Bums Climb All Over Yankees in Series Opener

Maglie a Hero as Brooklyn Posts 6-3 Win

Tag Ford With Loss; Mantle, Martin Homers Not Enough

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

The Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the New York Yankees, 6-3, in the opening game of the 1956 World Series today at Ebbets Field. Sal (The Barber) Maglie hurled the distance for Brooklyn and scattered nine hits.

Gil Hodges' booming home run in the third inning with two mates aboard gave the Dodgers a 5-3 lead, a deficit the Yankees could never make up.

Strikes Out Politics for a Day

Ike Goes to the Ball Game, No Political Pitch Involved

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower attended his first World Series game today and got a roaring welcome from thousands of baseball fans crammed into Brooklyn's Ebbets Field.

Obviously enjoying his outing, Eisenhower broke out his famed grin and waved to the crowd.

But along the 15-mile route from La Guardia Airport to the ball park, where the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers tangled in the first game of the series, crowds were skimpy.

Of course, the White House had advertised the President's flight to New York and the ball game as a nonpolitical affair. But it also had advertised the route he was taking to and from the park.

In some places only small groups were out. In others, none

Register to Vote, in Only 6 Days It'll Be Too Late

If you haven't voted in Pontiac in the past four years, or if you are a new resident, or have just turned 21, you must register to vote Nov. 6.

And you have only five days before the Oct. 8 deadline.

If you fit any of the above classifications, you should go to the city clerk's office in the City Hall or to the voting registration booth in front of the courthouse. Both will be open until 6 p.m. today.

Besides the clerk's office and the booth, registrations can be made during regular working hours at the Oakland County CIO Council, 214 E. Lawrence St., union halls at 386 E. Kennett Rd., 90 Mt. Clemens St., 821 Baldwin Ave., the Baldwin Rubber plant, 365 E. South Blvd., and at 141 Wessen St.

Prediction Cloudy, Possible Showers

Weatherman says tonight will be cloudy with a chance of scattered showers. The low is expected to be from 50 to 54 degrees.

Tomorrow's forecast is fair and somewhat cooler for the Pontiac area. A high of 62 to 66 is predicted.

The low in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 44 degrees. At 2 p.m. today the thermometer rose to 70 degrees in downtown Pontiac.

Restore Air Mission

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The United States and Argentina agreed today to restore a U.S. air mission eliminated by former President Juan Peron five years ago.

Ike Strength Slips

Tide Turns to Democrats Says Babson-Poll Report

The Babson-poll—which correctly predicted an Eisenhower "landslide" in 1952 and Democratic control of Congress in 1954—now reports that Adlai Stevenson has cut deeply into President Eisenhower's former popular vote strength.

This year's first Babson-poll report, which includes ballots submitted by Pontiac Press readers, indicates that the political tide is still running in favor of the Democrats. With less than

Runway Nears Completion

Review Airport Needs

Surfacing of the new, 4,000 foot east-west runway at Pontiac Municipal Airport is now under way. The first plane will be able to use it within two weeks, if bad weather does not delay the work.

The new runway's completion will mark a big forward step. It will make it possible for two engine planes to use the field regularly, and should bring in regular commercial airline passenger service before the end of 1957.

But much remains to be done to bring Pontiac's airport facilities up to the proper standards in view of the fact that already it is Michigan's third busiest airport, with the prospect of steadily increasing business.

Many more hangars are needed. Many plane owners are waiting to rent them.

Truman Tours Oakland County on Saturday

Ex-President Schedules Royal Oak Address for 11 A.M.

Local Democrats today confirmed last week's report that former President Harry S. Truman will speak in Oakland County Saturday.

Truman, making his first appearance here since 1952, will speak at South Oakland County Democratic headquarters at 1815 N. Main St., Royal Oak, according to the County Committee.

The talk is scheduled for 11 a.m. Saturday.

Last week's announcement of the ex-president's visit came through national Democratic headquarters in Washington, and took local politicians by surprise.

Nobody had heard of the visit.

Arriving at Willow Run from St. Louis Friday afternoon, Truman will begin a tour including rallies at 16th, 15th, and 13th District headquarters.

Arriving at the AFL Labor Temple in Detroit at 7 p.m., Truman will make a half-hour television speech there at 9 p.m.

Besides his appearance in Oakland County, Truman's Saturday schedule includes stops in the 14th, 1st, and 17th Congressional Districts, Democratic headquarters in Lansing said today.

Charges Ike 'Not Informed'

Adlai Changes Words of New Attack Against President

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson asserted today that on some "vital matters" President Eisenhower has not been "fully informed about what was going on in his own government."

In his prepared text for a speech here Stevenson had said that on some vital matters Eisenhower appeared not to have "known or has not cared" what went on in his administration.

Stevenson changed the wording, however, as he read the speech. The Democratic presidential nominee cited congressional failure to enact legislation for the relief of acute employment distress in some areas. He said this legislation was "killed in the back by the Republican administration."

Referring to what he said was Eisenhower's lack of knowledge about the distressed areas bill, Stevenson quipped: "And the President calls me 'confused.'"

Steve Allen Says Sullivan Show 'Pirates' Ideas

NEW YORK (INS)—One of TV's most celebrated "friendly rivalries"—between Ed Sullivan and Steve Allen—looked pretty unfriendly today.

Allen, network rival of Sullivan on Sunday nights, charged the Sullivan show last night with "pirating" his ideas and expressed himself as shocked by what he called the rival show's "unethical and cut-throat moves."

Sullivan laughed the whole thing off with a counter-charge that he thought the Allen charges were "just a publicity stunt."

Sullivan also specifically denied Allen's accusations that any ideas were lifted from the Allen braintrust.

Baxter Critical; Firemen Still Fighting Blaze

Spillwood Lanes Guttered, Damage in Thousands, Roof Near Collapse

Police Chief Calvin C. Baxter suffered critical burns in a three-alarm fire which swept a downtown Keego Harbor bowling alley late this morning.

He was rescued unconscious and with third-degree burns over his entire body from the $40,000 Spillwood Lanes Bowling Alley at 2945 Orchard Lake Ave.

Doctors at Pontiac General Hospital said Baxter's chances of survival were "not good."

Firemen continued at 1 p.m. to fight flames which broke out at 11 a.m. There was danger the roof would collapse over the eight-alley one-story building of concrete block.

The inside was gutted, they said. West Bloomfield Township Fire Chief Ben Mosher and the owner, Elmer Mavis, had not yet estimated total damage.

A dentist's office in the front of the building apparently escaped serious damage. Smoke, which still was billowing at 1 p.m., had caused considerable damage to nearby businesses, firemen said.

Baxter, 51, rushed in the building through the front door ahead of firemen. Witnesses said he had just entered the alley floor when a "flash of flame" ripped through the alleys.

Firemen believe it was the lacquered floors suddenly catching ablaze. Baxter dropped to the floor unconscious, they said.

When firemen reached him, only parts of his shirt and trousers were left on his body.

He had entered the building to discover the extent of the blaze, they said.

Several other firemen suffered minor burns not requiring hospital treatment. An off-duty employee said the fire started in a rear building connected by a door to the alleys. Shellac is stored in the building.

Bill Daines said he opened the side door to the building and saw flames and smoke but was unable to close a fire door in the connecting corridor.

Daines had suffered a fractured ankle and was unable to move effectively, he said, because of his crutches. A long-time employee of the alley, he had stopped by to make a routine check, he said.

No employees were at work in the alleys, Mavis said. The building had closed at 11 last night. He said insurance would cover the loss.

Car Output Hits 4,090,833 Mark

Big Three Passenger Production Is Headed by GM

Big Three passenger car production climbed to a total of 4,090,833 units for the first nine months of 1956, figures released by General Motors, Ford and Chrysler indicated today.

General Motors headed production with 2,337,646 autos, compared with 1,148,000 for Ford and 605,097 for Chrysler.

Pontiac output for the period was 258,372, while Chevrolet turned out 1,192,929; Oldsmobile 344,039; Buick 427,313; and Cadillac 114,993.

The GMC Truck & Coach Division produced 71,947 units for the nine months. The division built 4,986 units in September, while Pontiac turned out 19,471.

Only Cadillac showed an increase in production over the first nine months of 1955. General Motors output for 1955's like period was 3,068,991; Ford's was 1,631,965; and Chrysler's was 993,191.

Arson Experts Say Fire Set

Expect More Evidence to Prove Trailer Blaze Deliberate

State Police arson experts expect to have enough evidence within the next two days to prove who set a Sept. 28 house trailer fire which burned out a White Lake Township woman and her two young children.

Mrs. Geneva R. Brewer, 18, and her sons, Thomas, 2, and Lloyd Jr., 14 months, were forced out of their home in the early morning blaze which resulted in $2,000 damages to the trailer and contents.

"We can prove now that the fire was definitely set but it is hard to prove who set it. We should have something substantial within the next two days," stated Det. Douglas Sherwood of the Detroit post this morning.

He pointed out that the results of tests taken of burned clothing and other items would be known then and would likely help establish who committed the crime.

"We are still doing a lot of checking but are certain now it was set because there is no way an accidental fire of that type could have started."

"There was no fire inside the trailer until it burned through the floor. It was set from underneath," Det. Sherwood remarked further.

He said the woman's estranged husband, Lloyd, 23, of Walled Lake, is still under suspicion although he was released earlier from the Oakland County Jail because of insufficient evidence. There are also other suspects whose names have been withheld.

The blaze occurred at a trailer park at M59 and Pontiac Lake road. Part of the trailer was saved by the White Lake Township Fire Department.

Pontiac Man Admits Numerous Breakins

A half-dozen breakins here in the past month were admitted by a 34-year-old man arraigned yesterday on a charge of breaking and entering.

James Killinger, of 28 Parkhurst St., waived examination on a charge of breaking into the Moose Lodge at 350 Mt. Clemens St. Sept. 6 and was bound over for arraignment Monday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Killinger, who was remanded to jail by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCullum on $5,000 bond, admitted taking small change from vending machines.

He also confessed five other breakins, police said, including a church, where he escaped after being spotted inside by a patrolling police officer.

Police Investigate Attempted Holdup

Oakland County Sheriff's detectives today investigated the one-man attempted holdup of the sole attendant of a diner at North-western highway and Orchard Lake road near midnight last night.

The attendant told deputies that the man, in his early 20's threatened to strike him with a bottle but left without getting any money. He apparently escaped in an old pick-up truck, deputies said.

Passenger Is Injured

Mrs. Florence DeFelic, 46, of 404 Lakeview Rd., was treated at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday, authorities said, for minor shoulder and rib injuries suffered in a two-car accident on Union Lake road in Commerce Township.

She was with Mrs. Marguerite B. Campbell, 37, of 355 Vista Dr., according to Oakland County Sheriff's deputies. Mrs. Campbell was not injured nor the other driver, Mrs. Rose M. Shatto, 32, of Milford.

Deputies said Mrs. Shatto's car struck the left side of Mrs. Campbell's at Cooley Lake road.

Wise birds wait!

They don't go out on a limb for the first new car they see. That figures. Because it just naturally takes a little longer to bring out a car that's sweet, smooth and sassy. Like the new '57 Chevrolet. It's new right down to the wheels it rolls on—with a daring new design, a new nothing-like-it automatic drive and a new V8 besides. Longer and lower, too. No wonder wise birds are waiting. Are you one?

Campaign Hits Real Estate

Cobo Says Several Michigan Dems Have Texas Holdings

WAKEFIELD (AP)—Real estate holdings in Arizona and Texas figured in the 1956 campaign for governor of Michigan today.

Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, the Republican nominee for the post now held by Gov. Williams, said yesterday that a group of leading Michigan Democrats had formed a corporation to build a motel near Corpus Christi, Tex.

The statement came in reply to Democrats who have criticized Cobo for his real estate investment in Arizona.

Cobo, addressing a group of Republicans during a campaign tour of the Upper Peninsula, also took issue with a charge made by Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, who had said the mayor was ignoring the state's tourist industry.

"STRICTLY POLITICAL" Cobo said Democrats' interest in the tourist industry is "strictly political and insincere."

The motel project, he said, started with formation of the Padre Beach development of Detroit on capitalization of at least $100,000.

Highway to Pass Through

'Pastel Block' Residents Battling to Save Homes

Baltimore planners and engineers, plotting an inner ring of express highways around the city's congested downtown section, have projected the northwest part of the road right through the one-block street.

Sometimes known as the "pastel block," Tyson Street is lined with old two-story brick row houses of colonial design. At the close of World War II, it was a crowded slum.

Then Edward Rosenfeld, a nationally known painter, bought one house and applied his artistic eye to a repainting and refinishing job that caught the eye of his friends. Others — professional people, designers, advertising writers — bought houses too. All devoted an extraordinary amount of time to repainting, refurbishing and repainting their homes, often in soft pastel greens, blues and pinks.

Tyson Street became a show-place and held an "open house" for visitors each year. Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro helped open the first one. The street was held up as an example of how hard work and imagination could contribute to urban redevelopment.

Today, representatives of homeowners on the little street meet with D'Alesandro, the City Planning Commission and other city officials to appeal the decision to run the beltway through Tyson Street. Previous appeals to the planning commission were unsuccessful.

Miss Shelley Murphy, a YWCA worker who is a member of the "Save Tyson Street Committee," said last night: "This is not progress to build

Bicyclist, 8, Crushed Under Truck Wheels

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—An eight-year-old boy was crushed under the wheels of a loaded steel truck yesterday after he was knocked from his bicycle following his brushing against a furniture van.

Melvin Manure, 24, of Muskegon Heights, driver of the van, told investigators Carl Shiel Jr. Apparently lost control of his bike as he was pedaling along U. S. 31, eight miles south of Grand Haven.

The bicycle swerved into the trailer of the van, throwing the boy and bicycle into the path of the steel truck, which was traveling behind.

Driver of the steel truck was Arthur J. Kitchen, 40, of Akron, Ohio.

Carl was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schell of Rt. 1, West Olive.

Plans Formed on States Rights

Supporters of Ticket in Fall Election Meet to Arrange Rally

WASHINGTON (AP) — Backers of an Independent States Rights ticket in the coming election today announced formation of a national committee and plans for a "states rights-tax reform rally" in Richmond, Va.

States Rights candidate for president is T. Coleman Andrews of Richmond, a former Internal Revenue commissioner under President Eisenhower. His running mate is former Republican Rep. Thomas H. Werdel of Bakersfield, Calif. Andrews formerly listed himself as a Democrat.

The Andrews-Werdel ticket is supported by a number of independent political groups. The avowed aim of the movement is to try to throw the election into the House of Representatives and ultimately to win election of a "conservative" to the presidency.

Selection of 33 business, educational and professional figures from a national committee for the Andrews-Werdel campaign was announced by Clarence E. Manion and John U. Barr, the group's co-chairman.

Manion, of South Bend, Ind., is former dean of the Notre Dame Law School. Barr, of New Orleans is an industrialist.

They announced that at the rally in Richmond on Oct. 15 "candidates Andrews and Werdel will be notified of action taken in a number of states to draft them as candidates, and will deliver their acceptance speeches."

Manion and Barr also said a national headquarters of the Andrews-Werdel committee will be opened this week in Richmond. They said a Washington headquarters already is functioning.

Among those listed as members of the new committee were Gen. George E. Stratmeyer (Ret.); Charles Edlson, former governor of New Jersey and onetime secretary of the Navy; and Ruth McCormick Tankersley, former publisher of the Washington Times-Herald.

Williams Says Parks Needed

Proposes Bond Issue to Expand, Improve
State System

NEWYORK (AP) — A 20 million dollar bond issue to expand and improve the state park system was proposed today by Gov. Williams yesterday as a means of protecting the state's tourist trade.

Williams told this tourist town's Chamber of Commerce that such an investment would be repaid "ten times over" by increased numbers of vacationers.

Under the plan first outlined on an Upper Peninsula campaign swing, improvement fund would be spent over a period of four to five years.

The bond issue would be financed by a $1,400,000 annual income from the leasing of mineral rights on state lands and fees to state park concessionaires.

TIME NOW
"It is time, I believe, to stop relying on inadequate and doubtful legislative appropriations to get this necessary job done," Williams said.

"Our present parks are overcrowded and run down. Many visitors have had to be turned away... yet Republican legislators who are supposed to be representing the areas which depend upon the tourist trade have shown themselves blind to the state park problem."

Williams said he asked the legislature last year to appropriate three million dollars for state park improvements, but the lawmakers appropriated only about half the amount.

"We are not going to be able to keep our six hundred million dollar tourist industry with that kind of support," he said.

Woman Shot in Leg by Own Arrow

REED CITY (INS) — A Gallen, (Mich.), woman deer hunter was in Reed City Hospital today in good condition with an arrow wound in her left leg.

Conservation officers said Mrs. Lois Howard, 22, was deer hunting with her husband, Edward, 23, when an odd accident occurred. The woman shot herself with a bow and arrow.

Officers said that "somehow" Mrs. Howard dropped a "ready" bow which went off.

In another accident in Roscommon County, Robert Sheppard, 32, of Flint, was shot by a hunting companion while small game hunting.

Sheppard was in Clare Hospital today in "good condition peppered with pellets. He was shot by Jack Gibbs, also of Flint.

OPERATION RESCUE — Lending a gentle hand to the frightened kitten, SPCA officer Ray Minton lifts the cat from its trap within the walls after Minton used a new device known as a "Cat Locator" to find the lost kitten. The stethoscope-like gadget is pressed against a wall until the meowing of the lost animal is heard through the instrument. Then, it is merely a simple operation of removing a small section of the partition to free the forlorn cat.

Heroic Jet Pilot Dies in Crash

Waves Away Three Would-Be Rescuers;
Feared Explosion

ROCKLAND, Mass. (AP) — A Naval Reserve flyer, perished in the burning wreckage of his jet plane last night after waving away three would-be rescuers for fear an explosion would harm them.

Scores of persons saw the flames kill Lt. (Jg) Donald R. Good, 27, of Natick, father of two children and a commercial pilot in civilian life.

Three men were scorched slightly while trying desperately to pry open the plastic cockpit canopy which jammed after the plane crashed on the chicken farm of Gerald Del Prete, 38. Witnesses said Lt. Good was still alive while the men were trying to free him. He died after waving away the men who had succeeded in opening the canopy only a few inches.

Del Prete said "when death came to him he was tense. His jaw was set. His lips had been moving. But he wasn't panicky. He was game and courageous."

"The last thing he did in this life was to wave me away. He was afraid the wreckage of his plane was going to blow up and that I'd be killed too."

Del Prete, Policeman Donald O. Hussey and Robert A. Condon tried until the last possible second to rescue Good.

While the three men were working an explosion blew off the tail section of the Cougar jet and sent it 20 feet away.

Auckland, New Zealand, has been having its first tastes of smog.

Say Mass Media Can't Affect Voters' Choices

ANN ARBOR, (INS) — A study recently published by the University of Michigan Institute of Public Administration concludes mass media cannot be used effectively to manipulate large blocs of uninformed voters in a national election.

The study, entitled "Competitive Pressure and Democratic Consent," was based on a nationwide survey of more than 1,500 persons during the 1952 campaign.

Associate Professor Morris Janowitz of the U. of M. sociology department, and Assistant Professor Dwaine Marvick of UCLA, authors of the paper, found mass media campaign coverage appeals mainly to persons already interested and informed about politics. Interest and influence of political news is low among the uninformed.

The authors said politically interested persons tended to vote, while the apathetic stayed away from the polls. They expressed belief this is a healthy sign for the American political process because it indicates a relatively high quality of participation in the elections.

cal news is low among the uninformed.

14-Ton Truck Runs Over Baby

Doctor's Only Theory:
'A Gift of God'

GRAYSLAKE, Ill. (INS) — Expert opinions were given today on how 19-month-old Karen Wahl escaped without a broken bone when run over by a 14-ton truck.

But the simplest explanation was given by Dr. Jerome K. Burke who examined her after she was rushed to his office yesterday. He said, marveling:

"It was a gift of God from the sky."

Puzzled physicians studied X-rays at Conell Memorial Hospital in nearby Libertyville where the child was taken for observation. They could offer no better reason for the miracle than the one advanced by Burke.

MOTHER WITNESSES
Mrs. Jeanne Wahl, 30, Karen's mother, witnessed the accident when she went to look for her daughter. Her eyes automatically studied the excavation taking place next door to her home.

A big excavating truck, carrying a crane, had started forward to the road. In its path lay Karen.

The mother watched horrified and began screaming when a front wheel of the truck ran over her daughter. The truck continued and the middle set of double wheels also rolled over Karen.

Joseph W. Grouss, the driver, heard Mrs. Wahl's screams and stopped. They ran to the child under the truck and rushed Karen to the doctor's office.

Burke found the child bruised from the waist down. Her skin showed marks of tire treads. Sand and gravel from the shoulder of the road, where she had been lying, had been driven under her skin. But no bones were broken.

Fight Fire With Fire

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — James Arthur, a letter carrier, was bitten by dogs four times in his first four years on the job, but he has solved the mailman's perennial problem. Arthur now takes a 10-year-old Boxer as a companion on his route, and he hasn't been bitten since the new assistant joined him two years ago.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION

— 30 —

The whole Pontiac area—and especially this newspaper—lose a great friend and a valuable ally in the death of A. B. LEDDICK.

The composing room which produced the paper you are now reading was under his direction for a third of a century. Mr. LEDDICK assumed the top spot at an early age but he did it because of keen managerial ability and a thorough understanding of the mechanical operations A. B. LEDDICK under his supervision. Beyond this, he possessed an unusual sense of loyalty to his men and to his employer.

No one pushed him around. Yet he was eminently fair.

A belief in himself and his own decision was always tempered by kindness and a consideration for others. He insisted upon a competent day's work and yet was the first to guard against unfair assignments or uneven allotments. Great responsibilities rested on his shoulders during the period of Pontiac's "growing pains" when we emerged from the status of a village and became a thriving, growing community. His own genius for organization kept his complicated mechanical department abreast and even ahead of current developments.

The composing room as it stands today was his own basic conception of layout and arrangement. This newspaper has won many, many prizes for typographical excellence over the years and Mr. LEDDICK played a part in these achievements.

