Top Two GM Execs See Booming 1965 for Automobile Sales

DETROIT (AP)—Two top General Motors executives say it's likely the current auto sales boom will continue in 1965.

"The 1965 model year opens . . . with a number of indications of continued good business for the auto industry," said GM Board Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President John F. Gordon in a joint statement yesterday.

They cited 1964 car-truck sales in excess of 9.5 million vehicles. This includes half a million imported vehicles and, all told, 8.1 million passenger cars and some 1.4 million trucks.

They pointed to 1963 sales of 7.6 million passenger cars and 1.2 million trucks, a total of 8.8 million units, for the continued growth of the industry over "three and a half years—one of the longest peacetime expansions on record."

They predicted 1965 passenger car sales at about 7.8 million units based on current growth factors.

"Nevertheless," they said, "the signs of the excesses or imbalances usually apparent at this stage of expansion are remarkably few, and presently available indicators point to a continuation of current trends.

"The record rate of automobile sales in 1964 both contributed to and reflected a high level of economic activity and continued consumer confidence."

Reuther Vows: No Extension

Opposes Intervention in Auto Negotiations

DETROIT (AP) — With a strike deadline against Chrysler Corp. only five days away, United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther says there will be no further extension of the current contract.

And Reuther also told newsmen at the close of a bargaining round last night he doesn't expect, nor does his union want any government intervention in new contract negotiations.

Three years ago, when current contracts were signed with the Big Three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—there was a last-minute extension at the request of William E. Simkin, federal mediation and conciliation chief. He has been in Detroit recently but not at any bargaining sessions.

★ ★ ★

Reuther pointed out that the UAW had extended an original Aug. 31 strike deadline to 10 a.m. next Wednesday "to give us some working time."

★ ★ ★

In extending the UAW picked Chrysler as its No. 1 target for a pattern-setting contract for the industry.

TRAVELING THIS WEEKEND? — William A. Robinson, 25, of 410 Squirrel, Pontiac Township, escaped with minor injuries last night when he went to sleep and drove his car into a guard rail on M24 at the I-75 overpass. Oakland County Deputy Donald Johnston is shown supervising removal of the wreckage. The National Safety Council predicts that between 490 and 590 persons won't survive such crashes in the next three days.

Pontiac Sets August Mark

Pontiac dealers established a new all - time sales record for the month of August, E. M. Estes, General Motors vice president and Pontiac Motor Division general manager, announced today.

★ ★ ★

In August a total of 48,282 Pontiacs and Tempests were sold, a 33 per cent increase over the 36,142 cars sold in August 1963.

During the last 10 days of August, sales totaled 13,487 units.

This compares to 12,298 for the same period a year ago, Estes said.

Tax Levies Have Eased School Growth Pains

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second installment in a three-part series outlining Pontiac School District progress and growth, financed by an 8.75-mill tax levy which voters will be asked to renew next month.)

By L. GARY THORNE

Remember Pontiac schools in 1954? They suffered from stifled growing pains. The pain was acute and embarrassingly obvious.

In 1954 overflow classes were held in basement rooms, interior rooms with no windows, gymnasiums and even borrowed facilities.

Twenty-seven classes were housed in barrack - like "shacks." The school district operated 20 of these wood-frame structures.

Generally, Pontiac schools were crowded. Classes were large. Senior high students were on staggered five-period days.

Enrollment in 1954 was reported at 16,917 pupils, which was far above the reasonable capacity of 14,887 for the district's 25 schools.

★ ★ ★

However, the 1954 conditions have dramatically improved, according to Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

MILLAGE CREDIT

Whitmer gives the credit to the extra voted 8.75 mills. Approved in 1954 by the district's voters, this millage has paced the effort to eliminate substandard facilities and keep up with growing enrollments.

The 8.75-mill levy expires

U. S. Braces for Holiday

Road Mishaps Kill 27

By United Press International

Six members of a vacationing family were killed in California, and two other traffic smashups last night and today claimed five lives each in a rash of highway accidents just before the start of the long Labor Day weekend.

Five accidents claimed a total of 27 lives across the nation.

Details on the California mishap were sketchy. The crew of a train today discovered a wrecked station wagon, which had rolled down an embankment off U. S. 99 just north of Merced, Calif.

Identification of the victims was withheld. They appeared to be two men in their 20s, a woman about 30, a girl about 16, a 5-year-old boy and a 2-year-old girl.

★ ★ ★

Three survivors, a woman and two children, were reported hospitalized in critical condition.

Five young men perished near Greenville, Tenn., today; and five teen-agers were killed in a mishap at Alford, Mass., last night. Like the Merced, Calif., mishap, they were one-car accidents.

★ ★ ★

The weekend officially begins at 6 p.m. local time today and ends at midnight Monday.

The safety council said as many as 23,000 persons will suffer disabling injuries in automobile accidents during the weekend. The council said about 430 persons would die on the highways if the period were not a holiday.

State police and law enforcement officers across the nation girded for the exodus of travelers from the cities.

Police Forces Up for Holiday

Maximum traffic enforcement on Oakland County roads during the long holiday weekend has been promised by area police agencies.

Added patrols from the sheriff's department, state police and Waterford Township police departments will be on the road during the 78-hour period beginning at 6 p.m. today and ending midnight Monday.

Pontiac State Police Post Commander John Amthor said all pass days for his men have been canceled during the period to provide extra manpower.

In addition, national guardsmen will be working with state police in the enforcement program.

Barry Calls Morality Top Issue

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater today termed low morality and lawlessness as the top presidential campaign issues.

★ ★ ★

The Republican presidential nominee spoke briefly to newsmen this morning after escorting his vice presidential running mate, Rep. William E. Miller of New York, to the airport.

Miller left at midmorning for Washington. Tomorrow, he'll launch his phase of the campaign in Lockport, N.Y.

Goldwater formally opened the campaign yesterday in a Prescott, Ariz., speech in which he discussed the morality-lawlessness issue.

Previously, the Republicans had indicated they would hit hard at what they call scandal in the Johnson administration. They have mentioned the Billy Sol Estes and Bobby Baker cases.

Today, Goldwater said "It is not a matter of cases but the whole morality situation."

After seeing Miller off, Goldwater returned to his hilltop home where he planned to spend the rest of the day relaxing with his family.

Tomorrow he'll make a round-trip to Lockport, N.Y., for the campaign kickoff of Rep. William E. Miller, his vice presidential running mate.

Miller was on hand at Prescott for the Goldwater opening.

Goldwater told a smaller-than-forecast crowd of 4,000 to 6,000 he had heard complaints that the Republican ticket is a weak one.

"Many people in the East think this is the end of things," he said.

To answer them, Goldwater read what he said were newspaper accounts of Abraham Lincoln's 1860 presidential campaign. One called Lincoln the Republicans' "weakest candidate."

Union Asks Members to Hear LBJ

AFL-CIO union members in the Pontiac area are being asked to turn out for President Johnson's speech in Detroit Monday in lieu of any local Labor Day activities.

★ ★ ★

No festivities are being planned in Pontiac, but local labor leaders are hoping for a last-minute announcement that the President and the First Lady will pay a visit to Pontiac.

There has been no official word, however, of such a visit.

The possibility that the President will extend his campaign-opening activities from Detroit to Pontiac is pure speculation, based on the fact that President Kennedy made a Labor Day visit here in 1960.

Oakland County AFL-CIO Council President Fred V. Haggard said a reception of some kind will be held for the President and Mrs. Johnson if they do come here.

Italian Reds Take Independence Line

ROME (AP) — Italy's Communist party today published a virtual declaration of independence from Moscow, written by Palmiro Togliatti a few hours before the party leader suffered a fatal stroke in the Soviet Union.

Togliatti argued against Moscow's proposal for an international Communist summit meeting on the Kremlin-Peking dispute.

"Every Communist party must know how to act in an autonomous manner," he declared.

Togliatti said the world Communist movement must maintain unity, but it should be a unity "achieved in the diversity of our concrete political positions, conforming to the situation and degree of development in each country."

His views were in a memorandum published by the Italian party, the largest in any non-Communist European country.

★ ★ ★

Luigi Longo, Togliatti's successor as party leader, said directors of the party had adopted the memorandum as party policy.

In a preface to the memorandum, Longo said Togliatti concluded writing it "a few hours before he was struck down by a fatal illness." Togliatti suffered a stroke on a vacation in Yalta Aug. 13. He died eight days later.

Longo said the memorandum was being published "as a precise expression of the position of the party on the problems of the international workers and Communist movement and its unity."

Communist sources previously had said the memo was written for presentation to Premier Khrushchev and was shown to Leonid Brezhnev last week.

Brezhnev, former president of the Soviet Union, urged that it be kept secret, informants reported.

MAXIMUM PUBLICITY

But Italy's Communist party made sure it would have maximum publicity, issuing translations in French, English and German.

Togliatti maintained his strong opposition to the Chinese Communists, calling Peking's views "erroneous and ruinous."

But he said he was worried by a "manifestation among the Socialist countries of a centrifugal tendency."

Livonia 'MD' Said a Fraud

Practiced Four Years; No License Found

DETROIT (AP) — Authorities were checking today into the background of a man who they said earned some $85,000 while posing as a physician for four years.

Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley yesterday termed the case "one of the most fantastic stories of deception in the state's medical history."

Kelley said the man, 29-year-old Thomas M. Novak of suburban Livonia, had no medical degree.

"Apparently he picked up all his medical knowledge by visiting different medical schools," Kelley said.

The attorney general said Novak was tripped up after he recently applied as a physician for an insurance policy. No record of Novak's doctor's certificate was found, Kelley said.

HIS ACCOUNT

Kelley gave this account of the case:

Novak, a 1953 graduate of Detroit's Chadsey High School, "faked" attendance at schools of medicine, including the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Wayne State University in Detroit, and John Hopkins Medical School, Baltimore.

"He would buy a lot of books but would not actually attend most of the classes," Kelley said. "He picked up a lot of knowledge by simply putting on a white coat and walking into a hospital to observe the operations."

The state's chief legal official said Novak prescribed drugs for patients after picking his registration number of narcotics prescriptions "out of thin air."

Endorsement Seen as Coup for President

Henry Ford II Heads List of Industrialists, Ex-Cabinet Members

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, scoring a major political coup, has won a public endorsement from 45 top businessmen, most of them long-time supporters of the Republican party.

Meeting with Johnson at the White House last night, 26 representatives of the group organized a "National Independent Committee" to support the campaign of Johnson and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, his vice presidential running mate.

Among the initial sponsors of the committee were such nationally known executives as industrialists Henry Ford II and Edgar F. Kaiser, retailer Ralph Lazarus, and financiers Thomas S. Lamont, Robert Lehman and Sidney J. Weinberg.

The list of organizers also included two men who served in the Cabinet of Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower — Robert B. Anderson, who was secretary of the Treasury, and Marion B. Folsom, who was secretary of health, education and welfare.

Acting as counsel for the committee at the White House meeting was Maxwell Rabb, who was secretary to the Cabinet under Eisenhower.

The committee said in a press release that it would "attempt to acquaint the general public with the confidence that prominent national leaders in all walks of life have in President Johnson and will urge that he be given four years of opportunity to serve all the people."

Johnson surely found no fault with that sentiment, and addressing the group in the Cabinet room, said: "I commend all of you not only on the choice you have made for your country — but on your courage in now assuming the responsibility of your convictions."

John T. Connor, cochairman of the committee and president of Merck & Co., told newsmen that about 75 per cent of the business and financial leaders joining in the endorsement of Johnson were registered Republicans or had generally supported GOP candidates in presidential elections.

Connor described himself as an independent Democrat.

Area executives backing President Johnson are Ray R. Eppert, president of Burroughs Corp., and William T. Gossett, former Ford Motor Co. general counsel. Both men live in Bloomfield Hills.

ON HIS WAY OUT — The attacker of a witness at a House Committee hearing is carried forcefully from the room by law officers. The man, identified as Lon Dunaway, attacked a man testifying before the Committee on Un-American Activities about a recent trip to Cuba taken by a group of American students.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The leader of a summer trip to Cuba by U.S. students freely admitted to the House Committee on Un-American Activities today that he was a member of a Communist organization.

The witness, Edward Lemansky, 21, of New York told the committee he was a member of the Progressive Labor Movement, which he then described as a Communist organization.

When Rep. August F. Johansen, R-Mich., asked if he was a member of the Communist party, USA, there was a spray of quiet laughter from Lemansky's friends in the audience. Lemansky waited and said, "No."

The committee, in its annual report, describes the Progressive Labor Movement as an offshoot of the Communist party, and says it prefers the party line of the Chinese Communists to that of the Soviet Union.

Committee counsel Alfred M. Nittle then asked Lemansky if he had ever been a member of the Communist party, and he replied, "No."

Summer to Stay Over Weekend, but Rain Monday

Summer will stay with us over the weekend with sunny days and temperatures in the mid-70s, that is, until Monday when showers are forecast.

Showers or thundershowers are predicted for this evening. Skies will clear and temperatures will become cooler late tonight, the low 52 to 60.

The mercury rose from a low of 70 at 6 a.m. to 87 at 2 p.m.

Schools Keeping Up With Enrollment Growth

this year. A proposal to renew the millage for another decade will go before voters Oct. 2 at a special school election.

In 1964, the "shacks" are gone; all pupils are in full day session. Senior high pupils have a six-hour day. Class sizes have been reduced and an expanded special education program is properly housed.

The district now has 36 schools with sufficient capacity to house adequately the 22,200 pupils enrolled. Additions have been built to 12 schools.

KEPT PLEDGE

In addition, school officials have kept a pledge made in 1954 to add multipurpose rooms to each elementary school that lacked gym and auditorium facilities, Whitmer said.

"And this 10-year construction program has been accomplished on a pay-as-you-go policy," he added.

The superintendent said that $15,564,000 has been "paid in full" of the $20,384,000 construction debt.

★ ★ ★

New facilities, however, have not been the school district's only benefit from the 8.75 mills during the past decade.

Whitmer points to a rehabilitation program that has helped keep older schools up to modern standards.

All classrooms, for example, have been relighted with fluorescent fixtures. Concrete and steel stairwells have replaced wood stairwells and a program to acoustically treat all classrooms is under way.

Of course, he explains, painting and decorating has been carried on on a regular scheduled basis.

★ ★ ★

Extensive rehabilitation has been necessary to update educational facilities. For example, during the past 10 years 18 science rooms in secondary schools have been rehabilitated.

ADDITIONS

Also, four language laboratories have been installed, five science rooms have been provided in elementary schools and all elementary schools have a science center.

Rehabilitation has been, and is, a continuing job.

★ ★ ★

However, classrooms are but one aspect of Pontiac schools that have been "rehabilitated" through the 8.75-mill tax levy.

War Threat, New Riots Force Action

Malaysia Declares State of Emergency

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysia entered a state of emergency today to meet a threat of war with Indonesia and to combat new race riots in Singapore. Allied British and New Zealand units moved into battle positions.

The Malaysian government moves were matched in Jakarta by orders from President Sukarno to his Indonesian forces to "deploy their strength" throughout Indonesia to meet any possible attack.

★ ★ ★

It was the first time that British and New Zealand battalions headed into action against Indonesian guerrillas on the mainland of Malaysia. British units have fought Indonesian guerrillas in Malaysia's Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah, however.

A government spokesman said the British and New Zealand troops are being used to free two Malaysian battalions for duty in riot-torn Singapore.

GURKHA RIFLES

A battalion of British Gurkha Rifles was replacing Malaysian forces in the Labis area to battle about 30 Indonesian paratroopers who were reported to have landed Wednesday.

The Labis area marks a railroad junction 60 miles north of Pontian, in southwestern Johore State. It is 105 miles southeast of Kuala Lumpur.

★ ★ ★

Pontian was the scene of an Indonesian seaborne invasion Aug. 17.

A battalion of the New Zealand infantry, already stationed in the southwestern coastal area of Malaya, moved into the Pontian area.

INDONESIA TOLL

Since the parachute strike at Labis, four Indonesians have been killed and at least six captured, a government statement said. A Chinese woman parachutist was reported among those killed. The Malaysian government reported two of its men killed.

★ ★ ★

Operations to clean up the Pontian area are continuing. The government said at least 14 Indonesians have been killed and about 50 captured out of a band originally estimated at 100 men.

★ ★ ★

The government spokesman said the Singapore administration had requested help from Malaysian federal troops because of renewed racial clashes between Malays and Chinese. Indonesian agents were blamed for the outbreak.

Chances Slim for Medicare

Bill Faces Obstacles Despite Senate Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The odds appeared today to be against enactment of a Social Security health-care plan this year despite the 60-28 Senate passage of a bill which would set up such a system.

★ ★ ★

The health-care provisions were written into the bill by a 49-44 vote Wednesday.

The House had included no such plan in the bill it passed. A Senate-House conference committee will prepare the final version.

The Senate named conferees who had voted 5-2 against the health benefits for the aged, although they would normally support the Senate plan in conference.

The House delegation is expected to be headed by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., longtime foe of a Social Security-financed health program. He is likely to have a majority on the group who will side with him.

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless, Democratic leaders in both branches of Congress said they were determined to push as hard as possible for inclusion of some form of health benefits in the final version of the bill.

FULL RESOURCES

They indicated they expect the full resources of President Johnson and his administration to be thrown into the battle.

Viet Rule Gets More Confused

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh announced today he has received and accepted the resignations of all Cabinet ministers and secretaries of state who are army officers, including his own. But he said all will stay on for the time being.

In other words, the rule of South Viet Nam is as confused as at any point in its history.

For the time being, Khanh said, the three-general triumvirate which was organized last week will continue to run the show under a new name — Steering Committee.

★ ★ ★

Asked about the announcement by government spokesmen earlier in the day that one of the triumvirate members, Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Khiem, had resigned, Khanh said: "Gen. Khiem is still a member of the three-man Steering Committee, but he has resigned from his government post."

Khiem was defense minister and chief of the armed forces under Khanh. Presumably he will continue to occupy these posts for the time being along with all other ministers, but Khanh would not elaborate. He is the only Roman Catholic on the renamed triumvirate. The others are Buddhists.

WAS QUOTED

Khiem had been quoted as saying he had "had enough of the Buddhists running the country." The Buddhists had called for him and some other top Vietnamese army officers to get out of the government.

Khanh said he himself will lead the nation for the next two critical months, but is prepared to step down and go back to the armed forces once democracy is established. He said he will create ministerial councils to set up a new government and to insure religious unity.

★ ★ ★

Khanh said he officially resumed his duties as premier as of today. In fact he took over the national helm Thursday after returning from five days of "temporary retirement" in the mountain retreat of Dalat, 140 miles northeast of Saigon. He was looking tanned and healthy.

"Upon the request of the general officers commanding the various branches and the big units of the armed forces, of the religious and political groups and many notables, although I have not yet quite recovered from my illness, I do my best to return today to assume the responsibility of leading the government and dealing with the affairs of the country in these difficult and critical times," he said.

Waterford Revamps Fees for School Facility Use

A policy that virtually removes fees for the use of school facilities was adopted last night by the Waterford Township Board of Education.

The policy paves the way for implementation of the school system's community school program which is based on extensive use of school facilities by all members of the community.

Patterned after the community school program in Flint, the Waterford program is being aided by a $50,000 matching fund grant from the Mott Foundation.

The new policy on fees waives any charge for school use for most groups and specifies nominal charges for others.

★ ★ ★

It also bans use of school properties for meetings of secret societies or for activities where there is gambling, alcoholic beverages or "obscenities."

CHARGES WAIVED

All charges are waived for school sponsored organizations, adult education activities, school-connected groups, private groups of a traditional character-building, yet nonreligious, nature and groups dedicated to civic improvement.

In addition, there won't be any charges for classroom use by municipal agencies and private organizations dedicated to community service of a religious nature. Charges will, however, be levied for the regular meetings of a municipal agency.

A fee of $2 per hour will be levied for gymnasium use by the above two groups.

★ ★ ★

Previously this fee ranged from $6 to $12.50 hourly. Classroom fees had been $2 to $2.50.

PRIVATE GROUPS

Formerly established fees will prevail for use of facilities by private groups for such activities as dances and recitals and use by approved out-of-district organizations.

In other business last night, the board approved final plans for the remodeling of the annex building to Waterford Township High School.

Bid opening on the project is slated for Oct. 1.

★ ★ ★

Also last night, the board voted to resume holding regular meetings at various elementary schools rather than in the administration building.

COMMUNITY INTEREST

This practice was launched last winter at the suggestion of Trustee Donald Porter in an effort to generate more community interest in school business.

★ ★ ★

The board authorized members of the Drayton Woods Womens' Club to install a tennis court on the Cooley School site at the club's cost, subject to approval of construction plans by administrators.

It will be cooler from the northern and central Plains to the upper Great Lakes and warmer from the southern Rockies to the Pacific Northwest, over parts of the north and mid Atlantic Coast states and the lower Great Lakes and upper Ohio Valley.

M59 to Open for Traffic

The widening and resurfacing of M59 between Elizabeth Lake and Airport roads will not be completed by Labor Day, as the contractor had tentatively planned, but it will be open to all traffic over the weekend, State Highway Department officials said.

An asphalt base coat has been applied throughout the length of the 3.4-mile project and the finish coat between Pontiac Lake and Airport roads is scheduled for completion by tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Widening of the road from two to five lanes, which has been under way since the first of the year, is expected to be completed within two to three weeks, nearly nine months ahead of the contract schedule.

Protests Could Mar Tokyo Olympics

By ALBERT E. KAFF
United Press International

TOKYO (UPI) — There could be big trouble in Japan next month when the 18th Olympic Games are held in Tokyo.

The thousands of foreign athletes and fans who attend the first Olympiad ever held in Asia may find themselves in the midst of antigovernment demonstrations.

The potential trouble rests in an agreement concluded last week between the United States and Japan's Conservative government.

After deliberating for nearly two years, Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda's cabinet accepted a U.S. request to allow 7th Fleet nuclear-powered submarines to visit Japanese ports.

★ ★ ★

The United States has no disclosed when the first nuclear subs will glide into the shores of the Land of the Rising Sun for crew shore leave.

LABOR UNIONS

But powerful Japanese labor unions, heavily salted with left-wing ideas, expect the first nuclear submarines in October, the month of the Olympic Games.

Greetings are ready. Socialists, unions and sympathizers plan mass demonstrations around U. S. naval bases, maintained in Japanese ports under the Washington-Tokyo security arrangement.

The protesting groups are thinking about sending fleets of small wooden boats out to the mount of harbors in an attempt to block passage of the first American nuclear sub which points its prow toward Mount Fuji.

★ ★ ★

A large segment of Japan's population reacts pathologically and politically to nuclear war machines.

ATOMIC DEVICES

For good reasons, the Japanese sincerely fear atomic devices even if they are guaranteed safe.

The Japanese are the only people who have seen atomic bombs explode in anger, Hiroshima with 78,150 dead and Nagasaki with 73,884 dead.

As if that were not enough, Japanese fishermen of the tuna boat "The Lucky Dragon" were dusted by atomic test fallout from Bikini Atoll in the Pacific 10 years ago.

★ ★ ★

One fisherman died, the world's first person killed by radioactive ash.

This historic background of atomic baptism provides fertile emotional ground for political maneuvers by left - wing elements who want to oust the conservative government and close U.S. military bases, housing some 46,000 Americans.

Ballot Issue OK'd for Vote

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Canvassers, after two days of heated words and partisan arguments, has certified the Massachusetts ballot referendum for the November general election ballot.

★ ★ ★

The action came Thursday as the board rejected Republican arguments that a thorough search for invalid petition signatures was warranted.

★ ★ ★

The Massachusetts ballot requires an individual to cast his votes on an office-by-office basis. The party ticket ballot now used in Michigan — and still to be used in the November election — allows the voter to pull one lever or make a single mark to vote for all the candidates of one political party.

★ ★ ★

The Massachusetts Ballot Act was passed by the 1964 legislature but Democrats immediately launched a campaign to bring the question to a public vote. They collected 330,000 referendum petition signatures despite needing only 139,000.

SPOT CHECK

When the board of canvassers met Wednesday for routine approval of the petitions, Republican leaders demanded at least a spot check of petitions.

★ ★ ★

State Elections Director Robert Mentgomery reported Thursday to the board that a spot check of signatures against voter registration records in several major cities indicated about 85 per cent of the signatures were valid.

Prospects for Agreement Seen as Slight

K Likely to Hit on 'Two Germanys' Issue, Trade in Bonn Visit

By HENRY S. BRADSHER

MOSCOW (AP) — During his forthcoming trip to West Germany, Premier Khrushchev is expected to make strong pitches on two fronts.

The first is political and would involve promoting the Kremlin's long cherished plan for a World War II peace treaty that would formalize the division of Germany.

* * *

The West German government would not agree to any such treaty, but Khrushchev may attempt to make his proposals more tempting by moving over to the economic front and offering lucrative trade deals.

The West German economy depends heavily on exports, and trade deals with the vast, underdeveloped Soviet Union always have tempted Ruhr industrialists.

PROSPECT SLIGHT

But diplomatic observers in Bonn Thursday night were saying the prospect of any major agreement with Khrushchev is very slight.

They did not voice some apprehension that Khrushchev might try to play West Germany off against France on the question of trade with the Soviet Union. France, in order to get Soviet orders for expensive chemical factories, is reportedly ready to grant the Soviets long term credits.

* * *

The Western allies have had a long-standing policy of keeping such credits down to five-year terms or less, but the French are reportedly ready to increase the length of credit.

West Germany, on the other hand, remains under closer American control and its trade negotiators would be under strong pressure not to grant long-term credits.

FURTHER COOLING

Diplomatic observers in Bonn also noted that Khrushchev's visit was announced at a time of a further cooling in French-West German relations. President Charles de Gaulle's World War II anniversary message to Khrushchev earlier this week caused some uneasiness among officials of the West German government.

* * *

To them, the tone of the de Gaulle message seemed unusually cordial. Some West German officials fear de Gaulle might further modify his support of the allied position on the Berlin question and the German problem in general.

* * *

As for the visit's effect on Soviet-West German relations, diplomatic observers in Moscow felt Khrushchev had in mind something more than just a vague hope for improvement of relations.

It was noted that during his current visit to Czechoslovakia, Khrushchev had unexpected conferences with the foreign ministers of Poland, Hungary and Bulgaria. This led to immediate speculation that he might be consulting them about some possible switch in the Kremlin's policy toward Germany.

* * *

Details for the visit must still be arranged. It is expected that the visit will come after the U.S. presidential election Nov. 3.

Clever Crooks Make Capers Profitable

British Crime Boom Breaks the Bloomin' Records

LONDON (AP) — Britain is experiencing a crime boom. The cleverest lawbreakers this country has ever known are reversing an old axiom to prove that crime does pay.

Last year's highlight was the $7-million great train robbery in Buckinghamshire, the biggest cash crime in history, carried off with breath-taking precision.

