Airliner Carrying 27 Vanishes Over Virginia

City Man Finds Long-Lost 'Sis'

By MAX E. SIMON

A big week is coming up for Edward White, a 48-year-old Pontiac factory worker: He's going to meet his sister.

Not that there's anything unusual in brothers meeting sisters. Except in White's case, he wasn't aware he had a sister until August. He has never seen her.

Next week he will.

Edward White doesn't remember his parents. His earliest memories are of a state adoption home in Coldwater where he was placed in childhood, together with his brother.

At the age of seven, White was taken into the home of a Pinconning couple, Mr. and Mrs. Charles White. It meant separation from his brother, but not for long.

"The Whites came for me in March of 1919," he recalled. "And on Dec. 25th of that same year they brought my brother Raymond home for me as a Christmas present."

His foster parents inquired about other brothers and sisters. They were told there were no others.

The brother died at the age of 14.

Curiosity about his background led White to write the adoption agency in 1932. "I wanted to find something of my background," he explained. The Whites encouraged him. He learned the name of his parents and where he was born.

For the time being, he was satisfied.

He married and moved to Pontiac in 1934.

He knew his parents had lived in Flint.

CHECKED PHONE BOOK

"My wife and I sometimes went to Flint and I'd look in the phone book hoping to find the name," White said. "I never found it."

Sometimes he thought of looking for other blood relatives "but something held me back," he said. "I had my parents—Mr. and Mrs. White—and so much time had passed . . ."

His wife convinced him in August that he'd "never really be happy" until he learned more about his family.

He started the search at the Genesee County Courthouse.

Circuit Court records showed his parents as being

Force Will Not Solve Anything, Nikita Declares

From Our News Wires

MOSCOW — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev told the closing session of the Supreme Soviet today that he and President Eisenhower are agreed that "problems facing the world can only be solved through negotiations, and not by force."

He said they both favored an early summit meeting.

Khrushchev said Russia "greatly regretted" the border incidents between Red China and India, and WASHINGTON (AP) — The Western Big Four will announce tomorrow their plans for a presummit meeting. The conference reportedly will be held in Paris, starting about Dec. 19.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said today an announcement of details regarding the conference will be made tomorrow at noon, EST.

At the meeting, Eisenhower and the three Western European leaders will attempt to coordinate their positions in advance of any East-West summit conference with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

"would be glad if such incidents were not repeated and any controversial frontiers problems were settled peacefully."

It was Khrushchev's first major foreign policy speech since his return from visits to the United States and Peiping, and its conciliatory nature obviously was designed to prevent upsetting negotiations leading the way to the summit.

Major points in Khrushchev's speech were:

1. Disarmament is the most important problem of the present day and its settlement depends whether there will be war or peace.

2. The Soviet Union supports Red China's determination to take Formosa "until the question is solved."

3. "We regret the incidents on the Indian-Chinese frontier, especially where they involved casualties and we hope they will not be repeated. We hope the difficulties will be solved by negotiations."

4. His visit to the United States convinced him the majority of Americans do not want war and he feels they now understand better the Soviet desire for peace.

6. He called for withdrawal of foreign troops from South Korea to speed unification of the country.

7. He declared the Soviet Union desired that not even the "minutest hotbed of war" should remain in Laos and said foreign countries ought not to interfere because of possible "undesirable results."

From 10 a.m. yesterday until the same time today .56 of an inch of rain fell in downtown Pontiac. Morning winds southerly at five miles an hour will be variable at five to 10 miles tonight.

1,500 a Day File for Jobless Pay

Rate at Pontiac Office Is Highest Since Last Year's Recession

Laid off factory workers are filing initial applications for unemployment compensation at a rate of 1,500 a day, said Paul Kimball, district manager.

This rate is the highest since last year's recession, he said.

Long lines are forming every day outside the office, 242 Oakland Ave., as state workers process the flood of claims.

More than 11,000 automotive workers were laid off in Pontiac in the past eight days. Yesterday 1,000 were idled at GMC Truck & Coach Division. Wednesday, 2,400 were laid off at Fisher Body Division and 5,800 at Pontiac Motor Division. Another 2,000 were idled at Pontiac Motor last Friday.

A shortage of materials, caused by the steel strike, was blamed in each layoff.

Kimball expects his office will be extra-busy until at least three or four weeks after the steel strike is settled.

General Motors Corp. has indicated it will take that much time to get full production under way again.

Most idle workers are also eligible for supplemental unemployment benefits. To be eligible for these, they must first be eligible for unemployment compensation.

AMOUNT VARIES

Unemployment compensation pays off at rates which vary according to the number of dependents a claimant has, and his average weekly wage.

Governor Greets Senator

Soapy Threatens 2,500 Layoffs

Drastic Service Cuts Also Promised If Tax Slashes Stand

From Our News Wires

LANSING — Michigan faces discharge of more than 2,500 state workers and drastic cuts in services if Republicans stick to a caucus-approved revenue plan, Gov. G. Mennen Williams warned today.

A 10-month deadlock was broken yesterday when Republicans in both houses agreed to tap the Veterans' Trust Fund for stopgap financing—when a tax program is drafted.

But a new impasse in the fiscal crisis developed at the same time when Republicans said the state needed 70 million dollars in new taxes, not the 110 million demanded by Williams.

The governor said the Republican figuring was "simply preposterous."

Republican leaders said a "growth factor" in the present tax structure, a moritorium on new construction and economy measures would make their program adequate.

Williams said it was "an adequate way to cut the throat of Michigan."

Humphrey Kicks Off 13-State Tour in City

By JOEL RIPPA
City Editor, Pontiac Press

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) kicked off a 13-state political tour in Pontiac last night with a major policy speech on world arms control. But not before taking several pot shots at the Republican administration on a host of other issues.

Speaking at the fifth annual 18th Congressional Democratic fund-raising dinner at the Elks Temple, the hurrying Minnesota Democrat called for a year's extension of the American moratorium on nuclear tests and offered a proposal for breaking the impasse between U.S. and Russia on test ban talks.

Acting every bit like a candidate for the democratic nomination, he nevertheless dodged the question: "Do you want to be president?"

"Every man in politics must look to the future" was his reply at a press conference earlier at the home of Dr. Howard H. McNeill, 225 Hickory Ridge Rd., Bloomfield Township.

Considered one of the leading Democratic presidential aspirants, the liberal senator said he thought Gov. Williams was still among the contenders, too. "After all, he was elected four times," he said.

"Six times," he was quickly corrected by reporters.

'GIVE THEM LICKING'

To Williams who introduced him at the dinner, he said:

"The Republicans in your state are acting toward you like they used to in Washington against Roosevelt and Truman."

"There's only one thing you can do about them," he said. "Every two years give them a licking.

"I'd like to perform an autopsy here on the Republican administration in Washington," he said, "but I'll forego this pleasure."

Foreign policy is the major concern of everybody, said Humphrey. "It's a matter of survival."

He charged that the Republican party is incapable of recognizing the social and economic revolution taking place throughout the world.

That party is not facing up to the challenge of "people, progress and peace," Humphrey told the 650 Oakland County Democrats at the $10-a-plate dinner.

"You can't fight the Communists if you don't understand them," he said.

Humphrey, who serves on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he spent eight hours with Khrushchev when the Soviet leader was in the United States.

Piedmont DC3 Just 5 Minutes From Landing

Steady Drizzle, Fog, Mist Hamper Search in Mountain Foothills

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP)—A twin-engine airliner with 27 persons aboard disappeared Friday night five minutes before it was to make a routine landing at this college town in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

About 100 searchers slogged through muck and underbrush during the night but by midmorning still had not found a trace of the missing Piedmont Airlines DC3. A steady drizzle, fog and mist hampered a planned air search.

The plane, enroute from Washington to Roanoke, Va., checked in with the local airport tower at 8:24 p.m. and received landing instructions. That was the final word. The airliner had fuel to last only until 11 p.m.

Maj. Charles A. Rausch, Civil Air Patrol commander for the central Virginia area, said between 20 and 30 fixed-wing aircraft from as far away as Massachusetts were awaiting for a break in the weather to join the search.

Reports of hearing a low-flying airplane trickled in from throughout a four-county central Virginia area. Rausch said as soon as two reports come from the same location the search would be centered there.

Two helicopters which churned through the mists and rain during the night were sent back to Ft. Eustis, Va., today. Two more helicopters were standing by waiting for clearer weather, and two more were en route here.

A Piedmont DC3 carrying seven airline officials set out at 6:45 a.m. but was forced to return 45 minutes later because of bad flying weather. Cloudy weather and occasional rain was forecast throughout the day.

The airliner, Piedmont Flight 349, had left Washington at 7:30 p.m. When it checked in here it was about 20 miles and five minutes from a landing.

1,500-FOOT CEILING

At that time there was a 1,500-foot ceiling and 10-mile visibility.

Later in the evening, as the search started, a drizzle began.

The terrain around this town, home of the University of Virginia, is rolling countryside. Many farms and estates and dense woods dot the area.

Ike Is Fine Except for Bronchitis

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's doctors today confirmed he has mild chronic bronchitis but said that otherwise he "continues to maintain an excellent state of health."

The physicians issued a medical bulletin shortly after Eisenhower checked out of Walter Reed Army Hospital where he underwent his annual physical checkup.

The 69-year-old President told reporters in Augusta, Ga. last week that he had developed chronic bronchitis during the last three years.

Today's medical bulletin said regarding Eisenhower's head-to-toe examination at Walter Reed:

"The results of these all inclusive studies shows that the President continues to maintain an excellent state of health, with the exception of a persistent mild tracheo-bronchitis."

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters in response to questions that the medical phrase could be translated into chronic bronchitis.

Court Will Hear Steel Union

Delay Back-to-Work Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has agreed to hear the United Steelworkers Union's appeal of a Taft-Hartley law injunction that would send the striking steelworkers back to work for 80 days.

This means the 109-day-old strike will continue at least until next week, when the court makes its decision on whether to let the injunction stand. The court set Tuesday for oral arguments.

The high court's action Friday was a triumph for the union, which is attacking the basic constitutionality of the Taft-Hartley strike-ending procedures.

In Pittsburgh top-level negotiators met again today in what appeared to be another perfunctory effort to settle the 109-day nationwide steel strike. It was the third such meeting in as many days.

The government contends the strike is affecting national health and safety. It fought the union's request for a review, saying the constitutional arguments are "clearly without merit" and "there is no need for further review by this court."

Ford Starting Short Weeks, Due to Steel

GM reported 185,000 of its 320,000 hourly-rated workers are now laid off because of the steel strike.

Most recent to feel the pinch of the steel shortage was Ford. That firm, while producing about 50 per cent of its own basic steel, announced yesterday it would limit workers to three and four-day work weeks.

Previously, Ford planned to maintain full production until mid-November and then shut down completely.

Toll in Mexico May Be 2,000

Floods, Whipped Up by Cyclone, Ruin Towns on West Coast

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Authorities feared today the death toll in a cyclone-whipped series of floods that wiped out ten west coast communities Tuesday may rise as high as 2,000.

Nearly 800 persons were reported dead, 600 in the community of Minatitlan alone, but it appeared the death toll would be much higher. Another 135 persons were reported critically injured in Minatitlan, which had a population of only 900.

It was reported earlier that most of the town's population was buried under tons of mud that cascaded down upon it. The mud was loosened by heavy rains driven by violent, cyclonic winds. The storms and floods brought devastation to four states on the Pacific Coast.

A reporter for a Mexico City newspaper reported only one member of a 100-man army garrison at Minatitlan survived. He said the survivor, Lt. Salvador Botello, "is on the brink of insanity and speaks like a man in his sleep."

President Adolfo Lopez Mateos was in personal charge of efforts to bring relief to survivors in the disaster areas.

At least 10,000 rescue workers and 75 military and civilian aircraft were deployed over the wide disaster areas in the states of Colima, Jalisco, Nayarit and Michoacan.

County Drownings for '59 Mean 906 Life Years Lost

By DICK SAUNDERS

How would you like to live for 906 years?

That's how many years of life were lost by drowning victims on Oakland County lakes this year.

Figuring an average lifetime expectancy of 70, this year's 18 drowning victims had from 21 to 65 years yet to live when they died.

Only five were county residents, four of them children and one a 16-year-old boy. Likewise, the majority of persons ticketed for water violations were weekend "pleasure seekers" from other cities and counties.

The total is one less than earlier reported.

Sheriff's Dept. water patrol deputies in checking their total of 19 drownings found that one victim, Jerry B. Howard, 31, of Detroit, was later ruled a victim of a heart attack.

Howard, who went under while swimming at Kensington Park on July 4, was first listed as a drowning victim, but an autopsy showed the cause of death to be a heart attack.

This lowered the 1959 total to 18, one under last year's toll of 19 victims.

The water patrol under Sheriff Frank W. Irons, kept the total down. Of all drownings, only four happened on regularly patrolled lakes.

"For the first time in many years we didn't have any drownings on Cass Lake," said Irons. "We had it well patrolled this year."

Cass Lake annually has had more drownings than any other single body of water in the county.

There were two drownings in Walled Lake, one in Upper Straits Lake, and one in Union Lake, all patrolled.

"But one of the Walled Lake drownings took place in May before the lake was being policed regularly," Irons said, "and the Union Lake drowning took place late at night after our man had gone off duty."

The patrol annually begins full-time operation on Memorial Day and curtails its patrols sharply after Labor Day.

"But the records show that if we had a man for every lake, the yearly toll would hit an all-time low," the sheriff said.

CAN'T COVER ALL

There are more than 400 lakes and less than 50 deputies.

Unpatrolled lakes on which drownings occurred were Hawk Lake, Commerce Township; Dixie Lake, Springfield Township; Deer Lake, Independence Township; Buckhorn Lake, Rose Township; Square Lake, Orion Township; Kent Lake, Milford Township; Lower Long Lake, Bloomfield Township; Orchard Lake, and the Springland Mill Pond, Highland Township.

There were two persons drowned in Holdridge Lake, Holly Township; one in Camp Dearborn, a girl drowned in a Pontiac gravel pit and a two-year-old boy drowned in a water trough on an Independence Township farm.

One teen-ager died two weeks after suffering a broken neck when he dived into shallow water of a Troy gravel pit. This was not officially listed as a drowning.

Five victims were children from 2 to 12 years of age. Seven were teenagers. Two victims were in their 20s, two were 30 years old, one 40, and the oldest victim was 49.

Only two of this year's victims were female.

EVENING BAD TIME

Only two drownings ocurred during the morning hours, and both of those shortly before noon.

The hours from 6 p.m. to midnight were worst with 9 victims. Seven died from noon to 6 p.m.

The worst day was Sunday, with five drownings. Friday and Wednesday three each. There were two each on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, and one drowning occurred on Monday.

August was the worst month, marred by 6 drownings.

There were five in July, three in September and two each in May and June.

Most victims were swimmers. Seven died while swimming, six of them were in unguarded, unsupervised areas.

Two were swimming from boat to shore, or vice versa, one had jumped in from a boat to swim around, and three were swimming alone or with friends in unguarded waters.

Four drowned as the result of boating mishaps. Of these, two drowned when their craft capsized, one lost his balance and fell overboard and the fourth suffered a heat stroke and slipped overboard.

Water sports accidents claimed the lives of an unexperienced skin diver and a teen-ager who fell from a surfboard. The latter was a nonswimmer.

WATCH CHILDREN

The toll of children allowed to wander from their parents' watchful eyes dropped to three this year. This had been the largest contributor to the county drowning toll for several years.

In holding the number of drownings to one less than 1958, the lake patrol did a monumental job.

There were 17,600 boats registered in 1958. Complete figures are not yet available for 1959, but Sgt. Donald Kratt, water safety director, estimates the number "at least doubled and possibly may reach 40,000 registered boats in county waters this year."

"We really had our hands full," Kratt said. "The traffic on area lakes was greater than any of us ever dreamed it would be. The new equipment obtained early this year really paid off and the men did a splendid job."

Official records in Kratt's file show that deputies pulled about 70 persons in trouble from area waters. Not all 70 would have drowned, but many of them might have if it hadn't been for an alert patrolman.

Of these, 29 were given emergency first aid.

Nearly 400 boaters were assisted by the seafaring deputies.

On the enforcement side, deputies issued 75 tickets for violations. A total of 73 violators were convicted, only two cases being dismissed in county justice courts.

Thirty-four persons were charged with reckless operation of a motor boat and 30 others ticketed for not having their craft registered under state law.

Two people were ticketed for reckless water skiing, two for overloading their boats, four for failing to identify themselves and crafts, and one each for having illegible registration numbers, drinking while operating a boat, and creating excessive noise by using a motor without a proper muffler.

"It's interesting to look back at statistics, but the only way you can make it pleasant is by looking ahead," Irons said.

"Soon ice will form on the lakes," he explained. "Now's the time to start warning people to stay off the ice until it's safe to walk on, or next spring we'll be looking back on a tragic string of winter drownings."

Paid $10,000 to Get Man on TV Quiz Show

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Max Hess, the owner of a large department store, said Friday night that he paid $10,000 to help get a former employe on the television quiz show, "$64,000 Question."

He explained this to a reporter in revealing that he had been subpoenaed to appear Monday before a House subcommittee investigating the rigging of quiz shows.

"It was worth every cent of the money," said Hess, president of Hess Brothers Department Store, "because it proved to be a highly talked about program which focused the public eye on Hess Brothers and the city of Allentown."

Hess said he was subpoenaed to appear before the Legislative Oversight subcommittee to explain the role he played in getting Kenneth Hoffer on the quiz show.

Hoffer, of Reading, appeared twice on the Columbia Broadcasting System quiz show, in August, 1955. He missed his third question—for $512—and went home without a nickel's winnings.

"This didn't bother us," explained Hess, "because the young man was eager to appear on the program and attempt to win on his own merits, and as far as we are concerned we had achieved our goal — to once again expose the name of Hess Brothers and the city of Allentown to millions of people."

In New York, there was no immediate comment from CBS officials. They eliminated the "$64,000 Question" last year when the first reports of rigging came out.

The Day in Birmingham

Youth Seriously Injured When His Car Overturns

BIRMINGHAM — Jack Morgan, 19, of 28401 Tyler Ave. was in serious condition in William Beaumont Hospital after his car went out of control early this morning on Northwestern Highway near East Telegraph road in Southfield.

Morgan told Southfield police he was going north on Northwestern highway when he suddenly lost control of his car and started to skid "from one side to the other and turned over several times, then landed upside down."

Morgan was pinned inside. Police were summoned by an unidentified motorist.

Tardy with reimbursements due to Birmingham for the issuance of driver, chauffeur and liquor licenses, the state has notified the city it is impossible to know when the money will be forthcoming.

Birmingham has missed this source of revenue since June.

