UF at 28% of Goal

Pontiac Area United Fund campaign officials reported yesterday that contributions totaling $322,166, or 28.1 per cent of this year's goal, have been received. This year's goal is $1,130,000.

Frederick J. Poole, general campaign chairman, said results of the five major campaign divisions after the UF report luncheon yesterday at the PAUF building.

Poole reviewed the report as "a good start. . . it looks like we still have a big job ahead of us but I feel confident our teams will come through."

The GM Industrial Division, headed by Theodore B. Bloom, reported contributions totaling 32.7 per cent of its $764,000 goal with $250,000 reported.

The Residential Division, headed by Mrs. Robert C. Irwin, reported $4,447, 11.5 per cent of its $38,541 goal.

David Vanderveen, manager of Oakland-Pontiac Airport in reporting for Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the Commercial Division, placed his division at 20.6 per cent of its $281,307 goal, reporting $58,051.

The Advance Gifts Division, under the leadership of Chairman W. H. Eierman, reported 47.7 of its $108,134 goal. The amount turned in by Advance Gifts totaled $51,665, 38 per cent ahead of its last year's report at this time.

Manufacturing Division's chairman, Wallace B. Schroth, reported $7,000 or 16.4 per cent of its $42,692 goal. The PAUF drive runs to Nov. 10.

UAW Members Are Voting; Veto by Skilled Discounted

DETROIT (AP) — The 160,000 United Auto Workers who struck Ford Motor Co. 48 days ago begin voting today on a new contract that would mean most streaming back to their jobs by the weekend.

The danger of a veto by skilled tradesmen existed but union leaders discounted this possibility.

The UAW's 200-member National Ford Council overwhelmingly recommended ratification last night, despite the "No! No!" shouts of an estimated 200 to 250 dissident skilled tradesmen who were beaten off when they attempted to storm the meeting.

Policeman Gene Brestle estimated the number of skilled pickets as 200 to 250. Most newsmen covering the event thought his estimate high.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther expressed confidence both sides would ratify the contract, telling newsmen after the council's vote that dissident tradesmen had been working all day to mobilize a large turnout "and this is what they got."

LIMITED TO FORD

Reuther stressed that voting on ratification will be limited to Ford workers. Inquiring newsmen found many pickets from General Motors, Chrysler and job shop local unions than from Ford.

Reuther says the total vote from all 101 Ford bargaining units of the union should be in and tabulated by 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Reuther said any Ford local unions which have not reached at-the-plant working agreements, which supplement the national contract by the time ratification is voted will be allowed to continue striking.

Speculation mounted yesterday that Reuther may take on GM next.

'U. S. May Test N. Viet by Winter Bombing Halt'

SAIGON (AP) — The United States is considering a major pause in the bombing of North Vietnam this winter to test Hanoi's willingness to start peace talks, an American diplomat said today.

There is scant hope among diplomats here that even a prolonged halt in the bombing will induce North Vietnam to sit down and work out any peace settlement that Saigon and Washington would accept.

But because of heavy foreign pressure for a pause, Washington might order one in an attempt to show that the United States is eager for peace but that Hanoi is unwilling to settle for anything less than American capitulation.

The prolonged bombing pause, if one is decided upon, probably would begin in December with the traditional Christmas truce. Another stand down ordered for New Year's and a third in January for Tet, the Buddhist new year celebration.

Ferency: Won't Quit Under Fire

DETROIT (AP) — Democratic State Chairman Zoltan Ferency said today he will not resign his post while under fire for suggesting that President Johnson may not be the best candidate to head the party's 1968 ticket.

Emphasizing that he has not used the phrase "dump Johnson," Ferency told a news conference that the odds point to a Johnson-Humphrey ticket next year.

But if the party can find a better candidate, Ferency said, then he would like to see that candidate nominated.

Ferency defended his criticism of the national administration, pointing out that he was merely reflecting the views of Michigan Democratic party's platform.

Meanwhile, six members of the Democratic State Central Committee's Lansing office staff resigned last night, claiming a six-hour dispute with top party leaders over proposed staff reductions.

The resignations came as a surprise to newsmen and many of the party leaders, who had expected the meeting to deal with Ferency's remarks last Tuesday.

However, State Treasurer Stuart E. Herzberg of Detroit said there was no discussion of Ferency's comments.

Submitting their resignations last night were James Harrison, director of party development and editor of the Michigan Democrat, and five female employees, holding clerical-secretarial jobs.

"We're going to have to sit down and figure out how to operate out of the Lansing office," said Herzberg.

City Woman, 31, Killed in Mishap

A Pontiac woman died early today when the car she was driving veered out of control and slammed into a utility pole at Oakland and Lafayette.

Killed at 2:30 a.m. was Mrs. Barbara Carter, 31, of 55 1/2 Whitfield, according to city police.

Witnesses told investigators her car careened across the road after turning onto Oakland, then jumped the curb and struck the pole, shearing the vehicle in half.

She apparently died instantly, officers said.

City Youth Found Guilty of Slaying Teen Girlfriend Bonds Passed, Cityhood Nixed

A Pontiac youth was found guilty yesterday of first-degree murder in the slaying of his 15-year-old girlfriend.

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury of 10 men and two women returned the verdict against Porfidio (Junior) Acosta, 19, after deliberating 2 1/2 hours.

Acosta, 307 Ferry, was convicted of beating to death Linda Darlene Arnold on the morning of July 7 during a fight at his home.

Miss Arnold had been dating Acosta for some time, and her mother had signed a complaint against the youth charging him with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The girl reportedly ran away from home a week before her death.

NO CHOICE ON SENTENCE

Acosta will be sentenced Nov. 21 by Judge William R. Beasley who presided at the four-day trial which started last Tuesday.

While ordering a presentence report from the probation department, Beasley will have no choice in sentencing the youth.

Under law, first-degree murder is punishable by a life sentence in prison with no chance for parole.

Acosta's attorney, Leonard Peres, said he would begin proceedings appealing the case immediately after the sentencing.

PREMEDITATED

In returning the verdict, the jury determined that the murder was premeditated, as opposed to second degree, which is not.

In summarizing the case against Acosta, Asst. Prosecutor James Roberts said the girl was killed when she rejected Acosta's advances.

Testimony during the trial revealed that less than two hours before her body was found, Miss Arnold was slapped and kicked by Acosta during a fight in a parking lot outside a party store in Pontiac.

Budget Battle Is Before Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle of the budget closes in on the Senate today after an array of federal departments and agencies technically ran out of money at midnight.

A stopgap resolution that would continue their spending authority until Nov. 15 is up for Senate action, opening the way for amendments to force cutbacks in government expenditures.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said he would carry to the floor his proposal for a 5 per cent cut in nondefense appropriations, narrowly defeated in committee. Mundt's proposed slash would affect appropriations for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., reportedly planned to ask the Senate to adopt the spending curbs added by the House last week to a resolution providing temporary financing for departments and agencies whose 1967-68 appropriations are still pending.

The House directed President Johnson to cut government spending by $6 billion to $8 billion this year.

CLIMAX OF BATTLE

The move climaxed a battle between the House and the administration over taxes and spending. Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge is at least temporarily shelved in committee.

The Senate Appropriations Committee threw out all the spending restrictions voted by the House, but Mundt's proposal for a 5 per cent cutback only lost on a 10-10 tie vote.

Mundt's amendment would reduce appropriations by about $1.9 billion, $1 billion of this reflected in spending cuts this year. The President would pick the items to be cut.

Some senators said they favored economy but insisted specific cutting should be done by Congress.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said the President already has too much power and Congress shouldn't add to it.

Fighting Flares Along Suez as Israelis Urge Revenge

By The Associated Press

Egyptian forces opened fire at the southern end of the Suez Canal near Port Tawfiq today and Israeli troops fired back, an Israeli army spokesman announced in Tel Aviv.

He said Israel informed U.N. observers of the shooting but fighting continued.

The spokesman gave no further details and there was no report on any fighting from Egypt.

The announcement came amid a clamor in Israel for revenge against Egypt after its sinking of the Israeli destroyer Elath. But informed sources said the Israeli government planned no hasty reprisals and would "let the Arabs sweat it out for awhile."

Crowds shouted, "Revenge!" to Chief of Staff Yitzhak Rabin. The semiofficial newspaper Davar said, "We had better destroy" any notions that Israel would not react to the missile attack Saturday that sank the Elah with probable loss of 53 lives.

Despite Israel's anger, there were hints within Premier Levi Eshkol's Cabinet that the nation would not march into a renewal of the June 5-10 Middle East war. Labor Minister Yigal Allon said: "Israel intends to do everything possible to avoid a fourth war, and convert the situation into peace."

Informants in Moscow said they believed Marshal Matvei V. Zakharov, Soviet chief of staff now in Cairo, would probably urge restraint on President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

At the United Nations, Egyptian and Israeli delegates repeated their charges and denials that the Elath was inside Egypt's territorial waters when it was hit. Nonpermanent members of the Security Council met on the situation briefly Monday and scheduled another meeting for Wednesday, but Israel said it expected nothing from the council.

U.S. REACTION
The U.S. State Department

steered clear of any comment other than an expression of regret over the incident, and press spokesman Robert J. McCloskey said: "I am not assessing the blame."

But as Israeli sources claimed that Soviet naval personnel probably supervised the firing of the Russian missile that sank the Elath, Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., told the House that the missile attack had "very serious implications for the United States."

"May we not consider," Wilson asked, "that similar naval missiles will be provided to North Vietnam for use against the ships of the United States Navy?"

Open Housing Bills 'Tough'

But Legislature Likely to Revise Proposals

LANSING (AP) — The open housing bills to be introduced in the Legislature this week would, if passed without major revision, give the state the toughest such laws in the nation, a law school professor said Monday.

Some observers, however, doubted that the bills, in their expected form, could survive a series of legislative battles without significant revision.

U-M Law School Prof. Robert J. Harris, who has studied existing open occupancy laws in 21 states and "40 to 60" cities, said only one state — New York — provides for collection of "administrative fines," which the Michigan bills reportedly will contain.

Meanwhile it was reported that the bills, which legislators do not have yet seen, will permit the State Civil Rights Commission to levy fines of $500 against a private individual found to have discriminated in the sale or rental of most housing.

The first-offense fine for a realtor judged guilty of discrimination, it was believed, would be $1,000, and a subsequent offense by the same realtor could draw a reported $2,000 administrative fine.

The new Detroit Committee, formed after last summer's Detroit racial riot and chaired by department store magnate Joseph L. Hudson Jr., has recommended open housing legislation with stiff fines for biased realtors.

Chevy Recalls 1 Million '65s

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet Division of General Motors said today it is recalling more than a million standard-sized 1965 Chevrolets to replace a potentially defective part of the car's steering apparatus.

Chevrolet said only four such cases had been found but that 1,400,000 cars built between September 1964 and May 1965 would be recalled to have the steering idler arm assembly replaced.

"The decision to replace the parts, without cost to the owners, was reached after the extensive investigation that followed the original assembly, in some cases, may separate and result in a severe pull to the right when brakes were applied at low to moderate car speed," a Chevrolet spokesman said.

Gov. Romney Starts 10-State Tour Today

LANSING (AP) — With a national television date and a possible candidacy announcement less than a month away, Gov. George Romney today begins an eight-day political tour of ten states.

Romney's trip starts with a speech tonight in Bismarck, N.D., and winds up next Tuesday in Portland, Maine.

In between are stops in South Dakota, Arizona, Colorado, New Jersey, Vermont, Rhode Island, Massachusetts and New Hampshire, site of the nation's first presidential primary next year.

The Michigan Republican thus far an undeclared candidate for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination, has purchased 30 minutes of prime television time on Nov. 15.

Romney has said he plans to use the time to make a report to the nation on "a matter of national importance," and speculate has been very heavy that he will use it to announce his candidacy.

Many Romney backers feel that an announcement at that time, just before he leaves on a tour of Europe, would be opportune in that it would open doors in European capitals which might otherwise be closed.

One such backer, Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich., in Lansing Monday for a GOP fund raising speech, said he felt the telephone call, which he said was an "appropriate time" for Romney to announce his intentions.

Also on the ballot yesterday was the selection of nine charter commission members out of 16 candidates.

Selected for the now uneeded charter commission were: Robert B. Pierce (2,194), Joseph T. Brennan (2,065), Mrs. Margaret Schaeffer (2,004), Frederick Lichtman (1,856), Floyd A. Cairns (1,855), Aldo Vagnozzi (1,788), Charles H. Williams (1,696), Edwin C. Blumberg (1,681), and Donald E. McEachin (1,628).

City to Tackle COG Question

Commission Will Get Open Housing Draft

City commissioners will take up the thorny issue of membership in the controversial South-eastern Michigan Council of Governments (COG) at their meeting at 8 tonight.

Membership consists of an "intergovernmental agreement" to cooperate with other COG units in the advisory body.

Detractors have regularly attacked the concept of the organization, declaring that it is an attempt at some type of super-government which would decrease powers of local government.

COG has no taxing or legislative powers and membership is voluntary. Member units can withdraw on 90-day notice.

The organization was set up as an attempt to handle, by cooperative agreement problems which transcend local governmental boundary lines, such as sewer projects, pollution control, transit systems, etc.

POTENTIAL MEMBERSHIP
It has a potential membership of 35 cities, villages, counties, townships and school districts in Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Washtenaw, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

The commission is also scheduled to pass a resolution endorsing officially the city's agreement with developer A. Alfred Taubman, whose design for a new downtown shopping center was recently rejected by Sears Roebuck and Co.

In other business, the commission will receive a draft of a proposed fair housing ordinance incorporating sections of several other municipal ordinances.

No official commission action is expected other than receiving the ordinance prepared by Director of Law Sherwin M. Birnkrant.

ALSO ON AGENDA
Commissioners are also scheduled to:

• Receive recommendations from the urban renewal director advising steps to take in considering redevelopment for the downtown urban renewal area.

• Receive and consider appraisals made of the Crystal Beach housing project with a view of determining whether it is feasible for the city to purchase the project and gradually eliminate the units.

Many Nurses Quit in Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — Two-thirds of the nurses at the city's major hospital and in the Detroit Public Health Department have resigned, the Michigan Nurses Association said yesterday.

The association said 70 nurses have submitted their resignations to the administrator of Detroit General Hospital and that 64 of 94 nurses in the Health Department also resigned.

The resignations were submitted "without dates" and most of the nurses are still on the job pending the outcome of the wage negotiations.

Technician on Rampage Kills 6, Hurts 6

LOCK HAVEN, Pa. (AP) — Two workers entering the sprawling Hammernill Paper Co. plant almost collided with 39-year-old Leo Held as he strode out with an emptied pistol in each hand.

"What's going on," they later said they asked him.

"The lights just went out," was his reply.

For the six persons slain in the laboratory technician's 90-minute reign of terror Monday, the lights were out. Six others were wounded, three critically.

The words were the last known to be uttered by Held before he was struck and critically wounded by four police bullets in his back yard in Loganton, about 17 miles from here.

NO STATEMENT
Clinton County Dist. Atty. Allan Lugg said Held, who underwent three hours of surgery for wounds of both wrists, a leg, an arm and a shoulder, had not uttered a word since his capture.

Lacking an explanation from Held, the district attorney, family, friends and relatives of the victims were unable to explain what caused "a quiet peaceful man, devoted to his family" to embark on a bloody rampage.

EYEWITNESS REPORTS
The eyewitnesses at the plant watched, frozen by shock, as Held fatally shot Davenport and four others and wounded four more employees.

They said the killer, a known gun fancier and avid hunter, moved with an icy coldness and apparently took aim at his targets. He then walked from the building firing random shots into offices as about 50 fellow employees watched from hiding places behind machinery and desks.

The killer then drove to Piper Aircraft Corp. at Lock Haven, where he shot and wounded Mrs. Geraldine Ramm, a member of a car pool which had dropped him about three months ago because of his alleged reckless driving.

The killer's next stop was the home of Held's Loganton neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Quiggle, where, police said, he broke in and shot the pair while they slept. Quiggle was killed instantly and his wife critically wounded.

By that time, police caught up with him and the chase ended in a field behind Held's home.

A special liquid chemical to combat the problem of oil befouled water has been developed. When the chemical is sprayed or dumped on oil at sea, wave action helps to dilute the oil.

FORGOTTEN MEN
"We showed them that the forgotten little men in their union can get together and win their demands if the union won't fight for them."

He said 67 per cent of the strikers accepted a plan granting them $10 an hour for every hour after four hours they wait in mills to be loaded, a 5 per cent increase in shipping rates and a special committee to represent them before the Teamsters. The actual hauling fees vary.

The strike spread terror on the highways in eight states from the Midwest to New England. Truckers were shot at, stoned, beaten and firebombed.

One driver was killed by a rock tossed through his windshield. Another was critically burned. More than a dozen were wounded by flying glass and bullets.

Acosta, who did not testify, does not remember events that took place during the night of the murder because he was under the influence of alcohol and drugs, according to Peres.

compiled by the department of public works revealed that the figure was twice that number.

Commissioner Robert Page said that even if the low figure was accurate it was still substantial to show that a new sewer was needed.

The City Engineering Department has estimated the cost of the project at $65,000.

85 PCT. OF COST
Affected property owners will be assessed 85 per cent of the cost, with the city paying the 15 per cent balance.

Home owners will be informed of the date of hearing on the confirmation of individual assessments.

City Engineer William T. Killen said that the sewer construction could be completed before the summer of 1968.

It would be built along Shirley from Lincoln north to a point midway between the northernly junction of Arlington, Shirley and Maple.

SLEIGH BELLS
At a brief ceremony prior to the meeting City Clerk Irene Hanley presented James Flack, president of the Birmingham Historical Society, with a set of sleigh bells that had belonged to John West Hunter, one of the city's three original settlers.

The bells were part of the equipment on Hunter's sleigh at the time he traveled from Auburn, N.Y., to Birmingham in March 1818.

The bells were a gift of Mrs. Judson C. Murphy, formerly Mrs. Donald Bell.

Her late husband a city commissioner from 1947 to 1950 and mayor in 1949, was a descendant of Hunter.

But the powerful Teamsters Union, which represents 60 per cent of the steel haulers, may feel the effects of the bitter strike for some time.

"This isn't the end, it's just the beginning," said William Kusley, of Gary, Ind., organizer of the rebellion. "We're an organization now with recognition that the Teamsters are going to have to deal with."

FICTITIOUS NAME
She gave police a fictitious name and told them she was 19 years old.

Police said that they were told by Acosta that he had caught her with another man.

The couple was then taken to Acosta's home by a mutual friend.

Peres said that it was possible that Miss Arnold was fatally injured when, according to his theory, she was thrown to the pavement as the car sped away causing her to hit her head on the wheel of a parked car.

Probe of 'Mix-Up' on White House Wire Seen

ABOARD SS INDEPENDENCE (AP) — The captain of the liner Independence says he expects a federal inquiry into the case of the White House radiogram that strayed into the hands of Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

Capt. Charles Reilly said his officers have already drafted a report on their investigation of the affair, assuming that men from the Coast Guard and the Federal Communications Commission will want one as soon as the Independence docks in New York late today.

