SAIGON — Communist troops today killed, wounded or captured all but 24 GIs of a 103-man American Army company ambushed on the northern coast.

★ ★ ★

Outnumbered three to one, caught in a U-shaped trap, the U.S. infantrymen battled through the night and past dawn before North Vietnamese troops broke off the fight that left 16 Americans dead, 56 wounded and seven listed as missing, battlefield reports said.

In other war developments, thousands of Communist troops today stormed into five South Vietnamese villages and posts and in a reign of terror killed 14 civilians, wounded at least 196 and destroyed or damaged 200 houses.

In the air war, U.S. spokesmen reported the loss of four jets during yesterday's 104-mission aerial assault against North Vietnam, with the bombers destroying the key Lang Son bridge only 10 miles from the Red China border.

★ ★ ★

ONLY 2 RED BODIES

Only two Communist bodies were found at the scene, according to reports. They lay near the wreckage of an American helicopter gunship that had tried to break through sheets of Communist fire to reach the lost company.

One of the helicopter crewmen, a warrant officer, somehow stumbled through the raging battlefield to an American post 12 miles away. He collapsed.

Gelling of Carlisle, Pa., reported the company was moving into a nighttime defensive position when the first mortar shells hit. Then came machine-gun and then rifle fire.

The company commander and the platoon leader were among the first to fall.

PINNED DOWN

The unit was pinned down. The North Vietnamese closed in for the kill.

Gelling said not one member of the company able to hold a gun failed to meet the life-or-death challenge.

"They had to stand there and fight.

"They were never overrun — not any of their positions," the colonel said.

Crime to Be Top '68 Issue, McDonald Tells City Group

Crime, rather than the Vietnam war and inflation, will be the major campaign issue leading to the 1968 elections, Congressman Jack McDonald said in Pontiac yesterday.

★ ★ ★

At least 20 key bills aimed at curbing crime, riots and civil disorder will be introduced in the upcoming session of Congress, the 19th District Republican representative predicted.

McDonald's views of the new year were given in an address before the Pontiac Exchange Club at a luncheon in the Elk's Temple.

Measures intended to reduce the nation's deficit, and others to improve domestic problems also are foreseen by McDonald.

★ ★ ★

Among these will be the reviving of a tax-sharing program whereby funds would be returned to the states and cities for their use "without any strings attached."

'TOUGHER TONE'

On anticrime legislation, McDonald said, "The President already has set the tone, and I think you will see a tougher Congress and a tougher President."

The only positive method of combating crime is stronger police, mayors and laws, he said.

McDonald said that the proposed bills would grant money to cities for police training, defer police from the draft, impose stiffer prison terms and set up housing for witnesses testifying against organized crime.

★ ★ ★

Consideration probably would be given to proposed legislation giving tax credits to firms giving on-the-job training, thereby replacing the Job Corps, according to McDonald.

POLLUTION CONTROL

Tax credits also could be given to firms for investments in combating air pollution, added McDonald.

"We have plenty of laws now, but are we going to enforce them. We can't shut down the plants and put thousands out of work."

McDonald said that some of the problems stemming from air pollution may be solved in committee hearings this year.

★ ★ ★

Other possible legislation, said McDon-

"This year's auto show will be the biggest ever in the Pontiac area," commented Al Bauer, president of the Pontiac Automotive Trade Association which is sponsoring the upcoming show at the Pontiac Mall.

★ ★ ★

The 10-day display, which opens Jan. 18, will feature 65 cars currently on the market and a number of separate displays prepared by different factories.

Eleven local dealers are participating in the show with the cooperation of their respective factory outlets.

★ ★ ★

Dealers involved are Matthews-Hargreaves, Inc., Jerome Motor Sales, Pontiac Retail Store, Downey Oldsmobile, Autobahn Motors, Inc., Vandeputte Buick and Opel, Inc., Spartan Dodge, Inc., Hillside Lincoln and Mercury, Inc., Oakland Chrysler Plymouth, Inc., Grimaldi Imported Car Co. and John McAuliffe Ford, Inc.

It's a Mail Holdup

Much of Nation in Winter's Grip

By United Press International

Winter, 1968, continued its rampage today, stunning the nation with subzero cold, icy rains and snow that piled to 18 inches in Michigan. The temperature fell toward 40 below in the Midwest.

The nation's heartland, frozen by a low of 34 below earlier in 1968's first week, enjoyed a brief wave of warmth yesterday but was warned to bundle up for still another cold wave today.

The mercury plunged to 35 below at International Falls, Minn., before dawn today and to 17 below at Minneapolis, Minn. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted the mercury would go as low as 40 below.

Snow flurries and squalls accompanied a fresh blast of arctic air into the Great Lakes.

One to two inches of new snow were reported in the Black Hills last night and over southeast Montana, Wyoming and Nebraska. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., received two more inches in 12 hours to increase its total snowfall to 18 inches.

HAZARDOUS DRIVING

Hazardous driving and glaze warnings were posted for a seven-state area from central Oklahoma to Kentucky.

Mercury May Hit Minus 8 Tonight

TODAY — Considerable cloudiness, windy and colder with scattered snow flurries and steady or slowly falling temperatures. High 12 to 20.

★ ★ ★

ALEXANDER DUBCEK

Czech Reds Get New Chief

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — President Antonin Novotny has lost his job as Communist party chief after 15 years, and the background of the new leader, Alexander Dubcek, could mean a quickening of liberal changes, Western diplomatic observers said today.

Dubcek, 46, who won the power struggle in a four-day secret party caucus, is from Slovakia, for years a source of anti-Stalinist ferment in Czechoslovakia. First reports said his backers in the struggle were liberal associates dissatisfied with the progress of economic and party reforms.

The diplomatic observers expressed doubt, however, that Dubcek would lead Czechoslovakia away from support of the Soviet Union and into the renegade status of Yugoslavia or Romania.

Dubcek, Soviet-educated and a party member since his youth, received quick congratulations from Soviet party chief Leonid Brezhnev, who wished him "success in his work to the good of the Czechoslovak people."

★ ★ ★

The official communique mentioned only that the party was separating Novotny's dual party-state role "in keeping with the initiated process of democratization in the state political sphere."

Thieu Echoes Rusk Position

SAIGON (AP)—Reacting to statements from Hanoi last week seen by some observers as a softer approach to peace talks, South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu said today, "Everyone is waiting for a . . . much clearer position from Hanoi."

★ ★ ★

But he added that the bombing of North Vietnam could not be stopped without reciprocal action from Hanoi.

Thieu's comments were basically in line with the U. S. position on the recent Hanoi statements, as voiced by Secretary of State Dean Rusk in a Washington news conference Thursday.

Rusk, too, said the allies need to find out what Hanoi means; however, the secretary declined to say whether a bombing halt was possible without Communist reciprocity.

★ ★ ★

Thieu also told the newsmen who questioned him that his government welcomes "any movement or any informal talks from any government to bring peace for Vietnam." But he added, "I believe negotiations should be the main task between the Saigon government and the Hanoi government."

BUILDUP FORESEEN

He said he felt the United States would not begin talks with North Vietnam if Hanoi set conditions unacceptable to the Saigon government.

Senior U. S. military officers believe North Vietnam's first objective, despite its hints this week about possible peace talks, is to stop the U. S. bombing so it can build up its forces and war materials in South Vietnam.

For this reason, these officers would be resistant to any bombing halt not matched by some sort of meaningful military scale-down by North Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

So far, North Vietnamese statements hinting at possible readiness to open peace talks have offered no reciprocity for a halt in U. S. bombing.

This lack of any offer of reciprocal action is one factor that makes some U. S. officials dubious about the sincerity of the North Vietnamese stance.

Local Post Office Is Facing First-Class Stamp Hang-Up

The stamp situation at local post offices is getting sticky, but not because local officials don't give a lick.

Postal rate increases go into effect Monday, changing the cost of first-class letters from five to six cents.

Most people seem to have a lot of five-centers on hand, but they'll only be good for postcards. What they need is one-centers.

Robert Featherston, assistant postmaster, reports "a run" on one-centers wiped out the supply of sheets. What's left is one-centers in cartridges of 500, mostly used on machines.

BEING RUSHED IN

However a supply of one-centers in sheets is being rushed from Chicago.

"We're sort of praying they get here over the weekend," Featherston said.

He also reports the post office has a good supply of combinations of six — plenty of twosies, threesies and foursies . . . but alas, no sixsies.

The U.S. Post Office is printing a supply, but thus far none have showed up, he said.

Another problem is being licked, however. Those stamped envelopes marked for five cents are being converted to six-centers.

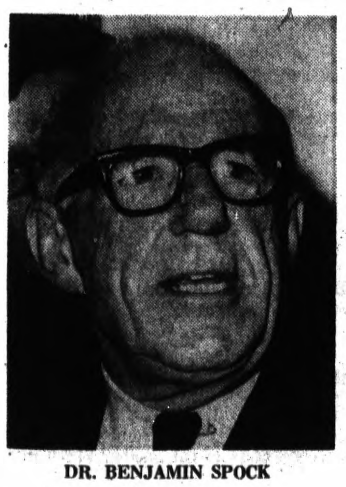
★ ★ ★

Featherston said a couple of clerks are pasting one cent stamps on them.

Asked "How many do you have?" Featherston replied, "Thousands."

Spock, 4 Other Viet Foes Indicted

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Spock, Yale University Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., and three other opponents of U.S. policy in Vietnam have been indicted on charges of conspiring to counsel young men to avoid the draft.



DR. BENJAMIN SPOCK

"I have no qualms about going to jail," Spock, the 64-year-old author of widely read books and articles on baby care, said at a news conference in his New York City apartment after a federal grand jury returned the indictments in Boston yesterday.

"This trial will better dramatize the illegal and immoral war and if this trial will further my efforts to stop it, so much the better," Spock said.

Also indicted with Spock and the New Haven, Conn., chaplain were Marcus Raskin, 23, of Washington, D.C., codirector of the Institute for Policy Studies; Mitchell Goodman, 44, an author from New York City and Temple, Maine; and Michael Ferber, 23, of Boston, a graduate student at Harvard University.

★ ★ ★

Raskin was a White House aide for a time in the Kennedy administration in the office of McGeorge Bundy, Special assistant to the president for national security affairs.

MAXIMUM PENALTY

None was arrested. The FBI said the five would be ordered to appear in federal court at Boston for arraignment. That date has not been set.

Conviction of conspiracy to violate the Selective Service Act carries a maximum penalty up to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Coffin, Spock, Raskin and Goodman are members of "resist," a Cambridge organization which calls itself an "adult" support organization for the draft resisters.

★ ★ ★

Until five years ago Spock stuck rather close to pediatrics. But with the 1962 U.S. decision to resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere he joined the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy and began devoting more and more time to the peace movement.

Detroit Negro Group Nixes Grant

DETROIT (AP)— A proposed $100,000 Ford Foundation grant has been rejected by a militant Negro leader with a warning that Detroit may face another devastating riot next summer.

The money was turned down by the Rev. Albert Cleage, an avowed Black Power advocate who heads the Federation for Self-Determination, a group established to help rebuild Detroit's Negro community.

★ ★ ★

Cleage told newsmen Friday that the offer of $100,000 in matching funds had too many strings attached. The offer was made by the New Detroit Committee, a blue ribbon group appointed by Gov. George Romney and Mayor Jerome Cavanagh to coordinate rehabilitation efforts following last summer's costly riot.

★ ★ ★

The riot, worst in modern American history, resulted in 43 deaths, hundreds of injuries and thousands of arrests on charges ranging from murder to arson to looting. Property damage ran into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

ANOTHER RIOT

Cleage, who preaches separatism, said there will be another riot in Detroit next summer if white leaders fail to allow the black community to run its own affairs.

★ ★ ★

"If the white community is intelligent enough to transfer power to the black community so that self-determination can be a reality, then there will be no necessity for a rebellion," he declared.

★ ★ ★

"But if the white community does not do that, there will be another rebellion. That will not be my fault, that will be your fault."

Dual grants of $100,000 each were offered to Cleage's federation and a rival Negro group, the Detroit Council of Organizations, which advocates an integrated approach to the city's problems.

CONDITIONS

In announcing that the funds were available, Joseph L. Hudson Jr., chairman of the New Detroit Committee, said that to get the money the two groups would have to agree to communicate with each other, pledge not to use the money for political purposes and submit to auditing procedures on how the money was spent.

LBJ-Eshkol Talks at Ranch Will Focus on Peace in Mideast

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson shifted from budget work today to Middle East problems, preparing for an informal, private and low-key ranch visit Sunday and Monday with Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol.

Peace in the troubled Middle East was reported to be the prime topic on the agenda for the two leaders.

Eshkol will be at the ranch only about 22 hours, according to the schedule. But there will be no time spent on ceremonials.

The Israeli Embassy has sent word to leaders of the Jewish community in San Antonio that there will be little time for them to meet Eshkol when he and his wife arrive at Randolph Air Force Base here Sunday at 4:20 p.m. EST. It was explained officials do not want to slow the prime minister's journey to the LBJ Ranch, 75 miles north of here.

PEACE DISCUSSION

Johnson aides said the main purpose of the meeting was a discussion of Middle East peace. But a wide range of topics are expected to come up, including water desalting projects and Israel's request for American jet fighter planes to offset Soviet arms supplies to Arab nations.

Eshkol conferred in New York Friday with U.S. Secretary-General U Thant.

Eshkol is due at the LBJ Ranch about 5 p.m. EST Sunday and is scheduled to leave there Monday around 3 p.m. EST.

CUT AT LONG HAIR — In her beautification campaign, Lady Bird Johnson has proposed cutting down the number of billboards. An Amarillo, Texas, firm, Panhandle Outdoor Advertising Co., aims at increasing the number of billboards. This sign, one of eight to be erected in Amarillo during the next two months, is aimed at increasing the public's awareness of the signs with its own "beautification program."

PUBLIC HOUSING

"The way it is now, tenants living in a public housing development feel like temporary citizens of a community."

McDonald said that foreign aid and federal programs, and not the Vietnam war, are responsible for the nation's estimated $20-$35 billion deficit ("depending on where you get your figures") said McDonald.

Noting that he did not believe that the U.S. has been successful in its foreign aid program, McDonald said the deficit could be lowered $7-$9 billion by reducing foreign aid and some research funds.

★ ★ ★

"There is only one answer and that is learning to live within our budget," said McDonald. "If we don't, it will lead to our own destruction."

Meat-Packing Firm Is Fined

DETROIT (UPI) — The Utica Packing Co. in Utica has been fined $500 for selling pork adulterated with hair, tonsils, wind pipe and bone to a Detroit sausage manufacturer.

The firm has been convicted three times since 1963 on similar charges.

The latest conviction was handed down Thursday by Judge Joseph Gillis in Detroit Recorders Court. Gillis also assessed the firm $150 for costs.

S. African's Condition Excellent

2nd Surgery on Dentist Eyed

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI) — Dr. Christian Barnard said today if Philip Blaiberg's body rejects his new heart, a second heart transplant operation could be performed.

He made the observation during a discussion of the dentist's condition, which he said is excellent.

In the Cape Town colored suburb of Salt River, hundreds of mourners filed past the body of Clive Haupt, 24, whose heart Barnard and his surgical team sewed into Blaiberg's body Tuesday at Groote Schuur Hospital.

The funeral at St. Paul's Anglican Church coincided with the beginning of a Mardi-Gras-like carnival in the community. It is the gayest day of the year for the community, and celebrators decided to pause for one minute of silence in Haupt's memory.

★ ★ ★

Barnard said there was a 50-50 chance his next heart transplant patient would be nonwhite. He rejected the idea that an African's heart was unsuitable for transplanting into a white person's body.

South African law classified persons as white, colored (mixed) and African.

"Africans have good hearts," he said. "They seldom suffer from cardiac disease and would make excellent donors for transplants."

The surgeon said there would be no transplants in the immediate future because it will take a month for Blaiberg to pass the critical period of recovery.

★ ★ ★

The irregularities in Blaiberg's heart beat recorded by an electrocardiograph disappeared and the organ is functioning normally, Barnard said.

★ ★ ★

He said the irregularities had been noted in the first transplant patient and had been thought of as signs of rejection. He said doctors now believe they might be signs of surgical trauma and shock.

U.S. Bombing of Ship Was Deliberate--Soviets

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet government followed up a formal protest with a charge today that the U.S. bombing of a Soviet ship in Haiphong Harbor was deliberate.

The American government had said earlier that the damage to the ship, the Pereslavl Zalessky, was an "inadvertent" result of a raid on Haiphong.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia rejected this explanation.

A Japanese-language radio Moscow broadcast, monitored in Tokyo, reported 10 Soviet freighters are en route to Haiphong with aid material for North Vietnam. Observers noted that Soviet ship movements are not normally reported by Moscow and said the broadcast could have been a warning to the United States.

It was the fourth time that the Soviets have claimed their ships were damaged in U.S. raids, and the third such incident in the past seven months. One Soviet seaman was reported killed in a raid last June, but the Pereslavl Zalessky's 41 crewmen reportedly escaped injury.

In Washington, State Department spokesman Robert McCloskey said an investigation was under way. He said the damage, if true, was "inadvertent and it is regretted," but pointed out that Soviet ships risk such "unintentional damage" if they sail into North Vietnam harbors.

Blaze Rips House in City, Injuring 2

A flash fire of unknown origin struck a two-story frame home at 283 E. Wilson this morning causing extensive damage.

Pontiac firemen said two persons inside the building were injured and rushed to a hospital.

Hospital officials said Theodore Herring of 283 E. Wilson was treated and released, while Sidney Cotton, same address, was held for observation. Neither received burns.

Four pieces of equipment were used to battle the fire which firemen believe started in the basement.

Detroit News Lays Off Its Clerical Staff

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit News, which has been shut down since mid-November by striking truck drivers, Friday laid off 300 clerical workers.

The News said some 325 editorial employes would not be affected by the layoff.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit Free Press, whose editorial and clerical workers are represented by the American Newspaper Guild, laid off all its union workers when it closed down the day after the News.

In another development, the Detroit Daily Dispatch, one of three interim newspapers threatened with a shutdown by the Teamsters, signed a contract with the union Friday.

ABDUCTED FROM SCHOOL — A daughter of heiress Mrs. Newton (Dolly Fritz) Cope was abducted from a private school in San Francisco yesterday by a man who police said answered the description of her father, Donald MacMasters. Taken was Isabelle MacMasters (right), 4, shown with her sister, Marguerite, 5. After struggling with her teacher, the man escaped with the child; both were seen at San Francisco International Airport before disappearing. The two girls were abducted last February and recovered by their mother later in Mexico, where MacMasters had been traced. Police said they had no information on the activities or whereabouts of MacMasters.

News Briefs From Wires

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk today said conflicting American and Communist pressures on his neutralist regime will largely tie his hands in talks with U.S. presidential envoy Chester W. Bowles here next week. "I have been caught between the Communist devil and the American deep sea," the Cambodian chief of state told a news conference. "My freedom of action will be greatly limited."

LBJ Hanged in Effigy

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — About 300 university students hanged President Johnson in effigy today and chanted anti-American slogans while waiting for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to come and talk to them. The students carried dozens of signs assailing the U. S. role in Vietnam, such as "Americans hands are red with the blood of Vietnamese children." Humphrey, delayed by a two-hour meeting with Emperor Haile Selassie, canceled plans to address the students. This caused one student leader to say: "We are very disappointed the vice president is not coming. We had no intention of making a violent demonstration. We just wanted him to know how we felt."

ACLU Files Draft Suit

DETROIT (UPI)—The American Civil Liberties Union has filed suit against the draft system, charging that Selective Service Director Gen. Lewis Hershey "insists on playing God . . . judge and jury to those persons subject to the Selective Service System." The ACLU filed the suit here yesterday. It challenges the constitutionality of Hershey's directive ordering local boards to reclassify young men who protest against the administration's handling of the Vietnam war. Ernest Mazey, director of the Michigan ACLU, said the directive has a "chilling and intimidating" effect on the constitutional rights of potential draftees.

