Polio Vaccine Control Plans Being Studied

Second Idaho Child Dies After Receiving Cutter Serum

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government-sponsored committee worked today on details of a voluntary plan to allocate Salk polio vaccine amid demands from some quarters for rigid controls.

A second polio death was reported, meantime, among Idaho school children who had been inoculated.

The advisory committee was set up last week to recommend a system of priorities under which the scarce vaccine, when it becomes available for commercial use, would go first to those areas and age groups most in need of it. The group met under the chairmanship of Dr. Chester S. Keefer of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Rep. Celler (D-NY), who has introduced a bill for federal control of the vaccine, renewed a demand for such action in a television appearance yesterday, and the New York Herald Tribune made a similar demand in a front-page editorial.

Rep. Roosevelt (D-Calif) criticized federal handling of the vaccine, but Surgeon General Leonard Scheele told another TV audience he was confident American parents would cooperate voluntarily.

He renewed his insistence that the nationwide free vaccination of first and second-grade schoolchildren should continue despite the recall of vaccine produced by one of six makers—the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif.

A panel of 11 medical experts including the vaccine's developer, Dr. Jonas E. Salk, of Pittsburgh, approved Saturday the withdrawal of the Cutter vaccine for further testing, but also urged that use of other brands be continued.

A Public Health Service statement after the Saturday session said 29 cases had been reported in which children had become ill of polio after receiving the shots. All but three of these cases, the service said, involved use of the Cutter vaccine. A half dozen other cases, not yet reported to the health service, have also come to light.

Ohio Fights Blood Theory in Sheppard Trial Appeal

CLEVELAND (INS)—The state of Ohio filed five affidavits today attacking Dr. Sam Sheppard's motion for a new trial on the basis of newly found evidence.

Most important of the affidavits was signed by blood specialist Dr. Roger W. Marsters, who hit a defense contention that a one-inch spatter of blood — belonging neither to Dr. Sam or his murdered wife, Marilyn—was found on a closet door next to the bed where Mrs. Sheppard was murdered.

The written testimony of Dr. Marsters, in charge of the R-H clinical laboratory at Cleveland's University Hospital, hit squarely at the affidavit of California criminologist Dr. Paul Kirk, who made an investigation of Dr. Sam's Bay Village murder home after he was convicted of his wife's slaying.

Dr. Kirk had said that analysis proved the blood spot was not the blood either of the victim or her husband and that it could not have come from the impact of blows because of its shape and size.

Dr. Marsters said the contention by Dr. Kirk that the blood was not that of Dr. Sam or Marilyn was "unjustified and unwarranted."

He stated:

"Dr. Kirk is postulating different qualities of type-O blood characteristics. Even under ideal conditions of fresh blood reactions, sub groups of type-O are unknown.

"Therefore, to assume the existence of another quality of type-O and especially another individual source on the basis of some quantitative difference in reaction and solubility, employing an admittedly complex difference, cannot be justified."

Judge Edward Blythin, who sentenced Dr. Sam to life imprisonment after he was convicted of second degree murder last Dec. 21, took the affidavits under advisement and will return a decision Wednesday.

Predict Okay for Trade Bill

Ike's Tariff-Reducing Measure Seen Passing Without Changes

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Senate takes up the administration's foreign trade bill today with leaders predicting passage without major change after about a week of debate.

They made the forecast despite prospects for a pitched battle by "protectionist" senators opposed to the measure as the House approved it in February and as the Senate Finance Committee voted it out last Tuesday.

The "free trade" legislation would extend the reciprocal trade act for three years, allowing the President to cut tariffs up to five per cent each year.

However, a "compromise" acceptable to the administration and adopted by the senate committee would authorize the President to fix quotas on imports if they enter the U. S. "in such quantities as to threaten or impair the national security."

This has not satisfied foes of the measure. Sen. George W. Malone (R-Nev), denounced the bill as an effort "to help the foreign producer and work injury on the American producer here at home."

Nevertheless, Republican Floor Leader William F. Knowland told newsmen: "I am inclined to believe the bill will be passed substantially in the form it was reported out of the Finance Committee."

The Californian said he expects to support the measure, barring any key changes, and that he "would hope action can be completed in a week's time."

In an effort to obtain a final vote this week, Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson announced he will keep the Senate in session daily until 7 or 7:30 p.m. (EDT).

Austrian Treaty Talks Opened

Big Four Delegates Preparing Agreement to End Occupation

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Big Four talks which may bring freedom to occupied Austria and big changes in Europe opened in Vienna this morning amid an air of optimism.

The ambassadors of the United States, Britain, France and Russia began conferences in an effort to reach final agreement on Austria's long-delayed independence treaty.

Arriving for the first session U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr. told newsmen:

"I expect the conference to be a short one and a successful one. We have much work to do, but with good will on all sides, this can be accomplished in a very short time.

"If the conference develops as I hope it will, we should be able to arrange a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers in Vienna at a very early date."

They will bring the 30,000 words of the draft pact up to date so that their four foreign ministers can sign it at a later meeting here.

After 10 years of deadlock, the Russians have said they now want to end the occupation of Austria. The ambassadors' talks will show whether the Soviets mean it. Most Western diplomats here believe this time they may.

If the ambassadors agree and the foreign ministers approve, the 44,000 Russian and 25,000 Western occupation troops will have to leave the country within 90 days after ratification of the pact. This could come by fall.

MTA Charges New Bill Will Kill Turnpike

State Lawmakers Urged to Oppose McCollough Proposal

Chairman William E. Slaughter of the Michigan Turnpike Authority said yesterday a bill giving municipalities and townships the right to keep toll roads outside their limits will kill the Rockwood-Saginaw turnpike.

He urged state legislators to vote against the measure introduced by Rep. Lucille McCollough (D-Dearborn).

"The bill would take the final decision on the route away from an unprejudiced commission and its independent engineers . . . and place it in the hands of local councilmen, every one of them subject to local pressures . . ."

The present proposed north-south route is "far enough east to serve a maximum amount of traffic in the Detroit area and still do the least amount of property damage."

The MTA is attempting to arrange meetings to discuss the route with all communities involved, he added. Only six of the 30 units have replied to letters mailed April 8 seeking meetings, said Slaughter.

"Before any final decision is made by the authority on the route, we intend to hear all objecting municipal units' suggestions and take their recommendations under advisement."

Of over 2,000 miles of turnpike operating or under construction in the country, none were built where local units had veto power, Slaughter asserted.

He termed statements "false and misleading" that other turnpikes don't traverse cities, villages and built-up areas. The Pennsylvania East - West Turnpike goes through eight boroughs or cities and six highly developed areas near Philadelphia, he stated.

Unless some inconvenience is accepted by homeowners and municipalities, "then Michigan's growth will continue to be stunted by inadequate facilities."

Only court-validation of the turnpike act stands between issuance of bonds and completion of the road 39 months after the bonds are sold, the chairman said.

Three-Year-Old Boy Is Drowned

White Lake Township Tot Falls From Dock Into Pontiac Lake

The tot, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Beilfuss, of 2070 Kingston, White Lake Township, was found in about three feet of water by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Callender, of Wayne.

They attempted to revive the boy by artificial respiration while awaiting the White Lake Township Fire Dept. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Deputy Coroner Dr. I. C. Prevette after the fire department worked for 45 minutes with an inhalator.

The boy, according to Deputy Sheriff Herbert Cross, was in the water about eight minutes. He had been playing in a neighbor's yard.

Service will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Coats Funeral Home, with burial at Perry Mount Cemetery.

The latest drowning brings the season total in Oakland County to four. Earlier another small boy drowned in a pond near his Waterford Township home and two youths drowned in Round Lake near Lakeville on April 22.

Formosa Report Due Tomorrow

Radford, Robertson Will Give Ike Details of Talks With Chiang

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced today that Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, will report to President Eisenhower tomorrow on his trip to Formosa.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he did not know whether Radford would be joined at the White House conference by Walter Robertson, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs.

Radford and Robertson returned over the weekend from Formosa where they conferred with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and other officials of the Chinese Nationalist government on a variety of subjects. A top matter presumably was the current talk of a Formosa cease-fire.

Radford and Robertson were gone about 10 days.

The leisurely plans for their report to Eisenhower tended to eliminate any air of urgency about their findings. In fact, Radford and Robertson reached the United States in time for a weekend report but went to Richmond, Va., for a stop at Robertson's home before coming on to Washington last night.

Robertson returned to his office at the State Department this morning but instead of having an immediate conference with Secretary of State Dulles he began his day by tackling some accumulated paper work.

Begins Mop-Up After Assurance of U. S. Support

South Viet Nam Pushes Foe From Saigon; Vote on Bao Dai Scheduled

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Reassured of American support, Premier Ngo Dinh Diem struck anew today at the shrinking private army of his foes at home and at Chief of State Bao Dai, who is watching the Vietnamese turmoil from the French Riviera.

Four battalions of National army troops stormed over three bridges leading to areas of the Chinese suburb of Cho Lon where two battalions of the Binh Xuyen held out in civil warfare that flared last week.

The government objective was to mop up those men and permit five battalions which have deserted the Binh Xuyen, a commercial society which seeks to oust Diem, to switch to the army's side.

A mortar barrage that shook the city heralded the attack after 48 hours of relative quiet.

The government troops quickly captured the old headquarters of the Binh Xuyen commander, Gen. Le Van Vien. Then they moved southwestward to the Nhi Thien Duong Bridge, two miles away, where a bitter battle was joined.

A French Press Agency dispatch received in Paris said the National army had wiped out the last nests of Binh Xuyen resistance in Cho Lon and all fighting in the area has ceased.

The premier's office announced a national assembly would meet here Wednesday to depose the absentee ex-emperor who tried unsuccessfully to oust Diem last week.

Diem issued the annoucement after conferring with U.S. Gen. J. Lawton Collins, President Eisenhower's special envoy who returned by plane from Washington today. Shortly after the general's arrival, U.S. Charge d'Affaires Randolph Kidder told newsmen at the airport American backing for the anti-Communist premier still stands.

(The French News Agency in a dispatch from Saigon reported today that remnants of the rebel Binh Xuyen private army, which in a two-day civil war last week tried unsuccessfully to overthrow Diem, had reopened fire with mortars today on national army posts near Cho Lon, the Chinese suburb of Saigon. A later French dispatch to Paris said Diem's army at 5:45 p.m. Saigon time attacked "several hundred" Binh Xuyen troops in Cho Lon.)

Ice Cream Law Is Ruled Invalid

Peddler's Appeal After Conviction Results in Decision

A Pontiac city ordinance has been ruled invalid by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty in the case of Sol Greenwald, 35, of Detroit, arrested last Aug. 27 and later convicted in Municipal Court of illegally peddling ice cream.

He appealed the conviction to Oakland County Circuit Court.

The ordinance made unlawful "the peddling, selling, vending or giving away of wrapped, frozen ice cream novelties . . . either in paper containers or frozen on sticks from push carts, trucks . . . or any other type of vehicle."

The city deemed the law necessary for traffic safety and beneficial to public health by stopping streets and sidewalks from being littered with "ice cream wrappers, ice cream cones and so-called confection sticks."

Greenwald's Detroit attorney, Paul W. Harty, claimed the ordinance prevented his client from making a living. A city can regulate, but not prohibit business, he asserted.

Testimony showed that when arrested the defendant was creating no traffic hazard, said Judge Doty. There was no littering of streets involved, he added.

The judge cited an attorney general's opinion permitting a veteran licensed by the state "to sell anywhere else in the state without further licensing by local authorities."

A state-licensed veteran, such as Greenwald, can conduct his business subject to only reasonable police regulation by a city, Judge Doty stated.

The ordinance "is unreasonable as far as defendant is concerned and therefore invalid," the judge ruled. "However, he is still subject to police regulations."

The Day in Birmingham

Commission to Consider $1,395,929 City Budget

BIRMINGHAM—The City Commission tonight will be presented with a preliminary budget for the 1955-56 fiscal year. It calls for $1,395,929 in appropriations, some $74,500 over total expenditures during fiscal 1954-55.

Figures contained in the tentative budget, prepared by City Manager Donald C. Egbert, estimate revenue during the period will be $1,380,780, or about $15,000 less than anticipated expenditures.

The biggest hikes are in departmental appropriations and other city expenses. The departmental appropriations are $53,886 over total expenditures during the 1954-55 fiscal year, which were $848,511. Appropriations for other city expenses tentatively call for increase of $13,736 over the $149,544 expenditure for 1954-55.

The departmental increases amount to about $38,000 in the Police, Fire and Public Works Departments alone, with the largest increase, $20,000, for the Fire Department.

One of the significant appropriation increases is in Civil Defense. The appropriation in the preliminary budgets calls for $1,400 or double the size of the 1954-55 expenditure.

The Commission might consider possible changes in the budget. But, a budget for the city must be adopted before June 13.

Egbert said anticipated revenue for fiscal 1955-56 as detailed in the preliminary budget doesn't include possible increases from a proposed hike in gas and water taxes.

The increases—1½ cents in the state gas tax and 10 per cent in weight tax—are contained in the highway bill which already has received approval in the Michigan Senate and presently is under consideration in the House. The governor's office has indicated it would approve the measure.

The bill provides that the added highway revenue would be split on a 75-25 basis, 75 per cent to the state and 25 per cent to counties and cities.

Other items the commission is scheduled to consider at its weekly meeting include:

A recommendation that a bid of $2,421 by the Call-Ferguson Electric Co. for installation of flourescent lights at the Baldwin Library be approved.

Two residents in the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area literally hit the jackpot over the weekend by winning prizes totaling thousands of dollars in contests.

Pvt. Adolph Mangus Jr., of 3955 Brookside, Bloomfield Hills, won a home and property valued at $15,000 for 54,000 other entries in one contest. In another, 30-year-old Clifford McClish, 1470 Cole, Birmingham, won a 1955 model car.

U. S. Scores One Point Before Austrian Talks

VIENNA (INS)—The U.S. scored a minor strategy victory even before the opening of talks on an Austrian state treaty by the big four ambassadors.

Atom Bomb Test Postponed Again; May Be Tuesday

SURVIVAL CITY, Nev. (UP)—The atomic civil defense experiment, whose 5,800 participants and observers have dwindled to less than half because of repeated delays, has been postponed once again.

The elaborate test of a model town, tanks and weapons now cannot be held until tomorrow at the earliest, and the Atomic Energy Commission says the outlook for then is not good.

Originally set for last Tuesday, the big public show has been postponed by unfavorable winds and cloud conditions. The latest delay, announced at a weather conference last night, was because winds threatened to deposit radiation fallout on this model community, observers at News Nob, and the AEC control point at the Yucca Flat test site.

But Law Was Intact

DANBURY, Conn. (UP) — A liquor store proprietor, Kenneth Clarke, tried so hard to obey a law banning sales to drunks that in the resulting tussle his right ankle was broken in three places.

"Bonanzagram"

Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Pontiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. Solution will appear in the Press May 13.

Claim Check

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 9 is published Friday, May 13. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 9

During the war, a strange letter came across the censor's desk. It bore the postmark of a city in North Africa and had been neatly written on a typewriter. However, holes had been cut out in certain places, and the paper appeared to be a grille into which letters could be fitted by the recipient. By deciding what letters to insert in the spaces, the censor was able to reproduce the message of a spy at work. Can you, too, fill in the gaps in the mysterious message?

How To Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message. Clues may also be found in the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation as well as words must be correct for a perfect solution.

However, if no perfect solution (all missing letters and punctuation) is submitted, a solution with all letters correct and only one punctuation error will be declared a prize winner.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit Entries

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p. m. Tuesday, May 10. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, May 10 for Bonanzagram No. 9. Address "Bonanzagram, % Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

4. Copies of the Press need not be purchased to enter. Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and, if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W Huron St., before 5 p. m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person, he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." Postmark on this letter must be not later than 5 p. m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

About Eligibility, Information, Etc.

1. Anyone is eligible for the "Bonanzagram" contest except employes of the Press and members of their immediate families. (Immediate family means all those living in an employe's household.)

2. No question as to winners will be answered by phone.

3. The Press will award a prize of $100 to the winner of each weekly "Bonanzagram." If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If no correct solution is received, the $100 will be added to the next week's prize. If the winner is a subscriber of record to the Press a $20 bonus will be added to the $100.

4. Only one winning entry from a family will be eligible for the prize, but there is no limit on number of entries.

5. The Press retains the right to correct typographical errors.

6. Judges' decision will be final and contestant's submission of entries indicates acceptance of these rules.

7. No liability is accepted for entries that fail to reach us.

8. The Press reserves the right to alter rules and/or discontinue the contest at its discretion.

Late Snowstorm Strands Scores

Motorists, Fishermen Rescued From Roads in California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sunny weather is due in southern California today after a weekend storm of rain, snow and hail that stranded scores of fishermen and motorists and indirectly caused two deaths.

Snow in some mountain areas as deep as 30 inches.

Twenty-nine automobiles carrying 81 men, women and children were stranded in the Santa Ana Canyon area 15 miles northeast of Redlands and 60 miles east of here in the San Bernardino Mountains.

* * *

The cars got stuck late Saturday. Sheriff's rescue parties had to tow them out one by one because of impassable roads. All were freed by last night. Sgt. Richard Seavey said none of the persons were in serious danger because rescue teams could get food and blankets to them but nearly all suffered from cold and hunger.

The rescuers used bulldozers, trucks, graders and two weapons carriers from March and Norton Air Force bases. They worked in knee deep mud in some places in the deep canyon.

* * *

Forty-one fishermen were similarly stranded for a time in the Santa Paula-Fillmore area of Ventura County north of here. They were led out or towed out by sheriff's parties aided by Navy crewmen from Point Hueneme.

* * *

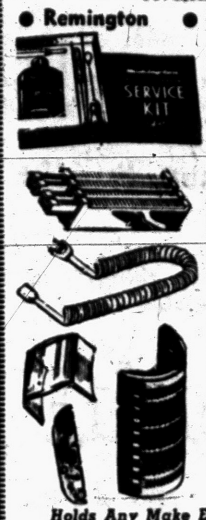

The body of Walter J. Jones, 35, La Habra, was found 18 miles north of Fillmore. The coroner said he apparently had been hiking and had died of exposure. The body of a fisherman, Richard K. Neale, 38, La Crescenta, was brought out of the San Gabriel Mountains. A companion reported that Neale collapsed, apparently from a heart attack, while struggling through a snowstorm along a trail.

Facts About Polio Vaccine Show No Cause for Alarm

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A few scientific facts can be helpful guideposts to parents worried about the polio vaccine.

There are two main worries:

1. Is any of the vaccine CAUSING polio?

2. Is it FAILING to prevent polio?

The scientific facts give no reason to jump to conclusions that either worry is justified. Here's why:

The vaccine is made of killed virus. Dead virus cannot cause polio. Vaccine is first tested for this safety.

* * *

It is possible that some lots of vaccine might contain living virus, and be missed in the tests. With the precautions used in making vaccine, this is very unlikely.

But the possibility is the reason why vaccine made by the Cutter Laboratories was withdrawn, for rechecking, after some children vaccinated with it developed polio. The answer from the rechecks and various tests should be forthcoming soon.

Polio also developed in a Columbus, Ga., child given one shot of vaccine prepared by Eli Lilly Co.

* * *

There is a far better reason than faulty vaccine why some children developed polio after getting only one shot of vaccine. It is that they got the shot too late.

If you've been out in the sun for two hours on your first day of sunning, and begin to turn pink, it is already too late for suntan oil to prevent development of the burn you've already received.

* * *

This may be a matter of a few weeks time. If the polio virus already had invaded the child, the vaccine couldn't throw up a defensive fence soon enough.

It is significant to health officers that many if not all cases of polio occured within five to seven days after the first shot of vaccine. This could mean it didn't have time to become effective.

