Flint, Davison, Ithaca, Oakland County Mauled by Vicious Tornadoes

Six persons died and 200 were injured by screaming whirlwinds that smashed across the state Saturday, turning a spring weekend into a nightmare of havoc, death and destruction.

Michigan damage has been estimated at more than two million dollars, with some 200 homes turned to matchwood, and 300 other residences evacuated because of flood threats that came on the heels of the violent black funnels.

Hit by the several twisters which roamed the lower half of the state Saturday were Flint, Davison, Ithaca, and the Detroit suburbs of Allen Park and Lincoln Park.

In Oakland County, Ortonville, New Hudson and South Lyon also were visited by the ominous, twisting black clouds which residents of the state fearfully awaited Saturday night and Sunday.

Across the nation, the storm count was 13 dead, at least 270 injured, and property damage running in several million dollars.

Windstorms in the Cleveland area killed six persons, injuring 69. Flood threats existed in Michigan and Pennsylvania, where the thunderstorms which accompanied the tornadoes dumped rains into heavily swollen streams.

The Flint river, some eight feet above its normal height, spilled over into sections of the city, and officials feared additional cloudbursts there would bring on a major flood.

Hit for the second time in three years by a vicious twister, this time three separate tornadoes dipped into the eastern outskirts of Flint at suppertime Saturday.

Officials credit the experience of the June 8, 1953 tornado which claimed 116 lives in Flint with making the people "tornado-conscious." Many residents headed for cellars and basements when warnings were issued, and most of the houses destroyed were empty.

Lower Michigan had a seven-hour tornado alert and one small twister Friday, which hit Kalamazoo, but no one was injured. Saturday the warning came at noon, and the first of the 20 terrifying funnels hit some five hours later. Last night there was one, a baby tornado that dipped into Menominee airport, and wrecked a sheet metal hangar and several planes.

The Flint dead were Louis Hubbard, and his wife, Ruth, both 35, and Thomas Stevens, 76. Their homes blew down. Mrs. Edith Edwards, 62, was killed near Ithaca when a barn toppled on her.

Two men, one in Muskegon and another in Saginaw, died of heart attacks attributed to anxiety over approaching storms.

Victims were Rindeer Cooper of Muskegon, and William Fess of Saginaw.

Of the 107 injured in Flint, all but 41 had been dismissed by hospitals Sunday night. Fourteen of more than a score hurt in Allen and Lincoln Park were hospitalized.

One twister bounced into McGregor, near Windsor, Ontario, and 25 persons were injured. More than 100 homes were destroyed or damaged, a church ruined

Air Shift Causes State Tornadoes

Wayne Physicist Gives Reason for 'Temporary' Twisters in Michigan

By EVERETT R. PHELPS
(Professor of Physics and Astronomy at Wayne University)

DETROIT (INS) — The abundance of tornadoes in Michigan in recent years is due to a northward shift in the jet air stream which, fortunately for all of us here, probably will go south where it belongs in a few years.

* * *

The jet air stream is a relatively narrow band of air encircling the earth and moving west to east at velocities of 160 to 300 miles an hour.

It is usually six to ten miles high and over the northern United States. However in recent years it seems to have shifted a little more to the north to a position over our northern border or over southern Canada.

This in turn affects surface winds and has the effect of moving each of our main bands of winds northward by 200 or 300 miles.

MOVED UP NORTH

Thus the trade winds, prevailing Northeasterlies from the Equator up to about 30 degrees north latitude.

The variable wind belt, usually located between 30 degrees north and 35 degrees north, has moved up to the 35 degree to 40 degree north latitudes.

This has the result of moving all weather phenomena—including hurricanes and tornadoes—farther to the north. The consensus of U.S. Weather Bureau meteorologists is that this is a temporary condition.

They expect the jet stream to shift southward to its normal location within the next few years, which will mean hurricanes will remain farther south with fewer tornadoes up north.

20 Twisters Hit State; Six Killed, 200 Injured

and several warehouses leveled in Allen and Lincoln Parks.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams certified Michigan as a disaster area to President Eisenhower, the first step in a process necessary to making the stricken regions eligible for federal loans and assistance.

In the clean-up operations across the state, police and rescue workers were hampered by traffic jams and curious sightseeing crowds.

One Lincoln Park resident was arrested for looting, and in Flint many home-owners guarded the ruins of devastated homes with rifles. Area Sheriff's Departments sent deputies to assist with rescue work and traffic control, in addition to anti-looting duties.

Staff officials and volunteers of Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, were on the scene of the Flint disaster by 6 p.m., 30 minutes after the first tornado struck.

The Chapter car with 144 car identification flags was sent by Pontiac area Motor Service chairmen, Mr. and Mrs. M. F. LeRoy. Minutes after the first funnel hit, the Amateur Radio Relay League was in operation with information on the number of injuries and extent of damage.

Outside the state, tornadoes whirled through Kansas yesterday afternoon, near Yates Center. Barns were leveled, but no injuries were reported.

In Pennsylvania, a flash flood sent water swirling through a 12-block area of Meadville, a community of about 20,000 near Pittsburgh.

Another hard-hit town was Duquesne, Pa., where a twister ripped off roofs and toppled chimneys in a 12-block area. Damage was estimated at half a million dollars.

Record heat was included in the weekend weather. Temperatures broke records for the date throughout New Jersey. Newark's high of 92 yesterday broke the old record of 90 in 1947.

The heat record fell for the third consecutive day in Chicago yesterday when the mercury hit 89. The previous high for the date was 86 in 1900.

In Ortonville, a barn southeast of the village on Hadley Road, owned by Mrs. Grace Stevens of Pleasant Ridge was destroyed by a twister. The building was valued at $25,000. The roof of the Beck Wilson Ford agency on M15, one-half mile south of Ortonville, was peeled off by the twisting funnel.

No one was hurt in either place when the tornado struck at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Heavy winds which some called a baby twister battered Oxford at 6:15 p.m. Saturday. Power lines went down, and half of the village was without power for nearly eight hours. Numerous trees were brown over, especially along West Burdick Street. No one was injured, it was reported.

Three cars were damaged by the falling trees. The Oxford Fire Department sent a portable electric power generator to the Flint area, where it was put to use.

In the Romeo area, a barn was leveled, and a chicken coop was shredded. A number of windows were broken by large hailstones.

Five persons were injured in South Lyon. They were Harlan Bryant, 25, with face injuries; his wife, Oneta, his mother, Alice, his son, Harlan, Jr., and Melvin Spencer.

Homes of Bryant and Spencer were destroyed.

FLINT RIVER ON RAMPAGE—Flood waters swirl three feet deep around these riverfront Flint homes Sunday morning. An estimated 1,200 residents were evacuated from low-lying areas in the city as the river rose 97 inches above its normal level by 11 a. m. Sunday.

Flood Danger Follows Flint Tornado

By LAWRENCE S. MARTZ JR.

As dawn broke Sunday over a shattered Genesee County, dazed Flint residents turned from the horror of their second disastrous tornado in three years to face a new crisis.

The Flint River, perilously swollen by recent rains, was 95 inches higher than normal at 7 a.m. It had been rising by 4 to 5 inches an hour all night.

While police, rescue workers and linemen labored to ease the shock of three separate twisters which had claimed three dead and injured at least 75 others, city officials evacuated low-lying areas of the city and sandbagged dikes around the city's water works in an effort to avoid contamination of the water supply by the flood waters.

An estimated 1,200 members of more than 250 families were forced to leave low-lying homes by the rising water, swirling 3 and 4 feet deep in the streets.

City Manager Harold C. Chirgwin, who said a rise of another five inches would flood portions of the downtown section and cut off traffic on the Saginaw street bridge, anxiously scanned reports on the lake level behind Holloway Dam, 18 miles north of the city.

As the lake level climbed, control over the raging water dwindled. Officials feared they would be forced to allow the flood to speed unchecked over the dam, but expressed confidence the dam would hold.

The flood crest was expected at noon, Sunday, but weathermen gloomily forecast an additional inch of rain north of Flint in the afternoon. Officials said an inch of rain would have raised the river level by at least 10 inches.

In the daylight, the crews patrolling the river reported it had slowed its rate of climb. By 11 a.m., the level held steady at 97 inches above normal.

Tornado-Wise Residents Begin Cleaning Up Flint

Battle-weary Flint Sunday morning began to clean up after its second major tornado in three years.

Three lives were lost and at least 76 persons were injured Saturday evening when three separate tornadoes ripped a six-mile-long path of destruction through the city's southeastern suburbs.

Preliminary estimates indicated 200 homes were demolished and countless more damaged, with a rough damage estimate of $2,000,000.

Officials believed damage will exceed that done by the 1953 twister which took 116 lives in the northern section of the city.

They said Saturday's death toll probably was greatly lessened because residents were now "tornado-conscious," and knew better how to protect themselves when warnings had been issued.

In contrast to the 1953 tornado, Saturday's storm spread its heavy destruction over a wide area and apparently skipped over the ground in a half-mile-wide track some six miles long.

State and local police from communities all over southern Michigan poured into the disaster area soon after the tornadoes struck, despite thse fact that in many cases their own areas were under tornado alert.

Oakland County Sheriff Frank Irons and four of his uniform deputies arrived in Flint within five hours of the first twister's savage attack.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, who declared Flint a disaster area early would appeal to President Eisenhower for federal aid for the area.

Looting in the disaster area was effectively prevented by police, National Guard and Civil Defense volunteers, who cordoned the area almost immediately after the disaster. Householders patrolled darkened streets with rifles.

Telephone and power officials were unable to give estimates of numbers of lines down Sunday morning. Crews worked all day to restore service.

As the storm crisis passed, city officials in the emergency headquarters in City Hall turned to face a second threat — the rain-swollen Flint River, rising perilously at a rate of four to five inches an hour.

Early Sunday afternoon, cars full of would-be sightseers were backed up for miles at police roadblocks surrounding the tornado-stricken area.

Area Youngster Hurt by Bullet

Stray Shot Hits Girl Near Spine by Target Region in Rochester

A five-year-old Rochester girl suffered minor injuries when accidentally shot by one of two boys target practicing at an area gravel pit Saturday, the Oakland County Sheriff's Department said today.

* * *

Sharman Langworthy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Langworthy, 1497 Parke St., was treated and released by the Woodruff Clinic following the afternoon incident.

The bullet entered her back near the spine and was deflected around the right shoulder blade causing no permanent injuries, according to the clinic.

Investigating deputy Ferris Holcomb confiscated the rifles used by the two boys in that sector.

William G. Commire, 18, of 1090 Collingwood St., Detroit, and Steve Soldoky, 18, of 11661 Klinger Ave., Hamtramck, were identified as the boys firing at targets.

Pair Try Holding Bulging Window as Twister Hits

By PETE LOCHBILER

Two men in an Allen Park drive-in learned there is no way to stop a tornado on the rampage.

The twister struck a block-long area of the city Saturday night and then went on to destroy at least 40 homes, a church and warehouse in nearby Lincoln Park.

Some 15 persons were injured when the twister struck a few minutes before 7 p.m.

Nicholas Curuana and Frank DeLuca, both of Allen Park, rushed to a plate glass window at 7532 Allen Rd. when they saw it buckling inwards. Caruana had been drinking coffee, and DeLuca was at the drive-in to buy ice cream for his family at home.

"I thought it was only the wind," said DeLuca after treatment for cuts at Oakwood General Hospital. Caruna, who also was treated for cuts, said, "Suddenly it sounded as if 100 BBs were hitting the glass."

They both dove between a wall and counter when the glass shattered, as did a car-hop, Beverly Gibeau, Allen Park. "When I looked up, the girl said, "the roof was gone and all of the front wall.

"I had seen the tornado from outside a few minutes before. It was a grey, swirling mass, but I thought it was about a mile away and would never hit us."

She was treated at the hospital for shock. Five others in the drive-in were not injured.

Schoolgirls Pass Out in Gotham Heat Wave

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City simmered in summery sunshine yesterday as the temperature shot up to a record 87.6 degrees.

Forty schoolgirls attending a religious service at Fordham University were treated at a campus infirmary after they were overcome by the heat.

The previous high for May 13 was 86 in 1900.

Radar, GOC Eye Area Twisters

Watchers Spot Funnels, Telephone Reports to Filter Center

No tornadoes were spotted over Pontiac during twister-filled Saturday night. But radar identified tornado clouds passing over the city about 10 p.m.

While city residents apprehensively waited, wondering if a death-dealing blow would strike, volunteers were constantly scanning the skies.

They are members of the Ground Observer Corps post on top of the county office building, who watched somber dark clouds race by on 40 to 50 mile an hour winds.

The alert started at 3 p.m. and continued until 4:30 a.m. Sunday. In charge of the post was supervisor Art Heaton.

Volunteers at 13 other posts in the county were on the alert. They helped in reporting these developments:

At 6:13 p.m. a twister sighted above Southfield Township. At 6:20 p.m. a twister reported heading south from Brighton, later dipping to the ground north of South Lyon.

At 8:20 p.m. two funnels reported over Kensington Park near Brighton. Other tornado reports were unconfirmed.

Volunteers reported developments all night long to a filter center in Grand Rapids. The filter center was in constant touch with radar personnel at Selfridge Air Force Base.

Heaton said that local radio stations are kept informed of developments every half hour. He urged city residents not to flood the police and sheriff's offices with telephone calls for information during tornado alerts.

Topsy World Greets the Eye at Flint Scene

"It's pretty bad through that way," said the State Trooper, pointing to the area northeast of Atherton and Vassar Roads near Flint.

As he pointed, a section of wall peeled from a house trailer swayed grotesquely in a tree 35 feet over his head. The trailer itself—or what was left of it—was half a mile down the road, wrapped around a telephone pole.

Nobody knew if there had been anyone in the trailer when the tornado struck.

Farther down the road, a bright yellow school bus leaned drunkenly against a telephone pole, its rear wheel five feet off the ground.

Houses sprawled over the landscape, some irreparably damaged and some completely demolished. Telephone and power lines draped themselves like limp spaghetti over downed trees and houses.

Two horses, heads drooping in the rain, walked slowly away from what had been a stable and was now a mass of rubble.

A dazed man sat on what had once been a front porch, earnestly chopping at a small branch dropped by the storm. Over his head a 12-inch tree leaned against the house.

And the owner of another house, totally ruined by the savage twister that corkscrewed it off its foundations and dropped it 15 feet away, patiently stood in the rain trying to unlock the door.

Bee Hives Upset in Wake of Tornado

An unidentified man suffered severe bee stings in the tornado which struck north of South Lyon Saturday evening.

Mrs. Mary Noel, wife of South Lyon Police Chief John Noel, said the man was jumping in agony when rescue workers arrived to the scene of damage on Martindale road.

Several hives had been upturned by the twister and the angry bees apparently set upon the man in revenge.

City Slates Talks Tonight on Oiling of 61 Streets

BIRMINGHAM — The city's complete plan for road oil, with light or heavy variety specified for each of the roads proposed to be oiled, goes to the city commission tonight.

Residents may object during the meeting to the plan. Light oil cost to residents will be 11 cents per front foot on 14 streets while re-work and seal oil is being charged for at 49 cents per foot on its 47 streets, according to the city proposal.

Hearings are set also for the 32-foot wide paving of Southfield from Lincoln to 14 Mile, and the fluoridation of water.

Several letters to the commission are asking a trash and litter ordinance. Other discussions will be on the four-way stop at Eton and Lincoln, and the rats overrunning garbage on Smith avenue, described in a letter from 16 residents.

Request that the Business-A zoning include newspaper and commercial printing is made by the Birmingham Eccentric, which wishes to purchase an East Maple site for a new plant.

The weekend's heavy rains caused flooding of many local basements and of parts of Birmingham boulevard, Woodward avenue and Emmons street. Lightning struck the transformer at Redding and Pilgrim streets on Saturday night, and wires were reported blown down near the H. B. Reid home at 521 Harmon, the same night.

A district convention of the Pythian Sisters will be held at the First Baptist Church tomorrow, with Birmingham Temple No. 94 as hostess unit.

Attending will be Pontiac's Fanny Tompkins Temple, Detroit's Lafayette Temple, and temples of Clawson, Mt. Clemens, Owosso, and Flint.

Beginning at 9 with a song fest, the morning program is public, with reports, installation, and a memorial slated. Lunch will be served by the missionary group, and after a girl's chorus entertainment, ritualistic work will be exemplified.

The usual evening meeting has been dispensed with by permission of the grand chief.

Service club programs slated include tonight's talk to High Twelve Club by H. M. Coyne, of the CAA, and tomorrow's Exchange Club junket to the baseball game.

Amidst the Destruction

Oddities Are Part of Twister Tradition

By BILL CORNWELL

For the second time in three years, chaos descended on the busy industrial giant of Flint as a series of tornadoes swirled through the eastern portions of the city.

