Ike to Map Out Mideast Plan Saturday Noon

Senate Battling Today About Changing Rules to Prevent Filibusters

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

WASHINGTON — The new Congress marked time on legislative business today, awaiting President Eisenhower's Saturday special message explaining his historic Middle East program for peace.

A poll of the House and Senate showed today that President Eisenhower's request for authority to use American forces in the event of Soviet aggression in the Middle East will be approved.

The President will submit his proposal in person tomorrow to a joint session of the 85th Congress.

Of the 353 House members who could be reached during the course of the past two days, 174 said they would vote "yes" and only 28 "no." An additional 108 said they were in doubt as to how they would vote, and 23 declined to express any view. The remaining 80 members could not be reached.

Among the senators who were willing to state their views, 10 said they would vote for the proposal, while five declared they would vote against it. Thirty-two senators said they hadn't made up their minds. The remainder could not be reached.

* * *

ONLY ON REQUEST

He emphasized that American aid would be granted by the U.S. only on request of a nation which had suffered "an overt act"—an armed attack either by the Communists or by "any nation that had become the agents of the Communists."

There was no unanimity of opinion among members of Congress.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La) declared he would oppose the resolution "if I'm the only man to vote against it."

Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) expressed strong opposition to the President's proposal. He said flatly: "I wouldn't give the President the power to start a war when and where he likes. This is the power of Congress . . ."

But Sen. Edward Thye (R-Minn) lauded the plan and Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill) said he would favor military guarantees if "carefully defined."

Pilot 'Chutes Safely to Land 3 Miles Away

New House Was Not Yet Occupied; Military Guard Live Rockets

Parts of a disabled F86 Sabrejet from Selfridge Air Force base near Mt. Clemens that crashed in a cornfield skidded into an unoccupied house southwest of Utica this morning, but there were no injuries reported.

Danger that the plane's load of 24 live rockets could explode led police and Air Force personnel to rope off a wide area at the crash scene, north of 19-Mile Road, between Ryan and Mound Roads.

Pilot Richard E. Robbins, 28, of California, parachuted from his plane seconds before the crash. He landed safely near 16-Mile Road and Mound Road.

The brick bungalow at 42537 Jo-Ed Dr., was under construction by Harold Tessmer, of 5080 19 Mile Rd. It was nearly completed.

Portions of the plane which hit a half-mile away in his field toppled the north wall of the home, and smashed several windows.

Power lines to Utica were cut as the plane nosed into the field. Lights in the village went out at 10:52 a.m.

Pilot Robbins said his plane suffered a "flame-out" at 40,000 feet, and the instruments froze. He descended to 8,000 feet, trying to restart the engine, but when his attempts failed, he bailed out.

Most of the live rockets had been gingerly recovered by police and military men, with none exploding.

The plane disintegrated as it hit the field, scattering wreckage along a half mile stretch of the road.

Mrs. Robert Miron, of 42258 19 Mile Rd., heard the crash and stepped out on her front porch in time to see the motor fly past and land beyond her home, which is two lots from the present Tessmer residence.

It tore down Christmas decorations in her front yard.

Tessmer's son, Billie, was at home watching television. "I heard a noise like an air raid siren, and then the lights went out," he said. The home is one-third of a mile from the house under construction.

Is She Kidnap Victim?

Actress Marie McDonald Disappears From Home

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Blonde Actress Marie (The Body) McDonald mysteriously disappeared from her Encino home today and police fear that she may be a kidnap victim.

The actress' mother first notified police of Miss McDonald's disappearance. She told officers that someone telephoned her early this morning and told her, "We have Marie. No harm will come if the police are not notified."

She said she telephoned Miss McDonald's home and when she received no answer she called police. Officers who first reached her home said they found the door ajar and the television set turned on.

Inspector Detective Henry Kerr said a note was found in a mail box fashioned out of newspaper headlines and hand printing which said, in effect, "Don't contact anybody, we'll contact you."

Officers said the FBI has been called into the case.

The FBI said today its agents on the West Coast "are keeping in close touch with local police to see if there is any matter within our jurisdiction" in the actress' disappearance.

The federal kidnap law was recently amended to permit the FBI to enter such cases within 24 hours if there is positive evidence of a federal law violation.

The actress' name was spread across headlines on numerous occasions during the past years because of her story marriage to wealthy shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, her third husband.

She married Karl twice and divorced him twice, claiming she was "allergic" to him. She recently had a baby by him and they also have two other adopted children.

The blonde, shapely actress, once the toast of American GIs during World War II, started her career as a vocalist with Tommy Dorsey. She was spotted by a talent scout and signed to a screen contract.

She paraded her beautiful figure around in a dozen or more pictures back in the early 40s but it was not until she married Karl that she became really well known.

Expect MSU Branch to Be Ready for Students in Fall of 1959

The $10,000,000 donation to Michigan State University by the Alfred G. Wilsons was officially announced Thursday at a luncheon at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club which was attended by local businessmen, officials and guests from East Lansing. J. Robert F. Swanson long has been active as chairman of the Oakland County Planning Commission which has worked towards an engineering college for this area.

President John A. Hannah accepted Mrs. Wilson's gift on behalf of Michigan State University and explained to the group the tremendous growth that lies directly ahead for schools of all grades and especially for colleges and universities which are destined to grow beyond current comprehension within the next two decades.

The Wilson estate is the focal point of a circle with a 15-mile radius that should witness population increases even beyond the general average expected in the country as a whole. Currently, East Lansing plans to see the new branch opened for students in the fall of 1959.

President Hannah named four on a committee to act as the nucleus of an advisory group. The members are: Mrs. Matilda Wilson, J. Robert F. Swanson, Roger M. Kyes and Harold A. Fitzgerald.

LANSING (AP) — President John A. Hannah says Michigan State University will be ready for students at an Oakland County branch in the fall of 1959 and predicts a first-year enrollment of 1,000.

The first request to the legislature for an appropriation will be for operating funds for the 1959 fall term.

Dr. Hannah said, "I talked with Gov. Williams and he seemed to think it (the branch college) is a good idea."

A college of literature, science and arts will be established first on the new campus. Courses in business administration then will be developed.

Dr. Hannah said that whether there will be an engineering education center at the branch depends on the attitude of industry in the locality.

He pointed out that General Motors Corp. Technical Center and Chrysler Corp. Research facilities will be near at hand.

Newsprint Price Rise Touches Off Protests

NEW YORK — Abitibi Power and Paper Co., Ltd., announced a $4-a-ton newsprint price increase, touching off protests from U.S. newspaper publishers.

The Canadian manufacturer's price action, it was freely predicted by publishers, will be quickly followed by increases by other newsprint producers.

President William Dwight of the American Newspaper Publishers Association stated the protest of fellow publishers.

Some say a 10-cent price per copy for newspapers, now existent in a few cities, may become more general as publishers seek to offset higher newsprint costs.

The Federal Trade Commission last week reported that it hopes to get together with its Canadian counterpart, the Restrictive Trade Practices Commission, to consider newsprint prices.

Publicity Aids Prompt Moving of Yule Mail

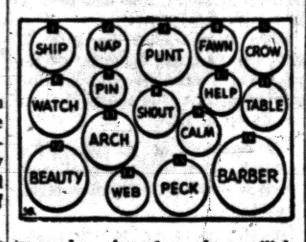

Pontiac Post Office handled a larger volume of mail during the recent holidays than in any corresponding period, according to Leslie H. Dean Sr., acting postmaster. In a letter to the Press Dean expresses appreciation for the cooperation which helped move the large volume of mail. His letter:

"I wish to thank you and your staff for myself and the employes of the Pontiac Post Office for the many favors you have done for us. I know that a great part of our success in handling the largest volume of Christmas mail ever was made possible by your willingness to run the many articles in your paper advising the patrons in the way which they could help us to deliver their mail for them. Also through your efforts we will soon have a new post office building under construction. I sincerely believe that your paper is second to none in public service."

$200 Now in Pot, It's Quite a Lot —So Get to Work

You still have time to win that $200 awaiting in Pot-O-Gold, because after looking over 2,209 qualified entries, the judges report that no winner was found for last week's puzzle. This automatically adds another $100 to the pot, bringing it to the present total.

Puzzle No. 31, which appears on page 18, can be postmarked as late as Tuesday midnight or brought in to the Press office until 5 p. m. Tuesday, so put the next few days to good work and maybe you'll be the one accepting a check next week.

Unless you're a very rare person who doesn't care one way or the other about winning, be sure you get your entry here on time. Otherwise it won't do you a bit of good. This week we received 118 entries from people who might possibly have been winners, but they were all late.

Answers for last week's puzzle, along with explanations of them, appear on page 7 of today's press.

Woman Talks on Phone as Friend Falls Asleep

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A woman called police yesterday, alarmed because she was "talking to a lady on the phone a while ago and now she won't answer."

A few minutes later the police dispatcher announced everything was all right.

"The woman said she fell asleep while her friend was talking," the dispatcher explained.

Bonds for Disposal Plant May Be on Ballot in April

Pontiac voters probably will be asked to vote on a $2 million general obligation bond issue to finance 65 per cent of a new sewage disposal plant when they go to the polls in April's biennial state election.

City Commissioners last night gave City Manager Walter K. Willman the go ahead to develop financing of the plant with the city's bond attorney.

Besides the $2,000,000 general obligation bonds, the city could pay the other 35 per cent of the project by issuing $800,000 in revenue bonds.

Willman told commissioners the city could issue these bonds without any increase in sewage rates.

"A second alternative other than the vote," Willman said, "would be to raise the rates and take more on the revenue bond issue."

If the bond issue is defeated, he said, the State Water Resources Commission could file Court action forcing the city to build the plant without voter approval.

The $2.8 million project would build the plant on a 37-acre city-owned site at Opdyke road and Auburn avenue. It would also provide the interceptor or link between the present plant at East Boulevard and Featherstone and the new one.

"The project is designed to meet the immediate needs of the city and its future expansion," Willman explained.

A resolution authorizing the April vote must be passed by Feb. 15, he added.

Stay-Inside Weather Is Outside Forecast

Indoors weather is in the offing for Pontiac area residents this weekend, as the weather man forecasts cloudy and cold tonight, low 22-26.

Hampering driving conditions tomorrow will be snow mixed with freezing rain or sleet, high 31-35.

This morning the Automobile Club of Michigan reported wet highways with slippery spots in the Detroit area.

Roads are slippery and snow-covered in the northern half of the state and Upper Peninsula with snow still falling.

Preceding 8 a.m. Pontiac's lowest temperature was 31, at 2 p.m. the mercury read 32.

Skelton's Son Stricken

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— Red Skelton's 9-year-old son Richard is under treatment for leukemia at a Los Angeles hospital. A spokesman for Skelton said the boy would return home in about 10 days.

City Employes, Officials Awarded Pay Increases

Some 615 city employes will receive an 11 cents hourly pay hike this year and six top city officials will get pay boosts totaling $10,946 as the result of action taken last night by the Pontiac City Commission.

The pay increases became effective retroactive to Dec. 23, 1956.

Commissioners also approved annual $100 uniform allowances for police plain-clothesmen and furnishing and replacing uniforms for uniformed police and firemen.

A third point which received the commission's stamp of approval was payment of one-half of accrued sick time up to a "bank" of 90 days to be paid as bonus to employes retiring under pension plan as of the first of this year. A limit of $1,500 was set.

Commissioners rejected longevity payments to employes of $100 annually for those with five years or more service, and a request for three additional holidays for workers.

Last night's decision climaxed weeks of bargaining between City Manager Walter K. Willman and representatives of the Joint Council of Municipal Employes.

The salary increases to employes and officials, plus the two additional benefits, will cost the city $184,196 this year. Willman emphasized that "these adjustments in the compensation plan are possible within the limits of the budget."

The 11 cents boost will go to employes earning up to and including $5,720 annually. Above this, employes will receive a 4 per cent increase.

Last year, employes were granted 10 cent increases and four per cent above $5,200.

RAISES FOR OFFICIALS

Commissioners authorized Willman to set the following 1957 salaries for officials: Willman, $20,000, from $17,800; City Attorney William A. Ewart and Director of Finance Oscar Eckman, both $10,500, from $8,600 and $8,619 respectively; City Assessor W. Raymond Ransom, $9,500, from $8,600; City Clerk Ada R. Evans, $7,500 from $6,435; and Assistant City Attorney Sherwin M. Birnkrant, $6,000 from $3,000.

After approval of the benefits to employes, Willman told commissioners he intended to "review the city's compensation plan from top to bottom."

Reviewing the acceptance this morning, Elmer Fangboner, president of the employes council, said: "We're quite thankful that we came out as well as we did."

The council is made up of the Firefighters Assn., Local 100 of the Government and Civic Employes Officers Assn., and the Municipal Employes Assn.

Fangboner expressed disappointment at the longevity request rejection but added that a study committee was agreed upon to consider possible acceptance for future years.

Providing uniforms and granting the allowance ended years of debate between police officers and officials.

Senate Control in Doubt Until Lausche Voted

WASHINGTON (INS)—An agony of suspense gripped the U.S. Senate at its opening session yesterday until freshman Sen. Frank Lausche of Ohio—wearing a red carnation and an enigmatic smile — finally voted to organize the Senate for the Democrats.

Until then, none had shared the secret of the maverick five-term Democratic Governor who held the fate of the Senate control in his plump hands.

Republicans, nursing hope until the zenith hour that the conservative Lausche would cast his lot with the GOP, had secreted New York Senator-elect Jacob Javits in a room just outside the upper chamber.

If Lausche had voted Republican, Javits would immediately have resigned his New York attorney generalship to swell the Republican majority on a second roll call.

But Lausche, indisputably the man of the hour, saved Javits the trouble and won a ringing burst of applause from Democrats for becoming a party regular.

VOTES FROM WHEEL CHAIR

The only other dramatic moment of the crucial roll call came when aging Sen. Matthew J. Neely of West Virginia—hospitalized these last few months—rolled in by wheel chair to cast his vote for the Democrats.

This, too, evoked a standing ovation from relieved Democrats, who by this time knew that Lausche had handed them control.

