

GM Is Still Hobbled by Local-Level Strikes

BATTLE FLAMES — The aerial unit from the Pontiac Fire department was pressed into service in the nearby community of Lake Orion yesterday morning to fight the towering flames atop the Masonic Temple building there. The second-floor temple was gutted and the two businesses on the ground level were damaged extensively by water. (Other pictures on pages A-2 and A-4.)

'Worst Fire in 30 Years' Guts Lake Orion Temple

Lake Orion's worst fire in over 30 years gutted the Masonic Temple and caused extensive water damage to two businesses on the floor below yesterday morning.

Damage to the two-story brick building in the heart of the business district was estimated at about $100,000 by Lake Orion Fire Chief Jack Caylor.

Brief Rite for Burial of Hoover

WEST BRANCH, Iowa — Two soldiers stood guard today on a cedar-shrouded hillside where Herbert Clark Hoover, 31st president of the United States, was buried yesterday after a brief, solemn ceremony.

Thousands walked slowly past the grave after the service, which was attended by Hoover's family, his friends and colleagues.

An estimated 75,000 persons stood in the distance, behind fence fences and cordons of soldiers, as a leading Quaker, Dr. Elton Trueblood, conducted the final rites.

"This is not a time for tears," said Dr. Trueblood, a friend of Hoover. His words echoed from loudspeakers down the grassy valley to the two-room house where Hoover was born 90 years ago.

The story of Hoover is a great one and it is a good one," he said.

TRIUMPHANT STORY

"It is essentially a story that is triumphant... and our mood today should be rejoicing."

As shadows from the tall, thin cedars fell across the grave, Hoover's coffin was lowered into a concrete vault in a 10-foot by 10-foot crypt.

The lid placed on the vault said simply "Herbert Clark Hoover" and the dates 1874 and 1964.

Soon a 4-foot by 9-foot white marble slab will be placed over the grave.

UF Drive at Third of Objective

The Pontiac Area United Fund drive reached the one-third mark today with a total of $272,147 collected toward a goal of $815,500.

Collections to date include $21,671, reported by Mrs. Merrill Petrie, chairman of the women's division.

Jack C. Brannack, chairman of the commercial division, reports $92,193 collected or 41.2 percent of its quota.

In the industrial division, Charles F. Brown, chairman, reports $154,467 collected, or a little over 50 percent of the division's quota.

The special gifts division shows $3,875 collected toward a goal of $13,658.

WOMEN'S GROUP

The women's division, with approximately 70 percent of their quota reported, hopes to hold a victory luncheon Wednesday, according to its chairman.

She explained that all cash contributions and pledges collected by the women's group over the weekend had not been reported as yet.

Two days remain to complete their program or take it over the top, if the victory luncheon is to be a reality.

In any case the group will meet at noon Wednesday.

Reports in the other three divisions are expected to swell the totals to date with the addition of the weekend results. Today's progress report was the third since the drive opened Oct. 13. It runs through Nov. 6.

15 Appointed to County Unit

Group to Coordinate Poverty Bill Program

Creation of a 15-member county commission to solicit funds and coordinate programs under the new poverty bill was announced today.

DeLois Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, announced the new Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity.

Headed by Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the board of auditors, the commission was formed to avoid a fragmented approach for antipoverty funds.

"We are establishing this commission as the agency that will coordinate the programs established under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964," said Hamlin.

The commission was formed after a representative county-wide group met with Malcolm Lovell, executive director of the Human Resources Council of the state of Michigan.

ROMNEY APPOINTMENT

Lovell has been appointed by Governor Romney as coordinator of the economic opportunity act for Michigan.

In urging the formation of the nonprofit commission, Lovell said that there should be an agency to assist the major interest groups in the county to join in a county-wide community action program.

Policy Toward West Uncertain, LBJ Told

Soviet Prestige Said Hurt by Shake-Up

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has been advised by government experts on Soviet affairs that the ouster of Premier Khrushchev has damaged the prestige of Soviet leadership at home and abroad and rendered uncertain the future course of Soviet policy toward the West.

These are among the principal conclusions reached in a new study of the sudden, sensational shakeup in the Kremlin earlier this month.

Other conclusions reported to the President, according to informed officials:

1. The best guess about the future prospects for Khrushchev's successor is that a power struggle probably cannot be avoided.

2. The experts say that Communist party boss Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin appear to represent the two bureaucracies of the party to battle with the competitive interests of the military and industrial establishment set the stage for a power struggle.

SPLIT HURTS

2. Factionalism in the Soviet Union tends to hurt Soviet interests internally and externally. The destabilization program of a decade ago is cited as a case in point. It was one of the issues over which Communist China avowedly split with the Soviet Union.

3. The violent wrench which resulted from the sudden ouster of Khrushchev has displayed to the world what experts here term the uglier side of Kremlin politics and this has been a principal contribution to the loss of Soviet prestige. It renders virtually all important aspects of Soviet policy uncertain.

4. While Brezhnev and Kosygin have reaffirmed Khrushchev's policy of coexistence, the new men and their jockeying for power could move Soviet policy in the future in almost any direction subject only to the limits of the Soviet Union's power position.

Five Prisoners Failed in Attempt to Escape Jail

Sheriff's deputies and Pontiac Police last night failed an attempt by five young prisoners to escape from the Oakland County Jail.

Three of the quintet gave themselves up to armed officers. The other two were found hiding in a storage room in the basement, 40 minutes after the attempt began.

The five prisoners were: Thomas E. Marcotte, 25, charged with breaking and entering; Joel Kukuchka, 20, breaking and entering; Jack London, 22, an escapee from the Pontiac Farm Camp; Roy Wooliver, 23, held for uttering and publishing; and Robert Mosk, 24, held for armed robbery.

The five locked turnkey Homer Hay and two trustees in a cell on the fourth floor. They were seen by matron Barbara George who sounded the alarm.

Ten Pontiac Police officers who were called to the scene surrounded the jail and assisted in the building search.

Hay was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for bruises. The five face possible charges of attempted jail-break and assaulting a turnkey.

5. The Communist-ruled countries of Eastern Europe have been given another push toward the West by the shakeup. This is evidenced by the fact that Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and East Germany have in various ways praised Khrushchev's accomplishments instead of following the new Kremlin line of denouncing his failings.

This is taken to mean that Eastern European leaders are unwilling to reverse Khrushchev's relatively liberal policies toward the Eastern European countries and that (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

LBJ, Barry Blast Political Opponents

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, keynoting the windup week of his presidential campaign, told a Maryland crowd today he is "scared stiff" at the prospect of Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey ever becoming president.

Goldwater said also that President Johnson is looking for what Goldwater called a mandate for socialism.

The Republican presidential nominee aimed much of his fire at Humphrey, the Democratic vice presidential contender, as he did Saturday in Texas.

Goldwater said flatly Johnson "is not doing the job of the president in either world affairs or on the domestic scene."

Goldwater said both Humphrey and Johnson want a planned economy.

"Now I care how you spell this thing out," Goldwater said.

SOCIALIZED ECONOMY

"When you control the economy, you are in a socialized economy," he told a crowd that turned out on a balmy Indian Summer day to stand in a big semicircle around the front of the Salisbury Civic Center.

Police estimated the Salisbury turnout at a little over 5,000. Republicans put it at 7,000.

Goldwater said President Johnson keeps asking for a mandate to unify the country. "Unify around what?" he asked. "Around that great society..."

He asked, would Johnson have the nation unify around "that curious crew" in the administration? That drew a cheer.

Recall Set for 25,700 in Pontiac

Some 25,700 workers in three local General Motors plants will return to work this week, ending a 30-day strike authorized by the United Auto Workers.

Mass meetings of all three UAW locals were held yesterday afternoon for ratification of local and national contracts, one month to the day after the nationwide strike was called.

The largest of the three locals, Local 653 at Pontiac Motor Division, voted 3,775 to 307 in favor of the national contract and 3,167 to 906 in favor of the local agreement.

Local 596 at Fisher Body Division voted 945 to 127 for the national contract and 646 to 310 for the local agreement.

Exact figures on the vote by Local 594 at GMC Truck & Coach Division weren't available, but Local President Andy Wilson said the vote was about 98 percent in favor of returning to work.

STRIKE BENEFITS

Union officials said hourly employees may collect accrued strike benefits at their union halls throughout the remainder of the week.

The Local 653 office will remain open until 8 p.m. each day, according to President John Maye.

Skilled trades, sweepers and materials handlers returned to work this morning at Fisher Body.

Several departments will report today for regular shifts at Pontiac Motor Division. The remainder will be back on the job by the end of the week.

All departments will report for regular shifts tomorrow at GMC Truck & Coach, division officials said.

Witch Flips Switch to Warmer Trend

Evenly a good witch it's a sweet cold weather out of the forecast for the last week in October and the five days before Halloween.

Temperatures will average about 10 degrees above the normal high of 56 and low of 40. Temperatures dipped to a low of 53 before 8 this morning. By 2 p.m. the mercury reached 75.

National Pact Is Ratified by Rank and File

102 of UAW's 130 Units in Agreement on At-Plant Contracts

DETROIT (AP) — Despite ending of a 31-day national walkout against General Motors Corp., the giant of the auto-making industry was hobbled today by local-level strikes that threaten to snuff out new operations.

The question of when the company that normally turns out more than half the nation's new automobiles might get any assembly lines going again was unanswered.

One company source guessed: "Within a couple of days, maybe."

The United Auto Workers union announced last night that 95 of 97 local units reporting had given "overwhelming ratification" to a new three-year national contract.

The UAW announced that the national strike was "terminated," but, at the same time, said the 28 local units which had not reached at-the-plant working agreements which supplement the national contract, would stay out.

LOCAL-LEVEL PACTS

At the time 102 of the UAW's 130 units in GM's empire had reached local-level settlements.

With announcement of the national strike's ending, GM called back maintenance and make-ready crews in the Buick, Oldsmobile, Pontiac plant in Kansas City, Kan., in addition to those in the Pontiac Division.

Louis G. Seaton, GM's vice president for personnel and its chief negotiator, said there would be other call-backs, but he was unable to pinpoint them immediately. "And I don't think anybody else can, either."

fingers, but none of them seriously.

STREET BLOCKED

The Flint and Broadway street corner was roped off yesterday because of the danger of further outbreaks of fire and possibility the weakened second floor walls would collapse.

The over 75-year-old temple building had been completely renovated both inside and out during the summer.

W. E. Burde, owner of the variety store, estimated damage to his stock and store at about $30,000. It is covered by insurance, he said.

The Masons also have insurance to cover the some $60,000 damage to the temple.

ESTIMATES DAMAGE

Gaylord set the damage to his offices at between $5,000 and $10,000.

According to Caylor, yesterday's early morning fire was the biggest in town since the Park Island dance hall and casino burned down over 30 years ago.

He said he would continue his investigation of the cause today.

Suggest Booster Pumps for City Water Supply

BIRMINGHAM — Even during the worst hot spells of the summer, Birmingham has been able to avoid restriction of water usage to maintain adequate pressure, and a proposal to preserve this ability will come before the City Commission tonight.

The Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority has suggested in a letter that a booster pump or pumps be installed on the site of the Southfield Well at Southfield and 14 Mile roads.

The purpose of such pumps would be to increase water pressure significantly, thus easing the problem of supplying water to the north side of the city.

That area of Birmingham is in excess of 700 feet above sea level, forcing the authority to use "expedients which we would not consider as practical as a long-range plan" to maintain sufficient pressure there.

The cost of such pumps would be borne by the authority, although the possibility exists that Birmingham would have to pay for an addition to the building on the site to house the new equipment, since the city owns the site.

ASK AUTHORITY

In a report to the commission, city manager L. R. Ware asked it to authorize further discussion with the water authority on the feasibility of the proposal.

Fay H. Willey Jr.

Service for Fay H. Willey Jr., 44, of 364 N. Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, was to be 1 p.m. today at Vasa-Lynch Funeral Home, Royal Oak. Burial will follow in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Willey died Friday.

General manager of Willey's Carbide Tool Co., Detroit, he was a member of Detroit Athletic Club, Red Run Club and the Union Club of Detroit.

Mr. Willey also belonged to the Moslem Temple, Olive Branch Lodge, F&AM, Dearborn, American Society of Tool Manufacturing Engineers, and Cutting Tool Manufacturing Association.

ning committee will be established to aid in analyzing and developing a comprehensive county program.

An application for planning funds will be submitted in 2-4 weeks.

Efforts to draw up a demonstration project in Pontiac are already underway. Representatives from the city, schools and various public and private welfare agencies will apply for planning and grant funds through the new commission.

Members of the county commission include Carl F. Ingraham, vice-chairman, 940 Hamon, Birmingham; James P. Dickerson, secretary, 973 Crofton, Rochester; John Mellen, treasurer, 642 Pilgrim, Birmingham.

Also, James Howlett, 104 E. Iroquois; Dr. Joseph Hudson of Detroit; Robert Kilpatrick, 183 Hupp Cross, Birmingham; Leonard Lewis, 1450 Pilgrim, Birmingham; Mrs. Carl F. Mitchell 1121 E. It displaced dissent among Soviet leaders in contrast with the apparent solidarity of the leadership under Mao Tse-tung in Peking. This suggests that any substantial reconciliation between the Soviet Union and "Red China" would be on Mao's terms.

SERIOUS PROBLEM

7. Khrushchev's successors face a serious problem in handling relations with the so-called nonaligned countries of Asia and Africa — such countries as India, Yugoslavia, Indonesia and the United Arab Republic.

Khrushchev was a personal symbol of the Soviet policy of cultivating the nonaligned countries and they are understandably agitated, their confidence shaken by his sudden departure from power.

U.S. experts now feel that probably three major problems caused the Soviet Communist party leadership to throw Khrushchev out.

Big Jets 1,000 Miles From Red China Soil

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has posted a squadron of 15 B52 heavy jet nuclear bombers on the island of Guam—within about 1,000 miles of Red China, it was learned today.

The unpublicized move, made last spring, places the 15 B52s about 5,000 miles closer to Communist China than when they were based in the United States.

The squadron sent to Guam replaces a unit of older medium jet B47 bombers. B52s have at least twice the striking range and carry much more of an atomic wallop than the B47s. The B52s also fly faster and higher.

This is the first time that the long-range B52s have been deployed overseas. The other 600 heavy jets are stationed in the United States, half of them on "runway alert" and ready for takeoff within 15 minutes.

NO MORE B52s

No additional B52s are scheduled for overseas deployment this year, the Air Force said.

Asked the reason for sending the 15 B52s to Guam, the Air Force said the purpose is "to more effectively utilize the aircraft."

The type of B52 stationed on Guam has an effective operating range of more than 6,000 miles with the fuel it carries in its own tanks.

Refueled by aerial tankers, the eight-jet B52s can extend their ranges by thousands of miles.

LAUNCH MISSILES

Furthermore, B52s are fitted to launch Hound Dog missiles can blast ground targets more than 500 miles from their mother bombers.

To confuse enemy defenses, B52s can fire off decoy flares called "Quail." The 13-foot-long Quail flies at B52 speed and altitudes, producing a "blip" on enemy radar similar to that made by an actual B52.

The Air Force gradually has been retiring its aging B47s. A one-size fleet of about 1,400 of the six-jet craft has been reduced to about 400 planes.

Air Crash Kills Nine Marines

HUELVA, Spain (AP) — Nine U.S. Marines died today in the blazing wreckage of two H4 helicopters which collided and crashed while participating in massive U.S.-Spanish amphibious maneuvers near here.

The helicopters, with scores of similar craft from the invasion fleet off shore, were preparing to land in the drop area along a rocky escarpment when they collided at an altitude of about 800 feet.

Both caught fire and were burning furiously when they hit the rocky hill. Twelve Marines aboard the two machines managed to make their way out of the flames, and a 13th was rescued badly injured.

Other Marines already landed from the ship-to-shore helicopters assisted the survivors and tried to remove the others before fire engulfed both craft.

Predict Record Number to Vote in Fall Election

WASHINGTON (AP)—Election officials and qualified political observers across the nation predict a record 70.8 million Americans will vote in the Nov. 3 elections.

In an Associated Press survey, these officials and observers in the 50 states and the District of Columbia estimated that 68,697,400 Americans are registered or otherwise qualified to vote in the presidential election.

Of this number, they predict 70,856,050 actually will cast ballots.

Many states do not have central registration and therefore can only estimate the number of qualified potential voters. Also, many states do not register voters by party, thus precluding a nationwide partisan registration breakdown.

Troops on Cyprus Replaced by Turks

FAMAGUSTA, Cyprus (UPI)—

A detachment of Turkish troops replacing units being rotated to the Turkish mainland arrived here today and left for camp near the capital of Nicosia.

The 339 officers and men were transported from the Turkish ship Baharan in seven buses under United Nations escort for the trip to the camp.

A similar escort was provided for the troops being rotated to the mainland.

A U.N. spokesman said the rotation was expected to be completed during the afternoon. The Greek Cypriot government had threatened two months ago to resist the rotation by armed force.

Omaha Paper Backs/Neither of Candidates

OMAHA, Neb. (UPI)—Nebraska's largest newspaper, the Omaha World-Herald, yesterday withheld endorsement of either presidential candidate.

The newspaper, which endorsed Republican Richard M. Nixon in 1960, said neither President Johnson nor Sen. Barry M. Goldwater "has revealed an impressive, inspiring statesmanship."

Official's Wife Dies

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Thomas A. Burke, 63, wife of the former U.S. senator and Cleveland mayor, died Sunday.

more than 4 million higher than the number of estimated eligibles prior to the 1960 election. But the predicted vote is only about 2 million above the 68,838,979 total vote in 1960.

The Census Bureau recently estimated there are 114.4 million Americans at home and abroad of voting age. But it conceded that millions of these would not be registered or otherwise eligible because of failure to meet the various state voting requirements such as residence or literacy.

In 1960 about 63 per cent of the eligible-by-age population voted. If this year's vote prediction is right, that would dip to slightly less than 62 per cent, underscoring prelection reports of apathy among some potential voters.

Officials of 15 states say the vote next week likely will be less than that cast in 1960. Leading the estimated declines are Illinois, down 257,000 and Pennsylvania, down 211,000.

Among the states whose officials forecast an increase over 1960 are California, up 300,000; Georgia, up 266,000; and Virginia, up 224,000.

The District of Columbia, casting its first presidential vote thanks to a constitutional amendment, has 221,369 registered voters, of whom about 175,000 are expected to take part.

Expect Holly Board to Decide on Bonds

HOLLY — The board of education is expected to make a decision tonight on the amount of its upcoming bond issue request.

The board has set a Dec. 14 election for funds to finance construction of elementary school additions.

The session at 8 tonight is one in a series of special meetings called by the board to work on the bonding proposition.

Troy Group Wants Ideas for Projects

TROY — Anyone know of a community project that would benefit from organized support? Residents of Oakland, Wayne or Macomb counties will get another chance to suggest such projects and/or to throw their weight behind them at a meeting tonight of Troy Community Projects (TCP).

TCP will meet at the Bernard V. Anderson residence, 3463 Crooks, at 8 p.m. to discuss a list of 20 projects already under consideration and hear suggestions for others.

The nonprofit group will also take applications for membership, open to residents of all three counties in active and junior classifications.

Only projects benefitting Troy will be considered, and a total of seven or eight will eventually be chosen as the first work of the group, incorporated in August.

30 MEMBERS

TCP has grown to nearly 30 members. The selection of Graham Neilson of 1340 Key West, as an at-large member of the board of directors has swelled the board to 10 members.

Support for projects chosen by TCP will most often take the form of public information efforts, with TCP using funds raised through membership and fund-raising drives to stir public support.

One project under consideration would involve bringing a production of "Tom Sawyer" to Troy before or after Christmas, with a cast of children.

Mackie Sets 'Lapeer Day' in Campaign

LAPEER — Tomorrow will be "Lapeer Day" for John C. Mackie's campaign for U.S. Congress.

The Mackie for Congress Headquarters in Flint announced that Mackie will spend the entire day in Lapeer as he opens his final week of campaigning before the Nov. 3 election.

The Democratic nominee for Congress from the new 7th District will be joined by upwards of a dozen Mackie Volunteers who will pass out literature, put bumper stickers on cars of those who ask for them and assist in other campaigning activities.

Mackie plans to visit stores in Lapeer's business district and will shake hands with people he meets along the way.

He may also attend one or two coffee hours during the afternoon, and a late-afternoon or evening rally is planned.

Nine Killed in 4 Separate Accidents

20 Die in State Weekend Traffic

By The Associated Press
Nine persons lost their lives in four separate traffic accidents as weekend traffic mishaps claimed at least 20 lives on Michigan streets and highways.

The Associated Press weekend traffic fatality count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The victims:

Joseph J. Juzysta, 47, of Jeddow was killed Sunday when he was struck by a car on U.S. in Worth Township of Sanilac County.

Frank Uafady, 68, of Roseville, Mabel Magill, 60, of Detroit, and Barbara Coleman, 18, of Mount Clemens were killed Sunday in a two-car collision near Romeo.

Alexander Cebelak, 75, of Grand Rapids was injured fatally Sunday when struck by a car while walking on Grand Rapids' Michigan Avenue.

Rose Marie O'Dwyer, 39, of Detroit died Sunday of injuries suffered Saturday when she was struck by a car in Redford Township outside the Motor City.

Gerald Zwarican, 19, of Clio was killed Sunday when his car left a rural road in Tuscola County's Vassar Township and struck a tree.

ROLLED OVER

William Taylor, 23, of Niles was killed Saturday when his car ran off M50 two miles west of Niles and rolled over.

Leona Hall, 36 of Alto and Bessie Redecker, 66, of Randolph, Wis., were killed Saturday in a two-car collision at an intersection five miles south of Grand Rapids.

