

'Did Not Pad Budget for Courthouse Funds'

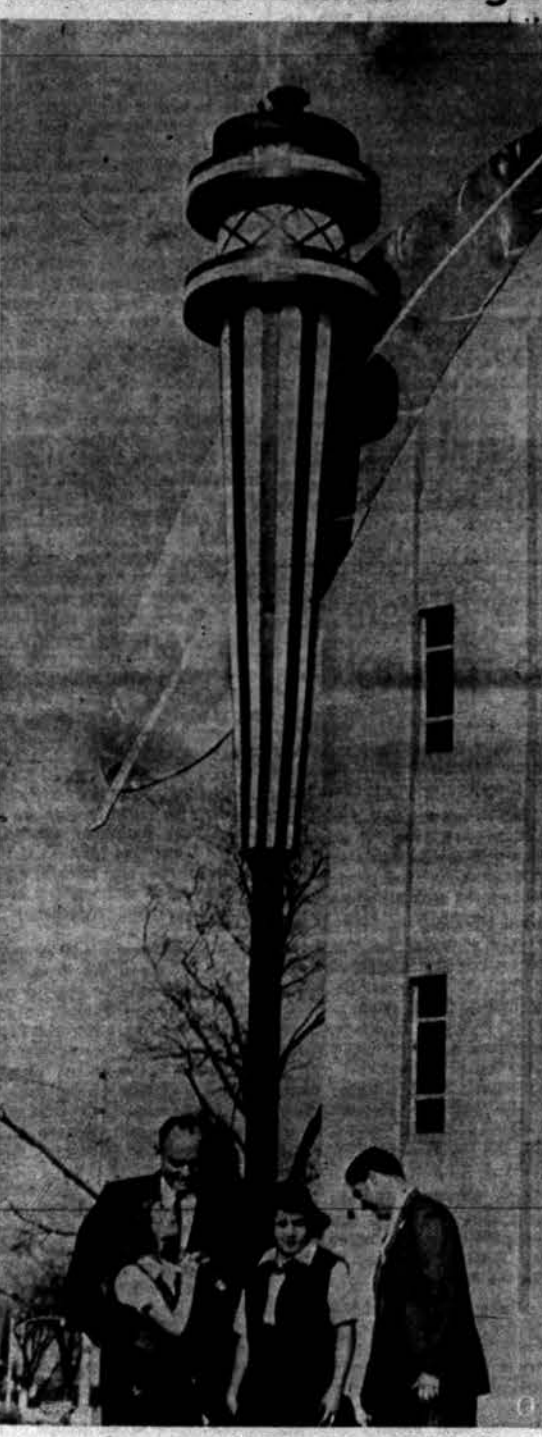

By CONRAD N. CHURCH
"Oakland County will have enough money available to pay for the first unit of its new courthouse by Dec. 31, 1958, and we haven't padded any budgets to do it."
This was Robert Y. Moore's reply to intimations that both present and past budgets have been padded so that surplus funds left to the credit of various county departments and institutions might be placed in the building fund. Moore is chairman of the Oakland County Board of Auditors and top budget maker and financial record keeper.

Voters Invited to League Rally

Candidates to Answer Questions at Meeting in Pontiac Monday

At a rally in Pontiac Monday, candidates in the Nov. 6 general election will answer two questions from the League of Women Voters.

The questions are:
"What do you consider the most important services to be rendered to the office you seek?"
"What are your qualifications for the office you seek?"

Mrs. William Wright, league president, said today the public is invited to the meeting, which starts at 7:30 p.m. in Lincoln Junior High School.

Pamphlets containing "Interviews with these seeking office and other information pertinent to the election" will be distributed at the meeting, Mrs. Wright added.

Woman's Death Not Yet Solved

Police Test Clothing From Body Found Near Lakeville Saturday

State police detectives today are checking the possibilities of rape and strangulation in the death of Mrs. Roberta Morris, 55, whose decomposed body was found in a field near Lakeville Saturday. St. Joseph Mercy Hospital pathologist Dr. Richard E. Olsen, revealed he had found signs of rape and strangulation in an autopsy report made yesterday.

He has been unable to determine the cause of death but said the woman had apparently been dead for some time. She has been missing from the Cole Rest Home in Leonard since July 18.

Det. Harold Ernst, of the Centerline post, said this morning the woman's clothing has been sent to the state laboratory at Lansing for investigation.

Sandstorms Hit South California, Imperil Drivers

INDIO, Calif. (U)—Blinding sandstorms hit Southern California last night and caused the closing of a 100-mile stretch of U. S. Highway 99 between Banning and Westmoreland, near Brawley.

Highway patrol officers said desert sand, whipped by winds of 25 to 50 m.p.h., reduced visibility on the highway to 5 to 10 feet.

Traffic was rerouted over State 11, by way of Palm Springs.

The patrol at Indio said sand platted car windshields so badly that drivers couldn't see through the glass.

The patrol closed the alternate route to house trailers because of the fierceness of the winds. Many motorists were halted in Indio.

No serious accidents or injuries were reported.

LOWER AND FASTER — The "Torsion-Aire Ride" will make its debut in the new Plymouth for 1957, scheduled to make its first appearance in dealer showrooms Oct. 30. The Belvedere four-door sedan above illustrates the low silhouette and long wheel base which are among the most significant style changes in next year's models. The car will be displayed locally and in the area at Reimenschneider Bros., 232 S. Saginaw St.; Braid Motor Sales, 70 S. Cass Ave.; Clarkson Motor Sales, 32 S. Main St., Clarkston; and Talley Motor Sales Inc., 1001 N. Main St., Rochester.

Area Motorist Killed in Crash

Pontiac Twp. Man Dies After Two-Car Collision on Rochester Road

Milburn H. Fortson, 44, of 1201 Collier Rd., Pontiac Township, was killed yesterday in a two-car collision in front of 4700 Rochester Rd., Avon Township.

Fortson was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital after suffering a broken neck and brain injuries in the crash, Roy E. Sanford, 56, of Lum, Mich., is under treatment at the hospital for head and chest injuries and face cuts.

County Sheriff's deputies are continuing investigation of the accident today. Officer Robert Bloom was unable to obtain a statement from Sanford at the scene because of his severe injuries.

Sanford's car was found on the wrong side of the highway on the hill, leading police to believe he may have been trying to pass on the hill and struck the Fortson vehicle.

5 U.S. Airmen Lost in Spain

Full-Scale Search on for Observation Plane—Sturgis Man Aboard

MADRID, Spain (U)—Thirty-four American and Spanish planes continued a full-scale search today for a U. S. Air Force observation plane missing since Monday night on a flight from Madrid to Barcelona.

An Air Force announcement said there were five men aboard the plane.

Among them was Capt. Keith J. Yoder, 35, of Sturgis, Mich.

All five, the Air Force said, are stationed with a supply unit in Sevilla, Spain.

Low-hanging clouds and poor weather conditions hampered the search yesterday. The missing plane was heard and sighted three times Monday by pipeline workers in the Calatayud area, 100 miles northeast of Madrid.

Plymouth to Carry Dramatic Style Changes

DETROIT (INS)—The 1957 Plymouth—billed as the car three years ahead in design—will make its debut in dealer showrooms across the country next Tuesday.

In announcing the new lower, wider and more powerful car that "has been completely changed in styling, body structure and chassis," J. P. Mansfield, Plymouth president, said:

"The car we are about to introduce has the style and features of the car we thought, only a few years ago, as possible for about 1960. We have moved faster than we had hoped."

UF Fights Battle for You in Heart, Cancer Research

(Editor's Note: This is the first article of a series on United Fund agencies and the work they carry on through your contributions in the current campaign.)

Your United Fund contribution helps fight a great battle. The battle is waged in laboratories, in clinics, in the quiet studies of scientists.

The Pontiac Area United Fund campaign for $612,502 will support a number of health and research organizations whose purpose benefits every contributor and his family.

STROKE OFTEN
Cancer and heart disease—hardly a family escapes them. According to the American Cancer Society, the dread malignancy will strike one out of every four Americans, if present rates continue.

Research is the weapon of counter-offense, the society says. During the past year, it dedicated $5,100,000 to find causes and cures. It has an extensive educational program, also to alert the public to the first signs of cancer.

Another agency in Bar Harbor, Maine, the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory, which devotes its full time to basic medical and biological cancer research, makes known ways for more effective treatment.

The Pontiac Area United Fund supports both the Cancer Society, which has a Pontiac office at 68 W. Lawrence St., and the Maine laboratory.

AIDS HEART RESEARCH
It also supports the Michigan Heart Assn., a research and educational organization.

Medical experts say about 5,400 Pontiac residents—one in 16—probably suffer some kind of heart or blood vessel disease. Heart disease accounted for 1,607 out of 3,559 Oakland County deaths last year.

The heart association spent 63 per cent of its funds last year on research. The Pontiac Area United Fund fair share for its support was $2,692.

The heart association also publicized its "Heart of the Home" program, designed to show all homemakers, especially cardiac patients, how to conserve time and energy.

Among other association activities were studies of the industrial capacity of persons afflicted with heart disease and a control program aimed at reducing rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease.

Pontiac Deaths

Leon Jerome Tobatto

Leon Jerome Tobatto of 244 S. Josephine St. died Tuesday morning in the Pontiac General Hospital, at the age of 55.

He was born in Manistee, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tobatto, and was married to Mary Tomicki in Ludington. He had been a resident of Pontiac for 30 years, was a machine operator at the Pontiac Motor Division, and a member of St. Joseph Catholic Church.

He is survived by his widow, a son Leonard Tobatto and a daughter Mrs. Conny Solomon of Pontiac, and four granddaughters. Also surviving are a brother Stanley of Grand Lodge and a sister, Mrs. Sophie Mikula of Manistee.

Mrs. Tobatto's body is at the Pursley Funeral Home where Rosary will be recited at 7:00 p.m. Friday. Service will be from St. Joseph Catholic Church at 10 a.m. Saturday with burial in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

$185 Damage Caused to Avon Area Home

A large picture window was damaged to the extent of $185 at an Avon Township home last night, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department learned today.

House owner and occupant James J. Cebulski, 2714 Longview Ave., told investigators the damage was apparently done by a shot from a gun or a thrown stone.

The public has shown an eagerness to accept dramatic change.

And like the other cars in the complete Chrysler Corp. line, the 1957 Plymouth is "dramatically" new.

The models are as much as five inches lower than those of 1956. The wheelbase has been lengthened from 115 to 118 inches for standard models and 122 inches for suburban station wagons.

New styling features are accented by a broad hood; soaring, well-defined tall fins, and forward-thrusting front fenders that frame both the headlamps and the parallel park-turn signal lights. The bumpers are raised in the center, eliminating the need for bumper guards.

Mansfield said the high tail fins are functional as well as decorative. Tunnel wind tests, he pointed out, show that the fins contribute to the aero-dynamic stability of the car.

"The high fins," he explained, "make the new Plymouth less susceptible to weaving from sudden bursts of crosswinds while traveling on the highways."

Torsion bar front end suspension that eliminates the coil springs is the outstanding change in the Plymouth's chassis design. Combined with re-located rear leaf springs, the torsion bar suspension produces "a new kind of ride and easier handling."

Higher horsepower and compression ratios are featured in the redesigned V-8 engines. Available on all models is the 225-HP "Fury" "310" engine with Power Pak. The Fury "310" without Power Pak is standard on all Belvedere, Savoy and Suburban models. The Plaza models are equipped with standard V-8 engines with 197-HP. All models, excepting the convertible, can be had with 132-HP six-cylinder engines.

Suburban station wagons in three groups—Deluxe, Custom and Sport—complete the four distinct lines of cars offered by Plymouth for 1957. The Belvedere is the top line, Savoy the middle and Plaza the lowest priced of the passenger cars.

Red Satellite System Cracking, U.S. Believes

WASHINGTON (U)—Top American officials are swinging around to the belief that Russia's Eastern European satellite system is beginning to crack up.

This view apparently was reflected by President Eisenhower last night in a reference to the revolt against Soviet domination in Poland.

"The fruits of imperialism," Eisenhower said in a speech at a labor dinner here, "are discontent."

unrest, riots in one place and demonstrations in another, until the tyranny exercised over them either dissolves or is expelled."

Eisenhower implied American readiness to aid the Poles or any other people who would successfully assert their independence of Moscow and seek American help.

Administration authorities are not sure yet how far the break between Warsaw and Moscow will go. They do not know, for example, whether it will mean a lessening of Poland's commerce with Russia and a really new political orientation of Poland.

Yugoslavia, which broke under entirely different circumstances, developed a neutral position as between the Soviet and Western power blocs.

Some informed officials here doubt that the Poles can shift their policies to that degree since they have a common frontier with the Soviet Union.

In these conditions of uncertainty, the attitude of the State Department is to go slow in formulating American policy—beyond looking into the possibilities of economic assistance and broadly asserting American support for securing and expanding Poland's independence of action.

But officials who were reluctant a few days ago to jump to any sweeping conclusions about the scope of the Polish revolt against Moscow control now say privately that what has happened there must be considered as only a beginning of things to come throughout the satellite system.

The Day in Birmingham Staffs for Polling Places Are Ready for Vote-Day

BIRMINGHAM.—Election board appointments were approved this week for the city's eleven precincts, with a balance of party members.

A minor flurry resulted last week when Clerk Irene Hanley was quoted as saying she could not find enough Democrats to balance Republicans on the board for the various voting places.

Response from Democrats was overwhelming, she reports, and she had to turn away volunteers for the polling posts.

Chairmen for workers at various posts are Louise Barden at the Chesterfield Fire Station, for Precinct One; Pearl C. Hollister, Holy Name School, 2, and Ora L. Richards, Adams School, 3;

Aggie Deer, Municipal building, 4; Elizabeth C. Blennan, Barnum School, 5; Isabel F. Steelman, Adams Fire Station, 6; Louise F. Cobb, Grand Trunk Station, 7;

Mary H. Plamstead, High School, 8; Marie Irene Malice, Pierce School, 9; Elsie Marie Eckerman, YMCA, 10; and Margaret E. Coe, Torrey School, 11.

Besides the 30 workers approved, with from seven to 11 at each place, are 15 alternates.

Charles Palmer, principal of Pembroke school is leading plans for an American Education Week program, set for Nov. 12, and featuring a parade of all school children.

A ceremony will be held at Shain Park by board of education and PTAs taking part and honoring a teacher who will be picked as outstanding.

Reformation Festival is planned for Birmingham Council of Church members on Sunday at 8 p.m., with Dr. Charles B. Templeton as guest speaker at the First Presbyterian Church.

Laymen of the First Methodist, First Presbyterian and Redeemer Lutheran churches invite the public to the First Methodist Church on Monday to hear Dr. Frank C. Laubach, a world-renowned teacher.

An open house for Youth is set for high schoolers at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday at 9 p.m.

Eleven Protestant churches of the area are sharing in the observance.

Mrs. Selma Brown, past grand matron of the OES, installed the 59th staff of officers at Birmingham Chapter recently.

The new officers are Mrs. Parker Eckerman, worthy matron; Harold Latham, worthy patron; Mildred Matthews, associate matron; Wallace Matthews, associate patron; Viola Minks, secretary, and Blanche Brooks, treasurer.

James Roark of the chapter has been named chairman of the youth committee for the grand chapter of Michigan.

Stevenson Blasts GOP Economics

able process of face-lifting and hand-laundering," the crowd broke in with a thunderous "boo."

Stevenson suggested that Eisenhower was offering the country "a press agent's peace." He accused Dulles of "blundering vacillation" in the Middle East, contending it resulted in the Suez Canal crisis.

He said Israel's was a cause "cynically remembered by the administration late in October." When he asked the crowd: "Do we want four more years of John Foster Dulles?" a thunderous "No" rolled back to him.

Stevenson made no mention of Eisenhower's statement yesterday that his Democratic opponent's proposal for ending H-bomb tests offered only the "illusion" of peace and progress toward peaceful uses in that field.

Asserting that "the transcending question before humanity is whether there will be any tomorrow," Stevenson said the H-bomb discussion "is not a political controversy." He said the world must curb "this ghastly killer."

"The only question, it seems to me, is whether we can do so without endangering our national defense," he said.

He added that "the hard scientific fact seems to be that we can safely stop hydrogen explosions without inspection because if Russia or anyone else should violate an agreement and explode a big bomb we would immediately detect it."

"So here is one place where we can break out of the deadly vise of the arms race—and the most important place of all," he said.

In a reply to Stevenson's proposal yesterday, Eisenhower said that there could be no absolute assurance of detection of such explosions, "except in the case of the largest weapons," because of the great land mass of Russia.

In his talk for the businessmen today, Stevenson said the Democratic New Deal "made America safe for capitalism" and "made capitalism safe for America."

He said the Eisenhower administration is failing to meet the challenge of a new technological age.

"One reason it cannot do this," he said, "is that it does not represent—and cannot command the confidence—of all groups in our diverse society."

Thieves Take Time Out to Eat Candied Apples

Oakland County detectives today are investigating the break-in of a Pontiac Township grocery store in which a carton of cigarettes was stolen and several candied apples were eaten on the premises.

Order Haircuts for Romeo Boys

Sideburns Like Elvis Outlawed by School; Parents Protest

ROME — With 52 boys ordered to have their "Elvis Presley hair" styles or duck tail cuts trimmed to "normal, neat length" by the Romeo Community School District board, parents took the board to task last night.

Parents of four male students in the school district on probation following a recent school board edict calling for "reasonable dress and grooming" expressed their views at a special board meeting called for their benefit.

On Oct. 11, local educators passed a resolution that all students are expected to conform to the new hair and dress regulations or be expelled.

Principal Harold F. Barr instructed 52 boys with "unusual haircuts" to meet board requirements or face expulsion. All but a few agreed, visited their barbers and were accepted back in school.

Seven or eight refused to cooperate. Last night the parents present said they had no complaint to make concerning proper dress—the rule that trousers be pulled up to the waistline and belted. They did object strenuously, however, to forcing their sons to have conventional haircuts.

Voicing objections to the haircut ruling were Mr. and Mrs. John Borek and the Clarence Spencers, of Washington, a village included in the school district.

Supt. of Schools T. C. Filippa attempted to convince the parents that "one of the principles of education is to help the child develop proper attitudes."

After hearing objections the board voted to clarify requirements stating that they must be of the proper type—tapered on sides and back and with a neat, normal length on top. Brush cuts are also acceptable.

They granted an extension of the probation to Oct. 31, when non-conforming students face expulsion if their hair does not meet the approval of the administration.

CONSTRUCT PARKING AREA — Concrete evidence that Birmingham's second parking lot will be ready this fall was shown last week when workers began pouring cement for parking meter sections. Homes have been cleared from this area north of Hamilton street for Lot No. 3-A and from the smaller area south of Hamilton for Lot No. 3-BH. Preliminaries to actual construction have been lengthy commission discussion with area store and home owners about assessments and business future of Hamilton, and condemnation of some properties for the lot space.

Still No Trace of Mrs. Thorpe

Report to Gov. Williams Says FBI Still Seeking State Fund, Embezzler

LANSING (AP)—A report to Gov. Williams said today that the FBI had found no trace of Mrs. Anne Thorpe, who allegedly fled to Mexico after embezzling state funds.

Joseph B. Childs, state police commissioner, sent two detectives to Washington, D.C., to check with FBI officials on the case at the request of Williams.

The governor's office said he ordered the check to make sure all efforts are being made to find Mrs. Thorpe and recover the state money.

Mrs. Thorpe, a former branch manager of the secretary of state's office in St. Clair Shores, disappeared last February along with a sum variously estimated at between $74,000 and $80,000.

MAKES CHARGE
John B. Martin Jr. of Grand Rapids, Republican candidate for secretary of state, has charged that James M. Hare, Democratic secretary of state, and Gov. Williams have made no effort to trace the woman and the missing money.

The report by Childs noted that Michigan officers can not go to Mexico to search for Mrs. Thorpe and her husband.

The FBI has no fresh information on the case, Childs said. Childs added that his detectives were satisfied that the FBI is doing everything that can be done to press the search.

If the couple is arrested in Mexico, they can be extradited to be returned to Michigan to face trial, Childs said.

Sentence Suspended

BAY CITY (AP)—Former postal employee Robert G. Lockwood, 50, of Mount Pleasant, who pleaded guilty to taking $244 in postal funds, was given a one-year suspended sentence and placed on two years probation by Federal Judge Frank Picard. Lockwood, a 20-year employee in the Mount Pleasant Post Office, made restitution following his arrest last August.

Socialist Candidate Raps 'False' Peace, Prosperity

READING, Pa. (AP)—Peace, prosperity and progress? Darlington Hoopes, Socialist party presidential candidate, doesn't believe the United States has attained that happy status.

Hoopes, a 60-year-old Reading attorney, said today "It is false to claim" that America has prosperity "when poverty continues to grow amidst the plenty."

The rich, he said, are getting richer.

Hoopes was the Socialist vice-presidential candidate when Norman Thomas headed the party's national ticket in 1944 and 1948. When Thomas refused to try for the presidency for the seventh time in 1952 Hoopes got the nod. He polled 21,000 votes.

"The issue that we are stressing the most is the continuance of poverty amidst plenty in the United States," he said in an interview.

"The U.S. census figures show that in 1954 the poorest 20 per cent of the people received less than 5 per cent of the total income. If you study that a little it means that 34 million persons, including 10 million children, have average family incomes of $1,313 or $25.25 per week, before taxes."