The rear end of a business place on South Dort Highway was blown away, but boxes were still neatly piled on the shelves. A service station on Atlas Road was destroyed, but in the center of the rubble stood a chewing gum machine, perfectly intact.

Flint welder Don Delduca battled the twister on foot, trying to make it from his shop to his adjacent home. He was picked up and blown sideways, with his arms and legs pumping to go in a different direction.

In the Atherton district, three mail boxes had stood close together. After the funnel passed, the middle box was gone.

* * *

Fisher Body worker Frank H. Sedlarik, 34, crouched with his wife and three children, and watched their house lifted around their ears. "The only possession we have is a U. S. Savings Bond," he said.

"I never want to see anything like that again," said Walter Racine, 29-year-old auto worker. He had stepped outside his house trailer Saturday evening just in time to see a tornado bearing down on him.

"I ran inside the trailer and yelled to my wife to get the kids. We ducked into the back bedroom and got down on the floor, and then it hit."

His three-year-old son hurt his back and their seven-month-old baby had her head bumped when the trailer was flipped, dumping them on the bed.

3 Dead as Freighters Ram Off California Coast

Foresee Delay of Month on Hospital Wing Pacts

A month's delay is possible before contracts can be signed for construction of the new Pontiac General Hospital wing for which the city appropriated $500,000 last week.

According to City Manager W. K. Willman, the advertising and sale of $2,900,000 worth of general obligation bonds is not expected until June 18.

Director of Finance Oscar Eckman was expected to file an application with the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission in Lansing for permission to sell the bonds.

Before the construction contracts could be signed, an agreement would have to be reached between the city and the contractors over whether the contracts would be signed prior to the city having the necessary money.

The bond issue was approved by Pontiac voters in 1954 toward construction of the 200-bed addition. Last Thursday the city allocated $500,000 from a three-year capital improvement program to assist in financing the project.

Architect Leo J. Heenan said this morning it would take a "minimum of two years" to build the wing.

At tomorrow night's City Commission meeting, the city manager and Eckman are expected to be authorized to establish the half-million dollar reserve.

Money from the bond sale will not be available until three weeks

H-Bomb Test Drop Delayed Once Again

ABOARD USS MT. MCKINLEY (AP) — Weather experts who last night postponed the Shot Cherokee H-bomb test for the seventh time to Wednesday morning (tomorrow U.S. time) today indicated unfavorable winds probably would cause another delay to Thursday.

Conditions forecast for tomorrow and Wednesday "are not acceptable," this morning's communique said, with little evidence of a favorable change by Wednesday "although such a possibility must not be ruled out."

Reds to Abolish Labor Camps

High Police Official Tells Visiting Frenchmen End to Come in 18 Months

MOSCOW (AP)—A high secret police official says the Soviet Union will abolish its concentration camps within the next 18 months.

He told a group of visiting French Socialists the change would leave only ordinary prisons and "corrective labor colonies" for errant Russians.

The official, whose name could not be disclosed, gave the French Socialists a rundown of Soviet penal plans during their visit to the Tula corrective labor camp 80 miles south of Moscow. It holds nonpolitical prisoners such as thieves and murderers.

He said the corrective labor camps would contain factories where the convicts would work. They could not be sent to outside projects as is done in the concentration camps, he explained.

DEPORTATION EASED

Already, the official said, deportation of Soviet citizens to distant sections is forbidden, except for those convicted of serious political crimes. And deportation even in those cases, he said, can come only after trial by normal court procedure.

The official said a special commission has been ordered to review sentences of persons convicted of political, counterrevolutionary and state crimes, and to rehabilitate the innocent — all by October.

Drake Is Successor to Famous World War II Duck

DUCK'S BIG BROTHER — The "Drake," an 8-ton amphibious vehicle designed and engineered for Army Ordnance by the GMC Truck and Coach Division, can carry a cargo weight in excess of eight tons. The huge vehicle recently went through rigorous evaluation tests in California and Texas. New engineering ideas are incorporated in the amphibian which GMC designers describe as a "big brother to the Super-Duck," built by the division in 1954.

Goes Through Paces at Proving Grounds

GMC Shows New Army Amphib

A versatile amphibious vehicle known as the "Drake" highlighted engineering and production advances displayed at a press preview today by the GMC Truck and Coach Division at the General Motors Proving Grounds near Milford.

The craft, a successor to World War II's famed "Duck," was exhibited as part of a display which featured demonstration of the division's "air ride suspension" principle.

The new amphibian will be on public display at the GMC Truck and Coach factory here on the afternoon and evening of May 16, when everyone is invited to a GMC "Open House."

"We regard the performance of this, the first 8-wheel (all wheels power-driven) amphibious truck ever designed, as another triumph of the engineering and research staffs of GMC Truck and Coach Division, and the GM Technical Center," according to Philip J. Monaghan, GM vice president and division general manager.

Another feature of the exhibition was a demonstration of the air-ride principle during which a GMC tractor and trailer were driven over all types of roads and terrains at the proving gounds.

Development of the "Drake" involved the use of many new engineering features and was accomplished by virtually the same team of engineers at GMC Truck that, in the early days of World War II, miraculously put the first "Duck" into the water only 36 days after being told to design and produce such a vehicle.

It can carry a cargo weight in excess of eight tons and, in ship to shore transport, haul items as large as an 8-ton truck.

The "Drake" has two sets of air suspension bellows, one which has the conventional usage found on GMC coaches and now being applied to GMC trucks, and the other forcing the wheels and axles upward into the wheel housings to streamline the vehicle while in water.

The central tire inflation system, originated by GMC Truck and Coach for the World War II "Duck," is on the "Drake" and permits deflation or inflation of the tires while on the go.

Thus, for example, in turning off a hard-surface road on to a sand beach, the tire pressure would be automatically dropped from 50 lbs., to about 12 lbs., to provide maximum traction.

The efficiency of the compressed air system was demonstrated on the West coast when one of the supervising officers asked a GMC engineer what would happen to a tire if a bullet struck it. A .45 calibre sub-machine gun was obtained and a bullet was sent through a tire.

Nothing happened. After 14 shots, which made 28 complete tire punctures, the tire was still inflated, due to the automatic metering of air into the tire from the compressed air system.

All eight wheels are power-driven, with one engine driving into the first and third axles, and the other driving the second and fourth axles. Both front sets of wheels are steerable, which gives the huge vehicle unusual maneuverability on land.

At sea, it is steered by its two propellers, which can be pointed in any direction astern of the craft to make it turn.

President Back in Capital After Family Weekend

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower flew back to Washington today, after a quiet Mother's Day visit to his Gettysburg farm.

The chief executive arrived at Washington National Airport at 7:40 a.m. (EST) in his light twin-engined plane.

He carried what appeared to be the text of a speech as he stepped into a waiting limousine for the drive to the White House.

The President's next scheduled speech is a major foreign policy address at Baylor University May 23.

Eisenhower spent Sunday at his farm home with Mrs. Eisenhower, her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, and a brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State University.

Dr. Eisenhower flew to Gettysburg yesterday with the President. The first lady and her mother motored from Washington Saturday.

The President brought gifts with him for Mrs. Eisenhower and his mother-in-law. Mrs. Doud's 77th birthday coincided with Mother's Day.

The first place winner was Darrel Blackett, 18, of 8161 Dixie Highway, who won a $50 savings bond and a chance to participate in a state - wide contest June 2 at Lansing.

Second place was taken by John Kock, 421 E. Tennyson Ave. and James Michie, 9883 Evee Rd., came in third.

Each entrant won free movie passes.

Vessel Rescues 23 Crewmen; 3 Still Missing

Coast Guard Continues Air and Ocean Search for Other Survivors

MONTEREY, Calif. (INS) —At least three crewmen were killed and three missing today when the 10,000-ton freighter Marine Leopard collided broadwise with a 243-foot coastal lumber vessel off the California coast.

All casualties were among the 29 members of the crew of the lumber ship SS Howard Olson, operated by the Oliver J. Olson Co., San Mateo, Calif.

The collision occurred at 2:19 a.m. in coastal shipping lanes off Point Sur on California's sparsely populated central coast.

The Coast Guard was notified shortly before 6 a.m. that the Marine Leopard had picked up 22 survivors and one body. The SS John B. Waterman picked up another body and a seriously injured man.

Names of the casualties were not immediately available.

A Coast Guard airplane from San Francisco and the cutters active and alert from Monterey and Morro Bay began searching the area for further survivors.

The Olso was split in the middle by the collision. The stern section sank, but the bow was still afloat at dawn.

The collision occurred where shipping lanes approach close to the coast and where a course change is normally made by coastwise shipping. The Marine Leopard was southbound and the Olson was heading north. The weather was clear.

Two hours after the collision the tanker "Flying A" standing by the scene reported a huge section of the lumber vessel's bow floated by.

No survivors were picked up from the bow section. It was unknown whether any members of the Olson's crew had been able to take to the ship's boats.

The Marine Leopard is more than 400 feet long and is registered as 10,000 tons. No casualties were reported aboard her.

Oregon Mother of Three Wins Mrs. America Title

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A 31-year-old Portland, Ore., mother of three boys who maintains that "good homemaking is the basis of a great nation" is Mrs. America of 1957.

Power Failure Blackens Western New York Area

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — About two million persons in western New York were without lights for up to two hours last night as a power failure blacked out Buffalo and most of five surrounding counties.

Officials still were uncertain today what caused the failure. In Ontario, across the border, power failures were reported as far east as Kingston. Toronto, Kitchener and Hamilton were among other cities blacked out for a time.

Thomas Katra, 67, was killed in nearby Lackawanna when he was struck by an automobile during the blackout. Police said he was the victim of a hit-run driver.

All traffic lights were knocked out in Buffalo, resulting in jams at nearly all main intersections.

Police reported three burglaries during the period, and said several reports were telephoned to them concerning attempted breaks.

At Buffalo Municipal Airport, planes either landed on darkened runways, or circled until power was restored.

Hospitals throughout the stricken area quickly switched to emergency power.

Emergency power also kept telephone lines open, but radio and television stations both in New York and Canada were cut off the air.

The Buffalo Courier-Express, a morning paper, reported that molten lead in its linotype machines had hardened by the time power was restored after a two-hour lapse. All editions were published on schedule.

Name 7 Disaster Areas

Oakland and six other Michigan counties were named disaster areas today as the result of weekend floods and tornadoes.

Others so designated by the Small Business Administration were the counties of Genesee, Kent, Ionia, Wayne and Saginaw.

The classification will permit residents of the areas who suffered damage to homes or businesses to apply for three per cent disaster rehabilitation loans.

ADDED TROUBLE — The stricken Flint area was in the process of cleaning up the debris after a Saturday evening tornado struck the area killing three persons, when the Flint River overflowed its banks after heavy rains followed the tornado. Floods from the river were today threatening the area and causing many families to evacuate their homes.

Eden May Reveal Frogman Facts

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Eden mapped government strategy for tonight's showdown Parliament session on his handling of the strange case of the missing British frogman and the Soviet warships.

Eden was headed for a sharp grilling in the House of Commons debate.

Angry leaders of the Labor opposition want to know just what retired naval diver Lionel Crabb—a World War II hero—was doing in the icy waters of Portsmouth Harbor near the Russian warships that brought Premier Bulganin and party chief Nikita Khrushchev to Britain.

When the question first came up in Commons last week, Eden said Admiralty said he was "presumed dead," but didn't explain why that was presumed.

Crabb was operating "without authorization" and that it would not be in the nation's best interests to say more.

STORIES CONFLICT

The Russians insist the diver was spying. The British press generally has agreed.

Eden said the retired naval officer was "testing underwater apparatus" and refused to go into details. In the debate tonight, Laborite legislators hoped to force Eden into supplying the details.

Crabb was seen swimming near the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze and two accompanying vessels April 19—the day after "B and K" arrived in Britain.

He has not been seen since. The

ON SIMPLE JOB

Gleanings of information here and there have built up this puzzling account of the events that led up to Crabb's disappearance. The diver and a "Mr. Smith" arrived at the port of Portsmouth April 17 and checked in at the Sallyport Hotel. From the hotel Crabb wrote his aged mother that he was "going on a job, but it's a simple mission." He told her not to worry and that he'd be back in about two days.

The following day the Soviet ships pulled into port. On April 20 the Soviet commander, Rear Adm. V. F. Kotov, questioned British Rear Adm. P. W. Burnett about a mysterious frogman Soviet sailors had spotted surfacing near the visiting ships. Burnett said he knew nothing about it.

A day later a British police official removed four pages from the Sallyport Hotel register, including the registration of Crabb and Smith.

The British Admiralty announced April 29 that Crabb had presumably died nine days earlier. It gave no details and no death certificate was issued.

The British say they "deeply regret" the whole affair and obviously hope the Kremlin will let it drop.

The observance of a major Jewish festival known as Shovuos, Hebrew for "Weeks," begins at sundown, Tuesday.

* * *

Ordained in scripture as a time to give thanks for the beginning of the summer harvest, the holiday's name is derived from the fact that it occurs seven weeks after Passover, the beginning of spring. The holiday is also known as the Festival of the First Fruits and Pentecost, a reference to the 50-day interval between Passover and Pentecost.

According to Jewish tradition, the revelation on Mount Sinai took place on Shovus Hence, the festival is also designated as the Birthday of the Ten Commandments. Since on the first Shovus, the Israelites avowed the need for moral purpose in their living. Liberal Judaism has introduced the ceremony of Confirmation into its temples on this holiday.

Shovuos is celebrated in synagogues with special prayers, songs, and sermons glorifying divine graciousness in the bestowal of summer's glories. A typical liturgical selection, from the Union Prayer-book begins:

By International News Service

Seven persons died on Michigan's wind-swept highways over the weekend. One of the victims drowned when the car she was riding in overturned in a creek.

An 87-year-old pedestrian, injured April 2, also died Wednesday. His death brought the number of traffic fatalities in Detroit to 83 this year as against 69 last year.

Dead are:

Robert M. McDonald, 34, of Detroit.

Mrs. Elsie Yoeman, 33, of Stanwood.

Benjamin E. Wright, 62, of Marshall.

after their sale, according to Willman.

"If the contracts were to be signed prior to receipt of the money they would have to be qualified subject to the sale of the bonds," Willman stated.

Under the present plans the wing will be constructed for $3,565,667.30 which will necessitate leaving out major equipment like beds, operating, and kitchen equipment.

Bids received April 19 soared over the $4 million mark which prompted a huddle by hospital and city officials on emergency financing of the wing.

Heenan said it could not be stated definitely when work could begin on the wing. "A lot will depend on how quickly the other departments can move out of the old hospital section which must be torn down to make room for the wing," he said.

The following contracts have been approved: general contractor, Darin and Armstrong, Inc. of Detroit ($1,967,080); plumbing, heating and ventilating, Broedell Plumbing and Heating of Detroit, ($956,283.30); electrical, Sarin Electric Co. of Detroit ($457,803); elevators, Haughton Elevator Co. of Toledo ($184,500).

Emily, 22, weighing some 3,000 pounds and ill for several weeks collapsed without a sound. In her fall to the pavement she pulled down another elephant to which she was chained.

People who saw the incident insisted the elephants mourned her more than her handlers. They all stood around, trunks dragging and trumpeting quiet reassurances to the younger animals while handlers worked feverishly to cut the chain holding her teammate.

Then the trek to the railroad began again. Most of the older elephants looked back as they walked off. It was tough losing Emily.

Though the dead elephant was 1,000 pounds underweight because of her illness, it was impossible to remove her body before daybreak. A Sanitation Dept crew with special equipment tackled the job at 8 a.m.

Conservatives Top Austria Vote

Socialist Party to Join Winners in Renewal of Coalition Rule

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Chancellor Julius Raab's Conservatives pushed within one seat of a majority in Parliament in Austria's first national election since the end of the four-power occupation.

Vice Chancellor Adolf Schaerf said his Socialist party is ready to join Raab's party in a renewal of the Conservative-Socialist coalition government which has ruled Austria since World War II.

The Conservatives picked up eight seats in yesterday's election and immediately proclaimed a halt to further nationalization of industry. Only about 40 per cent of Austrian industry remains under private control.

Raab will form a new cabinet at the request of President Theodor Koerner. He is considered certain to negotiate for another coalition with the Socialists. But his improved position gives the Conservative chief the alternative of dealing with the extreme right-wing Freedom League if the Socialists balk at his program for a brake on nationalization of industry.

In the unofficial but complete returns, Raab's conservative People's party won 82 seats and the Socialists gained two seats for a total of 75.

The Freedom League dropped from 14 to 5 and the Communists slipped from 4 to 3 seats.

"It was a victory for Austria's future," Raab said.

Ike Shows Foreign Aid Is Good Deal for U. S.

As he has shown on previous occasions, President EISENHOWER is well able to present strong arguments in support of his $4.9 billion foreign aid program.

In a report the President emphasized that by providing both kinds of aid, the program makes the United States the military and economic arsenal of the free world. He also pointed out that the expenditure of $50 billion on such aid since the war was necessary in our own enlightened self interest.

