Light Turnout Marks Pontiac District Voting

Less Than One-Tenth of Eligible Citizens Cast Ballots

Veteran school board member Monroe Osmun and newcomer Rev. J. Allen Parker were the popular choices of Pontiac school district electors Monday when 3,459 citizens went to the polls to cast their votes.

Rev. Parker took the top vote with final count showing 1,658 ballots marked in his favor.

Osmun garnered the other 4-year term with 1,515 endorsements.

Less than 10 per cent of the 42,000 qualified school electors in the Pontiac school district stood out. In 1954, the vote turned at 4,860.

Osmun served on the Pontiac Board of education from 1946 to 1954 and, after a year's absence from the board, announced his candidacy again this year for one of the two 4-year posts.

A Pontiac business man, Osmun is well known for his interest in civic affairs. One of the drafters of the pay-as-you-go financing plan for the Pontiac schools, he has served the board as president for two years. He is the father of two daughters, one in Pontiac High School and the other in college.

Although new to community politics, Rev. Parker has been active in civic movements since he came to Pontiac in 1943.

Rev. Parker has a background in education, having taught in a high school in Orlando, Fla., prior to coming to Detroit to serve as pastor of the local A. M. E. Church.

He is the father of four children, three of whom are in school. Osmun and Rev. Parker will be sworn in July 13.

The other two contenders for the board this year were Dr. Lynn D. Allen Jr., and Theron T. Stickle. Dr. Allen was third highest in the running with 1,470 votes and Stickle received 907. (Complete tabulation, precinct-by-precinct, is listed on page 2.)

Widening Project Scheduled for M24

The Michigan Highway Department's schedule now calls for work to start on the widening from two to four lanes of M24 from Opdyke road to Lake Orion about July 17, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said today.

Bids will be taken in Lansing June 22 on the $1,000,000 project. The contract will be awarded about two weeks later and work started within another two weeks, Ziegler explained.

Plans are for a divided highway with strips 22 feet wide on each side. Each strip will be divided into two lanes. Most of the existing pavement will be ripped out, said Ziegler.

French Suspend Auto Races; Wait New Safety Code

PARIS (AP)—The French government has suspended all auto races throughout France until a new safety code can be formulated.

The semi-official French Press Agency reported last night, however, that the new regulations are expected to be ready in time for the next major race, the Grand Prix de Reims July 2.

The ban followed the smashup Saturday during the 24-hour sports car race at Le Mans, in which a driver and 78 spectators were killed. It was the worst tragedy in the history of racing.

Mass funeral services for the victims were scheduled today in the Le Mans Cathedral.

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—The President Batista Trophy was presented last night to Bernice Trimble, of Flint, Mich., for winning the sixth Women's Air Race.

Miss Trimble and 25 other women pilots finished the race yesterday with a 90-mile hop from Key West in calm, sunny weather.

The race began Thursday, with the winner decided on actual flying time. Bad weather knocked out 6 of the 33 planes which started.

A seventh, piloted by Eleanor Davis, of Arlington, Va., returned to Key West after the takeoff for Havana yesterday.

Miss Trimble's copilot was Joan Rhuvec, Cleveland, Ohio.

The next five finishers, in the order of their standing, were Frances Bera, Los Angeles; Ruth Thomas, Knoxville, Tenn.; Laurien Griffin, Merriam, Kan.; Louise Smith, High Point, N.C.; and Barbara Jensen, Paris, Ill.

No time was announced for any contestant.

The race is sponsored by the 99'ers, an organization of women flying enthusiasts.

GMC Factories Resume Normal Production Here

Local Issues Causing Walkouts Now Reported Being Settled

Normal production was resumed at the three local General Motors divisions today following unauthorized walkouts yesterday which idled 18,000 workers.

The local issues which caused work stoppages at Pontiac Motor Division, Fisher Body Division and GMC Truck & Coach Division are reportedly settled or in negotiation stages.

Harold A. Grant, president of Fisher Body Local 596 (UAW-CIO) said a negotiation session between union and management yesterday ended in agreement.

Today, GMC Truck Local 594 and GM men were huddling in an attempt to thrash out disagreements. And tomorrow representatives of Pontiac Local 653 will meet with employer agents.

Pontiac Local President Charles S. Currie, who declined to elaborate, said:

"We do have some local issues. We have a meeting scheduled for tomorrow morning to negotiate them. . . . We are going to make every effort possible to settle the disputes peacefully."

Currie said negotiations have been going on for 60 days, with the last meeting held Sunday night, while the deadline was approaching for signing of a nationwide UAW-GM agreement in Detroit.

Among the "local issues" settled at Fisher Body were a one- and two-cent an hour pay increase for 521 women employees, seniority agreements and fringe benefits, Grant said.

Currie said the Pontiac local has authority from its members to strike, but that sanction would be needed from the union's international headquarters.

Approval Seen on Tariff Cutting

Both Houses Expected to Give Ike Power to Reduce Levies

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise bill to give President Eisenhower new tariff-cutting powers was headed for final congressional action, perhaps today.

House leaders expected little opposition in that chamber. The Senate was expected to follow suit quickly—possibly sometime late today and send the bill to the President.

The compromise bill, giving Eisenhower most of what he sought, would extend the Reciprocal Trade Act for three years. It would allow him to cut tariffs up to 15 per cent — 5 per cent each year.

It also would let him slice to 30 per cent of value any import duty now above that rate. Such reductions would be in return for like concessions from other nations.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn.) of the tariff-writing House Ways and Means Committee and Rep. Mills of Arkansas, a senior committee Democrat, both prepared speeches saying they reluctantly were going along with the compromise.

