Rocky on Rocks in His Back Yard --Kraft Survey

(This is another in a series of special "Item of the People" reports based on nationwide polls which will appear in the Pontiac Press right up to election eve.)

By JOHN KRAFT

It is almost a foregone conclusion that Richard Nixon will be chosen by the Republican convention to head the party ticket this fall in the contest with Kennedy and Johnson.

In making their choice this week, Republican delegates will undoubtedly be casting a wary eye on what Kraft and other recent state-wide and national surveys show: the odds favor the Kennedy ticket by the slimmest of margins. For the Republicans it will be a hard uphill campaign.

More than one delegate may wonder in the months to come whether it might have been wise to heed the criticism and advice offered by New York's Gov. Rockefeller. They will wonder whether the governor might have been a stronger candidate than the vice president.

The most interesting answer to this question came from Kraft interviewers in Nelson Rockefeller's own backyard, the industrial states of the East—Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, and Rockefeller's own state of New York—where over 6 out of 10 voters had favored Ike in 1956.

Throughout this region definite signs of a loss of strength for the Republicans emerged in remarks like this one from a tool grinder in Albany:

"Never again. I voted for Rockefeller once — that was enough. The man doesn't know the first thing about running a state — let alone a country. We need somebody in there who is not already tied to a lot of mistakes.

"That's why I'm not sure of Nixon either. I've always voted for the Republicans before, but this might be the time to wipe the slate clean."

'NIXON ONLY AN AIDE'

And like this one in Johnstown, Pa., where we interrupted a mother, busy hanging out her weekly wash:

"Yes, I'll answer your question. No, I won't vote the way I did last time. Why? Because Ike hasn't gotten us anywhere in eight years and Nixon is only his assistant. I want a change."

| Would Vote for: | Industrial States Choice: |
|---|---|
| Nixon | 40% |
| Kennedy | 51% |
| Not sure | 9% |

If all the undecided voters eventually made up their minds to vote Republican, it appears that Nixon still would be edged out by the Democratic nominee.

Would Rockefeller do better in this section of the country which knows him better than the rest of the nation?

A hoisting engineer in Connecticut said:

"It doesn't affect me personally, but you can't help noticing that as soon as Rockefeller landed the job he helped the oil men. He is an oil man himself. He's too egotistical and ignorant. Why doesn't he tax his own oil instead of the poor man's tobacco?"

DEM IN DISGUISE?

In New York a moving man eager to be counted was more outspoken:

"He's a traitor to his party. He isn't running the state

Nixon, Rocky Agree on Platform

Compromise Appears to Assure Unity of GOP

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon today appeared to have cleared the tracks for a united Republican effort in November with a compromise agreement with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on basic platform issues.

In an eight-hour New York meeting which he took the initiative in arranging, Nixon and the New York governor agreed on what the latter called "specific and basic positions on foreign policy and national defense."

"These constitute the basic positions for which I have been fighting," Rockefeller said in a statement. "If they are embodied in the Republican platform as adopted by the convention they will constitute a platform that I can support with pride and vigor."

There wasn't the shadow of a doubt in the minds of Republicans working on the platform that when it is presented to next week's convention it will represent the composite views of Nixon and Rockefeller.

Because of this, Rockefeller's statement was hailed as cheering news in the Nixon camp. It went a long way toward assuring Nixon's associates they will have the enthusiastic support of Rockefeller in crucial efforts to carry New York State in November.

CAN WITHDRAW

Beyond that the groundwork seemed to have been laid for Rockefeller to withdraw gracefully from any contest for the presidential nomination Nixon appears certain to win from the convention next week.

Rockefeller has said previously he is available for a draft that he doesn't expect to materialize. He based the possibility that his name might go before the convention largely on the grounds that he wanted to influence the platform declarations.

This object having been accomplished, some Republicans felt Rockefeller, who returns here today, might now give Nixon a clear field for the top nomination.

Rockefeller made no mention of the possibility he might now be willing to second Nixon's nomination for the presidency. Nor did the New York governor say in so many words that he is endorsing the vice president's candidacy.

Rockefeller said that in the dramatic meeting he had reiterated his stand that he will not accept second place on the ticket. He said Nixon agreed to respect this decision.

While this seemed to indicate

Absolutely No, Says Rocky Again

From Our News Wires

CHICAGO — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller firmly ruled himself out today as a possible running mate for Vice President Richard M. Nixon as he reached agreement with Nixon on a new GOP platform.

Sources close to Rockefeller said Nixon personally asked the governor to be his running mate but that "the governor reiterated that under no circumstances would he accept the vice presidential nomination."

Rockefeller arrived at Midway Airport from New York at 12:27 p.m. today.

A top New York Republican leader today said it is now a "logical assumption" that Rockefeller's name will not be put in nomination for the presidency at the GOP National Convention.

State Senate Republican Leader Walter J. Mahoney of Buffalo added, however, the final decision would be Rockefeller's.

Republicans here braced themselves today for the return of Rockefeller, now a fast-moving storm in what they had expected to be calm seas of the Republican National Convention.

Rockefeller came here after an eight-hour New York meeting with Nixon that seemed to break up the log jam that kept Rockefeller technically in the running for the GOP nomination.

With the nomination of Nixon as GOP presidential candidate a foregone conclusion, Rockefeller provided about the only political excitement.

His fight for a major voice in party policy, his continuing refusal to accept the vice presidential nomination and "Draft Rockefeller" activity have kept things churning.

The dramatic, eight-hour meeting in which Nixon traveled from Washington to New York City to discuss the party platform with Rockefeller was the highlight of the many ways in which Rockefeller has been a dominant voice in the GOP national meeting.

Yet it apparently removed him from all consideration as a presidential rival.

Overwhelming Proof Expected From Lodge

Ambassador to Claim RB47 Flight Was Not Over Russian Waters

From Our News Wires

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. —Western observers speculated today that U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge would offer sensational evidence to prove that an American reconnaissance plane downed by Soviet aircraft July 1 was not over Russian territory.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov called on the United Nations Security Council yesterday to condemn the United States for "aggression" in sending the RB47 on its ill-fated flight over the Barents Sea.

But Lodge said Kuznetsov's statement that the plane was downed over Soviet territorial waters was an "unconvincing but sinister fabrication."

He told six grieving wives of the plane's crew members, who were seated in the Security Council public gallery, that the Russians "won't get away with it."

NONE WOULD DISCUSS

Neither Lodge nor anybody close to him would even discuss what the proof of the plane's position would be.

Some sources indicated he would offer evidence perhaps as sensational as his unveiling of the "bugged" U.S. Great Seal from the American Embassy in Moscow which he produced during Council debate on the U2 spy flight case in May.

Lodge told the council:

"The truth is that at the time that the Soviet Union claims that our plane was brought down in Soviet waters, it was actually 50 miles off the Soviet coast.

"It was still in the air 20 minutes later on the high seas, 200 miles from the point alleged by the Soviet Union, and flying in a northeasterly direction.

"At no time during this flight was it closer than 30 miles to the Soviet coast. That is one truth.

"The further truth is that it became the victim of an action by

Storm Rips Through County

Blinding rains and powerful winds smashed through lower Michigan last night, damaging buildings and tossing airplanes about like tenpins.

Oakland County police departments received numerous reports of uprooted trees and downed utility wires.

At the Detroit City Airport, winds were clocked as high as 104 m.p.h.

Heaviest hit in the Pontiac area was the Crescent Hills subdivision in Waterford Township.

Pontiac state police reported high tension wires and trees down in the area.

Trooper Joseph Kendzierski, 2024 Crescent Lake Rd., reported roof shingles torn off his home by the powerful winds.

Several trees were reported felled by the storms in Pontiac.

ROAD LITTERED

A power line in Lake Orion was down.

Romeo state police reported heavy wind damage, with six trees and 12 power lines down on Hamlin road on a two-mile stretch between Dequindre and Rochester roads.

The sheriff's department reported a tree fell on a home on Ridge road, but it caused only minor damage.

Eight planes were wrecked at the Detroit City Airport.

Officials at the airport said four planes were destroyed and four others damaged heavily. They estimated damages at more than $25,000. All were small private aircraft. Three of the planes were blown over an airport fence and landed in crumpled heaps on the other side.

Read Five Election Pages

Michigan and Oakland County voters will go to the polls a week from Tuesday to select their parties' nominees for the Nov. 8 election for congressional, state and county offices.

In an effort to keep its readers well informed, The Pontiac Press next week will publish five full pages on the candidates and issues involved.

These special features will cover:

Oakland County's eight-man race for a new probate judgeship (nonpartisan).

The county's special courthouse milliage proposal.

Primary runoffs for the county's six seats in the State House of Representatives.

The race for six local county offices of prosecutor, sheriff, treasurer, clerk-register of deeds, drain commissioner and surveyor.

The statewide race for U. S. senator, lieutenant governor and governor.

The countywide race for Oakland's 12th District State Senate seat nominations and the county's 18th Congressional seat in Washington.

Two Shoot Man Kidnap Wife

May Have Been Seen; 13-State Alarm Issued for N. Y. Burglars

NORTH HAVEN, Conn., (UPI) — State Police reported today they captured two Long Island kidnapers with their victim after a chase.

GREAT NECK, N.Y. (UPI) — Police said today two Negroes—one with a "Hitler-type" moustache — shot a Long Island man last night and kidnaped his wife.

Authorities issued a 12-state alarm for the men and the missing woman.

The kidnap victim was identified as Mrs. Nancy Rothkrug, 23.

The red-haired woman was kidnaped after her husband Leonard, 32, surprised the two men while they were burglarizing the couple's home in an exclusive North Shore suburban section of Nassau County.

Rothkrug was shot in the face by one of the two kidnapers last night but was not found until 9:30 a.m. today.

The kidnapers fled with the woman in Rothkrug's car.

About 1 p.m. New York City police received a report they had been seen on a parkway in Westchester County.

Police said the car apparently was headed for the New York State Thruway which runs north into upstate New York.

All Westchester County police units were notified as were state thruway police and state troopers.

It'll Be Another Hot Sunday Afternoon

The Pontiac area is in for another hot day Sunday. It'll be cloudy and warm, with the high reaching about 85, the weatherman says.

Tonight will be mostly fair and cooler. The low will be near 64.

Monday will be warm and humid but Tuesday and Wednesday, a little cooler.

Morning westerly winds at six m. p. h. will become 8-15 northerly.

Sixty-eight was the lowest recording in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the temperature was 84.

Reuther Has 'Promised' Michigan to Kennedy

State Poses Dilemma for GOP Strategists

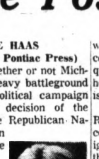
By JOE HAAS
(Special to The Pontiac Press)

CHICAGO—Whether or not Michigan will be a heavy battleground in the coming political campaign depends on the decision of the strategists in the Republican National Convention which opens here Monday.



HAAS

Advance party workers from our state are beginning to arrive at the Congress Hotel. They bring news that Walter Reuther had told Kennedy that he can deliver its electoral votes to him.

I happen to know personally, (I was there), that Reuther was one of the nation's big Democrats to get an audience with Kennedy the day after he was nominated. Their talk lasted longer than any other that I observed.

I also know that any report, published or otherwise, that Gov. Williams was angry with the Johnson nomination is pure bunk. He was one of the top Democrats to be consulted in advance by Kennedy, who explained the import of the combination to him, and he acquiesced wholeheartedly. To me he used the words, "perfectly satisfied."

In view of this situation, the Republicans are faced with two courses. They can surrender Michigan and devote to other states the energy they might expend here with a probability of no results.

Or they can go into the state's area that is not dominated by Reuther, and by an intensive campaign of getting out the votes, try to offset his predominance in the auto making cities.

They also are a little concerned about the Democrats' activity in connection with their primary fight on governor. Whoever wins it, in the general opinion is a stronger man than their Bagwell. However, he now seems to be profiting by the mistakes he made two years ago when, even then, he made Soapy run behind his ticket.

It must be acknowledged that Hare, who now appears to be the likely choice of the Democrats on Aug. 3, has in his capacity of secretary of state, through his auto license bureau and otherwise, been able to build up a clientele that will go all-out to make him top man at Lansing.

Both parties are out to break the stalemate that has existed at Lansing for 12 years. Both seek to make the executive and legislative departments one party, in order to relieve a situation that has been doing our state no good.

Pontiac May See Kennedy Sept. 5

Pontiac may get a first-hand look at Democratic Presidential nominee Jack Kennedy on Labor Day, Sept. 5.

The Massachusetts senator is scheduled to launch his campaign in Detroit that day and indications are that he will visit one other Michigan city during his one-day visit.

"We've invited him to Pontiac, Flint and Muskegon besides Detroit, but we don't know what his schedule will be," Gov. Williams said yesterday in a Lansing news conference.

Williams said negotiations also were under way for a campaign swing by Kennedy through the state later.

and brought it much bad publicity throughout the world.

Every resident of the great state would like to see this done, but both political parties want to do the job.

They've both been trying to do it for a decade or more. It's a draw, as it has been for several years. And all the rematches at the polls haven't helped any. Perhaps the one on Nov. 8 will follow in the same rut.

GLAMOROUS ENOUGH?

On a national level, the supreme question with the Republicans when they get down to business next week will be: "Has enough of this Ike glamour rubbed off on Dick to make him the best candidate?"

For, not withstanding what they said about him at Los Angeles, Ike is considered by the Republicans to be the world's leading citizen.

Also, the fact that he has stated that he will stump for the ticket, regardless of how it is made up, will be a clincher on its success. Then, in the words of the man on the street, it all depends on Ike, as it did in 1952 and 1956.

In their appeal for the woman vote, (and more women than men will cast their ballots on Nov. 8), the Republicans feel that they have the better argument.

It is the mothers who think the most heavily and seriously about sacrificing their sons in war. And they point to Ike's record, also the general war and peace record of his party.

In Oakland County, the situation in each party is vastly different. Our delegates come here united, in absolute harmony with their county chairman and entire county organization. They're positive the county will follow in the Republican column in November.

This should favor the Republicans. The Democrats even now are carrying their revolution into the August primary, evidently not having learned anything at the Los Angeles convention. Just who now is Democratic boss in the second largest county in the state in population—and votes?

The Democrats have had such lean picking in Oakland County ever since the days that they don't seem to realize when opportunity is offered them—but kick it away by quarreling among themselves. Maybe that is the Democratic way.

Anyway, it pleases a large

Five Killed Battling Timber Holocaust

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More than 200,000 acres of the West's most rugged land was ablaze today. Thousands of men battled the flames. Five died in the process.

Lightning, and in some cases man himself, was responsible for the fires that caused damage in the millions of dollars and cost more millions to fight. In California alone, the loss was some 10 million dollars.

A note of cautious optimism, tempered by a 50-50 chance for more lightning in the pivotal point where Oregon, Idaho and Washington meet, crept into official reports. Temperatures were in the 90s. The fire outbreak was described as the worst in 30 years.

The dead included two-man crews of two World War II bombers converted for borate-bombing runs over the fires and another pilot killed making a water drop over a British Columbia fire. One B26 crashed in eastern Oregon and the other in Southern California.

More than 68,000 acres of Angeles National Forest lay charred, but fires slowed from their swift pace of previous days. The worst remaining was the Bootlegger Canyon fire on the east flank of the Magic Mountain fire.

A 46,000-acre northern California brush fire was stopped shy of San Simeon Castle, former home of the late William Randolph Hearst and now a state park, but approached within 10 miles of Paso Robles, some 200 miles south of San Francisco. The flames were unchecked by battling crews.

Lightning swept through Montana, leaving 30 new fires behind. Lt. Gov. Paul Cannon alerted the Montana National Guard to stand by as 20,000 acres burned. The blazes were in rugged terrain near Helena and Lewistown.

Some 900 men held their fire lines on 10,000 acres of burning forest in western Idaho near Idaho City, but another 9,000 acres of Payette National Forest timber burned unchecked.

Some 23,000 acres in the Wallowa-Whitman National Forest in Oregon and Washington burned. Some 4,000 men fought some 200 blazes, many out of control and some even unmanned.

The biggest Oregon fire, the Anthony Lakes blaze southwest of La Grande, burned on 10,000 acres off 6,500-foot mountain land that drops off suddenly into deep canyons ribbed with grass and timber pockets.

Some 100 Zuni Indians flew to Oregon from New Mexico to join weary crews.

Fighters worked to stop a 4,000 acre, out-of-control Wyoming fire short of Shoshone National Forest. Some 13,000 acres burned in British Columbia, but man had control of it.

The Day in Birmingham

Local Arts Festival Cost May Have Topped Plans

BIRMINGHAM — Th Birmingham Arts Festival, received with acclaim throughout the area, may have cost the city more than had originally been anticipated.

The City Commission will examine a report Monday night by Charles W. Gale, superintendent of Forestry and Parks Dept., which states that the rehabilitation cost of Shain Park following the festival was $1,297.75.

A large part of the sum went toward replacing dead grass with new sod.

Bids received on a new quintuple purpose fire truck will also be discussed at the Commission meeting. According to City Manager L. R. Gare, the lowest acceptable bid was approximately $6,000 less than had been set aside for the purchase.

A Ford Motor Co. produced film emphasizing citizen participation in government will be premiered Tuesday at the company's Tractor and Implement Division's general offices at 2500 E. Maple Rd.

The film, entitled "Where Were You," is narrated by the noted attorney Joseph H. Welch.

Representatives of service clubs, political organizations local and county governments have been invited to the premiere.

The film will be made available to public and private groups on a free-loan basis from the Ford Film Library in Dearborn following the premiere.

A public hearing has been scheduled by Bloomfield Township at Marian High School Aug. 9 at 8 p.m. to discuss assessments on the proposed drain for the 14 Mile-Lahser roads area.

High individual cost to property owners for the construction of a $44,000 drain has brought many objections to township officials.

State Highway Department May Build 8-Mile Drain

Some progress appeared in store today toward construction of a storm drain along Eight Mile road—thanks to the State Highway Department.

R. J. Alexander, director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, left a meeting in Detroit yesterday confident that a "substantial" step was taken with indications that the state might build a drain the county was blocked from constructing.

The City of Southfield, which opposed construction of the $4,610,000 South-Oak drain so strongly that plans were scrapped this week, would be left out of the plan, Alexander said.

He said before another meeting in Detroit next Wednesday with Mayor Miriani it was hoped "definite commitments" will have been given by the highway department to build a drain to stop flooding in Oak Park, along Eight Mile and Northwestern Highway and the Northland Shopping Center.

Accomplishments in yesterday's talk with Glenn C. Richards, Detroit DPW director, left Alexander encouraged that Detroit "soon would relent and allow sewage from Oakland's Evergreen-Farmington sanitary sewer system to be treated at the Detroit treatment plant as contracted for.

Detroit had kept the valve shut, insisting the South-Oak drain be constructed first. The absence of the drain sends heavy seasonal rain waters spilling over into Northwest Detroit from Southfield and Oak Park.

Southfield residents and officials fought off proposed drain assessments as being confiscatory.

Although Alexander said it wasn't discussed in yesterday's briefing with Richards, it is believed Detroit is contemplating suing Southfield to stop its contribution to the flooding problem.

Oak Park never opposed the old drain.

Should the highway department follow through on its plan to go ahead and build its own drain, it is expected that all but Southfield's problems would be solved.

No financial arrangements were discussed, Alexander said, pending final word from the highway department.

A large hole was blown in the side of the three-story, brick Bower Roller Bearing Division plant in Detroit.

Ray Meek, 22, of Detroit, was cut on both hands when a 40-foot tree blew down on his car just in front of the windshield.

Police in the Detroit area communities of Center Line, Utica, Roseville, Royal Oak, Harper Woods and the Grosse Pointes reported many trees and wires down and some roads blocked by the wind-driven debris.

At Muskegon, hail stones a half-inch in diameter bombarded the area.

One complete end of the Western Stamping Co. plant on the southwest edge of Jackson was blown out, complete with cement foundation.

Twisted metal and debris was found up to a half a mile away. Four persons in the building at the time were uninjured. Owner Art Poole estimated damages at $15,000.

After leaving Michigan, the storm slammed into Canada, uprooting trees and downing power lines in the Ontario communities of Tilbury, Belle River and Emeryville. Canadian officials said the storm knocked out electrical and telephone service to some 12,000 persons.

Despite the violent weather, the U.S. Weather Bureau said there were no tornadoes.

State Refuses Union on Full Con-Con Check

LANSING (AP) — There won't be any name-by-name check on the constitutional convention petitions, the State Board of Canvassers has decided.

It rejected a petition by the Michigan AFL-CIO, headed by August (Gus) Scholle, to send the 25,915 petition sheets to local clerks for verification of all 322,038 signatures.

The board promised, however, to make a "comprehensive spot check" of the signatures against registration records in the state's larger cities.

The board has until Sept. 8 to validate the petitions and thus place the constitutional convention question on the ballot. A total of 231,212 valid signatures is needed.

Probes Acts of Former Chrysler Head to Find Possible Violations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Securities & Exchange Commission (SEC) is looking into the activities of former Chrysler Corp. President William C. Newberg to determine whether the giant auto maker violated reporting requirements of federal securities laws.

SEC sources raised the possibility that Newberg's relationships with firms which sold to Chrysler should have been covered in Chrysler financial reports. It was disclosed this week that Newberg, who resigned recently, made $450,000 from the suppliers.

The SEC sources said yesterday they would look into the matter. In most cases failure to report information leads to administrative action by the Commission. Prosecution in the courts is rare in such matters.

Ike, Aides Sift Warning of New Russian Move?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower and his top military and foreign policy advisers were reported to have held an urgent series of meetings on warnings of a new Russian move soon, possibly in Berlin.

The summer White House at Newport, R.I., today denied a published report that the National Security Council flew to a secret meeting with Eisenhower Thursday "amid indications of a new international crisis."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty also denied that the joint chiefs of staff had followed this up with a special meeting here yesterday.

But, authoritative sources said yesterday U.S. officials had received an intelligence report that the Soviet Union and the East German Reds might trigger a "military move" against Communist-encircled free West Berlin within 30 days.

The State Department denied it had received any such report or that Secretary of State Christian A. Herter had discussed it with Eisenhower when they conferred for more than two hours at Newport earlier this week.

A Russian move now would climax a violent series of Soviet threats, insults and actions which began with the collapse of the Paris summit conference.

The Chicago Sun-Times reported the National Security Council and joint chiefs of staff meetings in a copyrighted dispatch last night.

Reporters Frederick Kuh and Thomas B. Ross said the Security Council session appeared to be connected with another recent secret meeting between Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller's press secretary Robert McManus said in New York that Rockefeller met with Gates at Gates' request in Rockefeller's New York town house on June 5.

McManus said the governor was asked at the recent governors' conference in Colorado on what he based his statements that this country's military defenses should be strengthened. He said Rockefeller replied they were based on his conference with Gates.

"During their hitherto unrevealed meeting," the dispatch said, "Gates is understood to have told Rockefeller of strong indications that the Soviets are planning new action against the West within the next 30 days."

Claims Congo Is Collapsing

U. N. Spokesman Fears New Violence Would Touch Off Trouble

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — A United Nations official here said today The Congo as a modern republic has "virtually collapsed."

A U. N. spokesman declined to comment on new incidents of violence northwest of Elisabethville yesterday but confirmed that they could cause new trouble for the infant republic.

"There is no doubt that if word of this gets spread around and magnified, there is a possibility of violent reaction from the Congolese here," he said.

The U. N. spokesman said Belgian troops were scheduled to leave Leopoldville by 6 p.m., but refused to speculate whether they would all be out by that time.

There were reports that President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana had sought to persuade Lumumba to call off his journey during conversations last night, shortly after the Congolese Premier's arrival from Leopoldville.

Sources said Nkrumah felt that a personal appearance by Lumumba before the U. N. at this time would not be wise.

Before leaving Accra, Lumumba told newsmen he would visit other countries to ask for technical help in addition to addressing the U. N. Security Council.

He mentioned only Canada by name. And he did not specify what help he was seeking.

32 More Profs Fired at Havana University

HAVANA (UPI)—The new supreme governing council of Havana University today fired 32 more professors for a breach of discipline. The assistant university comptroller also was ousted.

County Parties Back Courthouse Millage

Both the Republican and Democratic committees of Oakland County have endorsed the county's special millage proposal on the Aug. 2 ballot to finish the courthouse building program.

The county is asking voters to approve a half-mill (50 cents for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation) levy for four years to provide four million dollars to add five units to the first courthouse tower unit now under construction in the County Service Center.

"We believe that the method of financing the addition . . . is sound and is a superior and cheaper method of financing than to vote long term bonds," an official resolution of the Oakland County Democratic Committee read in part.

The committee urged a yes vote on both propositions on the ballot.

Republican Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr. said his county committee gave the proposal unanimous endorsement, believing present facilities "inadequate to properly, efficiently and economically administer county government to its fullest resources."

Building Unions Snub Festivities

To Ignore Labor Day Celebration in Detroit; Deny Slap at Kennedy

DETROIT (UPI) — The 65,000-member Detroit area Building Trades Council has voted to ignore the traditional Labor Day celebration this year, charging that it has been turned into a "political circus."

The council, representing building tradesmen in Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties, denied that the move was a slap at Democratic presidential hopeful Sen. John F. Kennedy, who is scheduled to appear at a Labor Day rally in Detroit.

The council decision was apparently made two days before Kennedy announced that he would appear but was not revealed until publication of the group's newspaper Thursday.

The group, headed by Thomas McNamara, a brother of U.S. Sen. Pat McNamara, said there were many reasons for the decision including the fact that the group believes union members should be free to spend the last holiday weekend of the summer with their families.

The council did say, however, that the holiday has become primarily a political holiday and has resulted in a "prostitution of the meaning of Labor Day."

Lack of interest in the 2½ hour labor parade was also cited as a reason for withdrawing from the celebration by the 18-union group.

Airman Condemned for Slaying Another

McGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J. (UPI) — A.3.C. Harry C. Kemp, of Charleston, W. Va., was convicted and sentenced to death last night for the fatal stabbing of a fellow serviceman last March 1.

A court martial board of 13 officers also sentenced him to be dishonorably discharged, forfeit all pay and allowances and to be reduced in rank to basic airman.

Kemp, 20, was convicted of premeditated murder in the slaying of A.E.C. Harold D. Cartwright, 22, of Temple, Tex.

Navy Orders 3 New Polaris Subs; Total 14

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Navy jubilant over its spectacular Polaris success, has ordered three more Polaris-launching submarines bringing to 14 the total now built or on order.

Contracts totalling $92,518,000 were awarded yesterday for construction of the Polaris subs of the type which first successfully launched missiles from beneath the ocean Wednesday.

Wiley Asks Full Story

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) today urged the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates to make it clear to the voters how they plan to pay for programs promised in the campaign.

Lodge Evidence Possibly Sensational

the Soviet Union, the details of which I shall give later, which can only be described as criminal and piratical."

Lodge planned to place his evidence before the Security Council Monday morning.

U. S. MEETS OPPOSITION

On another matter, the United States ran into opposition in its bid for a meeting of the U.N. Disarmament Commission "early in August."

Lodge Friday asked the chairman of the 82-nation commission, Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico, to call the early session. Some diplomats said the U.S. wanted a meeting Aug. 5.

Lodge said the commission should discuss the breakdown of the 10-nation East-West disarmament talks in Geneva June 27 when the Communist side walked out.

One key delegate told a reporter he had talked with 20 colleagues and found that none was in favor of meeting before the end of August. He said delegations needed time to consult their governments.

GOP Gavel Post Can Really Take Those Punches

CHICAGO (AP) — The Republicans are well prepared for some heavy gavel-pounding during next week's convention.

A huge post mounted in the concrete floor is set next to the podium in the International Amphitheatre. It is not part of the rostrum.

That way, when the chairman gives a lusty whack on the post, he won't giffle microphones and teleprompters on the rostrum.

