Preparing for Onslaught to Parks

READYING MURPHY PARK — Vern Keebaugh, a Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. employe, is one of many parks employes today preparing for Wednesday's opening of seven city parks. William Aho, parks supervisor, said the tentative opening date depends on the continuation of good weather. Parks to open will be Murphy, Beaudette, Oakland, Jaycee, Rotary, Indian Village and a new Hawthorne Park on Pontiac's northwest side. There will be plenty of picnic tables and stoves, playground equipment, and other recreational facilities, Aho said.

ABOUT THAT TIME — With the May 1 parks opening date approaching, John Edmonds, of the Parks and Recreation Dept., is shown here preparing the lawns in one of the seven parks. The department said all the facilities of last year will be made available to parks users.

AN EARLY STARTER — Parks and Recreation Dept. foreman Lyle D. LaVoye had just finished installing a swing at one of Pontiac's parks when five-year-old Paula Gallardo, of 116 W. Fairmont Ave., had taken it over. Swings, other playground equipment, horseshoes, and shuffleboard courts will be available at several of the parks.

Hit at Business Taxes

LANSING (AP) — The Democratic State Central Committee says that if industry is leaving Michigan because of its tax policies, as some industrialists claimed in weekend statements, "then the Republican Party, General Motors Corp. and the Ford Motor Co. should answer to the people."

In a resolution adopted here yesterday, the committee said:

"Lobbyists for General Motors and Ford wrote the (state) business activities tax and the Republican majority in the Michigan Legislature jammed it through in an historic session where lobbyists were on the floor to explain the tax before it was adopted . . .

"The motive behind this charge (that industry is leaving because of tax policies) is to condition the public mind against a corporation profits tax in order to justify new, direct consumer taxes."

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who is pressing for a six per cent tax on corporation profits, said at Medford, Ore., that the weekend criticisms of Michigan's taxes "sounds politically motivated."

He declined further comment "until I can find out what was said and how they said it," but the state Democratic committee quickly came to his defense and "re-affirmed" its support of his proposed tax program.

Williams proposes to abolish the state's corporation franchise tax, which brought in 45 million dollars in 1956, and expand exemptions in the business receipts tax, which yielded 60 million, if his profits tax is accepted. His tax would yield an estimated 132 millions to meet rising state spending.

GM SPEAKS

President Harlow H. Curtice of General Motors said GM already has located several plants in other states because taxes there "are less than one-half of the present taxes per job in Michigan."

"Obviously," the GM chief said, "if the Governor's plan of taxation is adopted, the resultant excessive tax level will be an even greater influence in our decision with respect to locating new plants and providing new job opportunities."

Curtice said GM has opened 13 plants employing 25,000 persons in Ohio within the past 10 years.

Buddy Escapes Off California

Swimmer Missing, Attacked by Shark

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (INS)—A 25-year-old student at California Polytechnic College was missing and feared drowned today after he was apparently attacked by a 20-foot shark while swimming with a companion near Morro Rock off the central California coast.

His companion, Daniel Hogan, also a student at the college, told authorities that the two of them were swimming about one and a half miles north of Morro Rock and from 300 to 600 yards offshore Sunday afternoon when the shark attacked them.

The San Luis Obispo Sheriff's office said Hogan related that the tide began to go against them and Savino began to tire as they attempted to buck the current and head for shore.

Hogan said he was trying to help Savino, and the latter had his arm around Hogan's shoulder when "something hit Savino hard."

He said he saw a shark swirl in the water behind Savino and then both disappeared behind the crest of a wave. Moments later, he said, Savino reappeared, held a bleeding arm above the water and shouted, "something big hit me!"

'LET'S GET OUT'

Hogan said he feared the shark would be back, since Savino had been hurt, and he shouted to Savino, "Come on, let's get out of here," and struck for shore, with Savino behind him.

Moments later, he said, he looked back, and there was no sign of Savino.

When Hogan reached shore, exhausted, he told another student, Jerry Frank, who called the Coast Guard, which in turn alerted the Sheriff's office and other emergency units.

The Coast Guard cutter "Alert," stationed about three miles away, dispatched a launch to the scene and the men aboard reported they saw a 20-foot shark in the general vicinity of the attack but found no sign of the missing student.

The launch returned to the cutter for weapons to destroy the shark but found no trace of it when they came back.

Extortionist Held by City Police

Postal Officer to Ask Issuance of Warrant Against Confessor

Chief Herbert W. Straley said today Postal Inspector Donald F. Woodward would request the warrant in Detroit from George Woods, chief assistant of the United States Attorney, eastern district.

Leithleiter, 38, father of three children, was arrested by Detective Thomas C. Mitchell and Richard G. Evans in the wooded area in the Bald Mountain Recreation Area, Orion Township Saturday, which Leithleiter had set as the payoff place for $300, a portion of the total $500 he requested from the woman.

Police had been working on the case for 10 days since the woman and her husband notified them of the first letter received April 17 threatening "to expose her character" to her husband, according to Straley.

Leithleiter admitted to police he wrote two letters to the woman after he picked her name at random from a telephone book. He said he did not know either the doctor or the woman. He also claimed the entire scheme was "just a crazy stunt," adding he didn't need the money.

Hussein Returns to His Kingdom

AMMAN (AP)—King Hussein returned to Jordan today after a surprise flying visit to Saudi Arabia's King Saud.

Apparently the young monarch wanted to find out what was said in his neighbor's conference Saturday with leaders of Egypt and Syria, and to patch up any crack the Syrian and Egyptian visitors might have opened between him and Saud.

The young ruler has blamed his country's current troubles on international communism, aided by Egyptian propaganda, and security forces have been busy rounding up Communist elements.

Almost a holiday mood prevailed in Amman as the curfew was lifted for eight hours, the longest out-of-doors period since the restriction and martial law were ordered last Thursday.

Streets were jammed with traffic and stores packed with shoppers laying in supplies for the annual feast at the end of the month marking the end of the Moslem holy month of Ramadan.

Immediately on his return, the King went into conference at his palace with leading government officials.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Some units of the U.S. 6th Fleet will arrive in Beirut waters tomorrow, the U.S. Embassy here announced today. The 6th Fleet sailed to the eastern Mediterranean in connection with King Hussein's struggle with leftist elements in Jordan.

Trout Season Opens but Fish Are Wary

By JACK PATTERSON

GRAYLING — Time was when a rainy opening of the trout season seemed a major catastrophe.

As we advance a bit further along life's one-way trail there is a certain comfort in the sound of rain on the cabin roof and in the realization that comes with it that it will not be necessary to get up at quite the unholy hour we used to think necessary.

We had plenty of rain opening morning (Saturday) and streams that had carefully maintained an unseasonable low transparency for weeks greeted anglers with the high discolored water we usually associate with April. As might be expected bait fishing was almost mandatory.

Opening weekend was spent on our own mile or so of stream, experimenting, really, more than fishing. Trout showed their usual cold-water diffidence and required some tempting before they accepted nymphs and wet flies about as readily as worms. Small, scattered hatches of stone flies aroused little visible interest on the part of the fish.

It wasn't easy fishing and successful fishermen worked for what they got. John C. Napley of Pontiac dropped by for an hour or so, and took a pair of fish, which was about average.

If we did not get too much constructive fishing done we at least got in our good deed for the day. We freed a porcupine from an un-

At Pontiac High School Tonight

Band to Present Concert

Stirring marches and lilting waltzes will fill the air tonight as the Pontiac High School Band presents its 30th annual Spring concert at 8:15 in the boys' gymnasium.

Under the direction of Dale Harris, the band will play "His Honor March" by Fillmore; "The North Sea Overture" by Hermann; "Waltz Song From High Jinks" by Friml; and "Waltz From Suite of American Dances" by R. R. Bennett.

Other selections will be "Manhattan Beach March" by Sousa; "The Universal Judgment" — symphonic poem by Sowerby; "Tanico Tango" by Barrow; selections from "My Fair Lady" by Loewe; and "Sounds of Peace March" by Von Blon.

A woodwind quintet will play "Sailors Hornpipe" by Sowerby. Tickets will be available at the door.

$600 in Pot-O-Gold Might Be Yours; Better Try Again

If you're looking for an easy and very pleasant way to make a few fast dollars, turn to page 9 and give this week's Pot-O-Gold puzzle a try. It's now worth $600 unless a winner is found for last week's puzzle, and at the very least, a winning solution will bring you $100 plus $25 if you're a subscriber.

You'll have a lot of fun trying to outguess the puzzle people, and your chance of winning is just as good as the next person's. Just be sure to read the rules carefully.

Remember, all puzzle entries must be on postcards, must be postmarked by the deadline date given in the rules, and the correct number must be written in the right square.

Puzzles that arrive in envelopes, have a late postmark or have the words instead of the numbers written in will be disqualified. After you take the time to solve the puzzle, take just a minute more to be sure you've done everything according to rules. It may mean the difference between $600 and nothing.

Gasoline Fire Burns 2 Badly

Waterford Father, Son Run Through Flames to Reach Stairway

David Dumas, of 2049 Oakdale Ave., Waterford Township, and his son David Jr. were severly burned at noon Saturday when fumes from spilled gasoline exploded.

Dumas and his son were in the basement of their home filling the tank of a power mower when Dumas dropped a glass gallon jug of gas.

The fumes from the gas spread to a nearby waterheater causing a mild flash explosion and fire. Father and son had to go through the flames to reach the stairway, according to Waterford Township firemen who answered the call.

They were rushed to Pontiac General Hospital and Dumas suffered second and third degree burns on his face, neck, arms and legs. His condition was reported satisfactory today. David Jr. was treated and released.

House Unit Hears Views of Truman on Foreign Policy

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman was scheduled to state his views on U.S. foreign policy before a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee today.

Rep. Carnahan (D-Mo), subcommittee chairman, said Truman offered to appear when he learned the group would hold a hearing in Kansas City.

Most witnesses at two previous hearings have supported American foreign aid programs, Carnahan said.

Two More Die as Storm Siege Enters 11th Day

Almost Every Stream in State Spills Over Its Banks

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — Cloudbursts and tornadoes pounded flood-ravaged Texas from the Panhandle to the Gulf Coast today as the record-breaking storm entered its 11th day.

Hardly a river or stream in the vast state was contained within its banks as damage soared into the millions and the death toll climbed.

Gov. Price Daniel last night alerted the state National Guard for possible use and Army and Guard helicopters were already being used to carry emergency medical supplies to isolated communities.

The bodies of two new victims, a 10-year-old boy and a 21-year-old man, were recovered last night from the rampaging Trinity River at Dallas, and a couple in Laredo were killed when lightning struck their home.

Principal damage was being done along seven rivers which flow southeast into the Gulf of Mexico. They are from north to south, the Sabine, Trinity, Brazos, Colorado, Guadalupe, Nueces and the Rio Grande.

A tornado struck at Raymondville early today but no deaths were reported. The Weather Bureau forecast more rains and storms through tonight.

Clear, Mild Weather Predicted in Pontiac

After a cool weekend of rain and high winds, the weatherman has reported that clear weather and mild temperatures are in store for this area for the next two or three days.

Tonight will be clear with a low near 45. Continued mild and fair with a high of 70 to 74 is the outlook for tomorrow. Winds will be mostly light and variable.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 43. At 2 p.m. the mercury registered 72.

Recess Over, Congress Convenes

Bulk of Work Still Lies Ahead

Drive Thought Ended for Big Reductions in Ike's Budget

WASHINGTON (INS)—Congress reconvenes today with the prospect for much of its major legislation about as uncertain as peace in the Middle East.

Legislators who had 10 days to sample public opinion at home during the Easter recess returned with fresh ammunition for the upcoming battles over budget economy, tax reduction, civil rights, school construction and foreign aid.

Some top administration sources believe the drive for a big cut in President Eisenhower's 71.8 billion dollar budget has lost some steam in recent weeks, and that members of Congress may have heard this from the voters.

In any event, it was made clear that President Eisenhower — also returning early this week from a semi-holiday at Augusta, Ga., — intends to fight harder for his legislative program, particularly foreign aid.

BRIEF LEADERS

Eisenhower plans to brief Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress shortly on his new foreign aid program, which calls for a longer term authorization and shifting some economic aid from grants to loans.

GOP sources said the President has been advised that his legislative proposals on foreign aid, civil rights and school construction will pass this session only if he goes to bat personally for them. He is expected to make an early television-radio address to the country as part of this effort.

Legislators will want to hear, as soon as possible, a direct report from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the U. S. moves in the Jordanian crisis which came to a head during the recess.

DULLES TO LEAVE

However, Dulles is leaving tomorrow for a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Council at Bonn, Germany, and will address the NATO ministers Thursday. Thus, he would be unlikely to avail himself for quizzing by the Senate group until some time next week at the earliest.

Congressional leaders are particularly concerned in what happened the past week in the Middle East because it involved a preliminary test of the Eisenhower Doctrine which they endorsed last month. Dulles has kept individual leaders advised of developments but has yet to report to the congressional committees themselves.

CONSIDERS NOMINEES

Tomorrow, the Foreign Relations Committee will consider Eisenhower's controversial nomination of Scott McLeod, as ambassador to Ireland, and the debated transfer of Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen from Russia to the Philippines. In this list for hearing also is his appointment of writer-lecturer Henry J. Taylor as ambassador to Switzerland, and of Roy R. Rubottom to be assistant secretary of state.

With a life expectancy of only three more months, the first session of the 85th Congress has most of its work still to be done. To date only two really major bills have been enacted — the Eisenhower Doctrine and legislation extending corporation and excise tax rates another year.

There has been no action by either house on postal rate increases, school aid, proposed labor law changes, housing, voluntary health insurance aid, Hawaii-Alaska statehood and many other presidential requests.

AFTER A 100-MILE-AN-HOUR CHASE — The stolen station wagon above hangs suspended in the air after ramming into a post in Kittery, Maine, after a hundred mile-an-hour chase for 18 miles. A 17-year-old youth, Lionel Palardis, of Chicopee Falls, Mass., who police say was driving the stolen vehicle, was seriously injured in the crash at the Interstate Highway Toll station early yesterday. State police say Palardis is an escapee from the Maine State School for Boys at South Portland.

along and in the drainage areas of the Brazos River, stretching from the Panhandle to the Gulf of Freeport.

DELUGE STRIKES

On the upper Brazos, to the west of Fort Worth and Dilas, Graford was completely isolated yesterday when struck by a deluge which deposited 7.20 inches of rain. A helicoper rushed in a doctor from Mineral Wells.

And nearby Graham, a city of 6,700, was having to close down its water system as floods swamped the business district.

Other towns in the area, including Breckenridge which was almost drowned in an 8-inch cloudburst yesterday, suffered heavy damages and had to evacuate many families living in lower areas.

SEVERE THREAT

The flood threat of the lower Brazos will become more severe when flood gates are opened at Possum Kingdom Dam. Engineers said yesterday they would be forced to open the gates because of the cloudbursts in the headwaters.

On the Guadalupe River, officials of Victoria, a city of 20,000 about 30 miles from the gulf, prepared to evacuate 2,000 persons by noon today if the flood waters continued their threat to the city.

On the Colorado River, the little town of Wharton (pop. 5,000) near the coast faced the greatest flood in its hustory if the Colorado crests at the expected 35 feet tonight.

New storms were forecast for the Dallas-Fort Worth area where the flooding Trinity River has caused the evacuation of 2,300 persons and an estimated $6,500,000 damage.

The Panhandle county to the Northwest was receiving more storms today which only added to the wettest spring in 24 years.

The Department of Public Safety said no less than 68 highways in the state were closed by high waters and washed out bridges. Officials added that in the area of Austin, which is on the Colorado, there was hardly a passable road.

In San Antonio, a mass meeting to protest the city's poor drainage system, had to be postponed because of flood waters.

News Flashes

DETROIT (INS) — The publishers of The Detroit News and The Detroit Times were meeting today with union representatives in an effort to settle a dispute which has halted publication of both newspapers. The News was shut down early today following the reported firing of several paperhandlers. The Times stopped its presses shortly afterwards, but managed to get one edition on the streets. All three Detroit dailies are under a joint agreement with the paperhandlers.

Rackets Probe Continues in Washington, Portland

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate rackets probers called a special public hearing today to let an Arkansas manufacturer explain his alleged payoffs to two union officials.

Earl P. Bettendorf of Texarkana, Tex., who operates a warehouse pallet manufacturing plant at Ashdown, Ark., demanded and got the special hearing to explain what he said were forced payments.

He contended the committee did him an "injustice" during its hearings on labor violence in Scranton, Pa.

The hearings brought testimony that two Scranton Teamsters Union business agents, Joseph McHugh and Robert Malloy, are under federal indictment on charges of receiving $4,200 from Bettendorf.

Sen. McNamara (D-Mich.), a committee member, said he was "astonished that the courts have not indicted the man who is alleged to have paid the money."

This drew a hot protest from Bettendorf, who wired the committee for permission to testify and "correct the injustice done me," he said, by remarks at the hearing. He said the committee did not understand the situation.

Bettendorf told reporters "we were forced to pay" in order to get delivery trucks into the Tobyhanna, Pa., Signal Corps depot where a construction project was under way. He said the "FBI understands" the case.

The hearing comes as the committee, headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), awaited developments in its efforts to locate four key witnesses in its planned new investigation of Teamsters Union President Dave Beck.

McClellan announced Saturday that Beck's son Dave Jr., two relatives of Mrs. Beck, and an auditor for the union apparently "have disappeared" amid the committee's efforts to summon them for questioning about the senior Beck's use of union funds.

PORTLAND (AP) —Attempts to find the truth in charges of vice and corruption here continue in two courts and a grand jury room today.

The federal wiretap trial of Portland gambler Big Jim Elkins and his employe Raymond Clark resumes in U. S. District Court and Portland Mayor Terry Schrunk is to continue the testimony he started Saturday.

Portland Asst. Atty. William Langley, convicted earlier this month of deliberate failure to prosecute gambling, may find out in State Circuit Court today whether he will be sentenced—to removal from office and a possible fine—or be granted the new trial he has asked.

And the grand jury is to try again to get some information from a reluctant witness—Doug Baker, a reporter for the Oregon Journal.

Elkins, the star witness for the state in its yearlong investigation of charges of vice and corruption here, is accused of tapping and recording private telephone conversations in defiance of federal law.

A set of tape recordings, which a witness has testified were seized in a raid on Clark's home, is the principal evidence against Elkins and Clark. Various voices on the tapes have been identified in the court—including that of Dist. Atty. Langley.

Sir Anthony Eden to Leave Hospital

BOSTON (INS) — Sir Anthony Eden is leaving New England Baptist Hospital this afternoon.

The former British prime minister who underwent an operation for a bile duct obstruction on April 13, will remain in the greater Boston area for a week to be near Dr. Richard B. Cattrell, Lahey Clinic director, who performed the operation.

The British consulate said the 59-year-old diplomat and statesman after a week's stay near Boston would fly to Ottawa on May 6. He and Lady Clarissa Eden will be the guests of Governor General Vincent Massey in Ottawa.

The consulate said Eden's destination would be made known after he leaves the hospital.

Industry Tax Talk Hit by Williams, Scholle

ler president, also indicated that increased taxes in Michigan might lead their companies to expand elsewhere. George Romney, American Motors president, said Michigan is known as "a high tax state."

The Democratic committee said revenue for all state operating funds totaled $913,100,000 in the 1955-56 fiscal year and that of this amount 6.5 per cent came from the business receipts tax and 4.9 per cent from the corporation franchise tax.

By comparison, the committee said, 33.7 per cent of the $913,100,000 came from the sales tax, 14.3 per cent from gasoline taxes, 4.5 per cent from liquor, wine and beer, and 2.9 per cent from cigarettes, making 55.4 come directly from consumers.

The remainder of the $913,100,000 comes from a variety of sources such as inheritance and intangibles taxes, the motor vehicle weight levy and others.

"Verdicts of the people in recent state elections," the committee said, "should give fair warning to the Republican Party that the people are not fooled by GOP propaganda. The people have confidence in the future of Michigan, even if Republican leaders in politics and in some areas of big business do not."

Neil Staebler, committee chairman, asked why Romney should object to a corporations profits tax, pointing out American Motors consistently has lost money. Staebler said Williams' plan would eliminate the franchise tax and that AM wouldn't be stuck with a profits tax if it has no profits.

Expressing concern over additional taxes, Harvey Campbell, executive vice president of the Detroit Board of Commerce, said Michigan industry also was the victim of what he called "a labor squeeze."

Campbell said "labor troubles" and high labor costs are forcing industries to look elsewhere for locations and are keeping industries from coming in.

August Scholle, president of the Michigan CIO Council, denied there was any "labor squeeze," saying:

"The same wage rates apply all over the country in all basic industries. It is the same union rate in auto and steel here as it is in Texas, Georgia and the East."

Gornick said if a corporation profits tax is enacted he "would be obliged to advise strongly against further plant expansion by Ford Motor Co. in this state."

Colbert said increased business taxes would make it "increasingly difficult for any manufacturer to let other factors which favor Michigan outweigh the taxes when expansion is considered."

Staebler, reporting on finances to his committee, said the Michigan Democratic Party is $32,800 "in the red," after spending $47,000 in the April 1 election campaign in which it swept all 10 state offices at stake.

Rochester Woman Cut in Collision on Auburn

A Rochester woman, Virginia Wurm, 42, of 2671 Harrington St., suffered minor cuts around the eye Saturday evening in an accident on Auburn Road about 100 feet east of Churchill road in Auburn Heights.

The car driven by her husband, Purden, 56, hit the rear of a car driven by Charles C. Moore, 55, of 77 Rosetta Ct., Auburn Hts., who had slowed to make a turn. Mrs. Wurm was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital and released.

Crash Hurts Family, Father Is Charged

A Pontiac man, whose wife and three children remain in Pontiac General Hospital since an auto accident Friday, waived examination and was bound over to Circuit Court today charged with drunk driving, second offense.

Harry Albert Peterson, of 81 Blaine St., was returned to the Oakland County Jail after his arraignment today before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum. He failed to furnish a $200 bond.

Circuit Court arraignment was set for May 6.

The condition of Peterson's five-year-old son Donald has changed from "fair" to "poor" since he was admitted for a possible concussion Friday.

His wife, Alberta, 38, and two other sons, Glenn, 8, and Robert, 4, were in satisfactory condition today.

Pontiac Police report Peterson was driving north on Blaine street when his auto collided at Montcalm street with one driven by Luther B. Schultz, 44, of 472 Lowell St., about 7:45 p.m. Friday.