"When you go just a little further and find that 14 million persons, including 12½ million children, live in families with average weekly income of less than $12 you can't help wondering how they exist."

The Socialist party would wipe out what Hoopes called "unearned property income"—rents, interest, dividends and capital gains.

"The only way you are going to stop this unfair distribution of income and end poverty amidst plenty is for the people collectively to take over the businesses and industries and run them democratically for the purpose of providing goods and services for the people rather than making profits for the rich owners," Hoopes declared.

"In all cases it will be public ownership and democratic management to produce for the public welfare instead of for rich profit of the rich owners."

"This is socialism," Hoopes contended, "and differs from communism as day does from night." On the issue of "peace" Hoopes criticized the Republican argument that lack of actual military combat signifies the world is at peace.

"This is absurd," he said. "The way to peace is worldwide elimination of economic suffering. The way to defeat communism is to raise the living standard of the poor and oppressed in Asia, Eastern Europe, Africa and Latin America."

The Socialist party isn't spending a lot of money to advertise its program. It is on the presidential ballot in only about 10 states—the biggest, Wisconsin—and Hoopes said, "I won't spend more than the $150 it cost me in the 1952 campaign."

Hoopes, associated in his law office with his eldest son Darlington Jr., said he believes that "within the next 10 years there will be a political realignment in the United States."

He said that "socially minded liberals and labor will line up on the one side against the conservatives who are for the present system and against every kind of social reform that we support."

Scientists Told of Bomb Perils

Kefauver Claims Dem Politicians Weren't First to Reveal Dangers

DETROIT (U.S.)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said today it was not "Democratic politicians" but nuclear scientists who first revealed the dangers of radioactive H-bomb fall-out.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate made his statement in reply to Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), who was quoted in news accounts as saying a "clean" H-bomb has been developed. Hickenlooper said he wanted to "straighten out" some "Democratic politicians."

"I presume he is talking about Adlai Stevenson and me," Kefauver said.

"I would say that we 'Democratic politicians' wouldn't have known a thing about the deadly dangers of H-bomb fall-out if we hadn't been told by nuclear scientists," Kefauver stated.

He quoted physicist Dr. Ralph Lapp, Nobel laureate Linus Pauling and Dr. David Hill to back up his contention, and added:

"This 'clean bomb' nonsense reminds me of the story of the crazy assassin who tried to reassure each victim just before shooting him that he need have no fear of infection, for each bullet had been washed in good soap and water."

Social Workers to Hold First Monthly Meeting

The National Assn. of Social Workers is holding its first monthly meeting today at the Catholic Family Service office, 113 Franklin Blvd.

Following a 5 p.m. buffet dinner, Miss Freda Huggett, visiting teacher in the Waterford Township school system, and Miss Jean Harbour, psychiatric social worker at Pontiac State Hospital will tell of their six-week trip to Europe.

They attended the International Social Work Conference.

All social workers living and working in Oakland County are invited to the session, according to Miss Marguerite M. Parrish, chairman of the Oakland County Chapter of the National Assn. of Social Workers.

There's No Joy in Earning Love Via Laughs

Most Top Funnymen Lack Sense of Humor

By PHYLIS BATTLE

NEW YORK (INS)—A sense of humor is rather like money. Either you've got it or you haven't—and if you haven't, chances are you don't know exactly what you're missing, but all your life you'll feel a little cheated and bitter.

Some say you're born with a sense of humor, as some people are born with money.

Others insist that everybody is born equal in his potential to chuckle-through-life, and it's an acquired art.

But everybody agrees that ability to make light out of dark days is the most saving of all graces. A man of real humor doesn't commit suicide . . . he finds the whole idea of living too amusing to part with.

This capacity for smiling suddenly at how ludicrous you look, when your teeth have just been kicked in by a bully and your wife has just run off with your best friend, is a characteristic that has nothing to do with the making of jokes.

HUMORLESS COMICS

Mysteriously enough, many and perhaps most of the "comedians" of the world are not particularly equipped with senses of humor.

Instead, they are serious-minded businessmen who have learned to titillate other people's humors through good timing, eccentric mannerisms and well-written material.

In many years of interviewing the nation's top comics, I've found that most of these men and women actually are among the most humorous folks in town.

Like millionaires who must apportion their wealth carefully for their best benefit and therefore find no pleasure in the money per se—so are comics. Humor is their responsibility, and it is no fun.

"My chief recreation," said one.

Arab Army Leaders to Visit Tense Border

AMMAN, Jordan (U.S.)—Heads of three Arab armies will visit the tense Israeli-Jordan frontier within the next two days, an official Jordan spokesman announced.

The spokesman said Egypt's army commander, Gen. Abdel Hakim Amer, Syrian army chief of staff Gen. Tewfik Nizam el Din and Jordan army chief of staff Gen. Ali Abu Nawar will visit the front lines in the next two days.

Amer and Nizam el Din have arrived in Amman for "talks coordinating military plans." The spokesman said both Syria and Egypt are giving Jordan military aid to counteract the alleged Israeli military threat.

Although almost every renowned funnyman insists that he is an actor who just happened to fall into the gag-pulling business, there are a few who honestly are exactly that.

My favorite long has been David Wayne, the sandy-haired master of pish-ish charm who recently opened on Broadway in a new comedy called "The Loud Red Patrick."

Wayne is a man whose gentle humor can bring out laughter from the most humorless innard, and I went backstage to get his answer to the question:

PROPERLY THOUGHTFUL

Dressed in a sky blue dressing gown, he looked properly thoughtful and philosophical. "A great many comedians," he said, "are not dour exactly. But they're serious-minded."

"Like everyone else, they have highs and lows, emotionally—but perhaps their 'lows' are even lower than most people's, because of the pressure that has been put upon them to be 'high' at most times."

"That's what most people are about in this theatrical business. They want to be loved by the audience; it fills a vast emotional need in an actor."

And to know you must be funny to continue being loved is a strain on anybody's native sense of humor.

Bar Hopping Flier Beats Larceny Count

NEW YORK (U.S.)—A 26-year-old man who went bar hopping in New York by plane was freed of a "grand larceny charge" yesterday by the aircraft's owners.

Thomas Fitzpatrick of Emerson, N.J., is still in trouble, however, with city fathers who looked askance at his landing the plane at 191st St. and St. Nicholas Ave.

Magistrate Francis X. O'Brien dismissed the larceny charge after being told that the airplane's owners refused to sign a complaint against the man.

Fitzpatrick landed on the busy street near a tavern on a recent Sunday morning. He told police he had attended a bachelor party in Manhattan earlier, had a few drinks, then drove to Teterboro (N.J.) Airport and "borrowed" the plane.

He was continued in $1,000 bail pending a hearing in Municipal court Oct. 30 on violation of city regulations.

School Bus Drivers Called Negligent

JACKSON (U) — A locomotive engineer charges that some school bus drivers in Jackson, Washitaw and Calhoun Counties are failing to use precaution at railroad crossings.

And H. C. Clark, secretary of Local 240 of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, says he's going to do something about it.

Clark says he is preparing a letter for State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair L. Taylor, describing negligence on the part of some drivers and requesting that something be done to avert a tragedy.

Several engineers, Clark says, have reported near-collisions with school buses this fall.

Endurance Mark Set in Utah by '57 Ford

SPEEDWAY, Ind. (INS) — The United States Auto Club has announced a 50,000-mile endurance run at an average speed of 108.16 miles an hour has been completed by a 1957 Ford at Utah's Bonneville Salt Flats.

USAC said no other vehicle in history has gone so far so fast. Duane Carter, USAC director of competition, said a 1957 Ford Fairlane V-8 Club Victoria whirled over the famous salt bed on a 10-mile circular course for 19 days and nights. Carter said that in addition to the Club Victoria, a second closed car and a convertible were tested and that the three cars captured a total of 438 international and American records. A team of 14 drivers alternated at their wheels.

New Third Party Wants Income Tax Abolished

With the national election only two weeks distant, it's high time for voters of Michigan to give due thought to the new independent States Rights party.

T. COLEMAN ANDREWS, U.S. Internal Revenue Commissioner during the first three years of the Eisenhower Administration and a Democrat, is the new party's presidential candidate. Its vice presidential nominee is former Republican Representative THOMAS H. WERDEL of California.

The party itself is a splinter off the right wings of the Republican and Democratic parties. It's made up largely of disgruntled Democrats who still refuse to vote Republican and of similarly unhappy Republicans who still balk at voting for a Democrat.

The States Righters' aim, says U.S. News & World Report, "is to teach both major parties a lesson and possibly lay the groundwork for a permanent third party to which 'conservatives' can rally." This new party's electors are on the ballots of 14 states and its write-in votes will be counted in 22 others, not including Michigan, except for state and local offices.

It cannot be urged too strongly on voters that they carefully examine the "against everything" platform of this party. Among other things States Righters want to abolish the Federal income tax, curb the power of the Supreme Court and leave racial problems to the states.

They want to return Federal land to states or to private citizens and prohibit the Union Shop. Also proposed are more tariff protection for industry and an end to foreign aid, immigration and the draft.

As far as we know neither Mr. ANDREWS nor any of his associates has offered any substitute for the income tax which currently provides four-fifths of our Government's revenue. But if they hope to get many write-in votes they should be prepared to answer some pertinent questions.

For example, without that income tax just what would the Treasury use for money to pay Government operating expenses, the salaries of its civilian employees and armed services personnel? Wouldn't abolition of the draft leave this country a sitting duck for any predatory imperialism, and by that we mean Russia?

It is our belief that instead of a lot of Michigan write-ins, third party candidates here will get a lot of write-offs in the form of Xs before the names of Republican and Democratic candidates.

State Moves to Correct Detour Traffic Hazards

At long last there is something about the Orchard Lake-Telegraph Road detour we can cheer! It's the dispatch with which Chief State Deputy Highway Commissioner GEORGE M. FOSTER has made good his promise to the Roads Committee of the Board of Supervisors.

Invited to attend a meeting of the Committee through the foresight of its Chairman, DON R. MACDONALD, Mr. FOSTER told the Committee the State immediately would widen the pavement on the detour and eliminate its two sharp curves.

The Highway Commissioner's top aide also promised to install a sidewalk and a left lane for cars turning north into Telegraph Road with perhaps a special light to protect vehicles making such turns.

The sidewalk will be for the special benefit of children living in Washington Park and attending Daniel Whitfield School. Their parents have complained to the Board of Education, and with justification, that children cannot safely use the detour without a sidewalk.

We like Chairman MACDONALD's direct action approach to this problem and his obviously clear understanding of the inconvenience and hazards caused to thousands of persons by this detour.

We also like the highly commendable speed with which Deputy Commissioner FOSTER has implemented his promise to the Roads Committee. The Committee met on Wednesday and State Highway crews started work on the detour Thursday.

The great number of newsmen on the Nixon train, coming from all parts of the nation, had hoped to see some of the wild life for which Michigan is famous. But they were disappointed until they reached Oakland County when their slow moving 12-car train was quite an attraction for a herd of deer on the former Scripps estate just north of Pontiac. The train's occupants saw the deer, and quit talking politics for a few minutes.

I have it directly from Sheriff Frank W. Irons that, according to its population, Oakland is low among other Michigan counties in law violators.

A pet trout in the Clinton River is reported by Gurnet Awrey of Drayton Plains. It takes food from his hand, and follows him in the river as he walks along the shore.

That we need more and wider highways in the Pontiac-Detroit area is the opinion of

Worse Off Than a Cross-Eyed Hunter

David Lawrence Says:

Coattail Vote Theory Exaggerated

WASHINGTON—If a fallacy is repeated often enough, it comes to be accepted as gospel—especially in politics.

Thus, it has been said over and over again in the last four years that President Eisenhower is "stronger than his party" and that there is something unusual about the fact that in 1952 he ran ahead of the congressional vote for the Republican party.

Prof. C. A. M. Ewing of the University of Oklahoma in his book (1947), surveying nearly a 50-year period of congressional elections from 1896 to 1944, concludes that the popularity of the presidential candidate and the presidential campaign have a very limited influence upon congressional elections. He thinks the "coattail" theory is vastly exaggerated.

Malcolm Moos, professor of political science at Johns Hopkins University, in his book about Presidential Coattails, published in 1952, found that Theodore Roosevelt, Republican, with a percentage of 114.9 over the congressional vote of his party took the list of those who have run ahead of their party. Still, Charles Evans Hughes, Republican, who lost in 1916, tied the 114.9 figure.

REASON UNEXPLAINED

The reason why so many people do not vote for congressional candidates and yet do vote for the presidential nominees has never been satisfactorily explained. It may be due to the fact that, with the growth in population in so many districts, the congressional candidates are relatively unknown and hence the voters do not take the trouble to cast a ballot.

The gap is bigger now than it used to be. Thus Prof. Moos says:

"For the period running from 1896 through 1944, the average difference between the parties as regards the ratio of their presidential to their congressional ticket's vote has climbed to 11.5 per cent, which means, of course, that on the average only 10 to 20 persons out of every 100 who have been voting for president since 1896 have also been taking the pains to vote for congressional candidates."

"Looking at the entire experience of presidential-congressional voting since 1896 . . . it should be noted that there was a much higher voting interest prior to 1920 than during the period 1920 to 1948. For example, in 1896, from 75 to 80 per cent of the potentially eligible voters went to the polls, while in 1948 the vote had declined to 52 per cent. In this setting, 1920 seems to have been the turning point—the year, it might be remarked, that women first had the vote."

TOPS SINCE 1920

It is interesting to note that in the 1952 election, 62.7 per cent of the eligibles went to the polls, and this was the record since 1920.

But, even with the larger percentage of people voting, the gap between the presidential vote and the congressional vote prior to 1920 averaged about 5.3 per cent. It doesn't seem to have mattered that there were larger numbers of voters after 1920—the gap averaged 11.9 per cent until 1952.

"You'll be entitled to another soda in just 55 minutes, Freddy."

It could happen that the Republicans would capture both houses of Congress this time because their candidates for Congress are locally stronger than the Democrats, but it could also happen that, because so many veteran Democrats are running—the voter tends to keep the experienced legislators in power—like could win and still be faced with a Democratic Congress. In either case, it would have little to do with party strength as such. Congressional contests are essentially local.

So it all adds up to the proposition that the congressional and presidential elections are two separate sets of contests. Sometimes a popular congressional candidate helps the presidential nominee, and vice versa. There's no uniformity.

Dr. William Brady Says:

We Can't Be Prepared for All Imagined Chances

One reason why we—that is, Micky, Lalla Rookh, and I—nearly starved when I was an honest doctor in Fern Yan was my lack of experience.

For instance, once when I was called to the home of a wealthy farmer on the lake shore road I found a member of his family still unconscious following a "spell." Questioning a member of the household I learned that the patient had been subject to the "spells" for years. I learned also that I had been called only because the family doctor was unavailable.

When I was about to leave the farmer approached, walked in hand, and inquired politely . . . Well, I opined, aside from the care I have advised, to protect the patient from injury during a seizure, there's no specific remedy for epilepsy . . . The farmer almost had a fit himself. He became menacing, declared he wouldn't pay me a cent and dared me to sue him. I got out of there with undignified haste.

I never collected a fee and never dared to sue him. But I learned later that I missed my cue. The family doctor, a smooth old charlatan who had a lucrative practice, had always called it "spinal irritation." We live and learn. Whenever I remind people that home is the best place to have a baby I'm sure to hear from a number of, shall we say, $350 snobs who want to know what I'd do if the patient confined at home needed transfusion, Caesarean section, or forceps . . .

Well, I swan. In all of my obstetric practice, or nearly all of it—nothing to boast about, as deliveries in general practice go—I never gave such possibilities a thought. But this question, from sophomores who look like adults but have never grown up and many of them never will, disturbs me.

The millions and millions of mothers who have had their babies at home, including your mother and mine and my wife and, I hope, yours, labored under a great disadvantage—they knew little and cared less about the untoward complications or hazards of childbirth. They regarded it in quite another way. As the movie star Coleen Gray (Mrs. Bill Bidlack) expressed it, following the birth of her second baby—by natural childbirth, because she didn't like the cavalier treatment she received in a hospital when her first baby was born:

"It had been truly a religious experience, not only for Bruce's mother but for his father, who had sat by my side as nature intended him to, during the greatest physical and emotional event of our lives."

Incidentally, the sophomores taunt me for talking about what they call "primitive" but intelligent people call natural childbirth—for how can a doctor who hasn't borne any children know what travail . . . Again the movie star,

They fail to realize that in this

I see in the paper that the wife of a Yugoslavian vice consul was caught shoplifting in San Francisco, and that authorities were awaiting word from Washington as to whether she has "diplomatic immunity" from prosecution of the law. What bunk!

Some of our American soldiers in prison camps who weakened under great mental and physical duress were brought home and court martialled. Do we punish our own and grant immunity to those who should be an example of honesty?

I understand they can disregard our traffic laws and commit even major offenses, all subject to immunity. I protest!

Father Wants Ike So Peace Goes On

This European situation is getting worse and worse. It is very important to make sure the war party isn't put in office. The Democrats are always taken for a long, fast buggy ride when they start negotiating with foreign powers, as a result, we get drawn into these world wide wars. They can't keep us out.

Let's make sure we have peace. I have two boys in the late teens and I don't want either of them fighting in Europe for another Democratic President. This nation has put up with enough of that. Peace is more important than all the other things combined. Why must we risk having our boys killed all over again? Let's vote for Eisenhower.

New Bonn Defense Chief May Slash NATO Quota

By JOSEPH L. PEARLMAN INS Staff Writer

Franz Joseph Strauss has no illusions about walking through his new job as West German defense minister.

Strauss favors drastic trimming of West Germany's planned contribution of 500,000 men to NATO. He is understood to believe in giving a smaller force the best arms and equipment obtainable, including atomic weapons if they are made available.

He will have to back the thinking of some important NATO leaders on this issue.

The young Bavarian has given the toughest assignment of his career by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in the midst of pre-election pressures building in Bonn.

The appointment came after Adenauer was forced by mounting opposition pressure to reduce the term of military service from 18 months to a year.

It was understood Adenauer now sees the necessity of informing the NATO Council that West Germany will be unable to fill its original manpower goals set for the next year or so.

HURT BY U. S. CUTS

Reports of American troop cuts in Germany have done the Chancellor's chances for re-election in 1957 no good.

According to recent Washington reports, the U. S. decided to keep American combat troop strength at current levels until the summer of 1958, after Adenauer asked Washington for a definite promise on this score.

Strauss is expected to take up the manpower problem at the Oct. 28 meeting of the NATO Council.

Strauss is a leader of the Christian Social Union, Bavarian affiliate of Adenauer's Christian Democratic Union.

He is known as a hard worker and good orator in Germany, capable of "selling" his ideas.

CIVILIAN CONTROL

It is said to favor armed forces of 300,000 instead of the half-million men originally envisaged, under civilian control. He opposes establishment of a German general staff with a supreme military commander.

A bachelor, Strauss joined the Adenauer cabinet team three years ago. He was atomic energy minister before he was picked to replace Theodor Blank as defense minister in the latest cabinet reshuffle.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

There Is No Shortcut to Fame

You all know Bill. He is in every high school. At social parties you'll meet him, too, for possibly 20 per cent of people suffer from similar inferiority complexes and then try to compensate as Bill does. But they use the wrong method, so send for the correct one below and you can then omit these false fronts that Bill puts up.

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-303: Bill K., aged 17, is a high school senior.

"Bill is a short kid, being only 5'6" tall," his high school adviser informed me.

"And I think that is why he is such a behavior problem. For he yearns to be a big fellow, erroneously thinking that height is the sole yardstick for measuring manhood."

"Dr. Crane, he smokes cigars to the point where he is ridiculous. And he uses foul language. Of course, he drinks and then brags about that fact."

"He has been arrested several times for speeding. And he thinks he is a Don Juan. He has reached the place where he imagines he is too big for our school system, so would you discuss him in your column?"

"We employ your newspaper cases in our high school hygiene course, so disguise his name but please analyze his problem. Maybe then he will be able to see himself as others do."

FOOLISH ANTICS

Everybody wants to feel important. That is basic to human nature.

And boys are especially susceptible to the yearning to be tall, rugged athletes.

They fail to realize that in this modern age of science, the real test for a he-man is not a strong back but a strong brain!

Even girls can operate all the equipment necessary to run a 640-acre farm. And machinery eliminates the heavy work in factories so women can do any job therein that a man can perform.

Nowadays, therefore, the test of a real he-man is whether he can adjust successfully to the adult rules of the game of life.

These demand that he learn how to get along harmoniously with his associates and be able to win a wife.

Then he should by all means be equipped to earn a legitimate living and stay within his household budget so he doesn't fall back on papa for cash handouts.

FALSE VALUES

If Bill were to have his height measured against a yardstick, he would realize that smoking a cigar and swilling down alcohol and cursing and exceeding the speed limits would not raise his stature a single inch!

But he falsely imagines they will increase his psychological stature, which is why he adopts those juvenile evidences of a person with an inferiority complex.

Martin Levels Blast at Williams on Roads

FLINT 10 — The Republican candidate for secretary of state last night described Gov. Williams' highway stand as "phony as a three-dollar bill."

"The governor is trying to build political highways to higher office, not concrete highways for the state," John B. Martin Jr. of Grand Rapids told a Republican rally.

"The governor's attempts to make a political issue by his attacks on Highway Commissioner Ziegler are as phony as a three-dollar bill," Martin said.

Williams has concentrated his highway attack on State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, who he says has done a "miserable" job of building roads.

