of past wars and to pledge full support of today's men and women who are continuing the struggle for freedom and peace for which so many have fought and died.

This is the fourth consecutive year for the wreath-laying ceremony in Pontiac.

The observance of Veterans Day originated in 1918 as Armistice Day, designated to celebrate the end of hostilities in World War I. In 1954, the name was changed to Veterans Day to include the servicemen who fought in World War II and Korea. Today, Vietnam is also encompassed.

A Legion spokesman commented: "This day has been changed from Armistice Day to Veterans' Day because now we honor all of the men who have given so much so that our country will always be free."

Veterans Day Observances
Focus on Viet Servicemen

By The Associated Press

Veterans Day observances focus on the servicemen in Vietnam as the nation pays tribute with parades and speeches to the men and women who have served in her armed forces.

President Johnson continues his inspection tour of defense facilities to coincide with observance of the legal holiday.

In Washington, in the President's absence, Deputy Secretary of Defense Paul Nitze is the principal speaker at Arlington National Cemetery, with many veterans groups on hand.

However, the Veterans of Foreign Wars voted to boycott the observance to protest a Pentagon order that burials be restricted in Arlington because of the possibility the cemetery may run out of space.

Detroit readied its biggest parade ever, with American Legion officials prepared for a large turnout due to the Vietnam war "and the growing number of people who support our fighting men."

PASS OUT SOAP

Some dissenters against the war began demonstrations yesterday. In Nashville, Tenn., about 40 bearded pickets passed out statements protesting the war, and were handed bars of soap by some 100 students on the Vanderbilt University campus.

The demonstrators were protesting napalm making by Dow-Corning Co., which had recruited on the campus. The soap was accompanied by a card reading, "This is a product of Dow-Corning. Use it."

At Johnstown, Pa., a flag goes up in 1918 as Armistice Day, designated to celebrate the end of hostilities in World War I. In 1954, the name was changed to Veterans Day to include the servicemen who fought in World War II and Korea. Today, Vietnam is also encompassed.

above Sandvick Cemetery, to fly there day and night until the Vietnam war ends. A city official termed the flag "Johnstown's answer to the un-American demonstrations that erupted this year."

At Omaha, Neb., both pro and anti-Vietnam war demonstrators held ceremonies. At Creighton University last night, services in the campus church were led by the Rev. Richard Spillane, S.J., a Marine veteran of the South Pacific in World War II.

STAND AS HEROES

Of the 14,000 men killed in Vietnam, Spillane said, "they stand as heroes to those who knew and loved them."

New York City's five boroughs stage separate observances, with American Legionnaires stepping along in the traditional parade route down Manhattan's Fifth Avenue. Several antiwar groups hold demonstrations.

In San Francisco, the big downtown parade ending at City Hall features units of the armed forces.

In Los Angeles, Mayor Samuel W. Yorty is the keynote speaker at the eighth annual international Sacred Torch ceremony in Hollywood Hills.

'Troop Cuts Possible?'

BONN, Germany (AP) — A West German newspaper today quoted Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara as saying the United States does not favor reducing the military capacity of the allies in Europe but that this does not mean U.S. military manpower here will remain unchanged.

LBJ Bid to Hanoi:
Talk Peace at Sea

ABOARD USS ENTERPRISE — President Johnson, marking veterans day aboard a carrier at sea, challenged Hanoi today to meet with American representatives aboard a neutral ship on a neutral sea to talk peace.

Johnson, addressing the ship's company at a special holiday ceremony on the flight deck of the big Enterprise, steaming just off San Diego Harbor, also seemed optimistic about prospects for ending the war.

"How many nights must we suffer the nightmare of war?" he asked, and went on to supply these replies:

"Not long . . . not many more nights . . . not while we stand as one family, one nation, united in one purpose." This was no dream, the President said, but was "courage and conviction talking."

Johnson, then aiming his words directly at Hanoi, said:

"You force us to fight but you have only to say the word for our quarrel to be buried beneath the waves."

Promising that U.S. officials "will press the search for peace to the corners of our earth," Johnson said "that meeting ground could even be the sea."

The President said that "for us, the war room could readily be a conference room" and went on to suggest that "a neutral ship on a neutral sea would be as good a meeting place as any."

Johnson also suggested that any Vietnam settlement must be built on the two central principles of the Atlantic Charter to which Franklin D. Roosevelt and Winston Churchill agreed in 1941:

"First, there shall be no territorial changes that do not accord with the freely expressed will of the people concerned."

"Second, all nations must have the right to dwell in safety within their own boundaries, living their lives in freedom from fear and want."

While the President was speaking about a permanent peace for Vietnam, South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu today indicated there would be at least a temporary respite from the fighting by saying that his government would observe cease fires on Christmas and probably New Year's and the Vietnamese New Year next February.

3 Captive GIs
Released by VC,
But to Whom?

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — The Vietcong "symbolically" turned over three captured U.S. sergeants to an American antiwar activist today, and a U.S. document said the men had been through Communist brainwashing programs.

The men gave an apparently memorized statement of thanks to the Vietcong and to Tom Hayden, who said he represented a peace committee led by Dr. Martin Luther King, folk singer Joan Baez and Dr. Benjamin Spock.

But Hayden said after the ceremonies that the prisoners were not in his custody. He said they were taken away in a car, but he would not say where.

Asked if the men were free, Hayden said, "I believe so."

"They are in the process of going home," he said. He added he would see them later in the day.

DEFECTOR INTERVIEWED

The U.S. document concerning brainwashing was released by American officials in Saigon. In it, Donald Roehlen, a psychological warfare adviser to the South Vietnamese government, told of an interview with a red defector who said he personally took part in indoctrination of two of the prisoners.

Release of the document followed the elaborately staged "release ceremony" at which the Vietcong said they hoped the sergeants would "contribute usefully" to the antiwar movement.

At a news conference reminiscent of similar situations in the Korean war, two of three prisoners recited brief statements thanking Hayden and their captors. Then, blinking under television lights, they sat virtually motionless through 40 minutes of propaganda oratory.

The two were Sgt. Daniel Lee Pitzer of Spring Lake, N.C., and Sgt. James E. Jackson Jr. of Talcott, W. Va. The third American, Sgt. Edward R. Johnson of Seaside, Calif., was said by the Vietcong to be in the next room, too sick with dysentery to appear. But no outsiders saw him.

The Vietcong announced last Friday the Americans would be returned to their families.

Pontiac Woman Held in Slaying

Held for investigation of murder is Mary E. Lewis of 87 S. Marshall.

Police officers said her husband, Willie, 45, was shot once in the chest about 9:30 p.m. and died about 4:15 a.m. today following surgery in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

A witness told police that just before the incident, Mrs. Lewis was on the living room floor and the victim seated in a chair nearby examining a pistol.

Lewis reportedly put the weapon on the floor and kicked it over to his wife,

Apollo 4 Moon Ship
Heading for Hawaii

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Apollo 4, the unmanned moon ship that rode America's maiden Saturn 5 super-rocket deep into space, yesterday headed toward Hawaii as jubilant flight controllers began assessing streams of data collected on its 8½-hour mission.

The cone-shaped spacecraft, its heat shield charcoal black in places from a fiery

25,000 mile-an-hour reentry through earth's atmosphere, was pronounced "in very good shape" as it rode aboard its prime recovery ship toward Pearl Harbor.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesmen said the capsule was expected to arrive at the port late today and remain there for about three days until technicians deactivate electrical systems and steering rockets.

From there, it was to be trucked to Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii, and flown to Long Beach, Calif., near its final destination at the Downey, Calif., plant of North American Rockwell Corp., prime spacecraft contractor. Apollo 4 was expected to arrive at Downey late next week.

Space agency officials said enough data was collected during the triumphant first flight of the towering Saturn 5 and its Apollo moon ship payload to fill an encyclopedia during each minute of its eight-hour, 36-minute mission.

Meanwhile, in the Soviet Union, Izvestia yesterday reported briefly and without editorial comment on America's space feat, failing to mention that the Saturn booster is the world's largest rocket.

The 363-foot-tall Saturn 5, heaviest and most powerful vehicle to ever fly, lofted the unmanned moon ship 11,234 miles into space Thursday. From this altitude, Apollo 4 dived at 25,000 miles an hour — the speed astronauts will travel when returning to earth from the moon — to a bullseye landing, about 520 miles north of Hawaii.

Tax Hike Unlikely for 1967;
LBJ to Press Issue in 1968

WASHINGTON — Senate majority Leader Mike Mansfield conceded yesterday that Congress probably will not increase income taxes this year, but said President Johnson undoubtedly will press the issue in 1968 "when it will be far worse" in terms of dollars and of politics.

The Montana Democrat said a tax increase request next year might have to be larger than the $7 billion the President now seeks — and the question will be even more troublesome in an election year.

Johnson seeks a 10 per cent income tax surcharge to combat inflation and help pay for the Vietnam war. But the measure is locked in the House Ways and Means Committee, and appears likely to remain there.

"He hasn't given up," Mansfield said

of the President. "He's still trying to get it, but with every passing day the odds climb against him."

"If we don't face up to it this year, we'll have to do it next year when it will be far worse," he said. "It may well be a bigger tax increase."

DEPENDS ON CUT

The size of a 1968 tax bill, Mansfield said, would depend on the amount of money Johnson and Congress can cut from federal spending.

That is a key issue in the Ways and Means Committee, which originates all tax legislation. Its members are talking in terms of a spending cut of $5 billion to $10 billion as the price for action on tax boost.

"I'm worried about this economic situation," Mansfield said in an interview. He said inflation this year will be the cost of living by about 3.1 per cent.

But acknowledging that prospects for action now are dim, Mansfield said: "I think the members have their minds pretty well made up."

"I still think a tax increase is necessary," he added.

New Front Seen Developing in Viet

SAIGON (AP) — High U.S. military officials believe more hard fighting is ahead along the demilitarized zone that divides Vietnam, and that a new "live front" may be developing in the central highlands.

But they do not think the enemy can maintain the aggressiveness that has been demonstrated in a series of battles across the country in recent weeks.

Gunman Kills 3 in Restaurant

NEW YORK (AP) — A calm, bespectacled executive stepped quietly into an Italian-American restaurant in Queens last night and shot three men dead with methodical bursts from a submachine gun.

Then, as some 15 to 25 other customers crouched in terror, the killer wheeled without a word and walked back out the rear door. His victims were left sprawled face down on the floor.

Police identified them as Thomas D'Angelo, 54, his brother James, 60, and Frank Terrell, 43. Capt. Thomas Madden of the Queens detectives said that all had criminal records.

There was speculation the slayings stemmed from professional friction. "It was a professional job," commented Madden. The gunman knew who he was after and he got them.

The quiet Queens neighborhood of Ridgewood has been the scene of a number of recent shootings being investigated by U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau.

As the killings were reconstructed, police said Thomas D'Angelo and Terrell were seated at a table eating real parmigiana and drinking white wine. James D'Angelo entered the front door to join them.

At the same time the killer, about 5 feet 4, 180 pounds and 45 years old entered from the rear wearing a black raincoat and black fedora. He strode silently toward the table.

Witnesses said the man apparently realized the danger for they jumped up but the gunman pulled his automatic weapon from beneath his coat and began firing.

Three of the 20 to 25 bullets went astray, piercing gold fiber-glass curtains and the front window. Most of the slugs hit the victims in the chest. They died when police arrived.

Thomas D'Angelo still clutched his table napkin as he lay next to the room divider topped by a row of white plastic chrysanthemums.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Scattered showers are forecast tonight for large areas along the North Atlantic Coast, throughout the Tennessee Valley, along the Gulf Coast and in the Pacific Northwest. Cooler temperatures are expected over the Great Lakes region, throughout the Midwest and in the northern Rockies. Milder temperatures are expected along the South Atlantic Coast.

The outlook for American military forces in the coming months is to "accentuate the progressive pressure" that they have had the capability of putting on the enemy for more than a year, officials said today.

Before that, much of the American effort was devoted to building a logistics system and physical infrastructure.

When the U.S. buildup began in South Vietnam early in 1965, out of every two men, one was required for a support role, the officials said. In the coming months, they expect one out of every five men to be in a support role.

On the basis of information from captured documents, prisoners and other intelligence reports, these officials said the Communists had "very ambitious" plans for a north-to-south movement across the country beginning last spring. They said this plan was disrupted by U.S. offensive operations that included the swift shifting of some units from the 2nd and 3rd Corps areas into the central highlands, where the U.S. 4th Infantry Division and the 173rd Airborne Brigade have been in repeated clashes since Nov. 3, was termed a region that may be a "live front."

Asked why the Communists were demonstrating a new aggressiveness recently in the face of the allied buildup and continuous pounding of air and artillery, officials cited these points:

—The enemy was having trouble in areas he controlled.

—There has been a decline in enemy strength, (some estimates put this at a 40,000-man drop from the 297,000 total reported weekly by the U.S. military command.)

A decline in enemy morale and effectiveness.

—Failure of enemy operations.

—Political defeats.

Noting that the Communists relate military action to political objectives, the officials said the enemy decided something had to be done to counter the South Vietnamese elections and inauguration of a new government Oct. 31.

They said the recent fighting at the Ninth, 72 miles north of Saigon, and the current action in the highlands resulted directly from this decision.

Area Man, 24, Charged With Wife's Murder

A 24-year-old truck driver will be arraigned today on a first-degree murder charge in the gunshot slaying of his wife in their Farmington Township home yesterday.

In custody in the township jail is Steven Ponting of 33949 Rhonewood, according to police.

Ponting was arrested at a private home about 11 p.m. yesterday, some seven hours after his wife, Mary Ann, 23, was found dead by the couple's 4-year-old daughter, police said.

Farmington Township Police Chief Irving Yakes said Ponting had contacted his department last night and arranged to meet with Yakes and a detective at the Township home.

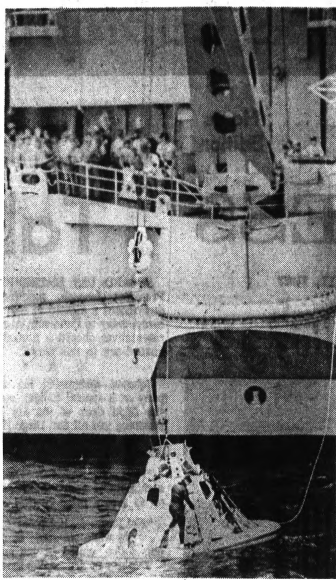

Yakes said a 38-caliber pistol was impounded at that time.

DAUGHTER'S DISCOVERY
Yakes said the Ponting's daughter ran to a nearby house after discovering her mother's body about 4 p.m.

Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor John I. Bain said an autopsy was scheduled at Pontiac St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Preliminary indications were that Mrs. Ponting had been shot two or three times, he said.

The couple had one other child, a 13-month-old boy.

MOON SHIP AWAITS PICKUP—The Apollo 4 moon ship rests in the Pacific Ocean awaiting hook-up to a big crane aboard the carrier USS Bennington. The unmanned spacecraft landed about 275 miles northeast of Midway Island yesterday in a heat-shield test which was termed "highly successful" by National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials.

Annexing Vote Set, Airport Plan Okayed

The County Board of Supervisors yesterday set elections in Commerce Township on an annexation issue and accepted a new master plan for the Pontiac-Oakland Airport.

Five separate areas in Commerce Township will vote Jan. 16 on whether they will consent to be annexed to the city of Wall Lake.

About six square miles of the township and about 1 1/2 square miles of Wolverine Village (about one-third total area) will be considered.

In accepting the master plan for the county airport, the way was cleared for expansion and improvements that will cost an estimated $4.5 million.

Matching funds from state and federal sources are available and could mean as much as 50 to 75 per cent of some phases of the project. The exact amount of aid is not known at this time, it was pointed out.

MAJOR FACTOR
A major factor in the new master plan is the announced intention of "not" building a north-south runway.

This plan was posed in the original 1963 plan and since then property owners adjacent to the airport, near Williams Lake Road and M59 in Waterford Township, have been restricted as to use and development of their land.

Development of the airport will be concentrated on lengthening the large east-west runway to 6,200 feet.

The figure of $2.5 million was used, but it was also indicated the owner might go lower.

It was also indicated by an official of the Michigan Aeronautics Commission that state aid in the purchase would probably be forthcoming if applied for.

PLANE RELOCATION
This would mean the 145 planes, most of them belonging to area businesses, would have to relocate. This would further crowd, already overcrowded county fields, it was pointed out.

By DON BRAUNAGEL
"John Gabriel Borkman," Meadow Brook Theatre's second production of the season, is a powerful but depressing play with a simple moral: Be true to yourself.

Henrik Ibsen's great tragedy, the last of his completed plays, focuses on three persons who destroy their lives by self-deception.

Eric Berly, who directed this season's first production, "The Importance of Being Earnest," has the title role, an ex-lyceum whose ambitions of great power were shattered when he was imprisoned for speculating with bank funds.

He spends his time pacing around the upper of his home, refusing to believe he has done wrong and dreaming that he will be returned to his former prominence.

Berry handles the role well, although he sometimes makes Borkman overly pompous.

Leora Dana, new to the John Fernald Company this season, adds a second outstanding performance as Borkman's wife, who rejects him after his crime and turns

News Briefs at a Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Development of an arsenal of nondeadly supplementary weapons — including a device to fire jelly blobs to cause rioters to literally stick together — has been recommended to police forces by a government study. The report study was prepared by the Institute for Defense Analyses for the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice.

General to Join Talks

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in South Vietnam, will join other top-level U.S. officials for talks with President Johnson in Washington next week, it was learned today. A military spokesman said Westmoreland would be in the United States less than a week and that he would confer with the joint chiefs of staff and "will be available to the President."

Father Is Arraigned

DETROIT (AP) — A young father was arraigned yesterday on a charge of beating his 3-month old daughter to death. His wife told police he appeared to be under the influence of drugs when the child was injured. Ronald D. Pickard, 19, of Detroit, stood mute at the arraignment and Recorder's Court Judge Richard D. Dunn entered a plea of innocent for the record.

Art Buyer Can't Pay

NEW YORK (AP) — An art buyer, through his attorney, says he's "sorry" but he can't pay for 10 paintings on which he successfully bid $467,775 at the Parke-Bernet Galleries last Oct. 26. The buyer was identified as Hunter Galowitz, who resides in midtown Manhattan. He was a "mystery" bidder, unknown to art auctioneers and dealers, but no questions were asked until recently, when payment was not made to the gallery.

De Gaulle at Ceremony

PARIS (AP) — President Charles de Gaulle paid an Armistice Day wreath today at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier under the Arch of Triumph.

Pay Talks Progress Little

DETROIT (AP) — Proposals were exchanged but little progress was made yesterday in negotiations to end the prolonged salary dispute in Birmingham schools, the negotiators reported. Bargainers agreed not to make public details of the proposals.

Auto Pact OK Likely

DETROIT (AP) — The national Chrysler council of the United Auto Workers Union was expected to give routine approval today to a new three-year contract between the union and the No. 3 auto maker. The UAW's international executive board last night unanimously recommended approval of the new pact, which covers hourly-rated workers in the United States.

I Dead in Carrier Fire

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) — Fire raged for nearly six hours below deck on the British aircraft carrier Victorious in drydock today and the Defense Ministry said one crewman was killed. The vessel was being refitted and half her normal 2,000-man crew was aboard.

State Layoffs Likely

LANSING (UPI) — Widespread layoffs of state workers moved from possible to probable yesterday as the House of Representatives approved little more than half the money Gov. George Romney says is needed to meet the cost of Civil Service pay raises.

Actress Is Recovering

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Academy Award winning actress Jennifer Jones, found unconscious and apparently not breathing in the surf at Malibu Thursday night, was reported recovering at a hospital today. Deputies said footprints indicated she may have slipped on a rock 100 feet as she walked down a cliff toward the beach.

Inner-City Pair to End Human Relations Series

BIRMINGHAM — Two residents of Detroit's inner-city area, Sheila Murphy and Kenneth Cockrel, will speak next Thursday to residents here at the Birmingham Community House at 8:30 p.m.

Entitled "From the Inside Looking Out," their talk is the fifth and final one in a series sponsored by the Birmingham-Bloomfield Council on Human Relations.

Miss Murphy, 19, a Wayne State University student, is associated with the Catholic Worker movement and also works with the West Central Organization.

'68 Plans Seen for McCarthy

By the Associated Press
A Michigan politician says Sen. Eugene McCarthy has told other Democrats he will announce next month whether he will oppose President Johnson for the party nomination.

Meanwhile, McCarthy, who says he is testing Democratic opposition to Johnson's war policy in four key states, told a Democratic dinner in Ann Arbor, Mich., that Democrats should "beware of false appeals for unity" on the war and that "it may be necessary for a confrontation in presidential politics."