This year may be known as the big escape year. Hardly a day passes but escapes are reported.

No. 1 escapee was Charles Frederick Wilson, one of the train robbers who had hardly settled in the maximum security cell where he was sentenced to spend 30 years in solitary. His bloodless delivery by a slick gang was so notorious that newspapers began referring to Harold Wilson, chief of the Labor party, as "the other" less-known Wilson.

The great train robbery and the Wilson escape opened Britons' eyes to the fact that this country's criminals through the years have been outracing the law.

3-1 FOR CROOK

It is estimated that the chances of a holdup man in London will be caught and convicted today is 3-1 in the criminal's favor. For house burglars the rate is 6-1 and for auto thieves as high as 10-1.

A Cambridge University professor of criminology estimates that not more than 15 per cent of crime committed in Britain is brought into the open for punishment.

Even when a criminal is caught his chances of escaping justice "never fall below 50 per cent," according to a Cambridge Institute study.

Before World War II the conviction rate in Britain was always over 50 per cent, the study noted.

It is estimated more than $76 million worth of property will be stolen or obtained by fraud this year.

BETTER ORGANIZED

At the higher end of the scale crime is better organized.

"The meticulously planned, carefully executed robbery has been an increasing feature ever since the end of the war," an expert noted.

British criminologists and the newspapers have been noting with interest that United States police are using computers to fight crime gangs—to trap them with machine data that forecasts thrusts in advance.

* * *

This may not work in Britain because there are few permanent criminal gangs here. British crime rings, a study reported, generally are composed of individual criminals brought together for a specific job and disbanded afterward. They recruit the extra men needed.

The gangs organized to do the big jobs — such as London West End jewel shop breaks — get the best tools. They have tackled safes with thermal lances capable of 5,500-degree heat thrust. Police experts say that gangs will lay out $10,000 for equipment to stage some jobs.

"There will be money to carry the individual criminals over the planning and watching period," one report said. "There may be an immediate payment of expenses for an expert brought from another part of the country, money to provide a safe hiding place for stolen get-away vehicles until the robbery, and perhaps bribes to be given. Money also for 'insurance' for their families in case some gang members are caught."

* * *

Where are the police in this race with crime? Hopelessly behind, many critics claim. Scandals in their ranks have shaken morale and public confidence. The police claim they are not supplied the necessary manpower or equipment.

* * *

The weekly Spectator, in a recent lead article, argued:

"When criminals can concentrate the resources of skill, organization and finance shown in successful robbery after robbery, the unfortunate thinness of the police's equivalent assets are laid embarrassingly bare."

NO COMPUTER

The Munich-like state of our police defenses — unable alike to retaliate or to deter — is demonstrated by the fact that Scotland Yard has yet to be given its first computer, which could sift in 20 minutes the number of fingerprints which at present laboriously occupy 10 men for six weeks."

5 Teen-Agers Die; Car Snaps in Half

ALFORD, Mass. (UPI)—Five teen-agers were killed and another was injured critically late last night when their car flipped over, broke in half and was hurled against a pole and a tree.

State police identified the dead as:

—William Seward, 17, of Great Barrington.

—Carol Hendrick, 16, of Monterey.

—William Sigsworth of Great Barrington.

—Ronald Decker, 17, of Great Barrington.

—Timothy Donovan of Great Barrington.

In critical condition at Fairview Hospital in Great Barrington was Marlene Hendrick, 18-year-old sister of the dead Hendrick girl. Marlene suffered internal and back injuries.

Death Not on Vacation Over Holiday Weekend

If this is a "normal" year, 35 Michigan residents will die in gruesome highway accidents during the long Labor Day weekend, unless there are sudden, drastic changes in driver attitudes and habits.

Nationally, 560 persons will not return home alive from their weekend vacations. All signs point to one of the worst highway slaughters of the year. It points up again that, although the automobile is one of America's greatest industrial achievements under free enterprise, it is also the Number One instrumental cause of accidental death and injury.

How can you avoid becoming a statistic? How can you help check the soaring death toll? Here's how:

- Safety check your car before leaving home.
- Fasten your seat belts. Their use reduces traffic accident injuries and fatalities by more than one-third.
- Be "adjustable." Adjust your driving to road, traffic, weather.

★ ★ ★

Make courtesy your code of the road — "think ahead." Think toward what may happen — the other person may not.

In short, DRIVE AS THOUGH YOUR LIFE DEPENDED ON IT.

WILL those who insist if it wasn't for the deplorable environmental conditions of slums, youths wouldn't riot, please explain why many college students the world over, whose homes and environment are excellent, engage in rioting?

25 Years Ago Hitler Triggered WW II

It was just twenty-five years ago this week that German armies poured across the Polish frontier, facing the world with its second great war in a generation.

Hitler's attack on Poland was Europe's Pearl Harbor.

Flames from the German onslaught eventually spread to every corner of the globe, although the conflagration took 27 months to touch the United States.

★ ★ ★

History discloses no justification for the German blitzkrieg of Poland. ADOLF HITLER himself declared that he would have to find a "propagandist reason for starting the war." He admonished his generals not to care whether it was a plausible one.

"The victor," he had told them the week before, "will not be asked afterward whether he told the truth or not. In starting and waging a war it is not right that matters but victory."

Poland would not cooperate by shooting first, so a cynical plan was devised by HITLER'S S.S. brownshirts for the evening of Aug. 31. A number of them, dressed in Polish army uniforms, faked an attack on a German radio station at Gleiwitz, near the Polish border.

★ ★ ★

Drugged inmates of German concentration camps were shot and left dying to document the "Polish attack" with casualties. Later, all the S.S. men who took part in the affair at Gleiwitz were "put out of the way," as a German general tastefully put it.

Wandering about Berlin on the eve of the conflict, American correspondent William L. Shirer had noted in his diary: "Everybody against the war. People talking openly. How can a country go into a major war with a population so dead against it?"

The same condition holds true in some areas around the globe today.

★ ★ ★

Let's pray that another HITLER does not exist that can manipulate public opinion, or devise such a dastardly attack which would trigger another world conflict.

A PSYCHIATRIST says by the year 2000 everybody on earth will be insane. It is wondered what he thinks will slow down the current trend in that direction.

Barry's Speech Laid Foundation

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—Sen. Barry Goldwater's speech, formally opening his presidential bid, contained no surprises but was rather a kind of foundation for what he can say later in the campaign.

MARLOW

This speech yesterday was a roundup of positions he had stated before. For this reason, because it touched so many bases, it was short on details. If he doesn't go into details later, the Democrats will probably challenge him to.

Goldwater has been accused of shooting from the hip and once admitted this may be so. Yesterday he bore down hard on his peaceful intentions, called the Republicans the "peace party," and made peace a steady theme in his talk.

Because so much he said was a repetition in one form or another of what he had said before, this speech at Prescott, Ariz., was not exactly fiery. But, in the process, he put a lot of pieces together and can work on them later.

★ ★ ★

He promised, if elected, to end the draft "as soon as possible." He said the armed forces need trained volunteers. As early as last February, he said he thought the peacetime draft could be ended.

'SHADOW OF SCANDAL'

When he said "the shadow of scandal falls, unlighted yet by answers, across the White House itself," Goldwater was following up what he himself had said weeks ago:

That the "dark shadow of scandal that hangs over the White House itself" would be one of the main issues in the campaign. So far he has not gone beyond this generalized statement. He hasn't spelled out details of any scandal.

He accused the Johnson administration of "dismantling" American defenses, a charge he has made before. It's been denied by the administration. But Goldwater continues to bang away at it.

The senator said Republicans "shall never abandon the needy and the aged—we shall never forsake the helpless. We understand their problems in our hearts.

'COMPASSIONATE ECONOMY'

"But we know that a true and lasting solution of those problems cannot be found in degrading, capricious and politically motivated handouts from the White House. It must ultimately be found in a thriving and compassionate economy principally handled by the levels of government closest to the people."

Without going into detail, he repeated indirectly another favorite theme: That the government must withdraw from a number of programs.

In his book, "The Conscience of a Conservative," Goldwater said: "I have little interest in streamlining government or making it more efficient, for I mean to reduce its size. My aim is not to pass laws but to repeal them. I do not undertake to promote welfare, for I propose to extend freedom."

There will be plenty of time in this campaign for Goldwater to explain in detail how he would carry out his promises in these various fields.

Voice of the People:

'Public Attendance Poor at Meetings of GWCC'

The Greater Waterford Community Council was organized about four years ago to inform people of Waterford Township and environs of communitywide projects and problems.

★ ★ ★

The membership and the meetings are open to the public but in spite of excellent coverage by all news media, our meetings are sparsely attended, usually less than 50 persons come regularly.

We have made many studies. One of the biggest was made two years ago on the then proposed water and sewer systems. Six or seven meetings were devoted to going over plans for construction, costs, financing — everything involved in such projects.

★ ★ ★

Following the study, the GWCC recommended that the Township Board move ahead on the projects as quickly as possible, because statistics had shown that some 40,000 people had moved to Waterford Township in the last 25 years and great numbers more were expected. Although these same people say they moved here to get away from the city, they have created the very problems by their numbers that need city representation and departments to be handled efficiently.

★ ★ ★

The program of the next meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 8, will be devoted to the township's water and sewer systems.

STEERING COMMITTEE, GWCC

David Lawrence Says:

Justice Dept. Won't Be the Same

WASHINGTON — Things will hardly be the same at the Department of Justice without Bobby Kennedy as attorney general. Some people will welcome such an observation, while others will say it with an expression of regret.

LAWRENCE

The outgoing attorney general is personally likeable, alert - minded, and as able a politician as has ever presided over the Department of Justice.

Did Kennedy, however, do a good job as attorney general? The answer depends upon whether the appraisal is made on a political or nonpolitical basis.

For, as campaign manager for his brother in 1960, Bobby Kennedy learned all about the political rewards expected by people in various sections of the country. He knew how important it was to keep a strong hold on the local politicians by listening to them and giving them, so far as possible, what they wanted. Mr. Kennedy helped to dispense patronage not only in his own department but in other departments of the government.

All this isn't anything new. The tragic fact is that Republican presidents, too, have appointed a national political figure to the office of attorney general.

★ ★ ★

The American people have never made an effective protest against this unfortunate custom in politics. Yet the attorney general is the man who recommends for appointment the judges of all the federal courts, including the Supreme Court of the United States.

POLITICAL ENVIRONMENT

Sometimes, despite their political backgrounds, these judges conscientiously perform their tasks. But often the lawyers in a community recognize the political environment which surrounds the bench and wish that the system were different.

It is possible that some of the criticism heard hereabouts of Atty. Gen. Kennedy as a practitioner of politics is unjustified.

Bobby Kennedy belongs in politics and knows his way around. He inherits the wit and resourcefulness of his grandfather, who was for many years the mayor of Boston.

★ ★ ★

The former attorney general has an astuteness and cleverness, as well as a capacity for making political decisions that have won the admiration of many of the politically minded throughout the land.

ON THE STUMP

Although it is perhaps a political disadvantage for anyone to run for the U.S. Senate in a state in which he has not resided a long time, Bobby Kennedy expects to overcome it on the stump in his effort to become senator from New York State.

He has a good chance to win because the Republicans are by no means united. Many Republicans will refrain from voting at all in the Senate contest because Sen. Kenneth Keating, the Republican nominee, has caused considerable disappointment by his reluctance to endorse Sen. Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee.

If Kennedy is victorious, he may help to build a political apparatus in Congress that could give plenty of worry to the Johnson administration and have a bearing on the selection of candidates for the presidency and vice presidency in 1968.

Bob Considine Says:

Rejoice, Summer Guests! You're Reprieved 'til '65

ALLENHURST, N.J.—A proclamation.

Whereas on the third day of September, A.D. 1964, a proclamation was issued, containing, among other things, the following, to wit:

CONSIDINE

"That on the eighth of September, next Tuesday, all persons held as weekend guests within any state or designated part of a state shall be then, thenceforward, and until next summer, free; and the executive government of the United States, including the military and naval authority thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons and will do no act or acts to repress such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they may make for their actual freedom."

Yep, you're on your own, chums, not to be impressed back into service by friends with summer places until the first warm weekend of A.D. 1965, the Year of the Lizard.

★ ★ ★

No man can deny that you've won your reprieve.

Just think, for at least nine months you won't be exposed to the host's reminiscences about how he solved that critical paper-clip bottleneck in the logistics of his Quartermaster's unit at Ft. Bragg during World War II.

NO CLUCKING

After this coming weekend, you won't have to cluck sympathetically about the hostess's hypertension until next summer, when chances are that it'll be tenser.

You can go back to your own bathroom on weekends, and not share one with the kids who bring home a lot of sand in their bathing trunks.

You can stir a civilized 4-to-1 martini again, instead of giving gasping approval of the host's 20-to-1 special, made as only he makes it, with English vermouth and French gin.

★ ★ ★

No more snag-toothed "corn I raised myself." No more of "the kind of tomatoes you can't get in town." Town wouldn't have them.

No more of the host's own special bloody Mary, one-third tomato juice, one-third vodka, one-third Tabasco.

No more home movies good old Alf and Ada took during their trip to Disneyland.

It's a free country once again for the nation's guests from coast to coast but, by Gorry, Alf and Ada will repossess them the minute that autumn, winter and spring are out of the way.

Reader Disagrees With Marlow Article

I wonder if columnist James Marlow realizes that articles like his regarding the mess in Viet Nam are contributing to the "frameless fog" in the minds of his readers?

★ ★ ★

I suggest that he review House Report No. 809 and the report of the U.N. fact-finding mission to South Viet Nam. The fog in his own mind might then clear a little.

Diem was winning the guerrilla war in his own country in his own way. This was acknowledged by almost everyone, including our Sec. McNamara before the coup. Now, Diem is dead; the war has become more and more an American war; it has become an extention of the Vietminh-French conflict with Americans in the role of the hated French colonialists.

★ ★ ★

Our investigation of the coup d'etat that took the lives of Diem and his brothers was a horrible mistake. Why not admit it?

'All Citizens Want Honest Fall Election'

There is an article titled "Let's Make This an Honest Election!" in The Reader's Digest which should cause honest indignation on the part of every citizen.

★ ★ ★

The account describes the rank cheating and crookedness evident in the 1960 presidential election. In our large cities, notably Chicago, it is reported there were rigged voting machines, misleading instructions by poll workers, and incorrect reporting of voting totals.

★ ★ ★

According to the article, in Chicago, the charges against 662 election officials were dropped. It was pointed out that the judge who dismissed the charges had: (1) certified the election officials to serve in the first place; and (2) dismissed the charges without listening to more than a fraction of the evidence.

South Viet Nam

The General Anzieger (Bonn, West Germany)

President Diem, who was killed almost exactly one year ago, kept the Communists at bay. The Catholic Diem, alleged persecutor of the Buddhists, was overthrown with the powerful aid of the Americans.

★ ★ ★

Nobody believed him (Diem) that the revolting Buddhist and student groups are saturated with the Communist spirit. For some time, the Americans, once impressed by pictures of Buddhists who burned themselves alive, have known that Diem was right. Now, after the overthrow of his weaker successor, they are mourning him even more.

★ ★ ★

It is a riddle how the war in South Viet Nam can still be won. No matter how many dollars and arms are sent there, it is impossible to help an incompetent government and a population tired of war to win against an enemy rigidly commanded and sure of victory. The political situation is as dark as the military situation. Unfortunately the optimistic slogans issued by American government officials in the election campaign do not alter this fact.

★ ★ ★

It remains a secret what Johnson will do to avoid a complete disaster in South Viet Nam, which would shake the whole western position in Asia. It is now even more doubtful than before that the dirty war in Viet Nam is turning out well for the West, more especially for America.

★ ★ ★

The balance of power in Saigon after the retirement of dictator Khanh is rather unclear. Khanh will probably hold some position. But the prospect of a cabinet representing all political shades does not give much hope of stabilization of the situation.

Those who now want to share the cake of power among themselves are in total disagreement, and they are at least as corrupt and incompetent as their predecessors.

This is 'Frugality?'

The Nashville Banner

The 'frugal' Johnson outfit is spending $2 million a day more than the Kennedy administration and $5 million more than Eisenhower's. And more spending is on the way come the next fiscal year. For instance:

—The war on poverty will take an initial expenditure of $1 billion.

—Raises for U.S. workers will add $500 million to the payroll and an act calling for increases in military pay will bring a $200 million increase.

—The mass urban transportation asks for $375 million over the next three years to get it off the ground.

—Should medicare become a reality and attached to Social Security, it would cost taxpayers another $1 billion.

★ ★ ★

Since the last Eisenhower budget—in 1961—health, labor and welfare costs are up 38 per cent; federal agencies are spending 78 per cent more; the Democrats have budgeted 30 per cent more for conservation programs; space programs expenditures are up 600 per cent and national defense spending up 12 per cent.

★ ★ ★

How much is a billion?

The Richmond News-Leader says an economist advises that if a man worked 12 hours a day, earning $1,000 an hour, it would take him 228 years to bank his first billion. It would take 1,800 years to accumulate $3 billion, the figure used to describe the Kennedy-Johnson deficit for the last fiscal year.

Picketers at Kickoff for Barry

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI) — A demonstration against Republican presidential nominee Sen. Barry Goldwater broke out yesterday at the formal opening of the Goldwater - for - President headquarters when 15 picketers marched with placards, then held a silent prayer.

Headed by James Rogers, a Negro senior at the University of Missouri, the demonstrators carried placards that read: "Americans demand equality for all citizens, cast your vote for freedom."

The other demonstrators, both Negro and white adults, were members of CORE and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Dr. William Allen, a history professor at the University of Missouri, passed out statements to newsmen. It said the demonstrators had "hopes of focusing the attention of Columbia's voters on the dangers posed to every American by the 1964 Republican ticket."

★ ★ ★

The demonstrators grouped in front of the GOP headquarters in the Daniel Boone Hotel in downtown Columbia, bowed their heads in prayer, then marched off.

Hart Points to State Aged

'Reason Medicare Is Needed in Michigan'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A comparatively large number of older people in Michigan—said to be greater in number than those in Florida—is cited by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., as a reason Medicare is important to Michigan.

Hart said at a news conference Thursday that there are some 685,000 persons 65 years of age or older living in Michigan. The total number in Michigan exceeds that total in Florida, a state often considered a haven for the aged, Hart said.

★ ★ ★

Hart said he believes Medicare will pass the House but not in the form it was approved Wednesday by the Senate. He added that he hopes the Social Security mechanism for Medicare will be adopted by a Senate-House conference committee.

Asked for his views of whether there was any "white backlash" in Michigan's Tuesday primary, Hart said he could not tell what effects any "backlash" may have had.

"Pay your money and take your choice," he said.

REAPPORTIONMENT

Concerning the Senate issue over the Supreme Court's decision on reapportionment of state legislatures, Hart said he hopes cloture—a move to cut off debate—will not be applied.

He said the application of cloture when the civil rights bill was being debated was made after extensive hearings on the bill. But there have been no committee hearings, he said, on the proposal by Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., to postpone application of the Supreme Court decision.

Campaign Kickoff

Highlights of Barry's Speech

PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP) — Here are textual highlights of Sen. Barry Goldwater's prepared speech for the formal start of his presidential campaign here yesterday:

★ ★ ★

This time in this election, we have a choice. It is between far more than political personalities, far more than political promises, far more than political programs. It is a choice of what sort of people we want to be. It is the choice of what sort of world we want to live in and want to pass on to our children.

★ ★ ★

Choose the way of the present administration and you have the way of mobs in the street, restrained only by the plea that they wait until after election time to ignite violence once again.

LACK UNDERSTANDING

This administration does not understand the nature of the threats to the peace, the nature of the enemy who threatens the peace, or the nature of the conflict which, whether we like it or not, has been imposed on the entire world.

★ ★ ★

This administration uses the outmoded and unfair military draft system for social schemes as well as military objectives. Republicans will end the draft altogether, and as soon as possible. That I promise you.

I do not intend to be a wartime president.

Today you work from January through April just to provide government with the money it spends. Until early February you are working to pay the expenses of local and state government. For twice as long thereafter you are working to pay the expenses of the federal government. Only then do you work for money that you yourself can use for what you yourself choose.

CANCEROUS GROWTH

This cancerous growth of the federal government must and shall be stopped. A Republican administration will let you use more of your money for yourself.

Much as we may wish it were otherwise, we shall only gradually be able to alter many policies of the central government. We shall be able to do so as we develop solutions permitting a smooth transition to new and better arrangements.

★ ★ ★

If the tone of America is not set by men in public service it will be set, as unfortunately it is being set too often today, by the standards of the sick joke, the slick slogan, the off-color drama, and the pornographic book.

It is on our streets that we see the final, terrible proof of a sickness which not all the social theories of a thousand social experiments has even begun to touch.

Crime grows faster than population, while those who break the law are accorded more consideration than those who try to enforce the law. Our wives, all women, feel unsafe on our streets.

Moon Landing Seen Perilous

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A scientist said today that Ranger 7's close-up lunar photographs bode ill for men who try to land on the moon.

★ ★ ★

He took sharp issue with colleagues who have taken the opposite view — that the photographs depict safe landing places for the Apollo astronauts scheduled to visit the moon before 1970.

The scientist was Dr. Thomas Gold of Cornell University who has made exhaustive radar studies of the lunar surface. Gold believes the moon's smoother areas are composed of dust, impacted and firm at considerable depth but possibly powdery and soft for a few yards from the surface down.

Ranger 7 made its close-ups on July 31. Dr. Gerard P. Kuiper of the University of Arizona, head of a panel picked by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) to interpret the pictures, has said Ranger discovered safe landing areas.

★ ★ ★

He said their consistency was like that of crunchy snow, capable of supporting a spacecraft's weight.

Study Results of Air Crash Experiment

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Test officials estimate the planned crash of a Super Constellation airliner yesterday was "80 to 95 per cent survivable."

★ ★ ★

The unmanned four-engine airliner, with 21 life - sized dummy passengers aboard, ploughed off the end of a runway at Phoenix Deer Valley Airport at about 110 miles per hour.

★ ★ ★

Obstacles knocked off the landing gear, shredded and crumbled both wings and broke the airplane's back in three places before it ground to a halt near the top of a small, 150-foot hill.

Despite the battering, the fuselage remained essentially intact. Inside, most dummies stayed in their seats.

KEPT PLACES

One infant doll was secure in its bassinette carrier, but another had been dumped out. Two patients were still snug in their experimental litters and crewmen were seated.

"Little Baby Jane" was one of those who would not have survived. The large doll — representing a three-year-old — was in one of two seats which ripped loose.

★ ★ ★

Victor Rothe, head of Aviation Safety Engineering and Research which conducted the experiment, said five to 10 seats would have been lost because of a major rupture in the fuselage about 15 feet from the nose.

The object of this test and a more spectacular one last April was to gather data and test equipment to find out how crashes can be made more survivable.

Ike Hoover, a program manager for the sponsoring Federal Aviation Agency, said that no more large crashes are planned for the near future. He said it will take some time for engineers to digest all the information already collected.

Real Issue Lost

Conventions Big Business

By HOWARD HELDENBRAND

It is true that one swallow does not make a summer nor, in this case, two national conventions a political authority.

But a close - up view of the nation's quadrennial nomination exercises cannot fail to produce some lasting impressions, if not inner wounds.

★ ★ ★

With respect to both GOP and Dem conclaves, there is the feeling that the staging of the events have overshadowed the objectives — that of nominating opposition presidential and vice presidential tickets.

The conventions have become big business. Cities boasting the required advantages and facilities for accommodating them compete for the privilege.

Business communities of both San Francisco and Atlantic City laid well over half a million dollars on the barrel head as enticement to the convention committees of the respective political parties.

Heldenbrand

In addition, large sums were spent locally readying convention halls for the accommodation of delegates, spectators and an amazingly large and varied representation of news media.

In return, the host cities want — and get — something in return.

The conventions, which could easily be run off in a couple of days' down - to -business exertion, are strung out to four days to give local contributors a chance to get a little return on their investment.

★ ★ ★

Indeed, the Republican shindig was originally set up for five days, but a belated display of common sense cut off a day. The Atlantic City hotels, incidentally, accepted reservations on the basis of a minimum stay of five days.

HOST OF NEWSMEN

There were approximately 5,000 accredited communications personnel at the Republican convention and about the same number covering the Democratic.

Some five million words of coverage were transmitted by wire from both events, to say nothing of the oral flow that filled the air waves.

And for what?

At both conventions, there was so little candidate rivalry and so few real issues that trivialities were blown up far out of perspective in order to stretch out the allotted time.

★ ★ ★

There was little doubt in San Francisco that Goldwater would be nominated and none in Atlantic City that Johnson would be. Both vice presidential choices were virtually certainties before the conventions opened.

DREARY BUSINESS

Yet despite that, the Republicans went through the dreary business of placing in nomination half a dozen favorite sons for the presidency, all of whom had four seconding speeches.

In Atlantic City, there were two "coordinate" (that's a new one) nominating addresses for Johnson, followed by SEVEN seconding speeches.

Just how silly can you get?

After one ardent politician has exhausted the stock of his tiger's good deeds, while extolling his character and solicitude for the common man, you've had it.

★ ★ ★

From then on, all other eulogistic efforts are merely a study in the semantic versatility of those appearing at the rostrum.

RIGHTS ISSUE

The civil rights hassle at San Francisco didn't rate all the hoopla that it generated and was in fact pretty much ado about nothing. Likewise, the Mississippi delegation's squabble beside the Atlantic was unjustifiably souped up into a big deal.

Those who watched the action on TV are subjected to the delivery of innumerable speeches by politicos eager for a bit of national exposure, the presentation of dull reports and resolutions and the greatest sleep-producer known to man — the reading of the party platform.

This instrument is designed, seemingly, as an umbrella under which all humanity can find protection and well-being.

★ ★ ★

It takes well over an hour to read, and the rendition is done by a relay team of half a dozen or so party bigwigs.

★ ★ ★

Because of the arrangements made and the tremendous efforts put forth to bring the political extravaganzas to the eyes and ears of all America, you'd assume that the impresarios would be audience-appeal minded and conscious of the extractions of a program intended to instruct and entertain the nation.

★ ★ ★

We thing they're far afield from accomplishing that objective, that the ceremonial tail is wagging the convention dog.

Say Sailors Are Smuggling

Soviet Paper Charges Yankee Scarf-Selling

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet newspaper yesterday claimed sailors from a U.S. ship which docked at Odessa tried to smuggle 7,000 nylon scarves into the Soviet Union.

★ ★ ★

The newspaper Komsomolskaya Pravda said the scarves were worth about 30,000 rubles ($33,000).

The incident was reported in an article which said young communist league members have formed roving patrols to stop just that sort of thing.

The newspaper said foreign sailors were not only attempting to bring in "nylon rags and shameless post cards," but also "shiny magazines" and "fairy tales about the free world."

