

Madame Nhu Will Visit U.S. Next Month

Says She Feels Better
Over American Policy
Since Rusk Statement

From Our News Wires
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia.
—South Viet Nam's Mme.
Ngo Dinh Nhu told a U. S. congresswoman today she "feels better" about American policy and will visit the United States next month.

Rep. Katherine St. George, R-
N.Y., lunched with Mme. Nhu.
She then said Mme. Nhu "told me she feels better and is pleased" since U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk yesterday voiced confidence in her country's ability to mend its internal divisions.

"She told me she has decided to accept 14 speaking engagements in the States next month. Mme. Nhu told me she will tell her side of the story to Americans," Mrs. St. George said.

Mme. Nhu, sister-in-law of South Vietnamese President Ngo
Dinh Diem, is representing her nation at the Interparliamentary Union (IPU) conference at which Mrs. St. George heads the American delegation.

Mrs. St. George said Mme.
Nhu, an outspoken critic of President Kennedy, again said Americans are "profoundly misinformed" over her government's handling of Buddhist opposition.

"VERY PLEASING"

However, Mme. Nhu said
Rusk's statement and the latest news from South Viet Nam was against Communist rebels "was very pleasing." Of Rusk's statement, Mme. Nhu said, "Oh, yes,
I like that," according to the GOP congresswoman.

In Saigon martial law was lifted throughout South Viet Nam at noon today, 26 days after it was imposed in the wake of government raids on Buddhist pagodas
Aug. 21.

Vietnamese authorities also announced that press censorship had been lifted.

The end to the "state of siege,"
as President Ngo Dinh Diem put it, came after the Saigon government had put down Buddhist opposition and student unrest.

Indian Summer Will Continue in Pontiac Area

Warm weather with fair skies are continuing for the Pontiac area. Tomorrow's high is expected to reach near 80. Tonight's low will be 56.

Northeasterly winds at 4 miles

terly 8 to 15 tomorrow.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature preceding 8 a. m.
was 49. At 2 p. m. the mercury stood at 79.

Expresses Grief as 4 Die JFK Outraged at Bombing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy expressed "outrage and grief" today over the bomb-killing of four Negro children in Birmingham, Ala.

He said he hoped the incident would awaken the nation to "the folly of racial injustice and hatred and violence."

Kennedy said if there is this realization, "then it is not too late for all concerned to unite in steps toward peaceful progress before more lives are lost."

In a special statement, Kennedy said the United States stands for "domestic justice and tranquillity."

"I call upon every citizen, white and Negro, North and South, to put passions and prejudices aside and join in this effort—to promote justice and tranquility."

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said Kennedy conferred several times during the morning with Atty. Gen.
Robert F. Kennedy on the situation in Birmingham.

Salinger also reported that Kennedy had some official discussions of the Birmingham situation shortly before midnight on his return from a long weekend in Newport, R.I.

In his statement, Kennedy said at the outset:

"I know I speak on behalf of all Americans in expressing a deep sense of outrage and grief over the killing of the children yesterday in Birmingham, Ala."

Violence Encouraged
He said it is regrettable "that public disparagement of law and order has encouraged violence which has fallen on the innocent."

The President expressed hope that "these cruel and tragic events" will awaken Birmingham, the state of Alabama and the entire nation "to a realization of the folly of racial injustice and hatred and violence."

Kennedy praised "the Negro leaders of Birmingham who are counseling restraint instead of violence." He said they are "bravely serving their ideals in their most difficult task—for principles of peaceful self-control are least appealing when most needed."

DEMOCRATS HAPPY — Democratic Congressman-at-large Neil Staeble (right) waves enthusiastically at a friend in the large crowd at the Oakland County Democratic Jamboree Saturday night. Democratic State Chairman Zolton A. Ferency (left) also looked pleased, but no one was happier than County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin (center), who termed the jamboree "a tremendous success."

Dem Jamboree 'Huge Success'

By JIM DYGERT

Oakland County Democratic leaders were jubilant today over the surprising success of the county's Democratic Jamboree

Saturday night in Waterford Township.

"It was four times more successful than all previous Jamborees," James M. McNeely said this morning.

"It's a tremendous success," said County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin Saturday night as he looked happily at the unprecedented large crowd and estimated that more than 1,000 party members from all parts of the county had attended.

McNeely, executive assistant to Levin, reported today that $6,500 was raised for the party's hard-pressed coffers, compared to a previous high of $1,800 in 1961.

EXCEED HOPES

The result even exceeded optimistic hopes for 40,000, which, McNeely said, "We never really thought we'd get."

The party treasury will net some $4,000 after paying expenses and the cost of a 1963
Pontiac Tempest given away at the event.

Three top Michigan Democrats who appeared at the Jamboree made no speeches but had plenty to say informally in interviews.

Congressman-at-large Neil Staeble, who in all probability will be the Democratic party's candidate for governor next year, granted that he may be the candidate and went on to criticize the man he probably would oppose,
Gov. George Romney.

POLITICAL PLANS

When asked about his political plans when his two-year term in Congress ends, Staeble began talking about the gubernatorial race, saying he would seek the governor's chair "if it becomes desirable that I become the candidate."

Discussing Romney's tax reform program, about which he had good things to say last week, he qualified his opinion Saturday night with "It has some bad side effects."

Staeble said "It's the first thing Romney has tried to do."

U.S. Grand Jury to Probe Birmingham Race Violence

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Against a background of violence and death, a special federal grand jury was ordered today to investigate racial outbreaks that continue to plague this city.

U. S. Dist. Judge Clarence W.
Allgood in his charge to the grand jury emphasized the dynamite explosion at a Negro church yesterday which killed four children and injured 23 other persons.

A calm prevailed in Birmingham this morning, especially around the church and the three recently desegregated schools. There were no reports of violence.

FBI agents and bomb experts conducted an exhaustive search for clues at the church. Three hundred state troopers and 500 national guardsmen remained on alert, ready to back up the Birmingham Police Department
if fresh violence erupted.

The bomb blast was described by Allgood, a native of Birmingham, as "a mockery of our laws—a mockery by those who would cut the very roots of our American system of justice."

CONDEMNED SWIFTLY

The bombing brought swift condemnation from national Negro leaders and state local officials.

It was deplored in the U.S.
Senate as a tragic blow to race relations. A plea was founded for quicker action on civil rights legislation.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., called the bombing "repulsive and outrageous."

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy canceled two speaking engagements in Philadelphia to stay in his office during the racial trouble in Birmingham.

Birmingham Mayor Albert Buttwell said he couldn't understand such viciousness, and Gov.

George Wallace called for the capture of the bombers.

"Today has been the most brightening in the history of Birmingham," said Sheriff Melvin Bailey as scattered outbreaks of violence occurred after the bombing.

Two Negroes were killed in shootings and three other persons were injured.

Allgood told the grand jury that racial violence in the name of "tradition and freedom" is heresy.

He called for an indictment of anyone who has unlawfully obstructed court-ordered desegregation of Birmingham schools.

There were no student demonstrations around the three integrated schools today, but a boycott appeared to be gaining ground—the school board said attendance was down generally throughout the system.

Birmingham City Councilman
John Golden proposed raising refers covering acts of racial violence.

Queen Elizabeth Expects Another Child Next Year

From Our News Wires
LONDON — Queen Elizabeth II is expecting a baby early next year, Buckingham Palace announced tonight. It will be her fourth child.

The announcement came from the palace while the queen was on her annual holiday with her family at Balmoral Castle in Scotland.

Her press secretary said: "Both the queen and the Duke of Edinburgh are, of course, very happy about it."

If the baby is a boy, he will be third in line to the throne after Prince Charles, 14, the Prince of Wales, and Prince Andrew, 3. If the child is a girl, she will be fourth in line after Princess Anne,

No date more precise than "in the new year" was given for the expected birth. For the birth of Prince Andrew about six months elapsed between the traditional "cancellation of engagements" announcement and the arrival of the queen's third child.

Queen Elizabeth is 37.

The first scheduled engagement of the Queen's to be affected by the cancellation announced tonight will be a visit she and Prince Philip were to have made on Oct. 14 to Durham and other towns in Northeast England.

Threats have been made anonymously against the Queen in connection with that visit. It was disclosed last week police were investigating four anonymous, crudely written letters threatening that the Queen would be shot at, and that acid would be thrown at her.

There were no really major engagements — the Queen's calendar. Others that are now called off included a visit to the University of Sussex on Nov. 1, attendance at the British Festival of Remembrance at Albert Hall in London on Nov. 9 and a Remembrance Day (American Memorial Day) service at the cenotaph on Whitehall Nov. 9.

Michigan GOP Closes Confab

Hear Political Advice
in Final Session

MACKINAC ISLAND (UP) — Michigan Republicans wound up a three-day conference yesterday by kicking off the 1964 campaign with advice on how to win elections and influence voters.

Warned that next year's political campaign will be a tough one, some 600 Republicans returned to their homes from Mackinac Island to face the problem of how to put the advice into effect at the grass roots level.

GOP National Chairman Rep.
William Miller of New York, and Gov. George Romney joined in the effort to fire up the political troops and kindle enthusiasm for the task ahead.

Further advice came from Kentucky Sen. Thurston Morton.

He said an effort must be made to run qualified men and women for every office from city hall to the White House.

At a news conference, Morton urged that the GOP make a dark horse for the 1964 presidential nominations. He said Romney, Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater and New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller are the three men most frequently mentioned in Republican circles as the potential nominees.

U.S. Quints' Survival Chances Good

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — The Fischer quintuplets, very tiny but extremely vigorous, rounded out their first 48 hours of life early today with good prospects for survival.

The babies born to Mr. and Mrs.
Andrew Fischer early Saturday were reported doing fine.

GOING STRONG

Dr. James Berbos, who delivered the infants, said they were going strong on a diet of sugar water and may be switched to something heavier today, like a milk formula.

Later Sunday, Dr. Berbos reported that the four girls and a boy were being fed about four cubic centimeters of sugar water every two hours.

Berbos, who has delivered 3,007 children in his 16 years as a physician, said both mother and children were doing extremely well. The first 72 hours were considered to be the most dangerous for the newborn quints, but there was no sign of trouble.

Gifts of money and merchandise continued to pour in for the family, and Dr. Berbos added one of his own.

"I don't think I'll charge them anything," Berbos said. He indicated that St. Luke's hospital, where the infants were born, also would forget about a bill.

NO MORE

Dr. Berbos told a news conference that he hadn't delivered any more babies since the birth of the quintuplets.

Looking at a score of newsmen crowded into the hospital lounge, Berbos smiled and said: "They've all been scared off."

Fischer and three of his other five children attended Mass Sunday at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church, escorted in and out by a platoon of reporters and photographers.

It wasn't far away from birthday time for any of the three youngsters. Julie was 6 Sunday, Charlotte will be 7 Wednesday and Danny will be 8 Oct. 5. The other Fischer children are Evelyn, 4, and Denise, 3.

While the father and Dr. Berbos were busy with periodic news conferences in the hospital cafeteria Sunday, Mrs. Fischer rested in her third-floor room and tried to think of names for the four girls.
They all were named Mary but have no second names. The boy was named James Andrew.

WOMAN RESCUED — Mrs. Gertrude Bramley, 52, is carried on a stretcher by rescue workers who pulled her from under tons of debris after an explosion ripped through a Bloomfield Township house Saturday. Mrs. Bramley was in an upstairs bedroom when the blast occurred. She was trapped under rubble for more than two hours.

JFK Reports on Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military assistance to nations whose borders are overhauled by the guns of their Communist neighbors still is the costliest single item of U.S. foreign aid, President Kennedy told Congress today.

And the lion's share of the military aid is being spent to stem the Chinese Communist threat in the Far East, Kennedy said in his annual report on how U.S. aid is being used.

The report, covering military and economic aid programs in fiscal 1967, did not include more recent outlays, but administration officials said the trend this year is still much the same.

Increasing amounts of economic help are being shifted to Latin America, where the report said "the prospect for the near future is a continuing effort by the national Communist movement to obstruct and retard the Alliance for Progress."

REPORT TOTAL
The report said the total $4,514,000-aid appropriations for 1967 included:

Malaysia Born Amid Hostility

Indonesia, Philippines Cold to New Nation

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—The world's newest nation, the Federation of Malaysia, was born today in alternately gay and somber inaugural ceremonies darkened by the hostility of its two largest neighbors.

The nation's strongest neighbor and most militant opponent, Indonesia, announced it could not accept Malaysia "as it is now." The other, the Philippines, withheld recognition.

In Jakarta, Indonesia, howling, stone-throwing Indonesian mobs stormed the British and Malaysian Embassy compounds to protest the British-backed formation of Malaysia. Demonstrators overturned the British ambassador's car, smashed nearly 1,000 panes of window glass and burned the British flag.

The inaugural ceremonies ended a two-year struggle to unite the British territories of Sarawak and North Borneo, self-governing Singapore and the former British colony of Malaya. The independent federation stretches in a 1,500-mile tropical arc along the larger lip of the South China Sea.

City May Take 3 Lots for Parking Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — Action could be taken by the City Commission tonight on three parcels of property scheduled to become part of a municipal parking lot.

Commissioners last week postponed taking action on a resolution which would initiate condemnation proceedings.

The lots, on the northeast corner of Townsend, are the only ones in the block south of Shale Park which the city has not acquired.

Plans are also in the making for an L-shaped parking lot that would abut the three properties. The city has been unsuccessful in its attempts to purchase the lots.

Commissioners last week declined to discuss the proposed condemnation resolution.

Among the three hearings scheduled for tonight's commission meeting is one on the necessity of extending Fairway Drive.

TO BISECT AREA
The drive would bisect the area bounded by Lincoln, Northlawn, Golfview Heights subdivision and Northlawn subdivision.

Estimated engineering cost of the project, to be financed through special assessment, is $75,000.

A problem posed by the project is that construction of the roadway would leave several lots with less than the 9,000 square feet required in the R1 zone.

An amendment to the zoning ordinance which would permit the variance has been proposed by planning consultants Villanueva and Associates, Inc., of Southfield.

lence to $100,000. Contributions to the reward fund announced by the City Council about a week ago exceeded $37,000. The original fund was set at $50,000.

Many Negro students quit classes at a high school at Selma, Ala., and some attempted sit-in demonstrations at two stores in the tightly segregated central Alabama city. Indications were that the Negro pupils were demonstrating in protest to the bombing at Birmingham.

The community reacted so strongly to racial violence. Negro leaders called for strong federal action.

The blast was the worst of numerous bombings and other violence since Negroes began campaigning in earnest last April for desegregation here.

ACHIEVED INTEGRATION
They achieved public school integration. Its beginning last week brought some student boycotts and protests. Gov. Wallace earlier had sought to block the integration but was stymied by federal intervention.

This tense city spent a long, fearful day and night after yesterday's blast. Several fires broke out, rocks were thrown by Negroes in various sections and some gunfire was reported.

Sunday School classes at the church were just ending a lesson on "The Love That Forgives" when the explosion tore out concrete, metal and glass.

The four girls apparently were in the lounge in the basement of the old brick church. One, Cynthia Wesley, 14, was hit by the full force of the blast and could be identified only by clothing and a ring.

ROPIING OFF
Even as officers were roping off a two-block area around the church, civic and church leaders were crying for peace and non-violence.

But there was no peace. Two white youths fatally shot a 15-year-old Negro boy, policeman shot to death a 16-year-old Negro and two white men were wounded by Negroes, one in a robbery attempt.

Bomb blasts aren't new to Birmingham Negroes, but bomb deaths are.

Twenty-two times in the past eight years, explosions have been directed at Negroes here. Yesterday was the first one that killed. In none of the blasts has there been a conviction.

Blast Rips Area Home; One Injured

An explosion that seriously injured an 82-year-old woman and partially leveled a $200,000 home in Bloomfield Township was probably caused by a boiler malfunction, according to Township Fire Chief Volney Yanzuszeki.

The victim, Mrs. Gertrude Bramley, is in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, where she was reported in critical condition this morning. She suffered a fractured hip and ankle, possible internal injuries and shock.

She was trapped for more than two hours in the rubble of the two-story brick home at 3702 Brookside, owned by her son-in-law, Max Fruhauf, a Detroit attorney.

Mrs. Bramley was in a second story bedroom of the 35-year-old, 40-room house when the explosion occurred about 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

When the floors and slate roof collapsed, Mrs. Bramley was hurried to the ground floor and pinned under tons of debris.

USE HANDS
Rescue workers from the township fire department and the Birmingham Fire Department chief directed rescue unit used their bare hands and small power tools to dig the debris away from Mrs. Bramley.

Mrs. Bramley's daughter, Alma Fruhauf, 53, was the only other person in the house when the blast occurred.

She was lying in a reading room in another part of the house. She ran outside just as debris started falling around her.

Fruhauf was in the garden when he heard the blast. He turned just in time to see the roof collapse.

"I heard this terrific blast and then the whole thing fell into the basement," he said.

U. S. Sen. Philip A. Hart said the issues in next year's presidential election would be "peace and jobs, if we oversimplify."

Hart said, however, that "it would take a rifle to stop Kennedy."

The new Chrysler will be introduced Sept. 20 in dealer showrooms at R & H Motors, Inc., 724 Oakland; Birmingham Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc., 912 S. Woodward; Birmingham; and Burdette Motor Sales, Inc., 1001 N. Main, Rochester.

All 1964 Chryslers retain the basic dimensions of their predecessors, but with a new, sleeker appearance. The rear window is larger. All series — the Newport, Series 300 and New Yorker — have new grille designs, new rear metal sculpturing and tail lamps.

NEW YORK
Topping the Chrysler line for '64 is the New Yorker Sedan, which is so well equipped that the buyer has choices only of color, interior upholstery material, the adjustable steering wheel and limited slip differential.

"It's a car that has everything," says C. E. Briggs, Chrysler Motors Corp. vice president.

Featuring the sports car look is the Chrysler 300K which has a 413-cubic inch police pursuit type engine with a four-barrel carburetor and dual exhausts. The model will be available as a hardtop and convertible.

For road performance enthusiasts and rally competitors, Chrysler is offering a new four-speed and an improved three-speed manual transmission.

As with 1963 models, engine and drive train components have a five-year or 100,000-mile warranty.

'Thoughtful Design'—Key to '64 Dodge

"Thoughtful engineering" is the distinguish Dodge's 50th anniversary keynote of the 1964 standard size Dodge, according to Dodge general manager Byron J. Nichols.

Along with the compact Dart and the medium priced Dodge 380, the '64 Dodge, with a line-up of 22 models, will go on sale this Friday at Spartan Dodge, Inc., 111 S. Saginaw.

WIDER AT REAR
Styling at the rear accents the width and stability of the car. A two-inch wider rear wheel track seats, center console and all-vinyl interiors. The selector lever for either the four-speed manual transmission or the three-speed automatic is in the console.

'Thoughtful Design'—Key to '64 Dodge

gives the Dodge a stronger, more powerful appearance.

All 1964 Dodge models except station wagons are built on a 119-inch wheelbase. The overall length of sedan, hardtop and convertible models has been increased almost two inches. Headroom is also greater.

Buyers of the '64 Dodge have a choice of six engines, including a new 436-cubic-inch V8 with a four-barrel carburetor.

"This is an exceptionally fine engine, especially for cross-country driving in turnpikes and freeways," Nichols said.

The '64 Dodge also offers a choice of three transmissions: a three-speed manual, a four-speed manual and a three-speed automatic.

The 22 models in the standard-size Dodge come in three series: the 330, the 440, and the deluxe Polara.

Tito to Turn on Charm for Kennedy Talks

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Notes from the foreign news cables:
COMMUNIST MIDDLE-WAY:
Having concluded a successful meeting with Khrushchev, Yugoslav's Marshal Tito may be expected to turn on the charm when he sees President Kennedy in Washington next month. He wants economic cooperation with the United States at least as much as with Russia.

Yugoslavia badly needs western trade and assistance and has been doing relatively well out of its dealings with the West in recent years.

American good will is important to Yugoslavia's economic future, and Tito can be expected to try to convince his American hosts that he can be a Communist and at the same time cooperate with the West.

DEGAULLE:
French security authorities will take no chances with President Charles de Gaulle's life when he makes a four-day speaking swing through southern France Sept. 25-29. They believe Secret Army Organization desperados, who reported opposed to attendance.

have failed in several previous attempts to kill him, may make an all-out try again. Security precautions will be the severest yet seen.

FRANCO-GERMAN:
West German Foreign Minister Gerhard Schroeder visits Paris this week, and diplomats expect some hard talking.

The French are disappointed in results of the six-month-old French-German alliance and complain that every time there is a policy showdown the Bonn government tends to side with the United States rather than with France.

CHURCH RIFT:
There is anxiety in the Vatican that the Greek Orthodox Church, which was one of the few major Christian groups that failed to send observers to the first session of the Ecumenical Council last year, again will go unrepresented in St. Peter's Basilica when the second session opens Sept. 28.

Pope Paul VI made an appeal when he makes a four-day speaking swing through southern France Sept. 25-29. They believe Secret Army Organization desperados, who reported opposed to attendance.

Postage Stamps Honor Col. Glenn Alan Shepard and the Russian Spacemen

NEW YORK, Sept. 16 (EN)—A new series of postage stamps honoring the American Astronauts and the Russian Spacemen is to be issued by Togo according to the Togo Mission to the United Nations.

The stamps are to be distributed by the Elmont Stamp Co. Because of the lively interest in space and rocket stamps, Elmont's New York Office has prepared a collection of the Togo set plus stamps from Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia picturing rockets and space vehicles and the Astronauts in space suits.

Collectors may obtain this set of 20 Space stamps by sending $1.00 to ELMONT STAMP CO., Queens Village 20, N.Y. (limit 4 sets to a customer). This special offer is made to introduce Elmont's approval service.

Bay City Man Missing Off Puerto Rico Coast

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Capt. Harry A. Ellico, 29, of Bay City, Mich., was listed as missing yesterday when his F86 jet fighter of the Puerto Rican Air National Guard crashed into the Caribbean 35 miles off the southwestern tip of Puerto Rico.

A spokesman for the Air National Guard said Ellico was on a routine training mission. Searchers had found no trace of him by nightfall. Ellico had been based in San Juan since last spring.

