Avon Girl Killed as Car Is Hit by Auto Fleeing Police

MARGIE L. MORSE

A June graduate of Avondale High School died early this morning from injuries received when the automobile she was driving was rammed broadside by a car occupied by two youths speeding from police pursuit.

Margie L. Morse, 18, of 2527 Hartline, Avon Township, died at 2 a.m. in Pontiac General Hospital of multiple head and chest injuries, according to a hospital spokesman.

The accident occurred at 12:02 a.m. today when James G. Temple, 21, of Ferndale, reportedly driving up to speeds of 120 miles per hour in an attempt to elude Troy police cars, ran a red light on Crooks at Auburn in Avon Township. Temple's car, police said, rammed the girl's auto broadside. Miss Morse was thrown out of the car, according to Cpl. George Reed who was in the lead pursuit car.

Temple and a passenger, Ronald J. Graswick, 18, of Ferndale were admitted to Crittenton General Hospital, Rochester. They are in fair condition.

Cpl. Reed said the youths were surprised by Patrolman Ed Rollinger in the rear lot of Audette Pontiac on 15 Mile Road following a call from a guard as they allegedly attempted to steal a new car by pushing it with another auto. The car doing the pushing sped north on Crooks and Rollinger gave chase. Reed said he later took over the lead in the chase.

A third youth who was reportedly at the wheel of the new car at Audette was apprehended at one of the boys' homes in Ferndale after the accident, Police said. He is Eugene Griffin, 18, also of Ferndale.

Warrants are to be sought on the fatal accident and the auto theft.

4 Critically Hurt by Molten Metal

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — An explosion at an industrial plant released tons of molten metal on a dozen workers today injuring most of them, four critically.

Ambulances were packed with the victims, some of them with their clothing burned from their bodies.

The director of public relations at the American Cast Iron Pipe Co., B. B. Warren, said there were no known deaths but eight to a dozen persons were injured.

"We were pouring a steel tube this morning," Warren said. "For some unknown reason the retaining ring or head came out and we lost a good bit of liquid metal."

Four critically injured men were treated at a hospital for burns all over their bodies. Others were less severely burned.

KICKED OUT DOOR

The blast kicked out the door of a centrifugal force pipe-making machine in a special products building where steel tubing is made.

The plant is located in north Birmingham.

Fire Marshal A. J. Rosenfeld said confusion reigned immediately after the explosion while plant employes extinguished the flames wrapping their fellow workers. They tried to fight a raging fire with hand extinguishers.

Northwest Winds Whipping Area

Hang on to your hats today. The weatherman predicts that the northwesterly winds will blow and blow and blow. Wind speed will vary from 10 to 20 miles an hour punctuated by occasional stronger gusts.

WINDY

Temperatures will continue to create winterlike conditions through Wednesday with the overcast skies dropping occasional snow flurries.

The U.S. Weather Bureau's five-day forecast portends a slight warming trend in midweek before temperatures zoom downward for the coming weekend.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 20, tonight and tomorrow 30.

'Military Opposing Long Bombing Halt'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. William C. Westmoreland and the Joint Chiefs of Staff can be expected to stand against any new proposal for an extended pause in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, Pentagon sources say.

The bombing pause question is among matters to be reviewed at this week's high-level conferences.

Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, is due here Wednesday to join Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, in discussions with President Johnson and officials of the Defense and State departments. Johnson meets with Bunker today.

Pentagon sources said there are no urgent issues — nothing in the way of new troop increase requests or logistic or operational problems.

The meetings come as the Johnson administration appears to be stressing "steady progress" in the Vietnam war.

Bunker used this phrase on his arrival Friday from Saigon. High U.S. military officials followed a similar line Saturday with newsmen, although they predicted hard fighting in critical areas.

In other developments:

● Retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin said his recent trip to Vietnam convinced him the administration plans to keep forces in Southeast Asia for a long time.

Gavin said the government pictures its purposes in Vietnam as resisting current aggression while its policy is long-term containment of Red China.

● California Gov. Ronald Reagan called for a clear decision on "whether we want to carry the war through to a conclusion, or give up" and said stopping U.S. bombing of the North "will only encourage the enemy to do his worst."

Reagan said U.S. policy in Vietnam from the start "was a case of being too late with too little, while tipping our hand to the enemy so that he always knew in advance what we proposed . . ."

● Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said in Chicago, "The '68 elections will be a vote on Vietnam. It is clear the question will not be settled in the Senate or in Congress. We must take it back to the jury."

McCarthy said he won't announce until about Dec. 15 if he plans to oppose Johnson for the nomination.

● Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., predicted Johnson may ask Congress next year for a preelection vote of confidence in his Vietnam policies.

● Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark, said he believes the American public is wearying of the war. Fulbright said he feels public support is growing for his position.

Minister Hits LBJ on Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson spent a whirlwind weekend defending his Vietnam policies, then listened in church as a Virginia clergyman bluntly suggested the chief executive should publicly explain America's role in the war.

The Johnson administration's public information policies came under attack a few hours later from the Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi, an 18,000-member professional journalism society.

The panel said in a report that some of the administration's top officials have been "deliberately misleading the public, the press and the Congress through flat lies, through half-truths and through clever use of statistics that distort." It called the President's news conferences "well organized for a White House snow job."

The report, released in advance of Sigma Delta Chi's national convention opening Wednesday in Minneapolis, Minn., charged the State and Defense departments and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration are the worst offenders in the public information field.

For the chief executive, the sandy-haired Dr. Lewis doubtless provided an unwanted climax to a 5,100-mile Veterans Day weekend tour that took him from Ft. Benning, Ga., to the carrier Enterprise off the California coast.

In appearances at military bases Friday and Saturday before going to Williamsburg, Johnson defended his Vietnam policy and appealed for united support in the war.

Dr. Lewis, however, told the President "there is a rather general consensus that something is wrong in Vietnam."

"We wonder if some logical straightforward explanation might be given without endangering whatever military or political advantage we hold . . . while pledging our loyalty we ask respectfully why?"

"We are appalled that apparently this is the only war in our history which has had three times as many civilians as military casualties. It is particularly regrettable that to most nations the struggle's purpose appears as a form of neo-colonialism."

Mrs. Johnson's parting comment to Dr. Lewis was, "Wonderful choir."

Local at Fisher Strikes, Halting Pontiac Div. Line

A 24-hour strike called by UAW Local 596 at Fisher Body in Pontiac this morning has halted new-car assemblies at Pontiac Motor Division.

Some 4,000 Fisher Body workers walked off the job at 4 a.m. today causing the final assembly plant at the motor division also to shut down. This involves an additional 2,000 workers.

Union officials said the strike is to protest a backlog of grievances and local working conditions.

Workers at both plants are expected back on the job in the morning, according to union and company sources.

A 24-hour strike called Thursday at Pontiac Motor Division by UAW Local 653 sent some 20,000 workers at the two plants home for a day.

Housewife-Mother Wins Grid Contest

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Mrs. James Wilson of 41 Oak Hill will always have a warm spot in her heart for Florida.

For it was the 17-16 victory of that state's grid Gators over Georgia's Bulldogs that put her in the winner's circle of the 1967 Press Annual Football Contest clutching an award of a $500 U.S. Savings Bond.

The 51-year-old housewife and mother of five is, along with her family, a regular entrant in the newspaper's yearly contest. The Wilsons make it a joint venture, usually submitting half a dozen entries.

"No," the happy handicapper said, "we didn't have any mystic power going for us in picking our winners. We read The Press sports pages before the contest deadline to get a line on the teams, held many living room huddles, and 'hunched' several games we were doubtful-of."

Who says family togetherness doesn't pay off?

SPINE-TINGLER

From the start, the contest was a spine-tingler for the several thousand entrants who saw themselves eliminated week by week.

Going into fast weekend, seven contestants were in the running. Waterford Township High School's Friday night massacre of Waterford Kettering, 54-6, eliminated four. That left three contenders for Saturday's Georgia-Florida tussle.

Conference Backs Open Housing

By DICK ROBINSON

Some 200 persons at a conference on housing in Oakland County voted Saturday to support open housing legislation, which a top Democratic leader told them needs a bipartisan effort to pass.

Senate Minority Floor Leader Sander M. Levin, D-Berkley, said at Oakland University that fair housing is not a partisan issue and that a bipartisan effort will be needed to get it passed.

Government officials, educators, urban planners, home owners, bankers and builders who attended the conference also voted to urge the Pontiac Housing Commission and Oakland County Planning Commission to give seats on those bodies to "grass roots" representatives.

Keynote speaker Howard H. Fitzgerald II, publisher of The Pontiac Press, blamed the building industry for pricing moderate income housing out of the reach of many families.

"I feel sure that the resourcefulness of industry (such as automotive) would find a way to price their product to the market . . ." Fitzgerald remarked.

"But not so in housing. Here's where fragmentation, inefficiency and tax legislation seem to foster this type of industry.

"The industry seems unable to direct or influence its own future. It has become a residual one operating off the money, the labor and the resources left after everyone else takes his."

HOWARD H. FITZGERALD II

SEN. SANDER LEVIN

Fitzgerald is chairman of the 18-month-old Pontiac Housing Committee, a citizen-organized study group.

Open occupancy legislation can pass during this special session of the Legislature if Gov. Romney can get support from Republicans, according to Levin.

MAJORITY IN FAVOR

The senator said a majority of Democrats in the Senate and House favor the open housing bill, which may be brought up in the House for passage this week before the start of deer season.

"The urban crisis is also a suburban crisis," Levin commented after indicating housing problems and shortages in suburban areas. "An urban-suburban coalition is needed to meet metropolitan problems.

"Recent events in many cities have shown the common interest of urban and suburban areas in the resolution of hous-

3 Freed Sergeants Head Toward U.S.

ROME (AP) — Three U.S. Army sergeants released from Communist captivity in Vietnam passed through Rome today on a jetliner taking them home to the United States.

The men had spent the night in Beirut, where one of them in an interview with a local newspaper repudiated antiwar statements he had made in Hanoi. Another of the trio stood behind his remarks.

The three men—James E. Jackson of Talcott, W.Va., Daniel Lee Pitzer of Spring Lake, N.C., and Edward R. Johnson of Seaside, Calif.—were put aboard a Pan American airliner due in Washington at 10:30 p.m. EST after stops in Rome, Paris and New York.

FLOWN TO BEIRUT

The men were flown to Beirut Sunday from Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, aboard a Czechoslovak airliner after a ceremony Saturday at which they were turned over to Thomas Hayden, representing an American peace committee.

Hayden was traveling with them to the United States, Pan American said.

Sgt. Johnson, who was reported ill with dysentery and malnutrition, was quoted by the Beirut newspaper Al Bayrak as denying that he had been brainwashed and said: "I am going back to the war when duty calls me."

"I said what I said in Hanoi under pressure and I didn't mean any of it," he was quoted as saying. "I am an American,...I don't think my brain is so dirty that somebody has to wash it for me."

'MEAN'T EVERYTHING'

However, Al Bayrak said Pitzer told its reporter at the airport: "I meant everything I said in Hanoi. I am against war and I think the Americans made a mistake in getting involved in it."

Pitzer said in Phnom Penh that he was captured in October 1963 in Camau province, South Vietnam's southernmost province. But Melhem Karam, the editor of Al Bayrak and the president of the Lebanese Editors Association, said Pitzer told him his plane was hit while he was bombing North Vietnam, and that he bailed out and was captured.

Pitzer said he was well treated by his captors in North Vietnam.

Jackson said only that he was going on to Prague and then to meet his family in the United States.

HEAVY SECURITY

Beirut airport was under heavy security for the departure. Plainclothes policemen were on duty in the terminal and no newsmen or photographers were allowed out of the building toward the runway where the airliner waited.

The U.S. Embassy said the three Americans asked to be disembarked from the Czech plane in Beirut Sunday for rest and medical attention.

Bomb's Blast Rocks Jetliner

Plane Falls 600 Feet but Continues Flight

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — High over Colorado, an explosion rocked an American Airlines jetliner with 78 persons aboard, shattering suitcases in the plane's rear baggage compartment.

The plane, on a nonstop flight Sunday from Chicago to San Diego dropped about 600 feet over Alamosa, Colo.

After the Boeing 727 landed two hours later in San Diego, fragments of what appeared to be a homemade bomb were found in the luggage debris.

"There's no question about that," said Mel Zikes, a public relations officer for American. "Parts of a crudely made bomb with a timing device—a face of a clock, some mechanism's and a battery—were found."

FBI MUM

The Federal Bureau of Investigation refused to comment except to say persons were being questioned.

None of the 72 passengers or six crew members was reported injured.

Coach Tony Succec and seven members of San Diego State College track team were flying home after repeating as champions of the national college cross-country meet at Wheaton, Ill., College.

Said Sucec: "There was no sign of panic or fright, but the noise was loud enough and the jolt severe enough to cause other passengers to look at each other and look toward the back of the plane."

'BIG BANG'

"Suddenly, there was a sharp, big bang," said Pete Virgadamo, 20, a junior at San Diego State and a runner on Sucec's team.

"Everone in the plane stopped what they were doing and turned around. There was no smoke, no nothing."

Japanese Say 4 Deserted off U.S. Carrier

TOKYO (AP) — Four U.S. Navy men from the 7th Fleet aircraft carrier Intrepid have deserted and asked for political asylum outside the United States because they oppose the war in Vietnam, the Japan Peace for Vietnam Committee said today.

It said a representative of "The American Peace Movement" came to Japan a week ago to confer with the sailors.

The Japanese committee added that David Dellinger, an antiwar leader who helped organize the march on the Pentagon in Washington last month, had been informed of the defection.

A spokesman for the committee, which opposes the war, said the four were John M. Barilla, 20, airman; Richard D. Bailey, 19, airman; Michael A. Lindner, 19, airman apprentice; and Craig W. Anderson, 20, airman apprentice.

UNIFORMS OFF

The peace committee spokesman said the four discarded their uniforms upon landing at Yokosuka and have not reported back to the Navy.

"They left their aircraft carrier with a firm determination to oppose the Vietnam war," the spokesman added.

The U.S. Navy confirmed that the four were absent without leave after the Intrepid sailed from Yokosuka Oct. 25. The carrier, whose planes have been bombing North Vietnam, came to Japan for a week's recreation for her crew.

The Peace for Vietnam Committee showed a film at a news conference in which the four Americans said they were seeking "political asylum in Japan or any other country not engaged in the war."

The four are apparently still in Japan but their whereabouts were not revealed by the committee.

N. Viets Storm U.S. Defenses

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese army regulars charged in force toward U.S. defense lines near Dak To in the central highlands tonight, and the Americans fired 105mm Howitzers point blank to hold them off.

First reports of the fighting said some of the U.S. defense lines had been breached and that paratroopers of the American 173rd Airborne Brigade were moving in to consolidate the positions.

AP correspondent John Lengel reported from the battle zone that a major new action was under way after a day of light skirmishes along the highlands battlefront. Earlier U.S. intelligence reports said the North Vietnamese had moved reinforcements in after losing more than 600 men killed in 11 days of battle.

Lengel reported the airborne brigade came under frontal assault after nightfall about six miles southwest of Dak To in what U.S. officials believe is an effort to score an "impact victory" to embarrass South Vietnam's new civilian-based government.

3 Arrested as Suspects in Break-In

A. 27-year-old man and two youths were arrested Saturday for investigation of breaking and entering the home of a Milford man killed in a traffic accident Wednesday.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies, who withheld the names of the three pending orders for warrants against them, said the arrests were made after a Wixom police officer became suspicious of items he found in the car in which they were traveling.

The patrolman, who stopped the car about 9:30 a.m. for defective taillights, said he saw a number of articles, including a television set, a camera, silverware and a mixmaster, marked with the name "Chapman."

He contacted the Oakland County Sheriff's Department, where Deputy Robert Macfarlane remembered the name in connection with the accident in which James H. Chapman, 69, of 359 Grande Vista was killed in Milford Township.

Macfarlane said he went immediately to the Chapman home where he confirmed that a break-in had taken place, then arrested the trio.

Chapman's wife, injured in the accident, was still in the hospital at the time of the burglary.

London Theft Loot May Be $2.8 Million

LONDON (AP) — Thieves working all weekend with blowtorches cleaned out the London headquarters of the national cooperative store chain and may have gotten away with as much as a million pounds—$2.8 million, police said today.

The headquarters in the Stratford section of East London is the depository for huge sums spent by Britons in the various co-ops operated as a giant chain store system.

The master safe and some deposit boxes were burned open and rifled, police said.

The raiders must have spent much of Saturday and Sunday using "thermal lances" which burn through metal slowly but silently.

Three Are Promoted at Pontiac Division

Appointment of D. Robert Bell as general manufacturing manager for Pontiac Motor Division was announced today by Pontiac Works Manager F. James McDonald.

Bell, of 2159 Randall, Bloomfield Hills, has been program manager in the manufacturing department of Chevrolet Motor Division. He will be in charge of all manufacturing operations including final assembly, the pressed metal plants, the plating, axle and engine plants, as well as the foundry.

In other top-level manufacturing staff shifts at Pontiac, John F. Blamy, 1565 N. Glengarry, Bloomfield Township, was named manager of manufacturing staff operations and Charles O. Johnson, 2850 Chadwick, Waterford Township, was named administrative assistant to the works manager.

All changes become effective Dec. 1.

Bell returned to Chevrolet earlier this year from General Motors Overseas Operations Division where he had served as manager of the Ellesmere Port plant of Vauxhall Motors, Ltd., near Liverpool, England.

DETROIT PLANT

Following his graduation from Purdue University in 1938 he joined Chevrolet as a student engineer in the division's gear and axle plant in Detroit.

He was named assistant plant engineer at Chevrolet's motor plant at Tonawanda, near Buffalo, in 1945 and was promoted to general superintendent of production there in 1959. Later that year he was elevated to assistant manager of Chevrolet's manufacturing research and development department.

Blamy has been with General Motors since September of 1930 when he entered General Motors Institute as an engineering student. He joined Pontiac immediately upon his graduation from GMI in 1934.

In 1953 he was named assistant personnel director in charge of salaried personnel. He held this position until 1955 when he was named assistant chief inspector and a year later he became chief inspector and in 1960 he was named manufacturing manager.

PACKARD PLANT

Johnson, who has served as manager of manufacturing staff operations for the past two years, entered the automobile industry at Packard Motor Car Co. in 1919.

He joined Chevrolet in Detroit in 1923 as an assistant foreman. He advanced through Chevrolet to general foreman and in 1936 was transferred to Pontiac as night superintendent.

He became assistant plant superintendent in 1942. In 1946 he was promoted to axle plant superintendent and in 1951 he was named general superintendent and in 1955 he became general manufacturing superintendent.

No Deal Seen on Poverty Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House supporters of the administration's antipoverty program plan to fight for the full $2.06 billion requested instead of seeking a compromise to head off a deep cut proposed by Republicans.

A GOP amendment to slash the program by $660 million is slated for action today as the House resumes consideration of the controversial legislation.

A plan by some Democrats who back the bill to agree to a lesser cut in hopes of defeating the Republican move was abandoned after a series of weekend strategy huddles and after President Johnson's fighting denunciation of "stand-patters and nay-sayers."

In a New York speech Thursday night, Johnson blasted the "old coalition" he said has always opposed reform and is now using the Vietnam war as an excuse to oppose his domestic program.

Teachers, Board Reach Tentative Work Pact

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Education Association and the board of education have reached a tentative contract agreement, apparently ending the bitter eight-month dispute.

The BEA team headed by Donald Cameron and the Board team headed by Supt. John B. Smith met with State Mediator Leonard Bennett for 16 hours beginning Friday afternoon before coming to the agreement, said Administrative Assistant Walter Piel.

No details of the agreement will be released until after both sides have ratified a contract, said Piel. The BEA plans to meet Wedneday at 3:30 p.m. to do this.

A meeting in the Grove's High School auditorium was set for this afternoon to give teachers details of the proposed contract.

The accord apparently ends the longest contract dispute in the state, marked by a court injunction on Sept. 18 forced the teachers back to work after a holdout.

STUMBLING BLOCK

The chief stumbling block all along has been money, said Piel. We felt we could only give so much, and they wanted more.

Some bitterness has been evident since the injunction with many teachers refusing to participate in extracurricular activities.

There has been no marching band this fall and a reduction in clubs and activities supervised by teachers, said Piel.

Two public hearings, one on rezoning land at Ann and Landon and one on the vacation of an alley between Lincoln and Landon, will be held tonight at 8 in the City Commission Building — they had been postponed from Oct. 9.

The association services over 335 nonprofit, voluntary family social agencies across the country.

Ingraham, an attorney, has served as a member of the national group's board and as president of the Family Service of Oakland County.

Man on I-696 Killed by Car

A 41-year-old man died after being hit by a car on I-696 west of Inkster Road, Farmington Township, last night.

Gibson was hit by a westbound car driven by Jack E. Evans, 39, of Fenton. Evans and his two passengers were not injured, police said.

It is uncertain whether Gibson was walking on or near the road.

He reportedly was going to get gas for his car. A gas station is near an exit about three-quarters of a mile from the scene of the accident, said police.

Township police are still investigating the accident which occurred at 10:30 last night.

Area Teen Shot Outside Store

In custody is Bige Griffith, no address reported, according to city police.

Officers said Griffith was arrested shortly after Eric E. Campbell, 19, of 1042 Oxford, Oxford Township, was shot outside Glen's Party Store, 805 Baldwin, about 12:30 a.m.

Campbell is reported in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital.

Patrolmen William Bookie and Archie Rose said they stopped Griffith on Oakland in a car which answered the description of a witness to the incident.

PISTOL FOUND

They said a 22-caliber pistol — believed to be the same type used in the shooting — was found under the front seat of the vehicle.

A witness told investigators that Campbell and several other youths were in front of the store when Campbell mentioned that he noticed a man with a gun in a nearby car.

He said the man rolled down the car window, fired a shot into the ground, then shot at Campbell and the others as the youths ran away.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Showers are forecast tonight in northern Idaho, Montana, northern California and portions of the Mississippi and Ohio valleys. Snow flurries are expected in northern New England. Colder temperatures are predicted for the eastern third of the nation.

County Group Backs Open Housing

ing, education, employment and other problems. "If we do not join to overcome this crisis, it will overcome us."

Needs for low-income housing in Pontiac are "staggering" Fitzgerald said.

ECONOMIC ACTIVITY

"We must provide both additional housing for low-income persons and seek to increase economic activity to reduce the number of persons dependent upon such housing," he advised.

Concerning moderate-income housing, the publisher said Pontiac has experienced more federal help to encourage private housing developers than most cities.

"The labor force of our industrial community must be housed—housed well and housed efficiently — and for some time there has been a very clearly articulated demand for more housing," he reported.

Admitting reports that high-income people are not seeking "better housing" in Pontiac, Fitzgerald pointed out the city needs these people and should provide suitable housing for them.

'REALITIES' LISTED

He enumerated the following "realities" expressed by his housing study commission:

- "No community which genuinely has a housing problem has really solved it."
- "There is a legitimate role for government in meeting the housing needs of our communities" by supplying "dollars to fit the housing to people."
- "We must make our community appealing to private capital, so as to facilitate the flow of entrepreneurs, investors, developers and builders to meet the requirements of our community."
- "We have recognized our role as molders of public opinion, as pitchmen for our community, as gadflies on the public conscience and as pleaders of the cause of the unorganized . . ."

Out of six concurrent subgroups which discussed particular areas of housing, such as financing and new construction materials, came the "grass roots" resolution.

SLUM RESIDENTS

Among the supporters were 50 residents from Pontiac's low-income, poverty areas.

The conference also went on record to urge the Oakland County government to "assume a major responsibility" to help solve the county's housing problems.

GI Waited for Orders—Now Awaits Discharge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pfc. Joe A. Smith is marking time again—just as he did for 18 months waiting at home for military orders.

But his lawyer, Ernest Besig of the American Civil Liberties Union, says that unless the army discharges him quickly, he'll go to federal court to obtain his release.

Smith, now assigned to the San Francisco Presidio as a headquarters runner, received engineer training at Ft. Hood, Tex., in November 1965.

He recalls he was told to take 30 days leave and then call the fort from his home in Brownsville, a hamlet near Marysville, Calif.

Smith went home and spent almost a month with his wife and his parents. Then he called Ft. Hood and was instructed to report to the Oakland, Calif., Army Center on Dec. 28. As he prepared to leave, a wire arrived saying that his "port call date" of Dec. 28 had been canceled and special orders would follow. Smith said he just waited. When it became tiresome he went to work as a logger at $130 a week. He said this money plus the $95.20 a month the army sent his wife as her allotment helped out.

When his two-year tour as an Army draftee was up, he got his papers, put on his uniform and appeared before a startled officer in Oakland to ask for his discharge.

In Smith's words, the officer "kind of went crazy" on hearing the story.

ASSIGNED TO PRESIDO

After spending the night at a military police station—this was June 13—Smith was assigned to the presidio while officials decided what to do with him.

Besig said he would be happy if the Army discharges his client, but if not, he will get a writ of habeas corpus in an attempt to force his release.

Lightning Hits N.Y. Churches

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Lightning struck two churches about 30 miles apart Sunday, causing minor fires at one and burning out electrical fixtures and wiring at the other.

No one was reported injured.

No one was in the Pine Valley Baptist Church when it was struck a few hours later.

To Celebrate Her 86th Birthday

Maxims Guide Oakland Twp. Pioneer

By JEAN SAILE

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — One does not reach the mature age of 86 without picking up several maxims by which to live:

- Don't sit around and pity yourself. Take a nap instead.
- Don't take care of your grandchildren. Tell them you're too old.
- Bake your daughters-in-law a pie once in a while.
- Work. Read. Talk.

So has Mrs. Frank Middleton, an Oakland Township pioneer, regulated her life. She will celebrate her 86th birthday on Friday in the farm home at 1600 Predmore to which she came as a bride.

There has been little slowing down in Mrs. Middleton's life. Having received some notice during World War II as the personal correspondent of 508 soldiers, she has continued her all-out approach to daily living.

This fall she reveals she picked 40 bushels of grapes, 15 bushels of apples, made a quilt counterpane, and finished her 47th hooked rug.

'MADE A MISTAKE'

"I made an awful mistake on the last rug," she confided. "I lost the pattern and I got the sky on the wrong side."

The day of the interview the wiry little woman had varnished two rocking chairs, painted the mailbox, done a washing and revealed she was going to make cookies, "but I didn't have time."

Married in 1906 to Frank Middleton, who died three years ago, Mrs. Middleton has seen her three sons grow and establish themselves and their families on nearby farms.

She has seen her original Brown family homestead become first the site of Scripp's Wildwood Farms and now Keatington. The old oak tree on the corner of Waldron and Baldwin which she used to swing on as a child has remained her watchmate.

WEDDING TRIP

"If they ever cut it down, I hope they give it to the grandchildren to make coffee tables," she said.

She recalls her wedding trip from Mahopac — the old settlement in the neighborhood of Keatington — by horse and buggy to Eames depot and thence by train to Pontiac and Rochester.

Potato farmers, she and her late husband noted with pleasure the invention of the potato digger and sorter.

"That's the invention that probably did more for us than any other," she mused.

TAUGHT SCHOOL

"Those garbage disposals (for the kitchen,) are pretty nice too," she confided. "I've never had one, but I might be interested."

A school teacher for two years at the time one was able to pass state boards after an eighth grade education, Mrs. Middleton has remained alert to the world around her.

She's looking forward to the contact with old friends that will come with the receipt of birthday cards Friday.

Annexing Foes' Petitions Will Be Considered

CLARKSTON — Petitions signed by Independence Township residents in objection to a proposed annexation by the village were to be considered by the council tonight.

The petitions, bearing some 500 signatures, are the second round in an attempt to defeat a village planning report which recommends annexation of land triple the size of the present village.

Because Clarkston is a general law village, no vote of the people is required for annexation. The measure to become law needs only the approval of the County Board of Supervisors.

An informational-type letter prepared by Councilman David Leak for transmission to the Independence Township board is also due for consideration tonight, according to Clerk Artemus Pappas.

No vote on the matter is foreseen at this meeting, Pappas said.

Public meetings on Sept. 14 and 18 presented both sides of annexation to residents. There are about 250 families believed living in the affected area.

Boundaries as proposed would extend westerly to the township line encompassing Deer Lake, north to I-75, east to Perry Lake Road excluding the Clarkston Community Schools property, and south to exclude the commercial district along the foot of M15 and Dollar Lake also in the vicinity.

Shelby Moves Ahead on Hiring of Firemen, Plans for Stations

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has approved the hiring of an architect to draw up plans and make cost estimates for a new main fire station and a substation, plus the hiring of three new firemen, said Supervisor Kirby Holmes.

Voters approved a $900,000 bond proposal on Aug. 7 to provide funds for the increased fire protection.

Holmes said he voted no on the stations because, when the two new ones are built, making a total of three, one will go unmanned.

"Even with the three new men, we will only have 18 men," he said. One of the three is to replace a firemen who recently resigned.

Plans Being Made for School Addition

NOVI — Plans are being made for the eight-classroom addition to the Orchard Hills Elementary School, 41900 Quince.

The board of education has hired the Ann Arbor architectural firm of Lane, Reibe and Wieland to plan the $460,000 addition to be completed by May 1969.

Cranbrook Events

Following is a list of special events taking place at facilities at Cranbrook on Lone Pine Road in Bloomfield Hills this week.

PLANETARIUM — Public demonstrations Wednesday at 4 p.m. and weekends at 2:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. The topic for the month is Comets and Meteors.

ATOMARIUM — Public demonstrations Sunday at 3:30 p.m. and by appointment. Admission, 25 cents.

BIRMINGHAM — Attention has been focused here on outlawed high school fraternities with the injury of a 15-year-old Seaholm High School sophomore.

The student, Gerald Yates, underwent surgery last week for a serious infection allegedly stemming from damage inflicted by paddling in a fraternity initiation ceremony.

Police Chief Darryl Bruestle said that the hazing occurred during the "Hell week" of a forbidden high school fraternity during the first week in October.

Bruestle said that the Yates boy did not enter the hospital until two weeks ago when he finally complained to his parents.

Yates who lives at 1350 Villa underwent skin graft surgery Thursday at Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, to stop what doctors described as a widespread infection which had set in due to dead cells under the skin.

YOUTHFUL STRENGTH

The boy's youthful strength apparently saved him, said Bruestle.

School officials said that fraternities are outlawed, but believe that at least four exist in Birmingham.

The Juvenile Bureau is investigating the incident and will question the boy when he is released from the hospital, said the chief.

The youth, thus far, has revealed nothing about the fraternity except that he was paddled.

Church Union to Meet

AVON TOWNSHIP — Ridgecrest Baptist Church Women's Missionary Union will meet at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at the church. Speaker will be Rev. Vernon Wickliffee, association missionary.

Firm Hired to Study Road Program

KEEGO HARBOR — The city is on the way with its road improvement program.

The engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson has been hired to study improvements for the streets, nearby drainage and sidewalks.

The study, to cost $3,750, is to be completed by next March.

The engineers' report is expected to include recommendations and a timetable for improvements and their financing, said city manager Gary L. Dickson.

The city will probably establish a three to five-year improvement program, the manager said.

The City Council has been discussing this issue about one year. It waited to take action until after sanitary sewers and water mains had been put in, explained Dickson.

Parent-Teacher Talks

The Milford PTA will conduct parent-teacher discussions at the Baker and Milford Elementary Schools tonight after the business meeting at 8.

Novi Twp. to Discuss Police, Fire Accord

NOVI TOWNSHIP—A possible agreement between Novi Village and the Township on police and fire protection will be discussed at tonight's Township Board meeting at 7:30 at the Township Hall.

Attorneys for both municipalities are expected to meet tomorrow to draw up a contract, said Township Supervisor Hadley Bachert.

Also on tonight's agenda is a discussion of the legal residency of Township Justice Robert K. Anderson.

The board has asked Anderson to appear before it tonight.

From Orion Twp. Blaze

Sheriff's Aide Saves Man

ORION TOWNSHIP — Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Perry Earp was credited early yesterday morning with saving the life of an Orion Township man overcome by smoke in a house fire.

Neighbors believed Louis A. Masciello, 359 Buckhorn, had returned to his blazing one-story fieldstone home in the mistaken belief that three children were trapped inside.

Earp, responding to the radio fire call, arrived on the scene and heard Masciello gasping inside the house. He carried the man to safety.

Mrs. Masciello had apparently taken their two children, aged 14 and 11, and a grandchild, aged 2, to safety earlier. Both she and Masciello required medical treatment, according to Orion Township Fire Chief Jack Caylor.

Caylor said the blaze apparently broke out in the furnace area and traveled up a duct to the bathroom. He said considerable smoke and heat damage resulted.

NO ESTIMATE

No damage estimate has yet been made, Caylor said.

The department received assists from Gingellville and Oxford. Firemen were on the scene one-and-a-half hours from 1:56 a.m., Caylor reported.

Michigan Road Toll Hits 17 on Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seventeen persons lost their lives on Michigan roadways this weekend.

Eight persons died when their autos collided with other vehicles, seven pedestrians were killed and two motorists died when their cars ran off the road.

Two pedestrians died when struck by the same car. In the auto collisions, three were double fatalities.

The victims:

Robert E. Davis, 19, of Flat Rock, who was struck by a car yesterday in Trenton, downriver from Detroit.

DIES OF INJURIES

Henrietta Woodrich, 62, of Flint, who died Saturday of injuries suffered Friday night in a two-car crash in Flint.

Vivian Alice Richards, 62, of Dewitt, whose car hit another auto which had skidded into the path of her car on U. S. 27 near Lansing Saturday.

Arnold Hale, about 40, of Gladwin, and Dennis Rendel, 19, of Ithaca, whose car smashed head-on with another in rural Gratiot County Saturday.