Lunar Probe Tomorrow

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Surveyor 7, America's last unmanned lunar probe, is scheduled for launching early tomorrow toward a soft landing on one of the roughest spots of the moon — the highlands north of the crater Tycho. Launching of the Atlas-Centaur booster rocket was set for a favorable period between 12:55 a.m. and 3:12 a.m. EST. Surveyor 7 is the 29th U.S. moon shot in slightly more than nine years. The first 12 failed, but 13 of the last 16 were successful. No more unmanned moon rockets are planned, and the next American moon explorer should be man himself, perhaps in 1969.

French Hear LBJ Aide

PARIS (AP) — Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach explained President Johnson's five-point balance of payments program to top French officials today and said afterward he felt France supported the American program. But Katzenbach, Johnson's roving European emissary to enlist support for the balance of payments program, gave the impression that the French were not entirely satisfied. In a brief statement at Orly Airport before he left for London, Katzenbach said the French "expressed the hope that the President would secure his anti-inflation tax legislation in the States. They said this was essential. I would agree with them."

BEA Makes New Offer to Board of Education

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education's negotiating team has received another offer from the Birmingham Education Association (BEA).

However, according to representatives of both sides, little progress was made in a meeting Thursday between the two teams, latest in a series dating back to March.

Richard Zwieback, chief negotiator for the board, said the new BEA proposal was a presentation for a one-year contract totaling roughly twice the recommendations of state fact-finder Harry Casselman.

The proposed package, Zwieback said, amounted to approximately $400,000 more than an early November proposal that was later rejected by a poll of the teachers.

★ ★ ★

Another meeting between the two teams is scheduled for next week.

Registration for the winter adult education program will begin Monday.

Such varied courses as French, chair caning, cake decorating and knitting are among those to be offered during the upcoming term.

Registration may be made at the adult education department in the Hill Building, at Chester and Merrill, from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

★ ★ ★

Offerings are based on inquiries and requests from residents of the community. If there is sufficient interest, evening classes will be held for adults who wish to return on a part-time basis to complete requirements for a high school diploma.

Donald N. Frey, 1052 Waddington, vice president for product development at Ford Motor Co. and president of the Engineering Society of Detroit, was one of 14 receiving Centennial Medallion Award for civic leadership from Wayne State University at commencement exercises.

Lt. Gov. William Milliken has announced a new appointment to the State Board of Pharmacy, replacing Richard Wilson of Birmingham, whose term expired recently.

Contractors Misuse U.S. Goods--Senator

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., yesterday accused some of the nation's biggest defense contractors of misusing government-owned equipment. They included Boeing, Curtis-Wright, Bendix, Aerojet-General and Sperry Gyroscope.

Many of the companies, notified in advance by Proxmire that he was going to make the charges, immediately denied any wrong doing.

Proxmire named 21 companies and two universities — Chicago and Maryland — he said were investigated by the General Accounting Office (GAO) for alleged misuses of some of the $15 billion in government-owned buildings, machinery, test equipment and other property in the hands of holders of defense contracts.

He said the use of government-owned equipment for contractors' own private production was "costing the federal government over the years billions of dollars."

Proxmire stressed that the companies named were not "the black sheep of the industrial world."

'TYPICAL'

"These contractors are typical," he said. "They're no better or worse than others. They happened to be the ones investigated."

★ ★ ★

Proxmire provided reporters a copy of a statement by the Boeing Co., which said, "a review of the record will confirm that Boeing has consistently obtained approval for and adequately reimbursed the government" for the use of the government owned equipment in question.

DENIALS

Boeing and other denials were also made to the GAO.

$1,000 Reward Set in Milkman Killing

DETROIT (AP)— Twin Pines Farm Dairy has posted a $1,000 reward for information leading to the capture and conviction of the murderer of milkman Michael Marvin Kane, 58, of Detroit.

Kane was shot to death when two teen-agers attempted to rob his delivery van in Detroit Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

Police said that two youths who were held for questioning had been cleared in the fatal shooting. Police reported Friday night that no new leads have developed in the case.

Warren Firm Issues Denial

WARREN (AP) — A strong denial of any wrongdoing was issued Friday by the president of a Michigan firm included among 21 defense contractors accused of misusing costly government-owned property.

The 21 companies were named by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., at a news conference in Washington Friday. Included on the list was the Holley Carburetor Co. of Warren.

"It appears that the good senator has assumed that all 21 companies investigated were guilty. This we very strongly object to. It's guilty by association," said Milton J. Kittler, the company president.

Jersey Town Chops Delinquent Taxes

HAINESPORT TOWNSHIP, N.J. (UPI) — Hiring a karate expert as a special collector in a campaign by town fathers to gather delinquent taxes was reported today meeting with great success.

Fortunately, Maurice P. Doe, has not had to resort to karate to squeeze money out of the nonpayers.

But he may soon.

One citizen — owing $7 since 1962 — has promised to greet Doe with a 38-caliber bullet if he returns again to collect the money.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Kenneth E. Street hired Doe when the tax rolls of delinquent taxpayers continued to grow.

OUT OF HAND

"Taxes will be collected by hook or crook," the mayor said, "This tax problem in our community has completely gotten out of hand, and action will be taken."

Doe has already collected $14,000 — some of it owed since 1946 — and said he expects to get another $4,000 in a few days.

OU Starts Classes in New Optics Field

Oakland University began classes this week in an engineering course which has attracted national attention, according to John E. Gibson, dean of the university's School of Engineering.

"The program in coherent optics by Keeve M. Siegel and his associates at KMS Industries represents a service to the academic and industrial research community of the area," Gibson said.

"It will permit Oakland University to make available the latest advances in this exploding technology years earlier than would usually be the case."

The course, "Seminar in Coherent Optics," is presented by a group of top-level scientist-executives of KMS Industries of Ann Arbor.

KMS Industries, founded by Siegel a year ago, is pioneering in a number of scientific fields, including optics and electro-optical systems.

The long-time head of the University of Michigan Radiation Laboratory accepted the post of visiting professor of engineering at OU last summer.

Nine KMS Staffers from high corporation posts will assist Siegel as lecturers throughout the semester.

Richard E. Haskell, assistant professor of engineering at OU, coordinates the course and oversees the laboratory program, a vital and unique part of the course.

The 11-man teaching team has earned more than two dozen degrees, including a total of seven doctorates.

According to Siegel, the course covers a field of increasing scientific interest and has generated intense excitement in the worldwide research community.

Course topics include theory and applications of lasers, optical data processing, holography and optical detectors.

Siegel feels the seminar is pioneering in education in general as well as in the relatively uncharted field of coherent optics.

Through the Educational Division of KMS Industries, class lectures will be recorded on video tape and made available to universities throughout the world.

Chrysler of Canada Talks Due

DETROIT (AP)—United Auto Workers ofifcials meet today in Windsor, Ont., to map final plans for contract bargaining with Chrysler Canada Ltd. before a possible strike deadline later this month.

Meanwhile, talks were postponed in Detroit Friday between American Motors and the UAW. A union spokesman said negotiations on a new contract with the small U.S. auto maker, will resume sometime next week.

★ ★ ★

The UAW bargainers caucused Friday on a new contract offer made by AMC Wednesday, in which the company asked for a three-year contract, apparently with less benefits than were won recently by the Big Three auto makers. The union has proposed a one-year contract.

UAW leaders meet in Windsor with representatives from locals at Chrysler Canada Ltd. plants at Windsor, Ajax and Etobicoke, all in Ontario, today.

STRIKE TARGET

Chrysler Canada Ltd. was selected Thursday as the target company as the union said it wanted to break the impasse in negotiations with Chrysler, Ford and General Motors' subsidiaries in Canada. Contracts have been extended after they expired late last year.

George Burt, the union's Canadian director, said a strike deadline, possibly Jan. 15, will be set against Chrysler "if we find that the company is not prepared to bargain towards a settlement."

He said if it is felt that a settlement is forth coming within a few days after Jan. 15, the UAW may extend a strike date.

A strike is not considered a serious possibility, since both Chrysler and General Motors promised in their contract negotiations in America to bring wages up to an even level in Canada with those paid in the U.S.

CHELSEA STRIKE

In another development Friday, 270 salaried workers struck the Chrysler Proving Grounds at Chelsea, Mich., in a dispute over local issues.

Members of the United Auto Workers Engineering Local 412, the last of 78 white collar groups without a local contract, walked out due to unsettled issues on safety and outside contracting.

Local disputes involving production workers at Chrysler plants in St. Louis, Mo.; Newark, Del. and Belevedere, Ill., also have not been settled.

Hancock Mayor

HANCOCK (AP) — Daniel Arens, a fuel dealer, has been named mayor of Hancock, succeeding Harold Ruottinen. Arens was selected by the nine-man city commission. He previously served as mayor three years ago.

Romney Aide Looking Ahead

We'll Go for Broke in Primaries—Cross

LANSING (AP) — Travis Cross, personal political advisor to Gov. George Romney, already is looking beyond the New Hampshire primary to the one in Wisconsin.

Cross was asked to comment on some reports that Romney might withdraw from future primaries if he did not do well in New Hampshire as a Republican candidate for president.

"I won't even discuss the word 'withdraw'," Cross commented Friday. "We are going for broke in the New Hampshire and Wisconsin primaries."

Cross said Romney will open in New Hampshire next week with "the kind of person to person campaign that was so effective in Michigan."

OPTIMISTIC

"We believe that the people will respond to his philosophy," he said.

Cross was asked about Romney's complaints that he was receiving "a negative press" and if he thought that would hurt the Michigan governor.

"That remains to be seen," he observed. "I remember a fellow named Harry Truman had everyone against him—the press, pundits and politicians—everybody but the people."

Hearing Is Slated on Racing Funds

LANSING (AP) — The State Agriculture Department will hold a hearing Jan. 16 in Detroit on a proposed new regulation to spell out how state funds from pari-mutuel harness racing can be used for awards at agricultural fairs and shows. The hearing will be held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the Michigan Association of Fairs and Expositions.

To Take Stand on Challenge

McCarthy May Press Bobby

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, in an effort to get his slow-starting peace campaign into high gear, may press Sen. Robert F. Kennedy today to publicly take a stand on his challenge of President Johnson's war policies.

The Minnesota Democrat planned to invade Kennedy's home state of New York today to address a meeting of the coalition for a Democratic alternative.

Friends close to McCarthy note he appears increasingly resentful over the failure by either the New York senator or his brother, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., to endorse his presidential bid.

Some McCarthy intimates say he believes one reason he is having trouble getting his campaign moving is the failure of those who share his antiwar views — as the Kennedys generally do — to support his peace candidacy.

It was understood that McCarthy, feeling his anti-Vietnam campaign is crucial to the future of the nation, was considering openly challenging the Kennedys to state where they stand.

THREAT TO PARTY

Although he knows an open endorsement of him by Robert Kennedy would wrack the Democratic party, McCarthy believes Kennedy could come out for him without destroying the party or being drafted to take his place as the peace candidate.

Kennedy endorsed President Johnson for reelection until McCarthy announced his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination. At that point, Kennedy said he welcomed the debate that a Johnson-McCarthy contest would engender as "healthy" and added he could not take sides.

Kennedy, who differs with the President's Vietnam policies, said only that he would support the Democratic nominee. But as late as Thursday night, Kennedy told a San Francisco audience he expects to support Johnson's reelection.

Not only have the Kennedys failed to come to McCarthy's aid, so have such leading Vietnam doves as Sens. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., and Wayne L. Morse, D-Ore.

But McCarthy is reported to understand the plight of Fulbright and Morse, both facing tough battles for reelection in 1968. Besides, McCarthy doubts that even strong support from them could help his flagging campaign.

But the Minnesota senator feels that support from the brothers of President John F. Kennedy—neither of whom has to run this year — would have a major impact on his primary fight with Johnson.

He believes they would be particularly helpful in the New Hampshire primary March 12 and Massachusetts primary April 30.

Hanoi's Choice for Mediator Baffles Experts

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) — Hanoi's selection of Indonesia as a possible mediator in the current Vietnam peace soundings may indicate North Vietnam is acting without Communist Chinese approval or even in defiance of Peking.

Indonesia is one of Peking's major targets for propaganda attacks. Communist China broke relations with Jakarta after the smashing of Indonesia's pro-Peking Communist party by the ruling regime.

In 1965 the Indonesian Communists tried to take over the government and the number of persons massacred in the failure has been estimated up to half a million.

For Hanoi to approach Indonesia, of all nations, appears, therefore, one of the most mystifying develpments in the North Vietnamese Communists' puzzling peace offensive of the last few days.

Hanoi made the approach to Foreign Minister Adam Malik, reportedly the No. 1 anti-Peking Indonesian leader.

News Analysis

Neither Jakarta nor Hanoi has explained why Indonesia was approached.

DENIAL ISSUED

In Jakarta today Malik denied North Vietnam had approached Indonesia. But high-ranking foreign office and military officials said the approach had been made.

China experts say there can be no chance of Peking giving Hanoi a formal go-ahead for such a move. Moreover, the experts say, Hanoi has not asked Peking's approval.

All of which leads to the possibility that Hanoi is acting without Communist China's backing, if not in outright defiance of Peking, in selecting Indonesia as a potential mediator.

* * *

Hanoi's posture in relation to Peking and Moscow has been unclear for some time. Credible reports have said that North Vietnam's ruling regime was split into three camps—pro-Peking, pro-Moscow and middle-of-the-road.

* * *

Lately Hanoi appeared leaning ideologically toward Moscow, especially since Communist China's cultural revolution upset many of the pro-Peking North Vietnamese. Thus, North Vietnam sent a delegation to Moscow's 50th Bolshevik Revolution anniversary celebrations, which Peking brushed off.

And, the Soviet Union is the main supplier of sophisticated weapons Hanoi needs in the war against the United States.

Firearm Law Seen Ally of Lawless

A thoughtful letter that recently appeared in our Voice of the People section protests the restrictive legislation on individual acquisition of firearms that is under consideration in Congress, and points out that it contravenes the right of personal protection provided by the Second Amendment to the Constitution.

We are in full agreement with our correspondent's views and find, in a somewhat different context, concurrence with the essence of them in a recent address by Wayne Circuit Judge EDWARD S. PIGGINS, a former Detroit police commissioner.

★ ★ ★

Asserting that the community must have relief from the depredations of the criminal element, the jurist declared that authority must be established to permit police to stop and search suspicious individuals or gangs, confiscate weapons and prosecute offenders.

If this were done, PIGGINS predicted, street crime would drop 50 per cent.

"Moreover," he said, "the courts must not lose sight of the fact that society and the complainant have just as many rights as the accused.

"As a judge, I would be the first to safeguard the rights of the accused, but what about the rights of the citizen who lies in the street with a knife in his back, a bullet in his chest, or a gash in his head?"

★ ★ ★

It is time, as our VOP letter stresses, that more legislation be enacted for protection of the lawabiding rather than laws that strengthen the hand of the criminal.

The restrictive firearm legislation so relentlessly advocated by some members of Congress is just such an instrument. It would serve mainly to impede procurement by private citizens of legitimate means of self protection while imposing no such restraint on the lawless who, experience has shown, are capable of obtaining firearms, law or no law.

U.S. Economic Strength Sustains Its Gold Price

The great gold rush of 1967 appears to have petered out.

Gold-buying fever among speculators, touched off by Britain's devaluation of the pound, continues but at greatly diminished pitch. The United States, in cooperation with seven "gold pool" nations of Europe, remains firm in its policy of buying gold at $35 an ounce.

Through it all, the average American is left knowing about as much about the yellow metal as he did before—that it makes excellent dental fillings, that it is illegal to hold it (except in one's mouth) and that in some mysterious way it is flowing out of this country.

★ ★ ★

Although there is a serious balance of payments problem, very little gold actually leaves our shores, says New Front magazine. When it is used to pay a foreign bill, it is merely a matter of moving it from the New York Assay Office (having previously been sent there from the Fort Knox Depository) to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

There the gold is simply stored again, five stories below the street and 50 feet below sea level, in 120 compartments leased to 70 foreign nations. A foreign nation can have its gold transferred to its own soil but rarely does so (France is an exception).

There is an estimated $64 billion worth of gold in the world today, says the magazine, and more than 41 per cent of it is in the U.S.A. Some $8.5 billion of it is in Fort Knox and another $13.5 billion in the Federal Reserve Bank of New York—the two greatest concentrations in the world.

Using conventional methods, gold mining in the United States is generally unprofitable today. Since 1934, when the price of $35 an ounce was established, miners' wages have tripled, the cost of mining timber has quintupled and the cost of dynamite has more than doubled.

In 1966, Congress appropriated $9.5 million to the U.S. Geological Survey for research into new methods of extracting gold and other rare metals from low-grade deposits. Meanwhile, a strong "gold lobby" in Washington urges a gold subsidy bill to aid domestic producers.

Retirement Fund Is in Jeopardy

By EVERETT McKINLEY DIRKSEN

When you finish reading this column you may suspect why some of us in Congress could be worried about the future of Social Security.

Sometimes you can gain a clear picture of a very complicated big thing — such as Social Security and its many millions of beneficiaries, present and future — if you can understand a somewhat similar thing, such as the Civil Service Retirement Fund.

DIRKSEN

I ask a question: Do the more than 3 million people who have retired, or who expect to retire, from civilian employment in the government know that their Civil Service Retirement Fund is in jeopardy and that it could be bankrupt within 20 years?

When you regularly pay the premiums on an insurance policy, you may properly and confidently expect that, when the policy matures, the money due you or your beneficiary is ready and waiting for payment in the insurance company's trust fund or reserve.

If the examiners discovered that the fund was unsound and would not pay out, the state insurance commissioner would very promptly call the company on the carpet.

If there was negligence, wrongdoing or some other reason to indicate blame and culpability on the part of the insurance company, the insurance commissioner would take swift action against it.

But when an agency of the United States government takes money every month from 3 million federal civilian employes to assure them a retirement pension, and then finds itself headed toward the road to bankruptcy, apparently nobody is called upon for an accounting.

★ ★ ★

How come? You say.

In 1920 Congress enacted a Civil Service Retirement System. Under the system, all civilian employes of the federal government would have 2½ per cent withheld from their monthly paychecks to be matched by another 2½ per cent from the U. S. Treasury.

This money was to be placed in the Civil Service Retirement Trust Fund and invested almost entirely in government bonds.

It was expected that the fund would be so administered it could fully pay out at any given time to all those who had pensions coming. Everybody was happy about such an arrangement for federal employes.

★ ★ ★

Then something happened. The Congress, for reasons too readily explained in 1968, became negligent and failed to always appropriate the matching share for deposit in the trust fund.

Sometimes it appropriated only a token amount. This sort of thing went on for years and the result is precisely what you think.

As of today, using round figures, the United States government owes the Civil Service Retirement Fund the sum of $42 billion. This huge sum is necessary if the fund is to be kept actuarilly sound.

The Civil Service Retirement Board knows this quite well.

Over the years, some sporadic efforts have been made to appropriate not only what was called for under the law, but sometimes even larger amounts, so that the government's deficit could be liquidated.

Somehow, because of continuing deficits in the national budget, the efforts never succeeded. And so today you have the spectacle of a fund administered by the federal government itself which, in the words of the chairman of the retirement board, is headed for bankruptcy.

★ ★ ★

If any private insurance company undertook such dideos a grand jury would quickly investigate to ascertain whether the negligence was criminal, and assess the blame where it belonged and then bring the culprits to heel.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, as this vast government establishment goes blithely on its way while the deficit grows, I ask: "Is this any way to run a railroad?"

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Mrs. Hubert Humphrey, wife of the vice president of the United States lives a life of faith. Her devotion to her children extends to all children around the world. She was involved with the problems of the handicapped even before her granddaughter, Vicky, was born a mongoloid.

