Reuther to Seek Support Now for AFL-CIO Pullout

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Walter P. Reuther plans to ask representatives of 200,000 skilled tradesmen in the United Auto Workers for endorsement of his threat to pull the 1.4-million-member union out of the AFL-CIO.

Unless there is a last-minute change in plans, delegates to the UAW's 12th international skilled trades conference will be asked to support Reuther's charge that the labor movement is "vegetating" under leadership of the AFL-CIO's president, George Meany, 73. The conference opened today.

A vote most likely will be called for tomorrow or Saturday among 1,300 delegates from practically every UAW local union in the United States and Canada.

A vote on the threatened pullout had not been anticipated before a UAW general convention in Detroit April 20-22.

The 59-year-old Reuther delayed until tomorrow his keynote speech to the three-day conference, and associates forecast he would go into differences with the AFL-CIO's ruling Executive Council, which he has said is made up of "ancient men of labor out of step with the times."

Meany has accused Reuther of viewing himself as a savior of mankind, being more interested in world affairs than in bread-and-butter union affairs.

The UAW's 26-member International Executive Board recently laid down what virtually amounted to an ultimatum to the 13.5-million-member federation.

It said in effect: Reconstruct yourself or we get out.

At the same time the UAW's board ordered Reuther to resign as AFL-CIO vice president, which automatically took him off the Executive Council.

It also told three other top UAW officials to give up committee assignments under the Executive Council.

On top of that, the board said it would ask authority from the April general convention to withdraw the union from the AFL-CIO when and if the board thinks it advisable.

Reuther contends his differences with Meany are "not matters of personalities, prestige and power" but are "programs, policies and principles."

Some have accused Reuther of attempting to force Meany out and gain the presidency for himself.

F. J. Poole Is Named 1967 UF Chairman

The appointment of Frederick J. Poole as general chairman of the 1967 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign was announced today by Bruce J. Annett, president of the fund's board of trustees.

Poole, president of the F. J. Poole Co., succeeds Dr. Don O. Tatroe, Waterford Township superintendent of schools, who headed last year's campaign efforts which netted a record $1,042,107. Monies raised during the drive, occurring in October, provide operating expenses for the 55 agencies affiliated with the fund.

The appointment marks the 19th chairman to this position since the Pontiac Area United Fund was organized in 1949 as the second consolidated United Fund organization in the country.

In the next few weeks, Poole will be appointing a campaign cabinet to head the major Advance Gifts, Commercial, GM Industrial, Residential, Manufacturing and Promotion divisions.

★ ★ ★

In accepting the appointment, Poole said, "The job ahead is a tremendous challenge requiring over 5,000 volunteers who share my belief in the work and worth of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

'GIVER'S ORGANIZATION'

"The concept of a United Fund is that of a giver's organization — those who give volunteer time and voluntary contributions. It belongs to the community which supports it. It serves our community needs directly and is responsive to change and growth as our community changes and grows.

Replacement for Lodge Top Crisis Diplomat

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson is sending his top crisis diplomat, 72-year-old Ellsworth Bunker, to Vietnam to replace retiring Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Bunker's immediate task will be to assure success of efforts already under way to form a new, constitutional South Vietnamese government.

The Lodge resignation and Bunker appointment, suddenly announced by Johnson yesterday, were the most important changes in a far-reaching shakeup of the U.S. Embassy staff in Saigon. No changeover date was announced, however.

The overhaul reportedly reflects a determination by the President to put new emphasis on trying to develop political stability in the South Vietnamese capital and to step up pacification of the war-ravaged countryside.

52-Cent Refund Lawsuit Challenges County Taxing

A lawsuit filed yesterday challenging Oakland County's 1966 tax levy procedure and asking for a 52-cent refund was viewed by County Board of Auditors Chairman Daniel T. Murphy as a guidance maneuver intiated by Wayne County.

★ ★ ★

"We're being the goat," Murphy said when he learned of the suit filed by attorney Louis G. Basso and his wife, Margaret, who own property at 968 Purdy, Birmingham.

The suit claims the tax levy in excess of the 15-mill limitation was illegal and calls for a refund to the plaintiffs.

Basso is the son of Wayne County budget director Louis Basso.

★ ★ ★

Last fall Oakland County Corporation Counsel Robert P. Allen ruled that the county could exceed the 15-mill limitation to pay bonding obligations of $236,500 due the County Building Authority on the new courthouse wing and $54,530 for drain assessments.

WAYNE RULING

Wayne County's corporation counsel reportedly made an opposite ruling which stymied efforts of Wayne County budget officials to spread an added levy.

Named in Basso's suit as defendants are Oakland County, County Treasurer James E. Seeterlin, the County Tax Allocation Board, Birmingham Treasurer R. T. Berger and the City of Birmingham.

Seeterlin and Oak Park assessor Donald A. Melchert were the only persons who strongly objected to Allen's ruling that the bonding levy was constitutional.

Seeterlin last October requested that the board of supervisors seek an opinion from the State Attorney General but no action was taken.

'VOTE NEEDED'

"I still feel that any tax levy over the 15-mill limitation should be approved only by a vote of the people," Seeterlin said today.

Area Man Dies in Plane Crash

An Orchard Lake man was killed last night when the private plane he was flying crashed into a frozen lake near Plymouth, Ind.

Indiana State Police said Norman J. Magill, 40, of 4715 Dublin died when his single-engine Cessna 210 plunged through the ice an hour and a half after taking off from LaPorte, Ind., 50 miles away, at 10:30 p.m.

Thomas Ellis, owner of the plane and Magill's employer at the A & E Tool Service, Inc., Detroit, said he knows of no reason for the crash or for the time lapse between takeoff and the accident.

"He left yesterday morning to go to Muskegon and Gary, Ind., and he called me last night to say he would stay overnight in Gary as he didn't want to fly back at night," Ellis said.

"He was an extremely well-qualified pilot, in fact he used to manage an airport near Elkhart, Ind."

Ellis said he heard that Magill circled Plymouth and the lake a few times then plunged straight down.

Magill, who had been employed at the tool company about six months, lived in Orchard Lake with his wife and two daughters.

Pontiac Finance Study Group Stays Unchanged on Tax Stand

By DAVID J. COOK

A city income tax remains a recommended source of future revenue for Pontiac following a brief meeting last night of the Pontiac Finance Study Committee (PFSC).

Acting committee chairman Edward E. Barker Jr. said after the meeting the group's refusal Feb. 3 to support a property tax increase would stand."

Barker said, however, that the PFSC revenue subcommittee would meet within 12 days to work out "definite recommendations on revenue" based on the City Commission's appraisal of needed expenditures.

A two-year schedule of commission-supported expenditures was presented to the committee last night by City Manager Joseph A. Warren.

The proposed improvements through 1968 include:

- Addition of 38 policemen at a cost of $325,500;
- New police equipment costing $40,000;
- Expenditure of $150,000 on local street maintenance;
- Restoration of $75,000 to the parks and recreation budget, slashed by that same amount in 1962;
- Improved street lighting at a cost of $30,000;
- Stepped-up housing inspection, costing $40,000;
- In 1968, addition of four firemen at an expense of $42,000.

NO ALLOWANCE

The schedule makes no allowance for further city employe pay increases through Dec. 31 of this year, but anticipates 1968 salary adjustments up to $275,000.

17 City Policemen, 8 Citizens Honored

By JIM LONG

Seventeen Pontiac policemen and eight citizens yesterday were awarded certificates of meritorious service by Police Chief William K. Hanger.

★ ★ ★

The citations were presented at the second annual police awards ceremony held in the City Commission chamber at City Hall.

The guest speaker, Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem, prefaced his remarks by commending Hanger and police for the way the department has been operating.

"The policeman's job has always been a difficult one," said Ziem, "but recent Supreme Court decisions have made the job more difficult."

Ziem said he disagreed with some of these decisions.

★ ★ ★

"But I will follow the law as it is, not as I wish it were," said Ziem.

Five officers were recognized for their part in clearing up an armed robbery of People's Food Market, 263 Auburn, on Jan. 19.

They are patrolmen Joseph Gallardo, Stanley D. Helgemo, Neil R. McCormack, O. Keith Kissinger and Raymond V. Solwold.

★ ★ ★

Gallardo, McCormack, Sgt. Earl W. Skrobeck and Patrolman Travis A. Lively each received two citations.

SECOND AWARD

Gallardo received his second award for his initiative that led to the arrest of three persons for forgery on April 1, 1966.

McCormack's other citation was for his part in the arrest of an armed bandit and an accomplice who held up the Clark Service Station, 382 Orchard Lake, on Nov. 9, 1966.

The two awards presented to Skrobeck were for the arrest of two men for the attempted burglary of the Eagles Lodge in January 1966; and the arrest of a man involved in the break-ins of the Minit Lunch and Triple X restaurants last November.

★ ★ ★

Lively was honored for the capture of a burglar in the Coca Cola Bottling Co., 1130 Wide Track, on May 10, 1966; and for preventing a forcible rape of a brutally beaten woman behind a bar.

OTHER HONORS

Other police awards went to:

Sgt. Robert W. Verbine for the Nov. 25, 1965 apprehension of a juvenile who

Yesterday's Snow: One for the Books

Yesterday's snow was a figment of the imagination.

Unpredicted and unheralded except by the Farmer's Almanac—which everyone knows is based on unscientific superstition and old wives' tales—the one-inch accumulation was not to be believed.

Thirteen degrees was the low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said today would be partly cloudy and cold with highs varying from 30 to 36.

Tonight there's a chance of snow flurries with lows of 14 to 20.

The outlook for tomorrow is the same.

P.S. The Almanac has no more snow warnings listed for this year.

READYING SPEECH — Dr. Walter E. Barton (right) discusses the functions of Pontiac State Hospital with Dr. Donald W. Martin, the hospital's medical superintendent, before addressing 140 persons at Kingsley Inn last night on mental health and psychiatry.

Mental Health Expert Puts Priority on Emergency Care

By JOE MULLEN

Provision of emergency mental health services must be the starting point for any newly established community psychiatry program, a nationally noted psychiatrist said last night.

★ ★ ★

Speaking to some 140 persons following a dinner at Kingsley Inn, Dr. Walter E. Barton compared handling an emergency mental health problem with fighting a fire.

"When a fire erupts, it must be put out," he said. "Prevention procedures follow."

The medical director of the American Psychiatric Association, Dr. Barton spoke at a dinner sponsored by Pontiac State Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Though his principal topic was community mental health, he elaborated on the history of psychiatry, commented on the shortage of trained mental health administrators and defied charges that Barry Goldwater is against mental health programs.

PROGRAMS EVOLVED

Dr. Barton noted that many programs of mental health today are hailed as new developments but actually emerged from mental hospital practices dating back many years.

He added that the general decline in the number of resident mental patients in hospitals is a result of the improvement in services.

Dr. Barton said that public support for community mental health programs has grown considerably but warned that more people must be trained so requirements can be met.

★ ★ ★

Only 800 psychiatrists are coming out of universities each year," he said. "This number should be 1,300."

PSYCHIATRISTS' RATIO

He added that 6 per cent of the nation's physicians are psychiatrists and pointed out that the percentage of women physicians who become psychiatrists is greater than that of male physicians.

A real challenge to the nation's present 18,540 psychiatrists is to keep abreast of the continuous flow of new professional information, according to Dr. Barton.

"There are no set facts," he said. "New facts replace old ones."

★ ★ ★

In pointing out the shortage of trained mental health administrators, he said that Michigan and six other states are seeking an administrator for their state programs.

PROBLEMS

Among problems arising in community mental health programs, according to Dr. Barton, is obtaining cooperation in the sharing of records with other agencies and private practioners.

He speculated that health records of individuals will be on a computer tape in the future and easily accessible when needed.

In governmental units where alcoholism is ruled a disease by the courts, mental health agencies are called upon to provide treatment because punishment is ruled out, Dr. Barton said.

"This is the situation in Washington, D. C., and the courts there are expected to rule soon that dope addicts can't be punished," he added.

GOLDWATER ABSOLVED

In answer to a question, Dr. Barton said that no responsible conservative group opposes mental health progress.

He added that Goldwater is a responsible conservative and has been an active supporter of mental health in his state.

"The John Birch Society, however, is on record as opposing mental health programs," Dr. Barton said.

The mental health leader launched his after dinner speech with a humorous account of his traumatic experience of leaving balmy Washington, D. C. yesterday and arriving in Pontiac during the peak of the snowstorm.

Group Stands by Income Tax

Longevity pay — described by Warren as "a problem very much with us" — is among commission recommendations for fiscal 1968.

"Now we have a framework within which to work," Barker declared after Warren's 15-minute presentation.

★ ★ ★

"We now know the areas in which the commission desires to spend the money if it is made available to them."

ACTION BY CITY

Asked by Barker if the city had taken action on PFSC recommendations for tighter finance control and reduced city labor expenses, Warren replied in the affirmative.

"We've just today announced the appointment of our new finance director (Edward R. Gallagher)," he said, "and we consider ourselves very fortunate in obtaining his services.

"In addition, we've hired a cost accountant to work closely with our efforts in public works and services — this will give us substantial improvement in comparing city costs with contracting costs."

★ ★ ★

Barker said the tax study committee would meet again March 29, shortly after receiving a final report from its revenue subcommittee.

MICHIGAN LAW

State law prescribes city-levied income taxes as 1 per cent on individuals and corporations within the city and ½ per cent on nonresidents working in the city.

★ ★ ★

"What this committee now has to determine as far as a recommendation is concerned," Barker said, "is 'when' and 'how.'"

★ ★ ★

If adopted by the commission, an income tax would begin producing revenue for the city in January, 1968 — barring a referendum and subsequent election on the issue.

3 New Centers for Head Start

Three new centers for Pontiac's Head Start Program this fall were accepted by the Pontiac Board of Education last night.

The centers, used in the training of underprivileged preschoolers, will be at the Messiah Missionary Baptist Church, St. James Baptist Church and in the Lakeside Housing Project.

The locations were recommended by a joint committee of school and Office of Economic Opportunity officials.

The centers are in primarily Negro areas of Districts 1 and 7.

★ ★ ★

The committee was formed to investigate new locations after officials of the school board and the OEO met a week ago with Congressman Jack H. McDonald, R-19th District.

★ ★ ★

The executive board of the OEO will receive the recommendations for the new centers at its meeting next week.

The Board of Education, in a resolution accepting the three centers, stated, however, that it will not be in a position to contribute to the costs of remodeling the centers or to assume the entire 20 per cent local contribution for the $300,000 Head Start program.

CASTLES NOT IN AIR — Set designer Edward Carrere is shown in his office at Warner Bros. in Hollywood with sketches of some of the mammoth sets he has made for "Camelot." Included is the sketch for King Arthur's great hall (right), one of 45 sets designed by Carrere for the $12-million spectacle.

Builds Castle in 48 Hours

'Camelot' Set Designer Speedy

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A trade paper item a few days ago focused attention on a Latin who coolly delivered when given 48 hours to build a castle.

"Sure, there are problems," says Edward Carrere, "but that's our work."

★ ★ ★

Carrere, 59, is a naturalized U.S. citizen born in Mexico City of a French father and a Spanish mother and married to a Norwegian.

He is also one of Hollywood's 200 art directors — the men who design the sets. He won Oscar nominations for his sets in "The Adventures of Don Juan," starring the late Errol Flynn; "Sunrise at Campobello," with Ralph Bellamy and Greer Garson, and "Elmer Gantry," Burt Lancaster.

LARGEST SET

The "Camelot" company, the trade press reported, had moved into the largest interior set ever built at Warner Bros.

Representing legendary King Arthur's great hall, the stage-filling whopper measured 250 by 136 feet and 65 feet high. It has massive walls and columns, a soaring beamed ceiling, two thrones and a vast expanse for the knights' round table.

It cost $500,000, and was one of 45 sets designed by Carrere for the $12-million spectacle.

★

A wiry, compact man surrounded by drawing tables with architectural histories at his elbow, Carrere — pronounced Car-air' — admitted he had taken liberties with the design.

MORE MUSICAL

"Architecture of the period (500 A.D.) was rough cut stone and crude, heavy timber, which doesn't lend itself to a musical," he said.

He had softened the wood with carving and incorporated curving Roman roof trusses which, historically, came in later.

★ ★ ★

On a Friday, Director Joshua Logan had wanted by Monday a 42-by-25-foot miniature of King Arthur's castle, to be seen at a distance in a forest sequence.

Carrere and his scenic artists, working all night Saturday and Sunday, had it ready.

Carrere disclosed some money-saving trade tricks: hollow structures of boards, covered with plastic that is scratched to look cracked, resemble solid timbers. Soda mixed in plaster creates pitted areas that look like ancient stone.

System of Bird Forecasts Is Aimed at Safer Flying

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Scientists are harnessing radar and photographic techniques to forecast the penetration of migrating birds into airport areas and along air routes in an attempt to make flying safer.

Canada's Associate Committee on Bird Hazards to Aircraft is attempting to develop a system in cooperation with the Canadian Air Force and the Department of Transport that will help reduce the threat of bird strikes on high-speed jet aircraft.

Most air crashes and accidents attributed to bird strikes occur after a jet engine has ingested a bird or after a large bird has struck other vital parts of an aircraft such as control surfaces.

The bird intensity forecast system was tested on a 24-hour basis during the spring and fall migration periods in 1966 at the Canadian Air Force Base at Cold Lake, Alberta. These periods were selected because of the large numbers of birds crossing air routes and airports.

★ ★ ★

In the spring tests, the forecasts proved accurate 83 per cent of the time. In August they were accurate 70 per cent of the time and for September, 71 per cent.

EXPECTED INTENSITY

The forecasts, prepared twice daily by the meteorological forecast officer, rated the expected intensity of bird movement for any given hour on a zero to eight intensity scale.

This information was then used by the flight safety officer as a special weather report to plan flight training programs in the region accordingly.

Only 119 out of 2,068 hours monitored in the spring and fall tests fell in the high-risk category of ratings five through eight. In September, the month of greatest migration activity, about 10 per cent of the recorded intensities were of high-risk hours. Most of these were between sundown and midnight.

★ ★ ★

The Cold Lake project involved the use of a Polaroid-camera-equipped radar display capable of spotting bird flight with 50 miles of the base.

Saint Patrick's Spirit Is Undying

Tomorrow is Saint Patrick's Day, the day that Erin's sons and daughters march joyously—in spirit if not in the flesh.

But in the observance of the memory of Ireland's patron saint all Americans join hands with the Irish.

And that is as it should be. No racial stock has contributed more to the makeup of the composite American than have the sturdy and adventuresome natives of the Emerald Isle who over the centuries departed their homeland for the rigors and challenges of the New World.

★ ★ ★

As for Saint Patrick, much of his life is shrouded in legend. He is thought to have lived during the period 385 to 461, and oddly it is the date of his death, rather than birth, that we annually observe.

It is known that he was born in Britain, and after an early life marked by vicissitude, even imprisonment in Ireland, the land he was later to convert to Christianity, devoted his years to founding places of worship in his adopted country.

Patrick became known as the Apostle of Ireland and in 441 journeyed to Rome to receive the pallium from the Pope. Later he became archbishop of Armagh.

★ ★ ★

We join the millions of descendants to whom he gave spiritual leadership in a salute to the immortal Saint Patrick.

Protection of 'Fed's' Freedom Vital to Economy

The Federal Reserve Board since its founding has been an independent agency, immune from outside pressure. Since the "Fed" operates the Nation's monetary policy, and is vital in helping to regulate the economy, that's the way it should be.

Many presidents have from time to time been irked by actions of the "Fed," no doubt President JOHNSON among them. About a year ago, sparks flew when the board, under the highly able leadership of Chairman WILLIAM MCCHESNEY MARTIN JR., decided to pursue a tighter money policy than the President felt desirable.

A question will soon arise about Martin's future on the board. His term as chairman runs out at the end of next month, though not his term as a member of the board. The President could decline to renname Martin as chairman, which presumably would cause him to resign.

The President also must decide whether to continue another board member, CHARLES N. SHEPARDSON. If LBJ installs a new appointee who produces a change in the philosophical, anti-inflation composition of the board, this also might cause MARTIN to resign.

We hope the President will not take either option, but will redesignate MARTIN as chairman. The Chief Executive would be doing a disservice if he tampers with the board's independence.

Super Air Age to Pose Super Ground Problems

Within a few years, super jet airliners with a passenger capacity of several hundred will be flying the air routes of the globe. An airline official paints a startling picture of what this will mean at air terminals.

As an illustration he chooses Honolulu, November, 1971: 2,000 passengers have disembarked within a 10-minute period from four major jets arriving from the four corners of the world. To handle these travelers will require 50 buses, or 20 high-speed railway cars, or 80 helicopters, or 1,500 to 2,000 private automobiles. To handle the 16.5 tons of baggage that each of these monster jets will carry is another massive problem in itself.

This appraisal of the future in air travel is not an airman's fanciful vision. The 400-passenger planes will soon be rolling off production lines. The rising curve of air travel, as fares are being brought within the reach of additional millions of persons, has become an inexorable fact of the air age. If anything, the expert's picture of Honolulu in 1971 may prove to be conservative.

Harder to visualize is the impact which this new mobility of peoples will have on international relationships. So far as commerce is concerned, the dream of one world will have arrived, and with commerce hopefully will come a measure of international understanding and goodwill such as has never been known.

★ ★ ★

At long last, the door to peace and stability may be opened — through the medium of international air transport.

3 World Leaders Hear Rumblings

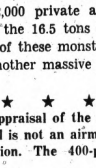
By JAMES MARLOW
(© News Analyst

WASHINGTON—This is like a Sunday afternoon in the traffic jam of history. There's no fire, no crisis, but there's a lot of discontent with the man up front, as if people felt they were racing their motors.



MARLOW

Three of the front men have bumped their heads — French President Charles de Gaulle, President Johnson, and Red China's Mao Tse-tung — but no one knows who is going to take their place, or who can.

De Gaulle, who has an irritating habit of insisting upon the right of way, just got rebuffed by the French people in an election which gives the Gaullists a bare majority in the General Assembly.

France was a political mess when he took over nine years ago. Always convinced he was on time's main highway, de Gaulle had long urged a strong executive for the French people, and he became one.

He calmed his country, solidified it, and gave it a sense of direction although that may turn out to have been only a breathing spell, a pause between shambles.

★ ★ ★

By this time, the French must realize that de Gaulles occur only occasionally in history and that when he finally steps down, or dies, there is no one like him on the French scene now to take his place.

NO CRISIS HERE

There is no national crisis in this country, either, even though it is at war in Vietnam. Yet, the war has split the country, with those who disapprove it making Johnson the symbol of their discontent.

The fact that, in 1965, he performed miracles in getting massive and constructive programs through Congress was soon forgotten as he intensified the American war effort in Vietnam.

Even without the war or trouble with Congress, there would probably still be a lot of antagonism toward Johnson by people who overlook his performance and complain they dislike his personality.

★ ★ ★

There is still too much of a veil over Red China to say with authority why Mao Tse-tung, the long-cherished leader, had to resort to the ludicrous device of young Red Guards to hush his critics and preserve his ideas.

DISCONTENT

But there is no doubt of broad discontent in China, an indication of the Chinese people's desire to skip into the future instead of being weighted down by the old concepts of Mao Tse-tung.

He was a great man to the Chinese. He, too, felt he was riding on the main highway of history. But his frantic actions seem to reveal he fears he may be shoved into a ditch of time.

David Lawrence Says:

Soviets Telling Hanoi to Persist

WASHINGTON — Perhaps the CIA hasn't on file the message that follows, but certainly an efficient intelligence agency in the midst of war must have an equivalent record of what the Soviet Union has recently been telling its avowed ally — the North Vietnamese government in Hanoi. If revealed, it doubtless would be discovered that the Russians had said:

LAWRENCE

"Keep on fighting. Keep on demanding peace, and be sure to insist that the Americans stop the bombing and send their troops back home.

"The United States government is getting discouraged. The people are divided.

"Don't worry about your casualties. You are inflicting greater damage on South Vietnam and on the Americans. Your mortar fire is excellent.

"You can win the war. The Americans will sooner or later stop the bombing, and you, of course, will keep up your guerrilla fighting and terrorism.

★ ★ ★

"We know you need weapons and supplies, and we have sent you more in the first two months of this year than we did all last year.

WILL SOON TIRE

"The Americans will soon tire of the war and try to wiggle out somehow, but don't forget — your terms must be unconditional surrender. The United States is begging us for peace.

"It's true Premier Kosygin talked peace when he was in London, but some of the other leaders in the Kremlin reprimanded him a bit when he got back.

"Anyway, he gave the Americans the impression that, if they curry favor with us, they'll be better off and that maybe we'll end the war in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

"But we have told the world that we haven't a thing to do with your policies and that you make your own decisions. So we keep on urging the Americans to stop the bombing 'unconditionally and permanently.'"

SPEAKS FRANKLY

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Dean Rusk speaks frankly to the American people and describes how utterly ineffective have been the efforts to get the North Vietnamese to a conference to discuss the ending of the war.

Last Sunday he said: "Now when the other side insists that the cessation of bombing must be unconditionaly and permanent, we need to know what is going to happen.

"If we give a commitment that we will stop the bombing permanently, we need to know what is going to happen, and thus far no one — Mrs. Kosygin, the secretary general of the U.N., Hanoi, anyone —no one has been able to give us the slightest indication — I say 'able,' or perhaps willing — to give us the slightest indication as to what the result would be if we stopped the bombing."

★ ★ ★

But the mystery of it all is how the Soviet Union and, indeed, the Red Chinese get away with their outright aid to the enemy of the United States in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Nor has the American government gone into the public forum to tell the world that the Soviet Union is deliberately preventing the war in Vietnam from coming to an end.

Bob Considine Says:

Korean Helps Americans Understand Viet Conflict

NEW YORK — Around the world in 80 seconds:

Choong Hoon Park, the Republic of Korea's minister of commerce and industry, helped some of his audience understand the war in Vietnam a little better when he spoke here the other day.

CONSIDINE

★ ★

Addressing himself to "those Americans who are torn by sincere and troubling doubts as to the values of a continuing war against communism in far-away Asia, where American youth again suffer and die for a cause whose value some question," Park said:

"To these troubled good people, I would say 'Look at Korea today.' For Korea is yesterday's Vietnam.

"The sacrifices which you made with us in our war of liberation have resulted in the establishment of a progressive nation of free people who today are proud of their role as your principal ally in your continuing commitment to assist free peoples in their desire to remain free.

★ ★ ★

"Today, 46,000 of the flower of our youth — our sons — well-trained soldiers, are fighting at the side of your sons in Vietnam.

'EQUAL' COMMITMENT

"Our commitment of men to the effort in Vietnam percentage wise is about equal to yours.

"Additionally, we have sent 10,000 engineers to Vietnam . . . our soldiers and technicians are also serving as diplomats.

"They are explaining to South Vietnam's people that the United States will not impose colonial rule on Vietnam because the United States has never colonized Korea, although U.S. troops have been stationed in our country for over 20 years."

★ ★ ★

Korea has become one of our major show windows that face the suspicion and hostility of a number of Asian nations. It has free elections, a free press, constitutional government, rising gross national product, and exports will jump near the half-billion dollar mark this year, an increase of $100 million.

If South Vietnam can do as well, by let's say, 1980 . . .

★ ★ ★

A fine broth of an Irish girl named Mrs. Archimedes Vassiliadis, (King Features Syndicate's woman's editor Joan O'Sullivan when she leaves the office and goes home to fix her husband's souvlakia) gives me an added lesson in the contributions the Greek language has made to the English lexicon. (See "lexikon" in any Greek dictionary.)

"How could you possibly forget diplos (double) and mati (eye) combine to make our word diplomat, or kato (down) and strophe (turn) become catastrophe?

"Combine dipso (I'm thirsty) with mania (which means mania) and you've got a problem, particularly on mornings after.

'How Do News Headlines Affect American Youth?'

How do the everyday headlines affect you? Think how they must affect a soldier in Vietnam or your own sons and daughters: "Eight Murdered," "Drug Addiction Up," "Race Riots," "Students Protest Draft," "Supreme Court Releases Communists and Killers," "Political Leader Takes Bribe." Is this the American way?

I recently paid a towing service $25 to pull my car back onto the road—about 30-35 minutes work. Something should be done about people overcharging on this type of service. Our insurance companies pay these large tow charges by reimbursing us and are thus forced to keep raising their premiums.

Has Suggestion for Position of Ombudsman

With regard to your editorial concerning the Ombudsman role, currently I am attached to the staff of Congressman John Conyers Jr., primarily performing the role of Ombudsman in the First Congressional District. When you consider the number of governmental agencies, their complicated bureaucratic procedures and the general lack of knowledge that Mr. Average Citizen has concerning their operation, it seems evident that numerous citizens, especially the disadvantaged, will need some assistance in securing adequate service.

As a taxpayer and an Episcopalian, I am anything but proud of the sponsoring of Bishop Pike. I had greater hopes for Oakland Community College and the use of our tax dollars. ## Junior Editors Quiz on SODA POP

QUESTION: What causes soda to fizz?

ANSWER: Soda, often called a soft drink, or pop, (because of the pop made when you take off the bottle cap) is made of soda water, sugar, and some kind of flavoring.

Actually, soda water, as made today, doesn't contain soda. It got its name because the first soda water, made in 1772, really did have soda.

Today, the refreshing, sparkling taste we all enjoy is obtain by charging water with carbon dioxide gas. When the cap of the bottle is taken off, the gas escapes, making the liquid bubble in a way that tickles almost everyone's palette pleasantly.

In 1963, sparkling soft drinks began to be sold in cans. But whether in bottles or cans, soft drinks are certainly one of the things the average American likes best.

★ ★ ★

Total sales may amount to one billion, one hundred million dollars a year. The average person drinks about 190 bottles a year.

Near-Fatality Reported

Zen Diet Is Denounced

By Science Service

CHICAGO — Condemnation of a rigid Zen diet that nearly caused a woman's death from scurvy is reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association of March 13.

Zen "macrobiotic" diets revolve around a nutritional system that claims to prevent and cure every disease, including dandruff, psychosis, arthritis, heart disease and cancer.

The diets are largely vegetarian, with a heavy emphasis on whole-grain cereals and the avoidance of sugar and fluid.

Two New York Hospital physicians report the case of a 36-year-old woman who had adopted the strictest and "purist" of the Zen diets.

From a healthy weight of 125 pounds, she entered the hospital weighing 90 pounds, too weak to stand or walk.

BROWNISH SPOTS

Her knee joint had begun to swell and she had brownish spots on her face. Other symptoms of the nutritional disease included painful bleeding gums.

She had gradually eliminated meat, milk and fruit, and was limiting her food to brown rice, pressure-cooked or boiled, salted, and sprinkled with sesame seeds.

She also was eating some ground oatmeal, cornmeal, buckwheat and bread made from cooked rice.

★ ★ ★

Her total liquid was 12 ounces of soup or tea daily, with no water.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer

If I want to use top stitching about ⅝ inch from my seams to look like the popular welt seaming, how do I go about it when the pattern doesn't show it? Also, any clue about keeping top stitching even and avoiding that pulled, bias look between the stitching line and edge or seams of garment will be appreciated. Mrs. D. W.

Dear Mrs. D. W.

If you intend to top stitch seams where the pattern doesn't show this detail, be sure to cut the garments with a 1 inch seam allowance instead of the usual ⅝ inch. The effect you want of a welt seam wouldn't be the same without stitching through the seam allowance as well as the top layer of fabric.

Here's a great tip for keeping the stitching straight and avoid that pulled look, which one of my former students came up with. Take a piece of cardboard from hem tape (or whatever), and cut a 2 inch slash straight down from the long side, the exact width of the stitching you are using.

Then cut a wedge out of this by cutting ¾ inch wider at the top to nothing at the end of your slash. You will have a "V" type cut out with one straight edge.

Place the long edge of the cardboard along the seamline or the outer edge of garment. Carefully and firmly hold your fingers on each side of this wedge and allow your presser foot to ride on the cardboard with the needle stitching your fabric right next to the straight edge of the wedge.

When you have stitched to the end of your slash (2 inches) keep needle down and raise presser foot and slide the cardboard down and continue.

The whole secret is not only are you getting a perfect guide but holding the cardboard firmly as you stitch is preventing the top layer of fabric from slipping forward. This works perfect on straight stitching. Sorry, you'll have to struggle with the curves.

Dear Eunice Farmer

I've been watching the fashion pages in every book and paper as you suggested. I notice that jeweled buttons are used today on everything from cottons to evening clothes. I used some lovely jeweled buttons on a few silk and worsted suit, and the buttons are breaking the threat and raveling the buttonholes. Can we prevent this? Mrs. Mary K.

Dear Mrs. Mary K.

You're right about the jeweled buttons; they serve as an accessory instead of a mere necessity. If the buttons are made with stones that have a prong type setting, it's better to sew them on your jacket at the corner of the buttonhole and use snaps for the closing.

Be sure to use the very large snaps and carefully cover them with a lightweight matching fabric so they won't be objectionable when your jacket is open.

Jeweled buttons are used for daytime as well as evening clothes and would give a garment a real lift. Perhaps you had better check your older clothes out; just replacing the buttons can give you the latest fashion look!

Fiancee Won't Need Contacts to See Handwriting on Wall

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a girl who will graduate from college in June. I am a professional man. When she went home for Christmas vacation she had herself fitted for contact lenses.

ABBY

Abby, I liked her in glasses (I wear them, too) and I have never told her that I would like her better in contact lenses. I didn't even know she was interested in them.

For whom is she preening? Whom else, besides me, does she have to please? Why this sudden vanity? To top it off, her lenses have a violet hue, a la Elizabeth Taylor, and the girl I love has hazel eyes.

Should I put her to the test and ask her to choose between me and the contacts?

ONLY HER FIANCE

DEAR ONLY: Perhaps she's pleasing only herself, which is her privilege. You should be familiar enough with the girl you're about to marry to tell her you like her better in spectacles than in contacts. Having said it, drop it.

If you insist on making this a matter of "choice" the lady needs neither glasses nor contacts to see the handwriting on the wall.

DEAR ABBY: We are eight retired housewives (rather our husbands are retired — wives never do) and we have a common problem. We live in Clearwater, Florida, and have all received cards and letters from friends up north who write, "We plan to drop in for a visit this winter."

Nothing is said about WHEN they will drop in, or for how long. This is disturbing because since we have no idea when to expect them, or for how long, we can't make any plans of our own, or even accommodate others who have planned to visit us.

Please print this with your comment for the benefit of others who are similarly vexed.

CLEARWATER, FLA.

DEAR CLEARWATER: Unless you are running a resort and booking reservations, you should be ASKED if it is convenient to receive guests at a specific time for a specific number of days.

Those who would descend on you with the kind of "notice" you describe should be given directions to the nearest motel.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HAD IT" IN HILLSBOROUGH: Why do you feel that you must tell your neighbor in a "nice" way to keep her dogs off your property? Tell her in a respectful, but firm way that when she "walks" her dogs, to please keep walking until they are beyond your costly lawn and shrubbery.

The Philip E. Ryckmans of Lake Orion announce the engagement of their daughter, Bonnie Jean, to Airman 2.C. Thomas Allen Hathaway, son of the Perry Hathaways of Oxford. She is a graduate of Pontiac Business Institute. Her fiance is stationed at Keesler AFB, Biloxi, Miss.

Plan Opera by American

The Piccolo Opera Company's production of "Little Red Riding Hood," an opera by American composer Seymour Barab, will be given at the Detroit Symphony Orchestra's last Young People's Concerts of the current season on March 25 at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. in Ford Auditorium. Valter Poole will conduct.

The Henry Ford High School Performing Arts Dance Group, under the direction of Mrs. Beulah Hamilton, also will participate.

Tickets are available at the Ford Auditorium Box Office.

Tots to Have New School

A new nursery school for children ages two-and-a-half to six, the Galloway Park Nursery School and Day Care Center, located on a 16-acre site on Mt. Clemens Street, will open Monday.

Sponsored by the First Church of God and licensed and supervised by the Michigan Staff Department of Social Welfare, the enrollment capacity is 20. The first ends June 12.

Activities are planned to improve the child's educational and social development from 7:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m., week days.

Mrs. Everett Warner of Lynch Avenue may be contacted for further information.

His Problem Is Weighty

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Chester Holley has a 45-ton problem—a massive locomotive which sits on a siding at the Port Authority yards here. He can't get the 26-foot-long steam engine home.

Operator of a model railroad hobby shop, he has a roadbed and tracks in front of the shop ready to receive the huge locomotive. But since there are no tracks between where it is and where he wants it to be, the only way to move it would be to hoist it onto a huge flatbed truck and drive it. The cost of this is prohibitive. Holley bought the engine more than two years ago when it was ready for the scrap heap.

Original Formal Design Changed

New Resting Place for JFK Like Garden

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new and permanent resting place of the late President John F. Kennedy lies on a terraced slope amid types of flowering trees he once liked.

The memorial, in Arlington National Cemetery, is more like a garden, a change from the formal design originally planned.

* * *

Kennedy's body was moved there, without prior announcement, Tuesday night. It is some 20 feet from the site where his body had lain since Nov. 25, 1963. Moved to the permanent memorial at the same time were the graves of two of his children, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, who died two days after his birth in 1963, and an unnamed daughter stillborn in 1956.

His widow, President Johnson and five brothers and sisters of the late President gathered at the new site, huddled under umbrellas in the rain early Wednesday for the blessing of the grave.

OLD GRANITE

The decision to change the memorial design came last fall, it was learned, after some of the Kennedy family found that granite quarried over 150 years ago, was available.

This stone had been cut from a quarry on Cape Cod, Mass., near Falmouth and also near the home where Kennedy spent his summers and went while he was president to sail and relax.

* * *

The granite was collected from stone fences and abandoned foundations of barns and brought to Arlington.

Now, the rough-hewn slabs pave the area around his grave.

The eternal flame rises through the center of a lighter-colored round stone, five feet in diameter, at one end of the grave. It looks like an old millstone but is simply an unmarked round stone also found on Cape Cod.

MARBLE STEPS

Wide white marble steps lead from a walkway up the terrace to the grave area. Around the walkway is a low stone wall inscribed with seven quotations from Kennedy speeches.

The original design for the $1.4-million memorial called for a terminal wall behind the grave with the presidential seal on it.

But now there will be only a grassy slope that undulates on up the hill to the steps of the mansion where Robert E. Lee once lived.

Around the grave have been planted boxwood, saucer magnolia trees just about ready to bloom, flowering cherry trees, holly and crabapple.

More shrubs and trees will be planted. There will be flowers, too. Kennedy often used to look out of his presidential office to check on the flowers in the White House rose garden.

* * *

The earth is bare now, but there will be grass, the bluegrass that Kennedy favored. Reporters who once were admonished by President Kennedy to "stay off my grass" in the rose garden remember how he liked bluegrass.

Earth Slide Buries Two Boys; One Dies

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP) — For almost 18 hours David Shaw, 9, was buried alive under tons of earth.

His legs cramped tightly beneath him, he breathed the air trapped by an overhanging ledge above him—and stayed too frightened to fall asleep.

"Where's Ronnie?" David asked when a Marine rescue team found him Wednesday.

