

No Card Games in Cars at Straits for '57 Deer Hunters

MACKINAW CITY (P) — No more hamburgers selling like hot cakes at $1 each at 4 o'clock in the morning.

The Indians won't be threading their way along the line of stalled cars peddling salt fish from a basket—the ideal snack with a cold beer.

There won't be any visiting with the cars stopped ahead and those behind and discovering a hunting buddy from another season.

No more card games in stalled cars . . . or singing around fires built along the road . . . or comparing notes on how many hours you had to wait for the ferry . . .

Modern progress and the Straits and Mackinac Bridge have made those 20-hour waits and 15-mile lines of cars just a memory for the hunters heading for the Upper Peninsula and the opening of the deer season.

There was no jam-up of hunters as of late yesterday. Cars were whipping across the Straits Bridge like commuters on a superhighway.

Only four of the six toll gates and two of the four lanes were needed yesterday to handle the one-way stream of hunter traffic. The main crush was expected today, just before the Friday opener. Five toll gates and three lanes will be used if necessary.

Spokesmen for the Bridge Authority said that 7,986 cars passed over the span between the hours of 6 p.m. Tuesday and 10 p.m. yesterday, about double the amount that usually pass over during these hours.

But with the miracle bridge able to handle better than 1,000 cars an hour—its full capacity has yet to be tested—Prentiss M. Brown, Chairman of the Bridge Authority, expressed confidence there would be no waiting.

Since 1923, when the State Highway Department first took over the Straits ferries, the long wait to get aboard has been a traditional part of the opening of the hunting season.

In most recent years, the slow-moving lines have extended back 15 miles to Cheboygan on U.S. 23 and some 10 or 12 miles, past Carp Lake, on U.S. 31.

PART OF THE FUN
"It was part of the fun of going, part of the roughing it," explained a veteran sportsman in a reminiscent mood.

"Once we hit the line, we'd have one fellow drive and the rest of us would just sit and play cards. Looking back, it was the best part of the trip."

The good people of Northern Michigan with an instinct for a fast buck swarmed in once the hunter cars lined up.

Everything imaginable was peddled up and down the mile after mile of waiting hunters.

Food was the best selling item—hamburgers, sandwiches, hot chili, coffee and soup.

"I'll always remember the 'Quick Fire Lady' recalled one hunter. "She'd sell these little packets containing charcoal and sticks so the fellows could light fires along the side of the road to warm themselves. You could look out and see the fires flickering for miles ahead."

Many a hunter can tell a story of getting out to visit when the line was stopped, missing his party when it started and winding up with new and congenial friends.

Murphy Cutler, photographer with the State Highway Department, worked out of Mackinaw City for a number of years during the hunter crushes.

REGULAR PARTY ABOARD
I remember one year after the war," he said, "when a party of four fellows had a huge army truck designed to carry troops fitted out with a bar and a kitchen.

"They kept picking up people as they went along and there were 19 of them in there enjoying a rip-roaring party when they finally got aboard the ferry. I don't know if any of them ever got to their original parties."

Cutler also recalled seeing left-behind hunters running until they dropped trying to catch up with their parties after the line had started.

A merchant in Cheboygan had happy memories of what he termed "the big line" of 1932.

"They were stopped dead all the way through the city and into the outskirts," he said. "Business was terrific. The bars were jumping with hunters and nearly every place along the route sold out of beer and bottled goods."

Gas stations along the highways came up with a neat contrivance to meet the situation—100 foot extensions to the hoses that could "fill her up" for the cars without forcing them to swing out and lose that precious place in line.

Those were the bad old days before the bridge. But some will still recall them as the 'Good Old Days.'

Ike Calls for More Defense Spending

Voices Raised in Praise

GOOD CITIZENS — Girl Scouts Judy Bos, 11, of 299 W. Iroquois Rd.; and Mary Jane Doerr, 11, of 174 Ottawa Dr., raise their voices in a hymn during services at the First Presbyterian Church.

Faith in God and in her fellow man is strengthened for each Girl Scout as she is accepted and appreciated in this United Fund-supported youth organization.

Pontiac Central, Northern Names of 2 City Highs

Pontiac Senior High School has a new name. As of last night it is Pontiac Central High School.

The action was taken by the Board of Education in naming the new high school Pontiac Central.

Board Member Monroe Osmun ended a two-month discussion on naming the new school when he moved that Northern be the name. He was quickly seconded by Dr. Walter Godsell and it passed unanimously.

The board also officially adopted boundaries for both schools as proposed at a previous meeting and announced in the Pontiac Press.

The boundaries, from west to east follow the following streets: Kennett, Grand Trunk Railroad, Rundell, Paddock, Mt. Clemens and Featherstone.

It is estimated that about 1,000 students will attend Pontiac Northern when it opens next fall, while 2,100 will remain at or enter Pontiac Central.

Willis M. Brewer of Pontiac may be offered a newly created county post to expedite future Oakland County expressways.

The post would be as "road coordinator" with the Oakland County Road Commission, a position which could be combined with the job of commission personnel director, said Sol D. Lomerson, commission chairman.

Brewer, a top Pontiac Democrat and member of the executive board of the Oakland County Democratic Committee, would spend part of his time in Lansing with the State Highway Department.

"The task there would be to coordinate and expedite State Highway Department plans with those of Oakland County," said Lomerson.

The road coordinator also would be asked to unify the various highway needs and desires of Oakland County's many communities into a coordinated, workable plan, Lomerson said.

"We all know that right now there are factions in various places in the county which have highway proposals that conflict with one another," he said.

AT $8,500 SALARY
The combined posts would pay about $8,500 a year together. The new job of coordinator could be created independently of the board of supervisors, Lomerson said.

Brewer today said he was "interested in the job, but undecided whether to accept it or not, if it is offered to me."

Lomerson said that the job of personnel director has been vacant for about a year. "We didn't want to fill it with a full-time man, nor do we think that the post of coordinator by itself needs a full-time man."

Brewer, who Lomerson said is the only candidate under consideration at present, has been a Pontiac supervisor 14 years and heads the supervisors' salaries committee.

He might be asked to resign as supervisor if he accepts the road commission post.

Brewer manages the secretary of state's Pontiac office and is chairman of the Board of Trustees of Pontiac General Hospital.

Massive Cave-In Perils Homes in North Seattle

Street Collapse Causes Crater 200 Feet Wide, 60 Feet Deep

SEATTLE, Wash. (P) — A gaping hole in a North End boulevard widened rapidly for a time early today and police ordered 60 persons to be ready to evacuate their homes at a moment's notice.