NEAR KALAMAZOO

Billy Owen Johnson, 21, of Kalamazoo, and his uncle, John Henry Johnson, 38, of Moltan, Ala., were killed in a two-car collision Saturday about four miles west of Kalamazoo.

Norris Fagerlie, 46, of Walled Lake was killed Saturday in a two-car collision at an intersection in Pontiac.

Zeon Klymynst, 34, of Detroit and his wife, Haeriana, 29, were killed in Detroit Saturday when their car rolled over on an expressway as they swerved to avoid striking a dog.

AREA NEWS

Fred Westphal, 34, of Michigan City, Ind., was killed Saturday when his car hit a utility pole on U.S. 12 in New Buffalo.

Clyde Johnson, 71, of Union Lake was killed Friday night in a two-car collision at 13 Mile Road and Farmington Road in Oakland County.

Harold Clerk Jr., 24, of Lincoln Park was killed Friday night in a car-truck collision in Melvindale.

Mary Gonzales, 50, of Owosso was killed Friday night in a two-car collision at a Shiawassee County intersection.

MISSION BUILDING—St. Daniel's, a mission of Our Lady of the Lakes Church, Waterford Township, under construction at Miller and Holcomb, Clarkston, is slated for completion in January. The $929,000 building will serve as a temporary chapel and later be converted to a four-classroom school when the permanent church is constructed on the 12-acre site. The new building will have seating capacity for 364 persons.

3 Killed, 3 Hurt in Ray Crash

Injured Are Teens From Sterling Twp.

RAY TOWNSHIP — Three persons were killed and three Sterling Township girls hospitalized after a two-car accident at Wolcott and 32 Mile roads, three miles east of Romeo, yesterday.

Dead are Barbara Coleman, 16, of Mount Clemens, Frank W. Nafrady, 68, of Roseville and Mabel Magill, 71, of Detroit.

Miss Coleman was a passenger in a car driven by Debra J. Cain, 18, of 42024 Saal, Utica, who was listed in good condition this morning at Almont Community Hospital.

Darcy R. Cain, 14, and Bonnie Wilkins, 16, of 42054 Saal, Utica, were also passengers in that vehicle, and were in satisfactory condition at the Almont Hospital.

Romeo State Police said that the Cain auto was southbound on Wolcott and apparently failed to stop for traffic on 32 Mile Road, colliding with the Nafrady vehicle.

The accident, which occurred at 3:40 p.m., is still under investigation.

Schools Pick Ex-Press Editor

Marjorie Eicher, a former staff writer for the Detroit Free Press and former women's editor of The Pontiac Press, has been appointed director of communications for the Walled Lake and Farmington Schools.

Mrs. Eicher, who lives at 3218 Winterberry Drive, West Bloomfield Township, also has been involved in educational film production and retail management in the past.

She is a graduate of the University of Chicago and a member of Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary journalism fraternity.

Mrs. Eicher is also a member of the Detroit Press Club, Women's Advertising Club of Detroit and Women's City Club of Detroit.

With her husband and four children, she has been a West Bloomfield Township resident for 13 years.

She will handle public relations duties, keeping newspapers and other media, as well as residents of the school districts, informed of school activities. Mrs. Eicher will work two days a week in each system.

Dog-Training Class to Begin Tuesday

The first session of a dog obedience workshop for Oakland County youngsters and their pets will be 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the 4-H Fairgrounds on M24.

Sponsored by the County 4-H Leaders Association, the training meetings will run for 10 weeks. They are open to children between 10 and 17 years of age.

The workshop is designed to give youngsters the opportunity to train their dogs to be good "canine citizens."

Events in Walled Lake Planned for Youngsters

WALLED LAKE — Several activities, including an art project and a costume party and record hop, are planned to mark Halloween in Walled Lake this week.

Paper Union Kills Hopes for Peace

DETROIT (AP)—With President Johnson given a snubbing, in effect, by one union, Detroit's newspaper strike dragged through its 106th day today.

Striking Local 13 of the Printing Pressmen's union Sunday turned down by an announced 230-17 vote—a new publishers' proposal endorsed by the President.

The rejection dashed new hopes for a possible quick peace in a labor dispute which has kept Detroit's two daily newspapers from the reading public in a metropolitan area of 3.7 million population.

The pressmen and their affiliated Plate and Paper Handlers Local 10 have been on strike against the afternoon Detroit News and morning Free Press since July 13 over terms of new contracts.

REJECTION VOTE

Local 13, going against President Johnson's urging, took its rejection vote by a reported secret ballot after a four-hour, closed-door meeting.

The President had asked the union for "reasonable and favorable" action on a proposal announced at negotiations in Washington Saturday by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. Its details were not made public.

Approximately 100 students from art classes at Walled Lake Junior High will be working together beginning today to design and paint colorful Halloween scenes on some 20 local store windows.

This is an annual function sponsored by the Walled Lake Chamber of Commerce to help give artistically inclined children a special project to display their talents.

The project also provides color decorations in the business district to mark the Halloween season.

ANNUAL PARTY

On the holiday, the annual Halloween party for children up to and including 16 years of age will be staged at the Junior High.

It will be a costume party and record hop, sponsored through the joint efforts of all service organizations and clubs.

Police Chief Al Decker is co-ordinating this project.

The party will last from 8 to 11 p.m. Judges will award cash prizes for originality of costumes in various age groups.

FREE GIFTS

Candy and favors also will be given out.

One directive issued by the sponsoring organizations is that all small children be accompanied by an adult.

An attendance of over 500 children is expected at the event. Volunteers from the police and fire departments will provide protection and supervision for the affair.

It Seems to Me . . .

K Was Just Plain Dumped, and the Whole World Knew

This past week I've been in Mexico City sitting humbly at the knees of the publishers and editors of this hemisphere. Geographically they ranged from ROBERT ATWOOD in Alaska to ALBERTO GAINZA PAZ of Buenos Aires, and that's a stretch of no mean proportions.

Naturally, the Khrushchev removal was discussed at great length and a consensus indicates that Nikita's successors will have less sympathy with our hemisphere than did the shoe pounder. Also, they believe Russia's relationships with Red China will slowly improve. Some think Khrushchev's adamant hostility towards the Chinese may have been one of the definite reasons for his ouster and for the fact it was done with no semblance of finesse or "professional courtesy."

Mr. K was just plain dumped. And the whole world knew.

Some of the boys believe that eventually the new Russian regime may be less interested in paying Cuba's bills and costs. Editors from both continents seem to feel that ultimately CASTRO may have to rely more on his own slender resources. I heard that theory from widely scattered sources.

Mr. K had been working on a better understanding between Russia and certain important world spots, and these efforts may lessen. KHRUSHCHEV's favorite henchman, FROL R. KOZLOV, has been sidetracked lately, and there is speculation that he may step into a bigger and more important role—or may be tossed to the dogs. His health is bad.

The main figures in the Communist party have grown tired of K's bombastic boasting, his challenging statements and frequent edicts of great importance without consulting the boys "in the back room." He placed the word "I" ahead of "we" or "Russia" to the increasing irritation of those in the Kremlin.

And so he goes—in disgrace.

Scattered gleanings from Alaska to the southern tip of Chile:

The possibility of Juan Peron attempting a triumphal return to the Argentine is discounted. This rumor persists in Europe but Argentine publishers say he would be clamped in jail and Peron knows it.

CHARLES DE GAULLE's recent tour of South America increased the respect with which he had already been held and as one Chilean newspaperman said: "I think that's all he came for, anyway." The French are well-regarded south of the border."

Nine exiled Cuban publishers still hope desperately for a "return home." One of them said: "This new Russian regime may tire of the $2 million a day CASTRO is costing even though it pledges continued support. The very existence of the situation in Cuba has alerted our entire hemisphere to the perils of Communist infiltration and we're doubly watchful. If Russia pulls out far enough, there will be a home-grown revolt on a large scale."

Definitely more U. S. newspapers are supporting Johnson than Goldwater, but many publishers feel the silent, unspoken Goldwater vote may be much greater than anyone anticipates. Johnson supporters are more vociferous.

The four dictatorships in our hemisphere with no freedom of the press today are: Honduras, Paraguay, Bolivia and Haiti. A constant, everlasting, never-ending battle against press censorship is one of the primary aims of the Inter American Press Association. We wage unrelenting war against communism and dictators forever and are recognized as the biggest and most assertive supporters freedom has.

One evening we went to the ballet and I was very much impressed with the long line of naval forces (complete with rifles) that lined our entrance—for us, I thought. A few moments later Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh, entered and took a commanding seat. He's a very personable individual. Our gals insist he's "simply stunning," and he does have a winning way and one of the friendliest smiles you ever saw. Up close, this image really heightens. He spoke at a luncheon given by President Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

We were honored by a talk from President MATEOS and he appeared to be a very friendly man.

I was told (and believe) there have been hundreds of very minor border skirmishes between the Russians and Red China, but no one—absolutely no one—dares confirm this or even recognize the fact. Death lurks nearby.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

The Yankee stadium is one of the worst ball parks in the big leagues. It's so full of posts it looks like the forest primeval and every one bothers a host of fans. . . .

I was dumfounded to learn the U. S. ranks no better than tenth in saving babies the first year of their lives. Here are the eight that beat us: Sweden, Netherlands, Norway, Australia, Switzerland, United Kingdom, Finland and New Zealand. . . . Overheard: "About the time you catch up with the Joneses, the rascals re-finance."

Trusted scouts advise me Joan Nicholson deserves mention as one of the area's attractive girls. . . . Although they were in the thick of the pennant fight, the Baltimore Orioles graciously turned, their park over to the football Colts on the last Sunday—quite in contrast to the Tigers who played before 4,000 and forced the 59,000 that wanted to see the pro football game to wait until Monday night. . . .

Overheard: "One thing about selling wheat to Russia—we'll get so friendly we can put them on our foreign aid list for a billion or so." . . . Japan has a golf boom that sees two million men and women hard at it. They have one driving range that's triple decked.

Paris is aiming at a new $150 mil-

Grand Rapids Press

The notion that the post of secretary of labor should go to a labor union executive was shattered once and for all when President Eisenhower appointed to that office a man who never had been a labor unionist but who proved to be one of the most effective secretaries of labor in history. That man, of course, was James P. Mitchell, now prematurely dead at the age of 63.

Mitchell came to the office not as a spokesman for any group but as an expert on manpower and labor-management problems. He hadn't been in office very long before labor and management alike discovered that he had only one desire—to run his office in an unbiased manner for the benefit of the entire country.

He was consistently fair and aboveboard. As a result, everyone trusted him. That ought to be every cabinet officer's ambition—to win the public's trust.

Early Birds

The Greybull (Wyo.) Standard

The trouble with being punctual is that there's nobody there to appreciate it.

Government Interference

The Franklin (N.C.) Press

In a recent speech before the Young Business Division of the North Carolina Bankers Association a political candidate said that he is convinced that not only businessmen but the general public as well want less government interference with business.

The candidate's opponent, as well as hundreds of political candidates throughout the United States, could, and perhaps will, voice the same thoughts, and they would be fairly universally accepted.

But just what does the candidate mean when he says he wants less government interference in business?

We believe that by and large the rules and regulations that have grown up to control business are much like the rules of a baseball or football game—they are there to insure fairer competition and protection to all participants.

We also believe that any candidate who makes an attack on business-government relations should be specific and state just exactly what rule or regulation he is against.

After all history has shown that the banks of this country, one of the cornerstones of business, cannot operate without strict regulation. Would the public favor removing government regulations from the banks?

Brazil

New York Times

Brazil is slowly rebuilding its shattered economic structure. Its galloping rate of inflation is being checked. Prices are still rising, but no longer at a runaway pace. Brazil's deficit has been reduced by a series of austerity measures that previous regimes had contemplated but had never had the courage to impose.

The new Government has demonstrated its desire to attract foreign capital by honoring the agreement to purchase the utility holdings of the American & Foreign Power Company. It will be out of its skimpy dollar reserves, but the company has agreed to reinvest 75 per cent of the proceeds in obligations of the Brazilian power authority.

The steps taken to improve Brazil's economy are already paying off. The World Bank, which during the Goulart regime had refused to consider new investments in Brazil, has sent a survey mission to examine potential investment projects.

Obviously Brazil's economic plight warranted the priority and the effort that the new Government has given it. But Brazil's leadership cannot achieve the social stability that is the prerequisite for a healthy economy if it fails to protect democratic rights.

It must resist the military and ultra-conservatives, who demand the extension of legislation restricting political liberty.

A Fool?

NEW YORK — Comrades

Breshnev, Kossygin, Suslov, etc. Okay, chums, cough up Khrushy.

Don't give us that jazz about his violating the rule against cult of the personality. The fellow was born a ham. How could you cure him, except as a ham is cured?

And while you're at it, where's our old sourpuss friend Gromyko? What did you do with the son-in-law, Abzhube! And with Swarthmore-educated Oleg Troynovskiy?

Don't you know there's a most unpredicated storm brewing because of the disappearance of these people?

There are grumbings within and without the party.

DEMAND TO KNOW

The powerful Italian and French Communist parties demand to know about their whereabouts, particularly Khrushchev's.

U.N.'s Thant observes, with delicate strength:

"I still believe that Mr. Khrushchev will be long remembered as a man who tried his best to implement the principle of peaceful coexistence and, if I may say so, he did so with some degree of success in that he had been able to convince a considerable segment of public opinion in the West of his sincerity."

"It is that it would be helpful and even desirable if Mr. Khrushchev were able or inclined to make a public statement on the circumstances leading to his exit."

Voice of the People:

Disfavors Disposal Plan Considered for Oxford

Concerning the proposed refuse disposal plan being considered for the Greater Detroit Metropolitan Area . . . This plan would bring rats, flies, disease, polluted water, and the stink of garbage to Oxford, regardless of the covering of dirt each night.

Besides, taxes will be up, due to the reduced tax base. And what could become a factory site, bringing in more taxes, will be instead a garbage dump.

There is an alternate site near South Lyon which is miles from the nearest town and is owned by the state. This plan could be carried out there. Oxford is a beautiful little village. Don't choke it and let it wither.

More Readers Give Views on Candidates

The voters of Michigan have a choice of two men for governor. One man is a down-to-earth Michigander with both feet on the ground and the best interest of Michigan in his mind. He has the knowledge and background to guide Michigan in the right path.

The other man is a braggart, who is in love with himself. Take your choice.

COMBAT VETERAN

The contempt of Mr. Kuhn, Republican candidate for Congress, for the intelligence of Americans is illustrated by his advertising statement that he "worked three years in the U.S. Congress." He omits that the three years were spent as a page boy!

A RESIDENT OF PONTIAC LAKE

"Subsister" sounds like he's talking about Goldwater instead of the President! Why does Goldwater want to cut our Social Security? What will the old folks live on?

I'm a new voter and I'm for Johnson.

NEW VOTER

Let's not forget that Johnson was elected to the Senate through ballot box burning, and has amassed his fortune through federal control.

A TEXAN

On television Thursday night, Barry Goldwater gave one of the most honest and intelligent speeches I have ever heard. Everyone should have heard this speech and given it an honest appraisal.

J. W. HAYNES
WATERFORD TOWNSHIP

I am 24 years old and the mother of two children. I want my children to grow up in a safe world. If people forget what a good man LBJ is and what a wonderful job he has done, I guess my hopes will crumble. We don't have to worry if Goldwater is elected, we will be blown off this earth by war.

N. K.

ORCHARD LAKE

I am for Goldwater because he would make a good, honest, clean president. LBJ tacked the Medicare bill onto a raise for $5 a month on Social Security. Vote for Romney, too. He has done more for Michigan than the last two Democrats, who put us in the hole.

A TAXPAYER

'Wailing Ambulance Serves Its Purpose'

If people could realize how important it is for a patient to get to a hospital in an emergency, they would give the ambulance the right of way. I agree the ambulance siren is a wailing sound, but it does stop traffic.

EX-AMBULANCE PASSENGER

Writers Disapprove of City Income Tax

On the radio I listened to the last meeting of the City Commission. One firm offered $80 more than the firm that bought property for a house-developing firm. The excuse the Commission gave was nonsense. They want more money to run this city, yet a firm that offers less money was able to buy the property. Who are they fooling?

We are taxed enough already. Soon our paychecks will be nothing but taxes.

Let the tax be voted on by the people. It is supposed to be used for our benefit.

DISGUSTED HOME OWNER

As an employee of Oakland County and a resident of Waterford Township, I resent the proposed income tax on non-residents.

The city clerk's office said that I would still have to pay the surtax at the city hospital and be charged to use the library.

Mr. Taylor says the money will be used to provide additional policemen and firemen for Pontiac. How does this benefit me?

In Waterford we have a vote on our taxes. Pontiac's way is taxation without representation. I am going to follow Mr. Steerlin's suggestion to boycott city businesses.

DISGUSTED NON-RESIDENT

How long will we remain content to be handled like incompetent children? We have nothing to say about anything. Now, we non-Pontiac residents should be happy to pay an income tax to Pontiac in addition to our back-breaking load in Waterford Township.

Turn off the lights that burn all night in the courthouse and save my one-half per cent. And what need was there for that fabulous courthouse? Why didn't that money go for a new infirmary or to remodel the grotesque state hospital?

PAT CUDWALLADER
WATERFORD TOWNSHIP

A certain government is placing a tax on unfortunate people who will not benefit from the tax. These people have nothing to say about it, including how it will be spent and who will levy it.

They live in a country that fought a war activated by the same type of taxation. The call to battle was "taxation without representation is tyranny." Perhaps you have heard of the Boston Tea Party and the Revolutionary War. The same principle that these people fought and died for almost 200 years ago will have to be defended again.

We must let our city governments know that we intend to defend ourselves. It may take a little of your time and five or ten cents of your money to sign a petition, write a letter to your congressman or picket city hall, but do something.

Sound Waves 'Bug' Moths

SAVANNAH, Ga. (P)—The use of sound as a nonchemical means of controlling insects that attack stored grain and other farm products is being tested by U.S. Department of Agriculture scientists.

In exploratory tests here, entomologist Robert Kirkpatrick released Indian meal moths in a small chamber in which two radio loudspeakers provided a continuous low hum, barely audible to humans, as the moths were laying their eggs.

Only about one-fourth as many moths as usual developed, and among those that hatched nearly all died the first day. Those that did develop took unusually long to grow.

Thoughtfully, we have made a decision

The signers of this message are not necessarily Republicans or Democrats. We have voted for candidates of both parties. But this election is different. We feel that America is at the crossroads today. We feel that a choice must be made between two very different philosophies of government. We believe that Freedom is the most important issue in this election. And we believe that if our present foreign and domestic policies are continued, we shall lose Freedom.

We will vote for Goldwater-Miller on November 3rd.

7 Big Launchings Set at Cape Kennedy in November

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Seven major launchings, including two Project Mariner spacecraft ticketed for Mars are scheduled next month at Cape Kennedy.

Late in November, the space agency plans to launch a Project Gemini capsule on a final unmanned flight to qualify it for manned missions scheduled to begin early next year.

Other shots on the schedule are orbital development flights of the Centaur and Titan 3A space rockets; the Tiro 9 weather satellite, and a radiation-sensing Explorer scientific satellite.

The first Mariner-Mars launching is set for Nov. 4. The second could be fired as early as two days later, depending on how well No. 1 fares.

RARE OPPORTUNITY
November marks one of the rare occasions when Mars is in position to receive an unmanned visitor from earth. The next opportunity will be in December 1966.

Each Mariner payload is to travel about 350 million miles in 8½-month journeys to Mars. During 30-minute fly-bys within 10,000 miles of the planet, each is to snap 20 television pictures and gather scientific data.

The launchings will be the most difficult attempted by unmanned U.S. spacecraft. Jack N. James, Mariner project manager for the Space Agency's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, says there is a better than 50 percent chance that at least one of the craft will succeed.

The unmanned Gemini flight has been delayed numerous times because of technical and weather reasons. The Titan 2 booster rocket twice was removed from its launch pad because of hurricanes, and several weeks delay resulted when the rocket was damaged by lightning.

CHECK SYSTEMS

The Titan 2 is to propel a fully equipped spacecraft 2,000 miles down the Atlantic range to check all systems, and re-entry and recovery techniques.

If the shot succeeds, astronauts Virgil I. Grissom and John W. Young are to take a five-hour, three-orbit trip in a similar capsule early in 1965. Eventually, Gemini astronauts are to stay in space for as long as two weeks to practice procedures for going to the moon.

Both the Centaur and Titan 3A rockets are to lift dummy satellites into orbit. Centaur, which is several months behind schedule for technical reasons, is being developed for landing unmanned Project Surveyor scientific payloads on the moon. Titan 3A is forerunner of a Titan 3C rocket intended to launch a number of Air Force military space payloads, including a manned laboratory the size of a house trailer.

Airline Service Eyed

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China and Indonesia have begun negotiations toward establishing airline service between the two nations, the official New China News Agency announced yesterday. Delegations from the two countries began meetings in Peking.

Ike Winning Bout With Sore Throat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower is "doing quite well" in his bout with bronchial inflammation.

Doctors at Walter Reed Hospital gave that report Sunday and said Eisenhower's hoarse voice had shown some improvement. He had a painful cough and difficulty in speaking when he entered the hospital last Thursday.

His doctors said they thought he would be able to go home by the end of this week.

*The world's leading acoustical experts made the test.
The U. S. Auto Club certified the results:

The 1965 Ford rides quieter than a Rolls-Royce!

Prior to the introduction of the 1965 Fords, the country's leading automotive writers drove the new models at Ford's top secret Dearborn test track. The first things most of these experts remarked about were the extraordinary quietness and smoothness of the Ford ride. An automotive writer, in Mechanix Illustrated, put it this way, "... the first thing that impressed me about the new Galaxie was the quietness. If there is a quieter car made in this country — then I haven't driven it."