The President repeatedly sounded unity appeals Friday on his continent-spanning Veterans Day weekend tour of military bases.

McCarthy, a 51-year-old Minnesota, told a reporter in St. Paul that published reports he has already decided to enter presidential preference primaries in Wisconsin, California, Massachusetts and New Hampshire are unfounded.

COMMITTEE FORMED
But in Ann Arbor, shortly before McCarthy made his speech, James A. Harrison, former head of public relations for the Michigan Democratic party, announced he has formed a "McCarthy for President" committee and added that McCarthy had told Democratic supporters he will not discourage such booster efforts.

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. paratroopers and dug-in North Vietnamese troops clashed fiercely today in a battle that left 18 Americans and 98 Communist troops dead in the ninth day of fighting near Dak To in the central highlands.

The U.S. Command reported 98 paratroopers, from the 173rd Airborne Brigade, also were wounded in the day-long engagement.

Communists ambushed a U.S. armor convoy in the same sector and killed five Army engineers and wounded seven in a 15-minute fight. The engineers called in artillery support and 13 of the enemy died under the counterfire.

A Junior Editors Quiz About Chow Dog

A CHOWCHOW DOG—

— AND A SAILING SHIP—

QUESTION: Why is a certain dog called a chow?

ANSWER: The chow, one of the oldest dog breeds, is believed to have originated in China.

Their large heads with the heavy ruff of hair makes them look like miniature lions and their blue-black tongues are also distinctive: Chows are muscular, with beautiful coats.

When the outside world began to trade with China, sailing captains brought back many unusual things from the East. When the English and Americans traded with the Chinese, both parties spoke in pidgin-English, a simplified version of the English language.

The word chow meant food, but chow-chow referred to any oddity a captain might want to bring home for sale.

The lion-headed dogs were one of the most desirable imports. After a while, people named them chowchow dogs. Ultimately, this name was shortened to chow.

Wider Use of Atom Labs Urged

By Science Service

CHICAGO — A California nuclear engineer has urged against permitting the Atomic Energy Commission's massive laboratory complex to fall into disuse.

The national laboratories, operated by private industry for AEC, have a body of expertise to offer and should be exploited by other government agencies, Dean Chauncey Starr of the University of California at Los Angeles said at a meeting here of the Atomic Industrial Forum.

Dean Starr didn't say it in so many words, but there is a fear in some circles that the laboratories that developed the nation's atomic sophistication — a major national resource — may disintegrate under disuse, losing their best people — and jobs they continue to get new jobs to do.

Oak Ridge National Laboratories, under director Dr. Alvin Weinberg, for instance, have recently branched out into biomedical and other fields in an effort to keep his installation vital.

Particularly agencies such as the new departments of Transportation and Housing and Urban Development could well use the expertise development over the years by the various national laboratories supported up to now by AEC funds.

NEW TECHNOLOGY

Dr. Starr said the AEC is unique in its fostering of development of a new technology — nuclear power — to be used primarily by private industry.

Now that nuclear power is coming of age, he said, the AEC's role is changing to more of a regulatory function.

"The national laboratories are a public asset," he said, and as the AEC shifts from its development role, the laboratories should use their great versatility to solve other government problems.

Dr. Starr said one obstacle to wider use of AEC — supported laboratories by other agencies is that government bureaucrats don't like to contract with any laboratory they don't dominate. Another is that Congress has its own internal rivalries, which inhibit spending one agency's money in another's bailiwick.

But the AEC has developed a versatile network of industry-run laboratories that have handled everything from desalination to the biological effects of radiation on humans, and Dr. Starr thinks they should be kept in business by any agency that has a problem.

Apollo Chief Credits the Team

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. — The greatest rocket ever launched had just achieved one of the most significant advances in the space age. The man who directed the effort commented, "I was impressed."

Succinct comments like this are typical of Air Force Maj. Gen. Samuel C. Phillips, who manages America's Apollo mission to the moon program.

Rather than try to focus attention on himself, he'd rather emphasize the team effort in talking about major achievements such as that recorded Thursday by the Saturn 5 superrocket.

"This was, I believe," Phillips said, "the most powerful rocket, perhaps the most powerful machine in terms of energy per second, that's ever performed. And you could almost feel the power of the launch team during the night and on through the early morning hours in the last minutes and seconds of that countdown."

'SMOOTH TEAMWORK'

"I've been through a lot of countdowns on rockets. I've been in various positions in various launch operations over the years, and I was tremendously impressed with the smooth teamwork that this combined government-industry team put together. It was smooth, it was professional, it was confident, it was perfect in every respect."

Phillips has had a long record in research and development and rocketry.

Born in Arizona in 1921, Phillips grew up in Cheyenne, Wyo. In 1942, he earned a degree in engineering from the University of Wyoming. Following two 8th Air Force tours in Europe during World War II, he received a master of science degree in electrical engineering at the University of Michigan.

His specialty in electronics eventually led him to a position as chief of logistics for the Strategic Air Command's 7th Air Division in England.

FIRST TASTE

In this position he had his first taste of rocketry, helping write the international agreement with Great Britain that permitted basing of U.S. Thor missiles in that country.

In 1959 he was assigned to the Air Force ballistic missiles division, as director of the Minuteman intercontinental range ballistic missile program.

His organizational ability attracted the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and in 1964, he joined NASA as deputy director of the budding Apollo project. Nine months later he was director of the program.

As program director, he has ramrodded many tough management changes throughout both NASA and its Apollo industrial contractors.

TOUGH MOMENT

He had one of his toughest moments last Jan. 28, when he was the first NASA official to face the press after the Apollo 1 fire that killed three astronauts.

During the congressional hearings on Apollo 1, it was disclosed that Phillips had written a strong letter to North American Aviation Corp., the main Apollo spacecraft contractor. The letter was critical of North American management and technical personnel, for work on both the Apollo spacecraft and the second stage of the Saturn 5.

Phillips said there was nothing unusual about such a letter, that they were part of government-contractor relations.

Since the fire he has been instrumental in resigning North American and NASA management. The payoff came Thursday when the Saturn 5 ran through its flawless paces.

Scattered Elections Give GOP Edge

There were many significant results in the off-year elections that ranged from New England to San Francisco. Topping them was the election for the first time of Negroes to majority office in two large cities.

Democrat CARL B. STOKES became Cleveland's first Negro mayor by a narrow margin, while another Negro Democrat, RICHARD G. HATCHER, won similar distinction in Gary, Ind., by an equally slim plurality.

In Boston's race-tinged City Hall contest, voters rejected the backslash-oriented campaign of LOUISE DAY HICKS in favor of KEVIN H. WHITE, Massachusetts' secretary of state.

Although Democrats retained the mayor's office in Baltimore and retained it in Philadelphia, they suffered a sharp upset in Hartford, the home town of Democratic National Chairman John Bailey, where Ann Uccello became the first woman mayor in the city's history.

Another election "first" since Reconstruction was won by a Negro in Mississippi where ROBERT G. CLARK was elected to the state legislature.

In Kentucky, the GOP elected its first governor in 20 years and scored a signal victory in New Jersey by wresting control of the state legislature which the Democrats had held by a 2 to 1 margin.

By winning Kentucky's statehouse, Republicans now hold governor's offices in 26 of the 50 states, representing 304 electoral votes—34 more than needed to elect the next president.

The war issue appeared on the ballot in San Francisco, where a cease fire and U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam proposal went down to resounding defeat.

Closer to home, Dearborn's incumbent mayor, ORVILLE J. HUBBARD, set a national record by his smashing re-election to a 13th straight term.

In area elections, incumbent JOHN ROEPER and WILLIS BREWER were elected to the Sylvan Lake city council, while SYLVESTER F. LEAHY was re-elected mayor of Orchard Lake and DAVID A. BRADBURY was chosen for a council post.

A rezoning proposal won in Orchard Lake as did bond issues in Birmingham and Lapeer County for construction of a parking lot facility and a convalescent hospital respectively.

Thus was heard the voice of America at the polls. On balance, the Republicans came out ahead, leading Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss to assert "that the upsurge in GOP strength which began in 1966 is continuing."

Challenging Outlook for U.S. Agriculture

It is estimated that in the United States there are some 682 million acres of land in the 48 contiguous states suitable for cultivation. Present population forecasts indicate this area will have to provide living space as well as produce the food for 100 million more Americans by the year 2000—half again the present population.

The possibilities for agricultural advancement are great. For example, the farms which some experts envisage by that date may be mechanized beyond our present comprehension.

The farmer in an air-conditioned office may run his operation with the aid of a centrally-located computer operated from a keyboard on his desk. This will bring scientific precision to decisions concerning what kind of seed to sow, how many acres should be devoted to which crops, what kind and quantity of fertilizer and pesticide chemicals should be applied and exactly which day to harvest what crop.

Land grading and contouring will be far advanced to control erosion and utilize water most effectively. Full-scale cooperation between industry, private agriculture and government, it is thought, could double and triple present-day crop production per acre in many cases.

The potential to achieve these advances exists today in the United States and must be fully utilized. U.S. agriculture has a twofold mission. It must grow the food to sustain our own expanding population and help meet food deficits around the world. It must also continue to serve as a spawning ground for advanced land use technology and export this knowledge for use in other countries.

The peace of the world and the future of mankind may depend on the success of this undertaking.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOOD IISHMAEL

Major Frank J. Self has served his country in the Army, Navy and now the Air Force. Wherever stationed he has also served his God, working with missionaries in Japan, with the underprivileged in Washington, D.C., and now as a lay minister of a small church near his present base at Randolph field in Texas. Possessing a master's degree, he has taught school between military tours.

The rare and profound faith that has enabled him to do all this is the more remarkable in that Major Self is an American Indian. Educated through his eighth grade in the Goodland Presbyterian Children's Home, an Indian orphanage at Hugo, Okla., he went on to Haskell Institute, an Indian boarding school. At 16 he ran away from Haskell and became a wanderer because of a shoulder injury had destroyed his dream of an athletic career.

His experiences in the Army and Navy in World War II convinced him that education and service were keys to a fulfilled life. So he finished high school and went on to college.

When Major Self retires from military service next year he will continue his lay ministry and his teaching with the hope of some day going to theological seminary.

Confident Living:

Strength Withstands the Storm

By NORMAN V. PEALE
Storms bring out eagles; little birds take to cover. Little men try to run from storms and sometimes are smashed by them. But big men ride storms to better things. When things get too soft, it may seem just fine but all the time you are softening. And then trouble begins. Ever hear of the Penobscot sea gulls from down East in Maine? They live in rocky coves of Penobscot Bay and are said to be the most beautiful sea gulls in the world.

DR. PEALE

The aerodynamics of their flight—side-slipping and wheeling downward—is something to behold. And they have always been pretty smart gulls. They teach their young to forage their own food and be strong self-reliant sea gulls like their forefathers. They really are tough birds.

Verbal Orchids

James Lewis Hill of 6320 Hatchery Road; 89th birthday.
Mr. and Mrs. Marion Perigo of Ortonville; 65th wedding anniversary.
Bert Hilton of Cranberry Lake; 91st birthday.
Mrs. Sarah Bowman of West Bloomfield Township; 85th birthday.
Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Chappell of 21 Stephens; 52nd wedding anniversary.
Carl Gasking of 1027 Boston; 82nd birthday.
Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Richardson of Santa Susana, Calif.; formerly of Pontiac; 57th wedding anniversary.
Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sabell of 470 W. Walton; 58th wedding anniversary.

It seems that every winter these sea gulls go to Florida for food. According to the story I heard, a small once struck the Penobscot gulls in migration forcing them off course and down on Conch Island near St. Augustine. There they were made welcome by hospitable southern sea gulls.

Next morning the visitors from Maine expected to be invited to their hosts' fishing grounds where they could test their mettle in the struggle for food. But the native sea gulls didn't move. Instead they just sat around indolently waiting.

Then presently calling their northern visitors to join them, they flapped into the air and came down a hundred yards away around a fleet of shrimp boats where they gorged themselves on scraps of fish and shrimp thrown overboard.

The down-East gulls were amazed and delighted. Never had they known anything like this. Imagine it! Food without work! It appeared to them laziness which apparently is in birds same as in men.

When summer came the flock of northern sea gulls did not fly back to Maine but sat indolently on Conch Island and grew fat, almost too fat to fly.

Then the fishing fleet went away and the softened up gulls did not know what to do. They began to have it real rough. The young had not been taught to seek and struggle for their own food. Their plaintive cries brought no help and many died of starvation.

Well, it seems that men, no less than sea gulls, need to grapple with difficulties to condition them for survival in this world. A really smart person never gets to a point where he is unwilling to go out and struggle.

If you are having rough going don't whine and whimper. Instead cultivate the philosophy of difficulty: every difficulty contains some inherent good you can utilize to move forward.

At luncheon with half a dozen men our conversation turned on the attitude that hardship is a bad thing. One man was asked to what he credited his success. "Poverty," he replied, "poverty was still in my motivation. My father was a drunk, a kind-hearted, lovable father but a drunk."

"We literally had nothing—lived in a shack and my mother took in washing. I can see her yet over those old-fashioned steaming tubs working herself to death. We kids were hand-me-downs."

"I hated poverty like nobody's business. So I got going and worked my way out of it. I took my mother out of it, too. But I'm still running scared from poverty."

Others around the table likewise, credited hardship, struggle and tough conditions for what they had become. "But you are all rich men. What about your own kids?" I asked.

The answers ran like this: "They've got it worse than we had it because they have too much." "Yeah," chimed another, "if we don't watch out they'll become a bunch of hippies." "It's tough on character to have it too good," said another.

It would be unwise to forget the truth that storms bring out eagles—little birds take to cover; and that every child of God has eagle characteristics in him. Storms help him to grow big wings.

My friend George Cullum, prominent construction executive in water and drainage lines in Dallas, has a formula for himself and his men: "When the job gets rough get as rough as the job. When the rock gets hard get as hard as the rock."

Life can be pretty tough, really tough. But something was built in human nature that is tougher still.

'We Saw No Mischief During Halloween Fun'

I read complaints about the mischief on Halloween and must write about the good kids that came on Gale Road. All of them said thank you and there wasn't a streak of soap on windows or cars. Three girls came the night before and asked if they could soap the windows and even showed me they didn't have wax. Of course, I let them.

I am a grandmother who loves kids and looks forward to Halloween. Try getting acquainted with the kids around the neighborhood. You might like them.

'Let's Make Some Changes at Next Election'

To Mrs. LeRoy Bartle, LBJ is playing chess with your son. He is just like my son—a pawn. Capt. Robb is a knight just as Nugent and the rest of the Johnsons. Let's stop this next election. Don't vote Republican or Democrat, vote for the man. Get the old-timers out before it is too late. I have fought in two wars and I'm proud of my country but not the jokers who run it.

'Trigger-Happy Hunters Killed Pet Geese'

"Sportsman" feels no one has a right to feed wildlife and apparently would dictate what a person may have for a pet. It was trigger-happy men who killed the geese. Chances are that if the "hunters" were close enough to shoot the geese, they were also close to houses and perhaps even on private property. There is enough violence and disturbance in this world without "sportsmen" coming around a populous area and canceling out someone's attempt to bring about a little good and happiness.

'Public Should Be Told Hours of Business'

I recently tried to call the Grand Trunk ticket office for two hours, at five-minute intervals, with no success. To see how a phone could be that busy, I drove downtown to investigate. I found the phone off the hook and the place locked up. There were no hours of business posted and nothing on the schedule indicating office hours. It seems the railroad could either post the hours of business or install an answering device informing callers when they would be there to answer queries.

Check writers brought on having to pay a time for paying by check at supermarkets through lack of consideration for others. Maybe stores got tired of people walking out in disgust, leaving a cart full of groceries because they couldn't wait while the check writer's were writing checks and cashiers looked for the manager to see if it was all right to cash the checks.

'Some Won't Be Affected by Open Housing'

Joseph L. Hudson Jr. recently stated that suburbs like Birmingham have an unwarranted fear that open housing will cause a mass exodus of Negroes to the suburbs as most couldn't afford to live in exclusive suburbs. It may be easy for Hudson and others like him to promote open housing when they know and admit that they will not have to live with it or have it pushed down their throats, as will the little fellow with neither the means to fight it nor money that talks.

Question Method Used for Parking Charges

Why does the parking lot at Perry and Water only pin a charge on those who park between 7:30 and 10 a.m.—mainly office workers? Others who work split shifts or go to work at 10:15 a.m. park free. So do those who get there early in the morning. If one pays, all should pay. Let's not have anything so out of line as this as a city parking lot.

Hippie Playlet in Lafayette Square

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—Now that our household has a color set, we are watching TV more and more. It is less, but since practically every program seems to have a hippie routine, we hereby present our own production.
As the scene opens, Good Shepherd Everett Dirksen is leading his flock to a love-in on Lafayette Square across from the White House. Tossing his curls, and scattering flowers from Lady Bird's latest beautification project, he intones:
Follow, my children, and you shall hear
Of the love-in led by Paul Revere.
An indignant Hippie shouts: Paul Revere! Wasn't he some kind of a Patriot nut?

Ruth Montgomery

mess his elders created. Shepherd:
(He was) ready to ride and spread the alarm
Through every Middlesex village and farm.
Hippie: Oh good, sex! Good Shepherd, tell us more about that "middle" kind of sex.
Shepherd:
A voice in the dark, a knock at the door
And a word that shall echo forevermore.
Hippie: Love! That's the word—love!
Shepherd: Ah yes, love of country, love for our commander-in-chief, love
All Hippies: Unmask him! He's a square. Throw him out.
Follow, my children, and you shall hear
Of the love-in led by Paul Revere.

The dulcet voice of Shepherd Dirksen soothes: Tut Tut, my lambs, he was revolting against the establishment, more British, that is. Now, where was I?
One if by land and two if by sea,
And I on the opposite shore will be.
Hippie: Hurrah! That Revere was staying out of the Voice from outskirts of love-in: Take me to your leader.

Hippie: We've got no leader.
Voice: Then I will be your leader; it is my destiny.
Hippie: Who's he? Lift up his hair and see who it is.
A twigs-type parts his hair with a dirty fingernail, shows it back from his face, and squeals: It's Bobby Kennedy!
Bobby tramples a beautification flower-bed as he vaults onto a park bench, and begins:
We must stop the bombing of our Asian brothers. It is not the yellow peril that we fear, but the Johnson peril.

The old order changeth, yielding place to new, and I say to you that the hour has come for our generation to take over. We are the ones who will make our government work.
Hippies: Work? Who wants to work? We're flower children. We just want to strew petals and love. Throw the aging beatnik out!
Shots are heard in the background, as a tall man in the saddle comes charging toward the love-in, bellowing:
Hi, y'all. Where's my beloved friend, the Good Shepherd—him that had the permit for this gathering? We need his eloquent voice up on the hill, where they're getting ready to vote on my military pay raise.
Now, my barefoot friends, I too know what it is to be poor. I invite you all to come visit the humble cabin where I was born down in the hill country of Texas, but as my daddy used to say, it's education that puts shoes on hillbillies. The only difference between you and me is that you pick flowers, and I pick brains, and Lady Bird thinks they're both beautiful.
Now, y'all line up down here at the curb, and we'll bus you back to school. You can take the flowers to your teacher. You in the wig, there, get movin'. Oh, hello, Bob.

Next Lecturer in OU Series Is Journalist

"Vietnam-China: What Are We Heading For?" will be the topic of the next lecturer in Oakland University's Speakers Series, to be held at 11 a.m. Thursday in Wilson Hall auditorium.

The speaker will be Felix Greene, British-American correspondent and author, who recently returned from his second trip to Hanoi and Peking and his fifth to the Far East.

A correspondent for the San Francisco Chronicle and CBS Television, he is one of the few American-based journalists who have been allowed to travel in Red China. His talk is open to the public.

Students Listen to Talking Bus

Educational Leaders
Eye Colorado Project

GUNNISON, Colo. (U) — Mr. Ed is a talking school bus, and after more than a month on the job, students and teachers alike are listening to what he has to say.

If he keeps his job — and it appears that he will — talking buses may crop up throughout the country where educational leaders are watching progress of the project.

Mr. Ed is a brainstorm of a teachers' group here, aimed at providing educational or, failing that, entertaining diversion for students as they are carried to and from school.

Some of the 54 students taking part in the experiment spend as much as two hours daily on the bus, making the 32-mile trip between home and school.

DON EARPHONES

Now, as an alternate to the rowdy jostling that has dismayed bus drivers since bus driving began, students can don earphones and tune in on any one of seven tape recordings, or a radio station.

What they hear on the tapes might be the story of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs, for the first-grade set, or the story of John H. Glenn Jr.'s flight into space, or a comedy monologue for the older students. Or, in the case of many teen-age students, rock 'n' roll music on the radio gets the nod.

Project leaders are watching for changes in behavior, interest and attitude by the students, said James R. Raine, the acting project director.

