GM Profits for Last Year Make History

Largest Totals Ever for Any Firm; Huge Production, Payroll

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp. last year earned more money than any corporation in history.

General Motors said today it made 1963 profits of $1,592,000,000 a gain of 13 per cent from 1962. Earnings came on sales of $16.5 billion, also a record by far for any business concern.

In summarizing what in many ways was an unprecedented year in the automobile industry, General Motors also reported new high marks in car and truck production, payroll, dividends paid and profit per share of common stock.

The only earnings achievement approaching the GM 1963 figure was the $1,474,404,000 in net income reported by American Telephone and Telegraph Co. for the 12 months ended Nov. 30. AT&T has not yet given its figures for calendar 1963.

In 1962, General Motors, the world's largest manufacturing concern, set its previous high of $1,459,000,000 in net profits and $14.6 billion in sales.

BOOM AFFECTED

The flood of new statistical highs generally reflected a boom that took hold in autos in 1962, expanded in 1963 and still is strong.

The spate of new statistical highs generally reflected a boom that took hold in autos in 1962, expanded in 1963 and still is strong.

On a unit basis, cars produced by all automakers in the United States were second to 1955's high. But counting imports, sales hit an unprecedented level of over 7.7 million. The car business is booming abroad, too.

GM's banner year resulted in worldwide sales of cars and trucks of 5,974,000, surpassing by 14 per cent the previous high of 5,239,000.

Worldwide payroll climbed to $4.3 billion, up more than 11 per cent from the preceding year; dividends rose $1,136,000,000, or 34 per cent ahead of the $850 million distributed in 1962; and number of persons employed climbed to 640,000, up 2.6 per cent from an 8-year-old mark established in 1955.

LBJ Asks Grants for Suburbia

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson extended a helping hand today to fast-growing suburban communities swamped by demands for "new classrooms, uncounted miles of new streets and utility lines, and an unprecedented volume of water and sewerage facilities."

He asked Congress to provide federal grants and loans to local governments and private developers so that future expansion won't be carried out, as it often has in the past, "in a sprawling, space-consuming unplanned and uneconomic way."

This was the major new proposal in the President's message to Congress on housing and community development, but he also had a few new wrinkles in the older, established programs such as public housing and urban renewal.

These variations included plans to buy and rent existing housing for public housing purposes and new aid for those ousted by urban renewal projects.

Johnson outlined to Congress a comprehensive program to achieve the goal he set shortly after taking office last fall: "A decent home for all Americans."

He called for expanded public housing and urban renewal, and new programs to help provide homes for farmers and migratory farm workers.

DEMANDS RENEWED

In the first major housing legislative proposal since 1961, Johnson renewed some old demands of the late President John F. Kennedy.

He called for creation of a Cabinet-level department of housing and community development and urged Congress to act swiftly on a mass transit bill, already passed by the Senate and awaiting House action.

On the two biggest programs in the Housing field, Johnson:

—Asked authorization of 50,000 additional public housing units for each of the next four years. The 1961 act authorized 100,000 units spread over three years.

PUBLIC HOUSING

The President also asked authority to lease 10,000 existing housing units a year for four years and also to purchase existing housing within the 50,000.

RADAR, AIM, FIRE — Pontiac police. Sgt. Lawrence LaBair looks through the viewfinder of the new radar transmitter and receiver, which will be put in use on city streets soon. The electrical device clocks the exact speed of motorists on a gauge mounted on the patrol car dashboard.

New Radar Will Clock City Drivers

Frontward or backward, radar spells trouble for Pontiac speeders.

Some heavy-footed motorists already may have been introduced to the Pontiac Police Department's new speed control device.

But so far they have received nothing more than a verbal warning and a lesson in the effectiveness of the instrument.

Traffic Safety Bureau officers are now being trained in the operation of the radar unit and will not be using it to issue tickets for at least two weeks, said Acting Police Chief William K. Hanger.

WILL BE INFORMED

"The public can be assured they will be informed when it goes into actual operation," he added.

"We are not out to trap motorists or write a lot of tickets," said Hanger. "Our main concern is to check the major cause of accidents."

Large signs warning motorists that speed is electrically timed already have been posted on all roads into the city.

The radar patrol car will be a new dark blue Pontiac, and will be marked "Police" and "Radar," Hanger said.

The radar unit consists of a small box on the instrument panel, and a cord-attached "antenna," which looks much like an automobile spotlight, that is attached to window bracket.

Commercially known as the "Speedalyzer," and manufactured by the Stephenson Co. of Red Bank, N. J., the radar is effective up to 1,500 feet.

The swivel-mounted antenna, which is both the transmitter and receiver of the thin beams, is capable of clocking speeds of cars traveling toward or away from the radar car.

It can be adjusted through a viewfinder to take in one, two or more lanes up to a total width of 90 feet.

The speed of the car being timed appears on a needle gauge on the dashboard instrument. The actual speed is shown; there is no computing.

JUST A WARNING

Patrolman Robert Brown, one of officers assigned to operate the unit, said motorists are accepting it "very well — particularly after learning they are

France Recognizes Reds; Nationalist China Protests

PARIS (AP)—France recognized Communist China today and quickly got a formal protest from President Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese government on Formosa.

But for the moment, at least, diplomatic relations between France and Nationalist China remained intact. In recognizing Peking, Paris did not break off with Taipei, and Formosa's first step was only a diplomatic protest, describing the French move as an "unfriendly act."

Related Stories, Page 30

France set out on what President Charles de Gaulle wants to be a "two Chinas" policy of recognizing Peking and Taipei as the respective authorities for the mainland and Formosa.

Chiang Kai-shek's cabinet was reported in session in Taipei to fix the nationalist position, and nationalist officials here predicted the aging generalissimo would go for a complete break with France.

The United States preceded the nationalist protest by denouncing the move as "an unfortunate step."

Officials said they are deeply concerned about the possibility that the move will increase Red Chinese ability to make trouble for the Western powers, especially in Africa.

BRIEF MESSAGE

France and Communist China announced their decision to establish diplomatic relations in a brief, two-sentence, communiqué.

It said the two nations would designate ambassadors within three months.

French officials said relations would be opened by a charge d'affaires in each capital. They said the French representative would leave for Peking shortly.

Kelley Urges Districting Be Ruled Illegal

PORT HURON (AP) — Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley called on a three-judge federal panel today to rule that the legislative apportionment provision of the new State Constitution violates the federal Constitution.

In a personal appearance before the U.S. District Court, Kelley said the outcome of the suit "will set the future of representative government far beyond the lives of any person here today."

The attorney general's appearance marked the beginning of the new lawsuit launched by Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle and four other labor leaders who seek to overturn the apportionment formula of the constitution.

They contend the formula, based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area, violates the "equal protection" clause of the 14th Amendment of the U.S. Constitution.

STILL PENDING

An earlier suit by Scholle, also seeking to affirm the so-called "one man-one vote" principle, still is pending a decision in the U.S. Supreme Court. Both sides have asked that it be declared moot because of the new State Constitution.

WINS CROWN—Linda Wigman, 17, of Traverse City is Michigan's Junior Miss for 1964. She won the title Saturday over 23 other girls in competition at Pontiac Northern High School.

Traverse City Beauty Wins Pageant Title

For the second time in three years, a teen-age beauty from Traverse City has been named Michigan's Junior Miss.

The new titleholder is Linda Wigman, a 17-year-old senior at Traverse City High School.

Linda won the crown over 23 other state girls in competition Saturday evening at Pontiac Northern High School.

In 1962, Mary Ellen Pike of Traverse City won the title.

The state pageant was conducted by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The girls were judged on mental alertness, scholastic achievement, youth fitness, creative and performing arts, poise and appearance.

RUNNER-UP

One of the seven area girls in the pageant was named second runner-up.

She is Nancy Stanquits, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stanquits of 30 Holcomb, Clarkston. Nancy represented the Clarkston Area Jaycees.

First runner-up was Donna Dee Dytinik of Allen Park. Both runners-up received $250 scholarships.

The Michigan Junior Miss received a $1,000 scholarship from the Coca-Cola Bottlers of Michigan, and an all-expense-paid trip to Mobile, Ala., March 14-21, to compete in the national finals.

About 850 persons in the audience Saturday watched last year's Junior Miss, Dianne Girard of Lincoln Park present the crown and robe to Linda.

Man Captured After Chase

Pleasant Ridge police are considering charges of attempted murder and attempted rape against a Pontiac man following a high-speed 12-mile chase up Woodward and into Pontiac early this morning.

Four shots were fired by Pontiac patrolman Stephen Flemington before he and his partner patrolman Bruce Jarvis, captured the suspect at Motor and South Boulevard, west.

They took William D. Harris, 31, of 11 Grant into custody after two shots hit the trunk of his car. He was not hit.

The chase started in Pleasant Ridge about 2 a.m. after police there received a report that a man was trying to force a woman into a car.

ASKS FOR AID

Pleasant Ridge patrolman Herbert Bisnett asked for police aid from other communities as he chased the car north on Woodward. These included Royal Oak and Birmingham.

Police said speeds reached 108 miles an hour during the chase.

Pontiac police began to chase the car at Woodward and South Boulevard. A 22-caliber pistol was found under the seat in Harris' car.

The woman, a 21-year-old barmaid, told police she was on her way home when a man grabbed her and tried to force her into the car. She screamed and fought him off, she said.

The man fired two shots as neighbors tried to intervene after hearing her screams.

Press Cookbook Inside

The Pontiac Press's fifth annual cookbook is included in today's paper. In it, readers will find many new recipes and some old favorites.

Included also are some of the recipes Susan Lowe will use in the cooking school that starts tomorrow at Pontiac Central High School.

Hearing Is Postponed in Girl's Slaying

By JIM DYGERT

A preliminary report from the state police crime lab today revealed there was blood on a knife suspected of being the weapon that killed 14-year-old Nancy Jean Jones Friday morning in Birmingham.

However, it had not been determined whether or not the blood was of the same type as the victim's, according to County Prosecutor George F. Taylor.

Because the report "was sketchy," according to Probate Court Judge Norman R. Barnard, a Juvenile Court hearing in the case today was postponed until Thursday. Judge Barnard said more time was needed for investigation, especially with regard to the crime lab report.

"We hope to have someone from the crime lab here Thursday," the judge said.

LOVAAS TRANSFERRED

A 15-year-old boy held in the case, Daniel Lovaas of 1042 Smith, Birmingham, was transferred from the County Jail to the County Childrens Center today, according to Judge Barnard.

His hearing had been scheduled for this morning.

Daniel, a Seaholm High School sophomore, has denied knowing Nancy or anything about her slaying.

Taylor said he would not ask for a waiver from Juvenile Court to allow the boy to be tried as an adult before Thursday's hearing.

Birmingham police indicated they still haven't been able to find evidence that Daniel ever knew the victim, a Barnum Junior High School student. She lived at 1128 Emmons.

Birmingham, two blocks from Daniel's home.

A detective discounted a report that Daniel had been refused a date by the victim. The officer said it was another girl that the boy had asked.

Police brought three witnesses to the courthouse for today's scheduled hearing, one of whom had not been reported previously.

U.S. Woman Killed in Congo Violence

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — An American woman missionary has been killed and another wounded by rebels waging war on Christian missions and the central Congo government in the southwest Congo province of Kwilu.

The central government said it had documentary proof the rebels, led by former Education Minister Pierre Mulele, are supported by Red China.

The government declared a state of emergency in Kwilu Province and rushed 450 soldiers into the region. It said important measures would be taken, "the nature of which will be revealed at an opportune moment."

REPORTED DEATH

Irene Ferrel, 43, of Eagle Butte, S.D., was reported killed by a rebel's arrow during a raid on a Baptist mission at the village of Mangungu, 300 miles southeast of Leopoldville.

The Congo Inland Missionary in Leopoldville reported that Ruth Hege, 58, of Wellington, Ohio, also attached to the Mangungu station, was wounded. Latest reports indicated she was still in the area.

The guerrillas killed three Roman Catholic priests last week. Seven American missionaries and two children were removed by U.N. helicopters Friday.

from Kandale, in southern Kwilu, after guerrillas burned their station.

The Rev. Peter Buller of Mountain Lake, Minn., who fled with his wife and two children from their mission 20 miles northwest of Mangungu, said he spotted Miss Ferrel signaling for help last Wednesday when he flew over her mission. She could only be reached from the air by helicopter because there is no landing strip.

KILLED BY ARROW

"She and her friends were out on the lawn," he said. "Then we got a letter telling us she was dead—killed by an arrow."

In another hot spot, British troops were keeping peace in restive East Africa after disarming mutinous native soldiers in the young Commonwealth nations of Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda.

QUESTION TROOPS

British and African officers questioned the rebellious troops in the three neighboring countries, trying to find out if there was a master plan behind the upheavals. All erupted last week in the wake of the Communist-tinged coup that toppled the Sultan of Zanzibar.

A spokesman at the British East Africa Command post in Nairobi said no evidence has been found to indicate the mutinies were part of an over-all rebellion, but investigations were continuing.

Fire Kills 5 at Home in Flint Area

FLINT (AP)—Five persons—four of them children—were killed today in a fire which swept their two-story, frame house at Montrose, 12 miles northwest of Flint.

State police identified the dead as Candis Cook, 3, and her sister, Carla, 15 months, Mrs. Barbara Ann Leyler, 22, and her two children, Walter 4, and Carl Jr., 18 months.

The parents of the Cook children, Willard, 24, and Marjorie, 21, were hospitalized at Flint's Hurley Hospital with serious burns.

Police said the two Cook children were found dead of burns on the first floor of the two-family home. Mrs. Leyler and her children were found dead of suffocation on the second floor, police said.

FIRST NOTICED

Firemen said the blaze was first noticed about 8:30 a.m. Its cause was not immediately determined.

Firemen, who said they found 30 ampere fuses in 15 ampere circuits, said the blaze may have started from an overloaded electrical circuit.

They said Willard Cook, who apparently was the first person to notice the fire, told them he smelled smoke and heard a small explosion, which firemen believed was either a window blowing out or an exploding television tube.

Three Killed on Area Roads

2 Sisters, Ypsilanti Man Die in Crashes

Two Farmington Township sisters and an Ypsilanti father were fatally injured in traffic accidents in Oakland County Saturday.

Dead are Mina Pasienza, 11, 3244 Nottlingwood, and her sister Rosalie, 19, and Edward O. Old Jr., 23.

The Pasienza girls were driving on 12 Mile when they made a left turn in front of another car, according to Farmington Township police.

The accident occurred just east of Farmington Road.

The driver of the other car, Theodore M. Erickson, 32433 Red Clover, Farmington, was not injured seriously.

Old died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital following a two-car crash on South Milford Road, just north of West Maple Road at 5 p.m.

OTHERS INJURED

His wife Carrie Jo, 21, and son, Edward G., 6, and daughter, Jamie Lynn, 4, were injured in the crash.

The two children are in fair condition. Mrs. Old was treated and released.

The driver of the other car, George C. Killackey, 43, of 832 Duke, Milford, and his wife Kathryn, 45, were also treated and released.

Sheriff's deputies said Killackey was passing another car when he hit the Old car head-on. Killackey told police he did not see the other car.

SERVICE SET

Service for Old, a former Highland Township resident, will be 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Milford.

He was an inspector at General Motors' Chevrolet Division, Ypsilanti.

Surviving besides his wife and children are his mother, Mrs. Eltha Old of Pontiac and a sister, Mrs. Richard Woodfill of Highland.

His body is at the Richard-Bird Funeral Home, Milford.

Witness Hurt by Car Bomb

CHICAGO (AP) — A bomb planted in a parked automobile critically injured a star state witness in a Cosa Nostra fraud trial today as he left the Criminal Courts building.

Investigators said the bomb was attached to the ignition system of Louis Barbe's car, parked across the street from the courthouse, during the few minutes he was appearing for arraignment before Judge Alexander Napoli.

As Barbe, 32, tried to start the engine the bomb exploded, virtually destroying the automobile and blowing 200 window panes from a factory nearby.

City Budget Higher, but Tax Rate Down

By DICK SAUNDERS

Pontiac will end up with a higher budget and lower tax rate in 1964, barring any significant changes in the city's tax base or equalization factor.

Prospects for a higher budget and lower tax bill are made possible largely by Pontiac's tax rate structure, according to City Finance Director Marvin M. Alward.

In essence, a new rubbish collection program and the city's tax structure limitations have a combined effect of making the tax bill easier to pay, while not making the city budget any easier to finance.

TOTAL BUDGET

This year's total proposed budget is about $110,000 more than last year's.

But the difference is being made up in income from other sources, not tax income.

Here's how the 1963 city tax rate was allocated:

Rate	Use
$12.34 (10 mills equalized)	Operation
$1.31	Waste collection and disposal
$1.85 (1.5 mills equalized)	Capital improvements
$.60	Debt retirement

The tax rate totaled $16.10 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

CITY TAXES

Here's the probable breakdown for 1964 city taxes.

Rate	Use
$12.34 (10 mills equalized)	Operation
$1.13	Waste collection and disposal
$1.85	Capital improvements
$.60	Debt retirement

The 1964 levies total $15.92 per $1,000.

To understand this, the taxpayer must know just how his total city tax bill is made up.

It breaks down to the following maximum rates per $1,000 of assessed property value:

- $10 for operating expenses.
- $2 for waste collection and disposal.
- $1.50 for capital improvements.

• $1 for debt retirement (principal and interest on bonds to construct and equip a Pontiac General Hospital wing).

COVER COST

"Under state law, a city may levy up to $2 per $1,000 of property value to cover the cost of waste collection and disposal," said Alward.

However, state law also generally prohibits a city from levying taxes in excess of need.

"In other words," Alward noted, "if our sanitation budget can be financed with a rate of $1.75 per $1,000 in a given year, we can't levy a rate higher than $1.75 even though the limit is $2."

Neither can income raised by one levy be used to finance another, such as sanitation funds being used to pay operating expenses.

EQUALIZED RATES

If and when a city reaches its limit in any area, the maximum rates can be equalized. This, in effect, increases the rate.

The city equalized its operating and capital improvement millage last year. Thus, the taxpayer ended up with a total city tax rate of $16.10 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The pinch in last year's budget, and this year's is in operating and capital improvements.

The city is levying the absolute maximum under law in both and there still isn't enough to pay for city needs.

OPERATING COST

For example, wage increases to city employees are budgeted as operating costs (except sanitation employees which are a fraction of the total).

This year employee groups asked for wage hikes totaling more than $250,000. Having reached the operating tax limit, the city couldn't afford any pay hike.

In addition, room had to be found in the operating budget to finance operations at a new fire station and community center.

The new trash collection program however, will cost $48,697 less this year than the old one did last year. But this only affects waste collection millage.

18 CENTS LOWER

The only change is in waste collection. That change lowers the total city tax rate by about 18 cents.

Thus, in 1964 it may take $15.92 per $1,000 to finance a $6.8-million budget, while it took $16.10 to finance a $6.7-million budget last year.

City Police Have Radar

Teen-agers who think they can beat the machine by putting pieces of tin foil on their cars can forget the idea, according to Brown.

"It doesn't affect the radar one bit," he said.

Sgt. Lawrence LaBair, a traffic bureau supervisor, said that drivers always will be given the benefit of the doubt if there is any question in the mind of the policeman.

The radar can be operated manually or automatically — visually by reading the gauge or adjusted to buzz and lock the needle when the posted speed in area is exceeded.

The latter, however, only registers the preset speed dialed on the instrument and not the maximum that might be reached by a motorist.

Police said that the radar can be used in a moving car but present plans call for it to be used only in a parked position.

OTHER COMMUNITIES

Seven other county communities have or have ordered radar units. They include Royal Oak, Bloomfield Township, Bloomfield Hills, Hazel Park, Troy, Southfield and Birmingham, a pioneer in the state in use of radar.

Supreme courts in 11 states have upheld radar as an accurate speed check, according to Hanger. In Michigan, only the Circuit Court has ruled in its favor.

In addition to the radar, Pontiac police will continue to use another speed control device which uses cables stretched across the road to clock speeds.

McNamara Warns Viet Cong Gaining

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara told Congress today that the overthrow of the Diem government in South Viet Nam failed to turn the tide in the anti-Communist war and that the Communists "have made considerable progress since the coup."

In a report to Congress on the U. S. military posture, McNamara expressed hope that the new government of Viet Nam can "take hold and eventually suppress the Viet Cong (communist) insurrection."

But he warned that if the situation does not improve "I can conceive of no alternative other than to take all necessary measures within our capability to prevent a communist victory."

He did not indicate what further measures he had in mind.

Code Change Is Eyed to Check Phone Abuse

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners tonight will consider an amendment to the Birmingham Municipal Code designed to curb the number of harassment telephone calls in the city.

Also on the agenda is a proposed zoning ordinance amendment regulating parking needs for multiple use buildings.

The new section on harassment by telephone has been proposed by Commissioner David F. Breck.

The code would make illegal repeated calls to one number for the purpose of harassment, whether or not any conversation ensues.

VULGAR LANGUAGE

Also prohibited would be the use of vulgar, indecent, obscene, immoral or insulting language over any telephone.

Police officers have noted increase in the number of prank calls received by Birmingham residents. In 1962 there were 95 complaints and in 1963 there were 116.

Birmingham police made one arrest in this connection under state statute last year.

The alteration in the zoning ordinance has been proposed to clear up interpretation of present restrictions for buildings used for more than one purpose.

PRINCIPAL USE

The board of zoning appeals has interpreted the ordinance to mean that for a building of mixed uses, parking shall be required for the principal use only.

The proposed amendment would specifically require parking for all of the uses.

The two other witnesses were Robert Phelps, 18, of 892 Purdy, and Howard Kaechle, 18, of 687 Smith, both of Birmingham.

GIVES DESCRIPTION

Phelps provided the information that led to Daniel's apprehension.

He told police he saw someone hit Nancy in front of 864 Purdy as she walked to school Friday morning and gave them a description that led to the Lovaas boy.

Kaechle gave police the knife he said Daniel gave to him Friday morning before he was arrested.

An attorney representing Lovaas, Richard P. Condit, said it was a possibility a change of venue would be asked if the case should ever come to trial in Circuit Court, because of television and newspaper publicity.

Another attorney, Walter Denison said "It is our intention that only the boy's parents and his attorneys will be talking to him before Thursday's hearing."

JERRY DE BARY

Deadly Snake Kills Curator

Reptile Bites Man at Salt Lake City Zoo

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — The city zoo's curator, Jerry de Bary, 37, died today after hours of agony from the bite of the deadly African puff adder snake.

De Bary was bitten Saturday night when he suffered a dizzy spell after opening the snake's cage to clean it. He threw up his arm to catch himself and the snake struck. De Bary died at 6:30 this morning.

The venom attacks the nervous system, causing muscle spasm and paralysis. De Bary's heart stopped temporarily several times. Breathing was nearly impossible at times. A resuscitator had to be used, and a tracheotomy had to be performed in order to assure an easy opening for air.

Puff adder snake serum was flown by Navy jet from the San Diego, Calif., zoo. More was ordered from Southern Rhodesia. The puff adder is a native of South Africa, and that's where the serum is made.

CALL FOR SERUM Sister Mary Gerald, superior at Holy Cross Hospital where De Bary was treated, telephoned her sister, Peggy Forrester, in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, for more serum.

But de Bary, a native of Switzerland, died before it arrived.

As far as could be determined de Bary was the only person ever to be bitten by an African puff adder in the United States. Martin Perkins, director of the St. Louis zoo, was bitten by a first cousin, the gaboon viper, 36 years ago, and survived.

Charles Shaw, curator of reptiles at the San Diego zoo, said the adder is one of the world's deadliest snakes and the most lethal snake in South Africa.

De Gaulle to Explain Policy

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

French recognition of Red China is all but an announced fact, and that will come this week.

Formal announcement is due from Paris in a day or so. And this will be followed by President Charles de Gaulle's news conference this Friday at which officials say two themes will be highlighted—Red China and a new drive for European political unity.

De Gaulle will take the opportunity to explain to the world why he has decided to establish diplomatic relations with Peking. And, on the political unit point, he will make clear that he still seeks a loose federation of sovereign states with regular meetings of their leaders rather than any kind of closely integrated union.

De Gaulle will follow through on his Red China stand to get his message across to other nations.

His government is reported planning to dispatch a number of high-powered "task forces" to various foreign countries in the near future.

Their job will be to explain French foreign policy by means of lectures and informal contacts outside the usual diplomatic circuit.

Jacques Baume, secretary general of the Gaullist Union for the New Republic (UNR), and UNR Sen. Jean de Lipkowsky are expected to leave soon for the United States and Canada.

Christian de La Malene, a UNR parliamentary deputy and former minister of information, reportedly will undertake a similar mission in Europe.

MALAYSIA TROUBLES AHEAD

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy succeeded in winning an agreement for a cease-fire and an eventual summit meeting to settle the Malaysia issue.

But the dispute over that newly established Southeast Asian nation still is far from finished, as indicated by Indonesian President Sukarno's statement that his policy of "confrontation" was unchanged.

Sukarno, blamed by Malaysia for having started the shooting which the United States feared could lead to all-out war if left unsettled, might have trouble at home if he backed down completely in his opposition to the British-backed federation.

TOUGH YEAR AHEAD

Japan's Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda may be in for his toughest year in 1964.

He must cope with soaring consumer prices and the question of trade liberalization if he is to survive both in his own Conservative party and at the head of the government.

Spiraling prices were a major issue in last November's general election, which Ikeda's party won.

At the time, he promised to check the prices in the next six months. But they keep going up and up, with no end yet in sight.

How to cope with the promised liberalization of 98 per cent of Japan's imports by April is another major headache.

The government has appeared to the public to buy Japanese products, but the plea has gone largely unheeded. Foreign goods are much sought-after status symbols in Japan, and the public goes on merrily buying them.

As a result, Japan's foreign currency shortage is expected to become even more critical.

New Leader for Pacific?

All Services May Put Up Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is expected to ask all three services for nominations when the time comes to pick a new U.S. commander for the vast Pacific.

This command traditionally has been held by a Navy admiral. Any change from that would certainly meet strong objections from the Navy.

The time of decision may be only a few months away.

Adm. Harry D. Felt, Pacific commander for nearly six years will reach the statutory retirement age of 62 on July 1. His tour of duty could be extended for two years but this appears unlikely at this time.

Reports have circulated for some time that the Pacific Command, embracing millions of square miles of ocean and some of the most critical areas of the Far East, might in the future be rotated among the Army, Navy and Air Force.

THE BEST MAN

One highly placed source said he believes McNamara will try to get the best man available, regardless of service. He said he expects McNamara to ask the Army, Navy and Air Force to nominate their candidates.

A number of possibilities were mentioned, among them Gen. Jacob Smart, the Air Force commander in chief in the Pacific; Adm. Ulysses S. G. Sharp Jr., commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet; and Gen. Hamilton Howze, U.S. Army commander in Korea.

Another name mentioned is that of Adm. Claude V. Ricketts, vice chief of naval operations, who recently made a month-long swing through the area.

Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze recently summed up his service's viewpoint this way: "The Pacific command belongs to the Navy. It is an ocean area with problems that the Navy is best equipped to handle."

Boy Scout Killed in Mountain Fall

COCHITI, N.M. (AP)—Roger Reed, 15, plunged 100 feet to his death Sunday when a narrow mountain ledge gave way as he and two companions were returning from a hike to their Boy Scout camp by a short cut.

Peter Claassen, 13, and George Bennett, 11, clung to the remaining ledge five hours before being lifted to safety by a helicopter from Kirtland Air Force Base at Albuquerque.

The scouts were among 10 members of Albuquerque Troop 841 on a weekend campout in the mountains 10 miles west of this Indian pueblo. The accident occurred less than an hour before the boys were to break camp and return home.

Heiress, Husband Fete His 39th Birthday

NEW YORK (AP)—Andre Porumbescu, Romanian-born one-time chauffeur, toasted his heiress wife, the former Gamble Benedict, at an informal party in a New York restaurant early today.

The occasion was Porumbescu's 39th birthday. Gamble filed for divorce in a Swiss court last year, but the couple was reconciled.

S. Lyon Vetoes Plans for New High School

SOUTH LYON — Taxpayers in the South Lyon Community School District have done it again.

Saturday they reiterated their unwillingness to pay for a new high school. They did so by a larger margin than last June when a similar issue was defeated.

Tabulations Saturday showed 73 no votes and 541 yes. Eleven of the ballots were invalidated. The defeating vote last spring was 592-396.

Although divided on the issue, the board of education had asked for a $1,424,000 bond issue to finance construction of a new high school and addition to the present one.

COST LESS

The 650-student high school in the plans would have cost about $200,000 less than the 800-student building sought last spring.

"We'll have to wait and see where we'll go from here," Supt. Frank Bartlett said this morning. He noted that the board of education's regular meeting is scheduled for 7:45 tonight in the South Lyon Elementary School gymnasium.

Bartlett said the district's tax

put the bond issue question on the ballot by a 4-3 vote in December.

THE SUPPORTERS

Supporters of the proposition were Harry Colestock, J. W. Erwin, William Markham, and Donald Riddering.

Opposing it were Mrs. Rita Chenoweth, Alfred Ueker and President Wilford Heidt.

Mrs. Chenoweth and Ueker

were elected to the board last spring. Both campaigned against the bond issue then.

Although they have not been unanimous in determining methods of providing for the district's needs, board members generally have agreed on the size of enrollment increases they can expect.

Tonight they will take their first steps toward finding another solution.

Wayne State Sophomore Wins Rhubarb Queen Title

By PAT McCARTY

UTICA — Cheryl Cottrell exchanged her formal for an apron Sunday, but she did it with a smile.

The Shelby Township beauty was chosen 1964 Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Queen Saturday night.

During her reign she'll be baking at least one rhubarb pie for every personal appearance, so she didn't waste a minute this weekend.

Cheryl, 19, of 54014 Starlite, Shelby Township, also spent Sunday learning how hothouse rhubarb is grown and what it can be used for besides pies.

18 CONTESTANTS

She was picked from a field of 18 contestants in the competition at Utica High School Saturday night.

Barbara Walter, 17, of 65823 Wolcott, Ray Township, was chosen by the judges as first maid of honor. A senior at Armada High School, Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Walter.

The only blonde in the trio is Suzanne Toyryle, 18, of Warren, second maid of honor. Suzanne, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tenho Toyryle, is a freshman at Macomb County Community College.

The queen wore a strapless, floor-length gown of white chiffon over orchid net. She performed a Hawaiian baton twirling number during the talent portion of the program.

WAYNE STUDENT

Cheryl is 5 feet 4 inches tall, has blue eyes and brown hair. She is a sophomore at Wayne State University, majoring in physical education. Folio Jewelers of Utica sponsored her entry in the contest.

The queen and her court will preside over the annual Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Festival Feb. 29. The activities will be held at the St. Lawrence Knights of Columbus Hall.

Also scheduled for the queen are a number of radio and television appearances and a visit with Gov. George Romney, who is in line to sample one of Cheryl's pies.

Both the contest and the festival are sponsored by the Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Growers Association, the Utica Rotary Club and the Macomb County Cooperative Extension Service.

QUEEN JUDGING

The contestants Saturday night appeared in street clothes for the initial interview, then competed in a talent show. Final judging followed their appearance in formals.

Joy Willis, area radio personality, was emcee for the contest.

Judges included Col. Mervin S. Waters, director of supply at the U.S. Army Mobility Command and Garfield Williams, assistant personnel director for Chevrolet Engineering Division.