They objected to Senate-written amendments aimed at giving added safeguards to American producers who fear competition from cheaper foreign products.

Cooper and Mills centered their criticism on Senate amendments that would:

1. Give the President new power to impose higher tariffs or quotas when he finds that import "threatens to impair the national security."

2. Stiffen the "escape clause" procedure under which an industry can ask the Tariff Commission to recommend withdrawal or modification of a trade agreement on grounds the duty reduction involved has caused it "substantial"

FLOOD PARALYZES CITY — Some cars made it and some didn't as a tidal wave of water from the mountains swept down on Las Vegas, Nev. last night after a violent thundershower of rain and hail paralyzed the city, flooding hundreds of homes and stores and causing an untold amount in property damage.

UAW, AM Start Sessions Today

Bargaining With First of 'Little Three' Will Include GAW Demand

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers planned to ask American Motors Corp. today to follow the lead of Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp. in granting jobless pay benefits.

The union scheduled the opening of bargaining talks on a new contract with the makers of Nash and Hudson cars. The talks will continue through tomorrow at the Veterans Memorial Building with additional meetings to be decided on later.

Leonard Woodcock, director of the union's American Motors Department, indicated yesterday what the UAW expected of American Motors.

"We will go in with the union's original guaranteed annual wage proposals," he said. "Then we will sit down and listen to what the company has to say and bargain from there."

Woodcock said the union demands will include improved pensions, vacations, holiday pay and insurance as well as wage increases.

WILL RESIST

George Romney, president of American Motors, has indicated his company will resist demands for a guaranteed wage. He urged the union last week to bargain "on the facts of American Motors, and not of Ford or General Motors."

The company has three contracts with the UAW. All have been extended to expire simultaneously Aug. 12.

American Motors was formed last year from consolidation of Nash-Kelvinator Corp. and the Hudson Motor Car Co. and took over the contracts of each. Nash and Kelvinator had separate agreements with the union.

American Motors employs 20,000 UAW members. It reported a net loss of $654,390 for the first quarter of this year.

The company has plants in Grand Rapids, El Segundo, Calif., and Wisconsin.

Menon Says U.S., China Can Both Ease Tension

WASHINGTON (AP)—India's V. K. Krishna Menon, arriving for a talk with President Eisenhower, said today that both sides in the U. S.-Red China controversy can make "some contribution" toward easing tensions.

"You are concerned about your nationals there," the diplomat told reporters, "and they are concerned about their nationals here."

His comment, which he did not amplify, fitted in with reports he would urge Eisenhower to make conciliatory gestures toward Red China.

One suggestion along that line has been the return of Chinese now in this country to their Communist-ruled homeland.

The difficulty with this anticipated suggestion, U. S. officials say, is that all the Chinese students who wish to go home have been cleared to do so and no one knows of any other Chinese in the United States who want to submit to Communist government.

Krishna Menon conferred with Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai. He came here from New York to report to Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles on his 10 days of talks in Peking, with the hope of promoting negotiations for a Formosa settlement.

TAKING RED SIDE

His comment about concern of both parties over their nationals fits in with the view widely held in the U. S. government that Krishna Menon tends to take the Communist side in disagreements.

The Reds equate Chinese who may have chosen to stay in this country with Americans forcibly held in China.

He described his trip here as "a mission of extreme delicacy."

When asked whether he was optimistic about the outcome of his efforts he replied, "these matters are not settled by optimism but by faith. You must have faith. Faith is not a temporary thing."

Power Commission OKs Gas Pipeline Financing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Power Commission has approved an American Louisiana Pipe Line Co. plan to finance its proposed Louisiana-to-Michigan natural gas pipeline.

Flash Floods Dim Las Vegas

Damage in Gaudy City Expected to Run Over $100,000

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Flash floods unleashed by torrential desert cloudbursts hit Nevada last night, blacking out this city of bright lights and derailing a passenger train in the northern part of the state.

There were no injuries reported but the damage in Las Vegas was expected to run over $100,000, and perhaps as high as a half million. While power was quickly restored in most sections, an estimated 80 per cent of all telephones remained out of order early today.

Mayor C. D. Baker said there was a strong possibility he would declare a state of emergency and ask for federal flood control aid. It was the worst storm here in 30 years, he said.

Meanwhile, the Western Pacific Railroad's California Zephyr was bogged down 38 miles west of Winnemucca. The engine and 10 cars went off the track when the flood-softened roadbed gave way.

The railroad said it would take at least 12 hours to clear the track and get the train and its 300 passengers moving again.

The cloudburst here lasted an hour, depositing between two and three inches of rain and hail on the downtown area. Scores of shops and homes were flooded and hundreds of cars were stalled in water which swirled a foot deep on main streets.

Laborite Parties in Argentina Rallying in 'Support Peron' National Strike

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—President Juan Peron's massive labor following rallied for a nine-hour nationwide strike today to demonstrate their loyalty to their leader in his feud with the Roman Catholic Church.

Peron appealed to the people to be "calm . . . alert and vigilant" in the wake of a three-day wave of clashes and demonstrations.

Attacking the clergy as "a wolf in sheep's clothing," he threatened in a nationwide broadcast last night to crack down with all his might on future outbreaks.

Shortly before he spoke, fresh fighting erupted in the Plaza de Mayo in downtown Buenos Aires. Church supporters hurled back a crowd of Peron adherents who charged the Metropolitan Cathedral and the adjoining Archbishop's Palace in an effort to mount an A gentile flag on the palace. The Peronistas shouted "Peron yes! Priests no!" as they rushed the building.