West German Freedom Due

Occupation by France, Britain Slated to End on Thursday

By BRACK CURRY

BONN, Germany (AP)—France and Britain are scheduled to take the last step to end the occupation of West Germany Thursday.

Winding up two days of talks with French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer announced yesterday the Paris and London governments on that day would deposit in Bonn their instruments of ratification of the Paris treaty restoring sovereignty to West Germany.

* * *

The United States and West Germany already have deposited their ratification instruments.

Adenauer and Pinay announced to a news conference they had agreed on "all outstanding questions" between their two governments. Until the early hours yesterday the French had threatened to postpone German sovereignty.

The day after deposit of the last sovereignty instruments, Adenauer will go to Paris for the ceremony admitting West Germany to the seven-nation West European Union. It is as a member of this alliance that the Bonn government will be allowed to rearm.

* * *

Next week in Paris West Germany will become the 15th member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The two officials conferred here to settle differences over the Saar border territory, a settlement the French government had promised the National Assembly it would obtain before depositing the ratification instrument.

Labor Leader Dies at May Day Rally

LEICHESTER, England (AP)—One of Britain's top labor leaders, militant anti-Communist Arthur Deakin, died of a heart attack yesterday. He collapsed while addressing a May Day rally.

Deakin since 1945 had headed the world's largest labor union, the 1,300,000-member Transport and General Workers Union. He was 64. He had planned to retire on his next birthday, in November.

Deakin started work in a south Wales steel mill at 13 but studied economics and industrial history in night classes. At 18 he formed a local union and had been a labor organizer ever since.

Warns Against More Fires in Florida Woods

LAKE CITY, Fla. (AP)—The Florida Forest Service warned today that still more forest fires may follow blazes that destroyed more than 30,000 acres of timberland during the weekend.

The fires ranged from Columbia and Baker counties on the Georgia line to Lee County in south Florida. In between, big fires were going on in Flagler, Marion, Dixie and Volusia counties.

* * *

Lake City, a town of about 8,000 population 50 miles west of Jacksonville, was showered yesterday by cinders and ashes from the 7,500-acre Columbia County fire, which burned to within 10 miles of the city limits. A shift in the wind caused the shower to stop.

The Lee County fires burned over more than 10,000 acres, including 8,000 acres just south of Fort Myers. Fifteen houses were threatened for a while but crews managed to divert the blaze.

A sawmill and four small buildings were destroyed at Bonita Springs, 15 miles south of Fort Myers.

And Who'll Get Off?

NEW YORK (AP) — Subway trains equipped with television sets, slot machines and beautiful hostesses? Michael J. Quill, president of the CIO Transport Workers Union, suggests that such attractions would lure more passengers and make subway operations profitable.

Boy, 12, Champ at Duck Calling

Wins Tennessee State Title, Beating Out His Own Father

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—Daryl Cates is only 12 but he's already a top duck caller, winning the state title.

Daryl, who started hunting when he was 9, said he can call crows as well as ducks, but he likes best being the champion duck caller.

"One of the nicest things about being the champion duck caller is that I get to miss school to give demonstrations, but not very often," he said.

Daryl got a brand new 12-gauge pump shotgun for winning the contest. One of those he beat out in the competition was his father, Frank L. Cates.

Three different calls come out of Daryl's caller—the "long distance," the "close in" and the "feeding call."

He won the contest with a caller he had borrowed from W. C. Newton, defending champion.

Daryl says people in his neighborhood don't object to his practicing, but that some who don't know what he's doing "sometimes look at me a though I were crazy."

The youngster also likes to swim, fish and play football, but "most of all I like to hunt."

Held in Kidnaping of Wife, Baby, In-Law

CHARLOTTE (UP) — Eaton County Sheriffs officers today held a Lansing man for investigation of charges he kidnaped his estranged wife, her father and his 14-month old daughter at gun's point.

The sheriff's office said Alfred Tony Spangler, 26, was charged with carrying a concealed weapon and investigation of kidnaping.

Spangler was accused by sheriff's officers of forcing his father-in-law, Evun McPhee of Charlotte, to accompany him in his car to Lansing, bringing along the child. McPhee had previously refused to let Spangler have the child, the officers said.

The Sheriff's Department said that Spangler drove the others to Lansing where he also forced his estranged wife, Mirna, 26, to leave her job at a drive-in restaurant. Spangler returned McPhee and the child to McPhee's farm home and left with his wife, officers said. He was stopped by State Police at the intersection of M50 and M43.

Election in Bag for Mr. Hughes in Wales Voting

HOLYHEAD, Wales, (UP) — The voters of the Anglesey district have a problem: Whose Hughes is whose?

In the national election May 26, Anglesey's House of Commons seat will be won by Mr. Hughes. That's certain. But which Hughes?

The Labor party candidate is lawyer Cledwyn Hughes, 38, who holds the seat now. The Conservative party is running schoolmaster Owen H. Hughes, 43, the Liberal party, not to be outdone, has entered newsman John William Hughes, 45.

Although which Hughes to choose may yet confuse, the voters are not without clues.

Cledwyn is running as "Hughes the law," Owen as "Hughes the school" and John William as "Hughes the news."

President Admits Feeling Peace Hopes Are Brighter

When President Eisenhower confessed to newsmen that he feels world peace prospects are on the upswing, he wasn't indulging in wishful thinking.

On the contrary, in the past few weeks there has been considerable evidence of a drift away from the danger of sudden, unwanted hostilities. Even the private correspondence the President has been carrying on with Russia's Defense Minister Zhukov makes him feel that U.S.-Russian relations soon will be somewhat improved.

In a short time Big Four foreign ministers will confer on a peace treaty to neutralize Austria and liberate that nation from occupation armies.

Another favorable development is the failure to materialize of a war forecast attributed to Adm. Carney, U. S. Chief of Naval Operations. He was reported to have said that there would be war in the Formosa Straights by April 15.

Most recent and perhaps most encouraging development of all was the offer of Red China's Chou En-lai to sit down with the United States and discuss the troublesome Formosa question. Unfortunately, due to some still unexplained confusion, initial U. S. reaction to the offer incensed Peiping. This has resulted in an impasse we hope is only temporary.

The President's stand should serve to clear the way for such talks. He has made it plain that the U. S. would confer alone with the Communists regarding a Formosa cease fire, but not on matters affecting Nationalist China.

In taking that stand we believe he spoke for the Nation as a whole. The American people don't want war. They want the door to negotiations kept open. They also want continued effort to obtain the release by Red China of all imprisoned Americans.

Senate Group Kills Right to Work Bill

Following a largely attended hearing, members of the State Senate's Labor Committee said a GOP sponsored right to work bill never would reach the floor.

The measure was introduced by Sens. Geerling of Holland and Feenstra of Grand Rapids. Its aim was described by them as an effort to "end discrimination in employment by reason of union membership."

Quite different was the description given it by spokesmen for the delegation of some 400 unionists who attended the committee's hearing on the bill. They branded it as an effort to wreck unions and were joined in opposition by both the Republican and Democratic leaderships.

During the proceedings Chairman Faulkner read a letter from State GOP Committee Chairman Feikens in which he wisely disclaimed the bill as party policy. "The right to work bill," his letter said, "is not part of the Republican program. The party has protected workers' rights and will do so."

While the bill's sponsors deny that their aim is to cripple labor unions, we believe the Republican leadership was right in disavowing this bill. As one speaker pointed out, the late Sen. Taft and Labor Secretary Mitchell, both Republicans, are on record in favor of union security clauses with management.

The Republican decision to let this bill die in committee is both fundamentally sound and politically realistic.

Summer Camps Big Asset

Summer camping is extremely important in the lives of growing boys and girls.

For that reason we call the attention of parents to the fact that May 1 to 8 has been set aside as American Camp Week. The purpose of this observance in which the Michigan Camping Association is co-operating, is to remind everyone of the happy, healthful experiences available to the Nation's children.

Last year the State's Department of Social Welfare licensed 396 children's camps. That number will be increased this year when at least 200,000 boys and girls will live out of doors in Michigan's Water Wonderland with proper conditions of health and sanitation assured.

Among the thrills of camp life are hikes through the woods, swimming, boating, fishing and cooking meals over campfires. We believe that a properly supervised camp offers an ideal way to get a boy or girl away from home. It helps rub off the rough edges, gets them accustomed to being away from home and cures homesickness early.

These young campers gain great physical, mental, social and spiritual values. Living together under the friendly guidance of trained counselors and participating with other in nature projects, they gain stimulating experiences of pleasure and adventure. Camping today is one of the greatest teachers of democracy we have.

For information about camps that will fit your child's need write the Michigan Camping Association, 4864 Woodward Ave., Detroit.

The Man About Town

Birthday Present

Comes to Pontiac Woman in Our MAT Baseball Contest

Opportunity: What taps softly once or twice. Temptation: What pounds away loud and often.

On her twenty-seventh birthday,

Mrs. Clifton Hicks

of 224 West Longfellow Ave., Pontiac, is the winner of the $250 in U. S. Savings Bonds in the MAT Baseball Contest. Out of 1,418 entries in the contest she was one of the 19 who picked

Bill Skowron,

New York Yankee first baseman, to be leading the league on batting on the night of April 30. His average was .451 and Mrs. Hicks' estimate of .447 was the closest. Other estimates ranged from .339 to .487.

Recently moving into a new home, which they are buying, and with their first child now nine months old, Mr. and Mrs. Hicks of course are quite elated over their good fortune. Both are avid baseball fans.

Taking first place in the standings only after Al Kaline of the Detroit Tigers had flunked in his batting Saturday, Skowron rode into top place on his previous high average, although out of the game with injuries the latter part of the week.

With a member of the fair sex again capturing the prize, the ladies continue their winnings in this annual contest. Of the $2,000 distributed in it since 1948, they have won $1,625 of it, and $250 of the $375 that went to the male sex was won by a child who based his prediction on the advice of his mother.

The standings of the 25 top batters in the American League after Saturday's games, who were at bat 25 times or more follow:

"Let's Play Blind Man's Buff!"

David Lawrence Says:

Menon Parley With Chou Means Trouble for U. S.

PARIS — Announcement that Krishna Menon has been invited to Peiping by Chou En-lai to arrange for talks with the United States on the Formosa question is bad news for America.

For Menon is perhaps the shrewdest ally the Communists have roaming around the free world. It was he who engineered the sell-out by the West in Indochina at the Geneva Conference last year, and it is he who is believed to have a strange but powerful influence over India's Jawaharlal Nehru.

Krishna Menon is everywhere moving mysteriously behind the scenes. He holds the title now of permanent representative of India at the United Nations, but actually he is as much at home in London with the diplomats there as he is in Moscow.

Menon once tried to run for Parliament in England, and today has some influential relationships with the Socialist Labor Party in Britain.

Menon's reputation in the United States has been not as good as he would like it to be, for he is aware of the distrust that exists with respect to his peculiar kind of diplomacy. Accordingly, he has tried to cultivate American friendships in the financial district in New York and in State Department circles in Washington.

He has to some extent antagonized some of the people from India who reside in America, and they speak openly of his friction with other members of the Indian diplomatic colony.

When Menon appeared at Geneva last year during the big conference on Indochina, he was frequently in the company of Chou En-lai. He sought and obtained conferences with American officials, who maintained a cautious reserve with respect to his proposals.

If Menon is going to be Chou En-lai's mediator, it merely means that he is going to play the Red China game. For he dislikes America's policy and has not hesitated in private to express his contempt for it.

The amazing thing is that Menon is accepted in Britain. But at the moment British policy inclines toward the very thing Menon would try to accomplish—namely, the evacuation of the Chinese offshore islands by the Nationalists, who are expected to be pressured to abandon those areas at the behest of the United States.

On paper, the solution which will be proposed will look plausible. It will involve some sort of declaration whereby Red China does not give up her claim to Formosa but will for the time being hold it in abeyance until some international tribunal—not necessarily the United Nations—works out a plan for the acquisition of Formosa by Red China's government.

Curiously enough, Britain has indicated that, if there is a cease-fire around the offshore islands, she will join in some kind of general statement urging that force shall not be used. But, at the same time, there is no probability that the Eden government will dare to pledge that British military force will be used to protect Formosa in case of attack.

On the contrary, the most that will ever be forthcoming is a declaration by the United Nations or a group of nations concerned with the Far East that force shall not be employed.

All such pledges are not worth much, because they cannot bind the Chinese Communists, who will always find an excuse to threaten to use force to gain control of Formosa.

A plan has been cooking in Washington to reassure the Nationalists by sending to Formosa a regiment of American Marines in what is described as a "token" force. But this will not sit well with the American people, who do not want American boys engaged in any far Eastern defense measure unless British and French troops and those of other nations are stationed there, too.

But, just as happened in Korea, it may well be that in the end Americans would furnish the bulk of the force and there might be a "token" representation from the armies of other countries.

The intrigue which will start in Peiping under Kirshna Menon's guidance will certainly embarrass the United States government, which will be compelled in the face of opposition from Britain to recede from the stand taken last week by President Eisenhower, who said there would be direct talks with the Chinese Communists only with respect to a cease-fire for the offshore islands area and that anything relating to Formosa would have to include the Nationalists.

This is an easy one for the Menon technique. He will hold talks with the Chinese Reds and with United States representatives, and he will expect the latter to hold their own conferences with the Nationalists.

It is perhaps too early to predict a "sell-out" or a new Munich, but anything in which Menon is engaged could easily wind up that way as far as the United States is concerned.

Infirmary Patient Expresses Gratitude for Hospital Staff's Wonderful Care

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I would like to express my gratitude for the wonderful care I have had at the Oakland County Infirmary.

We all love to see these good people coming down the hall and hear their voices. If you want to meet some real Florence Nightingales, just see the staff at the Hospital. We love every one of them.

We also have the Gray Ladies of the American Red Cross several times a week and their work speaks for them. Our rooms are nice and clean, our food is good and I can say that I have had the best of medical care. I have had several years of nursing and I know what good care means.

The nurses on the floors do everything to make us comfortable. They have been wonderful to me. I can only think of everyone of these good people as a channel through which God works. I really thank God for all that's been done for me.

Oakland County can surely be proud of its hospital and staff.

'Prevention Is Solution to Future Incompetents'

Many writhng in this column have suggested religion as a remedy for sex crimes and delinquency in general. Now, religion and Christianity are not synonymous. They are vastly different in character and completely foreign to each other. The practical aspects of Christianity and its philosophical application are no doubt a compelling force for good.

Some religions teach, at least by implication, that no one has the right to interfere with parenthood regardless of the mental condition of the prospective parents. To say that God will look from an undesirable union, in my opinion, is nothing short of murder.

We, as a professed Christian nation must face reality and the responsibilities that go along with it. Contrary to recommendations of some of our public officials, the building of more institutions will have absolutely no effect. Neither will it stop incompetent people from having children. the solution therefore is in reducing the need for institutional care.

U. S. Standard of Living May Hit Fantastic High

By MERRYLE RUKEYSER
(International News Service)

With the Federal Reserve Board expressing caution in two recent margin increases, there is an increasing tendency to consider whether the dew is off the rose in the prolonged stock market rise.

A concurrent economic question relates to the further prospects for wise expansion in personal and corporate business operations.

While in a free-choice economic society, there will inevitably be differences of opinion, the Twentieth Century Fund, in a new volume entitled "America's Needs and Resources" carries the ball for the long-term optimists.

The argument in the twentieth century economic investigation of future potentialities under the direction of J. Frederick Dewhurst, executive director, is that future gains in the U. S. A. will dwarf recorded accomplishments. The keynote is summarized by A. A. Berle, Jr., well-known political personality and chairman of the board of the fund, who concluded:

"Actually, the progress has been enormous, and suggests (as some of us had felt) that the United States has not merely climbed up to a new plateau; but is ascending heights whose upper limit is not yet measureable, and at an accelerated rate of speed.

"The twentieth century has been a time of turbulence and terror. Yet it is endowing its children, at least in the United States with resources beyond the dream of past generations, and distributing its benefits well enough to give an overwhelming majority of Americans at once the highest standard of living ever achieved by a great population and the promise that this standard will continue to rise.

". . . In this America a man may literally choose between a mean house with a good motor car and a good house with a poor motor car. Men may (and do) choose to live in slums with television sets rather than in humble but decent houses without. Men can decide, within limits, whether or not they prefer to support churches and schools handsomely and skimp on movies and tobacco. Each man, whether he knows it or not, makes these choices according to his picture of 'the good life.'

". . . We have solid reason to believe, from the record today, that the ability to choose and the range of choice will increase vastly in the next generation. Americans, on a scale never before known, are reaching a point where each can get what he really wants. Then, the real problem is that of orderly decision as to what he does want, or at least what he wants most."

Whatever the future may do in testing the validity of this speculative opinion, bolstered by statistical forecasts, the conclusions reached by a research organization have a bearing on the cold war.

Certainly this new survey, in checking past accomplishments and present day realities, demonstrates that the American free-choice economic society exceeds any other system known or visualized. Truth is always the best propaganda, and these factual conclusions are important counter weapons to pipe dreams circulated by Soviet imperialism under the seductive name of communism.

Smiles

No More Toasts

Dr. Brown had long been courting one of his patients, but had been constantly rejected. Nevertheless, whenever a group of local men were gathered together Dr. Brown would call for a toast to his beloved. But one night he failed to demand that they drink to her health.

"Why, what's the matter, doctor?" inquired one of his friends, "Will you not toast your lady?"

"No," said the doctor, firmly. "For years I have toasted her, and as she still refuses to become Brown I will toast her no more."

Took Action

Next door's hens were constantly coming through a hole in the wire of the chicken run. The Joneses protested several times, but the hole was never mended. At last Mrs. Jones said, firmly: "I've had enough of this."

The next evening Mr. Jones saw his neighbor patching up the chicken wire with furious haste. He went into the kitchen and said to his wife: "What did you do to him?"

"Nothing, dear," she replied with a smile. "I just put four store eggs under one of our bushes and made sure he saw me collect them."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Thine heart shall meditate terror. Where is the scribe? where is the receiver? where is he that counted the towers? — Isaiah 33:18.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Girl's Total Personality Wins a Man; Details of Her Physique Count Little

Deborah is still fettered with a common teenage worry that makes her life miserable. But she is foolish to fret about it. Men don't fall in love with segments of a girl's anatomy but with her total personality. A cheery smile, plus a ready compliment, far excel shapely legs and a full bust.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case 0-319: Deborah D., 34, is married and the mother of two children.

"But, Dr. Crane, my life is simply miserable," she moaned, "for I am so flat chested.

"All throughout high school I was unhappy because of my flat bust. And I have tried various advertised remedies to no avail.

"I'm sure there are millions of other women who wish they could have a normal, attractive bust. Can't you offer any suggestions to us?"

People like Deborah are thinking primarily about self, so they lose their social perspective and thus exaggerate the importance of minor flaws.

You girls don't need to have a full bust and the attractive figure of a Hollywood actress to be popular.

In fact, Deborah easily won a devoted husband and has had two wonderful children. Besides, her breasts functioned excellently for she nursed both babies.

Indeed, many small busts are better than the full, beauty queen type as regards their ability to produce milk. The size of your breast is largely a matter of your heredity, so accept what you have with good grace.

Since the breast itself is simply a mound of fat with some small mammary (milk) glands scattered throughout, you can't develop the breast to any significant extent by massage or exercise of it.

Oh, if you put on extra weight, some of that fat will be deposited in the bust. But that doesn't help very much for a lot more of your excess fat goes to your "tummy" so your bust still may not protrude relatively any more than before.

Since the breast is simply fastened to the muscular wall of the chest by means of some ligaments, if you try to massage it to make it larger, you are likely to stretch the ligaments and thus make your breast sag.

Aside from glandular extracts in the case of a small percentage of developing girls, we have nothing

However, the pectoralis muscles lie directly underneath the breast. If a girl will exercise them and make them larger, they will thus push the breast forward slightly and make it look larger.