J. H. Purkiss, Jr., the city's director of finance, says he asked the state when the payments could be expected. He also asked for confirmation of the amount due.

Purkiss received the reply from William R. Hart, acting State Auditor General.

"They (the state) failed to mention our request for confirmation of the amounts due," reports Purkiss.

Hart's letter reads, in part:

"It would be difficult to predict at this time when the returnable liquor license fees and operators' license fees will be distributed.

"Liquor license fees and intangible tax monies are deposited in the General Fund of the State and lose their identity.

"It is impossible to determine at this time when the Legislature will act to make money available."

At the same time, Birmingham's general fund expenditures are considered above normal.

Stabbed Youth 'Dead' No More

Heart Massaged Back Into Action, but Boy in Critical Condition

DETROIT (UP) — Stabbing victim Alvin Williamson, 15, was listed as dead on arrival at receiving hospital last night. His heart, punctured by a knife, had stopped.

Williamson was in critical condition today after undergoing surgery for a knife wound suffered in a fight with another teenager.

Hospital attendants said the youth was listed in records as dead-on-arrival after he was brought to the hospital. The record read "critical" today.

Dr. Ray Beck, a staff surgeon, opened the boy's chest in the hospital's emergency room and massaged his heart until it resumed beating. He was then taken to an operating room for surgery.

coupled with some economies and what appears to be a steady growth in tax collections.

Sen. Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair), Senate majority leader, said the settlement almost certainly would provide for quick liquidation of the trust fund, currently worth about 40 million dollars.

The cash would be used to meet the state's most pressing obligations and be replaced over a period of years.

Beadle also indicated Republicans probably would insist on a November 1960 vote on raising the constitutional sales tax ceiling from three to four cents. Williams and Democratic lawmakers blocked a vote last spring.

Michigan's finances, now face a threat from the prolonged steel strike.

"We are already experiencing effects of the steel strike in September use and sales tax collections," said Deputy Revenue Commissioner Clarence Lock as he reported revenues were down from previous months.

An estimated 115,000 Michigan workers have been idled by the strike, according to Michigan Employment Security Commission officials, not including the number of Michigan people on strike.

Shoots Halloween Prankster in Leg

DETROIT (UPI)—An irate East Detroit homeowner critically wounded a Halloween prankster last night when the teen-age boy and members of his gang refused to stop destroying the man's lawn.

Police arrested John Cedzynski, 65, who told them he fired a .22 caliber rifle into the ground to scare the gang away. They had refused to leave after his repeated warnings, he said.

The bullet apparently ricocheted, striking 16-year-old Robert Miller of East Detroit in the leg.

Miller fell to the ground after he was struck and his companions left him there and fled. Cedzynski was booked for investigation of felonious assault.

Resources Group Lists Two County Projects in Top Priority Request

Two Oakland County sewage system projects are among seven in Michigan recommended for top priority ratings in the allocation of some $1,400,000 in federal assistance.

The two are the $4,145,140 Southeast Oakland County Sewage Disposal and the $2,796,235 Evergreen Interceptor sewer system. The recommended grant for each was $250,000.

The Michigan Water Resources Commission decided to give its No. 1 recommendation to the Detroit $1,440,000 interceptor project, urging that it also be given the maximum grant of $250,000.

Priority recommendations were fixed in a commission hearing yesterday. Some 30 municipalities and townships had requested a total of $4,000,000 in federal aid.

The Commission's recommendations, which will be forwarded to the U.S. Surgeon General, were based on a point system which takes into consideration both the financial and sewage needs of the applicants.

Ike Keeps Mum on Golf Slam

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower gave the same answer to charges that he played golf when he should have been directing World War II strategy as he did to earlier criticisms by wartime colleagues — silence.

The latest complaint about Eisenhower's World War II leadership came from Field Marshal Lord Alanbrooke, chief of the British general staff during the fighting.

In addition to the golf charge, Allanbrooke said Eisenhower was "just a coordinator" of the Allies, not a "real director of thought, plans, energy or direction."

The White House had no comment on the Alanbrooke statements contained in the second and final volume of a World War II history based on the Briton's diaries and autobiographical notes. This part of the book was made public yesterday. It will be published Monday.

Among other World War II figures who have found fault with Eisenhower's leadership in their memoirs are British Field Marshal Lord Montgomery and French President Charles de Gaulle.

for instance, is $30 a week — that's if he averaged $75 a week or more.

The maximum keeps on going up. For instance, a married man with three children can get up to $55 (if he averaged $108 or more).

The unemployed have to have worked at least 14 weeks in the past 52 at $15-a-week or more in order to be eligible for compensation.

The length of time compensation is paid depends on the number of weeks previously worked. The formula is two-thirds the number of weeks worked, up to 26 weeks of compensation.

The SUB plan, is designed, generally, to guarantee from 60 to 65 per cent of the employe's take home pay for as long as 26 weeks.

The amount and duration of the supplemental benefits depend on the total amount in the employer's unemployment trust fund, the employe's seniority and pay rate, his dependents, the amount of unemployment compensation he is drawing, and the number of weeks he has worked.

Benson 'No Use' to GOP

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Sen. Thruston B. Morton (R-Ky), GOP national chairman, said the usefulness of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson in the 1960 election campaign is "questionable" because the Democrats have made him a "whipping boy."

Prolong A-Test Ban, He Advocates

the fulfillment of economic stability, he said.

"You can't soft-pedal equal opportunity, social justice and equal rights."

Children, the elderly and the sick and disabled must be provided for, he said.

"Any government that doesn't concern itself with these three groups is unworthy."

In his prepared speech, Humphrey asked for a year's extension of the U. S. moratorium on nuclear tests, now scheduled to end Dec. 31, on the proposed for discussion a total ban on all nuclear tests, with those above five kilotons being subject to a complete international inspection system.

A voluntary two-year moratorium on atomic tests below five kilotons was proposed by Humphrey in expectation that effective safeguards over all tests would have been put into effect by the end of that period.

A five-kiloton weapon has a low yield. The atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima was a 20 kiloton weapon. A kiloton equals 1,000 tons of TNT.

Humphrey said the two-year suspension of tests below the five kiloton range would permit both sides to break the present deadlock. They could conduct a comprehensive research and observation program aimed at detecting any suspicious nuclear blasts, he said.

The Soviets now claim the need for only a "few" inspections annually as an effective control, Humphrey stated.

The administration has no real position because of contention by proponents of nuclear tests that "several hundred" inspections would be necessary.

He charged the administration with "extreme negligence" in allowing the idea of disarmament "to become associated in the eyes of the world with the Soviet Union."

"Why do we leave it to Khrushchev to go before the United Nations General Assembly and proclaim the great goal of complete disarmament as though he invented it?"

Disarmament has been an American idea, he said. "Let the world know the United States is the leader in the quests for world peace," he said.

"I have selected this audience tonight because it has more to lose than most other parts of the country," added Humphrey.

Proceeds from last night's dinner will be used to help elect a Democrat for the 18th District in the House of Representatives.

In Utah, Arizona, California

Storms Rage Out West

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—A freakish outburst of violent weather subsided across the West today while officials figured up damages which will run into millions of dollars.

At least three people were dead and 10 were hurt after violent windstorms slashed across northern Utah and southern California and flash floods drenched sections of central Arizona. An icy sheet of snow covered the eastern slopes of the Rockies and parts of the Western Plains states.

Two children drowned in flash floods described as the worst to hit central Arizona since 1951. The snowstorm left 6 to 15½ inches of snow in the eastern Rockies.

The tornadic winds in Utah howled off the Wasatch Mountain Range and caused widespread damage in a heavily-populated region from Salt Lake City 75 miles north to Tremonton, on the Utah-Idaho border.

At least 10 people were hurt in Utah as winds of up to 92 miles per hour toppled houses, uprooted trees and smashed thousands of windows. A dozen truck and trailer rigs were flipped over. State police halted truck, bus and small car traffic for several hours on open highways.

Winds of hurricane force accompanied a freak weather pattern in southern California. Rain, hail, snow and lightning storms uprooted trees in Los Angeles county. Cotton crops in the lush Imperial Valley suffered damage estimated at a quarter of a million dollars.

Fifteen inches of snow fell at Red Mountain Pass in southwest Colorado. Denver had 7.4 inches, and 6 inches fell in New Mexico, western Nebraska and at Lander, Wyo.

Local Man Happy, Finds His Long-Lost Sister

A check of Probate Court records disclosed that the girl had been adopted as a four-month-old infant by Mrs. Caroline Spalding of Saginaw.

White traveled to Saginaw in mid-September and checked the address he had. Mrs. Spalding had gone to Texas, he was told, but another neighbor knew of her—and of his sister.

That night he sent off a wire:

"Dear Sis, did not know of your existence until a month ago. Through Probate Court and Mrs. Spalding, I have found you."

Letters and phone calls followed.

"She was stunned," White chuckled. "That first phone call was something! There was so much to talk about."

Their first meeting will be this week in Victoria, Tex., where the sister, Mrs. Hazel Hammond, 42, lives with her family.

White, who lives at 834 Blaine Ave., and works at Pontiac Motor, plans to leave Wednesday for the Lone Star State with his wife Evelyn.

Oil Well Spouts Dangerous Gas

Hillsdale County Area Blocked Off; Explosion Possible From Fumes

JONESVILLE (UPI) — Deadly gas fumes were spread over a five mile area near here today by a "thundering" oil well that has been spitting oil, water and slush several hundred feet into the air since last night.

Residents from North Adams about five miles from the well complained of the fumes that were held close to the ground by a heavy smog.

State Police blocked off a mile square area around the well on the G. Mann farm which is located in the rich Scipio oil field of Hillsdale County.

State Police Fire Marshal Clyde Marquardt from the Jackson Post said there was danger of an explosion and fire, but so far no one had been forced to leave their homes. The nearest home, he said, was about a mile away.

Oilmen called for help to Illinois and Texas, police said.

Well owner Terry Fulk of Albion said workers hit a gas pocket at around 3,800 feet and the pressure blew out a 5½ inch pipe and the cement that had been poured around it.

One observer said the well sounded "like a thundering jet" as it sent its innards showering over the area.

MSU Lab Explosion Still Unexplained

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The cause of the explosion that injured five Michigan State University graduate students Thursday night has not been pinpointed, the head of the chemistry department said today.

Dr. Laurence Quill said he would have to wait until he talked to at least one of the injured students before he would know just what chemicals were being distilled when the explosion occurred on the third floor of the Kedzie Chemistry building.

Philip Shreiner of Landsdale, Pa. was still listed in critical condition at Sparrow Hospital, and Fillmore Freeman of Chicago was on the critical list at St. Lawrence Hospital, officials of the two hospitals said yesterday.

Ex-Flint Man Awaits Trial in Castro Court

HAVANA (AP)—Austin F. Young Jr. formerly of Flint, is being held in a Cuban jail on charges of counter-revolutionary activities against the Fidel Castro regime.

Young was arraigned a month ago in a civil court at Pinar del Rio and has been jailed awaiting trial. He is accused of homicide, which can carry the death penalty on conviction.

A Cubn supreme court judge has disclosed that the revived military tribunals will try all perons charged with conspiracy against the regime, including those whose cases are currently pending before civil courts.

3 Waterford Twp. Residents Injured in 2-Car Collision

Three Waterford Township residents were injured last night in a two-car collision on Dixie Highway near Silverside street, according to Waterford Township police.

Roy J. Blosser, 23, of 4700 Walton Blvd., admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with facial cuts, was in satisfactory condition today.

He was a passenger in a car driven by Andrew F. Anthony, 46, of 5694 Croswell St., Waterford Township. Lawrence Olk, 57, of 2776 Dixie Highway, the other driver, and his wife, Edith, 51, were treated and released.

Three Sentenced for August Theft of Machine Gun

Three Pontiac men who pleaded guilty to possession of a machine gun have been sentenced to federal prison by U. S. District Judge Clifford O'Sullivan in Detroit.

Carruthers Hayes, 45, 172 S. Blvd. W., and James R. Mitchell, 46, of 23½ Grant St., were sentenced to five months each, and Calvin Waugh, 34, of 459 Howard McNeil St., to nine months.

The three men were arrested by Pontiac police Sept. 30 and turned over to federal authorities for prosecution.

The .45 caliber machine gun was stolen from the Pontiac National Guard Armory in August. Hayes and Mitchell contended they found the gun in a railroad culvert and sold it to Waugh for $10.

Ex-Marine Turns Soviet

MOSCOW (UPI) — A 20-year-old former U.S. Marine from Ft. Worth, Tex., said today he had applied to renounce his American citizenship and become a Soviet citizen for "purely political reasons." Lee Harvey Oswald said, "I will never return to the United States for any reason."

Administration Insisting Steel Strike MUST End

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—If the 500,000 steel strikers are sent back to work by a Taft-Hartley injunction the government is determined to keep them there by legislation if necessary, says Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller.

The secretary disclosed this administration stand to reporters after reviewing the impact of the 109-day shutdown with his Business Advisory Council in closed sessions here Friday.

President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers has given notice that, if the union loses its Supreme Court fight against issuance of the 80-day injunction, his men will walk out again when the court order expires.

A midwinter resumption of the strike would so disrupt the economy, Mueller said, that he was sure, "very sure" President Eisenhower would recommend action by Congress.

The Secretary said he could not now predict what legislation Eisenhower might seek but it might be a law forcing the parties to arbitrate. Management and labor alike have long resisted compulsory arbitration of disputes.

"We simply cannot permit a resumption of the strike—that's all that I can say," Mueller declared.

Her Doggie's No Longer in the Window

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A few years back, singer Patti Page made a big record called "How Much is That Doggie in the Window?"

Well, she got her dog, all right. But now the little rascal has gone out the window, so to speak.

Miss Page reported Friday that her terrier — named "Window" after the hit song—is missing. She said it vanished from her home in the Sunset Strip district.

We Don't Believe It

U. S. Closes Bases in Morocco

Missiles Go to Turkey

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western powers apparently have practically completed a shift in European defense emphasis from bombers to missiles. Two developments make this clear:

1. The United States has agreed to close down its four air bases and one naval base in Morocco.

2. The United States has reached an agreement with Turkey to set up an intermediate-range Jupiter missile base in that country, strategically located on Russia's border.

The issue of the American air bases in Moroccan soil has been politically explosive since the little North African kingdom gained its independence in 1956.

The Moroccans have long wanted the American forces withdrawn. The State Department announced that plans for the withdrawal have been presented to the Moroccan prime minister.

Negotiations for the missile base in Turkey, which will offset the loss of the Moroccan bases, have been under way for some time. Formal agreement was announced Friday.

Rep. Law Named on Committee for County Needs

State Rep. Arthur J. Law (D-Pontiac) has been named to a special legislative committee to study "the vexing fiscal problems" of Michigan counties.

A resolution creating the committee called for an examination of county need for additional funds to finance existing services and the possible sources from which funds may be derived.

Other members of the committee named by House Speaker Don R. Pears include Reps. Williams (D-Detroit), Root (R-Kalamazoo), Sallade (R-Ann Arbor), Sobieski (D-Detroit), and Nakkula (R-Gladwin).

It Seems to Me . . . .

Viewers' Trust in TV Badly Shattered as Truths Unfold

Television is in a state of "intellectual and moral bankruptcy," according to educator-critic GILBERT SELDES.

He made this statement before Charles Van Doren had — in effect — confessed to taking part in rigged shows. Many people accepted the duplicity of other contestants and producers with a certain equanimity but they were aghast when the fair haired boy of all TV quiz shows indicated that he, too, was implicated.

In order to carry the deceit to these lengths, it required obeisance from a rather large group, including officials, technicians and others whose rank should have placed them above crooked procedures. Most businesses are headed by men of integrity and honor who treat the public with respect.

I'm dumbfounded over the extent to which these machinations have gone. It reflects on the entire industry and gives it a black eye that it won't live down for some time.

Other deceptive practices have leaked out since. Phony cheering and applause are liberally injected in programs where the original volume is "insufficient." Also, "ad lib" remarks are often rehearsed in advance and the extent to which the gullible public has been taken for a long, one way ride hasn't yet been completely uncovered. Our trust has been badly misplaced.

VAN DOREN hasn't appeared in court, but the New York Times News Service says flatly that he "got information in advance."

For shame.

Steel Strike Hits Us . . .

Just as Oakland County is hitting the highest economic plateau in several years, the industrial wheels start grinding slowly to a dismal stop.

This is a body blow.

The steel strike hits home.

It seems unfair to visit the troubles and tribulations of the steel people on the heads of the innocent. But that's a part of the complicity of strikes today. The whole economy of the country can be swept ruthlessly into the ash can.

The public has too big a stake to stand by—idly—and even helplessly. If this current fracas runs long enough and far enough to shut down the entire nation, some workable Federal laws may evolve to save us from similar situations in the future.

Why should 175 million people find their incomes reduced or stopped completely because a few hundred thousand can't get along? The government has a definite obligation to protect the majority of the population from a few thousand. This is too enlightened a day in the world's history to permit a comparative handful to wrest a living away from the bulk of the population.

Library Rejected . . .

I sincerely regret the Waterford vote on FRANK STEERE'S library proposal. Mr. STEERE is a long standing and valued friend and I understand the disappointment he must feel.

At the same time, I also believe that everyone appreciates why the vote went the way it did. Waterford faces a need for more police, firemen, schools, teachers, pavements and sewers. The voters simply decided the share of the library costs which they faced was out of proportion to the whole picture.

Perhaps the goodhearted and kindly Citizen STEERE can see his way clear to helping his home district anyway, with the idea of developing the library in the future.

And in Conclusion . . . .

Since I just spent a week in St. Joe's Hospital and another at home, I subscribe to the theory that a minor operation is one performed on someone else . . . . . And I can't speak too highly of the personnel at St. Joe's . . . . . There's one real laugh in these crooked TV revelations. Recall that mousey little character that was introduced each week as "the vice president of the Manufacturers Trust in whose vaults these questions have been safely locked so that not even he has ever seen them before." As it turns out, he was about the only one on the payroll that hadn't seen them.

The automotive Dealer News reprints this personal from an Oregon publication: "Joe W. Get in touch with me at once. Bring three rings: engagement, wedding and teething. Have news for you. Betty." . . . . . Few recognize that new, trim svelte Howard V. Heldenbrand at a slim, trim 158 pounds. And a few years ago he was a pudgy 190. That takes a lot of doing and I bow low. . . . . The three happiest politicians of the past two decades: Alben Barkley, Harry Truman and Nelson Rockefeller . . . . . For the first time, Washington has a preponderance of Negro population: 438,000 compared to 387,000 whites. . . . . Here's the best of the many cracks on Russia's photo of the other side of the moon: "They'll have to take it over. Someone moved."

