If Voters Reject Bond Issue, Says Doctor

City Hospital Will Lack Vital Facilities

"Just a shell," people would say. Long, vacant floors standing unused like empty barns where other scores of sick people might be on the way to sound health. Half the necessary facilities ready to help the community meet its rapidly growing hospital needs.

The other half—including the all-important item of lots more beds—missing.

Chief of Staff at Pontiac General Hospital.

TAKES SHAPE

It is the image that takes shape as Brown discusses the effect a "No" vote at Monday's special election would have on the hospital's new 200-bed wing.

Voters are being asked to pass a $1,550,000 bond issue and supporting tax to finish and equip the addition.

When Brown talks, he himself does not use graphic language. He sticks to facts.

WOULD STAND IDLE

"We would not be able to complete at least one and probably two of the six floors in the new addition," he said. "They would stand idle without the installation of room partitions.

"This means a very big cut in the number of new beds we planned—a serious cut considering that the present hospital is running at an average 110-120 per cent of capacity daily.

"Crowding in the present building, where we have 28 beds usually occupied in the halls, would not be reduced. The building was built only for 132 patients.

Fund Transfers for Courthouse Aired in Session

Surpluses Were Placed in Building Account, Witness Testifies

Oakland County transferred $1,341,500 to building funds last year, it was testified in Circuit Court today.

As plans for a new courthouse neared completion, the Board of Supervisors ordered two transfers of $612,277 and $378,853 from general funds to building funds, figures in an audit of the county's financial records showed.

Another $250,000 surplus in the direct welfare fund also went into the fund earmarked for the new building, it was testified by an accountant for the Oakland County Taxpayers' League.

The League has brought suit against the board, charging padded budgets and illegal transfer of surpluses to accumulate money for the proposed new courthouse in the county's service center.

The League also contests the board's right to build a new building on a site other than the present downtown location. It claims annexation of the proposed site from Waterford Township to Pontiac was improper.

The board's financing is being attacked on the basis that an annual 1 mill constitutional limitation on funds borrowed or taxed for building purposes has been violated.

The accountant, Marc J. Eshman, of Bloomfield Hills testified the welfare funds had been accumulated during the three-year period from 1953-1955.

Eshman made the statement from figures compiled in an audit of the county's finances, for the past 10 years aimed at disclosing allegedly illegal transactions.

The County's Chief Accountant, Edward R. Smith, who provided the audit figures, also testified.

He said the $612,677 had been earmarked for transfer at the end of 1955, as the year-end general fund unappropriated surplus for 1955 and 1954. The $378,853 was the unappropriated general fund surplus (Continued on Page 33, Col. 6)

Addressing the Nation

PRESIDENT DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

But Talk Fails to Halt Attacks by Lawmakers

Sen. Knowland Claims Spending Can Be Cut Without Danger

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told the American people last night any great spending reduction in the face of Soviet atomic might would amount to "a gamble with the safety of our country."

"There is no cut-rate price for security," he said in a nationwide television-radio address.

He said Russia is capable of "the supreme folly" of trying to destroy the free world if her rulers ever feel safe to do so, and military power is needed to dissuade them.

The President put his popularity to a test and his military prestige on the line in an effort to halt the congressional budget-cutting attack on his $71,800,000,000 spending program for the fiscal year starting July 1.

But the verbal attack continued in the wake of fresh Senate committee cuts.

The general attitude of the budget critics, some within Eisenhower's own party, was voiced by Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California. He said

Eisenhower had "ably outlined the magnitude of the budget problem" but "within the next few weeks Congress will constructively demonstrate how at least three billion dollars can be saved without any damage to the essential defense requirements of the nation."

There also was agreement with the President on the GOP side. Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) said he is "sure the American people, and the Congress, will support, as I do," Eisenhower's "determination not to gamble with the strength of our nation."

Among the Democrats, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas agreed "as to the need for maintaining a strong national defense."

But he added that if the administration managed to trim prebudget requests by 13 billion dollars, "a further review might disclose further economies (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Defense Cuts Dangerous, Says Ike at Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that if Congress trifles with defense spending the country is going to be in trouble.

Eisenhower made the statement at a news conference in commenting on reports that a House Appropriations subcommittee has decided tentatively to cut the Defense Department's request for new appropriations by 2½ billion dollars.

Eisenhower said he believes the department has taken the position that new defense appropriations could be cut about a half billion dollars.

But he went on to say that if the House subcommittee goes beyond that point and makes an additional honest cut of two billion dollars, he wants to see just how it is done.

Eisenhower said he has been around Washington a good many years. Then he added that if we are going to trifle with defense spending, we are going to be in trouble.

ALL OVER AGAIN

He said that if such cuts as reported are possible, he is going to have to be educated all over again.

Eisenhower, wearing a brown suit with a white shirt and brown figured tie, also discussed other matters:

POLITICS—Eisenhower said he believes he is growing more conservative so far as his political philosophy is concerned.

He made that remark with a smile when a newsman told him some Republicans believe he has been moving somewhat to the left.

Far from it, Eisenhower said. He went on to say he is absolutely against trifling with the nation's financial integrity, for example.