Of late years, he had been deprived of his normally good health and had voluntarily surrendered the reins of management to DONALD O. NEWMAN while he continued here such hours as he could.

He was active in community affairs throughout his busy life and held many honors. But the biggest is one of which he may have been in partial ignorance: the love and respect of men, women and children who looked up to him and were proud to be numbered among those that knew him.

A good citizen departs. A dear friend walks proudly into the Final Sunset.

The Price of Liberty Is Eternal Vigilance

Many persons have been inclined to favor the proposal that eighteen year olds should be permitted to vote. One argument that has been advanced has been that if they are old enough to fight for their country they are old enough to vote in its elections.

However, a survey conducted recently by Look Magazine brings out some facts that are rather sobering. The survey was not far reaching enough to be at all conclusive, nor was it scientifically conducted. It covered thirteen hundred students at twenty-four colleges.

It showed that thirty-four per cent of the students had no interest in who won this fall's presidential election; that only two out of five eligible to vote for the first time planned to do so.

This plainly indicates that there is much work for the young voters' clubs in all of the political parties to do. It is also a sobering fact for all to contemplate who are wondering about the future of their country.

A dictatorship runs along so long as the ruling man can live and maintain control. But a free nation remains governed, at least well governed, only so long as the great mass of its citizens maintain a healthy interest in their government, and participate actively in it.

And when it comes to liberty, eternal vigilance is required of a people if they are to retain it. That is the sobering fact which should be called to the attention of all these young people who are so fortunate as to be able to seek higher education here, but who seem so wholly unconscious that they have any responsibility whatever in the preservation of the freedom they enjoy.

A CANDIDATE for city councilman of Palermo, Italy, whose wife went with him to the polls where both voted, received only one vote in the election. One of this pair must not have much confidence in him.

Through the years you have heard the love of money condemned, but did you ever hear of anybody who hated money?

The Man About Town

The Fall Colors

Attaining Tops in Beauty Over the Coming Weekend

Boomerang: A device that comes back to strike the thrower—like a campaign lie.

The autumn color display should reach its peak in the Pontiac area during the coming weekend. The yellow of the hickory, ash, elm and sassafras trees now is with us. The apple, peach, cherry and pear trees will soon follow, largely in the same color. The vivid red of the sumac in the hedgerows now is at its best.

The maples, with their rainbow color range from a pale pink to a deep red, are being crowned with glory that will soon reach the coronation stage. The stubborn oaks, always reluctant to don their characteristically somber hues, will change a little later. The green of the firs gives assurance that they will defy winter and be even more beautiful when they have the leaf decoration of the landscape without competition.

A drive in the country during the next couple of weeks will be a beautiful revelation to you. And always remember that Mother Nature is seen in her unspooled best on the so called back roads.

A football contest entry, A University of Michigan alumnus, picked State to win Saturday's game, with the notation, "This hurts."

One of the items requested in a scavenger hunt at a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Randall Felch of Rochester was a clipping of that day's "Man About Town" column, which was found by all of the 15 contestants within two blocks of the Felch home.

A 20-pound watermelon from the garden of Mallory Smithfield at Pontiac Lake had a better flavor than anything shipped here from the south—or our taste has gone haywire.

Five one-dollar bills were missing the other day from a table in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Meredith of Oxford. They were found in a nearby hollow log where "Blackie," their pet crow, has a habit of storing things.

Speaking of gorgeous autumn colors, we'll stack the trees along Maple St. in our home town of Holly against anything in the entire world.

A large swarm of bees for several years have made their home over 50 feet above ground in a hollow tree on the farm of Perry Winthrop of Birmingham, located near Caro. It recently was cut down and yielded over 500 pounds of honey, most of which was gathered in wash tubs.

David Lawrence Says:

Campaign Getting Out of Hand

WASHINGTON—The campaign addresses have injured American prestige abroad and have seriously damaged the diplomacy of the free world.

To denounce conscription, as Stevenson has done, is to undermine the strength of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

To blame the Suez crisis on the withdrawal by Secretary Dulles of American aid to Egypt for the Aswan Dam—as Eisenhower charges—is to encourage Nasser and make more difficult negotiation of a peaceful settlement.

To call upon the United States—as Stevenson has done—for abandonment of H-bomb tests even if Russia doesn't stop and then, when this is criticized, to demand America take the "leadership" in banning such tests because, in Stevenson's belief Russia is willing to renounce them, is to complicate the problem of negotiating a disarmament agreement.

Is all this a proper topic to be debated in a political campaign? INTO THE WATER

Apparently the old principle that "politics should end at the water's edge" has been abandoned by Democratic campaigners. Former President Truman has added to the confusion by his comments. He says he wouldn't have let Soviet Russia get a foothold in the Middle East. How would he have stopped the Kremlin? By war? By the same tactics that failed in Korea and China?

Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany has been having a hard time getting sanction from his parliament on the draft or conscription law. The term of service there was recently shortened as a compromise. The same issue is up throughout the NATO countries, especially in Britain.

Stevenson's attack on the draft implies he would depend entirely on the volunteer system. Yet the relatively low number of draftees being called today is directly attributed to the fact that many young men prefer to volunteer so as to get through their military service at a particular time instead of waiting to be drafted at some period in an uncertain future.

Stevenson says he and many others feel "the draft is a wasteful, inefficient and often unfair way of maintaining our armed forces, and now it is fast becoming an obsolete way." He adds:

"We may very well find that in the not far distant future we can abolish the draft and at the same time have a stronger defense and at lower cost."

When the American people choose a president, they also choose a commander-in-chief of the armed forces. In this day and age, can Stevenson be pictured as a man to be trusted as commander-in-chief, especially when he is willing to abolish the draft and rely on the volunteer system. This will become a vital question in the campaign.

FOREIGNERS APPROVE

The morale of military leaders will be dealt a severe blow not only in this country but abroad when there is a full understanding of the meaning of Stevenson's proposals. The experience of the United States has always been pointed to as an example of the importance of conscription. The fact that in this country it is a two-year term of service has been cited in the debates in foreign parliaments as an argument against abolishing conscription or shortening the service by too much.

Stevenson repeatedly has said America is "losing the cold war." But his speech about the draft has done much to give an advantage to Moscow. It strikes at the whole defense setup of the allies. If Stevenson should be elected, there could emerge a Europe weakened by America's attitude toward conscription which could tempt the Communists to take a chance on a big war, as Hitler did.

Five more weeks of this kind of campaigning—and possibly an interval of "transition" between election and inauguration day, if Stevenson should somehow win the close race—and the American people may well face big risks on the world scene. No wonder the stock market lately has been fluctuating.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Prevention of Rheumatism Is in Right Nourishment

This job would be deadly, after a few years, were it not for the leavening of letters from readers who think of me as an old friend. Informative letters, letters giving me what for and letters that pique my curiosity.

Here's one from a reader who says:

"My boy 15 has had gum inflammation for 3 years, since he had rheumatic fever. Doctors tell me they know neither the cause nor a cure for it.

My knees sound like the squeaking of new leather and feel worse. And I'm feeling very old at 45." (Signed) —

Let the doctors move over. I don't know the cause or a cure for it, either. In fact I can't imagine what the boy's gum trouble may be. And I became so preoccupied with the puzzle that I absent-mindedly filled my pipe and was about to light it when I remembered it is a work day and on work days I smoke only after dinner in the evening.

Just on the off chance I'd like to suggest that you make sure the boy gets an optimal daily ration of vitamins ACD and B complex. And it will do no harm to study Volume 1 of the Pocket Encyclopedia of Health, Save Your Teeth, for which send 35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The more I think about it, the greater the improbability that the gum inflammation is in any way related with the rheumatic fever.

Your creaky knees speak much more clearly than the boy's inflamed gums. But before I tell you what they say, I must admit it is downright quackish to pretend to make a long distance diagnosis on (1) squeaking knees and (2) old feeling. In extenuation I plead that if my corrective advice does no good, it will do no harm to try.

Your knee trouble Ma'am, is probably the earliest manifestation of physical degeneration of joint tissues, the common complaint which I call Rheumatiz.

From what many correspondents have reported in the past 10 years, I am inclined to ascribe Rheumatiz (I do not mean arthritis) to nutritional deficiency through the years from early childhood up to now. Especially deficient daily intake of Calcium, Vitamin D, vitamin B-complex and Iodin. Remember, this applies to Rheumatiz, that is, insidious chronic joint disability, and not to inflammation or infection of joints. Inflammation or infection of joint tissues is arthritis, and the only advice I can give a person with arthritis is: Consult your physician.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright 1956)

Neglect Bright Children for Dull?

Lola is an excellent teacher for she loves her pupils even to the extent of letting her heart dominate her head. That's why she violently disagrees with my remarks in previous columns this week about grading all pupils with an "E", if they are working hard. But consider the Minneapolis family described below. Then vote, keeping in mind America in the year 2,056 A.D.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case S-381: Lola K., aged 29, is an attractive and very successful teacher.

"Dr. Crane, I disagree with you very much," she began heatedly, "for I still prefer to grade all pupils alike."

"If they are working efficiently, then I give them an 'E', so there."

"I have seen too many discouraged children who received poor marks, so I don't believe in lowering their morale if they are working hard."

"I think you should retract your urging us to go back to the old-fashioned method of using arithmetical grades."

WRIGLEY'S ADVICE

"When two men in a business always agree," said Mr. Wrigley, "one of them is unnecessary."

That's a choice quotation to explain why your editor runs all sorts of features and columns. For he realizes many people hold divergent opinions. Sometimes they deluge the editor with hot letters. But that very fact is an indirect tribute to the broad educational job which the newspaper is performing.

This is to Mayor Cobo. What difference does it make if Governor Williams does have something to do with the Mennen Company in New Jersey? So what if his mother is vice president of that company? Personally, I don't see where it is any of your business.

You say the company doesn't pay taxes in Michigan. Why should it? It isn't here. Why gripe because he doesn't use Michigan-made trucks? Honestly, I think you'd better grow up and quit your griping about what people do and what trucks they use.

Governor Williams will get my vote. So long as I vote I can hold. Why don't you parties work together instead of tearing each other to pieces? Work for the good of the country. I'll still vote for the man and not a party.

So President Eisenhower is a good-goody! There are several million of us good-goodies who have high moral values, who remember the Sabbath, who are now praying daily that the men elected to high office may continue to humbly seek the guidance of God and follow His will.

Contrast a president who tried to drink the Russians under the conference table (and a first lady who advised in a leading women's magazine that parents teach their children how much liquor they can carry) with a president who would insist on no alcoholic beverages in the White House.

No man with high moral values would classify as good-goody a person who takes a firm stand on truth and honesty and lives what he believes in, even if it makes him unpopular.

'Let People Decide on Own Clothes'

People have their own likes and dislikes. I am not a lover of Bermuda shorts, but I think if people want to wear them that is their business.

Maybe this man who says it's such a disgrace for people to wear Bermuda shorts does something that other people think is a disgrace.

I think people should have their own choice in what they wear it, and when they wear it. If we shot everyone we see wearing Bermuda shorts, there would be a lot of shooting going on.

It may seem harsh to some of you parents, but you must fall back on your psychological axiom regarding morality. That which does the most good for the most people over the longest period of time, is right and proper, moral and just.

As a scientist, I look beyond the helpless child or the dull pupil in the classroom to the America we should have in the year 2056 when our great - great - grandchildren should be running things.

With that viewpoint, I am compelled to urge that we stress the survival of the fit. So temper your love with wisdom. Don't penalize future leaders to mollycoddle the unfit unduly.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped self-addressed envelope and the covering and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Does Nationalizing Property Pay Off?

NEW YORK (AP)—Does it pay one nation to seize the property of others? Some seem to think so, but the question is whether they can run it themselves. Also whether they'll scare off further outside financial aid.

Seizure of the Suez Canal is the latest example of the nationalization that has been gaining strength in various areas. Users of the canal are meeting in London to decide how they can get along under Egyptian nationalization of the property. Meanwhile foreign ministers of Egypt, Russia, Britain and France are heading for New York to debate before the United Nations Security Council.

But on the purely business and investment front the debate is largely one of dollars and cents. Americans have huge sums invested abroad—more than 19 billion dollars worth of property and securities. The underdeveloped countries are crying for more while every now and then some nation seizes foreign-held and foreign-developed properties.

No one knows when, where or how the next blow will fall," says the First National City Bank of New York in its October letter out today.

"Nationalization of foreign assets, repudiation of debt and anti-foreign discriminations in various shapes and forms afford poor inducement for outside people to risk either their tax money or their private savings in areas that do not recognize a code of fair conduct in international financial relations. Who wants to throw good money after bad?"

On the question of whether nations really profit by seizing the property of others, the bank notes that "in general, the record shows—where nationalization has been tried—not more, but less, production has resulted." It cites two examples: the seizure of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. wells and the great Abadan refinery by Mosaddegh in 1951 in Iran, and the nationalization of the tin mines by Bolivia in 1952.

The next nationalization step most feared by American business at the moment involves the oil fields in the Arabian lands. But American business can take comfort from an Associated Press dispatch from Iraq saying that so far the Arabians give no sign of following Nasser's example.

Two Boys Held in $150,000 Fire

Pair Admits Playing With Lighted Torches in Drying Shed

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Two Grand Rapids boys, aged 9 and 15, were held today in connection with a spectacular $150,000 fire that destroyed seven acres of stacked cordwood at the American Excelsior Corp.

Sgt. Glenroy Walker of the Rockford state police arson squad said the boys admitted they had played with torches made of rolled paper Monday night in one of the company's drying sheds on Grand Rapids' outskirts.

Walker said the boys told him they set fire to an old truck seat, then threw sawdust on it to put out the flames. Thinking the fire was out, they left.

Walker said the fire smoldered in the seat for an hour and then spread to the truck's gasoline tank. Flames swiftly engulfed the shed, then spread to between 3,500 and 4,000 cords of wood stacked in a seven-acre storage lot.

About 700 firemen fought the blaze at its peak. Flames shooting more than 100 feet into the air attracted thousands of spectators.

Walker said he would bring charges against the 15-year-old today in juvenile court.

The company was to resume operations today. The mill of the plant, which produces excelsior and sweeping compound, escaped damage.

Soph Flying High After Plane Trip He Didn't Plan

CLAREMONT, Calif. (INS)—Tedd Determan is the toast of the Claremont College campus today instead of just another baldheaded underclassman.

He returned to a hero's welcome at Los Angeles International Airport yesterday after gaining nationwide attention by being kidnapped by freshmen and shipped to New York on a nonstop plane Sunday.

The freshman prank, a departure from the traditional hazing of the sophomore class president by shaving his head and marooning him on Mt. Baldy, backfired and resulted in the husky 19-year-old Determan having a transcontinental bail.

Determan, who as soph president directed the hair removing of numerous frosh, was greeted in

New York by a kiss from Hollywood starlet Natalie Wood. WHO WOULD?

After enchanting moments with her he commented: "I wouldn't trade places with Elvis Presley."

Then he was whined and dined by a pretty New York girl, Aleta Myers. He was a guest on a nationwide television show. And he visited his brother, Dean, at Princeton.

On his return, he was greeted at International Airport by a festive 50-car cavalcade from Claremont College, a brass band from Pomona College, an ROTC color guard and his girl friend, Ann Kirkwood. He was escorted in triumph back to Claremont, 30 miles east of Los Angeles.

STRAIGHT FROM THE HORSE'S MOUTH—Standing in almost the same stolid position of the statue, a group of youngsters watch the desired-but-forbidden flow of water rushing from the mouth of the Horse Fountain at Kansas City's city hall. The children had been using the fountain pools and sprays for an instant cooler during the hot days, but were recently forbidden to use the water until tests were completed to see if it was safe. After a long and hot wait, the unhappy youngsters learned that the water passed the test but officials decided that the hazards were too great to allow bathing.

Pontiac to Pay $1,624,739.98

City's Share 22 Per Cent of County's 1957 Budget

Pontiac will pay 22 per cent of Oakland County's 1957 budget of $7,416,572 to be raised by taxation, the Board of Supervisors learned Monday.

Pontiac's share, based on 1956 state equalization figures, will be $1,624,739.98.

Townships will receive a levy of $2,485,317.28 while Oakland County cities will raise $4,931,654.72 by taxation this year.

Waterford Township's share of the $7 million figure will be $219,658.55. Pontiac Township is slated to raise $55,415.90.

The Board accepted the county's 1957 budget, totaling $9,199,561.20, in other action Monday.

British Debt Rises

LONDON—Great Britain's public debt now totals more than 76 billion dollars, making it second only to the United States in the world's debt ledger. The debt, in terms of dollars, is more than double the pre-World War II figure, but in terms of sterling the growth has been nearly fourfold—from 7½ billion pounds in 1939 to 27½ billion pounds now.

Donaldson Proclaims Week of Oct. 8 as 'Employ Handicapped' in Pontiac

Mayor William W. Donaldson has proclaimed the week beginning Oct. 7 as "Employ the Handicapped" week in Pontiac.

The proclamation followed similar action taken recently on the national and state levels in order to bring attention to the gains being made in securing suitable employment for the handicapped.

Red Cross, Civil Defense to Meet at Haven Hill

Red Cross Chapters from seven counties and Civil Defense directors from the same counties will meet Wednesday Oct. 10 at Haven Hill Lodge in Gighland.

Arthur Heaton, director of Gound Observer Corp. of Pontiac says this is the first time Red Cross has ever called such a meeting with CD directors.

Featured speaker is Verne Zimmerman, Red Cross liaison attached to Federal Civil Defense in Battle Creek. Walter K. Willman, Pontiac City Manager will speak on the proposed Michigan Municipal disaster.

Others attending the meeting from the Oakland County area will be Ransford Gromley, asstant director of Civil Defense for Oakland County; Mrs. John Warren, Welfare Coordinator of Civil Defense for the county; Mrs. George Eberle of Milford, County Director of GOC; Mrs. Mildred E. Bennett, chapter executive director; Mrs. Wilbur Mitchell of Royal Oak, chairman of volunteer and James Harrington, chairman of survey committee for Oakland County Chapter.

Counties represented at the meeting will be Oakland, Macomb, Wayne, Genesee, Washtenaw, St. Clair and Monroe. Ralph Thomas, chapter chairman for Genesee County will be meeting chairman.

Over 2,000,000 disabled veterans and others with handicaps have been set aside for this cause since the Congress of the United States enacted Public Law 176 in 1945 in recognition of the valiant and successful effort physically handicapped persons made in producing the material which was used to win World War II.

About one person in ten and one veteran in twelve has a physical handicap or condition which requires that they be selectively placed. Many have applications on file with the State Employment Service where they have received aptitude testing, counseling, and advice in choosing work better suited for them.

Voter Registration Lags

DETROIT (AP)—Voter registration in Detroit still is 100,000 short of the record 988,307 for the 1952 presidential election, officials reported Tuesday. Registration closes Monday.

Flying Actor Nabbed for Diving Over Houses

Steve Cochran faces a Municipal Court arraignment Friday on a charge of careless flying.

The complaint was filed yesterday by two Los Angeles police helicopter patrol officers who said they saw the actor dive his light plane to about 100 feet over his Beverly Hills home last Wednesday.

Dangerous Pursuit

IONIA (AP)—Donald Wolfington, 42, of Ionia, will have 60 days in jail to decide whether it was worth intercepting a police car sent to intercept him. Wolfington led police on a mile-long chase at 70 m.p.h. and ran their car off the road before they finally stopped him. Besides the jail term Wolfington was fined $54.90 and costs on a charge of drunk driving.

Mother Botches Bank Robbery

Legless Veteran's Wife Foiled in Pitiful Holdup, Police Puzzled

CLEVELAND (U)—A young mother failed in a pitiful attempt at a bank robbery yesterday, and police were puzzled at her motive. They arrested Mrs. Maybelle Millard, 25, mother of four children, and wife of a 30-year-old veteran who lost both legs in France during World War II.

She is accused of trying to rob a shopping center branch of the Cleveland Trust Co. with a note demanding money. She carried no gun, and left without loot when the woman teller rang the alarm.

Police saw her drive away in a 1935 station wagon and took the license number. She was arrested when she drove up to her comfortable, ranch-style home in suburban Highland Heights about three hours later.

Her husband, Richard, 30, draws a disability pension and is employed as a finisher by an optical firm. He said his wife had been under doctor's care for a year.

The bank teller, 30-year-old Mrs. Florence M. Rees, said the woman showed three rolls of pennies at her and a piece of children's drawing paper on which was crudely lettered:

"Don't say anything. Give me your money. I have a buddy at the door with a gun on you."

Mrs. Rees opened a drawer, pressed the alarm button and gave the woman a dollar bill and two quarters in exchange for the pennies. The woman picked up $1.25 and left.

Mrs. Millard was taken to county jail. FBI District Chief H. O. Hawkins said attempted bank robbery charges would be filed.

'Tea Parties' Called Best Vote Getters

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (U)—Democratic leaders admit that tea parties are more effective for getting votes than the old-fashioned political rally.

State Rep. Harry F. Curvin, veteran speaker of the house of representatives, told a meeting of city and town Democratic chairmen last night:

"Rallies are necessary for color and window dressing. But for real, down to earth campaigning, for winning converts to the Democratic Party, you can't beat tea parties."

State Democratic chairman Frank Rao said the party will hold more than 300 tea parties in Providence alone before the Nov. 6 elections.

Youth Sets Three Fires Amounting to $9,000

GREENSBORO, N.C. (U)—The mystery of three recent fires which caused $9,000 damages here cleared when a 14-year-old youth told police he set them.

Asked why, he replied: "I like to watch fires and see firemen work."

DALE DALY

Name Fenton Man to Boy Scout Post

A 26-year-old Fenton man, Dale Daly, has been appointed executive of the Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council's Manito District, according to Edward H. Leland, council executive.

Daly will have charge of 2,000 Oakland County scouts north of Pontiac. The post has been vacant two years.

A newcomer to scouting executive positions, Daly will leave Oct. 14 for six weeks at the Scout's professional training school at Mendon, N. J.

He will return to direct the district's activities from the council office at 53½ W. Huron St.

A graduate of Michigan State University, Daly is married and plans to live in Pontiac.