Kiwanis Set for Peanut Sale

ROCHESTER — Pounds and pounds of peanuts will be available to Rochester shoppers next weekend when the Kiwanis Club here participates in the international Kiwanis peanut sale.

Beginning at noon Thursday, local Kiwanians will be selling the tasty nuts at street corners and shopping centers in the community. The sale will last until noon Saturday.

Proceeds will be used to finance the many youth activities which the organization sponsors.

Club President Arthur Kollin said the first project on the list is the Kids Day, scheduled for a week from Saturday. Races and other competitive events will be the order of the day for local children.

The event will be handled by the club's boys and girls committee, and will take place at Halbach field.

RECEIVES DEGREE — Claudia Lynn Etches was graduated from the Grace Hospital School of Nursing, Detroit, in ceremonies Friday night. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Etches, 3211 Crooks, Avon Township, she is a graduate of Avondale High School.

Antitax Unit to Hear the Governor

DETROIT (AP) — The chairman of the Vigilance Tax Committee, Berkley Mayor George W. Kuhn, says Gov. George Romney has advised him in a letter that he will meet with the committee Sept. 27.

"We are very happy that the governor has agreed to meet with us and discuss his tax program," Kuhn said yesterday, adding "The last was our third attempt to get him down here."

The Vigilance Tax Committee, composed of officials of Detroit's suburbs, is awaiting State Supreme Court action on forwarding its petitions to the legislature to get the tax question submitted to a vote of the people.

The petitions ask that no community should be allowed to pass an income tax without voter approval and that all local income taxes against nonresidents be banned.

"We are opposed to taxing nonresidents even at the rate suggested by Gov. Romney," Kuhn said, "and we are urging voter approval of any income tax to provide public control."

Kuhn said the Sept. 27 meeting with Romney would be held at the City Hall in Warren.

Homeowners Protest

Avon Rezoning Hit

AVON TOWNSHIP — Angry homeowners are readying a massive protest to plan for a multiple dwelling development along Walton.

The Inter-Association, representing nine subdivisions, is leading opposition to the proposed rezoning of the now-vacant farmland.

Glenn Swindler, 2333 Colorado, spokesman for the association, said petitions will be presented at the rezoning hearing, 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in the township hall.

Object of the uproar is a project proposed by College Park Development Co. The firm, headed by Sidney Weinberger who is also developing subdivisions in the area, wants to erect multiple units along a 1,140 stretch on the south side of Walton.

College Park, which owns land extending south and west to Old Perch and Avon roads, had sought approval last spring for multiple units at another spot, reports Township Clerk Theima Spencer.

But an Avon-Rochester-Pontiac Township Regional Planning Commission review of the request suggested the Walton location, she said.

MAINTAIN NEED

The planners maintain there is a need and demand for multiple dwellings; the project would not conflict with the surrounding area and would eliminate demands for commercial strip zoning on that section of Walton.

Homeowners in the area contend rezoning would cause an abrupt change from one type of housing to another, and would open the way to multiple development of all the company's property.

Subdivisions in the Inter-Association are Avon Estates, Avon Heights, Bellarmine Hills, Christian Hills, Hitchman's Haven Estates, Juengel Orchards, Judson Park, Rochdale and Springhill.

Swindler recalled that the organization fought equally hard against a multiple dwelling development at Adams and Walton and was successful.

Ortonville Church Set for 'Sow' Harvest Fest

ORTONVILLE — The Ortonville Methodist Church will celebrate its annual Harvest Festival dinner-bazaar Thursday, with serving to begin at 5:30 p.m.

In addition to the dinner, several booths will offer all kinds of merchandise and homemade items for sale.

Doctor Opens Area Office

CLARKSTON — Dr. Charles R. Hermes, specialist in obstetrics and gynecology, has opened a new office at the Clarkston Medical Center, 5780 M15.

Dr. Hermes received his M.D. degree from St. Louis, Missouri University in 1958. After his internship at Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital in Missouri, he served in the United States Air Force Medical Corps for three years.

He received specialty training in obstetrics and gynecology at the Grace Hospital, Detroit. Bruce Mitchell.

Why is Chevrolet building a fifth line of cars when it builds four great ones already?

A fair question.

And we could give you a lot of impressive sounding answers. But basically the explanation is quite simple. It has to do with people.

Each year their tastes become more demanding, more selective. They want a car that fits their particular needs. Almost just isn't good enough.

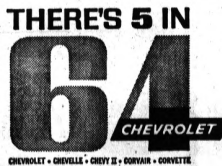

So for '64 we're building the Chevelle—a totally new line of cars that combines some advantages nobody else has come up with yet. Chevelle's comfort and conveniences, for example, compare favorably with many of today's bigger cars. Yet it gives you the handling ease and agility you expect in a smaller car. And as for looks—it's styled with a fresh and youthful flair all its own.

Possibly you're one of today's car buyers who've been looking for such a combination. Possibly you're not. (Which is the reason we're building our other four for '64: the new Jet-smooth luxury Chevrolet; the thrifty new Chevy II with a choice of new V8 power; the sporty new Corvair with a bigger, more powerful rear engine; and the refined new Corvette, America's only honest-to-goodness sports car.)

We feel sure you'll want to look over the Chevelle along with our other four lines when it comes to your Chevrolet showroom. Driving it is an experience you're not likely to forget—particularly if you happen to get hold of one of the V8s. And along with its spirit, of course, you'll find the kind of quality craftsmanship and reliability you've come to expect of a Chevrolet-built car. Needless to say, it's that kind of car through and through.

Matter of fact, once you really get to know it, we have a hunch you'll come up with some reasons for building the Chevelle that haven't even occurred to us yet. Chevrolet Division of General Motors, Detroit, Michigan.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Power Mower Can Inflict Painful Injury

The popularity of power mowers is increasing with everybody except the 50,000 to 75,000 persons who suffer preventable accidents as a result of them each summer.

According to the National Safety Council, the chief reason for these accidents is that many do not appreciate what a dangerous weapon the power mower can be.

A rotary mower's blades rotate at between 3,000 BRANDSTADT and 4,000 revolutions per minute. They will cut through almost anything that gets in their way. When they strike such solid objects as metal, stones, or glass they may propel them with killing force.

If some solid object does clog the blades, no attempt to dislodge it should be made until the motor has been shut off.

If the blades are rotating you must not only shut off the motor but also wait until the blades have stopped turning.

Anything that allows your foot to slip under the blade housing can result in a bad accident. This can happen if you start the motor with one foot placed on the housing.

It can happen if the grass is wet and you are moving too fast. There is a very real danger that it will happen if you are moving on a slope.

UPHILL PUSH

If you are pushing the mower uphill, it may slip back on you, and if you are pushing it downhill you may lose your footing and slide into the mower.

If the incline is not steep you should mow across the slope.

If your mower cannot be easily controlled this way, you should, as an added precaution, attach a rope to the mower and have someone walk along the top of the slope and use the rope to steady the machine.

Because one never knows when such a slip may occur, it is smart to wear steel-toed safety shoes while mowing with a power mower. Such shoes are no guarantee of safety, but they will minimize danger.

It is folly to leave the motor running when the machine is unattended for even a few seconds. And it's folly, too, to allow children to come near the mower while it is in operation.

Because of the dangers involved and the number and severity of accidents in recent years, manufacturers are bringing out several safety devices.

Among the most promising is a new mower with a powerful fan that blows down so that grass, stones or anything else struck is thrown to the ground and not away from the mower.

Another device is an S-shaped blade to replace the straight blade. This, too, has the virtue of not having objects very far or very fast.

There is a new rubber blade that will cut grass but not shoes. It will throw rocks only about one foot from the housing.

So, even if you don't want to rush out and buy a new and safer mower, you can take much of the danger out of your present mower at a very moderate cost.

World News

BERLIN (AP)—Despite all the talk about a limited nuclear test-ban treaty, Communist nations must keep up their military guard, says the Soviet commander of Warsaw Pact troops.

Marshal Andrei A. Grechko spoke in Dresden as armies of four Communist countries concluded Sunday what the East German press called the largest military maneuvers ever held in East Germany. Forty thousand men, 9,000 vehicles and 350 aircraft from Soviet, East German, Czechoslovak and Polish military forces participated.

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI called upon a crowd of 20,000 persons Sunday in St. Peter's square to pray for the success of the Roman Catholic Ecumenical Council.

Pope Paul described the council as "a great preparation to promote world peace." The council, summoned by the late Pope John XXIII, will resume deliberations in two weeks.

Pope Paul also received in a private audience Patriarch Orthodox of the Russian Orthodox Church. The visit was described as a courtesy call. The patriarch was en route home from the United States.

HA'ANA (AP)—A Cuban accused of spying for the United States has been executed by a firing squad.

The paper El Mundo identified him as Benjamin Acosta Valdes. It said he was arrested while transmitting information by radio to an espionage center in Miami, Fla.

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—The price of vodka, traditional drink of Poles, is being increased 15 per cent. The drink has been scarce for a year.

Prices of milk, other dairy products, wine, vinegar and matches were raised. The increases range from 8 to 20 per cent.

The price increases were described in the press as an attempt to ease serious food shortages following Poland's second consecutive poor harvest.

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—A Roman Catholic protest against the visit of President Tito of Yugoslavia is continuing in Brazil. Tito begins a five-day official visit Wednesday.

Church pamphlets criticized President Joao Goulart of Brazil for honoring a "dictator who killed a cardinal, priests, members of religious orders and other brothers in faith."

The prelate mentioned was Alojzije Cardinal Stepinco who was imprisoned by the Tito government in 1946 for alleged collaboration with the Nazis. After restricted to his native village of Krasia, where he died in 1959.

Senators Want Diem Change

End to Viet Aid Backed

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

Viet Nam: There is great support in the Senate for a resolution calling for an end to U.S. aid to President Ngo Dinh Diem's government in South Viet Nam unless it changes course, according to Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a television interview Saturday that he supports the resolution introduced by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, "in the sense that I disapprove of what is going on" in South Viet Nam.

BUT WITHDRAWAL? But, Fulbright added, "withdrawal of our forces is another matter."

He said there is a feeling among many senators that continued U.S. support of Diem's government will fail in its objective of halting the spread of communism unless Diem changes his policies.

ATTACK: Secretary of State Dean Rusk says some additional steps to guard against surprise attack may be worked out in forthcoming talks with the Soviet Union.

But, cautioning against expecting any quick, dramatic results, Rusk said "it takes time to find agreement. We ought to see whether or not our common interests in avoiding war can't bring one or another of the problems into focus so we can get an additional agreement on it."

SUCCESS INSPECTORS

Rusk, in a television interview Sunday, suggested something could be worked out on a Soviet proposal to station inspectors at railway centers, airfields and other points where mobilization for war could be detected.

He indicated this might come up in meetings with Soviet foreign minister Andrei A. Gromyko here and at the United Nations.

Noses Into Oregon Zoo

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Another baby elephant, the third born at the Portland Zoo in 18 months, arrived Sunday.

Prior to the three births it had been 44 years since an elephant had been born in this country.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special)—One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results—here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids—without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H. Ask for Preparation H Suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Available at all drug counters.

It Seems to Me....

1964 Pontiacs and Tempests Once Again Defy Description

Those new Pontiacs and Tempests are the most scrumptious things on wheels.

Really, they're super terrific, and every citizen in this entire area can help make the welkin ring as our bread and butter for the next twelve months rest to a considerable extent upon these noble creations.

Just relax.

E. M. Estes, John DeLorean, Frank Bridge, Marty Rummel, Buel Starr, Bob Emerick and a whole host of equally important individuals have cut another fancy caper, I'm not mechanically minded enough to tick off the manifold advantages, but I can appraise the looks and these cars are a grand and impressive array of champions.

They're beautiful.

And the comparatively new Tempest will stand up against anything in the land for appearance as well as performance and all-time economy. You should have one of each—a Pontiac to get you there and a Tempest to whisk you home.

I never did appreciate "lengthening by six inches" or the "sharper sweep of the windshield" and those other tricky manifestos which the cognoscenti discuss with such ecstacy and aplomb. But even a mechanical dud can appreciate the sharp acceleration, the smooth and almost imperceptible purr of that magnificent power plant and the ease with which everything "comes to hand."

I've raved about Pontiac automobiles before, and frankly I expect to do it again; but just think of the company I have — $99,071 agreed in the last 12 months alone.

If you've spied these sleek, glistening and graceful beauties, you understand my frame of mind. If you haven't, think what's ahead.

Expect a lot.

You'll still be surprised.

Give Once....

The March of Dimes asks your consideration—for it, that is. It has none for you.

Over 50 worthwhile agencies are placed together in the community drive, and by and large our citizens give cheerfully and liberally. They deserve your applause. The few miserly Scrooges who duck their responsibilities are well marked.

The March of Dimes refuses to enter the big package for the common good of all. Rather, its national officials say:

"No. You will have two drives—one for the five dozen together and then one for us separately even though we're only a minor agency at best." Along with a few million others, we say: "Sorry. Nothing. Try playing fair."

It's Progress....

Along with hosts of others, I was disappointed to find former Mayor ARTHUR J. LAW, speaking in opposition to the strengthening of the municipal airport.

The one-time city official has always stood for progress and civic betterment. Certainly every airport that has ever been built or expanded has hurt someone.

How can it be otherwise?

And yet, this unfortunate fact has never blocked the honest development of the United States and alert cities scattered all over the world. The airport in Buenos Aires probably worked an inestimable hardship on a few; and so did the ones in San Diego and Stockholm. But municipalities continue to expand and grow. They faced tomorrow realistically.

The residents who take a dim view of expansions west were complacent at the proposals north of the City. And those who were loud in their protests there look with equanimity on the plans in Waterford. No one likes to see anyone hurt anywhere. But the development of this great nation has never been checked by the regrettable misfortunes incident to progress.

Bunny Talk....

My old friend, MILBURN P. AKERS of the Chicago Sun-Times, opens some comments on the publisher of Playboy Magazine with the following:

"Hugh M. Hefner, publisher of an over-sexed magazine designed to titillate the libidos of aging males and pubescent youths, delivers himself of a paen to immorality which, perhaps, should be enshrined in the nearest Aphrodisium as a prime example of causticity."

Pete, you quite outdid even your own omniscient and sapiential self, and now will you please translate this into bunny talk?

And in Conclusion....

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

Chicago Tribune: "Perkins, you're the finest salesman in the whole department. You haven't won a golf game from a customer all summer." ... JACK BENNY has signed BILLY GRAHAM and SONNY LISTON for TV appearances this fall. That's covering the waterfront. ... They're trying to establish rubies as the "most precious" stone—out-ranking diamonds, sapphires and emeralds. ... A survey shows loneliness hits all ages and sexes alike. Widowed men and women suffer the most. Two million in Britain admitted "bitter loneliness."

I can't prove it, but I'll bet a sugar cookie Rocky Colavito will be playing for Cleveland in 1964.

... Trusted scouts advise me Lynda Crawley deserves mention as one of the area's very attractive young ladies. ...

... Overheard: "Well, I guess there's nothing left for Christine Keeler to do but grow old disgracefully." ... There are 77 nations operating national lotteries or allowing them. Rep. Pino has a bill drawn in Washington which he says would raise $10 billion a year.

... I followed a Sylvan Village police car a few blocks the other day, and it made two full turns, without signaling either. That comes under the heading of DD (Dubious Driving).

JACK NICKLAUS missed a 15-inch putt in the recent championship. Foursomes play in haven't done this once all summer. (We concede 'em.) ... MANDY RICE-DAVIES proves conclusively that those hyphenated names in Britain include the bottom of the barrel and the scum as well as the titled and landed gentry. ... CURVE KOCUS has one of the greatest records in the amateur championships. He has won 33 matches and lost only 13. ... Dept. of Cheers and Jeers—the C's—the Jaycees for that great petition drive; the J's—illegal drag racing.

SOME PROBLEMS ARE HARD TO EXPLAIN

David Lawrence Says:

Reservation a Boon to N-Ban Pact

WASHINGTON—For all practical purposes President Kennedy has put on record the most important "reservation" of the Chicago Sun-Times, opens some comments on the publisher of Playboy Magazine with the following:

"Hugh M. Hefner, publisher of an over-sexed magazine designed to titillate the libidos of aging males and pubescent youths, delivers himself of a paen to immorality which, perhaps, should be enshrined in the nearest Aphrodisium as a prime example of causticity."

He formulated it in a letter to the leaders of both parties in the Senate. He gave his inter-LAWRENCE pretensions and his positive assurances on the safeguards that will be maintained.

All that is needed now is a formal resolution of the Senate adopted at any time—in advance of ratification or even afterwards—taking official notice of all the President's words as an integral factor in the process of ratification of the new treaty.

The U.S. Senate is empowered to participate in the act of ratification of a treaty. The Constitution says the President "shall have power, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, to make treaties, provided two thirds of the senators present concur."

There is no agreed-upon formula, however, as to the way by which the "advice" should be given before the treaty is actually signed by the executive branch of the government or even after negotiations with other governments, but the Senate from time to time has attached "reservations."

Today there is an understandable skepticism about the scope and meaning of the treaty limiting nuclear tests. President Kennedy wisely took note of the doubts and fears among members of the Senate and in the country generally by writing an explicit letter presenting, in effect, an "interpretive reservation."

Let the President's letter be regarded as solely based on the viewpoint of the executive branch of the government, the idea of adopting a resolution formally accepting or taking cognizance of the President's explanation of the meaning and purposes as well as limitations of the treaty could really give added prestige to the pact itself.

WOULD BE BINDING

A resolution adopted now, moreover, would be binding upon any successor president of the United States and would take its place as a formal document alongside the treaty itself long after Senate Foreign Relations Committee reports, testimony or the statements made at informal sessions.

hyphenated names in Britain include the bottom of the barrel and the scum as well as the titled and landed gentry. ... CURVE KOCUS has one of the greatest records in the amateur championships. He has won 33 matches and lost only 13. ... Dept. of Cheers and Jeers—the C's—the Jaycees for that great petition drive; the J's—illegal drag racing. —HAROLD A. FITZGERALD mal press conferences may have been forgotten.

The President's letter to Senators Mansfield and Dirksen might otherwise be regarded abroad as merely a domestic expedient—as a means of assuring ratification through bipartisan support in the Senate.

Actually the letter, in summary, states explicitly:

1. That nuclear testing underground will be continued.

2. That this country will take whatever steps are necessary to safeguard "national security in the event there should be an abrogation or violation of any treaty provision."

3. That this government "retains the right to resume atmospheric testing forthwith if the Soviet Union should conduct tests in violation of the treaty."

4. That our "facilities for the detection of possible violation of this treaty will be expanded."

Bob Considine Says:

You Live Dangerously When You Tip Lightly

NEW YORK — Want to live dangerously? You don't necessarily have to fight Sonny Liston, protect your desperate lane from passing any buses and trucks on the Jersey Turnpike or ship off to Viet Nam.

You can have high adventure closer to home, particularly if you know an insurance-selling friend of mine named Ellsworth Jones, and plan to dine out with him.

Bring a "Mickey" antidote if you do. Mr. Jones writes:

"I had an experience tonight which gave birth to an inspiration which may create a trend that will save at least one segment of our society. (Ed. Note: It was a very nice restaurant where the dinner was excellent.)"

"I got home late from my office and my family had gone to the movies. Since I had not had dinner, I went to Hackensack (Ed. Note: Where, else, on a night like this?) to a very nice restaurant where the dinner was pleasant and the food excellent."

"I had two very good martinis, a steak and coffee. The bill was $6.50. (Ed. Note: A steal, E. J., a downright steal, but go on please.)"

"The normal tip should be 20 per cent or roughly $1.40, but I got to thinking and I realized that the waitress had not asked me for my cocktail order."

"She had neglected to give me a napkin. The steak, while it was good, was medium well done whereas I had ordered it rare, but since I was hungry I ate it anyway."

INSPIRATION

"This was when the inspiration took over."

"I thought to myself, 'Why should I pay for things I didn't get?'"

"So I deducted 10 per cent of the tip for the cocktail oversight; 10 per cent for the napkin oversight; and 10 per cent for the steak oversight."

"This left the waitress with a round figure of $1 instead of $1.40. She had lost 40 cents just as I would lose money if I neglected one of my customers."

"I duly noted this on the back of the check. I had a nice conversation with the maitre d' about my idea and he thought it was tremendous. (Ed. Note: Before or after you tipped him, E. J.)"

I believe that we should tip 20 per cent or even more where the service has been especially good. But why should we be cowed into giving a tip for poor service just because we are afraid of being considered cheap?

Some Answers

The Chuo Koron, Tokyo

"Generally speaking, the Japanese hold two sets of views about China. On one hand, China has close historical and geographical ties with Japan. On the other hand, the Japanese should be aware, above all else, that China is a Communist country."

The People's Republic of China is a Communist country. We should not ignore this fact when we discuss its problems. It is also true, however, that an Asian people with an Asian culture has developed Chinese communism on Asian soil.

These factors involve some contradictions but although China and Japan live under different political systems they have similar cultural and ethnic backgrounds. Thus the Chinese are in a position to understand Japanese ways of thinking and feeling and surely feel more at home talking with Japanese than with Russians. In other words, China and the Soviet Union live under the same political system but have different cultural traditions.

The Japanese should have a realistic grasp of the facts about China. China is an Asian Communist country with a population of 700 million. Though underdeveloped, it is making tremendous progress. The Japanese must free themselves from their naive and emotional attitude toward Chinese communism and reach a mature understanding of what is happening in mainland China. We must try to avoid falling out among ourselves because of ideological disagreements on how to deal with China. We should study Western views on Communist China.

Voice of the People:

'Why Charge Area People Fee to Use City Library?'

How many citizens living outside the city limits of Pontiac are aware that they cannot use the Pontiac City Library without paying a yearly fee of $5? This rule is unjust and discriminatory.

Thousands of former Pontiac residents who have moved to suburbia cannot use the library that their tax money helped build without paying a fee. This is one of the largest modern libraries in the county and it should be available to all county residents.

