress. The fashionable demand for a slender waist of 13 inches necessitated a tightly laced undergarment over which was worn a framework of light steel plates which secured the form to rigorous exactness.

During the 17th century, the pomp and formality of the French court and its fashions were gradually relaxed. In place of the iron corset, the lady depended upon bodice lacings and busks for the desired silhouette.

During the early part of the reign of Louis XV, the fashions of France turned to the elegant and artificial. The style continued through the 18th century until the fall of the Bastille in 1789.

A characteristic of the 18th century bodice was the enormous amount of whalebone used; stiffening alone usually weighed over a pound. Style changed little until the shepherdess costume appeared.

Toward the end of the reign of George III, gentlemen as well as ladies depended upon the corsetmaker.

Pack Your Dental Floss for Healthful Vacations

Fresh fruits and vetables, fresh air, and lots of sunshine—that's the summertime prescription for building up a reservoir of health and energy for winter months to come. Outdoor living, plus plenty of exercise and good eating make summer the healthiest season.

But some of the very things that make summer so healthful may be pitfalls for healthy teeth if we let down our guard in the constant battle against dental troubles.

In fact, some of summer's favorite foods may cause the most trouble for unprotected teeth. Cold ham, corn-on-the-cob, chicken salad, like many other things we eat with so much pleaure, can store up toothaches if we let stray bits and pieces remain wedged in the crannies between our teeth.

Aside from being a nuisance, these fugitive food particles are likely to cause tooth decay. Food remaining anywhere in the mouth ferments and gives rise to the acids that attack tooth enamel, driving the opening wedge for decay.

Started Career on Broadway

Now He's Video Star on 'Ethel and Albert' and AFTRA Chief

NEW YORK—Alan Bunce who plays Albert on the television series Ethel and Albert decided early in life that acting was much more stimulating than selling. He's been acting ever since.

When Alan made his decision Wall Street experienced no drop in the cotton market where he was an assistant broker. And the candy industry, where he had also been gainfully employed as a salesman, found that his leaving it had no effect at all on the kids who bought it.

Alan was born in Westfield, N. J. He attended high school in Melrose, Mass., a suburb of Boston. His tours of activity with the Cotton Exchange and selling candy followed shortly thereafter.

This activity came to its abrupt end when Alan, from the second balcony of a Broadway theater, saw a play titled "S. S. Tenacity" and was convinced he could act as well as the principals in the show. He got an acting part in the play and thus has the distinction of having played his first role right on the Big Street. In a matter of six weeks he was doing the lead.

As an actor on the legitimate stage Alan appeared in over 30 plays including the Theatre Guild's production of "Valley Forge," "Fine Lady" starring Grace George and "Tommy," Howard Lindsay's first Broadway play.

Alan's radio career developed apace with his Broadway appearance. His total radio appearances number well over 10,000.

When not on radio or television, or building things around his Stamford (Conn. home, Alan is attending to duties of the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists of which he is national president.

The couple has three children, Alan Nugent, who is in his freshman year at college; John Elliot, who is in high school and 13-year-old Virginia.

Great Pyramid Set Today as Important---for What?

By RELMAN MORIN
(For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)— Well, folks, today's the day.

This is Aug. 20, 1953, a date marked for destiny, according to people who believe in the "prophecy in stone." They expect an event of vast importance to take place somewhere in the world today. Exactly what, deponent saith not. But we shall see what we shall see, to coin an old phrase.

Briefly, and leaving aside the heavy mathematics, the situation is this:

Some 5,000 years ago, more or less, the Grand Pyramid was built in Egypt, within sight of the slow flowing Nile. It became the tomb of a King, Cheops, and his Queen. It was a mighty mausoleum, a monument to a man's ego, a miraculous feat of engineering — and presumably nothing more.

But was it?

For about a century now, scientists have been prowling around the pyramid, inside and out, taking measurements. They noted that the four sides of the base correspond to the cardinal points of the compass. And they found the aperture focussed on the North Star.

Other facts emerged, things that seemed to indicate the pyramid was something more than just a pile of massive stone, honey-combed with passageways and the crypts of the King and Queen.

In 1864, Charles Piazzi Smith, royal astronomer of Scotland, brought out a book called "Our Inheritance in the Grand Pyramid." The Abbot Moreux of France followed with additional calculations, based on his measurements.

They theorized that the pyramid had been built in conformity with some orthodox astronomical principles — principles well known in modern science, but presumably far beyond the knowledge of the ancient Egyptians.

From this came a still more sensational theory, namely, that the pyramid foretells the whole future of this world, the fate of nations, the wars, Armageddon, and so on to the end.

Hence, "the prophecy in stone."

I do not recommend brother Smith's book as light summer reading out in the hammock. It is rough going.

But as I gather, the distances of the corridors, the angles of the passageways, the intersections of ground lines, and in fact, the relationship between each of the various parts of the pyramid — all these things symbolize some significant event on earth, past and future.

The crucifixion, the flight of the Israelites from Egypt, and so on, presumably are marked. So, in this theory, are coming events.

However, the batting average for the "prophecy in stone" has not been very high, so far.

Some predictions never came off at all. The calculators fixed a number of dates which already have passed without any notable happenings. And they seem to have missed, entirely, that fateful day, Sept. 2, 1939, when world War II started.

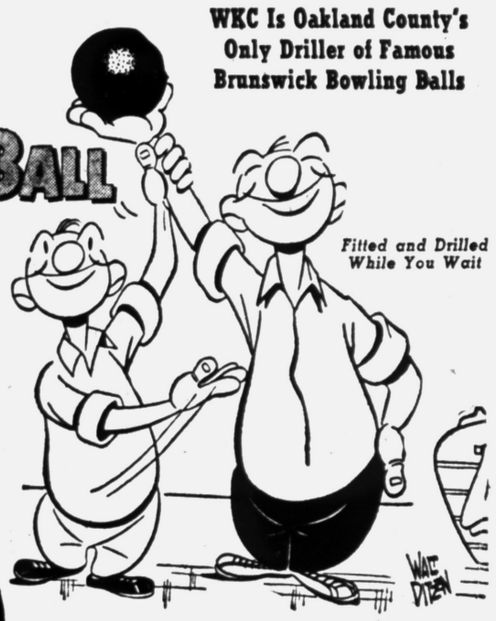

This, of course, was a considerable oversight, to say the least. So new measurements were made, and new calculations drawn on a different basis. That produced all the decisive points of World War II—but the re-figuring was done after these events took place.

In any case, long years ago, the men who try to read the "prophecy in stone" set down today, Aug. 20, 1953, as a day of destiny.

It would be nice to know what the pyramid has in store for us.

Maybe somebody will announce the invention of 4D. Maybe Malenkov will disband the Red army. Maybe Christian Dior will come out for no skirts at all.

Well, by midnight tonight we ought to know. Watch the papers and stick close to your radio.

FATHERS OF FLIGHT—

THE WRIGHT BROTHERS
On Dec. 17, 1903, man's age-old dream of flying in a heavier-than-air powered machine became a reality. Orville Wright, assisted by his brother Wilbur, made the first powered flight in a strange looking craft—the device which ushered in a new age. Read FATHERS OF FLIGHT—THE WRIGHT BROTHERS for the inspiring story of courage and vision by the pioneers of aviation.

Spurn Russia's Parley Position

Talk of Compromising East-West Differences Given Cold Shoulder

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The major Western nations turned a cold shoulder in the U.N. today to some talk of compromising East-West differences over the makeup of the Korean peace conference.

Russia's position, as partly set forth by Andrei Y. Vishinsky yesterday, already had drawn a quick rejection from Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

An aide said Vishinsky might take the floor for further explanations today after the debate resumes in the 60-nation General Assembly Political Committee.

First on the speakers' list today were Czechoslovakia, a Soviet satellite and one of the members of the Prisoner of War Repatriation Commission, and Turkey, which had troops under the U.N. banner in Korea.

A host of small countries were expected to follow them. Some already were hinting at possibilities of a compromise, but one Western spokesman said he could see no need for any further "watering-down" in the conference lineup proposed by three resolutions put forward by various groupings of the 16 Allies under the U.N. banner.

Ex-Nazi Leader Jailed for Going to Reich Rally

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — Dr. Werner Naumann, former Nazi bigwig now a leader of the Nazi-type German Reich party, was jailed by West German police for a few hours last night. Naumann said it was a "misunderstanding."

He was arrested when he failed to heed a police warning not to attend a party rally. Naumann explained later the warning was received at his party headquarters but not by him personally.

WORK WASTED? — It took Chief Gunner's Mate Richard Rogge, right, three years to build this diving bell, but now it looks like he won't be able to try it out. The Navy transferred him to another post. Rogge and friends had planned to explore the depths of Lake Minona near Madison, Wisconsin.

Iran's India Envoy Stays Despite Shift

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—An Iranian Embassy spokesman said today Charge d'Affaires A. A. Yekta "will continue as usual" under the new regime and is not even planning to return to Tehran for consultations.

The Iranian ambassador in Washington, Allah Yar Saleh, who reportedly declared he is not willing to cooperate with the new government, "is a very special case," the spokesman stated.

"He was a trusted friend of Mr. Mossadegh and was appointed to the delicate post in Washington for that reason. I do not think the new Premier will want him to remain there despite his abilities," the spokesman explained.

Ornithologists now believe that the short-tailed albatross of the Pacific Ocean may have followed the dodo, the great auk and the Labrador duck into extinction.

Journey Proves Futile; Line Forms to Rear

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two officers came all the way from New York only to find that the crime confessed by a 43-year-old Los Angeles chef was committed outside their jurisdiction.

Alfred Romano told Los Angeles police he shot a hotel prowler and burned his body in a Brooklyn vacant lot. But, said Louis G. Andreozzi, Asst. Dist. Atty. of Kings County, in Brooklyn, and Detective Edward Caravallo, after conferring with Romano yesterday, the scene of the killing is in Manhatten, another borough.