The automotive industry is the chief consumer of gasoline, rubber, steel, upholstery, leather, mohair, plate glass, and lead and nickel.

Ford Sells Land to Detroit Firm

235 Acres of Tractor Farm West of Clarkston Purchased by Group

The sale of 235 acres of the Ford Motor Co. tractor farm west of Clarkston to a Detroit firm, was announced today by the Clarkston Real Estate, Inc.

The group is headed by Leonard A. Baun, a Detroit attorney. Plans are for developing the land into subdivisions of homes in the $30,000 to $50,000 bracket.

The purchasers, who asked that the price of the transaction not be disclosed, have options on the remaining acreage in the 640-acre farm, according to Lloyd G. Kirby and Lloyd C. Megee, of the Clarkston firm.

The land is southwest of Holcomb road, bounded on the south by 3,000-foot Deer Lake frontage, and generally bounded on the west and east by Dixie Highway and Ortonville road, respectively.

The farm has been used by the Ford company to instruct dealers in the use of farm implements.

The entire 640 acres has an estimated value of $1,000,000, according to Kirby.

Development of the purchased land is expected to begin next year he added.

Vandals Ravage School

DENVER (AP)—Principal Lindsey Keeler said vandals entered Fairmont Elementary School Sunday and broke at least 100 windows, smashed every clock in the two-story building, demolished telephones and typewriters, hurled chairs through windows, broke a piano, shredded office records, ruined an athletic trophy and threw desk drawers to the floor in 12 classrooms.

tended trap. This is a type of operation which is easier to tell about than to do, particularly when the porky, not sure of our motives, was unwilling to cooperate.

It took a size eleven foot on either side of the trap and a fast bit of work on the jaws with a shovel to do the trick. The feet belonged to Bob Oliver Jr. and Roy Corwin and one seldom sees fancier bits of footwork, particularly when the porky got the notion to take a swipe at those outsize brogans with his tail.

The practice of setting traps on a well-defined runway where most any animal that comes along is apt to get in trouble indicated a brand of thoughtlessness on the part of the trapper we find hard to excuse.

Sunday turned into a T-shirt day and fishing began to hit the upgrade. Under clear skies streams are going down fast and the next few days should produce some results. We took a sashay round the Au Sable's main stream Sunday afternoon and most fishermen settled for "fair" as an accurate description of the fishing.

In the warmth of the afternoon, however, rising fish were observed in a number of spots and dry-fly fishermen were beginning to get some action.

Although our average as a weather forecaster is pretty low we confidently predict that the present perfect weather will stick around a few days and fishing will get progressively better with the immediate outlook on the Au Sable system anyway ranking as "good."

The Day in Birmingham

Special Assessment Item Faces City Commission

BIRMINGHAM — Leading item facing city commissioners tonight is the creation of the special assessment district for the widening and repaving of E. Maple avenue from Hunter boulevard to Adams road.

At its original hearing about three weeks ago several property owners voiced protests against their probable costs. The result of a meeting between their committee and city officials will be heard tonight.

Commissioners also will receive plan board reports on rezoning requests from Harold Turner, Mike Harabedian and the Birmingham YMCA.

A request from the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit for sewage disposal services on their proposed building in the Derby-Coolidge area City of Troy is to be considered.

Continuing their efforts to promote the display of American flags in Birmingham, the Junior Chamber of Commerce is asking permission to conduct a two-day flag sale, May 18-19. Sale will be held on a vacant lot on Maple avenue east of Woodward avenue. Proceeds are earmarked for the Jaycees youth program Civil Defense and other important community projects.

Wilson with Arthur J. Lake are representing the Birmingham Chamber at a four-day policy meeting starting today in Washington. This is the annual session of the National Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Charles Mortonsen, executive secretary of the Birmingham group said the national conclave establishes policies for all branch chambers throughout the country. "It is through this body that our efforts are coordinated," he said.

Coleman Hits Union Blackjack at C. of C. Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John S. Coleman of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce said today any "cleansing" undertaken by organized labor should go beyond "sweeping out racketeering and violence."

He said labor unions voluntarily should end the secondary boycott, which he called a "ruthless labor blackjack," and should recognize that right-to-work laws "have a moral basis."

"And a full house cleaning job," Coleman added, "should demand that labor quit trying to create an all-powerful monopoly in a country that will not long tolerate monopoly of any kind. . . ."

Coleman, of Detroit, bore down heavily on labor matters in a prepared speech keynoting the 45th annual meeting of the Chamber, an organization of businessmen.

Dog Adopts Kittens

ROCKFORD (AP) — "Maszka" a female dachshund owned by Mrs. Otto Falarski, has adopted a family of three orphaned kittens in place of her own puppy which died last fall. Mrs. Falarski said the kittens' mother was killed recently by a passing car. "Muszka" watches over the kittens "all the time to see that they keep out of trouble," Mrs. Falarski says.

Pontiac Man Injured

Clarence N. Frank, 34, of 4610 Edgewood St., was admitted to St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital with possible head injuries today after his auto collided with a haulaway truck at Woodward Ave. and South Blvd.

Frank's condition was fair.

Dump Contract to Be Decided

Waterford Board Plans Action on Petitions Filed by Residents

When Waterford Township board members meet at 7:30 tonight they plan to cancel their township dump contract with C. L. Wilson, according to Elmer Johnson, township supervisor.

One hundred and forty eight residents in the dump area located on Pontiac Lake road west of Hospital road have signed petitions protesting the operation of the privately owned dump.

The petitions have been filed since December and have been approved by the Oakland County Road Commission and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. However, no formal action has ever been taken.

Other business of the township board will include the approval of 14 no parking signs to be erected in the Elizabeth Dale and Elizabeth Shores subdivisions on Cooley Lake road between Crescent Lake and Elizabeth Lake roads.

The association pays for the signs and the township pays for the installation, Johnson said.

Members will discuss the operation of various boards in the township and appointments to fill vacancies will be outlined

Contractor Returns Triumphantly to Native Land

King of Sweden to Greet Chicagoan

By LENNART SWANN

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Ragnar Benson of Chicago will don his best suit tomorrow and go to see the King of Sweden.

The King, Gustaf Adolf, informed the U.S. Embassy the other day he wanted to meet Benson, a wealthy, Swedish-born American contractor who recently chartered a plane in Chicago, filled it with 71 relatives and friends and flew to Sweden for a vacation. Benson wanted them to see the old folks at home and he is picking up the entire check, estimated at $50,000.

U. S. Ambassador John M. Cabot phoned Benson.

"In case you would like to meet King Gustaf Adolf, he will receive you at 10.30 a.m. on Tuesday in his private chambers at the royal palace," Cabot told Benson.

Benson said nothing could stop him from accepting. He and the King are not strangers. They met at a Swedish celebration in 1937, when the King was crown prince.

"I am indeed very glad and grateful to His Majesty for this opportunity," Benson said in an interview today.

"What we are going to talk about? Well, for one thing I am going to thank him personally for awarding me the Royal Order of Wasa two years ago. Besides I am sure the King will ask me about the Swedes and how they are getting on in the Chicago area. I know I can give him some real good information about that."

Next Saturday Benson will collect his group, including 23 children, and put them on another chartered plane for the trip home.

A brass band was playing. Hundreds of friends and relatives, and the mayor Thomas Munck of Malmo—Sweden's third city — were waiting at the airport when the "Benson Viking" flew in April 15.

Everything seems to indicate the farewell will be just as uproarious.

England to Squash KKK Before It Gets Foothold

LONDON (AP)—Two members of Parliament say the Ku Klux Klan is organizing branches in five British cities, apparently because of recent large-scale immigration of Negroes from Jamaica and Trinidad.

Laborites Maurice Orbach and Fenner Brockway told reporters yesterday they will demand that the British government act swiftly to stamp out the anti-Negro American movement before it gets a foothold.

A number of Britons have reported receiving Klan membership forms from one Horace Sherman Miller of Waco, Tex. He is said to have agents operating in London, Birmingham, Liverpool, Southend-on-Sea and Fleetwood.

Karachi Gets Red Steel

KARACHI (AP) — Four thousand tons of pig iron and steel billets have arrived from Russia. It was the second installment on 14,000 tons of Russian iron and steel bought by the Pakistani Batala Engineering Co. under a trade agreement signed last year.

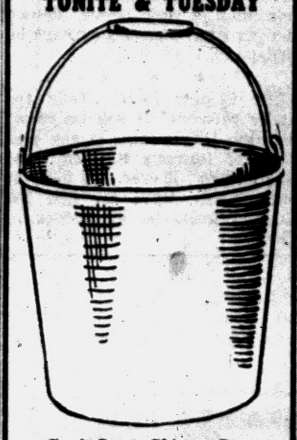

4 Bodies Removed From Navy Plane

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — Helicopter crews have removed the bodies of four Americans killed aboard a twin-engine Navy plane which struck a 4,200-foot mountain 80 miles southwest of Tokyo Saturday.

Names of the victims were withheld.

Peru is now exporting zinc at the rate of more than 20,000 tons a month, Lima reports.

Bob Considine Says:

Diplomat Assesses Soviet Position

NEW YORK (INS)—The old diplomat, whose name and nationality we are not privileged to reveal, put it this way when he got around to discussing the Soviet Union:

After Stalin's death the new leaders made a realistic adjustment. But they underestimated the hatred of the Soviet Union and of the satellite regimes.

The blowups in Poland and Hungary show the persistence of historical currents. Those countries have been anti-Russian for a century. The Kremlin honestly believed it could change them by persuasion, argument or might in a few years.

Truth is that the Bolsheviki haven't succeeded in producing the new Soviet man, inside or outside the country. The people of the Soviet Union are just as Russian as ever, showing all the traits of the human animal.

The functioning of the system assumes otherwise, but in 40 years the Bolsheviki have not been able to make the assumption come true.

The students who are being restless—and it is no more than that—are actually third generation, a simon-pure genuine product of the Soviet Union—and sick to death because the ideology and everything else about the Soviet state is faded, monotonous, unattractive. It used to have oomph, but now it is sheer boredom.

The greatest theoretician, Bukharian, who unfortunately was shot, believed that the more disagreeable human traits grew from a capitalistic environment. But there never has been a new Soviet man.

The threat of expulsion from school is enough to keep most (students) in line. It is hard, otherwise, to find out exactly what lies behind their restlessness.

They, and people in general with an education, seem to be angry because they were told a pack of lies about Hungary and Poland, and to be questioning why they were told a pack of lies.

But this restlessness has not caused the leaders a sleepless night. Had this occurred under Stalin it would have been a sign feelings were so hot that people were ready to commit suicide by protesting. Under today's relaxed circumstances it doesn't mean that.

With the British and French invasion of Egypt there were demonstrations at their embassies in Moscow. At the British Embassy an official asked the Soviet officer in charge how much longer the demonstration would last.

The officer consulted his wristwatch carefully, and replied politely, "About 25 minutes." The demonstrators had been picked up by government buses at 8 that morning.

Tito is in bad shape, which is the reason he is making new overtures to the United States. The Russian leaders have mobilized everybody in the Communist world against him.

The regime is not re-Stalinizing Stalin. He is not being rehabilitated on any of the points on which he was denounced. The speech hasn't caused any immediate trouble in the Soviet state.

The heat is on West Germany. The Kremlin, in devious ways, says to the West Germans, "You people are realistic. The thing for you to do is get together with your East German brothers. In the meantime, let's have that lovely trade.

"The Americans, French and British are putting you through a meatchopper, putting you in the atomic forefront while New Jersey is safe."

Khrushchev will stay for some time to come, for want of a vigorous replacement. Malenkov is only 54 and might work his way back in time.

Bulganin is becoming the Grover Whalen of Russia. They took all the deputy ministers who were any good away from him, for reasons of state. They all went into the economic council.

DANGEROUS TO RELAX

Geneva was infinitely more dangerous to them than to the West because their system suffers from relaxation of state power. Before Geneva there were no Poznans or Budapests.

The Chinese Reds? They are junior partners. It will be years, decades, before there is any real clash of interests between them and Moscow, if ever. To delay it interminably, there are now 186 Russian industrial enterprises in China.

Police Taken for Rides by Motorcycle Bandit

RENNES, France (AP) — Police were busy last night checking a broken window in a jewelry shop that had just been robbed. All they could find out was the pane had been smashed by a young man on a motorcycle.

As they worked away, a young man on a motorcycle rolled up to another jewelry shop 300 feet away, smashed a window and roared away with jewelry estimated at $1,000.

'I May Have Been Indiscreet, Not a Spy'

Israel Frees U. S. Woman

PARIS (AP)—A brown-eyed American secretary was flying home today after eight months imprisonment in Israel on charges of spying for Syria. She still insisted the spy charges were not true.

"I may have been indiscreet," 29-year-old Mary Frances Hagan said during a stopover in Rome, "but I certainly never did any spying—for the Syrians or for anyone else."

In Paris, Miss Hagan told reporters she had just had her first bath in eight months. French police kept her passport while the plane was on the ground here.

Miss Hagan, of Huntington, W. Va., was released yesterday after serving eight months of a one-year sentence. She pleaded innocent at her secret three-day trial in Jerusalem last October. The court convicted her of collecting secret information in Israel and making notes of it in violation of the country's Official Secrets Act.

She asked to be flown to Cyprus for a visit with Caleb Kayali, Syrian Foreign Office official she claimed was her husband, but Israeli officials made her release conditional on her direct flight home.

Kayali has denied they were married. Miss Hagan refused to answer questions of French reporters about her marital status. They noted she wore a wedding ring.

Miss Hagan, a student of Middle Eastern affairs and a former employe of Syrian diplomatic delegations in the United Nations and Washington, said she went to the Middle East last summer "on a purely personal basis because I had become very interested in the troubled situation there."

She said Syrian visas in her passport aroused Israeli suspicions.

"The Israelis seemed to consider that these visas automatically meant that I was working for the Syrian government, which I was most certainly not. I did not ever engage in any spying. I just asked a lot of questions.

"I had been told that Israel was a free country where you could ask questions. Look at what happened to me."

She said prison life was "very dull and boring" but that "I was not materially ill treated in any way. The food was very bad—just bread and vegetables, with never any meat, but it was the same as the other women there received."

E Bond Sales Hit High for '57 During March

March proved the best month this year in Michigan for the sale of Series E U. S. Savings Bonds, according to Delmar V. Cote, state director of the Treasury's savings bonds division.

E Bond buying for the month ran 26.1 per cent ahead of February for a total of $24,587,000.

High-Grade Ore Vein Found in Antarctica

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today a small vein of high-grade manganese ore has been found near a U. S. science outpost on the coast of Antarctica.

Sullivan said the geologist, Dr. Brian H. Mason, pointed out that the deposit may not, of itself, be of commercial value, but it points to a region whose rocks will be well worth exploring.

Departure of Briggs Is Great Loss to Sports

Somehow, The Press feels professional sports lose a valuable asset in the departure of Walter O. ("Spike") Briggs from the Detroit Tigers.

Spike's leaving.

At one time, many, many professional sports teams in America were in the hands of wealthy owners who were more interested in a winner than they were in a fast buck, or even one that came leisurely. They thrilled to the chase as much as the fans—and often more so.

BRIGGS

Slowly, a more calculating ownership asserted itself and professional sports became a business. This isn't basically or inherently wrong, but the "business as usual" attitude doesn't create the intense desire to win on the part of the management.

The Detroit Lions are mainly owned by a group of men which want to see a fine football team operating in the area. Both the Senior and Junior Briggs exemplified non-professional ownership on its highest and finest plane.

When the Tigers were having a bad year, "Spike" Briggs felt worse than anyone that wore a uniform or bought a ticket.

It hurt him.

Hence, his activities were concentrated on strengthening the team and building a winner. The jingle of the cash register was a sound in the distance that "Spike" only heard vaguely.

We have no criticism of the current Tiger ownership, but this newspaper is unhappy at the thought of our well known Oakland County resident passing from a picture that has claimed him since his youth.

"Spike" Briggs is "good company." He's a personable individual in any group. His speaking acquaintance is fabulous, and his well-wishers are ever greater in number.

We'd like to think he will try to get back in professional sports somewhere. The pro business needs his type of enthusiasm and his eagerness to win cleanly — but win.

Queen Elizabeth II Celebrates Birthday

Queen Elizabeth II turned 31 recently. This newspaper would like to go on record with the assertion that we feel she is one of the most personable rulers the British Isles or any other nation ever had. Furthermore, we feel she is one of the most interesting personalities in the news in general.

Certainly the Queen exercises no great power any more. But the British people cling fondly to the tradition of royalty and the pomp and ceremony that go with the Crown. With this as the background, they can be very happy with their current ruler.

Unusually attractive, petite and essentially feminine, little Elizabeth makes a profound impression on men and women alike. Poise is her middle name, and she wears her clothes with dignity and distinction. And, not incidentally, she's good looking as Sam Hill.

This nation does not believe in royalty. Neither does this newspaper. But we believe that if a nation wants a king or queen, that's strictly the nation's own business. The British don't prefer our type of republic.

If we were in the market for a queen, we'd start a loud and assertive campaign for Elizabeth. She's our gal. We'd like to know her in her official capacity and in her lighter moments, too. Since this is impossible, we express our open admiration from afar.

All hail!

A terrific girl!

She's maturing — and alluring.

Oxford Young Man Makes Best Guess in Contest

Optimist: Usually a person who refuses to admit what's coming.

Nineteen year old

James Joseph Mersino

of Oxford is the winner of the $250 in U.S. Savings Bonds in our 1957 baseball contest. He was one of only 13 entries in the 2,058 contestants to predict that would be leading the American League in batting after the games of April 26, among the players who had been at bat at least 25 times.

His prediction that Kell's average would be .415 was the nearest to the actual .406, most of the 13 giving the Baltimore player a much higher figure. He is the son of and is scheduled to enter the U.S. Army next week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mersino

Kell gained top position Friday night by getting three hits against Washington, boosting his average to one point above Ted Williams who had looked like the leading man until that night.

David Lawrence Says:

Budget Critics Due for Surprise

WASHINGTON — A big surprise is in store for those critics who have been glibly blaming President Eisenhower for the size of the federal budget.

For it turns out that 41.2 billions of dollars out of the 62.7 billions by which the budget has been increased since 1940 are the result of rising costs—usually called "inflation."

LAWRENCE

Another way to express it is to say that the federal government is today spending 41.2 billions in higher prices for the same kind of goods and services it bought in 1940 at lower prices.

Actually the Eisenhower budget in terms of a stable dollar is below the level of four years ago and less than the average for the last six years.

The economic division of the magazine "U.S. News & World Report," in a copyrighted article this week, has computed what all the federal budgets for the last six years would be in 1940 dollars. These economists find that instead of a 72 billion dollar budget, numerically speaking, the federal budget on a purchasing-power basis in the coming fiscal year would amount to only 30.6 billions of dollars. This calculation was made in the customary way, familiar to statisticians, by using the U.S. Commerce Department's own published index of the prices the government has paid over the years for the goods it has bought.

The latest budget, moreover, is lower than the two last budgets of the Truman administration, measured the same way, and lower than the one for the first full fiscal year—1954—in which the Eisenhower administration was responsible for the making of the federal budget.

RISING COSTS IGNORED

The critics who have jumped on President Eisenhower for the size of the current budget have ignored the steadily rising costs that have come as a consequence of labor demands each year and the price increases all along the line that have been required to meet such rises in cost.

Bernard M. Baruch, America's elder statesman, who has had long experience with the inflation problem, made a significant speech three years ago on this very question. He said flatly that failure to impose controls promptly by President Roosevelt when World War II occurred, and the unwillingness of President Truman to do likewise soon enough when the Korean War broke out, have placed on the American people a burden of 140 billions of dollars of unnecessary debt—more than half of the total national debt of today.

Baruch's point is that pressures by different groups of economic and political forces which prevent the opportune ordering of controls over wages and prices is much more expensive in the long run than the inconveniences to the economic system resulting immediately from such controls. For prices and wage scales that once go up cannot be readily rolled back.

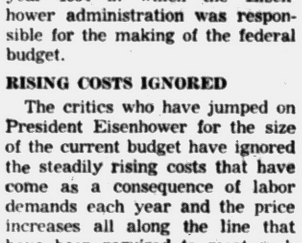

Inflation, of course, works both ways. It sends income up, too. That's why there is a big surprise when the total spending of today is related to the national income of the American people. Thus, even in 1957 dollars, the spending by the federal government for all non-defense items, including welfare programs, now takes only 7.5 per cent of the national income, whereas in 1950 it took 10 per cent. Back in 1939, the non-defense category of spending was absorbing 11 per cent of the national income.

Defense spending, to be sure, is higher than before the Korean War, and with the international situation being what it is, this is understandable. But the restraints applied in non-defense spending have helped to offset the increases in defense spending.

Thus, defense spending will take about 12.5 per cent of the national income this coming year, as compared to only 8 per cent in the fiscal year 1950 which ended just before the Korean War broke out. Total spending, however, of all kinds by the federal government is today about 20 per cent of the national income as compared with 18 per cent in 1950.

LI'L ONES

"Here's where I grow a couple of years younger again."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Six Health Techniques Result of Lifetime Study

Having studied health exclusively for more than half of my lifetime, I believe I qualify as an expert on health.

DR. BRADY

In my long career as a P.H.D. (Doctor of Personal Health), a degree I invented for myself, I have devised several remedies, techniques, or routines which, when followed faithfully year after year, prevent, retard, arrest, or reverse the degeneration process commonly known as chronic disease.

Among these remedies are the following:

1. Daily somersaults (forward rolls)
2. The iodin ration
3. Natural (belly) breathing
4. The regeneration regimen (corrective prospective diet).
5. Daily calcium and D supplement for the ordinary diet.
6. B-Nutron as a real heart tonic to replace digitalis.

If you still imagine that drugs or medicines—new or old—prevent, retard, arrest, or reverse the degeneration process called chronic disease, I'm sorry for you. I'm pretty sure no reputable physician will say that any drug or medicine will do so.

HOW ABOUT RHEUMATIZ?

For instance, has any of the endless successions of wonder drugs which the trick specialists and "klinick" racketeers feed their paying customers from season to season cured chronic joint disability—the degeneration I call rheumatiz and the businessmen of medicine call "arthritis"?

Unfortunately, the remedies which I recommend are not medicine at all. Can't expect to derive any benefit from them if you try 'em for a few weeks and then discontinue as you might do with medicine. You must continue taking them for the rest of your life.

