60 Per Cent Needed

Head of Hospital Board Urges Approval by Voters

A final plea for passage of a bond issue proposal to expand Pontiac General Hospital facilities was issued to Pontiac property owners today by William F. Maybury, chairman of the hospital board of trustees.

"The hospital bond issue presents an opportunity for the property owners of Pontiac to bring their hospital facilities more nearly into line with the needs of this community.

"This can be done without sacrifice and without any additional cost to them over the present tax basis," Maybury said.

"The results would be many fold," he said, listing the following:

"1. Elimination of overcrowding.

"2. Better facilities.

"3. Vastly improved provision for emergencies.

"Non-Pontiac residents will pay an extra share of the cost of erecting the addition through an increase in the surcharge on their hospital bills," he said.

Out-of-city residents now pay 10 per cent more than Pontiac residents.

If the proposal passes, the city would issue $3,000,000 in bonds to finance construction of a new wing along Huron street. At least 150 beds would be added to the hospital's present 98-bed capacity.

"Remember," Maybury added, "a 60 per cent majority vote by property owners and their spouses is required.

"Please vote. And we recommend you vote 'Yes' on the hospital bond issue."

October Topples Rainfall Records

9.33 Inches Smashes Mark Set in 1947; Temperatures High

A total of 9.33 inches of rain fell on Pontiac during October, smashing two all time records.

The previous high for October was set in 1890 when 6.76 inches fell. The all-time monthly rainfall high previously was established by a 6.86 fall in April 1947.

Flood waters in Chicago and Hurricane Hazel along the East coast and up through Toronto killed hundreds and caused millions of dollars damage to homes and businesses.

As far as temperatures go, October was way above the average temperature of 43.6 with a mean of 54.5. The highest temperature recorded last month was 80 on the third, shy of the record 89 set in 1953.

October's lowest temperature was 29 on the 31st, the only day reaching freezing or below. The lowest recorded temperature is 22 degrees, set in 1887.

Frost hit this area five times, the first being on the 17th. But light snow fell on the 29th, 30th and 31st, bringing promise of a cold November.

Tickets to "High-Fever Follies" sponsored by Pontiac Gen. Hospital Aux. can be purchased and reserved at Osmun's, 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. daily, starting Tuesday.

Ships, Aircraft Searching Sea Over Wide Area

Wives, Children Aboard Navy Transport Last Reported Late Saturday

NEW YORK (AP)—A Navy transport plane with 42 persons aboard, including two officers' wives and five children, was presumed lost today somewhere between the United States and the Azores.

The four-engine Lockheed Super-Constellation was last heard from at 11 p. m. Saturday, two hours after it had taken off from Patuxent River Naval Air Station, Md. At the time it was 300 miles at sea.

The flight was the second attempt made by those aboard to get to the Azores and Port Lyautey in Africa. The Navy said they had taken off earlier Saturday in another plane but had to turn back 2½ hours later when the plane developed trouble. They transferred to the now missing plane and started out again.

A vast Navy and Coast Guard search for the plane started early yesterday after shore bases failed to receive the regular hourly flight report.

Navy officials said the plane had only enough fuel to stay in the air until 10 a.m. yesterday. By evening they announced that it was "presumed lost."

The Navy said the plane was equipped with five life rafts, each designed to hold 20 men. There were also 102 life preservers aboard.

The missing aircraft was hunted along a 120-mile band stretching from the U. S. Eastern Seaboard across the Atlantic to the Azores.

Taking part in the effort were two aircraft carriers, nine destroyers, four transports, two Coast Guard cutters and hundreds of planes.

The missing transport plane carried a 21-man crew and 21 passengers, including 8 civilians and 2 Air Force officers. The other passengers were Navy men being shipped to new stations.

Italians Aid Recovery of Alps Crash Bodies

ENTRAQUE, Italy (AP) — Twenty Italian Alpine troopers left today to join American and Italian teams trying to recover bodies of 21 men killed in the crash of a U.S. Air Force plane near this mountain hamlet on the French-Italian border.

The recovery was balked yesterday by a storm. So far, only eight bodies have been brought down to nearby San Giacomo Dentraque. They will be carried by truck to a funeral home prepared at the Entraque hospital.

Chinese Renew Bombing of Nationalist-Held Isles

TAIPEH (INS)—Communist Chinese planes blasted the Nationalist-held Tachen Islands 200 miles north of Formosa today in a sudden resumption of the "pocket" war.

The Nationalists shot down one of the planes which dropped more than 40 bombs on strongly defended positions dotting small islands of the Tachen group.

Storm May Hit Okinawa

MANILA, (AP) — The Philippine weather bureau said today a raging, late-season Pacific typhoon may hit Okinawa within 48 hours.

Crisp Weather Is Outlook Here for Election Day

Weather forecasters today predicted a generally fair election day tomorrow with possible snow flurries and 32-36 degree temperatures.

The United States Weather bureau says the mercury will hover between 24 and 28 degrees tonight coupled with light snows.

Saturday, downtown Pontiac temperatures ranged from 35 to 40 with a Sunday recording from 29 to 42 degrees.

At 8 a.m. today, the mercury stood at 28 degrees, rising to 37 by 2 p.m.

Hunters Reveal Ordeal on Lake

Pair Tells of 2 Rescues on St. Clair After Gun Recoil Capsizes Dinghy

DETROIT (AP)—Two duck hunters, firing their shotguns simultaneously, were dumped from their 7-foot dinghy into Lake St. Clair yesterday.

But that was only the beginning of a harrowing, nine-hour ordeal.

Before they finally were rescued by Coast Guardsmen, the two men had clung for nearly an hour to their capsized boat, then drifted eight more hours with two women aboard a disabled 30-foot cruiser while 16 passing freighters failed to heed their distress signals.

This is the story told by John Deswetherick and Harlan Kieling, both of Detroit:

The two men, with Mrs. Deswetherick and Marie Doigner, set off at noon yesterday for St. Clair Flats in Kieling's 30-foot cruiser "Escapade."

Spotting a flock of ducks, Deswetherick and Kieling anchored the big boat and approached the ducks in the dinghy. When the flock took off, they fired their guns simultaneously. The recoil from the two guns upset the boat.

The two women saw the accident, but neither knew much about operating the cruiser. After half an hour of frantic effort, they started the motor but then were

Sightseeing Trip Planned Today for Queen Mother

NEW YORK (INS)—A quiet day of sightseeing, including a trip to the Cloisters and a visit to a day care center, was planned for Queen Mother Elizabeth today.

The Cloisters trip originally was scheduled last week but was postponed because of rain.

Tonight, the Queen Mother will be guest of honor at the Commonwealth Ball to be held at the Seventh Regiment Armory. An oil painting of her late husband, King George VI, will be unveiled in the Colonel's Room of the armory.

Yesterday the royal party attended services at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, where the Queen pressed a button unveiling a stained glass window dedicated to the sanctity of motherhood.

In the afternoon, the queen returned to the cathedral to attend the 200th anniversary convocation of Columbia University, at which she was invested with an honorary degree of doctor of laws.

231,000 Are Registered

Oakland County Balloting Estimated Near 165,000

Some 165,000 voters are expected to go to the polls in tomorrow's general election, according to Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen who announced an all-time high registration of 231,044.

He said he expects the vote to fall about 20 per cent short of the 1952 presidential vote year when 190,000 of 225,000 registered voters cast ballots.

Meanwhile both major parties predict gains in the traditionally Republican county following one of the most active off-year election campaigns on record.

Opposing party spokesmen term Oakland, the state's second largest county, vital to their causes, pointing out that both gubernatorial candidates have campaigned vigorously here in the past two weeks.

One special issue faces county voters, while Pontiac citizens will rule on two.

All county voters are eligible to vote for a second time on a proposed half-mill tax increase (50 cents per $1,000 of property valuation) to finance a $4,500,000 bond issue for construction of a new county court house. A majority "yes" vote is needed for approval.

Issuance of the bonds was approved by property owners in the August primary, but the tax increase needed to support them was turned down.

Pontiac's position is reversed. Tax money to support a $3,000,000 bond issue for expanding Pontiac General Hospital was approved last April, but property owners failed to return the needed 60 per cent "yes" vote to approve the bond issue. They will be asked to rule on the matter again.

All city residents balloting will be asked to approve a city charter change allowing slight increases in amounts of money paid to city employes through their pension plan. A majority is needed.

About 150 of the county's 208 voting precincts are now equipped with voting machines. All voters in line at closing hour will be permitted to cast ballots.

State Accidents Claim 23 Lives

19 Die in Traffic Over Weekend; Baby Chokes on Cashew Nut

FROM AP & INS DISPATCHES

Accidents claimed at least 23 lives in Michigan this weekend.

Nineteen persons died in highway mishaps. A Livonia recluse was found dead in the ashes of a shack-home fire. And a baby choked to death on a cashew nut in his grandfather's home in Port Huron.

The baby was Thomas McLaughlin, 14 months, of Port Huron. Efforts of the boy's father, Ralph, and firemen, failed to revive the child.

The body of Michael Milnick, 67, was pulled from the ashes of a fire that destroyed his wooden shack home in Livonia Saturday. Firemen blamed the blaze on a small wood-burning stove.

One of the weekend traffic fatalities was Ralph S. Beale, 65, of Oakland County. He was fatally injured Saturday when his car crashed into a tree on 16-Mile road in Oakland County.

Another traffic mishap in Oakland County claimed the life of Harry C. Whysall Sr., 43, of Waterford Township Sunday. Whysall was killed when his car ran off M24, near Pontiac, and hit a tree.

Michigan GOP, Dems Eye Victory Tomorrow

State Expects Record Vote for Off-Year

LANSING (UP) — Michigan Democrats and Republicans, both sides claiming a big vote will bring victory at the polls, rang telephones and doorbells today in a last-ditch effort to produce a record-breaking turnout in Tuesday's election.

State elections officials predicted 2,100,000 voters would trek to the polling places despite forecasts of adverse weather. If their prediction pans out, a new record vote total would be set for a non-presidential year.

Cold weather, with temperatures in the mid-20s and possible snow flurries near Lake Michigan, were forecast for Tuesday.

Democrats consider a heavy vote vital to Gov. G. Mennen Williams' chances of being elected to an unprecedented fourth term and any hope of carrying the Democratic slate along with him.

GOP gubernatorial candidate Donald S. Leonard also has tried to persuade Republicans to vote a straight ticket instead of splitting off for Williams. He says defecting Republicans have cost his party the governorship since 1948.

The Democrats claim they are better organized in the state than ever before, with party roots in some 80 counties compared with about 60 in 1952.

And they plan to have more challengers at the polls than ever before in the fight to get every vote possible.

Democratic publicist John Murray says the party has conducted "challenging schools" throughout the state and has come up with 50 per cent more "vote watchers."

Republicans say they are "well equipped" with watchers who will notify local GOP leaders of any registered voters who have not turned up at the polls by mid-afternoon. Local party workers will

Radio and TV Talks Tonight End Drives

WASHINGTON (AP)—Control of Congress appeared to be hanging in a narrow balance today as President Eisenhower and Adlai E. Stevenson prepared to wind up a blistering campaign with appeals for the voters to turn out in force tomorrow.

Republicans were regarded nationally as fighting an uphill battle to retain their present slender control of the Senate and House, won two years ago. Democrats jubilantly were claiming they would sweep both into their camp and take over up to half a dozen GOP governorships.

But there remained an air of uncertainty generated by disputes over the effectiveness of strenuous last-minute campaigning by Eisenhower and the depth of penetration of what the Democrats called "Red smear" charges against some of their candidates.

From the White House tonight Eisenhower will beam a television CBS and radio Mutual-ABC appeal to the voters to march to the polls. He will be joined by Vice President Nixon, cast by the Democrats in the role of chief campaign author of the Communist-in-government issue.

Nixon speaks from Denver. The program is scheduled for 9 p. m. EST. For the West Coast, the program will be rebroadcast three hours later.

Stevenson the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee who has said Eisenhower has joined in a GOP chorus on the issue of domestic communism speaks by radio (CBS) from Chicago.

His talk is scheduled for 10:15 p.m. EST.

Democrats busied themselves with what National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell called a "walkathon" in an effort to counter the "10 times 10" telephone drive initiated by Eisenhower Saturday.

Democrats were urged to walk to the homes of 10 neighbors and ask them to vote. Republicans were asked to telephone 10 friends and urge them to go to the polls. There was no accurate indication the effectiveness of either campaign, despite claims of widespread success. Telephone companies generally reported normal traffic, with increases in some areas.

Democrats remained confident they can count on the "pocketbook" vote in tomorrow's balloting — support from men and women who are unemployed, have reduced income or fear that a depression may be in the making.

Eisenhower and campaigners generally have contended the country is enjoying its best non-

Williams Squabbles With TV Station Over Mixup in Programs, Sponsorship

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A switch in program plans for television appearances of the state's top four political candidates touched off some sharp bickering in Detroit Sunday.

Arguments broke out in the studios of WWJ-TV when the station changed a scheduled debate program to separate party discussions in different studios.

At one point Gov. G. Mennen Williams said that Sen. Homer Ferguson "doesn't have the guts to debate" with Patrick V. McNamara, Democratic senatorial candidate.

Williams accused James Clark, WWJ-TV news editor, of changing the format of the show without notifying him.

Williams said the program had been planned as a debate but at the last minute was broken into two 15-minute shows in which each party was given a chance to present its side of the campaign issues.

Just before the revised program was scheduled to go on at 5:30 p. m., Williams balked, saying, "We were prepared for a debate, and it's a dirty deal. We're caught unawares—why should we go on?"

McNamara was able to persuade Williams to appear on their alloted 15 minutes of the 30-minute show. McNamara said the Republicans would be in a studio where they could not monitor the Democratic broadcast.

Donald S. Leonard, Republican nominee for governor, appeared as the Democrats were about to go on the air and shook hands with Williams.

"I know Don wanted to debate with me," Williams said, "but I'll bet Ferguson doesn't have the guts to meet with McNamara."

Leonard refused to be drawn into the argument.

Then, while Leonard and Williams were broadcasting, Clark was summoned from the moderator's seat for a hurried conference with Ferguson.

Ferguson insisted the Republicans would pay for their forthcoming 15 minutes of air time or he would not appear. Ferguson argued vehemently that it would be in violation of the Federal Corrupt Practices Act for the station to give him free time.

Clark, after a telephone conference with station General Manager Edwin K. Wheeler, announced that the Republican Party was purchasing its 15 minutes.

Minutes later the Democratic program ended with a disclaimer that "The preceding 15 minutes was purchased for a political program."

Williams, furious with the announcement, turned to Clark and said:

"I didn't agree to that and as far as I'm concerned, we're not going to pay. It looks as if Ferguson is running this station," Williams added, "but he isn't running us."

Photographers sought to assemble the four candidates for a group shot. Ferguson could not be located. Democrats accused him of a "runout." Ferguson's aides said, however, he left through a back door connecting to a parking lot to continue a heavy campaign schedule.

Dutch Elm Disease Damage on Commission Agenda

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—A heavy agenda faces commissioners for tonight's City Commission meeting, and will include discussion on parking, the Dutch Elm disease and garbage and rubbish collections.

The first option to purchase a parcel of property on Pierce street for construction of a $250,000 municipal parking lot will be presented along with a resolution revising the city's parking meter fees.

A report on the damage toll caused locally by the tree-killing Dutch Elm disease plus a resolution permitting the Forestry Department to spray Elm trees on private property at the expense of the property owner, will also be submitted.

Lawmakers will take up the question of garbage and rubbish pickups to determine if the city should continue to contract for necessary operations, or turn the job back to the DPW.

Two other agreements will be acted on, one involving mutual aid in fire defense between Birmingham, Pontiac, Royal Oak, Ferndale and Hazel Park.

The last agreement would grant permission to the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority to construct water mains across 14 Mile road at Eton and Southfield roads and Cummings and Pierce streets.

Meanwhile, the spotlight swung on 11 Senate races where Senate control appeared likely to be decided. Six of these seats now are held by Republicans and five by Democrats in a Senate that is divided 49 Republicans, 46 Democrats and 1 independent, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon. Since Morse has said he will vote with the Democrats, the latter need a net gain of only two to take over.

The 11 contests — most of them extremely close — are being waged to a finish in California, Colorado, Delaware, Illinois, Kentucky, Michigan, Montana, New Jersey, Ohio, Oregon and Wyoming.

Fresh reports gathered by Associated Press reporters in the field and by telephone indicate Democrats are leading in four races where they could gain a seat from the Republicans and in four others where Democratic senators are involved.

Cool Weather Cuts Halloween Turnout

BIRMINGHAM — Old man weather played an important role in the city's Halloween festivities Saturday night, keeping almost 4,000 youngsters away from the annual parade and party.

Roland W. Reese, chairman of the festivities given for all youngsters here, said that while some 9,000 tickets had been given out by Thursday, only an estimated 5,000 children turned out.

Pranksters were also on their best behavior, with only about half a dozen complaints listed on the police blotter.

Color Pictures Reduce Errors

Bell Aircraft Is Using Transparencies as Aid in Difficult Assemblies

The new process is called Ecktacolor and involves the use of color transparencies as a visual aid in the assembly of delicate electronic components.

Already Bell has experienced substantial reduction in time and costs. As a prime contractor in the nation's defense program, the company is investigating many other avenues of development and use for the process. It is hoped that production, inspection, testing, cost and sales soon may be able to incorporate color transparencies in streamlining operations.

One of the most encouraging aspects of the process is that it promises to reduce substantially the reams of drawings and blueprints necessary to build an established moderate-sized electronic unit.

However, there's a long way to go — nearly 1,500 feet. The state's highest peak, Mt. Washington, is 6,288 feet high.

Pontiac Area United Fund dollars, working through the United Cerebral Palsy Assn., make possible the speech therapy classes at Whittier School which help these handicapped children learn to talk.

Miss Beverly Eaton, speech therapist, explains that cerebral palsy is not a disease. In simplest terms, it is an affliction in which control of muscles is impaired or lost because of brain damage. A majority of victims are born with the affliction.

At Whittier School, Miss Eaton teams up with other instructors provided by the Pontiac Board of Education in the time-consuming job of re-making cerebral palsy sufferers.

Many of them learn to stand, to take first steps aided by crutches or braces and finally to walk unaided. Almost all make progress in speech.

Classes are made such fun for children that they often don't realize that blowing up balloons to strengthen lip muscles and chewing candy to develop jaw muscles is part of their treatment.

In a typical day, each child has a half-hour of individual attention tailored to fit his case. Time is spent in speech exercises and practicing certain sounds. The child's voice is recorded then played back so he can hear things he needs to improve.

"Many children, when they first come, have been accustomed to using signs instead of words," Miss Eaton said. "Encouraging them to speak is extremely important. Results are often very rewarding."

But at best it's a long, tedious process usually involving from one to ten years of constant treatment.

But great strides have been made, according to Mrs. William Wright, principal of Whittier School and a member of the local board of the UCPA.

"Not too many years ago," she said, "most afflicted children were fated to be helpless cripples. Today there is progress and much hope for the future."

In Pontiac and throughout the state, special classes are maintained for cerebral palsied children by the UCPA of Michigan which is supported by United Fund campaigns.

State GOP, Dems Are Eying Victory

contact the "absentees" and urge them to vote.

Republican leaders say they believe their campaign will hit its peak on election day this year instead of running out of gas too early.

In addition to balloting for governor, voters will make a choice between Sen. Homer Ferguson, Republican incumbent, and his Democratic opponent, Patrick V. McNamara, for the United States Senate.

They also will elect 18 congressmen. Michigan had 13 Republicans and five Democrats in Congress last session, and any change could affect control of the next session which begins in January.

Offices of lieutenant governor, secretary of state, state treasurer, attorney general and auditor general—now held by Republicans—also will be filled.

The voters will elect 34 state senators and 100 state representatives.

They also will decide whether to legalize charity lotteries, including Bingo—a question so controversial it is expected to bring out voters who otherwise would not cast a ballot.

Other constitutional amendments to be voted on include a new distribution of the state sales tax, an $80,000,000 bonus for Michigan's Korean War veterans and a minor change in voter registration laws.

Tuesday Election Lineup

WASHINGTON (UP)—Tuesday's elections at a glance:

Seats at stake—Senate, 37; House, 432. 33 governors also to be chosen. One Republican senator and three GOP congressmen already elected in Maine.

Present congressional lineup — Senate: 49 Republicans, 46 Democrats, one Independent. House: 218 Republicans, 212 Democrats, one Independent, four vacancies.

Congressional control—Senate: Democrats must win 20 of 31 contested races. Republicans can keep control by winning 14. (Six Democrats have no opposition). House: 218 seats needed to control. (Only two Republicans are unopposed; 71 Democrats unopposed and others, notably in south, face only token opposition).

ELECTION ISSUE—While Birmingham residents will not vote on the question of the proposed $2,740,000 Evergreen Interceptor sewer (pictured here) until April, a milage increase to help finance construction of the project will be put to Southfield Township voters tomorrow. If approved, the township would bear a major share of the construction costs, $1,703,557. Four other south Oakland County communities comprise the Evergreen Interceptor District, formed when the Michigan Water Resources Commission ordered pollution of the Rouge River halted.

Snake Dies on Canary

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP)—J. D. Hysler took the cover off his canary's cage one morning recently and found himself staring into the beady eyes of a three-foot chicken snake. The snake had slipped through the bars of the bird's cage, swallowed the canary and then was too bulky to escape.

Speedway Fate Left in Doubt

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 1 (AP)—The plane crash death Saturday of automobile racing immortal Wilbur Shaw, left the future of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway in doubt today.

"I've been so broken up about it, I don't know what we'll do," said Anton J. (Tony) Hulman, speedway owner.

* * *

Shaw, three-time winner of the 500-mile Memorial Day race in his 20 years of professional racing and president and manager of the speedway since World War II, was killed with two associates when their plane crashed in a cornfield near Decatur, Ind., during a light snowfall.

The other victims were Ernest R. Roose, 41, official artist for the speedway, and Ray Grimes, 40, of Greenfield, Ind., pilot of the plane.