His friend, Ronnie Staggs, 10, was killed by the earth slide that fell on the two boys as they played in a steep-sided canyon on the Camp Pendleton Marine Base.

SCREAMED

"When the dirt first fell, I heard Ronnie scream 'get me out.'" David said.

"I told him I didn't think we could get out. Then I heard him crying and it was the last thing I remember until I heard footsteps and the noise the shovels made. I thought they were going to kill me because all the dirt was falling on me."

The boys—sons of noncommissioned Marine officers stationed at the base—wandered into the canyon Tuesday afternoon in search of a model airplane. Search parties hunted through the night and found the cave-in by midmorning.

Lance Cpl. James Sylvester of Portland, Ore., dug a shovelful of dirt and uncovered a deep hole. Pfc. Charles Perkins of Lexington, Ky., put his hand in the hole and touched David on the head.

"He began to cry," Sylvester said. "I shouted that we found him."

Then Pfc. Terry Womack of Shelbyville, Tenn., crawled into the hole and tied his belt around David's waist, and the other Marines pulled him out.

* * *

A few minutes later several more tons of earth fell into the area where David had been trapped. The body of the Staggs boy was uncovered nearby.

Of his ordeal David said it seemed like "only a couple of hours." He asked for Ronnie, then he wanted his mother and his model airplane.

Ex-Con Counsels Prisoners in Rehabilitation Program

AP Wirephoto

PAROLEES' TEACHER — Robert Tate, ex-convict, has lived 17 of his 33 years behind bars. He has joined a Flint rehabilitation program for the first job he has ever held in his life.

By the Associated Press

FLINT — At age 33, teacher Robert Tate knows his subject. He spent 17 years behind bars for learning it.

"I'm not proud to admit I'm an ex-convict, but at least now I'm man enough to admit it," Tate said.

★ ★ ★

As ex-convict, ex-dope addict and sometime author, Tate is paid $7,000 a year for telling convicts what to do when they get that "ex" before the label.

"This is the first time in my life I've ever held a job," Tate said. "I worked a lot harder stealing than I have to work to earn a living."

REHABILITATION PROGRAM

Tate is a counselor in the vocational rehabilitation program sponsored by the Mott Foundation. The 2-year-old program is aimed at two goals:

—Keeping convicted criminals from returning to lives of crime.

—Keeping noncriminals from embarking on courses that could land them in jail.

In speeches to high school groups, Tate says crime is a bad risk—"too many things can go wrong"—and narcotics are no solution—"you're just killing the pain, not curing it."

"I used to have to steal $50 a day to feed the monkey on my back (addiction), but I lived in the gutter," he said. "I didn't even have a change of clothing."

ONE OF 250

Tate is one of 250 Genesee (Flint) County men who have left Michigan prisons in the last two years after joining the vocational rehabilitation program.

Of the 250, only 25, or 10 per cent, have been returned to prison. The Michigan average is 35 per cent returned.

★ ★ ★

Frank J. Manley Jr., director of the program, says getting the convict in the frame of mind to be accepted is as important as getting the community to accept him.

To help ex-convicts, the program has monthly "drop in" meetings at its frame house headquarters "like Alcoholics Anonymous—just a chance for them to talk over their problems with others."

NOT A CURE-ALL

A prison stay will not solve all a man's problems, Tate said.

"Even when I was in prison I was never really off dope," Tate said. "You could always bribe someone to get it for you."

★ ★ ★

Tate says he earned money for bribes by writing stories about his addiction and selling them to pulp and slick magazines.

Tate was first convicted of robbery at age 15. He was contacted by the rehabilitation program four months before his release from prison.

★ ★ ★

"The man told me I'd have to lick myself first," Tate said. "He said there was no one else could do that for me."

A job as a salesman was waiting, but Tate turned it down.

"I didn't know what to do," he said.

"Finally I got myself a job—a dirty one—in a box factory," he said. "I walked seven miles to work every morning and seven miles home at night.

★ ★ ★

"I knew I had to hold down that job if I was ever going to be a man again," Tate said. "I found out there were still some things in me that were still good."

Tate held his box factory job for seven months, then became a counselor, his "schooling" done.

Insects' Sex Lure Deadly

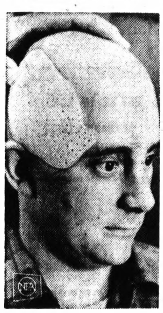
By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The perfumes exuded by insects to lure a mate may be synthesized and used to eliminate the bugs instead, if research, under a grant from the Agriculture Department to Howard University here, is successful.

Dr. James W. Wheeler and his associate, Sung Ki Oh of Howard, will work with waxlike, acetate compounds similar to the sex attractants used by several insects, including the gypsy moth, silkworm, cabbage looper, and pink bollworm.

★ ★ ★

At present, obtaining a minute drop of the chemical from existing insects requires processing thousands of bugs.



NO BONES ABOUT IT — Navy Machinery Repairman Allan Smith, who was injured in an accident aboard the USS Proteus, is shown with a new plastic skull section. A portion of his skull had to be removed after the accident, and this man-made section was made to replace it.

'Clean N-Bomb Model Built'

Much Less Fallout, Says Swedish Paper

STOCKHOLM (UPI)—Swedish scientists have designed and built a model of the world's first "practically clean" nuclear weapon, the newspaper Dagens Nyheter said today.

The weapon, if built to full scale and exploded, would produce a great deal less deadly radioactive fallout than current nuclear arms, the newspaper said.

Official sources declined to comment on the report.

Neutral Sweden does not have nuclear weapons. The government has indicated it will not produce them under present conditions. However, Swedish industry and science is regarded as fully able to produce the nuclear arms within a few years if the government so ordered.

★ ★ ★

The model "clean" weapon emerged from studies at the Swedish Defense Research Institute (FOA), the newspaper said. The research is designed to find ways to soften the impact of a nuclear attack.

'CLEAN' MODEL

Scientists Sten Andersson and Bo Holmberg developed the "clean" model in this work, Dagens Nyheter said. It said the pair "proved it is a practical possibility to reduce the condensation around the fireball in a nuclear explosion by chemical means."

County Health Dept. Asks 44 New Jobs

Oakland County Health Director Dr. Bernard D. Berman yesterday requested that 44 new employes, including a $21,000 per year deputy health director, be budgeted for his department.

The plea was made at a session of the personnel policies committee of the County Board of Supervisors which later this year will recommend a proposed 1968 county salaries budget.

A year ago, Dr. Berman requested 43 new employes. Only two new people were allowed, however, in the budget approved by the full board of supervisors last fall.

Dr. Berman noted yesterday that only a small percentage of requested personnel has been granted in the past six years and said that in view of the county's population growth it will be difficult to meet commitments unless a sufficient staff is allowed.

★ ★ ★

The need for a deputy director of the health department is urgent, he said. "When I'm out of my office at a meeting such as this, someone should be minding the store," he added.

PERSONNEL

Included in the health department request for added personnel were 18 nursing positions, eight sanitarians, an alcoholism program counselor and a dentist.

Other department officials who made their projected 1968 personnel needs known yesterday were County Treasurer James E. Seeterlin; Duane W. Shaw, director of the veterans affairs department; and Thomas Fitzpatrick, assistant county planning director.

Seeterlin asked that two engineering aides be added to his staff of 35 on the assumption that the task of maintaining the county's parcel numbering system will be the responsibility of the treasurer's office.

★ ★

Fitzpatrick requested four new persons for the planning unit to meet anticipated needs.

PLANNING NEEDS

Requested were an economic development coordinator, federal aid coordinator, a librarian and a stenographer. Presently a staff of 13 is authorized.

Shaw, whose department has 12 employes, asked for three new people, a field service representative and two clerical workers.

Cost of the 53 new positions sought yesterday would be $359,325. This includes $304,085 for the health department, $11,298 for the treasurer, $29,496 for the planning unit and $14,446 for the veterans department.

★ ★ ★

The personnel policies committee will meet again tomorrow with four other department heads.

A tentative 1968 salaries budget is expected to be completed by the committee and County Board of Auditors by the end of this month.

It will be presented to the supervisors' ways and means committee April 3.

Playboy Club's Liquor May Go

State Sets Hearing on Change in Policy

LANSING (UPI)—If Detroit's Playboy Club decides to stick to its bunnies and refuse to admit nonmembers, the Michigan Liquor Control Commission says it may take away the club liquor license.

The commission has ordered the club's management to justify its new policy of closing the bunny hutch to all but members who have shelled out $25 for a Playboy card.

A public hearing on the matter will be held March 23 under an order signed by commissioners Stanley G. Thayer, Louis G. Jarboe and Joseph L. Wisniewski.

Michigan law requires establishments that hold a beer, wine and liquor license to be open to the public. Until just recently, the Detroit club has been open to members and nonmembers alike.

★ ★ ★

Thayer said the first the commission knew of the club's decision to enforce Playboy International's members-only policy was when a representative of the Detroit club notified him by telephone last month.

TOOK OUT ADS

On March 7 the club took out full-page ads in two Detroit newspapers announcing the change.

"From now on the Detroit club will be operated exactly as the 15 other clubs in Playboy's international chain—exclusively for the enjoyment of Playboy's cardholders and their guests," the club announced.

The ads boasted the club now has a "new air of exclusivity."

★ ★ ★

An ad placed in newspapers yesterday said the "Detroit Playboy Club is open to the general public" and explained the club is "open" to any person who pays a $25 admission fee.

The commission views the "admission fee" as a means of ducking under the protection of laws that allow cover charges.

★ ★ ★

The club's license comes up for renewal May 1.

Grain Farms Up

EAST LANSING (AP) — Because of high labor costs in dairy farming, "cash grain" operations rapidly are replacing dairying as Michigan's most common type of farming, Michigan State University scientists say. They estimate that by 1980 Michigan will have 13,000 cash grain farms, which can be highly mechanized, compared to about 8,000 dairy farms. In 1964, the state had 15,500 cash grain farms and 20,230 dairy farms.

Admission Policies Check at School for Deaf Asked

LANSING (AP) — A check on admission policies at the State School for the Deaf at Flint was asked Wednesday by a member of the State Board of Education.

Ferris Crawford, associate superintendent of the State Department of Public Instruction, gave the board a breakdown on enrollments at the Flint school and at the State School for the Blind in Lansing.

★ ★ ★

The deaf school has 106 students enrolled from: Genesee County out of the total of 440, the board was told. Wayne County, most populous in the state, was next highest with 49 enrollments.

"That ratio seems a little out of kilter," objected board member Thomas J. Brennan of Dearborn. "That seems a real windfall for the community, and they are one that can pretty well afford to educate their own."

Brennan said other board members also are concerned because this "does not seem a proper adjustment."

Of the 196 enrollees from Genesee County, 10 are residents of the school and 96 attend day classes.

Brennan said he also wanted a check on a claim that many residents from other sections of the state move to the county so their children can attend the day classes at the school for the deaf.

The education board took no action on a recommendation from a Special Advisory Committee on Education for the Handicapped that education for the handicapped be supported on the same level as for regular students.

Allergies and You—10

Beware of Poison Ivy

By Allergy Foundation of America
(Distributed by NEA Special Services)

Just thinking about poison ivy can make you itch.

Most people know of the dangers which lurk in the resins that abound on the three-leaf clusters. If you can't identify poison ivy, stay away from all plants and vines.

Poison ivy and the woes it can bring (along with poison sumac and poison oak) is a classic and easily understood example of an allergy and the human reaction to it.

It is a true allergy, one of the most common.

★ ★ ★

About one of two persons, or one of three, are susceptible in varying degrees.

HARMLESS TO MANY

It is harmless to many. They work in it and can even sleep in it.

Spread widely throughout North America, it is found virtually nowhere else in the world. In Europe, they dodge wild primrose.

There's one curious thing about contacts with poison ivy, a circumstance that is repeated over and over again in the personal histories of individuals who have fallen victims to allergies of every description.

★ ★

The first contact with poison ivy, or the first few contacts, will bring no reaction whatever. The body's defense against them may crumble and the next contact will bring rapid reaction.

MUST BE TOUCHED

In a test with infants, none showed any result when exposed to minute quantities of poison ivy resin at birth. Six weeks later, 75 per cent were sensitive.

You can't get an ivy reaction just being near it. You must touch it or something it has touched, like a pants leg.

It can cause anything from a slight rash to widespread inflamation and blisters. Scratching, of course, spreads it.

★ ★ ★

Most violent reactions come from the smoke of the burning plant. The skin, the eyes and the lungs are exposed when this happens.

★ ★ ★

Avoidance is the best guard against poison ivy. Wash with soap and water quickly if you THINK you have touched it.

★ ★ ★

A doctor can give you relief and sympathy if red welts and blisters inform you without question that you HAVE.

Oswald's Widow Denies Knowing 'Plot' Suspects

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "I never met David Ferrie, or any of the others," says Marina Oswald Porter, once wed to the man the Warren commission declares single-handedly killed President John F. Kennedy.

MARINA

Marina, now remarried and pleading for privacy, said Wednesday in an Associated Press interview she never heard of the persons New Orleans Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison claims conspired with Lee Harvey Oswald to assassinate Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

She said she had never heard of Clay Shaw or a Clay Bertrand and saw Shaw the first time "on television recently," after Garrison arrested him and said he would prove Shaw was part of the conspiracy.

Garrison asserts that Oswald, Shaw and Ferrie met in Ferrie's New Orleans apartment in September 1963 and plotted the assassination. A three-judge panel is hearing evidence to find out if there is enough to warrant filing charges against Shaw.

BRICK DUPLEX

Marina, 25, still slender and pretty, but firm about not granting formal press interviews, talked from her brick duplex in North Dallas. Two of her three children circled shyly but curious around the visitor.

She said Garrison had never contacted her concerning his investigation into the assassination. Her only comment on his probe was that "I believe that all this is blown up and said over and over again, and then people just believe."

Oswald was slain by Jack Ruby two days after the Nov. 22, 1963, assassination of Kennedy. Ruby died this January of cancer.

Ferrie, a former airlines pilot, died in bed Feb. 22 in New Orleans of what the parish coroner called natural causes. Garrison said it was suicide.

CLAIMED 'TROUBLE'

A Garrison witness, Perry Russo, testifying before the New Orleans judge, said Tuesday he last saw Oswald in Ferrie's apartment as Oswald described trouble with Marina.

Russo quoted Ferrie as advising Oswald, "Don't worry, I'll handle it."

★ ★ ★

Marina said emphatically she never met Ferrie.

She has shunned the spotlight since the assassination.

BOUGHT HOUSE

She bought a house with some of the $70,000 in sympathy donations she received after the assassination.

In June 1965, she was married to Kenneth Jess Porter, then technician for an electronics firm. They had a son in July 1966 and moved to Greenville, 60 miles northeast of Dallas where Porter had relatives.

★ ★ ★

They returned to Dallas in late September and Porter began operating a bar and grill.

Marina rarely is seen outside the house except for walks with the children to a nearby supermarket.

★ ★ ★

When asked if she knew of or had met David Ferrie, Marina ducked back from behind the door to answer firmly in the negative.

She then conversed briefly, apologizing for her appearance in her barely accented English.

TRIO IS CHARGED — A Tennessee state patrolman explains charges to Brian Heggen (center, glasses), 22, of San Jose, Calif., after he and two companions (foreground) were arrested in Nashville yesterday on charges of having thrown themselves in front of President Johnson's car. Heggen was booked on a disorderly conduct charge of throwing himself in front of a moving vehicle; Shirley Newton (left), 22, of Memphis, Tenn., and Janett Dewart, 20, Charlottesville, Va., were booked on charges of having participated in an attempt to leap in front of a moving vehicle.

Modest-Sized Crowds for LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's first major speech-making trip beyond Washington since the November elections brought him warm greetings from modest-sized Tennessee crowds.

If there were fewer homemade greeting placards than would be normal in a campaign, there also were far fewer critical signboards than Johnson saw on most of his excursions outside Washington last year.

In visiting the Nashville area, Johnson made a start on an undertaking urged upon him by a number of Democratic leaders disturbed about their party's election losses last November. They want him to make more personal appearances around the country, taking his case to the people.

He addressed the legislature, helped celebrate the 200th birthday of Andrew Jackson, helped dedicate a new community college in Columbia and participated in a seminar on regional educational undertakings. He had a speech for each occasion.

The President, in effect, upstaged his wife, who had been scheduled to make solo appearances at all these events — apart from the one before the joint session of the Legislature. His major surprise was the announcement of a reshuffle of the embassy in Saigon. He told the Legislature Henry Cabot Lodge is resigning and will be replaced by Ellsworth Bunker, 72, now an ambassador at large.

Johnson also announced other top-level changes and promised intensive ground operations in the war in the months ahead.

There were barely a handful of antiwar pickets outside the legislature in Nashville. But there was one untoward incident — when a young man, with obvious support from two women, plopped himself down in the middle of the roadway in front of the presidential limousine as Johnson was leaving the Capitol building.

Autobiography of Philosopher

Russell's Book Out

LONDON (AP) — Lord Bertrand Russell says in the first volume of his autobigraphy the three passions of his life have been longing for love, the search for knowledge and unbearable pity for mankind's suffering.

The pholosopher, whose "Principia Mathematica" won him acclaim as one of this century's most brilliant mathematicians, also says that as a boy he found algebra difficult at first, "perhaps as a result of bad teaching."

★ ★ ★

But when he was introduced to Euclid, the ancient Greek geometer, "I had not imagined there was anything so delicious in the world," he writes.

★ ★ ★

Now 94, Lord Russell in his long career challenged most of society's accepted religious, social, moral and political views. He was awarded the Order of Merit, conferred on no more than 24 living Britons, and the Nobel Prize for Literature. In recent years, he has been a virulent critic of U.S. policy in Vietnam.

FIRST PRINTING

Russell sent the first volume of his autobiography to his publisher 15 years ago with the stipulation that it would not be published until after his death. He was persuaded to change his mind and the book appeared today in a first printing of 25,000 copies. The first volume ends with his campaign against World War I.

Russell is now working on the second volume at his home in Wales.

★ ★ ★

In clear, candid, matter of fact style, Russell tells of his personal life and crusades.

"The facts of sex became known to me at the age of 12," he writes. "It appeared to me at the time self-evident that free love was the only rational system and that marriage was bound up with Christian superstition."

LONELY YEARS

Russell says his adolescent years were lonely and unhappy and he was shy, childish, awkward, well behaved and good-natured.

★ ★ ★

He says he divided his interest among sex, religion and mathematics but gave up his religious beliefs in his teens. He wrote his agnostic views in Greek so that his family and teachers could not read them.

★ ★ ★

The first of his four marriages, at 22, was to Alys Pearsall Smith, 27, an American Quaker. His love for her waned.

★ ★ ★

"I went out bicycling one afternoon and suddenly, as I was riding along a country road, I realized that I no longer loved Alys," he writes.

Revisions to Draft Are Just a Starter

By JERRY T. BAULCH

(AP Newsfeatures)

For draftees, servicemen and veterans, there is a lot more cooking in Washington right now than the highly publicized changes being made and proposed in the draft.

Of course the draft revisions are on the front burner.

There are two drastically different proposals — a complete overhaul proposed by the presidential commission and a much milder proposal by a committee commissioned by the House Armed Services Committee.

Without awaiting congressional action, President Johnson has decided to make effective by 1969 the proposal to draft 19-year-olds first and to use a form of lottery on making the draft selections.

★ ★ ★

Also he will cut down on deferments for graduate students and fathers but leave to Congress any decision on undergraduates.

ACTION REQUIRED

Congress will have to take some action on the draft, however, before June 30 when the present law expires. There was immediate talk of blocking the lottery proposal.

---

GI BILL: An item of legislation almost sure of passage is a new GI bill providing better benefits for veterans since Korea — especially those who have fought in Vietnam.

There seems general agreement that the GI education bill passed last year is too low.

President Johnson has asked that the rate for single veterans be raised from $100 to $130 monthly and that the $150 rate for married veterans with children be raised $10 for each child beyond one. And he wants to help those who need to finish high school to do so, with help beyond that through college. At present high school help counts against any college benefits.

★ ★ ★

The President also wants to increase to wartime rates the disability compensation and pensions for veterans who served on or since Aug. 5, 1964.

5.4 PCT. INCREASE

He seeks a 5.4 per cent increase in the general pension rates for 1.4 million veterans, widows and dependents, and extra medical benefits for pensioned veterans. He has called for higher insurance benefits up to $30,000.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Olin D. Teague, D-Tex., chairman of the House committee, wants to raise the pension rates for non-service-connected disabilities for veterans and to extend the peacetime benefits to men who have entered military service since Jan. 31, 1955, the cutoff date for Korean GI bill benefits.

---

MEDICAL: It's uncertain what will happen to the Defense Department's plan to bring dental care into the medical program the military services provide for dependents of active duty personnel. This is now excluded along with routine eye and physical examinations.

★ ★ ★

Indications are that Pentagon officials feel it is too costly to push at this time.

---

MILITARY JUSTICE: Also in the works is a proposal to improve military justice.

Two sticklers are what to do about crimes committed by American civilians accompanying the armed services overseas and military crimes committed by veterans while they are in service.

Also involved is how to make certain military laws comply with recent Supreme Court decisions on confessions and legal counsel.

PAY: The military has gotten two military pay raises since August 1965, but many influential congressmen feel the pay is still too low.

★ ★ ★

The unofficial but authoritative Army, Navy and Air Force Times says defense officials have decided against submitting a pay package early this year. Instead, small pieces of legislation may be submitted from time to time.

---

RESERVES: Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., has reintroduced his so-called Reserves Bill of Rights which passed the House last year but died in the Senate. The House has passed it once more.

Hebert's bill would give the various Reserve components higher status in the Defense Department, place permanent manpower floors under the Reserves and National Guard, and require the Secretary of Defense to support them with ample equipment and training.

It is intended to bar any further merging of the Reserves and National Guard.

Dresden Citizens Bitter Over WW II Destruction

DRESDEN, East Germany (AP) — "Bitter?" the elderly woman said. "Anyone who lived through that night is bitter."

"That night" was Feb. 13, 1945 when waves of Allied bombers pounded Dresden. Thousands were killed and much of the architectural splendor of Germany's "Florence of the Elbe" was destroyed.

★ ★ ★

The woman's bitterness is echoed by other Dresden residents who were in the city the night of the fire-bombing.

"What was the point?" asked another woman. "It must have been obvious that the outcome of the war had been decided." World War II in Europe ended in May 1945.

PARISH DECIMATED

Said a clergyman: "On Feb. 12, 1945, our parish had 10,000 people in it. After Feb. 13, there were 320 left. Not that they all died. Many did. Many fled. No one will ever know how many exactly did die in the bombing of the city. It was filled with refugees from the East. No one knows exactly who and how many."

The clergyman said the East German government's estimate of the bombing death toll ranged from 28,000 to 35,000.

★ ★ ★

"From my talks with city officials at the time of the bombing," he added, "I heard figures of more than 100,000 having been killed."

Dresden's current population of about 500,000 compares to about 640,000 in 1939.

CONTROVERSY FLARES

The controversy of the bombing of Dresden flared again recently in Britain where Lord Boothby called the raids "the most dastardly act in the whole of British history."

This brought a sharp response from historian A. J. P. Taylor who contended the Dresden raids, in which the U.S. Air Force also participated, "were carried out as part of a systematic plan designed to break German resistance when this was still very considerable."

★ ★ ★

While the dispute continues the people of Dresden know their 13th century city never again will be what it was.

Both the people and the Communist regime that governs East Germany, are proud of what has been rebuilt — for example, the baroque Zwinger Museum. It was a burned-out ruin.

MADONNA "A MUST"

The display of Raphael's Sistine Madonna has become a must again for visitors to the Dresden Gallery. Paintings, removed for safekeeping during the war, were sent by the invading Russians back to the Soviet Union. They were returned in 1955.

A special effort is being made to re-create as much as possible the city's traditional image along the Elbe River. But many ruins remain. Many more great palaces and buildings are gone.

★ ★ ★

The Communist regime reminds Dresden's people of the misfortune that once overwhelmed them with poster slogans such as, "Never again a Feb. 13."

They compare Dresden with Hiroshima.

While there are plans to keep on rebuilding, the Communists recently rejected a West German offer of $7.5 million to restore the opera house that sits a massive ruin on the theater square near the Elbe. The rejection was based on a recently initiated East German policy line that there is no longer any all-German development.

States Eye Safety Legislation

Bumpy Road for Bad Driver

CHICAGO (AP) —Now that basic safety requirements for new cars are on the federal law books, some states are taking a second look at the drivers.

Are drivers the loose nuts which cause accidents? The thought seems implied in such pending legislation. The road ahead looks bumpy for the driver who takes to the bottle before he takes to the road. Heretofore, it's been difficult to obtain proof of drunkenness against the hail-fellow who's still in sufficient control of his faculties to refuse a blood test.

★ ★ ★

Several legislatures are considering the implied consent law, drafted by traffic safety organizations. It would suspend or revoke the driving license of any motorist refusing to take an alcoholic determination test. Application for a license to drive, it says, implies consent to such examination if police believe a driver is intoxicated.

This proposal is on the legislative agenda of Michigan, Maine, Indiana, Colorado, Ohio, Wisconsin, Washington, South Carolina and Texas.

ALCOHOL BLOOD TESTS

Bills to provide for alcohol blood tests on the bodies of drivers and others killed in auto accidents are under consideration by the legislatures in Texas and Hawaii.

Such tests, made routinely in Chicago by order of the Cook County Coroner Andrew J. Toman, showed that 23 of 41 drivers killed in one-car smashups during an 18-month period had been drinking.

In California a study showed that 7 of 10 drivers killed by smashing into something other than another car had been drinking.

Auto inspection and periodic examination of drivers to reassess the fitness of both for the highway's rigors is getting widespread attention of the states again this year. There's a wrinkle in some states which involves spot inspection of both driver and vehicle.

INSPECTION PROGRAM

The state of Washington has pending a bill which would authorize the state patrol to stop a motorist at any time to check the driver's license and the mechanical condition of his car.

California initiated such an inspection program last year.

There is no attempt to set up the surprise road block testing which caused outrage among motorists in Illinois a few years back.

★ ★ ★

In California six five-man testing teams cull random drivers from the traffic streams for such checks, and the emphasis is on the condition of the vehicles. A defect found becomes a matter of compulsory correction.

A regular vehicle inspection law is on Washington's books, but there has been no pressure by officials for funds with which to apply it.

CONSIDER CHANGES

Other states are considering revamping their inspection programs. In Hawaii, the city of Honolulu wants to phase out its inspection by privately owned service stations. Gov. John A. Burns wants to junk Hawaii's lifetime driver license in favor of periodic reexamination.

A number of bills would clamp restrictions on motorcyclists and scooter drivers. Ohio and Hawaii have proposals to make them wear crash helmets and goggles. Connecticut, Utah and Pennsylvania lawmakers have their eyes on cyclists.

★ ★ ★

Dozens of bills are aimed at correcting specific driver or vehicle faults, and some such measures are in the hoppers of nearly every state where the legislature is in session.

Some proposals stem directly from reaction to specific accidents, as in Massachusetts where more than 50 highway safety bills were drawn by the office of the state motor vehicle registrar. One, to require yearly physical examinations of drivers over 70, was prompted by a crash in Holyoke in which an 80-year-old woman died of a heart attack at the wheel. Her car plowed into 10 children and killed four.

★ ★ ★

A number of bills propose state-sponsored studies of accident causes and remedies. Others would apply the safety features of the new federal auto manufacture statute at the state level.

Serve Vegetables in Tempting Fashion

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

People who don't like vegetables or eat only a limited few don't know what they're missing. If they would only try a different vegetable once or twice, they might find it good.

New England housewives of an earlier era cooked all the taste and goodness out of cabbage when they prepared a boiled dinner. Modern cooks know the value of quick cooking.

Cabbage will stay appetizingly green in the following recipe.

QUICK PORK AND CABBAGE

2 tablespoons oil
1 pound lean pork
1 clove garlic
1 green onion
1 medium head cabbage
3-4 medium tomatoes, or 1½ cups canned tomatoes
1 cup chicken stock
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1½ tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup water

Cut pork in small ½-inch pieces; remove the big chunks fat. It can be used in place of oil for frying.

Wash cabbage; cut in half and remove core. Put flat side down on board and cut lengthwise ⅛-inch slices; then cut once crosswise so strips are not too long to eat. Mince garlic and slice onion bulb.

Brown meat pieces in hot fat or oil. Add onion and garlic when the pieces are starting to brown. Browning of meat takes about 5 minutes. Add cabbage, tomatoes and chicken stock (1 bouillon cube to 1 cup water). Cover. Cook 10 minutes or until cabbage is tender.

Dissolve cornstarch with water. Add to cabbage mixture along with salt, pepper and soy sauce. Stir until juice thickens. Makes 4-6 servings.

Sweet Spanish onions simmered with Burgundy wine makes an excellent accompaniment to poultry, wild game or steaks and pot roasts.

Remember that wine loses its alcoholic content when it is cooked. Only the flavor is left—like vanilla in cake.

BUNGUNDY ONIONS

Choose five or six Idaho sweet Spanish onions, about 3 inches in width (which is actually on the smallish side for this mammoth-sized variety!) Cut off the root end; carefully peel back the fragile skin, leaving the stem end to serve as a handle.

Cut in ¼-inch slices. Pack into a quart measure. There should be 2 rounded quarts. Separate slices into rings.

The centers and end pieces may be held back, to be chopped and used in vegetable salads or added to cooking carrots, peas, and other vegetables for subtle flavor. Or spread on cookie sheet and freeze for later use.

Heat three tablespoons butter in a Dutch oven, deep heavy frying pan or your electric skillet. Add onion rings, tossing them about with a wooden spoon until rings are coated with butter. Ad three whole cloves, ½ teaspoon salt.

* * *

Continue cooking over low heat until onions just start to brown. Watch this! Add one cup Burgundy wine. Cover pan; simmer about 15 minutes. Onions should be slightly crisp but tender.

Remove cover and cook until the wine is reduced almost to a glaze. Serve at once. Note: at the start, this may seem like a lot of onions but they do cook down and folks' idea of size of servings changes with the first taste! Oh, yes, remove cloves before serving! Makes 6-8 servings.

Thre are some new frozen beans in your grocer's refrigerated case.

* * *

Deluxe peas, whole green beans, sweet white corn, baby Brussels sprouts, baby broccoli spears, whole mushrooms and artichoke hearts are choice products.

If you're looking for a new way to serve peas, get a package of the tinny deluxe ones and serve them in the manner suggested below.

GOURMET PEAS IN SOUR CREAM SAUCE

¼ teaspoon dried tarragon leaves
2 tablespoons warm water
1 package (10 oz.) frozen deluxe tiny peas
1 large cucumber, peeled and sliced ¼ inch thick
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup sour cream
½ cup cooked salad dressing or mayonnaise
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Soak tarragon leaves in warm water 10 minutes. Place peas, cucumber, salt, and tarragon mixture in saucepan. Bring to boil. Cover and simmer 5 minutes. Drain well.

Combine sour cream, salad dressing, and lemon juice. Place over low heat and stir constantly until thoroughly heated; add to vegetables. Makes about 2½ cups or 5 servings.

Bake Frozen Vegetables in a Covered Casserole

Although one of the great advantages of frozen vegetables is that they can be cooked in minutes on top of the stove, there are times when it is more convenient to cook them in the oven.

* * *

Baked in a slow, relaxed sort of way along with a roast, soufflé or other main dish, they can be timed to emerge piping hot and ready to serve without the need for last minute, attended cooking.

The technique calls for a casserole that can be covered, the frozen vegetable of your choice, a tablespoon or two of butter or margarine and a few selected seasonings.

The frozen vegetable cooks in its own steam as it defrosts in the oven; there is no liquid to drain off. The vegetable retains its garden fresh color, the flavor is notable fresh and the texture is tender-crisp.

Basic Directions for Baking Frozen Vegetables

1 package (9 to 12 ounces) frozen vegetable or 2 cups frozen vegetable from polybag
1 to 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash black pepper
Additional seasoning, if desired

Place frozen vegetable without defrosting in a 1 to 1½ quart baking dish with a tight-fitting cover. Add butter and seasonings. (If cover does not fit tightly, it may be necessary to add 1 to 2 tablespoons water.)

Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for time indicated in following chart. About 15 minutes before done, remove from oven and mix well. Return to oven and continue to bake until just tender.

(For a 325 degree oven, add 10 minutes to baking time; for a 375 degree oven, decrease baking time about 10 minutes.)

GOURMET PEAS IN SOUR CREAM SAUCE

Food Spending Rises; Percentage Is Down

EAST LANSING — If food spending trends established in the last ten years continue, we should see a decreasing proportion of the family income spent for food in 1967.

* * *

The percentage has declined from 26 per cent in 1947 to about 18.2 per cent in 1966, according to Mrs. Anita Dean, Cooperative Extension Service specialist in foods and nutrition at MSU.

* * *

Mrs. Dean noted that another trend has been established: the proportion of a rural family's food that is home produced is declining. This means that food expenditures of rural and urban families will be much more alike in the future.

Homemakers are sure they are spending more money for food than you used to. They are probably right.

Mrs. Dean noted that despite the lower percentage of income spent, the average American family spent $35 a week for food in 1965. In 1955 the average family spent only $30 a week.

EAT OUT MORE

And families are spending more money for food eaten away from home. This isn't as high as might be expected, considering the number of women working away from home, the increase in family income and the increase in off-farm employment.

If you're hoping for a higher income in 1967, plan to spend a bigger chunk of it for food.

"Statistics show that the proportion of the total dollar outlay for food away from home increases sharply with income. At the lowest income level $2 out of every $17, or about 12 per cent went for food away from home.

"Mid-income families spent $6 out of every $36, or about 17 per cent. And at the $10,000-and-over income level, about 27 per cent went for meals and snacks eaten away from home," Mrs. Dean said.

* * *

And it's still cheaper to eat in the South. The value of food used in 1965 per week ranged from $32 in the Northeast to $26 in the South. Food eaten away from home varied at about the same rate as food at home by regions.

However, regional differences in food spending are lessening. This is in keeping with the general lessening of geographic differences in standards of living in the U.S.

FLORIDA VITAMIN RELISH—You'll relish vitamin C and A in this fresh Florida orange and vegetable relish that's so good with fish, fowl and meat. Make enough for Easter dinner and after; it keeps well in the refrigerator.

Oranges and Vegetables Ground for A Relish

The Valencia is the juicy all-purpose Florida orange — ideal for slicing and sectioning for appetizers, salads and desserts. This superior variety, with its deep colored peel and fruit, is practically seedless and has exceptionally sweet, rich flavor.

Fine quality oranges and grapefruit continue to be the juiciest food buys at your market, and are listed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as plentiful foods for April. Due to the abundant supply, prices are lower than they have been in years.

The total 1966-67 Florida orange crop has been forecast at 142,400,000 boxes — 42 per cent above last season! This is a record for the Sunshine State's citrus industry.

The new crop includes 66,000,000 boxes of the prized Valencia oranges — 35 per cent above 1965-66. This variety will be coming into markets nationwide from approximately the middle of March to July this year, with the heaviest supply expected in April and May.

★ ★ ★

During the Valencia season, you'll find Florida Vitamin Relish a refreshingly different way to savor the heavenly sweet orange. This crisp raw relish is superb with fish, fowl and meat.

Made with oranges, carrots, green pepper and onion, its healthful content of vitamins C and A gives it its name.

As the crunchy orange-vegetable combination keeps well in the refrigerator, you can make it up for Easter dinner and enjoy it during the week with cold sliced turkey or ham.

FLORIDA VITAMIN RELISH

4 Florida oranges
2 carrots
1 green pepper
1 small onion (optional)
½ cup sugar
Few grains salt

Quarter oranges; remove any seeds. Scrape carrots; quarter lengthwise. Quarter green pepper; remove seeds and stem. Peel onion.

Put oranges, carrots, green pepper and onion through food chopper using medium blade. Add sugar and salt; mix well. Chill, covered, in refrigerator several hours before using. Yield 4 cups. Note: Relish will keep well in refrigerator.

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat.

A. Salt pork side.

Q. Where does it come from? How is it identified?

A. As the name indicates, it comes from the side. It is sold as a square or rectangular piece. Salt pork side is composed of alternate layers of fat and lean. It's cured by rubbing with or packing in salt.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. There are several methods: cooking in liquid, panfrying, panbroiling, baking and broiling. One of the most popular is panfrying. Slice salt pork side one-fourth inch thick, cover with water, bring to boiling and pour off water. Dip slices in cornmeal and fry in hot lard or drippings until golden brown. Serve with cream gravy made by blending one-fourth cup of flour with an equal amount of drippings. Add to this two cups of milk and cook, stirring constantly, until the sauce is thickened. This takes three to four minutes.

Preserved Ginger Spices a Dessert

Why not try a light but rich dessert that is refreshing?

Gingercream With Peaches

¼ cup cold water
1½ teaspoons unflavored gelatin
1 cup milk, heated
3 tablespoons finely chopped syrup-preserved ginger
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 package (10 ounces) frozen peaches

Sprinkle gelatin over cold water and allow to stand about 5 minutes to soften. Add the very hot milk; stir until gelatin is dissolved. Chill until partly set, stirring a few times. Fold in the ginger and whipped cream.

Turn into 6 dessert dishes; chill until set. Top with defrosted peaches. Makes 6 servings.

Canned Tomato Sauce Is Easy Way to Flavor

The Pennsylvania Dutch are known for having quite a way with food. Their busy cooks take pride in serving good food and lots of it. Their soul satisfaction comes from clean plates and contented family countenances when the meal is over.

★ ★ ★

This "Dutch Spiced Pot Roast" is reminiscent of Pennsylvania kitchens. It's not only pleasantly spicy but has tang, too. Cloves, bay leaf and onion mingle with piquant canned tomato sauce exchanging good flavors with the beef roast as it simmers.

The roast is first marinated in a spicy vinegar mixture, then cooked in the marinade for an hour. Then convenient canned tomato sauce with its dash of salt, spices and sugar for seasoning is added and the roast is cooked two hours longer.

Savory juices that collect are thickened and served as gravy.

Dutch Spiced Pot Roast

4 to 5 lb. beef rump roast
1 medium onion, sliced
1 bay leaf
3 whole cloves
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ cup vinegar
1 cup water
2 tablespoons oil
1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce
Flour to thicken gravy

Combine, onion, bay leaf, cloves, salt, pepper, vinegar and water. Pour over beef and marinate in refrigerator overnight. Pour off liquid and save.

Brown beef in oil in Dutch oven. Pour marinade over beef. Simmer meat for 1 hour. Remove cloves and bay leaf; add tomato sauce and cook 2 hours longer.

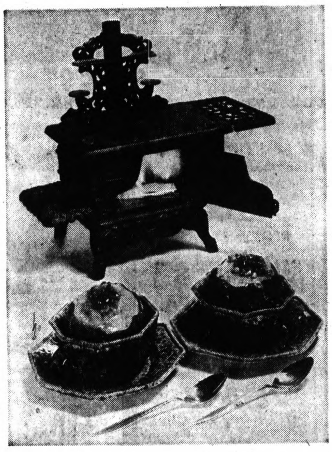
Add flour to thicken gravy, if desired. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

DUTCH SPICED POT ROAST — There's homey goodness in this Pennsylvania Dutch-inspired meal: Chicken corn soup, Dutch Spiced Pot Roast, mashed potatoes with carrots, pickled vegetable relishes, freshly baked bread, lettuce salad and apple pie with coffee.