The huge hole, caused by a sewer break Monday, was more than 60 feet deep. Its edge crumbled away at the rate of about a foot a minute for a brief period prior to 1 a.m. so that the hole's top measured approximately 200 by 100 feet.

When the rapid crumbling ceased, the lip of the huge crater was only nine feet away from the foundation of the nearest home, one of nine threatened.

Also in jeopardy was a five-unit apartment house.

The hole developed in a neighborhood of homes in the $15,000 to $20,000 class a few blocks north of the University of Washington campus.

Water, backed up in sewers, was threatening other streets.

MAY CLOSE ROAD
Police said they were considering closing off Roosevelt Way, a main north-south arterial, because there were indications the ground beneath that street also was giving way.

The cave-in was caused by the breaking of a six-foot storm sewer 145 feet below the surface.

City officials said the storm sewer could have broken years ago, with the underground hole gradually growing until the great mass above collapsed.

At first believed to be localized, the cave-in soon proved to have widespread effects.

A junior high school 10 blocks away was closed when water started backing up in its basement, reaching a depth of four feet.

The UAW, always bemoaning the lack of supplemental unemployment benefits (inaccurately called the guaranteed annual wage) and now is trying to blaze the trail for a four-day week.

SMALL FIRMS PAY
These things cost employers money, lots of it. And where the auto Goliath, bowing to union pressure, calls the tune, small industry within its shadow likewise must pay the piper.

The Daily Manufacturing Co., and employer of 700 in making air filters, recently announced plans to move from Plymouth to Rogers, Ark., in the Ozark Mountains.

Cass Hough, executive vice president, said the firm expected at the new location to pay wages about $1 an hour less than its present average of $2.24, including fringe benefits.

"Small industry in Southeast Michigan doesn't have a chance," said Hough, a close associate of the late Republican Gov. Kim Sigler. "We're forced to pay what the giants of industry are made to pay by the UAW."

House Speaker G. M. Van Pelt, a Republican, said the Daisy firm's situation typifies that of thousands of small manufacturers, which he said, unlike the big auto makers, face life and death competition from rivals elsewhere.

Gov. Williams says that Daisy, which has an independent union, is attempting to avoid paying union wages. And he called the decision to move "cruel and ruthless."

Mr. Hough's frank admission that he is moving to Arkansas to cut wages reveals the real target of the current campaign against Michigan, the governor said. "The target is not taxes, but wages."

Nation Hears Warning

FORETELLS BOOST — President Eisenhower warned the nation in a television-radio speech last night that a "very considerable" hike in U. S. defense spending is coming, to meet the cost of space age weapons. The President declared that Congress will have to make cuts in nonessential national programs, adding that some of these programs may have to be eliminated entirely. The President spoke from Oklahoma City.

Hits County Neglect of the Mentally Ill

Dr. L. Jerome Fink, a Pontiac psychiatrist, remained firm today in his belief that Oakland County should provide emergency hospital facilities for the mentally ill.

Dr. Fink, as chairman of the Oakland County Medical Society's Committee for Mental Health, has been one of the leaders in a movement for such facilities.

The movement received a setback yesterday when space which has become available at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium was recommended for use by the Oakland County Children's Home.

Fink had urged last week that the space be used for an emergency hospital at which the mentally ill could receive care while waiting for commitment to an institution.

The Board of Supervisors' Welfare Committee heard Fink's plea but did not act on it. Committee chairman Hope F. Lewis, of Birmingham, said she thought the

Budget Balance to Be Sacrificed in Missile Race

President Notes That Congress Must Trim Nonessential Costs

OKLAHOMA CITY (P) — President Eisenhower last night warned the cost of space age weapons means a "very considerable" boost in defense spending is coming.

He said Congress will have to face the tough task of cutting nonessential national programs.

He said Americans won't tolerate sacrificing security to the worship of a balanced budget.

This impending boost will mean sharp cuts in some nonmilitary spending programs in next year's budget to offset a part of the hike, he said.

Some of these programs may have to be eliminated entirely, the President declared. He departed from his prepared text to add: "And pressure groups will wail in anguish."

In a nationwide television-radio address, the President also called for a stepped-up educational program of training scientists to meet the Russian threat.

He suggested the program include such incentives as fellowship grants to provide more science teachers. But he did not go into detail on his suggestion.

He also called for greater concentration on basic research, saying (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

You'll Be Needing Raincoats Tonight

Better take your raincoat along tonight! The weatherman predicts rain or drizzle for the Pontiac area tonight. The low will be a mild 45-49 degrees.

Tomorrow is expected to be partly cloudy. Temperatures will reach unseasonably warm 52-56.

A warm 50 was the lowest recorded temperature preceding 3 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. At 1 p.m., the mercury stood at 55.

Girl Scout Work Grows

The character building, useful training and recreational opportunities offered Pontiac area girls by the Girl Scouts grow constantly.

Mrs. Evelyn Copeland, executive director of the North Oakland County Girl Scout Council, pointed out today that 75 per cent of the council's funds are derived from the Pontiac Area United Fund, which is now conducting its annual campaign.

GUIDED BY ADULTS

The Girl Scout Council now has 5,111 girls enrolled, plus 1,701 adults who guide them.

Divided into three groups, Brownies, 7-10; Intermediate, 10-14; and Seniors, 14-17, the Girl Scouts participate in more than a dozen different activities.

Included are: Homemaking, outdoor sports and games; agriculture; international friendship; inter-troop activities; art; music, and dramatics.

In addition, the Girl Scouts Council maintains Camp Sherwood on Davis Lake, near Lapeer, which serves 96 girls a session in four summer sessions.

Girl Scouts also go camping in troops at state parks, while many girls attend day camps during the summer in their own neighborhoods. There were 12 such day camps this past summer, attended by 1,200 to 1,500 girls.

"Perhaps our most important contribution," Mrs. Copeland said, "is the encouragement and opportunity the girls get to grow in understanding and appreciation of their own cultural and religious heritage and those of others around the world."

"With the support of the public through the United Fund, we are able to train thousands of girls in citizenship, democracy and brotherly love."

Drivers Aren't Pleased With Bag

2 Bucks Already Killed

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Michigan's deer hunting season hasn't started yet but two Macomb County men already have killed bucks—with their cars. They probably aren't too happy about it.

Donald Coppola of Warren was driving 27 miles southwest of Newberry in the Upper Peninsula when he struck and killed an eight-point buck. Damage to the front of his station wagon was estimated at $200.

Thomas Craig killed a deer with his car in Macomb County when the animal leaped from roadside brush. His auto was damaged and he suffered facial cuts. Conservation officers confiscated both carcasses.

Independence Man

Killed in Kentucky.