ISRAEL—Eisenhower said he sees no objection to Israel's sending a ship through the Suez Canal as a peaceful test.

DISARMAMENT—The whole matter of Russia's limited "open skies" disarmament proposal is still under earnest study, Eisenhower said.

LEE—Eisenhower joined heartily in a round of laughter touched off when a reporter brought up the tour of the Gettysburg battlefield last weekend by the President and British Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery.

After that tour Eisenhower and Montgomery agreed that Lee and Meade, respective commanders of the Southern and Northern forces at Gettysburg should have been "sacked."

British Queen to Attend Opening of Seaway?

BRANTFORD, Ont. (AP)—The royal yacht bearing Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip may be among the first vessels using the St. Lawrence Seaway when it is opened in 1958.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent told a political meeting last night that he knows the queen "will be very happy" to attend the opening. No date has yet been set for the seaway opening, although there have been reports it may take place in May or June 1959.

No Rooms? Your Vote Monday Can Provide Them

EVEN HALLS CROWDED—Not only have halls been turned into wards at Pontiac General Hospital, but these, too, are crowded. Scenes like these can be removed if a favorable vote on the hospital bond issue Monday provides for furnishing and equipping the hospital addition now being built. Without the additional funds needed the sick, young and old alike, will continue to crowd hospital corridors.

Beck Business Associate Subpoenaed by Senate

ELLENBURG, Wash. (INS)—Norman Gessert, business associate and relative of Teamster chief Dave Beck, was served today with a subpoena to testify before the U. S. Senate Rackets Committee.

He also was cited by Ellensburg, Wash., police for speeding and driving a car without an operator's license.

Gessert, a cousin of Beck's wife, first denied his identity and gave the name of Jack Stackpool, saying he was a rancher.

Police said he was alternately belligerent and pleasant when picked up for speeding but finally accepted service of the subpoena from U. S. Deputy Marshal James M. Clark.

Clark had located Gessert in an Ellensburg coffee shop Monday night and served him with a subpoena which, it developed, was outdated and therefore illegal.

DROPPED OUT OF SIGHT—Gessert, meantime, dropped out of sight but Clark located him again last night at an Ellensburg motel.

Gessert refused to come out of the motel room in response to telephone calls but finally fled to his car and drove through Ellensburg with Clark and Ellensburg Police Captain Warren Miller in pursuit.

They brought him down in the middle of town and took him to the police station.

In Chicago, the Executive Board of the Chicago Teamsters Joint Council 25 today studied a resolution calling for the immediate resignation of International Union President Dave Beck.

The resolution was submitted at the regular monthly meeting of the council yesterday by Peter Hoban, president of Chicago Milk Wagon Drivers Union Local 753.

The council which represents 42 unions and more than 15,000 members is the largest in the Teamsters organization.

Diem Asks Help From Industry

Viet Nam Chief Seeks 'Counsel' for Republic in Detroit Visit

DETROIT (AP)—Ngo Dinh Diem, president of the Republic of Viet Nam, asked industry leaders at a civic banquet here last night for "help and counsel" in raising the living standards of his country.

The anti-Communist president of the southeast Asia republic is in Detroit on a two-day visit as part of a state visit to this country at the invitation of President Eisenhower.

He is scheduled to tour the Ford Motor Co. plant in Dearborn today before leaving for East Lansing where he will accept an honorary doctor of laws degree from Michigan State University.

Diem is the first head of a foreign state to visit the MSU campus. Michigan State was selected for the visit because of the part teams of MSU researchers and professors played in advisory missions that helped set up the republic of Viet Nam.

Students were to be excused from classes to hear Diem speak at the afternoon convocation. Gov. G. Mennen Williams was scheduled to speak at the banquet in Diem's honor at night.

Williams proclaimed today "Ngo Dinh Diem Day" in Michigan in honor of the distinguished visitor.

The first tornado forecast said the threat would last from 4 to 10 p.m. It was lifted at 7:10 p.m. but at 10 p.m. another alert was issued and did not end until 2 this morning.

The forecast for tonight and tomorrow is mostly cloudy and cooler. The low temperature tonight will be around 46-50 degrees. Tomorrow's high will reach 56-60, and the low tomorrow night will be 40-44.

The lowest thermometer reading preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 63 degrees. The mercury rose to 70 at 1 p.m.

Schimmel, who is chairman of a joint interim committee of the Michigan Assn. of School Administrators and the Michigan Assn. of School Board Members, is currently working with legislative leaders to secure an additional state appropriation for this fiscal year.

The problem facing the lawmakers is where to get the necessary revenue. A beer and whisky tax and a cigarette tax are two possibilities being considered in Lansing.

House Debates Park Fee Bill

Proposed Admission to State Facilities Faces Stiff Dem Opposition

LANSING (AP)—A bill proposing an admission charge to Michigan's 59 state parks and recreation areas faced its most formidable hurdle today as it neared a final vote in the House.

Approved by a substantial margin in the Senate, the measure ran into stiff opposition in the House yesterday, mostly from Detroit area Democrats, who attacked it as "an unfair consumer's tax."

Under the bill, the State Conservation Department would charge motorists $2 for a sticker which would admit their car to all state parks for a year. One-day admission charges up to 50 cents also would be sold.