Late Ortonville Run Brings 3-2 Win in Playoffs

Cox Drives in Barkeley With Winning Tally in 8th Inning

Regular-season champion Ortonville took a 1-game lead in the City Class A Baseball League playoffs Wednesday by downing runner-up General Motors, 3-2.

The clubs tied, 3-3, Tuesday in the playoff opener. Series continues this afternoon and Friday, and additional games will be played next Monday and Tuesday, if necessary.

Ortonville broke a 2-run deadlock in the 8th inning of Wednesday's game, when Al Barkeley gained base on a fielder's choice, advanced on an infield error and scored on Eugene Cox's single.

Both teams had scored single runs in the 1st frame and Ortonville moved into a 2-1 lead in the 2nd, with Cox hitting safely, moving to 3rd on Jim Berg's single and coming home on a fielder's choice play.

General Motors tied the count in the top of the 8th. Dave Zittle lashed out a single to score Chuck Russell, who had opened the inning with a safety.

Herman Bishop, Ortonville's manager-pitcher struck out eight, walked two and allowed seven hits.

NATIONAL THREAT—Pontiac's Lloyd Syron, competing in the National Caddie Golf tournament at Columbus, O., this week, today continued to set the pace for the event. Lloyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Syron of Pontiac Country Club, takes his golfing ability naturally. His father has long been a well-known professional and golf teacher, and Lloyd has been coming to the front rapidly in junior links circles in the last two years. He disposed of two opponents in Wednesday's opening round of play in the national event.

(From Press Wire Services)

COLUMBUS, O. — Sharpshooting Lloyd Syron of Pontiac, Mich., today moved into the third round of the National Caddie Golf tournament here sharing the favorite's spot with Frank Malara of White Plains, N. Y. However, the Michigan player was given the edge on the eastern contender by virtue of his powerful play.

The son of Frank Syron, Pontiac Country club proowner, the husky Michigander turned back challenges from Joe Kotlarcyk of Toledo, 2 and 1, and John Codey of Louisville, Ky., 4-3. The Codey match was played in the morning, Wednesday, and Syron had a one-under-par for the 15 holes. He eliminated the Ohioan in an afternoon round, and today faced another two rounds.

Friendly Wind Nudges 'Missed' Putt Into Cup

Ward, Jackson, Cherry Also Get by First Test at Grand Rapids

By BURDETTE B. ASHLEY

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)— Just call him fortunate Frank.

Frank Strafaci of Garden City, N. Y. has established himself as one of the top players in the Western Amateur Golf Championship because of some unexpected help from two sources — "The Babe" and the breeze.

Placid, pipe-smoking Strafaci, who stroked a Babe Didrickson Zaharias putter to medalist honors could thank a friendly wind for an assist in his first round victory Wednesday.

A putt that rolled an inch too far, stopped, and was nudged by the wind back into the cup helped Strafaci to a one-up victory over Thomas Stephenson of Kansas City, Mo.

Joining the veteran shotmaker in the second round were Walker Cuppers Harvie Ward, Jr., of Atlanta, Ga., Jimmy Jackson of Glendale, Mo., and Don Cherry of Witchita Falls, Tex.

Coming from behind against Stephenson's unexpected stubborn play, Strafaci rounded the turn one-down. His short putt on the tenth rolled an inch past the cup but a sudden gust of wind sent it backward and it plunked squarely into the hole.

Two holes later the 37-year-old New Yorker evened the match. On the 18th green, a 15 foot birdie putt that didn't hesitate, gave him the edge.

Ward, pre-tournament favorite, fired a string of birdies at John Morrell of Elgin, Ill., on the second nine to win 5 and 4. The clincher was a 30-foot putt on the 14th green after Ward had played the hole in the woods and rough all the way.

Cherry coasted to a 6 and 5 win over William Hendrich of Cleveland on a birdie-studded performance. Jackson had the roughest time of the Walker Cuppers. He squeezed to a 2 and 1 victory over Don Guariglia, former National Caddie Champion from St. Louis.

Tom Draper of Birmingham, Mich., 1949 Michigan State Amateur champion, advanced with a 5 and 4 win over Ted Schoonback of Grand Rapids.

Lou Wendrow of Lansing went the only extra hole match of the first round before losing to John Zeisler of Chicago on the 19th hole.

Randy Ahern and Ray Palmer of Detroit, David Reniger of Lansing and Jim Frost of Battle Creek were among other Michigan players still in the running.

Snead Among Entries in Canada Open; Harper Fires Practice 64

MONTREAL (AP) — The $25,000 Canadian Open Golf tournament got under way at the Summerlea course today with a handful of top United States golfers battling it out with the home talent.

Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., made his first appearance in Canadian competition since 1950. He was slated to tee of with Jim Turnesa, former United States PGA champion, early in the afternoon.

If practice rounds mean anything, Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., should rank as one of the favorites. He shot a six-under-par 64 yesterday, setting an all-time course record. The competitive record of 66 is held by Gerry Proulx of Montreal. He set it 11 years ago.

17 Trotters Set for Rich Wolverine Race

DETROIT (AP)—A field of 17 trotters go to the post tonight in the $17,200 Merchants and Manufacturers Trot at the Wolverine Harness Raceway.

The event will be raced in two one-mile dashes as the fifth and eighth races on the card.

In last night's racing, Hi Lo's Billy H. driven by Jack Williams Jr., paid the top price, $83.40.

Lake Superior Yields 39½-Pound Lake Trout

LANSING (AP)—Wilbur M. Howell, a vacationist from Warwick, N. Y., caught the largest lake trout reported so far this year from Lake Superior, the state conservation department said today.

The fish weighed 39½ pounds and was taken on deep sea tackle off Grand Marais.

Records in the department's fish division show a 40-pound trout was taken from Lake Superior in 1952 and a 46-pounder was reported in 1941.

There also is a report—not authenticated — of an 88-pounder taken in 1864.

Tam O'Shanter Member Hits 3rd Hole-in-One

Holes-in-one are getting to be old stuff for Milton Shapiro, Tam O'Shanter Country Club member from Detroit.

Shapiro scored the third one of his career Wednesday by sinking a four-wood shot on the 182-yard sixth hole at Tam O'Shanter. It gave him an 84 for the round. Witnessing the first ace at the club in the last four years were Dr. Thomas B. Shulman and Dr. James Aiuto.

Shapiro previously had registered aces at Knollwood Country Club and at Hot Springs, Ark.

Old-Age Perils Dodger Reign as Tops in Majors

By JOE REICHLER

BROOKLYN (AP)—Brooklyn Dodgers are acknowledged to be the best team in the National League, perhaps in all baseball, but there are some who believe the reign is near an end because of old age.

Alarmists point out that only Duke Snider and Junior Gilliam among the regulars will be under 30 at the start of next season. In addition, pitchers Preacher Roe, Russ Meyer, Ben Wade and Joe Black are either hitting the 30 mark or well over it.

Dodger vice-president Fresco Thompson, whose job it is to see that a constant flow of new blood is kept pouring into the Brooklyn organization's main artery, however, he admitted today advancing years of such key regulars as Jackie Robinson and Pee Wee Reese have created a grave problem.

"It's going to be quite a problem to replace them no matter how proud we may be of our farm system," he said. "Players like that come up only once every 10 or 20 years."

Reese and Robinson excluded, Thompson declared the Dodgers weren't as old as some people think.

"Gil Hodges, Roy Campanella, Carl Furillo and Billy Cox are in their prime right now," he said, "and we have no reason to believe they won't continue to play top flight ball for another two or three years. we think Snider has yet to realize his tremendous potential.

"The trouble is all, with a couple of exceptions, are around the 30-mark, and we are faced with the danger that they might all wear out at once. That's what we must guard against. We are fully aware of our problem and we are prepared to take steps to remedy this situation."

The front office took its first step last January, Thompson said, when it decided to sell 33-year-old Andy Pafko to Milwaukee.

"We figured Pafko was expendable," he explained. "But we were wrong. We thought Don Thompson, a much younger man, was ready to take his place in left field. It didn't work out that way."

Legion Teams Are Honored at Birmingham

Tom Beck Named as Most Valuable; Fathers Are Guests

Members of the Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills American Legion baseball teams and their fathers were honored at a banquet Wednesday night at the Kingsley Inn.

Teams were both sponsored by Birmingham post 14. Birmingham won the 18th District Legion league first half title and competed in the one tournament, while the Hills' nine captured the second half crown.

Other guests included coaches Herb Kelly of Birmingham and Jack Sanders of Bloomfield and district baseball officials Fordon Niles and Jack McCaffrey.

Tom Beck was awarded a trophy for being named most valuable player by his Birmingham teammates. Movies and magic tricks were shown by "Milky", the TV clown. Birmingham post baseball chairman Al Voss was master of ceremonies.

Lexington Events Set

LEXINGTLY, Ky. (AP)—Close to $300,000 in purses will be distributed during the Lexington Trots Breeders Association meeting scheduled for Sept. 30 through Oct. 10, General Manager Alden Gray announces. The feature of the meeting will be the Kentucky Futurity set for Oct. 8.

Sister's Putter Helps NY Youth Pace JC Field

Borrowed Club Figures in Sub-Par 71 in Ann Arbor Tourney

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A 17-year-old New Yorker, using his sister'a putter, headed the field here today in the second round of the International Jaycee Golf tournament.

Ross Carino, who corrected his poor greens work with his sister's putter, came out on top of 107 young golfers yesterday with a sparkling 71, one under par on the hilly 6,660-yard University of Michigan course.

He qualified with an 80-81 — 161 and found difficulty with his putting. But he borrowed a club from his sister who was in the gallery and came up with a fine 34-37 round.