Baseballer, 11, Dies From Bat Blow on Head

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Eleven-year-old Darrell Lynn Cambre, eagerly awaiting his turn at bat in a sandlot baseball game, rushed up as the batter swung.

The bat struck Darrell a sharp blow in the head but he did not tell his family until much later. When he began to complain of a headache, he was taken to a hospital where he died Friday.

2 Detroit Boys Injured Fleeing Big Angry Bird

DETROIT (AP)—Two boys trying to escape the attack of an angry bird fell down a ventilation shaft at the Higgins School in Detroit last night and were injured seriously.

The boys said they had climbed to the roof of the school and were investigating a bird's nest when a large bird attacked them. In their haste to flee, they ran across a grating covering the shaft and the grating collapsed. They fell 45 feet down the curving shaft into the school basement.

Rocky, Nixon Agree on Platform Planks

that there will be no pressure from Nixon' camp for a Nixon-Rockefeller ticket, it did not necessarily rule out the possibility that a convention urge would develop in that direction.

Nixon, in an apparent move to smooth over differences with the national convention only two days away, flew from Washington for the meeting.

The talk began at 7:30 p.m. Friday night and ended at 3:30 this morning. During the meeting the two party giants were alone, except for the governor's press aide, Robert McManu.

However, as they ranged over platform isues, they contacted key members of the platform committee by phone.

* * *

At the summer White House in Newport, R.I., Presidential Press Sec. Jame C. Hagerty declined comment on the meeting between Nixon and Rockefeller.

Rocky Loses Popularity in Northeast, Says Kraft

right either. Rockefeller is trying to play both ends against the middle, being a so-called liberal Republican. I'd rather vote for an out-and-out Democrat — in fact, I might."

A dyed-in-the-wool Republican in the heartland of Rockefeller territory told us:

"If they run Rockefeller for president, I would vote for a third party and if there wasn't a third party, Id just not vote. He's nuts—saying every homeowner should be compelled to build his own private bomb shelter. He must think everyone's made of money like he is. I don't know what to do—I just don't know what to do."

In Hoboken, a local butcher of German extraction put it this way:

"I usually do things the way my customers do them. I was for the Yankees, I was for Ike, and there was a lot of good talk about Rockefeller there for a while. But now everything has changed. To tell you the truth, like I said, I voted for who my customers do, and right now, it looks like the Democrats."

Many remarks like these turned up in the course of the surveys to produce this kind of result when voters were offered an alternative choice of Rockefeller or Kennedy:

| Would Vote for: | Industrial States Choice |
|---|---|
| Rockefeller | 33% |
| Kennedy | 52% |
| Not sure | 15% |

In Rockefeller's own state he has lost favor over such issues as taxes and bomb shelters with the people who helped elect him. In neighboring states some of these feelings have filtered through too. Beyond that there is greater confidence in the vice president's experience.

Finally, Republican delegates will have picked the man who will run the strongest race for their party in the backyard of the Democratic nominee—Sen. Kennedy from Boston.

Chrysler Pledges Probe

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. intends to determine whether any of its officials or employes have engaged in any "illegal or improper transaction or conduct."

The automobile company made the pledge Friday in answer to a demand by stockholder Sol A. Dann for company court action in the light of a former company president's profits from vendor firms.

Chrysler said it would take "all necessary steps" to learn whether or not there had been misconduct.

At the same time, Chrysler charged that the United Auto Workers Union had made "completely unjustified" inferences and conclusions over the recent vendor profits disclosures.

The UAW had raised a question with the company whether Chrysler policies in "farming out" factory jobs—in the Union's words—caused harm, including layoffs, to employes.

Both Dann, a lawyer and a majority stockholder in Chrysler, and the auto union made demands on the company in separate actions.

The UAW, which has a contract covering Chrysler's thousands of hourly paid workers, asked for a meeting with management to discuss the "over-all problem."

Dann and the Union acted 24 hours after Chrysler's announcement on vendor profits to its former president, William C. Newberg.

On Thursday the company announced that Newberg had agreed to pay Chrysler some $450,000 he received in profits from his interests in companies that sell goods and services to Chrysler.

The former Chrysler president has said he saw nothing illegal or improper in his relations with the vendor companies.

Newberg became president of Chrysler April 28 and left the post June 30 over what the company at the time called differences over policy.

Board Chairman L. L. Colbert resumed the company presidency after Newberg's departure.

Wholesale Price of Sugar Rises

At Highest Level in 37 Years; Retail Charge Expected to Climb

NEW YORK (AP)—Effective today, the wholesale price of sugar is raised to the highest level in 37 years.

The National Sugar Refining Co. of New York, second largest domestic refiner of cane sugar, increased the price 30 cents a hundred pounds for all grades and all types of deliveries.

The boost, second in little more than a month, puts national's price at $9.70 a hundred pounds. In 1923 the price hit $9.80.

Wholesale price changes are generally reflected rather rapidly in the retail price. However, the size and speed of the retail change depends upon the stocks of the large concerns who sell to the consumer.

Sugar retails now at 8 to 10 cents a pound.

The American Sugar Refining Co., largest domestic refiner, made no immediate price change. However, Refined Syrups & Sugars, Inc., of Yonkers, N. Y., which specializes in liquid sugar, matched the increase made by National.

The wholesale price was attributed by some trade circles to the government's delay in restoring to the market sugar removed by the cut in Cuba's quota.

It Seems to Me . . .

No One, Including Rockefeller, Too Important for Second Spot

Apparently, Governor ROCKEFELLER is going to be a contentious individual in the GOP convention.

He has been issuing a series of manifestoes, some of which are in bad taste and most of which indicate that he regards himself very highly and as a man of the utmost importance.

Can he be mistaken?

First of all, he declares emphatically that he refuses to be a candidate for the Vice Presidency. Just who in this nation is so special he can't serve his country if the request is made by the party that elected him Governor?

Is Nelson Rockefeller?

If he is, he appears in the highly incongruous position of evaluating himself above the second spot in the greatest nation in the world.

He also has announced that he will not accept the Top Spot unless it's a ringing decision with almost everyone cheering loudly at the sound of his name. Governor, most men in the world thank the Almighty on bended knees however they received the nomination for the Presidency. It would be a little more becoming if you assumed the role of the "ordinary man" and less this self-elected function of King and Emperor.

You've been signally honored by election as Governor of the biggest state in the union. Accept your place gracefully. Be thankful to the party that supported you, and shed the notion that you're something apart and extra special. It's the patriotic duty of everyone to serve his nation where and when he can in such distinguished spots as those with which your name has been associated.

Let's leave the Supreme Role to the Lord without any serious challenge from below.

We Do Our Best . . . .

Occasionally we get a theater ad returned in an envelope—often anonymous — with the suggestion that we are transgressing good taste.

Sometimes I think we do.

Other times I suspect panty waists.

Two exhibits come to hand in a current reprimand. One is an ad for "Vice Raid" with these words: "Big Crackdown on Call Girl Racket."

Is that bad?

Isn't it in the public interest?

Shouldn't the call girl racket be controlled or eliminated? Would you oppose a movie advocating a "crackdown?"

Exhibit "B" says:

"A New and Very Startling Approach to Mystery on the Screen. NUDE In a White Car."

Appended is a small and dark, almost indecipherable picture of a girl. She has bare legs (are they uncommon?) and her dress is cut lower than I like—but not nearly as low as many I see at parties.

Personally, I'd vote for a little higher dress on "Nudey" but I don't stand aghast at the wording in either.

Our Mr. John Riley tries to keep all advertising clean and truthful. You ought to see some of the things he eliminates. I think he does a grand job. We're still struggling, and the next time you want to find fault, send it along, but sign your name. We don't like to traffic with cowards.

Weather Is Different . . . .

Perhaps I'm more interested than the average in our weather, but 1960 leaves me with two definite impressions.

First, we've had fewer hot days than usual. I mean those steaming stem-winding scorchers that have the perspiration trickling down your nose as you almost pant in the shade with some ice cold lemonade in your hand and some in your tummy.

What gives?

How about those nineties?

Can't you recall when the mercury crept grimly up toward the century mark, flirted with the ciphers for an hour or so and then leaped across the line and landed in the "102" slot and hung there for an appreciable time?

The mercury seems to have a hard time reaching "90" this summer and the high eighties aren't very frequent.

Or has it really been hot?

Maybe I'm crazy.

Another departure from normal is the rain. Mother Nature seems to delight in concocting some showers and thunderstorms for weekends, holidays and special occasions. J. Pluvious plays no favorites. If the Baptists plan a gala picnic, he kicks in with a driving rain; and if the Elks want a softball night, you can bank on the old sign: "no game—rain."

Perhaps these are just indications of a crotchety old curmudgeon that wants to rant and rail against "what is." If I'm wrong, heap abuse all over me; and if I'm right, let me say: "I told you so."

And In Conclusion . . . .

Jottings from the well thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Bloomfield Hills' ELIZABETH GOSSETT's father missed being President of the United States by a whisker (no pun intended). WOODROW WILSON beat him (CHARLES EVANS HUGHES) when a switch of only 1,904 votes in California would have reversed the result . . . . . The Chicago Tribune received several score letters on KENNEDY's nomination and all were critical . . . . . CAP HUBBELL, an inmate of the Nebraska State Penitentiary pens the following in the prison newspaper: "This is a troubled age. Everyone's wondering when the big firecracker will go off. Juvenile delinquency is prevalent. The general social illness includes payola, rampant cynicism, public and private immorality. If you people out there don't mend your ways, I ain't comin' out."

Rumors say John Daly and Virginia Warren may "get hitched." She's the daughter of Chief Justice Earl Warren . . . . . Especially in summer, keep the temperature of your ice box below 50 degrees. Your health's at stake, so check with a thermometer. Packing the shelves raises the temperature . . . . . Gordon Scott tells about the Kikuyu chief whose most sacred possession was a gold throne. A safari came through and he hid it in the roof of his hut, but the thing was so heavy it crashed and killed the chief. Moral: "People who live in grass houses shouldn't stow thrones."

There are 60,000 white adults in Mississippi that are illiterate and when you add the Negroes, one-fourth of the population can't read or write . . . . . An Havana casino operator who surrendered to the lack of business says CASTRO has wired Cuban jails and if there's a revolt, 15,000 prisoners will be blown to bits . . . . . Football scouts rank Michigan State as the best in the Big Ten, the Middle West and one of the first half dozen in the nation . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—C. E. Wilson on his 70th birthday; the J's — NELSON ROCKEFELLER.

—HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie

"Faith plays a very great part in our work," says Commissioner Emma Davies, glancing around the neat, two-story Faith Cottage. "Without it we would accomplish very little."

Indeed, faith and prayer are responsible for the very existence of the cottage itself, a refuge where women of the streets may retire to reorganize their lives.

For many years, Emma and her officers of the Salvation Army prayed daily to help these women. Her captains patrolled the streets of the King's Cross section of London trying to reach them. But there was neither money nor refuge for those who wanted to reform.

Emma appealed for a lease on a cottage which was being transferred to a railroad company but the outlook was dim until, while negotiations were going on, a 3,000-pound legacy arrived from an unknown benefactor in Canada. Faith Cottage became a reality.

The cottage is but one of Emma's accomplishments. She has worked with women and children in New Zealand, Ceylon and India. As commissioner, in charge of Women's Social Work in England, she holds the highest unmarried rank in the Salvation Army.

Voice of the People

'Why Not Fine Candidates for Illegal Sign Displays?'

In a recent trip around Michigan, I was appalled at the manner in which political candidates used public and private roadside property to nail and paste up political propoganda.

These selfish opportunists are ruining Michigan as a clean and beautiful vacation area.

We have fines for littering our highways with debris thrown from cars. Why not an equally stiff law for egotistical office seekers?

Some candidates like James Hare have asked their supporters to refrain from tacking up signs on trees. But, that is not enough. We need a tough law and a $100 fine for each violation. Then we can be sure that Michigan will remain a beautiful and restful vacationland for we natives and for our tourist visitors.

Defends Two Boys Who Painted Bridge

I come to the defense of "Two Youths Sentenced to Profitable Painting." The Pontiac Press declaim on youths who "didn't have anything better to do" (a misquote, at that) than smear paint on a Bloomfield Hills bridge and who were sentenced to repaint the bridge properly (at their own suggestion, incidentally.)

One is a classmate of my son. He was graduated with top honors, was offered scholorships by at least two universities, and is holding down a full time summer job.

In anticipation of dates, my friend and his companion planned a treasure hunt for the girl's amusement which would terminate at the bridge. At the time these "hoodlums" were apprehended, our friend was sitting in the car typing out the treasure hunt hints and his companion was painting his name under the bridge.

I certainly do not mean to condone defacing of public property, but neither do I condone defacing the character of an outstanding junior citizen.

Mary Couzens

Orchard Lake

(Editor's Note: Whatever "defacing of character of an outstanding junior citizen" is involved, was done by the outstanding junior citizen himself).

Claims Convention Was Rigged Event

The recent Democratic Convention was a travesty upon the meaning of democracy and an insult to the intelligence of the voters.

This writer estimated that the promoters of the "Kennedy Band Wagon" would spend a billion dollars to seat their man. According to a reliable news report the down payment amounts, to almost one million two hundred thousand dollars on this successfully rigged event. RIGGED? Are you a goldfish? I was sold short on Johnson, Humphrey, Williams and others whom I thought would not go along with such a gang.

'Men—Join E. R. M. Stand Up for Rights'

This is an open letter to all the men in the U.S. who have been discriminated against and who have not had a chance under the present divorce system that is set up in this country.

This is to the men who have been separated from their children, not being allowed to be a father to them; to the men who have sat in jail in a futile fight against this system because they were fighting the wrong way; to all those men—now you have a chance. Rise up and fight. Join E. R. M. We will inform you of our next meeting.

Peaceful James Became Warrior

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER
Peaceful James Became Spain's Warrior Saint

Monday is a big holiday in Spain. It is St. James Day, and St. James is Spain's saint. The connection between this Apostle and Spain is based on legend, but James' position in Spanish hearts could not be more solid if the legends were thoroughly documented facts.

There were two Apostles named James and the traditional way of distinguishing them is to call one "the greater" and the other "the less." "Greater" and "less" refer to nothing but their ages. St. James the Greater is simply St. James the elder.

Not much is known about this Apostle's life after the Ascension. The New Testament tells us he was the brother of John, the son of Zebedee, and a fisherman. It also indicates that he and his brother and Peter were a sort of inner circle of the Twelve. These three were selected to witness the Transfiguration, and again on the night of Gethsemane they were the ones closest to the Lord in His agony of bloody sweat.

But history is meager about what happened to James after the Lord had gone, and the Apostles set out to spread the Gospel over the world. There is no evidence that he ever went to Spain, and there is much to indicate that he did not. But don't try to convince a Spaniard of that.

Spanish tradition says that after having been in Spain for some time, James, with a company of his Spanish converts, went back to Jerusalem, where he was killed by the Jews while preaching in the Temple. But the Bible says only that Herod "killed James the brother of John with the sword." (Acts, chapter 12, verse 2)

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag

Many Good Medicines Are Quite Poisonous

In your No. 20 booklet on Cosmetic Blemishes you suggest the use of mercuric chloride for freckles, yet in your column you said mercuric chloride (bichloride of mercury) is a poison . . . (T. H.)

BRADY

Ans. — Many good medicines are poisons. The suggestion of mercuric chloride solution as method of destroying freckles is no longer made in the booklet.

What would cause my temperature to be so low much of the time — as low as 96. When it is low I feel lifeless, blue and depressed. I am 47 . . . . (Mrs. N.P.C.)

Ans. — Hypothyroidism. Ask your doctor about it.

Please tell me if dairy products are harmful to one with high blood pressure. (Mrs. S.B.)

Ans. — On the contrary, they are generally the best food for one with high blood pressure.

I'm a "little tin doctor" — industrial nurse. In my family were two sets of twins — father's sister had twin girls and another relative had twin sons. All four of these had children, so I know the notion that one of twins is inevitably sterile is wrong . . . (R.C.E.)

Ans. — Thank you. "Little tin doctor" applies to any nurse, industrial or private, who undertakes to give advice or treatment which only a physician is qualified to give.

I am 37, mother of three children. Doctor said he thinks I am starting menopause. My husband is furious. He says all the men he knows regard women at the menopause as "worn out bags," and that I should be ashamed of it and never admit it . . . . (Mrs. T.M.)

Ans. — Thirty-seven does seem a little early, but it can happen. The menopause simply terminates a woman's capacity to conceive. It has no effect upon her feminine attractiveness — unless she listens to old wives' talk about "change of life" and worries about it. Your husband must have some ignorant friends. Send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet The Menopause.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Man Has Two Inherent Appetites

Wives, it is in the bedroom, not the kitchen, where most divorces start. Cook books offer the recipes to satisfy your husband's gastic appetite. This column gives you the proper technique to relieve his hunger in the erotic realm. A hungry male is very easily tempted so keep him well fed!

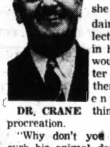
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE F-424: Diana P., aged 47, is a religious zealot who also writes poetry.



DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, instead of telling husbands and wives how to get along in the marital relationship," she protested disdainfully after a lecture I'd given in her church, "it would be far better if you taught them to abstain entirely from things except for procreation.

"Why don't you urge man to curb his animal desires and lead a life on a purely spiritual plane.

"Let man cultivate an interest in esthetics and concentrate on art or poetry. Let him dwell on higher things.

"There is too much lust and sex already without talking about such bestial things."

NEUROTIC WOMEN

Diana is trying to compensate for the fact she has lost her husband to another woman. I'm sorry for her, and I'm glad she writes ethereal poetry, for this may insure her sanity.

But God gave us a brain so we'd use "horse sense" and attain happiness in the normal arrangements of life.

He gave us a healthy stomach, for example, which demands bread. Then he also gave us a Commandment, "Thou shalt not steal."

He didn't expect our clergymen to urge their parishioners to try to do without food and live on poetry.

When bread is obtained in a legitimate manner and eaten sensibly, it is a great boon to the stomach and relieves man of many hunger cramps.

Suppose we were sent out into the world hungry and then urged to refrain from thievery. Why, we'd find far more violators of the Commandment against stealing.

Such a form of ethics would thus have an abnormal strain placed upon it and soon would break down.

INSTINCTS VS. ETHICS

Instincts can be modified and channeled in proper grooves, but they cannot long be entirely repressed.

Religious fanatics cannot legislate against food and survive very long. Nor can such fanatics indict sex very long and expect their church to flourish.

For man has two basic appetites that must be fed regularly if he is to remain sufficiently sane and self-controlled to be a good church member.

The first appetite is gastric, and the second is his erotic hunger.

It is far more sensible to teach man how to satisfy both hungers within the limits of the moral code, than to try to oppose human instincts and preach a complete asceticism.

Men and women like Diana are whistling in the dark to keep up their own courage. Sooner or later they become hysterical, neurotic, and often end in a mental institution.

SEX & SANITY

"Don't mind Diana," her clergyman later apologized to me. She's already been in the sanitarium for shock therapy."

In this scientific column I am simply trying to show how to safeguard our ethical system by legitimately relieving man's inner tensions.

What the authors of cook books and culinary columns have done to show you wives how to satisfy man's gastric appetite, I am likewise attempting to do for man's erotic hunger.

You wives have devoted husbands on your wedding day, so why not keep them that way?

Our churches would much rather have happy, well adjusted families than divorced couples.

There is a direct connection between sex and sanity, as well as sex and divorce, so beware.

Dulles Briefs Kennedy Today

Assigned by Ike to Give Nominees Secret Data on Foreign Problems

HYANNIS PORT, Mass (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy today gets a top secret briefing on foreign policy problems from Allen W. Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency.

President Eisenhower has declared it is in the national interest for both the Democratic and Republican presidential nominees and their running mates to receive such reports periodically through the campaign.

He assigned Dulles, a vetern of both diplomatic and intelligence fields, to give the briefings.

In making the offer Monday, Eisenhower had specified that "because of the secret character of the information that would be furnished you, it would be exclusively for your personal knowledge.

"Otherwise," he continued, "the receipt of such information would impose no restriction on full and free discussion."

Kennedy conferred at length Friday with W. Averell Harriman, former ambassador to the Soviet Union and a former governor of New York, one of his top foreign policy advisers. Harriman advocates a stern front toward the Soviets.

Harriman said afterward that he and Kennedy discussed the idea of asking Congress next month for a huge increase in defense appropriations. He declined to quote Kennedy. But he spoke the personal view that two billion dollars more for specific defense purposes would be a good way to jar Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev "who is insulting us at every turn as a result of the present administration's weakness."

Nab More Than Ever for Postal Violation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department reports that arrests for postal violations reached a record high of 9,113 during the 12 months ended June 30.

Arrests of persons using the mails for fraudulent activities increased 33½ per cent over the previous year.

In a concentrated drive on mail swindles, the department reported progress against "advance fee" racketeers, work-at-home schemes including the sale of knitting and sewing machines, and phony health cures peddled through the mails.

Noting a rapid increase in the theft and forging of money orders and checks, the department advised mail recipients to know when mail delivery of checks can be expected and to watch for them.

Willkie Seeking to Become Noted Through VP Bid

CHICAGO (UPI)—Philip H. Willkie, 40, who was too young to vote when his father Wendell became a GOP presidential candidate, said Friday his vice presidential bid is designed to make him a national figure and dramatize his views, on stressing fundamentals in education.

He said, however, that he thinks his chances for the nomination are "about 1 per cent."

He explained that he has been going to political conventions for years and decided he is "going to have some fun at this one." Meantime, he said he plans to make himself a national figure if the occasion arises.

Total of Polio Cases Down From 1959

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Public Health Service today reported a "sharp increase" in the incidence of polio last week but said this year's total number of cases is still far below the number reported at this time last year.

There was a total of 95 cases of polio, of which 69 were paralytic, for the week ending July 16, according to the Health Service's weekly report.

During the same week of 1959, 255 polio cases were reported, 169 of them paralytic.

Outbreaks of the disease continued to be concentrated in Rhode Island and California.

Says Red Chinese AF Lags That of Nationalists

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalist air force is far superior in quality to Communist China's, the commander of the U.S. air task force on Formosa said today.

Nationalist control of the air over the Formosa Strait is now unquestioned, Maj. Gen. Fred M. Dean said in an interview with the China Post.

SUES GOVERNMENT — Inventor Milton J. Noell displays his working model for a missile guidance system in his home in Dallas. He is suing the federal government for 100 million dollars, charging infringement on patents he received for the guidance system. Noell claims he was issued broad patent coverage in 1947 on a device which uses photoelectric cells sensitive to light and heat rays. They supposedly guide a missile to its predetermined objective and ascertain the position of the target.

Detroit Girl Pleads for Pet:

'Don't Be Without Sausie'

NEW YORK (AP) — Somewhere, he feels sure, out there in the 5,000 sprawling acres of brush land, airport runways and terminal buildings, is a lost friend—his family's pet dog.

Edward Ludwig, 44, an engineer is determined to find him.

For 10 days, he has searched. By daylight and darkness, he has tramped the miles of shore line, roadways and scrubby wilderness around New York's Idlewild Airport, calling his name.

And his daughter, Pamela, 14, pleaded tearfully by telephone from Detroit: "Don't come home daddy, without Sausie."

Sausie is a little dachshund, which leaped from an airliner when the Ludwigs arrived here July 14 from Brazil and disappeared.

"He's so darn scared, he's just hiding," Ludwig said, alluding to the ceaseless din of jets, helicopters and propellor craft that resounds over the area.

Ludwig, who had been in Sao Paulo, Brazil, for five years helping set up a factory for the Burroughs Corp., returned here with his family for reassignment.

Parisians Rap Tours

PARIS (AP) — Parisian merchants and taxicab drivers are complaining that business is awful, in spite of a record number of tourists. They blame the guided tour. A Paris travel agency official said the popular all-expense-paid tours herd the tourists from one spot to another by bus or hired limousine and leave less time for shopping.

Thailand May Want U. S. Rocket Bases

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Prime Minister Sarit Thanarat says he will ask the United States to set up missile bases in Thailand if any of Thailand's neighbors go Communist, the Bangkok World reported today.

The World quoted Marshal Sarit as saying Thailand is "a pivot of the free-world alliance in Asia, so if any of our neighbors become dominated by Communists, rocket bases will be an absolute necessity."

Average capacity of freight cars in the United States is 2½ tons greater now than it was at the time of Pearl Harbor.

Lot of Problems Connected With 'Pollyanna' Production

The number of day-to day details and the incredible amount of behind the scenes activities which take place during the filming of a major motion picture were never more clearly demonstrated than in the filming of Walt Disney's powerful technicolor production, "Pollyanna."

Requirements for the cast and crew in making "Pollyanna" encompassed both the activities of a long location and corresponding work at the home studio, plus the involved production problems of a film company shooting on other film studios' lots.

Filming on "Pollyanna" began in northern California, in and around the town of Santa Rosa and throughout the Napa Valley, some 40 miles east of Santa Rosa.

Two ranches, three homes, one railroad station, the Napa River, a pond which had to be filled by the local fire department because the drought had dried it up, an entire early-1900's railriad train, two ancient "horseless carriages," a 100-year-old grist mill, a tree which was trucked some 500 miles from the Disney studio to Santa Rosa and back again, 30 sheep, 18 horses and six crates of live chickens were among the items used during location shooting.

In addition, more that 150 citizens of various northern California communities were called in as "extras" for some of the film's big scenes.

To enable the 125 members of the location company to get back and forth, sometimes as far as 50 miles, from the "Pollyanna" headquarters in Santa Rosa to the various filming sites, 10 trucks, a fleet of automobiles, 3 stretch-outs —the cars which are similar to airline limousines—and two buses were in almost constant use.

A complete kitchen, equipped to feed over 300 people at one meal, went with the cast and crew on location. Almost every room in the ultra-modern, new Flamingo Hotel in Santa Rosa was taken by the production company. Two automobiles did nothing but shuttle back and forth between the headquarters and the San Francisco airport, some 55 miles away, picking up passengers, delivering film and receiving various and sundry pieces of equipment from the studio.

When the company returned to the Disney Burbank lot from Santa Rosa, an entire airplane, plus portions of regularly scheduled flights from San Francisco to Los Angeles, were pressed into service to get the cast and crew moved.

At Disney's, a large part of the "back lot" plus three sound stages were used in the filming. Fifteen portable "star" dressing rooms were needed for the all-star cast's usage.

Not only was "Pollyanna" one of the most involved pictures, from the standpoint of the mechanics of filming, ever to be produced by Walt Disney, but it boasts the most impressive cast ever to appear in a Disney production.

Model Change to Idle 50,000 at Chrysler

DETROIT (AP)—Wards Automotive Reports estimates 50,000 workers will be idled by model changeover shutdowns at Chrysler Corp.

The shutdowns in 1960 model runs became complete after Friday shifts. Chrysler will resume production in early August.

Ward's said total passenger car production in the United States this week will be 110,797 units compared with 105,113 last week and 124,446 in the similar week of 1959.

Truck production was estimated at 20,842 units against last week's 20,214 and last year's 25,119.

British Cabinet Scramble Due

Second Minister Quits; Selwyn Lloyd May Take Treasury Control

LONDON (AP) — The surprise resignation of a second minister from the British government today guaranteed the biggest Cabinet reshuffle since Prime Minister Harold Macmillan took over from Sir Anthony Eden in 1957.

Health Minister Derek Walker-Smith quit because, some associates reported, he failed to win promotion to a senior post. Walker-Smith, 50, has long been regarded as one of the ablest of the Conservative ministers and a favorite of party rank and filers. His resignation takes effect Monday.

The Cabinet shake-up—expected next week—has been forced on Macmillan by a decision of one of his senior colleagues to resign. He is Chancellor of the Exchequer Derek Heathcoat-Amory, who said he has had enough of bigtime public service.