Pamela Smith, 16, of Kalamazoo, and Clarence Coburn, 19, of Wayland, hit by a car on East Kilgore Road Friday night.

HIT ON U. S. 24

James Croft, 23, of Temperance, killed Friday night when hit by a car on U. S. 24 a few feet north of the Michigan-Ohio line.

Linda Willman, 11, of Wyoming, killed near Godwin High School in Wyoming when she rushed into the path of a car.

William Bryant Stewart, 69, of near Standish, killed Friday night in a two-car collision in Deep River Township, Arenac County.

William Biggenwald, 65, of Detroit, killed when hit by a car in Detroit Friday night.

HEAD-ON CRASH

Frank Perdue, 34, and James I. West, 34, both of Detroit, killed Saturday when their car, going the wrong way, hit head-no with another on a Detroit freeway.

Theodore William Stage, 18, of Fowlerville, who died Saturday when his car left a road near Fowlerville and hit a tree.

Mrs. Lena D. Payne, 75, of Dexter Township, killed last night when the car in which she was riding swerved to avoid a deer in the road and struck a tree in Webster Township about 12 miles northwest of Ann Arbor.

Rebecca Chuko, 18, of Detroit, who died last night in Dearborn when her auto collided head-on with a car traveling the wrong way on a divided street.

Edward Mroch, 67, of Detroit, who was struck by an auto on M153 in Dearborn last night.

Man's Exam Is Set in Slaying of Wife

Examination for the suspect Steven Pointer of 33849 Rhonewood, is set for 1 p.m. Nov. 24 before Township Justice Byron D. Walter. Pointer's arraignment was before Walter.

The suspect is in Oakland County Jail.

Pointer was arrested at a township home Friday night, about seven hours after his wife, Mary Ann, 23, was found dead at home by the couple's four-year-old daughter, according to Farmington Township Police.

MSU Prof Bent on Finding Easy-Care Roadside Grass

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department and Michigan State University are trying to find out how best to grow and maintain a 100,000-acre "lawn" — and mow it as little as possible.

Under a state-federal grant of $21,583, MSU crop scientist Dr. James B. Beard has begun research on a project "to evaluate, under Michigan's environmental and soil conditions, improved seeding techniques and seed mixtures for rapid vegetative establishment and roadside stabilization."

What that means, according to a Highway Department official, is that Beard and colleagues will try to find the best seed mixture for the lowest growing grass on some 100,000 acres along Michigan's 9,200-mile trunkline highway system.

"The soils that are present along the highway after construction goes through are quite often very poor," explains Jack Burton, director of roadside development in the highway department's design division.

"In order to build a somewhat level road — one with gentle hills and dales — we cut the high ground down and fill up the low ground.

"But after we get down much over a foot, we're getting away from the organic layer of soil that promotes growth," he says. "so we end up with soil that is not conducive to growing anything."

And, Burton says, something has to grow there.

"Grass can control erosion and protect the construction as well as make the highway more attractive," he says. "If we just left the piled-up soil, rain and wind sooner or later would probably erode all the way through into the ditches and affect the road."

Beard's research will take three years and cost an estimated $29,670. It will deal with growing grass in sandy soil.

Last year he completed similar research on grass in heavy soil.

He'll be working on an experimental field plot of about seven acres, part of the U.S. 127 overpass near Lansing and part of I-69 south of I-94 in Southwestern Michigan.

Besides looking for the fastest growing grass, researchers will check into so-called "growth inhibitors."

"Some chemical compounds put on the grass as spray actually retard the of vegetation," Burton says.

So, if the Highway Department and MSU can find grass that grows fast, but not too high, they could save money for the state.

Some $1.3 million was spent on grass control — mowing and spraying for weeds — during the 1965-66 fiscal year, Burton says.

"The people don't benefit as much from this money as they would if the funds were spent to build additional roads," Burton says.

Ferency Says He'll Resign 'at Own Time'

PORT HURON (UPI)—Zolton Ferency, the beleaguered chairman of the Michigan Democratic Party, says he'll resign in the near future, but "I have no intention of resigning under fire."

Speaking after the Democratic conference here Saturday night, Ferency said he had made it clear in the past that he would not run out the course of his two-year term.

"But if I do resign, it will be at my own time and under my own terms," he said.

The stocky, dark-haired Ferency recently caused a furor among the state's Democrats when he openly suggested the party's national convention in 1968 should be open to all discussion, and perhaps consider candidates opposed to the Vietnam war to run against President Johnson.

Many Michigan Democratic leaders demanded Ferency's resignation, saying he was not speaking for the party.

Ferency said he is anxious to return to private life and to develop a law practice.

"All Democratic leaders agree that Ferency's resignation was a personal matter and they urged him to take action which would be in the best interest of the party," said a statement from the conference.

Ferency's opposition to the President was based on his opposition to the war in Vietnam. He had earlier charged that the President was driving liberals away from the party with his conduct of the war.

Ferency met a possible peace candidate, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., when the senator arrived at Detroit's Metropolitan Airport Friday.

"I think we're close to finding a candidate," to oppose Johnson, Ferency said.

HE WON'T LEAVE — Phillip Bobbit, 19-year-old Nephew of President Johnson, said today in Los Angeles that he won't leave the poverty-plagued Negro area of suburban Venice even if funds are withdrawn from the area. Bobbitt is a member of the domestic Peace Corps.

Negro Mayor Sworn In Today

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Carl B. Stokes is sworn in today as the first Negro mayor of Cleveland.

Meanwhile, Republican Seth C. Taft, who lost the mayoral race to Stokes by 1,644 votes, meets with aides to decide whether to ask for a recount.

Stokes, a Democrat, is to be sworn in by Municipal Court Judge Anthony A. Rutkowski at City Hall.

A Taft spokesman said the GOP candidate had not yet had a chance to study the results of the official count, which was completed Saturday.

"There is no sense in a recount unless there is good reason," said the spokesman, William Silverman, "and he hasn't made up his mind that there is good reason."

53 Rescued From Ship Left in Typhoon's Wake

AGANA, Guam (AP) — Mighty Typhoon Gilda has swept past Guam — leaving a burning Vietnam-bound U.S. supply ship abandoned at sea — but causing only slight damage on the Marianas Island chain.

Fifty-three persons were rescued from the flaming, 7,000-ton S.S. San Jose Sunday night 90 miles west of Guam.

Plans were under way to relocate the San Jose, based in San Francisco, and salvage its reported million-dollar cargo of refrigerated goods, Navy officials said.

Despite predictions that gilda — packing winds of nearly 180 miles an hour — would pass far south of Guam, U.S. military officials moved their B52 planes and Polaris submarines away from the island.

RESPOND TO CALL

When crewmen were unsuccessful in efforts to extinguish a fire which started in the San Jose's engine room, two ships responded to her distress call.

The USS Hissen lost a small motor whaleboat taking fire fighting gear to the San Jose in 14-foot swells. The men on the whaleboat were rescued.

Twenty San Jose crewmen were taken aboard the Hissen, another 23 aboard the victory ship Couer d'Alene, loaded with military cargo.

The remaining 12 crewmen and the San Jose's captain, Benjamin F. Boyle of New Orleans, La., stayed aboard the burning ship and took on a towline from the Hissen, but the line broke and the men boarded the rescue vessel.

City families are generally a little smaller than suburban families. Median city family size was found to be 3.6 in 1966 compared with 3.76 in the suburbs.

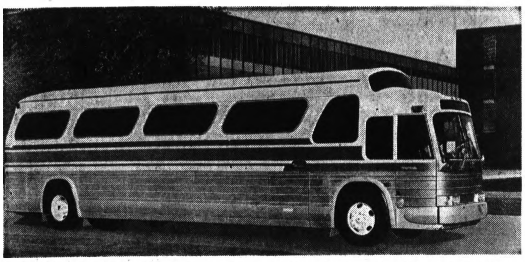
It Seems to Me . . . .

General Motors' New Bus Is a Superlative Product



In Thursday's Pontiac PRESS you were treated to a magnificent picture of the greatest intercity coach ever devised and produced.

It holds more passengers, has more baggage space and "a retractable third axle that broadens its operating versatility." These last words come from the head man himself and while they're Greek to a neophyte like the undersigned, they spell out mechanical superiority and another big leap ahead of the awed and wistful competition.

This new intercity deal is simply handsome and will attract favorable attention and respect wherever it appears — and that's practically everywhere, ultimately.

That gigantic GMC Truck and Coach Division has been a tremendously important cog in the life, growth and development of this entire area. A small, struggling institution has grown steadily and almost without letup until it has long since become an aggressive, hard-hitting manufacturer that commands the ultimate in respect and consideration everywhere.

The employment has grown steadily, persistently and almost without interruption for several score years. Fortunately, the plant has been in the hands of capable and far-seeing administrators who have been surrounded by a strong coterie of ingenious assistants and an exceptionally capable staff of workers along the various assembly lines. Often we've pronounced the Truck and Coach Division the balance wheel of this area. When other institutions falter momentarily or catch their breath, this faithful institution seems to pick up the slack and have an especially favorable burst of business. It keeps the area on an even keel.

No praise is too great for that wonderful organization on South Boulevard and that goes from the top to the bottom. It is uniformly strong and assertive.

With the world moving as it is today, this organization has a brilliant future and one that could witness advancement and growth for many years ahead.

Heaven bless the GMC Truck and Coach Division.

'Salt Stabilization Used for New Roads in County'

A recent letter questioned whether the County road commission ever thought of using salt stabilization on County roads, pointing out that salt stabilization is helpful in eliminating potholes, reducing construction and maintenance costs and damage from frost, etc.

VanROEKEL

We agree and for this reason have used salt to stabilize the aggregate base for nearly every new road built in Oakland County for the past six or seven years when a bituminous pavement was being constructed.

There are a number of different types of stabilization which are worthwhile. However, our close proximity to salt mines and the types of aggregate which are normally available usually means that the use of salt is selected as being the most likely to give us the most for our money.

Disagrees With Complaint About Ambulance

In reply to "Wondering," other drivers wouldn't be in danger if people would move to the right of the road and allow ambulances to pass. Can "Wondering" tell us how much blood a person might lose in 30 seconds? To the victim in the ambulance, 30 seconds is eternity. Patients coming into emergency at Pontiac General Hospital get immediate attention by a nurse or doctor.

If there were less people like "Wondering" and more like the person who said people should pray when they hear a siren and not complain, this would be a better world.

Comments Continue on Halloween Conduct

It's time this Halloween stuff is stopped. Eggs are thrown on homes and garages, windows are broken and paint put on houses. Kids get their candy bars and thank you in this way. What kind of parents do they have?

MRS. F. M. LANNING

I hope the kids who stole our little dog Halloween enjoy it as much as my five children did. My daughter has had nightmares wondering if the dog is being taken care of. This was a dirty Halloween trick.

Seeing both parties have failed the Country, how about George Wallace? Let's give him a try for president.

Question and Answer

JUST CURIOUS

REPLY

We talked to Mr. Kreps at the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, who said expense is the reason and also at present the Chamber represents merchants throughout the entire Pontiac area and consequently doesn't feel it should sponsor a parade just for downtown Pontiac. Mr. Houchins, president of the Downtown Merchants Association, says his organization will not be sponsoring one this year because at present the Association is not financially in a position to do so.

David Lawrence Says:

Social Security Effect Pondered

WASHINGTON — This is to be "Social Security" week. The Senate is expected to start consideration of a bill, just recommended by its finance committee, which will mean some of the biggest increases in pension and other Social Security benefits ever granted.

LAWRENCE

Approximately 24 million elderly persons will be the immediate beneficiaries. The House has already passed a measure which isn't quite so generous, but undoubtedly the senate bill will pass next week and prevail in conference.

Millions of other citizens will, of course, have to pay the cost.

The present tax rate of 4.4 per cent each for employee and employer would remain unchanged in 1968, but would rise to 4.8 in 1969 and in quick steps thereafter to 5.65 per cent starting in 1973.

For self-employed persons, the rate would rise on the same schedule from the current 6.4 per cent to 7.65 per cent in 1973.

All this means that the annual contributions by workers and employers would move up from $28.5 billion this year to 31.2 billion in 1968, and to $36.6 billion in 1969.

ECONOMIC EFFECT

What will be the economic effect as $3.6 billion in additional Social Security payments are poured into the economy in 1968 and $2.4 billion more in 1969?

It could be inflationary. The government, on the other hand, will be diminishing the wages and salaries of the non-retired citizens by $2.7 billion in 1968 and $5.4 billion in 1969.

As so often happens, however, when "take-home" pay is reduced, the labor unions can be expected to demand higher and higher wage rates to make up for the larger sums deducted for Social Security taxes.

But most of this is to happen after the 1968 elections, so the full effect will not be felt till the next year.

Bob Considine Says:

Reluctant Correspondents Get Aerial View of DMZ

SAIGON — The patient workhorse of the Vietnamese war, Lockheed's C130, waddled toward the starting line of the strip at Phu Bai. The idea was to fly over a portion of the worst-named place on earth — the highly militarized demilitarized zone.

CONSIDINE

Col. Karl Faser, USMC, came up to the flight deck from the bucket-seated part of the aircraft. He had some advice. "I don't think we ought to go up there," he said, meaning the DMZ.

But suddenly there was a counterorder from an unexpected source.

Norman Sherman, Vice President Humphrey's bright and positive press secretary, said, "Colonel, we want to see as much as we can while we're here, and we're going to see the DMZ!"

He was speaking for some correspondents who didn't exactly want to see the DMZ. But Col. Faser shrugged approval and Sherman went back to his bucket.

FEAR TELEPHONE POLE

Col. Faser waited a bit and then said to the navigator, Capt. Byron C. Burson, "You stay down at 2,500 feet going in and over it. Under no circumstances go higher than 3,000 feet. Take your chance on the small arms fire. It's better than taking a telephone pole."

A telephone pole is the Russian-built SAM missile. It is 32 feet long, flies at about 1,800 m.p.h. and homes in on anything in the sky that is made of metal that exudes heat. Our dear C130 was prone in both respects.

I have news for you. From the air, the DMZ doesn't look any different than the rest of Vietnam.

There was one hairy moment, to be sure. Suddenly a great blob of yellow light appeared on the ground below and ahead of us. I had sobering visions of a SAM materializing off its launching pad and heading straight for us.

The flash turned out to be the reflection of the sun on a new tin roof.

In time we wheeled out over the salt deposits and golden beach that accent the South China Sea. There was a wheeze of relief on the flight deck.

Capt. Burson felt it fitting and proper to celebrate our deliverance from all harm. He pried the top off a can and passed around the oddest victory toast I've ever indulged in — his wife's chocolate chip cookies.

P.S.—Delicious.

Cataclysmic Change . . . .

Boys and girls, men and women, plus nature's animal wildlife — prepare for a cataclysmic change.

Every six or seven thousand years, our earth shifts its tilt 70 to 80 degrees, and the equator, the North and South Poles and all the continents are shuffled ruthlessly. The current catalyst in this amazing transformation is a gigantic bed of ice around the South Pole which is miles and miles deep and extends miles and miles in all directions.

Now — and follow closely — this is becoming top-heavy, and so instead of remaining at the South Pole, it will slide en masse somewhere. Hence, the whole tilt of the world will change and you — and you — and yes, you, — may be flung into the middle of a new ocean; or perhaps you'll rest on the toppermost peak of a new mountain range.

The smart boys who study these things now assert that our earth's existence is something just beyond four and a half billion years (not million, pal), and this dizzy, global contortion takes place every 6,000 or 7,000 years.

It's about due.

Hence, if you want something new to worry about in the days ahead, I'm providing you with the ammunition.

It's free — and it's true.

In 38 days, the days, start getting longer.

Overheard: "What will today's teen-agers tell their children that they had to do without?" . . . . . One London hospital reports nine cases in which eyes have been badly injured by champagne corks. . . . . "Poettarrarorincoaroac" means "three" for the Yancos, an Amazon Tribe. And "three" is the highest number they know . . . . . Washington newsmen whisper guardedly that Secretary of Agriculture, ORVILLE FREEMAN, is one key official JOHNSON has ticketed for departure . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's — some of the election returns; the J's — some of the election returns.

—HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

And in Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

There are now 200 men and women licensed to operate balloons. This is an increase of 75 over two years ago. . . . . Overheard: "The new TV shows are so bad the kids are doing their homework again." . . . . . The ten most popular masculine first names in the New York City directory 70 years ago were: JOHN, WILLIAM, CHARLES, GEORGE, JOSEPH, EDWARD, JAMES, LOUIS, FRANCIS and SAMUEL. And they ranked in that order. In 1964, all but JOHN, WILLIAM and JOSEPH had disappeared. In order today they are: MICHAEL, JOHN, ROBERT, DAVID, STEPHEN, ANTHONY, WILLIAM, JOSEPH, THOMAS and CHRISTOPHER.

LINDA

Scouts advise me Linda Pena ranks as one of the attractive young ladies in the area. . . . . Overheard: "Women are generally excellent drivers except when they start, stop, park, turn or signal." . . . . . Whoops! Roads will be colored in the future. Red is for stop zones; green for turning lanes; yellow for "keep off;" and orange for deceleration. Asphalt people are worried for they can't color their material. . . . . Three cheers!

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

Warning . . .

The New York Times

New violence in the Middle East serves warning that time is running out for a political settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict.

Time is not on the side of the directly negotiated settlement that Israelis still vainly seek. Nor does time favor the inconclusive truce that seems to be the goal of some Arab leaders. Rather time and the speedy, irresponsible rearming of President Nasser by the Soviet Union point toward resumption of the conflict.

It is time the compelling international interest in establishing a just and enduring peace in the Middle East found expression in forthright action at the United Nations.

Such action would lay down principles for a fair settlement and would provide for a U.N. mediator to try to bring the reluctant disputants together over a bargaining table.

The basic ingredients for reasonable international action have long been bandied about in the corridors and conference rooms of the United Nations headquarters here. Responsible leaders on both sides have advanced significantly toward accommodation in recent weeks. Now is the time for statesmen at the U.N. to make their move before it is too late.

Simultaneous . . .

Greenville Daily News

After the 1964 presidential election there was widespread speculation about a supposed "bandwagon" influence of results in Eastern states on the voting in those where the polls closed hours later.

This is a legitimate concern. It is heightened by improved computer techniques for predicting election results on the basis of early returns. Concern is rising again as we approach another election year.

This is the background for the proposal by Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System, that the polls be kept open for 24 hours on election day. It is an intriguing suggestion.

Under Stanton's plan, the polls would open simultaneously across the nation and close 24 hours later, regardless of local time. Thus there would be no early results in one section to influence voters in another.

Hasty action on Stanton's proposal would be unwise. But at least it may provide the springboard for fruitful discussion of an important matter.

Moon Pictures Show 'Boulder Field'

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Pictures taken by Surveyor 6 show a moonscape littered with rocks ranging in size up to two feet wide which may have been spewed from a crater out of camera range.

A spokesman for Jet Propulsion Laboratory said the rock-strewn central bay region looked like "a boulder field," but added scientists were unsure how the rocks got there.

One guess is the rocks were hurled from an unseen crater "from over the horizon, where no crater is visible."

The moon robot, which soft-landed in the central bay Thursday night, has returned more than 4,000 pictures of the lunar surface. Scientists plan to take a total of 20,000 photos before shutting the spacecraft down for the 14-day-long lunar night.

'BEST YET'

Scientists described the pictures sent back by America's sixth automated moon laboratory as "the best yet."

"They were just magnificent," said a JPL spokesman. "There's no doubt these are the best yet in clarity and of interesting terrain."

Maoist Appears Headed Toward Top in Red China

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

A striking departure from propaganda practice hints that the adherents of Mao Tse-tung's brand of revolution are closing in on their opposition and that Lin Piao has prospects of emerging from the violent cultural revolution as undisputed master of Red China's 750 million.

A suspicion that the Chinese upheaval was developing in this way may account for a note of urgency in Soviet demands for a world Communist conference. A clear-cut Lin Piao victory could mean the Soviet-Chinese split was beyond repair.

A regional broadcast in the Mandarin language from Huhehot, capital of Inner Mongolia, has named Liu Shao-chi, the chairman of government and "president" of China, as the chief opponent of Mao's thinking.

This was a rupture of the rules of the Communist party Central Committee. In August 1966 it ruled that no official newspaper or radio could criticize high-ranking leaders by name except by express permission of the committee.

ICE BROKEN

The ice has been broken in remote Inner Mongolia, where Maoists claim to have established full control and ousted their enemies, including the fiery nationalist Communist, Ulanfu, who was a Peking Politburo member, commander of the Inner Mongolia military district and supporter of President Liu.

If this breach of the rules is followed up by others, it will indicate that Liu has come to the end of his rope. He is believed to be under a form of house arrest in Peking.

While attacks on Liu have been increasing in violence all along, Peking propaganda has been extravagant in praise of Lin Piao, the saturnine army marshal who was Mao's choice in 1959 to control China's military after the purge of Peng Teh-huai. At 59 Lin Piao is the youngest of the top Chinese leaders.

The defense minister invariably is called Mao's "closest comrade in arms." The party and people have been told that Mao personally chose Lin as his heir apparent. The construction of the Lin cult even brings into question Mao's own personal authority, and, in fact, whether the aging and ailing Mao any longer is competent to rule at all.

In a tirade against Mao's opponents, the Inner Mongolian official radio told its listeners that "we must penetratingly criticize and completely discredit China's Khrushchev, Liu Shao-chi, and his agent Ulanfu and his ilk in Inner Mongolia, so as to eliminate once and for all their remnant poison and strive for even greater victory."

Up to now, the only top leaders criticized directly by name had been those who clearly had been toppled from high positions and publicly discredited.

The emergence in total control of the Lin Piao faction would foretoken a continuing policy of hostility to those Lin calls "revisionists," which includes the Soviet leaders and all who support them inside or outside Red China. It would mean control of China by a faction which propagates the theory of "people's wars" and of constant insurrection to spread the Peking brand of communism.

During the recent celebrations of the 50th Bolshevik anniversary the Russians, including party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, appealed once again to foreign parties to support the Moscow bid for a world meeting of Communist leaders. The original idea of this was to bring about a condemnation of Peking's policies. The Soviet bid failed, as it has consistently ever since Nikita Khrushchev tried a similar tack, just before he was deposted in 1964. There is considerable opposition to such a meeting among European parties, who seem fearful that it will harm the international revolutionary cause.

Should Liu's defeat in China seem complete, however, the Russians may yet be able to make a start on the world meeting, probably by first summoning a preliminary preparatory group to lay the groundwork. The ascent of Lin Piao to undisputed power, probably supported by Premier Chou En-lai as Liu's successor in the presidency, might be read by many Communists as the sort of threat to the movement which could no longer be swept under the rug.

Israel's Eban Sees No Help for Arabs

NEW YORK (AP) — Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban, commenting on the six-day Middle East war, says his nation "learned in early June that we could not rely on anybody outside Israel to help us in our danger and solitude."

And now, he adds, "I think the Arab states are learning that nobody else will help them to get out of the trouble that they got themselves into."

* * *

Eban made the statement in an interview on Metromedia's "Opinion: Washington" television program, taped in advance and broadcast Sunday.

Milwaukee's Open Housing March in Its 11th Week

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The elm trees stand bleak and bare in Wisconsin's chill autumn now but they were full and green 10 weeks ago when the Negroes began marching for open housing in Milwaukee.

They haven't stopped for a single day.

Last Thursday, on the 74th day of the relentless procession, the marchers turned to the heart of the business district for their protest, and vowed to parade among the shoppers until businessmen gave greater support to their cause.

There were no early incidents, but Police Chief Harold Breier gave evidence of the economic alarm, issuing a statement that shoppers would be safe, day or night, under the eye of extra police, whom he said would be "routinely" assigned because of the approaching Christmas shopping season.

Meanwhile, the marchers' cause was mired in the legislative processes of City Hall. Then, last Monday, when aldermen admitted privately that the Common Council was ready to adopt at least a token measure, militant opponents of any open occupancy law delivered a petition bearing 26,000 names and demanded a public referendum. With certification of the document's signatures, the council was barred from acting until the referendum—which probably will be on the spring ballot when the aldermen themselves seek reelection.

But there still is a possibility of a solution before the marchers face Wisconsin's bitter winter. On Friday, a bipartisan group of six state legislators introduced a bill to remove the clause from the state's open housing law that exempts more than two-thirds of the housing in Milwaukee's Inner Core. Passage would make a city ordinance superfluous.

The demonstrations, small when they began last summer, have become small again. Sometimes only a token-size band of young Negroes walk, especially when the cold wind whips the fall rain.

The number of spectators likewise has dwindled, and so has their anger. Bottles and bricks no longer fly out of the darkness toward the line of marchers.

13,000 MARCHERS

At the peak of the crisis, as many as 13,000 persons—by police estimate—lined the sidewalks of the virtually all-white South Side as the marchers trooped through.

The first night of the marches —Monday, Aug. 28—250 demonstrators, most of them members of the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, braved a shower of rocks, bottles and slurs.

They returned to the South Side the next night. This time police had to lay down a curtain of tear gas to shield the marchers from the mob.

Police, struggling to control the situation, also used nightsticks, turning them on marchers during three nights of trying, and failing, to enforce a suddenly declared city ban on demonstrations.

The ban was lifted and the marches continued. On the sunny weekends of September, as many as 1,500 people joined the parade. Black Power advocates came from Chicago and East St. Louis, Ill., and New York. Comedian Dick Gregory moved in and for a time seemed to be sharing leadership with a white Roman Catholic priest, the Rev. James E. Groppi, Youth Council adviser.

Pressure mounted on the Common Council to adopt an open housing ordinance—something it had refused to do four times, each time by a vote of 18-1 against it.

Concern grew over the impact of the marches on Milwaukee's image, and its after-dark business. "We're hurting," complained a downtown bartender.

Gregory called for a boycott of Milwaukee beer and suggested a Christmas boycott of department stores by the city's 86,000 Negroes.

The priest said that the leadership role was in the hands of the Youth Council's direct action committee—the commandos.

The thinning ranks mattered not at all, he said. What was important was the creation of what he called a "disciplined army" to "call the shots" and apply the pressure.

Army Hospital Burn Ward 'Not Pretty'

By TOM TIEDE
NEA Staff Correspondent

FT. SAM HOUSTON, Tex. — The Vietnam casualty is sitting on the edge of his hospital bed. He is totally burned from the waist up. A medic uses a tweezers to pick blackened skin from the man's mouth.

Across the aisle, another soldier lies quietly. Over 50 per cent of his body is roasted and disfigured from a gasoline accident.

In another bed, a GI is asleep, a self-immolation case. He says he knew it was a mistake when he lit the match. Then it was too late.

264 ADMITTED

To be sure. A bullet wound, even a serious one, is isolated on the body. But a burn victim here is usually a mass of open flesh.

Some 264 patients have been admitted to this ward since the first of the year, all of them with extremely critical burns. Nearly 70 per cent of the victims have been out of the Vietnam war.

A veteran whose hand was blown off by his own grenade. One who was trapped in a vehicle which triggered a white phosphorous road mine. Another who was set ablaze in a helicopter crash.

Noncombatants are here also, including children.

20 PCT. TO DIE

One of the infant tragedies is a small 4-year-old girl, the daughter of a military careerist. She lit a match in her father's automobile. Doctors give her little hope.

None of the patients, in fact, is completely out of danger. About 20 per cent will die, on the average, from some complication or another.

But that's only one way of looking at it. Attending surgeons prefer to say that 80 per cent of the patients will live, and that the rate is up from the 60 per cent who survived here three years ago.

The reason, naturally, is medical progress.

The Brook Army burn ward is only incidentally a patient-care center. Basically, the job is research. And in this sense, even those who have died have contributed mightily to the increase in the survival rate.

"We like to think we all learn something from every death," says Col. John Moncrief, research director, "or at least I hope we all do."

Obviously, somebody's learning. A decade ago a man who was burned over 50 per cent of his body was virtually living dead. Today, Brook people can save victims who are burned as much as 70 per cent.

Says Moncrief: "The basic problem with the severely burned is that they haven't enough skin left to graft. So we try to keep them alive long enough for some areas of their body to grow new, usable skin.

"The difficulties of this are many. In critical cases, the bloodstream stops receiving oxygen and complications result . . . pneumonia, for example. Seventy per cent of our deaths are caused by pneumonia.

"We hope someday that we'll be able to graft foreign skin to speed up the healing process, but as of now that's impossible. It doesn't take. Until it does, we'll have to continue perfecting the methods we have."

One method already available is to make the most out of the limited amount of body skin remaining. Small patches of it can be made much larger by perforation and stretching. The result is a meshlike sheet.

The mesh is pasted to burn areas, same as whole skin, and then left to fill in its own gaps with normal cell division and growth.

"It works remarkably well," they say here.

In fact, in some cases the mesh skin works so well that there is an unwanted side effect —hair.

Moncrief says that if, say, scalp skin is grafted to a patient's arm, the scalp hair is grafted also. Surgeons try to eliminate such results whenever possible, especially on females.

But the hair hazard is a minor worry in critical cases. Skin, any skin, is the emergency problem.

In such cases, of course, the victim is not told.

He is given drugs, constant treatment and made comfortable. Sometimes he lasts a couple of weeks, sometimes only a few hours. Then death.

Area Artist Judging Entries for Pontiac Mall Exhibit

Pontiac Society of Artists will have its annual fall exhibit and artists' market at The Pontiac Mall next week. A public reception Sunday afternoon in the community room will open the affair. Paintings will be on display Monday through Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Mrs. C. W. Thiede of Walled Lake is exhibit chairman.

The show is being juried by area artist, Dorothy Simper. She was interviewed recently in connection with the occasion.

By YOLANDA BENAVIDES

"Mr. Simper, what is the term I used to describe my work," asked his pert little wife, talented artist, Dorothy.

Judging from the natural surroundings and quiet simplicity that surrounds the Simper home, I'd say that "personal realism" is a way of life for this petite mother of two and wife of an equally accomplished artist.

REFLECTS FAMILY

A house set apart from those furnished with a designer's disciplined hand for rules and standards, this one is a beautiful reflection of the owners' innermost moods, thoughts and emotions.

A favorite collection of their own paintings is a major part of the decor that gives this home so much more life and meaning.

Hand picked articles, mostly odds and ends that have been restored to their natural beauty, tell much of the Simpers' love for the unusual and unique.

"This is pretty necessary atmosphere for my kind of work," said Mrs. Simper, who will turn judge for the upcoming Mall art exhibit.

We asked if it is hard to criticize without preference for style.

"No," said my trim hostess, "if an artist is good enough and catholic enough in his tastes, then he's able to recognize good qualities in all forms of art."

"Art is lonely as are all creative things. Not that it makes one feel lonely but it's the type of thing that requires being alone, away from all the noise, in order to create.

"O, we love parties and being with people, but all of us enjoy having some time to ourselves. That's just as important too.

"We designed the house ourselves," she said, as we peeked in and out of 15-year-old Tony's and then Waldren's bedroom, who's only a year younger.

We all feel things and feel them together. This house just grew as an extension for our ideas.

"Painting and living are the same things you know. You just do as you feel."

As I turned to leave, I met another important member of the family, probably the muddiest, friskiest little poodle around, whose only claim to conformity was a large bejeweled collar.

Like his mistress, "Samuel" appears to enjoy life to the hilt by just doing everything he can and whenever he can.

Nothing Wrong With Correcting Misinformation

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: When parents have remarried and accompany their children to meetings, is there a way to avoid the embarrassment of being called by the stepchild's name?

How should children introduce their stepfather without emphasizing the fact he is not their father by name? My husband refuses to attend most school functions, and I believe I've determined the root of the problem.

The children and I would greatly appreciate the benefit of your assistance.—"Grateful Mom"

Dear "Grateful Mom:" There is nothing whatsoever wrong with correcting a person who calls you by an incorrect name. First, your child should be taught to introduce her stepfather as "my stepfather, Mr. Jones."

By the tone of her voice she can imply every bit as much affection as if he were her father. There is no other way that teachers who do not have access to the child's records can be expected to know the name or relationship.

Abby Has Second Thoughts

Comments on Letter Pour In

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR READERS: I recently published a letter asking my opinion about letting a child see his mother in the nude. It produced an avalanche of mail. Here is the letter again, a repeat of my reply, and some typically vigorous reactions.

P. S. I must say, on second thought, I agree with the reactions.

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it's all right for a little boy, say around four or five, to see his mother undressed? I have a friend who thinks it's perfectly all right to let her little boy hang around and watch her dress from the skin out and she thinks nothing of letting him come into the bathroom while she is in the tub.

He comes in and asks her questions, or to just sit and visit while he gets his eyes full.

Maybe I am wrong, but I don't approve of this. My friend says it is better to let the boy KNOW than to have him curious. What is your opinion?

DAILY READER

DEAR READER: Maybe I'm old-fashioned, but I still believe in modesty. A mother shouldn't make a federal case out of it if her four-year-old son accidentally catches her in the altogether, but the bathroom door should be locked while mother is bathing.

DEAR ABBY: Please reconsider your answer to DAILY READER. A four-year-old boy is NOT a dirty-old man watching a stripper in a burlesque show. He is only a child wanting to be close to his mother. Why do you have to drag "sex" into everything? You and Dr. Freud would have made a peach of a pair!

DISGUSTED IN BUFFALO

DEAR ABBY: I say it is better to have the natural curiosity of a youngster satisfied by seeing his own mother unclothed than to satisfy it later with smutty magazines or, heaven forbid, with some sweet little 15-year-old girl down the block.

MICHIGAN MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: I can forgive the ignorance of Daily Reader, but not yours, Abby! Ever since that first moment of birth, I've seen our son naked, so why shouldn't he see me naked? In our house nakedness is natural. NOT flaunted, just natural.

When younger, our son (now 10) never found it necessary to chase little girls and pull up their skirts, as many of his friends did. And I'm sure that no young woman on a date with our son will ever be confronted with a clawing ape in a "give in, or get out" situation.