The governor, said Martin, is wrong on two points—that the state has not built highways fast enough and that they are built in the wrong place.

Is Hare's Car Mishap a Re-election Aid?

LANSING 10 — State Democrats say the automobile accident which seriously injured Secretary of State James M. Hare will not hurt his chances for re-election and, in fact, may help.

Hare, injured in a collision Saturday in Detroit, is in "fair" condition at a suburban hospital with broken ribs and internal injuries. He will be unable to continue his campaign.

Party members refuse to be quoted about the effect of the accident on his chances because they feel their only public statements should convey regret about his injuries.

But privately they predict the incident will do him no harm Nov. 6, when voters will choose between Hare and John B. Martin Jr. in one of the state election's key races.

"We're hoping the fact that he's laid up in a hospital will tone down Martin's attacks," said one party leader. "Who knows, Martin may have some powerful ammunition reserved for the last days in the campaign and decide not to use it because of this."

Bird Gets Treatment

DETROIT 10 — Blackie, the talking mynah bird, has been banished from the Detroit Children's Zoo until he cleans up his language. Somewhere Blackie picked up a string of bad words and took to lacing his poly-wants-a-cracker routine with blistering expletives. Trainers have him in a back room of the aviary at the main zoo, teaching him to tone down his talk.

Pontiac City Affairs

Approval to Rezone Lots Delayed

Further action will be taken Nov. 13 by Pontiac city commissioners on a request to rezone to commercial usage nine lots in the city's north end.

The City Planning Commission recommended denial of the request to the commission last night after holding a public hearing Oct. 17.

Joseph F. Kosik, attorney for the owner of the lots, appealed to the commissioners' "discretion" on the proposal.

He explained, substantiated by reports from two Pontiac realtors and a mortgagor, the lots in question on the north side of Columbia avenue between University and the Pontiac Oxford and Northern Railroad, and on both sides of Ann Arbor avenue, had no residential value.

'BUFFER ZONE'

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, who moved for the three-week postponement, said the proposed commercial site would provide a "buffer zone" between present residential and other zones.

Kosik presented photographs to the commission supporting his claim that "this area has not developed at all residentially."

Commissioners did concur with a plan group recommendation establishing a new "personal service district" zoning classification in Pontiac.

The area, which falls between Commercial 1 and Residential 3 on the zoning scale, will be on the east side of Franklin boulevard from Pike to Orchard Lake, on the west side of Franklin from Orchard Lake to Huron, and on the south side of Huron from Franklin to Palmer street.

A recommendation from the plan group denying rezoning to manufacturing the area bounded by Ferry street, Giddings road and Galloway Creek, was concurred with by the City Commission last night.

A request from the State Highway Dept. prohibiting parking on Perry street from Huron street to Walton boulevard, was referred to a Nov. 1 informal commission meeting.

TRANSFER OK'D

A request from Felix Vitasinsky to transfer liquor and beer licenses from 468 to 570 S. Telegraph Rd. was approved.

Public hearings will be held next Tuesday on proposals to install storm drains in the Dixie-land Subdivision, and to construct curb, gutter, grading, graveling, and related work on Orlando avenue from Monticello to Oakland.

The assessed cost, as outlined in engineer estimates presented last evening, for the first project would be $4,277 as compared to the city's share of $21,204. Cost for a 40 by 125-foot lot would be $30.

THIRD HEARING SET

The latter project would involve total assessed costs of $8,432. City cost would be $1,327. Cost for a 40-foot lot would be $169.

A third public hearing will be conducted next week on a special assessment roll to finance curb, gutter, grade, gravel and related work on Parkdale avenue from Woodland to Baldwin.

Commissioners approved an amendment to a federal grant agreement raising the federal share in payment of the new Pontiac Municipal Airport east-west runway from $128,000 to $150,000. A letter from Mrs. William F.

Maybury, expressing her appreciation of a City Commission resolution in memory of her late husband, was read at the meeting.

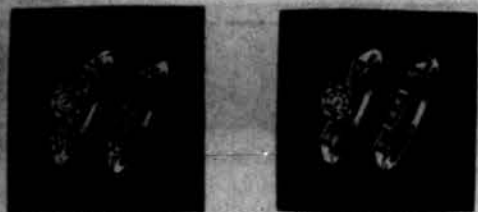

Confirmations were aired and payments established for six public improvement projects completed in Pontiac.

Graduates' Pay Beats Professors'

AUGUSTA, Maine 10 — Pres. Arthur A. Hauck, citing the need for better faculty salaries at the University of Maine, says many of last June's graduates stepped into jobs paying more than their instructors receive.

Dr. Hauck said the median salary for instructors at the university is $4,000 a year. Science and engineering graduates averaged starting pay of $5,100, he told Gov. Edmund S. Muskie and the advisory budget committee.

Paint Shows Up Planes Better

CAA Seeking Methods to Prevent Collisions in Mid-Air

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Administration said today it has developed two promising ways of making planes easier to see—and therefore, less likely to collide—in daytime.

One, a powerful flashing light, has extended the distance a plane may be seen by more than 25 per cent, the CAA said.

The other, a fluorescent paint, makes a plane stand out prominently whether viewed against the sky, or against a green or brown background of earth.

At the same time, the CAA reported the gravest danger in the air is not of head-on collisions but of one plane overtaking another.

WARNINGS DON'T HELP
The CAA also revealed studies showing a warning to a pilot there are other planes in the vicinity may have little or no effect on his ability to sight other craft quickly enough to avert a collision.

The agency made no attempt, however, to relate the findings to collisions over Arizona's Grand Canyon in June when one airliner overtook another. In that case one pilot had been forewarned and the other didn't know their planes were converging.

Studies of aerial collisions, air-traffic conspicuity, and projects for development of "proximity warning" devices, were described by research engineers during a visit to the CAA's Technical Development Center here by 400 electronic experts attending the annual meeting of the Radio Technical Commission for Aeronautics (RTCA).

Hal Boyle Says:

How About Tagging Cocktail Party Guests?

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody's wrong with most cocktail parties. Connoisseurs of the naphkin circuit agree that while the canapes may make a party indigestible, it is the conversation that actually makes it insufferable.

It's reached a point where, when a host invites you to a cocktail party, you wonder whether it's because he really wants to see you, or merely is seeking revenge because you had him over to your last house party.

After attending some 3,000 of these social marathons — I have the same morbid interest in them that old women have in attending funerals — I believe I've figured out a way cocktail parties can not only be made endurable but enjoyable.

First, let us examine what is with Miss Wambnutt . . . She's so intellectual . . . and also with Mr. Frothingham. . . He's a real dear," says the hostess and gallops off fast.

Two hours later you know the deadly reason, Miss Wambnutt, who wears Clara Bow bangs, is hipped on reincarnation and is sure she remembers you from a previous life in Nineveh — or was it Tyre? when she was a princess and you were her pre-Christian slave. Mr. Frothingham, a distinguished codger with a silver mustache, has only two words—

"Uh" and "uh-uh." His main interest in life is in dipping his mustache into a martini and then squeezing it dry with his lower lip.

How can we avoid these situations? By taking a tip from business conventions, at which delegates wear identity tags bearing their names and business firms.

Here is my idea. Every cocktail party guest should be made to wear, not merely an identity tag, but a printed biography card listing his interests and prejudices — in large clear type.

For example, a card like this: "My name is Elbert Stitzer. I manufacture ladies' undergarments. Yes, I find it interesting. My income is upward of $20,000 a year.

"I have a wife and three children — all grown. If you don't show me pictures of your family, I won't show you mine. I am an intermittent Presbyterian and a registered Democrat. Yes, I know I should probably Brooklyn Dodger rooters, and people who think it's funny to ask me, 'what's new in brassieres these days besides foam rubber?'

"Special warning: No matter how many martinis I drink, I never lend money to strangers at a party—no save your breath."

"Special request: If you know any atom bomb secrets, don't tell me. I talk in my sleep."

Let everyone wear biography cards like that and no cocktail party could be dull. If Mr. Stitzer didn't appeal to you, all you'd have to do is move on, murmuring, "sorry, I'm afraid I'm one of your pet peeves."

And Mr. Stitzer would be as grateful to see you walk off as you'd be to leave him. No hurt feelings, no little white lies.

No one would have an excuse for getting stuck in a boring conversation unless he simply could not read. And whatever else you say about cocktail parties, you have to admit most of the people who go to them can read. Well, until the third martini, anyway.

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '57 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers.

Under the supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile each of these two '57 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run . . . Ford No. 2, over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

In all, the '57 Ford smashed 458 national and international records.

This test was run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah . . . it was the longest left turn in history.

A car, like a man, is known by its deeds, not words.

That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '57 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves.

We wanted them to prove to you—in action—the stamina and performance we had built into them. No words of ours could speak with equal conviction.

Therefore, we engaged an independent engineering organization to test our '57 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before—in this country or abroad.

We provided them with '57 Fords—cars identical with those now being offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them.

Here is what they did:

They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah.

Here, twelve of the world's greatest drivers took over.

In relays they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world . . . a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving.

Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea!

But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird Y-block V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear—of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too!

A test, indeed, such as no cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded.

We feel that by their deeds, you shall know the '57 Ford cars.

Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy . . . and when you sell!

Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car-buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.

Medics Testify in Hoxsey Trial

Claim Cancer Patient Died After Undergoing Disputed Treatment

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Three doctors, testifying for the government, said yesterday a Binghamton, N.Y. man died of cancer after ignoring recommendations and taking the Hoxsey cancer treatment.

The physicians are Drs. C. Paul Nay, Frederick P. Becker, and Victor Drucker, all of Binghamton City Hospital. The dead man was Nicholas Lupinow, 61. He died Aug. 2.

Dr. Nay said he first met Lupinow March 5, and kept him in the hospital for seven days. At the end of that time he said he recommended exploratory surgery, but Lupinow declined.

Dr. Drucker said he made X-rays of Lupinow and both he and Dr. Nay suspected Lupinow had cancer of the stomach. Lupinow's widow, Emilie, told the federal jury that her husband then went to the Hoxsey Clinic at Portage, Pa.

Mrs. Lupinow, using a Russian interpreter, said her husband took a two-month treatment with pills. She said the clinic billed her for $478 and she paid $100 on the bill.

Dr. Nay said Lupinow returned to the hospital July 31 with "all of his complaints more severe and in poorer physical condition." Lupinow died 10 days later.

Dr. Becker testified that he performed an autopsy and established definitely that Lupinow died of stomach cancer.

The trial before a jury of six men and six women is a civil action to determine if the government can destroy over a half million pills seized at the clinic in a raid last March.

A frog in Rockhampton, Australia, swallowed 6½ inches of a pearl necklace at a local store. The frog was less than three inches long.

It's a Chinchilla Year, Even for a Few Dogs

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—This looks like "the chinchilla year" around Cafe Society . . . I regret to report.

Just when it appeared that cloth coats, silk coats, etc., would be chic—making all husbands happy except those who are in the fur business—a wave of chinchilla-wearers is sweeping down on us . . . And all those wraps seem to cost at least $10,000.

Hope Hampton, The Duchess of Park Avenue, is the latest to blossom out in a chinchilla stole, and we hear that she is looking for a matching chinchilla wrap for her dog . . . or, better yet, for a chinchilla dog. There is nothing for men to do about this but to tell women they look unattractive in chinchilla, and if they do they'll get clobbered. It looks like a losing fight men.

Orson Welles is a great kiddie . . . though Maurice Evans is a friend of his, Welles couldn't be quiet when his wife came from seeing Evans in "Appelcart" at the opening and told him, "I had a draught behind me at the theater." Boomed Welles: "And you had a draught in front of you, too, when Maurice Evans was on stage!"

Actor Irving Fisher was given a complimentary dinner on "The City of San Francisco" train—because he's Harry Truman's look-alike.

"What's that red rosette you're wearing?" I asked Comic Joe E. Lewis, who replied, "That's my Croix de Drunk."

Perry Como's writer, Jay Burton, got twitted so much about being sloppy that he arrived for work at 10 a.m. in tux and cummerbund.

Mike Todd's press agent, Bill Doll, has a picture inscribed "You made me what I am today, but I like you anyway."

Lovely Erin O'Brien, singer on the Steve Allen show, is married to singer Jimmy Fitzgerald, and they have two children back in Long Beach, Cal., while they're trying to make it here. "They're being taken care of by my mother," says Erin. "You see, she doesn't mind, because there were 14 of us."

The Democrats are claiming Ike will get the cardiac vote.

Geene Courtney, who was with Publisher Bob Harrison when he was shot, says, "I should worry—my acting price has gone up to $2,000-a-week."

Signe Hasso looked so young in "Appelcart" that I asked her, "How old are you—18?" and she answered, "Forty-one! I have a son 23."

Perle Mesta whispered why she'll go on TV when Shirley Booth plays her life story: "You get more money that way."

Ex-Michigan All-American Tommy Harmon bet that Michigan'll lick Ohio State this year . . . Arthur Murray's invading England to open a studio in London.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Xavier Cugat will talk to tax men when he arrives from Italy to open in Miami . . . Famed Director Frank Capra returns to work next year after a long absence . . . Rocky Graziano announced, "I'm ready for real heavy actin'—like I seen Tony Galento do" . . . Francoise Sagan, the French authoress, turned down a deal to write the "Diary of Anne Frank" screenplay. Liberate's new food concoction: Ice cream in champagne . . . Roy Cohn's dating his pretty client, Barbara Hoch, who's divorcing Charley Evans . . .

Earle's Pearls

When a girl says no to a proposal she expects to be held for further questioning.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Times must be getting better—people who used to talk about car pools are now talking about swimming pools."—Lew Parker.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Ann Bancroft discussed her TV work: "You spend weeks rehearsing a show that only a couple of baby sitters will be home to watch."

After hearing Edith Piaf's songs of frustration and despair a guest said, "She makes you feel that no matter how bad things are, they're bound to get worse." That's earl, brother.

Seek Bigger Rockpile

MIDLAND (AP) — The rockpile for the new Midland jail isn't growing fast enough so citizens are being asked to step up their contributions. Some 7,000 stones are needed in the project to provide a foundation for the new courthouse addition. Citizens have been asked to contribute boulders at least as large as footballs to cut costs of the $700,000 structure.

Keefe Brasselle's Wife Wins Point in Divorce Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The wife of actor Keefe Brasselle says he told her he was going to Europe to seek work — and that if she thinks she can collect on a court order against him, try it.

In superior court Mrs. Norma Brasselle, 29, tried. The court appointed a receiver to take over Brasselle's assets, which his wife's attorney listed as half of the $100,000 equity in a Beverly Hills office building.

Mrs. Brasselle's attorney said Brasselle is $1,175 in arrears in alimony and child support and owes $1,000 in attorney's fees.

Mrs. Brasselle obtained an interlocutory divorce decree last March 29 but Brasselle had it set aside. A contested divorce suit is pending.

AMBASSADOR FOR '57 — The Super four-door sedan, above, will be the lowest priced model in the 1957 Nash line. American Motors officials said today in announcing that the new cars will be on display in dealer showrooms tomorrow, Oct. 25. The model above is powered by a 225-horse power V8 engine and has a 121½-inch wheelbase. The Ambassadors will be on display at Rogers Sales & Service, 605 Auburn Ave.

Four-Headlight System, Lower Price for Nash

DETROIT, (INS) — The 1957 Nash Ambassador, with a revolutionary four-headlight system, will be introduced Thursday in Nash dealer showrooms across the nation.

The new Nash models — lower than the '56 models by two inches — also features a new 235-horsepower V-8 engine.

George Romney, American Motors president, recently disclosed that the price of the new Nash, Hudson and Rambler models will be lower than the '56 models.

The 1957 styling changes begin at the front with the chrome-encased headlights set in the fenders. Roy Abernethy, vice president of automotive distribution, and marketing for American Motors Corp. said:

"The new headlight system, with two lamps mounted vertically in each fender, is the greatest advance in automobile lighting since the advent of sealed-beam units. It also gives the car an attractive new styling area."

All four lamps are used for the high beam, while only the upper two are used for the low beam. Actual night driving tests made by American Motors proves that the new system supplies up to 100 extra feet of illumination, while at the same time concentrating the light in such a way that oncoming drivers are not "blinded," said Abernethy.

The upper lights direct more light down the right side of the road, and the two lower lamps probe down the highway.

All 1957 Nash models are powered by the new, larger AMC V-8 engine, rated at 235-horsepower. The engine has a compression ratio of 9 to 1, displacement of 327 cubic inches and torque rating of 345 foot-pounds.

Peat to Give Power

DUBLIN — Western Europe's first electric generating station to use milled peat is being constructed in Ireland at Luncolun in County Offaly.

State Police Search for Parole Violator

ITHACA (AP) — State Police today asked for public assistance in the search for a parole violator wanted in connection with the raping of an eight-year-old Gratiot County school girl Monday.

Sheriff Robert J. Russell said the girl had identified the suspect as Edward David Selfort, 37, from pictures taken when he was a prison inmate.

The young victim of the attack was reported in "satisfactory" condition in Alma Community Hospital following surgery.

The Gratiot county prosecutor has issued a warrant charging Selfort with statutory rape. State Police said he also was wanted for questioning in connection with other unsolved sex cases.

Selfort, who has a prison record dating back to 1935, was described by police as 5-8, 150 pounds, with brown hair and eyes and wearing glasses.

Watched His (Wine) Step and Landed in Jail

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Cafe owner Albert Jones watched his step too closely and ended up in jail. Liquor board agents Jack Graves and Walter Sparks noticed that Jones carefully skipped the sixth step when climbing the stairs at his place.

There were 19 pints of wine under the step and Jones went to jail on a charge of possessing win on premises licensed only for beer.

This Unfair Exchange Was Real Robbery

CINCINNATI (AP) — A jewelry store operator told police that a slick thief exchanged a bogus diamond ring for a genuine one.

Police said he told them the "customer" visited the store several times and finally asked to see a $1,350 ring. After looking it over, he handed a ring back to the clerk and walked out with the real one.

State police in a few of the states are limited in their authority to the enforcement only of the motor vehicle and traffic regulations.

Mom Delivers Daughter in Self-Service Manner

"In an emergency what else can you do," said Mrs. Luther Hayes, Jr. of Troy, admiring her new baby girl which she delivered herself last week.

Mrs. Hayes, 30, a German-born nurse, said she "didn't have time to call the doctor" so she delivered little Rose Marie at home alone.

"I wasn't worried or scared about having the baby alone, I'd seen enough deliveries in Munich to know what to do and I imagine any other mother could have done the same," she said.

The difficulty and the story came to light when Mrs. Hayes attempted to get the birth recorded.

After her doctor refused to sign the certificate, Troy City Clerk J. Lawson Lockhart finally agreed to accept the birth certificate with Mrs. Hayes signing as both mother and attending physician.

Mrs. Hayes' husband, a television electrician, was working when the baby was delivered. "He was more scared than me," Mrs. Hayes said.

The Hayes' have another child, two-year-old Heide. The family lives at 1754 Muir Rd. in Troy. Much to the surprise of Mrs. Hayes' mother-in-law, the mother was up cooking sauerkraut and dumplings minutes after the child was born.

"I sure got hungry," she explained.

Fire Destroys Mail

DETROIT (AP) — Fire in a mail truck bound from Farmington to Detroit Tuesday night destroyed several bags of mail. The truck, owned by Thomas Henson of Farmington, was leased to the government. Postal officials said mail damaged by the fire will be examined and forwarded if possible.

Says Voisine OK'd Gambling

Ex-Saloon Owner of Ecorse Testifies at Conspiracy Hearing

DETROIT (U. S. P.) — Testimony that Mayor William W. Voisine approved the operation of a basement poker game in Ecorse today was before a justice of the peace examining the mayor and 21 others on an indictment charging gambling conspiracy.

The testimony came from Emory Evans, 67, a former Ecorse tavern keeper.

Evans, however, told Gross Pointe Justice of the Peace Douglas L. Patterson there was no discussion of any payoff to Voisine and said that the game was raided by police and prosecutor officers in April, 1934.

Evans said he helped Voisine in his 1933 election campaign by driving a car with banners on it, and went to the mayor and got his police OK early in 1934.

Besides Voisine, the gambling conspiracy defendants include three Ecorse councilmen and four members of the downriver suburb's police and fire commission.

Justice Patterson deferred until completion of the examination a ruling on arguments of defense attorneys that Michigan's one-man grand jury law is unconstitutional. They insisted it deprived defendants of "due process of law."

The 30 defense attorneys said the would appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court if their motion to dismiss on constitutional grounds finally was denied.

Voisine and 30 other Ecorse officials or residents were indicted Sept. 28 by Circuit Judge Theodore R. Bohn sitting as a one-man grand jury in the investigation of alleged corruption in downriver Detroit suburbs.

The charges ran from gambling conspiracy to bribery.

Judge Bohn petitioned Gov. G. Mennen Williams yesterday to remove Voisine and three Ecorse councilmen from office. The petition charged that Voisine accepted $30,000 in bribes from gamblers and that all four were guilty of misfeasance, malfeasance and non-feasance in office.

If Gov. Williams grants the petition he must appoint one or more judges to conduct a hearing and make recommendations to him. Alfred B. Pitt, the chief executive's legal adviser, said Williams would have no comment pending a reading of the petition.

Couple Elope to Marry and to Death

OAKLAND, Calif. (U. S. P.) — The note said Mazie Soo Hoo, 18, and Edward Kwong, 21, were going to Reno to get married. And it added "don't try to stop us."