Quiet Means Quality

Quiet is a traditional measure of quality in a car. Ford engineers had designed the '65 Ford to the finest luxury car standards. The experts instantly recognized the dramatic results. The question became how to demonstrate this important fact to you. Ford chose to make a documented test against the world's finest luxury car — a brand-new Rolls-Royce. Could a Ford match the legendary silence of the car that has long been considered by many to be the best car in the world? If it could, this would be evidence that no one, however skeptical, could shrug off.

Bolt, Beranek and Newman, Inc., world's leading acoustic consultants to government and industry, agreed to make the test. The tests were supervised by the authoritative United States Auto Club. All cars were tuned to factory specifications.

The Result

The Fords proved to be slightly quieter at all moving speeds.

Of course, no claim is made that a 1965 Ford is a Rolls-Royce. The differences are many and obvious, including the nearly $17,000 price of the Rolls-Royce. For example, Ford does not have hand-fitted parts, nor seats covered by the same choice leather used on seats in England's House of Commons. But Ford does have a quieter ride. That astonishing fact has now been documented and certified by a team of the most reputable judges in the United States today. The official report reads, in part: "At all moving speeds, on both courses, the Fords were quieter than the Rolls-Royces — the differences were sufficient to show up clearly both in listening and in the calibrated measurements."

The Difference

Unlike the difference in price, the sound level difference, to be sure, is small—but it is there. At 60 miles an hour, Ford was actually 2.8 decibels quieter than Rolls-Royce. At 40, Ford was 5.5 decibels quieter. At 20, Ford was 4.9 decibels quieter. (Decibels are the universally recognized units for measuring the volume of sound.) However small these advantages over Rolls-Royce may be, they are significant evidence of quality—important to anyone buying a car in Ford's class. To achieve dramatic results such as these, Ford invested $170,000,000 in the past four years in a gigantic quality engineering program. You can see and hear the results in every mile you travel in a 1965 Ford.

How Ford Quiet Is Achieved

A major factor is the newly designed body, frame and suspension. The body of the 1965 Ford is much stronger—so strong that, it could run without any frame at all. But there is a frame: a new concept "isolation" frame that absorbs road vibrations. It is sealed off from the body with eight soft butyl-rubber mounts placed at the exact points where vibrations tend to cancel each other out... and virtually disappear.

In addition, ultrasoft coil springs now form the rear suspension. And the front suspension is a further refinement of Ford's famous "recessive wheel" system which takes the thump out of bumps by flexing backward a trifle as well as up and down.

Take A Test Drive

A key—and a warm welcome—await you at your Ford Dealer's. The key, incidentally, is the same on both edges. It fits in the lock no matter which side is up. Now, there's a touch the other makers haven't thought of—symbolic of the hundreds of advances you'll find in any Ford you road-test. Come in and see for yourself. You'll be pleasantly surprised.

Poll of State Legislature Candidates

Taxes, Education Are Top Local-Level Issues

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The Associated Press asked Republican and Democratic candidates for the State Legislature for their views on district issues, certain other election matters and issues facing the 1965 legislature. One hundred of the 280 candidates, including 56 Republicans and 54 Democrats responded. This is the first of three reports analyzing the candidates' answers.)

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Writer
LANSING—Taxes and education are the major local issues this year, say candidates for the Michigan Legislature.

But only 25 per cent of the candidates who responded to an Associated Press questionnaire expect local issues to be more decisive than state or national issues in their contest.

The AP asked candidates, "What are the major local issues in your race?" and "Are these local issues more likely than state-national issues to determine who wins your race?"

Not only did most responders say "no" to the second question, but most issues cited were actually state issues applied locally rather than outright local matters. Answers did not expand beyond naming issues.

TAX ISSUE LEADS

The parties differed to a significant extent in areas of their replies, although they were similar on taxes, the poll leader.

Thirty-eight per cent of all responders, including 41 per cent of the Republicans and 35 per cent of the Democrats, cited some tax issue. The tax response led Republican issues.

In many cases the issue was simply "taxes." Democrats also emphasized property taxes and some Republicans from suburban areas mentioned "commuter tax," or payment of city income tax by nonresidents.

Education led Democratic issues as 46 per cent of respondents listed that topic. It ranked third among Republican topics at 21 per cent.

In many cases answers referred to "support for education," meaning state financial help. Thus in a sense, education is also a tax issue.

PUBLIC WELFARE

Thirty-nine per cent of Democrats listed some public welfare issue, mainly mental health facilities and aid for senior citizens. Seven per cent of Republicans mentioned such topics.

Eighteen per cent of Republicans, however, mentioned some civil rights issue. Virtually all such respondents were from Wayne County and many cited Detroit's so-called home owner's rights ordinance. Only 4 per cent of Democrats listed such issues.

Other major categories listed frequently:

Conservation, including pollution and water levels—Democrats 24 per cent, Republicans 2 per cent.

Employment, industrial expansion, labor legislation—each party 11 per cent.

Suburban development, services and facilities—Democrats 20 per cent, Republicans 13 per cent.

Reapportionment—Republicans 13 per cent, Democrats 2 per cent.

Farm problems—Democrats 9 per cent, Republicans 2 per cent.

Experience and personal qualifications—Republicans 14 per cent, Democrats 4 per cent. After that the response filtered out into scattered topics such as tourism development, Upper Peninsula rail service, Mackinac Bridge tolls, bingo and the closing of a fish hatchery.

And then there were the 22 per cent of respondents who said there simply were no local issues in their contests.

Interestingly, some candidates opposing each other saw different issues as major. Here are examples:

23rd Senate—Republican Harold Volkema, "opposition to state income tax at this time, increased traffic safety and clear designation of state highway routes. Democrat Charles Wickett, "property taxes, school aid."

30th Senate—Democrat Joseph Kurka Jr., "schools, taxes and farm problems." Republican Emil Lockwood, "healing primary wounds."

47th House—Republican Cyril Root, "none." Democrat Ray Derksen, "city expansion, water levels, sewer, suburban service."

(Tuesday—Expected ticket leaders' effect, redistricting, backlash, Massachusetts ballot)

About 27.5 per cent—11,000 acres—of the land area of the District of Columbia is owned by the federal government.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

NEW YORK, N.Y. (Special)—One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles." It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results—here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids—without surgery.

Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

LBJ: Found Jenkins News Shocking

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson says that when he first heard that a question had been raised about Walter W. Jenkins' morals "I was as shocked as if someone had told me that my wife had murdered her daughter."

The President asked his long-time top aide to resign on Oct. 14 within hours after Jenkins' two arrests on moral charges became public. Johnson was asked about the Jenkins case during a recorded television interview aired Saturday night by the Democratic National Committee.

As for the Bobby Baker case, Johnson said "I am sure that if there had been any laws violated, the matter would be presented to the proper authorities. Mr. Baker will be called to account and his side of the case will be heard and appropriate action will be taken."

Baker resigned under fire a year ago as secretary to Senate Democrats. Senate investigators have been looking into his financial dealings.

The President said Baker had been a faithful, dedicated and competent Senate employee.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union have agreed to exchange weather information.

President Johnson, in announcing the agreement Saturday night, called it "a good step forward in building a world weather system."

He said weather information gathered by satellites will be exchanged on a reciprocal basis — transmitted over a direct Washington-Moscow communications link.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The charge that the administration helped the Soviet economy by selling it wheat is "an absurdity," said Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

"Selling them wheat at world prices which they could have bought other places was a drop in the bucket of the total Soviet requirements. It did not have much effect one way or another." Ball said Sunday in a radio interview on the Mutual Broadcasting System.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson plans to ask Congress for more funds to look for cheap means of distilling fresh water from the sea to meet the increasing demand in this country and the world for water.

S. Rhodesia Chiefs Ask 'White Rule Freedom'

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)—Southern Rhodesian African chiefs announced today they favor independence from British rule.

The decision was given by a senior chief to Interior Minister William Harper during the final session of the independence gathering attended by 622 chiefs and headmen at Domboshawa, 20 miles from Salisbury.

The senior chief said he was speaking for all his colleagues.

The chiefs' meeting was Prime Minister Ian Smith's method of ascertaining African mass opinion. The British government had told him the chiefs' expression of opinion is not acceptable to it as representing the African population's views.

VOTE ON ISSUE

Smith is confident that a national referendum Nov. 5 by the largely white electorate will give him an emphatic "yes" in favor of independence while the white minority still has control.

A racial dispute with Rhodesia marred weekend independence celebrations for Zambia, formerly Northern Rhodesia.

Fifty guests of the new nation on a bus outing to Victoria Falls refused to cross the border into Rhodesia after Rhodesian border officials insisted on passport checks; said the papers of one guest were not in order and tried to segregate the visitors.

The party included Mrs. Claude A. Barnett of Chicago, wife of a founder of the Associated Negro Press and an official delegate to the independence celebrations.

SAID FANTICED

Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir, 66, was reported to have fainted.

Believe 36 Drowned in Philippine Mishap

MANILA (AP)—A motor launch overturned in the Sulu Archipelago yesterday, and 36 Filipinos are believed to have drowned, the constabulary reported today.

Nineteen bodies have been recovered. Seventeen other persons are missing. The boat was hit by a big wave five miles off Lulus Island.

Skunk Bides Odor Time

HUTCHINSON, Kan.—Merwin Frye found a skunk with its head caught in a rusty can and approached the animal warily.

Initial efforts to free the animal brought no odorless response so Frye went to work in earnest to get the can off the animal, thinking the skunk perhaps was deodorized.

After more than two hours, the skunk wiggled free and promptly showed his ingratitude by showering the area with its skunkly scent.

Boyle Bounces More Quips Around

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Husbandly remarks that make a wife wonder whether it's all worth while.

"Yeah, it's not bad, but I still can remember how good it tasted when my mother cooked this dish."

"Oh, Hon, I forgot to tell you — my boss and his wife are coming to dinner tonight. But you don't have to bother to fix up anything special."

"I stopped off for just a couple with the boys. If I miss the 6:22 train, be sure and meet the 7:19. In any case, I'll catch the 8:05 at the very latest."

THINK UP ABUSE?

"What do wives do all day anyway — just lie on the sofa and think up abuse to heap on their hard-working husbands when they get home?"

"We got a new girl in the stenographic pool at the office."

And boy, is she a looker. But what I like about her is that she's smart. When I give her a letter, she seems to know what I want to say even before I say it."

"Is this a home — or a tent full of Indians? Tell those kids to be quiet."

"What in heaven's name do you need a cleaning woman for. Don't we own a mop?"

WHERE'S THE MONEY?

"I don't know what happens to all the money I give you. You must put a match to it."

"You go to the door, Honey. I'm tired."

"If you think I'm going to take you out anywhere tonight, Honey, you've got another thing coming."

"Tell your mother to come and stay as long as she wants to — as long as she brings along enough to pay part of the rent and her share of the board."

NEW DRESS

"I like you in that new dress. What do you mean, you've had it for five years? I never noticed it before."

"I heard that your old boy-friend got appointed as a high school custodian. It's nice that he finally got a steady job after all these years."

Schweitzer Lauds Sartre

LAMBARENE, Gabon (AP) — Dr. Albert Schweitzer, reached at his jungle hospital in Gabon, Africa, says that he is proud to have as a kinsman Jean-Paul Sartre, who won the Nobel Prize for literature.

"Dr. Schweitzer, who has written theological studies, was asked what he thought of Sartre's philosophy, which leaves out God."

"All opinions are respectable when they are sincere," he said, "and God will surely pardon him for that." Sartre's maternal grandfather and Dr. Schweitzer, who won a Nobel Peace prize some years ago, are brothers.

"For pete's sake, what do we need with all that junk? We're just going on a vacation trip — not settling the Far West."

"What do you mean, do I love you? What do you think I married you for?"

WHO RULES?

"Now, let's get one thing clear, once and for all. Who do you think rules this roost?"

"What do you want for Christmas — a new ironing board or a new lawn mower?"

"Why does it take you so long to get ready? We've been married 21 years — and never yet got anywhere on time."

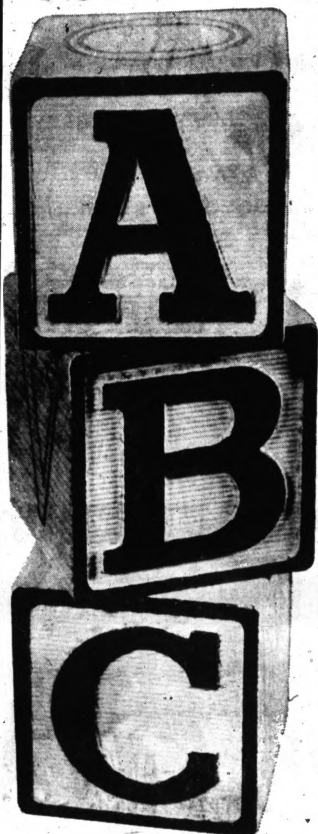

"Of course I wouldn't want to marry anyone else if anything ever happened to you. Not unless she had real money anyway."

"You carry out the garbage, Honey. I'm tired."

The basis of the Magna Carta was the "Articles of the Barons," derived from the coronation agreements made by King John's great-grandfather, Henry I, but repudiated by his successors.

Formidable Task for GOP to Gain in Senate

Senatorial: California

SEN. SALINGER (D)

GEORGE MURPHY (R)

By The Associated Press
Democrats go into the November election holding a two-to-one edge in United States Senate seats.

The lineup stands at 67 Democrats and 33 Republicans. GOP chances of regaining control, for the first time since 1954, are virtually nil.

Senatorial: Ohio

SEN. YOUNG (D)

REP. TAFT (R)

Of the 35 seats up for election, 26 are now held by Democrats and nine by Republicans. To take control, the GOP would have to hold all of its own and capture 18 of the 26 Democratic seats—a truly Herculean task.

One factor does favor Republicans.

Senatorial: Massachusetts

SEN. KENNEDY (D)

HOWARD WHITMORE (R)

licious, however. More than half of the Democrats seeking new terms are freshmen. This is largely a result of the sweeping Democratic victories of 1958, many in normally Republican states.

Some of those states could well return to the Republican fold, particularly if the GOP presidential nominee, Sen. Goldwater, fares well.

FIVE IN SOUTH
Also, only five of the Democrats come from the Deep South, where Democratic nomination is akin to election.

Local issues usually predominate in Senate elections. But in a presidential election year a candidate's identification with one of the presidential nominees and the size of the presidential vote usually are factors, too.

Thus a Johnson landslide could increase the Democratic edge in the Senate; a solid Goldwater victory could cut into it sharply.

Republicans think they have a good chance of capturing Democratic seats in states where strong support, such as Ohio, Oklahoma, Texas, Wyoming and Utah.

DEMS CONFIDENT
Conversely, Democrats are confident they can unseat some Republican incumbents in states where Goldwater may trail President Johnson—such as New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Hawaii and also Mexico.

Republican leaders believe their prospects for grabbing off seats now held by Democrats are best in Ohio and Oklahoma.

In Ohio Rep. Robert Taft Jr. is trying after one term in the House to follow his late father, Sen. Robert A. Taft, to the Senate. His opponent is one of the class of '58 Democrats, Sen. Stephen Young, 75.

In Oklahoma Bud Wilkinson, popular former football coach at the University of Oklahoma, is opposed by a young state senator, Fred Harris, who defeated incumbent J. Howard Edmondson for the Democratic nomination.

GOP CHANCE
GOP leaders also believe they have a good chance against Democratic incumbents Frank E. Moss of Utah, Gale McGee of Wyoming and Ralph Yarborough of Texas.

Democrats think their chances of cutting into Republican ranks are best in New York and Maryland.

Former Atty. Gen. Robert E. Kennedy carries his family's formidable name into New York in his first bid for elective office. Sen. Kenneth Keating, his opponent, has refused an outright endorsement of the Goldwater candidacy and may lose normally Republican votes to a conservative party candidate, Henry Paulucci.

In Maryland, incumbent J. Glenn Beall, 70, faces a stiff challenge from Democrat Joseph D. Tydings, 35, stepson of former Sen. Millard Tydings.

Democratic chances also are viewed as good against Republican incumbents Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Hiram Fong of Hawaii and Edwin L. Mechem of New Mexico.

Some other top Senate races: California—Sen. Pierre Salinger, appointed to succeed the late Clair Engle, is the Democratic choice against one-time actor George Murphy, a strong Goldwater backer.

Connecticut—Former Gov. John Lodge is challenging first term Democrat Thomas J. Dodd.

Delaware—Gov. Elbert N. Carvel and Sen. John J. Williams are staging a re-run of their 1958 race which was won by Williams.

Tennessee—In the only state electing two senators, Sen. Albert Gore seeks another six-year term and Rep. Ross Bass is the Democratic nominee for the two remaining years of the late Sen. Estes Kefauver's term.

25 Governorships Contested

By The Associated Press
Twenty-five states will elect governors this fall.

The contests involve: Considerable influence, if not control, in state parties.

Shifts in state political strength that add up to national power. Democrats presently occupy 34 governors' chairs, Republicans 16. Of the governorships at stake in the forthcoming elections, 18 are held by Democrats and seven by Republicans.

Future ambitions. Three of the nine most recent presidents served as governors.

An accent on economic issues at a time when states are trying to build up their industry and are vying for a share—or bigger slice—of federal defense contracts.

Republican hopes of making new gains in the South.

A variety of personalities.

state's greatest political organization, is running on his record under the slogan: "Keep Progress Alive in '65." Rockefeller has hit at what he calls one-man domination of the state and has promised better, cheaper government.

Illinois

The state of the economy figures prominently in the campaign in Illinois, where Gov. Otto Kerner, a Democrat, faces a driving Republican foe, Charles H. Percy.

Kerner has called his record a "catalogue of progress," and has submitted that he put Illinois "back on its feet financially."

Percy has told the voters he could do better than that. He has offered, as evidence, his industrial experience. He was president of the Bell & Howell Co., camera manufacturers at the age of 29 and chairman at 41.

Kerner, an erect, soft-voiced man of 56, and Percy, a blond, muscular man of 45, well may be the most handsome brace of political gladiators in the nation. But they will win or lose on their prowess, rather than their looks.

John F. Kennedy, they remember, carried Illinois by a knife-edge margin of 8,858 votes in 1960.

GET A BOOST

Kerner will get a boost from the Chicago Democratic organization headed by Mayor Richard J. Daley. Percy has made Daley a target, contending the mayor is influencing the state's government as well as running its largest city.

Wisconsin

In the September primary, Wisconsin Democrats nominated Gov. John W. Reynolds for a second term, while Republicans chose Warren P. Knowles. Both candidates who compiled sizable tallies—Dominic Friz, a Milwaukee attorney, in the Democratic lists and Mayor Milo G. Knutson of La Crosse on the GOP side.

Knowles has been lieutenant governor three times, but has been out of public office for two years.

Reynolds picked up some opposition because he went along with the Republican-controlled legislature on a tax bill compromise that included extension of the selective sales tax.

He had made opposition to the sales tax the major theme of his 1962 campaign.

Massachusetts

Massachusetts Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti, a Democrat, scored a smashing upset victory in the state's primary, winning the right to oppose former Republican Gov. John A. Volpe.

Bellotti won the nomination over opposition which included incumbent Gov. Endicott Peabody. He backed the state's party organization, including Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, who strongly endorsed Peabody.

Bellotti, 41, and a father of 12, pegged his primary campaign on the issue of bossism, saying the people themselves would favor him.

Volpe, who was unopposed for the Republican nomination, is trying to stage a comeback after his defeat two years ago by Peabody. He lost that election by just over 5,000 votes out of more than two million cast.

EXTEND TERM

This may be the last year for a two-year gubernatorial term in Massachusetts. There will be a constitutional amendment on the ballot in November which would extend the term to four years, and it is expected to win public approval.

Nebraska

The duel for Nebraska's governorship—the state's only major elective office now held by a Democrat—involves Gov. Frank Morrison and Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney, two veterans of the political wars.

Morrison, seeking a third term at 59, wants the voters to continue his policies. They include tourist promotion, a state-financed research program aimed at new uses for farm products and interstate cooperation in economic development of the Midwest.

Republican Burney, 71, a farmer from Hartington, is finishing his fourth two-year term as lieutenant governor. He served previously as a state senator for six terms. He never has lost an election.

Burney says Morrison "is part of the New Frontier but would like to have the people think he is a Republican." Morrison has stressed that he is "governor of all the people."

Texas

In Texas, the race is between a well-known incumbent Governor and a comparative unknown who's making his political debut, Gov. John Connally, a Democrat, is seeking reelection against Jack Crichton (pronounced Crayton), a Dallas petroleum engineer.

Connally served as secretary of the Navy under President Kennedy.

He was wounded when Kennedy was assassinated last fall in Dallas, but appears to have fully recovered. Connally's political views are much like those of President Johnson, although he disagreed with him on the public accommodations section of the civil rights law.

Crichton, 47—the same age as the governor—is making his first bid for public office.

He had no opposition in the Republican primary, so his vote-pulling power is yet to be tested. (Connally won the Democratic nomination by 1,125,884 to 471,411 for his closest competitor.)