Extend your arms level with the shoulders. Then pull them straight forward and you'll feel these pectoralis muscles bulge beneath the breast. Any such exercise will exert a moderate influence on increasing your bust measurement.

But it is much simpler to employ an uplift type of bra and then quit worrying about your small bust.

If you will wear a cheery smile and pay your companions honest compliments, then you can win boy friends galore without any breasts at all!

So, girls, please get wise to the facts of life. Men don't fall in love with you because of your perfect bust or graceful legs.

No, it is your total personality that wins a man. And your bust counts only slightly in the sum total that makes up you. A jolly smile and a ready compliment will far outweigh both bust and legs.

And those psychological attributes you can cultivate regardless of what physical dimensions you may inherit.

They'll give you a true perspective and list many of the psychological traits that you can develop to offset your bodily shortcomings.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Dr. Brady Urges Youths to Steer Clear of Alcohol

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

For years I have been harping. What else? Harping on a number of things pertaining to health and happiness—happiness being contingent upon health. One of these things is drinking.

I have incessantly urged parents, guardians, uncles, aunts, grandparents, big brothers or sisters, teachers, coaches, doctors, even pastors to pledge growing children under their car or influence to total abstinence.

My mother, an active member of the Canandaigua WCTU, and if I recollect, an officer or a delegate or something, pledged her four sons to total abstinence and no conceivable temptation or circumstance could have made any of us break such a pledge. Yes, we promised not to use alcohol or tobacco before we were 21.

The temptations or circumstances growing children knew in our time were indeed diminutive compared with what growing children must cope with today. Therefore it seems to me that the temperance or total abstinence pledge is a greater boon to health and happiness than ever before.

In this, I am sorry to say, Johnny is out of step. Aside from occasional applause notes from WCTU members who offer faint praise and then chide me for my smoking, I have never heard from a parent, grandparent, guardian or anyone else who admits he or she shares my belief in the temperance pledge. Especially not from a pastor, a doctor—I tell you, oenophilists, it hurts.

But I'm not giving up. I still believe the Lord is my shepherd. Today came a postal card from a New England reader who says:

Dr. Doctor:

I like your stand on alcoholism. Keep it up. Today the attitude of young people towards drinking is shocking. They think it is "real gone" to get what we used to call "soused."

They actually work at getting used to the taste and the habit. I know. I have a teenage granddaughter. . . .

Mrs. —

No doubt some doctors, pastors, teachers or guardians would write and wish me well if they were not afraid that (1) I'll reveal their identity and-or (2) their parishioners, patients, employers or business associates wouldn't like it.

I'd be the last to blame 'em for that—I learned by bitter experience how one can suffer for just telling the truth. Ours is not an ideal world to live in. But by now they should know that I have never revealed the identity of a correspondent without his or her written permission.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Four in Accident Found to Be Addicts

Four Pontiac factory workers, hospitalized after an automobile accident in Ferndale Sunday, were reported by Beaumont Hospital physicians to be under the influence of heroin, Ferndale Police Chief Reginald Lemkie said today.

"The hospital said indications were the men were regular users of the narcotic," Lemkie stated, "but we can't press charges because no heroin was found in the car and there were no witnesses to the accident.

"We have referred the matter to the Detroit Police, since the men were all Detroiters," Lemkie said. "It's one of those cases where the police department is more or less stymied."

The men, Jesse Flowers, 23, Earl thompson, 28, Robert Curry, 27, and Anthony Williams, 28, all of Detroit, were found by Ferndale police after their car had hit a utility pole on Woodward near Marshall Street in Ferndale shortly after 3 a.m. Sunday. They were taken to Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

Workers Around World March in May Day Parade

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Workers throughout the world marched in traditional May Day celebrations yesterday. Religious and political leaders on both sides of the Iron Curtain took grim note of East-West tensions.

Violence broke out in France. Algerian nationalists took the occasion to stage independence demonstrations and wound up in scuffles with the police. At least 41 persons were injured and 70 demonstrators were arrested.

The day, established as labor day by the International Socialist Congress in 1899, was observed by Communists and non-Reds alike.

* * *

In Moscow, President Eisenhower's wartime friend Marshal Georgi Zhukov stood in drenching rain reviewing a parade of Russia's military might. But the rain forced cancellation of the usual mammoth march by "spontaneous" civilian demonstrators. The customary air force fly-past also was canceled.

Later Zhukov, the Soviet defense minister, blasted "imperialists' threats and provocations" in a speech and said the Paris agreements to free and rearm West Germany increased world tensions.

* * *

Peiping radio said Red China's leader Mao Tze-tung observed the day watching a "seemingly endless parade" down Peiping's Central Boulevard. Peiping Mayor Peng Chen made the May Day speech with a call for strengthened defenses and "liberation" for Formosa.

At Vatican City, Pope Pius XII addressed hundreds of thousands of workers assembled from all parts of Italy in St. Peter's Square.

* * *

The 79-year-old pontiff urged modern society to achieve social peace and delivered stern words against communism, although he did not mention it by name.

The Pope concluded his 25-minute speech by proclaiming the liturgical feast of St. Joseph the Workman to be celebrated each May Day.

British celebrations were marred by the death of one of the nation's top labor leaders, anti-Communist Arthur Deakin. He succumbed to a heart attack suffered while addressing a May Day rally.

4 Swedish Planes Disappear in Clouds

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Four Swedish jet fighters disappeared in cloudy weather over south central Sweden today and the air force announced they are believed to have crashed.

Radio contact could not be reestablished with the fighters after the pilots received permission to pass through a cloud bank, the air force said, and "two strong crashes were heard by local inhabitants at Gravefors at approximately the same time."

Mrs. George Higgins and Mrs. J. B. Boardman are co-chairmen for the event.

Hit on Woodward, Boy, 8, Succumbs

FERNDALE — An 8-year-old boy died this morning of injuries received when he was struck by a car Sunday at Woodward and 10 Mile Road.

Richard LaBardche, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene LaBardche of 420 E. Breckenridge, succumbed in Beaumont General Hospital.

Milton Pritchard, 20, of 85 Broadacre, Clawson, told police he was driving south on Woodward in the right hand lane, when the boy darted out in front of his car. Pritchard said he applied his brakes, but was unable to stop before hitting the youth.

Pritchard was not held.

Man Still Is Sought in Knifing Incident

Royal Oak Township Police were continuing a search today for Jerome Shell, 21, in connection with the stabbing of two men Saturday during a scuffle in a restaurant.

Shell, of Royal Oak Township, allegedly knifed Ernest R. Smith, 25, of Detroit, and James Smith, 21, of Toyal Oak Township.

Ernest is reported in fair condition at Mt. Carmel Mercy Hospital with lung wounds. James was treated for wounds on the hand.

Mrs. Earl Floyd Slated Speaker at South Lyon

Mrs. Floyd is the policewoman of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lyman Joslin, 54299 Nine Mile Rd., South Lyon.

Two Oxford Men Hurt in Two-Car Collision

Two Oxford men were treated for minor cuts and bruises Sunday afternoon at Pontiac General Hospital after a 2-car collision on Indian Lake road near Indian Lake in Addison Township, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said.

Howard Largent, 42, and his passenger James N. Johnson, 43, were injured when their car collided with one being driven by John E. Wesley, 27, of Lake Orion. Deputies said the two cars met on a narrow, sharp curve. Largent's car struck Wesley's on the left side and skidded into a tree.

Thug, Banker Killed in Crash

Fleeing Bandits Upset; Hostage's Widow Hurt Seriously

KAMPSVILLE, Ill. (AP)—A bank official and one of two men who abducted him and his wife were killed last night in an automobile wreck while being pursued by peace officers.

The dead were Harry Waldhuser, about 63, cashier of the Calhoun County Bank at Kampsville, and a man identified by Sheriff Paul L. Aderton as Thomas Underwood, about 26, of Washington Park, Ill.

Mrs. Lela Waldhuser, wife of the cashier, and a second abductor, Eugene Clifford Hubbard, about 26, of Collinsville, were seriously injured, the sheriff said.

He said an apparent attempt to force Waldhuser to go to the bank was forestalled when Mayor Jesse Campbell and his wife, neighbors of the Waldhusers, became suspicious of a car parked between the Campbell and Waldhuser homes and of the strangers in the Waldhuser house.

A crowd of about 30 persons gathered about the Waldhuser home after Mrs. Campbell telephoned an alarm. Campbell said one of the men shouted to the group:

"You better get back or we'll kill them both. If you'll move away, no one will be hurt. We've gone too far to pull off now. We're going to take them with us for protection."

The mayor said there was an exchange of shots as the two men, with the Waldhusers in the car as hostages, sped out of this town of 450 population about 45 miles north of St. Louis, but no one was hit.

Graham Hails Scot Crusade

Calls His Visit Biggest Evangelical Event in History as Series Ends

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — Billy Graham said his six-week Scottish crusade was the largest evangelical event in history. Television and telephonic hookups swelled his total audience to 2,547,365, he reported last night.

* * *

The American evangelist told a news conference that 52,253 persons made "decisions for Christ" during the campaign.

The response to Graham this year exceeded that during a 12-week revival he held in London last year. Audiences which heard him then directly or by relay totaled 2,047,330, and there were 38,447 decisions.

Graham will preach in London's giant Wembley Stadium May 14-23. He also will conduct evangelistic meetings during the summer in a number of cities on the European Continent.

Comets have been called "the nearest thing to nothing that anything can be and still be something," says the National Geographic Society.

Invites Doctor to Come to U. S.

Virginian Is in Africa to Ask Schweitzer to Leprosy Conference

PARIS (INS) — A successful American businessman who gets a kick out of helping his fellow men is making a 7,300-mile trip from his Virginia home into darkest Africa to invite Nobel prize winner Dr. Albert Schweitzer to the U. S.

Henry I. Jaffe, of Suffolk, Va., has undertaken the long journey at his own expense as a personal contribution to the world-wide fight against leprosy.

He left Paris by air for Lambarene April 23 and plans to return to the French capital tomorrow.

Alsation-born Dr. Schweitzer, famous musician, philosopher, historian and medical missionary, heads a leprosy hospital at Lambarene in Gabon, French Equatorial Africa. He observed his 80th birthday last Jan. 14.

Jaffe, in an interview during a brief stopover in Paris, said he will ask Dr. Schweitzer to attend the annual meeting of the American Leprosy Mission in New York in October.

He is taking along a letter of invitation to Dr. Schweitzer from Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York and from the American Leprosy Mission.

Jaffe said he has made arrangements for underwriting Dr. Schweitzer's trip up to $15,000.

The son of a Lithuanian immigrant, Jaffe made a fortune in the furniture and clothing business in Virginia. He later branched out into other industrial and commercial fields ranging from frozen meats to reflecting lights.

He recently set up a trust foundation for philanthropic purposes to which he has transferred the titles of some of his successful investments.

"I intend offering Dr. Schweitzer 25 per cent of the annual income earned by the fund for his hospital," Jaffe said. "Another 25 per cent will go to the American Leprosy Missions and the remainder to various welfare organizatons.

May Day Riot in Tokyo Limited to Film Fans

TOKYO (AP) — May Day labor demonstrators behaved themselves yesterday but—

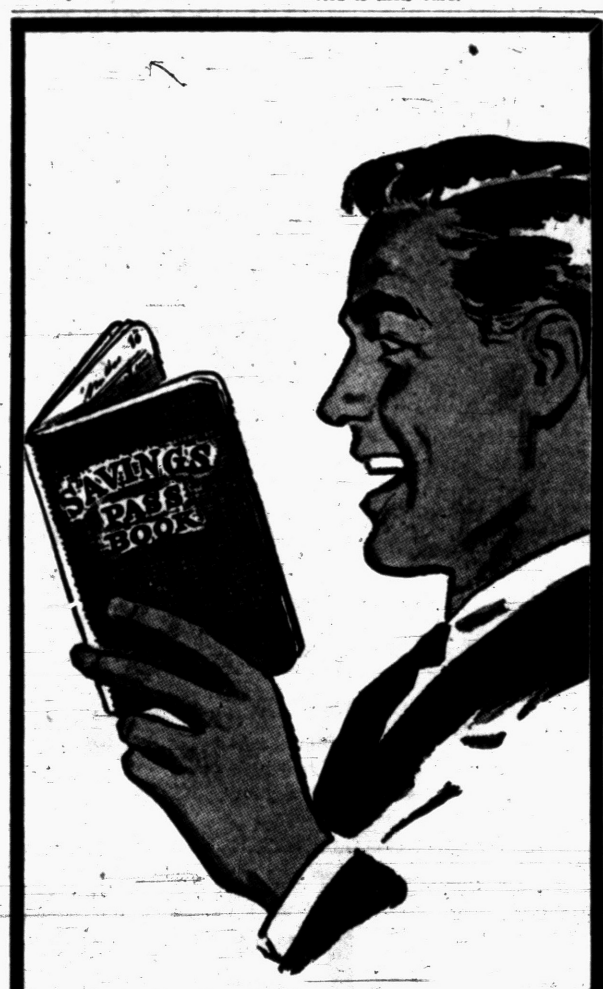

In a baseball game between Osaka film stars and Tokyo actors, they saw wild throws make a home run of a bunt to the pitcher.

And after Osaka won 12-9 a few thousand bobby soxers rioted trying to get the film stars' autographs. It took three companies of police three hours to get the actors to their cars.

Taking Over Continental Air Defense

AF Gen. Partridge Likes to Fly His Jets

TOKYO (AP)—At Dayton, Ohio, last year a tall, lean, soft-spoken general climbed into the cockpit of a captured Russian-built MIG jet fighter plane.

Off he took, and for the next half hour he rocketed that MIG through the Ohio skies.

"I wanted to see what it could do," the general said after a perfect landing.

* * *

That's the way he operates—Gen. Earle E. Partridge, commander of the Far East Air Forces, who on June 1 becomes the new continental air defense commander in the United States.

In the Korean War, as commander of the 5th Air Force, he racked up more than 300 combat hours in one year flying over Communist lines, seeing what the enemy was doing and assessing the damage wrought by U.S. air raids.

To his new job of protecting the United States from enemy air attack, Partridge takes years of experience in air combat, command, administration and in research and development of new planes and weapons.

He was an enlisted infantry engineer in World War I. Then he went to West Point. Since 1925 he has been an Air Force pilot. He has flown all combat planes the Air Force has in operation, including the six-jet B47 Stratojet bomber.

* * *

In 1936 he was a test pilot at Wright-Patterson Field, Dayton. In World War II he served in Africa and then commanded the 8th Air Force in England and on Okinawa.

In 1952 and 1953 he was head of the Air Research and Development Command. He used World War II combat experience and Korean War experience in directing design and development of many of the Air Force's top aircraft of today as well as guided missiles.

* * *

As Far East Air Forces commander, he has stressed constant alertness and extreme mobility of Air Force units against surprise attack. That includes:

1. An early warning network to sound an instant alarm if unfriendly planes approach the outer perimeter of defense.

2. The deadliest U.S. interceptors based where they can knock down invaders before they get within striking distance.

3. Waves of long-range bombers capable of knocking out enemy airfields.

4. Ground and operations crews ready to move an entire Air Force base at a moment's notice.

* * *

In the critical period just before the Tachen Island evacuation, Air Force Sabre Jets moved from the Philippines and Okinawa to Formosa. They were flying missions an hour after they arrived.

By the time those Sabes were back from their first missions, huge C124 Globemaster transport planes had landed with maintenance crews and equipment.

In less than 24 hours, two airfields in Formosa had been turned into effective operational Sabre bases.

Herons Return, Plan to Repair Michigan Nests

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Luckier than most of us, the great blue heron has flown in from the south and is setting about repairing his summer home in Michigan.

One of Michigan's largest birds, the heron sliped in unnoticed last month, according to a University of Michigan assistant professor.

Zoologist Harry W. Hann says the heron is getting ready to become a family man again. Uusually, Hann says, the heron nests in trees in the eastern United States, but may nest in the ground, rocks or bushes in the west.

Hann says the nesting sites are called heronries—and if they are not tampered with, will be used by herons year after year. They contain anywhere from a few nests to several hundred.

It is here, Hann tells us, that by the middle of April, the female has laid from three to five eggs.

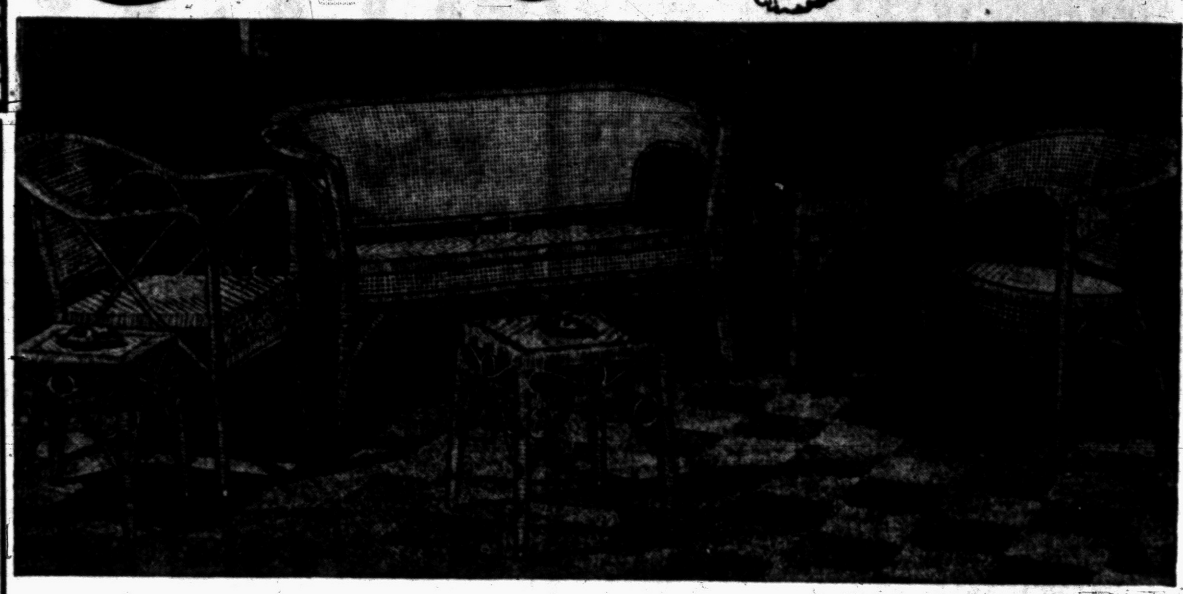

At first, Hann says, the young are fed a liquid diet of food, partially digested by the parents. When they're older they begin to savor frogs, fish and other small animals.

The parents still have to partially digest the food, and it is deposited in the bottom of the next. Furnishing the food keeps the herons busy for the first two months.

"Every day, I talk with customers who know through experience there is nothing like Blue Cross-Blue Shield," says Mr. Miller.

Ask anyone who's used it—

says Eli Miller, Detroit barber

You can't duplicate the "3-PLUS" advantages of Blue Cross-Blue Shield!

1. HOSPITAL SERVICES, NOT LIMITED CASH! No other state-wide plan gives you basic services the way Blue Cross does, through its contract with the hospitals! Other plans give you fixed cash payments, which may pay only a small part of your hospital bill . . . and may leave the big part to be paid by you!

2. DOCTOR SERVICES, NOT LIMITED CASH—with a choice of a $2,500 or $5,000 family income ceiling medical-surgical contract. You get service benefits if your family income meets the requirements of the contract you choose. The service benefits provision is offered only by your Blue Shield Plan.

3. YOUR BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD CARD CUTS RED TAPE—eliminates need for a hospital deposit! No forms to fill out on admission to the hospital . . . no claims to file . . . no wait for payment. Blue Cross-Blue Shield Plans are the only plans that contract directly with your hospital and doctor.

Nothing can replace . . . or come close to replacing . . . the "3-PLUS" advantages of Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection against the cost of hospital and doctor care!