There were no reports of any injuries. Twenty-nine persons were injured Sunday in rioting around the cathedral. Some 470 persons were arrested over the weekend, most of them Catholic faithful who

Walkouts Stem Mostly From Discontent About Local Grievances

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Picket lines and walkouts kept more than 30 General Motors Corp. plants closed today but there were indications a back-to-work movement was gaining momentum.

Some dissatisfaction with the national agreement reached Monday by GM and the CIO United Auto Workers was reported among the 128,890 employees the company estimated are still idle as a result of strikes and resulting parts shortages.

But the walkouts were said to stem mostly from discontent over local grievances.

The number of idle mounted through the day Monday but appeared to recede as afternoon shift workers, spurred by UAW International "don't go back to work, trooped into plants when day shift picket lines were withdrawn.

GM has 119 plants across the country. In Flint, where GM has its heaviest concentration of workers, a total of 23,000 at four Chevrolet plants and the AC Spark Plug Division were off the job at one time Monday.

But by nightfall pickets were withdrawn at all but the Chevrolet frame plant. A union spokesman said all five plants would be operating by today.

8,300 GO BACK

At the Detroit transmission plant at Willow Run, 8,300 workers went back to their jobs after Local 735 officials received a back-to-work telegram from the UAW international.

But many locals failed to heed the international's order.

In Detroit, the Cadillac plant was picketed, keeping 41,900 workers off the job. Union spokesmen said the men wouldn't go back until local issues were settled.

Here is the list of plants the company reports on strike or (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

WASHINGTON (INS)—Welfare Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby today attacked as "unnecessary" a Democratic proposal to provide Salk polio vaccine free to all of the nation's children.

Mrs. Hobby told the Senate Labor and Welfare Committee that "most families can afford the cost of vaccinating their children."

Offers Plan to End British Rail Strike

LONDON (AP)—The British Transport Commission made new armistice proposals today for ending a 14-day strike on the nationalized railroads. An official of the striking union called peace prospects "distinctly hopeful."

The truce plan was hammered out in a series of separate morning conferences between the commission, leaders of 67,000 striking locomotive engineers and firemen, and officials of the nonstriking National Union of Railwaymen (NUR).

Meanwhile, a wildcat seamen's strike which has disrupted sailings of British Atlantic liners for two weeks led 150 crewmen of the liner Queen Mary to vote to quit work.

Adenauer Meeting With Ike, Dulles

WASHINGTON (INS)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will meet with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today to discuss important German problems to be presented at next month's Big Four conference.

Adenauer is expected to give the President his assurance of continued friendship with the West. An understanding on the Bonn government's relationship with Russia, in light of the recent invitation for Adenauer to visit Moscow, may also be reached.

Bonn Delegation Will Attend Parley

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany expects to send a delegation to the Big Four summit meeting at Geneva in July. Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano said today. He probably will lead it.

In a news conference, Von Brentano explained that the role of the Bonn delegation would be to stand by in case the powers wanted consultation on any points affecting Germany.

He said it was possible this delegation would make contact with the Russians in Geneva.

Contact has already been made in acknowledging the Russian invitation to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer to go to Moscow to discuss establishment of diplomatic and trade relations, he said.

Brentano said the question of whether Adenauer would "sooner or later travel to Moscow" was still open. He said this subject was being discussed during the present visit to the United States of the chancellor.

"Even for the adequate treatment of the 34,000 surviving cases of burns caused by an old-fashioned bomb in Hiroshima, tens of thousands of doctors and nurses would have been required."

The Day in Birmingham

Landslide Vote Approves $5,500,000 for Schools

BIRMINGHAM—Property owners yesterday approved a $5,500,000 bond issue to finance a school expansion program in the Birmingham School District.

The vote in favor of the proposal was 1,823 to 385. It boosted to more than $15,000,000 the amount the district has approved in school construction bond issues since 1948.

The latest proposal will provide funds for 82 new classrooms, construction of swimming pools at Birmingham High and Derby Junior High and modernization of facilities at Adams, Barnum, Pierce, Quanton, Bloomfield Village and Walnut Lake Schools.

Most of the 82 new classrooms—the number that will be needed by 1957—will be contained in five new elementary schools.

Tentative plans of the school board call for locating one of the schools in the northeast corner of the district, one in the southeast corner, another at Lahser and 14 Mile Rd., one near Walnut Lake and the fifth at the northeast corner of the high school property.

Voters also filled two vacancies on the school board. Incumbent Amos F. Gregory, 1216 Dorchester, was re-elected by a vote of 1,619. Mrs. Peter B. Loomis, 1648 Dorchester, a former board member, was elected with 1,755 votes. Each was elected to a four-year term.

At Bloomfield Hills, Karl Scott and Robert Hoffman were the only candidates for two vacancies on the Hills' Board of Education.

Jean L. Forest, daughter of Mrs. LaRelda W. Forest, 1544 Benna-ville, was one of 40 women who were graduated from the Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania in Philadelphia last Friday. Dr. Forest, a graduate of Wayne University, will intern at the Philadelphia General Hospital.

Kiwanis members will be hosts to the downtown Pontiac club tonight at the Community House in Birmingham group's inter-club dinner.

A representative of the Greyhound Bus Co. will be guest speaker. "Transportation Trends" will be his topic.

Members of the Business Women's Club are scheduled to visit Camp Oakland this Thursday. The camp is located between Lake Orion and Oxford. A dinner will be served at the club at 6:30 p.m.

Elks Plan to Honor Naturalized Citizens

Various veterans and patriotic organizations are cooperating in sponsoring the event at which Charles Snyder, past president of Michigan Optimist Clubs, will be main speaker.