Mazie's father, Henry, told her he went to Reno to find the young couple — not to stop them but to tell them to come home "and have a church wedding or at least a big reception."

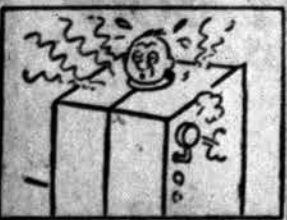

When he returned he learned his daughter, a University of California coed and Edward, a sophomore at Menlo College, had been found dead with arms around each other, in a car in the East Oakland foothills.

Four suicide notes told of a love pact. "We never opposed their marriage," Mazie's father said. "We would have done anything to see them happy."

He said the two would be buried side by side.

Bob Considine Says:

Let's Not Be Fooled by Poland's New Boss

NEW YORK (INS) — Last we throw our hats too high in the air over the emergence of the Titoist Wladyslaw Gomulka as the anti-Stalinist leader of Poland's Communist government. Let it be remembered that he is Redder than a herring and a sworn enemy of freedom everywhere—especially in Poland.

Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, the last free premier of Poland, is now in Paris at the International Peasant Union Congress.

In his memoirs for King Features Syndicate and Whittlessey House, after his tense escape from Poland when the Communists took completely over, he gives a vivid vignette of Gomulka. Free Poland was going down the drain at the time, despite the hearty assurances of Roosevelt, Churchill and Stalin that this could never happen. Mikolajczyk, virtually a house prisoner by then, marched to Gomulka's office.

The plug-ugly was first deputy premier at the time, the strong-arm man for such brains, so to speak, as Hillary Mine and Jakob Berman. The Polish Peasant Party which Mikolajczyk headed had just been gipped out of promised vice-ministers in the new government setup.

I quote: "After such a travesty of democratic procedure I (Mikolajczyk) called on Gomulka and told him that I planned to take this to the people unless it stopped immediately."

A GALE OF FURY "Don't you go too far with the people," he roared in a gale of fury.

"The people are already against us," he continued. "They are crazy! You watch your step or you'll be as sorry one of these days as they are."

"It is interesting to study misadventures of this kind."

"You can't kill all of us, Gomulka," I said to him. "You can't exterminate a whole people or crush its determination to be independent. You know you can't."

win. Poles are essentially anti-communistic.

"It is barely possible that over a long period of time you might win them to your way of thinking. If that way of thinking included even an elementary kindness."

"But, by G —, you'll never BEAT communism into us!"

REVOLVER THREAT

"He leaped from his chair and charged me, his hand on the revolver in his pocket and the outline of his gun pointed at my chest. I sat there for there was nothing else to do, while he stood over me, twitching and speechless with rage."

"Give me a cigarette, please," I asked.

"Gomulka wheeled away from me and paced the office for a time. 'We'll get the people,' he swore. 'And we'll get you, too.'"

If we start doing business with this fellow Gomulka, this will provide a small view of what the bum is like.

How you know your car is getting closer to New York: The guys in the highway toll-boxes stop saying, "Thanks."

Gen. Carl LeMay's Strategic Air Command will send three B-29s nonstop from Mountain Home SAC Base, Idaho, to Melbourne for the impending Olympics.

A lyricist in SAC public relations told me over last weekend that "the flames from the jet engines will mingle with the Olympic flame to spell out freedom everywhere."

LeMay, a considerable realist, apparently considers that just fine and dandy but he asked the boys to simulate an A-bomb raid on an uninhabited island 5,100 miles out in the Pacific—en route.

Gas Tax Refunds Go to Michigan Farmers

DETROIT (U. S. P.) — Gasoline tax refunds totaling $363,567 have been made to 53,500 Michigan farmers under a new federal law.

The payments, averaging about $10, are refunds on gasoline used during the first half of this year.

The law enacted in April provides refunds on the federal excise tax on gasoline used for farming.

A. M. Menninger, district director of Internal Revenue, said the refunds will be made annually for a year from July 1 to June 30.

DETROIT COED TO REIGN

YPSILANTI (U. S. P.) — Isabel MacMillan, a sophomore from Detroit, has been chosen homecoming queen by students of Eastern Michigan College.

She will reign Saturday at the homecoming football game with Eastern Illinois State College.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

THE AGE OF CHIVALRY — I

A Squire

A boy who hoped to become a knight left his home when very young and was admitted to the castle of a nobleman. Until he was 14 the boy served the lord and lady of the castle as a page.

At 14 he became a squire to a knight. He looked after the knight's armor, helped him to put it on and to mount his horse. If the knight was wounded in battle his squire came to his aid, and led him away from the field. When he was 21 the squire would himself become a knight.

Use your crayons to color this picture, and paste it down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully, and fold the right panel forward and the left panel back on the dotted lines so the squire will stand.

Cut the slits on either side of both hands. Then the squire can carry the knight's sword in his right hand. Fold the tab at the top of the shield and push it into the slot on top of the squire's left hand. Fasten the banner to a long thin stick slipped through the holes at the edge. This can then be slipped into his right hand.

eatin' treats for Hallowe'en

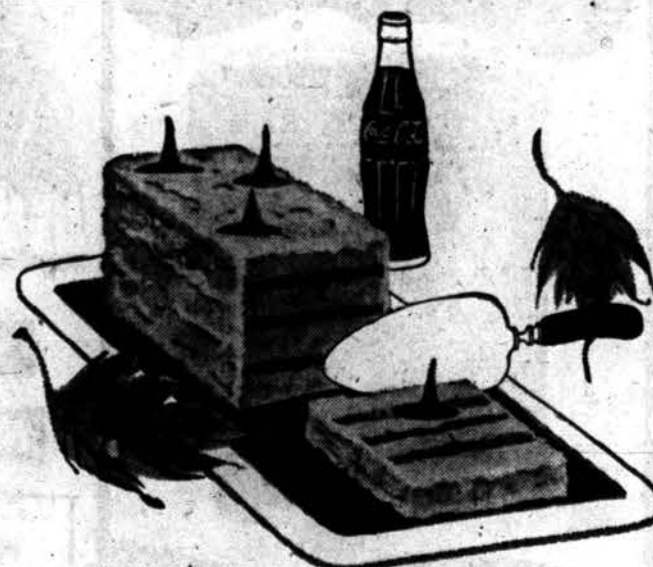

Party Foods That Really "Do The Trick"
Served With Sparkling Coca-Cola

Quick-Trick Crullers. Hearty treat for a hungry gang! Use tubes of refrigerated biscuits. Roll out biscuits to 1/4-inch thickness, dot half with 1 teaspoon marmalade, top with remaining ones, sealing firmly. Fry in deep hot fat (375 degree) 3 minutes per side. Drain and dust with confectioners' sugar. Serve 'em up hot right on the spot with plenty of ice-cold Coca-Cola. Its great taste makes it right at home at any party!

Snack O' Lantern. This clever bit of hostess magic turns a pumpkin into a big round snack bowl! Scoop out the pumpkin and cut a "face" into one side. Fill a jar with your favorite dip, pop it inside the pumpkin and serve with crackers. With sparkling Coke set out for sipping, your party's off to a great taste start!

Orange-Frosted Sandwich Loaf. A buffet "best" that tastes best with ice-cold Coca-Cola! Remove crusts from unsliced bread loaf, cut lengthwise into 4 slices. Smooth canned ham and chicken spreads on alternating layers. Here's your frosting: beat cream into cream cheese until fluffy-smooth, tint with orange food coloring. Chill loaf before serving. This is fancy fare that's plain delicious teamed up with the tingling taste of Coke!

Budget Not Padded, Robert Moore Says

Including the new cottages recently built, and Camp Oakland costs for 20 more.

"The Contagious Hospital budget for 1956 was $1,186,500," he said. Its disbursements in 1955 had been $1,151,858. Disbursements in the first six months of 1956 have totaled $53,492. This indicates that a surplus of some $30,000 may remain at the end of the year, if there is no epidemic.

"However, some of the other department budgets will show deficits," he pointed out.

"Far from having any surplus in our general fund today, we have instead a deficit of $11,362.55."

"The only instance in which we have not acted entirely in accordance with the law," said Moore, "has been in a few past years when we spent more than a tenth of a mill on capital improvements. We did that because the buildings were badly needed and because, by paying for them as they were built, we saved the taxpayers thousands of dollars in interest."

In commenting on this fact Dr. Louis Friedman, governmental expert from Wayne State University who is advising the supervisors in their plans for the new courthouse, said, "The rigidity of statutes does not keep pace with the needs of a rapidly growing area. The fact that the law was changed this year showed a tardy realization of the need."

"The law formerly limited capital improvement spending to a tenth of a mill," said Moore. "Our population was expanding so rapidly that we had to have new buildings. The state finally recognized this and the law was changed this year to legalize the spending of any budget surplus for capital improvements."

"The Auditor General's Department in a few past years had noted in its audits the fact that we had failed to keep within the maximum provided. However, there was no such comment in the latest audit which we have just received."

"As a result of the changing of this law, we have been transferring surplus funds in several funds to our building fund."

"I have told you how, through the use of surplus funds we have been able to build several of our present county buildings," Moore continued.

"We also used some surplus money to buy the added land we needed from the state for the proposed courthouse site on Telegraph Road."

"I have said that we have not padded the budget to build up a fund for building a new courthouse, and that is true. But we have had surplus money in any county that is growing as rapidly as Oakland County, it would have been unwise to cut budget estimates too fine."

"So we have had surplus, but we have also had plenty of deficits as unexpected needs arose."

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Picking, nose-picking and a long-standing facial rash are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms... tiny parasites that medical experts say infect one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these parasites must not only be killed, but also be removed from the body before they die. Then—JAYNE'S modern, medically-approved Pin-Worms medicine will work—kill Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P-W Vermicide... the modern, nose-to-nose Pin-Worm medicine, recommended by Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 150 years.

Proposed Yard Site Supported by C. of C.

It would, they claim, prevent extending Stanley avenue north to Walton boulevard.

They have repeated the need for the extension as a north-south arterial to relieve traffic congestion on Baldwin avenue.

The Chamber letter presented figures to substantiate their claim "the dispersion of the automobile industry is already a fact and is gaining momentum."

DISCUSSION FOLLOWS

In a discussion period following presentation of the letter, Harold L. Blackwood, Pontiac realtor, suggested commissioners "think in terms of business not being so easy from now on."

"When a man buys a home in that area he's running a risk," Blackwood said. "They should have reasoned that with the expansion of industry there would be an expansion of the railroad."

Railroad officials have repeatedly stressed to city officials that the proposed site south of Walton and north of the belt line, was zoned manufacturing, legally permitting construction of the yard there.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miller told Blackwood that "because there was a belt line there—that was no indication of the intensified railroad program."

The Chamber warned the commission that their "duty was to all the people—not just to one small segment. Your present action—or inaction—will affect all of our citizens."

Residents of the area have filed verbal and written protests to commission asking the yard be built elsewhere.

NEW SCHOOL ASSURED — Hiringer said it "was fairly well assured" that a new school would be built at Kennett and Stanley Roads.

He mentioned this as protesting citizens have said the yard would be a hazard to school children going north to Weaver School.

Wayne Gabert, 121 N. Saginaw St., asked the commission how they intended to arrive at their decision. He questioned why a study by a consulting railroad engineer was not taken as a final answer.

"Are you going to call in another expert?" he asked. "What are you going to do with his decision?" he questioned further.

Commissioners Dugan and Roy V. Cooley criticized The Press in its coverage of this matter.

"I honestly believe that we have not been getting the right publicity on this matter," Dugan charged. "To me it's been a little one-sided."

Cooley continued his plea to establish a citizen's committee composed of varied representatives so as to enlighten everybody concerning this debate.

Several commissioners stressed to Chamber representatives that they were convinced of the need of the yard, "but not of its location."

They are continuing their search for an alternate location suitable and acceptable to the railroad.

Smoot Awaits Trial on Murder Charge

Zacharias Smoot, 39, of 206 Weston St., was returned to Oakland County Jail to await trial on charges of first degree murder in the death Oct. 13 of a 29-year-old divorcee, Smoot stood mute to the charge Monday.

Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland entered a plea of innocent for Smoot, but set no trial date.

Smoot reportedly turned himself in after the shooting of Mrs. Bessie McKinney of 18 Clove St. and the wounding of her two daughters, Joan, 14, and Tanya, 6.

Two other children were uninjured in the fracas, which police say grew from a quarrel between Smoot and Mrs. McKinney.

6-County Group to Hear Report

Detroit Area Body to Convene Tomorrow at Old Mill Tavern

Supervisors of six Detroit area counties, meeting tomorrow at the Old Mill Tavern, Waterford Township, will hear a progress report on a survey of area water, sewer and drainage facilities being conducted by the National Sanitation Foundation.

The Inter-County Committee, composed of delegations from the Boards of Supervisors of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, Wash-tonaw and St. Clair Counties, also will hear a proposed state law providing legal authority for their group.

The committee previously has been organized informally, with each member Board of Supervisors voluntarily providing finances. It has powers only of suggestion.

Under the proposed bill, which the committee hopes to have considered at the next session of the State Legislature, the arrangement would be legally recognized.

Son's Shot Kills Ferndale Man

Former Mental Patient Fires as Dad Prepares to Take Him to Doctor

A Ferndale man was killed today by two shotgun blasts reportedly fired by his 29-year-old son, a former mental patient.

The victim was George P. Emlet, 59, a factory worker. His son, George S. Emlet, of Highland Park, who police say admitted, "I did it, that's all there is to it," is being held for investigation of murder.

Emlet reportedly had gone to the son's Highland Park home to take him to see a doctor. The son has been under treatment for mental illness, according to police, and was released last April from St. Joseph's Retreat.

The father arrived with another son, John, 21, early this morning, police said, and watched George S. Emlet, a factory worker, go upstairs to get dressed. He reportedly came downstairs without a word of warning, police said, and fired an automatic shotgun point blank at his father, hitting him in the chest.

John grabbed his brother and wrestled the gun from his grasp as a third shot went into the ceiling, police said.

Hungarians Revolt Against Red Rulers

promises of amnesty from the new premier, Imre Nagy.

Nagy, a former premier once imprisoned as a Titoist, returned to the premiership today.

Acclaimed by Hungarian Communists as their champion in the fight for more freedom from Moscow, Nagy appealed to the rebels and demonstrating workers to lay down their arms. He promised to better the economic lot of Hungarians, end harsh Stalinist practices and lead the nation toward a more democratic life.

SURRENDER HOUR

Indicating the fighting still was raging into this afternoon in the city of more than a million, Nagy extended an ultimatum zero hour for surrender of the rebels.

In apparent gesture of appeasement to the rebels, Communist leaders had removed Andras Hegedus as premier and installed Nagy, who was purged in 1953.

All through the night students, workers, off-duty soldiers and others shouted for Nagy as premier and demanded the expulsion of Soviet troops from Hungary.

It appeared from these announcements that the country was aflame. Hungary, a nation of about 10 million persons, has armed forces and security police totaling at least 280,000 men. Yet the Red leaders figured they had to call for aid from the Russians under the Warsaw Pact to put down the revolt.

Had Good Intentions

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Billy Fuller wanted to surprise his wife with a ready-to-eat breakfast when she got home from her night job at a local hospital.

But he didn't quite make it. Fuller appeared at the hospital for emergency treatment just before his wife was scheduled to leave. He suffered burns when grease popped up from sizzling bacon.

Woman Hurt in Crash

A Rochester woman received minor injuries in a two-car accident at the intersection of Walton and Pontiac Rds. last night.

Mrs. Florence U. Hosking, 64, of 2609 Rochester Rd., was released after treatment for muscle strains at Pontiac General Hospital. She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, James. The other vehicle involved was operated by Allen L. Buck, 33, of Detroit. Oakland County Sheriff Department deputies said today the accident occurred when Hosking made an improper turn. Hosking said he thought he had the right-of-way. Buck told officers the other vehicle turned in front of him making it impossible to avoid the crash.

2 Burned in Fire at Manistique

16 Escape in Stampede as Wood Products Plant Goes Up in Flames

MANISTIQUE (AP)—Two persons were seriously burned in a stampede for a door, but 16 others escaped unhurt as a fire fanned by a 30-mile wind destroyed the Manistique Wood Products plant yesterday.

Those who fell in a dash for the outside and were burned were Mrs. Dorothy Stanley, 41, a daughter of the owner, and Sam Anderson, 62, of nearby Thompson.

Floyd Sample, the owner, dashed back into the burning plant and pulled Mrs. Stanley and Anderson outside. He beat out his daughter's burning hair and Anderson's smoldering clothing.

Firemen blamed sparks from a defective chimney for setting the roof blaze.

Sample estimated the loss at $15,000. The building, which went down in 20 minutes, was built in 1909 as part of the Schoolcraft County fairgrounds. The firm was one of Manistique's main industries. Sample said he planned to rebuild.

Wagner Tours for Ike

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—J. Adington Wagner, past national commander of the American Legion, is joining a Vets-for-Ike tour which leaves Washington today. Wagner said he will fill 35 speaking engagements in 32 congressional districts in the week-long trip, which will bring him to Michigan for a series of talks Oct. 30-31.

Steamers Built Indoors

NEW YORK (AP)—A Czechoslovakian shipyard is building river steamers up to 330 feet long on a progressive assembly line, according to the publication, American Machinist. All erection is done indoors, so there are no weather-caused delays.

Put Damper on Tamperers Inventor Igor Too Eager, Russian Wrists Slapped

MOSCOW (INS)—Russians have been warned to stop inventing gadgets already invented in the west. And that goes for tamperers as well as tinkers.

The journal "Questions of History" has finally grounded the official claim that an obscure czarist naval officer built and flew "the world's first airplane"—25 years before the Wrights.

The journal blasted historians and scientific writers who take evidence in order to "credit our nation with discoveries and inventions actually made abroad."

STILL TRYING

But Russian science claims still include, among many, the first jet plane, penicillin, radar, nuclear fission and the steam engine.

Communist Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev reversed a trend early in 1955 when he launched the Soviet corn-growing campaign with an injunction to collectivized farmers to see how they did it out in Iowa.

But 18 months later the trade union newspaper "Trud" finds thousands of Russian inventors and engineers still are grinding away at "many technical problems which have long since been solved" by Westerners.

The situation is, in fact, so bad Russian inventors don't even know what's going on in their own collectivized backyard.

Trud found Moscow's Central Patent Library stacked with world and Russian literature on the latest developments, but with few takers.

Before the war... there was a greater demand for patent information than now... Then—under the influence of a wrong attitude toward foreign know-how—many workers in industry, science and technology forgot the way to the patent library.

TRYING TO HELP

With the urgent Kremlin demand for modernizing production, the press has been crusading for inventors against what is frequently

5 CG Stations Sought by State

Abandoned Sites in UP Offer Docking, Rescue Facilities Along Shore

DETROIT (AP)—The State Waterways Commission disclosed it has asked the federal government for a number of abandoned Coast Guard stations to provide more docking facilities along Michigan shores.

Keith E. Wilson, assistant director of the commission, said the state particularly sought five sites in the Upper Peninsula. They are at Eagle Harbor, Whitefish Point, Hammond Bay, Copper Harbor and Lac La Belle.

The sites have been turned over to the General Services Administration, a federal agency which disposes of government property.

The facilities were used by the Coast Guard as life saving and rescue stations. The sites average about an acre each. They have well constructed docks, launching ramps, boat houses, and living and maintenance buildings.

GOP Tops Straw Vote

PORT HURON (AP)—A downtown merchant who put an electric voting machine in his store said returns indicate a 3-1 trend for Republicans. After four days of balloting, President Eisenhower had 93 votes and Adlai Stevenson 35. Republican Mayor Albert Cobo of Detroit got 90 votes in his bid to unseat Democratic Gov. Williams, who had 35. In the Seventh District congressional race, Republican Robert McIntosh outpolled Democrat Ira McCoy, 38-12.

Science Develops New Tablets Relieves "Hot Flashes," Irritation From Change-of-Life For 8 of 10 Tested—Without Costly Injections

Boston, Mass. (Special)—Medical science now offers women new freedom from much of the misery of change-of-life! You no longer have to face those years with dread. Today you can have relief from "hot flashes," tortured nerves and other functionally-caused distress... thanks to a remarkable tablet developed especially to relieve these discomforts. Doctors report amazing results using this home treatment alone... and no expensive injections. Irritability was calmed. Distress was relieved. Suffocating heat waves subsided. A feeling of "well-being" returned for women after women. 8 out of 10 women tested found complete or striking relief! Unlike aspirin and "general-purpose" remedies, this new formula is a unique combination of special medicines... that acts directly on the cause of these troubles. The new tablet acts through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to relieve the tensed feelings and physical distress that have brought unhappiness to so many homes. Clinical tests prove it has positive medical action. This amazing formula is now sold at drug stores, without a prescription, under the name of "Lydia's Pinkham's Tablets." Developed by the world's largest manufacturer devoted exclusively to women's ailments! Easy-to-take, contain blood-building iron. If you are going through change-of-life, don't let it rob those years of joy. Start taking Pinkham's Tablets at home today. See how fast you can feel your happy self again—without troublesome injections! (Also liquid Lydia's Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

Workers Kick Off Campaign to Raise $612,202

The largest drive in the history of Pontiac Area United Fund has been undertaken by more than 4,500 volunteers.

Beginning with breakfast yesterday at Elks Temple, as the guests of the Pontiac Manufacturers' Association, the Torchlighters began a three-week campaign to raise $612,202, a 9 per cent. increase over last year's figure.