Conservation authorities say the plan would bring in between one and two million dollars a year for park upkeep and expansion.

Rep. Lucille McCollough (D-Dearborn) branded the bill as a Republican attempt "to squeeze the last dollar you can out of the people."

"IT'S A REAL MESS," she declared. "There's nothing sensible or businesslike about it."

Rep. Joseph Kowalsky (D-Detroit) joined in the opposition, contending motorists would be forced to line up for miles waiting to pay their admission fees.

"And since parks can be entered at several points, it would create a condition of lawlessness where people try to sneak in," he added.

Lawmaker Predicts It's Coming in 2069

Socialism Creeping Up?

WASHINGTON (INS)—Rep. Otto Kreuger (R-ND) has it figured out that the country will be completely socialistic by the year 2069. We'll all be working for the government.

In 1900, says Kreuger in a note to constituents, one of every 25 Americans workers was on a federal, state or local government payroll. By 1950, the ratio had jumped to one in every eight.

During the last 25 years alone, he said, the civilian labor force has grown at a rate of 1.3 per cent a year while total government employment has gone up 3.3 per cent a year. Simple projection of this rate, says Kreuger, means that in another 112 years, everyone will be on the government payroll.

Will Cost Pontiac District $160,000

State Aid to Schools to Fall Short

The final quarterly payment of state aid to local school districts will fall $28.5 million under the $190 a pupil promised under state law, it was revealed today.

The state will pay 26 cents on the dollar, which will cost Pontiac School District some $160,000.

Figures computed by the State Dept. of Public Instruction show the schools' share of last quarter sales tax revenue will be $10,054,515 as compared with the $38,494,401 in the 1956 legislative aid formula.

Louis Schimmel, president of the Pontiac Board of Education, however, says he believes the Legislature will approve a supplemental appropriation which will restore part of the lost school income with money taken from the general fund.

He based his belief on talks held Friday with key legislative leaders in Lansing.

Under a constitutional amendment, two-thirds of sales tax revenue is earmarked for the school districts.

The Legislature promised $190 a pupil for the current fiscal year based on a much higher sales tax income than materialized. It will actually pay $170.45 per pupil.

School authorities now say the Legislature has "a moral obligation" to provide the full $190, although there is no legal compulsion.

Police Suspect Girl Slain by Someone She Trusted

BRISTOL, Conn. (INS)—Bristol Police Chief Thomas V. McCarthy said today the slayer of Brenda Jane Doucette, 9, was almost certainly someone she knew and trusted.

"The child was too well trained, too intelligent, to enter the car of a stranger," he said.

A house-to-house canvass over a wide area is in progress, with the aid of 50 state police and bloodhounds, for the killer who kidnapped Brenda while she was on her way to school Monday.

She was strangled, her own green cardigan sweater knotted tightly about her throat. But she was not sexually molested. Her body, found in a clump of bushes off a lonely road, had 22 stab wounds.

Dr. Irving S. Platt, medical examiner, said: "The instrument was a sharp weapon. Death occurred at about 8:30 a.m. Monday."

Brenda left home at 8:10 a.m. Neighbors saw her about 10 minutes later, walking toward the Fall Mountain School, where she was a third-grade pupil.

An honor student, with A's in all her subjects, she was an attractive child with sparkling brown eyes and shoulder-length blonde hair. She was secretary of the 4-H club and a member of the Brownies.

Bloodhounds found her body at 7:50 p.m. Monday. Her clothing was intact.

It was believed she was killed in a car.

Missing are her white-gold wrist watch, a dollar intended to pay for milk at school, and her small lunch pail with a sandwich and cake.

BRENDA JANE DOUCETTE

Brenda's body was taken today to Brewer, Me., where the family lived until they came to Bristol two years ago. Funeral service will be held tomorrow.

Governor Approves Bill Seen as Financial Boon to Oakland County

Gov. Williams yesterday signed a drain code amendment seen as a financial boon to Oakland and other fast growing counties.

It allows counties of more than 150,000 to pledge their full faith and credit for repayment of drainage project bonds.

Current law limits the right solely to Wayne County.

"The law will give Oakland the same chance that Wayne has had for several years to get lower interest rates on money borrowed for drains," said Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, of Drayton Plains, a co-sponsor of the bill.

General obligation bonds are authorized not only for county projects, but also for projects between two or more counties.

This will benefit projected, large, inter-county drains—seen by some experts as the best answer to Oakland's problems, Lodge added.

The bill also authorizes local governing bodies to create special assessment districts for drainage projects. Under existing law, such districts could be created only if requested by affected property owners.

It would let the county build drains on the combined basis of public health and property improvement necessity, a provision that will help large projects, Lodge said.

Sales Spiel Was Super but Prospect Owned Car

LONG BEACH, Calif. (U)—Mrs. Bona Pfeiffer called to trade her car in on a later model. An over-eager salesman showed her several cars. None pleased her. As she was about to leave he said he had just remembered a 1949 auto that had been turned in and was parked on the street.

The salesman got a ring of keys, went to the curb and began to point out the good features of the car. But none of his keys would open the car door. He excused himself and went to the office.