Today the Elks are sponsoring a citywide contest which will see a savings bond awarded to the family or person with the best displayed flag. The winner will be announced tomorrow, said County Clerk Lynn D. Allen. Elks Americanism chairman.

LOOK, NO WINGS — Charles Pritchard, assistant railroad gang foreman, makes one of eight unsuccessful attempts to get his unconventional plane into the air at Emporia, Va. The ship features short, stubby fins instead of wings, and Pritchard, who has no formal training in aerodynamics, says he'll make "repairs" and try again.

Juvenile Home Riot Laid to Crowding

DETROIT (AP)—Probate Judge Nathan J. Kaufman said today a minor disturbance yesterday at Detroit's Juvenile Detention Home was a symptom of serious and basic trouble.

Fourteen juvenile inmates became involved after two boys, one 13 and one 14, got into a fight in the mess hall. Tables were overturned and a bench broken. Twelve policemen quelled the disturbance and no one suffered more than minor hurts.

Judge Kaufman said trouble had been expected for some time because of inability to send more seriously disturbed inmates to special institutions to which they had been ordered committed.

"We have been releasing many of the more minor cases in order to keep the total population down," Kaufman said. "As a result, there is a higher average than normal of serious cases."

Glenn Martin Affirms U.S. Air Supremacy

DENVER (AP)—Russian air power has advanced rapidly but it's still not strong enough to defeat the United States, Glenn L. Martin, pioneer aviation industrialist, said last night.

"The fighter and bomber planes already in production in this country can stop any Soviet planes now in the air. Adding to our strength are the very hot things we have on the fire," Martin said in an interview.

Mother of Seven Receives Degree at Northwestern

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Mrs. Richard Kautz headed for home in Iowa today with her husband, six of her seven children and a degree from Northwestern University.

She studied at Northwestern for more than three years, but her campus career ended with her marriage in December 1939.

Recently she resumed her formal education by correspondence and in Saturday classes at the University of Iowa—40 miles from her home in Muscatine, Iowa.

She received her bachelor's degree in education yesterday at Northwestern's commencement.

In the audience were her husband, vice president of the Grain Processing Corp. in Muscatine, and six of their youngsters: Linda, 13; Judy, 11; Terry, 10; Tommy, 7; Susan, 5; and Sarah, 3.

The other child, Cathy, 2, stayed at home.

Mrs. Kautz, 37, now plans to remain a housewife. She said she hopes her achievement will be a "stimulus" to the scholarship of her children.

Total new memberships and renewals in the state Farm Bureaus as of March 31, 1953 were 74,102 ahead of the corresponding period a year ago. The total for the 48 state Farm Bureaus and Puerto Rico was 1,081,078 farm families.

Pleads Not Guilty to Forging Checks

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Mrs. Wilma Plichta, 33, pleaded innocent in municipal court yesterday to a charge of forgery in the embezzlement of $33,489 from the National Sanitation Foundation. She is employed as a secretary in the foundation's office.

Mrs. Plichta was released under $4,000 bond pending an examining trial Thursday.

Police said Mrs. Plichta, who was arrested yesterday, told them she wrote foundation checks to obtain money to pay a blackmailer who has been hounding her since 1949. Police said they have not found the blackmailer.

The National Sanitation Foundation, which has offices at the University of Michigan, is financed by private industry to do research into sanitation.

Diem Shelves Plan for Talks

Viet Nam Premier Will Send Envoys to Meet Western Leaders

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem was reported today to have shelved his idea of a Saigon conference with the Western Big Three on major problems facing South Viet Nam.

Reliable sources said instead the Premier would send trusted advisers to Paris, London and Washington for bilateral talks on such questions as the unification elections due next year, withdrawal of the French expeditionary corps and ways to counter the Communist Vietminh government in North Viet Nam.

Diem proposed May 21 that the Big Three foreign ministers come to South Viet Nam. Already facing a summer crowded with international conferences, they indicated they would have to be represented by their ambassadors to Saigon.

It was believed here the chief spokesmen for Diem in the talks abroad would be his brother and No. 1 confidant Ngo Dinh Nhu, and Nguyen Huu Chau, another close associate. Nhu leaves Saigon tonight for Europe and ultimately Washington. Chau is already in Paris for conferences with top French officials.

High time you discovered the difference in Dodge!

New Dodge Custom Royal Lancer 4-Door Sedan—most beautiful car on the road today.

Next time you're driving around town, just notice the number of gleaming new Dodge cars you see on the street!

Then ask yourself: "What is it these people have found out about the new Dodge that's causing this landslide of popular favor?"

Part of it, of course, is the new Dodge styling. You can see at a glance how much bigger and more luxurious this car is—up to 9 inches longer than its competitors.

But the real story behind the rush to Dodge is this: People are discovering the difference in the way Dodge cars are engineered and built!

They discover it in the solid, substantial feel of the car—the way it handles and rides. They learn to appreciate it in the deep-down goodness of every part and feature: Doors that don't rattle. Body joints that don't squeak. Windows that work smoothly.

There is really no substitute for the dependability that is built into Dodge. Isn't it time you discovered this difference for yourself?

UAW-CIO Makes Great Strides in Settlement

Discounting local and unauthorized wildcat strikes, industrial peace has settled over General Motors.

Final evaluation of the terms may require the passage of time, but some features seem to stand out.

Certainly Walter Reuther has emerged with a big bite of cake. He didn't come up with his guaranteed annual wage, but he did take a notable stride step in that direction. The union should be very happy with the settlement which he won for his men.

General Motors and the union were practically committed to an acceptance of the Ford contract in substance. The union could not demand greater things from GM than it did from Ford. Conversely, General Motors could not expect preferential treatment from the union.