Inspired by keynote speaker Frank O. Stalger, executive secretary of the Michigan Kiwanis, the volunteers prepared to "knock on every door."

Contributors will be asked to dig a little deeper to support the 54 voluntary health, welfare and child-care agencies next year.

Campaign Chairman Walter K. Wilmar introduced Wayne Gabert chairman of special gifts division; Mrs. Ralph G. Bump, geographical division chairman; Harvey Johns, representing Earl Maxwell of the commercial division, and James F. Nye of the commercial division. Camp Fire Girls introduced were Gloria Giddings and Donna Lyson who lighted the torch, which will burn steadily throughout the campaign.

Door-to-door workers for the United Fund are most important to the drive. Mrs. Ben Bowman of Woodbine drive, Mrs. Walter Schlie of Victory court and Mrs. Omer Bullock of Auburn Heights, Three of the women photographed at the breakfast Tuesday are (left to right)

Topic Is United Fund

Toastmistresses Hear Dr. Bussey

Dr. Harold Bussey of the Pontiac "Y" Toastmasters spoke of the United Fund in Pontiac and Oakland County before the Pontiac Toastmistress Club Tuesday at Hotel Waldron.

Mrs. Emil Mailahn gave the invocation. Gertrude Foley, topic mistress, asked each member to tell "How I Plan To Spend the Middle Years." Helen Lapsch won the Oscar for her talk on the subject.

Shirley Doure acted as toastmistress for the evening. Speakers on her program were Mrs. Sidney Olson who spoke on "A Passing Era," Mrs. Norman Sutherland who chose "The Natural Superiority of Women" as her topic, and Mrs. Milton Frost who chose as her topic, "Fascism in Capule Form."

Critics for the evening were Mrs. Robert Bunce, Miss Foley and Mrs. Louis Davidson. Mrs. George Gaches was chief evaluator.

Grammarian was Mrs. J. Wendell Green, tail twister, Mrs. Mailahn and time keeper, Helen Turek. The inspirational close was given by Mrs. Clayton Rule.

Mary Eddy Wears White, Gold for Rite

Mary Eddy became the bride of Daniel R. Veazey in a 6:30 o'clock ceremony Saturday evening at First Presbyterian Church. Two hundred guests witnessed the service.

Mary, of Delaware drive, is the daughter of Mrs. Richard M. Eddy of Fontana, Calif. Daniel is the son of D. R. Veazey of East Iroquois road.

A white nylon lace gown over gold taffeta was worn by the bride. Gold taffeta bands encircled the neckline and skirt. A white feathered headpiece secured the bride's short veil.

Mary's only jewelry was a string of pearls and a pair of pearl earrings. Snowflake chrysanthemums and Eucharist lilies comprised her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Robert G. White of Birmingham, matron of honor, wore gold lace and taffeta and carried rust chrysanthemums. Mrs. Edwin E. Jones and Dione Veazey, sister of the bridegroom, wore gowns of avocado lace over taffeta with gold chrysanthemums.

Beth Ann Brown wore white tulle over gold tulle for her duties as flower girl.

James T. Brown was best man for the service. Ushers were Richard Lucas, Dean Crooni of Oak Park, Robert G. White of Birmingham and Edward Hummel Jr.

Following a reception at Pontiac Country Club, the couple left for a Florida honeymoon by way of the Smoky Mountains.

For traveling, the bride changed to a two-piece tunic dress of brown taffeta with black checks. Her hat was white felt and her accessories were black. A corsage of cymbidium orchids completed her ensemble.

MRS. DANIEL R. VEAZEY

Mary Eddy became the bride of Daniel R. Veazey at First Presbyterian Church Saturday. She is the daughter of Mrs. Richard H. Eddy of Fontana, Calif., and he is the son of D. R. Veazey of East Iroquois road.

Souvenirs Add to Room Decoration

NEW YORK (INS) — Don't hide your travel mementos in your closet—make them part of your decorating scheme of things.

That's the advice of decorator and furniture designer John Abate, who claims that simple things like sea shells make fine mantel decorations, or a fragment of Italian marble might make a nice touch on your coffee table.

Vary your purchases with an eye to decor. Instead of sticking to one type like Venetian glass or Indian silver. And don't pass up objects because they seem too cheap.

Small objects are easier to handle, both in transportation and home decorating.

If you want to display several treasures on a wall, you can do it like this:

Mark out on the floor with string or rules an area similar in size to the wall area, with corresponding light or dark surfaces. Compose objects on the floor, shifting them until they are spaced to your liking.

Stand on a stepladder to study the composition from above. Shift the objects again, if necessary, and measure from your boundaries to determine exact placement.

Symphony Inspires Pride

By DORA DAWSON

The general expression and feeling at the first fall concert of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra last night in Lincoln Junior High School was that Pontiac has an orchestra it may well be proud of.

Under the direction of Francesco DiBlasi, it has been welded into a body of musicians, in its three years of existence, who respond with unity of understanding in score interpretations, with flexible tonal demands and precision of action that is outstanding.

The concert opened with the overture to the "Barber of Seville" by Rossini, gay, spirited and immediately pleasing, a foretaste of more delightful music to come.

Stanley Lock of New York, pianist, was guest soloist. Aside from the fact that he is known by many friends in this area, he came to them again as a very fine artist.

His playing of the Robert Schuman piano concerto with orchestra was a most fascinating, delightful rendition of a great composition. With wonderful technical skill and artistic grace, the playing of the orchestra and pianist seemed like the weaving of a beautiful pattern of lace, now delicate, now bold, themes threading throughout the patterns into a work of extreme beauty.

The number for strings, "La Oracion del Torero," or the prayer of the bullfighter, written by Turina, a Spaniard, and arranged by Mr. DiBlasi, was quite different in character, but lovely in content. It has an illusive quality and simplicity that makes an attractive program number.

From "The Damnation of Faust" by Berlioz, a delicate waltz movement called "The Dance of the Sylphs" and the "Rakoczy March," based on an old Hungarian national theme, rhythmic and colorful, in which the brass and woodwinds played a fine part, brought the concert to an enthusiastic close.

Last-minute call to breakfast was Myrtle Avenue. She was among 500 called by Mrs. Arthur Kinney of volunteers who attended the Tuesday event.

News From Bloomfield Hills

Metamora Hunt 'Beagle Ball' Saturday Will Attract Guests From Out of Town

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Out at Metamora Saturday there will be several out-of-town guests at the morning hunt and at the "Beagle Ball" which will be given that evening.

Bloomfield Open Hunt had its first formal hunt of the season Saturday, followed by a breakfast. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Havermale, Mr. and Mrs. G. Fred Morris and Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Wilson were breakfast hosts.

Mrs. Graham J. Graham of both Bloomfield Open and Metamora Hunt Clubs will go to New York next week with Mrs. Butler Higbie and Mrs. J. Deane Rucker of Grosse Pointe to attend the opening Tuesday in Madison Square Garden of the National Horse Show. Mrs. Rucker has a horse entered.

After some theatergoing in New York, the trio will go to Toronto for the Royal Horse Show there early in November.

Mrs. Basil E. Denning (Toni) of London, England, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William T. Gossett of Goodhue road.

Toni's husband, Lt. Denning of the Royal Navy, is on duty at Norfolk, Va., for the next fortnight. Mrs. Denning will join him there following her visit here.

TO HOST DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Scripps of Bennington drive will entertain at dinner Saturday evening for Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Twyman, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Slaughter and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Flint.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald U. Bathrick, who formerly lived in Birmingham, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Walter O. Briggs Jr. of Martell drive. They left for their home last week.

Mrs. Frank McCartney of Austin, Tex., is expected next week for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver K. Kelley of Woodberry Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy G. Vandeveer are planning a dinner party Nov. 10 in their home on Sussex Rd.

Jean Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Butler of Lake Angelus, has been pledged to Collegiate Sorosis at the University of Michigan.

Jean was graduated from Kingswood School Cranbrook in June. She will come from Ann Arbor this weekend to attend Homecoming at Kingswood and Cranbrook Schools.

Also home this weekend will be her former classmates, "Gigi" Underhill and Judy Frost, who now attend Northwestern University.

Check Label for the Best Buy in Store

Major investment in any school wardrobe is a coat which will see the young fry smartly through a long, hard season, from snowballs to Sunday School.

Mom will be wise, therefore, if she examines fabric labels carefully, selects a sturdy wool or a proven blend that will stand the gaff, dark enough not to show soil easily, cut on the simple lines that always are best for school girls.

This fall there are some new wrinkles in the school coat lineup. Lines are narrower than last year, usually sloping gently from the shoulders, slightly wider at the hemline. Dark, rich colors are the tops, with brown and black combinations high in favor.

There's a dark chocolate brown that is particularly good in classic alpaca coats, while dark muted plaids also are important.

The new coats may be either fitted or loose, both styles being equally smart. Linings take on new interest this year, also. There are many million linings, giving all-weather comfort. Sometimes a contrasting lining is used, with a scarf to match. Hooded coats are all over the place for winter, as the younger set catches up with the sports-car trend.

Chesterfields, feeders and the perennial boy-coats are still top favorites for the school crowd, who are inclined to like them.

Fashion Hint

There's a great difference between the new softness in fashions and the cute ruffles of years ago. Suits have soft necklines, chiffon blouses, and softened, more wearable skirts. Dresses have softly draped lines.

MR. and MRS. ROBERT DORKING Couple Married Saturday

Bonnie Jean Viney became the bride of Robert Dorking Saturday in a ceremony at Municipal Court. Judge Maurice Finnegan performed the service.

Mrs. Isabelle Viney of Baldwin avenue and Albert Viney of Cherrywood road are parents of the bride. Robert's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rex Dorking of South Jessie street.

For the 10 o'clock ceremony, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of lace over satin with a round neckline and long sleeves. She also wore a corsage of roses.

A navy blue dress and a corsage of pink roses were worn by bride attendant Wanda Carter. William Dorking attended the bridegroom.

The bride changed to a navy blue dress trimmed with white lace when the newlyweds left on their wedding trip. They will make their home on South Jessie street.

Bonnie Jean Viney and Robert Dorking were married Saturday. She is the daughter of Mrs. Isabelle Viney of Baldwin avenue and Albert Viney of Cherrywood road. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rex Dorking of South Jessie street.

Meeting, Party Held by Eunice Philathea

Twenty-seven members of Eunice Philathea Class of First Baptist Church gathered Monday evening for the regular meeting and a Halloween party. The Rev. William Hakes presented devotion.

Musical selections were presented by Donna Hirsch, Norma McGlothlin and Shirley Dobson, accompanied by Mrs. C. B. Payne at the piano.

Costume Dance Set

Reservations are being taken for the Halloween costume dance at Birmingham Country Club Saturday. Dinner will be served from 7 to 10 p.m., with dancing from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. Prizes will be awarded for original costumes.

SANDRA LEE QUICK Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Quick of Rochester announce the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Lee, to Michael Smith. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith of Scottswood avenue. No date has been set for the wedding.

Opportunity Is Found Everywhere

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"There's no opportunity here." How often we hear that expression! People give it as a reason for moving from a town, for changing jobs, for plodding along unhappily in the same old job, or for feeling sorry for themselves for life.

Of course, if you can't find opportunity where you are, the chances are you'll never find it anywhere.

And if you're the opportunity type, you'll find it in the most unlikely places.

Barbara, a reader of mine in a town in Indiana, is an example.

SMALL BOOKSHOP
She works in the town's only bookshop, a new one which has been in existence just under a year.

"I'm the only employee," Barbara writes, "and the owner is a nice retired college professor. I love the job, but after the first three or four months it began to look as if the shop was going to fail."

"Our town just wasn't in the book-buying habit."

"We have plenty of people who could afford to buy books, but they somehow don't think of it."

"The small college in town—where the professor used to teach—brings some business, from students and professors. But the trouble was, there weren't enough of them to keep us going."

"No opportunity here," plenty of girls would have said and gone elsewhere. But not Barbara.

HOBBY BOOKS

"I talked to my boss," she told me, "and asked if we could do some promotion. I did one window on hobby books, and tied it in with the adult education program at the high school. We did a roaring business in books on woodworking, ceramics, jewelry making and such."

"Then," she continues, "I took the big step."

"I suggested that I do book review programs, for free, in the clubs around town. I did one at the FTA and we sold a good many of our child psychology books. I did one at a businessmen's lunch club and we sold a lot of books on retirement planning."

"Now the women's club has asked me to do a regular monthly book chat and I know we'll sell some of our novels and current books."

"Little by little, people in this town are getting to be book-conscious and the habit of buying books is staying with them!"

Next time you find yourself complaining about lack of opportunity, face the fact that it's you yourself who have the lack, not the job or the town or anything else!

Jumper Outfits for Girl Jumper

NEW YORK (NEA)—Most mothers (and doting relatives) like the way a small girl looks in a jumper dress, but dislike the way the blouse and jumper tend to separate once the child starts jumping.

In the fall collection of the designer Celeste, this problem has been solved in two ways. The first is the jumper to be worn with a blouse that's attached to its own flared petticoat. Blouse and petticoat make up a dress which may be worn alone.

The second version is a jumper-dress. This is a jumper worn over a little dress in contrasting color. The dress can be worn separately or with other things. Both combinations make for a neat, tidy look.

That Choice Fruit Cake's Here Again!

Mrs. Swanson Uses Nut Stuffed Dates for Holiday Loaf

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor
Yesterday we gave you a recipe for a light fruit cake. Today's recipe is also for a fruit cake, one that has become a favorite in the Pontiac area. It's Mrs. Dale Swanson's Brazil Nut Fruitcake.

This recipe has been published several times before now. Mrs. Swanson gave this family recipe first to Mrs. Seiden when she was Food Editor. We hope some new homemakers will try it this year.

BRAZIL NUT FRUIT CAKE

By Mrs. Dale Swanson
2 pounds pitted dates
1 pound Brazil nut meats
1 pound English walnut meats, kept whole
1 cup red and green candied cherries
1/2 cup sifted flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Fill each pitted date with a Brazil nut. Put fruit and nuts in a bowl and add flour, sugar, salt, baking powder and melted butter. Add well beaten eggs and work together thoroughly. Line tins with waxed paper; this is important. You may use bread tins. Pour in batter. Bake one hour in a 325-degree oven. Makes 2 loaves. Keeps indefinitely.

SAGINAW AT WARREN, PONTIAC

Catherine Louise Walter and Patrick Dennis Scott were married Saturday. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William N. Walter of Lake Orion and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Scott of East Rutgers avenue.

MRS. PATRICK DENNIS SCOTT

Catherine Walter Speaks Vows in Lake Orion Rite

The Rev. George E. Gling of Dawn Walter, niece of the bride, St. Joseph Catholic Church, Lake Orion, officiated at the Saturday wedding of Catherine Louise Walter and Patrick Dennis Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. William N. Walter of Lake Orion are parents of the bride, and Patrick's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Scott of East Rutgers avenue.

For the ceremony, attended by 300 guests, the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace over satin with a round neckline and long sleeves. The bouffant skirt extended into a chapel train.

A seed pearl crown secured her fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried white fugi chrysanthemums and a white rosary.

Patricia Walter was maid of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Eileen Scott, sister of the bridegroom, and Marian Squires, Adele Gallor and Dolores Neira of Lake Orion.

The maid of honor wore a light green tulle gown with accents of dark green velvet. The bridesmaids wore shantung gowns in light brown tulle with dark brown accents.

Sweater Guys Will Show Up in Numbers

Prediction: You'll see as many sweater guys as sweater gals this season.

The reason is that the sweater has gained the stature of a fashion item this year.

The boom in tweeds and the interest the whole population is showing in dressing right for leisure activities has given the sweater a boost. Comfort, color and casualness are what men want and what the sweater has to offer.

The traditional V-neck will be just as popular as ever, but the revival of interest in the sweater stems from such items as the crew-neck accented stripes, the new bulky-knits and, newest of all, the styled-up cardigan.

In bulky knits, heavy wool yarns are new. The new "tweed" sweaters are used for extra warm outdoor sweaters and in loosely woven sweaters they are used to give the bulky, athletic look, but less warmth and weight.

The brand new cardigan comes in any color you can name—patterned of plain—with novel trim, pockets, detailing.

The profile hat flatters the profile and is becoming to all ages. Extravagance on the tall side is not so easy to wear particularly in stiff rather than soft fabric. The face veil is back.

Teener Hint: Accessories Need Care

Hats, Gloves, Hose Should Be Bought With Some Thought

Hats, gloves and stockings lie unused for weeks in most teenagers' closets and drawers.

It's not that teenagers don't know how to get dressed up—it's just that they haven't much occasion. The girl who wears gloves to the movies looks ostentatious in some communities. A hat does duty for church and trips to town, but there's no need for it on school days.

For this reason, a teen-ager should buy these items—hats, gloves and stockings—with great care. They won't wear out soon, with the little use they get, and there should be no necessity for frequent replacement of these items.

Hats, or a hat, should be classic and conservative. A beanie with a face on top may be a fine joke, but it won't do to wear to a wedding. The color should go with most of the dressy clothes in a girl's wardrobe.

Some short-budgeted girls wisely select only brown, or only navy blue, or only black for their accessorizing color. This would condition the hat color.

Two pair of gloves will generally get you by, if they're washed after each wearing. A black pair and a white pair will do it. They should be plain cotton or nylon, without any fancy-work at all, if this is the entire wardrobe.

Seed pearls may be pretty on black gloves, but they are out of place at a funeral. Short or long doesn't matter too much, as length depends on the generally worn sleeve length.

Stockings, if infrequently worn, should be all the same color and weight. A real stocking wardrobe runs into money and if one seldom wears them, it's a needless expense. Buy six pair all alike, if that's to be the total.

Wives Use Other Names to Describe Fault-Finding

They Usually Consider Their Nagging Helpful and Constructive

By RUTH MILLETT
Is fault-finding the most destructive habit a wife can have? One of my men readers claims it is.

BPW Club Entertained on Tuesday

Mrs. Fritz Stoddard was hostess to members of the Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club and guests at her home on Ottawa drive Tuesday evening.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Janet Dow, Mrs. Frank Stout, Mrs. Charles Barrett, Mrs. R. Sanford Craft, Mrs. D. R. Wilson and Roberta Tobin.

Presiding at the tea table laid with a lace cloth and centered with a fall flower arrangement flanked by lighted tapers were Vera Bassett and Mrs. Dow.

For the program Mrs. Stoddard presented several readings. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Craft and Jane Danton for unusual costumes.

Guests attending the affair were Mrs. Elbert Wilmet, Mrs. Evelyn Rivard, Mrs. John Elason, Mrs. L. A. Young, Janice Antona, Alberta and Judy Taylor.

Soak in Hot Bath if Muscles Ache

Muscles ache from an overdose of activity? Climb into a tub of very warm water, whip up mounds of nice thick soapsuds, then lie back and soak.

There's no pleasanter treatment for muscles that are tired and sore from excessive or unaccustomed exercise. Keep the bath warm by adding more hot water gradually.

Allow plenty of time for this comforting soak, and you'll feel like new next day.

"A wife will drive her husband away from her quicker by constantly finding fault with him than by anything else she might do," he says.

But telling women that doesn't do much good. For the woman who is forever finding fault with her husband doesn't put that label on it.

When she finds fault with the way he does a job around the house, she thinks she is merely setting him straight on a matter she knows more about than he does.

When she criticizes the way he handles a business matter, she feels she is just giving him the benefit of her opinion.

A LITTLE AMBITION

When she keeps after him to get a better job or ask for a promotion, she doesn't think it is fault-finding. She is, in her own mind simply trying to give him a little ambition.

When she nags him about putting things away around the house, keeping his feet off the sofa or hanging up his clothes, she feels she is just teaching him things his mother neglected to teach him while he was growing up.

When she criticizes the way he acted at last night's party or tries to improve his manners, she considers herself a helpful wife.

No woman would be a fault-finder if she knew she was being one.

The reason some wives act that way is because they have other names for their fault-finding.

Unfortunately, the husbands don't.

PTA Activities

Linda Vista School PTA will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the school. Improvisation plays by parents and teachers on new consultation method of progress of children will be the program.

Group Has Hayride
Members and guests of Alpha Sigma Nu recently held a hayride at the Highland Recreation Area Monday. The group was served refreshments at the Highland Recreation Hall by hostesses Alice Helvey, Joy Mitchell and Eva Bayles. Square dancing was enjoyed by the group.

2,000 Expected to Attend St. Benedict Beef Dinner

Women of St. Benedict Church are expecting to serve 2,000 roast beef dinners Sunday at their 11th annual roast beef dinner and Fall Festival being held in the Parish Hall. Dinner will be served from noon until 6 p.m.

Proceeds from the dinner will be used to furnish the newly completed eighth grade room at St. Benedict School, added in September to complete the elementary school.

Besides the dinner, there will be a sale of handmade aprons being donated by women from the seven guilds of the parish. Athletic shirts will also be sold for the youngsters.

Parish women under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ralph Cotcher have divided the jobs of cooking and serving into three-hour shifts. Assisting Mrs. Cotcher are Mrs. Earl McHugh and Mrs. Allen Neville.

Hostesses for the day are Mrs. Lee Thomas, Mrs. James L. Brown, Mrs. F. H. Grady, Mrs. Michael E. Daniels and Mrs. Donald Raymond.

Mrs. Herman Charbonneau, Mrs. Wayne Miller, Mrs. Ivan Herr, Mrs. Vera Crake, Mrs. William Swanson, Mrs. John Gottschalk and Mrs. Paride Nhoetti are table captains for serving.