Detroit Water Still Controversial Topic

Is something in our new water that can kill house plants? Mine seem to be dying. I lost four leaves off my rubber plant in the last two weeks and all my plants look puny. It took years to grow these plants so if the water is killing them, I don't think I should have to pay the first three bills as that's about how much they're worth. I can hardly drink the new water. It tastes like foam.

Feel Differently About Writer's Letter

I send Dr. Guzman food for thought. I walked my little girl to kindergarten, along with my 2-year-old. At a highway crossing a large truck pulled up and a Negro driver used words to me that were a disgrace. I was afraid for our safety. Two months ago my mother was rushed to the hospital. It was 2 a.m. and when I started home a car pulled alongside with six Negro men and they tried to run me off the road and chased me through Pontiac.

Does Dr. Guzman feel because I resent this that I'm biased, backward and a bigot?

A Waterford Mother

I agree with Dr. Guzman's comments on David Lawrence. Lawrence used his last ounce of omnipotence for cynical writing when he criticized the Negro for using the radio, television and press as means of reaching the American public.

By his criticism he was trying to accomplish two things at once: He was saying the Negro should be ashamed for trying to make progress and to the white man he was saying that the Negro is trying to air their sins.

Mr. Lawrence has every right to write the way he feels, but I have the right to disagree.

'Waterford Township Taxes Are Unfair

Waterford Township residents are being taken: They pay high school taxes, plus they pay again to place their children in grade school. Why?

Orion Township residents pay low school taxes and do not pay extra to place their children in grade schools.

Both townships are in Oakland County. I feel this is unfair.

'Ample Reason for Investigation in City'

There is ample reason to call for a grand jury investigation in Pontiac. Several of the present City Commissioners seem to have unusual ties to the other activities of the community.

Reviewing Other Editorial Pages

Communist China follows a hard line. Look at its campaign against American imperialism, its ideological clash with the Soviet Union and its border dispute with India. However, the anti-U.S. campaign appears more theoretical than real because the United States is so geographically remote. Nor has China ever prepared for war with the United States. The Sino-Soviet dispute may also be regarded as a problem that concerns only the Communist bloc. Moreover, the border dispute with India will probably calm down and trade with Japan will probably expand. The "hard line" can be read as a change of pace which tries to adjust to a changing world situation and to avoid being isolated internationally.

The Chuo Koron, Tokyo

"Generally speaking, the Japanese hold two sets of views about China. On one hand, China has close historical and geographical ties with Japan. On the other hand, the Japanese should be aware, above all else, that China is a Communist country."

Pendergast, whose political power was so enormous that he couldn't be touched for his many crimes, made the same blunder and was sent to Leavenworth by the internal revenue people. Many another criminal has been brought down by some trifle.

Joe Aluppa is only the most recent example. He's a big man in Chicago — big enough that although his underworld record is well known he has been able to escape justice. But that was before he invaded Kansas.

What did he do here? He exceeded the bag limit on mourning doves. To be sure, he exceeded it by a considerable number. He had 563 of the birds and he was transporting them illegally when he came to the notice of law enforcement agents. Later, when he stood before Judge Arthur J. Stanley in Kansas City, Kan., he found that the Aluppa name had lost its old black magic.

The judge gave him three months in jail, a $1,000 fine, and two years on probation. All for what must have seemed to the gangster, by comparison with his normal activities, an innocent pastime.

It's enough to discourage Chicago hoodlums from vacationing in Kansas.

Rioters in Israel

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP)—The Israel government Sunday unanimously endorsed Prime Minister Levi Eshkol's statement condemning the demonstrations at mission schools in Jerusalem, Haifa and Jaffa last Tuesday.

The government decided to direct police to take all necessary measures to bring all those responsible to trial, and to act vigorously against all unlawful assemblies and violence.

Police arrested 104 youths in Jerusalem last week in connection with demonstrations against the French-directed St. Joseph Convent school. Nine youths were arrested in Haifa and two in Tel Aviv in connection with demonstrations in Haifa and Jaffa.

Negroes Return to School in Prince Edward County

FARMVILLE, Va. (AP)—Negro Tew of Throck. Tew is a tobacco farmer. While children in Prince Edward have attended private segregated schools since 1959. They must pay tuition.

The free schools were set up as a one-year emergency measure while the 11-year-old legal battle against segregated public schools is carried back to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Prince Edward case was one of the four that made up the Supreme Court's original 1954 desegregation decision.

MONTH'S TIME

Officials of the free schools have organized a complete school system in a month's time. Principals of three of the four schools were named only Saturday. The six-man biracial board of trustees of the school association was organized last month with backing from the state and federal governments. Former Virginia Gov. Colgate W. Darden heads the board.

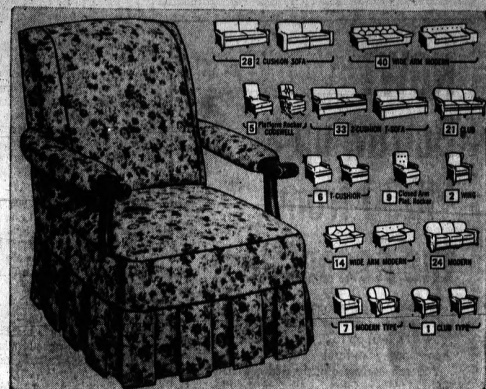

One of the board's first acts was to name Neil V. Sullivan as superintendent. Sullivan, 48, took a year's leave of absence as a school superintendent at East Williston, Long Island, N.Y.

The children will attend four public schools leased from the county. Buses also were leased from the county.

British to Give Gambian Full Self-Government
 BATHURST, Gambia (AP)—Britain will grant its West African colony at Gambia full internal self-government Oct. 4, Gambia Premier David Kweil Jawara announced.
 Gambia is a 15 to 30-mile-wide wedge-like enclave in Senegal, bordering both banks of the Senegal River for almost 300 miles.

New Orleans Negroes Schedule Rally

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Negro demonstrators who were arrested Saturday night remained in their cells. There were no arrests last night.

● NEW YORK—The NAACP last night urged President Kennedy to order "complete intervention" of the Justice Department in the Birmingham racial crisis while Dr. Robert W. Spike, executive director of the National Council of Churches made a plea for racial justice in denouncing the church dynamiting.

Davis said the rally would be held at 8 p.m. (EST) in the New Zion Baptist Church. He said the rally "just might" lead to a renewal of demonstrations, but added: "We'll have to wait and see."

Elsewhere in the nation:
 ● BRUNSWICK, Ga.—Six Negro students were scheduled to integrate the all-white high school here today under federal court orders.

● TALLAHASSEE, Fla.—Nearly 500 Negroes demonstrated last night in front of the Leon County Jail, where most of 248

Over 200 Businessmen to Attend JFK Confab

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Commerce Department reports that more than 200 businessmen have accepted President Kennedy's invitation to attend a two-export expansion, beginning tomorrow.

The President will address the group along with Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon, Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Ted Kennedy Hits Racism

Asks World Delegates to Back Resolution

BELGRADE (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., today urged legislators from 59 nations to support a resolution condemning racial segregation, which he called "legally wrong, morally wrong and bad for humanity."

The President's youngest brother, in a speech prepared for delivery to the conference of the Inter-Parliamentary Union, defended the administration's civil rights record and said the United States would solve its Negro problem as it did those of other minority groups, including his Irish ancestors.

"Neither I nor the President of the United States would hold the positions we do if America had not taken down the sign that said 'No Irish Need Apply,'" he said.

South Viet Nam's Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, an outspoken critic of administration policies toward her regime who met Sen. Kennedy for lunch Saturday, remained in the background today, contacting delegates and giving them her side of the Vietnamese Buddhist dispute.

IST ADDRESS — Mme. Nhu made her conference speech last week. Today was Kennedy's first address to the meeting.

"We have come to grips with our problem," he said. "We realize our special responsibilities. We are determined to clean our hands of racial prejudice so we can go before the world with deeds to match our words."

Kennedy said gypsies in Central Europe, "coloreds" in South Africa, and West Indians in Britain suffer from discrimination.

"But racial discrimination in 1963 is most publicized in the United States," he added. "In a sense, my nation has asked to be judged in this area, because of the leadership we have taken in the cause of freedom and democracy around the world."

Veteran Congressman Dies of Stroke at 70

WASHINGTON (AP) — A cerebral hemorrhage has claimed the life of Rep. Leon H. Gavin, R-Pa., veteran member of the House Armed Services Committee. He was 70.

Gavin, a resident of Oil City, Pa., and Congressman from Pennsylvania's 23rd Congressional District for 21 years, was stricken in his apartment here Saturday night after returning from a dinner with his wife, Susan. He died about 30 minutes later.

Are You Good Student? Test Will Tell

By THE READING
LABORATORYWritten for Newspaper Enterprise Association

Do you know how to be a good student? Here's a little test that will tell you whether you've learned how to go to school. Just answer the questions with a "Yes" or "No."

1. Do you know how to summarize a textbook before a course even starts.
2. Do you always study your teacher as well as his course?
3. Do you know how to answer essay questions when you don't know the right answer?

4. Do you know how to take a multiple-choice test, so that the structure of the test works for you?

5. Do you know how the structure of history differs from that of physics and how to adapt your studying to each?

6. Have you ever tried to figure out the best ways for you to memorize?

7. Do you know how to take notes at a lecture — or do you write down everything that you can?

8. Do you know how to cram scientifically?

9. Can you get the main idea out of a textbook chapter in just a couple of minutes?

10. Did you read the last couple paragraphs of this article before you started to read it all the way through?

With all the years you've spent as a student, you should have developed scientific approaches to studying. But if you couldn't answer "Yes" to all the above questions, you haven't learned your trade.

This is the first of 30 articles that will help you learn the trade so you cope with your school load more effectively. Even if you feel you know all the tricks already, read these columns anyway. There might be some shortcuts you haven't found.

But before we start discussing specific study techniques, you should develop some basic attitudes and points of view that are indispensable to effective studying.

The first point of view you have to develop works this way: stop and think about your resources — all your courses.

What are they getting at? What are you learning in school? Think about it for a minute. Are you learning to reason better? Are you becoming more receptive to ideas?

The courses you're taking this year — will they help you think more clearly? (For instance, algebra and Latin.) Will they help you express yourself better? (Any foreign language will help you understand your own.

Will they help you understand the forces that are shaping your world? (For instance, physics, sociology, and history.)

The point is, do you just endure your courses, or do you really try to get something out of them? If you start with the attitude that school is unpleasant, you'll be right — it will be. But if you make an effort to see what your courses can do for you, then school can be a real pleasure.

The next step is to start to develop an approach to each one of your courses in particular.

(Tomorrow: Why history needn't be boring.)

When the recent modern calendar was adopted, Wednesday, Sept. 2, 1963, was followed one day later by Thursday, Sept. 14.

Bird Swarms Halt Planes at Idlewild

NEW YORK (AP)—Large swarms of migrating tree swallows took root on runways and taxiways yesterday at Idlewild Airport.

The instrument runway had to be closed for 45 minutes to permit removal of birds killed by a landing jetliner.

The same runway was closed again for another 33 minutes when the swallows became so thick it was considered unsafe for use.

All incoming aircraft were warned to watch out for the birds.

On Oct. 4, 1960, an Eastern Airlines Electra crashed after take-off from Boston, killing 61 persons, and the cause was laid officially on starlings flying into the plane's jet intakes.

'My Remarriage Hurt Chances for Bid'--Rocky

WASHINGTON (AP)—New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says it's "realistic" to look upon his remarriage as seriously damaging his chances for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

"I have a very deep understanding of the reactions of individuals in this situation," he said Sunday night in a television interview. "I have no sense but one of feeling for people's concern. 'I think it is a situation which in political life is difficult.'"

EXPANDED VIEWS

He expanded his views further today in a magazine interview. Commenting on his divorce and remarriage he said:

"I think that the reaction on that subject is a highly personal one with all people. Until such time as there is an occasion when they have to make a decision, it's hard to tell exactly what that reaction will be.

"But when an individual has to make a decision, whether it's in a convention or in the voting booth, then I think that he will bring that factor, along with all of the other factors, into balance and make a decision. The collective effort of all the people's decisions would, of course, give the answer."

He noted that the Gallup Poll now has Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona in the lead for the nomination, but said he believes someone else could end up with the big prize.

COULD HELP GOP

As for Goldwater, the Arizona said in an AP interview that if he decides to go after the presidential nomination, one of the main reasons would be his belief that as head of the ticket he could help Republicans get elected to the House and Senate in the South, Midwest and West.

"Win, lose or draw, if I were the nominee, I believe I could

Local Attorney Named to Post

To Chair Committee for Commercial Code

Pontiac attorney Philip E. Rowston has been appointed chairman of the advisory committee for the uniform commercial code program which will be presented in Pontiac this fall.

The program is a statewide effort to prepare lawyers for practice under the Uniform Commercial Code which takes effect in Michigan Jan. 1, 1964.

The program is presented by the Institute of Continuing Legal Education of the University of Michigan Law School, Wayne State University Law School and the State Bar of Michigan.

The course is divided in two parts. Uniform Commercial Code Program I, covering secured transactions, bulk transfers, sales and warranties will be held at the Oakland County Courthouse on Oct. 10, 17, 24 and 31 from 7 to 10 p.m.

Part two, covering commercial papers, bank deposits and collections, letters of credit, investment securities and documents of title, will be held at Ann Arbor, Detroit, Grand Rapids and Lansing.

help get a lot of Republicans elected," he said.

Goldwater stuck to his position that he won't make up his mind until January about seeking the nomination.

Rockefeller set an earlier timetable. He said in the television interview he would announce his decision before the end of this year—perhaps in November.

SUBVERSION DANGER

On his charge that the Republican party was in "real danger of subversion by a radical, well-financed and highly disciplined minority," that "disciplined minority."

"No," said Rockefeller, "it is very hard and that is one of the problems."

Was the charge aimed at Goldwater?

"No," said the governor, "it was not." In answer to another question, he said he saw no danger that Goldwater might become a "captive of the radical right."

In his magazine interview, he said there are many areas of agreement between him and Goldwater.

But he added: "There are many other areas in which it's hard for me to know just exactly where he does stand. His position on many issues has been importantly modified in recent weeks or months."

In reply to a question stating that Goldwater favored withdrawal of recognition of the Soviet Union, Rockefeller called such a stand unrealistic.

On other points, he said:

- He doesn't think there's a split in the Republican party.
- He thinks President Kennedy can be beaten in 1964 and that Republican chances have improved in the last 6 to 12 months.

● He wouldn't write off either the Negro or the labor vote for the Republicans in 1964.

● He thinks the Republicans have a pretty good chance of winning Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and California.

● Anyone who sees no difference between him and Kennedy is "just plain misinformed."

APPLIES TO ALL

Meanwhile, GOP Chairman William E. Miller said that a directive he issued to Republican national committee officials against taking sides in the presidential nomination contest applied to all committee personnel.

GOV. ROCKEFELLER

It was learned elsewhere that it was aimed primarily at the heads of two subsidiary organizations—Dorothy Elston, president of the National Federation of Republican Women, and Donald E. Lukens, head of the National Young Republicans.

In an interview, Miller avoided confirming or denying reports that New York National Committee member George L. Hinman had complained that Mr. Elston was campaigning for Goldwater in her position as federation president.

Rockefeller backers are known to be interested in Miller's seeing to it that Dukens, who was elected as a Goldwater supporter, doesn't convert the Young Republican organization into a routing section for the Arizona senator.

Should Put Heat on Peeper

Sun Buff Is Burned Up

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am the young, attractive neighbor lady about whom WORRIED WIFE wrote.

I am trying to get a sun tan, so naturally when the sun is hottest, I take sun baths in my back yard.

Now, everyone knows that if you sprinkle your lawn in the hot sun you'll burn up your grass. My neighbor goes out and sprinkles his back yard when the sun is blazing just to get his eyes full of me while I'm out there taking my sun bath.

ABBY

SUN BATHER

DEAR SUN BATHER: Call your neighbor's attention to the fact that his lawn is getting brown right along with you.

And suggest that he hold off the sprinkling until both he and the sun have disappeared.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my 75-year-old father was taken to the hospital with a ruptured gall bladder which required emergency surgery.

As they were wheeling him into the operating room, his last request to mother was, "Don't bother to save the newspapers for me—just tear out the pages with DEAR ABBY and I'll read them when I get home."

We are happy to report that he is now on the road to recovery now and almost all caught up with his reading.

It is our belief that your column somehow lends to create a measure of confidence in the older generation.

Very truly yours,

R. C. T.

DEAR R. C. T.: You've made my day. And please remember me affectionately to Papa.

DEAR ABBY: We live in a $55,000 home, have over $10,000 in our savings account, my husband has $75,000 in Life Insurance and we belong to the Country Club.

I suppose you're thinking, "What a lucky woman to have a husband like that!" Well, you can have him. He's the world's biggest tightwad. He never carries a penny with him and he says that's the best way to keep from spending money. Our house needs painting, and our furniture is a disgrace.

We drive a 1950 car. We've been married 26 years and he's getting tighter every year. What can I do?

MRS. DANIEL HENRY RILEY

Junior League of Birmingham Slates Meeting

Members of the Junior League of Birmingham will hold their first general membership meeting of the year Wednesday at the Oakland Hills Country Club under the leadership of Mrs. Sidney Smith Jr.

Mrs. Robert Selzer will organize an open discussion to assure that all members are up to date on current projects and interests.

Members of the board and committee chairmen will be present to answer questions. The meeting will be followed by cocktails and luncheon.

Kirk-in-the-Hills Church Is Setting for Nuptials

Dr. Harold C. DeWindt officiated at the candlelight vows of Lenore Susan Gallo to Daniel Henry Riley Saturday evening at Kirk-in-the-Hills Presbyterian.

A reception in the Club Drive home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael E. Gallo, followed the ceremony. The bridegroom is the son of the William A. Rileys, Bloomfield Hills.

A satin rose accented the bride's mantilla-type veil of silk net edged in satin. Her belted gown of white brocade with white satin lapline featured a divided court train.

She carried gardenias and lilies of the valley.

HELD NOSEGAYS

Wearing salmon peau de sole were maid Judith Thornton, Iowa City, Iowa, and bridesmaids Joan McClinton, Detroit and Gay Mirbach, Birmingham. They held nosegays of matching tea roses and white carnations.

Best man was Stephen Chase, Muncie, Ind. Ushering were Robert Riley, Birmingham; Richard Ford, Franklin, and the bride's brother, Wayne Gallo.

After a northern Michigan honeymoon, the couple will reside in East Lansing.

Women of the Central Methodist Church will hold a Friendship Garden luncheon Sept. 26, followed by a style show.

Guest speaker will be Lorene Babcock, a native of Pontiac and former member of the church, now a public relations consultant in Detroit.

A graduate of Albion College and the holder of an M.A. degree in sociology from Wayne State University, Miss Babcock has had a varied career as a teacher, counselor, fashion coordinator, broadcaster, public speaker and homemaker. She will speak on "Letters to Lorene."

Arthur's will present four adult and three child models in a fall and back-to-school fashion show.

A tour of the church will follow the program.

ASSIST CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Russell Austin, general chairman, has as her assistants Mrs. Paul Kautz, Mrs. Harry Yeager, Mrs. Allen Palmer and Mrs. Loy Bennett.

Others working on arrangements are Mrs. Glenn Behler, Mrs. Sterner Anderson, Mrs. George Dietrich and Mrs. William Dawe.

The 12:30 luncheon is open to the public, and reservations may be made with the church office or Mrs. Dawe.

Hadassah Holds Tea

Mrs. Thomas Horwitz opened her home on James K Boulevard on Thursday for the Hadassah membership tea.

New members introduced were Mrs. Martin Eller, Mrs. Ben Hauser, Mrs. S. W. Maroka, Mrs. Arthur Rosner, Mrs. Rubin Simon and Mrs. Bernard Toby.

Mrs. Reuben Bienstock, spoken area vice president, spoke of Hadassah's project in Israel.

Costly Gift for Beau in Bad Taste

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Is it proper for a young girl to give a boy friend an expensive present for his birthday?

A: Some of my girl friends have spent as much as $30 on presents for their boy friends. They are not engaged to these boys but have been dating them steadily for some time.

I think this is much too much money to spend on a boy to whom one is not engaged. Will you please give me your opinion?

A: You are right. Giving an expensive present to a boy to whom one is not engaged is in bad taste.

Q: When staying in a hotel and one has breakfast sent up to one's room, what is the proper amount to tip the room waiter?

A: Fifteen per cent of the check but never less than a quarter even if he brings only a cup of coffee and a roll.

Q: My father, a widower, has been living with me and my family for the past year. He has invited a woman friend of his to come and spend the weekend here.

This is perfectly all right with me as we have plenty of room. However, he thinks I should write her a note seconding his invitation.

If he were my son and she a young girl I could see this, but considering their ages, it seems like needless ceremony to me, and in fact I think it would be humiliating to him.

Will you please give me your opinion?

A: As he is living in your house, it is proper and not "needless ceremony" for you, as hostess, to send her a personal invitation.

At Tipaco Brunch

Woman of Year Named

Tipaco Chapter, American Business Women's Association, selected Mrs. Ossie Gates as "Woman of the Year" at the Hands of Friendship brunch Sunday in Airway Lanes.

A former Tipaco vice president, Mrs. Gates is a member of the Pontiac Women's Chorus, the City Federation of Women's Clubs and the YWCA. She also served on the United Fund budget panel.

Her career with the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. led to secretarial positions with the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce and the Pontiac Chief of Police.

Some 75 Tipaco members invited 24,000 ABWA members throughout the United States at the semiannual event held simultaneously by 450 chapters.

Mrs. Correll Welch, president, welcomed the assembly, and Mrs. Henry Borque sang "The Lord's Prayer" invocation. Mrs. Raymond Zilka played musical numbers. Marie Luckey was mistress of ceremonies.

Cochairmen were Mrs. Tenis Morris and Marjorie K. Salisbury.

ORIGINAL SKIT

Mrs. Cyril Bost narrated an original skit "Cultivating Tillie" presented by Lillian Laska, Ariene Newcombe and Julie O'Brien. Miss Laska played "Tillie," and Tipaco past presidents or former women-of-the-year acted as "cultivators."