Benny Fiddles While Carnegie Charity Earns

NEW YORK (U)—Comedian Jack Benny solemnly sawed a fiddle for laughs—and charity—in an unusual "concert" in Carnegie Hall last night.

Impeccable in white tie and tails, Benny dusted off a borrowed Stradivarius and strode on to the stage where Heifetz, Kreisler and Elman made musical history.

He tucked the violin under his chin with professional aplomb and prepared to play. But he stopped before he started. He had forgotten his bow.

The audience howled.

And so it went as Benny wrestled with Sarasote's woefully difficult "Zigeunerweisen" (Gypsy Airs) and the first movement of Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto.

In the middle of the "Gypsy Airs," he fiddled into his trademark number, "Love in Bloom," without missing a beat.

Seventy members of the New York Philharmonic-Symphony Orchestra more or less accompanied the violinist.

The concert was a benefit for the Committee to Save Carnegie Hall and the National Assn. for Retarded Children.

Too Pooped to Be Popular Bing Has Lost His Zing

LONDON (U)—Bing Crosby said today the demand for his recordings is down to a "faint whisper" because he is running plumb out of drive and enthusiasm.

The old crooner, a toptoner for three decades, made his comment in a letter written from Hayden Lake, Idaho, to the popular music columns in the Daily Express.

The column recently did a treatise on the 32-year-old crooner entitled, "Is Bing Crosby going out—or has he gone?" Crosby replied, explaining:

"I'm just not as enthusiastic as I used to be. The feel for a song isn't there, the desire to sing, to be in action—and when this is absent, so is the style."

"I don't think increasing age has got anything to do with it or that the pipes are getting rusty, because I believe voice quality has very little to do with public acceptance of a popular singer."

GOP Thrown Curve on Eve of Ball Series

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (U)—On the eve of the world series, Rep. Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) last night threw a curve at the Republicans in general and Secretary of Agriculture Benson in particular.

Addressing 550 party faithful, the Speaker of the House said, "I heard someone say the other day that the way to beat the Yankees was to put Ezra Taft Benson in charge of their farm program."

The New York Yankees, who have won 16 world series—five in the last seven years—meet the Brooklyn Dodgers in the first game of the 1936 series today.

Calcutta will open five new colleges.

150 Turn Out for Follies Kickoff

in the High Fever Follies, Oct. 24 and 25 at Pontiac High School. Mrs. Merrill will assist with talent for the show, and Mr. Merrill will serve as stage manager.

Mrs. Forest Wood (left) of Tilden avenue is shown as she selected her choice of sandwiches at the kickoff party for the High Fever Follies. The party, held at the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan building Tuesday evening, was to inform the public of the show and to sign up acts to be presented on the stage of Pontiac High School, Oct. 24, 25. Mrs. George Wetterhahn (right), also of Tilden avenue, signed up people for the chorus during the party.

brook (right) of New York City, director of the 1936 High Fever Follies. One hundred and fifty attended the Follies kickoff party for the Oct. 24-25 show. The auxiliary sponsors the yearly stage show.

A helping hand is given the refreshment committee at the kickoff party for the High Fever Follies by Charles Allen of Pioneer drive, who has offered to put trays of cookies on the buffet table. Telling him to

"please" not drop the tray are (left) Mrs. Jack Hale of Walce street and Mrs. Allen, members of the Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital, sponsors of the annual show.

Round Table 200 Attend Pontiac Council PTA Meet

Dr. Sarah Jones Gives Talk on Trip Through 16 Nations

The first fall meeting of the Round Table Club was held Tuesday at Ted's Restaurant with Mrs. Eugene Cleland presiding at the luncheon and program.

Dr. Sarah Van Hoesen Jones, former member of the board at Michigan State University, gave a descriptive account of her recent cruise around the world. She was introduced by Mrs. H. T. Riley.

Her trip included 16 countries and 23 ports. She included in her talk the land tours of South Africa and the interior of India.

Mrs. Harold Stuart was received into the club as a new member. Guests at the luncheon were Mrs. William Donaldson, Mrs. Karl Kreitz, Mrs. Oscar Lundbeck and Mrs. Paul Maize.

The tables were arranged with zinnias and marigolds in red, yellow and gold, set off by trailing vines and brightly colored fall leaves.

Mrs. E. M. Orr, Mrs. Clyde Nelson, Mrs. Roy Ashwin, Mrs. E. G. Winn and Mrs. T. C. McFetridge were hostesses for the day.

About 200 members and friends of Pontiac Council of PTA met Tuesday evening at James Madison Junior High School for the annual fall workshop sessions.

George Yansen, principal of the school, opened the meeting by giving the invocation.

Reports were given, and an announcement made of the annual work, weaving, basket weaving, millinery, needlepoint, candle-making and novelties. Food and plants will not be accepted.

5. Pictures must be framed and ready for hanging.

6. Exhibits will be limited to four per person in each category.

7. Each exhibitor must sign a statement releasing the sponsoring agency and the Detroit Historical Museum from liability for damage or loss.

8. Application forms in triplicate must accompany each entry.

9. Items sold may not be removed from the show until the close of the exhibit.

10. Exhibits entered must be delivered in a box or boxes showing the exhibitor's name and address on each box.

11. Exhibits must be delivered and picked up at the center.

12. Entries may be made through Thursday, Oct. 11, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 8 p.m.

Parent Education Institute to be held in the Hackham Building, Ann Arbor, Nov. 7 and 8.

The Institute is sponsored by the University of Michigan/Extension Service and the Michigan Congress of PTA.

It was also announced that the White House Conference on Education will be held at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 12 in Pontiac High School.

Following the sectional meetings, refreshments were served by PTA members of Malldin, Wisner, Owen Central, McCarroll, Madison Junior High and Willis Schools.

Fete Mrs. Davis at Stork Shower

Mrs. Vertie Davis and Mrs. Leo James were cohostesses at a pink and blue shower for Mrs. Roger Davis Saturday evening. The shower was held at the honoree's home on South Francis street.

Those attending were Mrs. R. P. Holmes, Noel Osburn, Phyllis Cotcher, Maxine Cochran, Mrs. Mack Kennedy, Mrs. Robert Dunn, Marlene Doolin, Celestine Potts, Anna Brandrup, Mrs. Charles Cohen and Mrs. Robert Boyd.

Completing the guest list were Mrs. Betty Brandrup, Mrs. Carl Rogers, Mrs. Shirley Turner, Mrs. Donald Lang, Mrs. Georgia Uffelman and Julie O'Brien.

Jean Shaw Marries James Tinson

To reside on South Edith street are Mr. and Mrs. James S. Tinson who were married Saturday morning at St. Michael Church. The Rev. Norman Thomas performed the 11 o'clock ceremony in the presence of 200 guests.

The bride is the former Jean Francis Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil R. Shaw of Omar street. Mrs. James Hutchings of North Roselawn drive and Harry Tinson of Rockcroft drive, are parents of the bridegroom.

As she approached the altar the bride was wearing a gown of French lace and nylon tulle. Iridescent sequins were applied on lace panels accenting back and front of the bouffant skirt, that fell into a chapel-length train.

A sequin headpiece secured her veil of silk illusion. She carried an arrangement of carnations and lilies of the valley centered with an orchid, on her Bible.

SISTER TAKES PART

Florence Shaw attended her sister as maid of honor. Her gown was of gold crystallette in a ballerina-length. A crown headpiece with nose veil completed her costume. She carried a bouquet of gold-colored carnations.

Wearing similar ensembles in turquoise crystallette were Mrs. James Parker, Mary Lee Tunny and Sue Tinson, the bride's other attendants. Their bouquets were of turquoise-colored carnations.

Harry Tinson served his brother as best man. Seating the guests were James Parker, Joe Tinson and Jack Hutchings.

Mrs. Shaw chose a gown of mist blue lace over tulle with black accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of carnations and rosebuds.

A pink and gray satin dress with black accessories was the choice of Mrs. Hutchings. Her corsage was also of carnations and rosebuds.

A wedding breakfast was served at Devon Gables following the ceremony, and an evening reception was held at the H. of C. Hall.

When the couple left for a wedding trip in Canada, the bride was wearing a brown tweed suit with matching colored accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Local Club Hears Talk by Hirlinger

John Hirlinger, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, spoke at the proposed Pontiac Civic Auditorium at the Monday luncheon meeting of Women's Literary Club, held at the Elks Temple. Twenty-eight members attended this first meeting of the fall season.

Mr. Hirlinger spoke of the auditorium and told of the progress that is being made toward its construction.

Announcement was made of the Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs meeting scheduled in Royal Oak. Mrs. Dale Moats will be a delegate to the meeting, to be held in Congregational Church Oct. 9-10.

Mrs. Raymond Swaney, chairman of the day, was assisted by Mrs. P. G. Latimer, Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh, Mrs. Henry Boen and Mrs. Ida Reeves.

Keloa Klub Holds Dinner, Plans Tea

A formal dinner party at the Elks Temple was held by members of Keloa Klub recently. The party was also a reception for new members of the group.

Plans for the Alumni Tea are being completed. Betty Bradley and Gail Blamy will serve as chairmen for the affair. Members are preparing for the Needlework Guild gathering to be held in November.

Jean Frances Shaw became the bride of James S. Tinson Saturday in St. Michael Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil R. Shaw of Omar street. James is the son of Mrs. James Hutchings of North Roselawn drive and Harry Tinson of Rockcroft drive.

Select Job That Suits Your Pace

By ANNE HEYWOOD
One of my mother's favorite expressions was that some people were in "the right church but the wrong pew."

Vocationally speaking, I think this is all too often true.

For example, people go into sales work because they love sales. But they forget that the atmosphere and pace of the particular job they choose, the place they work or the customers they will meet, will make all the difference in the world between being happy in sales or not.

Some young women are disappointed in the retailing field because they pictured a big, exciting and beautiful store with hundreds of personalities, a fast pace and big turnover. Instead, they find themselves in a small, easy-going shop where the pace is leisurely and the emphasis is on service to the customer instead of large volume sales.

The solution is not to give up the sales field but to find a spot more suitable to one's own pace.

In the secretarial field, there are all kinds of jobs for all kinds of girls.

One girl may insist on a private office, all the latest office equipment, air conditioning, wall-to-wall carpeting and an atmosphere of quiet dignity.

This formality and slower pace might bore other girls to death. They would be much more happy with a small, struggling, new company which is operating on a shoestring, where everyone pitches in and does the work at hand.

WANT CHALLENGE
Instead of a new typewriter, they may have to put up with one held together with a bobby pin but, to them, this would be a challenge.

If you have an uneasy feeling about the field you are in, ask yourself a few questions and find out how you feel about the intangibles that make up the atmosphere or climate of your job.

Do you like formality or informality? Do you like a fast or slow pace? Can you work under pressure? Does a private office mean a lot to you? Are the physical surroundings very important?

In applying for a new job, pay a good deal of attention to these things.

OBVIOUS SIGNS
There are all kinds of ways for you to decide what the pace of a new job will be.

You can tell from the way the office is decorated, the way phones are answered, the great man's behavior, the way other people move around the office.

All of these things will give you a clue as to whether the office is formal or informal, well-equipped or poorly equipped, pressured or leisurely.

Serious consideration of them will prevent your entering the wrong church or the wrong pew.

Watch Age Become Ally When You Stop Fighting It

Frantic Effort to Stay Young Is Foolish; Woman in 50's Should Seek Serenity

By RUTH MILLETT

If you want American women to agree with you, never so much as hint that a middle-aged woman who devotes her life to trying to stay young may be wasting her time.

A recent column of mine taught me that.

In it I deplored the frantic need to hang onto youth that goes so many women in their fifties. I questioned their thinking that if they spend enough time in beauty parlors, spend enough money on clothes and work hard at always being the life of the party they need never grow old.

Well it was like stirring up a hornet's nest. "How could you be so cruel?" they asked.

What's cruel about telling women that if they will relax and be their age, they'll be better off than in fighting against age? Or that they should spend less time looking in their mirrors and more time looking at the world about them, letting serenity replace forced vivaciousness?

FALL FOR COME-ON
The reason this kind of straight talk seems cruel is probably because so many people have told women that they can have eternal youth. They've fallen for the come-on.

"Use this face cream and you'll never have wrinkles," they are promised.

"Use this soap and you'll have the dewy complexion of youth." Buy this, buy that, do this, do that and you'll win your battle against age.

It just isn't so. The only way a woman can defeat age is by accepting it, not fighting it. And that doesn't mean that she has to retire to a rocking chair and a box of bonbons, as one writer accuses me of wanting a woman to do as soon as she reaches fifty.

MAKE AGE ALLY
It just means that a woman should gracefully accept her age—whatever it is—and make her age her ally instead of her enemy.

It is the woman who doesn't try to fool anyone about her age who knows that every age has its possibilities and its rewards.

She is the one who is willing to try to be an attractive-looking woman of 50 or 60 instead of trying to look younger than she is. And she seems really young to others.

The woman who tries to cling to youth is the only one whose age makes her seem pathetic.

Miss Hutchinson Honor Guest at Bridal Shower

Rosemary Hutchinson, bride-elect of Henry Watson, was honored recently at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. Russell Lindsay at her home on West Walton boulevard.

Rosemary is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Allen Hutchinson of Ortonville, and Henry is the son of Mrs. James Watson of White Lake and the late Mr. Watson. The couple will be married Oct. 13 in Oakwood Community Church, Oakwood.

Attending the shower were Mrs. Hutchinson, Iona Watson, Shirley Watson, Onalee Morgan, Mrs. Clark Morgan, Betty Jane Hutchinson, Ruth Hutchinson, Muriel Farrand, Arlene Hutchinson, Elaine Hotchkiss and Marge Kelly.

Also attending were Jean Kelly, Dorothy Barker, Esther Kirklin, Myrtle Hutchinson, Lela Hayes, Laurel Olson, Joanne Gaul, Lillian Craig and Grace Beardsley.

Apply the brushes on sweeping plumes. Wear only for formal occasions. Small draped style hats require less paste and self-assurance.

Not every woman can adequately carry off sweeping plumes. It takes great poise, good posture and faultless grooming for the elegant dress to go with the lavish feathers. The untrimmed satin hat will go with your plainest sheath.

Baby Sitting Wrong Time for Dating

Improper for Girl,
Boy to Stay Home
Unchaperoned

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "The sister of my boy friend has a baby. On several occasions my boy friend has volunteered to stay with the baby while they go out. He is going to baby-sit for them next Saturday when they have an important dance to go to, and his sister has asked me to come over and keep him company."

"Mother thinks it would be improper for me to go and spend the evening in their house with him alone while they are out. Will you please tell me what you think?"

Answer: I agree with your mother—the baby would not be much of a chaperon.

Dear Mrs. Post: "I am going to be married soon. Who is expected to furnish the silver—bride or groom? I would appreciate hearing from you."

Answer: Whichever can; there is no rule. Usually it is given by friends and relatives of both. Linen is supposed to be given by the bride's family, but this, too, has become a matter of who can.

Dear Mrs. Post: "My mother died several years ago and my father has recently remarried. I am going to be married this winter and would like to know how my invitations should be worded."

"Should my stepmother's name be included on the invitations or should they be sent in my father's name alone?"

Answer: Your stepmother's name must be included, but the wording "his daughter" instead of "their daughter" explains that she is not your mother.

Moving Forward

American home furnishings designers may lead the world in creative design within five years, says Paul Gell, leading British artist. American design may well evolve free of Italian, Oriental, or Scandinavian influence.

Lowly blue denim, once banished to heavy duty on farm or in factory, and currently popular among gentlemen farmers, do-it-yourself suburbanites and small boys at play, is taking another step up the fashion ladder. The sturdy fabric, still bearing its identifying double row of white stitching is traveling in fashionable circles on the campus. This blue denim casual campus coat is cut straight and narrow and adorned with huge patch pockets. It is gaily lined for warmth and color, bright red acrilon jersey.

Simplicity and Softness Keynote London Fashions

NEW YORK (NEA) — Clothes that are pretty and easy to wear, marked by simplicity and becoming softness typify the London collections this fall.

From designer Norman Hartnell comes a greater emphasis on the short evening gown length even for ball gowns. From cocktails, dinner, theater and on to gala affairs, the length varies between street and ballet length.

His daytime clothes are simple, running to the bloused silhouette over slim skirts. Suits are slim with easy fit.

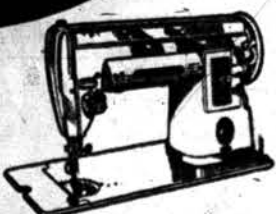

Digby Morton, another top designer, uses the slim fitted silhouette for daytime. They are done in fabrics that are both supple and soft.

Black is a big color both for daytime and evening and the little black dress shows up strongly in nearly all important collections.

Red rates importantly in the rich blue-red shades, in plum colors and is seen even in dashes of scarlet.

Ingrid Bergman of Today Looks Young, Healthy

Calls Story of Marital Rift 'Miserable Lies'

This is the third of four articles which give an intimate, candid picture of Ingrid Bergman seven years after the actress left Hollywood and family for the love of Italian film director Roberto Rossellini.

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
International News Service Motion Picture Editor

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—With Ingrid, all the time we were talking that day at the Savoy Hotel in London, was Rossellini's niece Fiorella, who was living with the Swedish actress while she was making "Anastasia" in London.

The young girl spoke very little English and I felt sure couldn't understand a word we were saying, so I had no hesitation in asking Ingrid about the printed story that she and Rossellini were finding their marriage ties irksome.

"Oh, you, too," she moaned. "The whole miserable pack of lies started in Sweden and although it is the country of my birth, I never expect to set foot there again."

"One reporter on a Swedish newspaper, who has hounded me ever since I left America, wrote the story and it was picked up by newspapers all over the world. I felt like suing, but what is the use. The children have to be protected and I don't want my life story dragged out for publication again."

QUESTIONED ON FILMS
Then I asked her if she planned to make any more pictures with Rossellini. I had heard she had decided against it. They had made four films together—"The Greatest Love," "A Trip to Italy," "Fear" and "Joan at the Stake," which was filmed while she was playing it on the stage.

"For the time being Roberto and I will not make any films together. Perhaps I am not right for his pictures. When I am with him he changes the character to fit me and it's better that he find another heroine," she laughed.

Just before I arrived in London, Rossellini had walked out on "Sea-wife," which he was to direct for Andre Hakim in Jamaica, and again there were headlines. He had said the script was not ready and there were certain changes he felt must be made.

I think it was a disappointment to Ingrid that he did not make the picture, but when I asked her to tell me what happened, she said:

"Oh, please, please, please let's not go into that again. It's been hashed and rehashed, and the thing is over and done with. After

CHANGED SUBJECT

Then again, as Ingrid did when ever we were on a subject she didn't wish to discuss, she abruptly changed the subject.

"I am so looking forward to our winter in Paris," she said. "I have taken a house while I appear in 'Tea and Sympathy', and I'll have the children with me."

"I will never be separated either from Roberto or the children for any length of time. I would have my babies with me now, but with this London climate it is better for them to live at the seaside than be cooped up in a London Hotel. Besides, I am working so hard

I would have little time for them."

I wanted to hear more about her experiences in Stockholm when she appeared in the operetta "Joan at the Stake." She had been enthusiastically received in Italy, Spain, Paris and London by critics and theatergoers alike and she was very thrilled when the invitation came to appear in Sweden.

She hadn't been home for almost 17 years and she looked forward to seeing her friends.

FAMILY WENT, TOO

Radiantly happy she took her three children and her husband to Stockholm to introduce them to her countrymen. She thought everyone would be as excited about them as she was in showing off her three jewels and introducing the Italian Rossellini to Sweden.

"I didn't care what anyone said about my performance," she said. "It is every critic's prerogative to like or dislike my portrayal of Joan and the newspaper writers have the right to do express themselves, but I don't think it was fair to tear me to shreds and to exonerate me by rehearsing all the scandal and notoriety that made by life so miserable during my early years with Roberto."

"Perhaps that trip to Sweden gave me the courage to accept the part in 'Anastasia' and once more to make my career important." Then, abruptly she again changed the subject as if she didn't want to dwell on anything as unpleasant.

"Did you know," she asked me, "that I played 'Joan at the Stake' in Paris in French? But that is easy compared to 'Tea and Sympathy'. You see I had music back of me and it didn't matter whether my French was grammatically correct or not, but in 'Tea and Sympathy' I must speak the French language correctly and I really have worked hard and earnestly."

I looked at Ingrid closely. We sat together on a couch in her living room and I couldn't detect a line in her face. She is close to 40 and she certainly doesn't look it.

Her complexion is still pink and white and she has that healthy look that was always characteristic of her. She is older, of course, and as I said, thinner than I had ever seen her.

When I was leaving I asked her why she had decided to make the American picture "Anastasia" for 20th Century-Fox, when she had never again act in a film made by a Hollywood producer. I will tell why she decided to accept the role in "Anastasia" in my final chapter of "the story of Ingrid Bergman."

Revolutionary Pushbutton Cleaning Formula!

NEW JET BON AMI

White Froth sprays on—Dirt wipes right off

What simplicity! Just spray and wipe! New Jet Bon Ami in an aerosol can cleans windows, woodwork, paint and porcelain like no other formula known! At the touch of a button, out sprays an exclusive, lacy white froth. Instantly, millions of tiny jet-blown bubbles in the froth surround every particle of dirt and dust. In split second time, the dirt is loosened—ready to be wiped away.

With one easy stroke of a dry cloth, fingerprints, scuff marks—even stubborn dirt smudges—disappear. Surfaces gleam. No streaks, no powdery residue. What's more, lovely hands stay lovely—never even get wet. If they do, Jet Bon Ami is as mild and safe as your favorite toilet soap. Ask for new Jet Bon Ami at your neighborhood stores now. Remember, so little does so much.

Children Sense Adults' Unsireness

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The school she taught in was located in one of a big city's slum neighborhoods. Fifty years ago, its streets teemed with an immigrant population whose customs and speech were foreign to her.

But its children were eager to learn English; and in teaching it to them she became their friend—the person a fearful Gina or Morrie could always count on to explain the way of American land-lords with a notice of dispossession, what time Papa could visit Mama at the hospital, why you mustn't throw garbage in the street.

Her third grade numbered 72 children.