An Independence Township man was killed yesterday in an auto accident near Bowling Green, Ky.

Robert W. Heizer, 28, of 4731 Independence Dr. died from injuries sustained when a truck reportedly jackknifed on the road and struck the car in which he was a passenger.

Heizer was on his way back to Michigan from a business trip in Kentucky. He was employed as a technical specialist at Chrysler Corp.'s missile plant in Detroit.

May Convert TB Facilities

Oakland Eyes Use of Hospital Wing as Annex to Children's Home

A recommendation that a wing of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium be made into a children's home annex was adopted yesterday by the Juvenile Affairs Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The 100-bed annex is not needed to accommodate TB patients and is available for other county uses, its board of trustees said.

The annex is also under consideration by the Welfare Committee of the Board of Supervisors as a temporary hospital for emergency mental cases. But the Welfare Committee has not as yet recommended its use for that purpose.

Meeting with Probate Judge Arthur C. Moore, the Juvenile Affairs Committee agreed the annex would offer a temporary solution to overcrowding at the Children's Home.

Its recommendation was sent to the Ways and Means Committee which must give approval for it to go before the December meeting of the supervisors. Approval is also needed from the State Department of Health.

The committee estimated the annex could be converted to house 75 children at a cost of $32,000. It would require $166,440 a year to run, including staff personnel. This averages $6 a day per child.

ISOLATION NECESSARY

Judge Moore said the annex would have to be isolated from the sanatorium by a permanent fence and would need a separate kitchen.

The committee learned that junior and senior high school children would be sent to the annex, with the present Children's Home being reserved for those youngsters awaiting court action or receiving clinic treatment.

The county also maintains a home at 52 Franklin Blvd. and several cottages for neglected and dependent children.

Judge Moore said the home will soon reach a peak of 195 children, while its total facilities today can accommodate only 120.

Does either of the Russian satellites touch the layer of air that surrounds the earth in its orbit? Might they effect our weather if they do?

No, neither dips into the ocean of air surrounding the earth in its orbit, but the first satellite launched by the Reds comes very close. And experts think it is moving closer and will soon (perhaps by the time you read this) begin to skim into the earth's layer of air.

That layer of air extends outward for perhaps more than 200 miles. Sputnik I has been orbiting on an in- and out-course which has brought it within a few miles of the air layer of the earth. The most distant point of the orbit has been something over 500 miles, the nearest something over 200 miles.

Since all weather occurs within about eight to 10 miles of the earth's surface, neither of the satellites will have any effect on our weather, even when they descend through the lower altitudes. By then they will probably be burnt up by friction caused by the heavier air. Even if they are not, they will not affect our weather.

Legislator Says Williams Letting Daisy Co. Move

LANSING - A Republican legislator has rapped Gov. Williams for failure to do more to save the Daisy Manufacturing Co. for Plymouth, his home town.

Rep. Sterling Eaton (R-Plymouth) said, "You would think he would have used his high office to allay Daisy's apprehension about his tax policies and to assist its employees in solving their mutual problems."

"Instead of taking such positive action, the governor contented himself with the defeatist expedient of simply castigating business in general."

"His course may have been calculated to please some of his political allies, but it did nothing to save the jobs of 700 Daisy employees," Eaton said.

Daisy announced plans last week to move to Arkansas.

The governor was out of the state, and his office had no immediate comment.

Hits County Neglect of the Mentally Ill

In the face of these two reverses, Fink today maintained that "Oakland County has failed to assume its obligation to provide some sort of bed facilities for the mentally ill."

"COUNTY'S RESPONSIBILITY" He said that the obligation is not the state's but the county's:

"Oakland County is the second largest in the state, and yet it is the only one in this area that has no hospital, or hospital arrangements, for emergency mental cases."

In other counties, he said, emergency cases can be taken to hospitals, but in Oakland County emergency cases must either stay at home or be taken to Oakland County Jail.

"Very infrequently, room for emergency cases can be found at Pontiac State Hospital or at private or public hospitals. But usually, emergency patients, who often have dangerous tendencies against themselves or others, have no place to go during the long period it takes to get them committed."

More than 1,000 persons from Oakland County are being committed every year to Pontiac State Hospital, he said.

"But the waiting list to get into the hospital is so long that sometimes it takes months or years."

"I'm going to continue my campaign, definitely, until some sort of county facility is provided. The present situation is scandalous, I think."

Tells Deer Hunters to Care for Hearts

DETROIT (INS) - The Michigan Heart Association, warning that more than deer will be in danger during the coming hunting season, has these tips for hunters:

-See your family doctor and have a complete physical examination before going hunting if you have any doubts about your heart.

-Get proper rest before hunting; don't depend on naps in the car while on the way.

-Rest often; exhaustion is bad for the body in general and the heart in particular.

-Don't use stimulants to give you strength; getting tired is nature's way of warning it's time to take a rest.

-Eat and drink moderately.

-Know when to give up. A deer isn't worth losing your health.

Resume Barmore Trial on Slaying of Boy, 12

MUSKEGON (AP) - The murder trial of Herman Barmore, 44, resumed today with the prosecution calling several more police officers to the witness stand.

Barmore, an ex-convict, is charged with second-degree murder in the fatal shooting of 12-year-old Peter Gorham near Camp Wabamungo in July, 1955.

President Explains High Defense Costs

Making the second of a series of "chins up" talks designed to bolster United States confidence in free world defense capabilities, Eisenhower said Russia's challenge is being met and will continue to be met.

He cautioned that the Soviet Union's recent achievements in development of weapons of the future mean "there is danger ahead for free men everywhere."

The President, addressing an overflow audience in the 6,000-seat Municipal Auditorium, recalled that Nazi dictator Hitler once boasted he would bury the free world.

"Not enough people took him at his word," Eisenhower said in likening the situation then to the Russian threat today.

"We shall not make that mistake again," he declared.

TAX CUT UNLIKELY Eisenhower's assertion that defense spending on missiles and other weapons of the future must be hiked by "a very considerable figure" quite likely killed any remaining hope for a tax cut next year.

The President's talk here climaxed Oklahoma's 50th anniversary, "arrows to atoms" celebration of its statehood. He headed back to Washington by plane immediately after the speech.

In his address, the President indicated some areas in which increased spending loomed:

1. The stepped-up dispersal of Strategic Air Command bases.

2. Improvements of the warning system for any possible enemy attack.

3. Development of an active missile defense against missiles.

4. Additional money where needed in the development of long-range missiles.

5. A pay raise for military personnel.

Of the U. S. satellite and missile program, he said: "We intend to carry forward our programs in a way that will do credit to our scientific tradition and insure our security over the years ahead. This, again, will involve substantial costs."