Mrs. Pfeiffer unlocked the car, got in and drove away.

Why not? It was hers.

Know THE Weather

By E. H. SIMS
Where does the weather come from?

In the United States the layer of gas, which is our weather, generally moves west to east. On the west coast masses of moist Pacific air come from the southwest and northwest, and are warm and cool, respectively.

The clear, dry air of the non-coastal states in the Midwest generally comes from the southeast, over Mexico, and, likewise, the clear, cold dry air that invades the eastern half of the country moves down from Canada.

In addition, moist air masses from the Atlantic move into the east from both the southeast and northeast, being warm and cool, respectively. When these masses of air meet, they often create an occluded front and unpredictable, but often rainy, conditions.

Generally speaking, if you are east of a strong air mass, it will move over you and bring the weather prevailing under it, to the west. Fronts move at varying speeds, usually up to about 30 miles an hour. So, the weather you have tomorrow may be five hundred miles away today, in a westerly direction.

When reconducted, the new facility will help relieve crowded conditions at the institution, a fact that will be emphasized when Oakland County Children's Home opens its doors for open house from 1 to 5 p. m. Sunday.

Here Are the Highlights of Ike's Budget Speech

WASHINGTON (INS)—Following are the highlights of President Eisenhower's speech to the nation defending his budget demands on Congress:

"The budget now under discussion represents carefully studied estimates of the cost of all the things the government is required by law to do or by what we believe necessary."

"No great reductions in it are possible unless Congress eliminates or curtails existing federal programs, or all of us demand less service from the government, or unless we are willing to gamble with the safety of our country."

"There is no cut-rate price for security."

CALLS FOR COOPERATION

"While we shall insist on carrying out the federal government's proper role in meeting the needs of our growing economy and population, we shall not start any program that we do not believe necessary."

"In all of this, we need the cooperation of the Congress and we need the help and understanding of every one of you."

'DEFENSE IS NOT CHEAP'

"Without counting the Chinese Communists, the Soviets have the world's largest army. They have many times the number of submarines that Germany had when World War II began."

"They have atomic weapons and rockets and missiles. They have a large and growing air strength. They are competent in military technology and research."

"And all of this is directed by a despotism which is fully capable of unleashing these powerful forces if it should ever believe that it could—without destroying itself—succeed in destroying the Free World."

"I earnestly believe that this defense budget represents in today's world the proper dividing line between national danger on the one hand and excessive expenditures on the other."

"If it is materially cut, I believe the country would be taking a fearful gamble. For myself, I have seen unwise military cuts before. I have seen their terrible consequences. I am determined to do all I can to see that we do not follow that foolhardy road again."

Widow Takes Body of Racer Back to Spain

MILAN, Italy (U)—Marquis Alfonso de Portago's American widow flew with his broken body to Madrid today. A few hours later film actress Linda Christian, the Spanish sportswoman's most recent girl friend, left Milan.

There were reports the actress also was en route to Madrid for De Portago's burial, but this could not be confirmed immediately.

Miss Christian, De Portago's frequent companion in the past year, did not attend funeral services for him yesterday in the little Italian village of Vighizolo because the widow was there. But the actress indicated she would go to Madrid, saying "his mother had given her permission to attend the service there."

De Portago, 28-year-old playboy racing driver, was killed Sunday when a blowout sent his speedy Ferrari hurtling off the road during the Mille Miglia, Italy's famed 1,000-mile road race. His American co-driver, Eddy Nelson of Beloit, Wis., and 10 spectators also died in the accident.

De Portago's widow, the former Carol McDaniel of Greenville, S.C., arrived yesterday for the service in Vighizolo, near the accident scene.

Holly Mother Gets Probation

Admitted Leaving Baby in Wastepaper Basket at Air Terminal

A 19-year-old Holly mother, accused of throwing her newborn son in a Willow Run Airport wastepaper basket Jan. 9, was placed on five years probation, ordered to continue psychiatric treatment, fined $100 and assessed $100 costs when she was sentenced yesterday by Washtenaw County Circuit Court Judge James R. Breakey Jr.

Mrs. Patricia Terryah of 5350 Groveland Rd., mother of another 2½-year-old son, admitted she gave birth to the baby unaided in the women's restroom of the airport, but left it there after she thought it was dead. The 4-pound, 10-ounce baby survived and now is in the custody of the mother.

The abandonment charge was dropped by prosecutor Edmond F. Devine against her husband, Glenn R. Terryah, 23, who said he was unaware his wife had given birth to a son and left the baby in the washroom.

The woman had pleaded no contest May 2 in circuit court on advice from her lawyer and was freed on bond pending sentencing yesterday.

Ike Terms Budget Vital to Security that can be made" in the defense and other fields.

House Speaker Rayburn of Texas said he doubts that "the President's speech was helpful to his budget."

Eisenhower hammered hard and at length at what he called "the plain truth" that the price of peace is high.

SET FOR SECURITY

Asserting that more than 45 billion dollars in the budget are earmarked for security programs, he said of the nearly 72-billion-dollar total:

"No great reductions in it are possible unless Congress eliminates or curtails existing federal programs, or all of us demand less service from the government, or unless we are willing to gamble with the security of our country."