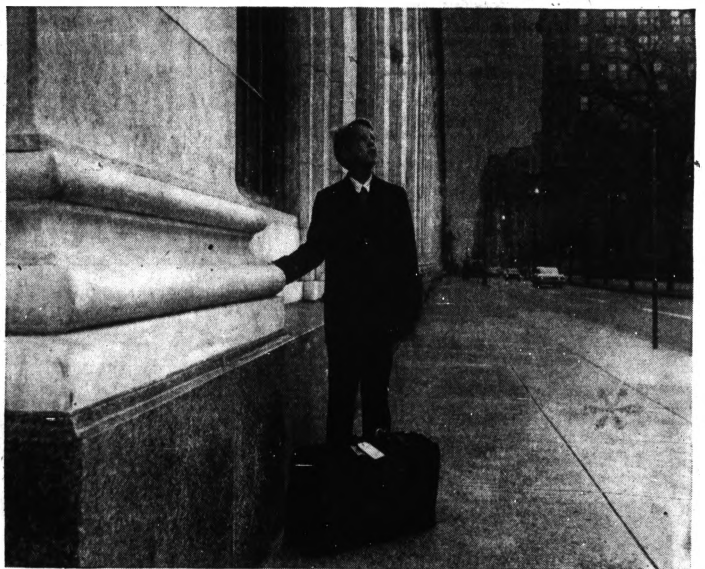

Crichton contends that if the governor's spending program is carried out taxes will go up.

Florida

Charles Holley, a state representative from St. Petersburg, is striving to become the first Republican governor of Florida since 1872—a time span that indicates it would be a tough trick for the GOP to turn.

The Democratic nominee is Haydon Burns, who has been mayor of Jacksonville for 15 years.

Burns, 51, cited his mayoral experience in his party's primary—still looked upon as the real race for the governor's office.

TELEPHONE OPERATORS HELP BOY STRANDED 3000 MILES FROM HOME

Bad weather had forced a transatlantic plane to land at Boston instead of New York:

Aboard the plane, Peter Hansen, a 14-year-old Danish student, was on his way to St. Joseph, Michigan, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Chester J. Byrns.

The airline called Mr. Byrns to tell him the plane had been grounded in Boston; its passengers would be sent by bus to midtown New York. The Byrns realized, however, that Peter would be stranded in a foreign land—alone at night in America's largest city.

Mr. Byrns tried to locate Peter's exact whereabouts and get someone to look after him, but without success. Explaining his problem to the Operator in Benton Harbor, Mr. Byrns suddenly found, as he wrote us later, "Michigan Bell had taken over the mission."

Throughout the night, Mrs. DaDan, Michigan Bell Service Assistant, and Mrs. Lounsbury, Senior Operator, made repeated calls to New York City and Boston. They persisted until they knew a Danish-speaking airline employee had met Peter. At 3 a.m. they had the airline employee and Peter on the telephone from New York, assuring the Byrns that all would be well.

In his letter Mr. Byrns said: "... Your company has a great big heart.... The operators who were working on the problem could not have shown more concern if he were their own son."

While this story is true, it's not unusual. You see, with Michigan Bell, friendly service is a way of life.

Throat Tumor Forces
Premier's Resignation

TOKYO (AP) — Three leading contenders were in the field today to succeed Premier Hayato Ikeda.

Ikeda, 64, suffering from a throat tumor, said Sunday he would step down as president of the ruling Liberal Democratic party. Doctors said the tumor could become cancerous and Ikeda needed further hospitalization and rest.

Ikeda's successor as party chief automatically will become premier since the party controls the Diet, Japan's parliament.

Chief contenders are State Minister Ichiro Kono; Eisaku Sato, brother of former Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi, and former Foreign Minister Aichi-ro Fujiyama.

IKEDA SUPPORTER

Kono has been a supporter of Ikeda. Sato and Fujiyama joined forces in an unsuccessful attempt to unseat him last summer.

Kono, an aggressive politician, helped Ikeda win his third two-year term and is reported favored by the retiring leader.

Sato came within four votes of defeating Ikeda last summer.

Fujiyama, a wealthy sugar man who was regarded as the power behind Kishi, is just completing a world tour. He was scheduled to leave New York today for home after a trip that included visits with former Soviet Premier Khrushchev and President Johnson.

ACCEPT RESIGNATION

Liberal-Democratic party leaders unanimously approved Ikeda's decision and will formally accept the resignation Tuesday.

The two major opposition parties, the Socialists and the Democratic Socialists, demanded dissolution of the Diet and new parliamentary elections.

Most politicians were surprised by Ikeda's announcement but pressure began mounting for his resignation last week, even within his own party. Ikeda has led the nation from his bedside since he entered the National Cancer Clinic Sept. 9. Ikeda, premier for four years, is considered largely responsible for Japan's stable government and recent boom.

Woman Is 72, New Recruit in Peace Corps

WYNESBURG, Pa. (AP) — Iona Todd, 72, is going to serve in the Peace Corps.

Mrs. Todd, a widow, is house-mother for Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity at Waynesburg College. She applied for the corps last spring and was accepted two weeks ago.

"People said I was nuts. I said someday I would go. I'd do anything they want me to do," she said Sunday.

Mrs. Todd attended what is now California (Pa.) State College, West Newton Academy and Penn State. She taught 28 years before retiring. She has two children and seven grandchildren.

Texans'll Need Plenty of Hot Air for This Gift

DALLAS (UPI) — Neiman-Marcus, "the Texas old millionaire's general store," has announced its traditional Christmas gift for the hard to please — his and her passenger balloons.

The pair of giant gasbags, complete with wicker basket cockpit and Federal Aviation Agency registration, will sell for $6,850. The feature gifts of past Christmas catalogues have included his-and-her submarines and gold barbed wire — to dress up the range land a bit.

Oil Magnate's Son Weds German Girl

LUEBECK, Germany (AP) — Billionaire Jean Paul Getty's son, Jean Ronald, 34, has married Karin Seibel, 21, a German student.

The civil ceremony was performed in Luebeck, Germany, where Getty is an executive in a German subsidiary of his father's oil company.

Staebler Treads Lightly on Issue of State Income Tax

By AL SANDNER
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — The Democratic candidate for governor, U.S. Rep. Neil Staebler, is treading lightly on an issue which has caused Michigan's last three governors to stub their toes — a statewide income tax.

Staebler has become reluctant even to use the term although earlier in the campaign he approved of the idea as part of a fiscal reform package.

"I won't discuss it separately because it can be distorted if concentrated on," he said. "And that would be all that some people would see."

"It would be accurate to say that I favor fiscal reform, including an income tax, if you take other factors into account — such as repeal of the business activities tax, repeal of some sales taxes and repeal of the intangibles tax, among others."

FUTURE DOUBTFUL

Fiscal reform is not likely in the future, Staebler added in an interview, "but I'm going to keep the idea alive."

Former Democratic Govs. G. Mennen Williams and John Swanson backed the idea, but met with failure. Staebler's opponent, Republican Gov. George Romney, failed to get his tax reform program through a special session of the legislature in 1963.

Staebler's ideas of fiscal reform harken back to the 1959 Conlin Committee report, an often-discussed and frequently-praised but never activated, comprehensive state tax plan that includes a flat rate income tax.

Total fiscal reform, Staebler said, is out of the question for some time due mainly to the national economic boom and increased programs of federal aid.

MORE REVENUE

"The people are not going to see the need for it for some time," he said, adding that the federal income tax cut has put more money in circulation and eventually will increase state revenues by some $94 million.

"You can't get fiscal reform in a vacuum—but only when the people see the need. Tax revision cannot be forced upon the public," he said.

His only immediate tax plan is to reduce the state tax on beer, Staebler said. "It is way out of line with other states and is wrecking the industry in Michigan," the candidate added.

At an American Institute of Banking meeting in Detroit Oct. 13, Staebler said he would like to see a "statewide income tax of one per cent replace local income levies. The money would be earmarked for return to local governments, making for a more orderly and reasonable financing program by Staebler's view.

WON'T REPEAT

But now he will not repeat, reiterate or elaborate on the banking meeting statement.

In a speech at a testimonial dinner in his honor Sunday night, Staebler confined his financial comments to the problems of school dropouts.

Backs Negro Candidate

Romney Takes Day Off to Speak in East

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney took a day off from re-election campaigning today to speak in Massachusetts and help that state's Atty. Gen. Edward Brooke.

Coupled with Romney's usual Sunday off, the Republican governor had a two-day break between a 13-day Northern Michigan tour and three-day Southern Michigan blitz aimed at winning him another two-year term.

He was scheduled to speak today at a businessmen's luncheon in Boston and rally at the Harvard Business School.

Tonight Romney is the featured speaker at a fund-raising dinner for Brooke, one of the nation's highest-elected Negroes.

REPAID FAVOR

Brooke asked Romney last July to make the trip, then repaid the favor in advance with a half-day of campaigning for Romney here in mid-October.

The governor left Michigan still confident of victory in his race with U.S. Rep. Neil Staebler.

Miss Keeler Said in Care of Doctor After Taking Pills

LONDON (UPI) — Christine Keeler, reported to have been hospitalized briefly Friday for an overdose of sleeping tablets, was said today to be "under doctor's orders."

The Daily Express said Miss Keeler, 22, had been "depressed over a boyfriend."

It quoted the central female figure in last year's Profumo scandal as saying last night she was feeling "fine."

Miss Keeler now lives in a fashionable home in the Marylebone section of London with her mother and stepfather.

Disclosure of last year's scandal rocked the British government, caused the resignation of War Minister John Profumo and resulted in Miss Keeler's conviction and sentencing on a perjury charge.

Consideration for Cacklers

MOUNT ALBERT, Ont. (AP) — The legions are longhairs at Feathercrest Farm.

When the big automated egg farm 25 miles north of Toronto opened two years ago, the owners provided their 60,000 laying hens with the best of everything, including piped-in music.

But the music was largely rock 'n' roll and the hens just didn't dig it, says Len Rosenberg, one of the owners.

"Our quality dropped and so did egg production. We didn't fight. We switched to FM."

The classics and other soothing music apparently appealed to the hens because 70 per cent of them now leave an egg a day in appreciation.

THAT'S NOT ALL

But that's not all the hens have to be thankful for. The five buildings in which they are kept — two birds to a cage — are air-conditioned, specially lighted and antiseptic.

Each hen has its own eight inches of feed and water trough.

The great sea-roving leatherback turtle measures from seven to eight feet in length and weighs from 1,000 to 1,500 pounds.

It's That Busy Action!

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Michele Cibelli, 32, called police. When they arrived he showed them what was wrong: several thousand bees had built hives on the balcony outside his bedroom window.

Aside from the buzzing, they also were stinging. Cibelli complained.

Police studied the situation and gave up. They sent for bee culture experts to rid Cibelli of his problem.

The national yearly average of milk production per cow is 7,370 pints.

An answer to the age-old saying:
"I'm Insurance Poor"

How would you like to make your property insurance dollars buy 100 times as much protection — and at the same time save enough to buy several new hats?

It's not only possible — it's easy.

All you have to do is take advantage of the "deductible" options available in our Homeowners Package Policy.

Look at these figures:

For a frame house in Pontiac, insured for $20,000, the three-year premium is $153 for a Homeowners Policy under which the insurance company pays the full amount of any loss.

By taking advantage of the $50 deductible options, the premium on the same policy can be reduced to $105 — that's a savings of $48 — more than 30%.

In effect, that $48 — when used to buy full coverage — is getting you only $50 worth of insurance for three years.

Now it's likely that the value of the house has increased since that insurance policy was first taken out. By using $21 of that $48 saving — paying a total premium of $126 — the limit of coverage on the house can be increased by $5,000, and the premium is still $22 less than it was for $20,000 worth of no deductible coverage.

Oh, yes, but what if something happens to the house? I'd be out $50? You might — but chances are that you wouldn't. First, if you consider all the perils covered in your Homeowners Policy — from fire to riots — which one do you think of first? Fire, of course.

Well, the deductible provision in your policy doesn't apply to losses caused by fire or lightning. The company pays the total amount of those losses, in any case.

And even if the loss is due to one of the other perils, the deductible portion may be less than $50 — perhaps nothing at all.

The Homeowners Policy has what is known in the business as a "disappearing deductible." That means that the greater your loss, the smaller the deductible portion becomes. If the loss is $200, for example, the company pays all but $23.50. And if the loss is $500 or more, the company pays the entire amount.

SO WHAT'S THE GIMMICK?

There's no gimmick. What makes all this possible is that processing a small claim costs the insurance company about as much as processing a larger one. The deductible provision relieves the company of the cost of processing many small claims. And the savings are passed on to you.

Congo Family Reported Safe

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — The wife and five children of missionary William Scholten, 33, who died in a Communist prison camp in the Congo, Sunday were reported safe and unharmed.

Mrs. Helen E. Newland, Scholten's sister, received assurances from August E. Johansen, third district U.S. Congressman from Battle Creek, that Scholten's family, although still in custody, was reported unharmed.

Mrs. Newland filed a telegram to President Johnson after word of her brother's death Thursday, asking why the United States fails to protect or help remove the 300 Americans and Europeans reportedly in the hands of Congolese terrorists.

Johansen said he took the matter up with Walker Diamond, in charge of the State Department's Congo desk.

Diamond told the congressman it is "pretty well established that Scholten was beaten to death by Congolese natives," probably on Sept. 24 or Sept. 25.

LBJ Is Riding High on Election Trail in New York Campaign

(EDITOR'S NOTE—Victory in New York State is a giant step toward capturing the White House, and such a victory clearly is in prospect for President Johnson. Here's a report on the political situation in the Empire State, the first of six articles on big vote states.)

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson is riding the election trail in New York State as high, wide and handsomely as if he were roaming the range of his native Texas.

All signs point to Johnson carrying the 43 electoral votes of the populous industrial state by a lopsided margin, barring an upset that is nowhere in evidence at this point.

Some Republican leaders have estimated privately that the President may take the state by a million to 1.5 million votes over Barry Goldwater of Arizona, the GOP presidential nominee.

Goldwater appears to be getting scant organization help.

SILENT CAMPAIGN

Key GOP leaders in the state, differing with Goldwater's political philosophy, have engaged in what amounts to a campaign of silence on the presidential race.

A number of newspapers that normally support Republican candidates editorially have announced for Johnson.

Polls indicate that a substantial number of voters who ordinarily vote Republican take the same view.

Because of the outcome of the presidential race here is largely regarded as a foregone conclusion, New York political interest has centered largely on a colorful race for the U.S. Senate.

SENATE CANDIDATES

Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating is running for reelection against the challenge of Robert F. Kennedy, former U.S. attorney general and brother of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Their contest appears to be much closer than the presidential balloting.

The New York Daily News reported last Saturday that its statewide presidential poll put the halfway point showed Johnson leading Goldwater by about 3-1, and Kennedy leading Keating about 4-3.

The News said Johnson at that time had collected 13,139 straw votes to 4,111 for Goldwater, or 76.2 per cent to 23.8 per cent.

'ONE ERROR'

The newspaper has noted that "in presidential polling going back 36 years, we've had only one outright error. In 1928, our first year, before present balloting methods were refined."

John F. Kennedy, in winning the presidency in 1960, carried the state by 383,666 votes. He had the support of the Liberal party in addition to the Democratic party, as does Johnson.

The wide swings in the state were in 1936 when Democrat Franklin D. Roosevelt defeated Republican Alf Landolt by 1,112,552 votes and in 1956 when Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower won by 1,589,571 over democrat Adlai E. Stevenson.

The key GOP leaders' lukewarm toward Goldwater include Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who competed against him for the nomination; the state's two senators, Keating and Jacob K. Javits, and Rep. John V. Lindsay of Manhattan's "Silk Stocking" 17th District.

NO ENDORSEMENT

Lindsay, also seeking reelection, and Keating said in announcing their candidacies that they were not endorsing Goldwater but would run on their own records. Rockefeller and Javits are not 'up for election this year.

Keating, Javits and Rockefeller have refused to say how they plan to vote in the presidential election, though Keating has said he would not support Johnson.

Rockefeller has asked support for the Republican ticket from top to bottom, but seldom mentions Goldwater's name.

Goldwater flew to Albany, the state capital, Sept. 25 in a campaign appearance. Rockefeller joined him and called him "one of the most dedicated, hard working and courageous men in public office" — without directly urging votes for him.

LITTLE CAMPAIGNING

Neither Johnson nor Goldwater has done much campaigning in what they apparently regard as a state already committed in the election.

Johnson visited the state, the latter part of the week of Oct. 11 and drew large turnouts in appearances with Kennedy in Brooklyn and upstate Rochester and Buffalo.

But the campaigning was overshadowed to an extent by the resignation of Walter W. Jenkins, a top presidential aide, in a morals case, and the ouster of Soviet Premier Khrushchev. Neither of these events appear so far to have had any appreciable effect on his vote-getting prospects.

The fact that Goldwater's running mate, Rep. William E. Miller, comes from upstate New York, has not turned the tide for the Republican national ticket.

The Niagara Falls Gazette, largest newspaper in Miller's home county, declined to support the ticket for the first time in its 119-year history. It said Miller had "acquired a reputation for hitting below the belt politics" and that the image — earned or unearned — was not attractive.

The way that switchboard operators answer the phone in a campaign office in New York may reflect the Republican picture. Once it was "Rockefeller for President." Then, when he dropped out in favor of Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania it was "Rockefeller for Scranton." Now it is simply: "Republican headquarters."

NEXT: Pennsylvania.

River Floods Yugoslav City

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI) — The Sava River today flooded over reserve dikes in Zagreb, Yugoslavia's second largest city, and "caused great damage to the population," the Tanjug News Agency reported.

There were no immediate reports of casualties.

The official Yugoslav agency said the river was nearly 17 feet above its normal level. It said the flood was nearing the center of the city and that rain was still falling.

Zagreb, capital of the Republic of Croatia, is about 250 miles northwest of Belgrade. The Sava flows into the Danube at Belgrade.

Troops, firemen, and police rescued families in Zagreb. Other emergency workers built up dikes to protect the Zagreb-Belgrade Railway, the nation's main line, from flooding.

Tanjug said several hundred homes were inundated. All schools and many factories in the city were closed. Earth-moving machines, trucks, and other equipment was mobilized to shore up the flood walls.

Denounces 'Vile Charges' Against LBJ

Humphrey in Last Week of Campaign

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey launched the final week of his campaign today with a parade, a noon rally and a denunciation of what he called "vile charges against President Johnson."

Americans, said Humphrey in his prepared remarks, have a wide range of tolerance for "campaign extravagance" but also have "a deep sense of fair play."

4 STOPS

From Chicago, Humphrey prop-stops during the afternoon and evening in Wisconsin with appearances in Milwaukee, Racine, Green Bay and Madison.

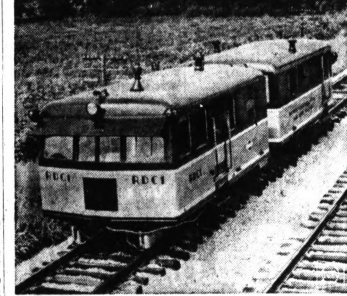

Humphrey continued to bang away at the theme of war and peace.

"Only a political charlatan can talk of instant victory over communism," he said, arguing that "the possibility of instant victory vanished with the coming of the era of instant annihilation."

Humphrey, mindful that many Chicagoans have family ties in Eastern Europe, obliquely criticized the policy of the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, saying:

"We cannot imitate those of an earlier era who talked grandly of liberation — but when the Hungarian people rose in heroic revolt, stood mute on the sidelines."

"We are convinced that time is on the side of freedom," said Humphrey.

DETECTING FLAWS — Unique two-unit train, known as a rail detector car, electronically detects any invisible flaws which may be in a rail. Results are recorded on graphs in the unit and at the same time spray guns mark defective rail. Here the detector rolls over tracks of the Illinois Central Railroad.

Lady Bird Stumping in Texas

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, setting out on an 88-mile hop-skip campaign plane swing through Texas today, was taking on the President's cause for him in her home state.

She said she is frankly out "to elect the Democratic ticket from the White House to the courthouse."

Talking politics at an LBJ Ranch barbecue for some 200 Texas newsmen Sunday, the First Lady said Johnson's schedule doesn't have room left for any more Texas campaigning. She said the President probably won't be back in Texas until they come here to vote on Election Day.

Johnson has made no official campaign appearances in Texas, although he came to El Paso to celebrate the El Chamizal treaty with Mexico and did a little stumping in Texarkana, Tex., where he dedicated a memorial to the late President John F. Kennedy. He was to have come to Texas last week, but canceled because of international developments — the shift of leaders in the Soviet Union and detonation of a Red Chinese nuclear device.

THREE STOPS

His wife took on some of those broken engagements for him then and swings into the cities of Beaumont, Tyler and San Angelo, Tex., today.

Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater has made five trips to Texas and plans another Oct. 31. He has just been in Austin Saturday when Mrs. Johnson flew in for the weekend between whistle stops.

Mrs. Johnson who has been a political partner in politics with her husband for 29 years said she was finding this campaign the toughest "psychologically and physically."

In the next two days, she'll be flying into nine cities in five states.

Mrs. Johnson was taking along three Cabinet wives — Mrs. Robert S. McNamara (defense), Mrs. Willard Wirtz (labor) and Mrs. Orville Freeman (agriculture) — and wasn't missing a chance to politics with an able traveling staff to help.

Pablo Picasso Is 83

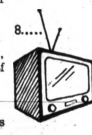

NICE, France (UPI) — Pablo Picasso celebrated his 83rd birthday yesterday, out of the public eye. The famous painter had left his hillside French Riviera home at Mougins two days previously and gone to an undisclosed destination with wife and one of their friends.

Singer Is Charged With LBJ Threat

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Secret Service agents arrested a 26-year-old folk singer here for threatening the life of President Johnson, the Miami Herald said today.

The man, identified as Paul S. Back, was held in Dade County jail under a $25,000 bond, the newspaper said.

Jail attendants verified a Paul S. Back was being held, but declined to give more details. They said he was arrested Saturday.

Now "French President Charles de Gaulle is putting money in to develop it as his atomic bomb headquarters," reported Close. He added there are 10,000 French Foreign Legionnaires on Papeete.

"Papeete's even got one-way streets."