The new agreement does not contain a "guaranteed annual wage." WALTER REUTHER started out with this phrase etched on his banner, and some are determined to read it into everything that has been done. Actually it's a 26 week supplemental payment running between sixty and sixty-five per cent including state unemployment compensation. Liability ceases with the exhaustion of a fund which GM officials estimate will exceed a hundred million dollars.

All commerce and all unions in America have been watching these negotiations closely. They were a national topic of conversation. The highest employment of all times and a solid era of nation wide prosperity really hung in the balance. Were these gigantic automotive plants to close, America would be limping in short order.

The green light flashes.
The track ahead is clear.

During the first half of 1953, in spite of increasing business, living costs held level. We have had no inflation. The Press believes the union has made notable progress. It believes GM and Ford management are facing a challenge. But it believes they have managerial capacity to resolve the situation as it unfolds. The cost of a strike would have been tremendous to both sides and to the whole general economy. The price of peace may be great but the future will probably prove it was worth it.

U. S. Expects Adenauer Will Stay Loyal to West

Interest in West German Chancellor ADENAUER's visit to Washington is heightened by the fact that he has been invited to visit Moscow.

The manner and timing of the Kremlin's bid at first seemed surprising. Actually, however, such strategy not only had been forecast by some observers, but is a logical development of Russian policy. No one ever should forget that the paramount objective of that policy is to detach our Allies one by one.

Happily there are no signs that it is succeeding. In fact such developments as the final ratifications of German rearmament, the Austrian peace treaty and the fiasco of the Russians' visit to Yugoslavia indicate just the opposite. But the invitation to Chancellor Adenauer emphasizes the fact that the Kremlin still is pushing its policy.

So far the Bonn government has done no more than formally acknowledge receipt of the Russian invitation. It is expected, however, that the Chancellor will make the trip after the top level Big Four conference at Geneva in July.

That he will be under heavy pressure at Moscow there can be no doubt. Obviously the Russians are in a position to offer some tempting concessions in the matters of reunification, territory and release of prisoners, and will make the most of it.

Nonetheless ADENAUER is expected to remain a loyal ally of the West. President EISENHOWER holds this view and has said he trusts the Chancellor completely to stand by his friends. Certainly the President is fully capable of assaying the situation accurately.

Billy Admits His Latest Will Be Truly Colossal

Billy Rose is out again. He heads up the operating company that will run a new combined world's fair and merchandise mart in what will be the world's biggest building atop the Pennsylvania Railroad Station in mid-New York.

Billy is an ideal man for this job. He is a promoter and a producer. He has won top rating in many different fields; such divergent ones for example as the theater, stenography, restaurants and newspaper writing.

The building alone will cost one hundred million dollars, according to Billy Rose. It will contain some seventy million cubic feet more than the Pentagon Building, and some three times the space in the Empire State Building. Even modest Billy, long trained in the art of understatement, admits it's colossal.

Element of Surprise

David Lawrence Says: Trojan Horse Treachery Holds a Moral for Allies

WASHINGTON — Surveying the many puzzling developments in the world situation today—the moves by the Soviets looking toward disarmament and the coming four-power conference "at the summit"—this is the time to tell over again the legend of ancient Troy.

History relates that they once had a "cold war" between the Greeks and the Trojans. At least there had been no fighting for ten years. Then all of a sudden the Greeks withdrew their army and their fleet and pretended to be abandoning the siege of Troy.

The Greeks had built a large wooden horse which they brought to the gates of Troy. Of course, it excited great curiosity. It was described by the Greeks as a "peace offering."

The gullible Trojans finally were persuaded that peaceful coexistence was possible, and they let the horse be drawn inside their wall. Then during the night when the Trojans were asleep the Greek troops who had been concealed inside the horse stole out, opened the city gates to the Greek army which rushed into Troy. They slaughtered the surprised Trojans, who were easily conquered.

TROOP WITHDRAWAL
Today the big move is on to get the troops of the United States to withdraw from Europe under the pretense that the Soviet armies will also be withdrawn from the occupied areas. The Red armies can move back just a few hundred miles and be outside of every satellite state.

But once American divisions have been withdrawn 3,000 miles away to the United States, and the Western countries have agreed to a disarmament plan, the Soviets can come back quickly from their hiding places into the middle of Europe and conquer.

The fact is there is no sure way to enforce any disarmament plan. In the period immediately after World War I, Germany was disarmed by a written treaty.

GOOD FAITH LACKING
No plan that offers to reduce armament on both sides today is worth the paper it is written on because there is no way to guarantee the good faith of the rulers in the Kremlin.

The latest Russian plan to be sure concedes that huge centers of military concentration in their area will be open to international inspection. But this is only a ruse to conceal by other means the manner of distributing troops and weapons.

Military men of the West have examined the latest Russian proposals and find them deceptive. Alongside the plan for disarmament, moreover, the Russians are preparing a political disarmament scheme.

They have proposed a "neutral" belt across eastern Europe so that Germany and Austria and the satellite states, ranging from the Mediterranean to the Baltic, would be politically neutral.

LOCAL ARMAMENT
This means that if the smaller countries raise armies it must be done on a local basis without any integration with the western defense and only for internal police purposes.

The Western Allies for the moment are confronted with the political strategy of the Soviet. The four-power conference idea is but one of many aspects of the Russian peace offensive. Public opinion in the Western countries is so determined to have peace that widespread support has been given to the four-power conference theme and related proposals. It is argued that the talks will ease tension and bring forth some plan to deal with Russian aggressors.