Mrs. Humphrey's mission has been to open hearts and eyes to the needs and love of the mentally retarded. This she has done officially and personally wherever she goes.

Speaking of Vicky she says: "She has taught our family to mean more to each other. I gain strength from my children and grandchildren. In raising a family, those precious moments come along when they say some little thing that makes everything right with the world."

The only advice Mrs. Humphrey gives on the handling of the problems of retardation is: "Take first things first one day at a time."

Confident Living:

Win the Struggle With Yourself

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Funny how most of us have some secret frustrated ambition. Well, all my life I have wanted to be a mountain climber. In Austria, Italy and Switzerland I have often watched men scaling the enormous peaks, and I have talked with some veteran climbers by the hour.

DR. PEALE

Mountain climbers are a rare breed. In Switzerland they say of the Grindelwald mountain guides that they look old in their youth and young in their old age. Curious but there is really something timeless about climbers and their way of life.

In our country, too, more people than you might think go clambering up mountainsides. For example, most every weekend along the Shawangunk Ridge, a long cliff 50 miles or so from New York City, sweating and straining amateur mountaineers are at work.

From there you can graduate to the White Mountains and then go on to the Rockies. There are some few who climb the 3,000 feet of perpendicular rock called the "Nose" of El Capitan in the Yosemite.

★ ★ ★

The western national parks of the United States and Canada are full of mountains. Edward Whymper who made the first ascent of the Matterhorn said of the Rockies, they are "sixty Switzerlands in one."

An English writer, A. Alvarez, writes about some thrilling experiences. Climbing in the Italian Dolomites he and a companion were stranded overnight on a shallow ledge 1,500 feet up on an overhanging rock wall.

A wet cold storm had overtaken them. Their outer clothing soon froze. Without food or extra clothing they realized they must not fall asleep. Body temperature lowers dangerously in sleep. To keep awake each told stories to the other and tried to sing.

★ ★ ★

Now and then they would slap each other on back and chest to promote circulation. In the frigid starlight could be dimly discerned the hazy dark-bluish landscape far below.

In the morning light the two men looked up at the 500 feet of rock overhang still to be climbed. It was sheeted with ice! When finally the climbers made it to the top they were exhausted, battered — at the absolute end of endurance.

"But," says Alvarez, "that is in itself something. After all, to know how much you can take is a form of valuable self-knowledge. And more important were the resources we had to call on — the doggedness that prevented us from simply giving up.

★ ★ ★

"At no point did we feel we were fighting the mountain: the battle was only with ourselves." As he sums it up: "The pleasure is in doing something difficult, something that extends your concentration and effort and resources, without your losing control."

That I suppose is what makes the mountaineer, the secret of his fascination. And also it is what makes any person dynamic and alive.

Hardships and dangers seem to repeatedly force the mountain climber to battle fear and exhaustion — to focus his whole being on every move — to think and be in complete command of everything he does. He never gives up. Life is always a very immediate dynamic experience for him.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps something of this was what the great naturalist John Muir had in mind when he commented, "Thousands of nerve-shaken, overcivilized people are beginning to find out that going to the mountains is going home."

This conflict with self in mountain climbing carries over to life itself. One of the greatest of life's victories is gaining control over yourself. Being pushed around by a disorganized, vapid self is neither efficient nor happy.

And in the struggle for self-mastery you increasingly gain conscious power — you come alive. Tennyson put it this way: "Self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control. These three alone lead life to sovereign power."

★ ★ ★

Who doesn't have a problem with himself at times? The self can really get you down. And often it is easy to think: "I am sick of struggling," and give in to discouragement thoughts. But to do that is a terrible injustice to yourself. No one has to give up ever.

In fact, H. G. Wells, the writer, thinks it would not be good any other way. He said, "What on earth would a man do with himself if something did not stand in his way?" It would be a pretty dull life without struggle, wouldn't it?

Self-mastery requires perseverance and doggedness. It will never develop if you give up the struggle. And remember, life is only worth living when you are really master of yourself — when you've got yourself under control. As Emerson said, "The controlled man is the powerful man."

'Many Elderly Citizens Need City Bus Service'

Why doesn't the City do something about the buses—either raise the fare or not run them as often? Lots of elderly people who have retired and widows depend on these buses for transportation to their doctors and to do their shopping.

We need this bus service. People on Social Security cannot afford cabs. Everybody doesn't have a car or two in his driveway.

Urge Attendance at Reorganization Meeting

There have always been parents who are not interested in what their children do at school but we feel there are also interested ones. When a December PTA reorganization meeting for Blanche Sims and the intermediate schools in Lake Orion brought out only a few such parents, a second reorganization meeting was called for January. We hope a good number of those interested parents will be present to help make this PTA a useful one.

Gives Views on Recent Shooting Incident

I believe in law and order. Jimmie King's death could have been avoided if the officers had been cooler and really up on their training. The chief stated Jimmie's long criminal record. Did the officers know this when they were shooting at the car? He also stated when Jimmie jumped out of the car it endangered lives. It seems that shooting at the car in a residential or commercial area endangers more lives.

★ ★ ★

I think we have some of the best police officers in the United States. Each of these officers could possibly have caught Jimmie or wounded him in the foot or leg. They have to live with their consciences and stand before a just God.

Comments on Springfield Township Taxes

The assessed value of my property in Springfield Township has increased more than four times that of last year. I realize that a reassessment was ordered and that the property is now assessed at one-half of its market value; however, can the value of my property increase by $12,200 in one year? On this property, located in a sparsely settled area where there is little industry, is a 100-year-old house. I will pay this tax under protest. I have sought a meeting with the board of assessors but they do not meet until March and taxes are due February 15.

Disagrees That Churches Should Be Taxed

The church should not be taxed. The church is universal and should be able to go anywhere, working to alleviate the suffering of the victims of man's inhumanity to man. The church is the people, all of whom are overtaxed in order to keep freedom of religion, to worship as they choose, to be made aware of the needs of suffering humanity and to offer material assistance to reduce suffering.

★ ★ ★

If all churches were more fully able to support scriptural commands; if more people who call themselves Christian would commit themselves to the work of the church, and if those who cry "churches are big business, tax them," would learn what Christianity stands for, they would learn that the church is already taxed to capacity in its work for humanity. If all decriers and corruptionists would desist and join the ranks of the church, there would be no war in Vietnam nor would guns be raised to kill.

Replies to Complaint About School Taxes

A recent letter asked why older taxpayers should pay school taxes when their children were grown and out of school. This sounds pretty selfish when other taxpayers have paid taxes for their children.

★ ★ ★

Do they realize that many of these same students they are helping are giving their lives to protect our own way of living and our security both at home and abroad? These young people are also preparing to take over when we can't.

★ ★ ★

I do not begrudge one cent I spend for their education. I only hope they can be educated in the right way and that everyone will take an interest and see that they are.

'Citizens Should Encourage Our Policemen'

Citizens of Pontiac should be upholding and encouraging our policemen in enforcing the law, instead of condemning. They have a very dangerous job and if those who are complaining think they can do the job better, why don't they start training to be a policeman? Maybe it's because they're too cowardly, or perhaps their past and present records wouldn't qualify them.

Junior Editors Quiz on MISSIONS

QUESTION: Why are there so many missions in California?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Part of the reason for the voyage of Columbus—which led to the discovery of America—was to carry Christianity to distant parts of the earth. After the Spaniards were established in Mexico, they decided to move north into California and sent a remarkable Franciscan missionary, Father Junipero Serra, along with the expedition, for the purpose of converting the Indians.

Father Serra, a man of heroic character, paid no attention to an incurable wound in one foot and began to establish missions, beginning with San Diego in 1769. In all, 21 missions were founded by the Spaniards.

Soon, orchards and gardens began to bloom; Indians were given work such as weaving, farming or building; herds of farm animals were raised; and a period of prosperity began.

But Mexico broke loose from Spain and, after 1825, decided to sell the mission properties which it had taken over. So began the end of California's great mission period.

Yet the memory of this period lingers. Many of the beautiful buildings remain and have been restored, giving inspiration and enjoyment to countless visitors. Many come to see the swallows return to San Juan Capistrano.

Training School Is Target

LANSING (AP)—Reacting to recent stories of unreported violence at the Lansing Boys Training School, a Republican state representative said Friday he believes there should be a full investigation of security arrangements at the institution.

"Recent claims that BTS officials are reporting only a small percentage of violent outbreaks at the institution deserve to be fully explored," Brown said.

★ ★ ★

The Lansing State Journal said earlier this week that only one of "perhaps eight outbreaks of violence" in a maximum security building at the school during the past year was reported to State Police.

"Not even R. Bernard Houston, director of the State Social Services Department, had been apprised of the outbreaks at the (institution) which is under his care," the paper said.

'MOST CONCERNED'

Brown said he was most concerned that Houston had not been told of the outbreaks.

"I'm sure that if Mr. Houston had been informed of this situation, as he should have been, he would have taken steps to offer greater protection to BTS employes and Lansing citizens living near the training school," he said.

"I hope Mr. Houston's office will look into this matter carefully and take appropriate action."

★ ★ ★

Houston said he didn't know anything about the incidents but added, "I'm interested in this."

Senior Citizen Is Annoyed at Her Neighbors

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of "Emily Post's Etiquette" has been sent to Mrs. Claude Miller of Hamburg, Pa.

Dear Mrs. Post: We are senior citizens, living in a row home, and have a color TV we cannot fully enjoy. Often some of the neighbors drop in to watch it, and I don't mind if it is a program we are already watching.

But too often they ask us if we mind switching to another channel. Certainly we mind! I have even told them point-blank that we don't watch that program because we don't care for it.

They sit down and proceed to tell us how much they enjoy it in black and white, and that it would be so much nicer in color, and would we turn it on for them. So we end up turning it on. Then they ask us to turn the volume up, and the combination is more than I can stand.

I often go into the kitchen and iron, or bake a cake, to get away from the racket. What can we do besides selling the set? — Mrs. Miller.

Dear Mrs. Miller: You certainly do have nervy neighbors! Maybe it's a compliment to you that they feel so welcome in your home, but they have turned friendliness and informality into an imposition.

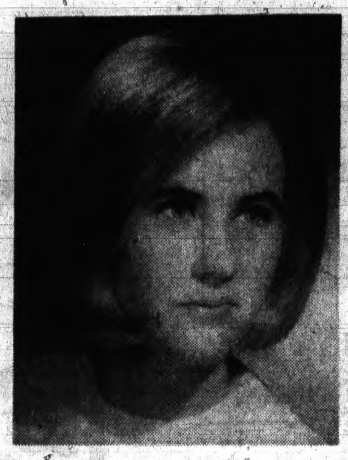
You have only one solution — firmness. The next time they ask you to change the channel you must say politely but firmly, "I'm sorry, but I want to see the rest of this show," or whatever applies — and stick to your guns.

If you will do this firmly and consistently, they will soon either stop "dropping in," or will content themselves with your choice.

Dear Mrs. Post: I read your article in which "Rhonda" asked what to answer when friends say "God bless you." I recently heard a reply that I believe is beautiful and fitting if said in sincerity.

When I said "God bless you" to a young friend, she replied, "Thank you, and may you share in it." —Mrs. Prymula.

Dear Mrs. Prymula: Thank you for sending me this lovely answer to "God bless you." I hasten to pass it on again and urge all my readers to use it — sincerely!



Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gerhard of North Glengarry Street, Bloomfield Township announce the engagement of their daughter, Jo Ann, to Thomas Austin Patterson. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Patterson of Birmingham. The bride elect, a graduate of Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., is currently attending Western Michigan University. Her fiance is a student at Ferris State College.

Kathleen Ann Smith and Robert John Bishop, both seniors at Central Michigan University, are planning a late August wedding. Parents of the engaged couple are the Floyd Smiths of Lake Oakland Shores Drive and the John Bishops of Chesaning.

Applications are being accepted for the 1968 Young Artist Award Competition of the Oakland, Calif. Symphony Orchestra. A cash award of $1,000 plus solo performances on a set of three subscription concerts with the Symphony during the 1968-69 season will go to the winner.

★ ★ ★

This year's competition is open to all string players(violin, viola and cello) of professional caliber under age 28. There is no minimum age limit or residence requirement.

★ ★ ★

Information and application forms may be obtained by writing Young Artist Award Chairman, Mrs. William Denny, Oakland Symphony Orchestra Association, 601 Latham Square Building, Oakland, Calif. 94612. Entry deadline is Feb. 1.

Carlos Montoya to Play in Detroit

Carlos Montoya, world famous master of the flamenco guitar, will be soloist at the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's Kresge Concert on Tuesday, at 8:30 p.m. in Ford Auditorium. Sixten Ehrling will be on the podium.

OWN COMPOSITION

Montoya will make his first appearance with the Symphony. He will perform his own "Suite Flamenca" (a suite for guitar and orchestra) and four solos. About his "Suite Flamenca," Montoya says, "This was the culmination of a 25-year ambition of mine. I don't read music and always felt that Flamenco music comes from the essence of Flamenco. But it has been in the back of my mind for many years to try and transcribe this idiom into written music."

★ ★ ★

The program will also include Bizet's "Carmen Suite," Rimsky-Korsakoff's "Capriccio Espagnol," and Ravel's "Rapsodie Espagnol."

★ ★ ★

Tickets at $2.00 and $1.50 are available at Ford Auditorium Box Office, all 15 metropolitan Grinnell's stores, and Hudson's.

★ ★ ★

A Spanish Gypsy born in Madrid, Carlos Montoya demonstrated his innate musical brilliance while still a lad and by the age of 14 was the toast of the "cafe cantantes" during the hey-day of Flamenco singing and dancing.

★ ★ ★

The first Flamenco guitarist ever to dare to display his artistry in a solo concert, he has been hailed by aficionados everywhere as one of the truly great masters of our time. One of the most interesting things about Carlos Montoya's recitals is that he creates as he goes along.

★ ★ ★

Always an innovator, he never plays an arrangement of his without adding something new.

Save the Day With a Cable First, Followed by Long, Detailed Letter

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We are in a terrible mess. My 15-year-old daughter, Tessie, has been corresponding with an English pen pal (a boy) for about a year and a half. He is 18. Tessie got his name from some "Hands Across The Sea" program at school.

ABBY

Anyway, it seems that Tessie told him that we were very well to do. (We certainly are not!) She made life here sound so attractive that this boy is coming here! He is going to work his way over on a freighter and says he will stay with us until he gets "situated." This could be a matter of months, Abby.

We live in a three-bedroom house. My husband and I and the baby in one room, the four boys in another room, and Tessie and her three sisters in the third room. And my mother sleeps on a cot in the living room. How can we head off this English boy? I am a nervous wreck and am about ready to slaughter Tessie.

WRECK

★ ★ ★

DEAR WRECK: A four-word cable to England might by a cheap investment. "DELAY TRIP. LETTER FOLLOWS." In your letter explain, that you are unable to put him up, so unless he can make other arrangements for housing "until he gets situated," he had better reconsider.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My son (I'll call him James) is 17. A week ago he came down with a body rash so I sent him to a skin specialist. The doctor examined the boy, gave him a lamp treatment, and told him to come back on Monday for another treatment. James now says that he will not go back. My husband finally got the boy to tell him why.

Well, it seems that James had to undress completely and lie on his back under some sort of lamp for the treatment. The doctor turned the lamp on, then left the room and sent in a nurse who was not much older than James.

He said this girl stood beside the table the whole 15 minutes while he was having the lamp treatment and he had never been so embarrassed in all his life. There was a timer on the lamp and she didn't have to DO anything, but she just stood there anyway.

★ ★ ★

My husband agreed with James, and says that I should phone the doctor, explain the situation and ask him to give the boy the treatment himself. I say the doctor will think that I am crazy. After all, he hired that girl to perform such services and he will certainly not stand there for 15 minutes himself.

We are still not in agreement over this. Would you be kind enough to give us your opinion?

JAMES' MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Call the doctor and tell him how your son feels. I think it's a perfectly normal reaction and a valid complaint.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: After going with a guy for four years, we are now officially engaged to be married in four months. He has always been fickle, and he excuses it all by saying that he is just a guy who likes girls.

With our wedding date set, he still cheats on me. I know he does because I have proof, and when he can't lie out of it, he admits it. Then he says he isn't married yet, which is true, of course, but I still don't like it.

He has no good reason to chase after other girls because I can give him as much affection as he wants. What do you think?

ENGAGED

DEAR ENGAGED: I think you are engaged to a guy who "likes girls" — and always will. Either get use to it, or get rid of him.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO JERRI: I just read your 34-page letter and shall send you a personal reply when you send me your address. In the meantime, if you wish to cry over spilt milk, next time—please condense it.

★ ★ ★

Troubled? Write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056. For a personal reply, inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

New Fashions Hurt Wallet, Curves

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor

NEW YOUK (AP) — If skirts go down, prices will go up, and if waistlines go in, then hips may spread out.

★ ★ ★

That is the way things looked Thursday at the spring style previews for the fashion press conducted by the New York Couture Group.

★ ★ ★

As a model in a $325 cotton coat and dress strode the runway, manufacturer Vincent Monte-Sano said that new union contracts and higher fabric costs had already driven the cost of women apparel up by 20 per cent.

COST

By spring, he said, the high cost of being chic may soar to nearly a third more than it was last year. And that is in the age of the miniskirt, which does not take much footage to cover the requirements.

"God help us if hemlines go down," Monte-Sano said, speaking only from the point of view of prices. "Adding a half yard or a yard to those bulky midiskirts will really add to their cost."

To men who pay the clothing bills at any rate, that seemed to be a practical reason for keeping the legwatching game going strong.

★ ★ ★

If women's waistlines grew on the average by two inches without the construction of belts,—as it was reported Wednesday that they had—then the seating equipment seemed due for expansion.

★ ★ ★

Midriffs are nipped in with tucks, sashes and elasticized sheering, but below the beltline all restraint had been removed. As long as she has a little middle, an ungirdled girl can grow round at the tummy or bulge at the bottom without anyone being the wiser.

★ ★ ★

Hips are hiding under rows of knife pleats, fan pleats or box pleats. Or they are given all the room they want — or may take — under dresses with deep double or triple pleats in the skirt center back and front.

KNITS

Once knits would tell no lies. They bulged, cupped or sagged to confess figure sins of the wearer.

★ ★ ★

However, designer Francesca for Damon proved that the new knits are kinder. There is no bulky, angular or insistent lines to conflict with the body's ways. Skirts flare from the waist line, or fall in folds from the bosom. All the pleating of other fabrics is there to keep figure secrets.

Virginia Graham, Speaker

"There Goes What's-Her-Name," is the tongue-in-cheek title of the biography of Virginia Graham. It also serves as the topic for her appearance Wednesday as guest speaker at Pontiac Oakland Town Hall.

★ ★ ★

Miss Graham is a graduate of the University of Chicago where she was awarded a Phi Beta Kappa Key. She has an M.A. in journalism from Northwestern University.

VIRGINIA GRAHAM

Miss Graham makes more than 100 personal appearances all over the country each year. She has been made an honorary citizen of many of the states.

In 1947, Virginia was one of 14 women to found the Women's Division of the Cerebral Palsy Foundation.

For four years she starred five afternoons a week on her own TV show, "Food for Thought." For the past four years she has been moderator of a syndicated TV show.

BACKGROUND

Virginia replaced Margaret Truman as hostess on NBC's "Week Day" — comoderating the four-hour daily radio show with Mike Wallace. She has made numerous appearances on the former Jack Paar show, Merv Griffin show and others. Her life story is now in its fifth printing.

The story of how Virginia Graham, a victim of cancer, conquered the dread disease with courage and laughter, was brought to the attention of the TV audience when Ralph Edwards honored her on "This Is Your Life."

The program begins at 10:30 a.m. at the Huron Theatre. The celebrity luncheon at Devon Gables is sold out.