It seems easier to sell the Yankee public a carload of tranquillizers or a ton of aspirin or a barrel of barbiturates than it is to persuade 'em to accept an ounce of prevention.

The program of prevention you will find in Little Lesson No. 12, Chronic Joint Disability, for which send me 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. You see, at this stage of the transaction, I pretend I don't care what you call your trouble. But the moment I get hold of your money, I tell you in no uncertain terms that I'm advising you about Rheumatiz only.

If you think your trouble may be rheumatism or arthritis, consult a physician, I don't know anything about "rheumatism" or "arthritis."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Acknowledges Answers; Requests Further Replies

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

As a Pontiac taxpayer I wish to thank the Mayor and Commissioners for replies to questions 5 and 6 in my letter of April 1st. From the telephone, office calls and mail I have received, there are many taxpayers who would like to see all the answers before May 20th, the date for the vote.

1. Why, under the present administration has our city gone into debt $3,000,000 and what has happened to the over $2,000,000 in cash and accounts receivable we had in 1954? What have we got to show for the money except the hospital skeleton?

2. Why are we bonding our property when the Jacobs Survey Corporation, hired by the doctors, reported that 51 per cent of the patients using the hospital are not residents in the City of Pontiac? Have these good people been invited to share in the cost?

3. When the taxpayers authorized $3,000,000 and the Commission went right ahead on a "$5,350,000 hospital project," what plan was made to provide the extra money?

4. How much will the yearly hospital deficit increase with the new hospital and who will pay it?

The facts should be publicly discussed and the taxpayers should know all. When, exactly, were the contracts let? Exactly how much have the costs increased since the contracts were signed and building started? Is the hospital being built on cost plus basis? What plans are made to get Pontiac back on a pay-as-we-go basis and stop this borrowing?

Has the average taxpayers' or industries' ability to pay more taxes been taken into consideration? Do present economic trends indicate that taxpayers' wages and industries' profits are increasing? Can we afford more unproductive debt and expense? These should be discussed frankly and fully so all taxpayers may assess the facts. When and how is the present trend toward more debt, taxes and expense in Pontiac going to stop? Let those that know give the answers.

Let's stick to facts and figures.

Woman Irritated by Mrs. Wilson

What right does Mrs. C. E. Wilson have to talk up to our President as she did and get a distinction for doing so? I think that Mrs. C. E. ought to be reprimanded for so doing, too. Just because she is the wife of the Secretary of Defense does she have the privilege to speak to Ike in that smart manner? I'm mad now. He's to be respected.

Mrs. S.W.C.

Says to Put Blame Where It Belongs

Poor Mr. Democrat. I just read his article and I do feel sorry for him. No one got any soft soap in '52 and '56. They were told the truth, but many people didn't have clean ears to listen, so they gave a Republican President a Democrat Congress. In regard to the mess everything is in, don't blame Ike or his party. Just put the blame where it belongs, right with your own party. Again, who took more trips and vacations while in office, your own beloved Roosevelt or Truman? Better check records before spouting off again.

'They'd Better Get Tax Cut in 1958'

There's a tax cut for the people in England. I'll be content in 1957 if they reduce the budget six billion dollars and apply the money against out national debt. But if there isn't a tax cut in 1958, I feel sorry for the men in office when they run for re-election. They'll never know what hit them.

'Remember, Elvis Is Human, Too'

To Jeems. Everyone has his own opinion, therefore I would like to voice mine. First off, exactly how much do you know about Elvis? You don't particularly like his style of singing and you think he's a phony. I have kept several articles, bought magazines and studied quite a lot on the subject. I have come to the conclusion he's O.K.

I've come to another conclusion, that you don't know what it is to call someone a phony, or you didn't care. I think you'll find you made a boo-boo and that should go for anyone else who makes flash impressions of people and slams them. Maybe next time it will be you who will be unjustly ridiculed. Let's remember, Elvis Presley is human, too.

Another Requests Carlotta's Picture

If Carlotta agrees, and why shouldn't she, why not print a picture of her? If not, then a lot of people in town will think she is a falsie-fire.

Waiting

Couldn't Resist Writing Letter

I usually grin and bear it when reading your column, but this time I had to write in disagreement with Sympathetic Mother of 5 in regards to Mrs. Wyatt.

I'm a working mom of three boys, 13, 9 and 4, and they're anything but little angels. Oh yes, they get spanked and punished, but not to the point of maybe marring them for life. God entrusted us with these little ones to love and cherish. It must have been hard for the members of the court to make such a drastic decision. After all, many are parents and, above all, human.

Maybe now these youngsters will be able to find love and security in their new parents and homes, and even after a while they will forget what has happened and even forgive their own mother. To the foster parents of these little ones, love them and help them forget.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

New Pasture May Be No Greener

"Salesmen are spark plugs of civilization," said the late Dr. Glenn Frank. But salesmen also have a dangerous weakness! They get bored by their old territory and become too receptive to glib accounts of distant fields. Beware of this "Greener Pastures" fallacy, for you throw away your greatest asset when you desert your former satisfied customers, clients or patients.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CRANE

"Dr. Crane, Sam is really a star salesman," his devoted wife informed me.

"But he has always been a victim of the belief that distant pastures are greener.

"Why he was earning $18,000 per year in Pittsburgh after having sold cars for 15 years. He had many clients who were very friendly and who would order a new auto every year.

"But Sam heard a glowing account of what a car salesman could make in Chicago, so we moved here.

"Sam's earnings are now only $7,500, so he is grumbling and ready to pull up stakes. He has decided to head for Los Angeles next. Do you think it would be wise to move again?"

SALESMEN, STAY PUT:

One of the greatest weaknesses of salesmen is this tendency to believe the talk of a fellow salesman who makes distant pastures look green.

Salesmen are the spark plugs of civilization. They take the products of cloistered scientists and put them into our homes so we can really partake of the more abundant life which Christ said we should enjoy.

But salesmen often develop a restlessness that makes them want to move onward. Sam is a typical example. Beware of this tendency:

For your satisfied customers are your greatest ace in the hole, if you are a salesman.

And all folks who "front" before the public are in the sales field. This includes physicians, dentists, teachers, and preachers, as well as life insurance and auto salesmen:

So pick a likely territory and then stay put: Resist the seductive syllables of that distant siren called "Greener Pastures."

SALES PSYCHOLOGY

The late Dr. Charles Kendall, famous dental leader of Milwaukee, used to tell young dental graduates that it would require 500 different patients in their dental chair before they would have a fair practice.

And he said it would take 800 to keep a dentists rushed almost to death with their repeat patronage and the friends they referred to that dentist.

Much the same thing is true in other fields of salesmanship. Sam thus started out "cold canvassing" when he first began selling automobiles in Pittsburgh.

But he gradually got acquainted with Pittsburgh prospects. In later years it often took but a few minutes to sell them a new car.

"Bill," he could telephone one of these clients, "the new models are here and I can make you a dandy trade-in on your last year's car."

In five minutes, therefore, he might close a deal with a man on whom he may have spent five hours to get the first sale. For now the prospect was an old friend, instead of a stranger.

But when Sam deserted all those hundreds of satisfied clients and went to Chicago, he had to start all over again as a beginning salesman.

That meant "cold canvassing" and long hours trying to contact and sell every single prospect. He had lost that vast clientele who knew him by name and whom he could sell almost by a phone call alone.

Naturally, his sales volume was far less in Chicago. And it would be even lower in Los Angeles the first year, for he has now been in Chicago two years and thus has several dozen satisfied clients.

So, salesmen, stick to your field: Cash-in upon those long hours you spend winning your new clients, by retaining them throughout the years and selling them future orders rapidly, as via the telephone.

Send for my non-profit booklet "The New Psychology of Advertising & Selling", enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Many firms order it in quantities of 100 to 500 for use by their entire sales force.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 30c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Ask Lifting of Burden

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Health, Education and Welfare Department has asked Congress to relieve the paperwork burden on businesses which have to file detailed quarterly wage reports for social security purposes. HEW proposed that only annual reports would list each employe. Quarterly reports would merely indicate total deductions.

Boosts Clay, Webster for Hall of Fame

Hoover Names 'Immortal Senators'

WASHINGTON (INS) — Former President Herbert Hoover has reached back more than 100 years for his choices as the nation's all-time great Senators.

The former chief executive recommended to a special committee that two 19th Century titans, Daniel Webster of Massachusetts and Henry Clay of Kentucky, should be among the five immortals to be selected next week.

Hoover also stated that the Sherman Anti-Trust Act is one of the most important pieces of legislation ever enacted, but did not specifically nominate the man whose name it bears, the late Sen. John Sherman of Ohio.

The Republican President, who occupied the White House from 1929 to 1933, excluded any reference to his famed senatorial adversaries and supporters in the early days of the great depression and during his service in the Wilson, Harding and Coolidge administrations.

A number of Hoover-era Senators, however, are high in the running for berths among the five whose portraits will hang in the Senate Reception Room.

Harry S. Truman, the only living ex-President who also served in the Senate, has not yet submitted a list of his most distinguished predecessors.

Truman told newsman in Washington a few weeks ago he had 33 candidates for the five niches, but the committee reports he has not yet named his choices.

Hoover's picks, Webster and Clay, appear to be shoo-ins. Such last-century leaders as Sens. Thomas Hart Benton of Missouri, John C. Calhoun of South Carolina and Stephen A. Douglas of Illinois also are top candidates.

It is the eminent figures of this century who have thrown the current crop of solons into controversy.

NO OBJECTIVITY

The proximity of these men and the causes they defended to today's Senators and today's issues apparently has ruled out objectivity.

Educators and historians, according to Committee Chairman John F. Kennedy (D-Mass), are as sharply divided on the selection of 20th Century Senators as are members of the committee.

Two members of the committee, Sens. Richard Russell (D-Ga) and Styles Bridges (R-NH), were contemporaries of most of the 20th Century contestants.

Conservatives generally frown on inclusion of such famed liberals as Sens. George W. Norris of Nebraska, William Borah of Idaho, Robert LaFollette Sr. of Wisconsin, Thomas Walsh of Montana, and Alben Barkley of Kentucky. Liberals, likewise, prefer men from this latter list to Robert Taft of Ohio, or Sen. Carter Glass of Virginia.

The committee, however, has turned down a move by Sen. Carl Curtis (R-Neb) to require clearance from the two present-day Senators before a man from their state is chosen.

The immortal quintet will be chosen Monday or Tuesday. Kennedy will announce the results to the Senate on Wednesday.

Reputation Gets Severest Test

American Envoy to Jordan Works 'Round the Clock

By International News Service

America's ambassador to Jordan is a husky, energetic man with a reputation for being a tireless, indefatigable worker.

That reputation probably is getting its severest test these days in Amman where Lester De Witt Mallory is working around-the-clock in an effort to keep himself — and Washington — abreast of developments in the Arab kingdom.

Because his ability has been proven at a broad range of posts in widely separated areas, he holds the rank of career minister — the State Department's diplomatic equivalent of a four-star general.

Mallory's favorite hobby is collecting and restoring antique guns and he has a well-equipped carpentry workshop in one of the buildings of the embassy where in calmer times he putters on rare free evenings.

The 53-year-old diplomat is far removed from the public's concept of a stodgy, striped pants envoy.

He enjoys a party as much as any of his subordinates, and at gatherings in Amman both he and his wife, Eleanor, could frequently be seen dancing to the Latin American rhythms they like.

EDUCATED IN CANADA

The ambassador was born in Maine but moved at an early age to Canada where he received most of his education.

After graduating from the University of British Columbia he taught horticulture there for two years and then transferred to the University of California where he did research in agricultural economics and received his Ph. D.

Mallory joined the government in 1931 as an assistant agricultural attache at Marseille, France. He was stationed later in Washington, Paris and Mexico City.

In 1947, Mallory was named counselor of the American embassy at Havana. Two years later he was transferred to the same post at Buenos Aires where American relations with the Argentine dictator Juan Peron were extremely delicate.

Since 1953 Mallory has been in Jordan. He and his wife have a young son who is now in Jordan with them.

Colleagues described the ambassador as an outgoing man who works hard and expects hard work from his subordinates.

One diplomat who recently returned from Jordan said the ambassador is "an easy man to work hard for."

Since the recent dredging of the Lake Maracaibo sand bar, the port of Maracaibo, Venezuela, is setting new records for cargo.

added protection for you, your wife and your children!

As do most thoughtful family men, you undoubtedly have insurance on your own life. Probably, you would also like to strengthen your Life insurance program with added protection on yourself, and also on your wife and children.

Metropolitan now has a new Family Plan which provides additional coverage for you and the eligible members of your immediate family with a single policy.

There are many advantages to a single policy for your whole family, including low premium cost . . . convenience of paying one premium . . . and simplicity of keeping records.

Here are some of its features:

For you—Permanent Life insurance with the usual cash and loan values . . . and with the special attraction of a reduced premium guaranteed for the first five years.

For your wife—Term insurance on her life of about one-fourth the amount of your insurance under this policy . . . continuing to the time you would be 85.

For your children between the ages of 14 days and 18 years—term insurance on each child until age 25. The premium is the same regardless of the number of children, and those born after the policy comes into effect will be automatically covered.

Moreover, when each child reaches age 25, he can apply for insurance on a permanent plan up to five times the amount of his insurance without medical examination. The amount of the premium for this new insurance will depend on the type of policy then selected.

In addition, if you should die, the insurance under this policy on your wife and children would continue just as if you had lived—with no more premiums to pay.

Your Metropolitan Representative will welcome the opportunity to explain all the advantages of the new Metropolitan Family Policy and show you that

Metropolitan service is as local as Main Street . . . as close as your phone

Pot-O-Gold Loot Is Up to $600; Try Your Luck

The loot is mounting in Pot-O-Gold. This week it amounts to $600 for some lucky winner if a winner isn't found for last week's puzzle. At the very least it's worth $100, so how can you afford not to spend a few minutes having fun with it? You'll enjoy it, and you have just as good a chance of winning as anyone else. Read the rules and clues before you start, and then send us your solution. It may be the right one.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 48 must bear a Tuesday, May 7, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

27-Month-Old Son of Blind, Deaf Parents Lives Normal Life

AKRON, Ohio (INS) —"A Little Child Shall Lead Them" is a vivid motto in the home of Harold and Georgia Hathaway, the now-famous blind and deaf couple of nearby Stow, Ohio.

The "little child" in this case is the Hathaways' 27-month-old son, Clarence, whose fate was decided slightly more than two years ago — on March 7, 1955 — by Akron Juvenile Judge Russell Thomas.

It was then that Judge Thomas ruled — against the wishes of county social workers — that the parents, despite their almost insurmountable handicaps, could care for young Clarence.

So far, the chubby youngster, who is normal in every respect, has justified Thomas' decision.

Social workers argued that the baby might suddenly become ill and the Hathaways would not be able to recognize the symptoms; that he might swallow a foreign object, or toddle out of his parents' reach into the path of a car outside their modest cottage.

But none of these dire possibilities occurred. Clarence is quite healthy, big for his age and has encountered no emergencies, like swallowing foreign objects.

WANDER OUTSIDE

He did wander outside a gate which had been left open one day and was spotted by a neighbor. The result was a half dozen offers to install fencing around the yard. Today, a high wire fence surrounds the Hathaway lot.

Being a heavy child, Clarence walked at a "late" age, but no one worried. He still does not talk much, but solely because there is rarely anyone to talk to. Unfortunately, there are no other youngsters in the neighborhood for Clarence to play with.

When he wants something, he tugs on his parents' clothing and leads them to it. He even tried to print letters on their hands, as he has seen them do when they talk to each other.

When the Hathaways go shopping, Clarence proudly guides them through the supermarket, striding ahead with a basket. At the post office he finds the mail slots for them, and at home he alerts them when the postman and the milkman arrive each day.

SOCIAL MIXING NEEDED

Although welfare workers admit that Clarence is well physically, they point out that he definitely needs what they term "socialization."

Child psychologists at the seiberling Rehabilitation Center in Akron advised getting a record player with children's records, and suggested sending Clarence to special classes at the center for slow-learning children when he is slightly older.

County officials agree that the next year in the life of Clarence Hathaway will be a vitally important one and that full cooperation from his parents is a must.

Judge Thomas said he has not regretted his decision but emphasizes that the Hathaways must cooperate with him in plans for Clarence's future.

"Greater problems are bound to arise," he said, "and the fact that he is slow in talking is only one of them.

"Clarence can still become a dependent child — for instance, if the parents should refuse to allow him to attend proper classes to improve his speech and to get him in with other children.

"If the parents should refuse to accept help and guidance in his education, we would have to make rulings, just as in the case of parents who refuse to allow a sick child to have a blood transfusion."

Recently, an offer was made to the Hathaways to have the baby attend a nearby nursery, starting in September, free of charge. This may be the first test for Clarence, as well as for the Hathaways, who have never left their child since birth.

RECEIVES PENSION

Hathaway receives a pension for the blind while the mother and child receive funds from the Aid to Dependent Children Agency. The Summit County Welfare Organization sends out a worker on occasion to help with financial planning.

Already, as normal parents, the Hathaways are dreaming of their son's future.

"I'd like for him to become a doctor," Mrs. Hathaway said. "Maybe he could be the one to discover how to make us see and hear again."

"Or maybe," Hathaway wisecracked, "he might become a welfare worker — and I bet he'd be a tough one, too."

Alma Lady Loses Ugly Fat, Freshens Complexion

"I would like to tell you what Rennel Concentrate has done for me," writes Mrs. Clifford Mosher, 100 Woodworth, Alma, Mich. "Five months ago I weighed 197 lbs. I was nervous, heavy on my feet and tired easily. I tried diets but they did not work. I wore a size 22½ dress and was disappointed in my appearance. My face was covered with blemishes. Then I started to take Rennel and brought my weight down to 148 lbs. I feel so much better, my nerves are fine, my face has cleared up and looks so much fresher. My friends tell me I look ten years younger. It's nice to wear a 16 dress again and I feel like a completely new person. Anyone with a weight problem like mine can lose ugly fat safely and easily with Rennel. It is a must at my house. Without tiring I can now do more work and work faster. For all these benefits I am thankful to Rennel."

Make Rennel work for you. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for your money back. Priced at $1.40. Insist on and be sure to get Rennel.

Atom Smasher Reaches Deep Cancer, Radiologist Reports Hopeful Results

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hopeful results in the treatment of deep cancer with a small atom smasher were reported today by a Stanford University radiologist.

All traces of malignancy in 48 out of 74 patients treated in a little more than a year have disappeared, Dr. Malcolm A. Bagshaw told the California Medical Assn.

It is far too early to call these results cures, because the cancers could reappear. Five to ten years free of the disease would constitute what doctors call a cure.

The initial apparent successes included a child 22 months old with cancer of the eye, one of the most common forms of malignancy in the very young. A second child with this disease also is being treated with some indications of favorable results, Dr. Bagshaw said.

Besides the 48 encouraging cases, cancers at certain sites in five other patients disappeared under this treatment but the malignancies broke out in other parts of their bodies.

Twenty-one of the 74 patients received no help from the atom smasher, Doctor Bagshaw said. These included eight who had been treated previously with conventional X-ray equipment, three who were far advanced and had no hope of great benefit, and three who could not be found later for checkups. That left only seven cases giving definite evidence of failure.

The treatment machine is a linear accelerator, which produces high-energy electrons. The electrons in turn produce the X-rays which attack the cancer. They are the same as those which come from a conventional Xray machine except they are much more potent—six million volts compared with 200,000 or 300,000 volts.

This instrument is a small edition of a 700-million-volt machine developed by Stanford physicists for atomic research. Its rays can penetrate about three inches of flesh and bone, which means it can reach just about any point in the chest or abdomen, and can do so more effectively than conventional X rays. It was built under the direction of Prof. Edward L. Ginzton, physicist, and Dr. Henry Kaplan, radiologist.

Police Aid Big Move of Philadelphia Bank

While 35 heavily armed policemen guarded the operation, negotiable securities, jewelry and other valuables were switched from one downtown bank to another. It was in connection with a merger of the Provident Trust Co. and the Trademen's Bank and Trust Co. to form Philadelphia's fourth largest bank.

Only a handful of police officials knew about the move which began at 6:30 a.m. The 35 policemen reported for assignment without knowing what their duty was to be. Barricades were set up along the three blocks the valuables were moved and all traffic and pedestrians barred from the route. Five armored trucks and 100 bank employes were needed to complete the transfer in an hour and 48 minutes.

Handicapped Children Association to Meet

The third meeting of the newly organized Association for Handicapped Children will meet at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Cook Nelson American Legion Post, Auburn at Paddock Sts.

A guest speaker from the Oakland County Board of Education will show slides on special education methods.

The board of trustees will present its project recommendations to the group. Any friend or relative of handicapped children may attend.

Hal Boyle Says:

Cabbie Creates Heaven on Wheels

NEW YORK (AP) — Many people talk of a perfect world. Raymond Roma, a former butler, is perhaps the only one who set out to create a perfect world—inside a taxicab.

"Being in a hurry is no excuse for being either uncomfortable or impolite," says Roma, whose cab (he owns it himself) is a butler's idea of heaven on wheels.

The most unusual single step you can take in Manhattan is probably the step from the curb into Roma's white and jade cab. You leave instantly a world of noisy hustle and bustle and enter a world of quiet, serenity and unobstrusive courtesy.

As you sink back into the gold and black upholstery, you are startled to note that the inside of the cab, instead of looking like a dried-up hog wallow, is spotlessly clean. You feel a grateful coolness—and discover the cab is air-conditioned.

"Care for the evening paper, sir?" asks Roma, handing you back a copy of the latest edition.

"If you wish to smoke, you'll find cigars and cigarettes behind you."

POPULAR BRANDS

You turn and on the shelf behind the seat you see two glass containers in which are three popular brands of cigarettes, regular and filtered, and two kinds of cigars—domestic and imported.

There are also matches, several kinds of chewing gum, mints, chocolates, small packets of paper cleansing tissues, scotch tape, and a lip pomade.

After lighting your cigar or cigarette for you, Roma asks your destination and drives you there at a steady conservative pace. If you care to discuss anything, he can talk to you in three languages — English, French or German.

If you murmur, "Gee, I wish I'd shaved," Roma silently hands you back an electric shaver. With perfect tact he explains that he keeps two shaving heads for the razor, and that while one is in use the other is being sterilized in a solution in the trunk of the cab.

When you have finished, he hands you a toilet kit with after-shave lotion and talcum powder.