A nursing scholarship award was presented to Lynda Crowley of Hurley Hospital, Flint. Patricia Fiorani, the chapter's Oakland University scholarship recipient, also was present. ABWA scholarships on the national level now total $40,000.

The national woman-of-the-year will be named at the convention Oct. 18-20 in the Statler-Hilton Hotel, Cleveland.

Guests included Mrs. Alex McVean, Mrs. W. A. Pollock, Mrs. E. A. Bost, Emma J. Bloomer, Mrs. Harold Morris, Mrs. Claude Sanbeaster, Mrs.

Maude Vacharo, Florence Case, Mrs. Richard Crowley, Mrs. Robert Emery, Mrs. Svend Brandrup, Mrs. Glenn Nealey, Mrs. James Younger, Mrs. Nino Fiorani, Marie E. Hickey, Dorothy Snyder Lavender and Mrs. Robert S. Anderson.

Two Couples Celebrate Marriages of 50 Years

Dr. and Mrs. Frank B. Gerls of Motorway Drive are celebrating 50 years of marriage today.

They were married at Saginaw Street on the same day as Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hodges, formerly of East Iroquois Road, now living in San Benito, Tex.

The Gerls have one son, Thomas E., who lives with them. They plan to celebrate the event with a small open house.

The Hodges have recently arrived from Texas to spend a month with their daughter, Mrs. Marion Hodges Benter, and children at East Iroquois Road. The Hodges will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary with a family dinner.

Group Director Will Speak

Clarence Barnes, newly appointed director of the Pontiac Urban League, will speak at a meeting sponsored by Pontiac school teachers Tuesday evening at Crofoot School.

Barnes will present "A Morning for Jimmy," a film telling the story of a young Negro boy who encounters racial discrimination while seeking a job.

The program, sponsored by the Pontiac Federation of Teachers, will start at 8 p.m. and is open to the public.

Scout Books Due U. of M.

For its help in the creation of the four new Girl Scout handbooks and "Leader's Notebook," the University of Michigan will receive a specially bound set of the handbooks in a Chicago ceremony Tuesday.

The university conducted a study, under the supervision of Dr. Stephen B. Withey, of the personal and social interests and aspirations of American girls 11 through 18 years of age. Dr. Withey is psychologist and program director in the Institute's Survey Research Center.

New chairmen include Mrs. O'Sullivan, Mrs. Gene Rieger, Mrs. Christensen, Mrs. Bernard Bleisch, Mrs. Robert Thoren, Mrs. William Descher, Mrs. William Grubbs and Mrs. Robert Ruth.

Mrs. Richard Brown and Mrs. Bleisch assisted the hostess.

Miss Wyllie Weds

The Oakland County Boat Club was the setting for a reception for the Richard Karl Bredows (Sandra Joan Wyllie) wed recently before Rev. Ralph C. Claus in St. Trinity Lutheran Church.

A gown of Chantilly-type lace over silk taffeta for the daughter of the James D. Wyllie of Lowell Street featured a detachable satin train with lace applique.

Her French illusion veil fell from a jeweled tiara.

She carried white sweet-heart roses, feathered carnations and pompons. Wearing gold peau satin were maid of honor, Ethel Eugene, and Mildred Bredow who was bridesmaid. They carried gold and bronze pompons.

Frederick Bredow was best man for his brother who is of Louella Drive. They are the sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Bredow. Gary Wyllie seated guests.

The couple will honeymoon in northern Michigan and New York State before returning to a home in Pontiac.

Bait the Hook to Stir Budgeting Interest

By MARY FEELEY

Consultant in Money Management
Dear Miss Feeley: How can I get my young wife to take an interest in budgeting our money?

Dear M.S.: You can't. But you can try enticing her. Few people like to budget just to be budgeting.

Soft-pedal the economic stability angle. Bait the hook with something more specific to start with—may be a trip, color TV, or even a smashing evening on the town.

If she once discovers that by planning expenses good things materialize, she may become addicted to the practice.

When she starts putting you on an allowance and cutting down your pocket money, you'll know you've won!

Dear Miss Feeley: Please help me! My 17-year-old girl cousin and her girl friend came to live with my husband and me and our two small boys. They lived in a small town and we were talked into giving up the comforts of privacy.

They have jobs now which pay $2.50 each, starting pay, and must take a bus costing $1.50 per week.

They also have at least two meals a day at home; three quarters of the time it's three meals. I do their washing, and they feel they have the freedom of our home.

Each pays me $13 per week. Here's my problem: is that enough money for what we're giving? We're just a young couple ourselves and I had to buy twin beds for them plus a dresser which amounted to $220. I'm trying to pay this off in 90 days.

I don't want to burden them with my money problems, but I just haven't any idea of what a young girl boarding out should have to pay according to her wages. I want to live within MY income, too!

Dear Mrs. D.: I think the girls could get room and board and laundry anywhere else for less than this, and have the security of a good home at their tender ages.

It's hardly likely that these girls could get room and board and laundry anywhere else for less than this, and have the security of a good home at their tender ages.

If they agree on the laundry deal, you will be getting $136 a month for both.

This will allow each of them $27 a week to cover savings, personal expenses, clothing, medical, gifts, and church.

As for the $220 you spent for beds and dresser, you should really consider this a long-range investment in your own home future. At their age and income, a nishings.

NEISNER'S

MRS. T. D. SHERMAN

Vows Said by Couple at Church

Carol Sue Crabb exchanged vows with Thomas David Sherman before a background of yellow and white chrysanthemums and palms Saturday in Avondale Baptist Church.

A reception for 250 guests in the Avondale Community Hall followed the candlelight evening ceremony performed by Rev. Alger Lewis.

Daughter of the Ernie W. Crabbs of Rochester, the bride appeared in a floor-length white silk organza with bodice detail and sleeves of eggshell lace. A pearl tiara held her illusion veil.

White Cymbidium orchids centered her bouquet of carnations, Stephanotis and ivy. Attending her sister were honor matron, Mrs. Gary Sundberg, Troy, Mrs. Larry Farnham, Rochester, and Jenny Crabb who were bridesmaids.

Renee and Stephen Farnham of White Cloud were flower girl and ring-bearer. William Sherman Jr. was best man for his brother. They are the sons of the William Shermons of Margaret Street, Auburn Heights. Terry Snyder and Roger Van Conant served as groomsmen. Dwight Sherman and Richard Crabb ushered.

On their return from a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the couple will live on Auburn Avenue.

Aims Told at Fall Tea of Chapter

Executive board members of the Pontiac Chapter of the Association for Childhood Education International met for a fall tea and reception Thursday at Malkin School. Concerns of the organization, now in its 71st year, were explained by president Ophelia Harmon.

They are: (1) Fostering values inherent in the democratic way of life (2) Meeting, for each child, his unique demand for fulfilling educational experience, (3) providing growth—including experiences supported by research for the child under 6 and (4) Helping improve the quality of preparation of teachers.

Miss Harmon also outlined procedures for the annual membership drive extending through Nov. 7. Announcement was made of organizational plans for the annual ACE-sponsored Children's Theater in cooperation with Pontiac Central High School drama workshop. Stuart Packard will direct the production.

In charge of arrangements for the afternoon affair were Mayme Myatt, Mrs. David Walls, Mrs. John Buchanan, Mrs. Terrance Cantrell and Mrs. Elwin Hodges.

PATRICIA L. HORSTE

Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Horste of Orchard Lake announce engagement of their daughter Patricia Louise to Cadet I.C. William Edward Palikainen, son of the Edward Palikainens of Cardinal Drive, Commerce Lake. The bride-elect attends Loreto Heights College, Denver, Colo. A June wedding is planned.

Garden Group Meets

Mrs. John Vanderlind spoke on Civic Improvement at the first fall meeting of the Sylvan Manor Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association-Thursday night.

Mrs. Russell Buffett opened her home on St. Joseph Road for the meeting. Mrs. Edward Schutler, Mrs. Donald Carroll and Mrs. James Burke were cohostesses.

The group voted to landscape the entrance ways of the Sylvan Manor subdivision. Support of the junior horticulture group is sought. Mrs. Lawrence Quinn, Mrs. Charles Lawrence, Mrs. Kenneth Senior and Mrs. John Gibson will assist Mrs. Vanderlind in this civic improvement project.

Teaching Children About Sex Is Tricky

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
In "Black Summer" the fine new novel by Nancy Hale, a father is imparting sex instruction to his 7-year-old boy.

Says he: "There's this business of relations between men and women. Sex—to come right out with the word, son."

You've seen cows bred and horses, and so on and so forth. What human beings do is like that in a somewhat similar way. Only, of course, it's different. Raised to a higher, finer level.

What his child does with this conscientious parental effort is to imagine, in the words of the writer, "growups, way up high, floating in the air, doing something like the cattle did but different and finer."

And finding this vision so untethered to anything sensible in his own experience, he rejects it as another one of those mysterious insanities by which grown-ups are so often afflicted.

Adult sex instruction, in my opinion, can never make sense to children.

If my opinion were more widely shared, I think that parents would find it easier to give the sex instruction.

We would be relieved of the complicated feelings that result from our delusion that we are making an impressive and meaningful communication to them.

There is nothing remarkable about our inability to make sense of sex instruction to children.

For the duration of our lives as parents we will always possess a difference of experience from children that sends much of our instruction into one ear and out the other.

The gap between two generations, different experiences insures it.

But the eager-beaver authorities who have insisted so ardently on the importance of children's sex instruction have created a general impression that we can somehow jump the gap.

They have struck straight at the reality which maintains an eternally different development between one generation and a younger one.

In America we are not only obliged to share sex facts with children as though they were our equals in experience, we have to share everything else with them from long trousers to our bedtimes.

No wonder we have such a rough time with parental authority. No wonder we can't claim the firmness built out of a larger experience than the child's. Nobody knows what age he is. We all live in the one big nursery. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

A reader writes, "Enclosed is the article outlining your Ten Commandments for Health. I am sure many others would find it helpful and I would like a fresh copy for my scrap book."

1. Good nutrition. Learn what the body requires for best health and prolonged youthfulness. Study nutrition. The things nutritionists know and are learning are some of the most exciting in modern life.
2. Try to spend at least an hour a day outdoors, walking, swimming, playing tennis or golf or riding horseback. Walking, swimming and golf can be enjoyed at any age if you have normal health.
3. Get enough sleep. Practically everyone needs at least seven hours regularly. Individuals differ. Some feel much better with more sleep.
4. Take special exercises for 15 or 20 minutes a day. These beautify the figure and are beneficial to health.
5. Drink at least six glasses of fluid daily.

REST PERIODS
6. If at all possible plan short rest periods during the day. This will banish fatigue and do away with that end of the day feeling.

You will get just as much, and probably more work done during the day. This is not lost time.

7. If constipation is a problem, overcome it. This is possible even in cases of long standing.
8. Deep breathing is extremely relaxing. It calms tension. This will be useful if you are the nervous type.
9. Try not to worry. Do not indulge in negative thoughts. Concentrate on positive ones. This is a little fountain of youth in itself.
10. Try to live in a relaxed manner. Plan your life so that you are not rushed and pushed all day long.

Comedy Opens Season for St. Dunstan's

St. Dunstan's Guild will open the 1963-64 theater season with the "Critic's Choice."

Casting is now being conducted at the Pavilion under the direction of Mrs. Fred Hendrick Jr. and assistant director Mrs. Otis Thompson. Mrs. Larry Avison is the producer.

"Critic's Choice," written by Ira Levin, is a contemporary sophisticated comedy dealing with a prominent New York theater critic and the problems he faces when his wife becomes a playwright. St. Dunstan's show dates for the three-act comedy are Oct. 18, 19, 25 and 26.

Illegitimacy Is Steadily Rising

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The rate of illegitimacy in the United States has tripled since 1940, reports the Population Reference Bureau, Inc.

Commenting that the rate "has been growing alarmingly," the Bureau said that today one out of every 20 babies is born out of wedlock.

It added that although many such births are not reported, it is estimated there were 89,000 illegitimate children born in 1940, 224,000 in 1960.

Sample-Nichols Wedding Held

A reception in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Nichols of East Chicago Avenue followed the marriage of their daughter Sharon Kay to Paul Avon Sample of Forest Drive.

Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer performed the recent family ceremony in Grace Lutheran Church.

A satin petal headpiece held the bride's chin-length veil of silk illusion worn with a street-length gown of white peau satin styled with Chantilly lace bodice. Red rosebuds centered her bouquet of white carnations.

Mrs. William Hampton attended the bride wearing burnt orange and white brocade with matching headpiece and shoes. She held chrysanthemums in autumn shades.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Pauline Jackowiak of East Beverly Avenue and the late Mr. Sample, had Lawrence Thorne for his best man.

The couple will reside on Forest Drive after a honeymoon trip to Cape Cod and New York City.

New Orleans is normally the world's chief banana port.

Project Gemini Has Dubious Future

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.,
CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)

The United States has a better chance of having to wait another 16 months or longer before it can send more astronauts into space.

This means the Soviet Union, which would hardly be expected to stand idly by amid such a golden opportunity, might have all to itself the entire year of 1969 to build an impressive and perhaps insurmountable lead in the race for man's conquest of space.

And it could mean a major shakeup in America's manned space flight programs—particularly its expensive, time-consuming and thus far fruitless Project Gemini—in the next six to 12 months.

Gemini, billed as the "follow-on" to the famed Project Mercury, is supposed to send two-man teams of U.S. astronauts into orbits around earth for a variety of long-duration flights that also would perform some key tests in linking space ships to gether.

PROJECT IN JEOPARDY

But Project Gemini may develop death rattles even as it is painfully born. Congress could well see to it that when next January, it starts comparing expenses with results and takes note of the following items:

—The first manned flight in Project Gemini originally was set for late 1963. That already has slipped to October 1964, and it is an odds-on favorite to slide all the way into 1965. Since Mercury program was axed, that would mean a no U.S. manned space flights next year.

—This, in turn, means the Gemini program may be running square into the rear end of the first earth orbit flight of the three-man Apollo space ships now set for late 1965.

Congress may question the value of running such a little-and late project like the Gemini alongside the Apollo program that has the more important goal of landing men on the moon.

—Gemini looks suspiciously like a "dead-end" program. The federal space agency, which once proposed using the ballistic capsules as shuttles to and from manned space stations, is now looking at entirely new proposals, such as space gliders and so-called "lifting bodies" for such futuristic links.

—The Air Force, and to a lesser extent the Defense Department, has suddenly developed a cooling in its recent passion for a chunk of Project Gemini.

—That last point could become the killer for Gemini and the pivotal point for a realignment of the nation's manned space programs.

NO TAKERS

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has been interested for some time in divesting itself of at least a part of the Gemini program and the corresponding expense.

NASA thought it had a taker early this year when it came to a vague sort of agreement to let the Air Force come in as a partner.

But eight months have passed and the Air Force-NASA agreement looks like so much more paper work. Now, informed sources say, the Air Force wants to keep it that way.

There is a reason. The multitude of problems and slipping schedules engulfing Gemini present the Air Force with an opening to push its own manned space flight program, Project Dyna-Soar or X20, to a successful conclusion within three years.

Dyna-Soar is a winged glider vehicle which would give its astronomer a fair degree of control over where he would land. The Air Force has been proposing it off and on for six years or more but had trouble getting it out of the "paper project" stage.

ALMOST KILLED

Early this year after the Air Force-NASA agreement on Project Gemini, it appeared that Dyna-Soar was dead for good and certain. Only the official word from Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was needed to make it so.

That word never came. McNamara, who had been dead-set against the Dyna-Soar, apparently changed his mind sometime during a tour earlier this year to the Boeing Co. at Seattle, Wash., where the Dyna-

Soar is being built, and then on to Gemini headquarters at Houston, Tex. McDonnell Aircraft at St. Louis, Mo., holds the Gemini contract.

Old Age Problems? Not for the Lobster

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Few lobsters have old age problems. Only one in a million baby lobsters manages even to reach maturity.

Ferry Como and Enrico Caruso had this in common—both worked as barbers before becoming singers.

Big earthquakes are unusual, but little ones are commonplace. Our globe has literally by thousands of them every day.

Most of them too small to be detected except by a sensitive seismograph.

Many a man thinks he is safe from becoming an alcoholic if he never drinks alone—or if he consumes only beer, and not hard liquor. Dr. Jackson A. Smith, Nebraska psychiatrist, warns that both assumptions are false.

Comedienne Marion Powers says one of the great mysteries of life is how the boy who wasn't really good enough to marry your daughter can become the father of the smartest grandchild in the world.

Americans may eat more than is good for them, but scientists

NEW 1964 CHEVROLET TRUCKS ARE READY TO GO TO WORK!

It's kick-off time for a new work season! Chevrolet's veteran line-up is stronger at every position. The forecast: You can expect outstanding performance for a good many years from these trucks.

These 1964 Chevrolets are a lot more truck than your money bought the last time.

A succession of engineering advancements made in the line since 1959 gives you the best built trucks in Chevrolet history—and that goes back to 1918.

Engines are stronger now, yet a good deal lighter for greater efficiency. And today you can select from 13 different capacities of gasoline or diesel engines—four, sixes, V8's.

Instead of making just one type of suspension system for the whole truck line, Chevrolet now has several different types and combinations. Your truck gets the type that's best for it. And you get a far better ride in any size Chevrolet truck today than you used to.

Other things that are probably new since your last truck buy are double-wall construction in most bodies and cabs; more comfort from better cushioning and new improved sound deadening and insulation materials; non-skid reinforced body floors in pickups, and tailgates that fit like a handmade suit.

It's a lot easier to pick the best type of Chevrolet for your work this time. We now have three different kinds of covered delivery vans: regular panels, air-cooled rear-engine Corvans (which have more power this year), and eleven sizes of ready-made walk-in vans, some with full-width rear doors.

In addition to the two popular pickups shown in the picture, there's also the very handy Corvair 95 Rampside with its exclusive side-loading feature.

Also, in a few weeks, we're going to show you a brand-new El Camino deluxe pickup. This is a commercial vehicle you drive up to front doors. Wait until you see it!

For dump truck operators, we have a new diesel tandem in addition to gasoline units. Door openings are larger on all conventional and low-cab-forward models now. Getting in and out is much easier.

All this new value—for practically the same price tag as 5 or 6 years ago—makes 1964 Chevrolet trucks the ones to buy once again. Telephone for information about the type of truck you need or for a demonstration.

St. Fred Defeats Mikemen, 6-0

First Victory in 22 Starts for Ram Team

Gallardo's Touchdown Earns Win; Shamrocks Dominate Contest

By JERE CRAIG
For the first time in four seasons St. Fredrick has an unbeaten coach.
The long drought ended for the Rams yesterday when they grilly dumped arch-rival St. Michael, 6-0, in a hard-fought season-opening battle on the Wilson Stadium turf before 3,000 fans.

The victory was the first in 22 starts for the winners, and their first success against St. Mike since 1958. It also gave St. Fred its first leg on the Steve Griffin Memorial Trophy, a presentation begun last year.

A third period drive of seven yards produced the only score in the contest. Marcello Gallardo, the workhorse of the offensive backfield for St. Fred, drove ahead four yards for the six points.

A bad snap from center on a punt try permitted the Rams' defense to swarm in on punter Mike Backes and throw him at the 12-yard line.

After a free-play delay of game penalty against the losers moved the ball closer, the Rams accounted for one-half of their game total net rushing yardage (14) to tally the points.

They then spent the final 16 minutes of play gamely fighting off every attempt by the Shamrocks to reach paydirt.

Statistically, St. Fred took a beating. They trailed in all categories. But the Rams' two strong points were equal to the challenge.

The defense tightened when needed, and Mike Denn's foot boomed out two key punts to ease the pressure in the fourth quarter. The second came when he was standing in his own end zone and drove the Mikemen back to their own 45-yard line.

They promptly came back as Larry LaRossa threw twice to Dick Steinhepler for long gaining plays. The second carried to the nine of St. Fred, but the clock ran out before another play was run.

ANOTHER THREAT

Similarly, the same two collaborated on a 17-yard pass play as the first half ended that carried to the 13 of the Rams.

Duff had the Rams fired up and ready for this game. Their alert defense recovered three of six fumbles by the losers, and showed good pursuit of the ball carriers.

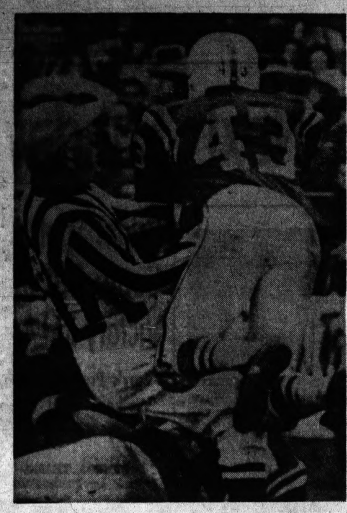

St. Mike rushers repeatedly broke through the forward wall of the winners, but could never shake off the last defender or two in order to go all the way.

There were numerous standouts for both teams. Gallardo ran well, while Mike Murphy and Larry Walters shared the quarterback duties. Walters did all the passing.

Fred Landry at center made several key tackles, while Gordie Doyon and John Shearer both made key open field tackles in the final drive by St. Mike to prevent serious trouble for St. Fred.

LaRossa was credited with 17 tackles on defense for St. Mike. Steinhepler, and Bill Cook both ran well for the winners.

CAUGHT IN THE MIDDLE—Field Judge James Kane, officiating in yesterday's Baltimore Colts-New York Giants NFL game, is knocked down by Lenny Lyles (48) of the Colts. The official falls over Baltimore's Wendell Harris. The action came on a pass play. New York won, 37-28.

Whitey Ford Ready for Series

By United Press International
Start the World Series—Whitey Ford is ready.

That was the general feeling today of the New York Yankees, who are just going through the motions waiting for the Dodgers and the Cardinals to settle the National League race.

It doesn't matter which team wins the right to oppose the Yankees, manager Ralph Houk says, as long as the Cardinals are the opponent.

World Series Fever Strikes St. Louis

Triple Play Fails to Stop Baltimore

DETROIT (AP)—"All of a sudden it was all over and there wasn't anybody on base."

That was Norm Cash's reaction to the triple play his alertness started Sunday. It was the first triple play since 1960 in the American League and the first by the Tigers since 1951.