Immediately afterward, the Senate plunged into a knife-edged discussion of the northern liberals' controversial proposal to outlaw the filibuster—historically the death-knell for civil rights legislation.

Today's open session provided a sharp contrast to last year's first-day festivities.

In that election year climate, 96 Senators—all of whom yearned to be president—and 435 representatives—each a would-be senator—whooped it up as gaily as alumni at an old-school homecoming.

All was sweetness and light at that opening day, as the members of both houses backed-slapped each other and swapped travel notes. The organization of both houses then was a foregone conclusion, and with an election ahead of them, few would be daring enough to discuss civil rights on opening day.

In the House, traditionally more exuberant than the upper chamber, members enjoyed a slap-happy first day with nothing more pressing at hand than the foregone re-election of their beloved Democratic leader, Sam Rayburn of Texas, as speaker.

Without question, the house today lacked the drama of the senate chamber where defeated presidential contender Adlai Stevenson, seated in the gallery next to his campaign advisers, James Finnegan and Dave Lawrence, watched the proceedings with avid interest.

Stevenson's presence added a rather poignant note, inasmuch as at the same hour, his victorious rival was at the White House working on his State of the Union message which Adlai himself had once hoped to write.

Await Ballistics Test of Mystery Sniper in Royal Oak Shootings

A Pontiac man remains under suspicion as the mysterious Royal Oak sniper today as police there await the results of ballistic tests taken on his and 21 other guns by state experts.

Troy Lee Keith, 26, of 119½ Gladstone Pl., has been under questioning at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Mt. Clemens where he was taken Tuesday morning after crashing into another car during a police chase.

"We still have things we want to check out with Keith and will be talking to him some more. We expect a report back on the ballistics tests today," Det. Sgt. Virgil Scott said this morning.

Keith is also expected to face charges of carrying a concealed weapon and felonious driving following his recovery from injuries. State Police found a sawed-off .22 caliber rifle in his possession following the Tuesday accident.

Concerning the sniping incidents, police have decided that only two of the many shootings reported were the work of the mystery sniper. There is no evidence that any of the shootings except the two on Dec. 21 are connected, Chief Ray C. Hayward revealed. He said many other reports have been investigated but no bullets found.

the support of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

A vote on the suspense-promising battle is set for 6 p.m. EST. The general expectation is the rule change will be killed.

The Senate adopted procedure which avoids a vice presidential decision on whether a change in the rules is in order. However, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn) said that his side will put sharp questions to Nixon which will give the vice president a chance to state his position.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas opposes the rules change on the ground the Senate is a continuing body and its old rules hold over.

The motion for new rules was made by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) and 30 others—18 other Democrats and 12 Republicans.

Rules 22—on debate limitation—now requires a vote of 64 senators to end a talkathon. Advocates of making it easier to end a filibuster have not yet agreed on language for a new rule.

Trailer Parks Doubled in Michigan Since 1950

LANSING (AP)—A total of 434 trailer parks with accommodations for 19,222 trailers were issued state licenses in 1956, the State Health Department reported today.

The number of parks has more than doubled since 1950.

The department issued permits for construction of 107 new parks with 4,707 parking sites.

Alfred G. Wilsons Thanked for Gift by City's Mayor

Hearing of the $10,000,000 gift of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson of their estate to Michigan State University, Mayor William W. Donaldson thanked the Wilsons on behalf of the citizens of Pontiac last night.

"I wish to salute Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson for the marvelous gift of their home and extensive lands to Michigan State University which will be of great benefit to our youth for years to come.

"This generous act should thrill, not only the state, but the nation. For years, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have been very generous supporters of every civic and charitable endeavor.

"Theodore Roosevelt once said, 'What a man does for himself dies with him, but what he does for his community lives long after he is gone.' The Wilson name should live forever in the hearts of all Oakland County citizens."

The Pontiac City Commission authorized the city attorney to draft an official resolution to be presented to the Wilsons on behalf of the city.

Injunction Halts Use of Houses

No Occupancy Permits Until Adequate Water Supply Is Available

Independence Township yesterday obtained an order against two Detroit building firms to stop people from moving into new houses without occupancy permits.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams granted a temporary injunction, asked by township building inspector, James M. Gardiner, against Hy-Haven Homes and Jared Builders, Inc.

Township supervisor Floyd Andrews said several families had moved into homes in new subdivisions by the companies near Sashabaw and Pelton roads.

The moves were made without permits, which are being held up, he said, because water supply in the area does not meet township requirements. The permits are given after a check to see if the building code has been followed.

The companies did not protest the temporary injunction. Judge Adams said if a hearing is called, the legality of the occupancy permits will be tested.

Largest Ore Carrier Ever Built Is Planned

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Plans for a huge ore carrier — largest ever to ply the Great Lakes — are announced by a University of Michigan naval architect, who will serve as special consultant on its design and construction.

Prof. L. A. Baier, chairman of the department of Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering, said the vessel will be designed to transport Canadian ore from the mouth of the St. Lawrence river through the St. Lawrence Seaway to Great Lakes ports.

Baier was appointed to the supervisory post by the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., which is financing construction of the ship.

He expetcs the vessel to be operating by the summer of 1958.

The vesesl will be 729 feet in length, 75 feet at the beam and 39 feet from the main deck to the keel.

It will be constructed at the Great Lakes Engineering Works at River Rouge.

RETIRES FROM FORCE — Fellow Pontiac police officers turned out last night at the City Hall to see 63-year-old Patrolman Glenn D. "Bob" Walker (right) retire from the force after 29 years of service. The city presented him with a wallet and this gold badge being pinned on by Capt. Walter C. Krause, another veteran of the local force. Members of the Police Officers Assn. contributed $133.50 which "Bob" discovered in the wallet.

After 29 Years' Service Pontiac Policeman Retires

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

A Pontiac patrolman who spent the last 11 years of a 29 year police career walking the beat—and enjoying every minute of it—retired from the force last night.

Glenn D. "Bob" Walker, 63, hesitantly appeared before the City Commission to receive a wallet and a small gold badge bearing this inscription: "Police Officer, City of Pontiac, Retired."

Although he didn't show it at the time, "Bob's" biggest thrill came when he opened the wallet to discover $133.50 contributed by his fellow officers and members of the Police Officers Assn.

And these officers showed how much they hated to see Walker leave the force when some 20 off-duty officers, including Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, sat with the retiree in the commission chambers.

Walker is known by almost every citizen of Pontiac. He patrolled the downtown beat for many years.

"Officer Walker earned the respect of his fellow employes and performed his duty in such a manner that on three occasions he was awarded meritorious citations in recognition of outstanding police service in each case," Chief Straley said of Walker.

JOINED AT 34

But modest Walker didn't care to say too much of his career which began back in January 16, 1928. "I just got tired of shop work when I was 34 and joined the Pontiac force," he said.

"I've been a patrolman all my life," he said. "I have been offered promotions to sergeant but have turned all down because I like the foot beat and the people I meet."

Showing an amazing memory, Walker spoke of the first person he "locked up" and the first ticket he wrote. "And do you know I never brought a man into the station with cuffs on?" he said.

"And I never made an arrest where I didn't get a conviction," Walker mentioned.

Asked what his plans were, he said, "I haven't a single thing in mind what I will do, but I sure will miss these fine fellows I worked with."

Police Request Gets Rejection

City Officially Refuses Bid to Put Civil Service Issue on April Ballot

The Pontiac City Commission last night officially rejected a request from the Police Officers Assn. that the commission place on the April ballot a charter amendment which would replace the Police Trial Board with civil service.

This rejection was announced last week after the commission reached the decision during a monthly closed session.

The commission ruled that the board "has been fair and just in its decisions and in the handling of disciplinary measures against police officers whenever violations of departmental rules have occurred."

This decision was supported by Commissioner John A. Dugan (District 5). "We have no other course but to reject the request," Dugan said. "After all, the commission appointed the board, and we have to support it."

"I sort of resent what has been appearing in the newspapers saying the police chief influences the board," Dugan continued.

The association charged that Police Chief Herbert W. Straley exercises "undue influence" over the members of the board in disciplainary action of officers.

Ex-Sheriff's Daughter Leaves $500,000 Estate

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Mrs. Ada Newton Neal, daughter of a former Macomb County sheriff, left an estate valued at $500,000 when she died Dec. 24 at the age of 85.

Provate court files disclose that her safety deposit box contained an estimated $450,000 in securities, including 5,040 shares of General Motors stock.

The will left $13,000 to church groups a quarter of the estate to a brother, Harry Newton of Clearwater, Fla. and the remainder to her niece, Miss Rita Stockdale, with whom she lived.

Continue Probe of Ax-Murder

2 More to Get Lie Tests in August Slaying of Florence Norton, 72

Investigation of the Aug. 1 ax-slaying of 72-year-old Mrs. Florence Norton of Davisburg, continues into the sixth month today with Oakland County Sheriff's detectives still probing every minor detail in hopes of coming up with a definite solution to the crime.

The latest developments in the mysterious murder of the farm widow, who was found in her shed by neighbors, is that lie tests are to be given two men from Ortonville and White Lake Township in the near future. These will bring to 34 the number of tests which have been given various suspects.

A double-bitted axe, believed to have been the weapon used, has never been found and detectives are still seeking information on a car which was seen parked at the Norton farm a few days before her body was found.

Detectives have asked that anyone having any information concerning Mrs. Norton or the murder contact the Sheriff's Department.

Traditional Ceremony to End Yule

'Burning of the Green' Saturday

The Christmas season in Pontiac will come to a roaring close Saturday night when some 3,000 Christmas trees go up in flames during the city's first "Burning of the Green" ceremony.

Residents have been asked by the Parks and Recreation Dept. and the city fire marshal to cooperate in this program by taking their trees to the softball field at Edison and Montcalm streets. They are asked to have them there no later than tonight.

The trees will be shaped into a huge star some 150 feet in diameter. Five girls, escorted by city firemen, will put torches to the star at around 7:20 signaling the end of the Christmas holidays.

"We have 1,500 trees out there now," Leonard T. Buzz, director of the event, said, "but are looking forward to about twice that many by Saturday."

CAROLS BEGIN RITES

Preceding the burning, at 7, there will be a brief program of Christmas carols and the portrayal of legends and traditions, of which the "Burning of the Green" is one, by high school students.

Pontiac Fire Marshal Charles E. Metz urged residents to join in the program to eliminate dangerous fire hazards that exist each year at this time when dry trees remain in homes.

Buzz said another advantage to householders was that this eliminated disposing of their trees in city dumps or discarding them in front of their homes.

Quit Bus Tokens for City's Adults

15 Cent Straight Fares Starts Coming Sunday; Exceptions for Some

Starting Sunday, adults won't be able to use bus tokens any more on Pontiac City Lines buses.

They'll have to pay higher fares, as part of a new agreement between the bus company and the City. A drop in patronage brought the new fares, the company says.

Tokens, which used to be good for one ride and were sold to adults at the rate of four for 55 cents, will be replaced with a straight fare of 15 cents a ride. That's an increase of a little more than one cent a ride.

School children over the age of twelve will be able to buy the tokens two for a quarter. They used to pay a straight 10 cent fare. The increase is two-and-a-half cents a ride.

The tokens are good only on school days between 7 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. upon presentation of an identification card. Otherwise, the fare is the adult rate.

Children between six and 12 years of age will continue to ride at the 10 cent fare. Younger children with an adult, and police and firemen in uniform will still get free rides. Transfers will remain free.

The bus company urged persons possessing adult tokens to redeem them at face value at the company office, 200 N. Paddock St. They can be redeemed until March 1. The office is open from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. John A. Brown

Mrs. John A. (Blanche R.) Brown, 504 N. Saginaw St. died yesterday at her residence after an illness of several months. She was 85.

Born in Tuscola County on April 17, 1871, she was the daughter of Thomas and Caroline Jeffery Hawkins. She was married there on Feb. 26, 1891.

Mrs. Brown had lived in Pontiac 41 years and attended the First Baptist Church.

Surviving are three children, Lawrence G. Brown of Walled Lake; Mrs. Alma G. Fremed and Helen L. Brown, both of Pontiac; five grandchildren; six great-grandchildren and a brother, G. R. Hawkins of Wilmot.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Sunday from the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home with Dr. H. H. Savage of the First Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Stanley Kryzanowski

Mrs. Stanley H. (Helen Florence) Kryzanowski, 93 E. Ypsilanti Ave. died yesterday in Pontiac General Hospital. She had been in ill health five years.

Born in Manistee on Feb. 27 1907, she was the daughter of Roman and Vincentina Witucki Korzeniewski. She was married there on March 5, 1935.

A member of St. Michael's Church, Mrs. Kryzanowski had been a resident of Pontiac eight years.

Besides her husband, she leaves her mother of Manistee; four brothers, Raymond of Dearborn, Frank, Steven and Al Korzeniewski, all of Manistee; three sisters, Mrs. John Emery of Elkhart, Ind., Mrs. Eleanor Kalka and Mrs. Harry Muscyzinski, both of Manistee.

Recitation of the Rosary will be at 8 this evening in Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home. Mrs. Kryzanowski's body will then be taken to the F. H. Janicki Funeral Home in Manistee for service and burial.

Tries 'Getaway'; Loses License and Is Fined

TORONTO (AP)—Douglas Fenton, 30, of Oak Park, was fined $100 and received a six-month license suspension yesterday on a charge of criminal negligence because he "had a fight with the wife and just wanted to get somewhere fast."

Police said Fenton's car on New Year's Day was driven at 75 miles an hour through a 30-mile zone, passed other cars on the right and forced other cars off the road.

His wife told them "Thank God you've stopped him, he was going to kill us," officers said.

Skating at 11 Rinks; Report Ice as Fair

Last night's rise in temperature hampered several good days of skating on the city's 12 rinks, but didn't kill the skating for the weekend entirely, William Aho, director of parks, said.

"We have skating at all of the rinks even though the ice isn't the best," Aho said this morning. We're looking for more of that cold weather."

Skating is available at all rinks except Lincoln and Eastern Junior High Schools, he said.