TIDIES UP CAB

After you leave his cab, Roma, before looking for another passenger, puts the other head in the razor, cleans out the ashtrays, and whisk brooms the imported English rubber door-to-door mat on the floor.

Why does Roma go to all this trouble to please casual passengers? Largely because he likes to see people comfortable, and it pleases him still to practice the little courtesies he learned during 7½ years of buttling here and in Paris for a French general, a perfume manufacturer and a concert pianist.

It isn't all free to Roma himself. When he went to the Remington people with his plan to put in a home-auto shaver, they installed one for nothing. But it cost him $710 for the air-conditioning, and the smokes, newspapers and refreshments he provides take a few dollars each week from his modest salary.

Does it pay off in extra tips from pleased passengers, many of whom have written him testimonials?

"No," said Roma, who is always impeccably attired and would almost rather commit hari-kiri than show up for work without his necktie. "I don't get any more tips. But this doesn't disappoint me, as that is not my purpose.

"The other drivers say I must either be a millionaire—or crazy—to put a cab like this on the streets.

"I can say with certainty that I am not a millionaire. But you can be a gentleman in this world—no matter what you do for a living.

"In this country we have everything anyone can ask for except, sometimes, good manners. We can have them, too, if we choose."

Britain Claims Success Against Malayan Reds

The War Office said terrorist incidents in the federation have dropped to 35 a month compared with 500 a month in 1951.

Presenting the army estimates for the coming year, the War Office confirmed that British and commonwealth forces will continue to be stationed in Malaya after the country becomes independent later this year. This is "to assist in external defense and safeguard commonwealth interests in Southeast Asia," a statement said.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

1. Starting a Garden

Spring's at hand and so is gardening time. Why not enjoy the fun of growing plants and vegetables in your own corner? Anyhow, here's a model garden you can make and at the same time find out how to make a real garden. Be sure to save this week's pictures and all the daily pieces to combine into a fully-equipped miniature garden.

Of course the first thing you need for a real garden is a piece of ground. Maybe you can use a corner in your backyard.

Japanese Visit Palace on Hirohito's Birthday

TOKYO (AP)—Emperor Hirohito marked his 56th birthday today with a toast to "Japan's entry into the United Nations . . . and the prosperity of the people."

The graying monarch proposed the toast at a palace luncheon attended by his family, Premier Nobosuke Kishi and his Cabinet and about 150 other government leaders.

During the day the Emperor appeared before more than 100,000 Japanese men, women and children who filed through the palace courtyard.

Death of Magsaysay Not Due to Sabotage

MANILA (AP)—A military investigating committee today blamed metal fatigue for the crash March 17 in which President Ramon Magsaysay and 25 others were killed.

The committee from the armed services said the metal fatigue caused breakage of the pencil drive shaft of the right engine generator.

The report said there was no evidence of sabotage.

Stubborn Texan Still Defies U.S.

Ends Weekend Truce, Refuses to Move Out of Missile Area

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—John Prather, the 82-year-old rancher whose home spread lies athwart a range where the Army wants to test missiles, ended his uneasy truce with the U. S. government over the weekend.

"I'm staying here until hell freezes over," he said.

The Army went to court last summer and took about 25,000 acres of Prather's land for its McGregor missile range. It offered about $200,000 compensation and got legal possession last July. Prather has refused to budge.

Maj. Gen. Robert J. Wood, commanding general at Ft. Bliss, and Prather apparently had worked out an armistice.

Gen. Wood said the government would lease Prather's 15 - acre home grounds back to him. He could stay there until he dies and need have no fear of being missiled.

Prather said that would be fine as long as he could also lease a narrow corridor a mile and a half long from his home place to the boundary of the missile range, where he still has land. This would permit him to shuttle cattle between his outlying holdings and the water available at his home place.

Gen. Wood was agreeable.

But Maj. Luther B. Anderson, Ft. Bliss public relations officer, said yesterday the Corps of Engineers has vetoed the idea.

End of truce.

Red Arrives in Ceylon

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Rusia's first ambassador to Ceylon, Vladimir G. Yakovlev, arrived in Colombo today. He was met at the airport by G. P. Malalasekera, ambassador-designate to the Soviet Union. Yakovlev said a new page, and undoubtedly a good one, had been opened in relations between the two countries.

To Present Demo Land Adventures

Legislators' Wives to Stage Program in Washington

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Congressional wives will get into the act with a fun and facts show, "Alice in Demo Land," when the Democratic National Committee holds its meeting here the first week in May.

Special guests will include Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Mrs. Harry Truman and Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark, former treasurer of the United States.

With Mrs. Frank J. Lausche, wife of the Ohio senator, and Mrs. Hale Boggs, wife of the Louisiana congressman, as narrators, the skit will show how "Alice and others followed the Precinct Rabbit and bounced into politics."

Pert, brunette Mrs. George Huddleston Jr., wife of the Alabama congressman, will play the inquisitive Alice who follows the rabbit, Mrs. Harlan Hagen, wife of the California congressman, to a caucus meeting and "sees all types of workers."

UNSUNG HEROINE

There's "Old Faithful," the unsung heroine who closes windows, locks doors, licks stamps and runs errands, played by the wife of Alabama Sen. Lister Hill, and the disorganized, scatter-brain, known as the "Sprinter," played by Mrs. Frank Church, wife of the Idaho senator.

There's "Appassionata, the Band Wagon Girl," the glamor filly who "likes men best and always stirs the women up," played by a beauteous former Powers model, Mrs. Ross Bass, wife of the Tennessee lawmaker.

A former congresswoman, Mrs. Paul Douglas, wife of the Illinois senator, wearing a newsprint dress, portrays "Publicity Hound," an avid title-grabber. "Mis Fancy Hat" is interpreted by the Oregon senator's wife, Mrs. Richard Neuberger.

Others include "Mrs. Chip-on-Shoulder," played by Mrs. W. F. Norrell, wife of the Arkansas congressman, and "The Perfect Type" (she has just "turned 30, has seven children, is active in every organization") played by Mrs. Homer Thornberry, wife of the Texas congressman, who will have three of her own children with her.

Mrs. Clare Engle, wife of the California congressman, is program chairman for the shindig, which will also review the progress of Democratic women in politics and list "Democratic Firsts," such as first woman Cabinet member, former Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins; first woman minister, the late Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Rhode, to Denmark; first woman ambassador, Mrs. Eugenie Anderson, to Denmark; first woman treasurer, Georgia Neese Clark, and first woman mint director, Nellie Tayloe Ross.

Dance Club to Introduce New Officers

New officers of Viernes Dance Club will be introduced at the Guest Night party to be held Friday at Elks Temple.

Chairmen for the Friday dance are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boyer. Assisting them will be Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eickmier, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Donaldson and Judge and Mrs. Cecil McCallum.

Expect Big Changes in TV Set of Future

Your television set of the future will probably make use of a principle known as light amplification.

Instead of a large picture tube in a bulk cabinet, you'll hang thin TV screens on the walls of the various rooms, and you'll have controls in a cabinet about the size of a cigar box.

The picture, naturally, will be in color.

Urges Employers Dump Prejudice Against Former Mental Patients

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — The nation's employers were urged by an employe relations expert today to open their eyes to the prospective benefits of hiring qualified jobseekers who have undergone treatment for mental illness.

Lawrence N. Loban, an industrial psychologists, declared that such an enlightened attitude, if widely adopted, would lead to "a broader labor market from which to select" workers, thus helping business and the general economy.

Pointing out that approximately one-tenth of America's population experiences psychological sickness, Loban told International News Service:

"Most of these were good workers before their illness and will be again. To rule these people out arbitrarily is to restrict the labor market unnecessarily."

STRIKE AT PREJUDICES

The 35-year-old executive of the huge Crown Zellerbach Corporation heads a group—mostly businessmen and civic leaders—pushing a bold experiment aimed at lowering barriers of outmoded prejudice raised against recovered mental patients.

The group is the San Francisco Mental Health Society's Employment Planning Committee. Essence of its unique project is to bring employers and ex-mental patients together for face to face talks to dispel fears and promote mutual understanding.

Loban said "the same employment standards . . . no more, no less" should apply to discharged mental patients as to all other job applicants.

"To most employment interviewers, mental illness is an unknown quantity," he said, and therefore something to be "shunned." His committee aims to "educate employers to the understanding that a previous history of mental illness does not necessarily prohibit good work adjustment."

"Our experience so far," he reported, "has been that an employer who has an opportunity to talk with a recognized former mental patient will tend to adjust his viewpoint . . . The primary way for most employers to overcome their misgivings is to hire a former patient."

The employer - patient meetings stemmed from the brain of Joan Fell Murray, attractive executive secretary of the San Francisco Mental Health Society, a branch of the National Health Association. Young Mrs. Murray is the wife of a psychiatrist.

"The patients who appear before the committee," she explained, "do so with the understanding they may get no specific help in finding a job themselves but that they are serving as educational media which will ultimately open doors not only for them but for all other patients with the same problem."

WHAT IS INVOLVED?

What risk is involved in hiring persons who have emerged from the desolation of mental disease? Usually it is no greater than the normal risks assumed in hiring others, according to Dr. Clarence Miller. A psychiatrist who has devoted special attention to this phase of his professional field, Dr. Miller told INS:

"Mental illness, of course, interferes with efficiency of work. But after a person has experienced it and has recovered, he has learned to recognize he is not alone and this could happen to some very capable people. He has usually acquired increased knowledge of himself and this makes for more efficiency than he had before his illness became acute."

A glimpse of results achieved in terms of the human being involved was provided by another committee member, Lexie Cotton, social work supervisor in California's State Department of Mental Hygiene. Among many "real life" stories available to her, Miss Cotton cited the case of "Miss W," a middle-aged spinster who had moved west to live with an older sister.

Miss W came to feel that her sister was dominating her and "life was passing her by." This, coupled with homesickness for her native Nebraska and the death of a favored nephew, contributed to development of a depressive mental condition.

After four months of successful hospital treatment, Miss W returned to her sister's home.

Six months later, she appeared before the employment planning committee. At first, she talked down her own abilities, though she had held responsible positions as a title company abstractor.

Miss W was put at ease, however, when she recognized that the committee accepted her as "a person with specific, needed job skills." Then she felt free to ask for a temporary job. One of the employers on the committee immediately offered her one week's work as a typist. This led to other short-time positions for about six months.

"With each job," Miss Cotton related, "her confidence increased and she recognized that there was a place for her in society again. Currently, she is working permanently on a job she found for herself."

They're Attracted by 'Aliveness,' Not Loudness

Men Like Women With Verve and Vitality

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The average man knows whether or not he likes a woman. He knows whether or not she appeals to him, but it seldom occurs to him to analyze why a certain type has a special attraction for him.

Every once in a while I have fun asking men I know what they like and dislike in women. Although the masculine sex does not tend toward philosophic introspection along this line, when prodded, men produce some definite ideas which they voice with conviction.

Men are attracted by "aliveness," not by loudness.

1. Men are attracted by "aliveness," not by loudness. They like verve. They find vitality magnetic. Of course this latter shows itself in enthusiasm, perception, gaiety and interest in others.

2. Men like the woman who makes life comfortable and uncomplicated and pleasant in emotional as well as physical atmospheres.

3. They appreciate a good figure but prefer curves to extreme thinness.

LAUGH AT YOURSELF

4. They like a woman with a sense of humor especially if she can laugh at herself.

5. On occasion men enjoy a bit of dramatization in makeup, but as a rule they like makeup when they do not notice you have it on. In other words, they like it when it is skillfully applied so that the woman dominates her makeup rather than vice versa.

6. Men like women who are natural.

7. They like the woman who soothes hectic situations rather than the one who stirs them up.

Some of the things men dislike in women are:

1. Contrary to some opinions, men do not like the siren type. The sort of woman makes them feel uncomfortable and they soon escape from her.

2. They dislike extravagantly long, red, claw-like nails and lipstick that smears. They expect you to at least blot your lipstick.

3. They do not like catty, critical women.

4. They hate to come home at night to complaints and a tale of woe but love to hear you chatter good-naturedly. (If you have problems which your husband should share, do not talk of them the minute he arrives—wait until later in the evening or until the weekend when there is more time.)

5. Most of all men have a horror of becoming involved in emotional discussions.

6. Constant fretting drives them wild.

7. Few men naturally like candlelight at dinner. However, most of them succumb when they find that it creates a more restful, relaxed and gayer mood in them and in the members of their family.

DIETERS NOW HEAD INTO HOME STRETCH

All of you who started at the beginning of my Nine-Day Reducing Diet now are heading into the home stretch. I know that you must be very pleased with yourself now that the waistbands have loosened and the bulges have disappeared. Even if you had more than 10 pounds to lose, you no doubt see a lot of difference in your figure.

Those of you who did not start at the beginning of this reducing diet can start any time which is most convenient for you if you have saved the menus which have been printed daily in this column.

If you failed to do so you can have the complete diet in booklet form if you will send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Today I would like to give you a few simple rules which will help you hold your ideal weight.

1. Do not snack between meals. If you do any of this make it an orange or an apple, or a glass of skim milk or buttermilk.

DIVIDE CALORIES

2. Do not skip meals. Divide your calories among three meals daily.

3. Do not allow social life to sabotage you. Go easy on the canapes and desserts and take small helpings of rich dishes.

4. Continue the habit of calorie counting for a while anyway. Otherwise you may unconsciously return to the former eating habits which caused you to gain in the first place. Discontinue calorie counting when you feel it is safe, but if you begin to gain again, start counting again.

Here are the menus for tomorrow:

TUESDAY'S MENUS

Breakfast

Half grapefruit
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast
Black coffee

Mid Morning

Glass of tomato juice

Luncheon

Green salad with lemon or reducing dressing
1 slice lamb roast (don't eat the fat)
One glass skimmed milk
One thin dry piece of whole wheat toast

Mid Afternoon

Dinner

One piece of lean meat, steak or roast (five or six ounces)
One-half cup squash (yellow preferable)
One-half cup string beans
One glass skimmed milk
One apple

Bride Wants Money, Not Usual Gifts

They'll Be Unable to Establish Home for Some Time

By EMILY POST

A bride-to-be asks the following question: "Is there any way we can let the fact be known that we don't want the usual array of wedding presents? We're not going to be able to start housekeeping for quite some time, and my family hasn't the space to store boxes and barrels of wedding presents.

"But we could put the money away and use it later to furnish our house and that's what we wish people would give us instead of gifts. I would appreciate hearing from you."

Answer: You could make this request to your families but it would be impossible to others. Your most intimate friends hearing that your families are giving money might volunteer to do likewise, but even they could not possibly be asked to do so.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When we arrive at the house of friends and find another couple present, about whom we've often heard but never met, should I shake hands with both of them or just my husband with the other man? What about when we leave?"

Answer: The men always shake hands. Women may or may not. There is no fixed rule. Those who have heard about each other follow their natural inclination and often shake hands. Both men and women usually shake hands when parting after a pleasant conversation.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When walking down the aisle in a theater, or entering a restaurant, should a man who is out with both his mother (not old) and wife walk with his mother or his wife? This presupposes that the aisle is wide enough for two but not for three to walk together."

Answer: Although there is no rule, usually the two women together follow the usher (or waiter) and the man follows them.

Learning to Handle Car Is Training in Citizenship

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — Train a boy or girl to be a good driver and you help to make a future good citizen.

Youngsters of today need to learn to live with the auto, to respect it and to handle it.

Joseph M. Galvin, who pioneered and directs the driver education and driver training programs in San Francisco high schools, says learning to handle a car is a first step into adult life.

"If youngsters are helped with proper instruction and 'infected' with the right attitude toward driving, this will influence their healthy growth as citizens," Galvin explains.

By California law each sophomore student, whose average age is 15½ years, has 30 hours of driver education in the classroom to acquaint him with good driving practices, rules for pedestrians, traffic laws, and the reason for them.

In the senior year as many students as instructors and dual control cars permit take the 20-hour driver training class. Each youngster has six hours handling the wheel and 12 more hours in the car observing another student driver.

Parents—often not qualified to teach their children to drive—are gradually swinging behind the program. One factor impressing them is the rate discount that most insurance companies grant youngsters who have completed the training.

PARENTS WATCH

On Saturday mornings parents are invited to observe demonstrations by students in an enclosed area. When the student earns his certificate of fundamentals, his parents are encouraged to obtain a learner's permit for him and later to authorize a driver's license.

But the fundamentals should be taught by a trained instructor. San Francisco School Board member Adolfo De Urioste, a backer of driver training, hopes the program can expand to reach students in their sophomore or junior years "before parents or friends give them the wrong information."

Driver training emphasizes that each person is competing — with himself—for safety points.

Accidents are caused by the individual's carelessness or fatigue. The San Francisco School Department, supported by the city's police and the California Highway Patrol, finds classroom education, practice driving and a sincere desire to promote safety cut the crash toll.

Grape Nuts Add Zip to Hot Pudding

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Last fall we hunted up a corn relish recipe for a Rochester reader. At that time Ethel Shultis promised to send us a favorite recipe. Said recipe turned up in the mail just the other day.

We have not been able to contact Miss Shultis to find out a great deal about her. We do know she is a working woman and that she does canning. We think you'll like her recipe for Grapenuts Pudding.

GRAPENUTS PUDDING
By Ethel Shultis

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
½ cup sugar
2 egg yolks, well beaten
3 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons flour
4 tablespoons grape nuts
1 cup milk
2 egg whites, well beaten

Cream butter or margarine, lemon rind and sugar together blending well. Add egg yolks and beat thoroughly; then add lemon juice, flour, grapenuts and milk. Mix well.

Fold in egg whites. Turn into grased baking dish and bake in pan of hot water in 325-degree ove about 1¼ hours, or until firm.

MRS. JERRY KAUFFMAN

Married Saturday evening in Grace Lutheran Church were Elizabeth Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Benjamin of Howarth street, and Jerry Kauffman. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kauffman of Daffer.

Elizabeth Dean Becomes Bride of Jerry Kauffman

Baskets of pink and white gladioli and carnations decorated the altar of Grace Lutheran Church for the Saturday wedding of Elizabeth Dean and Jerry Kauffman. The Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer read the 7:30 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

Elizabeth is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Benjamin of Howarth street. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kauffman of Daffer are Jerry's parents.

The bride wore a gown of cut Chantilly lace, fashioned with a fitted bodice and Sabrina neckline. The bouffant skirt fell into a scalloped chapel sweep.

A crown of sequins and seed pearls held her fingertip veil of French illusion edged with Chantilly lace. She carried an arrangement of lilies of the valley, stephanotis and ivy, centered with a white orchid.

SISTER TAKES PART

Mrs. Samuel Gardiner served her sister as matron of honor. Other attendants were Mrs. Gene Hyde, Peggy Hoyt and Mrs. David Roberts.

Their gowns were fashioned identically of chiffon in a ballerina-length. The sweetheart necklines were accented by a stole over the shoulders, that fell into floating panels at the back of the bouffant skirts.

The matron of honor's gown was in an aqua shade, and the other attendants' in pink. Each wore matching colored headpieces and carried bouquets of Rubrum lilies.

Mrs. Kauffman chose a mauve silk dress with navy blue accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Following the reception, held at Maceday Lake Club House, the bride changed to a pink linen suit with navy blue accessories, and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will travel through Canada on their honeymoon.

Put Unhappy Experience to Work

By ANNE HEYWOOD

We may have little control over the things that happen to us, but we have total control over our emotional reaction to them.

It is our emotional reaction to misfortune that determines whether we have happy or unhappy lives.

I was reminded of this again when I received the following letter from Mrs. R.

"I have just been discharged, well, from a mental institution," she writes. "My husband and family have been wonderful about it, but not my friends.

"Isn't it enough to suffer as I've suffered, without having people write me out of the human race?

"Friends behave so peculiarly and the club acts as if I never did exist. I'm just frantic.

"What is there to look forward to? What's the good of being well again, if nobody believes it?"

The rest of the letter was a long and bitter tirade against life.

It isn't easy for her I know. However, the answer to Mrs. R's problem is to look up the local branch of the National Association for Mental Health and offer to do volunteer work.

This will do three important things: First, it will keep her busy with people who won't treat her as if she were "peculiar"; second, it will enable her to put her suffering to productive use, which helps it melt away; third, she can help overcome the prejudice against people who have had mental illness.

PERFECT EXAMPLE

There was a woman named Mary Doehler, who is a perfect example of what courage can do.

Today, Mary Doehler is one of the happiest, busiest, youngest 70-year-olds you ever met. Fourteen years ago, she was cured of cancer of the larynx.

She learned how to talk again, then knuckled down and started teaching others to do likewise.

Originally a remedial reading teacher, Mrs. Doehler found herself taking, on Saturdays, students referred to her by surgeons—people who had had the same operation she had had. She taught them how to talk, how to work and how to believe again.

She was so good at it that the American Cancer Society underwrote her classes at the hospital.

Mrs. Doehler works an eight-hour-day, six days a week. She is too busy, let alone too happy, to have time or energy for self-pity.

MR. and MRS. PAUL R. NORTH

Hattie Lee Osburn became the bride of Paul Raymond North in Zion Church of the Nazarene. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester L. Osburn of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Robert North of South Jessie street are Paul's parents.

Hattie Lee Osburn Wed

A lace gown fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves that tapered to points at the wrists was worn by Hattie Lee Osburn for her marriage to Paul Raymond North.

A crown of sequins and pearls secured the bride's fingertip veil of silk illusion, and she carried an arrangement of lilies-of-the-valley and carnations centered with a white orchid.

Hattie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Lee Osburn of Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Robert North of South Jessie street are Paul's parents.

ASSISTS BRIDE

Mrs. Patricia North wore a pink ballerina-length gown of chiffon and lace for her duties of matron of honor. Her headpiece was of matching colored velvet and net sprinkled with rhinestones.

Both North and Wilma Bond wore matching dresses in blue chiffon for their duties as bridesmaids. Each carried a bouquet of blue and white carnations and roses.

At the reception, held in the church parlors, Mrs. Osburn greeted her guests wearing a blue lace dress accented with a white chiffon panel. White accessories and a corsage of white roses completed her costume.

We offer you excellent fur and woolen cleaning and storage . . . with complete moth, fire and theft protection.

Discipline and Responsibility— Characteristics of the Erics

By DENIS N. HAWKER
Visiting Australian Journalist

Eric Leader is a big fellow with brown hair and big brown eyes. His handsome head is supported on powerful shoulders. Eric's ancestors many generations ago were migrants from Germany.