Brandt Party Gains in Vote

West Berlin Mayor Hails Ballot Results

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI) — West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's Social Democrats made significant local election gains in three states yesterday, final returns showed today.

The Christian Democrats of Chancellor Ludwig Erhard showed slight gains in two of the states and a drop in the third.

The municipal and county voting in the Saar, Rhineland-Palatinate, and Hesse was the last major test between the two parties before next September's national elections, when Brandt will run against Erhard.

In the Rhineland-Palatinate, the Socialist total increased by 5 per cent to 42.9 per cent. There was a gain of 4 per cent to 51.2 per cent in Hesse, and a 10 per cent gain to 39.8 per cent in the Saar.

The New Christian Democratic totals were 43.7 per cent, 2.81 per cent, and 37.1 per cent, respectively. In the Rhineland-Palatinate, the party lost nearly 2 percentage points. It gained by about the same amount in the other two states.

Most of the Socialist gains were made at the expense of independent parties and the Free Democratic Party, Erhard's coalition partner.

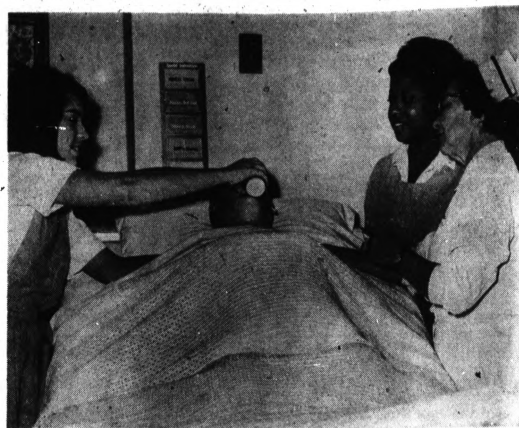

Brandt called the results a "clear victory." He said they show that his party has won the confidence of the German people.

The Socialists have been unsuccessful in four previous attempts to unseat the Christian Democrats. But for the first time since World War II, the Christian Democrats face an election without the vote-getting power of Konrad Adenauer, who retired after his last victory in 1961.

The results in yesterday's elections, coupled with a 9 per cent Socialist gain in last month's voting in the state of North Rhine-Westphalia, indicated the national elections will be the closest since the war.

JOB TRAINING—Pontiac students have entered a pilot job training program in co-operation with Pontiac General Hospital and the Seminole Hills Nursing Home. From left, Glenda Blanchard of Pontiac Northern and Jo Ruth Smith of Pontiac Central get instruction from Mrs. Helen C. Smith, R.N., of the Pontiac General Hospital staff.

Job Training at Hospital, Nursing Home

20 Local Students in Program

On-the-job training as nurses' aides and hospital orderlies is being furnished 20 Pontiac high school students through the co-operative occupational training program.

The students—all seniors—split their time between school and part-time work at Pontiac General Hospital and the Seminole Hills Nursing Home.

Initiated with the 1964-65 school year, the year-long program is the first in what is hoped will be a series of co-operative programs with area hospitals.

Students, 10 each from Pontiac's two high schools, work at one of the institutions four hours each day and attend regular school classes the other half of the day.

Credit is given for the co-op training in addition to the wages paid the students.

SIX WEEKS

The program at Pontiac General consists of about six weeks of classwork with some practical training, followed by seven weeks of on-the-job instruction with intensive supervision.

After this period, students have less supervision.

At Seminole Hills there is one week of classwork with on-the-job training beginning the second week and continuing throughout the year.

$540 PER YEAR

The co-op program's cost to the school district was estimated at $540 per year by Donald Kaiser, new coordinator of trade and industrial education.

The school district pays half of the salary of the nurse instructor for classroom instruction time at each institution.

State and federal funds, through various vocational acts, reimburse school district costs up to 50 per cent.

Kaiser said this first year's program is regarded as a pilot project with the training spreading to other area hospitals by next year.

PROGRAM OBJECT

Object of the program, he said, was to prepare students for jobs after high school. Some students, he said, might be able to "find themselves" through the job training.

Kaiser was pleased by the response to the co-op training. He said 36 students applied for the 20 positions open this year.

Australian Is Hanged for '63 Murders of Five

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Edgar Cooke, 33, one of Australia's worst killers, was hanged today in Fremantle.

Cooke went on a rampage in the suburbs of Perth early in 1963. The prosecution held him responsible for five killings but Cooke claimed he had also murdered two other people.

A Junior Editors Quiz About Lemmings

QUESTION: Why do lemmings drown themselves in the sea?

ANSWER: The lemming is a small rodent related to the mouse. It lives in northern countries, eating roots and grass stalks. There are lemmings living in the American north but it is to the ones which inhabit the highlands of the central mountain chain of Norway and Sweden that this question refers.

Every five to twenty years, an irresistible instinct to migrate seems to seize these tiny animals. In great numbers they start to move down from the mountains, swimming across rivers and lakes, letting nothing stop them.

Various enemies, such as hawks, feed off the moving lemmings but the others keep going. Those moving down toward the west reach the Atlantic Ocean.

Those moving eastward go to the gulf of Bothnia. They plunge into the water, swim out and ultimately drown.

Experts do not know exactly what causes the lemmings to destroy themselves in this way. At one time, long ago, there was dry land where the seas in which the lemmings drown now lie.

It is possible the ancestors of these lemmings moved down from the mountains when too many had accumulated for the limited food supply, and that these ancient migrations established a habit carried on to this time.

When the lemmings meet the sea, they may think of it as just another river or lake to swim across.

FOR YOU TO DO: In somewhat the same way the lemmings are thought to do, a group of bees will leave the home when the colony gets too large. This is called a "swarm." Find out about the swarming habits of the bees, comparing them to the lemmings.

UF Women Push Toward Goal as Campaign Nears End

With 70 per cent of its quota raised at the end of the third period, the women's campaign of the Pontiac Area United Fund goes into the fourth and final lap in an overall effort to surpass their total goal of nearly $32,000.

Made up of five areas, Pontiac, Waterford, Lake Angelus, Independence and Orion the women's campaign had collected $22,256 as of Friday from residential and small businesses which make up its division.

Already, the business teams in both Pontiac and Independence have raised amounts over their respective quotas. Eleven districts of Pontiac's 44, seven of Waterford's 53, and 15 of Independence Township's 32 have done the same.

Standings by areas in the women's campaign are as follows: • In the Pontiac area, 65 per cent of the goal has been reached. The residential and neighborhood business teams have solicited 55 per cent of their goal; the women's business team has raised 130 per cent of its quota. • Waterford solicitors stand at 70 per cent of their goal and Lake Angelus, 68 per cent. • In Independence, 94 per cent of the women's overall goal has been raised. The residential and small business teams have collected 83 per cent of their goal while the business team is over its goal by 30 per cent.

Orion Township, which only recently joined the Pontiac Area United Fund drive, reports a total of 59 per cent raised. Residential solicitors have collected 77 per cent of their quota, and the business teams, 25 per cent.

CONFIDENT

Mrs. Merrill D. Petrie, women's campaign committee chairman, said that even though the drive started out under adverse conditions, she feels confident the goal will be met.

"The fact that so many districts already have gone over their quotas reassures me that all the 1,500 women associated with this year's campaign will be working especially hard for this overall satisfaction," she said.

The women's campaign will wind up its activities on Wednesday with a Victory Luncheon at the Elks Temple starting at noon.

Edith Wedge Married on Saturday

MRS. W. F. LAWRENCE

The Church of God on East Pike Street was the setting for the Saturday marriage of Edith H. Wedge of Florence Street to Rev. Willie F. Lawrence of Madison Heights.

Reception in Roosevelt Temple followed the ceremony performed by Rev. L. W. McIntyre, state superintendent of the Churches of God in Michigan, and the pastor, Rev. Cheslie N. Collins.

Parents of the couple are the Roy Wedges of Applegate and Mr. and Mrs. Riley Lawrence of McClure, Va.

With her gown and Watteau train of white peau de sole touched with Chantilly lace, the bride wore an illusion veil and jeweled headpiece.

Attending the sister were Evelyn Wedge, honor maid, and Mrs. Eugene Burnside, LaVergne, Tenn., who joined Mrs. William Worley of Troy and Katy Alcorn as bridesmaid. Naomi Thompson if Crosswell was flower girl.

With Eugene Burnside, best man, were ushers Alan Perry, Port Huron and Rev. Fred G. Swank.

Late Guest Presents a Problem

By The Emily Post Institute
Q. A friend of mine told me that she read in your column that it was not necessary to wait more than 15 minutes after the most for a late dinner guest and if she hadn't arrived by then it was all right to go ahead and eat.

I think she must have misunderstood your advice. It seems to me that having invited someone to dinner, it would be the height of rudeness to go ahead and eat without her.

Will you please clarify this point for me?

A: If she were the only guest you would of course have to wait for her arrival before starting to eat, but it would be very unfair to other guests who took the trouble to arrive on time to keep them waiting for one who is delinquent.

Q: My husband and I were invited to his sister's son's wedding out of town.

I sent them a very nice wedding present and signed the card accompanying it, Aunt Mary and Uncle John.

We received a thank-you note from the bride in this morning's mail and it began, "Dear Mr. and Mrs. . . ."

She began all her letters to his relatives the same way. Shouldn't she have addressed us as Dear Aunt and Uncle even though we met her for the first time at the wedding?

A: She should indeed have addressed you as Aunt Mary and Uncle John.

Q: Is it considered ill-mannered when dining alone, to read the newspaper at a restaurant table?

A: It is permissible, when dining alone, to read a newspaper at table provided of course it does not interfere with those dining at nearby tables.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Now Buys Naked Statues

Son 'Ruined' in College

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our son is an art major at a university and he spent the summer in Italy.

He had a lot of stuff shipped home that he bought over there.

Mostly they are statues of men and ladies and even little children. Everybody naked. There's not a stitch on any of them.

Our son was not raised that way, but college ruined him. The preacher called on us yesterday and when I saw him coming up the road, I started moving all those bare naked statues out of sight because I didn't want him looking at them and me at the same time.

My husband called me a hypocrite and a backslider. Was I wrong to get that stuff out of sight before I let the preacher in the house?

PINE BLUFF, ARKANSAS

DEAR PINE BLUFF: Not in my opinion. GOOD sculpture, draped or otherwise, should offend no one.

But since you apparently have no appreciation for the collection under any circumstances, keep it ditched and you'll have no problem.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 13-year-old girl who rides to and from school every day on the bus.

Well, there is this cute boy who always ends up sitting near me no matter where I sit. He doesn't say "Hi," he just looks at me.

I don't bother him. In fact, I don't even look at him. I did everything my mother told me to do to ignore him, but nothing works.

What should I say or do?

NEEDS HELP

DEAR NEEDS: Tell the bus

driver, and let him deal with the boy.

If it makes the socks any less painful, the boy is probably mad about you and is only trying to get your attention.

DEAR ABBY: If you were a personal friend of mine and I left my two small children with you while I went to the doctor, would you hold me responsible for an expensive vase which my 14-month-old child had broken?

As soon as I walked in the door this friend told me that I owed her $45 for the vase my child had pulled off an end table.

Had I been visiting this person with my child and such a mishap occurred, I would have felt responsible because I should have been watching my child.

But my child was in HER care, and it was due to HER negligence that the vase was broken.

I am going to pay for it anyway to avoid hard feelings, but don't you think I am right?

EASY-GOING

DEAR EASY: Yes. But the lesson you learned was cheap at $45.

Now that you are aware of how negligent your friend is, I hope you'll never entrust your children to her care again.

The porcelain vase could have come down on your child's head.

Grandmother Was Freer

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — The emancipated woman — who is she? Not the woman of today, but her grandmother, says Barbara Ward, noted British economist, writer and lecturer.

Today's woman, unless she's extremely wealthy, has less chance than her grandmother to be free to participate in community and government affairs because she has little or no domestic help. That holds, despite all the so-called labor saving devices in the home.

"Emancipation is retrograding because of all the chores moving in," said Miss Ward, who in private life is Lady Jackson, the wife of Sir Robert Jackson and mother of a 9-year-old son.

She said that the woman who holds a job outside the home is even less free than her non-working sister — and the number of women taking jobs increases steadily.

Grandmother Was Freer

The solution? A part of it, said Miss Ward, is nursery schools so that mothers at work know their children are cared for. But she also believes a woman should continue "learning and living" even if she's "earning and living."

"I'd like to see multiplication of such centers as the Radcliffe Institute of Independent Studies," said Miss Ward. The institute gives women an opportunity to go right on through life studying.

"It is a fantasy that education should end with adolescence," said the writer.

Miss Ward chastises our society also for its "commercialization of sex" — the woman always pictured as the glamorous girl. She said that sex had been turned into "a great salesman." "Oh," she laughed, "I think sex will survive, but it is less interesting if cheapened."

Barbara Ward talked on a variety of subjects from stream pollution and traffic snafus to Charles de Gaulle and the space race during an interview on a trip to New York. She spoke at the annual luncheon of the YWCA here on "The Poverty of the Spirit."

She also is part of the Harvard University annual seminar, this year on economic development of the underdeveloped nations.

"At no time in history has Western man been more fully able to realize his dreams," she said. "The modern developed economy, based on science and technology, has literally an almost unlimited potential. Nothing is scarce."

"The Western world has all the resources. Now what is needed is vision and imagination. These, with science, are our chief tools for a better life. We will be held back only by a dearth of ideas."

"What to do about it? The smog, the traffic, the water pollution — we ought to pursue our congressmen with hatchets," said Miss Ward.

BETTER PLANNING

She called for better civic planning of "urban regions hardly worth living in. We must get our neighborhoods free of roaring traffic, our air free of poison, our rivers free of sewage."

The economist-writer is a slim, attractive woman with brown eyes and reddish brown hair, and a quick reply to questions.

She labeled French president de Gaulle a "magnificent anachronism" who was trying to put "us back into the 19th century."

Of the space race between the United States and Russia, she said, "I'm all for it but I don't give a darn who wins it. The earth, I believe, is just the first cell in our solar system. When you think of our coming from the amoeba to here, we must go on."

Parents of the bride are the Allister G. Crapenard of South Adams Road, Avon Township.

Greg and Conard Pukerson, ushered with Richard Paulson and Ted Kirshenbaum of Lansing.

With honor maid, Patricia Mazurek, of Lansing, were bridesmaids, Dolores Barron, Cheri LaLone, Debbie Deering and Karen Hartman.

ESQUIRE SIDE

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Rice of Knollwood Road, Pontiac Township, had David Peck of Lansing for best man.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fitzlin Rice Jr. (Jean Ann Carpenter) began their southern honeymoon after a reception Saturday in the Knights of Columbus club rooms.

DOUBLE-RING RITE

Rev. Francis Dietz officiated at the recent double-ring ceremony in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Auburn Heights.

Taffeta roses cradled a bouffant illusion veil for the bride who wore white silk peau de sole appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace.

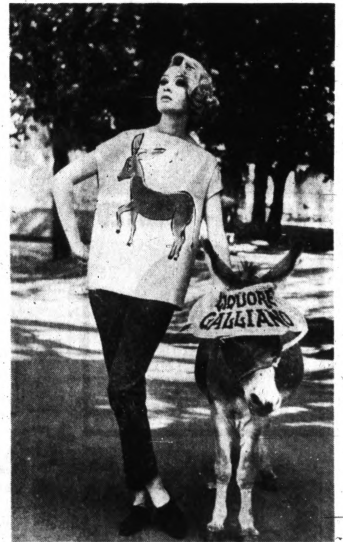

A corsage of rosebuds centered her bouquet of white carnations.

MRS. W. F. RICE JR.

The very latest fashion flash from Italy recognizes that American women are interested in the political campaign. With this in mind Biki of Milan adapts the Republican mascot for this orange silk blouse. The elephant head is hand screened in shades of gray.

Democrats are not neglected by Italian designer, Biki of Milan. She designs a soft silk shirt with a donkey for ardent party workers. Her comment: "May the best man win."

Should Get a Medal for Smart Shopping

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: There are times when I feel close to a breakdown over money matters. My husband hands me $40 each week and gets irritated when I frequently have to ask for $10 more.

This $40 is supposed to get all the groceries, cleaning supplies and toothpaste, pay the children's movie or candy, and pay $2.30 to the church. We have five children ranging from 18 months to 16 years. I usually have to buy $1.50 worth of extra milk because our weekly deliveries aren't usually enough.

Our 14-year-old is a paper boy and has his own spending money. But it's a small route and he can buy very few clothes.

Does $40 a week for all these things seem reasonable to you? My husband won't change his ways, but I'd have an easier conscience if I knew I was doing well.

Mrs. L.C., Amsterdam, N.Y.

Dear Mrs. C.: In my opinion, you're in line for a medal for smart shopping. Did you know that you could justify a weekly food bill of $39 with the number of people and ages you have to feed? But of course you didn't or your ego would be a lot healthier than it is.

But don't pass up this opportunity to tell your husband that $39 a week for the family is a low estimate. And in addition, you're putting out for a lot of other things.

Have you tried itemizing your spending so your husband could see the facts and figures right on paper? Maybe he won't change his ways where money is concerned. But it won't cost

Bake Light Fruit Cake in Little Paper Cups

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Mrs. William Newman thinks that it's time to start making your holiday fruit cake. She shares her favorite recipe with Press readers.

The mother of four children, Mrs. Newman is active in church work as a choir leader. For her own enjoyment she takes piano lessons.

LITTLE WHITE FRUIT CAKES
By Mrs. William Newman

- 1 cup vegetable shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 5 eggs
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1½ teaspoons baking powder
- ¼ cup pineapple juice
- 2 cups diced candied fruit mix

½ cup dates, chopped
1 cup chopped candied cherries
1¼ cup chopped candied pineapple
1 cup golden raisins
2 cups flake coconut
2 cups broken walnut meats or sliced blanched almonds

Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Sift ½ cup of the flour with salt and baking powder. Add alternately with pineapple juice to creamed mixture.

Dust fruit with rest of flour and fold into batter until well blended.

Pour into paper baking cups set in muffin tins. Bake 50 minutes at 275 degrees. Makes 32 2-inch cakes. Good to eat right away or will store well for several months.

your United Way gift is doing?

It's working many wonders—like these

It's helping senior citizens who could otherwise be all alone find companionship, helping give a chance for love and happiness to those who have given us their all. It helps care for people who have no one left to care. When necessary, to ease their pain and suffering, and to touch their twilight years with a little of the golden glow they so richly deserve. You pledge the United Way just once a year. But your generous gift keeps working all year long—helping make our community a better place for young and old. Laborites to Skirt N-Fleet Decision

By WILLIAM J. FOX
United Press International
The question of the American-proposed mixed-manned nuclear force — popularly termed MLF — will figure in this week's discussions in Washington. But British Foreign Secretary Patrick Gordon Walker will try to steer clear of any commitment on behalf of the force by his government.

Gordon Walker can be expected to skirt gingerly around the subject in his talks with President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. Reason is that the new British Labor government wants to put off any substantive discussion of the MLF until after the American presidential election.

Prime Minister Harold Wilson prefers to discuss the proposal directly with President Johnson if Johnson wins.

Wilson, who opposes the idea of MLF, plans to fly to Washington late next month on a mission he hopes may keep the United States from going ahead with its nuclear-armed surface naval force proposal.

UNLEASH NATIONALISTS?
Political observers in Taipei expect new pressure from the Nationalist Chinese government on the United States in the wake of Red China's first primitive nuclear explosion of more than a week ago.

The Nationalists are expected to renew their efforts to get the United States to release their armed forces and help them cross the Formosa Strait for an all-out attack on Red China.

The reasoning is that this is the only way to keep Peking from becoming a real nuclear power.

The Taipei leaders are reported to feel that the Nationalists must destroy the Communist regime as soon as possible.

W. Germans Visit Israel N-Projects

BONN, Germany (AP) — A government spokesman said today that two top West German physicists are on a month's trip to inspect joint projects for the peaceful development of nuclear energy in Israel.

They are J. Hans D. Jensen and Wolfgang Gentner, both of Heidelberg University.

A foreign ministry spokesman said the government has close scientific relations with some countries and is negotiating with others. He would not name any countries.

A spokesman at the ministry for scientific investigation said inspections like those of the two professors are carried out routinely every few months by visits to the Weizmann Institute at Rehovoth.

The newspaper Frankfurter Rundschau, reporting the visit of the physicists, also said the Arab States had learned of West German arms aid to Israel.

ISRAELI EFFORTS
The reports received special attention because of Israeli efforts to secure the recall of West German scientists hired by the United Arab Republic for work on military projects.

The West German government has said it can find no legal way of forcing them to come home. Lately a few have quit to take jobs at home.

Nationalist legislators and newspapers have been clamoring for an early attack on the mainland in increasing volume since the successful Red blast. But the U. S. Navy would have to provide the necessary ships and planes for any invasion — and current policy is against such a move.

FRENCH RECESSION

Economic pundits are forecasting a recession in France's production for the rest of this year and the first few months of next year.

A fifth economic plan, covering five years from the beginning of 1964, is slated to go into effect then.

But it may be revised because it does not take sufficient account of the level of France's technical capabilities.

The Egyptians practiced the hot-iron branding of livestock as early as 2000 B.C. and it was introduced into North America by Hernando Cortez in the 16th century, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

American-Born Singer Hospitalized in France

PERIGUEUX, France (UPI) — Josephine Baker, famed American-born music hall singer, was reported yesterday to have been hospitalized here for an undisclosed illness.

Miss Baker, 56, has been living in retirement at her nearby estate of Les Milandes, caring for her 11 adopted children. She became a French citizen in 1958.

Big Quarter for MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — One potent period was enough to lift Michigan State out of the Big Ten basement with a 24-6 overpowering of Northwestern Saturday.

Their first Big Ten victory

put the Spartans in seventh place in the conference, above Indiana and Northwestern.