The Day in Birmingham

'Want No Part of Ban' Says City Commissioner

BIRMINGHAM — Birmingham City Commissioners last night stated that they wanted no part of the left turn ban at the new Oak-Hunter intersection.

The State Department has suggested this ban, saying that present traffic conditions will undoubtedly result in a serious accident. A survey taken at the corner by the State Department, showed that cars making the left turn off Hunter Boulevard on to Oak avenue create a traffic bottleneck.

DPW Superintendent L. R. Gare said that when the construction was done the speed deceleration lane was deliberately omitted feeling it would be a safer measure.

Commissioners William Roberts and Florence Willett asked the State Highway representative why the controlled light system could not be installed at that corner.

"We cannot see how a left turn ban is going to eliminate the problem we have. It will throw traffic onto other corners that are equally overtaxed."

One state suggestion was that persons wishing to go west on Oak might make their left turns off Hunter at either Hamilton street or Oakland avenue, then proceed north on Woodward to make the direct turn onto Oak street.

Commissioners said that this would throw a traffic burden on streets already heavily traveled, and while it might solve the left hand turn problem for Hunter would in the long run be no answer.

A State Highway Department survey on traffic and traffic count was started this morning at the Oak Hunter intersection. A report on this will be made to commissioners next Monday night when further consideration on the problem and probable workable suggestions will be made.

Birmingham has accepted the amendment to articles of incorporation, southeastern Oakland garbage and rubbish authority and to include the cities of Troy and Madison Heights and Lathrup Village.

Revised water rate schedule notice will be mailed to Birmingham consumers at the next billing period.

Water was formerly charged at the rate of 20 cents per thousand gallons. The new rate is 30 cents per thousand gallons. In addition there is a slight increase in quarterly service charges based on meter size. Most common is the ⅝ house meter formerly $2 and now $2.50.

The amendment to the zoning ordinance concerning the section dealing with off-street parking for commercial buildings has been adopted as presented by city attorney Jack Adams. Parking spaces are regulated according to the square foot size of the building.

In the absence of mayor James Allen, commissioner Harry Denyes presided at Thursday's commission meeting. Other absentees were Carl Ingreham and Charles Renfrew.

The Hi-12 will resume regular meetings on Monday, Jan. 7 at the Birmingham Community House, at 6:30 p.m.

Arno Hulet, State President of Hi-12, is the installing officer and will carry out his duties at that time. Hulet is also Supervisor of Bloomfield Township.

Hearing Postponed on New City Budget

In order that city commissioners might attend the annual dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, the Jan. 15 public hearing on the 1957 budget has been postponed until Jan. 22.

Mayor William W. Donaldson asked for the change when commissioners and officials received an invitation from the Chamber.

A suggestion that the hearing be held later that night, after the dinner, received a cool reception, from Manager Walter K. Willman and City Attorney William A. Ewart. "We would be open for criticism that we wouldn't be following the City Charter," Ewart said.

The weekly meeting that week will be held Jan. 16. The hearing could not be held then, officials said, because of insufficient time remaining to advertise the hearing as required by the charter.

Two on Critical List From Car Accidents

Oakland County Sheriff's deputy Ross Miller, 28, of 331 Reitman Ct., Rochester, and John E. Queen, 49, of 6615 Tipsico Rd., Highland Township, remain in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital today as the result of injuries received in separate New Year's Day auto accidents.

Miller, son of Avon Township Supervisor Cyril Miller, has failed to regain consciousness since he went off the road and crashed into a tree near Rochester early Tuesday while off duty. He has a severe head injury.

Queen is under treatment for internal injuries received two hours after the Miller accident when the car he was driving overturned on top of him on a Highland Township road.

Holly Man Hit by Car While Walking on Dixie

Reuben N. Jacobs, 56, of 691 Van Rd., Holly, suffered a fractured left leg and bruises when he was struck down by a car while walking along U.S. 10 near Farner in Drayton Plains last night.

He was listed in "fair" condition at Pontiac General Hospital today.

Joseph Sutherland, 28, of 6183 Wilson St., Drayton Plains, driver of the car, told State Police he did not see the man walking along the road due to the wet conditions and also the fact that Jacobs was wearing dark clothing.

Jaycees Select Hart 'Bosses' Night Speaker

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart will be guest speaker at this year's "Bosses' Night" dinner Jan. 9 sponsored annually by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce.

"Outstanding Young Man of Pontiac," "Outstanding Boss," and "Key Man" awards for 1956 will be presented at the meeting scheduled for Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave., beginning at 7 p.m.

Toastmaster for the event will be Stuart E. Whitfield former Jaycee president.

According to Dr. Robert H. Kimmins, chairman of the dinner, tickets may be purchased at the door or in advance from him. Some 100 Jaycees and their bosses are expected to attend.

The Jaycees are still looking for nominations for the "Outstanding Young Man of Pontiac" honor, according to Charles Brodbent, chairman of this award.

MORE NOMINATIONS WANTED

Persons who believe they know a community resident between 21 and 35 years who has contributed much in the way of community service the past year, are asked to mail their suggestions to: Pontiac Jaycees, Distinguished Service Award, Box 210, Pontiac.

Three judges will gather Monday, Jan. 7 and study the nominations and pick a winner. He will not be announced until Wednesday, Brodbent emphasized.

Some 10 Jaycees are expected to nominate their bosses for the "Outstanding Boss" award. A five-man committee will select the winner from these, Kimmins said.

Melvin Eller, president of the Junior Chamber, will pick the winner of the "Key Man" award which goes annually to the Jaycee considered to be the outstanding man in the organization.

The 1955 winners were William L. Treanor, "Outstanding Young Man," Gelston V. Poole, "Outstanding Boss," and William Fox, "Key Man."

Wife of Official Has Army Order

Lowest Price Offered; Bid Saves Government $75,000, Says Mrs. Ross

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has awarded an $834,150 contract to a firm headed by the wife of Asst. Secretary of Defense Robert Tripp Ross.

But Mrs. Claire Wynn Ross, confirming yesterday the contract award shown in Defense Department records, said in New York her bid was $75,000 lower than the next lowest bid offered.

"My husband has no more to do with it than you do," she told a questioner. "I saved the government $75,000 on this bid. I don't know whether I'll make a nickel or lose a lot of money."

The Defense Department said the contract was awarded Nov. 13, 1956, for 249,000 pairs of lightweight cotton wind-resistant trousers. It went to Wynn Enterprises, Inc., of Knoxville, Tenn., and New York. Mrs. Ross said she has been president of Wynn Enterprises since her brother retired last October, and had served as treasurer since the firm was founded in 1944.

She said the company has had many government contracts, each of them won on a low competitive bid.

A spokesman for Ross said he severed business connections when he filed as a candidate for nomination to Congress in February 1952.

Chicken Pox Cases Fall Off Drastically

The number of chicken pox cases in Oakland County dropped from 136 to 12, this past week, Dr. John D. Monroe, health director, reports.

$$, Not Diplomacy in Aid to Iran: Brooks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jack Brooks (D-Tex) said today it looks as if the United States "used dollars instead of diplomacy" in trying to bolster the strategic Middle East country of Iran.

Brooks is a member of the House International Operations subcommittee which yesterday used such terms as "loose," "slipshod" and "shocking" to describe America's quarter - billion-dollar aid program to Iran in 1951-56.

The subcommittee pictured U. S. aid as pouring "uncontrolled" money into Iran when Iran got into economic troubles after Premier Mossadegh's 1951 seizure of the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

It said American gift dollars have continued to go to the Middle East country at a high rate even though her oil earnings started up again in 1954.

* * *

Iran, with a 1,000-mile border with Russia and an estimated 13 per cent of the world's oil reserves, is presumably one of the countries thought of in President Eisenhower's plan to thwart any Soviet aggression in the Middle East.

British to Reactivate Maldive Islands Base

By WATSON SIMS

LONDON (AP) — Faced with the loss of her military bases in Ceylon, Britain has decided to reopen her World War II air base in the Maldive Islands as a stopoff on the way to Australia and the Far East.

* * *

The Commonwealth Relations Office announced an agreement had been reached with the Maldive sultanate to reactivate the base on the island of Gan, in the Addu Atoll group. A communications center also will be set up on the neighboring island of Hattadu.

The Maldives, a chain of more than 2,000 tiny islands in the Indian Ocean some 400 miles southwest of Ceylon, became a British protectorate in 1887. The population of 93,000 is almost entirely Moslem.

Reopening of the Maldive base was viewed in London as a major new approach to the problem of maintaining communications between Britain and the Far East.

An average American husband has about 18 neckties, most of them of the four-in-hand variety.

Patrolman Aids Stranded Dog; Reward—a Bite

NEW YORK (AP) — Man's best friend isn't always a dog. Ask Patrolman John H. Loughlin.

Loughlin, on duty yesterday at Central Park, saw a small dog stranded on a miniature ice floe on the lake.

He cautiously made his way over the thickest portion of ice to reach the dog, which wagged his tail as the policeman approached.

Finally, Loughlin reached out and lifted the dog from the floe. The dog sank his teeth into Loughlin's right hand and skipped to safety.

Loughlin, springing backward in pain, fell through the ice but was able to wade ashore.

Rickshaw Racket?

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Anyone seen pushing a rickshaw around Pasadena is going to have some explaining to do. The city of South Pasadena borrowed three rickshaws from MGM Studios to carry three pretty girls in the Tournament of Roses parade alongside a Chinese dragon float. Yesterday officials could find only two of them.

Training Program Begun by Recreation Leaders

Some 40 members of the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. today began a 13-week in-service training program to assist them in the performance of their jobs and to understand the operation of other city departments.

The weekly program will be held each Friday through March 29 at the Adah Shelly Branch Library.

City Manager Walter K. Willman presented the introduction to this year's program.

Other subjects to be discussed during the program includes department and city operations, personnel policies, benefits possible for city employes, first aid, public relations, maintenance of city equipment, landscaping, safety on the job, and recreation features of the department.

The classes are taught by city officials and department employes. "They have proved very beneficial in the past years," William Aho, parks supervisor and coordinator of the program, said.

1956 Car Crash Fatalities Set Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents killed more Americans in 1956 than ever before—and law officials throughout the nation are turning to get-tough policies to cut down the highway slaughter.

There was at least a 5 per cent rise over 1955. Safety experts estimate the total at more than 40,000.

The 1955 figure was 38,426. The previous high — 39,969 — was recorded in 1941.

In states which had fewer traffic fatalities in 1956 than in 1955, credit generally is given to rigid enforcement of safety measures. In states where traffic deaths increased, similar crackdowns generally are planned.

A state-by-state survey by the Associated Press shows that these measures — already in effect in some states and planned in others —include:

1. Increasing the number of police patrols on highways. This has top priority in most states.

2. New laws—or harsher enforcement of existing laws—calling for suspension of licenses and —or fines and imprisonment for motorists convicted of drunk driving, "chronic" negligence and speeding.

3. Tighter examinations for vehicle licenses and mandatory auto inspection programs.

4. Use of National Guard troops of sheriff's deputies to reinforce regular highway police during peak travel periods, such as holiday weekends.

5. Periodic roadblocks — with massed troopers stopping all cars and checking on licenses, intoxication and vehicle condition.

6. Expansion of the use of radar devices in catching speeders.

7. Establishing state speed limits where they are not already in force.

The survey came on the heels of the Christmas and New Year weekends when 1,115 persons were killed in the combined holiday periods—a new high.

Safety experts attributed the comparatively low toll of 409 during the four-day New Year weekend to increased vigilance and enforcement measures resulting from the nation's reaction to the staggering Christmas weekend total of 706 traffic deaths. The Christmas traffic toll was a record for any holiday.

Tennessee and Michigan are examples of states which took strong measures to reduce highway fatalities in 1956 — and succeeded.

Babies Born in State Hit Record High in '56

LANSING (AP) — A record number of babies were born in Michigan last year, the state health department reports.

The department estimated the 1956 total at 203,000. The previous high for births was 195,022 in 1955.

The exact figures for 1956 will not be in hand for some weeks, the department said, but during the first 11 months there were 182,884 births, or 8,566 more than in the corresponding 1955 period.

This city in 1821 was the first in America to use gas for street lighting.

Vet Suffers 15 Years

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—M. Sgt. Roger Tibbets, a veteran of the Pearl Harbor attack, observed the 15th anniversary flat on his back.

However, he did not suffer his injury in the attack. He escaped untouched, but sprained his back when he bent over to pick up a hammer.

It Is a Large Job, But He Can Fill It

In assuming his duties as our Congressman, William S. Broomfield is stepping into big shoes. But he will not rattle around in them.

Among the youngest members of the National House of Representatives, he comes from one of its most populous districts and one of its greatest industrial areas, likewise an area of many other interests.

But we will be well represented. His experience in both houses of the Michigan Legislature gives him a close insight into what he will encounter on a higher level. He is not a novice in the work.

His record in the Legislature was such that we'll all be immensely satisfied if his record at Washington is as good.

And we are sure it will be. Old lobbyists will not fool him. He has learned their ways.

He always will be alert as to what's happening on a national and world level, especially as it pertains to the best interests of his constituency.

Their confidence in him was demonstrated in the primary, when he won over a seasoned campaigner, and in the election when he received the biggest vote that Oakland County ever gave a candidate for that office.

With the sound and highly valued advice and council of the veteran in legislative work whom he succeeds, George A. Dondero, together with the know how he has accumulated in the work on a state level, and a personality that's his biggest asset, Broomfield never will stick out his neck when it should remain within his collar.

Nor will the people back home have cause to accuse him of oversight when their interests are threatened and when they need somebody to stand up and fight for them.

He will not be awed by professional spell binders who have too much to do with what's happening on Capitol Hill.

He never will sell us down the road for political expediency.

Armed Forces Brought Under Social Security

The Servicemen's and Veterans' Survivor Benefits Act became effective the first of the year.

This legislation had been requested by President Eisenhower in his message of April 10, 1956. It was described as "of tremendous importance to all active duty personnel and to survivors of deceased servicemen." All military personnel now will be under the regular social security system on a contributory basis and many inequities in military survivors' benefits will be eliminated.