Continuing, the report showed that Mutual Security, the technical name for foreign aid, had brought about a military build up equivalent to 200 divisions, 2,000 naval ships and 300 air squadrons.

It is true that all these forces are not allied with us or under a common command. But all are dedicated to the defense of nations determined to retain their independence. Thus they contribute to the defensive strength of the free world. It should be remembered, also, that 85 per cent of the cost of this buildup is borne by recipient nations.

Concerning economic aid, Mr. Eisenhower stressed that we are helping free nations to build up their own economies. At the same time we are building better customers for our own goods.

Certainly, as the report points out, these beneficial results justify the investment of a little more than one per cent of our national product and 10 per cent of our military budget. This is undeniably so in view of the fact that most of these dollars eventually come back to the United States.

A Needless Amendment

The Senate was right in approving an increase from $1,750,000 to $3,000,000 in the United States' contribution to the International Labor Organization (ILO).

While we think they are wrong, we understand and sympathize with those who approved an amendment to Senate Joint Resolution (SJR) 97. Offered by Sen. BRICKER, the amendment would increase the payment only if Soviet bloc delegates are not permitted to vote in ILO meetings.

Contrary to the arguments used in support of the amendment, the free nations completely dominate ILO proceedings. They have the overwhelming advantage of a voting strength of 252 to the Communist bloc's 32.

Furthermore, ILO's policies haven't changed one bit since Red delegates were admitted. The only difference is that the Communists now have to attend meetings in which Soviet misdeeds are exposed. ILO continues to battle against violations of workers' basic rights, including forced labor and government domination of unions.

★ ★ ★

In our view, the BRICKER amendment would weaken the influence of our delegates and reduce their bargaining power in settling the ILO voting issue on our terms. It also would throw into doubt the sincerity of our Government's approval of ILO activities.

We hope the House will approve SJR 97, but without this needless amendment.

Coronation in Nepal

Although powers granted kings have shrunk greatly in recent decades, the tiny Himalayan kingdom of NEPAL only recently crowned its absolute monarch, King MAHENDRA amid scenes of Oriental splendor.

One of the newest members of the United Nations, Nepal, a country of 8,500,000 people lies along the northeastern frontier of India. North of it is the almost legendary country of Tibet, now occupied by Communist China.

For years the newly crowned king and his father had been prisoners of the powerful RANA family in the capital city of Katmandu. In 1950, however, they succeeded in fleeing to India and a year later a revolution restored the royal family.

One of the best recommendations for King MAHENDRA is that his actions and ideals have nothing in common with an absolute ruler. He has announced a five year program of economic development for his country. In addition he has welcomed a U.S. foreign aid mission and accepted help from India in construction of highways and airports and in rebuilding the army.

★ ★ ★

The 35 year old king has had the wisdom to reassure his people that he has no desire to retain his power of direct rule. Not only has he said that he will be glad to share the task of government with a prime minister and Parliament, but has scheduled Nepal's first elections for October, 1957.

Thus, it looks from this distance as though the chances are excellent for Nepal to make early and substantial progress toward parliamentary democracy.

More Than Opportunity Knocking

David Lawrence Says:

Churchill's Suggestion of U. S. S. R. Joining NATO Countries Just a Dream

WASHINGTON — Two views on world peace that might seem at first glance to be diametrically opposite came out of Britain a few days ago.

One was the suggestion from Sir Winston Churchill that maybe in time, if the Russians behave, the Soviet government should be admitted to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The other—expressed by 'The Manchester Guardian,' a liberal newspaper in England—was that this same organization is "falling apart militarily" and that it is important now for the Western powers to reaffirm the policy of "massive retaliation."

NEW RUSSIA?

What Sir Winston said was couched in the vaguest of phrases but it may well be that he had his tongue in his cheek when he declared that "we have a new Russia to deal with, and I do not myself see why, if this is so, the new Russia should not join in the spirit of this solemn agreement"—the Atlantic alliance against aggression.

The former prime minister warns, of course, that "it would be fatal for NATO now to relax and let apathy overtake what has been achieved."

But, it will be asked, if the Russians become virtuous and saintly, then what purpose does NATO serve? To resist what potential aggressor would its military organization be maintained? Also, the moment the Soviet Union abandons its aggressor policies and stops abusing the veto power, why isn't the United Nations available to keep the peace of the world and even enforce it, as its charter provides? Doesn't NATO become superfluous in the hour when Soviet Russia becomes a real democracy and overthrows its dictatorship?

But in the meantime what? There is danger that preoccupation with dreams which have not yet come true can bring about the very relaxation that Sir Winston cautions against. The most realistic appraisal of this phase of the international situation has come in the editorial in 'The Manchester Guardian,' of May 2.

"Much has been said of the non-military questions which the North Atlantic council will discuss this week, but little has been said of its military business. Dulles, Mollet and Pearson have talked of broadening NATO into political and economic fields. Nobody, however, has said anything in public about the disagreeable military facts which the council ought to face.

"When Dulles says that 'the unanimity of our thinking about the great basic issues makes it apparent that the time has come to advance NATO from its initial phase into the totality of its meaning,' he means that, militarily, NATO is falling apart."

It is further emphasized that militarily, the 12 existing divisions of NATO are ineffective and that the time has come to devise a new strategy. It is then pointedly asked if it is really necessary "for the British and Americans to continue to spend a large amount of money on their forces in Germany?"

"Perhaps not," answers the 'Guardian.' "For defence of the central front in Europe, we might rely chiefly on the threat of massive retaliation—which in fact is what we are now doing anyway. The threat might be more effective, as a defense, if it were explicitly acknowledged . . .

"If it is correct that the Russians have abandoned thought of direct military advance in Europe, as many people seem to think, the threat of massive retaliation is an adequate protection, and we do not need the Rhine armies. If that is not correct, and it might not be, we had better not try to bluff with Gen. Gruenther's skeleton forces."

The editorial concedes that if the Soviet began "nibbling at points on the periphery," this could not be met by "massive retaliation" because it might mean all-out war but that the remedy lies "in a small number of highly mobile units, available to go at once to any threatened part of the NATO area."

What it all adds up to is a realization that the millenium is still far away. For Sir Winston's vision of a "new Russia" is in itself a paradox in these days of distrust and misgiving about the real intent of the unregenerated rulers in the Kremlin.

Iodin Ration Will Correct Low Basal Metabolisms

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

A reader writes:

"I was discharged from the Air Corps for 'low basal metabolism.' I had suffered no ill effects whatever, and there have been none since I was discharged. The—— medical school gives me a clean bill of health, but now I can't enlist in any branch of the service because of the Air Corps discharge." (P.H.)

I can't believe the Air Corps or any other branch of the service of defense is so stupid.

"Low basal metabolism" is not a diagnosis.

Rejecting a man, otherwise fit, merely because the machine registers low, is not sound medical practice.

To any Yankee Wiseacre reading this screed and smiling in his superior way at my audacity, I say this: Your medical merchant, having sold you a $5 B M R (basal metabolism test with the impressive machine) for $35 can't do a thing about it or for you that an honest doctor would not have done with the information elicited by proper medical examination.

In other words, I'm trying to tell you that the metabolimeter (apparatus for measuring basal metabolism), however useful in the physiology laboratory, serves but one purpose in practice—the gadget impresses the simple layman.

Time and again I have cited here the report by Dr. Barnes (J A M A, 8-1-'42), who found in a study of over 1,000 cases that the basal temperature test proved a better index than the basal metabolism test. To the best of my knowledge, no one has controverted the fair and logical conclusion drawn by Barnes, namely, that a clinical thermometer and a little intelligence will enable a real doctor to get all the information about the state of metabolism that he can get by the use of the metabolimeter.

In this column Tuesday, Feb. 21, '56, under the title "Iodin and the Tired Thyroid," I described the ten most familiar manifestations of hypothyroidism or functional deficiency of the thyroid gland.

Hypothyroidism, functional deficiency of the thyroid gland and low basal metabolism are, in my judgment, pretentious ways of saying iodin deficiency. Generally there's nothing wrong with people who have low basal metabolism that a suitable iodin ration won't correct.

Let no knucklehead infer that I advise anyone to take medicinal iodine or iodide.

It is ridiculous to attribute acne to the infinitesimal quantity of iodin one gets from such sea foods as lobster, shrimp, oysters, crabs, halibut, sole, mackerel, or from the use of iodized salt instead of ordinary salt; or from the daily ration of iodine I recommend (in the pamphlet) for every man, woman and child.

I recall the claim a medical colleague made, that he didn't like iodized salt—he could taste the iodine in it! A sea food dinner, serving of systers or a can of tuna or salmon contains more iodin than one would get in iodized salt in a month.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Don't Blame Eisenhower for Bad Effects of G.A.W.'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

When will the UAW-CIO wake up? While all other major industries and businesses enjoy continuing prosperity, the automobile industry continues to lay off more workers, just at the time of year when they are usually going strongest.

The leaders of UAW-CIO blame this situation on the Eisenhower administration. They are too blind to be able to see the real reason, the guaranteed annual wage.

The G.A.W. is having the opposite effect they thought it would. It is not only impractical, it is, even more important, un-American. This great country of ours was not built by such socialistic principles.

In the next contract let's accept the stock participation plan we should have had in the present contract.

Fisher Body Employe

Mrs. Ada Hughes Urges Consideration for Family

It seems Mrs. L. B. is afraid we taxpayers are going to be asked to pay to get that curve straightened.

Well, you know four of our young men lost their lives there, and two of them served in our armed forces. They may have been drinking and speeding, I don't know. But do you think that it was right to speak of the accident in the way you did?

Remember, they left loved ones behind, and don't you think we should give them some consideration? They loved their boys like we do ours. I never saw the boys or their families, but four lives were lost, regardless of the cause.

Have you ever seen that curve? I did just after the accident, and I looked at that tree on the curve. If it takes more than taxes to get it removed, I am in favor of it.

That was not the first car to hit it, so if they think that curve should be straightened, let them do it, for we have ambulance and firetrucks to go that road, too.

I am a taxpayer myself, but let us remember those boys' parents and be thankful it wasn't a member of your family.

Frogman Puzzle Plunges Britain Into Controversy

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The House of Commons, which has debated many bizarre episodes, takes up another today—the case of the "missing frogman."

★ ★ ★

Lionel (Buster) Crabb, a British World War II underwater worker known as "Crabbie" to his friends, vanished without known trace last month in Portsmouth harbor.

Underwater work always is hazardous but what put this case on an international plane was the fact that he disappeared near the Soviet cruiser Ordzhonikidze, which brought Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Red party boss Nikita Khrushchev to Britain.

The implication is that he was engaged in espionage at a time that British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden was trying to act as a peacemaker in the durable East-West quarrel.

★ ★ ★

This has sent the Laborites into an uproar, heavily tinged with politics, of course, and even has evoked criticism of Sir Anthony Eden by sections of the ordinarily friendly Conservative press.

Eden said that Crabb's mission —never officially defined—was done without knowledge of him or his Cabinet and it is "not in the public interest" to discuss the matter further.

The implication is that a branch of the British secret service called Crabb out of retirement at the age of 46, and at a time when the diver no longer was in proper physical condition, to undertake a highly important mission.

For instance, Crabb may have been assigned to examine the hull of the cruiser, to find out if the Russians have any special underwater gear or weapons.

Not much is known about the Soviet navy except that it is becoming impressive. Its submarine strength alone is estimated as high as 400 submarines—more than Hitler had when he plunged into war.

★ ★ ★

In attacking Eden, as the responsible head of government, the Conservative London Times said that "even allowing for the disagreeable necessity—which all countries recognize, and not least the Russians—of having to engage in espionage, any such attempt to do so at that time (of the Soviet visit) . . . could be called only an unwarrantable breach of hospitality and an act of reckless folly."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Woman Often Will Forgive Husband Even After Several Miserable Years

Charles woke up, like Scrooge, and now wonders if his divorced wife will come back to him. What do you readers think? And you fathers should take inventory of your own behavior for Charles is not the only modern parent who is muffing his cues and ignoring his children. Send for the tests below and renovate your marital behavior at once.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-355: Charles M., aged 35, offers a challenge to all husbands.

"Dr. Crane, after 10 years of married life, I have just been able to look at myself as outsiders would view me.

★ ★ ★

"Last week my wife divorced me and obtained custody of our two children. But on Sunday I had the kids with me for three huors.

"Doctor, I did things with them I should have done before but never had.

"It sounds like a terrible indictment of a father, but in all my 10 years of marriage, I had never taken my youngsters into a soda fountain to have ice cream with them.

"In fact, I had never previously taken them to ride a mechanical horse or even walked down the street with them just window shopping.

"And I had never taken them for a long auto drive until last Sunday. I must have been as blind as Scrooge.

"For my nine-year-old son brought tears to my eyes with his enjoyment, for he said, 'Daddy, we never had such fun before, did we?'

"And my eight-year-old daughter asked: 'Daddy, will you go with us to Sunday school next Sunday, instead of just meeting us there afterwards and then taking us home?'

NEVER TOO LATE

"Maybe it isn't too late to help make up for some of my errors as a father, but I have never taken them to a movie or even for a swim.

"I still love my wife and children dearly, though my wife will not believe me because I have mistreated her so often and made hundreds of promises that I never kept.

"For example, I have drunk a lot and gambled. And while drunk I have become involved with other women.

"My wife has had to put up with almost everything in the book during our marriage.

"The only good things that can be said about me are that I always paid the rent and fed and clothed them well. But I was a total flop otherwise.

"I've staggered home drunk and with my paycheck missing on many a night.

"And I've slapped and punched her and cursed her. But last night, in my lonely room, I got down on my knees and promised God that if he would show me the way, I'd become a different kind of father.

"And if I can win my wife back again, I'll make up to her for the unhappiness of the past 10 years. Do you think she'll give me another chance?"

WOMEN ARE FORGIVING

Yes, she'll undoubtedly forgive Charles again if he keeps on with his new resolutions.

For the children will bring back glowing accounts of the fun they will have with their Daddy.

If he praises her to the youngsters, they will carry back his compliments. And if he invites her to go along with them for a show, even if he passes the request along via the children, she'll soon accept.

For children exert a wonderfully constructive effect in holding a home together. And they can bring divorced parents back into re-marriage.

But it takes more than just a changed outlook, though that is the first step.

★ ★ ★

Charles must follow the standard American pattern for a sucessful husband and then continually practice the right behavior, just as diligently as an athlete must keep drilling himself.

So send for the 200-point "Tests for Husbands & Wives," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents in coin. They show exactly what to do and what to avoid.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Gold Coast Set for Home Rule

LONDON (AP) — Britain has opened the way for its West African Gold Coast colony — a steamy land of witchcraft, polygamy and cocoa—to become the first independent Negro-ruled nation within the Commonwealth.

* * *

Colonial Secretary A. T. Lennox-Boyd told the House of Commons Britain would "declare a firm date" for early independence of the colony's 4½ million people if a general election is held and a reasonable majority of the new legislature favors Commonwealth status.

Such a change would bring the Gold Coast new land and people as well as an improved status. The 416,000 people of British Togoland, next door on the east, voted Wednesday in a U. N. plebiscite to join the Gold Coast when it attains independence. A similar plebiscite is being arranged for French Togoland. Both Togolands, former German possessions, are administered under mandates.

An experiment in Africa home rule, the Gold Coast got an all-Negro government and elected Parliament in 1952. The prime minister is Kwame Nkrumah, educated at Lincoln University in Pennsylvania.

Dorsey Brothers' Mom Not Blind, but Boasts

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — We went around to see "Mom" Dorsey, who's 82, to congratulate her on being our personal choice for Broadway Mother of the Year.

Like all good mothers, "Mom" began bragging about her sons—but she is honest.

'MOM' DORSEY

"My Jimmy and my Tommy are good boys, but they do have their little scraps," she whispered . . . and I asked what about.

"That's the divilish part of it — music! I used to whip my Tommy—I left him black and blue." She chuckled softly at the recollection of the long ago back in Pennsylvania.

"They're good to me," she said. "Tommy sent the doctor to see me. I told him, 'I don't need you—I doctor meself.' But he looked me over because my Tommy made him. Then he said, 'I wish young girls of today had plumbing like you got!"

"How old are your two kiddies?" we asked.

★ ★ ★ ★

"My Jimmy was 52. My Tommy was 50. Everybody loves my Jimmy—he wants me to get up me own band!

"When some of the girls from Pennsylvania were down, Tommy sent a limousine for me. On me soul he did!

"My Jimmy doesn't drink since he was operated on three years ago. My Tommy hasn't had a drink since 1944."

Tommy and wife Janie New have had a second honeymoon, which delights Mom. Once long ago Tommy phoned Mom to announce he'd been married an hour before.

"AGAIN, Tommy?" Mom shrieked. "How many times is this, Tommy?"