Behavior already has changed, he said. "We're no longer plagued with having to quiet the kids down and get tough. They're not nearly the disciplinary problem they were," he added.

WATCHING REACTION

School administrators also are watching student reaction. If the report is good at the end of the year-long test, it seems likely the system of audio-equipped buses will spread. Raine said about 20 letters of inquiry already have been received from throughout the United States and Canada.

The bus was named Mr. Ed after television's "talking horse," by the committee of teachers that drew up the plan and attracted the $43,600 federal grant to finance it.

Each student may choose from the seven available tapes or the radio channel, piped into the earphones at his seat.

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson attended the Harkness Ballet in New York last night, and was applauded politely on her arrival at the Broadway theater. The first lady was the guest of the ballet's producer, Mrs. Rebekah Harkness.

LADY BIRD

A spokesman said Mrs. Johnson also was in the city to "fill out her wardrobe for winter." At the ballet, she wore a full-length fur coat over a black velvet dress with black shoes and stockings. She carried a white orchid.

After the performance, Mrs. Johnson went backstage to greet Mrs. Harkness and meet the cast. "It was marvelous," said Mrs. Johnson, "just a joy to watch."

Sharp Eyes Save Mayor From Hanging

But for the sharp eyes of a man about to be "hanged," a mayor was nearly lost.

Mayor Pat Williams of Brawley, Calif., agreed to act as a victim for the mock hanging during Imperial Valley's annual Wild West Celebration, Cattle Call Week.

On the scaffold Thursday night, as a crowd looked on, he noticed that the harness rope—to keep him from being truly hanged—was longer than the rope noose.

Quickly, Williams substituted an arm for his neck and, as the gallows door sprung open, he plummeted down. The noose tightened around his wrist as he hung, kicking.

Burtons Pay 1st Visit to U.S. in 2 Years

Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor flew to New York yesterday, marking their first visit to this country in nearly two years. A spokesman for the couple said the trip here, from Rome, was "a very sudden thing."

Burton said he and his wife would visit with his daughter, Kate, 11, whose mother is Mrs. Sybil Burton Christopher, and then fly to California to visit with his wife's parents.

At the airport, Burton told newsmen: "This is my favorite city on earth."

Buckley, of New York City, said, however, that he feels Nixon possesses the reliability and experience needed.

A minute is long enough, lady. More than enough to steal your car when it's sitting there, unlocked, keys in the ignition. (76% of stolen cars were left unlocked—nearly half also had ignition keys.) The worst that may happen to you is to have to walk home carrying the groceries. But remember this, stolen cars have 200 times more accidents. Most cars are stolen by teen-agers less than 18. Your carelessness is their temptation. Your car might be the stolen car that doesn't stop at the school crossing.

Stokes' Margin for Mayor Dips

CLEVELAND (AP) — The unofficial 2,501-vote margin by which Carl B. Stokes, a Negro, won the Cleveland mayoral election Tuesday has dwindled to 1,519 votes as the official count is conducted by the Cuyahoga County board of Elections. The Cleveland Plain Dealer said it learned Friday night that three mistakes had reduced the Stokes margin by 982 votes in one-third of the polling places counted so far. The count was expected to be completed today.

Two mistakes were in an East Side ward, where figures for Stokes, a Democrat, and his Republican opponent, Seth C. Taft, were reversed, the newspaper said. The third error was in placing the figure 1 before the Stokes total in another precinct, increasing the vote for him by 100.

More than 257,000 votes were cast in the election. Unless the official count changes the outcome, Stokes will be sworn into office Monday.

OCC Seminar Set

A seminar on occupational needs, sponsored by Oakland Community College, will be held at 1 p.m. Thursday at the Oakland County Court house auditorium. Manpower needs will be discussed by state and county officials.

Panel Backs Insurance Pool for Slums

DETROIT (UPI) — The New Detroit Committee has thrown its weight behind a plan to build an insurance pool for property owners in slum areas.

David J. Dykehouse, the state insurance commissioner, met with the committee to discuss aspects of the plan, which would provide insurance for any property owner unable to get insurance through normal channels.

Dykehouse first proposed the plan a few weeks ago, after it was learned that residents of the riot area were having trouble getting insurance.

Most companies agreed not to cancel any property's insurance last summer, after Dykehouse threatened them with punitive action.

But the agreement ran out Oct. 31, and it can be renewed only if a statewide law is put before the Legislature, Dykehouse said.

"NOT FORTHCOMING" — "Such a voluntary plan hasn't been forthcoming," said William G. McKintoe, president of the Michigan Bankers Association.

Under the plan, insurers would have to accept a share of property coverage in the riot area in proportion to the amount of insurance they write in other parts of the state.

In other action, the committee said it had created a Youth Involvement Task Force which would enlist teen-agers to help the committee solve social problems spotlighted by the riots.

The committee also started a drive to get $50,000 to provide new homes for 120 families burned out during the riots.

The New Detroit Committee is a blue-ribbon citizens committee established to rebuild Detroit from the riots.

PIANO SOLOIST — Benjamin Francis of 379 Branch will present selections on the piano during the program tonight at Mt. Calvary Missionary Baptist Church, 95 Mariva. Francis plans to become a concert pianist. He returned in September from serving with the U.S. Army in Germany.

Newman Church to Visit Unitarian

The Rev. Arford N. Reid, pastor of Newman AME Church, will preach on "What Happens When a Man Sees the Lord" in the annual return pulpit exchange between Birmingham and the Unitarian Church and the Newman Church tomorrow.

The service will be at 9:15 and 11:15 a.m. in the Unitarian Church, Woodward and Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills.

The Unitarians will be hosts to members of the Newman Church at a sandwich buffet following the second service. The Sunday School students of the Newman Church will be guests of the Unitarian youth under the leadership of Cathy Sheldon.

The Rev. Mr. Reid was graduated from the University of Chicago and Phillips Seminary. Graduate work was taken at Roosevelt College and Ohio University.

His many activities include being president of the Pontiac Pastor's Association, chairman of Christian Education Committee of Pontiac Area Council of Churches, first vice president of Pontiac's Human Relations Committee and chairman of Labor and Industry Committee of NAACP.

He is also a member of the executive board of the Oakland County Office of Economic Opportunity.

The Rev. Robert Marshall, host pastor, was guest speaker at the Newman Church in August.

SHOWS SLIDES
At the family cooperative dinner Friday evening Robert Payne will speak and show slides on the Underground Railroad used during the Civil War as a direct route to carry people across the Detroit River to Unitarian Church and the Newman Church tomorrow.

There still stands a home in Orchard Lake with secret rooms for exit to the railroad where slaves stopped for the night to rest from their travels from the South.

This original research into the underground railroad is one of Payne's many fascinating projects, according to Mrs. Connie Peterson, dinner chairman.

Mrs. Peterson said the program is suitable for children as well as adults, even a third grade child would understand.

A member of the committee on citizenship education for the Michigan Department of Education since 1963, Payne holds degrees in social studies and curricular development of social studies.

Presently he is working on his doctorate in social studies curriculum at the University of Michigan.

Laymen Hand Out Leaflets to Neighbors

Under the direction of Darryl Lee, chairman of evangelism and membership department, the North Oakland Christian Church began an intensive church cultivation program this week.

Thousands of leaflets were distributed to families in the neighborhood of Kennedy Junior High School where services are currently being held.

Tomorrow laymen will visit the area near the property purchased at Baldwin and Walden where the new church will be built.

Men and women will go from door to door introducing the new church to the community.

The new congregations of Christian churches in the United States were honored at the International Convention of Christian Churches held in St. Louis, Mo.

The North Oakland Church with Pastor and Mrs. Jack H. C. Clark were recognized at a special service.

The formal presentation of the charter to the congregation will be made later by the Michigan Association of Christian Churches.

Guest Pastor at Messiah

The Rev. G. B. Ballard, former pastor of New Hope Baptist Church, will be guest minister for the 11 a.m. Harvest Homecoming service tomorrow in Messiah Missionary Baptist Covenant Community Church, Detroit preached the sermon.

At 7:30 p.m. members of Messiah Church will be guests of the City View Baptist Church in Detroit where the Rev. Nathaniel Taylor is pastor.

Perform In African Costumes

Talent Show Features Folk Ensemble

PLAY TONIGHT — A group of young people known as the Folk Ensemble will be heard in a musical program at the talent-show in Mt. Calvary Missionary Church 95 Mariva at 7 p.m. today. Dressed in the native costumes of Africa, the group will play instruments used in Africa.

Shown are (from left) Arthur R. Branner, Congo bongo; Don Price, bongo; Mattie Russell, soloist with tambourine; Melvyn Price, Congo bongo; Jerry Le Duff, Congo bongo; Rick Northcross, flute; and Ahmed Amir — Malik Shabbazz, Congo bongo. The Gospelle Singing group will participate in the program and Mrs. Charles Cobb will serve as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Lester Campbell and Mrs. J. J. Blackshire are cochairmen of the evening affair. The Rev. J. J. Blackshire is pastor.

DRAWNS DESIGN — Ronald Hibbs of 25 W. Howard (right) draws the design of a fish on the blackboard to show boys of a group from Pontiac Central High School how the club pin should look. The boys with about 30 others are members of a Bible study youth group at Central High.

Also shown are (from left) Robert Dickie of 2366 Pontiac Drive, Sylvan Lake, Richard Jackson of 739 Blaine, Larry Hurst of 324 Voorhees and Mark Shumfolt of 1030 Argyle. The group will be known as the Fisherman's Club.

Fisherman's Club at Pontiac Central

The sign of the fish was the symbol used by the early Christians to identify themselves to each other during the persecution in the early years of Christianity.

A group of boys at Pontiac Central High School who daily try to live the Christian life use the fish as a sign of their faith. The boys are always ready and willing to talk of their faith with others, according to Norman Clothier, executive director of Youth for Christ.

The group started by Bill Tip-ton, Pontiac Central High School track star last year holds training meetings and Bible study with often more than 30 boys present.

They discuss their responsibility to God, how the Bible can be a reality and guide in life, and how Jesus Christ can transform and give purpose to a young person.

ORGANIZE
The boys are being formed into a group by YFC Director Clothier for the purpose of developing speaking teams to visit other youth groups.

Teams will begin going out in a few weeks as they receive invitations.

Team members must be active in their own church and have the permission of their pastor to leave for outside meetings. Pastors and youth directors must approve all team members, Clothier said.

The boys set their own requirements for membership in the organization. They must memorize the Campus Crusade spiritual laws, check carefully the physical, social, mental and spiritual areas of their life, have a daily Bible study and prayer time, and share their faith with at least one person.

Since June these boys have been responsible for winning at least 70 young people to a personal faith in Jesus Christ, Clothier said.

Hold Junior Church for Boys, Girls

Beginning tomorrow Trinity Methodist Church, 6440 Maceday, Waterford Township will hold junior church service from 10:30 to 11:15 a.m. with Mrs. Timothy Hickey, director.

Mrs. Fred Peekart is coordinating the service which is keyed to children in grades one through six.

Junior and senior high school students will assist with ushering, prayer and scripture reading.

The Rev. Timothy Hickey, pastor, said the purpose of junior church is:

• To expose our young people to the church worship service.

• To provide a training program which will enable children to have a better understanding of the component parts of the worship service as hymns, Apostles Creed, prayer, sermon and Scripture reading.

• To adapt the level of understanding to the age of children attending.

During the past two years members of Trinity Church have participated in small discussion groups as an experimental service of the Scriptures on an informal basis in homes.

Presently these discussions will include how the Scripture and the Sunday morning message relate to everyday living, the pastor said.

Plan Musicales

The Morning Doves Quartet and choir of Mt. Olive Baptist Church, 390 Osun will offer a musical program at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow to benefit the building fund. Ella Hardy is chairman.

DAVID LOEWEN

Ordain, Examine Loewen This Week

Fourteen ministers formed the ordination council for the examination of David Loewen, former missionary intern at Sunnyvale Chapel, Wednesday afternoon.

His ordination service was held at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Sunnyvale Chapel with the Rev. Rudy Schuermann giving the charge to the church.

The Rev. Bob Steward gave the charge to the candidate and the Rev. John Drummond of Covenant Community Church, Detroit preached the sermon.

The congregation presented a Bible and offering for the purchase of books to the newly ordained minister.

News of Area Churches

CARR FAMILY—Ten-month-old Lisa isn't too interested in having her picture taken. She would rather play with the tiny toy dog. But here she is with her parents the Rev. and Mrs. Harry Carr; brother David; and sister Ann (right). The Rev. Mr. Carr is the new pastor of First Social Brethren Church. The Carrs make their home at 54 Hudson.

Prayer Semantics

CHICAGO (U) — Declaring that prayer should be "the most natural thing in the world," the Rev. Kenneth Wilson writes in the Methodist monthly, Together, that people ought to quit using special terminology such as "thou" and "thy" in their prayers.

It's comparable to speaking in a foreign language, he says, and would be "incomprehensible if we hadn't been brought up on it."

'City of Bees' Film Set for Pontiac Mall

Men everywhere are struggling with the problem of human behavior.

According to George Luenberger the 45 minute color movie, "City of the Bees," reveals God's solution to the age-old problem.

"The City of the Bees" film will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the community room of the Pontiac Mall. The public is invited and there is no charge.

Luenberger says of bees: "Their fabulous insect city boasts air conditioning, police and sanitation squads, nurseries, chemical processing plants, some remarkable structural engineers and a concise and effective language that man has learned to read."

NEW MINISTER of Education From Detroit

Helen Simeneta, a native of Detroit, is the new minister of Christian education for First Assembly of God Church.

Miss Simeneta who attended Central Bible College was ordained a minister of the Assemblies of God in 1964.

For the past 12 years she has traveled throughout the United States conducting youth and adult revivals, children's crusades, vacation Bible schools.

She also conducted teacher training classes and courses in personal evangelism.

Last spring Miss Simeneta terminated three years with Southeastern Bible College as dean of women.

Pastor Charles A. Davenport said he feels fortunate in securing her services for the Pontiac church.

Stewardship Is Theme

Worshippers Place Offerings in Chest

"Move Up the Ladder" is the motto for Bethany Baptist Church tomorrow.

The stewardship ladder with its ascending rungs will demonstrate the amount pledged by members toward the support of Bethany's work in the community and missions.

Pledges will be received by Dr. Emil Kontz in the chest of Joash ceremony. The ritual dates back several centuries before the birth of Christ.

A young king of Israel, Joash, devised a special means of supporting the temple. Loyal worshippers brought their offerings, jewelry and valuables and placed them in the chest. Then dedicated them to God.

The ladder placed in front of the sanctuary will illustrate the levels of giving in the church titling program.

Pastor Kontz will preach on "Giving Back and Getting Back" at 11 a.m. tomorrow. The Rev. William Offutt, associate pastor, will assist in the service.

FIRST GENERAL
Coming from Poplar Bluff, Mo. to conduct a revival at First General Baptist Church, 249 Baldwin is the Rev. Rudolph Hickerson.

The evangelistic meetings will begin Friday evening. The Rev. Mr. Hickerson will stay with the pastor, the Rev. T. W. Bland while serving in Pontiac.

APOSTOLIC FAITH
The Rev. Don B. Osborne of Rockford, Ill. will conduct the revival at Apostolic Faith Tabernacle, 83 Parkdale beginning Monday.

Services will start at 7:30 each night.

The Rev. Ernest Wardell, pastor, will lead the singing.

Citywide Union Has Revival

The Citywide Union Revival which started Monday at Friendship Baptist Church will continue through Friday with the Dr. T. E. Humphrey, pastor of West Lansing Church of God, the evangelist.

The Rev. M. M. Scott, president of Oakland County Ministerial Fellowship, said services begin at 7 p.m. The public is invited.

Mark Stewardship Sunday

Stewardship Sunday will be observed at Auburn Heights United Presbyterian Church with Pastor F. William Palmer preaching on "Throwing Out Last Week's Leftovers."

At 6 p.m. Margaret Carpenter will conclude the survey on the New Testament.

Donna Patrick is in charge of plans for the Youth Fellowship.

National Council Churches Does Not Endorse Drinking

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The following correction of an earlier story about drinking and the National Council of Churches is in response to several complaints.)

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Dr. J. L. Regier of New York, associate general secretary for Christian Life and Missions of the National Council of Churches, has recommended serious study of a federally financed study on alcoholism.

But Regier said that his comments on the study, "Alcohol Problems—A Report to the Nation," should not be construed as a recommendation of the study by the National Council of Churches.

The Associated Press reported erroneously on Oct. 12 that the council had endorsed proposals contained in the study, among them one which said it should be national policy to promote drinking in a family setting to help prevent the development of problem drinkers.

Regier had said the study "opens new avenues to the problem of alcoholism for Americans, especially since it wrestles with the issue of modification rather than suppression of drinking problems."

Recording Artist Set for Providence

Willie Morganfield, recording artist of Cleveland, Ohio, will be featured on the musical program at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Providence Missionary Baptist Church.

His sister from Memphis, Tenn. will be among the other guest singers.

Richard Reese is chairman of the event sponsored by the Pastor's Aid Club and Male Chorus of Providence Church.

Trio Plays

Youth for Christ will meet at First Baptist Church tonight in conjunction with The Truth for Youth Crusade. The YFC trumpet trio will furnish music. Evangelist Frank Gonzales will speak.

An Alternative Is Suggested by a Writer

By ELIZABETH L. POST
Dear Mrs. Post: I have been a choir director for 20 years, and I was interested in your recent column on proper ways to address clergymen.
In addition to those you gave, there are several other forms of address for Protestant ministers.
A Lutheran minister is usually addressed as "Pastor" (either alone or followed by his last name) by members of that faith. Pastor is Latin for "shepherd," and the idea is that the pastor is a shepherd of souls, so to speak.
Also, clergymen of "high-church" Episcopal churches are addressed as "Father" for the same reason as in the Roman Catholic Church, no doubt.
—Howard Boquist

Dear Mr. Boquist: Thank you so much for sending me the above information. I am pleased to print it, and this more fully answers the question sent me originally.
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it permissible to tell deliberate "white lies" when asked very personal questions by casual visitors to your home. For example how much did you pay for...?
I wish there was a good way to ignore these questions.—Cynthia
Dear Cynthia: If you call avoiding the issue a "white lie," it is permissible. By saying, "I really can't remember," even though you do, you avoid both embarrassing the questioner, and giving a reply.
Therefore, although it may be shading the truth, it is the most acceptable way to answer such questions.

So you're Planning to Give A Shower! The booklet by Elizabeth L. Post tells you everything you need to know for a bridal shower, a welcome party for a new neighbor, the local minister, or any one else.
To get a copy, send 25 cents in coin to cover booklet and mailing expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post in care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. P-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056.

YWCA to Celebrate 100 Years of Fellowship

For 100 years the YWCAs of the United States have carried on an international program. The Pontiac YW will celebrate the occasion next week with two special events.
On Wednesday at noon, a luncheon program, "Come with a Song," will be shared by all YW groups and any other interested individual.

During the fellowship program, the nursery school children will sing. Members of the international group will come in their native dress. Golden Agers and those in the Ladies Day Out program will participate.

On Saturday, a bazaar from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. will help raise funds for international fellowship projects.

Mrs. Warren T. Fowler, YWCA fellowship chairman, has charge of the events of the week.

In 1867, the first World Week of Prayer and World Fellowship was instituted by the Alliance of YMCAs at its fifth world conference in Paris. Today, both the YMCA and the YWCA observe this week around the globe.

A week dedicated to prayers for peace and better understanding among all peoples, this week also focuses attention on the year-round programs of the international organization.

These are practical programs designed to help people to a better life.

ANSWER NEEDS

It may be as elemental as installing a shower in a school in Taiwan so that children without adequate facilities at home could have baths.

It may be a course for mothers on the subjects of hygiene, sanitation and health.

It may be literary training in countries like Colombia and Mexico.

It may be work with youth as in Africa — or camping in Chile — or leadership training in Rhodesia.

It can be training in skills for self support and for raising standards of living.

The Pontiac YWCA is a member organization of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Beta Sigma Phi Units Hear Travel Talk and Plan Holidays

Two chapters of Beta Sigma Phi met this week.

Xi Gamma Alpha chapter heard a talk on Pakistan, given by Marie Grams of Ann Arbor who is soon to leave for an extended stay in that country.

Mrs. George T. Pudduck was hostess. Guests at this meeting were Mesdames Ray Teska, Roy Stuart, Cyle Haskill, Russell Farnum and Leon Alger.

NOTA NU

Iota Nu chapter discussed holiday plans, including the distribution of Thanksgiving baskets.

On the program at the Davisburg home of Mrs. Gerald Vess were Mesdames James Talley, Richard Sweet, James Schimp and Thomas Bretzius.