Presaging a bit under the hot floodlights set up in his White House office, Eisenhower alluded to his military background and said:

"For myself, I have seen unwise military cuts before. I have seen their terrible consequences. I am determined to do all I can to see that we do not follow that foolhardy road again."

The Senate, now apparently in a contest with the House over which can save the most money, takes up for action a money bill carrying $102,564,500 less than the President recommended, and $714,500 under the figure voted by the House.

The money is to finance the State and Justice Departments and the federal judiciary for the fiscal year starting July 1.

FUNDS CHOPPED

The Senate Appropriations Committee cleared the measure for floor action yesterday after chopping an additional $15,900,000 from funds voted by the House for the U.S. Information Agency. It recommended that the Agency be returned to the State Department.

The overall bill would provide $563,085,293, as compared with the $563,799,793 voted by the House. It is rare for the Senate to vote less money than the House.

Negro Woman to Head Teachers Association

PHILADELPHIA (U)—A Negro woman who has taught in the public school system for nearly 35 years today becomes the president of the Philadelphia Teachers Assn., the first of her race to hold the office.

She is Mrs. Edna Westberry Griffin, a sixth grade teacher who holds degrees from the University of Pennsylvania and Columbia.

She was chosen through balloting at the city's 243 public schools. Two other candidates ran against her.

Woman Dean to Retire

YPSILANTI (U)—Mrs. Lucy A. Elliott will retire Aug. 31 as dean of Women's residence halls at Eastern Michigan College.

The Day in Birmingham

6 Candidates Have Filed to Fill 1 Board Vacancy

BIRMINGHAM — For the first time in a number of years, Birmingham Board of Education voters will have a wide choice of candidates. Only one vacancy is on the ballot, that caused by the decision of Ernest C. Seaholm to leave board activities after 18 years of service. Six candidates have filed.

They are: Harry T. O'Connor, 1515 Lyndhurst Rd.; Bennett Root, 1741 Bradford Rd.; Paul Sahlin, 120 Westchester Way; Donald E. Borgeson, 181915 Birchwood Rd.; George J. Fulkerson, 3011 Middleberry Lane; and Malcolm Lovell Jr., 2748 Amberty Rd.

In Bloomfield Hills, two incumbents, Merrill O. Bates and Douglas Jocelyn have filed for the June 10 election.

Harry L. Woolfenden has been named to fill the unexpired term caused by the death of Charlton G. Eden as a member of the Bloomfield Hills City Commission. Mr. Eden died before assuming office.

Robert Stadler has been named acting safety director to succeed Police Chief Stanley Kevera whose retirement begins today.

Commissioners announced that no permanent decision had been made on Kevera's successor pending a more thorough study of the proposed merger of police and fire departments.

They also announced a tentative acceptance of a $244,686 operational budget. A public hearing has been slated for May 28.

Members of the Board of Education, Recreation Board and City Commission will meet at 6:45 p.m. tomorrow in the high school cafeteria for a dinner meeting. Subjects related to all three departments will be discussed to further develop a broader co-operative program.

JOHN THOMAS BAKER
Private services were held at noon today for John Thomas Baker, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester L. Baker of 171 S. Williamsbury Rd. Burial followed in Lynngrove Cemetery, Greeley, Colorado. He died Monday at William Beaumont Hospital.

The Birmingham High School sophomore was a member of the varsity club and manager of the reserve football and varsity basketball teams. He also was a member of St. James Episcopal Church.

Besides his parents he is survived by a sister Moyne Nann at home, his paternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Baker and his maternal grandmother Mrs. Nellie K. Woodcock, all of Greeley.

Detroit Boy Admits Killing Stepfather

DETROIT (U)—A 18-year-old boy told police he shot and killed his stepfather last night as the man scuffled with his wife.

Detective Sgt. John Morin said Lawrence Negray told him he shot Steven Negray, 42, in the front hall of their home in Detroit.

Morin quoted the boy as saying he had taken a double-barreled shotgun from a first floor closet to hide it from his stepfather. He was mounting the stairs when he saw the scuffle and fired once, Morin said.

Mrs. Negray said she and her second husband were married 12 years ago and had quarreled constantly during their married life.

But Feels He Can Engage in Banquet Diplomacy

VIENNA (U)—Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., new U.S. Ambassador to Moscow, says he thinks he can brush up his Russian enough to engage Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev in some free-wheeling diplomacy over the Kremlin banquet tables.

But how about two-fisted drinking with Khrushchev?

"Well," said Thompson, "I have no cast-iron stomach so I'll take it a little easy."

Thompson has been in Vienna since September 1952, first as high commissioner and then ambassador. A slim, 53-year-old career diplomat, he was nominated to succeed Charles E. Bohlen in Moscow largely because of his previous service in Russia and for his work with the Russians here.

Thompson received the State Department's Medal of Freedom for handling the Moscow office of the U. S. Embassy when the diplomatic corps evacuated the capital and moved to Kuibyshev as the German armies approached in 1941.

He learned to speak and read Russian then, but says "it's a bit rusty now and I've got to pick it up."

Thompson expects to arrive in Moscow by the end of June. He must return to Washington first for consultations.

this would give us room for 354 beds.