Every Saturday Mom—her real name is Theresa—goes to the "Stage Show" TV program to see her famous sons. "They give me tickets, but I give them to friends, and I get in on me face," she laughed.

★ ★ ★ ★

"One night they turned the camera on me in the audience and and I did a little jig," Mom said. "They're afraid to take me up on the stage though. On me soul, I bet they're afraid I'd steal the show!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Rocky Marciano's agreed to share movie profits 50-50 with Al Weill, even if the deal's made after their contract expires. Joe Glaser, the agent, offered The Rock $100,000-a-year for 5 years . . .

Herb Shriner gets the Tuesday 8:30-9:30 spot next year, after Geo. Dewitt (7:30) and Phil Silvers (8) . . . Joan Collins, at El Morocco with Arthur Loew Jr., wanted to meet Jackie Gleason "just as a fan" . . . The Follies' closing notice was such a shock half of the cast got boiled. The loss may reach $420,000.

EARL'S PEARLS . . . A bachelor is just a guy who thinks that "I do" won't do.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Jack Shaindlin offers his psychology on humility: "The only thing you'll get by asking for it in a low voice is a low salary."

10 Koreans Injured in Campaign Riot

SEOUL (AP)—South Korean police said today more than 10 persons were injured in a pre-election riot during which Lee Bum Suk, rightist candidate for vice president, brandished a pistol.

* * *

Lee, former prime minister, said he drew the gun—but did not shoot—"when 300 terrorists attacked me and tried to kill me from behind."

* * *

It was the third instance in which opponents of President Syngman Rhee claimed they were attacked by backers of Rhee's Liberal party while campaigning for tomorrow's presidential election. Rhee, 81, is considered certain to be elected for a third term but there is doubt as to the outcome of the vice presidential race.

Model Village of Henry Ford I Humming Again

HOUGHTON (AP)—The famed Middle Sawmill at Alberta, the model village built by Henry Ford in 1936, is humming again this week for the first time in two years.

* * *

But the mill now is dedicated to research in lumber production and other sawmilling activities. Some of the boards it produces will eventually be used in construtcion, but they first must serve the needs of science.

* * *

Today the picturesque village of Alberta and the sawmills in its 1,706 acres of adjacent timberland make up the Ford forestry center of Michigan Tech. The center, donated to the college in 1954, is now used as a huge laboratory for Michigan Tech's forestry students.

The mill and its adjacent property gives the Tech the most ambitious sawing center of any college in the nation. The college also owns the tiny town and most of the utilities contributing to it.

Mounties Must Wait

OTTAWA (AP)—Love and marriage don't go with the first five years of a mountie's career, Justice Minister Stuart Garson says. He explained in the House of Commons it takes time to train the Royal Canadian Policemen. Then they are transferred about every six months, sometimes to the wild north. That's the reason they are not permitted to marry until they have served five years.

Byrnes Scores Court Decision

Former Justice Claims Integration Rule Usurps Powers of States

WASHINGTON (AP) — James F. Byrnes, a former associate justice of the Supreme Court, said today the court "must be curbed."

"Power intoxicates men," Byrnes said in a copyrighted article in the magazine U.S. News & World Report. "It is never voluntarily surrendered. It must be taken from them. The Supreme Court must be curbed."

Byrnes, a member of the high court in 1941-42, also is a former member of the Senate and of the House and the holder of various high offices in the Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman administrations, including the secretaryship of state in the latter. His most recent public office was as governor of South Carolina.

USURP POWER

Byrnes assailed as a "usurpation of power" the Supreme Court's decision outlawing racial segregation in the public schools and hinted that the decision may not have been unanimous, as was announced at the time it was handed down two years ago this week.

Noting that the court continued from one year's term until the next the five cases which were consolidated for purposes of the decision, Byrnes wrote that "had the court been unanimous . . . such an opinion would have been written within a few months," and he continued:

* * *

"Instead, after many months, the court announced that the cases should be reargued and counsel should direct their arguments to certain questions."

Missing Chicago Boy Found Dead Floating in River

CHICAGO (AP)—A young mother's hope of seeing her missing son return on Mother's Day went unfulfilled. His body was found in the Chicago River.

* * *

"We were hoping that because today was Mother's Day he would come home to us," sobbed Mrs. Leo Rausch, 32, on learning of the death of her son Leo Rausch Jr., 8.

BOUGHT FLOWERS

"Last Mother's Day he saved money from his allowance and bought me a beautiful flower," she recalled.

Police said the boy's body had been in the water at least a week and possibly since the day of his disappearance April 30 when he failed to show up for school. They said he apparently had drowned. His body bore no marks of violence.

* * *

Mrs. Rausch said her son had run away several times last winter but returned home each time on his own.

The Rausches have four other children, ranging in age from 3 to 9.

Stage Anti-Atom Rally

TOKYO (AP)—Another world rally against atomic and hydrogen bombs will be held in three Japanese cities Aug. 4-10. Invitations will be sent to 30 nations, including the United States. The Japan council on prohibition of atomic and hydrogen bombs staged similar meetings in the same three cities—Tokyo, Hiroshima and Nagasaki—last August.

Jekyll and Hyde Tag Put on Ezra Benson

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Rep. Edmundson (D-Okla) says Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson "is sponsoring one kind of farm program for his native state of Utah and a much less beneficial program for the rest of the country."

Edmundson called Benson as "the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde of the Eisenhower family" in a speech to a mock Democratic political convention at Washington University.

He cited price supports of 98 and 106 per cent of parity on such standard Utah crops as sugar beets and wool as evidence of what he termed Benson's "bias."

* * *

Meanwhile, he declared, Republican pledges of 90 per cent price supports on other crops have been "completely abandoned without even an apology."

Prehistoric Tar Trap

Los Angeles' sticky La Brea tar pits took a fearful toll of prehistoric wild life, says the National Geographic Society. More than 1,500 saber-tooth tiger skulls alone have been recovered from the asphalt grave.

Ohio MPs Capture One and a Half GIs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A prisoner at the Ft. Hayes guardhouse here tried to escape yesterday, but only half of him made it.

* * *

An Army spokesman said Martin R. Youngless, 17, Brighton, Ohio, tried to squeeze through the pried-apart bars of a guardhouse window. Only his head and shoulders got through and he had to be helped back in.

A fellow prisoner, Albert D. Saltsman, 17, Leavittsburg, Ohio, managed to squeeze through the window ahead of Youngless. Columbus police picked him up an hour later.

* * *

Both men had been jailed on AWOL charges.

Abashed Trio Forgets to Turn the Motor Off

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Three persons rented a motor boat at nearby Buckeye Lake Saturday night and chugged happily off on a nautical outing. Ten minutes later the boat—empty—was found on the shore. Its motor was still running.

* * *

For a while, Licking County sheriff's deputies thought its three occupants had drowned and talked of dragging the lake.

Yesterday the sheriff's office said the three had been located safe and dry. What happened?

* * *

Well, they sheepishly explained to deputies, they saw a place that looked nice so they brought the boat into shore and got out. But they forgot to turn the motor off.

The three were not identified.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drugstores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

P.S. DOCTORS PRESCRIBE SPECIAL LAXATIVE TO EASE PAINFUL ELIMINATION WHILE SHRINKING PILES

The makers of Preparation H also make Petro-Syllium®, a special type laxative prescribed by doctors for hemorrhoid sufferers. Softens hard dry stool and assures easy elimination without pain. Ask for Petro-Syllium.

Heart Murmur Victims Should Live Normal Lives

DETROIT (AP) — A Yale medical school professor said children with "innocent" heart murmurs should be allowed to lead completely normal lives.

Parents do a lot of unnecessary worrying and often needlessly force such youngsters to live the lives of invalids, said Dr. Ruth Whittemore at the annual meeting of the Michigan School Health Conference.

Dr. W. B. Prothero, Grand Rapids and Kent County health officer, was elected to succeed Frank H. Jenne of Dearborn as president of the School Health Assn. The conference is sponsored by the Michigan Heart Assn.

• • •

Dr. Whittemore said 55 to 60 per cent of all school children have heart murmurs but only 6 to 9 in every 1,000 have organic heart disease. Some murmurs last only a short time; some disappear in the teens and a few last into adult life.

Even a child with a congenital heart disease who lives to school age "has adapted himself to life and needs little restriction of activities beyond those he imposes on himself," she said.

• • •

On the other hand, Dr. Whittemore warned, heart damage resulting from rheumatic fever needs "some special understanding during the acute phase of the diseas."

Kefauver Ending California Tour

Solon Joins Stevenson in Blasting Republicans After Crossing Paths

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver ends nearly a week of California campaigning today after speaking from the same county fair platform with Adlai Stevenson to attack Republican farm policy.

The Tennessee senator spends the day in the San Francisco area.

He goes to Oregon tonight, following Stevenson by a day to push write-in campaigns for that state's 16 Democratic votes.

• • •

The two Democratic contenders for their party's presidential nomination paraded before some 50,000 in sunny Los Banos in the San Joaquin Valley yesterday. Later they took on Republicans one after the other at the Merced County Spring Fair, where about 1,000 listened.

• • •

Kefauver, who listened to Stevenson's 20-minute talk from the shade of a tree, called for higher price supports for farmers and contended they "aren't going to be fooled by false promises any more."

• • •

Kefauver stopped in suburban San Mateo for a reception en route here and got stalled between floors in an automatic elevator with six other persons. They crawled up to the second floor by stepping on a chair after a wait which Kefauver estimated at 20 minutes. The failure was blamed on overloading.

Rebuffed Suitor Drives Car Off Pier Into Sea

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—David Railsback, 17, met death in the deep water of Long Beach Harbor yesterday, police reported, after he drove the family car "screaming wide open" off a fishermen's pier.

Authorities, who termed it a suicide, blamed a lovers' quarrel.

Rosanne Hegg, 15, Railsback's date for a Saturday night movie, was quoted as saying they had a quarrel and he "drove away mad" after taking her home.

Red Cross Unit to Meet

FLINT (INS) — AC Spark Plug Division of General Motors Corp., announced today that the Air Force has ordered a total of $23,958.762 in electronic bombing systems and gun-bomb-rocket sights.

Joseph A. Anderson, general manager, said most of the work will be done at AC's defense plants in Milwaukee, Wis., which have been engaged in this type of work since 1948.

Of the total in new awards, $21,123,893 represents orders for bombing navigational computers, parts, tools and equipment. The other $2,834,869 is for A-4 gun-bomb-rocket sights and spare parts.

Ceylon Gunners Strike

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Eighteen gunners in Ceylon's army went on a hunger strike. They said they were dissatisfied with the training program designed to prepare them for future civilian careers. It had no courses on how to become movie stars, they complained.

Earthworms live in almost all parts of the world.

Emergency Group Now Numbers 33

Sheriff's Posse to Present Horse Show

The Oakland County Sheriff Department's Posse unit now includes 33 men on call at anytime during the day and night to answer emergencies of all types, Sheriff Frank Irons stressed today in discussing the group's future plans.

The unit is currently planning its annual Horse Show to be held as an all-day event May 27 at Eight Mile Road and Lahser. Funds from the show are used each year to help the needy with Christmas baskets and various donations.

Veteran members of the eight-year-old posse contingent call the present unit the "best organized" in history with rapid progress made in recent years.

Sheriff Irons has overall charge of the posse with Walter Findley, director in the field. Each member has his own horse to use during emergencies.

The posse functions in all types of emergencies and is on one-half hour call at all times. Patrolling during tornadoes, covering riots and strikes, and handling various outings and parades have been among the organization's main functions.

The deputies played a key role in aiding victims of the Flint flood in 1952.

Irons said the posse is available for help in any manner. He cited the example that eight men and horses will be dispatched to a rummage sale in Ferndale and another group will aid at a Girl Scout outing later this month as examples of the versatility of the unit. "The posse is always ready to help when disaster strikes," concluded the Sheriff.

His appointment was announced today by the State Board of Education. He succeeds Dr. Henry A. Tape, who will retire.

Dr. Harden resigned his position as dean of continuing education at MSU April 30, 1955, to become executive vice president of Drop Forge Assn.

Kavanagh Finding Ends Road Expenses Hassle

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Kavanagh held today that sums allocated by a County Board of Supervisors for expenses of county highway commissioners are not part of the commissioner's lawful compensation.

Kavanagh said in a formal opinion that where a lump sum amount is fixed for expenses it must be regarded as a ceiling on expenses within which actual expenses must audited and allowed by supervisors.

Liquid Miracle! No washday powder ever made can give you the concentrated washing power of new blue instant liquid Wisk

You will pour Wisk into your washer. It will get your family wash so clean and white that you will never use a powder detergent again!

LIQUID MIRACLE! Wisk washes clothes whiter than any powder ever made!

LIQUID MIRACLE! Wisk removes more stains than any powder ever made!

LIQUID MIRACLE! Wisk is safer, much safer, than any powder ever made!

New, blue WISK is completely different from anything you ever tried. In the first place, it is a liquid you pour into your washing machine. It goes to work instantly. No waiting for powders to dissolve.

But, more important, new WISK is concentrated. It does three times as much wash as the same amount of powder. And does it better, too. For it gives you a concentrated washing power unequaled by any powder. Besides, new WISK is safe for hands, safe for fabrics – safe as only a liquid can be.

MAKES ANY WASHER TURN OUT A CLEANER AND A WHITER FAMILY WASH

Never again need you find a gravy spot left in a just-washed napkin, or a lipstick stain in a hand towel, or a grease spot in a suit of coveralls. For concentrated liquid WISK penetrates deep down into cloth fibers in a way no powder can. Safely, but thoroughly, it pulls out stubborn stains, removes hidden dirt, gets everything clean.

And wait till you see what WISK does for shirt collars and cuffs! Without bluing or bleach, it gets white things up to three shades whiter with the first wash. In fact, WISK gets all your family wash so clean it even smells clean.

FIRST REALLY ALL-PURPOSE DETERGENT!

You will use WISK for just about every cleaning job in your home! It makes quick work of dishes: Soaks them clean. Concentrated WISK wipes grease off a stove or kitchen wall. It makes old, discolored linoleum look new. It gets yellowed kitchen cabinets white and shiny again.

WISK does the toughest jobs quicker, easier, more safely than products designed for these tasks. Now you can throw away those harsh and dangerous chemicals!

NO MORE MESSY, SNEEZY POWDERS!

And what a blessing WISK is. It does away with "washday hay fever"... with clumsy, soggy boxes... with messy powders that spill. And because WISK does so many jobs so well, you don't have to clutter your shelves with a box for this, a bottle for that, and all those packages a woman used to need.

WISK IS UNCONDITIONALLY GUARANTEED!

We've promised a good deal for WISK and we mean it. In fact, we guarantee it! If you don't agree WISK is the best detergent you ever used—not just as good, but BEST!—Lever Brothers will return the purchase price to you . . . plus postage!

Age-Old Fuel, Charcoal Popular Restaurant Menu

WASHINGTON — Charcoal, an age-old fuel long eclipsed by other heating methods, has boomed back in new-style usefulness.

* * *

Innumerable restaurant signs reflect its comeback in the words "Charcoal-Broiled Steaks." Legions of householders attest its present popularity by cooking over charcoal in backyards or picnic grounds.

"We are receiving a great many inquiries about charcoal production and markets," commented a spokesman for the United States Department of Commerce. "Interest certainly appears on the increase." Similar reports come from England, where kilns now blaze with increased activity in Dorset woods.

British industrialists, like their American counterparts, use charcoal for steel-producing furnaces, in fabrics and medicines. Otherwise, it affects everyday lives in air-conditioning and cigarette filters, poultry and stock feeds, plastics and pencil points, says the National Geographic Society.

IN BRAKE LININGS

Charcoal helps separate gasoline from natural gas, is used in brake linings and in tin and copper smelters. An ingredient of black gunpowder comes from charred alder, willow and hazelwood. Thousands of World War I soldiers owe their lives to the absorbent quality of charcoal in gas masks. Coconut and boxwood charcoal absorb many times their own volume.

Primitive man probably used charcoal for heating. Fragments found at sites of human habitation near Tule Springs, Nevada, are believed by scientists to be some 23,800 years old.

The ancient method of making charcoal was simply to get wood afire and limit the supply of air by spreading earth on the logs. This caused the wood to burn slowly and char. The method continues in use with some modifications among many small producers. Modern science brought retorts and higher heat to speed up charcoal production on a larger scale.

ALMOST PURE CARBON

Almost pure carbon, charcoal produces greater heat in proportion to its volume than ordinary wood does, and is practically smokeless. At high temperature charcoal burns with a pale blue flame. It gives off a glow at low temperatures.

Charcoal burners in colonial America were welcomed by landowners with vast wooded tracts to be cleared for crops. Early charcoal in Pennsylvania fed the furnaces that fathered the state's present enormous steel industry.

Woodlands of northwestern Pennsylvania and the Catskill Mountains of New York were once important centers of charcoal production, an activity that has spread to many parts of the United States. The work is exacting: kilns require attention night and day. Loose turf must always be handy to cover any cracks that occur. Most of the small producers burn hardwoods and sell the product locally.