Others were T. R. Kirkum, manager of industrial relations at Ford Motor Company's Sterling Plant, and Mrs. Minerva Sweitzer, secretary to the plant manager at the Chrysler Corp. Missile Division.

TOPS THE FIELD — Cheryl Cottrell captivated judges Saturday night to become the 1964 Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Queen. She'll now start telling the rest of the state all about hothouse rhubarb. Cheryl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cottrell of Shelby Township, will take with her as assets her big blue eyes and winning smile. The 19-year-old queen is a physical education major at Wayne State University.

Class Series Set on Mental Retardation

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Donald Place, Oakland County consultant for the mentally handicapped, will begin a series of classes for those interested in mental retardation Feb. 6 at Clifford H. Smart Junior High School.

The public, as well as parents of mentally retarded children, is invited to attend any of the sessions scheduled for 8-10 p.m. Thursdays. There is no fee.

Place has spent five years teaching normal, gifted and retarded children in a New York junior high school.

He took graduate courses in special education at Syracuse University in 1961 on a fellowship sponsored by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Among the topics to be discussed are education and training methods for retarded children, causes of mental retardation and psychological testing.

Vote Slated for March in Rochester

ROCHESTER — Local residents will wait until March 9 before voting on candidates for the four Village Council vacancies.

Seven candidates filed nominating petitions before the noon deadline Saturday, thus eliminating necessity of a Feb. 17 primary election.

Two or more candidates must file for open posts before a primary election is required.

SEEKING ELECTION

Vying with incumbents for the four seats will be Burdette Lewis, 410 Parkdale; Robert G. Cannon, 306 Terry; Frank Voll Jr., 302 Glendale; and David N. Parker, 436 Hill.

Each year, there are four vacancies on the council. The top three vote-getters receive two-year terms while the candidate in fourth place serves for one year.

Councilmen whose terms do not expire this year are President John Boeritz, Dr. Kenneth VanNocker and James McCarthy.

DONNA J. HUTCHINSON

The engagement of Donna Jean Hutchinson to Gerald L. Frick is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hensey, 10140 M15, Independence Township. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Earle G. Frick of 5135 Sashabaw, Independence Township. A June 27 wedding is planned.

Blaze Destroys Garage-Shed

CAUSE UNDETERMINED
in Fire Near Romeo

ROMEO — A fire of undetermined origin today destroyed a combination garage and storage shed behind the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perry, a mile west of Romeo.

The Romeo Fire Department was called out to the blaze shortly after 7 a.m.

Assistant Chief John Foltz estimated the damage at about $5,000. He said flames consumed the building and all contents, leaving only portions of the four walls standing.

The Perrys have lived in the home, 8025 32 Mile at Camp Ground, for three or four months, Foltz said. The family had furnishings and tools in the garage.

NOT DETERMINED

Foltz said cause of the blaze was not determined yet, but pointed out that the family had built a fire in the garage's fireplace yesterday.

The damage was partially covered by insurance, according to Foltz.

North Hill PTA Sets Disney Film Showing

ROCHESTER — The PTA of North Hill Elementary School is sponsoring two presentations of a Walt Disney film entitled "Island of Sea Animals" Friday at the school.

The ceremony was held in the Springfield Township Hall.

Bloodmobile at Lake Orion

LAKE ORION — The Lions Clubs of Lake Orion and Oxford are urging prospective donors to give blood at the bloodmobile at the Methodist Church tomorrow.

Donors can credit their contribution to themselves, their family or friends or to a specific future use.

The contribution can also be used to replace blood already furnished to a patient.

Hours of the bloodmobile are from 2 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. Advance appointments are not required, but can be made by contacting Mrs. Homer Hight 97 Dennison, Oxford, or Mrs. Bernard-Espland, 465 N. Shore.

The church is located at 140 E. Flint.

Shelden-Hopkins Rites

Southfield Girl Says Vows

SOUTHFIELD — A floor-length gown of ivory silk alpaca was chosen by Carole Sue Hopkins for her wedding Saturday afternoon to Alger Shelden Jr. of Grosse Pointe Farms.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold DeWitt in Kirk in the Hills Church, Bloomfield Hills.

Designed by Galina, the bride's gown featured a bateau neckline, deep band of Alencon lace embroidered with seed pearls at the hemline and a detachable cathedral train.

With it she wore an heirloom lace mantilla and carried an ivory French rose-on-a-stem with three rosebuds.

COUPLE'S PARENTS

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Hopkins, 20152 Forestwood, and the senior Sheldens of Grosse Pointe Farms.

Maid of honor was Mary Gail Crissman of Rochester.

Francis D. Shelden assisted his brother as best man. The guests were seated by Arthur V. Diedrich Jr., Frederick A. Peck, James R. Teetzel, Hilary H. Micou Jr., Gary M. Stroh Jr. and James J. Hopkins, brother of the bride.

A small reception at the Village Woman's Club, Bloomfield Hills, followed the rites.

Upon their return from a month-long honeymoon in Jamaica and Antigua, the newlyweds will reside in Grosse Pointe Farms.

'Bobby-Soxer's' VOP Letter Stirs Up Local Interest

No letter in the Voice of the People in recent years has aroused any more replies than the one from "Bobby-Soxer."

The volume is fairly evenly split between those who say "Bobby-Soxer" is exactly right in her outline of the horrendous conditions that exist today; and those who insist she mustn't be swayed so easily by the sins of the fathers.

There's honest merit in both positions. No one—young or old—should follow bad examples, just because there are no good ones in sight. And there are plenty of good ones wherever you go. Unfortunately, the total volume of bad examples is much greater than it should be.

Already it's alarming.
And it seems to be increasing.

On the other hand, there is no use blinking the happy fact that tens and tens of millions of American adults mind their own business, give their families loyal support, do an honest day's work and worship God regularly and devoutly.

These stalwart souls are "unwept, unhonored and unsung!"

People don't gossip about the man and wife who keep their troubles to themselves. The yackety-yak centers around those who leap into the divorce arenas and wave their dirty linen in public. This number simply seems greater than it is.

"Bobby-Soxer" focused attention on a vital theme—the most important domestic subject of the moment. Certainly the conduct of today's juveniles is many, many steps below preceding generations. Probably the fault lies in the home, the schools, the churches, the courts and the examples set by thoughtless or actually indifferent adults.

No one entity can cure it.
It requires concerted action.

Why can't our whole area become one of the leaders by having each of these local groups "highly resolve" to correct the deficiencies now — and help set a new national pattern? Is this expecting too much? Regrettably, I concede it may be.

U. N. Addition . . .

In Zanzibar, a frenzied group of African nationalists shoved the Arab rulers aside and proclaimed a "day of liberation." As a show of strength, here are a few of the actions they took:

Hanged the former finance minister in public;
Doused one Arab leader with gasoline and burned him;
Ordered another to kill his own sons and daughters and then commit suicide.

In case you've forgotten, Zanzibar is one of the recent associates to be admitted to the U.N. Probably their financial contribution amounts to about five cents a decade—if they pay at all. And yet they possess one full vote.

That's the U.S. total, too.
Justice?
Don't comment aloud.

Enters Race . . .

Astronaut JOHN H. GLENN is an avowed candidate for the Senate from Ohio.

His hat's in the ring.
I met the personable and intrepid aviator and his good wife a year ago at a luncheon and developed a great respect for him and his general knowledge. However, eminence and great success as an astronaut hardly qualify anyone for the U. S. Senate, just per se. Chicago's American suggests he try a more minor position before he tackles the big leagues.

It will be very interesting to see the reaction of the Ohio voters. Beyond any state in the Middle West, Buckeye citizens have a reputation for jumping party lines and voting all over the map. Will they be swayed by the world acclaim properly bestowed upon this courageous young man—or will they superimpose other standards in the voting booth?

If Glenn "makes it," he will have won his spurs the hard way. First, he opposes Sen. Stephen M. Young in the primary. And then he crosses swords with Robert Taft Jr., in the election itself.

America will watch these races.
They'll both be exciting.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Gotham bookmakers are giving 7 to 5 that Astronaut GLENN will beat Sen. Young in the primary. . . .

Cardinal SPELLMAN says when he was at Antarctica, he walked clear around the pole, thus making him the first 74-year-old man in all history that walked around the world in 45 minutes. . . . Overheard: "If you think it's hard to meet people, just pick up the wrong golf ball." . . . That new TV program, "Tell it to the Camera" won't be long for this world. But oddly, it's followed by "Beverly Hillsbillies" which is tied in the polls for first position with "Bonanza."

Purely personal nomination for an especially attractive young lady: Linda Wigman, Michigan's Junior Miss of 1964, as crowned in Pontiac Saturday. . . .

Overheard: "They've discovered a dandy replacement for the late, late show. It's called: 'sleep.'" . . . President Johnson has been swamped by invitations to deliver commencement addresses. He'll speak at the annual AP luncheon in April. . . . Top record sales are registered by "I Want to Hold Your Hand" as sung by The Beatles. Over a million were sold in a single week and if you aren't acquainted with this wacky band of British teen-agers, you haven't been in circulation lately.

The latest scheme is to take up a gigantic collection and send tons and tons of cigarettes to Russia. . . . Uncle Sam runs in circles trying to dispose of our surplus wheat and now researchers say that they have a new plan that will increase production 25% within a decade. . . . ELLIOTT ROOSEVELT may run for Congress. If he succeeds, he'll be the third member of the clan in office in Washington. Could one lone nation survive all that? . . . Efforts to adopt the Metric System make steady gains. Currently, we have three different tons, two pounds, three ounces and three quarts. World standardization seems essential. . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's — The Beatles; the J's — The Beatles. —HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

MORRIS

The Master Key?

David Lawrence Says:

People Should Pick Successor

WASHINGTON—Almost all of the proposals that have been made recently about picking a vice president in case a vacancy occurs in that office seem to ignore the basic principle on which the American republic was founded—namely, that the people should choose both their president and vice president.

Since a vacancy might occur suddenly in the vice presidency and there would be no time for an election, the logical alternative is to place the responsibility of selection on the representatives of the people—the Congress of the United States.

Yet many of the plans now being suggested would give the incoming president himself, instead of Congress, the right to select a possible successor.

Also, objections are raised to the idea of letting Congress pick a successor because the majority in both houses might happen to be of a political party different from that of the incumbent president.

But these very phases of the debate now going on reveal a failure to differentiate between an oligarchy and a democracy.

There are, for instance, proponents of a plan whereby the president would nominate his own successor, and then Congress would be permitted to vote on it. Other plans have been suggested which stipulate that the members of the president's Cabinet should form the line of succession.

2 VICE PRESIDENTS
There have been some proposals that two vice presidents should be elected along with the president in national elections every four years.

But any plan for a constitutional amendment that does not give the people or their representatives in Congress a direct voice in the selection of the president is bound to be turned down by Congress itself.

Any new constitutional amendment could provide that Congress must select a successor to the outgoing vice president within 60 days after the vacancy has occurred. This would give ample time for the members to ascertain public sentiment in their respective districts or states.

As for the argument that one political party might be in control of Congress while the presidency was of another political complexion, the truth is that, when the nation has elected a majority from one party in both houses of Congress, the will of the people has thus been expressed on national policies.

The incumbent party in Congress should, therefore, have the right in an emergency to pick a new vice president.

There is no perfect answer in sight to the question of how to select a new vice president in the interval between presidential elections, but certainly any plan that gives the people's representatives in Congress the final decision is better than one that bestows such a prerogative on the incumbent president himself.

To let an incoming president pick a successor when there's a vacancy in the vice presidency is not in accord with the basic principles of representative government in a democracy.

Bob Considine Says:

Reader Gives Goldwater Same Chance as C. Clay

NEW YORK — The darndest things pop out when you get too close to the mail:

Ninety-one-year-old Chester Hood of Redondo Beach, Cal., peevishly writes, "Barry Goldwater has about the same chance to be president as Cassius Clay has to be heavyweight champion. They both speak the same kind of language, only one uses prose and the other poetry."

"God forbid that women should take up cigars and pipes, any more than they already have," writes actress Geneva Helm of New York.

"I had to smoke a cornucopia once in a play. Phew! That cigar ad quotes the old line about, by their choice of cigars 'Ye shall know the texture of men's souls.' Right! Coarse is the word."

"Remember how the March of Dimes began?" asks Ruth White of Norwalk, Conn. "Eddie Cantor suggested that we all send dime to FDR on his birthday."

MEMORIAL TO JFK
"Why not do the same on May 29, JFK's birthday? We could send them to the Kennedy Memorial Library, Boston."

"We've cried over his memory, but it would be more beneficial to do something more concrete."

"The average American would welcome a chance to contribute to an organized collection designed to realize a dream of the friend he has in Arlington."

"What is Robert Kennedy doing in Jakarta negotiating with Sukarno?" demands Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio). "After all, U.S. Ambassador Howard Jones just returned there after more than two months of consultation in Washington."

WHY AMBASSADORS?

"One wonders why we need a diplomatic representation at all, when foreign policy so often seems to originate in such an unlikely place as the Attorney General's office."

"Re your preposterous statement 'Nobody willingly packs up and leaves New York for keeps. Where is there to go?' —snorts Alan Fischer of Los Angeles.

"Los Angeles has received an onslaught of New Yorkers, some 500,000 of them over the past 15 years."

"In pursuit of my business I have had contact with hundreds of these transplanted souls, and frankly as a breed they are usually rude, arrogant and consider everyone not from NYC a hick."

"The influx to California has been mostly people between 25 and 45. The opportunities are here, the way of life, and above all our wonderful climate."

Slipping Judges Past Senate

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat

About 30 minutes before Congress convened, President Johnson appointed four new Federal District Judges. It was an unprecedented and perhaps significant action.

By those 30 minutes, these men received "recess appointments," meaning they can now serve and draw their pay until this session of Congress ends, without confirmation by the Senate. All four had previously been nominated by the late President Kennedy. In the case of two of them, it would not appear that this precipitate action was necessary.

New Judges John Morgan Davis and A. Leon Higginbotham Jr. had been approved by a Senate judiciary subcommittee, after being endorsed by the American and Pennsylvania Bar Associations. Their confirmation at this session was a foregone conclusion.

But with new Judges David Robinson III, there can be little doubt Mr. Johnson was

'Why Shouldn't Firemen Flood Ice Skating Areas?'

I don't see anything so terrible about having the fire department help the skaters by flooding a few areas. If an alarm comes in, they can leave from the rink almost as soon as they could from the station and it's possible they might be closer to the scene of the fire. Few fires need the whole citywide department, anyway.

'Need Better Schooling for Retarded'

The education we have for mentally retarded children is grand, but we need more teachers and schoolrooms instead of auditoriums and swimming pools in schools.

The state says we have to educate these children. They are human beings and deserve as much as a normal child. We're not ashamed of these children. The mentally retarded wouldn't be if they had help. If we have to fight for these things, the fight has just begun. We want the same education for our handicapped as other parents want for their normal children.

'Bobby-Soxer's Letter a Masterpiece'

"Bobby-Soxer" is to be congratulated for hitting the nail squarely on the head. Her letter was a masterpiece. She knows there is a right and a wrong way and should weigh her course carefully. I invite her to the Emmanuel Baptist Church where she can be introduced to the perfect example, the Lord Jesus Christ, through the word of God.

"Bobby-Soxer's" letter should encourage The Press to raise its standards on the movie ads.

Calls City Street 'Enormous Mudhole'

West Sheffield Street residents pay city taxes, yet it is worse than any Oakland County road. There is only one drain and beside it there is water up to the car's axle. The road is bumpy and dusty in the summer and in the winter it's one enormous "mud-hole."

We're not asking for pavement, but the city could at least gravel and grade it more often, I'd like for my district commissioner to drive over and visit me before the next election. If he will, we'll gladly pay for his car wash.

Criticizes Press for Publishing Letter

When will The Press grow up and start justifying letters which show sarcasm, malice and ignorance? If "A Watch Man" meant well a telephone call to the proper source would well establish his answer. It's obvious to this open-minded reader that this was a personal charge against Inspector Hanger, our acting chief of police. Apparently The Pontiac Press is eager to add fuel under our public safety building.

'Use Water Tanks to Advertise City'

My attention is often drawn to the huge water storage tanks on Opdyke Road. I have thought of the possibility of using them to advertise Pontiac. As tourists bypass our town, they probably don't realize what they are missing. Some catchy slogan such as "This is Pontiac, a City Keeping Pace With the Future" might intrigue them enough to make a detour. Let's "toot our horn" pictorially, on the curved sides of those big tanks and let people know about Pontiac.

How about some large, attractive signs near the several exits on the I-75 expressway, too?

Senate in this fashion appears significant. In his early statements and actions, in his State of the Union message, Mr. Johnson gave the impression that he was going to try to please everybody and serve the nation as a whole. But given a choice to make, and a deadline, which way did he go?

Appointing Judge Rabinovitz at Walter Reuther's insistence and Judge Robinson at Roy Wilkins' urging, Mr. Johnson indicated that, with an election coming up, he is giving his preference to labor bosses and NAACP leaders, even over his old colleagues in the Senate.

Suicide Among Top Ten Killers in U.S.

(Editor's Note: More than 10 out of each 100,000 Americans kill themselves each year. Who are they and why do they do it? What can you do to prevent a suicide? In five dispatches, the first of which appears today, Harry Ferguson of United Press International answers these and other questions about suicide.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Every 24 minutes an American kills himself and seven others try but fail. Suicide is among the top 10 killers in the nation and claims more lives than tuberculosis and influenza.

The most likely American to kill himself is a white man between the ages of 65 and 74. The most likely time for him to do it is between noon and 6 p.m. on a Thursday in April. The most likely method is to shoot himself in the head. The most likely places are Nevada, California, Montana and Utah.

Novels, poems and plays are full of allusions to suicide. It is the subject of what many persons consider the greatest passage in English literature—a speech in Shakespeare's "Hamlet."

"To be or not to be: that is the question," says Hamlet and then runs through the arguments for and against suicide.

LESS ATTENTION

Scientists have paid much less attention to suicide than have authors.

Money, time and talent are poured into a search for a cure for cancer and studies of heart disease. But on suicide, Dr. Karl Menninger of the Menninger Clinic points out:

"One would expect that there would be wide general interest in the subject, that many studies and researches would be in progress, that our medical journals would contain articles and our libraries books on the subjects. Not so. There is a surprisingly small scientific literature dealing with it."

The laws on the subject are vague and contradictory.

There is no federal statute against killing yourself, and state laws disagree. North Carolina and New Jersey, for instance, consider suicide a misdemeanor, but it is not a crime in Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Maine.

Every state draws up its own regulations and all of them ignore the ancient British common law, the foundation on which much of our jurisprudence rests.

Under that law a suicide was declared to be a felon, his goods and property were forfeited and he was buried beside a public highway with a stake driven through his heart.

The National Institute of Mental Health wages year-round war against suicide and helps support the famous suicide prevention center in Los Angeles.

SAVES THOUSANDS

The Save-a-Life-League in New York, headed by H. M. Warren Jr., probably is responsible for preventing more than 50,000 suicides.

There is a dangerous amount of misinformation about suicide in the minds of the general public.

Here are some of the myths which experts keep trying to explode:

- That a person who commits suicide never talks about it. On the contrary, eight out of ten persons who kill themselves give ample advance warning and if a relative or friend mentions the subject, you should give immediate attention. The most common phrases used by persons planning suicide are "I won't be around much longer for you to put up with me"; "I don't want to be a burden"; "My family would be better off without me."

- That children who inherit suicidal tendencies from their parents. There is no scientific evidence that suicide "runs in the family," as the saying goes. However, the suicide of a father or mother sometimes results in the suicide of one of the children.

ONE OUT OF THREE

- Everybody who commits suicide is mentally ill. The best opinion is that only about one out of three suicides are psychotic. The others are unhappy and have suffered a complete loss of hope, but they are not insane.

- That suicide is more common in highly developed civilizations where people are under the stress and strain of hard competition, and that the United States leads all nations in the suicide rate. The scarlet thread of suicide runs through all nations, all civilizations, all continents. Suicide is prevalent among primitive tribes. Nations with the highest suicide rate are Hungary, Austria, Japan and Switzerland. The United States is well down in the middle range.

- That once a person develops suicidal tendencies he can never be cured. Hundreds of thousands of persons are leading happy, useful lives today because some one caught them on the brink of suicide and knew what to do about the crisis.

People contemplating suicide sometimes search for religious, legal or philosophical justifications for the deed they are about to do. It is largely a barren search.

NOT CONDONED

No major religion encourages or condones suicide despite the fact that Buddhist monks have been setting fire to themselves in South Viet Nam. They were acting as individuals, not as an expression of their religious beliefs.

Many religions list suicide as a sin and, except under special conditions, the Catholic Church denies Christian burial to a person who kills himself.

Dionogenes placed himself in a tiny minority among philosophers when he wrote, "A wise man will quit life when oppressed with severe pain or deprived of any of his senses."

Hari-kari, once a common and approved practice in Japan, has been banned by law.

FULL KNOWLEDGE

Thus a person preparing to kill himself does so in full knowledge that he is about to perform a dark deed disapproved of by organized society.

That does not deter 20,000 Americans from doing it every year, but some of them seem to have logic on their side.

George Eastman, head of Eastman Kodak Co., killed himself in 1932 and left a note: "My work is done. Why Wait?"

NATO Force Considered for Cyprus

LONDON (AP) — Britain is reported sounding out its Atlantic partners on prospects of using a North Atlantic Treaty Organization force to keep peace on the Mediterranean island of Cyprus.

The Times of London said British officials asked Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy whether the United States would contribute to such a force, but he couldn't give a definite answer.

TWO VIEWS

Greece is said to have told Britain it favors a NATO peace force, but Turkey reportedly wants its garrison on Cyprus increased as a condition to agreeing to any international force.

The British acted amid indications that Greek extremists on Cyprus may be planning a new upheaval to try to torpedo the stalemated London conference.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — President Chiang Kai-shek's ruling Kuomintang party won an expected landslide victory Sunday in elections for five city and 16 county councils.

Kuomintang members won 718 of the 907 seats on the 21 councils. The other seats were divided among independents and candidates of the two minority, faction-ridden parties, the Young China party and the Democratic Socialist party.

Rome (AP) — West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard arrived in Rome today for talks with leaders of Italy's new center-left government on the North Atlantic alliance and European unity.

Erhard was accompanied by Foreign Minister Gerhard Schröder. They were met at the railway station by Premier Aldo Moro and Foreign Minister Giuseppe Saragat.

MOSCOW (AP) — The first Protestant church for Westerners to open in the Soviet Union since the 1917 Bolshevik revolution was dedicated Sunday, carrying out a Soviet promise made in 1933 when the United States recognized the Communist regime.

U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler and other Western diplomats used maps to find the place of worship set up in an apartment in the shadow of Moscow University.

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — The board of directors of the National Association of Broadcasters convenes today for a week-long meeting that will consider, among other things, the industry's position on cigarette advertising.

NAB President LeRoy Collins, former governor of Florida, also will attend. His presence will be spiced by the question of whether he wants to keep his $75,000 job or run for public office.

Night in Jail
Not a Reason
in Boy's Illness

DETROIT (UPI) — Police said their investigation into charges by a mother whose son contracted spinal meningitis following a night in jail had shown no cause for action.

"The case is closed as far as we are concerned," Superintendent of Police Eugene Rueter said. "There is no reason to believe that any of our officers acted improperly."

Mrs. Paul Akushevich had charged that her son had been kept in jail for two days and that her requests to have him taken to a hospital had been refused.

Police said the boy, Edward, 18, had refused medical attention and denied being ill at the time.

Planes Renew
Pacific Search

HONOLULU (AP)—Fourteen search planes prepared to take off at dawn today for another all-day search for a man sighted on a small raft in the Pacific five days ago.

The same number of planes combed the Johnston Island area some 750 miles southwest of Honolulu yesterday but reported no trace of the man, believed to be a survivor of a C-124 Globemaster missing since Jan. 2.

Another military plane crew said it spotted a man waving from a raft in the area last Wednesday. The Air Force said the search would continue, but conceded hope of finding it is slim.

Junior Editors Quiz on PAINT

QUESTION: What are paints composed of?

ANSWER: From the earliest times people have made paint—there are caves dating from 50,000 years ago in Europe, whose walls have wonderful paintings made by grinding various plants and minerals into powder and mixing this with water.

The Egyptians added many more colors and the Romans are said to have been the first to use white lead as a pigment.

When linseed oil and varnishes became widely used in Renaissance days in Italy more colorful and lasting painting materials started to be made.

Modern paint makers use many of the older materials, but grind and mix them by machinery. The coloring materials, called the "prime" pigments are mixed with "inert" pigments to make them go further.

Then these powders are dissolved in "vehicles"—oil and varnish.

The vehicle dries on contact with the air, leaving a hard film of color on the surface. "Thinners" are frequently added because they make paint flow better, so it can be easily brushed out.

Nowadays, useful new painting inventions have been made, such as non-drip paint, and rollers to spread it on with.

FOR YOU TO DO: The young folks in the picture are doing a fine job, chinking up cracks with patch plaster and trying to keep the paint off their clothes and the floor. Follow their example if you paint a room or some furniture—but don't let your dog or cat into the room!

Santa Maria in New Trip Through New York Streets

By LARRY FRIEDMAN
NEW YORK (AP) — In 1492 when Columbus sailed the ocean blue, times were hard but problems were simple — rough weather, uncharted courses and mutiny.
Well, at least they were relatively simple as compared to navigating the streets of New York in Sunday traffic.
Early Sunday, a reproduction of the Santa Maria, Columbus' flagship, set out from Flushing Bay on a five-mile journey through the borough of Queens.
Aided by a larger crew of heroes than Columbus had, the ship made port — a parking lot on the World's Fair grounds — in late afternoon. But there, alas, it became becalmed in soft asphalt and there the 90-foot, 100-ton ship must lay to for a week. Next Sunday it will try to make the remaining two miles to its berth. It is hoped, fervently, that traffic will be lighter.

The Santa Maria, 38 feet tall and 25 feet wide, was built in Spain. It crossed the Atlantic aboard a steamship, then took a barge from Hoboken to Flushing.

With a plastic statue of Columbus crouched in the bow, the ship was loaded aboard a flatbed truck and put to pavement, armed with 14 special city permits and $7.5 million worth of insurance. Columbus brought three ships across the Atlantic for $17,500.

VOYAGE BEGAN
Surrounded by electricians, tree surgeons, truck drivers, house movers and a fleet of police cars — red lights flashing — the voyage began.
Out front marched a big policeman bellowing into a bull horn: "The Santa Maria is coming. The Santa Maria is coming."

It was, in the words of an awed spectator, "the biggest thing that ever happened to Queens."
Children ran alongside, laughing and dancing. Adults hung out of apartment windows. Innumerable cameras clicked. A mischievous brown dog got into the act, dodging in and out between the wheels of the big truck.

POWER SAWS
The Santa Maria's escorts, armed with power saws, cut their way through tree limbs; lopped the tops off telephone poles; swung street lights out of the way.

They stopped at St. Joseph's Convent to accept an invitation from the nuns to dine on hot soup. The Santa Maria hove to in the middle of Sanford Avenue. This caused some discontent among certain citizens.

As the ship was maneuvered through a narrow street, a man asked police Sgt. Andrew M. Mihalick what was going on. "It's the Santa Maria," said Mihalick.
The man stared and said: "You mean it's still afloat?"

Rightist Movement Halted in Uruguay

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — An ultrarightist revolutionary movement seeking to overthrow the government of Uruguay was discovered and quashed before any action could occur, two newspapers claimed Sunday night.

Government officials refused to comment on the reports published by El Diario and the semiofficial government newspaper El Plata.

Some 30 active and retired army officers and a priest were involved, according to the unconfirmed published reports.

Dems See Nixon, Scranton as Most Likely GOP Foes

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic strategists have narrowed the Republican field to the point where they now regard Gov. William M. Scranton or Richard M. Nixon as President Johnson's most likely November opponent.

Johnson himself was inclined to believe in the period shortly after he took office that Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., was the leading contender for the GOP presidential nomination.

But the Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey now is telling associates he rates Scranton, the Pennsylvania governor who says he isn't running, and Nixon, the former vice president who would accept a draft, as most likely to fight it out for the Republican nomination.

The general feeling among Democratic leaders is that the Republicans aren't going to settle much in the presidential primaries.

BARRING RUNAWAY

Barring something like a runaway by one individual, capped by a smashing victory in California, they look for the Republicans to pick from a list of several possibilities the man they calculate in July has the best chance to beat Johnson.

This view is strengthened by developments which threaten to fuzz up the results in the March 10 New Hampshire primary.

What started out as a test of strength between Goldwater and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, now has taken on the aspect of a free-for-all.

Moves are under way to run delegates and promote write-in votes for Henry Cabot Lodge, the 1960 GOP vice presidential nominee now serving the Johnson administration as ambassador to South Viet Nam. Write-ins for Nixon and Scranton could materialize, too, and Harold E. Stassen, the perennial candidate, also hopes to pick up some votes.

CONFUSED VERDICT

Out of all this could come the sort of confused verdict by the voters which — if repeated in other primaries — Democrats think will prevent any Republican aspirant from duplicating the 1960 primary sweep of the late John F. Kennedy.

In listing Scranton and Nixon at the top of their list of possibilities, Bailey and other strategists obviously are thinking in terms of what they regard as their stiffest opposition.

Scranton is somewhat of an unknown quantity outside of Pennsylvania but Democrats learned to respect his campaign ability there. They think he would be a tough man to beat in the big cities, where the presidential contest may be decided.

Against Johnson, Nixon is looked upon as scarcely less of a threat than he was to Kennedy in 1960, despite his intervening loss in the California governor's race.

Democrats remember that Nixon carried the battleground states of California, Ohio and Wisconsin four years ago and lost by less than 1 per cent of the total vote in such key states as Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri and New Jersey.

They feel they are going to need the electoral votes of most of these states to elect Johnson.

Each to Address GOP Dinners

Romney to Greet Ike on Visit

By The Associated Press

In the Republican party's series of fund-raising events this week, Detroit will host "Dinner with Ike" — while "Dinner with Romney" will be at Washington, D.C.

But former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Gov. George Romney — a man Eisenhower says would make an "excellent" candidate for the GOP presidential nomination — will meet before dinner.

Dinner time for both Republican banquets is Wednesday evening, and Romney is to meet Eisenhower at Detroit Metropolitan Airport when the general arrives Tuesday for a visit of about 40 hours.

Romney, guest of honor at Washington, will leave Michigan Tuesday night or Wednesday morning, a spokesman for the governor said. It is expected the two will take advantage of their time together to confer on party matters.

"It's up to Gen. Eisenhower to decide how much time is spent talking politics," the spokesman added. "Our schedule revolves around him."

In recent weeks, Eisenhower has urged several prominent Republicans to make themselves "more available" for the 1964 GOP presidential nomination.

It is expected he may do the same with Romney, who says he is not an active candidate but is available for a draft.

"Dinner with Ike," a $100-a-plate affair, is expected to draw some 3,000 to 4,000 guests to Cobo Hall. It is one of 21 GOP dinners around the nation, with proceeds to be split up among national and state Republican organizations.

DETROIT AUDIENCE

Eisenhower will address the Detroit audience for 25 minutes, and for seven minutes will be on a closed-circuit television broadcast to the other GOP dinners, with an expected total attendance of some 25,000.

Democratic organization moves, meanwhile, included a national drive — starting in Michigan — to enlist Democratic women for volunteer party work of four hours a week each.