Carino was being crowded, however, by several young entrants in the huge tournament for 17 year olds and under.

Two strokes back was Bobby Dunn, Camilla, Ga., player, who fired a 34-39 in the first round yesterday. Bunched at 74 strokes each were Jimmy Raines, Augusta, Ga., Davis Love, El Dorado, Ark., Dick Tworig, Williamstown, Mass., Fred Micklow, Hillsdale, Mich., Clyde Sniffen, Honolulu, T. H., and Bobby Sisk, Charlotte, N. C.

Back in the pack with 81 strokes was Paul Crownover, the Chattanooga, Tenn., boy who paced all qualifiers with a slick 148.

The starting field of 223 young golfers was pared down to 107 by the first two days of 18 hole qualifying rounds. The original field represented the top young golfers of 45 states, Canada, Hawaii and Central America.

Michigan golfers bore down today. In addition to Micklow's fine round that put him right up at the top, John Schubeck, Detroit, and Bob Zimmerman, Jackson, came up with 78s that put them in challenging positions. Micklow shot a 37-37, Schubeck and Zimmerman each shot 36-42. The other Michigan entrant, Bill Teifke, Detroit, shot 41-44—85.

Ducats will be on sale at Griff's Grill, Stadium Inn and Dobski's Bar.

Fox Population in Michigan Up, Say Experts

LANSING (UP)—Michigan's fox population is increasing, the state conservation department said today.

Game experts said they based their belief that there are still plenty of foxes around on fact that 11,345 fox bounty claims were paid during the first six months of 1953.

During the same period in 1952, only 9,344 bounties were paid while 11,029 were paid during the same period in 1951.

Biggest increase in fox bounty payments has been in three Upper Peninsula counties, Ontonagon, Chippewa and Houghton.

Walkie-Talkies Keep Golf Results Prompt

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A group of Army reservists, using a network of walkie-talkies are providing up-to-the-minute scores of the Western Amateur Golf Championship at the Blythefield Country Club.

The soldiers from the First Battalion, 33rd Infantry regiment have been stationed at the 3rd, 6th, 9th, 12th and 18th greens and feed to the press tent latest results on all matches.

General headquarters for this outfit which is the 70th Division, is located in Detroit with a battalion in Flint and units in Battle Creek and Lansing.

Pilot Job Too Much

NEW YORK (AP)—Ben Chapman, former star outfielder of the New York Yankees, quit as manager of Tampa in the Florida League to give full time to the insurance businss "It was too much for me," Chapman said. "When three of my players had one home run apiece this tied them for the club lead."

Cobb Says Major Scouting Is Ruining Minor Leagues

GLENBROOK, Nev. (UP) — Major leagues are strangling the minors to the detriment of American baseball, Ty Cobb said today.

"Each team in every minor league ought to have a 75-mile area surrounding its home town, and protected from major league scouting," the man whose name heads the list of baseball's immortals in the game's national shrine at Cooperstown, N. Y., told the United Press.

"What chance has a minor league for developing new players when its own territory is covered with a network of major league scouting?" Cobb demanded.

"I'll bet you that the Yankees and the Giants between them have at least 500 official and unofficial scouts, checking every high school and college baseball star.

"If an outstanding youngster turns up out here in the west, for instance, what chance do you think the nearest Pacific Coast League team has to sign him against a direct offer from the majors?

"The majors scout the whole of the U.S., including the home territory of the minors, plus Mexico, Cuba and Central America as well. What's left for the minors?"

Cobb, relaxed in an easy chair in his lodge on the Nevada shore of Lake Tahoe, said that when he himself broke into baseball 99 per cent of the players in the big leagues had worked their way up through the minors.

WEDNESDAY'S STARS

PITCHING—Jim McDonald, New York Yankees, gave up four hits in beating Washington 2-0.

BATTING — Andy Pafko, Milwaukee Braves, ran his hitting streak to 17 games with a ninth inning home run that gave the Braves a 3-2 victory over Cincinnati.

Bell Extolls Virtues of Pro Grid Champs

DETROIT (AP)—National Football League champs, the Detroit Lions, recent conquerors of the College All-Stars, were feted at a banquet last night.

An estimated 500 Lions' followers jammed the ballroom of the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel to hear the pro grid champs extolled by Bert Bell, commissioner of the league.

Bell, who spent the day at the Lions' training camp, predicted another banner season for the club.

Lawn Rake Fish Lure

BOISE, Ida. (AP) — Proving that fishing luck is where you find it, Mrs. C. A. Bryson of Collister Lane, Ida., noticed a splashing in an irrigation ditch. She shut off the water and when the level went down, hauled out a 28-inch, 4½ pound rainbow trout with a lawn rake.

City Midgets Lose in State

Lunsford Club Beaten in Tournament Finals by Battle Creek

Pontiac's midget champions, Lunsford Market, bowed in the finals of the state tournament at Jackson Wednesday, losing to a big Battle Creek Elks team, 6-2. Wyandotte downed the Elks, 3-0, for the state Class F title.

Charlie Honchell started for Lunsford's and pitched creditably, but five errors hurt the Pontiac team, which trailed all the way. Cain set down Lunsford's with four hits, two by catcher Gene Gidcumb.

Mickey Morris relieved Honchell in the sixth inning.

In the "F" game, Ron Komcynski hurled a one-hitter for Wyandotte. Class F boys are 13 and 14 years old, while Midgets are 12 years and under.

Hopman Is Concerned

Seixas' Knee Improves; He and Trabert Win Doubles Match; Aussies Pressed

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Vic Seixas' wrenched knee, which was expected to doom the U. S. Davis Cup team, as far as the National Doubles Tennis Tournament was concerned, improves daily, much to the surprise of Harry Hopman, nonplaying captain of the Australian defenders. h

After watching Seixas and Tony Trabert, the U. S. team's other key player, go through their postponed first-round doubles match here at Longwood Tuesday, Hopman was certain his players had nothing to worry about.

After giving his knee, injured while playing Trabert in last Sunday's Newport Casino singles final, a whirlpool bath treatment, Sexias was extremely helpful to the stylish Trabert as they topped Pablo Eisenberg of Milburn, N. J., and Ed Dailey of Harrisburg, Pa., 7-5, 6-4, 6-3, in their second-round engagement.

All the other men's teams were in third-round action yesterday and Hopman appeared deeply concerned after Hoad and Rosewall ran into difficulties while subduing Luis Ayala of Chile and Bob Perry of Los Angeles 10-8, 6-3, 6-2.

During yesterday's action, three other Davis Cup doubles teams were ousted. Denmark's colorful Torben Ulrich and Kurt Nielsen were beaten by Frank Guernsey of Garden City, N .Y., and Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., 9-7, 6-4, 1-6, 7-5. Mexico's Francisco Contreras and Joaquinn Reyes were ousted by Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif., and Hal Burrows of Charlottesville, Va., 8-6, 7-5, 6-4. Japan's Atsushi Miyagi and Kosei Kamo bowed to Grant Golden of Chicago and Bernie Bartzen of San Angelo, Tex., 6-4, 3-6, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3.

Major League Also-Rans Might as Well Think in Terms of '54; Giants Face Big Rebuilding Job

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK——There are two words you can hear whispered mournfully these passing August days. They are—"Next Year."

With the exception of the last long-shot chance that belongs to the White Sox the two pennant races are practically over. They are finished with six weeks to go. There are seven clubs in the National League and six in the American who might as well step up and surrender to the Dodgers and Yankees.

They are so far behind now they will have more than their share of concentrating to do if they hope to get anywhere by 1954. The manager who has the hardest assignment for the year ahead happens to be Leo Durocher. He is standing on the toughest spot any club leader has had in years.

I think Horace Stoneham made a wise decision in keeping Durocher. He has proved his place in many other years. Aso Stoneham says—"You can't blame him for the complete collapse of his pitching staff nor the inability of his farm system to produce." Many other farm systems have failed. But two of these are not the Dodgers and the Yankees.

The disintegration of the Giants' pitching staff wrecked the morale of the entire club. If they got 7 runs they needed 8. If they got 8 runs they needed 9. For more than a month they have been plagued by this one-or-two-run deficit.

In looking around, Stoneham, before making any change, had to find a better man who was available. Where was he? Try to name him. Eddie Stanky is having his share of woe. So is every other manager in the National League except Jolly Cholly Grimm and, of course, Chuck Dressen.

Anyway, Messers. Stengel and Dressen for the second year in a row are riding the peaks and Durocher again is mired in the quicksand. He has a long, long way to come by the end of next year. He has almost a complete pitching staff to rebuild for sore arms and sore backs are no good to a group in the 35 or 36-year-old class.

Ruben Gomez is the lone beacon to be followed. Apparently, Allan Worthington is two years away. There must be a sudden farm improvement for the team to move at all. Trades won't help much. And no one can bring back youth to a sore arm or a sore spine. A smart man always learns. I believe Durocher is learning a lot from 1953.

Speculation Grows Over Reynolds' Failures

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (UP)—There is a growing suspicion around the ball parks that Allie Reynolds, the great New York Yankee ace, may have lost it.

"The "it" in this case being his ability to blaze that fast ball past the hitters when deep in a bases-loaded 3-2 jam, and his knack of hitting the corners with his quick curve.

Reynolds, after all, admits to 35 summers. He's around the big leagues since the fall of '42, working about 225 innings and 35 games in an average year, to say nothing of five World Series.

It is difficult to believe that a man who won 20 games for the first time in his career in 1952 and worked like a beaver in four Series games against Brooklyn would find himself strictly a bullpen artist the next summer.

The facts speak for themselves in the Reynolds case, although all concerned deny that there is anything wrong. Reynolds has started only two games since the All-Star break. He lasted 1 1-3 innings in the first and was bombed for four hits and two runs in one inning on his second try.