"Actually, with 354 beds we still would be behind the community's needs, because the addition will be planned to meet current demands, not future ones."

Brown continued about the standard of medical service.

HOPE TO IMPROVE

"We hope to improve service through purchase of more modern equipment and increasing the space available to such departments as surgery, X-ray, obstetrics, and particularly out-patient and emergency service."

"More space would be available, even if the addition is not completed. But the space still would be less than it could be."

"As for the equipment, what we want is up-to-date replacements of our basic requirements—no frills. Without the money, we wouldn't be able to buy new equipment, although what we have on hand is inadequate and in many cases antiquated."

Because the hospital must make sure it can provide additional services before admitting an increased number of patients, an odd situation would develop if the bond issue were turned down.

"We still would have increased dietary, laundry and power plant facilities in the addition. But would not have the money to finish the wing so that additional patients could enjoy them," Brown explained.

Brown answered the question of how the hospital would manage without the completed addition in times of sudden disaster.

"If there were a large plant explosion, or a tornado," he began, "the facilities would be completely inadequate."

Then suddenly dropping his matter-of-factly account, the doctor added anxiously, "It would be absolute havoc."

All-Night Prayers Ask Blessing on Graham

NEW YORK (INS)—New York area residents "by the two and by the hundreds" prayed through a misty gray dawn today for the Billy Graham crusade.

They filtered in and out of 10 major churches designed throughout the city and surrounding area for all-night prayer meetings.

At Manhattan's Calvary Baptist Church—known as the "cathedral of Evangelism"—a young lady spoke out as the meeting drew to a 5 a.m. (Pontiac time) close.

"We pray," she said fervently, "with all our hearts, our minds, our souls, our bodies, that this crusade will make a revival that will sweep all over the world."

A young man stood up and said:

"Bless Billy Graham again, heavenly Father, and anoint him with Thy heavenly spirit."

Some of the 50 men and women apparently had been there all night.

OLD HEAD NODS

One thin, elderly, bonneted woman kept catching herself as her head nodded again and again in sleep.

Graham, meanwhile, planned to spend the day in quiet and seclusion in preparation for the big opening tonight at Madison Square Garden, capacity 20,000. An overflow crowd was expected.

Crusade headquarters reported the reserved section, some 9,000 seats, had been taken for at least the whole first week. The remaining seats will be taken on a no-charge, first-come, first-served basis.

SENSED 'MOVING SPIRIT'

Graham said last night he sensed a "moving of the spirit of God," a spiritual revival in New York, "Capital of the world."

The 39-year-old preacher from the hills of Carolina spoke briefly to some 6,000 workers, ushers, chorus members and trained counselors who attended a dedication service at the Garden.

Then Graham stopped briefly at Calvary Baptist Church to join in prayers for the success of the $1,000,000 six-week campaign, which will include nationwide Saturday television and nightly radio broadcasts.

Pastor John S. Wimbish of Calvary Baptist said up to 500 persons were in the church in mid-town Manhattan, about seven blocks from the Garden, when Graham appeared and spoke a few words.

A big cloudburst, which, in the words of one worshiper, "washed New York clean," cut down attendance, but never less than 50 people prayed at the church.

Similar all night prayers were being offered in churches in the Bronx, Brooklyn, Staten Island, Queens, Westchester, Nassau, New York, N. J., Paterson, N. J., and Stamford, Conn.

Graham and members of his "platform team" visited the churches during the night, some speaking a few words and some leading in song.

Graham emphasized that not he, but only God, could bring the prayed-for spiritual revival and success of the crusade.

"Without the hand of God," he said, "my lips would turn to clay."

A middle-aged woman, her son, an elderly bald man with a flowing gray beard and a young boy were offering prayers, one after the other, as the all-night prayer meeting drew to a close at Calvary Baptist.

Outside a gray, dull dawn, crept over quiet New York. There was little traffic on usually busy 57th street, and shirt-sleeved doormen worked with hoses and brooms to clear the sidewalks before their doors.

Monkey Finally Nabbed After Two Months

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—They finally caught Mike the monkey yesterday after he had been annoying North Philadelphia residents for two months.

Man Does Long Stretch to Make Police Force

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—William B. McClaran had to do a long stretch before he was accepted on the police force.

The 21-year-old candidate led 20 applicants in the written tests but was rejected because he was a quarter-inch under the 5-foot-10 minimum height.

He said he exercised at a health clinic to stretch his vertebrae, had his sister and brother-in-law stretch him on a homemade rack and hung from an overhead pipe with weight tied to his waist.

He made the minimum height after two days of exercising.

Brandon Defeats Issue 2nd Time

Operational Tax Turned Down

District Entirely Void of Funds for Operation, Says Superintendent

ORTONVILLE — For the second time this year, the voters of Brandon Township School district have defeated the tax of an additional six mills. The added tax had been recommended by the Brandon Board of Education as necessary to carry on the current program.

The issue was defeated by a vote of 279 to 146, yesterday.

The six mill tax, if passed, would have been in effect for one year, and according to Supt. E. J. Hungerford, was needed to buy furniture, equipment and operational expenses for the $487,582.74 high school now under construction.