Amory's departure carries international implications because it is known that Selwyn Lloyd, who has been foreign secretary since 1955, has been asked by Macmillan to take over control of the Treasury. The ambitious Lloyd evidently feels a term in charge of the nation's finances will do no harm to his chances ultimately of becoming prime minister.

Latest candidate mentioned for the job of foreign secretary is the Earl of Home, a cousin of Eden and now Commonwealth relations secretary.

Macmillan must be well aware, however, that such an appointment would raise a parliamentary storm because, as a peer, Lord Home could not answer for British foreign policy in the House of Commons.

Historic Gavel to Convene GOP 100 Years Later

NEW HAVEN, CONN. (AP)—An oak gavel, carved from a piece of a famed American warship, was used in the 1860 Republican Convention that nominated Abraham Lincoln.

The same gavel, 100 years later, will be used to open the GOP convention in Chicago Monday.

It began its journey to Chicago Friday as George A. Morton, a New Haven insurance man, delivered the gavel to the State Republican Committee headquarters, in Hartford.

The antique knocker, insured for $10,000, has been handed down in Morton's family since the days of his great-great-grandfather, the late Massachusetts senator and congressman, George Ashmun.

Ashmun, a famous politician, was president—or chairman—of the 1860 GOP convention, Morton said. Ashmun was an advisor to Lincoln during the Civil War.

The gavel was made of oak from the American frigate Lawrence, Commodore Oliver Hazard Perry's flagship of the Battle of Lake Erie in 1813.

U. S. Sees Russ as Two-Faced

Arrest of Red Spy Is Evidence That K's Men Snoop, Yet Talk Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials today saw the newest Soviet spy case as further evidence of the Kremlin conducting widespread espionage while professing peace and accusing the West of aggressive acts.

The expulsion of Petr Y. Ezhov for spying, announced Friday, was the 12th ouster of a Soviet diplomat from the United States in 10 years.

Authorities said the expulsion was ordered after thorough evidence was collected against Ezhov, rather than being deliberately timed as a counterpunch to Moscow's propaganda on the downed American U2 and RB47 reconnaissance planes.

They did not expect the Soviets to retaliate by booting out an American diplomat, although Moscow has expelled seven U. S. Embassy personnel on spy charges in the past decade.

Ezhov, like another Soviet diplomat since expelled, was reportedly undertaking his undercover activities in part during the time when Premier Nikita Khrushchev visited the United States last September as an honor guest.

The State Department said Ezhov, 39, a Soviet Embassy third secretary, was engaged for months in getting aerial photographs of American cities and defense installations.

Unemployment Up for Last Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of persons out of work is higher than government economists expected, the administration has conceded.

The admission was contained in a Budget Bureau report issued on government fiscal operations in the bookkeeping year that ended June 30.

The government's latest figures showed 4,023,000 persons were unemployed in June, 5.5 per cent of the labor force. For the first six month of 1960, unemployment averaged a little more than 5 per cent.

FDA to Tighten Drug Labeling

Has Been Under Fire From Senate Group for Laxness

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government acted Friday to tighten federal control of the drug industry with strict new regulations for labeling prescription drugs.

The Food and Drug Administration (FDA) proposed new regulations embodying "sweeping changes" in its labeling requirements. The agency said this was done to "correct a tendency on the part of some manufacturers to describe to physicians the merits of a drug without giving information regarding its hazards."

The proposed regulations were published in the federal register. Interested persons were invited to comment on them within 60 days. After that, the FDA would issue a final order which "might be modified on the basis of the comment." A spokesman said.

The agency has been under fire in recent months from a congressional subcommittee headed by Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn). The subcommittee charged the agency with laxness in its regulation of the drug industry.

The investigation led to the ouster of Dr. Henry Welch, chief of the FDA's antibiotics division, for accepting money from industry.

Pontiac Author Has New Plan

Dr. Kevorkian Urges Experimental Surgery on Condemned Men

"Medical Research and the Death Penalty"
by Jack Kevorkian, M.D.

By GEMMA STRIFFLER

Death for condemned criminals, by hanging, gas chamber, electrocution . . . or by experimental surgery under anesthesia . . . that is the proposal in "Medical Research and the Death Penalty," published Friday.

The author, Dr. Jack Kevorkian, born and reared in Pontiac, asserts there is need today for such medical experiments upon living human beings.

He would limit the practice to a free choice on the part of the criminal.

Dr. Kevorkian was graduated from Pontiac Central High School, studied medicine at the University of Michigan and received his degree in 1932. He served in Korea with the Army and has done medical research in Germany. Presently he has a residency in pathology.

Dr. Kevorkian has chosen a strikingly dramatic dialogue form to present his thinking . . . clear, concise, and most important, convincing.

The issue is a grave one, worthy of most serious thought and consideration by intelligent people. He leaves the idea to responsible members of society to discuss.

You, the reader, are both jury and judge.

President Asks Cut in Federal Workers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Budget director Maurice H. Stans, speaking for President Eisenhower, Friday called on all government agencies to cut employment at least 3 per cent below the level which can be financed by this year's congressional appropriations.

"The President has requested that the executive branch apply increasing vigor and determination" to its efforts to economize and raise efficiency, Stans said.

Reductions in employment should be achieved by not filling vacancies, not setting up new jobs, greater efficiency and improvisation, Stans said.

The directive was contained in a letter from Stans to the heads of all executive departments and agencies. It does not apply to the legislative and judicial branches of government.

Upper Peninsula to Attract Industry

HOUGHTON (AP) — Michigan's Upper Peninsula now has the qualifications to attract industry, says Dr. J. R. Van Pelt, president of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton.

And the Michigan Economic Development Commission is launching a special program to step up industrial development in the area.

Dr. Van Pelt told a meeting of the commission the Upper Peninsula is lacking only availability of natural gas. The next step, he said, is an active program to attract new businesses.

Pesky Interviewers Invade Newlyweds

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I'm fearless — I interviewed Anita Bryant, the girl from everywhere on her honeymoon.

WILSON

You might have thought her bridegroom, Bob Greene, the Miami disc jockey, would be a little stuffy —but not at all!

"Thanks a lot, fellah, for dropping by on our honeymoon!" was just how he put it, and the way he emphasized a lot, we knew he was overjoyed.

Anita—who's from Tulsa, Chicago and Atlantic City—was rubbing lipstick off his face. He was constantly grabbing her around the waist and pulling her onto his lap. Oh, they were tickled to have visitors, you could see.

I had the nerve to go because I, like many others, feel proprietary about Anita. I was at Atlantic City when she, as Miss Oklahoma, finished third in the Miss America contest. She's an ex-Godfrey winner, ex-vocalist with Don McNeill's "Breakfast Club," and her records, "Till There Was You" and "Paper Roses," are big. And she's only about 20.

ANITA

They say she will be one of the most important singers in our country shortly. She still thinks she might have won at Atlantic City if it hadn't been for the questions. The measurements and talent sections didn't bother her. One question she was asked was, "What would you tell your mother if you were out on a date with a boy who got fresh?"

Her answer was: "I wouldn't have gone out with that boy in the first place."

Bob Greene and Anita will live in Miami, adding to her geographical breadth. Tin Pan Alley likes to kid Greene by saying he's so crazy about Anita, he plays the other side of her hit records.

He thinks it's quite normal for him to believe that both sides of her records are sensational.

EARL'S PEARLS: We hear there's now something that rids women of dishpan hands. It's called "henpecked husband."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bill Shelly reports he's having trouble with the air conditioning system of his small sports car. The ice cube keeps melting.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Little boys can't wait to grow up. Little girls can't wait to grow out.

There are two kinds of big spenders: Men before marriage, and women after. . . . That's earl, brother.

Dear Mary:
I don't dare tell my family what I've done and the trouble I'm in, that's why I'm writing you. I have never tried to hide the fact that I'm colored, although most people don't know because of my fair skin.

When I met Rick my whole life changed. He was white, handsome, from a socially prominent family... and we fell madly in love. When he asked me to marry him, I was afraid to tell the truth, so I passed for white!

Now the fear that's haunted every night of my marriage has come true... I'm going to have a baby! The question keeps pounding at me, "what will my baby be?" Should I confess to my husband what I really am? Will the truth make him hate me, or will he still love me?

Please tell me what I should do!

Sincerely,
Lila

Weighty Decision Brings Tears to This New Mother

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The scales of justice were tipped in favor of an overweight man and wife who were given court permission Friday to adopt the 1-year-old girl whom they have raised from birth.

"I'm too happy to say anything," Mrs. Bernice Sherman said as she blinked back tears after hearing the ruling in a closed session before Superior Judge Ben Koenig.

Mrs. Sherman and her husband Frank of suburban Reseda, were told three months ago they must lose weight if they hoped to adopt the little girl.

At that time Sherman, 33, weighed 320 pounds and his 37-year-old wife weighed 250 pounds. Their weights as officially listed today after strenuous dieting are Sherman 277 pounds, and his wife, 214.

South Viet Nam Troops Kill 46 Red Guerrillas

SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnamese troops killed 46 Communist guerrillas in a clash about 50 miles southwest of Saigon, the army reports.

It was the latest skirmish in an almost continuous battle between the army and Red terrorists and occured in the rice farming area of Cailay. Government casualties were given as two dead, seven wounded.

Stewed Bruins Jig on a Mighty Jag

TRENT, Italy (AP)—Woodsmen near this Alpine town are still talking about the wildest bear dance since Salome shed the seventh veil.

It had every right to be a wing-ding—the two performing bears lapped up the better part of 250 quarts of wine between them.

Any way you want to look at bears and wine, that's a skinfull.

Prof. Peter Krott, custodian of the animals has been here for some time keeping tabs on their habits, all for the sake of science.

But the two bears sneaked out on the professor a couple of nights ago—and woodsmen of Lares in the valley of Genoa, near Trent, tell the rest of the tale:

The two prowlers raided a temporarily abandoned Alpine camp and ate their fill of sausage and other stored supplies.

Then they found, upturned and opened, five 50-quart demi-johns of north Italian wine and got a jag-sized snootfull.

The two bears reared up on their hind legs and tried everything from the Charleston to rock 'n' roll.

"Man," the amazed woodsmen told townsfolk afterward, "there never was anything like it."

Carnegie Hall to Gleam in White and Gold

NEW YORK (AP) — Carnegie Hall now 70 years old, is getting $66,000 worth of refurbishing.

The tired tomato shade of its interior will give way to gleaming white and gold, and chairs and floor will be covered with lively red fabrics.

Discovery of the Kimberly diamond mines in 1870 was the beginning of South Africa's change from a purely agricultural economic basis.

Anatomy Comes to the Forefront

Movies Bare More in Foreign Versions

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It's a hush-hush project but more and more movies, especially those involving nudity or semi-nudity, are being shot in two versions — one for Americans and the other for overseas audiences.

One of the girlie magazines recently printed pictures of Linda Cristal and John Saxon in a scene from the movie "Cry Tough," a story of Puerto Rican gang warfare in New York City.

The pictures showed Miss Cristal in bed wearing a slip for the American version. In the European version, there was no slip, in both versions, a bare-chested Saxon was involved in a clinch with the Argentine actress.

When the movie, "The Private Lives of Adam and Eve," was shot recently, dancer Barbara Walden did a primitive dance that was so torrid, it was cut completely out of the domestic version.

DANCE STAYED IN

A studio source, however, reports that the dance was even more torrid in the European version and it will stay in. In the American version, girls in the background of the dance were covered up. In the European version, the source added, the same girls play the scene bare-breasted.

Further accenting the more liberal attitude of European audiences toward nudity is the fact that word of Miss Walden's dance in the movie got her a lucrative night club engagement in London's Stork Club.

American television audiences recently saw a two-part Desilu series about the Capone era called "The Untouchables." Barbara Nichols, a curvesome blonde, played a stripper.

In the TV version, she wore a bra and merely started the bumps and grinds that are the trademark of the stripper.

The two-hour TV shows have been put together for showing as a movie in Europe and elsewhere. Barbara herself says the bra is off in the European version, and adds that the bumps and grinds are finished.

Studios have clamped a no-publicity edict on the closed sets where the European versions are shot.

The girls who pose semi-nude in the European versions figure that the exposure doesn't hurt their careers because the movies are not shown in America.

But, like the late, late show on television, it may all come back to haunt them someday. Since the U.S. Supreme Court decision on "Lady Chatterly's Lover," which hit at many local censoring groups in this country, some foreign film distributor could conceivably bring these European versions of American movies back here for showing in art houses.

AMERICAN VERSION — This is the costume Barbara Nichols wore in a TV show seen by Americans. She wore less for the European version.

Promising Young Star Disillusioned

England Movie Wage Slum, Says Actress

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For the first time, a trade paper reports, London has made more films in the last 12 months than Hollywood. British actress Mary Ure can tell you why.

"Actors receive slave wages—horribly low in England," says the blonde beauty. "Even American companies who shoot there pay far below what they pay in America."

Miss Ure, wife of British playwright John Osborne, says she is ashamed to disclose what she got for making "Sons and Lovers," Jerry Wald's production of the D. H. Lawrence novel.

* * *

"I negotiated my own contract, so I guess I have no one to blame but myself. Even Trevor Howard, one of the finest actors in the world, got far below his American price in London where the movie was made."

Miss Ure believes that American stars demand ridiculously high salaries.

BOTH EXTREME

"It's absurd to think an actress is worth a million dollars a picture," she says. "It's equally absurd for an actress to work for what we make in England. There should be a happy middle ground."

* * *

"Sons and Lovers" opened recently to rave reviews in London, especially for Miss Ure. It looks like a 2-million-dollar movie.

"Actually," she discloses, "it cost only $650,000 to make. See what I mean about low wages?"

Miss Ure, one of the most brilliant young British actresses in years, is here on a stage tour with Vivien Leigh in "Duel of Angels."

She more than holds her own with the First Lady of British theater. American movie audiences also saw her as the beaten wife of Richard Burton in "Look Back in Anger." She had created the same role on Broadway in the play written by her husband.

"I guess I am not eternally typed as a serious actress," she moans. "Actually, my great desire is to play Judy Holliday type roles. I've always wanted to be a dumb blonde."

But not, she adds, when it comes to negotiating contracts.

IT'S A PLEASURE — Sophia Loren had to learn a bit of judo for her role in "The Millionairess," as it was being shot in London, England. That's actor Dennis Price she's flipping.

'Actor, Not Comedian,' Says Randall

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tony Randall is one of Hollywood's top comedians, but please don't congratulate him for it.

He'll probably snap back like this:

"I don't consider myself a comedian. I'm an actor. Any skilled actor should be able to do comedy parts. But that's where the similarity ends."

Randall is a man of definite opinions. And he isn't afraid to voice them.

"There is only one thing worse than a man who doesn't have any strong likes and dislikes," he says, "That's a man who has strong opinions but not the courage to voice them."

Example of Randallism: "I like living in New York, and who wouldn't? From my apartment window there's a 180-degree skyline view that's breathtaking. Central Park is directly below the window and when it snows the thousands and thousans of trees make it look like a fairyland. And at night it's beautiful with all the lights in the buildings.

"You can walk anywhere in five minutes," he says. "Here in Hollywood it takes half an hour by car to get any place."

DAPHNE'S BACK — Jack Lemmon is scheduled to continue his "Daphne" bit of "Some Like It Hot" in the new film, "Pepe." That will be a far cry from his current film stint as a sharp Navy skipper in "The Wackiest Ship in the Army," filmed in Hawaii. Lemmon also stars in "The Apartment," currently showing in the Pontiac area.

Russian Movie Stars Like Hollywood Way

NEW YORK (UPI) — Two Russian movie stars and their director got the Hollywood treatment this week when their new film opened here. They liked it.

Stars Yulia Borisova and Yuri Yakovlev smiled for photographers and made the appropriate comments for interviewers' microphones.

But they seemed a bit bewildered by the reception and the crowd that milled outside the theater.

Yakovlev, Miss Birisova and director Ivan Pryiev were here for the premier of "The Idiot," based on the novel by Fedor Dostoevski.

The picture was brought here under auspices of the cultural exchange program and 20th Century-Fox.

Drivers of 16 to 20 years old are involved in five times as many accidents as drivers 45 to 50 years old.

Don't Wed Till Successful, Bobby Darin Tells Teens

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Singer Bobby Darin, with a quarter million dollars in earnings last year to back him up, passes out some advice to success-minded teenagers.

First, don't get married.

"This applies until you decide you can't make it careerwise, or until you have made it," says the 23-year-old rock 'n' roll graduate.

Darin has nothing against girls — it's just that one must be willing to give up social life to succeed.

"Before he has to take a job," Darin says, "the youngster should live it up — swing. But once he's doing what is right for him — and this is the big thing — he's got to start sacrificing."

A fellow is through when he starts thinking about going to a movie or a ball game instead of spending the same money on breathing lessons or an anthology of plays, Darin says. "He might as well get married."

Other necessities for success he cites are an understanding mother and the ability to avoid discouragement.

"As a 3-year-old I spent most of my time making the family laugh," he says. "I was uninhibited. My mother encouraged me, but she also told me there were millions of kids who wanted what I wanted and that the going would be tough."

Guidance of this sort is indispensable, Darin says, and he adds some advice for parents of aspiring entertainers:

"Let the child be a child. Once you make him feel shy, he will be shy. An entertainer must be an extrovert, because as soon as he stops and thinks 'Did I make a fool of myself?' he's lost. If he's only semisure of himself, the audience feels it, and it only half likes him."

NEW SYLVAN LAKE LUTHERAN CHURCH — Constructed of red face brick with white trim, the new Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church at Figa, Woodrow Wilson and St. Joseph streets will be dedicated Sunday. The congregation, organized in 1959, first held services in the old Pine Lake School on West Long Lake road near Middle Belt. The present site was purchased for $25,000; the cost of the building near $45,000. The congregation did much of the inside finishing. Ground breaking ceremony was in January 1960. The Rev. Clark B. McPhail is pastor. President of the church council is William Cotter; Robert Botsford Jr. is vice president; Ralph McAvoy, treasurer; and Edwin Reoch, financial and recording secretary.

Sylvan Lake Lutheran Will Be Dedicated Sunday

The new Sylvan Lake Lutheran Church on three acres of land bordered by Figa, Woodrow Wilson and St. Joseph streets, will be dedicated at 10:15 Sunday morning.

No early service or Sunday School will be held, but an open house is scheduled from 2 to 5 p.m. and again after the 7 p.m. service.

The Rev. Clark McPhail, pastor, will be liturgest for both morning and evening worship hours.

Lector for the morning service will be the Rev. E. H. Schaikhauser, assistant to the president of the Michigan District. Guest preacher will be the Rev. Robert Wietelmann, pastor of Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Royal Oak.

Morning organist will be Mrs. Marshall Gooley and Sue Meyers will play in the evening. The adult choir will sing, with Mrs. Edward Meyers directing.

William Cotter, president of the congregation, will accept the keys to the church at the door before the morning service from contractor Harry Shirley.

Lector for the evening service will be Dr. Norman Menter, president of the Michigan District of the American Lutheran Church.

Guest pastor will be the Rev. William Range of Bethel Lutheran Church in St. Clair Shores.

MAIN UNIT IN GREEN

The nave or worship area and chancel are in the main unit. Walls are painted sea frost green with stained glass windows of green, apricot and blue predominating.

The ceiling is white tectum deck. White frosted cylindrical light fixtures are suspended from the beams stained walnut.

Floors throughout the buildings are of corktone tile.

Paneled in walnut, the chancel is carpeted in light orchid with white pulpit, lectern, Communion rail and altar furnishings.

SECOND UNIT

In the second unit ceilings are beamed. Sunday School rooms, social area and narthex continue with the same green color scheme.

The nartex has a fireplace with glass sliding doors opening onto a patio with an outdoor fireplace for barbecues and outdoor picnics.

The office is in ivory; the kitchen is yellow with one wall papered in the old country store pattern. The nursery is blue with an Early American symbol print paper on one wall.

All other rooms are yellow with the women's lounge papered in a white background with yellow and apricot roses.

The Rev. Mr. McPhail said he was grateful to people of the community for consenting to the building program; and to the Episcopal Church of the Advent for the use of its building for cooperative dinners.

The public is invited to all services and the open house Sunday, he added.

500 Members Attend Assembly

Some 500 Jehovah's Witnesses of Pontiac congregations will attend the "Peace-Pursuing District Assembly" in Briggs Stadium, Detroit, Thursday through July 31.

William F. Strong, presiding minister of the local congregations, said it has been necessary to cancel meetings at the Kingdom Halls in Pontiac and Drayton Plains, as so many members will attend the assembly.

"The convention will further the understanding and good will among various races and nationalities of Jehovah's Witnesses, said Mr. Strong.

"It will also demonstrate how the Bible message and Christian living in peace can unite people from all walks of life, regardless of race or other backgrounds that tend to divide the world."

Watchtower convention officials in Detroit, said that an attendance of 40,000 persons is expected for the four-day gathering.

Delegates with their families will arrive from some 20 states and Canada.

FRANZ TO SPEAK

Fred W. Franz, vice president of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York, will give the principal address at 3 p.m. on July 31.

His subject will be "Security During the War of the Great Day of God, The Almighty."

Mrs. William F. Strong, Mrs. Floyd A. Patton and Charity Delao of the Pontiac congregations are helping register delegates in hotels, motels and in private homes.

Full-time pioneers, Mrs. Strong and Mrs. Patton devote at least 100 hours a month to house to house missionary activity of the society.

All sessions are free and open to the public. No collections will be taken, Mrs. Strong said.

Lay Missionary to Show Slides

Edward Dicke Family Sponsored by St. Paul Lutheran Church

Edward Dicke, lay missionary from New Guinea, will speak and show color slides of his work at the 10:45 Sunday morning service at the St. Paul Lutheran Church, 514 Fourth St.

He will speak at 9 a.m. to the Sunday School.

Business manager of Lutheran missions in New Guinea, Mr. Dicke will tell of the supplies, food and medical aid at the mission stations.

Following the service a cooperative dinner will be held on the church lawn. This will give members of the congregation an opportunity to get better acquainted with the Dicke family.

Women of St. Paul will entertain for Mrs. Dicke at an open house at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

For several years the congregation has sponsored the Dickes who are now on furlough for a year.

Organ Recitals at Stake Center

Performers to Play 22-Rank Instrument on Sunday Afternoons

A series of 10 free organ recitals will be offered in the new Stake Center of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) on Woodward avenue at Chesterfield road, Bloomfield Hills.

The recitals will be held at 2:30 on Sunday afternoons beginning tomorrow.

Four organists will be featured during the series. Ila Mae Richardson of Detroit, a graduate of Brigham Young University, will open the series.

She will be followed by John Weeks of Detroit, Beverlee Williams of Berkley and Kenneth Parry of Ann Arbor.

Mr. Parry is a student of Frank Asper, well-known organist for the Mormon Tabernacle Choir of Salt Lake City.

Programs will offer a variety of selections of both serious and light vein. Familiar hymns, especially hymns of the Mormon pioneers will be featured.

The well-known "Come, Come Ye Saints" pioneer hymn, composed by the early migrants to Utah will be rendered. Performers will play on the 22-rank Estee pipe organ which has recently been completed. The organ is valued at $40,000.

Following each recital, guide tours throughout the unique building will enable visitors to inspect the structure which has created much comment throughout the Detroit area.

Sermons Inadequate?

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—"Tennessee Williams and William Faulkner are telling us more about man's depravity than the church is," says the Rev. C. A. Roberts, who spent a year living among beatniks. "Problems of boredom, worry and guilty will not be solved by the same old sermons, and today's churches are not trying to solve their communications problems."

COOK CALLS — In charge of planning and preparing breakfast, lunch and dinner at Pontiac Holiness Camp meetings at Evangelical Tabernacle, 2800 Watkins Lake Rd., is Mrs. J. C. Hodge. Beginning Thursday, services will continue through July 31.

20th Annual Camp Meeting Continues Through July 31

The 20th annual camp meeting of the Pontiac Holiness Camp, an affiliate of the National Holiness Assn. started Thursday.

It will continue through July 31 at the Evanglistic Tabernacle, 2800 Watkins Lake Rd.

The Rev. A. J. Baughey, president of the camp and pastor of the Tabernacle, said "three services are being held daily, at 10:30 a.m., 2:30 and 7:30 p.m.

"It has been the policy of Pontiac Holiness Camp to entertain all guests with meals and rooms free of charge. All expenses are covered on the free-will offering plan.

"Overnight guests will be housed in a 20-unit motel newly painted a flamingo pink with white trim."

The camp meeting had its origin in 1940 at the old location, 40 Tilden St. When the congregation outgrew facilities the present 19½ acres was purchased.

All new and larger buildings have been erected on the present grounds which include the Tabernacle adulitorium, 80x120 feet; a 50x80 foot dining hall, an evangelist's cottage, caretaker's cottage and the motel.

* * *

A new parsonage is currently under construction on the grounds.

CUT COST

Men and boys have helped keep the cost of the building by doing much of the work.

Workers during the camp meeting include the Rev. Lewis E. Latham of Atlanta, Ga., the Rev. G. A. Gaines of Orange, Calif., Mrs. Julia A. Shelton of Winona Lake, Ind. and the Rev. Lloyd Day, president of Gods' Bible School and College at Cincinnati, Ohio.

Other speakers are the Rev. Abdul Khaliq, a native preacher from India, and the Rev. Billie Holstein of Rae Barali, India.

Directing the musical programs are Professor and Mrs. William Tromble, instructors of music at Owosso Bible College.

The Rev. Mr. Baughey said the public is welcome to attend.

Church Musicians Study at 6th Annual Conference

EAST LANSING — Seven Pontiac area church officials were among those participating in the Church Music Workshop Sunday through Friday at Michigan State University.

The group included Frederick Bellinger of Trinity Baptist; Katherine L. Danielson of St. John Lutheran; Mrs. Mary Patrick of United Presbyterian in Auburn Heights; Mrs. Alice Smith of Orchard Lake Presbyterian; Mrs. Roy Borland of First Congregational, Romeo; and Mrs. John Mulder and Mrs. Dorothy McKibben of Methodist Churches in Walled Lake.

More than 140 church musicians from around the nation studied organ techniques, choral singing, conducting and other related topics at this sixth annual conference.

The Rev. Philip Watters, minister of Washington Square Methodist Church, New York, and a member of the workshop staff, noted that the singing of hymns is one of the very oldest forms of divine worship.

The Rev. Mr. Watters, a leading authority on hymnology, said that the singing of hymns tends to unify a congregation.

People enter church in different moods, he said, but the singing of hymns instills reverence and respect, and unites the group into one worshipping body.

Hymns are also valuable as a tool in religious education, he said. Often, he stated, theological concepts, such as that of the "Trinity," are more effectively carried to the people by hymns such as the "Doxology" than by all the preaching on the subject.

"QUESTIONS THAT NEVER SHOULD HAVE BEEN ASKED"

This article marks the final discussion of this subject in this series. I have in these articles endeavored only to present to you the words of the Lord as it pertains to the subjects discussed. The questions discussed have been those which have been constantly asked by religious minded people who are seeking to know the truth on these subjects. The question today involves the subject of church attendance. The question: MUST A PERSON ATTEND THE SERVICES OF THE CHURCH TO BE SAVED?

In recent years much discussion has been existent regarding what has been described as CHRISTIANITY AND CHURCH-ANITY. Some claiming one may be a christian without the church, others claiming that the church has been forced upon the christian, and a few claiming that the christian is a part of the church. Bible students should know that ONE CANNOT BE A CHRISTIAN WITHOUT BEING IN THE CHURCH, FOR TO BE A CHRISTIAN IS TO BE A MEMBER OF THE CHURCH AND TO BE A MEMBER OF THE CHURCH IS TO BE A CHRISTIAN. We read, "And the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved", Acts 2:47. The church is not being forced upon the christian for the christian makes up the church, we read, "Ye (the people) are the body of Christ and members in particular." I Cor. 12:27. With these facts in mind, allow me to point out that membership in the church involves duties and responsibilities.