They were returning from Detroit where Shaw, who would have been 52 years old Sunday, had test-driven a 1955 model Chrysler.

The funeral will be tomorrow at Vernon, Ind.

Foe of Batista Quits Election

HAVANA, Cuba, (AP)—Strong man Fulgencio Batista ran unopposed in Cuba's presidential elections today as opposition candidate Ramon Grau San Martin withdrew and urged Cubans to stay away from the polls.

Grau quit the race last night after the five-man Superior Electoral Tribunal unanimously turned down his request for a delay of 8 or 10 days in today's balloting. The 72-year-old former President denounced the elections as a "farce." Batista, who has been in power in Cuba since he forced his way back to the top in a 1952 coup, returned fire in a television speech. He charged that Grau withdrew "because he knows he cannot win" and called on Cubans to ignore his call for a boycott.

* * *

In addition to a president, the island republic is choosing a vice president, a new Congress, six governors and many mayors and lesser officials.

Approximately 2½ million Cubans were eligible to vote in the elections, Cuba's first major balloting in six years.

* * *

An estimated 20,000 police, soldiers and sailors stood guard at the 8,319 polling places and other strategic points throughout the island to keep order following a campaign filled with terrorist activities and severe government crackdowns.

No casualties were reported up to the eve of the election although bombs exploded in scattered places the last few days.

3 Destroyers, Sub Damaged in Exercise

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A destroyer rammed a submarine and two other destroyers banged into each other yesterday during antisubmarine warfare exercises in the predawn darkness off Norfolk. The Navy said nobody was hurt seriously but the four vessels limped toward port today with extensive damage.

* * *

Lighted Cigarettes Fare on Jap Collegians' Diet

One student thrives on 30 burning butts a day, says the Japanese press. The real taste of tobacco can be appreciated only by the stomach, he asserts.

"Only to smoke is to waste," he says.

Lowest official temperature, 82 degrees below zero, on the North American continent was recorded in February, 1947, at a lonely airport in the Yukon called Snag.

TANGLES WITH TRAIN—William McCarty, 17, of Burbank, Calif., sits stunned in his car a few minutes after it was nearly demolished by a freight train in Los Angeles. The train ground its way along the right side of McCarty's car, but didn't touch him. A hospital examination showed he sustained only cuts and bruises.

Emergency Crew Needs Rescue by Emergency Crew

KEENE, N. H. (AP)—"How soon will you get it fixed on Portland Street?"

The call didn't sound unusual to the power company operator during a recent storm.

"We're right up there working on it," was the reply, as he made ready to record the call. "Who's calling please?"

"This is the Telephone Co.," said the voice.

"Oh," said the operator, making conversation, "have you got a lot of trouble too?"

Applied Psychology Cuts Trucking Firm's Crashes

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. (UP) A major national trucking firm disputs the popular theory that getting behind the steering wheel causes personality changes, with a sort of Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hyde magic that makes many a highway menace.

"You drive as you live" appears to be a much more accurate analysis, said Carlton Alexander, director of the department of safety for the McLean Trucking Co. here.

The firm's applied psychology program of selecting drivers has saved 28 lives during the past six years, prevented 3,813 accidents and cut costs some $3,302,000, Alexander said.

It has produced a general description of a safe driver as a "sort of easy-going, easy-to-get-along-with, pleasant-to-meet type of fellow who is always active and slightly restless."

"On the other hand, the dogmatic, hard-to-get-along-with, overbearing, bully-type of fellow is likely to have accident trouble," he added, "And, at the same time, the completely lazybones driver will likely have trouble."

McLean began the effor to pin down the characteristics of the safe driver some six years ago when accidents were occurring at the costly rate of one for every 28,000 miles of hauling.

The effectiveness of his search through psychology is demonstrated by the current ratio of 162,782 miles per accident.

Less than 30 per cent of the firm's drivers were involved in 80 per cent of the accidents back in 1948, Alexander said.

The company already was picking its drivers with the aid of psychological tests that "weeded out all applicants wherein some abnormality was detected," Alexander said.

Clearly both the safe and the accident-prone drivers fell within the normal range, so McLean contracted with the Psychology Department of North Carolina State College, headed by Dr. D. J. Moffie, to devise tests that would reveal in advance which was which.

If accidents had continued at the 1948 rate, the firm would have had 6,510 accidents through 1953 instead of 2,697.

"Under National Safety Council estimates, a reduction of 3,813 accidents resulted in a saving of 28 lives and prevented 980 injuries," Alexander said.

Elderly Harbor Pilot Recalls Early Sub

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Captain Fred D. Cock, harbor pilot, has retired at 80 although he says he feels like he will live another 40 years.

Capt. Cock, who has brought some of the Navy's biggest battleships and aircraft carriers into Hampton Roads and Chesapeake Bay, says his biggest thrill came before the United States entry into World War I. He was on duty at the pilot boat off Cape Henry when the huge German merchant submarine Deutchland surfaced nearby and asked for a pilot. Cook took her into Chesapeake Bay on her way to Baltimore. He says he believes he is the first American pilot to board an underwater merchant ship and bring her to safe anchorage.

Milwaukee Courthouse Will Lose Spittoons

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP) — Here's another blow at the old order of things. The clerk of the circuit court, Francis X. McCormack, wrote to the county buildings superintendent.

"We feel that the numerous spittoons which are located throughout our office lack sufficient utility to justify their continued presence.

"Most of them are rarely used by anyone for the purpose for which they were originally designed. They now serve primarily as a receptacle for disposed cigarette butts and refuse in general which we feel is more adequately handled by ash trays and wastebaskets."

Ike Spikes Dems' Charges

He did it by refuting opposition claims that the country under GOP leadership is headed straight for the economic bowwows. His talk on the situation followed closely the first telecast of a cabinet meeting.

That, incidentally, was featured by Secretary Dulles' report on the Paris agreements. These, in turn, constituted a convincing denial of Democratic charges that there has been bungling in foreign policy.

While addressing the National Security Industrial Association in Washington, the President paused to read a special bulletin to his audience. This revealed that during October the national total of unemployment had decreased by 400,000 to 2,700,000. These figures support the President's contention that, contrary to Democratic claims, there has been a steady improvement on the economic front.

"Without war," the President said in pressing his point, "our economy is working at near record levels. Over 62,000,000 people have jobs. The number is steadily increasing.

"Consumers are spending at a higher rate than ever before . . . our national production surpasses even the war peak of 1944. It is far above the levels of 1945 through 1952."

In other words, no matter what anybody says, 1954 is proving itself the most prosperous peacetime year in our national history.

Our Honored Guest

Certainly the 78 year old statesman Germans regard as the outstanding political figure of postwar Continental Europe, is an honored guest of the Nation. Most Americans recognize in him the man who singlehandedly worked for and achieved the political and economic recovery of Germany.

To understand our visitor completely it must be recognized that federation is essential to his idea of a workable future for Europe. Moreover, it is his belief that in such unity is the only hope of preventing a resurgence of German militarism. These are the chief reasons why he has worked so hard to keep his government aligned with the West.

While here Dr. Adenauer no doubt will discuss with our leaders means of blocking efforts certain to be made by Russia to prevent ratifications of the all important Paris agreement.

Crisis in Pakistan

Latest news from Pakistan indicates that resolute action is coping with the young democracy's sudden political crisis.

The upheaval came while the able Prime Minister Mohammed Ali was visiting the United States in search of more economic aid. By the time he could reach Karachi the Governor General had to dissolve parliament and oust the entire Cabinet.

Then, he called upon Mohammed Ali to organize a new Cabinet, an assignment the latter promptly undertook. Besides seeking a broader base for the new government, the Prime Minister hopes to pave the way for an early general election.

Factors contributing to the crisis are both economic and political. The world price of jute, a major Pakistan crop, collapsed. The cotton market was depressed and there were crop failures due to drought.

Another difficulty stems from internal dissension in the Moslem League, the one great political party in Pakistan. The country also suffers from an economic imbalance resulting from its geographical division, with one part in Northwestern India and the other in Northeastern India. Besides this there has been some Communist infiltration of East Pakistan.

It is to be hoped that the additional U. S. aid promised the Prime Minister will help stabilize the country. Despite its serious growing pains, it is our staunch friend and a strong bulwark against the spread of Communism on the sub-continent.

Veterans Day Nov. 11

On November 11, 1953, we celebrated our last Armistice Day.

On November 11 next we will celebrate our first Veterans Day in tribute to all of our war veterans, living and dead.

It's all because of the people of Emporia, Kans. Their celebration on November 11 last was called Veterans Day. The district's Congressman Ed Rees was so impressed by the new name that he introduced a bill to make the change official. Passed in quick succession by the House and Senate, it was signed into law by President Eisenhower last June 1.

★ ★ ★

This newspaper long has agreed with leaders of veterans' organizations regarding this holiday. As they point out, it originally was intended to honor the dead of World War I. Since that conflict ended 36 years ago, our armed forces and those of our allies have fought World War II and the Korean War.

Thus, when we fly flags November 11 we owe a silent vote of thanks to the people of Emporia for giving that day the full rich meaning it should have.

Apathy: What gets weak men in office.

Oakland County's official vote in the general election two years ago follows, the name of the Republican candidate being given first: President, Eisenhower, 115,503; Stevenson, 73,871. Governor, Alger, 106,447; Williams, 89,815. U. S. Senator, Potter, 105,988; Moody, 87,923. Congressman, Dondero, 108,673; Law, 84,308. State Senator, Higgins, 109,625; Bennett, 81,975. State Representatives: first district, Beardsley, 20,496; Adams, 14,678; second, Huthwaite, 13,787; Harrelson, 16,872; third, Estes, 27,800; Kuschinsky, 10,911; fourth, Broomfield, 30,277; Murphy, 18,531; fifth, Brown, 18,313; McMahon, 21,059.

Twenty-five contestants still remain in the MAT football contest. The 97 who picked Michigan to win Saturday's game with Indiana were eliminated, as Indiana won, 13-9. The 25 survivors divide their predictions on next Saturday's game: Wayne, 14; Omaha, 10; tie game, one.

Child Gets Education Through Owning Pet

I have been reading of the cruel things being done to dogs lately and I can't understand how any boy can do such things. A boy and a dog go together. But yet on the other hand maybe they're not to blame but their parents are.

In these modern times so many mothers can't put up with a pet in the house. Cleaning up the hair and dirt they track in might take a little precious time away from their card parties or gadding and yet without knowing it, they're taking the best out of their little child's life.

If these boys ever had a dog to love they could never be so mean to another. I believe bringing a child up with a dog is as good an education as learning to read and write. It teaches him what loyalty means, how to love someone other than himself, how to play fair, how to give and take and in return he gets a true friend that will love him no matter what goes wrong.

A dog is better than a human. He will never betray you if you treat him right. Don't bring your children up to hate dogs so they will do harm to other peoples' pets but teach them to love and respect them. They will be better citizens tomorrow if you do.

Asks, Who Paid Fines for Linteau and Keating?

About September 14, Dan Keating and Louis Linteau, officials of Pontiac Teamsters Local 614, pleaded guilty to conspiracy.

Keating's sentence was six months imprisonment, Linteau's sentence was five months imprisonment. Keating's fine was $1,000, Linteau's was $500 after pleading guilty to taking thousands of dollars shakedown money from honest men whose families needed it.

On the same day they received these light sentences, another man was sentenced to a maximum of 14 years for forging a check for $59.84. Compare what these crooks had extorted to the $59.84 forged check.

What bothers me is who paid, Keating and Linteau or the members of Local 614 of Pontiac Teamsters including the members who want a clean union, who want to be rid of these extortionists who tried to put fear into the hearts of the members who worked so hard to clean up this mess, who asked in vain for help from different congressmen and committeemen.

We need unions but not the kind these men have been heading. When one is right there is nothing to fear and these members are still going to work to clean up this disgraceful mess and again have a good, honest union.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Friends Don't Sprout Out of Nothing --- Learn to Toot Other Fellow's Horn

Lila is unhappy because she hasn't learned the simple strategy for winning friends. Everybody can become popular in a few weeks by forming the habit of tooting the other person's horn. Why be miserable and disliked when you can quickly win friends galore?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case M-355: Lila N., aged 19, was a coed at Northwestern University.

"Dr. Crane I am so unhappy," she protested miserably. "I thought college would be the most enjoyable place in the world.

"So I had looked forward to being a student here. But I am so very lonely, I simply can't stand it. "Why, I haven't had but three dates since I arrived on the campus. What can I do to become popular and win boy friends?"

Friendships don't sprout out of nothing. You must consciously and deliberately plant those psychological seeds out of which friendships will later develop.

Compliments are those seeds that produce popularity and happiness for all concerned.

And a compliment is an honest statement of praise for some merit that warrants commendation. It is not flattery.

Thus, you can sincerely compliment even your worst enemy, for no human being is totally lacking in merits.

So you should analyze your companions, including your foes, for some of their virtues. Then praise them thereon, even if you must grit your teeth to force your grudging compliment across them.

Obviously, nobody likes to praise his foe, but that is the only way by which you can convert enemies into friends.

Lincoln once stated, "The best way to destroy your enemy is to make him your friend."

Jesus had this compliment technique in mind when he said "Love your enemies."

But you can't turn on love for a hated foe by a mere act of your will.

So praise your enemy for some of his virtues and a miracle will actually take place. He will soon compliment you in return. And before very long you will be fast friends.

On literally thousands of occasions I have addressed high school and college audiences on this topic of "How to Win Friends."

That means you should praise the other fellow, instead of indulging in self-advertising about your own virtues.

But this strategy is not an inborn or natural tendency. Instead, we are all born with the wish to toot our own horn and gain attention and be in the limelight.

A baby's first birth cry is thus a bid for attention to itself. And all through life we still strive to gain the spotlight. But this doesn't win friends.

So we must studiously learn the habit of tooting the other fellow's horn by judicious and sincere words of praise.

Tomorrow I'll explain specifically how I taught Lila how to win boy friends. So scrapbook this case record and re-read it when your supply of admirers is running low.

Color on New Tax Form Is Tipoff to Your Income

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP) — A letter you get late next month may provide a tipoff to your neighbors as to what salary bracket you were in last year.

Right after Christmas, the government will start mailing income tax forms and instructions to taxpayers. And these plackets will tell anybody who looks at them what your income bracket was last year — whether you were in the under-$5,000, the $5,000-to-$10,000, or the over-$10,000 class.

* * *

This is how it works:

If you reported on the simplest form an income of less than $5,000 last year, the government will mail you a new type of return. It will be about the size of an ordinary bank check. The return, which you must file by April 15, 1955, is designed for easy handling by calculating machines.

If you reported a $5,000-to-$10,000 income last year, your new form will come — along with an instruction booklet — unwrapped. The package will bear a red stripe a quarter of an inch wide.

* * *

Finally, if you told the government your income last year was over $10,000, you also will receive a no-envelope packet. But in this case it will carry a quarter-inch-wide yellow stripe.

There are some exceptions to this system. For instance:

Farmers, as well as business firm proprietors and partners, will get special forms. Businessmen's will have a blue stripe on the outside. Farmers' will have a green stripe.

* * *

In addition, the under-$5,000-type cards will be mailed only to people:

1. Whose whole 1953 income came from wages and salaries, plus up to $100 in such things as dividends and interest; and the usual withholding deductions. These installment plan tax payments are taken out of most people's checks every pay day.

If some of your under-$5,000 income last year came from other sources, however, you won't get by with the short return in the sealed envelope. Even if your income included some such trifle as $3 for the rental of an abandoned shed, you'll graduate to the red stripe class, and have to make out a longer form.

* * *

Why all this red and yellow stripe business?

Internal Revenue Service officials say it was adopted to speed up office routine — make it easier to send the right forms to the right people.

Some complaints have been received from people who don't like the possibility of others knowing, in a general way, about their income. The internal revenue people don't see much danger of this happening.

* * *

They point out that mailmen, who would see all the envelopes or striped returns, are federal employes forbidden by law to tell what they know about such things as taxpayers' income.

And as for others who might spot the red or yellow stripe, or who might pick up an envelope and tell from the feel it contained an under-$5,000 form, a spokesman said:

"I suppose that a prying person in an apartment house might learn something, but it would be pretty hard for anyone else to do so."

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER
(International News Service)

Believe it, or the Formosa Chinese, here are some of the Ripley-esque issues up for grabs tomorrow.

In our nook-in-the-weeds a Brooklyn politician is running for ossif because he put subway straps within reach of the working-man. He should not be running. He should be standing.

A Louisiana congressman wants to be sent back to the House because he left the windows open. Let's hope next time he forgets to turn off the gas.

A Montana man wants in because he got his state a big dam. And a Kansas statesman boasts he blocked a power dam. You cannot please all the people one at a time.

Governor Dewey said Averell Harriman's brother owns a trotting-hoss track. Doesn't Tom remember that President Taft's brother-in-law was a pool shark?

Don't go around calling people bird dogs until the duck season opens.

Doc Dodd said she didn't call Cliff Case's sister a Commicker. But the overalls are in the chowder and the buttons aren't raisins. Before demanding a retraction remember the apology merely recalls the insult.

Nobody objects to the overalls in the chowder. Provided we know what was in the pockets.

Senator Kefauver explained the Dixon-Yates deal so well it sent me back to school for my paper hat.

Bill O'Dwyer said the Republicans stalled on aid to Guatemala. That's cracking a whip in the dead hoss derby.

Combine that with Adlai Stevenson's accusations and you see you don't need reasons for getting into office. It might help the first year if you didn't put your right name on the glass door.

Nice Atmosphere

A tourist stopped off in a small Texas town and ventured into a very tough looking saloon for a bottle of beer. Several bronzed, booted characters were draped around the old-fashioned bar. "Nice atmosphere you have in this place," said the little tourist, trying to strike up a conversation. "I especially like the way you've sprinkled sawdust all over the floor."

Golf

"We were surrounded by natives," related the explorer. "They uttered savage cries, danced madly, and beat the earth with their clubs . . ."

Married Anyway

"It's nice to see you again. Are you married?"

"Yes."

"I remember you always used to tell me that you wouldn't marry the best man on earth."

"I didn't."

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Scientists, according to Uncle Pete, medical scientists, attending the second World Congress of Cardiology (study of the heart), now say that as a rule a person with heart disease may and generally should carry on with a job, any kind of moderate work, that is, not extremely heavy labor.

A doctor becomes a scientist automatically, in Uncle Pete's language, by attending such a medical society meeting far from home.

These scientists-for-a-day don't stop there. No, by golly, they say that patients with heart trouble generally feel better for doing a day's work, and patients who avoid daily work because of heart trouble may be injured by taking it easy.

This may be new to a lot of old fossils in the profession and to a good many persons who use "weak heart" as an excuse for avoiding work.

In the "CVD" book (about heart and artery trouble) I explain the importance of exercise in the treatment of heart disease, graduated exercise, which, in my judgment, is second only to B-Nutron as a remedial measure. For a copy of "CVD" send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Drs. Master, Dack and Jaffe reported in "American Heart Journal" that in 800 cases of coronary occlusion the circumstances preceding onset of symptoms were sleep 22 per cent, rest 31 per cent, mild activity 20 per cent, moderate activity 8 per cent, walking 15 per cent, an unusual exertion 2 per cent.

Conclusions of Drs. Levine and Lown, reporting in J. A. M. A. their experience with the "arm-chair" treatment of acute coronary thrombosis:

The prompt improvement shown after patients desperately ill with congestive heart failure were placed in a chair was particularly impressive.

Beginning not later than the first week of the attack, 81 patients were kept in a chair varying and increasing portions of the day.

I'm telling you these truths for the good of your health. As you may know, I have no sympathy at all for creatures who use their "weak nerves" to impose upon relatives, friends and the world. But I feel sorry for sale-made invalids who have developed the "weak heart" complex, aided and abetted by poorly trained doctors, ill-advised relatives, sometimes even indulgent insurance companies. Most of all I pity the poor geeks who have had a "heart attack," real or imaginary, and spend the rest of their lives walking on eggs. Maybe it isn't ladylike to say so, but to my mind the poor geek walking on eggs is comical.

Signed letters, not more than one page of 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Candidate Guarded After Attempt on Life

The Republican candidate for U.S. Senator hired Pinkerton detectives to guard his house and 14-acre estate after two sticks of dynamite were found in his car Saturday. A detonator cap had exploded without setting off the dynamite.

Bender, who heads a House subcommittee investigating purported labor abuses, said the bomb planting was an attempt to frighten him. He did not say who might have planted it.

Faces Hearing in Girl's Death

Neighbor Is Arrested After Student's Body Is Discovered

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP) — A jobless laborer faces a hearing today on a murder charge in the slaying of 16-year-old Helen Jean Bryant, whose partially disrobed body was found covered with leaves and dirt on a hillside near her home.

Elijah Thompson Jr., 23, a neighbor of the slain Aliquippa (Pa.) High School sophomore, was arrested Saturday night about 12 hours after the girl's body was discovered. Her head had been crushed.

The information charging Thompson, with murder was filed by Police Chief Matt Zvonar of Hopewell Township, where the slaying occurred.

Chief Zvonar said he believes Helen Jean was killed Monday when she was reported missing after leaving home for school. The girl had to walk along a narrow path through a wooded area to reach her bus.

Three Men Suffocate in Gas-Filled Room

SHENANDOAH, Pa. (AP) — Three men suffocated yesterday in a gas-filled apartment. Police said the gas came from a clogged chimney badly damaged by Hurricane Hazel.

Deputy Coroner Martin Murphy identified the three as Steve Kolisnick, 67, and Jacob Shistle, 58, two bachelors, and John Kotes, 45, father of six children, who was visiting them. Murphy said there was a strong odor of coal gas in the apartment.

Police said the chimney became blocked with soot where a portion of it had been blown off by storm winds. They said the coal stove used to heat the place apparently hadn't been turned on since the hurricane until Saturday night.

Mothers Trade Mixed-Up Babies 'on Trial Basis'

STRATFORD, England (AP) —Two young mothers who refused to exchange their babies after doctors said they had been switched at the hospital have finally given in. They tearfully traded the 5-week-old boys yesterday — on a trial basis.