The new law is in line with recommendations made by Gen. Omar N. Bradley's Commission on Veterans' Benefits. It takes away no benefits any service members and their families are now receiving.

Social Security benefits are separate from and in addition to military retirement pay or any form of compensation benefits paid by the Veterans' Administration. Service personnel will contribute 2.25 per cent of their basic pay under $4,200 a year, not including allowances or special pay. These contributions will be matched by the Government as employer.

Temporary, partial and non-contributory social security coverage formerly given to members of the armed forces is superseded by the new law. Military personnel retiring after 1956 can apply military wage credits earned after that year in determining eventual benefits. They may also apply non-contributory wage credits for active military service from 1951 to 1956.

In signing this bill the President said that "Congress for the first time in many years has given a measure of financial security to the families of our soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines."

If you don't believe people are funnier than monkeys, go to a zoo and watch the people who are watching the monkeys.

The Man About Town

Much Care Needed

Ice on Most Lakes Still Not Safe; Watch Streams

Good old times: When the only thing on radio or television that irked us was the static.

It requires considerable near-zero weather to make most of the lakes in the Pontiac area safe for skating or ice fishing. With the mercury dropping to near zero on some recent nights, some of the smaller lakes accumulated an ice crust to make them safe. But with the rising temperature of the last couple of days, caution is urged.

None of the larger lakes among the 400 odd that Oakland County contains are safe over their entire surface. This is especially true of those which have streams flowing through them, where they rarely are safe in that portion followed by the stream, and never safe in the area where the stream enters or leaves them.

Known to thousands of people for his kindly manner and attention to his job,

Gus Albert Points

is retiring after 28 years' work as a porter at

Waite's,

without an interruption in his service. Asked by

Managing Director Howard Van Dusen

about his fondest memories, Gus said, "The thing that stands out most in my mind is the good will I have experienced with the management, and the harmonious relationship I have enjoyed with those with whom I worked."

With a pogo stick which she received for Christmas, ten year old

of 2661 Silverside Ave., made 1,111 continuous jumps. She was counted by her brother, father and grandfather who claim this as a local record.

Although it has been efficiently deodorized, the pet skunk in the family of

Mr. and Mrs. Burchard Ottoway

of Rochester still bears the somewhat affectionate name of "Stinker."

Quite elated over the fact that Oakland County went through another long week end holiday without a traffic fatality is who wonders if we cannot continue the habit over all week ends during 1957.

The cat in the family of

Mr. and Mrs. Melrose Fleetham

of Keego Harbor goes on an annual binge during the Christmas tree activities, and returns in a badly bedraggled condition after the tree is taken down. This time it brought back four kittens.

Starting to Wear Away

David Lawrence Says:

America's Economy Vacillating

WASHINGTON — An atmosphere of impending crisis surrounds the new Congress. There is an air of anxiety, and it stems from internal as well as external factors.

The uncertainty about the Middle East and the turbulence in the satellite states of Eastern Europe which could cause a crumbling of the Kremlin are in the headlines every day, but there is something else which isn't — the growing fear that America's economy faces some serious storms in the months ahead.

This Congress remains devided on party lines almost exactly as it did after the 1954 election. That's because contests for Congress are by districts and states, and local issues play a vital part. Hence, the popularity of a president cannot influence the result in Congress, as is sometimes assumed. The main reason why the Republican party didn't get an overwhelming vote in both houses of Congress was economic. There was a business recession in 1954 and a farm recession in 1956.

Now the biggest threat that faces the party in power is the prospect of another setback to business. This can come as a result of the wage and price inflation now being experienced in many industries.

America doesn't have a free economy, as is so often insisted. If cartels and monopolies were to fix prices, the public would understand, and there would be a demand for vigorous enforcement of the antitrust laws. Yet, when an artificial factor that fixes prices and interferes with the free flow of goods to market is interposed by another type of monopoly — the labor-union cartels-then there is little public understanding or complaint.

MORE AND MORE

Today's economic danger lies in the fact that a habit has developed in labor-union negotiations to demand more and more each year, irrespective of whether the prices of the goods manufactured are forced upward to a point where the buyers cannot absorb them.

For the first time in many years corporation profits of many major companies have shown a decline as compared with previous years. The 1956 earnings were below those of 1955, and there are indications that in 1957 they will go even lower.

The cry of business men on every side is "rising costs." Nobody seems to be able to forecast when the inflationary trend will stop. For, when wages go up, prices are raised, too. The doctrine of labor leaders that wage increases can be absorbed indefinitely out of high profits has in it a basic fallacy. For, while profits do decline, wages never drop except when the bottom has fallen out of everything and a depression is on.

There is, therefore, no flexibility in America's economic system as at present constituted. The Federal Reserve Board may make money "tight" and limit credit, but it can do nothing to stop the wage spiral which is at the bottom of the money inflation. Companies seek to expand and expand in order to produce a bigger and bigger volume of goods, hoping thereby to get greater productivity and higher profits. But there is on the horizon already some signs that the cycle is coming to an end — the period of rising costs can be halted apparently only by a curtailment of buying due to the price rises.

This is called "resistance" to prices, and the big question of the hour is how near is the nation to that point in the current operations of business.

There are some symptoms of trouble. Every now and then mergers are compelled as a means of rescuing a business from the strait jacket of higher and higher costs and lower and lower profits. Small businesses are encountering the same kind of setbacks as the larger ones.

The root of the trouble is the failure to understand that the profit systems also a loss system and that the persons who do not invest capital and have no primary responsibility for earning a profit cannot be permitted to force a narrower and narrower spread between profits and costs. The end result of such a pressure is bound to be unemployment for many workers.

OPTIMISTIC

The prophesies and forecasts for 1957 as issued at the beginning of the New Year are, as usual, optimistic. But the situation underneath is not stable. One reason, of course, is that every business must put aside 52 cents out of every dollar of profit for federal taxes, and there is no sign of tax reduction. Congress is still in a mood to spend more and more.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Improper Nutrition Seen as Basic Cause for Colitis

More than 30 years ago Sir Robert McCarrison, M.D., published the first edition of his "Studies in Deficiency Disease." This book is a classic in the literature of nutrition. So, in quoting from it, I hardly need say there is no better authority. In the chapter on chronic gastro-intestinal disorders McCarrison wrote:

"Mucous Disease.—One of the earliest pathological evidences of deficient and ill-balanced foods, as observed in animals, is congestion of the gastro-intestinal mucosa. (Mucosa means lining membrane). Such a state of congestion may well give rise in children to the gastro-intestinal catarrh which characterizes "mucous disease." This disorder is very common in children who are fed largely on sterilized milk, artificial foods, white bread, polished rice, poor butter, and excessive quantities of sugar."

"One of the most constant results of food deficient in vitamins," Sir Robert continues, "is colitis. It is so frequent that it may rank as a cardinal sign of vitaminic deficiency. It may arise as a result of the absence of vitamin B alone, although it was more frequently encountered in animals deprived of vitamins in general.

". . . Most cases in the human subject are of very long standing. I have myself no doubt that a portion of them have resulted from the long continued use of deficient foods from childhood onwards . . . Too often in later life dietetic treatment causes improvement only to a certain point beyond which no further alleviation occurs."

McCarrison's belief that colitis —derangement of the colon, as we call it today—results from "long-continued use of deficient foods from childhood onwards" reminds me, and I hope you too, of the belief I have expressed here many times.

It is that rheumatis—physical degeneration of joint tissues—is a manifestation of nutritional deficiency, inadequate intake of Ca, D, I, and B from childhood up to the present.

Paying customers of trick specialists and "clinic" racketeers—and how they pay!—will wonder how a pipsqueak can have the temerity to present any other view of so-called arthritis than that the medical merchant who keeps them forever trying the latest miracle medicine for their joint disability. Nevertheless, I forgive them and keep on peddling my dinky book—Chronic Joint Disability, for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed.

Talks to follow will be about remedies which students of these little lessons have found most satisfactory through the years.

Meanwhile bear in mind that colitis, particularly "mucous colitis," is not always what it is quacked up to be.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Voices Complaint of Many About City Bus Schedules

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Many of us have watched with great interest for the past few years the Pontiac City Lines, and their continuing loss of business and increase of fares. Many of us have suffered with the bus company and their apparent money troubles, by putting up with more and more costly inconveniences. I took the liberty of asking many riders how they felt about the new schedule, put into effect on December 30. Ninety-nine per cent of the riders didn't like it.

But let's go a little deeper. I can't count the number of times I have just missed a bus because the driver went a few minutes early, deliberately breaching the published schedule and causing me costly cab fees. Every day going home, I and about 50 others put up with a jam packed bus, and a driver who insists on stopping on a dime at every stop. We wait for a bus when it is late sometimes ten minutes in zero weather. But we keep quiet. We are patient when the bus line says, "Sorry, tokens are four for fifty-five," instead of three for 35 cents.

But this new schedule is breaking our backs, or the camel's. "Take last Monday," one rider said. "According to the schedule it is a 'weekday'. Where was the 6:30 a.m. bus?" He was referring to the Joslyn run. "There was none, because it was on a Saturday schedule. No one told me." I found out, too, about 6:40 a.m., and was able to hail a cab and make it in to work. Then, too, what about all these Saturday workers who have to be on the job at 7 a.m. or before?

Bus riders in the Perry Park area are all grumbling. "I stayed with them. Always raising the rates, but still rode them. Now they took the bus away from me. Why?"

Another rider said, "You can't make a connection downtown because the bus is always late, especially in the morning." Well, these are just a few of the gripes, Pontiac City Lines. But I have saved one big item until last.

I'll go out on the limb . . . but after talking with all these people I dare say that if you will restore the old schedule which you have just recently rescinded, and provide a little better service, these same people would gladly pay your price. Or are we actually "unwanted?"

Any number said, "I'd give them 20 cents straight fare if they would put on the old Saturday schedule, or the Perry Park run."

Well, here is a proposal, Pontiac City Lines. Pontiac needs its bus lines, all of them. You have done nothing at all constructive to help keep them here What are you going to do? To coin a phrase used in the editorial columns of this paper occasionally, "It's your move!" We the people have spoken.

Fear of Soviet Takeover Holds Poland in Red Bloc

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Polish Communist leader Wladyslaw Gomulka is in a dangerous spot in trying to loosen the reins of Moscow.

Direct reports from responsible quarters in Poland say that Gomulka's foreign policy is based on two main factors.

He would like to build friendly relations with the West, particularly the United States. But at the same time he must avoid any Soviet armed intervention on the Hungarian pattern.

Fear of a revolt that would give the Soviets a pretext to intervene under the so-called Warsaw milita pact is an overriding consideration in any cabinet action.

Gomulka already has won important military, political and economic concessions from Moscow. But the economy is so hard-hit that the Poles still have to rely heavily on the Soviet Union.

REDS ALL AROUND

Geography also plays against Polish nationalist goals. The country is caught between the armed forces of East and West and the nation is surrounded by the Soviet bloc.

Under a recent agreement the Soviet Union will send 1,400,000 tons of grain into Poland on a two-year credit deal. Warsaw does not have enough Western currency to buy even a fraction of the grain it could have used from the United States, Canada or Argentina.

Unless the Poles can get substantial amounts of credit from the West the Warsaw regime soon will have to beg the Soviet government again for credits for iron ore and raw cotton.

Poles who plead for Washington to understand their plight say that Gomulka may be compelled to approach Moscow again and this would be dangerous for Warsaw.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Delinquent Parents Are Problem

Dean Chable offers some facts which should make interesting discussion material at service club luncheons and other adult groups. You might discuss them in Sunday School next Sunday, too. Remember what Christ said about people who place stumbling blocks in front of His little ones! This includes delinquent dads and maudlin mothers!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-365: Dr. E. Robert Chable, aged about 35, is an unusually talented dean of men.

"Dr. Crane, parents often cause us more concern than the college students," Dean Chable informed me when we dined together recently.

"Let me cite a specific case. Four Dads of our college boys rented some rooms in a motel, off campus limits.

"Then they imported liquor and threw a drinking party for their sons.

"Please note that it wasn't the college boys who were primarily at fault, but their fathers.

"With all the clamor nowadays about juvenile delinquency, don't you think we better turn the spotlight upon parental delinquency, too?"

PARENTAL DELINQUENCY

Yes, indeed, and the sooner, the better.

In this clinical column on practical psychology, I have often mentioned that bad children usually have bad parents.

The latter may be guilty of sins of ommission instead of such obvious sins of commission as these four fathers mentioned by Dr. Chable.

Alas, too, it isn't immigrant dads or parents from the wrong side of the tracks that cause us the most trouble in America.

It is the parents who belong to ritzy country clubs and lodges and men's service organizations and even the churches.

They are supposed to know better and thus to set a good moral example before teen-agers, as well as toddlers.

But they will descend upon a college for a football game and openly swig whisky from flasks passed indiscriminately up and down the rows of seats.

During the past football season, I attended an important game.

One of the star ends on the team and an outstanding young man on the campus, introduced me to his parents and younger brothers.

The father was so drunk it showed in his walk and speech. And what made him more humiliating to his talented son, was the fact that father tried to throw his arms around coeds and married women indiscriminately.

He apparently thought he was a Don Juan. But imagine the embarrassment to this popular college athlete!

That man was a very delinquent dad!

There are still a lot of such juvenile males, often past 40 years of age, who think a bottle of whisky makes them All-American athletes and matinee idols!

Whisky thus brings out their secret wishful thinking. They are often scared of old age, so think a bottle of gin will revert them to Joe College level.

If they would simply wear a horse's head, they'd be a whole horse!

Nobody is faultless in this world, but certainly parents should never flaunt their stupidity before their children and the latter's pals.

When I was stationed at a famous women's college in New England in the 1920's, cigarette smoking by women was just coming into vogue.

And a lot of New York City mothers would bring cartons of cigarettes to their college daughters and thus help encourage this juvenile habit.

"Dr. Crane, we want to show them we are pals,' they argued.

Well, colleges try to teach people to use their brains. So nobody who professes to espouse education, should encourage youth to cultivate stupid habits, medically, economically and morally unwise.