One day she found it necessary to leave them. Instead of requesting substitute supervisors, she just rose from behind her desk and said, "Children, I must leave you alone for 15 minutes. I am not going to ask for another teacher to come and make you behave."

"Sooner or later we all have to learn to make ourselves behave. So you might as well begin right now to find out you can do it."

Upon her return, the little girl who served the class as monitor eagerly raised her hand. "Everybody was good," she said proudly. "We all made ourselves behave."

PASSED IT ON

She once recounted this experience to a young teacher who was finding class discipline difficult. Impressed, the younger woman memorized the words that had won it for the older one. At the first opportunity, she repeated them to her own class of well-fed, well-dressed, suburban youngsters—and left them with the challenge to make themselves behave.

They nearly made a riot instead.

When this failure was reported to the older teacher, she did not speak at once. Then she said gently, "I think this young woman does not really believe that we all have to learn to make ourselves behave."

Why? Because, she added, "when we know a thing to be true, children feel our certainty. They trust and obey it. But when we just act on thoughts, put into our head by somebody else, they feel that we are children, too."

"My boys and girls were willing to discipline themselves because they could feel my conviction that self-discipline cannot be avoided. This young woman's students felt no such certainty in her."

The reason we cannot make the child guidance people's thoughts work for us is that they represent the effort of other people.

Mrs. Perkio Heads Arene Group

OES Unit Elects Officers

Mrs. Eugene Perkio was elected worthy matron of Arene Chapter 503, OES, at the Monday evening meeting of the group, held in Roosevelt Temple. Harry Vernon was elected worthy patron.

Mrs. Edward Pritchard will serve as grand page and William Roberts will be the grand guard at Grand Chapter, being held in Grand Rapids.

Other events announced were: Officers practice at 4 p.m. Oct. 14 at the temple; semi-public installation of officers at 3 p.m. Oct. 15; and the Oakland County Association meeting at the C&I Building on Oct. 25.

Following the business meeting a birthday party was held honoring those having October birth dates.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Victor Bodamer assisted by Mrs. Clarence Phillips, Mrs. Kenneth Madsen, Mrs. James Hampton and Mrs. Louis Heiby.

Moose Club Women Hold Initiation

Mrs. Howard McCandless gave the welcoming address at Star Recorders Day, held Sunday by Women of the Moose Chapter 360 at Moose Hall. Mrs. Clarence Cavaller was chairman of the day's activities, and Mrs. Harley Zimmer served as hostess.

The ritual was presented by Chapter 99 of Port Huron. Ruth Shannon spoke briefly on the Star Recorder Scholarship Fund.

Initiated into the defending circle were Mrs. Francis King, Mrs. Herman Balmer, Mrs. Leo LaPointe and Mrs. Robert Danton. The class was initiated in honor of star recorder Beatrice Cavaller.

On Monday evening, Mooseheart Chapter night initiation was held. Initiated into the defending circle at this meeting were Mrs. Beda Reef and Mrs. Rosamond Williams. The class was in honor of Mrs. Richard Huck and Mrs. Ray Post.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Michael Blahut will be capped at the College Convocation of the Women of the Moose on Oct. 28. Mrs. McCandless will be the speaker at this meeting.

Plans were completed for a penny supper scheduled for Oct. 9 at Moose Hall.

Install Officers at Meeting of Youth Group

Rhoda Goldberg presided at the Sunday evening meeting of Temple Beth Jacob Youth Group, held at the temple. Plans were completed for an Oct. 14 installation dinner and program.

Officers to be installed by Rabbi Sanford Saperstein are Miss Goldberg, president; Judith Levine, vice president; Dorothy Katchka, corresponding secretary; Stanton Walker, treasurer; and Jeff Siegel, board member.

The program for the coming meeting will include a talk, "What Is the Youth Group?" by Lester Linsky, and a short play, "I Am an American Jew," by members of the Youth Group.

Members also discussed the Michigan State Temple Youth Conclave, scheduled here Nov. 16-18. Donald Barnett gave the closing prayer.

Chewy Bars Made With Dates, Nuts

Mrs. Ridley Likes Quick Method Used for Chinese Chews

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Cookies you bake in one pan, then cut into bars are so easy to make, aren't they? Mrs. Richard Ridley suggests Chinese Chews as a quickie cookie recipe.

For the past year and a half the Ridleys have been building a new house near Maceday Lake. They hope to move in within the next month.

Until she became involved in building her house Mrs. Ridley had a number of outside activities. She still likes to sing, to knit and to paint. She has a large collection of records.

CHINESE CHEWS

By Mrs. Richard Ridley

2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
2 tablespoons baking powder
Pinch of salt
3 tablespoons milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 1/2 cups chopped dates
1 cup chopped walnuts

Beat eggs, add sugar. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Add slowly to eggs. Add rest of ingredients.

Place in square greased pan. Bake 25-30 minutes at 350 degrees. Cut in squares when cool.

Baraca-Philathea Convention Held

The 34th annual state convention of Michigan Baraca-Philathea was held in First Baptist Church Saturday. Delevan Davis of Oak Park, state president, presided over all sessions.

Ms. Lulu Maxey of Grand Rapids was elected president of the Michigan Union. Others elected were Mr. Davis, vice president; Mrs. Willie Mae Belcher of Grand Rapids, secretary; Mrs. Carrie Bowen of Port Huron, treasurer; and Mrs. Nellie Monroe, devotional director.

Dr. H. H. Savage, pastor of First Baptist Church, gave the welcoming address.

Other speakers were Mrs. William Hakes who spoke on "Personal Evangelism"; Mrs. Monroe who spoke on "Prayer" and led a discussion on secret service and John Black and Sam Rae who spoke on "Soul Winning."

BANQUET SPEAKER

The Rev. David E. Mitchem of Indianapolis, past president of the State Baraca-Philathea, was the banquet speaker. The Rev. William Hakes served as toastmaster. During the dinner hour Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Wilson sang a duet.

The newly elected officers were installed by John Maher at an impressive candlelight ceremony. Delegates were present from Grand Rapids, Port Huron, Detroit, Oak Park, Royal Oak, Albion, Bir-

Grooming Essential to Man Over 40

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Usually, from the time a young man begins using pomade on his hair and a young girl has her first pair of high heeled shoes, teenagers continue their interest in good grooming and attractive appearance. This interest may remain with them for life.

Unfortunately, however, many men and women become increasingly careless about their grooming and appearance from middle-age on.

I will not take time today to speculate on some of the reasons for this. Let's accept it as a fact. When they no longer have the vigor or boom of extreme youth, just when they most need the help of good grooming and attractive clothing, they are apt to slump.

It is time for the woman of the house to take a hand when her husband, over 40 and becoming careless, begins answering tactful criticisms of his grooming and dress habits with comments like, "What's the use? I'm not going anywhere."

WOMAN'S JOB

The woman of the man in the 40-plus bracket who has begun stretching the intervals between his haircuts and shaves and has taken to dressing like there's no tomorrow, might tell him about a group of men who refused to be relegated to the park bench and the back porch because they were 40-plus.

Called the "40-Plus Club" these men of executive caliber came together in 1935 after mergers, consolidations, bank closings and other developments had forced them out of work because of their age.

This is a non-profit cooperative organization of mature men who work without compensation to find employment for themselves and their club brothers. They have placed about 5,000 members in 16 years. The club originated in New York but now has branches in Philadelphia, Washington, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

New Officers Introduced

Bethune PTA Sees Film

The Bethune School PTA held its first meeting of the year in the school's kindergarten rooms recently, with the president, Mrs. John R. Turner, in charge.

Mary Ellen Wynegarden and Carol Ann Bingham of the Camp Fire and Girl Scout organizations discussed the purpose and plan of their programs.

A film, "Effective Parent-Teacher Relations," was shown, with the question exchanging ideas. A question and answer period followed.

During the evening the following members of the executive board were introduced to the new members by Mrs. Turner: Mrs. Purvis Hunt, vice president; Mrs. John Murton, teacher vice president; the Rev. Paul C. Cooley, father vice president; and Mrs. Judge McCall, recording secretary.

Other officers included: Mrs. Robert Burns, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Theophilus Northcross, treasurer; Mrs. Victor Woods, historian; Purvis Hunt, program; Mrs. David Brice, membership; Mrs. Robert Gordon, publicity; and Linwood Flack and Mrs. Delores Graves, finance.

Also introduced was the staff of teachers, by Mrs. Harry Killian. Refreshments were served by Mary Worth, Mrs. John Murton and mothers of the kindergarten children.

Stork Shower Given to Honor Mrs. Mueller

Mrs. Fred Mueller received congratulations on the recent birth of her daughter, Suzanne, at a shower-luncheon given in her honor Tuesday noon. Mrs. H. L. Stein of Coesburn drive was hostess at the affair.

Guests included the honoree's mother, Mrs. R. E. Freebury, Mrs. Benjamin D'Arcy, Mrs. James Fritz, Mrs. George Watters, Mrs. John M. Fritcher, Mrs. Gerald Fritz, Mrs. Myles Werner and Mrs. William Werner.

Also extending their congratulations were Mrs. Edward Ratz, Mrs. Fred Freebury, Mrs. H. A. Tracy, Mrs. Leland A. Clemence, Mrs. Gordon Emory and Mrs. Herbert Biegging of Stillwater, Minn.

KNOW VALUE

You can well imagine that these men understand the impact of good grooming, not only in business and social life but on their own outlook and psychology.

As my readers know, this column is essentially a woman feature. However, many men read it. Therefore, once in a while I give a day or so to them. I think both men and women will be interested in what Francis Pratt, president of the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear had to say.

He put it this way: "Talent, whether in a youth of 20 or a mature man of 40 and over, has to be dressed up in an attractive package."

Most men in the 40-plus group could stand a little figure moulding. If you would like to have my Tubby/Hubby Diet which gives you a loss of from 7 to 12 pounds in 12 days time, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for that booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Here Are Six Tips, Men, to Help you Dress Correctly."

To popularize its proposed new decimal coins, India will display them in schools.

S&H Defends Green Stamps

Say Increased Sales Offset Cost of Coupons for Stores

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Sperry and Hutchinson Co. said Tuesday their S&H Green Stamps do not result in higher retail prices.

The company said retailers who buy and distribute the stamps with merchandise find increased cash volume offsets the cost of the service.

S & H representatives were heard at a conference called by Dr. Fervia Campbell, consumer counsel to Gov. Averell Harriman, for discussion of the trading-stamp business.

About 100 merchants, consumers, economists and representatives of stamp companies attended.

S & H FIGHTS LAW

Dr. Campbell said the "fact-finding" meeting was held at the governor's request. She said she could not predict whether the talks will lead to recommendations for legislation. S & H opposed legislation on the ground the issue is one of competition and belongs "in the marketplace."

The trading stamps are usually issued at the rate of one for each 10 cents worth of goods purchased. The company selling stamps to retailers is expected to redeem them in specified numbers for such items as household appliances, athletic equipment and jewelry.

Dr. Campbell said in a pre-meeting statement some consider the stamps a discount for cash payment, others hold that the consumer actually pays for the program through higher retail prices.

Frank Rossi, S & H Executive Vice president, told the meeting 1,500,000 New York families save trading stamps. He said the S & H payroll in New York is nearly $2,700,000 and company purchases in the state will amount to about nine million dollars this year.

Red Cross Board, Staff Set Quarterly Meeting

The first quarterly meeting for the board of directors, executive committee and staff of Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross will be held on Wednesday Oct. 10 at 6 p.m. at Haven Hill Lodge at Highland, according to the Rev. William C. Hamm, chapter chairman.

Speaker will be Noland Heiden, of the Oakland County Planning Commission. He will discuss the trends of growth in the Oakland County area and how this growth will effect Red Cross activities.

"IRONING DAY" FOR THE REDS — Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev, left, introduces Soviet Admiral Gorshkov, center, to Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito at Sebastopol, en route to Yalta. Purpose of Tito's sudden trip to Russia: efforts to iron out "difficulties" in both state and party relations of Russia and Yugoslavia, according to an official spokesman.

Moscow Seems Worried About Restless Satellites

(AP Staff Writer)

The brooding desire for freedom behind the Iron Curtain seems to be more acute — and dangerous to the Kremlin — than the outside world thinks.

The Poman trials and events just prior to Marshal Tito's surprise hop to the Soviet Union have made this apparent. More than that, they indicate Moscow is aware it has to do something about it, and quickly.

President Eisenhower has been putting pressure on the Soviet leaders to prove they are really through with the trouble-generating Stalin days by giving their satellites freedom.

The President called for free and unfettered elections in Poland so that her people could choose their own social and economic system. And he urged free and fair trials for the defendants brought to book at Poznan for the bread-and-freedom riots of last June.

It was a broad challenge to end Soviet domination of all the satellites, even though it was applied specifically to Poland.

NEHRU CHIMES IN

Another strong voice was raised recently for freedom for the satellites. It belonged to India's Prime Minister Nehru, the "neutral" leader whose opinions are carefully weighed by Moscow, even if they are not always caressed.

Marshal Tito, who has successfully insisted on following his own road to socialism, is expected to use his influence in spreading Belgrade's form of communism behind the Iron Curtain.

This would be in the nature of a counter-reply to what reportedly has been a new drive in Moscow against Tito's old policies.

According to a fairly solid version of a recent chapter in the strange Moscow-Belgrade story, former Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov got his faction in the Central Committee of the Soviet Communist Party to see the light as it has been flashed for many years by Molotov.

That is, that the Titoist trend among the satellites can mean big trouble and should be reversed.

SENT TO OTHERS

The warning was said to have been sent out to other Communist leaders abroad, at a time when Polish Communist officials were trying to figure out a way to get through the embarrassing Poznan trials.

That alone would have given Tito sufficient cause to jump aboard a plane with Nikita Khrushchev to continue their talks inside the Soviet Union.

Tito feels he earned some rights during his Moscow visit last June, when there was so much talk about cooperation between the Soviet and Yugoslav Communist parties.

A cattle census is urged for Argentina, where stockmen claim a "cattle chisla."

UAW to Hold Dinner for Retired Employees

Some 700 retired UAW General Motors workers and their wives are expected tonight to attend the sixth annual banquet in their honor. It is sponsored by union locals of the three GM plants in Pontiac.

Guest speakers for the 5 p.m. dinner at the Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave., will be Leonard Woodcock, UAW International vice-president; Paul Sutton, Democratic candidate for Congress from the 18th District; and Leslie Hudson, Pontiac's 2nd District candidate in the Legislature running for re-nomination.

The banquet also commemorates the anniversary of the establishment of the pension system at General Motors, according to Robert Boyer, financial secretary of Pontiac Motor Local 653.

Courses in Baby-Sitting

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Baby-sitters are learning how to baby-sit in a new course at Highland Junior High School. Those who pass the final exams will get a Red Cross insignia as a "safety sitter."

Cigarettes Get Blame for Los Angeles Smog

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Something else has been blamed for Los Angeles smog — cigarettes. The latest report of the air pollution control district comes up with the calculation that 84,806,230 cigarettes are smoked every day in Los Angeles County. This, the APCD estimates, adds 12 tons of contaminants to the air every day.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR

ACROSS THE PACIFIC — 3
Wong Su of China

Wong Su is a little boy who lives in China, on the far shore of the Pacific. He wears brightly colored clothes, and you can put the big yellow straw hat on his head.

Tomorrow you will see some things to put in his uplifted hands. Figures A and B show you where to cut small slits in his hands to hold things.

Wong is busy all day carrying packages hung from the ends of a long bamboo pole, as shown in the small picture at the top. He has to balance the ends carefully as he trots along the cobbled streets. Behind him is a bamboo fence with red tiles on the top of it.

Color Wong Su with your crayons, and don't forget to make his clothes gaily colored. Then paste the picture down on cardboard and cut out along heavy outline. Fold back the end panels at the dotted lines so he will stand up.

(First to submit this suggestion was Amie Lee Myers, Oakland, Calif. Your idea sent in care of this newspaper may win you $10. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

For a Chinese Honeymoon

Snobs Snub Men on Jobs

HONG KONG (INS)—A little marital social climbing by women may not be such a bad thing, say the Chinese Communists.

Love-hungry men of the Chinese countryside and factories are complaining women are trying to marry above themselves.

Thus, say the youths, women are taking to "the deteriorated ideology of the bourgeois class," and this is "undermining" work in the field and on the assembly line.

But writer Shu Wu in the Peiping "People's Daily" laid down this Communist line:

"Women now have the right to select men, an dthis is a good phenomenon to be found only in our new state. We should applaud this; we should acclaim this!"

OLD DAYS GONE

He pointed out "In old China for thousands of years, men had always been selecting women, selecting them as toys, tools and slaves."

Real Traffic Dodger

PEORIA, Ill. (U)—Mrs. Arlene C. Barker, 37, dodged traffic and gas pumps expertly as she attempted first to halt the out-of-control, brakeless car she was driving in a station, and that falling, swerved back across the street into a fire house. When firemen, who had fled to safety, investigated the head-on crash, they found damage not too bad. Mrs. Barker and her two children escaped injury and her car was driveable, but the pumper truck had a crushed bumper.

Highway Robberies

RICHMOND, Va. (U)—Nearly half of 70 houses vacated in Richmond along the route of the Richmond-Petersburg Turnpike have been burglarized despite nailed up doors and windows. Bathroom fixtures, tile, woodwork have been ripped out. The police won on one occasion despite no arrests. Two burglars left their automobile—or the one they were using—and it was confiscated by officers who had been seeking to break up the thievery.

Fairbanks Still Has Much Pioneer Flavor

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — Fairbanks is a modern city of 35,000, but much of its pioneer flavor remains. Old log cabins stand resolutely in the shadow of 10-story concrete apartment houses. Gold is now taken from creeks largely by dredge. It was a few flakes of gold at the bottom of Felix Pedro's mining shaft which on July 22, 1902, touched off the gold rush that gave rise to the lusty mining camp of Fairbanks.

Jefferson's Home Shows Great Imagination

Monticello Outshines the Houses of Today

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE
CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (INS.)—There are two great American institutions that they don't make quiet like they used to in the 18th Century—imaginative homes and imaginative men to go in them.

You don't think about that much in the course of daily living, because after all the houses of today are attractive, functional and simple, and the same goes for many men.

But when you visit Monticello, the house Thomas Jefferson built, you marvel at what you're missing.

Back in 1769, when Jefferson began designing this masterpiece of architecture, a fellow had to have imagination; the country was too new and fighting too hard for peace and position to have thought much of human comfort.

Yet this man, the hardest fighter for peace and position of his day, had enough imagination to spend his spare time constructing a home for his wife and ensuring six kiddies that would still knock out the eyes of the highest-toned 1956 architect.

In a day when these commodities were unheard of, Tom Jefferson designed recessed, disappearing beds for Monticello's many boudoirs.

He installed the first dumbwaiters conceived in America, and hatched the first big idea for space-saving folding doors to keep out drafts.

Hidden lighting was a nifty new idea dreamed up by the drafter of the Declaration of Independence. And—as if he could already visualize nightclubs of the future—he designed a huge room under a splendid dome, for dining and dancing.

and called it romantically "Sky Top."

Then there was the business of providing housing for the servants, wines, horses, kitchens—all those practical accommodations that before Jefferson's time had been scattered helter skelter around the plantations of wealthier Southerners.

This governor of Virginia and later U.S. president had a revolutionary idea to handle all these necessities without disturbing the pastoral mountain view from any window of his 37-room home.

He recessed two long buildings—full of paddocks and kitchens and servants' dwellings into the terraces that flanked the main house. Proving that he was a genuine predecessor to the much-hailed Frank Lloyd Wright in the technique of using natural beauties to abet architectural requirements.

Between each of these long buildings, tucked securely under the width of the Monticello house, is a long whitewashed all-weather passageway off which sprawled the wine room, ware room, beer cellar, cider room and rum cellar.

Obviously, Jefferson was a kindly man. He made it unnecessary for any of his slaves ever to be cold, wet or parched or thirsty.

The famous red brick house with the white pillared entrance was the most fabulous dwelling of its time, mainly because its owner was such an inventive genius. The people of Virginia realized that long before they realized he was also a good bet for the U.S. presidency.

Oddly enough, Thomas Jefferson was better known for his pulleys than his politics when he began construction of Monticello in 1769. He was only a 26-year-old lawyer at the time.

He did not finish the home until 1800, because somehow he became involved in some time-consuming business, such as becoming a governor, secretary of state, vice president and president, drafting the Declaration of Independence and having an extensive family.

As you stand on the portico of Monticello, looking out over the blue mountains, you wonder how one man ever accomplished so much for his country and his family.

And you guess necessity and imagination are the parents of invention.

Beef Consumption High

CHICAGO — Last year Americans ate 28.8 billion pounds of meat—an average of 161 pounds per person. More than half was beef; most of the rest was pork. Estimated beef consumption this year is 14 billion pounds.

Moths Cause Big Bill to Cost Too Much

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —The Henry H. Houston post of the American Legion in Germantown has given away Big Bill. The moth like him too much.

Big Bill is stuffed buffalo head. When alive he traveled with the Buffalo Bill wild west show and after his death in 1905 a photograph of his head served as model for the buffalo nickel of 1915.

The Academy of Natural Science gets big bill. The Legionnaires say he was too much trouble and too expensive to keep demoted.

Show Business Behind the Iron Curtain

Anti-U.S. Shows Box Office Flops at Red Theaters

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the following article, the third in a series by one of the nation's top showmen, Billy Rose, takes readers behind the Iron Curtain for a rare glimpse of theater, Red style.

BY BILLY ROSE

On July 30, Joyce and I flew from Moscow to Warsaw in an IL-12, the stuck-together, two-motor job which is standard on Soviet airlines. As we drove from the airport into the Polish capital, we were depressed by what we saw. Warsaw, 11 years after its "liberation," is still a city of rubble and ruin.

It was raining hard and mean when we checked in at the Bristol Hotel, and Joyce said, "I think I'm catching a cold."

"Let me buy you a sweater," I said.

There were sweaters in each of the four shops we visited, and they were identical in price—600 zlotys or $150 at the official rate of exchange.

"I won't let you spend that much for a $2 sweater," said Joyce.

The next day my girl had a headache of sniffling. And, so help me Paderewski, I unbelted with 150 zlotys for a blue cotton sweater which ran like a beer tap the first time it was washed.