Doctors at the Forest Gate Hospital discovered last week they had made an error in identification the day after the infants were born. Subsequent blood tests proved there had been a mixup.

Mrs. Vera Bowers, 22, and Mrs. Sheila Read, 24, said they still are not convinced they had the wrong babies.

"We have been over every aspect of the problem," Mrs. Bowers' husband said, "and our wives have finally realized that if there is to be a switchover it has to be done as soon as possible."

Mrs. Bowers added: "Before we come to a final decision, we want to see how the babies react."

Lay Cornerstone for New Hospital

236-Bed Institution for South Oakland; C. E. Wilson Officiates

Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson returned to Washington today after flying here Saturday to lay the cornerstone of Oakland County's new $5,000,000 William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

Dedication of the 236-bed structure marked the culmination of over 10 years' effort on the part of South Oakland County residents to acquire a hospital to serve the Bloomfield-Birmingham-Royal Oak area. The brick building stands on a 105-acre site on 13 Mile Road just west of Woodward.

As a resident of Bloomfield Township for 25 years and former president of General Motors, Wilson had been a leader in the drive to build the hospital.

In his speech the defense secretary cited the hospital, which has been financed entirely through private contributions and capital, as "a fine example of social progress of which the people of Royal Oak, Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills can be justly proud."

Master of ceremonies was Lawrence S. King, chairman of the Trustees' executive committee. The Rev. C. Jatho of Royal Oak gave the invocation. Dr. Howard B. Barker, chief of staff, introduced the medical executive board.

E. A. Tomlinson, president of the hospital board, said the hospital would be opened early in January.

He welcomed as an honored guest, Mrs. George L. Stokes of Flint, great-grandniece of Dr. Beaumont.

He also paid tribute to the work of Marshall Fredericks, whose 17-foot sculpture will be placed on the east wall of the building, to Mrs. Louis G. Erb who donated the money for the sculpture, and to Thomas E. Wilson and his wife, Barbara, for their donation of the Wilson heart station in the hospital.

He said the hospital had been planned when southern Oakland County had but 150,000 population. Today it has 280,000 and the hospital already is inadequate. "So," he warned his hearers, "we will soon be around, calling on you again for additional contributions to enlarge it."

Paid for by private donations and capital, the 236-bed hospital will serve Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Royal Oak and adjacent areas. It is located on a 105-acre site on 13 Mile road just west of Woodward.

Thus spoke Congressman George Dondero this morning before an all-high school assembly in the Waterford Township High School.

Speaking in obesrvance of a special United Nations program, he declared that despite frequent dissatisfaction with the U.N. voiced by many in this country, it has done more to unite the free world against communist aggression than could ever have been accomplished by individual action.

Singling out the young men in his student audience, Representative Dondero said that the U.N.'s primary purpose is to save "you young men and those who will follow you from the scourge of war."

He said that there is no place at present in the U.N. for Communist China because "it is not a peace loving nation."

Consider $2 Million Plan Along Authority Outlines

The possibility of a community solution to sewage disposal problems of four townships by the creation of a governmental authority and a jointly-owned disposal plant is now under consideration.

Officials of West Bloomfield, Pontiac, Avon and Waterford townships, along with representatives of state and county health departments and Oakland County Drain Commissioner Ralph A. Main have scheduled a meeting at the Waterford CAI building Wednesday evening to discuss the project.

In his recent report to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, Main outlined $36,500,000 worth of county drain construction work needed in the next two years, and included a $2,000,000 figure for the proposed sewage treatment plan.

"We had our first meeting on the idea early this spring," Main stated, "and since then we've had three discussions with the State Water Resources Commission, some of the townships involved, and the health departments."

He added that the plan make take the form of the governmental authorities working in the southern section of the county to solve community problems of sewage, garbage and rubbish disposal, and well as water procurement.

Under such a setup, the South Oakland County Garbage and Rubbish Authority has completed a $1,900,000 incinerator, to serve the eight member communities there.

Waterford Township Supervisor Lloyd Anderson said the forthcoming meeting is still for preliminary thinking on the subject, and no definite decisions have been reached.

Listed as a possible site for the disposal plant, which would receive the sanitary sewage from the member communities via interceptor sewers, is an 103-acre plot in Avon Township.

The land is on Crooks Road, between Auburn and Adams roads, and is owned by the city of Pontiac. According to Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman, the tract was acquired in 1929 as a possible sewage disposal plant site.

Willman added that a plan to construct such a plant with several townships fizzled out long ago, and said the city has no present plans to put the land to such use.

Main, who said the $2,000,000 cost figure was a "guesstimate" based on the length of the proposed interceptors, added that "due to the rapid growth of the suburban areas, the sanitation problem is getting out of hand. Something has to be done to pick up the sanitary sewage and treat it."

He indicated that the Avon Township site seems the most logical one because the sewage effulent can be chanelled into the Clinton River after treatment.

Main anticipated that the treatment would be practically a 100 per cent, and "would clean up the Clinton much better than it is now."

Accident Victim, 72, Dies in Hospital

William L. Simmons, 72, of 103 Union Ct., struck by a car Oct. 11 at Pike and Saginaw Sts., died in Pontiac General Hospital Sunday.

Lt. Joseph Koren, head of the Pontiac Police traffic and accident bureau, qouted hospital authorities as saying Simmons died of pneumonia which resulted from the victim's "weakened condition."

* * *

Meanwhile, police will take additional statements from witnesses and will question further the driver, Albert N. Kellogg, 64, of Marine City, who is expected in Pontiac sometime today.

At the time of the accident, police quoted Kellogg and other witnesses as saying Simmons walked into the side of the car as the vehicle started up with a green light. Simmons was reported to have suffered head cuts and concussion.

afraid to approach the two men for fear of running over them.

When the men finally did get aboard, they discovered the rescue line had become fouled in the cruiser's propellor. They were too chilled to dive overboard again, so they tried to signal passing freighters.

"I did everything I could think of to attract attention," said Deswetherick, a former chief radio operator in the Army. "We flew the ensign upside down, set off flares and signaled to the boats, but even though we had drifted very near the ship channel, nothing happened."

Eight hours later, at 10:30 p.m., the 17th freighter answered their spotlight distress signals and notified the Coast Guard at Harsens Island. A Coast Guard boat picked them up 15 minutes later.

"I take back all the crabbing I did about Army training," Deswetherick said later. "Knowing how to signal saved our lives, I'm sure. We were getting awfully cold."

Despite the chilling experience, which included the loss of a brand new shotgun, the men had one consolation: They came home with one duck.

Auto Smash Fatal to Troy Republican

TROY TOWNSHIP — Chairman of the Troy Township Republican Committee Ralph S. Beale, 65, was killed Saturday when his car struck a tree on 16 Mile Road.

Beale retired from his Borg-Warner position in 1939, and was active in Oakland County Republican circles.

Born in Albany, N. Y., he graduated from Columbia University, and came to Michigan in 1929.

Taunts Women Dieters, Learns It Doesn't Pay

TOLEDO, O. (UP) — Edward Gillmore, chief engineer at St. Luke's Hospital, has decided it does not pay to try to outsmart six women at one time.

The engineer heard the women talking in the hospital about dieting and decided to challenge their good intentions. A wager was arranged under which the person losing the least weight would be the loser.

Six weeks later, Gillmore, accompanied by Mrs. Gillmore, paid off. He footed the bill for a big dinner for the six women.

HOW WILL YOU VOTE

WHERE?

Is it really to the best interest of all the people to build a new courthouse and general office building away from town, away from the present courthouse location? Will there be savings to the taxpayers to develop the proposed suburban site instead of re-building at the present location where all utilities are now available? Would there be savings to taxpayers in transporting county officials and prisoners from present county buildings back and forth to the new courthouse? Is it more convenient to park once within walking distance to many county offices and departments or park two or three times and travel longer distances to accomplish the same errands? Have studies been made as to comparative costs of re-building on the Huron Street, Saginaw property as against the pre-determined changed location?

Consider well these problems before you vote. Interpret their significance in terms of the thousands of busy people who daily must go to the courthouse on official and personal business. Until satisfactory public transportation to the proposed new location was established would the county subsidize or provide it for them? After years of establishing county offices and departments around the present courthouse and providing buildings in which to house them is it wise to re-locate the center around which they were built? Will these offices, departments and the jail, too, be re-located? Give careful thought to these problems before you vote. Your vote on the increased tax millage proposal will affect the answers.

Bob Considine Says

Dr. Sheppard Is Forgotten as Trial Becomes Snafu

CLEVELAND (INS)—Forgotten. That's what Sam Sheppard was over the weekend.

Flipped. That's what Judge Blythin did.

Red-faced. That was the word for the prosecutors.

Pretty. That's how the defense was sitting through this whole crazy mixed-up business.

Sam, the man, had no reason for having burned ears as he whiled away his weekend playing pinochle with the motley assembly of car snatchers, window breakers, deadbeats and engravers' cramp counterfeiters who make up the body politic of his pokey.

He was driven off the front pages and out of the larynxes of radios viewers-with-alarm by the revelation that one of the jurors in his case, who swore being seated that he never had any truck with court cases, might be the self-same fellow picked up and stamped on homosexual charge 11 years ago. So people stopped talking about Sam and waded into the troubled sea of "mistrial" and worse.

In fact, the favorite drink around bone-dry (1) Cleveland on Sunday was a double jeopardy. Recipe will be forwarded to all who send in a self addressed envelope containing a ticket home and spending money. Suffice it to say that never in the history of journalism have so many known so little of Blackstone, and whoever succeeded Mr. B. in Ohio.

By the time this makes print the local legal eagles may have found some door out of their labyrinth. But as of this writing they are groping about like moles and with much the same nimbleness. The only thing at the tip of their fingers when the whole foul-up reared its head was their nails. And they didn't seem to know quite what to do about them, either.

One got the impression that there were no legal giants browsing through the tangled weeds of the Sheppard case, after watching them not only hem but haw—as well as whereas—when the story exploded that one of the 12 good men and true reportedly turned out to be a bi-ped antonym.

The judge, a kindly soul who has a fixation about street addresses and sections of town ("Well, bless me, isn't 49,413 Blamsk Dr, very close to the Declasse Ladies Hat Factory, Inc., or is that just over the hill and to the right?"), was an unhappy man at times when the other story broke.

When we asked him to name the side which asked for the long weekend, to catch up on law books which should have been devoured when they were as young and tender as the reporters who are covering the trial, the judge first said, "Nobody!" real indignant. Then he amended that in an interesting way. He added, "Everybody!" Several reporters were pictured as confused.

There was a feeling around local health clubs over the weekend that the State of Ohio had had it. At least, so far as fastening Dr. Sam's seat belt at this time is concerned. Nobody from the prosecution side wanted to speak, including a member last seen disappearing into the murkiness of the common pleas with two bottles of 7 Up and the stricken lurch of one about to cop same.

You should have seen Bill Corrigan, newspaperman gone straight, when Jack Lotto of INS asked if he had a mistrial in mind.

One had the feeling that it was akin to asking Laurence Olivier if he were remotely interested in playing Hamlet for, let's say, a zillion pounds. Bill rolled the question on his tongue like a 412-year-old Scotch and then said, with the most delightful show of violence:

"I won't answer that question."

Next week: East. That's where Lynne was.

BIG DEAL—Conrad Hilton, who already owns 18 hotels, holds the $57,584,150 check which helped him purchase the Statler hotel chain. It's only part of a $111,700,000 real estate deal which will bring him nine more hotels and two office buildings. Transaction was made in New York City.

Pontiac Laundry Wins Citation on Advertising

Pontiac Laundry, 340 S. Telegraph Rd., has been awarded first prize in the newspaper division of the 14th annual advertising contest conducted by American Institute of Laundering, the national trade association for the laundry industry.

Announcement of the local firm's achievement was made at the institute's 67th annual convention held recently in Atlanta, Ga. More than a thousand examples of laundry advertising from almost every state and from six foreign countries were entered in the contest.

The Pontiac firm received a medallion commemorating its winning entry, and its ads will be published in an A.I.L. special report to be distributed to the institute's 4,000 members in January.

My Name Is . . .

Paul SUTTON

I Want You to VOTE!

TOMORROW, Tuesday, Nov. 2 is election day. Each citizen has the obligation to go to the polls and mark his ballot.

I have conducted an aggressive campaign on the issues in this election. I have tried conscientiously to avoid personality attacks.

I think the voters of Oakland County are tired of secret deals like the sly Dixon-Yates power contract. I think the voters of Oakland County and the nation are fed up with the giveaway of our natural resources.

I think you want something done about unemployment. I think you share my belief that one hungry family in Oakland County is one too many.

I believe you want constructive action on obtaining adequate water supplies for our county. I think you want your Congressman to work for proper drainage facilities to end the flooding of our streets and homes.

Finally, I believe you want a spokesman in Washington who has your interests at heart, who speaks for all the people and not just a small minority.

This is my pledge—To do all in my power to serve the needs of Oakland county, our state, and nation, to report to you regularly on my activities in Washington, and to be ever mindful of you, the people.

Baby's Cradle Cap No Cause for Alarm

Cradle cap worries many mothers. It's a yellowish scale on the top of baby's head and doesn't indicate skin trouble or anything serious. If you've been washing baby's head with soap, try just water for a while. Some doctors recommend a touch of oil to soften it, but it's generally quite soft.

One day you will find a piece of the cradle cap coming off. Lift it off gently. It will all go away by this method, if you don't try a lot of fancy remedies.

Story Tellers Form League at Gathering

The Pontiac Story Tellers' League was organized recently when the members gathered at the State street home of Mrs. J. R. Shaffer.

Mrs. McRae told a folk story called "The Three Wishes," and Mrs. Parrish presented "Grandma and the Sea Gull."

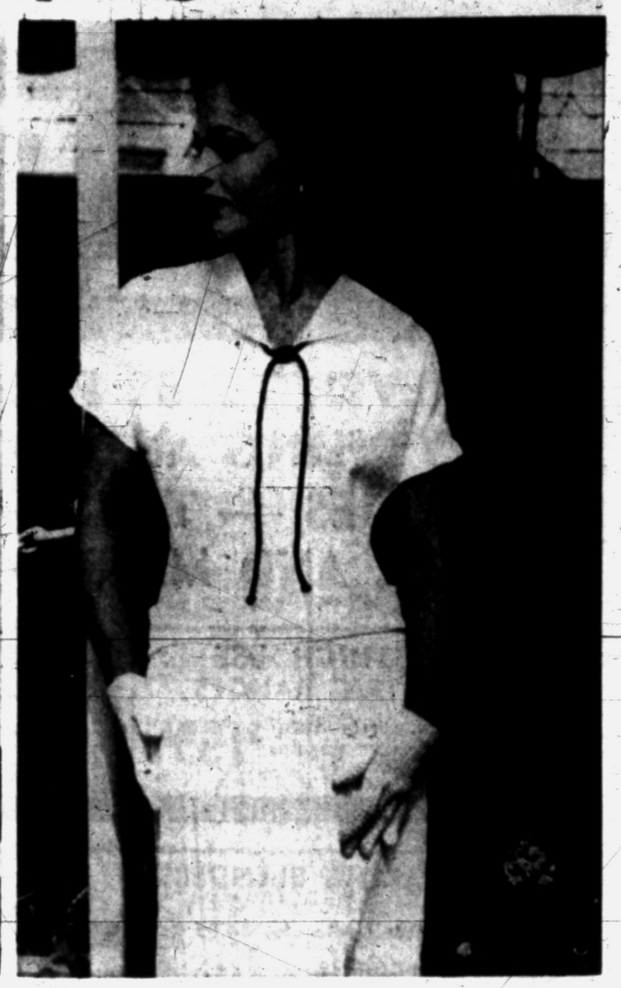
Mrs. Oscar W. Schmidt was named president; Mrs. Shaffer, vice president and Mrs. Robert K. Boggs, secretary-treasurer.

Anyone interested in joining the group may contact Mrs. Oscar Schmidt of Garland avenue or Mrs. Robert Boggs of Crescent Lake road.

Bessie Smith Plans Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. James Smith of Graves street are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Bessie Arbutus, to Harold Curtis Trammel, of West Colgate avenue. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Trammel of Eastview avenue. The couple will speak their nuptial vows Nov. 13.

Black plays magic with the waistline then buttons on an umbrella of white at the lowered hip line. The finest of pima cotton textured in a cloque pattern makes this California fashion. It comes in black and white only.



This is a companion piece to a one-piece short tennis dress from California. It is in wonderful orlon challis that makes possible a permanently pleated skirt. Note the trend toward an easier waistline, cuffed long torso effect and the sailor or middy collar.

Color and Fabric Co-Star in New Fashion Drama

Today's theme song for seventy-five of the nation's leading fashion editors of newspaper, radio and television is "California, Here I Am".

This is the time of the year when the west coast's leading fashion designers debut their cruise, resort and early spring collections of sportswear, swim fashions, dresses, coats and suits.

There will even be a fashion overture played, California style, for small fry, when children's clothes will be paraded before the style experts.

The world's second largest fashion center is raising the curtain on "The California Look" and the play is set for a long run, since these are the trends that forecast the 1955 fashion scene.

Co-starring are color and fabric, both of which are old troupers with a history of strong beginnings in the Golden State, known for a way of life that demands the most colorful of leisure clothes, in fabrics of unusual origin, texture or finish.

Supporting cast includes silhouette, which makes a somewhat controversial figure out of a woman's figure! In "The California Look," she still has curves though they may be tamed slightly more than last season.

Opening number features color . . . and the birth of the blue-greens and mauves as hit parade hues are worth watching. But it wouldn't be California without oranges, and there they are—different only in name, they belong to the family—persimmon, tangerine, capucine, or "hot orange." Lots of white, plenty of black (both set off a sun-tan beautifully) with usually a third bright shade throw in for accent.

Fabric . . . from beginning to end, it's the sustaining thread that motivates the plot. It's basic, but always beautiful — both domestic and imported material blend happily in the interpretation of the designer's ideas.

Prints were never more colorful, more conversational, or more floral — they are crisp, or soft, small or huge, spaced and geometric. Dots and stripes are attention-getters, too. Cottons are either of the homespun, rough-hewn country character, or they're the darlings of the court, silken and lovely, and treated like royalty.

Denim, pique, broadcloth, percale, are all sisters under the skin—all cotton, and California designers have done more for cotton than anywhere else on earth.

Pure imported linen comes printed or plain, or combined for costumes of elegance. Silk looks tweedy in some instances, but the disguise only enhances its native charm. It's still number one favorite for late day or great occasion dresses, and the couturier designers use it lavishly and knowingly.

A few sheer wools and more pastel jerseys are on stage . . . particularly are the latter good traveling companions, and come cruise or high water, a gal can take to jersey and forget to pack the iron.

Silhouette is a scene stealer—but on close examination, it takes on a Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde aspect, for it's slim one moment, and full the next. However, the straight and the narrow seems to be winning out, and as this transfiguration progresses, we find a higher, uplifted and rounded bosom, and easier bodyline with lowered waistline — lengthening of the torso, it's called. Even when the lower half of the torso is full-skirted, it starts from a hip yoke rather than from the natural waistline, as in days gone by.

Halloween Costumes Judged at Party

The children of Hawthorne School and their parents held an annual Halloween party Saturday evening at the school. A costume parade was followed by the awarding of prizes for the prettiest, ugliest, funniest and most unusual costumes.

A comedy was shown and refreshments were served by the Weaver-Owen Community Club.

Couple Wed in Sunday Ceremony

Rachael Thome Speaks Vows in Temple Beth Jacob

Rachael Harriette Thome was gowned in white nylon tulle and rose point Chantilly lace over satin as she approached the altar of the new Temple Beth Jacob, Sunday evening to become the bride of Murray Jack Cohen.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Thome of James K boulevard and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cohen of Caledonia, N. Y.

Palms and baskets of white and pink chrysanthemums and an arbor of various size white chrysanthemums banked the altar of the temple. Pink satin bows and ivy streamers marked the pews as Rabbi Sanford Saperstein performed the 7:30 candlelight ceremony before 200 guests.

The bride's gown was fashioned with a bodice of Chantilly lace and a deep ruffle of nylon tulle appliqued with lace. It featured a bateau neckline, long sleeves and the bouffant skirt was floor-length. A crown of pearls and irridescent piates on lace secured her tiered fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade arrangement of white camellias with white and blue stephanotis.

Bette Winston of Miami, Mrs. Harvey Cohen of Caledonia, N. Y., and Judy Levine were other attendants. Their gowns were of carnegie blue velvet, fashioned like the honor maids.

Maxine Thome, sister of the bride, wore a dress of French imported pink organdy and matching mitts for her duties as flower girl. The bodice of her dress was appliqued with white daisies and her headpiece was a halo of fresh flowers. She carried a basket of pink rose petals with a miniature bouquet attached to the basket.

Harvey Cohen of Caledonia, served as his brother's best man and Joel Thome, brother of the bride; Richard Goodman of Mt. Morris, N. Y., cousin of the bridegroom; and Leonard Ross of Providence, R. I. seated the guests.

Mrs. Thome greeted her guests at a reception held immediately following the ceremony, wearing a champagne-colored satin dress in waltz length. The dress was accented by a V shape brocade belt trimmed with iridescent sequins. Her accessories were pink and a corsage of pink cymbidum orchids were pinned to her matching pink purse.

Mrs. Cohen chose a grey dress of silk and wool for her son's wedding. The dress was studded with rhinestones and diamond-shaped cyrstal beads. Her corsage was of green orchids.

The new Mrs. Cohen changed to a terra cotta knit dress with grey and white accessories and a corsage of white camellias for a trip to New York City. After a short stay in the city they will cruise to Haiti and upon their return will reside in New York state.

The bride is a graduate of Webber College for Women at Babson Park, Fla., and the bridegroom graduated from the University of Miami at Coral Gables, where he was a member of Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity.

Mom Should Share Children's Lunch

If school-age youngsters come home for lunch, it's important to them that you be there and eat with them. They pine to tell you all about it and to ask you questions—right away.

If you have your hair done or shop, arrange it so you can be there most of the time. If you must be out now and then, they will understand more readily if you've tried to share lunch hours the rest of the time.