National Vice Chairman Margaret Price, formerly of Ann Arbor, heads the drive. She plans an eight-day tour including Indiana, Colorado and Nevada for the campaign.

At a meeting of Democratic women in Detroit Saturday, Congressman - at - Large Neil Staebler enlisted volunteers to begin circulating his petitions for the party's nomination for governor.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

No Food Value in Artificial Sweeteners

Q—Do saccharin tablets have any calories? Can they be used in cooking? I am on a reducing diet. Is Sucaryl harmful?

A—Such artificial sweeteners as saccharin and calcium or sodium cyclamate (Sucaryl) have no food value.

They can be used in cooking. With some persons, saccharin may have a slightly bitter aftertaste.

The cyclamates are less apt to cause this, but if used in large amounts they may have a laxative effect.

They are otherwise harmless, except that sodium cyclamate should not be used by anyone who is on a low sodium diet.

Q—I had a FBI test which was 9.8. Is this serious?

A—The normal range of the Protein-Bound Iodine in the blood is 4 to 8. An elevation of this level is usually associated with hyperactivity of the thyroid.

Your test shows a slight elevation, but a diagnosis should never be made on the basis of one reading of a single test.

If your doctor found other evidences of hyperthyroidism, he has most likely suggested appropriate treatment.

If he is in doubt, he might want to observe you further and get more tests.

Q—In 1960 I had myelogram X rays of my spine.

In 1962 when more X rays were taken, some drops of the opaque oil injected into my spine in 1960 were still present.

Could this impair the nerves of my back and legs?

How long after injection should the dye be present?

A—This is a case of "what you can't see won't hurt you." The oil will be present for many years, but it will not impair your nerves although it may make you nervous to think about it.

Q—My son has to wear glasses, and because they make raw sores on the sides of his nose where the glasses press, we have to put zinc oxide ointment on the sore places.

Could the ointment get into his eyes and injure his sight?

A—Either the frames are improperly fitted or the spectacles are too heavy.

UAW to Seek Raise at Burroughs Corp.

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union will ask Burroughs Corp. to grant 17 cent hourly raises to about 5,000 Detroit-area production workers when contract talks start Tuesday, a UAW regional co-director says.

The raise will be part of a "catch-up package designed to put Burroughs where the auto industry is now," said Joseph McCusker. The workers voted last Sept. 13 to accept the UAW as their bargaining agent.

No Knitting Allowed in Card Game

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: One of the women in our bridge club always brings her knitting with her and keeps it in a bag at her side while she is playing.

When she is dummy, she takes it out and starts to knit until the end of the hand. I think it is very impolite on her part to do this. May I please have your opinion?

A: It is impolite because distracting to the other players; and even though she is dummy she should give her undivided attention to the game.

Q: Will you please tell me how the announcement of a marriage is made under the following circumstances: My son died two years ago. His wife has been living with us since his death.

Her parents are living, but in a distant city. She is going to marry again shortly and I would like to know if it would be proper for my husband and me to send out marriage announcements in our names, and if so, what would be the correct wording?

A: Her marriage should be announced either by her own parents or by the bride and groom themselves.

Q: I would like to buy my boy friend a sweater for his birthday which I know he wants. My mother has put thumbs down on this, saying, "Girls just don't buy clothes for boys."

If it were a coat or slacks or any other personal items, I could understand her objections, but I personally can't see anything wrong in a sweater. Mother has agreed to abide by your decision.

A: A sweater is considered an article of clothing and is not a proper gift for a girl to buy a boy.

On the other hand, if you could knit one for him, that would be different and quite proper.

Leave Out Garlic

Take Box Lunch to Party

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I can't eat anything that has garlic in it. It makes me violently ill.

Over the years I have been invited frequently to dine at the home of a long-time friend. She knows I can't eat anything with garlic in it, but every time I am there she has garlic in practically everything.

When she sees me take a whiff and then pass something up, she says, "Oh, I forgot!" The last time this happened I lost my temper and replied, "After 22 years?" She then said, "I can't cook a special meal for you. Besides, everyone else seems to like my cooking."

I don't want to end my friendship with her because she entertains nicely and has some very interesting guests (artists and musicians). So how should I handle this problem in the future?

HATES GARLIC, LIKES PARTIES

DEAR HATES: Your friend obviously doesn't care to go to extra trouble for you.

Either decline her dinner invitations and accept for "later," or ask permission to bring a box lunch.

DEAR ABBY: I read in the paper where a man in California said that women who wore slacks on the street should be fined.

You tell him to go jump in the lake! Women don't look any worse in slacks than men look in Bermuda shorts.

Some have knobby knees, and others are bow-legged and as hairy as apes.

I am a 59-year-old woman with arthritis, and my doctor told me to keep my legs warm, so I wear slacks every chance I get.

And anybody who doesn't like it doesn't have to look. Sign me —

WARM AND COMFY
DEAR WARM: I am sure that there is no objection to "slacks" that are properly tailored.

The man who complained may have been referring to those "stretch pants" that look as though they had been put on with a spray gun.

DEAR ABBY: If men are really not more important in the sight of God, why then in all Biblical references is the MAN always mentioned first when speaking of father and mother?

BIBLE STUDENT
DEAR STUDENT: This is not true. Although the Ten Commandments say, "Honor thy FATHER and mother," in Leviticus, Chapter XIX, Verse 3, it enjoins every man to fear (revere) his MOTHER and his father.

Get it off your chest. For a personal unpublished reply, write to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send one dollar to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press, for Abby's new booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Husband
"too tired" for good times?

If your husband keeps coming home too "beat" to be gay and stimulating, too worn out to take you out, remember—the hectic "rat race" of today's business requires men to perform like human dynamos day after day, which builds up churning tensions that rob literally millions of husbands of energy and vigor they might otherwise enjoy!

What can you do to help counteract this tension-caused loss of vitality?

Many leading nutritionists recommend augmenting the daily diet with America's great "bounce-back" food, famous Kretschmer Wheat Germ. Made from the nutrition-rich, germinating heart of the kernel, wheat germ is one of the most healthful foods known.

Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually supplies a whopping 30 nutrients helpful to good health and youthful vigor!

Serve your husband this remarkable food every day and see how much more pep and vitality he has! Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereal, or add to pancakes, waffles, scrambled eggs, etc.

Thrifty, tasty Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

GUARANTEE—(1) Kretschmer Wheat Germ is one of the most healthful foods known; (2) Your family will like its nut-like flavor. If not satisfied, just write your name, address, and price paid on back of label and mail to Kretschmer, Carleton, Mich., for full refund.

'I CAN'T LOOK' — Bob Strampe of Detroit tucked away the All-Star men's Bowling Championship in Dallas, Tex., Sunday when he defeated Tommy Tuttle of Rural Hall, N.C. Strampe displays his winning form with the

Kegler's 'New Job' Pays

DALLAS (AP)—Bob Strampe, winner of the $15,000 men's championship in the All-Star bowling tournament, became a professional bowler after he was fired from his job as an aeronautical engineer.

Strampe, who now lives in Detroit, had taken a long weekend to compete in the American Bowling Congress tournament in St. Louis in 1959.

Then came an unexpected long distance telephone call from his boss in Minneapolis. His advice, Strampe recalls, was:

"Bowling good, because you are not working here any more."

Strampe, then 27 and newly married, decided to turn to the only other thing he knew—bowling.

TOP PRO

Since that fateful decision the slender, balding Strampe has become a top ranking pro with an annual income he says is around $15,000. During a seven-week period on the Jackpot Bowling show in 1961 he won $7,200.

He has four sanctioned perfect games and a career high series of 833.

But the big victories have eluded him. He finished 78th in his only previous All-Star appearance in 1967. Until his stunning victory Sunday his best performance in a major tournament was fourth in the 1962 World's Invitational. He also finished fourth in the World's 1960 Invitational.

For the last few years I've felt that my decision to make a career out of bowling was a mistake," Strampe said Sunday after his victory. "But today, I'm glad."

Strampe won bowling's big prestige title by shooting a fat 257-255-203-715 series against a quickly-wilting Tommy Tuttle.

NO CONTEST

The chubby, likeable little newcomer from Rural Hall, N.C., mustered a 220-170-226-

616 series, but it was really no contest after the fifth frame of the middle game.

Tuttle, virtually unknown before this event opened Jan. 15, received a runner-up prize of $8,000.

Tuttle and Strampe earned their berths in the championship match by finishing first and second, respectively, in the 16-man round-robin finals. Tuttle finished 347 pins ahead of Strampe in the round-robin, but all previous scores were discarded for Sunday's crucial match.

The Don Carter family of St. Louis won another All-Star trophy.

DON SIDELINED

This time it was Laverne Carter who took the $5,000 championship check. Her husband, four-time All-Star champion, coached his high-kicking blonde wife from a box seat during the finals. He had been eliminated from the tournament before the semifinals.

Mrs. Carter poured in a 247-256-180-683 series as she easily defeated Evelyn Teal of Miami, Fla.

Mrs. Teal, 40, who has a 21-year old daughter at the University of Florida, rolled a brilliant 184-181-244-609 series and won $3,000.

Rochester vs. Avondale; Romeo, Cranbrook Win

Rochester will have an opportunity to crack a seven-game losing streak and move up a notch in the Oakland A League race in a game at Avondale tonight.

The basketball contest was originally slated for Tuesday but mid-year examinations at Rochester forced the game up a day.

The Falcons are last in the O-A standings with an 0-7 mark, and Avondale is a step ahead at 1-6. A win for Rochester would push the two into a tie for seventh place.

The Yellow Jackets won the first meeting between the two clubs, 62-60.

In games Saturday evening, Romeo made 77 per cent of its free throws and trimmed Troy, 54-44, and Cranbrook recorded its eighth win of the season with a 73-46 decision over South Lyon.

Romeo sank 20 of 26 attempts from the charity line while Troy was picking up only six. The win evened the Bulldogs' record at 5-5. Troy is now 6-2.

PACED ATTACK

Carl Kemp paced the Bulldog attack with 20 points, while Ted Bauer was high for Troy with 14.

A 25-point fourth quarter broke open a tight game between Cranbrook and South Lyon.

The Cranes led, 35-30, at halftime and South Lyon stayed close until the final frame.

Buzz Mieras led the Cranbrook squad with 19 markers. Pat Bane tossed in 13 for South Lyon.

Foyt Wins Even Short of Cylinder

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The auto racing fraternity undoubtedly is hoping A. J. Foyt Jr. of Houston, Tex., never gets his sprint car running on eight cylinders.

With anything better than the six or seven he had in Sunday's first United States Auto Club sprint car race of the season, the other drivers may look like they're joy-riding.

Foyt was second by two seconds in the first 50 mile heat of the 100-mile event over the Arizona State Fairgrounds' one-mile dirt track. He was first in the second heat by 30 seconds, and thus captured the overall victory.

FIRST RACE

"I was hitting on just six cylinders in the first race," the defending USAC big car driving champion said. "And in the second my mechanics managed to get seven going. You might say the car wasn't running smooth."

Foyt, a past Indianapolis 500 winner, drove his own car. His winning time in the second heat was 31:57.16.

GIVING NATURE A BOOST — Baskettotting Austrian soldiers are keeping the ski slopes at Lizum covered with snow by hauling the flaky stuff to the site from higher elevations, using the deep baskets. Lizum is the site of the Alpine skiing course for

Wings Lead NY Rangers by Two After 3-2 Loss

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Rangers closed within two points of the fourth place Detroit Red Wings by edging the Wings 3-2 on Earl Ingarfield's late goal in their National Hockey League battle Sunday night.

Ingarfield converted a pass at the goal mouth into the winning goal at 14:58 after Don Marshall stole a Wing pass at center ice and drove in for the feeder to his forward mate.

Earlier in the game Gordie Howe had given Detroit a 2-1 lead on his 15th goal of the season, his first away from home.

REMAIN TIED

The Chicago Black Hawks fired two goals in the last seven minutes to tie the Montreal Canadiens 2-2 as the teams remained deadlocked for the NHL lead. Each has 56 points.

The Toronto Maple Leafs, five points behind the leaders, lost to the Boston Bruins 2-0. Goalie Ed Johnston scored his second straight shutout for the Bruins and fifth of the season.

Ingarfield's winning goal in New York's triumph over Detroit—the Rangers' eighth victory in 12 games—came after Jim Neilson of New York and Norm Ullman of Detroit had served five-minute penalties for fighting. The two had just returned to the ice when Marshall swiped the puck.

After Howe put the Wings ahead in the second period, Camille Henry shot his second counter of the night and 21st of the season for a 2-2 tie.

TWO ASSISTS

Parker Mac Donald set up Howe for the latter's goal and also set up Alex Delvecchio for the Wings' first goal.

The Red Wings return to Detroit for a game with the Black Hawks Wednesday night.

Boston's two goals against Toronto were unusual. Both came in the second period.

Jerry Toppazzini scored the first alone while trying to kill the time on a penalty against Boston. He suddenly broke loose from his own end of the rink and counted on three quick sorties at the net with the puck being fired back and forth by himself and goalie Johnny Bower.

Guy Gendron was credited with the second goal when the puck hit Bower, prostrate in front of the net, and bounced over him into the goal.

Playoff Must Decide Champ of Lucky Open

Don January Meets Juan Rodriguez in 18 Holes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Little Juan Rodriguez and lanky Don January met at 18 holes today for the Lucky International Open golf championship—a playoff that was strictly a longest possibility with one hole to go in Sunday's final regulation round.

Third-round leader January held a two-stroke lead over the colorful Puerto Rican with only Harding Park's 18th hole to play—but Rodriguez birdied, January bogeyed and professional golf had its first playoff of the year. Their 72-hole scores of 12-under-par 272—equalling the tournament record—indicated that even a 68 might not be good enough to win today.

They met for $3,500, as the winner was to collect $7,500 and the loser—the tournament's second-placer—$4,000.

Rodriguez, who stands only 5-7, has never been in a pro playoff. January lost the 1956 Western Open and 1961 PGA titles in extra rounds.

ARNIE THIRD

Arnold Palmer eventually tied for third with Ray Floyd while Mason Rudolph and Gene Littler were another two strokes back at 277. Bill Casper and Tommy Jacobs were at 278, Jon Gustin, Art Wall and Dave Ragan at 279, and U.S. Open champion Julius Boros, PGA and Masters king Jack Nicklaus and Jim Ferrier at 280.

A sun-drenched gallery of 16,000 followed Rodriguez. He shot 66, January 68 and Palmer 70.

Women Skiers Toil Hard for Winter Olympic Medals

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Scattered across the white slope, where the sun didn't reach, were dozens of skiers practicing for the Winter Olympics. They were laboriously making their way up the hill, sideways, one ski after the other, each step averaging nine inches or so.

It took each one more than 10 minutes to get to the top of the slope and only about 30 seconds to come down, whooshing around the slalom poles stuck in the snow, trailing little white clouds.

They were all bundled up in sweaters and caps and it was hard to tell they were girls, until you saw Barbi Henneberger.

Barbi is a young German girl, pretty by any standards and downright stunning in this company.

Barbi won a bronze medal at the 1960 Olympics. She is also camera shy.

"I'm busy," she said. "No pictures." And she made motions with her hands indicating her hair was a mess.

Then she scuttled away up the hill, crablike.

COURT OF LEARNING — The accent is on academic recognition at Shimer College in Mount Carroll, Ill. And that is one of the reasons why the school's basketball team owns the longest losing streak in the nation — 51 games. Another reason might be that practice has obstacles — such as the court filled with chairs for midyear examinations. Maneuvering around the seats in a shooting exercise are bare-foot Doug Kernaghan and teammate Basil de Tineo.

MSU Can't Cope With M's 'Spartan'

Russell Hits 34 in U. of M. Win, 91-77

Spartans Stay Close for First Half Then Wolverines Roll

EAST LANSING (AP) — The program listed Michigan's Cazzie Russell at only 6-foot-5½ — but he must have looked like a 10-foot giant spartan to Michigan State Saturday afternoon.

Cazzie was the big man in every department in the 91-77 Michigan victory over the Spartans. The victory kept the second-ranked Wolverines steam-rolling along to their 14th victory in 15 starts and kept them in the undisputed lead in the Big Ten race with five straight.

Russell was the scoring star of the game with his 34 points. He had a dozen field goals and was deadly from the free throw line, hitting 10 out of 10.

Big Cazzie from Chicago — he weighs 218 pounds — didn't try to steal the show deliberately, either. He also set up scores for his teammates with a deft under-the-basket pass.

Bill Buntin, the 6-foot-7 second half of the dual Michigan scoring threat, backed up Russell with his 25 points.

"Russell's five fast points midway in the second half didn't hurt us," Michigan Coach Dave Strack said in a masterpiece of understatement. It was the turning point of the game.

Russell took the ball on a steal when Michigan was leading only by a 66-63 score. He dumped in a fast layup and then added three more points to make it 71-63.

The Spartans had stubbornly staged rally after rally and were trailing 40-38 at the half.

Pete Gent contributed 23 points and Fred Thomann made 18 for the losers.

"It was our most rugged game of the year," said Strack. There won't be any rest for the weary Michigan State squad. State has a game at East Lansing tonight against Ohio State, a 90-87 winner over Purdue Saturday.

Michigan meanwhile will have a week of rest. The Wolverines take on MSU the second time Saturday in Yost Fieldhouse at Ann Arbor.

This makes things look a little discouraging for the Spartans, currently 8-7 overall and 2-3 in Big Ten play.

There also are two more discouraging facts that have to be faced by the rest of the teams in the Big Ten. Russell is a sophomore and will be around for two more years and Buntin is just a junior.

3rd Setback Handed NCAA Cage Champs

By The Associated Press
The golden year of basketball at Loyola of Chicago might wind up gold-plated.

The glittering Ramblers began the season—the 50th anniversary of the start of intercollegiate basketball at the school—as the NCAA champions. With four of their five starters returning, the Ramblers were conceded to have one of the nation's top teams again.

The past week, though, has slowed the gold rush at Loyola to a stroll. Wichita, one of the two teams which beat the champions in 31 games last season, handed the Ramblers their second consecutive defeat 80-76 Saturday night.

Coupled with last Monday's 83-65 loss to Memphis State, the latest setback undoubtedly will drop Loyola from its number three ranking to near the bottom of the Top Ten and possibly out of its altogether.

Ironically, Loyola was the only losing Top Ten team Saturday night. Second-ranked Michigan downed Michigan State 91-77; unbeaten Davidson, No. 4, kept rolling 105-73 against Wofford; and Kentucky, rated fifth, knocked over Georgia Tech 79-62.

Seventh-ranked Villanova overwhelmed Penn 72-48; Duke, No. 8, squeezed by Tennessee 67-65 after two overtimes, and Oregon State, tied for 10th with Wichita, whipped Stanford 65-57.

UCLA, the nation's No. 1 team; sixth-ranked Vanderbilt and unbeaten DePaul, ninth, didn't play.

The Ramblers face a busy schedule this week—Dayton tonight, Western Michigan Wednesday night and Iowa Saturday night.

They must play all of these games and probably a few more without Vic Rouse, a veteran who scored the winning basket against Cincinnati in the NCAA final last year.

The 6-foot-6 Rouse suffered a shoulder separation in practice last week and is expected to miss two more weeks of play.

NO BENCH

To compound matters, Loyola lacks bench strength. Senior starters John Egan, Ron Miller and Leslie Hunter scored all but eight of the Ramblers points against Wichita.

The Wheatshockers added to Loyola's problems with acute accuracy from the foul line. After the Ramblers tied the game 63-63 with seven minutes remaining, Wichita dropped in 13 straight free throws. Hunter led all scorers with 36 points while Dave Stallworth had 29 for Wichita.

Fred Hetzel sparked Davidson to its 15th straight triumph. He scored 29 points and snared 21 rebounds, two more than the entire Wofford team.

FOLS Wrestlers 3rd in Detroit Tournament

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows picked up wins in three events Saturday and placed third in the Detroit Catholic Central wrestling tournament.

Catholic Central won the tourney with 92 points, followed by Lutheran West (70), FOLS (65) and Ann Arbor St. Thomas (39). Earning first-place points for the Sorrows squad were brothers Mike and Cliff LaFond and Stan Secosky.

Clay, Liston Toss Big Verbal Punch

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sonny Liston sat inside a private room at the airport with an 11-year-old admirer on his knee, posing for photographers. Outside the locked door, Cassius Clay was yelling, "come on out. Open the door. Hey, what's the secret?"

The ballyhoo for the Feb. 25 heavyweight title fight at Miami Beach between the stolid champ and the big challenger was off and running.

Earlier Clay and his entourage, equipped with handsome canes, waited menacingly at the gate where Liston's plane was due to land. "I'm going to whup that man," said Clay again and again as he has been saying for months. "I'm the real champ. Why is he late? What's he scared of?"

LAST MAN'OUT

When the plane finally arrived, Clay took off his coat and yelled for Sonny who was the last man to exit from the first class compartment. It was like the old burlesque days with Clay's handlers holding their tiger who kept struggling to break away and make a pass at the man whom he will fight next month. After all the conferences that were needed to make the match, you can imagine Clay fighting Liston for free at an airport.

Area Skater Wins Event

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Three Michigan skaters took a slice of ice honors Sunday in the National Outdoor Speed Skating Championships.

Bill Freeman of Farmington won the intermediate boys three-quarter mile race, finishing fifth in the class with seven points. Jerry Hamernick of St. Paul won with 16.

Former women's champion Jeanne Omelenchuk of Detroit won the mile event but Diane White of St. Paul captured the ladies' title.

Mrs. Omelenchuk picked up 13 points while Miss White was scoring 23 in winning five events.

Kathy Sullivan of Cheboygan tied for second with Sue Hegle of Minneapolis in the intermediate girls, won by Mary Meyers of St. Paul.

Kathy's best was a victory in the 220 in 21.7 seconds.

The men's championship was cornered by Neil Blatchford, 18-year-old Lake Forest, Ill., high school senior.

The champ was asked if he had read some remarks attributed to Clay about his having a mixed group at his training camp in Las Vegas. Clay is suspected of having leanings toward the Muslims, an anti-white organization.

"I feel Clay should tend to his own business," said Liston. "And make no remarks about what I do. He is not really a good challenger. I guess he is deservingly No. 1. I don't rate 'em, I fight 'em."

Was Liston upset?

"Even iron wears out after a while," he said. "People get enough of anything. I didn't expect him to show up here. I don't expect him to show up the night of the fight. He might run but I'll finish him within five."

Finley Stirs Coast Talk

Owner of KC Team in California

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The arrival of Charles O. Finley, Kansas City Athletics owner, and the announcement of a press conference for today from the Oakland mayor's office have stirred speculation over the possibility of a second major league baseball team for the Bay Area.

Finley and Athletics General Manager Pat Friday arrived at San Francisco Sunday. Reports circulated throughout the day that they were meeting with the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, Oakland city officials and with Coliseum, Inc., which plans construction of a multi-million dollar sports arena in the East Bay.

None of the persons involved in the alleged meetings was available for comment Sunday night, but the secretary of Oakland Mayor John C. Houlihan announced that there would be a press conference in the mayor's office at 11 a.m. today, with Finley among those present.

SOUNDING BOARD

Finley presumably was sounding out Bay Area feelings on the prospect of moving his American League Athletics to Oakland.

Such a move would take more than completion of Coliseum Inc.'s $25 million arena, which would give Oakland a major league capacity park. Construction on the arena has been bogged by litigation but is expected to begin within a few months.

Finley also would need approval of the American League, which already has rejected his request to move his franchise to Louisville, Ky. The league also ordered Finley to sign a lease with Kansas City by Feb. 1 or face expulsion from the league.

Golden Gloves Boxer in Serious Condition

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Eme-dino Nunez, 26, injured in a Golden Gloves match at Odessa, Tex., remained unconscious and in critical condition at a Midland hospital today.

Physicians said the amateur boxer suffered a possible skull fracture and a brain hemorrhage. They postponed surgery until the swelling on his brain receded.

UNDER WAY — Toronto's Red Kelly (4) mounts an attack for the Maple Leafs after taking the puck behind his own net during the second period at the Boston Garden Sunday night. Toronto goalie John Bower keeps his eye on the puck in case Boston's Forbes Kennedy (14) gets his stick on it. John Bucyk (9) of the Bruins watches action. Boston won 2-0.

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Tom Peterson of Iron Mountain, Mich., soared 190 feet at Tomahawk Ridge Sunday for the day's longest leap in the Central U.S. Ski Association Jumping championships.

On his second try, battered by tricky head winds, Peterson made only 143 feet for a second place finish in the junior event. Bill Bakke of Madison won in juniors with 201.8 points from leaps of 172 and 161 feet. Peterson scored 199.8 points.

Ralph Bietila of Ishpeming, Mich., took third in the veterans event, won by om Harrington of St. Paul. Harrington leaped 147 and 135 feet, getting 170.2 points. Bietila did 147 and 125 for 168.5.

LBJ Praises for MacArthur

Says 'Highest Honor
Was Being a Cadet'

NEW YORK (AP) — Douglas MacArthur has been hailed by President Johnson on the general's 84th birthday as "one of the authentic American heroes of this century."

MacArthur, who turned 84 yesterday, received a delegation of five cadets from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., in his Waldorf Towers suite. He told them the praise being heaped upon him was a little extravagant as far as he's concerned.

The general of the Army — a five-star title — added: "High honors have come my way, but I shall believe the greatest honor was being a West Point cadet. The Military Academy taught me many things, some of them not within the covers of books written by any man."

As he displayed a congratulatory telegram from the President, MacArthur recalled that Johnson had been one of his officers in the southwest Pacific during World War II.

DECORATED JOHNSON

"I remember the day I decorated him with the Silver Star," the general said, "for his coolness and courage during an air mission in New Guinea."

"Had I known at the time that he was to become President, I would have looked after his welfare better than I did. But he seemed well able to take care of himself."

Johnson's telegram read: "Your country sends you, with affection and warmth, prayers for God's blessing on your 84th birthday. You are one of the authentic American heroes of this century."

"On behalf of the American people please accept the appreciation of a grateful nation for what you have given and all you have done."

CHERISHES MESSAGE

"The President's message, of course, is an extravagant one," MacArthur said, "but I shall cherish it, because it comes not only from the chief magistrate of the country, but because of the close friendship between the President and myself."

Workers at Ford
Gross Average
Wage of $3.31

DETROIT (AP)—Ford Motor Co. production workers received an average gross wage of $3.31 an hour during 1963—up 16 cents from the previous high set in 1962, the company reported Saturday.

Ford said its U.S. payroll totaled a record $1.38 billion dollars last year and its average employment was 165,559 — highest since 1957.

The firm said average gross hourly earnings of 88,412 Ford workers in Michigan was $3.34 an hour, up 13 cents from 1962. It said Ford's Michigan payroll rose by $55 million to $756 million.

The figures did not include Philco Corp., a Ford subsidiary.

Amity Award Given to Detroit Jew Leader

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. Leon Fram, Jewish leader in Detroit for nearly 40 years, was chosen Sunday to receive the annual Amity Award of the Detroit women's division of the American Jewish Congress. Dr. Fram was cited for his support of human rights at present and "long before the era of civil rights marches." Wayne State University was chosen for a special institutional award recognizing cultural contributions to the community.

Canasta: Card Game of LBJ and Family

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The favorite card game of President Lyndon B. Johnson and his family is canasta. But House Speaker John W. McCormack, next in line of presidential succession, prefers poker and once won $1,000 from Harry S. Truman. Yes, he reported it on his income tax.

Making a pearl isn't easy for an oyster. It's hard work. Some years ago Japanese growers succeeded in stimulating oysters into growing as many as five pearls each, but then had to quit. The hopped - up oysters either died or produced low quality pearls.

Bearded lady: In ancient Egypt the people were clean-shaven but worshipped bearded gods. On state occasions Queen Hatshepsut wore a false beard of gold as a sign that, like all pharaohs, she was of divine origin.

FROSTBITE UPDATED

Cold weather tip: If you suffer frostbitten fingers or toes, don't rub them with snow. That's old-fashioned. Doctors now recommend carefully washing the frigid digits with warm water and soap.

Our quotable notables: "Amiable, ignorant, bovine women make much better mothers than neurotic college graduates." — Pearl Buck.

Piscatorial prowess: Maryland survey once found that 10 per cent of the fishermen caught 46 per cent of the fish, 53 per cent of the fishermen caught the remaining 54 per cent of the fish, and the remaining 37 per cent of the fishermen lied about the big ones that got away.

Safety note: The steering wheel is the most dangerous part of a car in an accident. It is blamed for a third of the million auto injuries yearly.

BOTULISM PROTECTION

Nose guard: Your sense of smell is your best protection against the deadly food poisoning called botulism. If an item of food smells spoiled, don't eat it.

Main drag: Manhattan brags about its "Broadway" but has no monopoly on the name. At least 57 U.S. towns — and some 1,700 villages — have a main thoroughfare called Broadway.

Nature notes: A kangaroo is born with its eyes closed and its mouth open. The chimpanzee, which pound for pound is several times stronger than man, seldom lives longer than 15 years in captivity. The common garden snail has 14,175 teeth arranged in 135 rows, each containing 105 teeth — so wouldn't you hate to be a snail's dentist?

Folklore: If a girl finds a bent pin, she should throw it away, for if she keeps it she'll end up an old maid. In preparing a cup of coffee, put the sugar in before you do the milk or cream —otherwise you'll be crossed in love.

COWBOY STANDIN

Worst pun of the century: Robert Q. Lewis says a friend of his who acts as standin for a television cowboy star is known as "a gunderstudy."

History lesson: The first time a U.S. president left the country while still in office was in 1907 when Theodore Roosevelt visited the Panama Canal site. He backed the canal because it saved vessels plying between the Atlantic and Pacific an 8,000 mile trip around South America.

Peaceful neighbors: Mexico's 1964 budget of slightly more than $1.25 billion allots $325 million for education—only $90 million for all military items.

Quickies: Only one out of 10,000 Americans learns even the rudiments of ventriloquism. Eight of every nine teenage girls wants to become a housewife (although nine out of nine seem to hate to help mom do the dishes). Male wooden Indians usually were carved about life-size, squaws six inches shorter, princesses about three feet tall.

It was Mark Twain who observed, "Nothing so needs reforming as other people's habits."

Nazi Horrified by Atrocities

Charged With Aiding Auschwitz Gassings

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—A former Nazi SS doctor accused of killing instead of healing said today he was "horrified . . . revolted" when he learned over a glass of schnapps his job was to send people to the Auschwitz gas chambers.

Franz Lucas, a 52-year-old women's doctor, stammered out his horror at the 11th session of West Germany's biggest war crimes trial. He and 21 other defendants are accused of helping kill up to 4 million persons at the Nazi death factory in occupied Poland.

Tall and well-dressed in a gray suit, the balding doctor with the round fringe of white hair blurted out what happened when other SS doctors invited him over a glass of schnapps his first day at Auschwitz in spring 1944.

"They told me about the gassing . . . I was horrified . . . revolted. I had never heard anything like it before. I felt it conflicted with my doctor's ethics."

DUCKED JOB

Lucas denied again and again that he ever picked newly arrived prisoners for slave labor or gassing. He said he always ducked out on the job.

Lucas said he got a furlough from Auschwitz right away to talk to a bishop who was an old school friend.

"He advised me not to obey immoral oral orders but he said I must not endanger my own life by disobeying," he said.

When he got back to Auschwitz he became chief doctor at Birkenau, Auschwitz's special camp for gypsies, he said.