"Had it passed," he said, "the tax would enable the district to receive approximately $24,000 in aid for distressed state school districts next year."

"Now," said Hungerford, "the district aid will be approximately $9,000." He added, "the amount is questionable and depends on whether the district gets full amount."

As Brandon has a 15 mill limitation, the state aid is divided between the county, township and district, with the school receiving the greater portion.

The additional tax would have raised the millage here to $26.85 per $1,000 of state equalization valuation, using 13.85 mills for operating and 13 mills for debt retirement.

Supt. Hungerford said today "There are no funds available at the present time for operational expenses and plans will have to be made as to the future program."

Commission Steps Up Hearing

Battle Proposed Zoning

ROYAL OAK — The proposed new zoning law here is meeting with stiff opposition in some quarters. The May 6 ordinance passed by City Commission bans all construction under the old zoning law.

While permits are being sought for at least 26 apartments in areas where the planners have recommended zone change from multiple to single, the hearing on the new law has been stepped up from June 6 to May 29.

Building permits to build multiple dwellings on three lots sought by Gerald G. Bailey, Royal Oak real estate agent and Robert J. Chapman of Detroit were turned down by Royal Oak's inspection department last Friday.

Their attorney, Stanton G. Dondero, in letters to the city commission said the ordinance is in violation of the civil rights of his clients and said that the city commission and department heads will be held personally liable for damages if there is any interference in construction.

Dondero said this morning that he had advised his clients to proceed to build without a permit. Construction was started this morning, he said.

The no-building ban was imposed to stop builders from taking out permits, principally for multiple dwellings to beat the passage of the new ordinance.

Principal disputes are the outcome of the planners recommendation centered around zoning for multiple use. Under the old zoning law about 15 per cent of the land area of Royal Oak was in multiple category. The new proposal would reduce the total amount of land in the multiple category to between 3 and 5 per cent, which is about average for cities, consultant Dr. Charles W. Barr said.

City's Projects Run Into Snags

Residents Get 2 Weeks to Submit Protests on Special Assessment

The city's 1957 public improvement program ran into some snags last night.

Residents involved in two special assessment projects raised objections and were given two weeks to submit petitions of protest.

A protest petition on a third project was overruled and the go-ahead signal given for construction.

City Manager Walter K. Williams pointed out the protests all were registered after the projects had been approved without objection at public hearings.

PAY ATTENTION

"Residents of the city should pay attention to when hearings are scheduled. They are the proper time to object to proposed projects," he commented.

Two-week delays were obtained in street improvement projects on East College avenue from Baldwin avenue to University avenue and on Lookout drive from East boulevard to Astor street.

Public hearings on special assessment rolls for the two projects were heard last night.

TO GO AHEAD

The city decided to go ahead with a sidewalk on South Sanford street between Osmon street and Auburn avenue.

Although a protest petition had been signed by 60 per cent of the home owners, commissioners pointed out public hearings had been concluded and the work was included in contracts already let.

Progress was made on seven other projects and three special assessment hearings set for May 21.

The commission also approved a low bid of $143,541 for combined sewer construction on Kennett road and Ivy street.

Man Who Posed for Stone Statues Isn't Impressed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Helmut W. Andrews looked at the 42 stone statues of himself and commented: "They look pretty crummy to me."

The helmeted warriors with big shields, executed by sculptor Louis St. Gaudens, stand guard over the main waiting room at Washington's railroad station.

"I posed for those statues 47 years ago when I was a freshman at Pomona College in Claremont, Calif.," the San Diego businessman said. Yesterday was the first time he had seen the finished products.

"It was interesting looking at them," he said, "but I don't care if I never see those statues again."

Mrs. Asakai Hep on Americanisms

Wife Will Coach Envoy

TOKYO (AP)—At last, Koichiro Asakai said with a smile, his wife is going to get a chance to correct his flawless English.

Asakai is leaving in a week to become Japan's ambassador in Washington. He speaks what he calls the Queen's English, having studied at Edinburgh University and served as Japanese minister to Britain. His wife Takako, went to college in the United States and speaks the American brand.

"I say shey-e-dule instead of skedule and tramcar instead of streetcar," Asakai continued during an interview. "My wife at last will have a right to correct my pronunciation."

Asakai, 51, is the first of Japan's younger crop of postwar diplomats to reach the highest level in the Foreign Ministry. He dealt with the U. S. occupation forces as a liaison officer during the occupation of Japan.

He was Japan's first postwar minister in London before this country regained its independence and served seven months as ambassador in Manila getting the coveted Washington post.

Asakai has made only two brief visits to the United States, both since the war.

"I'm a sportsman, and not on the brainy side," Asakai said. "I was a rowing champion in school and fairly good in tennis—No. 1 at the Manila Embassy. Fairly good in swimming and a good bridge player—well in medium."

Asakai shoots golf in the 90s. He hopes to play at the Burning Tree Country Club in Maryland, where President Eisenhower golfs.

Mrs. Asakai attended Trinity College in Washington from 1930-33 and is looking forward to seeing her college friends and teachers.

Mrs. Asakai, who prefers kimono to Western dress, and their three teen-age children are Roman Catholics. Asakai is a Buddhist.