LIBBY B.

DEAR ABBY: Yes, you ARE old fashioned! Neither my wife nor I, nor our children have ever been ashamed of our bodies, clothed or unclothed.

Not so with my mother who was so "modest" she wouldn't even let a doctor examine her. Or my father, who dressed and undressed in the clothes closet.

Of course we "peeked" and developed unwholesome attitudes toward sex, family relations, and marriage which, fortunately, we were able to overcome before we married.

Your advice is usually right on target, but this time you shot from the hip. Sincerely,

G. D.: PALO ALTO

DEAR ABBY: "Lock the bathroom door," you advise. NEVER!

Six months ago when we first moved into this neighborhood, my four-year-old brought six of his new friends to meet me while I was in the bathtub. I shooed them out quickly. After dressing I went to the drug store and bought a large bottle of bubble bath, and now if they should come in, I will be modestly covered with froth.

Day-Long Bazaar at Pontiac 'YW'

Pontiac YWCA on West Huron Street will be one big bazaar Tuesday when the Pontiac Area Federation of Women's Clubs sponsors the first member holiday fair from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Between 30 and 40 organizations will have booths on all three floors of the building. Articles to be sold range from white elephants to small Christmas tree decorations.

The Federation's board of directors is sponsoring a tea room with food available all day. Other booths will also have food.

This undertaking gives the groups a chance to earn money for their individual projects and the public a chance to buy in one spot.

Federation membership is now over 5,000.

Parliamentary Study

Wednesday's meeting of the Parliamentary Study Club will feature Mrs. Hans Schjolin as leader and Mrs. Merrill Petrie as sponsor.

The demonstration regular event begins at 1:30 p.m. in First Federal Savings of Oakland.

Jaycee Auxiliary Will Present 'Holiday Season in Fashion Show'

The Pontiac Jaycee Auxiliary's fashion show entitled "Holiday Season in Fashion," is slated for 8 p.m. Thursday in the Pontiac State Hospital chapel.

Fashions will be supplied by Hadley's of The Mall and The Children's Shop at Tel-Huron. Fran Harris of WWJ-TV will be the commentator.

Proceeds of the event will be used for the purchase of draperies and bedspreads for a new unit at the hospital.

Receiving Ward B, which is part of the community psychiatry division, is to be a 30-bed independent unit with all services available for short term stay (maximum of approximately 30 days) for men and women 17 to 65 years of age.

NEW VENTURE

This ward is one of five such centers being developed and will be the first in operation. It is under direction of Dr. Theodore Satersmoen, director of the Community Psychiatry Division.

It will serve a 14-township "catchment" area, treating patients who need immediate hospitalization on a short term basis, such as suicidal, homicidal or extreme anxiety patients.

It is hoped that intensive care under a closely-knit staff team will enable these patients to recover quickly.

Pontiac Press Photo

Pontiac Nursing Unit to Hold Open House for Student Prospects

Mercy School of Nursing, Pontiac Unit, will hold open house for prospective nursing students Wednesday from 3 to 5 p.m.

Nurses-in-training will conduct tours of the school and show slides depicting a day in the life of a student. A panel of students will describe classes, clinical laboratory and social activities.

Qualified high school graduates are eligible to enroll in the two-year program. Upon completion of training, the student receives a diploma in nursing and is eligible to take state board examinations to become a registered nurse.

AID

Some scholarships are available. The school also participates in the federal student nurse loan program.

Interested persons may contact the school on Fulton Street for further information.

A Philosopher's View of 'Art in Revolution'

The philosopher's view of art in revolution will be presented by Dr. Alfred Lessing, Thursday, before the Rochester branch of the American Association of University Women.

An assistant professor of philosophy at Oakland University, Dr. Lessing has specialized in the field of aesthetics and is prepared to discuss the "controversial changes in social values resulting from developments in the arts."

The social committee for this meeting is composed of Mrs. Kurt Stubenvoll, chairman, assisted by Mesdames William Allison, Russel Corbin, Richard Jance, Robert O'Brien, and Leo Pawloski.

BERLINER CAMERATA MUSICALE

Noted Group to Perform

The internationally known chamber music ensemble, Berliner Camerata Musicale, will appear in concert Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Kingswood School in Bloomfield Hills.

The ensemble, conducted by its founder, oboist Rolf-Julius Koch, is composed of representatives of reputed Berlin orchestras.

They have made extensive concert tours in Europe, the Orient and Latin America and are currently engaged for performances in India, Asia, Canada and Japan.

This tour is the first to be made in the United States. The group is sponsored by the Senate of the City of Berlin and the Deutsche Institute.

This is the second concert of the Cranbrook Music Guild's 1967-68 season. Tickets may be purchased at Kingswood auditorium on the night of the concert.

MRS. WILLIAM BOYD SMITH

Bridal Couple Speaks Vows in Lake Orion

Bridesmaids were Joyce M. Swartz and Janet and Yvonne Bechler with a third sister, Bobbi Jean, as flower girl.

The bridegroom, son of the Arthur L. Smiths of Seward Street, was attended by his brother, Richard.

Holidays Theme of Demonstration

"Holiday Enchantment" will be the theme of Wednesday's luncheon meeting of the women of Oakland Hills Country Club. Mrs. Seth Clawson will present a program and demonstaration of Thanksgiving and Christmas home decorating ideas.

Mrs. C. Body Stockmeyer, social chairman, will be assisted by Mesdames Charles O'Neil, Harry Bowles, Robert Bill and Arthur Kaufmann.

Case No. E-505

Let 'em Make Decisions

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE E-505: Debby, aged six, is our grandchild.

She often accompanies me when I stop at the grocery.

"Grandpa," she will ask, "could I have some chewing gum?"

So I buy a package.

But I select one wherein each stick has a different color and flavor, as lemon, lime, cherry, grape and mixed.

DR. CRANE

And I do this to help Debby, as well as her older brothers, Matthew and Peter, become more adultish!

"Ask the boss," he will thus pass the buck.

So I open the package of gum; then ask each child to choose his own piece.

In fact, I break the pieces in two, not because I am Scotch, but to double the attempts at choosing.

"Grandpa, which one should I take?" is a common reaction.

"Any one you prefer," I toss the decision back.

EXPERIENCE

For self-confidence correlates to a large degree with one's experience in facing life's dilemmas and making choices!

And this is done by letting them use their own initiative, as by giving them two choices regarding household chores.

For example, don't do their thinking for them, as by saying:

Instead, let him have a choice between emptying that garbage can and drying the dishes for mamma.

In some homes, wives keep a "chore jar" in which many minor tasks are written, one per slip of paper, until the jar is half full.

Then, with eyes shut, daddy, as well as the kiddies, reach in and select a slip of paper to find out what task they are to perform to help mamma.

It adds zest and suspense, as well as maturing the youngsters via forcing them to pick their chore.

"OH HECK"

Even today at our house, when Daniel and David are home, often with charming girl friends, we play a game called "Oh, Heck" to determine the dish washer versus the dish drier.

Mrs. Crane may join the game but she is exempt, since she has already done the hard work of preparing the meal.

But the lowest scorer gets the dishpan chore and the next lowest dries the dishes.

It adds zest. And our two sons, though both are doctors, still grow almost violent as we approach the last round of the game, if they are in danger of the dishpan!

Remember, the more that parents lean on their children for advice, and the more those youngsters can be deftly pushed into spots where they must make the final choice, the faster they attain an adult outlook.

Stephanie Crane, 17, Miss Teenage America of 1968, poses with her mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Crane of High Ridge, Mo.. Stephanie represented St. Louis, Mo.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A mite of a girl with a smile that makes her glow, Stephanie Crane of High Ridge, Mo., is the 1968 Miss Teenage America.

The 17-yer-old high school senior also was selected the favorite of the 62 other contestants because of her spontaniety and friendliness.

Stephanie said at a news conference Sunday she never considered how to impress judges, fellow candidates or the pageant officials.

"More than winning the contest I wanted to be happy with myself and the only way I could was to be myself," she said. "I didn't want to be pegged as something I wasn't. I'm glad the judges liked me."

She will use the $10,000 scholarship she won to choose and attend "the best possible school for drama and singing in the country" with the hope of entertaining professionally some day.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Crane, said they were numb. Their two younger children, a boy, 6, and a girl, 3, watched on color television sets back in High Ridge with an as during her reign, a clothes and grandparents.

FATHER EXCITED

Crane is an assistant manager of a St. Louis restaurant. "But I wasn't doing much good there —I couldn't tell a roast duck from a country ham," he said. "All I was doing was talking about Stef so they decided I might as well attend the contest."

In addition to the scholarship, Stef won a new car, a guaranteed $5,000 in personal appearances that will take her up to 500,000 miles around the nation during her reign, a clothes wardrobe, and stock in two of the sponsoring companies.

Association for Childhood Education, Pontiac branch, is sponsoring its annual children's theater this week. "Rumpelstiltskin", produced by Pontiac Central High School drama department is being presented Monday through Friday at 3 p.m. and Saturday at 8 p.m.

Margo Weiberg of Davison, an Oakland University student teacher at Crofoot School, holds Linda F. Bell, 6, Green Street, as she trades finger pointing with Diana Nicholl, Long Pointe Drive, a senior at PCHS. Is this Rumpelstiltskin?".

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

What a woman does with her life after her children are grown makes a tremendous difference in how youthful she remains and how exciting life is for her. The years from middle age on can be one of the most adventurous and rewarding chapters in life.

Yet many women find this a time of depression. They have not developed individual interests but have lived through their children and when the younger generation leave home, there is a vast and lonely void.

Do not think of this as a time of loss but rather as a time fraught with opportunity. You now have the opportunity to revive some of those dreams of young years which had to be put aside for the time being because of the strenuous duties and responsibilities of a mother.

THINGS TO DO

Now you can do many of the things you wanted to do but didn't have time for. A couple of letters which have come to me recently are inspring. Here they are:

Dear Mrs. Lowman:

My last child left home a little over a year ago for good. I don't mean that she will never come back for a visit, but she will never be a part of my daily life again. She married and now has her own home.

* * *

I am happy for her happiness, but I must admit that the house seemed very quiet and lonely and for the first time I had time on my hands. I felt depressed and unhappy. Then I read an article of yours calling attention to the adventure of these years.

PLAYING PIANO

I remembered how much I had enjoyed playing the piano in younger years but had just dropped the habit. In fact I didn't even have a piano. I used to enjoy writing songs and working them out on the piano.

To make a long story short, I rented a piano, began practicing every day, took some lessons and began to live again.

It is amazing how much that one thing has changed my life. Now a neighborhood group of friends harmonizes once a week at our house. I play for some church affairs and donate my time to many civic efforts. I play for the senior citizens and other organizations. It has changed my life.

ANOTHER

After my children were grown and out on their own, at first I was stunned by my sudden leisure. After I recovered somewhat I sat down and made a list of the things I had wanted to do and hadn't had the time to do.

MRS. THOMAS S. SAGAMANG

Margery Madsen a Bride

Attired in an Empire gown of peau de soie, Margery Ann Madsen Saturday evening became the bride of Tomas E. Sagamang in First Methodist Church, Clarkston.

The bride's slim skirt and chapel train were accented with scattered appliques of Alencon lace. Mathing lace, crystals and pearls edged the portrait neckline and elbow length bell sleeves.

Mrs. Thomas J. Livingston and Ronald A. Madsen were honor attendants with Mrs. Larry Bowman and Mrs. Grederick Madsen as bridesmaids; Sean Horn serving as ushers.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds and their parents, the Maurice B. Madsens of Cadillac Street and Mrs. David Sagamang on Oxford, greeted guests at a reception in Guinn's Banquet Hall.

Set Workshop on Recreation

A recreation workshop for leaders of community organizations in Oakland County will be held Wednesday at the Oakland County 4-H Fairgrounds on Perry Street.

Sponsored by the Oakland County Extension Homemakers' Council, the program includes mixers, games for small and large groups, folk dancing and song leading.

A 30 page bulletin of recreation ideas is available. The hours are from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Coffee will be provided. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Rosalie J. Hawley at the Cooperative Extension Service.

Archivist Files Reading Record

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Mary T. Quinn, state archivist since 1933, has retired with a record not likely to be duplicated by her successors: she has read every single one of the hundreds of thousands of state historical documents on file dating back to the time of Roger Williams.

Bumper Guards

When small children play with trucks, cars, or ride tricycles in the house they often bump into the furniture leaving ugly scars. You can prevent this by glueing strips of sponge rubber across the bumpers of the toys.

One Income Budget for Young Pair?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in ney Management

Dear Mary Feeley: I quit working recently because my husband and I fought too much about it. We have a two-year-old daughter, and my husband wants me to take care of her.

So I'll resign myself to sitting here if you can prove to me that we can budget on his income only, and still get by.

He brings home $191.91 every two weeks — which comes out to about $95.96 a week (after life, hospitalization, and car insurance are deducted).

Our monthly expenses include $127 rent, car payment of $53.64, a charge account of $18, utilities $17.50, and $10 for doctors' bills. Also, five a month savings. Here's the weekly budget I've set up:

Church pleged two dollars, groceries and milk, $18.50; washing, $3.50; newpapers 75 cents; gas and car repair, eight dollars; household needs and clothing, three dollars; entertainment, two dollars.

If you see where changes are needed, please tell me. My husband won't even look at my figures.

Mrs. B., Moline, Ill.

Dear Mrs. B.: He's going to be sorry if he doesn't — because frankly I don't think they're going to work. Switching from a two-salary spending plan to a one-income budget calls for a lot of manuvering even under the most favorable circumstances.

And you two have a couple of strikes against you to start with — a rental that's higher than one week's salary, which alone can tighten up the budget, and a substantial monthly car payment.

I thoroughly understand your husband's desire to have you at home, with a daughter so young. However, here are some things you'd better take a sober look at before you find yourselves in a real financial bind.

From the list of expenses you sent me, your fixed monthly commitments total $231.14. Your flexible expenses (which are items that can often be juggled around) add up to $162.32. So together they're $393.46. Subtract this from your husband's take-home-pay of $412.62 for that period, based on 4.3 weeks in the month, and you have just $19 (in round figures) left.

But that's not what's going to keep you cliff - hanging. The weekly budget you've set up just isn't realistic in the first place. For example:

The $18.50 you've allowed for food for three, including milk, is considerably short of what the Department of Agriculture estimates as an average cost for a moderate diet. The figure for a family of your size, ages, and sex would be nearer $25 a week.

Your clothing allowance, excluding the household operating needs, are less than the 8 per cent of income which is generally cited as the minimum the average family requires. While you can cut back on clothing costs, of course, there's a limit.

There's no allowance made for your husband's on-the-job expenses such as lunches and trasportation. Or for his haircuts and other personal needs.

And you can't skip entirely that little budget category called "miscellaneous" — for the simple reason that you'll have gifts to buy and other incidental purchases.

True, young couples sometimes perform miracles with money. But unless that car payment is finished soon, or your husband gets a raise, or you can manage to adjust your rent, I'm afraid it's going to prove a rough winter.

Dear Miss Feeley: I need 13 additional quarters to qualify for Social Security, even though my age qualifies me now. Someone told me that I can "buy" my way into the program by paying a lump sum

Is this true?

Dear S.S.: No. Just wishful thinking.

Paprika Croutons

To make delicious paprika croutons, cut bread one-half inch thick and remove the crusts. Butter the bread and cut into one-half inch, cubes. Bake in a hot oven until crisp and brown, turning often. Dush with paprika and serve hot.

The Anthony Parises of Kettering Street announce the betrothal and forthcoming February wedding of their daughter, Toni Elizabeth, to Gerald Edwin Mosure Jr. Parents of the bridegroom to be are the senior Mosures of Deckerville.

Late April vows are planned by Christine Mary Dawson and Terry M. Weir. Parents of the couple are the Charles M. Dawsons of Sylvan Lake and the P. Frank Weirs of Fourth Street.

British Getting Better Break in School

LONDON (AP) — Johnny Bull is getting a better break in school. An old British practice, making Johnny prove at the age of 11 years his right to a full education of his own choice, is gradually disappearing.

Comprehensive schools, which permit all pupils to study and advance according to their abilities, are taking the place of the old schools which divided 11-year-olds into the "elite" and the ordinary.

When fully installed, supporters say, the new schools will reduce snobbery in education and open up universities to a much wider slice of British society.

The small but prestigious private schools like Eton, Harrow and Rugby probably will remain for the few who prefer to pay fees for their secondary education.

'11 PLUS'

Under the old system, pupils wound up the primary stage of their education by taking an examination. This came usually at the age of 11 or "11 plus," which gave the system its name.

Results determined whether the pupils went on, with a chance at trying for a university education. If they failed the "11 plus," they went instead to a "secondary modern" school, usually a synonym for vocational or technical training, or became a dropout at 15.

Under the comprehensive plan school children move out of primary school without the fateful examination and they can change from one stream of study to another as they advance. All classes and all grades of intelligence mingle.

Anthony Cresland, secretary of state for education and science until recently, has explained the change:

"Our schools have been essentially geared to educating the middle class, plus a few from below who aspired to be middle class or looked like desirable recruits to the middle class. The remainder were given cheaper teachers and inferior buildings; they were segregated in separate schools.

'INDEFENSIBLE'

"Segregation as early as 11-plus is indefensible. You do not feed a child less because it grows slowly or has some initial handicap to overcome."

Local authorities shape education in their areas. The Ministry of Education decides largely how much money can be spent and how many teachers employed, but the local authorities have the final word on organization and method.

In the two years since the reorganization of secondary education started, 69 of the 165 local authorities have implemented or approved programs for reorganizing their entire school systems. Another 28 authorities have approved schemes for part of their areas. There are 52 proposals still under consideration either on a national or local level.

The ministry has rejected 12 proposals and four authorities have declined to submit schemes.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS BEND

The smart private schools which turn out young English gentlemen and ladies with impeccable accents, scholarly backgrounds and important social connections are bending somewhat toward the new trend. But most are too small to become comprehensive institutions of learning. Since most of them are boarding schools, there is also the question of fees.

Eton charges $1,719 a year, including room and board. Eighteen of Britain's prime ministers have been Old Etonians.

Eton is changing its scholarship examination so that Greek and Latin will not be required, thus making an opening for boys from state schools.

More sweeping changes will be required to please Britain's Trade Union Council, representing organized workers. It has demanded that schools such as Eton be integrated into the public education system.

Until World War II it was generally accepted that only one in four pupils deserved an academic education. Postwar technologies changed that.

This year 200,000 students attend 43 universities in the United Kingdom with its population of 55 million. Some 40,000 eligible students were unable to find places.

Critics suggest that Britain's elite educational system has seemed to go hand in hand with the country's slow rate of economic growth.

'Clean Water Is Local Option'

Communities Must Do Part, Says Official

MORAN, Wyo. (UPI) — The man in charge of the nation's program to halt pollution of lakes and rivers says it now is up to local communities to implement federal clean water goals.

Frank Di Luzio told the Federation of Fly Fishermen "this will not be an easy job. But it must be done and done well for the quality of the nation's water is at stake."

Di Luzio, assistant Interior Secretary for water pollution control, said "the priority problem now will be for the states, for the local communities and for industries' to implement (clean water) goals efficiently."

Di Luzio called on state officials and conservationists to "analyze the full range of alternative ways to handle problems such as municipal, industrial, and agricultural wastes, thermal pollution, detergents, saline water, oil, chemicals and silt."

He said the major challenge was to build and operate waste treatment plants and to see that goals of two federal clean water bills were reached.

The bills were the Water Quality Act of 1965 and the Clean Water Restoration Act of 1966.

Ike Visits Boyhood Home and Center in Abilene

ABILENE, Kan. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was in Abilene today to visit the Eisenhower Center, a modern $10-million complex that includes a library, a museum, a chapel and the two-story white clapboard home where he grew up.

Eisenhower was expected to spend some time in his office on the second floor of the library.

The library and museum house items associated with Eisenhower's life—his boyhood, his long military career and his eight-year tenure as President.

The 77-year-old Eisenhower also was expected to visit the graves of his parents at Abilene Cemetery.

WARM GREETING

Proprietor Shot Chasing Bandit

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit store owner, shot by a bandit he chased down an east side alley, was listed in serious condition today in a Detroit hospital. Lewis Willis, 43, told police he ran out the rear of his market when he heard his wife, Shirley, call for help.

He chased the gunman down an alley. The man, who escaped with $28, turned and fired on Willis just before leaping into a waiting getaway car.

Shirley's Foes Aim at Viet Issue

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — The major foes of Shirley Temple Black in San Mateo County's special congressional election Tuesday are striving to make the race a referendum on the Vietnam war.

Two contenders consistently identify Mrs. Black, the former child film star, as a hawk committed to escalating the war.

They are Republican Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey, 40, a Marine veteran and Navy cross winner, and Democrat Edward Keating, founder and former publisher of Ramparts magazine.

Mrs. Black, now 39 and mother of three, argued Sunday that she holds a moderate view and believes "the way to peace is by achieving a swift and honorable conclusion to the war in Vietnam."

ADVOCATES BOMBING HALT

She and McCloskey are two of four Republican candidates for the 11th Congressional District seat vacated by the death of J. Arthur Younger, Republican.

Keating, 42, is one of the six Democratic candidates and an advocate of an immediate bombing halt and a world conference on Vietnam.

A runoff election is scheduled Dec. 12 between the top Republican and top Democrat in Tuesday's balloting unless one candidate polls 51 per cent of the total vote—an unlikely prospect.

A turnout of about 140,000 San Mateo County voters is expected. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

McCloskey urges an end to bombing of North Vietnam as a move to start peace negotiations. He also advocates "gradual disengagement of the military to take not more than two years."

OTHER ASPIRANTS

The two other Republican aspirants are Earl B. Whitemore, 49, county sheriff since 1950, and William H. Draper, 39, Korean war veteran and business executive.

In the Democratic field with Keating is Roy A. Archibald, 47, San Mateo city councilman since 1956 and West Coast representative of the National Education Association.

The other Democrats are:

Daniel Mogaco, 43, San Mateo attorney urging an unconditional end to bombing attacks.

Bryant McDonald, 55, former Republican who urges escalating the war to quick and complete victory.

Patrick F. X. McGucken, 47, an Emmitsburg, Md., lawyer who filed his candidacy as a "stand-in for President Johnson" and then returned to Maryland.

Safe Is Stolen

DETROIT (AP) — Thieves broke into the Hillcrest Pharmacy on the city's west side Sunday, escaping with a safe containing $1,124 in cash, $932 in checks and an unknown quantity of narcotics. They also stole the burglar alarm from the side of the building, police said.

Brazil's Royal Pedros Want Palace Back

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — Descendants of Brazil's royal family want their palace back.

The "Wedding Cake Palace," as it is known, was seized by the federal capital was moved the republic in 1892, three years after Emperor Pedro II was forced from the throne. Federal agencies used it until 1960 when to Brasilia. Gov. Francisco Negrao de Lima of Gunabara State now has his offices in the palace.

Attorney Miguel Lins says the republic owes the former imperial family back rent for 78 years. He wants Negrao de Lima evicted and indemnization for seizure and use of the place.

Federal Judge Evandro Geirros has set a hearing on the case for Nov. 15.

Lins said the federal government has been ordered to pay indemnities for the summer palace at Petropolis, 40 miles east in the mountains overlooking Rio de Janeiro.

WEDDING PRESENT

Emperor Pedro II built the "Wedding Cake" palace as a wedding present for his daughter, Isabel. The gleaming white, gingerbread edifice has been compared to a cake.

The palace has 71 rooms and 1.3-million square feet of grounds in a fashionable residential zone of Rio de Janeiro.

A second court fight looms over the spoils if the royal family wins. "Pedro the Rich" and "Pedro the Poor," first cousins, each claim to be the lawful pretender to the imperial crown.

The two branches of the imperial family speak to each other only through lawyers. The present lawsuit was lodged in behalf of both.

PRINCE, POTATO-GROWER

Pedro the Rich is known as that because he lives like a prince. Pedro the Poor got his name from the fact he grows potatoes.

Portuguese Prince Pedro da Alcantara declared himself Emperor of an independent Brazil in 1822. His son, Pedro II, succeeded to the throne in 1830. He fled into exile in 1889. When Pedro II died abroad, Isabel became pretender to the throne. Her son, Pedro, renounced his claim. He wanted to marry an Austrian girl. She was only a countess, and house rules required he marry a princess.

His brother, Pedro Henrique, became official pretender.

FAMILY RETURNS, SUES

In 1922 Brazil invited the family to return to Brazil to live. The royal family returned and hired a lawyer. They sued for their jewels, their crown and their land.

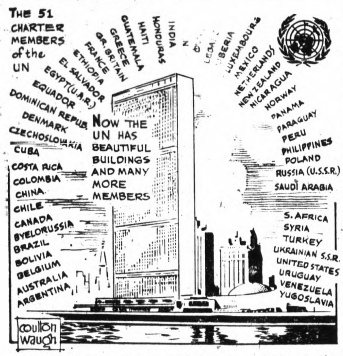
Junior Editors Quiz on THE UNITED NATIONS



QUESTION: What nations belonged originally to the United Nations?

ANSWER: Movements to organize such a group as the United Nations were first begun in September 1939. But it was not until 1945 that the U.N. had been organized and its charter signed; the charter members are named in our drawing. Later, a number of other nations joined the organization.

The U.N. is not a world government, but a meeting place where nations can try to settle their problems through peaceful study and discussion. It has kept some dangerous disputes from turning into warfare.

The handsome U.N. headquarters buildings, completed in 1952, are located on the New York City riverfront. Many young people enjoy taking tours through these buildings when great world issues are being debated.

One of the U.N.'s activities is UNICEF, the United Nations Children's Fund, through which many of the world's needy mothers and children obtain food and medical care.

The only U.N. agency to receive contributions from individuals, UNICEF was awarded the Nobel peace prize in 1965.

Court Revamping Bill Is $17-Million Question

LANSING (AP)—The toughest question the writers of the Legislature's court reorganization bill have faced so far is more than a $64 question. Considerably more.

It's worth closer to $17 million a year.

That is about the amount of revenue the House Judiciary Committee expects will come from the bill's proposed 178 district courts when and if the new courts replace existing justices of the peace and municipal courts outside Detroit.

The big question is where that money is going to go, and the three most likely recipients are the cities, the counties and the state.

The counties and the state are in the running because they'll share the costs of the new district courts. The cities are in because otherwise they would suffer a financial blow through loss of their money-making municipal courts.

COUNTY OPPOSITION

The big, complicated court bill ran into a flurry of opposition from county officials last week. The counties — chiefly Wayne — said the new courts would cost them much more than it would pay them.

Now in the works is a compromise proposal giving the counties more money, and the state and the cities less, than they would have gotten under the original bill.

The house Judiciary Committee, which drew up the big court bill, estimates the 178 proposed district courts will collect civil filing fees of about $1.9 million a year.

They figure fines levied for violations of municipal ordinances at about $5.2 million a year and court costs at $10.5 million.

$10,144,000 YEARLY

As originally drafted, the bill would give the counties 85 per cent of the costs and 65 per cent of the filing fees. The committee estimated their revenue at $10,144,000 a year.

But that depends on one important assumption: that the judges will levy enough court costs to keep the courts self-supporting.

The judge could give him a $2 fine and no costs, or $25 in costs and no fine, or any combination of fine and costs which added up to $25.

It wouldn't make any difference to the defendant, but it would make considerable difference to local governments, because the cities get most of the fine money in local ordinance cases and the counties get most of the costs.

AUTOMATIC SUPPORT

Judiciary Committee Chairman Donald Holbrook, R-Clare, had argued the system would support itself almost automatically because if a county were losing money on a court, the judge would merely charge higher costs and thus bring the county more revenue.

But after a talk last week with Wayne County Auditor Richard Austin, Holbrook decided that in certain areas that might not work.

Austin noted the district judges in Wayne County outside Detroit will run for office in just one or two cities and will have their friends and political allies there.

The judge's first loyalty likely would be to the city, Austin warned; and he would be likely to charge more fines than costs, even if it meant a net financial loss to the county.

REVENUE FORMULA

So now the plan is to boost the county's share in the revenue-splitting formula. One suggestion is that the counties get 60 per cent of both fines and costs, while the cities get 30 per cent and the state 10.

The idea, of course, means less money for the cities, and the cities won't be tickled about that.

But, Holbrook notes, the cities which now pay for their own municipal courts won't have to under the bill. At the same time, they would be able to keep the lucrative duty of taking guilty pleas in parking cases.

There is another argument sometimes heard in favor of boosting the counties' share at the cities' expense.

Veteran Honored

ALBANY, Ore., (AP) — Huro Kato, a Japanese-American who won two Purple Hearts with the 442nd Regiment in Europe in World War II, was named Linn County Veteran of the Year Saturday night. While Kato was fighting, his family was interned in a Utah relocation camp for Americans of Japanese ancestry.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science discovered a medication with the ability, in most cases — to actually shrink hemorrhoids and promptly stop the burning itch and relieve pain.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, very striking improvement was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain and itching were promptly relieved. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated piles.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so. And it was all done without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H® — an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! Preparation H also lubricates to make bowel movements less painful, it soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. Preparation H comes in both ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Tranquilizers, Hearts Eyed

By Science Service

LOS ANGELES—If you take tranquilizers for any length of time you are likely to have higher cholestrol — with attendant possibilities of heart trouble — than those who do not take them.

This is one of several findings in a report on a study of 1,859 male employes of the city of Los Angeles who have been followed medically for 15 years. This does not mean tranquilizers cause high cholestrol; it could indicate those who require the pills tend to have high levels.

Cholesterol, a fat-like, pearly substance, is found in clogged arteries. It appears from the study to be more important than high blood pressure in heart attacks due to coronary thrombosis. High blood pressure is more important in angina pectoris when there is chest pain without actual interruption of the blood supply to the heart muscle. A person with both high blood pressure and high cholesterol is a high risk for both angina and thrombosis.

ACHES STOP PAINS

Pinched nerves may be the cause of many painful conditions. When a spinal segment is not in its normal position, it partly closes nerve openings between the vertebrae, which in turn causes the nerve to be pinched. This will cause a reduction in the flow of nerve energy to some part of the body. When this occurs the organs and tissues which the pinched nerve supply cannot function properly . . . pain and susceptibility to disease will result.

That is why the Chiropractic profession has always stated that to maintain GOOD HEALTH and FREEDOM from DISEASE, all spinal misalignments should be promptly checked and corrected.

Low-Key Celebration May Hint at Soviet Move on Viet Peace

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The performance of the Soviet leadership at Bolshevik anniversary ceremonies seemed in low key in view of the occasion, the 50th jubilee of Communist power.

It suggested deep preoccupation with internal political and economic affairs and with problems involving international communism, all dictating a policy of caution. Coinciding with this may even be a hint that the Soviet Union, in its own national interests, may eventually be persuaded to collaborate in seeking some avenue to peace in Vietnam.

It is likely the Soviet leaders don't dislike the prospect of America's expending its strength in a costly conflict, but the Kremlin has to weigh prospective advantages and disadvantages which might accrue to Moscow from a lessening of tension.

Diplomats who know the Kremlin well say the Russians will change or modify their policies only when such change or modification directly serves Soviet interests.

ON VERGE OF CHANGES

It can be argued that it is in the Kremlin's interest to contribute to a climate in which Moscow can pay more attention to relieving pressing problems which seem to be generating strains.

There is some thought among Kremlin watchers that the Soviet leadership is on the verge of changes at high levels, and that only the fact of the 50th anniversary has kept internal political strains from surfacing.

A number of factors could be involved in the strains. One is the Vietnam war and differences of opinion on the Soviet reaction to it. Another is an economic dispute basic to Soviet politics on the question of investment in the domestic economy. Still another is the clearly diminishing authority of Moscow in international communism, an outgrowth of the dispute with Red China, the emergence of "national communism" in East Europe and widespread resistance in the Communist world to total Soviet dictation.

News Analysis

HARMONY LACKING

The Soviet "collective leadership" seems far from wholly harmonious. Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev apparently is involved in a dispute with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin on domestic economic policies, much of the quarrel centering about the need for a greatly increased investment in agriculture. Brezhnev appears to be on the side of the farmers; Kosygin plumping for more consumer goods, and the military nagging for more hardware. In a highly charged world atmosphere, both Brezhnev and Kosygin might lose to the military.

Brezhnev used the occasion of the jubilee to plead again for an international Communist meeting.

There is stubborn opposition to a world meeting — from the Italian Communists, the Romanians, the Yugoslavs, the Cubans and others, for a variety of their own reasons.

Some Communist leaders around the world obviously feel that a world meeting could only make matters worse and contribute even more to the process of splintering.

The Cubans — who have used the occasion of the jubilee to deliver a studied affront to the Russians by declining to send a high-ranking representative — apparently feels is inhibiting its object on general principles to the Soviet policy of caution in Latin America which Havana brand of violent revolution.

If Soviet policy is sailing through choppy seas, there can be many good reasons for trying to avoid rocking the boat at this time. High tension, such as generated by Viet Nam can only contribute to the Kremlin's problems.

For the first time in our history, Negro candidates have been elected mayors of major cities.

YOUNG

Carl B. Stokes, mayor-elect of Cleveland, and Richard G. Hatcher, mayor-elect of Gary, now join the many other talented Negroes who hold important governmental positions.

It was a wonderful day, and one Negro disk jockey proclaimed the joyful day-after the elections as "National Soul Brother Day." Negroes all over the country had reason to rejoice, for the election results meant more to them than just having Negroes in high positions.

These results were a perfect indication of the very real and legitimate political power the Negro community can wield in cooperation with liberals and concerned conservatives.

Carl Stokes won in Cleveland because he was able to convince enough white voters that he was the best qualified man for the job. And many white voters have learned to abandon a reflex kind of prejudice where Negroes are involved.