The Berlin Morgen Post which I visited last summer, says in five consecutive days recently 1,600 Berliners crossed into West Berlin. That put the total escaping at 2,300,000—more people than there are in Detroit . . . . . When EDDIE FISHER gave DEBBIE REYNOLDS the pitch, he was definitely the headliner in that duo. Now DEBBIE sidelines him by miles. She just got the nod over LUCILLE BALL for the top spot in three gigantic TV shows. Meanwhile FISHER shadows LIZ around her movie studio where she's hard at work . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's—BILL WILLMAN; the J's: Thursday night's new TV program, "Take a Good Look." It's the epitome of confusion, chaos and futility and the thing will never get well until they chloroform ZSA ZSA GABOR.

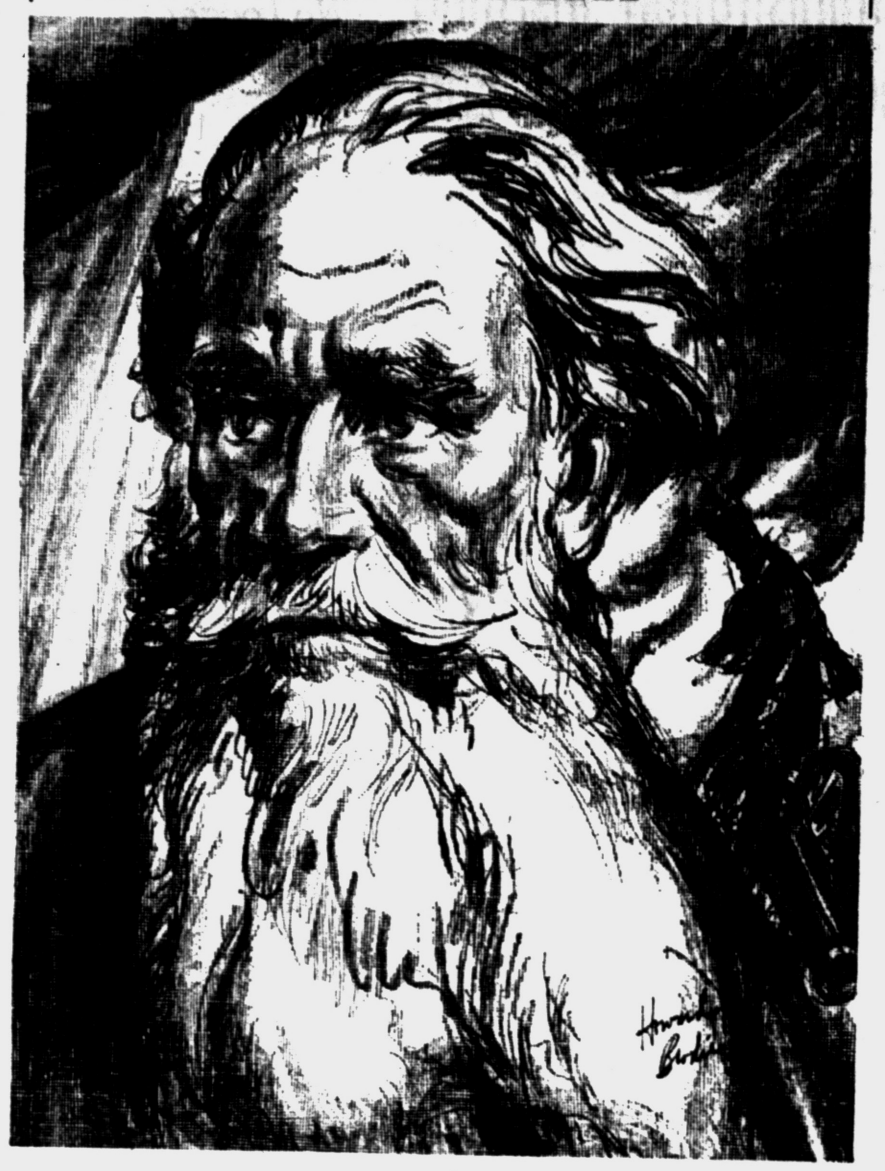
—HAROLD A. FITZGERALD

WHY does the law make people muffle the noise of cars and yet allow them to use power lawn mowers that make more fuss than a second-hand motorcycle backfiring in a tin garage?

MEDICAL science says people with brown eyes are more sensitive to pain than those with blue eyes. Ergo, no one should be cruel enough to hang a black eye on a brown-eyed person.

The POWER of FAITH

by Howard Brodie



When he was approaching 50, Leo Tolstoy, one of the greatest writers in the history of literature, felt an emptiness within him. He was famous, wealthy, titled, happily married and a proud father, yet he said: "Why wish for anything, or do anything? Is there any meaning in life?"

This profound melancholy lasted for about three years, but the answer Tolstoy found to his question changed his life. He discovered "those clear simple truths common to all men . . . the Spirit of God lives in man and the practical rule . . . that man should act toward others as he wishes others to act toward himself . . . God is a Spirit whose image lives in us, the power of which we can increase by our conduct . . . and all that naturally follows a peaceful, friendly, happy life would come about for humanity . . ."

Tolstoy renounced his title, and began his work to relieve the oppressed. He crusaded for the rights of peasants, protested the oppression of minorities, and opposed capital punishment and the use of physical force. All that remained of his old ways of living were his tremendous literary contributions.

Every morning in solitude, Tolstoy prayed. He wrote, "My prayer is like this . . . 'Who so abideth in love abideth in God, and God in him . . . if we love one another . . . His love is fulfilled in us . . . Brethren, let us love one another, for God is love'."

Days of All Faiths

Pranks Are Distortion of Holy Day

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Tonight's merry pranks, believe it or not, were all related to the fact that Sunday is one of the holiest days of the Christian year. It is a strange hook-up.

If Sunday were not All Saints' (All Hallows') day, tonight could not have been All Hallows' Eve and there would have been no excuse for masquerades, tricks or treats, or any of the other signs that the spirits of the dead were abroad making things uneasy for the living.

The whole business is, of course, a jovial, irreverent distortion of a lovely and important occasion. Sunday the Christian Church honors all those, both known and unknown, who deserve to be called saints in the specialized sense of that term, which means they are already in the presence of God. "And some there be," says Ecclesiasticus, chapter 44, verse 9 (Apocrypha) "which have left no memorial." Their number must be very great.

As a sidelight, tomorrow places a special emphasis on that little understood doctrine, the Communion of Saints. Part of its meaning is that the Church on earth and the Church in heaven are separated only by the thinnest of veils, not really separated at all.

When we on earth join in worship, we join not only with one another but with the whole company of heaven. The relationship that exists among Christians is not only a lateral relationship here and now in space, but also a vertical relationship in time up and down the ages.

FIRST BISHOP

On Nov. 6, 1789 a Jesuit priest, John Carroll, 34-year-old son of the aristocratic "Carrolls of Maryland" was appointed bishop of the newly organized Diocese of Baltimore, first Roman Catholic diocese on the American continent.

"Diocese of Baltimore" was geographically as extreme an understatement as could have been possible at that point in American history. The young bishop's jurisdiction extended from Maine to Georgia and west to the Mississippi.

It was logical that Baltimore should be the first center of operations. The colony of Maryland had been founded as the only colony in the New World where complete religious liberty was granted, a gentle way of saying that it was the only place where Romanists were tolerated.

Remember, this was in 1634, in a land populated by Englishmen and Northern Europeans. The reformation, with all its bitterness towards Rome, was only a century old and was not forgotten in the minds of the majority of colonists.

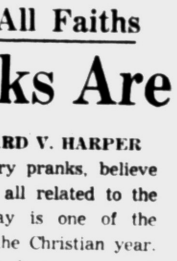
Pure Lanolin Is Too Thick for Hair and Scalp Use

You mention lanolin oil in your booklet on care of the hair and scalp. I have been unable to find this oil in pure form, although there are numerous creams and lotions that contain "lanolin" . . . (Mrs. W.S.C.)



DR. BRADY

Ans. — I do not mention it in the booklet The Hair and Scalp, for which send me 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope. Lanolin, otherwise called wool fat, is too stiff for use as hair or scalp oil. Usually it is diluted with from 10 to 20 times its volume of fresh sesame oil, olive oil, cottonseed oil or castor oil. Pure lanolin is less desirable than hydrous lanolin — otherwise called hydrous wool fat or Adeps Lanae Hydrosus. It is superior to vegetable oils for the skin and scalp because it more closely resembles sebum, the natural skin and scalp or hair oil.

Ben Told if a child chews gum it is likely to make cavities in his teeth . . . (Mrs. F. H.)

Ans. — Chewing gum is harmless, although I do not recommend it. Far better, I think, for the child to learn to chew plain wheat, which I do recommend for anyone who likes to chew. Send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for my free pamphlet Wheat to Eat.

Ben Told facials will bring lines to a woman's face early in her years. Have also heard that if you go to a competent operator facials will not bring lines . . . (Miss S.M.A.)

Ans. — The pastime of madam has nothing to do with lines in the face.

Daughter, 11, had tonsils removed by operation five years ago. The adenoid tissue has enlarged again and she has to breathe through her mouth. Doctor here advises X-ray treatment for the adenoids. (Mrs. R. B.)

Ans. — It is good treatment in many cases of obstruction of throat or nasopharynx by tonsils or adenoids, especially when the obstruction causes ear trouble.

I am a girl 16 and have been told that if I continually cross my knees when sitting I will be injured internally. (Miss M.O.)

Ans. — No, but it tends to impair good posture and obstructs circulation in legs. Better cross only the ankles.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

'This Country Should Take Interest in the Nationalities'

Recently I attended a dance sponsored by the Armenian Youth Federation. The music is amazing. The dance that accompanies it is highly rhythmic, almost oriental, dignified and almost stately. Together they are a unique and exhilerating experience.

It's a pity the general public doesn't take more of an interest in the various nationality groups in our country. We are ignoring the chance to enrich and add variety and depth to our lives.

I hear in most cases the Russians take great pains to preserve the culture of her widely diversified nationality groups. Are the Russians going to be first and beat us in everything?

'Featherbedding Is Expensive Luxury'

This nation does very little to fight the greatest cause of rising prices and that is featherbedding.

It is the most expensive luxury in the U. S. and adds to the price of every single article we buy. Everyone loses when we pay people for work they don't do and even sometimes when there isn't any such work for anyone to do.

Every taxpayer should fight this and destroy an evil that is destroying him.

'I Wonder if We Will Ever Learn'

Well, here we are again, holding the bag with a gaping hole in it. After sending money, men and sympathy to "poor, little Laos" to protect it from the "horrible onslaught" of Communists, we learn that the mass killings and burning of homes was nothing more than a couple of men wounded by snipers and a hut or two destroyed.

We've been played for a sucker before, but this just about takes the cake. I wonder if we'll ever learn.

'Could Insurance Be One Cause?'

A thought occurred to me that I haven't heard mentioned before. Could the increase in auto accidents have any relationship to the increase in insurance available to drivers?

It seems that long ago people were awfully concerned about getting a scratch or a dent in their shiny new cars, but now drivers figure insurance will take care of it, so they're not quite so worried about minor accidents.

But when a driver's careless about minor points of safety, it tends to lead to carelessness in general, and that could possibly be one cause of more accidents.

Discusses Question of Police Reserves

After listening to the latest City Commission meeting on the radio, I've come to the conclusion that some of the Commissioners are forgetting things they don't care to remember regarding the police reserves.

For seven years the reserves have done a fine job, for free, and saved City taxes and lives. They've been responsible for quite a few arrests and convictions. Now the Commission expects them to forget the past and join a group to which they already belong. If reserves didn't exist then, are they going to give new trials to men in prison?

The next change that should be made is in the City Commission, and this time let's have men who can remember good that has been done for a City that tends to forget.

Waterford Teen-ager Asks for Hospital

A hospital would be of more service to our Township than a library. Waterford is growing by leaps and bounds, yet we haven't a hospital of our own. We can't get into St. Joseph or General unless we're desperately ill. These hospitals are good, but overcrowded.

We, the boys and girls, youth, men and women would benefit more by a hospital. Waterford needs a hospital. Please listen to us and examine our case. Give it thought.

'For What We Pay, It Should Be Tops'

A book entitled "Teaching the Third R" says the U. S. school children are a year behind European children in mathematics. With the gigantic cost of U. S. education, I should think we'd be one year ahead and not even level with them.

Bored Parishioners Worry Pastor

Joseph is on the road to success because he at least is now facing his problem and acknowledging it. The preachers who never succeed are those who are so indifferent to a snoring audience that they don't even realize they are a failure in the pulpit. Every speaker can improve fast by the rules outlined below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE C-484: Joseph D., aged 27, is a young seminary graduate.

"Dr. Crane," he began unhappily, "my parishioners don't like my preaching.

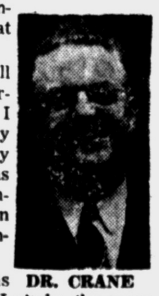
"They delegated one member of the board to inform me of that fact.



DR. CRANE

"Yet I study all week on my sermon. In fact, I shut myself away from everybody each morning as I read and compose my sermon for the next Sunday.

"But it seems that the harder I study, the more they go to sleep when I deliver that sermon. So what's the answer?"

SPEECH SECRETS

Sir William Lever offered good advice for just this type of situation.

"I would alter the motto," he said, "which tells us 'If at first you don't succeed, try again,' and make it read, 'If at first you don't succeed, try another method.'"

Whenever I am scheduled for an evening address in any given city, I usually talk to one or two high school convocations during the day.

"Be a Good Ape," is the title of my high school speech.

Therein I refer to the fact that it is smart to pick a hero and then "ape" or imitate those good habits which he possesses that led him to the top rung of the ladder to success.

Many of you young clergymen need to take that same viewpoint. You read too much!

Instead, study some of the foremost clergymen of our day or of your own denomination and see how they hold an audience.

Listen to Dr. Peale, Bishop Sheen, Billy Graham, Oral Roberts and many other topnotch sermonizers.

Adapt their methods to your own church and even try to improve on them, if you can.

READER'S DIGEST FORMULA

Reader's Digest advises its roving editors to follow this formula for their short essays:

(1) Start out with a striking statement.

(2) Document and illustrate it with at least two concrete cases, told in narrative style.

(3) Tie the wheat in the sack, so to speak, with a punchy terminal paragraph.

Incidentally, that was Christ's anecdotal or narrative formula for His addresses, too, except the stories were called parables in that day.

Every clergyman can soon become a better speaker by following this precise psychological formula:

(1) Use a text that pertains to current life. Don't focus your sermons on the dead past of 2,000 years ago.

(2) If convenient, start off with an appropriate quotation from some famous person which will "key" your address.

(3) Use narrative examples from your town and even your own congregation to document the development of your sermon topic.

(4) Name at least three parishioners in your sermon, working them in as secondary to examples you derive from their home or farm or business.

(5) Quote a stanza of some poem that contains the climax of your talk, for rhythm lifts us emotionally faster than does prose.

(6) Stay within your time limit—say 20 to 30 minutes for a normal sermon.

But Stassen Isn't Beaten Yet

Philly Dems Hold Parade

But the Democrats don't give him much of a chance. They say he'll still be running after election day. They've already held a pre-election victory parade for Mayor Richardson Dilworth who is a candidate for a second four-year term.

Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and disarmament advisor to President Eisenhower, has taken plenty of lumps in politics the last few years. Still he is regarded in many circles as a sturdy contender.

The Democrats held their traditional parade and rally Wednesday night in the 26th Ward in south Philadelphia.

But that demonstration was overshadowed by a continuing hassle between Republicans and Democrats over Stassen's city wage tax situation.

Democratic city administration leaders charged Stassen never paid the city's 1½ per cent wage taxes from 1953 through 1956.

Stassen replied that he and his accountants had receipts to show he did.

Then Thursday the 54-year-old former president of the University of Pennsylvania claimed exemption for those four years because he was in federal service. He said he did not receive any income in Philadelphia for the years in question.

Mortin E. Rotman, city revenue commissioner, said he'd let the courts decide.

Mayor Richardson Dilworth, endorsed by all three Philadelphia daily newspapers, has the full backing of Pennsylvania's Democratic national committeeman, Gov. David L. Lawrence, and Philadelphia's Democratic chairman, Congressman William J. Green Jr. Latest registration figures list 531,000 Democrats and 413,083 Republicans.

The 61-year-old former Marine has conducted a vigorous street-corner campaign. He has appeared regularly on television and radio.

Dilworth is running on his first-term record. He has repeatedly charged that Stassen is seeking to be mayor only to further his real aspiration to become president of the United States.

Stassen promises if he is elected mayor he will stop what he calls a heavy migratory flow of Negroes from the South to Philadelphia. He has charged that under the Dilworth administration crime has spread and unemployment increased.

Russia OKs China on Formosa Plan

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev said Saturday the Soviet Union would support Red China's determination to take Formosa "until the question is solved."

Deputies at a joint session of the two houses of the Supreme Soviet (parliament) cheered his declaration "we will continue to support the Chinese (Communist) position on Formosa until the question is solved."

Jail Any Better?

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Herman E. Tipton, 18, left his four-foot by four-foot tree hut yesterday, went home, shaved, showered, and put on a clean set of clothes. Then he turned himself in to the police. Tipton said he had been hiding in the hut for 14 days to escape a burglary charge, and he finally got too cramped and too tired.

New Type of Doghouse

BARNSTAPLE, England (UPI) — The town council last night voted to provide garden sheds for its municipal housing units to let fathers escape their wives, children and pets. The units will give fathers a chance to smoke their pipes and "recover their equilibrium," the council said.

St. Joseph Adds Therapy Unit, Artificial Muscle Star Performer

There's new hope for rehabilitation of the physically handicapped at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Clinic.

This week the physical therapy section opened a new branch and the star of the show was an artifical muscle — making what was perhaps its first appearance in Michigan.

There's good reason to cheer this device clinic members said. It offers possible aid to victims of such afflictions as polio, rheumatoid arthritis, strokes and nervous system disorders.

While artifical limbs and corrective braces for legs have been in existence for a good many years, very little assistance has been available for people with arm or hand disabilities.

Until recently most splints for the arms were not designed to restore the limb to use. Most keep the arm immobile, some allowed the arm to move merely for exercise.

Now there are new types of functional splints and an artifical muscle.

The combination serves effectively in many cases as an artifical hand or arm, said A. C. Derande, physical therapist at the clinic.

It can be used, too, in a therapeutic way, to keep an ailing hand or arm exercised while injured muscles or bones slowly return to normal.

Dorando and Drs. A. S. Jacknow and Frederick B. House introduced the muscle here after studying it at the Medical School of the University of California at Los Angeles. The National Office of Vocational Rehabilitation and the Prosthetic Research Council say it's a good idea.

The muscle itself is a little nylon sack about eight inches long which injured persons wear either on the upper or lower part of the injured arm.