The ambassador is regarded as one of Japan's top economic experts. He said he will try to impress on Washington officials that Japan needs trade much more than aid from the United States.

Building Has Fire Drill Just Like Real Thing

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The bi-monthly fire drill at the Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Co. building was one mass of confusion when it was mistaken for the real thing.

Every two months the building has a drill. A dispatcher for a private fire and burglar alarm system alerts each floor and its occupants file out.

But this time a new dispatcher was on hand. He got his signals crossed and turned in an alarm. Six engine and two ladder companies came.

Hurricane Jackson Probable Opponent

Patterson to Defend Crown

Paddy DeMarco and Allie Stoltz have teamed up and are preparing a night club act . . . Cubs' Bob Scheffing believes in getting the wolves off his back early. His ultimatum: "Expect no miracles from me!" . . . Mike Roscoe of WKRT, Cortland, N.Y., reports amputee Bob Murray is rated one of the better golfers of the area . . . The booklet, "Baseball Made Plain," can be secured by writing Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick's office in Radio City and enclosing a dime to cover handling and mailing costs . . .

Bone chips were taken out of Cisco Andrade's elbow . . . Manager Mike Scanlan bought a home in San Francisco and moved his stable, headlined by Joey Giambra, out to the Golden Gate . . . Tony DiBiase taking geology at NYU . . .

The accusation the Braves are playboys is still a sore spot with the players, not because they took it seriously but because so many other persons did. All along the exhibition trail Fred Haney had to discipline himself and not flip when pestered with the old question about his night-lifers . . . "I don't have any," he says, "but if I had I'd handle them the way any other manager does. I'd make night life too expensive for them. I'd take their money until it hurt."

Red Auerbach, one of the most colorful of NBA coaches, has only a verbal contract with the Celtics. It calls for $15,000 plus bonuses. Bossman Walter Brown snaps: "I'm tired of this business of the players getting all the credit for the victories and the coach all the blame for the losses."

NEW YORK (U—) Floyd Patterson—he's the heavyweight champion in case the name sounds unfamiliar—finally is being taken off the shelf and will defend his title.

The details won't be known until later today because Cus D'Amato, his manager, is a mysterious fellow except when he is blasting the International Boxing Club. In fact, the only thing certain is that the IBC won't promote the bout.

The opponent? Probably Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson. If it isn't Jackson, the collective eyebrows of the boxing crowd will be raised, mostly because there is no one else around who appears ready to tackle the champion.

Jackson has been pledged to the IBC, but it is believed that he'll fight Patterson for the right price. Besides, with the IBC in trouble with the government on monopoly charges, Jackson may figure this is a good opportunity to get out.

A television network—CBS-TV is reported to be offering $200,000 for the fight. CBS-TV executives confirmed that they had been approached by representatives for D'Amato, but that negotiations still be incomplete.

"But," said one high IBC executive, "who would they want on TV except Patterson-Jackson? It's the only match they could sell."

Best guess is that the match would be held in the Yankee Stadium here sometime in July. The ball park is available for three weeks starting July 7, and D'Amato has been eager to show his shelved champion in New York.

With the IBC out of the picture, Emil Lence, who handled many of Patterson's early fights at Eastern Parkway Arena when the ex-Olympian was climbing the ladder, probably would be installed as promoter.

D'Amato has been feuding with the IBC for a long time, claiming that he hasn't been offered the proper terms for his champion and other fighters in his stable were not getting enough work. On numerous occasions, he has threatened to take his business to other promoters but each time the IBC merely has sat back and waited. All the deals fell through.

The result has been that Patterson, who won the title when he knocked out the aging Archie Moore in the fifth round last Nov. 30, has had to sit and watch the verbal manipulations instead of fighting.

Now it looks as though D'Amato is going to make good his threat.

Rain Halts Softball Play; City Loop Setup Complete

Wet grounds forced postponement of Tuesday night's four-game City League softball program at Beaudette and North Side parks.

Two of the delayed games have been re-scheduled for Sunday at North Side. State Hospital will play Pontiac Police at 7 p.m. and Oxbow Pavilion will face Louie's Tavern at 8:30.

The other two postponed tilts—Pontiac Select-a-Drink vs. UAW-CIO Local 653 and Deni's Corner vs. Dostal Foundry—have not been rescheduled. They may be arranged for Sunday night at Beaudette by managerial agreement.

A heavy registration of men's teams this season, has made the formation of three leagues necessary.

Shaw's Jewelers, Birmingham, Elks No. 810, Stadium Inn and Louie's, Oxbow and PSAD. In the International circuit are Franklin Products, Lane's Drive-In, Deni's, Dostal, Police and State Hospital.

The National division is comprised of Richard's Tavern, Eddie's Bar, Drive-In Cleaners, CTO, Bismar Inn make up the American League.

Only four teams are entered in the women's league—Commerce Theater, North Side Auto Sales, GMC and Gingelville. Women's action begins May 21.

Shaw's meets Stadium at 7 o'clock and the Elks play Bismar at 8:30 in tonight's games at Beaudette. Franklin tackles Lane's at 7 and Richard's faces Drive-In Cleaners at 8:30 tonight on North Side diamond.