Real political power came through forging the kind of alliance that a Carl Stokes created in Cleveland.

NO KNOWLEDGE

There are any number of so-called militants yelling "black power" with no knowledge of what power is or how to get it.

Carl Stokes has showed all of us that the way to achieve power is to be better than the other guy, not to scare him out of his wits, and to work with all kinds of people and groups in a meaningful coalition.

I hope that one of the results of this election will be the death of the backlash scare. In the months preceding the election, we heard all sorts of dire predictions about how solid white voting blocs would crush Negro candidates.

In Boston, one of the candidates for mayor, Mrs. Louise Hicks, was generally described as a backlash candidate.

LARGE MINORITY

She had fought against steps which would have integrated Boston's school system, and commentators predicted that she would role up a massive anti-Negro vote. She did roll up a large minority of the vote, but she lost.

She lost. That is the point.

We can talk all we want about the numbers of votes Mrs. Hicks got, or the shady dealings of the machine in Gary which resulted in court orders against ballot-box tampering.

But this is not important when seen in the light of the final results. Bigots were shown to be an ineffectual minority, and candidates in big-city elections thought of as anti-Negro, lost.

So let's not concentrate so much on the backlashers. I hope the press will finally understand that they have been played up too much. They lost in 1964; they lost in 1967.

Having captured so adroitly the flight of motion in this splendid GTO, our engineers could well have quit while far ahead. But that would have been decidedly un-Pontiac.

So under that cheeky hood, and behind that revolutionary new bumper, they put the soul of a car born to the road.

The suspension, with its Wide-Track stance and turnpike tuning, clings like morning fog. The optional engine, while delivering 360 hp, can be ordered to breathe through those pinched nostrils. The tires are very wide. The seats are bucket. (You can exchange them for bench.) The shifter is Hurst for greater shifting around. And the General Motors safety package, which includes side marker lights, is standard.

The option list is as grand as it is long, and includes Rally II wheels, hood-mounted tach, even a stereo tape player. You might be lucky enough to find The Great One at your Pontiac dealer's. Or on the road. But nowhere else.

WHILE RADICAL ACTIONS on campus get most of the attention, there's a quiet movement working to obtain basic rights for students.

Students Seeking Basic Rights

By HUGH ST. CLAIR
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — Almost lost among the more violent demands of student leaders and their followers, a quiet and rational call is being sounded for the basic rights of students.

The statement is still in the form of a draft but undoubtedly will be ratified later this year by its drafters, representing such established educational strongholds as the American Association of University Professors, the Association of American Colleges, the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators, the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors, as well as the National Student Association.

The statement, drawn up in a constitutional form, begins with a preamble that defines the scope and the purpose of the draft:

"Freedom to teach and freedom to learn are inseparable facets of academic freedom.

"The freedom to learn depends upon appropriate opportunities and conditions in the classroom, on the campus and in the larger community. Students should exercise their freedom with responsibility."

FIRST FREEDOM

The first freedom listed is the freedom to attend. "Under no circumstances should a student be barred from admission to a particular institution on the basis of race."

Conditions in the classroom, according to the statement, should center around the basic fact that a teacher may use his powers and privileges only in a professional capacity and has the obligation to protect the student from capricious or prejudiced academic evaluation.

On the campus, the statement sees the role of the administration limited by its function as an educational institution.

In this sense, the university's right of ownership and use of student records and campus facilities should always be exercised in the educational interests of students.

FREEDOM URGED

The off-campus affairs of students, likewise, are considered by the report as basically autonomous attempts by students to educate themselves according to their own desires.

Where the association of students expresses its views through a student publication, the report urges the same freedom of expression and inquiry that public newspapers or periodicals enjoy.

All freedoms expressed in the statement are, of course, suggested with the condition set forth in the preamble, that students "exercise their freedom with responsibility."

In the community at large, the report suggests that student affairs should be governed by the same civil order that rules any other public actions.

The statement strongly urges universities to remain educational institutions and to refrain from exercising an authority that is adequately handled by civil laws and ordinances.

The procedural standards in investigating student conduct and disciplinary proceedings should, according to the report, "protect the student from the unfair imposition of serious penalties." The procedures suggested include the right to a hearing, trial and appeal.

One of the more constructive results of campus refusals to update their policies has been the initiation of student-run experimental colleges, such as Mike Vozick's and Jim Nixon's study groups at San Francisco State College.

A combination of the ideas expressed in the statement of student rights and the experiences gained from student experimental colleges has, according to Vozick, "gained national recognition as a new model for innovation in American education."

The emphasis is on learning. The conflict centers on how to learn. Statements of student rights and experimental colleges are some of the answers to some of the questions raised by the conflict.

Beat-Up Drums Treated in 'Hospital'

CHICAGO (UPI) — Unlike old drummers, old drums rarely die. But some take quite a beating.

Many drums suffer what Bill Crowden calls a "metal breakdown" and other assorted ills. And like a wornout drummer, Crowden explains, drums, too, must be cared for with skill.

Crowden is the proprietor of Drums Unlimited which he describes as a unique "hospital" where drums are repaired.

"When a drum comes in with a cracked head," Crowden explains, "we take a look at the skin and perform plastic surgery. Sometimes we run into extreme cases where the only cure is replacement of the entire head.

"Then there is the drum which comes in all tensed up. The drummer might go to a head-shrinker for this problem, but he brings his instrument to Drums Unlimited for exactly the opposite treatment — loosening of the head to increase vibration."

INTERNAL TROUBLE

"Doctor" Crowden said he often finds many things inside the head of a drum that contribute to what he called a "choked-up sound."

"We've retrieved feathers, old newspapers and rags stuffed into drumheads to deaden the sound." He said he has also found rent receipts, crayons, safety pins, old shirts, scarves and even drumsticks.

Metal breakdowns are common. "Take metal rim blues, a common disease among older drums," Crowden said.

"Some we have to make larger, some smaller, some we grind down and some we build up. Sooner or later, every rim has to be straightened out."

Broken legs are not uncommon among floor tom-toms, which take quite a beating, Crowden said.

Notice of Sale of Dwelling and Request for Bids

The City of Pontiac will receive sealed invitational bids for the sale and removal of a dwelling and garage located at 612 Central Street on Lot 172 of South Park Subdivision, a dwelling and garage located at 617 Central Street on Lot 202 of South Park Subdivision, and a dwelling located at 1220 University Drive on the West 91.31 feet of the East 273.93 feet of the West ½ of the Northeast ¼ of Section 22, T.3N., R.10E., lying southerly of the southerly line of University Drive, until 2:00 P.M. (Eastern Standard Time) on Monday, the 20th day of November, 1967 at the office of the City Clerk, 450 Wide Track Drive East, Pontiac, Michigan at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Conditions:

1. Bidder shall acquaint himself with City Ordinance No. 1349 which governs the moving of buildings within the City of Pontiac. Attention is directed to required deposits, permits, fees, insurance, and the method of severing utility connections.

2. The building shall be removed within ninety (90) days after Notice to Proceed. It is anticipated that the Notice to Proceed will be issued on/about December 6, 1967. Since time is of the essence, failure of the contractor to have the structure removed from the property at the time specified in the Notice to Proceed will cause the forfeiture of his deposits.

3. The basement shall be free of debris and not backfilled.

A certified check or bank draft, payable to the order of the City of Pontiac, negotiable U.S. Government Bonds, or a satisfactory Bid Bond executed by the Bidder and an acceptable surety, in the amount equal to 10% of the bid price, shall be submitted with each bid.

The bids will be received and awarded on the basis of each individual structure.

The City of Pontiac reserves the right to reject any and all bids, or to waive any informalities in the bidding.

Bids may be held by the City of Pontiac for a period of twenty (20) days from date of opening of bids for the purpose of reviewing the Bids and investigating the qualifications of the Bidder, prior to awarding the contract. Arrangements for inspection of the dwelling may be made by contacting the office of the City Engineer.

GOP Leading Dems in Voter Confidence First Time Since '57

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Republicans lead the Democrats in terms of voter confidence for the first time since 1957, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

The American Institute of Public Opinion, Dr. George Gallup's poll organization, said a poll of 1,565 adults across the nation indicated that more Americans feel the GOP is better able to deal with problems of the Vietnam war, racial strife, and the high cost of living, than the Democrats.

Those polled were asked to name what they thought were the most important problems facing the nation. They listed the war, the racial situation and the high cost of living, although the poll indicated no priority of importance.

They were then asked, "Which political party do you think can do a better job of handling the problem you have just mentioned—the Republican party or the Democratic party?"

The poll showed that 30 per cent of the 1,565 persons put their faith in the Republican party as best able to handle the problems, while 26 per cent named the Democrats.

Twenty-eight per cent felt there was no difference between the two parties' ability, and a final 16 per cent had no opinion.

The poll then equally distributed the "no difference" and "no opinion" percentages between the two parties to give the Republicans a lead of 52-48 over the Democrats.

In August, when racial problems were cited as often as the war, the Democrats held a 53-47 per cent margin in terms of voters confidence—the same margin they held a year ago, when the top problems listed were the same as in this recent poll.

But in October 1964, prior to that year's presidential election, the Democrats held a 63-37 advantage over the Republicans. This indicates, the poll said, that the Republicans have greatly improved their position since then.

Meanwhile, in Milwaukee, Wis., Gallup said Sunday that third-party candidates and the Vietnam issue may combine to make next year's presidential election very hard to predict.

Carson Raps 'Overselling' by Ads on TV

Carson, in an interview in the December issue of Playboy magazine, said advertising is necessary—it pays the bills, including his reported $1 million-a-year salary—"but it could be a hell of a lot more honest and more palatable."

"My gripe with commercials is that so many irritate me with their haranguing and shouting and overselling," Carson said, adding:

BAD TASTE CITED

"I think some commercials violate good taste. I go up the wall every time I catch that commercial with the kids bragging about '22 per cent fewer cavities.' I happen to like and use the toothpaste but I hate their commercial."

If he ran an advertising agency, Carson said, his credo would be, "Be enthusiastic, but be quiet—and be honest."

A Big Hello as 'Dolly' for Pearl Bailey

NEW YORK (AP) — The long-running Broadway musical hit "Hello, Dolly:" was taken over Sunday night by an all-Negro cast headed by Pearl Bailey and featuring Cab Calloway.

On hand was Carol Channing, who played the "Dolly" role first 1,596 performances ago.

On her first appearance, there was fully one minute of huzzahs before Miss Bailey could go on with the show.

POPULAR SINGER

A popular singer for years, Miss Bailey last was seen on Broadway some years ago in "House of Flowers."

As she ad-libbed to her opening-night audience: "Y'know, I got a few words t'say in this show."

The 49-year-old Miss Bailey, when she came to the actual "Hello, Dolly:" number in the second act, was greeted with a roar from the audience as she came down steps to approach the front of the stage.

Calloway, who will be 60 this December, is internationally known as a singer and band leader. He plays the part of Dolly's affluent friend.

CHANNING EMBRACE

After repeated curtain calls, Miss Bailey and Miss Channing embraced over the footlights. It marked the first time that Miss Channing had seen the show as a member of the audience.

The musical, continuing its phenomenal run at the same theater—the St. James—is based on Thornton Wilder's play, "The Matchmaker." The new production replaces the one headed by Beatty Grable.

DOLLY SAYS HELLO — Carol Channing reaches over the footlights to clasp Pearl Bailey during last night's New York opening performance of Miss Bailey as the new star of "Hello, Dolly!" Miss Channing, the original "Dolly," was seeing the show for the first time.

Nationalistic Slap at U. S.

German Party Defies Leader

HANNOVER, Germany (UPI) — The National Democratic Party (NPD) ended its convention with forbidden words, and the men who blame America for spoiling Germany scattered for their homes today.

He had warned them against passing a resolution calling on West Germany to bring back the death penalty and to castrate all sexual criminals. Thadden said everyone might think them "bloodthirsty Nazis."

But they brushed Adolf aside, passed the resolution and sang the first verse of "Deutschlund Ueber Alles" (Germany Above All) and went home. West Germany bans the first verse from official functions because its ultranationalist tone offends many.

It had been a dull convention until the climax last night when the death penalty-sexual penalty came up for a vote. This got to the heart of matters.

CHARGES GRIPES

All the angry charges that German streets have not been safe since the Allied conquest in 1945, all the gripes about depravity of German life since the coming of American culture, all this boiled down to the vote.

The 1,400 delegates held back their hooting when Thadden advised against the resolution. After all, he had led the three-year-old party to victory in a number of state legislature races. Nobody laughs about the NPD anymore.

But the smoke-filled hall rolled with laughter when the next speaker, a doctor, said, "Before anyone votes for this measure he had better ask himself if he would be willing to order a man deprived of his life."

The doctor flushed. He shouted into the microphones that a judge spends sleepless nights when he has pronounced a death sentence.

ASTONISHED OBSERVERS

The next speaker cited crime in the streets and said the doctor "obviously has no children." Applause shook the balcony where observers watched in astonishment.

It went on like that for two hours. One much-cheered speaker said, "If we execute them, these murderers won't have time to sell their memoirs to any magazine."

The action reflected delegate sentiment.

In beer halls and in platform speeches, they spoke for harsh dislike of anything foreign, for resentment and for a belief that the good old days ended in 1945.

To them, Germany is not guilty of starting World War II. Hence the main injustice of the twentieth Century is that committed against Germany by the war victors.

ROTTING SOCIETY

They argue that since American forces entered this country, society here has rotted under something they call criminality, sexuality and "the immorality of materialism." They want it all rooted out, and "Yankee Go Home."

These and not the quiet economic programs laid out by Thadden interested the delegates with glee the sheet-covered tables at which they sat.

One delegate wagged a finger at a newsman. "The only issue is to restore the honor of the German soldier, still being trampled underfoot by the Allies.

"It's the only issue," he said.

MOVIE SET BLAZE — A security guard pours a stream of water on a blazing movie set at the Paramount Studio in Hollywood last night, awaiting the arrival of firemen. Officials said the fire damaged or destroyed a 100-yard-long section of outdoor movie sets, causing an estimated $50,000 damage before it was brought under control.

Ringling Bros. Circus Sold for 'More Than $10 Million'

VENICE, Fla. (AP) — Work went on with new enthusiasm at winter quarters of Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Combined Shows, Inc., today and "The Greatest Show on Earth" was under new ownership for the first time since the Ringling brothers hit the road as entertainers in 1882.

"That's great news," said workers in and around the big amphitheater here which the circus calls home for seven or eight weeks each winter. They referred to reports from Rome, Italy, that Judge Roy Hofheinz of Houston, Tex., and Irvin and Israel Feld of Washington, D.C., had bought the famous old amusement enterprise for "more than $10 million."

John Ringling North, president of the circus off and on since his uncle John Ringling died in 1936, said he decided to pass ownership to Hofheinz and the Feld brothers because they indicated "their concern and their dedication to maintain the concept, tradition and artistic standards of the circus."

The new owners announced the technical staff of the circus would remain the same and the 1968 season would proceed as scheduled. The circus is to close its 1967 tour in Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 19 and return to winter quarters here, where it will start the 1968 season with a three-day stand Jan. 11-13.

NEW HEADQUARTERS

The new owners said North would continue as producer and his brother, Henry Ringling North, would remain as vice president. Offices will be moved from New York to Washington, D.C., where the Feld brothers have operated the Carter Barrow Amphitheater for the past 14 years.

Hofheinz, who masterminded the Astrodome Stadium in Houston, will become board chairman of the circus, with Irvin Feld president and chief executive officer and Israel Feld executive vice president and treasurer.

North, 64, who makes his home in Rome, had 450 of the 1,000 circus shares in his own name and with his brother controlled 60 more as executors of their mother's estate. Minority stockholders, who owned 490 shares, were heirs of Edith Conway Ringling and her son, Robert Edward Ringling.

The Circuit Court last Thursday approved sale of the minority stock and Judge Lynn Silvertooth said the court acted for beneficiaries of the trusts.

CIRCUS HISTORY

Rumors of the sale circulated for some time and, a year ago John Ringling North put the price of his shares at $5.1 million. Minority stockholders said their shares were worth $4.9 million.

The Ringling brothers—Al, Alf T., Otto, Charles and John—started as entertainers in 1882 and went out under canvas as a circus May 19, 1884, giving their first performance in their home town of Baraboo, Wis.

They bought the Barnum and Bailey circus in 1907 for $410,000 and combined the two big circuses after the 1918 season. The circus moved winter quarters to Sarasota in 1927 and the big top went down for the lsst time in Pittsburgh, July 16, 1956. Since then, the circus has been playing indoors.

Winter quarters were established here in 1959, and Mayor Smyth Bohard said the circus has a long-term lease with this city, 18 miles south of Sarasota.

Purses Snatched in 3 Muggings

DETROIT (AP) — Police said three Detroit women had their purses snatched by hoodlums at widely scattered locations in Detroit. Mrs. Beatrice Norton, 66, suffered a shoulder and hip injury when she was knocked down by two youths who took her purse containing $2.

Mrs. Antoinette Kuffn, 81, was treated at a hospital for a hip injury after three youths attacked her Sunday afternoon escaping with $44. A lone youth knocked down Mrs. Bertha Hodges, 76, on Woodward Avenue, the city's main street, and fled with $12. Mrs. Hodges refused medical aid.

A doctor has found he can stop hiccups by jiggling a catheter in the patient's pharynx.

DOCTOR FIGHTS FOR LIFE—Dr. Christopher Bryan-Brown feels for some spark of life in diver Raymond Boardman, 29, of Irvington, N. J., in the decompression chamber at New York's Mount Sinai Hospital yesterday. Boardman was suffering from the bends after diving 160 feet in the waters south of Asbury Park, N. J. He died in the hospital after a dramatic flight in a Coast Guard helicopter from New Jersey to a field in Central Park near the hospital.

Dramatic Rescue Try Fails; Bends Are Fatal to Diver

NEW YORK (AP) — A Coast Guard helicopter rushed a scuba diver from the Atlantic Ocean off New Jersey to a New York hospital with a decompression chamber Sunday, but the diver died of the bends.

The victim, Raymond B. Boardman, 29, of Irvington, N.J., was among a party of 25 scuba divers who chartered a fishing vessel, the Sea Ranger, to explore sunken wrecks about 10 miles off the coast of Belmar, N.J.

Boardman failed to surface after he and another diver found that a 160-foot line to the bottom, their guide, was not near a wreck. He was wearing a wet suit and aqualung.

Other divers found Boardman on the bottom. When they got him back into the Ranger, artificial respiration was started and the Coast Guard notified.

RESCUE HELICOPTER

The helicopter sped to the scene from Floyd Bennett Field, more than 30 miles away, picked up Boardman and rushed him at speeds up to 115 miles an hour to a small Central Park meadow, across from Mount Sinai Hospital where doctors had been alterted.

Boardman was taken to the decompression chamber but doctors decided in about 15 minutes that the rescue attempt had been futile.

He was pronounced dead of the bends—a boiling of nitrogen gas bubbles in the blood caused by a too-rapid ascent from the pressures encountered in deep dives—an hour and 45 minutes after the distress call went out.

Brezhnev Claim Denied by Mao

TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung's forces today denied a charge by Soviet Party Chairman Leonid I. Brezhnev that Communist China has hindered the Vietnamese Communists in their war with the United States.

12th National Vote

Filipinos at Polls Tomorrow

MANILA (AP) — Amid the usual atmosphere of violence, millions of voters prepared to go to the polls Tuesday for the Philippines' 12th national elections.

Chief interest centered on the election of eight of the 24 members of the national senate. Observers felt that anything less than a 6-2 victory for President Ferdinand E. Marcos' Nacionalista party would be a personal setback for the 50-year-old president and his plans to seek reelection in 1969.

Marcos told half a million people at a final rally in Manila Sunday night that if the opposition Liberals get the upper hand in the senate, they will "effectively obstruct the administration's program in preparation for the 1969 elections."

VIGOROUS PRESIDENT

Marcos, considered the most vigorous president since Ramon Magsaysay was killed in 1957, has an ambitious "rice and roads" economic program which a hostile congress could bottle up. His pro-Western foreign policy, including the stationing of 2,000 troops in Vietnam was not an issue in the campaign.

The national constabulary counted 47 killings during the campaigning this year, compared with 33 during the 1965 political season. Unofficial estimates ran beyond a hundred.

Some 25,000 troops, including the constabulary's 17,000, were ordered on the alert over the weekend. Nineteen of the country's 65 provinces were designated critical areas.

Also at stake are 65 governorships, 1,428 mayorships and more than 10,000 municipal councilor's posts.

House, Senate Still Weighing Welfare Bills

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Members of the House and Senate, anxious to go home but increasingly fearful they may well be here until Christmas, this week considered major social welfare programs.

Leaders have given up all hope of adjourning by Thanksgiving. Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield talks hopefully of mid-December, but most members think Christmas is more likely.

Still unresolved were bills authorizing and appropriating funds for another year's war on poverty, increasing Social Security benefits and revising welfare assistance, providing funds for federal aid to elementary and secondary schools, and supplying money for foreign economic and military aid.

The Senate this week hoped to approve a three-year, $15 billion extension of an aid-to-education program that concentrates on improving the quality of schools serving the poor.

It also planned to get out of the way another House-passed measure, a $2.3-billion military construction appropriation.

SOCIAL SECURITY

In between, the Senate intended to debate, but not act on, a House-passed Social Security bill to boost old-age benefits and bring about sweeping changes in assistance to the needy.

The Senate Finance Committee approved a three-step, 15 per cent hike in benefits; the House a 12.5 per cent boost. Both pieces of legislati on would require that more money be withheld from employe's paychecks.

President Johnson's antipoverty authorization was monopolizing the House' attention. He asked for $26.06 billion for the fiscal year that started last July 1 and that is exactly what the House Education and Labor Committee voted him.

Complete Your Collection Of 'Living History' Books

The fourth of our unique books of living history, THE WORLD IN 1967, is being rushed to completion for the benefit of all general readers, students, teachers, parents, amateur or professional historians, and collectors of the memorablia of this amazing age.

Starting with THE WORLD IN 1967 (now almost out of print), the WORLD books constitute a remarkable series. As might be expected of a product of The Associated Press, world's largest news gathering organization (of which this newspaper is a member), the new volume will be a superior one.

Always a big, colorful book, it is thicker this year than ever and contains half again as many color plates as last year and about twice as many as in 1964. Unlike those in ordinary annuals, the articles are arranged chronogically, and written dramatically in "you were there" fashion.

If you have already started a collection of these books you will want the 1967 issue. If not, you surely ought to consider starting one now, perhaps even ordering the back issues still available.

Although publication day comes early in February to insure inclusion of all important 1967 events, you should reserve your copy by ordering now. The coupon at right is for your convenience. The Cost Is Only $3.50.

Coed May Have Eaten Drug Cookie During Seminar

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A University of California official has discounted reports that a female student ate cookies containing LSD at a sociology class seminar, although he said the substance might have been marijuana or a lesser psychedelic dug.

The dean of students office on the Berkeley campus confirmed Sunday that it is investigating the report.

The girl was treated at Cowell Memorial Hospital on campus Nov. 2 and released the next day.

The spokesman said a report the girl had been hospitalized for several days after eating the cookies was unfounded.

The incident took place at the home of an unidentified class member off campus and the source of the cookies was unknown. A teaching assistant was in charge of the seminar.

The Berkeley police department and campus police said they had no report of the matter and were not investigating.

How To Hold FALSE TEETH More Firmly in Place
Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping, or wobbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Then sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. FASTEETH holds dentures firmer and more comfortably. Makes eating easier. It's alkaline—doesn't sour. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feel. Helps check plate odor. Dentures that fit are essential to health. See your dentist regularly. Get FASTEETH at all drug counters.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Actor William Gargan, who suffered cancer of the larynx and lost his voice, received the annual Screen Actors Guild award yesterday in Hollywood for "outstanding achievement in fostering the finest ideals of the acting profession."

Charlton Heston, SGA president, said Gargan taught himself to speak again after losing his voicebox, and subsequently devoted himself to aiding other victims of cancer of the larynx.

In presenting the award, Heston said of Gargan: "Today his favorite joke is, 'Have you ever heard the one about the actor who had his throat cut, lost his voice and found a whole new life'?"

1st Woman Preacher at St. Paul's Cathedral

Janet Lacey, 64, became the first woman to preach a Sabbath service at London's historic St. Paul's Cathedral.

Miss Lacey is director of Christian Aid, a charitable organization. She spoke yesterday on interdemominational cooperation to overcome famine in Asia and Africa.

She had been invited to St. Paul's by Canon John Collins.

President Gets In Some Golf

JOHNSON

On a sunny, balmy afternoon, Johnson was part of a foursome which included his prospective son-in-law, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb; Rep. J. J. "Jake" Pickle, D-Tex.; and George Tinsley, pro at the Golden Horseshoe Golf Club.

Tinsley, without giving any scores, said the President did not play the full 18 holes but hit the ball surprisingly well and seemed in good spirits.

Author-Sentencing Soviet Judge Honored

Judge Lev N. Smirnov, who in 1966 sentenced authors Andrei D. Sinyavsky and Yuli M. Daniel to long terms in a prison camp, has been awarded the Order of Lenin, a top Soviet honor.

Smirnov was cited for "services in strengthening Socialist legality." His award was listed by Pravda yesterday among 40 attorneys, prosecutors and judges receiving honors.

3 Koreans Indicted in Airline Graft Case

SEOUL (AP) — The prosecution indicted the former president of the state-run Korea Air Lines (KAL) and two other persons today on charges of graft and violating the Foreign Exchange Control Act.

Shin Yoo-hyup, 45, who was recently dismissed as head of the airline now under fire for mismanagement, was arrested last Thursday when he returned from a trip abroad.

The other two, also under arrest, are Kim Kye-jin, business manager of KAL, and Song Suk-woo, president of the Kukdong (Far East) Airways Corporation in Seoul.

The trio were charged with embezzling $63,700 which should have gone into the national treasury as a commission for leasing a Lockheed Constellation for KAL last year.

President's Man Is Loser in Peru

LIMA, Peru (AP) — A coalition of leftists and rightists scored a victory over President Fernando Belaunde Terry Sunday when their candidate edged his to take a vacant seat in the chamber of deputies in heavy voting.

Belaunde's cabinet began breaking up when Carlos Cueto Fernandini, former education minister, lost out to Enrique Chirinos Sota, a lawyer and newspaperman backed by the leftist Aprista party and the rightist National Odrista Union.

BY OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

Oswald: "Here is a misplayed defense I watched recently. West opened the nine of diamonds. South played the four from dummy.

JACOBY

East thought a while and played his six, whereupon South won the trick, proceeded to draw trumps, stopping in dummy, and led the jack of clubs. East ducked and South wound up making two overtricks."

Jim: "East really went to town as a trick thrower. He could have gone up with the ace of diamonds and returned his deuce as a suit preference signal. West could have ruffed and led back a club, whereupon a second diamond ruff would have set the hand."

Oswald: "The point of the misplay was that East thought that he had been unlucky. He said that it was more likely for West to have led a doubleton than a singleton and, in any case, he had to guess and had just guessed wrong."

Jim: "I agree that East guessed wrong. He couldn't tell if the lead was a singleton or a doubleton, but he had no reason at all to play low. He just wasn't going to beat the hand unless his partner had opened a singleton."

Oswald: "That's right. The defense was misplayed because East had nothing to lose and everything to gain by rising with the ace of diamonds and returning the suit. South had bid confidently to game and North had shown up with a very sound single raise. It was possible for West to hold the ace of trumps. Posible, but most improbable."

Jim: "Furthermore, if West had held the ace of trumps and had opened a doubleton, it could only cost East if South were void of clubs. West could take his ace of trumps and put East in with a club."

Oswald: "It was most unlikely that South would be void of clubs. In that case, West would be holding a suit headed by king-queen-ten and would open it in preference to a doubleton lead."

Jim: "In other words, East just made a very bad play."

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Tuesday

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Challenge exists where career opportunities are concerned. You will have to be aware of details, facts. Some give to test your knowledge. Key is to be frank, honest.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): Impetus to travel and make changes is emphasized. Key is your ability to discern between fantasy and reality. Look for changes which could spell definite benefits.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Surprise connected with money is indicated. Nothing happens halfway today. Appears to be all the way or nothing. Mate, partner is pugnacious where finances enter picture. Be calm.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Activity stressed due to circumstances. You may want to lie back and wait. But this respite is unlikely to materialize. Means this is day when you face issues.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): Key is diplomatic approach. Don't force or push. You get what you need through diplomatic approach. One who has performed services may leave the scene. You must take up slack.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Accent today on hidden assets. You gain if you take long-range view. What you have may be worth more than is apparent. Know this. Permit confidence to grow. Message clear tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): Try something new. Emphasize daring, originality. Be creative. You get nowhere if you adhere to methods which makes you lose. New contact proves beneficial. Act accordingly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): You may be drawn in two directions. Heed inner voice. Follow through on hunch. Give full display to intuitive intellect. You get what you want if you cooperate with associates.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): You may be tempted to try to impress by extravagance. This leads in circle, confuses you. Self-discipline is necessary for results. Take time to think.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Be careful. Applies especially around automobiles, in traffic. Get household effects in order. Accident around familiar places occur if careless. Be thorough. Check details.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): You get action in areas previously quiet. Key is to be alert. Pounce on opportunity. Steer clear of disputes with relatives. Get proof before making statements. Revere facts, not rumors.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): If you mix money and friendship, there is apt to be trouble. Fulfill reasonable requests. But don't go out on proverbial limb. Some may be asking too much. Utilize mature judgment.

Boy, Rescuers Saved in Shaft

ISSAQUAH, Wash. (AP) — Gas almost killed a 14-year-old Issaquah boy and five others who tried to rescue him from an old coal mine shaft Sunday.

Virgil Nickel and his 14-year-old son, Virgil Jr., who live across the street, climbed in to help young O'Neal.

Police Patrolman Frank Perker, police Sgt. O. Raymond Febus and an unidentified fireman were next. All were overcome by a deadly gas often found in coal mines.

Other firemen finally rescued all six.

"I guess I'm pretty lucky," said the O'Neal boy.

Flier Decorated

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)— Maj. Paul F. Koeltzow of Millington, Mich., was among the 11 fliers who were decorated Saturday by President Johnson for gallantry in action over Vietnam.

Journalism Society Slams LBJ Administration

CHICAGO (AP) — Sigma Delta Chi, the 18,000-member professional journalism society, has criticized the Johnson administration for "deliberately misleading the public, press and the Congress through flat lies, through half-truths and through clever use of statistics that distort."

The attack came in a report Sunday by the society's national Freedom of Information Committee which accused some of the highest officials in the administration of "inaccurate and misleading statements that contradicted most of the fine words" President Johnson has spoken on freedom of information.

The report leveled some of its sharpest thrust at the State Department, Department of defense, National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and the President's news conferences.

The report, released in advance of the society's convention Wednesday in Minneapolis, Minn., said the President's news conferences are staged in a way to make it "unlikely that he will face...consistent hard questioning. He has it well-organized for a White House snow job."

STATE DEPT. HIT

The report accused the State Department of "misusing a claim of national security for purposes of hiding or obscuring the record."

The committee, which included Washington correspondents, questioned the State Department decision in conducting a "secret hearing" in the case of Otto F. Otepka, former chief security evaluator. He was accused of improperly leaking information to congressional committees.

The report said: "The Defense Department continues to be the Washington reporter's biggest single challenge." But the report praised the department for abolishing a 1962 rule requiring Pentagon officials to report all contacts with the press.

The report quoted an unidentified Washington correspondent's comments about the Defense Department: "Not only is 'national security' interpreted in the broadest and most ingenious ways to block information, but information is withheld for national interest, personal interest, policy reasons and privilege for such evanescent and intangible reasons as 'LBJ won't like it.'"

The Pentagon continues, the report said, to "pour out inaccurate information on everything from the controversial TFX (plane) matter to the question whether there was joint chiefs disagreement over the conduct of the Vietnam war."

NASA was described in the report as "infamous for holding back a report which warned of shoddy work by private contractors building the Apollo space capsule, the one that killed three astronauts in a launching pad fire." It has changed little under pressure from the Freedom of Information Act, the report said."

ENJOYING TRIP — Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato and his wife enjoy a joke at a reception prior to a formal banquet in Seattle yesterday.

Japan's Prime Minister Talks of Role in Vietnam

SEATTLE (AP) — Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato declared Sunday that he believes Japan should play some sort of a role" in Vietnam.

He did not spell out his meaning, but he termed the Vietnam war "an Asian problem," then added that it also is a world problem.

Without clearly explaining, the 66-year-old prime minister told newsmen here that "if I were to excessively commit my country to a military burden, then I should be subject to criticism."

The Japanese constitution, drawn up after World War II, prevents Japan from having any armed forces, save those for defense.

'HYPOTHETICAL'

A Japanese official with Sato explained that the comment on a military burden was a "purely hypothetical" statement and was not intended to be any sort of policy declaration. The official said there was "at present" no desire to change the defense provision in the constitution.

Sato plans to discuss both Vietnam and the return of Okinawa to Japanese control with president Johnson Tuesday and Wednesday in Washington, D.C.

In a news conference at Seattle-Tacoma International Airport, Sato said all of the 11 Asian nations he visited in September and October "wished that some kind of solution could be reached to bring an end" to the Vietnam war.

His departure from Tokyo on a chartered jetliner was delayed for about 40 minutes when some 800 leftist students engaged police in a club-swinging, rock-throwing fracas. There were 215 policemen, 31 students and 8 bystanders injured and police arrested 333 in the demonstrations protesting Sato's visit to the U.S. and the fate of Okinawa.

Censorable Movies Use 'Back Door'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

WOLLYWOOD — Ever hear of such film companies as Premiere, Claridge, Royal, Lopert, International Classics and Regional Film Distributors? Probably not. Yet such firms have released many important movies.