Pauline Trigere designs navy for the two-fold jacket and the two-fold flary skirt in Poult de Wool. Geranium for the top of the dress and the wide contour belt.

A large silver Byzantine buckle on a wide belt is a dramatic accent on an off white wool costume from Stravropoulos' spring 1968 collection. Underneath the softly flared jacket is a sleeveless back panel dress.

Just right to add charm for the small foyer or other area difficult to decorate.

WE WORRY ABOUT YOU
When we fill your prescriptions we feel a very real concern for your health. Preparations that relieve pain, calm the anxious, control spasm, and reduce high blood pressures may also make you less alert at the steering wheel of your car. Frequently the very condition for which you are being treated may be a handicap to safe driving. Undoubtedly your physician has discussed these matters with you. We hope you are remembering his advice. Please don't "Accidentally" cause us to worry more than we already do.

A report on the success of a city wide party for Beta Sigma Phis held recently at Bay Pointe Golf Club, was given Tuesday evening before members of Iota Nu chapter, by Mrs. James Schimp, president.

The meeting was held in the Shelly Drive home of Mrs. Hawke.

Auto Available?

For most people transportation is as quick and available as the car in their own garage. But for the blind, ill or handicapped individual, even the necessity of keeping doctor appointments and treatment sessions becomes a real problem.

★ ★ ★

The Oakland County Volunteer Bureau is actively urging all adult men and women and retirees, with any free time and a car, to volunteer as drivers for patients needing their services. All over Oakland County there are children, adults and the elderly who desperately need rides to hospitals, clinics and counseling agencies.

★ ★ ★

This is a rewarding opportunity for the volunteer in terms of community service and personal satisfaction. Interested people should call the Oakland County Volunteer Bureau in Birmingham.

Chiefs Tumble in Overtime; Orion Surprises Romeo

Central Pushes Loop Leader to Extra Sessions in Setback

BY FLETCHER SPEARS

Basketball fans have been getting their money's worth lately at Pontiac Central games.

It was just a week ago that the Chiefs were pushed into double overtime before subduing Pontiac Northern, 82-79.

They were forced to work overtime again last night but the payoff wasn't the same as they dropped a 73-68 verdict to the up-and-coming Midland Chemics.

Like the PNH contest, this one went two overtimes and the victory kept Midland atop the Saginaw Valley Conference race with a 4-0 record. The Chiefs are on the other end at 0-4.

★ ★ ★

The game left a lot to be desired from the standpoint of quality, but most of the mistakes by both squads can be attributed to the long holiday layoff.

PLENTY OF EXCITEMENT

On the other hand, there was excitment and plenty of it. Some scrambling in the final minute of regulation enabled the Chiefs to deadlock the game at 57, and more of the same helped them to delay defeat by tying the contest at 64 in the first overtime.

★ ★ ★

But the second extra session was all Midland's. Led by ace Dave MacDonald, who scored seven of the Chemics' 16 points in the overtimes, Midland rang up seven straight points to take a 71-64 lead before Central could connect in the final period.

Despite the loss, the Chiefs showed a lot of hustle and desire as they wiped out a hefty Midland lead in the fourth quarter to send the game into overtime.

Trailing 49-37 early in the fourth, the Chiefs whittled away at the lead and finally tied it when forward Walter Causey stole the ball at midcourt and laid the ball in with 15 seconds left. And, PCH almost won it when Louis McNair stole the ball moments later and went in for a layup with six seconds remaining, but he was called for traveling and the turnover nullified the bucket.

★ ★ ★

A basket by Frank Russell, who paced the Chiefs with 26 points, and a free throw by Alton Wilson, who scored 19, pushed PCH to a 60-57 lead at the start of the first overtime, but Midland roared back and eventually took a 64-62 lead of a pair of free throws by Mac Donald.

DEADLOCKS GAME

McNair then came through with his biggest bucket of the night, a 12-footer from the left side with six seconds left to deadlock the game at 64.

★ ★ ★

MacDonald was the big gun for the Chemics. He collected 10 field goals and hit on 11 of 12 attempts at the free throw line.

Actualy, Midland won the game at the charity line. The visitors hit on 21 of 27 while the Chiefs managed only 14 of 26.

Helping MacDonald with the scoring chores were Gary Adams (13) and Chris Young (12), a 6-5 center, who just returned to action after recovering from an ankle injury suffered in the first game of the season.

The loss left PCH with an over-all record of 2-4. Midland is 5-1.

Missing from the PCH lineup was starting guard Ardell Shelton, out with pneumonia.

PNH Wrestlers Down Flint Foes

Pontiac Northern and Flint Northwestern divided the first six decisions, then the Huskies won five of the final six to take a 28-14 wrestling victory last night at Flint.

Ken Corr of the Huskies scored a pin in the 165-pound event to clinch the win, and teammate Mario Castillo pinned his heavyweight opponent to cap the unbeaten PNH squad's victory.

Bill Green (120), Ben Moon (127), Joe Gonzales (138), John Willson (145) and Al Morris (154) had lopsided victories by decisions for the Huskies, and Leroy Gutierrez (103 pounds) won a close 3-2 verdict.

PNH's reserves won, 34-12.

RO Shrine Rolls Over Dearborn Quints, 61-47

The Knights of Royal Oak Shrine ran past Dearborn Divine Child last night, 61-47, to push their record for the season to 4-3.

Paul Seymour and Wayne Hambell paced the attack with 15 points a piece, while teammate Mickey Brzezinski tossed in 14. Ed Puishes paced the losers with 20 markers.

Bulldogs Suffer First Setback; Dragons Gain Tie for Lead

By DON VOGEL

Lake Orion's Dragons breathed new fire into the Oakland A basketball race last night by accomplishing what just about everyone said couldn't be done.

They defeated Romeo on the Bulldogs' floor, and the victory was more convincing than the 59-55 finale indicates.

★ ★ ★

It was Romeo's first loss after six successes and dropped the Bulldogs into a tie for first place in the O-A with Lake Orion and Troy.

★ ★ ★

The Dragons did the three necessary things to down Romeo:

1) Stop the Bulldogs' fast-break; 2) force Romeo to shoot from outside; 3) and most important—battle the Bulldogs at least even on the boards.

Orion controlled the backboards in the first half with Bill Foss and Paul Bailey leading the way. This enabled the Dragons to grab a 33-21 halftime lead.

MADE COMEBACK

Romeo, sparked by Donnell Craft, started a comeback in the third period that eventually was to make the game close in the final minutes. Two straight layups by Dan Burzynski pulled Romeo even at 51 for the first time in the game, but Foss hit a jumper and followed with a free throw with 1:53 to play to pull Orion in front to stay.

With 52 seconds remaining, Foss finally broke Romeo with a picture pass to Jack Adkins breaking underneath. Adkins dropped in the layup for a 57-53 lead and Foss was fouled moments later. He converted both tries.

Orion wouldn't have needed the final heroics if the Dragons had made their free throws earlier in the fourth period. They missed the first try of four one-and-ones, missed the second twice and failed to convert once on a two-try situation.

Romeo was badly handicapped by fouls in the fourth period. Craft (6-6) went out with 6:05 to play; Roger Ross (6-5) was sidelined with a couple of minutes to play; and Burzynski (6-7) fouled out in the last minute.

SCORING HONORS

Clyde Cushingberry, the Bulldogs' high-scoring guard, had four fouls and sat out much of the third period. He finished with 18 points to tie Orion's Foss for game honors. Bailey and Burzynski each scored 15.

Orion, now 5-1 overall, slammed the lid on Romeo's fast-break in the first quarter by taking control of the boards. The Dragons, sparked by Bailey's three fielders, moved in front, 9-4, but the Bulldogs rallied as Cushingberry dropped in three long one-handers to cut their deficit to 13-12 going into the second period.

The Bulldogs, who needed almost three minutes to score in the opening stanza, started just as slowly in the second. A pair of free throws by Cushingberry after 3½ minutes was the first Romeo score in the second.

WELL AHEAD

By then, the Dragons were ahead 21-14. Even the loss of 6-7 Gary Mize, who had four fouls and was benched with six minutes remaining in the half, didn't deter the Dragons.

Foss, Adkins and Bailey battled the Bulldogs even on the boards, Orion's defense forced Romeo outside and the Bulldogs made only three of 13 field goal tries.

Meanwhile, Foss, Tim Daigle and Rick Toles were connecting off a set offense.

Orion quickly upped its margin to 39-25 in the third quarter. Cushingberry drew his fourth foul and was benched. This seemed to ignite Craft who led the Bulldogs' charge by being floor general, top rebounder and dropping in three baskets.

★ ★ ★

Orion's lead was down to 46-38 going into the last stanza. Romeo continued to charge behind the stellar play of Craft and quickly paired that deficit in half. But Craft fouled out.

The Dragons started missing free throws, took a couple of poor shots, committed a couple of turnovers and Romeo managed to catch up but only briefly.

Kettering Outsails Vikings

Farmington '5' Victim of Rally by Plymouth

Gaining a slim advantage in every period, the Captains of Kettering outsailed the Vikings of Walled Lake last night on the basketball court, 65-53.

It was the fourth loss in a row for the Vikings (1-4), while the triumph was the fourth straight for the Captains (4-1) after a season-opening one-point loss to North Farmington.

Walled Lake, 0-2, in Inter-Lakes League play, will return to league competition next Friday against Farmington, a 66-62 loser last night at Plymouth.

Kettering jumped in front in the first period, 14-10, and upped the lead to eight points at intermission, 29-21.

★ ★ ★

Bill Penoza tossed in 10 of his 18 points in the third period to spark the Captains to an 18-15 edge and they finished the game with an 18-17 advantage in the fourth period.

TOPS SCORERS

Penoza's 18 points topped the Kettering attack, while teammate Pete Evans helped out with 17. Joe O'Connor added 12.

★ ★ ★

Leading the Vikings was Greg Fogle with 18.

Farmington, with a 2-7 record, looked like a winner in building a 36-27 lead at halftime, but the home squad caught fire in the third period to take a one-point lead and held off the Falcons in the final frame.

A 25-15 scoring edge in the third was all Plymouth needed and the winners closed with a 14-11 mark in the fourth.

Paul White (19), Mark Lynott (16) and Doug Hamilton (11) paced the Farmington attack, while Jeff Adams (25) and Mike Kubik (17) sparked the winners.

South Lyon Wins 3rd

South Lyon brought its record to 3-4 last night by turning back Chelsea, 77-70. Leading the winners were Ed Canfield (18), Bruce Taylor (15), Dave Brandon (13) and Scott Bennett (13). Jack Risner tossed in 29 markers for the losers.

Troy Halts Rochester; Utica Downs Avondale

What looked like a possible runaway in the Oakland A League is over and three teams now occupy the top spot in the bid for basketball honors.

★ ★ ★

While Romeo was falling to Lake Orion, Troy's tough defensive squad rolled past Rochester, 53-40, to gain a share of first along with Orion and Romeo. All have 4-1 records.

Elsewhere in the Oakland A, Utica spotted Avondale an early lead and came on to whip the Yellow Jackets, 67-59, and Madison posted a 54-53 decision over Clawson in overtime.

Troy, which handed Orion its lone loss a few games back, entertains Clawson Tuesday and then takes a trip next Friday to Romeo, a game that should eliminate any doubts about who owns the top club in the loop.

★ ★ ★

Nursing a 23-21 lead at intermission, Troy padded it by seven points with a surge in the third period and outscored the visiting Falcons in the final frame.

TURNING POINT

The turning point came early in the third when Rochester pulled within one point, 31-30. But Troy ran up eight points in a row to open the game up.

★ ★ ★

The Falcons were also playing without the services of starter Mike Phillips, a 6-0 forward who had a weekend date with Iowa State recruiters. Operating at less than par was Craig Campbell, a 6-3, junior, who was suffering from a virus.

Junior Gary Sovey led the Falcons with 13 points and Mike Scally added 11. The loss left Rochester with a 2-3 record in league play.

Sparking Troy were Lynn Qualmann and Ray Brown with 17 points apiece.

★ ★ ★

Avondale was holding a winning hand at halftime, 35-29, but Utica came up with a few aces in the second to take all the chips.

SPARKS DEFENSE

Sparking a defensive surge in the third was Bill Conger, who tallied eight points in that frame—all coming on steals—and Randy Petrarca, who pitched in 10 markers in that period.

★ ★ ★

With Conger and Petrarca hitting, Utica wiped out the deficit and took a 49-47 lead into the final period.

Petrarca finished with 21 points, tops on the Chieftains' squad, while Conger had 10. Robin Dilday and Jim Somers colleted 15 apiece.

★ ★ ★

Pacing the Avondale attack was Bob Burt, who poured in a season-high 27 points.

The setback left Avondale with an 0-5 record in league play, while Utica rose to 3-2.

Cindermen Start Fast on Boards

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Five meet records were broken, five were tied and Rose Bowl star Earl McCulloch made a sensational switch to track at the Examiner All-American Games Friday night.

This first indoor meet leading toward the Olympics in Mexico City next fall attracted an unusually good indoor field of Olympic and world record holders plus a meet record crowd of 12,103 to the Cow Palace.

McCulloch, Southern California football end, won an eyelash victory in the 60-yard low hurdles only four days after helping the Trojans defeat Indiana in the Rose Bowl. He hit the last hurdle and barely caught world and Olympics record long jumper Ralph Boston at the tape. Both were timed in 7.2, tying the meet record.

Kirk Clayton, Santa Clara Valley Youth Village, crashed heavily in a four-man tangle at the finish of the 60-yard dash. He was taken to Mary's Help Hospital for head X-rays and was held for observation after they showed no brain damage.

SIX SECONDS

Sensational 18-year old Billy Gaines, a San Jose, Calif., high school star, won that race in 6 seconds flat, beating self-styled world's fastest human Charlie Greene, Mel Pender, Jim Hines and Willie Turner.

Gaines' 6 flat tied the meet record. The finish was so close Greene was given the same time.

O. J. Simpson, McCulloch's starring teammate in the Rose Bowl, tested his legs in this race and finished seventh among eight runners.

Cherrie Sherrard of San Francisco's Laurel Track Club tied her own meet record 7.7 in the women's 60 hurdles.

Kimball Falls to Blue Jays

Ferndale, Hazel Park Gain Victories

Southfield broke the deadlock in the Southeast Michigan League by handing Royal Oak Kimball its first league defeat, 67-47, while Ferndale was walloping Seaholm 74-49 and Hazel Park was edging Berkley, 68-67.

★ ★ ★

The Southfield Jays were never in trouble as they held a 17-14 first quarter and 33-26 halftime margin.

'Dave Kontry, the big board man for Southfield was also the top scorer in the game with 26 points. Ten players were used to net Kimball's 47 points.

Ferndale, which was in an unusual role of having to win to stay out of the league cellar pushed the Maples into the bottom with an easy triumph after holding a 36-20 halftime lead.

BIG FACTOR

Larry Wells' 19 points along with Wayne Clapp's rebounding and 15 points were the big factors for Ferndale. Tyrone Lewis had 16 also for the winners.

★ ★ ★

Strength on the boards especially in the final minutes helped Hazel Park hold on to its one point margin.

The Parkers took a 68-67 lead with 50 seconds left and had opportunities to pad the count. Al Petracich missed two free throws, and when Jim Merchel rebounded the second he was fouled.

But on a 1-1 situation he missed the first and Pete Dodoro grabbed the rebound which allowed Hazel Park to keep possession.

★ ★ ★

Dodoro's 15 rebounds were tops in this department as Petracich and Merchel each had 19 points. Jack Benning and Dick Robinson had 21 and 20 for the losers.

Pioneers No Court Match for Tartars

Special to The Press

DETROIT — Winless Oakland University couldn't cope with the rebounding and scoring exploits of Wayne State's Reginald Piggee and Terry Cupples Friday night and dropped their return match with the Tartars, 112-101.

★ ★ ★

The host quintet spurted to a 22-point lead in the first half and held a 53-35 advantage at the intermission as Piggee hit 18 points and Cupples 14.

★ ★ ★

OU coach Dick Robinson inserted 6-6 Tom Allan, who just joined the Pioneers after righting himself academically, into the starting lineup but he couldn't offset the 6-6 Piggee and 6-5 Cupples duo.

Finally, the Pioneers' mentor went with a shorter, faster unit in the second half and the visitors cut into their deficit.

The rebounding of 6-3 Chuck Clark and shooting of freshmen Bill VanBuskirk and Glenn Beier sparked an OU rally that left it down, 88-82, with approximately five minutes to play.

FIFTH DEFEAT

However, the Pioneers couldn't get any closer and lost their fifth game in a row. They visit Adrian tonight.

Freshman Gary Lincoln, hitting from sidecourt, scored 14 points in the last half and Clark added 13 as they led the losers' attack with 21 and 20 respectively.

Gordie Tebo, who teamed with Jay Shutt to play a fine floor game, added 14 as did another newcomer, Jon Blocher.

★ ★ ★

They couldn't offset, however, the Tartars' Piggee and Cupples who teamed for 58 points. Wayne amassed a 22-12 first half edge from the field and it proved decisive.

★ ★ ★

Violations once more hurt Oakland in the early going.

★ ★ ★

Tim Gajeski had 21 for the losers who led at halftime 44-38.

Pontiac BC '5' Coasts

The unbeaten Pontiac Boys' Club Bluedevils thumped winless South Oakland County BC, 50-26, to remain atop the league after three games.

Larry Owens and Roosevelt Washington paced the win with 12 points each. Bob Roy hit 17 for the Royal Oak quintet.

Flint JC Coasts Past Highland Lakes, 113-86

Flint Community Junior College left Oakland Community College's Highland Lakes quintet at the starting gate Friday night in coasting to a 113-86 victory at Clifford Smart Junior High School's court.

★ ★ ★

The visiting Bears jumped into a 26-6 lead as the game opened. Highland Lakes reduced its deficit to 62-46 by the intermission, then saw Flint post the first eight points of the second half and pull away to a commanding margin.

Dan Robinson scored 15 of his 27 points in the first half for the Bears.

John Olander paced the Highlanders with 24, and he matched teammate Ed Pruitt with 12 by the halftime.

The losers, now 0-4 in the Northeast Division of the State Community Junior College AA, made 37 of 100 shots in the game, while Flint shot a sharp 46 of 91 for 51 per cent.

The winners also dominated the backboards. Highland Lakes (2-6 over-all will visit high-flying St. Clair College Wednesday. The Auburn Hills Campus squad is at Alpena tonight.

Bing's Heroics Rescue Piston 5 in Overtime

DETROIT (AP)— Dave Bing ought to write scripts for Detroit Pistons games.

How's this? The Pistons are trailing 141-139. Bing sinks a jumper with 11 seconds to play and is fouled in the process.

He calmly steps to the foul line, rubs the scars from 29 stitches in his face, and sinks the deciding free throw as the Pistons win 142 - 141. Make it overtime for good measure.

It happened that way Friday night as the Pistons beat the Cincinnati Royals at Cobo Arena.

OTHER GAMES

Elsewhere, in the NBA Friday night, New York dropped Chicago 121-99, Philadelphia thumped Los Angeles 125-113 and Boston topped Seattle 128-121.

Bing finished with 34 points, the same number as Eddie Miles had for the Pistons. Nine of Bings' points came in overtime, helping Detroit wipe out a four-point edge which Cincinnati took at the start of the extra session.

Oscar Robertson scored 43 for the Royals, including the basket that tied the game at the end of regulation play.

Dick Van Arsdale hit on 12 of 14 shots and finished with a pro career-high 30 points as the Knickerbockers defeated Chicago.

TOP SHOOTERS

Willis Reed had 28 points and Walt Bellamy 23 for the Knicks. Jim Washington and Keith Erickson led the Bulls with 23 points each. Washington also had 23 rebounds and blocked eight shots.

Wilt Chamberlain and Hal Greer led a third-period Philadelphia spurt that carried the 76ers past Los Angeles.