Chances are, your family has Blue Cross-Blue Shield. (Nearly half the people in Michigan do!)

And granted, you may think Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection is good. But it's far more than "good." It's so good that millions of Michigan people have found they just can't afford to be without it . . . and here's why—

Hospital services . . . not cash! Unlike plans that provide you with fixed cash benefits (and rarely do you get enough cash!), the Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract gives you basic hospital services themselves . . . regardless of the cost.

This protection provides up to 120 days at a time . . . at almost any general hospital in Michigan, and at Blue Cross member hospitals anywhere.

Doctor services . . . not cash! Along with hospital care, you'll surely need a doctor's care, too . . . and it's against part or all of the cost of in-hospital doctor care that Blue Shield protects you.

Blue Shield offers you a choice of a $2,500 or $5,000 family income medical-surgical contract. If your family income meets the requirements of the contract you choose, the cost of your participating doctor's in-hospital services will be covered by Blue Shield. This service benefits provision is made available to you only through Blue Shield. In any event, regardless of your income, liberal amounts will be paid to the doctor of your choice.

Non-profit organizations. Blue Cross and Blue Shield are non-profit organizations . . . sponsored by hospitals and doctors themselves. Together, these plans offer more protection per dollar than any other plan.

Ask your employer or your union representative how you can get low-cost group coverage for you and your family. (A company with as few as five employees may qualify as a group.) Or, contact your local Blue Cross-Blue Shield representative.

Mr. Gordon Cox, Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Huron Centre, 1058 W. Huron St., Pontiac, Michigan.

Delay Sought on Carver Recall Election

Wingless Plane Kills Mechanic Repairing It

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (INS)—A 47-year-old man was killed yesterday when a wingless, runaway airplane he had been working on tracked him down in his back yard.

The victim, Andrew Clinton Slemp Jr., was mangled by the propeller when the plane jumped its blocks after the engine started suddenly.

Pontiac Man Injured When Car Rolls Over

John E. Rankey, 30, of 493 Ferry Ave., was treated for minor injuries Sunday after his car rolled over on M15 near Clarkston.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said his car was involved in a collision with one being driven by Victor R. Blakeslee, 62, of Farmington.

Asking Today for Extension

School Board Attorney Also to Seek Reversal of Appointment Order

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP — Attorney for the George Washington Carver School Board indicated he would seek a time extension today on the recall election ordered by the Oakland County Circuit court.

Lonnie R. Snowden said he would ask the court to set aside its ruling that a non-partisan person administer the recall election ordered against board members Mrs. Loretta Baker and Chester Carter.

Today was the deadline set by the court for the school board to name such an official.

Snowden indicated he would also ask for a time extension on the ordered election, putting off the voting in the district until at least July.

The petitions seeking the recall election were filed by board member James E. Harrison, leader of a reform movement seeking a change in the administration of the district.

The recall petitions were circulated by the Citizens Improvement Committee.

Residents attending a school board meeting Thursday night strongly opposed approving the minutes of a special meeting of the board at which the board voted to appeal to the State Supreme Court the ordered recall election.

Experts Meet at Albuquerque

Science Wants to Make Desert Bloom to Avert Famine in World of Tomorrow

NEW YORK (UP) — Another achievement which scientists think they can bring about for the benefit of mankind is to make deserts bloom with vegetation and thus support human beings in vast and growing numbers.

It's a big order. So was atomic energy. Scientists are working on it in all parts of the world. Some 90 of these specialists will meet in Albuquerque, N. M., beginning tomorrow, to trade knowledge and ideas.

Theirs will be an unsatisfactory scientific meeting from the standpoint of the layman because they have no big, dramatic advances to report yet. Nevertheless, they're positive that eventually they can produce. Whether they do or don't may become a matter of vital importance in our world even within the lifetimes of many of us.

This urgency comes from the stark fact that we human-beings never had it so good in the matter of life versus death—our numbers are increasing in giant's strides. Each new medical advance, such as the Salk anti-polio vaccine, widens those strides, if only a little.

That being so, and unless something is done, there will have to come a time when human beings will have exceeded their food supplies. Then their numbers will be cut down in the effective if agonizing workings of famine and mass starvation. One thing that can be done is to increase the food supplies, and so science intently studies the world's waste lands.

One third of the world's land surface is desert. Ten per cent of the United States is dry. Another twenty per cent is semi-arid—barely enough rain falls to support thin, weakish grasses which die out if there are too many animals feeding upon them. In addition, we have new deserts in the making, in our "dust bowls."

Among the scientists assembled at Albuquerque are out-and-out water scientists, the hydrologists. There are scientific rain-makers, who have not yet succeeded in proving that they can milk passing clouds of their rain by "seeding" them. There are chemists, both of soil and of water; and biologists focussed both on plant and animal life.

The hydrologists—as an example of their studies—are trying to get control over the processes by which nature stores water underground, in "ground water." Sudden cloudbursts are common desert regions. These floods evaporate in a matter of hours. So far as usefulness is concerned, they might as well have never occured. But if they could be taken underground to build up "ground water" the future of some deserts would be bright.

Some of the chemists are trying to find out how to remove the salt from sea water cheaply and in large volume. It can be done now, but not in practical ways. The biologists want to endow nutritional plants with the survival characteristics of the worthless desert plants, and to give to meat animals the desert-thriving qualities of such animals as the camel.

All these studies, and others, also point to better use of deserts and semi-arid lands as they are now—and toward the prevention of new deserts forming. The meeting is sponsored by the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the United Nations Advisory Committee on arid land research.

Racing Fans Flee Burning Grandstand

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UP) — A windswept fire burned a wooden grandstand at the Greensboro Fairgrounds track yesterday. It collapsed minutes after more than 2,000 stock car racing fans had rushed to safety.

Four minor injuries reported. Twenty cars parked near the grandstand either were destroyed or badly damaged.

There was no estimate of damage. Officers theorized a lighted match or cigarette was dropped through a crack in the wooden floor, starting the fire.

Sweden Halts Shots; Vaccine Found Faulty

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (UP)—Sweden abruptly called off the antipolo vaccination of 120,000 schoolchildren, scheduled to start today. The Board of Health announced live virus had been found in some of the Swedish-made vaccine.

The board also confiscated a third of the whole store of the Swedish serum. The announcement made no mention of plans for resuming the vaccination program.

You're better off because . . .

America is producing twice as much as pre-war!

AMERICANS are now producing twice as many goods and services as pre-war. These are sold for almost a billion dollars a day.

Who benefits from this? We all do—all of us who share in the production and the distribution of this wealth.

The extra income that we earn gives us many opportunities. More than half of us own our homes. We're giving our children more education. We own more than 40 million automobiles. We're traveling more, eating better—enjoying more of the good things in life!

More money also gives us the opportunity to increase our families' security. Today, 93 million people own life insurance—28 million more than in 1940.

One of the main purposes for which we use life insurance is to guarantee money for the family in case of the father's death.

And today we are also using life insurance to cover the mortgage . . . to assure money for the children's education . . . to help build an adequate retirement program. In fact, more than half of all life insurance benefits are now paid to the policyholders themselves.

3 Years Needed to Arm

Bonn Preparedness Is Still Long Way Off

BONN, Germany (AP)— German and Allied military experts calculate it will take at least three years to make West German armed forces ready for combat.

Some German sources think that, for political reasons, it may take until 1960.

The three main factors affecting the speed of rearmament are:

1. The Germans have to start from scratch to create modern forces for the atom age. There's a serious shortage of qualified young officers and noncoms.

2. A mass of legislation is required to legalize the raising of armed forces.

3. The public is so reluctant to rearm that it will be politically impossible to put too much steam behind the drive until all possibility of a settlement with Russia has clearly disappeared.

The top limit for the West German forces is 500,000 men. They will be divided into 350,000 soldiers in 12 divisions, 85,000 airmen in a 1,300-plane tactical air force and 65,000 sailors in a small coastal navy.

At least nine major laws will be necessary to implement the Paris treaties in Germany.

The first will be a "volunteer law" to establish a 150,000-man cadre for the armed forces. A conscription law will be needed to enable 350,000 men to be called up for 18 months training and then kept on reserve.

* * *

A new democratic military code is to replace the strict Prussian-style regulations of the past.

Powers to requisition land and property and raise funds for military purposes must be granted by Parliament.

Parliament must decide the question of who is to be commander in chief, which is sure to stir controversy.

Parliamentary sources doubt this process can be completed much before the end of this year. That means the first recruits would be taken into service in January 1956.

For all their services, there will be a cadre of 22,000 officers, 40,000 noncommissioned officers and 88,000 enlisted men. There is already doubt whether so many volunteers can be found.

* * *

Present plans for the army call for the creation of 12 skeleton divisions at first. In emergency these could be combined to make four full-strength divisions.

After about 18 months training, these divisions will be ready to take on strength through the draft.

Initial air force training, especially of pilots, is expected to be carried out in American and British establishments.

The service commanders as well as the commander in chief have yet to be named. The leaders chosen, the cadre trained, the forces will be ready for the draft.

The day when the summonses go out to the nation's young men is also subject to political influence.

Federal elections are due in September 1957. Political observers believe the government would not risk its election chances by calling the draft just before the vote. They speculate that this might delay the draft until late 1957 or even January 1958.

On that basis the divisions would not be fully trained and ready for battle until 1960.

On the other hand, if the nation became convinced there is no hope of a deal with Russia over reunification, the program could be speeded up to put trained divisions in the Western lines early in 1958.

Cripple Stands Up, Walks During TV Church Show

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — A deeply religious young mother, reportedly imprisoned in a wheel chair four years, says "something told me to get up and walk" yesterday, and she did.

She and her husband call it a miracle.

Mrs. Anna Williams, 22, said she was strangely compelled to rise while watching a TV religious service with her husband, S. Sgt. William R. Williams, Sheppard Air Force Base. With them were a couple with whom they make their home, A.1.C. and Mrs. Harold Weeks, also of Sheppard.

* * *

Said Mrs. Williams:

"We were all praying, and something told me to get up and walk. I had a strange feeling from the bottom of my feet right to the top of my head."

She said she stood up, shoved her wheel chair aside, took a few steps and fell crying into her husband's arms. "I just walked and walked," she said. "Then I danced. I didn't get weak at all. I was surprised that my legs seemed strong and didn't get tired.

* * *

"Then I picked up my baby for the first time and walked across the floor with him."

Mrs. Williams called it "all God's doing. He saw fit for me to be healed, and when he is ready you will be healed."

Her husband said, "It is a miracle. . . . God waited until we accepted the fact that he has healing powers."

Mrs. Williams said she had been confined to a wheel chair since June 19, 1951. She suffered a broken leg when a car she was in collided with a train at Houston. Twenty months later, she said, she got polio, and, in 1953, was paralyzed from the waist down by myelitis—an inflammation of the spinal column which often follows polio. Her 2-year-old son Benjamin was born while she recovered from polio.

Secretaries Hold Annual Tea Saturday

Dr. Hoffman Talks to Pontioak Chapter on Investments

Dr. Theodore Hoffman, vice chairman of the Department of Economics at University of Detroit spoke on "Investments for Secretaries" at the membership tea sponsored by the Pontioak Chapter of the National Secretaries Association.

He said that United States E Bonds were the safest investment; discussed the various types of life insurance as investment, and explained investing in building and loan associations.

Term insurance was outlined. This type of insurance calls for leaving money in for a few years, with no principal received for a number of years. This is highly recommended for young married people, the speaker said.

President of the Pontioak Chapter, Mary Eleanor Lockman introduced Mrs. Darryl Coon, president of the Detroit Transcript Chapter who spoke briefly on the "CPS Examination Program."

Harriet Schaar, recording secretary also spoke briefly on "History of NSA."

Must Invite Enemy Pair to Wedding

By EMILY POST

The mother of a bride-to-be writes as follows: "My daughter is going to be married soon and the bridegroom's mother has given me a list of the guests to be invited on the bride-groom's side of the family.

"Included in this list is a Mr. and Mrs. A. with whom we are not on speaking terms. Would it be proper for me to remove their names from the list?

"I feel that as we are giving the wedding I have the right to do this, but before doing so, I would like to have your opinion."

Answer: I think you will have to send them an invitation, and if they feel as deeply toward you as you do toward them, they will stay away of their own accord.

If they do come they will be considered guests of the bridegroom's family and you do not have to welcome them with ardor.

You do have to offer your hand as they greet you, and echo their "how-do-you-do!" But that is all that courtesy requires of you.

Dear Mrs. Post: At a very big public dinner where there are a speaker's table and smaller tables, when does a guest begin eating? Must the people at the small tables wait for someone at the speaker's table—perhaps the guest of honor—to begin eating?

Answer: You pay no attention whatever to any table other than your own. You may begin to eat as soon as two or three others at your table have been served.

Garbo: The Legend and the Lady

Greta Arrives in Hollywood--Mayer Is Indifferent

By JOHN BAINBRIDGE

VI

In the late spring of 1925, Louis B. Mayer, vice-president and production chief of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, was making a business and pleasure trip through Europe with his daughter Irene. While in Berlin, Mayer saw Gosta Berling's Saga, Greto Garbo's first major film appearance made in Sweden under the direction of the gifted Mauritz Stiller.

He was impressed by the scope of the picture, its resourceful photography and, most of all, what he considered its brilliant direction. A man who could turn out a picture like that, Mayer decided, belonged in Hollywood, and set out to capture him.

When Mayer called on Stiller at the latter's suite in the Esplanade Hotel, he offered the Swedish director (Stiller became a Swedish citizen in 1921) a three-year contract at a starting salary of fifteen hundred dollars a week.

For once Stiller, perhaps sensing that he had met his match, did not indulge in prolonged haggling over money matters. He did, however, put forth one provision: He would go to Hollywood, he said, only on the condition that M-G-M also put Greta Garbo under contract.

"And who is Greta Garbo?" Mayer asked, acting as if he hadn't noticed her in Gosta Berling. "First," Stiller began, "she is a great beauty, a type you get in front of a camera once in a hundred years.

"Second, she is a great actress, an actress who will be the greatest in the world." As Stiller was warming up to his subject, Mayer interrupted to suggest that it might be desirable for him to meet the young woman.

Stiller called her into the room and introduced her to Mayer. His indifference was profound. As Greta Garbo recalled some years later, "When we met with Mr. Mayer he hardly looked at me. I suspect he looked at me out of the corner of his eye, but I can't be sure he gave me even that much attention.

"The whole thing was arranged between Mr. Stiller and him." To make sure of signing Stiller, Mayer promised to give Greta Garbo a contract, the details of which were to be arranged after she and Stiller arrived in New York.

* * *

Greta Garbo and Stiller arrived in New York aboard the Drottningholm on July 6, 1925. The first difficulty they experienced was the heat. It was the beginning of a prolonged heat wave, which Greta Garbo and Stiller, accustomed to the cool Scandinavian climate, found almost unendurable.

To handle the welcoming of its latest importations, MGM selected one of its bright young public relations men named Hubert Voight, who subsequently became a ranking independent publicity expert in Hollywood.

After glancing at some photographs of Greta Garbo that had been forwarded from Stockholm, Voight decided to present her as "the Norma Shearer of Sweden."

"Working himself up into a small state of synthetic enthusiasm, he phoned the city editors to advise them of the Swedish Norma Shearer's arrival and suggest that they have reporters and photographers on hand to cover the momentous event.

As it turned out, only Voight, a Swedish-speaking Metro employe who acted as interpreter, and a free-lance photographer named Jimmy Silio (whom Voight had paid ten dollars in advance for the job) made up the welcoming party to greet the Norma Shearer of Sweden and her companion. They were both extremely cooperative in posing for pictures.

Silio took four, one of Greta Garbo and Siller leaning against the ship's rail and three of her alone. She gave every indication of being willing to pose for more, but Silio, out on a ten-dollar assignment, had brought only four plates for his camera.

However, to please the eager young actress, he continued for the next twenty minutes to snap his empty camera at her as she sat on the rail, waved at the Statue of Liberty and assumed all the other shipboard attitudes that Silio could think of.

This business finished, Voight conducted the new arrivals to the Commodore Hotel, where Greta Garbo promptly immersed herself in a tub of cold water. That was the way, Stiller later told friends, that she spent most of her time in New York.

Though Voight saw to it that prints of Silio's photographs were delivered to all the New York papers, only two used them. The tabloid Graphic published the picture of Greta Garbo and Stiller, and the Herald Tribune printed one of the actress alone.

The picture was captioned: "A Comely Visitor. Greta Garbo, one of Sweden's most beautiful film stars, arrived here yesterday on board the Swedish-American liner Drottningholm. She has signed contracts to appear in several American motion pictures."

The latter statement was a product of Voight's natural ebullience; Greta Garbo had not yet signed a contract to appear in any American motion picture.

Greta Garbo and Stiller found New York lonely and unattractive. Because of one vexing difficulty after another, they had to spend a little more than two months in the sweltering city. Metro executives were anxious for Stiller to continue on to the Coast to begin work, but Stiller refused to budge until a contract had been worked out for Greta Garbo.

He demanded that she be given a three-year contract with a beginning salary of seven hundred dollars a week. MGM showed no interest in her at any price.

Stiller worked for days trying to arrange an appointment to introduce his protegee to MGM's president, Nicholas Schenck. He was always too busy. Instead, Stiller was turned over to a vice-president called Major Edward Bowes, who later acquired considerable reputation as a judge of amateur talent.

Though Major Bowes shared the general Metro lack of enthusiasm for the Swedish Norma Shearer, he granted Stiller's insistent request that screen tests be made of her. With painstaking care Stiller spent a week supervising the making of the test.

When it was shown to Metro officials, they all shook their heads. "She's too unusual," they muttered. Stiller tried to explain that this was precisely the quality that made her a great find, but nobody cared to listen.

When Stiller wasn't badgering MGM on behalf of his protegee, he roused her from her cold tub, and they went walking, if the heat wasn't insufferable, or to the movies. Once in a while they called on one of Stiller's few acquaintances in New York.

Among these was the well-known actress Martha Hedman, whom Steller had known in Sweden. She invited the new arrivals to lunch and afterwards took them around to the studio of her friend Arnold Genthe, the famous photographer.

"The newcomers were very much interested in the photographs they saw in my studio," Genthe recalled in his memoirs. "That kind of photography was something entirely new to them. I would love to have you make some pictures of me sometime,' Miss Garbo said. 'Why sometime?' I enquired. 'Why not now?'

" 'You're here and I'm here, and I must make some real photographs of you to have visible proof that you are real.' She smiled, but protested earnestly. 'No, not now. Look at my dress, and I don't like my hair.' 'Never mind that,' I said. 'I am more interested in your eyes and in what is behind that extraordinary forehead.'

Genthe sent a complete set of the pictures to Greta Garbo, and one morning toward the middle of August she stopped in at his studio to thank him. She said that she had also come to bid him good-by.

"They don't seem to want me," she explained. "They say I'm a type. I'm going back to Berlin."

Genthe asked if she had shown his photographs to the people at Metro. "No," she replied. "I want to keep those for myself. They have so many of me already." Genthe insisted that she bring the pictures to the attention of the MGM executives before taking any further steps to return to Europe, and she promised to do so.

Once the Metro officials had seen Genthe's arresting portraits, which Stiller laid before them, their chilliness toward Greta Garbo suddenly vanished. The shy, frizzy-haired young hopeful they had seen in person now appeared in photographs as a handsome and oddly provocative-looking woman.

If she could be photographed to look like that, Metro officials told each other, they had better sign her. They produced a three-year contract, starting her at three hundred and fifty dollars a week. Though Stiller doggedly insisted for a while on double that sum, he finally settled for four hundred dollars. He and his ever compliant protegee then set out for California.

The reporters put a few questions to the newcomers. Miss Garbo was asked where she planned to live in Hollywood. "I would like to find a room with a nice private family," she said.