THOMAS

These companies are subsidiaries of the major film corporations, and their purpose is to release movies that are considered too "special" for general districulion. In many cases that means too censorable.

Some industry observers fear that subsidiaries will be used to make a mockery of the self-censorship code. The National Catholic Office for Motion Pictures has decried having such companies relaease films that cannot qualify for a code seal. But the practice seems well accepted in the industry.

The most notable case was Michaelangelo Antonioni's "Blowup."MGM had sponsored the film, then discovered it could not get a code seal, largely because of a nude romp of David Hemmings and two teen-agers. So MGM activated a subsidiary called Premiere Films to release the film.

NOT WARRANTED

"We did so because we thought the code office was wrong in this case," explained Clark Ramsey, new studio boss at MGM. "Out contract with Antonioni gave us the right to make certain cuts as ordered by the code; but we didn't feel it were warranted."

Ramsey added that there are no plans to use Premiere for future films. The realease didn't hurt "Blowup," which has been a spectacular success at the box office.)

United Artists has for several years used its Lopert subsidiary for films like "Never on Sunday" and "Tom Jones," which might have encountered censorship problems—both films are now considered so mild that they can be shown on television.

"The primary purpose of Lopert," explains Herb Jaffe, West Coast vice president of United Artists, "is to distribute foreign-language features and other films that so not appear to be mass entertainment. They require special handling on the art-house circuit, though some turn out to be popular with a wide audience and then are taken over by United Artists.

NOT ITS DESIGN

"Lopert isn't designed for films that can't get a seal. But is we had one, it would be released through Lopert."

Columbia has its Royal subsidiary which released "And God Created Woman," the Brigitte Berdot film that aroused a censorial stir a few years ago. Recent Royal releases: "Made in Italy," "LaVie de Italy."

Twentieth Century - Fox has International Film Classics, which brought out "Zerba the Creek," "LaFuga" and the current "The Day the Fish Came Out." Warner Bros.-Seven Arts now has Claridge which sponsored "The Birds, the Bees and the Italians" in this country.

The new Universal subsidiary, Regional Film Distributors, is offering Conrad Rooks' offbeat "Chappaqua" as its first release. The only major company with no releasing subsidiary is Paramount.

MORALS POLICER

The Motion Picture Association, policer of mobie morals, has taken no stand on the subsidiaries. "They are not members of the association, so we have no control," says a spokesman.

But of course the parent companies comprise the association and they are not likely to act against themselves. That's why the subsidiaries will continue to be a back door to the nation's theaters for films that may not qualify for the usual entrance.

Air Pollution Threatens Sweden

BY SCIENCE SERVICE

STOCKHOLM — Chemicals sent into the air by the industry of western Europe are raining down on southern and western Sweden, killing fish in some lakes and stunting growth of the forests, says a report by Prof. Sven Brohult.

If the situation in not improved the economic effects on the important Swedish timber industry could become serious.

Sweden is especially prone to the threat of sulfur dioxide from factory smokestacks because the moraine soils typical of the country have poor resistance to acidity, which has been increasing steadily during this decade.

But Sweden cannot control its own destiny in this matter. The quality of Swedish rain is only partially determined in Sweden, and therefore Prof. Brohult argues that she must take the initiative to establish international control regulations.

SOME SWEDISH BLAME

The Swedes, however, cannot blame it all on other countries. Heavy oils in use by Swedish power stations and in apartment heating plants have an average sulphur content of 2.5 per cent, and so far there are no government plans to trim this.

Brohult's report, though, could stimulate government action. It is pointed out that Japan is expected to introduce a limit of 1.7 per cent sulphur in 1969 and 1.0 to 1.5 per cent in 1972, while in the United States, New Jersey is planning a 1.0 per cent upper limit in old power stations and 0.3 per cent in new ones.

Joan of Arc Is Labeled as a Hippie of Her Day

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joan of Arc was a hippy of her day, according to one who knows her story well.

The teen-aged Maid of Orleans, who became a king-maker in medieval France, "was an annoyance to her Church, the State and the world and, like all reformers, became a terrible nuisance," says Maurice Evans, distinguished theatrical producer-director.

Spanning the years, Evans knows Joan intimately through the interpretations of George Bernard Shaw who kept her legend alive in his classic theatrical presentation, "St. Joan."

Evans' association has been considerably more than academic. This was the play in which he first won stardom 31 years ago and which currently is in rehearsal for showing on the Hallmark Hall of Fame, Dec. 4 on NBC-TV.

"I have been fascinated by Shaw's plays and his characterizations ever since," he says.

JOAN ROCKS EUROPE

In his first appearance in "St. Joan" in 1936, Evans played the dauphin, eldest son of the King of France, in the Katharine Cornell production. In the television presentation he portrays Pierre Cauchon, the Bishop of Beauvais, who condemned Joan for heresy. She was burned at the stake in 1431. At the time Joan was only 19 but in three violent years she had rocked Europe, which was embroiled in the Hundred Years' War.

When Joan, daughter of a peasant farmer, was 16 she claimed she heard the voices of St. Catherine, St. Margret and St. Michael exhorting her to bear aid to the dauphin to gain the throne denied him by the English.

She finally convinced the dauphin of her divine mission and after an examination by the theologians at Poitiers she was given command of troops. In 1429 she succeeded in raising the siege of Orleans, took other posts along the Loire River and defeated the English at Patay.

Joan convinced the dauphin to be crowned at Rhiems and defy the Treaty of Troyes and Joan stood beside him at the coronation as the dauphin became Charles VII.

CAPTURED, LATER TRIED

Following an unsuccessful siege of Paris she was captured by the Burgundians, who sold her to the English who turned her over to the Inquisitional Court at Rouen where she was condemned.

She was beatified in 1909 and cannonized St. Joan in 1920.

"It takes a young girl to forcefully play Joan because she was a child of tremendous dedication in the beginning," says Evans.

"This presentation of St. Joan excites me because we have a great cast; Genevieve Bujold, a young French-Canadian actress as Joan, Raymond Massey, who played with me at Old Vic in London in the early thirties before I came to the U.S., Roddy McDowall, who plays the dauphin, my original role, Theodore Bikel, James Daly, Leo Genn, George Rose and James Donald.

"It is one of my favorite Shaw plays.

"Joan's simplicity may have been part of her undoing but she was a hippy of her day and became an annoyance to her Church, the State and the world. Like all reformers she became a terrible nuisance."

Robber Decides That Money Isn't Everything

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A Denver woman told police she was robbed at knifepoint while taking her dog for a walk Saturday night.

Mrs. Sally Gilbert said she gave the man $17.50 from her purse, and he struck her on the side of the head before fleeing.

The dog—a wirehaired fox terrier—didn't provide much protection.

Mrs. Gilbert said the robber stole him, too.

Strength in Steel

Market Rally Is Continuing

NEW YORK (AP) — Strength in steels highlighted a continued stock market rally early this afternoon.

CONTINUATION

Analysts saw the rise as mainly a continuation of the technical rebound of last week which came after a steady, six-week slide.

The steel rose in response to reports that demand for steel seem ready to rise sharply.

The major steel makers made gains of a point or better in early dealings but pared these later.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon rose 1.8 to 312.0 with industrials up 3.1, rails up .7 and utilities up .5.

Prices were mixed with the average higher on the American Stock Exchange. Trading was active. Dynalactron was heavily traded and down about 2½. California Computer Products also sank about 2½ while Automatic Radio dropped 3 and Asamera Oil a point or so. Gains exceeding a point were made by Technical Measurement, Vernitron, Astrodata, Simmonds Precision and APL Corp.

Rocky Urged to Make a Bid

Nixon Lists Possible GOP '68 Candidates

By The Associated Press

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has been prodded to seek the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller's name was also on the mind of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who listed the New Yorker—and himself—with three others as GOP nomination.

The political name-dropping occurred as a nationwide poll said that for the first time since November 1957 Republicans lead Democrats as the party most citizens believe can best handle the nation's prime problems.

VIET ISSUE

In an interview, Lindsay said Vietnam will figure heavily in the campaign and the Republican candidate "ought to offer an alternative to our present course of action."

He said his own present popularity in national polls has not caused him to harbor any ambition or hope of winning the nomination for himself. He listed Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois as another possible GOP candidate, praising him as a Republican progressive "in the best tradition of the party."

Nixon's list of potential candidates, offered in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News and World Report, included Michigan Gov. George Romney, Illinois Sen. Charles H. Percy and California Gov. Ronald Reagan as well as Rockefeller and himself.

"It will be one of these five," he said.

The 1960 GOP presidential nominee was also definite about his own plans: "If I become a candidate, I have definitely decided to enter primaries in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Indiana, Nebraska, Oregon and South Dakota."

The latest Gallup Poll, said the 1,565 adults queried across the country listed the Vietnam war, racial strife and the high cost of living as the nation's most important problems.

The Atlanta Journal quoted James H. Gray, Georgia Democratic chairman, as saying "there is quite a move by party chairmen" in the South to offer the vice presidency to former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace on the condition he "stay inside the party."

$300 Robbed at Gas Station

Self-Contracts to Save

Christmas Club Grows

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — Bright red and green checks are going through the mails these first two weeks of November to 15.4 million Christmas Club members who saved $1,987,984,000 in the preceding 50 weeks.

These figures, of a size usually associated with the federal debt, come from the files of that oddly named, 57-year-old organization called Christmas Club a Corporation.

CUNNIFF

The history of its unusual name may be somewhat dim but as a spokesman says, "If it's worth asking questions about, it's worth saving in its present form."

Founded in 1910, CCaC is now a profitable Madison Avenue operation dedicated to the proposition that people can accumulate money for Christmas shopping by making a contract with themselves to save a bit each week.

PRINTER, PROMOTER

CCaC's primary service is to provide banks and other savings institutions with promotional literature, envelopes, blank checks and other printed products. It handles no deposits; it is a printer and the promoter of an idea.

To acquire the business of thousands of banks, the club has a full-time, year-round sales force spieling forth the benefits of Christmas Clubs to banks. And what do they sell? Exposure.

CCaC tells banks, and can back up its arguments with a storm of statistics, that every CCaC membership brings a customer through its doors an average of 35 times a year. On each trip the member becomes a potential customer for a savings or checking account, a loan or some other service.

No wonder banks are willing to take a loss on such accounts. A loss? Why everyone knows that few Christmas Clubs pay any interest. True, but banks incur so many expenses in handling small transactions that expenses exceed income.

What is it, then, that Christmas Club a Corporation offers? "A little bit of ability," the spokesman says. "We supply the best materials, checks, advertising. We prepare and sell these at a price the bank couldn't match."

This can be disputed by CCaC's few competitors, and by some banks which print their own club materials, but the fact is that CCaC continues to grow and, according to its stockholders, prosper as well.

Day Is Coming for Cubs' Event

Adult leaders in the Cub Scout program of the Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America may attend Pow-Wow '67 Saturday, not last Saturday as previously announced.

The Pow-Wow will be at Kennedy Junior High School 1700 Baldwin, from 1 to 8 p.m.

The annual Pow-Wow is a place for exchange of ideas and information to better cub pack and den activities, not just another training session, according to a scout spokesman.

A Blue and Gold Banquet will be held at 6 p.m. and an ususal "midway" will allow units to display exhibits showing their favorite activities.

Registration will be $2.50 per person. Contact the Council center at 132 Franklin Blvd. for additional information.

Woman Hurt in Novi Crash

A 23-year-old woman is reported in satisfactory condition at Botsford General Hospital after being pried out of her car which hit a truck Saturday afternoon at Grand River and Novi Road, Novi.

Mrs. David Madden of Plymouth was allegedly traveling in a service lane at 12:05 p.m. when she hit a truck parked in the lane, reported Novi Police.

The truck driver, Leonard Briske Sr., 38, of Mattawan, was issued a ticket for improper parking, said police.

City Amvets' Head Warns About Sale

Norman Schram, commander of the Bemis-Olson Amvets Post in Pontiac, warned today that a sales drive is under way in the city which is using the Amvets name without authorization.

He said the drive is a door-to-door solicitation for sales of bottles of vanilla.

Schram warned residents that the local post has nothing to do with the drive. He said the only solicitations made by the national Amvet organization is the White Clover Drive for various servicemen's projects.

Wild Goose Chase Turns Out Just Ducky

Waterford Township police Sgt. David Phelps and Patrolman Harley Hopp went on a mission this morning that turned out to be anything but another routine "wild goose chase."

This time they got the goose.

Phelps and Hopp were on patrol at M59 near Crescent Lake when they spotted a lame Canadian goose walking down the center line of the highway, causing somewhat of a traffic problem.

They chased the lame bird across the Waterford Township High School front lawn, then back across M59 before Hopp apprehended the culprit with "a flying goose tackle," they said.

The scrappy fowl proved to be a seasoned battler, and Hopp suffered a cut finger while taking the bird into custody.

NATURE CENTER

The officers tagged the bird with the new name, "Barely Jumping." They plan to turn the goose over to the Drayton Plains Nature Center.

Court Ruling on Romney Before '68 Confab Urged

Celler, dean of the House, noted Sunday that the Constitution requires the President to be a "natural born citizen" of the U.S. and he called for clarification of Romney's qualifications because he was born in Chihuahua, Mexico, of American parents.

Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, wrote in an article in the current New York Law Journal that it is not clear whether the framers of the Constitution "meant to include as eligible the foreign - born children of United States citizens."

Celler wrote: "A challenge to a presidential candidate made after his party's nominating convention or after the Electoral College has convened could intimidate even the most upright and courageous members of the judiciary: they would doubtless feel justified in retreating before the will of the people."

BRITISH LAWS

Celler said that if the framers of the Constitution were conditioned in their thinking by British nationality laws, it would seem that they meant to include as eligible the foreign - born children of United States parents. However, constitutional records "do not in any way disclose the intent of the founding fathers," Celler wrote.

11-Fumble 'Team Effort' Mars Visit to Minnesota

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — The dictionary's definition of fumble is: To handle CLUMSILY.

Thus conclusively, after the Detroit Lions' 10-10 tie yesterday with the Minnesota Vikings, it would be that the Lions played the clumsiest game in history of the National Football League.

OFFICIALLY, they fumbled 11 times, a new NFL record.

ACTUALLY, they fumbled 13 times.

FORTUNATELY, two were nullified by penalties.

DEFENSIVELY, the Lions played a superb game.

OFFENSIVELY the backs and those on special teams, took turns being heroes one minute and goats the next.

STATISTICALLY, it was unbelievable that the Lions were lucky to salvage a tie even though they dominated every category of running, passing and return yardage.

It was difficult to understand why the Lions fumbled so often. The temperature was a cold 34 degrees, but it was the same temperature on both sides of the field, and yet the Vikings only fumbled once.

The old record set in 1943 was 10 fumbles by the combined Pittsburgh-Philadelphia team against the New York Giants.

ONE NULLIFIED

The Lions actually fumbled 10 times in the first half, but one was nullified, so officially they were charged with nine.

Even after 10 official fumbles, it appeared that the Lions could overcome all of their mistakes and pull out the victory in the final 50 seconds, but Tom Nowatzke became the goat of the day when he committed the 11th fumble just 20 yards from field goal certainty.

It was almost a repeat of the previous week when Minnesota faced with a sure defeat by way of a field goal recovered a fumble by the Giants' Mel Triplett with 40 seconds left to play.

Quarterback Karl Sweetan, himself guilty of two fumbles and a grounding penalty which cost the Lions a short field goal try and subsequently an eventual Minnesota touchdown, noted he called for the Nowatzke running play in the huddle saying, "I called for a 4-3 right and told Tom to hold the ball with both hands and stay right in the middle whether he gained a yard or not.

"I guess it startled everyone to see the ball squirting out. But, we were all guilty of bad mistakes and I feel terrible about that grounding penalty."

ONE YARD SHORT

The fumbles and the uninspired tie took some of the glamour off of the running of Mel Farr, who fell one yard short of Lions' all-time rushing record in one game, set by Bobby Hoernshmeyer.

Farr picked up 197 yards in 24 carries, but he also joined the flock with Nowatzke, Sweetan, Tom Watkins, Bobby Felts, Wayne Rasmussen and Wayne Walker by fumbling three times and dropping a pass in the 4th period on the Minnesota 35 with not a Viking within 20 yards of him.

Going from their own seven early in the game, as a result of a fumbled punt which put them in a hole, the Lions marched to the Viking 28 from where Sweetan hit John Henderson with a pass to the 14.

Henderson fumbled and Jim Gibbons recovered; however, the play and the fumble were nullified and the Lions were back on the Vikings' 46 for holding. The big play in getting to the 28 was a 57 yard run by Farr.

A couple minutes later, Sweetan passed beautifully from his own 13 just over Nowatzke but within reach at the 50 where the ball was dropped and the Lions had to put out as the quarter ended.

ANOTHER MARCH

On the ensuing kickoff, the Lions started to march again. Henderson dropped a pass at the 35 on second down, but on third down from the 50, Sweetan ran wide and fumbled, but the ball went out of bounds for a first down on the 44.

Farr went 19 yards to the 25 and two plays later Farr fumbled on the six and the threat ended. The Vikings were stopped and had to punt, but got the

Palmer First, Joins Nicklaus in Team Win

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the easy-going golf master from Latrobe, Pa., was off to new conquests today after capturing his first World Cup individual prize in six tries as co-winner of the American team.

Jack Nicklaus came in second as individual winner plus co-holder of the team trophy by the United States for the sixth time.

"I came here to help win the team championship," added Nicklaus. "If I couldn't win the individual prize I'm glad Arnold did."

The two U. S. stars, who outstripped a field of 80 golfers from 40 nations, territories and regions, fired a combined 567 for the two rounds, 13 strokes below their nearest competitors, southpaw Bob Charles and Walker Godfrey of New Zealand.

Palmer, who nursed an eye scratched by sand from a trap shot for the last two days, fired a five-under par 67 in the final round for a total of 276.

Nicklaus and Charles tied for second place, five strokes behind Palmer.

Individual and national prestige was the real stake in the World Cup, formerly called the Canada Cup.

SMALL PURSE

Palmer got only $1,000 for the best individual score and shared $2,000 with Nicklaus for the team victory. Nicklaus and Charles split $500 for second place while Tony Cerda of Argentina won $400 for his 284 and third place, and Ted Ma-

AL's Move Spurs Expansion Action by National Loop

CHICAGO (AP) — The National League, fearful of being shut out in the rich Northwest territory, will hold a special expansion meeting today.

President Warren Giles of the National League called the meeting shortly after the American League shifted the Kansas City A's to Oakland beginning next season and voted to expand to 12 teams by 1969, if possible.

The American League awarded franchises to Seattle and to a new group in Kansas City.

Giles, in announcing the special meeting earlier this month, said representatives of cities seeking franchises will not be invited to attend.

"While the National League has applications from several cities for membership, this will not be an appropriate meeting to hear representatives of those cities and none will be invited to appear," said Giles.

The National League virtually was forced into having the meeting in view of American League action last month in order to prepare its case for expansion at the winter meetings in Mexico City Nov. 28-Dec. 2.

During the baseball confab in Mexico City, Commissioner William Eckert is expected to call a joint session involving expansion.

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) —Diana Connolly-Carew of Ireland won the Prix de Letrier on Barrymore Sunday in the last event of Geneva's international horse show.

Miss Connolly-Carew won in a jump-off with Italy's Vittorio Orlandi, riding Killane, with three points and a time of 40.4 seconds on the 14-obstacle course.

CHICAGO (AP) — Indiana Coach Johnny Pont's stock remark all season has been "We're still pinching ourselves."

One more pinch will assure the Hoosiers of a trip to the Rose Bowl, And, who knows, two more weeks of pinching will mean the Big Ten title and possibly the national championship.

The Hoosiers were pinching themselves today following a harrowing 14-13 victory over Michigan State which left Indiana tied for the Big Ten lead with Purdue and only one of two major undefeated and untied football teams in the nation.

With top-ranked Southern Cal and No. 3 North Carolina State falling last Saturday, sixth-ranked Indiana and seventh ranked Wyoming remained the only undefeated, untied major teams.

Purdue, No. 5, boosted its record to 7-1 by humiliating Minnesota 41-12 as Leroy Keyes scored three touchdowns to give him 14 for the season in the Big Ten and break the touchdown and scoring record of 13 set by the late Tony Butkovich of Purdue in the 1943 season.

Indiana takes its story book horde to Minnesota Saturday where a victory will assure the Hoosiers of their first trip to the Rose Bowl regardless of Big Ten results the following week.

Purdue cannot go under the no-repeat rule and now that Minnesota has one defeat on its Big Ten slate, an Indiana victory over Minnesota would assure the Hoosiers of no worse a finish than a Big Ten tie with Purdue. Under these circumstances Indiana would get the nod since it has never been to the Rose Bowl Minnesota has had its licks.

While Indiana and Purdue were taking control in the Big Ten Saturday, Northwestern Michigan and Ohio State picked up conference triumphs.

Bill Freehan Named 'Tiger of the Year'

DETROIT (AP) — When "Tiger of the Year" balloting came up a year ago, Bill Freehan didn't rate a whit.

But things change.

Now the burly Detroit catcher holds the honor for 1967 and he was the solid favorite.

Williams Posts 2 Touchdowns With Kickoffs

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — "Nonstop" Travis Williams has rushed to the rescue of the ailing Green Bay Packers and now the Cleveland Browns are suffering from a severe case of wounded pride.

Williams, the Packers' firstclass traveling man, made the Browns somewhat sorry they ever got off their bus Sunday as he returned kickoffs 87 and 85 yards for first-period touchdowns.

The Packers added three more touchdowns in the same period and went on to hand the Browns the worst defeat in their history, 55-7.

"I couldn't believe it was happening," said the 21-year-old rookie from Arizona State after triggering a record National Football League first-period scoring spree — 35 points.

Neither could the Browns, who played as if thunderstruck after Williams' first ramble on the opening kickoff. "I don't know what happened," said Coach Blanton Collier. "I saw him run against St. Louis two weeks ago. I knew what he could do. We all knew what he could do."

Williams helped beat the Cardinals in that game with a 83-yard kickoff return. He now has three touchdowns on only six returns and already shares the NFL season record. His two touchdowns Sunday also tied a single game record set last season by Timmy Brown of the Philadelphia Eagles.

No one before Williams ever scored twice on kickoffs in the same period.

FOURTH CHOICE

The rookie, a fourth-round draft choice with 9.3 speed in the 100-yard dash, has carried the ball only 11 times, including five carries from scrimmage. Yet, he has gained 389 yards, including 43 yards in four carries against the Browns Sunday.

Williams has a 9.8-yard rushing average from scrimmage, a 53.3-yard average on kickoffs, and a gaudy 35-yard average over-all.

"It's a question of speed," said Coach Vince Lombardi of the rookie prize he warned the football world about during training camp. "He hits the hole so darn quick."

Williams was not the only factor in Cleveland's undoing. Donny Anderson, the bonus baby making his first NFL regular season start, scored four touchdowns, and veteran Ben Wilson, obtained from Los Angeles before the season, gained 100 yards rushing.

AP Wirephoto

WRONG RECEIVER — Los Angeles Rams' Ed Meador (21) wasn't the intended receiver on this play, but he wound up with the ball and romped 25 yards for a touchdown in LA's 33-17 win over Philadelphia's Eagles. Philadelphia quarterback Norm Snead had Jim Kelly (84) left in mind when he fired the ball, but Rams' Irv Cross (27-left) deflected the ball and it settled into the hands of Meador.

Second Period Surge Thwarts Montreal Hopes

By FLETCHER SPEARS

DETROIT — The Detroit Red Wings are finding it takes three periods of maximum effort to win in the National Hockey League.

Skating surprisingly well throughout the final period, the Wings carried the play to the Montreal Canadians before 14,831 fans and came through with a 3-1 victory on Detroit Olympia ice last night.

With the win, the Wings moved into first place in the NHL's Eastern Division along with Toronto and New York.

In other NHL Sunday action, the Chicago Black Hawks knocked off the St. Louis Blues, 5-2, New York stopped the Oakland Seals, 5-3, and Philadelphia surprised Boston, 4-2.

Part of the Wings' woe to date in an 8-5-1 record has been their tendency to relax. That happened a week ago against Los Angeles when the Wings, with a seemingly easy 4-2 victory in sight, took it easy in the third period and the Kings caught fire and won it, 6-4. That game also brought about the downfall of goalie Roger Crozier, who quit the team the next day.

The Detroiters didn't ease up last night. The defense threw up a wall around rookie goalie Roy Edwards in that final frame and the Canadiens managed only six shots on goal and the Detroit netminder handled them with ease.

SHARP PERFORMANCE

Edwards made his debut Thursday in a 5-1 win over Pittsburgh, and he turned aside 37 Canadien shots in last night's triumph.

The clubs wrapped up the scoring in the first two periods. Detroit grabbed a 1-0 lead in the first frame and after the Canadiens tied it midway in the second, the Wings shoved a couple more shots past goalie Rogatien Vachon to cap the scoring.

The Wings' third goal was a nifty slap shot by center Norm Ullman and it was the 300th of his career, putting him in a category along with nine other NHL performers. Other Red Wings to reach the 300 milestone are Gordie Howe, Alex Delvecchio and the retired Ted Lindsay.

GAME DEADLOCKED

Detroit managed 33 shots on goal with 14 of them coming in the final period.

The Wings now start a seven-game road trip that will take them to California, Chicago, Philadelphia, Toronto, Boston and New York.

They meet Oakland Thursday and Los Angeles Friday and move into Chicago on Sunday. They'll be home Nov. 30 to meet Toronto.

CHICAGO ACE NETS 2

Bobby Hull collected his 13th and 14th goals to spark the Chicago victory, only the fourth of the season for the Black Hawks who are perched in the cellar of the Eastern Division.

Other goal getters for the Black Hawks were Ken Wharram, his 200th career goal, Doug Mohns and Dennis Hull, his first of the season.

Philadelphia thwarted Boston's bid to take the lead in the East as goalie Bernie Parent and defenseman Joe Watson, Boston castoffs in the expansion draft last spring, came back to haunt their ex-mates.

Watson scored his first goal of the season to put the Flyers ahead to stay in the first period, and Parent came up with 37 saves in blanking the Bruins until the final five minutes.

Oakland's Seals almost erased a 4-1 first period deficit against the Rangers but Reg Fleming's second goal of the game put New York out of reach.

The Seals, after opening the season with two victories, have now dropped 11 and tied three in a tailspin that started Oct. 18.

Browns Shaken by Green Bay

Five Fast Touchdowns Lead to 55-7 Win

Anderson and Wilson were filling in for Elijah Pitts and Jim Graboski, both out with leg injuries suffered in a 13-10 loss to Baltimore last week.

Bart Starr also played his best game of the season, completing 14 of 21 passes for 266 yards and two touchdowns — a 14-yarder to Marv Fleming and a 27-yarder to Anderson.

On Cleveland's first play from scrimmage after Williams' first runback, a Frank Ryan pass to Paul Warfield was intercepted by Bob Jeter and the pattern of the game was fixed as the Packers drove for a second touchdown. Another interception and a Ryan fumble helped produce two more first-period touchdowns.

"I'm not very proud of that," replied Lombardi after being told the defeat was the most one-sided in Cleveland history.

Gain on Idle Raiders

Chargers, Chiefs Roll

The Oakland Raiders have found out that idleness won't win them any American Football League titles, not with the San Diego Chargers and Kansas City Chiefs hard at work.

Playing the role of the idle rich Sunday only made the Raiders poorer as the Chargers and Chiefs each rolled to victory and narrowed the gap that separates them from leading Oakland in the Western Division.

The Chargers, 6-1-1, stumped Miami 24-0 and the Chiefs, 6-3, hammered Boston 33-10 while the Raiders relaxed with an open date and a 7-1 mark.

The New York Jets had to work hard to retain their one-game lead over Houston in the Eastern Division with a 20-10 victory over Buffalo while the Oilers struggled by lowly Denver 20-18 in the other AFL games.

San Diego, off last week, also suffered the effects of idleness against the Dolphins as the high-powered Chargers managed only a 7-0 lead into the fourth quarter before blowing open the game.

"Two weeks layoff was too much," said Charger Coach Sid Gillman. "I think we will be a better football team from here on out."

TIMING POOR

"We were sluggish and our timing was off," agreed quarterback John Hadl, who pitched for two touchdowns, but had four other passes intercepted. "We might have been looking ahead to Kansas City. I'm just glad we didn't play the Chiefs today."

The Chargers and Chiefs collide Sunday while Oakland, if it can avoid rustiness, hosts weak and Miami and can pick up ground on at least one challenger with a victory.

The Chiefs readied themselves for the San Diego clash after spotting Boston a 10-7 lead and then crushing the Patriots for their third straight romp in a final drive to rain the AFL title they won last year.

The Chiefs' Len Dawson pitched for two touchdowns and defensive back Emitt Thomas returned an intercepted pass 57 yards for another score and intercepted a second pass and recovered a fumble to set up a TD and a field goal.

"We're in good shape," Coach Hank Stram of Kansas City said. "We play both Oakland and San Diego again and they play each other once. We just have to keep winning."

Colts Clobber Falcons, 49-7, Behind Unitas

Completions Spree Bags 4 Touchdowns; Winners Unbeaten

ATLANTA (AP) — Johnny Unitas punctured Atlanta's leaky defenses with a barrage of long passes Sunday, hitting on 17 of 20 throws for 370 yards and four touchdowns, and led unbeaten Baltimore to a 49-7 National Football League victory.

The Colt quarterback hit Willie Richardson with scoring passes of 25 and five yards, tossed an 11-yard strike to John Mackey and threw a 64-yard touchdown toss to Tom Matte, who also scored on runs of nine and three yards.

Unitas left the game in the middle of the third quarter, completing his last 12 passes, only one shy of the NFL record. He had completions of 54, 46 and 57 yards in addition to the long scoring throw to Matte.

The triumph brought Baltimore's record to seven victories and two ties, with Atlanta now 1-7-1. The Colts' point total was their highest of the season.

FORMER FALCON

Former Falcon flanker Alex Hawkins, dropped by Atlanta earlier this fall, set up the first three Colt touchdowns. He caught a 16-yard pass just before Tony Lorrick's scoring plunge, forced a fumble on the following kickoff with a jarring tackle, and late in the first quarter caught a 54-yard pass which he legged to the Atlanta 11.

The Falcons, who never forced Baltimore to punt until the last quarter, avoided a shutout in the third period when halfback Tom Moore threw a 75-yard touchdown pass to Tommy McDonald.

COWBOY CORRALED — New Orleans Saints' Jimmy Heidel (26) and Brian Schweda (60) combine to put the stop on Dallas Cowboys' Craig Baynham (46) on a kickoff return in their game in New Orleans yesterday. The Cowboys came through with a 27-10 victory.

Dallas Stops Saints; Steelers, Cards Tie

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — End Frank Clarke galloped 56 yards for a touchdown from the tight-I formation to break open the game and the Dallas Cowboys went on to whip the New Orleans Saints 27-10 Sunday before a sun-drenched National Football League crowd of 83,437 — largest to ever witness a sporting event in Dixie.

Clarke lined up in the backfield on Dallas' first play of the second half, took a handoff from quarterback Don Meredith and headed toward the right sideline to start his touchdown run.

It gave the Cowboys, two touchdown favorites over the expansion Saints, a 17-0 lead.

Midway through the fourth quarter, Saint quarterback Gary Cuozzo passed 51 yards to John Gilliam, who dropped the ball at the two. It was picked up in the end zone by Cowboy safety Mel Renfro, who ran it out to the 26. The Saints immediately were penalized 15 yards for a personal foul.

This call and the decision on the Gilliam pass infuriated the noisy New Orleans fans. Although Meredith passed 46 yards to Dan Reeves, putting the ball at the 13, Dallas, apparently rattled by the incessant booing, had to settle for a 12-yard field goal by Danny Villanueva.

Nine times the officials had to stop play because of the thunderous noise from the New Orleans partisans.

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Quarterback Bill Nelsen guided Pittsburgh 90 yards in nine plays for a touchdown in the final minute Sunday to give the Steelers a 14-14 tie with St. Louis in a National Football League battle.

Nelsen hit Roy Jefferson on a six-yard scoring pass with 24 seconds left and Mike Clark kicked the point after touchdown to tie the game. St. Louis earlier had come from behind to take a 14-7 lead when Jim Hart passed to Jackie Smith from the six.

Don Shy of Pittsburgh scored from the two to give the Steelers their early lead while John Roland bulled over from the two for the other St. Louis touchdown.

Eagles Clipped by Rams, 33-17

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams in a wild second quarter scored 20 points, 10 in the last 58 seconds, to break their game open and rolled over the Philadelphia Eagles 33-17 Sunday.

A crowd of 57,628 witnessed the National Football League game as the Rams remained one game behind the Baltimore Colts in the Coastal Division.

The score was 3-3 when the excitement began. The Rams' Bruce Gossett kicked the second of his four field goals and, soon after, defensive back Eddie Meador picked off a Norm Snead pass and ran it 25 yards for a touchdown.

The Eagles intercepted a Roman Gabriel pass, Harold Wells returning it 17 yards to the Ram seven and three plays later Snead faked a pass and scored from the six.

Rakestraw Ignites Offense; Cornish Stars Defensively

CHICAGO (AP) — Sub quarterback Larry Rakestraw came off the bench in the second quarter to hurl three touchdown passes and score twice himself, rallying the Chicago Bears to a 34-7 victory over the New York Giants in a National Football League game Sunday.

Rakestraw's heroics were aided by 307-pound defensive tackle Frank Cornish, who set up three touchdowns by intercepting two Frank Tarkenton passes and recovering a Giant fumble on New York's 23.

Rakestraw, who entered the game after an injury to Jack Concannon with the Bears trailing 7-0, flipped scoring passes of 23, 18 and 6 yards and bulled across from the one and 12-yard stripes.