★ ★ ★

The roving patrols, the newspaper said, take part in street corner discussions with the foreign sailors and answer their "provocative" questions about life in the Soviet Union

NO NAMES

The article did not give the name of the American ship, nor did it say whether anyone was being held in connection with the alleged smuggling activities

Car Taxes Show Hike of $4.5 Million in '64

LANSING (AP) — Sales and use tax collections on sales of new and used cars showed an increase of more than $4.5 million for the first seven months of this year over last year.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of State James Hare said the collections of $47.2 million through July 31 of this year compared with $43.1 million for the same 1963 period.

Nuclear Carrier Stops on Circuit of World

Textured Hose Tickle Fashion's Fancy

Stepping onto campuses all over the country will be knee-highs by Bonnie Doon, brightly spattered with dime-sized dots. The perfect partner to skirts or bermudas, the socks are knit in a not-too-bulky combination of orlon, dacron and nylon. The dots stand out brilliantly in contrast to the background color. One size fits 9½ to 11.

Fashion is going out on a limb this autumn. For it's lively legs — hose of any length but touched with texture, wildly patterned or vividly hued — that provide the perfect footing for the season's wardrobes.

Providing all this wherewithal for campus-bound lasses as well as their more sophisticated sisters is the bright new collection of socks and casual stockings created by Bonnie Doon to insure everyone's stepping out in chic.

★ ★ ★

High-rising and rising high in fashion's esteem are the over-the-knee textured hose that run the gamut from the heavy "country stocking" to its sheerer and lighter-weight city cousin. These are accessories to a variety of clothes life, from urban-directed tweeds to school or college sweater-dressing.

Other Bonnie Doon casual stockings take their stand on texture, with the pattern one of dimension rather than of color. As classic in their appearance as trench-coat or striped tie are the several varieties of vertical ribs, some effecting narrow stripes of one color, others like broad bands of striping and still another simulating a hand-knit look of color laced with black.

★ ★ ★

Also in the ribbed manner is the clever over-the-knee that runs its front stripes on the diagonal, while in the back the ribs follow the straight and narrow path from ankle upward.

★ ★ ★

Since it takes a touch of texture to keep feet in fashion this fall, hose in a lighter vein step into the pattern picture too. Thick-and-open mesh over-the-knees look like they might have been crocheted by hand, appear in bright hues such as tomato, gold and emerald, the better to flash brightly above boots when winter winds start howling.

★ ★ ★

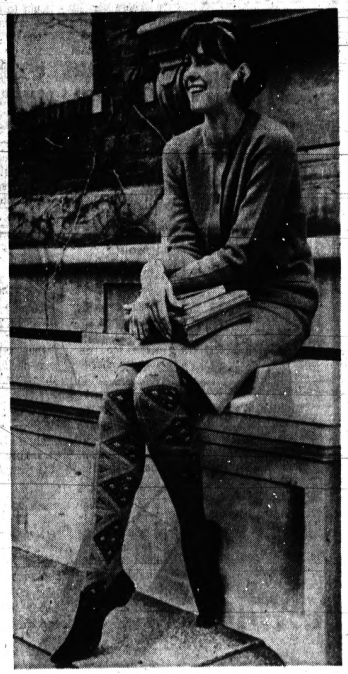
Knee-highs will write their own special footnote to the fall fashion picture. Offering the fringe benefits of flattering as well as covering the leg is the neat little sock of wool and stretch nylon that is flirtatiously rimmed just below the knee with a ruff of wool fringe.

Another, hand-made in Italy, belies its bulk with a wide-open pattern, is snugged at the knee with a pull ending in double pompoms.

Smart girls can even step backward into fashion with the soft orlon knee-high completely unmarked with design but for one wide cable running straight up the back of the leg.

To sheath legs in smartness, these quilt-textured orlon over-the-knees, gives an unusual three-dimensional effect. Available also in wool, the hose make a handsome footnote to city-bound tweeds with country manners. They will look equally right as underpinnings to campus costumes.

Here, lightly etched with an open-work diamond motif, are the perfect leg-mates to urban tweeds and woolens from now through cold weather ahead. Imported from Holland, the stockings are a lightweight stretch nylon, come in subtle shades as well as high-fashion claret and black. For the ultimate in chic, pair them off with a textured shoe, preferably reptile.



Marrying a melange of colors into jumbo mosaic blocks that march smartly up each side of the leg, the over-the-knees offer vivid coverage beneath skirts and sweaters. These orlon stretch nylons will provide gay accompaniment to mid-leg or high boots when winter winds come whistling.

Talk on Satellite Telstar Heard at Dinner Meeting

Talking through outer space was demonstrated at the Wednesday dinner meeting of the Tipacon Charter Chapter of the American Business Women's Association (ABWA) in the Holiday Inn.

David Witmer, assistant staff supervisor of the Woodward district for Detroit Michigan Bell, was the speaker.

★ ★ ★

He gave a talk-demonstration of the new art of space communication by satellite and of the events leading to its development.

The story was told with working models of Telstar and ground receiving equipment and the aid of actual recordings of the satellite at work.

VOCATIONAL TALK

After the program, Mrs. Martin Johnson gave a vocational talk on her work in a yarn shop.

Mrs. Charles Stark presented a full scholarship to Nancy Leo to attend Oakland University.

★ ★ ★

Two of the first fall events will be the "hand of friendship" brunch to be held at the Waldron Hotel on Sept. 20 and a "used book" booth at the "Miracle Mile Festival Days" birthday celebration in October.

Three members of the Land-of-Oaks chapter of ABWA were guests at the Wednesday meeting. They were Mrs. Dwight Doney, Mrs. Charles Waldrop and Mrs. Joseph Schack.

GUEST LIST

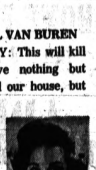
Hubby's Hobby an Asset

Be Tender About Coins

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This will kill you. We have nothing but money around our house, but I can't spend any of it.



ABBY

You see, my husband is a numismatist (coin collector) who puts everything he has into his hobby.

I wanted to spend $22.50 for a new Easter hat, and he raised the roof. Yet he just paid $75 for a half-dollar.

He said it was worth $100 because it was made in 1799 and had seven stars on one side and six on the other.

This makes no sense to me at all. He gets piles of coin collectors' magazines, which also run into money.

Now I think every man should have a hobby, but I would like to see a little money around here that I can spend.

NUMISMATIST'S WIFE

★ ★ ★

DEAR WIFE: Bone up on your hubby's hobby. It's fascinating as well as profitable. One day you might come across a 1901 "S" quarter, which is worth $900.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young matron who has been happily married many years. We have a lovely family.

I thought I was satisfied until I had seen my doctor a few times. I can't explain it, but I have fallen madly in love with my doctor.

★ ★ ★

This makes no sense at all as he is happily married, and I know it is all one-sided and he hasn't the slightest interest in me.

★ ★ ★

But this feeling has me obsessed. It's like a high school romance. I am so self-conscious around him, trying to make a good impression, I feel like a fool.

Any suggestions to help straighten me out? I'm in the middle of a series of treatments.

IN LOVE

★ ★ ★

DEAR IN: Your "romance" is neither serious nor lasting.

At least you have no illusions about whether it is mutual. You'll get over it.

Just keep telling yourself it doesn't make any sense at all. Because — although it's not uncommon — it doesn't.

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that you believe in spiritualism and card reading? There are some who say that that is how you get the answers to the questions that people send in.

I would like an honest answer as this is very important to me. Thank you.

INQUISITIVE IN REDMOND, ORE.

DEAR INQUISITIVE: Neigh! I use "horse sense."

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from READY TO BURST, the woman whose mother-in-law was in the habit of calling everything her son's, as though he had no wife.

It was "Bob's car, Bob's house, Bob's children," etc. My mother-in-law has the same habit. Nothing is ever mine. It's always "Michael's."

When I first became pregnant she went all over town announcing, "Michael is going to have a baby!"

March Back to School in Good Shoes

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Tramp, tramp, the children march schoolward.

But how are their shoes? Do they fit properly?

Not always, according to a report from the Goodyear Co. here, maker of shoe products.

★ ★ ★

Experts at the firm noted that the shoe clerk ought to measure each foot to make certain that proper size is achieved. Don't simply depend on the size of the child's last pair of shoes as a guide.

★ ★ ★

Also, select a quality shoe that is made with quality materials from top to bottom. And buy quality socks that are at least a half-inch longer than the child's longest toe.

CHECK UP

If your youngster has any complaints about his feet, take him to a podiatrist for an examination and advice.

If blisters or pains crop up after the child begins wearing the new shoes, seek medical advice on whether a proper fit has been made.

For after-school play, make sure he has play shoes that fit just as well as the school shoes.

★ ★ ★

Keep shoes clean and use a waterproofing material to guard against that old childhood problem of forgetting rubbers in rainy weather.

Record of U.S. in Catalogues

NEW YORK (UPI) — Old mail order catalogs help record the changing American scene.

For instance, Sears, Roebuck said silk stockings first appeared in its catalogs in 1912 with the stern advice to purchasers to "treat them carefully."

Pajamas first appeared for men only in 1899. They found no buyers, and disappeared until 1908 when they returned to stay.

Diet Conscious

Marketing studies indicate that West Coast residents are more concerned with buying special dietary foods than are persons living in other areas of the nation.

Polly's Pointers

Allowance for Trips

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY—During vacations, many of us travel with children. We all have that problem of the children constantly asking for money to buy this and that.

Before we start on a trip, we give our daughter a dollar a day spending money. She is told she can spend it anyway she wants.

If it is all squandered on one thing the first day, she knows there is no more spending money for the rest of the trip. Any money left at the end of the trip is hers to keep.

She has become a frugal shopper since she knows the money is hers and we can enjoy our vacation without the constant cry for money to spend at every stop we make.

SCALE AMOUNT

The amount could be scaled to fit a family's vacation budget. Keep those Pointers coming.—M.E.P.

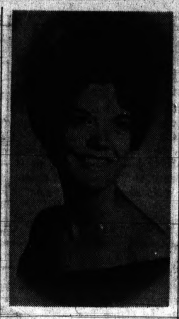
DEAR POLLY—I will call my idea "collar it down." Many dresses have a facing at the back of the neck that has a way of coming out when the dress is put on.

I just anchor it with a piece or two of iron-on tape. No stitches show and no holes in the dress from pulled stitches. —MRS. S. H.

DEAR POLLY—Storing satin comforters is no longer a problem at our house. I simply roll them tightly and insert each one in a pillowcase.

The case serves as a dust cover, too, and makes a more stable "package." — MRS. McC.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your idea in Polly's Pointers.



A May wedding is planned by Mary Ann Tarchalski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Tarchalski of Elizabeth Lake Road and Ralph W. Chittick, son of the John Chitticks of Lake Orion.

Why Grow Old?

by Josephine Lowman

Women whose husbands are away from home for weeks or months at a time are always lonely, no matter how many children or friends or thoughtful neighbors they have.

The research Max Erlich did for his new book, "Deep Is the Blue" (Doubleday) took him into the homes of many of the sailors who man nuclear submarines.

The wife of an atomic submariner is sometimes alone for three months at a time.

* * *

The other day Erlich said something that also applies to thousands of women who do not have husbands on submarines.

MORE THAN CARDS

He said, "It struck me that many of these women were casting about for something more absorbing, more meaningful than cards with which to fill in the hours alone.

It got me to thinking that writing is an ideal occupation for women anywhere who have empty evenings.

* * *

They don't need a baby sitter nor a partner and it's creative and might even be profitable."

Max Erlich believes that the novel is the easiest form of writing for a beginner because it offers more practice in character development and plotting.

SUCCESSFUL WRITER

I am sure that he is correct since he has been a successful professional writer for 25 years and is the author of five widely-read novels.

However, it seems to me that the very idea of writing a novel would "snow" many women and scare them away from trying to write anything.

I think lots of them who would not attempt such a big job might try a shorter one.

I have always felt that every human being needs some sort of individual creative expression entirely apart from what they do for their family and their community.

This may be a dress they make or a piece of needlepoint or a painting or a song they write or a special flower they cultivate.

It is fun if the dress is admired, the painting exhibited, the song recorded or the flower wins a prize.

However, the exciting and rewarding and important thing is that you gave your individual approach to life a chance and you creative itch a scratch.

Mud Styled Old Coiffures

The Egyptian coiffure was really down - to - earth.

The women wet their hair, wound it around sticks and packed the wound curls in mud. Then they sat in the sun until the mud baked dry.

According to a manufacturer of home permanents, this technique gave their hair the body and curl needed for their exaggerated hairdos.

At Fisher Theater

Area Auxiliaries to Sponsor Show

Pontiac and Waterford Jaycee Auxiliaries are joining other auxiliaries in the metropolitan area in sponsoring a benefit performance at the Fisher Theater.

* *

The performance, starring Sammy Davis in the musical drama "Golden Boy," will be held 2:30 p.m. Sept. 13.

Benefit proceeds will go to the "placement fund" of the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children (MAEDC). This is an organization of interested persons concerned with promoting facilities for treating disturbed children.

* * *

The association consists primarily of volunteer workers who supplement the funds and services provided by the state government.

This is the second year the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary of which the Pontiac and Waterford locals are members, has undertaken MAEDC as their state service project.

During the year, the Pontiac auxiliary has donated funds to the child guidance clinic for the purchase of books and to the Pontiac State Hospital for new bedspreads.

The Waterford auxiliary has sponsored two emotionally disturbed boys from the Pontiac State Hospital for the past two years. Besides being given a monthly allowance, the boys are taken on day-visits at least once a month by members of the group.

* *

Tickets for the benefit performance are available from the Pontiac and Waterford ticket chairmen, Mrs. Roger Upham, Warwick Street and Mrs. James Curd, Dundee Drive. Either one may be contacted for additional information.

Pontiac Jaycee Auxiliary has joined forces with all the auxiliaries in the Detroit area to sponsor the Sunday matinee, Sept. 13 performance of "Golden Boy," starring Sammy Davis, at the Fisher Theater. Proceeds will go to the placement fund of the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children, the state-wide Jaycee service project. With Davis are Mrs. Robert Erb and Mrs. Joseph Gerak, both of Birmingham. Reservations for the matinee are still available.

Budget Is Offered for Income That Varies

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: The recent letter from the wife of a construction man whose income varies greatly hit a responsive chord with me. In the same situation — my husband's income varies from nothing to $300 weekly — I would like to give my formula for working a budget on this basis.

MARY FEELEY

As a roofer, my husband's greatest period of income is in the warm weather. So we have all our major bills come due then. An annuity policy whose premium is $300 yearly, our insurance on two cars, hospitalization, and all our Christmas shopping are done in the summer. In this way, the temptation to spend too freely is reduced, and the bills are paid annually with a reduction for annual payment.

We have two children, run two cars, have a $22,000 house on which we put 25 per cent down, and we live comfortably all year round. We usually keep $700 in a savings account, of which we use approximately $300 during the winter for current expenses.

We know many construction workers and very few live as well-cushioned against lack of income as we do. The tendency seems to be a policy of feast or famine. My husband has been in this business only four years, and all our possessions, including children, have been acquired in that time.

★ ★ ★

I hope that my formula will work for others, and I would appreciate any comments you may have.

Mrs. W.M., Bardonia, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. M.: You're proving the old adage that there's more than one way of skinning a cat. And when a plan actually works, it's bound to be a good plan. However, I believe the undramatic method of figuring the yearly income in twelve equal parts is sounder still.

The key to managing an irregular income is estimating the year's take in advance — and setting up the monthly budget on the minimum estimate. Bank the surplus, and the big bills can be met in any month they happen to fall.

★ ★ ★

You and your husband were smart enough to work out a formula when he first went into the roofing business. That's the main point, and I hope this fact gets across to others in this field. Once a family gets up to the ears in debt on a now-and-then income, it's the very devil to get straightened out and start over.

★ ★ ★

The only question I raise about having all the major expenses come due in the flush season is that if an emergency arises — health or otherwise — you can get smacked mighty hard. When they are spread out over the year, there's at least a little more opportunity to keep things under control.

Dear Miss Feeley: I am a young man who will soon be leaving home and going on his own. I was told to write to you for a general budget for my earnings.

T.B., Chicago

Dear T.B.: I'm glad to oblige. But since I do not know what those earnings will be, I'm going to give you some percentages as a guide. For example, a young single man can figure 51 per cent of his monthly income for basic expenses:

Housing, 20 per cent; household operating expenses (if you take an apartment), 3 per cent; food at home, 8 per cent; clothing, 10 per cent; savings and insurance, 10 per cent.

And when I call savings "basic", I'm not fooling. Don't start out with the idea that savings are what you have "left over." Pay yourself first, then make do with the rest of your salary.

Fancy Glasses Really Shine

Decorative glassware is often hard to shine, especially when the pattern is etched deep into the glass. Here's a tip.

First wash the glassware in sudsy water, rinse well, then place some ordinary table salt on a soft cloth and rub each article of the glassware briskly, so salt penetrates each indentation.

The salt does not scratch, gives the crystal fine lustre.

Good Conditioned

The President's Council on Physical Fitness recommends cycling as an excellent conditioner.

One Design Detail for Each Dress

A good basic body line to be trimmed is a simple sheath dress. Over this you can place a design detail of self-fabric or trimmings available ready to apply.

Be moderate. One design detail to a dress is enough.

A-2182 JACKET $1.00
A-2183 BLOUSE .50
A-2175 SKIRT .50

One of the most beloved and familiar names in French couture is Chanel whose designing genius through the years is responsible for many fashion "firsts" which are now accepted as classics.

A case in point is her free-hanging cardigan jacket, so easy to wear, so flattering to every figure. Adding special elegance are smart tabs that lead into pockets and the stand-up collar band hold close by linked buttons.

Set-in ¾ sleeves can be finished off with a flaring cuff, faced with contrast to match the sleeveless overblouse and the jacket lining. The slender skirt is softened with little front pleats.

Suzy Perette's exciting reproduction of the original ensemble was dramatized in black and white — wool crepe for the jacket and skirt, satin for the blouse and lining.

For other interesting effects, combine faille or silk and wool blends with solid or printed silk crepe, suiting, linen or cotton with a splashy lighter weight print of the same.

Should your basic measurements require different sizes for jacket, blouse or skirt, our separate patterns solve this problem. To select your correct size, use Spadea's exclusive ready-to-wear size chart.

Size	Bust	*Waist	Hips	*Length
12	36½	27½	37½	17
14	38	29	39	17¼
16	40	31	41	17½
20	42	33	43	17¾
40	44	35	45	18

*From Nape of Neck to Waist
Select Skirt Sizes from these measurements.

Size 16 requires 1¾ yds. of 54" fabric for Jacket, 1⅞ yds. of 54" fabric for skirt, 1⅜ yds. of 42" fabric for Overblouse.

To order, state size and pattern numbers; send $1.00 for Jacket (No. A-2182), 50c for Blouse (No. A-2183), and 50c for Skirt (No. A-2175).

Filipinos Do Not Like Footloose Peace Corps

MANILA (UPI) — A Manila woman columnist has criticized U.S. Peace Corps members for overdoing aping of the Filipinos.

Mrs. Virginia Benitez-Lucuanan said in The Manila Chronicle, "The Peace Corps assigned to the Philippines should have a more realistic briefing on the psychology of the Filipinos."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Lucuanan said a group of Peace Corps youths was invited to a recent informal dinner and came in dirty clothes and sneakers.

"The cotton shirt waists and faded slacks and short sleeved shirts were all right although they could have stood a little pressing and cleaning but the rubber sneakers were a bit too much," she said.

"Even in the remotest barrios (villages), people always dress neatly and always spruce for special events. Of course, it is a good idea not to dress expensively and elaborately, but a little cleaning up, brushing their hair and powdering of face is not incompatible with good international relations.

★ ★ ★

"And what is more, while the Peace Corps youngsters may think that they are dressing simply so as not to overawe the natives, the Filipino psychology is such that if strangers attend their parties obviously under-dressed they feel insulted . . .

"So when in Rome wear Roman sandals, and at Filipino fiestas please leave those darn rubber sneakers in your native-style nipa hut and wear decent shoes."

Board Makes Season Plans

Executive board members of the Waterford branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association met in the home of the group's president, Mrs. E. L. Windeler of Hatchery Road. Plans for the 1964-65 budget were made.

Upcoming activities of the club include a benefit sale Nov. 6, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arnold Denison; an October card party, chairman Mrs. Gordon Parker; and and a Greens Market Dec. 11, chairman Mrs. Fred Bohlman.

The club's next meeting will be Thursday in the home of Mrs. Arthur C. Arnold. The program for the day will be a novice flower show.

Chile to Veer Left Voting Today

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chileans vote today for a president, and their ballots may have a profound effect on Latin American politics.

★ ★ ★

No matter who wins, this copper rich country — in which millions of American dollars have been invested — will be veering to the left.

★ ★ ★

Thursday night, only hours before the voters went to bed, the Communist party already was talking as if its candidate, Socialist Sen. Salvador Allende had won.

Communist party chief Luis Corvalan told a news conference he hoped a "mutual understanding" could be reached for a government takeover of the giant U.S. companies that produce 90 per cent of Chile's copper. Corvalan said the amount of compensation to the companies would be "secondary."

Allende, 56, is opposed by another senator, Eduardo Frei, 53, who is a member of the Christian Democratic party and a moderate leftist. He favors more state control over foreign owned companies, but also says he wants to encourage more U.S. investments.

Political experts figured Frei might win by a narrow margin.

★ ★ ★

Although campaigning officially ended two days ago, Allende was given government permission Thursday night to make a special statement over the radio denouncing Juana Castro, sister of Cuba's Fidel Castro. Miss Castro, who broke with Fidel and sought political asylum in Mexico last June, has been warning Chilean voters that a victory by Allende would plunge Chile into communism.

His message reached the voters via a recorded statement that has been used widely by the Chilean radio.

CASTRO-ADMIRER

Allende is an avowed admirer of Castro and has visited Havana five times.

Frei's campaign manager retorted that it was Allende's campaign that had foreign backing.

★ ★ ★

At the news conference, Corbalan declared: "We will nationalize the copper industry and I hope we can do it under a mutual understanding with the companies.

"I hope the American companies and the United States in general will understand our need to recover our natural resources.

REFERS TO CUBA

Then, in an apparent reference to Castro's grab of U.S. firms in Cuba, Corbalan added: "I believe the U.S. companies have some experience in these things and may show themselves willing to come to terms."

★ ★ ★

U.S. Is Watching Results Hoping for Marxist Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Official Washington is paying uncommon attention to Chile's presidential election today in which one of the leading candidates is an avowed Marxist.

Forces here point hopefully to preelection polls in the South American country which give an edge to the Christian Democratic candidate, Eduardo Frei, rated moderately left of center.

But if victory goes to Frei's chief rival, Marxist Salvador Allende, Chile could become an issue in the American campaign along with Red China.

Allende, the Socialist party candidate, is running with strong Communist support. He favors restoring relations with the Castro regime, socializing Chile's economy and taking over the big American copper companies there.

U.S. AID

U.S. aid to Chile totaled more than three quarters of a billion dollars from the end of World War II through 1963. In fiscal 1964, it amounted to $150 million. U.S. investments there now are estimated at $1.1 billion.

If Allende wins, the U.S. government is expected to take a hard new look at its Chile policy.

★ ★ ★

Not only U.S.-Chilean relations, but the democracy- vs.-communism struggle throughout Latin America generally, will feel the impact if a victorious Allende pursues his pledged course in foreign and domestic affairs.

As U.S. experts see it, Chile will be moving to the left under either successor to the present president, Jorge Alessandri. The country's unbalanced, inflation-hit economy and poverty have brought calls for reform. But Frei has advocated a program favoring private enterprise and individual rights compared with Allende's nationalization proposals.

BACKED BY REDS

Statistics used here indicate the Communist party is Allende's biggest backer. In 1963 by-elections it pulled 12.7 per cent of the vote compared with 11.5 per cent for Allende's Socialists. The Communists now support Allende in a "popular front" political alliance known as FRAP.

Frei's Christian Democrats won 21.6 per cent of the 1963 vote, the Liberals 13.2 per cent and Conservatives 11.4 per cent. The Liberals and Conservatives are now backing Frei.

A third candidate, Julio Duran of the Radical party, is given no chance of winning but he could poll enough votes to prevent either of the others from getting more than 50 per cent. That would throw the final decision into the Chilean Congress. Under these circumstances, it is believed here, Frei would be picked over Allende.

Mother, Daughter Die

HOLLAND (AP) — Mrs. Paul Danielson, 47, and her mother Mrs. John Slabbekorn, 71, both of Holland, were killed Thursday when their car collided with another auto at an intersection in Holland.

Seventy per cent of the residents of Nevada were born in some other state, according to the last census.

Reelfoot Lake in Tennessee, the reservoir basin of the Mississippi River, was created by an earthquake in 1811.

Weekend Fetes in 3 Area Communities

Three area communities will be settings for special crowd-pleasing celebrations over Labor Day weekend.

In all three, Romeo, South Lyon and White Lake Township, events are planned daily tomorrow through Monday.

Romeo

The most ambitious program will be offered during Romeo's 32nd annual Peach Festival. It opens at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow with the presentation of the key to the Village by President Edgar Welsch to Peach Queen Pamela Cumming.

The Go-Kart races, originally scheduled then abandoned, have been put back on the agenda for tomorrow.

They will be staged on East St. Clair from 1 to 5 p.m. and the children's games set for 4-5 p.m. will be moved to Sunday—same location.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow's Mutt Show also has been eliminated in favor of the Go-Kart races.

The softball tournament starts tomorrow and the carnival and the Thumb Area Art Exhibit both will be opened.

A new feature Sunday and Monday afternoons will be a flower show to be held in the Romeo Public Library.

Highlight of Sunday's program will be the coronation of Queen Pam by Neil Staebler, Democratic candidate for governor, at 8 p.m.

The ceremonies, at which U.S. Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Utica, will assist, will be staged in Romeo's Memorial Stadium.

The Mummer's Parade will follow at 9:15 p.m. in the heart of town.

Monday's main features will be two parades, the children's at 10 a.m. and the gala floral parade at 2 p.m.

Gov. Romney will be grand marshal of the latter parade which will have entries, including floats, bands and marching units, from all over southeastern Michigan and Ontario.

The Lions Club's Community Field at the east end of Lafayette will be the setting for the carnival, free variety acts entertainment and also the fireworks display that will close the celebration at 9:30 p.m. on Labor Day.

South Lyon

In South Lyon, three days of fun for all are planned by local service organizations.

Events will begin tomorrow when the carnival booths and children's rides are opened.

Special Gala Days activities will include a parade, queen contest and fireworks display.

The coronation of a Teen Queen is slated by the local Jaycees for 9:30 p.m. tomorrow during a street dance and hootenanny.

★ ★ ★

The dance and hootenanny will be staged by the Chamber of Commerce from 8:30 to 11 p.m. on Lake Street which will be blocked off between Lafayette and Wells for these events.