Society Chapters Plan Annual Event

Alpha Gamma and Alpha Beta chapters of Delta Kappa Gamma Society will hold a second annual birthday luncheon Nov. 6 at Hotel Waldon. Members of Xi Chapter will be guests at the celebration.

Wonderful Town Even Better When Remembered From Mountain Top

New York Too Hectic for McBride

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

Partly that's because New York is always hectic and partly it's that fall is the city's season for starting everything all over again—people, tanned and reinvigorated after vacations, going at their jobs with extra frenzy, new books, new clothes, new plays emerging to the wild accompaniment of gay parties for the latest celebrities, startling fashion shows, glittering first nights.

In three days I, who am not very social, went to three teas, two luncheons, a dinner and the theater. I made one speech and several recordings, helped to choose the winners of an award, turned down a lecture contract and an offer to endorse filter cigarettes, was congratulated upon writing a book that I had never even heard of before and a television show I'm not doing, commiserated with because of selling a house I never had, in a section of the city I never lived in.

I sat through an entire play even to the final curtain calls, the first time in years I haven't had to hurry home at the end of the first act to get my work for the next day done.

At the Algonquin for luncheon nostalgia overcame me and I ordered a specialty of the house—chicken hash wrapped in a pancake—because that's what I had the first time I ever went there, years ago, practically in a daze because I was so excited. The Algonquin was the resort of the famous and I was the guest of two of the greatest successes of the day, playwrights Elmer Rice and Marc Connelly whom I was interviewing.

The hostess the other day was the remarkable actress, green-eyed Olga Petrova who looks a svelt 30 but is proud of being 70 and of just having her 19th "facial reconstruction." This process used to be called face-lifting, but Olga says it isn't lifting at all: it's drawing to the side. She began it when she was 33 partly, she thinks, because she had a beautiful sister and thoughtless visitors were always making hurting comparisons.

The triumph of my brief visit was the outcome of my encounter with a taxi-driver. I had kept getting more and more discontented with urban life until at last when I was struggling to close a cab window and the taximan showed no interest, I burst into bitter denunciation of the hard, cold city, and all its trappings, human beings included. The driver, at first apathetic, gradually became aroused and at last stopped right in the midst of traffic, got out and came around, slammed the window shut and in aggrieved tones assured me that New Yorkers are just as kind as other people only they have no time to show it.

All in all I led the kind of life visitors cram into a week in New York and wind up sighing, "I swear I don't know how you stand the pace here."

Well, it's over now for a bit, and I'm safe back with a beast of a head cold—in the quiet, peace and autumn beauty of the Catskill farmhouse.

And today, looking across the lake at the mountains with their Persian carpet of muted gold and rose, I found myself saying:

"New York's a wonderful place to visit—but I wouldn't live there if you gave it to me!"

Necessary to Consider Good, Evil

Comic Book War Inspires Thought for Parents, Child

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

You all know the news just made by the comic book industry. It has pledged itself to a new, self-regulating code of ethics that promises to remove all offensive material from its magazines.

But you may not all know that the comic, Classics Illustrated, has refused to join in this self-reforming adventure. This is the dialogue that took place when I telephoned its publishers to ask "Why?"

Cassics Ill.: We haven't joined because we don't consider ourselves part of the comics industry. We use the comic technique to introduce youngsters to literary classics.

Mrs. L.: Is that your only reason for not joining?

C. I.: No, we have another. We believe that teaching children to judge between good and evil, truth and sensationalism, cleanness and uncleanness is principally their parents' responsibility, not the comic book industry's.

Mrs. L.: Hurray! How glad I am someone is saying so! I am not at all sure that the American parent is to be congratulated because some people he doesn't know are going to protect his children against moral contamination for him. I expect it is part of his queer "Do it for me" trend.

However, I'm no perfectionist. If some of us really have found it too strenuous to say "No" to books, I suppose somebody has to say it for us. Do you think that this code of ethics will really work?

C. I.: We'd like to think so. But the need for parents and children to work out their own meaningful code of ethics seems to remain.

Mrs. L.: Sooner or later, it's going to have to be done, too. If this move by the comics industry stimulates us to realize how dependent we are coming to be, that will be its real service in my opinion.

C. I.: Look, about that formal statement you wanted on our refusal to climb on the bang wagon. It's this: Before we celebrate the comic industry's new code of ethics as the panacea, we'd like to ask American parents how they are applying their own.

We'd like to know what they are doing to guide their most precious charges—their children—to understand and choose the good that life has to offer in all their activities, as well as their reading of books and magazines.

Mrs. L.: If you don't mind, I think that I'll let this conversation stand as my comment on the comic book industry's code of ethics.

Followers Necessary for Group

They Contribute to Team Activity in Other Ways

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Seven of us girls always go around together. We're freshmen in high school this year. When we go to the show or some other place, we always call each other up to see if anybody wants to come along.

But two of our group never call the others up for anything, and when they do go with the other five of us they act as if they are the only ones around. One of the girls calls me up only when she doesn't want to go somewhere alone. The big question is whether we should continue to go around with those two, or whether we should drop them?"

In any group that gets together you'll often find some having more social get-up-and-go than others. Some have the ideas and the steam, grab the telephone and get things going. While others wait to be called. It doesn't mean that they aren't attractive and haven't a lot to offer. They are the sheep, that's all.

Maybe it's because they're lazy. They think lots of things are fun, but they get almost as much fun out of thinking about them as doing them. Maybe they just can't stir themselves to round up the rest of the crowd. But they're perfectly willing to go along when somebody else pushes them a bit.

Maybe they hate the phone. They can't help it when phone calls come for them. But they don't like the bother of calling.

Maybe they're shy. They don't dare launch a plan for fear the others will rule it out. They feel they might be imposing on somebody, inconveniencing somebody, or suggesting an idea the others wouldn't like.

Being lazy, leery of the phone, or shy is an indication of a lack of social enterprise. But it's no real reason to drop those two girls from your crowd. Their sticking together like glue when they're out with you is no real reason either. That may be in self-defense. Maybe they see each other often, know each other best, feel more comfortable close together.

The big thing is whether you like those two girls. Do you have fun with them? Do they have fun with you? Do they seem glad on the whole that they are included in the things you do? If so, keep on going with them. Keep on rounding them up. Keep on leading them around.

But if they're not really congenial, if they don't contribute anything to your group's good times, if they spoil the fun for the rest of you—forget to call them up as often as usual. Don't break off your friendship completely — just conveniently on occasion forget their telephone numbers.

Layered Pie Uses Two Ingredients

Mrs. Allen's Idea Takes Mince Meat, Vanilla Pudding

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Homemakers who call our desk for cooking information usually are willing to part with a cherished recipe for our column. That is the way we acquired this Mince Cream Pie recipe from Mrs. M. E. Allen of Union Lake. It is her own original recipe and has become the family's favorite kind of mince pie.

Mrs. Allen's family consists of "three big children and three little children." One son is in service, a daughter in nurse's training and the others in school or at home. As relaxation she indulges in knitting, sewing, crocheting or rug making.

MINCE CREAM PIE
By Mrs. M. E. Allen

Unbaked pie shell
1 cup mince meat
1 recipe vanilla pudding, made from a mix

Bake the pie as usual with the smaller amount of mince meat. This should take about 45 minutes; remove from oven when crust is done. Pour the prepared pudding over the pie. Let set. The pudding may be poured on the hot pie, or both parts may be cold. The result will be the same, an interestingly layered pie.

It sometimes happens in a group that one shy person gets left completely out of the conversation. That's when you have a chance graciously to draw the silent one into the talk by directing a remark to him that calls for an answer.

'And Family' Includes All Under 1 Roof

Separate Invitation to Wedding Is Not Necessary

By EMILY POST

A letter today explains: "Both my parents are dead and I live with my sister and her family. A cousin of ours was married recently and a wedding invitation came addressed Mr. and Mrs. John Jones and Family (Jones is my sister's married name).

"I did not receive an invitation and therefore did not go. My sister and her family went to the wedding and the bride wanted to know why I hadn't come. When my sister told her that I didn't receive an invitation, she was very much put out about it and said that the invitation was meant for me too.

"I am in my mid-30s and certainly think that I should have received a separate invitation and feel that I was quite right in staying away. The bride is making quite an issue of this and thinks I am being overpunctilious.

"Will you please tell me if I was right in staying away?"

Answer: This illustrates unfortunate confusion of those who are included in the wording "and family." Definitely it means all those living under one roof.

Under your circumstances, I think it would have been more courteous had she sent you a separate invitation. But she really was not wrong and you would have been right had you gone since you are living under their roof.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have a very lovely bone china tea set which was given to me many years ago, but as I entertain very seldom I do not have occasion to use it very often.

The daughter of a friend is going to be married soon and as she has often admired this tea set, I was wondering if it would be proper to give her this as a wedding present, or might she be insulted at receiving a "second-hand" present?

Answer: I can't imagine a more perfect gift. I only hope that you yourself will not miss it too much.

Heat Smell Has Cause in Dirt

As far as we can figure, heat all by itself doesn't have much of a smell. This means that if there is an unpleasant odor about your home when the heater is going, it's got to be something else. That something else is usually dirt.

If yours is a forced warm air or hot air system, dirty filters, dirty ducts or dirty registers will give off unpleasant odors. Filters are easy to change and should be changed before each heating season and also during the season. Ducts are difficult to clean unless you can take the time to take the sections of pipe apart for cleaning. The best idea is to call in a firm equipped with a large vacuum cleaner designed for cleaning ducts. Registers are easy to clean either by lifting them out or using a vacuum.

A steam system will give off unpleasant odors if the boiler water is dirty. The remedy here is to allow the boiler to cool, drain off the old water and replace with fresh water. Sometimes it's worth adding a boiler cleaning compound which is drained out after the boiler has been in operation a short time.

Both hot water and steam systems will smell if there are dirty radiators. Dust, it seems, has a very nasty odor when heated. The cure here is to be sure that radiators are free from dust and dirt. The improper kind of paint on a radiator will also give off an odor. The best sort of paint to use is either flat wall paint or a radiator enamel. Don't use a paint with a high amount of oil for the oil when heated will have an odor.

Your old home town is a place where everyone wonders how you got as far as you did.

Check Firm Before Going to Work

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I have just had the most awful experience," a woman writes me. "I decided several months ago that I wanted to sell cosmetics door to door, partly because I like everything having to do with beauty, and partly because I like people, also because I thought I could make some extra money.

"Well, I got tied up with a very unethical firm, and it caused me great trouble. The products did not arrive on time, and were not as they had been described. Also, one of my customers got an allergy to something in the cream.

"The payoff is, that I never did get a penny of commission; in fact, they still owe me plenty. I am sick, because on top of everything else, I have lost the good will of some of my customers.

"Believe it or not, I would still like to give the cosmetic field a try, and wonder if you could advise me how to contact a reputable company."

This experience is a tragedy, and one that might so easily have been prevented. Let me warn you never to go to work for a company in the direct sales field until you have investigated the firm.

You are giving your time and services, and you have a right to expect that you will receive decent pay, and ethical treatment.

Always check with your Chamber of Commerce, and with your town's Better Business Bureau. These organizations know the good firms from the bad, and will advise you. If you are in the country, or in an isolated community where there is no Better Business Bureau, write me and I will tell you the status of the firm in which you are interested.

After you have found a good cosmetic firm to work for, I suggest that you call on all the customers to whom you sold before, and put your cards on the table.

Tell them you made a mistake in selecting a bad company; that you regret it very much; that you value them as potential customers, and that you now represent an excellent line. If possible, give them a small free sample of the new products.

This is important—be sure to contact every single one of them, because your reputation is at stake, and if you want to succeed in this field, you must have a good reputation. Most people will understand if you tell them the whole truth.

H. L. Hayden, Jo Palace Speak Vows

The bride is the daughter of Joseph D. Palace of Rosshire court and the late Mrs. Palace and the bridegroom, who resides on West Huron street, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Hayden of Marion, Ill.

White chrysanthemums, palms and candelabra banked the altar of the church as the Rev. Otto Schultz performed the 7:30 ceremony before 200 guests.

The bride approached the altar wearing a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace. The bodice was fashioned with long sleeves ending in points over the wrists and bordered with seed pearls. A lace cap secured her waist length veil and she carried a crescent shaped bouquet of ivy and gardenias.

Her only jewelry was an heirloom necklace of diamonds and pearls.

Other attendants were Mrs. William Palace and Barbara Hunt wearing gowns identical to the honor matrons in deep blue.

Mrs. G. W. Racine of Peoria, Ill., the bride's aunt, received the guests at a reception held at Knights of Columbus Hall. She wore a lavender suit with pink velvet accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The bride changed to a beige wool dress with brown accessories and the gardenia corsage from her bridal bouquet for a wedding trip to Florida and Nassau. Upon their return they will reside on West Huron street.

MRS. HAROLD L. HAYDEN JR.

Florida and Nassau, are destinations of the former Jo Hill Palace and Harold L. Hayden Jr., who were married Sunday evening. She is the daughter of Joseph D. Palace of Rosshire court and the late Mrs. Palace and he is the son of the Harold L. Haydens of Marion, Ill.

Council Heads Hold Meeting

Mrs. William Wright, Pontiac PTA Council President, opened her home on Chippewa road recently to PTA presidents of the Pontiac schools.

Representatives of 24 schools discussed mutual problems and procedures. Proposal 2, the Conlin Bill on the State Referendum ballot, was found inadequate in the opinion of these presidents.

It was decided that the financial setup would not meet the future needs of the schools. More study should be given to the state financial structure to find a better plan for financing education in the State of Michigan.

Church Society Hears Activity of Missionaries

Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church gathered recently at Barnett Chapel. The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Clyde Anderson, who also gave a report on the White Cross work done for the past year.

A song service was led by Mrs. Frank Rudlaff Jr. with Mrs. H. L. Stout accompanying. Vocal duets were presented by Mrs. George Bryan and Mrs. William Spence.

At the Nov. 17 meeting Christmas gifts will be presented by the various Sunday school classes and will be forwarded to all of the missionaries associated with the church.

A message was given by Mrs. Harry Metro, who has spent several years in missionary work at Addis Ababa, Ethiopia, and by Mrs. Richard Schiel, who was working with the Mohammedan people in Southern Ethiopia. Mrs. Schiel displayed articles made by the people of Ethiopia and a costume worn by the women.

Dr. and Mrs. Schiel expect to return to their hospital work at Kallafo next March.

Anklets Unbecoming

An ankle bracelet may emphasize the slim ankle of an early teener, but it is far from becoming to anyone over 16. One given by a husband as a gift may be tactfully worn around the house or on the wrist.

Kathryn Crothers Is Wed

Honeymooning in northern Michigan are Kathryn Jean Crothers and Bruce F. Burmeister who were married Saturday evening in Christ Lutheran Church of Waterford.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin C. Crothers of Drayton Plains and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Burmeister of North Shirley street.

White baby and fugi chrysanthemums, palms and candelabra decorated the altar as the Rev. Arvid Anderson performed the eight o'clock ceremony before 200 guests.

The bride aproached the altar wearing a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and net. The skirt ended in a cathedral-length train. Her headpiece secured a waist length veil and she carried a white prayer book with a bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid.

Mitzie Boss attended the bride as maid of honor wearing a shrimp-colored gown of taffeta. The gown was fashioned with fitted bodice and circular skirt in ballerina-length. She wore a small matching headpiece and carried a colonial bouquet of white chrysanthemums and red roses.

Sue Cline and Janet and Sandra Crothers, sisters of the bride, were other attendants wearing gowns fashioned like the maid of honor's in emerald green. They carried colonial bouquets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. The bride's attendants are all of Drayton Plains.

MRS. BRUCE BURMEISTER

The bride's mother wore a marine blue dress with navy accessories and a corsage of yellow and bronze roses. The bridegroom's mother chose a gray crepe dress with rust accessories and a corsage of bronze and yellow roses.

Greece Aids West Defense in Southeastern Europe

By SPYROS P. SELLINAS

Strengthening of Western security in Southeastern Europe has been one of the principal diplomatic contributions of the present Greek government under Field Marshal Alexander L. Papagos.

National hero of two great wars, Papagos has cemented friendly relations between Greece, Turkey and Yugoslavia through signing of the tripartite Balkan alliance last August.

Greece foreign policy has always been in full accord with the democratic nations. This policy, however, was decisively laid down by Field Marshal Papagos in his first statements to the Greek Parliament in November, 1952 and was successfully carried out by his Minister for Foreign Affairs, Stephanos Stephanopoulos.

The latter's sagacity and ability have been fully recognized by the neighboring countries and the Western Allies. He has emphasized that the three nations, Greece, Turkey and Yugoslavia, recognize the need for their close cooperation for defense and economic prosperity.

He points out also that the present tripartite alliance is entirely different from the Balkan pact signed before the second World War and is open to enable admission of other non-Balkan nations to widen the common defensive front in Southeastern Europe.

This alliance has been placed within the framework of the United Nations. Greece, moreover, has always fulfilled her obligations toward NATO by contributing a maximum of her financial potentialities.

In accordance with Article 51 of the UNO Charter, which recognizes the right to all member States to conclude regional agreements as supplementary to their defense and the maintenance of peace, the Greco-American Agreement of Oct. 12, 1953, grants military bases in Greece to the U.S. armed forces. This agreement increases the feeling of security in the Mediterranean.

In the meantime Greece, following her peaceful traditions, accepted a few months ago the Soviet overture and re-established diplomatic relations with the USSR.

Negotiations have also started between Greece and Bulgaria for re-establishment of their diplomatic and economic relations, although Bulgaria, in the last century on three different occasions invaded Greek soil and committed untold atrocities.

Albania, Greece's other neighbor, served all through the Communist warfare as a sanctuary for the guerrilla forces. Many years ago, Albania instituted an exterminating campaign against the Greek element of Northern Epirus. It is, however, Greece's earnest wish to see Albania an independent Balkan country, although she, of course, cannot relinquish her rightful claims on Northern Epirus.

Greece has a key position in the free world and especially in the Mediterranean. The present government of Field Marshal Alexander Papagos with an overwhelming majority in Parliament is striving to raise the standard of living, to complete reconstruction of the country after so many destructive wars, to stabilize the Greek economy, to maintain peace and to be ready for any evenfualities.

As King Paul said a year ago: "Greece gradually and steadily progresses toward her recovery. There is still a lot to be done, but there is also the firm conviction that hope shines again bright on the Greek horizon."

American Tourists Are Dazzled by Modernistic Brazilian Capital

(Editor's Note: This is the first of three articles dealing with South America from my personal observations while attending the Inter American Press Association meeting in Brazil.)

By JOHN W. FITZGERALD
Assistant to the Editor

"Utterly fantastic" are the first words from Americans as they step from a plane in Rio de Janeiro, South America. Coming in by plane they have seen the world's most spectacular harbor, Sugar Loaf Mountain and Christ the Redeemer, a large statue on Corcovado Mountain.

The airport is more modern and up to date than most air terminals in this country. Right away though many Americans are confronted with the fact that conversations are carried on in Portuguese. However, at tourist centers you can usually find someone who is bilingual and willing to help with your problems.

With a Portuguese speaking taxi driver you start for your hotel wondering as you go along how you're going to find out the bill and pay the driver. My first experience in tipping was with a 50 cent piece and the driver wouldn't take the money. The tip was large enough but he didn't want American money.

I found out later they don't understand what it is or how much it is worth. So your first move is to change some American currency and get cruzeiros, the local money used all over Brazil. The current rate is 64 cruzeiros for one American dollar.

First impressions of Rio are that it is a modern, bustling, metropolitan city not unlike Philadelphia or New York. Rio, the capital of Brazil, has a population of 2,500,000. Beautiful highways lead to and from the city and the streets are crowded with people, cars, taxicabs, buses and bondies (the local name for streetcars). But the big difference is the modern type architecture and the many new buildings which dot the skyline. The buildings are exceptionally clean looking with a lot of glass and marble in use.

The downtown area is similar to any U. S. city with the same type of business places in evidence. The city is built around the harbor and is completely surrounded by mountains and water. The hotel section is located across the city along Copacabana Beach which is world famous.

White marble hotels and apartment buildings line the beach for several miles. In many places the sidewalks are mosaic and filled like any American city with citizens traveling to and from work or play.

Weekends the beach is filled with sun bathers and swimmers like Atlantic City or any other beach area. One marked difference is that most boys and young men are engaged in a game called football. Along the beach small groups of eight or ten are eagerly playing this fascinating game which is very close to soccer as we know it.

Sports in Rio are big business, which is evidenced by the fact that two daily papers are published which print only news covering sports events. Basketball attracts crowds of 35,000 to 80,000 a game. The South American version of football draws 150,000 to 200,000 per game. Both basketball and football are played primarily by professional teams.

Prices in Rio generally speaking, are about a third lower than in a comparable city in the States. Food is one of the best bargains. A top notch steak dinner at one of the better restaurants or hotels would run about $2.50 in American money. Liquors and wines are a little lower but American cars, on the other hand, are sky high. Fords and Chevrolets are currently selling for $7,500 and Cadillacs at $16,000. Taxes, duty and freight cause the high prices.

Generally speaking, South Americans are a more gracious people by nature than North Americans. They will go out of their way to help you and try to make your stay in their country a pleasant one. Our own tendencies are apt to be a bit abrupt and hurried, but Latin Americans seem to have all the time in the world. They say "manana" for their own work or pleasure and are willing and eager to show a visitor the sights of their own country.

One of the first things a tourist notices is the lack of traffic officers and the way taxis drive. The way of the road is the horn. Whoever blows the longest and hardest has the right of way. Contrary to Stateside, the pedestrian is at fault if he gets in the way of a car or truck.

One of the world's greatest markets for semiprecious stones is Brazil. Topazes, amethysts, aquamarine and tourmalines are among the finest in the world and can be purchased considerably cheaper than in the States. Selling both the set and unset stones is big business and most Americans come home with one or more as a memento of their trip to South America.

Kelly Is a Lady

Knows What She Wants---and Usually Gets It

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
Second of Four Articles

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Grace Kelly's swift rise to movie stardom was from a set of blueprints excitingly different even to careerwise Hollywood. Her elegantly cool but warmly luscious beauty and her Quality Street label were tantalizing to the studios as well as to the male stars with whom she worked.