HAWKER

His personality impressed itself on me immediately as we were introduced the other day at Rochester where he lives in bright and roomy accommodation with 60 others.

Although only young, Eric fully appreciates the importance of the career on which he is embarking with enthusiasm, application, the intelligence above the average.

Despite his youth, lack of experience, and natural exuberance he has settled down to a new mode of life, the discipline it requires, and the attention that must be given to his instructors.

Eric will never be an eminent doctor, but already after only three months training he has the ability to give sight to the blind.

He and many like him may be seen in Pontiac any day—or in almost any city in the United States for that matter.

With Fred L. Maynard, Leader director of training, Eric showed me around the institution—through the quarantine section where new arrivals are kept for 10 days; through the maze of kennels where the German shepherds, collies and retrievers are accommodated between training sessions; through the bright and airy rooms where blind students live with their dogs for a month before being given full charge of their guides; through the office where donations from the public are gratefully received and to which a blind person pays $150 for a pair of canine eyes.

Also around the training paths where dogs and blind students are educated as a team; and through the attractive dining and recreation rooms where dogs and students are accorded every comfort and amenity—we eyed the whole layout.

The Leader school has come a long way since it was founded in 1939 by the Lions Clubs of Michigan. Only a few dogs were trained in the early years, but the turn-out now is about 120 a year, and rising.

This year it may be 130, and later it will be many more as efforts are made to help as many as possible of the estimated 400,000 blind people in the United States.

In 46 states of America, in Canada, Brazil, Israel, Mexico and other countries Leader dogs are giving the blind a fuller and happier life.

The Leader school is far from unknown in Australia, where similar facilities are being developed to complement the training of dogs by individuals. The Leader school has been asked for advice in the setting up of an institution in Australia.

The Leader school is impressive not only because of the efficiency of its training, but because it depends for its success on the support—readily given—of its immediate community and the nation generally.

Not only are all dogs donated, but also the funds to pay the difference between the $1,250 it costs to train a dog and the $150 paid by the blind person and to keep up and add to the buildings and other facilities.

Staunch Old Lady of 42 Comes Home

A staunch, 41-year-old lady, possibly the only of her kind still active in Michigan, after enduring a short body-building and face lifting course, returned to her Pontiac birthplace last week.

Once again she flaunted her body down Pontiac main streets, flashed her oil lamps, and responded to the oogling pedestrians with a roar from her four cylinder engine.

Her name is "Model SC," the 1915 pride and joy of the General Motors Truck and Coach Division.

When she was in her hey-day she was powered by a 25 horsepower motor, considered quite revolutionary, and got around so fast that the governor had to limit her speed to 12 miles per hour.

Although she had no headlights, her oil burning side and tail lamps gleamed on her shiny red and yellow body with style and grace.

Back in her native city she proudly moved down S. Saginaw Street and up South Boulevard, but the sleek younger generation were impatient. They honked and tooted insulting remarks, as they turned out to pass and leave her in a cloud of dust.

After so much of this, 1915 Model SC showed signs of sadness. She coughed and sputtered a bit, and tried to cover up, but a teardrop could be seen forming on the lower edge of one side lamp, as she turned the corner and dragged her chain drive and hard rubber tires to the long awaited reunion.

Pulling herself together, she moved lively down Rapid Street to the GMC plant No. 1 where she was born.

There, at the corner of Rapid St. and Franklin Rd. she stopped. Her lamps sparkled, for here she had finally found someone she knew.

From now on there will be nothing but happy days ahead. She will join a collection of old familiar faces from bygone days and GMC will satisfy her every need, as she is kept in storage awating future exhibitions and command performances.

FAMILY REUNION — A grand old lady of the General Motors family, 1915 Model SC, returns to the GMC Truck and Coach Plant No. 1 at Rapid St. and Franklin Rd. where she first saw the light of day.

Six Want Money Found in Barn; Trooper Puzzled

NEW CASTLE, Pa. (AP) — State trooper John Holman has $150 cash that he wants to give away. The trouble is there are six persons willing to accept it.

The money was found in a barn by Albert Beckle, 8; George Smarelli, 9; and Ronald Newtzie, 9. Their parents made them divide the money and put it in a bank in case a claim was filed.

Claims were filed by James Show, who rents the barn, and Mrs. Harry Klingensmith, who owns the property.

The former owner, Mrs. Ella Kalajainen, also put in a claim. She said her nephew left the money in the barn before he died about six years ago.

Windsor Dentist Dies; Practiced 50 Years

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — Dr. Leonard D. Hogan, a member of the Canadian Dental Assn. board and the city's oldest practicing dentist, died Saturday. He was 74.

Dr. Hogan was a member of the Michigan State Dental Society.

He had practiced in Windsor more than 50 years.

Couple's Lips Meet, Room Blows Up

When she kissed him today, an explosion occurred at the instant of contact — and the blast caused $1,000 damage to their home.

Mrs. Cherie Seveland explained that she had used gasoline to clean her husband's work clothes and then popped them into the automatic washer. Then she flipped on the electric switch and stepped into the next room to greet her husband.

Local Amvets Post Slates Annual Beauty Contest

The Pontiac Amvets, Bemis-Olson Post, have once again filled their bag full of gifts and prizes to be presented to Oakland County girls in their forthcoming annual beauty contest May 18.

Last year's winner, Nancy Harlyvetch, 20, of 3140 Crooks Rd. will turn over her reign to the new queen as well as assisting her in the state contest to be held June 28.

The deadline for entries to be in is May 11 and any girl from 17 to 26 inclusive is eligible.

Entry blanks can be obtained at either the Blue Sky or Pontiac Drive-in Theaters; the Arthur Murray Dance Studio, 25 E. Lawrence St.; Osmun's Men's Wear, 51 N. Saginaw; Peggy's Women's Apparel, 16 N. Saginaw; The Alison Shop, 52 N. Saginaw, and the Federal Department Store in Pontiac.

According to Malcolm F. Oswalt, chairman, the prizes will include a dance course and a free modeling course for the winner.

Last year's Michigan representative, Lorri Kawiak of Kalamazoo, went on to become the National Amvet queen. The national contest will be held this year during the last week in August in Boston.

Poverty to Disappear in 10 Years, Says Prof

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The poor won't get poorer during the next 10 years, says a University of Michigan professor — they're going to disappear.

Dr. Wilbur Cohen, currently a visiting professor at UCLA's School of Social Welfare, said in an interview yesterday that poverty in the United States will be abolished within the next decade.

He added, however, that it will take an organized program relying heavily on universities to do the research and turn out trained personnel to help end the poverty problem.

Boys Superior to Girls Working in Kitchens

GREENVILLE, Mich. (AP)—Boys are much better than girls at washing dishes, the domestic science teacher at Greenville High School says.

Miss Catherine Stall has a class made up entirely of boys—33 of them. They have learned table setting, candy making and the baking of cookies, rolls and biscuits.

Britain to Organize 2nd Missiles Unit

LONDON (AP)—Britain soon will form a second guided missiles regiment in reshaping her military forces for the nuclear age, the War Ministry announced today.

A statement outlining the ministry's financial needs also disclosed that the army's strength is to be cut in the coming year from the present 373,300 men to 335,000.

A defense White Paper issued April 4 called for cutting the total of all the armed forces from 690,000 men to 375,000 in the next five years, but made no breakdown by services.

Home Demonstration Groups of County Hold Achievement Program Thursday

Taking care of a home and a family, is much like running an enterprise, you need the most up-to-date information to do the best job. That, declares Mrs. Mary A. Hixon, is the purpose of the Home Demonstration Service, for which she is the Oakland County agent.

In observance of Home Demonstration Week, Sunday through May 4, members of the 108 groups in the county will gather at the Waterford Township Sportsman's Club Thursday for an Achievement Day program.

Starting at 10 a.m., the program will feature a message of greeting from President Eisenhower, and a talk by Mrs. Kimiyo Onaga, head of the Home Economics Dept., University of Ryukyus, Okinawa.

Special recognition will be given chairmen, secretaries, past chairmen and other guests. Some 30 leaders will be honored for having taught five more classes during the past year in their communities.

A style show by women who have recently taken the cotton dressmaking class will be featured, narrated by Mrs. Joyce Rapes, home demonstration agent at large.

Other extension service agents will explain their work, including Lyle B. Abel, county agricultural agent; Mrs. Josephine H. Lawyer, consumer marketing information agent; and Sue Sturgis, 4-H Club agent.

Special guests will include state legislators and their wives. State Sen. Harvey Lodge has been invited to speak.

Afternoon luncheon for 250, a foreign foods demonstration is planned, along with vocal entertainment and a report on safety programs sponsored by various demonstration groups.

The meeting is open to anyone interested in the program and luncheon tickets can be reserved by calling the County Extension Office, FE 4-2564.

Recreation Area Plans Held Up

Conservation Officials of State Ask Fill Dirt From Waterford Site

Plans and specifications for a new recreation development in Waterford Township are being held up pending a request from the state that the township provide another source of fill dirt.

Some time ago the State Conservation Department offered to deed a strip of land west of Crescent Lake road to Waterford Township to be developed for recreational purposes.

The strip was originally given to the state to be developed into another park by the Dodge family. However, due to its odd shape, officials never bothered to develop it into a state park.

The strip is 225 feet wide and one-half mile long, and was used as a source of fill for improvements to other state owned public parks.

Although State conservation officials have requested another fill dirt source from the township, they have indicated that this will not interfere with the decision to deed the land to Waterford Township, free of charge.

Gunman Takes $2,000 in Grand Rapids Holdup

The Kent County sheriff's office said two men were believed involved in the holdup. The $4,000 check had been made out by the theater manager for deposit.

The robbery occurred at 2:10 a.m. as the drive-in was closing.

Heart Victim Dies in Spite of Surgeons

The unemployed steelworker from nearby McKeesport was admitted to McKeesport Hospital April 20 with "pains in my chest."

His heart stopped beating twice that night, each time, a surgical team opened his chest and massaged the heart to make it beat again.

Blakley was stricken again yesterday while his wife, Mary, stood at his bedside. Nurses and physicians rushed to his room but their efforts to save him proved to be in vain.

RUGGED INDIVIDUALIST — Honey, a Pennsylvania black bear, snapping like a first sergeant, tries to get her fourth cub in line at the Glenwood Park Zoo in Erie, Pa. The cubs, now 3½ months old, are Honey's second set of quadruplets in two years. According to experts, triplets are a rarity for bears, and quadruplets are practically a phenomenon.

2 Youths Admit Threats by Note

Chicago Juveniles Try to Extort Money From Children's Parents

CHICAGO (AP)—Two grade school boys were turned over to juvenile authorities yesterday by police, who said they admitted sending a series of extortion notes demanding money from parents under threat of harm to their children.

Police said 12 tenants of a Northwest Side housing project where the boys live had received letters demanding $20 to $50 and threatening harm to their children if the money was not received. The letters, variously signed "The Killer," and "The Gang," had told the tenants to leave the money in mail boxes in the project.

Police said one of the tenants reported a brick was hurled through the glass of her kitchen door when she ignored a demand to leave $50 on the top of a neighborhood mail box.

The boys were seized after their schoolteacher, at police request, had given her pupils a handwriting test. Police compared the handwriting on the test papers with the writing on the extortion notes.

Detective John Keady said Hector Donati, 12, admitted he wrote the notes and he implicated Anthony Corona, 14. Both boys, who are in the seventh grade, are being held for further questioning.

Group to Discuss Public Health Issues

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Health issues ranging from food fads to fluoridation will come up for discussion at the three day annual conference of the Michigan Public Health Assn., which opens here Wednesday.

More than 500 public health workers from throughout the state are expected to attend the meeting.

Dr. Chester V. Tossy of Lansing, program chairman, said the group will take up some of the health questions tthat appear to worry people the most.

Among them are the use of antibiotics in food preservation, community nursing needs, means of combatting food fads and fallacies, air pollution, developments in polio control and questions on fluoridation of public water supplies.

Speakers will include Dr. Charles L. Anspach, president of Central Michigan College; Dr. Charles G. Durbin, associate director of the Federal Food and Drug Administration's veterinary medical branch; and Dr. Joseph W. Atkinson, acting chief of food sanitation for the U.S. Public Health Service.

Annual Week Opens on Religious Theme

LANSING (AP)—Celebration of the fourth annual Michigan Week will open on a religious theme with hundreds of churches planning special services to mark spiritual foundations day on Sunday, May 19.

The programs will emphasize the importance of religion in the history and heritage of the state.

Among special events planned is the annual pilgrimage of the Pere Marquette Memorial Association to the shrine of Father Marquette near Ludington.

Some churches plan exchanges of clergymen. Others will participate in music festivals or plan special programs dealing with the history of their churches.

"On this day," said Rev. Kenneth G. Neigh of Detroit, president of the Michigan Council of Churches, "We hope that all the clergy and laymen will recognize the spiritual values of life in Michigan."

Colorado Moves Against Motorists Doing Marathons

DENVER (AP)—Marathon motorists are likely to have their trips interrupted, politely and briefly, in Colorado this summer.

Chief Gilbert Carrell said today the state highway patrol will man traffic roadblocks to check for tourists who are attempting long-distance drives without rest and sleep.

Carrel said the order follows a finding that one-car accidents have accounted for 20 of the state's 79 traffic victims this year.

Those persons halted at roadblocks and found to have driven long distances without sleep will be advised to stop and exercise or take a coffee break.

Algerian Rebels Burn Historic Farmhouse

ALGIERS, (AP)—The farmhouse where Gen Mark Clark met secretly with French resistance leaders before the Allied invasion of North Africa was burned to the ground today by Algerian rebels.

Clark and a group of American officers came ashore from a submarine in October 1942, just before the allies launched the first great invasion of World War II. with the French leaders in the Sitges-Tissier farmhouse outside Cherchell, on the Algerian coast.

Farmers Overdo Work?

DETROIT (AP) — A word of caution to farmers not to "overdo" on their chores during May has come from the president of the Michigan Heart Assn. Dr. M. S. Chambers of Flint said records show that heart fatalities among farmers are "surprisingly high" in May because of springtime pressure of such farm jobs as milk pouring, field cultivation and manure loading.

RELAXES AFTER RECORD VAULT — Bob Gutowski, Occidental College senior who set a new outdoor world record in the pole vault Saturday chats with Stanford coach Peyton Jordan during the meet between the two schools. Gutowski cleared the bar at 15 feet 8¼ inches to better Cornelius Warmerdam's mark set 15 years ago at 15 feet 7¾ inches.

Record Shows--'57 Tigers Same as '56

DETROIT (AP) — How do the 1957 Tigers, who the pre-season experts picked to finish in second place in the American League, compare with the fifth-place Tigers of 1955 and 1956 through the first dozen games?

Not as good as the 1955 team. No better than the 1956 outfit, which complained it got a miserable start, then boasted it played the best ball in the league the last half of the season.

The 1955 Tigers were 7-5 in their first dozen games and were only a half-game off the league lead. The 1956 Tigers were 4-8—exactly the same as the 1957 brand—but they were only 3½ games off the pace, compared with 4½ now.

Only rookie infielder Reno Bertoia is among the first 10 in the league in batting, with a .344 average on 11 hits in 32 times at bat. Four 1956 Tigers who still are around were among the top 10 or close by most of last season.

Seldom, though, did the 1956 Tigers get the kind of pitching the Detroiters got in a double header which they split with the Indians at Cleveland yesterday. Detroit won the opener 2-0, with a ninth-inning rally, then dropped the second game in the 10th when catcher Frank House dropped a throw to the plate.

Rookie Don Lee blanked the Indians through the first seven innings on six hits. He was lifted for a pinch hitter in the eighth and Al Aber held Cleveland hitless in the 8th and 9th to get credit for the victory as the Tigers came on to win the first game.

But Aber, whose throw to the plate for what would have been the third out in the 10th was dropped by House, was charged with the loss of the nightcap.

Between them starters Billy Hoeft, Jim Bunning and Aber gave up only eight hits in the second game. The only runs the Indians got through the ninth came on fifth-inning homers off Hoeft by Bob Avila and Rocky Colavito. Hoeft, like Lee, was lifted in the eighth for a pinch hitter.

Early Wynn had held the Tigers to a single hit when Frank Bolling led off the 9th with a double. Maxwell singled to score Bolling with the first run of the game, then rode home on Boone's double.

Yankee Stadium Just Like Ebbets Field

'Twas Day of Rhubarb

NEW YORK (AP) — For three hours and 14 minutes on a Sunday afternoon, Yankee Stadium was just like Ebbets Field with rhubarbs flaring at every corner.

Early in the day, Mickey Mantle was chased by plate umpire Ed Runge, who said he used some purple language after he was called out on strikes. It was the second time Mantle had been chased in his career, both times by Runge.

"I took all I could," said Runge. "I thought about that big crowd of 40,000 (actually 36,971). I went a long way with him but I couldn't take that last burst."

Second base umpire Joe Paparella, who had been involved in an argument with third baseman Billy Martin in Saturday's game, chased Martin after another wild session in the seventh.

Martin threw to second baseman Bobby Richardson for a force play but Paparella ruled Richardson was off the bag when he got the ball. Richardson claimed he kicked the bag when he had the ball and was amazed at the "safe" decision.

The umpires' reports to league president Will Harridge which will give full details will determine what punishment, if any, the Yanks will get.

Although manager Casey Stengel was out twice, jawing with the umps and waving his hands, he didn't get the heave-ho.

"Do you know what Casey said to me?" said Runge. "During the Mantle incident, he said 'No. 1 you can't let that catcher (Sammy White) catch on his knees and No. 2 you can't let him put his hand in his back pocket.' I made White stop putting his hand in his pocket but I didn't make him stop kneeling."

Moose Skowron, the Yanks' muscular first baseman, also was mixed up in a wild play in an attempted pick off of base runner Jimmy Piersall. Skowron claimed Piersall kicked the ball out of his glove and then scrambled over him "like a wrestler."

The umpires ruled Piersall had hindered Skowron in recovering the ball and made Jackie Jensen return to second base from third where he had moved as the ball rolled away.

"I almost hit him and then I was afraid I might hurt him," Skowron said later. "He spiked me last year and this thing has been brewing for some time."

CASEY TOO LATE — There were rhubarbs aplenty at Yankee stadium yesterday and this photo shows in sequence Mickey Mantle getting tossed out of the game by umpire Ed Runge. Mantle protested a call and walked away with a few unkind words which Runge did not like. Runge called him back and gave him the heave ho. Casey Stengel (37) rushed out to give Mantle support but it was too late as the Yank star headed for the showers.

35-Footer Wins for Patty Berg

Edges Wiffi Smith by One Stroke in Western Open Tourney

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—"That was the greatest shot Patty Berg ever made."

The comment and the infectious smile came from Miss Berg herself. She had just reported a one-over-par 74 final round to win the Women's Western Open golf tournament yesterday. She didn't know at the time if her 291 total would overcome the five-stroke semifinal lead of Wiffi Smith, 20.

That "greatest shot"—a 35-foot putt on the 18th green for an eagle—the one-under-par total did catch Wiffi, and won.

Miss Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., defeated Miss Smith by one stroke. Wiffi, of St. Clair, Mich., bogied three of the first four holes and ended with an 80.

Tied for third were Mickey Wright of San Diego and Louise Suggs, Sea Island, Ga., at 297. Anne Richardson, Columbus, Ohio, amateur, finished at 299 while the defending champion, Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif., tied at 300 with Betty Dodd, of Louisville, Ky.

2 Michigan Cities Have Hoop Interest

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — The possibility of a second major professional basketball league is being considered in Fort Wayne and in at least 10 other cities.

Meeting here Saturday to discuss the proposal were representatives from Lansing and Grand Rapids, Mich.; Toledo and Dayton, Ohio; Rochester, N.Y.; Des Moines and Davenport, Iowa; and Moline and Rock Island, Ill.

Don Myers, manager of the Allen County Coliseum here, said officials in at least six other cities have expressed interest.

Fort Wayne has lost the Pistons in the National Basketball Assn. The club will operate from Detroit next season.

Heyliger Denies Rumor

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Vic Heyliger says he still plans to resign as Michigan hockey coach despite reports to the contrary.

In denying persistent rumors that he has changed his mind, Heyliger said he will submit his resignation to the university's board in control of inter-collegiate athletics at the next meeting May 11.

Bluejays Nip Falcons

Southfield garnered its 1st win in four starts and handed Farmington its 1st loss with a 3-2 victory Friday. The Bluejays rallied from a 2-0 deficit to pull out the verdict in the 7th for pitcher Bob Shull.

Casper Gains One-Stroke Victory in Derby Tourney

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Bill Casper Jr.'s rising star had carried him all the way to third place today on the telltale money list of the professional golfing tour.

Since a pro golfer's bank account is the main barometer of his achievements, the Bonita, Calif., slugger and putter de luxe could be tagged a threat to some of the game's greatest prizes in future years.

He edged out Peter Thomson of Australia yesterday in the Kentucky Derby Open, but nearly everybody agreed it was one of the easiest one-stroke victories seen on the circuit.

Casper, having constructed a five-stroke bulge on the first nine holes of the final round, needed only to three-putt the last green to shade Thomson, playing in the same threesome.

That is what he did as he finished with a four-day card of 68-68-71-70—277—seven strokes under Seneca Park's par of 35-36—71.

The $4,300 payoff out of a $30,000 jackpot lifted Casper from 11th in winnings to third with $10,518 for the year. Masters winner Doug Ford, who collected $800 for his Louisville effort, remains the leader with $24,629. Arnold Palmer is second with $13,467.

Thomson's second money in the Derby Open was $3,000.

Julius Boros, a late starter, established a course record on the final day with a sparkling 65 to tally a total of 280, good for third money of $2,000.

Bo Wininger and Bob Harris were nosed out by Boros' performance and settled for a fourth place tie and $1,600 apiece.

Winners Named in Kite Tourney

Champions were decided in three divisions Saturday in the finals of the annual City Kite Tournament at Lincoln Junior High athletic field.

Jimmy Teague, Bob Grasser and Norman Davis won their respective classes. The strongest pulling kite division was stopped because of rain and declared a draw when all kites became too wet to fly.

Thirty boys, representing eight city elementary schools, participated in the tourney.

The tournament was co-sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department and the North Side Community Club. Medals were awarded to the winners and runners-up.

Winners and runners-up were:

Release and fly, 100 yards—won by Jimmy Teague, Will Rogers School; George Brady, LeBaron, 2nd.