Winners of a baby contest, sponsored by the Jaycees Auxiliary, will be announced at 3 p.m. Sunday at McHattie Park.

The park will be the scene of most activities Sunday. A special attraction will be a pinata for children under 10 years of age.

One candy container will be broken Sunday and another Monday.

★ ★ ★

The Labor Day parade, set for 10 a.m. through the downtown district, is being organized by the Kiwanis Club. It will form at the high school.

Climaxing the three-day celebration will be the fireworks display at 9 p.m. planned by the Jaycees.

White Lake Twp.

The 42 hours of fun in White Lake Township are being planned by the Oxbow Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 4156.

Main event will be the group's 10th annual ox roast to be held all three days at the post home, 321 Union Lake Road.

Entertainment will be provided along with the beef barbecues from noon to 2 a.m. There will be dancing from 9:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. tomorrow and Sunday.

Also featured will be rides, clowns, concessions and games on the home grounds.

The Rae-Vens, state champion girl drill team, will perform at 1 p.m. Labor Day.

To Seek New Bids on Utica City Hall

UTICA—With plans for the new Utica City Hall pared to the bone, the Municipal Building Authority is about to try again to find a contractor to build it.

The original plans met with bids from 17 contractors which exceeded available funds by no less than $50,000.

Subsequent efforts by Royal Oak architect Neal D. Smith to negotiate trimming in costs with the seven lowest bidders failed.

Smith has advised the authority of the unsuccessful negotiations.

★ ★ ★

The authority reluctantly accepted his suggestions that all 17 bids be rejected and the whole thing redone with drastically curtailed plans.

NEW BIDS

New bids will be sought soon, and the authority hopes to open them Sept. 29.

All the extras have been pared from the municipal building plans, which also include the Utica Public Library and Police Department.

The basement has been entirely eliminated from the plans, and the very location of the building changed.

★ ★ ★

The site has been shifted further east of Davis in order to save on costly filling to grade.

CONCRETE BLOCKS

Concrete blocks will be used in place of face brick, and precast cement panels and asphalt flooring instead of terrazzo tile.

The south retaining wall in the parking lot, steps at the west entrance, all indoor and outdoor planters, chimney stack and electric clocks have all been eliminated.

The replacement of public walks on Auburn and Davis was cut, except where required.

★ ★ ★

A gypsum plaster will be used instead of lath and regular wet plaster for walls, and plans to air-condition the building were dropped.

CONSTRUCTION COSTS

Despite the many features which have been changed or entirely cut from the plans to save money, the authority still faces rising construction costs in the area.

This factor can be counted on to nullify part of the savings made by plan changes, in direct proportion to delay in starting of construction.

Ironically, the delay caused by an attempt to gain federal help to aid in the building actually increased the cost by $50,000, according to the authority.

★ ★ ★

The authority already has permission to issue $130,000 in bonds to help finance construction of the building, which will stand opposite the Utica post office.

★ ★ ★

The city will rent space from the authority and sublease to the library board. The money thus received will be used by the authority to retire the bonds.

Pontiac Press Photo

LAST BRUISE OF SUMMER? — Danny Webb, 8, of 352 E. Beverly, Pontiac, watches with interest as Pontiac Lake State Recreation Area life guard William Graves deftly peels the wrapping off an adhesive bandage. The bandage is destined for Danny's knee in a small ritual repeated several times a day this summer at area lakes. Incidents of childhood casualties will diminish as crowds at the lakes thin after Labor Day.

Will Ask Changes in Civil Service Act

TROY — The city commission last night authorized Commissioner Wallace B. Hudson to make recommendations concerning changes in sections of state Civil Service Act 78 to the Michigan Municipal League.

At a special meeting, the commission voted 6-1 to allow Hudson to present a letter to the league Sept. 16-18 which asks for restudy and amendment of four parts of the controversial law.

Passed in April over the objections of the city commission and a citizens study committee, the act has several sections which have apparently been causing hiring and promotion problems in other communities operating under the act.

One of these sections requires that candidates for hiring as police officers have at least one year of residency in the community. Another requires candidates to be between 21 and 31 years of age.

★ ★ ★

These requirements are seen as unrealistic by opponents of the act, as they limit municipalities too much in their hiring procedures.

OTHER CONTENTION

Another bone of contention has been the rule of "1," as it is called, which requires local management to hire or promote the candidate who scores highest on an examination, regardless of other qualifications.

Hudson's letter recommends that this be changed to a rule of "3," whereby local management could pick one of the three top scorers on the basis of over-all qualifications.

The commission also tacked on a fourth recommendation last night.

★ ★ ★

It asks review or alteration of the rule forbidding police departments to deputize special police, such as those at shopping centers, when the regular force is under Act 78 and the officers to be deputized are not.

TO BE STUDIED

The age and residency requirements are to be restudied and altered as well, if Hudson's recommendations are accepted.

The changes hoped for by the Troy commission are designed to make it easier for the city to live with and operate under Act 78.

At present, the city has both the state act and a city ordinance on the books, both of which provide Civil Service status for city employes.

★ ★ ★

The commission will meet tonight at 6 for a field trip to examine the proposed locations of gravel pathways for children walking to school.

The trip will be followed at 7:30 by a discussion meeting.

Aircraft Will Patrol on Holiday Weekend

LANSING (AP) — Thirteen national guard aircraft including four helicopters — and three state police planes will patrol Michigan's highways over the 78 - hour Labor Day weekend, State Police Commissioner Joseph Childs says.

State police will be assisted in special patrols by 114 National Guardsmen from noon Friday to midnight Monday. Last year's Labor Day toll was 35.

This will be their first appearance at Imlay City.

The auto troupe will perform death-defying stunts with automobiles and motorcycles.

★ ★ ★

They will appear between heats of the harness racing.

Trip to New York for Three 4-H'ers Result of Honors

A trio of Oakland County 4-H lasses is New York-bound as the result of jobs well done.

The three took top honors at the State 4-H Show in East Lansing this week and won the trips as prizes.

Nancy Mills of the Oakhill Club scored with her ddairy foods demonstration and Jeree Bachelor of the Hi-Lo Club impressed judges with her wildlife demonstration.

Barbara Junod of the Skills and Craft Club won honors in the dog obedience category.

Nancy's brother Norman, also a member of the Oakhill Club, won a dairy calf as state winner in dairy showmanship.

School Bus Reminder

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Dublin School officials have issued a reminder to parents that school buses will run 15 minutes earlier this year than in former years.

Troy School Board Details Bond Issue on Fall Ballot

TROY — A $4-million bond issue for the building, improvement and modernization of schools and related facilities was summarized today by the Troy Board of Education.

The bond issue will go to the voters Oct. 2.

The $4-million total is broken down as follows, based primarily on recommendations of the 1963 Citizens School Study Committee; two faculty study committees, architect Harry Harman and the school administration:

- Build and equip new schools and additions to existing schools, including a second junior high, three elementary schools, an eight-room addition at Niles School, two elementary multipurpose rooms, two elementary library-materials centers and enlarging of one elementary library — $3,016,840.
- Sites, site additions and future sites — $381,000.
- Modernizing and improving existing buildings — $120,500.
- Improving existing sites, including more outdoor physical education facilities at Troy High School, Baker Junior High School, all elementary schools, blacktopping parking lots and service drives, sidewalks on school grounds and fencing — $262,400.
- Central warehouse and bus maintenance garage — $57,600.
- Construction contingencies and price rises (4 per cent) — $133,560.
- Other bond issue expenses, including bonding attorney, state qualification of bonds, election expenses, printing of bonds, etc. — $8,100.

★ ★ ★

Inasmuch as the election comes after the deadline for certifying tax levies, there will be no change in 1964 school tax rates if the bond issue passes.

In 1965, the school debt tax rate will increase $2.40 per $1,000 on state equalized valuations, which is expected to be about $2.88 per $1,000 of assessed valuations.

The tax rate is not expected to exceed the 1965 level in subsequent years regardless of any later bond issues which become necessary to meet growing enrollment.

A new state law makes possible a ceiling of 7 mills on school debt tax levies.

FIVE-YEAR LEVEL

The school operating millage proposal is for 5 mills for five years, starting in 1965. This will go to operate new classrooms as they become filled with students, and to pay off an expected 1964-65 deficit of $94,000.

The Troy board recommended approval of the bond issue in October, stressing that prompt action may forestall the necessity for eventual half-day sessions.

The board also pointed out that land prices and construction costs are almost certain to rise, and that delay would only increase the total cost of new construction and related activities.

★ ★ ★

The extra millage is needed to make the needed new classrooms possible, and must go hand in hand with the passage of the bond issue, according to the board.

Firm in Dryden Hit by Blaze

DRYDEN—A fire of undetermined origin early this morning caused nearly $40,000 worth of damage to repair parts, tires, equipment and the Champion Home Builders truck repair building here.

Two-thirds of the sheet-steel, steel frame structure were destroyed by the blaze. It was considered a total loss.

The fire broke out shortly after 2 a. m. this morning and was discovered by the watchman while making his rounds.

The Dryden and Almont fire departments responded to the alarm.

It took the combined departments nearly two hours to bring the blaze under control, but it was confined to the garage, located near the main offices of the firm on E. North Street.

CONTENTS

The garage contained repair parts, a new shipment of tires valued at about $14,000 and tools and equipment.

★ ★ ★

Although the steel building was noncombustible, the heat of the fire warped all but about one-third of the steel beams, effectively destroying the structure.

OUTER COURTYARD, as it could appear in a private home.

Walled Courtyard: Charming Retreat

If Columbus and his sailors had stuck around these parts, we might now be living in Spanish-style houses with walled-in outdoor yards.

★ ★ ★

And it wouldn't have been bad at all.

Besides the lord-of-the-manor feeling it can give to the owner of the smallest plot of land, a walled courtyard is just what American families need to keep humans in or out—whichever is more desirable.

Such an area was observed at the Spanish Pavilion at the New York World's Fair where an outer restaurant was planned within walls.

★ ★ ★

HAS ATMOSPHERE

But it has atmosphere, tranquility and a brightness that is contagious, all for the price of a cinder block, stucco covered wall and a few geraniums.

The yard, about 30 feet square, is enclosed by three walls about 10-feet high with an entrance on the fourth wall into the building.

The cinder block walls are coated with bright stucco in a rough, textured finish.

★ ★ ★

A row of bright red geraniums seems to be growing right out of the wall at about the eight-foot level.

But this cheerful bit of charm, it develops, was accomplished by framing the area at that point with metal lath, and lining it with a copper trough for the plants.

Stucco was then put over lath and cinder block.

★ ★ ★

The floor is large two-foot squares of precast, unpainted concrete.

OVERHEAD CANVAS

Overhead, a yellow and white wide-striped canvas lies flat. The canvas can be rolled back when desired.

The yellow and white picks up the sunshine perfectly and illuminates the yard brightly, but not dazzlingly, picking up reflection from the bright white walls.

An eye-catching decorative note are the tinaja, enormous Spanish clay pots grouped in a corner.

★ ★ ★

Some variation of this courtyard idea could fit into almost any architectural scheme.

OUTDOOR DINING

It is a delightful outdoor dining place for the family and a good play-place for small children and teen-agers any time. It's just the right place for a summer party.

Though it would be particularly useful in any area which lacks backyard privacy, where lawn meets lawn, as in developments, it is made-to-order for contemporary houses.

Color it pink, blue, yellow or whatever outside, or keep it all white, inside and out.

★ ★ ★

If the squared-off effect seems too modern for one's house, the wall could be embellished on top with masonry trimmings, American-style. Arches, curves and peaked designs in finishing pieces could do the trick.

Brighten Day With Blooms

Want to make breakfast in your home a pleasant, cheerful time calculated to start every family member's day with a smile?

★ ★ ★

Try "perking" up your kitchen or breakfast room with sprightly fresh flowers and lush greenery. They will help create an atmosphere conducive of good cheer and lively conversation.

As a starter, add fresh bright philodendron vining plants to the walls next to the breakfast table. Try using three such plants — two in a horizontal row with the third placed to one side and raised a few inches.

To lend even more interest to the grouping add a small shelf to the arrangement and place a small vase of flowers, or a bright canister, on it.

★ ★ ★

For more potent morning magic, try informal bouquets of flowers on the breakfast table.

One such cheerful charmer is a two-tiered wicker basket with white daisies and blue cornflowers arranged in the top tier, and brilliant red carnations in the bottom tier.

GREEN FOLIAGE

Add a little green foliage to both tiers and you'll have a real spellbinder.

When the man of the house gets up from the table to leave for work, add the crowning touch.

Tuck a boutonniere in his lapel buttonhole to give him the distinctive look of a successful man.

★ ★ ★

A touch of flowers and greenery can work wonders at breakfast time — and help you to get all members of your family off to a happy day's start.

A swivel-blade vegetable peeler does a good job of removing citrus rind in thin strips.

Tallest Tree in the World

The world's tallest living thing is a recently discovered 367-foot high California redwood tree. The 356-foot Rockefeller redwood, former champ, is now relegated to fourth place.

★ ★ ★

The Paul Bunyan tree, the new runner-up, is only 5 inches shorter.

Number three, 353 feet, 4 inches tall is as yet unnamed. The new champ is not named Goldwater, but The Arcata Redwood after the tree farm on which it grows.

Orchids Prosper in High Humidity

Try a bathroom, kitchen or even a laundry room location for your orchid plants.

They like humidity in the air, but not in their root and soil structure, hence porous clay pots, which protect against overwatering, are favored containers for orchids, among growers and amateur fanciers alike.

Federated Organic Clubs Host Annual Fall Roundup

Federated Organic Clubs of Michigan Inc. will hold the 12th Annual Fall Roundup at the Reo Club House, Lansing, Sept. 12-13.

Kicking off the two day conference will be a tour of Lansing organic gardens.

★ ★ ★

Among the qualified organic gardening specialists who will speak are Mrs. Margaret E. Thomas of Greene, R.I., co-owner of Greene Herb Gardens; Dr. J. David Larson of Hinsdale, Ill., president of Normal Soil, Inc. and Dr. H. Lewis Batts Jr. of Kalamazoo, executive director of the Kalamazoo Nature Center and professor of biology at Kalamazoo College, Cranbrook Institute of Science board member, vice president of the Michigan Audubon Society and member of the National Audubon Society board.

Others are M. C. Goldman of Emmaus, Pa., managing editor and organic club director of "Organic Gardening and Farming;" John H. Tobe of St. Catherines, Ontario and Dr. William A. Albrecht of Columbia, Mo., emeritus professor of soils at University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

Guests will be able to see and buy the organic produce at the Exhibitors' Fair which is held in connection with the Roundup.

★ ★ ★

John W. Verdunk, president of the group, invites persons interested in organic gardening to attend whether or not they belong to a federated organic club.

Judges' Demand for Quick Action Keeps Court Docket Current

By VAN SAVELL
Associated Press Writer

MEMPHIS (AP) — U.S. District Judges Marion S. Boyd and Bailey Brown are a zealous pair. They demand quick action, and they get it.

It adds up to savings in time and money for the federal government. And, for the judges, it means they have created possibly the only "current" court docket in the country.

"The judges have a phenomenal record for getting cases disposed of—in court or out," said a Memphis lawyer. "They're proud of the record. And they keep the pressure on us. That way we don't louse things up with delaying tactics."

Federal records, on the surface, indicate no court with a record quite like that of the Western District of Tennessee.

* * *

GREAT TRAGEDY

"This is the great tragedy of the American judicial system," said Boyd. "Many of the cases have been on the docket three years or longer."

Not so in the federal courts in Memphis and Jackson, Tenn.

There were 371 civil cases pending as of June 30 this year. During the previous year the judges had heard 51 cases, not a great record on the surface. But their efforts led to withdrawal or settlement out of court of 28 other cases.

* * *

None of the pending cases now available for trial, is older than one year. About 100 concern land condemnation, always a long process. Another 62 are antitrust suits about to be settled out of court.

SIMILAR DOCKET

A similar docket exists for criminal cases. Boyd heard 33 last year. When the court term begins, 43 will be on the docket, plus any new indictments returned by the grand jury.

Six of the cases cannot be tried because of illness or a missing defendant, but the other 37 are set for trial.

What does it mean?

* * *

"We don't play around," says one lawyer. "If it's a civil case, we go to court or settle out of court. If it's a criminal case, the defendant gets a quick trial."

How does it happen?

"Back in 1940, when I became a federal judge, the system of setting the court calendar was much involved and too time - consuming," says Boyd. "I went into my first calendar session prepared. We didn't hassle over trial dates. I said: 'Gentlemen, I've got a trial schedule already made out. I'm going to read it and if you think you need a change, we'll see what can be done.' It took less than an hour, I assume, and there was only one revision."

Today, neither judge uses that system. A civil case is set for trial, depending on its nature, shortly after the defendant files an answer to the suit. A criminal trial is set shortly after the defendant is arraigned.

* * *

The judges notify lawyers of the dates by mail. And the dates aren't changed by a simple call to the court clerk, Lloyd C. Johnson. The lawyer must come into court and have a good reason.

CIVIL TRIALS

Before civil trials, lawyers and judges hold a conference in which the complaints and issues are discussed. The lawyers have already filled out a memo explaining their points and authorities. The judges require these be exchanged among the lawyers.

These conferences and exchanges of legal arguments lead to many of the out-of-court settlements.

"I remember one lawyer who was figuring on a week to try his case," said Johnson. "He left the conference muttering something about new light on the case.' Two days later his company settled, paying several thousands of dollars in a damage suit."

* * *

The settled cases save money for the government. Janice Crockett, deputy clerk of court, is always prepared to let the jury know on a moment's notice that it will not be needed.

SAVE MONEY

"On one occasion I had a lawyer's wife call me at six in the morning, three hours before a jury trial," said Johnson. "The lawyer had gone to the hospital — an emergency, I think. I called 'Miss Janice' and she stopped all but three of the jurors from reporting for duty. It saved the government several hundred dollars."

In this manner, the court saves thousands of dollars a year, said Johnson. Jury members get $7 a day plus 10 cents a mile whether they work or not.

When the cases have been cut, the judges are still left with work. And they aren't afraid of it.

Brown recently completed a trial in which one chemical company accused another of breach of contract. The trial lasted six weeks. After the first week, sessions were held six days a week from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Boyd once said:

"We've got a rather unique court system here. It's a combination of careful planning and a little hard work."

Report Finding Cause of Tartar

Chemical Discovery May Lead to Remedy

CHICAGO (AP) — Chemists today reported finding the chemical substance that causes "tartar," the hard, irritating deposits that form on teeth.

This may open the way to means of preventing tartar and the destructive gum and mouth troubles it can inspire, said Dr. Albert Sobel of Beth Israel Hospital, New York City.

* * *

He and associates found an organic ingredient, in saliva, which seems to be the guilty agent, Dr. Sobel told the American Chemical Society.

This material is apparently deposited as a thin film on the teeth, then is calcified or hardened by calcium and phosphate in the saliva, he said.

BONE STRUCTURES

Tartar can penetrate and irritate the gums, causing loss of bone structures that support the teeth. Gum or periodontal diseases are the major cause for loss of teeth after age 40. Before that, tooth decay is the main destroyer.

* * *

The chemists found that calcification of the tartar agent could be prevented by tiny amounts of beryllium chloride. But this chemical is too poisonous to be used as a preventive in human mouths.

* * *

"Perhaps ways and means will be found for preventing the formation of the calcifying principle in the saliva," Dr. Sobel said. "However, before we undertake anything as rash as interfering with production of this principle, we must know more about why it is present."

"Perhaps normal amounts (of tartar) are nature's repair mechanism on the surface of the teeth, which are continually worn away and dissolved in trace amounts.

THIN FILM

"A thin, calcifying film deposited on the teeth may penetrate enamel and calcify so as to act as a continuous repair substance.

"We may even ultimately wind up with another means of repairing dental cavities instead of the artificial substances used today."

* * *

Dr. Ralph G. Eilberg of Beth Israel and Dr. David Gould of Colgate-Palmolive Research Laboratories, New Brunswick, N.J., were coauthors of the report.

Monkey Put in Cage; So Is Trainer

MALONE, N.Y. (AP) — The chimpanzee is in, his trainer is out, and things are normal today.

Thursday, the 6-year-old chimp was out, his trainer was in, and the situation was far from normal.

* * *

The trainer, Larry Christian, 28, of Tampa, Fla., was in jail for throwing a cup of coffee at a visitor to the Franklin County Fair.

The 97-pound chimp broke away from an assistant, dashed across the fairgrounds, through several trees and stopped on a porch roof.

WOULDN'T MOVE

Carnival workers and police couldn't get the chimp down.

* * *

Christian was released from jail and coaxed the chimp into his arms. The chimp was taken back to his cage and Christian was returned to his cell, but his term ended today.

State Woman Dies in Crash

RODNEY, Ont. (AP) — A Michigan woman was killed and four persons injured Thursday in a two-car accident on Highway 401.

* * *

Dead was Mrs. Helen Ann Gilbert, 19, of Saline, Mich., who was traveling with her husband, Brian Sheldon Gilbert, 26, and their 20-month-old daughter, Kimberley Anne.

* * *

Gilbert was released from the hospital after receiving several stitches. His daughter suffered severe lacerations to the face and head and a fractured leg.

Understanding Is Suffering

Student Must Learn How to Slow Down

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: How can we teach a 13-year-old to exercise patience in solving problems? He tries to get through homework and tests as fast as possible.

He skims through a question and quickly begins to write out the solution—frequently wrong. Too often he overlooks some vital point in the problem.

G. Q., Port Arthur, Tex.

★ ★ ★

An old proverb says "Who understands ill, answers ill." This is certainly true in the solution of a problem.

The first step is to understand it. Perhaps you can influence your son by assuring him that in the long run he will actually save time by thinking long enough to get a clear understanding of a problem.

Before you give him help, ask him to explain the problem to you. Usually this effort on his part makes your help unnecessary.

It forces the point across through action — not preaching.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our high school daughter makes low grades on history tests. She explains this as a matter of "bad luck."

That is, she was not lucky enough to have studied just the right thing. We feel it is not just a matter of luck. What do you suggest?

G. K., Austin, Tex.

★ ★ ★

Help your daughter devise a plan. Plan a review for the next history examination that starts with a general view of every major area covered.

Have her locate all action on appropriate maps. At least no major item will then be neglected. This can be followed with study of detail.

Diligence is the mother of good luck. She must make her own.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our only daughter is three. I wonder if I am worrying too early about her school success. She is a happy child.

She seems like all the other three-year-olds we know when playing with toys, crayons and puzzles, but she talks less than others. Our doctor says she is perfect physically.

What about the talking; is it important?

G. A., Pitman, N.J.

Often a first or an only child is slow in developing word usage. They lack the stimulation that older brothers and sisters provide.

Take some time every day to talk with your daughter. You might use large picture books, easy puzzles and educational toys as a basis of conversation.

Nursery school would bring her in contact with other children and give added opportunity to practice talking.

It is a slow process. Keep it a happy one. Do everything you can but don't force the situation to the point where your concern is obvious to the child.

The duplicate game was over and "Hard Luck Joe" had finished in his customary spot somewhere near the bottom.

As usual he was complaining about his bad luck and as usual he did not know that he had helped his bad luck materially.

Joe complained, "Most North players simply raised their partner to game in no-trump, but against me North chose to use Stayman to find out about a major suit fit and after South showed hearts North raised him to four.

"My partner's queen of clubs held the first trick and he continued the suit. Declarer won the second club, drew trumps, ruffed the last club, played out all his diamonds winding up in dummy.

"Then he led the ten of spades. My partner was in with the jack and had to give him either a ruff and discard or lead back a spade. South made four hearts for a top score while other South players made either three no-trump or found a way to go down at four hearts."

Do you see why other players went down at four hearts?

Joe didn't, but Joe could have beaten the hand. He should have played his king of clubs on his partner's queen.

If declarer ducked Joe could have led back a spade and West would have had several safe escape or out cards. If declarer won the trick it would have been up to Joe to rise with the ten of clubs the next time the suit was played and lead the spade as before. Again West would have an out card and South would have been set.

Q—The bidding has been:

PROBLEM: Archimedes Principle.

NEEDED: A block of wood, a bowl, a plate, a balance made with a yardstick with two pans suspended under it.

★ ★ ★

DO THIS: Place the bowl on the plate and fill it with water until the water is ready to overflow. Place the block carefully on the water, and when the water stops overflowing, remove the block again.

Remove the bowl from the plate. Place the block in one of the balance pans, pour the water from the plate into the other balance pan, and the weights of the block and the water are found to be the same.

★ ★ ★

WHY? Archimedes discovered more than 200 years B.C. that an object floating on water will displace a volume of water which has a weight exactly equal to the weight of the object.

The buoyant upward force of the displaced water exactly balances the downward pull of gravity on the floating object.

Wedding Pair Wins 'Rites'

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—A Presbyterian and a Lutheran will be married in a Congregational Church this weekend by a pair of "purchased" ministers.

It all started last spring at a Whitman College auction to raise money for Negro students in the Union of South Africa.

Dr. George H. Ball, a professor of religion, and Dr. Robert A. McKenzie, religious counselor at the college, offered their services to the highest bidder.

Roberta Jensen, Presbyterian from Kirkland, Wash., and David Snow, a Lutheran from Snohomish, Wash., bid $45 and won. Both are seniors at the college.

★ ★ ★

Snow asked Dr. McKenzie, a Presbyterian, to perform the Methodist portion of the service and Dr. Ball, a Methodist, to perform the Lutheran portion.

The ceremony will be held in Bellevue, a Seattle suburb.

But totals for the year to date still are running ahead of those for 1963, Brown said. He blamed cold, rainy weather and a later Labor Day this year for the decline.

British Split on Move to End Religion Classes

LONDON (AP) — A move to take religious teaching out of Britain's schools has some Church of England people worried. They tell many parents just can't be trusted to see that their children are taught religion at all.

The teaching of scripture and a daily act of worship is compulsory in both state and private schools under the Education Act of 1944. Each child must have a minimum of one period of religious instruction each week. And, because the Church of England is the state-established church, the teaching usually conforms with Anglican theology except in cases such as Roman Catholic schools.

While Britain's expensive and exclusive private schools long have had staff clergy to act as chaplains and teach religion, most state schools keep the scripture period to the strict minimum; others just ignore it.

★ ★ ★

Schools up and down the land start their day with a hymn or two and a prayer, but this — as Anglican writer Eric Russell has described it — is a formality "to serve only as a necessary introduction to the more important business of the sports results, and the occasional appeal for a good home for three white mice no longer of use in the biology department."

'FORMAL HYPOCRISY'

"Grace before meals," the same writer has observed, "is also treated as formal hypocrisy and one pupil has been heard to offer a revised version of a familiar prayer: 'For what we are about to receive, may the Lord have mercy upon us.'"