The American Automobile Assn. predicts that America will have 81 million motor vehicles by 1965.

Adversity Makes Britons Lovable

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

If there were not an England and its inhabitants, I do believe we'd have to invent them. Especially Winston Churchill, the embodiment—more even than his sovereign—of everything in the way of virtues and faults that the word British means to the free world.

There were times during World War II when, with a feeling of panicky despair, I'd try to figure out how the tight little isle could possibly survive.

And then I'd hear that rich old voice with a thousand years of English arrogance and dauntlessness packed into every syllable sending out his stubborn, sometimes, it seemed, almost stupid, defiance over the air waves.

And in spite of everything reasonable my mind told me about doom, I'd know somehow, some way, things would ultimately be all right. If Winnie could thus reinvigorate me thousands of miles away, what must have been his impact on millions of his beset countrymen!

That's why I feel rather sorry for Sir Anthony Eden, wise, patient, clear-thinking, skilled negotiator though he be. He is really up against it following that testy, witty, lovable son of Joln Bull. I suspect Clement Atlee knows what I mean.

It's funny about me and the British, including Churchill, of course. I find it harder to love them when their backs aren't against the wall. When things are really bad their admirable qualities stand out like bones on an X-ray plate.

They are tough, resilient, determined and ridiculously optimistic in the face of odds. Their national habit of understatement takes on humor, even heroism.

When they were being blitzed, I speeded bundles to Britain with love in every pound of food and every pair of stockings. Later, when supplies were still rationed and old and young were proudly in uniform, ready, at Churchill's bidding, to take to the beaches and the hedgerows in defense of the homeland, I felt warm, cousinly affection.

This lessened only when England and Churchill were away from the wall and standing firm on their own feet again, with her majesty's colonies and her majesty's trade routes coming into their own, taxes cut and England suddenly again ready, as of old, to tell the world what is best to do.

Then and then only did I find myself getting a little annoyed.

All the same, I'm glad they really are there—and that we don't have to invent them. I can't help wondering, though, just how long Sir Winston is going to devote himself to his painting and leisure—probably only until the first tocsin sounds.

Annual Horse Show Slated

The thirty-eighth annual Detroit Horse Show, America's largest annual outdoor horse show, will be held at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan, June 23 through 26.

In announcing the dates for the four-day show, John R. Davis, Hunt Club president, also announced the appointment of Irving A. Duffy as general chairman for the second consecutive year.

Mr. Duffy said the colorful event will present many of the nation's outstanding jumpers, hunters and western class horses competing in 82 classes in 9 divisions, for trophies and cash prizes totaling $10,000.

Entries close June 1, and should be sent direct to the show's secretary at the Hunt Club. Mrs. E. E. Fisher and Miss Charlotte Nichols have been appointed secretary and co-secretary respectively.

Named vice chairmen of the show were John R. Davis, executive committee; Ray E. Lawlor, finance; E. S. Nichols, classes, obstacles and courses; Roy Pulver, grounds and stabling; William H. Beatty, public relations and program; Mrs. Graham John Graham, exhibitor relations and trophies; Charles E. Carey, admissions and boxes; C. M. Pierce, concessions, and G. Fred Morris judges, radio, television and publicity.

J. N. Monaghan is counsel and Bert McIntire is show manager. Popular with the nation's top riders and exhibitors, the Detroit Horse Show last year attracted 400 entries for both day and night events.

Increasingly popular too from the standpoint of public interest, the 1954 show drew more than 31,000 spectators.

Meal in Dish Is Hearty and Satisfies

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Teenagers who have to do the dishes probably like Casserole recipes — not many pots and pans to wash. This recipe for a one dish meal sent in by Mrs. Norman Williams of Ortonville will please the whole family.

Her recipe, Mrs. Williams told us, has been handed down in her family for years.

Mrs. Williams is an active citizen. She enjoys her daughter's Brownie troop which she leads. She and her husband sponsor a teenage square dance club. Membership in the Woman's Club and the PTA, as well as participation in an Extension group, keeps Mrs. Williams going at top speed.

ITALIAN DELIGHT
By Mrs. Norman Williams

1 large onion, chopped
1 green pepper
1 pound ground round steak
1 cup uncooked spaghetti
1 cup mushrooms
1 cup undiluted tomato soup
1 small can corn, drained
Salt and pepper
Grated cheese

Fry onion, green pepper and round steak. Cook spaghetti, drain it and add to first mixture. Add rest of ingredients except cheese and put in greased casserole. Cover with grated cheese and bake ½ hour in a moderate oven. Serves 5-6.

Doreen M. Church Wears Chantilly Lace for Rite

A gown of imported white Chantilly lace fashioned with deep illusion neckline was worn by Doreen M. Church Saturday evening for her marriage to Ted Buckner.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Church of East Tennyson avenue and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl H. Buckner of Gerdon avenue.

Palms, floral arrangements and candelabra decorated the altar of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church for the eight o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. Theodore Allebach before 200 guests.

The bride's jewelry was a pearl choker and matching earrings and she carried a white prayer book and a white orchid with forget-me-not streamers.

Mrs. Church greeted the guests at a reception held in the church parlors wearing an aqua cocktail length dress with black accessories.

Every Job Demands Right Paint

By HUBBARD COBB

Using up leftovers is a fine thing to do in most cases but when it comes to using up leftover paint you've got to watch your step.

Paints are made for various purposes and if you use one for a purpose it was not intended for, you may end up in trouble.

For example, interior wall paints are made just for walls and ceilings.

They usually don't do too well for woodwork because they become dulled with repeated washings and they should never be used for exterior work for they just aren't intended to stand up under the weather.

Each time it rains, a thin film of paint is washed away taking with it any dirt that may have accumulated on the surface.

Now if you should use this sort of paint on the trim around doors and windows, it would wash down over the sidewalls and leave nasty looking stains. That is, of course, assuming that you used a different color paint on the walls than on the trim.

Bob Considine Says:

Ed Furgol Gives Class to Golf Tournament

LAS VEGAS (INS)—Ed Furgol did not win the Tournament of Champions. He should have. In fact, even his fellow professionals would not have complained if he had. Ed led with 69 after the first round at the Desert Inn's $72,500 tournament, then blew apart in the peppering desert winds of the second day.

But it was a better tournament because Ed Furgol was in it. Every now and then in sports a man comes along whose very presence on the scene lends class to an occasion. He can be a hairy brute or an elfin master. The indefinable thing, class, is the same.

Ed Furgol's story must be pretty familar by now, even to people who—to quote Joe E. Lewis—"don't even know which end of the caddy to use." When he was 11 years old (which is 27 years ago) he was badly hurt in a playground accident. His left arm was shattered to such a degree that the original medical studies called for amputation.

But a doctor took a chance, put together the broken crockery of the arm's bone structure, and saved it . . . or what was left of it. It is now 11 inches shorter than his right arm. It is a curved member, like a scimitar.

Golfers are supposed to keep their left arms straight when they wind up on one of those treacherous little pills. Even Tommy Armour, the great dissenter, would agree to this. There is no way in which Furgol can keep his left arm straight. There hasn't been for more than a quarter of a century.

So he built a new-type golf swing with what he had. It is quite something to see. He appears to lunge, lurch and fall back. But in the process of these exertions he has summoned every available muscle and each has answered the call. The ball screams out off the tee and goes as far as Sam Snead can make it go. His irons ring out crisply. His putts sink more often than not.

Last summer at Baltusrol in New Jersey, Ed Furgol fulfilled a dream that millions of golfers past and present have dreamed. He won the National Open in a field that included Ben Hogan, Snead, Gene Littler, Cary Middlecoff, Lloyd Mangrum and all the others.

It was an excruciating finish to watch. His final drive on the 72nd hole hooked into the trees. There was no way left for him to bat the ball back on the fairway and toward the hole. So he took a deep-dish iron of some kind and belted it out into an alternate fairway. This left a solid wall of humanity (golf fans in this case) standing between himself and the final green. I'll never forget his trooping across that pasture, calling out to the crowd to clear him a path, and gesturing with his arm—as if it would open that path.

"Give me a break," he asked the people, several times. It may have been the first time he ever said those words. He may never say them again.

The crowd clumsily formed a canyon down which he could shoot. His 7-iron was short. His chip skidded past the hole as if the green were made of ice. His putt was downhill and curving. But he made it. He was Open champion.

The life of this bronzed, good-looking, soft-spoken man has changed a lot since that great victory. He is sought after by persons and organizations who ignored him bleakly before this.

But it hasn't made a bit of difference in the manner, mood and spirit of this good man . . . this good man who looked despair in the eye and made it quit.

Walk around a golf course behind Ed Furgol, and see what he has overcome, and suddenly most of your petty woes become too piddling to mention.

Hawaii-Bound Raft Crew Saved in Stormy Seas

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP)—All five crewmen of the distressed raft Lehi II were rescued from stormy seas early today by the Coast Guard cutter Active, climaxing a second ill-fated attempt to drift to Hawaii.

The raft was abandoned for the time being, but the Coast Guard said it would be placed in tow. The raft's skipper, Devere Baker, of Petaluma, Calif., said earlier in a radio message he was "reluctant to be rescued."

* * *

It was Baker's second attempt to drift on the currents to Hawaii. Last year he and his crew were picked up by a banana boat after drifting into a storm about 250 miles south of San Francisco, their starting point.

Baker and his crew began the voyage Friday from San Francisco. They had hoped to drift to Hawaii, subsisting only on rain water, distilled sea water and whatever food they could get from the sea.

Diem Applauded by ROK Minister

Y. T. Pyong told a news conference that Diem's victory showed "an encouraging trend" and that the free people of Viet Nam now are "determined to fight not only communism but also French colonialism."

Pyun denounced Bao Dai as "the puppet of French colonial policy in Viet Nam."

Spring Fever Okayed as Excuse for Absence

WALSENBURG, Colo. (AP)—School principal John Mall was as understanding as most people when he learned one of his students had a chronic disease.

The lad, absent for a day, produced a note from his mother reading:

"Please excuse my boy's absence from school, he has spring fever. He gets it every year at this time. Thank you."

Mall did.

YOUR SPRING FLOWER GARDEN
The "Daffy-down-dilly"

The official heralds of spring are the many sweet-smelling and beautiful flowers which appear in all their colors in the fields and gardens.

One of Susan's nicest chores this time of year is selling bright yellow daffodils to persons who pass by her little stand at the side of the road. In the picture you see her arranging daffodils in flower pots, gift baskets or in freshly cut bunches.

The daffodil, often called the "daffy-down-dilly," is planted in the autumn. It comes from Europe where it grows wild in the woods, but the bulb can be planted in this country. It is a popular flower, not only because it is pretty, but because it can be cut and kept fresh in water longer than many other blooms.

To spot a daffodil, look for a bright yellow flower at the end of a tall, graceful stalk. The best known is the trumpet daffodil which has a large, tube-shaped blossom and five or six bluish-green leaves on each stalk.

Tomorrow: The flower named for the rainbow

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP) — Cornell University alumni in Argentina have given their alma mater a collection of some 600 books dealing with the historical, political, social, economic, literary and cultural life of their country.

R. Francisco Apesche, class of 1914, said the gift is in partial payment to the United States of the services of 22 American women teachers who went to Argentina some 80 years ago.

The collection contains a 53-volume set of the works of former President Domingo F. Sarmiento, Argentina's great educator who hired the young women to teach and organize a school system

Well Child Clinic Boosts Children's Health Here

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

Thanks to the kernel of an idea planted 20 months ago and nourished by the cooperative spirit of city, county and state health agencies, more children in Pontiac's low-income families are being kept well today.

The instrument for heading off illness is the Well Child Conference, a clinic held every Thursday morning in the Lakeside Homes Project recreation building.

Dr. Roy V. Cooley, realizing many pre-school-age youngsters in low-income families were not receiving immunization shots against common diseases, called a conference of health officials in August, 1953.

Attending the first meeting were Dr. John D. Monroe, city-county health director; Dr. Charles A. Neafie, health consultant, and Mrs. Mary M. Burrell, supervising public health nurse.

All agreed that a need existed and set about making initial plans.

Later, the Pontiac Housing Commission was contacted and approved use of the housing project's recreation building for the clinic.

The Maternal and Child Health Division of the State Health Dept., which cooperates with similar programs in other communities, said it would pay the attending physician's fee.

In November, an organizational meeting was held with state, county and city health, Visiting Nurse Assn', and Housing Commission representatives attending.

"They did all the work and are doing all the work now," Dr. Cooley says.

Dr. Etta Link, a pediatrician, was signed as examining physician. A civic group, which later dropped out of clinic activities, agreed to provide volunteers to aid.

And on Jan. 14, 1954, the first clinic was held. Others followed on an every-other-week basis through August. By then, the attendance average had climbed from 10 to 45 children.

In August, the clinics began operating on a weekly basis. Now, an average of 30 youngsters are examined at each session.

Each clinic session is staffed by a physician, nurses from the Pontiac Health Dept. and the Visiting Nurse Assn. and voluneter helpers.

Any family in the city with children in the six-week to five-year-old age bracket and a financial need is eligible to attend the sessions, held from 9:30 a.m. to noon.

In addition to the shots against whooping cough, small pox, tetanus and diphtheria, the clinic gives tests for tuberculosis.

The clinic operates only to keep youngsters well, not to treat them. When sickness is discovered, the parents are referred to their own physician, when possible, or to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's Pediatrics Clinic.

In order to help ward off illness, the clinic distributes free vitamins donated by pharmaceutical companies.

As well as contributing to the individual's welfare, the clinic raises the community's health level, according to authorities.

"We've reduced the possibility of an epidemic because of the increased protection through the immunization shots," says Mrs. Burrell.

Dr. Cooley feels the clinic's beneficial effect will be reflected in the city's infection rate within five years.

Diplomat Robinson Jaunty, Vigorous Fighter of Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter Spencer Robertson has more the look of a prematurely gray college cheerleader than of a 61-year-old diplomat.

Slim and jauntily dressed, he never looks more at ease than before an airport microphone saying a few words just before racing to Formosa or Geneva or Paris.

He has done it nearly a dozen times during the past two years as Secretary of State Dulles' trouble shooter and specialist on Far East affairs.

* * *

His latest: a hurry-up mission to Formosa with Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. This trip, made amid a worldwide upswing in hopes for a Formosa cease-fire, had about it the hubbub on which Robertson seems to thrive.

Uncommon vigor is the first thing you see in him. It belies the soft voice of a lifelong Virginian—an investment banker and scholarly country squire turned diplomat.

He is consistent in his support of Chiang Kai-shek, the Nationalist Chinese leader whom he met and grew to admire as a patriot during a 1945-46 tour in China. And he is consistent in his militant opposition to the Chinese Reds.

Those factors played an important part in the two prime trouble-shooting missions he has performed for Dulles: in mid-1953 when he flew to Korea and persuaded South Korean President Syngman Rhee not to upset the truce, and last October when he made an unannounced flight to Formosa to wind up the U. S.-Nationalist China Defense Treaty committing America to safeguard Formosa.

* * *

Robertson never countenances any doubt about what the Communists are up to, who they are and how to stop them.

What he said in a speech a year ago last fall at Louisville, he has repeated many times:

"The things we are doing in the Far East are things we could never forgive ourselves not doing. . . . We have no choice . . .

"For the conflict with the Moscow-Peiping axis will be a protracted one, and given our national psychology, it will often be a frustrating one.

"We like jobs that are well defined, to which there is a recognizable conclusion, but the task before us will seem to go on and on."

* * *

Of how to deal with the Chinese Communists, Robertson says, as he did to a House Appropriations subcommittee last Feb. 10:

"The greatest threat to our security and to world peace in Asia is Red China, and you do not appease them by giving them the things they demand."

As he puts it, the Reds made a grab for Japan when they moved into North Korea: their ultimate goal was Japan's industrial potential.

* * *

Thwarted there in what he has hailed as possibly "the turning point" in mankind's attempt to end war, the Reds shifted to Indochina's breadbasket, Japan's industry, and China's manpower.

To thwart this master design, Robertson has held consistently to a policy of blocking Red expansion on the one hand and building partnerships on the other.

Organized Labor Looks to New Goals After Big Merger

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor is preparing to march in a new and potent labor "crusade" after the merger of the AFL and CIO into a single, 15 million-man federation. And businessmen are uneasy.

Chiefs of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations are mapping drives on two major fronts once the merger is completed later this year.

* * *

1. On the political front they will organize their forces to rally the labor vote in an unprecedented effort to elect labor's friends, defeat labor's foes, and achieve more favorable labor laws on both the federal and state levels.

* * *

2. On the organizing front their plan is to bring millions of new members into the unions, particularly from the ranks of white collar workers and from industries in the Southern states where union strength now is weakest.

But these twin moves are in themselves merely the means of reaching the ultimate goal of forging a stronger position for labor in bargaining with management over such issues as wages, hours, union security, pensions, etc.

Not since the New Deal of Franklin D. Roosevelt gave organized labor its great boost with passage of the prolabor Wagner Act in 1935 have the captains of labor made their plans in terms of such potential magnitude and importance.

* * *

With the merger, they hope to put aside internal feuding and achieve a single-purpose unity which will give labor the most powerful voice it has had since the 1937 rift which drove the AFL and CIO apart.

* * *

Business leaders already are talking of the threat of a "labor monopoly" and the need, as they see it, for more restrictive labor legislation — particularly by the states.

There is concern on some fronts, too, that labor's future moves may mean more rather than less labor-management strife as organizing efforts are stepped up in industrial areas where unions now have a relatively weak hold.

WALTER REUTHER

* * *

The two key men in the union planning are George Meny, president of the 10,000,000-member AFL and Walter Reuther, president of the 5,000,000-man CIO. Meany will become president of the merged group. Reuther will continue to head the CIO group within the new federation and will direct the organizing campaign. The name of the merged group is yet to be chosen.

* * *

Meany said in a recent interview: "I'm extremely optimistic. I think that after the merger we really will get going. We plan a definite organizing campaign in which we will be able to concentrate all our forces on a particular industry. We'll be able to do it without the complicating factors created by union rivalries.

"I'd say we've been spending three-fourths of our organizing energies in fighting each other. And this has meant a tremendous amount of energy wasted. But we'll iron out our differences one way or another and with the merger, labor will speak with one voice."

Reuther has told his unions: "I believe if we can instill in this (merger) situation the kind of spiritual crusading spirit that we had in the early days that we can launch the kind of organizational drives that will really electricy America, get workers marching again, get the kind of dynamic forces in motion that characterized the period in which CIO was born."

* * *

Both these men rose from the ranks to gain their positions. Both are implacable foes of Communists in labor. Both hav eshown extraordinary skill in politics and organizing. And both are convinced labor should be united as an active political force.

* * *

Unless some unforeseen block develops, Meany and Reuther will lead their unions into the merger by the end of the year. The executive councils of AFL and CIO have approved, but the councils' action must be ratified by separate conventions and then by a joint convention. These may be held in New York in December.

While merger plans go forward, the old lion of organized labor—John L. Lewis—sits on the sidelines giving no hint of what course he may take with his 500,000 United Mine Workers who are affiliated with neither the AFL nor the CIO. He has been at odds with Meany and Reuther for years.

* * *

But Meany and Reuther are going ahead without Lewis. And their ambitious program reflects the position of power and influence which organized labor has achieved after decades of conflict—often bloody conflict.

* * *

Perhaps the greatest change that has taken place in the labor field since America's early days has been the attitude of the government, of the courst, of management and of the public itself toward the right of workers to strike, to organize, and to bargain collectively.

In the beginning of America's great industrial development, the courts themselves gave little encouragement to organized labor and, by any modern test, the interpretation of the laws were weighted against the unions. With rare exceptions, labor had no voice.

The generally accepted theory today, of course, is that good wages mean a stronger national economy with benefits to both employe and employer. The only serious argument on this score today is not whether workers should be well paid—but how well paid.