Last spring in St. Petersburg, Fla., Casey Stengel talked about Reynolds as "the best relief pitcher in baseball." Everybody thought he was kidding. Sure, Allie could relieve, but why should he think of going off the starting list? It seems Old Case must have had an intuition—or maybe he knew something he still isn't telling.

Old Wahoo won his first game of the year 4-1 and his second 1-0. Since that second game, April 21, he has thrown just one complete game. Of late he has gone sour on relief. He failed completely Tuesday night when Stengel sent him in to replace Bill Miller against Washington. He got himself belted around the lot for four runs on two hits and two walks.

Now everybody has a bad day once in a while. Maybe Allie needs only rest to regain his old stuff. He says there's nothing wrong with the arm.

"It's all right, except it didn't do any good," he said Tuesday.

Stengel may not need Reynolds to salt away the pennant, with his lead back to 8½ games and only 37 to go. But he's going to need him in the World Series if he has to stop those right-handed hitters from Brooklyn.

30-Man Field Seeks City's Medal Crown

Thirty-six Hole Test Slated This Weekend at Municipal Links

Three former champions are included in a 30-man field entered in the 24th annual City Men's Medal Play golf tournament at the Municipal Course this weekend.

Ex-titlists are Clifford "Kip" Inman (1929-33-45), Glenn Harding (1947-48-50) and Mike Andonian (1951-52). Also entered is Ed Wasik, runnerup to Andonian last season.

Last weekend's 18-hole qualifying round was paced by Butler Cooper's 67. Cooper, who finished among the top five in last season's test and therefore was exempt from qualifying, elected to play in the preliminary round merely for the practice.

Saturday's 1st 18-hole round will get underway at 1 p.m. Final round will be played Sunday. Winner will receive a permanent trophy from the Department of Parks & Recreation and one year's possession of the Pontiac Press' rotating cup. Runnerup also will get a trophy, while the next four finishers will receive merchandise awards.

Pairings for Saturday:

1:07—Wasik-Adam Walenski-G. Johnson.
1:14—Joe Burgdorf-Nick Berson-Ed Keen.
1:21—Andonian - D. Robertson - Jack Kelly.
1:28—Ronnie Rothbarth-Paul Bada-R. G. Heinzelman.
1:35—Cooper — Harley Hyatt-H. Jancarek.
1:42—Joe Gaines-Dick DeWitt-C. Burton.
1:49—Inman-D. Warren-Stan Savage.
1:56—Pat Halverson-K. Oppeneer-Paul Barnum.
2 p.m.—Harding-Bill Pembroke-Bill Pittman.

Drag Races Slated at Partington's Aug. 30

Jess Partington, promoter at Partington's Pasture Speedway, has announced the opening date for the first drag races in this area, Sunday, Aug. 30. Races will be held on a quarter-mile oiled clay strip.

Gates open at 11 a. m. for time trials and unofficial dragging. First race is at 3 p. m. and races continue thereafter until 5 p. m. Track is at Ryan and 15-Mile roads.

LEADS JAYCEE TOURNEY—Ross Carino (left), Yonkers, N. Y., is congratulated by his Jaycee escort, Maurice Walsh of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., after he shot a 71 to take the lead in the first round of the 8th International Jaycee tournament at Ann Arbor Wednesday. The 71 was one-under par for the rolling, 6,660-yard University of Michigan course and gave the New Yorker a 2-stroke lead.

Fair Trout Pond Hits Legal Snag

DETROIT (UP) — Plans for a trout pond concession at the Michigan State Fair hit a legal snag today.

Manager James M. Hare, who has vowed that there will be no gambling at this year's exposition, said he asked the attorney general's office for advice on two questions:

The problem came up when a YMCA group applied for the trout pond concession. Hare said he hoped to hear from Lansing in time for today's meeting of the board of fair managers. It will be their last meeting before the fair starts Sept. 4.

Show Draws Big Crowd

NEW YORK (UP)—The attendance at the National Motor Boat Show in New York recently was 180,000 for its 7½ day run. This is equivalent to ten nights of capacity audience in Madison Square Garden and 40,000 more people than saw all 29 boxing events in that arena during the season.

Texas Gridder Will Continue Athletic Cycle

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UP)— When Charles V. (Buddy) Hill joins the Texas Tech football team next fall, an athletic cycle will be kept in motion.

His late father, Volney Hill, played fullback at Tech — on its first team in 1925. One of his first products while coaching later at Burkburnett High School was Freddie Brown, a passer-quarterback for Texas Tech in 1947.

Brown, as coach of the Lubbock High School B team and later as an assistant coach of Lubbock High helped develop Buddy.

Under Border Conference rules, Buddy will be eligible to play varsity football at Tech next fall. In the backfield with him will be another former Lubbock High star, James Sides, whose father, King Sides, also played on Tech teams in 1928 and 1929.

The Ice Capades of 1954 will have 13 performances in Madison Square Garden beginning Sept. 10.

Farmers Should Apply for Williamston Plan

LANSING (UP)— Farm groups wishing to make use of the Williamston hunting plan this year were reminded today that they must have applications in by Sept. 1.

To date, the state conservation department said, only a small number of clubs have notified the department they will make use of the plan.

Both former users and new members, must make application for fence markers, hunting tickets and other equipment through the department's game division.

Entry Deadline Friday for Horseshoe, Shuffle Tests

Deadline for entries in the Pontiac Horseshoe and Shuffleboard tournaments sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department is Friday at 5 p.m.

Tournament will be held Aug. 25, 26, and 27, under the lights at Oakland Park on the new shuffleboard and horseshoe courts.

There will be two divisions in each event, singles and doubles. A field of eight in each division is necessary for tournament play.

Tournament will be single elimination; all matches will be the best out of three games: 25 points per game for horseshoes, and 75 points per game for shuffleboard.

Official rules of the National Horseshoe Pitching Association and of the National Shuffleboard Association will govern all play.

Suitable trophies will be awarded to all winners. For information, call the Department of Parks and Recreation, FEderal 3-7131—extension 15.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the following places: Dick and Wes' Sporting Goods, Harry Ackerman's, Mac Rogers' Sporting Goods, Weldon's Sporting Goods, Oakland Park (see caretaker) Parks and Recreation office, 35 Hill Street.

Hazel Park Records 1st Dead Heat in '53

DETROIT (UP)—Two horses were at the same place at the same time yesterday at Hazel Park race track.

In the seventh event of the day Calm Bay and Inky Racer hit the wire in the first dead heat of the track's 1953 meeting. Jane Forst was third, a half a length back.

Tommy Barrow was aboard Calm Bay and Robert L. Baird up on Inky Racer.

Trapshoot Reaches 'Big Money' Stage

More than 1,500 of North America's sharpshooters fire today in the preliminary handicap, a 100-target event.

A $20 entry fee will be paid by each contestant and each can toss another $33 into the optional wagering pot, making it possible for the victor to pick up $7,000 or $8,000 in winnings.

Marion Partlow, 37-year-old farmer and oil operator from Casey, Ill., won the big one—the Class AA title, by outshooting three other contestants in a 25-target extra event after they had tied with perfect scores of 200.

Lemon Keeps Busy

DETROIT (UP)—Bob Lemon, one of the big three of the Cleveland mound staff, is getting lots of work even when he doesn't pitch this season.

Lemon has appeared in six games as a pinch-hitter and four as a pinchrunner. He ran for Hank Majeski, who had singled, in the ninth inning of yesterday's game against the Tigers.

Munn Departs for Vacation Camping Trip

Spartan Coach Plans Return on Day Before Grid Drills Start

EAST LANSING (UP) Michigan State football coach Clarence L. (Biggie) Munn and his 11-year-old son, Mike, left for northern Ontario today on a camping trip that will end the day before MSC's grid drills open.

Munn, who returned recently from a four-week visit at Army and Navy bases in Euorpe where he and his staff taught coaching fundamentals to Army and Navy grid coaches, said he would return to the Michigan State campus Aug. 31.

Spartan footballers don uniforms for the first time Sept. 1 and will spend most of the day posing for photographers and newsreel cameramen.

Drills will start Sept. 2 and will be held twice a day until MSC's opening game Sept. 26 against Iowa at Iowa City.

Harness Racing Records Fall at Roosevelt Oval

WESTBURY, N. Y. (UP) — Four trotting and six pacing records were broken in the first third of the 1953 season of harness racing at the Roosevelt Raceway.

Including all the one-half mile ovals in the country, eight of the best figures in trotting were marked up on the Long Island track. This leaves only three records held by the other ovals.

Indians Issue Permits

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP)—All persons hunting for elk on the Fort Apache Indian reservation are required to purchase a $5 permit from the Tribal Council. This is in addition to the regular hunting license.

Browns Continue Hex Over Chicago's Billy Pierce

Boxer Seeks Bouts to Aid Family of Ring Victim

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Kenny Yates, a youngster from Concord, N. C., just starting out as a professional boxer, is looking for fights.

Yates needs the money to help the widow of Robert Lee, Madison, Wis., Marine sergeant who died Tuesday night a few minutes after Yates hit him over the heart in the first round of a preliminary bout at the Miami Beach auditorium. It was Yates' second professional fight.

"I want to give you the money from my next five fights," the 18-year-old Yates told Mrs. Lee. "I wish I was big-time, so it'd be more."

"Please don't feel badly," Mrs. Lee replied. "Nobody blames you.