Chamberlain scored 10 points in the period and finished with 35. Greer had 11 and ended with 23. Chet Walker had 28 for the 76ers. Elgin Baylor's 23 led the Lakers.

Rally Falls Short as Brother Rice Tumbles, 68-66

A stirring fourth-quarter rally fell a bucket short last night as Birmingham Brother Rice dropped a 68-66 decision to Harper Woods Notre Dame.

Trailing by 11 points with 1:30 left in the game, Brother Rice pushed in five baskets in a row and a free throw to tie the game, but a Notre Dame Two-pointer along with a Brother Rice shot that missed led to the fifth defeat of the season for the Warriors, (1-5).

With Notre Dame ahead, 68-66, Brother Rice had possession and a last-second layup that would have tied the game rolled around the rim and fell away.

Lee Hart led the Warriors with 17 points. John Coakley tossed in 20 for the winners.

Look Ahead Costly for OU's Tankers

The Pioneers of Oakland University may have been looking ahead last night as they dropped a 56-48 swimming decision to Dearborn Henry Ford.

Coming up Thursday night is a home encounter against Wayne State and then another on Saturday night against University of Illinois-Chicago.

The meet at Henry Ford went to the last event, the 400-yard freestyle relay, and the winners posted a 3:31.6 time with OU just a shade back at 3:32.6.

Mike Campbell and Rick Krogsrud won two events apiece for the Pioneers.

Showdown Eyed in W-O Race

Clarkston Ends Win Famine; Milford Suffers Sixth Loss

The victory famine is over for Clarkston's Wolves.

★ ★ ★

The Wolves, who have dropped three straight contests, put one on the winning side of the ledger last night by handing a visiting Holly quintet a 60-46 setback.

★ ★ ★

In another Wayne-Oakland League game, Milford remained winless in dropping a 61-43 decision to Brighton.

★ ★ ★

Clarkston, which had dropped close decisions in its last two outings, jumped away to a 27-19 lead at intermission and was never headed.

★ ★ ★

The victory left Clarkston with a 2-3 mark in league play and a 2-4 record over-all. Holly is also 2-3 in league competition.

LEADS WOLVES' ATTACK

Leading a balanced Clarkston attack was Mark Erickson with 19 points. Jerry Ostrum collected 13 and Chuck Granger contributed 12. Granger tossed in four baskets in Clarkston's 22-point third period.

★ ★ ★

Dave Darnton picked up 11 markers for Holly and teammate Tom Hayes added 10.

Brighton, ahead 26-21 at halftime, broke the game open in the third by outscoring the Redskins, 25-8.

Rick Wellman scored 10 points in that hot third frame and John Perry collected 9 of his 19 in the quarter. Wellman finished with 18 markers and Randy Needham added 12.

★ ★ ★

Mark Giegler tossed in 20 points to spark the Redskins, who suffered their sixth straight setback.

Brighton ran its league record to 2-2 and over-all record to 2-5.

W. Bloomfield, Northville Keep Clean Records

BY JERE CRAIG

West Bloomfield apparently will have to do it all on its own if the Lakers are going to remain in front of the Wayne-Oakland League basketball title chase.

★ ★ ★

Northville's Mustangs pawed the floor for 29 minutes last night then kicked up their heels and made off with a 54-48 victory at Bloomfield Hills Andover.

The win kept the Northville quintet undefeated in league action and a half bame behind unbeaten West Bloomfield, who coasted to a 63-44 triumph at Livonia Clarenceville.

Northville can match the Lakers' 5-0 loop record by beating Brighton Tuesday night in a makeup game on the Bulldogs' court. West Bloomfield will visit the Mustangs next Friday.

DETERMINED BID

Andover made a determined bid to tie Northville for second place, leading the Mustangs much of the game. The Barons had a 36-28 advantage late in the third quarter.

★ ★ ★

A steady drive by Northville finally knotted the count at 41 and 43. The visitors then tallied 11 points in the final 3½ minutes of play — including a clutch basket by Jim Peterson with 43 seconds left that dissolved the final 48-48 tie.

West Bloomfield roared to a 30-19 advantage by halftime, saw Clarenceville cut the gap to six in the third quarter, then pulled away again sparked by Curt Britton's three-point play.

Steve Westjohn controlled the backboards for the winning Lakers, grabbing 18 rebounds, and junior Dan Brown moved into the starting lineup for the first time to produce 16 points.

OLSM Maintains Loop Lead

Eaglets Fly Past Detroit St. Rita; Lakers Win, 78-50

The Eaglets of Orchard Lake St. Mary show no signs of faltering as they continue their bid for the Northwest Parochial League basketball championship.

Hitting at a good 44 per cent pace, the OLSM quintet disposed of Detroit St. Rita last night, 75-40, to run their league record to 6-0 and their over-all mark to 6-1.

In other contests, Waterford Our Lady of Lakes came up with its second strong performance in a row in knocking off Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, 78-50, and St. Francis de Sales slipped past Ferndale St. James, 61-60.

The Eaglets jumped off to a 24-10 first quarter lead and hiked it to 44-21 at intermission.

★ ★ ★

Sparking the OLSM attack was forward Tim Megge, who tossed in a career high 30 points. He netted 8 in the first, 12 in the second, 8 more in the third and 2 in the fourth frame.

HELPS WITH SCORING

Helping Megge with the scoring was Greg Fior with 15 markers.

★ ★ ★

Don Lock tossed in 16 and Dave Pylar added 14 for St. Rita, which is now 2-5 in league competition.

The Lakers, of Waterford OLL, who broke a four-game losing streak Tuesday with an 83-63 win over St. James, picked up where they left off and bombed Farmington Our Lady (3-3).

The triumph raised the Lakers league record to 3-4 and evened their over-all mark at 4-4.

★ ★ ★

"Just another good game for us," said coach Mike Boyd, who had lots of praise for the work of Dan Sioma, Dennis McCullouch and Brian Haskins.

McCullouch tossed in 26 points and Sioma added 23 to carry the scoring attack, while those two combined with Haskins to dominate the rebounding department. Sioma hauled down 20 to lead the way.

McCullouch, hitting well from the outside, has contributed 58 points in the Lakers' last two games and he could be the spark the team has needed.

Mike Hart led the losers with 10 points.

The Lakers held a 41-28 lead at intermission and hiked the lead to 56-34 through three periods.

Duquesne Brings Tall Squad to Face Titan Quintet Tonight

The Duquesne Dukes, long time independent basketball power of the East, will be the tallest opponent thus far for the University of Detroit quintet which is riding a streak of five straight wins when they tangle tonight at the U. of D. Memorial Building.

★ ★ ★

Both teams have 8-2 records for the season and Duquesne has the same team returning which shipped the Titans last year in Pitsburgh.

The Titans recent winniers of the Motor City tournament and victors over Big 10 favorite Indiana, have lost to the Steel City five six straight times in past contests.

Duquesne, also a recent tournament champion when it won the Steel Bowl title, own victories over Pitt, Villanova, Wisconsin, Air Force among some of the top teams.

★ ★ ★

One of the Duquesne losses came at the hands of highly rated and unbeaten St. Bonaventure.

COUNTY ACE HITS

The recent scoring outburst of Bruce Rodwan, 6-6 senior forward from Ferndale, when he scored 36 against Indiana, was tops for his career.

★ ★ ★

Five Titans are in double figures in averages for U. of D. in the 10 games.

★ ★ ★

The Dukes have a front line of 6-9, 6-8 and 6-6, led by Ron Guziak with an 18 ppg average. Moe Barr, a 6-4 guard, has 16 point average.

★ ★ ★

Game time tonight is 8:00 p.m. The Titans then take to the road against Notre Dame, Dayton and Xavier before returning for a Jan. 20 encounter against Eastern Michigan.

Pontiac Catholic '5' Posts Fourth Win

Finding the winning touch again proved easy enough for the Pontiac Catholic Titans who journeyed to Royal Oak St. Mary last night and returned with a 63-54 verdict.

The victory was the fourth in the last five outings for the Titans, who dropped their first three games before finding the winning combination, and last night's win left them with a 4-3 mark in Northwest Parochial League play.

Next on the Titans agenda is a date at Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, a game that should serve as a tuneup for their home contest against league-leading Orchard Lake St. Mary Jan. 19.

Nine players hit the scoring column at Royal Oak, with six of them getting five or more points in the best display of balance the Titans have shown this season.

Tim Loviska came through with his best performance of the season as he dropped in 18 points to pace the Titans. Guard Butch Finnegan helped Loviska with 11 markers.

BACK IN ACTION

Jack Newton, back in action after recovering from a broken hand, led the ROSM attack with 21 points. Pat Charrette tossed in 13.

★ ★ ★

The Titans trailed after one period, 14-13, but they outscored their opponent 17-10 in the second frame to take a 30-24 lead at intermission.

★ ★ ★

A 12-9 advantage in the third gave coach Walt Wynienko the cushion he needed to give the reserves some playing time.

Both teams had trouble at the free throw line. ROSM hit on only 14 of 35 attempts, while the Titans made only 13 of 26.

Playoff Bowl Rivals Ready

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams and Cleveland Browns have arrived in the right place—but at the wrong time. As a result, they'll be taking out their disappointment on each other Sunday.

The Rams and Browns, beaten in the National Football League's conference playoffs two weeks ago, collide Sunday in the annual Playoff Bowl scrap in Miami's Orange Bowl Stadium. A week from Sunday, Green Bay's NFL kings, tackle Oakland, the American Football League champion, in the Super Bowl at the same site.

WRONG GOAL

"We'd hoped to be here for the Super Bowl," Los Angeles Coach George Allen confessed Friday as the Rams labored through two-a-day workouts — unprecedented for a Playoff Bowl club. "It was a tremendous disappointment."

"We were so humiliated at Dallas," said Gary Collins, Cleveland's veteran pass catcher and punter, during the Browns' final full scale drill. "We've got to stay with the Rams."

Dallas crushed the Browns 52-14 on Dec. 24 for the Eastern Conference crown. One day earlier, the Rams bowed to the Packers 28-7 at Green Bay in the Western Conference title game. Green Bay then nailed its third straight NFL championship last Sunday with a 21-17 nod over the Cowboys.

★ ★ ★

A Playoff Bowl crowd of about 50,000 is expected to watch the Rams' Fearsome Foursome — Lamar Lundy, Deacon Jones, Roger Brown and Merlin Olsen — battle Leroy Kelly of Cleveland, the NFL's rushing champion, in the nationally televised game over CBS, starting at 1:45 p.m., EST.

HUGE FOURSOME

The huge Los Angeles front four spearheaded the Rams' 11-1-2 regular season finish while Kelly and running mate Ernie Green led the Browns to a 9-5 mark over the regular schedule.

Roman Gabriel, a rugged, 6-foot-4 quarterback, directs the LA attack, throwing to wide receivers Bernie Casey and Jack Snow and handing off to driving runners Dick Bass and Les Josephson.

★ ★ ★

The Browns' powerful ground game is complemented by veteran Frank Ryan's passing to Colling, Paul Warfield and the running backs.

Each member of the winning Playoff Bowl team will get $1,200—$700 more than each loser.

The Rams are making their first appearance in the contest. Cleveland has played twice before, bowing to Detroit in 1961 and to Green Bay in 1964.

Raiders' QB in Bed With Virus Fever

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — A mild virus has put Oakland Raiders quarterback Daryle Lamonica in bed for a couple of days but should not affect his play in the Miami Super Bowl Jan. 14 against the Green Bay Packers.

Coach John Rauch said Friday several of the American Football League champion Raiders have had mild influenza beginning in October.

★ ★ ★

Only Bob Svihus, who felt weak and left the Buffalo game there Oct. 15, has been affected on game day, or missed any playing time.

"It's no major thing," Rauch reported. "I think every team in the country has had three or four players ill with the flu.

"It's not been serious with us. We've taken preventive measures all season and have no complaints."

★ ★ ★

Lamonica has a low grade fever, was given antibiotic tablets and told to go to bed by Dr. Kendall Small, the team physician.

"I expect he'll be well tomorrow," the physician predicted.

The Raiders leave Sunday by air for their Boca Raton, Fla., training site near Miami.

Play Lansing Tonight

Road Games for T-Hawks

The Pontiac Tomahawks begin a two-game-away-from-home stint tonight at Lansing against the North American Basketball League eastern division leading Capitols.

The Kiddies Night contest at the Lansing Civic Center finds the Tomahawks boasting a completely new lineup from the one that suffered a 32-point defeat at the Capitol's hands Thanksgiving Night.

Coach Bob Duffy has massive Ed Burton, slender "Sonny" Dove, flashy Paul Long and himself as newcomers, plus tricky Ernie Thompson (who played as a sub in the earlier game) for starting unit.

Pontiac (2-7) will invade western division leader Grand Rapids next Saturday, then returns from a Kiddies Night home date with Chicago Saturday the 20th at Northern High School.

All youngsters under 14 will be admitted free as the Tomahawks meet Chicago for the second time.

The Bombers from Illinois were 115-105 losers last Sunday when Duffy was able to put his new lineup on the floor for the first time.

Wings' Romp Over Oakland Proves Costly

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings learned Friday their 9-3 romp over Oakland Thursday night was costly as two Wings went on the injured list.

Right-winger Floyd Smith was sidelined with a broken bone in his right foot and will miss today's game at Chicago and a Sunday clash in Detroit against Montreal.

★ ★ ★

Right-winger Doug Roberts suffered a bad bruise above the left ankle when hit by a third period shot, the same period in which Smith was injured. Roberts was left home Friday when the Wings left for Chicago and might miss one or both games.

Ron Anderson of the Wings' Fort Worth farm club was recalled to bolster the squad temporarily.

USLTA Gives Proposals for Tennis Rules

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A former U.S. Lawn Tennis Association president said Friday that the USLTA will decide next month whether to follow Britain's lead and erase lines between amateur and professional tennis.

Ed Turville, St. Petersburg attorney and now a USLTA executive committee member, said the large amateur tennis group will vote on a list of proposals Feb. 3 at an annual meeting in Coronado, Calif.

The proposals include:

- Abolition of the distinction of players between amateur and professional.
- Inclusion of some administrative body for pro tennis within the USLTA.

Turville said that he did not know in what form these proposals would be adopted, but predicted, "We definitely will have some form of open tennis this year."

Found New Congregations

Build, Buy Remodel in '67

During 1967 congregations built new buildings, purchased property, remodeled older churches and formed new congregations.

Pilgrim Congregational Church of Birmingham will dedicate its new building, 3061 N. Adams at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

George E. Gullen Jr., vice president for public relations of Wayne State University and a member of First Congregational Church, Detroit, will be the principal speaker.

Also participating will be Norman O. Stockmeyer, a member of Wayne State Board of Governors.

Others taking part in the service include the Rev. John Claxton, former pastor of Plymouth Congregational Church, Lansing, and now associate executive secretary of the National Association of Congregational Churches.

Others are Dr. Phillip Lett, president of the Birmingham Area Council of Churches; William A. Robertson of Pontiac; Ellsworth A. Moore of Lathrup Village; and Wallace J. Hendry, William H. Arveson, Howard C. Tuttle, Mrsl Howard W. Reiman, and Fritz Fiesselmann of Pilgrim Church. The Rev. Howard Bull is pastor.

DESIGNED BY STRAUB

Pilgrim Church was designed by Frank Straub, Troy architect. He said his work was intended to express New England tradition through the use of "massing, scale and proportions suggestive of the early church while embodying a contemporary feeling in detail and construction technique."

So successful were Straub's efforts that he was awarded a citation for excellence by the American Society of Church Architects.

Pilgrim Church had its birth when 64 adults and 14 children met for services in a building that now houses the Birmingham Teen Center.

Worship services were also held in Birmingham Community House and Birmingham YMCA.

★ ★ ★

The local church is affiliated with the National Association of Congregational Churches.

Pastor Bull and James K. Flack, layman, were recently named to leadership posts on boards of the national Association.

Approximate cost of the building was $200,000, Pastor Bull said.

BEAUTIFUL SAVIOR

The new addition housing the sanctuary of Beautiful Savior Lutheran Church was dedicated Feb. 26. The open house and special services celebrated the dedication of the third unit.

Beautiful Savior Church is located at 5631 N. Adams, Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Donald Gabler, pastor, said the cost of this first unit will be about $58,000. The congregation formerly worshiped in Pontiac.

Christ's Church of Light, 3584 Lake Oakland Shores, Waterford Township was constructed early this year by Myron O'Dell with the help of church young people. Mrs. O'Dell is the minister.

★ ★ ★

The first unit of Calvary Missionary Church, 1361 Giddings, was constructed in November with most of the work done by men of the church. Exterior walls are of white aluminum. The Rev. Rose Davis is pastor.

★ ★ ★

The congregation of Free Methodist Church, Auburn Heights, moved into the new building located at 255 S. Squirrel on June 18. The church was dedicated that afternoon. The Rev. Henry Schmidt is pastor.

★ ★ ★ ★

In September members of First Methodist Church, Milford, consecrated the sanctuary and educational unit at 1200 Atlantic.

The Men's Club expect to develop the land behind the church for a recreational center.

First Methodist Church in Clarkston is in the midst of building program as a new educational building will be added to the present structure.

Kenneth Leak and Richard Johnston are heading the building committee.

Columbia Avenue Baptist Church is responsible for the founding of the new St. Stephen's Baptist Church with services in Franklin Elementary School. More than 70 persons joined as charter members.

Low-Income Housing Is Nearing Construction

North Hills Farms, a housing project planned for low income families on West Kennett adjacent to Alcott Elementary School is nearing construction.

The city's building department recently issued permits for construction of 200 units, part of a planned 525-unit complex.

The units, when completed, will rent for $106 to $150 per month including utilities. Developing the project is Charles L. Langs.

The project is for low-income families. The federal government, under the rent supplement program, will subsidize part of the rents.

★ ★ ★

Tenants are required to pay 25 per cent of their income for rent. The difference between the rental price and income would be paid by the government.

Langs said he hopes to complete construction of the first 200 units next spring.

Financing for the project is being provided by Prudential Insurance Co. which is putting up $2 million, according to S. Raymond Supplee, regional manager of the Michigan mortgage loan office of Prudential.

The loan is being made under the recent $1-billion national urban improvement pledge made by the life insurance industry.

The brick veneer and frame buildings will be under provisions of the National Housing Act which will limit the developer's profits to 6 per cent of the amount he invests.

The building permit was one of two issued for multiple dwellings for December. Estimated total worth of the expected apartment construction is $1,575,000.

The building department also issued permits for five new family dwellings with estimated construction costs of $60,000; two new commercial buildings, an office building and a service station, $36,750; two church repairs, $43,000; two commercial alterations, $25,000, and 13 residential alterations, $25,050.

Total estimated construction entailed in the permits issued during December is $1,815,595.

Elderly Get Reminder on Tax Deadline

City Assessor James E. Kephart Jr. today reminded senior citizens that they must file every year for property tax exemptions.

Those over 65 who own and occupy their home are eligible to have a $2,500 deduction in their property valuation as equalized if the equalized value of their home is less than $10,000.

Those seeking the exemption have from Jan. 1 to the adjournment of the board of review, usually March 15, to file.

Exemptions of $2,000 can also be claimed by veterans who are receiving some form of disability or compensation claims from the government.

To be eligible the veterans must have served during wartime.

A $10,000 limit on the equalized value of the house also applies to this exemption.

Kephart said veterans who wish to file for this exemption must bring proof that they are receiving disability or compensation claim payments.

Natural Gas Use for Day Is Record

Gas customers of Consumers Power Co. used a record amount of natural gas in the 24-hour period ending at 9 a.m. Yesterday.

The company's 750,000 gas users required a total of 1.69 billion cubic feet of natural gas during that period, according to John B. Simpson, vice president of the company in charge of gas operations.

The previous record, set Dec. 28, 1967, was 1.48 billion cubic feet. The new record is 15 per cent higher.