I. ONE MUST CONSISTENTLY ATTEND THE ASSEMBLY, Heb. 10:25. If one does what he is told not to do, does that individual obey the Lord? Surely he does not, and since he does not obey the Lord, will the Lord save him?

II. ONE MUST GIVE TO SUPPORT THE SPREADING OF THE GOSPEL AND FOR THE RELIEF OF THE POOR. Acts 6: 1, 2; Eph. 4:28; I Cor. 16:1, 2; I Cor. 9:14.

I am aware that many have misused funds which have been contributed for specific causes and many have used fraudulent means to obtain THE MODERN GOD, MONEY, and that even many professed teachers of the word are not trustworthy, yet God's plan involves giving to this work and we are expected to conform. If we do not, do we obey the Lord? We are to glorify God in the church, Eph. 3:21, see also Eph. 3:10.

III. ONE MUST COMMUNE REGULARLY, Acts 20:7. This service is generally practiced by the majority who regard the emphasis the Bible places on communion, yet unfortunately many do not observe it regularly however, if the Lord expects such of us and we did not observe it nor practice it according to his dictates, we do not disobey? I answer, we do.

IV. WE SHOULD SING, Heb. 2:12.

V. WE SHOULD STUDY GOD'S BOOK, THE BIBLE, Acts 20:7. According to these teachings, it is essential to come together, I Cor. 14:26, I Cor. 11:20, Acts 20:7, and worship God as a unified people and in obedience and to disobey is sin and to die in sin is to be lost. We read, "I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sins; whither I go, ye cannot come, Jno. 8:21. BELIEVETH THOU THIS?

Seek No Crowning

NEW YORK (AP) — Pickets marched in front of the Nixon-for President headquarters Friday carrying posters reading: "We want a convention not a coronation — Draft Rockefeller." The pickets were members of the New York Draft-Rockefeller Committee.

'Weak' Planks Worry Rocky

Not Specific, He Says of Domestic, Defense, Foreign Affairs Drafts

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's office reported today he is "deeply concerned" over reports that Republican platform writers have come up with draft planks which he calls "seriously lacking in strength and specifics."

The statement of the New York governor's views was given out by his press secretary, Robert L. McManus, as subcommittees of the platform committee settled down to putting party declarations on paper. The platform is to be approved by the party's national convention next Wednesday night.

The statement said Rockefeller, who is very available for the GOP presidential nomination but not an avowed candidate, has been in close touch with all platform developments through a special staff in Chicago.

McManus went on: "At the same time, he (Rockefeller) is deeply concerned that the reports reaching him clearly indicate that the drafts on a number of matters — including national defense, foreign policy and some critical domestic issues—are still seriously lacking in strength and specifics.

"These matters are among the most important in the whole platform.

Pennsy Medical Society Honors Negro Doctor

COATESVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Dr. Whittier C. Atkinson, 67, is the first Negro to be named "General Practitioner of the Year" by the Pennsylvania Medical Society.

Dr. Atkinson came here in 1927 —soon after graduation from Howard Medical School—at the urging of a friend. For many years he was the only Negro doctor in Coatesville, a community of 13,000 near Philadelphia built on the steel industry.

"There was a time," he said Thursday night after hearing of the honor, "when I saw a patient go to a hospital, but I couldn't go into that hospital and treat that patient."

"But this is history. I've been president of the Chester County Medical Society, I've been active in civic life in a fine community, my practice is integrated, and I've seen and had a hand in replacing dilapidated, unsanitary homes with public projects," he said.

Dr. Atkinson will receive the award at the society's annual meeting in Atlantic City, N. J., in October. It describes him as a man "who has most faithfully performed outstanding service in his practice of medicine and contributed greatly to the general welfare of his community."

Perhaps the greatest contribution of the Georgia-born doctor is a hospital—built with his own money and given to the town in 1946.

It was opened in 1932, with five beds, and it still stands next to the home Dr. Atkinson occupies with his wife and 14-year-old son.

That hospital now has 25 beds, a staff of eight doctors, and six registered nurses. The staff is both white and Negro, and the Clement Atkinson Memorial Hospital belongs to the community, a gift of the doctor in memory of his father.

Medics Advised to Plan Health

Must Help in Drafting System or Be Left Out, Says Midland Doctor

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A general practitioner says American physicians must assume a positive role in national health planning or be forced into a system they don't want.

Dr. Roy J. Harvey of Midland, Mich., told the American Osteopathic Assn. Thursday night that hostility of some physicians toward health planning in which they would share responsibility and authority with others, has created a situation with no middle ground for discussion.

He said if lay groups can't get cooperation from physicians in their planning, they will stop asking for it.

"Eventually we may have to accept something not of our making and not of our liking," he said.

Dr. Harvey, who is president of the AOA, said it should be made clear that "we are more concerned about providing proper health care for all than with the manner in which it is paid."

Johnson Catching Up on Writing and Resting

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP)—Vacationing Democratic Vice-presidential nominee Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas devoted Friday largely to catching up on correspondence and resting.

The senator went fishing in the blue Pacific waters during the morning with his wife. He had no luck; she caught a large shark.

NEW YORK (AP) — Al Hoffman, 58, who with Dick Manning wrote such popular songs as "Heartaches," "Papa Loves Mambo" and "Mairzy Doats," died Thursday in the Hospital for Joint Diseases.

Student to Be President of College Next Month

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) —Arend D. Lubbers, 28, graduate student at Rutgers University, had a little extra incentive to buckle down to his studies today. He'll be a college president next month.

Lubbers will take over as president of Central College in Pella, Iowa, a coeducational liberal arts school with 450 students. Central officials said Lubbers would be the youngest head of an accredited American college.

Educational administration will not be new to the history student. He's been vice president of Central since last year.

Lubbers succeeds Dr. G. T. Vander Lugt, 62, who is taking another teaching position. Lubbers' father, Irwin J. Lubbers, was president of Central from 1934 to 1945.

The elder Lubbers is now head of Hope College, Holland, Mich., where both father and son received their bachelor degrees.

Lubbers was graduadted in 1953 and earned a master's degree at Rutgers in 1956. He is attending the Rutgers summer session to work toward his doctor's degree in history.

Ivan Gets Taken to the Cleaners in Moscow Shops

MOSCOW (AP) — Dry cleaners are getting a stained reputation in Russia.

The newspaper Trud reported some Muscovites report getting garments back with more spots than they had when they were sent to the cleaners.

Trud cited a woman whose coat was returned with one cuff torn off. It said when she demanded the cuff be sewn back on she was told: "You are naive. We have a whole room filled with torn-off cuffs. It would be easier to find a needle in a haystack than to find your cuff."

In desperation she asked what she should do, Trud said. The reply: "Tear off the other cuff."

NEW YORK (AP) — Clare Boothe Luce, former U. S. ambassador to Italy, has entered Doctors Hospital for diagnosis of a gastro intestinal problem, her physician said Friday.

Find Who Had Buttons

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Two patient pilferers made themselves a tidy fortune by stealing from the button factory where they worked. Police said Luis Magayon and Alvaro Valencia walked out with an average of 500 buttons a day and got away with a million buttons before they were caught.

Beware . . .

of Unknown Building Contractors!

In the last few weeks, Pontiac area house owners have been flooded with offers of re-siding and modernization jobs "at cost or below."

This is the old "model home" racket in which the prospect is apparently offered a substantial discount if he will only let the salesman use his home as a model.

In a particular instance, the home owner was promised a "$1,600 job for only $1,030." A local contractor's bid on the same job was $850. Other know examples follow the same pattern.

Before you sign a contract, remember these things

1. If you have signed with a contractor who does not have a state license, your contract is void.
2. If you permit work to be done on your house without a city or township permit, you may be in trouble.
3. Always get at least two bids.
4. For your own safety, deal only with local, reputable contractors.

Learn Importance of Being Earnest

Cranbrook Students Sincere

BY MARGARET BROWN

Students at Cranbrook's Summer Theater School neither earn grades nor suffer disciplinary penalties, but the rules for participation in the summer educational project are as rigid as those in a military academy.

"Those who enroll must have serious intentions of investing their time and energy in learning something about the dramatics arts," state the school's brochures. "We have no interest in students who fail to realize the seriousness of our effort."

The drama students, who may range in age from nine to 23, are accepted on the basis of an interview or recommendation from a qualified person. Divided into sections, "the young theater enthusiasts study in five groups: junior, intermediate, young senior, older senior and preprofessional.

Younger students concentrate on creative dramatics, dramatic play, body work and dancing and advance to classes in voice, speech and pantomime—presenting weekly and final plays.

High schoolers and older pupils perfect skills in body work, voice, stage make-up, pantomime and performance.

The art of directing is taught in the preprofessional division where students who plan to go on with theater study.

Offered for boys of any age is a new course in stage design, set building and lighting.

Absence or tardiness, considered "thoughtless and inconsiderate to the group," is not tolerated as the youngsters progress on their full and varied daily schedule.

An exceptional staff, headed by director Carl G. Wonnberger, sets the students' professional pace in all phases of the drama.

Recipient of an M.A. degree from Harvard University and an A.B. degree from the University of Pennsylvania, Mr. Wonnberger is head of the English department at Cranbrook School and a former instructor at the Rice School of the Theater. A former special instructor in English at Wayne State University, he has authored magazine articles on drama and appeared with numerous professional groups. Annetta Bouton Wonnberger is co-director.

Juniors and intermediates will present their final plays Wednesday and Friday and end their session July 30. Concluding productions of seniors and others will be presented Aug. 1-13.

The school attempts not only to provide students interested in a professional theater career a sound background in their chosen art but to encourage personal development, to foster an interest in community dramatics and "... to give students poise no matter what their future aim may be."

At the same time the studious Thespians are gaining a rich cultural background of immeasurable benefit to them in the high school or university classroom.

Julia Ann Hickman Weds

Arrangements of white and gold chrysanthemums and gladioli graced the altar in Our Lady of the Lakes Church, Waterford, for wedding vows of Julia Ann Hickman pledged to Karl William Mantyla of Detroit at noon today. The Rev. Joseph Janiga officiated.

Hosts at the buffet luncheon and reception for 250 guests in the Community Activities Building on Williams Lake road were the bride's parents the Don Lewis Hickmans of LaForest drive, Waterford.

Preceding the bride to the altar was honor matron Mrs. Jack Davidson of Waterford, in ballerina-length turquoise silk organza worn with white velvet headband.

Sara and Mary Hickman were their sister's bridesmaids with their cousin Diane C. Barnes of Livonia and the bridegroom's sister Dina Greenway of Detroit. They wore ballerina-length rose silk organza over matching taffeta and lace.

MRS. KARL W. MANTYLA

CARRY WHITE ROSES

All attendants carried white roses and pale gold chrysanthemums.

The bride's floor-length gown of white silk organza over taffeta featured a Victorian bell-shaped hoop skirt and bell sleeves. The round neckline was accented with lace appliqué in a daisy motif. Elbow-length veiling was held by a lace crown.

White roses and chrysanthemums were included in the bridal cascade bouquet.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Wilma Greenway of Detroit and Carl W. Mantyla of Royal Oak, had his cousin, Jack Kinney of Detroit, as best man. The usher corps included the bride's brothers Jerry and Timothy and her cousins William Wood of Waterford and Michael Barnes of Livonia.

The bride attends Wayne State University and her husband is enrolled at the University of Detroit. While on a Canadian honeymoon, they will attend the Shakespearian Festival at Stratford-on-Avon in Ontario. They have taken an apartment in Detroit.

Mrs. Hickman chose a dress of gold printed silk for her daughter's wedding. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in blue lace.

Pattie Sumpter Weds Philip LaPine

Pattie Lenora Sumpter, formerly of Bloomfield Terraces, and Philip J. LaPine were married this morning in the Shrine of the Little Flower, Royal Oak.

The Rev. Louis Rohr O.F.M. performed the ceremony before an altar decked with snapdragons and gladioli.

Daughter of Mrs. Carrie Ingrham and Ernest Sumpter, both of Whitesburg, Ky., the bride chose floor-length white peau de soie with chapel train. Seed pearl embroidery enhanced the empire bodice of Alencon lace styled with a sweetheart neckline.

Silk illusion veiling was anchored by a Juliet cap of Alencon lace, re-embroidered with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. An orchid centered the bride's cascade bouquet of stephanotis.

A cascade of yellow roses complemented the silk and cotton Empire sheath dress of chalk blue for Katheryn Sumpter of Pontiac, honor maid for her sister. Another sister, Mrs. Jonah Mitchell of Dearborn served as bridesmaid with Mrs. Clifford Marsh of Pontiac and Mrs. John LaPine of Clawson.

They carried yellow carnations and wore blue shoes and blue veiled headbands trimmed with small blue flowers and seed pearls.

Debra and Robin Mitchell in white nylon organdy over blue with blue cummerbunds and matching tulle picture hats, carried blue carnations in yellow baskets at their aunt's wedding. Daniel LaPine, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring-bearer.

The bridegroom asked his twin brother John LaPine of Clawson to be his best man and another brother, Lt. James LaPine of George AFB, Calif., to usher. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Ignatius LaPine of Evergreen drive, Royal Oak. Jonah Mitchell of Dearborn and Gordon Jagger of Ferndale completed the usher list.

To greet guests at the reception at Rotunda Inn, Mrs. Ingrham chose a blue and white silk print and corsage of white glamellias. White accessories and pink glamellias accented Mrs. LaPine's blue silk and cotton sheath dress.

Returning from a three-week honeymoon in the New England states and New York City, the couple will be at home in Clawson.

MRS. PHILIP J. LaPINE

Suzanne Lemke Marries Harry Sherman Nichols

After a reception in Bloomfield Hills Country Club, Harry Sherman Nichols Jr. and his bride, the former Suzanne Therese Lemke left for four weeks of travel in western Europe.

The Rev. Francis J. Stack solemnized the nuptials at noon today in St. Hugo of the Hills Church.

Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lemke of Wing Lake road, Bloomfield Township, and the Harry Sherman Nichols Jr. of Vaughn road, Bloomfield Hills.

Applique of rose pointe heirloom lace accented the scoop neckline of the bride's princess-line gown of ivory peau de soie.

The Empire bodice extended into long tapering sleeves and the bell-shaped skirt fullness swept into a chapel train.

A shell cap of the lace caught her veil of silk illusion. She carried cypripedium orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. James John Yaw of Detroit was her sister's matron of honor. Serving as bridesmaids were Mrs. Bernard P. Costello Jr. of Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. Leo J. Brennan Jr. of Birmingham and Rosene Markley of Detroit.

Open-crown picture hats of light green horsehair with darker green trim complemented their green-and-white candy-stripe silk organza dresses. Styled with scoop neckline and cap sleeves, a darker green cummerbund and large Dior bow accented the waistline above the back fullness.

On the esquire side were Lawrence B. Williams of Birmingham, with ushers, James T. Sakai of Troy, Ohio, John G. Hayward of Royal Oak, James C. Holmes of Birmingham and Robert K. Hydon of Grosse Pointe.

Certainly, Tip Was Necessary

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My brother-in-law and his wife recently moved into a very exclusive apartment hotel. They invited us over one evening and we went with my wife's sister and her husband in their car. There was a uniformed doorman at the apartment building who said he would take care of parking the car. During the evening, the subject of the doorman's service came up.

My brother-in-law said that it would not be necessary to tip the doorman because this service was included in the cost of the apartment. I learned several days later that my wife's sister told her husband to tip the doorman.

She told my wife it was the proper thing to do despite what we were told, and she thought I should have given the tip to compensate for the convenience of their car and it was "cheap" on my part not to do so.

Was a tip necessary, and if so, should I have been the one to give it?

Answer: A tip was necessary. The owner of the car is responsible for it and gives it, but if you were close to the doorman and could conveniently have given it to him, it would have been proper for you to have done so.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is the word "Sir" strictly used by men alone? What I mean is, is it proper when speaking to an older man, for a woman to call him "Sir?"

Answer: It is proper for a woman to call an elderly or eminent gentleman, "Sir."

MOMs Gather for Luncheon

A buffet luncheon followed a meeting of MOMS of America, Inc. Zone 8 Past Presidents' Club Thursday. Mrs. Arthur Burgess of Joslyn avenue was hostess for the gathering.

Mrs. L. R. Naugle offered the prayer of understanding and conducted a memorial service for Mrs. Mary Sickman.

Hostess for the Aug. 18 meeting will be Mrs. Frank Polasek of Squirrel court. Mrs. L. B. Arnold will assist.

Picnic Sunday

Crescent Lake Park will be the scene of the Crescent Lake Park Assn. annual dinner Sunday. The public affair will begin at noon.

Good advice on "company linens: Keep using them—don't save them! And launder often to prevent yellowing and fading.

Show 'Meg Dress'

A replica of Princess Margaret's wedding gown is on display in the lobby window of the Alicia Bridal Salon.

Music Students Play

Personal Jottings

Two Pontiac Central High School students who are attending National Music Camp at Interlochen appeared Thursday evening in an outdoor concert directed by Dr. William Revelli on University of Michigan campus.

Sara Wood, flutist, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Wood of Pingree avenue, and Michael Pierce, drummer, son of Mrs. Ivan Pierce of North Anderson street, played with the 80-piece ensemble of percussion and wind instruments. The group was selected from some 240 band instruments students at the all-state camp.

Members of the ensemble were guests of the university from Sunday through Thursday, quartered in dormitories on campus.

Mr. and Mrs. Darell Thomas Healey (Lillian Faye Blair) of Warringham drive, Drayton Plains, announce the birth of a son, Scott Thomas, July 6 in Pontiac General Hospital.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold R. Blair of Merry road, Waterford Township and the V. C. Healeys of Warringham street, Drayton Plains.

Vacation plans for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wells of Fremont avenue, Waterford Township, include a motor trip to Alpena and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. The couple will return by way of the Indian River area.

Recent visitors to the Western Michigan University campus in Kalamazoo include Philip Gaukler, Joan Prutow, Barbara Strang, Linda Dorris, John Langdon and James Moyer all of Pontiac, also William Wright of Bloomfield Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Malion William Pittman of Holmur drive, Waterford township, entertained as house guests over last weekend Mr. and Mrs. Don McGaffee of Phoenix, Ariz. and the John Ekstrands of Des Moines, Iowa.

The B. J. Ekstrands of Des Moines were house guests of the Fred A. Cowans, also of Holmur drive.

Among recent visitors at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, were Philip Gaukler, Joan Prutow, Barbara Strang, Linda Dorris, John Langdon and James Moyer of Pontiac and William Wright of Bloomfield Hills.

They are enrolled as freshmen at WMU for the fall semester.

Harnack-Carline Vows Repeated

The Rev. Robert D. Winne performed the candlelight nuptials of Judith Ellen Carline and Jerry William Harnack Friday evening in Waterford Community Church before some 250 guests.

Altar flowers were white chrysanthemums, gladioli and carnations.

The Alan Champion Carlines of Fourth avenue were hosts at their daughter's church reception following the doubling ceremony. Receiving with them were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clement Harnack of Saline drive, Waterford Township, parents of the bridegroom.

The ballerina-length bridal gown of white Chantilly lace over taffeta was styled with fitted bodice and large white Dior bow of satin in the back. A fingertip-length veil of silk illusion fell from a crown of seed pearls and teardrop crystals.

White roses, carnations and an orchid comprised the bridal cascade bouquet.

Styled with white lace bodices were dresses of pink polished cotton for honor matron, Mrs. Ronald Kind of Chicago, and the bridegroom's sisters, Judith and Janie, who served as bridesmaid and flower girl respectively.

They carried pink roses and white carnations.

Duties of best man were performed by Ronald Kind of Chicago. Dale Ryan of Waterford was groomsman and Charles Cowie and David Carter seated the guests.

White orchid corsages complemented Mrs. Carline's dress of turquoise and white nylon and the violet cotton with white lace trim, chosen by the mother of the bridegroom.

After a honeymoon in western Michigan, the couple will be at home on Windiate drive, Waterford.

MRS. JERRY W. HARNACK

Foursquares Pick Officers

Mrs. Bert Weddle has been elected president of the Foursquare Club. Her coofficers are Mrs. Albert Kugler vice president, and Mrs. Edna Warden, secretary-treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Weddle of Oxley drive were hosts to club members and their families for the annual picnic and election of officers Thursday.

Reveal Engagments

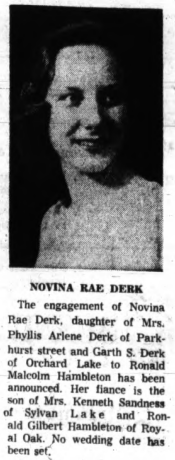
PATRICIA K. EATON

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walter Eaton of West Longfellow avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Patricia Kay to George Dewey Crockett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frank Belew of West Ypsilanti avenue. A Sept. 24 wedding date has been named.



NOVINA RAE DERK

The engagement of Novina Rae Derk, daughter of Mrs. Phyllis Arlene Derk of Parkhurst street and Garth S. Derk of Orchard Lake to Ronald Malcolm Hambleton has been announced. Her fiance is the son of Mrs. Kenneth Sandness of Sylvan Lake and Ronald Gilbert Hambleton of Royal Oak. No wedding date has been set.

Here's What's Current on Birmingham Scene

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BIRMINGHAM — When Mr. and Mrs. Robin Morton moved from Wing Lake to San Francisco about a year ago their daughter Clarissa (better known as Cliquot to her friends) stayed here, taking an apartment with her sister on 13-Mile road.

"Cliquot" will be married Aug. 6 to Harley Davis Warner of Farmington and Mrs. Morton has come for the wedding in Christ Church Cranbrook and is staying with the bridegroom elect's mother Mrs. Howard Warner in Farmington. Dr. and Mrs. Herman Scarney will entertain for the couple the following day at their Orchard Lake home and the same evening Richard's parents the Herman L. Hartzells, here from their home in Anderson, will give the rehearsal dinner.

Fall Collection In Step With Tradition

Dior Muffles Fashion Firecrackers for N. Y.

UPI WOMEN'S EDITOR

NEW YORK (UPI)—The house of Christian Dior traditionally sets off its fashion salvos in Paris instead of New York.

It keeps to tradition for fall. The New York collection show yesterday was more wearable than startling, and right in tune with what most other American designers did for the coming season. Namely, dropped the waistline.

If the firm plans any new silhouette to rock the fashion world, we will learn about it July 27, when the Paris collection is shown reporters.

Yves St. Laurent, the slightly-built, respectacled young designer who succeeded the late Dior, called the look of his New York collection "Soignee." (Dior collections have had "new look" of 1947, which hauled hemlines to a post-war low.)

Suit jackets were longer than last season, ranging from midhip to wristbone. These had "implied" fit, skimming the figure in front, falling straight at the back.

The longer torso, or dropped waist, theme ran through the collection.

Afternoon dresses nonchalantly skimmed the torso to the hipbone and from there, swung out with fine gathers, and then narrowed again at the hemline to give what the firm called "a charming decanter shape."

Some costumes were unbelted. Others were belted loosely at the upper hipbone.

Shoulders got the rounded or Dolman treatment in many suits and coats. Collars were constructed in many cases to stand away from the neckline.

Some costumes were collarless. Sleeve lengths ranged from the elbow to the mid-forearm. Suit skirts were slim, but some had hip yokes and slight gathers falling from the yoke to give walking ease.

LANTERN COATS

St. Laurent introduced the lantern silhouette for several coats—a sort of triangle with narrow shoulders and controlled fullness graduating toward the hemline.

Mollie Parnis, one of Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower's favorite designers, produced some of the most becoming clothes in the showings yesterday—last day of the couture group's semiannual press week.

One dropped waistline silhouette was reminiscent of the clothes worn by the small boy in the Buster Brown shoe advertisements. It consisted of boxy overblouse with self-belt at the hip, and slim skirt.

Sleeves on the Buster Browns were three-quarter length, and collars were set off with big taffeta bows at the front.

Miss Parnis showed another sleeve shape which she called the stovepipe—a rounded shape set in a dropped shoulder. Several after-five dresses came with apron fronts.

CALLS THEM BASIC

Jean Louis, the Hollywood designer who returned to New York to design the fall collection for Ben Reig's firm, apparently figured all of us women have unlimited bank accounts. Some of the elegant costumes were in the four-figure price category. A Russian broadtail coat trimmed in sable was described casually as "basic." Another "basic" was of vicuna with sable.

Louis lined a coat of jaguar with black-dyed nutria; others, fabric on one side, were lined with pale mink, black mink, ocelot and India lamb.

Suits also were furred—trimmed with mink, sable or chinchilla. Some suit jackets looked more like overcoats, ending slightly above the knee.

Designer Anne Fogarty, who for years made the shirtwaist and petticoat her trademarks, pulled a switch this fall.

She included sheaths, with an eased and lowered waistline, and a shape called the goblet—with full skirt moulded in the shape of the glass from which the name came.

For sportswear, she produced cardigan jackets of mock broadtail, curly lamb and orlon pile fur combined with doeskin or velveteen slacks. A Fogarty special: the coverall, outstanding in white belted with phony pony.

As summer advances, white and pale-toned shoes give way to open, airy sandals in glittering black patent leather. They're cool and therefore comfortable.

This is the right time of year to buy a second or third bathing suit. You can finish out the summer with it and carry it over to next year.

Drinks in Poor Taste: Abby

Wrong Time to Guzzle

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday the little girl next door received her first communion. She was dressed from head to toe in white and looked like an angel. Her parents gave her a party. Not a party for a 7-year-old, but an adult party with drinks and canapes for all their friends.

ABBY

We went but we didn't want to mix our drinks with a little girl's communion day. We'll drink and joke and dance, but not at a party for a little girl who is so full of her church and God.

Why didn't her parents give her a party with ice cream and cake and children's fun? By 10 o'clock the parents and guests were in no communion day condition. Why do people do this?

LITTLE GIRL'S FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Some people use every occasion as an excuse to "whoop it up." Parents who plan to entertain in honor of a child should think twice before making this kind of blunder. It's unfair to the child AND in the poorest possible taste.

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a person who would steel four rose bushes off a grave? A week ago I planted four small rose bushes on the grave of my beloved late wife. When I went there yesterday they were gone and the holes were refilled. This is the second time this has happened.

The superintendent of the cemetery and the foreman expressed surprise at my complaint but offered no solution. Perhaps you, or one of your readers, can offer one.

Very truly yours,
M. C. S.

DEAR MR. S.: The guard at the cemetery is hired to prevent such atrocities. Perhaps he needs police assistance.

DEAR ABBY: My problem is very unusual. I am considered very beautiful and have a very lovely figure, but nobody wants to take me out more than twice because they say I am so attractive they would never be able to hold onto me.

I am 21 and in love with a wonderful guy, but he stopped seeing me for the same reason.

How can I convince people that beauty is only skin deep and it's what is on the inside of a person that really counts? I feel like a China doll that nobody wants to touch for fear it might break.

CHINA DOLL

DEAR CHINA DOLL: Open those big baby doll eyes and look at the truth. Beauty never has been and never will be a handicap to a girl who has brains and personality to back it up. If men do not date a beautiful girl with a lovely figure more than twice, she had better get her best friend to tell her the real reason.

CONFIDENTIAL TO ED: If you are willing to admit you are all wrong when you are all wrong, then you are all right.

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teenagers Want to Know," send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of The Pontiac Press.

Avoids Fatigue, Congestion

Thin Gals Need Exercise

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Since exercise is helpful in a reducing routine, many women who wish to gain weight think that it is not for them. Actually exercise is a normalizer. In my opinion it is very important for the underweight person.

It stimulates circulation, increases appetite, builds muscle tone, decreases nervous tension and induces sound sleep. Muscle development also rounds out curves.

Abdominal prolapsus is a problem many very thin women have. Too little fat padding and weak muscles may allow the internal organs to slump, causing strain, fatigue and congestion.