"It probably was the finest all-around quarter we've played this season," enthused coach Duffy Daugherty of the 17-point first period.

"Our offense and defense combined wonderfully," he said, "we'd like to play an entire game that way some Saturday."

SCORING PASSES

Quarterback Steve Juday had a hand in every touchdown. Juday threw six-and-three-yard scoring passes to Gene Washington and Dick Gordon. Juday also carried in personally for the last two yards to climax a 65-yard drive in the final quarter.

The showy Spartan kickers also delighted the homecoming crowd of 66,311. Dick Kenney hit a 42-yard field goal with a barefoot boot and Lou Bobich kicked three extra points using a soccer-style side kick.

The defense was equally effective, holding Northwestern to minus 16 yards rushing.

The fat, early lead allowed Daugherty to let his reserves in to romp in the final quarter, the first such exercise this season for them. He also was able to hold out a half dozen players who have been bothered by an assortment of leg injuries.

The opponent next Saturday will be Wisconsin at Madison. State can expect the Badgers to be bitter after a 28-3 thrashing by Big Ten leader Ohio State.

Change Post Time

NEW YORK (UPI) — Post time at Aqueduct race track will be 12:30 p.m. EST starting today and effective through Nov. 7. Beginning Nov. 9 the start of the first race will be moved up to noon.

LONG GAIN — Michigan State end Gene Washington is behind defensive back Dick McCauley (12) of Northwestern and in position to receive a 44-yard pass from Steve Juday in Saturday's game. McCauley, former Pontiac Central player, knocked Washington out of bounds on the four-yard line. The Spartans won, 24-6.

Wolverines Win, 19-12

'Jug' Back at U. of M.

ANN ARBOR—When the final gun sounded giving Michigan a 19-12 victory over "Little Brown Jug" rival Minnesota, coach Bump Elliott had only two words to say, "Thank Goodness."

For more than three quarters it looked like an easy Michigan triumph, but the Gophers caught fire in the final period scoring two fast touchdowns and then threatening again.

The Wolverines scored first on a 52 yard march with Mel

Anthony going over from the one with Bob Timberlake adding the point.

A moment later a fake field goal failed when Timberlake tried to pass from the 17.

In the second period Timberlake did kick a 29 yard field goal to make it 10-0 and in the third quarter a safety and a touchdown made it 19-0.

The safety came when a centered ball on an attempted punt rolled out of the end zone. After the free kick Michigan moved back down the field and scored with Timberlake scoring from the one. He also made the PAT. Then came the near-fatal 4th period.

Minnesota scored on a pass from John Hankinson to Kent Kramer covering 11 yards, and missed the try for two-point conversion when the pass was dropped.

RUNS 91 YARDS

Michigan took the kick and marched downfield, but Kraig Lofquist picked off a Timberlake pass on the nine and raced downfield behind some fine blocking for a 91 yard touchdown.

Again the two point try failed. After forcing a punt the Gophers had possession and in the final two and half minutes moved to the Michigan three yard line. On fourth down Hankinson was hit for a four yard loss and the Wolverines took over as the clock neared the end.

Michigan piled up 311 yards rushing to only 84, but 61,859 fans nearly had the joy of the return of the Little Brown Jug spoiled by the Gophers last quarter assault.

The Jug is at Ann Arbor for the first time in five years.

TOKYO (AP) — The Emperor of Japan and 70,000 others stood while a chorus sang "Auld Lang Syne," a swaying circle of fire danced on the infield and the flame went out Saturday on the 1964 Olympic Games.

"We meet again in Mexico City, 1968" flashed the big electric scoreboard as the athletes marched out of the vast National Stadium in complete disarray — a contrast to the perfectly staged opening ceremony two weeks ago.

Not even a bizarre, hammy performance by a thinly-clad West African could detract from the touching, somber one-hour show that marked another end to sport's greatest international spectacle.

Arnold Gordon, a world citizen from Sierra Leone, leaped onto the track as the athletes were making their entrance.

While the band played marching songs and the athletes continued to troop into the big enclosure, Gordon made two circuits of the red clay track in a white track suit with a number "351" on his chest.

The crowd, stunned at first by this interruption of the show, soon accepted it as a big joke, laughed and waved as the volunteer paraded around the 400-meter oval, waving in reply to every cheer.

Once he stopped to help lead the band and then continued his impromptu, unscheduled race, finishing just 200 yards below the emperor's box.

Emperor Hirohito, graying, bespectacled and nattily attired in a business suit, showed little emotion during this and the more serious proceedings.

Flanked on one side by the empress, dressed in a fur-colored purple suit, and by Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, the emperor leaned forward in the royal box and never took his eye from the field.

The closing ceremony started under somber, cloud-canopied skies in the cool, biting weather. It was fitting for the sad occasion — an antithesis of the gay opening in bright sunshine.

First flag bearers of the 94 competing nations marched in and took a stance in the infield. The American flag was carried by Don Schollander, the 18-year-old youngster from Oregon who won four gold medals in swimming.

Leonid Zhabotinsky, Russia's new heavyweight weightlifting champion, carried his country's banner, holding it in one hand in a show of strength. Crown Prince Harald of Norway, with his country's colors, added a royal touch.

There was a discordant note when the British Union Jack came unhinged at one part of the mast and dropped to the ground. Fencer Alan Jay carrying it, held on valiantly until he got to the grass area and then fixed it.

Colleges Use Pro-Like Defenses

By United Press International
There's one thing that virtually all of the nation's top college football teams have in common, as evidenced by last Saturday's play-pro-like defenses.

Seven of the top 10 teams won their games Saturday and another played to a tie, and of these eight teams only one allowed its opponent more than six points in what was indeed an amazing show of defensive football.

The "finest performances were turned in by top ranked Ohio State and Notre Dame, who continued along the unbeaten path with victories over Wisconsin and Stanford respectively.

The Buckeyes held Wisconsin to only three first downs in the first half and used their old grind-'em out style of offense to wallop the Badgers 28-3.

They recovered two Badger fumbles and blocked a punt completely immobilizing Wisconsin's offense, and the Ohio State offensive machine marched out 291 yards on the ground to score twice in both the first and fourth quarters.

IRISH IMPRESSIVE
Notre Dame's victory was even more impressive.

The Irish, who have had the best defense against rushing in the nation this season, limited Stanford to only one yard on the ground and to only four first downs in scoring a 28-6 victory.

So futile was the Stanford attack that Ray Handley, the national rushing leader with a 5.7 average entering the game, was limited to only 43 yards in 19 carries.

Meanwhile, Notre Dame's John Huarte continued his magnificent passing—with a 21 for 37 performance that netted 300 yards.

Purdue's hopes for a Big Ten championship and a possible Rose Bowl nod face a stern test on next Saturday's round of games.

The Boilermakers are rolling at a 3-0 clip in the conference and share the Big Ten lead with Ohio State.

The Boilermakers are hosts to Illinois on the weekend and thereby have a chance to prove they're as strong as Ohio State. The Buckeyes inflicted the Illini's sole setback this season.

The Boilermakers picked up five Iowa fumbles and intercepted two passes in a 19-14 triumph.

South African Aussie Winner

MELBOURNE (AP) — Cobie Legrange, a young South African pro golfer who developed a game of international caliber this year, rallied from an incredible last-round slump Saturday and beat Jack Nicklaus and Bruce Devlin by three strokes in the Wills Masters Tournament.

Eight shots ahead of the field with only nine holes to play, Legrange lost seven strokes on seven holes as Nicklaus, the big better from Columbus, Ohio, put on pressure. Then he birdied the last two holes to win with a 72-hole total of 277.

Nicklaus, Legrange's playing partner, missed a simple putt on the last green and slipped into a second-place tie with Australia's Devlin at 280.

Arnold Palmer, the other American star who came here for the tournament, went into Saturday's final 36 holes tied with Legrange for first place. His game lost some of its sharpness and he finished with rounds of 73-72, tying Kel Nagle of Australia at 282.

The 22-year-old Legrange, virtually unknown until he began playing in Britain this year, had rounds of 68-68-68-72-277, 775-yard, par 73 course.

The Illini walloped UCLA 26-7 in a non-conference whirl.

Iowa's Gary Snook set a couple of Big Ten passing records by gaining 310 yards with his pitches and tossing 49 passes. But his performance wasn't enough to overcome the mistake of his error-prone teammates.

Arkansas held Wichita to only eight first downs while coasting to a 17-0 victory.

NEBRASKA WINS
Nebraska's Cornhuskers whose defensive line averages 223 pounds per man, held Colorado for minus three yards rushing and held the Buffs to only 49 yards total offense in a 21-3 win.

Texas had a great deal of trouble from Rice, but got two field goals for David Conway to edge the Owls 6-3.

A real hard-nosed defensive battle was waged between seventh-ranked LSU and Tennessee with the two teams playing to a 3-3 tie.

The Tigers entered the game unbeaten and unified in four games but missed three field goal attempts in the fourth quarter and missed another opportunity to score when they marched to the Tennessee one-yard line but failed to get the ball into the end zone.

LOSING HAIR?

Warren Feathers, Clayburg, Penna., shows results he received by the Lesley Means Treatment Method. He did not have male pattern baldness.

MEN AND WOMEN Hair Consultant Here Tomorrow, to Explain Hair Problems

The worst enemies of hair are neglect, mistreatment and improper hair care. A little time spent now may save a great deal of regret later.

Mr. F. L. Brodie will be in Pontiac, Michigan at the Hotel Waldron on Tuesday, October 27, 1964. Hours 1:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m.

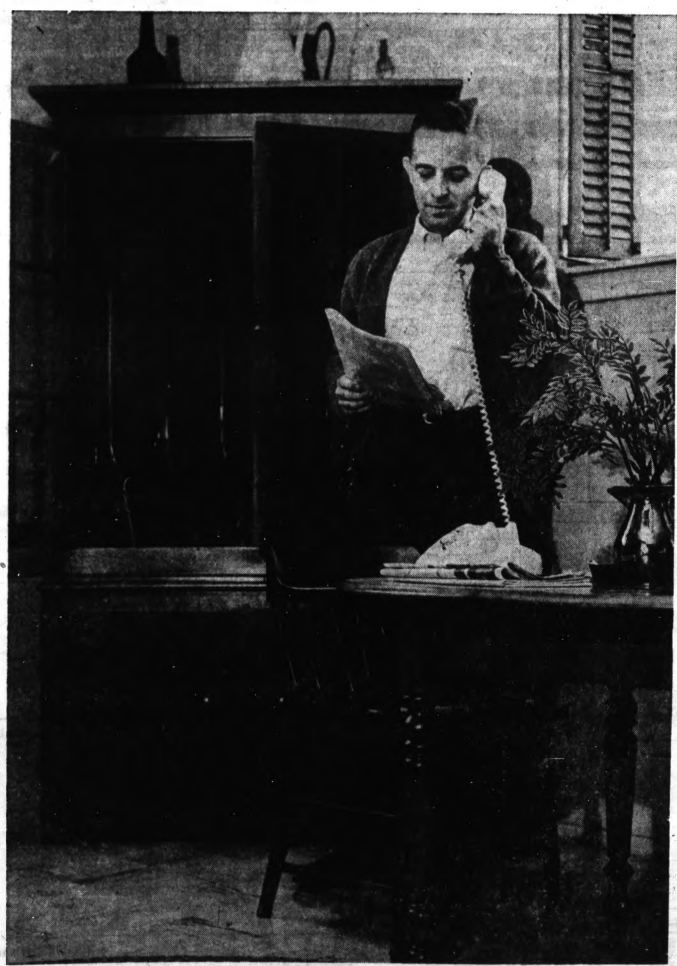

Come in and talk with the Lesley Consultant regarding your hair and scalp problems. Learn how you can treat yourself right in the privacy of your own home.

FREE CONSULTATION
If you have dandruff, excessive hair fall, thinning hair, excessive oiliness or dryness, itchy scalp, or if your scalp is still creating hair you should take positive action at once.

You incur no charge or obligation by coming in for the consultation. We will tell you frankly and sincerely whether or not we believe you can be helped, how long it will take and how much it will cost.

WRITTEN GUARANTEE
If you are accepted for treatment, you will be given a written guarantee for the length of time treatment is required, on a prorated basis. Nearly half of our clients are women.

Male pattern baldness is the cause of a great majority of cases of baldness and excessive hair loss, for which neither the Lesley treatment nor any other treatment is effective.

Nho started street demonstrations against Khanh two months ago when students raided a Saigon radio station and other facilities in the Vietnamese capital.

Downing of Craft Laid to Cambodia

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — There were indications today that a two-engine U.S. Air Force transport shot down Saturday was hit by Cambodian fire and not the Communist Viet Cong.

The U.S. C123 had been making a supply airdrop over a U.S. Special Forces camp Saturday when it was hit by ground fire. It crashed and burned. All eight Americans aboard were killed. Military sources said today the plane crashed in Viet Nam about a half mile from the Cambodian frontier. Cambodia announced Sunday that one of its anti-aircraft batteries had shot down an American two-engine plane Saturday at about the same place but on the Cambodian side in mountainous Mondulkiri Province.

Military sources here said the wreckage of the plane showed it had been hit not only with small arms fire but with projectiles of 50 caliber or larger.

ORIGINAL REPORT

U.S. officials in Saigon reported originally that the plane had been shot down by Viet Cong guerrillas. A second C123 flying on the mission also was hit by ground fire but got back to its base without casualties.

Military sources said the crash definitely was within Vietnamese territory. Last April 18, Cambodian fighters shot down an unarmed U.S. Army spotter plane at another point on the frontier. The American pilot identified the fighter as Cambodian before he died.

Viet Nam Military Returns Government to Civilians

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam's military returned the government to the civilians today, marking the fifth change of government in a year.

Power was formally transferred to the nation's new chief of state, ailing, revolutionary Phan Khanh Sui.

Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh resigned as premier with the rest of his caretaker government.

Sui said the High National Council, which is presiding over the changeover from military to civil rule, would consult Tuesday on a premier to lead the government until a new constitution is drawn up. Speculation centered around former Saigon Mayor Tran Van Huong.

Khanh will continue to wield great power as commander in chief of the armed forces, with a big say in naming the armed forces minister. They will sit on the four-man National Security Council which will have wide power because of the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

Although the U.S. Embassy hailed the shift as "another positive step toward the objective of establishing an effective civilian government," more turmoil was possible.

Sui said he would continue as chief of state for only a short time because his health isn't good. It appeared likely that the civilian politicians would not bow to military pressure willingly. Any such defiance would probably result in another military coup.

Political leaders in Hue said they were prepared to put crowds into the streets to back their demand for complete elimination of Khanh from the government.

ONE-WEEK HOLIDAY

In Nha Trang, a coastal city 200 miles northeast of Saigon, officials declared a one-week holiday from school in the hope of heading off rioting.

Police said banners rigged with booby-trap grenades were put up at Buddhist schools demanding a reprieve for a Viet Cong student sentenced to die for an unsuccessful attempt to assassinate former U.S. Ambassador Frederick E. Nolting Jr.

Deaf Girl Picked for TV Role

By DORIS KLEIN

Written for Bob Thomas
HOLLYWOOD TALK — "When we took her to the hospital," said June Reed's mother, "they told us we'd probably never bring our daughter home again. We were glad to get her back alive — even if she couldn't speak or hear or walk."

When June was 22 months old, meningitis crippled her.

Tonight, at age 12, she shows the comeback a stubborn little girl can make. She stars opposite her television idol, Vince Edwards, on the "Ben Casey" show, playing a deaf girl who learns to speak.

STILL DEAF

Still deaf, June can jabber now almost as well as any teenager.

"She just started talking so anyone could understand her three years ago," says her mother, Mrs. Patricia Reed. "The hardest job we had," says director Marc Daniels, "was getting June to talk properly."

Daniels plucked June out of the Mary Bennett Grammar School for the Deaf in Los Angeles when he decided to do the show. He used June's entire graduating class, but the top role went to the freckle-nosed youngster with the bouncing blonde bob.

EXPRESSIVE EYES

With her slightly slanted, expressive eyes, June is a near double for British teen-ager star Hayley Mills.

Daniels, himself slightly deaf from a World War II injury, got the idea for the show after meeting Robert Cole, head of the parents group of the Alexander Graham Bell Association for the Deaf.

Cole has two congenitally deaf children, one of whom was in June's class.

"June's father was against her being on television at first," says Mrs. Reed. "He was afraid they might just want to put her on display. But after seeing a preview he's so proud of her."

PERFECTLY NORMAL

"We're happy that people will see that a deaf girl can be perfectly normal."

Today, June's a very lively teen-ager who water skis and loves the Beatles.

"She can't really hear them," says her mother, "but if the radio is turned real loud she can hear a little noise. She'll ask me, 'Mamma, is that pretty?'"

And she gets A's and B's at Mulholland Junior High School in suburban Van Nuys.

SHE'S STUBBORN

"She's stubborn," says her mother. "For six months after we brought her home from the hospital, she could only crawl on her hands and knees. When she took a few steps, she'd fall down."

"She wouldn't let us help her. She'd get this angry look on her face and drag herself up again."

There are disappointments. "She's a very good dancer," says Mrs. Reed. "But no one asked her to dance when she went to her first school dance. I told her it was just because she was new in the school."

June has ambitions: "I wanted to be a nurse before, but now I want to be an actress."

In the meantime, she has a project at home.

"She spends hours, just hours," says Mrs. Reed, "teaching her 2-year-old brother how to talk."

Auto Stocks Weak

NEW YORK (AP)—Selective strength pushed the stock market higher early this afternoon despite weakness in auto stocks. Trading was fairly active.

Substantial gains among some of the rails, chemicals, oils, coppers and farm implements helped advance the market averages.

General Motors, however, slipped out of its gain of 1 1/2 made Friday in advance of news that GM workers had voted to accept a new three-year contract after a 31-day strike.

Settlement of the strike was well discounted and traders "sold on the news."

Chrysler fell nearly a point while most other leading auto stocks were unchanged.

Coppers rose on the basis of another record high in the world price of copper and the boost in Anaconda's sales price in the United States for its Chilean copper.

Steels were a shade higher on balance as steel production was reported likely to continue at the present heavy pace.

Prices were generally higher in moderate trading on the

Ex-Auto Exec Tells His Side

DETROIT (UPI)—William C. Newberg, president of Chrysler Corp. for two months in 1960, today gave his "inside" version of events leading to his ouster.

Newberg made the revelation for the first time in a 15-page letter to the Saturday Evening Post.

In the letter, Newberg demanded a retraction from the Post for statements made about him in a Sept. 19 article, "The Automakers and Their Mighty Workers."

Newberg termed himself a victim of a "management conspiracy without parallel in industrial history."

He claimed he was "sacrificed" to protect others at Chrysler. He said he was made to pay to keep the others "from suffering the consequences of their own corporate management sins."

In his letter to Matthew J. Cullen of the Post, Newberg advised him that he had hired a Detroit law firm to represent him concerning the Post article.

BOARD MEETING
Newberg said his discharge as Chrysler president was obtained June 30, 1960, at a board of directors meeting in New York.

He said his discharge was not directly related to supplier affiliations but instead the board "used no longer-in-existence supplier affiliations as an excuse to accomplish its goals."

The alleged conspiracy against him, Newberg said, was dominated by Lester (Tex) Colbert, then chairman of the board.

Newberg took issue with the Post's statement that sales had "plummeted" under his tenure in office. Instead, he said, Chrysler sales did not revive until late in 1962, long after he had left the firm.

In addition, he said, he was "not caught engaging in supplier affiliations." He said his supplier affiliations were common knowledge to Colbert and others at Chrysler.

2 Texas Chemical Plants Rocked by Gas Explosions

ORANGE, Tex. (AP)—A series of gas explosions rocked two of a string of six petrochemical plants near this south-east Texas oil city Sunday.

Two workers were killed and 17 injured, only one seriously.

Ruptures in pipelines carrying highly volatile gas apparently caused the blasts, but company officials said they were unrelated. Neither firm shares any facilities.

The first explosion ripped the Spencer Chemical Co. plant after a leak developed in a line carrying highly volatile ethylene gas under a pressure of 25,000 pounds per square inch.

Gas fogging the area ignited and the shock broke windows at Bridge City, five miles distant. Flames soared 15 feet high and were visible 25 miles to the west at Beaumont.

Plants separated
The two plants are separated by a 300-acre industrial site.

Police barricaded roads and entrances through chain-link fences within a five-mile radius of entire plant complex — as flames spread from surrounding areas to fight the flames.

Fires at both plants were brought under control, and thousands of pounds of dry ice were packed around lines to solidify escaping gas and allow repair of the breaks.

No newsmen were permitted on the scene, but reports told of building walls collapsing and windows shattering.

One man was hit by a flying door.

PLANT WENT UP
"It felt like the whole plant went up," one victim told a reporter.

Hundreds of persons swarmed outside the Orange hospital as word of the explosions spread. Victims were hurried into emergency treatment rooms with little or no time to talk to relatives.

Carroll Lee Carr, 29, an employee at the Spencer plant, died of a heart attack. A fellow worker, Clyde Matthews, Jr., 31, died in the hospital later of burns.

The most seriously injured was Ted Mc, mayor of Pine-Haven, a town northwest of here, who works at Spencer. Five other Spencer workers were admitted to Orange Memorial Hospital. Eight employees and three Allied employees were treated and released.

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market was mixed with soybeans up and the grains steady to weak today.

Traders who liquidated long positions in soybeans Friday in advance of a government report, sought today to restate those positions and prices around the opening advance more than four cents a bushel on some deliveries.

Extreme gains were trimmed, however, as early demand was filled and some profit taking occurred on bulges.

He'll Visit 20 States in Final Week

Miller Pledges a Battle 'Down to Wire'

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — Rep. William E. Miller pledges a fight "right down to the wire" as he begins his final week of campaigning that will take him into 20 states.