John Barleycorn produces maudlin mothers and delinquent dads, so please heed Dean Chable's urging and at least don't make an ass of yourself on our college campuses where you humiliate your own sons and daughters!

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Here Are Correct Puzzle Answers

The following are the answers and explanations for Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 30 which appeared in last week's Press.

1. SHIP is sensible. The relevant kind of Slip (a pier) is always at the waterfront, so you must choose SHIP, which may be elsewhere at times.

2. NAP is better. Once the NAP (hairy pile, as of a rug) is worn, the rug is too shabby to be of much use. A worn Pan is still quite useful, even if it is no longer good to look at.

3. PUNT is better. To PUNT constantly, in the sense of poling a boat, would certainly require good steady hands. You should not choose Putt because even a professional golfer does not PUTT constantly. Many other strokes are used.

4. FAWN is the choice. There is no reason to think that a Faun (mythical creature, half-goat, half-man) can be considered a beauty, since it is more of a monster. A FAWN (young deer) is definitely a beautiful creature.

5. CROW is the word. Without knowing the successful man's personal circumstances, we can't admit that if he Works too much he can be disliked. We can say that if he should CROW (gloat triumphantly), he can be disliked.

6. WATCH is a good choice. It is undeniable that in a close Match either team or contestant has a good chance; all that is needed is a break for one side or the other. It is a close WATCH or careful guarding that would demand keen vision.

7. PIN is preferable. Because so many waiters receive low salaries, being expected to make up the difference in Tip money, and because certain spots (like night clubs) are noted for big tipping, you can't choose tip. PIN money is merely a small amount for minor expenses. If more money is needed, it would no longer be PIN money.

8. SHOUT is the choice. A SHOUT, as from the stadium or the bleachers, would not get the attention of the players. A Touch certainly would get anyone's attention, even that of persons hard of hearing.

9. CALM is the answer. There is no cause to think that both a husband and wife may get Balm, in its colloquial sense as heart balm or alimony. Only the wife will get it, and in very rare instances, a husband, but not both. However, they can both get CALM, or peace after the strife of incompatibility.

10. HELP is logical. Anybody cannot Heap another with troubles, as a great many people simply will not accept such troubles or permit it to be done!. But anybody can HELP another with troubles, materially or with sympathy.

11 TABLE, yes. There are reasons why a Blaze could be in a fireplace, even on a warm summer evening. It would not surprise a farmer if his wife wanted to burn a few papers without having to go outside. It would be wasteful anywhere to burn a TABLE on a summer evening. If it were old and broken and slated for the fireplace, it would be saved for winter.

12. BEAUTY is better. A fisherman would be annoyed to lose a BEAUTY (a very good fish). He would be a good deal more than annoyed to lose a Bateau, a river boat used in Canada or Louisiana.

13. ARCH is likely. An ARCH child would have a roguish charm that could be quite effective in wheedling things from parents. If a child is Hard, there is an equal possibility that the parents are hard, too, for children imitate parents. A hard parent could quite easily refuse to indulge a hard, or tough, child.

14. WEB is good. Something like a WEB would be a net. A Bow of ribbon actually helps to control hair, and you don't need something like it. You need a ribbon.

15. PECK is reasonable. Because a PECK is about 15 lbs. (¼ of bushel, which is usually 60 lbs.), you can see that 7½ lbs. a week is reasonable for a small family. A Pack of potatoes is too vague to have so specific an answer.

16. BARBER is right, for he "is surely able" to clip anyone at any time. Many men may be without money in a variety of circumstances, as when working or playing in old clothes, or going swimming, etc. In such cases, a Robber couldn't "clip" them for anything.

Marilyn, Hubby Off for Vacation: Rest in Jamaica

NEW YORK (AP)—Marilyn Monroe and her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, left Thursday for a two-week vacation in Jamaica, B.W.I., with a "no comment' on whether they expect a child.

"We resolved to make no comment on that," Miller told newsmen before the couple took off from Idlewild Airport.

Newsmen asked him if he would be happy if there were an addition to the family.

"I sure would," he said.

To a question whether his wife intended to retire from films, Miller said: "Oh, no. She just needed a rest after making two pictures."

Accompanying the Millers aboard an airliner were Miller's cousin, Morton Miller of Roxbury, Conn., and the latter's wife.

Historic Sites in UP to Be Marked

MARQUETTE (AP) — The historic sites of Michigan's Upper Peninsula—where history was being made less than 20 years after the landing of the Pilgrims—will be well marked for 1957 visitors.

Cast aluminum markers are to be erected at 11 sites to help tourists and natives alike visualize the exploits of the French voyageur-traders and missionaries, the Indian tribes, lumber men of the legenday Paul Bunyan era, and the troops of France, Britain and the United States who fought for the vast wealth of the area.

Erection of the markers, part of a state-wide program authorized by the state legislature last year, will be undertaken next Spring by the Michigan Historical Commission.

"Perhaps this marking system, in addition to having an effect on the recreational economy of the region, will do much to point up the Upper Peninsula's rich and inspiring historical heritage," said a spokesman for the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau.

"Not too many people realize, for instance, that probably the first white man to set foot on Michigan soil—a young Frenchman named Etienne Bruel—was in the Sault and Copper Country areas at least as early as 1618, more than 80 years before a fort was erected on what is the present site of the city of Detroit," he added.

"Jean Nicolet came along in 1634, camping near the present city of Sault Ste. Marie, and discovering the Straits of Mackinac. Pere Mesnard established the first mission at Keweenaw bay in 1660 and a few years later Father Marquette founded the mission at Sault Ste. Marie, which thus became the oldest permanent settlement in the state."

MARKER SITES

These locations have been assigned markets in the Upper Peninsula thus far:

1. Fort Brady in Brady Park, Sault Ste. Marie, built in 1822 to insure American rights to the area. It was first built on the site of the old French Fort Repentingny (1751-1762) and rebuilt on the present site in 1892.

2. Mackinac Island, in the little park near the main dock, to call attention to numerous historic spots around the island.

3. St. Ignace, at the old state ferry dock, marking the second oldest Michigan settlement, begun in 1671. Other markers will be erected to mark the chapel of Father Marquette in Fort Buade.

4. Market street on Mackinac Island, designating the island's main thoroughfare in the fur trading days of the early 1800's.

5. Marquette Iron Range, the oldest in the Lake Superior district, and for many years the richest "Iron Mountain" in the world. The marker will be erected just outside Marquette State Prison.

6. The Copper Country, to be marked by a plaque in a roadside park four miles south of Calumet on U.S. 41.

7. The Gogebic Iron Range, to be marked at a roadside park a mile east of Bessemer on U.S. 2.

8. Fort Wilkins, built by the U.S. government in 1844 to protect early miners and prospectors from the Indians.

10. The Menominee Area, scene of the bloody "Sturgeon War" between Chippewa and Menominee Indian tribes, and settled in 1796 by the French.

11. Michigan College of Mining and Technology, at Houghton, one of the nation's top mining technology schools.

Jayne Mansfield Sued for Divorce Despite Decree

DALLAS (AP)—A suit for divorce, alleging that actress Jayne Mansfield had caused him "pain, anguish and distress," was filed here yesterday by her husband Paul J. Mansfield.

Mansfield said in his petition that he was willing to pay any reasonable sum for the support of their 5-year-old daughter. He stated the couple had married May 6, 1950, and separated Jan. 7, 1955.

At Los Angeles, the actress, who won an interlocutory decree from him there last Oct. 24, said of Mansfield's filing:

"I have no idea why he would do such a thing. All I can say is I hope he has fun."

Have No A-Weapons in Mideast: Hagerty

WASHINGTON (AP) — A published report that U. S. Marines in the Mediterranean area have "live" atomic artillery weapons was discussed among top government officials yesterday. But there was no official confirmation or denial of its authenticity.

The report, published in Scripps-Howard newspapers, quoted Gen. Randolph Pate, Marine Corps commandant. Pate himself was among those who declined to comment.

At the White House, press secretary James C. Hagerty said in response to questions that President Eisenhower "has given no authority for use of atomic or any other weapons in the Middle East." Hagerty declined to comment further.

Newsmen also asked Secretary of State Dulles about the report as Dulles emerged from a conference with Eisenhower on the Middle East situation. Indicating he and White House officials had discussed the atomic artillery report, Dulles told reporters he expected Hagerty to "comment on that right away." The Hagerty statement came more than an hour later.

Sense of Humor Not Impaired

Spirit of Farnell Surmounts Ills

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
of our
Waterford Township Bureau

One of the happiest men in Waterford Township is Jerry Farnell, 36, and his hundreds of friends are astounded by his good nature — because Jerry is totally blind and paralyzed from his chest down.

Injured in World War II when he contacted a disease destroying his eyesight and parts of his nervous system, Jerry is termed a quadplegic by doctors and can only move his arms and neck.

Nature endowed Jerry with a terrific sense of humor that has carried him through his ordeal with flying colors. From the time a guest enters Jerry's apartment, until they leave, there is an air of complete gaiety and good will. He has a razor-sharp mind that makes a joke out of everything.

Jerry lives with his sister's family, the Lon McCullochs' and their five children at 3938 Cambrook Ln., just back of Our Lady of the Lakes church.

His apartment in the big, new 11-room ranch home is especially designed for him and, because he is an avid music lover, the room is equipped with radio, television and, for Christmas, a new Hi-fi system.

HOIST LENDS HAND

One of the most remarkable pieces of equipment in Jerry's room is the automatic hoist, designed and installed by his brother-in-law, Lon.

The problem of lifting Jerry, who is a big man, was solved by installation of a boat hoist in the center of the ceiling, during recent construction of the home.

A sling is wrapped around Jerry and the hoist is turned on. He is lifted, gently into the air, then lowered to his wheelchair. There is an automatic shut-off valve at the ceiling level in case of emergency.

A special nurse takes care of Jerry, five days a week and his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farnell of Detroit take over during the week-ends.

A cement ramp was designed so that Jerry can be wheeled down into the garage where a big ambulance can transport him wherever he wants to go. A temperamental motor leaves the car inactive at the present time, but one of Jerry's friends, ambulance owner, Leonard Coats, is now chauffering Jerry.

STAUNCH ND FAN

There is only one thing that upsets this man who gets such a kick out of life — that is, when a sports writer or radio commentator makes a derogatory remark about his heroes, the Notre Dame football squad.

An avid sports fan, Jerry has followed the "fighting Irish" since he was a youngster, and is "real sad" because of this year's performance.

In fact, Jerry has insisted that his room be decorated in the school's colors. Two walls and the ceiling are light blue, and the other two are light gold. Asked why he was so partial to the Notre Dame squad and he said, "I guess its because my mother told me I was Irish."

His very closest friend, Father Frederick Delaney had this to say of Jerry.

"Jerry Farnell's life is a shining example of the power of faith and prayer in a person's life. In spite of his infirmities, which some might consider unbearable, the smile and affable disposition of Jerry is an inspiration to all those who know him."

LOVES LIFE — AND KIDS — Thirty-six-year-old Jerry Farnell, who is blind and paralyzed feels that life is not passing him by. His nephews, Timmie, 2, and Denny, 6, have fun listening to their uncle tell them stories and jokes. They live at 3938 Cambrook Ln., Waterford Township.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Wayne Seifert Is Host as Fruit Growers Meet

A group of nine fruit growers met today at the Oakland County Extension Service, 1260 West Blvd., to organize plans for the annual Southeastern Michigan Fruit Growers Assn. meeting on Feb. 11.

Wayne Seifert, assistant county agricultural agent and host for the day's meeting, said that agricultural agents from the 12 affected counties were also present.

A location for the annual dinner meeting has not been chosen as yet, Seifert said, but 200 fruit growers from the 12 counties are expected to attend this February meeting.

Kadar Admits Sixth Execution

Neighbors Betray Boy for Concealing Arms; Had Grenades, Pistols

VIENNA (AP) — Budapest radio reported today that a 25-year-old Communist regime was executed for hiding arms.

This brought the admitted number of rebels executed to six, although the actual number is believed to be much higher.

The broadcast said Geza Szivos, a teamster, was convicted and sentenced by a military court in Budapest. The Red radio gave these details:

Szivos got hold of an automoatic pistol Oct. 30 and joined the rebel group which stormed the Communist party headquarters in Budapest.

He admitted having fired 100 shots at the building, and "several persons were killed in the building."

On Nov. 4, the day of the Russian assault on Budapest, Szivos obtained two more automatic pistols, ammunition, eight hand grenades and two incendiary bombs. Tenants in the house where he lived informed on him to the police, and he was arrested Dec. 18. The arms were found in his quarters the next day.

The newspaper of Hungarian supported government, meanwhile, gave new evidence of Kadar's failure to draw support from the rebellious Hungarians.

The paper, Nepszabadsag, admitted that Kadar's Hungarian Socialist Workers' party has attracted only 103,000 members in two months of intensive recruiting throughout the country.

Students' Petition Wins; Pup Going to School

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Students at Overbrook Senior High School have a new classmate—a lonesome dog of mixed parentage found shivering in the schoolyard. School authorities decided he should be taken to the pound but 3,000 students held a special caucus and petitioned for a stay of sentence.

Assistant Principal Marion Masland bowed to the majority decision and the dog will attend school full time until his owner is found.

Crook Robs Policeman

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A city-wide manhunt is on for a gunman who early this morning robbed a taxi driver and held up a policeman, stealing his revolver and handcuffs, then making his escape in a police cruiser. The cruiser has not been recovered.

$1,265 Shoe Shine Lots of Fun—and Fun

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—Prices are high in Alaska, but a guy normally doesn't hand over $1,265 for a shoeshine.

Dale Webb did — and got the shine while standing in the snow at Fairbank's busiest street intersection.

It all came about because of a drive to raise funds for a new YMCA building.

Ed Hansen, his team captain, told Webb that if he reported next week with $1,000 pledged for the campaign, he'd get a shoe shine at the corner of Second and Cushman.

Webb came through with pledges for $1,265. Hansen paid off his end of the bargain the next day.