BAKED PEANUT-GLAZED APPLES—These will tempt anyone on a cold winter's day. The apple centers are filled with a heady mixture of dry roasted peanuts, cinnamon and crumbs; a clear glaze completes this dazzling dessert.

Chopped Peanuts Fill Baked Apples

It's a feminine tradition. Ever since Eve offered Adam the fatal apple, women have been tempting their men with luscious apple desserts. So here's an enticing new number for your recipe repertoire — Baked Peanut-Glazed Apples.

The magic ingredient is dry roasted peanuts which are combined with a cinnamon-crumb mixture to fill the center of each apple. A clear glaze completes the picture for a dazzling offering.

For Baked Peanut-Glazed Apples choose apples that are plump, firm and mellow-textured. These include such varieties as the Rome Beauty, York Imperial, Stayman and Golden Delicious which are all available at this time of year.

Baked Peanut-Glazed Apples

½ cup chopped dry roasted peanuts
½ cup bread crumbs
⅓ cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
6 baking apples
2 tablespoons margarine, melted
1 cup boiling water
1 cup sugar

Combine chopped peanuts, bread crumbs, ⅓ cup sugar and cinnamon.

Core apples and remove skins from top half of apples. Place in large baking dish. Fill centers with peanut mixture. Dot with margarine. Pour boiling water into dish.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 1 hour or until apples are tender.

Remove apples to serving platter, reserving ½ cup of liquid. (If necessary add water to make ½ cup of liquid).

In a small saucepan, combine apple liquid with remaining 1 cup sugar; bring to a boil and simmer for 5 minutes.

When ready to serve, spoon syrup over apples. If desired, top with additional chopped peanuts. Makes 6 servings.

Way of Cooking Has Changed

An old-fashioned New England "boiled dinner" often consisted of corned beef, cabbage, carrots, parsnips, potatoes and beets. The beets were cooked separately so that they wouldn't color the other foods; the other vegetables were all added to the kettle in which the corned beef had partly cooked.

Nowadays we would still cook the beets separately, but we wouldn't add the cabbage until shortly before the beef and other vegetables were done because modern tastes call for tender-crisp rather than soggy cabbage!

Sardine Recipe

Butter white bread on both sides and place a slice of American cheese on one piece. Place sardines over cheese. Top with other piece of white bread. Toast in electric grill or oven until golden brown for a tasty luncheon treat.

Canned Chili Con Carni Aids Hostess in Easy Cooking

For end-of-winter entertaining it's fun to try a meal that's a novel change from standard company fare. To give a distinctive touch to your next party, why not take a cue from colorful Mexico and serve a tasty chili supper?

★ ★ ★

Besides being a perennial crowd-pleaser, a chili supper lets you put your most imaginative party ideas into action. Attractive crockery serving pieces, a gay tablecloth and napkins, all add festive notes to your gathering.

The main attraction? Hot and hearty Fiesta Chili . . . a dish that's substantial enough to satisfy the most robust appetite. It's tasty enough to please the most discriminating palate and certainly attractive enough to hold the spotlight on your table, too.

And good news for the hostess, Fiesta Chili is a "fix-in-no-time" dish. Thanks to the convenience and delicious, well-seasoned goodness of canned chili con carne (with beans) you can have a memorable party meal with a minimum of time in the kitchen.

Fiesta Chili

¼ cup diagonally sliced celery
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (15½ ounces) chili con carne (with beans)
½ cup cooked macaroni
Shredded Cheddar cheese
Shredded lettuce

In saucepan, cook celery and green pepper in butter until tender. Add chili and macaroni. Heat; stir now and then. Garnish with cheese and lettuce. Makes 2 servings.

Round out your party menu with loaves of brown and serve bread, fresh fruit, cookies and coffee.

Cryogenics: Miracles of Cold

By NOEL GROVE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

BEDFORD, Ohio (NEA) — Take the temperature inside an ordinary ice cube and imagine it 40 or 50 times colder.

Take the coldest winter day on the plains of northeastern Siberia and consider a situation in which it is four times that cold.

Do this and you have some idea of the realm of cryogenics, the strange world of the supercold that defies some of the traditional laws of nature and makes even dry ice seem like a mushy popsicle by comparison.

It's not a new world by any means. Scientists have known since the turn of the century that temperatures of -450 degrees Fahrenheit could be achieved. But it took an awkward orb called Sputnik to bring cryogenics into closer focus, by spurring research into the reaction of materials in extremely low temperatures. The resulting discoveries could have vast down-to-earth applications.

★ ★ ★

Dream worlds are opened for experts in the fields of power transmission, medicine and preservation of organic materials. Included is, as one technician put it, some of the "gee whiz stuff" of cryogenics.

METAL STRENGTH INCREASES

For example, in supercold temperatures certain metals increase their tensile strength as much as four times, electricity seemingly flows on forever and a liquid flows uphill.

None of which will have the historical significance of the cave man's discovery of fire, but it could have considerable influence on mankind's future life.

Among those making such discoveries are engineers for Pesco Products of Bedford, Ohio. Pesco, a division of the Borg-Warner Corp., builds electric motors and fuel pumps for the insides of some of this country's space rockets, the ones fueled with liquid oxygen and liquid hydrogen. The fuel is, by nature, about -459 degrees F.

★ ★ ★

As anyone who has had electric motors freeze up in subzero temperatures can imagine, problems were expected. Some of the advantages were not.

The problems included finding materials that could withstand the cold. Molecular structure changes with temperature. Molecules in metal move around free and easy in warmth. In cold they slow down and huddle together.

In supercold, they get so close and unmoving that some metals shatter, like crystal on an operatic high C.

There were other matters, such as replacing rubber gaskets in motors, since the rubber also turns brittle as dry clay.

But then came the pleasant surprises. While some metals turned brittle and useless, others gained additional qualities. Copper acquired more tensile strength. Aluminum became stronger. Stainless steel tripled in strength.

DISCOVERIES IN ELECTRICTY

But the most dramatic discovery in cryogenics has been the behavior of electricity in supercold conductors. The resistance of wire decreases, allowing much higher currents to be carried in smaller circuits.

This meant a small motor could be called upon to do Herculean tasks.

The one designed for pumping fuel into rocket engines, for example, is of one-horsepower size small enough to be held in your hand. Submerged in liquid hydrogen and oxygen at -423 degrees, it can generate 50 horsepower and up to 90 in bursts.

POWER MAGNIFIED BY COLD — This small one-horsepower motor can generate 50 horsepower in supercold temperatures of —423 degrees — and can attain 90 h.p. in short bursts.

A LUCKY FLOWER — Maj. Thomas James Patrick Shaughnessy, 38, of Delafield, Wis., polishes the painted shamrock on the nose of his H23 scouting helicopter. Shaughnessy commands D Troop, 1st Squadron of the 4th Infantry Division's 10th Cavalry, and his unit has taken on the name "Shamrock Flight." They call their helicopters leprechauns, shillelaghs or banshees — depending on the type.

Shillelaghs, Leprechauns, Banshees Awhirl in Viet

PLEIKU, Vietnam (AP) — U.S. Army Maj. Thomas James Patrick Shaughnessy will not be in South Vietnam for St. Patrick's Day but he has left his leprechauns, shillelaghs and banshees behind to bedevil the Vietcong.

Shaughnessy was born in Wisconsin but says he is Irish because his mother and father were. He commands D Troop of the 1st Squadron of the 4th Ifantry Division's 10th Cavalry.

Although he may claim the leprechauns, shillelaghs and banshees, they really belong to the army.

The leprechauns are H23 scouting helicopters, which carry a pilot and gunner-observer. The shillelaghs are HU1C gunship helicopters, which have rockets and machine guns. And the banshees are HU1D helicopters, which carry troops as fast reaction forces or to recover downed aircraft.

CODE NAME

The troop has adopted the code name "Shamrock Flight," Shaughnessy said recently, "to the occasional consternation of the rest of the division."

"Other military minds keep trying to change the name of our flight to such imaginative titles as 'Sour Diller' and 'Ox Shoe' but we don't use them," he said. "We made the decision, and it was a popular one, before the division left Ft. Lewis (Wash.) last summer."

* * *

Was there no opposition?

"There were no Englishmen among us," Shaughnessy said.

The troop includes such names as Archleta, Venti, Frierson and others that sound more Irish with an "o' " in front. They acquired gallons of green paint and marked each helicopter with a shamrock so big it could be called glorious.

'BIT OF CAIN'

One general raised "a wee bit of cain," Shaughnessy recalled, and the troop compromised by painting smaller shamrocks.

"These shamrocks have been good luck for us," Shaughnessy said. "We have never had a man killed with a shamrock on his ship."

* * *

Nine of the troop's helicopters have been shot down since the division arrived in Vietnam last autumn and many others have been hit.

Two men were killed when they were shot down during a battle Feb. 17 between U.S. infantrymen and North Vietnamese regulars near the Cambodian border.

Their helicopter bore no shamrock.

HAS EFFECT

"We feel the sight of a chopper with a green shamrock frightens the North Vietnamese gunners," Shaughnessy said. "They now know that if they shoot at a shamrock, hellfire and brimstone will descend upon them from our shillelaghs."

Shaughnessy, 38, of Delafield, Wis., carries two real shamrocks in his wallet. They were grown in a window box by his wife, Margaret, and tended by his children, Patrick, 8; Lynn Coleen, 13, and Margaret Erin, 7.

* * *

The family lives in Tacoma, Wash.

The major is foregoing the party he customarily throws for his troops on St. Patrick's Day. Instead, he gave a party March 3 and then packed for leave with his wife in Honolulu.

"I hope and have faith," he said, "that the boys can celebrate in the proper way and find a company of Charlies in the open and hit them with some Irish confetti."

Explanation of Aging Tests Out

NEW YORK (UPI) — The recently offered "error" explanation of why people age and in the long run die of aging if they manage to escape dying from disease or accident, has had its first test and verification.

Even though the testing was in fruit flies, it was imbressive enough to promise science eventually will know precisely why it is all living things must die. Whether it will be able to do something about it is another matter.

The "error" explanation belongs to an American scientist, Dr. L. E. Orgel. It holds errors are bound to crop up in any process which is based on repitition. And that is life.

In the ferfilized egg from which life springs are both the patterns of the proteins which will form it into a particular organism, whether man or fruit fly, and operate the organism, and the means for repetitiously using the patterns to make the proteins.

The patterns are themselves proteins, and so are the means of making proteins from them. They must also repetitiously duplicate themselves.

ERRONEOUS DUPLICATING

Many repeating processes are going on simultaneously and constantly. In the course of time there is bound to be erroneous duplicating, Orgel reasoned.

A new protein molecule could be only slightly different from its predecessor and still have a slowing influence on the whole operation.

As the repeating went on and on and on, more and more defective molecules would be participating and life would slow more and more until it came to the standstill of death.

Chromosome Is Linked to Criminality

By Science Service

LONDON—A rare genetic abnormality appears to explain criminal behavior in men afflicted with the condition — an extra sexual chromosome.

Instead of XY, the men in question have an additional male chromosome and a pattern of XYY. The link between XYY and criminality was first suggested two years ago in Scotland, when researchers discovered a remarkably high incidence — three per cent — of the rare condition among patients of a maximum security hospital for the mentally ill and retarded.

Since then, further surveys in similar English hospitals have borne out the three per cent figure, implying that genetics may be an important consideration when the criminal shows evidence of severe mental disturbance or retardation.

Drs. W. H. Price of Edinburgh's Western General Hospital and P. B. Whatmore of the Carstairs State Hospital in Scotland reported today the follow-up studies of personality and criminal pattern in these patients.

* * *

Altogether, there were nine XYY men out of a total 342 patients at Carstairs. All suffered from severe personality disorders.

When matched with 18 other patients with normal sexual chromosomes, no great differences in personality and mentality could be found, with some important exceptions.

Rarely were the XYY patients violent, while the others were more openly hostile and aggressive. In affect, the XYY men were less dangerous criminals than the men with normal chromosomes. But their criminality began at a much younger age.

The XYY patients first ran up against the law at the age of 13, while the others usually got into trouble before 18.

THE MERCHANTS of TEL-HURON SALUTE THE GIRL SCOUTS

"Values to Hold—Worlds to Explore" is the theme for Girl Scout Week (March 12-18)—the 55th anniversary of Girl Scouting in the U.S.A. When a girl joins Girl Scouting, she promises to do her duty to God and her Country. She learns that her democratic heritage is one "Value to Hold."

She explores the world of citizenship. She becomes aware of the practical aspects of living in a democracy—learning to vote by electing officers in her Girl Scout troop; learning about government in her local community; participating in community affairs; starting to see her community as part of the national picture; and beginning to understand our nation's role in the world.

A Girl Scout today . . . a better citizen tomorrow.

Flint Hospital Fights Kidney Disease Toll

FLINT (AP)—Flint is creeping toward establishment of a center to treat people suffering from incurable kidney failure.

First step toward starting an artificial kidney treatment program at Hurley Hospital was taken in September when a six-member committee of physicians was formed.

Today, the lives of four Flint area persons — who would have faced certain death 10 years ago — are being prolonged at Hurley via an artificial kidney machine.

The four are making history in Genesee County.

At the hospital they are considered very special patients — they have permanent kidney diseases.

Their situations were unusual because the hospital hasn't been and won't soon be equipped to handle such patients for long periods.

They are fully aware of their unique status. They know their cases are experimental.

Incurable loss of kidney function each year claims the lives of more than 1,000 Michigan residents, according to the Michigan Kidney Foundation.

Nationally, only about 250 patients facing this fate are receiving treatment on artificial kidney machines, but an estimated 10,000 a year die simply because they are unable to obtain such treatment.

If detected early enough, infectious kidney disease responds to drug therapy.

If a patient's kidney disease progresses undetected or does not respond, one of two or both recent medical advances may be used to prolong a useful life.

One is kidney transplant.

The other involves a treatment known as dialysis, in which an artificial kidney is used.

In cases of chronic kidney diseases, the patient periodically is attached to an artificial kidney and the machine cleanses the blood of impurities and restores a normal chemical balance.

But there are very few kidney treatment centers in the state—and they have long waiting lines of persons needing the immediate, prolonged machine treatment.

Because of Hurley's new program, the lucky four now are being kept alive in a hospital close to home—so they can lead near-normal lives and make themselves useful in the community, and so doctors can determine whether they can be candidates for kidney transplants.

Transplants could extend their lives for months or years and end the need for the machine.

The four make two trips weekly to the hospital for treatments that take between four and six hours each.

Because of limited trained personnel and time, between January, 1962, when it was installed, and last September, the machine was used only 14 times on 10 patients—and these were acute, emergency cases.

As a first step toward building an extensive, long-range program here, the committee has ordered two additional twin-coil Kolff artificial kidney machines which it hopes to have in operation within two months.

Funds to purchase the $1,800 machines were supplied by the Hurley Hospital Women's Auxiliary.

There now are six physicians qualified to operate them and it is planned to train three technicians to assist.

The immediate goals of the committee are:

— To be able to treat more patients with acute kidney diseases.

— To keep alive — on a very limited basis at first — patients suffering from incurable kidney failure.

—To determine if persons with chronic cases are fit candidates for transplantations at one of the few kidney transplant centers in the country.

Channeling of Energy Is Key

New Theory on Tidal Waves Offered

By Science Service

NEW YORK — A new mathematical theory to explain how tsunami, or tidal waves, can severely damage one harbor, yet leave a nearby spot virtually untouched, was reported to the American Physical Society meeting here.

The purpose of the theory, developed by Dr. George Carrier, an applied mathematician at Harvard University, is to understand how the tsunami's energy is channeled in order to "then maybe do something about it."

Although destructive tsunami swell in the Pacific Ocean less than once a year, on the average, the tremendous pileup of water resulting when waves that are merely long swells on the open ocean hit shallow places, can be devastating.

Tsunami are the end results after an earthquake rocks the ocean floor, releasing huge amounts of energy, most of which is carried away by water waves.

* * *

The effect is the same as when a stone is dropped in a quiet puddle, but the ripples resulting from an earthquake are on a giant scale.

WARNING TIME

Radio and television warnings of the giant ripples are now sufficient to give coastal residents two to three hours to evacuate low-lying areas that might be inundated.

Dr. Carrier has found that the earthquake energy carried away by the giant ocean ripples can be channeled by ridges on the ocean floor. The ridges, and the troughs between them, give the sea bottom a washboard-like effect.

The Cocoanut Grove night club fire in Boston Nov. 28, 1942, resulted in 491 deaths.

MEMORIES — Pfc. Gordon Doyon of 57 Park Place describes his experiences in Vietnam while on convalescent leave from Great Lakes Naval Hospital near Chicago. Doyon was wounded by a Vietcong grenade in January.

Pontiac Leatherneck Learns That Marines Take Care of Own

By LOIS MANDIBERG

When Gordon Doyon of Pontiac enlisted two years ago he heard "the Marine Corps takes care of its own — you're never left behind."

Doyon, recently home on leave, learned how true this motto is when he was wounded by a Vietcong grenade in January.

The Vietcong had attacked the command post the night before. Pfc. Doyon and other Marines were checking the area in the early morning for damage and booby traps.

Doyon and a friend picked up a bamboo post.

★ ★ ★

"I saw the trap ignite," he said. "I yelled 'live grenade' and twisted back.

THROWN BY BLAST

"The grenade went off too soon. I was only 2 feet away," he recalled.

The blast flung him 10 feet onto a barbed wire fence.

Doyon received second and third-degree burns and bamboo shrapnel wounds over the entire left side of his body.

★ ★ ★

"I was given a shot of morphine, loaded into a waiting hellcopter and put in a field hospital within six minutes," he said.

'MOTHER HENS'

"We called the Medi-vac copters 'Mother Hens,'" he added.

"They'd hover above gunshot range and dip down, when radioed, to pick up wounded and move them to the field hospital. The entire operation usually took at most 10 minutes and saved a lot of lives," Doyon said.

The Pontiac Marine was flown to Chu Lai and ultimately to a Navy hospital in Da Nang where surgeons operated to remove bamboo shrapnel from his eyes.

★ ★ ★

Doyon, who remained in critical condition with bandages over his eyes and the left side of his body for several weeks, remembered being conscious of all that was happening.

MOVED TO U.S.

He was eventually moved to the Great Lakes Naval Hospital near Chicago where he returned last week for further tests. Doctors also will operate to remove a bamboo splinter in his left eye which is partially obstructing his vision.

The medics are optimistic that Doyon of 57 Park Place will have few scars.

Doyon, who continually expresses gratitude for the superb medical attention he has received, reflects their confidence.

★ ★ ★

The brown - eyed private first class — with the classic military haircut — is "willing to go back" to Vietnam if his superiors will let him. He has two more years of active duty.

'VIETNAMESE WANT HELP'

The medics say it will be three to four months before anything can be decided.

Speaking of his five months in Vietnam, Doyon recalled the general morale was quite high.

"Although it made us mad to see some of those demonstrations in the States," he said.

★ ★ ★

"The people did want help," he insisted.

"They wanted us to stay in the villages because we represented security against Vietcong actions. When we came in, the vietcong went out the back exit," he described.

WATCHES FOR INFILTRATORS

As a member of the sniper platoon, 19-year-old Doyon's post was beyond the perimeter of the base area. He said his job was to make sure no enemy soldiers infiltrated the camp.

"It can get frightening when you're all alone listening . . . but you learn to live over and above the fear.

"My nerves were the normal run-of-the-mill me — but I've been shaky since the accident," he added.

Doyon mentioned that the men were well informed about what was happening in Vietnam but had little knowledge of stateside news.

He said "too few hometown newspapers" was the major reason for the lack of stateside information in Vietnam.

Ex-Governor Suffers Attack

WASHINGTON, Pa. (AP) — Former Pennsylvania Gov. and U.S. Sen. Edward Martin was reported in critical condition today at Washington Hospital following a heart attack.

A hospital spokesman said Martin, 88, spent a "restless evening" Wednesday in the hospital's intensive care unit where he was receiving oxygen.

★ ★ ★

His son, Edward, spent the night at the hospital.

Martin suffered the seizure at his home.

A Republican, Martin served in Congress until 1959. He served as governor from 1943 until 1947 when he resigned to take his Senate seat.

Pioneering Legislation

Lenders Target of Massachusetts Law

BOSTON, (AP) — The Massachusetts consumer who gets hooked on excessively high credit terms has only himself to blame under a pioneering truth in lending law.

The new act and a sister measure require the lender to spell out clearly—and in large type—what the transaction is going to cost the borrower.

Major provisions took effect Jan. 1, and Dermot P. Shea, executive secretary of the Massachusetts Consumers Council which pressed for enactment, says only minor problems have cropped up since then.

★ ★ ★

The truth, in, lending bill requires that lenders explain in detail the costs of a loan, including the interest rate on a yearly basis.

MUST BE PRINTED

The yearly interest rate must also be printed on the agreement in boldface, 12-point type. That s half again as big as the average newspaper type.

The loan must specify the total charge for insurance, including a description of the types of coverage in simple terms, and the amount of official fees.

★ ★ ★

On revolving credit arrangements, the creditor must list the balance outstanding, a brief description of the transactions, the amount of finance and other charges and the amount which must be paid, and when.

The law also bans false or misleading advertising about rates or terms.

TEETH IN THE LAW

These are the teeth in the law: violations call for a fine of up to $500 or six months in prison, or both. Failure of a creditor to disclose the required information—except in the case of an accident or error—cuts him off from claiming any of the finance, collection, delinquency or refinancing charges.

★ ★ ★

A retail installment bill, which paved the way for the truth-in-lending measure, also resuires full disclosure of finance charges in both money and percentage terms at an annual rate.

★ ★ ★

One of the key provisions is the right to cancel a contract—a sort of cooling off period. Designed to curb abuses of door-to-door salesmen, it allows a buyer to cancel an agreement made at any place other than the seller's address. The cancellation must be done by certified mail before 5 p.m. on the next business day.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Edward R. Willett, chairman of the Massachusetts Consumers Council, said the next step is education of consumers to the protection available to them.

FIRST STATE

"I believe we are the first state in the Union to get a truth-in-lending bill passed. It's quite significant," he said.

★ ★ ★

Willett, head of the Department of Finance and Insurance at Northeastern University, said that for the free enterprise system to work properly, "you must have an informed—and pleased—consumer. It seems to me that intelligent business should want this too."

★ ★ ★

Shea, speaking for the Consumers Council, told an interviewer that since Jan. 1 "we and the banking department have of course been watching all advertising, and every area where they slipped in their ads was immediately changed.

"On retail installment sales, all the paper (contracts) I have seen has been generally very accurate."

★ ★ ★

Shea said the banking and finance industries "weren't very happy at first, but the new law has not been the hardship that some thought, It will take a little getting used to, because it's a new dimension to the industry.

"But the industry in the main is trying to comply with the spirit and intent of this law."

State VA Reports on '66 Service

Michigan veterans and their families received a total of $229,929,343 in cash benefits and services during fiscal year 1966, the Veterans Administration reported today.

This is $8,126,519 more than the $221,803,824 distributed in the same programs the preceding year, according to Robert M. FitzGerald, manager of VA's regional office in Detroit.

The comparison was made from an outline of expenditures in the 1966 annual report of the VA which has just been released.

In Michigan, 123,016 living veterans received service connected disability compensation or nonservice pension totaling $114,928,257.

★ ★ ★

In addition, dependents of 44,259 deceased veterans received $36,448,074. The combined $151,376,331 last year compared with $143,971,352 in 1965 and reflects increases approved by Congress, FitzGerald explained.

Total beneficiaries in 1966 increased from 166,915 in 1965 to 167,275.

GI insurance dividend and indemnity payments last year totaled $22,923,393. In 1965, they were $33,594,713.

Impact of the new GI bill was not reflected in the report, FitzGerald said, in listing totals for veteran education and training along with vocational training for disabled veterans.

An average of 173 disabled veterans daily received specialized assistance costing $886,997.

GI TRAINEES

For the first time, the report did not take note of GI trainees under the World War II and the Korean GI bills, since most of these trainees have exhausted their entitlement.

The report does show, however, that a daily average of 357 sons and daughters of deceased or totally disabled veterans went to school in Michigan with VA assistance.

Smaller benefit programs accounted for another $2,484,585. Assistance to seriously disabled veterans in obtaining cars cost $65,295; housing suitable for paraplegics accounted for $340,000 and direct loans to veterans unable to obtain home financing totaled $2,179,290.

A total of $144,030 was spent on construction and maintenance of five veterans hospitals in the state.

Hospitalization costs were grouped with administrative costs for all benefits and totaled $40,511,315, an increase of $1,200,000 over the preceding year.

Ky, 7 Top S. Viets to Confer With LBJ at Guam Conference

SAIGON (AP) — President Johnson's little get-together on Guam with his top men in Vietnam is turning into a full-scale conference on the order of the Honolulu meeting 13 months ago.

Sources close to the South Vietnamese government reported today that eight of its top officials — not just Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and chief of state Nguyen Van Thieu — will attend the conference, which opens Monday. A number of aides will accompany them, the sources said.

★ ★ ★

The sources said the delegation would also include Lt. Gen. Cao Van Vien, the defense minister and chief of the joint general staff; Maj. Gen. Nguyen Bao Tri, the minister of information and open arms (the program to attract Vietcong defectors); Maj. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang, the revolutionary development (pacification) minister; Nguyen Huu Hanh, the governor of banks; Foreign Minister Tran Van Do; and Bui Diem, the ambassador to the United States.

★ ★ ★

Johnson on March 9 said he was going to confer with Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U. S. military chief in Vietnam. He said they meet about every six months, indicating it was a routine conference.

KY TO ATTEND

Ky announced Wednesday he would attend.

The sources close to Ky's government said the decision for Thieu to go also was made Wednesday night at a meeting of the ruling military junta. Although Ky is the evident leader of the junta, Thieu technically outranks him and is a power in his own right within the group.

★ ★ ★

The addition to the conference of four government ministers, the bank governor and the ambassador to Washington will permit discussion with the Vietnamese of all major facets of the situation in Vietnam, including the military, civic action, psychological warfare, economics and aid relations.

Ionia Escapee Is Recaptured

Pair Tied Up Teacher, Pupil, Then Stole Car

SAGINAW (AP)—One of two fugitives who stole a rural school teacher's car after tying up the teacher and a pupil was caputred within hours Wednesday near Saginaw. The second was sought.

★ ★ ★

Saginaw County sheriff's men said 19-year-old William Donaldson, armed with a knife, was taken into custody at a bar in St. Charles, nine miles south of Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

The car was recovered and Donaldson's companion, Jeff Toner, 22, was sought.

Authorities said Donaldson and Toner, who walked away from the Michigan State Reformatory at Ionia Tuesday night, stole the car of Eileen De Pue, 29, a teacher at the two-room Chittle School at Long Lake, near Ionia.

NOT HARMED

Before continuing their flight, Donaldson and Toner tied up Miss De Pue and a boy pupil with electric cord. One of them held a knife to Miss De Pue's back. Neither Miss De Pue nor the boy was harmed.

Donaldson gave up in the St. Charles bar without resistance, officers said.

★ ★ ★

Donaldson, sentenced from Saginaw County to 1½-2 years for car theft, was held at the Saginaw County jail. Toner was serving 3½-15 years for breaking and entering in Bay County.

Helmet Blocks Bat Assault

DETROIT (UPI) — Wayne County Deputy Frank J. Longhi, 41, yesterday credited a crash helmet with saving him from possible death at the hands of a motorist.

Longhi said he stopped a car in Inkster Tuesday night after the vehicle sped from a shopping center and made an illegal turn. He said the motorist suddenly whipped out a baseball bat and beat at his head.

He suffered a broken elbow and arm but the helmet prevented serious head injuries.

Police charged Richard Johnson, 18, Fred Johnson 23, and two 16-year-old boys with assault.

★ ★ ★

"I was issued the helmet only four days ago and already it has saved my life," Longhi said.

Need Seen for Family MD School

DETROIT (UPI) — The president of the American Academy of General Practice (AAGP) yesterday said Michigan's proposed new medical school must be geared to produce family doctors.

Dr. Carroll L. Witten of Louisville, Ky., said the people of Michigan need at least 700 more family physicians to meet the current shortage.

Addressing delegates at a meeting of the 30,000-member AAGP, a national family doctor organization, Witten said American medicine is being made more responsive to the public need through revitalization of family medical practices.

Witten, 43, returned to the United States last Sunday from England, where, at the invitation of the British government, he studied comparisons between the British National Health Service and the U.S. Medicare program.

He is one of seven doctors on the U.S. Health, Education and Welfare Department's Health Insurance Advisory Council which advises the federal government on Medicare.

Closed Court Hearings Denied in Sex Slaying

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A request for a closed coort hearing for the examination of Ralph Nuss, 30, charged as the slayer of a ten-ager, was denied Wednesday by Circuit Court Judge William F. Ager Jr. of Washtenaw County.

★ ★ ★

"This country has always frowned upon any type of secret proceeding," Ager said in rejecting a defense motion that the public be banned from the courtroom.

Defense attorney Henry T. Conlin requested a private hearing because of what he called the nature of the testimony.

Nuss, probation department employe of the Federal Correctional Institution at Milan, is being examined on a murder charge in the strangling and shooting of Thomas Brown, 19, of Windsor, Ont., last Nov. 10.

The examination will determine whether Nuss is to be held for trial.

Nuss once was charged in the similar death of 17-year-old Arland Withrow of Ypsilanti Oct. 16. This charge was dropped. The bodies of Brown and Withrow were found in creeks.

Dr. Alexander P. Dukay, medical superintendent of Ypsilanti State Hospital, testified that both slayings were the products of a "compulsion to commit homosexual acts.

Dr. Dukay participated in psychiatric examinations of Nuss.

Dr. Dukay said Nuss, a former Pennsylvanian, first became involved in homosexual activity at a private seminary when he was 16.

Rights Official Named for State

DETROIT (AP) — Walter R. Greene has been named acting regional director of the contracts compliance office of the State Civil Rights Commission.

Greene, whose appointment is effective April 10, directs administration of nondiscrimination Defense Department contracts. He succeeds Arthur L. Johnson, who became assistant superintendent of Detroit public schools in October.

Water Project Supporters Renew Fight in Congress

By Science Service

WASHINGTON—Pointing to a "rapidly deteriorating water situation" in Arizona, backers of the Central Arizona project have once again begun their fight to get the project authorized by Congress."

This year's proposals to pipe Colorado River water into central Arizona include a variety of modifications, all designed to ease the controversial bill's passage down the congressional throat. Hearings opened this week before the House Interior Committee.

Perhaps most noteworthy now is the total abandonment of a direct attempt to raid the plentiful waters of the Northwest's Columbia River.

This was being considered last year to augment the flow in the Colorado River. States now using the water Arizona wants made augmentation a condition of support.

Notable also is the lack of a guarantee, in bills introduced by Congressmen from Arizona, of the minimum 4.4 million acre-feet of water that California representatives say their state cannot do without.

Postponement of direct attacks on the Columbia, however, doesn't mean that Southwest legislators and water planners have abandoned importation of water as a solution to their problem. A broader plan is under consideration.

In addition to the 21 bills introduced in the House to authorize various forms of Colorado River basin development, nine have been introduced for establishment of a National Water Commission.

A Senate bill, S20, for establishment of a commission has already passed the Senate and is also under consideration by the House Irrigation and Reclamation subcommittee.

Poverty War Request Low ---Cavanagh

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh has told U.S. senators that President Johnson's proposed $2.06 billion is inadequate to wage a successful war on poverty next year.

Speaking for the U.S. Conference of Mayors before a Senate Labor subcommittee, Cavanagh said Wednesday that at least $3 billion is needed if the antipoverty program is to be successful.

This would be almost 50 per cent more than the $2.06 billion President Johnson requested from Congress in his poverty message Tuesday.

Cavanagh made his estimate in response to a question by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y. Kennedy had pointed out that at least $2.5 billion was needed for the current year even though the final appropriations was cut to $1.6 billion.

"This year's cutbacks," said Cavanagh, "have caused considerable program disruption in many communities that were just getting their community action programs under way."

Judge Must Explain Fine, Arrest Order

GAYLORD (AP)—The Otsego County Courthouse was a step closer to demolition today, but a squabble over a contempt of court proceeding is yet to be settled.

Probate Judge Boyd Baird signed a release Wednesday turning over the county building to a joint building authority, which has ordered that the structure be torn down to make room for a new building.

But Baird still is facing a hearing Friday to explain in Circuit Court why he issued a contempt citation against two members of the board of supervisors, ordered them each fined $200 and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Baird took the action last week in a squabble over his being assigned what he considered inadequate quarters in the Gaylord High School gymnasium.

His office was vacated despite an order he had issued to Sheriff Ralph Holowinski to prevent interference with Probate Court facilities.

Baird took the contempt action against the supervisors, issuing warrants for the arrest of Stanley Magsig, chairman of the board; Robert Woods, chairman of the building and grounds committee; and Alton McNett, chairman of the board's finance committee.

Electric Car Research Bill Splits Execs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two big battery-making firms took opposing stands Wednesday on legislation designed to speed development of electric autos.

Vice President J. A. McIlnay of Electric Storage Battery Co. of Philadelphia expressed full support.

★ ★ ★

But Robert A. Charpie, president of the electronics division of Union Carbide Corp., said the government ought to leave research and development to private industry.

Both men told a Senate hearing the electric car will be developed and in fact could be put on the market in a very short time.

FINANCIAL SUPPORT

The legislation sponsored by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, would provide $15.5 million for a three-year period to set air pollution standards for car exhaust fumes and give federal financial support for development of an electric car which would not pollute the atmosphere with harmful hydrocarbons.

The administration has asked for postponement of more federal support until it can say with certainty that auto makers cannot themselves solve the problem.

★ ★ ★

Charpie told the committee that private industry is working intensively on the electric auto.

McIlnay said an electric car to handle slow-moving transportation needs in urban areas can be built right now, and should be, while research is continued to develop one that has performance characteristics more like existing cars.

10 TIMES AS MUCH

Charpie estimated the industry was spending about $1 million on electric car development three to four years ago but is now spending at least 10 times that much a year.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said that was the first estimate of industrial efforts in the field that the committee had heard.

Other committee members have said one reason to get the government to spur development is an inadequate "sense of urgency" in the industry.

McIlnay said there is a tendency in the industry to drag its feet.

Charpie said an electric car costs much less to operate than a conventional one and that the industry is "on the threshhold of putting a very good electric vehicle on the streets very soon."

The electric car, he said, provides an "opportunity to solve the problem (of exhaust pollution) rather than sneaking up on it."

★ ★ ★

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., said he could see no reason why he should vote for something that might put the oil industry out of business.

Besides, he said, the oil industry and the automobile industry believe they can develop pollution-free internal combustion engines.

Charpie agreed with Long that the government should not underwrite research and development of the electric car.

Cabinet Merger Push Said Off for Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration reportedly has decided against seeking immediate congressional approval for consolidating the Labor and Commerce Departments into a department of economic affairs.

But reliable sources said today the administration doesn't consider the plan irretrievably lost.

★ ★ ★

A Johnson message to Congress on government reorganization is expected soon, it was reported, but the proposed merger won't be tabbed for quick congressional action.

Instead, the source said, it probably will be only discussed as part of an effort to build support for a later push. The merger was proposed by the President without prior hint in his January State of the Union message.

LABOR OPPOSED

Many labor leaders have opposed the plan, a fact confirmed Wednesday by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz. But he also said he didn't believe the proposal was dead.

Wirtz confirmed that top labor officials objected to the plan at a White House meeting last week but said reports the President won't send the proposal to Congress are premature.

★ ★ ★

But one source said the administration now feels the idea hasn't attracted the desired support and "it won't get off the ground."

A government source reported earlier this week that the proposal was being reevaluated at the highest level with the lack of labor support as the key to administration planning.

BUSINESS FAVORS

Administration sources have said businessmen appear generally to favor the idea. One top official said business backing seems to increase as more agencies are considered for inclusion in the merged department.

The consolidation has been planned as a department on economic affairs comprising a variety of federal economic functions.

★ ★ ★

Among agencies considered for inclusion have been the Customs Service, the Export-Import Bank, labor mediation services and the oil import functions of the Department of the Interior.

Last County Cage Squad Eliminated

Birmingham Five Is Loser in Class C

By FLETCHER SPEARS

LIVONIA — Oakland County will be without a state basketball champion this year.

★ ★ ★

The county's last hope for a state crown was erased here last night as Detroit Country Day of Birmingham dropped a 58-52 decision to Detroit All Saints in a Class C quarter-final game.

The triumph earned All Saints a shot at Leslie in a semifinal scrap tomorrow at 8:30 at the Civic Center in Lansing. Leslie downed White Pigeon last night, 64-60.

The defeat brought to a close one of Country Day's finest campaigns, giving the team an overall record of 19-3.

★ ★ ★

The loss to All Saints was attributed in part to an old problem the team thought it licked during the regular season.

USED PRESS

The old problem was a press that Saints' coach Michael Guza employed on and off in the second half and it was enough to turn the tide in favor of the Detroit quintet.

★ ★ ★

Yellow Jackets' coach John Hannett could only shake his head in thinking of the press.

"It bothered us early in the season, but I thought we had licked it," said Hannett, who was in the quarter - finals for the first time as a coach.

Trailing 23-21 at halftime, Guza tried the press early in the third stanza and it shot the Saints into a 35-30 lead with 3:49 left in the third. The squad reverted to a standard defense late in the frame but still enjoyed a 38-37 lead going into the final period.

★ ★ ★

Guza started the press again after Country Day, trailing 52-48, sliced the deficit to two points, 53-51, with 1:12 left in the game. It worked again. It unsettled the Yellow Jacket offense and produced an easy basket for the Saints to go with three free throws in the final minute.

LEADS WINNERS

Another problem the Yellow Jackets couldn't handle was 6-3 center Stanley Grayson, who scored 27 points, collecting five easy buckets by outmaneuvering the Yellow Jackets near the basket.

★ ★ ★

Along with his scoring Grayson helped the Saints control the backboards by a 52-39 margin.

Country Day had trouble finding the range in the first period and fell behind early, 12-3.

The losers' first field goal came by a short jumper by 6-9 center Dave Swift with 19 seconds left in the period.

★ ★ ★

Tim Baughman, who missed on his first seven shots, hit four straight in the second quarter to spark the Jackets to a 20-point period and a 23-21 lead at intermission.

TAKE LEAD

It was Baughman's shooting that triggered a Country Day surge early in the fourth frame. He pushed in a pair of free throws and added a basket to give Country Day a 43-40 lead with 7:00 left.

★ ★ ★

The Saints responded by tightening their defense and regained the lead for good at the 5:40 mark, 45-43.

Baughman led the losers with 21 points, while Swift and Paul Miller tossed in 14 apiece.

Guza was happy with the victory but not particularly pleased with the Saints' play.