"I assume with all the publicity, they'll be looking for us when we arrive," Reilly said.

Earlier, George F. Dunigan, vice president of American Express, told the Independence Lines, which owns the ship, that irregularities had been uncovered and that he did not see how anyone could have obtained a copy of the message without help from a ship's crewman.

LIASION MAN
The radiogram was sent by White House assistant Marvin Watson to former Gov. Price Daniel of Texas, the administration's liaison man with the 59th National Governors' Conference aboard the ship.

It instructed Daniel in ways to put pressure on Republican opponents to a governors' conference declaration in support of President Johnson's Vietnam war policy. GOP governors blocked the Vietnam resolution Friday.

The radiogram arrived about 2:30 a.m. Wednesday. Daniel received it about 9 a.m. and Reagan got a copy of it later in the morning. Reagan said it came in an envelope addressed to him. His aides made the message public Wednesday night.

Dunigan said the ship's investigation showed that Reagan received a reproduction of a carbon copy of the radiogram. Such carbons are routinely filed in the radio shack. The carbon was back in the radio shack before ship's officers knew it was missing, Dunigan said.

"We want to find out whether this was in error, whether it was in collusion or whether it was a friendly gesture on someone's part," he added. Daniel said he is convinced the stray message was no accident. He noted there is "not much similarity" between the names "Reagan" and "Daniel."

Frisco Election Spiced by Viet Issue on Ballot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco's 317,240 voters get a chance to air an opinion on U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war in the Nov. 7 election. Registrar of Voters Basil Healey expects a near-record 80 per cent turnout.

Even without Vietnam on the ballot, the election may be one of the hottest in the city's history. Standing for election in the race for mayor are 18 candidates, and another 44 are running for supervisor. Supervisors run the city-county.

It took a ruling of the California Supreme Court to force the Vietnam question onto the San Francisco ballot.

COURT RULING
The court ruled that Healey, who had said foreign policy was no concern of municipal voters, exceeded his authority in his new refusal to accept the issue for the ballot.

In its final form, the question is labeled "Proposition P" and reads:

"Shall it be the policy of the city and county of San Francisco that there be an immediate cease-fire and withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam so that the Vietnamese people can solve their own problems?—yes or no."

If the initiative passes, it becomes the official stand of the city of San Francisco that the bombing of North Vietnam stop and U.S. troops come home.

FURTHER ACTION
Benjamin Dreyfus, an attorney who represented proponents of a Vietnam vote, said the board of supervisors could urge Washington to act to carry out the policy.

But no one has said he believes San Francisco voters could, by referendum, have the slightest effect on U.S. foreign policy.

A municipal election "won't change foreign policy," Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said on a recent visit here. Dearborn, Mich., with a population of about 115,000, voted about 60-40 against the question: Would you favor immediate withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam? The vote was held in the fall 1966 election.

Six Flee Blaze in Oscoda Hotel

OSCODA (AP) — Six guests fled to safety early Monday as fire swept through the two-story, 26-room Welcome Hotel, a landmark since 1912. No one was injured. Cause of the fire, which started in the kitchen, was under investigation.

Col. John Allen, a former Air Force officer and owner of the hotel and restaurant-bar, was alone in his office after closing hours when he smelled smoke and summoned Oscoda Township firemen. They battled the blaze for two hours. Firemen said the fire caused heavy damage but no figure was put on the loss.

Doctors quit smoking

CHICAGO — According to a recent survey, 52% of American doctors do not smoke. Many quit recently due, according to the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, to the conclusive evidence linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Many doctors gave up smoking without straining their will power thanks to a new tablet which helps to progressively eliminate the need for nicotine and, as a result, the desire to smoke. Less than 2% of the 150,000 people who tried this tablet reported they still smoke!

Smokers interested in receiving information (free) about this new tablet are invited to contact directly the Anti-Tobacco Center of America, Dept. 740-M, 366 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, New York. It is sufficient to send your name and address. Just a postcard will do.

Avon Faces Cityhood Hearing Thursday

By JEAN SAILE

AVON TOWNSHIP — Will Avon Township protect itself from tax inroads by the city of Rochester by incorporating as a city?

The pros and cons of cityhood for booming Avon will be discussed at a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at Rochester Senior High School.

Conducted by the boundaries committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, the hearing precedes a Jan. 15 election.

At that time voters will cast a ballot either in favor or in opposition to incorporation. They will also be asked to elect nine members to a charter commission, responsible for preparing a new city charter should the vote to incorporate meet approval.

Candidates have until Nov. 7 to file election petitions.

PREPARATION OF CHARTER

These elected officials will have two years to prepare a charter which will then go before the voters for approval.

Should the charter be accepted, only then would Avon become a city.

Until now the coming election has roused very little response in the township. An informational meeting conducted recently by the Avon Township Study Committee drew a Saturday morning audience of about 100, despite the fact that more than 3,000 notices had been circulated.

Overriding the immediate question is the hope expressed by most area residents that if incorporation comes, it should be as a unified Rochester-Avon community.

AVON-ROCHESTER IDENTIFICATION

People of Avon tend to identify themselves with Rochester. The recently incorporated city serves as a hub for shopping, churches and clubs for the 20,000 people of the township. The Rochester population itself is figured at about 5,800 people.

The fact that another city might surround Rochester much as Detroit surrounds Hamtramck seems a remote possibility to them.

The incorporation move, brought about by the Township Study Committee, was admittedly an attempt to keep Rochester from annexing high tax base lands of the township.

* * *

Rochester had a head start in that direction due to the water and sewer services which it provides for much of the nearby area, including a number of township factories.

AVON SEWER PLANS

While Avon is moving ahead on its own sewer program, it of necessity must wait for completion of the Clinton-Oakland Interceptor, a county project serving six townships. Completion of the latter is due in about two years.

The township is also moving towards a unified water system as it combines existing subdivision systems.

Now supporting only a weekend Avon Township police patrol, the new city would probably move into fulltime police protection, according to the demands of the people.

Two fire stations in the township would undoubtedly need to be expanded. One has already been proposed for the northern area.

An agreement currently exists between the city of Rochester and the township for fire protection around the city.

Township officials feel that under cityhood the area would gain as far as road monies are concerned. Rebates on state gas and weight taxes would be paid directly to the city, not to the county for apportionment as they are under the township form of government.

"We'd probably have to buy more equipment, but we all feel we could do a better job," said Mrs. Thelma Spencer, clerk.

* * *

Once incorporated, the township would no longer have fear of losing land to the city. What such incorporation would do to Rochester is another question.

But this is not the solution most people hope for. A future city appears to be the ideal situation in the minds of both city and township residents.

White Lake Township Board Tables Motion to Join Government Council

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — The Township Board tabled a motion on joining the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (COG) after an hour of discussion last night.

The board plans to take up the issue at its Dec. 19 meeting, said Township Supervisor James Reid.

"The board wants to take a longer look at the council of governments and wait to see what the state legislature does," explained Reid.

Last spring, the board approved a resolution of intent to join COG.

Gov. George Romney has proposed a bill that would permit local government units to form regional associations.

BILL PROPOSED

The State Senate committee on municipalities, headed by Sen. Robert Huber, has since proposed a weaker bill toning down the alleged supergovernment aspect of regional associations.

The hour of board discussion, at which no residents were present, brought out both pros and cons of COG. No board member was "overwhelmingly" for or against joining the council, reported Reid.

Some of the fears expressed by some board members were that the township would lose its identity, COG may become a supergovernment, and that membership may cost too much.

The township's membership fee would be $200 per year.

ADVANTAGES

The favorable feelings were that COG would aid in areawide planning and bring governments together to better solve common problems such as mass transportation, sewers, water pollution, and law enforcement.

TITLE SEARCH

Also at last night's meeting, the board decided to make a search for the title of the Granger Cemetery on Pontiac Lake Road west of Teggedine. The two-to-three-acre cemetery hasn't been maintained for several years, Reid said.

The township would like to take over the cemetery to provide maintenance of present gravesites and operate it for those who want to be buried there, explained the supervisor.

"The township has the right to own and operate cemeteries but it must have the legal title to them," he said.

FAMILY PROJECT — The Rochester Jaycee annual cider sale, which begins Thursday, has involved the families of Jaycee members who have turned out in force to pick the fruit. Robert Jasinski of 821 Castlebar, Avon Township, club president, is assisted by Mrs. Jasinski, Donald, 6, Debbie, 4, and even baby Dianne, 7 months. Club members have picked 172 bushel bags full of potential cider.

Sharing of Costs of Sewer to Be Arranged in Rochester

ROCHESTER — A sharing of costs in the construction of a sewer to service Crittenton General Hospital and the Great Oaks commercial and residential development west of the city is to be worked out here.

The low bid of Two-way Construction Co. of Warren in the amount of $114,360 was accepted by the council last night contingent upon such an agreement.

The sewer will be constructed at the western edge of the village and will hook onto a present main inside the village. Sewage will be processed at the Rochester plant.

The portion due for construction was originally contemplated as part of the Paint Creek Arm of the Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor.

* * *

A lack of funds and complications between city and township governments regarding the installation of city services caused a curtailment in plans, according to city officials.

FINES INCREASED

In other business last night the council approved — in line with an updating of the violations ordinance — an increase in parking meter fines.

It will cost an overparked motorist $1 in place of the former 50 cents. Fines will be paid to the violation bureau in the city offices.

At attempt to interest citizens in replacing diseased elm trees cut down by the city was generated by a letter from the Women's National Farm and Garden Club.

* * *

Mrs. Donald Foss, corresponding secretary, expressed the fear that the many diseased trees are not being replaced. The cost of such an operation was cited by Village Manager William Sinclair.

CITIZEN PARTICIPATION

Councilman John Boeritz, head of the city's beautification committee, said he would seek citizen participation in a replacement plan.

Repaying and the construction of storm sewers along Industrial South Street was tabled for further paving reports. A preliminary cost estimate put the job at $125,000 to be spread on a special assessment basis.

The street, adjacent to the city's urban renewal area, is becoming the scene of increased industrial activity. Sinclair said numerous complaints had been received in regard to its condition.

* * *

The planning commission was approved to hire Dryker Assoc. Inc. of Birmingham as professional planning consultants whenever the need should arise.

* * *

Paint Creek Sewer Meeting Is Friday

LAKE ORION — Announcement of a County Department of Public Works meeting to review the sewer situation in Lake Orion and Oxford and the townships of Orion and Oxford was made by Village Manager John F. Reinick.

He said the village had been informed of a meeting to take place at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the county offices.

At issue is a report of the proposed Paint Creek Interceptor prepared by the Waterford Township engineering firm of Johnson and Anderson, Inc., for the Oxford communities.

The village was informed that application is being made by Bruno Leon Associates, village planning consultants, for a 701 federal planning grant.

Talk on School Vote Tonight in Commerce

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The millage election coming up for Walled Lake School District Nov. 8 will be explained by School Board member Richard Miles at the Commerce Republican Club tonight.

U.S. Rep. Jack McDonald, R-19th District will not speak at the meeting, as was earlier expected.

The meeting will be at 8 p.m. in Room 103 of the Walled Lake High School, 2978 S. Commerce, Walled Lake.

CITIZEN PARTICIPATION

The site for the proposed hospital has been approved by the Greater Detroit Hospital Council. The association is now awaiting approval to build on the township site, said Sharpe.

BASED ON NEED
The decision of the council is mainly based on the need for the hospital. The council is expected to consider population and the number of hospital beds available in the area, explained Sharpe.

The closest hospital for the Commerce Township area is from 20 to 25 miles away, he said. He noted that the distance of present hospitals was one of the chief reasons the association was established.

The Greater Detroit Hospital Council, Sharpe said, controls financial aid and assists fund raising for new hospitals.

The association plans to apply for a federal grant after receiving approval to build from the council.

Zoning Violators Hit

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — "We've got to clamp down on the zoning ordinances here in the township," said Supervisor Homer Case, at last night's board meeting. "Otherwise we're going to have multiple slums develop on our single residence property," he warned.

Slamming his fist down, Case demanded action on frequent violations which have cropped up recently in the primarily residential township.

One resident was before the board last night on the charge of having several families (five to be exact) living on a single piece of property.

ABOVE GARAGE

According to the building inspector's report and by Nagengast's own admission there are four families (five, if domestic help is counted) living in a cluster of buildings which originally were not all homes.

The report states that the owner lives in the original house, a woman who does domestic work and as partial compensation lives above a garage attached to the house, and three families each live in what was once a greenhouse, a sheep barn, and a hay barn.

Case voiced his opinion to the board that Nagengast's four acres and other similar properties should be subdivided into separate lots which would only be possible by removing some or all of the buildings.

He said that property values were in the township that the owners in most cases would benefit if they removed the present buildings and divided up the lots.

"People around here and neighboring communities are finding out it's very profitable to build additions or rent out remodeled barns on single family property because of the high apartment rents," claimed Case.

Nagengast's case was tabled pending a trip to the city. He was also charged with not getting a building permit for remodeling done to an outbuilding and was told to remove a tree house in his front yard.

Chemistry Chairman

KALAMAZOO — Dr. Don C. Ifland has been named chairman of the Western Michigan University chemistry department, succeeding Dr. Lillian Meyer who is retiring.

BOARD OFFICIALS

Chairman of the board is Dr. Norman Krieger, an internal medicine specialist with a practice in Milford and Pontiac.

Mrs. Jessie Roe, director of nursing and supervisor of West Hickory Haven nursing home, Milford Township, is vice chairman of the board.

Mrs. Charles Taylor, secretary for Agnew Machine Co., Milford, serves as secretary. Treasurer is Dr. Jack H. Park, an optometrist in Milford. Assistant treasurer, John Addis, is an insurance agent in Milford.

Board members represent a wide range of professions, observed the association's secretary, Mrs. Laurence A. Trumble, who has been with the group six years.

Crime-Reporter System OK'd in Bloomfield Twp.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Inspired by Pontiac's Chec-Mate system, the Township Board last night at its monthly meeting announced it would begin a similar program.

Chec stands for Citizens Helping to Eliminate Crime, a program in which citizens pledge to call the police if they see a crime, believe there might be one committed, or hear of one. The caller does not have to give his name and address.

"People are now going overboard on not being involved in this country, but sometimes I can't really blame them because of the way the courts treat them," said Supervisor Homer Case.

"Many people will hesitate to call or give their names or addresses for fear of being called into court, causing them to miss several days work," he added.

Case explained that with "Chec-Mate," all residents have to do is register with the police department and call in any crime situation or possible crime situation which they discover.

INSPIRE PARTICIPATION

"I'm satisfied it will be successful," said Township Police Lt. Martin McLaughlin. "We haven't been asking for names on calls previously as some neighboring communities have, but I feel this system will inspire people to participate willingly and more frequently."

So far, said Case, the response from the citizens has been overwhelming for our starting the program. I hope the teen-agers, especially, join in our fight against crime.

In other business last night, the police department turned in their report for the first three weeks that the dog ordinance has been in effect in the township. It included 162 complaints handled in the 21-day period.

Since the ordinance took effect Oct. 1, police dog wardens have returned 82 dogs to their owners while taking only 11 to the Oakland County Animal Shelter.

In addition, the report said that four dogs were destroyed, three complaints of bites were handled, 17 dead animals were removed from roads, and 15 miscellaneous assist calls were answered.

Detroit Gets Post

ROCHESTER — Parke, Davis & Co. has appointed Gregory A. Heutel of Detroit as an industrial engineer at its Parkdale Biological Laboratories here.

Heutel joined Parke-Davis after serving as an industrial engineer with Chevrolet-Detroit Gear & Axel for nearly two years.

He studied engineering at General Motors Institute and earlier this year obtained a Bachelor's degree in accounting and business administration from Wayne State University.

Huron Valley Hospital Site Purchased

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The Huron Valley Hospital Association has closed a purchase deal for 30 acres here for a new hospital.

The site fronts Sleeth Road and has access from Commerce Road. It was purchased for $45,000 from Robert H. Long, Commerce Township Supervisor.

The hospital, planned to include 200 beds, is expected to open within five years, said Edward C. Sharpe, a member of the association's board of directors. It will have a combined staff of allopathic and osteopathic doctors.

The proposed hospital will serve Milford, Walled Lake, Commerce and White Lake townships and parts of West Bloomfield Township.

The site for the proposed hospital has been approved by the Greater Detroit Hospital Council. The association is now headed by a 19-member board of directors.

BOARD OFFICIALS

Chairman of the board is Dr. Norman Krieger, an internal medicine specialist with a practice in Milford and Pontiac.

Mrs. Jessie Roe, director of nursing and supervisor of West Hickory Haven nursing home, Milford Township, is vice chairman of the board.

Mrs. Charles Taylor, secretary for Agnew Machine Co., Milford, serves as secretary. Treasurer is Dr. Jack H. Park, an optometrist in Milford. Assistant treasurer, John Addis, is an insurance agent in Milford.

Board members represent a wide range of professions, observed the association's secretary, Mrs. Laurence A. Trumble, who has been with the group six years.

She said that the first idea for the project grew over a cup of coffee 7 years ago.

Sharing the coffee were former resident Clarence Johnson; Dr. Jack Backett, an osteopath; Dr. Bernard J. Hacks, a dentist; and Benjamin Threlloff, former Milford justice of the peace.

This group then sent out invitations to organizations and area residents, reported Mrs. Trumble. Sharpe, now on the board of directors, was the board's first secretary.

The association first bought 15 acres in Milford for the hospital. The parcel west of the new Methodist Church near the Atlantic and Mount Eagle intersection is now up for sale.

The recent purchase of the Commerce Township land was upon the recommendation of the Greater Detroit Hospital Council, said Sharpe.

McNamara Influence Subject of Debate

By BOB HORTON
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A quiet debate goes on in the nation's capital these days: Is Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's stature within the administration slipping?

Opinionists range from assertions that McNamara is stronger than ever in one of the world's most powerful jobs to claims that he is losing influence.

A body of opinion—largely outside the Pentagon—points to widened bombing of North Vietnam as evidence McNamara is yielding ground to more hawkish elements advising President Johnson.

Pentagon insiders consider this thesis wrong, but quite readily state that McNamara would like to leave the secretaryship and move on to a new field, perhaps heading up a university or foundation.

LOYALTY TO LBJ
"He would beat the hell out of here if he could," one source reports. "He needs this job like a hole in the head."

It is rather firmly believed within the Pentagon that McNamara is staying on primarily out of loyalty to President Johnson.

Johnson, it is said, insists he want McNamara—"the performer," he sometimes calls him—to stay on as chief manager of the war effort.

McNamara, in turn, feels a sense of responsibility for seeing the war through to some sort of military or diplomatic conclusion.

Most officials feel that, unless the conflict should end tomorrow, McNamara will remain fast at his station at least through the 1968 presidential election.

MAY STEP DOWN
After that, regardless of the outcome, he may well step down.

By then McNamara would have served nearly eight years in one of the most stormy assignments government offers. Throughout much of that tenure he will have served as a valuable lightning rod for political heat brought on the administration by the controversial war.