Jackie Kennedy Revisits Rome

ROME (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy arrived in Rome today from her colorful 10-day tour of Thailand and Cambodia.

The former first lady had stopped here for 2½ days in October on her way from America to Asia. She was expected to stay again for a few days to rest up and see friends before returning home.

Mrs. Kennedy arrived by plane from Bangkok.

In Cambodia, President Kennedy's widow was ushered through the temple ruins at Angkor by Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodia's chief of state. He also dedicated a boulevard in Sihanoukville to her husband.

In Thailand, King Bhumibol showed Mrs. Kennedy around the Grand Palace and the Temple of the Emerald and hosted a palace luncheon in her honor.

Library at OU Is Concern of Friends Group

A major drive to enlist more "friends" for the Friends of the Kresge Library at Oakland University was launched Friday at the home of Mrs. Harvey Bumgardner of East Long Lake Road.

On the agenda were a busy work day and a luncheon for six active members of the organization. Mrs. Bumgardner is membership chairman.

The group prepared envelopes for mailing to some two thousand prospective new members of the Friends, which is dedicated to supporting and promoting the activities, projects, and programs of the Kresge Library.

The four-pronged campaign comes at a time when the University is trying to increase the number of books and services at the library as its current major concern.

One phase of the Friends activities is a Volunteer Program for those who enjoy giving their time to help the library. The group's Operation Books, Memorial, and Acquisition Program have brought noteworthy collections, giving posture to the young library that it could not have attained otherwise.

The current drive is seeking regular memberships, covering husband and wife, at $5.

It is not soliciting contributions, although any donations freely made in view of pressing financial needs are being gratefully accepted.

Luncheon guests were Mrs. William Lloyd Kemp, president of the Friends; Mrs. George B. Hartrick; Mrs. Earl Alles; Kathryn Bumgardner; Mrs. A. Dale Kirk; and Mrs. Richard G. Pearce.

Forms of Resistance to Be Speaker's Topic

"What Forms of Resistance Now?" will be the subject of a talk next Tuesday by Professor David Herreshoff of Wayne State University.

It's Better to Get It Off His Chest While There Is Still Enough Time

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: Do I have the right to insist that my boy friend remove the tattoo once it's on, but I am very jealous of her.

My boy friend says I can never remove a tattoo once it's on, but I have heard that you can. I suppose he could cover it with a piece of adhesive tape, or maybe go back for some more tattooing and change the Sharon to some kind of a scene or design.

Anyway, I can't see marrying a guy with Sharon on his chest. He says it doesn't bother him. Well, it bothers me. Am I wrong to feel this way, and isn't there some way to get it off?

DEAR MILLIE: Assuming your boy friend doesn't still have Sharon under his skin, he could easily get her off his chest. Tell him that a skin specialist can remove the tattoo. And he won't have to hold still for any further needling.

DEAR ABBY: The other evening while preparing supper, my husband's unmarried sister dropped in, as she often does. She asked me to call her mother and tell her a lie as to why she wasn't going to be home for supper that night.

I told her if her mother found out that I lied to her she wouldn't think much of me as a person, and I just didn't want to do it.

She replied, "Well, she doesn't think much of you anyway. She is always talking about the way you dress, and the way you do your hair and your makeup — how overdone it is."

Abby, I was crushed. I always try to look my best and people are always complimenting me on how fashionable I dress, and how well-groomed I look. I never thought I overdid it. I have been just heartbreak about it. Should I discuss it with my husband? Should I take it up with my mother-in-law, or what?

DEAR HURT: You don't say how old your sister-in-law is but if she's more than 10 she's a nitwit. Don't discuss it with your husband. And don't take it up with your mother-in-law. Maybe she said it and maybe she didn't. Avoid your sister-in-law. Either she's too unreliable to be believed, or she's a first class troublemaker.

DEAR ABBY: We are another pair of "in-laws" who are called nothing by our daughter-in-law. After two years we are still greeted with "Hi." When we told our son we would like to be called something (after all, even a dog has a name) he said he'd mention it to his wife, but apparently he never has.

Perhaps some good came of this, because we finally woke up. For years we deprived ourselves of luxuries so our son could have a college education. We never took vacations because we were saving for him.

My husband isn't too well, and now I've persuaded him to retire early and enjoy himself instead of worrying about how much he will leave to our son and his family.

It seems that addressing us in some half-way respectful manner poses a tremendous "problem" to our son's wife. If she thinks this is a problem, wait until she reads our will!

DEAR ABBY: As I sit here watching my beautiful baby boy while he so cheerfully laughs and plays with his little stuffed doggy I want very much to know something.

Do fathers of illegitimate children ever think of their precious offspring? If you can't answer my question, maybe they can. Thank you. STEVEN'S MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: Will you please inform your readers that when a woman becomes a widow she does not suddenly become "Mrs. Jane Anybody." She remains "Mrs. John Somebody."

I lost my husband a few months ago, and so many of my well meaning (but ignorant) friends have started to address their letters to "Mrs. Jane Doe." It's bad enough to lose one's husband without being stripped of his name. Please print this, and sign it please.

MRS. "HIS NAME"

DEAR ABBY: We read you in Stars and Stripes and love you over here. What would you like for Christmas, Abby?

DEAR MICHAEL GREENE: Peace! Peace this very moment. Over there. Right here. And for all people on the face of the earth.

Newlyweds Will Reside in Chicago Following a Honeymoon in Jamaica

Following a honeymoon in Montego Bay, Jamaica; newlyweds, the Robert J.

Kanes, will make their home in Chicago, Ill.

Prior to their departure, the bridal couple and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Burns of Ogemaw Road and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Kane of Mt. Pleasant, greeted guests at the Raleigh House where they exchanged vows earlier today.

The bride, nee Patricia Ann Burns, wore ivory peau de soie trimmed with Alencon lace.

A crown of matching lace secured her chapel length mantilla.

She carried white roses with ivy.

For the afternoon ceremony, the bride was attended by her sister, Kathleen, as maid of honor and bridesmaids Mrs. James Revell of Columbus, Ohio, Mrs. Timothy Burns of Royal Oak and Sandra Nicholson.

Timothy Draves was best man with ushers Donald Farrell and Frederick Biederman, both of Chicago, Ill. and James P. Revell of Columbus, Ohio.

Waterford Set to Award Vehicle Fleet Insurance

The Waterford Township proposals were referred to the Board is expected to award a township insurance committee contract Monday night for in study and report back to the board on the township's fleet board.

Four firms submitted bids at last Monday's meeting. The

The apparent low bidder with a premium of $6,530 for the one-year period was Hansen, Metty and Hunt, Inc., of Pontiac representing Citizens Mutual.

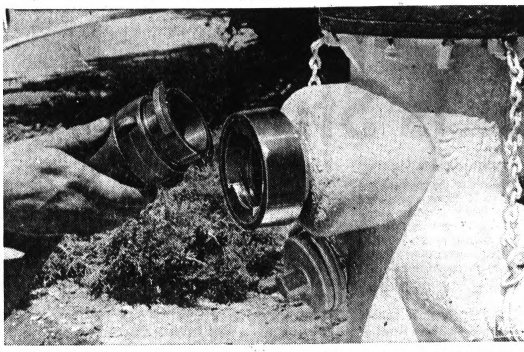

Also Monday night, an amendment will be introduced to a recently adopted township ordinance which establishes connection charges, benefit fees and sewage disposal rates for users of the Waterford-Pontiac laterals of the Clinton-Oakland Sewage Disposal System.

Two rezoning requests for apartments also will be introduced at Monday's meeting. They are:

• A request to rezone property on M59 near Whittier from single-family residential (R1A) to multiple dwelling (R2).

• A request to rezone property on Dixie Highway at Midland from R1A to R2. In other business, the board will consider canceling its Nov. 20 meeting because of deer hunting season, will rule on a lot split request and will receive four monthly departmental reports.

The Althing of Iceland, founded in 930 A.D., is the oldest parliamentary assembly in the world.

FIRE-FIGHTING INNOVATION—A quick response to fires may be stepped up a notch with this quick-lock hose connection for fire plugs, devised by Stanford University student engineers. The connection may be screwed into existing threaded openings of every type of fireplug, or it can be manufactured as part of new equipment and eliminate the danger of easily damaged threads.

Shirley Joins Dem Debate

Dovish Foe Draws Louder Applause

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — Shirley Temple Black, poised for the special election next Tuesday that will decide if she'll be a congresswoman, squared off in debate against four male Democratic opponents last night.

Mrs. Black, wearing a two-piece red suit in her debut debate, faced a generally young audience of 900 persons who applauded louder for dove-like Edward Keating, one of the Democratic opponents.

The former child actress, whose position is more hawkish, is campaigning against a host of Democratic and Republican candidates for the California congressional seat left vacant by the death of J. Arthur Younger.

Mrs. Black said that 70-75 percent of the targets in North Vietnam have not yet been bombed and asked: "How can you say 'stop the bombing' when you can make a case that it hasn't escalated."

NOT FOR STARTATION

Later, though, she told the audience in the partially-filled high school auditorium: "I am not for escalation of the war. I am not for more bombing."

Keating, former publisher of Ramparts Magazine, won loud applause when he said he and Mrs. Black "live in two different worlds."

Mrs. Black, who sought the confrontation with Democratic rivals, has said she didn't want to debate fellow Republicans in the interest of party harmony. But she conducted an unofficial debate by telegram with GOP rival Paul N. McCloskey earlier Friday.

McCloskey asserted she "preached fear, hate and anger" by distorting his views on the war in Vietnam.

EXPOSE SLAUGHTER

He asked the Fair Campaign Practices Committee in Washington, D.C., to investigate a letter in which he said Mrs. Black left the impression he favored withdrawal that would expose the South Vietnamese to slaughter.

Not so, said Mrs. Black. She sent a telegram of her own to the committee, saying:

"I strongly protest and ask your investigation of the unfair campaign tactics of Mr. Paul McCloskey in attempting to misuse the good offices of your committee by making a last-minute unfounded attack upon me."

The committee told McCloskey it will investigate his complaint.

Auto Victim Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Margaret Makar, 45, of Detroit died Friday in a hospital of injuries suffered Nov. 4 when she was hit by a car as she crossed a street.

9 Evacuated Families Lost

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — A Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. spokesman said Friday the firm can't find nine of the 150 families forced to evacuate their homes because of leakage of natural gas in a nearby rural area.

The families can return to their homes now, the spokesman said, but the company hasn't been able to locate them since the evacuation.

A well 2,900 feet deep began leaking gas into shale beds 500 feet down late Monday, then were repaired. Two new leaks were discovered Thursday, but only seven families were warned not to return to their homes because of the new leaks.

To Air Grievances

FLINT (AP) — Officers of United Auto Workers Union Local 659 have scheduled a mass meeting for Sunday for some 3,400 workers to discuss grievances and local issues which prompted them to walk off their jobs at the Chevrolet Assembly plant in Flint. The strike shut down the facility and a nearby Fisher Body plant, idling more than 6,000 workers. The meeting will be held at 12:30 p.m. at the Local 659 auditorium.

Reflections

THEY SHALL NOT HAVE YOU GIFT AND DIED IN VAIN.

This week we shall once again celebrate Veterans' Day. Was it worth all this bloodshed? What does freedom really mean? Ask the man who has lost his.

Many times since 1776 the greedy hands of tyrants and aggressors have reached out and demanded another payment. We have always paid with the best of our youth.

In this troubled world of ours today there are still those who would demand another pound of flesh. It is up to us to keep faith to those we owe so much; that they shall not have died in vain.

At Two Waterford Elementary Schools

Human Behavior Is Studied

By HUDSON WILLSE JR.

Teachers and pupils of Waterford Village and Jayno Adams elementary schools in Waterford Township do not believe in just skimming the surface as a means of learning.

A new program in progress at the schools attempts to get the youngsters to think deeper and learn more about causes and consequences of their own behavior and the behavior of others.

The teaching program in human behavior and mental health is being implemented on all grade levels as a significant part of the entire curriculum.

It has been incorporated in the basic subjects, primarily in the language arts and social sciences.

Teachers believe it is a step forward in helping to solve the problem of delinquency and aiding children to develop socially responsible behavior.

WILLSE

They feel the need for discipline and control is an essential part of learning.

GROUNDWORK LAID

The groundwork for the program was laid last June when elementary counselor Fred Ebeby, Waterford Village teacher Robert Bass and Jayno Adams teacher Esther Hindman attended a two-week workshop in Cleveland.

They learned about the program in human behavior as prepared by the State University of Iowa under the direction of Ralph H. Ojemann.

In August, Bass, Mrs. Hindman and Ebeby directed a workshop for teachers of the two schools and principals Mrs. Jane Ellsworth of Waterford Village and James Denfelder of Jayno Adams, relating what they learned in Cleveland.

The program is based on the casual approach method which means children getting ideas of methods to use in solving their own problems and seeing things from the viewpoint of others.

LEARN 'WHY'

In social studies, for example, pupils learn not just what people do, but why?

Teachers involved in the program feel that to understand people, boys and girls must gain insight into why people adopted or developed customs they follow, why they engage in the activities they do, and what the way in which they order their lives means to them.

Elaborating, they cited the following examples:

The American Revolution is studied from the viewpoint of people living in Great Britain as well as the American Colonists.

The Westward Movement is viewed from the eyes of the Indians and its effect on their lives as well as the pioneers' viewpoint.

INSTRUCTIONAL UNITS

Illustrated reading material, consisting of several instructional units, is available to teachers and pupils on all grade levels.

Some of the units are: "The Cub's Project," "Why People Act as They Do?," "Organizing a Room Council," "Discover My World," "How Can We Find Out?," "Farming," "Chicago Growth of a City," "What Do You Think?—How Do You Feel?," and "How the Teacher and Pupil Work Together."

Questions posed in the last-mentioned unit illustrate how the program makes pupils think more deeply about important things.

The booklet asks: Why do we go to school? How can a student help himself learn? It would seem that many people consider the kinds of schools a country has as important for the development of the country. Why do you suppose this is? What do schools have to do with helping a country grow? What do parents expect schools to do for their children?

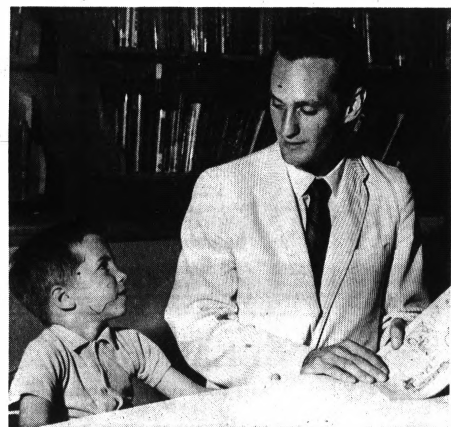

TWO-WAY PROCESS

The unit emphasizes that learning can be a partnership and that it is a two-way process between the teacher and pupil and is most effective when each person does his share.

The following supposition is considered:

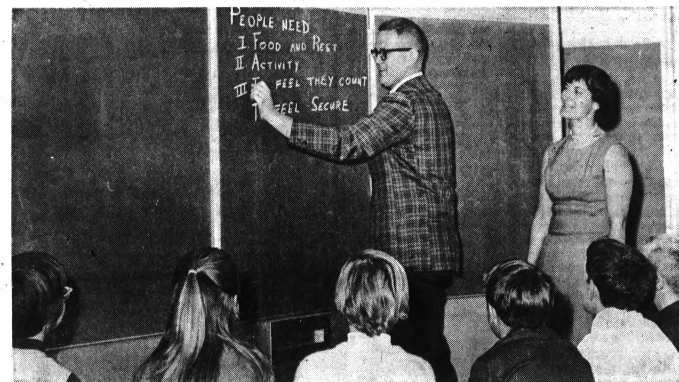

Suppose a pupil is having difficulty with his classmates. Quite possibly when he should be studying, he is thinking about how to get even with the group. Or, maybe he feels he isn't appreciated.

Instead of doing his work, he is trying to think of ways to get the other children to like him better? How can teacher and pupil work together make this situation more satisfactory?

MAN TO MAN — Guy Burket, a pupil at Waterford Village School, is all concentration as teacher Robert Bass explains to him an instructional unit on farming. It is all part of a first-year teaching program in human behavior and mental health being conducted at Waterford Village and Jayno Adams schools.

OUTLINES UNIT — Fred Ebeby, elementary guidance counselor for Waterford Township Schools, outlines an instructional unit to six pupils at Waterford Village School, 4241 Steffens. Looking on is Mrs. Esther Hindman, a teacher at Jayno Adams School. Ebeby, Mrs. Hindman and Waterford

Village teacher Robert Bass attended a workshop last summer which resulted in the implementation of a teaching program in human behavior and mental health at Waterford Village and Jayno Adams schools.

Jean Saile Checks Landing Gear

Aviatrix Replaces Nervous 'Butterflies'

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Jean Saile, a Pontiac Press reporter, wife of a commercial artist and mother of six children, is taking flying lessons. The following is the ninth in a series on her impressions of flying an airplane.)

By JEAN SAILE

I've got to find something to replace the knot in the pit of my stomach.

Flying to me has proven to be an emotional experience. The environment is foreign and a certain amount of high key emotional pitch has pushed me ahead in situations where I might otherwise have faltered.

Now at the point where I will be able to fly that airplane with safety, the knot has disappeared.

Its absence during my last lesson left a vast area of soggy reflexes. It was the wrong time.

The last lesson was our first serious at getting me familiar with the landing pattern at Oakland-Pontiac Airport and into some control of takeoff and landing procedures.

TIGHT PATTERN — It's a tight pattern, and there's no time for looking at the scenery.

The pretakeoff check list is reviewed. Takeoff clearance comes from the tower. You're on the runway. Full throttle. Watch the ground speed. Use right rudder for direction control.

At about 50 miles per hour ease back on the wheel. Ease! Don't snatch it. The stall buzzer warns. Get the nose down to a better climbing attitude. We're going up. At 500 feet, shut off the booster. Left turn. Turn it. Don't wobble!

Continue climbing another 300 feet. Another left turn. You're supposed to be flying parallel to the runway. Keep it an even distance away. Pull the carburetor heat button. Get the booster back on. Cut engine power to 1,800 rpm. Trim for level flight. Apply first notch of flaps.

Make your base leg turn. Get it around there. Apply a second notch of flaps. Watch that runway approach. Head in. Third notch of flaps. You're coming down. Control altitude with power.

Pick out a spot on the runway. Aim for it. Get that nose headed right at the runway. Okay. About 15 feet above it, ease back on the nose. Let the plane settle in.

You're down. Not saying how smoothly. Watch that rudder. Keep the nose back. Slow down. Release the flaps and apply brakes.

I look over at Lawson Letzring, the ADI instructor, well expecting him to have his head buried in his hands. He doesn't.

A BAD DAY — He's had other students before who have had good days and bad days and he can recognize a bad day when he sees it.

And me — I'm shocked. Shocked that I am so sloppy. Shocked that I seemingly have no control over my sloppiness. The more I think about it, the madder I get.

Maybe a good healthy disgust will replace that knot in the pit of my stomach.

Juice Apple Demand Spreads Into Canada

BELDING — The demand for juice apples by Michigan cider makers, which normally grinds up about 25 per cent of the Michigan apple crop, has spread across the border into Canada this year.

Cider makers, faced with a dwindling supply of juice apples in Michigan, have been paying a record $2 a hundredweight for apples to keep their juice mills operating.

Michigan experienced a decline in apple production this year and the apples that did grow were larger and too attractive to processors wanting them for products other than cider.

What the 'Good Roads' Bill Means to Oakland County

By ED BLUNDEN

Q: Will the added revenue for the county in the new law allow the county road commission to carry on the program the board of supervisors rejected earlier this year?

A: Not fully. Added revenue to the county will be about $450,000 in 1968 and $1.2 million per year thereafter. As you will recall, the road commission asked for about $2.1 million for 1968.

Q: Do you think more money will be needed?

A: To do the job we feel the county needs in the coming years, yes. But at this point we have no idea where it will come from. We have been advised by the County Supervisors' Ways and Means Committee to ask county residents for an election, but this doesn't seem advisable at this time.

Q: What will the new revenue mean to the average county citizen?

A: It will mean better roads. Two-thirds of the money will be spent on improvement and widening projects and the other third will go toward better maintenance.

Q: There are many complaints about county road conditions, how does the road commission determine which roads will be worked on?

A: First off, our planning division makes a periodic survey of all county roads. This excludes state and U.S. roads and some incorporated city and village streets. County roads total about 2,450 miles. The planners assign a priority to roads needing improvement such as widening. The categories are: critical, urgent, necessary and desirable. As highway engineer, I am required to evaluate each project and present a program to the road commission. The commissioners then make the decision based, of course, on how much money is available.

Q: Is it possible the road commission could make some politically motivated decisions regarding whose road is improved?