"I looked around and the umpires went 'out, out, out' and that was it," said the Detroit first baseman.

It was a beautiful display of precision—except that it came too late. The triple play snuffed out the Baltimore Orioles' only scoring inning.

But the Orioles already had scored twice before the fifth-inning triple play and the two runs stood up for a 2-1 victory.

The loss, coming despite the pitched excellently without much hitting support.

The Tigers' only run came on Cash's 24th homer in the fourth. Jim Gentile matched it in the fifth for Baltimore's first run. Brooks Robinson walked and advanced to third on Smith's single. Robinson scored the winner when Lary uncorked his wild pitch.

With 12 games left, the Tigers trail the Orioles by 4½ games in the skirmish for the last money spot.

Lary had wild pitched home the second run and the Orioles were threatening to rout him when the triple play rescued him.

Al Smith was on second and Bob Saverine, possibly the league's swiftest runner, on first as Milt Pappas went to the plate with instructions to bunt.

"I was trying to bunt toward third base," said Pappas, a winning pitcher for the fourth time over Detroit. "But the pitch was high and outside and I hit it toward first instead."

Cash expecting a bunt, dashed in and caught the ball on a line. Ignoring catcher Gus Triunfo's instructions to throw to first, Cash whirled and fired to second.

Shortstop Dick McAuliffe was there to retire Smith. McAuliffe's relay to second baseman Don West covering first trapped Saverine by 45 feet.

THREE SECONDS

The whole thing required about three seconds to execute.

"It's an automatic type play," explained Cash. "After you play a while you can make a play like that without thinking. But I didn't expect him to hit it back to me like that."

"Sure, I heard Gus yelling 'first, first,' but when I turned I saw I had the man at second."

Lary suffered his ninth loss—and seventh since returning from the minors on July 4. But again

NO FURTHER—Unidentified St. Michael defender shows a fundamentally good form in stopping Marcello Gallardo of St. Fred yesterday at Wisner Stadium. Hitting low, the shoulder tackle stopped the ball carrier down short of the 50-yard-line and a first down. An alert St. Mike lineman follows the play to its conclusion.

Play Crucial 3-Game Set With Dodgers

Los Angeles' Lead Cut to One Game; Musil Is Even Excited

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Pennant feverish St. Louisians, excited by the Cardinals' spectacular September surge, were singing "The Yanks are Coming" today.

They didn't mean the Dodgers who arrived to engage the red-hot Redbirds in a vital three-game series opening tonight that could decide the National League pennant.

The reference, of course, was to the World Series with the

Boast 2-0 Record Oakland Has New Look in AFL

By The Associated Press

Only four players are left from the original Oakland Raiders. And it shows.

The new-look American Football League club has played two games, won two games, doubled last year's victory output and only four years younger than Division championship sweepstakes.

The man responsible is new Coach Al Davis, who at 33 is the youngest man on his own staff.

Quarterback Canton Davidson, only four years younger than day, passing for two touchdowns and scoring one as the Raiders overwhelmed Buffalo 35-17 before 17,560 at Oakland.

The Oakland-Buffalo game wound up a weekend program that began Saturday with San Diego edging Boston 17-13 before 26,097 at San Diego and Houston best Denver before 22,655 at Houston.

Kansas City and New York were not scheduled. This week's schedule shows Houston at New York, Boston at Oakland and Kansas City at Buffalo, all on Sunday.

But in the AFL, the Raiders and Davis were the story.

Of the original Raiders who took the field when the AFL started in 1960, only quarterback Tom Flores, center Jim Otto, guard Wayne Hawkins and linebacker Bob Dougherty remain.

They were on hand as the Raiders endured a 18-game losing streak that stretched from 1961 to the last game of 1962. Now new faces have been brought in.

Davidson connected on 14 of 22 passes for 315 yards, passing five yards to Powell for one TD and 73 to Clem Daniels for another.

Daniels also scored on a two-yard run and Davidson scrambled five for a touchdown. Jackie Kemp passed 17 and 53 yards to El Durbenton for the Bills TD.

Kemp and Davidson combined for a league record 752 yards in the field.

George Blanton kicked two field goals and passed nine yards to Willie Deweaver for the clinching touchdown as the Oilers beat the Broncos. Then, as the Broncos moved down into Oiler territory in the closing seconds, Tony Albritton intercepted a Frank Tripucka pass at the seven-yard line to kill Denver's last chance.

The Chargers put it out of the Patriots reach with two long second quarter passes. Tobin Rote pitched one 43 yards to Lance Albritton, and four minutes later, halfback Paul Lowe took a Rote pitch out and heaved one 71 yards to Jerry Robinson.

Nichols Pockets Check for Seattle Open Title

SEATTLE (AP)—Bobby Nichols' 72-hole total of 272, which was 16 under par for the 6,697-yard Inglewood course.

But it came at a moment when the pressure was more warming than the September sun, and Nichols needed all the pals he could get to stay in front of a faltering rookie and a challenging Canadian.

The pair—21-year-old Raymond Floyd of Fayetteville, N.C., and Stan Leonard, 48, of Vancouver, B.C.—finally wound up two strokes back in a second place tie in the $35,000 tournament.

One stroke down to Floyd at the start of the day's final round, Nichols had gone one up when he turned the ninth hole corner in 35, two under par. Then he scrambled for three pars, managed a birdie three on the 13th for a bogey and got a shaky par at 15.

He missed the green on the short 18th and chipped cautiously. When the 15-foot putt dropped the pressure eased and 27-year-old Nichols finished with the two pars he needed for his first 1963 tournament victory.

WORST ROUND

His 70 for the round was two under par and the worst 18 holes he had played in the tourney's four days.

Floyd opened his day of play with a birdie, which put him six under par in four visits to the 455-yard uphill first hole, and two eagles three and two birdie fours. But the rest of the route he wavered, reaching the 15th hole two strokes over par for the day. That one he birdied to remain in contention, but he could not crack par on any of the last three holes.

"I ran out of gas," said Floyd, admitting he picked the wrong clubs for two shots. The youth, who had been dropping 15-foot putts with nonchalance in earlier rounds, three-putted two holes in the final nine.

Dave Finerwald took fourth with 278 and Larry Mowry, playing his first tournament golf in six months, had 279 for the title.

Although Nichols won the title, Phil Rodgers topped him in money won by collecting $10,000 Saturday for a hole in one and $680 more for finishing in a tie for 16th.

Most of the professionals will play in the $30,000 Portland, Ore., Open this weekend.

Grand Rapids Falls Before Aerial Blitz

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Quarterback Tom Kennedy fired three touchdowns passes last night to lead the unbeaten Wheeling West to a 27-0 victory over the Grand Rapids Blazars.

Kennedy connected with end Tom Lands on TD plays of 10 and 48 yards in the first half to give the Ironmen a 14-0 lead.

Kennedy then connected with Bill Barber on an 81-yard pass play in the third period that led the game.

Wheeling is 3-0 and Grand Rapids 0-3 in the UFL.

Thousands of Detroit base-ball fans used to witness Charley Gehringer's performance at second base with the Tigers. Yesterday there were only three who attested to another feat by Gehringer at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

Gehringer aged the 165 yard 9th hole with a 410 yd. hole in one with a 76 for the round.

Attesting the ace were Bob Fisher, Bob Vanderkloot and J. T. Smith.

Publinx Loop Sets Title Date

Rochester No. 2 Meets Bald Mt., Sept. 29th

Rochester No. 2 team and Bald Mountain will meet in the Michigan Golf League Publinx championship September 29th after both teams prepared as winners of their divisions yesterday.

Rochester No. 2 defeated Lilac 12-6 while Bald Mt. took the measure of Morey's No. 2 team 11-6 to 10-4. The loss for Moreys moved Rochester No. 1 team into second place in the Red Division after the latter defeated Sylvan Glen, 12-10.

Clarkson was the only team which failed to win a match this season, finishing with a 0-10 mark.

Heaven's Pleased by Pastor's Drive

Bald Mountain Golf Club recorded its 18th ace of the season yesterday and Providence may have been a factor.

Chuck Leary of Rochester and Dr. R. E. Schreier of Royal Oak were playing the course's back nine. When they reached the 14th hole, the pastor pulled out a two-iron and hit his tee shot at the blind cup, 172 yards away.

The ball was found in the hole. The Rev. Mr. Little completed the nine with a 41, then when the rains came he decided not to go another nine, but instead enjoyed reflecting upon his accomplishment.

Pete Harvey of Pontiac, using an adjustable club set at an eight iron, scored the 146-yard ninth hole at Clarkson Golf Club. He had a 39. It was his second ace in three years.

Summer Sailing Series Ends for Watkins Lake

The summer series of sailing ended at the Watkins Lake Yacht Club with Carl Kietz, Harn Gilen and Norm Ledwin taking the honors in this week's Glen Fries, Fred Brede and Dave Green were finishing tops in the snipe class.

In yesterday's double races, Green, Chuck Morris and Fries were morning snipe winners. Green and Fries took the afternoon sails.

In this week's Kietz, Kietz and Gilen finished in the same order, morning and afternoon.

Michigan Lacks Child Surplus

Adoption a Matter of Supply, Demand

(Editor's Note—This is the first in a three-part series on adoption procedures in Michigan. The series will deal with the current picture in numbers, procedures, by parents, and sources of children.)

By LOIS BLACKBURN
LANSING (UPI) —Adoption in Michigan is largely a matter of closely matching supply and demand, rather than surplus on one end as is the case in some states. This is the report from Elmer Arnesen, executive secretary of the Lansing Area Children's Aid Society, a Community Chest organization.

In recent months some states have been experiencing a surplus of babies and shortage of prospective adoptive parents, Arnesen said. In Michigan, however, the number of children available has varied only slightly as compared with the applications from married couples for adoption.

"There has been some talk nationally that many babies are kept in foster homes for long periods awaiting placement with a family," Arnesen said. "We can give the assurance that in Michigan this is not true. We are pretty well up to date on placements."

As assurance to prospective parents, Arnesen said there definitely is no surplus of children, but there are "enough children so couples have a good chance after a brief wait."

The brief wait in recent years is not much different than the period couples wait for their own children — eight to 10 months.

WAIT SHORTENED

"This is considerably shorter than in the past," Arnesen said. The shorter period of processing adoption applications has been credited to the personal situation within Children's Aid Society, the executive secretary said.

"If you don't have a qualified staff which is consistently available it follows naturally that the time required to process the cases will be extended," he said. "Fortunately, here in Lansing and in most of the Children's Aid offices in the state the staffs have remained constant over relatively long periods of time."

In Lansing, for example, six case workers, one supervisor and Arnesen operate to serve the capital city area. This includes most of Ingham County and parts of Eaton and Clinton counties.

Each of the case workers has a masters degree, most of them in the field of social work. "This group has doubled its case work since 1958," said Arnesen. It currently is handling the equivalent of nine case loads.

From all indications of the population trend, the society's work load will continue to get heavier in the immediate years ahead.

PRODUCING PEAKS

"The 'war babies' are now beginning to have children, or want them," Arnesen said. "This situation is starting to produce peaks in the case load."

Children's Aid Society is one of a number of organizations licensed to make adoption placements. Children's Aid offices throughout the state placed 541 children in adoptive homes last year, about one-third of the total work done by all agencies annually.

In addition to the office here, this agency has its headquarters in Detroit and branches in Ann Arbor, Jackson, Battle Creek, Kalamazoo, Traverse City, Holland, Pontiac, Flint, Alpena, Marquette, St. Joseph and Bay City.

One of the problems encountered by agency workers, Arnesen said, is that of "covering the involved in the Lansing office cases, but none is able to cover a very large area."

"There just is not the manpower, time or funds available for this," said the Lansing spokesman. "The result is that there are many blank spots in Michigan where this service is concerned."

5 More Trade Centers to Be Opened Overseas

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States proposes to open trade centers at Brussels, Belgium; Copenhagen, Denmark; Beirut, Lebanon, and Sydney, Australia, officials announced today.

The proposed new locations are being considered by Congress in the current 1963-1964 budget. Five U.S. trade centers now are in operation at London, Bangkok, Thailand; Tokyo, Frankfurt, Germany, and Milan, Italy.

EX-SENATOR DIES

Former U. S. Sen. Carl A. Hatch, 73, D-N.M., died yesterday in an Albuquerque hospital. He served in the Senate from 1933 until February 1949, when he was appointed to the federal bench by President Harry S. Truman. Hatch left the bench in August 1962 because of illness.

2 Little Boys Gone Since Yesterday

ESCANABA (AP) — Two small boys, one the son of a city policeman, disappeared yesterday while apparently at play. A search continued today for the two.

Missing were John Jensen, 10, son of Raymond Jensen, veteran of 20 years of the Escanaba police force and Charles Kobasic, 6, son of Peter Kobasic, a grocer.

After a night-long search, police said they had no clues to the boys' whereabouts.

"As far as we know, they could be almost anywhere," said patrolman Robert Jacke.

Delta County sheriff's men and state police aided city police in the search.

John and Charles were reported missing Sunday afternoon. They last were seen at home about noon. Their homes are a block apart.

Jacke said there was no suspicion the boys had been abducted. Escanaba is on Little Bay De Noc of Green Bay in the Upper Peninsula. The area is heavily wooded.

Teen Took Speed Course

Reads 10,000 Words a Minute

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Teachers say a Pittsburgh boy can read 10,000 words a minute, has been clocked at 30,000 on several occasions and once hit 40,000 words per minute.

The ability of Bill Carmack, 17, of the city's Mt. Washington section, was discovered last spring while he was taking a speed reading course at South Hills High School.

In a copyright story today, the Pittsburgh Post-Gazette quoted school principal Roy T. Mattern as saying: "He's just one of those people who can glance at a page and tell you what's on it."

Woman Will Preside

QUERETARO, Mexico (AP) — A woman, Miss Regina Olivera, will preside over the Queretaro State Legislature at the coming session for the first time in its history.

DEMONSTRATED ABILITY

Last week Bill demonstrated his reading ability for a reporter. The boy was handed a magazine story about Alexander the Great. Bill started reading. The reporter opened his notebook to record the time Bill started and the boy said: "I'm finished."

Fifteen seconds had elapsed. The article was 1,500 words long. The boy then correctly summarized Alexander's military strategy and gave two dates correctly.

The 10,000 words a minute is about 40 times faster than normal. At top speed, Bill could breeze through about 50 newspaper columns in one minute.

GIVES TESTS

His reading teacher, Elsie M. Murphy, said she gives tests after each reading to see if the students understand what they read.

Algeria Plans Land Seizure

Ben Bella Also Maps Shake-Up of Cabinet

ALGIERS, Algeria (UPI) — Ahmed Ben Bella, elected first president of independent Algeria without opposition, said today his government will seize land owned by French settlers and a big Algerian landowner.

In a nationwide telecast, Ben Bella, 47, also announced he plans a cabinet shake-up soon, with key posts going to militants among his supporters "chosen by the best elements of the Algerian revolution."

He said nationalization of large land holdings will be the first step toward sweeping agrarian reform.

Although details have not been announced, government sources said the agrarian reform measure probably will set a limit of about 125 acres for private ownership of cereal-growing lands and 12 acres for private market gardens.

REDUCE AREA

The government also wants to reduce the area presently used for wine-growing and turn part of it over to cereal production.

Political sources said the new cabinet will probably be announced in two or three days and includes little-known "technicians" or personal friends of Ben Bella, distinguished by their fierce loyalty to him.

Ben Bella was confirmed as president yesterday in a mass turnout of Algerian voters.

Official and nearly final election results gave him 5,543,027 votes in a registered electorate of 6,37,983. A total of 20,962 votes were declared void. This means about 773,000 people stayed away from the polls.

The first South American country to build a railroad was Chile which opened a line for service in 1852.

Some Senators Say So

Roving Envoys Rising Again?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With the test-ban treaty, civil rights and all like that going on, you don't hear much about this, but there is a feeling among certain senators that the United States is becoming overstocked with roving ambassadors.

Some concern over the increase in the roving ambassador population was expressed at a recent hearing of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. This came as a surprise to me.

I can remember a time not many years back when the roving ambassador was, like the Whooping crane, in danger of becoming extinct.

But now, thanks to the mobility of modern diplomacy, roving ambassadors are plentiful again. Some say too plentiful.

Thus far, nobody has tried to organize a campaign to stamp out roving ambassadors. Nor has there been any talk of an open season to keep their numbers in check.

Nevertheless, the situation has reached the point where Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Iowa, felt constrained to ask the state department to take a census of our migratory diplomats.

By counting their legs and dividing by two, one department was able to ascertain that we now have eight roving ambassadors on the continent of Europe.

REPORTED FINDING

Carlson reported this finding at a hearing on the nomination of William Malson Roth to be deputy special representative for trade negotiations.

"I want to say I am very happy that we do finally send somebody over there who is listed as a special representative," rather than as an ambassador, Carlson commented.

He added that in his opinion the skill of our negotiators is not necessarily enhanced by striped trousers.

But Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., pointed out there is a marked difference between a special representative and a roving ambassador.

The former wears a black tie and the latter a white tie, Aiken explained.

This brought from Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, an account of the time that he, as a newcomer to Washington, attended his first White House reception in formal dress.

As he was standing on the portico, Aiken came out, handed him a ticket and said "car 68, please."

YOU SAVE WITH STABLE OIL PRICES

The economy record of oil is amazing. Right today, when other automatic fuels and everything else costs more, fuel oil prices are lower than in 1956! And they're likely to stay down for three good reasons: world supplies and reserves keep growing; refiners and your local fuel oil dealers compete for business; and as more gasoline is used more fuel oil is produced. Everything works to keep saving you money when you choose modern oil heat.

Junior Editors Quiz on FINGERS

QUESTION: Why are our fingers of different lengths?

ANSWER: Man's ability to make and manipulate tools with his hands is a very great asset to him and has had much to do with the development of civilization.

His thumb can move independently from the index and middle finger to hold and direct implements such as pens, brushes or tools, enabling him to write, paint and perform all kinds of delicate tasks (A).

To understand the great value of the unequal lengths of the fingers, extend your fingers, with palm toward you, as in (B). Notice the great difference in finger length. Now close down your fingers into the palm (C), and you will find that your finger tips are all in about the same line.

This enables the fingers working together to get a good strong grip on some object such as the handle of a tool.

If the fingers were all the same length in position (B), man's hand, when closed would be of much less value to him.

FOR YOU TO DO: Make a fist and look on the outside to see how neatly the knuckles all line up together.

The amazing human hand can use tools, act as a hook, a scoop or dipper, and, in this last case, as a very serviceable weapon.

They're Chopping It Down

'I'll Never See' Kilmer's Tree

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — The huge white oak believed to have inspired Joyce Kilmer to write "Trees" will be cut down Wednesday, a victim of old age.

The tree's demise sounds a sad note for Rutgers University, site of the oak, and for those who say it was the tree Kilmer had in mind when he wrote the poem.

Others say the tree that inspired Kilmer is elsewhere. Mahwah, a community in northern New Jersey where the poet lived four years, contends Kilmer wrote of the trees that shaded his home there.

In Montague City, Mass., they tell how Kilmer wrote "Trees" after seeing a spreading maple in the yard of an old mansion. In Swanzey, N.H., 25 miles north of Montague City, it's thought the late poet penned "Trees" while viewing a group of maples during a vacation.

"Trees" appeared in 1913 in a literary magazine, while Kilmer was living in Mahwah. His wife, Aline, said 16 years later that Kilmer wrote it while living in a white frame house surrounded by tall oak trees.

There's a story told in Montague City that Kilmer was awed by a maple tree in the yard of an old home during his visit to the Rev. Edmund Casey.

WROTE LETTER Kilmer is said to have written from France shortly before he was killed in World War I that the maple tree in Montague City was the one he had in mind when he wrote the poem. It's not known what happened to the letter.

A letter from a resident of Swanzey to Rutgers says Kilmer spent summers at a Swanzey farm, and once, while sitting on a veranda and looking out toward a grove of maple trees, he scribbled "Trees" on a paper bag.

For some reason, the story goes, he threw the paper bag away, but a maid found the poem. Whether an oak, a maple, one tree or many inspired Kilmer will probably never be known, but the oak at Rutgers, perhaps the best known of the "Kilmer trees," will be on center stage Wednesday.

STANDS ALONE The oak stands alone in a field, enclosed by a small white fence. When felled, it will be stored until a decision is made on what to do with the wood. If the trunk is sound, a cross section will be given to the Sgt. Joyce Kilmer American Legion Post in New Brunswick.

"But there's a question of how much of the trunk is sound and how much is concrete," a university official said. "We've had hundreds of requests for pieces of wood from the tree," the official said. "Some people have even sent money, offering to buy a piece, but we won't be able to fill the requests."

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Railway workers halted all trains in Argentina Sunday night in a 24-hour strike protesting the government's refusal to grant a 38 per cent wage hike.

The government offered a 21 per cent wage boost, but this was rejected. The state railways had been under partial strike for a week, two-hour stoppages in each working shift played havoc with train schedules.

The house where Luigi Pirandello, Italian novelist and playwright was born 84 years ago, has been made into a permanent museum in Agrigento, Sicily.

Cattle Drive Starts 2nd Day

ON THE TRAIL IN SOUTH DAKOTA (UPI) — The cry of "Head 'em up! Move 'em out!" rang across the plains at dawn today and 2,000 steers began the second day of a 125-mile drive across rolling prairie to Fort Pierre, S.D.

Rancher Ralph Houck, a former South Dakota lieutenant governor who hails from Fort Pierre, said the drive will take about two weeks. The cattle will be sold in October.

The modern day cattle drive was a combination of plain old economics and nostalgia for the rough-riding days of the Old West.

It's cheaper to drive cattle to market in the grand manner than to ship them by truck, Houck said.

CAUSED EXCITEMENT But it was the chance to relive the trail life of an era all but passed that caused the excitement around the rumbling herd.

Several outsiders rode in on the drive and asked to take part. Some were accepted, including Hoffer Wernie, 66, and Paul Merrill, 22, both from Boston, Mass.

"We're gonna go all the way — if we can make it," Merrill drewled.

Wernie agreed, but he had some bad words about the Dakotas.