Trophies also were awarded by Straley yesterday to top individual marksmen and to winners of special contests.

Peak Discovery Cost Petty Sum

Papers Reveal Price of Expedition, Facts of Early U.S. History

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., (INS) — The discovery of Pike's Peak cost the American taxpayers exactly $544.88 to make the rugged mountain one of the biggest bargains in American history.

The Colorado peak's price tag was revealed when heirs of the late Charles H. Collins, former trustee of Colorado college, donated his famed collection of historical manuscripts to the Colorado Springs school.

Among the items is Capt. Zebulon M. Pike's sworn statement of subsistence expenses on the expeditions of 1805-1808.

Pike noted it cost $544.88 to feed his men for a total of 974 days—about three cents a man per day.

Authors of the letters and documents list like a "Who's Who" of early America: Alexander Hamilton, Patrick Henry, Robert E. Lee, James Madison, George Washington, Aaron Burr, Ulysses S. Grant and Abraham Lincoln among others.

A letter from Thomas Jefferson to the U.S. consul in London and dated 1790 was a portent of things to come as the famed Virginia Democrat complained about the impressment of American seamen by the British navy.

Jefferson declared that impressments had become so serious "as to obligate our government to take serious note of it."

Twenty-two years later the war of 1812 was ignited by the actions of British men of war which intercepted U. S. ships to impress American seamen.

Checks on Maid Arrested for Forgery

DETROIT (AP) — A bridegroom with an uneasy conscience admitted he wrote bad checks against the girl who introduced him to his wife and who was maid of honor at their wedding.

He said one of the checks was used to pay for his wedding suit. He was arrested after he went to the bank and offered to make restitution of $455.

Held on a charge of forgery, the groom said, "All during the ceremony I couldn't get my mind off those checks. I haven't had a good night's sleep since."

Usher Out Era of Rag, Bottle

Nurses Highly Trained to Qualify as Specialists in Anesthesia

ANN ARBOR (INS)—A University of Michigan nurse anesthetist says that the old "rag and bottle" era of anesthesa when ether or cholorform was dropped on a cloth mask over the patient's face until sleep came is now fortunately forgotten.

Miss Lillian Baird of the University Hospital said that modern anesthesia is a highly-skilled and technical specialty. She said:

"Anesthesia is now taken for granted as a part of any surgical procedure, but 100 years ago, anesthesia was in the development stage."

Miss Baird stated that modern nurse anesthetists, in order to quality for membership in the American Association of Nurse Anesthetists, must have from one to two years of specialized training in anesthesia techniques, anatomy, physiology, chemistry, pharmacology and "must know intimately the intricate alchemy of sleep."

The University of Michigan anesthetist recently took office as president of the A. A. N. A., which presently has a total membership between 8,000 and 9,000.

Rabbit Causes Death of 2 Farm Employes

PORTALES, N. M. (AP)—A rabbit caused the death of two men near here.

Three farm employes were laying aluminum irrigation pipe when they saw a rabbit run into a section. They grabbed the pipe and turned it up to shake the rabbit loose. The upper end of the pipe contacted with an electrical power line and two of the three were electrocuted.

Lights Out in Budapest

By JIM BISHOP

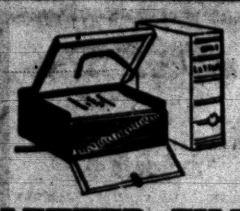

You hear awesome cries of oppressed multitudes—your heart melts at the tragedy of families torn apart by spoilers—you cringe as bare hands and courage meet steel bayonets and burning bullets—your own blood leaps faster as you flee through the last suspenseful mile with a family, as it escapes into Austria—and, finally, you share joyous tears in their new American haven.

It's a remarkable story, written as only famous author Jim Bishop could write it, which tells, through the experiences of one Hungarian patriot and his family, the whole vivid story of the revolt that shook the world. It will burn in your memory as a new milestone in newspaper reporting. Read "Lights Out in Budapest," an exclusive Showcase series . . . another in the Times January Jackpot of Reading . . .

Scientists Put Radioactivity to Work in the Pantry

Atom Age Promises Cheaper, Better Food

By STANLEY GODFREY
(For Hal Boyle)

ROME (AP) — Your potatoes are sprouting too much down in the cellar this winter? Dose them with a little radioactivity.

Want to grow roses on a spruce tree? Try radioactive isotope P32.

The peaceful outcrop of the atom can stiffen the stalks of barley and make for quicker and easier harvesting. It can keep green bananas in storage longer before they ripen, tell the scientist why some sheep need more food than others—and aid the farmer in hundreds of different ways.

Throughout the world the search goes on unceasingly for ways and means of using the atom for bringing cheaper, better foods to the market—and getting them there fresher and free of germs.

The Food & Agricultural Organization of the United Nations has set up a new committee to correlate and exchange information on ways the atom can help in European agriculture. It is known as the "European contact group on uses of isotopes and radiation in agricultural research." Recently it completed its first meeting at Wageningen, in the Netherlands.

Delegates from 16 European nations attended, along with observers from the United States and Soviet Russia, and eight international organizations.

Their findings and recommendations are being studied and catalogued at FAO headquarters here.

So much research is going on that the group asked member nations to list only the outstanding experiments in reporting for the master index to avoid clogging up the files.

The group broke up the experiments under way into four main groups — crop production, soil preservation and enrichment, food preservation, and animal science.

So far as crop production, soil fertility and livestock production are concerned, the amount of isotopes and equipment needed are relatively inexpensive, and training in their use can be acquired in a relatively short time, the group reported.

The main benefit of radiation in these fields lies in its ability to penetrate biological tissues and induce changes in them. Experiments are concentrated on the use of isotopes to kill off insect pests infecting growing crops, livestock, or stored foods and to aid in sterilizing or pasteurizing foodstuffs, like meat, by killing bacteria.

The delegates agreed, however, that atomic preservation is unlikely to replace normal heat sterilization for foodstuffs where it is now used, or the preservation of meat and fish by antibiotics.

Rather, they agreed, it should be developed as an "accessory" treatment along with such methods as refrigeration, or salting.

One possibility now being investigated is to give lightly salted bacon a radiation exposure to increase its life in storage.

But perhaps the first wide use of radiation will be with potatoes. Experiments have been under way for several years in many European nations to inhibit sprouting in stored potatoes by subjecting them to light bombardment by isotopes.

Navy Ship Safe After Ice Jam

Antarctic Floes Crush 'Arneb' but Rescue Boat Saves Vessel, Crew

McMURDO SOUND, Antarctica (AP) — The crew of an Operation Deep Freeze supply ship made emergency repairs today in the shelter of an antarctic cape after fighting their 7,400-ton vessel free from the grip of a crushing ice pack.

The captain of the U. S. Navy freighter Arneb messaged that his craft had reached the safety of Cape Hallett. Work was started to patch a gaping hole above the waterline and cracks in the hull inflicted by the blows of monster wind-driven ice floes.

Capt. Nels C. Johnson of Alexandria, Va., reported by radio that ice pressure had damaged both sides of the hull along the full length of the ship but that flooding was under control. One of the Arneb's two propellers also was damaged.

Johnson said there were no injuries to crew members and no loss of cargo. The Arneb carries about 200 men.

Cargo was being unloaded from two of the more seriously damaged holds to speed repairs.

The 450-foot Arneb, an attack cargo vessel specially fitted for antarctic duty, was pinned against the coast of Antarctica's Ross Ice Shelf New Year's Day. Sudden winds of near-hurricane force turned a huge ice jam into a grinding mass of destruction, sending it bearing down on the Arneb from across miles of open sea. A helicopter pilot reported the icepack extended 50 miles out to sea and as far up and down the coast as he could see.

The Northwind, one of the U.S. Coast Guard's most powerful icebreakers, smashed through the heavy ice to aid the stricken freighter. Pumps of both vessels were used to keep the Arneb from flooding while crewmen worked to shift cargo and shore up the damaged sides of the hull with timbers.

CONVOY chem-board* STORAGE FILES

MAKE THE COST AND WEIGHT OF STEEL UNNECESSARY

Convoy Chem-board Storage Files weigh little over half as much as steel files . . . are priced in the corrugated paper board range — with serviceability in the steel range . . . take less than 10% more space than steel files . . . can be stacked to the ceiling without supports . . . mate together top-to-bottom and lock together side-to-side . . . have wax-like texture that makes drawers slide easily . . . are shipped assembled for easy installation without tools . . . are water resistant — moisture will not weaken them.

145 pounds—or 200 pounds and more—are the same to the standard letter file drawer in this unusual strength test!

(*) Chem-board is the product of Convoy's exclusive chemical impregnation process that hardens the raw corrugated paper board and thoroughly binds the fibers. It is widely used to replace steel and wood industrial tote boxes.

Thinks Up Program for Creative Thinking

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — The air is filled with brain waves at Benton Harbor's class in "creative thinking."

The idea factory was thought up by Michigan State University Prof. Harold E. Gray. His students are junior executives, research engineers and advertising men.

The class gets together for two hours once a week and thinks. It starts out with fantastic ideas, then narrows discussion to practical solutions for local problems.

Prof. Gray says he hopes eventually the class will be able to "free its thought" to develop new ideas in work and hobbies.

Want House Pet? Tarantula's Fine —Says Zoologist

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A UCLA zoologist has put in a good word for large desert scorpions, black widow spiders, tarantulas and other crawling creatures. They're not so bad, he says.

Dr. Raymond Cowles said the sting of the large scorpion is little more severe than that of a bee. It's the smaller ones in southern Arizona and Mexico that cause deaths, he wants it known.

The black widow's bite, though painful, is seldom lethal, says the doctor, and he thinks the fearsome looking tarantula, although it bites, actually makes a good pet.

Flying TV Stations Developed by Navy

WASHINGTON — The Navy is planning the possibility of building flying television stations for helicopter use during major naval operations.

The airborne television, already developed and undergoing tests, is said to provide excellent operation over line-of-sight distances of more than 50 miles.

Systems of this type would be of great value the Navy believes, in controlling amphibious landings.

Three Travelers Describe Journey Through Europe

Zonta Club of Pontiac heard members of the club discuss European trips at the Thursday meeting held at Hotel Waldron.

Miss Adah Shelly, Miss Clara Nusbaumer and Mrs. Florence Doty told of humorous incidents as well as inspiring happenings along the way as they traveled throughout Europe.

Miss Shelly described the trip across the Atlantic on the Queen Mary and the flight over the Alps, and Mrs. Doty told of the trip to the Vatican and her audience with the Pope.

Miss Nusbaumer described the Isle of Capri and told of the pride Italians feel in the antiquity of their land, in their painting by old world artists, and in their buildings.

New members of the group introduced by Mrs. Fotis Takis, president, were Mrs. Earl Clark, Mrs. Eva Scott, Mrs. Rebecca Gould and Mrs. Robert Frayer.

Plans were completed for Amelia Earhart Day Jan. 10 at the Kingsley Inn. Marion Holden is chairman of the day.

Yvonne Shaver, John McKinney Exchange Vows

Yvonne Lee Shaver and John W. McKinney were married Saturday. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. D. A. Hoenshell of Free Methodist Church, Auburn Heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Don L. Shaver of South Sanford street are parents of the bride, and John is the son of Mrs. Harley McKinney of South Edith street and the late Mr. McKinney.

The bride wore a white knit suit for the ceremony and carried a white orchid on a white prayerbook.

Patricia Miller attended the bride wearing a blue knit suit with a corsage of pink carnations. Harley McKinney Jr. was his brother's best man.

Mrs Shaver wore a pink suit and a corsage of pink carnations for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. McKinney wore a blue wool dress with a corsage of pink carnations.

Following a reception held at the home of Mrs. McKinney, the newlyweds left on a honeymoon in the Southern states. They will reside on South Edith street.

Accept Conventions, Rebel Advised

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

One day this winter a 20-year-old friend came to see me in a very rebellious state of mind. It soon appeared that her plan for a weekend of skiing with a young man had been discovered by her parents — and got firmly stepped on.

"They're so conventional they can't see anything but their suspicion that we're going off to have an affair!" she stormed. "It's absolutely beyond them to imagine that we want to ski, not make love.

"Goodness, how I despise conventions! They just can't credit you with anything but their own nasty minds."

"Then they rate your compassion," I said.

She stared at me. "What do you mean?" she demanded. "Are you telling me than I should feel kindly toward this idiotic rule that says Bill and I can't be trusted to behave ourselves when we're alone?"

"Sometimes," I said, "I distrust you. For example, I'm never sure you will arrive on time for appointments you make with me. Today I felt suspicion of your punctuality. But you don't despise me for this.

"Although you know this limitation in my trust of you, you put up with it. Indeed, you often go out of your way to reassure me you'll be on time. You not only tolerate my suspiciusness but show compassion to it."

CAME THE LIGHT!

There was a long pause. Then my young friend said, "You mean that we have to put up with conventions just as we put up with limitation in people?"

"I mean that precisely," I said.

"Then you think my parents are right to raise all this row over a weekend with Bill?"

"Understandable," I said. "Human. Not perfect. Therefore they are to be treated with forbearance just as you want your limitations treated with forbearance. Conventions are extensions of our parents, Jean. It's as silly to despise them as it is to revere them."

"OK," she said. "But tell me this. If you were my mother would you let me go?"

"No," I said.

"I love you," she said—and got up from her chair to come over and kiss me.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Justin of Orchard Lake announce the engagement of their daughter, Kay, to Paul Wayne Sullivan, son of Mrs. David A. Sullivan of Detroit and the late Mr. Sullivan. Kay was graduated from St. Mary College and Paul is a graduate of U. of M. and Wayne State University.

Exercise to Cure Dowager's Hump

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Due to poor posture I have developed a "dowager's hump." Could you give me a good exercise? I am in my early thirties. Is it too late for improvement?"

A. I should say it isn't! As part of the corrective measures you must try to remember your posture during the day. Otherwise you will somewhat nullify the good which the corrective exercises will do. The following is a good exercise.

Lie on the floor on your back, arms resting on the floor, extending straight out from the shoulders, at right angles to the body. Palms face the ceiling. Roll your head backward as you lift your shoulders from the floor. Hips remain on floor. Hold for a few moments and return shoulders to the floor. Continue, slowly.