A: It's possible but not probable. The needs are so great there is little room for nonessential construction. The commission is responsible to the county voters in an indirect way. They are elected by the board of supervisors for six-year terms. In some counties, they get office by a direct vote.

Q: Some of the bitterest criticism of the road commission comes from the northern townships where most roads are gravel. What can they expect in the future?

A: To begin with, there is no such thing as a "good" gravel road. Most of those roads will have to some day be paved. Eight years ago we made a study that indicated $200 million will be needed in a 20-year period to bring our roads up to a reasonable standard. We do not have anywhere near that much and can't see where we are going to get it. The work will proceed on a priority basis, however. The communities can help their own cause by volunteering to participate.

Q: Participate in what way?

A: They can be willing to share costs, normally on a 50 per cent level. A lot of roads have been and are now being taken care of in this fashion. A township or city is not obliged to share in costs, but it certainly has a lot to do with the decisions by the commission and 50 per cent participation on "local road" construction is a statutory requirement.

Q: On what basis is cost-sharing or assessment to adjacent property owners based?

A: By the type of traffic on the road. If it's a county primary road, the commission will probably bear all or most of the cost. If the road is used mostly by community residents, a larger share would be expected. In the case of a subdivision road used mostly by residents as access to their homes, the entire cost would be assessed to them.

Q: What about emergency-type situations where a road partially washes away or huge potholes develop?

A: If it's a genuine emergency, our vehicles will be dispatched. The less-traveled roads will have to wait on a priority basis. A citizen who has a bad spot near his home can have his own road project by buying gravel at $1 per yard. The dollar covers the cost of the gravel, and we supply the vehicle and men. It amounts to about a 50-50 proposition.

WTHS Gridders Do 54-6 'Something' to Arch Rival Kettering

Halfback Goit Scores 4 TD's to Lead Rout

By DON VOGEL.

"Before the game started, I felt the boys were ready, really ready to do something," said Waterford coach John Moffat.

It will be a long time before the Kettering people forget what that "something" turned out to be last night. Waterford fans in the overflow crowd of 2,500 at Township High's field were still pinching themselves at halftime to make sure it was really true.

The Skippers scored almost all in the opening two quarters and went on to rout Kettering, 54-6. It was the worst defeat in the Captains' seven-year gridiron history.

But it wasn't the most points scored by a Waterford team. The Skippers defeated West Bloomfield, 58-0, in 1955.

It was the final game for both teams. The Skippers finished with a 5-1 record while Kettering concluded at 3-6.

Any victory over Kettering is a sweet one for the Skippers. Waterford is the senior school in the township, but has suffered through continued sports success by the relative newcomer, including five victories in six football meetings.

The frustration was partly wiped out last night as Waterford picked up victory No. 2 in the series and the Naval Reserve trophy — which goes to gridiron winner between the schools — led by bevy of fast backs.

Steve Goit did the most damage, scoring four touchdowns, but Mike Sheldon, Neil Blackmer and Jim Colbeth had their moments of glory. So did fullback, Gene Pankner of the Captains before a possible head injury in the third quarter sent him to the hospital.

Officials at Pontiac General reported X-rays were taken and he was released. Goit opened the scoring in the first period with a 29-yard end and sweep after Sheldon had put the ball in position with a 38-yard punt. Punt returns of 74 and 92 yards by Goit sparked a 27-point second period as the Skippers built an insurmountable 40-0 lead.

A junior, Goit concluded his night's work with a 14-yard scoring burst in the third quarter. In addition to his punt returns, the fleet-footed halfback rushed for 75 yards in seven tries and caught one pass for 18 more.

Sheldon was the top ground-gainer with 144 yards in nine tries. He made the score 13-0 in the first period with a 61-yard sprint up the middle. In the last half, he saw considerable action at quarterback.

Brad Potter, the starting signal caller, picked up a second period TD on a one-yard sneak and kept the Captains' off-stride with his deft ball handling.

Blackmer carried only three times, but one was for 23 yards and a second quarter touchdown. Colbeth, a reserve defensive halfback, scored the game's last touchdown late in the fourth quarter when he picked off a pass and raced 91 yards.

Kettering's lone tally came after Pankner broke loose on a 33-yard run to the Waterford 23 and was taken out of the game. On the next play, quarterback Dennis Wooster passed to end Joe O'Connor on the goal-line.

Xavier Plans Change

CINCINNATI (AP) — Xavier University's football team suffered a setback before even leaving Cincinnati Friday for their game with Western Michigan.

The Musketeers' chartered DC-7 airliner could not leave its Dayton headquarters because of engine trouble.

Athletic director James McCafferty went into a quick huddle with the airlines and managed to get Coach Ed Biles, 47 players and three other members of the party aboard three different airliners leaving for Michigan.

BREAKS INTO CLEAR — Halfback Steve Goit breaks out of the pack on the way to a 92-yard touchdown jaunt, after way to the end zone as Larry Thompson of the Captains gives chase. Waterford rolled to a 54-6 victory.

WINNING COACH — John Moffat of Waterford shows his elation along the sidelines as the Skippers erupted for 27 points in the second quarter. It was the first victory for a Moffat coached team over Kettering after two setbacks.

DIFFERENT VIEW — Kettering mentor Jim Larkin appears to be pondering over the sinking of the Captains for the second time in the series with Waterford. Kettering still holds a 5-2 advantage.

Walled Lake in 'Usual' Win

Don't shed any tears for Walled Lake in the 1968 forecast.

The Vikings finished the 1967 season as the only unbeaten team in Oakland County by doing what they've done four times . . . winning by one point. This time Ann Arbor was the victim, 21-20.

It was a glorious 8-0-1 season for Leo Polson, making his debut as head coach this year after taking the reins from Dave Smith, now an assistant at Michigan State.

Walled Lake, predominantly a junior team, will have a strong nucleus with which to start the 1968 season, losing only four members of the offensive unit and four from the defensive squad.

One player who will be missed however is Greg Fogle, ace runner who scored two touchdowns last night and picked up 135 of the team's 176 rushing yards in 23 carries.

After Ann Arbor took a 13-0 first period lead, Fogle went six yards and ran the point to make it 13-7. The Vikings marched 76 yards in 13 plays in this series.

LONG TOUCHDOWN

Ann Arbor scored on the second play of the game when Jerry Snider passed 90 yards to Jerry Steinke and then missed the point.

A few moments later, Ann Arbor marched 85 yards in 16 plays and Snider hit for the TD on a 35-yard aerial to Steinke.

BC Central Adds to Title Tradition

The every-other-year tradition grew Friday night for unbeaten Bay City Central.

The state's top-ranked Class A power clinched its third Saginaw Valley Conference title in five seasons — winning in 1963, 1965, 1967 — by just edging Flint Southwestern, 20-19, before nearly 6,000 fans.

The win was the Wolves' ninth in a row this season and concluded their second unbeaten season in the past three years. Since 1962, BC Central has lost only four grid games.

John Ewings' two conversions were the difference against inspired Southwestern (14-3). Joel Mathew tallied two six-pointers and Leroy Davis the other one for the Wolves.

Saginaw Arthur Hill, who reigned in 1964 and last fall, took fourth place by downing Pontiac Central, 13-7; Flint Central nipped Flint Northwestern in a nonleague, 12-7; and Midland surprised Saginaw, 15-0, to tie PCH for sixth.

Spartan Frosh Rally

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State's freshman football team spotted Indiana's yearlings an 18-13 halftime lead then came zipping back to a 35-18 victory Friday night in a game played in a constant rain.

Pontiac Central's Chiefs Fall to Arthur Hill, 13-7

SAGINAW — Outgunned Saginaw Arthur Hill came from behind last night to turn back a fired-up Pontiac Central squad in a Saginaw Valley Conference contest, 13-7.

Outplayed through most of the game, the Arthur Hill eleven trailed at halftime, 7-6, but scored the clincher late in the third and held off a Pontiac rally in the fourth to sew up the game.

The win evened Arthur Hill's SVC record at 4-4 and left the team with a season mark of 5-4.

For the Chiefs of Pontiac Central, it was their fourth loss against two wins and a pair of ties. They close the season next Saturday afternoon against city rival Northern at Wisner Stadium.

For PCH, it was a case of winning the battle but losing the war.

The Chiefs easily outclassed their hosts in the running game, outgaining them 166 to 95, but Arthur Hill passes and a few plays off the belly series ruined the Chiefs.

LEADS RUNNERS

Mike Shorters, a 5-11, 200-pounder in his second game at the fullback post, sparked the Chief's ground game with 100 yards rushing and scored the lone PCH touchdown on the lone Central pass completion of the evening.

Quarterback Larry Froede, still hampered by an injury he suffered two weeks ago, completed the lone pass, that a 10-yarder to Shorters at 3:03 mark of the first period that sent the Chiefs into a 7-0 lead with Mike Prince's PAT kick.

The Chiefs scoring drive was a 64-yard march in 14 plays, with Shorters carrying the ball seven times and Walter Terry getting the call six times.

PCH had another scoring opportunity later in the first half after recovering a fumble at the Arthur Hill 25. The Chiefs moved to the 16, but a holding penalty killed the drive.

From their own 38, the Lumberjacks scored in three plays.

LONG PASSES

Quarterback Gary Herzler teamed on a 37-yard pass to 6-5 end Bill Pringle and came back with a 20-yarder to 6-6 end Bob Welzen for a first down on the Chiefs' five. On the next play, Bill White went up the middle for the touchdown.

The payoff came at the 34-yard line when Herzler took the snap, moved laterally across the field and pitched the ball at the last moment to Mike Schwartz who finished the 34-yard run. Willard Ducharme booted the extra point.

After 26 Games, Lake Orion Celebrates Victory

Dragons Score 14-0 Win Over Arch-Rival Oxford

By JERE CRAIG

There was noise in the Lake Orion varsity football dressing room Friday night; such a clamor hadn't been heard in three long, bleak seasons.

It was the din resulting from a hard-earned victory. The green-and-white clad Dragons outplayed Oxford's fire-doused Dragons, 14-0, before the largest crowd of the 1967 Lake Orion home schedule — an estimated 2,500 fans.

The victory was the first for Orion in 27 games — the last win coming over Oxford in the 1964 finale. Only a tie in the season-ending game, with the Wildcats last year brought any previous joy during the two-year tour of coach Tom Prieur.

While a long time coming, the win was never really in doubt — despite the natural qualms of the coaching staff.

The Dragons stopped Oxford on the first series of downs and took over at their own 46 yard line. Four first downs later the home team was on Oxford's eight.

The Orion eleven stalled and lost possession at the five; but then came the first of two decisive plays that put the winners in complete control.

HITS HARD

The visitors moved for a first down to their 15. But the Dragons' defensive specialist Jim Rose jarred the pigskin loose from Dan Jones and fell on it at the Oxford three.

Chuck Whippo, a hard-charging junior tailback, carried the ball to paydirt in two tries. Walt Hagelin added the first of two extra point kicks.

The 7-4 bulge was all the Dragons needed but Whippo added an insurance marker on what was probably one of the best executed running plays the Orion squad produced all season.

Faced by a fourth-and-goal situation at the Wildcats' six and 5 minutes to go in the first half, Lake Orion worked a draw play with Whippo scouting through a huge hole to paydirt. Hagelin's PAT completed the scoring.

Oxford had only one good penetration, moving to the Orion 33 on some fine running by Garry Cummings and a key 15-yard penalty against the host eleven.

The second half degenerated into a succession of fumbles and penalties. The winners only had two brief moves into the Wildcats territory.

The triumph earned the Dragons possession of the Bronze Football after Oxford had held it with a win in 1965 and the tie last fall.

The losers finish at 2-7 while Orion ended a string of eight consecutive losses this year.

ORION POWER SWEEP — Lake ball carrier Chuck Whippo (right) — a work-horse tailback all night — follows fullback Don Gulli (31) and signal caller Bill Baker on a sweep against Oxford Friday night.

Gulli and Whippo (who scored both touchdowns in the Dragons' 14-0 victory) put spark into what has been a none-too-effective running attack this season.

Rochester Outlasts Clarkston

Falcons Take Advantage of Wolves Errors

Rochester of the Oakland-A League capitalized on two interceptions and a fumble and handed Clarkston of the rival Wayne-Oakland League a 20-15 defeat in the finale for both teams last night.

The Falcons took a 13-0 first quarter lead with Russ Gill going 25 yards on a first interception of the game. Rochester just finished a 40 yard march to the Clarkston 29, when the Wolves took over and gave up the ball on the interception.

Rochester again marched toward the Clarkston goal, but was stopped to turn the ball over to Clarkston. However, the Wolves lost possession again, this time on a fumble on the six.

On the first play Dave Marr went the six yards and the point was added.

Clarkston finally started a drive going midway in the second period, aided by two 15 yard penalties which moved the ball to the Rochester 18.

Bob Paladino then passed 13 yards to Tom Bullard for the touchdown.

Rochester wasted no time retaliating and again it was a pass interception which started the Falcons' drive. Dave Ludwig stole the ball this time and ran for the 34 to the nine. Mike Phillips went three yards for the TD.

Clarkston's defense strengthened in the second half and the Wolves scored in the third quarter on a 8 yarder by Paladino.

In the 4th quarter, Mike Scatley was called for intentional grounding of a pass from the end zone and a safety was awarded Clarkston.

In the first half Rochester held Clarkston to minus-17 yards rushing and the Wolves finally finished with a net of 22 on the ground for the game.

Rochester closed the season with an overall 7-2 record while Clarkston finished 5-3-1.

SHOWING HIS HEELS—Waterford half-back Neil Blackmer pulls away from two Kettering defenders, Tom Howison and Gary McPherson (74), on the way to a 23-yard touchdown run in the second quarter.

The Skippers piled up a 40-0 halftime lead.

WTHS Defeats Captains, 54-6

Skippers Post 40-0 Halftime Margin

Pankner bulled his way for 101 yards in 17 tries to break the school career record. The 210-pound first fullback upped his three-year varsity mark to 1,066 yards rushing, well above the 996 standard set by Jim Haviland.

DROPPED PASSED

Wooster connected on 11 of 24 passes for 181 yards and his record would have been better except for three dropped passes, including a 40-yarder in the end zone.

Tackle Mike Vidor and end Bill Foley led an inspired Waterford defense that held Pankner to 24 yards rushing the first half. Most of the Kettering star's yardage came early in the third period against the No. 1 Skipper defense.

Quarterbacks aren't noted for their blocking, but Potter threw the key block on both of Gold's scoring end sweeps and also was a front-runner on several other power sweeps.

Other important downfield blocks during scoring runs were made by tackle Steve Wylie, Saffron and Craig Whetstone.

Waterford was favored, but no one suspected that the contest would turn into a rout.

Kettering coach Jim Larkin had little to say after the contest.

O'Connor had a good night in the receiving department.

The big end hauled in seven catches for 113 yards. Pankner grabbed four for 38 and end Craig Cattell the other for 30.

Avon Closes on Sour Note

Avondale's band struck a sour and costly note last night as the Yellow Jackets were losing a 26-13 decision to highly-regarded Marysville.

With the score tied at 13-all and Marysville facing a third and nine situation late in the game, the band, ignoring a warning by officials, turned a few notes loose as the Marysville team prepared to run a play and the official promptly handed Avondale a 15-yard unsportsmanlike penalty for the musical work.

Avondale coach Bob Young wasn't blaming the band for the loss, however. "We might have stopped them, but you don't know."

As events unfolded, Marysville took the first down via the penalty and moved down the field to complete an 80-yard touchdown march to break the 13-13 tie.

That score came with about three minutes left in the game.

Brighton 11 Rallies to Nip Milan, 7-6

An eight-yard run by Kevin Rosswurm and John Perry's PAT kick brought Brighton from behind for a 7-6 victory over Milan last night.

The Milan squad grabbed a 6-0 lead in the second quarter on a two-yard plunge by Don Outland.

Brighton's defense held off the Milan attack throughout the second half, and the Bulldogs picked up a fumble on their own three to stop a Milan drive with only seconds left in the game.

Jim Almashy jarred the ball loose from the Milan runner and teammate Bill Wright recovered the ball on the three to preserve the win. Brighton finished with a 3-6 record.

BC Lions Extend Pact

VANCOUVER, B.C. — Jim Champion's contract as coach of the British Columbia Lions in the Canadian Football League was extended through the 1969 season Friday.

Fenton Routs Holly, 54-13

Winners Score Four TDs in First Period

"It hurt to watch the scoreboard," said coach Elmer Rose who was forced to watch as the Holly Broncos were routed by Fenton last night, 54-13.

"They just did everything better than us. They showed us how to play football," Rose added.

Fenton, closing with a 9-0 record and a high ranking among the state's Class B squads, pushed across 26 points in the first period, stopped single touchdowns in the second and third stanzas and wrapped it up with 11 points in the fourth.

The Broncos (3-5-1) picked up single six-pointers in the final two periods.

Fenton's ground game clicked for 327 yards and the Tigers added another 121 through the air.

SCORES THREE

Doug Schubach peaked the winners with three touchdowns while Mike Kakuska and Vance Huff scored twice apiece.

Tom Roeder rambled one yard for the first Holly score in the third stanza and Dave Darn took over the other on a four-yard jaunt in the fourth. The losers played without their top runner, Tom Hayes, who was injured in practice earlier in the week.

Fenton started fast, scoring touchdowns on three of its first five plays from scrimmage.

Boxer Looking for Joe Frazier

NEW YORK (AP) — James J. Woody, a giant-killer in Madison Square Garden, hoped today to get a shot at unbeaten Joe Frazier in the Garden on Dec. 8.

"We'll try and make it," said Harry Markson, the Garden's boxing director, after the 6-foot, 201-pound New Yorker trounced lumbering 6-3, 228-pound Dante Cane of Italy in a 10-round upset Friday night.

Milford Back Takes County Scoring Title

Speedy Bob McFarland of Milford turned in one of his finest performances of the season last night in leading the Redskins to an easy 34-12 victory over Swartz Creek.

And while helping the Redskins to an 8-1 record and the Wayne-Oakland League championship, McFarland grabbed a personal honor by capturing the Oakland County scoring crown.

McFarland went into last night's action against Swartz Creek six points behind Tom Hayes of Holly, but the Holly ace was injured earlier in the week and didn't play against Fenton last night so it left the door open for McFarland.

He took advantage of the opportunity by scoring four touchdowns to hike his point total to 113 and earn the right to the Pontiac Press scoring trophy.

Along with his four touchdowns, McFarland picked up 147 yards rushing and added another 32 on a pass reception.

FIRST SCORE

The 165-pound speedster started the Redskins on the way to victory in the first period when he teamed with quarterback Bob Clineard on a 32-yard pass-and-run play.

Clineard clicked with Doug Powers on a five-yard scoring aerial early in the second frame, and McFarland dashed four yards for his second tally as Milford took a 21-0 lead in the interim.

Keith Martin rambled four yards and Rick Pertler scooted 72 yards in the third stanza as Swartz Creek cut the Milford lead to 21-12, but McFarland made it 28-12 with a 32-yard romp later in the third and he capped the scoring with a fourth eight-yard jaunt in the fourth period.

The potent Milford machine ground out 238 yards rushing and picked up another 158 in the air as Clineard hit on nine of 21 passes.

Romeo Trims Stevenson in Season Finale

It took a couple periods to get untracked, but then the Romeo Bulldogs rolled over Utica Stevenson, 27-0 in their season finale last night.

Pete Sweeney threw a pair of touchdown passes to spark the Bulldogs.

His first toss was a 15-yarder to Mike Martin and Ron Taber converted the point.

In the third period also, Clyde Cushingberry intercepted a pass and raced 70 yards for the second touchdown. It was 14-0 with Taber's point.

A sustained drive early in the fourth period ended with Brad Czajka sweeping for the final seven yards to make it 20-0.

In the closing minutes Sweeney connected for his second TD loss, a 25-yarder to Harry Race and Cole Puvogel added the point.

Stevenson's best penetration was the five yard line in the first half.

Spearheading the defensive strategy against Stevenson were defensive end Dan Craft and middle guard Dan Campbell.

Romeo finished with a 4-5 season record while Stevenson completed a 2-6 season.

Roseville Halts Hazel Park 11

Oak Park Squeaks Past Berkley, 7-6

Non-conference foes pinned final season setbacks on Southeastern Michigan Association's Berkley and Hazel Park squads last night.

Eastern Michigan League co-champion Roseville (6-2) blanked Hazel Park (4-5), 29-0, while Oak Park (3-7) of the Northwest Suburban League pinned a 7-6 setback on Berkley (6-8-1).

Quarterback Ken Flott was the big gun for the Roseville crew.

He scored once and passed for the other two touchdowns and he wound up completing 12 of 14 passes for 299 yards.