28 Detroiters Stuffed Into a Volkswagen

DETROIT (AP)—How do you get 28 people in a Volkswagen automobile?

It's easier if you take out the front seat, said Bill Washburn, 28, owner of the Volkswagen in which 28 Detroit art students claimed a record for Volkswagen stuffing Saturday.

"The old record was 25. I read it some place," said a student bystander.

The 28 included two under the front hood and one in the rear engine compartment. All were students at a school sponsored by the Society of Arts and Crafts.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months. In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body. This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H®. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

U.N. Team Sees Scores Arrested in Negro Protest

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Day-long racial demonstrations in downtown Atlanta resulted in the arrest of scores of persons in the wake of an inspection tour of a United Nations antiracism group.

At least seven were injured in the demonstrations which flared anew Sunday night. A Negro trusty suffered a broken leg when he was involved in scuffling among demonstrators at the city jail.

A policeman, H. A. Wagner, suffered a head injury when he was pushed to the pavement as Negroes attempted to enter an integrated restaurant.

The restaurant, Le's, has been the scene of demonstrations for several weeks. The demonstrations became more intensified this weekend with the appearance of the U.N. sub-commission in Atlanta.

HALF A DAY

The demonstrations began about noon Sunday and continued until shortly before midnight.

Most of the 86 arrested had to be carried to jail. All were released upon their own recognizance after they were charged with disorderly conduct and creating a disturbance.

Most of those arrested were Negro students. They also included Negro comedian Dick Gregory, who for a time directed the demonstration at the restaurant.

Members of the U.N. sub-commission on prevention of discrimination and protection of minorities watched Negro and Ku Klux Klan pickets in action.

WHITE BOYCOTT

The Negroes were protesting segregation. The Klan pickets were passing out literature proclaiming that a white boycott was hurting Atlanta businesses which have integrated.

The U.N. group, however, had left town to return to New York when the violence erupted.

The U.N. group came to Atlanta on invitation of Morris Abram, a former Atlanta attorney and now U.S. representative to the commission. He said he wanted commission members to get a first-hand look at the racial problem.

"You have big problems," said an African member, Judge Mohammed Mawadi of the Sudan. "I can see hope of a solution in the way the people behave."

TEAR VIOLENCE

Atlanta police usually have refused to arrest racial demonstrators unless owners of restaurants swear out warrants. City Atty. Henry Bowden said arrests were made Sunday because city officials feared greater violence.

Four Negroes said they were beaten by a white man swinging a rope with metal attached to it. They said six white men attacked them as they sought to enter the restaurant.

Negroes said police made no effort to defend them. Police Capt. James Little said at no time while he was present did police fail to protect anyone.

The Atlanta Restaurant Association, in a full-page advertisement in the Atlanta Constitution, demanded that the city protect restaurants which have refused to integrate.

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr., who recently asked restaurant and hotel owners to desegregate, called the situation regrettable.

"In the past 48 hours, a number of groups have consistently tried to have themselves arrested," the mayor said. "It is regrettable that such groups seek national publicity at local expense."

Most of Atlanta's major hotels and motels have integrated. Many of the city's restaurants have lowered the racial barrier.

Civil Rights and Tax Cut to Be Debated Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both the House and Senate take it easy this week before tackling the two biggest bills of the congressional session — civil rights and taxes.

The long-delayed civil rights bill is scheduled to reach the House floor Friday, but voting on amendments won't begin until next week.

In the Senate, the Finance Committee is hurrying its detailed report on the $11.5-billion tax cut bill in hopes of getting it to the floor by Friday, too. It is more likely that debate will start next Monday.

It was learned that Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the second-ranking Democrat on the Finance Committee, will have the job of piloting the tax cut through the Senate. Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., voted against the bill in committee and decided to let Long handle it on the floor.

Leaders hope to pilot the civil rights bill to House passage and the tax cut measure through the Senate by Feb. 11. Both will continue to dominate the action in Congress for weeks after that.

The civil rights bill is expected to set off a full-scale filibuster in the Senate, and the tax bill must go through long House-Senate negotiations to work out differences between the versions passed by each body.

If there is little going on in the main tent this week, the Robert G. Baker hearings in the Senate may provide more action.

The investigation of the activities of the former secretary to Senate Democrats resumes Tuesday with Max H. Karl, president of the Mortgage Guaranty Insurance Corp., of Milwaukee, Wis., in the witness chair.

The firm's stock soared spectacularly after it received a favorable tax ruling from the Internal Revenue Service, and Baker is among those who profited.

The Joint Economic Committee will continue its hearings on President Johnson's economic message, questioning Budget Director Kermit Gordon today and Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon Tuesday.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara goes before the House Armed Services Committee today to start hearings on the Defense Department's authorization bill. The sessions will be closed.

Proceeds will go to Miss Mildred Manion of Beaumont, a granddaughter. Mrs. Yount, widow of a southeast Texas oilman, died in October 1962.

Best Teachers Are Strong Academically

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed.D.

Dear Dr. Nason: There has been a lot said of late that teacher training should place more emphasis on the subject matter taught and less on the methods courses.

I can see where this would be an advantage for one planning to teach in junior or senior high school, but what of those in the elementary school field where we are required to teach the entire program of all subjects on one grade-level?

DR. NASON

Do they need great concentration in any one subject? C. P. Tampa, Fla.

Answer: Learning habits are acquired in the elementary school. Teachers who have majored in an academic subject at the college level have necessarily learned to organize knowledge. Having practiced this skill they are better able to pass it on to their students.

An elementary teacher with a thorough knowledge in any specific field finds it easier to gain background in each of the many fields touched upon in a single grade.

There is no substitute for a well-trained mind.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our daughter is in the third grade. About twice a week she has homework assignments which take up to an hour or two of her time. I feel sure that without my insistence she would not keep working at them long enough to complete them. They certainly cut into her play time.

Is this too much homework? A. R., Long Beach, Calif.

Answer: It is generally agreed that 15 or 20 minutes of homework two days a week can be beneficial to third-graders. It is difficult for teachers to know how long the homework assignment will take any individual child.

What one child can do in six minutes may take another an hour.

If your child is slow by habit she needs help in learning to speed up her work. If she is a child who works rapidly her assignments are too long for a third-grader.

Education seem to do no good. I have tried all sorts of discipline. What can I do to get her to concentrate her efforts on this subject so that she can graduate?

Mrs. L. K., Red Bank, N.J.

Answer: Lectures seldom help! Your daughter must have a plan for overcoming her problem.

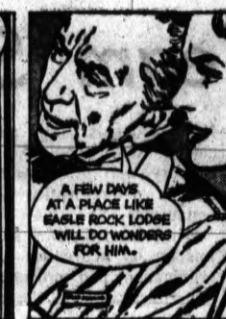

She can lessen her hatred for history and make it easier to study by learning a lot about history.

If she can use enough self-discipline for two or three weeks to get it all straightened out in her mind, whether or not she likes it, she will have made a good start.

The more she learns about history, the more interested she will become and the easier it will be to carry out the school assignments.

She should be willing to devote a mere three weeks of effort to make such an important gain as a diploma.

Sometimes it is rather difficult to see the forest on account of all the trees around you.

South played second hand low at trick one. East played the nine of hearts and South paused for a while before winning the trick with his queen. Then he led a club toward dummy.

West won the trick with the ace and led the five of hearts, whereupon East set the contract with four heart tricks.

South promptly complained about his bad luck. He pointed out that had he known where the ace of clubs was he could have made the hand by letting East hold the first heart trick, but it had seemed to him that East really needed that ace of clubs for his overall.

East chimed in and conceded that his overall had not been the sort that anyone could be proud of, but that it had worked.

A promoter of citizen participation in local government affairs, John H. King of Birmingham has been appointed chairman of the County Home Rule Study Council.

He also is a new member of the Oakland County Civic Research, Inc., Board of Trustees, along with Bloomfield Township Supervisor Homer Case and Mrs. Harriet Phillips of Huntington Woods.

Both citizens' groups are interested in the possibilities of home rule for Oakland County. The study council, sponsored by the Oakland County Citizens League, is mainly concerned with the promotion of home rule.

Civic Research, Inc., is described as a nonprofit, nonpartisan organization devoted to research and education in governmental matters in Oakland County.

REMAINS MEMBER
As chairman of the council, King of 5430 Longmeadow succeeds Case, who remains a member. The appointment was made by an election among the 20 council members.

King is manager of the Motor Truck Department of the Automobile Manufacturers Association and secretary-treasurer of the Bloomfield Estates Improvement Association.

England's King James I appointed a "keeper of the King's otters" to look after the pack of tame aquatic mammals trained to catch fish for his table.

Ship Arrives for U.S. Grain

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The American export freighter Exilona arrived yesterday to pick up the first cargo of surplus American wheat bound for the Soviet Union.

"It will be a pleasure to deliver a capitalist country's grain to a country that said it would bury us," said Peter Kanellos, the ship's first officer.

Meanwhile, the Norwegian freighter Thorfrid prepared to sail from Lake Charles, La., tomorrow with the first load of a $7-million, 500,000-ton sale of American rice to Russia.

The Exilona, which is to begin loading the 6,500-ton cargo of wheat tomorrow, is captained by Edward Jungerheld of New York. He told newsmen he won't know his port of call until they are about four days from their destination.

"Where we go," he said, "will depend on the availability of berths and of railroad freight cars. There may be other factors that would affect where we can discharge the grain most expeditiously."

All Jungerheld knows is that the ship will go to a Black Sea port.

His cargo is the first installment of $286 million worth of wheat the Soviet Union has agreed to purchase from the United States.

The initial shipment from Lake Charles will be 12,500 tons of Arkansas and Louisiana rice. Another 26,000 tons will be exported through Lake Charles.

The rest of the sale, announced Jan. 15 by Continental Grain Co. of New York, will be shipped through Texas ports.

Three Dead in Weekend of Violence

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A weekend of violence which began with two slayings ended yesterday with a third death in an auto crash and the jailing of a Southeast Texas man.

Officers arrested Robert Eddie Louis Jackson, 22, after the car of his aunt, Mrs. Sally Bowie, 60, hit a building north of here as he fled with a state patrolman in pursuit. His aunt died in the crash.

Jackson, a farm hand, told sheriff's deputies he shot and killed a couple Saturday afternoon at Scrapping Valley, a community in North Newton County.

The victims were Matthew Bowie, 68, and his wife, Thelma, 66. They were shot outside their farmhouse.

TAKES HOSTAGES
Deputies quoted Jackson as saying after the shootings he commandeered his aunt's car and forced her and a 25-year-old son of the slain couple to go with him to Houston.

The son, Albert Bowie, escaped serious injury in the crash.

Jackson fled on foot but was quickly captured. Officers reported he had $783.69 in his pocket, apparently taken from the Bowie home.

Mat Bean, sheriff's dispatcher at Newton, said Bowie was shot twice, in the shoulder and heart, with a 22-rifle. Mrs. Bowie was shot five times, in the back and chest.

Johnson Aide: Didn't Urge Car Price Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Administration has not called for a reduction in automobile prices, says Walter Heller, chairman of President Johnson's Council of Economic Advisers.

"Those headlines jumped to certain conclusions," Heller told the Senate — House Economic Committee Thursday in commenting on reports published earlier.

Heller had been questioned by newsmen about a statement in the Council's report to President Johnson that industries with an unusually high rate of productivity could afford to pass along some of the financial benefits to consumers.

Heller, asked at the time if this meant the auto industry, replied "the automobile industry could well be one of those."

In Defense Department

'Chuckleheads' Wasting Our Money

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press International

Here is a $1-million dollar idea offered for free to Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara. The offer is in behalf of that unhappy beast of burden, the U. S. taxpayer.

The idea is this: Let the secretary achieve a further annual economy of from $1 million to maybe $100 million by laying a penalty on the Defense Department "chuckleheads" who now are tossing such sums down the drain.

Defense Department spending is audited by the comptroller general who is chief of the General Accounting Office (GAO).

GAO is a creature of Congress, established to investigate the manner in which the executive departments and agencies spend appropriated funds.

OPERATION REPORTS

In fiscal year 1963, GAO made 362 reports on defense department spending operations.

Here is an example of how the Army brass can and does waste tax money as reported by the comptroller general:

"The Army planned to dispose of its unused or economically repairable stocks of 10-ton crane shovels and 25-horsepower outboard motors and to replace them with current models which offered no material technological improvement over existing stocks."

"The Army had disposed of 25 of the crane shovels in unused or economically repairable condition costing $541,200, while planning to spend about $12 million to replace them and others in the supply system with crane shovels of similar capacity."

"The Army also disposed of about $350,000 worth of repair parts for the crane shovels."

"An additional $146,000 worth of repair parts was recovered from various disposal stages as a result of our pointing out a continued need for these parts."

"With respect to the outboard motors, the Army had spent $575,000 and was planning to spend an additional $321,000 to replace existing stocks of unused motors."

To replace existing stocks of unused motors? Why? The ready answer to that probably is that the colonel or general who ordered $321,000 worth of new motors was not aware that ample stocks were on hand.

THEY SHOULD KNOW

The point of all of this is that Army brass, civilian or military, who handle that kind of tax money should know what they are doing before they do it.

And, a further point is that when one of the military brass goes away a chunk of tax money, that fact should be noted in fat letters in his efficiency rating.

This relates not merely to the Army but to the Navy and Air Force as well where the waste of tax money is shocking and almost incredible.

The comptroller general has been making these reports for a generation.

It was not until the Eisenhower administration that the military paid them much attention.

Secretary Charles E. Wilson demanded instant attention to these accusations of wasteful spending. Succeeding secretaries repeated his orders.

Secretary McNamara wrote what probably is the firmest directive so far that waste fingered by the GAO must cease.

So it is that defense corrects the errors cited day by day by GAO. But new errors persist.

NOT IDENTIFIED

The "chuckleheads" who make them are not even identified in the voluminous reports so far accumulated.

The $1-million dollar idea would be to identify these wastrels by name and rank.

Let their efficiency reports bear witness against them and against their future promotion.

The word would get around and quickly until a personal feeling of responsibility for careful spending of tax money would prevail in Secretary McNamara's department. High time, too!

Oral Lying Called Art by Noted Egyptian Liar

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I tried to reform Omar Sharif, the Egyptian actor . . . to convince him that lying is naughty and nasty . . . and I failed miserably.

"Why, I think it's lovely to lie!" said the remarkable young man you saw in "Lawrence of Arabia."

"Everybody should lie," he exclaimed. "It's a beautiful, wonderful art. But don't get caught. Be a good liar or don't lie!"

We were having this high-minded philosophical discourse at Gallagher's. I told Sharif about Robert Preston's hit show, "Nobody Loves an Albatross." Preston plays a lying Hollywood TV writer-producer. He's a liars' liar. Not really a writer himself, he hires "ghosts" or "closet writers," and signs his name to their scripts. He has two trophies on his wall—not Oscars—but awards for lying.

"Awful isn't it?" I asked Sharif, solemnly. "It's lovely, LOVELY!" he shouted. "Maybe he can't write, but he can lie. That's an art, too."

"I would like to protest," I declared, "in the name of all that is decent and honest . . . in the name of mother, home, country, the state of Ohio, the gospel-columning profession, the legal profession, and all the honest press agents . . ."

"You're out of date!" Sharif lashed out at me. "You can't be a business man today if you have principle."

"You're not being honest to your company if you don't lie. And who do you know," he demanded, "who pays all the taxes he should pay?"

"Errr . . . Errrr," I quipped.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Some of the Actors Studio set is furious or "hurt" over Arthur Miller's play reminiscent of Marilyn Monroe. New feuds will be exploding . . . Carolyn Jones and Geraldine Brooks are up for the lead opposite Sammy Davis in "Golden Boy."

Popular Joseph Schildkraut, who died the other day, was to have sung in "Cafe Crown," which would have been the first musical in his 50-year career.

Kirk Douglas, whose "Cuckoo's Nest" folded invited a crowd to his "Seven Days in May" screening; the invite says, "Try to make it — I'd like to see a full house again before I leave Broadway."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: The cigarette scare has one producer cancelling a revival of "Tobacco Road."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Robert Morse watched some girls swimming, and tells us that "bathing suit," which was once a noun, is now merely an abbreviation.

EARL'S PEARLS: Television seems to bring the same old faces into your living room — especially the repairman.

A famous actress being interviewed at Tractor's in L.A. was asked, "What's happened to you since we talked five years ago?" "Well, she said, 'for one thing, I'm a year older.'"

That's earl, brother.

De Gaulle Has Big Plan to Reestablish Worldwide Influence

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle's imminent recognition of Red China, a source of concern in Washington, is part of a grand plan to reestablish French economic and cultural influence around the world.

Although France has lost an empire since World War II, de Gaulle believes his campaign can restore some political influence and again make France a power to contend with in international affairs.

This is one meaning of the twin offensives unveiled last week: for Asia, the diplomatic recognition of Red China; for Latin America, a visit to Mexico March 16-19 and the announcement of a month-long tour of South America, beginning with an official visit to Brazil next fall.

Paris and Peking are expected to announce tomorrow the establishment of full diplomatic relations and the designation of ambassadors.

TWO-CHINAS POLICY

Paris hopes to maintain relations with Nationalist China, thereby launching France on a two-Chinas policy.

Informed sources disclosed Saturday that de Gaulle has asked President Chiang Kai-shek to maintain Nationalist China's diplomatic relations with France.

There had been reports that the Formosa-based Nationalist government intended to cut its ties with Paris in protest of the recognition of Mao Tse-tung's regime.

Peking has not asked France to break relations with Formosa as a condition for exchanging ambassadors. But the Communists may raise the issue soon.

A PRELUDE

The French leader regards normal relations with Red China as a prelude to reestablishing French influence in Southeast Asia.

His initial aim is an internationally guaranteed neutral status for Viet Nam, Laos and Cambodia, all parts of former French Indochina.

De Gaulle will expound his design when King-Savang Vatthana of Laos visits Paris April 28-30. Cambodia's Prince Norodom Sihanouk is expected in France later in the year.

De Gaulle, who has urged the reunification of divided Viet Nam and settlement of the guerrilla war there, feels only with Red China's support can the proposal be achieved. The United States and South Viet Nam vigorously oppose the idea, arguing it will mean the country's capitulation to communism.

But even beyond a settlement in Southeast Asia, de Gaulle feels France should have direct contact with both sides of the struggle between the Soviet Union and Red China.

In his Asian diplomatic offensive, de Gaulle has not neglected Japan, the other great power in the Orient. While Japan was under postwar American occupation, France had to approach Tokyo through Washington.

Now the French have rebuilt their economic and cultural outlets in Japan. Japanese Premier Hideko Ikeda visited France a year ago, and was welcomed in the grand manner.

France also is seeking closer ties with the Philippines, Thailand, Burma and Indonesia.

FULL WEIGHT

But de Gaulle is convinced France can make its full weight felt in the Orient only by direct contacts with Peking.

Recently he dispatched former Premier Edgar Faure on a scouting mission to China. Faure recommended establishment of diplomatic relations even though he had in the past urged France to follow the U.S. lead.

Unlike the United States, France does not have long-standing political, economic, military and emotional commitments to Chiang. During the war, de Gaulle and Chiang were allies but hardly had any contact.

At the end of the war, relations became chilly. France resented what it thought was Chiang's encouragement to Indochinese nationalism and his opposition to French rule in Indochina.

NOT NEGLECTED

De Gaulle is not neglecting Africa and the Middle East, where France once had a considerable colonial empire.

Recently he resumed diplomatic relations with Egypt, which were disrupted in 1956 by the British-French and Israeli invasions. There has also been talk of a visit to France by Jordan's King Hussein, who—like other Arab leaders—resents France's support of Israel.

French businessmen and teachers have been encouraged to rebuild their country's old influence in Lebanon and Syria.

In Latin America, de Gaulle plans what amounts to a continental campaign this year. He will visit Mexico, Brazil, Argentina and Peru, and probably Uruguay and Chile.

PANAMA INVITATION

There are reports he will also visit Colombia and Venezuela, and now the French press is saying Panama will invite de Gaulle.

De Gaulle hopes to revive France's traditional economic and intellectual links with the Latin Americans.

Recognition Key Victory

France Aids China U.N. Bid

By MAX HARRELSON
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—France's expected recognition of Red China is regarded here as a major breakthrough in the Peking regime's long battle for a seat in the United Nations.

Predictions of a quick victory for the Chinese Communists are tempered by more cautious estimates, however. It seems questionable whether there will be enough switches in votes to seat Peking at next fall's session of the General Assembly.

A shift of France and eight other members would give Red China a simple majority in the Assembly. This is not impossible, but Peking supporters confront a more difficult problem.

They must either muster enough votes for a two-thirds majority—required by an Assembly decision in 1961—or they must reverse the earlier procedural ruling so a simple majority would decide. Either course would require a more sweeping change of votes than appears likely this year.

NEED 14 CHANGES

The 1961 vote in favor of the two-thirds rule was 61 in favor, 34 against and 7 abstaining. To reverse this decision at least 14 delegations would have to change positions. The vote to seat the Chinese Communists that year was 36 in favor, 48 against and 20 abstaining.

That is the closest Peking ever came to getting in. In 1962 and 1963, both sides picked up strength from newly admitted countries and from previous abstainers.

From a percentage stand-

point, the opponents of the Chinese Communists scored a slight gain. The vote in 1962 was 42-56-12 and in 1963 was 41-57-12.

Word that France was preparing to recognize Peking brought many predictions that most of the French-speaking African countries would follow.

During the long battle over membership the Peking government has made few sustained efforts in its own behalf. India carried the ball several years. The Soviet Union pushed the issue after the Peking-New Delhi rift developed. Last year Albania sponsored Red China's bid.

Other countries recognize neither.

During the long battle over membership the Peking government has made few sustained efforts in its own behalf. India carried the ball several years. The Soviet Union pushed the issue after the Peking-New Delhi rift developed. Last year Albania sponsored Red China's bid.

COUNCIL RECOMMENDS

For admission of ordinary members the 11-nation Security Council—with its big-power veto—must first recommend action. Then the Assembly must ratify it by a two-thirds majority.

In the Chinese issue, it's a question of deciding which of two rival governments represents China.

The basic decision would be that of the Assembly, but other major U.N. organs would have to decide between the credentials of the two governments.

The key one would be the Security Council, where China is one of the five permanent members and as such has the veto.

THORNY PROBLEM

The Assumption is that other

U.N. bodies, accepting the assembly decision as a guide, would seat the Peking delegations in place of the Nationalists.

This could raise a knotty question in the Security Council because the U.N. charter names "The Republic of China" as a permanent council member.

To take over the seat, Peking would have to be accepted as the successor government.

This could be difficult if the Nationalists chose to fight it. But the Nationalists might wash their hands of the United Nations and withdraw. This would be consistent with their usual refusal to maintain relations with any country recognizing Peking.

OTHER QUESTIONS

Replacement of the Nationalists would raise other questions:

What would happen to the U.N. voting pattern? Probably there would be no major change. Except in the Security Council, it would simply be a case of one more vote in the Soviet bloc. In the council, where the Soviet Union already has the veto, there would be a second Communist veto. This would be significant only if Moscow and Peking disagreed on an issue.

Food Editor Gets Out Old Scrapbook

By JANET ODELL

For over 10 years we have been collecting and publishing readers' recipes for you. For this issue of our yearly cookbook we went back to the first year's scrapbook. Here are a few of the most interesting recipes printed during that time. They still sound good.

Ham Loaf Was First Recipe

The first reader recipe ever published under my byline was a ham loaf recipe, submitted by Mrs. William Panchuk. It dates back to July 1953, but the recipe is as good as ever.

HAM LOAF

½ pound ham
½ pound beef
½ pound fresh lean pork
1 cup milk
¼ cup catsup
¾ cup bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
Grind meat together and add rest of ingredients. Mix thoroughly and form into a loaf. Bake for 30 minutes at 350 degrees. Spread glaze over loaf and continue baking another hour.
½ cup brown sugar
2 teaspoons vinegar
2 tablespoons water
Boil together. Undiluted canned tomato soup is also excellent as a glaze.

Hide a Coin for Luck in Greek Bread

Greek cooks make a holiday bread that is simply delicious. For New Year's a coin is baked in the loaf; at Easter, hard-cooked eggs are included.
Mrs. Peter Tsatsanis shared this family recipe with Press readers for the 1954 New Year's season.

GREEK HOLIDAY BREAD

1 pound butter or margarine
12 eggs
3 cups sugar
4 yeast cakes
1 teaspoon baking powder
3 potatoes boiled
1 cup milk
1 cup water
2 cinnamon sticks
Flour as needed
Boil cinnamon sticks in water for five minutes.

Mix butter and sugar well, then add beaten eggs, blending thoroughly. Dissolve yeast in milk and add to first mixture. Mash and add potatoes. Add cinnamon water and baking powder.

Mix thoroughly and begin adding flour until dough is formed which can be easily handled. Knead until smooth.

Place in large greased bowl and let rise in warm place until doubled. Form into four medium size braided loaves. Brush top with egg yolk. Garnish with chopped walnuts or sesame seed.

Bake in 350-degree oven for one hour. If top starts to get too brown, cover with aluminum foil. Makes four loaves.

Armenian Nut Cookies

Ten years ago Mrs. Louis Haroutunian shared this unusual cookie recipe with Press readers. The cookies are time-consuming to make, but are well worth any trouble. They keep well, too.

ARMENIAN NUT COOKIES

1 pound butter or margarine, melted
1 cup milk
¾ cup orange juice
1 cup sugar
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
5 cups sifted flour (may need a little more)

Combine milk, orange juice and sugar. Add melted butter or margarine and sifted dry ingredients.

Knead dough until you can shape it into small ovals; you may need to add a little more flour.

Hollow out each cookie and fill with nut mixture. Reshape into ovals. Bake in 350-degree oven until golden brown.

NUT FILLING

1 pound chopped walnuts
1 teaspoon cinnamon

After cookies have been removed from the oven, dip the hot cookies into the following syrup which has been allowed to cool. Let dipped cookies cool on cake racks (put waxed paper under racks to catch syrup drips) Makes 50 cookies.

Syrup for Dipping

2 cups sugar
1 cup water
Juice of ½ lemon
Boil until slightly thickened. Let cool.

Butterscotch Can Be Rich Filling Without Milk

Here's an old fashioned butterscotch pie recipe without milk in the filling. Mrs. Dale Kline has used this recipe successfully for three decades.

OLD FASHIONED BUTTERSCOTCH PIE

1 cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup cold water
2 egg yolks, beaten
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
baked pie shell
2 egg whites
3 tablespoons sugar

Mix flour and brown sugar, add water and beaten yolks. Cook until smooth and thickened. Add butter or margarine and vanilla. This is enough for a 7-inch pie.

Fill baked pie shell and top with meringue made with egg whites and sugar. Brown in oven.

Give Dill Pickles Sweet Treatment

You don't have to make pickles in summer to have them now. Mrs. Harry Slater once gave us a recipe for dressing up commercial dill pickles. Here it is.

QUICK EASY PICKLES

Cut 6 large dill pickles in ¼-inch slices. Put in pint jars. Dissolve 2 cups sugar in ½ cup tarragon vinegar. Add 2-5 cloves of garlic (depending on taste), cut in half, and 3 tablespoons pickling spice. Cook 5 minutes. Cool.

Pour syrup over pickles. Seal. Store in refrigerator one week before using. Makes 2 pints.

You've Requested This Again

Over the years there have been a number of requests for this chocolate cake made with mayonnaise. It's an excellent recipe to have on hand, in case you run out of eggs on baking day.

Mrs. Ralph Rotsel, at that time a newcomer to Pontiac, was the cook of the day.

MAYONNAISE COCOA CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour
1 cup sugar
½ cup cocoa
¼ teaspoon salt

Visitor Gave Cookie Tip

A visitor from Pennsylvania offered the following pineapple cookie recipe. So many requests came in for reprints of this that it was run a second time. This is the third time around.

PINEAPPLE DROP COOKIES

1 cup brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
1 cup crushed pineapple, drained
1 cup chopped nuts
4 cups sifted flour
1 cup shortening
2 eggs
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix all together and drop by teaspoonfuls on greased baking sheet. Bake 8-10 minutes in 350-degree oven. Makes about 90 cookies.

Milk furnishes calcium, protein, riboflavin, and if fortified, vitamin D.

It's Elegant Brown Bread

This recipe for an economical brown bread which is good enough to eat for dessert is worth repeating. The cook who offered it, Mrs. John S. Douglas, died a few years later.

BROWN BREAD

2½ cups sifted flour
1 egg
2 teaspoons soda

SHE CAN COOK, TOO—
Mrs. Edward W. Williams (Helen) of Rochester is well-known for her "book larnin". But her friends know she is a good cook, too. Her recipe for Pineapple Custard is to be recommended.

Unusual Way to Fix Fruit

Mrs. Edward W. Williams' recipe for Pineapple Custard is truly unusual. It deserves a place in your collection of cherished recipes.

Consider it the next time you have a brunch party.

PINEAPPLE CUSTARD

5 slices bread, cut into cubes
¼ pound unsalted butter
3 eggs
½ cup sugar
1 can (No. 2) crushed pineapple, undrained
¼ teaspoon cornstarch
dash of salt

Saute bread in butter and set aside. Beat eggs and add rest of ingredients. Mix well. Pour into shallow greased baking dish.

Top with sauted bread. Sprinkle with cinnamon and nutmeg. Bake 45 minutes at 375 degrees. Serve warm. Makes 4-6 servings.

Deviled Ham in Dressing Is Intriguing

A truly sunshiny salad of glistening orange and onion rings "spiced" with a little French dressing made with deviled ham is the latest inspiration from Spain.

You'll love the tart, fresh flavor of glorious orange slices topped with nippy rings of onion. It's the dressing, however, that gives this unusual combination the finishing touch — for it's French to which a little lively-flavored deviled ham has been added.

You'll have everyone guessing the marvelous mixture of flavors — and when you serve it on your table, each serving will burst forth like a myriad of rays, glisteningly gorgeous, unbelievably tempting.

SPICY SALAD DEL SOL

1 head lettuce
2 oranges, sliced thin
1 Bermuda onion, sliced thin
1 cup mild French dressing
1-4½ ounce can deliled ham
Break lettuce into large pieces, arrange on plate with orange slices and onion rings. Shake dressing with deviled ham — serve on salad. 4-6 servings.

Spicy Cake Is a Light One

There is no added fat in Mrs. Samuel Miller's Spicy Sponge cake (eggs have fat in them so the cake is not fat-free). But this recipe has remained a favorite with Pontiac Press readers.

SPICY SPONGE CAKE

3 eggs, separated
½ cup granulated sugar
½ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cloves
6 tablespoons hot milk
Beat egg yolks until thick; gradually beat in sugars. Add vanilla. Fold in sifted dry ingredients.

Add milk; stir quickly until batter is smooth. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites.

Pour into ungreased 8-inch square pan. Bake 35-40 minutes in 350-degree oven.

QUICK CASSEROLE — Five-year-old Amy gets a lesson in preparing an easy, appetizing casserole. Mrs. Walter Larson of Rochester utilizes a variety of canned foods to make Luau Beans. When time and/or energy is at a premium, this is the kind of recipe to use.

For Quick Cooking

Gravy Mix an Aid

Very clever, these Chinese Beef and Vegetables. They're exotic but quick and easy to prepare, which makes them a fine dinner choice during this busy season.