Near-zero temperatures and windy conditions around most of the Lower Peninsula were partly responsible, according to Simpson.

Raquel Affected by Hope Bob Hope Gives Viet GIs

By EARL WILSON

SAIGON, Vietnam—Raquel Welch is the pin-up girl of this war, as Betty Grable, Rita Hayworth and Jane Russell were the pin-ups of another war, and it has been a most rewarding and yet shaking experience to the bouncy beauty from Chicago and La Jolla who's been touring the bases.

WILSON

"They're such boys," Raquel says of the GIs she sees on the chow line or in the hospitals.

"I look at them and I wonder what they're doing here. Then I look at myself and wonder what I'm doing here. I just wanted to come, that's all."

We were discussing this while sitting on a plane. Les Brown, orchestra leader for the Bob Hope troupe, and I sat across from her. Raquel wore a high-neck dress, but there was on opening in the dress about the size of a soup bowl, right over the cleavage. I don't know what they call that fashion, but it could have a future.

"I hope the Defense Dept. doesn't hear about that dress till we get home," somebody said.

★ ★ ★

Raquel was talking about going aboard a hospital ship with Hope.

"We came to a boy who had both legs off and was undergoing an operation of some kind to keep him from losing blood. And here was this boy trying to see us.

"I thought, 'Am I going to faint now? What do I do?' I just look at his face and not at any part of the wound.

"You pretend it's not happening and that the wound isn't there.

"You say 'Here's a picture. Shall I put it under your pillow for you?' Because some of them haven't the strength to take it. They can't reach out.

'And the way some of these shock cases look at you, they don't know whether you're a girl or a boy.

★ ★ ★

"But you hope you're doing some good. Suddenly if they just turn up their eyes and see Bob Hope standing there, it's got to do them some good."

Raquel's voice trailed off. This hospital ship experience was more dramatic than anything she's experienced in real life.

★ ★ ★

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Forrest Tucker, now in "The Night They Raided Minsky's," says he worked in burlesque in his teens, adding jokingly: "Of course, the pay was only $25 a week—from me to them" . . . The Beatles will invest in a Broadway show, "In Someone Else's Sandals."

I mentioned recently Nieman-Marcus' gift suggestion—His and Hers camels. Now N-M tells me they delivered a camel for Chritsmas to a Ft. Worth woman, a gift from her dtr. (It came with the optional extras—pink blanket with name embroidered turquoise water buckets, etc.)

$2.7-Million Suits Hit 'Bonnie and Clyde'

HOUSTON, Tex., (AP) — Two separate lawsuits—seeking a total of $2,775,000 in damages—are on file in Texas courts against the producers of the movie "Bonnie and Clyde."

One suit filed Friday in Houston asks $1,750,000. Another filed a month ago in Dallas seeks $1,025,000.

The Houston suit alleges the movie defamed the character of the late Texas Ranger Capt. Frank Hamer Sr., who the petition says killed more than 100 outlaws in the line of duty and was wounded more than 20 times during a nearly 50-year law enforcement career.

Hamer's widow and his son, Frank Hamer Jr., are plaintiffs in the suit.

'A BUFFOON'

The suit charged the movie portrayed Hamer as a "buffoon and as an incompetent and malicious officer" instead of "A heroic figure which in fact he is."

Clyde Barrow and his cigar-smoking moll, Bonnie Parker, were a crime team in four states during the 1930s. They are generally credited with killing 12 persons before they were shot to death May 23, 1934, by Texas Rangers and other police officers in an ambush set up at Arcadia, La.

★ ★ ★

Warren Beatty directed the movie and played the part of Barrow. Bonnie Parker was played by Faye Dunaway.

The Dallas suit was filed by Mrs. Billie Jean Parker Moon and her husband, A. B. Moon of Mesquite, Tex. It alleged the movie "blackened the memory" of Bonnie Parker. Mrs. Moon is a sister of Bonnie Parker.

★ ★ ★

Warner Brothers-Seven Arts Inc., was named defendant in the Houston suit. The Dallas suit named as defendants Warner Brothers, Interstate Theaters and Beatty.

WHY SO MANY QUESTIONS?
The making of final arrangements for a loved one is a trying experience for anyone. At a time like this a person is confused and their reasoning powers are dulled by the personal loss that only time will heal.
J. L. VOORHEES

M. E. SIPLE
Often people at this time feel that the Funeral Director is a prying individual, this is understandable, for most of the time consumed in making arrangements is spent answering questions.
Most questions are for the death certificate, required by law or to make sure that your wishes are fulfilled. All questions are considered a confidence.

Opening lead—♣ K

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

Three no-trump is a better contract than four spades for today's hand. Nothing can stop North and South from making nine tricks at no-trump, while correct defense will keep them from making four spades.

JACOBY

You don't always arrive at the best contract. Somehow or other most any pair would land at the inferior spade game. No matter how well you bid, you can't actually be looking at your partner's cards.

Of course, four spades would make most of the time. It doesn't require any great skill on the part of the declarer. He makes it unless West leads the correct card at trick two.

Unfortunately for North and South, old time expert Sam Fry held the West cards at New York's Regency Whist Club and Sam found that right card.

He opened the king of clubs as anyone would and received the discouraging deuce from his partner.

In his youth Sam was known as a slow player. He has speeded up a lot, but this play did require some thought.

Eventually he concluded that his only chance to beat the spade game would be to find his partner with the queen of hearts.

After that the rest was easy for Sam. He led the ten of hearts!

The standard play from a long suit is low, so why did Sam make this lead? The answer is that there are certain special combinations that call for an unusual lead and this was one of them. When Sam led the ten, declarer was stone cold dead.

South could rise with dummy's ace, cover with the jack or duck, but he was going to lose two heart tricks come what might. Had Sam played the four of hearts, South could have played dummy's deuce and East would have been forced to play his queen.

♣♦ CARD Sense ♠♥

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1 ♠	Pass	Pass
Dble	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
Pass	2 ♠	Pass	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	4 ♥	?

You, South, hold:
♠ 2 ♥ J 4 ♦ K 10 9 5 4 3 ♣ 7 5 4 3
What do you do now?

A—Double. Your partner reopened after East and West had stopped at two hearts. You have a singleton spade and two trumps, and your king of diamonds may also be worth a trick.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You hold the same hand, but your partner opens with a strong two spade bid. What do you do after East passes?

Benefits for Working Aged Up

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fifth of a series analyzing the changes currently being made in the Social Security and Medicare regulations.)

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Publications

WASHINGTON — Since the Social Security system is designed to reduce the income loss you may suffer as you get older, it should not surprise you that your monthly retirement benefits will be smaller if you can still work and earn pretty good money.

Up until this year's revision of the law, you could earn $1,500 a year and still collect your full retirement benefit at age 65. From 1968 on, that dividing line is set at $1,680.

The U.S. Senate wanted to put the figure at $2,400 a year.

It would have cost the system another $975 million now — and even more later.

There is more than a little sentiment among legislators and elsewhere for doing away with this so-called "retirement test" altogether. But this proposition did not make much real headway in 1967. It would have cost $2 billion in the short run more later.

This idea goes against the grain with those defenders of the system who want it to stay what it is—a program to protect people against the risk of a decline in earnings as they age, but not a program to reward them simply for getting old.

To go too far in liberalizing the retirement test, Social Security specialists argue, is to offer extra protection to the working aged at the expense of the older and perhaps disabled beneficiaries who cannot augment their benefits by taking jobs.

It is estimated that maybe 1.6 million elderly people can benefit from the revision lifting the retirement test from $1,500 to $1,680.

Some 200,000 people presently earning between $1,200 and $1,500 a year may have been consciously limiting their income in order not to lose full benefits. The other 1.4 million earn more than $1,500 a year and have been getting either partial benefits or none at all.

Congress in 1967 gave another small lift to those who can and will go on working but nevertheless wanto to count heavily on monthly retirement benefits.

No matter how much money you make in any one year, you can get the full Social Security benefit you'de be entitled to in complete retirement — for any month in which your earnings do not exceed $140. The old figure in 1967 was $125.

This protects the "sometime" worker of retirement age from sudden dips or lean periods in earning power.

These same rules apply if you are self-employed. But even if your net earnings (profits) for a given month fail to exceed the $140 limit now set, you can't get a check for that month if you have performed what the authorities call "substantial services."

Generally, that means devoting more than 45 hours to your business during the month.

You can, of course, earn a good deal more than $1,680 a year and still get some retirement benefit, though naturally, it is reduced progressively as your total of earnings rises.

For instance, a man at retirement age who earns $3,000 a year and would get $4,200 annually in benefits if fully retired would still get yearly benefits of $3,480.

Even a man in that benefit category who made $6,000 a year would get $480 in yearly benefits.

The month you reach the age of 72, the ceiling on earnings is lifted. Thereafter, you get your full benefits no matter how much you make. The obvious theory, however, is that by then your earnings are not likely to be too large.

Farmer Unions Fighting a Corporate 'Intrusion'

By United Press International

Not since the grange rebellions of the 1870s has the nation's farmer been as ready to battle for his ever-shrinking family plot than today.

His adversary, say farm trade unions from the plains of New Mexico to the dairylands of Wisconsin, is the corporate farmer, who has begun to use mass production, extensive capital and managerial skills to sculptor a profit from agriculture.

Canneries, such as Libbys Co. and Coca-Cola Co., and numerous food chains have long been involved in agriculture in quest of raw and related materials.

But this past year many firms, previously divorced from farming, have entered the field to reap new profits.

The result has been a spontaneous uprising by farmers across the Midwest and Southwest.

The National Farmers Union, conducting strong battles against "corporate encroachment" in more than 13 states and in Washington, has called for a total boycott of non-agricultural firms involved in farming.

Such a boycott could include not only farm machinery, but canned goods, rubber products and even passenger cars.

In several states, including Kansas, Oklahoma and north Dakota, the issue will be debated in state legislatures in 1968.

The Pole Takers Are Wrong Again

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—For two years, Asst. Chief Bill Williams had been trying to get rid of the rusty old flagpole outside police headquarters.

Williams searched all over, came up with a bright, shiny new pole, and had it erected in a concrete base in front of the two-year-old building.

Yesterday, the park department finally came to remove the old pole.

Trouble was, they got the wrong pole.

★ ★ ★

"They cut it off just like mowing the grass," said Williams, who had been talking on the phone and missed the disaster.

'DIDN'T CHECK'

"Someone finally got around to giving the park department a work order, and they didn't even check to see which pole. They just came over and cut one down.

★ ★ ★

"But they're going to repaint it and put it back just like it was," he said firmly.

And the old pole? "I think we'll just keep it," he said.

Colonial Of Mr. And Mrs. Arnold Mix Located In Bloomfield Township

French Theme Predominates

Home Decor Is Mix of Ingenuity, Talent

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Ingenuity marries talent in the decorating theme of the Arnold Mix home. Setting the monochromatic background in the living room are white walls, draperies and a deep-piled wool area rug.

"We had the picture window shuttered for privacy and to cut down on the sun glare," said Mrs. Mix.

"And I feel it makes the room look less formal and more warm looking. Draperies at all of the windows would have been just too overpowering."

Creating a conversation grouping around the pecan coffee table are the French blue and white toile sofa, a cane-backed pumpkin velvet chair and a white velvet pull-up chair.

★ ★ ★

The wall arrangement above the sofa hints at Mrs. Mix's creativeness. The mounted heraldics are costume jewelry affixed to pumpkin velvet and framed.

DARK FLOORS

In the nearby formal dining room, the rich dark-stained floors complement the white walls.

Keynoting the room's elegance is the sparkling crystal and brass chandelier and the French-inspired breakfront of antiqued ivory.

Blues, reds and golds dominate the floral arrangement centering the pecan-topped dining table. Injecting a complete change of pace in decorative eras are the antiqued ivory cottage chairs with cane seats.

★ ★ ★

Discovered in Abilene, Texas, the chairs are typical of those found in many late 19th century or early 20th century farm homes.

★ ★ ★

An antique French mirror hangs above the pecan European sideboard.

Price of a Dream

Building Can Be Trauma

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

If it is any comfort to long-suffering types who have built or will build moderately priced houses, you can have as much mental anguish building an expensive one.

Heartaches can be measured by the width, length, height of a house, points out Dorothy Rodgers, wife of composer Richard Rodgers. She has just written a delightful book about her new beautiful dream house, "The House in My Head."

"Building anything today is very, very costly, no matter what the scale . . . and spending a great deal of money does not guarantee a beautiful result any more than having limited funds means you must end with something unimaginative and dull . . ."

Mrs. Rodgers found out the price of a dream little by little. For example, she was staggered by the final figures on the electrical installation.

★ ★ ★

But it was all worth it in the end, especially when she could justify it by thinking of her house as their extravagance rather than race horses, prize cattle, yachts.

There were lots of sad moments—she found out the price in her head didn't include such things as greenhouses, terrace, swimming pool or anything beyond inside walls; when she had to eliminate humidifiers, dust removers, a snow melting system in the driveway, a central vacuum cleaner and a flower conditioning refrigerator that would have cost $2,500.

Later other things were scratched — paneling in the entrance hall, radiant heating for bathroom floor, and some air conditioning.

"The classic trap . . . (that gets you into such situations) is "how can you skimp on a few hundred dollars when it is so little in terms of your investment. . ."

★ ★ ★

She found that there is really no professional definition for cost per foot. It can vary from contractor to contractor and may or may not include hardware, flooring, bookshelves, paneling, kitchen equipment, plumbing, lighting fixtures.

"So I pass on our first painfully gained bit of wisdom: before you make final commitments, find out exactly what cost per foot means in your case. . . ."

Her second rule would be: beware of engineering costs—what goes on between walls, whether it is plumbing, heating, air conditioning, electrical or electronic. Be sure that what you are getting is not too sophisticated for your needs.

★ ★ ★

"Frankly, if we had known the real picture before we started, money might possibly have stopped us from building the house," she goes on to say. "Nothing else could have. Delays can be waited through, if you care as much as we did.

EXPERTS?

"Experts aren't always expert. Kitchen planners may be more concerned with looks and concealment than efficiency and working ease. . . . laundry planners may feel that their job is merely to collect relevant equipment for a room. . ."

Even if you've practically camped at the house site, been on the spot to correct things that are going awry, as Mrs. Rodgers was, nearing the finish line may create the biggest tensions . . . such as "when can we move in?"

After setting all wheels in motion to move in on a certain near date — calling warehouses, notifying upholsterers, and so on, Mrs. Rodgers received a letter from the builder, stating that the house would be finished in three months "if the mechanical work was completed by then. . ."

★ ★ ★

"The shock was total," she points out. . . "I stared, I reread, I despaired . . . then I settled things in a very feminine fashion by bursting into tears. . ."

Weeks later they managed (after they had stashed their luggage in a potting shed) to move into the maid's rooms temporarily so they could at least enjoy the summer in their new home.

But as she says, it has been worth it. They are now happily settled in their dream house in the Connecticut hills.

And, she watched it grow from the ground up. You would have to . . . is her point.

New Law Covers Youths Under 16

It is illegal for farmers to permit youth under sixteen to operate tractors, work around self-unloading machinery, or perform other hazardous jobs after Jan. 1, reminds Don Juchartz, County Extension Agricultural Agent.

★ ★ ★

However, Juchartz points out that the child labor order issued in Nov. 1967, does not apply to children working on their parents' farms. Vocational agriculture students who have met specific requirements and youth in supervised training programs may also be excused.

★ ★ ★

While there are still many jobs that youth under 16 can and should be hired to perform, the farmer needs to be aware that many will soon be off limits, Juchartz warned.

A full list of jobs classified as "hazardous" for youth under 16 will soon be available at your extension office, the county agent commented.

Property Problems Prove Melodramatic

Who says that real estate is dull? That maintaining land records and insuring title to real property in the United States is a routine, dry-as-dust business?

★ ★ ★

Certainly not members of the American Land Title Association, that's for sure. No fiction writer would dare to invent such bizarre happenings as gun battles and the kidnapping of hostages in New Mexico over land titles.

Or the return of a "walking corpse" in Georgia . . .$1.3 millions in embezzlements by "respected" members of the bar in Maryland . . . a suit by the City of Milwaukee against its pioneer Founding Fathers who lived in the 1830's . . . the appearance of an "unknown" wife in Florida to claim an interest in an entire subdivision — after 39 years. And those are just the starters, the land titlemen report following a new survey of claims during the past year.

"All these things have vast importance to every home owner," James W. Robinson, secretary of the American Land Title Association, reports. "For they show what has happened in many areas of the United States. All of them affected title to land. They illustrate a few of the hundreds of things that can affect the ownership and use of land."

★ ★ ★

"The 'Wild West' is not dead," Robinson says. "At least not in Northern New Mexico. Just like the old days, New Mexico in 1967 had its gun battles, including the shooting of Deputy Elugio Salazar and State Patrolman Nick Saiz, and the kidnapping of two others in a fracas that had its start over land titles . . . which have been causing much trouble in New Mexico recently."

LAND GRANTS

Controversy over old Spanish land grants and the Spanish-American custom of not recording deeds have led to bloodshed in New Mexico in June of 1967 in the city of Tierra Amarilla, Robinson notes.

After a court hearing, members of a group known as the Federal Alliance of Spanish Land Grants began a gun battle, wounding Salazar and Saiz and kidnapping Newspaper Reporter Larry Callaway and Deputy Sheriff Pete Jaramillo as hostages. The National Guard and the New Mexico Highway Patrol were ultimately called out in a massive manhunt.

"Land titles are anything but dull anywhere," Robinson said. "But particularly in New Mexico, where the custom of the 'trunk deed' . . . keeping a deed to property in the family trunk instead of recording it at the county courthouse . . . is widespread.

★ ★ ★

"In many areas, getting clear title to land in New Mexico is difficult — because land may have changed hands many times without a single deed being recorded on the public records."

EASTERN WOES

ALTA's survey of title troubles showed a bizarre series of claims in the "sedate" East, too:

In Maryland, $1.3 millions in embezzlements by leading and "respected" real estate lawyers came to light . . . leading to their arrest, disbarment and/or imprisonment. More important, the massive embezzlements left more than 70 Maryland families in Montgomery and Prince George Counties facing two mortgages . . . rather than one on the homes they bought.

The combined mortgages far exceeded the market value of the homes. Escrow money deposited with the four dishonest persons was not used to pay off mortgages as intended . . . but was used for private speculations.

The scandal led the Maryland legislature to pass a new law requiring that the vital difference between mortgagee's title insurance, which protects only the mortgage lender, and owner's title insurance, which protects the buyer's equity, must be explained in writing to all home buyers in Maryland in the future.

★ ★ ★

"The term title insurance is often used loosely," Robinson notes. "There are two kinds of title insurance. Both are available in a single, one-premium package."

The American Land Title Association, as an educational effort arising from the Maryland scandals has issued a free leaflet explaining the difference between the two kinds of title insurance. It is available, free, by writing ALTA, 1725 Eye St. N. W., Washington, D. C., 20006.

Start at the Top If You Are Painting

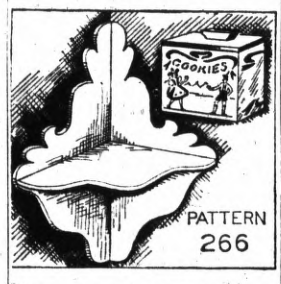
"First things first" is a good rule of thumb to use in painting. Begin with the ceiling when you are painting a room.

★ ★ ★

Next walls should be painted beginning at an upper left hand corner and working down to the floor.

★ ★ ★

If you're a "lefty," just reverse the order. Woodwork and trim should be painted last.



A CORNER SHELF and cookie box to fit are projects that please the whole family. Or the shelf may be made for a plant or bric-a-brac. Pattern 266, which gives actual-size guides and directions for shelf and box, is 35c. This pattern also is in the Kitchen Novelty Packet No. 18 for $1. With this packet you can make ten different items to use or sell.