North London parents, answering a recent quiz from the local advancement of State Education Association, came out strongly against religious instruction in schools.

★ ★ ★

"The majority thought religious instruction should be taken out of the school curriculum and left to the churches," said a report compiled from their replies. "Some did not wish their children to be taught views they do not hold themselves. Others feel that, in its present form, religious instruction is so inadequate that it would be better if it were not there.'

Among the alternatives they suggested were instruction in comparative religion, civics, and ethical teaching of a non-theological kind.

CLAIMS 10,000 MEMBERS

The British Humanist Association, which claims about 10,000 members, has entered the campaign against what it calls "religious indoctrination."

H.J. Blackham, director of the association, said at its recent annual meeting:

"It seems to me quite possible that there will be support for a renunciation of the Christian monopoly. It may be possible to form a common Christian-humanist front to campaign for an open educational approach and an end of Christian monopoly in this field."

However, a recent survey by the Institute of Christian Education disclosed strong majority support for continued religious teaching.

Some teachers have written to the papers to say that they consider the daily act of worship a farce and the teaching of scripture largely ineffective. Others argue it is wrong to teach a child a specific religious faith.

PAPER'S COMMENT

The Church of England paper, editorially bewailing the desperate shortage of Christian teachers in Britain, commented:

"The U.S.A. has an interesting case. It could be called Christian in a far more real sense than Britain; yet it insists that no religion is taught in schools. This gives a big impetus to the local churches and their Bible classes. Would the same thing happen here if scripture teaching were taken out of the schools? It is very doubtful. Parents, who would shoulder most of the responsibility for seeing that their children hear the teaching of the faith, have shown very little indication that they would collaborate effectively. And where would the teachers come from?"

Lingerie manufacturers last year reported sales totaling about $718 million.

Escaped Pilot Facing Tests

Details on Laos Flight Undisclosed by Navy

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — The Navy remained silent today on what type of tests were being given to hero pilot Lt. Charles F. Klusmann who escaped from his Communist captors in Laos.

The Navy would say only that Klusmann, 30, San Diego, was in the hospital and undergoing tests.

Efforts last night to reach the flier's wife, Sara, 30, at their home also proved fruitless. Newsmen were told she was out.

Details of Klusmann's escape from a Red prison camp were not disclosed officially by the Navy, and Klusmann declined to answer newsmen's questions when he touched down briefly at Honolulu, Travis Air Force Base, Calif., and San Diego Wednesday night. He merely said it was good to be home and he was feeling good.

* * *

After fleeing from the Communists, Klusmann made his way to Thailand, ostensibly with the help of friendly Meo tribesmen in Laos.

SECRET DEPARTURE

Secrecy shrouded Klusmann's departure from Thailand to Honolulu.

The flier's wife flew to Travis Air Force Base Wednesday to meet him, then flew here with him, where he was reunited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Klusmann of Arcadia, Calif., and his brother, John, 21.

Klusmann and his wife slipped into a waiting limousine and sped off to an undisclosed destination.

* * *

Navy officers had said he would enter the hospital for tests immediately, but some reports indicated he spent the night at a secret hideaway with his wife.

UNDERGOING TESTS

Last night, the Navy reported that Klusmann was in the hospital yesterday, had undergone tests and was due for additional testing.

There was no word on when he would hold a news conference to tell the world how he escaped from the Communists.

One report yesterday out of Laos indicated that Klusmann and five or six other prisoners had been helped to freedom by two prison guards, who escorted the flier to the Meo tribesmen.

* *

Klusmann was shot down by Communist ground fire June 6 while on a photo-reconnaissance mission over Laos. His flight originated from the aircraft carrier USS Kitty Hawk.

During his imprisonment, Klusmann was permitted to send a packet of letters to his wife. His wife also went to the Pentagon in Washington, D.C., to receive a Distinguished Flying Cross awarded to him by the government.

2 Tropical Storms Head for Atlantic

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricanes Cleo and Dora churned northward toward cold Atlantic waters today, a menace only to shipping.

Small craft in the Leeward Islands were warned to stay in port to evade Dora. Shipping between Bermuda and Newfoundland was warned of Cleo's gale winds.

Both are headed into the vast reaches of the North Atlantic, where cold waters will cause them to dissipate.

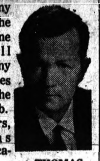
Visit to Masquers Club Stirs Memories

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — This is the boulevard —

The changing face of Hollywood has wrought the destruction of many landmarks. The passing of none of them will evoke as many fond memories as that of the Masquers Club.



THOMAS

For 37 years, the club has stood on Sycamore Avenue, a few steps from the boulevard. It has been a haven of show business, one of the few places of Hollywood's dislocated society where the theatrical breed could mingle.

KEEPS MEMBERSHIP

Originally the house belonged to Antonio Moreno, who is still a member. The place underwent changes over the years, but each enlargement placed new strains on the old structure. This year the Masquers decided it was time to move.

★ ★ ★

There was an attractive offer to sell the property for a high-rise apartment. A new location in the Hollywood area has been scouted by the Masquers, and now they are awaiting the end of negotiations that will spell the doom of the clubhouse.

I paid a call to the old place to rustle a few memories.

THE HEART

The heart of the Masquers is the downstairs bar, and there I found Alan Mowbray, just returned from a long run on Broadway and on the road in "Enter Laughing."

Mowbray has been a Masquer since 1932, and his recollections of the place are rich. Through out its history the club has given dinners in honor of show business notables, though sometimes the kidding of the speech es has made the guest question the honor.

★ ★ ★

"I'll never forget the dinner we gave for Douglas Fairbanks Sr.," Mowbray reminisced. "He was seated between Will Rogers and Willie Collier Sr., and they roasted him to a turn. Doug was so mad that all he did for his speech was get up, say 'thank you,' and sit down."

SAD OCCASION

Then there was the night the famed stuttering comic Joe Frisco was honored with a dinner two weeks before death. Everyone in the room knew his passing was imminent, but no one referred to it. When bearded Wallace Ford was introduced from the audience, Frisco cracked from his wheelchair, "I'm glad there's nobody with a beard up here; I'd think it was my l-l-last supper."

★ ★ ★

The current president, Frank Faylen (Dobie Gillis' apoplectic father), dropped by to report the real estate negotiations were going well. The new facilities will include a steam room and gym, he said, and that should help attract young members, who are needed to perpetuate the Masquers club.

Gun Passes Man's Test With Bang

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — "I'm afraid we'll never see that customer again," said Mrs. Richard Furtwangler as she surveyed the gaping hole in the ceiling of her husband's hardware store.

"Fortunately," she added, "no one was hurt."

Mrs. Furtwangler said a clerk had handed the customer a shotgun from the rack and the man snapped it to his shoulder, aimed at the back of the store, and pulled the trigger.

That was when he — and everyone else in the building — discovered that someone had loaded it with buckshot.

★ ★ ★

The charge knocked down three lights and several ceiling tiles, ripped through a partition and lodged in a concrete wall.

"We still shake when we think about it," Mrs. Furtwangler said.

Satellite Launch Reset for Tonight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Launching of the OGO scientific satellite, frustrated once by ground support equipment trouble, is rescheduled for tonight.

More Great Lakes Ore Is Shipped This Year

CLEVELAND (AP) — The American Iron Ore Association says shipment of iron ore from the upper Great Lakes to ports in the United States and Canada last month totaled 9,473,879 gross tons, up 157,357 tons from August 1963.

That boosted total shipments this year to 41,760,806 tons, compared with 37,285,327 tons for the corresponding period last year.

Hotels Say 'Stay Away'

Squeamish About 'Beatles'

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Americans around Fort Pitt again are refusing to quarter the British.

There are no jingoistic intentions, it's just that local hotelkeepers say they want no part of the Beatles, the British musical quartet, when they perform here Sept. 14.

★ ★ ★

The city's hotels put out the "no vacancy" sign Wednesday for the Beatles, explaining that the group's teen-aged fans go into such a frenzy that the innkeepers fear their plush hostelries may suffer.

THREE GOOD REASONS TO BUY AN ELECTRIC DRYER NOW
• low initial cost
• special installed price
• Edison no-charge service
When it comes to buying a clothes dryer, there are more important things to consider than an incomplete claim about a pennies-per-load operating cost.
Take dryer service, for example. No matter where you buy your electric dryer, Edison will repair or replace electrical parts with no charge for parts or labor.
How do you put a price tag on this extra-special service? One way is to look at what you'd pay for a dryer service policy. Typical charges, in this area, range from $70 to $150 over the first five years. This is the kind of money you save when you dry clothes the safe, gentle electric way.
Also, model for model, an electric dryer costs less to buy than a flame-type does—some electrics are $20 to $40 less.
And now, for a limited time, the price paid for an electric dryer includes its wiring, if any is needed. So you save even more.
What about cost of operation claims? Just this, an electric dryer costs about 5¢-7¢ per load to operate—and there are no other hidden costs.
Look at all the facts. They add up to electricity. EDISON

Hoffa Faces New Tax Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is seeking another $52,000 in back income taxes from Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa.

★ ★ ★

The claim filed in U. S. Tax Court by the Internal Revenue Service says among other items that Hoffa failed to list more than $60,000 in legal fees paid by his Detroit Local 299.

The new tax claim against Hoffa is for the years 1958 and 1960. Hoffa's attorneys are disputing all the claimed tax items and have asked that the trial be held in Detroit.

LAST YEAR

The government last year billed Hoffa for $20,295 in claimed income tax deficiencies for 1959, including $22,930 in legal fees. That case is also still pending.

★ ★ ★

In both cases, attorneys claimed that any legal fees determined as income to Hoffa were necessary to his business as president of the Teamsters and that the penalties involved would have prevented him from continuing to carry out his union duties.

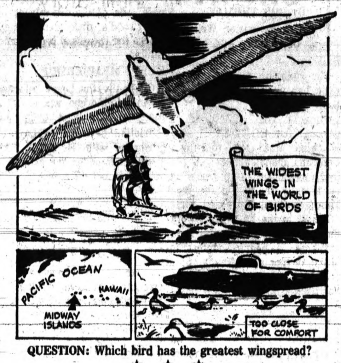
Junior Editors Quiz on ALBATROSS



QUESTION: Which bird has the greatest wingspread?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The California condor, weighing up to 25 pounds, has a wingspread sometimes reaching 11 feet, which is close to the record.

But the wandering albatross, inhabiting seas between 30 and 60 degrees south, although only reaching 20 pounds in weight, can stretch its enormous wings to 11½ feet, and so ranks as the bird with the greatest wingspread of all.

Instead of flapping, the albatross soars or glides through the air. Its narrow wings are especially adapted to this kind of flight.

Another kind of albatross, slightly smaller, created a curious problem to Navy aviators who use the small islands of Midway as a base. After the birds have laid their single egg, they guard it and the chick which later hatches with fierce solicitude.

They insist on nesting right alongside the airstrips, creating a serious problem by colliding with planes when they fly up from or down to their nesting sites.

However, it was found that the birds soared over uneven places where there was updraught of air. Now the navy has built wide flat areas alongside the runways, and the problem appears to be solved.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Look up "albatross" and see if you can find some of the poetic legends which have grown up out of the striking appearance of this bird at sea.

Both as Boundary and Issue

River Divides 2 States

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The thalweg is the scalawag that has set two neighbors scrapping again.

The normally congenial breadbasket states of Iowa and Nebraska have gone to the U.S. Supreme Court for the second time in their long and sometimes bitter boundary hassle.

★ ★ ★

The boundary, in a less precise way than most maps show, is the Missouri River. And the Missouri is as unpredictable and rambunctious a stream as ever plagued an engineer, farmer or lawyer.

The thalweg is the deepest point of the river. It is the lawyer's name for the channel. On the still restless Missouri the thalweg — or channel — is a wandering troublemaker.

CHANNEL SHIFT

In 1888 a sudden channel shift sliced the town of Carter Lake from Iowa and left it on the Nebraska shore adjoining Omaha. In a decision that would continue to gall Nebraskans for three-quarters of a century, the Supreme Court declared the town still belonged to Iowa.

By 1943, Army engineers felt they were getting the Missouri pretty well in hand. So Iowa and Nebraska drew a boundary line down the middle of the river and signed a border compact. Iowa, however, retained Carter Lake.

★ ★ ★

But the thalweg continued to meander and a few months ago boundary commissioners of both states agreed on a new center-of-the-river boundary. Iowa commissioners even conceded conditionally that Carter Lake should go to Nebraska.

But as politicians began to talk peace, lawyers suddenly went to war.

Iowa pressed its claims in court to land it said had been formed on the Iowa side by a gradual deposit of silt over the years. Iowa law holds that such land belongs to the state which wants to use the tracts in question for recreational purposes.

★ ★ ★

Nebraska responded with a U.S Supreme Court suit challenging Iowa's right to take title to the land.

"As far as I can see," William J. Yost, Iowa assistant attorney general, observed, "the only points of jurisdictional difference pertain to avulsion (sudden cutoffs as in the case of Carter Lake) or the location of the thalweg."

Gracie Allen Will Leaves Estate to Husband, Kin

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedienne Gracie Allen's will has been filed for probate. It left her estate to her husband George Burns and their two adopted children.

The will, filed Thursday in Superior Court, left Burns — her partner in one of the most celebrated comedy teams in show business history — all personal effects and her interest in their Beverly Hills home.

★ ★ ★

The remainder was left in trust for the two children, Sandra Joan Luckman and Ronald Burns, both of Beverly Hills, with Burns as trustee.

The petition made no estimate of the estate, except that it exceeds $50,000.

Miss Allen died Aug. 27 of a heart attack. The petition gave her age as 62.

The Idea Got Across

LONDON (UPI) — Michael Pretty, a 22-year-old trade union hater, said he had received 200 replies to his advertisement seeking men to join his firm of strikebreakers. "It's an American idea," he said.

'The Four-Flusher'

By ED LACY

Deliver me from four-flushers and grandstanders!

We were sitting in Doc's old car, me and Doc in the front seat, this flashy-dressed punk, Claude, in the back seat, working a nail file as if he was about to enter a beauty contest instead of robbing the bank on the corner.

Pointing to where the street was torn up in front of the bank, Doc said, "Every morning at 11 a.m. an armored car makes a money delivery.

"Because the street is cut up, they can't stop in front of the bank as usual. See the narrow side street beside the bank?"

★ ★ ★

I nodded, Claude was too busy with his nails to look. It was a short block running down a hill, lined with parked cars.

'OUT OF SIGHT'

"Okay," Doc went on, "it's too narrow to double park, so they've been parking at the bottom of the hill and just around the corner.

"That means when the two guards start walking up to the bank, they're out of sight of the guard seated in the truck.

"The water main will be repaired by Friday, so we have to take them tomorrow. Now listen: before 9 a.m. I'll park my car on the side street, near the bottom of the hill.

★ ★ ★

"At 9:30 we'll meet at a nearby cafeteria. At 10 a.m. Claude leaves to steal a panel truck. At 10:40 I'll drive my car away and Claude backs his truck into the empty space."

'STAKED-OUT'

"I have a florist's pick-up already staked out," Claude said.

★ ★ ★

Doc nodded at me. "At 10:45 you'll join Claude in the panel truck. I'll be along by 10:50 with the guns and masks.

"Claude stays at the wheel. At 11 a.m. as the guards start up the hill, you and I simply open the rear doors of the panel truck, herd the guards inside and Claude takes off. Be over in a few seconds.

"We tie the guards with tape while Claude drives to this empty lot where my car will be parked. We leave the guards in the truck and drive off. I figure the score will be $20,000, or higher. Like it?"

★ ★ ★

I looked at Doc with pure admiration. It takes brains to work out a split second job. Doc pointed to his watch and then toward the hill.

GUARDS APPEAR

At 11 a.m., on the nose, two beefy guards came walking up, each carrying two sacks of money on their shoulders.

Doc grinned. "Hope they're carrying two sacks each tomorrow, no chance to go for their rods. Come on, I'll show you the cafeteria where we'll meet."

Doc drove to a large cafeteria on the next street and we went in for coffee and doughnuts.

★ ★ ★

This Claude is such a show-off that when it came time to pay he only had a $50 bill. The cashier didn't have change so Claude turned to me, said, "Pay my 20-cent tab."

DOC WORRIED

When we dropped him off at his room I told Doc, "A phony flashing a big bill! Why do we need Claude?"

Doc gave me a worried look. It upset him to have friction between the guys he worked with. He put a reassuring hand on my arm.

"Just cool off a second."

"I ain't even hot," I said. "Anybody can see that Claude's a phony. So why do we put up with him?

★ ★ ★

"He'll get us into a lot of trouble because he won't handle the job the way it should be handled."

I was hotter than I said.

'NEED 3 MEN'

"He's tops at picking up a car and a great wheel man. We handle the guns, he does the driving. Has to be a three man job," Doc said.

The next morning we were in the cafeteria at 9:30, had coffee and toast. At 9:50, as we were leaving, I asked Claude, "Well, you freeloading again?"

"Stop it, you cheap jerk," he said, tossing two dimes and his check before the cashier, then paying for my tab with another two-bits making a big thing of it.

★ ★ ★

I walked around nervously, way I am before any job.

TAKES STROLL

At 10:45 I strolled down to where the panel truck should have been.

Doc was still in his car, glancing at his watch.

At 10:55 Doc motioned for me to get in, growled, "Something's happened to Claude, too late now to pull the deal!"

★ ★ ★

At 11 a.m. the guards passed us, loaded with money sacks and Doc groaned.

'SOFT TOUCH'

It would have been such a soft touch.

We drove off at 11:06 and at the top of the hill saw a panel truck coming. Claude stuck his head out. Doc stopped, asked, "What went wrong?"

"I couldn't get a bus or cab to where the truck was, had to walk. I only had a $50 bill on me and nobody would change it."

Man, deliver me from dumb grandstanders!

Court Sword Gesture Embarrasses Britisher

Court, who was taking the antique sword to the blacksmiths for repairs, said later: "I'm embarrassed."

Gregory Is a Show Closer as Well as Show Stopper

WILSON

NEW YORK—I've never understood the actors' honor of "closing the show" . . . but Dick Gregory did a sit-in in his dressing room at Basin St. E the other night to attain it . . . and eventually Frances Faye, his top-billed co-star, opened the show, after being tricked into it, in a nice way.

"Dick's probably lost in a riot . . . won't you get things started . . . we're an hour late . . . honey, baby, dear?" one of the bosses said, prevaricating slightly.

"I imagine Dick's at a Holy Roller meeting," Frances laughed when she went on, unaware that he was in his dressing room sitting it out.

"Don't think it's just prestige," Dick explained to me. "I always close the show, I've never warmed up an audience for somebody else. You have more time."

★ ★ ★

He'd been asked to open the show as a special favor. "I will but I won't be here tomorrow night," he warned.

Dick told me he's unconcerned about billing, and that in Atlantic City last week, when the clubs made no money, he worked without pay. "But I close the show . . ."

★ ★ ★

So he won, momentarily, though by the time the second show came around, and Frances had opened it, there was no time for Dick to perform . . . and he and everybody went home . . . thus in a way Frances opened the second show . . . and closed it, too.

★ ★ ★

Dick kidded both parties, claiming BG wants to move to 1600 Pennsylvania Av. "because he thinks 1600 is a good year," and adding that J. Edgar Hoover and the FBI tap his phones so much that he sometimes calls wild numbers just to confuse them. He claims an FBI voice speaks up, "Hey, cool it, man, we're runnin' out of tape!"

★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "My wife's cooking is so terrible," sighs Larry Mathews, "that the vet says our cat has only five lives left."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "My interest is in the future, because I'm going to spend the rest of my life there."—Charles F. Kettering.

EARL'S PEARLS: It didn't take us long, notes Friedman, to go from the Best Generation to the Beatle Generation.

Jack E. Leonard kidded a famed TV reporter sitting in his audience: "You're not such a big man—if it wasn't for bad news, you couldn't get a job."—That's earl brother.

Lions Go 'Shopping' Against Giants

SPORTS

New York 11 to Show '64 Youth Edition

Detroit Out to Stop 'Grandpappy' Tittle and Speedy Kids

The New York Giants have held their "summer clearance" sale of players and Saturday night in the final exhibition game of the season they will have to take an inventory against one of pro football's vaunted defensive machines, the Detroit Lions.

The game, which is the first part of a football doubleheader in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium, will begin at 6:30 p. m. with the Browns and the Packers playing the nightcap before expected 80,000 fans.

The Lions, disgusted with their showing in the 35-14 loss to the Browns last week, have hardly had their ground defenses touched thus far, having allowed only 240 yards rushing in four games.

The Giants, however, will probably do what the other teams have done against the Lions — pass, and do plenty of it.

TITTLE STARTS

Y. A. Tittle has been announced as the starter and the ageless veteran will have his top three receivers Del Shofner, Frank Gifford and Aaron Thomas all in good health for the first time.

The Gians are presenting "The Grandpappy and his kids" as their 1964 edition in the backfield.

New York started its youth movement several months ago by trading off Dick Modzelewski, Sam Huff and then continuing the clearance sale by chalking off Phil King, Hugh McElhenny, and No. 1 choice Joe Looney.

With Tittle and his 22-year-old understudy Gary Wood, New York will have two ex-GI's, a No. 2 draft choice and a veteran, obtained in a trade, ready to go against the Lions.

The speed sensation has been Clarence Childs who has burned all four exhibition opponents this year with long kickoff returns for touchdowns.

He has gone 108 yards, 99 yards, and 90 yards for touchdowns on kickoff returns.

* * *

A former teammate of U. S. track star Bob Hayes at Florida A&M, Childs stands 6-feet and 180 pounds and also holds titles in the 100 and 220 dashes while in college.

His last two years was spent in the Army.

Another GI, who despite his size is rated the "third fastest" player on the team, is Ernie Wheelwright, a 6-feet-2 and 245 pound fullback whom the Giants picked up as a free agent this year.

He has been in the Army for the past four years after leaving Southern Illinois University.

The No. 2 draft choice Steve Thurlay from Stanford, a 6-foot-3 and 220 pounder has been tabbed "another Alex Webster" by the Giants.

The top rusher on the team thus far has been Dick James whom the Giants obtained from Washington in the trade for Sam Huff and he along with veterans Joe Morrison, Alex Webster and Frank Gifford, plus the rookies have given New Yorkers the reason to believe that this is the best running attack in eight years.

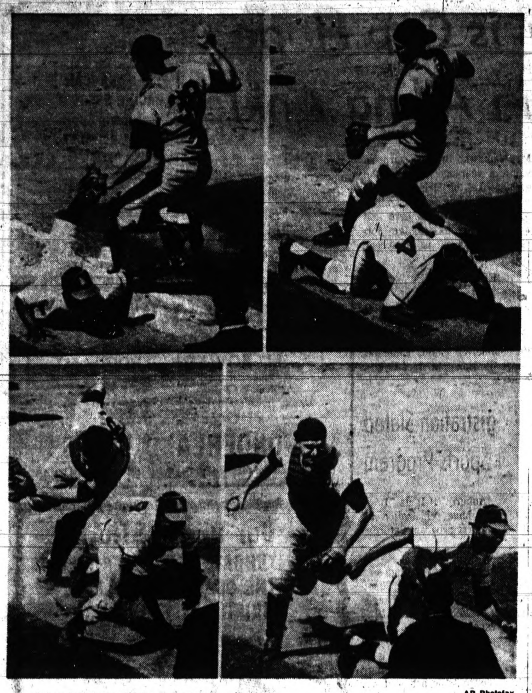
TROUBLE TEAMS

The Giants have been one of the most troublesome teams for the Lions in recent years.

Both quarterbacks, Earl Morrall and Milt Plum are hoping to overcome a psychological factor against the Giants.

Plum, who suffered an arm injury last week, has been throwing all week in practice and he is expected to see some action against New York, although Morrall may get the starting nod.

The game will be televised back to Michigan directly and the Lions will return home immediately afterward, not staying in Cleveland for the second game.



AP Photofax

SLIPPERY RUNNER — The Angels' Vic Power demonstrated a bit of nifty footwork in eluding a tag by New York Yankee catcher John Blanchard in game at Los Angels yesterday. Power was trapped between third and home. He slipped by Blanchard but the Yankees had another defender waiting at the plate who ran Power into a tag at third. Angels won, 4-2.

Deposed 'King' in Lions' Den

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

"The King" of NFL halfbacks, Hugh McElhenny, who was deposed from his throne last week by the New York Giants, came into Detroit Lions' camp yesterday and coach George Wilson isn't apt to let him continue traveling.

* * *

"If he's washed up, then I'd like to have a few more washed-up guys like him around," said Wilson after watching McElhenny run through a series of plays with Milt Plum and Earl Morrall.

The 36-year-old McElhenny, who was the No. 1 draft choice of 49ers in 1952, was released last week by the Giants who have gone on an extensive youth movement.

No one claimed McElhenny and thus he became a free agent allowed to deal for himself.

During his 13 years in pro football he was one of only two players to gain over 10,000 yards by rushing, pass receiving and on kick returns. The other of course being Jimmy Brown.

He was given the name "The King" of offense having accumulated statistics in every department on offense, even passing. His all-pro and pro-bowl honors read like a broken record.

In 1961 when the Minnesota Vikings came into the league he was picked in the veterans' pool of players and with the Vikings at the "old age" of 32 he carried for 570 yards and 4.8 average, had 283 yards as a pass receiver and 214 yards on kick-off returns.

RUSHING RECORD

An All-American in 1951, he set a Pacific Coast Conference rushing record while at Washington and on his first play as a pro in 1952 he took a 40-yard swing pass from Frankie Albert for a touchdown.

The Giants obtained him from the Vikings last year to bolster their drive for the Eastern Division title and McElhenny was a big factor.

"I'm in better shape now than at anytime in the last few years," he said after being released by the Giants, but the New York Giants which has shuffled away such top name players as Sam Huff, Dick Modzelewski and Phil King, also decided McElhenny couldn't be part of their youth movement.

Perspiration poured from his brow as he ran play after play but "you didn't see him let up," commented Wilson, "he still has a darn good set of legs."

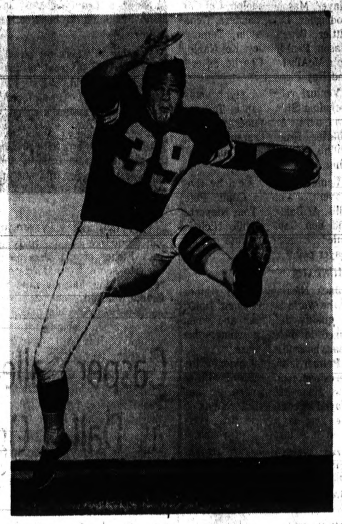
The Lions will probably decide to hold onto the veteran and this will mean cutting another player, probably a back.

Chances are it will mean putting Pat Batten on injured reserve for the season, or cutting a defensive back.