When filled with carbon dioxide gas, the sack swells in the middle and, at the same time, shortens in length. This motion tugs at steel cables attached to the moving parts of the functional splint.

If the splint is in the hand position, an artifical fist can be made to clench, or fingers can be tightened to hold a pencil or an eating utensil.

If the splint is on the lower arm, the arm can be made to raise or lower.

The action of the swelling sack and moving cables is very similar to the action of real muscles and almost as quick, Dorando said.

A patient equipped with the outfit has to keep a supply of carbon dioxide gas handy — in a tank attached to his wheelchair if he is immobilized or in his hip or jacket pocket if he can get around.

A small tube runs between the carbon dioxide tank and one end of the muscle. The activator to release carbon dioxide into the muscle can be placed in many positions, so that it will work at a flick of the elbow, for instance, or a shrug of the shoulder.

A similar motion will let the gas escape from the muscle, allowing the splint to relax in normal position.

State Conforms to Jobless Rules

Rep. Roberts Puts Over Act to Save Employers Extra Benefit Tax

Following a warning by State Rep. Farrell E. Roberts (R-W. Bloomfield), the Legislature yesterday completed action putting the state "back to conformity" with the federal unemployment compensation law.

Failure to act might have meant penalties as high as $60,000 against Michigan employers.

Roberts, House Labor Committee chairman, told the lower chamber of the Legislature: "We just have to pass this bill."

The state jobless benefit act was amended in 1957 by the Legislature to entitle employers to an immediate tax merit rating after achieving a "positive fund balance" following a period of "negative balances," Roberts said.

A negative balance means that employes of a firm have received more jobless benefits than the firm has paid in taxes.

The federal government has ruled that such employers must pay the maximum tax rate, 3 per cent on payrolls, for a period of three years before attaining a merit rating.

"Federal officials have started a hearing on Michigan nonconformity but held a decision in escrow pending our action," Roberts said.

"Unless we take action to conform to the federal law, and make the action retroactive to Jan. 1, federal officials may cut off $36,000,000 to $60,000,000 in funds for Michigan."

Michigan employers would have to pay higher taxes to make up for any loss in federal funds.

The House by a 95-1 vote passed the "federal conformity bill" approved earlier in the Senate, and gave it immediate effect and sent it to the governor for signing.

Conscience Was Clear

CLAY MILLS, England (UPI) — David Sears, 11, was sound asleep in the cab of his father's furniture van yesterday when the truck crashed through a bridge guard rail, teetered on the edge 30 feet above the water, was sprayed by a broken fire hydrant and was bumped when two cars collided on the bridge. When it was all over, David was still sound asleep.

Boy, 11, Killed by Car While Trick or Treating

MENOMINEE (AP) — Out with a group of youngsters on a trick or treat tour, Eugene G. Delfosse, 11, was struck and killed by a car last night.

Witnesses told police the boy darted into the path of a car driven by Richard Wandberg, 27, of Marquette. Wandberg was not held.

Happiness Is Borrowed

J. L. VOORHEES

Happiness cannot be purchased but it can be borrowed and must be returned. It is a tender emotion that springs from the human heart, overflows with an act of kindness, thoughtful gesture, birthday card, cheerful greeting, sincere handclasp or a happy smile. Think of the happiest moment of your life; wasn't it a joyful surprise for a thoughtful act you had done?

M. E. SIPLE

Heart-string-chords influence man everywhere; chords of friendship, of family, touch responsive echoes, the touch of a child's fingers, appealing glance, wistful attitude are chords that find ready response. It is the response that create the greatest happiness.

To be happy one must give it away. It is never a one-way affair; when we receive we must return it. That is a secret of happy living.

Be Tactful About Light Being Poor

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Several weeks ago I played cards at a friend's house. The lighting was very poor and I had to strain my eyes to see the cards and as a result went home with a splitting headache. The bridge club meets at her house again this week and I don't expect the lighting will be any better. Would it be proper for me to ask her to turn on more light, or does good manners demand that I keep silent and struggle through the evening?"

Answer: You can quite properly say as you look at your cards something like, "My eyes must be getting weak, I can hardly see the cards. Could I have another light turned on?"

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have just heard something that is brand new to me and would very much like to hear what you have to say about it. A friend of mine told me the other day that it was not proper to serve granulated sugar with coffee and that one should always serve lump sugar. Can she be right about this?"

Answer: I do not think it at all important, but according to correct custom, lump sugar is served with hot tea and hot coffee. Powder or granulated sugar is served with iced tea and iced coffee because it melts more quickly.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered better manners, when there are only a few single seats in a bus, for a boy to stand near the girl he is with or should he take a seat at some distance away? Some of the boys always stand nearby and there are others who sit no matter where the place happens to be. Which way is correct?"

Answer: If the distance they are going is short and a boy is actually accompanying her he ought to stand nearby. But if the distance is very long he would naturally sit wherever there is a place.

Have you ever wished you could see through a sandwich bag and know what kind of a sandwich was in it without taking it out? One manufacturer has taken care of this problem by making "see-through" sandwich bags.

Not only are these bags a time-saver, they are also more efficient. Waxed all the way through, they will keep flavor in and odors in or out, depending on where you put the onions! They are also longer with a pleat on each side.

Cafe curtains have been the rage for several years now. Instead of making loops to hang on rods, one of the country's leading manufacturers of cover-it-yourself buttons suggests you button the curtains on the rods.

Cover buttons to match or contrast with the curtain material. Simply unbutton when you launder the curtains. They're easy to iron. Let us know if you'd like more information about making these curtains.

If you are interested in doing the best possible job of washing, you can send for a new booklet that is a working manual for better laundering. Its discussion is not limited to any one brand of equipment, but tries to explain in detail the "Why, how and what" of washing.

Modern fabrics, listed by trade names, are discussed as well as all laundering supplies. You may have this book by sending two thin dimes (20 cents) to Mrs. Jessie Cartwright, Home Service Director, Norge Division of Borg-Warner Corp., Chicago 54, Illinois.

We have just heard about an addition to the line of adhesive, plastic-coated papers. This one is 36 inches wide and is heavier than the narrow paper we have used for some time. It's just right for covering old card tables and we're going to do that as soon as we can get some of the paper.

Dear Abby Can't Reply to This One

Only You Know the Answer, Honey

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I will make this short although I could write a book about it. I am a sophomore in college. I have just learned that I am going to have a baby. For reasons which I cannot tell you, there is no chance of the baby's father marrying me now or in the future.

ABBY

I know I will have to leave school and return home pretty soon. My greatest problem is whether I should keep this baby or give it up for adoption. I have cried and prayed but the answer doesn't come to me. Can you help me?

TROUBLED SOUL

DEAR TROUBLED: The best answer I can offer is to share with you this letter from a girl who has had to face the same problem. I hope you will profit by the wisdom in her thinking. God bless you and help you.

DEAR ABBY: I am 19 years old and a university student. Last year I gave birth to an illegitimate baby. The father couldn't marry me. Of course I had to leave school and tell my parents why. When my condition was impossible to conceal, I went to a home for unwed mothers.

Abby, you can't imagine what it is like in such a home. There were 50 of us girls from every imaginable station in life, all drawn together by one common experience. We all had little jobs around the Home which we did gladly. There were classes offered and plenty of recreation time. We were allowed to take short walks around the neighborhood every afternoon.

With the birth of each baby, the Home buzzed with the big question, "Is she keeping her baby?"

Yes, many kept their babies. I gave mine up.

He was a beautiful 8-pound boy and I know he is making some young couple very happy. I also know that although I "lost" my baby, he is gaining more than I could have given him.

My best friend kept her baby. She writes to me often and says she is very happy and has no regrets. I think each of us made the right choice for ourselves.

If I were to advise a girl who had to make this decision, I would tell her to ask herself, "Can I give my baby a good home? Will I be accepted? Will I ever resent my child? Will my child ever resent me?"

Sincerely yours,
FORMER UNWED MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: I am a member of a family who recently lost an aged and beloved mother. We are being severely criticized because we did not all go to the mortuary the day before the funeral.

DOROTHY ALLEN

We all loved our mother very much. We're very emotional and did not want to display our grief publicly. In her death notice we published the fact that we would receive friends and relatives in my home, which is a few blocks from the mortuary. We requested the casket be closed during the funeral services as we didn't want the agony of viewing her for the last time. Do you think we were disrespectful to our mother?

LOVING CHILDREN

DEAR CHILDREN: Ignore the criticism. The Lord (and I am sure your mother) knew what was in your hearts. Who else matters?

What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to Abby, care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dryness a Factor

Can Slow Up Facial Aging

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many factors enter into facial aging and much can be done to delay and decrease it. We all know that not only our physical health but our emotional and mental health affect our complexions. Worry and hate and envy are poisons and actually can cause rashes. Much dermatities is due to emotional conflicts.

Increased dryness is one important factor. This comes from exposure to the wind and sun and cold as well as from the natural decrease of the oils in the skin which takes place as we grow older. Of course our weapon against this is to use protective cosmetics when in the sun and wind and to clense and lubricate our epidermis faithfully every day and night. Lubrication, if carried ou' through the years, can make such a terrific difference in how old a woman looks.

Exaggerated facial mannerisms are also a factor. Frowning, lifting the brows and grimacing, all cause unnecessary lines. Also the layer of fat betwen the skin and muscles gradually thins with the years. That is one reason why it is bad to lose a lot of weight in a hurry and why I do not believe in facial message unless done by an expert or done VERY GENTLY by the woman herself.

Facial exercises are a great aid since they firm the muscles and therefore lessen sagging. I have known many women who were very youthful looking for their age who had done facial exercises for years. The following one was taught me by the late and amazing Doctor Davenport who died at the age of about 114. I interviewed her when she was 111 years old.

MAKE AN O

Stand or sit in front of a mirror. Open the mouth fairly wide—not all the way open. Pull the corners on the mouth toward the ears. Push the corners forward toward the center of the mouth and make an O with the lips. Again pull the corners toward the lips and continue. Apply cream first.

If you would like to have my facial exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 9 to Josephine Lowman in care of this paper.

One Man Who'll Never Ridicule His Wife's Hat

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

The lucky Mrs. Riemer can be as whimsical as she likes, with no fear of hearing that familiar husbandly refrain: "Where did you get that hat?"

Bill is executive director of the Millinery Institute of America, and the only thing about women's hats that pains him is no hat.

As a matter of fact, says Bill, the old joke about husbands and hats has been grossly exaggerated, mostly by cartoonists.

"Most men want their wives or sweethearts to be noticed — but in a nice way," he says. "They object to plunging necklines, too-short skirts and other revealing displays. But they love to step out with a girl wearing a striking hat. In the first place, the right hat makes almost any woman look prettier, and in the second place it identifies her as a lady.

"Smart women have learned that if they want to be alluring they don't have to go in for daring decolletages. They can accomplish the same thing with a smart hat. A woman wearing a really beautiful and dramatic hat can count on admiring male glances, and probably even a few whistles."

A flattering hat, says Bill, also is a status symbol.

"We tested this fact recently," he says. "We enlisted the help of a pair of beautiful twins and sent them out on a cafe society tour — each with an escort, of course. One wore a hat and one went bareheaded. When the two couples went into a restaurant, the headwaiter always first approached the girl wearing the hat, and placed her with her escort at the best table."

Cleaning Brushes Are Easily Washed

One great value of housekeeping brushes is that you can keep them clean with little trouble. Nylon or other plastic bristles shed soil quickly, so it's easy to see when they're clean all the way through.

Just wash such brushes in hot soap or detergent suds and rinses after each use, and they will always be ready for the next job.

When to Let Him Go Is Difficult Decision

By RUTH MILLETT

There comes a time in every mother's life when she should say to herself:

"It is time for me to turn my child loose. I've done my job as well as I know how. I've taught this son or daughter all that I can. I've made the way easy as long as I should. I've eased the hurts long enough. As a mother to this child my work is over. All I can do now is hope that this son or daughter I love will make the right decisions, will be able to withstand hardships and disappointments, will find joy in living."

The trouble is, of course, that it is hard for a mother to realize when the time has come to view her job as finished.

You can't set an age that is the right time for every child to be cut loose from his mother's apron strings.

But certainly by 18 most boys and girls have learned what they are going to learn from their mothers.

By 18 most boys and girls are ready to think for themselves, to make their own decisions and to get advice from their parents only when they ask for it.

By trying to be a protective mother too long, a woman either keeps her child from maturing or she makes him rebellious enough to want to do just the opposite of what she thinks is best for him.

But by turning a child loose a mother gives him a chance to find himself as an individual. And because he feels free, he will stay closer to his parents through the years than if they had tried to guide him too long.

One of the most important decisions a mother has to make is knowing when to step back and let her child go forth to meet life alone.

If you are short-waisted or short - legged, wear a blouse and sweater the same color as your skirt. It will give the illusion of stature.

The reverse is true for the tall, slim gal. Her figure will look more proportioned if she wears contrasting skirts and jackets or blouses.

Cleaning Hint

On housecleaning day, vacuum any bamboo screen or room divider with the upholstery brush.

"COMMON RELIGIOUS ERRORS NOT ENDORSED BY THE BIBLE"
Roosevelt Wells
Last week in this section we suggested that many have been led to "depart from the faith" as it pertains to the music to be used in the worship of the New Testament church, and have polluted the worship by the introduction of the "doctrines of commandments of men." This they have done by ADDING TO THE WORSHIP INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC. The writer of this article is aware of the fact that it is commonly accepted by practically, if not all, religious institutions. However, we may point out here that the individual who is endeavoring to please God does not base his practices nor his beliefs upon the common acceptance of a thing nor the beauty of the sound of a thing, nor yet the attraction it supposedly affords, but upon the word of God. But as of this writing I have never read in the "perfect law of liberty" THE COMMAND TO USE A MECHANICAL INSTRUMENT OF MUSIC IN THE WORSHIP OF THE NEW TESTAMENT church. The following statement I present for the candid consideration of those who use the instrument. If we are commanded to use Instrumental Music in the worship of the New Testament church, how do the INTRODUCERS OF SUCH account for the fact that the CHURCH OF THE FIRST CENTURY DELIBERATELY IGNORED this command while adhering strictly to ALL OTHERS? If it is admitted that it is not commanded nor used in the days of the New Testament, how do you account for its use NOW apart from, and in addition to the pattern set forth in the Bible? It is not strange that when I ask, WHY DO YOU BELIEVE IN TEACHING, IN PRAYING, IN COMMUNING, you answer, BECAUSE THE NEW TESTAMENT COMMANDS IT, BUT WHEN I ASK WHY YOU BELIEVE IN INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC (mechanical), YOU DO NOT ANSWER BECAUSE THE NEW TESTAMENT COMMANDS IT" IS NOT THIS AN ADMISSION OF THE FACT THAT SUCH IS NOT TAUGHT IN THE NEW TESTAMENT SCRIPTURES. IN VIEW OF THIS, WOULD NOT THE HONEST - HEARTED IN AN EFFORT TO PLEASE GOD, REJECT ALL SUCH INNOVATIONS AND FOLLOW THAT WHICH IS PLAINLY, UNDENIABLY AND UNQUESTIONABLY SET FORTH IN THE NEW TESTAMENT?
We are instructed to SING in the worship of the New Testament church, we are never instructed to PLAY a musical instrument. These passages set forth the truth contended for in this article: Romans 15:9; I Cor. 14:15; Eph. 5:19; Col. 3:16; Heb. 2:12. In the last passage cited, the writer says, "in the midst of the CHURCH WILL I SING praise unto thee." It is SCRIPTURAL TO SING, FOR THE BIBLE SO STATES IN THIS PASSAGE, BUT THE QUESTION IS: IS IT SCRIPTURAL TO PLAY? IN THE ABSENCE OF SCRIPTURE, I THINK NOT FOR HOW CAN A THING BE SAID TO BE SCRIPTURAL WHEN THE SCRIPTURES DO NOT ENDORSE IT? FRIENDS, THE BIBLE SAYS SING. Heb. 2:12. BELIEVETH THOU THIS?

Legless 'Bum' Still Has Fun

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bill McNally modestly describes himself as a bum, but he seems to have a lot of ambition.

He has just completed a round trip to New York. Other bums may have done the same thing, but not many bums like McNally.

He doesn't have any legs.

He lost them five years ago ago when he fell under a train.

Last April, he decided to see the country. So he rolled his wheelchair out on the road and started hitchhiking.

He reached New York in July.

"I went to the top of the Empire State Building and took a long look at the city," he said. "Then I was ready to start back."

Friday he was home again, sitting in his wheelchair on skid row. That's the only home he's got.

Asked about the trip, he said: "It wasn't hard. I'd just roll my chair up to the road and wait and wait. And pretty soon some good guy would come along and give me a lift."

U.S. Cardinals Aid Dedication

Shrine of Immaculate Conception Rite Is Set for Nov. 20

WASHINGTON (AP)—The four American cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church will take part in the dedication of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception here next month.

The shrine, under construction for the past 38 years, cost about 30 million dollars. It is the largest Catholic church in the country and, measured by cubic footage embraced, is the seventh largest religious edifice in the world.

The church is located on the campus of the Catholic University of America.

Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, will dedicate the shrine and offer Mass on the morning of Nov. 20.

Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston, will preside and preach the sermon at a Mass to be offered on the evening of the dedication.

James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles, will celebrate a Mass for priests and members of religious orders on the morning of Nov. 21.

John Cardinal O'Hara, archbishop of Philadelphia, will preside at a Mass for the laity to be offered in the shrine on the afternoon of Nov. 22.

Another Fonda Begins the Climb to Stardom

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Jane Fonda had allegedly exclaimed to a friend, "Hollywood's wonderful—they pay you for making love!"

Sitting across from me having coffee and jello, she pleaded guilty to something close to that remark.

WILSON

"I'm sure," nodded Henry Fonda's daughter, the instant star, "I'm the kind of girl who'll always fall in love with her leading man."

Not that she and Tony Perkins had actually fallen in love in making "Tall Story" but "You work so closely . . ."

"I asked Dad," she said. "I told him, 'You're playing a love scene. You can really get worked up. Do you fall in love with your leading lady?

"You know Dad." She demonstrated that Henry Fonda had become fatherly at that point. "He said, 'On the contrary, by that time they usually hate each other.'

JANE

"I said to myself—'Huh, but you have a child here who is not going to be that way!'"

Less than a year ago, Henry Fonda had modestly mentioned around town that his daughter Jane was being tested by his old friend, Josh Logan — and now Jane was under a contract for a picture a year for five years, and was being hailed everywhere as that Fresh New Talent and Pretty New Face that Hollywood, Broadway and TV all needed desperately.

Josh Logan has had quite an influence on her life.