SWIMMING, WALKING

The underweight girl or woman should not take strenuous exercise and she should stop long before she is tired.

Swimming and walking are two of the best exercises for her. Setting up exercises are splendid if they are of the stretching type or done in a lazy, "rag doll" fashion. Here are two for you.

Stand tall, feet separated and arms hanging at your sides. Bend the trunk forward, letting the arms and head flop downward. Raise the trunk, lower the head backward and raise the arms sideward, shoulder height. Again let the trunk, head and arms flop downward. Continue. Do this in a lazy manner.

Another: Lie on the bed on your back, legs straight and arms resting on the bed overhead. Bend the left knee up close to the abdomen. Grasp the knee with the hands. Straighten the knee and return leg to the bed and arms to overhead position. Take time now to stretch. Bend the right knee and continue, alternating left and right.

SPECIAL EXERCISES

Many underweight women need special exercise to increase the bust measurement and to develop the calves of the legs.

If you have this problem and would like to have my corrective exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7 Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Patricia Eaton Names Wedding Attendants

Patricia Kay Eaton named attendants for her forthcoming marriage to George Dewey Croker at a shower in the Fourth avenue home of Mrs. Robert L. Bashaw. Mrs. Raymond Boatright was cohostess.

Mrs. Richard Henry Lehman will be her sister's matron of honor. Madeline Johnson, Helen Boatright and the bridegroom's sister Mrs. Virginia Myers will serve as bridesmaids.

Mrs. Harry Walter Eaton of West Longfellow avenue and Mrs. Robert Frank Belew of West Ypsilanti avenue, mothers of the engaged couple, attended the Wednesday evening affair, with Mrs. Hancel Boatright, Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mrs. Fred Eastman, Mrs. Eugene Perkio, Mrs. Richard Parker and Mrs. William Roberts.

Also present were Mrs. Lyle Venner, Mrs. James Reinert, Mrs. Theron Taylor, Mrs. Dennis James Daugherty, Mrs. Dale Rolfe and daughter Constance, Mrs. Harry Miller, Mrs. Lesler Oles, Mrs. Thomas Cox and Mrs. Raymond Glass.

Concluding the list are Mrs. Edward Pritchard, Mrs. Lee Murphy, William Pfahlert, Mrs. Alfred Vaughn, Joan and Constance Wilson, Helen Boatright and Mrs. Virginia Myers.

Swan Heads on Menu

Elephant for Dinner?

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Republican ladies take their symbols seriously.

The Women's National Republican Club of Chicago plans to have a live elephant, TV's well known Kandy, on hand at a swanky luncheon at the Ambassador West today.

The luncheon honors Mrs. Clare B. Williams, assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Mrs. Bertha Baur, retiring Illinois national committeewoman.

The 500 lady guests will eat well, too. Here is the menu. It's the same one that was served to Queen Elizabeth last July when she came to Canada to dedicate the St. Lawrence Seaway:

Swan canterbury (fresh pineapple on laurel leaves with meringue swan heads).

Medallion of lamb with artichokes Avon.

Salade Sarah Siddons, named after the famous English actress.

Beau Nash delight (hazel nut torte with chocolate and a liqueur).

Worn table covers can be turned into new-looking linens by dyeing them a new color and cutting them into place mats.

Golfers Gather

Nineteen Fairway Club members were present for a July party-luncheon Thursday at the Pontiac Country Club.

A flag day round of golf preceded the party with Mrs. Jack Harned winning first prize and Mrs. R. E. Bergin, second. Other winners were Mrs. Richard Veazey and Mrs. Philip Sauer.

Mrs. James Slattery of Bald Eagle Lake was chairman of the event which included a white elephant sale. She was assisted by Mrs. Emil Ghetia, Mrs. Eugene Bone, Mrs. Frederick Foster and Mrs. Veazey.

President Mrs. George Watters announced the 18 hole medal play tournament, slated July 28 and the next monthly party on Aug. 25.

A Husbands' Day golf outing and dinner has been scheduled Aug. 14.

Mrs. John Heitsch, assisted by Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. Delbert Hammett, has been appointed nominating committee chairman for next season's officers.

Hostess at Shower for Mrs. Pruente

Mrs. Daniel J. Pruente of Newport avenue was honored at a stork shower hostessed by Mrs. Otis Crane of Putnam avenue. Gloria Crane was her mother's cohostess at the Thursday event.

Among guests were Mrs. Ransom Crane, Mrs. Francis Pruente, Mrs. Pete Mihay, Mrs. Viola Risinger, Mrs. Dean Crane and Mrs. Wallace Smith, both of Birmingham.

Others were Mrs. Ernest Crane, Mrs. Bill Crane of Holly, Mrs. Thomas Pruente, Mrs. Francis Pruente Jr., Mrs. Ernest Pruente, Mrs. Andrew Gremling and Mrs. Amanda Herrington.

Completing the guest list were Carole and Nancy Mihay and Mrs. Harvey White of Fisk, Mo.

Time to consider dark or transition cottons. They're turning up in the stores in luscious shades of grape, plum, dark green and deep red in both prints and plain.

Reflections
Red Berries Bring Cheer
You have had a delightful time, met lovely people, and you think you will never forget them, nor the evening. However, new interests, new pleasures and new faces draw a curtain across your memory; memories of that delightful evening fade. And yet, a small thing, can draw that curtain and a rush of mental souvenirs flood our mind.
One day we find a shriveled red berry; we hold it in our hand, remember the delicious dinner, laughter and conversation, before an open fire, bright berries in a bowl, and the thoughtful hostess who, because we admired them, gave them to us to take home.
We say, "Don't forget me"; but have we given our new friend something to take home—red berries, a smile, an understanding word, inspiration?

Loose 18-Hit Barrage for 11-5 Win

'Dead' Chisox Rip Yankees

By The Associated Press

The Chicago White Sox, charging back from the grave, have streaked within .003 percentage points of the American League leading New York Yankees—the club that left 'em for dead.

The streaking Sox, tearing up their obituary that was typed by New York writers when the Yankees swept a four-game series at Chicago in mid-June, busted back for 18 hits and a rollicking, 11-5 romp in the opener of a four-game set at Yankee Stadium Friday night.

It was the sixth straight success for the Sox, their longest string of the season, and 20th in their last 28 games in their bid to shift the shroud to the Yankees. New York fits the part. The Yankees, who had won seven in a row from Chicago, now have lost 10 of their last 15.

Third place Cleveland stayed 2½ games back, losing 6-4 at Boston as Vic Wertz drove in three runs with a homer and two singles for the Red Sox. Baltimore's fourth place Orioles, ending their home losing string at seven, trailed by three games after beating Detroit 2-1 with a pair of unearned runs. Kansas City netted six unearned runs in defeating Washington 9-4.

The White Sox, trailing by six games in fourth place on July 4, simply kept rolling on a tear in which they have rapped out 70 hits in five games. They've scored 47 runs in that spree, getting five of them in the fourth inning last night to beat Bob Turley (6-2), who had won six in a row.

Early Wynn, starting pitching, singled in the first run of the frame, breaking a 2-all tie. Minnie Minoso, who batted in three runs, clinched it with a two-run double as the Sox swung for five consecutive hits in the rally.

Bill Skowron, who hit into a doubleplay with the bases loaded in the fifth inning against winning reliever Frank Baumann (7-4), drove in two of the Yank runs, so did Tony Kubek. Skowron's 17th homer counted two in the second inning off Wynn, giving the Yanks' a 2-1 lead. He tripled for his third hit and scored on Kubek's single in the eighth.

At Boston, Wertz walloped a three-run homer, his 11th, in the third inning for a 4-3 lead against loser Jim Grant (6-5). Then he singled home the winning run in the fifth. Ted Williams also homered for the Red Sox, his 15th and No. 507 of his career, behind winner Ike Delock (5-3). Jim Piersall, who went to the Indians in exchange for Wertz, hit two home runs and doffed his cap to the Red Sox bench and the pressbox. Ken Aspromonte of the Tribe stretched his hit streak through 19 games, but Vic Power's string was cut at 20.

The A's wrapped it up with four unearned runs in the sixth at Washington, thanks to an error by Jim Lemon, who hit his 24th home run for the Senators. Dick Hall (6-7) was the winner with Ken Johnson's 3 2-3 innings of shutout relief. Hal Woodeshick (3-3) lost it.

Errors When They Hurt Most Give Orioles Two Unearned Runs

BALTIMORE (AP) — Detroit's hot-and-cold Tigers followed a familiar failing last night and bowed to the Baltimore Orioles 2-1 in opening a short road trip.

Leaving at least one runner on base in all but one inning, the Tigers missed a chance of resuming the leadership of the American League's second division as Washington also lost.

Both of Baltimore's runs were unearned — two Tiger infield errors helped to put them across in the fourth inning — and Detroit thus remained in a fifth place tie with Washington.

The Tigers and the fourth place Orioles were booked for a doubleheader today.

Jack Fisher, working in relief of starter Steve Barber, held Detroit to six hits in shutting out the visitors over the last seven innings last night.

On the other hand, lefty Pete Burnside of the Tigers lost a game he might just as well have won except for errors by Frank Bolling and Chico Fernandez in the second. He and Clem Labine held Baltimore to six hits.

Detroit scored in the second and Baltimore its two runs in the fourth. The rest of the time the 24,892 fans had little to get excited about. Three Oriole double plays, bringing their total for the year to 101, killed off Tiger rallies.

Detroit got its run on Rocky Colavito's single, one of his two hits in the game, and a walk, a fielder's choice and a sacrifice fly by Fernandez.

In the Oriole fourth Walt Dropo and Brooks Robinson got singles and an error by Bolling then loaded the bases. The next man, Ron Hansen, struck out, but Fernandez then threw wild to first base in an attempted double play and both Dropo and Robinson scored.

The Orioles got all their six hits off Burnside. Labine worked the seventh and eighth innings.

Before the game the Tigers made a player swap with the Washington Senators, regaining righthand pitcher Bill Fischer, once on the Detroit staff, in exchange for righthander Tom Morgan.

But Morgan balked, threatening to go to his home in California if he had to accept the change. There was no final decision on that. However, Detroit keeps possession of Fischer since the deal was made under waiver rules.

Morgan and Fischer are among the elders in the majors' pitching circles. Both broke in around 1950. Fischer came to the Tigers in 1958 from the Chicago White Sox but was sold on waivers to the Senators later the same year.

Bucs Chop Giants, 4-1; Cubs Nip Braves by One

By The Associated Press

Yep, those Pittsburgh Pirates really were falling apart. They lost five of seven and their National League lead was chopped to a mere half-game over the Milwaukee Braves. But now, the Bucs are booming again, with a lead of 2½ games.

Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell, shaky, but tough when things got rough, pitched the Pirates to a 4-1 victory at San Francisco last night. It was their second in a row after that slump that followed the all-star break.

The Braves, after winning seven in a row, dropped their second in succession. They just barely missed with late home run power in an 8-7 loss at Chicago to the last place Cubs.

Los Angeles regained third place by beating Philadelphia 2-0 behind the four-hit, 14-strikeout pitching of right-hander Don Drysdale. St. Louis, just one point behind the Dodgers, defeated Cincinnati 8-3 as Curt Simmons pitched his first complete game since 1958.

Three runs in the fifth inning, capped by Bob Skinner's two-out, two-run single, brought the Pirates from behind in their fourth consecutive victory at Candlestick Park. Willie Mays hit his 19th home run for the Giants in the first inning, but Mizell (6-5) then blanked them on eight hits. He left seven runners stranded, fanning Willie Kirkland with the bases loaded in the third. Mike McCormick (9-6) was the losing pitcher.

Drysdale (8-10) tied the NL strikeout high for nine innings this season—fanning the last six men he faced—for his fourth straight victory and first shutout. Tony Taylor, who doubled with two-out in the third for their first safety, had two of the Phils' hits in their 12th whitewash of the year.

Frank Howard's bases empty home run, his 15th, beat Gene Conley (6-6) in the second inning. Drysdale leading the majors with 156 strikeouts, then doubled and scored on Norm Larker's sacrifice fly in the eighth against reliever Dick Farrell.

Simmons, the southpaw who was released by the Phils, gained a 2-0 record with his first complete game in nine starts since Sept. 1, 1958. He allowed six hits, including homers by Frank Robinson and Willie Jones, but shut out the Reds after the third inning.

The Cards scored three in the first, climaxed by Daryl Spencer's 12th home run, and then won it with two more in the third on doubles by Alex Grammas, a .201 hitter who was 4-for-5, and Bob Nieman and a single by Stan Musial. Grammas now is hitting .223. Joe Nuxhall (1-5) was the loser.

Rookie Ron Santo was 3-for-4 and drove in three runs for the Cubs. He tagged relief pitcher Joey Jay for the clinching run with a solo homer, his second, in the seventh inning for an 8-3 lead. The Braves, who hit four home runs, got to winning reliever Don Elston (6-4) for a two-run homer by Hank Aaron in the eighth and solo shots by Eddie Haas and Ed Mathews in the ninth before Joe Schaffernoth got Aaron for the last out.

Lew Burdette (10-5) was the loser, giving up a two-run homer by Ernie Banks, who remained deadlocked with Aaron for the NL lead with 27. Joe Adcock hit the other Milwaukee homer, off starter Mark Freeman.

Downpour Helps Hines' Victory

Washes Out Big 6-Run Inning for Packers, Leaves Count 3-0

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Grand Rapids Hines & Son eliminated Ionia Packers from the state National Baseball Congress tournament, 3-0, yesterday in a game shortened to five innings because of rain.

The Packers saw a sixth-inning run washed out in the downpour as well as their chances of remaining alive in the five-week tourney.

Dick Waters was credited with a one hitter for Hines & Son. The Grand Rapids team now has a 2-1 record and will play again tomorrow.

A full schedule of four games is planned for today with unbeaten Crystal Lakesiders meeting also unbeaten Bay City Dawrys.

Clinton Merchants meet Ann Arbor Travelers, Inkster Panthers meet Niles Travelers and Grand Rapids Bright Metals meet Pittsford.

Olympic Hopes Soar as Swim Marks Fall

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — More records were certain to go tumbling today as the nation's top young stars swung into the second day of the AAU National Men's Swimming and Diving Championships.

The three-day meet opened yesterday at Scott Park pool. There were three swimming events, and records are up for acceptance in all of them. That acceptance is a mere formality.

The diving competition, always one of this country's strong suits in the Olympic games, was an overwhelming triumph for Mike Peppe's team from Ohio State.

But the big surprise came in the swimming events. In the 400-meter freestyle, Jeff Farrell hung up an American record for recognition. In the 400-meter individual medley, Dennis Rounsavelle bettered the world mark. And in the 1,500-meter freestyle, George Breen was faster than his Olympic record time and topped his American mark by 11 seconds.

The flurry of first-day record breaking caused Dr. Harold Henning to say that "the swimming and diving team that the United States will send to Rome this summer will be much stronger than any of us expected."

Dr. Henning, chairman of the men's AAU swimming committee, added:

"Swimming has had a tremendous shot in the arm. Our girls proved it last week at Indianapolis and the men are proving it here."

He said the youth swimming programs are a major factor but that the biggest reason for the improvement is the poor showing the U. S. swimmers made in the 1956 Olympics.

"After winning every event in 1948 and missing only a couple of gold medals in 1952, it was quite a slap at our prestige to bring home only one winner in 1956," he said. "It's obvious already that this year's Olympic team will do much better than any of us anticipated."

Most stunning development of the first-day program was the work of Rounsavelle, a lean, red-haired Southern California junior who willbe 20 next month. Rounsavelle, never before a national winner, splashed home in a blazing 5:04.5.

That's more than four seconds under the world record set last year by Scotland's Ian Black.

Farrell, a two-time winner in the AAU meet last year, beat the American standard with a 54.8 time in the freestyle. Jon Henrick's 55.7 mark is the current accepted record.

Competition Is Open to Netters in 5 Divisions

Press Will Co-Sponsor Net Tournament With City Recreation

Dates have been set for the Oakland County Open Tennis tournament to be co-sponsored by The Pontiac Press and the Pontiac Recreation Department.

The tournament, which will feature competition in five different divisions, will begin the weekend August 6-7 and continue on the weekend of August 13-14.

Competition will be held in men's singles, men's doubles, mixed doubles, juniors' singles and the novice division.

The tourney will be held on the Pontiac Central courts and also at Pontiac Northern if necessary.

The junior division is open to all boys under 18 while the novice division is open to anyone who has never won a varsity letter or never reached the third round of any tourney.

Entry fee for men's singles is one dollar. It is 50 cents for entry in the other divisions except the novice class in which there will be no charge.

Each novice entry however is expected to supply his own new ball for his respective match. Balls will be available at the courts for 65 cents.

Entry is open to any resident of Oakland County. Registration blanks will be made available at various tennis courts in the county next week and they can be mailed or delivered to The Press sports department, the Pontiac Recreation Department or to Harry Wenzel, instructor at Pontiac courts in the city recreation program.

The city recreation program is currently held at Pontiac Northern on Monday and Wednesday mornings and evenings and at Pontiac Central on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Trophies will be awarded to winner and runnerup in each division. Weather permitting, the finals will be held Sunday, August 14th.

Mickey Wright's Subpar Play Tops National Test

WORCHESTER, Mass. (AP) — Mickey Wright was the heavy favorite to win the National Women's Open golf title today as the championship entered the 36-hole final round at the Worcester Country Club.

The San Diego, Calif., miss posted her second straight one-under-par 71 yesterday for a halfway mark of 142 — in her quest for an unprecedented third straight Open title. The only other strong contender, Marilynn Smith of French Lick, Ind., had a 72-72—144.

Miss Wright, the younger of the two at 25, credited her success yesterday to fellow professional Peggy Kirk Bell, the "wonderful greens here in the north" and a "can't miss scientific system" for reading the greens.

She said her putting game has improved tremendously in the last few days. Principally, she says, because the greens are easier to play — "The grass is softer and smoother."

After making a series of difficult putts on sloping greens, she explained her success by demonstrating the plumb line principle. Holding her putter straight out in front of her, she said it gave her sure-firing reading on which way the slope runs and how much.

It seemed to work. Miss Wright got through the second round without a single, three-putt green. She was the only entry to make the claim.

Miss Wright held a five-stroke lead over the third-place Mary Faulk of Sea Island, Ga. Paired one stroke in back of Miss Faulk at 148 were Kathy Whitworth of Jal, N. M., and Marlene Bauer Hagge of Crystal River, Fla.

Fugazy, Floyd, Ingo Meet on Bout Plan

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Fugazy, president of Feature Sports, Inc., will confer with Champion Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson as the next step in his plan to stage the third heavyweight title fight between the two in Los Angeles Nov. 1.

Fugazy announced the choice of the West Coast city yesterday, and said he anticipated a live gate of $1,000,000 or more in the Coliseum.

The weather in California was a prime consideration, together with the 100,000 seat arena.

First Win for Bourbon

DETROIT (AP) — Four-year-old Buckeye Bourbon won the first race of his career last night at Northville Downs, taking the opener at 71-1 odds for a $44 payoff. His win combined with that of Virginia Yankee in the second, who paid $4.60, made a daily double of $141. A crowd of 5,846 bet $283,962.

Peaches Shoots for 3rd Junior Tennis Crown

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The first U. S. Junior Tennis Tournament ends today with Jane Marie (Peaches) Bartkowicz out to grab her third cup in the tourney.

The 74-pound flash from Hamtramck, Mich., walked off with the 11-under crown yesterday and teamed with Judy Dixon of Montclair, N. J., to win the girls 11-under doubles title.

Today the little peach, top-seeded in the 11-under, will be fighting uphill against Vicki Holmes of Melbourne, Fla., in the 13-under singles. Vicki is top seed in this event and Peaches is No. 2.

Vicki and Gloria Jean Sullivan of St. Petersburg, Fla., teamed to win the 13-under doubles crown yesterday.

Leads Blind Golfers

BAR HARBOR, Maine (AP) — Charlie Boswell, the defending champion, took a three-stroke lead into the second round of the national blind golfer's championship today.

Boswell carded an even 100 yesterday at the Kebo Valley Country Club in Bar Harbor. Phil Leadbrouse of Prince Albert, Sask., was second with 103 and Peter Bell of Oak Park, Mich., third at 108.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

We had him outnumbered at that National Public Links golf tournament in Honolulu, but he was too good for us so the 1960 championship stops in California instead of traveling on to Michigan.

The percentages certainly were in Michigan's favor—three to one in the semifinals—but this Vern Callison of Sacramento, a veteran tourney performer, was not to be denied his first good chance to win the title.

Nevertheless, all the credit in the world must go to Pontiac's Mike Andonian, Ty Caplin of Plymouth and Royal Oak's Bob McMasters for their tremendous efforts a long way from home. It was indeed a successful trip.

If you stop to think about it, their accomplishments were remarkable. Three state golfers—and all from this area, too—worked their way into the semis and Caplin reached the last step before Callison closed the door.

Like we said before, the odds seemed good that one of them would bring the state its first National Public Links crown since 1955 when Sam Kocsis won the title. But this Callison was just too tough.

He rallied for a 1-up victory over Andonian, who had a 1-up lead after 30 holes. He was unbeatable in the finals, breezing to a 7-6 triumph over the fatigued Caplin.

Caplin, a Michigan State varsity player for three years, played "hookey" from summer school at MSU to make the journey to Hawaii's Ala Wai Golf Club. He gave his chum McMasters a bad 5-4 licking in the semis, then—boom!

We have no idea how long it will be before the state of Michigan again has three men in the semifinals of a national golf event so salutes are in order while the saluting is good.

Come to think of it, maybe next year's a good time to do it again. The 1961 Public Links championship will be held at Detroit's Rackham Municipal course and Callison must defend his crown right in our own backyard. Here's hoping.

SHORT PUTTS

Stan Leonard is the first Canadian to win the Western Open title since the tourney was inaugurated in 1899. At 45 years of age, he is also the oldest player ever to win it.

Stanley Grzywacz of Detroit bagged a hole-in-one at Bob O'Link. He aced the 120-yard 16th hole with an 8-iron and shot 81 for the round.

Nearly 200 entries are expected for Sunday's 5th annual Walter Hagen Invitational tournament at Traverse City Country Club. The 18-hole medal play event is divided into amateur and professional divisions.

Hagen, the all-time golfing great for whom the tourney is named, will serve as host. Hagen has been living at Long Lake near Traverse City for the past several years.

Art Wall Jr., a perfect gentleman almost 100 per cent of the time, was being hounded by an eager spectator during Sunday's final round of the Western Open at Western Golf and Country Club.

After Wall made a shot, the fan slapped him on the back and said, "See you on the 18th green, Art." Wall, stalking down the fairway, muttered, "Some people just can't mind their own d—— business."

Gene Bone's five-under-par 67 was the best individual score among the pros in this week's Pro-Am event at Barton Hills . . . Phil Skover of Birmingham and Fred Ewald of Bloomfield Hills finished 2nd and 3rd, respectively, in the Junior District tourney at DGC. Skover carded 77 and Ewald 78 . . . Randall and Tommy Ahern won the DDGA's annual Father-and-Son tournament with a 70 at Oakland Hills. Ray and Chuck West took 2nd place with a 71 at Pine Lake while Leo and Mike Conroy were winners in the pro division of the tourney, also with 71 . . . Dave Ragan's 43-inch putter is the longest on pro tour.

Uphill Fight for Palmer

He Slips to 74 in 2nd Round of PGA Event

Jay Hebert Shoots 67 to Take Tourney Lead at Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer is going to have to come from behind—as he did in the Masters and National Open, and didn't in the British Open—if he's going to win the 42nd PGA championship.

Proving that even the best can get the worst of it at times, the year's leading money winner ($66,000) from Ligonier, Pa., fell to a 74 in Friday's second round to surrender the lead his opening 67 had given him.

Out front as 95 survivors of the cutoff (at scores of 151) went into today's third round was Jay Hebert (he pronounces it Ay-Bear), 37-year-old pro from the Bayous of Lafayette, La.

Jay, whose younger brother Lionel won this fixture in 1957 when it was at man-to-man combat instead of medal play, had five birdies and two bogeys for the day's best round of 67 and a two-day total of one-under-par 139.

on the front nine left him in a three-way tie at 141 with three-time champion Sam Snead, who had a second round 73, and Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., who had 70-71. Between them and the leader was Don January, the Dallas hotshot, who put together a pair of 70s.

Hebert fired his round early and let the others worry in the 90-degree temperature the rest of the day. Only Fred Hawkins of El Paso was able to whip par in the late going over the windy, dried-out 7,165-yard Firestone Country Club course. Hawkins' 69 put him in a three-way deadlock at 142 with Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, Calif., and John O'Donnell of Baltimore.

Although only six sub-par scores have been fired in two rounds by 185 of the country's finest, the first two days were a picnic for the pros. With the field cut to the low 90 and ties, the PGA committee hauled out the pipe wrenches today and tightened up the long layout for the stretch drive.

Markers are on the back of all tees, adding as much as 30 yards in some cases, and players have to peek at the flag across the corner of a trap, or seek it in some far corner.

Most of the long hitters and pin-pitchers were praying for rain. With the course dry and fast, tee shots have been finding the fairway bunkers. And the ball hasn't been sticking on the arid greens on pitch shots.

DEEP TRAP — The head of Doug Sanders is all to be seen as he blasts the ball from a deep sand trap to the 9th green in Friday's 2nd round of the National PGA golf tournament at Akron, O. Sanders netted a par four on this hole.

Publinx Pro Shocks the 'Regular'

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — John O'Donnell, a ruddy-faced 46-year-old golfer from Baltimore, is carrying the club or "home" pros' standard—like it or not—in the PGA championship.

Head pro at Baltimore's Mount Pleasant Club, one of the East's finest public links courses, O'Donnell has shocked one and all—maybe even himself—by sticking close to the mighty touring pros with a pair of 71s in the first two rounds at the Firestone Country Club.

This is the 7,165-yard, par 70 course everyone said was too tough for the club professionals—too tough for all but maybe six or eight players in American golf.

With a slight reservation, O'donnell agreed today as he talked about his performance that has him at 142, only three strokes off the leader at the halfway mark.

"This course is a real test of golf," he said. "It will give you a PGA champion who can really play golf. The course is conditioned for a fight. Naturally, the touring pros—the fellows who play every day and make tournament golf their business—will give it the best fight.

"As for me, I think I'm a fair competitor and I just try to play every shot as well as I know how. If I can come off the 18th green and say that I didn't hit a careless shot—a careless one, mind you, not a bad one—then I feel I've done all right, regardless of what I score."

"I suppose I'm a little surprised at how well I've played," O'Donnell added. "I haven't had a three-putt green in 36 holes and for me that's something."

O'Donnell, married and the father of two boys, has been a head pro for 27 years. He's been at the Mount Pleasant course for four years and before that was head pro at the commissioned officers' course in Norfolk, Va., for 11 years.

He won the Virginia State Open five times and he's twice been Maryland Open champ. But he never has won a big tournament and has been in the money in his few tour tournament appearances only twice. His biggest take was $400 for a 7th place tie in the Virginia Beach Open in 1949.

MIDWAY LEADER — Jay Hebert is not smiling here, but it's not because he was unhappy with his golf game. Jay rifled a three-under-par 67 Friday to seize the halfway lead in the National PGA tourney at Akron, O.

Two Michigan Golfers Fail to Survive Cut

AKRON, Ohio (UPI)—Two Michigan PGA golfers failed to make the first cut in the 42nd annual championship tournament under way here.

John Barnum of Belmont, John J. Dalrymple, Troy, with a pair of 79's for a 158, were trimmed from the field at the end of yesterday's second round of play.

Still in the race but somewhat out of contention are Walter Burkemo, Franklin Hills, with a 72-77—149, 10 strokes behind leader Jay Hebert, and Herb Marcussen, Grosse Pointe Farms, who is also 10 strokes back with a 77-72—149.