* * *

No one made a claim on Larry Ferguson who was put on waivers this week and thus he becomes a free agent.

Rookie defensive end John Miller was put on the injured reserve list yesterday. He has been out of drills for nearly two weeks with a leg injury.



KING IN CAMP — One of pro football's greatest halfbacks, Hugh McElhenny, called "The King" of offense in the NFL, came into Detroit Lions' camp yesterday as a free agent looking for a job. Chances are the Lions will make room for the 36-year-old veteran who was released by the Giants last week.

Sackett Tames Foe With 5-Hitter, 4-1

Special to The Pontiac Press

BATTLE CREEK — Pontiac's Huron-Airway rode the right arm of pitcher Don Sackett to a 4-1 triumph over Battle Creek in the opening game of the 30th annual Michigan State Amateur Baseball tournament last night.

Sackett, 31-year-old right-hander, scattered five hits and struck out 10 batters to push Huron-Airway into the second round of the double elimination tourney.

Sharing game honors with Sackett was center fielder John Lucadam who cracked out a two-run home run and a single and drove in three runs.

The winners jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the opening inning on a single by Bob Rabaja, the first of four hits for the second-sacker, a walk to Al Barkeley and run-scoring singles by Lucadam and Chuck Johnson.

Lucadam powered his homer in the third after a walk to Barkeley to complete the scoring for Huron-Airway.

HURLER COASTS

Sackett was coasting along with a no-hitter for four innings, but Bob Klein broke the spell with a single in the fifth.

Butch Berry, who collected two of the losers five hits, banged a two-out homer in the top of the ninth to rob Sackett of a shutout.

In games today, Flint meets Jackson, Dearborn faces Detroit and defending champion Kalamazoo takes on Saginaw in first round games.

Huron-Airway will meet the winner of the Flint-Jackson game Saturday at noon at Bailey Stadium, located just off M-78 on the eastern edge of town.

Teen-Age Swimmer Conquers Channel

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—"We had no doubts she would make it," said the proud father of 14-year-old Leonore Modell, when he was told his daughter swam the English Channel Thursday.

* * *

The home of the Sacramento carpenter burst into happy shouting at the end of Leonore's marathon, 15½ hour swim from France to England. She was the youngest person ever to complete the dangerous swim.

George Modell, his wife, La Nell, 30, and their son, George, 7, were informed of Leonore's triumph by a phone call from The Associated Press.

Another daughter, Cindy, 12, was competing in a swimming meet here.

PINS AND NEEDLES

"We've been on pins and needles for the past few days," said Modell, who has trained his older daughter as a swimmer since she was 5 years old.

"We sat around listening to the radio. We knew she'd make it but we didn't know how long it would be. We thought it would be between 14 and 15 hours."

* * *

For Leonore, her triumph was the climax of years of long training sessions at local swimming pools under the direction of her father and coach Paul Herron of the Sacramento YMCA, who has swam the channel three times.

Last year she swam cold Lake Tahoe in the High Sierra, crossing the 21-mile long lake in 14 hours, 34 minutes.

For Leonore's father, the channel swim was a $7,000 investment — and he says he's deep in a financial hole from it.

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — The count now stands Sovereign 5, Kurrewa V 2.

The Royal Thames Yacht Club still has not selected the challenger for the America's Cup, starting Sept. 15 with Constellation as defender.

The selection committee has five more days to make up its mind.

Sovereign, trailing twice, wound up beating Kurrewa V by one minute, 23 seconds in a race which required almost two hours to complete the final six legs.

Minor League Umpire Fired

International League Releases Gustavo

TORONTO (AP)— An International League baseball umpire, Dick Gustavo of Milford, Mass., was released Thursday night before the game between Syracuse and Toronto, Thomas H. Richardson, president of the league, announced.

* * *

The umpire had been involved in two heated arguments during the first two games of the series. Sparky Anderson, Leaf manager, was ejected Tuesday night after a base-running incident when Gustavo was umpiring at first base.

Chiefs' Manager Frank Carswell and second baseman George Smith were tossed out the next night in a first-inning argument at home plate.

But Richardson said his firing of Gustavo had nothing to do with the two incidents. "It was strictly a personal affair between Gustavo and myself," he added.

* * *

Gustavo, an umpire since 1950, was officiating for the second year in the International League.

U. of M. Building Plans Include Sports Structure

ANN ARBOR (AP)—University of Michigan Athletic Director H. O. (Fritz) Crisler announced Thursday that preliminary drawings and cost estimates for the new Events Building will be received shortly for approval.

* * *

The building will house the school's basketball arena.

When the plans for the building, as well as other facilities for campus activities, are approved and necessary changes made, the final drawings and specifications will be submitted again for final approval and the invitation for bids.

* * *

The bidding phase of the project probably will not be ready before January 1, and construction time is expected to take from 12 to 16 months after the bids have been approved, Crisler said.

Bench Warmer Sparkles as Chiefs Down Oilers

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Chiefs, who had some trouble winning ball games last year, may have had the answer sitting on the end of the bench all the time.

Charley Warner, a runner from Prairie View A&M, spent most of his rookie season watching the Chiefs dissipate the American Football League championship they had won a year earlier as the Dallas Texans.

Warner did have one memorable game. That was against Denver when he returned a kickoff 103 yards for a touchdown.

But against the Houston Oilers Thursday night, he had a bigger game. Warner scored one touchdown on a 97-yard kickoff return, ran back a punt 80 yards setting up a field goal and helped the Chiefs whack the Oilers 27-17 for their fourth exhibition victory in five starts.

LONG RETURN

Warner's 80-yard punt return came with eight seconds left in the half and set up Tommy Brooker's field goal which gave the Chiefs a 13-3 lead.

After Houston narrowed the margin to 13-10, Warner took off on his 97-yard TD scamper, giving Kansas City a 20-10 lead. After that, the Chiefs coasted.

There are no games scheduled tonight but both the American and National Leagues move back into action Saturday.

In the AFL, winless Boston visits Denver, Buffalo and New York meet at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and Oakland is at San Diego.

Saturday's NFL schedule is headed by the annual doubleheader at Cleveland with the Browns hosting Green Bay and New York playing Detroit.

Freehan, Wickersham Two Tigers Have High Hopes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Catcher Bill Freehan and pitcher Dave Wickersham are two of the Detroit Tigers who appear to have the best chance to achieve some lofty goals in the last month of the baseball season.

Freehan, playing his first full season behind the plate for the Tigers, hopes to maintain his plus .300 average. He is now batting .306, good enough for fourth place in the American League.

Wickersham (16-10) hopes to become the first Detroit pitcher since 1961 to win 20 games.

He is scheduled to pitch to night as the Tigers open a three game weekend series against the Senators.

Wickersham could get as many as seven starts in the final month which would give him a good chance to crack the charmed, 20-game goal.

TOUGH TASK

Southpaw Mickey Lolich also has an outside chance for 20 victories. But he only has 14 victories and faces a tougher task.

Al Kaline, still limping and below the .300 mark, will also have to go some to reach his lifetime figure of .309.

Several other races for team leadership remain close as the Tigers continue their fight to finish in fourth place.

Detroit gained a half game on the third-place New York Yanks Thursday as the Yanks lost to Los Angeles, 4-2, but lost a half game to Baltimore. The Orioles defeated Minnesota, 4-1. The Tigers now are 7½ games behind New York and trail Baltimore by 11½.

Dick McAuliffe leads Norm Cash by one in the contest for team home run leader, 22-21, while Cash has a 73-71 edge over Don Demeter in the race for the runs batted in leadership.

WANTS STABILITY

Demeter, staging a late-season batting surge, has his eyes set on winning a place with the Tigers next season at one position—and staying there. He's played all the outfield positions and first base for them this year and admits he doesn't like it.

Two other pitchers, Hank Aguirre and Phil Regan will both have to go some if they are to finish the season with .500 pitching records.

* * *

Aguirre (4-6) has been the victim in some close games, while Regan (5-9) has had his troubles all year and pitches only when Manager Charlie Dressen needs to rest some of the other hurlers. It is doubtful that he'll start again this year.

With a 6-3 record on the current road trip, the Tigers have upped their record on the road to 24-37. They still prefer to play at home where they show a 36-28 mark.

Claude Osteen is slated to open for Washington tonight.

Teeing Off

By BRUNO L KEARNS

Bobby Nichols, winner of the Carling World Open at Oakland Hills last weekend, can fatten his bank account to as much as $85,000 for the next three-week period.

Having won $35,000 as the World Open champion, Nichols and three other top names will be competing for the $50,000 top prize in the World Series of Golf, September 12-13 at Akron. Even $15,000 for second place would give him $50,000 for 3 weeks of golf.

As PGA champion, Nichols will meet Master's Champ Arnold Palmer, U. S. Open Champ Ken Venturi and British Open Champ Tony Lema in World Series foursome.

Strangely, despite his one stroke win over Palmer in the World Open, Nichols has been chosen for a 4th place finish as result of a poll of the players competing at Oakland Hills.

Palmer received 19 of 32 votes of players polled, getting the support of favorite from Dave Ragan, Tommy Aaron, Gary Player, Mason Rudolph, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Doug Sanders, Gene Littler, Bruce Devlin, Tommy Mason, Paul Harney, Kel Nagle, Bob McAllister, Charlie Sifford and Ray Floyd.

Venturi received eight votes including Billy Casper, Tommy Jacobs, Al Geiberger, Bob Charles, Bruce Crampton, Bob Collins, Joe Campbell and Jeff Hunt.

Lema was backed by five players, Jackie Cupit, Pete Allis, Al Balding, Tom Nieporte and Bob Gajda, while Nichols failed to get one vote of 32-player poll.

NICKLAUS "PASSES"

Jack Nicklaus, twice winner of the World Series event, failed to qualify this year and when asked to pick the winner this year, he said, "I pass."

Palmer is the co-holder of the Firestone course record with 65 and since 1960 when he has played 24 competitive rounds on the long layout he has averaged 70.25 strokes per round.

His average is two strokes better per round than Venturi who has traveled the course 19 times for 72.1, while Lema is 72.3 and Nichols 73.5.

1965 WORLD SITE

There are several locations being speculated as sites for the 1965 World Open tournament, including Whitemarsh near Philadelphia, Brookline CC in Mass., and Pleasant Valley CC near Worcester, Mass.

The odds and the leading rumor favors Pleasant Valley.

* * *

Speaking of the World Open, prior to the tournament, a poll was taken among local writers as to the winner and the winning score, and this writer, Jere Craig and photographer Phil Webb also of The Press all predicted 278 and Arnold Palmer to finish second.

Of course everyone differed as to the winner, but for picking score and Palmer's position, the sponsor passed on his favorite product . . . and Craig is a tea lover.

TOURNEY COSTS

Carlings officials estimate the cost of the tournament to run about $500,000 not including the $200,000 purse.

Big expenditures were the travel expenses to foreign entries and radio, TV and press costs.

Total crowd figures were estimated at 51,000 for four days, however, many observers who had seen the big tournaments at Oakland Hills, feel the figures, especially 12,500 for the final day were somewhat conservative.

Estimates also figure that Oakland Hills would realize a net of $60,000 from the event.

Speedy State Driver Paces Hot Rod Field

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The first 200 mile per hour run in the National Hot Rod Association Championships was recorded Thursday by a professional drag racer piloting a horsepower monster fed with exotic fuel.

Connie Kalitta of Mount Clemens, Mich., was caught a ta flat 200 m.p.h. at the end of the quarter-mile acceleration test from a standing start.

Kalita was the top qualifier in the time trials on the opening day of the WHRA's national championships at Indianapolis Raceway Park. He drove a supercharged "slingshot"-type racer in the Class AA dragster competition, in which use of airplane fuels and other high-powered mixtures is allowed.

Don Garlits of Tampa, Fla., hit 201.34 m.p.h. at Great Meadows, N.J., last month for the national record, but his best performance in the opening trials Thursday was only 190.26 m.p.h. He was runner-up in the national eliminations last year.

'Night Train' Takes Track—Down Aisle

Dick "Night Train" Lane, veteran defensive halfback of the Lions was married in a quiet ceremony this morning in Detroit to schoolteacher Mary Cowser.

Lane, a 12-year veteran in the NFL, recently underwent surgery on his knee and is not expected to be ready to play for a few weeks.

This is his third marriage. He was married to the late Dinah Washington, famous singer, who died suddenly last December.

SITTING ON DAVENPORT — Jim Davenport of the San Francisco Giants winds up being a cushion for pitcher Jack Fisher of the Mets on this play at home. Davenport tried to score from third on a wild pitch, but the catcher retrieved the ball in time to throw out the runner. The Giants won, 3-1.

Casper Called Favorite as Dallas Open Begins

DALLAS (AP) — Billy Casper, Mason Rudolph and Juan 'Chi Chi' Rodriguez were most prominent today as a field of 150 moved out in the $40,000 Dallas Open Golf Tournament.

Casper, the year's fifth leading money winner, is the biggest name here since Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Tony Lema, Gary Player and Ken Venturi are not competing.

* * *

Because of his ability to position his shots to suit the tight 6,658-yard Oak Cliff Country Club course, Casper is the favorite.

He will be seeking his 24th tournament victory in 10 years on the tour, during which he has become the third all - time money winner with $350,335.

Only Arnold Palmer and Julius Boros are ahead of him.

Rudolph was eyed as a distinct threat since he has gone through 47 official tournaments since Feb. 1963, and finished in the money. Currently he is the ninth leading money winner this year with $45,229.

BIG TALKER

Rodriguez, the talkative and colorful player from Puerto Rico, first broke into the big check field in the Dallas Open of 1962 when he finished in a tie for third. Since then he has become one of golf's biggest money-winners.

Winners of 13 tournaments this year are in the field along with 12 of the 25 top money-winners. The 13 tournaments were captured by 10 players with Rodriguez, Casper and Mike Souchak each winning two.

* * *

Souchak is considered a threat also. He is making a stirring comeback this year and now is playing in the state where he snapped out of a slump that had extended for three years.

When he won the Houston Open in April, Souchak was on the way again. He has since won the Memphis Open and pocketed $38,659.

Billy Maxwell, the red-haired Texan, is here to defend his championship. The Dallas Open was last held in 1962, skipping last year because the PGA was in Dallas.

Since winning the 1962 Dallas Open Maxwell hasn't managed a victory and is only 48th among the money-winners currently.

U.S. Davis Cup Hope Rests in Ailing Ankle

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — The big question surrounding America's hopes of keeping the Davis Cup was expected to be answered today when Dennis Ralston tested his twisted ankle on the center court at the West Side Tennis Club.

The onetime problem boy from Bakersfield, Calif., played Terry Ryan of South Africa in the first round of the National Tennis Championships.

* * *

"I still have some pain in my ankle but I have to give it a trial," Ralston said. "We'll see how it stands up."

Ralston, who with Chuck McKinley captured the big silver trophy from the Australians last year in Adelaide, Australia, is counted on to help defend the Cup against the same Aussies Sept. 25-27 in Cleveland.

However, it is not the Davis Cup which has his immediate attention.

"I want to win the national championship," Ralston said after practice Thursday. "That's the biggest thing in my mind at the moment. No, I'm not looking past this tournament to the Davis Cup. I'm thinking of winning here."

Ralston hurt his right ankle in the Casino Tournament at Newport, R.I., last month, defaulting in the finals to teammate McKinley. He was getting along fine until last weekend when he stepped into a hole at Southampton and aggravated the injury.

The championships swung into full action here today with 32 matches in the men's division — all in the lower half of the draw — and first and second round matches in the women's division.

* * *

Both of the defending champions — Rafael Osuna of Mexico and Maria Bueno of Brazil — make their first appearance.

Osuna, the lightning quick Mexican who was a surprise victor a year ago, plays Claude de Gronkel of Belgium. Miss Bueno, who defeated Australia's Margaret Smith both here and at Wimbledon, took on Jan Morris of Rhodesia in a second round match.

SEEDED SEVENTH

Nicola Pietrangeli of Italy, seeded seventh, played Alain Besson of France and Fred Stolle of Australia, the Wimbledon runner-up to Roy Emerson, faced Giordano Maioli of Italy.

Two of the most impressive winners were teenagers, Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif., who upset Maria Darmon of Mexico 6-1, 6-4, and 15-year-old Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., 6-0, 6-3 winner over Anna Owen of England.

Registration Slated for Sports Program

The Auburn Heights Boys' Club will have registration for its fall sports program Saturday morning.

* * *

The grades four-through-six junior bowling and touch football programs will have registration at 10:30 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. respectively.

Senior boys (grades 7-10) will sign up at 11:30 a.m. (touch football) and noon (bowling). The registrants do not need any personal equipment for either program.

* * *

Director Sam Sheehy reports all club members and prospective club members are eligible. Those who can not make the Saturday morning registration should call Sheehy at UL 2-1336.

Hole-in-One Counts

Allan Denham of Pontiac made his hole-in-one count at Waterfor Hills Country Club Tuesday.

Al, playing with three other members of the GM Truck League, aced the 155-yard, No 7 hole using a 4-iron. He carded a 38 for the round.

Detroit Nine in Title Tilt

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit meets Washington today in its bid for a fifth straight National Amateur Baseball Federation championship.

The John F. Ivory team strengthened its chance for the fifth title Thursday with a pair of victories over previously unbeaten teams in the double elimination tournament, by downing Washington, 5-2, and nipping Pittsburgh in the night game, 5-4.

Detroit first-baseman George White broke up a 4-4 tie in the Pittsburgh game in the seventh inning when he socked a solo homer. The Ivory team has won all of its four games in the tournament.

A record 210,500 families camped at state parks in Michigan last year. The figure was up almost 12 per cent from 1962.

No Resting for Mantilla

By The Associated Press

Felix Mantilla has moved around so much this season, Johnny Pesky would like to give him a rest.

But you don't bench a guy who's hitting home runs at a faster rate than Dick Stuart.

★ ★ ★

The 30-year-old Mantilla continued his amazing onslaught Thursday night, clouting two homers and two singles, driving in three runs, as Boston defeated Kansas City 7-5.

The homers increased Mantilla's season total to 24, only 11 short of the number he hit altogether in his first eight seasons in the majors.

Stuart leads the Red Sox with 30 homers — he also is tied for fourth in the American League — but the slugging first baseman has hit his homers at the rate of one for every 17 times at bat. Mantilla has connected once every 14 trips to the plate.

ON BENCH

That's why he isn't getting the rest that his past history indicates he needs every once in a while. Actually Mantilla received a rest through the first two months of the season.

The veteran didn't start playing regularly until near the end of June, but since then he's moved more often than Boddy Kennedy.

Mantilla has started at six positions — all three outfield posts, second base, shortstop and third base. He played left field for his latest outburst.

His first homer opened a two-run fifth inning that tied the game 3-3. Mantilla's run-scoring single gave the Red Sox another deadlock, 4-4, in the sixth. He finished his one-man attack with a bases-empty homer in the eighth.

In other AL games, Baltimore defeated Minnesota 4-1 and Los Angeles stopped New York 4-2.

RADATZ WINS

Dick Radatz recorded his 13th victory in relief for Boston, allowing two hits in the final four innings. He struck out six. One of the hits off Radatz was Wayne Causey's run-producing single in the sixth that put the Athletics into a 5-4 lead.

The Red Sox, however, struck back in the seeventh on Ed Bressoud's two-run homer off reliever John Wyatt.

★ ★ ★

The Orioles increased their league lead to one game over the idle Chicago White Sox. Wally Bunker pitched a six-hitter for his 14th triumph against four defeats, giving up a run in the fourth inning on singles by Harmon Killebrew and Jimmie Hall, a walk and a grounder.

Jack Brandt ripped a three-run double with two out in the seventh inning, breaking a 1-1 tie. The blow came off starter Camilo Pascual, 13-10, after Baltimore loaded the bases on Luis Aparicio's single, a double by Brooks Robinson and an intentional walk to Charlie Lau.

★ ★ ★

The third-place Yankees fell four games behind the Orioles, getting only four hits off the combined pitching of Ken McBride and Bob Lee. McBride went the first five innings and gained only his second victory since June 11.

Lee, who held the Yankees hitless, made his 62nd appearance, tying the AL record for a rookie held by Radatz.

★ ★ ★

Jim Fregosi and Lou Clinton each drove in two Angel runs, Fregosi cracking a two-run homer in the first inning and Clinton belting a two-run double in the fifth.

BLOWS LATIN GASKET — Camilo Pascual of the Minnesota Twins (center) appeals to manager Sam Mele to help in a verbal battle with umpire Larry Napp. The Twins' pitcher thought he had a third strike past Baltimore's Jackie Brandt with the bases loaded. When Brandt doubled on the next pitch, Pascual charged Napp, was tossed out of the game, and finally had to be dragged to the dugout.

Pascual Lets Latin Temper Go Wild Against Umpire

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Camilo Pascual is usually a mild-mannered Cuban cavalero who prefers to let his big curve ball do his talking for him.

But Thursday Pascual blew his Latin gasket over a call by umpire Larry Napp on a pitch that the Senor insisted should have been a strike.

★ ★ ★

Pascual unleashed a torrent of half-Spanish, half-English names, phrases and what-have-you as he charged off the mound ready to split Napp's lip — even if Knapp did keep his mask on during the height of the fury.

Napp heard only one of the Pascual's unprintable comments and threw him out of the game.

That did little more than to incense Pascual to greater mayhem.

DRAGGED AWAY

Camilo had to be forcibly restrained, then half dragged toward the Minnesota Twins' dugout by bear-hugging catcher Ron Henry. Twins' Manager Sam Mele had to help push Pascual away from Napp.

The call that infuriated Pascual came with the bases loaded, two out and the count 2-2 on Baltimore's Jackie Brandt in the seventh inning of Thursday's 4-1 triumph by the Orioles.

★ ★ ★

Napp called the pitch a ball. Pascual signaled his disagreement with a flip of his head, but said nothing. He went back to pitching to Brandt.

Brandt then hit the next pitch for a double to left-center that scored the Orioles' three winning runs.

As the last run crossed the plate, Camilo charged Napp. The rhubarb ensued with no blows landed, although Pascual clearly would have tried had he not been restrained.

"I called him every name I could think of," Pascual recounted later when his blood pressure had gone down a few points. "I wanted to hit him. I would have, too."

FIRST TIME

Pascual, who is convinced Napp has some sort of grudge against him but won't talk too much about it, was thrown out of a game for the first time in his professional career.

"I'm usually pretty good natured about the bad calls," Pascual said. "But this one today was just too much. The pitch was right down the pipe. Napp knows where the pitch was. He called it a ball before it ever got to the plate."

Napp said, "It was a ball inside. He didn't protest until the hit. Why didn't he protest when it was called?"

Henry, who said he grabbed Pascual because he feared Camilo would do something which could draw a suspension, agreed with Pascual.

"It wasn't even close, I'd swear on a stack of bibles," Henry said. "Pascual just had the umpire faked out. He was looking for a fastball, and it was a good change-up over the inside corner.

Baseball in South

Barons Spur Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Professional baseball—once nearly extinguished here because of racial segregation—made a resounding comeback in 1964, thanks to the exciting Birmingham Barons.

Whether they win or lose in the hot Southern League pennant race, the Barons made a hit with this steel city—once one of the most enthusiastic baseball towns in America.

"I think I've enjoyed this year as much as any year I've been in baseball," said the man responsible for rejuvenating the Barons after a two-year absence, owner Albert Belcher.

The Barons, who completed their home season Wednesday night, drew 94,998 fans in 62 regular season games at remodeled Rickwood Field.

Almost forgotten is that day in November 1961, when Belcher said:

"I never regretted anything so much in my life. Due to circumstances beyond my control, the Barons will be unable to play in Birmingham this year."

ORDINANCE

He was referring to an ordinance which prohibited competition in Birmingham between Negroes and whites in athletic contests. Now that ordinance is gone, but then it meant the end of the Barons in the now-defunct Southern Association, and the end of professional baseball here after 62 years.

Belcher, aided by the Kansas City Athletics, formed a colorful Baron team this year which led the league for most of the season and is now engaged in a nip-and-tuck fight for the pennant.

"The players were very popular with the fans," Belcher said. "Our Latin American boys were just as popular as any of them, if not more so."

★ ★ ★

Belcher said that the attendance total, though pleasing, is actually below what he expected.

There were no racial incidents this season.

Belcher said he believes the new Southern League will be back in strength in 1965, although there may be some shifts. The working agreement between the Athletics and the Barons still stands.

"The Southern League is doing good. The finances are in good shape, and the president says he's very happy with it," the Baron owners said.

Swim Coach Calls Team 'Best Ever'

Teen-Age Dominated U. S. Olympic Squad Is Lauded

NEW YORK (AP) — "The greatest swimming team ever." That was the tribute paid to the teen-age dominant American swimming team by famed Bob Kiphuth today following a record-smashing jamboree in the six day Olympic swimming trials that ended Thursday.

* * *

Six world records were battered and one tied in the stiff competition for berths on the U.S. team. This followed a record-busting National AAU championship meet a month ago.

"The competition is so tough in the trials that the Olympics are a breeze after them," said Paula Jean Pope, the three-time Olympic diver trying to make it four at he age of 29.

"This team is great because of its strength and depth in almost every event," said Kiphuth, former Olympic coach who has been watching the Olympics since 1920.

Blanks Phillies, 6-0

Larsen Recalls Mound Gem

By The Associated Press

Don Larsen hasn't seen a linescore like that in five years.

The 35-year-old Houston right-hander had his memory refreshed Thursday night as he strung out the zeroes on the Connie Mack Stadium scoreboard, checking the National League leading Philadelphia Phillies 6-0 on four hits for his first shutout since May 30, 1959.

* * *

Larsen, who pitched a perfect game for the New York Yankees in the 1956 World Series, had not pitched a shutout in 35 starts since leaving the Yankees five years ago and beginning a short tour of the majors that took him to Kansas City, Chicago and San Francisco.

Acquired by the Colts early in the season, Larsen has been used primarily in relief but has made five starts in the last five weeks, breaking even in four decisions while putting together an eye-opening 1.58 earned run average.

COMPLETE GAME

Larsen, now 3-6 on the season, allowed only one Philadelphia base runner as far as third — Richie Allen, who tripled with two out in the eighth. But Larsen bore down, got Johnny Callison on an easy fly and then put the finishing touches on his second complete game in 12 days.

* * *

Despite the loss, the Phillies maintained their 5½-game bulge in the pennant race with 30 games to go as Lew Burdette of the Chicago Cubs shut out second-place Cincinnati 3-0 on four hits.

San Francisco's Gaylord Perry pitched a five-hitter in the Giants' 3-1 victory over the New York Mets and Wade Blasingame allowed only seven hits as Milwaukee belted St. Louis 7-0. Pittsburgh and the Los Angeles Dodgers were not scheduled.

Mike White slammed two doubles and a pair of singles for the Colts, who gave Larsen more than enough working room with a five-run sixth inning rally highlighted by Carroll Hardy's two-run homer.