Toward the end of the 1800's there was a surge of unionism as industry grew. Workers flocked to the banner of an organization known as the Knight of Labor. But it gave way to the American Federation of Labor led by an iron-willed, Dutch-Jewish cigar maker named Samuel Gompers.

* * *

Under Gompers, the AFL became the dominant force in organized labor through an association of unions organized by crafts. By 1904, the AFL had about 2,000,000 members.

For the next 30 years the fortunes of organized labor rose and fell with AFL membership standing at less than 3,000,000 when the New Deal came to power in 1933. The great depression was on. There were 13,000,000 jobless. The nation was in the grip of fear and unrest, and industrial turmoil such as the country had never known.

* * *

In this atmosphere, Congress passed the Wagner Labor Relation Act. The heart of this act was a section giving workers the right to bargain collectively through agents of their own choice, which mean the unions.

* * *

John L. Lewis was among those who saw the times as a golden opportunity for labor—a time for organizing entire industries under the banner of one union rather than organizing by crafts.

He and a group of like-minded labor leaders formed the "Committee for Industrial Organization" within the AFL. Within two years the steel industry the automobile industry, and other mass production industries had capitulated but not until there was a brawling, bloody round of strikes.

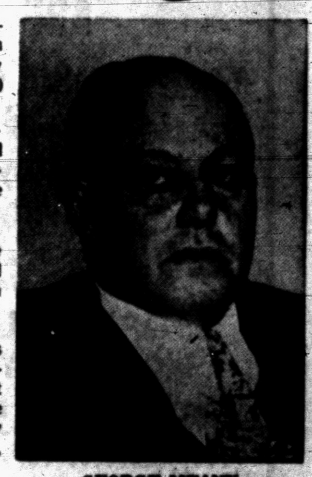

* * *

Then in 1937, the CIO and AFL split apart in bitter disagreement over organizing methods and the CIO changed its name to the Congress of Industrial Organizations. Three years later, Lewis led his miners out of the CIO. He went back to the AFL—but then left the AFL again in 1947 when other union leaders wouldn't back him in his proposal for a labor sit-down against the Taft-Hartley laws.

* * *

But despite their feuding, the AFL and the CIO prospered.

Then the pendulum swung against the unions at least part way. Sentiment in Congress hardened against the unions. And in 1947 the unions' virtually unrestricted freedom won by the Wagner Act was curbed by a Republican-controlled Congress. The Taft-Hartley act was passed with conservative Democratic support.

GEORGE MEANY

This act, in part, bans the closed shop in which only union members may be hired; makes unions liable for unfair labor practices and subject to suit for violation of a contract; outlaws secondary boycotts by which a union strikes indirectly at another employer; and puts restrictions on the union shop in which a non-union worker may be hired on agreement that he will join the union shortly thereafter.

* * *

Since the passage of the Taft-Hartley law, a good many states have passed their own restrictive legislation aimed at curbing union activities.

Now the unions are planning their counteroffensive.

Church-State Separation to Go on Argentine Ballot

BUENOS AIRES (INS) — The Argentine people will be asked to vote on the issue of separating church and state.

President Juan Peron announced this yesterday, affirming an earlier announcement that the Argentine Confederation of Labor soon will submit a bill in Parliament on the church-state issue.

Join Polar Bear Milking Contest

For every person trying to get rich quick by buying wildcat oil or uranium stock, there must be 10,000 seeking to end all their money problems by winning a big national prize contest.

There are scores of these contests going on all the time, and the prizes are getting so magnificent the sponsors are scratching their heads trying to think up bigger and better ones. So far neither the Statue of Liberty nor the New York Yankee baseball cub have been put up as contest prizes, but don't bet they won't be.

* * *

Remember the dear dead days when college boys swallowed goldfish and men nosed peanuts up Pike's Peak for pure glory? Not any more. Contests now have to pay off in hard cash.

The Horatio Alger hero of yesterday got ahead by hard work. But the hero of the modern contest world is the guy who in a single evening wins a world tour, a furnished home and a life income of $500 a month. He does it by sending in a boxtop on which he has scribbled in 25 words why he likes "Blotto, the new wonder-absorbent breakfast food."

The goal no longer is to strive and succeed. Why save up for a trip to Paris when it is so much easier to win it by breaking the bank, identifying the mystery tune, solving the puzzle, or entering a contest to name a new seductive perfume?

Personally, I entered one of these contests to name a perfume, got nowhere, and now have sworn off being a contestant for life.

(Editor's note: What name did you suggest for the perfume?)

(Boyle's note: "Snooty"—and I still can't see why I didn't win.)

But the contest mania has become so widespread it is ruining social life in this country. People are so busy filling out box tops they no longer have time to talk.

The craze also has infected the business world. In some offices the white collar dreamers are so busy filling in boxtops or contest labels they have no time for their regular tasks. I heard of one annoyed employed who put up a sign on his bulletin board: "A prize of $1 will be paid this week to the first employe found working at the job he's being paid to do."

After a week he removed the sign. There had been no takers. The prize was too small.

* * *

This grabbing philosophy has divided the land into two new classes—those who sponsor contests, those who enter them.

Since I now am too proud to enter any more contests, I have decided to sponsor one of my own—an exciting contest that demands both skill and dexterity and will add to any entrant's education by improving his understanding of nature.

So I hereby announce it—an international competition to see who will become the first person in history to milk a live lady polar bear.

To the best of my knowledge it has never been tried before but we can't let the Russians beat us to the punch in this, can we?

* * *

The rules of the contest are simple:

1. The polar bear must be awake and undrugged at the milking hour.

2. All milking efforts must be attempted in an atmosphere of mutual good will—that is, as mutual as the polar bear will allow.

3. Each entrant will assume personal responsibility for all medical expenses entailed, including any claims for damages registered by the polar bear.

4. Entrants will provide their own polar bears.

5. The winner will receive international recognition but no cash prizes — although he will be allowed to retain the milk if he chooses.

* * *

Entrants may object that this doesn't sound like much of a contest. But our main purpose here is to put contests back on a sound, commonsense basis of good old-fashioned fun. They have another consolation. They won't have to mail in a box top—or write a 25-word essay on "Why I enjoy milking polar bears."

Textile Mill Ends Walkout in Maine

LEWISTON, Maine (AP)—Spindles that ran down April 15 at the outset of a cotton textile strike began whirling again today in mills of the Bates Mfg. Co., the first major firm to reach setlement in a three-state work stoppage.

Workers in five Bates mis—members of the CIO Textile Workers Union—ratified a three-year contract yesterday under which they will get the same benefits, or cuts, agreed on by other major New England mills where strikes exist.

The new contract, meanwhile, continues the agerage $1.30 hourly wage which the workers received before they went on strike.

They Lit in Light

Million-Dollar Earners Getting Fewer in U. S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—There were 148 Americans with incomes over a million dollars in 1952, Internal Revenue Service records show. This was 23 fewer than the year before.

A revenue service study of 1952 tax returns made public yesterday disclosed that the 148 millionaires reported income totaling $289,224,000. On this, they paid federal income taxes totaling $180,198,000.

Personal income tax collections that year reached a record level of 28 billion dollars.

Don't Know Dope Sheet

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Students at the University of Arizona may spend a lot of time reading—but one publication they apparently miss is the racing form. Not one of the 36 who took the annual vocabulary test at the university could define the word "parlay."

TIRE DEVELOPMENT ENGINEER — A former math teacher, Marcia Gottschall, is believed to be the only woman tire development engineer in the country. Her colored tires recently went into production. They are produced in subdued shades of green, blue, brown, with narrow sidewalls.

Woman Ex-Teacher Puts Gay Colors in Car Tires

DETROIT (AP) — An attractive brunette who says she once had trouble with her own hair color has put color into automobile tires.

She is former mathematics teacher Marcia Gottschall, who is believed to be the only woman tire development engineer in the country.

Miss Gottschall, whose work is credited with culminating 40 years of research for a successful colored tire, experimented with more than 30 hues before selecting the ones chosen for production.

She admits she hasn't had such success with dyes. Her own dark brown hair has a reddish cast which she sought to highlight.

"I tried a hair tint that turned jet black by morning," she recalled. "I had to have it bleached back to normal."

The entry of Miss Gottschall into the man's world of tire design nine years ago foreshadowed the growing influence of women on the styling trends that sell cars.

She went to U.S. Rubber after working as an engineer at Norge Corp. during World War II. Before that she taught mathematics at a preparatory school in Grosse Pointe.

Married to Carl Mylor, a U.S. Rubber Co. employe, Miss Gottschall's first assignment was to adapt the principle of low pressure tires to most of the company's lines.

She also developed and patented the "scuff-guard," a rubber lip that protects sidewalls from getting dirty when a tire rubs against curbs.

Explaining her choice of colors for auto tires, Mis Gottschall said the subdued shades were designed to blend with more than 90 per cent of the colors on new model cars.

Studying auto lacquer reports, she found that 29 per cent of today's cars are green, 27 per cent blue and 16 per cent in the white, beige, tan and yellow group.

Only 2.4 per cent of the cars are red, and many of them have black hardtops. So Miss Gottschall recommends they carry the regular black and white sidewall tire.

Point Out Need for Technicians

University Professors Offer Guidance to 1955 High School Grads

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP) — University of Illinois placement officers have some valuable advice for 1955 high school graduates.

If you want to cash in on today's shortage of teachnically trained personnel, spend the next four years in college.

"Assuming the present economic situation continues, the demand for scientifically trained persons will continue as far as we can see ahead."

He said that last year there was a shortge of 20,000 engineers in the nation. The demand at least until 1960, he added.

Bulging school enrollments make the outlook for teaching jobs bright for years ahead, said Prof. J. L. Trump, who heads teacher placement at the U. of I.

He pointed out the most critical shortage now is for elementary grade teachers. The "baby boom" that followed World War II is now reaching grade school.

"Four years from now we'll have teacher shortages in almost every teaching field," Trump said.

Demand for college-trained personnel also will continue to rise in many other fields, particularly in chemistry and chemical engineering, according to Prof. Leonard E. Miller.

Burglars Leave Beer After Unprofitable Job

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (UP)—John Haggerty, manager of the Orient Theater, told police intruders broke into his theater and poked about his office and the cashier's cage.

Berle Will Taper Off--- Do Only 9 Shows in '56

By EARL WILSON

Sol Rosenblatt!

"At his own request," Milton "Mr. Television" Berle'll do only 9 TV shows next season . . . one a month . . . "for a little less income," an NBC chief tells me.

MARTHA

He'll be "more of an executive," experimenting with new shows. Martha Raye'll become the Tuesday Big Shot (13 shows). With another star who'll do 4, they'll be sponsored by Whirlpool, Schick and RCA. The other 13'll be by Bob Hope (6) and an all-star show.

★ ★ ★ ★

Berle's not retiring—just tapering off to please his wife Ruth and daughter Vickie, NBC said. Berle stayed on top longer'n anybody and always gave sponsors their money's worth. "Year after next he may bounce back bigger'n ever," NBC said.

As for his slight pay decline, in these days of Jackie Gleason's increasing millions: Berle was a millionaire before TV. Still, Tuesday night—which he used to "own" and is now abdicting—won't be the same, and thus another era ends.

"Pick out something you like," B'way Angel Tony Farrell, the happy proprietor of "Ankles Aweigh," said to Co-Author Eddie Davis (an ex-cab driver) after counting the increasing receipts. Davis picked out a $5700 Cadillac convertible, explaining "I always wanted a car without a meter in it."

JULIE

"I have more respect for him than anybody . . . I hope I can make up for all his work," she told me sadly from New Haven.

Polan—a Huntington, W. Va., boy—discovered Julie—an Omaha gal—at Mother Kelly's in Miami 7 years ago.

He steered her to stardom in London and N. Y. and last Oct. 18 they eloped to Elkton, Md.

A few days ago they knew it was finis. He put her on a train for New Haven — when "Kismit" moved — handed her a box lunch, and asked whether she wanted to do "Plain and Fancy" in London.

Instead, in Hollywood in July, she'll test for the Helen Morgan movie. She hopes Barron'll be there strengthening her.

"I want to be the star he always said I could be," she said.

Tyrone Power Will Do Story of Eddy Duchin

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Tyrone Power's doctor says he isn't well enough to travel to Italy, so his plan to make "Lorenzo, the Magnificent" this summer is out.

Instead, Ty will head for Hollywood to star in "Music by Duchin," the first musical he's made since "Alexander's Ragtime Band." "Music by Duchin" is the dramatic story of the young pianist who died at the age of 44. Ty, I think, is a very good choice. He even looks a little like Eddy.

Ty talked to Harry Cohn on the long distance telephone and the deal was made, George Sidney, of course, is directing. All is ready to go as soon as Ty can leave the Katharine Cornell play, "The Dark Is Light Enough."

When Ava Gardner comes back to Hollywood she'll bring with her a pot of kohl, the black eye make-up which the ladies of India have used for centuries. She's been experimenting with it while on location there.

According to an article written from Lahore, Ava is different from the girl we know here.

"She finds the days on location in tropical heat so exhausting that she's been doing a Garbo off duty. She spends her evenings sewing and listening to Beethoven and Mozart on her record machine. Her present ambition is to meet Sir Thomas Beecham," says the article.

Ava, who has had so much bad luck whenever she's been on location, was really admired in Pakistan. Two of the frontier force riflemen were assigned to guard her hotel room, and they were the envy of all the other soldiers.

Some way, Nancy Oakes von Honyigen-Huene didn't sound happy to me. She says she hasn't been well since the birth of her baby.

This girl has had so much tragedy in her life. Her first husband, Count Alfred de Marigny, stood trial for the murder of her father, Sir Harry Oakes, and was acquitted. The case was never solved.

Nancy saw her mother, who was returning from a trip around the world on the Coronia and stopped in California. She tells me she brought one of the trustees of her father's estate along because they had so much business to talk with her mother. Her husband, Baron von Honyigen-Huene, will study at Columbia University this winter so she will move from her home in Nassau to spend the winter in New York.

SALT LAKE CITY (UP) — The weather went into its mud-slinging act in Utah again yesterday. Winds 40 to 60 m.p.h. strong whisked dust into the air, where rain gathered it and splashed it back down. Mixed in was salt from the desert near the Great Salt Lake.

Spectacular Luck

Current Young Tigers Recall Team of 1950

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It is difficult to recall another big league club which has had as great luck as the Detroit Tigers in coming up with spectacular young outfield units. The one which is causing American League eyes to bug these days is the second such to burst upon the Motor City since the war.

* * *

It seems only yesterday, and it actually was only six and seven years ago, that a youthful Tiger outfield trio of Hoot Evers, Vic Wertz and Johnny Groth was the hottest thing in the game. They had hit Briggs Stadium almost together and in no time at all were being fitted for immortality.

In 1950, the second year they played together as a unit, Evers hit .323, Wertz .308 and Groth .306. Largely due to their collective clubbing, the Tigers won 95 games and finished an exciting second, only three games back of the Yankees. There seemed no limit to what heights the trio might eventually carry the club.

* * *

But it wasn't to be. The next season Evers' batting average plummeted to .224, that of Wertz to .285. Only Groth stayed close with .299. Within two more years the terrible trio was scattered through the league. You may recall that Wertz did a bit of hitting for Cleveland in the last World Series. Evers is hanging on with Baltimore, Groth with the Chicago White Sox.

And now the Tigers have Al Kaline, Bill Tuttle and J. W. Porter. The latter, just out of the Army, has yet to prove that he is quite in the class with the other two, but everything in the background of the bonus beauty indicates that he will, given time.

Chiefs Outdistance Field in Record CMC Relays Win

By H. GUY MOATS

Scoring in 14 out of 16 events in the Central Michigan College outdoors relays, Saturday, at Mt. Pleasant, Pontiac High School's great track squad rolled up a record 101 1-5 points to win the event. It was the Chiefs' 1st victory in many years in the outdoors test, although the PHS squad has been in there trying for a long time.

Saturday's great victory, over many of the state's best prep squads, simply adds additional credence to a belief that the team coached by Wally Schloerke and staff of aides, who know their jobs, is the best in the school's history.

The win, by more than 60 points in front of the next squad—Flint Northern (40 3-5 points) was the 5th straight this year for PHS. It was the 2nd meet victory for the West Huron crew at Central Michigan College this spring. Pontiac won the indoor relays also by a large margin, over many of the same opponents as in Saturday's test.

The triumph now makes Pontiac an overwhelming favorite to take the Saginaw Valley crown Friday as another gem in what is on its way to being the finest PHS track season in the school's history.

On its way to the resounding success, Pontiac set two new meet records, compiled seven 1sts, seven 2nds and two 3rd places. The team brought back one big meet trophy, four smaller relay awards and a total of 43 medals.

First new meet record was a surprise. On Friday afternoon PHS had no 120 yard shuttle hurdles relay team. Saturday afternoon Hayes Jones, Jim Taylor, Norris Jackson and Willie Wilson hung up a 59.3 seconds time to erase Saginaw's 1954 mark of 1:01. In a trial run Friday at suggestion of Ray Lowry, the quartet equalled the CMC mark, running on the Wisner track.

Other record was a middle-distance relay with Rod Treais in the 1st 880, Charles Robinson and Norris Jackson in the two 440s and Bill Douglas in the anchor 880, setting a 5:59.6 mark to beat Detroit St. Joe's 1954 mark of 6:00.2. Douglas hit a fine 2:04 in the anchor lap.

A new PHS school record was also set. The 2:34 mark set in 1947 was wiped out when Archie Brooks, Freeman Watkins, Charles Spann and Jim Shorter hit 2:33.9 in the sprint medley.

Jones, with 15 points was top man for the Chiefs. E. J. Harris turned in 12 and Wilson had 10.

Schloerke and Lowry were in Saginaw today to attend the draws for this Friday's Saginaw Valley meet.

Unless some unexpected power develops in the western part of the state, observers here give Pontiac a fine chance at the state title. Just now there doesn't appear to be any other Class A outfit with better balance and all-around scoring power.

Schloerke and his aides today gave strong credit to the junior high school and Junior Olympic programs. "Saturday's success," said Schloerke, "showed the result of the training and coaching these boys have had, beginning down in the grades, and coming up through the Junior High program. It's that program paying off in great style.

"As a team, without a doubt, this is the finest all-around squad we've coached up here at PHS. Ray (Lowry) told me that he believes it's the best in his 14 years of coaching here."

Here's the Class A order of finish:

Meet standings—Pontiac 101.1-5; Northern 40.3-5; Saginaw (defending champs) 29; Lansing Sexton 26; Bay City Central 125½; Flint Central 20½; St. Joseph (Det) 20; Arthur Hill 19½; Muskegon 15.1-5; Birmingham 15.1-5; (8 others figured in the scoring, but were far down the list).

PERFECT DAY'S FISHING — A perfect trout opening day was enjoyed by at least one Pontiac angler. Above, Floyd Schell, 599 First avenue, displays a limit creel of brookies, taken early Saturday in Paint Creek, near Bald Mt. Recreational Area. The big one went 12 inches in length. Others averaged about 8 to 9 inches. All were fine specimens. Schell is a veteran trouter with about 20 years experience. He used light fly tackle, but his terminal lure was the good old, time-tested "garden hackle." Weather and stream conditions both were ideal.

Littler Wins Vegas Open by 13 Strokes

Knollwood's Cooper Is Runnerup With Toski, Barber

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The golfers headed today for Texas and the Colonial Invitational at Fort Worth and leading the band from here was California's Gene Littler, richer by $10,000 from his sweeping victory in the $37,500 Tournament of Champions.

He shot a final par 72 over the Desert Inn Country Club course and outdistanced the field by 13 strokes. It was not a record. Ben Hogan once won the Portland, Ore., Open by 14 strokes.

But Littler's win was a smasher, with a 72-hole total of 280, eight strokes under par for the distance.