McNamara's falling-down chorus has been sounded in Congress and by some columnists.

As one wrote recently: "Speak well of the dead. So far as his position as secretary of defense goes, Bob McNamara is finished ... whipped out of authority, out of dignity, out of plausibility even."

FIRST TRIP
McNamara is reported to have told a private dinner recently he plans to take his North Vietnam while McNamara, at least publicly, has tended to rate the air campaign secondary in the war. He says the conflict must be won by ground fighting in the South.

Then there are his running battle with Congress over development of the F111 fighter-bomber on which a great amount of McNamara's prestige rides; his according to pressures for an antiballistic missile defense; and continuing complaints about operational aspects of the war such as the M16 rifle and ammunition shortages.

POSITION DISTORTED
Some officials believe McNamara's position on the bombing has been distorted some- what because his statements have been made before the more hawkish elements of Congress—most recently the Senate preparedness investigating subcommittee.

In answering such proponents of air power as Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., McNamara often has to overvalue the other side of the case: The limitations of the bombing.

Budget Talk Set
State Budget Director Glenn S. Allen Jr., will speak before the Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Accountants monthly dinner Thursday "State Fiscal Reform" will be the topic after the dinner at Devon Gables.

News Analysis
wile, Margie, on her first trip to the Orient "just as soon as I get out of here"—here meaning the Pentagon. He didn't say when that might be.

Several factors have contributed to notions McNamara might be swinging less weight in high councils of government.

Solons Move at Horse & Buggy Pace

By their own rules, the U.S. Senate and House of Representatives must adjourn by July 31 each year, except in time of war or national emergency.

But what Congress proposes, it can easily dispose of by passing a resolution extending a session, which it has done as a matter of course for, lo, these many years.

Law also requires that appropriation bills be completed by July 1, the beginning of the fiscal year.

More than three months after that deadline, the present Congress has acted on only a handful of them. Many agencies and departments are struggling along on the basis of continuing resolutions, which authorize them to operate from month to month on stopgap funds provided on the same level as their spending during the previous year.

'South American' Cast Off by 'Tide of Change'

A host of nostalgic memories, many born of romance, went with the Detroit-based steamer South American as she sailed down the Detroit River on her farewell voyage.

After 50 years of service, during which more than 50 million passengers delightedly trod her decks, the "S.A." is being retired because of her inability to meet Coast Guard regulations soon to become effective.

The swan song of the vessel, however, is more than the requiem for the passing of a gallant and venerable vessel. It marks the end of an era of luxurious ships that once plied the waters

Older solons have fond memories of inter-session vacations of four to six months, when a lot of fences could be mended back home. The present Congress has been in session for nearly ten months, and if this were an election year, it would certainly be under attack as the "Do-Nothing Congress of 1967."

Of course, if this were an election year, that rattling you would have heard about Labor Day would have been congressmen stirring their legislative bones like mad.

Since in these hectic times there is no likelihood of a return to the leisurely ways of the past, why don't congressmen face reality, revise necessary procedural rules, and plan on regular 12-month sessions, with perhaps a modest adjournment in the summer?

of America's chain of inland seas.

Time once was when a score of them connected Great Lakes ports on regular schedule while voyagers reveled in their fine accommodations and superb cuisine.

But the changing travel and vacation tastes of new generations, spurred no doubt by the growing popularity of the automobile, gradually outmoded this form of commercial transportation as vessel after vessel bowed to the inevitable.

We render a fond if sad salute to the South American — the last of her kind — as she is turned out to watery pasture.

Expert Warns of Soviet Maritime Growth

HANSON W. BALDWIN has for many years been one of the most analytical and foresighted commentators on matters of military nature. His views on world maritime questions deserve deepest consideration. This is particularly true of his studies of the rise of Soviet seapower.

In a recent column, he tells how in the last decade the growth of Russia as a maritime power is influencing history and casting a long shadow.

He describes the renaissance of the Russian navy, the Russian merchant marine, fishing fleets and oceanographic vessels.

Russian ships of all types are plying the sea lanes of the world in impressive force, says Baldwin, and draws particular attention to the Russians' Mediterranean fleet whose "maritime challenge is major and increasing."

All of which lends urgency to the important question of expanding U.S. seapower in terms of a rejuvenated U.S. Merchant Marine.

Events of the past months indicate that we are at last abandoning the dangerous fallacy that in the nuclear age of push-button warfare, merchant ships are obsolete luxuries. Due to the persistent efforts of qualified maritime authorities, the prospects for strengthening the U.S. Merchant Marine appear favorable.

Important elements of the maritime industry are working closely with the new Department of Transportation to establish and implement policies that will result in the resurgence of U.S.-flag merchant ships.

These efforts deserve the wholehearted support of thinking citizens. For overshadowing all discussions is the soaring obsolescence rate of the U.S. Merchant Marine.

Grid Contest Winner Around Corner

Saturday was a day of football upsets, although that seems to have become the name of the game. Michigan State was trounced by Minnesota, Purdue clobbered by Oregon, Michigan downed by Indiana.

Oh, yes — and whom do you think was himself upset by the toppling of the touted trio and fell flat on his forecasting?

Right. None other than that orotund oracle, that pontifical pundit, that corpulent clairvoyant, that garrulous genius — Major Amos B. (for Braggadocio) Hoople.

But to get to the point — actually two points — the game of greatest interest for survivors and followers of The Press Annual Football Contest was Harvard's defeat of Cornell, 14-12.

Not only was the outcome another grid upset, but it upset the 13 contestants who had staked their chances on the contest winner's award of a $500 U.S. Savings Bond on the Big Red's shading the Crimson. You might say they were turned blue by the hue. (Editor's note: We're sorry about that.)

So-o-o, we come to next Saturday's confrontation of Michigan State and Notre Dame, the ninth game of the Contest's schedule of 16.

Of the 16 "living contestants," nine are in the corner of the Fightin' Irish while seven entrust their fate to State.

But stay! With the contest's moment of truth not far off, how do the contingent survivors of this game view the following one a week later — the West Coast joust between Stanford and Washington?

Well, the nine who favor Michigan State over Notre Dame give the edge to Washington, 5-to-4. But, and again BUT, the seven who pick Notre Dame all repeat all will grow busky cheering for Washington's Huskies.

Incidentally, no ties are predicted for either game. Should one occur, the game would simply be scratched, with all hands moving on to the next game.

That, in several hundred well-choiced words, is how things shape up for the shake down, as each week brings the contest's winner nearer. We're just dying to get a look at him or her.

Spooked!

David Lawrence Says:

GOP Is Showing Viet Disunity

WASHINGTON — The Republican party is giving the country an impression of disunity and discord — a seeming inability to make up its mind on what ought to be done in national or international policy.

The 46 governors — Republican and Democrats — gathered together in a week's conference could not muster the necessary votes to pass a resolution expressing an opinion about the Vietnam war because of the wide divergence of viewpoints. This was one of the most discouraging episodes in national politics.

Reports vary as to what is the motivating influence in preventing any resolution from being adopted on the Vietnam question.

It is apparent, however, that the Republicans do not agree among themselves, while the Democratic governors did not have enough votes to bring up a simple resolution supporting the President of the United States in the midst of a war.

Nearly all of the potential candidates for the Republican presidential nomination have discussed the Vietnam war in abstract phrases. While the objectives of the United States in Southeast Asia have been generally supported, criticism has been directed either at the military strategy or the alleged failure of the State Department to press intensively for a peace conference with the enemy.

All the sniping, however, doesn't go to the basic problem, which is that neither President Johnson nor Secretary Rusk nor the military chiefs have any control over the minds of the rulers in Hanoi, who have rebuffed every peace feeler.

NOT JUST HANOI

It might well be asked how a small nation like North Vietnam can afford to keep up the fight after the damage which has been inflicted by the American bombing operations.

The truth is that the United States is fighting not just North Vietnam but also the Russian and Red Chinese governments, which are rendering assistance, militarily and otherwise, to the Hanoi government.

Under these circumstances, one might have expected firm support from the Republicans for proposals to embargo shipments of arms or supplies by sea from any country in the world to North Vietnam.

The conduct of the Vietnam war unquestionably will be an issue in the 1968 campaign, but it looks now as if it will be widely misrepresented.

The people who will be voting against the administration on that particular point may not have the slightest idea of how a Republican administration would deal with the same problem. For the Republicans have not given any intimation of what they would do if they came into power.

Bob Considine Says:

All We Can Say Is Eck to Vegas News Flash

NEW YORK — Here's the most jarring news flash from Las Vegas, Nev., since Frank Sinatra's defection from the Sands hotel:

"Sir Paul Twitchell, world's leading authority on Eckankar, ancient science of Soul Travel, has just returned from a six-week tour of CONSIDINE several European cities where he gave a series of talks on Eck."

"He said, 'People in Europe are hungry for truth. They crowded me, trying to learn something about Eck. I have seen so many who want to find this truth path to God. I talked myself hoarse on occasions.'"

"He is unusual in his method of spiritual healing. He never sees the person who makes the request, but asks that they write a letter and state their desires."

"He exorcised a ghost from a haunted house in Scotland, visited the Isle of Witches and gave a talk to a clandestine spiritual group behind the Iron Curtain."

"Eck is worldwide."

Urp.

Dick Nixon's campaign for the GOP nomination is unique in one respect. Gov. Rockefeller is for Gov. Romney, Mayor John Lindsay believes Sen. Charles Percy is the man. Tom Dewey and Gen. Eisenhower are for everybody. Nixon is for Nixon.

"I'm not using anybody else as a stalking horse," the former vice president told me the other day. "I plan to make a public announcement after the first of the year."

"In the meantime, committees in my behalf have been set up in New Hampshire, Wisconsin and other primary states just as they've been set up for Romney and other proffered noncandidates."

"These committees have been set up with my knowledge and without my objection."

YOUNG CHAIRMAN

"The chairman of the Nixon committee in New Hampshire is David Sterling. He is a young man, only 26, which is something new on the New Hampshire scene."

"New Hampshire has more political leaders per square foot than any state in the country."

"It's a highly sophisticated state. New Hampshire takes and justifiably, quite seriously its duties as the first primary state and recognizes that what happens in New Hampshire generally has great effect on the nominating process."

Only twice has the GOP convention gone against the wishes of the New Hampshire primary — Harding and Goldwater.

Conduct at Ball Games Disappoints Sports Fan

After years of being an avid football follower of Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern High School, it makes me boil to see a bunch of punks wander back and forth at the games.

I've always felt it great for both young and old to back the team. I have children of college, high school, junior high and grade school age, but never have they acted the way I've seen quite a few act at Wisner Stadium. The decision to play games during daylight hours due to rowdiness is a disgrace to Pontiac.

Bruno Kearns suggests an arena, auditorium or sports center. I agree with him, but what do we do with these punks after such a place is completed? Let's get tough, boys in blue.

Mother of Servicemen Is Proud of America

As a citizen of the United States, I disagree with the Englishwoman. The Americans have fought their wars and paid their bills and loaned money to foreign countries. Europe, Britain and any other neutral country should help in Vietnam. We Americans know too well what war is like. That is why American boys are in Vietnam — so we won't have to fight over here.

Maybe she doesn't consider the 12-13,000 American boys who have died in Vietnam a loss. More than half the soldiers in Vietnam are still teen-agers. The United States is doing more than its share not only in Vietnam but any place it's needed. I have two sons serving in the Army and I'm proud to live in a country as fine as America.

'Do Citizens Have Vote on Open Housing?'

In regards to letters on open housing, is there anyone that we can send petitions to, or can we vote on open housing? The people we have voted to represent us are doing a lousy job. LBJ, Romney and city commissioners won't have our problems. Open housing will affect people in the $7,000 bracket and below. We will be most affected and will move.

Citizen Cites Problem of Garbage Collection

A letter from the City Sanitarian stated several reasons some areas are more rat infested than others. If you followed sanitation trucks you could see one of the most complained-of causes—garbage cans without lids. I have two behind my house without lids because the men can't be bothered to replace lids which they take off.

What of the people who don't have the extra $4 to purchase "inexpensive cans"? I am tired of spending that $4 three or four times a year because of carelessness and neglect. If this keeps up it would be cheaper for me to collect my own garbage and dispose of it in my own way.

I appeal to our department of public works, road commission, drain commission, or even to our governor. Can't something be done about the water that covers Dixie Highway just beyond Pontiac State Bank in Drayton? Just a gentle rain causes water to the floorboards of cars, causing wet brakes, a windshield impossible to see through, etc. The situation has existed for at least 20 years.

Disagrees With Property Owner's Letter

Again, a letter from a sanctimonious property owner complains about the selfish non-property owner using all the conveniences and never having to pay tax. I'm sick of it. Property owners should sell their property and pay high rental rates and they will find non-property owners pay taxes. They are securely hidden. Twenty per cent is considered taxes.

Question and Answer

Having heard the Mayor broadcast over the radio the amount of property tax paid by a man who opposed a commission proposal, I'm wondering if this could happen with our city income tax records. Who will have access to that information and what constitutes proper or improper use of it? What, if any, penalties are prescribed for improper use or divulgence of tax records?

REPLY

State law governs income taxes, and the law says: "Information gained by the administrator, city treasurer or any other city official, agent or employee as a result of a return, investigation, hearing or verification required or authorized by this ordinance is confidential, except for official purposes in connection with the administration of this ordinance and except in accordance with a proper judicial order. Any person who divulges this confidential information, except for official purposes, is guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine not exceeding $500 or imprisonment for a period not exceeding 90 days, or both, for each offense. In addition, an employee of the city who divulges this confidential information is subject to discharge for misconduct."

Marine Antipinup Fight Takes Shape

DA NANG, South Vietnam (UPI) — The U.S. Marine command in Vietnam has embarked on one of the most ambitious and difficult campaigns of the war: convincing the Leathernecks to tear down their pinups.

the congregation from the pulpit that pinups are both sad and dangerous.

your mother, sister, wife or sweetheart, just can not attain. The priest continued: "These pinups are dangerous. Why? Because the people who hang them seem completely unaware of feminine beauty to which the average girl or woman, be it or they just do not care about the terrific struggle that the ordinary man undergoes to maintain moral standards and behavior patterns of purity."

pinups "right after this Mass." As for the pinups of others, he told the congregation to look at the pinups with the following thought in mind: "The woman portrayed there is one of God's creatures."

Almost to a man the Leathernecks have resisted. The command recently escalated the effort by using one of its heavy weapons, a Sunday sermon by the chaplain.

But the grunts have held their ground. Some units have even devised ingenious ways to hide their pinup pictures from the eyes of Marine inspectors.

Maj. Gen. Donn J. Robertson and Maj. Gen. Bruno A. Hochmuth, commanders of the 1st and 3rd Marine divisions, launched the campaign recently by telling their officers that the U.S. Marine Corps disapproves of pinups.

Immediately, the pinups were banned from the walls of office and other work areas. But in the places where Marines make their homes away from homes it has been another matter. In the barracks, tents and bunkers of Vietnam, to pin up or not to pin up was left to the individual.

SUNDAY SERMON

Then came the Sunday sermon. It was entitled "Disrespectful Pinups" and delivered by Chaplain John A. Keeley, a Roman Catholic priest from Boston.

Holding a photograph of "Miss October" from Playboy magazine, Father Keeley told

Wart Remedy May Aid in Cancer Cure

TORONTO (AP) — A retired Toronto radiologist says he stumbled on a remedy for warts that could shed important light on a cure for cancer.

Dr. Andrew McGee, 67, who retired in January after 34 years as chief radiologist at East General Hospital, told a recent news conference about his discovery that smallpox vaccine apparently cures warts.

He said the cure is effective if the vaccine is applied directly to the wart, pricked under the surface with a needle, and added that 99 per cent of 400 warts he injected disappeared. Although cancer tumors are malignant and most warts are not, uncontrolled growth of cells causes both conditions.

The significance, says Dr. McGee, is that warts are the only human tumors known to be caused by a virus. Scientists suspect, but have been unable to prove, that certain kinds of cancer are caused by viruses.

OTHER VIRUSES

Thus, if one virus can cure in humans a virus-caused nonmalignant tumor, such as warts, the possibility is that other viruses can be found to kill viruses that probably cause cancer.

"I'm not interested in curing warts," said Dr. McGee. "A vaccine against cancer—that's what we're all looking for."

Dr. McGee's work began about five years ago, when some persons he had vaccinated for smallpox called to tell him their warts had been cured. He didn't realize the significance until a third patient told him of the wart cure.

"I was so dumb I nearly missed it. I had to be told three times," he commented. About a year later, he experienced what he described as "my bright moment."

"I thought perhaps the vaccine was too weak to kill the wart virus in all but one out of every 20 cases. I decided I would inoculate directly into the wart.

"To my great surprise, the first time I tried it the wart reddened up and then faded away. I was back in business."

He said the cure is actually a battle between the smallpox virus and the wart.

"It's like a cat and a mouse," he added. "The two viruses can't get along in the same room."

A total of 1.2 billion cases of carbonated soft drinks valued at $1.7 billion was shipped in the U.S. during 1963.

Widow Tries to Push Marriage Even When Man Voices Opposition

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, having loved my husband very much after living many happy years with him. Now, after a reasonable time, I am keeping company with a fine man who has been a widower for a like period. He also loved his wife very much and had a happy life with her.

Abby, I love this man, and would like to spend my remaining years with him. The trouble is, that although I'm sure he loves me, too, he feels that by marrying again he would be disloyal to the memory of his first wife. Because of this we are losing precious time that we could be spending together.

I maintain that a person can "fall in love" more than once in a lifetime and that after losing one's beloved mate, in time, the heart "heals" and there is no disloyalty in finding happiness with another.

What is your viewpoint on widows and widowers caring for each other and making new lives together. HOPING

DEAR HOPING: It is said that one who has known true happiness in marriage and has lost his mate will remarry for he respects the married state and wishes to know it again. I agree with you.

But if your widower friend balks at marriage, no matter what his reason, he probably doesn't want to get married. So, if you do, don't waste any more precious time on him.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter, who is 15, is thinking of getting married to a boy 16. I have tried to talk her into waiting until she finished high school. (This is her first year.)

Recently she told her father and me that if we didn't give her permission to marry she will get herself in a fix like lots of girls do, and then we will have to let her get married or she will disgrace us.

I told her that was the wrong attitude to take, but she said she doesn't care, she loves the boy.

Have you any advice to give her?

Janet Heideman Exchanges Vows

Reembroidered leaves attended the sheer cage ensemble and matching mantilla worn by Janet Heideman for her wedding to David Russell Gwinnett Monday evening.

The daughter of the H. G. Heidemans of Franklin carried a nosegay of Stephanotis.

Parents of the bridegroom are the Russell Gwinnetts of Allen Park.

The bride's sister, Kay, of Ann Arbor was maid of honor for the ceremony and the bridegroom's brother, William of St. Clair Shores, was best man.

Following vows in the Franklin Community Church, a dinner reception was held at Fox and Hounds.

The newlyweds, who are honeymooning in California, will make their home in Troy.