The Republican vice presidential candidate will concentrate his home stretch bid for votes in the South, Midwest and Far West. Pennsylvania is the only northeastern state included in his week's schedule.

Miller's advisers reported they anticipated no change during the week in his basic campaign strategy — a series of attacks on Democrats and explanation of GOP positions he says have been distorted.

Miller spent Saturday on a whistle-stop tour across his home state of New York. Mrs. Miller and their two oldest daughters, Elizabeth, 20, and Mary Karen, 17, were aboard the campaign train.

LBJ SIGNS

At Schenectady, there was a group of Democratic partisans carrying "LBJ" signs and, as Miller began to speak, a voice shouted from the crowd, "What's your record on civil rights?"

"Why don't you look it up in the 'Congressional Record'?" Miller replied. Then he said with a smile, "As a matter of fact, it's a pretty good one."

The final stop was a speech to 400 Republicans at a dinner in Westchester County, a few miles from the home of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Neither Rockefeller nor any of the other top New York State Republicans were on hand to greet Miller at any point.

Rockefeller has concentrated his campaign efforts on the reelection bid of Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, who has declined to support the Goldwater-Miller ticket.

Miller urged the reelection of Keating in his talks in New York, although he had said at the outset of the trip he had no plans to do so.

The vice presidential nominee spent a quiet day Sunday with his family in their home in suburban Bethesda, Md.

Church Fights Slum Squalor

$100,000 Raised for Chicago Renewal Site

CHICAGO (AP) — A Negro church in Chicago has a lofty goal — it wants to help rebuild the South Side, where many of the city's one million Negroes live in squalor.

The Antioch Baptist Church has raised $100,000 through Sunday contributions for development of a 13-acre urban renewal site in the heart of a vast Negro neighborhood of overcrowded tenements.

Church leaders said today they expect to obtain millions of dollars more in Federal Housing Authority funds. They said the money would be available by the end of November, when the city's Urban Renewal Commission says it will over the already cleared site for bidding.

"We hope to invest $5 million down there," said the Rev. Wilburg N. Daniel, 46, pastor of the 3,000-member church.

PEOPLE READY

"My people are ready to go hungry and sleep in the parks to see this dream realized."

The church's tentative plans call for the construction of predominantly low-rent units, with special provisions for elderly persons and a nursing home. A shopping area, parks and playgrounds also are included in the plans, which must be approved by the Urban Renewal Commission.

"Many of our members lived in the exact area where we're trying to go back," said Daniel. "The people who lived in the area should be the ones who go back in and do the developing."

The urban renewal site, at 35th Street and Rhodes Avenue, adjoins Prairie Shores and Lake Meadows, two privately financed, integrated urban renewal housing developments. They offer 3,000 units at rentals ranging up to $300 monthly.

PART OF PATTERN

"It's all part of pattern," said Daniel. "First they move Negro residents and businesses out of the area, then they clear the land, call in white developers who build these expensive high-rises, and then they bring back the Negroes to pay expensive rent so the developers can get their investments back."

Daniels said his church "is trying to stop this pattern and also do something for the people ourselves."

Local-Level Strikes Still Hobble GM

BATTLE FLAMES—The aerial unit from the Pontiac City Fire department was pressed into service in the nearby community of Lake Orion early yesterday morning to fight the towering high flames atop the Masonic Temple building there. The second-floor temple was gutted and the two businesses on the ground level were damaged extensively by water. (Other pictures on pages A-2 and A-4.)

'Worst Fire in 30 Years' Guts Lake Orion Temple

Lake Orion's worst fire in over 30 years gutted the Masonic Temple and caused extensive water damage to two businesses on the floor below early yesterday morning.

Damage to the two-story brick building in the heart of the business district was estimated at about $100,000 by Lake Orion Fire Chief Jack Caylor.

Air Crash Kills 9 Marines

HUELVA, Spain (AP)—Nine U.S. Marines died today in the blazing wreckage of two F4 helicopters which collided and crashed while participating in massive U.S.-Spanish amphibious maneuvers near here.

The helicopters, with scores of similar craft on the invasion fleet off shore, were preparing to land in the drop area along a rocky escarpment when they collided at an altitude of about 800 feet.

Both caught fire and were burning furiously when they hit the rocky hill. Twelve Marines aboard the two machines managed to make their way out of the flames, and a 13th was rescued badly injured.

UF Drive at Third of Objective

The Pontiac Area United Fund drive reached the one-third mark today with a total of $272,147 collected toward a goal of $815,500.

Collections to date include $21,671, reported by Mrs. Merrill Petrie, chairman of the women's division.

Jack C. Brannack, chairman of the commercial division, reports $154,407 collected, or 41.2 per cent of its quota.

In the industrial division, Charles F. Brown, chairman, reports $154,407 collected, or a little over 28 per cent of the division's quota.

The special gifts division shows $3,575 collected toward a goal of $13,650.

WOMEN'S GROUP
The women's division, with approximately 70 per cent of their quota reported, hopes to hold a victory luncheon Wednesday, according to its chairman.

She explained that all cash contributions and pledges collected by the women's group over the weekend had not been reported as yet.

Two days remain to complete their program or take it over the top, if the victory luncheon is to be a reality.

In any case the group will meet at noon Wednesday.

Reports in the other three divisions are expected to swell the totals to date with the addition of the weekend results.

Today's progress report was the third since the drive opened Oct. 13. It runs through Nov. 6.

The temple building also houses Burde's Variety Store and Lawrence W. Gaylord's insurance and real estate offices on the ground level.

Local fire fighters were on the scene in a matter of minutes after the call was received. Summoned immediately to assist them were some 30 firemen from Oxford, Brandon, Addison, Independence, Metamora and Pontiac townships and Gillingville.

AERIAL UNIT
The aerial unit from Pontiac also was used to battle the towering high flames.

Hadley and Springfield departments were on standby in case their help was needed.

Water also damaged the Lake Orion branch of the Community National Bank next door, but not as extensively as the two businesses in the corner temple building.

Policy Toward West Uncertain, LBJ Told

Soviet Prestige Said Hurt by Shake-Up

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has been advised by government experts on Soviet affairs that the ouster of Premier Khrushchev has damaged the prestige of Soviet leadership at home and abroad and rendered uncertain the future course of Soviet policy toward the West.

These are among the principal conclusions reached in a new study of the sudden, sensational shakeup in the Kremlin earlier this month.

Other conclusions reported to the President, according to informed officials:

1. The best guess about the future prospects for Khrushchev's successor is that a power struggle probably cannot be avoided.

The experts say that Communist party boss Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin appear to represent the two bureaucracies of the party to gether with the competitive interests of the military and industrial establishment set the stage for a power struggle.

SPLIT HURTS

2. Factionalism in the Soviet Union tends to hurt Soviet interests internally and externally. The destabilization program of a decade ago is cited as a case in point. It was one of the issues over which Communist China avowedly split with the Soviet Union.

3. The violent wrench which resulted from the sudden ouster of Khrushchev has displayed to the world what experts here term the uglier side of Kremlin politics and this has been a principal contribution to the loss of Soviet prestige. It renders virtually all important aspects of Soviet policy uncertain.

4. While Brezhnev and Kosygin have reaffirmed Khrushchev's policy of coexistence, the new men and their jockeying for power could move Soviet policy in the future in almost any direction subject only to the limits of the Soviet Union's power position.

5. The Communist-ruled countries of Eastern Europe have been given another push toward the West by the shakeup. This is evidenced by the fact that Poland, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and East Germany have in various ways praised Khrushchev's accomplishments instead of following the new Kremlin line of denouncing his failings.

This is taken to mean that Eastern European leaders are unwilling to reverse Khrushchev's relatively liberal policies toward the Eastern European countries and that (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Both Candidates Enter the Stretch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says he has no big surprises up his sleeve and plans no major speedup in his vote-hunting pace in the final week of his campaign.

The Republican presidential nominee will journey to 16 states in the final days of his challenge to President Johnson.

He opens the week's tour today in Salisbury, Md., in an area that leaned heavily toward Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace in the Maryland primary election last May.

DELAWARE STOP
After a stop in Dover, Del., Goldwater moves on to New York City, where his schedule sets aside nearly six hours for staff conferences and dinner.

Tonight, he will address a rally in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Goldwater traveled to West Branch, Iowa, Sunday for the burial of former President Herbert Hoover. He flew out from Washington with the Hoover family, and returned aboard his campaign jet.

On the way back to the capital, Goldwater, who does not campaign on Sunday, worked on his New York speech.

He told newsmen he will stick to the basic issues of his campaign in its final days. Goldwater has been calling for a tougher stance in foreign policy, for curtailment of the size and power of the federal government and for a drive against what he calls a wave of lawlessness and immorality.

He told reporters "I have no surprises" to spring on the Democrats in the waning days of the presidential race.

Johnson got a healthy shove from one Miami policeman who, without looking, went all-out to enforce orders against permitting people through the presidential entrance of the DuPont Plaza Hotel. Johnson was staggered but did not lose his footing.

CARRIED OFF
One member of the White House press corps, William R. MacKay of the Houston (Tex.) Chronicle and Fort Worth Star-Telegram was carried off bodily by police when he tried to enter the hotel. Spectators and other newsmen were roughed up.

Johnson called his Florida reception wonderful—"I haven't seen a souppass all day"—but he ran into vocal Goldwater supporters at every stop.

Sometimes they chanted, "We want Barry." Always they waved Goldwater banners.

Brief Rite for Burial of Hoover

WEST BRANCH, Iowa (AP)—Two soldiers stood guard today on a cedar-shrouded hillside where Herbert Clark Hoover, 31st president of the United States, was buried yesterday after a brief, solemn ceremony.

Thousands walked slowly past the grave after the service, which was attended by Hoover's family, his friends and colleagues.

An estimated 75,000 persons stood in the distance, behind farm fences and cordons of soldiers, as a leading Quaker, Dr. Elton Trueblood, conducted the final rites.

"This is not a time for tears," said Dr. Trueblood, a friend of Hoover, his words echoed from loudspeakers down the grassy valley to the two-room house where Hoover was born 90 years ago.

"The story of Hoover is a great one and it is a good one," he said.

TRIUMPHANT STORY
"It is essentially a story that is triumphant... and our mood today should be rejoicing."

As shadows from the tall, thin cedars fell across the knoll, Hoover's coffin was lowered into a concrete vault in a 10-foot by 10-foot crypt.

The lid placed on the vault said simply "Herbert Clark Hoover" and the dates 1874 and 1964.

Soon a 4-foot by 9-foot white marble slab will be placed over the grave.

FOR WIFE
Another will be placed for his wife, whose body is to be brought here from California.

Elaborate records of Hoover's rise to fame and riches after leaving West Branch 90 years ago as an orphan are in the Herbert Hoover Library near the cottage where he was born.

Hoover's father, Jesse, a blacksmith, died in 1880. His mother, Hulda, died three years later. Hoover at 10 went to Oregon to live with an uncle.

He never came back to West Branch to live, but his eldest son, Herbert Hoover Jr., said he had never forgotten "this modest Quaker community."

National Pact Is Ratified by Rank and File

102 of UAW's 130 Units in Agreement on At-Plant Contracts

DETROIT (AP)—Despite ending of a 31-day national walkout against General Motors Corp., the giant of the auto-making industry was hobbled today by local-level strikes that threaten to snuff out new operations.

The question of when the company that normally turns out more than half the nation's new automobiles might get any assembly lines going again was unanswered.

All General Motors employees are urged to read weekly announcements appearing in ads on page A-3, A-4, and C-9 in today's Pontiac Press.

One company source guessed: "Within a couple of days, maybe."

The United Auto Workers union announced last night that 95 of 97 local units reporting had given "overwhelming ratification" to a new three-year national contract.

The UAW announced that the national strike was "terminated," but, at the same time, said the 28 local units which had not reached at-the-plant working agreements which supplement the national contract would stay out.

LOCAL-LEVEL PACTS
At the time 102 of the UAW's 130 units in GM's empire had reached local-level settlement.

With announcement of the national strike's ending, GM called back maintenance and make-ready crews in the Buckle—Oldsmobile—Pontiac plant in Kansas City, Kan., in addition to those in the Pontiac Division.

Louis G. Seaton, GM's vice president for personnel and its chief negotiator, said there would be other call-backs, but he was unable to pinpoint them immediately, "and I don't think anybody else can, either."

Some 25,700 workers in three local General Motors plants will return to work this week, ending a 30-day strike authorized by the United Auto Workers.

Mass meetings of all three UAW locals were held yesterday afternoon for ratification of local and national contracts, one month to the day after the nationwide strike was called.

The largest of the three locals, Local 652 at Pontiac Motor Division, voted 3,775 to 307 in favor of the national contract and 3,167 to 906 in favor of the local agreement.

Local 596 at Fisher Body Division voted 943 to 127 for the national contract and 646 to 310 for the local agreement.

AFTERMATH OF FIRE — The Masonic Temple on the second floor of this two-story brick structure in the heart of Lake Orion is open to the sky today after being gutted by fire early yesterday morning. The two businesses on the floor below were damaged extensively by water pouring into the building. Nine area fire departments brought the blaze under control in about four hours.

Lake Orion Hall Gutted by Major Fire floor, the temple contained a meeting room, dining room, kitchen and furnace room for Orion Lodge No. 46, F&AM.

MEETING HELD

Lake Orion Chapter No. 340, Order of the Eastern Star, held its installation ceremonies there Saturday night, concluding its activities shortly before midnight.

Caylor said the fire started in the kitchen or boiler room at the rear of the top floor. It swept through a false ceiling between the ceiling and roof before it was discovered.

Several firemen suffered minor injuries—stepped on nails, inhaled smoke and hurt their fingers, but none of them seriously.

Citizens and firemen helped carry records out of the three businesses on the main floor after the blaze was brought under control about 6 a.m.

STREET BLOCKED

The Flint and Broadway street corner was roped off yesterday because of the danger of further outbreaks of fire and possibility the weakened second floor walls would collapse.

The over 75-year-old temple building had been completely renovated both inside and out during the summer.

Kremlin Is Trying to Quiet Unrest Over K Removal

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin's new leaders continued a series of meetings with foreign Communist party officials today to try to quiet the spreading unrest over the ouster of Nikita Khrushchev.

Khrushchev's successors announced they had conferred with the Communist chiefs of Poland as Red delegations from France, Austria and Italy converged on the Soviet capital to find out why Khrushchev was dumped as premier and Communist chief and what lies ahead.

Reports circulated in Moscow that Mikhail A. Suslov, the top Communist theoretician who led the attack on Khrushchev, has been hospitalized with kidney trouble and a recurrence of tuberculosis. Some non-Communist observers suggested his illness might be primarily political.

Communist party First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin traveled to the Polish border to confer with Polish Communist party chief Wladyslaw Gomulka, and Premier Josif Cyrankiewicz. The Soviet news agency Tass said the meeting took place "the other day" at the border town of Bielowez Puschka.

WANTS TRUTH

A delegation of the French Communist party, which has declared it wants to know the truth about Khrushchev's fate, arrived in Moscow over the weekend. An Austrian Red mission arrives today and representatives of the big Italian party are expected Tuesday.

Hungary's Communist party echoed the Kremlin position Sunday with criticism of "regrettable mistakes" during Khrushchev's regime. But the Budapest communique praised the fallen leader's fight against Stalinism and his campaign for peaceful coexistence.

The Communist hierarchies of Czechoslovakia, East Germany and Poland have praised Khrushchev since the terse Soviet announcement Oct. 16 that he had been ousted.

The Kremlin's explanation that the 70-year-old premier stepped down because of age and ill health has not been accepted by the party leaders in Western Europe.

Italy's Communist party newspaper L'Unita reported from Moscow today that a "document or documents" concerning Khrushchev's ouster is expected to be made public by the middle of this week.

Red Shake-Up Hurt Prestige

they are determined to look to their national interest as distinguished from their Communist party loyalties.

6. To a considerable degree the ouster of Khrushchev—particularly coming so close to Red China's recent nuclear explosion, has played into Chinese hands.

It displayed dissension among Soviet leaders in contrast with the apparent solidarity of the leadership under Mao Tse-tung in Peking. This suggests that any substantial reconciliation between the Soviet Union and Red China would be on Mao's terms.

SERIOUS PROBLEM

7. Khrushchev's success, "a face a serious problem in handling relations with the so-called nonaligned countries of Asia and Africa—such countries as India, Yugoslavia, Indonesia and the United Arab Republic.

Khrushchev was a personal symbol of the Soviet policy of cultivating the nonaligned countries and they are understandably agitated, their confidence shaken by his sudden departure from power.

U.S. experts now feel that probably three major problems caused the Soviet Communist party leadership to throw Khrushchev out.

These causes arise out of Khrushchev's age of running the government in recent years, questions of allocations of resources—among military weapons, industry and consumer goods—and the quarrel with Red China.

Suggest Booster Pumps for City Water Supply

BIRMINGHAM — Even during the worst hot spells of the summer, Birmingham has been able to avoid restriction of water usage to maintain adequate pressure, and a proposal to preserve this ability will come before the City Commission tonight.

The Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority has suggested in a letter that a booster pump or pumps be installed on the site of the Southfield Well at Southfield and 14 Mile roads.

The purpose of such pumps would be to increase water pressure significantly, thus easing the problem of supplying water to the north side of the city.

That area of Birmingham is in excess of 780 feet above sea level, forcing the authority to use "expedients which we would not consider as practical as a long-range plan" to maintain sufficient pressure there.

The cost of such pumps would be borne by the authority, although the possibility exists that Birmingham would have to pay for an addition to the building on the site to house the new equipment, since the city owns the site.

ASK AUTHORITY

In a report to the commission, city manager L. R. Gare will ask it to authorize further discussion with the water authority on the feasibility of the proposal.

Fay H. Willey Jr., Service for Fay H. Willey Jr., 44, of 364 N. Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, was to be 1 p.m. today at Vasu-Lynch Funeral Home, Royal Oak. Burial will follow in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

General manager of Willey's Carbide Tool Co., Detroit, he was a member of Detroit Athletic Club, Red Run Golf Club and the Upton Club of Detroit.

Mr. Willey also belonged to the Masonic Temple, Olivet Branch Lodge, F&AM, Dearborn, American Society of Tool Manufacturing Engineers, and Cutting Tool Manufacturing Association.

An application for planning funds will be submitted in 24 weeks.

Efforts to draw up a demonstration project in Pontiac are already underway. Representatives from the city, schools and various public and private welfare agencies will apply for planning and grant funds through the new commission.

Members of the county commission include Carl F. Ingraham, vice-chairman, 940 N. Main, Birmingham; James P. Dickerson, secretary, 973 Crockett, Rochester; John Mellen, treasurer, 642 Pilgrim, Birmingham.

Also, James Howlett, 104 E. Ingois; Dr. Joseph Hudson, of Detroit; Robert Kilpatrick, 185 Hug Cross, Birmingham; Leon Lewis, 1559 Pilgrim, Birmingham; Mrs. Carl F. Mitchell, 1121 E. Second, Royal Oak; Ken Morris of Detroit; Howard O. Powers, 285 Cherokee; Horace Sheldon, 3560 Woodbine, Birmingham; Dr. Robert Turpin, 109 Franklin and D. B. Varner, 1300 S. Adams, Avon Township.

Commerce Woman Hurt in Collision

A Commerce Township woman is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's Hospital following an auto accident yesterday afternoon.

Big Jets 1,000 Miles From Red China Soil

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has posted a squadron of 15 B52 heavy jet nuclear bombers on the island of Guam—within about 1,000 miles of Red China, it was learned today.

The unpublicized move, made last spring, places the 15 B52s about 5,000 miles closer to Communist China than when they were based in the United States.

The squadron sent to Guam replaces a unit of older medium jet B47 bombers. B52s have at least twice the striking range and carry much more of an atomic wallop than the B47s. The B52s also fly faster and higher.

This is the first time that the long-range B52s have been deployed overseas. The other 600 heavy jets are stationed in the United States, half of them on "runway alert" and ready for takeoff within 15 minutes.

NO MORE B52s

No additional B52s are scheduled for overseas deployment this year, the Air Force said.

Asked the reason for sending the 15 B52s to Guam, the Air Force said the purpose is "to more effectively utilize the aircraft."

The type of B52 stationed on Guam has an effective operating range of more than 6,000 miles with the fuel it carries in its own tanks.

Refueled by aerial tankers, the eight-jet B52s can extend their ranges by thousands of miles.

LAUNCH MISSILES

Furthermore, B52s are fitted to launch Hound Dog missiles. These nuclear-headed missiles can blast ground targets more than 500 miles from their mother bombers.

To confuse enemy defenses, B52s can fire off decoy missiles called Quail. The 13-foot-long Quail flies at B52 speeds and altitudes, producing a "blip" on enemy radar similar to that made by an actual B52.

The Air Force gradually has been retiring its aging B47s. A one-time fleet of about 1,400 of the six-jet craft has been reduced to about 400 planes.

Formidable Task for GOP to Gain in Senate

Senatorial: California

SEN. SALINGER (D)

GEORGE MURPHY (R)

By The Associated Press
Democrats go into the November election holding a two-to-one edge in United States Senate Seats.

The lineup stands at 67 Democrats and 33 Republicans. GOP chances of regaining control, for the first time since 1954, are virtually nil.

Senatorial: Ohio

SEN. YOUNG (D)

REP. TAFT (R)

Of the 35 seats up for election, 26 are now held by Democrats and nine by Republicans. To take control, the GOP would have to hold all of its own and capture 18 of the 26 Democratic seats—a truly Herculean task.

One factor does favor Republicans, however. More than half of the Democrats seeking new terms are freshmen. This is largely a result of the sweeping Democratic victories of 1958, many in normally Republican states.