They will work under Mrs. Roy M. Jones and Mrs. Leon Thomas, dining room chairmen.

In charge of the kitchen is Paul Whitte assisted by James L. Brown, Angus McDonald, Thomas Clifton, Joseph Campanello and E. A. Latendresse.

Victorian Furniture Finished in Colors

CHICAGO (INS)—Victorian furniture is going pastel for 1956. Pink, blue and green finishes on normally mahogany Victorian chair appeared at the International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago.

The pastels were used in tone-on-tone effects: the pink-painted chairs had velvet upholstery in darker rose, the pale blue chairs were covered in deep blue velvet, and the light green chairs had deeper green covers.

Soroptimists Hear Talk on UF Drive

William Anderson of the United Fund Speakers Bureau spoke on the current United Fund campaign at the Monday evening meeting of Soroptimist International of Pontiac held at Hotel Waldron.

Dr. Maurice Thome also addressed members on "Rumor-Clipping," illustrating his talk with pictures showing how rumors change with repeating. The speaker stressed the importance of checking stories before repeating them.

Plans are now completed for the 11th annual roast beef dinner and Fall Festival of St. Benedict Church being held Sunday at the Parish Hall. Shown checking the details are (left to right) Mrs. David St. Dennis of Boston avenue, Darwin G. Simpson of South Avery road, Mrs. R. W. Cotcher of South Tilden avenue and the Rev. Richard W. Thomas, pastor of St. Benedict Church.

Variety Keynotes Holiday Garb for Hostesses

NEW YORK—Clothes for at-home holiday wear can take much the shape you prefer this year.

If you like tapered pants but don't feel that you're the type for them, you can pick from separates that are imaginative and that give you the flattery of a wide, swishy skirt.

Pants have finally reached the point of really good line in design. True, they've gone through awkward stages; too wide, too tight, too tapered, too uncomfortable.

Women complained that they looked fine standing up but they found it impossible to sit down in them. What amounts very nearly to an engineering feat has produced the tapered slack, designed for both grace and comfort.

The wide skirt for holiday wear often gets its own companion in the way of a coordinated sweater or jersey top. Skirt fabric may be used as trim for the top or the skirt color may be borrowed for satin or jeweled trim.

The Russian look, expressed in cross-hatched tunics or jackets that curve over the bosom, cling tightly at the waist and bell out over the hips, over a stem-slim sheath, is the perfect silhouette for your statuesque type.

Michael Secoy of Westlawn avenue models one of the athletic shirts to be sold at the St. Benedict Fall Festival Sunday from noon until 6 p.m. With him are Armand J. Maloney of West Huron street and Mrs. William Ford of South Genesee avenue. Mrs. Ford is showing one of the fancy aprons to be sold at the affair.

Something Accomplished New Party Ideas Helpful

New party ideas help perk up dreary days, and a new record case may be easily toted to any party. It holds 60-45 r.p.m. records. Index numbers come with the case and make it easy to use. It is molded in the shape of the records.

Speaking of records and parties, one rage this last season was a language party. French, Spanish, Italian and what-have-you is spoken by a group when they are together and even parties are tied into the theme.

At one such French party the girls served french bread, cheese and fruit and talked French all evening. They played language records that permit an easy method of teaching.

Another way to pass the time pleasantly until social life comes into full swing is to revive the pal in school colors, striped or patched. Or make the background of the quilt a solid color with a school pennant applied to the cover. Aunt Mary might enjoy having some motif applied to her quilt that plays up her favorite hobby. If she likes the theater, you might do tragedy and comedy masks.

Exercise Keeps Heart in Condition

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Moderate exercise helps keep the heart in good condition. It seems strange that the heart needs exercise when we know that it does enough work every 24 hours to lift a 10 to 15-ton weight to a height of 5 or 6 feet.

Here are some other things which exercise will do. It speeds up metabolism, stimulates circulation and perspiration, improves body tone and nourishment. It relieves nervous tension and improves elimination.

Consistent daily exercise also can raise low blood pressure. It builds up our joints and keeps us supple. It helps carry away waste materials.

The following exercise will strengthen the muscles of the torso: Lie on the floor on your back with your knees bent and your feet flat on the floor. Raise the hips from the floor so that the body weight is supported by the shoulders and the feet.

While in this position contract the muscles of the abdomen and the hips. Hold for a few seconds. Release. Contract and hold. Continue. Lower hips to the floor. Rest and repeat.

SPLENDID EXERCISE

The following exercise is splendid for the back muscles. Lie on the floor on your abdomen, legs straight, arms stretched out in front of you. Raise your head, left arm, and your right leg from the floor. Reach up!

Lower arm, leg and head to the floor. This time raise your head, right arm and left leg from the floor and reach up. Continue, alternating. Do this exercise slowly.

If you would like to have my back exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 16 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "Exercise Helps Woman to Be Beautiful at Middle Age."

Naturalness Key to Good Portrait

The prettiest of portraits is a failure unless it looks like you. The usual reaction to a photo only faintly resembling its subject is, "This must have been taken a long time ago."

So for perfect studio naturalism and poise, do be sure that your hairstyle, makeup and clothes are the ones in which you are at ease.

If you're going to have a home permanent, schedule it a day or so before your appointment. This will give you time to get used to your new curls and to groom them to perfection. If you have wispy-ends, use a tip-curl permanent to restore the spring and manageability to your coil.

This is splendid for the back muscles. Continue, alternating arms and legs. Reach upward from this position. Con-

Opera Enthusiasts Gather for Brunch

Key workers of the Women's Committee for the Detroit Grand Opera Association gathered for brunch Tuesday at the home of Mrs. John S. French on Lasher road.

Color Accents Men's Knitwear

Leading styles in men's knitwear fashion parade are Scandinavian inspired designs in bright colors.

One smart looking model is the off-white bulky knit wool with brown and black narrow panel design on the chest and down the sleeves from neck to wrist. Another is a beige wool with design in rust extending in a "V" from shoulder tips to center front.

Bright red comes into its own in knitwear as does orange and hunter green. Combinations of black with brown and blue with brown are also top color choices. Subtle color combinations come in for their share of the spotlight, too, with emphasis on interesting details instilling—right for the casual, but well-dressed, at home look.

Carlisle Floyd, whose opera, "Susannah," will be performed on Nov. 11 at 2:30 p.m. in the Detroit Masonic Temple, addressed those attending the brunch.

"Susannah" will be presented in place of "The Tempest" originally scheduled.

Through Erich Leinsdorf, director of the New York City Opera Company, "Susannah" was presented for the first time in New York early this month. There it was received with much acclaim from music critics.

In the title role will be a favorite in this area, Phyllis Curtin, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera.

Assisting the hostess at the Tuesday gathering were Mrs. Vincent Van Fleet and Mrs. C. Norman Fry. Mrs. Walker A. Williams, chairman of the Women's Committee, had charge of the program.

Others participating were Mrs. William S. Edwards, Mrs. Victor Z.

Brink, Mrs. Robert Barit, Mrs. James O. Wright, Mrs. Barney Clark, Mrs. William H. McGaugh, Mrs. Matthew Cammareri and Mrs. Roy T. Hawkinson.

Virginia Scott Becomes Bride in Farmington Rite

Our Lady of Sorrows Church in Farmington was the setting for the Saturday wedding of Virginia V. Scott and Eugene J. Curcio.

Virginia is the daughter of Mrs. Lula B. Scott of Norton avenue and Eugene is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curcio of Farmington.

As she approached the altar, the bride was wearing a floor-length gown fashioned with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace. Rows of tulle ruffling and inserts of lace accented the skirt of the gown.

Her veil of French illusion was secured by a tiara of iridescent, and her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried a semi-cascade of orchids and stephanotis.

For her duties of honor attendant, Edith Woelker wore a shrimp-colored gown of crystalet with matching accessories. Her bouquet was of Rapture roses.

Alice Geck and Rose Mary Curcio, sister of the bridegroom, were the bridesmaids. Their gowns were fashioned identically to the honor attendant's in aqua crystallet, and they carried arrangements of tawny gold roses.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Virgel Woelker performed the duties of best man. Ushers were the bride, and Charles Curcio, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Scott received her guests at the reception following the wedding wearing a beige lace dress with dark brown accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Curcio chose a silver gray dress with turquoise accessories for her son's wedding. Her corsage was also of cymbidium orchids.

For a honeymoon trip through the East, the new Mrs. Curcio wore a blue and white checked suit with navy blue accessories and the orchid from her bridal

Curtain Party Given by Clarice Graves

The Playcrafters of Pontiac High School, including the cast and committee of the recent Children's Theater production, "All Baba," held a curtain party at the home of Clarice Graves Friday evening. Forty guests enjoyed refreshments and dancing. Mary Parrish, dramatics instructor, and her assistant, Mrs. Joseph Medrano, received gifts from the group.

Aunt Hurt by Bride's Behavior

Niece Doesn't Hide Her Annoyance at Intrusion

By EMILY POST

"My niece, aged 19, was married recently in another town about 35 miles from here. As we didn't know how traffic would be, we left rather early to drive to the wedding.

"We arrived about an hour before the time set for the ceremony. As it was too early to go to the church, we stopped off at my sister's house. The bride was in her room getting dressed.

"I went into the bedroom to see her and speak to her for a few minutes. She seemed quite surprised to see me and said, 'You shouldn't be here, you should be at the church.' I was never so hurt in all my life and thought her very rude.

"My husband says I was wrong to have gone in in the first place. Perhaps I was wrong, but I still feel her rudeness was a greater breach of etiquette.

"I have always been very close to this niece and thought the least she could do was to see me for a few minutes. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: I am sorry not to be able to approve what you did; I have to agree with your husband. It is unfair of you to feel hurt at the bride's actions, because just before the wedding is a time of such confusion.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The invitations to my daughter's wedding have been sent out. An invitation was sent to my niece who lost her husband three months ago.

"This morning I received a telephone call from her, telling me in no uncertain terms how wrong I was to send her an invitation knowing that she was in mourning. I feel terrible about this and would like to know if I was wrong to have sent her an invitation."

Answer: You would have been excused if you hadn't sent one, but your sending was not wrong. A person in deepest mourning can certainly go to the church service.

Old Pot-O-Gold Is Just Waiting for Right Entry

Worth $300, it last week's puzzle goes unanswered, Pot-O-Gold No. 21 is just sitting here waiting for the correct solution to be sent in. You might be the one to empty its contents into your own pockets, so take a look at the rules and clues below, and mail your entry as soon as possible . . . on a postcard.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain 5 signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, 5 and all letters in that circle must be used. The 5 sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conform to these clues. Use your 5 signs to help you spell out the right words.

If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.
6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.
7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.
8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keepers of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.
9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.
10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

India Advances Suez Proposal

Revised Plan Based on Cooperation Between Egypt, Users Group

NEW DELHI, India — India set forth today a proposed Suez settlement based on cooperation between the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority and "a users association."

A government spokesman said the plan has been broached to the parties concerned by India's roving ambassador V. K. Krishna Menon during his recent trips to Cairo, London and United Nations headquarters in New York.

The spokesman declined to say whether any country concerned had accepted the Indian plan.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd hinted in London that Britain might accept a compromise settlement of the Suez dispute if the interests of users nations were safeguarded by Egypt.

The Indian proposal closely resembled the recently passed U.N. Security Council resolution. It was based on the convention of 1883 under which the waterway had been operated until Egyptian President Nasser nationalized it July 26.

Australian trade unionists are campaigning for an end to nuclear tests.

Cassopolis Test Pilot Makes Good

Describes Highest Flight to Home Town

CASSOPOLIS — Capt. Iven Kincheloe Jr., who has flown higher than any other man, says it's "like riding a projectile without any controls."

Kincheloe described his recent record flight in the Bell X2 rocket plane at a testimonial dinner Monday night. He has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Kincheloe, who own a 240-acre farm near Cassopolis.

"For a few seconds I was outside the atmosphere where the plane's controls don't mean anything," he said. "I was just riding it until I got down into the air where I could use the controls."

Kincheloe is permitted by security regulations only to say he has flown higher than any other man. But other sources report he flew the X2 some 126,000 feet, nearly 24 miles, above the ground.

SUN WAS DIM

He said the sky above him was dark blue—almost black—and the sun a white spot that was not bright.

"I could see the curvature of the earth and about 400 square miles, but the haze layer prevented me from seeing more," he said.

Kincheloe, 28, says 2,000 other men helped make his flight possible.

He said the day before the flight he was told he was to pilot the X2 to an altitude record.

"It was actually a routine meeting," he said. "We went over a check list that has 2,000 items on it, like we do for every flight."

Before the flight itself, Kincheloe and 150 ground crew members checked 4,000 items on the plane. Once off the ground, he goes over another check list with 2,000 items. "Nothing is left to chance," he said.

5 MINUTES OF FUEL

The X2 was fitted into the belly of a B50 mother ship, which carried it to 35,000 feet before dropping it. The rocket ship is powered by a mixture of water, alcohol and liquid oxygen that lasts only four to five minutes.

"There is so much power that I climb nearly vertically when they let me off," Kincheloe said. "When I'm above 50,000 or 60,000 feet, I'm just part of a projectile flying in a big arc. But men with radar are telling me where I am."

Kincheloe said he had to memorize on the ground every action he would take in the air. "I had to report what I saw outside," he explained, "and I only had a second or so to look out because I had a lot of other things to do."

He said he hurtled back from the altitude peak and at about 50,000 feet, two chase planes gave him directions for landing.

"You can only see straight ahead in the X2 and we need help in landing," he said.

Kincheloe came down on the 65-square mile Muroc Dry Lake and skidded two miles before coming to a stop.

RADAR BREAKS NEWS

"I didn't know exactly how high I had flown for several hours," he said. "Then I got the reports from the radar and other tracking devices."

As for being excited about the new record, he says:

"I was happy because I had proved what I knew could be done."

Jeans Studied in Triple Killing

Find 3 Pairs on Bridge, May Belong to Youths Slain in Chicago.

CHICAGO (AP) — Three pairs of boys' blue jeans were found yesterday on a highway bridge north of Chicago. Cook County deputy sheriffs began checking the possibility they might belong to three Chicago schoolboys brutally murdered a year ago.

The worn and stained jeans were about the right size to fit Robert Peterson, John and Anton Schuster, whose nude bodies were found in a wooded area on Chicago's northwest edge Oct. 18, 1955.

No trace of the boys' clothing had been found in the year's futile search for their slayers.

Associated Press Reporter Earl Aykroid saw the jeans stretched out on the walkway of a small bridge on Route 58 near Morton Grove. The bridge crosses an unnamed brook.

Aykroid said all three trousers showed evidence of hard wear. One bore unidentified reddish stains. One pair had a size 16 tag. The other two were smaller.

Descriptions of clothing worn at the time the three boys disappeared said Peterson, 14, wore a size 16 pair of jeans; John, 15, and his brother, Anton, 11, wore size 14.

Cook County Highway Police began checking articles found in one pair of jeans. These included a fragment from an Oct. 14, 1956, horse show and a slip of paper bearing two Evanston, Ill., telephone numbers.

The program fragment indicated the horse show was limited to regular patrons of the Don Peebles Stables, Inc., a riding academy less than a mile from where the jeans were found.

The Schuster brothers and the Peterson boy were last seen alive Sunday, Oct. 16, 1955, when they left together, presumably for a movie. Their nude and strangled bodies were found in a forest preserve two days later. Authorities said there was evidence the Peterson boy, at least, had fought desperately before he died.

A United States Senator Looks at Russia

Soviet Citizens Under Iron Thumb of Secret Police

(This is the third in a series of articles by U. S. Senator Henry M. Jackson, (D-Wash.) based on his recent trip through the Soviet Union and the Middle East.)

By HENRY M. JACKSON
United States Senator (D-Wash.)
(Distributed by INS)

No sinister, bearded figure in black cape followed us around the Soviet Union.

But that does not mean we were not kept under surveillance in more subtle ways — by our chauffeurs, hotel employees, guides for Intourist (the official Soviet travel agency), and the like.

One comical event serves to illustrate the point.

Five of us — a driver, a guide, my interpreter, my military aide, and I — drove up to a collective farm.

The manager of the collective rushed to our car, completely ignored the rest of us and almost tripped clicking his heels and saluting the driver.

It didn't take much imagination to realize who in our crowd was the MVD (secret police) agent.

The foreigner travels only through Intourist. He is limited as to the cities he may visit, and even as to areas within a city. An Intourist guide or chauffeur is with him at all times except for brief street walks and other rare instances.

It must be remembered that it is difficult for even the Soviet citizen to travel in his own country, unless he is a high party or government official. In order to move from city to city one must have, in effect, a passport.

The result is complete control over the citizenry, so complete that residents of one town often may know little or nothing of what is going on in a neighboring town.

Foreigners, like ourselves, had to surrender our passports at each stop. We would not get them back until we were ready to leave the city. And we could not get out of the city without our passports.

In the face of this frightening control, our party was surprisingly successful in talking to Soviet citizens on the street and in restaurants without an Intourist guide or, as far as we knew, an MVD agent eavesdropping.

We were able to determine that, since the debunking of Stalin, there is a dim dawning of freedom of thought and expression.

Stalin, incidentally, is dying a slow death. The official debunking policy has not reached many parts of the Soviet Union. We were in several government offices, in outlying parts of the U.S.S.R., where the only picture on the wall was of Stalin.

There is no question, however, but what the present government is engaged in a large-scale program to destroy the myth of Stalin.

Dallas Officials Fire Rainmaker

Drought-Plagued City Finds Clouds Too Scanty for 'Seeding'

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — The city of Dallas has fired its rainmaker in the midst of the worst drought on record.

Mayor R. L. Thornton, who announced the action to the City Council, said he dropped Dr. Irving P. Krick from the $35,000 a year post because the severe drought has reduced the flow of rain clouds favorable for seeding.

A Fort Worth official said that nearby city also would cancel its contract with Krick when it expires in November.

Mayor Thornton said: "Since we cannot accurately forecast the duration of the drought we can see no useful purpose in the continued seeding of clouds until the advent of a cycle of more normal rain clouds and rainfall."

Krick has collected more than $150,000 from the city since it first hired him in May, 1953.

You see first-hand evidence of this when you visit the museum containing the home in which Stalin was born in Gori. A year ago, I am told by persons who visited then, there were good-sized crowds. When we visited the museum there was only one other individual in sight.

A large new building designed to house other of Stalin's effects stands unfinished and vacant. There has been no work on it for several months.

Americans should not be surprised to learn that this country is considered by many Russians as something less than a shrine of freedom.

But I was surprised to hear the numerous objections to the American custom of fingerprinting. The question came up several times, generally in connection with our expressed hope that the Russian we happened to be talking to could visit America.

Without exception the Russians would object to the requirement that he be fingerprinted in order to enter this country.

We pointed out that fingerprinting is a common practice in America and serves a useful purpose in identifying not only criminals but also those persons, such as war dead, who otherwise might not be identifiable.

We pointed out that everyone who has served in our armed forces has been fingerprinted—50 million to date.

Every Russian I talked with, however, wanted to know all about America. It was difficult to talk to them about their country, they kept us so busy answering questions about ours.

Besides the tight control the Communist masters hold over the Russian people through secret police and travel restrictions, they also play on the national pride of the people. There are, of course, numerous monuments to the glorious dead of World War II, which is referred to as the great patriotic war.

These did not surprise us. What did surprise us was glorification of the Czar of old.

In the Kremlin museum, inside the very walls of the Kremlin, royal coaches and other reminders of the past and the representative of the periods of their greatest rulers—regal gowns, glorification of the past and the Communist goals of today.

Poles Want Total Freedom Exiled Leader Warns

LONDON (INS) — The president of the Polish government in exile said today the people of Poland never will be satisfied until they are completely free of Communist control whether it be of the Russian or Tito variety.

Declaring 95 per cent of Poland is Roman Catholic, anticommunist and anti-Russian, August Zaleski said the people have been forced to suffer Communist rule for 11 years because the slightest movement toward freedom has been brutally suppressed.

Zaleski said the Communist system in Poland has been a complete failure in the political, economic and social fields.

"Therefore," he said, "the Poles took advantage of the differences which have sprung up in the midst of the Russian Communist party since the death of Stalin.

FIGHTS DISCONTENT

"I believe Gomulka (Wladyslaw Gomulka, head of the new Polish regime) now is trying to save Communist rule in Poland by promising reforms and a certain degree of independence from Soviet Russia hoping this might pacify the population for the time being," he said.

Zaleski said Gomulka is a good Communist trying to persuade Russia his policy is the only one which may save communism in Poland.

"However," Zaleski said, "it is by no means certain that he will succeed."

Zaleski said it is "obvious" there are differences of opinion in the Kremlin about Gomulka's course but the Russians intend to show a united front. As evidence he pointed out Party Chief Nikita Khrushchev was accompanied Friday to Warsaw by V. M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich, two pro-Stalinists in the Politburo.

Zaleski said:

"It is difficult to foresee what could be the outcome of the present crisis but one must bear in mind that Poland is in the difficult geographical position of being surrounded on all sides by Communist-dominated countries."

He said there is no doubt the Polish nation "will not be satisfied with anything short of complete independence."

FREEDOM LATER

"Unfortunately, however, it is unlikely the present crisis can achieve this purpose," he said.

"If it can bring any amelioration of the situation for the Polish population and mitigate exploitation of the country by Soviet Russia, free Poles will be gratified but will continue to work for complete independence of the country," Zaleski said.

Zaleski also said so far as the free world is concerned "the ordeal in Poland is one more proof Poland will submit neither to foreign domination nor Communist rule."