A benefit sale was planned by members of the Auxiliary to City of Pontiac, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post No. 1370 at a recent meeting.

She Criticizes Feline Motives Behind Act

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I just moved into a new home. The day we moved, my husband and his friend did the heavy moving themselves. I would like to know if it is proper etiquette for a housewife, who lives a block away, to bring refreshments to men who are alone — dressed in shorts, at that?

By the way, this same woman has not been over to meet me. — Diana M.

Dear Diana: Do I detect a touch of the green-eyed monster in your question? I would not criticize a neighbor who was thoughtful enough to bring refreshments to men who were doing heavy work. It was a friendly gesture.

I will, however, add that she should have furthered her kindness by visiting you shortly after you moved in, and I hope she has done so by now.

SMOKING

Dear Mrs. Post: I attended a family dinner and one of the men finished eating before some of the others. He proceeded to light a cigarette immediately.

I made a remark that I didn't think it was right for anyone to smoke while others were still eating. This particular person was offended. Should a diner refrain from smoking until the others have finished, or excuse himself and leave the table to smoke elsewhere? — Mr. M.

Dear Mr. M.: I agree with you. Dinner guests should wait until everyone has finished his main course before lighting a cigarette, and they should not leave the table to do so.

If one is desperate, he might possibly ask his neighbors, "Do you mind if I smoke?" but there are few people who could not restrain themselves for another five minutes or so, thus eliminating the chance of annoying the other guests.

ORGAN MUSIC

Dear Mrs. Post: My son-in-law is an organist who is scheduled to play at the wedding of a young couple. He and his wife are friends of the parents of the bride, and are invited to the wedding. Should my son-in-law accept money for playing or should he do it gratis? — Martha Allen

Dear Mrs. Allen: Your son-in-law should not accept money for playing at his friend's wedding. What more memorable wedding gift could he give them than to say when the groom offers him a fee, "I give you the music I play as a wedding present."

You Should Pay Off Those Small Debts

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management
Dear Miss Feeley:
My husband borrowed $100 on his bank life insurance policy so many years ago he must have paid it back in interest charges by now.

What I would like to know is — should he still pay on the $100? His regular payments are getting smaller every year as he gets older. In time, would he only be paying just the $5 interest? If he dies, would that annual interest charge still go on?

Mrs. R. A., Quincy, Mass.
Dear Mrs. A.:
Your husband is making a very common mistake — letting the small annual interest charge go on and on. Sometimes this may seem easier. But generally you can repay a loan against an insurance policy in small amounts any time that's convenient.

You don't have to make repayments of any specified amount at a set time. So there's no justification for letting this 2% loan remain outstanding.

Make an effort to pay off the principal of $100 and get it over with.
If your husband died, the amount owed the company would be deducted from the face value of the policy. In other words, if you are the beneficiary, the face amount of the policy would be paid to you at his death, minus the $100 loan.
There would also be an adjustment for the amount of interest prepaid for that year, as interest on a loan is paid in advance. No further interest charges would be involved.

Dear Miss Feeley:
When a person makes a down payment on a new house, how much savings should he keep in reserve? Is there some generalization that would be helpful?

In our case, we have $10,400 in savings. My wife does not work and a baby is coming (no other children). We are putting $75 a month into mutual funds.
We have no debts, and are not big time spenders. My annual gross income is $10,000.

Since I am able to save regularly at a good rate, I am wondering if I could get by on less reserve savings than is usually advisable.

Dear C. N., Brookfield, Ill.
I'd say you're in pretty good shape, and I can understand your wanting to take advantage of the lower interest cost a large down payment on a home would mean. On the other hand, with that baby on the way, this really the time to spread yourself too thin?

Generally speaking, the breadwinner should have back-up funds amounting to from three to six months' gross income. In your case, this would mean a minimum of $2,500 should be readily available in case of emergency.

Keep in mind, too, that you may not be able to maintain your present rate of savings after the baby comes, also there's always the risk of illness and reduction of earning power.

The down payment isn't the only cash you'll need when you buy your home. Don't forget to allow funds for closing costs; appraisal, legal and survey fees; future taxes and insurance previously paid for by the seller; moving expenses.

It's bad enough having an accident. On top of that, why should you have to wait weeks for your insurance check?

You shouldn't have to, says the man from Nationwide—and points to the Nationwide record.

Fifty percent of all Nationwide auto claims are paid within 24 hours after they are received. More than two-thirds are paid within 72 hours.

Nationwide may even hold a world speed record in paying an auto claim: 15 minutes.

(Our customer drove up to a Nationwide drive-in claims station, nudged the gate, and scraped his fender before the very eyes of the man from Nationwide.)

Remember these fast facts when you're renewing your auto insurance.

And when you talk to Nationwide about lower premiums and special discounts for careful drivers, you'll find the man from Nationwide is on your side there, too.

• Independent Judiciary in Afghanistan

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP)—An independent judiciary has been established for the first time in Afghanistan, a part of the constitutional reform begun in 1964 by King Mohammad Zahir Shah.

A new constitution approved on Sept. 19, 1964, provided for an elected lower house, and a prime minister chosen by the king. It provided for establishment of an independent judiciary by Oct. 15, 1967, the king's 54th birthday.

The king inaugurated, as scheduled, a nine-judge Supreme Court, appointed by himself.

The constitution provided that the judges be at least 35 years old, except for the chief justice, who must be 45. Retirement is mandatory at 60, with a lifetime pension in the amount of their salary. None of the judges can be dismissed for 10 years, unless found guilty of crime or treason.

Members of the Supreme Court cannot belong to political parties, nor can they be appointed to any government post or become members of the parliament after they leave office.

Until now, judicial matters have been part of the activity of government machinery headed by the Minister of Justice.

The Afghan Supreme Court, under provisions of the 1964 constitution, will review provisions of the constitution and parliamentary legislation, solve disputes between individuals and the state, and preserve the public security. It will base its judgments on principles of Islamic law.

Louisiana Crime Subject of 6 Probes

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Does organized crime, specifically the Cosa Nostra, have influence on Louisiana government and the economy of the state? Six official investigations are under way to find out. It all began last month with a series of three articles by Life magazine that named people, places and things to support allegations that syndicated crime ran rampant in the state. The articles pictured Carlos Marcello, long-time New Orleans area racketeer figure, as the kingpin of Cosa Nostra activities in this section of the country. Marcello, the magazine claimed, had managed to penetrate the state capitol—even a portion of the governor's office. Gov. John McKeithen initially called the magazine's allegations a deliberate smear of Louisiana. However, after meeting in New York with Life's editors, the governor came home convinced some wrong-doing had indeed gone on. He said he apologized to Life. BULL BY HORNS From there, McKeithen emerged as a prime mover in getting state grand juries and special agencies to probe the Louisiana crime scene. These developments followed: • Alton Smith, a New Orleans contractor, has been indicted on public bribery charges growing out of claims he offered $25,000 to Aubrey Young, a former aide to McKeithen, to influence Young in his conduct in office. • Young, who was fired by McKeithen, turned state's evidence. • Capt. Roland Coppola, a Lafayette state police troop commander, was suspended from his post by McKeithen. • Malcolm V. O'Hara, a New Orleans criminal district judge, faces impeachment charges. Today the State Labor-Management Commission of Inquiry launches a probe into alleged racketeering in labor and management relations.

The bribery charges revolve around an alleged attempt by Union President James Hoffa's the Cosa Nostra to pull a $1-freedom from federal prison.

Study Faster—2 Check Environment

By The Reading Laboratory
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Check up on yourself the next time you study. For all the time you spend on your books, how much of it is really effective concentrated studying?

We'll take a look at the study environment you should have.

If it's not the kind of study environment you do have, you can be sure that much of your time is being wasted.

There are two kinds of environment — the external and the internal. First the external. • Study in a quiet room by yourself. NO television, NO distracting records and NO radio. Actually, it's better to have a slight, regular background noise than none at all. A slight noise, such as normal will make you raise your whole level of concentration. • There should be a good light, at least 100-watt, coming over your shoulder. If it's in front of you the glare will tire your eyes.

• Use a straight chair; a kitchen chair is perfect. In an easy chair you'll start day-dreaming.

• Hold your book about 14 inches from your eyes and on a 45-degree angle from the table. (Your eyes will tire quickly if the book is laid flat, because then your eyes are closer to the bottom of the page than the top, and you'll be constantly changing your focus down the page.)

The internal environment: • If you have any problems or if anything's worrying you, get it off your chest before you start studying. For example, if you're wondering whether or-and-so will go out with you Saturday night, call her up and find out!

• If it's not the kind of problem you can take care of with a phone call (you might be waiting for him to call you), a good trick is to write down whatever is bothering you. Once it's down in black and white, you'll usually be able to stop worrying about it. Besides, problems rarely look very serious once they're written out.

• Or if you have a headache or if you're sleepy, take an aspirin or take a nap and hit the books later. Don't waste your time studying unless you're going to get something out of it.

'Viet Protests Won't Sway U.S.'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Johnson administration, led by the President himself, is attempting to make it plain to the American people that despite antiwar demonstrations, America will not be swayed from its course in Vietnam.

Just hours after the last remnants of some 35,000 antiwar demonstrators were carted away from the rubbish-strewn Pentagon grounds yesterday, the chief executive told the annual Federation of Commercial, Clerical and Technical Employees:

"Those who began the war are not willing to explore ways to end it.

"They cling stubbornly to the belief that their aggression will be rewarded — by our frustration, our impatience, our willingness to stay the course.

"It will not be so."

AWAIT HANOI MOVE

Johnson told the meeting, which included delegates from

62 countries, "Peace and stability will come to Asia only when the aggressors know that they cannot take another people's land by force."

The President's words were echoed later in the day by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who told a meeting of the National Defense Executive Reserve that the war would not end until "Hanoi comes to believe that we have the will, the determination, the perseverance, patience and strength to see it through."

In a reference to the weekend demonstration, Humphrey said he had no doubt that "expressions of public support—or lack of support—have a good deal to do with convincing Hanoi, Peking and independent nations of Asia whether or not we can and will last the course."

Even as the President and the vice president were stressing firmness in the face of the enemy, the debate over U.S. policy in Vietnam continued unabated.

URGES BOMBING HALT

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., speaking at a "Vietnam week" forum at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln, called for an immediate end to the bombing of North Vietnam and a de-escalation of the U. S. military effort in the South.

"The odds and history are against our achieving a total military victory in Vietnam — and even if we did that, the social and political problems confronting that country would not be solved or worth the effort," he said.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., another critic of administration Vietnam policy, told a Notre Dame audience at South Bend, Ind., that it was time for Johnson "to admit the futility of the war plan and all its twists of escalation."

Cuban Exile Tells of Escape

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A newly arrived Cuban exile claims he was missed a date with a Fidel Castro firing squad by feigning insanity.

Recently he escaped with two companions from the Taco Taco prison camp, Fernandez said. "We proceeded to Las Villas Province, which I know. We took a fishing boat at pistol point, and headed for Miami."

Dem Eyes 3-Way Probe on New State Complex

LANSING (AP) — State Sen. Coleman Young, D-Detroit, said Monday he will seek a three-angle probe into the state's $29-million building complex in downtown Lansing.

Young said he wants $700,000 in building contract extras investigated along with a "leaky" floor in the two-level underground garage in the complex.

Young said he would request a grand jury investigation, an audit of the projects and a special senate committee to investigate contract procedures.

A possible grand jury investigation, Young said, could be an expansion of the State Highway Department probe already petitioned for by Gov. George Romney and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley in the State Court of Appeals.

Romney Monday asked the State Supreme Court to rule on whether the appeals court could make the unprecedented move of naming a grand juror. Such probes usually are carried on by circuit courts.

Young said he would ask State Auditor, Gen. Albert Lee to conduct a performance audit of the complex. The audit, Young said, would be aimed at determining how much, if any, of the $700,000 in extras on the project is due to contractors' fault and to the fault of the state's building contract procedure.

"This is a pretty insufficient method of construction," he said of the $700,000 in extras. "It's a type of operation, no private individual would put into effect."

'A Party for Shirley' Has a Fourth of July Flavor

MILLBRAE, Calif. (AP) — It could have been an old fashioned Fourth of July patriotic rally—that party they had for Shirley Temple Black Monday night—except it cost a hundred bucks a head to get in.

There was red, white and blue everywhere, hanging from chandeliers, stuck on the walls and draped across the head table. The flowers on the tables were a mixture of the three colors.

Even the Navy was consulted about location of the American flag on the podium. The Navy confirmed the flag's position on the right was right.

A bunch of Mrs. Black's friends—she was referred to constantly as Shirley—threw "A Party with Shirley" at a Millbrae hotel near San Francisco International Airport in the heart of San Mateo County. That's the district Shirley seeks to represent in her race against nine others for Congress.

Behind her on the wall was her campaign slogan for the Nov. 14 special election in which voters will decide the successor things.

to the late Congressman J. Arthur Younger: "Let us work to create, to build, to inspire."

The friends included such as singer Bing Crosby; S. Clark Beise, retired president of Bank of America; Charles Kendrick, chairman of the Schlage Lock Co.; R. Henry A. McKicking, chairman of Ampex; and Mrs. Bruce Bosley, wife of the San Francisco 49ers' center.

One of Shirley's former opponents, who withdrew in her favor last week, showed up with his wife. Former Rep. Robert Barry, R-N.Y., was introduced to the 450 dinner guests—400 of 'em paid—as the man who "put party above person." Everyone applauded.

Crosby introduced Shirley, and she made a 25-minute speech saying she wanted to go to Congress to represent the "good citizen. The forgotten man."

The Republican candidate said, "It's time for the moms and pops of America to take big her campaign slogan for the Nov. 14 special election in which mind him who is running voters will decide the successor things."

Viet Catholics Win Most House Seats

SAIGON (AP) — Roman Catholics who total just 2 million of South Vietnam's 17 million people, appeared today to have won the largest bloc of seats in the House of Representatives as they did in the Senate. But the House is a political patchwork of factions with no faction in the majority.

The 137-member House, said one local newspaper, "will be really representative of the confused political situation in Vietnam."

The Catholics captured about 20 per cent of the House seats, but tabulations showed Monday, while radical Buddhists opposed to President-elect Nguyen Van Thieu, a Catholic, nailed down about 20 seats, and army officers won 15. But the latter support for Thieu, who was an army general, is unpredictable.

The Hoa Hao and Cao Dai religious sects got a handful of seats. Both of these sects have tried to remain aloof from the war but have lately been sliding into the government camp.

MANY REFUGEES

The Catholics include many refugees from North Vietnam and are among the most staunchly anti-Communist of all groups. They would not take kindly to negotiations yielding too much to the Communists.

The Catholics' strong showing in the elections reflects their good political organization. The Buddhists are split into radical, moderate and other factions.

The House members are also divided along geographic lines: northerners and southerners. And it is impossible to predict how the House will work with the government of Thieu and Vice President-elect Nguyen Cao Ky, now premier and an official Buddhist. It seems that Thieu can count on the Catholics to support him on some issues but not on all.

The 60-man Senate elected Sept. 3 is generally divided along conventional pro- and anti-government lines and is expected to be the more conservative body. Roman Catholics landed one-third of the Senate seats.

Educator Urges High Court Gets Evolution Case Open Housing

WYANDOTTE (AP) — Maintaining that denial of equal housing is denial of equal educational opportunity, a member of the State Board of Education Monday called for support of statewide open housing legislation.

Americans must renew efforts to remove the barriers to education that still exist for disadvantaged individuals, said State Board Member James F. O'Neil.

He cited barriers of poverty, prejudice, of ignorance and of residence.

O'Neil urged Michigan citizens to write or contact their state representatives and senators in support of open housing legislation, called for by Gov. George Romney during the current special legislative session.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Constitution prohibits making freedom of inquiry subordinate to "the religious belief of the majority."

And both of them, the appeal says, do not "constitute the Darwinian theory as attacking and being inconsistent with the story of the creation of the earth, as set forth in the Christian Bible." The Arkansas law forbids the teaching in any tax-supported school in the state of fense, against William Jennings Bryan, for the prosecution, "the theory or doctrine that mankind ascended or descended from a lower order of animals."

Textbooks advancing the concept of evolution are banned. Teachers or textbook commissioners who violate the law may be fined up to $500 and fired.

Arkansas and Mississippi are the only two states with laws prohibiting the teaching of evolution theory. The Arkansas law was upheld by the State Supreme Court June 5 as a "valid exercise of the state's power to specify the curriculum in its public schools."

U. S. Mistake Kills 17 Viets

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Army gunship helicopters attacked a supposed guerrilla position in the Mekong Delta last Thursday, killed 17 Vietnamese civilians and wounded 23 more, the U.S. Command announced today.

U.S. headquarters said the helicopters sprayed the area with gunfire in response to a request from a South Vietnamese regimental commander who said his troops were receiving small arms fire from a tree line along one of the many canals in the area.

The helicopter crews also reported receiving small arms fire from the same area, seven miles southwest of Phung Hiep, in Phong Dinh Province. The helicopters were covering a unit of the 21st South Vietnamese Infantry Division that was withdrawing from an operation in the area.

A U.S. spokesman said there was a 500-foot overcast at the time and the visibility was a quarter of a mile.

Studded Tires Legal Nov. 1

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Commission has reminded Michigan motorists that studded tires will be legal on the state's highways after Nov. 1.

The Legislature passed a law during the past session legalizing the use of the studded tires between Nov. 1 and May 1.

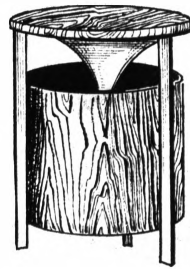

"These tires have proved effective as a safety factor in winter driving," said Henrik Stafseth, acting state highway director.

"However, it is best not to put them on until they are needed, as wear has some effect on the efficiency of the studs, and sometimes the studs are lost," Stafseth said.

Michigan and a number of other northern states previously had banned the use of the studded tires. They were legalized after National Safety Council tests showed the studded tires were 20 per cent more efficient than standard tires in stopping a car on ice.

The highway department said the tires now are legal in all states except Arizona, Hawaii, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Texas and Virginia.

100MM Cigarettes Causing King-Sized Stir

NEW YORK (AP) — Three-fifths of an inch is creating a flap in the tobacco industry and presenting smokers a bewildering choice of cigarettes. The three-fifths inch is roughly the extra length of tobacco added to king-sized filters to make cigarettes 100mm long. Manufacturers have poured out many brands of the 100s. The 100s leaped from 2 per cent of all cigarette sales in the first quarter of the year to 12 to 15 per cent now, says tobacco analyst John C. Maxwell Jr. He estimated they'll average about 10 per cent for the year. "The public's interest in longer cigarettes exceeded the industry's expectations," said a spokesman for one manufacturer. "The 100s leaped from 2 per cent of all cigarette sales in the first quarter of the year to 12 to 15 per cent now, says tobacco analyst John C. Maxwell Jr. He estimated they'll average about 10 per cent for the year."