Show business in Poland, I quickly learned, was simply a scaled-down version of the entertainment set-up in Russia. It is under the thumb of the Ministry of Culture, which occupies the tallest and fanciest building in town.

A Six-Year Plan of Theatrical Services, currently in effect, regulates the number of theaters, productions, performances, and—get this—even the size of audiences. Composers and playwrights are expected to meet rigid work norms, and no nonsense about waiting for the Muse to strike.

Polish dramatists are still saying nasty things about the United States, but one of their best actors told me the "Hate America" plays were a box-office washout, and predicted they'd all soon fold.

Two days after I arrived, Mr. Eugeniusz Markowski, Deputy Secretary General of the Committee for Cultural Relations, signed an agreement similar to the one I had worked out with the Soviets, and that night the news was all over the Polish radio.

The Warsaw National Theater and the Warsaw Opera and Ballet were shuttered for the summer, and the one nightclub we visited, the Krokodil, served better borscht than entertainment. I saw one show, however, which merits a mention. It's called "Polish Blue Jazz," and consists of 40 musicians and singers who do their darndest to sound like a Chicago dance band of the '30's.

Practically everything they played was from Tin Pan Alley,

N.Y., and the high spot of the evening was a selection of tunes from "Porgy and Bess," which had played Warsaw earlier in the year.

Speaking of "Porgy and Bess," it's my belief that Robert Breen's production of this Yank classic did almost as much for us in Europe as the Marshall Plan. It effectively rebutted the charge that the American Negro is only used to

"lute that barge," and it slapped down the nonsense about us being nothing but a dollar-happy bunch of barbarians.

"Porgy" was seen by 15,000 in Warsaw alone, and Joseph Jacobs, our able Ambassador to Poland, told me it could have played to 500,000. Even today, this show is talked about and remembered with affection—a thing that all the Marshall billions never got us. After the wrack and rubble of Warsaw, Prague looked like the Champs Elysees in April. It's an old city and, like Paris, it wears its years well. Here, for the first time in our trek, we again saw people who were dressed like people.

The grocery stores were jammed with goodies, and every bake shop window was a well-produced show. As we strolled along the Václavski Mamesti, the Fifth Avenue of Prague, I said to myself, "Here's a commune town which seems to be doing all right."

A few hours and questions later, however, I realized we were still on the wrong side of the Curtain. The candles and cookies were luxuries that only the Mr. Bigs could afford.

Behind the pretty facades, people were living four to a room, four families sharing one common kitchen and one even common bathroom, and everybody keeping his thought to himself.

The day after we got in, I went to see our Ambassador, Alexis Johnson, to get his advice and guidance. He was all for the idea of swapping artists, and particularly keen to have our entertainers play the small cities which are virtually cut off from the world.

He said he could think of no more effective way of saying, "Hold on, buddy, we haven't forgotten you."

This year, for the first time since the comrades took over, show people are being permitted a bit of elbow room. In April, Prague staged an impressive Spring festival which featured artists from a dozen nations.

Julius Katchen, the American pianist, was among those present and the standing ovation he received led one critic to wonder whether it wasn't partly due to pre-U.S. feelings which "had suddenly been afforded a convenient outlet for expression."

Most of the theaters were closed during August, and so, at this writing, I'm in no position to list the Czech attractions which I would bring over if the exchange program went through. It's my hunch, however, that this country of shortages has no shortage of talent.

African First to Glide

JOHANNESBURG — An official investigation has revealed that a Natal farmer, Goodman Household, was the first person in the world to make a successful flight in a glider. He flew 400 yards in 1871 in a glider made of Swiss silk and bamboo.

MORE PROOF THAT O-JIB-WA'S BEST FOR RHEUMATISM - ARTHRITIS

"Before using your wonderful medicine, I couldn't put my arms behind my back to put my overalls on," says Mr. Mario Argenta, 8034 Smart Street, Detroit 16, Michigan.

"Whenever I begin to stiffen up, and not feel as well as I should, I know it's time for me to get a bottle of O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I have great faith in this wonderful medicine, because it has helped me twice since I first read about it in my Mario Argenta newspaper. The first time was about four years ago. My shoulders and arms were stiff and pained some thing awful whenever I tried to move them behind me. I was working at Ford's as a mechanic, and had to have someone help put my overalls on. Naturally, I tried many different medicines, but none of them gave me any real help. Then I read so much praise for O-JIB-WA BITTERS that I thought I might as well try it too. It took about a month before the pains and stiffness began to leave, and soon after they were all gone. I can swing my arms around behind me as well as anyone, and it doesn't bother me a bit. O-JIB-WA helped my stomach too, as it used to be upset most of the time. Then about two years ago, my arthritis began acting up, but this time I knew just what to do about it. O-JIB-WA BITTERS again came to my rescue, and soon I was well again. My cousin tried it for his rheumatism and arthritis, and it helped him too. I'm glad to recommend it to anyone who is suffering, but one thing I want to stress, and that is to take this medicine long enough to do some good. I know a couple of men in the shop that tried it about a week and gave up. If they had taken it a little longer, they probably would have been helped as much as I was, as it's sure a great medicine for arthritis."

Mouth Cancer Not on Par With Tobacco Use—Doctor

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (U.P.)—Mouth cancer has not increased on a par with the growing use of tobacco, says Dr. Seymour J. Kreshover, associated director of the National Institute for Dental Research, Washington, D.C.

But statistical evidence, he adds, "would suggest that lung cancer shows such a relationship."

"Despite the clear cut clinical evidence that tobacco is irritating to mouth tissues, he told the American Dental Assn. 'there is no evidence that cancer has shown an increase to parallel resistance of mouth tissues to tobacco agents."

Experiments with mice, he said, showed little or no oral tissue change when lip regions were exposed to whole tobacco smoke. Similar exposure of the ear, he added, resulted in pre-cancerous damage.

Heat from smoking, he said, "is very unlikely" to be "a significant factor in oral lesions associated with the use of cigarettes."

In a second report on oral cancer, Dr. David Welsberger of the Harvard University School of Medicine, said a clinical study showed that tobacco is the most common irritant associated with leukoplakia, described as a condition which is sometimes precancerous.

Dr. Welsberger said 275 patients with mouth cancer were involved in the studies and that 60 per cent of them had developed the cancers at the site of the leukoplakia. The highest incidence of leukoplakia was in pipe smokers, and the lowest in cigarette smokers, he said.

UM Names Director of Simpson Institute

ANN ARBOR (U.P.)—Dr. Frank H. Bethell has been appointed director of the University of Michigan's Simpson Memorial Institute for Medical Research.

He succeeds Dr. Cyrus C. Sturgis, chairman of the university's Department of Internal Medicine, who asked to be relieved of administrative duties connected with the Simpson Institute.

Joe Smith Gets Around

Terrible Terry's Son Registers as Democrat

SCOTT'S BLUFF, Neb. (INS)—Gary Carpenter, son of the Nebraska delegate who attempted to nominate "Joe Smith" at the GOP National Convention, became 21 a month ago and has registered to cast his first vote—as a Democrat.

His vote puts the Democrats in the majority in the Terry Carpenter family as "Terrible" Terry said his wife is a "red hot Democrat."

Carpenter said he himself still has not decided which way he will go in the coming election.

"My mind is still open," he reported.

TERRY PREDICTS

"Terrible" Terry, who received his nickname during gasoline price wars a few years back, did predict, however:

"As a result of Joe Smith the Republicans have already written off both Houses of Congress, and whether or not the Republicans can save the presidency depends upon what happens between now and election time—and Joe Smith will figure prominently in the outcome."

He added: "Joe Smith is dormant but not dead."

In an interview with International News Service, Carpenter hinted at behind-the-scenes activity at the Republican National Convention, where he and his creation "Joe Smith" shot into the national limelight.

Said Carpenter:

"People only saw the Joe Smith episode. If they knew what really happened at the convention they would have something to worry about."

Carpenter would not explain further, but said "When the time comes to say something, I will say it."

Hal Boyle Says:

Diamonds Are Fellow's Best Friend, Too

NEW YORK (U. S. P.)—Guess what's new in diamond engagement rings?

The answer: Male fingers! You mean men are actually beginning to wear engagement rings?

"Yes, more every day," said Henry Peterson, the nation's largest diamond ring manufacturer. "But in the case of men we don't call them engagement rings. We call them acceptance rings."

"When a woman becomes engaged, she naturally wants to give her fiancé a present. And there is no earthly reason why she should buy him a diamond ring, so he, too, can have an everlasting proof of her love and affection."

There is also another advantage in this trend for the bachelor. If his girl throws him over for another guy, he can hock the ring she gave him to court a new flame.

Peterson said that while acceptance rings for men are still only a small part of the booming diamond ring industry, it is growing steadily.

"Matched foursomes—a set of diamond engagement and wedding rings for both the husband and wife—are also becoming popular," he remarked, adding, "particularly in Texas."

Peterson, who is promoting the idea that a diamond ring is a boy's best friend, is a top figure in the glitter field who started from exactly nothing.

"That's what I got when I started to learn the trade at 14—nothing a week," he recalled. "And then the depression hit, and times got really bad."

But hard times were nothing new to him. He had gone to work at 12 to help support his mother, a widow with 7 children.

Twenty-two years ago he launched his own business with $25 borrowed from his sister. He pioneered with a new gimmick—a device that interlocked the wedding ring with the engagement ring—that helped revolutionize the industry. Today his firm—the Feature Lock Diamond Ring Co.—does a multi-million-dollar business annually.

Peterson himself is a millionaire—and an unusual one. Most millionaires preach the virtues of hard work. But Peterson points out its disadvantages.

"I am only 35," he said, "but to get where I have I had to put in as much hard work as a man of 85, and sometimes I feel like 85."

"It is no good to have to work too hard too young. You miss too much along the way. If I hadn't worked so hard, I might not be where I am now. But do I want to be where I am?"

"The fun and pleasure you get as a child build your mind and body best for later life, and do more to broaden your understanding generally. Burdensome responsibilities assumed when you are too young exact a penalty. You get old before your time."

Here's Peterson's advice to would-be millionaires:

"Don't start working hard until you are 21. When you work like hell until you are 45. If you haven't got it made by then, let up and start relaxing."

"Nothing will kill you quicker than trying to make a success after you're 45."

Attlee Aide to Speak

ST. JOSEPH (U. S. P.)—Herbert Morrison, deputy prime minister of England in the postwar Clement Attlee administration, will speak at an Economic Club dinner meeting Oct. 5. He is expected to discuss the Suez Canal situation.

Buckteeth Blamed on Early Decay

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (U. S. P.)—An Iowa educator today said jutting or protruding teeth can be prevented partly by keeping the child's teeth free of decay.

Early loss of first teeth, often brought on by decay, is a prime factor in causing the second teeth to be out of alignment, said Dr. Kenneth E. Wessels, head of the Department of Pediatrics at the College of Dentistry, University of Iowa.

Wessels, in a prepared report at the annual meeting of the American Dental Assn., said proper development of the child's jaws, which influences facial contours, is determined to a large extent by the condition of the child's so-called "baby teeth."

"In order to promote normal growth and development of the face," he said, "every tooth should be retained to its full span of time, but no longer, and during that period should have the advantage of its full anatomic form."

Charge Garbage Fees

CHICAGO (U. S. P.)—A recent survey by the Municipal Finance Officers Association shows that more than 300 cities of over 10,000 population charge their residents for garbage collection and about the same number collect sewer rentals. These cities got almost $40,000,000 from garbage-service charges in 1935, some $2.84 per capita, and close to $39,000,000 from the sewer rentals, or $3.35 per capita.

Get Rich Quick With Answers for Pot-O-Gold

They say you can't get rich quick, and perhaps that's true most of the time, but here's your chance to do just that. A few minutes of your time spent on Pot-O-Gold can bring you as much as $1200. It can't get much quicker than that.

And if it turns out there's a winner to puzzle No. 17 and you don't quite get rich, that few minutes can bring in a little "pocket money," like about $125 for the winning entry from a Press subscriber. Surely it's worth the effort.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conform to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

PUZZLE NO. 18

1. Sudden rise like this must prove very exhilarating to flying financier.
2. The question of is of some importance in crime detection.
3. If it is of a musical nature, it will appeal at least to some people.
4. Some movie fans prefer a sort of excitement to raw violence.
5. Application of this could certainly be regarded with distaste.
6. Where people are really door-to-door salesmen have a fertile field.
7. Sailors who remain don't have too hard a job.
8. Doctor who is can have a large practice.
9. fishermen often make a good profit on their catch.
10. Friendly will be forgiven even if it hurts.
11. Such letters are designed to be unusually clear.
12. Often construed as guilt.
13. If a report is real there's no point in playing back for him.
14. This is always in evidence at an amateur ball game.
15. The particular shape of it would be unmistakable to an expert.
16. In general, this is not an easy thing to apply correctly.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employees or their immediate families.
2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.
3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 18 must bear a Tuesday, Oct. 3, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.
4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.
5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.
6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers or report on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.
7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.
8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.
9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.
10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mail.

Egg Hatching Spree Supplants Letters

YAKIMA, Wash. (AP)—Bluebird trouble is plaguing the mailman up Wenas Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Longmire were perplexed to find their mail scattered outside their rural mailbox. Investigation showed a mating pair of bluebirds were kicking it out of their commandeered bungalow.

The Longmires fixed an emergency mailbox out of tin cans. They reckoned they could wait out the hatching period.

Five eggs hatched. Five little bluebirds grew, prospered and are four new eggs in the mailbox nest and the mailman still is using the tin cans.

But not the parents. Now there

"Something like this," mused the patient Mrs. Longmire, "could go on all summer."

Dock workers' employers in Belfast, Northern Ireland, are "looking with some concern" at the holding of "pitch-and-toss" (gambling) schools during lunch hours on the docks.

Surgeon General's Assistant Appointed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Dr. John D. Porterfield, 44, assigned by the Public Health Service as director of the Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction, has been promoted to assistant to the surgeon general.

Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said Porterfield will give particular attention to the fields of chronic diseases and aging when he assumes his post here Oct. 16. has been a health service career officer since 1939. He has served as officer since 1939. He has served as venereal disease control officer for Wayne County, and for the State of Ohio, and as director of the Ohio State Health Department.

Report Success on Allergy Tests

'Air Ionization' May Bring New Relief to Hay Fever Sufferers

NEW YORK (INS)—Two medical researchers have reported success in taking the sniffles out of pollen and dust which cause hay fever, asthma and other allergies, among 10,000,000 persons.

Red, itching eyes, stuffed up noses, sneezing and other symptoms of the allergy sufferer eased up or disappeared, they said, when they "bombarded" air in a room with electric charges.

The report on the four-year study was made by Dr. George Morris Piersol, dean of the graduate school of medicine, University of Pennsylvania; and Dr. Igho H. Kornbluh, medical director of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, at the same institution.

The "air ionization" research, Dr. Piersol and Kornbluh reported, was successful in 62 per cent of their tests on hay fever sufferers at the Graduate and Northeast Hospitals in Philadelphia.

FIND RELIEF
Dr. Kornbluh said that of the 53 persons showing the effects of hay fever, 33 who were exposed to the negative ionization, found "partial to complete relief."

He explained that the electrical charges create invisible changes in the character of the pollen, taking the "toxicity" out of them.

The pair cautioned that the effects of the ionization is strictly temporary—in other words, brings relief only while the person is exposed to the ionizer.

He said a portable mask embodying the ionization principle had been tested "with success" so that a sufferer would not be allergic to pollen while walking in the open.

Dr. Kornbluh said the researchers discovered one strange unexplained phenomenon during their studies: smoke and ladies' perfume diminished the potency of the charge against the pollen.

A spokesman for the Philco Corporation, which supported part of the research project, said the ionization principle may be incorporated in home air conditioners in the near future.

$47-Million Increase Collected by State

LANSING (AP)—The Department of State collected more than $254,000,000 during the last fiscal year—an increase of more than $47,000,000 over the previous year.

Sec. of State James M. Hare said $33,000,000 was collected from the additional gasoline tax of one and a half cents per gallon passed by the legislature last year.

Sales and the use taxes on automobiles increased by more than one million dollars, Hare said. Income from license plate sales accounted for $7,000,000 of the overall increase, he said.

Collections from the regular four and one half cent per gallon gasoline tax went up $7,000,000, he reported.

Hurricanes affect a larger area, but tornadoes are the most destructive of all storms.

Nasser Regime Cleans Up Former City of Sin

PORT SAID (INS)—Once the teeming clearing-house of three continents for international dope rings, slave traffic, smugglers and currency manipulators, Port Said today is as clean-living a city as any in Midwestern America.

Whatever its faults, Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's regime can at least boast of having cleaned up what was once known as the "city of one thousand and one sin."

Its dingy nightclubs look sleeky enough with their low lighting and heavily-made-up, hip-swinging cabaret girls. But who betide the dame who sits with a customer, touches any liquor or dances with anything less than six inches of daylight between her chest measurement and her partner.

These are all offenses that carry a deportation order for foreign "artists" and revoked performer's licenses or jail sentences for the local girls.

POLICE WATCHDOGS
Prostitution is punishable with up to two years in jail and a stiff fine. There are police watchdogs called "morality cops" on every corner.

Every girl who leaves the club after the last show is tailed by one of these cops. He makes sure she gets back to her own hotel room—and alone.

The show itself can be the real thing with belly dances and all the oriental trimmings. But mixing with the customers is strictly taboo. One club has got around this puritan set-up by rigging an elaborate system of signals to warn against frequent police raids. It begins somewhere in the vicinity of the police station and warnings are flashed from street corner to street corner until they reach an old man sitting inside the smoke-filled dance hall.

He presses a buzzer and the band, which has been jaxing it up (that's against the law too) breaks into the lilting strains of the Blue Danube Waltz.

The girls, who have been sitting at customers' tables and sharing scotch or champagne, rush to one corner of the room, grab a soft drink and turn innocent looks of surprise on the cops as they come bursting through the swing-doors.

By hiking the wages of police and customs guards Nasser has put temptation out of their way and stopped the lucrative dope traffic across the canal from the Sinai Peninsula that operated through bribery and corruption.

Old ladies who walk off passenger liners for a quick look around find nothing to complain of these days except perhaps the smells.

Old-timers and seamen, however, are prone to snort with disgust and say:

"This ain't a honest-to-goodness port no more. It's a lousy vicar's tea party, that's all!"

"Dance halls in Belfast seem to give more trouble than they are worth," remarked a Northern Ireland judge. Too many fights originate there, he said.

Vacuum, Rifles Add to Overture

Composer Says Work to Be Part of Concert in London

LONDON—One of Britain's young composers has completed a "grand overture" which features a vacuum cleaner, an electric floor polisher and repeating rifles. "My overture," said Malcolm Arnold, 35, "is to be part of a concert at Royal Festival Hall on Nov. 13. I admit that some people may call it crazy, but basically it's a serious work."

He got the idea of using vacuum cleaners while writing music for a British film. "The cleaners have a 'wild woodnote' effect." How about the electric floor polisher that he plans to plant among the violins and violas? "This supports the vacuum cleaner, adding a rhythmic whoosh to their song."

And the repeating rifle? "I'm planning to use four rifle-men with the orchestra," he said. "Each will fire four rounds of blanks to establish the key rhythm of the opening movement."

A Chopin nocturne will be played by a quartet of bass tubas. A highlight will be a symphony based on Haydn.

Car Insurers Unite

PARIS—To handle the mathematical calculations involved in meeting a mounting vehicle insurance problem, 22 French motor vehicle insurance companies with headquarters in Paris recently organized the Automobile Statistics Service. They claim it has developed Europe's most modern system of computing insurance risks.

Road Forks, N.M., Center of Pursuit

Woman Searches for Dog Mickey

CINCINNATI—A determined Ohio woman has made Road Forks, N.M., a tiny crossroads village, the center of a search she says she'll never give up until she finds a missing friend.

She is looking for her dog. The woman is Dorothy Lauck, a 44-year-old teletype operator at the Fernald atomic energy plant near her home in Cincinnati.

In the last nine weeks her name and face have become familiar to people living in the dry rugged country between Lordsburg, in southwest New Mexico, and Willcox, across the border in Arizona. In that stretch of 78 miles, her dog Mickey was lost, she says.

Miss Lauck was returning from vacation last July 27, driving east at night on Route 85. She left Willcox after a rainstorm and opened the left rear window so the dog could cool off.

When she reached Lordsburg, Mickey was missing. In the next few days she covered hundreds of miles in the two states much of it on foot, probing hummocks and gullies.

She took her accumulated leave and widened the search to the north and south, asking more people and advertising in papers.

Her sister came from Cincinnati to help. Miss Lauck got some days off without pay.

But the only trace of Mickey was at Road Forks.

The night crew at the traffic station there remembers the small border collie that limped inside the morning of July 28 and hid under a desk.

Next day, a boy from a restaurant gave the collie some food and the dog spent part of the day in a pool of water nearby. After that, he disappeared.

Finally, Miss Lauck had to come back to work.

In addition to the 5,000 miles she searched, she has covered the sparsely settled area with handbills. Radio stations broadcast descriptions of the dog.

Miss Lauck has written hundreds of letters, to organizations and firms like communications firms who pass through.

"I spent every cent I had, and I borrowed more besides," she said.

"It's kind of ironic, because I was in the Road Forks restaurant the same day and although Mickey was probably near there, the men at the traffic station apparently hadn't told the girls at the restaurant."

Miss Lauck said the report on the dog at Road Forks didn't reach her until three weeks later. "But that's why I kept at it."

She said, "It always seemed like he'd surely turn up the next day. Nothing seemed so important as getting that dog."

The dog? He's a medium-sized collie with a heavy red-brown coat, white at the face and tail tip and a wheat-colored undercoat, small feet and large eyes.

Why so long a search?

Miss Lauck said, "The dogs in our family have always been part of the family. We feel responsible for them."

"If Mickey was dead, that would be one thing. It happens to dogs, of course. But we know he's alive."

Would she take a replacement pup of the same breed?

"I don't think I would," she said, "for the simple reason that I'm positive I'll get my dog back."

Science Develops New Tablet: Relieves Painful Monthly Cramps For 3 out of 4 Women Tested! Gives Greater Relief Than Aspirin!