Handwinding for time—won by Norman Davis, Will Rogers School; Ralph Donovan, Children's Home, 2nd.

DERBY CHAMP—Bill Casper Jr., of Bonita, California, captured the Kentucky Derby Open Golf Tournament with a 72-hole, 7-under par 277 yesterday. He was one stroke ahead of Peter Thomson of Melbourne.

Robbins Beaten in North-South

Bill Campbell Defeats 1956 Champion for 3rd Title in Eight Years

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Bill Campbell, whose golfing future was in doubt just a couple of Christmases ago following serious injury to his hands, has demonstrated he ranks as one of America's best amateur players.

The lanky Huntington, W. Va., insurance man saved his best play for the finals as he won impressively, 3 and 2, from Hillman Robbins in the North and South amateur tournament Saturday.

Robbins was after his second straight title. Instead, it was Campbell, winning his third title in eight years, who carried off the prize.

Campbell was burned severely about the hands by molten wax used in making holiday season candles a couple of years ago. The hands healed slowly, the skin showing signs of tenderness. They still bother him in cold weather.

Campbell shot par golf for the 34 holes. His big break came in the morning round when Robbins was unable to win a hole and Campbell's par 72 for the 7,000 yard No. 2 course of the Pinehurst Country Club had him five up.

Pole Vault High Set by Gutowski

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Bob Gutowski met his deadline but missed his prediction when he cleared 15 feet 8¼ inches Saturday to better the world outdoor pole vault record.

The slender Occidental College senior had set 1957 as his record year while inching up toward Cornelius "Dutch" Warmerdam's 15-7¾ "miracle mark" the past three seasons. But he couldn't quite match his forecast that, "The day anyone tops Butch Warmerdam's record, he'll also clear 16 feet."

Orion Track Winner in Meet With JVs

Some unusually fast times were recorded in last weekend's Lake Orion-PHS Jayvee track meet at Wisner field.

Jim Drake's century time of 10.2 was very good, as was Jim Mathis' 17.7 for the high sticks. Drake also won the vault at 10-4, and shared a top spot with Carson of PHS in the high jump to help his team to a 56-53 win. Little Chiefs led up to the last relay, 53-51, but Orion took the medley event to nail the win.

Pontiac won four events (tied for another). Orion took eight 1sts, tied one. PHS winners were, besides Mathis and Carson; Ledsinger, Duncan and O'Brien.

Morrow Steals Show at Drake Relays

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The Drake Relays bade farewell to Abilene Christian's great Bobby Morrow today after the Olympic sprint champion helped the midwest track classic to one of its best sessions in a 48-year-history.

Although Morrow, voted the outstanding athlete in last weekend's meet, has another year of competition at Abilene Christian as a four-year performer he can't run at Drake next year under the NCAA restrictions.

And well they should. The triple Olympic gold medal winner Saturday gave the Drake Relays a 9.4 hundred for the second straight year and led Abilene Christian to two meet record-breaking relay triumphs.

Morrow's performance highlighted a program which produced a new American collegiate record and 11 new Drake marks. The American 480-yard shuttle hurdles record of 58.6 set by Texas was surpassed by Missouri's 58.4 triumph Saturday.

Morrow had little trouble winning the 100-yard dash by five feet over Western Michigan's Ira Murchison with a 9.4 clocking which matched Dave Sime's 1956 Drake conquest of Morrow for his only collegiate defeat in the century.

Morrow also anchored Abilene Christian to new meet records in the university 440 relay (40.5) and in the university 880 baton event (1:24.2). This won Bobby 21 of the 22 votes cast by sports writers and sports broadcasters for "outstanding athlete" laurels.

The other vote went to Billy Tidwell, who anchored Kansas State of Emporia to college division triumphs in the sprint medley and 880 relay events.

One of the meet surprises was the eyelash defeat of Hungary's heralded Laszlo Tabori by ex-Iowa star Ted Wheeler in an open mile event. Wheeler's 4:06.9 bettered Wes Santee's 1955 Drake record of 4:08.4.

Other new meet marks included: discus, Al Oerter, Kansas, 177-10; 120 high hurdles, Willie Stevens, Tennessee A & I, 13.8; college two-mile relay, Arizona State of Tempe, 7:39.4; college one mile run, Deacon Jones, Iowa, 4:10.7; shot put, Dave Owen, Michigan, 57-5½; javelin, Jack Fromm, Pacific Lutheran, 232 feet; and hop-step-and-jump, Jack Smyth, Houston, 48-5½.

Appeal Suspensions

4 Banned Golfers to Meet PGA Committee

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Four tournament golfers, in the PGA doghouse for poor exhibitions in protest against not being permitted to withdraw from the Kentucky Derby Open, plan to appeal a 30-day suspension today.

The four — George Bayer of Cincinnati and Texans Ernie Vossler, Don January and Doug Higgins — were awaiting arrival of the players tournament committee. The latter comes here for the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation which opens Thursday.

There will be 48 top golfers in this tournament with Bayer, Vossler, January and Higgins included, because the suspension does not apply to Colonial, a non-PGA co-sponsored event. But, if they can't get it removed, the four won't be able to play at Hot Springs, Ark., next week.

Bayer, Higgins, Vossler and January got into trouble with the PGA at Louisville when they took horrendous scores after being told they could not withdraw from the Kentucky Derby Open. The tournament committee, headed by Bob Toski of Holyoke, Mass., ruled this was not gentlemanly conduct. Bayer said he had been told by Toski that there was no rule against taking 17 strokes on a hole.

Iceberg Wins at Rochester

Roy Iceberg of Pontiac fired a 71 yesterday at Rochester Golf and Country Club to win the season's 1st Michigan Publinx Golf Association handicap as tournament golf got under way in the Oakland County area.

Dick Robertson and Joe Peak each shot 72 to follow Iceberg in the championship flight. Pete Macari won the 1st flight and Danny Dinoff took the 3rd flight while a triple tie resulted in the 2nd flight.

A field of 205 golfers, the largest entry in the MPGA's six-year history, plodded over the rain-soaked course.

CHAMPIONSHIP FLIGHT
Roy Iceberg	73-2—71
Dick Robertson	75-3—72
Joe Peak	75-3—72

Fantastic Kegling

ABC Ends 51-Day Tourney

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The 54th American Bowling Congress left fantastic scoring in its wake today.

Called the highest scoring single tournament in ABC history, the 51 days and nights of torrid tenpinning came to a close yesterday.

A Louisville, Ky., bowler's 2,088 all-events total broke a 20-year record. Jim Spalding, 39, a civil engineer, racked up the big 9-game aggregate April 12. He crushed Max Stein's 2,070 total compiled in 1937 which the experts had called "unbeatable."

The 25 3,000 series rolled in the team event constituted an even more imposing scoring achievement. In last year's ABC at Rochester, N.Y., only one 3,000 score was rolled — the 3,092 that won the Chicago Falstaffs the team title. The previous record for 3,000 sets in one tournament was 16 compiled in the 1938 show at Chicago.

This year's team entry—3,056—was the smallest since 1936. There were two 3,100 series in this year's ABC, the 3,126 that won the Chicago Peter Hands the team championship and the 3,119 that earned the Detroit Stroh's second place.

Another impressive title winning score was the 1,369 that brought Ron Jones and Joe Meszaros of Sterling, Ohio, the doubles crown. It was the sixth highest two-man total in ABC history.

Bob Allen of Yonkers, N. Y., won the singles with 729. Rea Cress of Junction City, Kans., won the booster division with 2,796.

Ohio State Triumphs Twice Over Spartans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State turned its sights on other Big Ten opponents today after beating the Michigan State Spartans in a baseball doubleheader Saturday.

After dropping a 14-4 decision to Michigan Friday, the Buckeyes came back strong to take 6-2 and 2-1 decisions from MSU.

Spartan shortstop Jerry Korwek hit a bounder down the third base line for MSU's only safety off righthander Jim Rutecki in the seven-inning nightcap. A double and a single in the last of the seventh gave the Buckeyes the margin needed to overcome a 1-0 deficit.

CATCHY — Even a shapeless exercise suit can't hide the glamour of blond Jeannette MacDonald as she warms up at Paddington Recreation Ground in London. The holder of the Canadian women's shotput and discus championships is touring Europe. She competed in the recent Olympic Games.

Michigan Double Winners

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — The University of Michigan's Big Ten baseball record remains unmarred today thanks to a double-header victory over Indiana.

The Wolverines led off the Saturday twin bill with a bruising display of power that gave them a 7-1 margin. Hoosier resistance stiffened in the nightcap but the visiting Wolverines sneaked by 7-6.

Homers by Bruce Fox, John Herrnstein and Gene Snider were Michigan's first three hits in the opener. Glenn Girardin came on twice in relief roles, and was credited with the second victory.

Girardin stopped a Hoosier rally after three runs in the fourth inning of the second game when the Wolverines were trailing 6-5. Michigan was leading 2-0 in the opener when he took over from Herrnstein, who developed a sore arm

All-Star Bowler Killed in Crash

MONROE (INS) — Charles S. Johnson, 37-year-old all-star Detroit bowler, wa killed yesterday in a traffic accident on the Detroit-Toledo expressway, one mile north of Monroe.

Johnson, who has been bowling in the Detroit area since 1951, apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The car overturned and skidded 75 feet on its top.

A passenger, and fellow bowler, James Pantazides, 39, also of Detroit, miraculously escaped death. He was treated at Monroe General Hospital and released.

Braves Lead NL by Two Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The season is just two weeks old, but Milwaukee's determined Braves have won 9 of 10 and the rest of the National League teams, particularly Brooklyn and Cincinnati, may find out it's later than they think.

Milwaukee's record, padded with a 3-2 victory at Cincinnati yesterday that completed a three-game sweep from the Redlegs, has provided a two-game lead. Not particularly impressive? Perhaps, but Brooklyn had only a three-game lead after sweeping its first 10 games in 1955—the year the Dodgers won the pennant by 13½ games.

The Braves won without a home run for the first time in four games yesterday. They did it by bunching a portion of their nine hits and killing the Redlegs with four double plays.

Doubles by Billy Bruton and Del Crandall, a bunt single and a sacrifice fly wrapped up Milwaukee's fourth in a row in a two-run fourth. Red Murff nailed the victory in relief of Taylor Phillips. Tom Acker was the loser.

The second-place Dodgers fell another game behind, shut out by Pittsburgh's Bob Friend 3-0. St. Louis swept two from Chicago 6-2 and 4-0, with Lindy McDaniel, Tom Cheney and Hefm Wehmeier allowing the Cubs just five hits in the double-header. Philadelphia rapped the Giants 11-2, but trailed 8-7 when a curfew suspended play in the second game after 6½ innings.

Chicago's White Sox hold a one-game edge in the American after defeating Kansas City 5-3. New York Yankees stopped the Bosox' winning streak at five games 3-2 on Yogi Berra's 10th inning home run.

Detroit and Cleveland split their twin bill, with the Indians winning 3-2 in 10 after the Tigers had won 2-0. Washington defeated Baltimore 7-6 in 10 innings, but lost the second game 3-2.

A four-run sixth inning gave the White Sox a 7-2 record. Walt Dropo slugged a two-run homer in the big frame. Jim Wilson won it with Gerry Staley's relief help after being tagged for three home runs.

The Red Sox battled back with two ninth-inning runs to tie the Yankees and shell Bob Grim, who had relieved Whitey Ford in the eighth. Don (Perfect Game) Larsen, now a reliever, won it on Berra's poke off reliever Ike Delock. The Yanks lost Mickey Mantle and Billy Martin in arguments with the umps while staying 1½ games behind the White Sox.

Vikings Take Chip Relays

Chiefs End 2 Year Hold on Title

By H. GUY MOATS

MT. PLEASANT — A strong, balanced Flint Northern track team Saturday pried Pontiac off the Central Michigan Relays throne after a two year possession of the title. Norb Baber's Vikings splashed their way to a 55½ point total. Dean Wilson's PHS crew compiled a 2nd place 40 point count, considered a very respectable collection in view of the fact the Chiefs had lost 13 of the red-hot 1956 team that compiled 70 points.

Win Saturday was the 2nd title Pontiac won last year that Northern snatched away this spring. Vikings captured the Central Invitational several weeks ago. Northern last held the CMC outdoor crown in 1950.

And the track and field feud between these two Valley foes has another chapter coming up Tuesday. Chiefs invade Northern's field for a SVC dual test. And it's going to be another sizzling encounter.

Pontiac area athletes also showed well in the big meet, with Waterford collecting 10½ points, Birmingham 29, Hazel Park 7.

Other Class A totals — Saginaw 36½; Bay City Central 31; Traverse City 27½; Lansing Eastern 26½; Sexton 22; E. Detroit, Stg-inaw Arthur Hill 14; St. Joseph 12; Muskegon 7½; Battle Creek 6; Det. CC 5; De LaSalle 4 and Muskegon Hts. 4.

Five titles were won by area Class A boys, led by Hudson Ray's 6 feet 5⅞ leap, a CMC varsity field house high jump record, and a meet record. However, it was not allowed as a meet mark, along with Bill McFarlane (Birmingham) who vaulted 12 feet, 5⅛ inch, as both events were moved indoors because of continuous rain that puddled up the running track, and soaked the athletes. Little Cecil Dumbrigue of Waterford won the broad jump, with a 20 feet 9 inch leap, with Ray 4th with a mediocre (for him) jump of 20 feet 3¾ inches. Cecil also shared in a 6-way tie for 4th in the vault.

Maples' points came on the vault win, 2nd in shot by Chuck Gibson, tie for 2nd in 880 relay, tie for 2nd in 440 relay, 3rd in sprint medley. Gibson hit 49 feet, 8 inches on his toss.

Chiefs won the two-mile relay, 1st final of the day. It was a fine race, with Pete Cox, Charley Barge, Rog Coates and Larry Beamer hitting 8:41.5. They outran Arthur Hill (second) by more than 10 seconds. Coates made up 50 yards deficit on the 3rd lap, and Beamer added to it in the anchor spot.

Vikings won their crown in the final events. A share of a 2nd place tie with Birmingham in the 880 relay and a 2nd in the day's finale, the mile relay, provided 15 points, the margin of victory.

Class B title went to Inkster, with 58 points. River Rouge 51, Ecorse 27½, Redford Union 24 and Willow Run with 22 followed. Willow Run's Willie Prewitt, who jumped 24 feet 4¾ inches at Mansfield, O. a week ago did only 21½ feet Saturday, but won.

Rochester's points came from a first for Dave Eldred in the shot (49 feet 2 inches), tie for first in high jump and 3rd in broad jump by Dave Peters (Tom Wilson of Lapeer also tied in the high jump in a 3-way knot) at 5-8.

The Class B scores:

Inkster 58, River Rouge 51, Ecorse 27½, Redford Union 24, Willow Run 22, Mt. Pleasant 20¼, Lowell 16½, Utica 12, Rochester 11½, and Cass City 11¼.

The Class A results:

Two mile relay — won by PHS (Cox, C. Barge, Coates, Beamer) 2nd Art. Hill; 3rd E. Detroit; 4th Lans. Sexton; 5th F.N. Time: 8:41.5.

Shuttle hurdle relay — won by FN; 2nd Trav. City; 3rd Waterford; 4th Pontiac; 5th Sag. Time: 50.30.

880-yard relay — won by Sag.; 2nd tie, FN, Birmingham; 4th Bay City; 5th Pontiac. Time: 1:34.4.

Indiana's Bell Threatens World Broad Jump Record

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The oldest world record in the track and field record book — the one that has withstood challenges for more than two decades — could fall this year.

It was on May 25, 1935, at the University of Michigan, that the great Jesse Owens startled the track world by broad jumping 26 feet 8¼ inches.

"I'd sure like to break it," said Greg Bell today, "but I'm not the guy who is going to say I'll do it."

The closest he has come so far was the 26-6½ mark he made in the Olympics last year in Melbourne. That effort wiped out Owens' Olympic standard of 26-5½.

In the Penn Relays over the weekend, Bell got off a 26-1½ leap. While it did not approach his best, it was just six inches better than his mark of a year ago, an indication of his phenomenal progress.

Bell pulled an iron man stunt at the relays, winning the 100 in 9.7 and running anchor on two Indiana relay teams, neither of which won. But his efforts won him the most valuable individual award.

Villanova, with Olympic champions Ron Delany and Charlie Jenkins the standouts, won three of the eight major relays — the distance medley (10:10.7), the sprint medley (3:24.3) and the mile (3:12.7).

Texas, which set world records in both the quarter and half mile relays earlier in the season, won both its specialties, taking the 440 in 41.1 and the 880 in 1:25.4. Both were considerably off their world marks, possibly because of the sharp turns on the Franklin Field track.

Manhattan grabbed two more, the two-mile (7:39) and the four-mile (17:25.7), while Winston-Salem (N.C.) Teachers made off with the shuttle hurdle relay in 59.8.

St. Mary Trackmen Overwhelm Monroe

Orchard Lake St. Mary won 10 events and tied for 1st in another to overwhelm Monroe Catholic Central, 84-25, in a dual track meet Sunday at Monroe. It was the 2nd win in three starts for the Eaglets.

Chet Wajda placed 1st in the broad jump and pole vault and ran a leg in both relays to score 12½ points. Pete Krystek won both dashes and Jerry Ostrowski took the 880 plus tying for 1st in the high jump.

Joe Waluk set a new school record in the shot put by heaving the 12-pound ball 47 feet, 6½ inches. The Eaglets slammed the broad jump, 100-yard dash and shot put.

Crane Baseball, Tennis Teams Win Loop Openers

Cranbrook's baseball and tennis teams swept past University School of Cleveland Saturday at Cranbrook in their 1st Inter-State League tests of the season.

Hard-luck Dave Campbell finally posted his 1st decision, pitching a neat two-hitter as the Cranes triumphed in six innings, 4-2. Chuck Grube slammed a two-run homer in the 4th for the winners.

The Crane netters won their 4th meet in six outings, shutting out the Ohio School, 5-0.

Miceli Fights Labua

Britisher Wins Unanimous Bout

Bassey, whose American debut was a smash success, now is in line for a title bout with Cherif Hamia, the top-ranking French-Algerian. Bassey, a Nigerian, now makes his home in Liverpool, England.

The nationally-televised fight between Bassey and Berrios was the semifinal in an elimination tournament set up to find a successor to Sandy Saddler, the retired featherweight king. Saddler, an American, had to step aside because of eye injuries.

Paris, Nottingham in England, New York, Syracuse and Washington are being considered for the championship test, probably late this spring.

Milford Defeats Holly Aided by 2 Home Runs

Milford posted its 2nd straight Wayne-Oakland League win and the 3rd triumph for the season Friday with a 9-5 trouncing of Holly.

Dan Lancaster smashed a homer and double and hurled the win for the Redskins. Ralph Stowe added a four-bagger and Terry Anderson two singles in the eight-hit attack. Taylor had two of Holly's five safeties as the Bronchos dropped their 2nd in a row in loop play. George McDaniel and Amos Bradsher divided the pitching.

Restored Car Valued at $7,000

Model 'A' Comes High

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — John Boseak is a man who parlayed — bolt by bolt — a $200 Model A Ford into a $7,000 treasure he won't part lith.

Since then, Boseak has spent some 1,000 man hours rebuilding the car he refuses to drive.

He recently was offered $7,000 for the Ford by a Tennesse auto dealer and collector of antique cars.

"It sounded good, but this car is something I've dreamed about for a long time," said Boseak. "It means more to me than a pile of money."

The car has never been driven since Boseak rebuilt it and he says it never will be.

But it has taken two first-place trophies in Detroit and Cleveland in the restored class.

..."It took us (a partner, Dan Johnson) the better part of a year and about 1,000 of our spare hours. But every minute was worth it," says Boseak.

'My dream was to buy an old car and restore it as a showpiece of which I can be proud. I think I'v accomplished that."

Dental Clinic Planned in Waterford Township

Dr. Stanley Mijal, of 19601 Riopelle, has applied for a building permit for a structure on Dixie highway near Andersonville road, in Waterford. It will adjoin the new Waterford Post Office, now under construction.

Congress Cold-Shoulders His Scheme for Freedom

Czech Looks Back---but to No Avail

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

Nostalgia will only make you sad. Living over memories is a waste of man-hours. The ease and squeak of the old garden swing will ne'er — well, hardly e'er — come again. And the first kiss was not exactly the way you remember it anyway.

It was pretty disappointing, matter of fact.

What they claim is that looking back is the certain route to old age, that the moment man begins regretting or rejoicing in the past, he is letting his present and future fall into decay.

In most cases, I believe they are right (I just thunk back on a senior prom and felt an artery harden). But for some people it's unavoidable, and to think back is to supercharge your spirit and give you new drive and ambition.

Such a one is Mira Slovak. He lives in Seattle and I met him recently over a corned beef sandwich which he ate without taste because he was looking back. And there's nothing quiet and decadent in Slovak's retrospect.

'MY HEART POUNDS'

"I still get to making fists remembering," he said. "Then I write Congress. Then my heart pounds. Then nothing happens."

Not only Slovak but everyone around him is stimulated when he recalls the frustration that has pestered him the last four years.

First, he was a Czechoslovakian air force pilot during the war. "Four years, flying mostly jets." Then he became a captain for the Czech government airlines, because he was a man trusted by the Communists.

He did seem the trustworthy type—with a strong grim face and a mouth with little to say. The Communists didn't think anything about it on a day in 1953 when Mira drove out to the airport, met some friends, and took off as usual.

"Everything routine, you know," he remembered. "You plan two years and you finally have everything routine."

FLEW TO FREEDOM

They stole the plane, Slovak and friends, and flew to freer landing strips. Slovak then took the first available plane to the United States, where he spent four months filling in our government on everything he knew about his homeland. The government was grateful, and Mira had reasonable hopes for success when he asked a return favor.

He wanted to form, or join, or dedicate his future to an international volunteer flying force—the kind of air squadron that could drop in behind the Iron Curtain, where needed, and give the Commies some fresh ideas on how the free side feels.

He wanted no American boys involved ("just give us the guns," he promised "— we have the blood"), because he says there are hundreds of foreign-born men mad enough to get in there and fight for their curtained countries.

For four years, Mira has never stopped hoping for the day when Congress will vote to form such a free-lance air group and provide it with planes and support.

He is now the personal pilot for William Boeing Jr., head of the giant aircraft corporation, and his life is pleasant. But, taking a reverse theory of those who say you should live for the present, Slovak won't allow himself to fall into the ease of the moment.