★ ★ ★

Both teams were shaky in the opening half. They tossed the ball away so often that they scored only five (4-1) points between them in the first four minutes.

Pershing Rolls Despite Errors

By BILL HALLS
Associated Press Writer

Can a team that commits 23 floor errors in the first half be a contender for the State Class A high school basketball title?

Detroit Pershing did just that Wednesday night and still swept past Warren Fitzgerald 89-59 to gain a semifinal berth at East Lansing Friday night.

The Doughboys will oppose Detroit Catholic Central, who ended Hamtramck's cinderella dreams with an 80-57 victory.

The other semifinal game will match Flint Central, a 71-67 victor over Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills, and Kalamazoo Central, which eliminated Ypsilanti 74-53.

Most eyes will be on Pershing's sensational senior center Spencer Haywood, when the Doughboys play Catholic Central Friday.

HITS 34 POINTS

The 6-foot-8, 220-pound pivotman notched 34 points and hauled down 13 rebounds in Pershing's triumph over Fitzgerald. Haywood's running mate, guard Ralph Simpson, scored 21 points and added 10 rebounds as the Doughboys raced to a 45-33 halftime lead.

★ ★ ★

Fitzgerald, ending the season with a 20-2 mark, played without 6-foot-5 center Cliff Castor, out with a sprained ankle. John Pahoski topped Fitzgerald with 22 points.

Catholic Central can thank Gutkowski for the victory over Hamtramck. He scored 24 points, most of them early in the game when the Cosmos still had a chance for victory.

Gutkowski, who averaged 13 points during the regular season, has been hitting at a 24-point-a-game clip in the tournament.

"I've got confidence in myself now," said the 6-foot-6 center who also hauled in 20 rebounds. "I'm not afraid to shoot now. I was before."

It was a good thing, because the Shamrocks' ace scorer, Nick Ferri, hit on only five of his first 22 shots. He didn't get 15 of his 28 points until the last quarter.

Catholic Central's tough defense held Hamtramck's high-scoring guards, Jim Smith and Ike Blessitt to 24 points, 17 by Blessitt.

FALL BEHIND

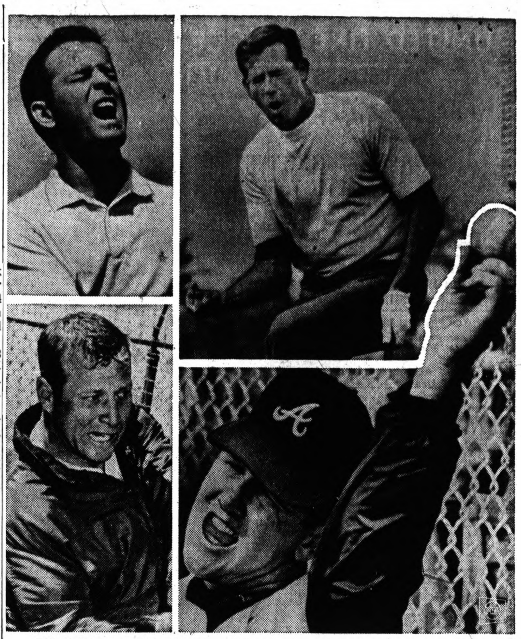
Flint Central fell behind Ottawa Hills 39-34 at the half and didn't catch up until the final six minutes before pulling out the victory.

The lead changed hands four times in the final quarter until Freels Bacon hit a basket to put Central ahead 66-65 with 1:13 to play. Bacon then canned three straight free throws to ice the game.

Bacon topped Flint with 29 points. Otis Smith, who fouled out with 3:30 to play, topped Ottawa Hills with 27 points.

Kalamazoo Central led by only one point at the half but roared away after the intermission to whip Ypsilanti's Braves handily. Joe Blakely topped the Maroon Giants with 23 points and teammate Sam Simmons added 20.



EXPRESSIONS THAT BLOOM — The advent of spring means golf and baseball are around the corner and Florida is predominately the training area for competitors in both sports. These are expressions in the Florida sun. Bobby Nichols (top left) grimaces as a putt fails to drop; Doug Sanders looks as if he has taken a punch in the stomach (top right); Mickey Mantle of the Yankees shows his batting determination (lower left) and Atlanta pitcher Denny Lemaster might be giving an opinion of spring training.

Seek Blockers, Defensive HB

Barry Siler Chosen by New NFL Outfit

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Lions concentrated on bolstering weak spots in the defensive backfield and offensive line Wednesday with their picks in the combined National and American football league draft.

Detroit's top choice was offensive halfback Mel Farr of UCLA.

But after that, Coach Joe Schmidt and his aides concentrated on the defensive backfield and offensive line.

Among defensive backs drafted were Lem Barney of Jackson (Miss.) State, Mike Weger of Bowling Green, Eric Watts of San Jose State and Sam Burke of Georgia Tech.

OFFENSIVE LINEMEN

Offensive linemen included tackle Paul Naumoff of Tennessee, tackle Ted Tuinstrat of Iowa State, guard Jerry Hayho of Southern Cal and guard Lamarr Wright of Georgia Tech.

The only other offensive back picked by Detroit was quarterback Tim Jones of Weber State, a tiny Utah school with a big football reputation.

Lew Kamanu, a defensive end from Weber State, was another Lions pick.

The Calgary Stampeders of the Western Football Conference of the Canadian League however announced Wednesday the signing of Kamanu, a native of Hawaii.

Other Detroit selections included defensive end John McCambridge of Northwestern, end Gerry Zawaldzkas of Columbia and defensive tackle Ken Ramsey of Northwestern.

LOCAL GRIDDER

Among Michigan players selected was Barry Siler, a linebacker from Albion who was chosen 14th by the New Orleans Saints. Siler is a former West Bloomfield High gridder.

Other players with Michigan college affiliations selected:

Baltimore: Bubba Smith, defensive end, Michigan State; Jim Detwiler, halfback, Michigan; Rick Volk, defensive back, Michigan.

Minnesota: Clint Jones, halfback, MSU; Gene Washington, end, MSU.

Dallas: Curtis Marker, guard, Northern Michigan.

New York Jets: Jeff Richard-

Open '67 Tour

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — The Ladies Professional Golf Association (LPGA) kicked off its 1967 tour today as last year's official leading money winner — Kathy Whitworth — and 6 other lady pros teed off in the Orange Blossom Open Golf Tournament.

The $12,500 72-hole open over the par 71 Sunset Country Club course was formerly called the St. Petersburg Women's Open.

JOINS COLTS — Quarterback Terry Southall of Baylor was selected by the Baltimore Colts yesterday in the opening round of the second day of the combined American and National Football league draft.

Pro Football Tapping College Cage Talent

NEW YORK (AP) — On the final day of the first combined draft by the National and American football leagues such stars as Jimmy Walker, Pat Riley and George Carter were picked.

If you say these three were basketball stars in college, you're right.

★ ★ ★

And if you also say such pro football players as All-NFL defensive back Cornell Green of Dallas played basketball instead of football in college, you're right again.

So, following the formula which has proved so successful in the cases of players like Green and his Dallas teammate Pete Gent, the pros selected Walker and several other basketball standouts Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Walker, the All-America from Providence which fields no football team, was taken by New Orleans on the last pick of the 17th and final round.

The 25 NFL-AFL clubs drafted 262 players in the final 12 rounds after picking 133 Tuesday in the first five rounds.

GRID STARS

Some college stars, strictly in football, drafted Wednesday included quarterback Terry Southall of Baylor, by Baltimore in the sixth round; quarterback Virgil Carter of Brigham Young, by Chicago in the sixth; Tulsa tackle Don Bandy by Washington in the sixth, and All-America defensive back Tom Beier of Miami, Fla. by Miami in the 10th.

★ ★ ★

One player also was signed — San Diego's first round pick, defensive tackle Ronald Billingsley of Wyoming.

Riley, the backcourt star from Kentucky, was selected by Dallas in the 11th round. Carter, the scoring star of St. Bonaventure, another school which shuns football, was picked in the 13th by Buffalo.

Walker was chosen as an end, Riley as a quarterback and Carter as a halfback.

Ex-Mentor Accepts 'Horns' in Defeat

DETROIT (AP) — An in-and-out night for Dave DeBusschere may have cost the Detroit Pistons a spot in the National Basketball Association's Western Division playoffs.

Detroit, with three games to play, dropped a 98-91 decision to the Chicago Bulls Wednesday night. Detroit fell a half game behind the Bulls in the battle for the fourth and final playoff berth in the West.

Chicago has two games left to play so the decision on who makes the NBA playoffs may go to the final day of the season. A tie for last place would necessitate a playoff for the playoffs. If that happens, the game will be played in Detroit.

In other NBA games, Baltimore crushed New York 121-114, Cincinnati beat Boston 112-108 and Philadelphia dumped Los Angeles 138-123.

Detroit, which led 54-51 at the half, fell before the marksmanship of Chicago's Jerry Sloan. He scored 32 points and put the Bulls ahead to stay, 71-70, with a basket in the third quarter.

DeBusschere who scored only eight points, was disconsolate after the game.

"I can't believe I could play that bad," said the former Pistons player-coach. "If I could have just shot better we would have won. Everything I threw up there went in and out—It's all my fault."

Central Michigan Ousted in Tourney

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Elvin Ivory carried the hot hand as Central Michigan was eliminated from the NAIA basketball tournament 70-62 by Southwestern Louisiana Wednesday.

Ivory hit 10 of 14 floor shots as Southwestern overcame a 37-34 halftime deficit to upend the Chippewas.

Southwestern took a 61-54 lead with 3:09 to play, but CMU fought back to within one point with 1:42 remaining only to run out of gas.

Ivory led Southwestern with 24 points. Willie Iverson topped the Chips with 25. CMU ended the season with a 23-3 record.

Wings Retain Fading Hope

TORONTO (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings, fighting to keep their slim playoff hopes alive, struck for two third period goals Wednesday night for a 4-2 victory over Toronto.

But the Wings failed to gain on the Montreal Canadiens who hammered Boston 11-2 while Chicago dumped New York 3-1.

The result left the Red Wings eight points behind Montreal for the fourth and final playoff spot with eight games to play.

★ ★ ★

Red Wings' rookie Doug Roberts slapped home the deciding goal on an assist by Gordie Howe at 1:40 of the third period in Detroit's victory over the Maple Leafs.

Paul Henderson scored the first and fourth Detroit goals and Howe managed the other tally.

EARLY LEAD

Bob Pulford and Jim Pappin scored for Toronto to give the Leafs a 2-1 lead in the first period. Detroit tied it on Howe's goal at 1:21 of the second period before Roberts and Henderson wrapped up the victory.

Ralph Backstrom, John Ferguson and Bobby Rousseau each scored two goals in Montreal's victory over Boston.

Bobby Hull scored his 49th goal of the season into an empty net with nine seconds to play in Chicago's victory over New York. Phil Esposito and Ken Hodge got the other Black Hawk tallies. Orland Kurtenbach scored New York's lone goal.

NO PLAY ON YANKEE — Boston second sacker Mike Andrews can't make a play on the sliding Horace Clarke of the New York Yankees since a teammate's errant throw hit the base runner during the first inning of their exhibition baseball game yesterday at Fort Lauderdale. The ball has already struck Clarke and is falling behind him while Andrews watches. The Yankees tallied four runs in the inning and went on to a 6-3 victory.

Gophers' Ace Tops Scorers in Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten's basketball season of the newcomer was capped by junior Tom Kondla of Minnesota becoming the first Gopher player to win the conference scoring title in 50 years.

★ ★ ★

Final official league statistics Thursday certified Kondla as point-making champion with a 14-game average of 28.3 in performing for a ninth-place club.

★ ★ ★

The campaign was devoid of super stars of recent vintage as Michigan's Cazzie Russell, Purdue's Dave Schellhase and Terry Dischinger and Ohio State's Jerry Lucas and Gary Bradds.

But things look bright for next season with a returning crop including 14 of the top 20 conference scorers this season.

Top individual scorers:

Mound Problems Abound in Major League Camps

By the Associated Press

A couple of veteran pitchers have discovered they have some problems, while the San Francisco Giants have discovered they have a problem pitcher.

The problem is Juan Marichal.

Giants' President Horace Stoneham said in Phoenix Wednesday that contract negotiations with the ace right-hander have reached an impasse "and it looks like we have a definite holdout on our hands."

★ ★ ★

The club said Marichal has been offered $100,000 and that he is asking $110,000.

"The next move is up to Juan," Stoneham said.

Marichal, 25-6 with a 2.23 earned run average last season, is in the Dominican Republic.

★ ★ ★

Whitey Ford and Don Drysdale had problems of a different nature Wednesday. Drysdale, making his first start of the season for the Los Angeles Dodgers, gave up five hits and a run in three innings at Vero Beach, Fla., and the St. Louis Cardinals took a 5-2 exhibition victory.

Ford, belted for nine hits in three innings the first time he worked this season, gave up singles to the first four men he faced at Fort Lauderdale. The little lefty regained the touch, however, retired the next 11 men he faced and started the New York Yankees to a 6-3 decision over Boston.

★ ★ ★

In the other exhibitions in Florida, Cincinnati beat the New York Mets 11-6 at St. Petersburg, Washington nipped Atlanta 2-1 in 11 innings at Pompano Beach, the Chicago White Sox stopped Pittsburgh 4-1 at Fort Myers, Houston edged Detroit 4-3 at Cocoa, Baltimore romped over Kansas City 11-4 at Miami and Minnesota shelled Philadelphia 14-1 at Orlando.

★ ★ ★

In Arizona, the Chicago Cubs defeated California 7-6 at Scottsdale and San Francisco edged Cleveland 3-2 in 10 innings at Phoenix.

Astros Win, 4-3

Error Costly for Tigers

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, smarting under the weight of a three-game losing streak, met the Cincinnati Reds today in friendly Marchant Stadium.

The Houston Astros and flamboyant Bo Belinsky nipped the Tigers 4-3 at Cocoa Wednesday with the aid of a throwing error by rookie Tom Matchick.

★ ★ ★

Dave Wickersham was to have faced the Reds today but was scratched from the pitching order by Manager Mayo Smith in favor of Earl Wilson. Bill Monbouquette and Hank Aguirre will divide the other six innings.

BIG MISCUE

Matchick, playing second base, appeared the hero going into the ninth. His solo homer in the third gave Detroit a 3-2 lead which stood up until the fielding miscue.

★ ★ ★

With two out and a man on second, Matchick fumbled pinch-hitter West Bales' high hopper and the rookie's hurried throw to first baseman Jake Wood sailed into the dugout, allowing the tying run to score.

Bales took second on the overthrow and scored the winning run on a single by rookie Jose Herrera.

★ ★ ★

Al Kaline drove in Detroit's first two runs with a single. Kaline and Matchick each laced out two hits.

Houston scored single runs in the first and second innings off Tigers starter Joe Sparma. Larry Sherry took the loss in relief.

Sparma was proud of his performance despite three hits and a walk, plus a wild pitch.

"I didn't have a good fast ball and I couldn't control the slider," said Sparma. "But four times I used the changeup for a strike and I'm pleased with that."

Golf Still Fun for Nicklaus Despite Money

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus became a millionaire by playing golf, but the 27-year-old Ohio belter says he thinks there are "lots of things more important in life than beating a golf ball around a course."

★ ★ ★

The three-time Masters champion — and only golfer to win consecutive titles — isn't ready to halt his bid to become the game's undisputed top player, however.

★ ★ ★

"As long as I enjoy it and can compete successfully, I'll play," the blond distance-hitter said before starting his challenge in the $100,000 Jacksonville Open today.

★ ★ ★

Nicklaus admitted he is pointing toward the Masters next month, where he will be trying for a third straight title, but he believes his game is good enough now to win the $20,000 prize that goes to the Jacksonville winner.

Doug Sanders is defending champion in the Jacksonville Open.

Joe Wolcott: Incentive Works Against Champ

NEW YORK (AP) — Jersey Joe Walcott, who was 37-years-old and a 6-1 underdog when he won the heavyweight title, says Zora Folley has a good chance to upset heavyweight champion Cassius Clay next Wednesday night.

Folley, 34, and a 5-1 long shot, agrees.

Walcott was 33 when he got his first shot at the title and almost whipped Joe Louis in 1947. Four years later he knocked out Ezzard Charles in the seventh round and became the champion.

"From my experience," said Walcott, "when you finally get your first chance at the title you step in forgetting everything that went before. It's a lifelong dream at last here and you're ready for the fight of your life."

Golf Teams After Champions' Cup

HOUSTON (AP) — Sixty-two teams that included a pair of former national amateur champions begin the seventh annual Champions Cup Invitation Golf Tournament today.

For one of the few times in the history of the tournament there was no clear cut favorite.

Deane Beman, a two-time U.S. Champion, has Allen Mebane of Martinsville, Va., as his partner. Harvie Ward, who won successive national championships in 1955 and 1956, is teamed with John Brodie, the San Francisco 49ers, quarterback.

Lopsided Wins in Cage Rec Action

The pacesetters in Waterford Township's Class A recreation basketball league posted lopsided decisions last night.

Drayton Drug (10-1) rolled past Bob's Five (3-8), 103-68, and Spencer Floor Covering (9-2) whipped Day's Sanitary Service (3-8), 81-53.

In the other game, Genesee Welding (4-7) squeaked past Powell's Trucking (4-7), 74-71.

John Saum poured in 24 points and Mike Miley added 22 to spark the Drayton Drug attack. The winners held a 52-37 lead at halftime. Mike Applegate tossed in 29 for Bob's.

★ ★ ★

John Keller collected 26 points for Spencer which outscored Day's in every period. It was 36-21 at intermission. Bill Bryce led Day's with 16.

Trailing 72-70 with 12 seconds left, Powell's Ron Lunday had a chance to tie the game when he stepped to the line on a one-and-one situation. He made the first, but missed the second, and Genesee grabbed the rebound and fed the ball to Howard McCray for the final basket.

★ ★ ★

McCray finished with 22 points for the winners, while Dave Dodd collected 23 for the losers.

The teams pair off for position night next Wednesday, and Drayton Drug will be trying to sew up the title.

The Drug crew takes on Spencer Floor. A win for the Drayton team will bring it the championship. A Spencer victory would produce a tie and force a second game the following week.

The first game Wednesday (6:55) has Powell taking on Genesse. Drayton Drug and Spencer (8:20) meet in the second game, while Day's Sanitary and Bob's Five (9:40) tangle in the nightcap.

2 Families Dominate Early Junior Action

STOWE, Vt. (AP) — Two families of young skiers from Vermont and California dominated the opening day of the 1967 National Junior Alpine Championships and it could be more of the same when competition resumes Friday.

Bobby Cochran, 15, of Richmond, Vt., won the boys' giant slalom Wednesday, flashing down the 52-gate course in 2:14.22 for a .28 second advantage over runner-up Pat Simpson, also 15, of Sun Valley, Idaho.

Sandy Poulson, 14, of Olympic Valley, Calif., negotiated the shorter girls' course in 1:36.41 to win that event, with second place going to 17-year-old Marilyn Cochran, Bobby's sister, who missed out by just .03 of a second.

Injuries Mount as Fans Watch Soccer Action

LEEDS, England (AP)—An undetermined number of fans were injured in the crush of the crowd watching Leeds United and Sunderland struggle to a 1-1 overtime tie in a replay of an English Soccer Cup game Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Officials said no one was seriously injured.

The game was held up for about 15 minutes shortly after it started because the crowd of 57,892 spilled over onto the playing field. The referee took both teams off the field until the fans could be herded back into the stands.

Potent Squads in Ice Opener

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — East meets west tonight when two of the nation's most powerful and precision-drilled college hockey teams face off in the opening round of the 20th annual National Collegiate Athletic Association championships at County War Memorial Auditorium.

Eastern champion Cornell, with a 25-1-1 record, pits its hopes of returning the national title to the east against North Dakota, 19-8, the Western College Hockey Association champion.

The winner of the Cornell-North Dakota game will meet the winner of Friday night's Michigan State-Boston University game Saturday night for the title.

Michigan State is the defending champion.

Neck Surgery for Argo Back

TORONTO (AP) — Dick Shatto, a longtime halfback with the Toronto Argonauts of the Canadian Football League, underwent surgery Wednesday to repair a damaged vertebrae in his neck.

Shatto, 34, retired after the 1965 season after playing 15 years for the Argonauts. He is a graduate of the University of Kentucky.

Cass Lake Sailors Dominate Ice Competition

Cass Lake Ice Yacht Club members will dodge the cracks in the ice with only their regular fleet competition for the rest of the season after finally completing their annual Invitational Regatta last Sunday.

Club member Chuck Cartwright retained his regatta championship trophy by besting almost 50 DN Class sailors in the once-postponed regatta.

Cartwright won one of Sunday's five DN races, took two seconds, a fifth and sixth in the ice competition that saw Cass Lakers take four of the top tive berths.

Only runner-up Joe Holman of Toledo cracked the host club's domination of the standings. Cartwright had 16 points and Holman, who had one first place finish, posted 20.

★ ★ ★

Metamora's Roy Holden was third with 23 points and one first, Gene Treuter of Orchard Lake had 29 for fourth, and the other two firsts went to Detroiter Dan Woodruff who had 30 points.

★ ★ ★

A dozen open class ice yachts also vied and Cass Laker "Ro" Redner led their four-race competition in a homemade craft. Ed Stack of the CLIYC was second, Toledo's Chuck Miller third and Bob Redner tied Dick Pollock for fourth.

Spring Drills Open; 20 Lettermen Back

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Forced into ancient Yost Fieldhouse by a late winter snowfall, Michigan opened spring football practice Wednesday with 100 candidates.

Coach Bump Elliott said 20 lettermen returned from last year's team which posted a 6-4 record. He must fill 14 starting positions, including eight on offense.

Gone via graduation are All-America end Jack Clancy, fullback Dave Fisher and halfbacks Carl Ward and Jim Detwiler.

Among the more promising lettermen are quarterback Dick Vidmer, center Joe Dayton, halfbacks Ernie Sharpe and Ron Johnson and fullback John Reynolds.

Elliott said he plans four-day-a-week workouts through April 15 with a scrimmage every Saturday.

Big 10 Group to Hear Illini Saturday

CHICAGO (AP)—The University of Illinois, ordered to fire three coaches in its $21,000 slush fund scandal or face ouster from the Big Ten, goes into the showdown Saturday playing its cards close to the chest.

"I won't be able to say until after Saturday's meeting," university President Dr. David D. Henry replied Wednesday when asked whether Illinois has a counterproposal to the Big Ten demand to fire the coaches. Dr. Henry has called the demand "too harsh," a viewpoint shared by Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner.

★ ★

The meeting was requested by Dr. Henry and convened Wednesday by the Big Ten's commissioner, Bill Reed. Policy-making faculty representatives from the conference's nine other members will be present Saturday at the Chicago meeting.

Illinois must appeal by Friday the faculty group's March 3 mandate upholding a Feb. 22 action by Big Ten athletic directors. The directors at that time ordered the firing of head football Coach Pete Elliot, head basketball Coach Harry Combes and assistant basketball coach Howie Braun.

Disasters Are Way of Life for Imogene

By BOB THOMAS
AP-Movie Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Comedienne Imogene Coca has a knack for becoming involved in disasters.

Such as buying a bloodhound and starring in a television series called "It's About Time."

About the bloodhound. She had always wanted one, and husband King Donovan located a likely puppy after a lengthy search. Puppy grew to the size of a small horse, and it charges through the living room of the Donovans' hillside house like a runaway freight.

★ ★ ★

"The main trouble is with our standard poodle, who has decided it has to kill the bloodhound," said Miss Coca. "They had one encounter on my bed while I was in it, and I was never so frightened in my life.

"Now we keep them at opposite ends of the house. I'm terrified to be here alone with them, for fear they'll get out and I'll be caught in the middle again."

WENT ALONG

Miss Coca seems willing to go along with such a situation, just as she went along with "It's About Time," which some critics termed the worst television series of this—and perhaps any —season. The show concerned two astronauts who crashed the time barrier and landed amid cavemen. Reviewers deplored the waste of Miss Coca as a prehistoric crone.

Producer Sherwood Schwartz attempted to save the series from extinction by switching the time element to modern-day. That prevented a midseason wipe-out, but it wasn't enough to forestall CBS's cancellation at the end of 26 weeks.

★ ★ ★

"I was sorry about the whole thing, especially for Sherwood, who got the most brutal kind of criticism for creating the series," said the comedienne. "I didn't think that was nice at all."

How did she get involved in it?

NO DOUBLE-TALK

"I was intrigued by anyone who could be named Sherwood Schwartz. We talked, and I liked him; there was no double-talk from him. I did the pilot without much expectation that it would sell. But it did.

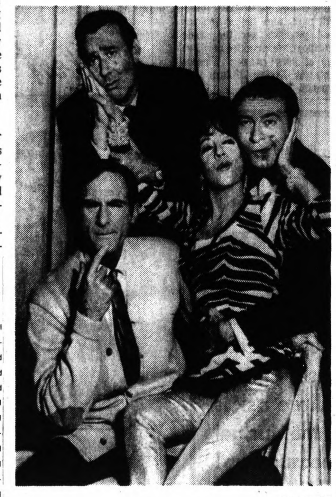
"The management of the show and the cast were wonderful to work with; nobody sluffed it off. Perhaps the scripts were not always good, but we tried. There was only one trouble: The audience didn't seem to like the show."

★ ★ ★

Miss Coca is wasting no time in lamentation; she has labored too long in the televineyard for that. On CBS April 5 she will be seen in a re-creation of the historic "Your Show of Shows." The broadcast is ponderously titled "The Sid Caesar, Imogene Coca, Carl Reiner, Howard Morris Special."

★ ★ ★

"I was a little worried that our getting together after all those years might be like opening Pandora's box," she commented. "But the show worked out beautifully for all of us."



AP Wirephoto

Townsend Answers U.S.-Canada Pact Critics

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler's No. 1 man spoke out strongly in favor of renewal of the American-Canadian auto trade agreement Tuesday night, a few hours after the pact came under attack on the U.S. Senate floor.

Lynn A. Townsend, Chrysler's board chairman, urged at a Windsor, Ont., dinner that the three-year pact which runs out next January, should be extended for three to five years.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn. told the Senate Tuesday that the treaty was "monstrous and disastrous" for American workers.

Gore called attention to an earlier statement by Sen. Vance Hartke, D.-Ind., that the pact had cost the United States 60,000 jobs.

"Now," said Gore, "it can be reported that the number of unemployed automobile workers has swelled because of the operation of this agreement."

The two senators long have been opposed to the agreement which provides for duty-free movement of cars and parts across the Canadian-American border.

★ ★ ★

Gore pointed out the agreement comes up for review next Jan. 1 and he called for a full review, warning:

"Unless action is taken, more thousands of our auto workers will be unemployed."

OPPOSITE VIEW

Chrysler's Townsend took an opposite view of the workings of the treaty, whose sponsors had said it would better auto industry conditions in both the United States and Canada.

Townsend said the current trade pact had been the best solution to the problem of imbalance on the Canadian economy, insofar as autos were concerned.

★ ★ ★

"One way for Canada to control its growing deficit in automotive trade with the United States would have been to move towards protectionism...either to raise tariffs against imports of auto components or to increase substantially the local content requirement for Canadian automobiles," Townsend said.

He said of the working of the current agreiment:

"Before it, Chrysler Canada had to assemble in its plant in Windsor virtually every Chrysler automobile sold in Canada. And Chrysler Canada had to buy or manufacture the majority of parts which went into each automobile.

TWO LINES

"As a result, the Chrysler assembly plant in Windsor had to produce nearly 100 models. Our Canadian suppliers, as well as our own component plants, had to work on the basis of low volume and short production runs.

★ ★ ★

"Today, because of the tariff free exchange of original equipment parts and motor vehicles made possible by the trade agreement, we produce only two lines of cars at our Windsor plant...the Dodge Polara and Plymouth Fury.

"Over half of these cars move across the Detroit River to the American market while other Chrysler models, sold in Canada, along with many of the components used by our Windsor plant are brought in from the United States. The benefits of this growth will be experienced by people of both our countries in the years ahead.

"But this will be possible only if the trade agreement becomes an established and settled part of our way of doing business," Townsend said.

There was no immediate comment from the other U.S. automakers, but judging by past performance, it would not be surprising to see them standing side by side with Chrysler when the Senate begins debate on the matter later this year.

Viet Shuffle Said a Boost for Military

SAIGON (AP) — Replacement of the top men in the U.S. Embassy in Saigon means that the U.S. military is going to have a commanding voice in the all-important pacification program to bring the South Vietnamese people under control of the Saigon government, many Americans in Saigon believe.

Though reports from Washington say the new embassy team is to step up the pacification program, senior American officials here don't expect major changes in the program itself. Outgoing Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge told newsmen today he doesn't believe Washington is unhappy at the progress of civilian programs in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

However, many sources believe the departure of Lodge and Deputy Ambassador William O. Porter, both determined advocates of civilian responsibility for the pacification program, is certain to give Gen. William C. Westmoreland and his officers the dominant voice.

★ ★ ★

For some time there has been an underground struggle between the U.S. military and the embassy for influence. Fear of a military take-over of civilian affairs led to the formation of the embassy's Office of Civil Operations, headed by Porter, to direct the multimillion-dollar pacification program.

STRONG PERSONALITIES

Many feel that only the strong personalities of Lodge and Porter kept the demands of the military officers at bay.

Porter has built up a powerful civilian organization that controls and coordinates the civilian agencies supporting the revolutionary development program, the current name for the pacification program. The deputy ambassador will leave behind a capable, functioning organization.

★ ★ ★

Of South Vietnam's estimated 11,000 hamlets, 4,461 are classed as pacified but this figure is open to doubt. The goal for 1967 is 1,100 more.

★ ★ ★

Population is probably a better index of control. Of the estimated 15 million South Vietnamese, 8 million are considered under government control, 5 million under Vietcong control, and the remaining 2 million are in a shadowland.

4 PRIORITY AREAS

The 1967 pacification program has four priority areas which will get more aid and assistance than the others.

★ ★ ★

One region is around Da Nang, where U.S. Marines were operating. Another is in coastal Binh Dinh Province, where the current pacification scheme took root. The third embraces several provinces around Saigon. The fourth is an area of the Mekong Delta, centered on the Hoa Hao religious sect's province of An Giang.

★ ★ ★

Large chunks of 26 of South Vietnam's 43 provinces are included in the priority areas.

Thousands of revolutionary development teams, each made up of 59 South Vietnamese, are being trained to work in the target villages. They enter a village, take a census, befriend the villagers, do small jobs of rebuilding and recruit a local guard.

"REV-DEV"

The "rev dev" teams are supposed to stay about six months in each hamlet and leave it pacified before they move on to another.

Revolution—Final Blow for Crumbling Russian Monarchy

(Second in a Series)

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The Russian monarchy was already desperately sick when Czar Nicholas II abdicated his throne.

By March 15, 1917, the regime was so worm-eaten that it needed only a rough blow to bring the Romanov dynasty down.

According to Alexander Kerensky, who knew the czar well, Nicholas II was not an evil man. But he was a weakling who surrounded himself with charlatans and adventurers.

He was dominated by his wife, Alexandra, a former German princess and granddaughter of Queen Victoria.

★ ★ ★

The czarina, though much stronger than her husband, was a high-strung woman obsessed by a mystic exaltation which bordered on the pathological.

Everything she did was done for the sake of her son, Alexis, who was afflicted with hemophilia. She was convinced that a miracle could save her only boy.

Great fervors shook the Russian people in the bleak and desperate days of World War I. Everyone hoped for a miracle.

"Holy men" and self-torturing "saints" roamed the country, healing and preaching strange gospels.

★ ★ ★

I still remember "St. Ivan the Ugly" — as the awed peasant women lovingly called him.

LONG BLACK HAIR

He was a toothless hunchback with long black hair reaching to his shoulders, who walked shoeless and hatless even on the coldest winter day.

Ivan, in his own way, was a revolutionist. He appeared one day on the streets of our city with the glad tidings that he had come to liberate Russia from the "German She-Devil," the czar's wife, Alexandra.

Yet so venerated was the hunchback by the common people that the police did not dare arrest him for fear of provoking a riot.

★ ★ ★

The most celebrated miracle worker on the eve of the revolution was, of course, the "Mad Monk" Grigori Rasputin who, unlike Ivan, became a pillar of the monarchy.

CRIMINAL RECORD

A giant of a man with a criminal record, the illiterate Siberian peasant was for more than a decade the favorite "saint" of Petrograd's high society.

It became the fashion to shower rich presents upon him, which he debauched monk quickly squandered on riotous and lusty living.

But Rasputin apparently possessed extraordinary hypnotic powers and he exercised his healing gifts on the czar's ailing son.

★ ★ ★

This extraordinary circumstance gave him a psychical hold on Alexandra. She was convinced that he had been sent by God to save the heir to the Russian throne. She began to take his advice in everything, including the conduct of state affairs.

SCANDALS SPREAD

Knowledge of Rasputin's scandals spread throughout Russia. They became the favorite subject for guarded comments and whispers in the salons of the rich and the hamlets of the peasants.

As youngsters, when there were no policemen or spies in sight, we used to sing, "Russia, Mother Russia, I weep for you; Grishka Rasputin has ruined you."

Rasputin was finally assassinated by Prince Yussupov shortly before the outbreak of the revolution. But by then the doom of the Romanov dynasty was sealed.

★ ★ ★

The tragedy of the czar's family and the fate of Russia are thus closely entwined.

As Russia's defeats in World War I mounted, rumors spread in the country that there was treason in high places.

Alexandra was believed to be the leader of a pro-German conspiracy in the capital.

THE 'MAD MONK'—Grigori Rasputin rose above his past as an illiterate Siberian to become the pillar of the Russian monarchy. His ability to heal the czar's ailing son gave him a psychical hold on Czarina Alexandra. Rasputin was assassinated shortly before the outbreak of the revolution.

Ugly rumors also circulated about her relations with Rasputin.

By March 1917, Russia was bled white. The people were hungry and desperate.

ENDLESS LINES

Endless lines of freezing women stretched before the food shops from dawn until midnight, only to find that there was no bread or potatoes to be had.

Angry crowds milled hopelessly in the streets and frequently clashed with the police. Many were wounded soldiers on crutches—bearded men and boys hardly more than 16.

Hundreds of refugees squatted in the snow, stolid and bewildered among their bundles and rolls of bedding.

★ ★ ★

For as they retreated before the Germans, the Russians—in World War I as in the war against Hitler — were clearing the country of every living thing and destroying houses and crops.

CZARINA CURSED

Everyone cursed the czarina, and even the timorous became rebellious.

On the war front the situation was even more desperate.

The Russian peasants fought valiantly for Holy Mother Russia and died in droves behind their captains. But rifles and ammunition were as scarce as bread and potatoes.

Russia's losses were immense. In the first year of the war alone she had lost four million men in killed, wounded and prisoners.

To replenish the ranks of the dwindling army, the czarist regime began to draft males between 16 and 60.

Who was to blame for Russia's plight? Obviously the "Nemka" (German woman) and her "lover"—Rasputin—who had sold out to the kaiser.

There were, of course, many complex historic reasons — social, economic, political and sheerly human—that finally brought about the collapse of the Romanov dynasty.

★ ★ ★

Yet there is little doubt that it was the growing suspicion of treason in the czar's palace — even more than the conspiracies of the revolutionists — that was the immediate cause that triggered spontaneously the Russian Revolution of March 1917.

(NEXT: When the News Reached the Provinces.)

Mosquito Bill at $50 Million

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — The pesky mosquito, sometimes a carrier of diseases, but more often just a plain irritant, will cost the American taxpayer at least $50 million this year.

Dr. Harry D. Pratt of the National Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta, Ga., said Wednesday the $50 million will be spent on research, eradication and control of the mosquito.

He said that federal, state and local governments soon would be spending a total of $100 million annually for expanded programs.

'Blackboard Jungle' in NY

NEW YORK (AP) — It was in New York in 1954 that ex-school-teacher Evan Hunter described the city's classrooms—already crowded with the angry children of the poor and increasingly the arena for teen-age savagery—as "the blackboard jungle."

Today the fear is growing that the jungle is spreading, threatening to obliterate the education of many, along with all that education means to their hope of a better future.

★ ★ ★

This week New York witnessed one of the most disheartening aspects of the battle for young minds when former comrades-in-arms against the jungle instead took aim at each other.

On Tuesday, 79 teachers at Junior High School 98 in the Bronx resigned, accusing the New York City Board of Education of failing to alleviate overcrowding, overwork and student assaults upon teachers.

TEACHERS RALLY

In an astonishingly rapid and widespread display of sympathy, more than 1,000 teachers from all over the city rallied the next day, echoing the complaints from "98 Bronx," promising protest pickets and urging school boycotts, teachers' union strikes and mass resignations.

School officials expressed dismay, stressed their claims that they have tried to ease the lot of teachers and then announced — as boards of education must, several officials suggested — that they would deal firmly with the rebel teachers, that they had "no alternative but to accept" the resignations.

★ ★ ★

An Associated Press survey of school officials, teachers, parents and even students revealed an ironic similarity in the views of all parties to the bitter dispute: There appears to be no single master villain anyone can name, the same complaints about school conditions feed the wrath of all combatants, and everyone agrees on who stands to suffer the worst — the kids.

Says a Puerto Rican mother of a 98 Bronx student: "My girl sure ain't learning a thing when those teachers aren't in school, but sometimes I think she ain't learning much anyway. Not when some of those kids start tearing up the classes."

TEACHER DEMANDS

Ken Allen, a teacher at the nearby Bronx High School of Science, said at Wednesday's massive teacher rally: "We're demanding psychologists and psychiatric help, more supervisors and more civilians in the schools to help with the disruptive students."

Seelig Lester, superintendent of the 12th District, in which 98 Bronx lies, commented: "If I had them, I'd assign them. I just don't have them."

★ ★ ★

And a 98 Bronx boy: "I'm with the teachers. I think they need more protection. There's this girl in my class that's always yelling dirty words, and it always breaks everything up."

When Hunter wrote the "Blackboard Jungle," it was considered chiefly a Manhattan phenomenon. The most crowded of the city's five boroughs, it had long been the first stop and final home of immigrants, Southern Negroes and Puerto Ricans who have come to make up much of the city's population.

DISADVANTAGES SOAR

As the population has soared, the city's disadvantaged neighborhoods — with language problems, high joblessness and welfare costs and rising crime rates — have spread, beyond Harlem and Spanish Harlem to Brooklyn, Queens and the Bronx.

The Board of Education announced on Monday that for the first time in city history, Negro and Puerto Rican pupils were in the majority in the public schools — 50.2 per cent citywide, as compared with 31.7 per cent a decade ago.

Dr. Nathan Brown, executive deputy superintendent of schools, said the figures "were no surprise," adding that the increasing ethnic topheaviness "makes it more difficult for us to provide the kind of integrated education that we would like to provide for every section in the city."

While Manhattan, at around 70 per cent, still held the lead in Negro-Puerto Rican school population, the Bronx had 45.6 per cent as of the October 1966 count.

ETHNIC COMPOSITION

And 98 Bronx itself is 77 per cent Puerto Rican and 19 per cent Negro.