Boston, Mass. (Special)—New promise of relief for women who suffer tortures of monthly cramps and nervous tension is found in an amazing new tablet... developed especially to relieve this female discomfort. It offers greater relief than aspirin during that distressing period each month!

Doctors report remarkable results. For 3-out of 4 women tested, pain and cramps were stopped or strikingly relieved. Even on the first day, many had no nagging headaches, no backaches or other functionally-caused distress... were also less jittery the trying week before their period!

The new tablet contains not just one or two ingredients but a unique combination of special medicines. That's why this new discovery offers more relief than plain aspirin! Unlike such "general-purpose" remedies, it acts on the cause of distress. Has amazing power to calm uterine contractions, also works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system.

Called "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets," the formula was developed by the world's largest manufacturer devoted exclusively to relief of women's ailments! Easy-to-take new Pinkham's Tablets are now available at all drug stores without a prescription.

So don't suffer needlessly. Take Pinkham's Tablets yourself. See if you don't feel worlds better this very month. See if you don't escape much of the irritability and discomfort—both before and during those "difficult days." (For liquid form... ask for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

Back at school, after several years delay occasioned by army service, husky Eddie Revis, former ace PHS fullback, has entered Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant. . . but Eddie is not trying out for football—not this fall, anyway. Revis, a powerfully built 220-pounder, recently became the proud poppa of an 8-pound daughter, named Michele Marie, born about three weeks ago.

Revis, however, plans to go after a job on Bill Kelly's club, next fall.

When Elmer Schneider appeared at The Press' sports department with his brother Tony, for a picture of the big goose and brace of ducks they bagged opening day of the season, he didn't have the ducks.

Elmer explained, "Those ducks would have looked like peanuts alongside Tony's big goose, so I just left them at home." Tony's prize was a 14-pound Canada. . . Tuesday their dad, Matt, went out, got himself a big fat mallard.

The Voice of America will broadcast a delayed play-by-play description of the World Series in Japanese to Japan's 20 million baseball fans. An interesting question is "How do you describe a Chinese home run in Japanese?"

Charlie Maxwell was honored in the town of Paw Paw yesterday. The neighboring town of Lawton however challenged Paw Paw in claiming Maxwell since the Tiger plunger was born in Lawton.

"I'm glad they care enough to fight about it," says Charlie. "It would be awful if neither wanted me."

One of the oldest high school football rivalries in Michigan is the Holland-Grand Haven game. They will play for the 60th time Friday with the winning school claiming a pair of wooden shoes.

Sal Maglie, today's starting pitcher for the Dodgers, has yet to win a World Series game. He recalls the 1951 series when pitching for the Giants he took the mound against the Yanks. He was knocked from the box in the 5th. Afterward he said, "I guess I ate too much spaghetti last night."

The 48-yard field goal against Green Bay Sunday was the longest of Jim Martin's football career. "Must be improving with age," he quipped.

Questionnaires have been mailed to Michigan high schools to see if they favor an increase in the number of basketball games allowed each season. The MHSAA questionnaire offers three choices: To retain present setup of 24 games total in football and basketball, an increase of one or an increase of two.

Hose Press Box Swept by Blaze

CHICAGO (U. S. — Fire of undetermined origin swept through the press box and a section of second deck stands at Comiskey Park yesterday.

Damage to the home of the White Sox and the football Cardinals was estimated at $15,000 by Second Deputy Fire Marshal Frank Thielmann. A spokesman for the White Sox placed the estimate at $100,000.

The Cards were practicing on the field when the fire broke out. Many children were in the stadium watching the drills.

Fire officials said the blaze apparently started on a wooden catwalk and spread along to the press box on the upper deck behind home plate.

Blind Golfers Play Oct. 6

There are a lot of golf addicts who have trouble keeping their eyes on the ball. But this obstacle is one a group of capable shot-makers who will gather at Highland Golf Club this weekend doesn't have to worry about.

The United States Blind Golfers Association, metropolitan group, will observe the tenth anniversary of the institution of the international blind golfers' event with a 9-hole test. The sight-handicapped shot-makers will be backed by the Huron Valley Lions Club, who are hosts for the tourney.

Tourney was first held over the rugged terrain of North Hills layout, in 1946.

After the handicapped players complete their round, their coaches will play the other nine holes as an after-tourney.

Harry Hunter, Detroit man and first president of the USBGA (1946 through 1950), has invited leading blind players from Canada, Cleveland, Chicago, and Michigan, including two novices at the game, Alger Kazianka and State Legislator Bob Mahoney of Detroit.

Others invited include Harold Urick and Frank Sullivan of Cleveland; Eddie Gaylord and Jim Stein-

Yanks Ruled Solid Choices in Series

BROOKLYN (U. S. — Either out of force of habit or because of their past winning ways in this sort of competition, the New York Yankees ruled solid 8 to 5 favorites to defeat Brooklyn in the 1936 World Series, but the Yanks were only 6 to 5 to win today. New York's Whitey Ford and the Dodgers' Sal Maglie squared off in the opener at Ebbets Field.

A crowd of about 34,000 jammed the ancient Flatbush ball park with Dwight D. Eisenhower, the first President to attend a World Series game in 20 years, scheduled to throw out the first ball.

Cool, clear weather was forecast, with predicted early morning showers supposed to end before the scheduled starting time of 1 p. m., EDT. Those fans not fortunate enough to be able to obtain tickets, had a choice of watching it on television, NBC, or listening in on network radio, Mutual.

The pitting of Maglie against Ford marks a strange contrast and not only because 33-year-old Sal is righthanded and 28-year-old Whitey throws from the left side. Maglie, the oldest pitcher ever to open a World Series, has never won a post-season game although he has started two. Ford has won three, two over the Dodgers, but in his only Series start at Ebbets Field, he lasted only one inning.

Series tied 2-2.

Maglie was working with only three days rest. Ford had not pitched since he failed in his bid for victory No. 20 last Wednesday. Yankee Manager Casey Stengel's explanation for nominating Ford over his three starting right-handers in a park considered a southpaw's graveyard, was simple:

"Ford is my best pitcher," he said, "and I can't afford to hold him out until the third game."

Dodger manager Walter Alston's reason for going with Maglie in preference to his younger starters was equally simple.

"Sal has been the club's best pitcher over the past two months," he said. "He's won our clutch games and there is no one I'd like better to pitch such an important game as this one."

Alston's only concern has been whether Maglie's arm could stand the strain of working with so short a rest. Maglie dispelled his manager's doubts yesterday when he assured him:

"The arm is all right. I'll be ready to go tomorrow."

With due respect to the proven ability of Maglie and Ford, this does not figure to be a pitching series. In fact, it looks very much like the hitters, led by the Yankees' Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Hank Bauer and the Dodgers' Duke Snider, Jackie Robinson and Carl Furillo, will take charge.

The world championship may well go to the team which receives the stoutest relief pitching. That's one department where the Dodgers hold the edge over the Yankees. The American League champs, who whipped the Dodgers five straight times in World Series competition until beaten last year, don't have anyone to match bullpen aces Clem Labine and Don Bessent.

The way observers see it, the Series figures to go the limit of seven games, just as it did last year, with the Dodgers again winning. The Yankees have more power and just as good defense but the fact is they didn't win any of the three games at Ebbets Field in 1955. This year, they may play four in Brooklyn's ballpark.

McDermott, Johnny Kucks, Tom Morgan, Don Larsen and Whitey Ford. Ford was on the starting hill today, with Larsen or Kucks getting the call tomorrow. Ford's season record is 19-6 and he pitches from the left side.

Oldest Pitcher in Series

Maglie Raring to Go

BROOKLYN (U. S. — Grim-faced Sal Maglie, the oldest pitcher ever to start a World Series game, stared out at Ebbets Field today before taking the mound against the New York Yankees.

"I'm raring to go," said the 39-year-old castoff of two major league teams. "The only reason that I had any doubts about my ability to pitch the opener was that I was terribly tired after that tough game last Saturday and I didn't know how long it would take for me to recuperate."

Maglie is a real professional in the serious business of winning ball games and he doesn't get excited easily. He approaches his task from strictly a clinical viewpoint.

"What about the Yanks?" "They must have a good ball club to win the pennant so easily," he reflected. "But still they aren't as good as the 1951 team."

That was the club that beat him when he was a mainstay on the New York Giants staff.

"On the other hand, though," he continued, "I'm a better pitcher now than I was then. I have much better control for one thing. When Joe DiMaggio hit his home run off me in that series, I got the pitch just a little too close."

"I haven't been doing much of that this year."

Manager Walt Alston chimed in that there could be no other choice than Maglie, assuming The Barber felt right.

"Not only has he been my stopper," commented Alston, "but something else to remember is that he has the low, breaking stuff that we need to stop the Yanks."

Having decided to go along with Sandy Amoros in left field, although the little Cuban did not start a regular-season game against a left-handed pitcher—southpaw Whitey Ford was the Yanks' mound choice — Alston turned his attention to home-run hitter Duke Snider, who also has had his troubles against lefties in the past.

"Why should I worry about Duke?" he asked. "He stays right where he always is, in the third spot in the batting order. The way Duke hit in those last three games with Pittsburgh, I see no reason to change him."

"Furthermore, he has had three straight good Series, and personally I think he's going to have another one."

In the 1952, 1953 and 1955 series the Duke of Flatbush hit, respectively, .345, .320 and .320. He hit four home runs each in '52 and '55.

Jacket Harriers Beat Watford

Avondale High School defeated Watford, 23-35, in a dual cross-country meet Tuesday at Avondale. It was the 22nd straight win for the Jackets, who go to Milford Friday for their next match.

Dick Hutchinson of Avondale finished 1st with a time of 11:13 while Watford's Cadman came in 2nd with a clocking of 12:49. Nelson Myrns and Conrad Fulkerson of Avondale took 3rd and 4th spots followed by Ostrander and Young of the losers.

Larry LaForge, Grant Winstead and Jan Fruytier, all Jacket runners, were next in line. Then came Shell of the Skippers, Avondale's Ray Goforth and Watford's Ryan.

The pledge, under Article 34 of the new rules, requires each Olympic athlete to sign this declaration, printed on the official entry form:

"I, the undersigned, declare on my honor that I am and intend to remain an amateur and fulfill the conditions stipulated by the Olympic rules."

The words, "and intend to remain" were introduced for the first time by the new rules published in July.

Sports organizations in the United States, Europe and Australia have protested vigorously against the new pledge. Brundage, before leaving the United States for the Lausanne meeting, said "some amplification and explanation" of the wording would be necessary.

Red Wings Wallop Edmonton Club, 6-1

EDMONTON (U. S. — Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League defeated the Edmonton Flyers of the Western Hockey League 6-1 in an exhibition game last night before a capacity crowd of 7,800 fans.

Norm Ullman, a former Flyer, scored twice and Alex Delvecchio, Metro Prystai, Murray Costello and Bill Dea once each to pace the NHL club.

Bill McFarland scored for the Flyers, a Detroit farm club.

After a scoreless first period, Detroit took a 4-1 lead in the second and added two more goals in the final period.

Latent Excitement

Big Moments in Series as Games Near Finish

BROOKLYN (U. S. — It's the late innings that stir up the most excitement when the Dodgers and the Yankees meet in the World Series.

A check of the six previous Dodger-Yankee series shows these highlights:

1941—Catcher Mickey Owen of the Dodgers muffed a third strike on a 3-2 pitch to Tommy Henrich in the ninth inning of the fourth game. Henrich reached first and the Yankees rallied for four runs to turn an apparent 4-3 defeat into a 7-4 victory. Yankees won series, 4-1.

1947 — Floyd Bevens, Yankee pitcher, was only one out away from first no-hitter in Series history, when Brooklyn pinchhitter Cookie Lavagetto doubled home runs in the ninth inning of the fourth game. The hit not only ruined Bevens' no-hitter, but gave Brooklyn a 3-2 victory. Yanks won series, 4-3.

1953—Carl Erskine of Brooklyn set series strikeout record of 14 in third game, getting slugger Johnny Mize for the record in the ninth. In the ninth inning of the sixth game Carl Furillo hit a two-run homer to tie the score, but in last of the ninth Martin singled home Hank Bauer to give Yanks 4-3 triumph. Yankees won series, 4-2.

Home Field Worth $$$ for "M" in MSU Tilt

EAST LANSING (AP)—How much is the home field worth to Michigan in the Michigan-Michigan State football game Saturday?

Plenty in money.

You only have to be able to multiply $4 per ticket by 101,001 seats to figure out why Michigan has seven home games this year and six each the next two years.

Opponents aren't likely to insist on home-and-home games when they cut into such a fat bundle of boodle.

Michigan State, as a matter of pride, has tried to get more games in East Lansing. But in the modern MSU football era—dating from when Biggie Munn started coaching in 1947—only two of the games have been played in Mackin Stadium, in 1948 and 1953.

State will have a 75,000-seat stadium by 1958 and has lured Michigan up again for a game that year.

But there's another angle—the home field advantage.

The Michigan squad will be sleeping in its own beds the night before the game, eating its own food and working out of its own dressing room.

The majority of the crowd, too, will be whooping it up for the Wolverines although State has sold 22,000 tickets to assure its own loyal core of supporters.

For Michigan State, it's an away game although only some 60 miles separates the campuses.

Jay-Viking Battle Tops Preps

High school football fans in the Oakland County area are in for a treat this weekend.

Aside from the important Saginaw Valley Conference tussle in Pontiac between the Chiefs and Bay City, a dozen other significant prep contests promise to furnish one of the most exciting gridiron weekends since the 1956 season began.

Seven Friday games involving five area leagues are scheduled, half a dozen of which could have great bearing for title contenders. Topping the list is the Walled Lake-Southfield collision at Walled Lake.

The Inter-Lakes Conference battle between the Jays and the Vikings could well determine the league champion and overshadow all other games on the program.

Friday's tilt at Walled Lake brings together two of the county's undefeated powerhouses and also matches a couple of the area's finest backs against each other.

Southfield has rolled with reckless abandon over three opponents—Birmingham, Notre Dame and Farmington—and the defense has yet to yield a point. The Jays have amassed 116 points, 42 against Farmington last Friday in their 1st league start.

Dave Smith's Vikings have bludgeoned a veteran Redford Union outfit, West Bloomfield and Berkeley, the latter their I-L debut. They have chalked up 109 points while yielding 13.

Ron Brewer, Southfield's snake-bitten halfback, and full back John Walker of Walled Lake will provide the duel of personalities. Each ball carrier is the spark of his team's attack.

Only a little less important is the Waterford-Farmington scrap at Waterford. The Skippers, by no means out of the Inter-Lakes picture, opened their league campaign last week with a 21-19 win over Van Dyke. Dave Freeman's squad is also unbeaten in three outings.

Birmingham's hopes of successfully defending its Eastern Michigan crown will be put to a severe test Friday at Ferndale. The Rail-splitters can be a stubborn crew as Pontiac High will testify.

Clarkston and Milford tangle at Milford and Holly invades West Bloomfield for important Wayne-Oakland tests, while Lake Orion, which looms more and more as the big gun in the Oakland B, journeys to Clawson. Undefeated Orionville entertains Oxford in a crucial South Central tilt.

Highlighting Friday's non-league activity is Utica's invasion of Rochester for a battle of the unbeaten. Other standout attractions are La-peer at Avondale, Harper Woods at Bloomfield Hills and Tecumseh at Cranbrook.

Sunday's No. 1 encounter takes place at Orchard Lake where the undefeated St. Mary Eagles clash with St. Michael in a Suburban Catholic League game which could decide the outcome of the loop race.

East Lansing Tops 'B' Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
East Lansing's undefeated Trojans today were selected as the state's top class B high school football club.

The Trojans, who have won three straight, weren't even hard-pressed as they ascended to the top of the class B heap on the votes of Michigan Sports Writers and broadcasters compiled by the Associated Press.

East Grand Rapids, also unbeaten in three games, won the second spot by a three-point margin, but there were spirited contests for the rest of the positions in the "top ten."

Manistee and Marquette each collected 26 points on the basis of 10 points for each first place vote, 9 for second, etc. Grand Haven's Buccaneers were just a point behind in 5th place.

Battle Creek Lakeview, another fine club with an unbeaten record, is 6th with 22 points, followed by Coopersville, Albion (tied for 7th), Portage and Sault Ste. Marie.

Others getting strong support in the first weekly voting in the class B poll were:

Ionia with 14 votes, River Rouge with 11, Walled Lake with 10 and Lapeer with 9. Rochester also got attention.

Here's the vote of Michigan sports writers and broadcasters for the top ten in class B:

East Grand Rapids 28
Manistee 26
Marquette 26
Grand Haven 22
Battle Creek Lakeview 22
Coopersville 20
Albion 20
Portage 18
Sault Ste. Marie 18

Brewer's Widow Back in College Learning to Teach

MILWAUKEE (INS)—Mrs. Frederick C. Miller, widow of the late president of the Miller Brewing Co., has returned to college after 25 years.

The goal of the attractive mother of seven is to do "something direct and personal" about the teacher shortage.

She has enrolled at Mount Mary College in Milwaukee and said today she hopes to graduate in two years with a teacher's certificate.

Her husband, one-time Notre Dame football hero, Milwaukee civic leader and a supporter in the move to bring the former Boston Braves to Milwaukee, was killed in December, 1934, when his company plane crashed. His eldest son, Fred Jr., also died in the crash.

After nearly a year's pilgrimage to Rome, Mrs. Miller and her children returned to the family estate on Oconomowoc Lake. Then she decided she "just had to do something constructive."

Mrs. Miller said she would like to teach English at a new high school in suburban Whitefish Bay. But she admits she is a bit skeptical about sociology, one of six subjects she is carrying. She added:

"I'm just not mechanical at all, and I have an awful time with the microscope."

Cardinals Get Hurler

ST. LOUIS (INS)—St. Louis Cardinals have acquired right handed pitcher Frank Barnes from Toronto and sent hurler Gordon Jones to the New York Giants.

The player swap completes the trade between New York and St. Louis of last June 14.

Barnes compiled a 13 and 5 record the past season with Minneapolis while Jones won 13 and lost 8 for Omaha.

Lineup Shifts for PHS

By H. GUY MOATS

There was a possibility of at least two changes in the PHS football Chiefs' lineup for the Valley Conference opener here, Friday night, with the red-hot Bay City Central Wolves. Wolves are the state's No. 2 Prep eleven, according to the AP poll.

Freeman Watkins was still bothered with a bad leg, in Tuesday's scrimmage session. He may sit the bench at the start, if it does not respond sufficiently. Chiefs' mentor said today, in case Watkins does not start, speedy Lonnie Humphrey will go in the left-halfback spot.

A pulled muscle has slowed Dick Whitmer and he in all probability will not get in at the start. The nod will go to Jim Shorter, assistant coach Dean Wilson said this morning.

Otherwise there will be little or no change from the list of offense starters that opened the Ferndale game.

"These kids have a lot of confidence," said Wilson. "I believe they'll give Bay City a rough time." Which is the sentiment expressed this morning by the Wolves' mentor, Elmer Engle.

But upstate reports indicate the Bay City outfit is still "riding high" and will come here supremely sure of their 1st SVC victory and their 4th straight win. Bay City is the co-defending champion of the conference along with Flint Central.

"We're smaller in the backfield," says Engel, "but we still have Namon Smith and Terry Ebricht plus some other speedsters. We will go with the line."

up that started the Handy game, on offense.

"May make a few changes in the defensive lineup, with junior Dick Tewes (200 pounder) at tackle and junior Bill Clark, a converted end, at guard."

"We look for a hard, maybe very close battle down there, Friday night," Engel added.

Muscle Injury Worries 'Klu'

NEW YORK (AP)—Sluggish Ted Kluszewski, archetype of the Cincinnati Redlegs' "musclemen" this year, says he may be washed up as a player unless he recovers from a hip muscle injury.

The 240-pound first baseman said yesterday he is "in constant pain" with a torn muscle that has pressed against the sciatic nerve. "I am not concerned about it now," he said, "but if by next spring I feel the way I am now, I don't see how I can continue to play."

Klu is here for a meeting of major league player representatives. He said he will not stay for the World Series, but will return to his home in Cincinnati for a "long, complete rest."

The 32-year-old first sacker said that specialists at Cincinnati and Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore told him that the damaged muscle would mend with rest.

Beecham Favorite for Ring TV Debut

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Up-and-coming Jim my Beecham makes his television debut against ringwise Hector Constance tonight in a 10-round welterweight fight for the Babe Zaharias Cancer Foundation.

The Philadelphia 21-year-old probably will be a slight favorite, mainly because he beat Constance, 25, last December in a match at Caracas, Venezuela.

The loser called that decision "atrocious" while Beecham pointed out that, even so, "It sure was unanimous."

Constance, of Trinidad, is an extremely fast counterpuncher. He said he "never makes a prediction" before a fight, but hoped to prove he could whip Beecham.

Baseball's Hall of Fame was dedicated in July 1938.

GETTING READY FOR SMU — Backfield coach Don Robinson (left) and end coach Matt Patanelli talk to star Ron Kramer, an All-America end who may be shifted at times into the backfield by the Wolverines in a strategy move against Michigan State. Kramer worked out in the backfield throughout spring practice, and at times during the fall sessions.

MSU Plans No Traps for Kramer

EAST LANSING (U) — Michigan State isn't setting any special booby traps for Saturday to defense against Ron Kramer, Michigan's All-American end.

"We know he's great," said MSU coach Duffy Daugherty. "But we've got to stop the entire Michigan team—not just Kramer. Also, we have no way of knowing just what offensive and defensive patterns they'll use."

Kramer, Michigan's leading scorer for the past two seasons, will run up against some of the toughest players on the Spartan squad, however.

When MSU is on the offense, Walt Kowalczyk, the burly right half, would ordinarily get the assignment of blocking out Kramer if a play was going around his end position.

On the defense, quarterback Pat Wilson or left half Clarence Peaks would have the job of chasing down Kramer if he went out for a pass.

There are bound to be comparisons made Saturday between Kramer and Dave Kaiser, State's own end candidate for All-American.

Kaiser was State's leading pass receiver last fall, catching 12 for 343 yards and two touchdowns.