Her first two leading men, bachelor Clark Gable and married Ray Milland, acted like schoolboys in the flush of first love.

Other movie profiles — Gary Cooper, Jimmy Stewart, William Holden, Stewart Granger, Fredric March and Bing Crosby—yelled for Kelly.

She won an Oscar nomination last year and is expected to win another one this year for her acting in Paramount's "The Country Girl."

She's been rushing from movie to movie so fast there's even a film row gag about her: "I hear Hollywood's making a movie WITHOUT Grace Kelly!"

But not showing on the screen or on the set, and still not shown ing, is a determination and a will of iron.

GRACE AND OLEG CASSINI—She may follow Gene Tierney.

"Grace Kelly knows exactly what she wants and how to get it," a studio executive told me. "She's the most definite girl I've ever known," another said. "She's right about everything."

Big John Kelly of Philadelphia, it is said, has the same determination, perception and will of iron. On his rugged frame it shows. But on his beautiful daughter, the serene exterior masks it.

Grace Kelly wanted to be an actress at 11 when she made her acting debut in a one-act play, "Don't Feed the Animals," at the old Academy Players Theater in Philadelphia. It's remembered that she even cued an adult actress who forgot her lines.

From then on Grace brushed aside the rich girl's life that was her heritage, and by the time she arrived in Hollywood she was trained to the teeth as an actress.

First notice served on her rich parents that Grace wanted to be self-sufficient came shortly after her 14th birthday. They were vacationing at their palatial summer home at Ocean City, N. J.

Papa Kelly could hardly believe it when he heard the news —Grace and a girl friend were going to work as waitresses for $12 a week.

But before Kelly had time to stop them Grace and her friend were ex-waitresses. She remembers: "We didn't know we would have to stay and wash dishes. We quit after one night. We didn't get home until 2 a.m. and the family was ready to scalp me."

After attending private schools in Philadelphia, Grace planned to attend Bennington College for Girls. But she flunked the entrance exam in math. It was the excuse stage-struck Grace was looking for. It was 1947, and she enrolled for two years at American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York.

It is typical of Grace Kelly, too, that during those two years she insisted on supporting herself. She became a photographer's model at $7.50 an hour. In less than six months she was earning $25 an hour—and she had met Oleg Cassini, the famous designer. Now it is believed she will follow glamorous Gene Tierney as the second Mrs. Oleg Cassini.

Her first love, Grace has said, was a Philadelphia boy named Harper Davis, who died in 1953— "But I don't want to talk about my personal affairs."

Her first reading for a Broadway play won her the role of Raymond Massey's daughter in "The Father." But the show closed after only two months.

Then some resounding success as a television actress with parts in more than 80 dramatic shows. At first Grace was type-cast as a college girl and rich kid. But of all her home screen appearances, she prefers the sexy singer role she played in "Lights Out."

But the credits fly by so fast on TV that the name of Grace Kelly meant little to moviegoers when she first appeared on a theater screen.

A silent film test, made in New York, landed Grace a small role in the 20th Century-Fox movie, "14 Hours." The first scenes for the film were made in New York.

Then there was another screen test for a film role Grace Kelly didn't get, but which later zoomed her to stardom as the prissy English wife who succumbed to Clark Gable's charms in "Mogambo."

The test was made for a film titled "Taxi" and Grace played an Irish girl.

But Hollywood hadn't seen the last of that test—or of an Irish girl named Grace Kelly.

Tomorrow: "The Luck of the Irish?—my eye!"

Record Vote Expected

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—City Clerk R. Stanton Kilpatrick has estimated a voter turnout Tuesday of "at least 60,000." He said he expected the high interest in candidates and the four amendment proposals to account for more than the 58,064 votes tabulated in 1950. Kilpatrick said a total of 1,666 absentee ballot applications for the 1954 election had been received before the deadline last Saturday.

Says Russians Run Red China Air Force

Ex-Communist Tells Attack Plan

Reports Paratroopers Preparing to Assault Formosa in April

HONG KONG (INS) — Russian military officers were reported today to be "completely running" the Red Chinese air force and training 110,000 Korean - tested Communist troops as paratroopers for an assault on Formosa.

The target date for the attack on Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's island stronghold—a combined air and sea operation—was said to be tentatively set for next April.

It was brought out of Red China through several channels, the most recent being a Communist air force officer who fled to nearby Portuguese Macao and now is in Hong Kong.

The officer is attempting to win sanctuary in nationalist Formosa and until then his name cannot be used. His claim to inside information, however, is considered acceptable.

Together with reports from Taipeh of concentrations of power-driven junks seen along the mainland coast, the indication is strong that the Peiping regime is determined to carry through an eventual attack on Formosa despite American warnings they will have to run over the U. S. Seventh Fleet.

Officials familiar with Chinese Communist tactics claim the Reds could kick off an assault against Formosa with some 200 bombers and 400 fighters and follow through this softening up with an initial airborne assault of 50,000 men and another 100,000 by sea.

The second wave could include another 50,000 paratroops and 100,000 seaborne soldiers.

Naval sources in Hong Kong estimate the Reds could put to sea a fleet of as many as 12,000 sail and power-driven junks — tough-timbered boats that are a lot more powerful than they seem and collectively the possible superior of American destroyers.

Against this, the Nationalists have 100 miles of sea and roughly 300,000 combat troops scattered over Formosa and off-lying islands.

According to the officer who fled to Hong Kong "the organization of the Communist Chinese air force is but the expansion of the Soviet air force to the China mainland."

He was assigned to both the southern and central sectors where he found "supreme authority" originating in an "advisory office" consisting of 37 Russian air force officers, many of general rank.

The Communist air force is built around light jet bombers and fighter interceptors, and just enough transports to carry through an airborne assault.

This Chinese force is the match of the tiny Free Chinese air force and what available air power the United States has ready to throw into a battle to support the Seventh Fleet.

An overall Far East comparison between combined Russian-Chinese air might and free world forces gives the Reds a two to one lead, according to U. S. intelligence sources.

Child Shatters Grieving by Dropping Big Tomato

By MARGARET LATROBE

The little neighbor child, clutching a brown paper bag, stood in the doorway of the living room, uncertain and confused by the unfamiliar sounds of grief. And by the number of silent strangers sitting there.

The young woman in black, her face drawn with tears unwept, twisted a handkerchief, unable to speak, unable to grasp her sudden widowhood. Those with her, who had been "their friends" were now simply her friends, and they too were unable to communicate whatever comfort swelled in their hearts.

Grief makes even the closest friends inarticulate. After all, what can be said, in the moment of fresh sorrow? What more can be done than the handclasp does, the simple presence of those one loves?

But the little girl knew nothing of sorrow. She hesitated for just that one moment, clutching her wrinkled paper bag with resolution and tenderness.

Mrs. Lathrobe

"Aunt Betty—" she blurted, dashing toward the stricken woman. The others drew short gasps of uneasiness. It was no place for a child. The tenseness and apprehension of the room stifled every sound except the child's footsteps running toward the widowed girl.

They held each other desperately close. The brown paper bag swung crazily around the neck of one, then the other. Finally from its gaping seams rolled forth a great red tomato, still a little dirty from the vine and ground.

Startled, the little girl laughed. Her gift, cherished in its wrappings, would make her friend happy. She knew it would. And it was plunked into the lap of the sobbing woman. Amazed, she laughed, too.

"Aunt Betty," whispered the child, earnestly, "I'm so sorry— I mean—it just broke my heart and I went right out and picked you my very best, very biggest, reddest tomato, 'Cause I know just-how-you-feel."

The strained and hideous silence was gone then. People were talking, wiping their eyes without awkwardness. Even the girl whose husband had gone could speak, could talk about him, which she had wanted to do.

She held the little girl close once more and her words were lost in the normal sound of friends talking over happier days, "Baby, I hope you never know how I feel."

Lake Orion Man, 70, Hurt in 2-Car Crash

According to Oakland County sheriff's deputies, Cassidy's southbound auto collided with another driven west on Pontiac road by Robert W. Gratopp, 35, of 60221 Mt. Vernon, Rochester.

Gratopp told authorities he was crossing Opdyke with the green light when Cassidy's auto ran the traffic light.

Buster Keaton Donates $215 to Muskegon Elks

MUSKEGON (AP) — Deadpan comedian Buster Keaton has added $215 to the Christmas fund of the Muskegon Elks Lodge.

Elks officials said they have received a check for that amount from sponsors of a television panel show on which Keaton appeared. He designated the Elks fund his favorite charity and instructed the money to be forwarded.

Less Kick, More Hits With New Ammunition

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (UP) — Hunters will get more shot on the target and less shock on the shoulder, according to tests conducted by an arms manufacturer.

The firearms firm announced development of a new polyethylene plastic wadding—the plug that holds shot in the shell and acts as a gas seal in the barrel when the gun is fired. The company said tests prove the new material helps keep pellets from scattering away from the target and reduces shoulder-jarring recoil.

Fate of Courthouse an Issue in Tuesday's Balloting

COURTHOUSE FROM AIR—Oakland County voters Tuesday will be called upon to decide whether the courthouse, shown in the above air view, will remain in its present location or a new one be constructed on a Telegraph road site. The proposal calls for a 50-cent tax increase per $1,000 of assessed evaluation to underwrite construction bond issue.

Only 15 per cent of the world's forests are managed as a renewable, continuously producing resource.

CHILD EXPERTS MEET—Pontiac Child Guidance Clinic hosted about 60 persons from 16 guidance clinics throughout the state Friday. The visitors aired their problems of staffing and listened to the panel (pictured above) which discussed common problems due to an increase in demands for service for children with emotional disturbances. The panel members are: Fred Smith, chairman of the ways and means committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors (seated left) and Max Petzke of Benton Harbor, superintendent of schools (seated right). Standing left to right: Richard C. Hicks, president of the Michigan Association of Community Chest directors; Dr. Norman Fleishman, Muskegon; Dr. Milton Hathaway, member of the board of directors of the local clinic; Charles F. Wagg, director of the State Department of Mental Health; and Russell Darling, chairman of the conference.

News Correspondent Enters 2nd Century

SOUTH PARIS, Maine, (AP)—Mrs. Julia Chadbourne, who still works as a country news correspondent, today began her second century of life.

She celebrated her 100th birthday yesterday with two parties, one at the home of her niece, Mrs. June Penfold, with whom she is spending the winter, and the other in nearby North Bridgton, her home town.

Bright-eyed and alert, she still turns out copy for the Bridgton News, for which she was a regular correspondent for about 40 years.

The American Cancer Society considers Mrs. Chadbourne the nation's oldest cured cancer patient. She underwent surgery when she was 80.

Nearly Perfect Record

UNION, S. C. (AP)—Miss Effie Sartor has lost only one day from school during 51 consecutive years of teaching. Recently retired, she spent her entire teaching career at the Excelsior grammar school here, starting in 1903.

Child Guidance Experts Hold Fall Conference Here

Child experts from as far away as Benton Harbor and Muskegon converged on Pontiac Friday for an all day meeting of the Fall Conference of the Association of the Michigan Child Guidance Clinic Boards, at the local clinic on Franklin Blvd.

About 60 clinic board members and representatives of the State Department of Mental Health were on hand for a coffee hour which started the day's activities at 9 a.m., followed by a panel discussion concerning the future increase in demands for service to children with emotional problems.

Fred Smith, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, pointed out that Oakland County expects an increase of 800,000 persons within the next 15 years, and called for a long-sighted financing program to insure service to children who need it.

After a luncheon arranged by the Pontiac Board of Directors at the Congregational Church, the association discussed, in closed session, problems of staffing clinics with adequately trained psychiatrists, psychologists and psychiatric social workers.

Arrangements to have the fall session here were started as long ago as July by Dr. Milton Hathaway and other members of the local clinic's board of directors.

The meeting was sponsored by the Department of Mental Health.

The clinic in Pontiac, under the direction of Miss Madeleine Half, is financed jointly by the State Department of Mental Health, the Oakland and Macomb County Boards of Supervisors and the Pontiac Area United Fund.

British Dockers Return to Work

$500 Million in Cargo Piled Up at Ports During Four-Week Walkout

LONDON, (AP)—Dockers in eight British ports today tackled more than 500 million dollars worth of cargo piled up on the waterfronts during their four-week strike.

The Communist-supported walkout, by 44,000 men demanding the right to refuse overtime work, had brought the vast port of London to a complete standstill and crippled operations at Liverpool, Birkenhead, Manchester, Hull, Southampton, Garston and Rochester.

Union head Richard Barrett advised his men in London to "do all the overtime you can to get this port back into working condition."

* * *

As the day began, 340 ships — many loaded with perishable food —awaited unloading.

At the London docks there were 29,009 tons of meat, 4,496 tons of butter, 525 tons of poultry and rabbits, 600 tons of cheese, 300 tons of eggs and 1,000 tons of bananas.

The stevedores agreed Friday to call off their stoppage and work a "reasonable" amount of overtime while their leaders negotiate on the issue with the employers.

Ike Hears Sermon on Religion in Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower attended services at St. John's Episcopal Church yesterday and heard a visiting minister pray for God's guidance in tomorrow's election.

The minister, Dr. Charles W. Lowry, said in his sermon there is need for religion in politics, education and science. Without religion, he said, politics "will turn into false ethics and its countenance will be altered until we behold not noble men leading their people but new fantastic idols with hideous human features before which men prostrate themselves and sell their souls."

Show Business

By EDDIE CANTOR

The loveliest lady I have ever met, in or out of show business, is the one known as Jane Froman. Modest, too.

At the preview of "With a Song in My Heart," I happened to sit close to her. When it was over, and with the applause still echoing through the theater, I congratulated Jane. "Jane, your voice really made the picture."

By now all of America knows her story. That fateful trip in the clipper—the crash—Jane's fight back to health—her marriage to the co-pilot who saved her life. What a lot of people didn't know was that in 1945, after twenty-five painful leg operations—still on crutches—Jane insisted on going back overseas to continue the job she'd started two years before.

Veterans who thought life had dealt them a losing hand took heart when they saw her. Like the private in Germany, scheduled to do an act with her at a hospital.

When Jane arrived, they said the boy had been in battle, experienced a bad shock, and couldn't appear. Jane insisted on seeing. "I can't," he said. Then noticing Jane's crutches, he apologized weakly, "You understand—I—I've got laryngitis."

Jane laughed. "Who are you kidding?" she demanded. "Only officers get laryngitis. Privates get colds. And what performer was ever stopped by a cold?" The private stared at her for a moment—then laughed and got out of bed.

I shall always remember the night on her television show when she actually danced. Ida and I sat together in our home in Beverly Hills and cried unashashamedly. If you saw Jane Froman that night, I'll bet you cried to.

Fans and autograph collectors mob her constantly. Recently, after a tough day, she went back to her hotel, had dinner and went to bed early. She made sure to hang the "Do Not Disturb" sign on her door. Just as she was dozing off to sleep, there was a loud banging.

Opening the door, there was a boy about thirteen with the "Do Not Disturb" sign in his hand. "Will you autograph this for me?" you know something? Jane wasn't even a little bit annoyed. She loves people. No wonder all people love her.

Army Officer Under Arrest

Lieutenant, 24, Charged With Hanging Trainee by Feet for Fighting

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A slim, young officer was under house arrest at Camp Gordon today awaiting outcome of a pretrial investigation into charges he ordered recruits to hang a fellow trainee by the feet from a tree limb.

Third Army headquarters also charged in a statement that 2nd Lt. Charles C. Anderson, 24, formerly of St. Louis, Mo., forced recruits to take sand baths, do exhausting physical exercises and shout an obscene phrase from a tree top.

* * *

The 5-foot-10 officer, described as soft-spoken and "on the handsome side," served as a master sergeant in the Far East and won two battle stars in Korea.

He was on his first assignment as an officer, in command of Company A, 1st Infantry Training Regiment, when, the Army charges, he forced recruits to undergo "harassing and humiliating" treatment.

* * *

Third Army headquarters said that after the pretrial investigation was completed the commanding general at Camp Gordon would determine the appropriate action to be taken, "to include trial by court-martial if warranted."

Ancient British Pubs Protected as Monuments

The housing ministry, citing hand-in-hand with brewers, has listed them as historic monuments. That means they can't be pulled down or changed in character.

Most of them really are historic. Henry V, for instance, took a drink in the Red Lion at Southampton in 1415 before taking the boat for France and the Battle of Agincourt.

Much-married Henry VIII spent a night at the Feathers, a showplace pub in Ludlow, Shropshire. Queen Elizabeth I, the monarch who died unmarried, visited the Maid's Head at Norwich. A marble bath used by George III is preserved at the Gloucester Hotel in Weymouth.

Oldest of the protected pubs is the Golden Cross, a students' haunt in the university town of Oxford since the 12th century. Shakespeare may have acted in its courtyard.

The protected list now totals 2,500.

$64 Question Breaks Up Reds' Press Conference

It lasted three minutes.

It broke up when a representative of the Japan Teachers Union asked if there is freedom of education in China.

Sneeze Causes $700 Damage to Two Cars

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — A sneeze caused $200 damage to John A. Erwin's car, $500 damage to another auto, a bruised knee, and a traffic charge against him of failing to yield the right of way.

Erwin told police he suddenly sneezed as he approached an intersection. His auto plowed into another car. The other motorist had a bruised knee.

In change there is opportunity

America has earned more "time off" than ever before

The five-day week, the shorter work day, the two-week vacation, additional holidays—all these add up to more "time off" for millions of Americans.

And we have more income to help us take advantage of this time off. All this has come about mainly because America is working more efficiently—producing more in less time.

How are people using their extra spare time and increased income? More and more are turning to sports and hobbies, and are developing new interests. More are taking part in community activities. Almost 12 million have home workshops. Nearly half our families take vacation trips each year.

More time off and increased incomes have thus made possible a better way of living for millions of Americans. And families are taking steps to protect this way of living. Through life insurance they are guaranteeing a financial backlog if the father dies. American families are now buying more than three times as much life insurance as in 1940.

And more and more families are turning to life insurance for its living benefits, too—for example, to help pay for the children's education or to help build an adequate retirement program. More than half of all life insurance benefits are now paid to the policyholders themselves.

An employee today has about two months more free time each year than the wage-earner of his grandfather's day

Study While Asleep of Doubtful Value

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (UP) — The question of whether playing a tape recording to a sleeping person will help him memorize something more easily still has no definite answer.

General Electric Co. scientists report that psychologists say that under certain circumstances a small amount of poetry or words may be learned in that manner, but there is no proof that the effect is a lasting one. There is also some question as to whether in such cases the sleep is real and natural or a sort of hypnosis.

Hefty New Tax Code Furrows Brows of Accountants, Lawyers and Bankers

NEW YORK (NEA) — Tax men are whirling through a frenzy of night classes, institutions and seminars. They are busy re-educating themselves.

The cause? The new income tax law — a congressional bill that weighed in at 3 pounds. It has made their previous tax knowledge as obsolete as the high desk and quill pen.

"I thought the later April 15 deadline would be a boon," one tax man remarked, "but it's nowhere near late enough, when we have to digest the new code."

Another authority indicated the extent of the overhaul in the income tax law by pointing out that the section numbers of the tax law — long a shorthand among tax men—have all been changed save one.

"And that lone familiar section and number out of the 8,023," he said wryly, "that's only a coincidence."

There are 3,000 technical changes. A spokesman for the American Institute of Accountants sighed: "We have a room full of midnight oil."

Men who make out returns for others — accountants, lawyers, bankers — have all noted a steady increase, since the war, in the number of persons seeking tax return help. They foresee record business this season.

And they must comprehend the provisions of the code before the boggled, the confident, the rich and the just-average start to flood their offices, clutching blank returns and wads of check stubs.

One bright spot seen by tax authorities is that the new law may shake out phony experts who have been operating in barber shops, drugstores and penny arcades.

They assume many of these unscrupulous characters will be around selling worthless advice, as they have in the past, but they hope the public won't trust them with the same degree of gullibility as in the past.

Organizations of tax experts are rounding up classes to hasten learning. One such is the 13th annual Institute on Federal Taxation, to be held at New York University this November.

Henry Sellin, director, can barely bail himself and two assistants out of the tide of applications.

The full quota of 450 students from all over the country was filed on Aug. 15. And still applications flow into Sellin's office.

According to all the authorities in the field, anyone, be he civilian or accountant, can make out a return under the new law, if he reads the code and uses his wits.

But it's the reading of the code that makes the going tough. It still weighs 3 pounds and the explanations, clarifications and discussions don't make it any slimmer.

"Everyone," commented one expert, "wants the code pre-digested for him."

Birds Not Just Noisy, Anxious to Begin Day

BERKELEY, Calif. (UP) — Birds don't try to wake you up before dawn—they are just anxious for daylight to forage for breakfast, Dr. Robert C. Miller concluded after years of study.

Dr. Miller, director of the California Academy of Sciences, also said birds don't necessarily sing because they are joyful, but probably are in a belligerent mood.

Burglary Discovered When Safe Turns Up

He called Sheriff Merle Karnopp who had no reports of any safe snatching, but discovered at the scene the safe belonged to a Lincoln cafe owner.

Await Russian Reply in Search for Prince

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Iran today awaited Russia's reply to her request that Iranian and American planes be permitted to fly over Soviet territory in search of the Shah's missing brother, Prince Ali Reza.

The Prince has been missing since Wednesday on a flight to Tehran from Gorgan, a cotton area near the Soviet border. An Iranian air force colonel was piloting him.

Unconfirmed reports said a Soviet gunboat in the Caspian Sea had fired on an American rescue seaplane taking part in the search and that the Russians had refused to let American search planes fly over Soviet territory.

Five Generations Meet During Family Reunion

Representing the five generations were Williamson; his daughter, Mrs. William (Blanche) Collins, 59; the Collins' daughter, Mrs. Bernice Galardy, 38; Mrs. Galardy's daughter, Mrs. Patsy Jean Druggan, 21 and 3-month-old Lynelle Druggan.