One reason for their ease of preparation is the convenience products involved — most certainly including the gravy mix which allows you to turn out a cup of smooth, perfectly seasoned gravy in just a couple of minutes. That speeds up such dishes as this one.

In other cases, gravy mixes might mean a truly flavorful way to extend your own gravy for a large dinner crowd, or a way to turn out hot sandwiches from leftover meat without leftover gravy.

For the recipe below, pick Brown Gravy Mix if you like rich, dark brown gravy; Home-Style Gravy Mix, if a lighter milder-flavored gravy is what you want. Either does nice things for beef—or pork. Home-Style complements lamb or veal, as well.

Chinese Beef and Vegetables

- 1 pound beef round, sliced thin
- 1 tablespoon cooking oil
- 1 package Brown or Home-Style gravy mix
- 1 cup water
- ½ package (10 oz.) frozen French cut green beans
- 1 cup thinly sliced celery
- 1 can (4 oz.) mushrooms, drained
- 1 tablespoon soy sauce
- 3 cups hot cooked rice
- Slivered almonds

Brown meat in 1 tablespoon oil. Cover tightly and simmer 15 minutes or until tender.

Meanwhile prepare gravy mix as directed on package. Combine all remaining ingredients except rice and almonds. Add to gravy. Cover and simmer until vegetables are tender but still crisp, about 15 minutes.

Spoon over rice and sprinkle with chopped almonds. 3 to 4 servings.

Different Dish to Serve With Sunday Roast

A baked ham served with a casserole of sweet red onions and tart apples is a happy Sunday dinner suggestion.

Onion and Apple Casserole

- 3 large Bermuda or sweet red onions
 - ½ inch boiling water
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 4 tart medium apples
 - 3 tablespoons sugar
 - 1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 - ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
 - 1-3 cup onion liquid
 - 1-3 cup butter or margarine
- Peel onions and slice about ¼-inch thick. Cook 10 minutes in covered saucepan in ½-inch boiling water and ½ teaspoon of the salt. Peel apples and cut them into slices ½-inch thick. Drain onions, reserving the liquid to use later.

Fill a 1-quart casserole with alternating layers of apples and onions, sprinkling each layer with the sugar, cinnamon, black pepper and remaining ½ teaspoon salt. Add onion liquid. Melt butter or margarine and pour it over the casserole. Cover.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree (moderate) oven 45 minutes or until apples are done. Serve with pork, ham or turkey. Makes 6 servings.

The U.S.A. grows 90 per cent of The World's grapefruit.

Cook Creates New Recipes as Challenge

Imagination plays an important part in creating new recipes. Putting them together in a new and interesting manner is a challenge to women who like to cook.

Mrs. Walter E. Larson starts with a can of beans and ground pork. By the time she gets through dressing them up, you never recognize the beans.

LUAU BEANS

- ¼ cup chopped green pepper
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon shortening
- 1 can beans and ground beef
- ½ cup pineapple chunks, drained

Cook green pepper and onion in shortening until tender. Add beans and pineapple. Heat and serve. Makes 4-6 servings.

Mother Nature Does Good Packaging Job

Department of Agriculture Marketing Research Report No. 609 lists lettuce among convenience foods because it's ready to eat with little, if any, preparation. Nature did a beautiful job of packaging when she made heads of iceberg lettuce so compact that no insects or dirt penetrate.

Coring and rinsing a head of lettuce makes it easier to separate, and helps retain its crispness, but is not necessary for getting it into wedges for salad.

Mexican Idea Borrowed for Salad

Jellied Guacamole is something new for the party mold—a pleasant change from the usual bland or sweet combination and a delightful accompaniment for other salads or casseroles.

Brightly flavored yet creamy smooth, the salad is easily assembled with the aid of canned tomato sauce.

Families will enjoy Jellied Guacamole in individual shapes on lettuce, with chicken or shrimp salad. For a salad plate, include a cole slaw or mixed vegetable salad, sliced cold turkey, or sliced cold meat loaf.

For a pleasant change, simmer sea scallops in water to cover for 3 to 5 minutes, including salt, pepper, a slice of lemon, a slice of onion, and a celery top.

Thin mayonnaise slightly with lemon juice; add to drained scallops and toss lightly. Use to fill ring mold of Jellied Guacamole.

For dessert, try banana cake. As a bread, why not pretzels?

Jellied Guacamole

- 1 (3-ounce) package lemon flavored gelatin
- ¾ cup hot water
- 1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce

- ¼ cup vinegar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon dehydrated bell peppers, crushed, or (½ cup fresh bell peppers, diced)
- ½ teaspoon garlic salt
- ½ teaspoon onion powder
- ½ cup commercial sour cream
- 1 large avocado, mashed
- ½ cup chopped celery

Dissolve gelatin in hot water; add tomato sauce, vinegar, and seasonings. Add sour cream and avocado; mix well with rotary beater. Add celery. Turn into a 1-quart mold. Chill until set.

THIS JELLIED GUACAMOLE is borrowed from a classic Mexican recipe featuring mashed avocados and canned tomato sauce.

Circle Bright Salad With Broccoli

In colonial times, a hot vegetable was often called "sallet." You'll find some of the favorites in colonist's gardens—broccoli, beets and cauliflower—as tempting served cold for "sallets" as hot for vegetables, especially surrounded with generous amounts of crisp western iceberg lettuce.

Lettuce was also one of the first vegetables planted in colonist's gardens, but it was not the iceberg variety. Early lettuce was loose, leafy and stemmy because it grew in hot weather.

It takes warm days, but cold nights, to form compact heads characteristic of iceberg lettuce that is so well-liked today. Because California and Arizona provide these ideal growing conditions, 80 per cent of the iceberg lettuce grown commercially comes from these states.

Lettuce and Broccoli Salad

- 1 head western iceberg lettuce
- 1 pound fresh or 1 package (10 ounces) frozen broccoli, cooked, drained and chilled
- 1 medium tomato, quartered
- 8 cucumber slices
- ½ cup low-calorie French dressing

- 1 to 3 teaspoons prepared horseradish
- 1 tablespoon water
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire

Core lettuce; wash in cold water and drain well. Separate outer lettuce leaves to line 4 salad plates. Arrange broccoli spears, tomato wedges and cucumber on lettuce. Mix French dressing, horseradish, water and Worcestershire; serve dressing with salad. Makes 4 servings.

Need for Protein Never Stops

Older people still need protein for repair and upkeep of body tissues, say nutritionists in the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

A study made by food scientists shows that after 40 years of age the average woman consumes less than the daily needed amount of protein.

Women between 40 and 59 years had diets 9 per cent below par in protein; women 60 to 69, 18 per cent; and those 70 to 79 years old, about 12 per cent short.

Although protein needs must be assessed along with other nutritional requirements, older women should check their daily protein intake. Foods important for protein include milk, cheese, eggs, meats, poultry and fish.

Clear Aspic Holds Ham and Chicken

A deluxe chicken and ham aspic is surprisingly easy to make.

To create each individual main-dish aspic, start with ham slices. The ham may be home baked (canned or ready-to-cook ham), or you may want to purchase slices at your delicatessen.

Next spread the ham with liver pate — easily available in cans — and shape into patties.

Then comes sliced chicken. For this you'll use a broiler-fryer which has been simmered in water until tender.

The broth from the chicken and three envelopes of unflavored gelatin create the aspic base and give the main dishes their design. The aspics may be chilled until firm in individual molds.

Chicken-Ham-Pate Aspic

- One broiler-fryer chicken
- 3 cups water
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 2 celery tops
- 2 bay leaves
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
- 2 chicken bouillon cubes

Place chicken in deep kettle. Add water and remaining ingredients; cover with a tight-fitting lid. Bring to a boil; reduce heat and simmer 40 minutes, or until tender. Remove chicken; strain stock. Refrigerate chicken and stock at once.

When chicken is cool, remove skin and slice meat from breast, remove remaining meat from bones. Skim fat from stock; add water to make 4 cups.

- Eight stuffed olive slices
- 8 slices cooked ham
- 2 cans (4½ ounces each) liver pate

Man-Size Lunch

Slice French bread lengthwise. Spread deviled ham, add layers of Swiss cheese, onion rings, green pepper, cucumber and tomato slices. Spread deviled ham on top bread layer and cut in "he-man" size chunks. Your men-folk will love this special sandwich!

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?

A. Cross-cut Beef Shanks.

Q. Where do they come from and how are they identified?

A. They are small pieces cut across the bone of the fore shank.

Q. How are they prepared?

A. Usually by cooking in liquid, often for soup. The meat is covered with water, the utensil covered tightly, and the meat cooked slowly for 2 to 3 hours or until tender. For soup, the meat is then cut into small pieces or slices.

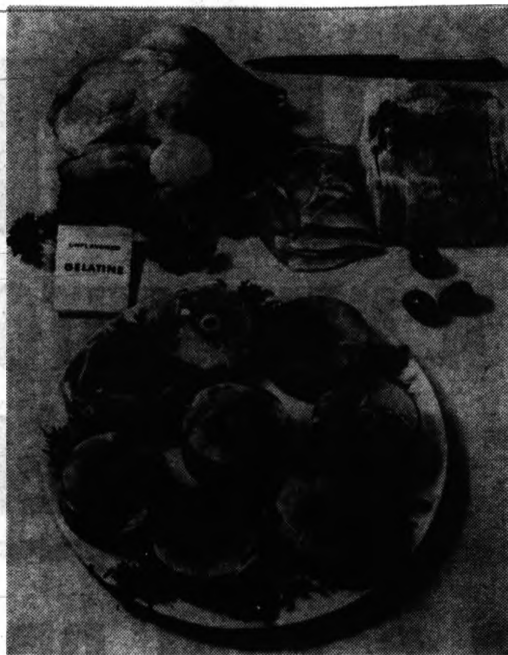

- 3 cups cooked chicken
- 3 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 4 cups clarified chicken broth

Center one olive slice in bottom of each of eight 1-cup molds. Cover with 8 pieces of ham, cut to fit molds. Cover ham with 8 liver patties. Top each with chicken pieces.

Sprinkle gelatin on chicken broth in saucepan to soften. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is dissolved. Cool. Pour into molds. Chill until firm. Unmold.

Note: To clarify chicken broth, bring to a boil in saucepan with 2 egg whites and crushed egg shells. Strain through a sieve lined with several layers of cheesecloth.

CHICKEN-HAM PATE—Poultry and meat aspics, molded in unflavored gelatin, provide individual servings as a dinner's main attraction.

Coat Cereal and Candy With Marshmallow

Teenagers can earn a little extra money for their favorite school club by selling these sparkly Confetti Balls. They'll add welcome pennies to your treasury.

They're easy to make, cover with a plastic wrap and tie with a bright ribbon. They are full of peanuts and colorful gumdrops—you can use gumdrops in your school colors.

CONFETTI BALLS

Ingredients	12 balls (2½ inch size)	48 balls
Quaker Puffed Rice	6 cups	6 quarts
Chopped peanuts	1 cup	3 cups
Cut-up gumdrops	1 cup	3 cups
Large marshmallows	½ lb.	2 lbs.
	(about 32 marshmallows)	(about 128 marshmallows)

Butter or margarine ¼ cup 1 cup
Heat puffed rice in large shallow baking pans in pre-heated moderate oven (350 degrees) for 10 minutes. Pour into large greased bowl. Add peanuts and gumdrops; stir to combine.

Melt marshmallows and butter in covered double boiler, stirring occasionally. Pour over puffed rice mixture; stir until kernels are evenly coated.

With greased hands, quickly shape into balls. (If mixture hardens before shaping is complete, place in a moderate oven to soften for a few minutes.) Wrap balls in plastic wrap and tie with ribbons of school colors.

Crunchy Pretzels in Fudge

This recipe for fudge looks complicated but truly is not and its rich flavor is refreshingly offset by the salty nuttiness of the pretzels.

Most of the time, concerning candy, people do not consider the cost but here is another advantage. Pretzels are much less expensive, and far lower in calories, than the nuts they replace.

Old-New Fudge

- 2 cups sugar
- ¼ cup milk
- 1 square chocolate, broken
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 2 tablespoons peanut butter
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

¼ cup coarsely crushed pretzels

Heat sugar, milk and chocolate; stirring while chocolate melts. Then cook to 234 degrees without stirring. Remove from heat, add peanut butter and butter. Let stand until cool without stirring.

Beat with wooden spoon until candy loses glossiness. Stir in pretzels and pour in buttered pan, about 8"x4". Mark into squares.

Alternate method: Sprinkle half of the pretzels into bottom of buttered pan, add fudge and press remaining pretzels on top.

Frosting Mix Makes Candy

Using frosting mix for candies is an interesting idea. With a little cooking you convert ready-made frosting into candies.

There's no need to test the mixture or even beat it.

Caramel Fudge

- 1 package caramel fudge frosting mix
 - 2 tablespoons soft butter
 - 2 tablespoons plus 1 teaspoon water
 - ½ cup chopped hazelnuts
- Melt butter with water in top of double boiler. Add frosting mix; stir until smooth. Heat over rapidly boiling water 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add nuts. Pour into buttered 9x5x3" pan. Let stand until firm. Makes 1 pound or 32 squares.

Caramel Clouds

- 1 package caramel fudge frosting mix
- 2 tablespoons soft butter
- 2 tablespoons plus 1 teaspoon water
- 2 cups miniature marshmallows

Make fudge as directed on frosting mix package — except let stand over hot water 5 minutes after cooking. Add 2 cups miniature marshmallows, stir briefly. Quickly drop by teaspoonfuls onto waxed paper. Makes about 5 dozen candies.

Raisin Reuben

This high and hearty sandwich is a meal in itself. Cover buttered rye bread generously with slices of turkey, corned beef and Swiss cheese. Mix a good amount of raisins into mayonnaise cole slaw. Top each sandwich with about ½ cup of the raisin slaw. Cover with top slice bread and cut in half.

Dates Flavor Candy

The "something sweet" in Thurlin Cloud's lunch box is apt to be his wife's candy. Mrs. Cloud makes an unusual confection full of dates and pecans.

The only problem Mrs. Cloud has with this candy is keeping it on hand. Everyone in the family likes it.

DATE NUT ROLL

- 3 cups granulated sugar
- 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk
- 2 tablespoons white corn syrup
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1 cup dates, cut fine

- 1 cup pecans, cut fine
- 2 teaspoons vanilla

Combine sugar, milk, butter and corn syrup and boil until just past the soft ball stage. Stir constantly. This will take about 20 minutes on medium heat.

While candy is still on the stove, add dates, nuts and vanilla. Remove immediately from heat. Beat until candy is creamy and starts to stiffen.

Make into rolls one to one-and-a-half inches thick and wrap in a cloth wrung out in cold water. Chill 30-60 minutes.

Remove from cloth and roll in confectioner's sugar. Slice to serve.

Mash Spuds, Add Sugar for Fondant

The classic recipe for fondant calls for careful cooking to just the right temperature. Mrs. Lewis Nostrand makes a fondant with mashed potatoes.

This would be a good candy for youngsters to make. Just insist on a good session with soap and water first.

MASHED POTATO FONDANT

- 1 large or 2 medium potatoes
- 3 pounds confectioners sugar
- flavoring
- 16 ounces candy dipping chocolate
- 4 teaspoons salad oil

Peel potatoes and cut into pieces. Boil without salt until tender. Drain and mash smooth.

Add sugar gradually, mixing well as you go along. At first, the mixture will almost turn to water, but keep on adding sugar until no more goes in when you knead it.

Divide into 4-5 portions and flavor as desired. Color with food coloring if desired. You may knead in coconut or nuts.

Form into balls and dip into chocolate which has been melted with the salad oil. Mold the fondant around nuts, dates or cherries first.

Coconut Candy Is Quick, Uncooked

Candy-making time is any time, every day of the year. That's because the youngsters' demand for a treat is not limited to any season, and party guests with a sweet tooth like to dip into a candy dish, too.

You can meet this year-round demand economically and quickly. Just use sweetened condensed milk. It has sugar and milk already combined for the candy-maker's convenience.

Store in covered apothecary-type jars.

Apricot Coconut Balls

- 1½ cups dried apricots, ground
- 2 cups flaked coconut
- ¾ cup (½ of a 15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk

Combine apricots and coconut. Blend in sweetened condensed milk. Shape into small balls. Roll in confectioners' sugar. Let stand until firm.

Quick Raisin Rum Pie

Combine 1 package instant vanilla or butterscotch pie filling, 1 cup sour cream, 1 cup milk and 2 tablespoons dark rum. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer on low speed until smooth. Fold in 1 cup raisins and pour into a baked pie shell. Top with toasted slivered almonds if desired.

CANDY FROM A MIX—Caramel Fudge and Caramel Clouds are two candies you can make in the wink of an eye... with frosting mix! Creamy, melt-in-the-mouth fudge, chock-full of mellow hazelnuts, and caramel clouds, swirled with marshmallows, are two ideas to try out.

Heap Tasty Crabmeat on Oysters

An oyster-lover named Thomas Fuller once wrote: "Oysters are the only meat that men eat alive, and yet account it no cruelty."

Probably the reason no one has ever instituted a Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Oysters is that the horde of the bivalve's admirers would banish him from the country in no time flat.

Heroes and heroines, gourmets and gourmands all over the world, have long counted the oyster one of the most succulent foods nature has provided mortals.

The conquering Romans in England found them a delight, as expressed by Sallust in 50 B.C., who wrote: "Poor Britons — there is some good in them after all — they produce an oyster."

Staffed Oysters

12 fresh oysters, on half shell*
1 can (7½ ounces) crab meat
2 tablespoons chopped celery
1 tablespoon minced green pepper
¼ cup mayonnaise
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ cup bread crumbs

Have shells opened at market. Remove any bits of shell; loosen oyster from shell.

Combine crab meat, celery and pepper; add mayonnaise, salt, Tabasco and dry mustard; toss lightly. Just before placing stuffing in shells, toss in bread crumbs.

Spoon a heaping tablespoonful of crab mixture on top of each oyster. Place in shallow baking dish or on cooky sheet. Bake in 425 degree (hot) oven about 12 or 15 minutes or until moisture around edge of shell is bubbly. Do not overcook. Serve immediately. Yield: 2 dinner servings. 6 appetizer servings.

SWEET SOUR SAUCE — The sauce shown here was developed to enhance the crisp seafoods such as fish sticks and fillets and shrimp that you purchase in packages already fried and ready to heat in the oven.

It is an easy-to-make sweet and sour sauce that has the natural tart flavor of frozen concentrated lemonade combined with ginger and soy sauce plus the springlike crunchiness of green onions.

Fruit Ade Goes Into Fish Sauce

There is lots of food for culinary cleverness during Lent. This is because of the great variety of seafoods taken from all different waters of the world. They travel great distances after freezing, retaining their individual textures and flavors.

You have a wonderful choice in the supermarket frozen food case — some ready-to-heat; others breaded ready-to-cook from the frozen state; still others that must be defrosted before preparation. And there are frozen vegetable and fruit items that enhance these seafoods — witness the frozen lemonade sauce and the frozen pea recipe below.

The larger frozen fish that you stuff and bake should be defrosted, as should the steaks and fillets in a package, which do not separate until defrosted. The cooked seafoods defrost as they heat.

Sweet and Sour Sauce

1 (6-oz.) can frozen concentrated lemonade
 ½ cup water
 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
 1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
 3 green onions, sliced
 2 teaspoons cornstarch
 1 tablespoon cold water
 ½ teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon soy sauce
 1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
 1 teaspoon powdered ginger
 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento

Defrost lemonade and combine with water. Turn vegetable oil into saucepan and cook green pepper and onion in it until just barely tender. Mix cornstarch with 1 tablespoon water and add to oil in pan with lemonade. Cook slowly while stirring to thicken. Add salt and other seasonings. Add pimiento last.

Serve hot with frozen French fried shrimp or frozen fish sticks.

Spanish Style Scallops Are Spicy and Tasty

Scallops seem to be an all-family seafood. Strong preferences and prejudices that sometime apply to other seafoods (even within the family circle) don't seem to apply to scallops.

Nearly everybody likes them. Few people dislike them. And legion are those who grow ecstatic at their very mention.

Perhaps the reason for this is the scallop's delicate flavor. It is not fishy. Yet it has an unmistakable nutty tang that tells you it comes from the sea.

Secondly, the texture of the scallop meat is pleasing. Being a muscle of the mollusk (it opens and closes the scallop's shell), it is just firm enough to pleasantly resist the bite, yet tender enough to make the biting a pleasure.

Here's a recipe with a Spanish flavor that brings out the best in scallops:

Scallops Espagnole

2 lbs. sea scallops, fresh or frozen
 1 can (6 oz.) broiled mushroom crowns
 1 cup thinly sliced celery
 ½ cup chopped onions
 ¼ cup vegetable oil
 ½ cup whole stuffed olives
 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen peas
 ½ teaspoon saffron
 ¼ teaspoon Tabasco
 2 teaspoons salt
 2 cans (12 oz. each) vegetable juice
 1 pkg. (14 oz.) pre-cooked rice

Defrost scallops, if frozen. Drain mushrooms; save broth.

Cook celery, onions and mushrooms in oil until celery and onions are soft but not brown. Add olives, peas, saffron, Tabasco and salt.

Combine mushroom broth, vegetable juice and enough water to make 4 cups; add with scallops. Bring to boil. Add rice; toss until rice is well-moistened.

Cover; simmer 10 minutes or until liquid is absorbed. Makes 8 servings.

Unflavored Gelatin Helps Cut Down on Calories

When a fruit souffle is on the menu, the dieter generally has to pass up this delectable dessert—and every weight-watcher knows the resulting anguish.

The souffle looks so delicious, so cool, and so fluffy—and is so full of calories! The new low-calorie recipe for Orange Souffle removes all conflict, for the dieter can have her share with nary a pang of guilt. Each serving yields 120 calories—considerably less than in the usual fruit souffle.

The calorie count is kept to a minimum because the souffle contains whipped non-fat milk rather than whipped cream. Melon balls, blueberries, and seedless grapes add their welcome presence.

Thanks to unflavored gelatine, a favorite ingredient in low-calorie foods, the souffle will be light and fluffy every time you make it.

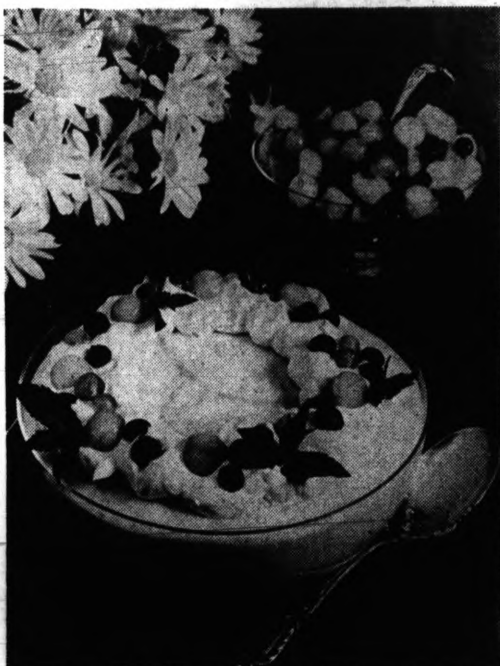

Every knowledgeable dieter already knows how unflavored gelatine comes to the aid of the weight-watcher. Each envelope of unflavored gelatine contains only 28 calories, and is the basis for a wide variety of delicious low-calorie dishes.

The genial ingredient is used by dieters in another way. Because unflavored gelatine is a pure protein food, it is used for a refreshing "protein boost" between meals or right before the meal.

Simply add an envelope of gelatine to fruit juice, vegetable juice, bouillon, or non-fat dry milk. The drink has another advantage.

Low-Calorie Orange Souffle

1 envelope unflavored gelatine
½ cup sugar, divided
1 cup water
1 can (6-ounces) frozen orange juice concentrate ½ cup ice water

LOW CALORIE—No need to skip dessert . . . when the dieter finds this Orange Souffle on the menu. Unflavored gelatine goes into a variety of low-calorie aspics, gelled soups, salads, main courses, and desserts.

¼ cup instant non-fat dry milk crystals
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Mix together unflavored gelatine and ¼ cup of the sugar in saucepan; stir in water. Place over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatine is dissolved. Remove from heat; stir in undiluted concentrate. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. While mixture is chilling, whip instant non-fat dry milk. Pour ice water into mixing bowl; add non-fat dry milk crystals. Beat until soft peaks form (3 to 4 minutes longer). Gradually add remaining ¼ cup sugar. Fold in gelatine mixture. Turn into serving bowl; chill until firm. Garnish with whipped topping and fresh fruit (cantaloupe, white grapes, blueberries or other fresh fruit).

Yield: 8 servings. 120 calories per serving.

Any Fruit Good in a Cobbler

A tasty fruit cobbler to top off a winter meal is as easy as opening a can of fruit and preparing muffin batter.

To make a quick cobbler, drain and heat slowly the contents of a 1 pound, 14-oz. can of fruit, adding spices and grated orange rind for more flavor, if desired. Meantime, stir up a muffin batter based on 1 cup of flour.

Turn the hot fruit mixture into a 1 quart casserole and top with spoonfuls of the muffin batter. For a sparkly finish, lightly sprinkle the topping with sugar.

Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees) for about 25 minutes or until muffins are golden brown.

TWO RIGHT JOLLY SNOWMEN — among drifts of sugar snow. They make an amusing edible centerpiece for a winter table.

Snow Couple Cheers Winter Table

Let Lord and Lady Frosty Snowman take an evening stroll for your winter centerpiece! Mr. Snowman is quite debonair with walking stick, jaunty scarf and pipe, while Mrs. Snowman is ravishing in her flowered bonnet.

Though Lord and Lady Snowman are decked out for a winter's walk in the snow, they have another feature—they're edible!

Both snowmen are molded from a sweet mixture of puffed rice and marshmallow creme, then rolled in coconut for a frosty effect.

Gumdrops, cinnamon candies, chocolate kisses, raisins and semi-sweet chocolate pieces can be used for eyes and what all well-dressed snowmen would be wearing—buttons, scarves, belts and hats.

Perhaps Mr. Snowman would like a pipe made from a toothpick and puffed rice kernel.

When you've finished making the snowmen, complete your centerpiece with some greenery and sugar snowdrifts. Now let Mr. and Mrs. Snowman stroll on your table to the delight of all your guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Frosty Snowman

4 cups puffed rice
One pint (2 cups)
marshmallow creme
½ cup flaked or shredded coconut

Thick confectioners' sugar frosting

4 gumdrop circles
Red cinnamon candies

Raisins
Semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 foil-wrapped chocolate kiss
One 3-inch candy cane

Heat puffed rice in large shallow baking pan in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 10 minutes.

Pour into large greased bowl. Using two spoons stir in marshmallow creme until kernels are evenly coated.

With greased hands, quickly shape to form four medium-sized balls for bodies, two smaller balls for heads and four ovals for arms. Roll each ball in coconut.

Using thick confectioners' sugar frosting, fasten together 2 medium-sized balls for body, 1 smaller ball for head and 2 ovals for arms for each snowman.

For Mrs. Snowman, use gumdrop circles for belt and hat; use red cinnamon candies for buttons and eyes. For Mr. Snowman, use gumdrop circle for scarf, raisins for buttons and semi-sweet chocolate pieces for eyes.

For hat, use gumdrop and foil-wrapped chocolate kiss; for pipe, attach a puffed rice kernel to a toothpick. Attach candy cane to arm for walking stick.

Cereal Crumbs Top Baked Fruit Cup

Tip the gastronomic scales in your favor by serving a fancy, yet light, dessert at your next company dinner. Rosy Citrus will do just that. This is a combination of grapefruit and orange sections combined with toasted almonds and maraschino cherry juice.

Top this with crumbs of bite size shredded rice biscuits and shredded orange peel and heat for just about ten minutes. The subtle butterscotch and orange peel flavor of the crisp cereal crumbs is indeed a gourmet touch.

Pass a bowl of sour or whipped cream for the non-caloric conscious guests.

This is a simple dessert, yet sweet enough to be satisfying and pretty enough to be labeled party fare by the most discriminating of hostesses or guests.

Rosy Citrus

2 grapefruit
1 orange

¼ cup chopped toasted almonds
¼ cup maraschino cherry juice
2 cups bite-size shredded rice biscuits crushed to 1 cup
2 tablespoons brown sugar, firmly packed
½ teaspoon shredded orange peel
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Peel and section fruit. Cut into bite-size pieces. Add almonds and juice. Let stand.

Combine cereal crumbs, sugar and orange peel. Add butter. Mix well.★

Spoon fruit mixture into 4 individual baking dishes or into scooped out grapefruit halves. Top with crumb mixture.

Bake 10 minutes or until crumbs are lightly browned and crisp. Serve with sour or whipped cream.

Yield: 4 servings.

★If desired, store fruit in covered container in refrigerator overnight. Add crumbs before baking.

Serve Zippy Dips in Lettuce Bowls

Favorite salad standby, western iceberg lettuce, can also play a versatile role with dips or dunks at parties. For open house after the game, hollow out a head of lettuce and fill it with a zesty sour cream mixture.

Like most sour cream dips, this — which combines mayonnaise, hard-cooked eggs and various hot seasonings with the sour cream — improves in flavor on standing, so stir it up the day before the game.

Sour Cream Dip in Lettuce Bowl

1 head western iceberg lettuce
1 cup dairy sour cream
½ cup mayonnaise
4 hard-cooked eggs, diced
¼ cup finely chopped scallions or green onions

½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon Tabasco, optional
2 tablespoons chili sauce
Assorted crackers, potato and corn chips

Core lettuce; wash in cold plastic bag or transparent water and drain well. Place in film. Refrigerate.

Combine remaining ingredients, except crackers and chips, in bowl. Chill 24 hours or longer. (Dip thickens on standing.)

At serving time, hollow out lettuce head to fit bowl of dip and place on serving tray. Surround with assorted crackers and chips. Makes 2 cups dip.

Iceberg Lettuce Spread

1 medium head western iceberg lettuce

1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened

2 jars (5 ounces each) blue cheese spread

Dash Tabasco
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
¼ cup blanched, slivered almonds
¼ cup finely chopped parsley
1 tablespoon blanched, slivered almonds

Canned pimiento strips

Party rye bread or pumpernickel

Reserve 4 outer leaves of lettuce; finely chop remaining lettuce. Blend together cream cheese spread, Tabasco, garlic powder, the ¼ cup almonds, parsley and chopped lettuce; chill.

Fit reserved lettuce leaves inside one another to resemble lettuce head; fill with cheese mixture. Sprinkle with 1 tablespoon almonds and garnish with pimiento strips.

Serve with thin slices of party rye bread, or pumpernickel. Makes 2½ cups spread.

Broil Kabobs for Lunch

Let these Sausage and Fruit Kabobs be a surprise lunch treat for the children.

Cut smoked sausage links into thirds. Core an apple and cut into 8 wedges. Open a can of pineapple chunks.

Each kabob should contain 3 pieces of sausage, 1 apple wedge and 2 pineapple chunks. The kabobs can then be brushed with French dressing and broiled about 4 or 5 minutes, or until lightly browned. Allow at least 2 kabobs for each person.

It's a Centenarian

Delicious apples, America's most popular variety according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, were developed from a chance sprout nearly 100 years ago. The original Delicious tree, sire of more than 2 million trees, still stands in Peru, Iowa.

Try Scrapple for Breakfast

It's only a guess, of course, but we have our own theory of how scrapple was invented.

Some pioneer women got sick and tired of cooking and serving plain cornmeal mush.