This is a good exercise for a dowager's hump: Roll your head backward as you lift your shoulders from the floor. Hips remain on floor. Hold for a few moments and return shoulders to floor. Continue.

Q. "I am 13 years old, 5 feet 3½ inches tall and weigh 106 pounds. My bust measures 33, waist 24 and hips 33½ inches. I am always conscious of having a big stomach and large expanding hips."

A. You must be worring about anything you are a little underweight, but not enough to worry about. You certainly do not have expanding hips with a measurement of 33½ inches. You will just naturally slim down as you grow a little older.

WORRIED WITHOUT REASON.

Q. "I am 14 years old, weigh 120 pounds and am 5 feet 6 inches tall. My measurements are, bust 34, waist 24 and hips 35 inches. I would like to know if I am too fat. My thighs are very big and I don't look too good in a bathing suit or shorts. Please answer in the paper, please!"

A. Youmust be worrying about nothing very serious because you are not at all overweight. You probably could stand to gain about five pounds.

Q. "I am 13 years old. My measurements are 36-28-36, I weigh 130 pounds but I am only five feet two inches tall. I tried to get thinner and did lose some weight but all the charts I look at tell me I should weigh something different. I would appreciate it if you would tell me what my weight should be."

A. About 106 pounds.

Q. "I am 37 years old, 5 feet, 5 inches tall and weigh 130 pounds. I'm not over-weight but I have fat on my stomach and my hips are no longer firm. Is there anything I can do about this to improve?"

A. Yes. Take abdominal and hip exercises. Special exercises are the only answer to these special problems.

If any of my readers would like to have these exercises send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 5. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "The Sins of Omission Can Sneak Up on You."

Baked Spuds Glorified With Fish

Carole Acres Cook Stuffs Potato Shells With Rich Mixture

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

If you always serve just plain baked potatoes, you might like to be different once and serve fancy stuffed baked potatoes the way Mrs. Robert C. Blackinton Jr. does. She stuffs them with lobster!

Mrs. Blackinton is rejoicing in the decorating of her new home in Carole Acres, occupied shortly before Christmas. There are three children in the Blackinton family. Mrs. Blackinton also enjoys cooking.

BAKED STUFFED POTATOES
By Mrs. Robert C. Blackinton Jr.

6-7 baking potatoes
1 cup sharp cheese, grated
1 flat can lobster, broken into pieces
¼ pound butter or margarine
Salt and pepper
Cream as needed

Bake potatoes and remove from shell. Mash with cream and salt and pepper. Add cheese, melted butter and lobster pieces. Put mixture back into shells. Dot with butter. Bake 25 minutes at 375 degrees. Serve with a sprinkling of paprika.

Dancer to Broaden Fame by Traveling With Revue

By JOAN HANAUER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Dancing star Gene Nelson thinks performers should be national stars, not local personalities.

This, he says, applies to both the movie star never seen east of Las Vegas and the Broadway actor to whom the west side of the Hudson seems like a foreign country.

"Years ago," said this talented young man, "a performer like Al Jolson would take a show on the road after it closed on Broadway, and stay with it personally for about a year-and-a-half. He was a national star.

"But take a really great performer like Ethel Merman — nobody knows her outside New York except for occasional television appearances. She's practically a local talent.

"You can't even go out with pictures anymore. In the old days stars used to tour the country for picture promotion, but today about the only place you can exploit yourself is on television."

ONE OTHER WAY

There is one other way, Nelson has found. And he's doing it. Paul Gregory is producing a musical revue called "Foolin' Ourselves." It opens in Tucson, Ariz., on Monday and will spend 12 weeks touring the country, before opening up on Broadway in March.

The itinerary will be a rough one. In the first month alone, they will play 12 cities.

"Paul calls the show a musical comic strip," Nelson said, "and that's pretty close. Most revues have musical sketches, but this one will be all singing and dancing.

"One sketch, for instance, done in true opera style, is about a man and woman fighting. He wants to watch the fights on television and she doesn't.

"There are also some serious numbers, including two beautiful ballads. I'm staging it, I'm co-director and I star in it. I feel like a one-armed paper hanger with the seven-year itch.

TRAVEL BY BUS

"The cast—seven principals and 14 chorus—will travel by bus. We'll use no scenery, and basic costumes. You know, you switch hats and you've assumed a new character. What equipment we need will come along in a truck.

"We had a standard gag when we started doing the show, which by the way will have been whipped together in four weeks. Paul, every time an idea was suggested, would say, 'I don't care about the expense. I want this to be a good show. But will it fit in the truck?'"

Another reason Nelson is so pleased to be doing "Foolin' Ourselves" is because he doesn't understand the "copycat" trend in Hollywood.

"They buy everything in sight from Broaday or the best-sellers," Nelson complained.

"Then finally one company will have the guts to do something different. Next thing you know every other movie studio is putting out an inferior imitation, just like a bunch of sheep."

Troubled by Error in Packing

Should Guest Return Toothpaste Taken by Mistake?

By EMILY POST

A woman writes me as follows: "Last week I spent several days with a friend who lives in another city. It was the first time I had ever stayed with her. When I arrived home and started to unpack my bag, I discovered that I had two tubes of toothpaste.

"My hostess apparently uses the same brand of toothpaste that I do and I must have picked it up when I was packing to go home, thinking that it was mine. The cost of the toothpaste is trifling and can easily be replaced I know, but I feel terrible about this nevertheless simply because I don't want her to think that I deliberately took it.

"Will you please tell me what you think I should do about this? Should I send it back to her with a note of explanation, or shall I just forget about it?

I can only answer that in your place I would "forget about it" as being really too trifling. But if it would make you feel better, wrap it up in a package and send it back to her — explaining your doing so in your bread and butter letter.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A club to which I belong gave a tea inviting another group of ladies. The secretary of our club sent an invitation to each member of both groups. It is my opinion that our members shouldn't have received an invitation as we gave the tea. Will you please tell me if I am right about this?"

Answer: If all of the members of your club would have known about this tea without an invitation, then you are right and no invitations should have been sent them.

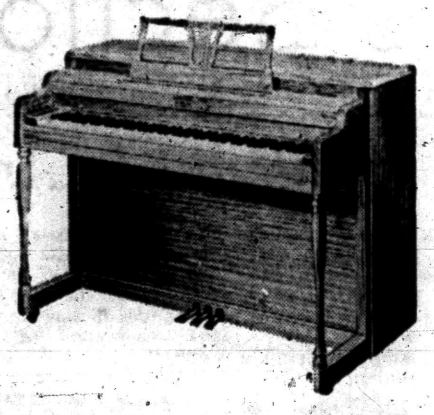

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have received an invitation to a semi-public dinner which stipulates 'black tie.' My husband has a tuxedo but I have no evening dress. My only special occasion dresses are of the formal afternoon type. Will this be proper, or must I buy an evening dress?"

Answer: With a tuxedo, your afternoon dress is entirely suitable. If your husband was wearing tails, then evening dress would be required.

Oldster Wise to Join Hobby Group

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Samuel Johnson once said, "If a man does not make new acquaintances as he advances through life, he will soon find himself alone."

This, I think, is the biggest problem facing the older people who write me. They have a feeling of loneliness and boredom with life.

Many times, of course, they have built their lives too much around their children. Then when the children move away, or get involved in their own lives and their own children, the grandparents feel left out.

What to do about it? Well, the usual advice is to join old-age groups or church groups. But too often this is not the answer, because, as one of my oldsters wrote, "All I meet is bored and lonely people like myself. We just sympathize with each other and end up feeling worse than ever!"

In many ways the worst thing an older person can do is to join groups of other older people. After all, if the only common denominator, the only bond, is old age, you begin with a rather depressing concept.

A much more successful solution, from my point of view, is to join a hobby group in a hobby that interests you or take a course in something you've always wanted to learn.

The reason for this is that interest is a potent youth-stimulant. You will be joining, not old people, but people of all ages who have interests akin to yours.

Then, too, it's wonderful to discover that the old mind can still learn new tricks.

Furthermore, too many old people get dictatorial and act as if they have all the answers to everything. The mere process of learning from somebody else, of being in the pupil's position, makes your personality more flexible and oils the joints of your social graces.

If you have no idea what interests you, if life is so dull and gray that your capacity for being interested is at a new low, you might get some suggestions from my pamphlet, Pointers Toward Finding Your Basic Interest. Send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of this newspaper and I'll be glad to send you a copy.

Familiar Faces to Dominate Sports Scene in 1957

(In 1956 it was names such as Don Larsen, Bobby Morrow, Floyd Patterson that made the sports headlines. But the world of sport, like that of show business, has a habit of producing new stars overnight, and of saying goodbye to old stars rather quickly. In the following article, sixth in a series on up-and-coming people and events, the sports editor of INS takes a look at the 12 months ahead.)

By JOHN BARRINGTON
INS Sports Editor

The sports headlines of 1957 can be expected to bear a haunting similarity to some of those of the past year.

Among them, in all likelihood, will be these:

"Yankees win eighth American League pennant in nine years."

"Mickey Mantle threatens Ruth homerun record."

"New York Giants retain pro football championship."

"Oklahoma continues reign in college grid world."

"Australia routs U.S., keeps Davis Cup."

"Floyd Patterson dominates heavyweight ranks."

The Yankees breezed home nine games ahead of Cleveland in the 1956 baseball race, and the perennial champions, still led by apparently ageless Casey Stengel, have the proper blend of youth and experience, pride and desire to win by an even larger margin this summer.

Although he tailed off slightly in the late stages, Mantle's "grand slam"—batting, homers, runs batted in, runs scored, total bases and, inevitably, the most valuable player award—seems to indicate many more bright seasons for the 25-year-old Oklahoman.

HITS 52 HOMERS

Mantle's homer production stopped at 52—still eight shy of Ruth's all-time mark—but the combination of the lively ball and Mickey's tremendous power should make it only a matter of time until he tops the Bambino's legendary total.

This could be the year—the 30th anniversary of the Ruthian record.

Don Larsen's employment of the no-windup delivery to pitch the first perfect game in World Series history is certain to bring forth a flock of imitators in the new season. Larsen, himself, has the equipment to become a 20-game winner if he doesn't let his playboy habits interfere.

Things won't seem the same in Cleveland with Bob Feller in retirement. The Indians, under a new manager, Kerby Farrell, can't expect as much mileage, either, from the aging Bob Lemon and Early Wynn. Despite the efforts of lefty Herb Score, the Tribe may forfeit second place to the Chicago White Sox in their first season under former Indian manager Al Lopez.

DODGERS DIM

The Brooklyn Dodgers' World Series troubles and subsequent collapse in Japan dim their 1957 prospects. Jackie Robinson is gone, Don Newcombe is temperamentally uncertain, and Roy Campanella, Carl Furillo and Gil Hodges are showing signs of age. Even 1955 World Series hero Johnny Podres, recently discharged from the Navy, may not help as much as anticipated because of chronic back trouble.

Milwaukee or Cincinnati is most likely to capitalize if the Dodgers do fade, with Pittsburgh and the St. Louis Cardinals capable of making it an interesting National League race.

The Giants unquestionably were a bit over their heads in their 40-to-7 National Football League championship rout of the Chicago Bears. But Jim Lee Howell has built the strongest team in the NFL with astute trading in the past three years. It is a youthful outfit for the most part, capable of staying at the summit for several seasons to come.

OKLAHOMA UP

Despite the loss of All-Americans Tommy McDonald and Jerry Tubbs, the steady flow of talent to Oklahoma assures Bud Wilkinson's machine of another big year in college football. Nationally, strength will be centered in the midwest and south, with former Pacific Coast powerhouses UCLA and Southern California still weakened by last fall's drastic subsidization punishments.

Much interest will focus on the renewal of the Army-Notre Dame rivalry, although neither is quite the massive force it was when the series was suspended a decade ago.

College basketball in the coming year will be summed up in four magic words—Wilt the Stilt Chamberlain. The seven-foot-tall Kansas sophomore may be the greatest of all time. He hasn't proved it yet, but 1957 will see him go a long way toward doing so.

BOXING CUT AND DRY

As the youngest heavyweight champion of all time, 22-year-old Floyd Patterson should get a lot better before he gets worse. Barring the remote possibility of a comback attempt by Rocky Marciano, there isn't anyone in sight to challenge him. And it is doubtful if even a ring-rusty Rocky could regain his title from the precocious Brooklynite.

Below the heavyweight ranks, the ring picture continues to get more and more drab with each passing year. The talent dearth is pinching harder than ever, and nobody has yet come up with the drastic remedies that seem to be necessary to improve the situation.

Thoroughbred racing lost some of its brightest glamour horses in 1956 but veteran trainers like Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons and Ben Jones stamped the two-year-old crop as one of the best in some time.

Although Ken Rosewall has turned professional, Australia's tennis dominance should not suffer greatly. Lew Hoad will be odds-on to wrap up all the world's major titles, perhaps as a stepping-stone to a pro career of his own, and Roy Emerson, Neale Fraser and Ashley Cooper are sufficient insurance to keep the Aussies in possession of the Davis Cup.

As for Rosewall, he doesn't appear to have what it takes for an effective pro tour against hard-hitting Pancho Gonzales. The tall, black-eyed veteran may smash Rosewall even more completely than he did Tony Trabert on the 1956 circuit.

Golf offers an exciting blend of old and new. Old-timers like Ben Hogan and Sam Snead still will turn up in the headlines occasionally, but the men to reckon with most consistently will be such as Cary Middlecoff, Jack Burke, Ed Furgol, Mike Souchak, Gene Littler and Australia's Peter Thomson.

Interesting newcomers to the pro tour will be South Africa's 21-year-old Gary Player and Joe Conrad, the former Air Force lieutenant from San Antonio, Tex., and 1955 British amateur champion, who recently decided to enter play-for-pay ranks.

In general, the popularity of participant sports—golf and tennis, boating, bowling, fishing, hunting, skin diving and so forth—will continue to increase. It will do so, however, without making noticeable dents in the attendance at spectator athletic events.