The Giants scored the first time they had the ball, driving 65 yards to score on a lateral from Tarkenton to 245-pound guard Darrell Dess, who lumbered four yards for a touchdown.

HIGH VOLTAGE

But after that, the high-voltaged New York attack was short-circuited by the Cornish-led Chicago line and alert Bear secondary which handcuffed Tarkenton to only five completions on 20 tosses, and intercepted three of scrambling Fran's hurried shots.

Rakestraw came on with less than seven minutes remaining in the first half and, within a span of 5:17, fired a 23-yard touchdown pass to Ron Bull, hit Johnny Morris with a six-yard scoring flip and dove one yard to his first touchdown 35 seconds before intermission.

Preceding Morris' touchdown and Rakestraw's short scoring smash, big Cornish had filched a Tarkenton pass on New York's 18 and then rumbled to the Giant 14 with another Fran flip moments later.

Fumbles Help 'Skins Scalp 49ers, 31-28

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington converted two San Francisco fumbles into two touchdowns within 36 seconds in the third period Sunday, then scored twice in the final period to edge the 49ers 31-28 in a National Football League game.

Quarterback Sonny Jurgensen hit tight end Jerry Smith with a 15-yard touchdown pass with 7:01 minutes remaining in the game to give the Redskins the winning score.

Early in the fourth period, Jurgensen threw a 16-yard pass to running back Gerry Allen for Washington's first touchdown of the quarter and gave the Redskins a 24-21 lead.

San Francisco's John Brodie, however, engineered an 80-yard drive to Washington's one, then Ken Willard crashed over to give the 49ers a 28-24 lead. On the next series of downs, Jurgensen brought the Redskins downfield 73 yards in 10 plays, ending with his touchdown pass to Smith.

UP AND OVER — Tennessee tailback Walter Chadwick (20) goes over the Tulane line for a touchdown in the first period of their game in Knoxville Saturday. Green Wave linebacker Dennis McAfee (38) helps in the unsuccessful bid to stop Chadwick. The Volunteers, ranked second in the nation, won 35-14.

Holland Hands Pontiac Quintet 134-114 Defeat

By JERE CRAIG

HOLLAND — The Pontiac Tomahawks learned a lesson Saturday night in their North American Basketball League initiation at the Holland Civic Center where the host Carvers were 134-114 victors on opening night.

The fledgling Tomahawks entered the contest confident of a strong show, buoyed by the late addition of Detroit Piston rookies "Sonny" Dove and Paul Long, both on option from the National Basketball Association combine.

However, the guests from Pontiac weren't ready as a team for what the Carvers were serving.

The veteran, point - minded Holland quintet, however, took an early lead and never trailed while frolicking to a decisive victory before a small turnout estimated at approximately 900.

Featuring a balanced attack, the Carvers amassed a nine-point advantage midway through the opening quarter. Despite 13 ball-handling miscues, the visiting Tomahawks rallied behind Joe Maddrey who came off the bench to score five points and cut the lead to 25-23 at the buzzer.

FORGES TIE

Long's three-point play off a driving layup with nine minutes left in the half earned the Tomahawks' their best position of the night, a 32-32 tie. But Willie Merriweather and 6-11 Bill (The Hill) McGill led the Carvers on a spree that led to a 63-52 margin at the intermission.

The Tomahawks overcame their cold shooting to hit 13 of 26 shots in the third period. They cut the deficit to 71-65; however, Dick Dzik missed two charity tossess and the Carver cracked the game wide open.

Sparked by Henry Hughes and Merriweather, the winners pulled out to a 92-71 lead. With the Tomahawks' offense breaking down and the defense not effective, the Carvers were able to pad their lead to 114-85.

The addition of Long and Dove added 60 points (34 by Dove) to the Pontiac offense. However, despite nine assists and a like number of rebounds by Long there was an obvious disunity to the Tomahawks' attack and defense due to the newcomers' lack of practice with the other members of the team.

No one else managed more than 11 points and the offense was plagued by bad shots and a lack of offensive rebounding. The defense was beaten early by the Carvers' well-trained fast break.

The Tomahawks did hold their own on the backboards; and coach Bob Duffy had a good opportunity to see his entire traveling squad in action. A late surge that reduced the Carvers' lead to 118-106 with three minutes to go.

Pontiac next will meet Grand Rapids, a 133-107 upset winner at Muskegon, in the Tomahawks' home court debut at Northern High School, 8 p.m. Saturday.

Other NABL contests last Saturday found Battle Creek surprising Columbus, 133-113, and Lansing nipping Chicago, 108-107.

Three Teams Easy Winners

MFL Passers Find Targets

Quarterbacks went on a touchdown passing spree in the Midwest Football League over the weekend as the race for the title drew closer to an end.

Dayton, with Pete Mikolajewski throwing for five touchdowns, whipped Lansing 49-12; Ypsilanti, with Steve Juday passing for four TD's walloped Detroit's Steelers, 33-0 and Mt. Clemens with four touchdowns by passing, drubbed Flint 31-0.

The Pontiac Firebirds, idle until Wednesday night's road game at Lansing, remained in second place but pondering the loss of quarterback Tim Jones for possibly the remainder of the season.

Mikolajewski completed 10 passes to Chuck McElligott for 189 yards and three touchdowns. Two others went to Roosevelt Mell as Pete finished with 19 of 34 and 395 yards.

Juday had seven for 16 hitting Craig Kirby with two TD's, Lou Bartoletti and Pete Cleavenger each with one.

Pat Brown passed for three to Larry Fowler and Ron Bishop hit Tom Kelley with the 4th for Mt. Clemens.

Pontiac will have Bill Harrington at quarterback Wednesday at Lansing, and should they win, then everything will point to the final weekend for the Firebirds.

Saturday night, Nov. 25, the Firebirds will visit Ypsilanti and Mt. Clemens will be at Dayton to face "Pistol Pete" and the Colts, who hit Mt. Clemens with its only loss this year.

Without Jones, who had thrown for 17 touchdowns in seven games, the Firebirds may have difficulty defeating Ypsilanti. But if they should win and Dayton upend Mt. Clemens, then the MFL would be forced into a playoff.

Engrossed Grid Mentor 'Unaware' of 90-0 Edge

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico State University football Coach Warren Woodson, with a lifetime coaching record of 238-110-20 that ranks with the nation's best, says he became so engrossed with the game Saturday, he didn't look at the scoreboard.

The score: New Mexico State 90, Northern Arizona 0.

"I was so engrossed in the game that I didn't know we were scoring that much," he said. "I suddenly looked up on the scoreboard and saw it was 83-0."

Woodson said he used 48 of his 49 players in uniform. The 49th, Loy Hayes, still hadn't recovered from a knee injury and one of the 48, defensive halfback Abelardo Alba, played after he was shaken up in a traffic accident Friday night.

Woodson also played 14 freshmen in the game including halfback Jim Terrells, who scored two touchdowns.

Sal Olivas, the only starter to go the whole game, played the full 60 minutes because there wasn't a reserve quarterback. Alba usually backs Olivas up but when Woodson found out he had been in the accident, he benched Alba after the first half. Olivas, one of the nation's passing leaders, threw for five touchdown passes.

"We got beat 76-0 in 1964 by Utah State," said Woodson. "We didn't ask for any sympathy and we sure didn't get any. There's not much difference between 76 and 90."

Woodson said the game plan called for the Aggies to pass a lot since scouts pinpointed that as a Northern Aona problem.

"We just happened to hit them where it hurt the most," Woodson said. They're not that bad a team. The game just went according to the game plan."

The Aggies led 34-0 after the first period.

Woodson said during one scoring spree, the trend went like this:

The Aggies intercepted a pass on their 38 and returned it to Northern's eight, scoring on the next play. After the Aggies held on four downs, the Aggies returned a punt to the Arizona 14 and scored on the next play.

After Northern punted again to its 47, a pass fell incomplete but on the next play Terrells went 47 yards for a touchdown.

"You can't tell the boy to stop after he's gained 10 yards," Woodson said.

Woodson said the game gave him a chance to use some of his freshmen, which are allowed to play varsity at New Mexico State, and said, "They showed up well."

Lions Rally for Draw Despite Record Show

ball back immediately when Felts fumbled the punt on the Vikings' 41.

Again the Lions defense held tight and the Vikings punted out. This time Lem Barney made a fair catch on the 22 from where the next drive started.

The Lions moved to the Minnesota 25 where Nowatzke fumbled and Sweetan recovered, but on the next play as he did against the Bears, Sweetan threw underhanded to an unknown receiver and this penalty pushed the Lions out of field goal range back to the Viking 41.

Wayne Walker came in for the attempt from the 48. Rasmussen fumbled the snap, Walker picked it up ran to the Viking 45 where he fumbled (this was the 8th one), and Earsell Mackbee picked it up and went 55 yards for the touchdown and a 10-0 lead.

The Lions still had a chance to score with only 48 seconds on the clock at intermission. Tommy Vaughn ran back the ensuing kickoff 51 yards to the Viking 46, but on the first play Lonnie Warwick intercepted a pass, ran 17 yards, then fumbled and the Lions again had the ball on the Detroit 46.

But once again, Sweetan went back to pass, was hit, fumbled and Minnesota recovered as the half ended.

The Lions had good field position most of the second half starting from the Viking 46 on an early drive which netted a 26-yard touchdown pass to Bill Malinchak, as Walker converted, 10-7.

A moment later after a first down on the Viking 12, the Lions had to settle for the tying field goal from the 10.

Minnesota quarterback Joe Kapp was harrassed by the Lions defense most of the 4th quarter but for the three series the Lions had the ball in the period, Farr dropped the pass in which he was alone, Walker missed a 45-yard try, and after marching from their own 34 to the Viking 22, Nowatzke completed the fumble tally on the 20.

Detroiter Takes Bowling Crown

Veteran Detroit bowler Mike Totsky Sunday finished strong to win the third annual Michigan Bowling Proprietors Association Men's Invitational Singles championship at Huron Bowl.

The 39-year-old Stroh's Beer team professional gained his first major individual title by beating teammate Dale Seavoy of Bloomfield Hills, in what was a showcase for the star-studded pro team.

The 50 bonus points added to his 19-pin win made the final margin the largest lead Totsky had in the finals. He was eighth in Saturday's 12-game qualifying which was paced by Seavoy's 2719 pins.

Totsky (who averaged 223 in the finals while having only two sub-200 games and winning 12 games, the same as Seavoy) never took the lead until the 14th match yesterday.

Two Pontiac bowlers made impressive showings in the 16 head-to-head finals matches. Dale Remley moved from 10th in the qualifying to fourth by hitting at a 219 clip and winning nine matches, and Tony Ledesma (who was the 16th qualifier) placed eighth.

Other Stroh's money winners were captain John Ruggiero who was seventh, Al Thompson (11th) and Mike Samardzija Jr. (13) who is from Pontiac.

Cranes Snap Gridiron Jinx

N. Farmington Slips Past Farmington

The Cranes of Cranbrook turned in a 12-8 victory over Gilmour Academy of Cleveland, their first victory over the Ohio team since the series opened in 1961.

North Farmington's Raiders ran their record to 4-1-1 in their series with Farmington by posting a 7-0 triumph.

In other games, Flint Northern blanked Bay City Handy, 26-0, Port Huron Northern dumped Bad Axe, 34-7, and L'Anse Creuse crushed Chippewa Valley, 33-7.

Cranbrook scored once in the first and pushed across the winning marker in the third.

PASSES HELP

Quarterback Dirk Dieters fired a 27-yard scoring pass to Bob Drey in the first, and he teamed with Nick Gilbert on a 27-yard completion to set up the winning marker.

Gilbert carried the ball to the one and halfback Craig Tuohy banged over for the touchdown. The victory gave Cranbrook a 5-3 season mark.

Quarterback Norm DeCourcey and Rick Knock teamed on a 60-yard pass-and-run scoring play and Charley Button booted the point for all the points North Farmington needed.

The win gave the Raiders a final mark of 6-3. Farmington closed at 1-7-1, losing the last five in a row.

OU Soccer Team Records Shutout

Russ Smythe of Berkley came through with his first shutout of the season Saturday as Oakland University blanked Kalamazoo College in a soccer match, 3-0.

Junior Matt Friedemann gave the Pioneers a 1-0 lead by scoring on a penalty kick in the first period, while Bill Swor and Kerry Pike added the other goals. It was Swor's fourth goal of the campaign.

Helling Wins PBA Tourney

PLAINVILLE, Conn. (AP)—Don Helling of St. Louis won the $30,500 Plainville Jay-Cees Open Sunday. It was only his third start on the Professional Bowlers Association tour.

The 23-year-old rookie finished the 40-game grind with 9,393 pins. This included 550 bonus pins he picked up for winning 11 and losing five in Sunday's match play action.

The left-handed Helling, who made his opening appearance on the PBA tour in Kokomo, Ind., three weeks ago, shot a 300 game in the opening round and was a contender throughout.

New Record at Cranbrook

Rudy Zeller scored four times to break the individual scoring record as Cranbrook's soccer team posted a 5-1 victory over Chatham Kent over the weekend.

The four tallies hiked Zeller's total for the season to 15, one better than the old mark of 14 held jointly by Roger Cummings (1966) and Mark Packard (1965).

Defensive Unit Does Reversal to Pace 'M'

Keeps Illini From Crossing Midfield in Second Half

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Michigan's defense, which couldn't have stopped up the bath tub drain in the first half, turned killer in the second half and sparked the Wolverines to a comeback 21-14 Big Ten football victory over Illinois.

"Our defensive staff made some adjustments to stop their sweep and passing game at half time," said Coach Bump Elliott. "They did a great job."

The Wolverines exploded for three touchdowns in a seven and one-half minute span to overcome a 14-0 halftime deficit for their third victory in eight games and their second in a row.

"Our defense just played a tremendous game in the second half," said Elliott.

Michigan's defense, led by Dennis Morgan, Tom Stincic and Tom Curtis, didn't allow the Illini to cross midfield in the second half. Illinois made only four first downs in the final 30 minutes and was held to 66 yards in total offense.

NEAR RECORD

Curtis intercepted three passes, including one that set up a Wolverine touchdown. He has six this year, one short of the Big Ten mark of seven held jointly by Chuck Lentz of Michigan (1949) and Al Brosky of Illinois (1951).

Illinois, now 2-6, turned to pass interceptions into touchdowns in the first half as it pushed Michigan all over the field. Rich Johnson, who led all rushers with 75 yards in 19 carries, scored both Illini touchdowns on runs of 7 and 15 yards.

Michigan came back to score on a 36-yard drive following a short Illinois punt. An 11-yard run by Garvie Craw kept the drive alive at the Illini nine and two plays later Dennis Brown hit Jim Berline with a seven-yard pass for the score. It was the first scoring pass by Michigan this year.

Frank Titas' extra point attempt was wide, leaving Michigan eight points down. But a few minutes later, junior George Hoey of Flint grabbed an Illinois punt and raced 60 yards down the sidelines for the second Wolverine touchdown.

Michigan tied the score at 14-14 on a two-point conversion pass from Brown to Tom Weinmann, a sophomore from Ann Arbor who hasn't handled the ball all season.

"There was some confusion about whether we were going to kick or go for the two points," said Elliott. "Weinmann is on the kicking team as a blocker. He was where Berline should have been, just like two or three other buys who were in there when they shouldn't have been.

RAN PLAY

"However, Weinmann had been listening when he should have been and he ran the play perfectly," said Elliott, adding: "It was a big play. If we missed it, we would have been two points down going into the last quarter."

Curtis set up the winning touchdown when he intercepted a pass at the Michigan 39 and returned 17 yards to the Illinois 44. The Wolverines drove to paydirt in 10 plays with Ron Johnson sweeping the final three yards around end.

WOLVERINE ROMPS — Dennis Brown (22) of Michigan lugs the ball for a five-yard gain in the second quarter Saturday's game against Illinois at Champaign, Ill. Doug Whitman (80) of Illinois reaches out to make the tackle. Michigan won, 21-14.

Spoiler Role Remains for MSU's Spartans

EAST LANSING (AP) —Michigan State has just one more chance this season to be a "spoiler" in the Big Ten conference they dominated in the last two years.

The Spartans, who lost a 14-13 cliffhanger to Indiana in the last three minutes Saturday, travel this week to Purdue — which shares the Big Ten lead with the Hoosiers.

"You get rid of one thing and right away boom! There's another one staring you right in the face," mused Indiana Coach John Pont after the Michigan State encounter.

On the final drive, Isenbarger chalked up runs of 13, 14, and 12 yards, caught a pass for a 15-yard gain and scored from the five-yard line.

Michigan State took the lead in the second quarter as Mitch Pruiett made good on the first field goal attempt of his college career, booting the ball 24 yards.

Indiana took the second half kickoff and marched 70 yards to score, aided by the passing of quarterback Harry Gonso and a 15-yard personal foul penalty against Michigan State.

Spartan defensive end George Catlos trimmed the Hoosier lead to 7-5 when he caught Gonso in the Indiana end zone for a two-point safety.

Indiana's free kick and a 15-yard penalty gave Michigan State the ball and the Spartans drove 32 yards for a touchdown, scored by Dwight Lee on a four-yard run. A pass from Charlie Wedemeyer to end Al Brenner was good for a two-point conversion and a 13-7 Spartan lead.

But Isenbarger, who left the game with an injury in the second quarter, was back in action in the fourth to spark the game-winning touchdown drive.

Hoosiers Among Nation's Powers on College Grid

State edged Wisconsin 17-15. Outside the conference, Notre Dame went along with Indiana and Purdue to keep the state of Indiana the zenith of collegiate football with a 38-0 victory over Pitt.

But back to the Hoosiers. After playing Minnesota, Indiana and Purdue meet for the Old Oaken Bucket in the final game of the season.

This time, however, the Bucket could carry with it the Big Ten title and possibly the mythical national championship if both teams can triumph this week.

Oregon State Finds Glory but No Bowl

Oregon State had its moments in Lafayette, Los Angeles and Corvallis. It will not have any in Pasadena.

The Pacific Eight's Rose Bowl representative will be decided Saturday when UCLA meets Southern California. The Beavers, now out of the race for the conference title, will simply have to console themselves with the thought that they tied one and beat the other.

Oregon State added a 3-0 victory over top-ranked Southern Cal last Saturday in Corvallis, Ore., to its tie with UCLA, then No. 2, in Los Angeles and its victory over Purdue, also No. 2 at the time, in Lafayette, Ind.

But the vagaries of the schedule and an early conference loss to Washington will keep the Beavers out of the Rose Bowl. Southern Cal will go if it beats UCLA. The Bruins will play if they win or tie.

A 30-yard field goal in the second quarter and a defense that let O.J. Simpson do everything but score got the Beavers the victory "that certainly ought to break us into the Top Ten," according to Coach Dee Andros.

TITLE GAME

UCLA, No. 4, tuned up for its nationally televised battle with Southern Cal by pounding Washington 48-0. Gary Beban threw three touchdown passes and scored once himself. The USC-UCLA battle is on ABC-TV at 4 p.m., EST.

North Carolina State, rated third before the weekend, missed a golden opportunity to move up, bowing 13-8 to Penn State. Tennessee, No. 2, rolled over Tulane 35-14 behind Dewey Warren's passing and Walter Chadwick's running

Wyoming, No. 7, remained unbeaten, blasting New Mexico 42-6. Jerry DePoyster's four field goals in the game gave him a career total of 175, an NCAA record. Purdue, No. 5, beat Minnesota 41-12, staying tied with Indiana for the Big Ten lead with a 5-0 league mark.

Oklahoma, No. 8, took over the lead in the Big Eight race, burying Iowa State 52-14, as previously unbeaten Kansas fell to Colorado 12-8. Notre Dame, No. 9, crushed Pitt 38-0 with Terry Hanratty running for two touchdowns. Houston, No. 10, beat Memphis State 35-18.

In other key games, Texas downed Baylor 24-0 and moved into a tie for the Southwest Conference title—and the Cotton Bowl bid—with Texas A&M, which was idle. Yale beat Penn 44-22, keeping its Ivy League record spotless, while Princeton, 4-1 in the league, beat Harvard 45-6.

Alabama remained a likely choice for the Sugar Bowl, knocking off Louisiana State 7-6. Clemson kept up its perfect record in the Atlantic Coast Conference, beating Maryland 28-7. Its game with North Carolina State next week will decide the title.

Palmer and Nicklaus paid high tribute to the 7,251 yard-Club de Golf Mexico. Other players, however, complained too many of the course's half million trees were smack in the middle of fairways.

"It's fantastic," said Nicklaus. "I can't think of a better one throughout the world."

Nicklaus accepted the World Cup for the team. Both Americans then laughingly tried to lift the gold and marble cup, two feet high and 18 inches in diameter. They got it only inches off the table.

"It was certainly a great pleasure to win the individual prize of the cup for the first time," said Palmer.

He was mobbed by more than 12,000 Mexicans attending the tournament and he called them "over-exuberant."

★ ★ ★

Suspect Held in Stabbing of City Man

A 29-year-old city man is in Pontiac General Hospital with stab wounds of the stomach, and his alleged assailant is in Oakland County Jail as the result of a reported argument Saturday.

In fair condition, according to hospital authorities, is Joseph Tillery of 153 Bagley.

Held for investigation of attempted murder is Robert C. Farrar, 38, of an unreported address, Pontiac police said.

Investigators were told Tillery was stabbed about 5:30 p.m., when he interceded in an alleged argument between a man and a woman at his home.

Police, who arrested Farrar at the scene, said they impounded a butcher knife.

Farrar will probably be arraigned on the charge today, according to officers.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF VIOLET Louise Gerber who passed away Nov. 13, 1963.
We loved her, yes we loved her,
but angels loved her more,
and they have sweetly called her,
to yonder shining shore,
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell,
of the one we loved so well
And while she sleeps peaceful sleep
her memory we shall always keep.
Sadly missed and happily remembered by son Ronald, mother and sister.

IN LOVING MEMORY OUR BELOVED father and grandfather, Earl J. Mullins, who was called to Heaven November 11, 1966.
God saw you getting weaker,
So He did what He thought best,
He came and stood beside you
And whispered "Come to rest".
You wished no one a last farewell,
Nor even said goodbye,
You were gone before we knew it
And only God knows why.

Boxoffice Poll Gives Julie, Burton Lead

Richard Burton and Julie Andrews emerged as King and Queen of the motion picture screen in the 31st annual All-American Screen Favorites Poll conducted by Boxoffice Magazine.

It was Burton's first appearance in the top male position, held for the last five years by Cary Grant, and Miss Andrews' third time as the leading female star.

Final results of the poll—conducted among theatermen, radio, TV and newspaper critics and the National Screen Council — in order of votes received:

TOP 12 NEWCOMERS

There were five newcomers to the Top Twelve male star list this year: Sidney Poitier, Michael Caine, Steve McQueen, Dean Martin, and Dick Van Dyke, but only one newcomer, Sandy Dennis, to the female Top Twelve.

In scoring second place among the Top Twelve female stars, Miss Taylor duplicated her position of the previous year. Miss Hepburn, in third, rose from fourth place, jumped from tenth the year before.

Paul Newman moved into second place among the males from fourth place the preceding year, Lee Marvin moved into third from tenth and John Wayne jumped from sixth to fourth place.

Johnson (Nunnally) Doubts Johnson's (Lyndon) Chances

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Playwright Nunnally Johnson's feet were on the coffee table, his glasses were on his forehead, and his tongue was in his cheek.

"There's a scurrilous rumor about you," I said, "to the effect that you like actors. What's wrong — have you gone senile?"

WILSON

"Ah was sayin' to a girl in Detroit, whose daddy is a leading Republican, and who didn't want her to marry an actor because they aren't stable enough, Ah was sayin' to her that her daddy might help elect an actor as President, and was that stable enough?"

He would bet, if he was a bettin' man, said Johnson — not Lyndon Johnson, but Nunnally Johnson — "that Ronald Reagan could be president.

"Ah get sore at people who knock actors!" Nunnally said. "If we elect an exhaberdasher, or a rich man like Roosevelt, why not an actor?

"We bettuh give actors their rights or they're gonna be demonstratin' with signs saying 'ACTOR POWER!'

"Some day the government will be nothing but actors. TV will determine the presidency. A poor old fellah like Nixon might as well go home. If Jimmy Walker were alive, he could be president next year."

Johnson, the author of the brilliantly witty "Henry, Sweet Henry" and incoming "Married Alive," is the hero of many newspaper men because he was a great one himself.

He covered the Rudolph Valentino funeral and still has the gold coffin plates which undertaken Frank Campbell gave to reporters as souvenirs.

Students Will Aid Koreans

MACOMB, Ill. (UPI) — Members of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity announced yesterday that chapters at the University of Michigan and Western Illinois University have collected 15,500 pounds of clothing and $4,500 cash for Korean orphans.

Similar collections will be made next week at the University of Illinois and at Eastern Illinois and Millikin universities, the fraternity said.

Clothing and cash collected in the drive will be sent to Champaign, Ill., for transportation to Korea, where it will be distributed to orphonages by officers of the U.S. 8th Army.

Road construction in East Boothbay, Maine, has uncovered a massive fossil bed said to be between 5,000 and 12,000 years old.

Young Dems Mull Viet Policy

About 1,500 delegates from 700 chapters of the Young Democratic Clubs of America, a wing of the National Democratic Committee, begins its biennial four-day convention here Wednesday. In the stack of proposed resolutions and in the campaigns of the 10 candidates for presidency of the young Democrats, the overriding issue is peace.

A secondary movement, aimed at dumping Johnson as the party's 1968 standard bearer, may have been defused Sunday in Boston when the breakaway College Young Democrats rejected a resolution to keep Johnson off next year's ballot.

Among the administration supporters, the principal candidate for president of the clubs is R. Spencer Oliver, 30, of Bowie, Md., who apparently is supported in turn by the national party leaders. Until two months ago when he resigned to run for the office, Oliver was staff assistant to National Democratic Chairman John Bailey. Oliver is a former member of the staff of Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., and is first vice president of the young Democrats.

The best-known avowed peace candidate is Alan Reed of Lincoln, Neb., 27-year-old assistant professor of political science at the University of Nebraska and executive secretary of Nebraska's young Democrats. Reed said he supports the President on domestic issues and will work for his renomination.

Reed said there will be enough votes to support an "antiwar resolution" at the convention and predicts the peace momentum will sweep him into office.

COLLEGIANS FOR PEACE

Reed spent the weekend at the College Young Democrats' meeting in Boston where a resolution was endorsed calling for withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam, a halt to the bombing of North Vietnam, peace negotiations and a United Nations peace force to end the conflict.

David O. Banks, executive director of the young Democrats, said, "our convention will reach a statement of support for the President. As in any organization you have a divergence of opinion. But it's pretty safe to say the convention will support the President, and when it comes to a vote, it will not even be close."

NEWLYWEDS REUNITED—Charles and Lida Caldwell were reunited yesterday in Cleveland when the 19-year-old bride was released from a hospital where she has been recovering from a gunshot wound in the chest inflicted by a former suitor. The ex-boyfriend shot Caldwell in the face shortly after the young couple was married two weeks ago and then abducted the bride. The kidnaper held her captive in his apartment for 44 hours and then shot and killed himself.

State Man Kills Wife, Visitor, Self

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—A Battle Creek man, distraught by marital problems, went on a shooting rampage in his mother-in-law's rooming house Sunday, 15 minutes after he purchased an M1 carbine and 100 rounds of ammunition from a nearby discount store.

The gunman, Anderson D. Nunnally, 28, shot and killed his wife, Erma, 27, and M. T. Fant, 41, and wounded two other persons before taking his own life with a single shot through the temple. Fant was a visitor at the house, police said.

Listed in critical condition at a Battle Creek hospital with a bullet wound in her right chest and arm was Mrs. Loretta Moore, Nunnally's mother-in-law.

Robert Lee Spraggins, 53, a roomer, suffered a superficial head wound and was held over for observation. His condition was listed as not serious.

DOMESTIC PROBLEMS

"He came to the house, threatened to kill everyone and opened fire," said Police Chief Clifford Barney. "He apparently had some domestic problems with his wife, who had gone to stay with her mother."

Barney said the bodies of Nunnally and his wife were found in the front yard of the Moore home. Mrs. Moore and Fant were found sprawled on the living room floor.

Spraggins, who returned to the house shortly after the shooting began, ran to a rear door and was creased by a bullet as he tried to enter, Barney said.

Barney said Nunnally fired 13 shots during his brief rampage. He said Mrs. Moore and Fant apparently were the first victims. Nunnaly then fired on Spraggins at the rear door and dragged his wife from the house to the front yard.

MAKE OVER PAGES

A June graduate of Avondale High School died early this morning from injuries received when the automobile she was driving was rammed broadside by a car occupied by two youths speeding from police pusuit.

Margie L. Morse, 18, of 2527 Hartline, Avon Township, died at 2 a.m. in Pontiac Generaal Hospital of multiple head pital spokesman.

The accident occurred at 12:02 a.m. today when James G. Temple, 21, of Ferndale, reportedly driving up to speeds of 120 miles per hour in an attempt to elude Troy police cars, ran a red light on Crooks at Auburn in Avon Township.

Temple's car, police said, rammed the girl's auto broadside. Miss Morse was thrown out of the car, according to Cpl. George Reed who was in the lead pursuit car.

Temple and a passenger, Ronald J. Graswick, 18, of Ferndale were admitted to Crittenton General Hospital, Rochester. They are in fair condition.

Cpl. Reed said the youths were surprised by Patrolman Ed Rollinger in the rear lot of Audette Pontiac on 15 Mile Road following a call from a guard as they allegedly attempted to steal a new car by pushing it with another auto. The car doing the pushing sped north on Crooks and Rollinger gave chase. Reed said he later took over the lead in the chase.

A third youth who was reportedly at the wheel of the new car at Audette was apprehended at one of the boys' homes in Ferndale after the accident, Police said. He is Eugene Griffin, 18, also of Ferndale.

'Military Opposing Long Bombing Halt'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. William C. Westmoreland and the Joint Chiefs of Staff can be expected to stand against any new proposal for an extended pause in U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, Pentagon sources say.

The bombing pause question is among matters to be reviewed at this week's high-level conferences.

Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vienam, is due here Wednesday to join Ellsworth Bunker, U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, in discussions with President Johnson and officials of the Defense and State departments. Johnson meets with Bunker today.

Pentagon sources said there are no urgent issues — nothing in the way of new troop increase requests or logistic or operational problems.

The meetings come as the Johnson administration appears to be stressing "steady progress" in the Vietnam war.

Bunker used this phrase on his arrival Friday from Saigon. High U.S. military officials followed a similar line Saturday with newsmen, although they predicted hard fighting in critical areas.

In other developments:

● Retired Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin said his recent trip to Vietnam convinced him the administration plans to keep forces in Southeast Asia for a long time.

Gavin said the government pictures its purposes in Vietnam as resisting current aggression while its policy is long-term containment of Red China.

● California Gov. Ronald Reagan called for a clear decision on "whether we want to carry the war through to a conclusion, or give up" and said stopping U.S. bombing of the North "will only encourage the enemy to do his worst."

Reagan said U.S. policy in Vietnam from the start "was a case of being too late with too little, while tipping our hand to the enemy so that he always knew in advance what we proposed . . ."

● Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said in Chicago, "The '68 elections will be a vote on Vietnam. It is clear the question will not be settled in the Senate or in Congress. We must take it back to the jury."

McCarhy said he won't announce until about Dec. 15 if he plans to oppose Johnson for the nomination.

● Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., predicted Johnson may ask Congress next year for a preelection vote of confidence in his Vietnam policies.

● Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark, said he believes the American public is wearying of the war. Fulbright said he feels public support is growing for his position.

Man Is Killed by Car on I-696

A 41-year-old man died after being hit by a car on I-696 west of Inkster Road, Farmington Township, last night.

Gibson was hit by a westbound car driven by Jack E. Evans, 39, of Fenton. Evans and his two passengers were not injured, police said.

It is uncertain whether Gibson was walking on or near the road.

He reportedly was going to get gas for his car. A gas station is near an exit about three-quarters of a mile from the scene of the accident, said police.

Township police are still investigating the accident which occurred at 10:30 last night.

Housewife-Mother Wins Grid Contest

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

Mrs. James Wilson of 41 Oak Hill will always have a warm spot in her heart for Florida.

For it was the 17-16 victory of that state's grid Gators over Georgia's Bulldogs that put her in the winner's circle of the 1967 Press Annual Football Contest clutching an award of a $500 U.S. Savings Bond.

The 51-year-old housewife and mother of five is, along with her family, a regular entrant in the newspaper's yearly contest. The Wilsons make it a joint venture, usually submitting half a dozen entries.

"No," the happy handicapper said, "we didn't have any mystic power going for us in picking our winners. We read The Press sports pages before the contest deadline to get a line on the teams, held many living room huddles, and 'hunched' several games we were doubtful of."

Who says family togetherness doesn't pay off?

SPINE-TINGLER

From the start, the contest was a spine-tingler for the several thousand entrants who saw themselves eliminated week by week.

Going into last weekend, seven contestants were in the running. Waterford Township High School's Friday night massacre of Waterford Kettering, 54-6, eliminated four. That left three contenders for Saturday's Georgie-Florida tussle.

Local at Fisher Strikes, Halting Pontiac Div. Line

A 24-hour strike called by UAW Local 596 at Fisher Body in Pontiac this morning has halted new-car assemblies at Pontiac Motor Division.

Some 4,000 Fisher Body workers walked off the job at 4 a.m. today causing the final assembly plant at the motor division also to shut down. This involves an additional 2,000 workers.

Union officials said the strike is to protest a backlog of grievances and local working conditions.

Workers at both plants are expected back on the job in the morning, according to union and company sources.

A 24-hour strike called Thursday at Pontiac Motor Division by UAW Local 653 sent some 20,000 workers at the two plants home for a day.