It was hog butchering time and there was sausage or scraps of pork available (the word "scrapple" is a diminutive of "scrap"). So she tossed in a little meat when she was boiling the mush.

Everyone liked the resulting product so well that our inventive cook continued to prepare scrapple and passed the word on to her friends.

Mrs. Walter Smock makes her scrapple with both pork and beef. She likes to make a large amount and freeze it. While it is an excellent breakfast dish, there is no reason why it can't be served for dinner.

Here's Mrs. Smock's recipe as it was run last year.

SCRAPPLE

4 pounds pork
2 pounds beef

Cook together, cool and grind. Reserve liquid. Or you may start with ground pork and ground beef.

Into 12 pints of liquid put ground meat, 2 tablespoons salt, pepper and sage to taste. Stir in cornmeal* to make a thick mush (it will take a pound or more).

Cook slowly, stirring often, for two hours. Pour into loaf pan and cool. Slice and fry. Roll slices in flour for a brown, crisp look if you desire.

*You won't have any lumps in the cornmeal if you mix it first with COLD water before adding to the hot liquid.

Sugary Nut Mixture

Tops Blueberry Cake

Chop $\frac{3}{4}$ cup toasted silvered almonds. Cut $\frac{1}{4}$ cup butter or margarine into a mixture of $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon cinnamon and $\frac{1}{2}$ cup each flour and sugar; stir in almonds.

Prepare blueberry muffin mix as package directs, turning batter into greased 8-inch square pan. Spoon almond mixture over top. Bake in 400-degree (hot) oven 20 to 22 minutes. Serve warm.

Pontiac Press Photo

IT'S SCRAPPLE — Not made or even served as often as in colonial days, scrapple is an interesting combination of meat and cornmeal. It's cut into slices and browned in hot fat. Try it for a Sunday morning treat sometimes.

Pancakes Become Main Course

Every Hearty Hotcake ought to be marked "his," because it's a he-man pancake made with extra heartiness added in the form of shredded dried beef. What's more, Hearty Hotcakes are served with a savory cream sauce with especially full flavor due to the addition of green pepper and onion.

They make a dish that will appeal particularly to the men in the family and to the youngsters with their healthy appetites.

As so many girls are helping with the job of cooking for the family, this is a dish that they will enjoy making. It's different, and they like to make unusual things.

Hearty Hotcakes With Fiesta Sauce

1 package or cake yeast, active dry or compressed
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cup warm water
1 cup milk
1 egg
1 tablespoon peanut oil
1 cup pancake mix
 $\frac{3}{4}$ cup (12½ ounce jar) shredded dried beef

Sprinkle or crumble yeast into warm water.

Stir until dissolved. Add milk, egg, peanut oil and pancake mix and beat with rotary beater until smooth. Stir in dried beef.

Grease griddle lightly. For each pancake pour $\frac{1}{4}$ cup batter onto moderately hot griddle and turn when tops are covered with bubbles and edges are slightly dry. Turn only once. Serve topped with Fiesta Sauce.

Fiesta Sauce

In a skillet melt 2 tablespoons margarine. Add 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper and 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion. Cook until tender.

Remove from heat and stir in $1\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoons flour, $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt, and dash of white pepper. Stir and blend in 1 cup milk. Return to medium heat and bring to a boil; simmer 1 minute.

Remove from heat and stir in 2 teaspoons finely chopped pimiento. Serve over Hearty Hotcakes.

Puncture Can

Punch a small hole in the bottom of that can of cranberry jelly before removing the top with a wall-type opener. This method allows the jelly to slip out of the can easily.

WHICH TO CHOOSE — Mrs. Gerald Wright, Scott Lake Road, is faced with the choice cut of chicken to purchase. In the past 35 years chicken has progressed from being considered a luxury food to one of the most reasonable protein foods you can buy.

Watercress Biscuits Top Chicken Pie

Of course, it's fun to cut through a crisp crust and dip out the first steaming spoonful of chicken pie.

But it's even more satisfactory to cut your biscuit topping in wedges, placing it on top of the casserole of chicken and baking it until the biscuit topping is golden brown. And if you put a little chopped parsley or watercress in the flour mixture, you will add color and flavor to the biscuit wedges.

One secret of a successful chicken pie is to cut the ingredients into generous-size pieces. The pie will be more attractive and appetizing. Hash-size ingredients are very unattractive.

For dessert, you might have chilled, canned apple sauce or spiced or minted pineapple chunks. Just put the can in the freezer for an hour or so and serve the chunks frosty and semi-frozen.

Chicken Pie With Watercress Biscuit Topping

1/4 cup chicken fat
1/4 cup finely diced celery
1/4 cup flour
1 can (3 oz.) sliced broiled mushrooms
3/4 cup chicken broth
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon kitchen bouquet
2 cups coarsely diced cooked chicken

1 cup diced cooked carrots
8 small cooked onions
1 bunch watercress
2 cups biscuit mix
3/4 cup milk, about

Melt fat in small saucepan. Add celery and cook over low heat about 3 minutes. Blend in flour. Drain mushrooms, reserving broth. Combine chicken broth, mushroom broth and the 1 cup milk. Stir into fat-flour mixture and add salt, pepper and kitchen bouquet. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens.

Combine sauce with chicken, carrots, onions and mushrooms. Bring to a boil and place in shallow round baking dish, about 8 inches in diameter.

Meanwhile, cut off watercress stems and reserve for use in soups. Coarsely cut the watercress leaves and combine with biscuit mix. Lightly stir in the 3/4 cup milk.

Turn out on lightly floured board and knead gently 20 times. Roll into 7-inch circle. Cut dough into 6 wedge-shaped pieces. Arrange on top of mixture in baking dish.

Bake in preheated 425 degree oven until biscuit wedges are browned and done, about 15 to 20 minutes. Serve immediately. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Citrus Fruit Adds Zest to Asparagus

Give your stay-at-home family a Taste of the Tropics. Tropicana Asparagus Sauce

3/4 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons fresh orange juice
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
Cook the milk and mayonnaise together in the top of a double boiler for five minutes, stirring constantly. Add the salt, pepper, lemon juice, orange juice and rind. Beat well. Serve over drained asparagus spears.

1 tablespoon sucaryl solution
6 egg yolks

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Scald milk; add vanilla and Sucaryl; cool slightly. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Add milk mixture; strain into 6 half-cup creme pots or small custard cups.

Place in a pan of hot water and bake 20 minutes, or until a knife inserted near the center comes out clean. Serve chilled.

Makes 6 servings. Each serving contains 90 calories; 5.5 grams protein; 5.5 grams fat; 4 grams carbohydrate. If made with sugar, each serving would contain 154 calories.

POTS DE CREME—Smooth as cream and deliciously sweet, these delicate custards count up to just 90 calories each. Secret is that you sweeten them with the non-caloric sweetener, sucaryl, rather than with sugar. Just by using this sweetener, which contains NO calories, you lop off 64 calories from every pudding.

CORN RELISH — You've bought it in specialty stores. Perhaps you've made it in summer when there is fresh corn. But how about trying a new recipe for corn relish with canned whole kernel corn?

Cabbage and Corn Mix in Spicy Relish

The history of corn is woven into American folklore. The Indians are said to have believed that the first corn sprang from the footsteps of a spirit. The Navahos told of a giant bird which dropped the first ear of corn, while the Aztecs thought it was a gift of the gods.

Actually, there is no trace of the wild grass from which it sprang, so no one can say how it got started. But thanks to the early Indians and American colonists it continued to survive.

Today its popularity far exceeds any other canned vegetable. And no wonder, for modern canning techniques preserve all the flavor of sweet corn freshly cut from the cob.

Along with its original goodness, canned corn is versatile, too! Superbly spiced in a sweet-sour dressing, it's an appetite-teasing addition to your dinner meal.

In this recipe for Sweet Sour Corn Relish, crispy cabbage adds a peppery touch.

Sweet Sour Corn Relish

1 cup cider vinegar
 ½ cup sugar
 ½ teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon celery seed
 1 teaspoon turmeric
 1½ cups finely-chopped cabbage
 One 12-oz. can vacuum-pack golden whole kernel corn, drained

Combine vinegar, sugar and seasonings in small saucepan; bring to a boil. Add cabbage. Simmer about 20 minutes or until cabbage is tender but still crispy. Stir in drained canned corn and let stand until room temperature. Chill thoroughly, mixing occasionally. (Store covered in refrigerator.) Yield: 2 cups relish.

Instead of baking two 8-inch layer cakes, bake half the batter in the big pan and the remaining in muffin pans.

Cranberries Are Baked

Cranberries and walnuts team up well for a relish that will highlight hot roast pork or ham, for breakfast, lunch, or dinner.

To prepare Baked Cranberry Walnut Relish: Wash and drain 1 pound fresh cranberries; place in shallow pan and stir in 2½ cups sugar. Cover pan tightly with aluminum foil, or a tight-fitting lid. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

Add 1 cup coarsely broken, toasted walnuts, 1 cup orange marmalade, and the juice of 1 lemon or lime. Stir to blend uniformly, then chill.

TANGERINE TOPPING—Add sunshine to hot breakfast cereal by topping each bowlful with sections of fresh Florida tangerines, the juicy little "zipper-skinned" fruit.

Tangerine Is Known as Zipper Fruit

When you dip into a bowl of Florida tangerines, you're in for a handful of pleasure. Once you've zipped the peel off, nature's neat packaging exposes a cluster of juicy sections, having very few seeds, that offer delightful eating.

You can add sunshine to an early morning breakfast for everyone in the family by topping steaming bowls of oatmeal or any other hot cereal with the sweetly fresh sections.

The lovely, luscious tangerines have a high-colored, smooth peel, they section easily, and have a definite rich aroma. They're superb for out-of-hand eating, fruit cups, salads, desserts.

A citrus-hungry tourist traveling in foreign lands can ask for a tangerine in Germany, England and France.

A slight variation, tangerin, works fine in Norway, and tangerina obtains the desired results in Italy, Portugal and Spain. Mangarijn means tangerine to the people of The Netherlands.

One More Good Way

Serve canned barbecue beans Polynesian-style tonight. In saucepan, cook 1/4 cup ehac chopped green pepper and onion, and 1/8 teaspoon ground ginger in 1 tablespoon butter until vegetables are tender; add 1-pound can barbecue beans with tomato sauce and 1/2 cup drained pineapple tidbits. Heat, stirring now and then. Serve to 2 or 3.

Fancy Scrambled Eggs Star in Supper Menu

Scrambled eggs assume an "after 5 o'clock" air when a tablespoon of instant minced onion, a pinch of parsley flakes, a teaspoon of salt and 1/2 cup of dairy sour cream are added to 4 beaten eggs. Serve garnished with a spoonful of sour cream sprinkled with paprika. Slices of Canadian bacon, a green salad and hot rolls round out a delightful supper menu.

1963 Grand Prize Winner Bakes Bread

Eleanor Pylman (Mrs. Charles) loves to make bread. She has enjoyed it even more during the past year with her new electric range. Readers may remember she was one of the two grand prize winners at the 1963 Pontiac Press Cooking School.

Here are Mrs. Pylman's recipes for both white and whole wheat bread.

WHITE BREAD

1 cup milk

LAST YEAR'S WINNER—Mrs. Charles Pylman, Bigelow Road, was a grand prize winner at the 1963 Pontiac Press Cooking School. The first thing she baked in her new electric oven was bread. She baked some again last week and sent in her recipe for inclusion in this year's cookbook. Two more lucky women will win stoves at the 1964 cooking school.

1½ tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons lard
¾ cup hot water
2 packages dry yeast
¾ cup lukewarm water
5¾ cups (about) flour

Scald milk. Pour into large bowl; add sugar, salt, lard and hot water. Stir until shortening is melted. Cool to lukewarm.

Add yeast to lukewarm water. When dissolved, add to first mixture. Add flour, cup by cup, mixing thoroughly after each addition until dough clears the bowl. Turn onto floured board.

Knead 8-10 minutes. Shape dough into smooth ball. Place in greased bowl, cover with towel and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk — about 1½ hours.

Knead dough down; turn onto floured board and shape into two loaves. Place in greased pans 9x5x3. Cover and let rise again until double.

Bake at 300 degrees for 55-60 minutes. When done, remove, brush with melted butter and cool on cake rack.

WHOLE WHEAT BREAD

2 cups scalded milk or water
¾ cup sugar OR one-third cup molasses
2 teaspoons salt
1 package yeast dissolved in ¾ cup lukewarm water
4 and two-thirds cups whole wheat flour OR half whole and half white

Add sweetening and salt to milk. Increase molasses to two-thirds cup if desired, increasing flour also as needed. Cool to lukewarm.

Add dissolved yeast and flour. Beat well, cover and let rise to double in bulk. Again beat well. Turn into greased bread or muffin pans, having pans half full.

Let rise. Whole wheat bread should not quite double its bulk during last rising. Bake bread 50-60 minutes, muffins 20-30 minutes at 300 degrees. Makes 2 loaves.

Buttery Shrimp Is Garlic Touched

If the shrimp are prepared ahead, "butter" them at the last minute.

Buttered Shrimp

1 pound shrimp, about 28 to the pound
1 medium clove garlic
¾ cup butter or margarine
Cook the shrimp; shell and devein; cut in half lengthwise, retaining shape. Peel and halve garlic clove; rub a 10-inch skillet with the halves and then drop them into the skillet.

Add the butter and melt. Add cooked shrimp and heat rapidly, turning them in the butter. Remove garlic. Serve at once. Makes 3 servings.

NOTE: To cook the shrimp you may use this method — wash in cold water and drain; add to 1 pint boiling water and 1½ teaspoons salt in a saucepan. Simmer, covered, for several minutes, until all the shells turn pink and the flesh is opaque.

Almond Bread Calls for Tea

An excellent choice for entertaining is a tea loaf that's both easy - to - make and elegant. Here's one that combines the delicate flavors of vanilla and almond into the perfect complement for tea and spring flowers — "Sunny Vanilla Almond Loaf."

Finely crushed vanilla wafer crumbs and slivered blanched almonds are the secret to this simple new recipe which can be made well ahead of time and kept in the freezer 'til needed. According to the occasion, serve with softened cream cheese, sweet butter, jelly or just plain.

"Sunny Vanilla Almond Loaf"

2 cups fine vanilla wafer crumbs
½ cup sifted flour
1-3 cup brown sugar
2½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 cup slivered blanched almonds
2 tablespoons neutral salad oil (not olive)
2-3 cup milk
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 egg, beaten

Roll wafers into very fine crumbs between waxed paper. Blend well with flour, sugar, baking powder, salt, lemon rind and almonds. Add oil, milk, almond extract and egg all at once. Stir together and beat until well blended.

Turn mixture into oiled and waxed paper-lined 9"x5"x3" loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 45 minutes or until edges shrink from pan.

Cool on rack for about 10 minutes; remove from pan, peel off paper and cool thoroughly on rack before slicing.

Little Bacon Goes Far on Hot Bread

Cook the bacon with the bread!

Bacon-Bran Cornbread

½ cup whole bran cereal
1 cup cornmeal
1 cup milk
1 egg
2 tablespoons soft shortening
1 cup sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
5 slices uncooked bacon, diced

Stir together the bran, cornmeal and milk; let stand until the bran and cornmeal absorb most of the milk. Add the egg and the shortening; beat well.

Sift together the flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add to bran mixture, stirring only until flour mixture is moistened.

Turn into a buttered 9-inch skillet with an oven-proof handle. Sprinkle with the diced bacon. Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven about 20 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

If top crust and bacon are not browned, place under broiler for a few minutes. Cut into 10 wedges and remove with spatula, serving piping hot.

Hot Loaf Holds Teeners' Snack

Let the teen-agers try making a hearty hot snack that's fairly teeming with tantalizing taste and texture. It's easy to do and so satisfying.

Just start with a hot roll mix (with zesty sharp cheese added for flavor), shape into a round loaf and bake.

Skiers' Special

1 package hot roll mix
1 egg
1 cup grated sharp cheese
2 4½-oz. cans deviled ham
¼ cup chopped celery
3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
2-4 tablespoons chopped onion
2 slices sharp processed cheese
cherry tomatoes

Prepare hot roll mix according to directions on package, adding grated cheese with flour mixture, shape into round loaf, bake in an 8-inch round pan as directed.

Scoop center from loaf of cooled bread and fill with mixture of deviled ham, celery, hard-cooked eggs and onion. Cut cheese slices diagonally in quarters to garnish top of loaf. Add a halved cherry tomato to each cheese section.

Wrap in foil and bake at 375 degrees about ½ hour until well heated. Serves 8.

ALMOND LOAF—Nut bread isn't new, but using almonds in a quick loaf may be. Serve it plain or with cream cheese. Quick breads always slice best the second day.

Quick Graham Loaf Good

This whole wheat raisin nut loaf recipe was submitted by Eastern Michigan University student, Mary Anne Edwards. It's an interesting quick bread recipe.

GRAHAM BREAD

¾ cup sugar
1 tablespoon shortening
1 egg
1 cup milk
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 cup graham or whole wheat flour

1 cup white flour
½ cup raisins (optional)
½ cup chopped nuts (optional)

Mix sugar, salt, baking powder, soda and flour together. Blend shortening and add egg and milk. Mix these well. Add to dry ingredients and beat. Add raisins and nuts.

Four into greased 10-inch loaf pan and bake at 350 degrees 45-60 minutes. Bread will "spring" back when done. Makes one loaf.

Coffee Punch Is Made Richer With Ice Cream

Sophisticated teen-agers seem to be turning to coffee recipes. Particularly at parties they say they enjoy coffee drinks.

This Mocha Frosted Punch is a perfect party concoction — a combination of instant coffee, chocolate syrup, milk and ice cream, zipped up with sparkling club soda.

Mocha Frosted Punch

2 cups cold water
1 cup instant coffee
1 cup chocolate syrup
1 quart milk
½ gallon vanilla ice cream, softened
1 large bottle (28 or 29 ounces) club soda

Add cold water to coffee. Stir until dissolved. Blend in chocolate syrup, milk, and ice cream. Just before serving, stir in the club soda.

If desired, additional vanilla ice cream may be floated on the punch. Makes about 3¾ quarts—30 servings.

Winter Pears Are Fine in Pie

One taste of Pear Marmalade Pie, so-o-o-o fresh and so-o-o-o sweet, flaky tender and just juicy enough to look most hospitable. Served with a pitcher of cool rich cream, its homespun goodness is the crowning touch for Sunday-best dinner or for that matter, a gratifying way to end an everyday family repast.

Fresh pears, on the market from early fall to late spring, are grown principally in the West Coast States. The rich volcanic soil, climatic conditions and technical developments produce sweet and refreshing pears for your enjoyment in the months ahead.

Fresh winter pears are a family treat and fun to eat in a variety of ways — mealtime,

Meat Muffins

A small amount of leftover cooked beef may be ground and added to any standard muffin mixture. Serve the meat muffins hot, topped with a quick sauce made from undiluted mushroom soup.

snack-time or bed-time. Calorie conscious folk find pears a valuable addition to the diet. Nutritionally ripe juicy pears are rich in levulose sugar, vitamins, minerals and low in calories.

Pear Marmalade Pie

4 cups Anjou or Bosc pears, sliced
 ¼ cup sugar
 ½ cup orange marmalade
 ½ teaspoon nutmeg
 ¼ cup flour
 Pastry for 2 crust pie, unbaked.

Butter or margarine

Wash, core and slice pears. Combine with sugar, marmalade, nutmeg and flour. Prepare favorite pastry. Line 9-inch pie pan with pastry. Put in pear mixture. Dot with butter. Place top pastry over filling or make cross-bar top.

Bake in a moderately hot oven, 425 degrees, 45 to 50 minutes. Remove. Makes 6 to 7 servings.

Cheese-Topped Fruit Broiled With Chicken

For a new touch to an old favorite, marinate cut-up, salted broiler-fryers in a sauce of 1 cup catsup, ½ cup syrup from canned cling peach halves, ¼ cup salad oil, ½ cup vinger and dash of Tabasco. Broil chicken slowly, basting often.

Five minutes before serving, baste peach halves with sauce, sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and broil.

Donna's Star Recipe

Winter pears come to the table in an interesting manner.

FLAMING PEARS

¾ cup sugar
 few grains salt
 3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
 1 cup water
 4 fresh pears
 ½ tablespoon vanilla
 8 sugar cubes
 lemon extract

Mix sugar, salt, lemon juice and water in saucepan. Stir well. Cook over a low heat until sugar is dissolved, then bring to boiling point.

Wash and pare pears; cut in halves. Remove cores and place pear halves in boiling syrup. Cover and cook on a medium heat 15 to 20 minutes or until pears are fork tender.

Remove pears from syrup to serving dish. Bring syrup to boil and let boil 2 minutes. Add vanilla and pour syrup around pears in serving dish.

Place sugar cubes on plate and saturate with lemon extract. Immediately put sugar cubes in pear cavities. Just before serving ignite with a match.

Look at the back of a carpet?

What for?

Even though the back doesn't show, don't think it doesn't count. Without it, all you've got is a big, beautiful piece of fabric. Not a carpet. For a carpet to serve as a carpet, to get walked on, pounded, moved on, just plain lived on, it takes a good strong back. It keeps a carpet from wrinkling or wiggling around. From stretching after its been properly installed. Keeps it from wearing unevenly.

Keeps a carpet firm and resilient through the years. Lees designed a special back-stretching machine to give you the finest backing you can buy. So the best thing to look for is the name Lees. Lees put their name on a carpet only when they're sure it's top quality front and back. If you are about to buy a carpet, we urge you to come in and inspect this fine Lees carpet.

COOKIE CASTLE — Have a small boy who loves King Arthur stories? Create a castle for him to use as a party centerpiece. He may enjoy it for play so much that he'll refrain from eating it — for a few days. Mrs. Harry Reed, Osceola Drive, built this cookie castle for a holiday decoration. She used butter frosting for the "cement."

Give Each One A Coffee Cake

Long leisurely breakfasts, with the foods and the conversation missed on weekday mornings, are one of the treats many families look forward to, on holidays and weekends. Eggs and sausage, ham or bacon take the place of cereal-and-milk or toast-and-coffee — and usually there's something special in breads, too.

One bright idea for that special bread accompaniment — which gives the chef a break — is a line of coffee cake mixes. Blueberry, Cinnamon Almond, Cinnamon Streusel and Apple Cinnamon Mixes give you a delectable choice of flavors.

And it's easy to vary the ways you bake each one. Cinnamon Almond Mix, baked in muffin cups and topped with dates, is just one of many delightful ways to start a holiday morning.

Date Almond Coffee Cakes
1 package Cinnamon Almond Coffee Cake Mix
¼ cup finely cut dates

Prepare coffee cake batter as directed on package. Turn into 18 muffin cups, paper-lined or well-greased on bottom only. Top with cut dates and sprinkle with Topping Mix. Bake at 375 degrees for 20 to 25 minutes until golden brown.

APPLE-HERB JELLY — Make jelly in the winter? Of course. Apples make a perfect base to which you add your choice of herbs. Fine for gift giving too.

Winter Jelly Is Gourmet Kind

Just right for afternoon tea sandwiches, for garnishing buffet supper dishes, for adding flavor to the Sunday brunch, and good for the lunch box sandwiches, too. Make while the supply of apples is at its best.

Apple-Herb Jelly

Wash 4 lbs. ripe apples, do not peel or core; cut in eighths. Add 6½ cups water; bring to boil; simmer, covered, 10 minutes, or until apples are soft. Crush with masher; simmer, covered, 5 minutes longer. Strain through cheesecloth. There should be about 5 cups.

Measure 2½ cups of juice into saucepan. Bring to a boil and pour over ¼ cup dried herb. Let stand 15 minutes; strain through cheesecloth into large enamel or agate saucepan. Add ¼ cup vinegar and 4 cups sugar; mix well.

Place over high heat and bring to a boil. (While mixture is coming to a boil add a few drops red or green food coloring, if desired.) Add ½ bottle fruit pectin.

Bring to a full rolling boil; boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat; skim off foam; pour quickly into jelly glasses. Cover jelly at once with ¼-inch hot melted paraffin.

Makes about 6 medium glasses. Repeat, using remaining juice and a different herb.

*Sage or tarragon, thyme, marjoram, savory or mint.

Shrimp and Artichokes Make Pretty Appetizer

Herb-wine bouillon
1 can (7¼ oz.) artichoke bottoms
Olive oil marinade
½ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon Spanish olive oil
1 tablespoon, capers, minced

Strain shrimp carefully, place in half the olive oil marinade. In second bowl, marinate the artichoke bottoms with remaining marinade.

Meantime, combine mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon olive oil, capers and onion. Add salt to taste, if needed.

Assemble the hors d'oeuvres shortly before serving by placing artichoke bottoms on a platter, spoon some of the mayonnaise mixture in each bottom, and place two or three shrimp over the mayonnaise in each artichoke. Garnish top of shrimp with whole capers. Serves 8.

Pickle Tongue for Spicy Treat

A delicately-flavored, delightful meat which can present itself in many appealing ways... hot or cold... is beef tongue.

Reba Staggs, home economist, suggests hot Pickled Tongue. Present some tongue slices with gravy for one meal; save others for later cold servings.

Pickled Tongue

- 1 beef tongue
- Vinegar
- Water
- 1 lemon, sliced
- 2 onions, sliced
- 6 whole cloves
- 6 peppercorns
- 1 stick cinnamon
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ½ cup raisins
- ¼ cup flour

Cover tongue with equal parts of vinegar and water. Add lemon, onion, cloves, peppercorn, cinnamon and salt. Cover and let stand in refrigerator 24 hours. Remove lemon slices.

Cover tightly and cook slowly 2½ to 3½ hours, or until tender. Allow 45 minutes to 1 hour per pound.

Remove skin from tongue while warm and slice ¼ inch thick. Strain cooking liquid.

To 4 cups liquid add brown sugar and raisins. Cook 10 minutes. Combine flour with a small amount of water and add to liquid. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Add tongue slices to gravy. Heat through. 12 servings.

To protect delicate fish during baking or broiling, use large outer leaves of lettuce to line pans or racks.

PICKLED TONGUE — Versatile beef tongue gains a sweet-sour flavor when cooked in a spicy, tart liquid and served with a raisin gravy. The remaining slices will be delicious in sandwiches.

Saucy Way With Fish

Take a little imagination, add a minimum of effort, and you can come up with artful meals that are still quick and easy.

For instance, take a convenience food like frozen breaded fish portions — also called "fillets," "steaks," "burgers" and "cutlets" — that are all ready to cook. Just follow the package directions for deep-frying or sauteing and add a simple - but - savory sauce, like this Celery - Olive Sauce.

There you have a gourmet main dish, which when served with a crispy green salad, whole wheat rolls and fruit compote, makes a nutritionally well - balanced luncheon or dinner that's mighty good eating, too.

½ teaspoon dry mustard

Celery - Olive Sauce for Crispy Fish

- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1½ cups water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- 1-3 cup flour
- 1 cup milk of light cream
- Salt and pepper to taste

¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

½ cup sliced stuffed olives
Cook celery in water to which salt has been added, until tender. Drain, reserving 1 cup celery water.

Melt butter in saucepan; blend in butter. Slowly stir in celery water and milk or cream. Add seasonings and Worcestershire. Cook, stirring, until mixture thickens and boils. Remove from heat; stir in drained celery and olives, reserving a little of each for garnish.

Spoon over breaded fish portions that have been prepared according to package directions. Makes enough for 6 to 8 servings.

Fluffy Icing

Cream butter; add sugar and cream until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and vanilla; beat well. Sift dry ingredients together 3 times. Add alternately with milk to first mixture.

Fold in 1 cup coconut and egg whites. Turn in to 2 square 9-inch layer cake pans that have been greased and floured. Bake in 350-degree oven, 20 to 25 minutes.

When cold, put layers together with a thin coating of Fluffy Icing between layers. Frost top and sides with remaining icing. Sprinkle with 1 cup coconut.

GINGER BUTTER FROSTING—Its tea time and high time to swirl creamy ginger frosting on your favorite cakes. Flecks of candied ginger add elegance to this meltingly smooth frosting.

Ginger Frosted Cake Is Tea Time Treat

Sugar and spice and all things nice—that's what ginger frosting is made of. The spice here is candied ginger cut very fine. These bits of amber colored candied ginger are flecked throughout the creamy smooth frosting to complement your nicest cakes.

Since tea and ginger have a special affinity for one another, why not plan a tea time gathering of friends with this special recipe in mind?

The luscious gourmet flavor of this frosting belies its ease of preparation. Let the electric mixer be your helper as you slowly whip evaporated milk into the butter-sugar mixture. Then increase the speed and beat to a creamy fluff before adding flavorings. Swirl the frosting on cooled cake layers for the prettiest possible effect.

Ginger Butter Frosting

- ¾ cup butter, softened
- 1¼ cups unsifted confectioners sugar
- 1 tall can evaporated milk (one and two-thirds cups)
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract
- 3 tablespoons finely chopped candied ginger

Cream butter in small bowl of electric mixer. Add sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. Slowly beat in evaporated milk, a little at a time, at low speed, beating until completely blended with the butter-sugar mixture after each addition.

Blond 'n' Black

Mix a generous amount of chopped dark California raisins into cream cheese. Thin if needed with a little milk. Spread between grapefruit sections, building sections into a pretty arched mound. Drizzle with sweet fruit dressing and sprinkle with more taste surprising raisins.

Then whip mixture at high speed until creamy. Blend in vanilla and candied ginger.

Frost cooled cake layers immediately. Makes ample frosting for tops and sides of two 8 or 9 inch layers.

Properly Cooked Eggs Don't Have Dark Rings

Western iceberg lettuce and hard-cooked eggs are such a delicious salad combination that it pays to know how to cook the eggs so they don't have a dark ring between yolk and white.

Place eggs in cold water, bring to full boil, reduce heat and simmer 12 minutes. Plunge immediately into cold water, cracking the shells so water

NEW SHAPES—The modern trend today seems to be on shapes, whether it be in silhouettes, cars, missiles or architecture. So, to keep up-to-date we have taken an old favorite, gingerbread mix and fashioned it into new and exciting shapes.

Gingerbread Comes to Table in Variety of New Shapes

Traditionally, we think of gingerbread as being served in squares, but it is such a versatile product that it does lend itself to newer and more streamlined shapes without losing any of its full rich spicy flavor.

It can be baked in a round mold, cupcake or gem pans, jelly roll pan, ring mold or in layer pans.

2 teaspoons cinnamon
3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

1/2 cup chopped walnuts
Prepare 1 14-ounce package gingerbread mix according to package directions. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 40-45 minutes. Cool 8-10 minutes.

Orange Ring Gingerbread

Corned Beef Balls Dot Cabbage Soup

In Sweden, hearty soups topped with meat dumplings can almost be called a national custom. This is true of cabbage soup in particular.

Now a new idea, using corned beef balls to replace the dumplings, makes this wonderful dish easy to make. The balls are made with a handy pantry-shelf item, canned corned beef. Just flake with a fork, and mix with soft bread crumbs and eggs. The mixture is ready to shape into balls. There's no dough to make!

Because canned corned beef is all-nutritious beef, and notable for its high quality protein, these meat balls are the kind that men like. The soup is designed to be served as a main dish to satisfy a hungry family.

Those who have never tasted a good Swedish cabbage soup, slightly sweet, slightly spicy, are in for a delightful surprise. There may be some who prefer a tart accent, easily provided with a garnish of lemon.