"He was always around, having been a friend of Dad's for so long. The first time I went to his apartment, I was a shy child of 10 or 11. They served oysters for dinner. I didn't know how to say no—he just terrified me. I ate them, but I've never eaten an oyster since."

When Josh heard Henry's daughter wanted to become an actress, he let her read a scene up at his country home. Afterward, he said, "Well, I hadn't expected this" and so she was signed.

I told her that in returning from London on a Pam-Am jet recently, Fonda walked back through the plane to show me Jane's pictures in Life. Jane said that her father had apparently gone around to newsstands collecting other magazines which also ran her picture recently.

But there was one story he didn't like. A paper in Italy reported that they would do a picture together and she would play his mistress.

"Daddy hit the ceiling and wanted to sue!" she said.

However, they will do one of the TV specials together in a few months. "And I believe that if I'm lousy, Dad will tell me so."

"By the way," I said, "There's some other movie star you're supposed to resemble. Who is it—Brigitte Bardot?"

"No," Jane retorted. "It's Henry Fonda."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Many a H'wood actress who wouldn't be seen with a second-hand fur has a third-hand husband. . . . That's earl, brother.

Production Code Seal Is Withheld

NEW YORK (AP) — "Happy Anniversary," a moving picture treating premarital sexual relations in a light vein, has been denied the Production Code Authority's seal of approval.

Arthur Krim, president of United Artists, the distributing company, said the company had appealed the decision to the Production Code appeals board.

He declined to say what the company might do if the appeal is denied.

The film, starring David Niven and Mitzi Gaynor, is scheduled to open at the Victoria Theater here on Nov. 10.

"Happy Anniversary" was produced independently by Joseph Fields from a play by Fields and Jerome Chodorov which enjoyed a Broadway run under the name, "Anniversary Waltz."

The picture is the first to encounter difficulties with the Production Code since the code was loosened three years ago. Earlier, "The Moon Is Blue" and "The Man With the Golden Arm" were denied Code seals but went on to do good business.

He Talked Too Much

LINCOLN, England (UPI) — Francis Cooper, an official at an art exhibition here, looked at one of the displays approvingly yesterday and praised it for "nice texture and simple design." Then he was told the display was a typist's inky stencil, submitted by a practical joker. Cooper had "no comment."

Hollywood Headlines:

'I Wanted Better Hours,' Cried Martin, in Films

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Among the most sought-after stars in movies today is Jerry Lewis' ex-straight man, Dean Martin, who turns down four pictures a week and uncounted TV appearances.

Since splitting with Lewis, the singing foil for Jerry's jibes has starred in seven films and is forming his own production company.

Movietown figured Dean would be in the unemployment lines after the team broke up, but Martin moved from TV to dramatic roles in movies with hardly a hitch, making him one of the few video stars to switch to the big screen successfully.

"I shifted from TV to movies for a very good reason," the easy-going Dino grinned. "I wanted to live like a human being.

"In pictures I work from 8 o'clock in the morning until 6 p.m., then I go home and play with the kids. With television you work all night, and when you get through there are no retakes!"

Dean, who would rather clown than give a straight answer, grew serious about the change in his career.

LEADS DOUBLE LIFE

"I lead sort of a double life. In movies I play dramatic parts. In television I'm a comedy-singing personality. Maybe I'll mix it up a little, playing drama on TV and making a movie comedy," he said.

Martin earns more money for a single TV show than he earns a week for movies. But he says it's not the money that counts. He's aiming for critical success as an actor.

"The great actors are the ones who know their lines and listen to what the other performers are saying.

LEARNED HARD WAY

"Once you've accomplished that, the facial expressions take care of themselves. I think I've learned to act the hard way, by watching the good ones work on the set, by watching and thinking. The only real training I've had as an actor was playing poker."

Tomorrow night Dean drops his poker face to star in his first NBC-TV spectacular with Frank Sinatra and Mickey Rooney as guests.

Farmers Sell Crops for Less

Returns Drop From 80 to 79 Per Cent of Parity in Month

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Prices received by farmers for crops and livestock fell nearly 1 2-3 per cent in the month ended Oct. 15, the Agriculture Department reported Friday.

The Department's monthly farm price report also showed that the cost of production and living supplies paid for by farmers fell one third of 1 per cent during the month.

Returns to farmers in mid-October averaged 79 per cent of the "fair" parity price, the lowest since August, 1940. The mid-October figure compared with 80 per cent of parity in mid-September and 85 per cent in mid-October a year ago.

Parity is a theoretical price needed to put the value of commodities farmers sell on a par with the cost of things they must buy.

The Department said lower prices for cattle, hogs, corn, calves, eggs and grapefruit were chiefly responsible for the drop in farm prices.

Boy, 14, Takes Michigan Week Slogan Contest

EAST LANSING (AP)—A 14-year-old Lansing boy has come up with the best theme for the 1960 Michigan Week.

"Michigan — Your Opportunity" was suggested by Kent Sparkia, a newsboy for the Lansing State Journal.

His suggestion was endorsed as the official theme yesterday by a meeting of the Michigan Week Executive Board at Kellogg Center.

TV News and Reviews

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "There was much in his life that was strange and terrible, in his character something outrageous, and in his fate not a little that was pathetic."

This was Somerset Maugham's portrait of the artist as a middle-aged cad. The artist was Charles Strickland of "The Moon and Sixpence," but everyone besides Maugham concedes him to be Paul Gaugin.

Strickland-Gauguin was brought to life by Laurence Olivier on a 90-minute NBC special taped 10 months ago and televised Friday night. He again proved he is not only the best English-speaking actor but a fascinating one as well.

Olivier was at his best in early portions when he changed from the dullish London stockbroker to the amoral painter of Pairs. He played each character with vast skill and made the transition convincing.

But even Olivier couldn't transform this production of "The Moon and Sixpence" into a major triumph. The fault lies both with Maugham and producer David Susskind.

NOT A NOVEL

The story was more a chronicle of a cad than a novel. The result was a succession of scenes in which the artist uses his family and friends badly.

What drama was in the story was largely muffed by the adaptation. The narration which overlapped the scenes told much of the plot so that many important actions took place off screen.

WOMEN ARE BEASTS

The dialogue was talky with much idle philosophizing about art, life and love. Much of it seemed dated: "Women are strange little beasts." and then there was Olivier's remark to his Tahitian bride, "I shall beat you, you know." Her reply: "How else shall I know that thy love is true?"

The supporting cast was distinguished but the performances were spotty. Geraldine Fitzgerald came off best as the abandoned wife, and Denholm Elliott was right as the Maugham-like writer.

Hume Cronyn had a miserable role as the fellow artist who befriends Olivier and is betrayed by him. Jessica Tandy had little to do as the wife who deserts Cronyn for Olivier. Judith Anderson was miscast as a chuckling South Sea Mammy.

This business of re-creating old movies is hazardous. The 1943 film, "The Moon and Sixpence," had more depth and drama. The TV version had Laurence Olivier, and that was its redemption.

U.S. London Embassy Buildings Sold to Canada

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is selling its old embassy buildings on Grosvenor Square in London to Canada for $4,732,000.

Canada will take possession when the U. S. Embassy staff moves to new quarters early next year.

The State Department announced today that Canada had made the highest offer for purchase of the buildings.

Only 6,700 man-days of work were lost in Vermont during 1958 due to strikes, the lowest in the nation.

PCH Plays Halloween 'Trick' on Ferndale

Charley Brown 'Treats' Chiefs to 27-7 Victory

Switches to Fullback, Scores 3 Touchdowns Against Dales

By BILL CORNWELL

It was officially Halloween here Friday night so Pontiac Central football coach Jesse MacLeay made his fitting contribution to the party.

He "tricked" Ferndale with a secret weapon and his spirited PCH gridders "treated" their faithful followers to a rousing 27-7 triumph over the previously undefeated Dales at Wisner Stadium.

The secret weapon was simply an old face playing a new role. Charley Brown, a terrific All-State guard candidate, ran from the fullback position last night and almost single-handedly smashed Ferndale's hopes for a perfect season.

With regular fullback Joe McCauley sidelined by a knee injury, MacLeay looked around for another "horse" to make those vitally important yards up the middle. The 200-pound Brown got the nod and the Dales are still licking their wounds.

Brown, who runs with both speed and power, actually was the logical choice since he had carried the pigskin a few times for the Chiefs a year ago. But this was his first backfield fling of the 1959 campaign.

The "horse" proved his versatility by making the switch from guard to fullback in brilliant style. He churned out yardage like a wild stallion and scored three times to help his teammates knock Ferndale from the unbeaten-untied ranks.

In addition to his three touchdowns, Brown lugged the ball 27 of Central's 52 rushing plays and gained a total of 110 yards for an average of four per carry.

Ferndale scored the first touchdown of the game, but the hustling Chiefs bounced back for a 7-7 tie at halftime and pulled away after intermission, completing their final TD evening on the final play of the contest.

Central halfback Isaac Jones also played a starring role. Jones raced 71 yards for a touchdown in the 3rd quarter to give the Chiefs a 13-7 lead after they stopped a Ferndale drive on their own five yard line and this was the turning point of the game.

The Dales, rated 6th in this week's Class A high school poll with a 6-0 record, had their own version of the famous Brown name — classy junior quarterback Mike Brown — and he was nearly a one-man show for them.

Brown completed nine of 21 passes for 83 yards, including a 14-yard aerial to rangy end Bill Daniels for Ferndale's lone TD, and he picked up 40 of his team's 80 yards on the ground.

Ferndale struck pay dirt late in the 1st period. Daniels made a diving catch of Brown's toss in the end zone to complete a 60-yard drive and end Gerson Fox placekicked the 7th point.

The Chiefs evened the count early in the 2nd stanza. They recovered a fumble on the Ferndale 19 and crossed the goal line in six plays with Brown carrying the mail every time. Brown finally bulled over from four yards out and Ken Dextrom booted the tying point.

Central had three other excellent scoring chances in the 1st half, but couldn't capitalize. One drive bogged down on the Ferndale five and the others came to an end when Dextrom failed on two field goal attempts.

The Chiefs worked up a full head of steam in the 2nd half and carved out their 5th victory in seven starts to guarantee their 1st winning season since 1952 when they compiled a 4-3-1 mark under Hercules Renda.

With a 1st-and-goal on the PCH nine, Ferndale halfback Heywood Sharpley fumbled and Dextrom recovered on the five. Five plays later Jones made his 71-yard scoring dash and the 3rd period ended with PCH ahead for the 1st time, 13-7.

Central forced Ferndale to punt, then moved 53 yards for touchdown No. 3 midway through the 4th quarter. Brown climaxed the march by hammering over from the one-yard stripe and Dextrom kicked the extra point.

A dazzling run with an intercepted pass by halfback Dick McCauley set up the final PCH touchdown. The Dales were driving and had a 1st down on the PCH 14 when McCauley picked off Brown's pass on the one and streaked to the Ferndale 39.

The Chiefs promptly moved in to score with Brown slashing across from the two on the last play of the game. Dextrom converted.

In Saginaw Valley Conference action yesterday, Bay City Central stayed unbeaten with a 14-6 triumph over stubborn Saginaw and Flint Central conquered Arthur Hill, 13-6.

Waterford Is First Victim of Hungry Jays

By DICK BUCK

It was a long time in coming, but Southfield turned steady football and a few breaks into a 27-13 victory over Waterford last night on the Blue Jay gridiron.

The win snapped a seven game losing streak for the Jays and it was a decisive victory.

Southfield took to the air successfully when it failed to penetrate the Waterford line. Quarterback Phil Svalya completed 10 of 15 passes for 139 yards and one TD to keep the Waterford defense unsettled.

The Skippers, trailing 13-6 at halftime, marched to the tying touchdown from the opening kickoff in the second half. Coach Dave Freeman surprised the Jays by substituting on three consecutive plays with entirely new units.

Each unit went into the line of scrimmage without huddling and Mike Kaines climaxed the 68 yard march by going over from the one. Jim Hoke ran the tying point.

Southfield then controlled the rest of the second half and recovered a Skipper fumbled punt on the loser's 42. From here the Jays marched in 11 plays with Odom going over from the six. The PAT was kicked by Fred Penness to make it 20-13 with five seconds in third quarter.

Southfield started strongly going 68 yards in seven plays from the opening kickoff for the first TD to make it 6-0 with Svalya going one yard.

Waterford came right back to make 6-6 with a ground attack of 62 yards in 18 plays climaxed by Hoke's one yard plunge. Bill Bryce failed to run the point.

Highlight of the drive was a 4th down and 21 yards to go when Bryce passed from the 28 to Kaines to set up the TD.

Southfield started its march after the ensuing kickoff going 62 yards in nine plays early in the second quarter with Svalya passing to Lee Barringer 14 yards. Penness made the PAT.

Waterford got to the Southfield 10 before the half ended but lost the ball when John Farris recovered a Skipper fumble.

Southfield's Odom twice was helped from the field but he returned and proved to be the running star of the night.

Coach Monte Charles of Southfield, said Odom had the wind knocked out of him once and later aggravated a knee injury.

Vikings 20-14 Victors in Battle of Breaks

By CHUCK ABAIR

Capitalizing on the big breaks just as they have all year, the Vikings of Walled Lake roared from behind in the last quarter to whip Pontiac Northern 20-14 and win the Inter-Lakes championship last night.

Oakland County scoring ace Bob Christian stunned the 3,000 onlookers by stealing a short, desperation pass by Huskie quarterback Bruce Norton and scampering 46-yards untouched for what proved to be the deciding points.

Christian's alert play came with only 3:40 left in the contest and climaxed an uphill battle for the home team which had clinched at least at tie for the crown a week ago.

It was the second big break in succession that Walled Lake made count. A pushing call on a 3rd-and-eight pass play earlier in the last quarter had helped set up the 2nd Viking TD.

Mr. Christian, who boosted his personal total to 90 points, also went over for that big one hitting paydirt on a power rush from the three. A neat 13-yard quarterback-keeper play by Keith Green preceded the trip into the end zone.

Fate was bound to turn in the favor of Dave Smith's charges before the night was over. They had made all kinds of mistakes in giving Northern a big chance to pull away to a sizeable 1st half lead. But PNH was the opportunist on only one of four "gift" situations.

The Huskies recovered fumbles at the WL 32 and 35 in the 1st period but failed to go far. They fumbled the ball back on the 2nd occasion.

A high pass from center on 4th down gave the Pontiac lads possession at the home 30 early in the 2nd quarter. But Neil Salo intercepted a Norton flip on 1st down.

Northern made the 4th break good. A 57 yard punt by Jan Lawrence set Walled Lake back on its own six. PNH tackle Larry Weber pounced on a fumble on the seven on the 2nd play. Bob Hocking smashed over from the three on 3rd down and took a pass from Norton on a neat fake kick for the PAT and a 7-0 lead at the half.

Little Mike Hinkley's 26-yard punt return got Walled Lake into motion for its first drive of the night midway through the 3rd. He dashed 24, 7 and then 3 carrying in three of four plays of 38-yard drive despite an ailing back. Salo ran for the tying extra point.

Another 57-yard punt by Lawrence sparked the losers back into the lead. PNH took over at the Viking 38 following a much shorter return boot and went to paydirt in six plays—five handled by Hocking. He went over from the 17 and Dick Mineweaser just barely cleared the bar for what seemed an important extra point making it 14-7 in the opening minutes of the last stanza.

Walled Lake drove 57 yards after the ensuing kickoff as its line started to take command of the outweighed Red and White gridders. Hinkley, Salo and Green divided the balloting before Christian went over. The pushing penalty solved the only problem of the march. Salo's 2nd conversion evened things again at 14-14.

Northern had moved to a 1st down on the ground and then lost two yards before Norton was caught trying to pass. While off balance, he tried to lob the ball to a nearby teammate but "Chris" easily ran between the pair, snatched the pigskin and went all the way.

The champs completed their domination of the closing 10 minutes by intercepting a Norton serial on the 1st play the next time Pontiac got the ball. They had reached the PNH 24 when play came to a halt.

Pleased winning coach Smith summed up the evening well with the comment: "We did everything wrong early and almost gave them the game but came back when we had to just as we have all year." He had high praise for the all around play of Christian and his entire defensive line featuring John Van Sicklen and Tom Kretzchmar.

Downcast Northern Boss Ed Heikkinen was pleased with his boys but said: "We were outmanned." The running of Hocking and fullback George Grave and defensive work of Don Davis and Dick Harmon gave Huskie fans plenty to cheer about. Lawrence finished with a 48.2 punting average for five kicks.

It was Walled Lakes 7th straight victory and Northern's 3rd setback in seven games. Each has non-league games remaining.

Dixons Scores Only TD on 40 Yard Dash in 4th Quarter

Rochester won the Tri-County league title last night by nipping Romeo, 7-0 before a standing room crowd on the Romeo gridiron.

The Falcons hit for the winning tally with only six minutes remaining in the game when Reggie Dixon went 40 yards up the middle on a trap play.

John Cadiuex passed to Bill Dineen for the point.

It was a hard hitting game with 11 fumbles, six by Romeo, which got to the Rochester 18 late in the contest but lost the ball on downs. A pass from Ron Schmidt was dropped by a Romeo receiver on the five yard line.

The first half saw Rochester march to the Romeo goal line but a fumble rolled into the end zone and guard Bob Donaldson recovered for Romeo just before the half.

This was Rochester's 5th straight victory since losing to Farmington in the second game of the season.

Next week, the Falcons play host to Pontiac Northern in a non-league affair.

Other tri-County league teams were drubbed last night. Lapeer lost 37-0 to Flint Southwestern and L'Anse Creuse was beaten by Roseville, 21-13.

Thumb League Forecast Overlooked Anchor Bay

Picked to finish last, Anchor Bay clinched a title tie and made it six in a row in the league and 7-0 for the season in drubbing Armada, 25-2.

Almont, the defending league champ, took it on the chin for third time by losing, 12-6 to Brown City, while New Haven shutout Capac, 20-0 and Memphis drubbed Dryden, 26-0.

Bob Stanek scored on a 44 yard pass play from Leonard Leader, while Dick Rivard went 4 and 32 yards, and Greg Shuster 4 yards for Anchor Bay.

All three New Haven scores came in the last quarter with Bob Mack going 20, Gerry Harris 45 and Joe Kozub 30 on a pass.

Brown City hit fast by getting both touchdowns in the first two minutes. Pete Lints went 70 yards on the opening kickoff and Mc Allister went 65 on a pass interception.

Dick Howe plunged one yard for Almont in the third quarter as he personally rang up 104 yards rushing.

Pistons to Tangle With Wilt Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two of the National Basketball Assn.'s most highly regarded rookies — Detroit's Bailey Howell and Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain — meet head on here for the first time tonight.