* * *

Ten thousand feet up in Costa Rica's Talamanca Cordillera some 100 families burn hardwoods into charcoal. Shivering through rainy seasons extending from June to January, they await the dry season for sales. When streams dry up and hydroelectric power systems are impaired, their charcoal again serves man.

Transplant Method Used to Build School

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP)—Vallejo is building a new modern school by the transplant method.

* * *

The operation calls for hauling 12 outmoded buildings of the wartime Carquinez School a mile across town on flatbed trucks to a new site. There they will be reassembled and modernized into a single integrated unit.

* * *

By the start of the fall term, the dilapidated buildings will have been converted into a streamlined stucco structure—the John Davidson Elementary School — with 12 classrooms capable of handling 420 students.

* * *

"It's a reconstruction project designed to salvage a shell of a building and modernize it," said Everett Rolff, business manager of the Vallejo Unified School District, in describing the $240,521 operation.

Concord Wins Another Battle

Erection of Historical Wooden Span to Mark 181st Anniversary

WASHINGTON—Citizens of Concord, Mass., preparing to celebrate the 181st anniversary of the battle that began the American Revolution, have their "rude bridge" returned, have won another fight—to have it built in the historically correct wood, instead of concrete imitation.

* * *

The present structure, though it "arched the flood" in Ralph Waldo Emerson's phrase, was badly weakened by recent flooding of the Concord River.

Replacement with another concrete bridge was planned, but the history-loving people of Concord held out for a wooden bridge similar to the one at which their forefathers faced the Redcoats and first turned them back, says the National Geographic Society.

Construction drawings for the new bridge, patterned after a model made 100 years ago, have been approved. Building awaits good weather. Concord officials hope to have the project underway by Patriots' Day, April 19, a legal holiday in Massachusetts and Maine. Target date for completion is June 1.

'SHOT HEARD AROUND'

The "shot heard round the world" was fired over the bridge April 19, 1775. It turned the tide of battle against the British, who had smashed resistance at Lexington, Mass., on their way to destroy Colonial military stores at Concord.

While other Redcoats broke up three iron cannons and destroyed barrels of gunpowder found at Concord, some 200 soldiers were assigned to hold the North Bridge.

Minutemen, aroused by the killing of eight men at Lexington early that day, swarmed from their farms and attacked the bridge. Fighting from behind rocks and trees instead of in the formal "line of battle" they had attempted at Lexington, they drove the British through the town, and then back to Boston. Total casualties: American, 93; British, 273.

TOOK SIX YEARS

From Boston, the British were driven eventually back to Britain, although it took six years, many battles, much blood and foreign help to finish the job.

Democracy's modern weapons—jet planes—now scream over the scene where Concord and Lexington residents, and thousands of visitors, will see the annual Patriots' Day re-enactment of the ride of Paul Revere—whose warning gave the colonists time to hide much of their military equipment.

One year, this pageant was interrupted by a group of Harvard students dressed in red coats and carrying stage muskets. They were no more successful in stopping Paul Revere then the original Redcoats had been.

Montgomery Clift Will Be Unscarred

WEST LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—Actor Montgomery Clift will not be permanently scarred by severe facial cuts received in a weekend brush with death, his physician said today.

* * *

Clift, 35, also received a broken nose, bruises and a possible concussion when the rented car he was driving struck a power pole, hurling him against the dashboard, on a steep downgrade in Benedict Canyon.

He had just left a party at the home of Elizabeth Taylor and her husband, Michael Wilding.

STORIES IN THE STARS — 1
Taurus the Bull

For thousands of years the same stars you can see on a clear night have been studied by wise men.

They discovered that the stars are really distant suns, which cannot be seen during the day because of our own sun's brightness. If you look you will see, as they did, that the stars are clustered in groups, called constellations, and these remain the same though they appear in different places in the sky at different times.

Here are a little Greek girl and boy, Phidias and Hermia. They have found in the sky the group of stars called the great bull Taurus. Like all Greek children they know this legend about Taurus:

Jupiter, the ruler of the gods, changed himself into a snow-white bull. Europa, a king's beautiful daughter, admired the handsome animal and climbed on its broad back. Taurus then carried her off, over land and sea, to a continent now called Europe.

This picture can be the beginning of a planetarium for you. Color it and paste it on thin cardboard. Make the sky deep blue, the bull white with golden hoofs and horns, and the vase red.

With a large pin punch holes in each star outlined on Taurus until the whole star is punched out. Poke a hole in each of the small stars in the sky, then hold the picture up to a strong light. The large stars form the constellation. Perhaps an older person can help you locate this constellation in the sky.

You can hang up this picture by putting strings through the holes in the circles at the top.

(Maureen C. Didier, Torrington, Conn., first suggested this idea. If you have an idea for Junior Editors send it in care of this newspaper and it may win you $10. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures).

Wilson and Radford Decry Military Cuts

WASHINGTON (INS) — U.S. defense chiefs warned Congress today that any substantial cut in the administration's proposed military aid budget will "present serious risks" to the nation and its allies.

* * *

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson assured the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that "money spent at this time for military assistance to our partners in the defense of the free world is money spent effectively for the defense of the United States."

Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, testified: "The Soviets are making a great deal of noise about peace, but I find ample evidence that they are striving to the best of their ability to build their own military capabilities to the highest possible levels."

* * *

The two officials appeared in support of a proposed three billion dollar authorization for military aid. Almost two billions more are sought for economic assistance to other countries.

Pet Owners Aided With Lost Dog Ads

DENVER (AP) — The Denver City government is publishing in daily newspapers legal notices of dogs picked up by dog catchers. The new procedure is intended to avoid repetition of the execution at the city pound of a champion springer spaniel.

Frank H. Gower Jr., owner of the spaniel named "Duke of Rob Tob," sued the city for $2,250 but accepted a $200 settlement. His attorney said Gower accepted the settlement on condition the city adopt its new policy of publishing the names of dogs picked up by catchers.

The legal notice includes the description of the dogs, tag numbers and other information necessary to reclaim the dogs. Gower's spaniel was executed after it was unclaimed at the pound.

25,000 Get Okayed During Auto Checks

Less than two per cent of the drivers who participated in the May auto check last week received tickets for defective equipment, according to Clyle R. Haskill, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce safety committee which sponsored the event.

Of those ticketed, almost 70 per cent returned to safety-check lanes with defects repaired, he added.

About 25,000 stickers were distributed to drivers whose cars passed inspection by teams of high school driver-training students, civic service clubs and Pontiac police reserve officers.

Harriman Raps Nixon Tactics

Says Ike Must Accept Onus of Actions Taken by His Subordinates

CODY, Wyo. (AP) — Gov. Averell Harriman of New York said today, "Now that President Eisenhower has become candidate Eisenhower he must be held directly and personally responsible for the failures of his administration."

Harriman said in an address prepared for delivery to the Wyoming Democratic convention that "as president he has tried to dodge responsiblity and passed the buck to his subordinates. He can't get away with that any longer."

EISENHOWER POLICY

"It's not Benson's (Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson) policies that have caused a drop of 4½ billion dollars since 1952 in the annual income of farm families. It's Eisenhower's policies."

Harriman, on a speaking tour of the West, declared, "Eisenhower is a prisoner of big business and special interests. We see it in every aspect of the Eisenhower policies—in his lack of concern for farm families and for small business."

* * *

Harriman accused Vice President Richard Nixon of a "vicious and slanderous campaign against Wyoming's Democratic Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney in 1954. Candidate Eisenhower has got to take full responsibility for Nixon and all his works."

Italy Expects Tourists

Candidate Adlai OK to Talmadge

Former Governor Says Georgia Will Endorse Democrats in Fall

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia said yesterday he prefers Adlai Stevenson "far and away above those two" for the Democratic presidential nomination.

* * *

By "those two" Talmadge meant Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York. Kefauver and Stevenson are campaigning actively for the nomination. Harriman, currently on a Western speaking tour, has described himself as "not an active" candidate.

PREDICT GEORGIA VOTE

Talmadge, an announced candidate for the Democratic nomination to succeed Sen. George (D-Ga), who announced his retirement last week, said he expects the Democratic candidate to carry Georgia in 1956 "by a greater percentage than four years ago."

Asked on an NBC television program what he would do if Kefauver should win the nomination, Talmadge replied:

* * *

"I would review the Democratic platform on which he would run. I have always been a Democrat and expect to remain one as long as I possibly can, but I wouldn't say what I will do as the result of nomination next November at this early date."

* * *

Talmadge reiterated his stand against integration of the races in public schools, declaring that in its antisegregation decision the Supreme Court was trying to "breathe additional powers into the Supreme Court that are not delegated to it by the Constitution."

Parents Watch Their Three Sons Drown in Pond

WARREN, Ill. (AP)—A father and mother watched helplessly yesterday as their three young sons — all nonswimmers — drowned in an artificial pond on the family farm.

* * *

The victims were Allen Gollmer, 17, a senior at Warren High School; and his two brothers, Charles, 13, and Claude, 10.

Laverne Gollmer, the father, said he and his wife saw their youngest son fall from the homemade raft the youths were paddling into deep water of the three-acre pond.

The two older brothers plunged into the water from the raft in a futile rescue attempt.

* * *

The father, also a nonswimmer, jumped into the pond from the shore while his wife ran screaming for help. Her shouts attracted a neighbor, John Bausman, who was able to pull the father from the pond. He was unable to find the three boys.

The bodies were recovered three hours later.

Bring the Jackets

Bermuda shorts are correct for U. S. males who go to Bermuda this spring, but the tourists better bring along ties and jackets as well. Better bars in the Atlantic Island resort won't permit customers to sit down un-jacketed, and most of the good restaurants require jacket and tie.

Cotton Dress Is Basic

Cotton dresses, a basic item in the wardrobe of young modern girls, are holding their popularity because of ease of laundering

Girl Visitor at College Pays Bills

She Should Take Care of Hotel and Transportation

By EMILY POST

A young man writes me: "The other day several of the students here at X College got into a discussion pertaining to weend visits. We couldn't come to a definite answer and therefore would like your help.

"The situation is this: A young man invites a girl to be his guest at college for a weekend. The girl is from a distant city and will need a place to stay.

"The young man would like to make arrangements for her to stay at the local hotel since there is no available room for her in the girls' dormitory. Does he pay the hotel bill? Also, does he pay for her transportation to and from the college?"

Answer: She pays her own traveling expenses to and from the college and also her own hotel bill.

If several boys together reserve rooms at the hotel for their girl friends and the girls share these rooms, the boys may quite properly divide this expense among themselves. But it is not correct for one boy alone to pay one girl's hotel bill.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Are the wedding pictures given to the bride's attendants or is each expected to pay for her own if she wants one?"

Answer: There is no fixed rule. If the bride's family can afford to do so, her attendants are each given a picture. But when the photographs are very expensive and the bride's family not particularly well off, each attendant orders what she wants from the photographer.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is there a time limit in which to answer a letter received from a friend? In other words, is it rude to answer at one's own convenience, or must a letter be answered immediately?"

Answer: The sooner one can answer the more pleasing, of course. The longer the delay, the less the pleasure of its receipt is likely to be.

MRS. ROBERT JENSEN

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Llewellyn of Walled Lake are parents of the bride. Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jensen of Lakeview avenue.

The gown of imported Swiss organdy was accented by short embroidered sleeves and a slash neckline. The waltz-length bouffant skirt dipped to the floor in the back and a pearl and rhinestone encrusted crown secured her finger tip veil.

She carried a cascade arrangement of white orchids with sprays of stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Charles Marshall of East Orange, N.J. was matron of honor. Donna Ayala of Milford and Mrs. George Smith of Milford were bridal attendants.

They were gowned identically in pale blue waltz-length dresses of organdy with V necklines front and back. Small blue flowered hats were also worn. They carried bamboo baskets filled with blue carnations and white daisies.

Best man was Leon Hubbard of Milford and ushers were Charles Aughenbaugh and Richard Jensen of Walled Lake, Charles Marshall of East Orange and Ronald Hammer.

Hurrying Adlai Reaches Oregon

Strong Appeal Made for Feminine Votes by Dem Candidate

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson moved swiftly into an Oregon campaign tour today seeking support of the state's 16 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

He flew into Oregon last night and an hour later was making a strong appeal for the women's vote.

* * *

A competing tour will be opened Tuesday at Klamath Falls in southern Oregon by Sen. Estes Kefauver.

Tuesday night at Eugene, Ore. they are scheduled to speak from the same platform in the University of Oregon's basketball pavlion.

* * *

Last night Stevenson told some 650 persons at a meeting sponsored by a Portland Democratic women's group that he had found in his travels a greater interest and participation by women in political affairs. He called that "all to the good." He told them also he favors improvement of social security benefits for women.

* * *

He jabbed sharply at the Eisenhower administration, and twice referred to the President, but not by name. He said he found it strange that one newspaper he did not name would oppose the candidacy of the late President Roosevelt when he was 63, but now finds it perfectly proper for another man to seek office at an even greater age. President Eisenhower is 65. He referred, too, to the President's fondness for golf. He said he had replied to a Californian's inquiry about his sunburned face by saying, "Well, I didn't get it playing golf."

'Cobalt Kids' Reportedly Back in Normal Health

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Sydney's "Cobalt Kids" are reported back in normal health.

Four-year-old Christopher Richards and his playmate Mary Coleman, 3, picked up a capsule of radioactive cobalt 60 while playing near their home last month.

* * *

The capsule had been used by a company examining joints in newly laid gas mains.

Tests showed the children's blood count low and doctors believed they might be victims of radiation.

* * *

Christopher's mother Mrs. A. F. E. Richards said that the children's blood count is back to normal. They received no special treatment, she added, only blood tests.

Marine Boot Training Upped to 12 Weeks

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C. (AP) — The Marine Corps recruit depot here has announced changes in its training program to take pressure off its drill instructors, one of whom will be tried by court-martial next month in connection with the drowning of six recruits.

* * *

Brig. Gen. Wallace M. Greene, who was put in command of the recruit training program here after the April 8 drownings, said yesterday the program is being stretched to 12 weeks, compared with the previous 10.

The new system, he added, will give the instructors the equivalent of two weeks free time and will give the recruits that much free time from the tough basic training schedule.

* * *

S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon, 31, Worcester, Mass., who led the fatal marhc, is awaiting court-martal march, is awaiting court-mar manslaughter, possessing alcoholic beverages, drinking in the presence of a recruit and "oppression of recruits" by taking them on the night march without authorization.

When someone's counting on you . . .
you can count on life insurance

What are your plans for retirement? Will it be a time to enjoy the trips you always seem to be postponing? Hours to spend with your favorite hobbies? Or perhaps the fun of developing a small business of your own?

Whatever your hopes, they require planning ahead for your financial needs when you retire. This is where your present life insurance may help . . . because most policies offer two forms of protection. First, they protect your family now. Then, when your youngsters are grown, these same policies can add to your own income at retirement.

Last year more than half of all life insurance benefits were paid to policyholders themselves . . . including many millions of dollars as monthly income for retired men and women.

This is one of the reasons why you can count on life insurance . . . and why it is America's most widely used form of thrift.

You may be able to arrange your present life insurance to provide a regular income when you retire. The best person to show you how this may be done is your own life insurance agent.

You will also find helpful suggestions in the new booklet, Your Life Insurance—and How to Use It. Your free copy will be mailed promptly; simply send your name and address on a postcard to Dept. L.

Yours free!

Twisters Leave Wake of Splinters Across Area

THE GENTLE WIND'S CARESS — While Floyd Killbreath, his wife and three children cowered on the kitchen floor, one of the three tornadoes that lashed Flint's southeastern suburbs Saturday night picked up his house, moved it from its foundation and turned it nearly 90 degrees. The door at left used to open on the steps at right. Miraculously, amid the flying glass and kitchen utensils, all escaped serious injury.

INSIDE AND OUT — One of the freak results of Saturday's tornado at Flint is pictured above. The drapery at Howard Johnson's restaurant on South Dort Highway was sucked out through the corner of the window and wrapped around the outside. The building was otherwise undamaged, as was the glass.

A TOY FOR A TORNADO — Broken and discarded by the twister that picked it up and rolled it across 200 feet of field and road, a school bus leans drunkenly against a telephone pole with its left rear wheel five feet off the ground. The twister was one of three that struck southeastern suburbs of Flint Saturday night.

Exhausted by hours of rescue and police work, these Explorer Scouts from Flint Post 14 prepare for a few minutes of sleep Saturday night. They are Larry Tilley, 18, and Bob Treloar, 17. Jim Snyder, 17, is in the front seat.

NOBODY WAS HOME — When the Flint tornado splintered this house trailer in a southeastern suburb of the city, the unidentified family had fled to safety in a nearby cellar. The twister rolled the trailer more than 100 feet from its original position, ripping off walls and making a shambles of the interior. In the same trailer park, 17 trailers were destroyed and 12 occupants were injured, three critically.