A large, squat concrete structure, 98 Bronx broods like a fortress over row upon row of streets filled with three- and four-story brick tenements. The streets teem with children, even on winter days.

Built to hold 1,598 students, 98 Bronx currently has about 2,000 enrolled and 200 more scheduled for next September, with a teaching staff of 126.

Its principal, Dr. James L. Mandell, says: "This is not a terror or fear school." There have been 13 assaults in this school year, he says, "and all can be characterized as minor, requiring no medical attention."

"ONE IS TOO MANY"

Then he adds: "Even one is too many, of course, but 13 assaults out of an enrollment of 2,000 doesn't seem excessive in this city."

Mandell says teacher absenteeism has risen rapidly in his school in recent months, to roughly twice the city average, and that this has thrown extra work onto those teachers who do report for work.

★ ★ ★

Besides assaults, the other major complaint of the resigned teachers was of "coverages" — being required to take on extra classes, at no extra pay, when regular teachers were absent and substitutes were not available.

And the complaints were not confined to 98 Bronx.

At Wednesday's protest meeting, led by officials of the United Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, teachers from more than a dozen other schools throughout the city charged officials with bad faith in observing the contract, in not providing substitutes, in imposing coverages on already-burdened teachers, in not adequately punishing assault cases.

Lake Shore Bus Strike Averted

ST. CLAIR SHORES (UPI) — Drivers and mechanics of Lake Shore Coach Lines yesterday approved a new contract offer, averting a scheduled strike for today.

The bus line serves commuters and schoolchildren in the Grosse Pointe suburbs of Detroit as well as St. Clair Shores and Harrison Township.

Antarctic Check Finds Nothing Bad

WASHINGTON (AP) — American inspectors calling at antarctic scientific stations of the Soviet Union and six other nations apparently found nothing more sinister than penguins.

The inspectors "do not seem to have turned up anything unusual," was the way State Department officials phrased today a preliminary report on the findings of the five-man U.S. team.

★ ★ ★

The check began in January and ended early this month. It was carried out under the 1959 Antarctic Treaty, which outlaws military use of the south polar continent. The 12-nation treaty allows its members to inspect the area to make sure treaty provisions are obeyed.

A U.S. group inspected once before, in 1964, and reported no activity "for other than peaceful purposes."

★ ★ ★

State Department officials said the 1967 inspection team of five experts sailed from Wellington, New Zealand, on Jan. 25 aboard the U.S. Coast Guard icebreaker "Eastwind." They flew around Antarctica by plane and returned aboard the "Eastwind" to Punta Arenas, Chile, March 5.

They inspected France's research station at Dumont D'Urville, Australia's Wilkes and Mawson Stations, Japan's Showa Station, South Africa's Sanae, Britain's Signy, Argentina's Ocradas and the Soviets' Molodeshnaya stations.

They also checked a Danish ship which was unloading at Wilkes.

The U.S. group radioed back with a preliminary clean bill on all the bases they visited. Some of the members are still on their way back to the United States.

Bahamas Gambling Quiz Set

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — A formal investigation is starting into claims that this little British colony's gambling casinos have links with U.S. underworld figures.

Sir Ranulph Bacon, 60, former assistant commissioner of Scotland Yard, heads the inquiry commission appointed by the Bahamian government. Other members are R. E. Auld, 30, London lawyer; J. E. O'Connell, 50, detective superintendent of Scotland Yard; and Joseph A. Wharton, 66, a Trinidad lawyer.

★ ★ ★

Bahamian authorities, including Gov. Sir Ralph Grey and Police Commissioner Nigel Morris, have expressed skepticism of American reports saying U.S. racketeers are clandestinely tapping gambling revenue through contacts employed by local casinos.

It has been learned that U.S. law enforcement agencies covertly and overtly checked casino operations thoroughly without finding evidence to support the claims.

THREE CASINOS

The Bahamas has three casinos, two of them at Freeport on Grand Bahama island. Three Americans employed at Freeport were dismissed after a federal grand jury in New York indicted them on charges of evading excise taxes. The Bahamian government has declined to deport the men, considering the charges as not extraditable.

The inquiry commission also is to look into reports that officials of the previous Bahamian government profited through the use of influence in bringing gambling to Freeport in 1964.

The call for an investigation of these conflict-of-interest reports was first made by two opposition parties, the Progressive Liberals and the National Democrats, several years ago. The governing United Bahamian party initiated negotiations for the investigation in 1966 and these were completed when the Progressive Liberals gained power in January's elections.

Asked if any Americans would be called to testify, Sir Ranulph told newsmen, "It's unlikely. But if any Americans voluntarily wish to appear we shan't stop them."

Gambling operations in the colony are controlled by a company affiliated with the financial empire created by a former Wall Street stockbroker, Wallace Groves, at Freeport.

★ ★ ★

Persistent reports in Nassau say that other American gambling interests, seeking to break the Groves monopoly, backed the Progressive Liberal party in the last elections. An American prominently linked to the party's campaign was Mike McLaney, former operator of the Hotel Nacional Casino in Havana.

★ ★ ★

Prime Minister Lynden O. Pindling says McLaney helped lease helicopters for use during the campaign, and that he is to be paid for his services. Pindling denies he or his party received financial assistance from McLaney.

Grosse Pointe Students Held in Dope Case

GROSSE POINTE (UPI)—Police in this posh Detroit suburb today said they were on the trail of the suppliers who sold marijuana to two high school students charged with selling the weed to other teen-agers.

The two, aged 18 and 19, were arrested Tuesday following a four-month investigation in the Grosse Pointes, five wealthy suburbs northeast of Detroit.

Police said they had a list of "at least 18" names of high school students who have purchased the drugs from the boys.

Police withheld the names of the pair, fearing the disclosure would "blow the whole thing open" and send the suppliers under cover.

★ ★ ★

"We're going after the big ones," said Grosse Pointe Farms Detective Joseph Miller. "We know of one supplier and think there is another."

Miller said that while the boys' names remain hidden, the suppliers might not be able to figure if they are under suspicion.

Farm Jobs Down

EAST LANSING (AP) — One-half of Michigan's farmers will be in some other job by 1980, but those left in farming will be producing more food from less land, agricultural economists say. Michigan State University economists say farm numbers in Michigan dropped from 112,000 in 1959 to 93,000 in 1964 and are expected to drop to 45,000 by 1980.

Shipping Season May Open Today

DETROIT (UPI) — Two ships were scheduled to head up the Detroit River today, officially opening the 1967 shipping season on Lake Huron.

The Coast Guard said the S. T. Crapo of the Huron Cement Co. and the Adam Cornelius, both lake freighters, would head through Lake St. Clair, up the St. Clair River and out into the lake, weather permitting.

★ ★ ★

They will be escorted by the Coast Guard Cutter Acacia out of Port Huron.

Cheaper Fares Boost Travel to Europe

NEW YORK (AP) — Tourists planning summer trips to Europe under the new lower air fares are boosting business for travel agents and airlines.

Two million Americans are expected to travel to Europe this year, up from 1.6 million in 1966.

"We're completely booked until September," said Henry P. Huff, executive vice president of Trans International Airlines, an Oakland, Calif., supplemental carrier.

Trans International has advance bookings for June are up 5.5 per cent from 1966. It is scheduled more than 200 charter flights to Europe from San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, St. Louis, Columbus, New York, Boston and other cities this summer, Huff said. Business is up 25 per cent over 1966.

British Overseas Airways Corp. said its New York reservations department has been swamped with calls. BOAC is offering 30 itineraries with room for 25,000 to 30,000 travellers.

Auto Club Study Measures Tragedy on Roads

Almost half of all drivers involved in Michigan's 2,284 fatal traffic accidents in 1966 had been drinking, were driving too fast on two-lane roads at night within 25 miles of home; and were in cars whose average age was 3.2 years with no mechanical defects and no seat belts, Automobile Club of Michigan's General Manager Fred N. Rehm said today.

Driver failure was primary cause of 89 per cent of the deaths.

These facts emerge from a 61-page study, titled "How To Bring More Back Alive," which projects a representative 20 per cent sample of Michigan's 1966 deaths.

It will be published soon along with Auto Club suggestions on what to do about the 7 per cent increase in traffic deaths last year.

★ ★ ★

Triple-A safety analysts visited scenes of 435 traffic deaths in July, August and over Memorial Day weekend and analyzed them plus drivers' records and what drivers had been doing immediately prior to the accidents.

OTHER FACTS

Other facts the study reveals:

● The point system identifies bad drivers but does not protect the rest of society by taking them off the road. The 10 worst drivers involved in the 363 accidents studied had a lifetime average of 44 points each, 11 times more than the average driver gets in his lifetime. They had an average of eight speeding or reckless driving convictions.

Four per cent of the drivers involved had a total of 35 suspensions, with one suspended eight times. But nearly 20 per cent of drivers whose licenses are suspended or revoked get them back or have the suspensions modified by appeal boards or the courts.

"Any driver who has more than 12 points in any two-year period is headed for a serious accident," Rehm said. "His chances of being involved in a fatal accident are almost eight times greater than the average driver. Secretary of state figures show the average driver has four points and one accident in his lifetime.

★ ★ ★

"Our investigators, who are not auto engineers, could find no evidence that vehicle defects played a significant role as accident causes," Rehm said.

ONE BALD TIRE

"They could find only one bald tire that may have contributed to severity of an accident, but could not have caused it. Tire defects were found on six cars, along with one light and one brake defect.

"Old cars — the kind that look unsafe standing still — were in a surprisingly small minority," Rehm said. "Average age of the cars was three years and three months, with less than 7 per cent 10 years or older. Only 13 per cent of the cars checked had seat belts, and in only two cases were they used.

● Fifty-five per cent of the deaths occurred in 12 counties: Wayne, Oakland, Genesee, Macomb, Saginaw, Ingham, Lenawee, Calhoun, Kent, Livingston, Ottawa and Allegan.

"This was in spite of the fact that our analysis occurred in July and August plus Memorial weekend, when counties north of a line from Bay City to Muskegon had their heaviest vacation traffic," Rehm said.

★ ★ ★

● Even in Michigan's peak tourist months, the area within 25 miles of home is by far the most dangerous. Eighty-two per cent of the drivers involved were within 25 miles of home, not on vacation. Only 2 per cent were on vacation and more than 25 miles from home.

● Some basic law violation was involved in 89 per cent of fatalities, with speed too fast for conditions most common. Others included driving to left of center, failure to yield right of way, running traffic signals, disregarding stop signs and improper turns.

● Many motorists misunderstand Michigan's basic "whatever is safe and proper" speed law, for many apparently presumed incorrectly that they could safely go to the statewide limit of 65 daytime, 55 at night, on any unposted two-lane county road.

Nearly 70 per cent of the fatalities occurred on two lane roads, 41 per cent of them at speeds too fast for conditions. Only 4,000 of 24,000 miles of two-lane county roads have been studied scientifically to determine their speed capabilities.

ON FREEWAYS

"This problem is especially acute in counties with freeways running through them, which indicates drivers tend to continue at high speeds when they leave freeways," Rehm said.

The speed problem is indicated by the fact that, while total accidents decreased by 2.7 per cent in 1966, deaths increased 7 per cent and injuries increased 3.5 per cent.

"We feel this is due to high speeds on two lane roads," Rehm said.

Largest single accident type was single-car ran off road accidents (34 per cent) followed by two-car collisions (31 per cent).

● An even 20 per cent of drivers at fault were between ages 16 and 20. Nearly 16 per cent were between 16 and 18 — far out of proportion to the 8.9 per cent of drivers it is estimated they represent. In addition, 50 per cent of teen-agers involved in fatalities had been drinking.

★ ★ ★

● Most dangerous hour was 6 p.m. with 10 per cent of the accidents. Next was 1 a.m. with 9 per cent, followed by 2 a.m. with 7 per cent. Sunday was most dangerous day, followed by Saturday, Friday and Monday. Presumably these days experienced highest traffic volumes also.

● At least half of the accident reports examined were incomplete to some degree. Many lacked any information on drinking condition of the drivers.

Our investigation in many cases showed that the drivers had been drinking, while the reports did not show this," Rehm noted.

● One out of 17 of the accidents involved motorized bikes or cycles, while they represent only one out of every 65 vehicles on Michigan roads.

While the number of motorized cycles and bikes on Michigan roads is increasing at an unprecedented rate, the number of accidents and fatalities involving these vehicles is going up nearly 50 per cent faster.

★ ★ ★

The vast majority of cycle drivers who died were under age 25. Average age was under 21, ranging from 14 to 31. Almost all occurred on weekends.

MAIN FACTORS

"Driver failure, due to bad habits, and attitudes, alcohol, ignorance, poor judgment, inexperience or a combination of these, underlies most fatal accidents," Rehm said.

"The disproportionately large number of high point drivers involved is evidence of the role of habits and attitudes.

"Speed too fast for conditions, combined with the large number of single-car accidents, the extremely high percentage of fatals on two-lane roads and the large number of teen-age drivers, indicate poor judgment, ignorance of the basic speed law, driver fatigue, inattention, bad habits and attitudes and-or alcohol," Rehm said.

Neurosis Jars 'Simple Life'

Some Disorders Felt More in Rural Areas

By Science Service

WASHINGTON—Rural Americans may have a weakness for different kinds of neurosis than their urban counterparts, according to a Kansas study of accident victims.

In a group of 150 patients who came to the Menninger Foundation suffering long-term mental trauma after a frightening accident, 40 were specifically afflicted with "free-floating anxiety" — tension, great uneasiness, irritability and withdrawal.

These 40 could be likened, reported Dr. Herbert C. Modlin in the February American Journal of Psychiatry, to the "hurt animal who withdraws to the safe seclusion of his cave to lick his wounds. If someone approaches, he growls an uneasy warning."

Curiously, the 40 patients typically came from simple, limited, rural backgrounds. They were "literal and unimaginative," had eighth-grade educations and traditional values, such as: "Men work, do not cry, drink beer, hunt and fish; women keep house, rear children."

★ ★ ★

Dr. Modlin suggested this simple cultural background produced a simple ego structure, whose troubles were manifested in this "relatively simple" anxiety syndrome.

To develop "symbolic illnesses" — phobias, obsessions, or hypochondria requires more ego sophistication than these patients possessed, he said.

White Lake Stalls Its Zoning Changes

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Crowded into the Dublin School gym, an estimated 250 persons last night obtained a 30-day delay on adoption of a new zoning ordinance and map.

Near the conclusion of the three-hour public hearing called by the township planning commission, Charles Harris, planning chairman, said the hearing would be reconvened at 8 p.m. April 17.

The delay was one point sought by those opposed to the new ordinance.

Purpose of last night's session was to hear objections to the proposed ordinance, which would set updated zoning classifications for all property in the township.

★ ★ ★

The current zoning ordinance and map — adopted in 1956 — would be abandoned upon approval of the new ordinance.

Strong protests from a parade of property owners were recorded last night against the proposed ordinance. Only one change was agreed to by the planning commission.

After a huddle during a brief recess, Chairman Harris said the planners would amend the proposed ordinance to permit suburban farm and agricultural districts to remain as they are under the existing ordinance.

Objections voiced at the hearing centered on the suburban estates classification proposed for current suburban farms. Residents indicated their opposition to the use restrictions provided with the "estates" zoning.

Pontiac attorney William M. Travis, who said he represented agricultural interests, claimed suburban farmers were being discriminated against and limited in the use of their property.

CLASSIFICATIONS HIT

Other residents complained of proposed new classifications for specific pieces of property.

Township officials indicated the proposed zoning map would make changes in classifications, but thought the new ordinance did not propose a wholesale rezoning of the township.

Supervisor Edward Cheyz said the bluik of the township would remain in the agricultural district. He said that the old map was "too broad."

It had only four zoning classifications, while the proposed map provides for 11 different types of zoning plus a designation for state-owned recreation areas.

★ ★ ★

Final adoption of the zoning ordinance and its accompanying map rests with the township.

After the planning commission issues its recommendations, the proposed ordinance goes to the Oakland County Coordinating Zoning and Planning Committee. The combined recommendations then go to the township board.

NEW TROY PARK SITE — This former truck farm is the future site of a Troy city park. Lee Osborn, parks and recreation director, inspects the land, bought by the city for $131,750, or about $3,500 an acre for 37½ acres. Trees in the background are at the rear of the property. The city will develop the park with baseball diamonds and picnic areas. The remains of a barn and other old buildings are to be removed.

Political Disputes Abound

By L. GARY THORNE
Assistant City Editor — Suburban

It can't be on account of St. Paddy's Day because more than the Irish have their dander up. Maybe it's the weather.

Regardless, it seems that political controversy is the order of the day in a flock of area communities. Tempers appear to be warming with the sun.

Note the following:

WOLVERINE LAKE — A "dissident" group of residents is unhappy with the way the village does its business. They want to secede.

Petitions have been signed to have Walled Lake annex an estimated one-third of the already small village. The annexation move was disclosed Monday. Not unexpectedly the village council played to a full house at their meeting that evening.

★ ★ ★

Interest has been heightened considerably in next month's council election.

Meantime:

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Supervisor Duane K. Sanford is long gone. He resigned in January. However, his parting shots live after him. An interim report of an investigating citizens committee was made last night.

Complaints from volunteer firemen might also be linked to Sanford's charges that department heads were "harassed by various (township) board members" and that there wasn't sufficient authority vested in the supervisor.

Issues pending elsewhere include:

ROCHESTER — With incorporation came a move to incorporate the balance of Avon Township, which surrounds the new city. That matter is before the Oakland County Board of Supervisors. Meantime, city and township officials warily work toward a settlement of mutual ownership of such items as the library, the park and the fact that the new city has no dump.

★ ★ ★

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Renewed litigation to secure zoning to permit a proposed mobile home park is reportedly on its way to the State Supreme Court. The trailer park battle is nearly a year old.

POTSHOTS AT BOARD

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Outgoing Supervisor Leonard Terry took some potshots with a verbal scatter gun at the township board, which is partially made up of those of a differing political faith, although this may not have too much to do with Terry's complaint. Terry was answered by Walter Smith, a township trustee.

★ ★ ★

Despite the recent trend, a couple of controversies did end. The building ban was lifted in Utica and final contracts have been signed by all the participants for the giant Clinton-Oakland Interceptor. The latter means sewers will someday be available to a large chunk of northern Oakland County.

Nine Firemen Back Board in W. Bloomfield

By JANICE KLOUSER

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — After taking the barbs of critics for several months, the Township Board found some friends last night.

In a letter to the board, nine members of the volunteer fire department assured the board of their support and said recent charges made by other members of their department "are completely unfounded."

The nine, members of Station No. 2, Walnut Lake, say they were "conveniently omitted" from a previous letter which reportedly represented the thinking of about 75 per cent of the volunteers.

That letter charged the board with dictatorship, with stripping the chief of his authority and with evading answers to similar charges made by former supervisor Duane K. Sanford when he resigned in January.

★ ★ ★

The unsigned letter last month called for a "general housecleaning."

'UNFOUNDED'

The nine volunteers claim charges made against the three-man fire committee, headed by a fire captain and board trustee, are "completely unfounded."

Referring to Walter J. Whitmer, they asked, "Who is better qualified to head up such a committee than a man who has more than 15 years experience as a fireman, is a successful business owner and is a lifetime active community resident."

They also wanted to know if accusations that the chief is being stripped of his authority are "merely personal grudges of a few discontented firemen."

"We, as firemen and fellow taxpayers, would like to help clear this matter up," the letter said. "We realize that this township is a rapidly growing community and possibly we are starting to feel some of the growing pains. However, we do not feel that the proper way to try and help the township solve its current problems is by writing defamatory letters to the board."

LESSER FEE

The nine volunteers suggested firemen get paid a lesser fee for their services so that capital could be freed to hire additional full-time firemen and buy new equipment.

T. Cleve King, one of the volunteers who signed the letter, said it only answered points contained in the first letter pertaining to the firemen.

He also said those who wrote the first letter should have signed it and asked them to "step forward and clarify the charges."

The township board also received a report from the special committee set up to investigate Sanford's charges, stating its progress to date "has been substantial" and that a complete report should be ready in the next 15 days.

The committee is investigating Sanford's charges of "harassment" and lack of authority given to the supervisor to determine if the allegations are justified.

Pilot Is Unhurt as Plane Flips

An airplane pilot escaped injury late yesterday afternoon when his small single-engine craft somersaulted in a Holly Township farm field.

Pontiac State Police said the pilot, John D. Johnson, 37, of Flint, was attempting to take off when the plane's nose wheel got caught in a furrow.

The plane landed upright and Johnson walked away unmarked. Damage to the plane, a two-seat Ercoupe, was estimated at $1,000.

Prior to the mishap, the plane ran out of gasoline, forcing Johnson to land in the farm field located one-half mile east of the Holly Road - Belford Road intersection.

After replenishing his fuel supply, Johnson attempted the takeoff. The plane was traveling at full power when it "nosed over," State Police said.

Johnson began his pleasure flight from Flint's Bishop Airport only 15 minutes before the forced landing.

Avon Twp. Sets Expenditures

AVON TOWNSHIP — At a preliminary meeting recently the Township Board set annual expenditures for the new budget at $380,000 — up nearly $20,000 from last year.

Further meetings will investigate recommended changes in the township bookkeeping system for better recording of income.

Builder Set to Revise Rejected Troy Plans

TROY — The Biltmore Development Co. will "start all over again" in attempting to gain the rezoning needed to about double its $125 million Somerset complex, a spokesman said yesterday.

Bernard Stollman, a company attorney, said the firm will hire a major planning consultant to revise its plans for expanding its present venture in the Big Beaver and Coolidge area.

Rezoning of a 204-acre parcel was rejected by the City Commission. Numerous objections were lodged by residents and members of homeowner groups.

Rezoning was sought for two high - rise apartments, more two-story apartments, commercial and office construction in an area zoned single-family residential to the north of Somerset apartments.

★ ★ ★

Strollman said he felt much of the objection centered around construction of apartments.

'QUALITY TYPE'

"People seem to feel apartments will decrease valuation. However in the quality type we build, it has been found that valuation of neighboring property has actually increased," he said.

He said the high - rise construction originally intended for the area would be eight to 10 stories high.

He said his firm felt the Big Beaver and Collidge area would soon be a main intersection and that the kind of development planned would be in the best interests of long-range planning.

A "tapering" effect of commercial, apartments, then single-family residential construction leading away from the intersection is what the firm had in mind, Strollman said.

STORES WILLING

Several large stores had already expressed willingness to locate in the proposed shopping center for the complex. "This indicates that these stores feel that this is logical location," he said.

The firm is now building on 33 acres at the intersection. The sought-for rezoning would have added 42 acres more to the shopping center which was slated to cover three corners of the intersection.

In the light of the rejection of the proposed development, Biltmore will hire a planner to make a new survey "to see what land use is required," he said.

The new study will concern the ultimate use of a total of 320 acres in the recent area for which a 204-acre rezoning was sought as well as 275 acres, some of it still undeveloped, on the west side of Coolidge owned by the firm.

"Our new plan may differ radically from the former or it may be similar. It may call for more or less of an investment. In any case we will have a better idea of how to preceed when it is finished," Stollman said.

Village Green Back in Modern Setting

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A great deal of early Colonial life centered around the village green or "common."

This charming gathering spot disappeared from the American scene as the population boomed and little villages and towns gave way to housing developments and look-alike subdivisions.

Now, the old village green is coming back.

Reversing the trend that threatened to "lay a mass of roofs over the land," a local community developer is pioneering a new subdivision concept based on the village green.

★ ★ ★

The 2-year-old Canterbury Commons Subdivision at 13 Mile near Orchard Lake, developed by Thompson-Brown Community Planners, is the first of several such subdivisions in the township and one of the first in the state, according to the developers.

PARK AREA

In this planned residential development, each lot size is reduced and the savings from each lot combined to create an open space park area to be used by all residents of the subdivision.

The common, as it was known in the past, described land owned in common by the landowners. The same principle is applied to the Thompson-Brown subdivisions.

The two private park areas, 15 and 2.4 acres, are owned by the residents who must pay a $25 maintenance fee. They also pay a prorated share of the taxes assessed on the open area.

Until 90 per cent of the lots are sold, the developers assume responsibility for the upkeep. The community association then takes over and contracts for maintenance work.

COLLECTIVE PRIDE

If they don't keep it up, the township can take over and charge the cost back to the taxes.

"There is a collective pride in the community about the parks," said William Bowman of Thompson-Brown. "It has been found in Boston that neighborhoods with parks retain their values better than those without."

The park can be used for dances, parties and picnics, and it is designed for the wear and tear it is likely to receive from youngsters.

Young children can play in the "tot lot" while their mothers watch them from benches provided near the area.

Older youngsters can ride bikes or roller skate on the mile of hard-surfaced walkway which also leads to a high school and elementary school, avoiding the necessity for crossing busy streets.

"One of the biggest assets," said Bowman, "is that it will provide a means for preserving the natural beauty of our country side without being completely dependent on local units of gobernment for the establishment of an expensive park system.

"Our whole philosophy is to retain the natural beauty."

Several other subdivisions in the area are based on the same idea include Colony Park, Old Franklin Town, Heritage Hills, East Lincolnshire, Independence Commons, Franklin Ravines, Churchill Estates and Camelot.

Township officials express approval of the new concept.

"They add beauty to the area, and we are not burdened with the upkeep of the parks," said Township Clerk Floyd A. Cairns.

Expert on Moon Is at Cranbrook

By ED BLUNDEN

Will men on the moon need a raincoat? Will they walk in a toothpastelike substance?

These are some possibilities brought out by a space scientist who spoke to a Cranbrook Institute of Science audience last night.

In any case, Dr. Paul D. Lowman, a NASA geologist, said scientists believe "man will be able to land and work there."

Lowman is one of about 400 scientists studying photographs taken of the earth by astronauts in the Gemini series and of the moon by lunar orbiter satellites.

Some features on the moon still remain a mystery and matter of controversy among those working on the project, Lowman said.

Scientists studying the photos see possible evidence of water erosion on the moon.

Lowman said it was possible that after a meteorite strike, condensation and rainfall could take place.

Also the past existence of glaciers on the moon is being debated, he said.

Whether or not there are or were volcanoes on the moon is also a matter of contention.

Russian scientists favor the volcano theory and use the "moon blinks" phenomena (flashes of light) to back the volcano theory, Lowman said.

Using slides of orbiting camera shots, Lowman showed some formations that were being interpreted as extinct volcanoes.

He also used the slides to demonstrate what an audience member labeled the "toothpaste theory."

Lowman said he and a few others analyzed light-colored areas on the moon as being material that flowed up from under the surface in recent geologic time.

He backed this up by showing there were fewer craters in the lighter-colored areas than in the adjacent dark areas.

He said this showed some moon material is neither fine dust nor solid rock, but material capable of flowing like "toothpaste."

A questioner from the audience wanted to know if the weight and size of the moon was not increasing due to the mass of material falling on it and forming craters.

Lowman said due to the velocities involved, the meteorites may be causing material to be knocked off the moon.

In examining the photos of earth, Lowman stressed the importance to geologists of obtaining aerial mapping of surface features.

He said some 1,100 photos are under study. Many large meteorites, extinct volcanoes, huge earth faults and other phenomena are being discovered that scientists before were unaware of, he said.

Dr. Lowman was the geologist in charge of terrain photography for Gemini missions and is a specialist in lunar geology.

He spoke to an audience of about 100 Cranbrook Institute of Science members and guests as part of a lecture series. He is from the Goddard Space Flight Center in Maryland.

Opening lead—♦ 2

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

Today's hand broke up a recent expert set match at Alvin Roth's Mayfair Club in New York. When the hand was over everyone was mad at his partner.

JACOBY

West's two-spade bid was one of those weak jump over-calls designed to crowd the opponent's bidding. North would have liked to double but North was using one of those special expert gadgets.

His double would be for take-out, not business. South tried a three-heart bid and eventually wound up at five clubs doubled.

East put his ace of diamonds on dummy's king, after he thought awhile he decided that West had opened a singleton and returned the suit.

South discarded his losing spade on dummy's queen and led dummy's jack of hearts. East ducked and the jack held. The deuce of hearts was played next and when East played the six, South stuck in his nine.

West ruffed and led a diamond, whereupon South ruffed, drew trumps with two leads, cashed his ace of hearts, ruffed a heart and claimed his contract.

East had not played like an expert. In fact, it would be difficult to find a player who would have played quite as poorly and West proceeded to tell this to East. East's only defense was to say that West had played badly all evening.

North and South collected their winnings but weren't happy with anything about the hand except the result. North wanted to know why South hadn't let him play three no-trump. South pointed out that a diamond opening would have beaten three no-trump several tricks.

★ ★ ★

South wanted to know why North hadn't passed four clubs. North wanted to know why South hadn't bid four hearts and the argument went on and on.

Current Books

TAINT OF INNOCENCE. By Marquis Childs. Harper. $4.95.

Childs has found a new approach to the currently popular fiction theme of international intrigue.

His hero is a very proper young man of good background, Robert Cameron, idealistic and innocent enough to have been called a Crusader and Gallahad in his training days.

Because of his education in the Middle East and his knowledge of Arabic, he has been recruited into the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, and now finds himself trying to cope with an emergency in an oil-rich sheikdom.

But the author is concerned less with the actual spy claptrap than he is with the moral and ethicalqualms of young Cameron.

The author is not very skilled at narration. His atmospheric and descriptive passages seem authentic, but the story moves slowly and awkwardly. The principal appeal of this novel is its concern with the matter of conscience in the rough, tough business if international affairs.

Stock Rally Resumes

Market Nears New '67 Highs

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market approached new highs for 1967 as it resumed its rally in heavy trading early this afternoon.

The ticker tape ran late as stocks took off from their vigorous advance of yesterday and pushed ahead despite profit taking here and there.

★ ★ ★

Among victims of profit taking was Chrysler, whose 3-point rise as yesterday's second most active stock, inspired motors and other industrials. Chrysler eased fractionally but gave ground stubbornly while other blue chip industrials forged ahead.

Analysts said the market was still responding to Congressional committee action in not only recommending restoration of the 7 per cent investment tax credit but also making it retroactive in some instances.

TAKE PROFITS

Prices rose from the start and widened gains, pausing slightly as traders took profits.

Gainers outnumbered losers by a margin of better than 8 to 3 on the New York Stock Exchange.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 2.2 at 321.7 with industrials up 3.8, rails up 1.0 and utilities up .7.

Prices were mostly higher on the American Stock Exchange. Cosmodyne and Scurry Rainbow Oil advanced about 2 each. AMK Corp. lost more than 2. Nuclear Corp. of American and Westbury Fashions were active fractional gainers. Valve Corp. and Alloys Unlimited rose about a point each.

House Defeats 1st Bill of Year

Guest Passenger Act, DST Revival Killed

LANSING (AP) — The House Wednesday defeated a bill for the first time this year, rejecting a measure that would have repealed Michigan's "guest passenger act."

House members also easily defeated an attempt to reconsider the vote by which they gave immediate effect to a bill exempting Michigan from Daylight Saving Time. Wednesday's action allowed the bill to go back to the Senate.

★ ★ ★

On the calendar for today was one bill involving implied consent in drunken driving cases and another permitting a delay in implementing the state Medicaid program.

The guest passenger act would have exempted a driver from damages suffered by a nonpaying passenger in his car unless the driver was guilty of "gross negligence or wilful and wanton misconduct."

AVOID PAYING

Members favoring repeal of the act noted a negligent driver currently can avoid paying damages suffered by his passengers.

If a driver transporting his neighbor's cow negligently causes injury to the animal, noted Rep. Thomas Brown, R-Lansing, the owner can sue and collect damages. But if the neighbor himself is crippled in a similar accident, he cannot collect from the driver.

★ ★ ★

Opponents of repeal said it would increase liability insurance rates and would make people unwilling to give others a ride.

The repealer, sponsored by Oak Park Democrat Daniel Cooper, was defeated 69-31.

SERVED NOTICE

The House passed the time bill Tuesday but kept possession of it after Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D - Detroit, served notice he would ask for a reconsideration of the vote on passage.

Kowalski did not make the request Wednesday, but Rep. Dale Kildee did move to reconsider the vote by which the bill was given immediate effect. Kildee's motion lost, 28-72.

★ ★ ★

When the House adjourned, the bill was returned to the Senate which has passed it but has not given it immediate effect.

Unless the measure gets immediate effect, requiring a 2-3 vote in the Senate, and is signed by the governor before April 1, the state will go on Daylight Saving Time April 30 under a 1966 federal law.

State GOP Caucus Airs Tax Rebates

LANSING (AP)— Senate Republicans discussed Wednesday what, if any, property tax rebates should be included in a proposed state income tax package. But they failed to reach a majority position on the matter.

Senate majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, said the GOP caucus considered six property tax plans. The caucus intended to continue its discussion today.

★ ★ ★

The meeting was the third in a series in which Republicans are examining fiscal reform proposals in detail in an effort to reach a majority position prior to considering Gov. George Romney's income tax bills.

Senate Taxation Committee Chairman Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, said most Republicans seemed to favor Romney's proposed state payment of 10 per cent of all local property tax bills.

However, some senators favored adjustment of the percentage figure to provide more relief for individual property tax payers than for corporations, DeMaso said.

Formed by Ex-Aides of JFK

Fund Yields to Critics

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — Some former aides of President Kennedy who formed a mutual fund to sell shares in American business and real estate to foreigners have now made some basic changes, partly as a result of criticism.

CUNNIFF

Even though the operation, the United States Investment Fund, is less than a year old, it had become embroiled in the wide, general criticism of the mutual fund industry. And specific criticisms were leveled also.

★ ★ ★

No longer will the fund, based in the Bahamas, accept accounts designated by numbers rather than by name. No longer will it reinvest in other mutual funds, a practice criticized as costly to investors.

Both these practices are legal and, in fact, widely used in foreign financial operations. The atmosphere, however, is becoming charged with adverse criticism.

The Kennedy aides, former White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger among them, also felt desirous of obtaining an early reputation for mutual fund reform, in line with recommendations of the Securities and Exchange Commission. They were equally desirous of avoiding the derailment of a potentially profitable worldwide venture.

The story of the former presidential aides and their mutual fund goes back several years, but only last summer did the United States Investment Fund arrive on the scene, designed as a vehicle to sell foreign investors on the profit potential of owning a bit of America.

This was an imaginative, triple purpose fund. It offered foreign investors the chance to buy shares in any of three portfolios: (1) A mutual fund that would then reinvest in American mutual funds, (2) A fund that would invest in American stocks and (3) A real estate portfolio.

★ ★ ★

Headquarters were set up in Nassau, the Bahamas, where there are no local income, sales or inheritance taxes and where, of course, American taxes do not apply.

Shortly thereafter, the SEC filed its highly critical report on mutual funds.

SEC CRITICAL

Among other things, the SEC criticized mutual fund holding companies as poor investments. To pay a commission to a mutual fund that in turn paid a commission to another mutual fund was not good practice, the SEC said.

The SEC has little jurisdiction over the United States Investment Fund. However, as former Washingtonians, the fund's board is experienced and knowledgeable in various areas. Richard Donahue, lawyer, fund officer and former White House liaison man with Congress, commented:

"The board felt that whether good, bad or indifferent to our interests, we should be in the vanguard of reform."

In other words, a reputation for reform and cooperation rather than antagonism, as was the immediate reaction from some funds, was simply good business.

ELIMINATION

The fund, therefore, eliminated its mutual fund portfolio, the first to publicly announce such a move, an announcement scheduled to have been made at the annual meeting in Nassau next month.

The numbered account aspect left the fund wide open for exploitation by various parties with one common motive: to remain anonymous. It also left it wide open to criticism.

★ ★ ★

To their chagrin, the officers found, as Donahue put it, that the anonymous accounts operation "subjected us to more criticism than it was worth. We wanted long-term investors, not those seeking bearer (securities issued by number) paper."

Trimmed of some problems, the fund officers now are emphasizing the real estate portfolio, which they claim is unique among funds.

MRS. L. P. WILLIAMS

Grandmother Will Oppose Adam Powell

NEW YORK (AP) — Lucille Pickett Williams, a 50-year-old grandmother, has taken on the Republican task of opposing Democrat Adam Clayton Powell in a special congressional election April 11 because she wants to "preserve the two-party system."

★ ★ ★

For 20 years, she has been working for the Republican party while holding a series of jobs ranging from a stock girl at Sak's Fifth Avenue to teaching beauty culture at the YWCA.

★ ★ ★

"I am a determined woman," she says, noting that there appears to be overwhelming popular support for Powell in the Harlem community. She says she has no fear that the people will turn against her as they did on James H. Meredith when he agreed to oppose Powell as the Republicans' first choice, then withdrew.

"I have no fear of the people up here," she says. "I've spent the best years of my life here, 22 years. I've worked hard for the two-party system. I think it's important for people who don't want to vote for Adam to have choice."

PARTY SPIRIT

A week ago when Meredith had declared his intention to run against Powell, Mrs. Williams was determined to stop him, because she was sure he would wreck the small toehold the Republicans have managed to get in Harlem.

★ ★ ★

Two days ago, she went into a caucus of Republican leaders determined to convince her party if it should endorse Powell, as it did in 1958, when she supported him.

Two Subpoenaed in 'JFK Plot' Probe

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Attorney Dean Andrews Jr., who once handled some legal matters for Lee Harvey Oswald, was summoned before the Orleans Parish grand jury today for the second time in connection with Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's probe of the Kennedy assassination.

★ ★ ★

Subpoenas were issued for Andrews, now an assistant district attorney in suburban Jefferson Parish, and for Gordon Novelle, whose address was listed as the Jamaican Inn here. Novelle has not previously been connected with the investigation.

Andrews was questioned by the grand jury March 9. He told the Warren Commission in 1964 that he was contacted by a "Clay Bertrand" after the Nov. 22, 1963, assassination of President John F. Kennedy and asked to defend Oswald. Oswald was identified later by the commission as the assassin.

Consul Treaty Near Likely Senate Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S.-Soviet consular treaty headed toward expected ratification in the Senate today.

Four attempts to attach conditions, which supporters of the treaty said would in effect doom it, were soundly defeated Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The majorities voting against all but one of the conditions were well over the two-thirds margin necessary for ratification.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield won permission to bring the pact to a final vote today.

VOTED DOWN

The senators quickly voted down other so-called reservations and understandings after Sen. Karl E. Mundt's effort to tie the pact to the Vietnam war lost, 67 to 25.

The South Dakota Republican, chief opponent of the pact, during the debate that started last week wanted a reservation that would have required an end to Soviet aid to Hanoi before the treaty would go into effect.

Proponents of the treaty argued that was outside the realm of a treaty which would set up operating rules for consulates in the two countries. And they cited statements by Secretary of State Dean Rusk urging that no change or conditions be attached because they would jeopardize chances of Soviet ratification.

A similar Vietnam reservation offered by Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., was beaten, 71 to 20.

ADDED WORDS

One by Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., went down, 68 to 24. His would have added words to the effect that the treaty would in no way jeopardize the security of the United States.

An understanding proposed by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, earned the closest vote — 51 to 38, less than the two-thirds majority.

Mrs. Smith wanted an expression of Senate "hope" that no Soviet consulates would be opened before the Vietnam war was brought to "an honorable conclusion."