Both former All-Americas have performed brilliantly in the infant NBA season. The 7-foot-2 Chamberlain, who played last year for the Harlem Globetrotters, made his NBA debut last week by scoring 43 points for the Warriors.

Howell was the Pistons' star in their home opener Wednesday when he scored 22 points in a victory over Syracuse.

South Lyon Wins 34-8

South Lyon whipped Boys Vocational last night 34-8 with Harold Schoate seoring three touchdowns on runs of 32, 7 and 40 yards.

The other two South Lyon scores were made by the Wren brothers Jack and Dave who went 3 and 14 yards respectively. Jack kicked all four placements.

Imlay Gets Scare

Oxford Dunks Ortonville

Oxford finally got back on the winning road last night in handing Ortonville a 19-0 setback.

Four weeks ago the Wildcats were perched high in state Class B rankings. Since that time they lost two and tied one before knocking off Ortonville, a team which has been shutout five times in its seven straight losses.

The win moved Oxford into second place in the South Central League pushing out Millington which lost a 6-0 verdict to Imlay City.

In the third quarter Val Sausser passed 41 yards to Doug Stott and Jim Casey ran the point to make it 13-0.

Sausser finished a long march in the fourth quarter by hitting from the five yard line to end the scoring.

Imlay City rolled all over the statistical column but managed only one tally. The score came in the second quarter as Dick McKee passed to Pete Brabb covering 60 yards.

Imlay rushed for 176 yards to a minus-4 for Millington but in the penalty column Imlay also led, 180 yards to 40.

Imlay, the second rated team in the state class C rankings, stands 5-0 in the league and 7-0 for the season.

Dondero Triumphs, 20-0

Royal Oak Dondero defeated Highland Park 20-0 in Border Cities League game last night. John Meadows took a pass from Howie Bryant for 20-yard touchdown play. Bob Lazotte ran the other two touchdowns of 2 and 3 yards.

Ron Orlichowski kicked both placements for Dondero.

Farmington QB Paces Victory

Quarterback Harvey Chapman put on a second half show by scoring touchdowns on runs of 51, 3 and 37 yards to lead Farmington to a 24-12 win over Berkley in an Inter-Lakes game yesterday afternoon.

Chapman also took part in the other Farmington TD. After Berkley took a 6-0 lead on a 7 yard run by Eric Gentile, Chapman intercepted a pass in the second period at midfield. He ran 20 yards lateralled to Jim Wall who went the rest of the way for the 30 yard scoring play.

Avon Still in Running for Crown; Keego Doomed for 2nd Again

JUST IN TIME — That's when Walled Lake quarterback Keith Green (16) got rid of the ball to Bob Christian (25) on this 3rd quarter play as he was about to be smeared by Northern's Bob Hocking. "Chris" was belted out of bounds on the three for a gain of three. Mike Hinkley went over from there for a 7-7 tie. The Vikings went on to win 20-14 and clinch the Inter-Lakes championship.

Jackets Defeat Clawson 20-6 Stay Unbeaten

Lake Orion Upsets Troy 20-13 in Tight Duel

Unpredictable Lake Orion rose up to whip Troy 20-13 in the only other league contest.

Herb Harris, a standout every game, had one of his greatest to lead Avon. He scored the 3rd touchdown on a seven-yard pass from Dick Smith, booted two extra points, caught a total of five passes—two of them the circus type—and excelled as a linebacker. Walt Cooley was another defensive star.

Despite a makeshift backfield due to injuries, the Jackets moved the ball well compiling 357 net yards sparked by the hustling Smith.

Smith put the initial points on the scoreboard with a 2-yard sneak in the second period. Bud Peel countered from the line to make it 14-0 at halftime. The Harris tally followed in the 4th. Each TD followed a sustained drive.

Clawson prevented a shutout by crossing the goal line with six seconds to play on a Jerry Eno-to-Gary Boss pass climaxing a 62-yard march against the Avondale reserves.

Orion's last home game of the season was a ding-dong affair featuring an early lead for favored Troy.

The Colts got the quick edge in the opening period when Jim DePauw powered his way into the end zone from the one. Tim Alban matched that with a two-yarder and Roger Williams flipped to Larry Thompson for the PAT which ended the quarter 7-6 and gave the home team an advantage it never relinquished.

A four-yard plunge and extra point run by Craig Hawn moved the Dragons in from 14-6 in the 3rd canto. Williams had connected with Dave Perry on a 40-yard pass completion to set it up.

Troy bounced right back with quarterback star Rick McKinnon going to work in the 4th. He fired through the air to Pete Davidson for a 60-yard touchdown play and added the point after making it 14-13.

Orion got an insurance tally with three minutes remaining. With the ball at the Troy 45, Williams hit Gary Hunter for a six-pointer. The determined Colts took the ensuing kickoff and drove to the LO 10 before being pushed back to the 20 at the final whistle.

Maples Bounce East Detroit in EML Clash

RO Kimball Gains, 19-6 Victory Over Hurons in League Play

Birmingham, the preseason favorite in the Eastern Michigan League, closed out conference action last night by dumping East Detroit, 13-7 to assure itself of at least only a disappointing third place.

The Maples hit pay dirt for the first time in the third quarter when Chuck Hartung ran 13 yards set up by a pass interception by Phil Isbell on the E. Detroit 35. Isbell made it 7-0 with the point.

The Shamrocks took the following kickoff and marched 80 yards climaxed on a pass from Bill MacGillivray to Dennis Kline for seven yards. MacGillivray ran the point.

In the 4th quarter quarterback George Forrest when 14 yards on an option, after he had run a punt back from the E. Detroit 35 to the 15.

The Maples muffed another chance to score by fumbling on the visitors one yard line in the final period.

In other EML games, Royal Oak Kimball spanked Port Huron, 19-6 and Mt. Clemens defeated Hazel Park, 13-7.

Ron Sparrow got two of Kimball's scores on three and 20 yard runs with Gary Wirth adding the other on a 65 yard punt return.

Hazel Park's TD on the last play of the game was on a pass from Dick Gyde to Frank Stagg with Dick Dolinski running the point.

Northville Sure of Tie for W-O Honors; Holly Bows at Milford, 13-7

Another one-sided West Bloomfield victory was offset by Northville's weekly triumph as the Wayne-Oakland League race followed its familiar pattern again last night.

Now the stage is set for the Mustangs to clinch their 4th straight championship next Friday against hapless Clarenceville.

West Bloomfield belted Bloomfield Hills 26-0 in its home final en route to another runnerup position. Northville exploded in the 3rd quarter to blank Clarkston 27-0, while Milford was tripping Holly 13-7 and Brighton was outscoring Clarenceville, 26-13.

John Long and Jack Newton divided the four Keego Harbor touchdowns while two other good threats were wasted. Bloomfield never threatened despite making 10 1st downs.

Long started the scoring in the 2nd quarter taking a short pass from Denis Alix to end a 53-yard march. Alix flipped to Newton for the PAT.

The other Long TD followed in the same period when the fleet end intercepted a pass and ran it back 57 yards to paydirt. Newton got his six-pointers from 21 and 20 yards out in the 3rd quarter. Wayne Ross added an extra point.

Clarkston, which could do very well offensively against the strong Northville defense, held the defending champs scoreless until a 24-yard gallop by reserve Tom Darling broke the ice in the 2nd quarter. The half ended 7-0.

Gary Morgan smashed over from the four and Atchinson scooted into the end zone enabling the home team to pull away in the 3rd period. Atchinson and end Joe Gotro worked a 60-yard pass play for the other. Wade Deal booted three extra points.

Bob Porritt and John Parks were standouts on defense. Northville wrapped up a tie for the crown.

Milford trailed for three quarters before sparkplug Gene Schuett climaxed a 90-yard drive by sweeping around end from the nine to score.

Schuett had accounted for the other Redskin points in the 3rd quarter taking a 35-yard aerial from Bob Lawrence in the end zone.

An early Holly tally by Bob Harmes and his placement kick had stood up until Schuett's 2nd six-pointer. A fumble recovery at the 40 had started the Bronco drive with Harmes bucking across from the one.

Holly got a last-ditch bid going and reached the MHS 40 before an interception ended it.

Ira Murchison to Run Again

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—Fleet Ira Murchison, given a 50-50 chance to live four months ago, has his heart set on running again — perhaps in time to make next summer's Olympics in Rome.

Murchison, stricken early this year by amebic dysentery, said he plans to re-enter Western Michigan in February for the final semester of studies leading to his degree.

The fleet-co-holder of world records in the 60-yard and 100-meter dashes said he has rebuilt himself to his old running weight of 135 pounds. He weighed only 84 pounds while recovering last summer from surgery to correct organic complications arising from his disease.

"My greatest wish is to be able to run again with the hope that I'll be helping myself as well as showing other young athletes that illnesses and misfortune can be overcome," Murchison said in a visit to the Western Michigan campus this week.

Murchison, who lives in Chicago, was a Gold Medal winner in the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne.

California Rejects Moore-Olson Fight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bobo Olson must get in line and fight his way to the top before the California Athletic Commission will approve his bid for another crack at Archie Moore's light heavyweight title.

The commission yesterday unanimously rejected a San Francisco Boxing Club request for sanction of a Moore-Olson title fight here in January.

The two met once before, on June 22, 1955. Olson, then the world middleweight champ, was knocked out in the third round.

When he came out of retirement in 1958 Olson said he never should have been allowed to fight Moore. He said he was just an average sized middleweight and Moore was an oversized light heavy.

Yep, Those Drugs Must Really Be for 'Miracles'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's hospital list was down, and its hopes up, as the Bucks awaited Saturday's Big Ten clash with Michigan State.

"With these new miracle drugs you get amazing results," Coach Woody Hayes said, as fullback Bob White returned to duty after a shoulder separation, and tackles Jim Tyrer and Dick Michael stepped back into the starting tackle spots after a week of ankle-injury limping.

Based on the statistics, however the miracle drugs needed most by the bruised and battered Bucks are something to bolster their offense which has produced only one touchdown in the last four games, and three this season.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Johnny Hayes, who covered the distance in two hours, 55 minutes, 18.4 seconds in 1908, is the only American ever to win the Olympic marathon race.

Aerials Rip Titans, 21-9; Kentucky Beats Miami

DETROIT (AP) — Boston College rode the accurate passing arm of little Johnny Amabile for three swift touchdown strikes for a 21-9 victory over Detroit Friday night.

The 5-8 quarterback, whose faking sent his receivers into the clear time after time, connected on long distance for all the Eagle touchdowns.

Twice he passed to Lou Kirouac for touchdowns in the second half on tosses of 31 and 35 yards. A 13-yard aerial to Bill Robinson accounted for the Eagles' second quarter touchdown after Detroit had forged ahead on Dennis Woods' 30-yard field goal.

The Eagles marched 72, 78 and 90 yards for their touchdowns, and Amabile's strike gulped up practically all the yardage. The Eagles gained 243 yards in the three marches, and rushing provided only 12 yards of the total.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two dazzling touchdown runs by Calvin Bird fired up Kentucky Friday night and the underdog Wildcats overran Miami's Hurricanes 22-3 in the Orange Bowl.

Bird, a 190-pound halfback, returned a punt 55 yards in the first period and raced 38 yards through the Miami line in the fourth. Kentucky's other touchdown was scored easily after a fumble recovery a yard from the Hurricane goal.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tulane stormed back on Howard Kisner's field goal and quarterback Phil Nugent's touchdown pass in the second half for a fog-shrouded 17-7 football victory over Texas Tech Friday night.

The teams shared a 7-7 deadlock at halftime but Tulane found the range in the third quarter and went ahead on Kisner's 16-yard boot.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Howard Dyer tossed three touchdown passes to Dick Evans Friday night as Virginia Military Institute added an aerial punch to its slashing ground attack for a 28-6 victory over George Washington.

Quarterback Dyer connected with Evans on throws of 13, 32 and 21 yards for scores after Sam Horner had dashed six yards off tackle to put VMI ahead in the opening period.

Morrall Gets Nod Against Ex-Mates

Lions Go After Second Victory on West Coast

Ex-MSU Quarterback Earns Starting Call Against 49ers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Quarterback Earl Morrall who leads the Detroit Lions against the surprising 49ers Sunday at Kezar Stadium would like nothing better than to beat San Francisco.

"I think we can go all the way now without losing any more," the former Michigan State All-American declared after the Lions broke a four-game loss string last Sunday with a 17-7 victory over Los Angeles.

Morrall knows the 49ers first hand. The club drafted him after he finished his collegiate playing in 1955 and he was their second string signal caller the following season.

Then in 1957 he was traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers. That year the 49ers tied with Detroit for the Western Conference championship only to lose 31-27 in a playoff.

Last year, Morrall was traded to Detroit.

Morrall took over the starting quarterback from Tobin Rote last week and paced the victory over the Rams. He gets the starting job against his former teammates this time.

John Gordy will also be the man on the Spot tomorrow for the Lions It'll be Gordy's task to keep Leo Nomellini from charging into the Lions' backfield.

Nomellini is the man of 255 pounds of muscle who spent so much time there two weeks ago at Briggs Stadium. The Lions never will forget that 34-13 defeat by the 49ers.

Browns-Colts in Big NFL Battle

Pro Master Meets His Pupil

By United Press International

The answer will come when coach Weeb Ewbank's Baltimore Colts (4-1) entertain coach Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns (3-2) in Sunday's key National Football League game. The result will affect both division races.

Brown, one of football's finest coaches, has a good quarterback in Milt Plum. Ewbank, who served five years as a Cleveland line coach under Brown, has a brilliant signal-caller in John Unitas.

The oddsmakers vote for the Ewbank-Unitas combination, tabbing the Colts stout, 7½ point favorites. Seldom, if ever, have the Browns been such underdogs.

The San Francisco forty-niners, who share the Western division lead with Baltimore, and the New York Giants, leading the second-place Browns and Philadelphia Eagles by a game in the East, also are heavy favorites for home games. San Francisco is favored over the Detroit Lions (1-4) by seven points and New York is favored over the Green Bay Packers (3-2) by 6½.

Philadelphia entertains the Washington Redskins (2-3) and is favored by eight points. The Rams (2-3) are favored over the Chicago Bears (1-4) by seven and the Pittsburgh Steelers (2-3) are four-point choices to down the Cardinals (1-4) at Chicago in the other games.

A sellout crowd of 57,557 will cram Memorial Stadium to watch Unitas, Lenny Moore, Alan Ameche Raymond Berry and Baltimore's other offense stars battle a Cleveland defensive unit that has allowed only 48 points.

Unitas, considered the league's top current passer, leads in touchdown tosses with 13 and in aerial yardage with 1,147. Plum sparkled against Washington last Sunday with four touchdown passes but Baltimore's defense, which leads in pass interception with 19, figures to be much tougher.

Jim Brown, Cleveland's fullback, probably is the league's most explosive runner but the Colts also have an outstanding fullback in Ameche.

Cleveland has been an outstanding road team over the years but tackles a Baltimore club that has won 10 of its last 11 home games.

Coach Vince Lombardi, an assistant for five years under coach Jim Lee Howell of New York, hopes to guide his Packers to victory over his former boss. More than 60,000 will watch the Giants-Packers game at Yankee Stadium. Frank Gifford, New York's all-league left halfback, is sidelined with rib injuries.

The crippled Redskins tackle a Philadelphia club that erased a 24-0 deficit in edging the Cardinals last Sunday, 28-24. Quarterbacks Eddie Lebaron and Ralph Guglielmi are among the injured Washington players.

Seek 15 Extra Days

More Race Dates Asked

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit's two year. State commissioner James thoroughbred race tracks are asking 132 days of racing next season, the same they asked for this H. Inglis limited the 1959 season to 117 days.

Hazel Park and the Detroit Race Course have petitioned for 66 days each, with DRC opening May 16, a week earlier than this season, and Hazel Park closing Oct. 15, two weeks later than in 1959.

Three harness tracks have applied for 54 to 60 nights, Hazel Park asking 58 beginning April 22; Northville, 60, beginning June 6, and Wolverine, 54, beginning Aug. 1. If granted this would boost harness racing from 126 to 172 nights here.

Jackson Raceway, a harness track, has not yet applied for dates. Jackson promoters have indicated they would move elsewhere for the 1960 season.

Inglis said he would reach no decision for at least two weeks on the various requests.

Houston Franchise After Top Coach

HOUSTON (AP) — The newly-named Oilers of Houston will have a million dollar budget in their first attempt to hit pay dirt in the American Football League.

So said Texas oil millionaire K. S. (Bud) Adams, owner of the professional club, yesterday.

'The Ox' Scores Win Over Ortega

NEW YORK (AP) — Florentino (The Ox) Fernandez kept marching forward with superior strength and heavier firing power Friday night to win a split 10-round decision over Gaspar Ortega for his 22nd straight victory.

It was the unbeaten Cuban's second straight over the Mexican Indian whom he had dropped twice while winning a unanimous decision Sept. 11 at Miami Beach. Fernandez, a wild and savage puncher, couldn't floor Ortega in this one—a bitter battle at Madison Square Garden.

They fought after the bell in the second and 10th rounds as the crowd of 4,500 paying $11,000 waved Mexican and Cuban flags and changed in unison "Fer-nan-dino" and "Or-tega."

Judge Frank Forbes scored it 6 2-2 for Fernandez and Judge Jack Gordon scored it in Fernandez' favor 5-4-1. Referee Al Berl scored it 5-4-1 in favor of Ortega.

Mikes, Eaglets Duel Tonight

St. Fred Plays Sunday Against Winless Irish

Both Games at Wisner; Shamrocks in Struggle for 3rd Place

St. Michael, fresh from a 54-7 rout of crosstown rival St. Frederick, hopes its momentum doesn't bog down tonight in a Suburban Catholic League football game with Orchard Lake St. Mary at Wisner Stadium.

Third place and a possible shot at 2nd will be at stake when the two teams line up for the kickoff at 7:30 p.m.

The Mikes and Eaglets are tied for 3rd spot with 3-2 records while Ferndale St. James holds the runnerup position at 4-1.

If the Dales should stumble Sunday afternoon against visiting St Rita of Detroit, the St. Mike-Orchard Lake winner would move into a tie for runnerup honors.

St. Fred, hoping to rebound from one of the worst beatings in its history last Sunday, also sees action tomorrow on the Wisner gridiron.

The Rams, with a 1-4 SCL record, try to avoid sharing the conference cellar when they meet the only winless club in the loop, Royal Oak St. Mary.

The hapless Irish have scored only three touchdowns all season while yielding a monstrous 281 points.

Despite the bad beating a week ago, St. Fred will be heavily favored to whip the boys from Royal Oak and keep their heads above basement water. Starting time is 2:30 p.m.

St. Benedict of Highland Park leading the SCL pack with a spotless 5-0 record, is a strong choice to conquer St. Clement tomorrow at Highland Park and continue rolling to a 2nd consecutive title.