FLOODED OUT — Mrs. Louis Hargarther and her daughter Daisy, 7, evacuated from their low-lying Flint home when the swollen Flint River threatened to undermine its foundations, sit in the vast ballroom of the Flint Armory waiting for Red Cross care. They were among an estimated 1,200 Flint residents moved out by authorities in the flood threat.

'CREEK' TURNS LAKE — Gilkey Creek, running through Flint's Kearsley Park, normally is about 10 feet wide. Shown here in Sunday morning's flood, it has become a lake more than 150 yards across. The rampaging Flint River, into which the creek normally empties, rose to 97 inches above its normal level by 11 a. m. Sunday, forcing evacuation of an estimated 1,200 residents in low-lying areas of the city.

Migration caused by the partition of India in 1947 brought movement of 12 million people, says the United Nations.

Frustration Center of World

Psycho-Dramatic Theater Will Open in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Great news today for the nation's capital, one of the great frustration centers of the world.

Gyula Denes, a Hungarian-born playwright, told a news conference he is moving his psycho-dramatic theatre here from New York, and will plunge right in on the capital's fears and doubts.

Denes thinks frustrations and fears are the curse of mankind everywhere, but that Washington is something extra special.

"Worse than any place," he said, with the happy, calculating expression of an automobile body repair man sizing up a crumpled front end.

"Why shouldn't it be?" Denes said. "A politician naturally will aim higher and higher. Every time he succeeds, he will want something better. How far can you go in topping yourself all the time?"

BEAT THE BOSS

Denes believes the average man can rid himself of some of his fears by playing as if he were somebody else, by acting out his own problems, or, if his tensions are running too strong, by dramatically letting off steam.

He has a dummy made up with the label, "The Boss." Repressed students are allowed to curse, kick or even stab it. Ditto for mother-in-law.

But Denes doesn't pretend that this is any cure.

"Actually," he said, "he may hate the boss because the boss is a better man than he is, and small people like to hate. Or he may hate himb ecause he really hates himself. Or maybe he hates the boss because he hates the job, and is too frightened or lazy to change.

WHY BE AFRAID

"Of course, he may hate the boss because the boss really is hateful."

At any rate, Denes has a sign which says:

"Your boss is a human being, too. Why be afraid of him?"

"Don't you think," a reporter asked, "that you may be starting from a false premise?"

"No," Denes said.

OLD PHILOSOPHY

Denes says he really is talking about a philosophy, that all the great teachers have preached on the same theme, and that Aristotle even had the Greek words for it. "Mental Catharsis," Aristotle called it.

"Look at us," Denes said. "How many real tragedies can a man have in his life? He has only one mother one father, the great tragedies are few. It isn't the big things, it's the small, everyday little problems that give us the ulcers."

Does Denes think this modern age particularly frustrating?

"No, every age has its problems. They just take different forms."

It looks as if Denes and Aristotle will be in business for a long time.

Daily Foot Care Routine Pays Beauty Dividends

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I thought of heading this column, "Toesies in the Posies." How corny can I get? Don't answer that, please.

Nevertheless, it is true that our toesies will be in full view many times during the summer. Even if you are not addicted to walking barefoot in the grass your feet will be exposed on the beach and in the revealing play shoes of hot weather. So, perhaps we should give them a little extra thought.

You may have quite a bit of rough skin on your toes and heels after this winter's weather. The cuticle about your nails may be dry and hard. Nightly attention to these areas will bring you real results in a couple of weeks time.

Each night after your bath, rub the rough areas with a bath towel. After this, massage well with a softening body lotion. Before going to sleep rub cuticle oil or cream into the rough skin about the toenails.

This treatment is inexpensive and simple enough but will be effective if you will take the time to give your feet this treat.

Many women who have regular manicures neglect pedicures. If you can have the first one done by an expert this will help you keep up the good work later on. If not, at least take as good care of your toenails as you do of your fingernails.

Soak in your bath longer than usual before giving yourself a pedicure. After drying push the cuticle back gently from the toenails. Do not cut cuticle unless necessary. Cut the nails straight across the top in order to avoid ingrown toenails.

If you use polish on your toenails apply this just as you do on your fingernails. Use the undercoat, two layers of polish and the topcoat.

Many women who use clear polish on their fingernails use colored polish on their toenails. I myself think that any toes look better with the colored kind. Let's face it, babies are usually the only ones with pretty feet and a bit of color takes the spotlight away from any foot defects we grownups may have!

One warning—be sure to keep the polish in good repair. Nothing looks worse than broken polish on the toenails, and do not have the color too vivid.

You have time to improve your footsies before hot weather really arrives for a long stay!

Haunted Houses Fill Some Childhood Need

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

DAYTON, Ohio (INS) — Every child deserves the right to claim there's a "haunted house" in his neighborhood. Indeed, it is almost an adolescent necessity.

* * *

A wondrous and spooky thing is a haunted house, be it a crumbling cottage or hilltop mansion. It gives a child's imagination something juicy to teeth upon. It gives meaning to an otherwise dull, rainy night. It strengthens the backbone and titillates the latent derring-do.

"That house is not haunted, dear. The Joneses used to live there and they were very nice people."

That's the type of thing parents always say — but you can't kid a kid.

"Oh," says he who has a haunted house, "Yeah?"

* * *

Our haunted house in my Dayton childhood — my brother's and friends' and mine — was a monster of dead white stucco and sinister bay windows on the third floor and a frame of old mournful pines. It stood on a green-brown hill, up 15 blood-colored steps, and nobody lived there. Except ghosts, naturally.

We feasted our grisly young imaginations on it and only once — with enormous respect and bravado — did we climb those catsup red steps and mount the front porch.

* * *

There were six of us. We peered through the windows into blackness and suddenly a sadistic breeze rattled the pine trees.

"Let's get outa here," said one of us, which turned out later to be me; and we turned towhead and ran.

The house is still there. It still looks haunted, except that now it is lived in, and there are daffodils poking up grotesquely under the pines.

* * *

"You remember your haunted house?" mother said today. "I played scrabble there last week. Awfully nice family moved in."

* * *

It was the old story. No spooks. Scrabble. I decided to go and investigate — for the sake of my profession, my sadly mourned youth, my curiosity.

MOTHERLY TYPE

The woman who came to the door was middle-aged and motherly.

She said, in the kind of voice that would melt specters down to thin air, that there were seven bedrooms, three parlors and an attic which contained a happy family of squirrels.

She showed the way through rooms cluttered with the ordinary things humans use, sat me on an unmenacing stuffed sofa and offered a bowl of onion soup. The entire setup was as tame as a Sunday School picnic.

The woman apologized politely because the rest of her family was out. "I'd like to have you meet our boy," she said proudly. "He's a remarkable child, fine imagination. He believes in fairies and ghosts, just as I used to."

"You know the gray stone house on the corner of Catalpa drive?", she laughed. "Well, he thinks it's haunted."

Lucky young man he. Oh, to be once again on a ghost-to-ghost network.

Subject to 2 Rulers Pays Tribute in Food

WASHINGTON — Andorra, the tiny principality lying between France and Spain, pays a strange yearly tribute to its co-ruler, the Bishop of Urgel: 6 hams, 6 cheeses, 12 hens and 460 pesetas, or about $42.

The Bishop comes off better than Andorra's other ruler, the President of France, who receives only $2.80, the National Geographic Society reports.

Bob Considine Says:

AEC Closely Watches Radioactive Fallout

ABOARD MOUNT McKINLEY, ATOMIC PROVING GROUND (INS) — Throughout the entire Redwing series of atomic shots the stress will be on control.

* * *

It is one thing to possess a bomb whose equivalent in boxes of TNT would fill the Yankee Stadium, Polo Grounds, Ebbets Field and a couple of lesser ballparks, but it's quite another thing to pare it down to deliverable size without emasculating it and to explode it without hurting people.

Every briefing we've had since the trip began has featured an expert plainly chosen to assure a better public understanding of what is now the bomb's most notorious feature: The radioactive fallout.

They do not always agree on details. Atomic Energy Commissioner Harold S. Vance told us the other day that the amount of radioative dust that has settled on the U. S. as a result of all nuclear explosions to date "would have to be increased about a thousand times before any effect on humans would be noticeable."

* * *

On the day previous to this talk, Dr. Charles Dunning, AEC's prime authority on radioactivity, said the atomic sediment would have to be increased 6,000 times to make any difference to man and beast.

DISLIKE THOUGHT

Still people don't much like the thought of standing umbrellaless in what is now described as a perpetual drizzle of atomic particles too small to be seen and too weak to attract the attention of anything but a Geiger counter.

* * *

Dr. Dunning suggests that as much as two-thirds of all the stuff of which atomic clouds are made is still airborne and can be calculated to fall back to earth sometime in the future.

When? Nobody knows. Dunning figured out on the back of an envelope for us that a standard A-bomb of 20 kilotons (Hiroshima-Nagasaki type) creates in its mushroom for the first hour at least about 10,000,000 pounds of "hot" debris with the same properties as radium.

Less than 3 pounds of natural radium have been extracted since its discovery by the Curies more than half a century ago. The 10,000,000-pound potential is not recoverable, of course. It rides with the high winds and is quickly dissipated, compared to the depreciation of radium.

* * *

And in time it settles down over sometimes enormous areas. It is "half-dead" after 28 years. Who isn't?

THE BIGGEST DOSE

The U. S. has been pelted with more radioactive debris than any other country, the AEC reveals. But in the same breath it says that each American has received no more radiation than he gets from the cosmic rays with which the sun bombards us and much more less than one receives having a tooth X-rayed.

* * *

Apparently, as the public's comprehension of radioactive fallout increases, there has been a simultaneous rush to blame the AEC and its atomic tests for everything from crop failures to warts. Dunning described as "ludicrous" some of the claims made against the AEC by people demanding money for alleged damages suffered.

But, he added quickly, the replies are always polite. And firm on the point that only in what amounts to the immediate area of an atomic detonation can the weather be affected or living things fatally harmed by fallout.

The big blasts are confined to the Pacific where an area much larger than Texas has been set aside for these tests. With every blast, more is learned.

* * *

There is little chance now there could be a repetition of the 1954 dusting of that Japanese fishing boat. Better and more controllable atomic weapons and at less danger to the people — them's the AEC's sediments, by gar.

Accident Prone Research Told

Personality of Employe Is to Blame in Mishaps, Professor Asserts

NEW YORK (INS)—A New York University professor of psychology said today that employes constantly involved in accidents may have only their personalities to blame.

* * *

Dr. Thomas N. Jenkins, director of psychological services of the Executive Analysis Corporation, told 23 manufacturing companies in a report that he has discovered a link between "accident proneness" and certain personality characteristics in the employes he has studied.

Distractibility, lack of personal restraint, feelings of superiority and social aggressiveness may all be reasons for too many accidents befalling any one person, said the doctor.

Other characteristics include a high degree of negativeness and independence in dealing with other people, as well as low sensitivity and callousness toward pain.

TURNS AWAY

Dr. Jenkins noted in his report that the person who suffers repeated injuries is easily "turned away" from the task before him by "his own thoughts, daydreams, musings and sensations" as well as things going on nearby.

This type of person, the doctor said, has a tendency to converse with others and constantly thinks about what he might do if he were famous or in the shoes of his boss.

Some accident-prone people are more than usually frank in their dealings with other people and are aggressively outspoken. They work hard at being different and are apt to be overly brazen or bold, reported the doctor.

* * *

Dr. Jenkins noted the accident prone person feels unusually confident in his ability to handle his every day work problems and has an emotional need to feel and act superior to those around him.

Liberated Zionist Denies 'Confession'

ZURICH, Switzerland (AP)—Freed after five years in a Czechoslovakian prison, Israeli left-wing Socialist leader Mordechai Oren has repudiated a confession that he worked as a Zionist spy against the Communists.

* * *

"I don' tremember what I said at the trial," Oren said on his arrival here by plane. "But I can assure you that I was not a spy. I was innocent."

* * *

Asked if he had been mistreated, the gray and emaciated Oren would say only, "I am well now."

Oren, 51, was freed Saturday by the Czechs. He was arrested in late 1951 while returning to Israel from a Communist - sponsored trade union meeting in Berlin.

As usual, when Firtz Crisler gets together with a gathering of sportswriters, he always finds himself barraged with questions, most of which have some connection with NCAA policies or coaching rules.

Saturday afternoon was nothing new for Crisler. One of the old controversies brought up at the Football Writers meeting at Ann Arbor and naturally put to Crisler for the answers, was the annual TV policy of the NCAA.

One TV rule for which Crisler sees little use is the sellout exception rule, which allows telecasting of games when the box office runs out of ducats before the game.

FRITZ CRISLER

"This rule makes chumps out of 97,000 people," he said in using Michigan seating as an example. "They break their necks to get tickets for fear of a sellout, and then a telecast is announced just before the game," he added.

★ ★ ★

Crisler maintains that by knowing of a telecast early in the season, fans would still go to the game so that they could say ,"We were there."

★ ★ ★ ★

With NBC now moving into the pro field and out of the bidders' circle for college games, which is contracted by CBS, Crisler doesn't go along with those who feel that college football telecasts may be jeopardized because the number of bidders' would be narrowed.

"We may run short of TV network bidders," he said, "but don't think we would run out of sponsors."

By this Crisler strongly indicates that as long as the list of sponsors stays intact, then TV networks could hardly ignore the price they will pay for telecasting college games.

★ ★ ★ ★

Crisler points to the fact that TV networks now realize the viewer strength of televised athletics whether pro or college.

"And both the sponsor and network realize the lessened cost of putting a camera into a football stadium to bring an unrehearsed activity," he continued.

"After all, the extra time and money that goes into some stage production for scripts, rehearsals, costumes, stage settings, and etc., is harder on the purse for the sponsor, and yet it very often doesn't get the viewers that some big college game does," he added.

★ ★ ★ ★

There's no doubt in Crisler's mind that television has done nothing but to help sports, and athletics as well have been TV's biggest audience gainers.

The answer that remains then is, sports and television must live with each other, so as Crisler says, "why not exploit it."

Area Prep Thinclads Take Top Regional Honors

By BILL CORNWELL

Five Oakland County area high schools won regional championships and several others made creditable showings in Saturday's MHSAA track and field meets.

Birmingham in Class A, Milford and Utica in Class B, and Orchard Lake St. Mary in Class C joined Pontiac's star - studded aggregation in winning regional titles.

Birmingham amassed 59½ points to win the 'A' regional at Fitzgerald. Grosse Pointe scored 40 points to finish 2nd and Royal Oak came in 3rd with 31½. East Detroit totaled 27, Mt. Clemens 24, Berkley 16, Hazel Park 9, and Port Huron 3. Ferndale and Notre Dame of Harper Woods were blanked.

Jerry Meyer of Berkley won two events, the high and low hurdles, and East Detroit's Toby Prantera was the meet's top scorer with 13¼ points.

Birmingham won four events and tied for 1st in another. The Maples' Ron McCrumb and Bill McFarlen captured the pole vault, Tony Evangelista took the 220-yard dash, Doug Wuggazer won the mile, and Lynn Benn tied for 1st in the 880. The Maples scored in every event but the broad jump.

Boasting its strongest track team in 10 years, Utica ran away with the Class B regional at Algonac. The Chieftains rolled up 57 points to finish well ahead of runner-up Romeo with 25. Rochester wound up 5th with 15 7/10 points.

Ernie Malzahn was the spark-plug as Utica won six events. Malzahn took the high hurdles and broad jump and placed 2nd in the low sticks. Brian Castle recorded the time of 53 seconds in winning the 440 run.

Milford had too much balance for the rest of the field as it claimed the 'B' regional title at Howell.

The Redskins won only two events and tied for 1st in a 3rd, but possessed the overall strength to take the honors. Milford compiled 44 5/14 points to runner-up Howell's 35 3/14 and Grand Ledge's 32 5/14.

Servite won the 'B' crown at Fitzgerald, but was forced to fight off stiff opposition from Cranbrook. The Detroit school ran up 48 points and the Cranes were close behind with 45, Warren scored 24 points, Van Dyke 21½, Center Line 17, and Clawson 15½.

* * *

Orchard Lake St. Mary, with one of its finest cinder squads in many years, conquered a field of 18 other schools to win the Class C title at the University of Detroit.

The Eaglets took six 1st places and scored in all events except the mile for their 3rd regional crown in the school's history. They piled up 51¼ points to runner-up Lake Shore's 23½ and Grosse Ile's 21.

Stan Majewski won the 120-yard high hurdles in 15.9 seconds to set a new school record and Gerry Leszczynski posted a new school mark as he took the 220 dash in the time of 23.1.

* * *

Leszcznyski aslo won the 100-yard dash in 10.4 and Bob Stec took the 440 run. Jerry Ostrowski captured the 880 and the team of John Daniels, Pete Madelans, Majewski and Leszczynski placed 1st in the 880 relay.