Sunless Gems Enhance Decor

Looking for a plant for a sunless area? Clay-potted green plants like dieffenbachia or philodendron will thrive even in dimlight.

★ ★ ★

Try a four foot schefflera — the Australian umbrella plant— in its traditional red clay pot and matching saucer to enhance any foyer or entranceway receiving minimum light.

Panels for Kings

Most plywood is produced in the familiar 4x8-foot panels. But king-size lengths of ten, 14, 16 and 20 feet also are sold. If need be, plywood mills can turn out panels up to 40 feet long.

Louver Doors Gain in Popularity

There has been an upsurge in popularity in the louver door in decorating and remodeling. This is due in no small part to the availability of factory-made louver doors in a wide variety of sizes and styles.

★ ★ ★

You can get them in most lumber yards and even a few department stores. Mail order houses stock them.

They are not terribly expensive. There are sizes that will take care of almost any situation. And they are easy to install.

You can use them on closets and wardrobes, as doors for cupboards and cabinets, to make a storage wall, a room divider or a screen (hinge three or more together).

★ ★ ★

HINGES

You can hang them on hinges as you would a conventional door or slide them on a track. There are duofold types available which make a folded door that does not project as far into a room.

You can get a short cafe-type door if you like. Hang them on special hinges that swing both ways and use them for kitchen, pantry or your own private bar room.

Use louver doors to close off the space under the sink or for a bathroom vanity.

If furnace and water heater are located on the first floor use louver doors to enclose them attractively.

Outdoors you can take louver doors and hang them on each side of a window as decorative shutters. Get the proper hardware and it is no trick to turn them into real shutters that can be closed.

Shutters inside have become an interesting decorative trick too. They make good window blinds. Get them in sections rather than full length and you can open the top for air and light while leaving the lower half closed for privacy.

★ ★ ★

Outdoors again you can make a narrow entrance door look wider by adding two full-length louver panels, one on each side and painted to match the door.

RIGHT SIZE

You may not find the louver door you want in exactly the size you want it, but you can get them close enough and cutting down is easy.

Generally they are stocked in sizes that will vary four inches in height, two inches in width. You can easily cut an inch or more off the end rails for fitting.

A one-slat panel means the entire door consists of slats in a standard frame. Two panel doors have a cross rail across the middle. There also are some with slats in one half, solid panel in the other.

★ ★ ★

When mounting, trim top and bottom to fit. If you are mortising the hinge, trace the hinge on the edge of the panel and then chisel carefully to the right depth.

Mount one leaf of the hinge, then prop the door against the frame to find the position of the other leaf.

If you use pulls or other hardware, center them with the center rail.

★ ★ ★

If you make screens out of louver panels use hinges at three points, not two.

★ ★ ★

Finish as you would any door — weather-resistant paints or varnishes outdoors; paint, varnish, shellac, or wax indoors.

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

"Louver doors are decorative and practical."

Steps to Follow

Handling Winter Emergencies

Winter weather is unpredictable and so are the emergencies that come with it. High winds and freezing temperatures bring their own problems and any problem is tougher to deal with in cold weather.

Frozen pipes, electrical failures, leaky roofs and broken windows are among the problems that come with or are made worse by bad weather.

Some of these you can cope with yourself using ordinary tools and common items around the house.

★ ★ ★

Electrical breakdowns are something you cannot cure yourself, but there are steps you can take while the utility company makes repairs.

MUSTS

Disconnect motor-driven appliance — refrigerators, freezers, pumps, etc. When power is restored it may be at only half the normal voltage.

If the motors are on they could be damaged functioning under this condition. Wait until it is fully restored. Lamps will glow dimly at partial voltage.

Keep refrigerator and freezer doors closed to prevent food spoilage. Food will deep 24 to 36 hours if you can avoid letting warm air in.

An electrical failure will affect most heating systems. In the case of an oil burner, there is little you can do. Most gas-operated systems have self-energizing units which means the burner will continue to operate even in a power breakdown.

What will not work, however, is the motor-driven fan on a forced-air system. Remove the filter, turn off the blower motor and turn the system into a gravity-fed one.

It won't work as well, but it is better than nothing. Also, if the burner will not work without an electrical impulse from the thermostat, you will have to look for the manual control to get the burner going.

★ ★ ★

In a hot-water system an electric pump circulates the water. Turn off the pump, open the flow valve on the water line.

WELL ENOUGH

Warm water then will circulate, not as well as with a pump, but well enough under the circumstances.

A frozen water pipe will need a slow thawing. Skip the blow torch; it thaws too quick,y and there's the danger of fire. Fast thawing will start steam at that one point, causing the pipe to burst.

Use an electric light bulb, a heat lamp or a hair dryer. Work close to the faucet, farthest from the shutoff valve. Move the heat back and forth.

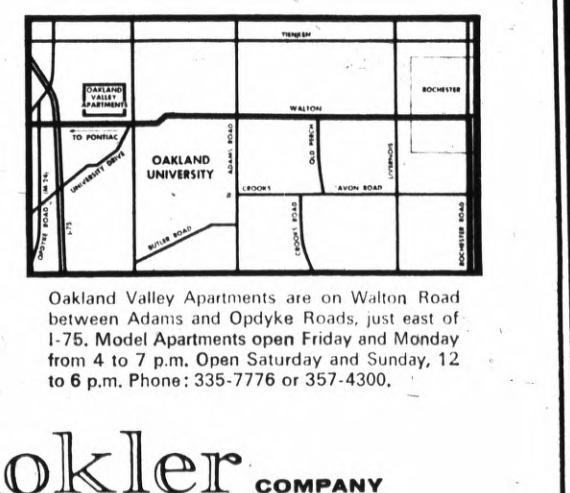
★ ★ ★

Should a pipe burst, turn off the water supply and make a temporary repair with a piece of hose and a couple of clamps. That section of the pipe will have to be replaced as soon as you can do it.

When thawing a pipe, keep the faucet open so that water can start to flow as the ice thaws.

Gutters and downspouts hat are jammed with ice wouldn't be with electric heating cables installed. But if these are not around and freezing occurs, use hot water or chemicals to get rid of the ice jam so that water doesn't back up under the roof shingles.

Start with the downspout. If you use chemicals, be sure to wash them out or they may corrode the pipes.



Winter poses many problems for the homeowner.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO EXTEND OUR heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy, and beautiful floral offerings received from our kind friends and neighbors during our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved son, Roger Stogner. We especially thank Rev. Davenport and the Huntoon Funeral Home. The family of Roger Stogner.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF EDWIN Radtke who passed away Jan. 6, 1967. Sadly missed by entire family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JACK Hutchison, who passed away Jan. 7, 1967.
Darling, of all the world
Were ours to give,
We would give it all and more
To hear your voice,
To see your smile,
To set with you,
and talk awhile.
So you who have your Husband and Dad Cherish him.
For you'll never know the heartache
Till you see his empty chair.
Dearly loved and sadly missed by wife, Nellie, and children, Jack, Kirby, Joe, Tennie, Mike, Paul and Diana, Grand-children and friends.

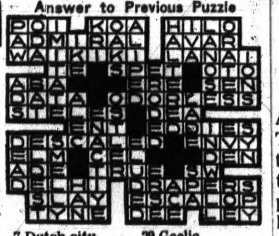
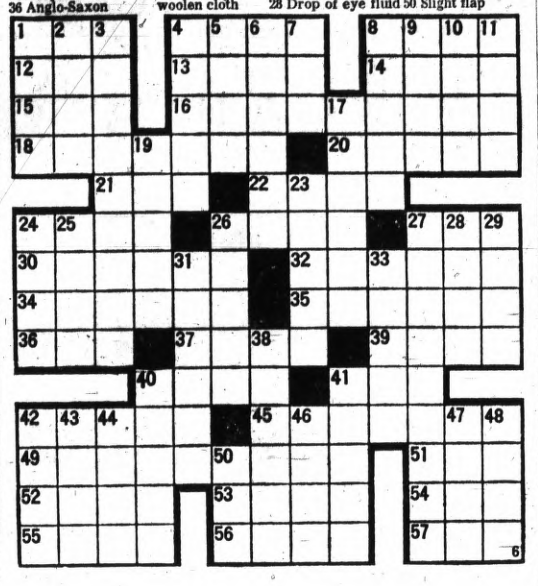
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Mental Health Unit Seeks to Aid Cranks

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Dr. Anthony F. Panzetta, head of Temple University's Community Mental Health Center, says telephone cranks are among the people his center is trying to help, not screen out.

For this reason, Panzetta issued orders this week that psychiatrists and psychologists in the operation's 24-hour-a-day "crisis center" for psychiatric emergencies answer their own telephones.

★ ★ ★

This way, he said, cranks and other persons who need help with their problems won't "get the runaround," which he says isn't intentional but comes from secretaries' lack of professional training.

School to Resume After Spider Threat

MATTOON, Ill. (AP) — Officials at Mattoon High School have announced that classes will resume Tuesday following an invasion of dangerous brown recluse spiders that forced the closing of the school.

Supt. John G. Warg closed the school Thursday afternoon after a biology teacher found one of the spiders in a desk drawer at the school. Exterminators were called.

★ ★ ★

The exterminators reported Friday they found the spiders throughout the school and said thousands of them had invaded halls and lockers in the building.

Stevenson Moore III, an agricultural entomologist at the University of Illinois, said the spiders were not "highly fatal," but their bite caused intense pain.

Penal Officials Are Outsmarted

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — County penal farm officials wanted to find out how smart one of their prisoners was and he promptly showed them.

They sent Paul Vasquez, 18, to the board of education offices Friday to take an aptitude test. While there, he escaped.

Clavichord Used by Mozart Found

BUDAPEST (UPI) — A clavichord used by Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart on his tour of European capitals as a child prodigy was rediscovered in Hungary after dropping out of sight for many years, the Hungarian news agency said today.

The clavichord, built in 1763 by Johann Andreas Stein, vanished after Mozart's death, turned up again in 1856, then disappeared again. The national museum recently bought it and plans to display it soon.

Divorce Granted to French Actor

PARIS (UPI) — Actor Jean-Paul Belmondo, 34, and Elodie, 31, his wife of nine, years, were granted a divorce by a Paris court yesterday, thus clearing the way for a possible marriage between the actor and Ursula Andress, 31, with whom he has been keeping company.

Elodie received custody of their three children and $1,500 a month alimony.

Has to Be a Lark

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — Police are searching for an 80-pound pink elephant named Penelope. The elephant, made of cast iron with her trunk rigged for a lawn sprinkler, disappeared from its owner's front yard the other day.

Santa Fe Prison Has No 'Inmates'

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — There are no more inmates at the New Mexico State Penitentiary.

Warden J. E. Baker ordered that prisoners be referred to in the future as residents rather than inmates, the prison magazine reported.

SAIGON Communist troops today killed, wounded or captured all but 24 GIs of a 103-man American Army company ambushed on the northern coast.

★ ★ ★

Outnumbered three to one, caught in a U-shaped trap, the U.S. infantrymen battled through the night and past dawn before North Vietnamese troops broke off the fight that left 16 Americans dead, 56 wounded and seven listed as missing, battlefield reports said.

In other war developments, thousands of Communist troops today stormed into five South Vietnamese villages and posts and in a reign of terror killed 14 civilians, wounded at least 196 and destroyed or damaged 200 houses.

In the air war, U.S. spokesmen reported the loss of four jets during yesterday's 104-mission aerial assault against North Vietnam, with the bombers destroying the key Lang Son bridge only 10 miles from the Red China border.

★ ★ ★

ONLY 2 RED BODIES

Only two Communist bodies were found at the scene, according to reports. They lay near the wreckage of an American helicopter gunship that had tried to break through sheets of Communist fire to reach the lost company.

One of the helicopter crewmen, a warrant officer, somehow stumbled through the raging battlefield to an American post 12 miles away. He collapsed.

Gelling of Carlisle, Pa., reported the company was moving into a nighttime defensive position when the first mortar shells hit. Then came machine-gun and then rifle fire.

The company commander and the platoon leader were among the first to fall.

PINNED DOWN

The unit was pinned down. The North Vietnamese closed in for the kill.

Gelling said not one member of the company able to hold a gun failed to meet the life-or-death challenge.

"They had to stand there and fight.

★ ★ ★

"They were never overrun — not any of their positions," the colonel said.

Crime to Be Top '68 Issue, McDonald Tells City Group

Crime, rather than the Vietnam war and inflation, will be the major campaign issue leading to the 1968 elections, Congressman Jack McDonald said in Pontiac yesterday.

★ ★ ★

At least 20 key bills aimed at curbing crime, riots and civil disorder will be introduced in the upcoming session of Congress, the 19th District Republican representative predicted.

McDonald's views of the new year were given in an address before the Pontiac Exchange Club at a luncheon in the Elk's Temple.

Measures intended to reduce the nation's deficit, and others to improve domestic problems also are foreseen by McDonald.

★ ★ ★

Among these will be the reviving of a tax-sharing program whereby funds would be returned to the states and cities for their use "without any strings attached."

'TOUGHER TONE'

On anticrime legislation, McDonald said, "The President already has set the tone, and I think you will see a tougher Congress and a tougher President."

The only positive method of combating crime is stronger police, mayors and laws, he said.

McDonald said that the proposed bills would grant money to cities for police training, defer police from the draft, impose stiffer prison terms and set up housing for witnesses testifying against organized crime.

★ ★ ★

Consideration probably would be given to proposed legislation giving tax credits to firms giving on-the-job training, thereby replacing the Job Corps, according to McDonald.

POLLUTION CONTROL

Tax credits also could be given to firms for investments in combating air pollution, added McDonald.

"We have plenty of laws now, but are we going to enforce them. We can't shut down the plants and put thousands out of work."

McDonald said that some of the problems stemming from air pollution may be solved in committee hearings this year.

★ ★ ★

Other possible legislation, said McDon-

It's a Mail Holdup

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Patrons of the Winter Haven post office must look elsewhere for one-cent stamps to go with their fives so they'll be ready when postage goes to six cents Monday. The post office here said yesterday the one-cent stamps had been delayed — in the mail.

Much of Nation in Winter's Grip

By United Press International

Winter, 1968, continued its rampage today, stunning the nation with subzero cold, icy rains and snow that piled to 18 inches in Michigan. The temperature fell toward 40 below in the Midwest.

The nation's heartland, frozen by a low of 34 below earlier in 1968's first week, enjoyed a brief wave of warmth yesterday but was warned to bundle up for still another cold wave today.

The mercury plunged to 35 below at International Falls, Minn., before dawn today and to 17 below at Minneapolis, Minn. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicted the mercury would go as low as 40 below.

Snow flurries and squalls accompanied a fresh blast of arctic air into the Great Lakes.

★ ★ ★

One to two inches of new snow were reported in the Black Hills last night and over southeast Montana, Wyoming and Nebraska. Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., received two more inches in 12 hours to increase its total snowfall to 18 inches.

HAZARDOUS DRIVING

Hazardous driving and glaze warnings were posted for a seven-state area from central Oklahoma to Kentucky.

Mercury May Hit Minus 8 Tonight

If venturing out tonight, don your earmuffs and wrap your scarf a little tighter.

The weatherman predicts bitterly cold temperatures plunging from zero to eight below zero tonight. There's a chance of snow flurries over the weekend.

Here is the official day-by-day forecast of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

TODAY — Considerable cloudiness, windy and colder with scattered snow flurries and steady or slowly falling temperatures. High 12 to 20.

★ ★ ★

Clear to partly cloudy and much colder tonight. Low zero to eight below zero.

North to northwesterly winds 12 to 24 miles per hour diminishing tonight.

SUNDAY — Partly cloudy and continued cold.

MONDAY — Partly cloudy and continued cold.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: Today 20, tonight 10, tomorrow 20.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 13. The mercury registered 18 at 12:30 p.m.

ALEXANDER DUBCEK

Czech Reds Get New Chief

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) — President Antonin Novotny has lost his job as Communist party chief after 15 years, and the background of the new leader, Alexander Dubcek, could mean a quickening of liberal changes, Western diplomatic observers said today.

Dubcek, 46, who won the power struggle in a four-day secret party caucus, is from Slovakia, for years a source of anti-Stalinist ferment in Czechoslovakia. First reports said his backers in the struggle were liberal associates dissatisfied with the progress of economic and party reforms.

The diplomatic observers expressed doubt, however, that Dubcek would lead Czechoslovakia away from support of the Soviet Union and into the renegade status of Yugoslavia or Romania.

Dubcek, Soviet-educated and a party member since his youth, received quick congratulations from Soviet party chief Leonid Brezhnev, who wished him "success in his work to the good of the Czechoslovak people."

★ ★ ★

The official communique mentioned only that the party was separating Novotny's dual party-state role "in keeping with the initiated process of democratization in the state political sphere."

Thieu Echoes Rusk Position

SAIGON (AP)—Reacting to statements from Hanoi last week seen by some observers as a softer approach to peace talks, South Vietnam's President Nguyen Van Thieu said today, "Everyone is waiting for a . . . much clearer position from Hanoi."

★ ★ ★

But he added that the bombing of North Vietnam could not be stopped without reciprocal action from Hanoi.

Thieu's comments were basically in line with the U. S. position on the recent Hanoi statements, as voiced by Secretary of State Dean Rusk in a Washington news conference Thursday.

Rusk, too, said the allies need to find out what Hanoi means; however, the secretary declined to say whether a bombing halt was possible without Communist reciprocity.

★ ★ ★

Thieu also told the newsmen who questioned him that his government welcomes "any movement or any informal talks from any government to bring peace for Vietnam." But he added, "I believe negotiations should be the main task between the Saigon government and the Hanoi government."

BUILDUP FORESEEN

He said he felt the United States would not begin talks with North Vietnam if Hanoi set conditions unacceptable to the Saigon government.

Senior U. S. military officers believe North Vietnam's first objective, despite its hints this week about possible peace talks, is to stop the U. S. bombing so it can build up its forces and war materials in South Vietnam.

For this reason, these officers would be resistant to any bombing halt not matched by some sort of meaningful military scale-down by North Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

So far, North Vietnamese statements hinting at possible readiness to open peace talks have offered no reciprocity for a halt in U. S. bombing.

This lack of any offer of reciprocal action is one factor that makes some U. S. officials dubious about the sincerity of the North Vietnamese stance.

Local Post Office Is Facing First-Class Stamp Hang-Up

The stamp situation at local post offices is getting sticky, but not because local officials don't give a lick.

Postal rate increases go into effect Monday, changing the cost of first-class letters from five to six cents.

Most people seem to have a lot of five-centers on hand, but they'll only be good for postcards. What they need is one-centers.

Robert Featherston, assistant postmaster, reports "a run" on one-centers wiped out the supply of sheets. What's left is one-centers in cartridges of 500, mostly used on machines.

★ ★ ★

BEING RUSHED IN

However a supply of one-centers in sheets is being rushed from Chicago.

"We're sort of praying they get here over the weekend," Featherston said.

He also reports the post office has a good supply of combinations of six — plenty of twosies, threesies and foursies . . . but alas, no sixsies.

The U.S. Post Office is printing a supply, but thus far none have showed up, he said.

Another problem is being licked, however. Those stamped envelopes marked for five cents are being converted to six-centers.

★ ★ ★

Featherston said a couple of clerks are pasting one cent stamps on them.

Asked "How many do you have?" Featherston replied, "Thousands."

Spock, 4 Other Viet Foes Indicted

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Spock, Yale University Chaplain William Sloane Coffin Jr., and three other opponents of U.S. policy in Vietnam have been indicted on charges of conspiring to counsel young men to avoid the draft.

★ ★ ★

"I have no qualms about going to jail," Spock, the 64-year-old author of widely read books and articles on baby care, said at a news conference in his New York City apartment after a federal grand jury returned the indictments in Boston yesterday.