In other parochial games Sunday, undefeated Shrine of Royal Oak guns for the West Side crown at Wyandotte St. Patrick and St. Francis Xavier furnishes the opposition for Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows at Farmington.

Wings Juggle Lines Tonight

MONTREAL (AP)—The staggering Detroit Red Wings have rejuggled their lines for tonight's game with the Montreal Canadiens, the only National Hockey League team they've failed to beat.

Little-used Jack McIntyre was moved into the left wing slot on McNeill. McNeill's wife, Joan, 24, died yesterday of polio in a Detroit hospital and he returned home.

Coach Sid Abel said he intends to use four lines against the first place Canadiens, probably switching defenseman Red Kelly to forward for one night only.

Detroit's visit to Montreal is the final stop in a three-game road trip.

Triple Crown Winner War Admiral Is Dead

The 25-year-old son of Man O' War died yesterday at Hamburg Place here after a two-day illness. No cause of death was announced.

It was Nov. 1, 1938, when War Admiral, voted the previous season's "Horse of the Year," took on Seabiscuit in the $15,000 Pimlico Special.

The 40,000 fans bet War Admiral a 1-4 favorite as the pair walked to the starting line.

Seabiscuit, usually a slow starter, got the jump on his opponent and led by a length into the first turn, but War Admiral began a move as the two went into the backstretch and closed the gap.

The two turned for home and Seabiscuit moved away slowly. Charlie Kurtsinger went to the whip aboard War Admiral. It was too late. War Admiral was beaten by a clear three lengths.

Seabiscuit, bought only three years earlier by Charles S. Howard for $7,500, paid $6.40 to those who backed him in the mile and three-sixteenths race. His time was 1:56 3-5.

War Admiral's career, beside the match race, reads like a story book. Like his sire, he liked the winning end of the field and came home first 21 times in 26 starts. He was out of the money only once.

In 1937, he won racing's Triple Crown, the Kentucky Derby, Belmont Stakes and Preakness, and won Horse of the Year honors.

Retiring to stud, War Admiral produced 13 winners of more than $100,000 for the late Samuel D. Riddle, his owner. After Riddle's death, War Admiral's ownership was transferred to the Riddle Memorial Hospital, Media, Pa.

He will be buried in Man O' War park here, a wish made known by Riddle before his death.

Syracuse Nats Defeat Royals

Twyman Scores Forty Points for Losers in 136-127 Contest

By The Associated Press

Twyman, who's the big gun in the Royal attack, scored 47 points last night—but Cincinnati lost.

The Syracuse Nats, taking an early lead, defeated the Royals 136-127 to grab third place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn. It was the only game scheduled.

The winning Nationals divided their scoring well. Larry Costello was high for the team with 29 points, but Johnny Kerr got 22, Dolph Schayes 21 and Bob Hopkins 20.

Costello led the Nationals to a 73-64 halftime lead, and although Cincinnati narrowed the gap to five points in the third period, it never could get closer.

Syracuse's 136 points set a one-team scoring record for the Cincinnati Garden, and the 263-total for the two teams bettered an old mark of 235.

Lubanski Heads Entry List in Match Tourney

CHICAGO (AP)—A field of 109 men from 20 states, headed by defending champion Ed Lubanski of Detroit, already has entered the world's individual match game bowling meet here Dec. 2-11.

Within the next 10 days, the men's field will be completed at 128 and the women's field at 64.

Kenneth Olsons Remodel Farmhouse

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

For 32 years the Kenneth Olsons lived in Birmingham. Recently they have maintained a home in Vero Beach, Florida. The Olsons are raising three grandchildren and winter, minus the annoyances that cold weather brings (boots, snowsuits, for instance), was better endured down south.

But they wanted a farm for summer living. And that farm had to be in Michigan. After long years of searching they found 132 acres of land on Reese road, northwest of Clarkston, with a house on it that measures its life in the century class.

A year ago this summer the Olsons, plus the grandchildren, moved into their remodeled and reconstructed farmhouse. John and Mark are eleven and eight respectively; Lindy is nine. Two four-footed members of the family are Senor, a chihuahua, and Rob Roy, a magnificent collie. Rob Roy stays behind when the family makes its annual pilgrimage south.

Workmen were still putting the finishing touches on the house when the Olsons moved in. The entire south wing of the building had been torn down and rebuilt. But the house for the most part was well preserved. Instead of nails to hold the 8 by 8 beams together, there were pegs.

Mrs. Olson drew all plans for the remodeling. Local carpenters did the work. Interior decorating has been an avocation with Mrs. Olson and she put all her knowledge to work in planning color schemes and furniture.

STAIRS WIDENED

The front entrance is in the north wing. Just inside the door stairs rise to the second floor. These are wider than the original stairs and less steep. But the original balustrade is preserved. At the top a tiny bouquet of artificial flowers is tied around the post.

There is blue and white wallpaper in the lower hallway and up the stairs. Back in one corner is a grandfather's clock.

In the fashion of houses of the 19th Century, the parlor was small. Behind it was the parlor bedroom and at one side was another small bedroom. These three rooms have been thrown together to make a beautiful, spacious living-dining room.

The five single windows at the front and side were kept, but the Olsons added two small-paned picture windows at the rear. All of these, except the the dining room one, are dressed in sheer white ruffled curtains. Glass shelves filled with antique glassware in many colors decorate the remaining window. Plants add a bit of greenery.

The original woodwork with new white paint does duty as it has ever since the house was built. Walls now are Wedgwood blue to match the wall-to-wall carpeting. The ceiling is white.

Most of the furniture in this living room is antique. A rocker and love seat are upholstered in amethyst mohair. One low lady's chair with tall back is beige with a floral design on the back.

On the baby grand piano there is a patchwork silk velvet throw that is as old as the house. On one wall a large intricately carved walnut cabinet dominates the space. In the center there is closed storage while at each end there are shelves with little railings. A pair of cranberry glass vases is placed on top. Other vases and bric-a-brac stand on the lower shelves.

At the rear end of the room is a Lawson sofa. The blue and white upholstery with touches of pink and lavender repeats the colors of the entire room. The day we took pictures there was a vase of blue and purple delphinium on the coffee table in front of the sofa. Behind the sofa is a Duncan Phyfe table.

Between the kitchen and the main part of the house is the family room. Stone from the farm was used to make a large fireplace. The day after the mason finished laying this stone he died. An old hand-hewn beam is used for the mantel.

All the furnishings in this room are serving a second generation. The Olsons' own children grew up with them. There are sturdy maple chairs, drop leaf tables, a big black leather chair and a red platform rocker. One other chair is a black Hitchcock model.

KNOTTY CEDAR

There is knotty cedar paneling on the walls with a farm scene paper above. The floor is tiled in a woodgrain pattern with a multi-color braided rug over it. There are plants on the wide window sill in front of the red curtains.

Knotty cedar is used in the kitchen for walls and cupboards. Hardware is black. Little shutters close the pass-through to the family room. Counter tops are Formica in a wood grain pattern. There are half swinging doors to both hall and utility room.

The floor is beige with coral, green and blue stars in it. There are built-in bins for storage and a lazy susan cupboard in the corner. Canisters are jugs painted white with blue tops.

One wonders why our ancestors who had poor heating facilities built rooms with fifteen-foot ceilings. The Olsons' bedroom has windows that come within a few inches of the baseboards and a ceiling

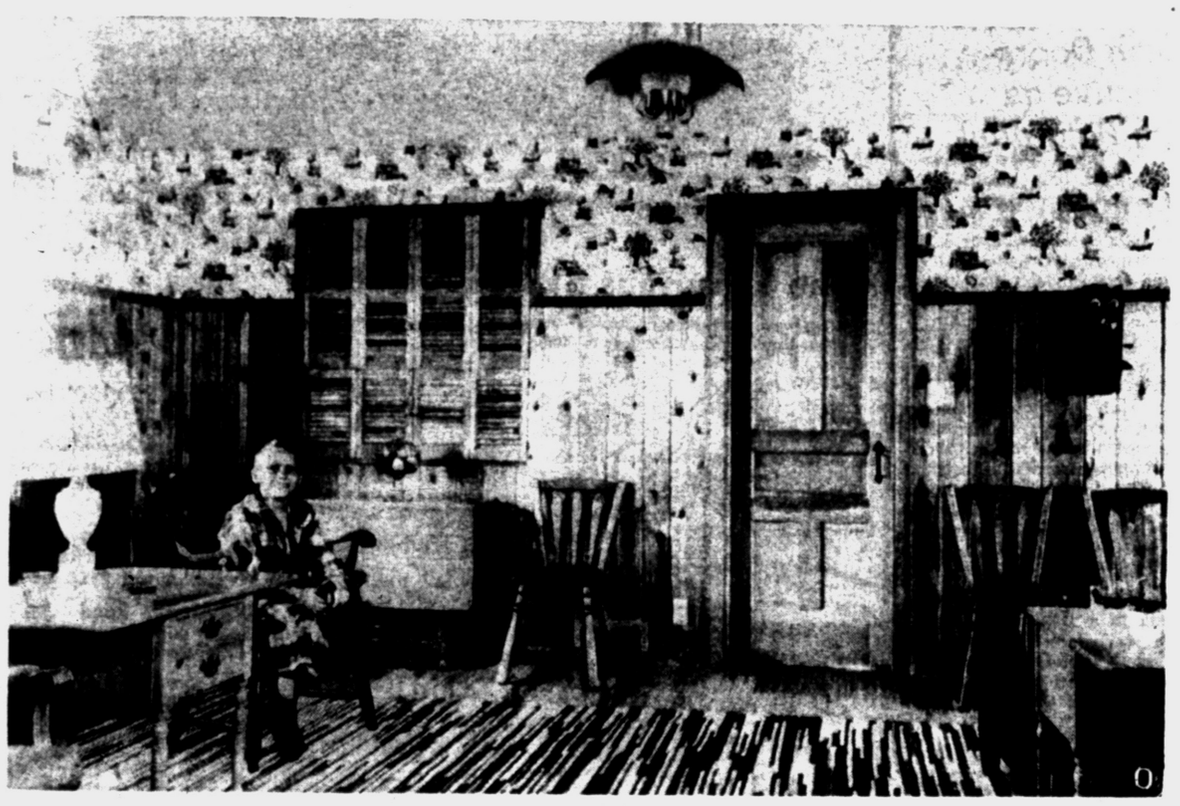
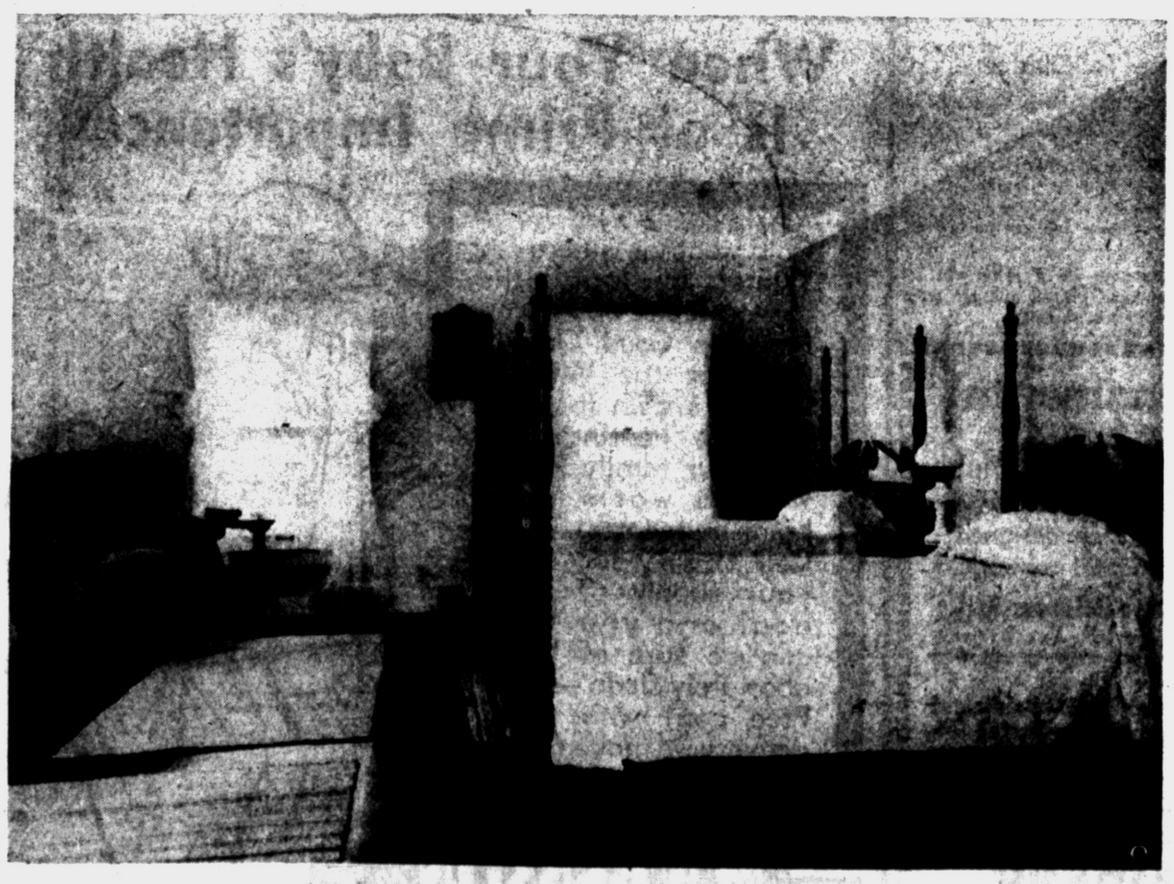
IT'S BEEN REMODELED — The right wing of this farmhouse dates back about a hundred years. The south wing of the original house was torn down and rebuilt. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Olson and their three grandchildren live here during the summer months. Mrs. Olson drew all the plans for remodeling, hired local carpenters to do the work. The Olson house is on Reese road, northwest of Clarkston.

Pontiac Press Photos

BLUE AND WHITE — Wedgewood blue and white are the colors Mrs. Olson chose for the large living room-dining room area. Walls and carpeting are blue. Woodwork which is original, ceiling and curtains are white. Accessory touches are pink and lavender. Much of the furniture is antique. Note the handsome pair of mahogany lyre tables on each side of the purple mohair love seat. All the pictures in this room are originals. The bouquet of delphinium on the coffee table was in perfect harmony with the rest of the room, repeating its shades of blue and lavender.



FAMILY ROOM — Young Mark was home from school with the flu when we took pictures of the Olson house. He took time out from watching TV to pose for us in the family room. Here everything is geared to the children's activities. The furniture has lasted through an older generation of Olson youngsters. Walls are knotty cedar. The floor is vinyl tile with a hit and miss rag rug on it. That shuttered opening is a pass-through to the kitchen. There's a wonderful big fireplace in this room.



HIGH CEILING — Fifteen feet from floor to curved ceiling. To dramatize the high sweep of space the Olsons chose blue and white paper in a flower and bird design for the ceiling with a tiny print paper below the molding. There are striped hooked rugs on the wide board floors. Dust ruffles are purple as is the little velvet cushion in the wing chair. Bedspreads and ruffled curtains are white.

All Houses Fall Into Four Types

The 300,000 families who took to the road right after Labor Day, in pursuit of homes they'll buy before all the autumn leaves have fallen, will help put 1959 into the record book as one of the best housing years on record.

Although the styles on homes built this autumn may differ between mountain ranges and among price ranges, one of the country's leading roofing authorities contends there are only four basic types.

Each basic type, says Clarence Hausmann of Allied Chamical's Barrett Building Materials Division, can be varied to a particular style—ranch, bungalow, Cape Cod, Tudor colonial, Early American and Georgian—but its construction will follow one of four patterns:

Ranch style. The one-story. All of the habitable rooms are on one floor. The roof usually is pitched low because there is no headroom requirement between the ceiling and the roof. The height may vary according to the desired exterior design.

The story-and-a-half. Here habitable rooms are on two floors, one above the other, and the roof usually is high-pitched with the eave just above the first floor window. The high roof, built of the conventional three-tab fire-resistant asphalt shingles, houses the second floor and because of its pitch, the room area under it is smaller than the room below.

Traditional. The two-story. In this type habitable rooms are on two floors, one above the other, and its floors usually are of the same square footage. Its upstairs rooms usually have level ceilings, and the roof sits on top of the upstairs rooms.

Split-level. Here habitable rooms are on three or more levels, each level being about a half flight up or down from its adjacent level. The grade level, with its concrete floor, usually is occupied by the garage, a play or family room and other areas for informal living. The living and dining rooms and the kitchen are on the next highest level. The next level up provides bedroom space, and occasionally, still another level above offers additional bedroom space.

To Check Squareness

House and a Half Offers Flexible Space Allotment

By DAVID L. BOWEN

If you are a professional man in search of a residence that can double as an office, or if you simply have a big family that needs plenty of space to knock around in, this highly flexible design may fill your bill of particulars.

Loosely speaking, it's a house and a half. The basic main section is a big rectangle of 1,872 square feet containing four bedrooms, sunken living room, dining room and large kitchen.

A wing coming off this main section toward the street contains an additional 683 square feet that can be adapted to serve as:

1. A doctor's office, with access for the doctor from house and garage, two treatment rooms, lavatories, and large waiting room with separate front entrance near the garage.

2. A dentist's office with similar access from the main house, a treatment room, X-ray room, lavatories, and waiting room with separate entrance.

3. A parsonage, with large room for minister's study and small group meetings, and office and reception area. This alternate has access from main house foyer in addition to separate front entrance.

For non-professional families, the area is made an integral part of the house proper and contains a recreation room separated from kitchen by an iron railing divider, plus a maid's room or hobby room, lavatory and laundry space.

The house is X-82 in the House of the Week series and was designed by Architect Herman H. York.

EFFICIENT LAYOUT

In the main section, a generous foyer leads to a sunken living room which features a 12-foot bow window overlooking the rear yard.

The dining room, up one step from the living room, opens on the big side terrace through sliding glass doors. A three-way fireplace serves both the living room and dining room.

The sleeping section has four bedrooms linked with a minimum of hall space. A private bath for the master bedroom is provided in addition to the main bath.

Centrally located to accommodate all areas is the oversized kitchen. It has a breakfast bar, built-in barbecue grill and huge area for family dining.

BRICK ADDS INTEREST

Wood sawn shingles are suggested by the architect for all exterior walls. Brick veneer adds accent and interest to the front facade and a brick wall is carried past the end of the house to create a long horizontal line. A brick plant box with an overhead wood trellis attracts attention at the front entrance.

The over-all length of the building is 86' 6" by 54' 5". The connected two-car garage covers 428 square feet. In order to shorten the width of lot required, the garage doors can be shifted from the side wall to the front wall.