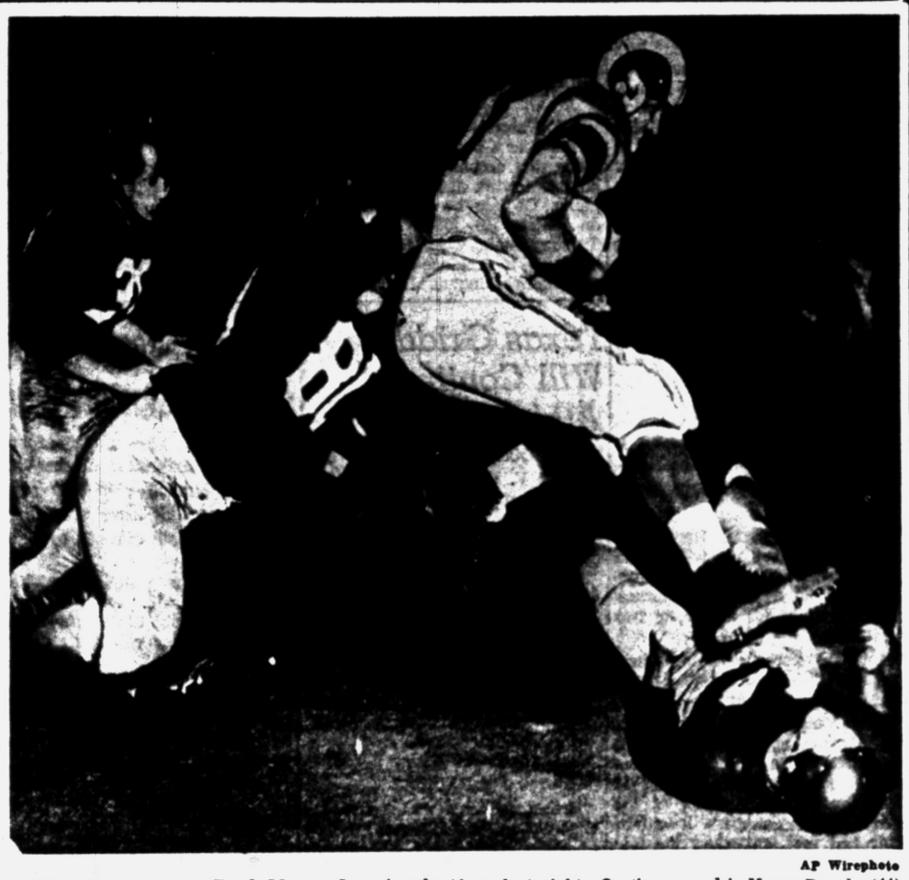

"Bob wanted to fight and he was trying to make enough money to take us on a vacation in September. He was doing it for me and the kids. It wasn't your fault the way it turned out."

Lee collapsed in the ring after an exchange of light punches and was pronounced dead when he was carried to his dressing room.

Lee's handler, Jerry White, said the 24-year-old Marine pleaded with him for fights to help pay the family bills and finance a trip to his home at Madison. He had fought eight times, winning only once. He received $50 a fight. The Lees have two young sons.

Hanover Winning Name

WESTBURY, N. Y. —Harness horses with Hanover in their names won five races in one night during the Grand Circuit meeting at Roosevelt Raceway recently. The winners were Hersey Hanover, Empire Hanover, Elby Hanover, Forever Hanover and Nevin Hanover. Two other Hanovers were second and three also rans.

On the ground is Harry Dowda (44), Skins' back, and closing in on Myers are Gene Brito (80), end; and Chuck Drazenovich (36), fullback. Rams won the game, 20-7.

Unearned Runs Snap Scoreless String for Lefty

Chisox Ace Loses in 10th; Williams' Homer Wins for Boston

By BEN PHLEGAR
(AP Sports Writer)

If you've got a streak running it's best to stay away from the St. Louis Browns. Just ask Billy Pierce.

The Browns have given the little Chicago left-hander nothing but trouble this season. He has an excellent 16-8 record but look what the lowly St. Louis outfit has done to him.

In his first start, April 16, Pierce had a no-hitter going for six innings. Then Bobby Young doubled and spoiled it.

Ten days later the Browns beat him 7-2 for his first loss in 10 starts dating well back into the 1952 season.

On June 30 the White Sox were riding a seven-game winning streak. But they threw Pierce at the Browns and lost 4-2.

Yesterday Pierce faced St. Louis with a string of 34 scoreless innings in his last four appearances. The Browns snapped it at 40 with a pair of unearned tallies and went on to score two earned runs in the 10th and win the game 4-3. The fast-balling southpaw had pitched 51 innings without giving up an earned run.

The slipup against St. Louis cost the White Sox a full game in their more and more futile pursuit of the New York Yankees. The Yanks edged Washington 2-0 and now lead the league by 8½ games.

Boston defeated Philadelphia 6-4 and Detroit whipped Cleveland's Early Wynn for the first time in three seasons 4-2.

Brooklyn continued its whirlwind drive toward the National League pennant with its 12th straight victory, an uphill 7-5 triumph over the New York Giants.

Milwaukee edged Cincinnati 3-2 and stayed 8½ games back of the Dodgers. Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 5-3. Chicago defeated St. Louis by the same score.

Curt Simmons lost his 11th game when the Pirates got two runs in the eighth at Philadelphia.

Slade, Harrison Attract Only 864 in TV Bout

CHICAGO (AP)—Whoever Jimmy Slade of New York or Tommy Harrison of Los Angeles fights next, it won't be light heavyweight champion Archie Moore.

They were shooting for a chance at Moore in Chicago stadium last night, but ended in a 10-round draw in a bout that attracted only 864 customers.

Fans acted as if they were sitting on their hands. There was little to get excited about as the two fighters went after each other with about as much viciousness as if they were dancing a minuet.

Referee Frank Gilmer called it even, 50-50. Judge Ed Hintz favored Harison, 56-44 and judge Frank Toombs rated Slade ahead, 51-49.

MSA Women's Tourney Opens

Pontiac CIO, Yale Nine Meet Tonight at City Diamond

Tonight's game, at 7:30 p.m., matches Pontiac's CIO No. 653 and the Yale Merchants. Third entry in the double elimination test is Beecher of Flint. Games are scheduled for Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights.

MSA's Class B women's tourney, also being held in Pontiac, opens Friday night, Shaw's Jewelry will meet Flint's United Cleaners at 8:30 p.m. at Northside Park. Pontiac and Flint are the only teams entered in the test.

'Skins Lose to Rams, but Still Display Power

LeBaron's Loss Hurts Washington's Chances in Charity Tilt

By JACK STEVENSON

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Los Angeles Rams beat the Washington Redskins 20-7 last night in a National Football League charity game, but it wasn't the winning coaches who were happy today.

Even in losing the Redskins showed 82,678 fans one of their strongest teams in years, and quarterback Eddie LeBaron had Washington in the thick of the fight until he was injured early in the fourth quarter. Little Eddie suffered a mild concussion but the team physician says it's nothing serious.

Two sensational touchdown runs, one a 24-yard twister by Skeet Quinlan and the other a flashing 79 yard punt return by Woodley Lewis, were the big difference. Bootin' Ben Agajanian provided the other points on field goals of 16 and 26 yards and two conversions.

Washington's touchdown came nine plays after the Redskins received the opening kickoff. With LeBaron faking beautifully, Charlie Justice and Julie Rykovich advanced 26 yards in five plays. LeBaron passed 27 to Bones Taylor and three plays later the same combination had a touchdown from the three.

Most observers figured the steam went out of the Washington club when LeBaron banged his head on the ground while being hit on a pass play. Washington had 15 first downs with LeBaron and none without him.

Washington outgained the Rams on the ground, 249 to 213, but Los Angeles, with Norm Van Brocklin completing 10 of 18 passes had the edge in aerial yardage with 73 net to 28. Rams' Tank Younger carried the ball eight times with an average of 11.37 to pace the running attack. Johnny Papit averaged 8.17 in seven carries for the losers.

Baseball's Hot Stove League Starts Early

NEW YORK (AP) —The fireside league is starting even before winter comes. Old time veteran players visiting the Polo Grounds were scoffing at some of the young players of today who were complaining of heat exhaustion caused during some of the torrid days which sweltered New York in July.

The youngsters retorted that the oldsters didn't have to play night games in their day and then report to the park by 11 a.m. next-day.

Spartan Band Makes Trips With MSC 11

EAST LANSING (UP) — Michigan State's 100-piece marching band will travel out of the state with MSC's football team this year for the first time in the school's history, it was announced today.

The band will accompany the Spartan eleven to Minneapolis for the Minnesota game Oct. 3 and to Lafayette, Ind., for the Purdue contest Oct. 24.

Golf Clinic: Here's How

By SAM SNEAD

There is a difference of opinion among the experts as to just how the downswing begins—whether it starts with a hip turn which "leads" the shoulders and arms, or with a shoulder and arm action which the hips follow.

The correct swing is one continuous motion with all parts working together simultaneously. The only essential difference between good players, I think, is in their mental concept of the swing—not their actual execution of it.

At any rate, you'll note in today's drawing that the player already has his hips turned back square to the ball (or parallel with the line of flight, if you prefer), while his shoulders still have quite a bit of wind-up left in them.

This certainly indicates that the hip rotation proceeds faster than the shoulder rotation, even if it doesn't precede it.

U. S. Attorneys Not Sure TV Would Harm Pro Loop

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— Government attorneys have labelled "extravagant" and "unproven" the National Football League's contention that unrestricted telecasts and broadcasts of its games would force member teams out of business.

Government lawyers filed a 65-page brief with U. S. District Judge Allan K. Grim yesterday summing up arguments in the months-old anti-trust suit against the NFL.

The NFL has already filed its brief, asking the court to dismiss the government's request for an injunction to restrain the league and its member teams from restricting broadcasts and telecasts.

The suit charges such restrictions violate the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

Government attorneys said in their brief "we do not mean to make light of any legitimate economic problems . . .we do feel, assertions of defendants as to the dire results which would follow are so utterly lacking in substance and so clearly refuted by the evidence that they should not be permitted to obscure the issues presented."

The brief also claimed the league and its members failed to consider income from the sale of television and radio rights.