Kramer, playing only seven of nine games, grabbed 32 passes for 224 yards and four touchdowns.

Both kick the extra points for their teams and both booted in three in their opener, Kaiser against Stanford and Kramer against UCLA.

Ordinarily, their assignments wouldn't have them hitting each other. But if they do, the 6-3, 230-pound Kramer and the 6-1, 205-pound Kaiser should meet with a stadium-shaking impact.

Preparing on the practice field, Michigan State followed the pattern of spit and polish, shining up both offensive and defensive plans. A few new plays also were added that will be top secret until after the 1:30 p.m. kickoff Saturday at Ann Arbor.

Buddy's Brother IneligibleCredits Clip Henny Young

EAST LANSING (U) — The Henny Young marching and chowder society at Michigan State University is in mourning today.

Henny, pint-sized, 141-pound, sophomore right half from Detroit, has been declared ineligible for the remainder of the football season because of a mixup in his scholastic credits.

Also ineligible for the same reason is Russ Kelly, sophomore guard prospect from Fruitport, Mich.

Young, brother of Buddy Young, the Illinois and pro football player, had picked up a cheering section of fans even before the season started. He was named as the 38th man on the traveling roster to make the Stanford trip because of the fight he showed in practice.

A telephone call Friday night from East Lansing to Palo Alto, Calif., informed coach Duffy Daugherty that Young might be ineligible and so he wasn't used in the game.

It was explained that an error in computing scholastic credits was responsible for the ineligibility in both cases. Both are veterans and their military service was wrongfully added up as credit on ROTC courses.

LOS ANGELES (U) — Police continued their investigation of Gerry McDougall today as the 21-year-old UCLA football player remained in jail on suspicion of burglary.

The husky senior halfback and another student, Richard E. Moen, 23, have admitted removing a record player and a radio from an apartment but insisted they did it as "a prank."

"No complaint is being issued for the moment," said Deputy Dist. Atty. George Johnson last night, "but there is still a lot to go into."

NCAA's Committee Studies Infractions

KANSAS CITY (U) — A four-man committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. will open a two-day investigation tomorrow of possible infractions of the NCAA code.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said several pending cases will be considered. A report will be submitted to the NCAA council later this month. Byers said all cases involving member schools will remain confidential until acted upon by the council.

Bags First Goose

Clyde Allen, 3517 Newton road, Walled Lake, had the thrill of his hunting career early this morning at Pontiac Lake. He was hunting ducks, alone, had downed one fat black duck, when along came a low-flying "loner" Canada.

"I just emptied my gun at him," Clyde reported. "Had to waste out to get him." The prize weighed 12 pounds, Allen said.

Favors Lighter LoadsBy JACK PATTERSON
Pontiac Press Outdoor Writer

One of the most baffling problems the shotgunner has to face is the proper size of shot for the particular game he is after. So much has been written and so many theories have been advanced, that it would be idle to go into a detailed discussion here.

From our own experience, though, we have arrived at certain definite conclusions that might be passed along. First and foremost — most, big shot are a disadvantage, we think to the inexperienced shooter.

Big shot carry a little more slip a greater distance than finer shot, but not to the ranges the experienced gunner is apt to think.

If we had to choose one shot size for everything we'd settle for seven and a half. They pattern well in practically every gun of whatever bore or choke. They have plenty of shocking power, too. A little light for geese, perhaps, and for pass shooting at ducks, but by and large they will do the trick on most everything.

In the early hunting season, when leaves are very thick, the high-base seven and half will do more to put a partridge in the game pocket than any thing we know.

Parenthetically, we should add that this shot size is not currently loaded in low base shells in gauges smaller than twenty.

Sure and certain cause of missing in wing shooting (as everybody knows) is insufficient lead. Now there is no argument to that. But consider, on the other hand, the peril of too much lead.

This is a horrid habit that is apt to afflict the seasoned gunner. He misses a few, assumes he isn't leading enough and compensates by increasing the error.

The too much lead habit is easy to get into and hard to break. Best cure is to make like the market hunters of old, who really learned to shoot because shells cost money, and learn to snap about.

This is not difficult if the shooter's gun fits at all. Gun pointing becomes as simple and automatic as pointing the index finger. Try it and see. You will find that lead becomes an unconscious calculation—at least you won't be aware of computing it. And you'll get many, many more clean kills too.

We've compared both methods for years. Started out to be a snap shooter than got involved with a lot of trips about lead angles and so forth. Began to miss easy shots very recently, in fact.

Now we are back on the snap shooting detail and we can count on a clean miss or a dead bird with the latter coming with greater frequency.

With a pair of effective all-over-the-field defensive players in Jim Schreiber and John Zeeman staying off at least three Northville JV scoring tries, Milford's junior varsity eleven last night won a 25-14 tilt at Northville. Win was its 2nd straight.

Schreiber and Zeeman also engineered two TDs apiece. Larry Eckart kicked the point. Sid Hawley, Don Zanerle and Joe Callahan played well on defense.

Tom Jenkins and Larry Holm scored for Northville.

Misguided KindnessFittful Coon Gives Trouble

LANSING (U) — A Jackson family recently spent several anxious weeks waiting for medical tests to determine if their four children, bitten by a fittful raccoon, were infected with rabies.

The story is an A-one example of why wild animals should not be picked up for pets.

This particular raccoon was found shuffling along a roadside in the Jackson area. It was picked up and toted home. The animal promptly bit four children in one family and also nipped other neighborhood youngsters.

The raccoon died soon after. Its death, coupled with the fits and bittings, all suggested that rabies might be present.

Final Health Department reports showed the coon was not rabid.

But the anxious experience charged a high price in worry, time and expense. It could have

Moore Leads NBA Heavy Class Rating

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Carmen Basilio, who recently regained the world welterweight championship by stopping Johnny Saxton, today was named boxer of the month by the National Boxing Assn.

Basilio recaptured the title Sept. 12 when he scored a ninth round technical knockout over Saxton in a bout at Syracuse, N.Y., the new champ's home town.

The NBA, which now plans to issue its ratings monthly instead of quarterly and also pick the fighter-of-the-month, dropped Saxton into the No. 2 spot below Basilio in the October list. Tony DeMarco of Boston, Mass., a former champion, was ranked No. 1 contender.

TCU Top Offense Club

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
With the college football season only a couple of weeks old, Texas Christian has jumped into the lead as the best attacking team in the country.

The Horned Frogs, second to Oklahoma last year in rushing, have taken the overall offense lead with a total of 540 yards in their one game to date. Navy, Ohio State, Wisconsin and Arizona follow in order—also on the basis of a single game.

Wisconsin leads the rushing of defense with 441 yards in its opening game, followed by Ohio State, Navy and Oklahoma.

Penn State is the early leader in defense, limiting Pennsylvania to 94 yards last week in the opening game. Princeton and Mississippi follow as defensive powers.

Wayne Opens Loop Play Against Case

DETROIT (AP)—Wayne plays its first football game as a state university Saturday against Case of Cleveland in the deemphasized President's Conference.

Wayne, perennially thin, boasts a stronger squad this year than last when the Tartars won one, lost five and tied one.

Behind the quarterbacking of Hal Willard, coach Herb Smith has a backfield full of lettermen in halfbacks Jack Goggins and Hank Lukowski and fullback Terry Fagan.

Kickoff is 2 p.m. at Clarke Field in Cleveland. Wayne's first home game is Oct. 13 against Kalamazoo College.

Rush for Permits

More Than 20,000 File Deer Hunting Requests

LANSING — Applications for special deer season hunting permits are pouring into the Conservation Department's Lansing office and quotas already are exceeded in two areas.

More than 20,000 applications were received two weeks before the Oct. 10 deadline and the pile of mail sacks continues to grow. A total of 65,340 permits will be issued for the special season in 22 deer starvation and crop damage areas.

Requests for permits for Area 2 — the Lake-Newaygo county region — have exceeded the quota of 4000 special permits for the area and a drawing will be held Oct. 20 to determine distribution. All applications for Area 2 received by Oct. 10 will be eligible for this drawing.

The quota of 40 permits for Area 17 — Bois Blanc Island — also has been exceeded by the number of applications and a similar drawing will be held.

In both Area 2 and Area 17, the special season will be concurrent with the Nov. 15-30 buck season. Special permits are needed in these two areas only by hunters who take deer other than legal bucks. Any hunter may take a legal buck in these areas under the normal regulations.

Meanwhile, permit quotas were far from filled in several other areas. Less than 1,000 applications have been received for Area 9 — the Hansen-Dead Stream area near Grayling — where 12,000 permits will be issued. Only a few hundred applications have been submitted for the 5000 permits for Area 16, in Alpena and Presque Isle counties.

Hunters can obtain applications, together with instructions and special season area maps, from any authorized license agent.

Violators Pay $2,185 in Conservation Fines

LANSING—Removing trees from state-owned land recently cost a Gaines resident $20 in fines and $5 in court costs.

The man, convicted in an Ithaca justice court, was one of 130 persons listed in a recent summary of conservation law convictions.

The violators paid a total of $2,185 in fines and $1,033 in court costs, an average financial penalty of more than $24.

Quick Duck Limit

Fred Baucom and Clay Martin made fast work of filling their duck limit, opening day of the state waterfowl season.

Shooting near Lapeer, Monday, the pair bagged all the mallards they were permitted to take, in a short time. They report "lots of ducks" all over the area. Most are of the "local" kind, in contrast to flight ducks.

Required for Hunters

LANSING — Hunters are reminded that a federal "duck stamp" is required, in addition to a small game license, for anyone hunting migratory waterfowl. The stamps may be purchased at more than 700 post offices in the United States.

Bags Big Goose Difficult Way

Russ Shipley, 15, first of the week bagged his first wild goose. That was almost thrill enough, but Russ, Crary Junior High 8-H student, had to get it the hard way—swimming an icy pond to retrieve his prize.

Russ was hunting with his friend Bill Ober when they raised a small flock of big Canadas along the shores of a pond near Milford.

Both boys shot at the honker and it fell into the middle of the pond. Russ shed outside clothing, jumped in and swam out to where the 15-pound, 13-ounce honker floated on the cold water.

"That's the 1st goose I ever got," said Russ, "and I wasn't going to lose it."

Catches Tagged Trout

LANSING — A nine-year-old angler, Nancy Blank of Bay Village, Ohio, reports that she caught a tagged, 12-inch rainbow trout in Frankfort harbor during summer. This fish was one of the 20,000 hatchery-reared rainbows planted this year by the Conservation Department.

The plantings are part of an experimental program to determine if hatchery-reared rainbows can be used to supplement natural runs of "steelheads" from the Great Lakes.

Benson Claims Gains Under Ike

Says More Help Aimed at Family Farms Now Than Ever Before

HUNTLEY, Ill. (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson, striking back sharply at critics, said today the Eisenhower administration has taken "more constructive action for the benefit of the family farm than has any previous administration in years."

"The facts reveal how utterly false and absurd are the charges that this administration is guilty of selling short our family farms," the secretary said in a speech prepared for the dedication of the Thor Research Center near here.

Equipment improvements have brought problems and changes to farms but they have not changed "our traditional system of family-operated farms," Benson said.

"I make this statement," he added, "because in recent weeks deliberately misleading, careless and irresponsible statements have been made about the attitude of this administration toward our family farms."

Benson did not mention them by name, but he obviously was referring to campaign statements by Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate, and Sen. Estes Kefauver, Stevenson's running mate.

Family farms have been involved in difficult readjustments and problems brought on by two factors, Benson said.

One, he said, was the cost-price squeeze which he attributed in a large part to price-depressing surpluses growing out of previous government policies, including what he called "an unwise continuation of wartime incentive levels of price supports far too long in the postwar years."

The second factor, Benson said, is readjustment centering around rapid developments in farm tools and equipment.

Perfect Record Not Marred by Operation

LENOIR, N.C. (AP) — Little Kate Waters was literally in stitches when she attended Sunday school here last weekend.

The 9-year-old, before an appendectomy last Wednesday extracted promises from her doctor and her parents that she'd be out in time for Sunday school. An ambulance took her.

Kate was able to maintain her perfect attendance record.

Persistent Husband Returned to Prison

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Robert McGee, 47, of Columbus apparently doesn't like his wife very well.

In 1951, McGee was convicted on a charge of assaulting to kill his wife and was sentenced to Ohio Penitentiary. He served five years before being paroled last March.

Yesterday McGee was convicted in common pleas court of arson in a July fire at his wife's home. He was sentenced to one to seven years in the penitentiary.

Commented assistant prosecutor Fred W. Newsom: "At least he's persistent."

Car Salesman's Faith in Honest Faces Restored

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A Dallas car salesman's faith in honest faces is somewhat restored.

Six months ago the salesman allowed a man with an honest face to test-drive a swank new car around the block.

Police and officers in 48 states have been looking for it since.

Yesterday the company's owner, J. A. Treadway, received phone call from the man, who said the car was parked nearby.

The car was found, plus 12,000 miles, but minus any clues.

"We may never know who the thief was," Treadway said. "But we know one thing for sure — he had a streak of honesty in him."

Candidate Fails to Tell Wife He Was Running

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — D. L. Cullum, a loser in the race for state auditor in the July 31 Democratic primary, lost his wife because he failed to tell her he was a candidate.

Mrs. Gladys Cullum was granted a divorce yesterday after charging that Cullum's failure to tell her about his candidacy constituted "cruel and inhuman treatment." They were married in 1935.

She said she was "embarrassed and humiliated" when newsmen inquired about her husband's candidacy and she knew nothing about it.

Cullum, an employee at a lumber company, polled 32,000 votes without the slightest tremor of a campaign.

Mrs. Cullum also said that Cullum had failed to support her and had "nagged, fussed and quarreled."

Riddle Windows at Romeo

Vandals Pelt Stores With B-B

Outbreak Affects 20 Firms; Culprits Also 'Set Fire' to Car

ROMEO—Plate glass windows in 20 local stores, primarily along Main street, have been damaged by B-B gun pellets in a recent outbreak of vandalism, according to Romeo police chief, Gordon Osgood.

Some windows have as many as three holes in them while others have only one.

A number of merchants suspect one shooting spree occurred last Friday night.

Yesterday afternoon, however, a similar outbreak was reported to police by the Miller Insurance Co. clerk. The firm has offices on South Van Dyke, south of the village limits.

Franksters were also active last night at Memorial Stadium, where crowds were witnessing a football game between the Troy and Romeo Reserve Teams.

At about 8:45 p.m. the local fire department was summoned to extinguish a blaze under the hood of a car belonging to Romeo High School Principal Harold F. Bary.

Before the department arrived however, the car hood was raised and a smoke bomb was found underneath.

Several suspects were to be questioned today, Chief Osgood said.

Millford League Prepares Bazaar for Christmas

MILFORD — The Woman's League of Christ Lutheran Church of Millford will hold its Christmas Bazaar Saturday, Dec. 8 at the church on General Motors road.

Mrs. Walter Roeske, who is chairman of the affair states that all women of the church have been working since early September on items to be sold at the bazaar.

Broomfield to Greet Novi Township GOP

NOVI TOWNSHIP — Dirk Groeneweg, president of the Novi Township Republican Club, has announced that William Broomfield, Republican candidate for Congress, with Oakland County Officers and candidates for re-election will be on hand to meet citizens in this area at the regular monthly meeting of the club.

The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. on Oct. 10, at the Novi Community Building. The meeting is open to all interested citizens of Novi, Wixom, Walled Lake, Farmington, South Lyon and New Hudson area.

Waterford Village Mothers Club Sets 1st Meeting

WATERFORD VILLAGE — The Mothers Club here will hold its first meeting Thursday, Oct. 11. A 12 noon potluck luncheon is planned, at the home of Mrs. Adolph Stoll, at 4209 LaForest. After business, motion pictures will be shown of Mrs. Stoll's vacation trip in Northern Michigan and Minnesota. All interested women welcome.

Seek Bakery Orders

METAMORA — The Pilgrim Club is calling for orders of baked goods for a sale at the Albertson Appliance Shop at 2 p.m. Oct. 20. Mrs. Lyle Allen, Mrs. George Achenkel and the Address Market will accept orders in advance.

$1,500,000 Issue Passed in March

Clawson Ready for 3 School Bids

CLAWSON — The Board of Education here is ready to take bids on two of the three proposed school buildings to be built with money from the $1,500,000 bond issue passed by voters in March, 1956.

One eight-room building will be located on the Parkland School site and another, a six-room building, will be located on Main and Rochester Roads.

Superintendent Paul Schalm said construction is expected to be completed by September, 1957.

Additions to McDonald and Kenwood Schools will be completed by the first of next year, Schalm said.

ASC Notes New Tally; 2,610 Acres in Bank

Notice has been received from the Department of Agriculture that the acreage of wheat planted on farms for harvest in 1957 shall be determined in acres and tenths of acres rather than whole acres as in the past according to Walter R. Cook, Office Manager, Oakland County ASC Committee.

If the acreage of wheat exceeds the allotment as much as one tenth (0.1) acres the producer shall be considered to be in excess and shall be notified accordingly.

In past programs tenths of acres could be dropped, but will not be permitted in the 1957 wheat acreage or grain program.

This ruling also applied to the 15 acres permitted on farms not having allotments or having an allotment of less than 15 acres, Cook says.

Any wheat producer exceeding his allotment or the 15 acres is permitted to destroy this wheat by June 10, 1957 by clipping, pasturing or plowing under.

Wheat Bank
Oakland County wheat farmers have signed up 2610 acres in the acreage reserve program for 1957 according to Cook. This represents a payment of nearly $75,000.00.

Farmers have through Friday, to sign an agreement to put their wheat acreage allotment acres in the soil bank program for 1957.

There are at the present time funds available as the county allocation has been increased by $5,000 recently and a promise of more if needed.

ASO Staff
Delegates selected by the various communities of Oakland County met at the Oakland County ASO Office, on Friday, and elected the county committee for the next twelve months.

Results of this election are as follows: William Porritt of Orion Township, chairman; Donald Hickmott of Addison Township; vice chairman; Robert H. Long of Commerce Township, regular member;

Stanley J. Allen of Oxford Township, first alternate, and Alfred Bayliss of Oxford Township, second alternate.

Band Boosters Meeting Tonight

Milford Group to Hold Annual Election, Begin Membership Drive

MILFORD — The Huron Valley Band Boosters Club will hold its annual meeting, tonight at 7:15 in the Highland School gymnasium. Main event of the evening will be election of officers for the coming year, and the membership drive will be organized.

The object of the Band Boosters is to promote the musical interests of the students of the Huron Valley schools.

All parents and other persons interested in this organization are eligible to membership and are urged to attend.

Band directors, Phil Haddrell and Bob Miller, will conduct a program of instrumental music after the business meeting.

Judy Gougeon Wins Don Large Audition

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Judy Gougeon, Bloomfield Hills high school senior has won her audition for a place in the "Make-Way-for-Youth" Chorus directed by Don Large over WJR radio station.

Judy, a member of the Bloomfield Hills summer choral clinic, replaced a girl joining the Spellbinders Quartet.

The "Youth" chorus includes 24 boys and girls from the Detroit area.

Marry in California

MARLETTE—Arlene Celia Ross, daughter of James Ross and the late Mrs. Ross of Marlette, was united in marriage to Eugene R. Cain, son of Mrs. Aden Cain and the late Mr. Cain of Port Huron, in a recent afternoon ceremony in the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Limbacher, Lancaster, Calif.

The Rev. Charles M. Maloney, Methodist pastor, officiated.

Setting for the wedding and reception included palms and lighted candelabra, with white wedding bells and ribbon bows on the reception table.

The bride selected a white crystalite over satin, ballerina-length gown with bustle bow in the back. The jacket was of white lace with long tapered sleeves and a Chinese collar. She wore small drop pearl earrings and her headpiece was a tiara of stephanotis. She carried a shower bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid trailing streamers of tany bows and buds.

Matron of honor was Mrs. David

Limbacher of Lancaster, Calif. David Limbacher served the bridegroom as best man.

Square Dance Class Opens at Rochester

ROCHESTER — Dancing classes are being offered in connection with the Adult Education program here this fall. Richard Olsen is the director of the program.

Rochester Host Oct. 6 to Firemen of Oakland Area

ROCHESTER — Rochester and Brooklands Fire Departments will be hosts to more than 100 members of the Oakland County Firemen's Assn. at a meeting Saturday night at 8 in American Legion Hall, West Fifth and Walnut streets.

Howard Shelley, sportsman, will entertain with films and a talk on "Hunting." A buffet supper will be served after the program.

In observation of National Fire Prevention Week, a special demonstration will be featured by the local fire department on Wednesday night, Oct. 10.

Troy Buying 2 Snowplows

Reject Grader to Wait Trial of Contractors; Vote New Water Main

TROY — City Commissioners this week purchased two dump trucks with snow plows, as well as a front-end loader for the Department of Public Works. The trucks cost $5,927 each, and the loader, with Diesel motor, $13,315.

A contract was let for laying a water main for the Troy No. 2 school. The school, short of water, desired a larger source, having depended on wells for drinking and fire protection.

The city took steps to open Ellenboro street from Vanderfoot to Harland streets, a one-block length.

The street is one of the half-mile roads which the city commissioners have decided should be opened ultimately for through traffic, when the area builds up more.

Instead of buying a grade-able and a truck-mounted crane, the city is advertising for bids for contract work for ditch cleaning, in an effort to determine whether the crane or a grade-able should be purchased at some future time.

Authorization for the architect to proceed with working specifications and drawings for the city's third fire station on 18 Mile and Delemere was voted.

Attempts to open Badder street, north boundary of Clawson, were initiated and permission was granted to Sun Oil Co. to build a new station at Livernois and Square Lake Road.

Dandy Dancers to Meet; Seek More 'Squares'

GINGELLVILLE — The Dandy Dancers Square Dance Club will meet at the Gingellville Community Club, for their second dance of the season from 8 to 10 p.m. Thursday.

The group is hopeful that several more couples who want to learn more about square dancing, or just dance for the fun, will come to this dance.

Bill Morris is doing the calling. Refreshments will be served.

Registration Is Tonight

WEST BLOOMFIELD — A correction from Frank Hallett, township clerk; states that hours for registering here will be from 7 to 9 tonight, at Sylvan Realty office. The registry is special to Sylvan Manor, Pine Lake and Hammond Lake Estates residents.