Flush Doors Effective as Fire Retardant

Solid wood flush doors of the kind used in many homes today have an effective fire resistance of approximately one-half hour, it has been demonstrated in tests at the U.S. Forest Products Laboratory, Madison, Wis.

The doors tested were not treated with fire-resistant material nor did they have special design features, such as those sometimes utilized to improve fire resistance.

Sponsored by the National Woodwork Manufacturers Association, the tests involved seven doors, each 1¾ inches thick, of 5-ply construction, with a face and a crossband veneer ply glued to either side of a lumber core.

Each door was installed to swing in a frame so that one side was exposed to flames in a special testing furnace. Five doors had steel frames and two had fire-retardant treated wood frames.

It took from 26.9 minutes to 44.8 minutes of fire exposure to cause the unexposed sides of the door to ignite in flames. In 20.5 minutes to 30 minutes a small hole burned through each door near the lock. In each instance, the hole resulted from heat conducted by the metal lock from the fire-exposed side to the unexposed surface.

Homes for Oldsters

The need for more homes to fit the living requirements of senior citizens is pointed up by a statistic provided by housing authorities. They report that 1½ million retired couples are now sharing homes with children and greandchildren.

Turpentine on a cloth will remove most grease and oil from wood before painting.

Folding or Sliding Doors Are Answer

Wide, problem openings between rooms needn't be a problem any more.

Sliding panel doors or folding louver doors of ponderosa pine not only are the ideal solution, but add the rich beauty of wood to the interior decorating scheme.

The panel doors, in styles to harmonize with all decors, slide neatly out of the way within the wall at both sides of the opening.

The slim louver doors fold compactly out of the way on spceial hinges.

Both panel and louver doors for installations like these are available from building material dealers in units complete with hardware and ready to hang. Doors and hardware also can be purchased separately for installation by a carpenter or skilled home handyman.

The masonry arch, vault and dome, used to support roofs of churches and other public buildings, were developed by the Etruscans, who inhabited central Italy long before the Romans.

Inside Fountain Is Practical

Could be, ladies, that there's a fountain in your future—your future living room, that is. And, with a bit of imagination and a surprisingly modest investment, you won't have to travel to Europe, where bubbling fountains abound, to enjoy the cooling elegance and practicality of an indoor waterspout.

All you need really is a fairly good-sized room and the courage to be a little adventurous, plus of course a reasonably steady supply of fresh water, which incidentally can be used over and over again.

The reasons for having a fountain are more numerous than you might at first suppose. There are of course the wonderful decorating possibilities that a fountain can provide. Your room can be designed with the fountain as a center of interest. Or, if your room is large enough, the fountain could be set up for dancing and splashing along one wall.

Either way, it's a decorator's dream, providing endless fascination of movement and color. A fountain also acts as an air conditioner, both psychologically and actually, thus combining practicality with beauty, which is the fountain's historic dual function.

Room-size fountains made from traditional, decorative ceramic tile are available for sale ready made. Or, you may wish to design your own to best complement—and compliment—your own home. Ceramic tile is your best choice of materails because of its beauty, variety and, of course, resistance to water.

For Best Result Follow Rules to Wash Walls

CHICAGO (UPI)—A bride complained that it is more expensive to paint a wall than wash it, but at least the result can be predicted from painting.

For just such persons, an association of paint manufacturers offers the following tips to make the washing chore easier and the results more certain.

—Read and follow instructions on a package of paint cleaner. Some synthetic detergents can remove the paint if used in too strong solutions.

—Use two pails of water, one for the cleansing solution and the other to rinse the dirty sponge or cloth.

—When the window sills are clean and dry, wax them for an easy-to-care-for surface.

Paint styling is the technique of using color in such a way that good features of a room are emphasized and the unattractive features minimized. If you have features in your home that need camouflaging or ones that you wish accentuated, the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association has a booklet called "How to Do Tricks with Color" that will help you solve your problems.

Send your name, address and request to the association at 1500 Rhode Island Ave., N.W., Washington 5, D. C., for your free copy.

PERMUTIT
ELECTROMATIC FILTER SOFTENER

Should you rent or own a Water Softener?

Easy time payment plans and the simplicity of operating a modern automatic water softener make it more practical to own a softener than to rent one . . . for the same reasons that you own your hot water heater or refrigerator or range. Here are facts to consider:

WHEN YOU RENT: You never own the softener. Your rental charge is based on an estimate of your water needs; if the estimate is too high, you pay for soft water you don't use; if it's too low, you run out of soft water. Your soft water costs the full amount of the rental service every month regardless of how much or how little you use. It never grows less!

WHEN YOU OWN: The softener is yours; you can take it if you move. You pay only for the soft water that you actually use. You always have soft water when you need it. Your soft water costs you only pennies a month for a few pounds of salt; this is usually about 1/10 the amount of a rental service. You save enough to buy your softener and have money left over!

Let us show you how you can own a Permutit® Electro-Matic® . . and save money at the same time.

Antique and Modern Blend in Olson Home

that soars. It was made by combining two bedrooms.

Mrs. Olson has used a blue and white paper with a design of birds and flowers on the curved ceiling. Below the white molding the paper is a tiny blue and white print. There are white ruffled curtains at the low windows.

The wide board floor is polished and is covered in strategic areas with striped hooked rugs in blue, pink and lavender. On the four poster twin beds there are white spreads over purple dust ruffles.

The large swing chair in the corner has striped upholstery in shades of lavender. A purple velvet cushion provides an accent spot. At the opposite end of the room there is a pair of matching chests.

Behind this room is a dressing room. This not only provides a lounging spot for Mr. Olson but closets for both adults. Old houses were noticebly lacking in closet space.

In the boys' room there is more cedar paneling. There are red curtains at the window. Paper above the wainscoting has Indians on it while there are Navajo rugs on the floor.

Lindy's room which she helped decorate is all pink and white. The wallpaper is pink with white figures; the floor is pink tile with fluffy pinky rugs. Ceiling, woodwork, curtains and the painted bed are white. Her patchwork spread was made by her great grandmother. She has a tiny dressing table and for lounging a white plastic chair.

The Olson home is an interesting blend of the old and the new. Wherever possible, the old has been retained. But modern products like vinyl tile floors have been used in the new sections.

NEW LOOK — The home of Richard Shelton on Summit street has received a brand new look with the application of aluminum siding and pre cast ledge rock. The siding, a new type called Backer-foam, has insulation built right into the material; the exterior is a baked enamel finish. The Sheltons are finding their house easier to heat and cleaner with its "new look." Federal Modernization did the work.

Do-It-Yourselfer Makes Efficient Workbench

The workbench is the core of the home workshop—the closest ally of the "do-it-yourself" enthusiast — because it eases his efforts by serving as an organizational instrument.

And the task is not a difficult one, say SpeedWay power tool experts, especially if the person undertaking the project posesses such versatile portable electric tools as drill, sander, and jig saw or circular saw. Or the job can be done with a portable electric drill and attachments designed for sawing and sanding.

The workbench is basically a low-slung, sturdy table—but how convenient it can be for a multitude of projects! It can be made even handier by adding a storage shelf of ½-inch plywood under the bench and a few inches above the floor.

The size of the workbench naturally is governed by the space available. Popular dimensions are length, 6 feet; height 3 feet, and width, 34⅞ inches. The last size is the width of three finished 2x12s.

In addition to the 2x12s and plywood, you will need 4x4s for the legs and 2x4s for the upper and lower sides and ends.

It is best to saw simultaneously those boards which will bear the same dimensions to assure identical lengths. This is done by clamping the boards together and cutting them with the circular-blade saw.

Maple flooring, say SpeedWay planners, provides the most durable and attractive top covering if you have some available. If not, any good hardwood will do. Painting is unnecessary.

The storage shelf is arranged last and can be fitted inside the legs by using a jig saw to notch the plywood corners to conform with the 4x4s.

Close the damper when your fireplace is not in use. A chimney flue is a direct passage for warm air to escape. As it flows out, cold air comes in.

Crusade Against Hazards at Side

Not All Cars Meet Death ON Road

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

Many times this means you must be prepared to head for the ditch to avoid a collision.

But consider for a moment this sobering fact: Two-car crashes cause the most highway fatalities; off-the-road accidents are second on the list.

National Safety Council statistics show they account for 30 to 35 per cent of all traffic deaths.

TREES BEAUTIFUL, DEADLY

In a recent paper delivered before the 10th National Conference on Standards of the American Standards Assn., Kenneth A. Stonex, assistant director of the General Motors Proving Grounds at Milford discussed roadside obstacles and the part they play when your car leaves the road.

Among these obstacles are trees. "Some of the trees are native; some have been planted; most of them are beautiful," Stonex says.

"A court of obstacles along the roadside of almost any area in the country shows that trees loom among the largest statistically. Accident statistics involving trees are grisly, rather than beautiful."

Stonex says Proving Grounds tests show a car operated by remote control and driven into a tree at 35 miles an hour is almost completely wrecked, virtually assuring fatal injuries to any driver.

He emphasizes that he is not against trees, merely the placement of them close to roadways. And by close he means within 100 feet of the edge of the pavement.

"There is a happy and equally beautiful solution," he says. "Roads can be landscaped back to a suitable distance with shrubs and brushes; such roadsides can be beautiful and the shrubbery will provide some resistance to a car out of control.

OTHER DANGERS

Trees aren't the only villans. Equally dangerous, Stonex says, are bridge piers, utility poles, certain type of signs and signposts, ditches and even guard rails that are supposed to protect against some of these hazards.

In the case of utility poles, he suggests two solutions — either move them far enough away from the highway to provide no serious obstacles, or make them of lightweight material and mount them so they will yield harmlessly on impact.

Traffic control signs — notifying you of roadside parks or a curve in the road — often are placed so low they would crash through a windshield of a car out of control. Mounted higher they would skim over the roof of such a car.

Stonex says deep slope V-ditches along roadways also are open opportunities to trouble. He says tests at the Proving Grounds show more gradual slopes enable a driver to regain control of a car with little or no injury or damage.

Guard rail effectiveness, Stonex says, depends much on first class materials to start with and then keeping the rails in good repair, a practice which he says is too often neglected.

LOW STANDARDS

Minimum standards for almost all of these things are included in plans for the 43,000 miles of interstate highways now under construction or in the drawing board stage.

Some of these minimums, Stonex says, are "certainly undesirably low from the safety standpoint; we feel that, unfortunately, the minimum standards are used more often than the optimum."

"Highway officials," he continues, "are as anxious as you and I to build the safest possible roads. The problems are and always have been those of insufficient funds."

Speaking of new road construction at GM's Proving Grounds, Stonex says:

"Our construction policy now requires that there be no obstacles within 100 feet of the pavement, that the side slopes be smooth and gentle, that the ditches have wide, gently rounded bottoms, that all culverts be extended beyond the 100 foot line, and that no utility poles, piers or abutments be located within the 100 foot zone.

"It is true that construction costs will be somewhat higher according to these standards.

"However, the flat slopes and shallow, well-rounded ditches will be little subject to erosion and in the course of time the saving in maintenance costs will more than repay the initial investment in safety.

"Our accident costs are avoided permanently; most important, our drivers will be able to come to work every day."

Water Pipes Carry Gas; 5 Injured

CRESTVIEW, Fla. (AP) — A plumber's error plunged this town of 10,000 persons into a night of terror.

Five persons were injured in three explosions Friday night after butane gas gushed into the city water system.

Mayor Harry Booth said the plumber got his lines mixed while working at a small Negro cafe and hooked a gas line from a 250-gallon tank onto a water main. Butane gas is used for heating.

A short while later Carolyn Eiland Kennedy started to brush her teeth at her father's home. When she turned on the water spigot, gas fumes reached a pilot light on a heater in the bathroom and an explosion followed. She and her father, Arthur Eiland, were slightly injured.

The third explosion occurred at the home of Miss Elizabeth Dennis, supervisor of lunchrooms for the county school system. She and a teacher, Miss Lillie Waldron, were injured. Those two and young Larry were hospitalized.

After the trouble was found, area television stations and police officers with megaphones warned residents not to turn on their water.

The mayor said early Saturday that many thousands of gallons of water had been flushed from all the mains.

American Metals Says Earnings, Sales Higher

DETROIT (UPI) — The American Metals Products Co. reported Friday its net earnings for the first nine months of this year were $1,443,383, compared with $1,064,702 for the same period last year.

Your Dry Cleaner Is No Magician!

When you take clothes to your Dry Cleaner, don't expect him to work miracle! He is only human, and may occasionally make a mistake, which he will be glad to rectify.

But many cases of unsatisfactory dry cleaning are not his fault. Before you expect too much, be sure that—

★ The garments are of sufficiently good quality that they can be dry cleaned without shrinking and without colors fading or running.

★ That cloth-covered buttons and stiffening materials do not contain substances that will stain.

★ That you have not attempted to remove stains with fluids that will injure the fabric, set the stain or cause fading.

★ That your Dry Cleaner is a well-established dependable local businessman.

★ That the delivery man re presents the firm that you intended to do your cleaning.

Your Dry Cleaner will tell you, when he accepts your clothing, just what to expect—but he cannot promise to work miracles.

'Not Guilty,' Is Finch Plea in Wife's Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—R. Bernard Finch, the well-to-do doctor indicted for the murder of his wife, has pleaded innocent.

Finch, 41, answered loudly "not guilty" when asked how he pleaded Friday in Superior Court. Judge Lewis Drucker then set Finch's trial for Dec. 1 in Pomona, not far from the Finch home in West Covina. But Finch's attorney indicated he would try to get the trial moved to Los Angeles.

American Seating Co. Sales Rise, Profits Slip

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Sales totaling $30,752,120 for the first nine months of 1959, a 4.2 per cent increase over the same period of 1958, were reported Friday by American Seating Co.

President James M. VerMeulen said net income was $1,518,231 or 4.9 per cent of total sales. It was equal to earnings of $2.32 a share. Net income in the first three quarters of 1958 was $1,621,269 or $2.48 a share.

VerMeulen attributed the drop in current net income primarily to increased labor and material costs.

Native Riots Flare in Belgian Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo (UPI)—Serious native riots raged today in the town of Stanleyville about 720 miles northwest of this capital city of restless Belgian Congo, the commissioner-general's office announced.

First reports said seven Africans had been killed and about 30 wounded in clashes with police. The toll is expected to go much higher when complete reports come in.

The riots erupted last night following a speech at a party congress by Patrice Lumumba, leader of the Congolese Nationalist Movement (MNC), which is agitating for immediate independence from Belgium. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Farm produce constituted the entire export trade of Sierra Leone, West Africa, in 1928, but only 48 per cent of the total in 1955, the remainder being minerals.

Relatives Await Russian Action

Nikita Promised Groups Here He'd Send Loved Ones From Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hopes for long-awaited family reunions still flourish today among a little group of Americans who have Nikita S. Khrushchev's own word that their relatives can come to the United States.

A month has gone by since Mr. and Mrs. Paulius Leonas, Miss Donne Armonas and the Rev. Joseph Prunskis won their promises from the Soviet Premier while he was in the United States.

So far there has been no word from the Kremlin. But it could be that Russian red tape is holding up action.

U.S. officials said that under Soviet bureaucracy it normally can take six months or more for a person to get permission to emigrate from Russia. The Soviet Embassy here refers inquiries to Moscow.

Castro Seals Office Files of Foreign Oil Companies

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban government, which already has slapped stiff new taxes on mineral production, moved against all foreign oil exploration companies Friday night by sealing their office files.

Agents from the Ministry of Public Works entered the companies' offices without warning.

They said the government is preparing to draft a new petroleum law and wants all the technical information in the hands of the oil companies.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro's cabinet passed a resolution providing for fines and prison sentences for anyone hindering access to the files.

There was no indication whether the files would be seized later or only examined.

"It's hard to understand this action," said one executive. "Most of the material in our files on the exploration of Cuban oil lands already is duplicated in Cuban government offices."

Detroit-Windsor Tunnel Fare Increase Blocked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission has temporarily blocked a five-cent fare increase on the buses operating through the tunnel which connects Detroit and Windsor, Canada.

Detroit & Canada Tunnel Corp. had planned to advance the fare from 15 cents to 20 cents effective next Sunday. Riders protested.

The ICC directed the company to make no change in fares until the matter could be investigated.

Grave Session Fails to Uncover Houdini's Spirit

NEW YORK (UPI)—About 100 persons huddled in a hotel room late last night and early this Halloween morning to see whether mind-reader Joseph Dunninger and a medium named "Florence" could call forth the ghost of magician Harry Houdini.

Houdini didn't show up.

Florence, who would not give her last name, was trying to win the $10,000 Dunninger has offered to anyone who can prove claims of making contact with the spirit of Houdini. The magician died on the stroke of midnight Oct. 30, 1926.

Houdini did not believe the dead could communicate with the living. But he gave Dunninger a 10-word message and said he would try to send it back from the grave.

Ex-Suitor Arrested on Maiming Charge

NEW YORK (UPI)—A lawyer and three men he allegedly hired to splash lye in the face of his former fiancee were arrested on maiming charges yesterday.

Police said the arrests resulted from keeping the lawyer, Burton Pugach, 32, under constant watch since June 15 when pretty Linda Riss, 22, was scarred, blinded in one eye, and nearly blinded in the other in the lye attack.

Miss Riss has charged all along that her rejected suitor was behind the attack. She said that only this month Pugach phoned her and said sarcastically, "I'll send you a seeing eye dog for Christmas."

Claims Ike Bad for U. N.

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Former Assistant Secretary of State Ernest Gross charged today that the Eisenhower administration has "bypassed and weakened" the United Nations "not only to the U.N.'s detriment, but at heavy cost to our national interest."

Winter Articles Needed

Schools Seek Clothing

Paul C. Allison, director of pupil personnel in the Pontiac public school system, says the drive's goal is the equivalent of one pound of used clothing per Pontiac school child.

Last fall the drive netted 9,160 pounds of clothing.

Says Allison: "We are asking people to share their no longer needed usable clothing with the less fortunate of our community by sending contributions their children's school.

"Those families who don't have school children can call the nearest school for collection by the parent-teacher association.

"There is a particular need now for winter clothing. This drive will enable hundreds of students to go to school with adequate clothing."

Contributions will be processed and distributed without charge through the cooperation of the Salvation Army, the Dorcas Society of the Seventh Day Adventist Church and the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

U. S. Plans Shot Toward Venus by Early 1960

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American space scientists plan to try to shoot a rocket to the orbit of the planet Venus in late December or early next year.

But a space probe to Venus itself would not be fesible until the planet swings back into a favorable position with the earth in 1961.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) was expected to try to put a 375-pound probe into orbit around the moon late next month. If this shot is successful, NASA hopes to fire its shot to the Venus orbit in December or early 1960.