Giants Will Use Swing T System

NEW YORK (AP) — Coach Steve Owen is introducing the Swing T as the basic plan of offense used by the New York Football Giants in the NFL championship race this fall.

A combination of offense systems, Owen says the Swing T allows players to shift from T to single wing, or double wing, or to any variation of these basic plays. The key to the new system is the "swing man," who can play fullback or halfback in the T, and (or) blocking back in the single wing A formation.

Broken Bone, Resulting Rest Helps Stallion

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—A broken bone has resulted in many winning races for the Volomite stallion, Chuck Volo. He cashed in with the $50,000 Nassau Pace at Roosevelt Raceway recently.

Wendell Wathen, who owns Chuck Volo, says that a broken bone last season caused Chuck Volo to miss a lot of races which left many fast races in his system so that he could establish the 3.05 3-5 world record in the Nassau.

Wathen, who raises Maine potatoes when he isn't racing Chuck Volo, says his pacer earned $39,000 during his first campaigns. At four he was turned out and now the pacer seems better than ever at five.

Arcaro and Dancer Slate 'Get Acquainted' Workout

By JAN HARTNETT

CHICAGO (AP) — Veteran jockey Eddie Arcaro and that 3-year-old gray streak of lightning, Native Dancer, were all set to get acquainted in a Washington Park workout today.

Arcaro has been chasing Native Dancer for two years with various mounts without success, but on Saturday the little Italian will be aboard Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's champion in the $105,000 American Derby—a mile and a furlong event. It was a case of a champ mounting a champ for today's five furlong "get acquainted" breeze.

Arcaro is taking the place of Eric Guerin, who piloted Native Dancer to his 17 triumphs in 18 races and now is under suspension by the New York racing commission. With Arcaro up, the Vanderbilt standard-bearer will continue to have expert guidance.

"It's quite a spot to be on," said Arcaro, "but a very nice one at that. I can't tell you which were the greatest horses I ever rode, but Citation and Whirlaway certainly were two of the best. I'll tell you more about Native Dancer after the workout and after the Derby."

If and when the Dancer wins the American Derby, he will have banked a total of $750,000 at the age of 3½. The Vanderbilt horse is an overwhelming 1 to 5 favorite to cop the race.

Jockey Has Tough Luck at Monmouth Park Track

OCEANPORT, N. J. (AP) — Jockey Jack Skelly got into tough luck coming and going, and up and down at the Monmouth Park race track the other day.

He was thrown from Miss Hammonton and the injuries will keep him out of the saddle for some time. He was scheduled to ride Suky Susie and Flying Polly in later races, but his injuries prevented him from taking the mounts. Both Suky Susie and Flying Polly won their races.

U.S. ROYAL MASTER

DAY AFTER DAY, YEAR AFTER YEAR, the great U. S. Royal Master holds its undisputed position as top tire of its time.

WHY IS THIS? WHAT CAUSED IT? The answers are plain. The U. S. Royal Master is America's super-tire, of recognized extra mileage, with positive life-saving differences throughout its construction, and in all of its performance.

IN SKID PROTECTION AND STOPPING POWER, the U. S. Royal Master has its own unique tread treatment, continuously renewable, holding peak safety to the last mile of its long life.

IN SIDEWALL CONSTRUCTION and CURB PROTECTION, the U. S. Royal Master is also entirely original and unique. The tire walls themselves are shielded from scuffing damage. The trim, clean whitewalls remain spotless, free from smear and abrasion.

AND WHEN TIRE COSTS ARE ADDED UP, there seems to be nothing to compare with this great tire's year-after-year economy. It rightfully remains America's top favorite in quality, outselling because it deserves to outsell.

The protection that's always with you!

- The Only ROYALTEX TREAD and TRACTION — skid protection and stopping power beyond all previous standards!
- The Only RENEWABLE SAFETY TREAD — offering you up to twice as many safe miles — without retreading!
- The Only EVERLASTING WHITEWALLS — preserving their trim beauty from cleaning nuisance and expense!

Tiger Homers Upset Tribesmen

By JOHN A. BARBOUR

DETROIT (AP)—Busiest place in Briggs Stadium as the Detroit Tigers topped the Cleveland Indians 4-2 yesterday was in the left field stands.

The stands were empty of spectators, but every time a home-run was hit a horde of American Legion baseball kids would descend on the vacant seats.

Four times, twice by the Tigers and twice by the Indians, balls were slashed into the stands, and four times a lucky kid in a baseball uniform would pull himself up with a slightly bruised baseball.

The Indian homers, by outfielder Wally Westlake, his fifth, and pitcher Early Wynn, his third were the only runs that Cleveland mustered. They kicked Tiger hurler Billy Hoeft for 11 hits.

They also left eleven runners on base. Hoeft, mixing slow and fast pitches consistently, always had the stuff in the clutch.

Don Lund, centerfielder, punched out a triple, double, and a single for the Tigers. His triple counted in the first Tiger scoring. It came with two out in the second frame. He came home on a single by Hoeft. Westlake's homer in the fourth tied it up. Wynn's in the fifth gave the Indians a one-run lead.

It was then that the Tiger round-trippers began to figure. With Steve Souchock on first and one-out Bob Nieman parked his eleventh of the year in the stands in the sixth inning.

The Tigers carried a not very substantial 3-2 margin until Souchock added the insurance in the eighth frame with his sixth homer of the year. It came with the bases empty and the Tigers led 4-2.

The Indians almost made it Wynn's 14th win instead of his tenth defeat in the ninth inning. Two Indian singles brought up Al Rosen, Cleveland third baseman who carried a big bat.

Pitcher Ray Herbert was rushed in to sub for Hoeft. Herbert forced the ever-dangerous Rosen to hit one into the dirt and tossed him out at first base, ending the game.

Although he didn't figure in the scoring, Tiger shortstop Harvey Kuenn hit safely for the 13th consecutive game. It's the longest consecutive hitting streak the Tigers have had this year.

SHOWS DOG TO FAMILY—Red Schoendienst, Cards' second baseman, shows puppy pointer to his family after it wa presented him as a gift during pre-game ceremonies at Busch Stadium Wednesday night. With his wife are his daughters, Cathleen, 10 months, and Colleen, 2. Among other gifts was a Lincoln sedan. Schoendienst celebrated his "night" by hitting a single, double and triple.

Kraly Is Latest ABC Star to Hit Majors

Latest star of the "amateur world series" of the American baseball congress to hit the Major leagues is the Yankee's Steve Kraly who hung up an 18-2 record at Binghamton, N. Y.

Kraly pitched for the Fort Custer, Mich. team in the 1951 amateur series as a teammate of the Tiger's Ray Herbert. Prior to his Army service he pitched for the Joplin team which produced Mickey Mantle.

Versatile Blue Devil

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—Lloyd Caudle is a versatile man for the one-platoon Duke University backfield. This halfback played regular defensive halfback and alternate on offense last season.

Two Marks, One Track

OCEANPORT, N. J. (AP)—There are two official records for the 1¾ mile hurdle races at Monmouth Park because of a different starting point in former years. The record for the short course remains at 3:08, having been set by Fulton in 1951. The other record is the 3:20 2-5 set by Hyvania in 1952 in the Midsummer Hurdle Handicap.

Newspaper Printer Collects Old Violins

HUMBOLDT, Tenn. (UP) — Jim Evans likes to "fiddle around" during his off hours, and he has the equipment to do it.

The scholarly looking printer has a collection of antique violins believed the largest of its kind in the state. Two are Stradivarius,—made in the early 1700's. The oldest one is labeled "Nicholaus Amati" and dated 1627. He has other violins all dating back to the 18th century, made by masters in Czechoslovakia, Germany, France, and Russia.

When Evans isn't on the job as veteran printer with the Humboldt Courier-Chornicle, he's off in quest of old violins. Whenever he reads about an old violin or gets a tip on one from a friend, he tracks it down and buys it if he can.

Evans believes that in the four years he has spent collecting violins, he has learned to recognize authentic antique fiddles. He confirms his evaluation of his new purchases by having them appraised by nationally known dealers.

But collecting fiddles isn't Evans' only hobby. He plays them too, when he isn't on the trail of a new one.

Van Fleet Returns to Korea as Civilian

MARILYN ON THE MEND—Marilyn Monroe, on location at Jasper, Alberta, (Canada) rests between scenes of her latest movie. The glamour girl's limb will be bandaged for another two weeks while a torn ligament mends. The injury came about when Marilyn, wearing chest-high waders, fell into a stream. The waders filled with water and the star might have drowned if film actor Robert Mitchum hadn't hauled her out pronto.

Gamma Globulin Supply Larger Than Expected

NEW YORK (AP) — Almost one-third more gamma globulin than was anticipated for this year has become available for inoculations against polio.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced yesterday an additional 2,250,000 cubic centimeters of the blood product—enough for 320,000 average doses—had become available. It will be used entirely where polio has reached "critical incidence."

Mother of Sixteen Files Separation Suit

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Mrs. Mela Ramirez, mother of 16 children and expecting the 17th, has filed suit in district court asking separation from her husband Ignazio after 29 years.

She alleges cruel treatment over the last five years.

Chinese Offer Latest Twists in Gobbledygook

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP)—The language of communism, where a stray becomes a deviationist and a one-syllable word is never used if a six-syllable word can be found, is getting some new twists from the Chinese.

Already there has been added the five-antis, or the wu-fan. It means the effort to stop bribery, tax evasion, cheating the state, stealing state property and stealing economic intelligence.

Now comes the "five-too-many".

The five-too-many has come to mean a national rural protest both by farmers and Communist rural workers against (1) too many tasks, (2) too many meetings, (3) too many documents and forms, (4) too many organizations and (5) too many concurrent posts for cadres.