"Now, all these new costs, which in the aggregate will reach a very considerable figure, must be added to our current annual expenditures for security. There is no immediate prospect for any marked reduction in these recurring costs."

Eisenhower did not estimate how much defense spending will have to be increased after paring the budget wherever possible on nonmilitary categories. But he did say: "By whatever amount savings fail to equal the additional cost to our current annual expenditures will go up."

"Our people will rightly demand it. They will not sacrifice security worshipping a balanced budget."

"But we do not forget, either, that over the long term a balanced budget is one indispensable aid in keeping our economy, and therefore our total security, strong."

3 Flint Children Die in Flames; 8 Escape

FLINT - Three small children lost their lives last night when a flash fire swept through a two-story frame house here.

The victims were Rodney William Harvey, 2, and two cousins: Gloria Bernice, 8, and Patricia Ann Harvey, 9.

Six other children and their mothers escaped from the flames unharmed.

The blaze was believed to have started on the house's second floor while the children's fathers were at work.

The children's mothers - Mrs. Leesella Harvey, 20, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mildred Harvey, 28 - told firemen they were able to carry the six surviving children to safety but could not reach the others.

The children's mothers - Mrs. Leesella Harvey, 20, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mildred Harvey, 28 - told firemen they were able to carry the six surviving children to safety but could not reach the others.

Also on the stand was Lt. Lester Coykendall, state police firearms expert, who testified that the .22 caliber rifle alleged to have been the murder weapon could not have been fired accidentally as alleged in one of Barmore's statements.

Senate Probers Call 'Professor'

To Quiz Anastasia Pal; Squillantes to Testify on Garbage Contract Bids

WASHINGTON (INS) - A mysterious "professor," identified as the "watch dog" of slain underworld lord Albert Anastasia, was summoned today in the Senate probe of crime in New York's garbage collection industry.

Investigators, beaten by an assassin's bullet last month to Anastasia himself, hoped to pry more deeply into the garbage scandal with the aid of "Professor" C. Don Modica, close friend of Anastasia and tutor to Albert Anastasia Jr. and children of other gangland figures.

Stated as a second prize witness at today's session was Nunzio Squillante, identified as boss of the "whip" company that beat down garbage collectors who refused to bow to the "bid rigging" of his brother, Vincent J. Squillante.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said the committee planned to quiz Nunzio Squillante on alleged collusion between his firm, the General Sanitation Company, and hoodlum-dominated Teamsters Local 813.

Kennedy explained that the committee is especially interested in the activities of General Sanitation Company along Manhattan's plush "Miracle Mile" shopping center.

The young committee counsel told newsmen Modica has prepared a "thesis on legislation to deal with labor racketeers" which he will carry with him to the committee room when the hearing begins at 2 p.m.

Kennedy said the committee also would quiz three previously missing witnesses: James Rosetti, president of the Greater New York Cartmen's Assn.; Anne Daria, secretary of the association; and Genaro (Gerry) Mancuso, former executive director of the Intercounty Cartmen's Assn.

TESTIMONY CONFLICTING Yesterday's hearing reached a fever pitch as one Long Island garbage collector called another a "liar" during conflicting testimony over Vincent Squillante's attempts to rig bids at Michael Air Force Base.

Angelo Recchia of New Hyde Park hurled the accusation at Carmen de Caba of the same area.

Recchia said he purposely overbid de Caba on a government garbage hauling contract at Mitchell Field under instructions from Vincent Squillante.

In bidding on the Santini Housing Project contract, also at Mitchell Field, Recchia said, he got confused and underbid de Caba, thereby getting the contract.

To make peace with Squillante and de Caba, the witness explained, he let de Caba take over the job on a subcontract.

Recchia said he had to do this or "have my head chopped off my shoulders."

Dragging Lake St. Clair for 2 Missing Hunters

DETROIT (AP) - Dragging operations were to begin again in fog-shrouded Lake St. Clair today in the search for two suburban St. Clair Shores duck hunters who apparently drowned yesterday.

The search was called off late yesterday when dense fog rolled in over the lake.

The missing men are Kenneth A. McGowan, 41, 19821 S. Hardy Lane, and Howard Frazier 25530 Santa Rosa.

Two persons reported hearing calls for help coming from the lake yesterday. A police launch investigated. An overturned boat and several duck decoys were found.

Safe Driving Day Set

LANSING (AP) - Gov. Williams has proclaimed Nov. 17 as traffic safety Sunday in Michigan, saying "This is a time when we all need to feel more acutely our personal and moral responsibility when we drive."

The Day in Birmingham

Teenage Court Sentences 5 to Write on Safety

BIRMINGHAM - The November session of the Birmingham Teenage Court saw one of the six offenders draw a 15-day suspension of his drivers license. The other five violators are required to write 500 to 750 word themes on traffic safety.

The Court was holding its second session. Judge, court officers and 20 jurors are chosen from seniors at the high school.

They work under the adult supervision of Detective Sgt. Robert Schaule, and a member of the civic staff at the high school.

Three youths stood mute yesterday on an arraignment of larceny from a building, according to Bloomfield Township police.

They said that the trio was arrested Saturday night, at a gas station at 1415 South Telegraph Rd.

Lawrence Marsino, 18, of 370 East Tennyson St., Pontiac and Michael Iwendurgh, 18, of 42 Allen St., Pontiac were charged with larceny from a building, while their companion, Ray Olmstead, 18, 1111 Airport Rd., Pontiac, received an added charge of felonious assault with a knife.

Norman Farber of Mt. Clemens, station attendant, was cut on the wrist when attacked by Olmstead. He said the three brought their car in for repairs shortly after midnight.

While he was working on it he noticed two of the boys removing items from the shelves. Olmstead's attack came when Farber reprimanded them.

Edwin F. Kibbert, executive secretary of the Birmingham Y, will attend the seminar on "Why Administrative Practices," at MSU, Nov. 15-20.

Birmingham chapter OES 220 has completed final plans for the annual bazaar and turkey dinner to be held Saturday at the Masonic Temple.

Added feature will be a booth of items for children, including stuffed toys and doll clothes. Another new attraction will be the snack bar, which will operate from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The dinner will be served from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Reservations may be made through any chapter office. Mrs. Charles Martz is general chairman. Blanche Brooks is dinner-ticket chairman with Mrs. Wallace Matthews in charge of the dinner.

Service for Allie E. Cook, 79, of 283 Townsend, will be at 1 p.m. Saturday from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home. Burial will be in Roseland Park Cemetery.

Mr. Cook died this morning at Grove Crest Manor Convalescent Home, Pontiac, after a long illness.