Find No Poison in Nixon's Food

Secret Service Reports Tests Negative; Say Crank Made Phone Call

SEATTLE (AP) — An anonymous telephone call, which said poisoned food had been delivered to Vice President Nixon's hotel room here Saturday night, appeared today to have been the work of a crank.

Burt C. Cline, Secret Service agent in charge of the Seattle office, said "nothing has turned up so far" in laboratory tests of the food made by a Seattle firm.

"But there will be several hours more of testing before we can be certain," he added.

* * *

Meantime, the vice president and his party had flown to Denver and Nixon said there he planned to revise his nationally telecast address tonight to strike back again at Adlai Stevenson. He listened to Stevenson's New York broadcast address a few minutes after the "poison scare" incident here Saturday night and took notes on it.

At Denver, he told newsmen yesterday the Democratic presidential candidate of two years ago had made "one of the most vicious attacks through innuendo on President Eisenhower that I have ever heard."

* * *

In his New York speech, Stevenson said President Eisenhower had adopted material which "has been standard Communist propaganda for years . . . the proposition that our prosperity has been achieved in the past only at the price of war and bloodshed."

The anonymous telephone call came through the hotel switchboard from outside the hotel before the food actually reached Nixon.

Elephant Turns Tables on Trick or Treat Gang

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Five-year-old Sheba took advantage of a traffic snarl-up to garner a half hour trunk-or-treat style.

It was easy for Sheba, a young lady elephant. Her trailer overturned on Firestone Boulevard Saturday night. She was unhurt. While she was waiting for the blocked lanes to be cleared she put on a show for youngsters making their Halloween rounds.

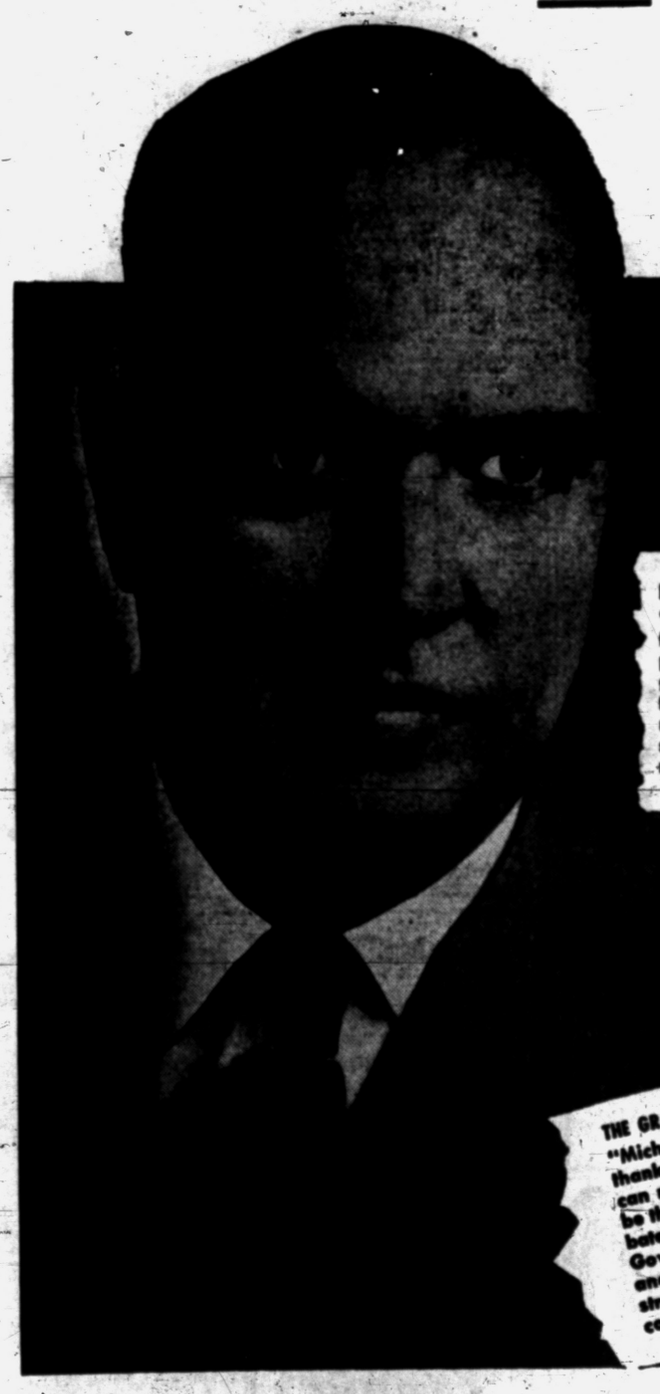
ELECT DON LEONARD

It's time for a NEW LOOK in MICHIGAN GOVERNMENT

Courageous Leader
Brilliant Organizer

Distinguished Administrator
Experienced State Servant



SOUTH HAVEN DAILY TRIBUNE:
"The people have a way of learning the truth. All during his official career, Mr. Leonard has shown himself to be a man of integrity and character. That's what the people were able to distinguish. Go to it Don!"

MIDLAND DAILY NEWS:
"Leonard's strong points are that he is a highly intelligent fellow with a lot of conscientious public service behind him. Yet he has the advantage of being the proverbial new broom that could sweep clean. And he will be a strong campaigner without personality attacks."

DETROIT TIMES:
"Donald S. Leonard's whole career has been admirable. He seems to be blessed with a large fund of common sense, he has been fair and impartial in the midst of State controversies and when the occasion called for it he was able to display exceptional personal courage."

FROM A WOMEN'S CLUB:
"Our members feel that you, as a family man, have a significant appreciation of the needs of Michigan's young families. We believe that your experience and future-minded viewpoint will give us the sound administration Michigan needs."

MICHIGAN DAILY:
"Now after an absence of six years from the governorship it appears that the Republican party has found a real potential and successful standard-bearer for Governor."
—United Press Dispatch

FROM AN INDEPENDENT VOTER:
"I'm going to vote for you first because I know you have no strings attached to your candidacy—no commitments to any group—and second, because your record shows you have what it takes—ability, integrity and experience!"

BATTLE CREEK RECORD AND LAKEVIEW NEWS:
"It is an unhealthy situation when the governor is beholden to any group whether it be farmers, school people, business men or labor . . . no one has any strings on Leonard."

THE GRAND RAPIDS HERALD:
"Michigan's 1954 gubernatorial campaign, thanks to the vigorous and forthright Republican nominee, Donald S. Leonard, promises to be the most productive in years—in issues debated and specious claims laid bare . . . The Governor is trying to claim everything in sight and the claims are being answered by a straight talking, hard hitting challenger. On all counts so far Mr. Leonard has the best of it."

BENTON HARBOR NEWS PALLADIUM:
"The people are weary of extravagant promises that are never fulfilled. Leonard's proved that he possesses qualities far exceeding 'glamor.' That he possesses character and fidelity is unquestioned. These are fundamental qualities that are part of true leadership and inspire confidence."

DETROIT FREE PRESS:
"It is encouraging that the people . . . make the decisions in this State. Despite years of public service, Mr. Leonard is not a politician in the accepted sense of the term. His success at the polls indicates that he drew heavily from the independents."

HIS PRINCIPLES

Donald S. Leonard's political creed:

- "Nothing that is morally wrong can be politically right."
- "Problems of state government can best be solved by bringing everyone together to work as a team."
- "The Governor's office must be operated for ALL the people, not for selfish pressure groups."
- "Always tell the citizens the whole truth—even though it hurts!"
- "Never relax in the fight against un-American groups."

HIS RECORD

For 30 years he has given the people of Michigan the kind of "down to earth" public service they want—as an organizer, administrator and leader.

Commissioner of Michigan State Police • State Director of Civilian Defense • State Fuel Administrator • Chairman of American Civil Defense Mission • Detroit Police Commissioner • Member of State Aeronautics Commission • Attorney.

HIS PLATFORM

- Complete unity of action in Lansing; A Republican Governor who will work with our Republican Legislature . . . for YOUR benefit and the benefit of ALL groups in Michigan—labor, farm, industry and business.
- Positive and aggressive action to get us the highways, the schools, the effective prison program and the improved health facilities we need NOW.
- Expanded conservation and tourist programs so that the people of Michigan can profit more fully from our natural resources and vacationland attractions.
- A policy of thrift in spending YOUR tax dollars, with the lowest possible taxes consistent with sound and efficient state government.
- Better unemployment benefits; more attention to needs of Michigan's aged citizens.
- Approval of Korean War Veterans Bonus.

Heart Attack Fatal to Monroe Sheriff

MONROE (UP) — Monroe County Sheriff Carl Fritz, 52, died unexpectedly of a heart attack at his home in nearby Carleton yesterday.

The County Republican Committee last night named Art A. Neidermeier, 41, LaSalle Township treasurer, to oppose Democratic candidate Charles Harrington, 34, also of Carleton, in tomorrow's election.

Fritz was completing his first term in office. He was elected in 1952 after serving 12 years as a deputy and eight years as chief deputy.

He was helping his wife, Louise, with the dinner dishes when he was stricken. His son, William, a University of Chicago student, had just left the house to return to school.

Three Dynamite Thieves Caught in Massachusetts

FALL RIVER, Mass. (UP) — The arrest of three boys who stole 22 sticks of dynamite and some gunpower and then tried for days to set off an explosion was reported by police early today.

Police said the boys kept the explosives — when they weren't trying to set off a blast—in the basement of a Fall River Housing project.

The explosives were reported stolen from a Water Department shed.

New England, in an area considered to be generally unsusceptible to earthquakes, has felt an average of one fairly severe shock every year since colonial times.

Paramount Gets Cary Grant for 3 More Pictures

By DOROTHY MANNERS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Cary Grant, who swore he'd never tie himself up on another contract, has signed a three picture contract with Paramount where he's just finished "Catch a Thief."

"When we catch 'em we catch 'em," opined Hartman. "Danny Kaye came here for one picture and will stay for two more. Humphrey Bogart came for one and has four on tap. Paramount's just lovable, I guess."

So far no definite new story is set for Cary—but hold on, he wants a musical.

John Wayne hadn't yet heard that his girl friend Pilar Palette's marriage had been annulled when I reached him at Kona Bay, Hawaii.

"Good, good," he commented via trans-Pacific phone.

I asked, "Does this mean that you and Pilar may change your minds and get married over there?"

"Listen, honey," the plaintiveness in his voice was clear over the bounding waves between, "I've had a nerve-shattering earache for a month. I'm in agony. They can't do anything for it in the hospitals here. It's so bad I probably wouldn't be able to hear a judge asking me to repeat 'I do.'

"We should wind up 'The Sea Chase' here in four days, then home—and marriage later."

Olivia De Havilland is getting almost everything she wants these days, which is a switch from a few years ago when everything seemed a frustration.

Her newest excitement is that she has told Bernard Luber that she will star for him in "Lelia" in Europe next summer. This she confirmed when I caught her between operations on "Not as a Stranger."

"I've always wanted to play George Sand on the screen," Livvy said, "and this story is based on Andre Maurois' biography of Sand. We'll shoot in France, England, Venice and Majorca in color and one of the wide screen processes."

The idea that she follows many other stars as the fabulous mid-nineteenth century cigar smoking heroine whose pursuit of romance scandalized Europe, isn't bothering Olivia. "I've some ideas of my own," she laughed.

Jane Powell just couldn't help bursting into tears when notified by the MGM production department that there is a mix-up on her honeymoon plans following her marriage to Pat Nerney Nov. 8.

Her biggest musical number for "Hit the Deck" is slated for Nov 10 shooting, the very day Jane and Pat had reservations to take off for Europe.

Never let it be said that the little gal's bosses are hard-hearted Hanks, however. When Joe Pasternak heard of this plight he promised Janie on his word of honor he'll get her song on the soundtrack before she becomes Mrs. Nerney.

Josiane Claims Brando Wedding Still on Schedule

PARIS (INS)—Josiane Mariani-Berenger stated emphatically today that she still was engaged to Actor Marlon Brando and that reports to the contrary are "absolutely stupid."

The lithe actress and model flew into Paris last night in hopes of facilitating a visa to enter the United States. She was scheduled to leave for New York by plane tomorrow.

The 20-year-old brunette, almost panic-stricken when she saw a mob of newsmen and photographers waiting for her at Orly field, was not wearing an engagement ring when she stopped off the plane.

"I have it in my bag," Josiane explained, but she refused to describe it, adding, "that's secret."

When Josiane, daughter of a fisherman, was asked how it felt to be engaged to a celebrity like Brando, she replied: "Oh, he's just like any other man.

She said she did not expect that her marriage would interfere with her plans for a career and added that "I don't want to be a Hollywood housewife. I want to study dramatics in New York."

Hal Boyle Says:

Candidate Ed Has Plenty of Worries on Election Eve

NEW YORK (AP) — Election eve is zero hour for political candidates, the very worst night of the year.

The weeks of strenous campaigning end for the aspiring office seeker is a final rally. He then has a supper with his advisers, a dinner that rings with an atmosphere of false cheer and encouraging noises such as:

You ain't got a thing to worry bout, Ed. Like I told you at the start, you're in. Now go home and get some sleep.

"We want a picture of you voting bright and early. A little last-minute publicity in the afternoon papers won't hurt. Might pull in a few more votes—not that we really need them, of course, but the bigger the margin the better it'll look."

Ed goes home, but not to sleep. He rubs liniment on his arms to ease the soreness that comes from shaking 10,000 strange hands. He gargles with hot salt water to ease a throat hoarse from making 10,000 promises in 350 speeches.

He smiles at himself in the mirror, the glazed, halloween pumpkin-like smile that he has worn in public for weeks. He is consoled by the thought that even the dumbest voter must be able to see that his weary face shows more character than the crafty, double-dealing features of his opponent.

"Quit fidgeting, dear, and go to bed," says his wife. "You don't have a thing to worry about." His campaign supporters have been saying that to Ed for weeks. He broods. If he doesn't have anything to worry about, then why do they keep saying that?

He yawns, and collapses tiredly in bed. But not to sleep. Words clang in his brain . . . "Nothing to worry about . . . Nothing to worry about." The phrase rings on and on, like a stuck record.

Lying flat on his back looking up at the darkened ceiling, Ed knows, whether this is his first or 50th race, he has everything to worry about. "Nothing to worry about." That, he thinks dismally, is what they must have told Tom Dewey on election eve in 1948.

Restlessly tossing, Ed wonders for the 1,000th time, "Why did I ever get into politics—it's the most thankless business in the world?" He thinks of how he strained his own finances to get into the campaign, the number of friends he put the bite on, the strangers from whom he solicited campaign funds.

"If I lose this one, Mama, maybe we'd better move to another state," he whispers to his wife, who is equally sleepless.

"Oh, shut up, Ed. Don't talk silly. Go to sleep."

Instead Ed gets up, goes to the refrigerator and makes himself a sandwich. He follows it with a slug of milk of magnesia and two aspirin, and lies down again. Soon he dozes off and begins mumbling "8,365, 8,366, 8,367 . . ."

"Quit counting sheep," demands his wife.

"I wasn't counting sheep—I was counting voters," says Ed.

He begins to think of what life will be like if he wins the election—the 847 supporters who already have asked him to get jobs for their relatives, the 560 picnics, union dances and family reunions he will have to attend each year and "address a few brief words."

Is it all worth it? On that thought his exhausted mind at least sinks into slumber. But it is fitful. He begins to talk in his sleep, and when dawn comes he is mumbling throught his favorite speech for the 15th time:

". . . and, if elected I pledge you that a new broom will sweep clean forever the Augean stables of our . . ."

"Wake up, Ed," says his wife, shaking him and feeling sorry that she has to. "We have to hurry for the polls."

As her haggard husband climbs into his clothing, he doesn't feel like a savior of the people. He hardly cares whether he loses or wins now.

All Ed really wants to do is to go to a psychiatrist, ask what kind of madness ever led him to become a political candidate — and then spend the rest of the day on the doc's couch catching up on his sleep.

Big Welcome for Liberace Planned in Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Liberace will receive one of Grand Rapids' biggest civic welcomes in many years tonight when he arrives to present a concert Tuesday night.

Upwards of 10,000 persons are expected to greet the television star.

The Furniture City's official red carpet will be rolled out for him both at the airport where he is scheduled to arrive by air (at 5:34 p.m.) from Chicago and in downtown Grand Rapids.

On hand to meet him at the airport will be Mayor George Veldman, Congressman Gerald R. Ford Jr. (R-Mich), and several thousand of his fans. More than a score of policemen will be at the airport to preserve order.

Liberace will ride in a police-escorted motorcade to downtown Grand Rapids where Mayor Veldman will present him with the key to the city in a ceremony on the balcony of the Pantlind Hotel, Western Michigan's largest hotel.

Pantlind officials said it will be the second time in 15 years the balcony has been used and it is believed to be the first time an entertainer has been welcomed to the city on the balcony, normally reserved for governors, royalty, national heroes and other leading personalities.

Thousands of Liberace's fans are expected to turn out at the key presentation and police are expected to rope off Monroe Avenue, the city's main street, in front of the hote' so they won't interfere with traffic.

There are a few people—mostly men—who can't figure out why so many other people are all excited about Liberace's visit to town, his only stop in Michigan during a limited tour.

"I can't see why they're making all this fuss over his visit to town," said Mike McGarry, who admitted he was not a Liberace fan.

"Now if Marilyn Monroe were coming to town, that'd be different. I might even go downtown to see her receive the key to the city But not Liberace."

TIME TO THINK ABOUT ELECTION
Everybody TALKS about ECONOMY in Government. Oakland County has a man in office who has DONE something about it!
The Register of Deeds Office in this county has the LOWEST COST PER RECORD in Michigan!
HERE'S WHY:
This year alone McQuaid will return more than $130,000.00 to the treasury of Oakland County . . . over and above the cost of operating the office. This is the best year in the history of the office, and better by $50,000.00 than last year. No other county in Michigan can match this comparison of low cost to increased income!
The reason is McQuaid's unique system of recording, which is years ahead of any known method . . . and cuts costs in half! It provides both photostat and microfilm records of every property and home ownership of recent years, a double protection of the records!
The popular one-page deed form in use today, was designed, first introduced, and put into use in this State by McQuaid! Today, this one innovation alone saves more than $30.00 per day in the cost of producing records for this county!
THESE THINGS ADD UP TO THE REASON WHY HE RAN UNOPPOSED IN THE REPUBLICAN PRIMARY ELECTION, AND WHY INDEPENDENT VOTERS AND DEMOCRATS ALIKE ARE CROSSING PARTY LINES TO RETAIN HIS SERVICES IN COUNTY GOVERNMENT!

China Claims Population of More Than 600 Million

The new figure is 100 million more than the most recent estimates used by the Reds themselves, and from 125 to 150 million more than most non-Communist estimates.

In terms of population, the new figure makes the newest member of the Communist group of nations tower nearly twice as large as her nearest competitor, India, where the 1951 census reported 356,829,485 people.

Compared with China, Soviet Russia's population numbered 193 million according to a 1947 figure released by the Kremlin. Recent Soviet estimates have used the round figure of 200 million. Even so, Red China now boasts more than three times as many people as her "big" Communist brother, to whom she has been exporting much-needed food, in return for military and industrial aid.

The 1950 census in the United States showed 150,697,361 people, but recent estimates have pushed this above the 160 million mark.

The Peiping radio said the 1953 census was taken by the State Bureau of Statistics. It said the census did not reach Formosa, where the Chinese Nationalist government of Chiang Kai-shek holds sway, nor "a few border areas and in regions where local elections had not yet taken place."

Nevertheless, Peiping apparently included not only the estimated 9,000,000 Chinese now on Formosa, but also the estimated 12 million overseas Chinese who live outside China. Many of these hold dual citizenship under Chinese law — that of the country in which they live and Chinese citizenship too.

The Chinese population now makes up almost one fourth of the human race.

The Chinese Nationalists, using estimates not unlike those of 150 years ago, arrived at the figure used for many years of 450 million people. After World War II this figure was increased by some sources to 475 million.

Nehru Says Peiping Interested in Peace

PNOMPENH, Cambodia (INS)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru stopped today in Cambodia for talks with Preminer Pen Nouth before returning home from a visit to Communist China.

Nehru told a news conference in Saigon yesterday that his trip to Red China convinced him that the only alternative to East-West coexistance is war.

Nehru said he left the Red Chinese capital with the impression that the Chinese people desired peace and wished to avoid war.

He said even the difficult problem of Formosa could be settled by evidence of good will on both sides. Nehru cited the recent French agreements on colonial territories in India as an example of what could be done by this method.

Fifth Setback

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State was assured of one of its saddest football records in modern times by its 19-13 defeat by Minnesota Saturday.

It was the 5th lacing in six starts for the once-proud Rose Bowl winners and Big Ten co-champions of last year.

Last time MSC lost five was in 1946 but they also had five wins in the 10-game season. A sweep of the three remaining games on this year's schedule would tie a 1927 five-four won and loss record.

If the Spartans lose one more, you would have to go back to World War I to find a poorer season—the 0-9 won and loss record in 1917.

Against Minnesota again, Michigan State followed a pattern of recent defeats by scoring 1st and then fading. On the 2nd MSC play of the game, Johnny Matsock broke away for 24 yards along the side lines for a touchdown.

But Minnesota, which had looked slow and futile losing 34-0 to Michigan the week before, came back to make its victory convincingly well earned.

Minnesota scored again in the 3rd and McNamara put the final nail in the Spartan coffin in a wierd play that put the Gophers two touchdowns ahead.

Pat Wilson had gone back to pass but was trapped. He was hit hard and fumbled. As Wilson went down the ball hit his leg and bounced up to where McNamara could grab it in mid-air and go 40 yards to score.

MSC made use of a Minnesota fumble to go 27 yards in six plays in the final quarter. Leroy Bolden carried the last four yards for the touchdown but the clock ran out before the Spartans could put over another one.

Indiana Success

By H. GUY MOATS

ANN ARBOR—A victory-starved Indiana University football team pulled an upset in Big Ten circles last Saturday afternoon, 13-9, when it spoiled hopes of Michigan's Wolverines for an unbeaten conference season.

That victory also broke a drought of long standing for the determined Hoosiers.