Other Michigan golfers above the 151 needed to survive the cut to the low 90 were Mike Dietz, Lake Orion, 72-78—150; Chick Harbert, Livonia, 78-72—150; and Bob Gajda, Bloomfield Hills, 77-74—151.

Birmingham Golfers in State Jaycee Test

Mike Jackson defeated Tom Maxwell on the 1st extra hole of a sudden-death playoff Friday at Hillcrest Country Club to win the Detroit Junior Chamber of Commerce junior golf tournament.

Jackson and Maxwell were teammates for three years on the Birmingham Seaholm High School golf team. They finished their regulation 18-hole rounds in a tie at 77, then Jackson birdied the 1st hole to win the event.

Jackson and Maxwell will compete in the Michigan Jaycee tourney next Tuesday and Wednesday at Kalamazoo Country Club. Five Waterford youths and three from Pontiac also will play in the State Jaycee event.

Morgan Named Baron Coach

Turned in Impressive Record in 8 Years at Unionville

Bloomfield Hills High School added to its athletic staff today with the announcement that Cecil Morgan had been hired to serve as head coach of baseball and football assistant.

A basketball coach is expected to be selected next week completing the department of Baron leaders.

The baseball and basketball openings were recently created when Hal Trott resigned to become a superintendent at North Adams. Trott had coached both sports.

Separate coaches were decided on for the two sports in accordance with the expansion of the school's program.

Morgan compiled a very impressive record in the past eight years as football-baseball mentor at Class D Unionville. He had a 39-16-1 football slate despite being in a strong "C" league. His baseball teams lost only one game the last two seasons in winning titles. The Gladwin native assisted in football at Unionville.

A Central Michigan graduate, Morgan participated in boxing and golf in college.

Tom Estes Back With Jets, Hurls Sunday Contest

Pontiac Jets will travel to Walpole Island, Ontario, Sunday, for a baseball game with the reservation's Indian club.

The Class A city leaguers will be strengthened by the return of lefthander Tom Estes, member of the 1956 city championship club. Tom has just left army service, and a tour of duty overseas, during which he played a lot of baseball. This will be his first start since his return.

Teaming with Tom will be brother Ed on the receiving end of the battery. Game time is 2 p.m.

Chicago-to-Mackinac Race

Record Fleet Sets Sail

CHICAGO (UPI) — A record starting field of 102 yachts set sail today in the 53rd annual Chicago-to-Mackinac race.

Six craft were rated an even chance of winning the 333-mile dash upward and across Lake Michigan in a race where time handicaps often have made the winning time a matter of seconds.

Favored among the bigger Class A and B vessels were X-Touche, a sloop from the Detroit Yacht Club, Gypsy of Milwaukee, Wis., and Hilaria, out of Macatawa Bay, Mich.

The starting signal at Chicago's downtown harbor will send the smaller Class E boats across the line first, followed at 15-minute intervals by the D class, and on through the larger craft.

Sabre, the big 87-foot yawl from Sheboygan, Wis., figured to set the pace, but the vessel had a huge time handicap to overcome if skipper Ralph Brotz wishes to capture the cup.

Sabre, which must give time to every boat in the fleet, concedes Hugh Shaddeless's Hilaria six hours and 26 minutes and Charlie Kotovic's Gypsy six hours and 53 minutes. The B-class X-Touche gets 7½ hours from the big Sheboygan hooker.

Both of last year's winners, Dr. David Axelrod's Barb, which won division one, and Bill Peacock's Little Feather II, the overall owner, were given little chance to repeat in this year's fast company.

The leaders are expected to reach Mackinac Island some time Monday with the smaller boats finishing Tuesday and Wednesday.

8 Boats Race Sunday on St. Clair River

PORT HURON, Mich. (UPI)—The highlight of Port Huron's eighth annual St. Clair Water Carnival this weekend is once again the International Trophy Race Sunday on the St. Clair River.

Chuck Thompson, a St. Clair native now of Detroit, is defending champion with his "Miss Detroit." He also won in 1957 with "Short Circuit."

Eight boats are scheduled for the race, including "Miss Detroit," "Such Crust III," "Gale V," and "Thunderbolt," all of Detroit; "Miss Buffalo" of Buffalo, and "Nitrogen" and "Nitrogen II" from Wilmington, Del.

Straight-Forward Wins

DETROIT (UPI)—Jockey Johnny Burton booted Straight-forward, a Michigan-bred two-year-old filly, home three lengths ahead yesterday to win the richest Michigan Futurity in the four-year history of the event at Detroit Race Course.

May Be Davis Cup Preview

Bartzen, Laver in Semis

CHICAGO (AP)—In a possible preview of Davis Cup championship competition, Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of the U.S. team and Australian star, Rod Laver, meet in a semifinal battle today in the National Clay Courts Tennis championship.

The winner will face top man of the U.S. Davis Cuppers, Barry MacKay, for the championship Sunday.

The 32-year-old Bartzen, a precisionist who won the clay courts crown in 1954, 1958 and 1959, will be up against a powerful player in the red-haired Laver.

While Bartzen and Laver sat out men's singles competition Friday, MacKay turned on a burst of power and temperament in taking a three-hour marathon match from unseeded Jon Douglas, a 23-year-old Marine from Santa Monica, Calif.

In the 90-plus heat, MacKay overcame faulty net play to outlast Douglas 4-6, 6-4, 10-12, 6-3, 6-3.

The match ended with the 2,000 River Forest Tennis Club fans soundly booing the Davis Cup star. MacKay, apparently disgusted by his numerus errors, sent his racket whizzing at the back-court canvas during the 74-minute third set. It just missed the head of a ball boy and nearly crashed over the canvas into the crowd.

Later MacKay threw his racket toward the sidelines, making the net court judge duck. Then he started snarling at a ball boy. He threw a ball in the boy's direction and the lad began crying and was replaced.

From then on, the crowd booed MacKay and applauded when he missed shots.

Russia Runs Wild, Red China Gets Ready

Containment Plan Not Containing

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was like drawing a circle around a frog and telling him not to jump out of it. This is what the United States did with Russia. And it worked, too, until the frog jumped.

And that what put America in its latest dilemma.

Back in 1947, when George F. Kennan was head of the State Department's policy planning staff, he outlined an American plan followed ever since. As he said, it meant "holding the line and hoping for the best."

The idea was to ring Russia—then infinitely weaker than the United States—with military bases and alliances to keep it from pushing or overrunning her neighbors.

HAD NO ANYTHING

At that time, 13 years ago, the Soviet Union had no hydrogen bomb, no missile, and Red China didn't exist. The mainland was still being run by Chiang Kai-shek, the American ally. But Kennan was doing some wishful thinking.

1. That this containment policy — military encirclement — would not only keep the Russian behind their own frontiers but would put internal pressure on the Soviet government.

2. That the pressure might or at least force a change of direction or intent because, Kennan felt and wrote, Russia contained within itself the seeds of its own destruction.

SPURTING INTERNALLY

Up till now the containment policy has kept the Russian from bulldozing their immediate neighbors. But, contrary to Kennan's hopes, instead of collapse the Soviet Union's internal development has been phenomenal.

Now, 13 years later, the Russians have the hydrogen bomb, missile probably capable of hitting America, an industrial production second only to that of the United States, and a population apparently content and loyal.

Russian strength has increased so tremendously that only this week New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said the balance of power has shifted to the Soviet Union. The Russians have been acting as if they believed that, too.

They still can't, without risking war, push directly against the American circle drawn around them. So they have done the obvious and next-best thing for them. They have leapfrogged out of the circle.

INVADING OUR YARD

They have done it not only by the usual propaganda and intrigue but by promises of both economic and even military help to countries on the American side of the circle. This is the most glaring example: the economic deals with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba and a warning to the United States to keep hands off. Thus the Russian, without resorting to war to smash the circle, have hopped over and are trying to set up shop in America's backyard.

This almost certainly is only the beginning of such efforts to penetrate, by one means or another, the Latin American world. And Russia's efforts to penetrate Africa will be even more barefaced.

The American government can hardly dissuade the Russians from encroaching in areas close to the United States by complaining this is our backyard.

The Russians can answer by pointing out that for years the United States sent troops into the Middle East at the request of the government of Lebanon.

There would be a difference, of course. There were no United Nations troops already in Lebanon to keep order as there are now in the Congo.

WORST IS COMING

And the worst is yet to come. Mainland China, now in Red Chinese hands, in a few years with Soviet help, should be militarily strong enough to inflict the miseries on the American containment policy in the Far East.

Where does it all lead to? Some guesses can be made.

The United States will need new ideas in dealing with the Communist world. Kennan himself a couple of years ago was shifting around to the idea of a pullback in Europe.

This country will probably, in some fashion, have to make revisions in its containment policy and develop new programs to keep the rest of the world neutral or out of Communist hands.

GRAY AND WHITE — The R. R. Birds who live on Allen road in Clarkston did much of the work in this home. It was roughed in when they bought it. The upper levels are gray board and batten; on the lower level red brick is used. The Birds have ten acres, put their home at the very front of the property.

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderwerp

HER HOBBY — Mrs. Bird enjoys doing needlepoint and gives what leisure time she has to it. She's seated in the living room. Behind her you can see the stairway to the lower level. This area is papered in beige scenic paper. A vertical beam at the head of the stairs helps support the horizontal beam that runs across the living room.

Your Neighbor's House

Little House in the Country Becomes a Reality

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

You've heard about the couple who wanted a "little place in the country." Usually that isn't much more than talk; the place never materializes. But for the R. R. Birds of Clarkston it has become a reality.

She was originally from Pontiac; he is a Clarkston native. With their two children—Kathy now 14 and Clare, a working college student—they lived in Royal Oak until about three years ago.

It was at that time that they purchased a ten-acre plot on Allen road. They bought a roughed-in house which Bird finished. It looks finished to us, but he says he's still working on it.

Because both parents work, they need a house that is easy to maintain. That determined their plans as much as anything. Naturally they don't even try to keep the whole ten acres in grass or garden, or anything but its natural state.

The Bird house sets on a hill and is so oriented that the living room windows present a long view of farmland. There are neighbors, but their houses are not in evidence.

HEIRLOOM LAMP

In the vestibule the light fixture is a family heirloom. The fixture itself is black metal with a cranberry glass shade. In this area the floor is ceramic tile. Swinging doors are hung in the coat closet entrance.

Carpeting in living room, dining room and hallway is nylon random stripe with pinks and blues predominating. But it has enough beige in it to match the painted walls. The coved ceiling is white. Draperies are pale rose. Mrs. Bird says this particular carpeting has been "wonderfully practical."

The tapestry sofa set at right angles to the front picture window is light tan and rose. It is due to be replaced any day, now by a plain beige one.

Next to the sofa is a drum table and beside that a club chair with a small colonial printed covering. A tile topped coffee table stands in front of the window. An odd little triangular chair here has a needlepoint seat.

The red brick fireplace has a raised stone hearth. Near it is a gold wing chair.

An exposed beam runs through this room just at the end of the fireplace. It is supported by a vertical beam at the head of the stairs. A wrought iron rail guards the stairs on the living room side.

The dining room furniture is white with turquoise chair seats. A low storage wall hides the kitchen from the dining and living rooms. Painted beige like the walls, it has two open shelves at the top and louvered storage below. There is a door from the dining room to the back patio.

The small kitchen is efficiently arranged. Bird didn't make the birch cabinets, but he did the rest of the work in the room. The floor is covered with beige tile. Three walls are blue with the fourth one papered in cocoa, pink and blue.

Counter tops are blue with deeper blue and gray lines. Blue Formica is used on the round knobs of the cabinets. Sheer pink net curtains hang at the window over the sink.

The open stairway to the lower level has beige scenic paper on the walls. Downstairs is a garage, a workroom and a recreation room.

Bird needs a workroom to keep the projects he's currently engaged in. He's taken an old organ apart and is renovating it. He has a pinball machine in pieces waiting for the time he can tinker with that. Sounds like work to most of us, but it's his hobby.

The recreation room has just been completed. The tile floor is brown and beige. Above the knotty pine dado the cement blocks have been painted aqua. On one wall black metal musical instruments form a decoration.

A white studio couch provides an extra bed for guests. It's down here that Kathy can have slumber parties and not disturb the rest of the family.

The bedroom level is several steps above the living room. Clare's room is first. He has aqua walls and beige curtains. Instead of a picture, he's hung an interesting piece of native woven fabric from the South Pacific. His furniture is maple.

Kathy's room is papered in blue. Her curtains are white with pink trim. Her vanity is white with a pink top. The bedspread is pink with a white skirt underneath. Like Clare's, her furniture is also maple.

REALLY BIG

The master bedroom lives up to its title. There's room in it to walk around. There are double louvered door closets on one wall next to the attached bath. Beige paper with pink and white flowers is used on all the bedroom walls and in the bath which is pink and gray.

At the windows there are white ruffled curtains. On the floor hand hooked rugs carry out the colonial theme. The Early American furniture is maple, except for a little white rocker.

The main bathroom is blue with formica counter tops the same as in the kitchen. There are ships on the wallpaper.

This tri-level house has an exterior of gray board and batten with white trim. The lower level is red brick.

THE LONG VIEW — Taken from the hallway leading to the bedrooms, this picture shows the fireplace and the exposed beam in the living room. The same nylon random striped carpeting is used in the living rooms and through the hallway which is two steps higher.

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: We have a masonry house. There are small openings around the window frames. I would like to calk them to prevent leaks. Will the calking compound cling to the masonry as well as the wooden window frames?

ANSWER: Yes, calking compound will stick to masonry, wood and dozens of other materials. That's one of its chief assets.

Before applying the new compound, be sure to remove all old calking that is the least bit loose. Use an old chisel or screwdriver for this purpose. You can apply the compound with a calking gun, with a putty knife or directly from a tube, depending on which type you buy. A calking gun is the most effective, especially when the project is a major one. For most small jobs, the tube is easy to handle.

While the surface of the compound will harden, the underneath portion will retain its elasticity for years. This enables it to expand and contract if and when there is any expansion and contraction of the building aterials.

QUESTION: The back door of our house leading out to the patio rattles whenever there is the slightest wind. How can this be fixed?

ANSWER: This rattling is caused whenever the latch bolt does not fit properly in the strike plate. The bolt moves around in the opening of the strike plate, probably due to settling of the house or drying out of the door or frame.

To correct the condition, it usually is necessary to reposition the strike plate on the door jamb. Remove the two screws that hold the plate in position. Now mark the area to be mortised to accommodate the plate in its new position, which should be about an eighth of an inch from its original position. Use a wood chisel for this mortising, working carefully so as not to split the wood outside the mortise.

A LOVELY VIEW — The view from the Bird living room is a peaceful one of distant farmland and trees. Draperies are kept pulled all the way back for unobstructed looking. Needlepoint on the unusual shaped chair at the right was made by Mrs. Bird. The top of the coffee table is tile, a perfect surface for setting plants.

COLONIAL BEDROOM — The Birds have Early American furniture in their large bedroom. Ruffled curtains and hooked rugs carry out the theme, as does the white heirloom spread. The wallpaper is beige with pink and white flowers. Lamps on the night tables are milk glass with white shades.

An average truck was 5.6 years old in 1941. Today the average is eight years.

Nonchalking Paint

If your home has a cupola, tower, dormer, or similar structure that you wish to paint white, it's a good idea to ask your paint dealer, for a nonchalking paint. Unlike paints especially designed to be self-cleaning by chalking gradually, a nonchalking paint will not wash away with the rain, thus staining the adjacent wall or roof, particularly if they are painted a dark color.

Aerosol spray cans of enamel or varnish are particularly suited for refinishing wicker or rattan furniture whose irregular surfaces make brush painting difficult.

Colored Glass Block

For the first time glass block comes in color. The new colors of glass are "shade green" and "shade aqua." They reduce solar transmission and sun brightness, giving a cool, comfortable effect wherever they are used in the home.

Watkins Hills' Model Is Open

Ward Ross is displaying his newest model built in Watkins Hills Subdivision. Located at 2365 Watkins Lake road, the white brick model is open daily from 10 to 8.

This is an Early American ranch model with three bedrooms, separate eating area, full basement and family room. Other features are 1½ baths, double attached garage and complete Kelvinator kitchen.

This house sells for $22,900 without lot and will be duplicated anywhere. Ward Ross has been building subdivisions in the Watkins Lake area for the past several years.

Wire Hook Suspends New Brush in Oil

Try to buy a new brush at least a day before you use it. When you get it home, twirl the handle briskly between your hands for several minutes, then rub one hand back and forth across the bristles several additional minutes.

Wrap the brush in heavy paper (not paper with print on it), then suspend it in raw linseed oil for at last 24 hours. Remove the paper and squeeze out the oil by rubbing the flat side of the bristles against the edge of a board or across a smooth wire.

Rinse the brush thoroughly in turpentine and allow to dry. The linseed oil bath is not necessary if the bristles are made of nylon.

Stove Fan

If your gas range is located on an outside wall, a good place for an exhaust fan is 12 inches above the cook-top. This eliminates the need for duct work in your kitchen. A fan can also be placed above the gas burners, in the ceiling. However, this requires duct work to the outside. The use of a hood will increase the efficiency of the exhaust fan in either position.

Telephone Shelf

If you don't have room under your wall telephone for a table, try a small hanging shelf, which can be bought ready-made or put together from a piece of plywood or white pine and a couple of shelf brackets.

The fox was the first important fur-bearing animal to be raised in captivity in the Dominion of Canada.

Ranges Are Adjustable

Like the fashion industry that now recognizes problems of the very tall and the very short woman, kitchens too can be adjusted for more comfortable work heights.

Built-in gas ranges need not be installed at 36 inches above the floor. They can be raised or lowered with very little effort. A tall homemaker may find 38 inches from the floor will keep her from stooping. A shorter woman will find 33 or 34 inches more comfortable.

Abraham Lincoln's official protest against slavery was registered as early as 1837 in the records of the state legislature of Illinois.

CHIMNEY BOOKCASE — Removal of wall partitions in their "older" home enabled a Park Ridge, Ill., couple to enlarge their living room, but it exposed the chimney, an eyesore. The photo shows how they overcame the problem by creating a handsome four-sided 'bookcase." On the near dining room side, shelves were grooved for the display of especially artistic plates. The view looks into the living room. Neatly-fitted wooden shelves were painted white to contrast with the green-colored panels of hardboard forming the furred-out backing on the chimney side. The owner made the baseboard also of hardboard, which was readily bent, after being soaked in water, to form the curved corners. Serving as a flue for the oil burning furnace, the chimney presents no problem from the standpoint of overheating.

LOAD THIS CART with food from the house and wheel it into patio or yard. The lower tray may be lifted out for serving and the drop-leaf top makes a useful table. Pattern 443, which gives illustrated directions and actual-size cutting guides for shaped parts, is 35 cents. It also is one of four full-size patterns in the Aids for Outdoor Dining Packet 58 — all for $1.

Home Site Trees Need Good Start

For your landscaping's sake, it pays to be a sidewalk superintendent—even before your sidewalks are laid — when you are building your new home.

The beautiful trees so much an asset to your property have a better chance to make the grade if you help safeguard their vital root systems during and after grading. W. R. Strickland, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., says the vigil and the work begin before grading.

This means policing the grounds. All plaster chunks, roofing paper and other debris should be removed. Covered over, these items disintegrate and contaminate the soil, forming toxins deadly to trees. The soil should then be cultivated lightly to aid moisture penetration. Generally, soils are apt to become compacted from two to three months of trampling by construction crews.

Fills of several inches may be placed over tree roots—an area usually extending just beyond the branch spread. Only loamy or sandy topsoil fill material should be used, however. Heavy tractors and grading machinery can make even this ideal ideal fill a dangerous blanket if used to pack the material into place.

Changing the grades means a change of moisture levels. Even shallow fills often reduce moisture which can reach the roots. Best protection for woody pets is to feed them with a good tree food high in nitrogen content and to make sure they get frequent deep watering. Feeding not only invigorates trees but reduces their water requirements.

Contrast Wood Patterns

engendered by contrasting patterns of wood for exterior walls and the fencing around them. The Southern Pine Association suggests vertical boards and battens for the house siding and a horizontal "basket-weave" pattern for the fence. Identical colors in paint or finish for both items will tie the plan together.

Lift It First

When using a sanding machine to refinish a wooden floor, never stop the forward motion of the machine while the sandpaper drum is in contact with the floor. If the machine is allowed to rest in one spot, gouges in the wood will result.

Enamel Linoleum

If you have linoleum that is worn in spots, or if you wish to change its color, apply a coat of one of the latex floor enamels or the floor and deck enamels. Both types come in a wide color selection. This is a quick, easy and economical way to have a bright, new floor covering. Be sure to remove all wax and polish before you start painting.

New Use for Tacks

Small rubber headed tacks placed on the underside of table leaves where they touch the table legs when they are lowered will not only protect the legs from ugly scratches but will act as silencers when the leaves are lowered.

YARD SCREEN — This new gadget is designed to rid your yard completely of mosquitoes and other night-flying insects. The light bulb attracts the insects and flips them into a pan of liquid exterminator. It also serves as a yard light.

New Light Gadget Rids Yard of Insects at Night

PHILADELPHIA — In the past several hundred homeowners across the country have made their backyard a small oasis from the annual seige of mosquitoes this season.

A newly-formed sales company here introduced to the public last month a machine that will contribute greatly to the nation's "war" on mosquitoes.

Called a "Yard Screen," the machine is designed to eliminate mosquitoes and other "after dark" insects that have made summertime living out-of-doors virtually impossible.

D. L. Thomas, president of the new company, terms Yard Screen a revolutionary new development in mosquito control which goes to work at dusk to clear the air of mosquitoes, gnats, moths, etc., in garden, patio, play and swimming pool areas.

Yard Screen utilizes a light bulb to attract the insects which are then caught up in a gentle whirlpool of air that traps them in midflight and flips them into a pan of liquid exterminator.

Yard Screen is sufficiently portable to take right along with you on vacation to set up your own invisible screen against mosquito attack.

According to the company, Yard Screen virtually will eliminate all mosquitoes within a 75-foot radius (approximately 17,500 square feet), making it practical for use anywhere mosquitoes are a problem.

Nets, screens, smoke, sprays and repellents keep mosquitoes "at bay," but Yard Screen completely destroys them. It is particularly valuable for the homeowner, for the common house mosquito seldom migrates more than 50-yards, seeking shelter during the day in brush or shrubbery and becoming active only from dusk to dawn when Yard Screen operates.

Elegant Baths Now in Style

What's new in bathroom planning?

Plenty!

More and more builders are using the bathroom — or to put it more accurately, the bathrooms — as the focal points in their houses. They are letting the glamor of the bathrooms provide them with potent ammunition to sell their houses.

In so doing, they are building up the bathrooms — giving them maximum eye appeal. This involves not only the careful selection of fixtures for maximum utility and beauty, but a new look at bathroom planning, and at the location of the bathrooms in the house.

Some builders are combining a bathroom with a powder room to provide the advantages of a multi-fixture room with the economy of piping resulting from this arrangement.

Other builders are combining the bathroom with a dressing room. Since the bathroom is used for dressing purposes by many people why not recognize this fact and provide dressing facilities, these builders reason. As a result they have come up with a combination bathroom and dressing room layout which eats up space but provides a distinctive and useful arrangement.

Fixture styling today leans toward clean, uncluttered lines. Having lost their clinical, functional look, new fixtures enable the builder to create an impression of comfort and elegance. They lend themselves well to modern decorative schemes.

"The Builder That Makes a House a Home"

From House to Furniture

The oldest known piece of mahogany still in existence today was cut for a house built between 1509 and 1515 in Santo Domingo. Twenty-two mahogany beams from this house were shipped to the United States in 1930 and used to make fine furniture. The wood had mellowed to such a golden sherry brown that the only finish necessary was colorless beeswax.

Termite Control Easier With a Crawl Space

Termites can be eradicated far easier and much more economically in a house with crawl space beneath than in one built on a concrete slab foundation, experts point out.

Crawl space affords easy access for application of control measures. When termites begin coming through cracks or holes in the concrete, expensive drilling is necessary.

Subflooring should be of softwood, surfaced one or both sides, 25/32-inch thick, and not over 6 inches in width. It should be kiln-dried.

LAWN CHAISE — You yourself can make this chaise when you use the full size pattern. You simply trace the pattern on wood, then saw it out and finally put it together. The pattern gives a list of materials and easy-to-follow directions; it's designed to be used by amateurs. To obtain the full size chaise pattern No. 125 pictured here send 75 cents in coin to Steve Ellingson, Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., Van Nuys, Calif. Make checks payable to Steve Ellingson.

Baseboard Heating Story Told in New Booklet

Baseboard heating is known as a low-level heat distributor. Baseboards heat rooms evenly, from wall to wall, and from floor to ceiling. Baseboard heating may be installed in any existing house or in new construction.

The full story of baseboard heating is told in a booklet "Baseboard Heating" published by the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Illinois. Price is 10 cents a copy.

Soak Away Your Cares in Luxurious Sunken Tub

A sunken tub is a tired man's dream. More effectively than the sharp needle of the shower, the soothing swell of lapping water in a well-filled tub will wash away the woes of the day. Architects will tell you that you don't have to be a millionaire, or even have an outsized bathroom, to step down into this sunken pleasure. It's even practical in a standard 5' by 7' bathroom.

For details and diagrams on how you can enjoy this luxury, write: Tile Council of America, Inc., Research Center, P. O. Box 326, Princeton, N.J.

Any Vacation Cottage Requires Scrutiny

The vacation cottage sounds like women, when at long last the man of the house consents to rent or buy one. But is it really the answer to her summer vacation or will she have to work harder than she would at home?

Mom would do well to impress on the man of the house that there are a couple of questions to be asked before they sign on the dotted line. Here are some worth considering:

1. If the advertisement says "water," you'll want to know whether it is a lake or a quarry that is a bottomless pit, a threat to toddlers and a condition that will keep you on edge. Write to the local department of water supply if you can't get the information any other way.

2. "Mountains" is another ambiguous term. These could be hills, crags or steep cliffs that will necessitate perning up the children or accompanying them every time they are outdoors. Are there dangerous snakes?

3. How can the house be warmed if it turns cold? A rainy summer can result in a damp house with a miserable existence for all, unless there is a way to dry out the house and keep it at a comfortable temperature.

4. Is there running water or will you have to tote it from a well?

5. Is there electricity? If so, is the wiring adequate for any appliances you might take with you? Such items as toaster, iron, baby bottle warmer and sterilizer can put tremendous strain on a small wiring set-up.

6. What is in the house? You'll want an accurate inventory. There is nothing worse than arriving at a summer spot after a long trip and discovering that there are no utensils, coffee pot or what have you.

7. It's a good idea to request that the house be ventilated and inspected before you move in. You should have a guarantee, too, that it is thoroughly clean. Take along disinfectant just in case.

8. How far is it to stores? Church? Are there playmates for your children? Is there any entertainment for small fry, other than what you can provide?

9. How will you get service in the event a major appliance breaks down? Is there a doctor close to the vacation spot?

10. Will the cottage provide linens and blankets? Don't take these items for granted. And if you must cart too much paraphernalia, perhaps it will be too great an inconvenience.

---

Before repainting a heavily-chalked surface, remove the excess chalk by wire brushing or with a scrub brush.

Appliance Safety Pilots

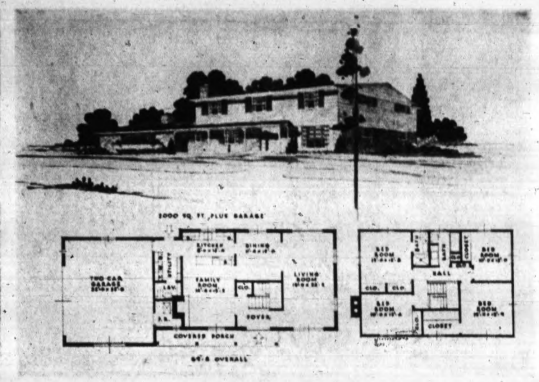
Modern gas appliances such as ranges, water heaters, incinerators and refrigerators have safety pilots that ignite the gas at the main burner when the thermostat turns on the gas. It is called a "safety pilot" because if the light accidentally goes out the gas supply to the appliance is automatically shut off.