St. Michael's Shamrocks, who had not competed in a meet this season, finished a surprising 4th with 18½ points. Dan Dropps cleared 5 feet 9 inches to win the high jump and placed 3rd in the broad jump.

Chuck Brown gained a runner-up spot in the 440 and the 880 relay team of Dropps, Brown, Mike Clever and Bill Hall came in 2nd. Hall took 4th in the 220 and Jim Fox gained a 6-way tie for 4th place in the pole vault.

Other area schools scoring at U. of D. were West Bloomfield with 13¼ points, New Haven 6¾, and Roseville Eastland 6¼.

YPSILANTI NORMAL FIELD—With just about everybody in this big MHSAA regional track meet, goggle-eyed at the performances of the all-victorious Pontiac High thinclads, the flying Chiefs didn't disappoint.

Coach Wally Schloerke's charges came through, Saturday, with another record Class A win, one of the most lopsided in state prep regional history.

Paced by the sensational Hayes Jones, who won three events and shared in another victory, Chiefs compiled 97½ points, almost three times the total of the runnerup Ypsilanti team, at 33. They scored 92 a year ago on the same track and field. That was a record, too.

Three new marks were set by PHS. Two were hung up by Jones. He almost equaled another, and ran a remarkably fast opening leg in the half mile relay. Pontiac won in 1:32.7. Hayes set a 14.3 record in the 120-yard high hurdles, after also breaking his own 1955 mark of 14.8 with a 14.4 preliminary. He broke the low stick mark of 20.2 by a brilliant 19.6 victory in the 180-yard race.

Jones missed a new broad jump mark by three-quarters of an inch. He leaped 21 feet 11½ inches. Jesse Thomas of Flint jumped 22 feet in 1946. Hayes has bettered this distance in almost every meet of the year, except this one. Chiefs took 1st three places in the jump, with surprising Marv Cagle going 19 feet 7½ inches to edge Bill Douglas by a quarter inch.

Leading off the 880 relay Jones turned a 22.5 furlong, better than the best 220-yard dash time of the day.

Hayes, as usual, counted his 16½ points.

Chiefs swept the top spots in the high jump, with Hudson (Goose) Ray setting a new mark at 6 feet 1¾ inch (old mark set in '53 6 feet 1¼ inch). Alex Barger and Jimmy (Sonny) Taylor were No. 2, No. 3. Bob Mawhinney of Waterford was 4th.

PHS distance victories were thrillers.

Perry Williams won the mile, but Gene Cretal's stretch battle with Ron Feezor of Lincoln Park stole the show. Gene beat Feezor by a stride. Both Bill Douglas and Rod Treais grabbed hot wins in the two 880 races. Both came from behind on the stretch, Treais again showing his fine finishing kick. Rod's dad and mother were in the stands and the husky lad was elated over his 2nd straight half mile win. He got his 1st in the Valley meet. Gale Wigner of Waterford was 2nd.

Larry Beamer, Charley Robinson (won one 440 event), Charley Spann (220 winner) and Archie Brooks, equaled the meet record (2:30.2) for the 880 relay. Jimmy (Sugarcane) Shorter won the 1st 440.

Chiefs won 12 of the 15 events, took 4 2ns, 5 3rds (tied for 3rd), 2 4ths, 1 5th place. Pontiac qualified 16 boys for the state meet Saturday at Ann Arbor. Only 4 of the 16 will be back next year.

Waterford's Gary Meeker won the pole vault at 11 feet, Bill Cole was 3rd in the high hurdles, Stan Jones 4th in the lows, and Skippers' 880-yard relay team was 3rd.

Porky's 266 Is Three Under the Slammer at White Sulphur

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP)—Ed (Porky) Oliver may have discovered that playing less golf is the secret that will finally take him out of the runner-up class.

At least, he's going to give a try after it worked so well in bringing him victory yesterday in the White Sulphur Open, his first triumph in three years.

He won by a comfortable three strokes over Sam Snead, the host pro, in his first competition in a couple of months. "It was the best golf I've played in a long time," said Oliver of his 266 for four rounds.

It was 14 strokes better than par and the lowest winning score since Snead's 264 in 1952.

RECORD BREAKER — It's getting to be just a habit for Hayes Jones (above) to crack meet records this spring. Hayes, Chiefs' ace thinclad, Saturday set new regional high and low hurdle marks at 14.3 (120-yards) and 19.6 (180-yards) at Ypsilanti, as PHS won its 5th major track title of the season with 97½ points.

Fans Boo Decision

MARSEILLES (INS)—Some 3,000 fans at the Marseilles Palais Des Sports booed Sunday as officials called a ten-round draw between former welterweight champion Kid Gavilan of Cuba and Louis Trochon of France.

White Sox Sweep Tigers, 8-1

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers tried three different left fielders and banged out 34 hits in three weekend games with the Chicago White Sox, but found themselves mired deeper in the American League cellar.

The reason: the White Sox got 43 hits off shaky Tiger putching and made them good for 24 runs.

With the White Sox sweeping the three game series, the Tigers left 25 runners stranded, 11 of them yesterday as stylish Billy Pierce scattered 10 hits for an 8-1 triumph.

There were many opportunities for the toothless Tigers to break the game wide open, as Pierce could retire the side in order in only the 3rd and 7th innings. But the lack of clutch hitting left Detroit with only eight victories in 23 games.

* * *

Manager Bucky Harris tried veteran Jack Phillips in left field yesterday, after using Wayne Belardi Saturday and Charlie Maxwell in Friday night's affair. Phillips singled in five trips. Maxwell shifted to right field Saturday and Sunday because of the shoulder injury suffered by young Al Kaline in Friday's game.

The Sox got rid of Virgil Trucks in the 6th inning yesterday after shelling him for four runs and six hits, including a 6th-inning splurge that included a solo home run by little Nellie Fox and doubles by Minnie Minoso and Sherm Lollar.

Al Aber, Trucks' replacement, got roughed up in the 7th as the Chicox scored three more times on five line-drive singles and a sacrifice fly.

The final run came in the 9th off Frank Lary, the loser in Friday's opener. Two singles and a walk plus an error by 3rd baseman Ray Boone gave the White Sox their 8th run.

Pierce upped his record to 4-1 The Tigers put two runners on but was not as sharp as usual. base with none out in the second, but failed to score.

In the 5th they had runners on first and second with one away and failed again. Detroit finally clubbed Pierce for three straight singles in the 6th—by Bill Tuttle, Boone and Maxwell — and produced a run. Then with two men on base and one away, Red Wilson flied out to center and Reno Bertoia fanned.

Chief 9 Suffers Defeat, Tie in 'Twin' at Bay City

Saturday's trip to Bay City turned out to be almost a total loss for Pontiac High School's baseball club. Chiefs lost the 1st game of a double header to the Wolves 6-2, then ran into a 3-3 tie when rain washed out the 2nd contest of the SVC set.

Terry Ebright held a slight edge on Jim Jones in the opener, with 9 strikeouts to 7 for the tall Chief. His teammates also came through with timely hits in the 1st three frames to ice the win. Pontiac did not score until the 4th when Clay Williams walked, and moved around on singles by Bud Hayward and Bob Murphy. Wolves counted runs in each of the 1st three frames, with 7 blows doing the damage.

In the nightcap, Dan Schermerhorn fanned 8, Arnold Larson for Pontiac 5. Each walked two runners. The game was called in the top of the 7th, with PHS at bat two on and only one out. Heavy rains made it impossible to continue, and the game will be replayed later, if the Valley title status makes it necessary.

Line scores:

Crane Nine Beaten 5-1 in Loop Game

Cranbrook dropped its second Inter-State League baseball game Saturday by losing a 5-1 decision to Nichols school of Buffalo.

Pitches No-Hitter

Erskine Has Last Laugh

BROOKLYN (AP) — They laughed when Carl Erskine decided to exercise his pitching hand by working with a steel ball.

Now practically the entire Brooklyn Dodgers' pitching staff is following the lead of Erskine, the handsome 29-year-old veteran who tossed the second no-hitter of his career Saturday when the Brooks defeated the New York Giants, 3-0.

"Ive been using the steel ball in hopes of relieving a tight muscle in my pitching shoulder," Erskine said today. "But the muscle still bothers me."

It was the tight muscle that had Erskine (and probably the Brooklyn brass) worried that his career might be finished. His record last year was an unspectacular 11-8, and he was a forgotten man in the Dodgers' World Series victory over the New York Yankees.

* * *

"So I went to the doctor and he told me to keep away from all sorts of exercise all winter," Erskine continued. "I did that, but when I got to spring training, it still bothered me.

* * *

"But I still couldn't get it completely loose. Now with the steel ball, I go through my entire motion in the hopes of pulling the tightness out."

He confessed, though, that the stiffness still is there, which probably accounts for the fact that his record to date is only 2-2.

"It didn't bother me as much against the Giants as it usually does," he said. "Meanwhile, I'm still going to use the steel balls. It's still too early to tell if they're going to help loosen the muscle."

* * *

A whole handful of pitchers have tossed two no-hitters in their major league tenures, but only Bob Feller, among the modern-day elbowmen, has thrown three. Erskine has come mighty close, though. He had a one-hitter in 1953.

Equestrians Leave for Olympic Games

TRYON, N.C. (AP) — The U.S. Olympic equestrian three-day team is scheduled to leave training quarters here tomorrow for the June Olympic Games in Sweden.

The team is coached by Maj. Robert Borg of The Dalles, Ore. Team members are Maj. Jonathan R. Burton, Ft. Hood, Tex.; Walter Staley Jr., Mexico, Mo.; Frank Duffy, Birmingham, Mich.; and William Haggard III, Nashville, Tenn.

Freshmen Take Spotlight With Kramer in 'M' Game

By BRUNO L. Kearns
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

ANN ARBOR — The top men may have been missing from the University of Michigan varsity backfield in the annual spring game Saturday afternoon but it didn't stop the Blue team from waltzing past the Maise team of second and third stringers, 34-7, with big Ron Kramer punching the goal line three times and lateralling for another.

With Billy Pace out because of a back injury and Terry Barr recuperating from a knee operation, Kramer teamed with a couple promising freshman from Ohio, Bob Ptacek and John Herrnstein to give the Wolverines a potentially powerful ground attack.

• • •

More than 10,000 fans sat in 75-degree heat, most of them wanting especially to see Kramer, the All-America end at his new wingback post.

Big Ron obliged with a spectacular show of running, pass receiving, kicking and blocking. He scored the first touchdown on a four yard plunge, made a spectacular catch of a 15 yard pass for another score, and thrilled the crowd with a 80 yard dash which ended in a lateral to Jim Maddock for the TD.

Ptacek, a quarterback who was in the halfback spot, and Herrnstein at fullback were named as co-owners of the spring's most valuable player award.

• • •

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan was high in his praises for the two newcomers. "They are a couple of good rugged kids who will help us tremendously," said Oosterbaan.

The Wolverines coach was also pleased with the work of tackle Jerry Marciniak and a halfback on the White team, Mike Shatusky a junior from Menominee.

Shatusky won the applaud of the crowd with his running and kicking along with Steve Zervas who tallied the Whites lone touchdown.

• • •

The game concluded 20 days of spring drills and even though Oosterbaan said he thought the Wolverines were much thinner in depth from last year's team, he termed the Saturday show as "quite satisfactory."

The Dodgers won the game, 6-4 to sweep the 3-game series.

Cards Still Moving; Yanks Hold AL Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Trader Frank Lane and the St. Louis Cardinals have drawn first blood in their big five-hurler trade with the Philadelphia Phillies.

• • •

Aided considerably by the pitching of Murry Dickson and Herman Wehmeier, the two right-handers acquired from the Phillies last Thursday, the Cardinals swept a double header from Chicago yesterday 3-2 and 14-7 to stay on the heels of the flying Milwaukee Braves.

• • •

The Braves continued their blistering early pace, overwhelming the Cincinnati Redlegs 15-0 and 6-1 to continue on top of the National League percentagewise but they still trail the Redbirds by a half game thanks to Dickson and Wehmeier.

Dickson made his first start in his new uniform Sunday and pitched six-hit ball for 8 2-3 innings. In the opener, Ellis Kinder disposed of the last batter to insure the first triumph of the season for Dickson. Wehmeier, working in relief, hurled two scoreless rounds in the nightcap as the Cards overcame a 5-0 deficit.

• • •

The fine pitching by the two veterans came simultaneously with a poor exhibition by Harvey Haddix, one of the three pitchers Cards General Manager Lane turned over to the Phillies. The other two are Ben Flowers and Stu Miller. Haddix was bombed by Pittsburgh for six runs in less than six innings as the Pirates came from behind to defeat Philadelphia 11-9 in the first game. The second game was suspended in the eighth inning because of Pennsylvania's Sunday 6 p.m. curfew law with the Phillies leading 6-2.

• • •

Brooklyn's Dodgers swept the three-game series with New York, defeating the Giants 6-4 to climb into third place past the Redlegs. Duke Snider clouted a pair of homers, one coming with the bases full, to drive in five runs.

New York and Cleveland, running one-two in the American League, were held to splits leaving the Yankees still one game in front of the Indians. Baltimore rebounded from an 11-2 thrashing to defeat the league leaders 5-1. Kansas City ended Cleveland's four-game winning streak with a 5-2 triumph behind the four-hit pitching of Art Ditmar but the Tribe roared back with a 9-4 second game victory.

• • •

Chicago, in third place, picked up a half game on the leaders, thrashing the Detroit Tigers 8-1 for Billy Pierce's fourth triumph. Boston, in fourth place, defeated Washington 5-3 to salvage the finale of its three-game set with the Senators.

Secrets of Better Golf

22nd of a Series
By PATTY BERG

Since the putting stroke is such a short swing, most players do not mentally break it down into backswing, contact and follow-through.

However, not only for the purpose of instruction but because it is essentially true, I am going to take the putting stroke apart and dwell only on the backswing in this lesson.

Your backswing in putting is determined by the distance of your putt. For a 50-footer you will naturally have to take the club back further than for a two-footer.

How do I determine the length of my backswing? This is the $64 question and can be answered only by experience and practice.

I suggest that the beginner start by practicing short putts from two to three feet out. From this point you can determine the length of your backswing and thus govern your longer putts accordingly.

There is no set rule which says you must take the club back three inches for a given length of a putt. The length of your backswing is a personalized part of your putting stroke.

The important thing to remember in taking the putter back is that it is a wrist-and-hand action. There is no body movement in this shot.

BACKSWING DETERMINED By DISTANCE OF PUTT

On the backswing, take the club back with the hands and wrists slowly and low to the green, never jerking or hurrying the stroke.

The left wrist should be almost straight at the top of the backswing. For a smooth action and stroke, the left wrist eases the club back to the ball.

The club head should be taken back low and smooth. The action of the backswing is slow in pace, with never a whippy or quick movement.

The head and eyes remain over the ball as at the address, and the action is a positive movement.

A controlled backswing results in better putting.

Softball Play Postponed

Rotary Installs Play Equipment

Merry-Go-Round Brings Joy to Handicapped Tots at Old Acres Home

ROCHESTER — Children at Old Acres, home and school for handicapped and retarded youngsters at 384 Predmore Rd. north of Rochester, are "entranced" with their new merry-go-round, according to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harding, owners and operators of the home.

The merry-go-round was installed and formally presented at the end of last week by the Rochester Rotary Club. Club members bought the playground equipment as a Christmas gift for the children, from personal donations of club members.

The merry-go-round was given to the children at a Christmas Party held by the Rotary Club last December, but installation was postponed until the beginning of outdoor play weather.

Making the formal presentation Thursday were Rotary President Edward Potere, Vice President Dr. John Tarry and Chairman Douglas Fraser.

The children immediately seized the new plaything and gleefully started it spinning with eager riders crowding it.

"It is a marvelous gift and will be a great aid for the children," said Harding, "We are deeply grateful to the Rotarians of Rochester."

The school was established four years ago as a home training school, teaching the children personal care, manners, social graces, in the atmosphere of a real home.

Ruins Give Up Woman, Baby

South Lyon Husband Leads Rescue Work to Dig Out Family

A mother and baby in their Lyon Township home were hurled through the air and then trapped under a mass of splintered ruins when a tornado dipped north of South Lyon Saturday evening.

Harlan Bryant, 25, with the aid of friends dug his wife, Oneta, 25, and son, Harlan Jr., four-weeks, out of the remains of their new, five-room home.

Two other homes on Martindale road, northeast of the city were destroyed when the twister struck at 6:20 p.m. No one was in them.

Mrs. Bryant was admitted to Northville Sessions Hospital for treatment for shock and severe lacerations. She is in good condition, as is the baby, who was admitted because of a severe cold.

Bryant and his mother, Olive, 50, were thrown from the house. They both received treatment for cuts.

Nearby, on Eleven Mile road, the twister went on to damage a barn on the Allen McCrory farm. Trees in his orchard were uprooted.