Born in Southfield Township, he married Mabel Louise Shea in June, 1900 in Detroit. He had attended Birmingham schools. Formerly a carpenter, Mr. Cook

Chemistry Set Starts Career

14-Year-Old Noel Hurd Scores Early Credit in Electro-Physics

ALAMOSA, Colo. (INS) — A child's chemistry set purchased at the age of seven has become the means to a career and fame for Noel Hurd.

Now 14 years old, Noel already has two successes in the complex field of electro-physics to his credit and has attended college classes in chemistry, physics, and other sciences at Adams State College in Alamosa, Colo.

His most important discovery concerns the effect of electricity on certain molecular behaviorisms. A machine developed by the young scientist measuring these effects is being perfected in secret. It will be useful in commercial and research work.

Young Hurd sold Christmas cards to buy his first chemistry outfit. Since then, he has launched far into a new career with the aid of professors at Adams State.

He has constructed a 50-cent instrument for measuring optical rotation, the effect certain molecules have on polarized light, which does the same job as a $350 machine in the college laboratory.

Still in high school at Durango, Colo., the youth uses the library at the college for his science reading.

ing and experiments. The college has allowed him to take advanced courses—including tests—which would of given him a degree.

Toy Device Combines 4 Music Instruments

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Cal.—A new electric toy vibraphone is being manufactured by a North Hollywood concern which says its product combines four instruments.

—the vibraphone, marimba, xylophone, and orchestra bells. The device, powered by two batteries, is said to produce music of about the same quality as that of a full-size instrument.

Albany became the capital of New York state in 1797.

TOP DOG — Out of this world, this new "Muttik" chapeau has model Joanne Boyne, of Chicago, "ooing" and "ahing." A tower of sky blue crystals trails in the wake of a representation of Russia's second satellite, with a spotted "muttnik" on high. The price of this creation: a stratospheric $275.85.

British Dog Lovers Decree:

Mink Collars, No Space Suits for Rover

LONDON (NEA) — Nowhere in the world could a dog being fired into space arouse more anger than in England.

For nothing could be more un-British—or more subversive, for that matter—than to interfere with Rover in his pursuit of happiness.

AROUSES ANGER

If Russia had crammed the Derby winner into Sputnik II it wouldn't have aroused as much anger among the 50 million canine lovers of the United Kingdom (pop. 50 million).

One may criticize the Queen for wearing clothes that are "dowdy," or making speeches that are "a pain in the neck," but say one derogatory word against Man's Best Friend and all England will climb down your throat — as the Russian embassy in London has recently discovered.

In no other country in the world can a man be punished more severely for striking a dog than for striking a child. Yet, this is actually the case in a British magistrate court where the maximum fines for the two offenses are $150 and $75 respectively, upon summary conviction.

The supremacy of the dog was stated with classic simplicity by a judge in a recent divorce action in which the husband was accused of abducting his wife's poodle.

"A man may quarrel with his wife, strike her," the judge declared, "but the cur of his wig dancing with emphasis. 'But no reasonable man would steal her dog.' In doing so the husband showed 'an almost abnormal hatred of his wife,' the judge added.

Two other recent court cases, reported in the same issue of The Times, illustrate the danger of judgment being warped by sentimentality.

KICKED PUPPY

In one, a motorist, found guilty of reckless and dangerous driving, was sentenced to four weeks' imprisonment; in the other, an elderly, retired gentleman was given six weeks in prison for kicking a puppy that had annoyed him.

The old gentleman was sunning himself in Hyde Park on a Sunday morning when Sailor, a fox terrier out of its owner's control, came bounding over and proceeded to muddy the man's clothes in attempting to leap into his lap.

Losing his temper, the old gentleman aimed one swift kick at the puppy's posterior.

The situation would seem to call for apologies all around, instead of prison, but the police magistrate thought otherwise. "I find it hard to believe that anyone could be so cruel to a little puppy," the magistrate declared, in passing the six weeks' sentence.

The severity of sentences imposed for cruelty to animals has caused some Britons to wonder if sentimentality isn't being pushed too far. "Is the dog getting the upper-hand?" is the way the question is put in some quarters.

Compared to his status in most countries, Rover in Britain "never had it so good."

He enjoys full legal protection, including special acts of Parliament. For example, he has free access to food-shops, including butcher shops, where he can sniff to his heart's content the strings of sausages and carcasses hanging from the hooks.

Rover is also the center of a network of industries that cater to his needs from quick-frozen foods to dog furniture and beauty aids. Britain spends 130 million dollars a year on cat and dog food alone, a quarter of this going to prepared pet food manufacturers.

He is also a source of government revenue, the Exchequer collecting three million dollars a year in dog license fees.

There are at least 54 British societies concerned with animal welfare. Characteristically, the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals had been in existence for 60 years before a similar organization to protect children was founded in 1884. The Canine Defense League, founded in 1891, is a comparative newcomer.

Dog biscuits are now available in six delicious flavors, including ginger.

Mink-dog collars are now selling like hot-cakes, and are something of a bargain. "Being intended for dogs, and not for humans, they are not subject to purchase tax," reports The Manchester Guardian.

But even in a mink collar, Britain's dog lovers insist, Rover must not become a space cadet.

Austrian Shoemaker Builds Own Plane

LINZ, Austria — It was a big moment for shoemaker A. Wojacek, of Gmunden, Upper Austria, when his plane, the "Jodel Club," took off recently from the airport at Linz.

"Jodel Club" is a do-it-yourself venture and Wojacek is the only shoemaker in Austria who has a plane of his own. At the end of the occupation, Wojacek heard that the Americans would sell a surplus aircraft engine.

He acquired it along with construction designs for a French type plane. Then he joined forces with a friend who loved flying and they collected spare ironmongery and other materials to build a small plane.

In an attic, after more than a year's work, "Jodel Club" was completed—for less than $1,000. A test flight showed that the plane, with 27½ feet wing span, can reach a speed of 100 miles an hour.

Boxer Counted Out

Hannah Record Shows Action

Ended Discrimination on MSU Campus; Calls Prejudice a Disease

EAST LANSING (AP) — Dr. John A. Hannah, vice chairman of President Eisenhower's civil rights study commission, has strong moral convictions and a record of positive action on the subject of racial discrimination.

Hannah, President of Michigan State University, ordered integration of Negro and white students as one of his first acts after his appointment in 1943.

He recalls that at the time Negro students were segregated in undesirable basement rooms in dormitories or had to find housing on their own in Negro districts away from the campus.

The first Negro coeds at MSU, he said, were not even permitted to live in women's dormitories but were boarded at the home of the dean of women.