Hearing Ends Over 'Sniper'

Decision on Freedom Expected in a Week

Ionia Circuit Judge Leo Bebeau will decide in a week or more if Oakland County's "phantom sniper," Gary Addison Taylor, should be released from Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane.

The habeas corpus hearing for Taylor, 30, of Royal Oak, ended last night but Judge Bebeau said it would be a week or 10 days before he rules.

Taylor, confined since 1958 as a sexual psychopath except for one brief interval, contends he is cured and seeks his liberty.

Expert opionion disagreed on Taylor's condition over a period of two days of a hearing before Bebeau.

★ ★ ★

Dr. William E. Gordon of Detroit, psychiatrist, testified that Taylor still was mentally ill and not recovered sufficiently to be freed.

STATE DEMAND

The state demands that Taylor be kept confined.

An Oakland County court ordered Taylor's confinment because he had fired gunshots at a number of women and girls in Royal Oak. Taylor then was 19 years old. The alleged attacks took place in 1957.

Over objections of defense counsel, the state recalled Taylor to the stand for additional cross-examination.

★ ★ ★

Taylor said if he were freed, he planned to live in Ionia, get a job, and attend Michigan State University.

FINAL WITNESS

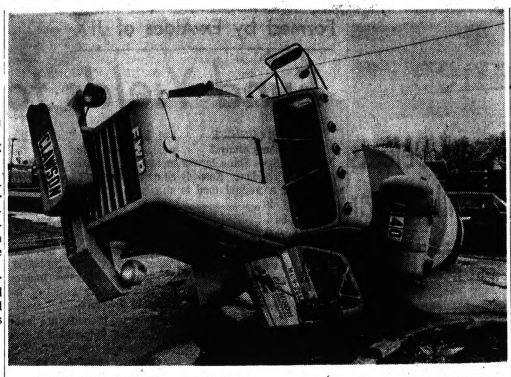
Dr. Gordon, the final witness, said he examined Taylor as the latter's personal physician and though he found him improved, his condition required further confinement.

Dr. Gordon's testimony corroborated that of Dr. A. A. Birsgalis, superintendent of the Ionia hospital. Dr. Birzgalis opposed freedom for Taylor.



OUT FOR THE COUNT — Twelve tons of shifting concrete flipped this heavy-duty cement truck on its side yesterday at Joslyn and East Mansfield. Driver George Greer of the Clawson Concrete Co. was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for minor injuries and released. Force of the fall caused severe damage to the truck's chassis, according to a company employe.

He was returned to Oakland County Jail yesterday after failing to post $5,000 bond set at his arraignment before Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Hudson, 65, of 447 S. Marshall is accused of shooting L. C. Green, 47, of the same address, during a reported argument in their home.

Green, who suffered abdominal wounds, remains in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital following surgery Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

An alleged witness reportedly told police Hudson fired the shot after Green refused to obey an order to leave the house.

Investigators said they impounded a 12-gauge shotgun at the scene.

Trial Ordered for Boy, 16, in Fight Death

A Royal Oak teen-ager was released on $4,000 bond yesterday after being ordered to stand trail in Oakland County Circuit Court on a second-degree murder charge.

The boy, Robert Quinn, 16, stood mute to the charge at his arraignment before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams. No trial date was set.

Quinn is accused of the death of Gregory Barrett, 18. Barrett died of pneumonia that allegedly developed from spinal injuries suffered in a fistfight with Quinn.

Juvenile jurisdiction over Quinn was waived last January by Oakland County Probate Judge Norman Barnard, allowing the boy to stand trial as an adult.

Barnard explained that Quinn had a juvenile court record and was on probation at the time of the fight, which took place near Royal Oak Dondero High School.

City Auditor Quits, Effective April 29

According to Nicholas Santiwan, personnel director, Cheal indicated other employment as his reason for resigning.

Cheal joined the city's staff in mid-1958 as an account clerk-2. In October 1958, he was named city auditor. His current salary is $11,137 annually.

A grenade attached to his belt accidentally detonated, according to a Defense Department announcement.

Cost Put at Nearly $500,000

Board Gets New Requests

The Pontiac Board of Education last night accepted for study proposals for new and additional programs which would add nearly a half million dollars to the record $14.8 million preliminary budget.

The 59 requests from staff members range from additional personnel to reduce class size in elementary schools to new cash registers in the senior high school.

Pontiac School Affairs

One of the proposals, estimated to cost $60,000, would expand the police counselor programs to include junior high and feeder elementary schools.

Six new police counselors are being requested.

The plan recommends that these positions be financially supported by the school district and the city, with each paying $30,000.

School Supt. Dr. Dana Whitmer said that the potential 1967-68 income will be known about June 1, and the board of education at that time will be able to consider some of the proposed items for inclusion in the budget.

The school board, in other business, approved the sale of $620,000 in bonds to Pontiac State Bank.

The funds from the sale will be used to purchase a 122-acre site on the southwest corner at Featherstone and Opdyke for a secondary school.

COST OF INTEREST

The interest will cost the school district $37,149 before the four-year bonds are retired.

Retirement of the bonds will require a half-mill levy in 1967 and a 1-mill levy in 1968-69.

The board also directed the Pontiac architectural firm of Denyes and Freeman to prepare preliminary drawings for a new elementary school adjacent to the Lincoln Junior High School.

The new school is being planned to eventually accommodate 950 pupils.

Mentally Handicapped Will Demonstrate Sports

Mentally handicapped children and their teachers will demonstrate the importance of physical education in their training during a conference at Oakland University tomorrow and Saturday.

About 150 teachers and supervisors of special education and physical education programs are expected at the gymnasium and pool-side meetings to watch the children demonstrate what they can learn about sports and gymnastics.

Students from Pontiac and Birmingham will go through basic movement routines and play low organization level games during tomorrow's sessions.

A class from Coldwater State Home and Training School will demonstrate body building, rhythms and tumbling.

Other sessions will be conducted by staff members from the Metropolitan Toronto Retarded Children's Authority.

WAYS OF PARTICIPATING

Larry Meier, Brandon Community Schools special education teacher, will outline ways mentally handicapped youngsters can participate in the school physical education program.

Donald A. Place, Oakland Schools consultant for the mentally handicapped, will describe camping and outdoor education projects that have been successful in programs for the youngsters.

Place and Dr. Lee Haslinger, Pontiac School System director of physical education, are co-chairmen of the conference.

Moves Favor Generic Drugs

Big Name Companies Expected to Battle

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Ever since the Kefauver-Harris Drug Amendments shook the drug industry in 1962, the big name companies have successfully fended off proponents of generic rather than brand name prescribing.

Now, on Capitol Hill, where pressure is mounting to include prescription drugs in Medicare benefits, there is a movement afoot to cut the government's drug bill, which already hits close to $300 million a year, by encouraging the use of inexpensive generic drugs instead of their high price brand name counterparts.

(In referring to drugs, the generic name indicates the active chemical ingredient in a specific medicine, not a class or type of compound.)

Aspirin is always and only aspirin, whether it costs 39 cents or $1.39; the difference is a matter of semantics. Call it aspirin, and the price is low. Attach a brand name and the cost more than triples.

★ ★

Price discrepancy is even greater when it comes to prescription drugs, an area in which the consumer-patient is usually in no position to choose among various brands; but his doctor is.

Romney Home From 'School'

3 Days at Harvard Talking With Experts

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney returned to Michigan Wednesday night after three days at Harvard University where he studied experts' views on national issues.

"I had an opportunity to confer with top experts in various fields, including urban affairs, economic problems, the European situation and the Far East," Romney told newsmen after his return.

★ ★ ★

The governor, considered a top prospect for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, described his attendance at the seminar at the John F. Kennedy Institute of Politics as "worthwhile."

"I secured information I didn't have before and I think also in the two-way exchange some of those I talked to benefitted," he said.

CHANCE TO LEARN

Romney said he also had a chance to learn what students and faculty members are thinking. He said he hopes to confer with similar groups at other institutions "particularly here in Michigan."

He declined to comment about a private conference he had with faculty members. He said it dealt with Vietnam, but added: "It would be improper to comment on it or indicate impressions gained as a result."

Before leaving Harvard, Romney huddled with Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe and several leading state Republicans. Volpe emerged from the meeting saying the party's liberal-moderate element should line up early behind a single candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Farmers' Group in State Starts Holdout of Milk

OWOSSO (AP) — National Farmers Organization members in Michigan started a milk holding action today as part of a nationwide attempt to win a contract that would boost the farmers' milk price 2 cents a quart.

★ ★ ★

Charles King, NFO publicity chairman in Michigan, confirmed the start of the holding action after it was announced by NFO national headquarters in Corning, Iowa.

"My milk is going to stay in the tank," said King who milks 21 cows and supplies about 700 pounds of milk a day from his farm near Owosso.

★ ★ ★

NFO leaders decline to reveal the number of members in the farm organization, which aims at negotiating contracts to guarantee a price for milk, meat and other farm commodities.

NOT THE SAME

Their complaint is that when they go shopping, they pay the price marked on the item, but when they go to sell their products to processors, they end up asking, "What will you pay?"

Michigan dairy farmers receive about $5.53 a hundred weight (46½ quarts) for their milk. The NFO seeks a boost of $1 a hundredweight.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the NFO challenged the Michigan Milk Producers Association to a public discussion at a meeting of dairy farmers.

The two farm organizations have been at odds recently over Michigan's dairy price situation.

MAKES CHALLENGE

Ray Neilsen Jr., Saranac dairy farmer and state NFO representative, sent a telegram to Glenn president of the association, in which he made the challenge.

There was no immediate response from Lake.

★ ★ ★

Neilsen said his wire to Lake proposed a public discussion with both organizations limited to 30 minutes a side and then open the meeting for questions from dairy farmers. Neilsen suggested the Lapeer Center Building at Lapeer for the meeting.

Neilsen said the NFO feels Lake misstated the facts concerning NFO and its efforts to get higher prices for dairy farmers. Lake recently responded to an invitation from the NFO to bring association directors into a parley about the dairy situation by challenging the NFO to reveal more facts about itself.

★ ★ ★

NFO leaders contend that secrecy about its affairs gives the organization extra marketing power in its dealings with processors.

6 in Area Get Fellowships

Six area scholars were among the 1,259 across the nation to receive Woodrow Wilson Fellowships for 1967-68.

They receive an academic year of graduate education and a living stipend of $2,000.

Michigan State University students from the area who were picked for the awards are William R. Ives, 707 Ruffner, Birmingham; David B. West, 4217 Carey, Bloomfield Township; and Edward J. Williams, 171 Tree Top, Avon Township.

Those from the University of Michigan are David H. Halpert, 4740 Walnut Lake, West Bloomfield Township, and Marcella E. Neal, 30443 Rockshire, Farmington Township.

★ ★ ★

Also designated as a recipient was Roger R. Keeran, 18 Cherokee, Lapeer, of Wayne State University.

Ex-Sicilian Banker Tied to Embezzling

AYLESBURY, England (AP) — Frank Maule, 66, got the retirement gift he wanted—his own grave site.

★ ★ ★

The Aylesbury Town Council voted Wednesday to give him the plot in appreciation for his many years of service as an attendant at the cemetery. Otherwise it would have cost him $25.

★ ★ ★

"I am surprised and delighted," said Maule. "The plot is near the cemetery office where I worked. It is a nice grave."

Truck Overturns

IONIA (AP) — Traffic was blocked on M21 several hours Wednesday when a semitrailer truck loaded with steel went out of control and overturned west of here. Driver Louis T. Whittall, 49, of Comstock Park suffered possible rib injuries and was taken to Ionia Memorial Hospital. The Ionia Fire Department was called to put out a fire that broke out following the accident.

Retirement Gift: a Cemetery Plot

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — Carlo Bazan, former president of the state-controlled Bank of Sicily, was arrested Wednesday night on charges of having embezzled $1.6 million from the institution.

The news shocked the nation's economic circles, where Bazan was prominent.

Bazan, 67, left the bank in October 1965, after having been president 12 years.

CAR-TRAIN CRASH — A crushed front end is evidence of the force with which a Grand Trunk Railroad train collided with this car about 8 a.m. today. The accident occurred at a crossing on West Boulevard near Oakland. Oakland Township residents George Harold, 38, of 1737 Braemar and Robert Johnson, 35, of 1821 Braemar, occupants of the car, were treated for lacerations at Pontiac General Hospital.

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—The Office of Economic Opportunity has granted $33,000 for the community action program in Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, and Otsego counties. The funds will be used in an 11-month program to serve low-income residents and to employ four county-community aides who would guide civic activities.

Art Teachers at OU Workshop

Flint Man Guilty in Stabbing Death

FLINT (UPI) — Andrew Newell, 50, Flint, was convicted yesterday of first degree murder in the fatal stabbing of Mrs. Thelma Atkins, 36, during an argument last Sept. 6.

★ ★ ★

The Genesee County Circuit Court jury deliberated less than two hours before returning the guilty verdict. Judge Anthony J. Mansour set sentencing for May 3 and remanded Newell to the county jail without bond.

★ ★ ★

The stabbing occurred near the downtown area. Newell had pleaded self-defense saying Mrs. Atkins had pulled a razor on him while he said he was trying to find out if the woman would marry him.

A Prenuptial Parody

PROJECT 20, 7:30 p.m. (4) "End of the Trail," narrated by Walter Brennan, is a chronicle of the American Plains Indians during the 1800s when their civilization was reaching its highest level while, at the same time, the westward expansion of the white man was threatening to destroy their way of life.

DEAN MARTIN, 10:00 p.m. (4) Guests are Ella Fitzgerald, Edie Adams, Red Buttons and Dom De Luise.

Film Duo's Rome-NY Trip Sparks Romance Surmise

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Ursula Andress and Jean-Paul Belmondo will lay themselves open to a lot of raised-eyebrows publicity when they come to NY next week from Rome to attend the Cassius Clay-Zora Folley fight at the Garden and do publicity on the "Casino Royale" film. Though they've been rumored breaking up (even though they're not married), Jean-Paul recently introduced Ursula to his parents which she could only interpret as a good sign.

There were few dry eyes at the Waldorf after Patricia Neal finished her touching speech (for the Brain-Injured Children dinner), especially her tribute to her husband Roald Dahl who kept her working to recover: "My husband is a great man—I love him!" . . . Pat said her doctor thought she'd conk out during an operation "but Tennessee hillbillies don't conk that easy!"

Rod Steiger, who was there wearing his hair grey around the fringes, said he and B. W. Claire Bloom are selling their Brooklyn Heights home and moving to 90th and Park, Manhattan . . . Joan Crawford asked me to explain that she left the "Shrew" preem the other night to go to the powder room. "Please print that movie stars have to go to the powder room, too, will you?" pleaded Joan.

Julie Harris' husband Manning Gurian says the rumors they're divorcing are untrue. Julie's going to Mexico not for a divorce but for a "Tarzan" movie. And he's going to Hong Kong to arrange for manufacture of a toy to teach mathematics to preschool children.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Rock Hudson-vs.-Mayor Lindsay in a male beauty contest would be a toughie . . . Rock tied up pedestrian traffic when he and Polly Bergen saw "I Do" . . . Burton & Liz'll next do "Public Eye," together; they get twice as much . . . The Palace denied my Meg-and-Tony meeting-at-the-airport story. Pardon my English. The Palace was a bloody liar.

★ ★ ★

Secret Stuff: A glamorous older girl singer tiffed with her young beau. She was paying to get his choppers fixed. He wanted them capped and she balked . . . Eddie Fisher: "About marrying Connie Stevens, I'm still married (to Liz Taylor) and when I get my divorce I'll get married." . . . George Hamilton didn't even tell his press agents he was around town with that Johnson girl.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Comic Bob Melvin, who lives near the approach path to Kennedy Airport, says, "It's such a thrill to sit in your living room—and see a 'No Smoking' sign go on!"

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "I'd a whole lot rather hear a fellow say 'I seen' when he saw something than say 'I saw' when he ain't seen nuthin'."—Pic Larmour.

EARL'S PEARLS: A rock 'n' roll singer had his hair trimmed and the barber found a guitar.

Veteran actor Lee J. Cobb, who has a scene in women's clothes in "In Like Flint," says wryly, "As a result I expect to be asked to play Lady MacBeth." . . . That's earl, brother.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

He Didn't Know

GAFFNEY, S.C. (AP)—A defendant in Recorder's Court, charged with possession of illegal moonshine whisky which police found beside his bed, pleaded his case before City Judge H. R. Swink:

"I went to sleep after work," he explained. "When I woke up, the officers were shaking me. There it was, beside the bed! I don't know where it came from."

The judge wasn't impressed. "$50 or 30 days," he ruled.

Nondrinkers' Bar

CAMBERELY, England (UPI) Terrance Lyon is an understanding and friendly pub keeper. He has opened a "bar" for nondrinkers in his establishment.

★ ★ ★

"I don't drink or smoke myself," he explained, "but often go into a pub just for the almosphere. Now nondrinkers can find their atmosphere in my place."

Amnesty Firm Weighs Move

LONDON (UPI) — Amnesty International, which seeks improved conditions for political prisoners throughout the world, may move its headquarters from London to Strasbourg or some other city for security reasons.

★ ★ ★

Its president, lawyer Peter Benenson, said after the organization's files were rifled — and the theif not caught — that the move was contemplated because London police "apparently cannot furnish proper protection."

Africa Policeman Discovers Thieves Have No Honor

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—Robbers and murderers have no honor — or so a young policeman discovered here.

★ ★ ★

After transporting a group of African prisoners awaiting trial to court in an escape-proof van, one man was found to be missing.

★ ★ ★

The young policeman discovered him inside the van, strangled to death and robbed of the small amount of money the prisoner was known to have carried.

★ ★ ★

The other prisoners professed innocence — although the man was alive when he boarded the van at the jail.

Waterfront Property Cheaper Up North

If you are looking for waterfront property, head north.

This is the advice given by Perry A. Risberg, Hayward, Wis., realtor who specializes in recreational real estate, in an article written for the bulletin of the National Institute of Real Estate Brokers.

Risberg says: "East, west or south in the United States, there are very few waterfront lots available for less than $5,000.

"The cost is far greater in any number of places. Only in northern regions, where there are lakes, can the average man hope to find a lake shore lot within his means."

People used to think our forests were inexhaustible, but learned otherwise.

Similarly, Risberg said, lake frontages will prove totally insufficient to meet the demands of the near future.

"Not one more foot of natural lake shore exists than there was a thousand years ago.

"Man can build flowages, creating new lakes, but the opportunities are limited. Further, man-made lakes seldom compare with the natural ones."

Risberg forecast an increasing interest on the part of U. S. residents in Canadian lakes, despite the distance from most of our urban centers, the chilly swimming waters and the possible complications in foreign ownership.

Describing the phase through which all waterfront property seems to go, regardless of its location, the author pointed out that at first, lacking roads and utilities, the supply of land is greater than demand.

Sportsmen purchase sizable acreages at prices that later seem ridiculously low. Inexpensive fishing and hunting camps predominate.

Gradually, amenities are added. Increasing demand for a limited supply of waterfront property forces prices to rise. Soon the land is split into inexpensive vacation homesites.

"Owners' fondness for their spot keeps growing; they pour in money, winterize the premises, and dream of staying longer," Risberg said.

"Then the inexpensive cabins are upgraded, roads are improved, electricity and telephones installed, schools and shops are built. Civilization has descended.

"Land values soar, booming lake-shore property suddenly is nonexistent. Where there used to be many lots of a generous size, small portions are now sold by the front foot instead of by the acre.

★ ★ ★

"Trends occur in a sequence because the land finally becomes too expensive for even higher priced residential use.

"Then, all goes commercial. This sequence, illustrating the search for the highest and best use, follows a predictable pattern."

Only two choices remain when a lake becomes surrounded with occupancy.

"One," Risberg said, "is to seek back lots, preferably close enough to the water's edge, with the hope that access points for the public will not become too crowded.

"The other is to go steadily further to find new locations. Fortunately, the ease of motoring diminishes distances and traveling time."

Home and Sports Show to Open

Tomorrow Is the Big Day

The 13th annual North Oakland County Home and Sport Show, sponsored by the Waterford Township Jaycees, will be held tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday at the Community Activities, Inc., building, 5640 Williams Lake.

Jaycee officials expect an attendance of 9,000 for the three-day show, which will be held from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. tomorrow, noon to 11 p.m. Saturday and noon to 9 p.m. Sunday.

About 55 display areas will be set up inside the CAI building. The parking lot also will be used by area merchants to exhibit items.

Among items displayed will be camping equipment, travel trailers, home modernization techniques and appointments, boats, carpeting, water softeners, aluminum siding, furniture, appliances, sewing machines, motocycles and a large model house trailer.

★ ★ ★

A special feature of this year's show will be a community services room, in which various projects benefiting and contributing to the growth of Waterford Township will be displayed.

EXHIBITS

Exhibits in the community services room will be furnished by the Drayton Plains Nature Center, the Waterford Township Planning Department, the Waterford Organization for Retarded Children and the Jay-Shop, a sheltered workshop sponsored by District 18 Jaycees at Pontiac State Hospital.

Other service organizations also will provide displays at the show, according to Richard Womack, general chairman, and Charles Wood, booth sales chairman.

Admission for the show is 50 cents. Children accompanied by adults will be admitted free.

The Waterford Township Jaycee Auxiliary will conduct its fourth annual Pixie King and Queen contest in conjunction with the show.

The contest is for 2, 3 and 4-year-old boys and girls.

Pictures of each entry will be attached to a box with a money slot. A penny will constitute one vote.

Voting will take place the first two days of the fair. The pixie king and queen will be crowned at 4 p.m. Sunday at the CAI building.

The two winners will receive $25 bonds and other prizes.

"SWEET SHOP"

The Jaycee Auxiliary also will operate a "sweet shop," featuring baked goods and candy.

Several prizes will be awarded at the show, including a motorcycle donated by Roy's Harley-Davidson Sales, 203 W. Montcalm.

Boothholders also will present prizes following drawings.

Each boothholder will hold keys for the "Treasure Chest," from which 60 prices will be awarded.

Spectators can request keys in an attempt to open the "Treasure Chest" and win a prize.

Jennifer Siegwart, Waterford Township's Junior Miss, also will be featured at the show.

Again this year, the Jaycees will operate a concession stand.

Home Bloom Offsets Winter

The gem-like brilliance of a bouquet of flowering plant, a joy at any season, is particularly welcome along about now when the landscape is gray and dreary and even the nicest nicest homes tend to seem winter weary.

One of the easiest and least expensive ways to inject a breath of spring is with flower bulbs, forced for early bloom.

A few colorful, fragrant hyacinths, a dish of paper white narcissi, a pot of gay tulips or daffodils, or perhaps some of the lesser bulbs such as the snowdrop or blue squill or grape hyacinth, will brighten a room for weeks.

★ ★ ★

Growing the simpler of these — the narcissus on a bed of pebbles, to the hyacinth in its especially designed glass — is a fascinating project for children.

For the green thumb fraternity, forcing daffodils and tulip is a delightful winter gardening project involving conditioning of the bulbs by plunging in pots outdoors before bringing then indoors.

For the rest of us, pre-conditioned bulbs are widely available at garden supply stores and florists.

★ ★ ★

And, easiest of all, flowering potted bulbs and cut flowers are available through winter and on onto May at local florists everywhere, thanks to the promotion efforts of The Netherlands Flower-bulb Institute and the Spring Flower Promotion Committee.

Jaycees Expect Show Proceeds to Hit $6,000

The annual three-day North Oakland County Home and Sport Show is one of the biggest and most important events staged by the Waterford Township Jaycees.

★ ★ ★

Proceeds from the show, garnered from boothholders' fees, door receipts and food sales, go a long way toward financing community projects sponsored by the group.

★ ★ ★

Last year, the Jaycees netted $5,200. This year they expect the show to net them over $6,000, more than one-third of the organization's current $17,000 budget.

Check Quality in Furniture

Your own taste is your best guide in choosing furniture styles and colors you'll be living with for many years.

But you should also be aware of certain visible and invisible quality features to be found in upholstered furniture.

They can make the difference between a good furniture investment and a poor one.

Check for quality features by first, removing one of the seat cushions and see what's under it.

If the deck or platform is of the same fabric as the rest of the piece, that's one sign of a quality product.

The manufacturer could have saved by substituting a cheaper fabric here.

★ ★ ★

Ask whether protective arm caps come with the chair or sofa you're considering.

ARM CAPS

Properly tailored arm caps, made of matching fabric, are a great help in keeping furniture guest-ready at all times. They should be provided at no extra cost, and they should fit.

Are the cushions not merely comfortable now but sure to stay comfortable? Latex foam rubber has a reputation for keeping its shape and bounce indefinitely.

With an additional layer of fluffy polyester fiber, it can look and feel like luxurious down in the more traditional styles.

★ ★ ★

However beautiful the upholstery fabric, make sure it's been treated to retain its original freshness.

Scotchgard and Zepel are both highly effective means of protecting fabric against the oily and watery stains that can quickly make new upholstery look old and worn.

If a manufacturer uses fabrics treated with either process, you will find the information prominently displayed on his tag.

★ ★ ★

More difficult to identify and analyze are those hidden elements of quality such as tempered steel springs that won't sag or get out of shape.

GUARANTEE

The manufacturer's guarantee is your best assurance here.

Equally important is the wood frame of a sofa or chair. Though you may never even see it, you'll know immediately if it ever splits or comes loose at the joints.

The best frames are constructed of kiln-dried hardwoods that will resist warping.

★ ★ ★

They are also double doweled, corner-blocked and cross-braced for extra strength.

U. S. Becoming a Nation of Lamplighters

The old-fashioned gas lamp is performing a new-fashioned job for contemporary homeowners.

The turn-of-the-century city street lamp that symbolized the Gas Light Era and the Old Lamplighter is having a renewal of popularity.

More than 1.5 million homeowners have placed the newly designed and styled gaslights around their homes and are finding them both useful and decorative.

At the front of the house, gaslight's mellow light adds charm to the home and the landscape and makes it easier for visitors to find your home, walkway and street number.

At the back of the house, they provide soft but effective light for outdoor night time chores and barbecues.

NOSTALGIA

The modern gaslight may owe its fame to nostalgia, but modern technology is to be credited for giving them durability.

Aluminum is often used for its long-wearing, nonrusting qualities, and if steel is used, it's coated with porcelain enamel for protection against the elements.

The gas mantles have been redesigned to make them look better, last longer and burn brighter.

And gaslights are now available in a variety of styles from Early American to Hawaiian.

Homemakers Are Qualified as Top Kitchen Experts

The average homemaker qualifies as a kitchen expert because she spends 60 per cent of her work day there.

★ ★ ★

Unfortunately, says the Economic Research Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, her opinion isn't solicited often enough by designers, architects or builders.

The result is that many kitchens, even in new homes, are poorly planned, inconvenient or inefficient.

"Most women," says a Service spokesman, "live with several kitchens, and use — or do without — various kinds of equipment before they are sure of their individual wants."

★ ★ ★

But, they do have a number of kitchen problems in common.

INCONVENIENCE

Often there are too few, or inaccessible, cabinets, not enough countertop space, undersized sinks, and hard-to-clean surfaces.

In many instances, poor kitchen layout causes wasted time and steps.

One way women can make up for kitchen faults is by remodeling.

★ ★ ★

Building Supply News states that it's the homemaker who initiates kitchen modernization and chooses the appliances, layout and decor.

She may make do for a while with a less-than-ideal-kitchen, but she's quite specific about her needs when the decision is made to remodel.

To meet her demands, most building supply centers now offer a wide variety of kitchen equipment, as well as appropriate wall and floor coverings and decorative accessories.

★ ★ ★

The idea is to provide all kitchen remodeling needs in one-stop shopping.

CONVENIENCE

The retailers have discovered that when a woman plans a "new" kitchen, the keynote is usually convenience.

She looks for up-to-date appliances with handy time-and-work-saving features, lots of storage and countertop space, easy-to-clean wall and floor surfaces, and innovations such as adjustable and revolving cabinet shelves, self-closing drawers, cutting-boards and tray racks.

She also wants the most efficient kitchen layout possible. Many building supply centers now offer a planning service and feature full or partial model kitchen displays emphasizing efficiency in rooms of various sizes and shapes.

★ ★ ★

The most efficient design, according to the experts, is the "triangle" placement of major kitchen work areas.

This means setting the range, refrigerator-freezer, and sink and dishwasher at equidistant points of a triangle, with no more than seven feet between each appliance.

Time and motion studies show that this arrangement gives the homemaker plenty of elbow room while saving her the greatest number of steps.

★ ★ ★

An added advantage of the triangle is that it can be set up in any of the four most usual types of kitchen: L-shaped, U-shaped, one-wall or corridor.

STORAGE

The spaces between appliances should be filled in with cabinets and countertops to provide adequate storage and work space.

When redesigning their kitchens, women want to make them attractive as well as practical.

There's a trend toward kitchens with a warm, familyroom atmosphere rather than the traditional sterile white look.

★ ★ ★

In choosing equipment for a more hospitable kitchen, women are aided by the availability of appliances with colored, patterned or textured finishes, wood-grained or colored cabinets, resilient flooring in interesting or unusual designs and wall surfaces that are stain and dirt resistant.

IDEAL KITCHEN—A lot of kitchens, including many in new homes, fall short on efficiency, convenience and space. Many homeowners are remodeling to get assets like the roomy countertops, cabinet storage and handy work areas shown above.

Wax Build-Up Dulls Wood Finish

When furniture waxes have built up, they create a dull, unattractive film. To bring out the true beauty of the wood, furniture should be washed. Wash one section at a time, dipping cloth (such as toweling) into a sudsy solution of warm water and a mild detergent.

★ ★ ★

Rinse the cloth often and follow the wood grain with your strokes. Don't wet the glued joints.

More than one washing may be needed to get down to the original finish. When the furniture surfaces have dried thoroughly, they are ready to be waxed or polished.

★ ★ ★

Heed this warning from the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association — furniture finished only with oil should never be washed!

Saves Later Headaches

Start Early on Repairs

The first breath of spring air conjures up thoughts of warm weather leisure, but it also awakens you to the fact that the winter weather has been rough on both house and property.

Unless you tend to necessary repairs now there will be little rest when the really good weather comes around.

The hairline cracks in the concrete last fall have become large openings now after the alternating freezing and thawing of winter weather.

Ice will have caused gutters to sag. High winds may have loosened roof shingles leaving an opening for driving spring rains.

Window putty is weathered and the glass panes rattle in a high wind.

VISUAL CHECK

Make a visual check of the outside of your house. You can do this almost any time and be ready to work at the first opportunity.

Take care of concrete repairs first chance you get, before the damage spreads to concrete that is still sound.

Cracks seem to occur most often on the apron in front of the garage and at the beginning of the drive.

Remove all broken concrete, dig out loose material. Undercut the opening so that it is wider at the bottom than at the top.

This will prevent the patch from pulling out. Wet the area thoroughly. Fill with concrete patch.

You can use ready mix, adding only water, for small jobs such as this. Overfill and then smooth off the excess so that the patch is flush with the old surface.

Keep wet by covering with straw or newspapers and wetting down for several days.

LARGE AREAS

For large broken areas, dig out all the large and loose chunks and save pieces for filling later.

Dig out the dirt to the depth of the concrete and dig under the sound concrete for a few inches all around.

Wet the area without leaving a puddle in the hole and then cover the bottom with an inch or two of fresh concrete. Pack it in under the old concrete.

★ ★ ★

Wet some of that broken concrete and drop the pieces in, imbedding them in the concrete.

Continue adding concrete until it is slightly higher than the surrounding surface and then smooth.

Concrete repairs should be made after danger of freezing is past but before extremely hot weather starts.

Gutters that sag should be renailed or have new hangers installed.

ELIMINATE DEBRIS

Clean out all debris and pour a little water in to see if it flows toward the downspout. This is to check for leaks.

Clean the area around the opening and sand thoroughly. A coating of asphalt will take care of tiny cracks, or you may wish to use some of the plastic compounds.

Larger holes should be patched. Use a metal similar to the one in the gutter and imbed it in the asphalt with another layer over it. Or use special plastic repair kits.

★ ★ ★

Outsides of gutters, where paint has peeled, should be scraped, primed and repainted.

Loose roof shingles should be nailed down and a spot asphalt placed on the nail head to prevent rust. Torn shingles should be replaced.

Last year's calking may have gaps in it by now. Recalk where necessary. If you are ready to take down storm windows, wash and repair and repaint if need be before storing.

Screens should be washed and repaired before installing.

Outside, check the foundation. Inside, examine basement walls.

Look for cracks and damp spots. Foundation repairs should be taken care of before they cause damage to the inside by permitting water to enter.

Check the waterproofing around the outside of the basement wall.

It should come just above ground level. Worn spots should be recoated.

Water-Thinned Enamels Prove Redecorating Boon

The typical American bathroom has recently been criticized by interior decorators and hygienists alike for its lack of imagination and comfort.

Look at your own bathroom area with a critical eye — it should be both convenient and attractive!

If your bathroom doesn't measure up, remember that you can quickly achieve a bright transformation with paint!

The new water-thinned enamels are a boon for your redecorating project. As you know, the bathroom is a busy place — and water-thinned enamels have the advantage of drying in a matter of hours.

★ ★ ★

Not only are they quick-drying, but they are also virtually odorless. And . . . your hands and paint brushes can be washed off with soap and water!

HINTS

Before you make your color decision, keep these hints in mind.

Yellow-green tones should be avoided — they give your skin a "sea-sick" look. Instead, choose a flattering color such as pink, peach, rose, pure green, or gold.

Lighting should also be chosen for its flattering effect. Standard, cool, fluorescent lights are out —they tend to give you a pale, unhealthy look.

★ ★ ★

Incandescent bulbs or fluorescent lights in a warm white or soft pink will give you a glowing reflection in the mirror—a pleasant way to begin your day.

While you are redecorating, don't forget your bathroom accessories! Wooden towel racks and laundry hampers can be spray-painted in a matter of minutes. Choose a color that will blend in with the walls, or add a bright accent with a contrasting color.

For a pleasant effect on your cabinet doors, stencils and ingenuity work wonders. If you're artistic, make your own. If not, a paint or art supply store will have many patterns for you to choose from.

★ ★ ★

Secure stencils firmly to the dry surface with masking tape and apply the color with a stencil brush.

USE DETERGENT

Before you begin painting, scrub down all surfaces thoroughly with a household detergent. Caked no soap or grease will prevent enamel from adhering properly.

Fill cracks and holes with a patching compound, and, when the compound is dry, sand it smooth. If the surface is glossy, roughen it with a light sanding.

Apply the enamel with a generously filled brush, using long, smooth strokes. Before refilling the brush, "cross-stroke", and then go over the area again with an almost dry brush and more long, smooth strokes. These steps assure a smooth, uniform finish.

★ ★ ★

With water-thinned enamels you can beautify your room from top to bottom. With a little energy and a small amount of time, you can change your bathroom from an ordinary, functional area into a thing of beauty!

Antenna Maintenance Good Idea

Spring's the time to check your television antenna to make sure it has successfully withstood the toll of winter's ice and wind. Preventive maintenance now can assure good reception throughout the coming baseball season and on into summer and fall.

An easy check list to help find danger spots has been prepared by the service department at Alliance Manufacturing Co., makers of television antenna rotators. They suggest you:

- First check the TV antenna itself, looking for missing parts or "elements." A short broken piece can mean degraded picture quality, and it should be replaced.
- Inspect all connections for possible corrosion by airborne chemicals and rust.
- Test guy wires and other supports for firmness. Better to repair a suspected weakness rather than wait until costly damage from toppled antenna, mast and all.
- Look for signs of broken or frayed leads on the wires from your set to the antenna. If in doubt, play safe, and refasten the leads.

Garbage Disposers in 2 Basic Types

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS
United Press International

For the new home owner today a garbage disposal unit is one of these things taken for granted, but if you're one of more than 300,000 persons who plan to install the handy appliance in an existing home this year, you'll want to give the project some thought.

If the disposer will be installed as part of a kitchen remodeling program, involving a new sink, any installation problem that might exist will be taken care of as part of the over-all project.

The only decision will involve the type of disposer to be installed.

There are two basic types: The batch-feed disposer, with the on-off switch in the cover, which handles food waste a batch at a time, and the continuous-feed disposer, which uses an ordinary wall switch and handles a continuous flow of refuse as long as the switch is on.

★ ★ ★

Both types are safe, and the choice is solely a matter of personal preference.

BUDGET MODELS

Budget models will grind most types of food waste effectively but it is not wise to feed them on a continuous basis hard matter such as bones and fruit pits unless this is specifically stated in the manufacturer's directions.

Better models are designed to take all food waste just as long as it fits all the way into the disposer.

Average life of a deluxe disposer ranges from 8 to 12 years. Under normal circumstances you should be able to purchase and have installed a good disposer for under $100.

★ ★ ★

If a disposer is to be installed, but not as part of an over-all kitchen remodeling program, first determine whether or not any intricate, and perhaps costly, installation problem is involved.

If the drain line coming from the sink runs into the wall, measure the distance between the underpart of the sink and the mid-point of the drain line where it enters the wall. This is called "rough-in" space.

If you have at least six inches, the installation of a good disposer will be a normal one, and the cost should not be extraordinary.

★ ★ ★

If there is less than six inches, there may be an extra installation cost, since the wall may have to be broken, and the drain line lowered.

LOCAL CODES

However, local codes in some areas now permit rough-in of less than six inches. This is a point that can be checked with the local building inspector or plumbing contractor.

If the drain line from the sink empties directly into the floor, there automatically is sufficient room for a disposer installation.

Disposers operate on normal household voltage and are designed to fit any sink with a standard four-inch opening.

A smaller opening can be reamed to size easily and a larger one made to fit with a special adapter.

There is no need to worry about disposers clogging a drain line. In an older home, the contractor ordinarily will ream the line before installing a disposer.

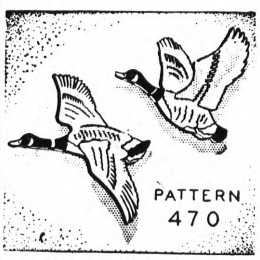
The disposer itself, if operated properly, will not clog the line.

On the contrary, tests made by Ohio State University showed that bone particles going through the line actually help keep it clean of all matter that might form.

While there are several things to keep in mind when operating a disposer — all of them spelled out in manufacturers' directions — the most important is the use of plenty of cold water.

Hot water never should be used. The cold should be turned on before the disposer is started and allowed to run for at least a minute after it is turned off.



FLYING GEESE wall plaques about 16 inches long painted in natural colors make a beautiful decoration for any informal room. They are just the thing for that big space over a sofa or low book shelves. Pattern 470, which gives actual size cutting and painting guides for these birds as well as directions and outline of materials, is 35 cents. It also is included in the Bird and Animal Packet No. 76 for $1. The Pontiac Press Pattern Dept., P.O. Box 50, New Windsor, N.Y. 12550.

Laundry Room Needs Extras

If you plan to set up a laundry area, you'll need more than a washer and dryer.

For convenience and working ease you should also have countertop space for sorting and folding (the area can also serve for gift-wrapping and flower arranging), a hamper for soiled linen, a mobile car for transporting clothes before and after washing, cabinets or shelves for detergents, bleaches and other laundry aids, and a sit-down area for mending and ironing.