It hasn't been all fancy packaging and slick ads for the 100s. WITHDRAWALS URGED Surgeon Gen. William H. Stewart has urged the cigarette industry to withdraw them from the market. "As research findings continue to confirm and to strengthen the scientific evidence incriminating cigarettes as a health hazard," Stewart told a Senate committee, "it is unconscionable that the cigarette industry should introduce and heavily promote the 100mm cigarette which cannot help but increase the hazard."

The tobacco industry maintains there's no scientific proof that smoking is a health hazard. Is a still longer cigarette in the works? "There's a practical point beyond which you can't go," said one industry source. But apparently 100mm isn't that "practical point." Liggett & Myers has introduced a still longer cigarette—101mm. The Civil War general Thomas (Stonewall) Jackson was accidentally killed by one of his own men at the Battle of Chancellorsville.

Junior Editors Quiz on SKIN DIVING

QUESTION: How does an Aqualung work?

ANSWER: Many divers use diving suits with helmets (or just helmets) which are connected to the surface by an air hose. This system works well in many cases, but much greater freedom is obtained if the diver can submerge using a breathing device that does not depend on any surface connection.

Divers who do not use an air hose attached to a helmet are called skin divers. A skin diver may swim on the surface, looking down, breathing through a tube called a snorkel.

But if he takes his air supply down below with him, this is SCUBA diving, the word coming from the first letters of self-contained underwater breathing apparatus. There are two types of SCUBA equipment: we illustrate one popular type which goes by the trade name of Aqualung, meaning water lung.

The two tanks contain compressed air. The diver gets air from the tube to his right: the exhaled air goes out the other tube and bubbles up through the water. Each tank enables a diver to stay down from 40 to 60 minutes.

Weights carry the diver below; he wears swimming flippers on his feet. Sunken treasure from Spanish galleons has actually been recovered by divers using this equipment.

Top Tour Pros Awaiting Start of Sahara Meet

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Defending champion Jack Nicklaus and all the leading professional golfers got in their final practice and competitive swings today on the eve of the annual $111,111 Sahara Invitational Tournament.

The second day of the pro-amateur play concludes today, with $11,111 up for grabs, and the 72-hole tournament proper starts Wednesday for a $100,000 prize. The winner collects $20,000.

The setting is the Paradise Valley Country Club, par 36-35-71.

Nicklaus hauled in the big money a year ago with rounds of 71-77-66-66-282.

Also entered are Arnold Palmer and such former winners of the Sahara as Billy Casper, 1955; Dick Sayers, 1964, and Phil Rodgers, 1961.

An international flavor was added when tournament director Herb McDonaid invited the British Ryder Cup team to participate in the event.

FIRST HALF LEAD

Frank Beard of Louisville, Ky., shot a 33-32-65 Monday to take a one-shot lead after the first half of the pro-am. The bespectacled Kentuckian birdied four of the last six holes on the Las Vegas municipal course.

At 66 and sharing second place were Tony Jacklin, English Ryder Cup player, Hawaiian Ted Makalena and Canadian Al Balding.

Five players were at 67: Dave Hill, Dick Lytle, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Englishman Dave Thomas, another member of the Ryder Cup team, and Gardner Dickinson, who won this pro-am last year.

Makalena captured a trio of amateurs — Dr. John Lake, George Vucanovich and Pete Summer — to lead the four-some best-ball competition with a net 54.

Clark, a sophomore from Lansing, scored three times in Alma's 27-0 victory over Adrian Saturday. Wilson, a junior from Albion, ran for 133 yards and scored once as Olivet trounced Hope 47-21.

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Clinton Jones' dream has turned into a rookie's nightmare, and his ambition into painful frustration.

For a young man with the driving desire which Jones possesses, the frustration is almost unbearable.

His dream is to be rookie of the year in the National Football League this season, perhaps another Gale Sayers. His ambition was to be a regular NFL halfback in his first year. It is now a virtual certainty he will achieve neither, because he doesn't even get to play.

Clinton Jones was on the Michigan State varsity for three years and an All-America candidate both his junior and senior seasons. Last March, he was the Minnesota Vikings' first draft choice among three first-round selections.

He was their apparent to Tommy Mason's halfback job when Mason was traded to the Los Angeles Rams. But it hasn't worked out that way.

For Jones, the picture began to blur when he got stuck at the College All-Star training camp last summer and missed the scrimmage game with the Chicago Bears. That, some say, hampered him from being the All-Stars' top halfback against the NFL champion Green Bay Packers.

Then he reported three weeks late to the Vikings' training camp—a critical blow to all rookies. "I think I would have been able to compete equally if I had been in camp," he says.

VIKINGS' TOP RUNNER

When he got to camp, he found Dave Osborn, a fast, tough third-year back from North Dakota running on the first team. Osborn still is on the first team, and the Vikings' top rusher this year.

Now Jones frets about when he may get his chance. He insists he has lost none of his confidence in his ability, and that he only needs the opportunity to prove himself.

But Vikings' Coach Bud Grant prefers to bring Clint along slowly, and also feels Osborn is among the NFL's best halfbacks.

"It is really frustrating," Jones said Monday night. "I hoped that, if possible, I could play and perform well enough to be in contention for rookie of the year."

"You want to play, and there isn't any place to play. I don't think my performance would hurt the team. If it did, then

I wouldn't have any business being in professional football."

So far, Clinton has carried the ball five times for nine yards from scrimmage and returned 10 kickoffs 196 yards, with his longest return 32. Even that frustrates him.

"Running back kickoffs is fine experience for running back kickoffs," he said. "But running plays from scrimmage is different, and that's the experience I need. I've never returned kicks; at Michigan State there was always somebody else to do that."

"I view myself as a running back, not as a kick return man. I feel confident that I can run from the line of scrimmage as well as anybody. I don't doubt my ability in any area as far as running, blocking or catching the ball. It's just a matter of playing, that's all."

He says he's found no difference between college and pro football except, "it's much more competitive; you have to know quite a bit more and you have to be more skilled all around."

He said Grant has neither encouraged him nor discouraged him this fall.

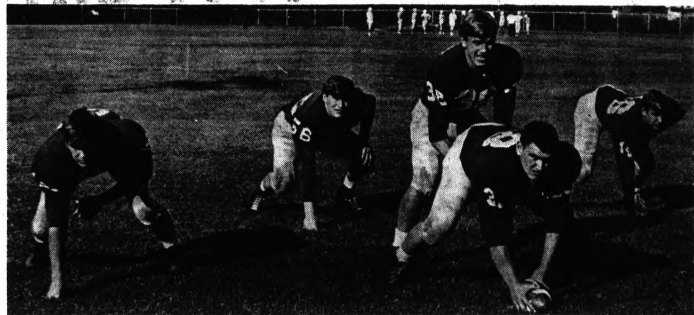

"There have been occasions in practice when he's given me coaching points and told me he realizes my ability. I have certain standards that drive me and sometimes if someone encourages me, then I strive harder."

Walled Lake, St. Mary Advance in State Polls

Oakland County's only two unbeaten prep football powers each advanced among the top ten in their class in this week's Associated Press state ratings.

Inter-Lakes League leader Walled Lake (6-0) stepped from eighth to seventh in Class A, while Orchard Lake St. Mary (6-0) hopped from 12th to 9th in Class C.

Both teams have clinched a share of their league titles. OL St. Mary tops the Northwest Catholic loop standings. Galesburg — Augusta's football juggernaut continues to dominate the Class C ratings with the kind of offense any prep coach would envy.

Coach Bill Maskill's Rams have won 15 straight games, including a 51-0 victory over Matawan Friday. Jack Hogg fired two scoring passes and Mike Carpenter scored twice as the Rams amassed 495 yards in total offense.

Flint Holy Redeemer and Quincy joined OLSM who moved into the Top

Ten in "C" as Middleville, Merrill and New Haven fell to the wayside.

There were no major changes in Class A, where Battle Creek Central rules the roost.

Detroit Servite and Dearborn Divine Child moved into the Class B ratings as Marysville and Dowagiac dropped out of the top ten. Dowagiac, ranked second last week, lost its first game of the season, a 21-18 decision to Kalamazoo Hackett.

MICKI KING

Czech Bike Rider Likes to 'Rock' Ride to Records

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A Czechoslovakian bike rider who takes home movies and listens to rock and roll records when he isn't smashing world marks, has become the temperamental "lone wolf" of Mexico's Pre-Olympic Games.

And Jiri Daler, who broke the 4,000-meter and 5,000-meter bicycle speed tests, says he didn't come to Mexico's third international sports competition to break records or even to win.

"I didn't really care much about this competition in Mexico," the only Czech cyclist here said after breaking the world mark for 5,000 meters Monday. "I'm only interested in the Olympics and in world cycling competitions."

Yet Daler asked special permission to get on the track by himself and set the two marks. Why, if he's here only to test facilities and his physical response to Mexico City's 7,347-foot altitude, did he do that?

"It's question of pride," he said. "I have to go back to Czechoslovakia, and the press will ask why I didn't. So I break records."

Daler broke the 4,000-meter mark of 4 minutes, 51.20 seconds held by Can Looy of Belgium with a time of 4:54.54 Saturday. He raced through 5,000 meters Monday in 6:05.74 to break the record of 6:13.4 set in 1960.

Pontiac Diver 2nd in Platform

MEXICO CITY (AP) — U.S. divers, who have dominated the field throughout modern Olympic competition, are off to a less than impressive start in the Pre-Olympic games now under way.

But their best day, they hope, is coming Tuesday when they take to the 10-meter platform.

The girls were confident Monday as they went through a rigorous practice session in the pool where the night before they had placed fourth through sixth behind two Russians and an East German on the three-meter springboard.

"We didn't bring out strongest talent in the springboard," said Hobie Millensley, Indiana University coach in charge of the Women's U.S. Olympic diving contingent. "But all these girls are great on the platform."

The girls are Patty Simms of Arcadia, Calif., Lt. Micki King, USAF, from Pontiac, and Cynthia Potter, Houston. They finished in that order in the three-meter event.

The only man entered for the United States is Keith Russell, of Mesa, Ariz., who placed second Sunday behind Franco Cagnotto of Italy, and for 11 years has been the protégé of the men's Olympic diving coach, Dick Smith of Phoenix.

COLORFUL SUIT

Miss King, her striped red, white and blue suit shining dully, carefully took her position for a dive.

If Micki is on, she should take it tomorrow, because her dives have the highest degree of difficulty," said Billingsley.

"I'm working on this new dive, the one I just did, and I think it will be a good one," Micki said. "Now is the time to use it to see how it fares in competition, rather than next year."

"We were a bit off yesterday," said Miss Potter, and we got no applause when we surfaced, even after a good dive. I'm not complaining but it takes some getting used to.

MSU Fresh Scheduled

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State football freshmen will play Notre Dame Nov. 1 as the first of two games scheduled for this fall.

The other MSU freshman game will be Nov. 10 at East Lansing against Indiana.

ABA Makes Jersey Debut

By The Associated Press
Professional basketball came to New Jersey Monday with Wilt Chamberlain among the 3,000 spectators. The Americans, pride of Teaneck, could have used him on the floor.

The Pittsburgh Pipers rallied from a 13-point third-period deficit to down the New Jersey Americans 110-107 in the opening American Basketball Association game for both clubs. Connie Hawkins scored 34 points for Pittsburgh and Charlie Williams added 32.

Dan Anderson hit for 41 points for the Americans, but it wasn't enough. The game ended in confusion as Art Heyman of New Jersey argued too loud and too long on a foul call and a technical foul was awarded to the Pipers, helping nail down the victory.

In the only other league action, Dallas won its second game against one defeat, knocking off Houston 100-83. Houston now is 1-2.

TOP SCORER

Southern Cal Bolsters No. 1 Grid Ranking

By The Associated Press
Unbeaten Southern California, unanimous choice as the nation's top college football team in the latest Associated Press poll, has what appears to be a breather coming up this Saturday.

At that, though, the Trojans will be more vulnerable than second-ranked UCLA. The Bruins, who replaced Purdue in the No. 2 position, are not scheduled. USC goes up against Oregon, loser of five games in a row before its 31-6 victory over Idaho last weekend.

The Trojans, 6-0 after defeating Washington 29-6 last Sunday, drew first-place votes from all 37 sports writers and broadcasters on the AP's national panel in the latest poll.

UCLA collected 303 points on a basis of 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second, 8 for third etc. The Bruins also lifted their record to 6-0 by beating Stanford, 21-16.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records and first place points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Southern California (37)	6-0	303
2. UCLA	6-0	303
3. Georgia	5-0	270
4. Tennessee	5-0	270
5. North Carolina State	4-0	252
6. Georgia Tech	4-0	252
7. Purdue	4-0	216
8. Wisconsin	4-0	216
9. Wyoming	4-0	216
10. Indiana	4-0	216

Irish Ponder Spartan Game Plans

By DUFFY DAUGHTERY
Head Football Coach
Michigan State University
Right now Notre Dame must be guessing about Spartan plans for Saturday's big game under the shadows of the Golden Dome.

Well, we'll have to keep the Irish guessing because, at the moment, we have no plan of attack — if I may use the word loosely — for our annual clash with the team we rated No. 1 in the nation just six weeks ago.

Whatever game plan we had concocted for Saturday now has to go out the window — and I'm glad the East Lansing football office is on the first floor.

With the loss of our star quarterback Jimmy Raye — he has badly bruised ribs — we are so thin I shudder at the thought of facing the Irish. Things are so bad that every able bodied defensive man who came out for football made last Saturday's trip to Minnesota where we again were hit by the long bomb.

This time we got bombed by Curt Wilson, a scrambling quarterback from Lawton, Okla., who hadn't called signals or thrown a game pass since last season. He hit with his first pass on a 40-yard play and was on his way, completing 14 of 25 for 282 yards.

When a team puts a pair of 9.5 receivers on the field it's almost impossible to cover them. Extremely fast receivers against our slower defenders have consistently hurt us this fall, especially against No. 1 Southern California, Houston and Minnesota. The Gophers made great use of speedy Chip Linton.

of Fargo, N. D. — and Big Ten 60-yard end sprint champion Hubie Bryant of Pittsburgh, Pa. They simply outran our defenders.

It was the first time in 26 years that the Spartans failed to make the scoreboard. We couldn't even score from the seven. We called a first down pass play. It turned out I made a bad call. The pass was intercepted.

NO UPSETS
The Gophers should make things mighty interesting for Purdue in their Nov. 11 Big Ten clash at Lafayette, Ind. Our 21-0 loss to Minnesota was considered an upset but there are NO upsets in the Big Ten.

Past history shows it's indeed a rarity for a Western Conference champion to go unbeaten. With the exception of our two great unbeaten Spartan teams of 1965-66 you'd have to go back to 1961 and 1964 when Ohio State won with unbeaten records.

Big Ten squads are so similar in size, quality and depth that on any given Saturday any one team can beat another.

Getting back to Saturday's game with the Irish, don't believe for one moment that this isn't one of football's big games. A lot of natural lustre may have rubbed off but Notre Dame is still a great team and we've got them scheduled through 1976.

Before the season started this game was billed as the battle of the century as a result of last year's thrilling 10-10 tie when both the Irish and the Spartans shared the national championship.

Against Illinois last week, Notre Dame really bounced back. Individually, QB Terry Hanratty and end Jim Seymour performed at their best.

Hanratty completed nine of 17 throws for 117 yards — four interceptions failed to faze him. Seymour caught five passes, running his 15-game total to 74 catches, an Irish record. He still has 15 games to play for Ara Parseghian.

Possibly the only way to stop Seymour, a junior from Berkeley, Mich., is for us to recruit our fastest men from the track and basketball squads.

Bruin Center Leads in NHL

Stanfield's 11 Points
Top Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — Fred Stanfield of the Boston Bruins, a center obtained from Chicago in a trade last spring, has taken over the National Hockey League scoring lead, the latest statistics disclosed today.

Stanfield collected six points on four goals and two assists last week, giving him 11 points for the campaign.

Yvan Cournoyer of Montreal and John McKenzie, Boston, are tied for second with 10 points. The latter tops the circuit in assists with eight.

Chicago's Bobby Hull and California's Billy Hicke are deadlocked for fourth with nine points. Cournoyer, Hull and Pittsburgh's Andy Bathgate share first place in goals with six.

COMFORTABLE CATCH — Kansas State's Rick Balducci has found a comfortable way to catch a pass from quarterback Bill Nosek in last Saturday's Big Eight game with Oklahoma. He was grounded immediately after catching the ball, but Oklahoma whipped the Wildcats, 46-7.

Wolverines Face Defeat

Scribe Sees Irish Prevailing

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP) — With such things going on as Oregon State beating Purdue, the Ol' Swami feels like he is working in quicksand. But he tries to get some of the fog out of his crystal ball this week after sinking to a season tally of 24-15 (.615).

Notre Dame 35, Michigan State 21 — There won't be any tie to haunt these two rivals in this one. Before the season started it looked like the hot game of the year, boiling over from the 10-10 stalemate of 1966 that started a classic controversy over No. 1 and the go-for-it tactics of Irish Coach Ara Parseghian. It's just another game now.

Minnesota 21, Michigan 10 — The Gophers have thrust themselves solidly into the Rose Bowl picture now that Coach Murray Warmath has quit playing quarterback roulette and settled on Curt Wilson, a signal-calling runner last year, whipped three touchdown passes Saturday in a 21-0 smashing of MSU. The Wolverines may get something going with quarterback Dennis Brown.

and Ron Johnson — and it's about time after four straight defeats. But the Gophers are now a fully-organized, inspired team and in the Pasadena driver's seat.

Purdue 27, Iowa 21 — After being kicked to death by Oregon State's Mike Haggard, the Boilermakers with Mike Phipps and Leroy "Golden" Keyes have to prove all over again their brilliance. They learned a valuable lesson and don't take anything for granted. And that includes Iowa.

Northwestern 20, Wisconsin 13 — The Wildcats, after a bitter 6-2 defeat by Ohio State, should end a four-game losing streak in this one, or it may last throughout the season. The winless Badgers, however, are feeling better after that 21-21 tie with Iowa behind excellent work of quarterback John Ryan. They totaled 430 yards against the Hawkeyes, and as the Old Coach says, "they may be getting momentum."

Illinois 18, Ohio State 14 — This is another traditional affair that is always a toughie. The line, after getting Notre Dame out of their hair, can do some real concentrating. The expected return of several key players after being shelled with injuries will be a big help. They'll need all the help they can get to win in Woody Hayes' backyard.

Indiana 28, Arizona 21 — This is a night game at Tucson and the Hoosiers — only unbeaten outfit in the Big Ten — must build a lead in the Western Athletic Conference with a 1-3-1 record. The Hoosiers are high and Arizona probably will be down for this one.

4-H Dog Obedience Classwork Slated

A dog obedience class for 4-H members will begin tonight with a demonstration at the 4-H building on N. Perry at 7:30.

All boys and girls can enter their dogs in the class by becoming a 4-H member. Reg Armstrong, a member of Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club and a 4-H leader, will have charge of the classes.

A veterinarian's vaccination slip must accompany the registration. Those planning to attend tonight's demonstration are urged to leave their dogs home. Regular classwork will start next week.