"You people out here are spilling the West by dressing like Easterners," he said.

WARM CLOTHES Both men brought plenty of warm clothes and long underwear for the 40-degree Dakota nights because "we're going to sleep right on the ground just like I assume the others are going to do," Wernie said.

A couple of horse-drawn wagons are out on the trail carrying bedrolls, clothing and gear.

The only modern touch to the drive is the food. A "chuck-wagon caterer" transported food from Pierre, S.D., to feed the drivers.

The most dangerous part of the drive comes at dawn to-

Laotian Prince Arrives for U.N. Assembly

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prince Souvanna Phouma, neutralist premier of Laos, arrived from Paris last night to head the Laotian delegation at the United Nations General Assembly.

Souvanna, putting a big cigar, waved reporters away after stepping from his plane and declined to answer questions.

Anti-Castroites, Students Clash

NEW YORK (AP) — A brawl involving 20 persons, egg throwing and scuffles with police developed from a rally held near Times Square Sunday by students who recently violated the State Department ban on travel to Cuba.

The students held the Town Hall rally to discuss conditions they found in Cuba. They contended they were not allowed to describe them at violence-married hearings before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in Washington last week.

About 1,400 persons filtered into the hall on West 43rd Street and at one point 20 persons engaged in a free-for-all that disrupted the meeting for 20 minutes.

An anti-Castro demonstrator was knocked unconscious and required hospital treatment. His alleged assailant was one of three persons charged with felonious assault. The other five arrested were charged with simple assault and disorderly conduct.

HELMETED POLICE

When the two-hour meeting ended, helmeted police, some on horseback, formed a corridor through which the 1,400 persons could pass from the hall to a nearby subway station. Persons at the rally became targets for eggs and other foodstuffs hurled by anti-Castroites, some 50 of whom had been picketing the hall.

About 500 anti-Castro demonstrators sang the Cuban national anthem and occasionally tried to break through the wall of police who numbered more than 250.

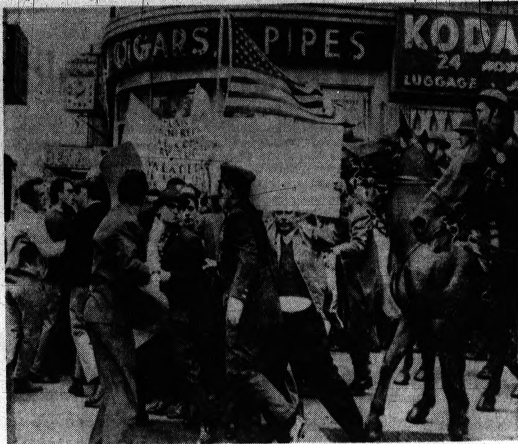

Several policemen and demonstrators suffered minor injuries. Police estimated there were at least 12 fist fights in the area.

Frisco Put in Uproar by TV Tube

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A mysterious object confronted police and Army bomb experts yesterday in the parking lot at San Francisco's Palace of the Legion of Honor. The thing was buzzing.

The shirmers found it was not radioactive but they could not shoot to dismantle it. So they shot it. It stopped buzzing. The police took it in for further analysis. Inspector Jack Long, an amateur radio bug, took a look at it.

"The thing," Inspector Long said, "is a television to be with a transistorized amplifier." He fiddled with it and it started buzzing again, despite its wounds.

ASTRIDE HORSES — Steel-helmeted New York policemen on horses and foot patrolmen move in on a sign-waving crowd of anti-Castro demonstrators in an effort to disperse the crowd near Times Square yesterday. More than 1,000 Cubans protested the rally conducted by a group of U.S. students who visited Cuba despite a State Department ban on such travel.

House Tax-Cut Bill Pushed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration has launched an all-out effort for congressional approval — before the end of the year — of an $11-billion tax cut. Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon says it is "a matter of vital national concern."

The measure, hammered out by the House Ways and Means Committee after seven months of drafting, goes to the House floor for debate Sept. 24, and a favorable vote is expected two days later. It was considerably different from the one President Kennedy recommended last January.

But to speed action on the cut, Dillon said that, with one possible exception, the administration would not ask the Senate to change the House tax-cutting bill.

Dillon's statement yesterday indictated that the administration was eager to avoid lengthy, time-consuming hearings in the Senate Finance Committee. The committee's chairman, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., is a staunch foe of cutting taxes without reducing federal spending.

COUNTERED CRITICISM

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, in a rare press statement, countered sharp Republican criticism of the bill as "morally and fiscally wrong."

Mills, the chief congressional architect of the bill, said yesterday the cut would "make it possible for us to . . . be fiscally responsible, with minimum direct intervention by the government in the decisions of individuals and business concerns."

Not to cut taxes now, he added,

About Hollywood's Past

Herbert Marshall Reminisces

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — "Somehow I

miss those days of the Rolls Royces and the beautiful evening gowns. Hollywood had a lot more flavor then."

This was Herbert Marshall speaking, he of the gentle face, the warm voice and rolling gait — a leg he lost in World War I. Long a portrayal of gentlemanly Brits, he is still at his trade and looking fifty.

In red silk pajamas at his Beverly Hills home, a tonic close at hand, he talked about Hollywood, past and present, with both fondness and reality.

MOVIES FEW

His movie appearances are few. He explained: "They don't seem to make my type of picture any more—the type that was termed 'drawing-room' for lack of a better name."

He does occasional television shows, such as the upcoming five-part "77 Sunset Strip" which will feature 22 other guest stars. A series for him? "I would like it, but as the No. 2 man, such as Raymond Massey plays on 'Dr. Kildare.' I wouldn't want to work hard enough to carry a series."

The rest of the time he takes his ease at the home he shares with his fifth wife, the former Mrs. Dee Anne Kahnman. Marshall was starring on Broadway with his second wife, Edna Best, when he was brought to Hollywood by Paramount in 1932. His first day in town was almost enough to send him back to England.

EXPLOSIVE INTERVIEW
He had an explosive interview with his director, the erratic Josef Von Sternberg, who carried on in his language and tried to impress Marshall with the fact that he alone of Paramount producers and directors had a private toilet.

"I learned later from my good friend Clive Brook that Von Sternberg was trying to hold actors down," said Marshall. "It seems that Clive had gotten fed up with him on the set one day and told him right in front of everybody to go hang himself."

Marshall's suave manner made him an immediate favorite among stars with the reigning queens of films—Dietrich, Shearer, Crawford.

VIEW FROM WALL — Chief Spotted Back (Walter Hamilton) of the Omahas looks over barbed wire of the Communist wall into East Berlin as he stands on the observation platform at Potsdamer Platz. "They can't take liberty away from the people without creating trouble," said the 72-year-old Indian from Macy, Neb.

General Assembly Opens Tomorrow

Disarmament to Take U.N. Spotlight

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Disarmament was the dominant theme today on the eve of the opening of the U.N. General Assembly, but Viet Nam and racial issues in Africa were expected to share the spotlight.

President Kennedy will address the assembly Friday but few other heads of government will attend this year's session. Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, who headed a parade of more than two dozen foreign leaders here two years ago, does not plan to come.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko arrived from Moscow last night at the head of a 50-man delegation and said disarmament is "certainly one of the most important questions" to be taken up when the 18th session of the assembly convenes tomorrow.

Gromyko will hold talks with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and British Foreign Secretary Lord Home during his stay here. Their discussions are expected to explore Khrushchev's "peace package," which the three foreign ministers also discussed in Moscow talks last summer.

"U.S.-SOVIET TALKS" Gromyko told newsmen on arrival that there would be U.S.-Soviet talks "on questions not on the agenda of the assembly," but he added "It would be difficult to guess what will be the results of such an exchange."

Gromyko said his stay in New York "will depend on the course of the work of the General Assembly." He said in Moscow last week he would stay, "as long as necessary" for the East-West talks.

Hopes were high at the United Nations that the partial test-ban agreement reached by Russia, the United States, and Britain in Moscow negotiations last summer would lead to further steps to reduce East-West tension.

Secretary General Thant told his assembly news conference last week that he hopes the test-ban treaty will be only a first stage and will be followed by a complete ban on testing and progress toward complete and general disarmament.

KEY TOPICS

These topics are expected to be dealt with in Gromyko's meeting with the Western foreign ministers:

—Khrushchev's call for a non-aggression agreement between NATO and the Communist Warsaw Pact.

—The exchange of Eastern and Western military observers to check on troop build-ups and guard against surprise attack.

—An armaments budget freeze and mutual reduction of armed forces.

—Agreement on the use of outer space for nonmilitary purposes. U.N. officials predicted the 18th session of the assembly would be one of the busiest in U.N. history.

South Viet Nam's crackdown on Buddhists is expected to get an early airing. Fourteen African nations have asked for debate on the issue and Thant has condemned the Vietnamese regime for intolerance.

African pressure for stern measures against Portugal and South Africa because of their racial policies is expected to continue, but no formal move to have the two nations expelled from the United Nations is expected. The Soviet Union has served notice it will press for a non-permanent security council seat for an African nation.

Udall Urges Conservation for Africans

NAIROBI, Kenya (UPI) — Secretary of the Interior Stewart

Udall urged the world's emerging nations today to conserve wildlife and avoid duplicating the mistakes made during a savage and shortsighted hour "in American history."

Udall's appeal for conservation management came in a speech prepared for a conference here today of the International Union for the Conservation of Nature and Natural Resources.

The secretary, an avid outdoorsman, arrived in Nairobi yesterday after climbing 10,565-foot Mt. Kilimanjaro and assisting in the dramatic rescue of an African army officer who collapsed on the summit.

Udall and his party carried the officer 4,000 feet down the mountainside to a refuge where he was revived by a mountain rescue team.

UNCONSCIOUS The officer, attached to the Tanganyika Rifles, who escorted Udall's party on the climb, was unconscious for four hours.

Udall, who is touring Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika, said he had seen "encouraging evidence" that conservation efforts were appreciated in Africa.

He said growth of the worldwide conservation movement "might be a gyroscopic force in world politics," and that in the years ahead nations "can either cooperate ruthlessly for resources, in a context of scarcity, or cooperate, respect the laws of nature, and share in its abundance."

Udall said the United States was attempting to reverse the trend of the past.

Pacific Isle Holds Tales of Treasure

WASHINGTON — Desolate and inhospitable, tiny Cocos Island in the Pacific Ocean probably is one of the most dug up bits of land anywhere in the world.

For more than 150 years, the 10.4-square-mile Costa Rican island has been wishfully regarded as the site of fabulous buried wealth.

In that time, the island has been probed, scoured, blasted and bored by countless treasure-seekers, the National Geographic Society says.

Estimates of treasure buried there by assorted buccaners, privateers, corsairs, and pirates range from a paltry $20 million to a comfortable $500 million.

Not a single doubloon has been recovered from the hoards of Benito Bonito of the Bloody Sword and renegade Captain Shrapnel, or the loot of Lima, hijacked by one Captain Thompson, master of the Mary Dear, Mary Dyer, or Mary Read, depending on the account one reads.

Some famous names have been associated with the Cocos treasure hunt. In 1904, the seventh Earl Fitzwilliam, then England's richest peer, landed with a party of nearly 100. The late Sir Malcolm Campbell, automobile and hydroplane speed king, visited in 1925.

Ten years later, President Franklin D. Roosevelt stopped off at the island during a fishing trip aboard the cruiser U.S.S. Houston. With a jovial "go ahead and find the treasure, boys," Roosevelt reportedly granted the crew shore leave.

Some treasure hunters have returned to Cocos despite repeated failures, convinced the treasure is there.

Iraq Rebel Charges British Interference

PARIS (AP) — An envoy of the rebel Kurds of Iraq on his way to the United Nations charged Sunday that Britain is supplying the Iraqi government with planes, light tanks and other weapons for mountain warfare.

Jalal Al Talabani told newsmen the Kurdish forces control most of the northern mountains, and the government occupies only several large towns. He denied reports that an independent Kurdistan had been proclaimed and insisted the Kurds want only self rule within the Iraqi republic.

Non-Christians to View Council

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — The Vatican was reported today planning to invite the major non-Christian faiths, including Jews, Buddhists and Moslems, to send observers to the second session of the Ecumenical Council.

The council resumes work in St. Peter's Basilica Sept. 29.

A high Vatican source said yesterday the major non-Christian faiths would be invited to send observers.

Pope Paul VI announced Saturday that he planned to create a Vatican secretariat for relations with non-Christians.

The disclosure dramatically emphasized Roman Catholic steps for religious unity that began under the late Pope John XXIII and now are being continued by his successor.

SEES RUSSIAN BISHOP

Yesterday Pope Paul received a bishop of the Russian Orthodox Church, Metropolitan Nikodim of Minsk and Byelorussia, in a 25-minute private audience in the Vatican.

A Vatican source said it was the first time a Pope had ever met with a bishop of the Russian church, which broke away from Rome 200 years ago.

Shortly after the audience, Pope Paul appeared at his study window to bless a crowd of 20,000 in St. Peter's Square. He urged them to pray to the Blessed Virgin for the success of the Ecumenical Council.

"We hope the council will install a new and beautiful vitality in the Catholic Church," he said. "We hope to open a dialogue with our time, with society, with those who surround us and with those who have not had the fortune to be joined with our faith and who are separated from us."

'PROMOTES PEACE'

He said the council would be "a great imploration to God for the promotion of peace in the world."

The Pope announced Saturday that he would permit "some lay Catholics," including representatives of international Catholic organizations, to attend the secret sessions of the council.

He also invited non-Catholic churches to send "large numbers" of observers this time.

Johnson Group Stops in Iceland

Last Country in Tour by Vice President

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI) — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson arrived in Iceland today, the last stop on his whirlwind, 15,000-mile tour of five nations in Northern Europe.

It was the first time an American of Johnson's stature made an official state visit to this island nation in the North Atlantic.

The vice president planned to stay here for 24 hours, leaving tomorrow for the return flight to Washington.

The tall Texan, his wife Lady Bird, and their 19-year-old daughter Lynda Bird arrived at Keflavik International Airport on a flight from Copenhagen, Denmark, at 7:40 a.m. (Pontiac time).

BOARDED HELICOPTER

The party boarded a helicopter for the 25-minute hop to the official residence of Icelandic President Asgeir Aegisdottir at Bessastadir.

Later, the vice president planned to go by motorcade into Reykjavik, the capital, where he was scheduled to confer with Prime Minister Olafur Thors.

The Danish leg of Johnson's goodwill tour was capped last night by a cheering throng of 50,000 persons who greeted him when he left Copenhagen's Royal Hotel.

Before leaving the Danish capital, Johnson was asked about reports from Reykjavik that Communist demonstrations might be staged there against him. He replied:

GRAND EXPERIENCES

"I am sure the visit to Iceland will be a continuation of the grand experiences I have had during my visit to the Nordic countries."

The Johnsons have already visited Sweden, Norway, Finland and Denmark. Johnson canceled a scheduled visit to Danish-owned Greenland but denied reports he was overly tired from a strenuous program of handshaking and speech making.

Shot in Neck, Police Officer Spits Out Slug

GARDENA, Calif. (AP) — "I must have spit it out," said Jack W. Bair, pointing to a slug on the floor of his patrol car Saturday night. He had been shot in the neck in a gun battle with burglary suspects.

Today he was reported in good condition at a hospital. Doctors said it was almost a miracle that no vital organs were struck.

Eddie Sharp, 24, of Rochester, N.Y., was shot to death an hour later, police said, when he pulled a gun and refused to surrender. Officers said Sharp and another New York man, Robert Rohrig, 25, were caught stripping cars.

Rohrig was knocked unconscious in a battle with police. Sharp temporarily escaped.

Rohrig was booked on suspicion of burglary and assault with intent to commit murder.

De Gaulle's Policy Said

Similar to Red China's

TARBES, France (UPI) — French Communist Party Chief Jacques Duclos said last night that President Charles De Gaulle's resistance to lessening of East-West tensions is "unfortunately identical with that of China."

Addressing a crowd at a party fete, he said great progress has been achieved toward forming a united front with French Socialists to overthrow the Gaullist regime.

They Shove Trouble in Their Pocket

Some Students Take Failing Grade Lightly

(Editor's Note—This is the seventh in a series on learning faults and what to do about them.)

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.

Has your son accepted class-room failure? A student who can stuff into his pocket a test paper that's been marked "F" and dismiss it from his mind has indeed accepted failure. And the acceptance of failure in schoolwork when firmly ingrained, is a major problem to educators and parents alike. I have seen many student failures in junior high and in high school.

They have ceased to try. In school they just sit. Out of school they fill their lives with automobiles, surfing, reading, television, or fun with the gang. They are potential dropouts.

Naturally this is one of the most serious faults a student can be subject to. Yet its early recognition is often difficult because the factors contributing to a failure are so many and varied. But a little intelligent action at an early stage in the game can save much grief later.

HOW TO SPOT THEM

What then are the symptoms? You can even see indications before a failure is many and varied. But a little intelligent action at an early stage in the game can save much grief later.

In the primary grades he giggles and squirms when called upon to recite. Often he says he forgets what he intended to say. He is immature and afraid that others are laughing at him. Out of timidity, he avoids drawing and writing.

On reaching the intermediate grades, he avoids thinking about school except when actually attending. Repeatedly he tells the teacher "I can't" or "I don't know." Without pressure, he does little of anything. Pressed too hard, he becomes upset. His "I can't" may develop into violent opposition.

About the only thing that accounts for his presence in high school is some law compelling attendance.

A mother who detects signs of future failure in a little one must be patient. Let the child do things for himself. Let him tie his own shoe laces and draw his own pictures. It takes more time and energy that way, but it helps put the child on his own.

TAKE POSITIVE STEPS

Parents and teachers both must carry patience over into the primary grades. If David hesitates too long before answering, the teacher must still say "We'll wait for David to answer. If a third grader says 'I can't draw' the issue must be forced, kindly but firmly.

His attention must be turned from his own failure to the task in hand, and from perfection to progress.

During the year George Rapee and Sam Stayman of New York developed a system of responding to opening no-trumps in which the two club response to the opening no-trump was an artificial forcing bid. Stayman's name was attached to the convention and today every expert in the world uses it in some form or other.

The bidders diverge tremendously, but they all go under the general name of Stayman so I will call mine Jacoby-Stayman. It fits perfectly with the Jacoby transfer bid, but whether or not you use the transfer bid you should use Jacoby-Stayman.

The bidding shown in the box would be that of any pair using any version of Stayman. The hand shows why all experts use the convention.

She Gets Burned Up, So Does Boyfriend's Car

NEW YORK (UPI) — Virginia Beckwith, 20, crumpled up newspapers yesterday in the front seat of an automobile belonging to her boyfriend, Roland Gill, then touched a match to the heap. She stood by and watched the blaze until firemen arrived. The girl readily admitted the deed to police, saying she had done it "because Roland made me mad."

He's Fast With a Glass and So's Little Woman

BALDICO, England (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Brian Robinson are the fastest beer-drinking couple in North Hertfordshire.

Robinson won the men's division of a charity beer drinking contest yesterday when he downed three pints in 28 seconds. His wife won the women's division by finishing off a pint in 18 seconds.

STAR IS BORN—One of the stars of Ford's 1964 lineup of light-duty trucks is the F-100 pickup. Newly styled from front to rear, the F-100 features a new massive grille, color-keyed cab interiors, double-strength sides in the cargo area, and easy-open tailgate.

'Sound Engineering'

1964 Ford Trucks Are Versatile

Increased durability, lower maintenance and operating costs and greater versatility highlight the light and medium Ford trucks for 1964, according to R. F. Lewis, Ford Division truck marketing manager.

"We feel confident that the sound engineering value in our products will be recognized in 1964, as was the case in 1963, the best truck sales year in Ford history," he added.

Ford's truck line includes the Falcon Ranchero and Sedan Delivery models; the Econoline van and pickup models; the F-100, F-250 and F-350 light-duty models; and the F-500 and F-600 medium-duty models.

They will be in Ford dealer showrooms at John McCallister Ford, Inc., 630 Oakland; Beattie Motor Sales, Inc., 5806 Dixie, Waterford Township; Jerome-Ferguson, Inc., 215 Main, Rochester; Shuman Ford Sales, Inc., 209 E. Walled Lake, Walled Lake; Ray Simmons Ford of Lake Orion; and Harold Turner, Inc., 464 S. Woodward, Birmingham, on Sept. 27.

COMPLETELY RESTYLED

The Falcon Ranchero and Sedan Delivery models are completely restyled, have a redesigned suspension, and offer added economy in all engines.

Econoline and pickup models include an optional automatic three-speed transmission for the first time, taking the work out of the stop-and-go city driving.

Ford's '64 pickup trucks also offer many features aimed directly at the expanding camping market.

Motel Robber Sought in Area

$70.80 Is Taken in Bloomfield Township

Bloomfield Township police are seeking an armed robber who netted $70.80 in a holdup at the Motel Lee early this morning.

James Edmond, manager of the motel at 2531 Telegraph, told police the culprit was wearing a nylon stocking over his head and wielding a revolver when he rushed into the motel office about 4 a. m.

The holdup man demanded that Edmond empty the cash register and then ordered the manager into the motel courtyard while he made his getaway, police said.

Edmond described the man as a stocky man, about 5 feet 8, weighing 155 pounds and about 50 years old. The man's left eye was either scarred or infected, he said.

BLACK OUTFIT
The culprit was wearing a black dress hat, black topcoat, black trousers and canvas work gloves. He made his getaway in a light grey automobile of 1957-60 vintage, possibly a Chevrolet, according to police.

Tomorrow Is Last Day to File for Election

Tomorrow at 4 p.m. is the deadline for filing nominating petitions with the county clerk for charter commissioner in Waterford Township.

Waterford Township Clerk Elmer Fangborn said that approximately 50 petitions have been taken up by prospective commission members. Nine will be elected.

Election of commission members and the question of incorporating the township as a city both will be decided at the polls in a special election Nov. 5.

If voters approve cityhood, the charter commission would begin drafting a city charter. If the incorporation question is defeated, the commission would be voided.

Prarie Dogs Frolic Where Once Hated

LUBBOCK, TEX. (UPI)—Prairie dogs once were as hated as the rattlesnake and as pesky as a corn-stealing cock. Galloping hordes tripped in burrows and broke their legs. Cowboys spilled on or to the prairie with broken bones. The farmer joined the range rider in shooting the rodents on sight.