Sawtimber is the term for trees of sufficient size for lumber. The U.S. Forest Service reports the growth of Southern Pine sawtimber so dominates the national picture other structural species combined.



LAKE CHARNWOOD — The Macksey Company, Birmingham, announces the opening of another new model, the Virginian, in Lake Charnwood subdivision. The new model has 4 bedrooms and 2½ baths. An extra large kitchen and pantry features a dishwasher, Westinghouse oven and range and 2 disposals. Added features are an oversized family room with fireplace and a conveniently located sewing room. The Virginian, complete with lot is only $27,950. Lake Charnwood, only 3½ miles from Birmingham, is located on South Boulevard just east of Adams Road. All lots have lake privileges.

Try Roundabout Way of Getting Work Done

When robins chirp and trees come into bloom, men dream of leisure—hammocks in the backyard, fishing from river banks. But women—they dream of home improvements.

A woman's leisure is all involved with picture book ideas—patios, pleasant vistas, chic outdoor living.

The only fly in the ointment is you know whom.

What approach can the lady of the house use to get the home handyman in the mood to fulfill at least one of her dream projects? It will be difficult to sell him an idea if she uses the wrong technique. Nagging won't work. Temper will only bring that light into his eyes that seems to say, "You promised to love honor and obey and keep me from heart attacks."

If the project dearest to your heart is here, try one of these approaches:

The New Patio Pitch . . . "Honey, as soon as we get a little terraced place where we can entertain, I want to get you a new chaise lounge. All you need to build it is some brick and a load of sand, and then you just put the little brick in designs, if you like. We can all help, and it'll be done in no time at all."

Plug for a Screened-In Porch . . . "Wouldn't it be wonderful to eat outdoors all the time without bugs in the potato salad? Mimi Jones says her husband screened-in their porch in a couple of weekends. All you need is some uprights, 2x4s, screens, doors and shingles.

"She may have been bragging about the length of time it took him to do it, because you're a much better workman any day. Really you are dear."

A Bucolic Scene In the Making . . . "Dear, when you finish terracing the lawn and planting all the new bushes, you should take some time off and go fishing. And you should have some new dry flies to start you off."

Our Very Own Farm . . . "We should get a strip plowed for a garden. The children have never tasted fresh vegetables right out of the soil. I could put up chili sauce, beans, corn and fruit, too, dad, huh dad?"

Dream House . . . "A couple of cans of bright white paint can do wonders for a house. It could turn ours into a little enchanted cottage. I'll bet. It's amazing how for a can of paint goes these days. We could paint the shutters turquoise. I could put up some window boxes."

"You really need one of those new ladders you've always wanted for a job like that, dear, so when you get around to it, why don't you pick one up at the hardware store. We'll budget it in somehow."

Please Do Something Anything, Darling . . . "There are just a few little things to be done around here, dear, then you'll have the whole summer off with nothing to do, almost. The garage needs cleaning. Those old newspapers and magazines should be thrown away.

"The porch floor could stand a coat of paint. Ditto the garden furniture. Junior's sandbox needs a couple of nails. Sally's swing needs adjusting. The dog's pen could use a good cleaning. The hedges need to be clipped . . . etc."

Youngsters can build and enjoy a sliding board this summer, if Dad supervises the job. The main prop needed is a 12- to 13-foot ladder.

With this as the framework, the work-for-play group can simply cover the rungs with two lengths of Masonite ¼" Tempered Presdwood fastened underneath at the joint and at each end by means of wood cleats. Make the attachment by means of counter-sunk screws applied through holes drilled in the hardboard.

To get the ladder-slide in working position, prop it up on a back stairway leading to the yard, if available, or attach it to the top of a stepladder which has been staked securely to the ground.

For slick sliding, treat the tempered board with a penetrating sealer and keep it waxed.

As a variation, make a roller coaster by providing a small cart that will ride the covered ladder rungs. Actually a small platform, the cart is formed by topping a wooden framework of 1x2-inch lumber with a piece of the hardboard. Underneath, mount the rollers from old pairs of skates.

An extended runway can be provided by a series of framed panels of the hardboard bolted together

Book on Plumbing Care Offered by Experts

Suggestions on the many things a homeowner can do to keep his plumbing system in good operating condition are offered in a helpful booklet entitled "Plumbing Care and Repair."

The booklet is available for 10 cents from the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Ill. The booklet points out that the household plumbing system represents an investment of about 10 per cent of the value of the house and for this reason its care is important.

Barbecue Tips Now Available

A simple-to-make barbecue cart with plenty of serving space and ample room for dishes and food will make the popular pastime of outdoor eating even more enjoyable, especially for the chef.

The top's two feet wide and four feet long — bigger than the typical serving area in the kitchen. The bottom shelf provides lots of space for bulky items such as charcoal and dishes. Of course, the cart is on two wheels, and you push it to the barbecue scene by means of handles like those of a wheelbarrow.

Materials for this cart may be obtained at the lumber yard at a cost of approximately $10. All you need are 1" x 3" redwood lumber for the framework, legs and leg supports, Masonite ¼" Tempered Presdwood for the splinter-free and long-wearing shelves, a couple of wheels and a half-inch pipe for an axle. Oh, yes, there's a wood dowel strung between the handles — a good place for a dish towel.

Finish the Tempered Presdwood shelves and framing members of this handy cart with a linseed oil base primer and two coats of exterior quality grade linseed oil base house paint.

For a free plan showing the construction, send a postal to the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 W. Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and request No. AE-375.

Protect Patio Furniture With Frequent Waxing

Your summer furniture for porch and patio will last longer and look better if you treat it to regular applications of wax.

Because such furniture is exposed to attacks from sun, rain and dampness, it usually is made of durable materials. However, it still needs special care.

Redwood furniture, for example, will retain its beauty longer if it is given periodic applications of paste wax. The wood should first be sealed before the wax is applied. Redwood that has become weathered can be restored with a color finish and then maintained with waxing.

For other wooden furniture, once sealed, a liquid polishing wax is recommended. The easily applied liquid wax contains paste wax and has also cleaning properties to remove dirt, suiting from outdoor dining and weather exposure.

Wax is also a good protective agent for aluminum furniture, say consumer specialists. Automobile waxes are recommended for this type of furniture.

Here are the various types of waxes recommended for yard and patio furniture:

—Painted wooden chairs and tables, a cream furniture wax.

—Plastic coverings for gliders and similar furniture, a paste wax.

—Steel framework for gliders and other metal furniture, automobile or paste wax.

—Chrome, copper and stainless steel parts of cooking equipment, clean-up wax.

You'll actually be taking a tip from nature if you don't spare the wax outside. Nature uses plenty of wax to protect plant life from the elements. You can follow suit and protect your investment in outdoor living.

Right Nailing of Oak Floors Is Important

Correct nailing is all-important in the installation of hardwood floors, it is pointed out in a home owner's guide to oak floors, published by the National Oak Flooring Manufacturers' Association.

Proper nailing is essential both in the finish flooring and the subflooring, the booklet explains.

"Insufficient nailing," it warns, "may result in loose or squeaky flooring, one of the most annoying deficiencies a house can develop.

The booklet contains a nail schedule showing the recommended sizes and spacing of nails for the various sizes of oak. Flooring of 1½, 2¼ or 3¼-inch width and 25/32-inch thickness, for example, should be fastened with one 7d or 8d nail every 10 to 12 inches.

Offering many other flooring pointers helpful to home planners, the booklet is available to readers without charge. Just write the Oak Flooring Information Service, 75 E. Wacker Drive, Chicago 1, Ill., asking for the home owner's guide.

Facelifts Stores on East Huron

Owner Does His Part in City's Downtown Rehabilitation

An owner of three stores on East Huron street between Saginaw and Perry streets has taken big strides in downtown Pontiac's rehabilitation effort with an extensive facelifting job on his building fronts.

Two other building owners on the same block are expected to follow suit.

Hugo Harneck, who leases two of his three stores to the Gallagher Music Co., completely remodeled the lower portions of his building fronts, using a combination of Tennessee ledge rock and aluminum.

The third Harneck store is unoccupied. The Gallagher Music Co. has also planned an extensive interior modernization program.

The other building owners, Bruce J. Annett of the Roy Annett Inc. realty firm and Anthony Tassi of Tassi's Cavern Bar, are contemplating facelifting programs similar to Harneck's.

Annett has sought bids from the contractor who completed Harneck's.

Annett has sought bids from the contractor who completed Harneck's modernization, Thomas Johnson of Davisburg.

TOURS PONTIAC MOTOR — Noted engineering educator, Prof. Charles D. Cooper (right) of Ohio State University, is presented a new Pontiac scale model by General Manager S. E. Knudsen during a special staff luncheon for the visitor. Professor Cooper made a three-day tour of Pontiac Motor engineering and production facilities and meetings with Division executives in conjunction with the 1960 General Motors Conference for Engineering and Science Educators.

One Dies, Three Hurt in Crashes

Imlay City Man's Car Crashes With Gasoline Truck; Auto Hits Train

One man was killed and three other persons were critically injured yesterday in accidents at Imlay City and Mount Clemens.

Dead is Louis Lubham, 69, of Imlay City. He pulled into the path of an oncoming five-ton gasoline truck which sideswiped his car sending it careening into a sign post and tree on Imlay City road, police said.

Lubham's wife, Vera, 61, was taken to Lapeer County General Hospital in critical condition. The gas truck, driven by Marvin M. Winter, 23, of Cass City, spilled 50-100 gallons of fuel on the street which did not burn.

Lapeer County Sheriff's Deputy Hal Williams, who was following the gas truck, said Winter had no chance to avoid the crash. Winter was not injured.

A father and son were critically injured near Mount Clemens when their car struck the New York Central passenger train "Timberliner."

Taken to St. Jospeh Hospital in Mount Clemens were Albert Dickinson, 45, of 2592 Dawes St., Utica, and his son Allen, 18, following the crash on 18½ Mile road between Van Dyke and Mound roads.

Police said one of the trains five passenger cars was shoved off the track by the impact of the collision but none of the passengers was injured.

Lions Sponsor Clyde Beatty

The Circus Is Coming

Next Saturday the Pontiac Lions Club will bring to Pontiac an event with probably the most universal appeal of any show on earth — the circus.

The huge tents of the Clyde Beatty-Cole Brothers Combined Circus will start rearing their heads in the predawn darkness on Pontiac Lake road near Telegraph road July 30.

The world's largest big top will be here for performances at 2 and 8 p.m.

Doors to the menageries will open at 1 and 7 p.m.

Behind it all are the sponsors, the Pontiac Lions. Their goal is to raise funds for the Lions' sight conservation program.

This money goes to help the blind, provide proper educational training and medical treatment for school children with impaired vision, and to seek out by means of regular school examinations those with sight problems not yet discovered.

"Our sole hope for continuing these sight conservation causes at full capacity lies in the advance ticket sale," says Philip Wellemeyer, club president.

The Lions get a 50 per cent cut on all tickets sold before Friday. They get only a 10 per cent cut at the gate.

Tickets are on sale at Calbi's Music Store, 119 N. Saginaw St., and Grinhell Bros., 27 S. Saginaw, or from any member.

The circus will come here from Port Huron. There are 600 people with the big show which recently returned from a South American tour and is fresh from engagements in New York and Eastern cities.

Clyde Beatty, the famous wild animal trainer, will appear at each performance in the big cage, challenging 40 lions and tigers.

The circus menagerie boasts 200 wild animals and 15 elephants. The performers number 150.

The circus is housed in 22 tents covering 12 acres. In the center stands the gigantic big top with its six rings and stages and the hippodrome track.

With this, a brass band, the crash of cymbals — and plenty of parking space — there'll be fun for all at the circus next Saturday.

Township Meetings Defended in Court

To prohibit the holding of annual township meetings would deprive citizens of "one of their primary freedoms," Pontiac Township attorney Herbert W. Gordon declared in Circuit Court yesterday.

Gordon was answering a suit filed by Robert W. Hodge, a Pontiac attorney, asking the court to declare a law requiring annual township meetings unconstitutional.

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem may rule on Hodge's request for an injunction before his vacation Aug. 1. He asked Gordon to file a brief in answer to Hodge's request submitted before yesterday's hearing.

If the judge rules by then, his ruling could have a big bearing on Aug. 2 primary votes in 11 of Oakland County's 24 townships to abolish the annual meeting.

Gordon's and Hodge's legal arguments hinged on whether the meetings are elections. Gordon contends they are not, while Hodge's rebuttal is that they are, and therefore the law requiring the meetings violated the state constitution which entitled all voters the right to vote by absentee ballot.

Hodge named as a plaintiff in his suit his son Walter D., 22, a student at the Sorbonne in Paris. By his absence, his father said, his son was denied a vote he was entitled to at the April township meeting.

The resident of the township told Judge Ziem the meetings are "haphazard random gatherings" which "can destroy representative government and wreck the township."

He said the sessions "vacate the positions of township officers and puts this authority for the day in the hands of a few who take the time to attend.

"This is the grass roots of our democratic process," Gordon answered. "To deprive them (citizens) of this democratic right would be like taking away one of their primary freedoms."

New Evidence in Finch Trial?

Prosecutor Says He'll Reveal More Findings at Monday Resumption

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The second trial of Dr. J. E. Bernard Finch and Cadle Tregoff resumes Monday with a prosecution promise of new evidence to convict the lovers of murder in the death of the society surgeon's wife.

Prosecutor Clifford Cuil refused to disclose details of his new findings before proceedings recessed Friday for the weekend. He did, however, note that it had "been uncovered since the first trial ended."

At the same time, the prosecution said it expected to call Miss Tregoff's former husband, James Pappa, to testify against her during the retrial.

King Olav to Perk Up Old People of Oslo

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Old people of Oslo will receive free coffee, thanks to Brazilian growers and King Olav V. Olav received a gift of three tons of the beans from the Coffee Institute of Brazil.

He decided to distribute it among Oslo's aged.

The name dollar was adopted by Congress in 1785 as the monetary unit of the United States because the Spanish dollar was the chief unit of money used in the colonies at that time.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Can You Afford to Gamble?

Can you afford to gamble that the 5 or 6 tubes purchased at the corner drug store, usually at the cost of approximately $15.00 will correct your TV troubles? Can you rely on the "Do it Yourself" tube checker whose purpose is to sell tubes? Or depend on the advice of a soda fountain clerk to decide what your TV set needs? Can you be sure of avoiding the shock hazard in TV receivers even though the power is turned off? Don't gamble. Call a member of the Oakland County Electronics Association and buy only the parts necessary to repair your TV set. If you must "Do it Yourself," have your tubes checked by an OCEA member and save money.

Greaseless Auto Bearings Are Planned by Ford for '61

DETROIT (UPI)—The motorist who buys a new car every two or three years may be able to forget about having his car greased after the 1961 models are introduced.

Auto industry sources say the Ford Motor Co. plans to introduce new "greaseless" bearings on its 1961 models.

One engineer says it is impossible to estimate exactly how long it will be before the grease will have to be changed on the new cars but "under most conditions, I think it would be safe to say that the original owner will never have to have his car greased."

Because of variations in driving conditions, however, the specific figure could vary between 15,000 and 100,000 miles between lubrication changes, the engineer said.

Most car companies now recommend a grease job every 2,000 miles.

EXPERIMENTING EARLIER

Auto makers and suppliers have been experimenting with "greaseless" bearings for cars for some time. They found that nylon and teflon bearings impregnated with lubrication would reduce friction to a point where no lubrication was needed.

But grease serves a second purpose on a car and the auto makers were unable to find any substitute for grease in this case.

The second purpose of grease is to flush dirt and grit from the bearings — and to seal the bearings from dirt and grit that would otherwise be picked up from the road.

When a bearing is surrounded by grease, the grease collects the dirt and grit stirred up by the motion of the car. When the grease becomes contaminated, new grease is forced into the fitting and the old grimy grease is forced out, leaving the bearing with a clean protective coating.

The problem with the plastic bearings with which the auto companies were experimenting was that they didn't have any protective coating to seal out the dirt. So Ford took a new tack.

It developed a new molybdenum-disulfide lubricant sealed in rubber with a plastic cap. This unit not only provides the needed lubrication but also acts as a seal against dirt and grit.

The new units will be factory installed. When new lubrication is needed, the caps can be removed and replaced with grease fittings so the special lubricant can be pumped into the fitting. Then the fitting is removed and the cap replaced.

But engineers say the motorist who keeps his car only two to three years — and drives mostly on paved roads without unusual dust problems — should never have to go through this process.

In some cases — in which the car is driven under "ideal" conditions — even the second owner of the car may never have to have it greased.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Meller, D.V.M.

Q. Our child wants a chameleon. Are they harmless, and do they require much care?

A. There is fascination in watching the chameleon's subtle color changes, but once a child's curiosity is satiated, the chameleon usually is relegated to the position of an old toy.

This pet has more lasting interest when kept in an aquarium rather than pinned to the clothing, which seems to be a current fad. The aquarium should be covered, lest the chameleon climb the walls.

Lack of moisture makes it difficult for this pet to shed its skin every few months, and the ideal temperature is about 75 degrees.

The chameleon is usually green at night, but during the day it can change color in three minutes to gray, green, brown or yellow. Feeding is simple. Insects or meal worms are the common diet, but the chameleon also likes sugar water and soft, pulpy fruit. It is harmless, and practically no trouble to keep.

Heart Aid at Hand

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—The 700 delegates to next week's fifth international polio conference here can feel safer about heart attacks. At two previous conferences, delegates died following heart attacks. This time in a room next to the main meeting hall will be a fully equipped heart clinic.

HE RE-GREW HAIR

Before Erickson Treatment — A Few Months Later

Thomas A. Melton Jr. (above), shows he re-grew hair by the Erickson Home Treatment method.

Hair Specialists Here Monday; Will Show How to Save Hair and Prevent Baldness

New home treatment methods for saving hair and improving its growth will be demonstrated in Pontiac, Michigan on Monday, July 25th, 1960 only.

Consultant L. E. Schroer will be in charge, representing the dynamic Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialist organization. He will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 12:00 noon to 8:00 p.m. Monday at the Waldron Hotel. Phone FE 5-6168.

At the home office of the Erickson organization, a new, even more successful method of treatment was announced—a treatment that you can easily administer yourself at home.

This new treatment is neither "mail order" nor "cure-all." It is adapted to the individual after a personal examination and progress is checked at regular intervals by an Erickson expert.

Who Can Be Helped?

For many years now Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists have been checking the hair of thousands of people across the country. They have encountered and dealt with hundreds of cases of every kind of hair trouble. From this experience has grown the body of scientific knowledge leading to the development of the new Erickson home treatment.

Will the new Erickson treatment cure baldness? "No!" For we cannot help men and women who are slick-bald after years of gradual hair-loss. But if you still have fuzz and your scalp is still creating hair, you can at least save and thicken what you have. Some conditions, such as "spot baldness" usually have complete coverage if caught in time!

Other conditions that usually bring on excessive hair loss—dandruff, itching, over-oiliness or dryness, follicle clogged with sebum or seborrhea—can be corrected by the Erickson home treatment if caught before the "hair factories" are destroyed.

Evidence of the success of the Erickson method is that the organization has expanded to hundreds of cities in 32 states.

The most important thing is: "Don't wait until it's too late." Surveys among men and women in all walks of life show that the worst enemies of your hair are (1) skepticism and (2) procrastination. The average balding person justifies his condition with one or the other of these two statements:

"I don't think anybody can stop hair loss"—or "Oh, I'm going to see an expert when I get around to it."

Baldness won't wait for doubters to be convinced or for procrastinators to take action later. You're going to keep right on losing hair till you're bald . . . unless you get your scalp in healthy, hair-growing condition again.

Satisfy 95%

"Actually, our biggest problem is not in doing what we claim," says D. W. Erickson, director of the organization, "for we satisfy at least 95% of our clients which, when you consider that almost every person is a 'doubter' or a 'putter-offer' where hair is concerned, is an excellent showing. Getting these doubters and putter-offers to come in for an examination is really the problem."

Examine You Free

We want to make it clear that you incur absolutely no charge or obligation by coming in for an examination.

Your only obligation is to yourself to ease your mind of hair worries by learning how to save and thicken your hair at home. We will tell you frankly and sincerely whether or not you can be helped, how long it will take and how much it will cost.

Hopeless Cases Refused

Erickson Hair and Scalp Specialists have established a very high reputation in the field for refusing any case that does not fall under the scope of its work. In the majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss (a condition sometimes described as male pattern baldness—has been identified as such), Erickson treatment is of little or no value, and again we state ERICKSON WILL CONTINUE ITS POLICY OF REFUSING ALL HOPELESS CASES.

Guarantee Satisfaction

The Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists will give you a written guarantee that you must be satisfied within 30 days or it costs you nothing.

You won't be obligated or embarrassed in any way. Examinations are given in private. Hours are from 12:00 Noon to 8:00 P.M.

Rocky on Rocks in His Back Yard --Kraft Survey

(This is number 1 in a series of special "Scan of the Parish" reports based on nationwide polls which will appear in The Pontiac Press right up to election eve.)

By JOHN KRAFT

It is almost a foregone conclusion that Richard Nixon will be chosen by the Republican convention to head the party ticket this fall in the contest with Kennedy and Johnson.

In making their choice this week, Republican delegates will undoubtedly be casting a wary eye on what Kraft and other recent state-wide and national surveys show: the odds favor the Kennedy ticket by the slimmest of margins. For the Republicans it will be a hard uphill campaign.

More than one delegate may wonder in the months to come whether it might have been wise to heed the criticism and advice offered by New York's Gov. Rockefeller. They will wonder whether the governor might have been a stronger candidate than the vice president.

The most interesting answer to this question came from Kraft interviewers in Nelson Rockefeller's own backyard, the industrial states of the East—Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, and Rockefeller's own state of New York—where over 6 out of 10 voters had favored Ike in 1956.

Throughout this region definite signs of a loss of strength for the Republicans emerged in remarks like this one from a tool grinder in Albany:

"Never again. I voted for Rockefeller once — that was enough. The man doesn't know the first thing about running a state — let alone a country. We need somebody in there who is not already tied to a lot of mistakes.

"That's why I'm not sure of Nixon either. I've always voted for the Republicans before, but this might be the time to wipe the slate clean."

'NIXON ONLY AN AIDE'

And like this one in Johnstown, Pa., where we interrupted a mother, busy hanging out her weekly wash:

"Yes, I'll answer your question. No, I won't vote the way I did last time. Why? Because Ike hasn't gotten us anywhere in eight years and Nixon is only his assistant. I want a change."

In the context of remarks like these and hundreds of others, when voters were asked to choose between Richard Nixon and John Kennedy, here is what they said they'd do:

| Would Vote for: | Industrial States Choice: |
|---|---|
| Nixon | 40% |
| Kennedy | 51% |
| Not sure | 9% |

If all the undecided voters eventually made up their minds to vote Republican, it appears that Nixon still would be edged out by the Democratic nominee.

Would Rockefeller do better in this section of the country which knows him better than the rest of the nation?

A hoisting engineer in Connecticut said:

"It doesn't affect me personally, but you can't help noticing that as soon as Rockefeller landed the job he helped the oil men. He is an oil man himself. He's too egotistical and ignorant. Why doesn't he tax his own oil instead of the poor man's tobacco?"

DEM IN DISGUISE?

In New York a moving man eager to be counted was more outspoken:

"He's a traitor to his party. He isn't running the state

Ambassador to Claim RB47 Flight Was Not Over Russian Waters

From Our News Wires

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. —Western observers speculated today that U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge would offer sensational evidence to prove that an American reconnaissance plane downed by Soviet aircraft July 1 was not over Russian territory.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov called on the United Nations Security Council yesterday to condemn the United States for "aggression" in sending the RB47 on its ill-fated flight over the Barents Sea.

But Lodge said Kuznetsov's statement that the plane was downed over Soviet territorial waters was an "unconvincing but sinister fabrication."

He told six grieving wives of the plane's crew members, who were seated in the Security Council public gallery, that the Russians "won't get away with it."

NONE WOULD DISCUSS

Neither Lodge nor anybody close to him would even discuss what the proof of the plane's position would be.

Some sources indicated he would offer evidence perhaps as sensational as his unveiling of the "bugged" U.S. Great Seal from the American Embassy in Mocow, which he produced during Council debate on the U2 spy flight case in May.

Lodge told the council:

"The truth is that at the time that the Soviet Union claims that our plane was brought down in Soviet waters, it was actually 50 miles off the Soviet coast.

"It was still in the air 20 minutes later on the high seas, 200 miles from the point alleged by the Soviet Union, and flying in a northeasterly direction.

"At no time during this flight was it closer than 30 miles to the Soviet coast. That is one truth.

They'll Brief You on Primary

Read Five Election Pages

Michigan and Oakland County voters will go to the polls a week from Tuesday to select their partie' nominees for the Nov. 8 election for congressional, state and county offices.

In an effort to keep its readers well informed, The Pontiac Press next week will publish five full pages on the candidates and issues involved.

These special features will cover:

Oakland County's eight-man race for a new probate judgeship (nonpartisan).

The county's special courthouse millage proposal.

Primary runoffs for the county's six seats in the State House of Representatives.

The race for six local county offices of prosecutor, sheriff, treasurer, clerk-register of deeds, drain commissioner and surveyor.

The statewide race for U. S. senator, lieutenant governor and governor.

Compromise Appears to Assure Unity of GOP

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon today appeared to have cleared the tracks for a united Republican effort in November with a compromise agreement with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller on basic platform issues.

In an eight-hour New York meeting which he took the initiative in arranging, Nixon and the New York governor agreed on what the latter called "specific and basic positions on foreign policy and national defense."

"These constitute the basic positions for which I have been fighting," Rockefeller said in a statement. "If they are embodied in the Republican platform as adopted by the convention they will constitute a platform that I can support with pride and vigor."

There wasn't the shadow of a doubt in the minds of Republicans working on the platform that when it is presented to next week's convention it will represent the composite views of Nixon and Rockefeller.

Because of this, Rockefeller's statement was hailed as cheering news in the Nixon camp. It went a long way toward assuring Nixon's associates they will have the enthusiastic support of Rockefeller in crucial efforts to carry New York State in November.

RICHARD M. NIXON

NELSON A. ROCKEFELLER

CAN WITHDRAW

Beyond that the groundwork seemed to have been laid for Rockefeller to withdraw gracefully from any contest for the presidential nomination Nixon appears certain to win from the convention next week.

Rockefeller has said previously he is available for a draft that he doesn't expect to materialize. He based the possibility that his name might go before the convention largely on the grounds that he wanted to influence the platform declarations.

This object having been accomplished, some Republicans felt Rockefeller, who returns here today, might now give Nixon a clear field for the top nomination.

Rockefeller made no mention of the possibility he might now be willing to second Nixon's nomination for the presidency. Nor did the New York governor say in so many words that he is endorsing the vice president's candidacy.

Rockefeller said that in the dramatic meeting he had reiterated his stand that he will not accept second place on the ticket. He said Nixon agreed to respect this decision.

Absolutely No, Says Rocky Again

CHICAGO (UPI) — A top New York Republican leader today said it is now a "logical assumption" that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's name will not be put in nomination at the GOP National Convention.

From Our News Wires

CHICAGO — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller firmly ruled himself out today as a possible running mate for Vice President Richard M. Nixon as he reached agreement with Nixon on a new GOP platform.