"This trial will better dramatize the illegal and immoral war and if this trial will further my efforts to stop it, so much the better," Spock said.

Also indicted with Spock and the New Haven, Conn., chaplain were Marcus Raskin, 23, of Washington, D.C., codirector of the Institute for Policy Studies; Mitchell Goodman, 44, an author from New York City and Temple, Maine; and Michael Ferber, 23, of Boston, a graduate student at Harvard University.

★ ★ ★

Raskin was a White House aide for a time in the Kennedy administration in the office of McGeorge Bundy, Special assistant to the president for national security affairs.

MAXIMUM PENALTY

None was arrested. The FBI said the five would be ordered to appear in federal court at Boston for arraignment. That date has not been set.

Conviction of conspiracy to violate the Selective Service Act carries a maximu penalty up to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Coffin, Spock, Raskin and Goodman are members of "resist," a Cambridge organization which calls itself an "adult" support organization for the draft resisters.

★ ★ ★

Until five years ago Spock stuck rather close to pediatrics. But with the 1962 U.S. decision to resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere he joined the National Committee for a Sane Nuclear Policy and began devoting more and more time to the peace movement.

Detroit Negro Group Nixes Grant

DETROIT (AP)— A proposed $100,000 Ford Foundation grant has been rejected by a militant Negro leader with a warning that Detroit may face another devastating riot next summer.

The money was turned down by the Rev. Albert Cleage, an avowed Black Power advocate who heads the Federation for Self-Determination, a group established to help rebuild Detroit's Negro community.

★ ★ ★

Cleage told newsmen Friday that the offer of $100,000 in matching funds had too many strings attached. The offer was made by the New Detroit Committee, a blue ribbon group appointed by Gov. George Romney and Mayor Jerome Cavanagh to coordinate rehabilitation efforts following last summer's costly riot.

★ ★ ★

The riot, worst in modern American history, resulted in 43 deaths, hundreds of injuries and thousands of arrests on charges ranging from murder to arson to looting. Property damage ran into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

ANOTHER RIOT

Cleage, who preaches separatism, said there will be another riot in Detroit next summer if white leaders fail to allow the black community to run its own affairs.

★ ★ ★

"If the white community is intelligent enough to transfer power to the black community so that self-determination can be a reality, then there will be no necessity for a rebellion," he declared.

★ ★ ★

"But if the white community does not do that, there will be another rebellion. That will not be my fault, that will be your fault."

Dual grants of $100,000 each were offered to Cleage's federation and a rival Negro group, the Detroit Council of Organizations, which advocates an integrated approach to the city's problems.

CONDITIONS

In announcing that the funds were available, Joseph L. Hudson Jr., chairman of the New Detroit Committee, said that to get the money the two groups would have to agree to communicate with each other, pledge not to use the money for political purposes and submit to auditing procedures on how the money was spent.

LBJ-Eshkol Talks at Ranch Will Focus on Peace in Mideast

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson shifted from budget work today to Middle East problems, preparing for an informal, private and low-key ranch visit Sunday and Monday with Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol.

Peace in the troubled Middle East was reported to be the prime topic on the agenda for the two leaders.

★ ★ ★

Eshkol will be at the ranch only about 22 hours, according to the schedule. But there will be no time spent on ceremonials.

The Israeli Embassy has sent word to leaders of the Jewish community in San Antonio that there will be little time for them to meet Eshkol when he and his wife arrive at Randolph Air Force Base here Sunday at 4:20 p.m. EST. It was explained officials do not want to slow the prime minister's journey to the LBJ Ranch, 75 miles north of here.

PEACE DISCUSSION

Johnson aides said the main purpose of the meeting was a discussion of Middle East peace. But a wide range of topics are expected to come up, including water desalting projects and Israel's request for American jet fighter planes to offset Soviet arms supplies to Arab nations.

Eshkol conferred in New York Friday with U.S. Secretary-General U Thant.

Eshkol is due at the LBJ Ranch about 5 p.m. EST Sunday and is scheduled to leave there Monday around 3 p.m. EST.

CUT AT LONG HAIR — In her beautification campaign, Lady Bird Johnson has proposed cutting down the number of billboards. An Amarillo, Texas, firm, Panhandle Outdoor Advertising Co., aims at increasing the number of billboards. ald, would provide public housing that people could own.

PUBLIC HOUSING

"The way it is now, tenants living in a public housing development feel like temporary citizens of a community."

McDonald said that foreign aid and federal programs, and not the Vietnam war, are responsible for the nation's estimated $20-$35 billion deficit ("depending on where you get your figures") said McDonald.

Noting that he did not believe that the U.S. has been successful in its foreign aid program, McDonald said the deficit could be lowered $7-$9 billion by reducing foreign aid and some research funds.

★ ★ ★

"There is only one answer and that is learning to live within our budget," said McDonald. "If we don't, it will lead to our own destruction."

Meat-Packing Firm Is Fined

DETROIT (UPI) — The Utica Packing Co. in Utica has been fined $500 for selling pork adulterated with hair, tonsils, windpipe and bone to a Detroit sausage manufacturer.

The firm has been convicted three times since 1963 on similar charges.

The latest conviction was handed down Thursday by Judge Joseph Gillis in Detroit Recorders Court. Gillis also assessed the firm $150 for costs.

S. African's Condition Excellent

2nd Surgery on Dentist Eyed

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI) — Dr. Christian Barnard said today if Philip Blaiberg's body rejects his new heart, a second heart transplant operation could be performed.

He made the observation during a discussion of the dentist's condition, which he said is excellent.

In the Cape Town colored suburb of Salt River, hundreds of mourners filed past the body of Clive Haupt, 24, whose heart Barnard and his surgical team sewed into Blaiberg's body Tuesday at Groote Schuur Hospital.

The funeral at St. Paul's Anglican Church coincided with the beginning of a Mardi-Gras-like carnival in the community. It is the gayest day of the year for the community, and celebrators decided to pause for one minute of silence in Haupt's memory.

★ ★ ★

Barnard said there was a 50-50 chance his next heart transplant patient would be nonwhite. He rejected the idea that an African's heart was unsuitable for transplanting into a white person's body.

South African law classified persons as white, colored (mixed) and African.

"Africans have good hearts," he said. "They seldom suffer from cardiac disease and would make excellent donors for transplants."

The surgeon said there would be no transplants in the immediate future because it will take a month for Blaiberg to pass the critical period of recovery.

★ ★ ★

The irregularities in Blaiberg's heart beat recorded by an electrocardiograph disappeared and the organ is functioning normally, Barnard said.

He said the irregularities had been noted in the first transplant patient and had been thought of as signs of rejection. He said doctors now believe they might be signs of surgical trauma and shock.

U.S. Bombing of Ship Was Deliberate--Soviets

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet government followed up a formal protest with a charge today that the U.S. bombing of a Soviet ship in Haiphong Harbor was deliberate.

The American government had said earlier that the damage to the ship, the Pereslavl Zalessky, was an "inadvertent" result of a raid on Haiphong.

The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia rejected this explanation.

A Japanese-language radio Moscow broadcast, monitored in Tokyo, reported 10 Soviet freighters are en route to Haiphong with aid material for North Vietnam. Observers noted that Soviet ship movements are not normally reported by Moscow and said the broadcast could have been a warning to the United States.

★ ★ ★

It was the fourth time that the Soviets have claimed their ships were damaged in U.S. raids, and the third such incident in the past seven months. One Soviet seaman was reported killed in a raid last June, but the Pereslavl Zalessky's 41 crewmen reportedly escaped injury.

In Washington, State Department spokesman Robert McCloskey said an investigation was under way. He said the damage, if true, was "inadvertent and it is regretted," but pointed out that Soviet ships risk such "unintentional damage" if they sail into North Vietnam harbors.

Russian Suggests 2-Stage Transplant

MOSCOW (UPI) — A top Soviet surgeon said last night that if he were to do a human heart transplant, he would do it by having the patient live for a time with two hearts functioning.

Vladimir Demikhov, who attracted worldwide attention in 1954 when he grafted the head of one dog onto the neck of another, said he would perform a human heart transplant in two stages.

"The patient would live for some time, perhaps even a month, with two hearts," he said.

"The new heart would help the old one work," he said.

Detroit News Lays Off Its Clerical Staff

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit News, which has been shut down since mid-November by striking truck drivers, Friday laid off 300 clerical workers.

The News said some 325 editorial employes would not be affected by the layoff.

★ ★ ★

The Detroit Free Press, whose editorial and clerical workers are represented by the American Newspaper Guild, laid off all its union workers when it closed down the day after the News.

In another development, the Detroit Daily Dispatch, one of three interim newspapers threatened with a shutdown by the Teamsters, signed a contract with the union Friday.

ABDUCTED FROM SCHOOL — A daughter of heiress Mrs. Newton (Dolly Fritz) Cope was abducted from a private school in San Francisco yesterday by a man who police said answered the description of her father, Donald MacMasters. Taken was Isabelle MacMasters (right), 4, shown with her sister, Marguerite, 5. After struggling with her teacher, the man escaped with the child; both were seen at San Francisco International Airport before disappearing. The two girls were abducted last February and recovered by their mother later in Mexico, where MacMasters had been traced. Police said they had no information on the activities or whereabouts of MacMasters.

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (UPI) — Prince Norodom Sihanouk today said conflicting American and Communist pressures on his neutralist regime will largely tie his hands in talks with U.S. presidential envoy Chester W. Bowles here next week. "I have been caught between the Communist devil and the American deep sea," the Cambodian chief of state told a news conference. "My freedom of action will be greatly limited."

LBJ Hanged in Effigy

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — About 300 university students hanged President Johnson in effigy today and chanted anti-American slogans while waiting for Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to come and talk to them. The students carried dozens of signs assailing the U. S. role in Vietnam, such as "Americans hands are red with the blood of Vietnamese children." Humphrey, delayed by a two-hour meeting with Emperor Haile Selassie, canceled plans to address the students. This caused one student leader to say: "We are very disappointed the vice president is not coming. We had no intention of making a violent demonstration. We just wanted him to know how we felt."

ACLU Files Draft Suit

DETROIT (UPI)—The Amerifiled suit against the draft system, charging that Selective Service Director Gen. Lewis Hershey "insists on playing God . . . judge and jury to those persons subject to the Selective Service System." The ACLU filed the suit here yesterday. It challenges the constitutionality of Hershey's directive ordering local boards to reclassify young men who protest against the administration's handling of the Vietnam war. Ernest Mazey, director of the Michigan ACLU, said the directive has a "chilling and intimidating" effect on the constitutional rights of potential draftees.

Tshombe Ouster Eyed

ALGIERS (AP) — Unofficial but usually reliable sources in Algiers said today that former Congo Premier Moise Tshombe may soon be released from prison and expelled from Algeria. Official sources all claim to have no knowledge of such plans.

Aid Heads for N. Viet

TOKYO (UPI — A Radio Moscow broadcast monitored here tonight said that 10 Soviet freighters are en route to Haiphong, North Vietnam, with supplies. The Japanese-language broadcast said that the 10 Soviet freighters left Odessa on New Year's Day bound for Haiphone with cargoes including 20,000 tons of industrial machines, power generators and mine exploration equipment.

Last Lunar Prob Near

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Surveyor 7, America's last unmanned lunar probe, is scheduled for launching early tomorrow toward a soft landing on one of the roughest spots of the moon — the highlands north of the crater Tycho. Launching of the Atlas-Centaur booster rocket was set for a favorable period between 12:55 a.m. and 3:12 a.m. EST. Surveyor 7 is the 29th U.S. moon shot in slightly more than nine years. The first 12 failed, but 13 of the last 16 were successful. No more unmanned moon rockets are planned, and the next American moon explorer should be man himself, perhaps in 1969.

French Hear LBJ Aide

PARIS (AP) — Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach explained President Johnson's five-point balance of payments program to top French officials today and said afterward he felt France supported the American program. But Katzenbach, Johnson's roving European emissary to enlist support for the balance of payments program, gave the impression that the French were not entirely satisfied. In a brief statement at Orly Airport before he left for London, Katzenbach said the French "expressed the hope that the President would secure his anti-inflation tax legislation in the States. They said this was essential. I would agree with them."

BEA Makes New Offer to Board of Education

BIRMINGHAM — The board of education's negotiating team has received another offer from the Birmingham Education Association (BEA).

However, according to representatives of both sides, little progress was made in a meeting Thursday between the two teams, latest in a series dating back to March.

Richard Zwieback, chief negotiator for the board, said the new BEA proposal was a presentation for a one-year contract totaling roughly twice the recommendations of state fact-finder Harry Casselman.

The proposed package, Zwieback said, amounted to approximately $400,000 more than an early November proposal that was later rejected by a poll of the teachers.

★ ★ ★

Another meeting between the two teams is scheduled for next week.

Registration for the winter adult education program will begin Monday.

Such varied courses as French, chair caning, cake decorating and knitting are among those to be offered during the upcoming term.

Registration may be made at the adult education department in the Hill Building, at Chester and Merrill, from 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

★ ★ ★

Offerings are based on inquiries and requests from residents of the community. If there is sufficient interest, evening classes will be held for adults who wish to return on a part-time basis to complete requirements for a high school diploma.

Donald N. Frey, 1052 Waddington, vice president for product development at Ford Motor Co. and president of the Engineering Society of Detroit, was one of 14 receiving Centennial Medallion Award for civic leadership from Wayne State University at commencement exercises.

★ ★ ★

The awards were conferred by Norman O. Stockmeyer, chariman of the WSU Board of Governors.

Lt. Gov. William Milliken has announced a new appointment to the State Board of Pharmacy, replacing Richard Wilson of Birmingham, whose term expired recently.

★ ★ ★

Wilson's successor for a five-year term on the five-man bipartisan board will be Russell V. Oosting of Grand Rapids, a Republican.

Contractors Misuse U.S. Goods--Senator

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., yesterday accused some of the nation's biggest defense contractors of misusing government-owned equipment. They included Boeing, Curtis-Wright, Bendix, Aerojet-General and Sperry Gyroscope.

Many of the companies, notified in advance by Proxmire that he was going to make the charges, immediately denied any wrong doing.

Proxmire named 21 companies and two universities — Chicago and Maryland — he said were investigated by the General Accounting Office (GAO) for alleged misuses of some of the $15 billion in government-owned buildings, machinery, test equipment and other property in the hands of holders of defense contracts.

He said the use of government-owned equipment for contractors' own private production was "costing the federal government over the years billions of dollars."

Proxmire stressed that the companies named were not "the black sheep of the industrial world."

'TYPICAL'

"These contractors are typical," he said. "They're no better or worse than others. They happened to be the ones investigated."

★ ★ ★

Proxmire provided reporters a copy of a statement by the Boeing Co., which said, "a review of the record will confirm that Boeing has consistently obtained approval for and adequately reimbursed the government" for the use of the government owned equipment in question.

DENIALS

Boeing and other denials were also made to the GAO.

Warren Firm Issues Denial

WARREN (AP) — A strong denial of any wrongdoing was issued Friday by the president of a Michigan firm included among 21 defense contractors accused of misusing costly government-owned property.

The 21 companies were named by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., at a news conference in Washington Friday. Included on the list was the Holley Carburetor Co. of Warren.

"It appears that the good senator has assumed that all 21 companies investigated were guilty. This we very strongly object to. It's guilty by association," said Milton J. Kittler, the company president.

$1,000 Reward Set in Milkman Killing

DETROIT (AP)— Twin Pines Farm Dairy has posted a $1,000 reward for information leading to the capture and conviction of the murderer of milkman Michael Marvin Kane, 58, of Detroit.

Kane was shot to death when two teen-agers attempted to rob his delivery van in Detroit Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

Police said that two youths who were held for questioning had been cleared in the fatal shooting. Police reported Friday night that no new leads have developed in the case.

Jersey Town Chops Delinquent Taxes

HAINESPORT TOWNSHIP, N.J. (UPI) — Hiring a karate expert as a special collector in a campaign by town fathers to gather delinquent taxes was reported today meeting with great success.

Fortunately, Maurice P. Doe, has not had to resort to karate to squeeze money out of the nonpayers.

But he may soon.

One citizen — owing $7 since 1962 — has promised to greet Doe with a 38-caliber bullet if he returns again to collect the money.

★ ★ ★

Mayor Kenneth E. Street hired Doe when the tax rolls of delinquent taxpayers continued to grow.

OUT OF HAND

"Taxes will be collected by hook or crook," the mayor said, "This tax problem in our community has completely gotten out of hand, and action will be taken."

Doe has already collected $14,000 — some of it owed since 1946 — and said he expects to get another $4,000 in a few days.

OU Starts Classes in New Optics Field

Oakland University began classes this week in an engineering course which has attracted national attention, according to John E. Gibson, dean of the university's School of Engineering.

"The program in coherent optics by Keeve M. Siegel and his associates at KMS Industries represents a service to the academic and industrial research community of the area," Gibson said.

"It will permit Oakland University to make available the latest advances in this exploding technology years earlier than would usually be the case."

The course, "Seminar in Coherent Optics," is presented by a group of top-level scientist-executives of KMS Industries of Ann Arbor.

KMS Industries, founded by Siegel a year ago, is pioneering in a number of scientific fields, including optics and electro-optical systems.

The long-time head of the University of Michigan Radiation Laboratory accepted the post of visiting professor of engineering at OU last summer.

Nine KMS Staffers from high corporation posts will assist Siegel as lecturers throughout the semester.

Richard E. Haskell, assistant professor of engineering at OU, coordinates the course and oversees the laboratory program, a vital and unique part of the course.

The 11-man teaching team has earned more than two dozen degrees, including a total of seven doctorates.

According to Siegel, the course covers a field of increasing scientific interest and has generated intense excitement in the worldwide research community.

Course topics include theory and applications of lasers, optical data processing, holography and optical detectors.

Siegel feels the seminar is pioneering in education in general as well as in the relatively uncharted field of coherent optics.

Through the Educational Division of KMS Industries, class lectures will be recorded on video tape and made available to universities throughout the world.

Hanoi Choice for Viet Mediator Baffle Experts

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) — Hanoi's selection of Indonesia as a possible mediator in the current Vietnam peace soundings may indicate North Vietnam is acting without Communist Chinese approval or even in defiance of Peking.

Indonesia is one of Peking's major targets for propaganda attacks. Communist China broke relations with Jakarta after the smashing of Indonesia's pro-Peking Communist party by the ruling regime.

In 1965 the Indonesian Communists tried to take over the government and the number of persons massacred in the failure has been estimated up to half a million.

For Hanoi to approach Indonesia, of all nations, appears, therefore, one of the most mystifying develpments in the North Vietnamese Communists' puzzling peace offensive of the last few days.

Hanoi made the approach to Foreign Minister Adam Malik, reportedly the No. 1 anti-Peking Indonesian leader.

News Analysis

Neither Jakarta nor Hanoi has explained why Indonesia was approached.

DENIAL ISSUED

In Jakarta today Malik denied North Vietnam had approached Indonesia. But high-ranking foreign office and military officials said the approach had been made.

China experts say there can be no chance of Peking giving Hanoi a formal go-ahead for such a move. Moreover, the experts say, Hanoi has not asked Peking's approval.

All of which leads to the possibility that Hanoi is acting without Communist China's backing, if not in outright defiance of Peking, in selecting Indonesia as a potential mediator.

★ ★ ★

Hanoi's posture in relation to Peking and Moscow has been unclear for some time. Credible reports have said that North Vietnam's ruling regime was split into three camps—pro-Peking, pro-Moscow and middle-of-the-road.

★ ★ ★

Lately Hanoi appeared leaning ideologically toward Moscow, especially since Communist China's cultural revolution upset many of the pro-Peking North Vietnamese. Thus, North Vietnam sent a delegation to Moscow's 50th Bolshevik Revolution anniversary celebrations, which Peking brushed off.

And, the Soviet Union is the main supplier of sophisticated weapons Hanoi needs in the war against the United States.