Tied for second place, and winner of $2,566.66 apiece, were three mighty mites, Bob Toski, Jerry Barber and Pete Cooper. Farther down were National Open champion Ed Furgol, Billy Maxwell and Cary Middlecoff, tied at 296. In the headache division were Sam Snead, with a final 78 for 299, and a pre-tournament hope, Mike Souchak, last in line at 310.

* * *

Littler whipped all sorts of weather in the four-day affair. Two days of high wind swept the course. Yesterday it was cold and it rained during part of the afternoon. Finally the sun peeped out just when the firing was over.

Yet Littler never hit a trap during the four rounds. Actually, the 68 he scored in the third round sewed up the affair. It gave him a 10-stroke bulge and yesterday's performance was merely routine.

* * *

The battle for the $4,000 second prize was closer. Barber, with a 73, and Cooper, with a 72, finished first at 293. Then 130-pound Toski came up to the 18th green. He had a fine chance to birdie the hole and take undisputed possession of second place. But he missed a short putt on the speedy green and brought on the tie.

No Changes in State Pin Test

Over 3,000 Games Are Rolled, Women Fail to Dislodge Leaders

JACKSON (AP) — Bowlers from more than 15 Michigan cities and towns rolled 3,168 games in the Women's State Bowling Tournament over the week-end but failed to move in on the 10 leaders in the team, doubles or singles events.

The tournament has five more weekends to run. Detroit entries hold the leads in seven of the eight divisions. Detroit Acar Broach leads the team handicap with 2,929 and the actual list with 2,818.

Wanda Kozuch and Eileen Crimmins pace the handicap doubles with 1,285 and Dot Aldred and Helen Shablis of the Motor City have the best actual series of 1,156.

Alvetta Kessler of Ann Arbor, tops the handicap singles at 689 and Dolores Wroblewski of Detroit the singles actual with 635. Irene Monger of Detroit, is the handicap all-events pacemaker with 1,920 and Doris Knechtges of Detroit, the actual all-events with a record 1,906.

Pontiac Angler Has Lucky Day Trout Fishing

Fishing in Sheldon Creek, located west of Northville at the state fishing grounds, the pair landed 15 brook trout averaging 9½-10 inches in length. Bamboo fly rods and gold spinners were used, with night crawlers for bait.

Warren, who has been trout fishing in Oakland County since 1941, said that this was the 1st time he had ever met with any success in this area.

Crane Nine Winner of 1st League Game

Cranbrook's baseball team won its first Inter-State Prep School league game of the season and boosted its overall record back to victory over Cleveland University School at Cranbrook.

Steve Hayes worked until the 4th inning and didn't yield a hit, but was replaced by Dave Morris due to wildness. Morris continued to a 2-hitter. The Cranes' runs came in the 4th with 2 outs on single by Joe Prendergast, Pete Dawkins and Chuck Grube, along with a balk and an error.

Experience on Side of Nashua Saturday

By ORLO ROBERTSON

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—If experience alone spells victory in the 81st Kentucky Derby Saturday, then the blanket of roses can be tossed on the back of favored Nashua without a moment's thought.

For there is no owner-trainer-jockey combination in the $125,000 added turf classic for 3-year-olds to challenge Nashua's Triumvi Belair Stud-Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons and Eddie Arcaro in the winning of America's most famous horse race.

Belair's famous white and red polka silks have appeared in six Derbies and on three occasions they were carried home first—in 1930 by Gallant Fox, in 1935 by Omaha and in 1939 by Johnstown. But this will be the first attempt for the present 34-year-old master of Belair, William Woodward Jr. He took over following the death of his father in 1953.

* * *

Each time a Belair colt paraded into the winner's circle to be blanketed with red roses, Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, the grand old man of the sport, was there as the trainer. There is some doubt if Mr. Fitz, now close to 81, will be on hand Saturday but to him goes all the credit for developing the son of Nasrullah. If Sunny Jim decides the trip and excitement too much, his son John will represent him. Mr. Fitz has saddled nine Derby starters, including two in 1936.

* * *

As for Arcaro he is almost Mr. Derby himself among the jockeys. The little 40-year-old Italian-American, called "Banana Nose" and rated America's premier stakes rider, has an unmatched Derby record of five victories in 15 trips to the Downs since 1935. Curiously enough, he never has ridden a Fitzsimmons-trained Derby horse. His victories were aboard Lawrin, 1938; Whirlaway, 1941; Hoop, Jr., 1945; Citation, 1948 and Hill Gail, 1952.

Seven other colts are expected to answer the word "go" at 4:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time Saturday and for their owners and trainers it will be a new thrill—an even greater one should their colors finish on the front end before the estimated crowd of 100,000.

Fish, Fishermen Plentiful as Trout Season Starts

An abundance of fishermen and loaded creels featured the 1st week-end of trout fishing in the Oakland County area, according to reports of conservation officers.

Turnout was so heavy at Union Lake that parking facilities were unable to accommodate all the cars, forcing many anglers to park elsewhere, officers report.

Nearly everyone was reported catching his limit at Union Lake and anglers were equally successful at Oxbow and Orchard lakes, Howard Johnson said today. Trout were less abundant in streams like the Clinton and Huron rivers, however, due to shallow water, conservation men said.

Fishing was apparently more rewarding around Union, Oxbow, and Orchard waters than it was at Square, Little Silver, Big Silver, and Loon lakes. Area conservation officers believed most anglers were having some luck, though, and that this year's 1st week-end turnout surpassed 1954.

White Skies Breaks Leg, Is Destroyed

NEW YORK (AP) — White Skies, generally regarded as the best sprinter in thoroughbred racing last season, suffered a broken hind leg in a workout at Belmont early today and was destroyed.

The five-year-old chestnut, owned by William Wickham of Lexington, Ky., won four stakes last year and had 1954 earnings of $118,100. In two appearances this spring White Skies had finished third in each race.

Campbell Good Despite Loss

Walker Cup Captain Beaten by Youngster Bisplinghoff in N-S

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — Although Walker Cup captain Bill Campbell was trounced, 5 and 4, in the finals of the North and South Amateur Golf tournament by 20-year-old Don Bisplinghoff, the outlook is by no means bleak for the U.S. when it engages the British

"From what I saw here this week I know there is no question but that Bill Campbell will be a playing captain against the British."

Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla., had fired the back nine in the morning round of the 36-hole finals in one under par 35 to take a three up lead. He swept the 1st there in the afternoon to shoot six up before Campbell began to play.

Babe Zaharias Wins Peach Blossom Test

SPARTANBURG, S.C. (AP)—Babe Zaharias, whose comeback over the effects of cancer stirred the sports world, was $1,000 richer today thanks to a comeback victory yesterday in the third annual Peach Blossom-Betsy Rawls Women's Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Zaharias, who either led or shared the lead during the entire 72 holes of play, went into yesterday's final 18-hole round over the Spartanburg Country Club course tied at 217 with Marilynn Smith of Wichita, Kan.

Three Factors Make Turley Much Improved Pitcher

1. "I don't have to keep throwing my fast ball all the time."
2. "I've got Coach Jim Turner on my side."
3. "I don't have to face the Yankees any more."

* * *

He walked only four batters, while fanning six, as he pitched the Yankees to a 6-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers yesterday. It gave him a 4-0 record for the season.

"My fast ball is still my best pitch," he said, "but I don't have to keep using it all the time.

"But Turner has been working hard with me. He has taught me variety—to use my curve ball more often. Now I throw a slow curve and a fast curve, as well as my fast ball."

Maple, Skipper Crews Do OK

Birmingham Finished in 10th Place, Waterford at 15th, in CMC Event

Birmingham and Waterford track teams were among the point-scorer in the wake of Pontiac's blazing victory in Saturday's Central Michigan College Relays at Mt. Pleasant.

Kermit Ambrose's Maples finished 10th with 15 1-5 points, while Jack Hackett's Waterford outfit was 15th with 6 points. Lapeer scored 2-5 of a point for 17th place.

In Class B, Oxford's only place was a 3rd in the middle distance relay.

Gordon Pade, Birmingham's fine hurdler, won his heat and finished 4th in the finals of the 120-yard high hurdles. Bill Love won his heat and finished 4th in the 100-yard dash.

Joe Kidwell was 4th in the finals of the 180-yard low hurdles. Fitzgerald tied for 3rd in the pole vault, and the Maple middle distance relay team was 2nd to Pontiac.

Waterford dashman Gary Wideman was 2nd in his heat, then finished 6th in the 100-yard dash. The skippers also took 3rd in the 2-mile relay. Tommy Wilson of Lapeer was involved in the 5-way tie for 5th in the high jump.

'Shining Hour' Eludes Sowell in Penn Relays

Pitt Star Fails to Figure, Ran 1 Event; Manhattan on Top

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Arnie Sowell headed back for his classes at the University of Pittsburgh today with nothing more than empty memories of what was to be his shining hour.

The versatile junior—already the favorite to win the 800 meters in next year's Olympics—wound up running in just one race in the Penn Relays Saturday and that was for a hopeless cause.

* * *

With Sowell handling the baton, the Panthers were figured to win both the distance medley and sprint medley relays. As it was, through wretched luck, Pitt drew a big blank, while Manhattan trotted off with three titles, and Villanova—which never had won one before in the 61-year history of the event—wrapped up two.

In the distance medley, one of Sowell's mates was spiked and the team had to drop out. Arnie, warming up on the sidelines, didn't even get a chance to run.

* * *

In the sprint medley, Ed Saunders, Pitt leadoff man, collided with another runner and dropped the stick. By the time he retrieved it, Pitt was out of the race. Sowell, on the anchor leg, was clocked in 1:49.1 for the half, fastest ever run in the carnival.

Manhattan had the depth and also the luck to win the 880, four-mile and shuttle hurdles.

* * *

Villanova's two victories were engineered mainly by Charlie Jenkins, who anchored both the mile and spring medley teams. He had to come from behind in both to bring his team the titles.

Skippers Win-Third

Waterford High School's golf record was leveled at 3 wins and 3 losses Friday as the Skippers edged Royal Oak, 161-170 over the Pontiac Country Club course. Jack Reynolds of Waterford and RO's Liech each shot 79s.

Aggies' Mashburn Named Standout of Drake Relays

DES MOINES (AP)—J. W. Mashburn of the Oklahoma Aggies has few individual track honors to his credit but he was good enough to be named outstanding athlete of the Drake Relays last weekend.

Mashburn, who likes to be called by his initials rather than his name, Jesse, was the anchor man who sparked the Aggies to a new university mile relay mark Saturday.

* * *

He ran the anchor quarter-mile in :46.5 to give the Aggies a 3:11.7 victory in the university mile and their fourth relays title in the two-day event.

Bill Heard, also of Oklahoma A&M, was second choice in the voting with five ballots.

Wes Santee, hampered by a brisk wind, cruised along to a 4:08.4 finish in the mile race, making no effort to crack the 4-minute barrier. He did, however, better the Drake record of 4:14.5.

* * *

Six new Drake records were set Saturday including a 56-3¼ toss in the shot put by Bill Niedar of Kansas and a 17 2-11 throw in the discus by Georgia Tech's Carl Vereen.

Other new marks were :41.3 in the 440-yard relay by Minnesota and :59.2 by Iowa in the 480-yard shuttle relay.

Swaps Gains Favor for Fine Showing, but Nashua, Summer Tan Remain Heavy Choices for Derby

LOUISVILLE (INS) — The 81st running of the Kentucky Derby Saturday, billed as a two-horse race between Nashua and Summer Tan, may develop into a hot three-cornered one.

The Rex Ellsworth colt gave "something to talk about" last Saturday by scoring an 8½ length victory over Trim Destiny in his final prep for Saturday's $125,000 added classic.

His impressive showing in an allowance race at the Louisville track, has boosted his chances considerably for the mile and one quarter derby run—a stern test for any horse.

Swaps is one of eight horses expected to be in the gate when starter Ruby White springs the barrier in the Run for the Roses. Tuesday Derby Trial at one mile may produce an unexpected starter or it may also eliminate some of the eight from consideration.

Whatever the case, it almost surely will be the smallest Derby field since the 1948 classic when Calumet's famed duo—Citation and Coaltown—ran one, two, in a six horse field.

Swaps, winner of the Santa Anita derby on Feb. 19, made his first appearance in over two months last Saturday as he left four other opponents staggering behind him to capture the six-furlong dash.

The Ellsworth colt, which will bid to become California's second straight derby winner (Andy Crevolin's tiny grey Determine won in 1954) covered the distance in 1:10.1-5, just a fifth of a second off the track record.

Veteran jockey Willie Shoemaker who will ride the California sprinter in the Run for the Roses, worked Swaps out an additional eighth in 1:25-3-5, equalling the track record for that distance, then was standing up in the stirrups as Swaps galloped out the mile in 1:36-2-5.

While nobody expects Swaps to take the favorite's role from Nashua or even to supplant Summer Tan as the strong second choice, it was generally agreed that there would be plenty of support for the Swaps-Shoemaker combination.

Oddsmakers now list Nashua at even money, Summer Tan at 3 to 1, and the others "any price."

Moore, Valdes Meet Tonight in Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—Light heavyweight champion Archie Moore and heavyweight Nino Valdes weigh in this morning for their scheduled 15-round bout tonight at Cashman Field in Las Vegas.

Moore is expected to tip in at about 190 and Valdes at about 208. Moore, who had to make the rounds with a series of heart specialists before he was able to pass his physical for the fight, is a 5 to 12 choice.

Yankees Spoil Bengals' Winning Streak

DETROIT (AP) — Everything was fine—until the Yankees came to town.

The Detroit Tigers were sitting on top of the American League breezing behind a seven-game winning streak.

But then the Yankees came to town.

A large Sunday crowd of 48,813 turned out on a mild afternoon. They saw the Tigers make a tense battle of it for seven innings, trailing 2-1.

Then the Yankees—as they usually do—rapped Ned Garver for three runs in the 8th to break it up. Detroit gave them another run by making four errors in the 9th.

Tigers were trying to equal their longest winning streak since 1949, when they ran up eight in a row. They were also trying to prove that their early season spurt was no fluke.

Turley fanned six and walked four. He spaced out four singles, never more than one in an inning.

That tied the score 1-1. Joe Collins had put the Yanks into a 1-0 lead in the top of the 2nd with a home run into the right centerfield seats.

Then the roof fell in on Garver in the 8th, and just when it looked as though he would get out of a jam, too.

Austerman Wins Pontiac Cycle Club Variety Run

Eighteen riders took part in a variety run held Sunday by the Pontiac Motorcycle Club.

The cyclists rode 53 miles of back roads in northern Oakland County with points lost (from a starting total of 1,000) for time late at four different check points. They were to maintain a speed of 30 miles per hour.

A balloon breaking contest also was held, followed by an event in which the rider had to direct his cycle very slowly over a four-inch board, losing points for running off.

Jack Austerman of Pontiac scored 990 points to win the riding events. He rode an AJS. Don Brice of Pontiac, on a Harley KH, was second with 987 points and Walt Woods of Waterford was 3rd with 986 on his Harley 74.

Anyone interested in motorcycling is invited to attend these events sponsored by the Pontiac club. The next meeting is Friday at 7:30 p.m. at 372 South Saginaw in Pontiac.

Ogemaw Area Burned to Aid Game Habitat

LANSING (AP) — The state conservation department has burned two square miles of the Ogemaw State Forest to improve habitat for deer and prairie chickens.

The area was mostly low scrub oak and popple, unsuitable for for timber production and grown out of reach for deer.

Conservation officials said the burning opened the land for prairie chickens and prepared the way for young sprout growth to come up as deer food.

Feller, Score Hurl Tribe Back to 1st Place

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The American League champion Cleveland Indians were back in first place today and who do you think put them there?

Bob Lemon, Early Wynn? Mike Garcia? No, none of the fabulous Big Three had anything to do with it.

The two pitchers responsible were 36-year-old Bob Feller, who wasn't even trusted to pitch in the World Series last fall, and 21-year-old Herb Score, who didn't join the Indians until this spring.

* * *

The grizzled veteran and the fuzz-faced rookie put two brilliant pitching exhibitions back to back as the Indians twice conquered the Boston Red Sox 2-0 and 2-1 to forge into a half-game lead over the rest of the field.

Feller, only pitcher since 1900 to turn in three no-hitters, came within eight putouts of becoming the only pitcher to get his fourth as he won his first game of the season and 263rd of his career in the opener. The former fireballer permitted only one hit—a one-out, seventh-inning single by Sammy White—to mark the 12th time in his 16-year career that he wound up with a one-hitter.

* * *

Score, who was only 4 when Feller set the American League strikeout record of 18, came within two of Bob's mark, striking out 16 in the second game. Last season with the Cleveland farm club at Indianapolis, Score set an American Assn. record of 330 strikeouts, won 22 games, lost only 5. Feller set the major league record with 348 in 1946.

Three teams—New York, Detroit and Chicago — found themselves locked in a second-place tie, a half-game behind Cleveland. The Yankees snapped Detroit's even-game winning streak with a 6-1 triumph and Baltimore held the White Sox even in a doubleheader. The Orioles took the opener 9-8 in 11 innings and the White Sox won the second game 6-3.

* * *

Kansas City's surprising Athletics moved into fifth place, past the Red Sox, taking a 16-10 slugfest from Washington with a six-run seventh inning. Jim Finigan paced a 16-hit attack with a double and triple, scored four times and drove in three runs.

Brooklyn's jet-propelled Dodgers made it 15 victories in 17 starts, defeating the Milwaukee Braves 5-4 on pinch hitter George Shuba's run-scoring single in the eighth. The St. Louis Cardinals were held to a split in their doubleheader with Pittsburgh but took over second place by percentage points from Milwaukee. The Cards won the opener 4-3 but lost the second 7-0 as Ronnie Kline made his first major league victory a shutout.

* * *

The New York Giants and Cincinnati Reds picked the 35th anniversary of the longest game in major league history to play 16 innings before Johnny Antonelli beat the Redlegs 2-1 with a dazzling six-hitter.

Pinch hitter Bill Taylor's long single scored Whitey Lockman from third with the winning run. Lockman had singled, moved to second on a sacrifice and to third when Don Mueller singled as Bob Hooper was trying to give him an intentional pass.

It was on May 1, 1920, that Brooklyn went 26 innings in a 1-1 tie at Boston.

Threat Against Longden's Life Is Called Hoax

ALBANY, Calif. (INS) — A telephoned threat against the life of millionaire jockey Johnny Longden was dismissed today as a hoax or an idle threat.

But for a few days, officials of Golden Gate Fields in Albany ordered armed patrols to guard the jockeys' dressing room and the paddock.

Track officials revealed the threat yesterday. They said chief steward George Schilling received a telephone call last Thursday and was told:

"We're going to shoot Longden."

Longden, who has a national record of more than 4,500 wins, rode three mounts the day he was threatened and continued to ride in following days while guards moved through crowds at the track.

Two Aces Sunday

1. Well, the score card says that on the green you and I get only two tries to cup that ball. How shall we go about it? First, study the path the ball must take to the cup. Next take a long look at the grass and estimate the resistance it will make to the rolling ball. I believe in having both toes on a line parallel to the path the ball is to travel to the hole. Place the sole of your putter flat on the ground behind the ball at ring angles to the path you want the ball to follow. Now you're set so you can stroke the ball firmly, crisply, in the middle of the putter blade. You should be bending over the ball as pictured so that your eyes are looking perpendicularly down at the ball. Keep your hands in close to your body as pictured and let your wrists and a bit of general arm movement—swing the blade back close to the ground. Keep the blade at right angles to the direction line as long as you can with comfort. That'll get most of 'em.

Model Boy, 15, Killed by Youth

Football Star Mistaken for Member of Rival Gang in New York

NEW YORK (AP)— A smiling, cynical youth gang member was held today in the slaying of a 15-year-old model boy whom he mistook for a member of a rival gang.