Nine years ago when the incorporation of Lubbock on covering made their home in a 25,000-square-mile area surrounding the South Plains city.

The city began to grow in 1900, and with its growth the small charming rodents began to diminish.

The cowboys and farmers who had to put up with the "critters" were only too happy. But Kennedy N. Clapp decided that more rodents, and more than a million tourists are glad today they did.

In a seven-acre tract in McKenzie State Park, located only a few blocks from downtown Lubbock, 600 to 1,000 "dogs" live in cement colonies.

They frolic and chatter to the delight of children and adults alike.

They have no worries except an occasional burrowing owl, the only "outsider" allowed to pitch camp.

The elimination of the prairie rodents was a certainty when McKenzie Park was being planned. But Clapp looked to the future.

"Why poison them?" he said. "Let's preserve them. In 10 years they will be a big attraction."

It only took five years. "Prairie Dog Town, Population" is a regular stopping place for the 142,000 residents of Lubbock as well as the tourists.

A two-foot-high cement wall protects the dogs from the visitors and vice versa. Rolls of chicken wire are buried beneath the wall, which extends four feet under ground. The dogs make no attempt to leave their home.

The rodents received the tag "dog" because of their barking cry, and not due to any kinship with man's best friend.

The grey to reddish animals grow to 12 to 15 inches long and weigh from 3 to 5 pounds.

They wag their short, black-tipped tail with the regularity of a clock.

SILVERS GAMBLING AGAIN—This Time on Himself

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I shouldn't have asked Phil Silvers the question, so I did.

"What about the stories of you gambling?"

"They're true — I was a bust-out gambler. Was! I hated to play cards for me. I loved to go out after the big guys. In Las Vegas, I drew gamblers. I have that odor!"

"You see," Phil said, "it verified my importance to me. It had led on a game, Joe DiMaggio and Ted Williams were playing for me! At the time, I hadn't been able to get a picture. I gave myself new importance losing money."

Phil married beautiful Evelyn Patrick, they had four daughters — a fifth child's due in January — TV success came, he wasn't frustrated any more.

"My credit was always too good. I paid off. Some performers get ensnared, they make deals to work it off. I paid."

"You see," Phil said, "I know it. I should know it. Phil had been rumored losing close to $100,000 but he says those yarns are usually exaggerated."

Then came his new Phil Silvers CBS TV show due Sept. 28.

"Freddie Fields, my agent, said, 'You gambled all your life on dice. How about gambling on yourself?'"

"Back my own show! I put up all the money myself. . . . I drew borrow from the banks. But it's mine. If it runs three years, I may be able to gamble again."

"And you don't gamble at all?"

"Maybe a little on the Derby, nothing big. I told you. I'm a bust-out gambler. And I won't go to Las Vegas even. You don't send an alcoholic to a liquor store. . . ."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Few speed records are broken by people running from temptation." . . . That's earl, brother.

Dixie Fears New Violence

Campaign Note Closes Confab of Republicans

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Michigan Republicans wound up a three-day conference yesterday by kicking off the 1964 campaign with advice on how to win elections and influence voters.

Warned that next year's political campaign will be a tough one. Some 600 Republicans returned to their homes from Mackinac Island to face the problem of how to put the advice into effect at the grass roots level.

Malaysia Born Amid Hostility

Indonesia, Philippines Cold to New Nation

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—The world's newest nation, the Federation of Malaysia, was born today in alternately gay and somber inaugural ceremonies darkened by the hostility of its two largest neighbors.

The nation's strongest neighbor and most militant opponent, Indonesia, announced it could not accept Malaysia "as it is now." The other, the Philippines, withheld recognition.

In Jakarta, Indonesia, howling, stone-throwing Indonesian mobs stormed the British and Malayan Embassy compounds to protest the British-backed formation of Malaysia. Demonstrators overturned the British ambassador's car, smashed nearly 1,000 panes of window glass and burned the British flag.

The inaugural ceremonies ended a two-year struggle to unite the British territories of Sarawak and North Borneo, self-governing Singapore and the former British colony of Malaya. The independent federation stretches in a 1,500-mile tropical arc along the lower lip of the South China Sea.

'Fair, Warmer' Promised Us for Tomorrow

Slightly warmer temperatures with fair skies is the welcome forecast for the area. Tomorrow's high is expected to reach near 80. Tonight's low will be 56. Northeastly winds at 4 miles per hour will become southeasterly at 15 on Tuesday.

DEMOCRATS HAPPY — Democratic Congressman-at-large Neil Staebler (right) waves enthusiastically at a friend in the large crowd at the Oakland County Democratic Jamboree Saturday night. Democratic State Chairman Zoltan A. Ferency (left) also looked pleased, but no one was happier than County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin (center), who termed the jamboree "a tremendous success."

Exceeded Hopes, Says Official

By JIM DYGERT

Oakland County Democratic leaders were jubilant today over the surprising success of the county's Democratic Jamboree Saturday night in Waterford Township.

"It was four times more successful than any previous jamboree," James M. McNeely said this morning.

"It's a tremendous success," said County Democratic Chairman Sander M. Levin Saturday night as he looked happily at the unexpectedly large crowd and estimated that more than 1,000 party members from all parts of the county had attended.

McNeely, executive assistant to Levin, reported today that $6,500 was raised for the party's hard-pressed coffers, compared to a previous high of $1,800 in 1961.

EXCEEDED HOPES
The result even exceeded optimistic hopes for $6,000, which, McNeely said, "We never really thought we'd get."

The party treasury will net some $4,000 after paying expenses and the cost of a 1963 Pontiac Tempest given away at the event.

Three top Michigan Democrats appeared at the Jamboree, said no speeches but had plenty to say informally in interviews.

Congressman-at-large Neil Staebler, who in all probability will be the Democratic party's candidate for governor next year, granted that he may be the candidate and went on to criticize the man he probably would oppose, Gov. George Romney.

POLITICAL PLANS
When asked about his political plans when his two-year term in Congress ends, Staebler began talking about the gubernatorial race, saying he would seek the governor's chair "if it becomes desirable that I become the candidate."

Dems Hit Own Leaders

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

EAST LANSING — The Democratic State Central Committee yesterday attacked its leadership for "moving too quickly to support Gov. George Romney's fiscal reform program."

Paul Silver, treasurer of the Wayne County Democratic Committee and president of UAW Local 351, ended the attack with "I can't understand Democratic leaders giving any support to this program."

When you start shifting taxes, all Romney's program does is to there must be some equity. But move the tax burden off the backs of the most able to pay onto the backs of those unable to pay."

Silver said the Romney program would take $11 million in revenues from Detroit and that the proposal which would allow a county motor vehicle tax is directly contradicted by the new constitution.

Central Committee members were mollified somewhat by the passage of a resolution indicating committee concern, asking the leadership to study the Romney program and to develop a position on it soon.

In other action the State Central Committee voted to hold its annual spring convention in Lansing June 12-13. In the past it has been generally held in Grand Rapids but it was found that it could be more cheaply held in the Lansing area.

Move to Avert New Trouble in Birmingham

Church Bombing Kills 4 Young Negro Girls; Hours of Terror Follow

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Officials took extraordinary steps today to head off any new racial violence in bomb-shaken Birmingham after a dynamite blast killed four Negro girls, caused hours of terror and brought outraged protests from National Negro leaders.

The U. S. Justice Department sent in three top officials and a force of FBI agents with bomb experts. City officials joined with church leaders in a special telecast, urging citizens to be calm.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., flew into town to urge Negroes to be nonviolent — just as he did in May when the bombing of a Negro motel touched off rioting by Negroes.

National Guardsmen were placed on alert. Gov. George C. Wallace sent 300 state troopers into the city at the request of Mayor Albert Boutwell.

Yesterday morning's blast at the Sixteenth Avenue Baptist church occurred during a youth day program at the church where numerous desegregation meetings have been held.

It killed the four young girls and injured 23 others. Within a few hours, two Negro boys were shot to death in other parts of the city, and three other persons were wounded.

"Today has been the most frightening in the history of Birmingham," said Sheriff Melvin Bailey as violence continued despite pleas for peace.

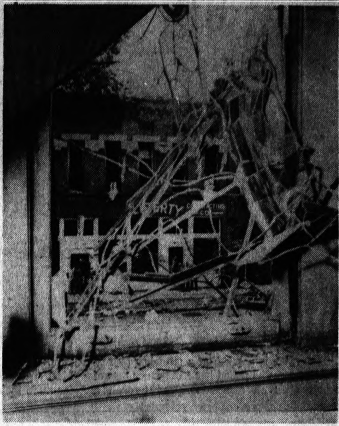

Not since integration leader Medgar W. Evers was shot to death at his home in Jackson, Miss., in June has the nation's Negroes been so shocked.

LONDON (UPI) — Queen Elizabeth is expecting a child due to be born next year, Buckingham Palace announced today.

OTTAWA (AP) — The Soviet Union signed today the biggest wheat - purchase pact in Canadian history, ordering nearly $50 million worth of wheat and wheat flour for delivery in the next 10 months.

RUINED WINDOW — A twisted, broken stained glass window in the 16th Avenue Baptist Church illustrates the damage done by a bomb which blasted the building in Birmingham, Ala., yesterday. Four small girls were killed, and several were injured.

JFK in Close Touch With Racial Crisis

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

WASHINGTON — President Kennedy kept in close touch with developments today in the explosive Birmingham racial crisis, one of the gravest in the nation's recent history.

Among the first messages to reach his desk in the early morning hours were demands from integrationist leader the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) for federal intervention in Alabama.

King wired the Chief Executive that he would "sincerely plead with my people to remain non-violent in the face of this terrible provocation."

"However, I'm convinced that unless some immediate steps are taken by the federal government to restore a sense of confidence in the protection of life, limb and property, my pleas will fall on deaf ears and we shall see in Birmingham and Alabama the worst racial holocaust this nation has ever seen."

The NAACP's telegram to Kennedy urged "complete intervention" of the Justice Department in the case of the bombing of a church yesterday and the deaths of six persons at Birmingham.

Kennedy received word of the Birmingham bombing yesterday while cruising in Narragansett Bay, off Newport, R.I., on the presidential yacht Honey Fitz. The President's brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, called two speaking engagements in Philadelphia today to stay in his office during the new racial turmoil.

UNTIL WEDNESDAY
The speeches have been postponed until Wednesday before the same audiences, Justice Department spokesman Edwin O. Guthman said.

Ford Company Unveils 40 Models in '64 Line

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

DETROIT — Lincoln-Mercury Division of the Ford Motor Co. today introduced the 40 models that make up its 1964 line.

The luxury Lincoln Continental keeps its clean styling lines but it has been increased three inches in length to allow for more passenger and trunk space.

Mercury offered a new series of 24 models, including a luxury Park Lane series. The Park Lane features the same styling lines as the Montclair but the Park Lane has luxurious trim, including simulated wood-grain paneling.

In all, Lincoln-Mercury General Manager Ben D. Mills said, there will be 24 Mercury models to choose from.

The Comet line in 1964 will include 14 models. The big change from last year is a luxurious Caliente series built on the standard Comet 114-inch wheelbase.

DROPS METEOR
Mercury dropped from its line-up the Meteor, which fared badly at the sales floor.

Division spokesmen said the Comet will come with four engine options, all designed to run on regular fuel. Included will be a new 289 cubic-inch V8 which develops 210 horsepower and a 200 cubic-inch six-cylinder power plant.

The Comet will have a 43 percent larger fuel tank with a 20 gallon capacity in '64, increasing the fuel range.

U.S. Quints' Survival Chances Good

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — The Fischer quintuplets, very tiny but extremely vigorous, rounded out their first 48 hours of life early today with good prospects for survival.

The babies born to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer early Saturday were reported doing fine.

GOING STRONG
Dr. James Berbos, who delivered the infants, said they were going strong on a diet of sugar water and may be switched to something heavier today, like a milk formula.

Later Sunday, Dr. Berbos reported that the four girls and a boy were being fed about four cubic centimeters of sugar water every two hours.

Bebos, who has delivered 3,607 children in his 16 years as a physician, said both mother and children were doing extremely well. The first 72 hours were considered to be the most dangerous for the newborn quintuplets, but there was no sign of trouble.

Gifts of money and merchandise continued to pour in for the family, and Dr. Berbos added one of his own.

"I don't think I'll charge 'em anything," Berbos said. He indicated that St. Luke's hospital, where the infants were born, also would forget about a bill.

NO MORE
Dr. Berbos told a news conference that he hadn't delivered any more babies since the birth of the quintuplets.

Looking at a score of newborns crowded into the hospital lounge, Berbos smiled and said: "They've all been scared off."

Fischer and three of his other five children attended Mass Sunday at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic church, escorted in and out by a platoon of reporters and photographers.

It wasn't far away from birth time for any of the three youngsters. Julie was 6 Sunday, Charlotte will be 7 Wednesday and Danny will be 8 Oct. 5. The other Fischer children are Evelyn 4, and Denise, 3.

While the father and Dr. Berbos were busy with periodic news conferences in the hospital cafeteria Sunday, Mrs. Fischer rested in her third-floor room and tried to think of names for the four girls. They all were named Mary but have no second names. The boy was named James Andrew.

WOMAN RESCUED — Mrs. Gertrude Bramley, 82, is carried on a stretcher by rescue workers who pulled her from under tons of debris after an explosion ripped through a Bloomfield Township house Saturday. Mrs. Bramley was in an upstairs bedroom when the blast occurred. She was trapped under rubble for more than two hours.

Dixie City Fears Violence

The blast was the worst of numerous bombings and other violence since Negroes began campaigning in earnest last April for desegregation here.

ACHIEVED INTEGRATION

They achieved public school integration. Its beginning last week brought some student boycotts and protests. Gov. Wallace earlier had sought to block the integration but was stymied by federal intervention.

This tense city spent a long, fearful day and night after yesterday's blast. Several fires broke out, rocks were thrown by Negroes in various sections and some gunfire was reported.

Sunday School classes at the church were just ending a lesson on "The Love That Forgives" when the explosion tore into concrete, metal and glass.

The four girls apparently were in the lounge in the basement of the old brick church. One, Cynthia Wesley, 14, was killed by the full force of the blast and could be identified only by clothing and a ring.

The others were Carol Robertson and Addie Mae Collins, 14, and Denise McNeil, 11.

ROPING OFF

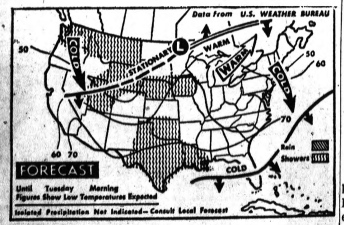

Even as officers were roping off a two-block area around the church, civic and church leaders were crying for peace and non-violence.

But there was no peace. Two white youths fatally shot a 13-year-old Negro boy, policeman shot to death a 16-year-old Negro.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Scattered showers and thunderstorms are forecast tonight over the north Pacific Coast states, the northern Plateau and portions of the central Plains, the southern Plains and western Gulf regions. The rest of the country will be mostly partly cloudy. It will be cooler over the north and central Atlantic Coast states. Warmer weather will prevail over the middle Mississippi Valley. The rest of the nation will remain unchanged.

JFK Reports on Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Military assistance to nations whose borders are overshadowed by the guns of their Communist neighbors still is the costliest single item of U.S. foreign aid, President Kennedy told Congress today.

And the lion's share of the military aid is being spent to stem the Chinese communist threat in the Far East, Kennedy said in his annual report on how U.S. aid is being used.

The report, covering military and economic aid programs in fiscal 1962, did not include more recent outlays, but administration officials said the trend this year is still much the same.

Increasing amounts of economic help are being shifted to Latin America, where the report said "the prospect for the near future is a continuing effort by the international Communist movement to obstruct and retard the Alliance for Progress."

REPORT TOTAL

The report said the total $4,514,600,000 appropriations for 1962 included:

Military aid $1.6 billion, development loans $1,112,500,000, special help to Latin America $600 million supporting aid such as credits to bail nations out of financial trouble.

In the Far East a total of $948.7 million in military aid went to South Viet Nam, Korea, Nationalist China, Japan, Laos, Cambodia, the Philippines, and Thailand. Among the biggest recipients were Korea, $218.6 million; South Viet Nam $176.5 million and Nationalist China $175 million.

Economic aid in that same area of the Far East totaled $390.3 million. Africa received $312.8 million.

The Near East and South Asia region—18 nations from Greece to India—received more U.S. aid than any other region, $1,077,400,000 in economic assistance and $411 million in military aid.

Military aid to European countries totaled $1,832,000,000 and to Latin America, $721 million.

The report said "prior to the Alliance for Progress, aid for Latin America was a small part of this country's total aid program," but last year "received approximately 25 per cent of all U.S. foreign economic assistance commitments, totaling $123,700,000."

James M. Hare agreed the Romney tax program would get more support from Democratic legislators than from Republicans.

LACK OF LEADERSHIP

This could result in the Democrats' being blamed for passage of an income tax, Hare said, but it would also provide ammunition for charging Romney with lack of leadership in his own party.

Hare, who thinks Steinhilber will turn out to be the Democratic gubernatorial candidate in 1964, expressed most of his concern about the bipartisan commission charged with drawing up new districts for the state Legislature in time for next year's elections.

Hare said he did not believe the commission would agree on new districts by March 1. This, he said, was the date by which they must be decided in order to allow for the 60-day appeal period and still have time to get ready for the primary.

That would be only one month after the commission becomes official. It is now meeting informally.

'PEACE AND JOBS'

U.S. Sen. Philip A. Hart said the issues in next year's presidential election would be "peace and jobs, if we oversimplify."

He said it was hard to gauge the effect of the civil rights issue, although he added the reaction of the fast-growing suburban areas would be crucial.

Hart said, however, that "it would take a rifle to stop Kennedy."

She was lying in a reading room in another part of the house. She ran outside just as debris started falling around her.

"Fruhauf was in the garden when he heard the blast. He turned just in time to see the roof collapse."

"I heard this terrific blast and then the whole thing fell into the basement," he said.

DODGE CONVERTIBLE — This is Dodge's deluxe Polara 500 convertible for 1964. The Polara 500 sports package, offered on the Polara two-door hardtop and convertible, includes bucket seats, center console and all-vinyl interiors. The selector lever for either the four-speed manual transmission or the three-speed automatic is in the console.

'Thoughtful Design'—Key to '64 Dodge

"Thoughtful engineering" is the keynote of the 1964 standard size Dodge, according to Dodge general manager Byron J. Nichols.

Along with the compact Dart and the medium priced Dodge 880, the '64 Dodge, with a line-up of 22 models, will go on sale this Friday at Spartan Dodge, Inc., 211 S. Saginaw.

Clean and uncluttered styling and graceful but forceful lines distinguish Dodge's 50th anniversary line.

Senator Fears N-Treaty Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., said today that ratification of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty could confront the United States with "terrifying blackmail" by Russia.

Robertson, in a prepared Senate speech, said that he would "violate the dictates of my conscience" to support the pact.

On the other side of the debate, Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., declared that "if this treaty doesn't work, then a future nuclear war will in all probability 'solve' our problems."

Support for the treaty also came from Sens. Maurice Neuberger, D-Or., and George McGovern, D-S.D.

'REDS WILL GAIN'

Robertson said he believes that as a result of the treaty "the Soviet Union will first gain equality with us in atomic weapons."

"Then, he said, 'If it develops before we do a satisfactory and operational anti-missile, we and the free nations of the world will then be confronted with terrifying blackmail.'"

"In my opinion, there can be no doubt but that our leadership of the free world depends upon our recognized ability to defend ourselves from Russian aggression, and we stand to lose that ability by ratifying the test-ban treaty."

McGovern said that as a former combat soldier he knew of the necessity of a strong and alert national defense.

Birmingham Area News

City May Take 3 Lots for Parking Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — Action could be taken by the City Commission tonight on three parcels of property scheduled to become part of a municipal parking lot.

Commissioners last week postponed taking action on a resolution which would initiate condemnation proceedings.

The lots, on the northeast corner of Townsend, are the only ones in the block south of Shain Park which the city has not acquired.

Plans are also in the making for an L-shaped parking lot that would abut the three properties. The city has been unsuccessful in its attempts to purchase the lots.

Commissioners last week declined to discuss the proposed condemnation resolution.

Among the three hearings scheduled for tonight's commission meeting is one on the PETTY OF EXTENDING Fairway Driveway.

TO BISTOCK AREA

The drive would bisect the area bounded by Lincoln, Northlawn, Golfview Heights subdivision and Northlawn subdivision.

Estimated engineering cost of the project, to be ECSSA the project, to be financed through special assessment, is $73,000.

A problem posed by the project is that construction of the roadway would leave several lot swaths less than the 9,000 square feet required in the R4 zone.

An amendment to the zoning ordinance which would permit the variance has been proposed, by planning consultants Vilcan-Le-man and Associates, Inc., of Southfield.

Mrs. Leonard J. Baker Service for Mrs. Leonard J. (Rea-Barr) Baker, 71, of 831 Ann, was 3 p.m. today at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., with burial following in Acacia Park Cemetery, Southfield.

Mrs. Baker died Friday after a brief illness.

She was a member of Chapter No. 220, Order of the Eastern Star. She was also founder of the World Speakers Bureau, and a retired employee of the J. L. Hudson Co.

Nieces and nephews survive.

Robert S. Phillips Service for Robert S. Phillips, 31, of 1282 S. Bates, will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will follow in Acacia Park Cemetery, Southfield.

Mr. Phillips died Saturday after a brief illness.

He was a retired sales representative for the Milwaukee Glove Co. He was also a member of the Birmingham Senior Men's Club; the United Travelers Association, Bay City; and the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham.

Surviving are his wife, Myrtle; son, Richard of Los Angeles, Calif.; a daughter, Margaret E. of Birmingham; a sister, three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

NEW MODEL DEBUTS — The Chrysler New Yorker Salon with a vinyl covered roof and many items of extra equipment typifies the styling of the entire 1964 Chrysler line. With more than 40 extra luxury and convenience features, Chrysler officials tout the Salon as America's most completely equipped car.