But no war is needed to establish superiority, because the Russians today are weak both from a military and an economic standpoint. Naturally, they want to catch up industrially, so they are

Nelse Knudsen Backs Judge Finnegan's Demand for Change in Bonding Methods

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. The writer must accompany letters but they will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I think Judge Finnegan made a fine suggestion and I endorse his contention that something should be done to end the present method of handling bonds at the Oakland County Jail.

Everyone should be placed on the same basis in this regard. Anyone who is arrested for a minor offense should have an opportunity to post a modest bond guaranteeing his appearance in court.

In many states the police or sheriff's officer who is in charge of the desk when a prisoner is brought in has the authority to issue such a bond, and the amount of the bond required for each offense is specified, so there is no discrimination or favoritism.

The arrested person is permitted to telephone a friend or relative who comes in and posts the cash amount or signs the bond guaranteeing to pay if the person does not appear in court. Needless to say, this arrangement does not apply to major crimes.

This arrangement eliminates the necessity for professional bondsmen and puts everyone on the same basis. A change in the present setup here is long overdue, but some change in the laws may be needed.

Students Organize a 'Compliment Club,' Write Essays on How It Benefits Them

Sister Benita decided to enroll all of her pupils in the "Compliment Club" project. Notice the interesting results. When you pay a compliment, you are simply putting Christ's Golden Rule into effective action, so get your Sunday school class or office co-workers to join at once.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case 0-356: Sister M. Benita, O.S.B., launched the "Compliment Club" among her students at St. Mary's Parochial School at St. Marys, Pa.

Her pupils faithfully followed the rules and paid three honest compliments per day for 30 consecutive days.

Then they wrote a little essay on the changes they had noted in their own personalities, as well as in the new friends which resulted.

When I received the neatly written reports from the entire class, I knew that some thoughtful teacher must have been the psychological "sparkplug" for this project.

I signed a flock of diplomas for the class, for everybody who fulfills the 30-day requirement of 3 compliments per day, is then eligible for membership.

"Dr. Crane, you certainly are doing a noble work," Sister Benita said, "in trying to get people to look for the good in their neighbors."

"My new class is also trying to acquire certificates in the 'Compliment Club,' and they are very enthusiastic about it."

"May God bless you and your noble work."

SPREAD JOY
It was very gracious of Sister Benita to write me such a nice letter, but she deserves a sincere compliment herself for thus encouraging her students to take Christ's positive outlook.

When Jesus gave us the Golden Rule, he phrased it in a positive way. He said: "Do unto others what you'd have them do unto you."

Confucius, who was born over 500 years before Christ, had uttered a somewhat similar bit of advice, but Confucius stated it in the negative. "That which you would not have others do unto you, do not do unto them," was the way Confucius put it.

So the admonition of Confucius did not catch fire with human beings as did Christ's positive utterance.

Hal Boyle Says:

Mama Sells 'That Old Barn' After 34 Years, 5 Children

KANSAS CITY (P)—Mama has sold "that old barn" at last.

"That old barn" is what she calls the big old-fashioned 10-room white house in which she has lived for more than 34 years. During that time Mama raised five children, and saw most of them fly away, one by one.

But always they have come back to the old white house. It has remained the family center.

Mama's feud with the house began the day she moved in. She threatened to move right out, and she's been threatening to do so every year since.

"Who wants to rattle around in an old barn like this?" she has said a thousand times. "It's just too much trouble to keep up."

"I'll sell it and move into a one-room apartment with a hotplate—and be perfectly happy."

At other times Mama has decided to turn the house into a duplex and rent out the second floor. She never quite got around to it. She never has liked the idea of having strangers around since, years back during hard times, she briefly rented two rooms to a couple Dad knew. Dad did know some odd people. In this case the husband, a robust fellow in a 10-gallon hat, turned out to be a snake oil salesman, and Mama learned to her horror he was keeping jars of embalmed rattlesnakes in his quarters. The couple moved out very soon after that.

In recent years my sister, Dolores, her husband, Don Newton, and their two children have shared the old home with Mama. But this spring they bought a newer house out south and asked Mama to come with them.

So, after all her long years of quarreling with "that old barn," she had to make up her mind whether to stay on in it, rent it, or dispose of it. Mama decided to make a clean break with the past. She put the old house on the market. She was startled—perhaps a little dismayed—at the speed with which it was sold. A young veteran bought it.

Before turning it over to him, Mama and I went back to the house to clean out some boxes of boyhood belongings of mine that had lain mouldering in the basement for 20 to 30 years.

Mama, who likes to sit in the cool basement on hot summer days, rested on a chair while I sifted through the boxes, re-living my childhood as I did so.

"Why don't you throw away all that old junk?" she asked. "You always were like a crow, collecting everything you saw."

To keep her from getting restive, I let her read some of my old love letters, and she settled back, contented. Mama always did enjoy reading her children's love letters.

I asked Mama if she remembered the time when Dad, who was a bit farm crazy, bought a calf and brought it home. Mama had been very angry at first, but she had been born on a farm in Ireland herself, and she felt in love with the calf, named it "Sugar," and weaned it herself there in the basement. After Dad moved it out to a farm, she visited it regularly for years.

"Poor Sugar," said Mama, laughing and sighing. "She must be dead now. I haven't thought of her in a long time."

When we went back upstairs, Mama paused in the empty living room—the room from which Dad was buried more than 17 years ago—and said reflectively: "Well, there's been a lot of living here."

We stepped out on the porch. An elm tree in the front yard, as slender as Mama had been when we first moved in, had grown so stout you couldn't put both arms around it. So had Mama.

She turned the key in the lock, and it made a lonely sound. We got in the car and drove away, and Mama never looked back.

"I don't see any reason to feel sentimental about that old barn," she said firmly. "I'm glad to leave it at last."