Additional information is available from the Co-operative Extension 4-H office.

Little League Teams Play F-Bird Prelim

The top two teams of the Waterford Township Little League Football League will tangle Saturday evening at Winsor Stadium as a preliminary to the Midwest Football League game between the Pontiac Firebirds and Flint Wildcats.

The playoff will feature the No. 1 team Bobcats against the No. 2 team Lancers, and the winner will earn the right to play the Lakeland Lakers, winner of the other division in Wednesday evening, Nov. 1, at Winsor.

Bill Oliver is coach of the Lancers and Rudy Mansfield coaches the Bobcats. Game time is 5:45 p.m. Saturday.

Firebirds Figuring Countdown to Title

The 66-8 stampede over the Lansing All-Stars Saturday night has started the Pontiac Firebirds talking about a count down toward the title, considering all the "ifs" and "buts" along the way.

The title chase in the Midwest Football League has now boiled down to three teams, Mt. Clemens, Ypsilanti and Pontiac and as it looks the final decision may not be reached until the last game of the season.

Mt. Clemens has lost one game to Dayton. Ypsilanti has lost two games, to Mt. Clemens and Pontiac. Pontiac has lost two games to Mt. Clemens.

The Firebirds face Flint, an old nemesis, Saturday night at Warner Stadium, and since Ypsilanti is idle, a victory for Pontiac would put the two teams in second place with 6-2 records.

Mt. Clemens can call its own score against the Detroit Downriver Steelers this week.

3-WAY TIE POSSIBLE

The following week, however, Pontiac is home to Detroit while Mt. Clemens has to travel to Ypsilanti for a showdown. Should the Vikings defeat Mt. Clemens and Pontiac win the next two, the league would be thrown into a three-way deadlock.

Then everything would hinge on the final Saturday night of play, Nov. 18. Pontiac is at Ypsilanti and Mt. Clemens is at Dayton that night.

If Pontiac were to beat Ypsilanti that night, and Dayton to beat Mt. Clemens again, the Firebirds could win the championship.

If Mt. Clemens and Pontiac were to win their games, it would mean a playoff between the two.

If Ypsilanti defeated Pontiac and Mt. Clemens lost to Dayton,

Japan's Giants Lead in Series

TOKYO (AP) — The Yomiuri Giants, Central League baseball champions, posted their third victory in Japan's World Series Tuesday.

The Braves, winners of the Pacific League, will have to win Wednesday's fourth game to prevent the Giants from capturing the best-of-7 series.

Sadasharu, Oh, the Giants' slugging first baseman, hit a two-run homer in the fifth.

then Ypsilanti would win the title and finally if Ypsilanti and Mt. Clemens both won then they would have to play off.

"It's unfortunate we had to play Mt. Clemens in two of the first three games," said head coach Tom Tracy. "We have a new ball club and it took us a few weeks to jell. It would be a different game if he had an other crack at Mt. Clemens."

The Firebirds have only two home games remaining both in the next two weeks, except if there was a playoff and the site of the game would probably be determined by a flip of the coin.

The Firebirds are working out now twice weekly, Wednesday and Thursday evenings under the lights at Drayton Field at Sashabaw and Dixie.

Chrysler Asks Change

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Despite its near domination of stock car racing this season, Chrysler Corp. has asked sanctioning bodies for permission to use two four-barrel carburetors on its hemi engines in 1968. The request probably will be turned down. A source close to both USAC and NASCAR, the principal stock car racing circuits, says few if any horsepower changes will be recommended or needed.

The rules committee which recommends guidelines for stock car racing will make its report to the Auto Competition Committee of the U.S.A.C.U.S. in Las Vegas Nov. 18. ACCUS, which governs all forms of auto sports in this country, usually follows the recommendations of its members.

Chrysler's argument is that it is at an unfair disadvantage in stock car competition because its hemispherical combustion engine is limited to one four-barrel carburetor, while Ford's 427-inch wedge engine is allowed to use two.

The company's performance chief, Ronnie Housholder, made the formal request to NASCAR and USAC.

FULL INVENTORY

Chrysler also contends that since it sells twin carburetors for its street version of the hemi power plant, it should be allowed to use its full inventory in racing.

A source familiar with Chrysler's racing products says ad-

Penn State Sophomore Earns Scholarship

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — As college football players go, Penn State's Neal Smith is something of a freak.

Smith, starting at defensive halfback as a sophomore, showed up last year and went out for football on his own — without a scholarship, or grant-in-aid as the NCAA officially calls them.

Recruiters said he was too small, as a 170-pound tight end and middle linebacker in high school, to play college football. Joe Paterno, the Penn State coach, said he knew about Smith, but that was it. Neither he, nor other recruiters, were seriously interested in him. Paterno says Smith is now a 1-in-400 shot.

"Every spring we get about 40 boys out on their own on the first day of practice," Paterno said. "By the second day they're down to about 20 and then it drops off to nothing."

Multiply 40 by 10 years and you've got 400 — or about how many Neal Smiths have failed since the last walk-in, as they're called, won a regular berth as a sophomore at Penn State. "I just wanted to see if I could make it," Smith said. "I didn't receive any scholarship offers, but I got a bunch of letters. When they found out my size, they didn't seem to be interested."

By the way, Smith now has a scholarship.

Ex-Champ Patterson Confident of Win

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Floyd Patterson has been written off by many boxing experts. But he doesn't talk like a 32-year-old fighter whose career is near an end.

"I feel very good," Patterson said following a workout in preparation for his 12-round bout with youthful Jerry Quarry at the Olympic Auditorium here Saturday.

"I think I will win," he added in a hushed tone. "I'm confident."

Saturday's fight will be the last of the first round bouts of the eight-man World Boxing Association tournament to select a successor to deposed champion Cassius Clay.

"I try not to think about retiring," Patterson said. "I know the day will come eventually when I have to retire but when that day comes I'll face it then."

The quiet-spoken veteran is seeking the heavyweight title for the third time. He is the only man ever to regain the crown.

Prospect Dark for Michigan vs. Minnesota

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Hapless Michigan, in the midst of its worst football season since 1958, faced the prospect of facing Minnesota Saturday with most of its starting offensive linemen sidelined with injuries.

Guards Ray Phillips and Dennis Montelbi, both injured in a 27-20 loss to Indiana Saturday, remain doubtful starters for the match with the Gophers at Minneapolis.

Guard Dick Yanz, injured in the California game Sept. 30, still is hobbling on a bad knee. Sophomore tackle Werner Hall, slated to fill in against the Gophers, was injured in Monday's scrimmage against the frosh. Hall suffered a possible fractured forearm, but Coach Bump Elliott said the extent of the injury was not immediately known.

Elliott put his team through a rare Monday scrimmage for the second week in a row. Michigan has a 1-4 record.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If a body meets a body coming through the credibility gap, it is only natural they should stop and compare notes.

At any rate, the two GOP stalwarts came out with the same general impression. Both suspect that President Johnson has been suppressing good news.

Reagan gave vent to the theory that the war in Vietnam has taken a turn for the better and that Johnson is keeping it quiet.

Ford, meanwhile, voiced doubts that the administration "is as eager for a tax increase as some of its spokesmen allege."

OFTEN HEARD

I have often heard U.S. presidents accused of painting the clouds with sunshine, but in my memory Johnson is the first to be accused of reversing the process.

Can it be that LBJ is a turncoat Mary Poppins, who is giving us a spoonful of medicine to make the sugar go down?

I have no information beyond the suspicions entertained by Ford and Reagan. But just the very notion is enough to shake one of my articles of faith.

Man and boy, I have always operated on the principle that if there is anything a person can put his trust in, it is bad news.

I recall when I was but a lad my father took me on his knee and dropped a pearl of wisdom into my shell-like ear.

"Son," he said, "when somebody tells you things are bad, you had better believe it."

Nothing that has happened in the ensuing years provides grounds for having my father arrested as a false prophet.

But suppose it turned out the Ford-Reagan suspicions were well founded — that Johnson has been protecting us from the happy truth regarding the war and taxes.

Would this not cast a shadow of doubt over the other bad news flowing out of Washington? Are our rivers really polluted? The air actually poisonous to breathe? Is smoking a health hazard? Is the population truly exploding? Are autos unsafe? Does China have nuclear weapons? Is haldness incurable? I'm not saying Reagan and Ford are wrong, mind you. Nevertheless, I find it difficult to imagine a politician as astute as Johnson would risk playing the role of an inverted Pollyanna. A thing like that could cost him the pessimist vote.

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

If you want to use fragment bids, the first thing to do is get together with your favorite partner or partners and agree on which ones to use. As a starter, you should stick to the sequences that start with a one-over-one response.

JACOBY In case you missed yesterday's column, a fragment bid is a superjump in a new suit. A regular jump is forcing and supposedly shows strength in the suit.

This superjump is also forcing and also shows tremendous support for partner and a singleton or fragment in the new suit.

Fragment bids may well be described as high level bridge. You can get to even a higher level if you add things to them.

North's four club call is a fragment bid. What is South's jump to five spades?

Roger Stern of New York who made that five spade bid had never discussed it with Larry Roster of Jersey City, but Roger and Larry are scientists and Roger felt sure that Larry would know what it meant.

Larry is not one of our fastest players, but after two or three minutes of thought he decided that Roger was saying, "I have first round club control, but the heart suit may be wide open and I have two potential heart losers."

After that, Larry bid six hearts to show the ace of that suit and for Roger went all the way to seven spades.

Of course, they might have gotten there with Blackwood. However, if Roger had used Blackwood and Larry had shown only one ace, Roger would not have known what to do.

♥♦♣♦ CARD Sense ♦♣♥

Q—The bidding has been:

You, South, hold:

What do you do?
A—Bid one heart. This is better than a double because you are poorly prepared for spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You bid one heart. West bids two clubs and North raises you to two hearts. What do you do now?

'Infant Safety in Car Ignored'

Protective Devices Criticized by Doctor

WASHINGTON (AP)—A New Jersey pediatrician said Monday "the infant is still the most neglected passenger in an automobile today," as far as safety is concerned. And he called most available protective devices worthless.

Dr. Seymour Charles of New ark said proper restraints for infants up to six months old still are unavailable, so in a collision, "the infant becomes a missile, threatening himself and others in the car with injury and death."

Charles, president of Physicians for Automotive Safety, a national organization, noted recent advances in protective devices—including increased requirements for seat-belts for people beyond the infant stage. He was interviewed at a scientific exhibit on child restraints at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Pediatrics, including a section devoted to "lethal designs for infant passengers."

'NOT WORTH A PENNY'

Such equipment included what Charles termed, "the conventional flimsy, inexpensive child seats called car seats and bassinets which are not anchored, and which cost between $3 and $10 but are not worth a penny."

Charles and Dr. Arnold Constad, of Springfield, N.J., secretary of the physicians' automotive safety group, said two encouraging developments have taken place in recent months, including:

1. An announcement by the National Highway Safety Bureau on Oct. 12 of proposals for new safety standards on infant and child-restraint systems.

2. Development by the General Motors Corp. of a special, entirely anchorable, child safety seat and by the Ford Motor Co. of a special safety shield. Both are used in conjunction with seat belts.

Both doctors urged all parents to see to it that infants and small children always ride in the rear seat—never in the front seat—for best chances of avoiding injury in the event of collision.

Board OKs 2 Rezoning, Sets Budget Hearing

The Waterford Township Board last night approved two rezoning requests, rejected another and set a public hearing date for the township's proposed 1968 budget.

The hearing on the proposed $1.4-million budget will be held at next Monday night's board meeting.

A local property tax levy of 4.3 mills is proposed to help finance the budget. Last year, by comparison, the township levied 3.6 mills.

Copies of the proposed budget are now on display in the township clerk's office, according to Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson.

The board concurred with previous recommendations by the Township Planning Commission in rendering decisions on the three rezoning requests.

Flint Open Housing Law Is Given Surprise Boost

FLINT (AP)—A city councilman, who last summer opposed an open housing law, unexpectedly reversed his position Monday night and appears to have insured passage of a similar measure for this industrial city of 200,000 and its 40,000 Negroes.

The surprise move by Councilman Alton C. Smith, a public school teacher, resulted in a 5-4 favorable vote on the proposal's first reading.

After the council defeated the open housing proposal last summer, Flint's Negro mayor, Floyd McCree, threatened to resign rather than "live an equal opportunity lie."

Many city officials said they would follow McCree from City Hall, and the mayor received support from demonstrators who camped in front of the municipal building for several days.

McCree later reconsidered and decided to remain in office. The mayor in Flint is a councilman and is chosen by members of the council.

Before the new open housing law becomes effective, it must be approved a second time at a meeting scheduled for next week.

Observers said it would be difficult for Smith to change his position again next week, in view of a lengthy explanation for his position switch.

Smith said that as late as last week, although he favored open housing, he hesitated to vote for the ordinance because he felt a referendum position would be circulated and the measure ultimately would be defeated by Flint voters.

Now, however, Smith said at Monday night's meeting, "I do not find the wild, widespread feeling that I found last summer." He said he still believes the question will go to a referendum, but "Now it may have a fighting chance for survival."

The ordinance would bar racial discrimination in rental and sale of homes. Exempted from the law would be owners of buildings with five or fewer apartments and religious or fraternal organizations.

In other business last night, the board approved a special assessment district street-lighting project, following a public hearing.

A total of eight lights will be installed on Lawrence and Frankman streets.

Total annual charge will be $386 of which benefiting residents will pay $382.44, with the township financing the balance.

Based on 49% assessments, charge per assessment will be $6.11 per year.

FENCING BIDS

Four companies submitted bids for fencing for Drayton Ball Park and Drayton Plains Cemetery.

The two lowest combined bids were turned in by E. E. Welland ($825) and the Security Fence and Supply Co. ($858). Bids ranged to a high of $1,150.

All bids were referred to Clerk Arthur Salley for a review and a report at next Monday's meeting.

Also last night, the board authorized township engineering consultants Johnson and Anderson, Inc., to advertise for bids for a proposed sanitary sewer project for Voorheis, Elizabeth Lake Road, Moorhead, Colrain and Chadwick streets.

PLANS REVISED

The engineers revised plans after initial bids taken on the project were more than 15 per cent higher than estimated construction costs.

A second public hearing will be held at next Monday's board meeting on a proposed ordinance regulating connection charges and sewerage disposal project to be implemented in the southeastern corner of the township.

The sewers are to be connected to the Pontiac system through a previous agreement between the township and city.

The board also approved a request for transfer of a 1967 Class C and SDM licensed business at 4825 M59 (Airway Lanes) from MB & B Recreation to Airways Enterprise, Inc.

"Our Oil Man? Sure, and That's Not All

He's Our Top Insurance Man, as Well

He makes sure that we always have plenty of oil in our tank, without our ever having to think about it. Or better still, without the possibility of the tank running dry and freezing us all on a cold night.

He can give us complete oil burner service if we should ever need it. He also meters every ounce of oil he delivers accurately. An H. H. Smith contract insures us of the smallest possible monthly payments and in case of sickness or accident we're protected against any fuel oil payments until everything is OK again.

Add all that up and an H. H. Smith contract spells 4 ways, sure fire heat. Kettering Picks King and Queen

By DONNA FURLONG

Students of Waterford-Kettering High School are back to normal routines after the homecoming rush.

Crowned queen of the 1967 Captains was Alice Kelly, and Pete Evans was crowned king.

Representatives for the junior class were Lynn Batchelor and Harry Booker. Paul Curry and Chris Siano were elected by the sophomores.

The winning float "Happiness Is Success" was entered by the senior class.

Although W-K will not be an official member of the Wayne-Oakland League until next fall we are helping organize its Vietnam Christmas Drive.

DRIVE UNDER WAY

The drive began last Monday and will continue until Nov. 1, at which time all the schools will send their "goods" to Kettering. Everything will then be wrapped, packaged and sent to specific bases in Vietnam.

The project was begun by Marjory Donavan's fourth hour global cultures class.

W-K students got the ball rolling by making up a list of things needed and distributing the lists, along with boxes to homerooms.

They will also be responsible for picking up the boxes at the end of the drive.

TRISCHOOL PAPER

On Friday the first issues of the trischool newspaper will be sold.

This year the three high schools in Waterford, Kettering, Mott and Township are combining their journalistic skills in putting out one paper for all.

The six-page paper has not yet been named. A contest will be held among the schools to choose a title.

W-K students are working under the guidance of Stephen Hubbell, faculty sponsor and Pete Evans, student editor-in-chief.

Cranbrook Event Nears

By DAVID DYE

Cranbrook School's homecoming is taking on new dimensions this year,

Homecoming Is Near

By KARIN HEADLEE

This question is just one of many that is causing homecoming fever to mount at Rochester High School.

Based on the theme of commercials, the floats of the sophomore, junior and senior classes will be shown for the first time in Friday's homecoming parade. Also in the parade will be club cars, the varsity band and the queen and her court.

The procession will begin at 1:15 p.m. following the annual assembly.

During spirit week, tomorrow through Friday, classes will be judged on ac-

Sophomore class representatives are Lori Allen and Kathy Koz. Charlene Wallerman and Adeline Munchlano are members of the junior court.

The grand finale will be held Saturday night, as couples dance to the music of the Kwikies and the Where Abouts.

Sponsored by the Student Council, "Golden Autumn" is being planned by Gail Moynihan and her committee of Debbie Durkee, Kris Lindquist, Tom DeCharme and Tom Malkasian.

Outing at Adelphian

By GAIL GALLANT

Enthusiasm ran high among 40 Adelphian Academy students who recently spent two days in the Smoky Mountains of Tennessee reports W. W. Smith who, along with Wayne Smith, Donald Rice and Dorison Wolters, Academy staff members, supervised the energetic group.

During their outing students slept in beds on the ground. Dan Wohlers, sophomore from Holly, was awakened at 2:30 Sunday morning by a friendly 300-pound bear near him.

Pumpkin Time Is Here Again

By ANNE KILLEEN

Pumpkin-happy exchange students will give the old jack-o'-lantern a new look at North Farmington this weekend.

With goblins waiting just around the corner, Exchange Club members will stage their annual Pumpkin Sale Saturday.

Participating in the Halloween caper will be NFHS foreign students Yvonne dePrado, Finland; Lene Kibsgaard, Denmark; Jutta Umland, Germany; and Bill Karavanas, Greece.

The Halloween customs were another "new" event for the exchange students.

NFHS students will load their trunks with pumpkins and begin their campaign Saturday morning.

FROM 8 A.M.

This year's motto, "Put a Pumpkin on Your Porch," will resound in the local neighborhoods from 8 a.m. until the last plump pumpkin is sold.

For those people who wish to have a larger selection than that held in a car's trunk, pumpkins will also be sold at the high school.

Donations will be received for all pumpkins. Pumpkin profits will go into the exchange program. North Farmington's Exchange Club gives students $50 for traveling abroad in the summer with American Field Service or Youth for Understanding programs.

This year's exchange students are supplied with a class ring, yearbook, senior pictures and half the cost for the senior trip by the Exchange Club.

After the porches are beaming with pumpkins, participants in the sale will enjoy a Halloween feast at the home of Bill Teeples, president of the club.