OPENING SCORING

Flott opened the scoring in the second period on a 12-yard run. He pitched a 36-yarder to Bruce Vinson in the third and the two teamed on a 64-yarder in the final frame.

Berkley jumped in front in the first quarter when Roy Downie scored on a five-yard run but Oak Park came back in the fourth period to pull it out on a nine-yard run by Don Weiss and a PAT pass from Weiss to Dale Kuntick.

Deckerville closed a perfect season with a 9-0 record by defeating Saginaw Tech 24-0 last night.

Terry McGregor scored two touchdowns on a two yard run and a 40 yard pass from Paul Nussman. Nussman also passed 40 yards to Wayne Allen and Mike Foss went six yards for the other.

NL Expansion Meeting Set Monday

CHICAGO (AP) — The National League, which will hold a baseball expansion meeting Monday, was forced into action after the rival American League, president of the National League, said cities seeking a franchise will not be invited to have representatives at the meeting.

National League owners feel they must hold this special meeting to be prepared for a joint meeting which Commissioner William Eckert is certain to call at the winter meetings in Mexico City Nov. 28-Dec. 2.

While the National League has applications from several cities for membership, said Giles, "this will not be an appropriate meeting to hear representatives of those cities and none will be invited to appear."

ALLOW MOVE
Last month the American League also met in Chicago and gave Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics from Kansas City to Oakland and then awarded expansion franchises to Seattle and Kansas City, if possible, in 1969.

While Giles says representatives from franchise-seeking cities will not be invited, there appears little he can do from avoiding such action within the ranks.

E. J. "Buzze" Bavasi, general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers, is bidding for a Seattle franchise. Bavasi undoubtedly will have the backing of his boss, Walter O'Malley, the powerful owner of the Dodgers.

Recently, Pacific Northwest Sports, Inc., bought the Seattle Angels of the Pacific Coast League. Pacific Northwest is headed by attorney Max Soria, whose group recently applied for an American League franchise to operate in Seattle beginning in 1969.

The Milwaukee matter also might be brought up at the meeting. Since having lost the Braves to Atlanta in 1965, Milwaukee interests have been hammering away for a franchise.

Earlier this month, a group of Wisconsin businessmen offered virtually free use of an enlarged County Stadium plus an initial $3.8 million radio-television contract in hopes of regaining a major league team.

Among other areas seeking major league franchises are San Diego, Dallas-Fort Worth and Buffalo, N.Y.

There also have been some reports that the National League might seek a deal with the American League in which the NL would take Seattle and Kansas City with the AL putting teams in Milwaukee and Dallas-Fort Worth.

The increase of bowling tournaments — this weekend the Michigan Men's Invitational Singles and the state 700 Chapters' annual Jamboree are luring many top local men — has undoubtedly screened the fact that Thursday is the first deadline for this year's Pontiac Open Bowling Championships.

Entry blanks have been distributed to all the establishments in the Bowling Proprietors Association of North Oakland County and, if the owners are promoting sufficiently, most area bowlers should be familiar with the popular tournament's dates and format.

Men and women are eligible this year. It takes only 600 with handicap to reach the semifinals, and more than $2000 is offered in guaranteed prizes to the finalists.

This has to be one of the most attractive bowling tournaments. The entry fee is only $7 compared to the $25 and $40 levies in some of the supposedly more prestigious competitions.

In addition, the payoffs are made just before Christmas when extra money is always welcomed. The lane action, moreover, is all at establishments that are easily accessible to the entrants — both for practice and the journey.

Over the years, the Pontiac Open Championships have been won by bowlers with high handicaps and none at all. The inclusion of special features — the Actuals Invitational, Mix 'N' Match doubles, Team

N Match score, high game, high series and even triplicates — increases the chances for winning some of the prize money.

Cosponsored by the city recreation department, the Press and the proprietors, the tournament is designed to enhance bowling's appeal and appearance as a leading Pontiac area sports.

The final verdict, though, depends upon the pride of this area's men and women bowlers.

SPARE PINS

The Pontiac Women's Bowling Association will have its first open meeting of the season at 5 p.m. tomorrow in the Elks Temple on Orchard Lake Ave.

A main topic of the meeting will be tournament rules.

Local women are advised that entries for next spring's Women's International Bowling Congress Tournament at San Antonio are now being taken only on a first-come basis. No more reserved dates are available.

The Pontiac 700 Chapter will travel to Ypsilanti tomorrow — perhaps by the 300 Bowl bus if enough men desire to — for the annual state clubs' jamboree.

The bowling will begin 1 p.m. at Ypsi-Arbor Lanes on Washenaw Road. The cost is $4 for the bowling, the prize fee and a lunch for two.

Palmer Holds Lead in 'Blurred' Round

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Arnold Palmer, plagued by blurs on the last two holes Friday for a two-under-par 70 and took a four-stroke individual lead after 36 holes of the World Cup Golf Tournament.

Palmer, who has never won the individual trophy although he has played on five Cup championship teams, had a 138 total at the halfway point in this tournament for national prestige and personal honor.

6-STROKE LEAD
Jack Nicklaus, playing erratic golf, shot a one-under 71 to give the Americans a 281 total and a six-stroke lead over Argentina in the team competition.

Palmer got sand in his left eye blasting out of a fairway trap on the first hole, and it bothered him the rest of the round. He eyed several times but still couldn't get rid of the last grain.

"I feel fine except for this eye," Palmer said. "It gets blurry once in a while. It's just a piece of dirt. Everybody gets that."

Deluge Delays Women's Golf

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Rain forced delay of the $11,500 Quality Check Classic Women's Golf Tournament over the Lake Waco course Friday.

Two inches of rain Thursday wiped out about half of the promoter event.

A revised schedule called for 27 holes today and another 27 holes on Sunday.

Likes to Carry Pigskin

By the Associated Press
"I cannot tell a lie," says Bill Mathis. "I'm a running back and the thing I like to do most is what every other running back likes to do—carry the ball."

How well Mathis does the thing he likes to do most may go a long way in determining whether the New York Jets do what they would like to do most—win the American Football League's Eastern Division title.

The Jets championship hopes may have been put in jeopardy last week when Emerson Boozer, the league's top scorer and the team's top rusher, was put out of commission for the season with a knee injury.

Mathis, who has been playing fullback in place of the injured Matt Snell, moves to Boozer's halfback slot against Buffalo this week as Snell returns for the first time since the beginning of the season.

So far this season, Mathis has been making his presence felt in the pass-receiving department with 18 receptions for 279 yards and two touchdowns. Last week, he became the fourth back this season to catch more than 100 yards worth of passes in a game, snaring nine for 135 yards.

But still it's running that Mathis prefers, and with the Bills' league-leading pass defense staring Jets' quarterback Joe Namath in the face, it's running he may have to do.

In other AFL games Sunday, Houston defeated Denver, Miami is at San Diego and Kansas City plays Boston. Oakland drew a bye.

The Jets lead the Eastern Division by one game over Houston. The Oilers have had trouble mounting a consistent offense and Denver gave Western Division-leading Oakland trouble last week before losing its eighth straight.

Pete Beathard went all the way for the Oilers against Boston last week, a game the Patriots won, while Steve Tensi did the bulk of the quarterbacking for the Broncos.

The Chargers are second in the West to Oakland and still have the most productive offense in the league. John Hadl has thrown for 300 or more yards in each of the last three games. Bob Griese calls the signals for the Dolphins.

The Chiefs scored an impressive victory over the Jets last week, but still are running third in their division. Mike Garrett gained 192 yards for Kansas City last week. Jim Nance did the ground gaining for the Patriots in their victory over Houston.

Simplicity Of Black Burlaped Tokonoma Highlights Decorating Theme In Family Room

Angled Louvers Divide Family-Living Rooms

Walnut Divider Facilitates Entertaining

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Innovations incorporated into the Joseph Kardases' home include a novel room divider. Designed by Kardas, the furniture-finished walnut slats separate the formal living room from the informal family room.

"It's ideal," said Mrs. Kardas, "for entertaining. It permits a free flow of conversation and creates an open feeling so that people don't feel separated while in a large group."

A tokonoma, backed in black burlap, adds an Oriental accent to the family room, provides a conversation piece second to none and allows Mrs. Kardas to change the room's decorating mood easily.

One of her favorite groupings combines a textured oil of the Madonna by Betty Mallow and white gladioli in a 4all white ceramic container. A spotlight further enhances the arrangement.

Near the monkey pod serving bar is an interesting floor planter made of natural driftwood.

"We discovered the piece near Drummond Island," said Mrs. Kardas, an avid collector of interesting floral containers.

CLEAR WAX

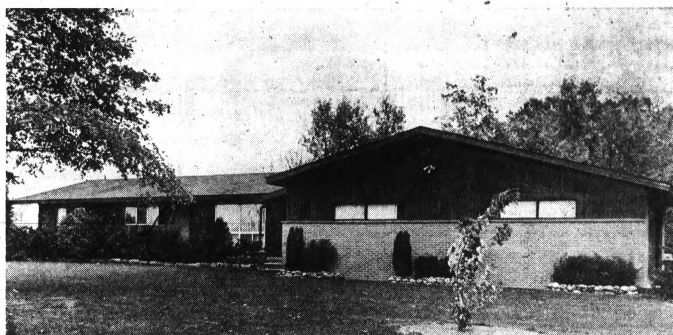

"I brought it back and had a gas station attendant use the air hose on it. When it was clear, I soaked it with preservative, let it dry and gave it a coat of clear wax."

The driftwood ring holds a potted difenbachia and variegated philodendron. Hand-carved decoys complete the grouping.

Offer House Design Help to Oldsters

Senior farm citizens or city folks who are thinking of retiring in the country will be interested in special plans designed by housing specialists of the Agricultural Research Service. They are based on research on the living habits of older people. These houses are designed to provide housing that is safe, healthful and stimulating for older people without constantly reminding them of age and infirmities.

In their plans the ARS specialists included safety features to protect against hazards caused by poor vision, unsteadiness of hand, unsureness of gait and lack of balance.

Working drawings of "One Bedroom Farmhouse" (No. 7154) and "Solar-Type Farm Cottage" (No. 7149) may be obtained from extension agricultural engineers at state universities, according to John Concord, housing consultant to Masonite Corporation.

Concord suggested also that senior citizens spend some winter evenings researching their housing needs. He suggested these sources:

"Retirement Housing for Rural Areas," Agricultural Information Bulletin No. 297, for which send 20 cents to the superintendent of documents, U.S. Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

"Your Second Home," free from the Masonite Home Service Bureau, Box B, Chicago, Ill. 60690.

Teens' Blab-Pad Under Stairwell

Too much teen phone talk? Build them a blab-pad under the basement stairs, enclosing space at the high end with 2x4 studs. Panel its interior with rough pine boards. Hang a shelf, install a phone, add a chair and a scrap of colorful carpet.

Mobile Home Purchases Up

A record number of families, 21,500, purchased mobile homes in July, an eight per cent increase over July '66, according to the Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association of Chicago.

The total mobile home purchases for July was an industry high.

"Another record year, the industry's sixth straight, is becoming a reality," says Edward L. Wilson, MHMA Managing Director. "This year our industry should produce over 30 per cent of the nation's total single family housing starts. Last year it was 27 per cent."

While mobile housing starts were up, dealer inventories declined by six per cent, indicating that retailers will continue buying during the next few months.

Mobile home manufacturers shipped 19,500 units in July, an eight per cent increase over '66. For the seven months, ending July 31, the industry shipped 3,380 more units than '66, a three per cent increase.

Mobile homes account for 75 per cent of all single family housing starts valued at less than $12,500. Over 4 million Americans live in these dwellings with the average size being 12' wide by 60' long and retailing for $5,700.

Hints for Choosing Reliable Dealer

When choosing an appliance dealer in a new town, check with neighbors for their opinions.

If several point to the same dealer, give him a try.

An informative, courteous selling approach is another good clue.

Name brands and a reputation for good service also can help you make your decision.

STYLE BLEND—This contemporary living room created for relaxation achieves superb harmony of line, warmth and color. The walnut chair and desk are Queen Anne, 18th century delighting the eye with graceful and uncomplicated curves. The oversized couch in scarlet adds to the warmth of the fireplace flames casting a flickering glow over the room. White, black and pink accessory pillows add touches of color as well as comfort. The low serving tables conveniently near those seated are shingly charming glass and brass. The folding red vinyl screen blends with the beautiful Georgetown red floor of textured colonial brick in solid vinyl which needs no waxing. Also easy to care for are the paneled walls in bleached oak. A classic frame borders the antique mirror over the fireplace. The abstract painting has color tones blending with the overall decor. This room was created by noted interior designer Marvin Culbreth, A.I.D.

Rapid Growth Spurs Community Woes

Between 1950-60, Minneapolis-St. Paul grew faster than any of America's other 14 largest metropolitan areas except Washington, D.C., and greater Los Angeles, according to University of Minnesota researchers.

The University's John S. Hoyt said the seven-county area grew during that decade by an average of nearly 35,000 inhabitants a year, mostly in the suburbs.

And projections for 1975-2000, he said, indicate an average annual growth of almost 75,000 residents a year, virtually all in the suburbs.

"These same 'bedroom communities' will continue to capture the lion's share of new jobs," Hoyt predicted.

From 1950-1966, he said, the suburbs gained about 600,000 residents and 175,000 new jobs, while the core cities' populations declined somewhat and only 63,000 new jobs developed.

A WARNING
Hoyt warned that unless corrective actions are taken in advance, the increase in metropolitan area jobs will increase traffic congestion.

"More important, the solutions to the traffic problems and many other growing pains like urban blight will affect where we work, shop, how much time we spend on the road and how we spend our leisure time," he said.

"Equally important, the alternative solutions for these conditions also may substantially alter the fiscal conditions of numerous communities."

Besides Minneapolis and St. Paul, the seven-county area includes 133 other municipalities and 68 townships.

Plants Tell Time of Day

Edward H. Torbeck, a retired barber, is a gardener at heart. He has turned his blooming plants into a day-to-day calendar.

The 67-year-old Torbeck has manicured a portion of his lawn for his permanent calendar, arranging more than 1,700 plants in a display which forms a gentle slope on his front lawn.

For example, on the perimeter of the arc are the abbreviated days of the week shown in yellow alternantheras. The months and year 1967 are fashioned with living blue santolinas, and the date in red alternantheras.

Torbeck swaps the plants around daily to change the day of the month.

Torbeck has a hobby-sized greenhouse, and said he spends anywhere between two to 17 hours a day with his gardening.

Wood Use High

If all the wood used by Americans last year were piled up, it would cover an average city block and extend 460 miles into space. Amazingly, the forests grown even more wood than that in the same period.

Dining Nook Accents Color

Feel like doing something exciting to that tiny breakfast nook? Why not make it into a sunny garden room?

Here's how. Set 4x4-inch Douglas fir posts into each of the four corners and connect them around the perimeter with more 4x4s set up against the ceiling, like a crown molding.

Now cover the ceiling and one wall with gay, floral wallpaper in your favorite color combination. Paint the other walls, picking up the wallpaper's main color.

Then over one of the painted walls, install garden latticework on the diagonal — and watch how that little nook takes on the feeling of a garden pavilion.

For best contrast, stain the posts, beams and latticework a mid-brown or brown-black. The breakfast table and chairs, if wood, can be antiqued to match the paper and paint in the nook.

For windows, use decorative colored shades with matching valance.

Tile Nursery Is Sanitary as a Hospital

Although a home nursery should be hygienically designed, it does not mean that the room must have a sterile look about it.

A nursery can be as sanitary as a hospital room and, at the same time, be cheerful and colorful as any other room in your home, provided ceramic tile is used on the floor and the walls.

Tile is used throughout modern hospitals — even in surgical suites — because of its sanitary qualities. There are just no places where germs can hide in a tile surface.

Tile is used also by architects and interior designers as a decorative too. It is available in so many different colors, sizes, shapes and designs that the range of decor possibilities is unlimited.

The tile feature with the most "Mother-appeal" seems to be the surfacing's easy maintenance. An occasional once-over with a dampened cloth or mop can keep durable, stainproof ceramic tile new-looking year after year.

Stairway Woo? Look to Paneling

Stairways are tough areas to decorate. And they're even harder to maintain when there are youngsters in the family.

One way to eliminate the finger smudges up stairway walls and to create a handsome accent at the same time is to panel the walls.

Fingermarks simply don't show on natural-finished wood. Good choices would be western hemlock, ponderosa pine and Douglas fir. After sealing, finish the boards with clear plastic varnish.

Curtains too short? Deep fringe will add inches.

"Roughin' It the Easy Way

"Let's rough it . . . but not too much," seems to be the slogan of many vacation homeowners.

A Louisville builders reports great success with vacation houses that are situated in rustic wood and lake areas, but have convenient, up-to-date interiors that rival or surpass the features found in year-round houses.

UNUSUAL RANCH: Front wall of brick, with wrought iron grill in center, contributes to privacy of internal garden area set within dimensions of three-bedroom ranch. Unusual roof design and vertical boards help to put house into distinctive category.

Increased Privacy Sets Design Pace

The present-day requirement of increased privacy and additional outdoor living space is fulfilled here in a most interesting manner.

Taking the popular U-shaped plan as a starting point, architect Rudolph A. Matern has thrown an eye-catching wall across the front, creating a 32' by 16' outdoor area to be used as the individual owner prefers.

A portion of the wall is solid brick, while the balance is of decorative wrought iron. The iron is a sufficiently small and active pattern to make it a visual barrier, yet open enough not to cut off a breeze.

In this large space — surrounded by the wall, the main part of the house, the bedroom wing and the two-car garage — is a suggested internal garden and fountain.

Although generally open to the sky, this area has a flat roof covering the walk to the double-door front entrance, and another roof running along the wall to connect the garage to the front walk.

LAYOUT
All together, it is a most fascinating layout, practical as well as aesthetic. And what a wonderful conversation piece!

Once inside the house, one moves across the flagstone flooring of a foyer that controls traffic to three directions. The zoning of the plan is immediately evident.

The entire right wing is the private sleeping area; to the rear is the living room and the dining room; to the front and left is the service area.

Circulation throughout the house stands up to close scrutiny in any location — garage to lavatory to kitchen, kitchen to laundry to lavatory to outdoors, kitchen to front door, dining and living rooms to outdoor living in the rear, foyer to any of the three bedrooms.

The living room and dining room adjoin each other in an open plan 22' in length. Each portion of the combination has sliding glass doors leading to a rear porch.

The dining room also looks out on a side service porch, which has a large outdoor storage area and a full closet set into the house but with an outside door. There is a built-in china closet in the dining room, and a fireplace in the living room.

The same kind of open planning has been used for the kitchen and family room, with the combination accessible from the foyer, the dining room and the laundry-mud room.

EXTRA BATH
Next to the latter is a bathroom with a shower stall. Also in that area is the stairway to the basement, with the plans also including a provision for an auxiliary basement entrance outdoors.

At the right side of the house the three bedrooms are well supplied with closets. The master bedroom has a dressing room as well as a private bath, with two of its five closets having mirrored doors.

There is an unusually large linen closet in the bedroom hall. And the main bathroom, which has both a stall shower and a tub, has an interesting, built-in detail.

The front wall and short portion of a side wall is solid brick, exposed on the inside.

The two-car garage can be reached from the laundry-mud room or by going out the front door and walking along the covered garden walk and under the roofed passageway.

Vertical boards dominate the exterior of Design Z-14, with the front wall of brick and wrought iron providing a most decorative touch. Add to this the combination of flat and peaked sections of roof and you have a house with pleasing individuality.

FLOOR PLANS: Family members or visitors heading for front door get an enchanting view of an outdoor garden, yet are completely covered by a roof extending over walkway. Foyer is ideally placed to provide good circulation throughout the house.

Floor Proves a Vital Link

The floor-supporting structure is the vital link between house and foundation on whose strength depends safety in violent storms. It also has other major responsibilities. For example, walking comfort is determined by the resiliency of elements beneath the floors.

The Southern Pine Association recommends floor structures of lumber because of their resilient strength—an ability to absorb and cushion the shock of great loads. But not just any kind of lumber will do.

Lumber with high natural strength and nail-holding ability should be specified. It should also be properly dried and pre-shrunk before being surfaced to final size. Nails will not loosen in pre-shrunk lumber as they do when unseasoned framing dries in service.

Ironing Board Handy but Hidden

Want to hide the ironing board, yet keep it handy? Build a special ironing closet against a wall in the family room.

Frame the closet with a Douglas fir 1x8 on either side, toe nailing to the ceiling and floor.

Add a high shelf inside the closet for the iron and a can of spray starch.

New Design for Ceilings

A novel innovation in home design is to leave trussed rafters exposed for interior decoration.