Perhaps she really is. But no body in the family really believes it. You can't feud with something for 34 years—and not fall in love with it.

Calcium Shortage in Diet May Result in Pyorrhea

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

The preceding pieces about pyorrhea gave (1) a definition of pyorrhea by a recognized dental authority; (2) a group of complex pathological manifestations which arise primarily from a functional atrophy of the alveolar process.

(3) The suggestion: the need for an adequate daily intake of vitamins A, B, C and D; the periodic application of a glitite Talbot's solution under the dentist's supervision; and the continuing cooperation of physician and dentist in the care of the patient.

(4) The opinion of a reformed horse-and-buggy doctor who admits he is certainly no authority, that once atrophy or physical degeneration of the alveolar process, jaw bone, teeth and gums has advanced far enough to be called pyorrhea, it's a little late, though not impossible, to retard, arrest, or even reverse the process.

Reverse degeneration and you have regeneration.

TICKLISH SITUATION

Now we have reached a ticklish situation and I've a good mind to drop the whole business right here and go over bowling. I'm afraid that (a) casual readers won't understand we're talking about nutrition and not medicine or dentistry; (b) an essential paragraph or two may be deleted to make this piece fit the available space; (c) medical and dental critics, who are legion, will pounce on some statement which, quoted out of context, will make what purports to be Brady's advice seem pretty silly.

If you have little lesson No. 16, the 7 Keys to Vite, you'll find in it an outline of the basic health diet, a model or pattern on which to build your own everyday diet.

As if stands it is a corrective, protective, regeneration, rejuvenation, or reduction diet. If you haven't the "7 Keys" you had better send me 25 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for it, whether you are particularly interested in pyorrhea or not.

If you are interested in pyorrhea, it can do you no harm to study also Little Lesson No. 1, Save Your Teeth, for which inclose 25 cents in addition.

The diet as is includes not less than four glasses (a quart) of milk daily. That alone would yield the optimal nutritional requirement of calcium for a growing child or an athletic adult, plus at least part of the vitamin D (in milk fat) which is essential for metabolism and utilization of calcium.

SUN SUPPLIES REST

Exposure of naked skin to sunshine or skylight (daylight) would manufacture the remainder of the vitamin D requirement.

To the best of my knowledge, which isn't great, and I'll be happy to hear from anyone who knows better, shortage of calcium in the diet of most Americans, from early childhood to the present moment, is a common contributing factor of the physical degeneration (atrophy) of jaw structures known as pyorrhea alveolaris.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

in North Africa Area
as Unrest Grows

PARIS (U)—Ten persons were reported killed in eastern Algeria yesterday and three in Morocco as the terrorist campaign against French rule continued.

The Algerian dead included nine rebels and one French soldier, killed in three of the small skirmishes.

In Morocco, six natives also were wounded, including a 6-year-old child.

French troops in the Big Moroccan port of Casablanca stood by in their barracks as tension was reported increasing among the population due to a month-long shopkeepers' strike.

The tension was further heightened in Morocco by the search for the murderers of Jacques Le-malgre - Dubreuil, a Casablanca newspaper publisher and business magnate who had favored more self-government for the North African protectorate.

There is evidence that polo was played many centuries ago in China, Japan, Persia, and Tibet.

Worn Searchers
Find Lost Youth
in Better Shape

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (U)—Twelve-year-old George Arthur Marston, lost in the Mexican border badlands since Saturday, was found last night—safe and apparently sound after 52 hours without food.

In fact, rescuers reported, the lad seemed in much better shape than many of the searchers who combed the rugged desert-mountain terrain for him.

A search party found him at the base of the jagged, 5,000-foot Sierra de Juarez Mountains in Lower California.

Meantime, another group of 17 searchers got itself trapped on a ledge high above the desert floor and huddled down for the night with food and blankets dropped by a U.S. Coast Guard plane.

Sheriff's forces planned to attempt a rescue in the daylight hours.

The youngster was reunited with his father Hamilton Marston, who had been with the main body of searchers. Mrs. Marston had returned to her home in Bonita, Calif., with her three other children from the family campsite 30 miles south of the American border.

Red Plans to Appeal
Again on Conviction

PHILADELPHIA (U)—Steve Nelson, Western Pennsylvania Communist leader, today prepared an appeal of a U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruling upholding his conviction under the federal Smith Act.

The Appellate Court for the 3rd Circuit yesterday upheld 5-2 the conviction of Nelson and four other Communist party members, ruling they "were not convicted because of (Communist) membership or the holding of party office (but) their guilt was shown to be personal and individual."

Nelson, William Albertson, Benjamin Lowell Careathers, James H. Dolson and Irving Weissman were convicted in federal court in Pittsburgh and sentenced to five years each on charges of violating the Smith Act, which makes it a crime to teach or advocate the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

All are free now under bail.

Chokes on Teeth, Dies

GALENA, Md. (U)—George E. Hillberg, 62, of Brockton, Mass., coughed so hard that he swallowed his false teeth and choked to death yesterday. He was working on a cabin cruiser docked near here.

Operators in Walkout

SINGAPORE (U)—Singapore's 2,000 taxicabs disappeared from the British colony's streets today as drivers joined in a Communist-backed general strike protesting the arrest of six Chinese union officials.

About 80 factories and firms were closed.

The taxi walkout left thousands stranded. All 13 bus lines were shut down Sunday when 6,000 employees walked out.

The general strike so far has only partially effective. The government estimated about 17,000 workers were idle of 70,000 ordered out by leaders of 36 unions.

The union leaders said the rest of their members would join the walkout shortly. This threat came after Singapore's Labor government turned down a union offer to call off the strike in exchange for the release of the six union officials arrested Sunday under emergency regulations.