Senatorial: Massachusetts

SEN. KENNEDY (D)

HOWARD WHITMORE (R)

Republicans think they have a good chance of capturing Democratic seats in states where strong support, such as Ohio, Oklahoma, Texas, Wyoming and Utah.

DEMOS CONFIDENT

Conversely, Democrats are confident they can unseat some Republican incumbents in states where Goldwater may trail President Johnson — such as New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Delaware, Hawaii and also Mexico.

FIVE IN SOUTH

Also, only five of the Democrats come from the Deep South, where Democratic nomination is akin to election.

Local issues usually predominate in Senate elections. But in a presidential election year a candidate's identification with one of the presidential nominees and the size of the presidential vote usually are factors, too.

Thus a Johnson landslide could increase the Democratic edge in the Senate; a solid Goldwater victory could cut into it sharply.

GENEVIEVE BLATT (D)

SEN. SCOTT (R)

is opposed by a young state senator, Fred Harris, who defeated incumbent J. Howard Edmondson for the Democratic nomination.

GOP CHANCE

GOP leaders also believe they have a good chance against Democratic incumbents Frank E. Moss of Utah, Gale McGee of Wyoming and Ralph Yarborough of Texas.

Democrats think their chances of cutting into Republican ranks are best in New York and Maryland.

Former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy carries his family's formidable name into New York in his first bid for elective office. Sen. Kenneth Keating, his opponent, has refused an outright endorsement of the Goldwater candidacy and may lose normally Republican votes to a conservative party candidate, Henry Paulucci.

In Maryland, incumbent J. Glenn Beall, 70, faces a stiff challenge from Democrat Joseph D. Tydings, 35, stepson of former Sen. Millard Tydings.

Democratic chances also are viewed as good against Republican incumbents Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, Hiram Fong of Hawaii and Edwin L. Mechem of New Mexico.

Some other top Senate races: California — Sen. Pierre Salinger, appointed to succeed the late Clair Engle, is the Democratic choice against one-time actor George Murphy, a strong Goldwater backer.

Connecticut — Former Gov. John Lodge is challenging first term Democrat Thomas J. Dodd.

Delaware — Gov. Elbert N. Carvel and Sen. John J. Williams are staging a re-run of their 1958 race which was won by Williams.

Tennessee — In the only state electing two senators, Sen. Albert Gore seeks another six-year term and Rep. Ross Bass is the Democratic nominee for the two remaining years of the late Sen. Estes Kefauver's term.

25 Governorships Contested

By The Associated Press
Twenty-five states will elect governors this fall.

The contests involve: Considerable influence, if not control, in state parties.

Shifts in state political strength that add up to national power. Democrats presently occupy 24 governors' chairs, Republicans 16. Of the governorships at stake in the forthcoming elections, 18 are held by Democrats and seven by Republicans.

Future ambitions. Three of the nine most recent presidents served as governors.

An accent on economic issues at a time when states are trying to build up their industry and are vying for a share — or bigger slice — of federal defense contracts.

Republican hopes of making new gains in the South. A variety of personalities. Winthrop Rockefeller, 52, grandson of John D. Sr., and brother of New York's Gov. Nelson, is the Republican entry in what Arkansas expects to be its first real two-party battle for the governorship. He is challenging Gov. Orval E. Faubus, 54, Democrat seeking his sixth two-year term.

Rockefeller came to Arkansas in 1953, served under Faubus as chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission and had a role in the state's industrial upsurge.

Faubus became a national news figure in 1957 when he sent National Guard troops to keep nine Negroes out of Little Rock Central High School. The city's historic racial crisis ensued.

The governor now calls himself a middle-of-the-roader on social issues. He claims to be the man to stabilize the state under the civil rights law.

EQUAL RIGHTS
Rockefeller speaks for equal rights. But he says he would not have voted for the civil rights bill because it gives too much power to some federal officials.

Faubus, who has built the state's greatest political organization, is running on his record under the slogan: "Keep Progress Alive in '65." Rockefeller has hit at what he calls one-man domination of the state and has promised better, cheaper government.

Illinois

The state of the economy figures prominently in the campaign in Illinois, where Gov. Otto Kerner, a Democrat, faces a driving Republican foe, Charles H. Percy.

Kerner has called his record a "catalogue of progress," and has submitted that he put Illinois "back on its feet financially."

Percy has told the voters he could do better than that. He has offered, as evidence, his industrial experience. He was president of the Bell & Howell Co., camera manufacturers at the age of 29 and chairman at 41.

Kerner, an erect, soft-voiced man of 56, and Percy, a blond, muscular man of 45, well may be the most handsome brace of political gladiators in the nation. But they will win or lose on their prowess, rather than their looks.

John F. Kennedy, they remember, carried Illinois by a knife-edge margin of 8,858 votes in 1960.

GET A BOOST

Kerner will get a boost from the Chicago Democratic organization headed by Mayor Richard J. Daley. Percy has made Daley a target, contending the mayor is influencing the state's government as well as running its largest city.

Wisconsin

In the September primary, Wisconsin Democrats nominated Gov. John W. Reynolds for a second term, while Republicans chose Warren P. Knowles. Both had competitors who claimed sizable tallies — Dominic Frinzi, a Milwaukee attorney, in the Democratic lists and Mayor Milo G. Knutson of La Crosse on the GOP side.

Knowles has been lieutenant governor three times, but has been out of public office for two years.

Reynolds picked up some opposition because he went along with the Republican-controlled legislature on a tax bill compromise that included extension of the selective sales tax.

He had made opposition to the sales tax the major theme of his 1962 campaign.

Massachusetts

Massachusetts Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti, a Democrat, scored a smashing upset victory in the state's primary, winning the right to oppose former Republican Gov. John A. Volpe.

Bellotti won the nomination over opposition which included incumbent Gov. Endicott Peabody. He backed the state's party organization, including Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, who strongly endorsed Peabody.

Bellotti, 41, and a father of 12, pegged his primary campaign on the issue of bossism, saying the people themselves would favor him.

Volpe, who was unopposed for the Republican nomination, is trying to stage a comeback after his defeat two years ago by Peabody. He lost that election by just over 5,000 votes out of more than two million cast.

EXTEND TERM

This may be the last year for a two-year gubernatorial term in Massachusetts. There will be a constitutional amendment on the ballot in November which would extend the term to four years, and it is expected to win public approval.

Nebraska

The duel for Nebraska's governorship — the state's only major elective office now held by a Democrat — involves Gov. Frank Morrison and Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney, two veterans of the political wars.

Morrison, seeking a third term at 59, wants the voters to continue his policies. They include tourist promotion, a state-financed research program aimed at new uses for farm products and interstate cooperation in economic development of the Midwest.

Republican Burney, 71, a farmer from Hartington, is finishing his fourth two-year term as lieutenant governor. He served previously as a state senator for six terms. He never has lost an election.

Burney says Morrison "is part of the New Frontier but would like to have the people think he is a Republican." Morrison has stressed that he is "governor of all the people."

Texas

Connally served as secretary of the Navy under President Kennedy.

He was wounded when Kennedy was assassinated last fall in Dallas, but appears to have fully recovered. Connally's political views are much like those of President Johnson, although he disagreed with him on the public accommodations section of the civil rights law.

Crichton, 47 — the same age as the governor — is making his first bid for public office.

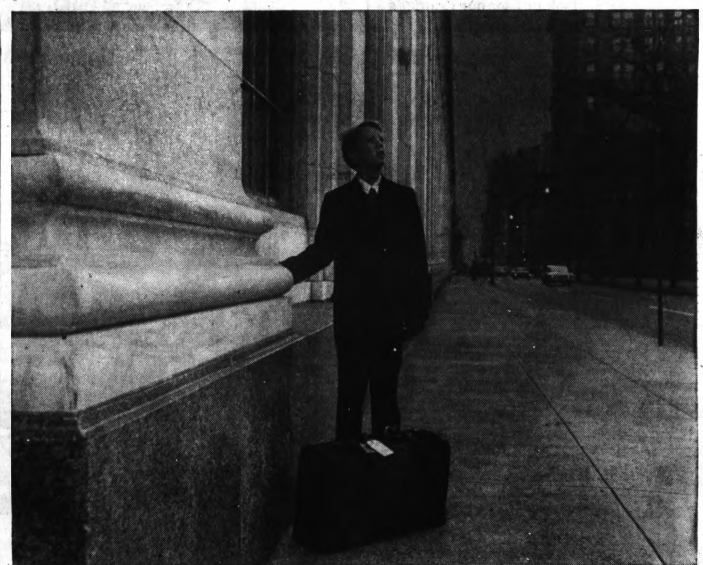

He had no opposition in the Republican primary, so his vote-pulling power is yet to be tested. (Connally won the Democratic nomination by 1,125,884 to 471,411 for his closest competitor.)

Crichton contends that if the governor's spending program is carried out taxes will go up.

Florida

Charles Holley, a state representative from St. Petersburg, is striving to become the first Republican governor of Florida since 1872 — a time span that indicates it would be a tough trick for the GOP to turn.

The Democratic nominee is Haydon Burns, who has been mayor of Jacksonville for 15 years.

TELEPHONE OPERATORS HELP BOY STRANDED 3000 MILES FROM HOME

Bad weather had forced a transatlantic plane to land at Boston instead of New York.

Aboard the plane, Peter Hansen, a 14-year-old Danish student, was on his way to St. Joseph, Michigan, to visit Mr. and Mrs. Chester J. Byrns.

The airline called Mr. Byrns to tell him the plane had been grounded; in Boston; its passengers would be sent by bus to midtown New York. The Byrns realized, however, that Peter would be stranded in a foreign land alone at night in America's largest city.

Mr. Byrns tried to locate Peter's exact whereabouts and get someone to look after him, but without success. Explaining his problem to the Operator in Benton Harbor, Mr. Byrns suddenly found, as he wrote us later, "Michigan Bell had taken over the mission."

Throughout the night, Mrs. DaDan, Michigan Bell Service Assistant, and Mrs. Lounsbury, Senior Operator, made repeated calls to New York City and Boston. They persisted until they knew a Danish-speaking airline employee had met Peter. At 3 a.m. they had the airline employee, and Peter on the telephone from New York, assuring the Byrns that all would be well.

In his letter Mr. Byrns said: "... Your company has a great big heart.... The operators who were working on the problem could not have shown more concern if he were their own son."

While this story is true, it's not unusual. You see, with Michigan Bell, friendly service is a way of life.

UF Women Push Toward Goal as Campaign Nears End

With 70 per cent of its quota raised at the end of the third period, the women's campaign of the Pontiac Area United Fund goes into the fourth and final lap in an overall effort to surpass their total goal of nearly $32,000.

Made up of five areas, Pontiac, Waterford, Lake Angelus, Independence, and Orion the women's campaign had collected $22,256 as of Friday from residential and small businesses which make up its division.

Already, the business teams in both Pontiac and Independence have raised amounts over their respective quotas. Eleven districts of Pontiac's 44, seven of Waterford's 53, and 15 of Independence Township's 32 have done the same.

Standings by areas in the women's campaign are as follows: • In the Pontiac area, 65 per cent of the goal has been reached. The residential and neighborhood business teams have collected 55 per cent of their goal; the women's business team has raised 130 per cent of its quota. • Waterford solicitors stand at 70 per cent of their goal and Lake Angelus, 68 per cent. • In Independence, 94 per cent of the women's overall goal has been raised. The residential and small business teams have collected 83 per cent of their goal while the business team is over 1½ goals by 30 per cent.

Orion Township, which only recently joined the Pontiac Area United Fund drive, reports a total of 59 per cent raised. Residential solicitors have collected 77 per cent of their quota, and the business teams, 25 per cent.

CONFIDENT
Mrs. Merrill D. Petrie, women's campaign committee chairman, said that even though the drive started out under adverse conditions, she feels confident the goal will be met.

"The fact that so many districts already have gone over their quotas reassures me that all the 1,500 women associated with this year's campaign will be working especially hard for this overall satisfaction," she said.

The women's campaign will wind up its activities on Wednesday with a Victory Luncheon at the Elks Temple starting at noon.

Edith Wedge Married on Saturday

MRS. W. F. LAWRENCE

The Church of God on East Pike Street was the setting for the Saturday marriage of Edith H. Wedge of Florence Street to Rev. Willie F. Lawrence of Madison Heights.

Reception in Roosevelt Temple followed the ceremony performed by Rev. L. W. McIntyre, state superintendent of the Churches of God in Michigan, and the pastor, Rev. Cheslie N. Collins.

Parents of the couple are the Roy Wedges of Appleton and Mr. and Mrs. Riley Lawrence of McClure, Va.

With her gown and Watteau train of white peau de sole touched with Chantilly lace, the bride wore an illusion veil and jeweled headpiece.

Attending their sister were Evelyn Wedge, honor maid, and Mrs. Eugene Burnside, LaVergne, Tenn., who joined Mrs. William Worley of Troy and Katy Alcorn as bridesmaid. Naomi Thompson if Croswell was flower girl.

With Eugene Burnside, best man were ushers Alan Perry, Port Huron and Rev. Fred G. Swank.

Late Guest Presents a Problem

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: A friend of mine told me that she read in your column that it was not necessary to wait more than 15 minutes at the most for a late dinner guest and if she hadn't arrived by then it was all right to go ahead and eat.

A: I think she must have misunderstood your advice. It seems to me that having invited someone to dinner, it would be the height of rudeness to go ahead and eat without her.

Will you please clarify this point for me?

A: If she were the only guest you would of course have to wait for her arrival before starting to eat, but it would be very unfair to other guests who took the trouble to arrive on time to keep them waiting for one who is delinquent.

Q: My husband and I were invited to his sister's son's wedding out of town.

I sent them a very nice wedding present and signed the card accompanying it, Aunt Mary and Uncle John.

We received a thank-you note from the bride in this morning's mail and it began, "Dear Mr. and Mrs. . . ."

She began all her letters to his relatives the same way. Shouldn't she have addressed us as Dear Aunt and Uncle even though we met her for the first time at the wedding?

A: She should indeed have addressed you as Aunt Mary and Uncle John.

Q: It is considered ill-mannered when dining alone, to read the newspaper at a restaurant table?

A: It is permissible, when dining alone, to read a newspaper at table provided of course it does not interfere with those dining at nearby tables.

The Emily Post Institute cannot answer personal mail, but all questions of general interest are answered in this column.

Unit Honors Men

Unit men were honored at the Friday meeting of Esther Court No. 13, Order of the Amaranth, where Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Warren were presented with honorary memberships. Guests were present from Flint and Mount Clemens.

VALERIE ANN VASBINDER

The engagement is announced of Valerie Ann Vasbinder, daughter of Mrs. Lorenz Vasbinder of Spokane Drive and the late Mr. Vasbinder to Charles Edward MacDonald, son of Charles L. MacDonald of Oriole Road and the late Mrs. MacDonald. They are alumni of U. of M. and MSU.

Silver Tea Marks Branch Anniversary

A silver tea, Thursday, in the Oakland County Boat Club, marked the anniversary of Sylvan Lake branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Organized in the fall of 1939 as the Sylvan Garden club, the group affiliated with the national association in October 1955.

Thor Petersen brought "Echoes from Higgins Lake" conservation camp he attended last summer on a scholarship sponsored by Sylvan Lake branch. A Sylvan Lake resident, he is principal of Crofoot School.

PAST PRESIDENTS

Mrs. William Sanderson presented corsages to past presidents, Mesdames Harold James, C. I. Humphries, Stanley Filkins, G. R. Jarvis, J. Greenlee, Charles S. Chandler, Albert E. Kohn, Raymond Dombrowski and to Mrs.

Charter members Mrs. Proctor Coates and Mrs. William Walkerdine were present, also Mrs. John Pemberton, Mrs. Petersen, Mrs. Basil McKnight and Carolyn Felt, who were guests.

Grand Blanc Chosen for Reception

Their parents are the E. D. Winsteads of Cape Girardeau, Mo., and Mrs. John Weiss of Summit Street.

With her floor-length gown of ice-blue satin, trimmed in brocade, the bride wore a small matching veil.

Mrs. James A. Burchett of Grand Blanc attended the bride at the 4 p.m. ceremony performed by Dr. G. Ernest Thomas.

Arthur Weiss was best man. Seating guests were Robert Becker and Lowell Satterlee of Clarkston.

The reception was held in the Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club, Grand Blanc; costumes are optional.

Set Barn Dance for Halloween

The Michigan State University Alumni Club of Oakland County is sponsoring a Halloween barn dance beginning at 9 p.m. in Harver Hall, Rochester Road.

Larry Shepard and Bill Morgan of Rochester, Diane Baker of Birmingham and Edward Ballantyne of Madison Heights, comprise the committee.

The evening of dancing, with refreshments, will climax the annual membership drive and guests are welcome. Costumes are optional.

Now Buys Naked Statues

Son 'Ruined' in College

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Our son is an art major at a university and he spent the summer in Italy.

He had a lot of stuff shipped home that he bought over there.

Mostly they are statues of men and ladies and even little children. Everybody naked. There's not a stitch on any of them.

Our son was not raised that way, but college ruined him. The preacher called on us yesterday and when I saw film coming up the road, I started moving all those bare naked statues out of sight because I didn't want him looking at them and me at the same time.

My husband called me a hypocrite and a backslider. Was I wrong to get that stuff out of sight before I let the preacher in the house?

PINE BLUFF, ARKANSAS

DEAR PINE BLUFF: Not in my opinion. GOOD sculpture, draped or otherwise, should offend no one.

But since you apparently have no appreciation for the collection under any circumstances, keep it ditched and you'll have no problem.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 13-year-old girl who rides to and from school every day on the bus.

Well, there is this cute boy who always ends up sitting near me no matter where I sit. He doesn't say "Hi," he just socks you.

I don't bother him. In fact, I don't even look at him. I did everything my mother told me to do to ignore him, but nothing works.

What should I say or do?

NEEDS HELP

DEAR NEEDS: Tell the bus

driver, and let HIM deal with the boy.

If it makes the socks any less painful, the boy is probably mad about you and is only trying to get your attention.

DEAR ABBY: If you were a personal friend of mine and I left my two small children with you while I went to the doctor, would you hold me responsible for an expensive vase which my 14-month-old child had broken?

As soon as I walked in the door this friend told me that I owed her $45 for the vase my child had pulled off an end table.

Had I been visiting this person with my child and such a mishap occurred, I would have felt responsible because I should have been watching my child.

But my child was in HER care, and it was due to HER negligence that the vase was broken.

I am going to pay for it anyway to avoid hard feelings, but don't you think I am right?

EASY-GOING

DEAR EASY: Yes. But the lesson you learned was cheap at $45.

Now that you are aware of how negligent your friend is, I hope you'll never entrust your children to her care again.

The porcelain vase could have come down on your child's head.

Grandmother Was Freer

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK — The emancipated woman — who is she?

Not the woman of today, but her grandmother, says Barbara Ward, noted British economist, writer and lecturer.

Today's woman, unless she's extremely wealthy, has less chance than her grandmother to be free to participate in community and government affairs because she has little or no domestic help. That holds, despite all the so-called labor saving devices in the home.

"Emancipation is retrograding because of all the chores moving in," said Miss Ward, who in private life is Lady Jackson, the wife of Sir Robert Jackson and mother of a 9-year-old son.

She said that the woman who holds a job outside the home is even less free than her non-working sister — and the number of women taking jobs increases steadily.

Miss Ward chastises our society also for its "commercialization of sex" — the woman always pictured as the glamour girl. She said that sex had been turned into "a great salesman." "Oh," she laughed, "I think sex will survive, but it is less interesting if cheapened."

Barbara Ward talked on a variety of subjects from stream pollution and traffic snarls to Charles de Gaulle and the space race during an interview on a trip to New York. She spoke at the annual luncheon of the YWCA here on "The Poverty of the Spirit."

She also is part of the Harvard University annual seminar, this year on economic development of the under-developed nations.

"At no time in history has Western man been more fully able to realize his dreams," she said. "The modern developed economy, based on science and technology, has literally an almost unlimited potential. Nothing is scarce."

"The Western world has all the resources. Now what is needed is vision and imagination. These, with science, are our chief tools for a better life. We will be held back only by a dearth of ideas."

"What to do about it? The smog, the traffic, the water pollution — we ought to pursue our congressmen with hatchets," said Miss Ward.

BETTER PLANNING

She called for better civic planning of "urban regions hardly worth living in. We must get our neighborhoods free of roaring traffic, our air free of poison, our rivers free of sewage."

The economist-writer is a slim, attractive woman with brown eyes and reddish brown hair, and a quick reply to questions.

She labeled French president de Gaulle a "magnificent anachronism" who was trying to put "us back into the 19th century."

Of the space race between the United States and Russia, she said, "I'm all for it but I don't give a darn who wins it. The earth, I believe, is just the first cell in our solar system. When you think of our coming from the amoeba to here, we must go on."

With honor maid, Patricia Mazurek, of Lansing, were bridesmaids, Dolores Barron, Cheri LaLone, Debbie Deering and Karen Hartman.

ESQUIRE SIDE

Greg and Conrad Fulkerson ushered with Richard Paulson and Ted Kirshenbaum of Lansing.

Parents of the bride are the Allister G. Carpenters of South Adams Road, Avon Township.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fitzlin Rice Jr. (Jean Ann Gopher) began their southern honeymoon after a reception, this evening in the Knights of Columbus club rooms.

DOUBLE-RING RITE

Rev. Francis Diets officiated at the recent double-ring ceremony in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church, Auburn Heights.

Taffeta roses cradled a bouffant illusion veil for the bride, who wore white silk peau de soie appliqued with re-embroidered Alencon lace.

A corsage of rosebuds centered her bouquet of white carnations.