Sleek Appearance

Chrysler Features Extras

Reclining seats, head rests, a new console-mounted automatic transmission lever, a seven-position adjustable steering wheel and a four-speed manual transmission are among the many new features in the 1964 Chrysler line.

One model in the new line, the New Yorker Salon, has more than 40 items of extra equipment, including air conditioning, as standard.

The new Chrysler will be introduced Sept. 20 in dealer showrooms at R & B Motors, Inc., 720 Oakland; Birmingham Chrysler, Plymouth, Inc., 912 S. Woodward; Birmingham; and Burdette Motor Sales, Inc., 1001 N. Main, Rochester.

All 1964 Chryslers retain the basic dimensions of their predecessors, but with a new, sleeker appearance. The rear window is larger. All series — the Newport, Series 300 and New Yorker — have new grille designs, new rear metal sculpturing and tail lamps.

Topping the Chrysler line for '64 is the New Yorker for which is so well equipped that the buyer has choices only of color, interior upholstery material, the adjustable steering wheel and limited slip differential.

"It's a car that has everything," says C. E. Briggs, Chrysler Motors Corp. vice president.

Featuring the sports car look is the Chrysler 300K which has a 418-cubic inch police pursuit type engine with a four-barrel carburetor and dual exhausts. The model will be available as a hardtop and convertible.

For road performance enthusiasts and rally competitors, Chrysler is offering a new four-speed and an improved three-speed manual transmission.

As with 1963 models, engine and drive train components have a five-year or 50,000-mile warranty.

Sun Buff Is Burned Up

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am the young, attractive neighbor lady about whom WORRIED WIFE wrote.

I am trying to get a sun tan, so naturally when the sun is hottest, I take sun baths in my back yard.

Now, everyone knows that if you sprinkle your lawn in the hot sun you'll burn up your grass. My neighbor goes out and sprinkles his back yard when the sun is blazing just to get his eyes full of me while I'm out there taking my sun bath.

I assure you, his wife has nothing to worry about as I don't appreciate an audience. Can you suggest a way to get my message across to him?

SUN BATHER
DEAR SUN BATHER: Call your neighbor's attention to the fact that his lawn is getting brown right along with you.

And suggest that he hold off the sprinkling until both you and the sun have disappeared.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my 73-year-old father was taken to the hospital with a ruptured gall bladder which required emergency surgery. As they were wheeling him into the operating room, his last request to mother was, "Don't bother to save the newspapers for me — just tear out the pages with DEAR ABBY and I'll read them when I get home."

We are happy to report that he is well on the road to recovery now and almost all caught up with his reading. It is our belief that your column somehow tends to create a measure of confidence in the older generation.

Very truly yours,
R. C. T.

DEAR R. C. T.: You've made my day. And please remember me affectionately to Papa.

DEAR ABBY: We live in a $55,000 home, have over $10,000 in our savings account, my husband has $75,000 in Life Insurance and we belong to the Country Club. I suppose you're thinking, "What a lucky woman to have a husband like that!" Well, you can have him. He's the world's biggest tightwad. He never carries a penny with him and he says that's the best way to keep from spending money. Our house needs painting, and our furniture is a disgrace. We drive a 1950 car. We've been married 26 years and he's getting tighter every year. What can I do?

Costly Gift for Beau in Bad Taste

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: Is it proper for a young girl to give a boy friend an expensive present for his birthday?

Some of my girl friends have spent as much as $30 on presents for their boy friends.

They are not engaged to these boys but have been dating them steadily for some time.

I think this is much too much money to spend on a boy to whom one is not engaged. Will you please give me your opinion.

A: You are right. Giving an expensive present to a boy to whom one is not engaged is in bad taste.

Q: When staying in a hotel and one has breakfast sent up to one's room, what is the proper amount to tip the room waiter?

A: Fifteen per cent of the check but never less than a quarter even if he brings only a cup of coffee and a roll.

Q: My father, a widower, has been living with me and my family for the past year. He has invited a woman friend of his to come and spend the weekend here.

This is perfectly all right with me as we have plenty of room. However, he thinks I should write her a note seconding his invitation.

If he were my son and she a young girl I could see this, but considering their ages, it seems like needless ceremony to me, and in fact I think it would be belittling to him.

Will you please give me your opinion?

A: As he is living in your house, it is proper and not "needless ceremony" for you, as hostess, to send her a personal invitation.

Tipaon Chapter, American Business Women's Association, selected Mrs. Ossie Gates as "Woman of the Year" at the Hands of Friendship brunch Sunday in Airway Lakes.

Tipaon vice president, Mrs. Gates is a member of the Pontiac Women's Chorus, the City Federation of Women's Clubs and the YWCA. She also served on the United Fund budget panel.

Her career with the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. led to secretarial positions with the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce and the Pontiac Chief of Police.

Some 75 Tipaon members joined 24,000 ABWA members throughout the United States at the semiannual event held simultaneously by 450 chapters.

Mrs. Carroll Welch, president, welcomed the assembly, and Mrs. Henry Burke sang "The Lord's Prayer" invocation. Mrs. Raymond Zilka played musical numbers. Marie Kickey was mistress of ceremonies.

Co-chairmen were Mrs. Tennes Morris and Marjorie K. Salisbury.

ORIGINAL SKIT
Mrs. Cyril Skort nagrated an original skit "Cultivating Tillie" presented by Lillian Laska, Arlene Newcombe and Julie O'Brien. Miss Laska played "Tillie," and Tipaon past presidents or former women-of-the-year acted as "cultivators."

A nursing scholarship was presented to Linda Crowley of Hurley Hospital, Flint. Patricia Fiorani, the chapter's Oakland University scholarship recipient, also was present. ABWA scholarships on the national level now total $40,000.

Group Director Will Speak

Clarence Barnes, newly appointed director of the Pontiac Urban League, will speak at a meeting sponsored by Pontiac school teachers Tuesday evening at Crofoot School.

Barnes will present "A Morning for Jimmy," a film telling the story of a young Negro boy who encounters racial discrimination while seeking a job.

The program, sponsored by the Pontiac Federation of Teachers, will start at 8 p.m. and is open to the public.

Scout Books Due U. of M.

For its help in the creation of the four new Girl Scout handbooks and "Leader Notebook," the University of Michigan will receive a specially bound set of the handbooks in a Chicago ceremony Tuesday.

The university conducted a study, under the supervision of Dr. Stephen B. Withey of the personal and social interests and aspirations of American girls 11 through 18 years of age. Dr. Withey is psychologist and program director in the Institute's Survey Research Center.

Saleratus — baking soda — was one of the first products to be hygienically packaged.

The bride holds a degree from University of Michigan and her husband is a graduate of Wayne State University. After their honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, they will live in Detroit.

Daughter of the Adam S. Lamonts of Winthrop Road, the bride appeared in white taffeta brocade, styled with three-quarter length sleeves and a chapel train.

A crystal tiara held her bouffant illusion veil, yellow roses accented her bouquet of white carnations, Stephanotis and ivy.

Rosemary Mitchell, her cousin's maid of honor, wore floor-length turquoise taffeta brocade. She carried bronze pompoms and yellow roses.

BRONZE POMPONS
Deanna and Marilyn Laughlin, sisters of the bridegroom, similarly clad, carried bronze pompoms and Mary Jo roses.

Dennis R. Laughlin attended his brother as best man. They are the sons of the William R. Laughlins of Club Drive. Seating guests were William Mitchell and Roy Dietrich with Detroiters Leonard Scherck and John Alcini.

League Unit Picks Officers

The Ladies National League elected officers at its recent 62nd annual convention in the Waldron Hotel.

Mrs. William L. Vandruska is national first vice president; Mrs. Louise Thompson, national chaplain; and Mrs. Jerry Houd, national assistant marshal.

Attending from Camp Nesbitt No. 11 were Mrs. William E. Paetow, president; Mrs. Harry Bensley, delegate; and Mrs. Ted Hart, appointed national assistant marshal.

Floyd Cremer, Oakland County Veterans' service director, spoke at the banquet.

Miss Wyllie Weds

The Oakland County Boat Club was the setting for a reception for the Richard Karl Bredows (Sandra Joan Wyllie) wed recently before Rev. Ralph C. Claus in St. Trinity Lutheran Church.

A gown of Chantilly-type lace over silk taffeta for the daughter of the James D. Wyllies of Lowell Street featured a detachable satin train with lace applique.

Her French illusion veil fell from a jeweled tiara.

She carried white sweet-heart roses, feathered carnations and pompons. Wearing gold peau satin were maid of honor, Ethel Eugene, and Mildred Bredow who was bridesmaid. They carried gold and bronze pompons.

Frederick Bredow was best man for his brother who is of Louella Drive. They are the sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Bredow. Gary Wyllie seated guests.

The couple will honeymoon in northern Michigan and New York State before returning to a home in Pontiac.

Four Groups Gather for Meetings

A luncheon at the home of Mrs. James C. Cowan on Scott Lake Road was the setting for the Friday meeting of the Faith Group of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Burton Mitchell and Mrs. Norman Allen were co-hostesses for the meeting attended by 17 members and two guests. Mrs. Charles Watson of Drayton Plains and Mrs. Alma Wiser of Owosso.

APRIL-MAY

Mrs. William F. Kalwitz opened her Osceola Drive home for the first fall meeting of the April-May Group of the First Presbyterian Church on Friday.

Luncheon was served by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. Claud Coons and Mrs. Harrison McColl. Rev. Paul F. Cross spoke on "The Church and Mission."

COLONIAL

Twenty-eight members of the Colonial Group of the First Congregational Church gathered Friday at the Macedonia home of Mrs. A. C. Kirby.

Mrs. John Cray, Mrs. L. F. Hise, Mrs. Ethel Dempsey, Mrs. Victor Hancock and Mrs. Arthur MacFadyen comprised the luncheon committee.

MAYFLOWER

Discussions on ways to improve programs constituted the main part of the Thursday meeting of the Mayflower Group of the Congregational Church.

Luncheon at Devon Gables was featured with Mrs. Dexter Craig and Mrs. Philip Hubbard as co-hostesses.

Sorority Head Installs Officers of Omega Alpha

Mrs. Clifford Koskinen installed officers for Omega Alpha sorority recently in the home of incoming president Eulalia Valentine on East Columbia Street.

Other officers include Mrs. Stig Danielson, vice president; Mrs. Lloyd Shalep, secretary; and Mrs. Gordon Frain, treasurer.

Heading committees are Mrs. Douglas Green, Mrs. Forrest White, Mrs. Elliott Plante, Mrs. George Morrow, Mrs. Ariel Davis, Mrs. Koskinen and Mrs. George Turner.

Talk Given at Women's Luncheon

"Traveling on Life's Highway" was the topic of a lecture given by Mrs. Helen Baugh to the September Christian Women's Club luncheon at Devon Gables.

Mrs. Baugh, from Kansas City, Mo., is the national president and founder of the organization. In telling of its origin, purpose and growth she reported that there are now 300 clubs in the United States with a total of from 40,000 to 45,000 women attending the monthly luncheon meetings.

Mezzo-soprano Mrs. Dennis Knight of Birmingham was the guest soloist.

ART EXAMPLES

Examples of realism, impressionism and surrealism in art were displayed by Herbert Cohn, director of the Raven Art Gallery of Birmingham.

The regular luncheon time has now been changed to the third Wednesday of each month. The next luncheon will be October 16 at 12:30.

Persons interested in information concerning the club or in making reservations for the luncheon may contact Mrs. George Aho of Birmingham.

Fashion for Sporty Men Shows Color

Put him in the red this fall—in deep red sports wear, that is, right down to maroon colored socks.

Fashion forecasts for men play up the colors wine or chianti in washable sports shirts and pants, and socks are expected to complete the color scheme.

Caution: Be sure to suds all reds alone for the first few washings until color-bleeding stops.

Teacher Club Opens Season

The Teacher's Exchange Club opened the new season with a cooperative family dinner Thursday in the Pontiac Unity Center on North Genesee Avenue.

Guests include Mrs. Irene Albright, Mrs. Margaret Creley, Elmer Thorpe, Norris Smith, the Gordon Moats family, also children and grandchildren of TEC members.

Robert Benson of the Michigan State Conservation Department will speak at the October dinner meeting in the Hunter's Whip, Franklin.

Bait the Hook to Stir Budgeting Interest

Consultant in Money Management
Dear Miss Feeley: How can I bait an interest in budgeting our money?

Dear M.S.: You can't. But you can try enticing her. Few people like to budget just to budget. Soft-pedal the economic stability angle.

Bait the hook with something more specific to start with—maybe a trip, color TV, or even a smashing evening on the town.

If she once discovers that by planning expenses good things materialize, she may become addicted to the practice.

When she starts putting you on an allowance and cutting down your pocket money, you'll know you've won!

Dear Miss Feeley: Please help me! My 17-year-old girl cousin and her friend came to live with my husband and me and our two small boys. They lived in a small town and we were talked into giving up the comforts of privacy.

They have jobs now which pay $33.50 each, starting pay, and must take a bus costing $1.50 per week.

They also have at least two meals a day at home; three quarters of the time it's three meals. I do their washing, and they feel they have the freedom of our home.

Each pays me $13 per week. Here's my problem: Is that enough money for what we're giving? We're just a young couple ourselves and I had to buy twin beds for them plus a dresser which amounted to $220. I'm trying to pay this off in 90 days.

I don't want to burden them with my money problems, but I just haven't any idea of what a young girl boarding out should have to pay according to her wages. I want to live within MY income, too!

Dear Mrs. D.: I think the girls could pay $14.50 a week each—plus $1.50 for their laundry. Of course, they could no doubt get their laundry done a bit cheaper at a public coin-op.

But the time and trouble involved might make this $15.50 payment seem much more desirable to them. I suggest this because you seem to be finding it a tight squeeze feeding them so often and on such an uncertain basis.

This naturally makes your food shopping more difficult.

It's hardly likely that these girls could get room and board and laundry anywhere else for less than this, and have the security of a good home at their tender ages.

Polly's Pointers

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—Is your house in need of an "emptying out?" (Polly's note—It surely is.)

If you are storing things you really have no further use for, here is one way to start. Go through those boxes of old photographs.

Package them and send them off to the ones who are in the pictures.

You have no idea how pleased a young mother is to get a picture of herself as a baby or teen-ager.

Give those pictures that are cluttering up your house back to the rightful owners.

This will cheer someone else immensely and you will be cleaning out your house at the same time.

I keep all the straps from worn-out slips and bras. If they are cotton, all the better, as I make the loop hooks for my pot holders out of cotton straps which are strong and washable.—V. S.

DEAR POLLY—The best way I know to cut an angel food cake is with a piece of silk. The thread does not break the frosting or crush the delicate cake.—Mrs. M. B.

DEAR POLLY—In all the hint columns I have read, I have never seen my favorite time-saver. I cover half-bushel baskets with material to harmonize with the schemes in my various bedrooms.

The baskets are placed in a convenient spot in each bedroom and serve as clothes hampers. On wash day they go to the basement and are handy during the laundry process. Clothes are taken from the line or dryer and go back into the basket for the room where they belong.

When the clean clothes are put away the basket is in the right spot and ready for more soiled clothes. It saves many steps and arguments.

The children do not leave dirty clothes around their rooms and if I have not put away the clean clothes before they are needed, even a small child recognizes the color of his basket and can get his things out.—A. H.

DEAR POLLY—An attractive patio cart can be made from a child's discarded wagon that is still in good condition.

Enamel it a color that goes well with your patio furniture and line it with oilcloth or pretty adhesive paper. Haul sandwiches, drinks, serving things and so on back and forth from the kitchen to the patio.—Mrs. M. M.

DEAR POLLY—When I bake cookies or bread, I put my 2-year-old in his high chair and give him some dough of his own. He "makes" his own cookies and stays content. This saves a lot of wear and tear on my nerves and lots of cleaning up afterward as he has made all the mess on his own tray.—Mrs. D. C.

Share your favorite homemaking ideas... send them to Polly in care of The Pontiac Press. You'll receive a bright, new silver dollar if Polly uses your ideas in Polly's Pointers.

Rebels Kill 4 Portuguese

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The Lusitania news agency said Sunday Angolan rebels killed four Portuguese soldiers and wounded 18 between Sept. 4 and 11. The rebels also killed two civilians and wounded two others, it added.

He Deserted Reds;
Now Happy in U.S.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Ten years ago, a young North Korean pilot defected to the West in a Soviet-built MIG-15 and collected a $100,000 reward.

Kenneth Ko—now 31 and known as Kenneth Rowe—lives in San Diego and said he no longer fears Communist retaliation.

"Now I have concluded that once you get to America you are pretty safe," he said, "and I don't know what kind of value they would get out of killing me. The damage is done."

Rowe still puts on dark glasses when he spots a photographer, however. "For the first few years I moved around the country quite a bit, and I don't want to move again," he said.

He lived in Washington, Montana and Delaware before moving to California.

WAS SPONSOR

His self-imposed exile ended Friday when he was introduced in the San Diego Superior Court as the sponsor for his mother in naturalization proceedings.

Rowe's mother, Virginia Rowe, was safely in blue chip securities and has not touched his capital.

"I put myself through college on the East Coast on the returns," Rowe, who flew 60 combat missions, said he trained for about a year in Manchuria after being taken out of the Korean naval academy and put into the service when the Korean war started.

"The Russian pilots were really nice guys," he said. "They were easy going and eager to help. I didn't like the Chinese."

Rowe said he invested his money in blue chip securities and has not touched his capital.

"I became a citizen a year ago in Seattle," Rowe said.

Rowe has lived in San Diego for a year, has three children since his marriage in this country, and is employed at General Dynamics-Astronautics as a thermodynamics engineer. He declined to elaborate on his wife and children and was reluctant in discussing his reward.

DIDN'T KNOW

"Believe it or not, I did not have knowledge that America had offered any such reward. The first I heard of it was at a press meeting when some reporter asked what I was going to do with the money," Rowe said.

Leaflets had been dropped by the United States offering $100,000 to the first pilot who delivered a MIG to the West.

Rowe said he invested his money

Silters Gambling Again—
Time Time on Himself

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I shouldn't have asked Phil Silters the question, so I did.

"What about the stories of you gambling?"
"They're true — I was a bust-out gambler. Was! I hated to play cards with you. I loved to go out after the big guys. In Las Vegas, I drew gamblers. I have that odor!"

"You see," Phil said, "it verified my importance to me. I'd bet on a ball game. Joe DiMaggio and Ted Williams were playing for me! At the time, I hadn't been able to get a picture. I gave myself new importance less money."

Phil married beautiful Evelyn Patrick, they had four daughters — a fifth child's due in January — TV success came, he wasn't frustrated any more.

"My credit was always too good. I paid off. Some performers get ensnared, they make deals to work it off. I paid. 'But you have to lose. I know it. I should know it!' Phil'd been rumored losing close to $100,000 but he says those yarns are usually exaggerated."

With new family responsibility, he quit, quit playing Las Vegas, quit going to Las Vegas.

Then came his new Phil Silters CBS TV show due Sept. 23.

"Back my own show, I put up all the money myself. . . I did borrow from the banks. But it's mine. If it runs three years, I may be able to gamble again."

"And you don't gamble at all?"
"Maybe a little on the Derby, nothing big. I told you. I'm a bust-out gambler. And I won't go to Las Vegas even. You don't send an alcoholic to a liquor store. . ."

On Ill-Fated Cruise

Woman Tells Ordeal

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (U) — "He kept asking for water."

He became delirious after about three days. Then he was gone."

That's the way Mrs. Stuart L. Slade described the death of her husband as they drifted aboard their disabled cruiser.

A small, wiry woman with a deep tan, Mrs. Slade was rescued about 10 days adrift in the leaky cabin cruiser. The last three days were spent beside the body of her husband.

The tanker Perryville rescued Mrs. Slade Saturday. A Coast Guard cutter attempted to take the cruiser in tow, but it sank, with Slade's body. Mrs. Slade reached Jacksonville last night.

SPOTTED CRUISER
The tanker spotted the cruiser. Crystal, about 120 miles northeast of Jacksonville. The Slades had left Miami for the Bahamas, 20 miles from Miami, the engine quit and they drifted northward with the Gulf Stream.

Mrs. Slade said her 48-year-old husband had a leg infection and, as a citizen of Canada, was trying to reach British territory for treatment. His home was Victoria, British Columbia.

"He promised to fix the engine when he felt better, but he never did. We ran out of food and water after three days. Some time during the first day, a storm came up and a seam in the boat parted. The boat started leaking. I bailed water continuously for nine days."

"I kept bailing the water out. First I bailed every five hours, then every three and finally every hour. I don't remember being hungry or thirsty."

POISON SPREAD
Mrs. Slade said the swelling in her husband's leg went down and "I suppose that's when the poison spread through his system. He died in the cabin about three days before they found me."

She flew a large American flag upside down as a distress signal.

"I painted 'help' on top of the cabin, in case a plane should see us. I soaked clothes in oil, tied them to a broomstick and fired them."

Mrs. Slade said her husband retired from the Royal Canadian Navy as a commander about five years ago. They

Thieves Love
Mailed ChecksPost Office Violators
Suffer Quick Arrests

CHICAGO (UPI) — An average of 12 holdups and burglaries occur every month in post offices, and an average of 12 persons are arrested every day for stealing mail from letter boxes, reports Henry B. Montague, chief postal inspector.

His staff initiated 90,248 criminal investigations during the past fiscal year. As a result, postal inspectors arrested 4,988 persons for thefts of mail, 1,513 for possession of stolen checks and other goods, 538 for post office burglaries and 32 for post office holdups.

Theft of checks is a particularly serious problem for businessmen. "Such thefts have become a lucrative business because of the tremendous number of checks in the mail," says Montague.

One recent case involved 35 persons, most of them related by blood or marriage, who traveled between Oklahoma and California stealing and cashing checks deposited in mailboxes.

Their most expert penman was a 13-year-old girl whose photographic memory enabled her to take one look at a signature and then reproduce it so accurately that post office experts had difficulty identifying it as a forgery.

Gang members cashed more than 400 stolen checks totaling $10,000 before they were arrested. Agadir and Ouarguaz to rebel.