He added it is important that the free world "lend the Poles all possible aid in order to help them prove they will not tolerate the rule of Russian Communist imperialism... whether it takes the form of direct Communist control or Titolism."

Howard Johnson Among Items in Planned Area; OK 80 New Homes

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A residential and a commercial development were given temporary approval when the Township Board met Monday evening.

Both are subject to approval of roadways, water systems, proper drainage and percolation tests.

The residential plat approved was for Watkins Hills No. 3 which will eventually contain some eighty homes and connect with Watkins Hills No. 1 and No. 2.

The commercial development approved is the Loon Lake project which will have a Howard Johnson restaurant, two gas stations, several stores, and eight terraces of the permanent-resident type.

Joseph Mancinelli, low bidder for the sewer line to be installed in the Sylvan Shores subdivision, was on hand to discuss details of the project with the Board.

Estimated cost of the line plus contingencies will amount to $110,000.

In other business, the board approved the purchase of a Scott-Airpak for the fire department. This is a mask, oxygen and tank unit to be worn by firemen when entering burning buildings.

Approval was also given for the transfer of an S.D.M. license from Frank and Catherine Engleman to Julius and Rose Held.

The property involved is a grocery store on Cass-Elizabeth Lake Road. A soft drink license was granted to restaurant owner, Ernest Felice, of 7822 Cooley Lake Road.

No further action was taken on the request submitted last week by a restaurant owner for a dancing permit. This was tabled until the Board could establish rulings to cover all such requests.

Delays Answer on Moving Road

City Postpones Action on County's Request to Vacate West Blvd.

Oakland County Board of Supervisors will have to wait until next month for an answer to whether Pontiac will vacate West boulevard to permit its relocation through the proposed County Service Center.

A repeated request from Harold K. Schone, chairman of a special building committee, was referred to a Nov. 1 informal meeting of the City Commission.

Mayor William W. Donaldson asked for the postponement to permit study of maps and engineering studies on how the road could be relocated.

Schone, in a letter to the Commission last night, asked for an answer "as quickly as possible" on the proposal originally submitted last April.

Explaining the continued postponement, Mayor Donaldson said: "I don't think it is the intention of the City Commission to delay it any further."

Schone's letter said the county was proceeding with the first unit of the courthouse and county office building.

The county requested the city vacate the road from its southern intersection with Telegraph road to its northern intersection south of the Grand Trunk right-of-way.

First Aid Classes Slated by Red Cross

Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross announces a standard first aid course to begin Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Harrison Central School, Rochester.

FOUR TOWNS—The Four Town Squares are meeting at the Four Towns church this Friday evening for a Halloween dance.

Everyone is to come in costume. Bob Long will be the caller.

Hostesses are Mrs. Cecil Rice and Mrs. Lawrence Sierma.

Unit Asks Speakers to Bloomfield Knolls

FOUR TOWNS — For a Bloomfield Knolls subdivision meeting on Nov. 1 at 8 p.m. at the Four Towns school, guest speakers have been invited.

BEE WORK OUTDOORS

Swarming below an odd shaped comb of wax, these bees seemingly are hurrying against time that might bring a cone-destroying rain storm. The rare formation without a hive or tree to hold the comb's shape is termed nearly impossible except in a dry season such as this year's. It was found by Alex Geno of Dequindre road in northeast Oakland County while he was hunting. According to Geno, who has done bee work since he was eight years old, the bees apparently had started the comb on a red cedar bush about six feet high, and gradually the weight of the honey and bees drew the bush downward, partially breaking the branch, shown at right. Tiers of honey were added until it was about 18 inches long and weighed 25 pounds, actually resting on the ground.

How Sore Is Hodge Scar

Nixon Faces Tough Task in Seeking Illinois Votes

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON, in Illinois — Vice President Nixon opens two days of intensive campaigning in Illinois today seeking to nail down a state where Republicans are worried about effects of a scandal in the state administration.

The vice president whistles clear across the state from south to north today, then leaves his train for a well filled day in the Chicago area tomorrow.

He is understood to feel that the widely publicized embroilment case involving former Republican State Auditor Orville E. Hodge has made uncertain otherwise rosy prospects for the GOP in the home state of Democratic presidential nominee Adlai E. Stevenson.

Hodge was the Republican nominee to succeed himself as auditor until the state check scandal broke in July. He now is serving federal and state prison terms after pleading guilty to charges growing out of misuse of about 1½ million dollars in state funds.

The vice president gave a clue yesterday at Kalamazoo, Mich., to how he will handle this issue.

A heckler displayed a sign calling attention to the Hodge case. The vice president took no direct notice of this but commented that "in any administration as big as this one at either the state or national level you'll find persons guilty of violation of the public trust."

"But when we find dishonesty, we clean it up rather than cover it up."

At South Bend, Ind., last night the vice president made a hard-hitting attack on Stevenson on the issue of ending H-bomb tests.

He charged that the Democratic nominee's proposal for halting the tests was the same that Russian

Holly Church Slates Bazaar for Centennial

HOLLY—The First Presbyterian Church will hold a centennial bazaar Friday from 4 to 9 o'clock at the church. It is under the auspices of the Women's Guild.

It will be preceded by a silver tea table from 1 to 4 o'clock, and a chuck wagon will be in service from 5 to 8 o'clock.

The bazaar will feature an old village street, apron park, attic, general store and flower, candy, toy and gift shops, also the centennial cookie book.

The proceeds are to go into a building fund in connection with the celebration of the church's centennial in 1959.

Rally at W. Bloomfield

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Republicans here are being urged for a rally, to be held at 9 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 30, at Town Hall. Candidates will be present to meet the people in person. Women's Republican Club members are sponsors.

Debate Bears on Highways

Rochester Rotary Hears Candidate Decry Routes in Michigan

ROCHESTER—At the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club here, John B. Martin, Republican nominee for Secretary of State said, "Highways should branch out from cities and towns and extend to focal points."

He debated in brief talks with Deputy Attorney General Horace W. Gilmore for the luncheon program.

Introducing them was Dr. Edgar J. Geist Jr., president of the club, who gave each ten minutes, and then allowed five minutes for rebuttal.

Martin addressed the group mainly on the State Highways, saying, "Highways to focal points would encourage small industry, and benefit the farmer, and also bring more money to the state."

He also said that, "Gov. Williams had never said where he would build highways."

Martin used the last four minutes of his time to talk about how the heavy tax load is driving industry out of the state. He also stressed uniform justice.

Gilmore talked of the general achievements of the Gov. Williams administration, saying, "We have seen the greatest growth of all time, under Gov. Williams."

"One of the greatest achievements is the new Mackinac Bridge, which will open next November."

Speaker to Spark Growth of Recordings Library

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Area residents are invited to hear Mrs. Carrie Palmer, head librarian for the Royal Oak Public Library speak Nov. 1 at 8 p.m. at the West Bloomfield Public Library, 2301 Orchard Lake Rd., Keego Harbor.

She will talk on possibilities of building a music library of recordings in the West Bloomfield library, having herself developed such a library in Royal Oak.

2 Negro Solons Back President

State Sen. Brown and U.S. Rep. Diggs Leave Stevenson Camp

LANSING — Sen. Cora M. Brown (D-Detroit) drew little support from state legislators today in her announcement that she backs President Eisenhower for reelection.

Six out of seven Democratic Negro legislators told the Associated Press they will continue to support Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate.

But Rep. Charles M. Diggs Jr., Negro Democrat from Detroit, said he will support Eisenhower because he can do a "better job" in civil rights.

"The President has definitely expressed his attitude on civil rights by the moves he's made," said Diggs. "As far as I'm concerned it would be impossible for Stevenson to keep his commitments to Eastman, Talmadge and other Southern leaders."

Although his colleagues say he has feuded with Gov. Williams over Negro representation in state jobs, Diggs said he would "not oppose" Williams' candidacy for a fifth term.

But he would not say whether he would support him, either.

Miss Brown was defeated by incumbent Rep. Theodore Macrowics for the congressional seat in Detroit's heavily Negro and Polish First District.

She told reporters in Washington yesterday Eisenhower has shown "a larger measure of good faith" in civil rights.

Emerging from a 35-minute conference with the President, she said she believed Negro voters would "do better to vote for Eisenhower."

Offer Zoning Maps

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Revised zoning maps of White Lake Township have recently been printed, and are now available at the Town Hall for a fee of 25 cents, according to Andrew Plano, Township Building Inspector.

Plano points out that the Rural Zoning Ordinance and Building Code, adopted by the Township Board in 1955 and printed earlier this year, are also available.

T. G. Caley's Daughter's Betrothal

LAPEER — Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Caley, 1628 West Genesee St., Lapeer, announce the engagement of their daughter, Susannah Dickie Caley, to Ensign David N. Weinman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Weinman Sr., of Old Greenwich, Conn. Susannah is a junior at Smith College, Northampton, Mass.

Ensign Weinman is stationed on Cape Hatteras with the U. S. Naval Facility in Buxton, N. C. He graduated from Amherst College, Amherst, Mass., in 1954 and entered service immediately after graduation.

Area Church Events

Southfield Open House and Yule Tree Slated

A dedication and open house at Southfield Community Church is among events scheduled at Oakland County churches.

Dr. Bartlett Hess will be speaker at the Nov. 4 3 p.m. open house marking the completion of the first unit of the Southfield Community Church building at 2122 Indian St., Southfield Township.

The church's choir will provide music, a tour of the building will be provided, a film of the construction will be shown, and refreshments will be served.

The church stresses its youth program under the pastor, the Rev. H. Raymond Bayne, with 100 young people singing in choirs on Sunday, with regular attendance required of all youth.

At the 10 a.m. Bible School, three adult classes are included for youthful, middle-age and older-age groups.

This Sunday's program includes a 7 p.m. Missionary Christmas program, at which children will hang their stockings on a real Christmas tree, filled with coins for others. Adults will bring these gifts.

Orchard Lake

St. Jude's Guild of Our Lady of Refuge Parish is planning a dessert card party to be held Thursday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. F. Simpson, 3634 Erie Drive.

Tickets may be secured at the party.

A Harvest Dinner and Christmas Bazaar is being planned for Sunday, Nov. 4, by the women of Our Lady of Refuge Parish. Mrs. Joseph Stecker is chairman.

A roast beef dinner with all the trimmings will be served from 12 noon until 6 p.m. in the parish hall.

Scouts, Leaders Slate Activities, Seek Adults

FOUR TOWNS—With still more leaders needed for Girl Scout Troops, the leaders here have planned a meeting for Nov. 5 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Norval Parker of Loctiaven.

The Senior Girl Scout troop is holding a cook out today at Herkington Park at 5 p.m. under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Bruce and Mrs. William Gravelle.

Paul Bunyan Beards Growing at Union Lake

UNION LAKE—With proprietors and employees of Union Lake business firms vying to grow the longer whiskers in preparation for Paul Bunyan Day, the Day is being planned to mark the opening of the Community National Bank branch here.

The Union Lake businessmen will meet at the Arthur Marohn home Nov. 5 for their regular business meeting to complete plans.

The Day is being sponsored by their association, which expects that completion of the bank will be in time for the celebration Nov. 5 to 8.

On Paul Bunyan Day, refreshments will be served.

Rose Center Unit Plans Gift Workshop

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The Rose Center Group of the MSU Cooperative Extension Service will meet tomorrow at Rose Center Town Hall at 10 a.m. for an all-day session.

Leaders Mrs. Wilbert Kincaid and Mrs. Howard Chapin will present the Christmas Workshop lesson featuring gifts, and members will finish their aluminum trays.

Hostesses will be Mrs. George Sutton and Mrs. Henry Carmel.

Clarkston Tots to Seek U.N. Funds

CLARKSTON — Clarkston Elementary school children will visit homes in the Village on Halloween, late afternoon and evening, with canisters for United Nations Children's Fund again this year.

Third year for this fund instead of the traditional Trick or Treat, the funds collected will be sent

MRS. BONNIE NORMAN

Avondale Adds Visiting Work to Faculty

AVONDALE—Mrs. Bonnie Norman has assumed her duties as Avondale School's first visiting teacher.

The visiting teacher's duties are concerned principally with emotionally disturbed children, and are mainly supplementary help to the classroom teacher.

Appointed to the new post last spring, Mrs. Norman has taught eight years at Stiles School and last year at Avondale High School. She has also taught five years at Brooklands School.

A native of Kentucky, she trained at the University of Kentucky, received her bachelors degree from Wayne University, and is studying special education at Wayne.

Rochester Reveals Changes in Faculty

ROCHESTER—Several faculty changes have been announced by the Rochester Community Schools. Lloyd Evans, a University of Michigan graduate, comes to teach elementary vocal music. He has just completed a tour of duty with the U. S. Army in Japan.

Patricia Higgins has joined the faculty of the Harrison-Central School as a fourth grade teacher. A graduate of Emerson College in Boston, Mass., she takes a group being formed in order to relieve the overcrowding on that grade level at Harrison-Central and Woodward Schools.

Joining the High School English faculty is Mrs. Betty Lamb who has replaced Robert Giglio who resigned because of illness. Mrs. Lamb, who has been substituting, is a graduate of Western Michigan College and has had several years of teaching experience.

In five states—Connecticut, Kentucky, Rhode Island, Tennessee and Vermont — more than 60 percent of their communities have no rail service.

Name Assessor at Lake Orion

Mrs. Willard Stephen Takes Post; City Eyes New Blacktopping

LAKE ORION — The appointment of Mrs. Willard Stephen as Assessor for the Village of Lake Orion, was announced at the village council meeting Monday Oct. 22.

Mrs. Stephen has been very active in the affairs of the village. She is a past president of the Women's Club, the Lake Orion P.T.A. and the W.S.C.S. of the Lake Orion Methodist Church.

Currently she is on the Board of Directors for the Community Fund, and is deputy clerk of Orion Township.

She lives with her husband and two sons, at 83 North Shore Dr. The council also announced that the blacktopping of Longpoint Blvd. had been completed.

Set Workshop on Yule Ideas in Clarkston

CLARKSTON—Sponsored by the North District of Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council, a Christmas Workshop is planned at the Independence Township building Friday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

For the public, it will include a demonstration by skilled persons on copper enameling, ceramics, tile-painting, and glass etching.

Also, to be studied is the making of weather cocones, Christmas tree ornaments and gift wrappings.

Many other articles will be displayed, with patterns and directions available. All adults in the community are invited to attend.

New Troy Farmer Digs Giant Spuds

Herman Gnodtke, who operates a 148-acre farm near New Troy in Berrien County, dug up several giant Chippewa potatoes from his four-acre planting of the tubers.

Mrs. Gnodtke counted at least 12 which weighed about three pounds each. "They ran a pretty good size this year," she commented. The giants are about three times the size of an average potato.

Set 2-Day Vacation

ROCHESTER — Schools here are to be closed Monday and Tuesday next week in order to allow teachers to attend regional meetings of the Michigan Education Assn.

COSTUMED FOR PENNY DRIVE — These youngsters will embark Halloween for pennies for UNICEF, rather than the usual trick-or-treats. Shown adjusting George McCall's outfit

Clarkston Tots to Seek U.N. Funds

CLARKSTON — Clarkston Elementary school children will visit homes in the Village on Halloween, late afternoon and evening, with canisters for United Nations Children's Fund again this year.

Third year for this fund instead of the traditional Trick or Treat, the funds collected will be sent overseas for medicines and food for starving and sick children.

Last year the children in 6,000 communities participated in the drive for funds and $520,000 was realized from this drive.

Milk and medicines were sent to the sick and hungry children in ninety countries from the Halloween collections.

Clarkston's children alone sent $50.00. Over 5,000,000 children had milk to drink every day from shipments of the UNICEF fund.

Last year the Pontiac Press printed a picture of the children of the Clarkston area, and this picture appeared in children's magazines and Church school papers over the country, along with the story of the drive and their contribution to this drive.

Claims Defeat of Cancer Near

ACS President Says Modern Researchers May Find Cure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clifford R. Runyon, executive vice president of the American Cancer Society, said today so much "hopeful" research is going on "that for the first time, we dare hope with confidence that cancer will be conquered — and in our lifetime."

Cancer Society meeting, that 50 per cent of all cancer patients might now be saved from cancer if greater use was made of present knowledge.

Runyon said 10 years ago one out of four cancer patients was saved, the ratio is now one out of three patients and "the doctors tell us we could do better — that half the people who get cancer can be saved."

"The American Cancer Society," he said, "is preparing to meet this challenge by expanding its research and education and service programs."

Runyon said women especially have benefited from stepped-up efforts in cancer control, with their cancer death rate dropping 12.6 per cent in the past decade.

Hollywood Headlines Movies Bought for Video Will Be Produced Again

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS HOLLYWOOD (INS) — When Warner Brothers made the deal to sell their backlog of motion pictures up to 1948 to TV, nothing was said about remaking them as motion pictures — but nevertheless some will be remade.

Ray Stark, who resigned from the Famous Artists Agency to become vice president in charge of production of PFM, the company which paid $1 million dollars to Warner, said: "One of the pictures chosen is 'The Maltese Falcon,' which was a great picture starring Humphrey Bogart."

Ray also told me one million dollars had been offered to Carlo Ponti for Sophia Loren's contract. "We want her for 'Sunset,' the picture which won Bette Davis an Academy Award," he said.

The money back of PFM takes your breath away. There's 20 million dollars in the treasury, and more to come.

Those Maine beachcombers, Bette Davis and Gary Merrill, have established their own independent film company and their first will be "Angel Manager" to be filmed in New England next spring.

Let me tell you the inside story. "Angel Manager" was written by Johnny Berardino, whom all ball fans will remember as the big hero of the Cleveland Indians.

When Johnny got out of the majors he tried acting in TV for a while, then became inspired to write this yarn concerning a baseball bum and a nun who rehabilitates him. Bette, of course, will play the nun and Gary, the roughneck.

BUSY, BUSY MARIO

Mario Lanza has been keeping very, very quiet but that's because he's been very, very busy. He has recorded a Christmas album and another of Broadway tunes, and a flock of single records.

Next month, Mario tells me, he goes to Sicily for "Be Mine Tonight," which is a remake of a musical Jan Kiepura made a long time ago.

This will be produced independently by Leslie Welch, but the irony is that Welch will release it through MGM, the company Mario felt so bitterly about when he left there.

There must be 25 workmen at the home of Debbie Reynolds and Eddie Fisher in the next block to me. Mrs. Ed Leahy, who is getting the house ready for Debbie, Eddie and the baby, was given carte blanche to hire workmen.

The nursery will be okay, also one of the back bedrooms, but the master bedroom, which was burned, and some of the other parts of the house cannot be ready for occupancy when Debbie comes home from the hospital with her daughter, Carrie Frances.

Burglars Loot Alamo Museum

Drawers and Cabinets Ransacked, but Main Objective Undetermined

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Burglary of the Alamo Museum on the grounds of the historic Texas shrine of Independence was discovered today.

Inventory of items in the museum was under way to determine extent of loss.

Using a hacksaw to cut through bars of a front window, the thieves entered the museum office.

They ransacked desk drawers and filing cabinets, but made no apparent effort to break into the office safe.

Police believe the burglary to be the work of professionals, but officers could not immediately determine the main objective.

The thieves broke open at least one case of antique pistols.

One escaped from the Alamo March 3, 1836. The weapon dates back to 1849.

An undetermined amount of costume jewelry was taken and some leather goods are missing, officials said, from a souvenir counter.

The intruders burned paper to provide light for their work. Investigators found the charred paper scattered among historic documents. It was not immediately determined if anything of value was burned.

Pianist on Trial: Took Marijuana on Prison Visit

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Gerardo P. Velasco told a jury he just plain forgot he was carrying marijuana when he went to San Quentin in prison to visit his half brother.

Velasco, 27, a Hollywood piano player, testified in his superior court trial on charges of possessing narcotics and attempting to smuggle them into the prison.

"What a stupid thing for me to do," Velasco said he had exclaimed to the guards who checked him entering the prison.

Velasco said Hollywood musician friends had given him the marijuana as a sort of going away present. He testified he told the guards he had "used a little the night before and forgot I had it in my pocket."

Wider Tires Coming

AKRON—About 70 per cent of the 1957-model automobiles will come equipped with 14-inch tires. The main reason for the change from the 15-inch (inside-diameter) tires that have been standard equipment on most models since the late 1940's is the trend toward longer, lower styling. The new tires will be almost 10 per cent wider and weigh slightly more than the old ones.

Adlai Unqualified for Presidency, Hall Charges

SEA GIRT, N.J. (AP) — Leonard W. Hall, Republican national chairman, said today Adlai Stevenson has "proved himself incompetent to be president" by his urging that the United States take the lead in seeking an end to H-bomb tests.

Hall said the Democratic presidential candidate is "even worse than Truman in misjudging" the Communists. He quoted former President Truman as saying in 1948, "I like old Joe. He is a decent fellow." Hall added Stalin "returned Mr. Truman's sentiment by starting the Korean War with its tragic list of dead and wounded American boys."

"Now Adlai Stevenson says he is willing to take an unguaranteed Soviet promise to end nuclear bomb testing," Hall said in a speech prepared for the Montgomery County Federation of Republican Women.

"The end of this could be even more tragic than Truman's miscalculation on good 'Old Joe.' You can bet your bottom dollar the Communist bosses who have broken 30 major promises in 23 years would go right ahead testing while we lost our nuclear lead."

Wife, Auto Follow Man Into Restaurant

DALLAS (AP) — Travis Mayberry went into a barbecue stand for sandwiches, and his wife and auto followed him.