Sources close to Rockefeller said Nixon personally asked the governor to be his running mate but that "the governor reiterated that under no circumstances would he accept the vice presidential nomination."

Republicans here braced themselves today for the return of Rockefeller, now a fast-moving storm in what they had expected to be calm seas of the Republican National Convention.

Rockefeller was due at Chicago's Midway Airport at midday, after an eight-hour New York meeting with Nixon that seemed to break up the log jam that kept Rockefeller technically in the running for the GOP nomination.

With the nomination of Nixon as GOP presidential candidate a foregone conclusion, Rockefeller provided about the only political excitement.

His fight for a major voice in party policy, his continuing refusal to accept the vice presidential nomination and "Draft Rockefeller" activity have kept things churning.

The dramatic, eight-hour meeting in which Nixon traveled from Washington to New York City to discuss the party platform with Rockefeller was the highlight of the many ways in which Rockefeller has been a dominant voice in the GOP national meeting.

Probes Acts of Former Chrysler Head to Find Possible Violations

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Securities & Exchange Commission (SEC) is looking into the activities of former Chrysler Corp. President William C. Newberg to determine whether the giant auto maker violated reporting requirements of federal securities laws.

SEC sources raised the possibility that Newberg's relationships with firms which sold to Chrysler should have been covered in Chrysler financial reports. It was disclosed this week that Newberg, who resigned recently, made $450,000 from the suppliers.

The SEC sources said yesterday they would look into the matter. In most cases failure to report information leads to administrative action by the Commission. Prosecution in the courts is rare in such matters.

Reuther Has 'Promised' Michigan to Kennedy

State Poses Dilemma for GOP Strategists

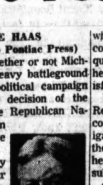
By JOE HAAS
(Special to The Pontiac Press)

CHICAGO—Whether or not Michigan will be a heavy battleground in the coming political campaign depends on the decision of the strategists in the Republican National Convention which opens here Monday.



HAAS

Advance party workers from our state are beginning to arrive at the Congress Hotel. They bring news that Walter Reuther had told Kennedy that he can deliver its electoral votes to him.

I happen to know personally, (I was there), that Reuther was one of the nation's big Democrats to get an audience with Kennedy the day after he was nominated. Their talk lasted longer than any other that I observed.

I also know that any report, published or otherwise, that Gov. Williams was angry with the Johnson nomination is pure bunk. He was one of the top Democrats to be consulted in advance by Kennedy, who explained the import of the combination to him, and he acquiesced wholeheartedly. To me he used the words, "perfectly satisfied."

In view of this situation, the Republicans are faced with two courses. They can surrender Michigan and devote to other states the energy they might expend here with a probability of no results.

Or they can go into the state's area that is not dominated by Reuther, and by an intensive campaign of getting out the votes, try to offset his predominance in the auto making cities.

They also are a little concerned about the Democrats' activity in connection with their primary fight on governor. Whoever wins it, in the general opinion is a stronger man than their Bagwell. However, he now seems to be profiting by the mistakes he made two years ago when, even then, he made Soapy run behind his ticket.

It must be acknowledged that Hare, who now appears to be the likely choice of the Democrats on Aug. 3, has in his capacity of secretary of state, through his auto license bureau and otherwise, been able to build up a clientele that will go all-out to make him top man at Lansing.

Both parties are out to break the stalemate that has existed at Lansing for 12 years. Both seek to make the executive and legislative departments one party, in order to relieve a situation that has been doing our state no good.

Pontiac May See Kennedy Sept. 5

Pontiac may get a first-hand look at Democratic Presidential nominee Jack Kennedy on Labor Day, Sept. 5.

The Massachusetts senator is scheduled to launch his campaign in Detroit that day and indications are that he will visit one other Michigan city during his one-day visit.

"We've invited him to Pontiac, Flint and Muskegon besides Detroit, but we don't know what his schedule will be," Gov. Williams said yesterday in a Lansing news conference.

Williams said negotiations also were under way for a campaign swing by Kennedy through the state later.

and brought it much bad publicity throughout the world.

Every resident of the great state would like to see this done, but both political parties want to do the job.

They've both been trying to do it for a decade or more. It's a draw, as it has been for several years. And all the rematches at the polls haven't helped any. Perhaps the one on Nov. 8 will follow in the same rut.

GLAMOROUS ENOUGH?

On a national level, the supreme question with the Republicans when they get down to business next week will be: "Has enough of this Ike glamour rubbed off on Dick to make him the best candidate?"

For, notwithstanding what they said about him at Los Angeles, Ike is considered by the Republicans to be the world's leading citizen.

Also, the fact that he has stated that he will stump for the ticket, regardless of how it is made up, will be a clincher on its success. Then, in the words of the man on the street, it all depends on Ike, as it did in 1952 and 1956.

In their appeal for the woman vote, (and more women than men will cast their ballots on Nov. 8), the Republicans feel that they have the better argument.

It is the mothers who think the most heavily and seriously about sacrificing their sons in war. And they point to Ike's record, also the general war and peace record of his party.

In Oakland County, the situation in each party is vastly different. Our delegates come here united, in absolute harmony with their county chairman and entire county organization. They're positive the county will follow in the Republican column in November.

This should favor the Republicans. The Democrats even now are carrying their revolution into the August primary, evidently not having learned anything at the Los Angeles convention. Just who now is Democratic boss in the second largest county in the state in population—and votes?

The Democrats have had such lean picking in Oakland County ever since the days that they don't seem to realize when opportunity is offered them but kick it away by quarreling among themselves. Maybe that is the Democratic way.

Anyway, it pleases a large

Five Killed Battling Timber Holocaust

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More than 200,000 acres of the West's most rugged land was ablaze today. Thousands of men battled the flames. Five died in the process.

Lightning, and in some cases man himself, was responsible for the fires that caused damage in the millions of dollars and cost more millions to fight. In California alone, the loss was some 10 million dollars.

A note of cautious optimism, tempered by a 50-50 chance for more lightning in the pivotal point where Oregon, Idaho and Washington meet, crept into official reports. Temperatures were in the 90s. The fire outbreak was described as the worst in 30 years.

The dead included two-man crews of two World War II bombers converted for borate-bombing runs over the fires and another pilot killed making a water drop over a British Columbia fire. One B26 crashed in eastern Oregon and the other in Southern California.

More than 68,000 acres of Angeles National Forest lay charred, but fires slowed from their swift pace of previous days. The worst remaining was the Bootlegger Canyon fire on the east flank of the Magic Mountain fire.

A 46,000-acre northern California brush fire was stopped shy of San Simeon Castle, former home of the late William Randolph Hearst and now a state park, but approached within 10 miles of Paso Robles, some 200 miles south of San Francisco. The flames were unchecked by battling crews.

Lightning swept through Montana, leaving 30 new fires behind. Lt. Gov. Paul Cannon alerted the Montana National Guard to stand by as 20,000 acres burned. The blazes were in rugged terrain near Helena and Lewistown.

Some 900 men held their fire lines on 10,000 acres of burning forest in western Idaho near Idaho City, but another 9,000 acres of Payette National Forest timber burned unchecked.

Some 23,000 acres in the Wallowa-Whitman National Forest in Oregon and Washington burned. Some 4,000 men fought some 200 blazes, many out of control and some even unmanned.

The biggest Oregon fire, the Anthony Lakes blaze southwest of La Grande, burned on 10,000 acres off 6,500-foot mountain land that drops off suddenly into deep canyons ribbed with grass and timber pockets.

Some 100 Zuni Indians flew to Oregon from New Mexico to join weary crews.

Fighters worked to stop a 4,000 acre, out-of-control Wyoming fire short of Shoshone National Forest. Some 13,000 acres burned in British Columbia, but man had control of it.

The wives are, from left, Mrs. Dean Phillips of Inwood, N.Y., whose husband is missing; Mrs. John McCone of Tonganoxie, Kan., whose husband is a prisoner; Mrs. Willard Palm of Oak Ridge, Tenn., whose husband's body will be flown to Amsterdam, Holland, on Monday in an American flag-draped coffin; and Mrs. Oscar Goforth, Sardis, Okla., whose husband is also missing. Seated in the rear is the Rev. James Olmsted, brother of the other crewman who is a prisoner.

The Day in Birmingham

Local Arts Festival Cost May Have Topped Plans

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham Arts Festival, received with acclaim throughout the area, may have cost the city more than had originally been anticipated.

The City Commission will examine a report Monday night by Charles W. Gale, superintendent of Forestry and Parks Dept., which states that the rehabilitation cost of Shain Park following the festival was $1,397.75.

A large part of the sum went toward replacing dead grass with new sod.

Bids received on a new quintuple purpose tire truck will also be discussed at the Commission meeting. According to City Manager L. R. Gare, the lowest acceptable bid was approximately $6,000 less than had been set asidef or the purchase.

A Ford Motor Co. produced film emphasizing citizen participation in government will be premiered Tuesday at the company's Tractor and Implement Division's general offices at 2500 E. Maple Rd.

The film, entitled "Where Were You," is narrated by the noted attorney Joseph H. Welch.

Representatives of service clubs, political organizations local and county governments have been invited to the premiere.

The film will be made available to public and private groups on a free-loan basis from the Ford Film Library in Dearborn following the premiere.

A public hearing has been scheduled by Bloomfield Township at Marian High School Aug. 9 at 8 p.m. to discuss assessments on the proposed drain for the 14 Mile-Lahser roads area.

High individual cost to property owners for the construction of a $44,000 drain has brought many objections to township officials.

State Highway Department May Build 8-Mile Drain

Some progress appeared in store today toward construction of a storm drain along Eight Mile road—thanks to the State Highway Department.

R. J. Alexander, director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, left a meeting in Detroit yesterday confident that a "substantial" step was taken with indications that the state might build a drain the county was blocked from constructing.

The City of Southfield, which opposed construction of the $45,610,000 South-Oak drain so strongly that plans were scrapped this week, would be left out of the plan, Alexander said.

He said before another meeting in Detroit next Wednesday with Mayor Miriani it was hoped "definite commitments" will have been given by the highway department to build a drain to stop flooding in Oak Park, along Eight Mile and Northwestern Highway, and the Northland Shopping Center.

Accomplishments in yesterday's talk with Glenn C. Richards, Detroit DPW director, left Alexander encouraged that Detroit "soon" would relent and allow sewage from Oakland's Evergreen-Farmington sanitary sewer system to be treated at the Detroit treatment plant as contracted for.

Detroit had kept the valve shut, insisting the South-Oak drain be constructed first. The absence of the drain sends heavy seasonal rain waters spilling over into Northwest Detroit from Southfield and Oak Park.

Southfield residents and officials fought off proposed drain assessments as being confiscatory.

Although Alexander said it wasn't discussed in yesterday's briefing with Richards, it is believed Detroit is contemplating suing Southfield to stop its contribution to the flooding problem.

Oak Park never opposed the old drain.

Should the highway department follow through on its plan to go ahead and build its own drain, it is expected that all but Southfield's problems would be solved.

No financial arrangements were discussed, Alexander said, pending final word from the highway department.

Ray Meek, 22, of Detroit, was cut on both hands when a 40-foot tree blew down on his car just in front of the windshield.

Police in the Detroit area communities of Center Line, Utica, Roseville, Royal Oak, Harper Woods and the Grosse Pointes reported many trees and wires down and some roads blocked by the wind-driven debris.

At Muskegon, hail stones a half-inch in diameter bombarded the area.

One complete end of the Western Stamping Co. plant on the southwest edge of Jackson was blown out, complete with cement foundation.

Twisted metal and debris was found up to a half a mile away. Four persons in the building at the time were uninjured. Owner Art Poole estimated damages at $15,000.

After leaving Michigan, the storm slammed into Canada, uprooting trees and downing power lines in the Ontario communities of Tilbury, Belle River and Emgryville, Canadian officials said the storm knocked out electrical and telephone service to some 12,000 persons.

County Parties Back

Courthouse Millage

Both the Republican and Democratic committees of Oakland County have endorsed the county's special millage proposal on the Aug. 2 ballot to finish the courthouse building program.

The county is asking voters to approve a half-mill (50 cents for each $1,000 of state equalized valuation) levy for four years to provide four million dollars to add five units to the first courthouse tower unit now under construction in the County Service Center.

"We believe that the method of financing the addition . . . is sound and is a superior and cheaper method of financing than to vote long term bonds," an official resolution of the Oakland County Democratic Committee read in part.

The committee urged a yes vote on both propositions on the ballot.

Republican Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr. said his county committee gave the proposal unanimous endorsement, believing present facilities "inadequate to properly, efficiently and economically administer county government to its fullest resources."

To Ignore Labor Day Celebration in Detroit; Deny Slap at Kennedy

DETROIT (UPI) — The 65,000-member Detroit area Building Trades Council has voted to ignore the traditional Labor Day celebration this year, charging that it has been turned into a "political circus."

The council, representing building tradesmen in Wayne, Macomb and Oakland counties, denied that the move was a slap at Democratic presidential hopeful Sen. John F. Kennedy, who is scheduled to appear at a Labor Day rally in Detroit.

The council decision was apparently made two days before Kennedy announced that he would appear but was not revealed until publication of the group's newspaper Thursday.

The group, headed by Thomas McNamara, a brother of U.S. Sen. Pat McNamara, said there were many reasons for the decision including the fact that the group believes union members should be free to spend the last holiday weekend of the summer with their families.

The council did say, however, that the holiday has become primarily a political holiday and has resulted in a "prostitution of the meaning of Labor Day."

Lack of interest in the 2½ hour labor parade was also cited as a reason for withdrawing from the celebration by the 18-union group.

Lodge said the commission should discuss the breakdown of the 10-nation East-West disarmament talks in Geneva June 27 when the Communist side walked out.

One key delegate told a reporter he had talked with 20 colleagues and found that none was in favor of meeting before the end of August. He said delegations needed time to consult their governments.

GOP Gavel Post Can Really Take Those Punches

CHICAGO (AP) — The Republicans are well prepared for some heavy gavel-pounding during next week's convention.

That way, when the chairman gives a lusty whack on the post, he won't giffle microphones and teleprompters on the rostrum.

Survey Shows Eggs Considered Most Healthful

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An agriculture Department study shows that eggs, known in the popular mind as breakfast food, are eaten regularly at the morning meal by only three of every five individuals.

The department said researchers found, in a survey of 2,450 homemakers, that eggs generally were considered the most healthful of the solid foods commonly served for breakfast; that when most homemakers think of a substantial, or even a medium-sized breakfast, they think of eggs; and that most homemakers say they do not consider them too much trouble to prepare for breakfast.

Ike, Aides Sift Warning of New Russian Move?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower and his top military and foreign policy advisers were reported to have held an urgent series of meetings on warnings of a new Russian move soon, possibly in Berlin.

The summer White House at Newport, R.I., today denied a published report that the National Security Council flew to a secret meeting with Eisenhower Thursday "amid indications of a new international crisis."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty also denied that the joint chiefs of staff had followed this up with a special meeting here yesterday.

But, authoritative sources said yesterday U.S. officials had received an intelligence report that the Soviet Union and the East German Reds might trigger a "military move" against Communist-encircled free West Berlin within 30 days.

The State Department denied it had received any such report or that Secretary of State Christian A. Herter had discussed it with Eisenhower when they conferred for more than two hours at Newport earlier this week.

A Russian move now would climax a violent series of Soviet threats, insults and actions which began with the collapse of the Paris summit conference.

The Chicago Sun-Times reported the National Security Council and joint chiefs of staff meetings in a copyrighted dispatch last night.

Reporters Frederick Kuh and Thomas B. Ross said the Security Council session appeared to be connected with another recent secret meeting between Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller's press secretary Robert McManus said in New York that Rockefeller met with Gates at Gates' request in Rockefeller's New York town house on June 5.

McManus said the governor was asked at the recent governors' conference in Colorado on what he based his statements that this country's military defenses should be strengthened. He said Rockefeller replied they were based on his conference with Gates.

"During their hitherto unrevealed meeting," the dispatch said, "Gates is understood to have told Rockefeller of strong indications that the Soviets are planning new action against the West within the next 30 days."

One Dies, Three Hurt in Crashes

Imlay City Man's Car Crashes With Gasoline Truck; Auto Hits Train

One man was killed and three other persons were critically injured yesterday in accidents at Imlay City and Mount Clemens.

Dead is Louis Lubham, 69, of Imlay City. He pulled into the path of an oncoming five-ton gasoline truck which sideswiped his car sending it careening into a sign post and tree on Imlay City road, police said.

Lubham's wife, Vera, 61, was taken to Lapeer County General Hospital in critical condition. The gas truck, driven by Marvin M. Winter, 23, of Cass City, spilled 50-100 gallons of fuel on the street which did not burn.

Lapeer County Sheriff's Deputy Hal Williams, who was following the gas truck, said Winter had no chance to avoid the crash. Winter was not injured.

A father and son were critically injured near Mount Clemens when their car struck the New York Central passenger train Timberliner."

Taken to St. Jospeh Hospital in Mount Clemens were Albert Dickinson, 45, of 2592 Dawes St., Utica, and his son Allen, 18, following the crash on 18½ Mile road between Van Dyke and Mound roads.

Police said one of the trains five passenger cars was shoved off the track by the impact of the collision but none of the passengers was injured.

Dickinson has been unable to make a statement concerning the cause of the crash.

U. N. Spokesman Fears New Violence Would Touch Off Trouble

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — A United Nations official here said today The Congo as a modern republic has "virtually collapsed."

A U. N. spokesman declined to comment on new incidents of violence northwest of Elisabethville yesterday but confirmed that they could cause new trouble for the infant republic.

"There is no doubt that if word of this gets spread around and magnified, there is a possibility of violent reaction from the Congolese here," he said.

The U. N. spokesman said Belgian troops were scheduled to leave Leopoldville by 6 p.m., but refused to speculate whether they would all be out by that time.

Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba left Accra, Ghana, today on his way to U. N. headquarters in New York to seek moral and economic aid for his trouble-torn nation.

There were reports that President Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana had sought to persuade Lumumba to call off his journey during conversations last night, shortly after the Congolese Premier's arrival from Leopoldville.

Sources said Nkrumah felt that a personal appearance by Lumumba before the U. N. at this time would not be wise.

Before leaving Accra, Lumumba told newsmen he would visit other countries to ask for technical help in addition to addressing the U. N. Security Council.

He mentioned only Canada by name. And he did not specify what help he was seeking.

right either. Rockefeller is trying to play both ends against the middle, being a so-called liberal Republican. I'd rather vote for an out-and-out Democrat — in fact, I might."

A dyed-in-the-wool Republican in the heartland of Rockefeller territory told us:

"If they run Rockefeller for president, I would vote for a third party and if there wasn't a third party, Id just not vote. He's nuts—saying every homeowner should be compelled to build his own private bomb shelter. He must think everyone's made of money like he is. I don't know what to do—I just don't know what to do."

In Hoboken, a local butcher of German extraction put it this way:

"I usually do things the way my customers do them. I was for the Yankees, I was for Ike, and there was a lot of good talk about Rockefeller there for a while. But now everything has changed. To tell you the truth, like I said, I voted for who my customers do, and right now, it looks like the Democrats."

Many remarks like these turned up in the course of the surveys to produce this kind of result when voters were offered an alternative choice of Rockefeller or Kennedy:

| Would Vote for: | Industrial States Choice |
|---|---|
| Rockefeller | 33% |
| Kennedy | 52% |
| Not sure | 15% |

In Rockefeller's own state he has lost favor over such issues as taxes and bomb shelters with the people who helped elect him. In neighboring states some of these feelings have filtered through too. Beyond that there is greater confidence.

Finally, Republican delegates will have picked the man who in the vice president's experience will run the strongest race for their party in the backyard of the Democratic nominee—Sen. Kennedy from Boston.

portion of our population, the Republicans, who sit back, laugh and say, "Let em fight while we're making hay—and votes." That noise you just heard was Lewis Cass turning over in his grave.

Also, in their bid for the woman vote, the Republicans are not doing it by making them delegates or passing out buckets of senseless pap about the mother in the home. Their platform will have at least a six-inch plank devoted exclusively to women and their place in politics, placing it on an even higher level than that of men.

IT'LL BE STREAMLINED

Streamlining is to be theme of the convention, which must be finished within four days. Hours of senseless oratory, to which nobody ever listens, are to be dispensed with, and the convention conducted strictly on a big business basis.

The general program will depart from the usual doings program conductors, whose principal occupation is beating around the bush, killing time by using 100 words to say what could be better expressed in 10—and telling the audience, if any, that the same party will be on the program again next time that a full moon falls on Wednesday.

The Republicans lack the services of a presiding officer like Sam Rayburn, just as the Democrats sadly lacked it at Los Angeles. Sam always could make the delegates believe almost anything he wanted them to believe—and think that was the way they thought themselves.

Even at Los Angeles, I saw the chairman consult him as to what to do in that voice vote on making Johnson's nomination unanimous, when it sounded more like a big tie than the required two-thirds.

Sam was Johnson's principal backer, and of course told the speaker to declare that it had carried. But I like him.

CHIMNEY BOOKCASE — Removal of wall partitions in their "older" home enabled a Park Ridge, Ill., couple to enlarge their living room, but it exposed the chimney, an eyesore. The photo shows how they overcame the problem by creating a handsome four-sided "bookcase." On the near dining room side, shelves were grooved for the display of especially artistic plates. The view looks into the living room. Neatly-fitted wooden shelves were painted white to contrast with the green-colored panels of hardboard forming the furred-out backing on the chimney side. The owner made the baseboard also of hardboard, which was readily bent, after being soaked in water, to form the curved corners. Serving as a flue for the oil burning furnace, the chimney presents no problem from the standpoint of overheating.

Most of these new homes will be large enough to include family recreation areas made of durable materials such as fire-resistant and play-resistant gypsum board.

Home Site Trees Need Good Start

For your landscaping's sake, it pays to be a sidewalk superintendent—even before your sidewalks are laid — when you are building your new home.

The beautiful trees so much an asset to your property have a better chance to make the grade if you help safeguard their vital root systems during and after grading. W. R. Strickland, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert Co., says the vigil and the work begin before grading.

This means policing the grounds. All plaster chunks, roofing paper and other debris should be removed. Covered over, these items disintegrate and contaminate the soil, forming toxins deadly to trees. The soil should then be cultivated lightly to aid moisture penetration. Generally, soils are apt to become compacted from two to three months of trampling by construction crews.

Fills of several inches may be placed over tree roots—an area usually extending just beyond the branch spread. Only loamy or sandy topsoil fill material should be used, however. Heavy tractors and grading machinery can make even this ideal ideal fill a dangerous blanket if used to pack the material into place.

Changing the grades means a change of moisture levels. Even shallow fills often reduce moisture which can reach the roots. Best protection for woody pets is to feed them with a good tree food high in nitrogen content and to make sure they get frequent deep watering. Feeding not only invigorates trees but reduces their water requirements.

Contrast Wood Patterns

engendered by contrasting patterns of wood for exterior walls and the fencing around them. The Southern Pine Association suggests vertical boards and battens for the house siding and a horizontal "basket-weave" pattern for the fence. Identical colors in paint or finish for both items will tie the plan together.

Lions Sponsor Clyde Beatty

The Circus Is Coming

Club will bring to Pontiac an event with probably the most universal appeal of any show on earth — the circus.

The huge tents of the Clyde Beatty-Cole Brothers Combined Circus will start rearing their heads in the predawn darkness on Pontiac Lake road near Telegraph road July 30.

The world's largest big top will be here for performances at 2 and 8 p.m.

Doors to the menageries will open at 1 and 7 p.m.

Behind it all are the sponsors, the Pontiac Lions. Their goal is to raise funds for the Lions' sight conservation program.

MANY PURPOSES

This money goes to help the blind, provide proper educational training and medical treatment for school children with impaired vision, and to seek out by means of regular school examinations those with sight problems not yet discovered.

"Our sole hope for continuing these sight conservation causes at full capacity lies in the advance ticket sale," says Philip Wellemeyer, club president.

The Lions get a 50 per cent cut on all tickets sold before Friday. They get only a 10 per cent cut at the gate.

Tickets are on sale at Calbi's Music Store, 119 N. Saginaw St., and Grinnell Bros., 27 S. Saginaw, or from any member.

The circus will come here from Port Huron. There are 600 people with the big show which recently returned from a South American tour and is fresh from engagements in New York and Eastern cities.

Clyde Beatty, the famous wild animal trainer, will appear at each performance in the big cage, challenging 40 lions and tigers.

The circus menagerie boasts 200 wild animals and 15 elephants. The performers number 150.

The circus is housed in 22 tents covering 12 acres. In the center stands the gigantic big top with its six rings and stages and the hippodrome track.

With this, a brass band, the crash of cymbals — and plenty of parking space — there'll be fun for all at the circus next Saturday.

Township Meetings Defended in Court

To prohibit the holding of annual township meetings would deprive citizens of "one of their primary freedoms," Pontiac Township attorney Herbert W. Gordon declared in Circuit Court yesterday.

Gordon was answering a suit filed by Robert W. Hodge, a Pontiac attorney, asking the court to declare a law requiring annual township meetings unconstitutional.

Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem may rule on Hodge's request for an injunction before his vacation Aug. 1. He asked Gordon to file a brief in answer to Hodge's request submitted before yesterday's hearing.

If the judge rules by then, his ruling could have a big bearing on Aug. 2 primary votes in 11 of Oakland County's 24 townships to abolish the annual meeting.

Gordon's and Hodge's legal arguments hinged on whether the meetings are elections. Gordon contends they are not, while Hodge's rebuttal is that they are, and therefore the law requiring the meetings violated the state constitution which entitled all voters the right to vote by absentee ballot.

Hodge named as a plaintiff in his suit his son Walter D., 22, a student at the Sorbonne in Paris. By his absence, his father said, his son was denied a vote he was entitled to at the April township meeting.

The resident of the township told Judge Ziem the meetings are "haphazard random gatherings" which "can destroy representative government and wreck the township."

He said the sessions "vacate" the positions of township officers and puts this authority for the day in the hands of a few who take the time to attend.

"This is the grass roots of our democratic process," Gordon answered. "To deprive them (citizens) of this democratic right would be like taking away one of their primary freedoms."

Boy, 13, Is Rescued by Brother and Sister

A brother and sister saved the life of a 13-year-old boy Friday afternoon when they pulled him from 20 feet of deep water in Commerce Lake.

Sheriff's deputies credit Donna Jury, 17, and her brother William, 14, for the rescue of Jon Huhtala, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Huhtala, 3139 Ridgemont St., Commerce Township.

The rescuers are the children of Dr. and Mrs. Donald B. Jury of Pleasant Ridge.

The near-drowning occurred at 3 p.m. near their summer cottage at 3099 Ridgemont St.

The two boys were swimming approximately 15 yards from shore when William yelled desperately to his sister who was on shore:

"Donna! He's drowning."

The girl plunged into the water and helped her brother drag the unconscious boy ashore.

She then applied artificial respiration and had revived him by the time Commerce Township firemen arrived at the scene.

The rescued boy told deputies he was a "good swimmer, but was tired and the water was deep."

The boys had been swimming by an offshore float.

Jon was examined by Dr. Jury and pronounced in good condition. He was not hospitalized.

Donna said she had "read somewhere" about artificial respiration, but had never before been called upon to use it.

New Evidence in Finch Trial?

Prosecutor Says He'll Reveal More Findings at Monday Resumption

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The second trial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff resumes Monday with a prosecution promise of new evidence to convict the lovers of murder in the death of the society surgeon's wife.

Prosecutor Clifford Crail refused to disclose details of his new findings before proceedings recessed Friday for the weekend. He did, however, note that it had "been uncovered since the first trial ended."

At the same time, the prosecution said it expected to call Miss Tregoff's former husband, James Pappa, to testify against her during the retrial.

Pappa, a construction worker divorced from Carole last year, did not testify at the first trial.