Nails Headed Costly Metals

What do names like Flat-Point Rose, Fine-Rose and Rose-Sharp make you think of? Elegant silverware patterns? Fine china designs?

Actually, they were hand-wrought 18th century nails. Nails were expensive in those days because of the tedious procedure involved in making them.

Metal plates had to be cut into small, thin rods, then heated in a forge and hammered into shape on an anvil. The heads were shaped in a vise.

Today, modern machines turn out nails at the rate of 10 to 1,000 a minute, depending on size.

★ ★ ★

Building supply centers display literally hundreds of nails of different lengths and head designs appropriate for every imaginable home or building use.

And because of precise production methods, each nail is standard—the same size, shape and strength as others of its kind.

Not Too Close

To insure that drainage flows away from the foundation of a house, home maintenance experts advise that shrubbery not be planted closer than three feet from the foundation.

Windowless Buildings Are Fire Hazards

Buildings without windows — whether they are used as offices, warehouses, schools, public buildings (or even houses — are more likely to be firetraps than fireproof, according to W. H. Goff, president of Architectural Aluminum Manufacturers Association.

"In 'fireproof' windowless buildings such as department stores, supermarkets, and exposition halls like Chicago's McCormick Place, there is no way to vent the heat and smoke," Goff explained.

"The building becomes a giant sealed oven and fire fighters have great difficulty gaining access," he added.

Goff said that besides serving as an entrance for firemen, windows naturally provide ready exits for persons trapped in a burning building.

★ ★ ★

"Windows also are sources of light which prevent total darkness and possible panic should there be a power failure," he said.

DESTROYED

"No one who had ever visited McCormick Place could believe that this magnificent building of steel and concrete would ever be destroyed by fire.

"Yet when you stop to think of the combustibles involved in an exposition and you realize that there is nothing to stop the fire, you can see how easily the steel and concrete can buckle under the intense heat," Goff added.

He charged that greater safe-measures are needed in "fireproof" buildings and he suggested that the specification of adequate glass areas be among the items high on the list.

★ ★ ★

"Windows in a building serve to project the personality of the structure.

Decorators Enhance Interiors in Stone

The rich look of hand-chiseled stone, popular on exterior walls and patios of more expensive homes since 1960, has moved indoors.

Fireplaces, recreation room walls, room dividers, and planters of stone are now seen regularly in new suburban homes.

Interior decorators are including stone in their designs wherever it can serve as the focal point of a room. Around a fireplace — a natural focal point—stone adds texture and color interest.

In family rooms and dens, stone wall treatments — wainscoting or full-height panels — impart a casual, brightening effect to the decor.

★ ★ ★

Room dividers and planters of stone provide an unique way to create study corners or to separate dining and living areas.

CREATE DECOR

Properly selected, stone can create a warm or cool atmosphere in a room, depending upon the decorative feeling desired.

Warm browns and reds will usually go best in carpeted areas, and the blue-white effect of marble looks best with tiled floors.

With parquet or hardwood floors, wall colors should dictate the choice of stone.

★ ★ ★

To redecorate with stone, budget is not the only limiting factor.

Real stone requires professional application, and its weight may restrict its use on walls and floors. And once in place, that's it.

Do-it-yourself home decorators are using an economical new fiberglass stone panel for interior walls and room dividers.

★ ★ ★

The panels, made of real crushed stone imbedded in durable fiberglass, actually look and feel like warm Sierra blend or Georgia marble.

NAILED ON

Corners, edgestones, and panels are simply nailed on, and a special mortar covers up nail heads and seams.

Free plans for room dividers and planters and for accent-wall treatments are available from the Roxite manufacturer: Bolen International, Inc., 5238 W. Belmont, Chicago, Ill.

Other uses of stone inside modern homes include bars in recreation rooms and porch-and-patio benches.

★ ★ ★

Floor-to-ceiling wall sections of stone, about four feet in length, effectively brighten long interior corridors and entrance ways.

★ ★ ★

Proper selection of stone shapes is essential for desired effects.

To make a room appear larger and to maintain harmony with the horizontal design of modern homes and furniture, predominantly horizontal stones are now most popular.

First Aid for Lawns Is Easier

An American tourist admiring the lush lawns of an English estate is reputed to have asked the owner: "What did it take to get such a lovely lawn?"

"Madam," the owner replied, "it took 400 years."

That's the feeling homeowners sometimes had as they seeded, weeded, mowed and raked their lawns, and spent tiring hours tending their gardens.

But today's new lawn and garden equipment is helping homeowners beautify their grounds with a minimum of time and effort.

★ ★ ★

Homeowners are going in for gardening in a big way, and that they're depending on modern lawn and garden products to take the groan out of growing.

The sale of power mowers, for example, is steadily increasing, with an estimated 25 million already in use.

Building supply centers that stock lawn and garden lines report expanding business in these categories.

★ ★ ★

Many that started with equipment supplies: mowers, sweepers, lawn carts and spreaders, now feature full-scale departments that include barbecue units and tools, outdoor furniture and fireplace picnic tables, patio blocks and fencing.

But, the most noticeable trend is toward power equipment that does a variety of gardening chores easily and efficiently.

Among these are power mowers that cut, trim and bag clippings, tractor-type mowers that can also be used as graders and snow removers, and power rakes.

With all such equipment, manufacturers are stressing built-in safety features.

How to keep normal in the face of overwhelming odds! It's a thought that occurs to homemakers more and more as they try to cope with new ideas concerning their private castles.

There's that early beatnik movement she didn't quite dig and there are pop and op art intrusions in decorating.

Let the other people be different is the thought that has bolstered her morale as the avant-garde continues to make inroads into her domicile.

★ ★ ★

And now there is a new approach that may increase her doubts as to who is out of step in interior design.

DIFFERENT

It's something that might be called Early Ameri-Can, a subtle appeal to the do-it-yourselfer, featured in Esquire Magazine.

After all, can one deny that a room is all bad if it has as its focal point, more or less, bright, shiny aluminum baking tins that are a drawer system?

And how about plastic foam cups and balls, oil cans, inner soles, wine bottles, chemical barrels and beer cans as part of a decorative scheme.

★ ★ ★

Good, earthy stuff like that!

A room of such objects has been put together within the pages of the magazine, the brain child of Sam Antupit, its art editor, and designed by Peter Murdoch and Lance Wyman.

The baking tins drawer system comprises 44 pans that fit into a shelf arrangement in a modern pattern.

★ ★ ★

Other shelf space is available for goodness knows what — a priceless collection of prehistoric art or Russian icons, both good!

WALL UNIT

An oil can wall unit is set diamond design with closed ends screwed to the wall, and is supposedly useful for storing such paraphernalia as model cars.

A hanging lamp is a sphere of plastic foam cups pressed together and stuffed with plastic foam balls.

An 'illumination' wall uses cups pressed together right side up and upside down. (This solves the nagging problem of what to do with two or three hundred cups and balls you happen to have in the closet.)

★ ★ ★

The next idea will floor you: an area rug of genuine inner soles sewed or stapled together.

There are chairs made from chemical barrels, molded to the posterior by the do-it-yourselfer, on those nights when he is presumably busy emptying wine bottles and beer cans to make tables of them. Ah so!

Invert 19 (empty) wine bottles that have been glued together with epoxy; and guess what — you'll have a low 'table' that will look decorative, even if it proves to be utterly useless.

★ ★ ★

You work on the 125-beer-can table project while your cup foameth over as you connect empties with U-tacks to form the table top.

The beer can table top won't cost you a dime (if you are a man who likes more than one) perpetrators of the idea point out.

Remodeling Time? Know Your Builder

Remodeling can be a rewarding experience for a homeowner — if he feels he has received a good job at a fair price.

★ ★ ★

There are more good remodelers today than ever before, with inventive ideas, skilled workmen and exciting new materials.

But to guard against the few questionable firms, here are a few tips:

The remodeling contractor should be chosen with the same care as a family physician.

★ ★ ★

Look through the phone book for names that are well known, or check with your local Better Business Bureau or Chamber of Commerce.

CHECK FRIENDS

In the case of aluminum siding, as an example, you should ask friends who have had good jobs done for the name of their contractor.

Ask the contractor to show you recent jobs. Talk with these homeowners.

Make certain that the applicator you are considering is the same who actually did their work.

★ ★ ★

Get a total of two or more bids on your job, specifying what is wanted and spelling out exactly how much siding is to be installed.

Be certain the quote includes all materials, accessories and labor.

Never make a deal without a written contract. Lack of a written agreement can lead to misunderstanding, hard feelings and loss of money.

★ ★ ★

If you ask the contractor to make changes while the work is in progress, request that he put the costs for the changes in writing.

ASK TO SIGN

You will be asked to sign this agreement and attach your copy to the original contract.

Be sure the contract includes a detailed cost estimate and the total price.

It also should include terms of payment and a statement that the premises will be clean upon completion of the job.

★ ★ ★

Of course, it's always wise to have an attorney check the document for more protection.

Sign the completion certificate only when the job has been completed in accordance with the contract or sales agreement.

Ice Cold Water Shocks Plants

One way to prevent indoor plants from growing spindly is to give them less warmth and more humidity and sunshine.

Lukewarm, or room temperature, is best for watering plant Ice cold water can shock a plant and set back its growth for weeks.

Rain water or melted and warmed snow-water are best of all.

When you are painting wipe up splatters as you go along.

9 New Hybrids Introduced for 1967

Among the Mayas, the magical number nine signified excellence. That's the perfect word to describe the quality of the nine new petunias, ready for 1967 gardens via the magical camel's hair brush of Pan-American Seed Company, home of the world's foremost petunia hybridizers.

These nine new hybrid petunias are of three entirely different types: Single-flowered grandiflora with huge blooms up to 3 inches across, double-flowered grandiflora with equally large many-petalled blossoms, and multifloras with smaller flowers produced prodigiously on compact plants of even height.

All three types of petunias are alike, however, in exhibiting the sturdy, vigorous plants, the greatly lengthened blooming season and the floriferousness which characterize first generation hybrids.

There are, among the four single-flowered grandiflora introductions, new color additions to each of two famous Petunia groups: Red Magic, an early-blooming, free-flowering, brilliant red completes the color range of the "Magic" group, and Coral Cascade adds a new color, coral-rose, to the popular cascading form of the "Cascade" petunias.

★ ★ ★

The other two single-flowered grandiflora varieties are a clear, bright, medium "blue" with a silvery cast called Blue Jeans, and a delightful, softly-shaded variety, white in the center, medium salmon in the petals and deep salmon at the petal lobes, aptly named Peach Blossom.

EXOTIC

The exotic, double-flowered grandiflora class will have two newcomers: Blue Danube has a 2½-inch diameter, and delicate lavender-blue blossoms veined in darker "blue."

It is the double-flowered counterpart of the popular single-flowered variety, Blue Lace, Valentine is a bright, cheery brilliant dark red with salmon undertones, which starts to bloom early on compact, 10 to 12-inch high plants and continues until frost.

In addition to all this bounty from the magic of plant breeding, there are the three multiflora petunias, two of them, Sugar Blues and Purple Plum, introducing entirely new colors to the group to which the widely-grown variety, Sugar Plum, belongs.

★ ★ ★

Both are compact in form, weather-resistant, and adaptable to many growing conditions. Sugar Blues is lavender-blue, deeper at the center, lighter at the petal edges, with deep blue-violet, pencil-fine veining. Purple Plum is a rich, warm, reddish-plum shade which colors best when plants are grown in full sun.

The third hybrid multiflora is a bicolor named Rose Star. This has sharply defined, alternating zones of dark rose-red and white in each lovely bloom.

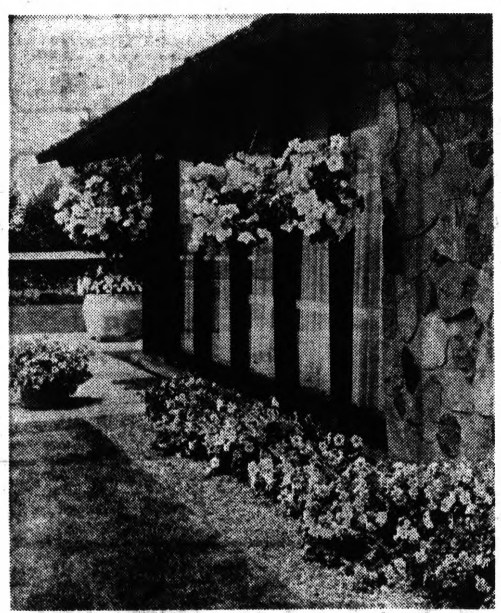
Use these muliflora petunias in areas where uniform height and masses of brilliant color are your aim—perhapus along your driveway or front path to welcome visitors to your home.

★ ★ ★

Plant the double grandifloras where you can see them close up and enjoy their different form — in planters, in pots or flower boxes to decorate your outdoor living room—and don't forget to set a few plants in an inconspicuous spot so you can cut their blooms for arrangements indoors and for summer corsages.

The single grandifloras should be planted with due consideration of their varying growth. The cascades, because of their huge blooms and drooping habit, are perfect for hanging baskets, tops of walls and other high places. The magics are best where their dwarfness and big blooms will be advantageous.

"Blue" petunias should be used with contrasting colors, such as the yellow of Sunburst, or the pale pink of Appleblossom, and Peach Blossom is such an outstanding color that it should be planted all by itself for fullest enjoyment of its unusual, delicate coloration.



BASKET OF BLOOMS—Want to brighten up your home? There's nothing that will do it like petunias—cascading from hanging baskets, in tubs which can be moved as the occasion demands, or in window boxes or borders.

Indiana Boat Club Picked Tops in '66

The Outboard Boating Club of Evansville, Ind., has been named the top boating club in the country for 1966 in the annual competition sponsored by the Outboard Boating Club of America.

Second place went to the Tacoma (Wash.) Outboard Association, and third place was awarded to the Vagabond Yacht Club of Des Moines, Wash.

★ ★ ★

Under the leadership of their commodore, Herbert Julian, Jr., the Evansville club members ran a highly successful boat show and turned the proceeds over to a special fund for the needy. The panel of boating magazine editors judging the contest also noted that the club was in the forefront of a successful campaign for public boating facilities along the Ohio River.

Floor Covering Clue to New Decor Plan

Floors can have as many cover-ups as TV's secret agents.

A good floor covering can be the clue to successful room modernization.

And the variety of practical, attractive new materials makes proper flooring selection a relatively simple caper.

Biggest floor covering news, says a magazine, is resilient materials.

Building supply centers report that vinyl asbestos tile alone accounts for more than 50 per cent of their floor covering sales.

RESILIENT FLOORING

They estimate that sales of all types of resilient flooring will increase as customers realize that "there is now a resilient covering to suit every taste and every room in the home."

They predict a growing popularity for vinyl roll flooring, vinyl asbestos tile, vinyl tile, asphalt tile, linoleum and ceramic tile.

The attraction of resilient flooring is that it is comfortable to walk or stand on, easy to care for, has a low noise level, is resistant to spills and stains, and comes in a wide range of good-looking, versatile — even exotic — colors and designs.

Consistent improvements are increasing their appeal.

There is now, for example, a type of weather-resistant resilient flooring that can be used outdoors on concrete patios, sundecks, balconies and pool areas.

Style has been heightened with the introduction of stone, wood, marble, travertine, brick and sculptured brick patterns in several floorings.

The choice of the right resilient flooring depends largely on the type and condition of the room's present floor.

NO MOISTURE

In general, any resilient covering can be installed on suspended floors, over basements or crawl spaces where there is no danger of moisture.

Linoleum tile, cork tile and felt-backed sheet vinyl are not recommended for below-grade installation, where concrete is in direct contact with the ground and moisture or alkali problems exist.

For ongrade installation where the foundation slab is thick and offers more protection than a regular basement floor, most of the new coverings can be used.

★ ★ ★

Since the characteristics and installation procedures vary with each flooring, it is best to discuss planned use and present flooring with your building supply salesman before you buy.

Metropark Guide

New Maps Ready

Outdoor enthusiasts in Oakland County can obtain a map showing the location and facilities of the eight parks of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

This is the Metropark Guide for 1967-68, a six-color map which not only shows Huron-Clinton facilities, but includes state conservation lands plus major roads and highways throughout Oakland, Macomb, Wayne, Washtenaw and Livingston Counties.

It comes in a handy 24 inch by 34 inch size and fits easily in your car or trailer map compartment.

★ ★ ★

This is the seventh in a series of Metropark Guides, with the first one prepared in 1954 by Edward Savich, authority cartographer.

Every other year since 1957 the authority has produced a new map, not only to guide people to its varied facilities but to keep pace with the ever-changing growth of Oakland County and the Detroit Metropolitan Area.

Savich takes about six months to produce a new map, with the help of the Michigan Department of State Highways, the Oakland County Road Commission and other agencies.

This map is sent to the printer on sheets six feet by eight feet before reduction to its handy size and prior to applying the six colors. The cover of the new Metropark Guide is yellow and gray, with "Blue" used for the Oakland County section and orange used to denote incorporated urban areas.

Demand for the map has increased so that this year's order was for 400,000 instead of the 250,000 or 130,000 supply ordered on previous maps.

Authority officials hope this quantity will be sufficient until 1969, when county and park changes will demand revisions again.

The map is available without charge. Oakland County residents can obtain a new 1967-68 Metropark Guide by visiting the offices at Stony Creek Metropolitan Park northeast of Rochester or Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford.

To obtain a copy by mail write to METROPARK GUIDE, Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 1750 Guardian Building, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

Gas Is Ubiquitous Says Association

"Ubiquitous" means being present everywhere all the time.

Gas is regarded as ubiquitous because natural gas pipelines run through every state on this continent.

For families living beyond the city mains, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, gas is still ubiquitous because modern appliances, such as gas ranges and clothes dryers, can be operated on LP-gas.

Nautical traffic rules, governing the relationship of boats to each other, are called Rules of the Road.

Dwarf Trees Ideal for City

City dwellers can grow their own full-sized fruit in a small space, reports the March American Home magazine.

Dwarf fruit trees cost $4-$5, are six to ten feet tall, easy to harvest, and require less spraying and pruning than full-sized fruit trees.

"Two or three year old fruit trees" are either "self pollinators or self unfruitful." In the case of the latter "you must plant another variety of fruit tree nearby or they won't bear fruit" explains the article.

Planting dwarf fruit trees requires a hole double the size of the root ball and the replacement of poor soil with humus.

Apple, pear, peach and plum tree branches should be pruned back a third, and in staggered fashion after planting to permit light and air to reach all parts of the tree.

Details on the timing of fruit tree pesticicide sparying, insect control, and spray ingredients, can be obtained from a local nurseryman, county agricultural agent, or any state university college of agricultire.

New Fixtures Expand Line

No matter what room in the house you're remodeling, chances are you'll consider a new lighting fixture.

★ ★ ★

Increased purchases by home owners of electrical equipment and lighting fixtures have caused some 40 per cent of the nation's building supply stores to expand their stock to include a greater variety of such items.

The items most often bought are flush-mounted switches, outlet box receptacles, outlet boxes, switches and junction boxes and wall plates.

Also popular are exterior lighting equipment and interior ceiling fixtures.

★ ★ ★

Many building supply dealers offer installation service for homeowners who shy away from making electrical adjustments themselves.

Dust Properly Protect the Finish

Don't "go around in circles" when you dust.

Instead, protect the furniture finish by dusting only with the grain of the wood. Wiping across the grain is apt to cause scratches since dust contains grit.

★ ★ ★

Use a few drops of quality furniture polish on your dustcloth.

Dust will cling to the cloth instead of merely being pushed around on the surface.

Chemicals Protect Wood

New chemical discoveries are helping the oldest building material — wood — do a better job in modern homes.

★ ★ ★

Stock panel doors and windows of ponderosa pine are factory-treated with a chemical preservative that controls water absorption and prevents warping, swelling or shrinking.

★ ★ ★

The treated wood sash and frames also safeguard against termites, dry rot and decay.

$11 Billion Spent on Remodeling

Over $11 billion was spent on home improvement last year, according to the National Better Heating-Cooling Council, and about 12 per cent went for heat modernization.

★ ★ ★

The figure promises to grow dramatically in 1967, since more and more people will turn to modernization as an answer to the tight money situation.

The certificate of number must be carried on a motorboat when in use.

Home Handyman Needs Basic Tools

When the home handyman is ready to make his power play, a few basic tools will get him started.

The most versatile power tool for the do-it-yourselfer is the portable ¼-inch drill.

The term, ¼ inch, refers to the size of shank the drill chuck will accept. Equipped with expansion bits, the ¼-inch drill can drill holes up to several inches in diameter.

In addition to drilling holes in wood and metal, this versatile tool can be fitted with accessories for grinding, honing, polishing, shaping, sanding, wire brushing, and paint stirring.

★ ★ ★

Equipped with a special stand, it can be used as a drill press. In some cases, the drill can be converted into a power saw or other power tool.

PORTABLE SAW

A portable saw is another basic tool for home handymen. The two main types are the circular saw and the sabre saw.

The circular saw is ideal for straight cutting of lumber or large boards. A six-inch model can rip or crosscut a 2x4 board at a 45-degree angle.

The sabre saw, which has a straight blade that moves up and down, is better for making curved cuts or when working with thin panels of plywood or hardboard.

★ ★ ★

For the most accurate cutting, mitering and grooving of lumber, either a table saw or radial saw is best. Both use a circular blade.

But the blade of the table saw is stationary and cuts from below, whereas the blade of a radial saw is suspended from above.

The radial saw moves forward on a track while the work to be cut remains stationary.

★ ★ ★

Another valuable power tool for the home is the power sander.

There are three types. The oscillating or reciprocating type that uses standard sandpaper and moves in an orbital or back-and-forth fashion is ideal for fine finishing.

The professional belt - type sander is a powerful and fast-working machine that uses an abrasive belt.

Rotary disc type sanders are used for fast removal of heavy paint or smoothing rough lumber.

Hand signals, established by the American Water Ski Association, are the skier's means of communicating with his towboat.

Builders Name Nail Lengths

The length of wood nails is still designated by terms first used by English builders report building historians.

Thus, wood nails one-inch in length are called two-penny nails, while those six inches long are referred to as sixtypenny nails.

Asbestos shingle nails and metal roofing nails are designated by their actual lengths.

Basketball Souvenirs Being Sought

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—A nationwide search is under way for basketball relics and souvenirs—the older the better.

"We need memorabilia as much as we need money," says Lee Williams, executive secretary of the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame, which is scheduled to open later this year.

★ ★ ★

The shrine already has quite a collection of historic items, but Williams believes there must be thousands of others strewn around the country.

Williams wants to display as many historic items as possible when the Hall opens in late summer or early fall on the Springfield College campus where Dr. James Naismith is credited with inventing the game in 1891.

Among the prize items already in the collection are a set of the original rules, handwritten by Naismith in 1891, and a ball and basket from that same year.

The rules, which are insured for $10,000 have been promised by Naismith's son, James of Corpus Christi, Tex., but are not on hand yet.

★ ★ ★

"They're too valuable to leave lying around," Williams says. "When the Hall of Fame opens . . . they'll be displayed in the main corridor along with a portrait of Dr. Naismith."

Memorabilia of more recent vintage includes the glasses worn by George Mikan during his storied career, a ball autographed by members of the Boston Celtics' first National Basketball Association championship squad in 1957, and the ball and goal that were in play when Ed Linn of Alabama sank the 84-foot, 11-inch shot which stands as the longest on record.

Another late addition is the foreign-style ball — much like a soccer ball—used in the title game of the 1960 world tournament won by the Wichita Vickers.

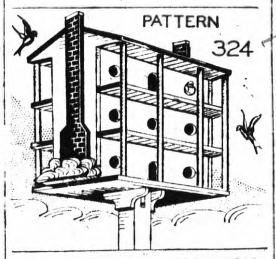
Williams also interested in obtaining as much basketball literature as he can get in the shrine's library, which he hopes will be named for the late Springfield coach Ed Hickox, who served as executive secretary when the Hall was just a dream.



A COLONIAL MANSION, complete with 28-inch chimneys, verandas and simulated shrubs, has 18 rooms for swallows or martins. Front sections are easy to remove for yearly cleaning. Pattern 324, which gives illustrated step-by-step directions is 35 cents. This Pattern also is included in the Bird House and Feeder Packet No. 31 containing four popular patterns — all for $1. # Chimney Spark Triggers Fire

A spark from a neighboring chimney touched off a blaze on the roof of this boarding house owned by Mrs. Lillian Elliott.

By the time fire fighters arrived, the entire roof had been burned away.

The fire was quickly extinguished with little added damage. But one of the firemen told the owner that if it had not been for the attic insulation she would have lost the whole house.

Later, an investigating fire marshall explained that the flames could not penetrate the attics' insulation, a loose-flowing mineral called "vermiculit (vur-mik-yoo-lite).

★ ★ ★

As a result, the fire never got below the ceiling, and only water damage occurred.

CUT FUEL

Mrs. Elliott said that her husband, a carpenter, had installed the insulation several years before in an attempt to cut high fuel bills.

This it did by some 30 to 40 per cent, she claims. But she never guessed it would one day save the house as well.

W. R. Grace & Co.'s Zonolite Division, manufacturers of the product, report a simailr incident happening in California a short time ago, when another insulated attic saved a house caught in a raging brush fire.

Again, only the roof burned away. But the uninsulated surrounding homes were completely gutted.

Published government statistics show that seven out of 10 home-owners are paying too much to heat and cool their homes due to poor attic insulation.

Heating experts recommend measuring the thickness of the insulation in the attic floor joists with a ruler.

Toasted as Leading Shooter

Topperweins Were Zeroed-In

By PAT SMITH
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Adolph Topperwein — perhaps the best shot of all time—was officially recognized recently as one of the truly great performers in the history of American sports.

During a luncheon in Dallas, Tex., Mr. Topperwein was toasted into the Texas Sports Hall of Fame. A second toast honored him as the first shooter ever to be elected to such a position.

If there was a single regret during the festivities in Dallas it was that Ad could not be there. He died five years ago in his home in San Antonio, Tex.

But his story bears repeating because he was equally as great in his sport as Sammy Baugh or Jack Dempsey or Babe Ruth were in theirs.

He fell in love with shooting at the age of 8, when he was presented with a .22 caliber rifle by his father. Within a year, he was humbling most grownups with his phenomenal accuracy.

★ ★ ★

After working in a San Antonio crockery shop, Ad went to work as a cartoonist for the San Antonio Express. Shortly before he was 20, Ad won top honors in a local talent show and George Walker, the show manager, was so impressed he financed a trip to New York City for Topperwein in the hope that he big time vaudeville barons would be interested.

CREATED STIR

But vaudeville remained closed to Ad until he created a stir by putting every shooting gallery in Coney Island out of business. Then vaudeville opened wide, and soon he was traveling to every major city on the circuit.

In 1901, the Winchester Repeating Arms Co., of New Haven, Conn., offered Topperwein a job as an exhibition shooter and a year later he met his match.

It was in the pleasant form of an 18-year-old redhead named Elizabeth Servaty—a nonshooter. They were married and within a month Elizabeth was shooting the eyes of tin cans and pieces of chalk from the fingers of her husband. She became known as "Plinky" because she would load her rifle and say to Ad: "Throw up a tin can and I'll plink it."

★ ★ ★

Ad and Plinky Topperwein became the world's most famous shooting team — with Plinky plinking everything in sight and Ad combining his shooting abilities with his cartooning by etching figures on tin sheets with a .22 rifle.

Ernie Pyle, who considered it an honor to call the Topperweins his friends, told how, in 1907:

"Ad shot steadily for eight hours a day, for 10 days in a row. He was firing a .22 rifle at 2½-inch wooden blocks tossed in the air. He shot at 72,500 blocks, and missed only nine.

★ ★ ★

"Out of the first 50,000, he missed only four. He had a number of runs of more than 10,000 without a miss, and one run of 14,540. But the strain of it, day after day, almost drove him insane," Pyle related.

"His muscles and nerves were in painful knots. At night he had horrible dreams that the blocks would be a mile away and the bullets wouldn't come out of the end of the gun.

★ ★ ★

"As for Plinky, her trapshooting record of 1,952 hits out of 2,000 targets was a world's record for anyone — man or woman. She shot for five hours, using a Winchester pump gun."

The Topperweins continued to travel the world until 1940, when they retired. Many of their records still stand.

Interest Rates Slide Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Home buyers found the mortgage market a little more encouraging in February, the second straight month mortgage interest rates have edged downward.

The Federal Housing Administration reported Monday the average interest rate for conventional mortgages on new homes on March 1 was 6.5 per cent; it had been 6.6 per cent a month earlier.

On existing homes, FHA said, the rate slid from 6.65 to 6.55 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Although the trend indicates a loosening of the tight money market, the rates are still well above March 1966 levels, when conventional new home mortgages were averaging 6.05 per cent and those for existing homes were averaging 6.1.

Wood Stays Popular in Home Flooring

Although resilient flooring such as vinyl or asphalt tile or linoleum tends to dominate selections for kitchens, playrooms and basement recreation or laundry rooms, wood has by no means been chopped out of today's new-home flooring picture.

Floor care specialists state that wood holds its own in many other areas of the home, particularly in center halls, living and dining rooms and in bedrooms.

They attribute the continuing popularity of wood to three characteristics:

- Tonal warmth of polished wooden floors, espeically when accentuated by area rugs.
- Durability.
- Relative ease of care.

commended by many

Area rugs, long have been recommended by many leading interior decorators to provide "islands of interest" for furniture groupings and should be chosen carefully with an eye for both harmony and contrast with other furnishings.

The durability factor of wood is important to home buyers who want the most-used surface in the house — the floor — to stand up through decades of wear. Wood floors, properly cared for, have been known to last for centuries, the specialists say.

And they point to the many ballroom floors or wood in major hotels that last through the years and years of dancing, the moving about of chairs and tables, and spills of food and beverages.

CARE EASIER

Caring for wooden floors is easier now than ever. The specialists recommend, for a new floor, that a coat of paste wax be applied for maximum protection over the sealer or finish used.

They suggest using a knife to "butter" the paste onto an application pad and then spread it very thinly with a floor polishing machine.

The same machine then can be used to buff the wax to a gloss after the wax has nearly dried. Millions of homemakers already own their own polishing machines or rent them conveniently from supermarkets, hardware stores and rental outlets.

★ ★ ★

For day-to-day maintenance, the floors should be vacuumed or dust-mopped. Spraying a little air freshener on a dry dust mop will provide just enough dampness to help pick up lint and dirt and add a pleasant scent to the room at the same time.

A sponge mop with practically all the water squeezed out so it is barely damp, also can be used. When the gloss on the floor becomes dull, it often can be restored by periodic rebuffing with the polishing machine.. Rebuffing also will remove scuff marks.

When rebuffing no longer restores gloss, or when the floor becomes soiled, it should be rewaxed. Specialists recommend a liquid cleaner-wax for wood for this task.

It's actually like paste wax thinned with naptha that cleans the floor at the same time a new coat of wax is applied.

REQUIRES BUFFING

This type of wax requires buffing too, but again, an electric polisher will speed the job.

Floors maintained regularly in the described manner never need have the wax removed the specialists say.

These usually can be removed by rubbing the spots with very wood cleaning wax and then fine steel wool soaked with the buffing.

★ ★ ★

The important thing to remember about wood floors is that the wax is designed to preserve the finish or seal on the wood, by taking the wear from grit and dirt that otherwise would mark or remove the finish itself.

As long as the finish is protected by frequent-enough waxings, the floor itself will last indefinitely, they say.

ONCE A PORCH—This room addition, replacing an old-style back porch, gives the family a comfortable, general-purpose living area. Custom-built bookcase with the natural beauty of hardboard wall paneling as a background is a feature of this corner. Hide-a-bed offers spacious seating and sleeping. A vinyl floor covering is both attractive and durable.

Room Replaces Porch

There's no place like an old porch . . . if you need a room addition!

★ ★ ★

In all cases, you have one wall already available, with an entrance to the house. In some a usable foundation and a roof.

All that remains to be done for a conversion is to do some planning with our lumber dealer or contractor, add the missing walls and perhaps heat and electrical conduits, then finish and furnish.

This list is much smaller than starting from scratch to add a room. Even in that case, though you'd have the house wall as a starter.

★ ★ ★

Expanding space where you live is much more economical than selling your home and purchasing a larger one.

★ ★ ★

Check a few prices and you'll be convinced quickly that the cost of converting a porch to a room is much less expensive.

Such a conversion is low in cost if you use modern building products such as prefinished hardboard wall paneling, vinyl floor coverings,, fluorescent lights and prefinished hardboard siding.

Inside walls for an all-purpose room come ready for installation. Royalcote woodgrain panels, for example, come in 16 types and colors. They go up over studs or old walls with a minimum of work and fuss. Simply use a new cartridge-type adhesive and forget about nails.

★ ★ ★

Such panels offer beauty, durability and easy, damp-wipe maintenance, the home improvement expert comments.

Other easy-care components for such a room include vinyl-clad moldings, a resilient floor covering, chairs with plastic upholstery, electric heating units and glare-free lighting.

READYING SPEECH — Dr. Walter E. Barton (right) discusses the functions of Pontiac State Hospital with Dr. Donald W. Martin, the hospital's medical superintendent, before addressing 140 persons at Kingsley Inn last night on mental health and psychiatry.

Mental Health Expert Puts Priority on Emergency Care

By JOE MULLEN

Provision of emergency mental health services must be the starting point for any newly established community psychiatry program, a nationally noted psychiatrist said last night.

★ ★ ★

Speaking to some 140 persons following a dinner at Kingsley Inn, Dr. Walter E. Barton compared handling an emergency mental health problem with fighting a fire.

"When a fire erupts, it must be put out," he said. "Prevention procedures follow."

The medical director of the American Psychiatric Association, Dr. Barton spoke at a dinner sponsored by Pontiac State Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Though his principal topic was community mental health, he elaborated on the history of psychiatry, commented on the shortage of trained mental health administrators and denied charges that Barry Goldwater is against mental health programs.

PROGRAMS EVOLVED

Dr. Barton noted that many programs of mental health today are hailed as new developments but actually emerged from mental hospital practices dating back many years.

He added that the general decline in the number of resident mental patients in hospitals is a result of the improvement in services.

Dr. Barton said that public support for community mental health programs has grown considerably but warned that more people must be trained so requirements can be met.

★ ★ ★

"Only 800 psychiatrists are coming out of universities each year," he said. "This number should be 1,300."

PSYCHIATRISTS' RATIO

He added that 6 per cent of the nation's physicians are psychiatrists and pointed out that the percentage of women physicians who become psychiatrists is greater than that of male physicians.

A real challenge to the nation's present 18,540 psychiatrists is to keep abreast of the continuous flow of new professional information, according to Dr. Barton.

"There are no set facts," he said. "New facts replace old ones."

★ ★ ★

In pointing out the shortage of trained mental health administrators, he said that Michigan and six other states are seeking an administrator for their state programs.

PROBLEMS

Among problems arising in community mental health programs, according to Dr. Barton, is obtaining cooperation in the sharing of records with other agencies and private practioners.

He speculated that health records of individuals will be on a computer tape in the future and easily accessible when needed.

In governmental units where alcoholism is ruled a disease by the courts, mental health agencies are called upon to provide treatment because punishment is ruled out, Dr. Barton said.

"This is the situation in Washington, D. C., and the courts there are expected to rule soon that dope addicts can't be punished," he added.

GOLDWATER ABSOLVED

In answer to a question, Dr. Barton said that no responsible conservative group opposes mental health progress.

He added that Goldwater is a responsible conservative and has been an active supporter of mental health in his state.

"The John Birch Society, however, is on record as opposing mental health programs," Dr. Barton said.

The mental health leader launched his after dinner speech with a humorous account of his traumatic experience of leaving balmy Washington, D. C. yesterday and arriving in Pontiac during the peak of the snowstorm.

3 New Centers for Head Start

Three new centers for Pontiac's Head Start Program this fall were accepted by the Pontiac Board of Education last night.

The centers, used in the training of underprivileged preschoolers, will be at the Messiah Missionary Baptist Church, St. James Baptist Church and in the Lakeside Housing Project.

The locations were recommended by a joint committee of school and Office of Economic Opportunity officials.

The centers are in primarily Negro areas of Districts 1 and 7.

★ ★ ★

The committee was formed to investigate new locations after officials of the school board and the OEO met a week ago with Congressman Jack H. McDonald, R-19th District.

The executive board of the OEO will receive the recommendations for the new centers at its meeting next week.

The Board of Education, in a resolution accepting the three centers, stated, however, that it will not be in a position to contribute to the costs of remodeling the centers or to assume the entire 20 per cent local contribution for the $300,000 Head Start program.

12 Is Her Number

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Cathy Sweeney was 12 years old on the 12th day of the 12th month, December. She was born on the 12th wedding anniversary of her parents — Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Sweeney.

Group Stands by Income Tax

Longevity pay — described by Warren as "a problem very much with us" — is among commission recommendations for fiscal 1968.

"Now we have a framework within which to work," Barker declared after Warren's 15-minute presentation.

★ ★ ★

"We now know the areas in which the commission desires to spend the money if it is made available to them."

ACTION BY CITY

Asked by Barker if the city had taken action on PFSC recommendations for tighter finance control and reduced city labor expenses, Warren replied in the affirmative.

"We've just today announced the appointment of our new finance director (edward R. Gallagher)," he said, "and we consider ourselves very fortunate in obtaining his services.

"In addition, we've hired a cost accountant to work closely with our efforts in public works and services — this will give us substantial improvement in comparing city costs with contracting costs."

★ ★ ★

Barker said the tax study committee would meet again March 29, shortly after receiving a final report from its revenue subcommittee.

MICHIGAN LAW

State law prescribes city-levied income taxes as 1 per cent on individuals and corporations within the city and ½ per cent on nonresidents working in the city.

★ ★ ★

"What this committee now has to determine as far as a recommendation is concerned," Barker said, "is 'when' and 'how.'"

★ ★ ★

If adopted by the commission, an income tax would begin producing revenue for the city in January, 1968 — barring a referendum and subsequent election on the issue.

$220 in Articles Are Stolen From Avon Twp. Home

Items valued at more than $220 were stolen from an Avon Township man's home, it was reported to Oakland County sheriff's deputies yesterday.

★

A portable radio, two watches and two cameras were reportedly taken from the home of Robert Robertson of 1469 E. Avon Circle, deputies said.

★ ★ ★

Investigators said entry was apparently made by breaking through a front door window.

Deputies said they found a button at the scene believed to be from the burglar's coat.

Hints Point to New Viet Peace Moves

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Poland's ambassador to the United Nations flew home to talk to his government, Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin said new efforts to end the Vietnam war are under way in "several quarters" and a usually well-informed diplomat at the United Nations said Wednesday night that "things are stirring."

These developments all appeared to stem from conferences U.N. Secretary General U Thant had Tuesday with U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, Polish Ambassador Bohdan Tomorowicz and Canadian Ambassador George Gnatieff.