MERGER PEACEFUL

His integration order caused dismay at the time among top members of his staff and faculty. But their predictions of social strife were forgotten when Negroes and whites merged peacefully into one student body.

A few years ago, when he was assistant secretary of defense for manpower, Hannah led a successful campaign for integration in the nation's military schools.

At Michigan State, Hannah has ordered that all racial designations be stricken from student records.

He has said that Michigan State will not permit its athletic teams to enter any situation which might result in embarrassment for any Negro team members or deprive them of equal rights with white teammates.

Every Spartan football team in the past dozen years or so has had several star Negro players. Hannah's policy has led to the quiet severing of athletic relations with several southern schools where there might be resentment or discrimination.

Michigan State has Negro faculty members. But Hannah has on several occasions resisted pressure to employ a certain quota of Negroes on the faculty.

DOESN'T EXPECT MIRACLES

Hannah declared he was hopeful rather than optimistic about the prospects for success of the President's civil rights commission.

"I don't predict any immediate miracle results," he said. "After all, it has been almost 100 years since the Civil War ended and a great many thoughtful and intelligent people have attempted to solve our racial integration problem."

"Prejudice is like a disease that is passed on from generation to generation," he said. "Unfortunately, we cannot hope to discover a vaccine overnight that will wipe out the disease."

NROTC Offers Chance to Join To Give Competitive Exams in December for Boys 17 to 21

Pontiac High School seniors and graduates interested in seeing the world via the U. S. Navy will have the opportunity to participate in the 12th annual national competitive examinations for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps.

Applications for the test to be given December 14 must be returned by Saturday according to Vice Admiral James A. Holloway Jr., Chief of Naval Personnel.

The NROTC program is designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy. A young man may earn a commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has a NROTC unit.

All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy and each student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. During the summers, students board ship on training cruises as midshipmen. After college, they are commissioned in the regular Navy or Marine Corps for active duty.

Those applying and qualifying may be assigned to flight training and naval aviation work.

Those boys, 17 to 21 years of age who are high school seniors and graduates may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those qualifying will be given rigid physical exams early in 1958. Approximately 2,000 men will be selected to begin naval careers next September from all applicants.

The college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty with the Navy and Marines. Separate quotas are established for these applicants.

Application forms are available at all high schools, colleges and Navy Recruiting Stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington 25, D.C.

Clock Thermostat Made

MINNEAPOLIS — A new household thermostat that can be set like an alarm clock to turn on the heating system to warm up the house by "get-up time" has been developed by a Minneapolis company.

EYE SEE YOU — Modern art is probably the best way to describe this eye-catching topper. It is being modeled by Mrs. J. Harris Ward during an exhibition of the works of Pablo Picasso in Chicago.

Pluto Averts Mixups

DAYTON, Ohio — Walt Disney's family of Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, Pluto, etc. is helping Englewood school children to avert school bus mixups.

Each bus at the Montgomery County school has a different Disney character pasted on the door. Each pupil riding a bus has a corresponding picture, so by putting two Plutos together everybody gets on the right bus.

Macomb Chapter to Learn of Services Red Cross Plans Dinner

ROMEO — The Macomb County Red Cross chapter has scheduled its Fall Quarterly board of directors' dinner meeting for 7 p.m. Monday, in the First Congregational Church here, according to Reyer VanZanen, chapter chairman.

All interested persons are invited to attend the dinner meeting at the church which is located on Main street in Romeo. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. E. E. Anderson, PL 2-3709, or the Rev. Vos, PL 2-3953.

"The policy of our chapter is to schedule the board meetings in various locations throughout the county rather than centralize the board activity in any one locale," VanZanen said.

Schools Give $2,120 to Walled Lake UF

WALLED LAKE — Students and employees of the Walled Lake schools contributed 196 per cent of their quota in the United Foundation drive just concluded. The total amount subscribed in all buildings was $2,120.96.

The building totals include contributions from principals, teachers, students, cafeteria and custodial staff. The administration total came from those not assigned to any particular building.

By buildings, the amounts collected were: junior high, $633.52; senior high, $466.11; Walled Lake elementary, $242.26; Union Lake, $190.10; Commerce, $114.40; Decker, $113.78; Twin Beach, $110.42; Gienary, $86.71; Wixom, $51.66; and administration, $132.00.

A major export of frozen-food products from Sweden are strawberries, cod and Baltic herring to U.S. Army troops in Western Germany.

Public Hearing in White Lake

Presbyterian Church Invites People to Learn Inner Workings

During the week of Nov. 18-22, public hearings will be conducted at the White Lake Presbyterian Church concerning its activities. These meetings will be held each evening starting promptly at 7:30 p.m.

E. Eugene Russell, trustee of the church, will moderate at these meetings and will present a discussion concerning the church activities in the community, its organization and responsibilities. While his discussions will center on the Presbyterian Church, all persons interested in Christian responsibilities and endeavors should find much personal value in his presentation.

"These discussions are being presented during a month when the Christian world again is accentuating the continued need for stewardship under the mandates of God," said the Rev. Robert E. von Oeyen, pastor.

The ruling elders of the church and the pastor have especially invited public attendance. Nursery facilities will be provided in the Sunday School building for children under the age of 12.

MONA WHEATON

Mrs. Oliver Gould of 225 Rawles St., Romeo, announces the forthcoming marriage of her daughter, Mona Wheaton, to William Kreisch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kreisch of Almont. The couple is planning a spring wedding.

Added Feature of Education Week

Green School PTA to Hear About Reading Program

WEST BLOOMFIELD — As an added feature of National Education Week, a demonstration, "The How of the Reading Program at Green School," will be presented when Green School PTA meets tonight.

Mrs. Flora White, second grade teacher, will direct the program and will be assisted by several second grade pupils.

Starting at 7:30 p.m., a brief business meeting will precede the program. The serving of refreshments will round out the evening.

Four Towns
The Four Towns School PTA is meeting tonight at the school, from 7:30 to 8.

Parents may meet with their children's teachers and after the regular business meeting, the

Oxford High School Contracts Awarded

OXFORD — Contracts for the new Oxford High School have been let with savings of about $100,000 over architect's estimates.

General contractor will be Collins and Catlin of Port Huron. Electrical work will be done by Keasey Electrical Co. of Drayton Plains, and the plumbing and heating contract was awarded to the F. J. Temple Co. of Pontiac.

The contracts total about $762,000, according to Schools Superintendent R. A. Ambrose, who said the savings effected will make possible more complete equipment of the building.

County Births

FOUR TOWNS
Mr. and Mrs. David McManus of Marystone Avenue, announce the birth of a baby boy, Jerome Carl.