No major violence was reported so far but authorities kept a sharp lookout for any outbreaks. Strike-sparked riots last month cost the lives of four persons, including Gene D. Symonds, an American correspondent for United Press.

Police said "intimidators" forced the taxi drivers to join the strike. Cabs did a roaring trade yesterday with the bus lines out.

Housewives jammed the stores yesterday to lay in emergency supplies when rumors spread that all store employees planned to go on strike. A similar rumor caused a run on filling stations.

Study Summer Shots

NEW YORK (U)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has called a meeting of policy experts here Saturday to discuss whether it is safe to inoculate against the disease during its summer peak.

Safe Burglars Return,
Cart Off Strongbox

DENVER (U)—Safe burglars who missed the boat a week ago returned to the Santa Fe Finance Co. and met with success.

Clayton Sites, firm manager, said burglars entered the establishment June 5 and ruined a safe while attempting to break into it. Sites replaced the safe with a new 500-pound model Saturday.

When Sites arrived at the office yesterday he found the safe carted away. It contained only petty cash and checks.

Watch Flames in Sky,
Return Home to Ruins

CORINTH, Miss. (U)—Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Cochran were watching a drive-in movie last night when flames shot across the sky.

For nearly half an hour they divided their attention between the screen and the fire.

Then they learned it was at their woodworking plant, the Douglas Cochran Co.

Firemen brought the blaze under control after a three-hour battle. Damages were estimated at $25,000.

Girl Graduates Will Like a Lively Party

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: As part of the graduation activities, our Women's Club is entertaining the girls of the senior class at a luncheon."

"I'm afraid girls think this sort of thing is pretty stuffy, and though most of our plans are made I wonder if you could give me some suggestions that would make the party lively?"

"Our club is quite a young group but most of us are married, and we'd like to make them feel a part of us."

Answer: You could make little boutonnieres for the girls to wear, complete with their names so they can all be addressed by name.

Make them of the simplest garden flowers—geranium blossoms, daisies, pansies, rambler roses—each one just a bit different. And let your club members wear identical flowers with their name tags. "Serve" them on two large trays as a get-acquainted stunt.

After the dessert your club president undoubtedly will make a little speech of welcome. She could call on someone else to explain the purpose of the club and why you like to entertain the seniors. And allow the girls to speak for themselves.

A spokesman can make a gracious speech of thanks to you all. In fact, various representative girls could make brief reports on athletics, social activities, college plans, school problems, etc.

TEST YOUR WITS

Then, if there's a wit among you, make a terrific presentation of special awards to various seniors. (A private conference with one of them beforehand will help you hit the mark.)

Have toy silver trophy cups, elaborate blue ribbons, or silly prizes—offered with appropriate words of congratulation for outstanding achievements.

Some "awards" could be for flagpole sitting, diving for buried treasure, six-day bike riding, marathon dancing, raising the tallest beanstalk, sewing the longest seam—utterly ridiculous things that deserve your praises and rewards.

KEEP PARTY MOVING

Then get everybody on their feet for a scrambled personality game. Scramble the letters of famous peoples' names and write them on slips of paper—one for each guest.

Equip them all with paper and pencil and start them off trying to unscramble the names and find out who's who. Each guest obviously will have to speak with each of the others in an effort to get the longest list of correct guesses.

The winner really deserves a nice prize but be sure a senior wins it. Such a stunt will get everybody up and stirring after all that lunch and speech-making, and should make for a very informal quarter of an hour or more. This should take up all the time you've allotted for the party and should make an afternoon for the girls that's far from stuffy.

Intermission Cigarette Is Proper

Don't Overdo It if Wife or Date Haven't Habit

By EMILY POST

A man asks the following question: "When going to the theater with a woman who does not smoke, is it proper for the man with whom she is with, to go out into the lobby for a cigarette during intermission and leave her sitting alone in her seat, or must he forgo smoking unless she goes out with him?"

Answer: If she does not wish to accompany him, it would not be improper for him to leave her briefly at the end of one act, or should the play have more than three acts, he might go out for two of the three or more intermissions.

Of course, it depends somewhat upon whom he is with.

He could leave his wife more often than others, which does not mean he should leave her at each curtain-call to sit alone until the house is darkened for the curtain's rise.

"Dear Mrs. Post: How, on a plain maffing post card could we invite many, many friends to come to Mass and then in the afternoon to an 'at home' at our house, the occasion being our silver wedding anniversary."

"Will you please suggest some wording—as little to write as possible."

Answer: "Our 25th Anniversary Mass 9 A.M. St. Mary's Church At Home 2 to 5 o'clock John and Mary Jones"

"Dear Mrs. Post: I received a wedding announcement in today's mail in which was enclosed an at home card. I am not familiar with such a card and would like to know what it means, and what I am expected to do. Am I supposed to go to see the bride?"

Answer: The at home card tells you where the young couple will live when they return from their wedding trip. You should call on the bride when she gets back.

Metropolitan Beach Opens on Saturday

MOUNT CLEMENS (INS)—Metropolitan Beach, the largest fresh-water beach in the world, will launch its 1955 season next Saturday with a variety of special events.

Between 2 and 5 p. m., there will be contests to select a Miss Metropolitan Beach and a king and queen of Tot Lot, a water ski show, and a fleet review. Also on the program are contests for tots and older children, a shuffleboard competition, and an exhibition softball game.

New features at the 550-acre beach this year are an 18-hole pitch-and-putt golf course, a 14-target archery range, an outdoor roller rink accommodating 1,500 skaters at a time, and a surfaced games area.

The exhibition softball diamond and a food bar building also are new this season.