"I'd rather think back and get mad," he said, "and keeping writing Congress till we win. Someday they'll realize we can pay them for the planes when our countries are free, but what can we give them now? Nothing but our lives."

DETERMINED BEAUTY—Intelligence, beauty and determination should prove to be a winning combination for Jeanette Pryor, 17, of Houston, Tex., who dreams of a legal career, even though she is paralyzed from the waist down. Stricken 11 years ago, Jeanette continues her studies at Jefferson Davis Hospital as she awaits surgery which may make her dream come true.

Fine, Jail 3 Days, for 6 Traffic Tickets

Levon Lewis, 29, of 426 Central Ave., pleaded guilty and was fined $114 and sentenced to the Oakland County Jail for three days after he appeared before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum on a bench warrant for six traffic violations.

He pleaded guilty to the violations on February 14 and had until the next day to pay a $84 fine. McCallum issued the bench warrant after Lewis failed to show up in court with the money.

Lewis was rearrested Friday. three of the warrants charged driving without a operator's license. Two were for excessive noise and one charged speeding.

Hollywood Headlines

John Barrymore Junior to Portray Father on TV

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

Martin Manulis, who has obtained the rights to the Fowler book, will make it for Playhouse 90 next fall. He's already arranged with young John, and he has a meeting with Ethel Barrymore to discuss it.

The only love story of Barrymore's that will be shown will be Dolores Costello. Martin tells me that he will show the greatness of John as an actor and not emphasize any of the later day tragedy.

Happy day for Spencer Tracy, director John Ford and Columbia Pictures, to say nothing of this writer. Spence gets the role of the Irish politician, Skeffington, in "The Last Hurrah!" I've been screaming from the housetops for Tracy ever since I read the book.

The reason Columbia was able to pull it off is because the picture won't go before the cameras until October. Ford, who also couldn't see anybody but Spence in the role, has to make a picture in England before he does "The Last Hurrah."

Spence, who has to finish "The Old Man and the Sea," will be free in October, so it's all arranged.

I'm sure James Francis Curley, the former mayor of Boston, who is supposed to be Skeffington, will join in the happy hurrahs.

I asked Shelley Winters if she is starring in Erskine Caldwell's "God's Little Acre" for director Tony Mann.

"Who told you that?" she said. "I can't deny Ive been talking about it and I'd like to do it very much. The picture rolls in July and will be filmed in its entirety in Georgia but it's just in the talking stage."

I tracked Shelley down at Republic Studio where she was rehearsing for "Smarty," a TV show. Shelley left Saturday for New York to be a guest speaker at the ninth anniversary of Israel.

I thoroughly enjoyed the pilot film of "How to Marry a Millionaire" and wished it wouldn't end. There are so many possibilities in this and if the first one is any indication, then this ought to be a very popular situation comedy for TV.

There are so many laughs in this idea based on three girls pooling everything they own to nab three millionaires. Lori Nelson photographs like a million — she's the beauty of the trio.

Doe Avedon, as the smart one, and Charlotte Austin, as the dumbbunny, bring a lot of interest.

GIFT FROM PICASSO

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Picasso heard that Ray Milland admired a Picasso vase so he sent it to Ray on the set of "High Flight" with a card reading: "From one artist to another." 'Tis said the painter and creator of eccentric pottery has changed his political views.

No wonder Felicia Farr couldn't make the Coconut Grove opening with Jack Lemmon. She stepped on a wasp's nest and her legs and feet are swollen twice their normal size.

Another reason that "Marjorie Morningstar" is being delayed is that Milton Sperling is laid up at home with a slipped disc, and that's very painful.

Dean Martin exudes charm at the Moulin Rouge and he gained confidence through the warm reception given him by his many friends. Sitting ringside were the Jack Bennys, Gracie Allen and George Burns, the James Masons and many others. Frank Sennes promises many other top stars to follow Dino at the Moulin.

Ethel makes four—Ethel Ellinson, that is — the baby daughter born to the Jack Ellinsons. Jackie writes the Danny Thomas and "Hey, Jeannie" TV shows.

Governor Requests Retirement Study

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams has asked for a restudy of the present method of determining the age for compulsory retirement of state workers.

The governor made his request in a letter to Donald O'Hara, executive secretary of the state employs' retirement system.

Williams suggested that a means be found to use physical and mental capacity as the measurement for determining mandatory retirement rather than a measurement based solely on age.

"State government has an obligation to serve as a model employer," the governor said, "and therefore should take the lead in recognizing that a great many older workers wish to remain employed beyond the present age of mandatory retirement."

The governor asked for a preliminary report on the study by Oct. 1 to give time for preparation of recommendations to the next session of the legislature.

With 5.2 million motorcycles, scooters and motorbikes, France is producing two-wheelers faster than any other country, Paris claims.

Dallas Zoo Puts Hefty Animals on Short Rations

DALLAS (AP)—Some of the hoofed animals at the Dallas Zoo will pay a heavy price for their new home due to be completed this summer.

It has made them fat and sassy, says Zoo Director Pierre Fountaine, and in need of a general trimming down.

Those extra pounds may even have cost the zoo several hundred dollars, he says, because overweight animals seldom have offspring.

And among the top-heavy inmates are Napoleon II and Josephine, the zoo's male and female camels. They are not expected to produce an addition this year Fontaine says, because they are overweight. And a young camel could be sold for $1,400 to $1,700.

Adenauer Rejects A-Base Warnings

BONN, Germany (AP)—Rejecting a Soviet warning against atomic bases in West Germany, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's ruling Christian Democratic party says the Russian message was calculated to help the Socialist opposition in this year's elections.

The Soviet Union told the Bonn Republic Saturday the use of its territory for Western atomic bases risked nuclear retaliation that could turn West Germany into a "vertiable graveyard." The West German government immediately denounced the warning as a "massive threat" and "interference in internal political affairs."

The West German Socialists seized on the note yesterday in their campaign for control of Parliament in the elections to be held Sept. 15. Opposition to atomic armament is part of the Socialist platform.

3 Algerians Shot in Paris Suburb

PARIS (AP) — Three Algerians were wounded seriously in two shooting attacks by North Africans in Clichy, a Paris suburb, last night.

Strong police forces soon after raided all Clichy hotels and cafes owned by North Africans. They questioned 400 persons, arresting one North African on a charge of possessing arms illegally and took eight more to the police station for a check of identity papers.

It was the third big police raid in a week in the Paris area in an effort to curb the increasing rate of attacks by rival groups of Algerian nationalists.

Admiral Denies 6th Fleet Move 'General Alarm'

PANAMA (INS) — Admiral Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, says the order for the Sixth Fleet to move from the western to the eastern Mediterranean was not a general alarm.

In answer to newsmen's questions, Radford positively said the order concerned only the Sixth Fleet. He said he did not expect the order to interrupt his three-week tour of eight Latin American countries.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION
CITY OF PONTIAC, MICHIGAN
MAY 20, 1957

Notice is hereby given, that a special election will be held in the City of Pontiac, in the County of Oakland, and State of Michigan, on Monday the 20th day of May, 1957 from 7:00 o'clock a.m. to 8:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, to vote upon the following propositions:

Proposition No. 1—Shall Section 13 of Chapter IX of the Charter of the City of Pontiac, Michigan, be amended so as to include provisions (1) for the levy of $1.35 (now $1.00) per $1,000 of assessed valuation to pay principal and interest on bonds heretofore or hereafter issued for hospital construction, equipment, site and parking lot, and (2) for the levy of 65 cents per $1,000 of assessed valuation to improve, enlarge and extend the city's sewage disposal system or to pay principal and interest on bonds therefor?

Proposition No. 2—Shall Section 3 of Chapter X of the Charter of the City of Pontiac, Michigan, be amended to provide that the City Commission may by resolution instead of ordinance submit bond propositions to the electors and to eliminate the necessity of specifying therein how and when the bonds shall be due and payable and the rate of interest thereon?

Proposition No. 3—Shall Section 4 of Chapter X of the Charter of the City of Pontiac, Michigan, be amended so as to provide that bonds shall be payable within the times prescribed by state law in lieu of the present requirement that they be payable in equal annual installments not exceeding thirty in number, the first installment to become due not later than two years after date thereof?

Proposition No 4—Shall the City of Pontiac, Michigan borrow the sum of $1,500,000 and issue its full faith and credit bonds therefor, for the purpose of completing the construction and equipment of the City Hospital?

Proposition No. 5—Shall the City of Pontiac, Michigan borrow the sum of $350,000 and issue its full faith and credit bonds therefor, for the purpose of acquiring a parking lot for the City Hospital?

Proposition No. 6—Shall the City of Pontiac, Michigan borrow the sum of $2,700,000 and issue its full faith and credit bonds therefor, for the purpose of defraying a part of the cost of improving, enlarging and extending the city's sewage disposal system?

Notice is further given, that the voting places for said election will be as follows:

NOTICE OF HEARING:
BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP

Notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held by the Bloomfield Township Zoning Board at the Bloomfield Township Office, 4200 Telegraph Road; on Monday, May 6th, 1957, at 8:00 o'clock p.m. to amend an ordinance entitled Bloomfield Township Zoning Ordinance No. 21, as follows:

Proposed Amendments to Bloomfield Township Zoning Ordinance.

1. Change Sections number identifications to as follows:
Section IX—Board of Appeals
Section X—Building Permits and Certificates of Occupancy
Section XI—Enforcement
Section XII—Penalties
Section XIII—Amendments
Section XIV—Interpretation; Purpose
Section XV—Validity
Section XVI—Effective Date

2. Add new Section VIII—Offstreet Parking Facilities to read as follows:

(a) In all zoning districts, offstreet parking facilities for the storage or parking of self-propelled passenger vehicles, for the use of occupants, employes, and patrons of buildings erected after the effective date of this amendment, shall be provided in amounts not less than hereinafter specified and shall not subsequently be reduced below the requirements of this amendment.

Provided, however, that nothing in this amendment shall prevent the reconstruction, repairing, or rebuilding and continued use of any conforming building; or structure existing at the effective date of this amendment which is damaged by fire, collapse, explosion, or acts of God, subsequent to such effective date.

(b) For the purpose of this amendment a "parking space" shall mean an area of not less than 240 sq. ft. exclusive to drives or aisles giving access thereto, accessible from streets or alleys, or from private driveways, or aisles leading to street's or alleys, and to be usable for the storage or parking of self-propelled passenger vehicles.

(c) Existing offstreet parking facilities provided at the effective date of this amendment, and actually being used at that date for the parking of automobiles in connection with the operation of an existing building or use, shall not be reduced to an amount less than hereinafter required under this ordinance for a similar new building or new use.

(d) For the purpose of this amendment, "floor area" shall mean the gross floor area accessible to the public as customers, patrons, clients, patients, or tenants, including areas occupied by fixtures and equipment used for display and sale of merchandise. It shall not mean floors or parts of floors used principally non-public for storage, incidental repair, processing or packaging of merchandise, show windows, toilet or rest rooms, or for utilities.

(e) In places of assembly in which patrons or spectators occupy benches, pews, or other similar seating facilities, each 20 inches of such seating facilities shall be counted as one seat for the purpose of determining requirements for offstreet parking facilities under this amendment.

(f) The following table will govern the amount of offstreet parking facilities required:

Tourist Homes, Motels, Hotels:
One parking space per residential unit
Hospitals, Sanitaria, Convalescent Homes, Asylums, Homes for the Aged:
One parking space for each four beds (infant bassinets are not construed as being beds.)
Orphanages:
Theaters, Stadia, Sports Arenas, Auditoriums, Churches, Assembly Halls:
One parking space for each four seats
Dance Halls, Exhibition Halls:
Bowling Alleys:
Four parking spaces per bowling alley.
Schools:
Total offstreet parking facilities to be approved by the Zoning Board before building permit is issued.
All other commercial establishments not previously specified, one parking space for each 240 sq. ft. or fraction theerof of usable area.

(g) When it is impossible to provide adequate parking space contiguous to the property on which the building is located, it shall be permissible in commercial zones only to have a separate parking lot, providing the closest distance between the two parcels of land does not exceed 200 feet.

(h) The Zoning Board of Appeals may permit for the use of parking only, land for a distance of 100 feet behind of, or along side, existing commercial zones, providing, however, that such permit will be made a matter of record with the Registrar of Deeds of the County to be certain that such property will not be used for purposes other than parking at anytime in the future.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NOTICE
To the Electors of the City of Pontiac, Michigan:

Notice Is Hereby Given, that at the special election to be held in the City of Pontiac, Michigan, on Monday, the 20th day of May, 1957 from 7:00 o'clock A.M. to 8:00 o'clock P.M., Eastern Standard Time, there will be submitted to the electors of said city the question of amending Section 3 of Chapter X of the Charter of said city so as to read as follows:

CHAPTER X

Section 3. Whenever the Commission shall desire to issue bonds, they shall pass a resolution stating the amount of bonds to be issued and the purpose thereof, which resolution shall not be finally passed on the day it is introduced except in case of public emergency. Such resolution shall be published once in each week for three successive weeks immediately preceding the election hereinafter provided. The question of the issuance of such bonds shall be submitted to the electors of said city for adoption or rejection at a general or special municipal election to be held therein, and the Commission is hereby empowered to call a special municipal election to be held in accordance with the provisions of this charter and the general laws of the state. If three-fifths of the votes cast upon the question shall be in favor of the issuance of such bonds, then such bonds may be issued in accordance with the provisions of the general laws of the state and of this charter. This section shall be retroactive insofar as the same may be necessary to make valid any bond issue submitted by the Commission and approved by the electors at the election at which this amended section is adopted.

Notice Is Further Given, that said Section 3 of Chapter X of the City Charter now reads as follows:

Section 3. Whenever the Commission shall desire to issue bonds, they shall pass an ordinance, stating the amount of bonds to be issued and the purpose thereof, how and when the same shall be due and payable and the rate of interest thereon, which ordinance shall not be finally passed on the day it is introduced, except in case of public emergency. Such ordinance shall be published once before its final passage by the Commission in a daily or weekly newspaper published and circulating in the city and thereafter shall be published once in each week for three successive weeks immediately preceding the election hereinafter provided. The time when such ordinance shall take effect shall be prescribed therein, and it shall be submitted to the electoral vote of said city for adoption or rejection at a General or Special Municipal Election to be held therein, and the Commission is hereby empowered to call a Special Municipal Election, to be held in accordance with the provisions of this Charter and the General Laws of this State, for the submission to the Electors, the question of issuing bonds for the aforesaid purposes and all persons having qualifications of electors under the Constitution and General Laws of this State shall be eligible to register and vote at said Special or General Election on said bonding questions. If three-fifths of the votes cast upon the question shall be in favor of the adoption of such ordinance and the issuance of such bonds, then such ordinance shall be considered as adopted and such bonds may be issued.

By order of the City Commission.

Driver Fails to Stop, Injures 3 Detroiters

Three Detroiters were injured last night when the car they were driving was hit by that of a Pontiac resident who ran the stop sign at Union Lake road and Commerce road, Sheriff's deputies said.

Albert J. Jousigno, 40, of 976 Voorheis Rd., Pontiac, collided with the car driven by Stanley Jastrzeski, 60, of 5015 Sobiske St., Detroit.

Jastrzemski is in Pontiac General Hospital with possible head injuries as is a passenger in his car, Dominic J. Karpinski, 61, also of 5015 Sobiske St. Jastrzemski's wife, Clara, 66, was treated and released for minor injuries. Jousigno was uninjured.

Steel, Aircrafts Move Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel shares were fairly active and higher in early stock market trading today. Aircrafts made some gains.

Key stocks generally were up from fractions to around a point in moderately active turnover. There were some wide moves in selected issues. Some stocks lost ground.

The foreign news picture over the weekend was more reassuring, brokers said. There were reports of rising steel output in Pittsburgh and Chicago but a decline in Youngstown. Steel scrap prices showed signs of firming.

Ludkens Steel once again got off on a wide move, up around 4. Another fast-stepper, Outboard Marine dropped about 5. Cooper-Bessemer, up 2 points in the opening, halved its gain in later dealings.

Crash on Baldwin Sends 3 to Hospitals

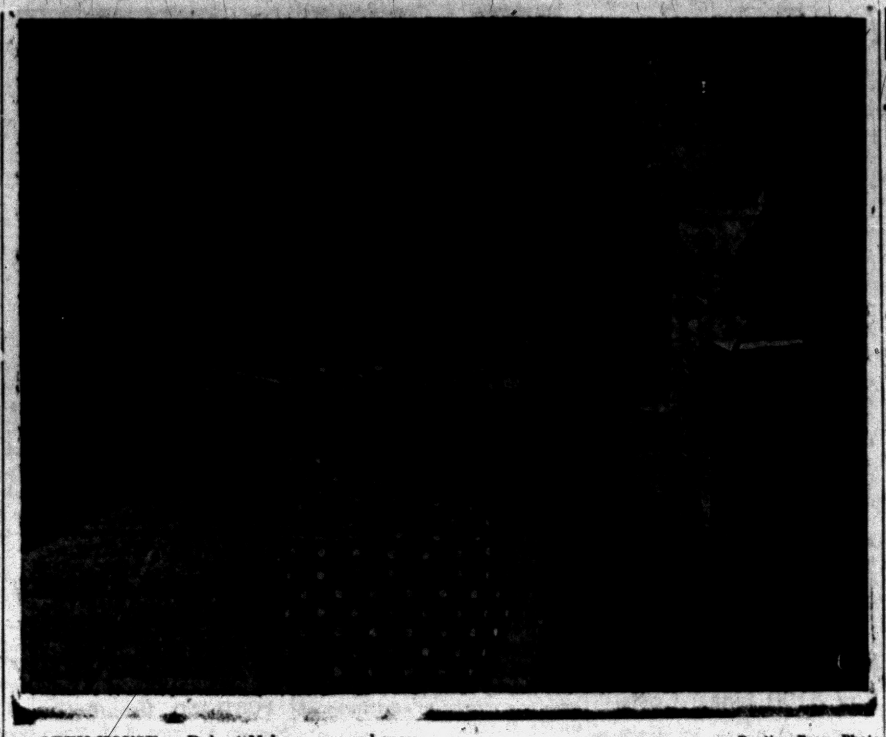

Three Pontiac residents were injured in an accident on Baldwin Avenue about ¼ mile north of Lake Angelus road Saturday evening.

Mrs. Ora Louise McNabb, 25, 2981 Judah Rd., and her 2½ year old son, Billie, are in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after colliding head-on with a car driven by Thomas L. Cameron, 22, of 49 Clark St.

The mother received a fractured left leg and her son has a possible concussion and lacerations of the face and head. Both are in satisfactory condition, according to a hospital spokesman.

RODANTHE, N.C.—Residents of this village on Hatteras island off North Carolina celebrate Christmas each January 6, the ancient twelfth night.

All employes of the company and their families were invited to the open house to see the results of the recently completed expansion and modernization program which ups the firm's manufacturing space 30 per cent.

Wheat Prices Ease at Opening

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures prices eased at the start on the Board of Trade today reflecting a forecast for dry weather in the Southwest.

There was little else to account for a flurry of selling that developed at the start of trading. There was nothing of consequence in the export picture. A small amount of selling in the May contract was attributed to brokers representing cash and export interests.

Near the end of the first hour old style wheat was ⅝-½ lower, May $2.22⅞, new style ¾ to 1 cent lower, July $2.10⅝, corn was ½ to ⅞ lower, May $1.28¼, oats ¼ to ⅞ lower, May 67⅞, rye was ¾ to 1½ lower, May $1.25¾, soybeans ½ to 1¼ lower, May $2.41¼, and lard was 15 to 20 cents lower, May $13.55.

Pontiac Receives Highest Rating for School Band

Pontiac High School Band received a first division award Saturday from each of three judges in concert playing and also was rated first division in sight reading.

Competing with eight Class AA bands in the state finals in Ann Arbor, Pontiac was one of two to receive a unanimous first division rating.

Other bands competing were: Ann Arbor, Jackson, Roseville, Flint Central, Owosso, Midland, Benton Harbor and Muskegon.

Judges were Clifford Lillya, University of Michigan; Norman Dietz, Central Michigan College; Oscar Stover, Michigan State University; and Glenn Smith, U of M.

Clarkston Man Held by Pontiac Police

Pontiac police will seek a warrant today against a Clarkston man after a local bartender and another citizen allegedly disarmed him and prevented him from carrying out his threat to kill a man in a bar Saturday morning.

Police are holding Joseph Thomas Young, 62, of 9151 Rattalee Lake Rd., Clarkston, for investigation of threat to do great bodily harm while armed.

Young was arrested by Pontiac police at 158 Marion St., Waterford Township, about 11:45 a.m. following the reported attempt.

Officers report Herman Schurman, of 262 Elm St., bartender at Clar's Bar, 800 S. Woodward Ave., and Arnold Frank, 1809 Holland St., Birmingham, gave police a loaded rifle which they claim they took from Young in the bar. They said he threatened to kill Ray Fetteringer, 32, of 1173 Vinewood St.

3 Youths Injured as Cars Collide

An accident at South Blvd and Crooks Rd., on the Avon-Troy Township border, Saturday night sent two Clawson youths and a Rochester boy to Pontiac General Hospital.

Robert A. Crowner, 18, of 330 Poschma St., Clawson, collided with a car driven by Michael J. Laughlin, 15, of 350 Grace St., Rochester. Both are in satisfactory condition, as is Charles L. Eno, 17, 432 Highland St., Clawson, who was riding with Crowner.

Waterproof Foundations

Foundation wall joints should be completely filled and sealed to keep out moisture. Damp locations call for waterproofing below grade. Ventilate unexcavated areas with wall vents.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NOTICE
To the Electors of the City of Pontiac, Michigan:

Notice is hereby given, that at the special election to be held in the City of Pontiac, Michigan, on Monday, the 20th day of May, 1957 from 7:00 o'clock a.m. to 8:00 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time, there will be submitted to the electors of said city the question of amending Section 4 of Chapter X of the Charter of said city so as to read as follows:

CHAPTER X

Section 4. All bonds shall bear interest at not exceeding six per centum per annum, shall be payable within the times prescribed by state law, and shall be signed by the Mayor and attested by the Clerk under the city seal. The coupons evidencing the interest upon such bonds may be executed with the facsimile signatures of said Mayor and Clerk. Whenever bonds shall be issued, it shall be the duty of the Commission annually, the time and in the manner that other taxes are levied, to levy a tax in addition to all other taxes authorized by this charter, sufficient in amount to pay the principal of and interest on such bonds as they respectively become due.