Halversons Tour Western States

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Traveling through the West are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Theron Halverson, who were united in marriage Nov. 9 in Emmanuel Baptist Church, Pontiac. They will make their home in Hanna, Wyoming.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rexford Taylor, 2365 Maddy Lane, Keego Harbor, Dorothy Ann Taylor spoke her nuptial vows in the presence of 150 guests. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Halverson of Hanna.

Wearing a gown of pure silk and Chantilly lace with lace bodice and sweetheart neckline, its silk-and-lace paneled skirt ending in chapel train, the bride chose a rhinestone-and-pearl tiara to secure her pure silk veil. Her flowers were orchids and stephanotis, and she wore a pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom.

Bridal attendants were Joan and Ruth Slavia, and flower girls were Laurie Ann and Carrie Lynn Brown.

Serving as best man was Edward R. Taylor, student of MSU, while Fred Slavin Jr. of Plymouth and Norman Brown of Pontiac ushered.

The reception was held immediately after the rite, in the church parlors.

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL HALVERSON

Joan Kathryn Blacklaw Speaks Vows

Couple Wed in Home Rite

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Joan Kathryn Blacklaw and Anthony Peter Olivich Jr. spoke their marriage vows Nov. 9.

The Rev. Robert Secrest, pastor of the local Methodist church, officiated at the 6:30 p.m. candle-light double-ring ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, with members of the immediate families present.

Joan, given in marriage by her father, James A. Blacklaw, chose a gown designed of imported Vietnamese lace with fitted bodice, butterfly neckline, short sleeves, and a bouffant nylon tulle and net skirt over white

Ortonville Rotary Anns Sponsor Dance Party

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Dance Party sponsored by the Rotary Anns of Ortonville will be Saturday, in the Brandon High School Gym., at 8 p.m. Mrs. Marvin Featherston is chairman for the affair.

Mrs. Ralph Kushman of Clarkston will be present to instruct children from the sixth grade through the eighth in all phases of ballroom etiquette and dancing. Membership fee is twenty-five cents a person. Parents are invited to attend.

Francis H. Lewis Jr., 3212 Middle Belt Rd., has been named to the Dean's List at Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N.J.

Jumps Season; Bags Deer With Nary a Shot

ROMEO — A local man bagged a deer without a gun yesterday — two days before the opening of hunting season.

He ran into the animal with his car, Thomas Craig, 40, 165 Denby St. said the deer suddenly appeared in front of his auto on 32 Mile road.

Craig's vehicle struck the deer, swerved off the pavement, and into a tree.

Craig was treated for facial lacerations at St. Joseph Hospital, Mt. Clemens, according to State Police of the Romeo Post. The deer was turned over to State Conservation officers.

Grace Episcopal Holds Confirmation Services

LAPEER — Annually, at the service of confirmation in Grace Episcopal Church, Rector's Awards are presented by the Right Rev. Richard S. Enrich, Bishop of Michigan. Bishop Enrich this week presented awards to Sheila Murray, Charles Mew, Stephanie Thayer, and, posthumously, Dorothy deBeaubien.

A class of 32 was confirmed by the Bishop.

SUZANN MIX

The engagement of Suzann Mix to Dewayne R. Edick is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Mix of Tucker road, Holly. The prospective bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ross Edick of Holdridge road, Holly. No date has been set for the wedding.

Salvation Army Serves the Unfortunate.

Aid, Counsel, Rehabilitation Is 3-Fold Goal

On a stormy night six months ago a man, call him Joe, entered the Citadel of the Pontiac Salvation Army at 29 W. Lawrence St. and begged for a night's shelter.

Only 34, the man was completely down and out, a habitual drunk who had bummed his way half way around the country from his home in Arkansas.

Joe got his shelter and a meal too, but in a talk with Capt. Magnus A. Michalsen, commanding officer of the Pontiac Corps, the next morning he said he wanted to re-enter the stream of the living from which his drinking had isolated him.

He told Capt. Michalsen that he had a wife and three young children in Arkansas and other family, but he had lost his job and finally turned to the life of a bum.

The Salvation Army mobilized its forces to aid Joe, just as it has done for 76 years since its founding.

Discovering Joe's strong religious background, he was invited to pray for guidance and strength to begin life anew.

Capt. Michalsen gave him a job driving a truck for the Army's Red Shield store. After a week, it was found Joe needed physical rehabilitation and he was sent to the Detroit Men's Social Service Center where he received medical attention, alcoholism treatment and work therapy.

With his physical and spiritual strength restored, Joe found himself a job in Detroit and wrote to his family in Arkansas. When a sister wired him that his mother was ill, the Salvation Army loaned him money to visit her which he repaid promptly from his wages. He was finally reunited with his family and is a happy man today.

Joe illustrates but a part of the Salvation Army's work for the unfortunate. Supported in its social work by the Pontiac Area United Fund, the Army offers food and lodgings to transients down on their luck, and a counseling and rehabilitation program for those who want to recover.

The Army, as Capt. Michalsen points out, is a blending of the spiritual and material.

"We are a church, complete with a devout and active membership, but we are also a social agency," he said. "It is as an agency that we derive our support."

"We don't force religion on anybody who needs our help," he continued, "but it is available if they want it."

In addition to aiding individuals, the Army does family counseling and supplies food, clothing, medicine and housing to desperate families.

Under its welfare program it gives Christmas baskets to the needy and sends mothers and their

COME UNTO ME — Capt. Magnus A. Michalsen, head of the Pontiac Citadel Corps of the Salvation Army prays with a man in the Army's church at 29 W. Lawrence. Although religion is not forced on anyone seeking help from the Army, Capt. Michalsen says that it is often a great aid in straightening out the ruined lives of the derelicts who come to the Army for help. Funds from the Pontiac Area United Fund make most of the welfare and rehabilitation work possible.

children to a fresh air camp in the summer.

OPERATE REPAIR CENTER

As a separate and self-supporting enterprise, the Army runs its Men's Social Service Center, now nearing completion at 118 W. Lawrence St. Here men repair furniture and clothing donated by householders and sell it through the Red Shield Store. The men have their living quarters and dining facilities in the building.

Transients are given tickets which entitle them to a bed in downtown hotels and to meals at local restaurants.

Through Detroit Salvation Army Corps, medical attention and rehabilitation work is available and in Detroit, too, the Army has a hospital where unwed mothers may have their children.

In 1956, the Pontiac Corps, using money from the UF and from its own congregation, gave 2,986 families assistance in the form of food, clothing, housing and medicine.

It aided 875 transients, distributed 469 Christmas baskets, found jobs for 40 unemployed, located missing persons for 10 families and sent 75 youngsters to camp.