Holly Parents Will Be 'Students' for One Night

HOLLY — Once again parents of Holly High School students will change places with their sons and daughters at the first high school PTA meeting of the year.

Purpose for the meeting is that parents will have an opportunity to meet the teachers and the teachers will have a chance to explain the subjects they teach.

Rochester Looks to Recreation

Council Plans Meeting of Schools, Village to Map Needs

ROCHESTER — Village Council, at a special Monday meeting here, discussed recreation needs and moved to raise the pay of school traffic officers.

All members of the council freely discussed needs of a well rounded recreation program and a motion was made by Councilwoman Elizabeth Maitroff, that a future meeting be held, with two representatives from Rochester School Board and two from Avon Township to discuss them. Councilmen Sidney Q. Ennis and Stowell Collins would represent the Village at the meeting.

Other action taken included a motion to raise the pay of School Traffic officers from $3 to $4, and further that the Village provide coats for the officers.

Village Manager Robert A. Stone presented a request for the use of Halbach Field for a non-partisan political rally. The request was granted.

Nancy Tibbitts Becomes Bride of Four Towner

FOUR TOWNS — Nancy Ann Tibbitts wore a point d'esprit lace gown and a demi-cap and lace edged veil as she spoke wedding vows recently with Edwin James Keel Jr.

Keel, who was discharged in August from the Marines at Camp Pendleton, Calif., is the son of the Edwin James Keels of 1741 Marylestone, Four Towns. His bride's parents are the Ray Tibbitts of 6432 Logan, Drayton Plains.

The bride's flowers, in Colonial arrangement, were white roses and carnations. Her gown had long sleeves, a fitted bodice with sweetheart neckline, and a double-apron front in the lace, tiered, chapel trained skirt.

JoAnn Tibbitts, was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Beverly Corn and Dorothy Armstrong. Best man was Eugene Pool, and ushers were Robert Delongchamp and Dale Hargraves.

After the service, the couple received in the church hall, both events at Central Christian Church, Pontiac.

Prof Sees 40 Per Cent Increase Need in 1975

HUNTLEY, Ill. (AP) — Farmers will have to increase production by 40 per cent to feed the population of the United States by 1975, Agricultural Educator Prof. Roy Bainer said today. To meet the heightened production needs farmers will have to increase the efficiency of mechanized farming, the chairman of the Department of Agricultural Engineering of the University of California added.

MRS. ROLAND L. MCKENZIE

Airman Goes to Japan; Bride Stays

MILFORD — Airman Third Class and Mrs. Roland L. McKenzie, who spoke wedding vows in Commerce Methodist church recently, are back from their northern Michigan honeymoon.

The bride, Mary L. McKenzie, is remaining with her parents, the Harold Blisses, 1850 Portlock, while the bridegroom is in Tokyo, Japan.

She wore an ivory brocade street length dress for her wedding, wearing with it a shoulder veil and seed pearl hat and carrying lilacs on a white Bible.

Her attendant, who wore blue tulle, was Dorothy Marie Cowlick, and best man was David L. Kanipe, of Toledo. Ushers were Gerald Ostrowski and Philip Metevia, both of Milford.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors.

Kendallwood Slates First Annual Dance

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — First annual dance is being sponsored by the Kendallwood Assn. on Nov. 2 at the Glen Oaks Country Club, with dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tickets, limited in number, went on sale yesterday.

Send Out Appeal for Scout Leaders

FOUR TOWNS — Brownie and Intermediate Scout leaders here are sending out an appeal for more help and leadership so that troops can be started for second and third grade girls. Scouts from fourth through sixth grades meet each Tuesday after classes at the Four Towns School.

Persons interested in helping may call Mrs. Carl Munn, EM 3-3793.

Frank Merriwell Stories Being Made Into Musical

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—What nostalgic memories this brings! "The Life and Loves of Frank Merriwell, or True Blue," is announced by Julie Stein as his 1937 Broadway production.

I hope this doesn't date me too much, but years and years ago my mother told me to throw out all the trashy Frank Merriwell books in my brother's room. She didn't want him reading such stuff.

Two hours later I was sitting on the floor devouring Frank and his adventures—and the scolding I received I remember to this day.

Let me tell you what Julie plans to do. He has written tunes for this musical and this fall it will be presented as an NBC spectacular, and after its Broadway run it will become a motion picture.

When I say that Etchika Chopreau, blondish-redheaded French actress, bowed them over on the Warner lot, that is the understatement of the year. Etchika arrived in town over the weekend, having been signed by William Wellman for "C'est la Guerre," opposite Tab Hunter.

When I asked if Etchika speaks English I was told, "Adequately," and that her role doesn't call for a lot of chatter. She is not unknown in films, having made pictures in Paris and, oh! I forgot to say, she has green eyes.

ABILENE MENUS LIKE
When I heard that Mala Powers and Scott Brady were to co-star in "The Man From Abilene," I thought it was a story of President Eisenhower—but it isn't. Scott and his partner, Bernard Glasser, say that this title is just temporary. There is a book about our President with this title.

This is really an independent venture for Scott, who has also signed Bill Williams. Mala certainly keeps busy—she just finished "Man on a Motorcycle" for UFA a few days ago.

The thing that Debbie Reynolds minded most about losing in the fire that wrecked part of the Fisher house were the scrapbooks that she had kept from her first date with Eddie on June 17, 1934.

Some of the clippings can be replaced, of course, but the scrapbooks were a matter of sentiment to her.

It was the first time their house was ever left without anyone in it. Eddie missed his plans back from Las Vegas or he'd have been sleeping in the bedroom where the fire started.

Ann Arbor Newspaper Boosts Delivery Prices

ANN ARBOR UP—The Ann Arbor News has boosted its residential delivery rates from 35 cents a week to 40 cents, effective Monday. At the same time, the paper hiked its weekly motor delivery service price seven cents to 42 cents. The paper said the increases result from general increased operating costs. The single copy price will remain seven cents.

Two Frenchmen Claim Bonfires Can Make Rain

PARIS (AP)—Two Frenchmen say they can make rain by lighting a bonfire under the sky.

The rainmakers, brothers Jean and Henri Dessens, believe their technique may be a boon to vast, dry areas with few natural, moisture-bearing clouds overhead. They reported to the Academy of Sciences, France's top scientific body, on experiments they conducted in the Belgian Congo.

They say their method works this way: They light a big brush fire, covering an area of 5 to 125 acres, on a day when wind and air pressure conditions are just right for the formation of rain clouds. The fire causes a cumulus cloud to form. Then, it all goes well, it rains.

They reported they brought the first rain in a month to the Congo in four successful experiments in July. A fifth attempt was inconclusive because a sudden wind pushed their cloud out of sight.

Wheat Marked by Firmness

CHICAGO (AP)—A firm tone prevailed in wheat but other grains slipped back after getting off to a steady start on the Board of Trade today.

Demand for wheat stemmed from continuation of the intense drought in the winter wheat belt. Soybeans advanced early in sympathy with gains in soybean oil. The advance was soon halted. Feed grains held about the previous close.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/4 higher, December, $2.27 1/2; corn 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, December $1.36 1/2; oats 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, December $1.11 1/2; soybeans unchanged to 1/4 lower, November $2.27 1/2, and 7-15 cents a hundred pounds higher, $11.52.

Colombia Mine Holds Emeralds

WASHINGTON—In the high Andes of Colombia, 60 miles north of Bogota, the old emerald mine of Muzo once more is turning out the glowing green stones of conquistadors' treasure.

Operated irregularly in recent years, the mine has gone back into full production following discovery of new and valuable deposits.

The finds recall bonanza days of Spanish conquest when the gems of Muzo were shipped home with gold to the monarchs who had struck the New World jackpot.

Of the South American emeralds the Spaniards sent to Madrid, many found their way to Paris and other European capitals.

Still other stones reached India, Turkey and Persia to become the property of Oriental rulers. A 75-carat gem, now in a diamond-studded brooch, once served as belt buckle for the Turkish sultan Abdul Hamid.

A much larger green crystal was carved into a cup said to have been given by his favorite wife to the Mogul Emperor Jahangir. Jahangir, the story goes, was a heavy wine drinker. His wife, noting the capacity of his golden goblet, persuaded him that the "Conqueror of the World" should drink from the more valuable, unusual—and smaller—emerald cup.

Although Colombia has yielded the world's finest emeralds for the last four centuries, the jewel itself is one of earliest history. It is mentioned in the Bible.

EGYPT ANCIENT SOURCE
Upper Egypt, near the Red Sea, was an ancient emerald source. Greeks worked this region at the time of Alexander the Great, and Cleopatra obtained many stones there.

Other countries that have produced lesser emerald ores include Russia, Norway, Austria, Burma and Australia.

Emeralds are a variety of beryl, a mineral that has long significance today as the source of strategic beryllium. The brilliant green color of the emerald is due to traces of chromium.

Another impurity, causing sea-blue tints, creates aquamarine.

Emeralds are relatively soft when first mined and are seldom found without flaws. But carat for carat, those of high quality sell for more than diamonds.

Traditional birthstone for May, the emerald was once prized as a charm to ward off evil, restore health, bring wealth, and soothe tired eyes.

STOCKHOLM—Swedish voters recently defeated a proposal to end left-side driving and switch to the right side. The government appropriated $500,000 to be used equally by both sides during the campaign that preceded the nationwide referendum.

Stock Market Moves Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved higher in early trading today with gains of 1 to 3 points appearing with some frequency throughout the list.

Steels, aluminum, rubbers and papers were in the foreground. Activity was heavy at the start and was still going along at a brisk pace toward the end of the first hour.

Outstanding performers included Lyskens Steel, up 5 on news of a planned stock split and dividend increase. International Paper added 3/4, Gulf Oil 2 1/2, and Alcoa 2 1/2. Advances of a point or more were scored by Bethlehem Steel, Goodrich, Caterpillar, United Aircraft, Aluminum Ltd., Du Pont, Texas Co. and U.S. Gypsum.

Chrysler was up 1/2 as the auto industry predicted a sales boom for the new 1937 models.

There were indications that traders were trying to get in as much business as they could in the early hours so they could sit back later on and watch the opening game of the World Series.

London Mirror Writer Slaps at Britain's Bold Complacency

LONDON (INS) — The average Britisher has just had a crudely unkind look at himself from a most surprising source.

The jolt came from — of all places — the Daily Mirror, the newspaper with by far the largest daily circulation in Britain.

The shockingly frank appraisal of Brit in Britain came from Woodrow Wyatt in a series of three articles.

Wyatt, who has become a kind of bull in a China closet since he lost his Labor Party seat in Parliament a year ago, wrote his newspaper series under the not exaggerated title, "Young Man Raises Hell."

By British standards, he most certainly did, attacking everything sacred from British democracy to some aspects of the Royal family. And the dust won't settle for some time to come.

APPRAISALS TALLY

What gives Wyatt's breathtaking criticism more point than might be expected from articles in the popular British press is that what he said in many respects tallies with some well reasoned American appraisals of the British but which, for obvious reasons, are usually left unsaid.

Moreover, the Mirror not only let him criticize all British sacred cows, but even the Mirror itself as, for example, when he wrote that the Mirror "is one of the worst offenders" when it comes to trying to gain circulation by publishing photos of the Royal family.

But, for his main thesis, it was that Britain is through unless her people face up to reality, stop thinking they're better than everybody else, that the world — or somebody else — has a living, and stop consuming far more than they produce.

"Britain is slipping so fast and in so many ways that it makes me dizzy," Wyatt said in his opening barrage.

Again: "We are complacently pleased with ourselves." He chided British industry for lack of enterprise in resting on the postwar sellers' market without preparing for the competition which has now come.

"Everywhere in the world," he said, "deliveries of British goods are late and prices are too high."

Turning to workers and unions, he said:

"Here some people are demanding that automation should be held up unless everyone is guaranteed their old job after new plants are put up. What lunacy! It is not a few individuals who may be in danger of temporarily losing their jobs. It is the whole country that will be out of work before long if Britain does not wake up."

He even went so far as to muse that perhaps it might have been better if Britain had lost World War II — "then, like Western Germany and Japan we would have had to build up our industry from scratch."

In an ardent sermonizing mood, Wyatt whacked his countrymen and partisans for paying more attention to movie stars and sports than to the serious problems of survival.

"It is," he said sarcastically, "the curves of Diana Dors that matter, not the down curves of British motorcar exports."

DWELLING ON THE PAST

As for the Royal family, Wyatt said, which, by British standards, was virtually sacrilegious:

"How can anything be wrong with Britain? There is the beautiful young Queen and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, presiding so splendidly over our right little, tight little island. . . . We are bemused by the fairy-tale story of the young Queen. . . . Mooning about the Royal family is one of the main contributory factors to Britain's plight. It saps our dynamism. It makes us dwell on the past and believe we have achieved everything open to man."

And then, of course, Wyatt went on to say it wasn't the fault of the Queen or her family, who "do their job with admirable devotion and skill."

The trouble, said Wyatt, in a sort of summary phrase is that "we believe we are so much better than anyone else that we can sit back like a country gentleman who has retired to a nice little property in the country to live on the proceeds of the past."

Lamenting the puny $4.4 billion annual sales that put Italians in last place among European bookbuyers, the country's largest publisher, Arnold Mondadori, appealed to tradesmen to capture "the lost five million" readers who have dropped the buying habit for these reasons.

Price. With 500 publishing houses putting out printings of 2,000 to 3,000 at double the rate of 20 years ago, the market has been flooded with slow-moving titles that go for an average $6 apiece.

Though cheaper paper-backs and popular editions have met with some success, the serious Italian buyer still wants his books handsome and permanent.

Availability. While there are 5,000 to 10,000 inhabitants per bookshop in other European nations, each bookstore here serves some 68,000 Italians.

SPONORIN' TIME — Not a bit backward about learning the ways of civilization, "Michelle," a five-year-old female chimp, tries to master the art of eating ice cream from a spoon. Engaged in the spooning party with the chimp is 13-year-old Juma, an African actor who is appearing with "Michelle" in the film "Odeon-go." Juma and the chimp enjoyed the ice cream treat during a day away from the cameras when they visited the Festival Gardens at Battersea, England.

Seek Salesmen of Home Brew Posing as Police

and extorted $9 from a man to whom they had just sold two gallons of "home brew" whisky.

The victim, Ota M. Blackshear, of 51 Cottage St., admitted he bought the illegal liquor on a street corner yesterday afternoon, police said.

He claimed the pair, both in plain clothes, threatened to arrest him if he did not hand over the rest of his money.

The men used the names of two officers who at the time were on duty in uniform, police said. Neither man showed a badge, Blackshear said, but both mentioned badge numbers.

Shoppers Get Break

BUENOS AIRES—Vehicular traffic is prohibited on the Calle Florida in Buenos Aires each day from 4 to 8 p.m. to permit shoppers to stroll through the area without fear of autos.

Hold Milford Man on Assault Charge

A Milford man whom a tavern owner's wife allegedly subdued at pistol-point is being held today for investigation of felonious assault with a knife, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said.

Mrs. Grace Sylcox, who was tending bar at the Oxbow Pavilion, 9451 Elizabeth Lake Rd. in White Lake Township, said she drew the gun from under the bar and ordered the man out after he pulled the knife during a quarrel with an unidentified customer.

The man, James Skinner, 48, left and was arrested at his home last night, a few hours after the incident, deputies said.

Voting Status Check Asked in Sylvan

Sylvan Lake City Manager Ernest L. Ethier warned residents yesterday that if they have not voted in the city in the last four years, they must register to vote Nov. 6.

He added that if they have voted during this period, their present registration remained valid.

The city clerk's office will be open Saturday from 9 a.m. until noon to take registrations, he said.

On Monday, Oct. 8, the deadline to register, the office will be open from 8 until 8.

3 County Accountants to Attend CPA Meeting

Three Oakland County men are to attend a conference of the Michigan Assn. of Certified Public Accountants at the University of Michigan Friday.

Attending will be James R. Jenkins and Marc J. Eshman, of 801 Pontiac State Bank Building, and Eugene Moore of Birmingham.

Figures Show Economy Soars

Sales at Record High but Auto Industry Lags
11 Pct. Behind '35

WASHINGTON (U)—Government reports, just out, show the nation's booming economy is moving ahead on several key fronts.

The Federal Trade Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission announced jointly yesterday that:

1. Manufacturers' sales during the first six months of 1936 totaled a record 146 billion dollars. This was nearly 10 billion more than in the first half of 1935. Only the motor vehicle and equipment industry failed to share in the increase, suffering an 11 per cent drop.

2. Profits by manufacturing firms during the opening half of this year rose to a new peak of nearly eight billion dollars after federal taxes. This was an advance of 9 per cent over the same period last year.

The Commerce Department announced employment stood at 66, 071,000 in September. This was 700,000 below August—but still close to the record of 66,752,000 set that month. The department said the decline was seasonal.

The Federal Reserve Board, in another report, said total consumer credit climbed to a record $37,503,000,000 at the end of August. Installment credit accounted for $29,427,000,000 of this total.

Dope Charge Gives Man 120-240 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (U)—Herbert Hoover Williams, a Detroit described by police as a key man in the narcotics traffic in this area, today faces a prison term of 120 to 240 years for selling and possessing narcotics.

Common Pleas Judge Dana Reynolds of Franklin County sentenced Williams yesterday under a new state narcotics law carrying a mandatory 20 to 40 year penalty for selling narcotics and 4 to 15 years for possession.

Williams, 27, was convicted by a jury on six counts of selling and one count of possession. The selling charges are to run consecutively while the possession term could be served concurrently with the others.

The sentence also stipulated that Williams not be made eligible for parole until the year 2076 unless the governor commutes the sentence. Williams would be 147 years old by then.

Jidda, Saudi Arabia, has banned

lem pilgrimage season to prevent congestion of the port by cement-carrying ships.

National Polio Leader Quits Foundation Post

NEW YORK (U)—Dr. Hart Van
Riper, medical director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for 10 years, is resigning.

The foundation announced yesterday that Van Riper would leave at the end of the month to join a drug supply house, Geigy Pharmaceuticals, Ardley, N. Y.
He will be succeeded by Dr.
Thomas M. Rivers, former vice president of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research.

Killings Blamed on Home Strife

Domestic Difficulties Cause Berserk Father to Slay 6 Children

CLINTON, N.C. (U)—Domestic difficulties were blamed by officers for a tenant farmer going berserk yesterday and killing his six children and himself.

Rufus A. King, 35, had a temper and had several fuses with his wife that neighbors knew about, but he was a sober church goer without a police record.

Yesterday morning, apparently while two of his children were waiting for a school bus in front of their five-room house, his mind snapped.

Within a matter of minutes he had shot each of the six through the head with a .22 rifle and then beat their heads horribly with an ax and the rifle.

Three hours later King's body was found in a cornfield about a quarter mile from the house. He had shot himself between the eyes with a shotgun.

Coroner Coleman Carter said
"It's a clear case of six murders and a suicide."

Mrs. King, 27, was at a brother's house at the time. She is under sedatives, suffering from shock plus a beating administered by her husband.

A mass funeral is scheduled for tomorrow with burials in the King family cemetery at Clinton.

Mrs. King had sworn a warrant charging King with wife beating.
Two deputies who arrived at the King house around 8:00 a.m. to serve the warrant discovered the bodies of the children.

The children were Alice 10, Joseph 9, Melvin 7, Ruth 5, Jerry 4, and Susan 2.

Name Former Legion Head to Dem Post

cratic National Chairman Paul M.
Butler today announced the appointment of Seaborn P. Collins as chairman of the Veterans Advisory Committee to the national committee.

Collins, a Las Cruces, N. M., businessman, served as national commander of the American Legion in 1934-35.

Detroit Industries Seek Other Sites

DETROIT (U)—At least 23 per cent of Detroit's industry wants to move to other areas, the Detroit
City Planning Commission reports.

Major reasons for the desire to move are Detroit's tax rates, lack of available land for parking and expansion and complex traffic problems, the commission said yesterday in a report to the Common Council.

The commission's report covered a study of industrial land use inside the city.

Charles A. Blessing, secretary-director of the commission, said vacant industrial land decreased from 2,800 to 1,100 acres between 1933 and 1934. However, he added,

2,300 acres more could be made available through redevelopment programs in industrial areas.

Medicine Taster's Job a Bitter Pill to Swallow

BUFFALO, N.Y. (INS)—Professional coffee, wine or whisky tasters often are objects of envy, but few people would want Louis
Bordonaro's job of tasting medicines.

As a research chemist for a Buffalo drug manufacturer, he may taste as many as 36 samples in the day, most of them not very delightful to the taste.

Plan Supper to Fete Wife of Governor

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Markle will be hosts at a buffet supper in honor of Mrs. G. Mennen Williams at their home, 2720 N. Rochester road, on Oct. 12 from 5 to 7 p.m.
General chairmen for the affair will be Mr. and Mrs. Nell Crowe.

They will be assisted by Mrs.
Michael Dandies, table arrangements; Mrs. William Reeves, reception; and Mrs. Gretchen Lampes, invitations.

Handing tickets will be Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Cobb, Charles Benedict, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Gra-velle, Mrs. M. E. Patrick and Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Marshall.

The proceeds from the supper will go to the television fund of "Nancy's Scrapbook."

526 U.S. Cities Annex 348 Square Miles in '35

CHICAGO—The International City Managers' Association reports that 526 American cities of more than 5,000 population annexed territory in 1935 compared with 410 in 1934 and the previous high of 434 in 1933.

The 526 cities annexed a total of 348 square miles to set another all-time-high record, 23 more square miles than were annexed in 1934.

More than 75 per cent of the cities annexed territory twice or

GUARANTEED!

22^c Ea.

We just bought some solid vinyl and rubber tile from one of the largest manufacturers in the country. Due to wax smears, etc., these tile are classified as irregulars. They are NOT seconds but are positively guaranteed by the Floor Shop. You may return any extra tile. These tile never need waxing and will give lifetime wear. *All colors are through to the back. We have a great variety of colors. They usually sell for 36c but our prices are 22c and 25c... or a saving of 35%. You may install them easily or we will do the job.