★ ★ ★

Canada, Poland and India are the members of the International Control Commission in Vietnam. The Canadian foreign secretary refused to give details to the House of Commons in Ottawa Wednesday, Goldberg spoke only in generalities, and the U.N. source added only that "a ferment is going on."

But their brief comments and the Polish ambassador's trip to Warsaw reinforced talk of a new round of peace initiatives.

'KEEP FIGHTING'

Red China's official Peking People's Daily urged the Vietnamese Communists to ketp on fighting and said the only way to deal with the United States is "to strike hard and resolutely."

President Johnson, addressing the Tennessee Legislature in Nashville, rejected suggestions that bombing of the North be halted in an effort to get negotiations started. He said there has just been another "flurry of peace feelers" but indicated there were no substantial new peace moves.

Reuther to Seek Support Now for AFL-CIO Pullout

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Walter P. Reuther plans to ask representatives of 200,000 skilled tradesmen in the United Auto Workers for endorsement of his threat to pull the 1.4-million-member union out of the AFL-CIO.

Unless there is a last-minute change in plans, delegates to the UAW's 12th international skilled trades conference will be asked to support Reuther's charge that the labor movement is "vegetating" under leadership of the AFL-CIO's president, George Meany, 73. The conference opened today.

A vote most likely will be called for tomorrow or Saturday among 1,300 delegates from practically every UAW local union in the United States and Canada.

A vote on the threatened pullout had not been anticipated before a UAW general convention in Detroit April 20-22.

The 59-year-old Reuther delayed until tomorrow his keynote speech to the three-day conference, and associates forecast he would go into differences with the AFL-CIO's ruling Executive Council, which he has said is made up of "ancient men of labor out of step with the times."

Meany has accused Reuther of viewing himself as a savior of mankind, being more interested in wofld affairs than in bread-and-butter union affairs.

The UAW's 26-member International Executive Board recently laid down what virtually amounted to an ultimatum to the 13.5-million-member federation.

It said in effect: Reconstruct yourself or we get out.

At the same time the UAW's board ordered Reuther to resign as AFL-CIO vice president, which automatically took him off the Executive Council.

It also told three other top UAW officials to give up committee assignments under the Executive Council.

On top of that, the board said it would ask authority from the April general convention to withdraw the union from the AFL-CIO when and if the board thinks it advisable.

Reuther contends his differences with Meany are "not matters of personalities, prestige and power" but are "programs, policies and principles."

Some have accused Reuther of attempting to force Meany out and gain the presidency for himself.

Bunker's immediate task will be to assure success of efforts already under way to form a new, constitutional South Vietnamese government.

F. J. Poole Named Leader of 1967 Area UF Campaign

FREDERICK J. POOLE

The appointment of Frederick J. Poole as general chairman of the 1967 Pontiac Area United Fund campaign was announced today by Bruce J. Annett, president of the fund's board of trustees.

★ ★ ★

Poole, president of the F. J. Poole Co., succeeds Dr. Don O. Tatroe, Waterford Township superintendent of schools, who headed last year's campaign efforts which netted a record $1,042,107. Monies raised during the drive, occurring in October, provide operating expenses for the 55 agencies affiliated with the fund.

The appointment marks the 19th chairman to this position since the Pontiac Area United Fund was organized in 1949 as the second consolidated United Fund organization in the country.

In the next few weeks, Poole will be appointing a campaign cabinet to head the major Advance Gifts, Commercial, GM Industrial, Residential, Manufacturing and Promotion divisions.

★ ★ ★

In accepting the appointment, Poole said, "The job ahead is a tremendous challenge requiring over 5,000 volunteers share my belief in the work and worth of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

'GIVER'S ORGANIZATION'

"The concept of a United Fund is that of a giver's organization — those who give volunteer time and voluntary contributions. It belongs to the community which supports it. It serves our community needs directly and is responsive to change and growth as our community changes and grows.

Area Man Dies in Plane Crash

An Orchard Lake man was killed last night when the private plane he was flying crashed into a frozen lake near Plymouth, Ind.

Indiana State Police said Norman J. Magill, 40, of 4715 Dublin died when his single-engine Cessna 210 plunged through the ice an hour and a half after taking off from LaPorte, Ind., 50 miles away, at 10:30 p.m.

Thomas Ellis, owner of the plane and Magill's employer at the A & E Tool Service, Inc., Detroit, said he knows of no reason for the crash or for the time lapse between takeoff and the accident.

"He left yesterday morning to go to Muskegon and Gary, Ind., and he called me last night to say he would stay overnight in Gary as he didn't want to fly back at night," Ellis said.

"He was an extremely well-qualified pilot, in fact he used to manage an airport near Elkhart, Ind."

City Finance Study Group Is Unchanged on Tax Stand

By DAVID J. COOK

A city income tax remains a recommended source of future revenue for Pontiac following a brief meeting last night of the Pontiac Finance Study Committee (PFSC).

Acting committee chairman Edward E. Barker Jr. said after the meeting the group's refusal Feb. 3 to support a property tax increase "would stand."

Barker said, however, that the PFSC revenue subcommittee would meet within 12 days to work out "definite recommendations on revenue" based on the City Commission's appraisal of needed expenditures.

A two-year schedule of commission-supported expenditures was presented to the committee last night by City Manager Joseph A. Warren.

The proposed improvements through 1968 include:

★ ★ ★

- Addition of 38 policemen at a cost of $325,500;
- New police equipment costing $40,000;
- Expenditure of $150,000 on local street maintenance;
- Restoration of $75,000 to the parks and recreation budget, slashed by that same amount in 1962;

★ ★ ★

- Improved street lighting at a cost of $30,000;
- Stepped-up housing inspection, costing $40,000;
- In 1968, addition of four firemen at an expense of $42,000.

NO ALLOWANCE

The schedule makes no allowance for further city employe pay increases through Dec. 31 of this year, but anticipates 1968 salary adjustments up to $275,000.

One Inch of ---- Fell Yesterday

Yesterday's snow was a figment of the imagination.

Unpredicted and unheralded except by the Farmer's Almanac—which everyone knows is based on unscientific superstition and old wives' tales—the one-inch accumulation was not to be believed.

Thirteen degrees was the low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said today would be partly cloudy and cold with highs varying from 30 to 36.

★ ★ ★

Tonight there's a chance of snow flurries with lows of 14 to 20.

The outlook for tomorrow is the same.

★ ★ ★

P.S. The Almanac has no more snow warnings listed for this year.

52-Cent Refund Lawsuit Filed

A lawsuit filed yesterday challenging Oakland County's 1966 tax levy procedure was viewed by County Board of Auditors Chairman Daniel T. Murphy as a guidance maneuver initiated by Wayne County.

★ ★ ★

"We're being the goat," Murphy said when he learned of the suit filed by attorney Louis G. Basso and his wife, Margaret, who own property at 968 Purdy, Birmingham.

The suit claims the tax levy in excess of the 15-mill limitation was illegal and calls for a refund of 52 cents to the plaintiffs.

Basso is the son of Wayne County budget director Louis Basso.

★ ★ ★

Last fall Oakland County Corporation Counsel Robert P. Allen ruled that the county could exceed the 15-mill limitation to pay bonding obligations of $236,500 due the County Building Authority on the new courthouse wing and $54,530 for drain assessments.

WAYNE RULING

Wayne County's corporation counsel reportedly made an opposite ruling which stymied efforts of Wayne County budget officials to spread an added levy.

Named in Basso's suit as defendants are Oakland County, County Treasurer James E. Seeterlin, the County Tax Allocation Board, Birmingham Treasurer R. T. Berger and the City of Birmingham.

Seeterlin and Oak Park assessor Donald A. Melchert were the only persons who strongly objected to Allen's ruling that the bonding levy was constitutional.

★ ★ ★

Seeterlin last October requested that the board of supervisors seek an opinion from the State Attorney General but no action was taken.

'VOTE NEEDED'

"I still feel that any tax levy over the 15-mill limitation should be approved only by a vote of the people," Seeterlin said today.

17 City Policemen, 8 Citizens Honored

By JIM LONG

Seventeen Pontiac policemen and eight citizens yesterday were awarded certificates of meritorious service by Police Chief William K. Hanger.

★ ★ ★

The citations were presented at the second annual police awards ceremony held in the City Commission chamber at City Hall.

The guest speaker, Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem, prefaced his remarks by commending Hanger and police for the way the department has been operating.

"The policeman's job has always been a difficult one," said Ziem, "but recent Supreme Court decisions have made the job more difficult."

Ziem said he disagreed with some of these decisions.

"But I will follow the law as it is, not as I wish it were," said Ziem.

Five officers were recognized for their part in clearing up an armed robbery of People's Food Market, 263 Auburn, on Jan. 19.

They are patrolmen Joseph Gallardo, Stanley D. Helgemo, Neil R. McCormack, O. Keith Kissinger and Raymond V. Solwold.

★ ★ ★

Gallardo, McCormack, Sgt. Earl W. Skrobeck and Patrolman Travis A. Liveley each received two citations.

SECOND AWARD

Gallardo received his second award for his initiative that led to the arrest of three persons for forgery on April 1, 1966.

McCormack's other citation was for his part in the arrest of an armed bandit and an accomplice who held up the Clark Service Station, 411 W. Huron, on Nov. 9, 1966.

The two awards presented to Skrobeck were for the arrest of two men for the attempted burglary of the Eagles Lodge in January 1966; and the arrest of a man involved in the breakins of the Minit Lunch and Triple X restaurants last November.

★ ★ ★

Liveley was honored for the capture of a burglar in the Coca Cola Bottling Co., 1130 Wide Track, on May 10, 1966; and for preventing a forcible rape of a brutally beaten woman behind a bar.

OTHER HONORS

Other police awards went to:

Sgt. Robert W. Verhine for the Nov. 25, 1965 apprehension of a juvenile who 25, 1965 apprehension of a juvenile

Last County Cage Squad Eliminated

Birmingham Five Is Loser in Class C

By FLETCHER SPEARS

LIVONIA — Oakland County will be without a state basketball champion this year.

★ ★ ★

The county's last hope for a state crown was erased here last night as Detroit Country Day of Birmingham dropped a 58-52 decision to Detroit All Saints in a Class C quarter-final game.

The triumph earned All Saints a shot at Leslie in a semifinal scrap tomorrow at 8:30 at the Civic Center in Lansing. Leslie downed White Pigeon last night, 64-60.

The defeat brought to a close one of Country Day's finest campaigns, giving the team an overall record of 19-3.

★ ★ ★

The loss to All Saints was attributed in part to an old problem the team thought it licked during the regular season.

USED PRESS

The old problem was a press that Saints' coach Michael Guza employed on and off in the second half and it was enough to turn the tide in favor of the Detroit quintet.

★ ★ ★

Yellow Jackets' coach John Hannett could only shake his head in thinking of the press.

"It bothered us early in the season, but I thought we had licked it," said Hannett, who was in the quarter - finals for the first time as a coach.

Trailing 23-21 at halftime, Guza tried the press early in the third stanza and it shot the Saints into a 35-30 lead with 3:49 left in the third. The squad reverted to a standard defense late in the frame but still enjoyed a 38-37 lead going into the final period.

★ ★ ★

Guza started the press again after Country Day, trailing 52-48, sliced the deficit to two points, 53-51, with 1:12 left in the game. It worked again. It unsettled the Yellow Jacket offense and produced an easy basket for the Saints to go with three free throws in the final minute.

LEADS WINNERS

Another problem the Yellow Jackets couldn't handle was 6-3 center Stanley Grayson, who scored 27 points, collecting five easy buckets by outmaneuvering the Yellow Jackets near the basket.

★ ★ ★

Along with his scoring Grayson helped the Saints control the backboards by a 52-39 margin.

Country Day had trouble finding the range in the first period and fell behind early, 12-3.

The losers' first field goal came by a short jumper by 6-9 center Dave Swift with 19 seconds left in the period.

★ ★ ★

Tim Baughman, who missed on his first seven shots, hit four straight in the second quarter to spark the Jackets to a 20-point period and a 23-21 lead at intermission.

TAKE LEAD

It was Baughman's shooting that triggered a Country Day surge early in the fourth frame. He pushed in a pair of free throws and added a basket to give Country Day a 43-40 lead with 7:00 left.

★ ★ ★

The Saints responded by tightening their defense and regained the lead for good at the 5:40 mark, 45-43.

Baughman led the losers with 21 points, while Swift and Paul Miller tossed in 14 apiece.

Guza was happy with the victory but not particularly pleased with the Saints' play.

★ ★ ★

Both teams were shaky in the opening half. They tossed the ball away so often that they scored only five (4-1) points between them in the first four minutes.

Pershing Rolls Despite Errors

By BILL HALLS
Associated Press Writer

Can a team that commits 23 floor errors in the first half be a contender for the State Class A high school basketball title?

Detroit Pershing did just that Wednesday night and still swept past Warren Fitzgerald 89-59 to gain a semifinal berth at East Lansing Friday night.

The Doughboys will oppose Detroit Catholic Central, who ended Hamtramck's cinderella dreams with an 80-57 victory.

The other semifinal game will match Flint Central, a 71-67 victor over Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills, and Kalamazoo Central, which eliminated Ypsilanti 74-53.

Most eyes will be on Pershing's sensational senior center Spencer Haywood, when the Doughboys play Catholic Central Friday.

HITS 34 POINTS

The 6-foot-8, 220-pound pivotman notched 34 points and hauled down 13 rebounds in Pershing's triumph over Fitzgerald. Haywood's running mate, guard Ralph Simpson, scored 21 points and added 10 rebounds as the Doughboys raced to a 45-33 halftime lead.

★ ★ ★

Fitzgerald, ending the season with a 20-2 mark, played without 6-foot-5 center Cliff Castor, out with a sprained ankle. John Pahoski topped Fitzgerald with 22 points.

Catholic Central can thank Gutkowski for the victory over Hamtramck. He scored 24 points, most of them early in the game when the Cosmos still had a chance for victory.

★ ★ ★

Gutkowski, who averaged 13 points during the regular season, has been hitting at a 24-point-a-game clip in the tournament.

"I've got confidence in myself now," said the 6-foot-6 center who also hauled in 20 rebounds. "I'm not afraid to shoot now. I was before."

★ ★ ★

It was a good thing, because the Shamrocks' ace scorer, Nick Ferri, hit on only five of his first 22 shots. He didn't get 15 of his 28 points until the last quarter.

Catholic Central's tough defense held Hamtramck's high-scoring guards, Jim Smith and Ike Blessitt to 24 points, 17 by Blessitt.

FALL BEHIND

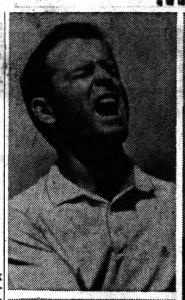
Flint Central fell behind Ottawa Hills 39-34 at the half and didn't catch up until the final six minutes before pulling out the victory.

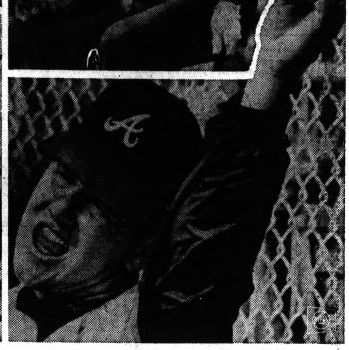
The lead changed hands four times in the final quarter until Freels Bacon hit a basket to put Central ahead 66-65 with 1:13 to play. Bacon then canned three straight free throws to ice the game.

★ ★ ★

Bacon topped Flint with 29 points. Otis Smith, who fouled out with 3:30 to play, topped Ottawa Hills with 27 points.

Kalamazoo Central led by only one point at the half but roared away after the intermission to whip Ypsilanti's Braves handily. Joe Blakely topped the Maroon Giants with 23 points and teammate Sam Simmons added 20.





EXPRESSIONS THAT BLOOM — The advent of spring means golf and baseball are around the corner and Florida is predominately the training area for competitors in both sports. These are expressions in the Florida sun. Bobby Nichols (top left) grimaces as a putt fails to drop; Doug Sanders looks as if he has taken a punch in the stomach (top right); Mickey Mantle of the Yankees shows his batting determination (lower left) and Atlanta pitcher Denny Lemaster might be giving an opinion of spring training.

Seek Blockers, Defensive HB

Barry Siler Chosen by New NFL Outfit

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Lions concentrated on bolstering weak spots in the defensive backfield and offensive line Wednesday with their picks in the combined National and American football league draft.

Detroit's top choice was offensive halfback Mel Farr of UCLA.

But after that, Coach Joe Schmidt and his aides concentrated on the defensive backfield and offensive line.

Among defensive backs drafted were Lem Barney of Jackson (Miss.) State, Mike Weger of Bowling Green, Eric Watts of San Jose State and Sam Burke of Georgia Tech.

OFFENSIVE LINEMEN

Offensive linemen included tackle Paul Naumoff of Tennessee, tackle Ted Tuinstrat of Iowa State, guard Jerry Hayho of Southern Cal and guard Lamarr Wright of Georgia Tech.

The only other offensive back picked by Detroit was quarterback Tim Jones of Weber State, a tiny Utah school with a big football reputation.

Lew Kamanu, a defensive end from Weber State, was another Lions pick.

The Calgary Stampeders of the Western Football Conference of the Canadian League however announced Wednesday the signing of Kamanu, a native of Hawaii.

Other Detroit selections included defensive end John McCambridge of Northwestern, end Gerry Zawaldzkas of Columbia and defensive tackle Ken Ramsey of Northwestern.

LOCAL GRIDDER

Among Michigan players selected was Barry Siler, a linebacker from Albion who was chosen 14th by the New Orleans Saints. Siler is a former West Bloomfield High gridder.

Other players with Michigan college affiliations selected:

Baltimore: Bubba Smith, defensive end, Michigan State; Jim Detwiler, halfback, Michigan; Rick Volk, defensive back, Michigan.

Minnesota: Clint Jones, halfback, MSU; Gene Washington, end, MSU.

Dallas: Curtis Marker, guard, Northern Michigan.

New York Jets: Jeff Richard-

Ex-Mentor Accepts 'Horns' in Defeat

DETROIT (AP) — An in-and-out night for Dave DeBusschere may have cost the Detroit Pistons a spot in the National Basketball Association's Western Division playoffs.

Detroit, with three games to play, dropped a 98-91 decision to the Chicago Bulls Wednesday night. Detroit fell a half game behind the Bulls in the battle for the fourth and final playoff berth in the West.

Chicago has two games left to play so the decision on who makes the NBA playoffs may go to the final day of the season. A tie for last place would necessitate a playoff for the playoffs. If that happens, the game will be played in Detroit.

In other NBA games, Baltimore crushed New York 121-114, Cincinnati beat Boston 112-108 and Philadelphia dumped Los Angeles 138-123.

Detroit, which led 54-51 at the half, fell before the marksmanship of Chicago's Jerry Sloan. He scored 32 points and put the Bulls ahead to stay, 71-70, with a basket in the third quarter.

DeBusschere who scored only eight points, was disconsolate after the game.

"I can't believe I could play that bad," said the former Pistons player-coach. "If I could have just shot better we would have won. Everything I threw up there went in and out--It's all my fault."

Central Michigan Ousted in Tourney

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Elvin Ivory carried the hot hand as Central Michigan was eliminated from the NAIA basketball tournament 70-62 by Southwestern Louisiana Wednesday.

Ivory hit 10 of 14 floor shots as Southwestern overcame a 37-34 halftime deficit to upend the Chippewas.

Southwestern took a 61-54 lead with 3:09 to play, but CMU fought back to within one point with 1:42 remaining only to run out of gas.

Ivory led Southwestern with 24 points. Willie Iverson topped the Chips with 25. CMU ended the season with a 23-3 record.

Pro Football Tapping College Cage Talent

NEW YORK (AP) — On the final day of the first combined draft by the National and American football leagues such stars as Jimmy Walker, Pat Riley and George Carter were picked.

If you say these three were basketball stars in college, you're right.

★ ★ ★

And if you also say such pro football players as All-NFL defensive back Cornell Green of Dallas played basketball instead of football in college, you're right again.

So, following the formula which has proved so successful in the cases of players like Green and his Dallas teammate Pete Gent, the pros selected Walker and several other basketball standouts Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Walker, the All-America from Providence which fields no football team, was taken by New Orleans on the last pick of the 17th and final round.

The 25 NFL-AFL clubs drafted 262 players in the final 12 rounds after picking 133 Tuesday in the first five rounds.

GRID STARS

Some college stars, strictly in football, drafted Wednesday included quarterback Terry Southall of Baylor, by Baltimore in the sixth round; quarterback Virgil Carter of Brigham Young, by Chicago in the sixth; Tulsa tackle Don Bandy by Washington in the sixth, and All-America defensive back Tom Beier of Miami, Fla. by Miami in the 10th.

★ ★ ★

One player also was signed — San Diego's first round pick, defensive tackle Ronald Billingsley of Wyoming.

Riley, the backcourt star from Kentucky, was selected by Dallas in the 11th round. Carter, the scoring star of St. Bonaventure, another school which shuns football, was picked in the 13th by Buffalo.

Walker was chosen as an end, Riley as a quarterback and Carter as a halfback.

Wings Retain Fading Hope

TORONTO (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings, fighting to keep their slim playoff hopes alive, struck for two third period goals Wednesday night for a 4-2 victory over Toronto.

But the Wings failed to gain on the Montreal Canadiens who hammered Boston 11-2 while Chicago dumped New York 3-1.

The result left the Red Wings eight points behind Montreal for the fourth and final playoff spot with eight games to play.

★ ★ ★

Red Wings' rookie Doug Roberts slapped home the deciding goal on an assist by Gordie Howe at 1:40 of the third period in Detroit's victory over the Maple Leafs.

Paul Henderson scored the first and fourth Detroit goals and Howe managed the other tally.

EARLY LEAD

Bob Pulford and Jim Pappin scored for Toronto to give the Leafs a 2-1 lead in the first period. Detroit tied it on Howe's goal at 1:21 of the second period before Roberts and Henderson wrapped up the victory.

Ralph Backstrom, John Ferguson and Bobby Rousseau each scored two goals in Montreal's victory over Boston.

★ ★ ★

Bobby Hull scored his 49th goal of the season into an empty net with nine seconds to play in Chicago's victory over New York. Phil Esposito and Ken Hodge got the other Black Hawk tallies. Orland Kurtenbach scored New York's lone goal.

House Defeats 1st Bill of Year

Guest Passenger Act, DST Revival Killed

LANSING (AP) — The House Wednesday defeated a bill for the first time this year, rejecting a measure that would have repealed Michigan's "guest passenger act."

House members also easily defeated an attempt to reconsider the vote by which they gave immediate effect to a bill exempting Michigan from Daylight Saving Time. Wednesday's action allowed the bill to go back to the Senate.

* * *

On the calendar for today was one bill involving implied consent in drunken driving cases and another permitting a delay in implementing the state Medicaid program.

The guest passenger act would have exempted a driver from damages suffered by a nonpaying passenger in his car unless the driver was guilty of "gross negligence or wilful and wanton misconduct."

AVOID PAYING

Members favoring repeal of the act noted a negligent driver currently can avoid paying damages suffered by his passengers.

If a driver transporting his neighbor's cow negligently causes injury to the animal, noted Rep. Thomas Brown, R-Lansing, the owner can sue and collect damages. But if the neighbor himself is crippled in a similar accident, he cannot collect from the driver.

* * *

Opponents of repeal said it would increase liability insurance rates and would make people unwilling to give others a ride.

The repealer, sponsored by Oak Park Democrat Daniel Cooper, was defeated 69-31.

SERVED NOTICE

The House passed the time bill Tuesday but kept possession of it after Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D - Detroit, served notice he would ask for a reconsideration of the vote on passage.

Kowalski did not make the request Wednesday, but Rep. Dale Kildee did move to reconsider the vote by which the bill was given immediate effect. Kildee's motion lost, 28-72.

* * *

When the House adjourned, the bill was returned to the Senate which has passed it but has not given it immediate effect.

Unless the measure gets immediate effect, requiring a 2-3 vote in the Senate, and is signed by the governor before April 1, the state will go on Daylight Saving Time April 30 under a 1966 federal law.

The implied consent bill, up for debate today, provides that a person arrested for drunken driving who refuses chemical tests may have his license suspended. The refusal could be used in court against him.

State GOP Caucus Airs Tax Rebates

LANSING (AP)— Senate Republicans discussed Wednesday what, if any, property tax rebates should be included in a proposed state income tax package. But they failed to reach a majority position on the matter.

Senate majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, said the GOP caucus considered six property tax plans. The caucus intended to continue its discussion today.

* * *

The meeting was the third in a series in which Republicans are examining fiscal reform proposals in detail in an effort to reach a majority position prior to considering Gov. George Romney's income tax bills.

Senate Taxation Committee Chairman Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek, said most Republicans seemed to favor Romney's proposed state payment of 10 per cent of all local property tax bills.

MORE RELIEF

However, some senators favored adjustment of the percentage figure to provide more relief for individual property tax payers than for corporations, DeMaso said.

Formed by Ex-Aides of JFK

Fund Yields to Critics

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

CUNNIFF

NEW YORK — Some former aides of President Kennedy who formed a mutual fund to sell shares in American business and real estate to foreigners have now made some basic changes, partly as a result of criticism.

Even though the operation, the United States Investment Fund, is less than a year old, it had become embroiled in the wide, general criticism of the mutual fund industry. And specific criticisms were leveled also.

* * *

No longer will the fund, based in the Bahamas, accept accounts designated by numbers rather than by name. No longer will it reinvest in other mutual funds, a practice criticized as costly to investors.

Both these practices are legal and, in fact, widely used in foreign financial operations. The atmosphere, however, is becoming charged with adverse criticism.

The Kennedy aides, former White House Press Secretary Pierre Salinger among them, also felt desirous of obtaining an early reputation for mutual fund reform, in line with recommendations of the Securities and Exchange Commission. They were equally desirous of avoiding the derailment of a potentially profitable worldwide venture.

The story of the former presidential aides and their mutual fund goes back several years, but only last summer did the United States Investment Fund arrive on the scene, designed as a vehicle to sell foreign investors on the profit potential of owning a bit of America.

This was an imaginative, triple purpose fund. It offered foreign investors the chance to buy shares in any of three portfolios: (1) A mutual fund that would then reinvest in American mutual funds, (2) A fund that would invest in American stocks and (3) A real estate portfolio.

* * *

Headquarters were set up in Nassau, the Bahamas, where there are no local income, sales or inheritance taxes and where, of course, American taxes do not apply.

Shortly thereafter, the SEC filed its highly critical report on mutual funds.

SEC CRITICAL

Among other things, the SEC criticized mutual fund holding companies as poor investments. To pay a commission to a mutual fund that in turn paid a commission to another mutual fund was not good practice, the SEC said.

The SEC has little jurisdiction over the United States Investment Fund. However, as former Washingtonians, the fund's board is experienced and knowledgeable in various areas. Richard Donahue, lawyer, fund officer and former White House liaison man with Congress, commented:

"The board felt that whether good, bad or indifferent to our interests, we should be in the vanguard of reform."

In other words, a reputation for reform and cooperation rather than antagonism, as was the immediate reaction from some funds, was simply good business.

ELIMINATION

The fund, therefore, eliminated its mutual fund portfolio, the first to publicly announce such a move, an announcement scheduled to have been made at the annual meeting in Nassau next month.

The numbered account aspect left the fund wide open for exploitation by various parties with one common motive: to remain anonymous. It also left it wide open to criticism.

* * *

To their chagrin, the officers found, as Donahue put it, that the anonymous accounts operation "subjected us to more criticism than it was worth. We wanted long-term investors, not those seeking bearer (securities issued by number) paper."

Trimmed of some problems, the fund officers now are emphasizing the real estate portfolio, which they claim is unique among funds.

MRS. L. P. WILLIAMS

Grandmother Will Oppose Adam Powell

NEW YORK (AP) — Lucille Pickett Williams, a 50-year-old grandmother, has taken on the Republican task of opposing Democrat Adam Clayton Powell in a special congressional election April 11 because she wants to "preserve the two-party system."

* * *

For 20 years, she has been working for the Republican party while holding a series of jobs ranging from a stock girl at Sak's Fifth Avenue to teaching beauty culture at the YWCA.

* * *

"I am a determined woman," she says, noting that there appears to be overwhelming popular support for Powell in the Harlem community. She says she has no fear that the people will turn against her as they did on James H. Meredith when he agreed to oppose Powell as the Republicans' first choice, then withdrew.

"I have no fear of the people up here," she says. "I've spent the best years of my life here, 22 years. I've worked hard for the two-party system. I think it's important for people who don't want to vote for Adam to have choice."

PARTY SPIRIT

A week ago when Meredith had declared his intention to run against Powell, Mrs. Williams was determined to stop him, because she was sure he would wreck the small toehold the Republicans have managed to get in Harlem.

* * *

Two days ago, she went into a caucus of Republican leaders determined to convince her party if it should endorse Powell, as it did in 1958, when she supported him.

Strontium 85 Can Diagnose Cancer

By Science Service

NEW YORK — A new diagnosis of bone cancer, using strontium 85, has been reported by the American Cancer Society, which supported the research.

Dr. David M. Sklaroff of Philadelphia's Albert Einstein Medical Center first tested calcium 47, but because it is difficult to obtain and too energetic, he decided to administer tiny trace doses of strontium 85 introvenously.

* * *

Two or three days after injecting the strontium, Dr. Sklaroff went over each patient with a radiosensitive instrument that recorded the radiation emitted from each body area. He found that the strontium isotope concentrated in bone cancers and marked their presence clearly on the scan, thus proving strontium to be a first-rate substitute for radio calcium. The method is even better than X-ray in some instances.

Pair Await Arraignment in Burglary

Two Waterford Township burglar suspects were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday following their preliminary examinations before Township Justice Patrick K. Daly.

Clarence J. Brown, 18, of 1604 Alma, and David Daley, 21, of 3060 Seebaldt are slated to appear before Circuit Judge William J. Beer for arraignment at 2 p.m. March 27.

They are charged with breaking and entering Wayne's Sinclair Service, 930 S. Cass Lake, Jan. 25.

Township police said about $1,500 worth of tools and automobile equipment was taken in the break-in.

Brown and Daley also are suspected in 22 other township burglaries, including several recent school break-ins, according to police.

LOOT IN CAR

The pair was taken into custody by township police earlier this month after alleged stolen merchandise was found in Brown's car.

Brown and Daley both posted bond on the breaking and entering count.

Consul Treaty Near Likely Senate Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S.-Soviet consular treaty headed toward expected ratification in the Senate today.

Four attempts to attach conditions, which supporters of the treaty said would in effect doom it, were soundly defeated Wednesday.

* * *

The majorities voting against all but one of the conditions were well over the two-thirds margin necessary for ratification.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield won permission to bring the pact to a final vote today.

VOTED DOWN

The senators quickly voted down other so-called reservations and understandings after Sen. Karl E. Mundt's effort to tie the pact to the Vietnam war lost, 67 to 25.

The South Dakota Republican, chief opponent of the pact, during the debate that started last week wanted a reservation that would have required an end to Soviet aid to Hanoi before the treaty would go into effect.

Proponents of the treaty argued that was outside the realm of a treaty which would set up operating rules for consulates in the two countries. And they cited statements by Secretary of State Dean Rusk urging that no change or conditions be attached because they would jeopardize chances of Soviet ratification.

A similar Vietnam reservation offered by Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., was beaten, 71 to 20.

ADDED WORDS

One by Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., went down, 68 to 24. His would have added words to the effect that the treaty would in no way jeopardize the security of the United States.

An understanding proposed by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, earned the closest vote — 51 to 38, less than the two-thirds majority.

Mrs. Smith wanted an expression of Senate "hope" that no Soviet consulates would be opened before the Vietnam war was brought to "an honorable conclusion."

Hearing Ends Over 'Sniper'

Decision on Freedom Expected in a Week

Ionia Circuit Judge Leo Bebeau will decide in a week or more if Oakland County's "phantom sniper," Gary Addison Taylor, should be released from Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane.

The habeas corpus hearing for Taylor, 30, of Royal Oak, ended last night but Judge Bebeau said it would be a week or 10 days before he rules.

Taylor, confined since 1958 as a sexual psychopath except for one brief interval, contends he is cured and seeks his liberty.

Expert opionion disagreed on Taylor's condition over a period of two days of a hearing before Bebeau.

★ ★ ★

Dr. William E. Gordon of Detroit, psychiatrist, testified that Taylor still was mentally ill and not recovered sufficiently to be freed.

STATE DEMAND

The state demands that Taylor be kept confined.

An Oakland County court ordered Taylor's confinment because he had fired gunshots at a number of women and girls in Royal Oak. Taylor then was 19 years old. The alleged attacks took place in 1957.

Over objections of defense counsel, the state recalled Taylor to the stand for additional cross-examination.

★ ★ ★

Taylor said if he were freed, he planned to live in Ionia, get a job, and attend Michigan State University.

FINAL WITNESS

Dr. Gordon, the final witness, said he examined Taylor as the latter's personal physician and though he found him improved, his condition required further confinement.

Dr. Gordon's testimony corroborated that of Dr. A. A. Birsgalis, superintendent of the Ionia hospital. Dr. Birzgalis opposed freedom for Taylor.

Romney Home From 'School'

3 Days at Harvard Talking With Experts

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney returned to Michigan Wednesday night after three days at Harvard University where he studied experts' views on national issues.

"I had an opportunity to confer with top experts in various fields, including urban affairs, economic problems, the European situation and the Far East," Romney told newsmen after his return.

★ ★ ★

The governor, considered a top prospect for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, described his attendance at the seminar at the John F. Kennedy Institute of Politics as "worthwhile."

"I secured information I didn't have before and I think also in the two-way exchange some of those I talked to benefitted," he said.

CHANCE TO LEARN

Romney said he also had a chance to learn what students and faculty members are thinking. He said he hopes to confer with similar groups at other institutions "particularly here in Michigan."

He declined to comment about a private conference he had with faculty members. He said it dealt with Vietnam, but added: "It would be improper to comment on it or indicate impressions gained as a result."

Before leaving Harvard, Romney huddled with Massachusetts Gov. John A. Volpe and several leading state Republicans. Volpe emerged from the meeting saying the party's liberal-moderate element should line up early behind a single candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

The 59 requests from staff members range from additional personnel to reduce class size in elementary schools to new cash registers in the senior high school.

City Affairs

One of the proposals, estimated to cost $60,000, would expand the police counselor programs to include junior high and feeder elementary schools.

Six new police counselors are being requested.

★ ★ ★

The plan recommends that these positions be financially supported by the school district and the city, with each paying $30,000.

School Supt. Dr. Dana Whitmer said that the potential 1967-68 income will be known about June 1, and the board of education at that time will be able to consider some of the proposed items for inclusion in the budget.

The school board, in other business, approved the sale of $620,000 in bonds to Pontiac State Bank.

The funds from the sale will be used to purchase a 122-acre site on the southwest corner at Featherstone and Opdyke for a secondary school.

Pontiac State Bank was the lowest of six bidders with its interest rate of slightly less than 3 per cent.

COST OF INTEREST

The interest will cost the school district $37,149 before the four-year bonds are retired.

Retirement of the bonds will require a half-mill levy in 1967 and a 1-mill levy in 1968-69.

The board also directed the Pontiac architectural firm of Denyes and Freeman to prepare preliminary drawings for a new elementary school adjacent to the Lincoln Junior High School.

The new school is being planned to eventually accommodate 950 pupils.

Mentally Handicapped Will Demonstrate Sports

Mentally handicapped children and their teachers will demonstrate the importance of physical education in their training during a conference at Oakland University tomorrow and Saturday.

About 150 teachers and supervisors of special education and physical education programs are expected at the gymnasium and pool-side meetings to watch the children demonstrate what they can learn about sports and gymnastics.

Students from Pontiac and Birmingham will go through basic movement routines and play low organization level games during tomorrow's sessions.

A class from Coldwater State Home and Training School will demonstrate body building, rhythms and tumbling.

Other sessions will be conducted by staff members from the Metropolitan Toronto Retarded Children's Authority.

WAYS OF PARTICIPATING

Larry Meier, Brandon Community Schools special education teacher, will outline ways mentally handicapped youngsters can participate in the school physical education program.

Donald A. Place, Oakland Schools consultant for the mentally handicapped, will describe camping and outdoor education projects that have been successful in programs for the youngsters.

Place and Dr. Lee Haslinger, Pontiac School System director of physical education, are co-chairmen of the conference.

3 Youths Held in Car Thefts

Two Face Breaking, Entering Charges

Three youths were captured by Pontiac State Police early today after allegedly stealing two cars last night.

Two of the youths, 17-year-old James Bond of 10260 Allen, Clarkston, and a 16-year-old juvenile also face breaking and entering charges.

The third youth also was a juvenile, State Police said.

Bond was to have been arraigned before Independence Township Justice William H. Stamp today on the breaking and entering and unlawfully driving away an automobile charges.

★ ★ ★

Troopers Ronald A. Shulters and David C. Suminski apprehended the suspects at the Payless Service Station, 6594 Dixie, Independence Township, at about 12:30 this morning after the theft of two automobiles owned by township residents was reported.

DAIRY JOB

Bond and one of the juveniles are accused of breaking into the Richardson Farm Dairy, 5838 M15, Independence Township, earlier this week.

A transistor radio, cigarettes and other small items were taken in the break-in, State Police said.

Farmers' Group in State Starts Holdout of Milk

OWOSSO (AP) — National Farmers Organization members in Michigan started a milk holding action today as part of a nationwide attempt to win a contract that would boost the farmers' milk price 2 cents a quart.

★ ★ ★

Charles King, NFO publicity chairman in Michigan, confirmed the start of the holding action after it was announced by NFO national headquarters in Corning, Iowa.

"My milk is going to stay in the tank," said King who milks 21 cows and supplies about 700 pounds of milk a day from his farm near Owosso.

★ ★ ★

NFO leaders decline to reveal the number of members in the farm organization, which aims at negotiating contracts to guarantee a price for milk, meat and other farm commodities.

NOT THE SAME

Their complaint is that when they go shopping, they pay the price marked on the item, but when they go to sell their products to processors, they end up asking, "What will you pay?"

Michigan dairy farmers receive about $5.53 a hundred weight (46½ quarts) for their milk. The NFO seeks a boost of $1 a hundredweight.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, the NFO challenged the Michigan Milk Producers Association to a public discussion at a meeting of dairy farmers.

The two farm organizations have been at odds recently over Michigan's dairy price situation.

MAKES CHALLENGE

Ray Neilsen Jr., Saranac dairy farmer and state NFO representative, sent a telegram to Glenn, president of the association, in which he made the challenge.

There was no immediate response from Lake.

★ ★ ★

Neilsen said his wire to Lake proposed a public discussion with both organizations limited to 30 minutes a side and then open the meeting for questions from dairy farmers. Neilsen suggested the Lapeer Center Building at Lapeer for the meeting.

Neilsen said the NFO feels Lake misstated the facts concerning NFO and its efforts to get higher prices for dairy farmers. Lake recently responded to an invitation from the NFO to bring association directors into a parley about the dairy situation by challenging the NFO to reveal more facts about itself.

★ ★ ★

NFO leaders contend that secrecy about its affairs gives the organization extra marketing power in its dealings with processors.