Leadership Course Set at Brother Rice

By GARY MILLER

At a recent meeting of the Brother Rice High School Student Council many new innovations were discussed and acted upon.

One dealt with the possibility of instilling "new blood" in the Student Council.

This idea became reality when it was announced that a Leadership Development Course (LDC) would begin at Brother Rice in the near future to give the student an insight into the duties and functions of the Student Council.

The LDC will be given to 25 students two nights a week over a two week period. Those chosen will be informed of their eligibility by letter.

READY FOR BATTLE

After a first place tie between the junior float and senior float, the two classes are ready to do battle again.

This time seniors have challenged juniors to an attendance battle at Notre Dame game this weekend. The class having the most students in attendance will win a cash prize.

2 Major Changes Made at Marian

By PAT POLMEAR

Students find two major changes in programming at Marian this year.

Affecting the school as a whole, is the elimination of homecomers. Students go directly to first-hour class.

"One reason for this is that IBM computers have reduced the need for home-room advisers," said Sister Anna Marie, principal.

"Announcements may be made any time and the relationships between students and student leaders will be new and challenging," she added.

Affecting the individual classes is the switch-over in the religion department.

NEW SYSTEM

The format is now a pass-fail system and religion marks will not appear on the report cards.

More discussions and a closer look at how a girl rates as a Christian rather than an "A" or "B" student will be emphasized.

"Religion class is not for information, but for formation of the young Christian women," said Sister Mary Gael, head of the religion department.

Kingswood 'Peppy'

By CATHY SHINNICK

In preparation for Cranbrook Homecoming, Kingswood girls will trek to their brother school Friday and participate in the pep assembly, a preliminary for the bonfire later that night.

Auto Chase Suspect Held

A warrant for fleeing a police officer was being sought today for a White Lake Township man who allegedly was involved in a high-speed automobile chase with a Waterford Township policeman.

The suspect, William F. Phillips, 21, of 9126 Buckingham, was arrested at about 2:30 this morning by Patrolman Glenn Luehmann following the five-mile chase in which speeds reached 120 miles an hour.

The chase began on Pontiac Lake Road near Cass Lake Road where Luehmann clocked the suspect traveling 85 miles an hour in a 40 mile speed zone.

Luehmann said the suspect increased his speed when the policeman tried to stop him.

From Pontiac Lake Road, the motorist turned west on M59, north on Crescent Lake Road, west on Tubbs, south on Crescent Lake and west on M59, again with Luehmann in pursuit.

The driver turned into a driveway at 5663 M59, after he encountered a roadblock at M59 and Dundee, and was taken into custody.

Chinese Seized at U.S. Border

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. Immigration officials have seized two Chinese at the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel for allegedly trying to enter the United States with false documents.

Both had spent several years in Cuba, it was alleged.

The immigration officials also arrested two native Canadian citizens and a native of Canton, who was naturalized Canadian in 1958, for smuggling aliens into the U.S.

Walter A. Sahli, district director of the U.S. Immigration Service at Detroit, said it was not certain if there were any "political implications," adding he was interested to know if the two Chinese have any communist connections.

Arrested for attempted illegal entry were Albert Chi, 42, and Li Long, 39. The charges against the pair are punishable by a maximum of six months in jail and $500 fines.

People in the News

John Steinbeck, the 65-year-old Nobel Prize-winning novelist, was in satisfactory condition today after undergoing successful surgery yesterday for a ruptured spinal disc.

Steinbeck has been at University Hospital, New York University Medical Center, since Oct. 8.

The arrest last week of his son, John Steinbeck IV, on a narcotics charge drew attention to the famed author's condition.

Manville Estate to Last Wife

Tommy Manville, the 11-times-married asbestos heir who died at the age of 73, left his millions to his last wife, 26-year-old Christina Erdlen Manville.

Manville's will, filed for probate in Westchester County Surrogate's Court in White Plains, N.Y., yesterday, leaves the widow $250,000 and two trust funds. Manville, who died of a heart attack Oct. 8, also left the widow his automobiles, jewelry and the $50,000 home at Chappaqua, N.Y., where the couple had lived since their marriage in 1960 and where he died.

Documents filed with the will placed a nominal valuation of more than $1.1 million on Manville's estate, but there have been unofficial reports that he was worth up to $30 million.

O'Toole to Play 'Mr. Chips'

Peter O'Toole, the British actor who brought Lawrence of Arabia to the screen, was named today for the starring role in a musical remake of "Goodbye, Mr. Chips."

Pop singer Petula Clark has been picked to play Chips' wife — a part that made Greer Garson famous in the 1939 Hollywood movie.

The new musical will be shot in England. The governors of Harrow, one of England's most illustrious schools, have given permission for exteriors to be filmed there.

In the original movie Robert Donat played Mr. Chips, the kindly schoolmaster who submerged his life in the traditions of the old school.

Three Fliers Rescued From Yukon Wilds

INUUVIK, Northwest Territories (AP) — Chilled but cheerful after spending nine days marooned in near zero weather near their downed plane, three polar fliers rested in a hospital today and told of their forced landing in the Yukon wilderness.

The men—Thor Tjontveit, 30, Fairbanks, Alaska; Rolli Storch, 22, Oslo, Norway; and Reiner Pedersen, 48, chief navigator for Scandinavian Airlines system—were rescued by helicopter Monday night.

Flight Lt. John Crawford of the Royal Canadian Air Force said Tjontveit had face scratches and Pedersen an injured arm. But all three were walking and apparently in good condition when a U.S. Air Force helicopter from Fairbanks reached their makeshift camp 90 miles southwest of Inuvik.

The three men were on a 500-mile flight from Fairbanks to Inuvik Oct. 14—the first leg of a trip to chart a light plane route to Oulash, where one engine sputtered and stopped.

"Pilot Tjontveit didn't feel he could make it over the mountains with one engine," Crawford related after talking to the Point, where there is an alternate airstrip. Forty-five miles northeast of Old Crow, the second engine died, forcing a landing.

Crawford said it was "a good landing," in a barren valley, where there was a light cover of snow. The weather was overcast, and the temperature near zero most of the time the men were marooned, but they had sleeping bags, food and a rifle. They shot a caribou near their downed plane.

The amendment is intended to replace the present "discriminations in housing" provisions of the code which has been attacked as too limited. The amendment would cover single family homes and building lots and most rental facilities. It also would contain provisions to combat "blockbusting" tactics by real estate salesmen.

Empress Farah's Crown Jewelers' Biggest Job

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The crown that the Shah of Iran will place on Empress Farah's head at his coronation Thursday was the biggest job ever undertaken by the famous Parisian jeweler, Van Cleef and Arpels.

Pierre Arpels said today, "It is the first crown we have ever made," the jeweler said in an interview.

The Shah's crown was made in Tehran for his father in 1921 by a Russian refugee.

Shahbanou (Empress) Farah, the 29-year-old brunette beauty who was an obscure architecture student in Paris until she became the Shah's third wife eight years ago, will be the first woman ever to be crowned in a coronation ceremony in the 2,500-year history of the Persian monarchy.

150 CARAT EMERALD

The four-pound gold and platinum frame of her crown holds a 150 carat emerald, 499 diamonds, 36 rubies, 37 more emeralds and 105 pearls.

"It has been on my mind for more than a year," Arpels said. "Eighteen jewelers worked on it for four and a half months in Paris and eight more took another month and a half to finish it here."

"Fifty designs were submitted and 30 of them came from us. We had to do designs without dreaming what jewels we would see in Iran—and I have never seen jewels like these before."

Gems for the crown were taken from Iran's crown jewels, which support the country's currency and are considered to be one of the richest collections in the world. They are kept in the basement vault of a Tehran bank.

Air Base in N. Viet Bombed for 1st Time

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force, Marine and Navy jets, in a coordinated raid today, bombed North Vietnam's biggest air base—the Phuc Yen air base—18 miles northwest of Hanoi—for the first time in the war.

The Phuc Yen field, where the North Vietnamese based some squadrons of their Soviet-designed MIG fighters, had been on the Pentagon's prohibited list.

A U.S. spokesman said the American planes flew through challenging MIGs, intense anti-aircraft and missile fire to attack the installation. Pilots reported shooting down a MIG21 and probably destroying a second.

The aerial action was announced as South Vietnamese infantrymen clashed with the guerrilla force just south of Saigon and the Vietcong shelled two government positions less than 25 miles north of the capital.

provinces mopped up in a fortified village near the South China Sea where they reported they killed 28 North Vietnamese regulars—in seven hours of fighting Monday.

Over North Vietnam, American warplanes bombed five railroad yards in scattered areas Monday, including a raid for the second time in as many days on the Haiphong yards 17 miles from the center of the port city.

U.S. Navy jets also attacked a highway bridge three-quarters of a mile from Haiphong's heart and the Hoa Lac airfield 20 miles west of Hanoi, which until recent raids was a base for MIG interceptors.

In a delayed report, the U.S. Command disclosed that 17 Vietnamese civilians by mistake were wounded and 23 more in the Mekong Delta last Thursday.

The helicopters attacked a treetop line from a canal from where they reported receiving gunfire. A spokesman said the gunships fired at the request of a South Vietnamese regimental commander who said his troops were receiving enemy fire. The spokesman said the incident occurred at dusk and the helicopters were unaware of two small hamlets in the area.

In the fighting around Saigon, several battalions of South Vietnamese infantrymen jumped off a dawn on a search and destroy sweep 18 miles west-southwest of the capital.

In three clashes with guerrilla units in the next five hours, a government spokesman reported 11 guerrillas were killed, seven prisoners were taken, and 24 weapons were seized. The weapons included a Soviet anti-aircraft gun with six barrels, the first such weapon reported captured by Vietnamese troops.

The spokesman said the government force had no casualties.

LIGHT CASUALTIES

Vietnamese infantrymen suffered light casualties in one mortar shelling 12 miles north-northwest of Saigon, while eight civilians were wounded in the other, 25 miles northwest of the capital.

In the northernmost 1st Corps area, troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division reported killing 48 North Vietnamese in fighting Monday in a fortified village 13 miles northwest of Tam Ky, on a coastal plain between Highway One and the sea.

U.S. spokesmen reported the enemy force had been tentatively identified as a battalion about 500 men—of the 3rd North Vietnamese Regiment.

A U.S. spokesman said 15 American soldiers were killed in the fighting and 17 were wounded.

At dawn today the air cavalrymen launched a mop up sweep of the area.

UCLA Chief Warns of LSD

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Chancellor Franklin Murphy of the University of California at Los Angeles says he is sending a warning of the dangers of LSD and other drugs to all 29,000 students. Murphy said Monday he doesn't feel there is an unusual drug problem at the campus. He said the warning notes the penalties for use, sale and possession of drugs.

The note also describes university policy which declares that students using, possessing or distributing drugs are subject to dismissal.

Florida Police Are Impartial in Ticketing Policy

DANIA, Fla. (AP)—It makes no difference whether politicians support the Dania Police Department. The police ticket supporters and critics alike.

Mayor Dick Marant, who supports the policemen, and City Commission candidate Robert Houston, a critic of the department, got identical tickets last week.

Both cases were dismissed Monday by an equally impartial judge.

Mental Hospital Planning to Use Pinball Machine

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—A psychiatrist at Colorado State Hospital at Pueblo wants to try something new as therapy for mental patients—a pinball machine.

Dr. Ann Courtright has asked the state purchasing office to approve $50 rental for a pinball machine for two months.

State Purchasing Director Low Midgletown said he requested money to institutions Director David A. Hamil, who said he thinks the idea is worth trying.

The machine will be set so that the player isn't charged. There won't be any payoff, either.

LBJ's Number Not Up in SF

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — People are very interested in what President Johnson has to say, reports Mrs. Joseph Borrelli.

A story appearing in the Sunday Chronicle said you could dial 333-8860 if you were in Washington and hear a recording of a message from the President.

The story didn't mention that you should use area code 202 if you weren't in Washington.

Mrs. Borrelli happens to have the same number. Her phone began ringing about 6 a.m. Sunday and interest hasn't waned.

"SITTING IT OUT" — Mrs. Borrelli said the telephone company suggested the Borrellis keep the receiver off the hook. But they didn't want to shut themselves off from other members of the family—so decided to sit it out.

Man Changes Mind on Jail; So Does Judge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Grady Wright, a Yale graduate and former stockbroker and probation officer convicted of possessing marijuana, changed his mind and said he wants out of jail.

Wright, 33, fought his conviction last week on the grounds he uses the drug as a religious sacrament.

Superior Court Judge Mark Brandt thought Wright after his conviction he might be released on $1,000 bail if he agreed not to smoke marijuana pending a hearing. Wright refused.

Wright told Brandt on Monday he has speaking engagements to fulfill with his wife and two children to support, and he doesn't like it in jail. He said he would leave marijuana alone in exchange for his freedom.

Brandt thought it over and denied bail.

Boy, 12, Killed by Explosion of Lit Gas Cartridge

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A 12-year-old Albuquerque boy was killed Monday after a carbon dioxide cylinder he was playing with exploded, police said.

Officers said Michael Andrew Evanko had cut a hole in the cylinder, put several matches in the cartridge and lighted them.

Bales said the cartridge was a device used to create pressure in a fire extinguisher.

RED

a color TV somewhere else and then check Highland's price.

If you've already bought your color TV set, don't come to Highland to look at our price tag. You'll feel awful.

But if you haven't made the investment yet, don't buy anything until you see what Highland is offering. And for how much. It will be a lot for less. You'll feel good. Because it's good to know that you're saving money in addition to getting your choice of famous makes, all backed with factory warranties and Highland's own crew of technicians. And you get 10 days of home-trial at Highland's expense—so you can be sure you've picked the set that's right for your family.

What's more, you get Highland's easier terms. Which is how you keep your budget out of the red.

'U. S. May Test N. Viet by Winter Bombing Halt'

SAIGON (AP) — The United States is considering a major pause in the bombing of North Vietnam this winter to test Hanoi's willingness to start peace talks, an American diplomat said today.

There is scant hope among diplomats here that even a prolonged halt in the bombing will induce North Vietnam to sit down and work out any peace settlement that Saigon and Washington would accept.

But because of heavy foreign pressure for a pause, Washington might order one in an attempt to show that the United States is eager for peace but that Hanoi is unwilling to settle for anything less than American capitulation.

The prolonged bombing pause, if one is decided upon, probably would begin in December with the traditional Christmas truce. Another stand down ordered for New Year's and a third in January for Tet, the Buddhist new year celebration.

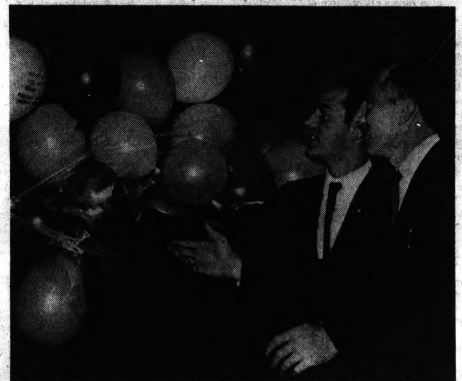

The United States in 1966 waited for more than a month before resuming bombing of the North after the Tet ceasefire. Hanoi gave no sign that it wanted to bargain and the raids were resumed.

MILITARY OPPOSED

The U.S. military is strongly opposed to a major bombing halt because during it Hanoi can move men and war materials into the South with relative impunity. But the weather over North Vietnam at the turn of the year is usually so bad that bombing of major targets is sharply curtailed anyway.

A bombing pause also would not necessarily cover the air war in Laos where American planes hammer the Ho Chi Minh infiltration trail daily. The United States has never acknowledged this campaign and would be under little pressure to halt it. The weather in Laos is excellent for bombing during the winter months.

Plans for the bombing pause are not expected to be worked out until after the inauguration at the end of October of President-elect Nguyen Van Thieu, who said he would propose a truce in the air war.

CELEBRATION — Celebrating encouraging reports at the initial Pontiac Area United Fund progress luncheon are David VanderVeen (left), manager of the Oakland-Pontiac Airport, and Robert Schaffer, cochairman of the Fisher Body plant UP drive. Campaign Chairman Frederick J. Poole said contributions totaling 28.1 per cent of this year's goal have been counted.

Bonds Passed, Cityhood Nixed in Area Votes

In two county elections yesterday, voters in the Oxford School District approved a $2.5-million bond issue, and voters in Farmington Township rejected incorporation.

The Oxford vote of 534 to 241 provided bonds for a new construction program including a junior high school.

A second question on the ballot, involving district debt assumption on the part of areas that have been annexed to the district since its reorganization in 1954, also passed.

A favorable vote of 500 to 269 means that the newly acquired North Oxford District, as well as other areas which have been assimilated will be required to bear their full share of the district's bonded indebtedness.

The responsibility becomes effective with the tax bills which will be issued in December 1968.

SECOND VOTE

Farmington Township voters by 2,310 to 2,106 yesterday opposed incorporation for the second time.

In the June 1966 election, 5,657 residents opposed incorporation and 1,547 favored it.

The cityhood proposal included 31 square miles of the township. This area excluded the villages of Wood Creek Farms and Quakerstown, a square mile north of Wood Creek Farms, and the City of Farmington.

Also on the ballot yesterday was the selection of nine charter commission members out of 16 candidates. Selected for the now unneeded charter commission were:

Robert B. Pierce, (2,194), Joseph T. Brennan (2,065), Mrs. Margaret Schaefer (2,004), Frederick Lichtman (1,856), Floyd A. Cairns (1,855), Aldo Vagozzi (1,788), Charles H. Williams (1,686), Edwin C. Blumberg (1,681), and Donald E. McEachin (1,626).

'N. Viet Trade Not Cut'

City Youth Found Guilty of Slaying Teen Girlfriend

A Pontiac youth was found guilty yesterday of first-degree murder in the slaying of his 15-year-old girlfriend.

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury of 10 men and two women returned the verdict against Porfido (Junior) Acosta, 19, after deliberating 2 1/2 hours.

Acosta, 307 Ferry, was convicted of beating to death Linda Darlene Arnold on the morning of July 7 during a fight at his home.

Miss Arnold had been dating Acosta for some time, and her mother had signed a complaint against the youth charging him with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

The girl reportedly ran away from home a week before her death.

NO CHOICE ON SENTENCE

Acosta will be sentenced Nov. 21 by Judge William R. Beasley who presided at the four-day trial which started last Tuesday.

While ordering a presentence report from the probation department, Beasley will have no choice in sentencing the youth.

Under law, first-degree murder is punishable by a life sentence in prison with no chance for parole.

Acosta's attorney, Leonard Peres, said he would bring proceedings appealing the case immediately after the sentencing.

PREMEDITATED

In returning the verdict, the jury determined that the murder was premeditated.

Budget Battle Is Before Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The battle of the budget closes in on the Senate today after an array of federal departments and agencies technically ran out of money at midnight.