In addition, the Army made 49 visits of comfort to jails and local hospitals, and assisted 28 unwed mothers to plan for their children. And hundreds of families in distress benefited from wise counsel.

"To continue our social and welfare work," Capt. Michalsen said, "we count largely on continued support from the community through the Pontiac Area United Fund. They make our work possible."

Science Seeks Depths of 7 Miles in Ocean

SYDNEY, Australia—With new sounding instruments now available, oceanographers are trying to determine if there really is a place somewhere in the Pacific where the ocean is seven miles deep, Sydney, Australia reports. Scientists believe so but have never proved it. Not long ago they plumbed a six-mile depth in the Pacific known as the Tongan Trench.

They also found an underwater extension of New Caledonia extending toward New Zealand, undersea mountains as high as Everest and a plateau one-third as big as Australia.

All the greatest depths in the world are in the Pacific and every year brings evidence that it is deeper than was thought.

Bootees, Gloves Worn by Oil-Burner Men

FREEPORT, N.Y. — Oil-burner repairmen wearing white gloves and white bootees are becoming a familiar sight to Freeport housewives.

The servicemen put on the bootees and gloves after the housewife opens the door. They explain that they wear them to keep her house clean. The men's boss says his novel idea has paid off in word-of-mouth advertising that has increased his business.

MOCK PIZZAS — Pizzas have moved into the appetizer classification. Made with miniature shredded wheat biscuits, they are tangy bites to serve with your favorite drink. Other toppings include a deviled ham spread and a wine-cheese spread.

Baby Pizzas Have Base of Shredded Wheat Bites

Take one chilly autumn afternoon, one favorite football team, and a few hours of cheering, and what better reason could you have for inviting friends back to your house for an informal supper. Everyone will be discussing that sensational run or maybe it will be a defense play so serve a hot mulled drink and a pick-up snack to warm their bones and their conversation.

Then while everyone is relaxing, you can pop a casserole into the oven to heat. For the rest of the supper, serve a big tossed green salad, some buttered garlic bread, and for dessert a big tray of fruits with a variety of cheeses.

For the drink, we suggest a hot mulled cranberry flip and for a snack, several different spreads served on crisp junior-sized shredded wheat biscuits. Here's a new canape base that stays delightfully crunchy under moist or heated spreads.

Mock Pizzas

1 (6 oz.) can tomato paste
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1/2 teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon salt
24 junior-size shredded wheat biscuits
1/2 pound Monterey cheese, cut in 1/2-inch strips

Mix tomato paste, oregano, onion salt, pepper and salt together. Spread on shredded wheat biscuits. Top each biscuit with a cheese strip. Place on baking sheet and bake for 5 - 8 minutes at 400 degrees or until cheese is melted and slightly browned. Makes 24 canapes.

Zesty Canapes

1 (2-1/2 oz.) can deviled ham
1/2 (4-1/2 oz.) can liver pate
1/2 teaspoon finely chopped onion
2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
24 junior-size shredded wheat biscuits

Mix deviled ham, liver pate, onion, mustard, horseradish and Worcestershire sauce together. Spread on shredded wheat biscuits. Garnish with pimento strips and parsley. Makes 24 canapes.

Cheese Dreams

1/2 pound processed cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons dry red wine
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
32 junior-size shredded wheat biscuits

Grate the cheese. Add the wine and mix with a fork until smooth. Stir in mustard and Worcestershire sauce. Spread on shredded wheat biscuits. Place on baking sheet and bake for 5 to 8 minutes at 400 degrees, or until lightly browned. Sprinkle with paprika. Makes 32 canapes.

Hot Mulled Cranberry Juice

2 cups cranberry juice cocktail
1 cup canned pineapple juice
1 1/2 stick cinnamon
2 whole cloves
2 oranges sliced, cut in half

Mix cranberry juice and pineapple juice together. Add cinnamon stick and cloves. Bring mixture just to boil. Reduce heat and simmer gently for 10 minutes. Remove cinnamon and cloves. Serve hot. Makes four servings.

Q. What is the name of these cuts of meat?
A. Pork Rib Chops.

Q. Where do they come from and how are they identified?
A. They come from the loin section of pork and contain just one muscle. Depending on the thickness, they may or may not contain a rib bone. They are easily identified by the solid eye of loin.

Q. How are they prepared?
A. They are most often cooked by braising, a moist heat method of meat cookery. They are browned on both sides, seasoned, covered tightly and cooked slowly. To cook pork rib chops cut 3/4 to 1 inch thick, it will take approximately 45 minutes to an hour.

Tang of Apricots Scores in Filling

Orange juice and rind give just the right piquancy to the rich filling of double-crust Apricot-Nut Pie.

Apricot-Nut Pie
2 cups sifted enriched flour
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup shortening
3 to 5 tablespoons cold water

Apricot-Nut Filling
3 cups mashed cooked apricots
1/2 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons grated orange rind
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons water
1/2 cup chopped pecans

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out on floured board or pastry cloth and press dough together. Cover or wrap in waxed paper while preparing Apricot-Nut filling.

Combine apricots, orange juice, orange rind, sugar and almond extract in saucepan. Heat. Mix cornstarch and water. Stir into apricot mixture and cook about 10 minutes, stirring constantly. Cool. Add pecans.

Divide pastry into halves. Roll one half to circle 1/2 inch thick and fit into 9-inch pie pan. Roll remaining half of dough for top crust. Turn filling into bottom crust. Arrange top crust over filling. Trim and flute edge. Prick or slash pastry top to allow steam to escape. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Sausage Fruit Patties Really Are Different

Bulk pork sausage becomes a festive standout when made into these Sausage Cornettes. Combine 1 1/2 pounds bulk pork sausage with one 14-ounce can crushed pineapple which has been drained. Shape the meat and pineapple mixture into 8 patties.

Dip patties into 1 beaten egg then roll in 1/4 cup crushed corn flakes. Brown patties in 1 teaspoon melted lard. Cook turning occasionally, until done, about 45 minutes.

Milk Produces Glazes

You won't go amiss if you paint the surface of fruit cake batter with milk just before setting the pans in the oven. According to cooking experts the slight additional moisture of the milk produces a shiny glaze.

Substitute Milk in Cereal

Substitute milk for half of the boiling water called for when preparing oatmeal these cold, wintry mornings. It makes a more nourishing breakfast starter and the cereal cooks in the same length of time.

Barley Must Be Soaked

Put a quarter-cup of pearl barley to soak in the evening. Next morning, cook it in four cups of water until it's tender. Add the cooked barley to a beef and vegetable soup.

Add a few miniature marshmallows

Add a few miniature marshmallows to custard cups before pouring in the custard mixture and baking. Youngsters like this!