* * *

Walt Bond's single, a double by Bob Aspromonte and Hardy's homer off Dennis Bennett produced the first three runs before singles by Jerry Grote, Eddie Kasko and Bob Lillis plus White's double wrapped up the uprising.

Burdette, now 10-7, got the only run he needed in the second inning when Len Gabriels drew a walk off John Tsitouris, stole second and scored on Ron Campbell's first major league hit. A walk and Billy Williams' homer in the fourth finished the scoring.

Billy McCool, the Reds' rookie reliever, turned in a sharp performance over the final three innings, striking out seven of nine men.

Memo to NL Pitchers: Pitch, Duck—Pray

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Memo to pitchers: Throw to Roberto Clemente outside, inside, high or low — then duck, and pray it's not a hit.

"I'll always try to go with the pitch," says the star right fielder of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Not only does he try, he often succeeds. At least often enough to be in a strong position to capture his second National League batting title in four seasons.

Clemente is hitting .341 and has a good shot at the .206-hit mark. He has 176. In 1961, the year he won the batting crown with .351, he collected 201 safeties.

This also likely will be the fifth straight year he will have topped the .300 mark.

FOOT IN BUCKET

Clemente, a right-handed batter who steps away from the plate with his left foot when he swings, is noted for his ability to hit to right field.

In this park (Forbes Field) before this park (forbes Field) because of the wall," he said.

The curving wall allows many balls hit against it to roll or bounce by the fielder for extra base hits.

Why don't pitchers jam Clemente to keep him from hitting to right field?

* * *

"Most of the time I can hit the inside ball to right field," he said.

It also can be added that Clemente is not averse to hitting the ball to center and left fields.

Because of the spaciousness of Forbes Field, Clemente says his not good for power hitting.

"If you can get a line drive in this park you're in good shape," he said.

This doesn't mean that Clemente hits are all of the one-base variety. He hit at least 10 home runs in each of the four previous seasons, the most being 23 in 1961. This season he has hit eight homers and driven in a team-leading 72 runs.

"If I tried hard I might hit 20 to 25 homers a year," he said. "But if you hit for a high average, you will help the team more."

Farmers Not Kidding on Livestock Holdback

OWOSSO (AP)—Spend a few hours at a livestock auction yard these days and you'll discover that the National Farmers Organization (NFO) isn't kidding about its plan to withhold meat animals until prices get higher.

The situation was typical Thursday near this east-central Michigan community of about 17,000.

* * *

A few hundred NFO members gathered at the Owosso Livestock Sales Co. yards. Two windshields got cracked and some tires suddenly lost their air, but there were no arrests or serious violence.

Tempers flared and calmed as livestock trucks came—and mostly left without unloading. Leaders bargained in the dusty air across a police car deck and about 50 officers stood at yard entrances.

OBJECTIVES ACHIEVED

And through it all the farm group's major objective was achieved—keep cattle off the market.

Usually about 1,000 head are auctioned at the weekly session. Only 150 were sold Thursday and those had arrived before the NFO men showed up.

* * *

The scene is being repeated daily at livestock yards around Michigan—at places like Charlotte and Howell that hardly make a dent in the national market on their own, but collectively add up to big business.

The tactic is simple: NFO farmers throw a human line around the yard entrances and try to talk men bringing stock to auction into taking it back home until prices improve.

ANNUAL CONTRACTS

The NFO, headquartered in Iowa and organized in more than a score of states, wants guaranteed annual contracts at higher prices with meat processors.

Paul Jones, a co-owner of the Owosso Auction, said as the day progressed that he just wanted to sell what stock was in the yard. His clerical help sat idly in the old office above the pens, watching the angry farmers mill about outside.

* * *

Late - afternoon agreement eventually came: If the 150 head in the yard could be sold, Jones would close the gates for the day.

* * *

The NFO wants him to keep them closed until prices get higher.

But ranks apparently are not completely disciplined in the NFO. The leadership was willing to let in a couple of small trucks that were on the edge of the yard but hadn't unloaded.

* * *

The ranks of farmers, estimated at 400 by Matthew Satkowiak of Grand Blanc, shouted down the suggestion that a couple of more animals be let into the sale.

* * *

The brief auction finally took place.

September ranks second to June as a wedding month in the United States.

Auto Stocks Still Stable

Trade Mart Creeps Slowly Up

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made a slight gain in slow pre-Labor Day trading early this afternoon.

Auto stocks held firm despite the approach of a strike deadline five days away.

★ ★ ★

Steels, rubbers, electrical equipments, drugs and building materials were a little higher.

Most gains were fractional, but a scattering of blue chips rose a point or so, bolstering the averages in spite of scattered losses by other leading issues.

MANY STABLE

Many stocks were unchanged or showed very narrow movements.

The three-day Labor Day weekend is always a milestone and sometimes marks a turning point for business and stocks.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .2 at 317.5 with industrials up .5, rails up .1 and utilities off .2.

General Motors held unchanged at its historic high. Ford and Chrysler inched upward. American Motors and Studebaker also were unchanged.

AMERICAN HIGHER

Prices were generally higher in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange. Stanrock Uranium was active and fractionally higher as a proxy fight developed. Gains of about a point were made by Kawecki Chemical, Mack Trucks warrants and Data-Control systems. Among fractional gainers were TWA warrants, Continental Materiel, Prairie Oil, Livingston Oil and Rusco. Down about a point each were Prentice-Hall, Peruvian Oils and Mirro Aluminum.

★ ★ ★

Corporate bonds showed a higher trend. U.S. Government bonds declined.

Plan to Study Ordinances

Planners to Review Rules for Businesses

City Planning Commissioners have indicated concern over five types of businesses and the city ordinances that govern them.

★ ★ ★

Planning Director James L. Bates was directed Wednesday by the planning commission to update or draw up new ordinances to cover the businesses.

Of concern to city planners are car washes, gas stations, junk yards, drive-ins and abandoned autos.

These activities are covered by existing ordinances, but need updating.

★ ★ ★

In other business Wednesday, the planning commission okayed rezoning, subject to final approval of the City commission, of property at 18 Gage.

REZONING ASKED

Owned by Community National Bank, land just west of 18 Gage was requested rezoned to Commercial 1. In addition, the vacating of the east-west alley from Glenwood to the east property line was also recommended.

★ ★ ★

A CNB spokesman said the bank plans to renovate and expand its location at 18 Gage.

EASY LIVING — This Handi-Van and two 1000 series Value-Vans are now offered by GMC Truck & Coach Division with travel conversion options that turn them into mobile homes ideally suited for weekend and vacation campers. Among the conversion features are fold-away sleeping beds and bunks that can accommodate five persons.

AFL-CIO Head Urges Voting

Clearly Backs LBJ Without Using Name

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Meany, AFL-CIO president, in his annual Labor Day message, called on union members today to register and vote in the upcoming presidential election — and left no doubt for whom he thinks they should vote.

"This is one of the rare pivotal elections in American history," Meany said. Three days ago, the AFL-CIO Executive Board unanimously endorsed President Johnson and his running mate, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

★ ★ ★

Meany's statement did not mention either Johnson or his Republican opponent, Sen. Barry Goldwater by name.

But he charged that "a major political party is asking the American people to reverse not one but all" of the decisions made in previous historic elections that saw the election of Presidents Thomas Jefferson, Andrew Jackson, Abraham Lincoln and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

FEDERAL INVESTMENT

Meany called for "a massive federal investment in America — an investment in education, in health, in all kinds of needed public facilities." Goldwater, opening his presidential campaign Thursday, called for an end to "the cancerous growth of the federal government."

The AFL-CIO head alluded to the white backlash, a term used to designate supposed white resentment at Negro advances and racial disturbances, in calling the civil rights question "a deep issue of conscience."

★ ★ ★

"The people of this nation will decide which is the stronger force — their sense of justice, their knowledge of what is right, or prejudice and the false fears that feed on prejudice," he said.

Meany cited the role of foreign policy in the election and said "the people will decide whether the general bipartisan policies of the last 20 years — American leadership based on strength, but exercised with patience — should be discarded."

Church Views Jew 'Reunion'

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — An apparently modified text of the Ecumenical Council document on relations between the Roman Catholic Church and Jews has been circulated to bishops and archbishops, it was learned today.

★ ★ ★

The new document, although still stating that there is no Biblical basis for hatred or persecution of Jews, lays emphasis on hopes for a Jewish "reunion" with the Christian Faith.

Church observers said this particular emphasis—although always a Christian precept — was bound to draw protests from the Roman Catholic liberals who hailed the original text as an extremely important step towards understanding with non-Christian faiths.

The new text, according to sources, takes a more "Catholic" tone, which would have the effect of pleasing church conservatives.

★ ★ ★

An ecumenical council communique on the original text said "No other motive will be read into it (the document) than that of the all-embracing love of the late Pope John, who himself had wished that the theme be prepared for the council fathers."

To Russian Scientists Moon Return Is Problem

MOSCOW (UPI) — A Soviet scientist reiterated yesterday that the biggest problem he and his colleagues face in a manned flight to the moon is getting their spaceman back.

The scientist, Dr. Y. Nechayev, gave no hint of when the Soviets plan a moon shot or when their next space spectacular is expected.

Diplomatic sources believe a new space launching is imminent, but there are never any prior announcements of such shots by Soviet officials.

Nechayev, writing in the space journal Aviation and Cosmonautics, said that because of the flights of the Soviet and American spacemen, no one now questions the ability of man to reach the moon.

"However, such flights require minute and thorough preparation," he added. "It is pertinent to recall a statement by Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, who said the Soviet Union would send a man to the moon only when there is full guarantee that he will be able to come back."

Khrushchev had made the remark last November in explaining why he had said the previous month the Soviets were not racing the United States to the moon.

Get Meow(t) Rescuer Says

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The meows of a cat stranded two days atop a three-story building was too much for one sympathetic man.

Up he went to the rescue, using the same route the cat took—a tall tree next to the building. But then a fire department rescue crew had to be called Thursday to lower man and cat.

The embarrassed man declined to give his name.

The cat's name is Tabby.

County VD Cases Rise for Fourth Straight Year

Reported cases of venereal diseases in Oakland County jumped upward for the fourth straight year in 1963, according to the annual report of the County Health Department.

★ ★ ★

The county registered a 26 per cent increase last year. Reported cases climbed from 670 in 1962 to 846.

The county report points out that a study has shown there is an unwarranted apathy on the part of the public for VD.

The ease with which gonorrhea and syphilis can be treated with antibiotics has allayed the fear of VD which existed before these drugs were available, according to the report.

★ ★ ★

Other statistics in the county report disclose a drop in the number of babies born.

There were 15,777 babies born in the county last year (the fewest since 1955), while there were 4,694 deaths, an increase of 227 over 1962.

No changes in the positions of the four leading causes of death were reflected by the report.

Diseases of the heart, cancer, strokes and accidents are the top causes of death.

★ ★ ★

Suicides, numbering 73, moved into the top ten for the first time. Nevertheless, health officials state that the rise in self-inflicted deaths has not been out of proportion to population increases.

Oakland County registered 17 homicides and 178 deaths caused by motor vehicle accidents. Of the 73 suicides, five were by shooting and five by hanging.

According to an estimated census, the population for the county totaled 730,580 at the close of 1963.

Japan Seeks 'Rescue' of 2 Stragglers

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese Welfare Ministry said today if it is true that two former Japanese soldiers are still on Guam, it hopes to bring them home.

Reports from Guam said two men—possibly former Japanese Navy or Army stragglers—have been spotted in the jungles of Guam.

A Welfare Ministry spokesman said, "We cannot rule out the possibility because two other former Japanese soldiers were rescued from the (Guam) jungles and brought back to Japan as late as 1960."

He said the ministry plans to dispatch a mission to Guam if it can be ascertained that the stragglers are Japanese and the U.S. government approves.

★ ★ ★

"The major difficulty," he said, "is that in past, survivors refused to turn themselves in because they never realized that Japan had lost the war.

★ ★ ★

"Even though we distributed leaflets telling them what had happened, they thought they were being cheated and that the leaflets were a propaganda trick."

Order Delayed to Halt Pontiac Airline Flights

An examiner's order, which would have deleted Pontiac and three other Michigan cities from the route of North Central Airlines, has been stayed until Oct. 5.

The Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB) decided yesterday to review an examiner's May 27 ruling ending local airline service here.

The ruling would have added Gaylord to North Central routes, but would have deleted Pontiac, Cadillac-Reed City and Port Huron.

First to Die Under Wallace

Alabamian Executed for Stealing Auto

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — James W. Cobern, 39, a farmhand whose execution was delayed 11 times by Gov. George Wallace, died in the electric chair early today for stealing a car.

Cobern had been accused of rape and murder in the death of Mrs. Mamie Belle Walker, 45, who was found slain and sexually mutilated in the living quarters of her small highway cafe near Plantersville, Ala., Dec. 6, 1959.

Cobern was never tried on those charges. Stealing a car with force is a capital crime in Alabama, and that's what Cobern was executed for.

The slightly built handyman was the first person to be executed since Wallace began his administration two years ago.

★ ★ ★

Wallace has followed a policy of temporarily postponing executions and once said of capital punishment: "I, like many other governors before me, wish this cup would pass from me."

DENIED SLAYING

Cobern, who once serve a term for burglary, was arrested by FBI agents in Chicago, four days after the slaying.

He admitted he had Mrs. Walker's car but denied he knew anything about the slaying.

He was first sentenced to death on Aug. 26, 1960, but won reprieves on a series of legal maneuvers and delays by gubernatorial grants.

★ ★ ★

Wallace, in finally ordering that the execution be carried out, issued a terse statement yesterday.

'CARRY OUT ORDER'

"The order of the court shall be carried out," he said.

Cobern was strapped to the chair at Kilby Prison at 1:11 a.m. (Pontiac time), after eating a last meal of fried chicken. A doctor pronounced him dead five minutes later.

He was attended by three ministers, including the prison chaplain, but walked to the death chamber without support although arm in arm with one of the ministers.

★ ★ ★

He shook hands with the minister, the warden and several guards and smiled and chatted as he was strapped to the chair. He offered no last statement.

Cobern was the first man to be executed in Alabama since August 1962. Sixteen other condemned men are in Kilby Prison at present.

The combined nations of Andorra, Monaco, San Marino, Vatican City and Liechtenstein comprise an area less than a fourth the size of Rhode Island.

Need Court OK for Bondsmen

Judges to Decide on Approved List

Bondsmen operating in Oakland County justice and municipal courts now have to be approved by the Circuit Court, according to Presiding Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt.

Judge Pratt said that under a new Michigan statute a list of approved bondsmen must be posted in a conspicuous place in all justice and municipal courts.

Court administrator Richard Smith has mailed application forms to some 20 persons in the county who are engaged in the bail bond business. These are to be filled out and returned so Circuit Court Judges may examine them.

After examination, the Circuit Court will prepare an approved list of bondsmen which will be forwarded to all local courts.

★ ★ ★

"In this way," Judge Pratt said, "persons arraigned before such courts on criminal charges will have the opportunity to immediately choose a bondsmen who had the prior approval of the court."

GIVES ASSURANCE

"This will guarantee that the people of Oakland County will have the assurance that bail bondsmen on the approved list are reliable and financially stable," Pratt said.

Smith said he believes that Oakland County is the first in the state to implement the new law.

Romney Slams Primary Losers

Doesn't Use Names at Republican Rally

LANSING (AP) — Michigan voters have dealt with the "know-nothing" in the state Republican Party, Gov. George Romney said Thursday.

In an address to more than 200 state GOP candidates and party leaders, Romney revived and apparently revised the attack he first launched at the Republican state convention last May.

★ ★ ★

The criticism, he told the candidates, was not aimed at conservatives in the party, but only at two men. In the May speech, however, he had used both terms in the plural.

Both men lost in Tuesday's primary election — as they deserved to, he said. The men were not identified.

CITES CASE

One of them sat in on a party council only to go shortly thereafter into a Democratic meeting and help defeat the policy he had helped form — "and I call such a person a Quisling," Romney said.

"I think the people should take care of a situation like that—and they have," he added.

★ ★ ★

One of the characteristics of the particular "know-nothing" he had in mind, Romney added, is that he advances the cause of an outside minority group. "And for the second time in two years, the people have defeated him."

Romney spent an hour-and-a-half with the candidates, covering everything from education and mental health to traffic safety. It was a party speech outlining Republican accomplishments and aimed at firing up the candidates for a spirited campaign.

BRIEFING SESSION

The speech was part of a day-long briefing session for the candidates on the "master strategy" of Romney's campaign and tips on effective local campaigns.

"We're the underdogs — you and I, because of the recently adopted, democratic backed legislative reapportionment plan," he told the candidates. "It will be an uphill fight all the way in both executive and legislative campaigns."

★ ★ ★

Romney, who has not endorsed GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater, reiterated his earlier pledge of cooperation with the Goldwater campaign, but added:

"It is vital that the state campaign be focused on the state record. If—as the Democrats want—we pay attention only to national issues, we are throwing away the most valuable asset of the Michigan Republican Party."

'Hot News' Waiting in Firehouse

NEW YORK (AP) — Fireman Richard Gregory Shaw, 34, was off duty Thursday night but stopped by the firehouse for a cup of coffee with the boys — and learned he is heir to $250,000.

★ ★ ★

Tht money was left in trust to Shaw by Bushnell Dimond, a New York writer who died last June 6.

An attorney has been trying to find Shaw and the New York Daily News ran a story Thursday in the form of an open letter to Shaw.

"Hey, is this you?" firemen greeted Shaw when he stopped at the firehouse.

Shaw grabbed the newspaper and learned of his fortune.

★ ★ ★

Shaw remembered striking up a friendship with Dimond and the conversations the two had for three years, about art, literature, and world culture in general.

Sometimes the two took walks together or stopped off for a beer. Shaw last saw his friend in 1951.

Shaw lives in a $57-a-month apartment in the Bronx with his wife, Tecla, 34, and sons, Steven, 9, and Vance, 4.

What will he do with the $250,000?

A belated honeymoon trip to Hawaii, said Shaw. He also talked about buying a home in New Jersey. But mainly he was still shocked by his new affluence.

John Gets 'Needled' Into Bolting

LONDON (AP) — England so often being the home base of the eccentric, no one seemed to notice the wild flight of a pajama-clad boy through the heart of London.

John Clarke, 9, ran through crowded Golden Square, across busy street intersections, down pedestrian - packed streets, through Piccadilly Circus and into the underground-subway.

★ ★ ★

He hopped on a train, found a seat and sat there in his pajamas beaming at the other passengers. They gave him a passing glance, said nothing and returned to their newspapers.

Then, at the Elephant and Castle stop — when John tried to change trains — some bloke stopped him.

NABBED BY.BLOKE

"I got nabbed by a bloke who asked me wot I was doin'," said John. "I'll turned me in to the station master."

John's dash for freedom started at the Royal National Throat, Nose and Ear Hospital where he was scheduled to have his tonsils removed.

★ ★ ★

"When I saw another kid ahead of me gettin' the needle, I jus' couldn't stand it," explained John. "I knew I was next and I scarpered fled."

John said he wasn't frightened of the operation — but he has a dread of needles.

OFF TO AUNTIE'S

With the nurses in pursuit, he scrambled down three flights of hospital stairs and made for his aunt's in south London.

The station master at the Elephant and Castle stop called the bobbies, who took John to his mother, Christine Clarke. After hearing her son's story, Mrs. Clarke telephoned the hospital and explained John's dread of hypodermic needles.

★ ★ ★

A doctor promised that when John returns, a needle won't be used.

John's flight took place on Wednesday. His mother said he would return to the hospital Friday.

Work Begins Soon on School Addition

ROYAL OAK — Construction will start soon on a $350,000 addition to the Shrine of the Little Flower Catholic High School.

The addition is designed to accommodate about 350 students from Our Lady of Fatima Parish in nearby Oak Park which does not have a high school. Fatima will pay entire cost of the addition.

★ ★ ★

Shrine High will become an Archdiocesan high school and will be maintained and administered by both parishes and the Archdiocese of Detroit.

Nearly 60 birds, mammals, fish or reptiles are in danger of becoming extinct in the United States, according to the Department of Interior.

A unique free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has just been announced by Qualitone Co.

A true life, actual size, inactive replica of the smallest Qualitone ever made will be given absolutely free to anyone sending in this advertisement. Try it on in the privacy of your home, without cost or obligation of any kind. It's yours to keep free.

The size of this Qualitone is only one of its many features: it weighs less than a third of an ounce, and it's all at ear level, in one unit. No wires lead from body to head. Here is truly new hope for the hard of hearing.

These replicas are free while the limited supply lasts, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, we repeat, there is no cost and certainly no obligation.

"A Texan Looks At Lyndon"

By J. Evetts Haley

noted Southwest historian and cowman. A lifelong Democrat, Mr. Haley is the most qualified author to write the story of Lyndon Baines Johnson. He reveals how a Texas school teacher amassed $14,000,000 during 30 years as a public servant; the how and why of notorious "Ballot Box 13"; about Lyndon's protege, Bobby Baker; and the connection with Billy Sol Estes. You owe it to yourself, your family and your country to be correctly informed on this man who seeks to be elected President. This book is factual and well documented.

Don't Let Present-Day Woes Depress You

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — When present day woes oppress you and modern pleasures pall, you can always get a chuckle out of living by leaning back and remembering when:

BOYLE

Grandpa would pay you a nickel to clean his spats.

It was the height of devil-try on April Fool's day to call up the zoo and ask, "Is Mr. Wolf there?"

You finally learned to tie your own shoes — and felt that life could hardly hold a greater victory.

A dime would buy you more licorice than you could chew in a day.

HIDE GUM

One of the last things you did before going to sleep was to hide your gum wad in a place where you could find it again — and your mother couldn't.

People would stay up until after midnight for the thrill of tuning in a new station on the family's crystal radio set.

★ ★ ★

One of the greatest joys of childhood in winter was to make "snow ice cream" — with the help of a little cream and vanilla flavoring.

One of mother's biggest tasks was to see that you scrubbed behind your ears before leaving for school.

NO MARBLE SHOOTER

If a kid didn't have a patch on the right knee of his stocking, you knew one thing for sure about him — he was no good at playing marbles.

You knew that your guardian angel protected you during the night, but you often pondered the mystery of where she kept herself during the day.

You were too shy to tell your kindergarten teacher that all you wanted out of life was to grow up and marry her.

All boys carried knives, but it never occurred to them to use the blades on each other.

Immediately after smoking your first cigarette you ran home and looked in the mirror to see if you had caught tuberculosis.

DELINQUENTS

A juvenile delinquent was a lad who jumped on the back of a street car and jerked the overhead trolley off the wire.

The most sophisticated comeback to any remark was the reply, "So's your old man."

★ ★ ★

Everybody in the neighborhood knew you had fallen in love with the little girl down the street when you finally agreed to play hopscotch with her in public.

The day you put on your first pair of long pants your Dad gave you a dollar and said, "Son, a man should always have that much in his pocket."

MARRYING KIND

When a family decided their daughter was of a marriageable age, her parents bought a player piano and a new front porch swing.

Grownups argued about the tariff question, but all their kids worried about was how to get rid of warts.

★ ★ ★

When you tried to play sick, mom simply asked you to stick out your tongue. If your tongue wasn't coated, she decided you were well enough to go to school — and you went.

The worst thing about losing a front tooth was that it ruined your whistling.

You went to bed tired and woke up hungry — instead of the other way around.

Nearly half the more than 14 million traffic accidents in the nation last year occurred on weekends.

Business Leaders Back LBJ

Top Two GM Execs See Booming 1965 for Automobile Sales

DETROIT (AP)—Two top General Motors executives say it's likely the current auto sales boom will continue in 1965.

"The 1965 model year opens . . . with a number of indications of continued good business for the auto industry," said GM Board Chairman Frederic G. Donner and President John F. Gordon in a joint statement yesterday.

They cited 1964 car-truck sales in excess of 9.5 million vehicles. This includes half a million imported vehicles and, all told, 8.1 million passenger cars and some 1.4 million trucks.

They pointed to 1963 sales of 7.6 million passenger cars and 1.2 million trucks, a total of 8.8 million units, for the continued growth of the industry over "three and a half years—one of the longest peacetime expansions on record."

They predicted 1965 passenger car sales at about 7.8 million units based on current growth factors.

"Nevertheless," they said, "the signs of the excesses or imbalances usually apparent at this stage of expansion are remarkably few, and presently available indicators point to a continuation of current trends.

"The record rate of automobile sales in 1964 both contributed to and reflected a high level of economic activity and continued consumer confidence."

Reuther Vows: No Extension

Opposes Intervention in Auto Negotiations

DETROIT (AP) — With a strike deadline against Chrysler Corp. only five days away, United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther says there will be no further extension of the current contract.

★ ★ ★

And Reuther also told newsmen at the close of a bargaining round last night he doesn't expect, nor does his union want any government intervention in new contract negotiations.

Three years ago, when current contracts were signed with the Big Three—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—there was a last-minute extension at the request of William E. Simkin, federal mediation and conciliation chief. He has been in Detroit recently but not at any bargaining sessions.

Reuther pointed recently but not at any bargaining sessions.

Reuther pointed out that the UAW had extended an original Aug. 31 strike deadline to 10 a.m. next Wednesday "to give us some working time."

★ ★ ★

In extending, the UAW picked Chrysler as its No. 1 target for a pattern-setting contract for the industry.

Pontiac Sets August Mark

Pontiac dealers established a new all - time sales record for the month of August, E. M. Estes, General Motors vice president and Pontiac Motor Division general manager, announced today.

★ ★ ★

In August a total of 48,282 Pontiacs and Tempests were sold, a 33 per cent increase over the 36,142 cars sold in August 1963.

During the last 10 days of August, sales totaled 13,487 units.

This compares to 12,298 for the same period a year ago, Estes said.

Millage Has Eased School Growth Pains

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second installment in a three-part series outlining Pontiac School District progress and growth, financed by an 8.75-mill tax levy which voters will be asked to renew next month.)

By L. GARY THORNE

Remember Pontiac schools in 1954? They suffered from stifled growing pains. The pain was acute and embarrassingly obvious.

In 1954 overflow classes were held in basement rooms, interior rooms with no windows, gymnasiums and even borrowed facilities.

Twenty-seven classes were housed in barrack - like "shacks." The school district operated 20 of these wood-frame structures.

Generally, Pontiac schools were crowded. Classes were large. Senior high students were on staggered five-period days.

Enrollment in 1954 was reported at 16,917 pupils, which was far above the reasonable capacity of 14,887 for the district's 25 schools.

★ ★ ★

However, the 1954 conditions have dramatically improved, according to Supt. Dana P. Whitmer.

MILLAGE CREDIT

Whitmer gives the credit to the extra voted 8.75 mills. Approved in 1954 by the district's voters, this millage has paced the effort to eliminate substandard facilities and keep up with growing enrollments.