Further on, in the home of William McCrory, a farmer, windows were blown out. His barn and silo were demolished, with pieces scattered over the fields.

The tornado first dipped down on Pontiac Trail, north of the city, and flattened a small auto supply plant, newly built of concrete blocks.

Where the tornado did not touch ground, it left a trail of hailstones. Mrs. Stanley Potts said she had one hailstone the size of a baseball, saved in the icebox at her New Hudson home.

Quarles Orders Hatkin Be Given Work Devoid of Official Secrets

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new Air Force job with no access to official secrets today awaited Sidney Hatkin as the result of a 14-month fight to clear himself of security charges.

* * *

Hatkin also will receive more than $6,000 in back pay under Secretary of the Air Force Quarles' decision Saturday that it would be in the national interest to assign him as a statistical analyst in a nonsensitive position.

Hatkin welcomed his reinstatement as "like coming back from the living dead." His attorney Joseph H. Freehill said he would continue efforts to restore Hatkin to full cleared status so that he may handle "all classified material."

Hatkin, 40, father of two children, was suspended Feb. 28, 1955, from his $5,810-a-year post. Since then he has been awaiting the outcome of security charges that he had belonged to alleged Communist front organizations and had associated with persons associated with communism.

His case was pushed into the news spotlight nine days ago when former Sen. Harry P. Cain, without naming him, told of his being approached by a Russian Embassy clerk seeking information on the United States aircraft industry.

* * *

Hatkin later identified the man who sought him out as Vladimir P. Mikheev, a clerk on the Russian Embassy. Hatkin rejected Mikheev's approaches and reported the incident to the FBI.

The State Department is investigating.

Johnston told Soekarno he wantede to give a banquet for him when he visited Hollywood. Asked which guest he would like to have sit beside him, Soekarno reportedly replied without hesitation, "Ava Gardner."

Ava is living in Spain these days.

Linda Darnell Will Star in Upcoming Drango Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Jeff Chandler was as pleased as Punch when he called to say that he and Producer Hal Bartlett have signed Linda Darnell to co-star with him in "Drango." This is Jeff's first independent for U. A. release and he was quick to tell me, "It's no Indian story, let Cochise rest in peace."

"Drango" is a Civil War story and another interesting addition to the cast is Ronald Howard, son of the late Leslie Howard.

The very good looking Carlos Thompson, who has been in Europe making pictures, is off again to Mexico where he'll star in "Joaquin Murietta," the Mexican Robin Hood.

Linda Christian's sister, Ariaone Welter, who is doing very well in Mexico, plays opposite him, as well as another Mexican star named Rebecca Iturbide.

The very affable Russ Morgan, orchestra leader at the Cocoanut Grove, is getting many acting commitments. The amazing thing is that Russ never acted before he appeared with Jose Ferrer in "The Great Man," and music is no part of his acting. Now he goes into "Cary," the Tony Curtis picture, and plays a despicable character.

Nothing but luck for Fess ("Davy Crockett") Parker! From money he earned in his frontiersman role for Walt Disney, Fess invested in 400 acres of land near Fort Worth. His father, who is overseeing the property, has notified Fess that they've completed sinking their ninth oil well on the tract.

SNAPSHOTS AT RANDOM: Valerie French is back from London where she and Michael Pertwee planned to say au revoir to their marriage.

Good timing. Just as Duke Ellington and Hazel Scott went on the stage at the Flamingo in Las Vegas, praise agent Maxine Lewis became a grandmother for the second time. Her daughter is Mrs. Floyd Martin.

Although Johnnie Ray's operation was a success he'll have to use a cane when he opens in Philadelphia Wednesday.

All three Warner brothers, Harry, Albert and Jack, dined together at Perino's. After selling the studio for twenty million dollars they could afford it.

The composing room owes Elsa Martinelli an apology. The item should have read, "At the Villa Capri Elsa Martinelli and Sydney Chaplin breaking pizza pie together." Next item was: "Broadway actress Virginia McGuire and agent Dick Clayton will tie the knot this month." Instead, Virginia's name was eliminated and Elsa named as Dick's bride.

Film Star of '30s Receives Honor From UCLA

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Remember Evelyn Venable, the slender, lovely actress who often supplied the romantic interest in Will Rogers' movies of the '30s?

* * *

Her name today was on a list of 82 students at UCLA who were named to Phi Beta Kappa, the scholastic honor fraternity.

* * *

Now 42 and the wife of movie cameraman Hal Mohr, she attends classes at the big university with her two coed daughters. She won the coveted key for a major in Greek and Latin classics.

* * *

She retired at the height of her career to become a wife and mother. She explained why she went back to college:

* * *

"My daughters (Delores, 20, and Rosalia, 19) are grown now and I just decided to enter a new field—teaching. And besides the moment presented a perfect opportunity to pick up where I left off many years ago."

Boosted to 75 Centavos

Restaurateurs in Belem, Brazil, recently found it necessary to raise the price of a cup of coffee to 75 centavos. The increase involved the use of 5, 10 and 20 centavo pieces which are of little value and rarely carried, says the National Geographic Society.

But the cafe owners found a solution. They sell their coffee for a 50 centavo piece on even days of the month and for 100 centavos on odd days.

Calhern to Be Buried in Hollywood Grave

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The body of actor Louis Calhern, 61, will be cremated in Japan and his ashes returned here, his studio said today.

* * *

The Broadway and Hollywood star died Saturday night (Japan time) in Nara, a city about 300 miles from Tokyo. A heart attack caused death.

MGM said Calhern's family requested cremation. He is survived by his mother. The ashes will be buried in Hollywood Cemetery where his father, Eugene A. Vogt, is interred.

* * *

Calhern was in Japan for the filming of "Teahouse of the August Moon." He was cast in the role of the Colonel and, had he lived, would have shot his first scenes today.

No replacement has been made as yet.

Deputies Probe School Breakin, Two Attempts

Members of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department were investigating a school breakin and two attempts to enter stores over the weekend.

Mrs. Maude Kempf, principal at Willis School on Opdyke Road, reported that school had been entered sometime between Friday night and Saturday morning. She said the teachers' desks were ransacked in every room and that several student desks were emptied. She was unable to determine the losses.

The school breakin was discovered Saturday morning by children who saw the windows broken. Detectives said the person or persons had broken in through the fire escape door.

Double locks foiled would-be burglars at both stores. A window was smashed in the front door but it was not opened at 2685 Lapeer Rd., Waterford Township. A hole was made in a window at the rear of a hardware store in Pontiac Township but the door could not be unlocked. The latter store is located at 1960 Opdyke Road.

Two Hurt as Storm Knocks Out Light

A traffic light at the 15 Mile and Stevenson Highway intersection, partially put out of working order by the storm, was blamed for an accident Sunday.

* * *

Mrs. James McLaughlin of Detroit, and her 27-month-old daughter, Judith Ann, were bruised and jarred. Friends took them to their own doctor in Detroit.

Apparently realizing the light was out of order when only the red light was flashing, Edward Fick, 37, of Detroit, stopped and started up again, striking the car driven by James McLaughlin.

Fick told police he thought McLaughlin would be stopped by the light, but that McLaughlin drove through the amber flasher on the north-south sides of the light.

Old Soybeans Spurt Forward

CHICAGO (AP) — Old crop soybeans spurted around five cents at one time in an otherwise only steady grain market on the Board of Trade today

Buying in old crop soybeans was associated with early strength in soybean oil and soybean meal. Traders also felt there would be some additional export business in soybean oil within the near future.

In other grains the main feature was a lack of selling pressure. Some buying in wheat was attributed to lowered production prospects for the 1956 crop while feed grains staged a technical rally from last week's slump.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ⅜ lower, May $2.31¼; corn, ⅛ to ⅜ higher, May $1.50¼; oats, ⅛ to ¼ higher, May 66⅝; rye, unchanged to ¾ lower, May $1.27¼; soybeans ¼ lower to 4 higher, May $3.25; lower, May $1.27¼; soybeans ¼ lower to 4 higher, May $3.25; lard 5 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $13.35.

Higher Market Lacks Force

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was higher today, but the rise in the early afternoon lacked force.

* * *

Price changes spread from around 3 points higher to 2 points lower with plus signs dominating the list.

Trading was moderate at a pace around 2,500,000 shares for the day as compared with 2,450,000 shares Friday when the market was mixed.

Trading was on a selective basis which gave the list a rather ragged look all the time.

Higher were the oils, railroads and coppers. The motors were down. Mixed were the steels, chemicals and aircrafts.

The timid approach to the market was in part a reflection of advice by many brokerage houses to proceed cautiously.

* * *

Greyhound, active and higher last week, dropped back around a point today as the company reported lower first quarter earnings. The stock opened on 4,000 shares off ½ at 16⅝.

Loew's was popular at higher prices in early trading with a block of 20,000 shares up 1¼ at 24⅞ and a block of 7,000 at 25. It held its gain well.

* * *

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 50 cents at $188.40. The Friday session left the average unchanged. Last week the average had one of the worst drops of the year, the bulk of the selloff concentrated in the Thursday market. The market started the week near its record high level reached last April 6.

Flint Man Is Jailed in Homicide Charge

Andrew Vogt, 42, of 224 E. Court St., Flint, is being held in Oakland County Jail on the charge of negligent homicide. He failed to post $1,000 bond.

* * *

Vogt is alleged to have been the driver of a car involved in a May 6 accident in Waterford Township in which Umberto Gallerani of Flint was fatally injured.

Flint Hospital officials said death was caused by peritonitis following three intestinal ruptures. Gallerani had previously reported no injuries to Waterford police but was found to have a fractured vertebra after taken ill Sunday night.

* * *

The collision was part of a chain reaction accident on U.S. 10 at Williams Lake Road. Four cars were involved.

Sheriff's Deputies Probe Malicious Destruction

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department received reports of two incidents of malicious destruction today.

Chief among the incidents was a rock throwing episode in which an estimated $50 damage was done to a Dixie Highway home. Mrs. Freida Felt told investigators rocks had been thrown through both her storm and inside doors. Only minor damage was reported by an area gun club.

Revenue Answer to Plight of Independent TV Stations

U.S. Industry Spending $3 Million in Research

WASHINGTON, D.C. (INS)—The National Foundation reports that U.S. industry is currently spending upwards of $3.7 billion for research and development, of which America's aircraft industry contributes more than 20 per cent of the total.

Planes, official publication of the Aircraft Industries Assn., says the aircraft industry has to plow back an unusually large percentage of its profits into research and development to maintain world air superiority.

Passing Americana

KINGSTON, N. H. (AP)—There'll be a hot time in the old town. Kingston residents voted to tear down an old bandstand and use the lumber for a bonfire celebration.

Enraged Pakistani Raids Indian Display

KARACHI—In the tug-of-war between Pakistan and India to see who will get Kashmir, feeling ran high when India recently exhibited its products at the Industries Fair here.

* * *

The Indian booth was picketed by Pakistani who threw stones, breaking some glass panes and lamp shades, until police charged the picketers.

When the pickets, some of whom were students, gathered around the Indian exhibit they demanded either the removal or amendment of a map of India.

* * *

The map in the stall showed Jammu and Kashmir as parts of India. On ladies day at the fair, both pickets and visitors to the booth were women.

Fossils Are Essential

Coal, oil, and the limestone essential to steelmaking are all three of fossil origin, says the National Geographic Society. Coal is the accumulated, digested and compressed vegetable debris of swampy lands. Oil is decomposed plant and animal life from ancient sea basins. Limestone is an accumulation of the skeletons of marine invertebrates.

Jail Won't Take Him

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—A bootlegger was rebuffed when she showed up at the Tulsa County jail office to begin a jail sentence ordered 18 months ago. Jail officials said there has been a mixup in the files of the case, and they could not jail him without a court order.

Chinese Refugee Appeals for Help in Coming to U.S.

"I beg to inform you that my name is Wang Ven-Chine, male, aged 37 . . . in 1950 I fled from the China mainland to Hongkong's refugee section . . ."

Such was the substance of a recent appeal by a refugee from Communist terror for an American sponsor. The plea was made in a letter addressed "To the Chief of Editor, The Pontiac Press."

VEN-CHINE

Ven-Chine describes his profession as "Civil Engineering, agriculture & cooking," religious faith as Roman Catholic. Fluent in English, he hopes to become a citizen of the U.S.

He asks potential sponsors to address responses in care of the American Consulate in Hongkong or to the Telephone Building, Nathan Road; Corner of Cameron Road - Kowloon, Hongkong.

Amsterdam Now Fighting Against Canal Drainage

AMSTERDAM — This city, the "Venice of the North," is incensed as the proposal of its Police Chief H. A. J. G. Kaasjager, that some of its canals be drained.

* * *

The city's 9½ square miles of canals and 400 bridges have made traffic chaotic and about three cars a day have to be fished out of the water, often with bodies inside.

Over one third of this Dutch city, with nearly a million people living in an area of 23 square miles, is under water. The canals give Amsterdam an individual romantic beauty that is dear to its inhabitants, but they agree that traffic is terrible.

When it developed that the police chief's canal-draining suggestion had the approval of the City Council, local anger waxed stronger.

* * *

Such a storm resulted that the plan is considered dead, for the present at least.

California had a population gain of 18.1 per cent between April 1, 1950 and July 1, 1954.

New FCC Plan May Be Solution

Advertising Not Enough to Escape Dominance, Says Zenith Executive

CHICAGO—Independently owned TV stations can become independent of network domination only if they can secure adequate revenue without dependence upon network affiliation.

Experience has shown that they cannot do this by sale of local advertising. What they need is circulation revenue, so that they will not be dependent upon advertising for survival.

This revenue can come from subscription TV, now being considered by the FCC, which would enable them to present the new motion pictures and other top box office entertainment to the home audience for a fee, according to E. F. McDonald, president of Zenith Radio Corp.

SUBSCRIPTION TV

Continuing his comments on the topic, he said:

* * *

"Subscription TV would be good for every community where a TV station is technically possible, because it would make an economic success of local stations to serve as an outlet for local expression. It would benefit homebodies by giving them a wide assortment of top box office entertainment not now available on TV for a fraction of the cost of going outside the home to attend.

"NBC and CBS have such complete domination of TV advertising and top programming that they have the power of economic life or death over most independent stations.

"NBC or CBS affiliates that get a substantial amount of network advertising prosper; those without have a difficult time surviving. Many have failed, and more will follow.

NETWORKS CONTROL ALL

"Independently owned stations dance to the network tune. When networks have political fish to fry, affiliates trot down to Washington or buttonhole local politicians.

"The net result of this situation is to give the two men who control NBC and CBS almost absolute control of what is seen and heard on TV.

"TV has become a potent force. This two-man domination could very well cancel out the constitutional right of all citizens to hear and see all sides of an issue.

"A similar situation would never be tolerated by the daily press, where healthy competition assures full airing of all sides of controversial questions."

Educator Blasts Sports Program in New Mexico

SILVER CITY, N.M. (INS)—A serious criticism of varsity sports in New Mexico has been raised by Dr. Armond Seidler, Chairman of the Dept. of Health and Physical Education at Highlands University.

* * *

"The mania for varsity sports is threatening the regular physical education program in the New Mexico public schools today," Dr. Seidler told principals and school superintendents and civic leaders during a one-day institute in physical education and recreation at the New Mexico Western College campus.

* * *

He declared that too many coaches are hired to do nothing but coach and he said they let regular physical education classes slip by.

"Coaches are so intent upon winning that they lose the entire purpose of competitive sports, and that is the teaching of leadership," Dr. Seidler said.

Accidental Job Deaths Claim 14,200 Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell said today that thirds of the nearly two million job accidents recorded last year could have been prevented through greater safety efforts.

The accidents resulted in 14,200 deaths, he said.

* * *

Mitchell's remarks were prepared for the opening session of President Eisenhower's three-day Conference on Occupational Safety. Eisenhower also was due to address the more than 2,000 business, labor and farm leaders.

Briton's Commie Leader Resigns

Staunch Stalin Admirer Turns Over Leadership After 27 Years

LONDON (AP) — Britain's No. 1 Communist, Harry Pollitt, has taken a back seat in the party he ran for 27 years.

Pollitt, bluff 65-year-old Lancashireman and long-time revolutionary, announced he had quit the top party post of general secretary because of ill health. Party associates said he had been suffering from a slipped vertebral disc since an accident six years ago.

ADMIRED STALIN

But Pollitt had been a staunch admirer of Joseph Stalin. Most observers figured he was another casualty in the Kremlin's campaign to lessen the standing of the late dictator and his staunch adherents.

The British party's executive committee named a comparative unknown, 45-year-old John Gollan, to succeed Pollitt. A former assistant editor of the Daily Worker, Gollan has been national organizer for the party since November 1954.

• • •

Pollitt did not step out entirely, instead remaining as chairman of the Executive Committee. The committee meeting which gave the old boss his release also named William Gallacher, a former member of parliament, as president of the British party.