Notice is further given, that said Section 4 of Chapter X of the City Charter now reads as follows:

Section 4. All bonds shall bear interest at not exceeding six per centum per annum and be payable in equal annual installments not exceeding thirty in number (the first installment to become due not later than two years after date), and shall be signed by the Mayor and attested by the Clerk under the city seal. The coupons evidencing the interest upon said bonds may be executed with the facsimile signatures of said Mayor and Clerk. Whenever bonds shall be issued, it shall be the duty of the Commission annually, at the time and in the manner that other taxes are levied, to levy a tax in addition to all other taxes authorized by this Charter, sufficient in amount to pay the principal and interest of such bonds as they respectively become due.

By order of the City Commission.
Dated April 26, 1957.
ADA R. EVANS,
City Clerk
April 29, '57.

Program Honors Holly Teacher

HOLLY — Tribute was given Mable Bensett here Saturday by the citizens of the area for her fine service to the community. The honoree, who has been on the faculty of the Holly schools for 47 years, was presented a tribute from the general public by Joe Haas and from the faculty by Leland Brode.

The program, headed by Max Freeman, featured a section called "This Is Your Life" in which the high school choral group presented a parody of teaching life.

Jack Eby was the general chairman and Burns Fuller of Fenton was master of ceremonies.

Presentation of gifts was made by superintendent C. G. Coggins.

The general sentiment of the occasion was voiced by one of the speakers in the words: "Nobody else in the last half century has had the influence on Holly's educational and cultural progress that even remotely approaches that of Mable Bensett."

Following the program an open-house was held. Mrs. Thomas Seavey and Mrs. James Alexander were in charge.

Concluding was the announcement from President Eugene Rogers that the junior high school building on College street has been designated as the Mable Bensett School.

The guest of honor will continue her teaching work here.

Ortonville Banquet Set

ORTONVILLE — A community mother and daughter banquet will be held on Thursday at the Methodist church. A film for children will be shown with vocal selections by a girls quartet.

Justice Presses for Boys School

Black Says Vocational Unit Needed More Than State Court Building

Funds for a new Supreme Court building could better be used for a new boys vocational school, Supreme Court Justice Eugene F. Black said yesterday in Pontiac.

"The luxury of a new court building can wait," Black told the Pontiac Democratic Club. "But lack of proper facilities for homeless and wayward boys is the number one problem faced by our lower courts."

Referring to a $3.5 million appropriation asked for a new court building, Black said the money "could better be used, in view of the state's financial crisis, in solving the vocational school problem."

The Port Huron justice cited the State Department of Social Welfare's efforts to get $2.5 million to begin construction of a new vocational school near Ann Arbor. It is expected to cost $10 million before completion.

"Until this school is a reality," Black warned, "the probate and circuit courts of this state cannot properly do their duty in rehabilitating youngsters."

Mrs. Irene E. Murphy, of Birmingham also spoke at the public meeting in the UAW Local 596 hall, 821 Baldwin Ave. She recently was elected regent of the University of Michigan.

Keego Driver, Wife Pay $100 Fines, Costs

William G. Baxter, 47, 2162 Park Circle, Keego Harbor, and his wife, Dorothy, were fined by Keego Harbor Justice James Southart Saturday morning.

Baxter pleaded guilty to reckless driving and was fined $50 plus $25 costs. His wife pleaded guilty to disorderly charges and was fined $15 plus $10 costs.

Goodwill to Pick Up Area's Usable 'Junk'

In coordination with current clean-up, paint-up drives in Oakland County area, Goodwill Industries has offered to cart away all usable discard.

Civic officials are asking that residents separate usable articles from their junk, sending anything repairable to the handicapped people at Goodwill. Workers there will recondition and sell the articles in their retail stores.

For pick-up, interested persons may call FE 2-1496.

Williams Attacks Ike's Leadership in Portland Rally

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan says President Eisenhower is a "confused President in the White House."

"Citizens don't know what the national policy is or where we want to go," Williams told a Democratic fund-raising rally here yesterday.

"This is a situation that cries for Democratic leadership," he declared.

"You can tell when the nation is going to have a new crisis," Williams said, "because the President will have packed up his golf bags and gone to Georgia."

He said the "big business community" and most of the conservatives are "throwing over the leadership of President Ike. The press, which nurtured Ike is even attacking its own handiwork."

Williams said the President was "second guessing" on the size of the budget he submitted to Congress. "Who ever heard of a President sending a budget to the capital and then having his secretary say its too big? Williams asked. "Imagine, a President not knowing what to do about the budget?"

Asked if he will be a candidate for the presidential nomination, Williams said he was "keeping his nose to the grindstone at the job of being Governor of Michigan."

State Loses Nine Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Accidents took at least nine lives in Michigan over the weekend. Seven of the deaths resulted from traffic accidents. One man drowned and another was killed by electric shock.

Fred Wood, 23, and Betty Wiley, 22, both of Chicago, died in a two-car Sunday collision outside Niles. The drivers of both cars were injured and hospitalized. The two automobiles collided on a curve in U.S.112.

Charles S. Johnson, 39, Detroit, was killed Sunday when his car overturned on the Detroit-Toledo expressway a mile north of Monroe. Johnson was returning from a bowling tournament in Ohio.

Loy Hall, 44, was injured fatally Friday night when struck by a taxi cab in Detroit.

Paul A. Ladach, 51, of Detroit was killed Friday night by electric shock when he touched the handle of an automobile door after a live wire fell on top of a parked vehicle.

Barbara Hass, 18, of East Lansing, was killed Saturday in a two-car collision in Lansing.

Clarkston Pair Speaks Vows in Baptist Rite

CLARKSTON—At 4 p.m. on April 20 the Rev. Walter Gibson united a Clarkston pair in marriage at the First Baptist Church.

Elaine Marie Strong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Strong and Robert Ray Rondo, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rondo spoke their vows before members of the immediate families.

Student Teachers From MSU Eye Aspects of City

A study of Pontiac was the theme of 19 Michigan State University student teachers Friday.

The students, who teach four days a week in the Pontiac schools, hold a seminar each Friday. This was the fourth seminar of the spring term.

The group had been divided into committees to study the community and each had a different topic: Community composition, employment and working conditions, recreation, housing and home life, communications and transportation and cultural, religious and educational aspects.

Two of the committees had guest speakers: Adah Shelly, former head librarian in Pontiac, and Everett Spurlock, of the Urban League.

The reports brought out that Pontiac typifies an industrial community of 66,000 and problems found here easily could be located in other areas.

Williams Raps 'Divided' GOP

No Real Fight Put Up in Congress for Program of President, He Says

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — No real fight is being made for President Eisenhower's program in Congress, Gov. G. Mennen Williams contended today.

"If the administration wanted to make such a fight it could not do so, because it is obviously a divided administation representing a deeply divided party," the Democratic governor said in an address prepared for the Commonwealth Club luncheon here.

"In domestic affairs, no one can tell whether administration policy is really what the president says it is, or what Secretary Humphrey says it is," Governor Williams went on.

"In foreign affairs you can take your choice any day in the week among the president, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), John Foster Dulles or whoever happens to do the talking," he continued. "If they deliberately organized American foreign policy with the purpose of confusing the Russians, they couldn't be doing a better job. The trouble is that they have probably succeeded best in confusing not the Russians but the American people and our allies."

Williams said this is the result of what he calls a "caretaker" government attitude on the part of the Republican Party, a "forceful resistance to change."

"It has lost whatever leadership it had in Congress, and it doesn't seem to care very much that it can no longer lead," Williams said.

"It is far past time . . . that the United States should have devised a new foreign policy, one that would make sense under the existing circumstances," he said.

"The foreign policy of Roosevelt, Truman and Acheson was sound for its time," Williams asserted, "But . . . the spectacle of John Foster Dulles, scurrying about the globe, desperately trying to carry out policies made 10 years ago for different circumstances, is a scandal to our friends and a comfort to our enemies."

CASTLE IN 1957 — On Middlebelt road near 11 Mile, the hilltop house of Dr. and Mrs. Sylvan A. Broadman is a sight to behold. The home seems to have sprung from a fairy tale and set upon a local site. Structurally, the building really is a castle, with its stream resembling a moat, its round bell tower, sunken fountain, and circular staircases. Built in 1938, the "castle" is a familiar landmark of the Farmington area.

Carl Reiner Faces Loss of Job as Caesar's Sidekick

35 Defendants on Trial in Italy

Charge Reds Stole Mussolini's Fortune

PADUA, Italy (AP) —Thirty-five defendants were called to trial in Padua today in an effort to unravel the 12-year-old mystery of Mussolini's missing treasure, which may have helped pay the bill for postwar communism in Italy.

Top defendant in the big trial is Dante Gorreri, tough Communist partisan who was elected a deputy to Parliament while he was in jail in 1953. Charges range from murder to embezzlement.

The treasure was the multimillion-dollar fortune Benito Mussolini was trying to slip out of Italy on the night of April 26, 1945, when he fled toward Switzerland in a German truck column.

Communist partisans ambushed the column in the Lake Como region north of Milan, near Dongo. They executed Mussolini and his mistress Claretta Pettaci.

But they never said a word about what happened to the fortune in gold and currency—since known as the "Dongo treasure."

The government claims the Communists unloaded the treasure from about 30 German trucks, piled it in the Dongo town hall, stood guard over it all night, and took an inventory of it behind closed doors the next morning.

Reportedly it included 145½ pounds of gold bars and several million dollars worth of British, Swiss an American currency. No official estimate of the total value has ever been announced.

The mystery of the treasure has resulted in much speculation that the Communists used it to finance the costly postwar build-up of their party, which for a time threatened to take over the Italian government.

The prosecution charges that Communist Deputy Gorreri was one of the chiefs of the band that seized the gold.

He is accused, with five others, of having ordered the slaying of six persons who "knew too much" about the Dongo gold.

Cat Takes in Mouse With Her 4 Kittens

Baby, Al Orozco's cat, had four kittens recently, Orozco, admiring the kittens, was amazed to find a field mouse contentedly nursing with the kittens.

"She thinks more of that mouse than she does of her kittens," said Orozco. "She keeps the mouse spotless, always nuzzling and licking it."

"What a cat," Orozco said. "Know why we got her: To keep mice out of the storeroom — and just look at her."

Nixon in Role of Peacemaker?

To Breach GOP Split Due to Opposition to 'Modernization'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon reportedly is ready to try the role of peacemaker between GOP factions warring over "Modern Republicanism."

Nixon and some others close to President Eisenhower are said to be deeply disturbed by the acid reaction of some Republicans in Congress to Eisenhower's attempts to "modernize" the party.

The vice president is said to feel that most of the dissent to the President's program stems from the use of slogans which seem to depict those who don't agree with Eisenhower on all issues as devotees of the horse and buggy days.

Nixon is committed to support Eisenhower's efforts to "make the Republican party responsive to the modern-day needs and aspirations of all people."

But as a practicing politician with an eye on the 1960 GOP presidential nomination, he thinks this can be accomplished without goading the party's conservatives into open rebellion.

It apparently is the vice president's view that even the most conservative Republican is ready to accept as a fact that Social Security, health services and other things they were calling "socialistic" 20 years ago have come to stay.

With this in mind, Nixon puts his public support of Eisenhower's philosophy of change into words that don't lend themselves to slogan-making.

HE'S TOPS AT HOME — Although Carl Reiner plays "second banana" to comedian Sid Caesar on NBC television, he's the No. 1 funnyman so far as his children, Robby, 10, and Sylvia, 8, are concerned. Caesar's Hour is telecast Saturdays at 8 p. m.

Comedy Work Getting Scarce

Sid's 'Second Banana' Considers Returning to Straight Acting

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — Carl Reiner's plight symbolizes television today. He is one of the admitted great "second bananas," with an Emmy on his mantlepiece to prove it. But he doesn't know where he'll be working next year.

Sid Caesar, the star Reiner supports so beautifully, is out as a regular at NBC. Jackie Gleason is through at CBS.

George Gobel will be alternating with Eddie Fisher. Bob Hope and Jerry Lewis are on only aporadically. There will be very little comedy on next year's TV schedule.

For a comedian—even a supporting comedian like Reiner—this poses a bit of a problem. In an age of quiz shows and Westerns, what can a comedian do?

• Fortunately for Reiner, he is an actor first, a comedian only because he enjoys it more. He can always act. And wait for the pendulum to swing back the other way.

PREDICTS COMEBACK

"Just wait and see," he says. "In two, three years, some comedian will come back and be a big hit. And then there'll be a comedy trend, like the Western trend today."

He's like to stick with Caesar, a man he admires tremendously. Sid's been offered a once-a-month show with NBC—"but he's the kind of guy who likes to be working all the time." If it doesn't go through, Carl has some warm irons in the fire.

There's the possibility of a show of his own, but he's yet to find a script that satisfies him. There are acting jobs he could undoubtedly get. And, if worst comes to worst, he could go back in the nightclub circuit.

Meanwhile, back in the suburbs, Carl isn't worried. He leads the comfortable life of a commuter, a performer among businessmen. He lives in a middle-class suburb, surrounded by lawyers, textile man, engineers and a sprinkling of badly-needed pediatricians.

DOTES ON CHILDREN

His two children — Robby, 10, and Sylvia, 8—are quite obviously the dual centers of his solar system. Robby is naturally a shy and retiring boy, and he's flourishing in the warmth of suburbia.

Carl takes most things seriously, even his comedy. He'll tell you that comedy on TV lost out to the trivia "because people have to think to watch comedy—the other stuff requires no effort at all." And he discusses satire, his forte, with learned intentness.

Now 35 and slightly balding, Carl Reiner has always been on the serious side—although he can turn on his wit and sparkle at a moment's notice. A native New Yorker, he started out to be an actor and even served some time with a touring Shakespearean company. Then came World War II and Carl was a radio and teletype operator.

"I couldn't do Shakespeare by myself for the boys," he said, "so I made up some monologues."

They were funny enough to earn him a transfer to a special service outfit, and he toured much of the Pacific with this unit. After the war, he decided comedy was his business and transferred his monologues to nightclubs.

They were successful, but he hated playing the clubs. So he switched to Broadway, appearing in three successful revues before TV discovered him.

Commercial TV Standing Still, Says Educator

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Commercial television is just standing still when it could be developing and experimenting, says the University of Michigan's television director.

The recent tendency of the TV industry is to rely on the same old formula, Prof. Garnet R. Garrison said in a talk on "Television in the Modern World."

Garrison urged educational TV broadcasters to step into the breach and "forge ahead in the development of new creative talents and program form experimentation.

"Unfortunately, too many professional educators and administrators are frightened by the explosive-like powers of this medium and have buried their heads in the sands of academic inertia," he said.

"They have apparently adopted the motto, 'buy no TV, see no TV, use no TV,' and hope that TV will dissipate itself in soapsuds of spectaculars."

Garrison said colleges and universities can take decisive action in remedying this situation by training students and taking advantage of opportunities open to institutions for producing shows on television.

South American Tempers Flare

Honduras Set to Fight Nicaraguan 'Invaders' in Disputed Territory

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP) — Honduras says peaceful negotiation has failed and it is ready to chase 50 Nicaraguan "invaders" from an area this country considers its territory.

Well-informed quarters said Honduran troops already had begun driving out the small Nicaraguan force that moved into the newly created frontier Honduras province of Gracias a Dios last week. But there was no confirmation.

A long-simmering border dispute between the two Central American countries appeared headed for a showdown as Honduran radio stations instructed Honduran civilians to await further orders to "defend themselves against aggression."

Last night's broadcasts also ordered all Honduran military personnel to report to their barracks.

Nicaragua has rejected Honduran protests about the alleged invasion. Honduras at first charged Nicaraguan national guardsmen had entered two Honduran towns. Later Foreign Minister Jorge Fidel Duron complained only about an incident at Mocoron, an Indian village of 1,000 population about 20 miles inside what Honduras considers the border. He said the Nicaraguan troops have occupied a school, looted shops, stolen livestock and gotten drunk.

Manville Won't Marry on Steve Allen's Show

NEW YORK — It's probably because it's spring that such strange things are happening.

Tommy Manville offered to marry Follies Girl Pat Gaston on Steve Allen's TV show, with a closeup of him putting the ring on her finger. "I'd like to test my Trendex," explained Tommy. Steve's answer: "I'm afraid we can't use him."

That's just a sample. In addition:

Mike Todd phoned his office from the Queen Elizabeth to ask anybody going to the Cannes Film Festival to bring some peanut brittle and comic books for Elizabeth Taylor. Mike complained that because of her fame it was embarrassing when people called him "Mr. Taylor." She replied, "And how do you think I feel being called Mrs. Mike Todd!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

VALERIE ALLEN

Ex-boxer Billy Graham won 25 Grand on George DeWitt's "Name That Tune" TVer—and found a tax man in his dressing room to take it all . . . Joe E. Lewis turned down a 39-week TV contract, explaining, "I belong in a saloon, not a living room . . . The much-praised "Red Light Ballet" was cut from the musical, "New Girl in Town" — too suggestive . . . Paramount's grooming Valerie Allen for the Ava Gardner-type roles.

Gasoline Blaze on Mississippi Frightens Town

In 10 to 15 minutes the flames backtracked half a mile upriver along the gasoline trail and set fire to a barge at a pumping station five miles above Cape Girardeau.

The burning barge broke loose and floated down the river, belching flame and smoke.

Hundreds of Cape Girardeau's 25,000 residents flocked to the river-front, speculating uneasily about what might happen if the barge nosed in among the boats and docks there.

An oil company spokesman said a hose line leading to the barge had ruptured, spilling thousands of gallons of gasoline into the river. He said someone in a motorboat downstream probably flipped a cigarette into the water, not knowing it was loaded with gasoline.

Bridegroom Slain in Detroit Knifing

DETROIT (AP) — Three brothers were held today for investigation in the fatal slashing of a 25-year-old bridegroom at his wedding celebration Saturday night at a Detroit bar.

Within three hours of his wedding, Eddy McFarland of Chicago was dead. His 21-year-old bride, Barbara, of Ecorse, witnessed his slaying.

Police detective Kenneth Perry said the knifing occurred in a fight which resulted when a bar patron complained that a member of the wedding party had stepped on his newly shined shoes.

Perry said those held were David Cameron, 23; Louis, 29, and Jack Cameron, 21, all of Detroit.

Britons Want Robeson

LONDON (AP)—The British Actors Equity Assn. adopted a resolution yesterday urging the U. S. State Department to let singer Paul Robeson fill engagements in Britain. The State Department has canceled Robeson's passport because of his close association with Communist causes at home and abroad.

Police Checking Hoodlum Killing

Body of Indiana Thug Found in Trunk of Car North of New Buffalo

NEW BUFFALO (INS) — Michigan State Police today were searching for clues in the murder of a 57-year-old Gary, Ind., hoodlum.

Gilde Caprio's body was discovered Saturday night locked in the trunk of his car, parked on U.S. 12, 13 miles north of New Buffalo.

State police said he was "beaten from head to foot" and apparently had been strangled.

An autopsy performed in Memorial Hospital in St. Joseph, did not disclose the cause of death. The victim's vital organs were sent to Lansing for a check to determine actual cause of death.

Due to the lack of blood in the car, police theorized the hoodlum was slain before his body was stuffed in the trunk. He had been dead three or four days when found.

Police found a loaded .38 caliber automatic pistol and a shotgun in the automobile. However, the body did not bear any bullet wounds.

State police said Caprio had a record of seven arrests in the Chicago-Gary area. He had been questioned several times about bombings of bookie operations in Gary.

Artillery of Red China Shells Offshore Island

TAIPEI (AP) — Chinese Communist guns on the mainland fired six shells yesterday at Matsu, chief island of the offshore Matsu group, the Nationalist Defense Ministry reported.

It said the shelling, first in which Matsu Island itself was attacked since 1955, caused neither damage nor casualties. The ministry indicated the Nationalists did not reply.

Murders Down in Michigan

Manslaughter, Rape Also Drop; FBI Reports Trend Up Nationally

Nationally, the agency said, murders and wilful manslaughter increased 5.8 per cent. But in 110 Michigan cities, the FBI said police records show this:

There were 183 cases of deliberate manslaughter and murder in 1955, but 154 of these in 1956. That is a reduction of about 20 per cent.

The report also shows reductions in two other crime categories in Michigan: Manslaughter by negligence was down from 106 to 94, and rape fell from 943 to 820.

But in every other crime classification for Michigan the trend was up. Here are the figures:

Robbery from 3,595 to 4,134; aggravated assault from 5,335 to 5,474; burglary — breaking and entering from 16,825 to 18,656; larceny—theft from 58,211 to 67,602; auto theft from 10,648 to 10,787.

Just why the number of murders dropped in Michigan last year is explained largely by the material turned in by the Detroit police. According to their records, there were 140 murders and non-negligent manslaughter cases in Detroit in 1955 and 105 in 1956.

Here are some other Michigan cities showing declines in murders: Flint from 11 to 4; Grand Rapids from 1 to none; Lansing from 2 to none.

On the other hand, Kalamazoo reported a rise from none to 1 murder, as did Bay City.

Reds Aid Cambodia

HONG KONG (AP) — The first shipment of Red China aid to Cambodia, including 1,287 tons of cement and 11 tons of raw silk, is on the way. Peiping radio said other shipments will consist of 2,000 tons of cement, 800 tons of rolled steel, 9 million yards of cotton cloth, 200 bales of cotton yarn and 7 tons of raw silk.

Inchon to Be Statue Site

CROWN OF GLORY

WEDNESDAY, MAY 1

HE HAS GIVEN HIS LIFE FOR PEACE IN A WORLD TORN BY WAR. In warm detail CROWN OF GLORY brings to life the illustrious story of Pope Pius XII—from his childhood desire to be a priest through his growth into a great spiritual leader and statesman — including an objective account of his recent vision.

THIS IS A PORTRAIT OF A LEADER IN THE FIGHT AGAINST NAZISM AND COMMUNISM as well as a portrait of an individual. CROWN OF GLORY tells of the early life of Eugenio Pacelli, of the Papal election which made him Supreme Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church and of his career which has seen him become a symbol for all faiths.

CROWN OF GLORY IS WRITTEN BY ALDEN HATCH, FAMED PROTESTANT BIOGRAPHER of the Eisenhowers and Clare Luce, and Seamus Walsh, a Catholic teacher close to the Vatican. This is a sympathetic, but objective, biography which took years to write.