The 8.75-mill levy expires

TRAVELING THIS WEEKEND? — William A. Robinson, 25, of 410 Squirrel, Pontiac Township, escaped with minor injuries last night when he went to sleep and drove his car into a guard rail on M24 at the I-75 overpass. Oakland County Deputy Donald Johnston is shown supervising removal of the wreckage. The National Safety Council predicts that between 490 and 590 persons will survive such crashes in the next three days.

Holiday Toll Estimated

Millions Take to Road

By United Press International

Millions of Americans take to the nation's highways today for the start of the 78-hour Labor Day weekend, the last holiday of summer. The National Safety Council estimates between 490 and 590 persons will die in traffic accidents.

The weekend officially begins at 6 p.m. local time today and ends at midnight Monday.

The safety council said as many as 23,000 persons will suffer disabling injuries in automobile accidents during the weekend. The council said about 430 persons would die on the highways if the period were not a holiday.

State police and law enforcement officers across the nation girded for the exodus of travelers from the cities.

In Michigan it is estimated that more than 3.5 million motorists will take to the highways between now and midnight Monday.

State Police patrols have been beefed up in an effort to cut down on traffic fatalities which are prevalent on holiday weekends. Since this is the last holiday weekend of the summer, traffic authorities fear the total will rise above that of a normal weekend.

Michigan Gov. George Romney urged all drivers to put their lights on while driving, day or night, as part of the campaign to reduce traffic fatalities.

The Automotive Club of Michigan urged drivers not to exceed 400 miles per day in their travels around the state. Jerry E. Fisher, club touring manager, said, "Trying to go beyond this distance in a day places the motorist in the dangerous 'overdrive' category."

Union Asks Members to Hear LBJ

AFL-CIO union members in the Pontiac area are being asked to turn out for President Johnson's speech in Detroit Monday in lieu of any local Labor Day activities.

No festivities are being planned in Pontiac, but local labor leaders are hoping for a last-minute announcement that the President and the First Lady will pay a visit to Pontiac.

There has been no official word, however, of such a visit.

The possibility that the President will extend his campaign-opening activities from Detroit to Pontiac is pure speculation, based on the fact that President Kennedy made a Labor Day visit here in 1960.

Oakland County AFL-CIO Council President Fred V. Haggard said a reception of some kind will be held for the President and Mrs. Johnson if they do come here.

Goldwater told a smaller-than-forecast crowd of 4,000 to 6,000 he had heard complaints that the Republican ticket is a weak one.

To answer them, Goldwater read what he said were newspaper accounts of Abraham Lincoln's 1860 presidential campaign. One called Lincoln the Republicans "weakest candidate."

'Battle' Tone Set by Barry

Small Crowd on Hand to Hear Attack on LBJ

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has set the tone of his presidential campaign with a slashing attack on President Johnson — and a victory forecast aimed at Republicans who don't like his candidacy.

The Arizona conservative fired the opening shots of his race against Johnson yesterday before a cheering crowd massed in front of the courthouse steps in Prescott, his family's original Arizona home.

Today, Goldwater planned to relax with his family in the seclusion of their hilltop home.

Tomorrow he'll make a round-trip to Lockport, N.Y., for the campaign kickoff of Rep. William E. Miller, his vice presidential running mate.

Police Forces Up for Holiday

Maximum traffic enforcement on Oakland County roads during the long holiday weekend has been promised by area police agencies.

Added patrols from the sheriff's department, state police and Waterford Township police departments will be on the road during the 78-hour period beginning at 6 p.m. today and ending midnight Monday.

Pontiac State Police Post Commander John Amthor said all pass days for his men have been cancelled during the period to provide extra manpower.

In addition, national guardsmen will be working with state police in the enforcement program.

Medicare Hope Slim Despite Senate OK

WASHINGTON (AP) — The odds appeared today to be against enactment of a Social Security health-care plan this year despite the 60-28 Senate passage of a bill which would set up such a system.

The health-care provisions were written into the bill by a 49-44 vote Wednesday.

The House had included no such plan in the bill it passed. A Senate-House conference committee will prepare the final version.

The Senate named conferees who had voted 5-2 against the health benefits for the aged, although they would normally support the Senate plan in conference.

The House delegation is expected to be headed by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., longtime foe of a Social Security-financed health program. He is likely to have a majority on the group who will side with him.

★ ★ ★

Nevertheless, Democratic leaders in both branches of Congress said they were determined to push as hard as possible for inclusion of some form of health benefits in the final version of the bill.

FULL RESOURCES

They indicated they expect the full resources of President Johnson and his administration to be thrown into the battle.

The bill as it passed the Senate yesterday includes not only the health-care program but also increased cash payments for all those now on the Social Security rolls.

The Senate made numerous changes in the measure so there is a wide area of disagreement for bargaining purposes in the conference.

★ ★ ★

A House showdown on the health issue is not expected until the week after next.

ALREADY SERVED

Mills plans to move next Wednesday to send the bill to conference, but notice already has been served that an objection will be made to this. The objection will force the matter into the Rules Committee, which is likely to recommend a conference, subject only to a majority House vote.

But Rules Chairman Howard W. Smith, D-Va., said his group would not meet on it until the week of Sept. 14.

Livonia 'MD' Said a Fraud

Practiced Four Years; No License Found

DETROIT (AP) — Authorities were checking today into the background of a man who they said earned some $85,000 while posing as a physician for four years.

Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley yesterday termed the case "one of the most fantastic stories of deception in the state's medical history."

Kelley said the man, 29-year-old Thomas M. Novak of suburban Livonia, had no medical degree.

"Apparently he picked up all his medical knowledge by visiting different medical schools," Kelley said.

The attorney general said Novak was tripped up after he recently applied as a physician for an insurance policy. No record of Novak's doctor's certificate was found, Kelley said.

HIS ACCOUNT

Kelley gave this account of the case:

Novak, a 1953 graduate of Detroit's Chadsey High School, "faked" attendance at schools of medicine, including the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Wayne State University in Detroit, and John Hopkins Medical School, Baltimore.

"He would buy a lot of books but would not actually attend most of the classes," Kelley said. "He picked up a lot of knowledge by simply putting on a white coat and walking into a hospital to observe the operations."

The state's chief legal official said Novak prescribed drugs for patients after picking his registration number of narcotics presciptions "out of thin air."

Endorsement Seen as Coup for President

Henry Ford II Heads List of Industrialists, Ex-Cabinet Members

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, scoring a major political coup, has won a public endorsement from 45 top businessmen, most of them long-time supporters of the Republican party.

Meeting with Johnson at the White House last night, 26 representatives of the group organized a "National Independent Committee" to support the campaign of Johnson and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, his vice presidential running mate.

Among the initial sponsors of the committee were such nationally known executives as industrialists Henry Ford II and Edgar F. Kaiser, retailer Ralph Lazarus, and financiers Thomas S. Lamont, Robert Lehman and Sidney J. Weinberg.

The list of organizers also included two men who served in the Cabinet of Republican President Dwight D. Eisenhower — Robert B. Anderson, who was secretary of the Treasury, and Marion B. Folsom, who was secretary of health, education and welfare.

Acting as counsel for the committee at the White House meeting was Maxwell Rabb, who was secretary to the Cabinet under Eisenhower.

The committee said in a press release that it would "attempt to acquaint the general public with the confidence that prominent national leaders in all walks of life have in President Johnson and will urge that he be given four years of opportunity to serve all the people."

Johnson surely found no fault with that sentiment, and addressing the group in the Cabinet room, said: "I commend all of you not only on the choice you have made for your country — but on your courage in now assuming the responsibility of your convictions."

John T. Connor, cochairman of the committee and president of Merck & Co., told newsmen that about 75 per cent of the business and financial leaders joining in the endorsement of Johnson were registered Republicans or had generally supported GOP candidates in presidential elections.

Connor described himself as an independent Democrat.

Area executives backing President Johnson are Ray R. Eppert, president of Burroughs Corp., and William T. Gossett, former Ford Motor Co. general counsel. Both men live in Bloomfield Hills.

Witness in Scuffle

Attack Upsets Cuba Travel Inquiry

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Nazi sympathizer's attack on a witness may have upset plans for today's hearing by the House Committee on Un-American Activities in its inquiry into student travel to Cuba.

The witness, Morton B. Slater, 21, New York, was in the Washington Medical Center with what the hospital described as possible head and neck injuries.

The collar of his jacket was yanked in a scuffle at the committee hearing yesterday.

A hospital source said his condition was satisfactory but that the extent of the possible injuries had not been determined.

★ ★ ★

Committee sources said they had no information immediately on whether Slater, a New York student, would be back as a witness today as had been planned.

VISITED CUBA

Slater, one of 84 students who visited Cuba this summer, was starting to testify yesterday when a man later identified by police as Lon L. Dunaway, 28, of Arlington, Va., leaped upon the witness stand and tried to smash a fist at Slater.

The man, identified as Lon Dunaway, attacked a man testifying before the Committee on Un-American Activities about a recent trip to Cuba taken by a group of American students.

Summer to Stay Over Weekend, but Rain Monday

Summer will stay with us over the weekend with sunny days and temperatures in the mid-70s, that is, until Monday when showers are forecast.

Showers or thundershowers are predicted for this evening. Skies will clear and temperatures will become cooler late tonight, the low 52 to 60.

The mercury rose from a low of 70 at 6 a.m. to 87 at 1 p.m.

Schools Keeping Up With Enrollment Growth

this year. A proposal to renew the millage for another decade will go before voters Oct. 2 at a special school election.

In 1964, the "shacks" are gone; all pupils are in full day session. Senior high pupils have a six-hour day. Class sizes have been reduced and an expanded special education program is properly housed.

The district now has 36 schools with sufficient capacity to house adequately the 22,200 pupils enrolled. Additions have been built to 12 schools.

KEPT PLEDGE

In addition, school officials have kept a pledge made in 1954 to add multipurpose rooms to each elementary school that lacked gym and auditorium facilities, Whitmer said.

"And this 10-year construction program has been accomplished on a pay-as-you-go policy," he added.

The superintendent said that $15,564,000 has been "paid in full" of the $20,384,000 construction debt.

★ ★ ★

New facilities, however, have not been the school district's only benefit from the 8.75 mills during the past decade.

Whitmer points to a rehabilitation program that has helped keep older schools up to modern standards.

All classrooms, for example, have been relighted with florescent fixtures. Concrete and steel stairwells have replaced wood stairwells and a program to acoustically treat all classrooms is under way.

Of course, he explains, painting and decorating has been carried on on a regular scheduled basis.

★ ★ ★

Extensive rehabilitation has been necessary to update educational facilities. For example, during the past 10 years 18 science rooms in secondary schools have been rehabilitated.

ADDITIONS

Also, four language laboratories have been installed, five science rooms have been provided in elementary schools and all elementary schools have a science center.

Rehabilitation has been, and is, a continuing job.

★ ★ ★

However, classrooms are but one aspect of Pontiac schools that have been "rehabilitated" through the 8.7-mill tax levy.

War Threat, New Riots Force Action

Malaysia Declares State of Emergency

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysia entered a state of emergency today to meet a threat of war with Indonesia and to combat new race riots in Singapore. Allied British and New Zealand units moved into battle positions.

The Malaysian government moves were matched in Jakarta by orders from President Sukarno to his Indonesian forces to "deploy their strength" throughout Indonesia to meet any possible attack.

★ ★ ★

It was the first time that British and New Zealand battalions headed into action against Indonesian guerrillas on the mainland of Malaysia. British units have fought Indonesian guerrillas in Malaysia's Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah, however.

A government spokesman said the British and New Zealand troops are being used to free two Malaysian battalions for duty in riot-torn Singapore.

GURKHA RIFLES

A battalion of British Gurkha Rifles was replacing Malaysian forces in the Labis area to battle about 30 Indonesian paratroopers who were reported to have landed Wednesday.

The Labis area marks a railroad junction 60 miles north of Pontian, in southwestern Johore State. It is 105 miles southeast of Kuala Lumpur.

★ ★ ★

Pontian was the scene of an Indonesian seaborne invasion Aug. 17.

A battalion of the New Zealand infantry, already stationed in the southwestern coastal area of Malaya, moved into the Pontian area.

INDONESIA TOLL

Since the parachute strike at Labis, four Indonesians have been killed and at least six captured, a government statement said. A Chinese woman parachutist was reported among those killed. The Malaysian government reported two of its men killed.

Operations to clean up the Pontian area are continuing. The government said at least 14 Indonesians have been killed and about 50 captured out of a band originally estimated at 100 men.

★ ★ ★

The government spokesman said the Singapore administration had requested help from Malaysian federal troops because of renewed racial clashes between Malays and Chinese. Indonesian agents were blamed for the outbreak.

Viet Rule Gets More Confused

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh announced today he has received and accepted the resignations of all Cabinet ministers and secretaries of state who are army officers, including his own. But he said all will stay on for the time being.

In other words, the rule of SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. Army helicopter crewman was killed by enemy fire today and five other Americans were injured in aircraft crashes and military operations scattered across the length of war-torn South Viet Nam.

South Viet Nam is as confused as at any point in its history.

For the time being, Khanh said, the three-general triumvirate which was organized last week will continue to run the show under a new name — Steering Committee.

★ ★ ★

Asked about the announcement by government spokesmen earlier in the day that one of the triumvirate members, Lt. Gen. Tran Thien Khiem, had resigned, Khanh said: "Gen. Khiem is still a member of the three-man Steering Committee, but he has resigned from his government post."

Khiem was defense minister and chief of the armed forces under Khanh. Presumably he will continue to occupy these posts for the time being along with all other ministers, but Khanh would not elaborate. He is the only Roman Catholic on the renamed triumvirate. The others are Buddhists.

WAS QUOTED

Khiem had been quoted as saying he had "had enough of the Buddhists running the country." The Buddhists had called for him and some other top Vietnamese army officers to get out of the government.

Khanh said he himself will lead the nation for the next two critical months, but is prepared to step down and go back to the armed forces once democracy is established. He said he will create ministerial councils to set up a new government and to insure religious unity.

★ ★ ★

Khanh said he officially resumed his duties as premier as of today. In fact he took over the national helm Thursday after returning from five days of "temporary retirement" in the mountain retreat of Dalat, 140 miles northeast of Saigon. He was looking tanned and healthy.

"Upon the request of the general officers commanding the various branches and the big units of the armed forces, of the religious and political groups and many notables, although I have not yet quite recovered from my illness, I do my best to return today to assume the responsibility of leading the government and dealing with the affairs of the country in these difficult and critical times," he said.

M59 to Open for Traffic

The widening and resurfacing of M59 between Elizabeth Lake and Airport roads will not be completed by Labor Day, as the contractor had tentatively planned, but it will be open to all traffic over the weekend, State Highway Department officials said.

An asphalt base coat has been applied throughout the length of the 3.4-mile project and the finish coat between Pontiac Lake and Airport roads is scheduled for completion by tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Widening of the road from two to five lanes, which has been under way since the first of the year, is expected to be completed within two to three weeks, nearly nine months ahead of the contract schedule.

COCOA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The city wants to add color to its progressive development.

way, who was wearing the armband of the American Nazi party. The presiding congressman, Rep. Richard Ichord, D-Mo., gaveled the session to a close and rescheduled Slater's appearance for today.

Until that moment, the day had been calm, a far cry from the sessions a year ago when student travelers, dressed in blue jeans, sandals and beards, found themselves dragged out of the House caucus room and tossed onto the sidewalk outside the House office building.

★ ★ ★

This time, the student travelers showed up in quiet, conservative dress, no different from any other witness or audience on Capitol Hill.

And they came armed with an instruction sheet urging them to behave in an orderly way, keep their comments to themselves and obey whatever an officer tells them to do. They followed the instructions.

MANY POLICE

There were 100 city policemen milling about, some with walkie-talkies, and the committee room brimmed with U.S. marshals.

Yank Woman Red Captive?

Reported a Prisoner in Venezuela Wilds

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI)—Unconfirmed reports said today Castro - Communist guerrillas have kidnaped an American woman, wife of a cattleman, long a resident in Venezuela, and threatened to kill her.

The reports, published in the newspaper Ultimas Noticias, identified the woman as Mrs. John Ferrels, 35. The U.S. Embassy here said it had no news of the reported kidnap. Police sources, however, did not deny it.

According to the newspaper version, five heavily armed guerrillas operating in the mountains of Lara state, where the Ferrels are located, seized her at gun point last night. The Ferrels Ranch is at Urdaneta, about 95 miles from Barquisimeto, the state capital.

Authorities were not immediately able to furnish U.S. home towns for the Ferrels. They said Urdaneta, where they have their cattle ranch, is a heavily infested guerrilla area.

Urdaneta is in the mountains adjoining the state of Falcon. Ultimas Noticies said police reserves had been moved into the area.

2ND AMERICAN

The kidnaping, if confirmed, would make Mrs. Ferrels the second American to be abducted by the Castro - Communists in their prolonged campaign against the government.

An American Army officer, James K. Chennault, was kidnaped by the terrorists for publicity purposes last year, just before the Venezuelan presidential elections.

Waterford Revamps Fees for School Facility Use

A policy that virtually removes fees for the use of school facilities was adopted last night by the Waterford Township Board of Education.

The policy paves the way for implementation of the school system's community school program which is based on extensive use of school facilities by all members of the community.

Patterned after the community school program in Flint, the Waterford program is being aided by a $50,000 matching fund grant from the Mott Foundation.

The new policy on fees waives any charge for school use for most groups and specifies nominal charges for others.

★ ★ ★

It also bans use of school properties for meetings of secret societies or for activities where there is gambling, alcoholic beverages or "obscenities."

CHARGES WAIVED

All charges are waived for school sponsored organizations, adult education activities, school-connected groups, private groups of a traditional character-building, yet nonreligious, nature and groups dedicated to civic improvement.

In addition, there won't be any charges for classroom use by municipal agencies and private organizations dedicated to community service of a religious nature. Charges will, however, be levied for the regular meetings of a municipal agency.

A fee of $2 per hour will be levied for gymnasium use by the above two groups.

★ ★ ★

Previously this fee ranged from $6 to $12.50 hourly. Classroom fees had been $2 to $2.50.

PRIVATE GROUPS

Formerly established fees will prevail for use of facilities by private groups for each activities as dances and recitals and use by approved out-of-district organizations.

In other business last night, the board approved final plans for the remodeling of the annex building to Waterford Township High School.

Bid opening on the project is slated for Oct. 1.

★ ★ ★

Also last night, the board voted to resume holding regular meetings at various elementary schools rather than in the administration building.

COMMUNITY INTEREST

This practice was launched last winter at the suggestion of Trustee Donald Porter in an effort to generate more community interest in school business.

★ ★ ★

The board authorized members of the Drayton Woods Womens' Club to install a tennis court on the Cooley School site at the club's cost, subject to approval of construction plans by administrators.

Polly's Pointers

Allowance for Trips

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY—During vacations, many of us travel with children. We all have that problem of the children constantly asking for money to buy this and that.

Before we start on a trip, we give our daughter a dollar a day spending money. She is told she can spend it anyway she wants.

If it is all squandered on one thing the first day, she knows there is no more spending money for the rest of the trip. Any money left at the end of the trip is hers to keep.

She has become a frugal shopper since she knows the money is hers and we can enjoy our vacation without the constant cry for money to spend at every stop we make.

SCALE AMOUNT

The amount could be scaled to fit a family's vacation budget. Keep those Pointers coming.—M.E.P.

DEAR POLLY—I will call my idea "collar it down." Many dresses have a facing at the back of the neck that has a way of coming out when the dress is put on.

I just anchor it with a piece or two of iron-on tape. No stitches show and no holes in the dress from pulled stitches. —MRS. S. H.

DEAR POLLY—Storing satin comforters is no longer a problem at our house. I simply roll them tightly and insert each one in a pillowcase.

The case serves as a dust cover, too, and makes a more stable "package." — MRS. McC.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas . . . send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your idea in Polly's Pointers.

A May wedding is planned by Mary Ann Tarchalski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Casper Tarchalski of Elizabeth Lake Road and Ralph W. Chittick, son of the John Chitticks of Lake Orion.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Women whose husbands are away from home for weeks or months at a time are always lonely, no matter how many children or friends or thoughtful neighbors they have.

The research Max Erlich did for his new book, "Deep Is the Blue" (Doubleday) took him into the homes of many of the sailors who man nuclear submarines.

The wife of an atomic submariner is sometimes alone for three months at a time.

★ ★ ★

The other day Erlich said something that also applies to thousands of women who do not have husbands on submarines.

MORE THAN CARDS

He said, "It struck me that many of these women were casting about for something more absorbing, more meaningful than cards with which to fill in the hours alone.

It got me to thinking that writing is an ideal occupation for women anywhere who have empty evenings.

★ ★ ★

They don't need a baby sitter nor a partner and it's creative and might even be profitable."

Max Erlich believes that the novel is the easiest form of writing for a beginner because it offers more practice in character development and plotting.

SUCCESSFUL WRITER

I am sure that he is correct since he has been a successful professional writer for 25 years and is the author of five widely-read novels.

However, it seems to me that the very idea of writing a novel would "snow" many women and scare them away from trying to write anything.

I think lots of them who would not attempt such a big job might try a shorter one.

I have always felt that every human being needs some sort of individual creative expression [illegible] from what they do with their family and their community.

This may be a dress they make or a piece of needlepoint or a painting or a song they write or a special flower they cultivate.

It is fun if the dress is admired, the painting exhibited, the song recorded or the flower wins a prize.

However, the exciting and rewarding and important thing is that you gave your individual approach to life a chance and you creative itch a scratch.

Mud Styled Old Coiffures

The Egyptian coiffure was really down - to - earth.

The women wet their hair, wound it around sticks and packed the wound curls in mud. Then they sat in the sun until the mud baked dry.

According to a manufacturer of home permanents, this technique gave their hair the body and curl needed for their exaggerated hairdos.

At Fisher Theater

Area Auxiliaries to Sponsor Show

Pontiac and Waterford Jaycee Auxiliaries are joining other auxiliaries in the metropolitan area in sponsoring a benefit performance at the Fisher Theater.

★ ★ ★

The performance, starring Sammy Davis in the musical drama "Golden Boy," will be held 2:30 p.m. Sept. 13.

Benefit proceeds will go to the "placement fund" of the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children (MAEDC). This is an organization of interested persons concerned with promoting facilities for treating disturbed children.

★ ★ ★

The association consists primarily of volunteer workers who supplement the funds and services provided by the state government.

This is the second year the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary of which the Pontiac and Waterford locals are members, has undertaken MAEDC as their state service project.

During the year, the Pontiac auxiliary has donated funds to the child guidance clinic for the purchase of books and to the Pontiac State Hospital for new bedspreads.

The Waterford auxiliary has sponsored two emotionally disturbed boys from the Pontiac State Hospital for the past two years. Besides being given a monthly allowance, the boys are taken on day-visits at least once a month by members of the group.

★ ★ ★

Tickets for the benefit performance are available from the Pontiac and Waterford ticket chairmen, Mrs. Roger Upham, Warwick Street and Mrs. James Curd, Dundee Drive. Either one may be contacted for additional information.

Pontiac Jaycee Auxiliary has joined forces with all the auxiliaries in the Detroit area to sponsor the Sunday matinee, Sept. 13 performance of "Golden Boy," starring Sammy Davis, at the Fisher Theater. Proceeds will go to the placement fund of the Michigan Association for Emotionally Disturbed Children, the state-wide Jaycee service project. With Davis are Mrs. Robert Erb and Mrs. Joseph Gerak, both of Birmingham. Reservations for the matinee are still available.

On Eve of Holiday Weekend

Stock Mart Treads Cautiously

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market trod cautiously today on the eve of the Labor Day weekend.

Most changes of key stocks were fractional.

Some support was lent the averages by du Pont's rise of more than a point and Union Carbide's advance which approached a point.

Outside the key issues, U.S. Smelting recovered about half of Thursday's 8¾-point loss on news it had deferred its recapitalization which involved a stock split.

FROM HIGH

General Motors eased from its historic high, but Chrysler nudged upward fractionally although the strike deadline against the company is only five days away.

Other motor stocks and electronics showed little or no change. Utilities were firm.

Thursday the Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose .5 to 317.3.

Plan to Study Ordinances

Planners to Review Rules for Businesses

City Planning Commissioners have indicated concern over five types of businesses and the city ordinances that govern them.

★ ★ ★

Planning Director James L. Bates was directed Wednesday by the planning commission to update or draw up new ordinances to cover the businesses.

Of concern to city planners are car washes, gas stations, junk yards, drive-ins and abandoned autos.

These activities are covered by existing ordinances, but need updating.

★ ★ ★

In other business Wednesday, the planning commission okayed rezoning, subject to final approval of the City commission, of property at 18 Gage.

REZONING ASKED

Owned by Community National Bank, land just west of 18 Gage was requested rezoned to Commercial 1. In addition, the vacating of the east-west alley from Glenwood to the east property line was also recommended.

A CNB spokesman said the bank plans to renovate and expand its location at 18 Gage.

EASY LIVING — This Handi-Van and two 1000 series Value-Vans are now offered by GMC Truck & Coach Division with travel conversion options that turn them into homes ideally suited for weekend and vacation campers. Among the conversion features are fold-away sleeping beds and bunks that can accommodate five persons.

Successful Investing

Q) "I have never bought a stock before and I now want to become a shareholder. I have $1,000 to invest and want to ask you what stock to buy and where to buy it." A.A.

A) Yours is a very difficult question to answer without knowing your over-all financial position and your investment objective.

If you do not have a savings account sufficient to meet all contingencies, you are not ready to buy stocks. Stocks are constantly fluctuating and although the good ones have long been in a general uptrend with occasional temporary declines, I would never depend on them for raising cash in an emergency.

If you have sufficient savings and desire long-term growth with a moderate yield, I recommend American Telephone. This is a very safe stock and over a period of years has proved highly rewarding. I suggest you ask your local bank if they will handle your order or, if not, will recommend a reliable broker.

Q) "I am a Sears, Roebuck retiree. I have $4,000, 188 shares of Sears, Roebuck, 30 Green Shoe; 30 Duquesne Light. I want to hold Sears, Roebuck for growth but sell Duquesne Light and Green Shoe to add to savings at 4 per cent interest to increase my income. What would you advise?" L.M.

A) I congratulate you on your fine block of Sears, Roebuck. Although it represents a disproportionate amount of your capital, the company is so strong and diversified that I think you are right to retain these shares. Sears is the world's greatest merchandiser and is strongly entrenched in the insurance business as well.

Green Shoe, because of a slight decline in earnings last year, now sells to yield 4.6 per cent on a well-protected dividend. Duquesne Light is trading on better than a 4 per cent basis.

You would gain nothing in income by selling these stocks and might lose an opportunity for capital gains.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column. Write to General Features Corp., 250 Park Ave., New York 17, N.Y.