Mrs. Mayberry said her husband left the car parked with the motor running. It started to roll and she jammed her foot down on what she thought was the brake.

With the throttle wide open, the car's automatic transmission took over and it roared across the sidewalk and smashed through the plate glass window into the cafe.

India to Go 'Decimal'

NEW DELHI—India's Government has decided to introduce a decimal system of coinage April 1, 1957. On that date coins of denominations of one naya paise, 2 naya paise, and 5 naya paise will be issued. Later coins of 25- and 50-naya paise, corresponding roughly to the present quarter rupee and half rupee, will appear. The new rupee will represent 100 naya paise and be worth the same as the present rupee. Existing coins will be withdrawn gradually and ultimately demonetized.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Some interesting notes came out of the weekly meeting of the Football Writers Association yesterday.

The scribes, who gather every Tuesday at noon at the various college campuses or a different city each week, met in the beautiful President's dining room of the U. of D. student activities building.

Nick Vista, assistant publicity director from Michigan State University, brought word from coach Duffy Daugherty on the Spartans.

He relayed the word from Duffy that Pat Burke, regular tackle for two years, was through for the season after an operation for a knee injury.

As far as this week's game, Duffy like most Big 10 coaches has a fear of playing at Illinois when the Illini celebrate homecoming.

"The gathering of Alumni at Illinois has been the undoing of many Big Ten teams in the past," said Duffy. Michigan should well remember last year, it was pointed out.

GOPHER FANS UNHAPPY

Minnesota's publicist Otis Dypwick was among the guests.

"The people of Minnesota aren't very happy over losing Bronko Nagurski, Jr., to Notre Dame," he said.

According to Dypwick, the Gophers have stayed pretty well around home in recruiting over the past few years, but "now the coaches have plans of going out of the state for players."

The publicist reports that Minnesota boasts more depth in the backfield than at any time in the last 10 years with Bobby Cox considered a great passer.

"We had a lot of players out with injuries when we tied Northwestern," said Dypwick, "but we're ready for Michigan."

FROMHART ASKS—WHY?

U. of D. coach Wally Fromhart was in a sad frame of mind. "This is just one of those years, and I can't understand why," said Fromhart.

"We haven't fielded a full team of regulars yet, and with six first stringers out with injuries, we've got to expect a lot of errors from the sophomores."

Prominent guest of the writers was Rev. Celestin J. Steiner, president of U. of D.

"We've been disappointed but not discouraged," said Fr. Steiner, "because we regard this as our construction year."

"Our freshman team is better than any we've ever had at U. of D. and we will have no regrets of our stand on football," he said.

"We have made contacts with several top teams, but why play such teams now and get our heads knocked off," he continued, "but we will be ready in a couple years, and that's when we will have these teams on our schedule."

In regard to the change from night to day football and the competition of television, Fr. Steiner said, "We will stay with day-games, and we have no gripes against TV."

"There should be no curtailment in competition for TV and any team that can get a sponsor should take it."

Former U. of D. and Washington Redskin ace Andy Farkas, who assisted Jim Tatum for several seasons at Maryland, said he believes the present Titan frosh team has greater potential than any in the three years he helped the Terp staff with freshmen.

Brewer Leads Oakland County

Torrid Pace Set by Prep Scorers

Southfield's bedraggled football forces may be on the skids, but Ron Brewer still keeps making touchdowns.

The elusive Southfield halfback crossed the goal line again last Friday to maintain his grip on 1st place in the Oakland County prep scoring race. He has now recorded 13 touchdowns in six games for a total of 72 points.

Brewer tallied for the 12th time as Southfield bowed to the Waterford Sippers. The Jays have dropped their last three starts.

Giving Brewer a stiff battle for county honors is Rochester's great Dave Peters, who has accounted for nine touchdowns and nine conversions to amass 63 points. Rochester has played one less game than Southfield.

Don Yeargan of Walled Lake made another touchdown last Friday, his 9th of the season, to retain 2nd spot with 54 points. Bloomfield Hills' Jim Kearney is holding down 3rd position with 48 points, closely followed by Lyndon Salathiel of Waterford, who scored once more to raise his total to 48.

Walled Lake's John Walker boosted his total to 50 points to take over 4th spot. Terry Raymond of Orchard Lake St. Mary rose to 42 and Dick Kelly of Troy reached 40. Lake Orion's Doug Storey remained at 43.

Five county ball carriers are tied with 36 points apiece. One has 33 points, another 31 and three others 30 each.

The hottest scoring race is being waged in the Oakland County fringe area between flashy Gary Baliman of undefeated East Detroit and Lapeer's brilliant Tom Wilson.

Baliman is currently leading the entire area with 84 points, but Wilson is closing in on him with 79, also tops in the area.

Orin Frantz, Imley City's classy halfback who was leading the county area with 67 points, did not play last week and slipped to 3rd place. Alex Bonello of Almont is right behind Frantz with 65 points.

Dryden's Bill Avery has tallied 52 points, pursued by Eugene Picard of East Detroit with 48 and Dick Johnson of New Haven with 42. Three other players have 30 points or better.

Line Helps Tulane Rating

NEW ORLEANS (U)—Tulane, football surprise of the South, offers a new gridiron entertainment twist these days, seven ushers for each slight-of-hand performance by quarterback Gene Newton.

From the French Quarter to Lake Pontchartrain it is freely said much of the startling success of Tulane's Green Wave, now the 13th-ranked team in the nation, rests with its line.

They call them the upset ushers because they insist that opposing players sit down while Newton entertains with some of the fanciest ball-handling since pirate Jean Lafitte pitched musket balls at the English in 1815.

After last week's 10-3 victory over Mississippi, Coach Andy Piny put it this way:

"Our ends won the ball game for us. They turned Mississippi plays in toward center and kept 'em from going wide on us."

Tebbetts NL's Manager-of-the-Year

NEW YORK (U)—George (Birdie) Tebbetts, who almost steered the underdog Cincinnati Redlegs into the World Series, today was named National League Manager-of-the-Year in the Associated Press annual poll.

Tebbetts won easily. He received 160 of the 207 votes cast by members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America.

Fred Haney of Milwaukee was named on 34 ballots. Walt Alston, who guided the Brooklyn Dodgers to the league title, received only six votes. Bobby Bragan of Pittsburgh had five and Fred Hutchinson of St. Louis and Mayo Smith of Philadelphia got one each.

A patient, although sometimes fiery manager, Tebbetts molded the Redlegs into a leading pennant contender in one year. They were not eliminated from the race until the next-to-last day of the season and finished only two games behind Brooklyn and one behind second-place Milwaukee.

BARNSTORMING CHATTER — For all intents and purposes, Brooklyn Dodger catcher Roy Campanella (left) and pitcher Don Newcombe (right) might be giving these Japanese ball players a few tips on their specialties before one of their games on Dodger barnstorming tour. Judging from the 6-1 score against Brooklyn in the first game, it could well be that Campy and Newk should have listened.

'M' Holds Coveted Trophy

'Jug' Battle Certain

ANN ARBOR (U)—An ancient bottle will be up for grabs on the greens of Michigan Stadium this weekend — and Michigan sure wants it to stay in its trophy case.

But the desire is even stronger in Minneapolis, where Minnesota's Golden Gophers hope to take the "Little Brown Jug," come dusk Saturday.

stant coach Bob Holway, whose task it has been to scout Minnesota.

"They're eager to get that jug back," says the young, black-haired coach.

"They haven't won down here since 1941 and haven't owned the jug since 1953."

Holway brought back with him a

Falcons in Philosophical Frame of Mind for Romeo

Rochester may have one philosophical angle in mind when it tangles with Romeo, in a clash of class "B" giants on the Falcon gridiron Friday night.

The thought may go something like this: "Do unto Romeo, what Lapeer did unto us."

In explanation it would mean, knock Romeo out of the unbeaten ranks just as Lapeer knocked Rochester from the unsanctified list last week.

The Falcons may be in a vengeful mood this week, but Romeo, now moving up in the class B ladder, will be out to protect its gains.

Both teams are as evenly matched as any that have ever faced each other in the traditional series, with two potent backfields prepared to show their wares.

Romeo, with quarterback Butch Dalwitz, halfbacks Scott Fowler and Ben Meyer and fullback Angus Sterling, has tallied 1,354 yards in six games on the ground and another 497 yards passing.

Rochester has a fine quarterback in Fred Weaver, who along with halves Dave Peters and Dave Eldred, and fullback Al Bonnin gives the Falcons good balance and power in the backfield.

Rochester in posting a 4-1 mark has scored 136 points against 65 for the opposition, while Romeo playing one more game with a 6-0 record, has tallied 122 points while giving up 56.

Competitively it would seem that Rochester has played the stronger schedule, yet the Falcons have fallen to Lapeer 25-13, a team which Romeo defeated, 26-19, in the last second of the game.

Game time at Rochester Friday night is 8:00 o'clock.

Aims to Snap String

Graybiel Hopes to Beat RO

One of the PHS football Chiefs' biggest non-league hurdles for the last three years, at least, has been the tough Royal Oak High eleven.

And the Acorns, under Jim Manilla, have held the upper hand against Pontiac's team ever since head coach Ed Graybiel took over here. Hence, the "Big Chief" is anxious to end all this business, with a victory on Friday night in Wmner Stadium.

Acorns have won the last three in a row, including last year's 26-2 battle at Royal Oak. That was one game Graybiel had to miss. The Chiefs' headman was in the hospital here with a chest ailment. His top assistant, Dean Wilson handled the squad and did a fine job of it.

Royal Oak speed and power, much of it in the hands of the fine halfback Darrel Harper, was too good for the Chiefs, last fall. Harper has gone, but Manilla still has Jerry Snider, Bob Manser and Duke Sekeres, all of whom opposed Chiefs in 1955. They can prize the Acorn starting backfield along with Pete Moga, a reserve last year, at quarter. Manser and Snider are halfbacks.

Game time is 8 p. m.

Pheasants on Lawn

Show Way to 5 More

Two pheasants on the lawn of a neighbor's home yesterday led the way to five more, in a nearby field, and for a day's limit for Ray Upchurch, Pontiac Press compositor.

Ray saw the roosters, watched them take off to a nearby Drayton Plains field, called his dog Saddleboy, and soon had a brace of pheasants. Saddleboy put up five near where the first two sat down in the field, Ray reports.

One fell in a pond, but was retrieved by Saddleboy.

Field of 14 Ready

BOSTON (U)—Despite the probability of an "off" racing strip because of a heavy rain, 14 highly regarded 3-year-olds were scheduled to start today in the 21st running of the $50,000-added Yankee Handicap at Suffolk Downs.

PLOTTING STRATEGY — Rochester, knocked out of the unbeaten ranks by Lapeer last week, will be out to avenge that setback by attempting to push Romeo out of the list of unbeaten.

Falcon coach Gene Konley huddles with quarterback Fred Weaver (13) and fullback Al Bonnin to plot some strategy against the Bulldogs Friday.

Within three years, the Dominican Republic will complete a new $9,000,000 airport at Punta Caucedo. Agricultural Exhibition this year.

Waterford (6-0) Meets Walled Lake (6-0)

'The' Game in Inter-Lakes

By BRUNO L. KEARNE
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Friday is "THE" game of the season for Waterford and Walled Lake. Both teams are boasting 6-0 records and both teams are hungry for the Inter-Lakes Conference title which has avoided each of them since the present setup of the league was arranged in 1952.

Walled Lake actually won the title in 1951 when the league was made up of four teams including Farmington, Berkley and Keego Harbor.

Since then, however, neither the Vikings or the Shippers have won the crown, and it is doubtful that either is willing to settle for a tie Friday and share the title.

Two fast moving backfields will be the feature of the game with the offensive line play becoming the big factor in shaking loose talented runners on both sides.

Senior halfback Lyndie Salathiel will spearhead the Waterford attack with vastly improved Terry Kallies matching his full-back chores against well-polished Johnny Walker of Walled Lake.

Quarterbacks have been at a premium in the Inter-Lakes circuit, but the league's two best will be seen against each other Friday.

Larry Dion will guide Walled Lake's unit while Warren Miksch, who wore a Viking uniform two years ago, directs the Shippers.

Speedster Frank Flak, who picks up ground in lots rather than yards, is the lone sophomore in either starting lineup. Flak has picked up 348 yards in 20 carries for an amazing 17.4 average for W.L.

He has, however, not overshadowed his junior teammate Don Yeargan who has ground out 481 yards in 43 attempts for a 11.4 average.

For Waterford, Jim Larkin and Miksch will share co-captain's duties in the crucial encounter.

Larkin a 235 pound guard, along with 225-pound tackle Rod Evans, 190 pound Clayton Roth, are the big-weights in the Shipper wall.

Junior tackle Bob Masters is 175, guard Dick Startweather, 180, center Doug Hales, 180 and end Chuck Gillis, 180, are the other starters.

This is Walled Lake's home finale and a record-breaking crowd is expected for the homecoming battle.

Midget Football All-Star Night Scheduled Saturday

Pontiac's football stars of the future get their chance to shine this Saturday when the 10th annual Midget Football All-Star Night is staged under the lights at Wisner Stadium.

Youngsters from the 5th, 6th and 7th grades will wage two hours of continuous gridiron activity to climax a six-week program of fundamental football drills.

Instruction has been conducted for the past five Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Wisner Stadium.

An activity of the Parks and Recreation Department, Midget Football All-Star Night is co-sponsored by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Pontiac Board of Education.

Proceeds from Saturday's show will go to the Junior Chamber of Commerce Youth Fund.

Beginning at 7 o'clock, the 5th and 6th grade boys will play a series of four games with each contest using half of the field. Two games will be played simultaneously for two quarters at which time two more will start.

The 7th graders will follow the same system of rotation, but they will employ the full gridiron. Rotation continues until all games are completed.

Tickets are available from Junior Chamber of Commerce members, the Pontiac Boys Club and the Parks and Recreation Department. Marty Utley of the Jaycees is ticket chairman.

Detroit Grid Great Found Dead at Home

ROYAL OAK (INS) — Edward J. (Mal) Maloney — one of the greatest fullbacks in the University of Detroit's history — was found dead yesterday in the yard of his Royal Oak home by a neighbor.

A star on Titan teams in 1924-25-26 under Gus Dorais, Maloney had been on the sales staff of Lippman's for 20 years. He was at work yesterday morning and had stopped at his home after making several calls on clients.

The 51-year-old former fullback played on the undefeated Titan team of 1928, which won nine in a row, including triumphs over Michigan State, Fordham and Georgetown.

Leaders Change

'Derby' Gains Momentum

The Pontiac Press "big pheasant derby" is gaining momentum. With only a few days of the season gone, leaders in the newest division of the contest have changed several times, with a 38 and 1/2 inch rooster now holding the top spot. New leader, entered yesterday by Ortonville High School student Eugene Crane, 17 years old, went out in front by nearly three inches over the earliest "long" bird, a 35-inch.

Crane's entry was almost two inches longer than the previous leader, listed by Alan Brown, 5800 Watkins Lake road, earlier Tuesday. Crane downed his rooster, a 3-pounder, in his own backyard. He got his limit on Saturday and Sunday, bagged the long one Monday night.

A bit of unusual circumstance entered into the taking of the leader. Two roosters were fighting when Crane saw them, took one shot. Other pheasant flew away safely.

Brown bagged two nice birds hunting near Telegraph and Pontiac Lake roads, Monday evening. One was 37 1/2 inches long, 2-pounds 15 ounces heavy. The other was a 3-pounder, with shorter tail. A number of other prospective entries failed to top the "hefty" bird division, with Marcia Laucka 3 1/2-pounder still in front.

Hunters are again advised that all entries must be brought to the Press sports department for weighing and measurement. They will be taken between 7 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. daily, except that none will be taken after 11:30 a.m. Saturdays and none on Sundays. Heaviest bird entry will win a $50 U. S. bond, while the longest rooster will get a $25 bond.

DERBY LEADER — Changes in leadership in the current Pontiac Press "big pheasant derby" have been coming pretty fast the last two days. But they have been only in the "long bird" division, a new angle to the "derby" this fall. Above is the latest "long" leader. Smiling Eugene Crane of Ortonville holds his prize rooster, a 38 and 1/2 inch specimen that weighed an even three pounds.

Nocturnal Sport

Plenty Coons, Hunters Say

Hunters taking to the wooded sections of Oakland County and adjacent areas in search of the nocturnal wanderers, the masked raccoon, report there appears to be plenty of the assy furbearers this fall. Season on coons opened last Saturday, and a number of good catches have been reported.

Injured Pheasant
Seeks Sanctuary
in Pontiac Home

One cock pheasant had the right idea, Tuesday afternoon, on where to go to escape the hunting season bombardment.

Five-year-old Debbie Sowden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Sowden, 601 Third Street, was sitting on the front porch at the Sowden home playing with a chalk-writing board when an injured cock pheasant dropped beside her. She called her mother who picked up the bird, placed it in a box in the basement, where she tried to feed it.

successful foray was that of Admiral George Dewey of Lake Orion and Bob Penfold of Pontiac, and their redbone hounds, Leader and King. Hunting at night in Livingston County, they took a dozen fat animals, saw many more.

"We expect to get a couple dollars a hide for these prime coons," Penfold said. "There's a lot of good eating, too."

The pair's bag averaged from 15 to 25 pounds. John E. Hendry, 2088 Willhite, Pontiac, also shot a fat coon, Tuesday morning. The animal, observed in a tree, weighed 21 pounds. Ralph Spivey, 2091 Willhite was hunting with Hendry. They were hunting squirrels when they discovered the raccoon.

Special Deer Permits Will Be in Mails

LANSING (AP)—Special deer season hunting permits will be mailed to applicants this week following a drawing at the state conservation department headquarters yesterday.

The department said more than 104,000 hunters applied for the 65,540 permits to be granted. The special seasons, during which hunters will be allowed to shoot does, bucks or fawns, will be held in 22 areas of the state where the number of deer exceeds the food supply and starvation threatens.

The department said hunters will be notified whether their names were drawn in the lottery before the end of October.

Fewer Birds, but Higher Percentage of Roosters

By JACK PATTERSON
Pontiac Press Outdoor Writer

Opening weekend of the pheasant season did nothing to make liars out of the forecasters. Except in a few very instances, hunters reported fewer birds in practically all areas. In checking into some reports of increases we find that reporting hunters in many cases were not comparing the same areas.

That is, they may have hunted a marginal area last year with little success and PATTERSON found that in a "good" area this year there were many more birds. Such comparisons are of little value except to prove that hunters like to move around.

While fewer birds were seen generally, a rather higher than normal proportion of cocks to hens was observed by many hunters. Many shooters held rusty shooting to be a bigger factor in failing to get a limit than a lack of targets.

Experiences of one party are typical. A foursome comprised of Clarence Patterson, Bob Patterson, Dr. Theron Loughran, Jack Plugg and Walt Els. Hunting near Shabbona, put up about 15 roosters and a dozen hens during the morning and early afternoon hours. Despite tempting opportunities, the party succeeded in getting only five birds. In this case the scarcity seemed to be more in the aiming department than in the game supply.

Brother Bob Patterson wanted us to mention that he got his limit but we won't because he is getting too uppity about his shooting eye as it is. But that's the way early pheasant hunting goes. For a target so large, a pheasant can be a most difficult thing to clobber.

A week or so ago we poked some gentle fun at certain mem-

State Studies Trout Problem

May Drop Special 'Bow Season in Spring; Eels Reduce Populations

LANSING — Conservation Department director Gerald E. Eddy is studying Michigan's rainbow trout situation, including the possibility that there may be no special spring rainbow fishing season.

Sea lamprey depredations have cut rainbow populations in recent years. The annual two-week special spring season, preceding the regular trout fishing season, has been attractive to many anglers in the northern lower peninsula, but hasn't meant much in the U.P. where spring runs usually come in later, warmer weather.

The director is authorized to designate which waters, if any, are open to special rainbow fishing in spring and fall. Closing the season is considered one possibility for helping the beleaguered rainbow.

Solunar Tables

Checking with the following solunar tables may help area fishing and hunting enthusiasts find the best periods in which activity may be expected. These tables were prepared especially for this area by John Alden Knight.

Major periods last from one to one and a half hours, with minor periods somewhat shorter. Tables for the ensuing week follow:

Dog 'Points' to $1 Bill, Paid Off in Hamburgers

NEW BERN, N. C. (INS)—A motorist saw a dog come to a point beside a fire of his car at a drive-in restaurant. He found the dog pointing to a dollar bill.

The man ordered a dollar's worth of hamburgers, left them for the canine and drove off. The dog, furiously waving his tail, devoured the food.

Grid Lions Elect Two as Directors

DETROIT—John Kershaw Stevenson, resident of Birmingham, and William Clay Ford of Grosse Pointe Farms were elected to the board of directors by the Detroit Football Co. It was announced by Edwin J. Anderson, president of the Lions.

Stevenson, 42, is president of the Servolab Corporation in Ferndale.

Ford, 31, is vice president of the Ford Motor Company and manager of the Continental Division. This brings to 15 the number of members on the Lions' board.

Poland Busy Erasing Stalin's Name in Public

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Polish provincial authorities of Poznan have decided to rename all squares, streets and factories bearing the name of late Soviet dictator Joseph Stalin, Radio Warsaw announced.

At the same time, the Town Council of Lublin decided "Stalin Square" in Lublin henceforth will be called "Lithuania Square" — Temple Beth Jacob on Elizabeth Lake road.