* * *

Minister Hits LBJ on Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson spent a whirlwind weekend defending his Vietnam policies, then listened in church as a Virginia clergyman bluntly suggested the chief executive should publicly explain America's role in the war.

The Johnson administration's public information policies came under attack a few hours later from the Freedom of Information Committee of Sigma Delta Chi, an 18,000-member professional journalism society.

The panel said in a report that some of the administration's top officials have been "deliberatly misleading the public, the press and the Congress through flat lies, through half-truths and through clever use of statistics that distort." It called the President's new conferences "well organized for a White House snow job."

The report, released in advance of Sigma Delta Chi's national convention opening Wednesday in Minneapolis, Minn., charged the State and Defense departments and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration are the worst offenders in the public information field.

For the chief executive, the sandy-haired Dr. Lewis doubtless provided an unwanted climax to a 5,100-mile Veterans Day weekend tour that took him from Ft. Benning, Ga., to the carrier Enterprise off the California coast.

In appearances at military bases Friday and Saturday before going to Williamsburg, Johnson defended his Vietnam policy and appealed for united support in the war.

Dr. Lewis, however, told the President "there is a rather general consensus that something is wrong in Vietnam."

"We wonder if some logical straightforward explanation might be given without endangering whatever military or political advantage we hold . . . while pledging our loyalty we ask respectfully why?"

"We are appalled that apparently this is the only war in our history which has had three times as many civilians as military casualties. It is particularly regrettable that to most nations the struggle's purpose appears as a form of neo-colonialism."

Mrs. Johnson's parting comment to Dr. Lewis was, "Wonderful choir."

Conference Backs Open Housing

By DICK ROBINSON

Some 200 persons at a conference on housing in Oakland County voted Saturday to support open housing legislation, which a top Democratic leader told them needs a bipartisan effort to pass.

Senate Minority Floor Leader Sander M. Levin, D-Berkley, said at Oakland University that fair housing is not a partisan issue and that a bipartisan effort will be needed to get it passed.

Government officials, educators, urban planners, home owners, bankers and builders who attended the conference also voted to urge the Pontiac Housing Commission and Oakland County Planning Commission to give seats on those bodies to "grass roots" representatives.

Keynote speaker Howard H. Fitzgerald II, publisher of The Pontiac Press, blamed the building industry for pricing moderate income housing out of the reach of many families.

"I feel sure that the resourcefulness of industry (such as automotive) would find a way to price their product to the market . . ." Fitzgerald remarked.

"But not so in housing. Here's where fragmentation, inefficiency and tax legislation seem to foster this type of industry.

"The industry seems unable to direct or influence its own future. It has become a residual one operating off the money, the labor and the resources left after everyone else takes his."

Open occupancy legislation can pass during this special session of the Legislature if Gov. Romney can get support from Republicans, according to Levin.

MAJORITY IN FAVOR

The senator said a majority of Democrats in the Senate and House favor the open housing bill, which may be brought up in the House for passage this week before the start of deer season.

"The urban crisis is also a suburban crisis," Levin commented after indicating housing problems and shortages in suburban areas. "An urban-suburban coalition is needed to meet metropolitan problems.

"Recent events in many cities have shown the common interest of urban and suburban areas in the resolution of hous-

To Celebrate Her 86th [illegible]

Maxims Guide Oakland Twp. Pioneer

By JEAN SAILE

OAKLAND TOWNSHIP — One does not reach the mature age of 86 without picking up several maxims by which to live:

- Don't sit around and pity yourself. Take a nap instead.
- Don't take care of your grandchildren. Tell them you're too old.
- Bake your daughters-in-law a pie once in a while.
- Work. Read. Talk.

So has Mrs. Frank Middleton, an Oakland Township pioneer, regulated her life. She will celebrate her 86th birthday on Friday in the farm home at 1600 Predmore to which she came as a bride.

There has been little slowing down in Mrs. Middleton's life. Having received some notice during World War II as the personal correspondent of 508 soldiers, she has continued her all-out approach to daily living.

This fall she reveals she picked 40 bushels of grapes, 15 bushels of apples, made a quilt counterpane, and finished her 47th hooked rug.

'MADE A MISTAKE'

"I made an awful mistake on the last rug," she confided. "I lost the pattern and I got the sky on the wrong side."

The day of the interview the wiry little woman had varnished two rocking chairs, painted the mailbox, done a washing and revealed she was going to make cookies, "but I didn't have time."

Married in 1906 to Frank Middleton, who died three years ago, Mrs. Middleton has seen her three sons grow and establish themselves and their families on nearby farms.

She has seen her original Brown family homestead become first the site of Scripp's Wildwood Farms and now Keatington. The old oak tree on the corner of Waldron and Baldwin which she used to swing on as a child has remained her watchmate.

WEDDING TRIP

"If they ever cut it down, I hope they give it to the grandchildren to make coffee tables," she said.

She recalls her wedding trip from Mahopac — the old settlement in the neighborhood of Keatington — by horse and buggy to Eames depot and thence by train to Pontiac and Rochester.

Potato farmers, she and her late husband noted with pleasure the invention of the potato digger and sorter.

"That's the invention that probably did more for us than any other," she mused.

TAUGHT SCHOOL

"Those garbage disposals (for the kitchen,) are pretty nice too," she confided. "I've never had one, but I might be interested."

A school teacher for two years at the time one was able to pass state boards after an eighth grade education, Mrs. Middleton has remained alert to the world around her.

She's looking forward to the contact with old friends that will come with the receipt of birthday cards Friday.

Annexing Foes' Petitions Will Be Considered

CLARKSTON — Petitions signed by Independence Township residents in objection to a proposed annexation by the village were to be considered by the council tonight.

The petitions, bearing some 500 signatures, are the second round in an attempt to defeat a village planning report which recommends annexation of land triple the size of the present village.

Because Clarkston is a general law village, no vote of the people is required for annexation. The measure to become law needs only the approval of the County Board of Supervisors.

An informational-type letter prepared by Councilman David Leak for transmission to the Independence Township board is also due for consideration tonight, according to Clerk Artemus Pappas.

No vote on the matter is foreseen at this meeting, Pappas said.

Public meetings on Sept. 14 and 18 presented both sides of annexation to residents. There are about 250 families believed living in the affected area.

Boundaries as proposed would extend westerly to the township line encompassing Deer Lake, north to I-75, east to Perry Lake Road excluding the Clarkston Community Schools property, and south to exclude the commercial district along the foot of M15 and Dollar Lake also in the vicinity.

BIRMINGHAM — Attention has been focused here on outlawed high school fraternities with the injury of a 15-year-old Seaholm High School sophomore.

Police Chief Darryl Bruestele said that the hazing occurred during the "Hell week" of a forbidden high school fraternity during the first week in October.

Bruestele said that the Yates boy did not enter the hospital until two weeks ago when he finally complained to his parents.

Yates who lives at 1350 Villa underwent skin graft surgery Thursday at Oak, to stop what doctors described as a widespread infection which had set in due to dead cells under the skin.

YOUTHFUL STRENGTH

The boy's youthful strength apparently saved him, said Bruestele.

School officials said that fraternities are outlawed, but believe that at least four exist in Birmingham.

The Juvenile Bureau is investigating the incident and will question the boy when he is released from the hospital, said the chief.

The youth, thus far, has revealed nothing about the fraternity except that he was paddled.

Church Union to Meet

AVON TOWNSHIP — Ridgecrest Baptist Church Women's Missionary Union will meet at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at the church. Speaker will be Rev. Vernon Wickliffee, association missionary.

Firm Hired to Study Road Program

KEEGO HARBOR — The city is on the way with its road improvement program.

The engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson has been hired to study improvements for the streets, nearby drainage and sidewalks.

The study, to cost $3,750, is to be completed by next March.

The engineers' report is expected to include recommendations and a timetable for improvements and their financing, said city manager Gary L. Dickson.

The city will probably establish a three to five-year improvement program, the manager said.

The City Council has been discussing this issue about one year. It waited to take action until after sanitary sewers and water mains had been put in, explained Dickson.

Also on tonight's agenda is a discussion of the legal residency of Township Justice Robert K. Anderson.

The board has asked Anderson to appear before it tonight.

Michigan Road Toll Hits 17 on Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seventeen persons lost their lives on Michigan roadways this weekend.

Eight persons died when their autos collided with other vehicles, seven pedestrians were killed and two motorists died when their cars ran off the road.

Two pedestrians died when struck by the same car. In the auto collisions, three were double fatalities.

The Associated Press count begins at 6 p.m. Friday and ends midnight Sunday.

The victims:

Robert E. Davis, 19, of Flat Rock, who was struck by a car yesterday in Trenton, downriver from Detroit.

DIES OF INJURIES

Henrietta Woodrich, 62, of Flint, who died Saturday of injuries suffered Friday night in a two-car crash in Flint.

Vivian Alice Richards, 62, of Dewitt, whose car hit another auto which had skidded into the path of her car on U. S. 27 near Lansing Saturday.

Arnold Hale, about 40, of Gladwin, and Dennis Rendel, 19, of Ithaca, whose car smashed head-on with another in rural Gratiot County Saturday.

Pamela Smith, 16, of Kalamazoo, and Clarenee Coburn, 19, of Wayland, hit by a car on East Kilgore Road Friday night.

HIT ON U. S. 24

James Croft, 23, of Temperance, killed Friday night when hit by a car on U. S. 24 a few feet north of the Michigan-Ohio line.

Linda Willman, 11, of Wyoming, killed near Godwin High School in Wyoming when she rushed into the path of a car.

William Bryant Stewart, 69, of near Standish, killed Friday night in a two-car collision in Deep River Township, Arenac County.

William Biggenwald, 65, of Detroit, killed when hit by a car in Detroit Friday night.

HEAD-ON CRASH

Frank Perdue, 34, and James I. West, 34, both of Detroit, killed Saturday when their car, going the wrong way, hit head-no with another on a Detroit freeway.

Theodore William Stage, 18, of Fowlerville, who died Saturday when his car left a road near Fowlerville and hit a tree.

Mrs. Lena D. Payne, 75, of Dexter Township, killed last night when the car in which she was riding swerved to avoid a deer in the road and struck a tree in Webster Township about 12 miles northwest of Ann Arbor.

Rebecca Chuko, 18, of Detroit, who died last night in Dearborn when her auto collided head-on with a car traveling the wrong way on a divided street.

Edward Mroch, 67, of Detroit, who was struck by an auto on M153 in Dearborn last night.

Man's Exam Is Set in Slaying of Wife

Examination for the suspect Steven Pointer of 33849 Rhonewood, is set for 1 p.m. Nov. 24 before Township Justice Byron D. Walter. Pointer's arraignment was before Walter.

The suspect is in Oakland County Jail.

Pointer was arrested at a township home Friday night, about seven hours after his wife, Mary Ann, 23, was found dead at home by the couple's four-year-old daughter, according to Farmington Township Police.

Shelby Moves Ahead on Hiring of Firemen, Plans for Stations

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has approved the h8ring of an architect to draw up plans and make cost estimates for a new main fire station and a substation, plus the hiring of three new firemen, said Supervisor Kirby Holmes.

Voters approved a $900,000 bond proposal on Aug. 7 to provide funds for the increased fire protection.

Holmes said he voted no on the stations because, when the two new ones are built making a total of three, one will go unmanned.

"Even with the three new men, we will only have 18 men," he said. One of the three is to replace a firemen who recently resigned.

From Orion Twp. Blaze

Sheriff's Aide Saves Man

ORION TOWNSHIP — Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Perry Earp was credited early yesterday morning with saving the life of an Orion Township man overcome by smoke in a house fire.

Neighbors believed Louis A. Masciello, 359 Buckhorn, had returned to his blazing one-story fieldstone home in the mistaken belief that three children were trapped inside.

Earp, responding to the radio fire call, arrived on the scene and heard Masciello gasping inside the house. He carried the man to safety.

Mrs. Masciello had apparently taken their two children, aged 14 and 11, and a grandchild, aged 2, to safety earlier. Both she and Masciello required medical treatment, according to Orion Township Fire Chief Jack Caylor.

Caylor said the blaze apparently broke out in the furnace area and traveled up a duct to the bathroom. He said considerable smoke and heat damage resulted.

NO ESTIMATE

No damage estimate has yet been made, Caylor said.

The department received assists from Gingellville and Oxford. Firemen were on the scene one-and-a-half hours from 1:56 a.m., Caylor reported.

Plans Being Made for School Addition

NOVI — Plans are being made for the eight-classroom addition to the Orchard Hills Elementary School, 41900 Quince.

The board of education has hired the Ann Arbor architectural firm of Lane, Reibe and Wieland to plan the $460,000 addition to be completed by May 1969.

MSU Prof Bent on Finding Easy-Care Roadside Grass

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department and Michigan State University are trying to find out how best to grow and maintain a 100,000-acre "lawn" — and mow it as little as possible.

Under a state-federal grant of $21,583, MSU crop scientist Dr. James B. Beard has begun research on a project "to evaluate, under Michigan's environmental and soil conditions, improved seeding techniques and seed mixtures for rapid vegetative establishment and roadside stabilization."

What that means, according to a Highway Department official, is that Beard and colleagues will try to find the best seed mixture for the lowest growing grass on some 100,000 acres along Michigan's 9,200-mile trunkline highway system.

"The soils that are present along the highway after construction goes through are quite often very poor," explains Jack Burton, director of roadside development in the highway department's design division.

"In order to build a somewhat level road — one with gentle hills and dales — we cut the high ground down and fill up the low ground.

"But after we get down much over a foot, we're getting away from the organic layer of soil that promotes growth," he says "so we end up with soil that is not conducive to growing anything."

And, Burton says, something has to grow there.

"Grass can control erosion and protect the construction as well as make the highway more attractive," he says. "If we just left the piled-up soil, rain and wind sooner or later would probably erode all the way through into the ditches and affect the road."

Beard's research will take three years and cost an estimated $29,670. It will deal with growing grass in sandy soil.

Last year he completed similar research on grass in heavy soil.

He'll be working on an experimental field plot of about seven acres, part of the U.S. 127 overpass near Lansing and part of I-69 south of I-94 in Southwestern Michigan.

Besides looking for the fastest growing grass, researchers will check into so-called "growth inhibitors."

"Some chemical compounds put on the grass as spray actually retard the of vegetation," Burton says.

So, if the Highway Department and MSU can find grass that grows fast, but not too high, they could save money for the state.

Some $1.3 million was spent on grass control — mowing and spraying for weeds — during the 1965-66 fiscal year, Burton says.

"The people don't benefit as much from this money as they would if the funds were spent to build additional roads," Burton says.

Moon Pictures Show 'Boulder Field'

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Pictures taken by Surveyor 6 show a moonscape littered with rocks ranging in size up to two feet wide which may have been spewed from a crater out of camera range.

A spokesman for Jet Propulsion Laboratory said the rock-strewn central bay region looked like "a boulder field," but added scientists were unsure how the rocks got there.

One guess is the rocks were hurled from an unseen crater "from over the horizon, where no crater is visible."

The moon robot, which soft-landed in the central bay Thursday night, has returned more than 4,000 pictures of the lunar surface. Scientists plan to take a total of 20,000 photos before shutting the spacecraft down for the 14-day-long lunar night.

'BEST YET'

Scientists described the pictures sent back by America's sixth automated moon laboratory as "the best yet."

"They were just magnificent," said a JPL spokesman. "There's no doubt these are the best yet in clarity and of interesting terrain."

Area Artist Judging Entries for Pontiac Mall Exhibit

Pontiac Society of Artists will have its annual fall exhibit and artists' market at The Pontiac Mall next week. A public reception Sunday afternoon in the community room will open the affair. Paintings will be on display Monday through Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Mrs. C. W. Thiede of Walled Lake is exhibit chairman.

The show is being juried by area artist, Dorothy Simper. She was interviewed recently in connection with the occasion.

By YOLANDA BENAVIDES

"Mr. Simper, what is the term I used to describe my work," asked his pert little wife, talented artist, Dorothy.

Judging from the natural surroundings and quiet simplicity that surrounds the Simper home, I'd say that "personal realism" is a way of life for this petite mother of two and wife of an equally accomplished artist.

REFLECTS FAMILY

A house set apart from those furnished with a designer's disciplined hand for rules and standards, this one is a beautiful reflection of the owners' innermost moods, thoughts and emotions.

A favorite collection of their own paintings is a major part of the decor that gives this home so much more life and meaning.

Hand picked articles, mostly odds and ends that have been restored to their natural beauty, tell much of the Simpers' love for the unusual and unique.

"This is pretty necessary atmosphere for my kind of work," said Mrs. Simper, who will turn judge for the upcoming Mall art exhibit.

We asked if it is hard to criticize without preference for style.

"No," said my trim hostess, "if an artist is good enough and catholic enough in his tastes, then he's able to recognize good qualities in all forms of art."

"Art is lonely as are all creative things. Not that it makes one feel lonely but it's the type of thing that requires being alone, away from all the noise, in order to create.

"O, we love parties and being with people, but all of us enjoy having some time to ourselves. That's just as important too.

"We designed the house ourselves," she said; as we peeked in and out of 15-year-old Tony's and then Waldren's bedroom, who's only a year younger.

We all feel things and feel them together. This house just grew as an extension for our ideas.

"Painting and living are the same things you know. You just do as you feel."

As I turned to leave, I met another important member of the family, probably the muddiest, friskiest little poodle around, whose only claim to conformity was a large jejeweled collar.

Like his mistress, "Samuel" appears to enjoy life to the hilt by just doing everything he can and whenever he can.

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: When parents have remarried and accompany their children to meetings, is there a way to avoid the embarrassment of being called by the stepchild's name?

How should children introduce their stepfather without emphasizing the fact he is not their father by name? My husband refuses to attend most school functions, and I believe I've determined the root of the problem.

The children and I would greatly appreciate the benefit of your assistance.—"Grateful Mom"

Dear "Grateful Mom:" There is nothing whatsoever wrong with correcting a person who calls you by an incorrect name. First, your child should be taught to introduce her stepfather as "my stepfather, Mr. Jones."

By the tone of her voice she can imply every bit as much affection as if he were her father. There is no other way that teachers who do not have access to the child's records can be expected to know the name or relationship.

Abby Has Second Thoughts

Comments on Letter Pour In

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR READERS: I recently published a letter asking my opinion about letting a child see his mother in the nude. It produced an avalanche of mail. Here is the letter again, a repeat of my reply, and some typically vigorous reactions.

ABBY

P. S. I must say, on second thought, I agree with the reactions.

DEAR ABBY: Do you think it's all right for a little boy, say around four or five, to see his mother undressed? I have a friend who thinks it's perfectly all right to let her little boy hang around and watch her dress from the skin out and she thinks nothing of letting him come into the bathroom while she is in the tub.

He comes in and asks her questions, or to just sit and visit while he gets his eyes full.

Maybe I am wrong, but I don't approve of this. My friend says it is better to let the boy KNOW than to have him curious. What is your opinion?

DAILY READER

DEAR READER: Maybe I'm old-fashioned, but I still believe in modesty. A mother shouldn't make a federal case out of it if her four-year-old son accidentally catches her in the altogether, but the bathroom door should be locked while mother is bathing.

DEAR ABBY: Please reconsider your answer to DAILY READER. A four-year-old boy is NOT a dirty-old man watching a stripper in a burlesque show. He is only a child wanting to be close to his mother. Why do you have to drag "sex" into everything? You and Dr. Freud would have made a peach of a pair!

DISGUSTED IN BUFFALO

DEAR ABBY: I say it is better to have the natural curiosity of a youngster satisfied by seeing his own mother unclothed than to satisfy it later with smutty magazines or, heaven forbid, with some sweet little 15-year-old girl down the block.

DEAR ABBY: I can forgive the ignorance of Daily Reader, but not yours, Abby! Ever since that first moment of birth, I've seen our son naked, so why shouldn't he see me naked? In our house nakedness is natural. NOT flaunted, just natural.

When younger, our son (now 10) never found it necessary to chase little girls and pull up their skirts, as many of his friends did. And I'm sure that no young woman on a date with our son will ever be confronted with a clawing ape in a "give in, or get out" situation.

LIBBY B.

DEAR ABBY: Yes, you ARE old fashioned! Neither my wife nor I, nor our children have ever been ashamed of our bodies, clothed or unclothed.

Not so with my mother who was so "modest" she wouldn't even let a doctor examine her. Or my father, who dressed and undressed in the clothes closet.

Of course we "peeked" and developed unwholesome attitudes toward sex, family relations, and marriage which, fortunately, we were able to overcome before we married.

Your advice is usually right on target, but this time you shot from the hip. Sincerely,

G. D., PALO ALTO

DEAR ABBY: "Lock the bathroom door," you advise. NEVER!

Six months ago when we first moved into this neighborhood, my four-year-old brought six of his new friends to meet me while I was in the bathtub. I shooed them out quickly. After dressing I went to the drug store and bought a large bottle of bubble bath, and now if they should come in, I will be modestly covered with froth.

Day-Long Bazaar at Pontiac 'YW'

Pontiac YWCA on West Huron Street will be one big bazaar Tuesday when the Pontiac Area Federation of Women's Clubs sponsors the first member holiday fair from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Between 30 and 40 organizations will have booths on all three floors of the building. Articles to be sold range from white elephants to small Christmas tree decorations.

The Federation's board of directors is sponsoring a tea room with food available all day. Other booths will also have food.

This undertaking gives the groups a chance to earn money for their individual projects and the public a chance to buy in one spot.

Federation membership is now over 5,000.

Jaycee Auxiliary Will Present 'Holiday Season in Fashion Show'

The Pontiac Jaycee Auxiliary's fashion show entitled "Holiday Season in Fashion," is slated for 8 p.m. Thursday in the Pontiac State Hospital chapel.

Fashions will be supplied by Hadley's of The Mall and The Children's Shop at Tel-Huron. Fran Harris of WWJ-TV will be the commentator.

Proceeds of the event will be used for the purchase of draperies and bedspreads for a new unit at the hospital.

Receiving Ward B, which is part of the community psychiatry division, is to be a 30-bed independent unit with all services available for short term stay (maximum of approximately 30 days) for men and women 17 to 65 years of age.

NEW VENTURE

This ward is one of five such centers being developed and will be the first in operation. It is under direction of Dr. Theodore Satersmoen, director of the Community Psychiatry Division.

It will serve a 14-township "catchment" area, treating patients who need immediate hospitalization on a short term basis, such as suicidal, homicidal or extreme anxiety patients.

It is hoped that intensive care under a closely-knit staff team will enable these patients to recover quickly.

Pontiac Press Photo

Pontiac Nursing Unit to Hold Open House for Student Prospects

Mercy School of Nursing, Pontiac Unit, will hold open house for prospective nursing students Wednesday from 3 to 5 p.m.

Nurses-in-training will conduct tours of the school and show slides depicting a day in the life of a student. A panel of students will describe classes, clinical laboratory and social activities.

Qualified high school graduates are eligible to enroll in the two-year program. Upon completion of training, the student receives a diploma in nursing and is eligible to take state board examinations to become a registered nurse.

AID

Some scholarships are available. The school also participates in the federal student nurse loan program.

Interested persons may contact the school on Fulton Street for further information.

A Philosopher's View of 'Art in Revolution'

The philosopher's view of art in revolution will be presented by Dr. Alfred Lessing, Thursday, before the Rochester branch of the American Association of University Women.

An assistant professor of philosophy at Oakland University, Dr. Lessing has specialized in the field of aesthetics and is prepared to discuss the "controversial changes in social values resulting from developments in the arts."

The social committee for this meeting is composed of Mrs. Kurt Stubenvoll, chairman, assisted by Mesdames William Allison, Russel Corbin, Richard Jance, Robert O'Brien, and Leo Pawloski.

Low-Key Celebration May Hint at Soviet Move on Viet Peace

News Analysis

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The performance of the Soviet leadership at Bolshevik anniversary ceremonies seemed in low key in view of the occasion, the 50th jubilee of Communist power.

It suggested deep preoccupation with internal political and economic affairs and with problems involving international communism, all dictating a policy of caution. Coinciding with this may even be a hint that the Soviet Union, in its own national interests, may eventually be persuaded to collaborate in seeking some avenue to peace in Vietnam.

It is likely the Soviet leaders don't dislike the prospect of America's expending its strength in a costly conflict, but the Kremlin has to weigh prospective advantages and disadvantages which might accrue to Moscow from a lessening of tension.

Diplomats who know the Kremlin well say the Russians will change or modify their policies only when such change or modification directly serves Soviet interests.

ON VERGE OF CHANGES

It can be argued that it is in the Kremlin's interest to contribute to a climate in which Moscow can pay more attention to relieving pressing problems which seem to be generating strains.

There is some thought among Kremlin watchers that the Soviet leadership is on the verge of changes at high levels, and that only the fact of the 50th anniversary has kept internal political strains from surfacing.

A number of factors could be involved in the strains. One is the Vietnam war and differences of opinion on the Soviet reaction to it. Another is an economic dispute basic to Soviet politics on the question of investment in the domestic economy. Still another is the clearly diminishing authority of Moscow in international communism, an outgrowth of the dispute with Red China, the emergence of "national communism" in East Europe and widespread resistance in the Communist world to total Soviet dictation.

HARMONY LACKING

The Soviet "collective leadership" seems far from wholly harmonious. Party Chief Leonid I. Brezhnev apparently is involved in a dispute with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin on domestic economic policies, much of the quarrel centering about the need for a greatly increased investment in agriculture. Brezhnev appears to be on the side of the farmers; Kosygin plumping for more consumer goods, and the military nagging for more hardware. In a highly charged world atmosphere, both Brezhnev and Kosygin might lose to the military.

Brezhnev used the occasion of the jubilee to plead again for an international Communist meeting.

There is stubborn opposition to a world meeting — from the Italian Communists, the Romanians, the Yugoslavs, the Cubans and others, for a variety of their own reasons.

Some Communist leaders around the world obviously feel that a world meeting could only make matters worse and contribute even more to the process of splintering.

The Cubans — who have used the occasion of the jubilee to deliver a studied affront to the Russians by declining to send a high-ranking representative — object on general principles to the Soviet policy of caution in Latin America which Havana apparently feels is inhibiting its brand of violent revolution.

If Soviet policy is sailing through choppy seas, there can be many good reasons for trying to avoid rocking the boat at this time. High tension, such as generated by Viet Nam can only contribute to the Kremlin's problems.

Negro Election Victories Called Reason to Rejoice

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG Jr.
Executive Director
National Urban League

For the first time in our history, Negro candidates have been elected mayors of major cities.

YOUNG

Carl B. Stokes, mayor-elect of Cleveland, and Richard G. Hatcher, mayor-elect of Gary, now join the many other talented Negroes who hold important governmental positions.

It was a wonderful day, and one Negro disk jockey proclaimed the joyful day-after the elections as "National Soul Brother Day." Negroes all over the country had reason to rejoice, for the election results meant more to them than just having Negroes in high positions.

These results were a perfect indication of the very real and legitimate political power the Negro community can wield in cooperation with liberals and concerned conservatives.

Carl Stokes won in Cleveland because he was able to convince enough white voters that he was the best qualified man for the job. And many white voters have learned to abandon a reflex kind of prejudice where Negroes are involved.

Real political power came through forging the kind of alliance that a Carl Stokes created in Cleveland.

NO KNOWLEDGE

There are any number of so-called militants yelling "black power" with no knowledge of what power is or how to get it.

Carl Stokes has showed all of us that the way to achieve power is to be better than the other guy, not to scare him out of his wits, and to work with all kinds of people and groups in a meaningful coalition.

I hope that one of the results of this election will be the death of the backlash scare. In the months preceding the election, we heard all sorts of dire predictions about how solid white voting blocs would crush Negro candidates,

In Boston, one of the candidates for mayor, Mrs. Louise Hicks, was generally described as a backlash candidate.

LARGE MINORITY

She had fought against steps which would have integrated Boston's school system, and commentators predicted that she would role up a massive anti-Negro vote. She did roll up a large minority of the vote, but she lost.

She lost. That is the point.

We can talk all we want about the numbers of votes Mrs. Hicks got, or the shady dealings of the machine in Gary which resulted in court orders against ballot-box tampering.

But this is not important when seen in the light of the final results. Bigots were shown to be an ineffectual minority, and candidates in big-city elections thought of as anti-Negro, lost.

So let's not concentrate so much on the backlashers. I hope the press will finally understand that they have been played up too much. They lost in 1964; they lost in 1967.

Having captured so adroitly the flight of motion in this splendid GTO, our engineers could well have quit while far ahead. But that would have been decidedly un-Pontiac.

So under that cheeky hood, and behind that revolutionary new bumper, they put the soul of a car born to the road.

The suspension, with its Wide-Track stance and turnpike tuning, clings like morning fog. The optional engine, while delivering 360 hp, can be ordered to breathe through those pinched nostrils. The tires are very wide. The seats are bucket. (You can exchange them for bench.) The shifter is Hurst for greater shifting around. And the General Motors safety package, which includes side marker lights, is standard.

The option list is as grand as it is long, and includes Rally II wheels, hood-mounted tach, even a stereo tape player. You might be lucky enough to find The Great One at your Pontiac dealer's. Or on the road. But nowhere else.

Steels Show Strength

Stock Market Resumes Rally

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels put on a show of strength as the stock market resumed its rally early today. Trading was active. Gains outnumbered losses by better than 2 to 1 and the Dow Jones Industrial Average was up about 4 points.

Reports that demand for steel appears ready to rise sharply brought buying into that group. The over - all market still seemed to be making a technical recovery from a deeply oversold condition, brokers said.

Jones & Laughlin climbed about 2 points while advances of around a point were made by such major producers as U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic Steel.

The leading auto stocks were unanimously ahead, but their gains were fractional.

Brunswick, up a fraction, took an early lead on volume but was closely followed in turnover by Occidental Petroleum which picked up another point to add to its strong rise of recent weeks.

Some of the glamor issues were deflated a bit more. Collins Radio and E.G. & G. sank more than a point each on heavy volume.

Gains of a point or more were posted by a wide variety of other issues, including Avco, Raytheon, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, IBM, Westinghouse Electric and Polaroid.

Fractional gains were made by Zapata Off-Shore, Mead Johnson and Kaiser Industries.

Rocky Urged to Make a Bid

Nixon Lists Possible GOP '68 Candidates

By The Associated Press

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has been prodded to seek the Republican presidential nomination.

Rockefeller's name was also on the mind of former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who listed the New Yorker—and himself—with three others as GOP nomination.

The political name-dropping occurred as a nationwide poll said that for the first time since November 1957 Republicans lead Democrats as the party most citizens believe can best handle the nation's prime problems.

VIET ISSUE

In an interview, Lindsay said Vietnam will figure heavily in the campaign and the Republican candidate "ought to offer an alternative to our present course of action."

He said his own present popularity in national polls has not caused him to harbor any ambition or hope of winning the nomination for himself. He listed Sen. Charles H. Percy of Illinois as another possible GOP candidate, praising him as a Republican progressive "in the best tradition of the party."

Nixon's list of potential candidates, offered in a copyrighted interview in U.S. News and World Report, included Michigan Gov. George Romney, Illinois Sen. Charles H. Percy and California Gov. Ronald Reagan as well as Rockefeller and himself.

"It will be one of these five," he said.

HAS PLANS

The 1960 GOP presidential nominee was also definite about his own plans: "If I become a candidate, I have definitely decided to enter primaries in New Hampshire, Wisconsin, Indiana, Nebraska, Oregon and South Dakota."

The latest Gallup Poll, said the 1,565 adults queried across the country listed the Vietnam war, racial strife and the high cost of living as the nation's most important problems.

The Atlanta Journal quoted James H. Gray, Georgia Democratic chairman, as saying "there is quite a move by party chairmen" in the South to offer the vice presidency to former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace on the condition he "stay inside the party."

Wallace has said in numerous recent speeches around the country he will run on a third-party ticket if neither major party offered a conservative candidate and platform.

Self-Contracts to Save

Christmas Club Grows

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — Bright red and green checks are going through the mails these first two weeks of November to 15.4 million Christmas Club members who saved $1,987,984,000 in the preceding 50 weeks.

These figures, of a size usually associated with the federal debt, come from the files of that oddly named, 57-year-old organization called Christmas Club a Corporation.

CUNNIFF

The history of its unusual name may be somewhat dim, but as a spokesman says, "If it's worth asking questions about, it's worth saving in its present form."

Founded in 1910, CCaC is now a profitable Madison Avenue operation dedicated to the proposition that people can accumulate money for Christmas shopping by making a contract with themselves to save a bit each week.

PRINTER, PROMOTER

CCaC's primary service is to provide banks and other savings institutions with promotional literature, envelopes, blank checks and other printed products. It handles no deposits; it is a printer and the promoter of an idea.

To acquire the business of thousands of banks, the club has a full-time, year-round sales force spieling forth the benefits of Christmas Clubs to banks. And what do they sell? Exposure.

CCaC tells banks, and can back up its arguments with a storm of statistics, that every CCaC membership brings a customer through its doors an average of 35 times a year. On each trip the member becomes a potential customer for a savings or checking account, a loan or some other service.

No wonder banks are willing to take a loss on such accounts. A loss? Why everyone knows that few Christmas Clubs pay any interest. True, but banks incur so many expenses in handling small transactions that expenses exceed income.

What is it, then, that Christmas Club a Corporation offers? "A little bit of ability," the spokesman says. "We supply the best materials, checks, advertising. We prepare and sell these at a price the bank couldn't match."

This can be disputed by CCaC's few competitors, and by some banks which print their own club materials, but the fact is that CCaC continues to grow and, according to its stockholders, prosper as well.

Day Is Coming for Cubs' Event

Adult leaders in the Cub Scout program of the Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America may attend Pow-Wow '67 Saturday, not last Saturday as previously announced.

The Pow-Wow will be at Kennedy Junior High School 1700 Baldwin, from 1 to 8 p.m.