Cabbage Soup With Corned Beef Balls

1 medium cabbage, about 2½ pounds

¼ cup butter or margarine
2 tablespoons brown sugar
3 cans (10½ ounces each) beef broth
1 quart water
1 teaspoon ground allspice
1½ teaspoons salt

2 cans (12 ounces each) corned beef, unchilled
2 slices whole wheat bread
2 eggs, slightly beaten
¼ cup butter or margarine

Remove outer leaves and cut cabbage into quarters; cut out core and heavy veins; chop cabbage finely. (You should have about 6 cups chopped cabbage.) Melt butter in saucepan; add cabbage and sugar. Brown over low heat until golden, stirring occasionally, about 30 minutes.

Add beef broth, water, allspice; cover and simmer 1 hour. Add corned beef balls and simmer 10 minutes.

To prepare balls, flake corned beef with fork. Separate bread into soft crumbs; add to corned beef with eggs. Mix well. Shape into 32 balls by rolling between palms of hands.
Makes 8 servings.

CABBAGE SOUP—Little balls made of corned beef float in a hearty cabbage soup. Get out your prettiest tureen to serve this unusual combination of corned beef and cabbage.

Hash Filled Squash Good Main Course

Squash halves serve as edible containers for hash.

Hash-Staffed Squash

3 medium size acorn squash
½ cup melted butter
Salt

2 No. 303 cans corned beef hash
1 cup shredded American cheese

Wash squash and cut in half lengthwise; remove seeds and membrane. Season with melted butter and salt and turn outside down in a shallow baking pan.

Add ¼ cup water. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees, for 40 to 45 minutes, or until the squash is tender. Remove from oven and again season with melted butter.

Pile hash into squash cups and top with cheese. Return to the oven and bake for about 15 minutes, or until hash is heated and cheese is melted. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

There Are Ways to Cut Down Mixing Time

Here are two different ways to pre-prepare muffins so that just before baking time they'll take just a few more minutes preparation.

Mix the batter, spoon into muffin cups, cover with a damp cloth and refrigerate for a few hours to pop in the oven later.

Or sift your dry ingredients into one bowl and combine your liquid ingredients in another. Cover both and refrigerate the liquid. Just before serving mix and bake as directed.

Baked Fruit In Caribbean

Montego Bay in the West Indies has more than palm trees and climate and soul-easing seascapes. You'll find excellent food, too.

Bananas and Rum (or Lemon) Sauce—Half Moon

¼ cup orange juice
¼ cup brown sugar
6 bananas
2 tablespoons butter, melted
1 cup grated or flaked coconut

Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. Grease baking dish well with butter. Mix orange juice and brown sugar together.

Peel bananas and arrange in baking dish. Brush with melted butter. Pour orange juice mixture over bananas. Spread coconut on top.

Bake for 12 to 15 minutes or until bananas are tender. Serve as dessert with Hot Rum Sauce.

Hot Creamy Rum (or Lemon) Sauce

¼ cup milk
¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup milk
1 egg
3 tablespoons dark rum or lemon juice

½ cup heavy cream, whipped
In double boiler, scald ¼ cup milk. Meanwhile, in a saucepan, sift together sugar and cornstarch. Gradually blend in ¼ cup milk, stirring constantly. Rapidly bring to a boil over direct heat, stirring gently; cook for 3 minutes.

Remove from heat and stir into scalded milk in double boiler. Cover and cook about 12 minutes, stirring 3 or 4 times.

Beat egg slightly. Stir about 3 tablespoons hot mixture into egg, blend and return to hot mixture in double boiler. Cook over simmering water 3 to 5 minutes stirring slowly but constantly.

Remove from heat. Blend in rum or lemon juice and whipped cream. Serve warm.

Tomato Sauce in Souffle Peps Up a Bland Dish

On cool evenings when the family wants to huddle comfortably around a cheery fireplace, or eat from their laps while watching TV, Tomato Souffle is exactly the dish to serve.

Thanks to that handy canned tomato sauce, it is not difficult to prepare and the increase in flavor is novel and exciting.

What makes this one different is the luscious blending of tomato and cheese flavors so that the souffle takes on a zippy taste, more tasty than the usual, milder version.

Garnished with a pickled peach and served with broccoli and lemon butter, this makes a one plate meal to be enjoyed informally anywhere.

For dessert? A frozen apple pie, baked right along with the souffle.

If you want to get a head start, prepare the sauce part in the morning. Just follow the recipe up to the point of beating the egg whites.

Then, just before baking, beat the egg whites and fold the sauce into them. This way you shorten preparation time and get most of the cooking dishes cleaned up in advance.

Tomato Souffle

½ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon minced onion
Dash of cayenne
1 cup milk
2 cups shredded cheddar cheese
1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce
8 eggs, separated

Melt butter in saucepan. Add flour and seasonings; mix well. Stir in milk and cook until sauce is thick and smooth. Add cheese and stir until melted. Remove from heat. Add tomato sauce.

Beat egg yolks until light and gradually stir into cheese sauce. Beat whites until stiff and carefully fold the sauce into the whites.

Pour mixture into greased 3-quart casserole and bake at 350 degrees for 45 to 50 minutes.

Grind the Pepper for Fresh Taste

A new partner for snap beans that adds good flavor and nutrition.

Pepper Beans

½ pound snap beans
1 large green pepper
½ cup boiling water
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Freshly ground pepper to taste

Cut ends from beans; scrub in cold water and drain. Cut beans in 1-inch lengths with slanted ends. Wash and seed pepper; cut into pieces about size of beans.

In a 1-quart covered saucepan gently boil the snap beans, green pepper, water, salt and onion until beans are tender-crisp — about 10 minutes. Drain. Makes 4 servings.

CHICKEN ANDALUSIA—Golden brown russet colored potatoes in jackets, make a chicken, green olives and artichokes, and colorful meal-in-one dish.

Artichokes Are Feature of Dish

From sunny southern Spain, where olives trees are silvery gray-green against sienna red soil, comes this recipe for Chicken Andalusia. Made with artichokes, pimiento-stuffed olives, new potatoes and sherry, it's a specialty of the colorful region where olives grow.

Chicken Andalusia

1 broiler-fryer chicken, 2½ to 3 pounds, quartered
2 tablespoons olive or salad oil
1 pound new potatoes
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons tomato paste or catchup
½ cup dry sherry wine
¼ cup water
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup sliced, pimiento-stuffed olives
1 package (10 ounces) frozen artichoke hearts, cooked according to package directions
Brown chicken on all sides in hot oil in Dutch oven; remove chicken, then brown potatoes. Mix together salt, pepper, tomato paste, sherry and water; slowly stir into flour. Stir flour mixture into drippings in pan.
Add chicken and olives; cover and cook over low heat 30 minutes, or until chicken and potatoes are tender. Serve with artichoke hearts. Makes 4 servings.

Girls Will Savor Hot Sandwiches

Serve hot open face sandwiches like this to the girls in the neighborhood for lunch. In saucepan, combine a 10½-ounce can chicken gravy, and 1 tablespoon each chopped parsley and pimiento. Heat, stirring now and then.

Meanwhile, arrange sliced cooked ham on each half of a split and toasted English muffin. Top with a 10-ounce package cooked and drained frozen asparagus. Pour gravy over and serve to 4.

Slivers of Liver Are Simmered in Sauce

Liver, our richest food source of iron, also contains large quantities of Vitamin A, the B vitamins, and copper, all essential for good health and well-being.

To serve liver in a different, more economical and more appealing way, that even the child who "doesn't like liver" will probably enjoy, try this Liver Stroganoff. The sauce is given a gourmet touch by the addition of sour cream.

Have a broiled fruit compote for dessert, or a tray of assorted fruits and cheeses.

Liver Stroganoff

2 pounds beef liver
2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet
2 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon marjoram
¼ cup butter
1 cup finely chopped onions
1 clove garlic, finely chopped
1 cup chicken bouillon
1 can (6 oz.) sliced broiled mushrooms, drained
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup sour cream
Have your butcher cut liver in half-inch slices. Heat 1 quart of water in large skillet to boiling and drop in slices. Let stand for 5 minutes. Drain, remove skin and tubes, and cut into strips ½" wide by 2" long.

Blend together kitchen bouquet, salt, pepper, and marjoram. Sprinkle over meat, tossing with a fork until meat is evenly coated.

Heat fat in skillet. Add meat and brown lightly. Add onions, garlic, and cook about 1 minute. Then add chicken bouillon and drained mushrooms, reserving broth. Simmer over low heat until liver is tender, about 30 minutes.

Blend together flour and mushroom broth and add gradually to skillet, stirring constantly. Cook over moderate heat until sauce thickens. Stir in sour cream, which has been brought to room temperature and stirred until smooth. Cover and leave on low heat until liver and sauce are hot. Serve over hot noodles or fluffy rice. Makes 6 servings.

Famous Baker Shares Recipe

Maggie's Braided Bread: The "feel" of kneading yeast dough, of punching the dough down, of forming it into shape, is part of the fascination and satisfaction of baking homemade bread.

This was the satisfaction experienced by Margaret Rudkin, the Fairfield, Connecticut, housewife and founder of Pepperidge Farm, who revolutionized the baking industry when she baked bread with the "old-fashioned" touch.

As a young girl, in the kitchen with its calid coal stove, Mrs. Rudkin learned to cook by helping her mother and grandmother. Many dishes became her favorites, and later on, her own family's favorites.

Mrs. Rudkin's superb cuisine had also endeared her to the hearts of friends and neighbors.

Now, from the pages of "The Margaret Rudkin Pepperidge Farm Cookbook," comes this ginger-raisin flavored, Swedish Cardamom Braid, one of the homemade breads from her vast repertory of recipes.

Swedish Cardamom Braid
Preheat oven to 350 degrees F., 20 minutes before braid is ready to bake.

½ cup milk
½ cup sugar plus 2 tablespoons
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ cup warm water
2 packages or cakes yeast,

DUAL APPETIZER — Two mixtures top thick slices of apple. This dish can be a first course or a salad.

Put Seafood on Half-Nuts on Other

Good flavor, unusual appetite appeal and the surprise of crab meat combined with apple make this savory mixture a new top favorite either as an appetizer or as a first-course salad.

While crisp good apples are at their best in this winter market, try this new appetizer for party guests or the family.

Lemon juice

TEEN-AGE COOK — This attractive miss likes to cook. Cheese Pie, one of her specialties, is something she can whip up after school. The daughter of Mrs. Ellen Dalrymple of Arcadia Court, Christy is fourteen years old.

Cheese Pie

Teens Call It the Most

Call it cake or pie — the cheese filling is just about the same — made with a combination of cream cheese and eggs.

Packaged graham cracker crumbs take all the work out of the crust.

This recipe is really simplicity itself. Our young cook in the photograph, Christy Dalrymple, makes it easily. Children much younger could do it too.

CHEESE PIE

1 1/4 cups graham cracker crumbs
1/4 cup melted butter

Mix well and press onto bottom and sides of 8-inch pie pan.

1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese

1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Dash of salt
2 eggs

Combine cheese, sugar, lemon juice, vanilla and salt. Mix well. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Turn into crumb-lined pan.

Bake at 325 degrees for 30 minutes. Remove from oven and cool 5 minutes.

1 cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons sugar
1/4 teaspoon vanilla

Combine and spread over warm pie. Cool, then chill until serving time. May be garnished with strawberries if desired.

Meat Pennies Float on Soup

How often can you busy homemakers come up with a lunchtime idea which appeals to the family from toddlers to teens? Canned dry soup mixes can be your springboard to many enchanting ideas for these most important meals at mid-day.

Canned potato dry soup mix, for example, with all its light and delicate airs, can turn into a tummy-tickling Penny Frank Potato Soup which will delight the small fry . . . and those upper graders won't find it "kid stuff" either.

Add some thinly sliced frankfurters, green beans (for a delightful touch of color as well as being good for you), and cheese. Better make enough for seconds if there are more than two hungry offspring about. One little can makes 3 to 4 servings, but this soup will bring forth calls of "more!"

Penny Frank Potato Soup

3 frankfurters, thinly sliced
2 tablespoons shortening
1 can (2 1/2 ounces) potato dry soup mix
2 cups cold water
1 cup milk
1/2 cup cooked cut green beans
1/2 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard

In saucepan, brown frankfurters in shortening; pour off excess drippings. Remove from heat. Stir in soup mix; gradually blend in water. Bring to boil, stirring. Partially cover; simmer 10 minutes, stirring now and then. Add remaining ingredients; heat until cheese melts. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

PENNY SOUP—Toddlers . . . and teens, too . . . will go for brimming cups of canned potato dry soup mix with sliced frankfurters and green beans appearing. Honey and peanut butter sandwiches and marshmallow-faced bowls of apple-sauce will please the youngsters, too.

Sausages Hide in Slices of Liver for Entree

The days when one could buy "a pound of liver to feed the cat" for a nickel are gone forever, and we're better off as a result.

Now liver is a much more demanded meat, thanks to modern nutrition research which found liver to be one of our most valuable foods.

You'll tempt appetites when you prepare this meat in unusual ways. For example, these liver rolls provide a new and tasty eating experience.

Liver Rolls

6 slices beef liver, cut 1/4 inch thick

1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
6 pork sausage links
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 cup tomato sauce

Season liver with salt, pepper, thyme and nutmeg. Roll each slice with a sausage link in the center and fasten with a wooden pick. Brown slowly in lard or drippings.

Pour off drippings. Add tomato sauce. Cover tightly and cook slowly 30 to 45 minutes or until done. 6 servings.

Upside Down Cake Bakes in Skillet

Apple pie and baked apples are part of every cook's repertoire, but how about an Apple-Caramel Upside Down Cake?

Spread caramel sauce into the bottom of a greased skillet or cake pan. Press medium-thick apple slices, and pecans if you like, into the sauce. Pour a yellow or white cake batter over the apples, and bake according to the cake recipe.

When done, invert immediately onto a flat surface. (A skillet makes it easy to flip over and out.)

The Washington State apple crop continues to fill produce bins in Midwest food stores, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, making apples both a budget and dessert delight.

Use Fluffy Frosting for Chocolate Alaska

Use individual dessert shells and fill each one with a scoop of chocolate ice cream (wrap well in foil and store in freezer). Just before serving, (while cake is still in freezer) prepare a package of fluffy white frosting mix according to package directions. Quickly cover ice cream and cake generously with the frosting, sealing edges.

Place on cookie sheet and bake in hot oven (475 degrees) for 3 to 5 minutes. Serve immediately.

Tasty, Quick Supper

Toast frozen flat cornmeal muffins. Heat canned apple sauce. Frizzle sausages. Now, spoon the hot apple sauce over the toasted muffins and arrange the sausages on top. This hot apple sauce and sausage deal is also fine over waffles or pancakes.

FIREPLACE MEAL—Serve this fireplace meal of juicy hamburgers topped with tomato and onion, plus frozen French fries and frozen peas. The treat, cooked over glowing wood charcoal briquets, takes about 30 minutes to prepare.

For the fireplace potatoes, brown a pound of frozen French fries in butter or margarine, then pour in a half-cup undiluted evaporated milk or half milk and cream, and heat.

Sprinkle with salt, pepper, 1/4 cup sliced green onions, 1 tablespoon chopped pimiento, 1/4 cup shredded golden Cheddar cheese.

The frozen peas, cooked tender with butter and herbs in a covered pan, take 5 to 7 minutes. Hot buttered popcorn and hot chocolate, tea or coffee, also prepared on the swing-out grill over wood charcoal briquets, complete this all-American meal.

Let's Share a Saucy Beef Fondue

Returned travelers from Switzerland, delighted by the original cheese fondue, are now trying variations of this famous dish. Popular beef takes happily to fondue.

Most important are the complementary sauces which are simple when you use basics like sour cream, rich red tomato sauce and butter, adding favorite condiments and seasonings for distinctive flavor. Since these are all pre-assembled and the guests cook their own meat, this sumptuous dish makes entertaining easy.

And it's a good choice to help people get acquainted—they just have to be friendly, sharing the central cooking dish and then personally dipping the meat into succulent sauces.

Use smaller tid-bits of meat to serve Saucy Beef Fondue as an hors d'oeuvre, larger ones when it is to be the main course.

Instant meat tenderizer makes it possible to use the less tender cuts of meat as well as the most expensive tenderloin.

Saucy Beef Fondue

1½ pounds beef tenderloin, trimmed; cut in ¾-inch cubes. (Or use lean beef stew meat prepared with instant meat tenderizer following directions on label.)

Vegetable oil

Tomato dipping sauce

Horseradish cream sauce

Garlic butter

Have beef cubes at room temperature. Heat 1½ inches oil in electric skillet, saucepan or deep fryer. Bring to 425 degrees.

Each guest holds beef cube in hot oil with fork until cooked to desired doneness. Dip cooked meat into one of the sauces.

LEMONY RAISIN BREAD PUDDING—Cubes of raisin bread, plus some extra raisins make this bread pudding something special. Lemon juice and rind accent the flavor. It's a souffle-like pudding you serve straight from the oven.

Bake Raisin Bread Pudding While Oven Dinner Cooks

Oven dinners were a great invention! Here is a marvelous dessert to bake in the same oven as the main course. Made with store bought raisin bread, it goes together in a minimum amount of time and bakes in about half an hour.

Make certain to serve this hot lemony raisin bread pudding straight from the oven before it has a chance to settle.

Between February 9 and March 28, 1964, the California Raisin Advisory Board is inviting purchasers of raisin bread to try their luck.

Toast-to-Fun entry blanks will be available in bread departments of food stores and bakeries everywhere.

Prizes for the fourth annual Raisin Bread Sweepstakes are geared to family summer fun and who knows but you may be a lucky one.

Lemony Raisin Bread Pudding

- 2½ cups raisin bread cubes (about 4 slices)
- ¾ cup sugar
- 2 teaspoons grated lemon peel
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- ½ cup melted butter or margarine
- 4 eggs
- 2-3 cup milk

Combine raisin bread cubes, ¼ cup sugar, lemon peel and juice. Toss lightly together until well mixed; add butter.

Beat egg whites to soft peaks. Gradually beat in remaining ¼ cup sugar until stiff peaks form.

With same beater, beat egg yolks until very thick. Add to bread mixture along with milk. Fold in beaten egg whites. Turn into 1 quart souffle dish or casserole.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 to 40 minutes until set in center. Pudding will be puffed and a rich brown color.

Serve at once from oven. Top with whipped cream, if desired. Makes 5 to 6 servings.

Men's Taste Considered in This Recipe

Salad enthusiasts always are looking for new dressings to top off their crisp green favorites.

True salad lovers know that the greens should be torn and never cut and that they should be washed and crisped in the refrigerator. To keep the greens crisp, the "greens rooters" know that the dressing should be added just before serving time.

Here is an extra rich salad dressing that is sure to be a hit with the men.

Zesty American blue cheese has firmly established its reputation as an ideal ingredient for salad dressings. Here is just one more example of this blue-marbled cheese's versatility.

He-Man Dressing

- ¼ cup heavy cream
 - 2 tablespoons olive oil
 - 1 tablespoon catsup
 - ½ teaspoon sugar
 - ¼ teaspoon salt
 - ¼ teaspoon monosodium glutamate
 - 2 tablespoons crumbled American blue cheese
 - 1 tablespoon chopped chives
- Combine cream and oil with a fork. Keep beating with the fork to emulsify. Add catsup, sugar, salt, monosodium glutamate. Add crumbled American blue cheese and chives. Serve at room temperature over crisp greens. Makes about ¾ cup.

Little Hot Rolls Have Cheese-Olive Filling

Pimiento-stuffed olives and cream cheese are a happy combination for more than a dip; they make dinner rolls delicious, too. With packaged roll mix for the dough, they're a jiffy job.

Although Spanish pimiento-stuffed olives are used in the rolls, the idea did not originate in Spain but in Switzerland, where cheese in any form is a great favorite.

Also in Switzerland, as in other middle European countries, anything a little unusual came to be known as "Spanische" simply because Spain was such an exotic place.

Colorful Relish Is Served Prettily

Use canned peaches, hot or cold, to hold helpings of cranberry orange relish. These would be perfect to garnish a cold meat platter.

Cranberry Peaches

- 1 pound cranberries
- 2 medium oranges
- 2 cups sugar

Canned drained peaches
Pick over cranberries, wash in cold water; drain; there should be about 4 cups. Wash and dry oranges; quarter and remove any seeds.

Put cranberries and orange quarters through coarse blade of food chopper. Stir in sugar; cover tightly and refrigerate. (Makes about 1 quart.)

At serving time use the peaches cold or heat them in a skillet, in the oven or under the broiler; fill peach cavities with some of the cranberry mixture.

Store remaining cranberry mixture in refrigerator and use "as is" for a relish; if kept chilled, it may be stored for weeks.

In fact, years ago, a baker in Baden made a bread so different in shape, and so delicious, that it was called "Spanische Brotli." Families in Zurich sent their maids to Baden for the wonderful crusty loaves.

On Thursdays, the little red and blue train chugged along the Limatt River loaded with maids, who in turn were loaded with bags of "Spanische Brotli," so the train came to be known as the Spanische Bread Train.

These Cream Cheese and Olive Rolls would be worth quite a trip, too.

Cream Cheese and Olive Rolls

- 1 package (13½ ounces) hot roll mix
- 4 ounces cream cheese, softened
- ¼ cup dairy sour cream
- ¼ cup sliced, pimiento-stuffed olives

Prepare roll dough and let rise according to package directions. Meanwhile, mix cream cheese with sour cream; add olives and mix lightly.

Roll dough to a 12x18-inch rectangle on floured surface. Cut in 3-inch squares. Place 1 heaping teaspoon of filling in center of each.

Fold corners toward center and press to seal. Place on cookie sheet. Bake in 375 degree (moderate) oven 20 to 25 minutes or until brown.

Star Recipe

That elusive flavor in the chicken coating is Parmesan cheese.

PARMESAN FRIED CHICKEN

- 3 pound broiler-fryer, cut up
- 1 cup crushed saltine crackers
- ½ cup Parmesan cheese
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- Dash pepper
- ¾ cup evaporated milk
- ¼ lb. butter

Wash chicken; pat dry. Mix dry ingredients in paper bag. Dip chicken pieces in evaporated milk; shake with parmesan mixture until coated thoroughly.

Melt butter in 9 x 13 inch baking pan. Place chicken skin side down in butter. Bake in 350 degree oven for 30 minutes; turn chicken and bake 30 to 40 minutes more.

To make gravy, add ¾ to 1 cup evaporated milk to butter drippings remaining in baking pan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until thick.

"Come for dessert!" It's an easy invitation to give, when you plan to serve Dark Cherry Tangerine Mold. You need give attention to only this one glamorous recipe, then relax and enjoy the evening with your friends.

Canned pitted dark sweet cherries are easy to use; the canners have taken care of the tedious pitting process. Their rich dark hue is a dramatic contrast to the delicate color of the tangerine concentrate and whipped cream mixture.

Dark Cherry Tangerine Mold

- 3 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 2 tablespoons water
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup boiling water
- 1 can (11 ounces) mandarin orange sections
- 1 can (1 pound) pitted dark sweet cherries, drained*
- Water
- 1 can (6 ounces) frozen tangerine juice concentrate, thawed
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
- Sweetened whipped cream

Soften 2 teaspoons unflavored gelatin in 2 tablespoons water. Melt over boiling water. Pour half of gelatin mixture into 2 quart mold. Chill until firm.

Meanwhile, drain mandarin orange sections; reserve syrup. Arrange design using some of cherries and orange sections on gelatin; pour remaining gelatin mixture over cherries and orange sections. Chill until firm.

Add reserved mandarin orange syrup and as much water as necessary to tangerine concentrate to make 3 cups liquid. Soften remaining gelatin in $\frac{3}{4}$ cup tangerine mixture. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until gelatin is dissolved. Stir in remaining tangerine mixture.

Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Reserve $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cherries. Fold remaining cherries, remaining mandarin orange sections and 1 cup heavy cream, whipped, into tangerine mixture. Turn into mold on top of clear gelatin mixture. Chill until firm (2-3 hours).

Unmold; garnish with sweetened whipped cream and reserved $\frac{1}{4}$ cup cherries. Makes 6-8 servings.

DARK CHERRY TANGERINE MOLD — Canned pitted dark sweet cherries give glamour and flavor to a Bavarian-type dessert made with whipped cream, tangerine concentrate and gelatin.

For Apple Sundaes

Vary Sauce Toppings

The dictionary observes that the origin of "Sundae" is uncertain. What is certain, however, is the general delight in the confection capped ice creams known as Sundaes. So, when in doubt on what to offer for dessert or refreshments, serve Sundaes. And when not in doubt, serve them, too. For sheer enjoyment they can't be beat.

Sundaes are blissfully easy desserts, for you start with scoops of ice cream and simply add the toppings.

One jolly notion is to fill a large bowl with ice cream balls, set out a variety of toppings and let each one concoct his own sundae. This is gleeful going for small fry, and their seniors have been known to welcome it, too.

Here are some suggestions for Sundaes:

HAPPY APPLE GINGERED TOPPING

(piquant and spicy)

- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup chopped candied ginger
- 2 cups canned apple sauce
- 1 quart vanilla ice cream

Combine candied ginger and apple sauce; chill in refrigerator.

for several hours, or overnight. Place a serving of vanilla ice cream in individual dishes; top with the sauce. Makes 6 servings.

HAPPY APPLE ORANGE SUGAR SAUCE

(Pungent and refreshing)

- 2 cups canned apple sauce
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup light brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons grated orange rind
- 2 tablespoons orange juice
- 1 quart vanilla ice cream

Combine apple sauce and sugar; heat until sugar melts. Cool; add orange rind and juice. Chill several hours. Place vanilla ice cream in individual serving dishes; top with the sauce. Makes 6 servings.

APPLE PEPPERMINT CRUNCH

(Rosy as a posy)

- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup crushed peppermint candy or after dinner mints
- 2 cups canned apple sauce
- 1 quart vanilla ice cream

Combine candy and apple sauce; chill in refrigerator several hours, or overnight. Place vanilla ice cream in individual serving dishes; top with the sauce. Makes 6 servings.

APPLE SUNDAES—The base for each of these sundae toppings is canned apple sauce which is novel for this use. The light, zesty apple tang of the sauce offers a refreshing contrast to the rich flavor of the ice cream.

Pork Shoulder Butt Is Boneless and All Meat

One to four pounds of flavorful meat is yours when you buy a boneless smoked shoulder butt. Sometimes called a "cottage roll," the smoked butt is actually a nugget of ham-like flavored meat carved out of the pork shoulder, the American Meat Institute reports.

Cured and smoked like ham, the boneless butt is an excellent buy for small families because it is available in sizes ranging in weight from one to four pounds.

Tomato Nog Suggested

Did you ever taste a soup nog? It's delicious and so easy.

In a saucepan heat 5 cans of condensed tomato soup with 5 soup cans of milk. Meanwhile in a heat-proof punch bowl beat 5 eggs to a froth. Slowly stir the heated soup mixture into the beaten egg, then sprinkle with nutmeg or cinnamon.

Makes enough nogs for two dozen 4-ounce servings. Ladle into punch cups and watch everyone go to town.

CHERRY VALENTINE COOKIES — Who could resist being your Valentine when you play Cupid with a sweet offering? These heart-shaped cookies are made refrigerator style.

Slice Heart-Shaped Roll of Cookies

As traditional for Valentine's Day as flowers and candy are the special heart-shaped cookies mothers prepare for their families.

This Valentine's Day treat all the sweet tooth in your family with crisp Cherry Valentine Cookies, butter-rich cookies filled with candied cherries and pecans.

You busy mothers will especially appreciate the ease with which these refrigerator cookies are prepared.

You simply roll out the cookie dough to rectangles, top with whole candied cherries, then fold and shape the dough as directed to form unique heart-shaped rolls to slice cookies from.

For evenly shaped cookies be sure the rolls of dough are thoroughly chilled and firmed — by at least one hour in the refrigerator or freezer. Slice the cookies with a very sharp, thin-bladed knife, dipping the blade in hot water occasionally if the cookies begin to stick.

Work with only one roll of dough at a time keeping the second refrigerated.

Cherry Valentine Cookies

- 4 3/4 cups sifted enriched flour*
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon orange extract
- 3 eggs
- 1/2 cup finely chopped pecans
- 30 candied red cherries (about 6 1/2-ounce jar)

Sift together 4 1/2 cups flour and baking powder. Cream together butter or margarine and sugar until light and fluffy. Add orange extract. Add eggs, one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Stir in pecans.

Add flour mixture gradually, mixing well. Add more flour if necessary, to make a dough that can be handled.

Divide dough in half. Roll out one half on waxed paper to rectangle. Fold edges of rectangle lengthwise toward center to meet cherries but do not cover cherries. Then, fold entire roll in half lengthwise with cherries on inside.

Seal edge to form solid roll of dough with cherries in center and bring to a point to form bottom of heart design. Wrap waxed paper around dough. On opposite side of point, push dough in, making a crevice to form top of heart design.

Refrigerate for 1 hour or until firm. Cut into 1/8-inch slices. Place on ungreased baking sheets.

Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 10 to 12 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes about 9 dozen cookies.

*If you don't sift and in the absence of other directions, spoon flour directly from container into a one-cup dry measure, level off, then remove two level tablespoonsful, according to USDA recommendations.

NOTE: If self-rising flour is used, omit baking powder.

New Relish Made With Mushrooms

A quick version of a favorite relish to serve with cold meats.

Mushroom Relish

- 2 cans (6 ounces each) chopped mushrooms
- 2 cans (6 ounces each) sliced mushrooms
- 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 cup cider vinegar
- 2 teaspoons mixed pickling spice, tied in a cheesecloth bag
- 2 tablespoons instant minced onion

Turn both kinds of mushrooms into a strainer or colander to drain thoroughly.

Pour 1 cup of the mushroom liquid into a small saucepan; add salt, sugar, vinegar and spice bag; stir over low heat until sugar dissolves; bring slowly to a boil. Pour over mushrooms in a shallow container.

Cover and cool; chill overnight; remove spice bag. Store in refrigerator.

Fill Artichokes With Ham Mix

From the mountains of Catalonia in northeastern Spain was gathered this recipe for Alcachofas con Jamon (ham stuffed artichokes), one of the hundreds in the new International Dining with Spice Islands, a guide to the formation of food exploration clubs that includes menus and recipes from nine countries of the world.

8 medium-sized artichokes
Boiling salted water
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 cups finely - minced boiled ham
2 tablespoons chopped chives
2 tablespoons chopped pimientos
2 tablespoons dry Sherry
1 tablespoon red wine vinegar
¼ teaspoon fine herbs
½ teaspoon garlic powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup Parmesan cheese

Trim off outer leaves and snip tops of artichoke leaves. Cook in boiling, salted water 15 to 20 minutes until tender. Drain, place on paper toweling; open artichokes to resemble flowers. Cool.

Meanwhile combine all remaining ingredients; chill. With a teaspoon, scrape out inner thistle-choke of artichokes; chill.

To serve spoon sour cream filling into center of each artichoke. Makes eight servings.

Copies of the complete International Dining album can be obtained by sending $4 in check or money order to Spice Islands, Dept. GC, 100 East Grand Avenue, South Francisco, California.

BASKET CAKE

1 package devil's food cake mix
Fudge frosting
Basket handle
Ice cream or sherbet
Mix cake according to directions on package. Divide batter into 8-inch round layer cake pan and 5 cup ring mold, that have been greased and floured. Bake at 350 degrees F 20 to 25 minutes. Serve round layer cake as desired.