* * *

Said William Blankenship Sr., a research chemist:

"We're going to take the boy to Pennsylvania—where he was born in the blue Poconos—and we're going to put him into clean dirt."

"Then we're going to leave this city. We're whipped. We've been caught and crushed."

Santana laughed and triumphantly shook his handcuffs.

Police said young Blankenship was cut down by a bullet from a foreign-made automatic fired by Santana Saturday night in the Bronx. Blankenship was on his way to the movies with a friend.

Police quoted Santana as saying he thought Blankenship was a member of the "Golden Guineas," a gang feuding with his "Navajos" over the use of a similar "uniform"—a black-and-yellow zipper jacket with a picture of an Indian on the back.

Santana claimed that a group of "Golden Guineas" ganged up on him last week, just because he was wearing such a jacket, police said.

Average wages, including cost of pensions, social security and insurance in the U. S. steel industry in 1954 was $2.51 an hour.

Selling Drops Grains Lower

CHICAGO (AP) — Small selling pressure was enough to send most grains lower in a lethargic trade on the Board of Trade today.

Only contracts to show any initial firmness were May and July soybeans, largely a result of short covering by local traders. They had waited until after announcement of the government's report on supplies, issued after the close Friday, to cover their short lines.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ⅞ lower, May $2.100; corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, May $1.43¼; oats unchanged to ¼ lower, May 72; rye ½ to 1¼ lower, May 97¼; soybeans ½ to 1½ higher, May $2.51; and lard unchanged to 8 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.35.

Governors Will Get High-Level Briefing

WASHINGTON (INS) — The nation's governors will receive a secret briefing from administration officials today on foreign affairs and national security problems.

The state and territorial chief executives had coffee with President Eisenhower this morning and will attend a dinner tonight at which Eisenhower will speak.

Among the officials scheduled to discuss national problems with the governors during their two-day conference are Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, Foreign Aid Chief Harold E. Stassen, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations Henry Cabot Lodge, Civil Defense Director Val Peterson and Welfare Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby.

This is the third governors' conference to be called by the President since he entered the White House.

Mother of Year Chats With Ike, Tours Gardens

WASHINGTON (INS) — Mrs. Lavina Christensen Fugal, American mother of the year for 1955, achieved two of her fondest wishes today. She met President Eisenhower and toured the White House flower gardens.

The 75-year-old mother of eight, whose home is in Pleasant Grove, Utah, found a kindred spirit in Eisenhower, who chatted nostalgically about his experiences of growing up in a large family.

Commenting that he was one of seven boys, the President recalled that his own mother, Ida Stover Eisenhower, was selected as the Kansas state mother of the year in 1946—the year she died.

When Mrs. Fugal, who has 34 grandchildren, remarked that her hobby is flowers, Eisenhower ordered a special guided tour of the rose garden and the White House grounds for her.

Chief White House gardener John Redmond and assistant news secretary Murray Snyder served as guides. They pointed out such items of interest as a tree planted by Andrew Jackson.

A bit overwhelmed by it all, Mrs. Fugal declared it was the "most wonderful privilege of anyone's lifetime."

Osteopaths' Bid to Buy Hotel Is Pigeon-Holed

Rumored plans for purchase of Hotel Pontiac for use as an osteopathic hospital were apparently pigeon-holed this week end after a scheduled meeting of county osteopaths at the hotel Saturday failed to materialize.

A spokesman for the Oakland County Osteopathic Assn. indicated today any plans for purchase of the hotel would be held off until the association was "ready to handle such a large venture."

'Open House' Being Held at Pontiac State Hospital

The doors of Pontiac State Hospital open today for the second of a four-day open house being held for the public in conjunction with National Mental Health week.

Special forenoon programs have been planned by hospital officials for high school groups, while the afternoon programs are open to the general public.

Tonight, a Women's Club workshop will touch on special topics to be discussed by club members and the professional staff.

Wednesday evening, escorted tours of the hospital will be conducted from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

In the chapel lounge, during this same period, groups will discuss various aspects of mental illness and modern treatment.

A talent show, "Twenty Minutes on Our Ward," will be presented by the Recreational Therapy Patients' Dramatic Club at 8 p.m.

The Rev. John A. Trese, in a brief plea to those interested in the mentally ill, says, "I would ask first that we remember—mental illness is just that—an illness."

Secondly, he states, "There need not be any moral stigma to mental illness. I know incurable psychopaths who I suspect are much closer to God than most of us. Do not be ashamed of mental illness.

"If it appears in our family or group, we must accept the fact and obtain competent help."

"Helping the mentally ill is not always easy," he adds, "but it is my experience that never was so little sacrifice so greatly rewarded as when we help these people."

3-Car Families Seen as Trend

Chrysler Corp. Head Predicts Auto Demand Will Keep Growing

WASHINGTON (AP) — An automobile executive predicted today that by 1975 a large part of U. S. families "may be using three or more cars."

"The one-car family could be in the minority," said Lester L. Colbert, president of Chrysler Corp. He addressed 3,500 businessmen at the annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Colbert said industry will be hard pressed to supply its growing market in the next 20 years.

He predicted that automation—the trend to automatic factories—will be a "timely blessing" in the two decades ahead, rather than a potential source of unemployment.

Population will surge up to 221 million by 1975, he said, while the number of new workers will rise slowly because of the low depression-years birth rate.

"The job ahead is to produce enough goods and services to meet the needs of a rapidly growing population with a slowly growing force of productive workers," he said.

The "free, open" American economy will have its ups and downs, he said, but "there need not be anything like a serious and prolonged depression if competitive business continues to do its work in the atmosphere of confidence."

He said 1955 may be the auto industry's best year.

Clem D. Johnston, president of the U. S. Chamber, supported Colbert's rosy picture of the future. He declared in prepared remarks, "We can double the American standard of living by 1965 if we really put our minds to it."

Air Social Security Plan for Lawyers

WASHINGTON (INS) — Social Security coverage would be extended to the nation's self-employed lawyers under a bill which Rep. Harold C. Ostertag (R-NY) said he will introduce in the House today.

Ostertag explained that these lawyers form one of the three large professional groups in the U.S. which are not covered by the Social Security system. The other two are doctors and dentists.

Extending coverage to lawyers was approved by the House last year but rejected by the Senate. The American Bar Assn., however, no longer is opposed to the proposal, as it was in 1954, although it has not come out in favor of it either.

Ford Reports Record for First Four Months

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. reported a new production record in the first four months of this year with 892,379 assemblies of cars and trucks. The previous high mark was 735,137 units built in the January-April period last year.

Ford built 235,752 Ford, Mercury and Lincoln cars and Ford trucks in April. This compared with 182,033 units in April last year.

Pontiac Couple Injured When Car Leaves Road

The pair, Miss Virginia Howard, 276 N. Saginaw St., and Willard Summner, 29, 896 Melrose Ave., were treated for cuts and bruises at Pontiac General Hospital.

Sumner said he was blinded by oncoming headlights and lost control of his car when it ran off the road.

Car Production to Hit New Peak

Chrysler Plants Going at Double 1954 Rate So Far This Year

DETROIT (AP) — The battle for position in the auto industry is pushing the assembly plants to more production marks.

With the smashing output of approximately 19,000 cars last week, Plymouth kept its hold on third position over Buick. The margin, however, is small; Plymouth so far this year has turned out approximately 290,000 cars; Buick about 285,000. Buick's effort for the week is put at 19,600.

In the race for top place in production, Chevrolet and Ford continue to roll out passenger vehicles at close to capacity levels. The Chevrolet car assemblies last week went over the 41,000 mark; Ford turned out another 35,450.

In production for this year's first four months Chevrolet has accounted for 648,000 assemblies and Ford 591,000. Both companies are working most of their plants on nine-hour shifts and full time on Saturdays.

Figures on retail deliveries have been tabulated only through February. They showed Ford holding a 20,000 lead over the big General Motors car division.

An interesting point about the production figures so far this year is that Chrysler's four car divisions are producing at practically double the rate achieved in the first four months of 1954.

Chrysler's total car assemblies so far in 1955 come to approximately 550,000 units. In the same period last year Chrysler, DeSoto, Dodge and Plymouth assembled 252,000 cars.

Industry records show the assembly lines are running more than a month ahead of last year's level. The statisticians have figured out the three millionth passenger car to built this year will be completed on May 4.

Nab Young Bandit After All-Night Hunt

Earlier, Andrews' woman companion in a stolen car flight, Mrs. Doris Sersaw, 19, of Midland, had given up to police.

Andrews fell captive after a woman living on U.S. 10 north of Midland spotted him on the highway and notified police. Unarmed, he gave up after a vain race back to the woods.

Andrews is on probation from a $35 school theft. He and Mrs. Sersaw were wanted for questioning in a $90 gasoline station holdup at Sheboygan, Wis.

Queen Elizabeth, Margaret Stage Impromptu Race

LONDON (INS) — Queen Elizabeth and Princess Margaret had a private, "ding-dong battle" of a horse race last week at the Royal Ascot race track and the vivacious princess won by three lengths.

The royal race was an impromptu affair over 660 yards, according to the London Sunday Dispatch, which said the race was "so interesting" that 40 workers painting the royal stand stopped to watch.

"The next second they were off at full gallop . . . they galloped neck and neck down the stretch.

"It was a ding-dong battle but 30 yards from the finish line, Margaret's horse went in front and won by three lengths.

Winnie's Opponent Says He Doesn't Stand Chance

LONDON (AP)—A. I. M. Milner, who's going to run against Sir Winston Churchill in the May 26 British elections, admits he doesn't have a chance of getting Churchill's seat in Commons.

"But I feel very sure that I'm going to cut down his majority, and that may make him think," Milner said.

"Make him think what? the reporter asked.

"That he ought to give up his seat in the House of Commons, accept a peerage and move into the House of Lords.

* * *

"If I get enough votes it may convince Sir Winston that he should move up. Actually, I don't think he'd really mind it very much."

There have been frequent reports that Churchill can have a peerage when he wants it. But the former Prim Minister wants to remain in the House of Commons and continue his political career as the representative of the small constituency of Woodford.

* * *

Churchill is 80, Milner 44. Milner is the son of the principal of a technical college and a graduate of London University. He considers himself on the left wing of the Labor party.

He is an engineer, and during the war worked on some secret projects, including radar. He belonged to a volunteer fire department and helped fight fires during the German blitz on Coventry and Birmingham.

Churchill got 40,000 votes in the last general election and his Labor opponent 22,000.

What did Milner's wife say when he came home and told her he was going to run against Churchill?

"She thought I was a bloody fool," he said with a smile.

Copper Mining Firm Hit by Strike Today

Calumet & Hecla operates five mines in northern Michigan's copper country, employing about 2,200 men. The USW workers are employed in foundries, machine shops and smelters.

The union has demanded pay and fringe benefit increases. Neither management nor the union explained their differences.

Strike Threatens Area Building

Teamsters Local 458 to Walk Out This Week If Negotiations Fail

DETROIT (AP) — An AFL teamsters union local today threatened a strike which could tie up virtually all the Detroit area's construction work.

Twenty-five thousand workers could be idled.

Teamsters Local 458, representing 2,000 drivers, helpers and warehousemen of lumber dealers, rejected a pay offer yesterday and said a strike would be called Wednesday or Thursday if no agreement is reached.

The union bargains with the Detroit Lumbermen's Assn., which speaks for 125 dealers and sets contract patterns for 225 others. The latter are in Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw and Monroe counties.

The union rejected an offer of a 10 cents an hour pay increase this year and eight cents in each of the following two years.

It demands an immediate 36 cents an hour increase and six cents in fringe benefits for the first year of a three-year contract and 10 cents each for the next two years.

One other tradesmen's pay dispute was settled.

AFL painters accepted a 12½ cents increase now and 10 cents more May 1 next year. The 12½ includes 7½ cents in vacation pay and 5 cents in direct wages.

In Pontiac, a general contract for lumber, coal, readi-mix concrete and builders supply companies is now being negoti

Berle and Writer Come to Parting

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Acquisition of Bishop Sheen's talks was deemed so important it brought out all ABC-TV-radio's top brass.

The bishop will retain the same format, "angel" and all.

The Mariners are billed in their Boston Latin quarter engagement as "Arthur Godfrey's Ax-Friends," and the embarrassment mounts tomorrow when incumbent "friend" Tony Marvin joins the bill. (They were all booked before the last firings.)

Jayne Meadows plainly won't sit still as Mrs. Steve Allen: Aside from myriad TV panels and dramatic projects, she'll record for RCA-Victor with Audrey as "The Meadows Sisters."

If you looked fast you could glimpse April Kent, June Havoc's pretty baby.

Which survey do you believe, Dept.—Gleason's tops in N.Y. says pulse; Toast of the Town, says ARB.

ABC-TV "re-united" Arthur Godfrey & Julius La Rosa but it was only on "Name's the Same" with two other guys.

Joe Cotten started in TV on the 2-hour Selznick spectacular; sliced a half-hour via "State of the Union" and next Wednesday shrinks his playing time again in the 60-minute TV version of the old 1926 stage hit "Broadway."

Most shows lean toward half-hour lengths but NBC will stick doggedly to 60 and 90-minute extravaganzas one more season anyway.

The recent and hilarious Alec Guinness film "Captain's Paradise" is in a batch of British films just released for American TV.

Jackie Gleason picked St. Augustine as his ideal: "He was a man about town who found God and changed his ways to find peace in meditation," said the great one, glancing back.

Robin Chandler has a new daytime series due soon called "A Moment for Mother."

ABC-TV has "Thunderbird Lodge" optioned for its kiddie programming lineup. Its cast contains full blooded American Indians who will teach arts and crafts to tikes.

Dems Will Not Ask Spring Vote Recount

LANSING (AP)—A recount of the April 4 spring election appeared today to be unlikely.

The Democratic State Central Committee decided at a Sunday session it would not ask for a recount if the Republicans did not—and the Republicans indicated informally they wouldn't

Thus it appears that the Board of State Canvassers will decide this week to let the election go into the books as it stands in the official canvass.

The official canvass, in the three closest races, shows Dr. Clair L. Taylor, Republican state superintendent of public instruction, the winner over Democrat Lynn M. Bartlett of Grosse Pointe Woods by 3,001 votes; Republican incumbent Stephen S. Nisbet of Fremont the winner for State Board of Education over Democrat John M. Veale of St. Clair Shores by 1,677 votes, and Dr. Connor D. Smith, incumbent Democrat from Standish, the winner of one seat on the State Board of Agriculture, over Dale Stafford, Republican of Greenville, by 2,158 votes.

All other races were settled by substantial margins of victory.

Detroiter Named Driver of Year by Truck Group

WASHINGTON (UP) — Floyd J. Pemberton, 33-year-old ex-Marine from Detroit, will spend a week in New York and Washington as his reward for being the 1955 driver of the year.

Pemberton was anounced as the winner of the trucking industry's most coveted award Saturday. He was honored previously by the American Trucking Association for saving two Ypsilanti, Mich., women from death in a burning car at the risk of his own life.

He owns his own truck-tractor now and has been driving since 1946. During that time he has driven more than half a million miles and has only one minor accident—a $65 mishap in which a auto bumped into the rear of his truck.

His wife and three sons will accompany him to Washington for a sight-seeing tour and a week at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York as guests of the association.

Pemberton was chosen from among 6,000,000 drivers. He is a member of Local 299; International Brotherhood of Teamsters (AFL).

Hit-Run Hayburner Smashes Into Auto

DALLAS (AP)—They had a horse-car collision here yesterday.

Officers said this happened:

As the horse drank from a creek in a pasture, boys rolled a barrel down a nearby hill. The horse, startled, galloped through a fence and right into C. E. Larkin's car.

Jack Benny Serious About His Own Talent

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Expecting Jack Benny to be funny in the privacy of his hotel suite is something like expecting Marilyn Monroe to quote Tolstoy with accuracy . . . .

It is a vain hope. Just as Marilyn is too shall-we-say busy to make mental notes on the classics, so Jack is too serious to make light of his million-dollar talent.

"You take the long-standing gags about me," he said genially, arms folded solemnly over his plaid smoking jacket, "the ones about my being stingy, and about wearing a toupee, and about my feud with Fred Allen. Those were each stumbled upon by accident, but since they caught on a lot of hard work has gone into them.

"People still want those gags now, but it gets tougher every time—the variations. We've kept these subjects alive for so long (Jack's stinginess, 23 years; the Allen feud, 17) that whenever we mention them now they must be either very subtly done, or they must be so wild that we seem almost to be parodying our own jokes."

This was typical Jack Benny talk, off-screen and off-mike. He was once known as a man who dined on coffee and fingernails, but now that he is getting a trifle older he is no longer the No. 1 worrier among comedians.

"That other gag about my being 39," he said, and his deep-dimpled chin trembled with droll emotion. "It is not true at all. I am 61. I no longer worry as much as most comedians do. I have, instead, a mere anxiety complex."

Benny, who was in New York for a rare business-pleasure jaunt, still looks at life and his career, however, with the respect of a man who was a poor plumber and an unheralded violinist before he located Easy Street.

"To remain an individual star for 25 years is not easy," he went on, demonstrating why the life of the clown is serious business. "Especially not now, with television. People are getting so sophisticated, there isn't a small town in the U. S. that doesn't know exactly what the heck is going on.

"You can't just be a gagster any more. You've got to be an actor, a perfectionist. You've got to be as sharp as the people watching you."

He, himself, is a perfectionist "of the worst kind," Benny says. His sense of dramatic timing, which is legend in radio and screen worlds, causes him to flare up when an actor reads a line without a sense of the rhythm of it.

"I despise myself, and try to hold it in. But I feel like firing people on the spot. It's most unreasonable of me, but I've spent years—with the writers, Rochester, Mary and others—going over every line, to make sure the timing is just right," he remembers.

"With practice like that, you get to know that the addition of one apparently harmless word in a line will completely kill a gag!"

Jack, who looks slim and trim ("I play a round of golf every day, and never eat kadota figs or broiled scrod for breakfast") and who does not wear a toupee ("but since people find the idea funny, I don't mind if they think I do"), is returning to the West Coast this week.

But he will be back in Manhattan in mid-July, with wife Mary, to spend his vacation. Their adopted daughter, Joan, is expecting a baby to arrive here then.

"Imagine spending July in New York," he says, grinning and grunting simultaneously, which is no mean feat. "If Joan weren't mine, I'd fire her . . . Timing is lousy."

Bricker Foes Eye Dulles' Aid

Secretary Will Testify Today on Treaty Power Before Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—Opponents of the Bricker amendment to limit the treaty power looked to Secretary of State Dulles today to line the administration up solidly on their side.

Some of them had voiced suspicions that the administration might be trying to compromise the controversial issue when the White House intervened to call off Dulles' appearance before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee at the start of its hearings last Wednesday.

* * *

Since then, however, both President Eisenhower and Dulles have spoken out in opposition to the proposed constitution change, sponsored by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) and rejected by the Senate last year after six weeks of debate.

After Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn) said he might have to suspend the subcommittee's hearings until the administration was ready to present its views, Dulles sent word he would be on hand this afternoon to testify.

First, however, the subcommittee plans to hear from Frank Holman, a past president of the American Assn. and a staunch advocate of the Bricker amendment.

Gets False Teeth at 5

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Five-year-old Henry Czerner is smiling today—with a brand new set of false teeth. Little Henry has only four "real" teeth. A medical condition caused his teeth to decay and the new dentures installed recently at Mt. Sinai Hospital ended his diet of strained baby food.

Possible Polio Victim Really Has the Mumps

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — An 8-year-old boy who made news by becoming ill two days after being inoculated with polio vaccine turned out to be a victim of the mumps.

The boy, son of a couple stationed at nearby Mather Air Force Base, was placed in isolation at the Sacramento County Hospital last week as a possible polio case.

But City-County Health Officer I. O. Church announced last night the boy has mumps.