The annual Pow-Wow is a place for exchange of ideas and information to better cub pack and den activities, not just another training session, according to a scout spokesman.

A Blue and Gold Banquet will be held at 6 p.m. and an ususal "midway" will allow units to display exhibits showing their favorite activities.

Registration will be $2.50 per person. Contact the Council center at 132 Franklin Blvd. for additional information.

Woman Hurt in Novi Crash

A 23-year-old woman is reported in satisfactory condition at Botsford General Hospital after being pried out of her car which hit a truck Saturday afternoon at Grand River and Novi Road, Novi.

Mrs. David Madden of Plymouth was allegedly traveling in a service lane at 12:05 p.m. when she hit a truck parked in the lane, reported Novi Police.

The truck driver, Leonard Briske Sr., 38, of Mattawan, was issued a ticket for improper parking, said police.

City Amvets' Head Warns About Sale

Norman Schram, commander of the Bemis-Olson Amvets Post in Pontiac, warned today that a sales drive is under way in the city which is using the Amvets name without authorization.

He said the drive is a door-to-door solicitation for sales of bottles of vanilla.

Schram warned residents that the local post has nothing to do with the drive. He said the only solicitations made by the national Amvet organization is the White Clover Drive for various servicemen's projects.

Wild Goose Chase Turns Out Just Ducky

Waterford Township police Sgt. David Phelps and Patrolman Harley Hopp went on a mission this morning that turned out to be anything but another routine "wild goose chase."

This time they got the goose.

Phelps and Hopp were on patrol at M59 near Crescent Lake when they spotted a lame Canadian goose walking down the center line of the highway, causing somewhat of a traffic problem.

They chased the lame bird across the Waterford Township High School front lawn, then back across M59 before Hopp apprehended the culprit with "a flying goose tackle," they said.

The scrappy fowl proved to be a seasoned battler, and Hopp suffered a cut finger while taking the bird into custody.

NATURE CENTER

The officers tagged the bird with the new name, "Barely Jumping." They plan to turn the goose over to the Drayton Plains Nature Center.

Court Ruling on Romney Before '68 Confab Urged

Celler, dean of the House, noted Sunday that the Constitution requires the President to be a "natural born citizen" of the U.S. and he called for clarification of Romney's qualifications because he was born in Chihuahua, Mexico, of American parents.

Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, wrote in an article in the current New York Law Journal that it is not clear whether the framers of the Constitution "meant to include as eligible the foreign - born children of United States citizens."

Celler wrote: "A challenge to a presidential candidate made after his party's nominating convention or after the Electoral College has convened could intimidate even the most upright and courageous members of the judiciary; they would doubtless feel justified in retreating before the will of the people."

BRITISH LAWS

Celler said that if the framers of the Constitution were conditioned in their thinking by British nationality laws, it would seem that they meant to include as eligible the foreign - born children of United States parents. However, constitutional records "do not in any way disclose the intent of the founding fathers," Celler wrote.

$300 Robbed at Gas Station

News in Brief

More than $700 in cash was stolen from the home of Stella Duncan of 11 S. Jessie by burglars who broke through a window, it was reported to Pontiac police early today.

11-Fumble 'Team Effort' Mars Visit to Minnesota

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — The dictionary's definition of fumble is: To handle CLUMSILY.

Thus conclusively, after the Detroit Lions' 10-10 tie yesterday with the Minnesota Vikings, it would be that the Lions played the clumsiest game in history of the National Football League.

OFFICIALLY, they fumbled 11 times, a new NFL record.

ACTUALLY, they fumbled 13 times.

FORTUNATELY, two were nullified by penalties.

DEFENSIVELY, the Lions played a superb game.

OFFENSIVELY the backs and those on special teams, took turns being heroes one minute and goats the next.

STATISTICALLY, it was unbelievable that the Lions were lucky to salvage a tie even though they dominated every category of running, passing and return yardage.

It was difficult to understand why the Lions fumbled so often. The temperature was a cold 34 degrees, but it was the same temperature on both sides of the field, and yet the Vikings only fumbled once.

ONE NULLIFIED

The Lions actually fumbled 10 times in the first half, but one was nullified, so officially they were charged with nine.

Even after 10 official fumbles, it appeared that the Lions could overcome all of their mistakes and pull out the victory in the final 50 seconds, but Tom Nowatzke became the goat of the day when he committed the 11th fumble just 20 yards from field goal certainty.

It was almost a repeat of the previous week when Minnesota faced with a sure defeat by way of a field goal recovered a fumble by the Giants' Mel Triplett with 40 seconds left to play.

Quarterback Karl Sweetan, himself guilty of two fumbles and a grounding penalty which cost the Lions a short field goal try and subsequently an eventual Minnesota touchdown, noted he called for the Nowatzke running play in the huddle saying, "I called for a 4-3 right and told Tom to hold the ball with both hands and stay right in the middle whether he gained a yard or not.

"I guess it startled everyone to see the ball squirting out. But, we were all guilty of bad mistakes and I feel terrible about that grounding penalty."

ONE YARD SHORT

The fumbles and the uninspired tie took some of the glamour off of the running of Mel Farr, who fell one yard short of Lions' all-time rushing record in one game, set by Bobby Hoernshmeyer.

Farr picked up 197 yards in 24 carries, but he also joined the flock with Nowatzke, Sweetan, Tom Watkins, Bobby Felts, Wayne Rasmussen and Wayne Walker by fumbling three times and dropping a pass in the 4th period on the Minnesota 35 with not a Viking within 20 yards of him.

Going from their own seven early in the game, as a result of a fumbled punt which put them in a hole, the Lions marched to the Viking 28 from where Sweetan hit John Henderson with a pass to the 14.

Henderson fumbled and Jim Gibbons recovered; however, the play and the fumble were nullified and the Lions were back on the Vikings' 46 for holding. The big play in getting to the 28 was a 37 yard run by Farr.

A couple minutes later, Sweetan passed beautifully from his own 13 just over Nowatzke but within reach at the 50 where the ball was dropped and the Lions had to put out as the quarter ended.

ANOTHER MARCH

On the ensuing kickoff, the Lions started to march again. Henderson dropped a pass at the 35 on second down, but on third down from the 50, Sweetan ran wide and fumbled, but the ball went out of bounds for a first down on the 44.

Farr went 19 yards to the 25 and two plays later Farr fumbled on the six and the threat ended. The Vikings were stopped and had to punt, but got the

Palmer First; Joins Nicklaus in Team Win

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the easy-going golf master from Latrobe, Pa., was off to new conquests today after capturing his first World Cup individual prize in six tries as co-winner of the American team.

Jack Nicklaus came in second as individual winner plus co-holder of the team trophy by the United States for the sixth time.

"I came here to help win the team championship," added Nicklaus. "If I couldn't win the individual prize I'm glad Arnold did."

The two U. S. stars, who outstripped a field of 80 golfers from 40 nations, territories and regions, fired a combined 567 for the two rounds, 13 strokes below their nearest competitors, southpaw Bob Charles and Walker Godfrey of New Zealand.

Palmer, who nursed an eye scratched by sand from a trap shot for the last two days, fired a five-under par 67 in the final round for a total of 276.

Nicklaus and Charles tied for second place, five strokes behind Palmer.

Individual and national prestige was the real stake in the World Cup, formerly called the Canada Cup.

SMALL PURSE

Palmer got only $1,000 for the best individual score and shared $2,000 with Nicklaus for the team victory. Nicklaus and Charles split $500 for second place while Tony Cerda of Argentina won $400 for his 284 and third place, and Ted Ma-

AL's Move Spurs Expansion Action by National Loop

CHICAGO (AP) — The National League, fearful of being shutout in the rich Northwest territory, will hold a special expansion meeting today.

President Warren Giles of the National League called the meeting shortly after the American League shifted the Kansas City A's to Oakland beginning next season and voted to expand to 12 teams by 1969, if possible.

The American League awarded franchises to Seattle and to a new group in Kansas City.

Giles, in announcing the special meeting earlier this month, said representatives of cities seeking franchises will not be invited to attend.

"While the National League has applications from several cities for membership, this will not be an appropriate meeting to hear representatives of those cities and none will be invited to appear," said Giles.

The National League virtually was forced into having the meeting in view of American League action last month in order to prepare its case for expansion at the winter meetings in Mexico City Nov. 28-Dec. 2.

Irishwoman Takes 1st

GENEVA, Switzerland (UPI) —Diana Connolly-Carew of Ireland won the Prix de Letrier on Barrymore Sunday in the last event of Geneva's international horse show.

Miss Connolly-Carew won in a jump-off with Italy's Vittorio Orlandi, riding Killane, with three points and a time of 40.4 seconds on the 14-obstacle course.

One more pinch will assure the Hoosiers of a trip to the Rose Bowl, And, who knows, two more weeks of pinching will mean the Big Ten title and possibly the national championship.

The Hoosiers were pinching themselves today following a harrowing 14-13 victory over Michigan State which left Indiana tied for the Big Ten lead with Purdue and only one of two major undefeated and untied football teams in the nation.

With top-ranked Southern Cal and No. 3 North Carolina State falling last Saturday, sixth-ranked Indiana and seventh ranked Wyoming remained the only undefeated, untied major teams.

Purdue, No. 5, boosted its record to 7-1 by humiliating Minnesota 41-12 as Leroy Keyes scored three touchdowns to give him 14 for the season in the Big Ten and break the touchdown and scoring record of 13 set by the late Tony Butkovich of Purdue in the 1943 season.

Indiana takes its story book horde to Minnesota Saturday where a victory will assure the Hoosiers of their first trip to the Rose Bowl regardless of Big Ten results the following week.

Purdue cannot go under the no-repeat rule and now that Minnesota has one defeat on its Big Ten slate, an Indiana victory over Minnesota would assure the Hoosiers of no worst a finish than a Big Ten tie with Minnesota. Under these circumstances Indiana would get the nod since it has never been to the Rose Bowl Minnesota has had its licks.

While Indiana and Purdue were taking control in the Big Ten Saturday, Northwestern Michigan and Ohio State picked up conference triumphs.

Bill Freehan Named 'Tiger of the Year'

DETROIT (AP) — When "Tiger of the Year" balloting came up a year ago, Bill Freehan didn't rate a whit.

But things change.

Now the burly Detroit catcher holds the honor for 1967 and he was the solid favorite.

Pitcher Earl Wilson got eight votes and outfielder Al Kaline got six, with 13 for Freehan, in the voting by Detroit baseball writers.

WRONG RECEIVER — Los Angeles Rams' Ed Meador (21) wasn't the intended receiver on this play, but he wound up with the ball and romped 25 yards for a touchdown in LA's 30-17 win over Philadelphia's Eagles. Philadelphia quarterback Norm Snead had Jim Kelly (84) left in mind when he fired the ball, but Rams' Irv Cross (27-left) deflected the ball and it settled into the hands of Meador.

Williams Posts 2 Touchdowns With Kickoffs

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — "Nonstop" Travis Williams has rushed to the rescue of the ailing Green Bay Packers and now the Cleveland Browns are suffering from a severe case of wounded pride.

Williams, the Packers' firstclass traveling man, made the Browns somewhat sorry they ever got off their bus Sunday as he returned kickoffs 87 and 85 yards for first-period touchdowns.

The Packers added three more touchdowns in the same period and went on to hand the Browns the worst defeat in their history, 55-7.

"I couldn't believe it was happening," said the 21-year-old rookie from Arizona State after triggering a record National Football League first-period scoring spree — 35 points.

Neither could the Browns, who played as if thunderstruck after Williams' first ramble on the opening kickoff. "I don't know what happened," said Coach Blanton Collier. "I saw him run against St. Louis two weeks ago. I knew what he could do. We all knew what he could do."

Williams helped beat the Cardinals in that game with a 83-yard kickoff return. He now has three touchdowns on only six returns and already shares the NFL season record. His two touchdowns Sunday also tied a single game record set last season by Timmy Brown of the Philadelphia Eagles.

No one before Williams ever scored twice on kickoffs in the same period.

FOURTH CHOICE

The rookie, a fourth-round draft choice with 9.3 speed in the 100-yard dash, has carried the ball only 11 times, including five carries from scrimmage. Yet, he has gained 389 yards, including 43 yards in four carries against the Browns Sunday.

Williams has a 9.8-yard rushing average from scrimmage, a 53.3-yard average on kickoffs, and a gaudy 35-yard average over-all.

"It's a question of speed," said Coach Vince Lombardi of the rookie prize he warned the football world about during training camp. "He hits the hole so darn quick."

Williams was not the only factor in Cleveland's undoing. Donny Anderson, the bonus baby making his first NFL regular season start, scored four touchdowns, and veteran Ben Wilson, obtained from Los Angeles before the season, gained 100 yards rushing.

Second Period Surge Thwarts Montreal Hopes

DETROIT — The Detroit Red Wings are finding it takes three periods of maximum effort to win in the National Hockey League.

Skating surprisingly well throughout the final period, the Wings carried the play to the Montreal Canadians before 14,831 fans and came through with a 3-1 victory on Detroit Olympia ice.

With the win, the Wings moved into first place in the NHL's Eastern Division along with Toronto and New York.

In other NHL Sunday action, the Chicago Black Hawks knocked off the St. Louis Blues, 5-2, New York stopped the Oakland Seals, 5-3, and Philadelphia surprised Boston, 4-2.

Part of the Wings' woe to date in an 8-5-1 record has been their tendency to relax. That happened a week ago against Los Angeles when the Wings, with a seemingly easy 4-2 victory in sight, took it easy in the third period and the Kings caught fire and won it, 6-4. That game also brought about the downfall of goalie Roger Crozier, who quit the team the next day.

The Detroiters didn't ease up last night. The defense threw up a wall around rookie goalie Roy Edwards in that final frame and the Canadiens managed only six shots on goal and the Detroit netminder handled them with ease.

SHARP PERFORMANCE

Edwards made his debut Thursday in a 5-1 win over Pittsburgh, and he turned aside 37 Canadien shots in last night's triumph.

The clubs wrapped up the scoring in the first two periods. Detroit grabbed a 1-0 lead in the first frame and after the Canadiens tied it midway in the second, the Wings shoved a couple more shots past goalie Rogatien Vachon to cap the scoring.

The Wings' third goal was a nifty slap shot by center Norm Ullman and it was the 300th of his career, putting him in a category along with nine other NHL performers. Other Red Wings to reach the 300 milestone are Gordie Howe, Alex Delvecchio and the retired Ted Lindsay.

GAME DEADLOCKED

Detroit managed 33 shots on goal with 14 of them coming in the final period.

The Wings now start a seven-game road trip that will take them to California, Chicago, Philadelphia, Toronto, Boston and New York.

They meet Oakland Thursday and Los Angeles Friday and move into Chicago on Sunday. They'll be home Nov. 30 to meet Toronto.

CHICAGO ACE NETS 2

Bobby Hull collected his 13th and 14th goals to spark the Chicago victory, only the fourth of the season for the Black Hawks who are perched in the cellar of the Eastern Division.

Other goal getters for the Black Hawks were Ken Wharram, his 200th career goal, Doug Mohns and Dennis Hull, his first of the season.

Philadelphia thwarted Boston's bid to take the lead in the East as goalie Bernie Parent and defenseman Joe Watson, Boston castoffs in the expansion draft last spring, came back to haunt their ex-mates.

Watson scored his first goal of the season to put the Flyers ahead to stay in the first period, and Parent came up with 37 saves in blanking the Bruins until the final five minutes.

Oakland's Seals almost erased a 4-1 first period deficit against the Rangers but Reg Fleming's second goal of the game put New York out of reach.

The Seals, after opening the season with two victories, have now dropped 11 and tied three in a tailspin that started Oct. 18.

Tomahawks Falter in League Opener

Holland Hands Pontiac Quintet 134-114 Defeat

Piston Rookie Dove, Young Spark Losers on Winners' Court

By JERE CRAIG

HOLLAND — The Pontiac Tomahawks learned a lesson Saturday night in their North American Basketball League initiation at the Holland Civic Center where the host Carvers were 134-114 victors on opening night.

The fledgling Tomahawks entered the contest confident of a strong show, buoyed by the late addition of Detroit Piston rookies "Sonny" Dove and Paul Long, both on option from the National Basketball Association combine.

The veteran, point-minded Holland quintet, however, took an early lead and never trailed while frolicking to a decisive victory before a small turnout estimated at approximately 900.

Featuring a balanced attack, the Carvers amassed a nine-point advantage midway through the opening quarter. Despite 13 ball-handling miscues, the visiting Tomahawks rallied behind Joe Maddrey who came off the bench to score five points and cut the lead to 25-23 at the buzzer.

FORGES TIE

Long's three-point play off a driving layup with nine minutes left in the half earned the Tomahawks' their best position of the night, a 32-32 tie. But Willie Merriweather and 6-11 Bill (The Hill) McGill led the Carvers on a spree that led to a 63-52 margin at the intermission.

The Tomahawks overcame their cold shooting to hit 13 of 26 shots in the third period. They cut the deficit to 71-65; however, Dick Dzik missed two charity tossess and the Carver cracked the game wide open.

Sparked by Henry Hughes and Merriweather, the winners pulled out to a 92-71 lead. With the Tomahawks' offense breaking down and the defense not effective, the Carvers were able to pad their lead to 114-85.

The addition of Long and Dove added 60 points (34 by Dove) to the Pontiac offense. However, despite nine assists and a like number of rebounds by Long there was an obvious disunity to the Tomahawks' attack and defense due to the newcomers' lack of practice with the other members of the team.

No one else managed more than 11 points and the offense was plagued by bad shots and a lack of offensive rebounding. The defense was beaten early by the Carvers' well-trained fast break.

The Tomahawks did hold their own on the backboards; and coach Bob Duffy had a good opportunity to see his entire traveling squad in action. A late surge that reduced the Carvers' lead to 118-106 with three minutes to go.

Pontiac next will meet Grand Rapids, a 133-107 upset winner at Muskegon, in the Tomahawks' home court debut at Northern High School, 8 p.m. Saturday.

Other NABL contests last Saturday found Battle Creek surprising Columbus, 133-113, and Lansing nipping Chicago, 108-107.

Three Teams Easy Winners

MFL Passers Find Targets

Quarterbacks went on a touchdown passing spree in the Midwest Football League over the weekend as the race for the title drew closer to an end.

Dayton, with Pete Mikolajewski throwing for five touchdowns, whipped Lansing 49-12; Ypsilanti, with Steve Juday passing for four TD's walloped Detroit's Steelers, 33-0 and Mt. Clemens with four touchdowns by passing, drubbed Flint 31-0.

The Pontiac Firebirds, idle until Wednesday night's road game at Lansing, remained in second place but pondering the loss of quarterback Tim Jones for possibly the remainder of the season.

Mikolajewski completed 10 passes to Chuck McElligott for 189 yards and three touchdowns. Two others went to Roosevelt Mell as Pete finished with 19 of 34 and 395 yards.

Juday had seven for 16 hitting Craig Kirby with two TD's, Lou Bartoletti and Pete Cleavenger each with one.

Pat Brown passed for three to Larry Fowler and Ron Bishop hit Tom Kelley with the 4th for Mt. Clemens.

Pontiac will have Bill Harrington at quarterback Wednesday at Lansing, and should they win, then everything will point to the final weekend for the Firebirds.

Saturday night, Nov. 25, the Firebirds will visit Ypsilanti and Mt. Clemens will be at Dayton to face "Pistol Pete" and the Colts, who hit Mt. Clemens with its only loss this year.

Without Jones, who had thrown for 17 touchdowns in seven games, the Firebirds may have difficulty defeating Ypsilanti. But if they should win and Dayton upend Mt. Clemens, then the MFL would be forced into a playoff.

Engrossed Grid Mentor 'Unaware' of 90-0 Edge

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico State University football Coach Warren Woodson, with a lifetime coaching record of 238-110-20 that ranks with the nation's best, says he became so engrossed with the game Saturday, he didn't look at the scoreboard.

The score: New Mexico State 90, Northern Arizona 0.

"I was so engrossed in the game that I didn't know we were scoring that much," he said. "I suddenly looked up on the scoreboard and saw it was 83-0."

Woodson said he used 48 of his 49 players in uniform. The 49th, Loy Hayes, still hadn't recovered from a knee injury and one of the 48, defensive halfback Abelardo Alba, played after he was shaken up in a traffic accident Friday night.

Woodson also played 14 freshmen in the game including halfback Jim Terrells, who scored two touchdowns.

Sal Olivas, the only starter to go the whole game, played the full 60 minutes because there wasn't a reserve quarterback. Alba usually backs Olivas up but when Woodson found out he had been in the accident, he benched Alba after the first half. Olivas, one of the nation's passing leaders, threw for five touchdown passes.

"We got beat 76-0 in 1964 by Utah State," said Woodson. "We didn't ask for any sympathy and we sure didn't get any. There's not much difference between 76 and 90."

Woodson said the game plan called for the Aggies to pass a lot since scouts pinpointed that as a Northern Aona problem.

"We just happened to hit them where it hurt the most," Woodson said. They're not that bad a team. The game just went according to the game plan."

The Aggies led 34-0 after the first period.

Woodson said during one scoring spree, the trend went like this:

The Aggies intercepted a pass on their 38 and returned it to Northern's eight, scoring on the next play. After the Aggies held on four downs, the Aggies returned a punt to the Arizona 14 and scored on the next play.

After Northern punted again to its 47, a pass fell incomplete but on the next play Terrells went 47 yards for a touchdown.

"You can't tell the boy to stop after he's gained 10 yards," Woodson said.

Woodson said the game gave him a chance to use some of his freshmen, which are allowed to play varsity at New Mexico State, and said, "They showed up well."

Detroiter Takes Bowling Crown

Veteran Detroit bowler Mike Totsky Sunday finished strong to win the third annual Michigan Bowling Proprietors Association Men's Invitational Singles championship at Huron Bowl.

The 39-year-old Stroh's Beer team professional gained his first major individual title by beating teammate Dale Seavoy of Bloomfield Hills, in what was a showcase for the star-studded pro team.

The 50 bonus points added to his 19-pin win made the final margin the largest lead Totsky had in the finals. He was eighth in Saturday's 12-game qualifying which was paced by Seavoy's 2719 pins.

Totsky (who averaged 223 in the finals while having only two sub-200 games and winning 12 games, the same as Seavoy) never took the lead until the 14th match yesterday.

Two Pontiac bowlers made impressive showings in the 16 head-to-head finals matches. Dale Remley moved from 10th in the qualifying to fourth by hitting at a 219 clip and winning nine matches, and Tony Ledesma (who was the 16th qualifier) placed eighth.

Cranes Snap Gridiron Jinx

N. Farmington Slips Past Farmington

The Cranes of Cranbrook turned in a 12-8 victory over Gilmour Academy of Cleveland, their first victory over the Ohio team since the series opened in 1961.

North Farmington's Raiders ran their record to 4-1-1 in their series with Farmington by posting a 7-0 triumph.

In other games, Flint Northern blanked Bay City Handy, 26-0, Port Huron Northern dumped Bad Axe, 34-7, and L'Anse Creuse crushed Chippewa Valley, 33-7.

Cranbrook scored once in the first and pushed across the winning marker in the third.

PASSES HELP

Quarterback Dirk Dieters fired a 27-yard scoring pass to Bob Drey in the first, and he teamed with Nick Gilbert on a 27-yard completion to set up the winning marker.

Gilbert carried the ball to the one and halfback Craig Tuohy banged over for the touchdown. The victory gave Cranbrook a 5-3 season mark.

Quarterback Norm DeCourcey and Rick Knock teamed on a 60-yard pass-and-run scoring play and Charley Button booted the point for all the points North Farmington needed.

The win gave the Raiders a final mark of 6-3. Farmington closed at 1-7-1, losing the last five in a row.

OU Soccer Team Records Shutout

Russ Smythe of Berkley came through with his first shutout of the season Saturday as Oakland University blanked Kalamazoo College in a soccer match, 3-0.

Junior Matt Friedemann gave the Pioneers a 1-0 lead by scoring on a penalty kick in the first period, while Bill Swor and Kerry Pike added the other goals. It was Swor's fourth goal of the campaign.

Helling Wins PBA Tourney

PLAINVILLE, Conn. (AP)—Don Helling of St. Louis won the $30,500 Plainville Jay-Cees Open Sunday. It was only his third start on the Professional Bowlers Association tour.

The 23-year-old rookie finished the 40-game grind with 9,393 pins. This included 550 bonus pins he picked up for winning 11 and losing five in Sunday's match play action.

ball back immediately when Felts fumbled the punt on the Vikings' 41.

Again the Lions defense held tight and the Vikings punted out. This time Lem Barney made a fair catch on the 22 from where the next drive started.

The Lions moved to the Minnesota 25 where Nowatzke fumbled and Sweetan recovered, but on the next play as he did against the Bears, Sweetan threw underhanded to an unknown receiver and this penalty pushed the Lions out of field goal range back to the Viking 41.

Wayne Walker came in for the attempt from the 48. Rasmussen fumbled the snap, Walker picked it up ran to the Viking 45 where he fumbled (this was the 8th one), and Earsell Mackbee picked it up and went 55 yards for the touchdown and a 10-0 lead.

The Lions still had a chance to score with only 48 seconds on the clock at intermission. Tommy Vaughn ran back the ensuing kickoff 51 yards to the Viking 46, but on the first play Lonnie Warwick intercepted a pass, ran 17 yards, then fumbled and the Lions again had the ball on the Detroit 46.

But once again, Sweetan went back to pass, was hit, fumbled and Minnesota recovered as the half ended.

The Lions had good field position most of the second half starting from the Viking 46 on an early drive which netted a 26-yard touchdown pass to Bill Malinchak, as Walker converted, 10-7.

A moment later after a first down on the Viking 12, the Lions had to settle for the tying field goal from the 10.

Minnesota quarterback Joe Kapp was harrassed by the Lions defense most of the 4th quarter but for the three series the Lions had the ball in the period, Farr dropped the pass in which he was alone, Walker missed a 45-yard try, and after marching from their own 34 to the Viking 22, Nowatzke completed the fumble tally on the 20.

New Record at Cranbrook

Rudy Zeller scored four times to break the individual scoring record as Cranbrook's soccer team posted a 5-1 victory over Chatham Kent over the weekend.

The four tallies hiked Zeller's total for the season to 15, one better than the old mark of 14 held jointly by Roger Cummings (1966) and Mark Packard (1965).

Suspect Held in Stabbing of City Man

A 29-year-old city man is in Pontiac General Hospital with stab wounds of the stomach, and his alleged assailant is in Oakland County Jail as the result of a reported argument Saturday.

In fair condition, according to hospital authorities, is Joseph Tillery of 153 Bagley.

Held for investigation of attempted murder is Robert C. Farrar, 38, of an unreported address, Pontiac police said.

Investigators were told Tillery was stabbed about 5:30 p.m., when he interceded in an alleged argument between a man and a woman at his home.

Police, who arrested Farrar at the scene, said they impounded a butcher knife.

Farrar will probably be arraigned on the charge today, according to officers.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF VIOLET Louise Gerber who passed away Nov. 13, 1963.
We loved her, yes we loved her,
but angels loved her more,
and they have sweetly called her,
to yonder shining shore,
The depths of sorrow we cannot tell,
of the one we loved so well
And while she sleeps peaceful sleep
her memory we shall always keep.
Sadly missed and happily remembered by son Ronald, mother and sister.

IN LOVING MEMORY OUR BELOVED father and grandfather, Earl J. Mullins, who was called to Heaven November 11, 1966.
God saw you getting weaker,
So He did what He thought best,
He came and stood beside you
And whispered "Come to rest".
You wished no one a last farewell,
Nor even said goodbye,
You were gone before we knew it
And only God knows why.

Boxoffice Poll Gives Julie, Burton Lead

Richard Burton and Julie Andrews emerged as King and Queen of the motion picture screen in the 31st annual All-American Screen Favorites Poll conducted by Boxoffice Magazine.

It was Burton's first appearance in the top male position, held for the last five years by Cary Grant, and Miss Andrews' third time as the leading female star.

Final results of the poll—conducted among theatermen, radio, TV and newspaper critics and the National Screen Council — in order of votes received:

TOP 12 NEWCOMERS

There were five newcomers to the Top Twelve male star list this year: Sidney Poitier, Michael Caine, Steve McQueen, Dean Martin, and Dick Van Dyke, but only one newcomer, Sandy Dennis, to the female Top Twelve.

In scoring second place among the Top Twelve female stars, Miss Taylor duplicated her position of the previous year. Miss Hepburn, in third, rose from fourth place, jumped from tenth the year before.

Paul Newman moved into second place among the males from fourth place the preceding year, Lee Marvin moved into third from tenth and John Wayne jumped from sixth to fourth place.

Johnson (Nunnally) Doubts Johnson's (Lyndon) Chances

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Playwright Nunnally Johnson's feet were on the coffee table, his glasses were on his forehead, and his tongue was in his cheek.

"There's a scurrilous rumor about you," I said, "to the effect that you like actors. What's wrong — have you gone senile?"

WILSON

"Ah was sayin' to a girl in Detroit, whose daddy is a leading Republican, and who didn't want her to marry an actor because they aren't stable enough, Ah was sayin' to her that her daddy might help elect an actor as President, and was that stable enough?"

He would bet, if he was a bettin' man, said Johnson — not Lyndon Johnson, but Nunnally Johnson — "that Ronald Reagan could be president.

"Ah get sore at people who knock actors!" Nunnally said. "If we elect an exhaberdasher, or a rich man like Roosevelt, why not an actor?

"Some day the government will be nothing but actors. TV will determine the presidency. A poor old fellah like Nixon might as well go home. If Jimmy Walker were alive, he could be president next year."

Johnson, the author of the brilliantly witty "Henry, Sweet Henry" and incoming "Married Alive," is the hero of many newspaper men because he was a great one himself.

He covered the Rudolph Valentino funeral and still has the gold coffin plates which undertaken Frank Campbell gave to reporters as souvenirs.

MACOMB, Ill. (UPI) — Members of Delta Sigma Phi fraternity announced yesterday that chapters at the University of Michigan and Western Illinois University have collected 15,500 pounds of clothing and $4,500 cash for Korean orphans.

Similar collections will be made next week at the University of Illinois and at Eastern Illinois and Millikin universities, the fraternity said.

Clothing and cash collected in the drive will be sent to Champaign, Ill., for transportation to Korea, where it will be distributed to orphonages by officers of the U.S. 8th Army.

Young Dems Mull Viet Policy

About 1,500 delegates from 700 chapters of the Young Democratic Clubs of America, a wing of the National Democratic Committee, begins its biennial four-day convention here Wednesday. In the stack of proposed resolutions and in the campaigns of the 10 candidates for presidency of the young Democrats, the overriding issue is peace.

A secondary movement, aimed at dumping Johnson as the party's 1968 standard bearer, may have been defused Sunday in Boston when the breakaway College Young Democrats rejected a resolution to keep Johnson off next year's ballot.

Among the administration supporters, the principal candidate for president of the clubs is R. Spencer Oliver, 30, of Bowie, Md., who apparently is supported in turn by the national party leaders. Until two months ago when he resigned to run for the office, Oliver was staff assistant to National Democratic Chairman John Bailey. Oliver is a former member of the staff of Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., and is first vice president of the young Democrats.

The best-known avowed peace candidate is Alan Reed of Lincoln, Neb., 27-year-old assistant professor of political science at the University of Nebraska and executive secretary of Nebraska's young Democrats. Reed said he supports the President on domestic issues and will work for his renomination.

Reed said there will be enough votes to support an "antiwar resolution" at the convention and predicts the peace momentum will sweep him into office.

COLLEGIANS FOR PEACE

Reed spent the weekend at the College Young Democrats' meeting in Boston where a resolution was endorsed calling for withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam, a halt to the bombing of North Vietnam, peace negotiations and a United Nations peace force to end the conflict.

David O. Banks, executive director of the young Democrats, said, "Our convention will reach a statement of support for the President. As in any organization you have a divergence of opinion. But it's pretty safe to say the convention will support the President, and when it comes to a vote, it will not even be close."

NEWLYWEDS REUNITED — Charles and Lida Caldwell were reunited yesterday when the 19-year-old bride was released from a hospital where she has been recovering from a gunshot wound in the chest inflicted by a former suitor. The ex-boyfriend shot Caldwell in the face shortly after the young couple was married two weeks ago and then abducted the bride. The kidnaper held her captive in his apartment for 44 hours and then shot and killed himself.

State Man Kills Wife, Visitor, Self

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — A Battle Creek man, distraught by marital problems, went on a shooting rampage in his mother-in-law's rooming house Sunday, 45 minutes after he purchased an M1 carbine and 100 rounds of ammunition from a nearby discount store.

The gunman, Anderson D. Nunnally, 28, shot and killed his wife, Erma, 27, and M. T. Fant, 41, and wounded two other persons before taking his own life with a single shot through the temple. Fant was a visitor at the house, police said.

Listed in critical condition at a Battle Creek hospital with a bullet wound in her right chest and arm was Mrs. Loretta Moore, Nunnally's mother-in-law.

Robert Lee Spraggins, 53, a roomer, suffered a superficial head wound and was held over for observation. His condition was listed as not serious.

DOMESTIC PROBLEMS

"He came to the house, threatened to kill everyone and opened fire," said Police Chief Clifford Barney. "He apparently had some domestic problems with his wife, who had gone to stay with her mother."

Barney said the bodies of Nunnally and his wife were found in the front yard of the Moore home. Mrs. Moore and Fant were found sprawled on the living room floor.

Spraggins, who returned to the house shortly after the shooting began, ran to a rear door and was creased by a bullet as he tried to enter, Barney said.

Barney said Nunnally fired 13 shots during his brief rampage. He said Mrs. Moore and Fant apparently were the first victims. Nunnaly then fired on Spraggins at the rear door and dragged his wife from the house to the front yard.