For basket cake, cool cake. Frost with Fudge Frosting and sprinkle with coconut. For basket handle, cut strip of cardboard 12 to 14 inches long, about ½ inch wide.

Select pastel color narrow ribbon; wrap spiral fashion around cardboard; secure ends of ribbon. Stick into cake, making handle. Tie perky ribbon bow on handle.

When ready to serve fill cake basket with small scoops of ice cream or sherbet. Serve immediately.

STUFFED ARTICHOSES — You can eat all the ham mixture out of the artichokes, then consume the little vegetable; or you can alternate the processes. This would make an interesting luncheon dish.

Touch of Wine in Stew Gives Glamour to Traditional Dish

Winter, 'tix said, is host to a thousand memories! And none gayer than those the outdoor enthusiasts indulge in, reviewing a day's ski run or ice-skating party. But, whatever fun-time is recalled, the exciting moment is climaxed at the "thaw" point by the fire — enjoying food and beverage.

Most active people agree that a bracing dish of stew accompanied by a glass of burgundy wine is a winter dreamer's delight. Hostesses at such times cater to the general opinion by producing their prized recipes.

A good stew should have large pieces of tender meat in a well-seasoned sauce. One, called "Continental Stew," offers a zesty combination of ham, carrots, peas and rice, delicately flavored with green pepper, bay leaf, garlic and burgundy wine.

As friends or family stomp snow from their boots and step in toward the warmth of burning embers, serve them this easy to make gourmet's favorite!

Continental Stew

¼ lb. margarine
1 medium green pepper, chopped
1 small clove garlic, crushed
2 cups ham, large pieces
1½ cups condensed beef broth
1½ cups water
1½ cups sliced carrots
1½ cups peas
2 cups canned tomatoes
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 small bay leaf
2 cups packaged pre-cooked rice
2 cups Burgundy wine
In margarine, saute green pepper, garlic and ham. Add all other ingredients, except rice. Bring to a boil and cook until vegetables are tender. Stir oc-asionally to avoid sticking. Add rice. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 5 minutes. Remove bay leaf and garlic. Serve. Makes 8 servings.

NOTE: If too thick, add more water and broth.

Johnson Asks Aid for Suburb Growth

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson extended a helping hand today to fast-growing suburban communities swamped by demands for "new classrooms, uncounted miles of new streets and utility lines, and an unprecedented volume of water and sewerage facilities."

He asked Congress to provide federal grants and loans to local governments and private developers so that future expansion won't be carried out, as it often has in the past, "in a sprawling, space-consuming, unplanned and uneconomic way."

France Starts Red China Ties

Officially Recognizes Regime in Peking

PARIS (AP) — France officially recognized the Communist Chinese regime in Peking today. Peking radio made a similar announcement.

The French announcement said the two governments had agreed to establish diplomatic relations and to exchange ambassadors.

There was no immediate indication of how this step would affect the ties between France and the Nationalist Chinese regime of President Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa.

French officials previously had said that Peking had not demanded that France break relations with Chiang as a condition for diplomatic ties, and the assumption was that France could therefore maintain relations with both regimes.

BOTH OPPOSED

This is called the "two-Chinas" policy, which both the Communists and the Nationalists have heretofore steadfastly opposed. Each claims to be the sole true representative of China.

The Nationalists have threatened to sever relations with France although the United States has counseled Chiang not to break with France.

Peking radio said France and Red China have agreed to appoint ambassadors to each other within three months.

These variations included plans to buy and rent existing housing for public housing purposes and new aid for those ousted by urban renewal projects.

Johnson outlined to Congress a comprehensive program to achieve the goal he set shortly after taking office last fall: "A decent home for all Americans."

He called for expanded public housing and urban renewal, and new programs to help provide homes for farmers and migratory farm workers.

DEMANDS RENEWED

In the first major housing legislative proposal since 1961, Johnson renewed some old demands of the late President John F. Kennedy.

He called for creation of a Cabinet-level department of housing and community development and urged Congress to act swiftly on a mass transit bill, already passed by the Senate and awaiting House action.

On the two biggest programs in the housing field, Johnson:

—Asked authorization of 50,000 additional public housing units for each of the next four years. The 1961 act authorized 100,000 units spread over three years.

PUBLIC HOUSING

The President also asked authority to lease 10,000 existing housing units a year for four years and also to purchase existing housing within the 50,000-

Hearing Postponed

Knife Report 'Sketchy'

By JIM DYGERT

A Juvenile Court hearing in the slaying of 14-year-old Nancy Jean Jones was postponed this morning until Thursday, mostly because of a state police laboratory report on the knife suspected to be the fatal weapon.

The lab report, a preliminary one, was termed "sketchy" by Probate Court Judge Norman R. Barnard.

Judge Barnard said he wasn't sure whether the report indicated that stains found on the knife were actually blood.

"There are things in the report that need more checking," Judge Barnard said.

THE INDICATORS

County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said the report showed "some aspects about the knife indicated that it could be connected with the crime, but others that it might not be."

"We're not sure yet," Taylor said. He added that he wouldn't ask for a waiver to allow 15-year-old Daniel Lovas to be tried as an adult, at least until after the hearing Thursday.

Lovas of 1042 Smith, Birmingham, a Seaholm High School sophomore, is being held for investigation in the girl's slaying.

He was to be transferred from the County Jail to the County Childrens Center today, according to Judge Barnard.

Daniel has denied knowing Nancy or anything about the slaying.

Barnard said the hearing was postponed to allow more time for investigation.

"We hope to have someone from the crime lab here Thursday," said the judge.

Birmingham police indicated they still haven't been able to find evidence that Daniel ever knew the victim, a Barnum Junior High School student.

She lived at 1128 Emmons, Birmingham, two blocks from Daniel's home.

Winter's a Softie So Far This Year

While winter has reasserted itself, it still is not being too tough on the Pontiac area.

This week, temperatures will average about 4 degrees above the normal high of 33 and low of 20. There will be little precipitation.

The low prior to 8 this morning was 18. By 1 p.m. it had reached 26.

A detective discounted a report that Daniel had been refused a date by the victim. The officer said it was another girl that the boy had asked.

Police brought three witnesses to the courthouse for today's scheduled hearing, one of whom had not been reported previously.

The new witness was identified only as a Seaholm High School student, William Owen. He reportedly saw someone fleeing from the scene of the slaying.

The two other witnesses were Robert Phelps, 18, of 892 Purdy, and Howard Kaechle, 18, of 687 Smith, both of Birmingham.

GIVES DESCRIPTION

Phelps provided the information that led to Daniel's apprehension.

He told police he saw someone hit Nancy in front of 864 Purdy as she walked to school Friday morning and gave them a description that led to the Lovas boy.

Kaechle gave police the knife he said Daniel gave to him Friday morning before he was arrested.

An attorney representing Lovas, Richard P. Condit, said it was a possibility a change of venue would be asked if the case should ever come to trial in Circuit Court, because of television and newspaper publicity.

Another attorney, Walter Denison said "It is our intention that only the boy's parents and his attorneys will be talking to him before Thursday's hearing."

Frontward or backward, radar spells trouble for Pontiac speeders.

Some heavy-footed motorists already may have been introduced to the Pontiac Police Department's new speed control device.

But so far they have received nothing more than a verbal warning and a lesson in the effectiveness of the instrument.

Traffic Safety Bureau officers are now being trained in the operation of the radar unit and will not be using it to issue tickets for at least two weeks, said Acting Police Chief William K. Hanger.

WILL BE INFORMED

"The public can be assured they will be informed when it goes into actual operation," he added.

"We are not out to trap motorists or write a lot of tickets," said Hanger. "Our main concern is to check the major cause of accidents."

Large signs warning motorists that speed is electrically timed already have been posted on all roads into the city.

The radar patrol car will be a new dark blue Pontiac, and will be marked "Police" and "Radar," Hanger said.

Fuel Line Leak Stalls Lift-Off 95 Minutes

Hope Saturn I Will Give America Lead in Payload Weight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The countdown proceeded with some technical delay today on a Saturn I rocket which will try to hurl the world's heaviest satellite into orbit and possibly give the United States the lead in the race for space rocket power.

The 40-man launching crew started a final countdown at 11 p.m. yesterday, aiming for a 10 a.m. blastoff time.

A leak developed in a liquid hydrogen fuel line in the second stage and the count was halted while technicians corrected it.

That put the scheduled launching time off until 11:35 a.m.

Earlier this month, Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy chief of the space agency, said, "we are drawing very close" to the Russians in rocket power and "as soon as the Saturn satellite has been placed in orbit we will have relieved this deficiency in weight-carrying ability we've labored under so long."

The rocket, 164 feet tall and weighing 562 tons, is the first in the Saturn I series with a live second stage, which burns high-energy liquid hydrogen. Successes were recorded on four earlier flights of the first stage, an eight-engine power plant that generates 1.5 million pounds of thrust, equal to 34 million horsepower.

EDGE OF SPACE

If the rocket performs as planned, the second stage will ignite on the edge of space to propel into orbit a satellite weighing 37,700 pounds.

The launching is the first of two scheduled from Cape Kennedy this week. Thursday, the Ranger 6 spacecraft is to be launched to the moon to take hundreds of close-up television pictures.

The Soviet Union's 14,929-pound Sputnik 7 and 8 are the heaviest man-made objects to achieve orbit. The United States' heavyweight entry was the 10,200-pound Centaur launched in November.

WINS CROWN—Linda Wigman, 17, of Traverse City is Michigan's Junior Miss for 1964. She won the title Saturday over 23 other girls in competition at Pontiac Northern High School.

Traverse City Beauty Wins Pageant Title

For the second time in three years, a teen-age beauty from Traverse City has been named Michigan's Junior Miss.

The new titleholder is Linda Wigman, a 17-year-old senior at Traverse City High School.

Linda won the crown over 23 other state girls in competition Saturday evening at Pontiac Northern High School.

The state pageant was conducted by the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The girls were judged on mental alertness, scholastic achievement, youth fitness, creative and performing arts, poise and appearance.

Recalling the past with items taken from an old trunk was Linda's specialty act.

RUNNER-UP

One of the seven area girls in the pageant was named second runner-up.

She is Nancy Stanquits, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stanquits of 30 Holcomb, Clarkston. Nancy represented the Clarkston Area Jaycees.

First runner-up was Donna Dee Dytinski of Allen Park. Both runners-up received $250 scholarships.

The Michigan Junior Miss received a $1,000 scholarship from the Coca Cola Bottlers of Michigan, and an all-expense-paid trip to Mobile, Ala., March 14-21, to compete in the national finals.

About 850 persons in the audience Saturday watched last year's Junior Miss, Dianne Girard of Lincoln Park present the crown and robe to Linda.

Profits at GM Make History

Highest Total Ever by Any Corporation

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors Corp. last year earned more money than any corporation in history.

General Motors said today it made 1963 profits of $1,592,000, a gain of 13 per cent from 1962. Earnings came on sales of $16.5 billion, also a record by far for any business concern.

In summarizing what in many ways was an unprecedented year in the automobile industry, General Motors also reported new high marks in car and truck production, payroll, dividends paid and profit per share of common stock.

The only earnings achievement approaching the GM 1963 figure was the $1,474,404,000 in net income reported by American Telephone and Telegraph Co. for the 12 months ended Nov. 30. AT&T has not yet given its figures for calendar 1963.

In 1962, General Motors, the world's largest manufacturing concern, set its previous high of $1,459,000,000 in net profits and $14.6 billion in sales.

The flood of new statistical highs generally reflected a boom that took hold in autos in 1962, expanded in 1963 and still is strong.

War on Christian Missions

U.S. Woman Killed in Congo Violence

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — An American woman missionary has been killed and another wounded by rebels waging war on Christian missions and the central Congo government in the southwest Congo province of Kwilu.

The central government said it had documentary proof the rebels, led by former Education Minister Pierre Mulele, are supported by Red China.

The government declared a state of emergency in Kwilu Province and rushed 450 soldiers into the region. It said important measures would be taken, "the nature of which will be revealed at an opportune moment."

British Troops Quell Revolt in East Africa

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP)—British troops kept peace in restive East Africa today after disarming mutinous native soldiers in the young Commonwealth nations of Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda.

British and African officers questioned the rebellious troops in the three neighboring countries, trying to find out if there was a master plan behind the upheavals. All erupted last week in the wake of the Communist-unit annual limit to be converted to public housing facilities.

—Asked a new $1.4-billion, two-year authorization for urban renewal. The 1961 act authorized $2 billion for three years.

Johnson proposed four separate programs to get this community development program moving:

• Grants and loans to states and local governments for the planning and provision of necessary public facilities and of loan insurance for private developers constructing such facilities.

PUBLIC FACILITY LOANS

• Public facility loans with deferred amortization to enable communities to plan and build ahead of growth.

• Public facility loans, with deferral of amortization as required, for advance land purchase or option by states and local governments.

• Federal insurance of loans to private developers for purchase and improvement of land for planned subdivisions.

In addition to calling for an expansion of public housing, Johnson called for $5 million for a one-year extension of studies on the housing needs of low-income families.

tinged coup that toppled the Sultan of Zanzibar.

A spokesman at the British East Africa Command post in Nairobi said no evidence has been found to indicate the mutineers were part of an over-all rebellion, but investigations were continuing.

The mutineers in Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda were all former members of the Queen's African Rifles who had served under the British flag until the three territories gained independence. After independence, some British officers remained at the three governments' request to train and command the troops. The mutinies stemmed from demands for removal of those officers and for higher pay.

SOVIET CHARGES

A spokesman in London for Britain's Commonwealth Ministry denied Soviet charges that Britain plans to invade Zanzibar to overthrow the revolutionary regime. The spokesman said Britain never had any intention of intervening in Zanzibar.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev warned that any forcible acts toward the leftist regime on the spice island would bring "dangerous consequences." The Soviet statement omitted the usual rocket rattling and made no mention of Tanganyika, Uganda or Kenya, whose African leaders called back British troops to help keep order.

More than 3,500 British troops maintained order in the three East African nations after lightning weekend moves that caused the deaths of four African soldiers. Three were killed when commandos quelled a new mutiny Saturday at a barracks outside Dar es Salaam, the Tanganyikan capital. The other was killed when British troops put down an uprising Friday night at a camp in Kenya.

Seventeen persons were killed in Tanganyika last Monday in rioting and looting that followed the initial mutiny. Uganda's mutiny on Thursday was brief and bloodless.

Irene Ferrel, 43, of Eagle Butte, S.D., was reported killed by a rebel's arrow during a raid on a Baptist mission at the village of Mangungu, 300 miles southeast of Leopoldville.

The Congo Inland Missionary in Leopoldville reported that Ruth Hege, 58, of Wellington, Ohio, also attached to the Mangungu station, was wounded. Latest reports indicated she was still in the area.

The guerrillas killed three Roman Catholic priests last week. Seven American missionaries and two children were removed by U.N. helicopters Friday from Kandale, in southern Kwilu, after guerrillas burned their station.

The Rev. Peter Buller of Mountain Lake, Minn., who fled with his wife and two children from their mission 20 miles northwest of Mangungu, said he spotted Miss Ferrel signaling for help last Wednesday when he flew over her mission. She could only be reached from the air by helicopter because there is no landing strip.

KILLED BY ARROW

"She and her friends were out on the lawn," he said. "Then we got a letter telling us she was dead—killed by an arrow."

Another missionary, Bertha Miller of Glendale, Calif., arrived in Leopoldville Sunday and said planes spotted Miss Hege waving for help.

Miss Miller said she was forced to flee from her mission in Kamayala after rebels set fire to grass in the area and the flames threatened the station.

Mulele's forces were reported to have spread their revolt into Kwango Province, south of Kwilu, where Catholic and Protestant missions also have been attacked. Mulele was also reported by Congolese Planning Minister Cleophas Kamitatu to be moving raiders into Kasai Unit Province on the east.

Three Killed on Area Roads

2 Sisters, Ypsilanti Man Die in Crashes

Two Farmington Township sisters and an Ypsilanti father were fatally injured in traffic accidents in Oakland County Saturday.

Dead are Mina Pasienza, 11, 32444 Nottingham, and her sister Rosalie, 19, and Edward O. Old Jr., 23.

The Pasienza girls were driving on 12 Mile when they made a left turn in front of another car, according to Farmington Township police.

The accident occurred just east of Farmington Road.

The driver of the other car, Theodore M. Erickson, 3243 Red Clover, Farmington, was not injured seriously.

Old died at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital following a two-car crash on South Milford Road, just north of West Maple Road at 5 p.m.

OTHERS INJURED

His wife Carrie Jo, 21, and son, Edward G., 6, and daughter, Jamie Lynn, 4, were injured in the crash.

The two children are in fair condition. Mrs. Old was treated and released.

The driver of the other car, George C. Killackey, 43, of 832 Duke, Milford, and his wife Kathryn, 45, were also treated and released.

Sheriff's deputies said Killackey was passing another car when he hit the Old car head-on. Killackey told police he did not see the other car.

SERVICE SET

Service for Old, a former Highland Township resident, will be 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Milford.

He was an inspector at General Motors' Chevrolet Division, Ypsilanti.

Surviving besides his wife and children are his mother, Mrs. Eltha Old of Pontiac and a sister, Mrs. Richard Woodfill of Highland.

His body is at the Richard Bird Funeral Home, Milford.

City Budget Higher, but Tax Rate Down

By DICK SAUNDERS

Pontiac will end up with a higher budget and lower tax rate in 1964, barring any significant changes in the city's tax base or equalization factor.

Prospects for a higher budget and lower tax bill are made possible largely by Pontiac's tax rate structure, according to City Finance Director Marvin M. Alward.

In essence, a new rubbish collection program and the city's tax structure limitations have a combined effect of making the tax bill easier to pay, while not making the city budget any easier to finance.

TOTAL BUDGET
This year's total proposed budget is about $10,000 more than last year's.

But the difference is being made up in income from other sources, not tax income.

Here's how the 1963 city tax rate was allocated:

Rate	Use
$12.34 (10 mills equalized)	Operation
$1.31	Waste collection and disposal
$1.85 (1.5 mills equalized)	Capital improvements
$.60	Debt retirement

The tax rate totaled $16.10 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

CITY TAXES

Here's the probable breakdown for 1964 city taxes.

Rate	Use
$12.34 (10 mills equalized)	Operation
$1.31	Waste collection and disposal
$1.85	Capital improvements
$.60	Debt retirement

The 1964 levies total $15.92 per $1,000.

To understand this, the taxpayer must know just how his total city tax bill is made up.

It breaks down to the following maximum rates per $1,000 of assessed property value:

- $10 for operating expenses.
- $2 for waste collection and disposal.
- $1.50 for capital improvements.

Code Change Is Eyed to Check Phone Abuse

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners tonight will consider an amendment to the Birmingham Municipal Code designed to curb the number of harassment telephone calls in the city.

Also on the agenda is a proposed zoning ordinance amendment regulating parking needs for multiple-use buildings.

The new section on harassment by telephone has been proposed by Commissioner David F. Breck.

The code would make illegal repeated calls to one number for the purpose of harassment, whether or not any conversation ensues.

Also prohibited would be the use of vulgar, indecent, obscene, immoral or insulting language over any telephone.

Police officers have noted increase in the number of prank calls received by Birmingham residents. In 1962 there were 35 complaints and in 1963 there were 116.

Birmingham police made one arrest in this connection under state statute last year.

The alteration in the zoning ordinance has been proposed to clear up interpretation of present restrictions for buildings used for more than one purpose.

PRINCIPAL USE

The board of zoning appeals has interpreted the ordinance to mean that for a building of mixed uses, parking shall be required for the principal use only.

The proposed amendment would specifically require parking for all of the uses.

Kingswood School Day Camp will hold its first reunion Friday afternoon.

Former campers will meet in the dining room of the Bloomfield Hills school for the 4-6 p.m. program.

Movies and slides of last year's camp activities will be shown.

Mrs. Peter Slader, camp director, expects about 125 persons to attend.

Herbert S. Gidley, 79, of 2347 W. Maple will be 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Oakview Cemetery, Royal Oak.

Mr. Gidley, a retired sales representative for Pontiac Varnish Co., Pontiac, died yesterday after a brief illness.

He was a life member of Lodge No. 464, F&AM; and a member of St. John's Episcopal Church, Royal Oak.

Surviving are his wife, Leora; a daughter, Miss Geraldine Gidley of Huntsville, Ala.; two sons, H. Stephen of Franklin and William C. of Birmingham; a sister and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Willie Horsfall

Service for Mrs. Willie (Eliza A.) Horsfall, 82, of 2447 Emerson, Bloomfield Township, will be 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at All Saints' Episcopal Church, Pontiac. Burial will follow in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkley.

Mrs. Horsfall died yesterday after a lengthy illness.

Her body is at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, Pontiac.

Surviving are a son, Cyril of Canada; a daughter, Mrs. Harry Harmer, with whom she made her home; 10 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren.

JERRY DE BARY

Deadly Snake Kills Curator

Reptile Bites Man at Salt Lake City Zoo

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — The city zoo's curator, Jerry de Bary, 37, died today after hours of agony from the bite of the deadly African puff adder snake.

De Bary was bitten Saturday night when he suffered a dizzy spell after opening the snake's cage to clean it. He threw up his arm to catch himself and the snake struck. De Bary died at 6:30 this morning.

The venom attacks the nervous system, causing muscle spasm and paralysis. De Bary's heart stopped temporarily several times. Breathing was nearly impossible at times. A resuscitator had to be used, and a tracheotomy had to be performed in order to assure an easy opening for air.

Puff adder snake serum was flown by Navy jet from the San Diego, Calif., zoo. More was ordered from Southern Rhodesia. The puff adder is a native of South Africa, and that's where the serum is made.

CALL FOR SERUM

Sister Mary Gerald, superior at Holy Cross Hospital where De Bary was treated, telephoned her sister, Peggy Forester, in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia, for more serum.

But De Bary, a native of Switzerland, died before it arrived.

As far as could be determined De Bary was the only person ever to be bitten by an African puff adder in the United States. Marlin Perkins, director of the St. Louis zoo, was bitten by a first cousin, the gaboon viper, 36 years ago, and survived.

Charles Shaw, curator of reptiles at the San Diego zoo, said the adder is one of the world's deadliest snakes and the most lethal snake in South Africa.

U.S. Blasts Recognition of Peking

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States denounced France's recognition of Red China today as "an unfortunate step."

Officials said they are deeply concerned about the possibility that the move will increase Red Chinese ability to make trouble for the Western powers, especially in Africa.

The United States tried for weeks to block the action which was finally ordered by French President Charles de Gaulle.

One result is to widen the split in the Atlantic alliance between France and the United States — a rift which became serious several years ago when France embarked on a nuclear weapons policy.

De Gaulle sent word to President Johnson last week by Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson that he felt France should no longer ignore the greatest and most powerful country in the Far East, particularly when one of the most important situations in the world today is the split between Red China and Russia.

In effect, de Gaulle argued that the U.S. effort to isolate Red China politically and commercially from the rest of the world and thereby cause the leaders in Peking to moderate their hostility toward the West was a bankrupt policy.

U.S. authorities, disagreeing with de Gaulle's arguments, say privately they fear that the effect of his action will be to "reward militancy."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk argued in Paris in December that the Western powers should condemn the aggressive communism of Red China and encourage the "peaceful coexistence" of Russia.

City Police Have Radar

panel, and a cord-attached "antenna," which looks much like an automobile spotlight, that is attached to window bracket.

Commercially known as the "Speedalyzer," and manufactured by the Stephenson Co. of Red Bank, N. J., the radar is effective up to 1,500 feet.

The swivel-mounted antenna, which is both the transmitter and receiver of the thin beams, is capable of clocking speeds of cars traveling toward or away from the radar car.

It can be adjusted through a view-finder to take in one, two or more lanes up to a total width of 90 feet.

The speed of the car being timed appears on a needle gauge on the dashboard instrument. The actual speed is shown; there is no computing.

JUST A WARNING

Patrolman Robert Brown, one of officers assigned to operate the unit, said motorists are accepting it "very well — particularly after learning they are getting away with just a warning."

Teen-agers who think they can beat the machine by putting pieces of tin foil on their cars can forget the idea, according to Brown.

S. Lyon Vetoes Plans for New High School

SOUTH LYON — Taxpayers in the South Lyon Community School District have done it again.

Saturday they reiterated their unwillingness to pay for a new high school. They did so by a larger margin than last June when a similar issue was defeated.

Tabulations Saturday showed 783 no votes and 541 yes. Eleven of the ballots were invalidated. The defeating vote last spring was 592-396.

Although divided on the issue, the board of education had asked for a $1,424,000 bond issue to finance construction of a new high school and addition to the present one.

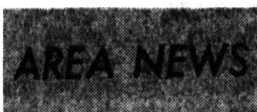

COST LESS

The 650-students high school in the plans would have cost

about $200,000 less than the 800-student building sought last spring.

"We'll have to wait and see where we'll go from here," Supt. Frank Bartlett said this morning. He noted that the board of education's regular meeting is scheduled for 7:45 tonight in the South Lyon Elementary School gymnasium.

Bartlett said the district's tax levy is now one of the lowest in the county. The 19.33 mills it collects include 15.33 for operation and four for debt retirement.

The board, divided through several months of work sessions put the bond issue question on the ballot by a 4-3 vote in December.

THE SUPPORTERS

Opposing it were Mrs. Rita Chenoweth, Alfred Ueker and President Wilford Heidt. Mrs. Chenoweth and Ueker were elected to the board last spring. Both campaigned against the bond issue then.

Although they have not been unanimous in determining methods of providing for the district's needs, board members generally have agreed on the size of enrollment increases they can expect.

Tonight they will take their first steps toward finding another solution.

Wayne State Sophomore Wins Rhubarb Queen Title

By PAT McCARTY
UTICA — Cheryl Cottrell exchanged her formal for an apron Sunday, but she did it with a smile.

The Shelby Township beauty was chosen 1964 Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Queen Saturday night.

During her reign she'll be baking at least one rhubarb pie for every personal appearance, so she didn't waste a minute this weekend.

Cheryl, 9, of 54014 Starlite, Shelby Township, also spent Sunday learning how hothouse rhubarb is grown and what it can be used for besides pies.

18 CONTESTANTS

She was picked from a field of 18 contestants in the competition at Utica High School Saturday night.

Barbara Walter, 17, of 65828 Wolcott, Ray Township, was chosen by the judges as first maid of honor. A senior at Armada High School, Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Walter.

The only blonde in the trio is Suzanne Toyryle, 18, of Warren, second maid of honor. Suzanne, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tenho Toyryle, is a freshman at Macomb County Community College.

The queen wore a strapless, floor-length gown of white chiffon over orchid net. She performed a Hawaiian hula during the talent portion of the program.

WAYNE STUDENT

Cheryl is 5 feet 4 inches tall, has blue eyes and brown hair. She is a sophomore at Wayne State University, majoring in physical education. Folio Jewelers of Utica sponsored her entry in the contest.

The queen and her court will preside over the annual Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Festival Feb. 29. The activities will be held at the St. Lawrence Knights of Columbus Hall.

Also scheduled for the queen are a number of radio and television appearances and a visit with Gov. George Romney, who is in line to sample one of Cheryl's pies.

Both the contest and the festival are sponsored by the Michigan Hothouse Rhubarb Growers Association, the Utica Rotary Club and the Macomb County Cooperative Extension Service.

QUEEN JUDGING

The contestants Saturday night appeared in street clothes for the initial interview, then competed in a talent show. Final judging followed their appearance in formals.

Joy Willis, area radio personality, was emcee for the contest.

Judges included Col. Mervin S. Waters, director of supply at the U.S. Army Mobility Command and Garfield Williams, assistant personnel director for Chevrolet Engineering Division.

Others were T. R. Kirkum, manager of industrial relations at Ford Motor Company's Sterling Plant, and Mrs. Minerva Sweitzer, secretary to the plant manager at the Chrysler Corp. Missile Division.

Class Series Set on Mental Retardation

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Donald Place, Oakland County consultant for the mentally handicapped, will begin a series of classes for those interested in mental retardation Feb. 6 at Clifford H. Smart Junior High School.

The public, as well as parents of mentally retarded children, is invited to attend any of the sessions scheduled for 8-10 p.m. Thursdays. There is no fee.

Place has spent five years teaching normal, gifted and retarded children in a New York junior high school.

He took graduate courses in special education at Syracuse University in 1961 on a fellowship sponsored by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Among the topics to be discussed are education and training methods for retarded children, causes of mental retardation and psychological testing.

Donors can credit their contribution to themselves, their family or friends or to a specific blood bank for present or future use.

The contribution can also be used to replace blood already furnished to a patient.

Hours of the bloodmobile are from 2 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 8 p.m. Advance appointments are not required, but can be made by contacting Mrs. Homer Hight 97 Demmon, Oxford, or Mrs. Bernard Espland, 465 N. Shore. The church is located at 140 E. Flint.

Vote Slated for March in Rochester

ROCHESTER — Local residents will wait until March 9 before voting on candidates for the four Village Council vacancies.

Seven candidates filed nominating petitions before the noon deadline Saturday, thus eliminating necessity of a Feb. 17 primary election.

Two or more candidates must file for open posts before a primary election is required.

Incumbents seeking reelection are Councilmen John O'Donnell, Roy Rewold and John Lowes. Dr. John Terry, whose two-year term also expires, did not file petitions for the office.

SEEKING ELECTION

Vying with incumbents for the four seats will be Burdette Lewis, 410 Parkdale; Robert G. Cannon, 306 Terry; Frank Voll Jr., 302 Glendale; and David N. Parker, 436 Hill.

Each year, there are four vacancies on the council. The top three vote-getters receive two-year terms while the candidate in fourth place serves for one year.

Councilmen whose terms do not expire this year are President John Boeberitz, Dr. Kenneth VanNocker and James McCarthy.

New Policy Is Set for Avon Library

AVON TOWNSHIP — Patrons of the Avon Township Library should be on their guard next month for a number of policy changes.

Starting Feb. 1, books will be charged out for three weeks and there will be no renewals.

Adults who do not return the books on time will be charged 5 cents a day past the due date. Charge for children will be three cents.

Juvenile readers will be limited to four books at a time.

Families living outside Avon Township and Rochester School District can subscribe to the service for a $5 annual fee per family.

DONNA J. HUTCHINSON

The engagement of Donna Jean Hutchinson to Gerald L. Frick is announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hensley, 10140 M15, Independence Township. Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Earle G. Frick of 5135 Sashabaw, Independence Township. A June 27 wedding is planned.

Blaze Destroys Garage-Shed

Cause Undetermined in Fire Near Romeo

ROMEO — A fire of undetermined origin today destroyed a combination garage and storage shed behind the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Perry, a mile west of Romeo.

The Romeo Fire Department was called out to the blaze shortly after 7 a.m.

Assistant Chief John Foltz estimated the damage at about $5,000. He said flames consumed the building and all contents, leaving only portions of the four walls standing.

The Perrys have lived in the home, 8025 32 Mile at Camp Ground, for three or four months, Foltz said. The family had furnishings and tools in the garage.

NOT DETERMINED

Foltz said cause of the blaze was not determined yet, but pointed out that the family had built a fire in the garage's fireplace yesterday.

The damage was partially covered by insurance, according to Foltz.

With it she wore an heirloom lace mantilla and carried an ivory French rose-on-a-stem with three rosebuds.