Midway in the 1st period Michigan drove from its own 34 up to the 3 in an unbroken march of 1st downs. From that spot Fred Baer rammed over for the Wolverines' only touchdown. Ron Kramer booted the conversion and Michigan was off to a good start—so the fans believed.

What fans and the UM team didn't figure on, was some brilliant quarterbacking, some shining defensive play and equally effective ball handling by "Mr. 25," otherwise Indiana's Florian Helinski. Those relatives of the Hoosier Hot Shot, out at Walled Lake and vicinity, can well be proud of Florian The Flinger for his afternoon's work in the big Michigan stadium.

The versatile Florian also did the kicking, and much of the running. He missed the 1st conversion but his 2nd try was okeh.

Michigan's other two points resulted from a blocked Helinski punt in the 3rd period. Helinski started the boot from the end zone, Tom Maentz blocked it. But the ball rolled out of the end zone, and Michigan collected the automatic safety.

Helinski's defensive play broke up at least three Michigan drives in the scoring zone. All were interceptions of Wolverine passes.

On numerous occasions when the Michigan line had opened holes for Baer, Cline, Ed Shannon, or other runners, Helinski smashed in from the secondary to nail the ball-carrier.

Michigan didn't have as good luck in the aerial department. Out of 23 tries only 8 were completed. It wasn't always the fault of the passer however, for several that were fairly in the hands of the receiver slithered out again. Several of Duncan McDonald's desperation tosses in the final minute failed for this reason.

Wolverines may have lost Tony Branoff for rest of the season. Tony, who played briefly, went out in the 2nd play of the 3rd period with an another injury to his previously hurt right knee.

Mikes Defeat St. Bens in Dad's Day Contest; Rams Bow to OL Eaglets

St. Michael moved into a tie for 4th place in loop standings by blanking Highland Park St. Benedict, 12-0, Sunday afternoon. St. Frederick remained winless after bowing to Orchard Lake St. Mary, 6-2, Saturday night.

In other SCL contests, St. Rita clinched at least a share of the title by dumping St. Mary of Royal Oak, 14-0, and St. Clement of Center Line routed Ferndale St. James, 43-12.

Coach Bob Mineweaser's Shamrocks made a success of their annual "Dad's Day" game by scoring single touchdowns in the 2nd and 3rd periods against the Bens. Bud Schwartz sneaked over from the one to climax a 60-yard drive, and Danny Dropps passed 25 yards to end Joe Wilhelm for the 2nd tally.

St. Benedict never was inside the Mikes' 20-yard stripe.

St. Mary's Eaglets scored in the final two minutes of play after a controversial interference penalty to edge the Rams. St. Frederick took a 2-0 lead in the 2nd period, when an Eaglet pass from center sailed out of the end zone.

With less than three minutes to play, OL's Paul Sranckowiak faded back to pass. The only receiver downfield, end Tom Kalasz, was blocked on the Rams' 12 and the ensuing penalty brought the Eaglets to that point.

Future of A's Back in 'Sit Tight' Phase

Macks Just Waiting as Johnson Plans to Consult Associates

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— The future of the Philadelphia Athletics was back in the "sit-tight" phase today.

* * *

His brother Roy and father, Connie Sr., had no comment. Neither did any members of the eight-man syndicate whose proposal to buy the team from the Macks was turned down in New York last week by the American League.

And Arnold Johnson, Chicago industrialist who appears again as No. 1 prospect to take over the floundering ball club, returned home yesterday after changing his mind about remaining here until he succeeded or failed in his efforts to buy the team for Kansas City.

Before leaving yesterday, Johnson said he and his attorney, Edward L. Vollers, were returning to Chicago "to consult with our associates, to look over the situation and make a final decision."

Johnson had made a bid of $3,375,000 for the club several months ago and the American League owners voted in Chicago last month to approve the shift to Kansas City. But the Philadelphia syndicate stepped in at the last minute, and up until the New York meeting last week it appeared that the club would remain in Philadelphia.

Layne Leads Lion Win

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bobby Layne came off the bench yesterday to lead the Detroit Lions to a 27-24 victory over the Los Angeles Rams and a share of first place in the rugged Western Division of the National Football League.

Layne steered Detroit 80 yards in 15 plays in the final quarter with veteran halfback Bobby Hoernschemeyer going over from the three-yard mark for the touchdown.

Los Angeles piled up a 14-3 lead in the 1st period before Layne got into the game. Then, in the 2nd, the Rams gave the Lions two touch down opportunities. Leon Hart, Detroit end, literally stole the ball from Ram halfback Skeet Quinlan and ran 22 yards untouched for one touchdown.

The other came seconds later after a bad punt by Ram quarterback Norman Van Brocklin. Van Brocklin got off a blooper that netted only 10 yards, putting Detroit on the 17. Layne, on the 2nd play, found Dorne Dibble on a 16-yard scoring strike.

Detroit upped the lead to 20-14 in the 3rd on Doak Walker's 2nd field goal. But the Rams' ground attack battered out another touchdown which they covered in the 4th with an 11-yard field goal to take a 24-20 lead.

Detroit started the winning drive from their own 20. A penalty against the Rams gave Detroit a 1st down on the 40. Layne took to the air hitting Dibble and then Hoernschemeyer. Lew Carpenter picked up a 1st down on the Ram 32 with one sprint and went all the way to the 4 on the next play.

Two plays later Hoernschemeyer took a pitchout and went into the end zone for the winning points. Walker converted for the 3rd time that afternoon.

In San Francisco, the Chicago Bears upset the 49ers 31-27. That game, coupled with a Detroit victory, moved the Lions into a tie with San Francisco for 1st place in the Western Division.

3 Interceptions at Ann Arbor 1st for Helinski

By H. GUY MOATS

Probably the biggest thrill, outside dumping Michigan, 13-9, Saturday at Ann Arbor, for Indiana's quarterback Florian Helinski, was effecting the three key interceptions of the contest.

For Florian, Saturday proved to be the 1st time the clever Hoosier pilot had made an interception. He revealed this fact after the game to proud relatives from Walled Lake. A sister, Mrs. Richard E. Bergman confirmed the statement today.

"In my four years of college football," said the Hoosier star, "I'd never made an interception. I'm glad they came when they did, this time."

Mrs. Bergman said Florian probably didn't think he was "as good as he turned out to be."

"He sure surprised all of us," she added, proudly.

Watkins, McNamara Top Point - Getters in Big 10

CHICAGO (AP)—Bobby Watkins of Ohio State and Bob McNamara of Minnesota, a couple of backs who starred on Big Ten gridirons last Saturday, moved up on Iowa's Earl Smith in the Big Ten scoring race.

McNamara scored two touchdowns Saturday and moved into 2nd place with a total of 42 points—six less than Smith who failed to score as his Iowa teammates upset Wisconsin, 13-7.

Watkins scored the game-winning touchdown for Ohio State against Northwestern and added an extra point to up his total to 39 points, good for 3rd place.

Tied for 4th were Alan (The Horse) Ameche of Wisconsin and Hopalong Cassady of Ohio State. Each has 36 points.

Blanda, Hill Star

By The Associated Press

The Bears, one time NFL rulers, are in third place with a mediocre 3-3 record but it would have been a lot worse without Blanda.

It was Blanda pitching and Harlon Hill catching yesterday as the Bears defeated the previously unbeaten San Francisco 49ers 31-27 in one of the season's biggest upsets.

Hill, a rookie end from Alabama State Teachers College, caught four touchdown passes, the last one with only 33 seconds remaining, to knock the 49ers into a first place tie with Detroit in the division.

The 49ers also suffered a damaging blow when Hugh McElhenny, their best running back, incurred a shoulder separation which will put him out for the season.

The Eastern Division is even more knotted with three teams—Pittsburgh Philadelphia and New York — possessing 4-2 records. Cleveland is a half step behind with 3-2.

All three leaders bowed over the weekend as Cleveland walloped the Giants 24-14, the Chicago Cardinals surprised the Steelers 17-14 and Green Bay routed the Eagles 37-14 on Saturday night.

Blanda fired three touchdown passes, kicked a 15-yard field goal and made all four conversions—including his 102nd straight yesterday.

He passed 47 yards to Hill for a 1st period score, threw a 70-yarder to Hill in the 3rd quarter, and tossed an 11-yard to the same receiver for a 3rd score in the final period. With 33 seconds remaining, Blanda pitched out to reserve back Ed Brown, who shot a long pass to Hill, who outraced the 49ers for a 66-yard touchdown.

Ollie Matson raced 91 yards for one touchdown and caught an 18-yard pass for another to lead the Cards to their first victory in six starts. Margin of victory was Pat Summerall's 24-yard field goal.

Vic Janowicz' 15-yard field goal in the final quarter provided Washington's margin of victory over Baltimore after Al Dorow, former Michigan State star, set up the Redskins' three touchdowns.

Cranbrook Grid, Soccer Teams Win in Pittsburgh

Cranbrook School football and soccer teams each won victories from Shady Side Academy at Pittsburgh Saturday. Pete Dawkins and Joe Prendergast paced a 31-13 triumph in football, while Shaw Emmons scored 2 goals to lead the soccer team to a 4-2 win.

Dawkins scored on runs of 5, 27 and 37 yards. Prendergast tallied on a 75-yard run and an 80-yard kickoff return.

Five PHS Runners in Top 15 Finishers at Birmingham

Chiefs, who placed five men among the top 15 finishers, won with 35 points. Other teams, in order of finish, were Birmingham 50, Hazel Park 89, Royal Oak 91, Mt. Clemens 133, Hamtramck 219 and Waterford 233.

Dave Long of Birmingham was the individual winner in 10 minutes 39 seconds. Pontiac's Bill Douglas was 2nd, Perry Williams 3rd, Rod Treais 9th, Eugene Cretal 10th, Norris Jackson 11th, Don Evans 18th and Fred Cox 23rd.

The 1st four teams will go to Ypsilanti Saturday for the state meet.

Walled Lake won the Class B division of the regional with 40 points, far ahead of runnerup Milford's 80. Other "B" finishers included Farmington and Redford Union 90, Clarenceville 144, Avondale 147, Croswell 152 and St. Clair 161. R. Sheffler, of the last-place St. Clair team, won the run in 10 minutes 52 seconds. Don Pounds of Walled Lake was in 2nd place.

Peoria Still Unbeaten in World Cage Test

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The Peoria Caterpillars, representing the United States, and Brazil, were favored to remain deadlocked for first place in the second World Basketball tournament after today's games.

Each has won four games without a defeat to head the list of eight countries. Of the two, the Caterpillars face the easiest assignment today. They play winless China while Brazil takes on France which has broken even in four games.

The other game matches Canada and The Philippines. Both have 2-2 records.

Wings Smother Boston Bruins

DETROIT (AP) — Forward Metro Prystai scored one goal and assisted in two others to lead the Red Wings to a 4-0 shutout over the Boston Bruins in a National Hockey League game Saturday night.

The goal and both assists came in the 3rd period.

Tony Leswick's unassisted goal while Detroit was shorthanded gave the Wings a 1-0 lead in the 2nd period. While Boston was shorthanded in the 3rd Johnny Wilson and Prystai hit in quick succession and Marcel Bonin topped the scoring.

Alouettes, 'Cats Clinch Playoff Spots in Big 4

By The Associated Press

Big Four clubs can start worrying about what to do for crowds in their two remaining Canadian pro football league games now that the playoff teams have been decided and it's simply a matter of playing out the schedule.

The Alouettes whisked the Toronto Argonauts out of the picture on the accurate pitching of quarter Sam Etcheverry. He tossed six touchdown passes as the Als plastered Toronto 41-13.

And just to make sure the Argonauts would no longer be a playoff threat for 1954, the Hamilton Tiger-Cats whipped the Ottawa Rough Riders 30-9 to put themselves out of reach of the Toronto club.

Hillsdale, Albion Stretch Win Skeins in MIAA Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hillsdale and Albion stretched MIAA conference victory streaks to four over the weekend. Britons downed Alma, 27-13, and Hillsdale defeated Hope, 25-12, to emerge as top powers in the circuit.

Albion and Dales tied for 1st place in the conference with 4-0 records. All other MIAA teams have suffered two or more defeats.

Both leaders are riding five game winning streaks. Albion has won every game since dropping an opener to Wabash. Dales tied Wayne and lost to unbeaten Michigan Normal before collecting their five.

Normal kept its season record unsullied Saturday, defeating Western Illinois 33-19. Quarterback Bob Middlekauff tossed four touchdown passes to lead the Hurons to their 7th straight victory. Normal is the only undefeated team in Michigan.

Central Michigan moved into 2nd place behind Normal in the IIAC race with a 26-0 shutout over Illinois Normal. Normal bottled up Jim Podoley pretty well, holding him to one touchdown and 51 yards rushing.

Wayne University suffered its 3rd straight road defeat Saturday when it was drubbed by Bradley 30-12.

You Be the Quarterback

By Warren Gaer
Head Football Coach
Drake University

Wyoming has a single wingback team with a fine running game, built around a powerful tailback who is as fast as a scatback. The tailback is an able passer, but the big strength of the Cowboy attack is their running game

In the game with Utah State, Wyoming is met by a 7-1-2-1 defense (seven-man line, one linebacker, two halves, one safety). From a scouting report, Wyoming feels that if the Aggies can be forced into a five or six-man line, the Cowboys can win with their running game.

Slant off tackle

Long pass to halfback with ends going to flat (shallow and to side)

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio State detours Big 10 activity this week but don't expect any letup on the part of the high-flying Buckeyes in their game against Pittsburgh Saturday.

Ohio State is not only shooting for the Western Conference title and the Rose Bowl trip but also has a keen eye for the mythical national championship.

Ranked No. 1 in the AP poll last week before downing Northwestern, 14-7, the Buckeyes are but a stitch away from sewing up the Big 10 title.

Following the Pitt encounter, Ohio State takes on Purdue and Michigan before closing out the season. Both the Boilermakers and the Wolverines are still in the running for the title but by the time they come up against Ohio State they might turn out to be also-rans.

Purdue, 28-14 victor over Illinois, is at Iowa in what should be one of the top games in the midwest. Hawkeyes bounced Wisconsin out of contention, 13-7, and might very well put an end to Purdue's hopes.

Michigan takes on Illinois at Ann Arbor in an attempt to rebound from a 13-9 defeat inflicted by Indiana. Except for a couple of fumbles which the Boilermakers turned into touchdowns, Illinois played well considering that star halfback J. C. Caroline sat out the entire game with an injured shoulder.

Only other conference game this week matches Northwestern against Wisconsin at Madison. The once-mighty Badgers have suffered two successive defeats while Northwestern has lost five in a row.

Minnesota, still clinging to its slim hopes, is host to Oregon State.

38 Still Unbeaten in Collegiate Ranks

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirty-eight college football teams are still undefeated and untied. Seven of them are major schools.

UCLA, Cincinnati and Montana State top the unbeaten list with seven victories each. Ohio State, Miami (Fla., Arkansas and Oklahoma have won six each.

Major teams dropped from the unbeaten and untied rankings over the weekend were West Virginia, Boston College and Virginia Tech.

Top 10 Grid Powers Find Going Rough

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

There's a great deal of prestige connected with being listed among the nation's top 10 teams in college football, but the only squads who regard you with respect are the ones you've already licked.

* * *

West Virginia, ranked No. 7, was dumped off its unbeaten streak by Pittsburgh, admittedly an improving team, but one that had lost three of five.

Wisconsin, listed No. 8 with a 4-1 record, was socked by Iowa, an ex-top 10er with a 3-2 record, 13-7.

Oklahoma, No. 2, had to scramble to beat Colorado 13-6. The Buffs, with a 4-2 record, had been pointing for the Sooners since last season and managed to hold to a 6-0 lead into the final period.

Arkansas, No. 4, had plenty of notice Texas A & M was out for an upset and had to scrap for a 14-7 victory, with both TDs set up by Aggie fumbles.

* * *

Army, No. 5, thought it had a breeze against twice-beaten Virginia, but barely made it, 21-20.

Notre Dame, No. 6, was busy all afternoon restraining Navy 6-0.

Ohio State, Army and Arkansas would appear to have drawn the toughest among those not listed in the top 10.

* * *

The Buckeyes (6-0) meet Pitt, an outfit that has won three in a row after dropping its first three games.

Army next opposes Yale, a 5-0-1 team that insists the Cadets, with their 5-1 record, aren't the best in the East.

Still unbeaten Arkansas (6-0) has another of its weekly "tests" ahead in Rice. The Razorbacks have the upper hand in the Southwest Conference, and presumably in the race for the Cotton Bowl, but Rice's Dick Moegle looks to be the best back they've faced.

* * *

An embarrassing weekend might also be in store for Purdue, the No. 9 team, which handled Illinois with ease, 28-14, last Saturday. The Boilermakers face Iowa, apparently now turned spoiler after being knocked out of the Big Ten race.

Oklahoma (6-0) and Notre Dame (4-1) should have easier times this weekend. The Sooners meet Iowa State (3-4) and the Irish play Penn (0-6).

SW Conference Teams in Wild Race for Cotton Bowl

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—All the tickets have been sold and the Cotton Bowl is just waiting for the ball to bounce so it can have at least one of the teams named for the New Year's Day football game.

That's how it has been in the Southwest Conference this season—the games are so close they're driving the boys who deal in point-spread a trifle nuts. For instance, with 28 fewer points Arkansas would be out of the race instead of leading the league. And Texas Christian would be in first place instead of out of the race if it had made only 14 more points.

It's possible but not probable that the conference representative will be known this week. That would depend on some startling things happening. Arkansas leads with a 4-0 record. Southern Methodist is second with a victory and a tie. Baylor is third with a 2-1 record and Rice is fourth with 1-1. Rice plays Arkansas at Little Rock Saturday while Southern Methodist meets Texas A&M at Dallas and Baylor engages Texas at Waco.

Unless the Cotton Bowl team is decided within the next two weeks, preferential lists of the teams still in the running will be obtained so that contacts toward obtaining the visiting team may start. Bowl officials indicate Penn State, West Virginia, Mississippi, Georgia Tech, Alabama, Georgia and Pittsburgh are being eyed. Pittsburgh might become the hottest prospect in the group if it beats Ohio State this week. Pitt whipped West Virginia last week.

Colorful Manager Is Looking Around for 'Special Deal'

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The dean of Pacific Coast League baseball managers, Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, 57, was reported "looking around for a special deal" today after notifying the San Diego club he would not be back for a fourth season.

There were reports he might take over the helm of the league's Oakland club and that Portland businessmen were dickering to make him manager of the league team there.

He has also been mentioned as a possible successor to Eddie Joost, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics.

O'Doul was in San Francisco when he phoned his decision.

O'Doul, who was manager of the San Francisco club for 17 years before coming here in 1952, led San Diego to its first regular season championship this year.

BEVO'S BASKET—Clarence "Bevo" Francis (1), ex-collegiate scoring sensation now playing with the Boston Whirlwinds, dunks in one of six baskets he scored against Pontiac Shaw's Jewelers in an exhibition here last night. Whirlwinds and the Jewelers appeared with the Harlem Globetrotters in the program, sponsored by St. George's Greek Orthodox Church GOYA Club.

Ryff-Davis, Ward-Jones in Tonight's TV Bouts

NEW YORK (AP)—Frankie Ryff, unbeaten New York lightweight with 14 straight victories, boxes the veteran Henry Davis of Los Angeles tonight at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway where another young hopeful, featherweight Caarmelo Costa, suffered his first defeat a week ago.

Ryff was to have boxed a return bout with Ralph Dupas, the New Orleans schoolboy, at New Orleans but the match ran into TV and managerial complications.

The only champion to work this week is Bobo Olson who unlimbers Wednesday at Richmond, Calif., against Garth Panter of Salt Lake City without placing his middleweight title on the line.

Jimmy Slade, idle since he exploded the Hurrican Jackson myth April 26, gives away pounds and reach to big Bob Baker, hulking Pittsburgh heavyweight, in their Friday match at the Philadelphia Arena (NBC).

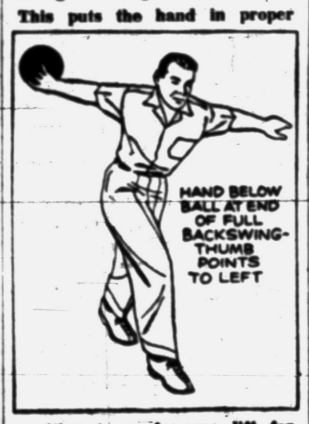
CASE—Natural Arm Lift

After pushing the ball forward and up at the start of the delivery, allow it to swing freely and carry into the backswing of its own weight. Do not break the elbow.

The body falls naturally into a crouch, and the arm remains straight throughout the swing. This puts the hand in proper position to apply arm lift for hook spin as the ball is released.



The full swing with locked elbow places the hand securely under the ball. The thumb is toward the body, the fingers on the outside (right). The hand remains in the same position throughout the forward swing. A short or jerky backswing, or a broken elbow, make it impossible to keep the hand in the same position.

Never hurry the swing in an effort to force arm lift. Concentrate on the follow-through throughout the swing, and the lift will come naturally.

3. Long pass. Diamond defense is good against this.

2. Quick pass. Better. Defense is vulnerable on either side of linebacker.

1. Flood pass. Best call. The defensive fullback must cover the short receiver. The spin by your back holds the linebaker in long enough for three receivers to get out and one should get free.

Globetrotters Steal Show From Bevo Francis Sunday

By BILL MARTIN

The two teams, both representatives of the far-flung Abe Saperstein Enterprises, appeared in a basketball exhibition at the Pontiac High gym along with Shaw's Jewelers of the City League.

Nearly 1,000 spectators turned out for the 1st cage event of the year, sponsored by the GOYA club of St. George's Greek Orthodox Church.

The much-publicized Francis, a scoring sensation for two years at little Rio Grande, O., College, was far from sensational last night. The 6-foot 9-inch scored 19 points, seven of which came on free throws, as Boston downed Shaw's, 66-34.

Pontiac team met the 'Trotters in another brief (16-minute) exhibition, with the Harlem tricksters taking a 67-24 decision. Center Bob Hall, clever "clown prince" of the Harlem club, dunked 20 points and delighted the crowd with his antics. Titherage had 12 of Shaw's 24 points.