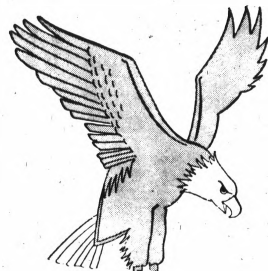

These efficient engineered devices, formed with lumber, are usually triangular in shape and provide clear-span roof support. When they are exposed, the interior has a striking cathedral character distinguished by the warmth of wood.

Quality requirements are high. Preshrinking and all-purpose grading have well adapted Southern Pine framing to this form of construction.

Antique Molding

Snappy decorating idea in a Colonial home calls for antiquing fireplace and cornice moldings to match carpeting or main upholstery fabric.

Put Kid Stuff in Built-Ins

Children have a way of growing up — and their possessions seem to grow even faster than the kids do.

But almost any youngster's room can be redesigned to hold the growing collection of this 'n' that. The trick is to substitute built-ins for standard furniture.

On the room's longest wall, for example, a closet, a large chest of drawers and a desk can be built in one continuous installation.

On a 12-foot wall, you'd use three feet for the desk, five for the dresser, and four for the closet. On a shorter wall, closet and chest space would be reduced, yet still yield considerable storage space.

Ideally, the storage wall would be located opposite the bed. Space on the headboard wall could then be utilized for additional storage with shallow bookcase-like installations built on either side of the bed.

Here books, toys, treasures and hobby materials could be kept.

All built-ins could be tailored of ponderosa pine lumber, finished with clear polyurethane to provide a tough wearing surface as well as maximum flexibility in choosing colors for carpets, bedspreads and draperies.

Hide Mars on Paneling

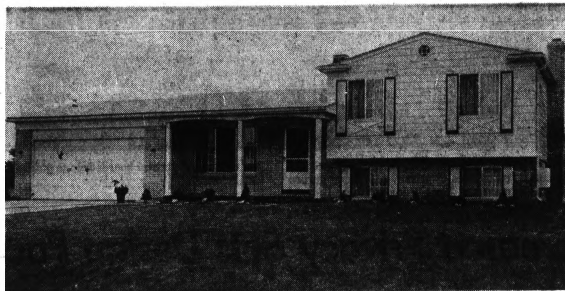

Has wall paneling in your home suffered a scratch or two? Such scratches usually can be "concealed" in the same manner used for fine furniture.

Try rubbing the broken half of a walnut meat over the scratch. Or use a bit of furniture polish that contains stain, wiping it off immediately after application.

A real gouge can be filled and colored with a wood filler stick that resembles a child's coloring crayon. Most wood colors are stocked by lumber yards.

Connally's Plan Not to Run Could Hurt LBJ

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Potential candidates to succeed Texas Gov. John Connally reexamined their prospects with interest today in the light of his decision not to seek another term.

There also was speculation on how Connally's move might affect support in Texas of a bid for reelection by President Lyndon B. Johnson, a long-time friend and political confidant of the governor.

While fellow Democrats jockeyed for position, Republicans applauded what many viewed as their best chance in 1968, to elect a Texas governor in 1968.

Connally said he had no endorsements in mind Friday when he announced that his third two-year term, ending January 1969, will be his last.

The governor said he concluded that, "no longer can be as sure in my own mind that I would bring to the office for another two years the enthusiasm, the resilience, the patience that my conscience would demand and the state would deserve."

Attention immediately focused on Sen. Ralph Yarborough, leader of liberal minority faction among Texas Democrats and long an enemy of Connally. Conservative Democrats defeated Yarborough in three races for governor before he won his senate seat.

Yarborough said in Dallas that he would not disclose his plans until the current session of Congress adjourns.

The senator told newsmen he thought the absence of Connally's name from the ballot would help—not hurt—President Johnson's chances in Texas.

"There's a lot of opposition to the Connally administration—a lot of dissatisfaction—and a lot of this was spilling over to President Johnson," Yarborough asserted.

CLOSE FRIENDS

Connally and Johnson are close personal friends, and some observers believe it would have been helpful for Connally to be on the ticket.

Johnson and Yarborough once were adversaries in the party, but they made up after President John Kennedy was assassinated and Johnson became President. Connally was wounded in the gunfire that killed Kennedy in Dallas Nov. 22, 1963.

Only one candidate definitely is in the race for governor so far, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, a Democrat, announced during the summer.

Former Rep. Joe Kilgore, D-Tex., now an Austin lawyer, has been mentioned. Kilgore said he has "basic feeling is not to do it," but "I am thinking about it—I haven't positively ruled it out."

Former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, defeated last year in an effort to unseat Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., also is looking at the race.

Carr said he had urged Connally to run "because I felt then and I feel now that there is a great danger that Texas government will fall into the hands of the extreme right or the extreme left because of the political restlessness I have found among the voters."

Two GOP possibilities are for-mer Atty. Gen. Will Wilson, who changed parties and supported Tower against Carr, and Rep. George Bush of Houston, who ran strongly for the Senate against Yarborough in 1964.

Legislators OK French Budget

On De Gaulle Threat to Dissolve Parliament

PARIS (UPI)—Cowed by the threat of immediate dissolution of parliament, French legislators voted early today to approve the government's controversial $26 billion national budget for 1968.

Government sources warned National Assembly members that president Charles de Gaulle would immediately dissolve the assembly if it rejected the crucial first reading of the budget.

The nine-month-old assembly still had four years to run.

The budget was approved by a 252-224 vote of the 487-seat house where the Gaullists hold a one-seat majority.

Premier Georges Pompidou took the floor to appeal for passage of the budget which he said would spur the economy. The Communist - leftist opposition said it wouldn't.

The government's victory indicated that opposition parties, despite their claims, were not prepared to face the prospect of another general election by ganging up on the government.

The Gaullist government was defeated three times in the past week in votes dealing with the budgets of specific ministries. But Pompidou staked the life of his cabinet on the national budget bill.

Before the key vote, the hostile opposition defeated 244-235 a government proposal to introduce advertisements on the state-owned radio and television networks.

Expectations at this point were that the opposition would continue voting against the government—even on the national budget—out of pique. But the temperature in the assembly cooled by midnight. The deputies approved 244 to 198 a government proposal to ease the taxation burden of farmers.

The budget bill will pass to the strongly anti-Gaullist, but relatively powerless, Senate. If approved, it will return to the assembly for a final reading.

Arson Prober's Home Hit by Fire Ignited by Bomb

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—Fire, ignited by a homemade bomb, heavily damaged Friday the home of Capt. Charles D. Funk, arson investigator for the city fire department and himself an arson target since June.

"It was a clear case of arson," said Funk of the fire to-day.

Funk said someone apparently entered through an unlocked door in the front of the house and threw the homemade bomb on an old couch in a utility room.

The fire quickly spread to the garage area where the paint was stored and to the kitchen. The interior of the remainder of the house suffered extensive smoke and water damage.

HOME IS RENTED
Funk, who rents the house, estimated the damages at $7,500.

Five sticks of dynamite wrapped in old clothing were found lying in the driveway of the home last June 19 by Mrs. Funk. The fuse on the explosives had gone out. James Galahan, 37, was charged with attempting to commit a felony in that case and faces trial next month.

About a month ago, Funk said, someone threw paint thinner on the couch in the utility room and struck a full book of matches in an unsuccessful attempt to set the house afire.

Last Saturday, he said, he was nearly run down when he went to an alley at the rear of the house to investigate a car with its lights out and motor running. "It came right at me and I jumped out of the way just in time," he said.

quality & economy with Stran-Steel buildings

You get economy with Stran-Steel buildings because economy is literally designed and built into every steel component. It is the natural result of quality planned, mass production techniques that are not only better, but also economical. The savings are passed along to you.

Before you build any building, discover why a Stran-Steel building is a better investment. Find out why Stran-Steel is able to offer written guarantees to back-up the performance of the steel components. Lower heating and cooling bills are the direct result of exclusive insulated wall systems. Faster construction, often 60 to 90 days, will get you in business sooner.

Call us for a free estimate or a copy of our brochure "100 Costly Mistakes To Avoid Before You Build." We are able to handle any complete turn-key project. Arrangements can be made for financing.

College Grads Join Ann Arbor Police

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The first five college graduates to complete training for patrolmen's posts with the Ann Arbor Police Department finished their seven week recruit indoctrination program Friday.

The five—four with degrees from Michigan State University and one from Yale—were the first to take the training since Police Chief Walter Krasny announced a policy a year ago of seeking to recruit college graduates for patrolmen jobs.

Also part of the plan was an offer by Krasny to send any officer on the force to college, with the city picking up the tab for tuition and other expenses. Eight of the some 70 patrolmen on the force are now enrolled in night classes.

Viet Cease-Fires Seen for Holidays

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said today South Vietnam would observe cease-fires on Christmas, and probably New Year's and the Vietnamese New Year next February.

The Christmas and New Year cease-fires would be for 24 hours and the Tet (Vietnamese New Year) truce would last 48 hours, he said.

Cease-fires have been held on all three holidays in previous years.

Thieu made the announcement during an inspection trip to Loc Ninh, 72 miles north of Saigon, the scene of a series of Communist attacks against a U.S. Special Forces camp and the district headquarters there last week.

“For the purpose of humanity and according to the religions, we will observe 24 hours of cease-fire like last year.” Thieu said in answer to a question about a possible Christmas truce, and added, “and maybe in the New Year's time, 24 hours, and for the Tet time 48 hours like last year.”

BOMBING PAUSE

Thieu made no reference to his proposal of a bombing pause over North Vietnam in return for an indication from Hanoi of a willingness to talk peace. He also did not say if the Christmas, New Year and Tet cease-fires would include a halt in bombing of the North, as they have in the past.

The president indicated that he would like to keep his contacts with Hanoi private. “I would like to do that with frankness and not with the purpose of publicity,” Thieu said.

Thieu said the program of austerity and mobilization he announced in his inauguration speech Oct. 31 was aimed at shortening the gap between the standard of living of the people in Saigon and in the countryside.

“In the near future we will see less cowboys (The Vietnamese term for hippies), less snack bars, less young men going around doing nothing and less strolling along the roadsides with the village girls... less face of corruption,” said Thieu.

The lowering of the draft age from 20 to 18, he commented, and the tightening up of draft exemptions should provide 65,000 men for the Vietnamese armed forces in 1968.

Ceremony Honors Vets

A wreath was placed at the feet of the bronze soldier guarding City Hall this morning in commemoration of Veterans' Day, by three area American Legion commanders and Mayor William H. Taylor Jr.

The Chief Pontiac Post 377 Color and Rifle Team stood as honor guard.

The wreath was placed at 11 a.m. to commemorate the service of veterans

Veterans Day Observances Focus on Viet Servicemen

By The Associated Press

Veterans Day observances focus on the servicemen in Vietnam as the nation pays tribute with parades and speeches to the men and women who have served in her armed forces.

President Johnson continues his inspection tour of defense facilities to coincide with observance of the legal holiday.

In Washington, in the President's absence, Deputy Secretary of Defense Paul Nitze is the principal speaker at Arlington National Cemetery, with many veterans groups on hand.

However, the Veterans of Foreign Wars voted to boycott the observance to protest a Pentagon order that burials be restricted in Arlington because of the possibility the cemetery may run out of space.

Detroit readied its biggest parade ever, with American Legion officials prepared for a large turnout due to the Vietnam war “and the growing number of people who support our fighting men.”

PASS OUT SOAP

Some dissenters against the war began demonstrations yesterday. In Nashville, Tenn., about 40 bearded pickets passed out statements protesting the war, and were handed bars of soap by some 100 students on the Vanderbilt University campus.

The demonstrators were protesting napalm making by Dow-Corning Co., which had recruited on the campus. The soap was accompanied by a card reading, “This is a product of Dow-Corning. Use it.”

At Johnson, Pa., a flag goes up in 1918 as Armistice Day, designated to celebrate the end of hostilities in World War I. In 1964, the name was changed to Veterans' Day to include the servicemen who fought in World War II and Korea. Today, Vietnam is also encompassed.

HONOR ALL MEN

A Legion spokesman commented: “This day has been changed from Armistice Day to Veterans' Day because now we honor all of the men who have given so much so that our country will always be free.”

“Some of our young men are learning first-hand what Nov. 11 is all about.”

above Sandvick Cemetery, to fly there day and night until the Vietnam war ends. A city official termed the flag “Johnstown's answer to the un-American demonstrations that erupted this year.”

At Omaha, Neb., both pro and anti-Vietnam war demonstrators held ceremonies. At Creighton University last night, services in the campus church were led by the Rev. Richard Spillane, S.J., a Marine veteran of the South Pacific in World War II.

‘STAND AS HEROES’

Of the 14,000 men killed in Vietnam, Spillane said, “they stand as heroes to those who knew and loved them.”

New York City's five boroughs stage separate observances, with American Legionnaires stepping along in the traditional parade route down Manhattan's Fifth Avenue. Several antiwar groups hold demonstrations.

In San Francisco, the big downtown parade ending at City Hall features units of the armed forces.

In Los Angeles, Mayor Samuel W. Yorty is the keynote speaker at the eighth annual International Sacred Torch ceremony in Hollywood Hills.

‘Troop Cuts Possible?’

BONN, Germany (AP) — A West German newspaper today quoted Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara as saying the United States does not favor reducing the military capacity of the allies in Europe but that this does not mean U.S. military manpower here will remain unchanged.

3 Captive GIs Released by VC, But to Whom?

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—The Viet Cong “symbolically” turned over three captured U.S. sergeants to an American antiwar activist today, and a U.S. document said the men had been through Communist brainwashing programs.

The men gave an apparently memorized statement of thanks to the Viet Cong and to Tom Hayden, who said he represented a peace committee led by Dr. Martin Luther King, folk singer Joan Baez and Dr. Benjamin Spock.

But Hayden said after the ceremonies that the prisoners were not in his custody. He said they were taken away in a car, but he would not say where.

Asked if the men were free, Hayden said, “I believe so.”

“They are in the process of going home,” he said. He added he would see them later in the day.

DEFECTOR INTERVIEWED

The U.S. document concerning brainwashing was released by American officials in Saigon. In it, Donald Rochlen, a psychological warfare adviser to the South Vietnamese government, told of an interview with a red defector who said he personally took part in indoctrination of two of the prisoners.

Release of the document followed the elaborately staged “release ceremony” at which the Viet Cong said they hoped the sergeants would “contribute usefully” to the antiwar movement.

At a news conference reminiscent of similar situations in the Korean war, two of three prisoners recited brief statements thanking Hayden and their captors. Then, blinking under television lights, they sat virtually motionless through 40 minutes of propaganda oratory.

The two were Sgt. Daniel Lee Pitzer of Spring Lake, N.C., and Sgt. James E. Jackson Jr. of Talcott, W. Va. The third American, Sgt. Edward R. Johnson of Seaside, Calif., was said by the Viet Cong to be in the next room, too sick with dysentery to appear. But no outsiders saw him.

The Viet Cong announced last Friday the Americans would be returned to their families.

Pontiac Woman Held in Slaying

A 42-year-old Pontiac woman is in custody in Oakland County Jail in connection with the fatal shooting of her husband at their home late yesterday.

Held for investigation of murder is Mary E. Lewis of 87 S. Marshall.

Police officers said her husband, WILFIE, 45, was shot once in the chest about 9:30 p.m. and died about 4:15 a.m. today following surgery in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

A witness told police that just before the slaying Mrs. Lewis was on the living room floor and the victim seated in a chair nearby examining a pistol.

Lewis reportedly put the weapon on the floor and kicked it over to his wife,

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate majority Leader Mike Mansfield conceded yesterday that Congress probably will not increase income taxes this year, but said President Johnson undoubtedly will press the issue in 1968 “when it will be far worse” in terms of dollars and of politics.

The Montana Democrat said a tax increase request next year might have to be larger than the $7 billion the President now seeks — and the question will be even more troublesome in an election year.

Johnson seeks a 10 per cent income tax surcharge to combat inflation and help pay for the Vietnam war. But the measure is locked in the House Ways and Means Committee, and appears likely to remain there.

“He hasn't given up,” Mansfield said saying, “If you are going to shoot me, go ahead and do it.”

TWO SHOTS FIRED

Two shots were then fired, the first striking Lewis, the witness said.

Officers said the second bullet, which apparently went over the victim after he fell, was found lodged in the refrigerator some 15 feet away.

Police said a warrant charging Mrs. Lewis with attempted murder in connection with the shooting of a woman Wednesday had been ordered, but not yet issued.

In that incident, Rebecca Ray, 23, of 15 Baxter was wounded in the hip when someone fired several shots through the rear door of her house about 9 a.m.

Arraignment of Mrs. Lewis on the murder charge will probably be today or Monday, according to police.

Apollo 4 Moon Ship Heading for Hawaii

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Apollo 4, the unmanned moon ship that rode America's maiden Saturn 5 super-rocket deep into space, yesterday headed toward Hawaii as jubilant flight controllers began assessing records of data collected on its 8½-hour mission.

The cone-shaped spacecraft, its heat shield charcoal black in places from a fiery

25,000 mile-an-hour reentry through earth's atmosphere, was pronounced “in very good shape” as it rode aboard its prime recovery ship toward Pearl Harbor.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesmen said the capsule was expected to arrive at the port late Saturday and remain there for about three days until technicians deactivate electrical systems and steering rockets.

From there, it was to be trucked to Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii, and flown to Long Beach, Calif., near its final destination at the Downey, Calif., plant of North American Rockwell Corp., prime spacecraft contractor. Apollo 4 was expected to arrive at Downey late next week.

Space agency officials said enough data was collected during the triumphant first flight of the towering Saturn 5 and its Apollo moon ship payload to fill an encyclopedia during each minute of its eight-hour, 36-minute mission.

Meanwhile, in the Soviet Union, Izvestia yesterday reported briefly and without editorial comment on America's space feat, failing to mention that the Saturn booster is the world's largest rocket.

The 363-foot-tall Saturn 5, heaviest and most powerful vehicle to ever fly, lofted the unmanned moon ship 11,234 miles into space Thursday. From this altitude, Apollo 4 dived at 25,000 miles an hour — the speed astronauts will travel when returning to earth from the moon — to a bullseye landing, about 520 miles north of Hawaii.

Tax Hike Unlikely for 1967; LBJ to Press Issue in 1968

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate majority Leader Mike Mansfield conceded yesterday that Congress probably will not increase income taxes this year, but said President Johnson undoubtedly will press the issue in 1968 “when it will be far worse” in terms of dollars and of politics.

The Montana Democrat said a tax increase request next year might have to be larger than the $7 billion the President now seeks — and the question will be even more troublesome in an election year.

Johnson seeks a 10 per cent income tax surcharge to combat inflation and help pay for the Vietnam war. But the measure is locked in the House Ways and Means Committee, and appears likely to remain there.

“He hasn't given up,” Mansfield said

of the President. “He's still trying to get it, but with every passing day the odds climb against him.”

“If we don't face up to this year, we'll have to do it next year when it will be far worse,” he said. “It may well be a bigger tax increase.”

DEPENDS ON CUT

The size of a 1968 tax bill, Mansfield said, would depend on the amount of money Johnson and Congress can cut from federal spending.

“That is a key issue in the Ways and Means Committee, which originates all tax legislation. Its members are talking in terms of a spending cut of $5 billion to $10 billion as the price for action on tax boost.”

“I'm worried about this economic situation,” Mansfield said in an interview. He said inflation by about 3.1 per cent.

But acknowledging that prospects for action now are dim, Mansfield said, “I think the members have their minds pretty well made up.”

“I still think a tax increase is necessary,” he added.

LBJ Calls for Unity to Win War in Viet

ABOARD U.S.S. ENTERPRISE (AP) — President Johnson, wearing many of the nation's military bases, has called for national unity to win the Vietnam war. He says the United States must walk a tightrope between surrender and "World War III."

The President left the White House Friday morning, flew to Ft. Benning, Ga., jetted across the country to visit with Ma-

Johnson, on the outdoor signal bridge watched landings and takeoffs. He was clad in khaki trousers, a fur-collared leather flight jacket with embroidered President's words, and a black baseball cap with gull lettering. "VIET, Enterprise."

The nighttime flight operations were spectacular as the jets were catapulted aloft with great sheets of flame spewing from their afterburners.

Thousands of Marines and their families, gathered on the post parade ground, cheered as the President cut an anniversary cake and told them the only reason for U.S. involvement in Vietnam is to help that small nation defend itself from aggressors.

"You and I know," he told them, "that it is harder and tougher to ask for and achieve a restrained and limited victory. One could surrender—or start World War III—and do either without much help."

The only hope for honor, freedom and true peace, he said, lies in the "hard and true struggle between surrender and annihilation." This course, he said, "is the one we must steer."

He said it strongest at Ft. Benning where he told Army men and their families peace will come more quickly "when the enemy of freedom finds no crack in our courage—and no split in our resolve—and no encouragement to prolong this war in the shortness of our patience or the sharpness of our tongues."