This latest "five" springs from the Reds hurry-up efforts to remake the farm system of China, to change taxes, to kill landlords, to form cooperatives, to force donations and to increase production.

The Reds ignred the unrest until it became alarmingly widespread. Then they went into one of communism's typical stunts of tabbing it all a mistake, starting a reform movement which was an about-face, accompanying it with millions of words of criticism and self-criticism (a sort of national confessional).

It has come to mean the five-too-many.

Policeman's Car Stolen While He Trails Crooks

PICHER, Okla. (AP)—Police Chief Gene Crockett, seeing a suspicious-looking car turn into an alley while watching for narcotics runners, jumped into another officer's car and gave chase yesterday.

Losing the quarry, he returned to find his own car stolen.

Tony Feels Actors Should Start Cheap

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — His one-time buddies in the Bronx will be interested to learn that Bernie Schwartz is now pulling down 1,750 clams a week in the movie mills.

Bernie is better known as Tony Curtis to the film followers. And no one is more amazed at his ponderous paycheck than he.

"Yeah, they picked up my option," rhapsodized Tony. A fellow with vast enthusiasm. "Isn't it fantastic? I wake up at night and pinch myself to see if I'm still dreaming. Think of it — $1,750 a week! I never knew there was so much money.

"I feel so great about the whole thing that I want to express myself about it. The kids screaming at you. The nice things you can buy. I want to write a poem about it or put it to music. But I can't. Nobody can understand exactly how it feels except me."

Tony's enthusiasm is refreshing after the blase beauties and ho-hum Harrys who take their blessings with a yawn. He is one new star who counts his blessings, and with good reason. Son of a tailor, he received plenty of knocks from life. And his was no rapid ascent to fame.

I started here six years ago at $75 a week," he said, referring to his studio, U-I. "My take home pay was around $44. The reason was that I didn't have the dough to join the Screen Actors Guild. So the studio put up the initiation fee, then took it out of my paycheck each week.

"After the first six months, they bumped me to $100. I still had hardly enough to live on, after I sent some home to the folks. I bought a car on time, because I couldn't go on bumming rides. Then I couldn't keep up the payments. I pleaded with the dealer to advance the money so I could keep the car. But he wouldn't do it; they took the car away."

Despite his plight, Tony never demanded a raise.

"I didn't go in and pound anybody's desk," he recalled. "I didn't think I had a right to. They were paying me what I was worth to them.

"That's the nice thing about studios. They'll pay you what you're worth. If you go out and make a picture that brings in two million dollars, they'll give you a salary accordingly."

This may sound like an odd kind of reasoning, but Curtis says he feels sorry for the young players of today who get signed by the movies for more money than he got.

"Kids nowadays start out at $250 a week," he observed. "If they have some kind of a name through night clubs or the stage, they can get as much as $500 or $750. That ain't good.

"In the first place, it spoils them. They get used to that kind of dough and they can't take it when the times get tough. Besides, the studio will drop them faster at that kind of money. They have to come through and prove themselves or they get the bounce but quick."

Capsule Review: "Little Boy Lost" is an easy-to-take bit of sentiment dished up by that old sentimentalist, Bing Crosby. This time the groaner is an American war correspondent who is forced to leave his French wife and their son behind during the German blitz. The wife is killed by the Nazis and the boy is lost. Bing returns to France and his search for the right boy is filled with episodes that touch the heart. This could easily have become hokey, but the tear-jerking is kept in good taste. Crosby and the largely French cast are excellent.

Finds Dog's License Only Covers So Much

DETROIT (AP)—John Banish protested when fined $25 because his Manchester terrier had sampled the leg of a mailman.

"The dog has a license and besides a dog has certain rights," Banish contended in a court appearance yesterday.

"He doesn't have either the right or the license to bite mailmen," retorted Traffic Referee Rollin D. Shull.

Market Goes Up but Gains Slow

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed ahead a little today after four straight declines.

Gains were small for the most part, and the list was dotted with minus signs, in some cases in the major fractions.

The pace of trading was moderate.

Railroads were higher along with utilities, steels, chemicals, aircrafts, radio-televisions, and oils.

Motors held steady as did coppers, and air lines.

Yesterday's market was sharply lower, but a recovery movement in latter stages of trading retraced much of the decline. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 60 cents at $107.20.

Today at the start there was some of that buoyancy apparent. There was, however, no great enthusiasm for the rise.

Operations Speeding Up at Saginaw GM Plant

SAGINAW (UP) — Operations picked up at the General Motors Corp. Steering Gear Plant today but still were reported far from normal.

Plant officials said only about 200 of the 500 construction workers idled by the recent electricians' strike returned to their jobs Wednesday. More were expected back today but the company said it feared some of them had found other jobs.

Wheat Returns in Active Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat rallied after an early selloff on the Board of Trade today, going back above the previous close. Dealings were quite active.

Scattered commissoin house selling prevailed in wheat at the opening, a continuation of the late liquidating movement of yesterday. However, one of the houses which had been among the biggest sellers yesterday, turned around and bought about ½ million bushels shortly after the opening.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to 1 cent higher, September $1.82¼, corn was unchanged to ¼ lower, September $1.47¼, oats were ⅜ to ¾ lower, September 74½, soybeans were unchanged to ¾ lower, September $2.43, and lard was unchanged to 45 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $14.85

Suspend Dragging in Parmenter Hunt

MANISTEE (UP) — Authorities suspended dragging operations today in their search for Eugene A. Parmenter, missing Pontiac broker who said he was going to kill himself because he was $12,500 in arrears in his accounts.

Parmenter, 53, who has a summer cottage at Crystal Lake, disappeared Friday night. He wrote a suicide note to his wife which she received Monday telling her he was going to rent a boat and end it all. His station wagon was found in a Manistee parking lot which he located in his "suicide letter" but some authorities were of the opinion he may still be alive.

Morse Says Wilson Gives Edge to GM

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon Independent, has accused Defense Secretary C. E. Wilson of "discriminating in favor of General Motors."

Morse said he will ask Congress for a "complete investigation of all Defense Department contracts."

Wilson was president of General Motors before taking over the defense post.

"There are companies manufacturing aircraft jet engines who are no longer allowed to participate in bidding," he continued.

The Defense Department said it had no comment on Morse's remarks, but a spokesman said the phasing out of production schedules, resulting in cancellation of some contracts during 1953, was outlined in a Dec. 10 Pentagon statement. This was before Wilson took office.

Pontiac Factory Payrolls Mount Higher Than Ever

Valuation of building permits has shown a sharp increase in July, compared with June of this year and July of 1952.

The Pontiac Press Business Survey also shows a large growth in the number of July building permits over both periods.

Still on the upward climb are factory payrolls, which stand at the highest point ever reached.

Postal revenue, number and valuation of dwelling permits and gallons of water used also rose since June, and July of 1952.

Fewer passengers boarded buses here during July than June, but more rode this year than in July, 1952.

The number of incoming carloads, however, increased last month over June, but decreased from the July, 1952, figure.

There were fewer families on welfare for both the city and county during July than in the other two periods.

Take Widening Bids for West Long Lake

Oakland County Road Commission will take bids Sept. 3 on resurfacing and widening West Long Lake road from Lahser road to US-10 (Woodward avenue).

The mile-long stretch will be widened by four feet.

Road Commission Chairman Robert O. Felt announced that work has started on new concrete pavement for one mile of Evergreen road between Eight and Nine Mile roads.

Laying of new asphalt over concrete on 2.75 miles of Nine Mile road from Greenfield to Ridge road is about half completed, Felt said. Blacktopping of some three miles of Fourteen Mile road was finished last week.

Quintuplets Begin to Head Own Ways

NORTH BAY, Ont. (AP) — The Dionne quintuplets, together since they were born 19 years ago, are now to go their separate ways. Marie will become a nun and her sisters will continue school.

Their father, Oliva Dionne, told the North Bay Nugget last night that Marie will enter a Catholic religious order. Yvonne will study art with the Notre Dame Congregation in Montreal, and Cecile, Annette and Emilie will attend the Institute Familial in Nicolet, Que.

Dionne explained that the group was being broken up because the quints "are thinking seriously of their future."

Katy Learns Deputy Dave Found Phone Wire Cut

CHAPTER X

Abruptly, Johnny Jerome turned his back on her. He thrust a cup under the coffee tap and drew it full. "Drink up, Miss Elmo," he said, shoving the coffee at her.

"I haven't any money with me, Johnny." She couldn't tell him she ran away from her house because she was afraid.

Johnny Jerome said through a thin sarcastic grin, "Imagine, teacher without no nickel."

He pulled a platter of sliced ham from the icebox and began laying the slices into a huge skillet. Breakfast for the men from the factory, Katy knew. Many of them, perhaps even Ted, would stop here. She looked at her watch; still nearly 10 minutes.

"Johnny," — she blew idly at the steam—curling up from the coffee — "do you remember the night my brother and Mr. Murphy were killed?"

"No!"

Too quick, too hoarse — with fear? He's lying, Katy thought. "Were both you and Agnes working that night?"

"No! No, I wasn't — but. . . What difference can it make now?" Johnny Jerome turned a bitter, defensive face toward her. "What difference does it make—they're dead, Aggie's dead! Please Miss Elmo, quit hounding me!"

"I'm not hounding you, Johnny." Katy spoke quietly, only the tightening of her hands on the thick coffee mug hinting at the desperation that sent her heart pounding.

"You've got to help me, Johnny." Of their own accord, Katy's fingers fell away from the reassuring warmth of the mug of coffee and curled into her palms as if to escape.

"I'm afraid, Johnny. They think I killed your sister, but I didn't. You do believe me, don't you, Johnny?"

"Sure, Miss Elmo. Sure, I believe you."

But he didn't look at her. He spoke too quickly and he didn't look at her.

He doesn't believe me. As the boy turned back to his skillet of ham, beginning to sizzle and sputter and smell good, Katy knew for sure that he didn't believe her.