Boston coach Newt Oliver pulled Bevo after the 1st few minutes of play in the Whirlwind-Globetrotter feature, saying that Francis had to be paced for the team's 7-night-a-week schedule. Bevo played a total of less than 25 minutes during the night.

Betsy Rawls Grabs Texas Women's Title

FORT WORTH (AP)—Betsy Rawls sank a 6-foot putt for a birdie here yesterday to become the third champion in history to win the Women's Texas Open golf tournament two successive years.

English Landau, Top U.S. 3-Year-Old High Gun, Share Spotlight at Laurel

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—All seven of the European and American horses in the $65,000 Washington D. C. International race are scheduled for workouts today on the Laurel Park grass course where the mile and one-half classic will be held Wednesday.

Horses sharing the main spectator interest are Queen Elizabeth's English 3-year-old Landau, and High Gun, the American candidate for 3-year-old and Horse of the Year honors, owned by the King Ranch of Texan Robert J. Kleberg.

This is the third running of the international event, and for the first time a top American horse is being sent out to meet the foreigners who are batting 100 per cent in the event. The inaugural running in 1952 was won by the English horse, Wilwyn, while last year's race went to the fine French colt, Worden II.

High Gun has never raced on the grass, but American horsemen expect the brown colt will take to the Laurel infield course without any trouble. Max Hirsch, the 74-year-old King Ranch trainer, will depend on jockey Eddie Arcaro to haul down the $50,000 first prize.

* * *

The Queen's colt and Ireland's Northern Gleam, a 4-year-old filly owned by Lady Bury, were scheduled to work out a mile and ⅛ together.

High Gun, who arrived from Belmont Park Saturday, is to step about half a mile, as will Stanley Mikell's Brush Burn, a grass course veteran and the other U. S. challenger in the race.

Laurel's race customers will get a firsthand look at the two French horses, the filly Banassa and Norman. The French horses are rated the best of the invading forces, and they'll work out on the grass after the fourth race of the afternoon.

X-Ray Eyes Scan Cargo, Detect Hidden Contraband

NEW YORK (UP) — U. S. customs agents are going after smugglers with new "X-ray eyes" that peer into sealed packing cases in search of contraband.

The first "inspectoscope" ever built has been put to work on the New York waterfront checking crates and cartons that may carry forbidden cargo under innocent labels.

It cost $8,000, and is much more powerful than similar instruments used to detect weapons or files on persons entering prisons.

Customs agents believe the device will be especially valuable in tracking down small parcels of narcotics that can be hidden in cases containing otherwise innocent cargo.

The inspectoscope later may be put to use in checking the baggage of travelers.

The present model generates so much radioactivity that it cannot be used to check the passengers themselves for contraband that might be hidden in their clothing.

Customs Inspector Joseph Baldwin demonstrated the inspectoscope by examining a crate marked "iron ornaments" to see if that was what it really contained.

On another screen, much like that of a television set, a ghostly picture of the crate appeared. The decorative ironware inside the crate was clearly visible.

The inspectoscope is 10 feet high and 14 feet long. It is mounted on a trailer so it can be moved from pier to pier.

Baldwin said that, with experience, an operator could become familiar with the appearance of different materials on the inspectoscope screen.

Then he could tell at a glance whether a package contained burlap, for instance, or some more expensive fabric.

The power of the inspectoscope is so great that an operator can remain at the controls for only two hours at a time without risking harm from its rays.

Baldwin said the machine ought to be foolproof, with one exception. If cargo were packed in a case lined with lead, which resists radioactivity, the inspectoscope would go blind.

Outlook Is Bright, but Shorter in Men's Fashions

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Styles ahead for men: more bright-colored dress shirts, a "shorter look" in suits and trousers, and shorts for wear at work.

This is the prediction of experts at the National Conference on Fashion Merchandising, featuring a two-day fashion presentation of the Men's Apparel Guild in California.

Pink shirts were just the beginning, the experts told 2,000 buyers and retailers yesterday. The growing popularity of the dark-toned suits — charcoals and dark browns —means men will want new, bright colors to wear with them.

Shirts in helio (a purple shade) and lime colors will be gaining in popularity, the authorities said. Suits and sport clothes with a "shorter look" — shorter cuffs, jacket sleeves and coat lengths — were displayed in a fashion show. And stylists even predicted men will be wearing Bermuda shorts to work next summer.

Special Pens Needed for Writing Music

FORT MADISON, Ia. (INS)—Any good pen can make its point in any language—except one, the language of music. But there are pens that write in that language.

Special "music" points are required for facile writing of the language of Euterpe, muse of music, according to a pen company which has produced thousands of such points.

Music-writing pens have flexible, three-pronged points that can produce both fine lines and the wide plashes necessary in writing music.

Hailstorms in the United States may cause several times as much damage as tornadoes. Hailstones as big as baseballs have been known to kill people.

11,000-Plus Output Continues at Pontiac

Output at Pontiac Motor Div. continued at a 11,000-plus rate last week as firm officials announced completion of 11,200 units, according to Ward's Automotive Reports.

The previous week accounted for 11,367 units, a new record, the trade paper said. The highest weekly output during the 1953 run was 9,371 built in mid-January.

Meanwhile officials at General Motors Truck and Coach Div. announced production of 5,252 units during October. Last year, the same period accounted for 4,971 units. The division produced 1,350 trucks last week as compared with 1,227 during the previous week.

Studebaker-Packard Reports Sales Jump

SOUTH BEND (UP) — The president of Studebaker-Packard Corp. says the recent merger of the two auto firms is giving both a new "stability."

James J. Nance, in a letter to Studebaker dealers yesterday, said the first month's operation of the new merger has brought Studebaker Division, which suffered a slump in the 1954 model year, a "business upswing."

Nance said lower, competitive prices on 1955 model Studebakers had improved sales to a point where plants at South Bend and Los Angeles went on overtime Oct. 25.

London Dockers Quit in New Labor Dispute

LONDON, (INS)—A new strike hit the London dockside today only a few hours after approximately 43,000 stevedores returned to work following a month-old walkout which caused great damage to the export trade.

Approximately 2,000 dockers on the Thames River refused to work with non-union truck drivers or with truck drivers who had worked the docks during the strike.

Consumers Power to Increase Capacity

NEW YORK (UP) — Consumers Power Co. announced today it will expand the generating capacity of its B. C. Cobb power plant at Muskegon to 450,000 kilowatts.

Construction will begin shortly on a second 135,000 kilowatt steam turbine-generator unit, supplementing a unit of similar size now being built.

When all three units are in operation the system's generating capacity will total 1,700,000 kilowatts, or two and one-half times the capacity during World War II.

Balloting in County May Pass 165,000

race is how the large number of persons in South Oakland County who registered since the primary will affect the vote.

Typical of the large registration increase in the southern section was Oak Park where 1,500 qualified since August.

Oakland County Democratic Chairman Willis M. Brewer and Republican county public relations chairman Will H. Connelly both said their groups would work hard until 8 p.m. tomorrow to bring out the party vote and sway independents.

Telephone and door-to-door drives are in progress, they said. Both organizations will provide transportation to voters and baby sitters for mothers wishing to vote.

Voters will choose from candidates for seven county offices, six state representatives' posts, one state senator, and one U.S. representative.

The statewide ballot includes lieutenant governor, governor, auditor general, state treasurer, attorney general, secretary of state, and U. S. senator plus four special proposals.

Congressman George A. Dondero today received the following telegram from President Eisenhower stressing the importance of a Republican-led Congress in the next two years:

"It is my earnest hope that the people of your state, by their votes for you and other Republican candidates for Congress, will do their part in assuring that the nation for the next two years continues along the course charted twenty-two months ago. Another Republican-led Congress is essential. The large majority of the people believe that our government has advanced America's security abroad and her prosperity, with peace, at home. We must make sure that they come to the polls next Tuesday.

"With warm regards and best wishes for victory. Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Nixon Angrily Blasts at Adlai

Calls Stevenson Speech 'Vicious' Attack on Ike in Wire to Newspapers

DENVER (INS) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon angrily accused Adlai E. Stevenson today of "slyly impugning" President Eisenhower's patriotism in what Nixon called a "vicious, scurrilous" attack on the chief executive.

The vice president assailed with fury unprecedented even in the bitterly fought 1954 battle for control of Congress the Saturday night speech in which the Democratic leader asserted that Mr. Eisenhower had made use of "standard Communist propaganda."

Nixon, in Denver to wind up the GOP campaign, wired a stinging statement to newspaper editors throughout the country, saying he took that step because NBC, which carried Stevenson's speech, refused him television time to answer it.

He called the Stevenson blast "one of the most vicious, scurrilous attacks ever made by a major political figure on a President of the United States."

Nixon added:

"In so attacking the man who got us out of one war, kept us out of others, and helped make the forces of peace and freedom stronger than they have been at any time since World War II, Mr. Stevenson proved again that the 34,000,000 Democrats, Republicans and independents were right when they found him unfit to be President in 1952."

Poorly-Hitched Truck Winds Up Under Trailer

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — When Tom Munday drove his truck out from under his huge transport trailer, he said he thought he had carefully checked the hitch to see the truck and trailer were hooked. But it took an oil field truck with a lift more than an hour to put the trailer back on the tractor and unjam traffic on a downtown street.

Climax Reached in Marian Year

Pope Crowns Replica of Holy Virgin; Prays for World Guidance

VATICAN CITY (AP)—In the supreme ceremony of the Roman Catholic Church's Marian Year, Pope Pius XII crowned an ancient image of the Virgin Mary today and proclaimed her queen of heaven and earth.

In an address from the altar of St. Peter's Basilica, the 78-year-old pontiff called on the Virgin's "unending goodness" to "obtain for men who are solicitious of their reponsibilities the grace to overcome despondency and indolence."

* * *

More than a score of cardinals, including New York's Francis Cardinal Spellman, 300 bishops and thousands of members of religious orders and pilgrims thronged the basilica and the square for the event.

At its climax the Pope proclaimed the Virgin's queenship and then placed golden diadems on the brows of Mary and the Christ Child she held in her arms.

* * *

The colorful ceremony was the highlight of the Marian Year, proclaimed by the pontiff to honor the Virgin Mary upon the centenary of the dogma that proclaimed her immaculate conception. This is the Catholic belief that she alone of all mankind was born without the stain of the original sin of Adam and Eve.

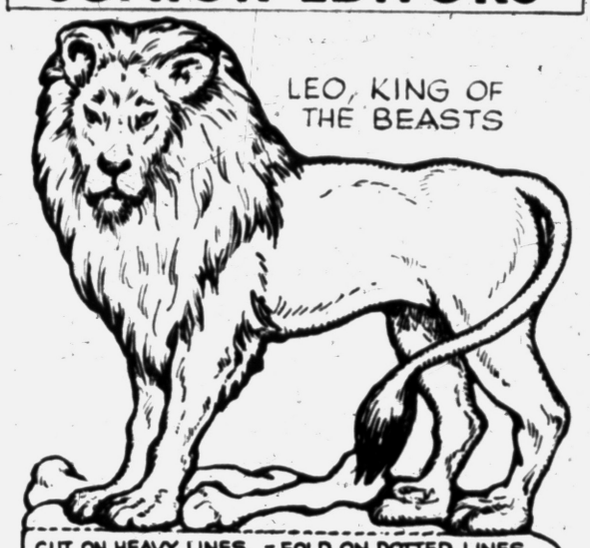
TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS



A TRIP TO THE ZOO

This week Junior Editors will take a "trip" to the zoo—and come back with five popular zoo animals and cages to hold three of them.

The first is the lion—king of beasts. A full grown lion is about four feet high and 10 feet long, from nose to tail-tip. Here's how to make one:

1. With water colors or crayons, color the lion's body tan, leaving it white under the chin around nose. The mane and tip of tail should be dark brown.

2. Cut out this square and paste on cereal box cardboard. Press and dry under heavy books.

3. Cut out the lion carefully, following heavy lines around edges, leaving base attached. The base folds under to make a stand. If you don't want to cut out spaces between the legs, then color that area green.

4. Give the lion a name. Tomorrow—when we learn how to make a cage—you can put the name on the front of the cage.

Book Tells War Heroism of Lake Orion Priest

LAKE ORION—The heroic work of Lake Orion's Father Donald L. Hessler in a Hong Kong internment camp during World War II is recalled in a new book, "The Meaning of Maryknoll," written by Father Albert J. Nevins, assistant editor of "Maryknoll, The Field Afar" magazine.

Father Hessler the son of Mr. Robert C. Hessler of 452 E. Shadbolt St., is now stationed in the missions of Central America. At the outbreak of World War II, however, he was in Hong Kong.

On Jan. 21, 1942, Father Hessler and some of the others were taken to an internment camp, and a few were repatriated in a prisoner exchange six months later.

Some others were released into the custody of Bishop Valtorta of Hong Kong, and others were sent to Macao.

"Father Hessler and another priest volunteered to remain in the internment camp, to care for the civilians," writes Father Nevins.

After serving the prisoners until the end of the war when they were freed, the priests left the camp to set up relief centers for the poor and homeless in Hong Kong.

Shotguns Picked Over Psychology in Starling 'War'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Abandoning psychological warfare, the city of Cincinnati was ready to resume its shooting war against starlings today.

Oris E. Hamilton, the city's director of safety, estimated today that his eight marksmen bagged 200 to 300 birds. They shot from atop two downtown buildings about two blocks apart.

"We're not striving for numbers, however," Hamilton said. "We are breaking up the flocks and discouraging them from coming back."

Hunting Accidents Injure Two Youths

Two Oakland County youths were wounded by shotugn blasts in separate hunting accidents over the weekend, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Hubert Hunnicutt, 11, of 2211 Pontiac Rd., Pontiac Township, was shot in the left leg by an unidentified hunter Saturday while hunting off Stanley road in Pontiac Township, deputies said. The boy was treated by Pontiac General Hospital.

Sunday, Daniel McDonald, 19, of 2033 Featherstone Rd., Pontiac Township, was hit in the legs by two pellets from the gun of one of his hunting companions near his home.

Deputies said the youth was injured when one of a half-dozen hunters shot at a rabbit. He was treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Three Injured as Auto Skids on Loose Gravel

An auto accident on Squirrel road, one-half mile south of Pontiac road Saturday added three persons to the weekend traffic injury list, when their car skidded on loose gravel into a tree as the vehicle rounded a curve.

Injured were Samuel G. Roy, 28, the car's driver, treated at Pontiac General Hospital for head cuts; Mrs. Mary Penrod, 33, admitted and later discharged with head injuries; and Lester Packett, 25, who is reported in good condition today with a broken leg.

French North Africa Sees More Violence

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP) — Terrorist murders and a guerrilla clash killed at least 14 persons in French North Africa over the weekend.

Security forces fought Tunisian nationalist guerrillas in the Djebel Hellal, a few miles northeast of Gafsa Saturday and Sunday. The French reported eight guerrillas were killed, while their own casualties included one killed and "several" wounded.

* * *

In Morocco, the other French protectorate, six dead and 11 wounded were reported after scattered political murders.

Violence also broke out last night in French Algeria. First reports said there were some 300 terrorist attacks by fire and bombs. They appeared to center around the city of Constantine. Nominally a part of France itself, Algeria has been calmer than either of the protectorates.

Train Has Near Miss as Bomb Fuse Fails

TIOGA, W. Va. (AP)—A train used for hauling coal for the strike-bound Maust Coal and Coke Co. mines narrowly missed being blown up near here yesterday when a booby trap failed to explode.

Cpl. C. G. McClain of the state police said the fuse on about 14 sticks of dynamite under the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks apparently had been lit but went out.

Gary Crosby Serious About Betty Clooney

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Bing Crosby and Rosemary Clooney have a real romance on their hands . . . not theirs . . . Gary Crosby's and Betty Clooney's. If Bing became Betty Clooney's father-in-law, we wonder what relation this would make Bob Crosby to Jose Ferrer . . . and which one would agree not to sing at a family reunion?

Kim Novak, Hollywood's new doll, was "21" where people congratulated her about her new picture, "Phffft," and compared her with Marilyn Monroe. "Everything Marilyn says sounds flirty — she has a built-in double entendre," somebody said. Herb Wurth spoke up: "Yeah, but when you merely hear Kim's voice over the phone, you can almost see her peeking out the bedroom door . . ."

We saw John Jacob Astor at Marianne Reynolds' party and asked about his currently having two wives, both trying to get settlements. He said U. S. law takes priority; "Federally, I'm only married to one," he said. "That's federally interesting," we said, and toddled on.

Pontiac banker A. C. Girard and his wife who, arrived in New York the other day to see some friends off on the Liberte, are spending the rest of the week here visiting some of the city's fine restaurants. "New York's a gourmet's paradise, Girard said. "We'll finish the rest of our time here on a gastronomic spree."

Many More Sets Now Required

3,000-Pound Crane Unit Used in Guild Show; Room Overflowed

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

An example was this week's Theater Guild-steel production of "The Fifth Wheel" with Franchot Tone and Faye Emerson. Eight sets took up all but 15 per cent of the floor in the 100-by-100 foot TV studio. The rest was for the cameras.

Furthermore, the various scenes were laid out in a circle so that the house in which most of the action took place held no resemblance to the compact unit which would have been seen on a stage.

The four cameras were in the center of the circle and could be swung easily from one spot to another. Included was a 1½-ton crane camera requiring a crew of four to handle.

Even this large studio wasn't enough. The sound effects were in a balcony, the orchestra was in a separate studio a block away and the commercials came from still another studio.

Miss Emerson, playing the wife of a college president (Franchot Tone) who ultimately submitted to her insistence that he run for governor, has been renewing her interest in TV drama lately. Only a week or so ago she starred in Studio One, and it was her second appearance in this series.

Although she didn't have a bit of trouble upholding her end of the play, I thought her part did not give her opportunity to display her talents to the fullest.

Also in the cast was Orson Bean, the night club comedian given considerable attention by TV the last several months. He had more or less of a straight role as a political reporter, which he did very well.

State Policeman Dies in Automobile Accident

The accident occurred about 4 a.m., a quarter of a mile east of Lawrence on U.S. 12, State Police said. Sciamanna, driving his own car, was alone at the time.

Finds Error Is Obvious

LYNN, Mass. (UP)—A 16-year-old automobile thief decided it was just his lack of judgment that made police see red. The youth said he realized afterward it was too easy for the law to spot a stolen fire-engine red convertible.

Newcomer, Vet Take Window Painting Honors

Both the newcomer, Donna Mapley of 784 Third St., and her veteran partner, Brenda Voynar of 777 Third St., are Lincoln Junior High School students. Their winning painting was executed on the window of Cloonan's Drugs, 72 N. Saginaw.

The winner of last year's senior division first place also was a repeater. Pontiac High School senior Dick Britton of 101 Poplar again won first prize for his painting on the Kresge store window, 66 N. Saginaw.

Sharing second place honors in the senior division were Jim Barnowsky of 132 E. Rundell and Mariam Harrington of 266 Edison. Both are St. Michael High School students.

Monetary awards went to first, second, third and fourth place winners in each category.

Judging the contest were Mrs. Jerome Fink, a member of the Pontiac Society of Artists; John Allshouse, Pontiac High School art instructor, and George Balch, chairman of the Kiwanis Club window painting committee.

"The quality of the pictures was, in general, much improved over those painted in last year's contest," commented John A. Streit, assistant director of the parks and recreation department.

35,000 Catholics See High Mass in Stadium

BALTIMORE, (AP)—An estimated 35,000 Roman Catholic laymen and clergy took part in the celebration of the first afternoon pontifical high mass ever held in the United States yesterday at Memorial Stadium here.

Archbishop Francis P. Keough presided at the services, which were an observance of the Feast of Christ the King and a Marian Year pilgrimage.

Editor-Politician Requests Votes for His Opponent

FARMINGTON, Mo. (AP)—Editor Jess Stewart of the Farmington Press called on St. Francois County voters to defeat all Courthouse officials in tomorrow's general election—including Editor Jess Stewart.

Stewart, who is circuit clerk, said of officeholder Stewart in an editorial published in the Press "We decided the voters should decide to make a full-time editor out of him."

* * *

Stewart, in his editorial "Throw the Rascals Out," said after "much soul-searching and self-evaluation" he decided to urge voters to support Gene Weible, his Republican opponent.

A Democrat, Stewart was appointed to the clerk's job and since has served two full terms. Most of the Courthouse incumbents he said should be beaten are Republicans.

Snake Handler Now Recovering From Cobra Bite

* * *

These snakes have to bite or chew the venom in, unlike other snakes. Quick knew to turn the snake over on its back so it would turn loose quickly. Then he incised the wound."

Power Firms Send Help to Cleveland After Storm

The large, wet flakes, pelting down from late Saturday to noon yesterday, snapped power lines all over the Greater Cleveland area, cutting off power to some 7,000 homes.

Ailing and Jobless, Man Returns $84 to Church

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A 54-year-old man — ill, jobless and only $3 away from being broke — found $84 on a street yesterday and spent several hours searching for its owner before returning it to a church organization.

Mrs. Angelo Calabresi said she had collected the money for a repair fund at St. Mary's Church.

Hope, Three Singers, to Be in Royal Variety

LONDON (INS)—Comedian Bob Hope and a trio of crooners will show America's colors in Britain's 25th annual Royal Variety Show which Queen Elizabeth will attend tonight.

Frankie Laine, Guy Mitchell and Howard Keel will help Hope and a huge company of British performers rock London's famed Palladium Theater in aid of the Variety Artistes' Benevolent Fund.

Hope, who is British-born, starred in a similar event—the Royal Film Show—several years ago. He caused quite a stir at wisecracks with the late King the time by blandly exchanging George VI.

5 State Counties Granted $64,150 for Polio Victims

LANSING (AP)— Five counties today got $64,150 from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis to make up deficits in their local money for aiding polio victims.

The donations:

Allegan, $16,800; Alpena, $5,075; Newaygo, $5,150; Ottawa, $17,800; and Van Buren, $19,325.

The foundation said these sums bring to $700,000 the amount of additional aid sent into Michigan this year—the second largest contribution in the nation.