JOINS CELEBRATION

In California, he helped Marines celebrate the 192nd anniversary of the founding of their service—first at El Toro Marine Station where his plane landed and later at Camp Pendleton, 30 miles south.

Gunman Kills 3 in Restaurant

NEW YORK (AP) — A calm, bespectacled executioner stepped quietly into an Italian-American restaurant in Queens 1 a.s.t. night and shot three men dead with methodical bursts from a submachine gun.

Then, as some 15 to 25 other customers crouched in terror, the killer wheeled without a word and walked back out the rear door. His victims were sprawled face down on the floor.

Police identified them as Thomas D'Angelo, 54, his brother James, 60, and Frank Terrell, 43. Capt. Thomas Madden of the Queens detective said that all had criminal records.

There was speculation the slayings stemmed from gangland friction. "It was a professional job," commented Madden. "The gunman knew who he was after and he got them."

The quiet Queens neighborhood of Ridgewood has been the scene of a number of recent shootings being investigated by U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau.

As the killings were reconstructed, police said Thomas D'Angelo and Terrell were seated at a table eating veal parmigiana and drinking white wine. James D'Angelo entered the room door to join them.

At the time the killer, about 5 feet 4, 180 pounds and 45 years old entered from the rear wearing a black raincoat and black fedora. He strode silently toward the table.

Witnesses realized the danger for they jumped up but the gunman pulled his automatic weapon from beneath his coat and began firing.

Three of the 20 to 25 bullets went astray, piercing gold-colored curtains and the front window. Most of the slugs hit the victims in the chest. They died when police arrived.

Thomas D'Angelo still clutched his table napkin as he lay next to the room divider topped by a row of white plastic chrysanthemums.

Area Man, 24, Charged With Wife's Murder

A 24-year-old truck driver will be arraigned today on a first-degree murder charge in the gunshot slaying of his wife in their Farmington Township home yesterday.

In custody in the township jail is Steven Pointer of 33849 Rhinewood, according to police.

Pointer was arrested at a private home about 11 p.m. yesterday, some seven hours after his wife, Mary Ann, 22, was found dead by the couple's 4-year-old daughter, police said.

Farmington Township Police Chief Irving Jones said Pointer had contacted his department last night and arranged to meet with Yates and a detective at the Township house.

Yates said a .38-caliber pistol was impounded at that time.

DAUGHTER'S DISCOVERY

Yates said the Pointer's daughter ran to a nearby house after discovering her mother's body about 4 p.m.

Oakland County Assistant Prosecutor John I. Bain said an autopsy was scheduled at Pontiac St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today.

Preliminary indications were that Mrs. Pointer had been shot two or three times, he said.

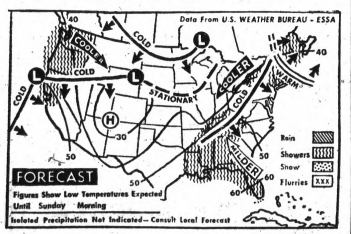

The couple had one other child, a 13-month-old boy.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Scattered showers are forecast tonight for large areas along the Northeast Coast throughout the Tennessee Valley, along the Gulf Coast and in the Pacific Northwest. Cooler temperatures are expected over the Great Lakes region, throughout the Midwest and in the northern Rockies. Milder temperatures are expected along the South Atlantic Coast.

MOON SHIP AWAITS PICKUP—The Apollo 11 moon ship rests in the Pacific Ocean awaiting hook-up to a big crane aboard the carrier USS Benning. The unmanned spacecraft landed about 275 miles northeast of Midway Island yesterday in a head-first test which was termed "highly successful" by National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials.

Annexing Vote Set, Airport Plan OKayed

The County Board of Supervisors yesterday set elections in Commerce Township on an annexation issue and accepted a new master plan for the Pontiac-Oakland Airport.

Five separate areas in Commerce Township will vote Jan. 16 on whether they will consent to be annexed to the city of Wall Lake.

About six square miles of the township and about 15 square miles of Wolverine Village (about one-third total area) will be concerned.

In accepting the master plan for the county airport, the way was cleared for expansion and improvements that will cost an estimated $4.5 million.

Matching funds from state and federal sources are available and could mean as much as 50 to 75 per cent of some phases of the project. The exact amount of aid is not known at this time, it was pointed out.

MAJOR FACTOR

A major factor in the new master plan is the announced intention of "not" building a north-south runway.

This plan was posed in the original 1963 plan and since then property owners adjacent to the airport, near Williams Lake Road and M-59 in Waterford Township, have been restricted as to use and development of their land.

Development of the airport will be concentrated on lengthening the large east-west runway to 6,200 feet.

The figure of $2.5 million was set, but it was also indicated the owner might go lower.

It was also indicated by an official of the Michigan Aeronautics Commission that state aid in the purchase would probably be forthcoming if applied for.

1 Dead in Carrier Fire

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) — Fire raged for nearly six hours below deck on the British aircraft carrier Victorious in drydock today and the Defense Ministry said one crewman was killed. The vessel was being refitted and half her normal 2,000-man crew was aboard.

State Layoffs Likely

LANSING (UPI) — Widespread layoffs of state workers moved from possible to probable yesterday as the House of Representatives approved little more than half the money Gov. George Romney says is needed to meet the cost of Civil Service pay raises.

Actress Is Recovering

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Academy Award winning actress Jennifer Jones, found unconscious and apparently not breathing on the surf at Malibu Thursday night, was reported recovering at a hospital today. Deputies said footprints indicated she may have slipped and fallen 100 feet as she walked down a cliff toward the beach.

News Briefs at a Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Development of an arsenal of nonlethal, supplementary weapons — including a device to fire jelly blobs to cause rioters to literally stick together — has been recommended to police forces by a government study.

The report said the weapons were prepared by the Institute for Defense Analyses for the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice.

General to Join Talks

SAIGON (AP) — Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in South Vietnam, will join other top-level U.S. officials for talks with President Johnson in Washington next week, it was learned today. A military spokesman said Westmoreland would be in the United States less than a week and that he would confer with the joint chiefs of staff and "will be available to the President."

Father Is Arraigned

DETROIT (AP) — A young father was arraigned yesterday on a charge of beating his 3-year-old daughter to death. His wife told police he appeared to be under the influence of drugs when the child was injured. Ronald D. Pickard, 19, of Detroit, stood mute at the arraignment and Recorder's Court Judge Richard D. Dunn entered a plea of innocent for the record.

Art Buyer Can't Pay

NEW YORK (AP) — An art buyer, through his attorney, says he's "sorry" but he can't pay for 10 paintings on which he successfully bid $467,725 at the successfully bid $467,725 at the Parke-Bernet Galleries last Oct. 26. The buyer was identified as Hunter Galloway, who resides in midtown Manhattan. He was a "mystery" bidder, unknown to the gallery's dealers, who had no questions were asked until, recently, when payment was not made to the gallery.

Birmingham Area News

Inner-City Pair to End Human Relations Series

BIRMINGHAM — Two residents of Detroit's inner-city area, Sheila Murphy and Kenneth Coker, will speak next Thursday to residents here at the Birmingham Community House at 8:30 p.m.

Entitled "From the Inside Looking Out," their talk is the fifth and final one in a series sponsored by the Birmingham-Bloomfield Council on Human Relations.

Miss Murphy, 19, a Wayne State University student, is associated with the Catholic Worker movement and also works with the West Central Organization.

Coker, 27, is a law student at Wayne State and was a former organizer of the West Central Organization. He has also been a candidate for state representative in Detroit's 11th district.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Men's Club of Christ Church Cranbrook will present a program on the controversy in Vietnam Monday at 7 p.m.

Speaking after a dinner will be Prof. Otto Feinstein of Wayne State University and Prof. John Whidden of Henry Ford Community College, Dearborn.

Dr. Feinstein, a native of Vienna, Austria, is currently the director for a study of the impact of foreign policy on the local community and is the author of several books concerning foreign policy.

He is a veteran of the Korean war and has B.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Chicago.

Whidden has degrees from the University of Chicago, Wayne State University, and the University of Michigan and has spent 20 years in the U.S. Army Reserves and National Guard. During World War II he was stationed in Southeast Asia.

Prior to joining the state science at Wayne State.

Men of the parish are invited to bring their wives. Reservations can be made by calling the office at 470 Church Road.

'68 Plans Seen for McCarthy

By the Associated Press

A Michigan politician says Sen. Eugene McCarthy has told other Democrats he will announce next month whether he will oppose President Johnson for the party nomination.

Meanwhile, McCarthy, who says he is testing Democratic opposition to Johnson's war policies in four key states, told a Democratic dinner in Ann Arbor, Mich., that Democrats should "beware of false appeals for unity" on the war and that "it may be necessary for a confrontation in presidential politics."

The President repeatedly sounded unity appeals Friday on his continent-spanning Veterans Day weekend tour of military bases.

McCarthy, a 51-year-old Minnesota, told a reporter in St. Paul that published reports he has already decided to enter presidential preference primaries in Wisconsin, California, Massachusetts and New Hampshire are unfounded.

COMMITTEE FORMED

But in Ann Arbor, shortly before McCarthy made his speech, James A. Harrington, former head of public relations for the Michigan Democratic party, announced he has formed a "McCarthy for President" committee and added that McCarthy had told Democratic supporters he will not discourage such booster efforts.

The U.S. Command reported 96 paratroopers, from the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade, also were wounded in the day-long engagement.

Communists ambushed a U.S. armored cavalry in the same sector and killed five Army engineers and wounded seven in a 15-minute fight. The engineers clung in artillery support and 13 of the enemy died under the counterfire.

An Alternative Is Suggested by a Writer

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been a choir director for 20 years, and I was interested in your recent column on proper ways to address clergymen.

In addition to those you gave, there are several other forms of address for Protestant ministers.

A Lutheran minister is usually addressed as "Pastor" (either alone or followed by his last name) by members of that faith. Pastor is Latin for "shepherd," and the idea is that the pastor is a shepherd of souls, so to speak.

Also, clergymen of "high-church" Episcopal churches are addressed as "Father" for the same reason as in the Roman Catholic Church, no doubt.

—Howard Boquist

Dear Mr. Boquist: Thank you so much for sending me the above information. I am pleased to print it, and this more fully answers the question sent me originally.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it permissible to tell deliberate "white lies" when asked very personal questions by casual visitors to your home. For example how much did you pay for...

I wish there was a good way to ignore these questions—Cynthia

Dear Cynthia: If you call avoiding the issue a "white lie," it is permissible. By saying, "I really can't remember," even though you do, you avoid both embarrassing the questioner, and giving a reply.

Therefore, although it may be shading the truth, it is the most acceptable way to answer such questions.

So you're Planning to Give A Shower! This booklet by Elizabeth L. Post tells you everything you need to know for a bridal shower, a welcome party for a new neighbor, the local minister, or any one else.

YWCA to Celebrate 100 Years of Fellowship

For 100 years the YWCAs of the United States have carried on an international program. The Pontiac YW will celebrate the occasion next week with two special events.

On Wednesday at noon, a luncheon program, "Come with a Song," will be shared by all YW groups and any other interested individual.

During the fellowship program, the nursery school children will sing. Members of the international group will come in their native dress. Golden Agers and those in the Ladies Day Out program will participate.

On Saturday, a bazaar from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. will help raise funds for international fellowship projects.

— Mrs. Warren T. Fowler, YWCA fellowship chairman, has charge of the events of the week.

In 1867, the first World Week of Prayer and World Fellowship was instituted by the Alliance of YMCAs at its fifth world conference in Paris. Today, both the YMCA and the YWCA observe this week around the globe.

A week dedicated to prayers for peace and better understanding among all peoples, this week also focuses attention on the year-round programs of the international organization.

These are practical programs designed to help people to a better life.

ANSWER NEEDS

It may be as elemental as installing a shower in a school in Taiwan so that children without adequate facilities at home could have baths.

It may be a course for mothers on the subjects of hygiene, sanitation and health.

It may be literary training in countries like Colombia and Mexico.

It may be work with youth as in Africa — or camping in Chili — or leadership training in Rhodesia.

It can be training in skills for self support and for raising standards of living.

Jackie Kennedy Revisits Rome

ROME (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy arrived in Rome today from her colorful 10-day tour of Thailand and Cambodia.

The former first lady had stopped here for 2½ days in October on her way from America to Asia. She was expected to stay again for a few days to rest up and see friends before returning home.

Mrs. Kennedy arrived by plane from Bangkok.

In Cambodia, President Kennedy's widow was ushered through the temple ruins at Angkor by Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodia's chief of state. He also dedicated a boulevard in Sihanoukville to her husband.

In Thailand, King Bhumibol showed Mrs. Kennedy around the Grand Palace and the Temple of the Emerald and hosted a palace luncheon in her honor.

Library at OU Is Concern of Friends Group

A major drive to enlist more "friends" for the Friends of the Kresge Library at Oakland University was launched Friday at the home of Mrs. Harvey Bumgardner of East Long Lake Road.

On the agenda were a busy work day and a luncheon for six active members of the organization. Mrs. Bumgardner is membership chairman.

The group prepared envelopes for mailing to some two thousand prospective new members of the Friends, which is dedicated to supporting and promoting the activities, projects, and programs of the Kresge Library.

The four-pronged campaign comes at a time when the University is trying to increase the number of books and services at the library as its current major concern.

One phase of the Friends activities is a Volunteer Program for those who enjoy giving their time to help the library. The group's Operation Books, Memorial, and Acquisition Program have brought noteworthy collections, giving posture to the young library that it could not have attained otherwise.

The current drive is seeking regular memberships, covering husband and wife, at $5.

It is not soliciting contributions, although any donations freely made in view of pressing financial needs are being gratefully accepted.

Luncheon guests were Mrs. William Lloyd Kemp, president of the Friends; Mrs. George B. Harrick; Mrs. Earl Alles; Kathryn Bumgardner; Mrs. A. Dale Kirk; and Mrs. Richard G. Pearce.

Forms of Resistance to Be Speaker's Topic

"What Forms of Resistance Now?" will be the subject of a talk next Tuesday by Professor David Herreshoff of Wayne State University.

The lecture is being sponsored jointly by the Oakland Vietnam Committee and Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Open to the public, the talk will take place in room 128 of the Oakland Center, Oakland University at 8 p.m.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Do I have the right to insist that my boy friend remove the tattoo from over his heart?

Before we started going together, he went with this girl named Sharon. I never knew her, but I am very jealous of her.

My boy friend says you can never remove a tattoo once it's on, but I have heard that you can. I suppose he could cover it with a piece of adhesive tape, or maybe go back for some more tattooing and change the Sharon to some kind of a scene or design.

Anyway, I can't see marrying a guy with Sharon on his chest. He says it doesn't bother him. Well, it bothers me. Am I wrong to feel this way, and isn't there some way to get it off?

MILLIE

DEAR MILLIE: Assuming your boy friend doesn't still have Sharon under his skin, he could easily get her off his chest. Tell him that a skin specialist can remove the tattoo. And he won't have to hold still for any further needling.

DEAR ABBY: The other evening while preparing supper, my husband's unmarried sister dropped in, as she often does. She asked me to call her mother and tell her a lie as to why she wasn't going to be home for supper that night.

I told her if her mother found out that I lied to her she wouldn't think much of me as a person, and I just didn't want to do it.

She replied, "Well, she doesn't think much of you anyway. She is always talking about the way you dress, and the way you do your hair and your makeup — how overdone it is."

Abby, I was crushed. I always try to look my best and people are always complimenting me on how fashionable I dress, and how well-groomed I look. I never thought I overdid it. I have been just heartbreak about it. Should I discuss it with my husband? Should I take it up with my mother-in-law, or what?

HURT

DEAR HURT: You don't say how old your sister-in-law is but if she's more than 10 she's a nitwit. Don't discuss it with your husband. And don't take it up with your mother-in-law. Maybe she said it and maybe she didn't. Avoid your sister-in-law. Either she's too unreliable to be believed, or she's a first class troublemaker.

DEAR ABBY: We are another pair of "in-laws" who are called nothing by our daughter-in-law. After two years we are still greeted with "Hi." When we told our son we would like to be called something (after all, even a dog has a name) he said he'd mention it to his wife, but apparently he never has.

Perhaps some good came of this, because we finally woke up. For years we deprived ourselves of luxuries so our son could have a college education. We never took vacations because we were saving for him.

My husband isn't too well, and now I've persuaded him to retire early and enjoy himself instead of worrying about how much he will leave to our son and his family.

It seems that addressing us in some half-way respectful manner poses a tremendous "problem" to our son's wife. If she thinks this is a problem, wait until she reads our will!

"HIS" IN-LAWS

DEAR ABBY: As I sit here watching my beautiful baby boy while he so cheerfully laughs and plays with his little stuffed doggy I want very much to know something.

Do fathers of illegitimate children ever think of their precious offspring? If you can't answer my question, maybe they can. Thank you. STEVEN'S MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: Will you please inform your readers that when a woman becomes a widow she does not suddenly become "Mrs. Jane Anybody." She remains "Mrs. John Somebody."

I lost my husband a few months ago, and so many of my well meaning (but ignorant) friends have started to address their letters to "Mrs. Jane Doe." It's had enough to lose one of his name. Please print this, and sign it please. Mrs. "HIS NAME"

DEAR ABBY: We read you in Stars and Stripes and love you over here. What would you like for Christmas, Abby?

PF. MICHAEL GREENE

DEAR MICHAEL: Peace! Peace this very moment. Over there. Right here. And for all people on the face of the earth.

Shirley Joins Dem Debate

Dovish Foe Draws Louder Applause

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — Shirley Temple Black, poised for the special election next Tuesday that will decide if she'll lead in debate against four male Democratic opponents last night.

Mrs. Black, wearing a two-piece red suit in her debut debate, faced a generally young audience of 800 persons who applauded louder for dove-like Edward Keating, one of the Democratic opponents.

The former child actress, whose position is more hawkish, is campaigning against a host of Democratic and Republican candidates for the California congressional seat left vacant by the death of J. Arthur Younger.

Mrs. Black said that 70-75 percent of the targets in North Vietnam have not yet been bombed and asked: "How can you say 'stop the bombing' when you can make a case that it hasn't started."

NOT FOR ESCALATION

Later, though, she told the audience in the partially-filled high school auditorium: "I am not for escalation of the war. I am not for more bombing."

Keating, former publisher of Ramparts Magazine, won loud applause when he said he and Mrs. Black "live in two different worlds."

Mrs. Black, who sought the confrontation with Democratic rivals, has said she didn't want to debate fellow Republicans—in the interest of party harmony. But she conducted an unofficial debate by telegram with GOP rival Paul N. McCloskey earlier Friday.

McCloskey asserted she "preached fear, hate and anger" by distorting his views on the war in Vietnam.

EXPOSE SLAUGHTER

He asked the Fair Campaign Practices Committee in Washington, D.C., to investigate a letter in which he said Mrs. Black left the impression he favored withdrawal that would expose the South Vietnamese to slaughter.

Not so, said Mrs. Black. She sent a telegram of her own to the committee, saying:

"I strongly protest and ask your investigation of the unfair campaign tactics of Mr. Paul McCloskey in attempting to misuse the good offices of your committee by making a last-minute unfounded attack upon me."

The committee told McCloskey it will investigate his complaint.

Auto Victim Dies

DETROIT (AP) —Margaret Makar, 48, of Detroit died Friday in a hospital of injuries suffered Nov. 4 when she was hit by a car as she crossed a street.

9 Evacuated Families Lost

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — A Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. spokesman said Friday the firm can't find nine of the 150 families forced to evacuate their homes because of leakage of natural gas in a nearby rural area.

The families can return to their homes now, the spokesman said, but the company hasn't been able to locate them since the evacuation.

A well 2,900 feet deep began leaking gas into shale beds 500 feet down late Monday, then were repaired. Two oil leaks were discovered Thursday, but only seven families were warned not to return to their homes because of the new leaks.

To Air Grievances

FLINT (AP) — Officers of United Auto Workers Union Local 659 have scheduled a mass meeting for Sunday for some 3,400 workers to discuss grievances, and local issues which prompted them to walk off their jobs at the Chevrolet Assembly plant in Flint. The strike shut down the facility and a nearby Fisher Body plant, idling more than 6,000 workers. The meeting will be held at 12:30 p.m. at the Local 659 auditorium.

Reflections

THEY SHALL NOT HAVE FOUGHT AND DIED IN VAIN.

This week we shall once again celebrate Veterans' Day. What is worth all this bloodshed? What does freedom really mean? Ask the man who has lost his.

Many times since 1776 the greedy hands of tyrants and aggressors have reached out and demanded another payment. We have always paid with the best of our youth.

In this troubled world of ours today there are still those who would demand another pound of flesh. It is up to us to keep faith to those we owe so much; that they shall not have died in vain.