A stopgap resolution that would continue their spending authority until Nov. 15 is up for Senate action, opening the way for amendments to force cutbacks in government expenditures.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., said he would carry to the floor his proposal for a 5 per cent cut in nondefense appropriations, narrowly defeated in committee. Mundt's proposed slash would affect appropriations for the fiscal year ending next June 30.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-DeI., reportedly planned to ask the Senate to adopt the spending curbs asked by the House last week to a resolution providing temporary financing for departments and agencies whose 1967-68 appropriations are still pending.

tated, as opposed to second degree, which is not.

In summarizing the case against Acosta, Asst. Prosecutor James Roberts said the girl was killed when she rejected Acosta's advances.

Testimony during the trial revealed that less than two hours before her body was found, Miss Arnold was slugged and kicked by Acosta during a fight in a parking lot outside a party store in Pontiac.

Thundershowers Heading Our Way

Showers and thundershowers are headed this way, according to the weatherman.

Partly cloudy, windy and warmer with a chance of showers late this afternoon or evening, and showers and thundershowers likely tonight is the forecast.

Temperatures will continue mild tonight, with a low of 56 to 57. Following showers again tomorrow, temperatures will become somewhat cooler.

Partly cloudy and cool is the outlook for Thursday.

The low reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 52. The mercury had slipped up to 55 by 1 p.m.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 20; tonight 50; tomorrow 50.

Ferency: Won't Quit Under Fire

DETROIT (AP) — Democratic State Chairman Zoltan Ferency said today he will not resign his post while under fire for suggesting that President Johnson may not be the best candidate to head the party's 1968 ticket.

Emphasizing that he has not used the phrase "dump Johnson," Ferency told a news conference that the odds point to a Johnson-Humphrey ticket next year.

But if the party can find a better candidate, Ferency said, then he would like to see that candidate nominated.

Ferency defended his criticism of the national administration, pointing out that he was merely reflecting the views of Michigan Democratic party's platform.

Meanwhile, six members of the Democratic State Central Committee's Lansing office staff resigned last night, citing a six-hour dispute with top party leaders over proposed staff reductions.

The resignations came as a surprise to newsmen and many of the party leaders, who had expected the meeting to deal with Ferency's remarks last Tuesday.

However, State Treasurer Stuart E. Herzberg of Detroit said there was no discussion of Ferency's comments.

Submitting their resignations last night were James Harrison, director of party development and editor of the Michigan Democrat, and five female employees, holding clerical-secretarial jobs.

"We're going to have to sit down and figure out how to operate out of the Lansing office," said Herzberg.

City Woman, 31, Killed in Mishap

A Pontiac woman died early today when the car she was driving veered out of control and slammed into a utility pole at Oakland and Lafayette.

Killed about 2:30 a.m. was Mrs. Barbara Carter, 31, of 554 Whitfield, according to city police.

Witnesses told investigators her car careened across the road after turning onto Oakland, then jumped the curb and struck the pole, shearing the vehicle in half.

She apparently died instantly, officers said.

Five of the eight are in House-Senate conference for final compromise.

UF at 28% of Goal

Pontiac Area United Fund campaign officials reported yesterday that contributions totaling $322,166, or 28.1 per cent of this year's goal, have been received.

This year's goal is $1,130,000.

Frederick J. Poole, general campaign chairman, said results of the five major campaign divisions after the UPF report luncheon yesterday at the PAUF building.

Poole reviewed the report as "a good start . . . it looks like we still have a big job ahead of us but I feel confident our teams will come through."

The GM Industrial Division, headed by Theodore B. Bloom, reported contributions totaling 32.7 per cent of its $784,000 goal with $250,000 reported.

The Residential Division, headed by Mrs. Robert C. Irwin, reported $4,447, 11.5 per cent of its $38,541 goal.

David VanderVeen, manager of Oakland-Pontiac Airport in reporting for Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the Commercial Division, placed his division at 28.6 per cent of its $281,397 goal, reporting $58,051.

The Advance Gifts Division, under the leadership of Chairman W. H. Eierman, reported 47.7 of its $108,134 goal. The amount turned in by Advance Gifts totaled $51,665, 38 per cent ahead of their last years report at this time.

Manufacturing Division's chairman, Wallace B. Schroth, reported $7,000 or 16.4 per cent of its $42,662 goal. The PAUF drive runs to Nov. 10.

UAW Members Are Voting; Veto by Skilled Discounted

DETROIT (AP) — The 160,000 United Auto Workers who struck Ford Motor Co. 48 days ago begin voting today on a new contract that would send most streaming back to their jobs by the weekend.

The danger of a veto by skilled tradesmen existed but union leaders discounted this possibility.

The UAW's 200-member National Ford Council overwhelmingly recommended ratification last night, despite the "No! No!" shouts of an estimated 200 to 250 dissident skilled tradesmen who were beaten off when they attempted to storm the meeting.

Policeman Gene Brestle estimated the number of skilled pickets as 200 to 250. Most newsmen covering the event thought his estimate high.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther expressed confidence both sides would jettison the contract, telling newsmen after the council's vote that dissident tradesmen had been working all-day to mobilize a large turnout "and this is what they got."

LIMITED TO FORD

Reuther stressed that voting on ratification will be limited to Ford workers. Inquiring newsmen found many pickets from General Motors, Chrysler and job shop local unions than from Ford.

Reuther says the total vote from all 101 Ford bargaining units of the union should be in and tabulated by 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Reuther said any Ford local unions which have not reached at-the-plant working agreements, which supplement the national contract, by the time ratification is voted will be allowed to continue striking.

Speculation mounted yesterday that Reuther may take on GM next.

Top Tour Pros Awaiting Start of Sahara Meet

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Defending champion Jack Nicklaus and all the leading professional golfers got in their final practice and competitive swings today on the eve of the annual $111,111 Sahara Invitational Tournament.

The second day of the pro-amateur play concludes today, with $11,111 up for grabs, and the 72-hole tournament proper starts Wednesday for a $100,000 purse. The winner collects $20,000.

The setting is the Paradise Valley Country Club, par 35-35-71.

Nicklaus hauled in the big money a year ago with rounds of 71-77-68-66-22.

Also entered are Arnold Palmer and such former winners of the Sahara as Billy Casper, 1965; Dick Sikes, 1964, and Phil Rodgers, 1961.

An international flavor was added when tournament director Herb McDonald invited the British Ryder Cup team to participate in the desert event.

Palmer and his fellow American Ryder Cup teammates, who are also entered, routed the British at Houston last week.

FIRST HALF LEAD

Frank Beard of Louisville, Ky., shot a 33-32-65 Monday to take a one-shot lead after the first half of the pro-am. The last-picked Kentucky birdied four of the last six holes on the Las Vegas municipal course.

At 66 and sharing second place were Tony Jacklin, English Ryder Cup player, Hawaiian Ted Makalela and Canadian Al Balding.

Makalela captained a trio of amateurs — Dr. John Lake, George Vucanovich and Pete Summer — to lead the four-some best-ball competition with a net 54.

MIAA Backs Honored

DETROIT — Alma's Chris Clark and Olivet's Karl Wilson tied for Player-of-the-Week honors in the MIAA football coaches balloting this week. Clark, a sophomore from Lansing, scored three times in Alma's 27-0 victory over Adrian Saturday. Wilson, a junior from Albion, ran for 133 yards and scored once as Olivet trounced Hope 47-21.

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL — Clinton Jones' dream has turned into a rookie's nightmare, and his ambition into painful frustration.

For a young man with the driving desire which Jones possesses, the frustration is almost unbearable.

His dream is to be rookie of the year in the National Football League this season, perhaps another Gale Sayers. His ambition was to be a regular NFL halfback in his first year. It is now a virtual certainty he will achieve neither, because he doesn't even get to play.

Clinton Jones was on the Michigan State varsity for three years and an All-America candidate both his junior and senior seasons. Last March, he was the Minnesota Vikings' first draft choice among three first-round selections.

He was her apparent to Tommy Mason's halfback job when Mason was traded to the Los Angeles Rams. But it hasn't worked out that way.

For Jones, the picture began to blur when he got sick at the College All-Star training camp last summer and missed the scrimmage game with the Chicago Bears. That, some say, hampered him from being the All-Stars' top halfback against the NFL champion Green Bay Packers.

Then he reported three weeks late to the Vikings' training camp—a critical blow to all rookies. "I think I would have been able to compete equally if I had been in camp," he says.

VIKINGS' TOP RUNNER

When he got to camp, he found Dave Osborn, a fast, tough third-year back from North Dakota running on the first team. Osborn still is on the first team, and the Vikings' top rusher this year. Now Jones frets about when he may get his chance. He insists he has lost none of his confidence in his ability, and that he only needs the opportunity to prove himself.

But Vikings' Coach Bud Grant prefers to bring Clint along slowly, and also feels Osborn is among the NFL's best halfbacks.

"It is really frustrating," Jones said Monday night. "I'd hoped that, if possible, I could play and perform well enough to be in contention for rookie of the year."

"You want to play, and there isn't any place to play. I don't think my performance would hurt the team. If it did, then

I wouldn't have any business being in professional football."

So far, Clinton has carried the ball five times for nine yards from scrimmage and returned 10 kickoffs 188 yards, with his longest return 32. Even that frustrates him.

"Running back kickoffs is fine experience for running back kickoffs," he said. "But running plays from scrimmage is different, and that's the experience I need. I've never returned kicks; at Michigan State there was always somebody else to do that."

"I view myself as a running back, not as a kick return man. I feel confident that I can run from the line of scrimmage as well as anybody. I don't doubt my ability in any area as far as running, blocking or catching the ball. It's just a matter of playing, that's all."

He says he's found no difference between college and pro football except, "it's much more competitive; you have to know quite a bit more and you have to be more skilled all around."

He said Grant has neither encouraged him nor discouraged him this fall.

"There have been occasions in practice when he's given me coaching points and told me he realizes my ability. I have certain standards that drive me and sometimes if someone encourages me, then I strive harder."

BIG PLAY LOOMS — West Bloomfield's offense has been able to score steadily this season as the Lakers have compiled a 5-1 record and are unbeaten in the Wayne-Oakland League. Mike Walosin centers the ball for a high-scoring backfield

Micki King Seeking Pre-Olympic Crown

Walled Lake, St. Mary Advance in State Polls

Oakland County's only two unbeaten prep football powers each advanced among the top ten in their class in this week's Associated Press state ratings.

Inter-Lakes League leader Walled Lake (6-0) stepped from eighth to seventh in Class A, while Orchard Lake St. Mary (6-0) hopped from 12th to 9th in Class C.

Both teams have clinched a share of their league titles. OL St. Mary tops the Northwest Catholic local standings.

Galesburg — Augusta's football juggernaut continues to dominate the Class C ratings with the kind of offense any prep coach would envy.

Coach Bill Maskill's Rams have won 15 straight games, including a 51-0 victory over Matawan Friday. Jack Hogg fired two scoring passes and Mike Carpenter scored twice as the Rams amassed 495 yards in total offense.

Flint Holy Redeemer and Quincy joined OLSM who moved into the Top

Ten in "C" as Middleville, Merrill and New Haven fell to the wayside.

There were no major changes in Class A, where Battle Creek Central rules the roost.

Detroit Servite and Dearborn Divine Child moved into the Class B ratings as Marysville and Dowagiac dropped out of the top ten. Dowagiac, ranked second last week, lost its first game of the season, a 21-18 decision to Kalamazoo Hackitt.

Horlen Under Contract

CHICAGO — Pitcher Joe Horlen became the first Chicago White Sox player to sign for 1968, his contract calls for a substantial raise, General Manager Ed Short said Monday.

Horlen led the American League among regular pitchers with an earned run average of 2.06. His won-lost percentage of .731 on 19-7 also topped the league and he tied in shutouts with six. He also had a no-hitter Sept. 10 against Detroit.

Czech Bike Rider Likes to 'Rock' Ride to Records

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A Czechoslovakian bike rider who takes home movies and listens to rock and roll records when he isn't smashing world marks, has become the temperamental "lone wolf" of Mexico's Pre-Olympic Games.

And Jiri Daler, who broke the 4,000-meter and 5,000-meter bicycle speed tests, says he didn't come to Mexico's third international sports competition to break records or even to win.

"I didn't really care much about this competition in Mexico," the only Czech cyclist here said after breaking the world mark for 5,000 meters Monday. "I'm only interested in the Olympics and in world cycling competitions."

Yet Daler asked special permission to get on the track by himself and set the two marks. Why, if he's here only to test facilities and his physical response to Mexico City's 7,347-foot altitude, did he do that?

"It's question of pride," he said. "I have to go back to Czechoslovakia, and the press will ask why I didn't. So I break records."

Daler broke the 4,000-meter mark of 4 minutes, 51.80 seconds held by Cam Looy of Belgium with a time of 4:54.54 Saturday. He raced through 5,000 meters Monday in 6:05.74 to break the record of 6:13.4 set in 1960 by Constantino Fran-

Pontiac Diver 2nd in Platform

MEXICO CITY — U.S. divers, who have dominated the field throughout modern Olympic competition, are off to a less than impressive start in the Pre-Olympic games now under way.

But their best day, they hope, is coming Tuesday when they take the 10-meter platform.

The girls were confident Monday as they went through a rigorous practice session in the pool where the night before they had placed fourth through sixth behind two Russians and an East German on the three-meter springboard.

"We didn't bring out strongest talent in the springboard," said Hobie Millingsley, Indiana University coach in charge of the Women's U.S. Olympic diving contingent. "But all these girls are great on the platform."

The girls are Patty Simms of Arcadia, Calif.; La. Micki King, USAF, from Pontiac, and Cynthia Potter, Houston. They finished in that order in the three-meter event.

The only man entered for the United States is Keith Russell, of Mesa, Ariz., who placed second Sunday behind Franco Cagnotto of Italy, and for 11 years has been the protégé of the men's Olympic diving coach, Dick Smith of Phoenix.

COLORFUL SUIT

Miss King, her striped red, white and blue suit shining duly, carefully took her position for a dive.

"If Micki is on, she should take it tomorrow," because her dives have the highest degree of difficulty," said Billingsley.

"I'm working on this new dive, the one I just did, and I think it will be a good one," Micki said. "Now is the time to use it to see how it fares in competition, rather than next year."

"We were a bit off yesterday," said Miss Potter, and we got no applause when we surfaced, even after a good dive. I'm not complaining but it takes some getting used to.

EAST LANSING — Michigan State's football freshmen will play Notre Dame Nov. 1 as the first of two games scheduled for this fall.

The other MSU freshman game will be Nov. 10 at East Lansing against Indiana.

CHARGING CRANES — Cranbrook will entertain Western Reserve Saturday afternoon in the Cranes' annual Homecoming game, and leading the charge in the backfield will be Craig Tuohy (left) and Mark Steiner. They have tallied seven touchdowns between them this fall, and the Cranes are 3-2.

British Application Delay

France Deadlocks Euromart

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — France and its five common market partners were deadlocked today by a French campaign to delay the start of negotiations on Britain's application to join their economic community.

Maurice Couve de Murville, President Charles de Gaulle's foreign minister, insisted in a speech behind closed doors that all six members of the European market get together first on conditions for Britain's admittance.

Almost five years after de Gaulle first blackballed Britain, many delegates thought Couve de Murville's preconditions represented another veiled veto.

Others, more optimistic, believed a compromise might be found.

Couve de Murville said that before talks could start the six should agree that enlarging their number would not endanger the community's development, that Britain was in a position to accept conditions for admittance and could fulfill them.

He wants Britain to put its economy in order, and give up the international role of the pound sterling and make it into a purely national currency.

Foreign ministers from Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg said all this would take years.

They want the six to finish their preparations for talks with Britain in the next two months.

Though some delegates were pessimistic about the conditions the French Foreign Minister stated, it was noted that Lord Chalfont, the minister in charge of getting Britain into the Common Market, has said that Britain is ready to review the role of the pound sterling.

James Callaghan, the chancellor of the exchequer, has suggested converting the pound into an international European currency.

Silver Coins to Be Melted

Treasury Accumulates Domestic Use Supply

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department expects to begin melting silver coins after Christmas to help accumulate silver for domestic use supply.

The withdrawal was described as a precaution to provide a backlog of coins for the Christmas rush and to make sure the Treasury had enough silver to redeem certificates and feed the strategic stockpile.

What began as an informal practice, Wallace said, became a fixed rule in late July and now all the old dimes and quarters are being withdrawn from circulation when they return in the normal course of business to the 36 federal reserve banks and 47 days because of a strike.

He said the coins retrieved through last Friday contain 150 million ounces of silver. Another 100 million to 175 million ounces is expected to be pulled from circulation through June 24.

The department will begin melting the old coins into bars after December.

The Treasury is not bound by the ban on melting of coins imposed May 18 when it also withdrew 50-cent coins and limited sales of silver bars to domestic users.

The department has no plans to lift the melting ban or to recall all silver coins.

It's estimated that the 8 1/2 million dimes and quarters contain 100 million ounces of silver.

Credit Way to Ruin

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — An American way of life has been built on credit, but it has also become a typically American way of financial ruin for thousands of families.

Since 1946 consumer credit has risen from $8.4 billion to nearly $96 billion. Almost $30 billion of that debt has been run up since 1960. And since 1960 the number of bankruptcies has grown to 175,000 from 98,000.

The benefits of credit are clear, for it permits a family to enjoy a standard of life beyond its present savings and income. Its dangers are just as obvious and opposite: handled unwisely, credit leads to poverty.

Now that the number of families in financial trouble continues to rise, the extenders of easy credit are becoming worried—just as some analysts have been alarmed for years.

The result, fortunately, is the withdrawal of more nonprofit credit counselors.

Bull Market Will Continue

Adviser Sees Trend for 80 to 100 Weeks

BABSON PARK, Mass. — "There is strong technical evidence that despite the recent general stock market slump, the bull market in stocks will continue for another 80 to 100 weeks," so states Roger E. Spear & Staff, Inc., investment advisory firm.

Spear bases his prediction primarily on an analysis of trends in the "diffusion index" — the percentage of issues in a given stock group which have risen over a predetermined period of time.

When the percentage of stocks rising goes below 50, a bear market has begun, according to Spear's "diffusion index" concept.

Spear noted that the "diffusion index" for the nine-month period ending Oct. 11, 1967, was 89 per cent — only a few percentage points below the highest nine-month percentage recorded since the bull market began late 1959.

NOT OUT OF STEAM

"The bull market has definitely not run out of steam although it has lost some zip," Spear said.

"The 'diffusion index,' as I explained, 'is based on the fact that a stock average like Standard & Poor's 500 or the Dow Industrials may cool off to give the appearance of strength while an increasingly large number of its component stocks are going down. The 'diffusion index' is merely a way of measuring this attrition.

"The reverse holds, too," he continued. "A stock average may be in a dead slump when, in fact, an increasingly large number of its component stocks are going up — an indication of strength."

Industry Eyes Ford Return to Production

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry waited anxiously today to see if Ford Motor Co.'s car building facilities, already down 47 days because of a strike, would get back into production by this weekend.

Optimism prevailed among industry observers that the striking United Auto Workers would ratify a proposed new three-year contract this week and get at least some of Ford's assembly lines operating by Thursday.