Johnny must think Chris killed Link Murphy and it followed by twisted reasoning, Katy killed Agnes.

She slipped off the stool, conscious of Major coming to his feet beside her. It was no use. Johnny Jerome was like everybody else.

The factory whistle blew the end of the shift as she turned the corner. Katy ran but, in the resultant scramble of men leaving the plant and others going in for the day side, she missed Ted. With a mental sigh, she started the car.

She couldn't go back to Marty's. All those men would stare at her and whisper—or maybe not even bother to lower their voices.

She went back to Mrs. Ward's house.

Dave Argus had come and gone, Emma Ward dutifully reported when Katy returned to the house. At Katy's question, Mrs. Ward added that "No, Dave wasn't mad, exactly. More wound up, like—"

"Like what?" Katy pressed when the woman hesitated.

Emma Ward looked embarrassed. "Like he was—the night your brother was killed, Katy."

Was killed! Thank you, Emma, oh, thank you! "Did he say anything? Did he find anything?"

"Dave's not much for talking about clues until he knows what he's talking about. You know that, Katy."

Katy nodded. "I know. But I thought perhaps — never mind." She frowned, more at her own disappointment than at Emma's reproval. "I went to meet Ted at the factory, but I missed him."

"I told Dave I'd bet that's where you'd gone."

"Easy. Ted's your beau and he goes to work at 7, when my Arthur gets off." Emma Ward smiled. "Easy as pie, Katy."

"Ted got off at 7 this morning, too," Katy said. "He had to work the night trick, Mrs. Porter said." Katy thought of how Mrs. Porter called her "girlie" and giggled. "I'll call again, Ted can't be in bed yet."

"Call Dave first," Mrs. Ward suggested. "He wanted you to call as soon as you got back."

Nodding, Katy went into the living room, to the telephone. She gave the shieriff's office number to the operator—would she never forget it, since yesterday morning?—and waited for Dave Argus's deep, somehow reassuring, "Sheriff's office!"

"Dave? You wanted me?"

"Hey! That's not a fair question with 10 blocks of telephone wire between us, Katy." Katy could just see the gray eyes crinkling with fun, the lean craggy face wrinkled with laughter.

"Dave, please! Emma said you—"

"Sis is wise in the ways of the heart. Ask Arthur." Then, with sudden seriousness, "Katy, you were right, your telephone wire was snipped. Very neatly. Very neatly, indeed, with my alert superior and Deputy Scott practically looking on." The muffled roar would be Sheriff Ledbetter. "Katy? Are you still with me?"

Katy wet her lips, suddenly as dry as her mouth and throat felt. "I — I wish I were," she said weakly.

The wires had been cut with Sheriff Ledbetter and Deputy Scott on guard. She asked, "Were they there all night, Dave?"

If two men guarded her last night—if they were guarding and not watching—"Dave" — even to her own ears her voice sounded flat, hopeless—"Dave, they didn't see anyone?"

"They didn't see anyone," Dave Argus told her. He added, "Deputy Donnell is out at your place now, Katy, so it's safe for you to go home if you want to."

Experiments Conducted on Meat Production

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Equipment has been installed at the University of Nevada's South Virginia farm to study the efficiency with which cattle produce meat and fat from a given amount of feed.

Nevada investigators said this is the first experiment station to undertake research studies of this kind. The studies are being conducted by Dr. M. Tran Clegg, animal physiologist.

French Strikes Spread Further

Non-Communists Enter Dispute With Order for 48-Hour Walkout

PARIS (AP)— New strike orders went out today from non-Communist unions to hundreds of thousands of workers in the metal industries and building trades.

They were 48-hour stoppages directed to begin tomorrow, but workers were already reported walking off the job in big plants like the nationalized Renault auto factory in Paris which employs 37,000.

At least one million workers were still idle in the 15th day of the strikes that were tying up the railroads, coal mines and post-offices, and sporadically hitting the ports, arsenals, and other sectors of life.

The Socialist and Catholic Labor federations called the new walk-outs — with the threat they might be continued beyond 48 hours — as a defiance to the "ultimatum" of Premier Joseph Laniel, who has said "no negotiations while the strikes are in progress."

There now seemed little prospect that labor's rebellion would quiet down before next week, when parliament is expected back for an emergency session, and there was no assurance it would end then. If Parliament backs Laniel, the strikes might explode into a complete general strike.

France continued calm, with few outward signs of the strikes, but the disruption of travel and communications continued to bog down the nation.

In Paris, the subway and bus system was still partially paralyzed. Army trucks, driven by soldiers, hauled 60,000 passengers a day about the city.

The Cabinet was reported divided on how to get out of the impasse —concessions to the workers, or continue a tough attitude in hope the strikes would die on the vine.

The new walkouts ordered by the Socialists and Catholics were reported to have destroyed this latter hope.

Wiley Says U. S. Must Make Try for Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)— Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) said today the reported explosion of a hydrogen bomb in Russia calls for a re-examination of the whole question of disarmament.

Wiley, a delegate to the current session of the U. N. General Assembly, said the United States and Russia should make a new effort to see if there is any basis for agreement.

He stressed, however, that there should be no disarmament unless there is an effective system of international inspection and control. Pending the establishment of such a system, Wiley said, "we must continue to build up the joint defense of the free world so that we can meet any eventuality."

His statement came as the U.N. Disarmament Commission prepared to meet this afternoon for a routine meeting to prepare its report for the fall meeting of the General Assembly. There was no indication that the Soviet H-bomb announcement would come up for discussion.

Deputies Investigating Reported Kidnap Try

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said today they were investigating a reported attempt by an elderly man to pull a 13-year-old girl into his car yesterday on Wellington drive in Franklin Hills.

The man, deputies said, lured the girl to his car by saying he would show her his dog and give her candy. He grabbed her, deputies say, but she broke away and ran to a friend's home.

Award $307,500 Prize to Winner of Contest

NEW YORK (AP)— A $307,500 cash prize — described by the sponsor as the largest ever awarded in a contest — was handed today to a Chicago waterworks employe.

Herbert J. Idle got a check for that amount for winning the 1951 puzzle-quiz contest sponsored by Unicorn Press, distributors of the new Funk & Wagnalls Encyclopedia.

State Hospital Aides Hold Patients' Picnic

Seventy-five patients of Pontiac State Hospital went back to wards refreshed by fair weather, food and outdoor fun at Pontiac Psychiatric Aides' patients' picnic this week.

Robert Larson, association president, was chairman of Tuesday's outing on hospital grounds, with Mrs. Gladys Vanderhoeven, Mrs. Sidney Cunningham, and Mrs. Margaret St. Croix as committeemen.

Each association member—all of whom are hospital employes — played host to a patient, packing a picnic lunch for both. The association sponsors the picnic once a year for patients who have no visitors.

LOSES MONEY FOR HOME—Prospects for a home in Tampa, Fla., in their declining years for Ford McMillan, 72, and his wife, of Kalamazoo, have faded. On their way to convert $2,700 from sale of their farm home in Kalamazoo to money order to buy Tampa home, McMillan lost his billfold.

Says Confusion Helps Communists

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Un-American Activities Committee says it believes 99 out of 100 Americans are emphatically against communism — but many not sure what they are against.

This confusion, the committee said yesterday, makes it possible for "many self-styled 'anti-Communists' with Socialist or Communist front backgrounds" to get away with attacks on congressional investigators of communism, "attacks which are aiding and abetting the Communist conspiracy."

The observations were contained in an introduction to a history of organized communism in the United States being published by the group.

Arraignment Set in Will-O-Way Case

Godfrey J. Artz, 70, accused of embezzling more than $30,000 from the Will-O-Way Playhouse in Bloomfield Hills, was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court today for arraignment by Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy. The arraignment date was set for Aug. 28 at 9 a.m.

Artz was arrested May 7 on a warrant charging him with the theft of $30,756.85 intended for the payment of federal amusement taxes. He admitted the charge in a statement to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem at the time but gave no reason for his action.

Artz, who lives with his wife at 16244 Princeton St., Detroit, headed a bookkeeping concern in Birmingham and was hired by the Playhouse in 1948 to keep the books on tax payments.

Flames Prove Boon to Denver Taxpayers

DENVER (AP)—When a $48,000 fire gutted Denver's Manual High School, the students were not alone in their cheering. They were joined today by taxpayers when the school board announced:

The school was abandoned at the end of the last school year, and the students are to enter a new, modern building across the street next month.

The city was saved much of the estimated $42,000 wrecking project it had planned.

Oklahoma Birds Nest in an Air Conditioner

MANGUM, Okla. (AP)—Everyone goes for air conditioning now, even the birds.

Claude Miller checked his air conditioning system and found a nest of five birds atop the machine.

Cold Packs Effective

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UP)—Dr. V. Willman of St. Louis University reported that experiments indicate cold applications are more effective in controlling bleeding wounds than commonly-used hot packs. Willman reported his findings in tests on dogs at a meeting of the Society of University Surgeons here.

The last discovery of a major planet came in 1930, when astronomers identified Pluto, which averages 3,666 million miles from the sun.

Chaplin Tops in Japan

TOKYO (AP) — Charles Chaplin's "Limelight" set a new Japanese motion picture attendance record during its first three weeks showing at a Tokyo theater.

The newspaper Asahi reported in mid March the Chaplin production drew 105,000 theater-goers, topping the 100,000 drawn in a similar period by "Gone With the Wind."

The United States, the world's largest oil-consuming nation, has the world's largest tankship fleet—some 450 oil-carrying vessels in ocean-going travel.

Theft Well-Timed

MEREDITH, N.H. (UP)—Thieves stole meat, 20 cartons of cigarettes and two cases of beer from a local market. The job was done while both the police chief and the only state trooper in town were in municipal court.