Williams to Repeat Request for State Salary Increases

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams has said he will again ask the legislature for higher salaries for top state officials — both elective and appointive.

Williams said the recommendations will be included in his budget requests to the 1957 legislature.

The governor made his remarks when queried about possible Democratic candidates for the offices of superintendent of public instruction and highway commissioner, the two top jobs to be contested in the spring election.

Both now rsceive $12,500 a year, as do other members of the state administrative board — the secretary of state, treasurer, attorney general, and auditor general. The lieutenant governor, also a member of the board, receives $8,500.

ASKED INCREASE

Williams recalled that last year he asked the legislature to up the salaries of the board members to $18,500. Also included was a recommendation that the governor's salary be hiked from $22,500 to $30,000.

"I'd like to see them raised all together," Williams said, "although it wouldn't mean that they would all enjoy the increase together, since it would depend on when they were elected to office."

Williams said he also believed that the salaries of the top men in appointive state positions should be raised, the amounts depending on the importance of their jobs.

YOUNG MEN LIMITED

"It's important to attract well qualified people to these offices," the governor said. "As it is now, low salaries, in many cases, limit the choices to bright young men who want to make a future for themselves, older people who might have pensions or those who are independently wealthy.

"All of the salaries for members of the state administrative board are out of line with the responsibilities they carry. Such increases are simply a matter of good government."

Aides to the governor said that in the instances of the superintendent of public instruction and highway commissioner, any salary increases would have to be approved by the legislature before they are elected to become effective this next term.

Williams also threw in a comment on the announcement of Dr. Clair L. Taylor, Republican superintendent of public instruction, that he would not be a candidate for re-election. This followed a similar announcement from Charles M. Ziegler, Republican highway commissioner.

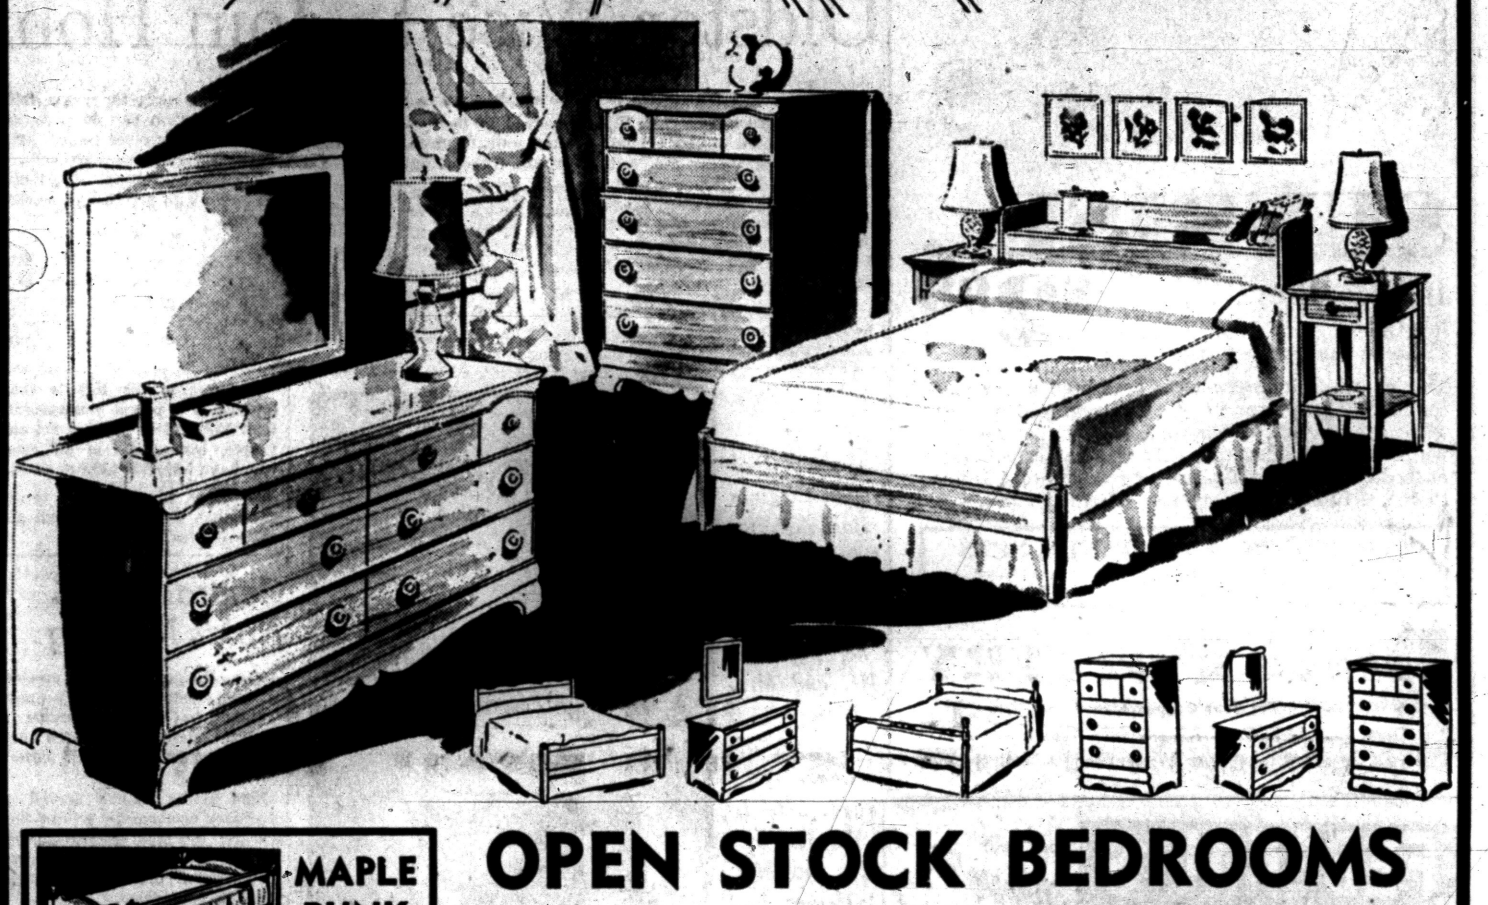

"I find it interesting that Republicans seem to be avoiding the spring contests for these important offices," he said. "I wonder whether it means a bankruptcy of policy in the Republican party on the important issues of highways and education?"

Williams said he did not yet know whether Lynn M. Bartlett, assistant superintendent of schools at Grosse Pointe, would again be a Democratic candidate for superintendent of schools. Bartlett was defeated by Taylor two years ago.

Money's Waiting for Right Entry to Pot-O-Gold

Now that the winners seem to be coming closer and closer together, it's time for you to get in on the prize money. This week's puzzle is worth $200 if there's no winner for last week's Pot-O-Gold. But winner or no, it will be worth at least $100 for the entry with a correct solution. Be sure you look over the puzzle and clues carefully. And don't forget to read the rules. A late or missent entry isn't worth anything, and you've just wasted your time and stamp.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 31 must bear a Tuesday, January 7, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Mechanization, Technology Are Among Causes

Big Farms Increase in Size, Number

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Census Bureau reports that the nation's big farms have been growing in both size and number.

In releasing final figures of a 1954 census, the bureau said farms of 1,000 acres or more accout for about half the agricultural acreage in the nation.

These farms account for one-fifth of the total cropland, two-thirds of pastured land and more than a third of the country's woodland, according to the survey.

Between 1950 and 1954, the number of farms in the 1000-or-more-acres category increased 7.5 per cent.

INCREASE DUE TO CONSOLIDATION

The Census Bureau pointed out that the increase in the number and size of large farms has resulted from farm consolidation arising because of improvements in farm technology and efficiency, the rapid mechanization of agriculture, and the incorporation of public grazing lands into farms and ranches in the west.

Agriculture officials told International News Service that the farm-growth trend between 1950 and 1954 has continued through 1956. In addition to the factors cited by the Census Bureau, Agriculture Department officials believe that the drought is another reason why there are fewer smaller farm units today than were in 1954. There are no official figures on the number of farmers who have either quit farming or merged into larger farm units because of the drought, but officials say this has been going on to some degree.

The average size farm in the U. S. in 1954 was 242.2 acres, the largest for any agriculture census, the final census bureau report showed.

The 1954 average size represents an increase of 26.9 acres, or 12.5 per cent since 1950. During this period, the number of farms dropped 11.1 per cent, with no appreciable change in the amount of land in farms.

An increase in the size of farm was shown for every state from 1950 to 1954, although the average size of farm varies considerably by states and geographic areas, ranging from 68 acres in North Crolina to 4,483 acres per farm or ranch in Arizona.

In Texas there were 18,820 farms or ranches of 1,000 or more acres.

Air Command to Leave Japan

Main U.S. Units to Move to New Headquarters on Hawaii

TOKYO (INS)—America's Far East air forces command have begun preparations for the big job of moving its headquarters from Japan to Hawaii.

Gen. L. L. Lemnitzer, chief of all U.S. Far East armed forces, announced in Tokyo that the transfer of FEAF personnel will be carried out gradually through the next six months. He said it will be completed by July 1.

The move is an implementation of the Defense Department's directive of last July 19, ordering a reorganization of U.S. command responsibilities. Part of the directive calls for consolidation of Far East and Pacific command units.

When the movement is completed in the summer, FEAF will become the air component of Adm. Felix Stump's expanded Pacific command, with headquarters at Pearl Harbor.

After July 1, Lt. Gen. Frederic H. Smith's Fifth Air Force will move from Moriyama Air Station in Central Japan to Fuchu Air Station, 20 miles northwest of Tokyo. Fuchu presently is occupied by Gen. Laurence S. Kuter's Far East Air Force command headquarters.

Under Pearl Harbor's overall command, the Fifth will continue to operate in Japan where it controls American air tactical units and assist in the training of the embryo Japanese air force.

Kid's .22 Chases Intruder

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Francis Ehrmantraut Jr., 14, heard a noise in the basement Wednesday night. He loaded his .22 caliber rifle, went part way down the darkened stairs and fired several shots. His mother, upstairs, told police she heard a scream after the second shot and saw a man dash out the basement door into the yard. The intruder fled between neighboring houses.

Russian cooperation with India, now extending to coal, steel, oil, diamond mining and mechanized farming, has been expanded to cover the pharmaceutical and dyestuffs industries.

Cruelty Charge Brought

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Grady Hickman, 40, and his wife, Doris, 33, have been bound over to Circuit Court under $500 bond each after waiving examination before Judge Edward G. Burleson on a dual charge of cruelty to a minor child and neglect of a minor child. They are accused of confining a 3-year-old son, Stephen, in a "filthy" room more than a year at their home. Police said they gave no reason for the confinement.

Brazil's first soda ash plant, now building at Cabo Frio, a 100,000-ton-a-year facility, will multiply Latin - American output sixfold, when it starts operating in 1958.

Imperial Chemical Industries, London, will build a factory in India to make polythene, an ICI discovery and a plastic of world importance, New Delhi learns.

New Governor Hits at Herter

Rhode Island's Furcolo Blasts Predecessor for State's Deficits

BOSTON (AP) — Democratic Gov. Foster Furcolo launched his administration today with an inaugural address in which he accused his Republican predecessor of leaving him a "financial mess" which he called the worst in the history of the commonwealth.

Gov. Furcolo said that Massachusetts is facing a "staggering deficit" and he said that even to keep state operations going at the present level will require 24 million dollars in new taxes.

He said he will return to the Legislature next week with another message in which he will make specific proposals for his program for improvements in the fields of health, education, welfare, correction, organization of the government and labor and industry.

And two weeks from now, he said he will send in his budget message covering expenditures which he will propose for the coming fiscal year—with his tax program to finance them.

Furcolo said if the State Legislature wants to vote a standstill, "no progress budget" it will have to be 418 million, with 55 million in new revenues.

And he said the third possibility is a "fair progress" budget which he said will require 450 million in appropriations — and 90 million dollars in new taxes.

Furcolo delivered his inaugural address shortly after he was sworn into office, replacing Gov. Christian A. Herter (R), who did not seek re-election.

Robber-Slugger Pair Given Stiff Sentences

LANSING (AP) — Two men convicted in the savage robbery-beating of an elderly recluse have been sentenced to long prison terms in Ingham County Circuit Court.

Robert M. Bowers Jr., 29, received a 10 to 20-year sentence and Robert D. Wright, 18, was sentenced to 7½ to 15 years. The two Lansing men earlier pleaded guilty to armed robbery.

Police said the pair admitted beating Glen Baker, 76, and leaving him for dead after robbing their victim of $51. A third man still is being sought.

Judge Marvin J. Salmon said he was imposing the stiff prison terms "because of the viciousness of this crime."

McGregor Fund Grant Given Mental Hospitals

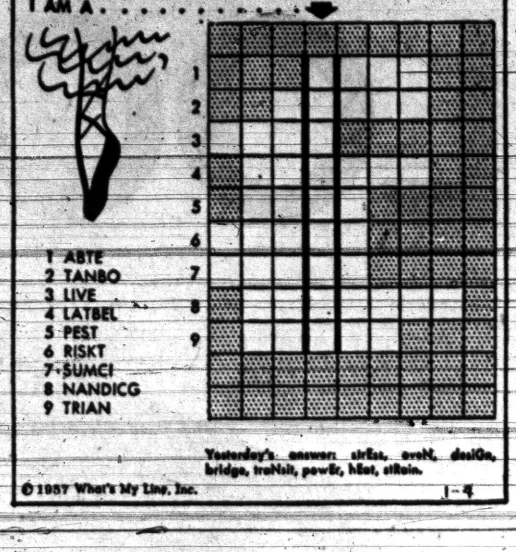

LANSING (AP) — Receipt of an $18,000 grant to finance a survey of Michigan's mental hospitals is announced by the State Department of Mental Health.

The sum was received from the McGregor Fund of Detroit to cover the cost of the survey by the American Psychiatric Association's Central Inspection Board, an authoritative agency established for examination and rating of psychiatric hospitals.

'Wild Life' in Michigan Attracts Heston Family

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The Moses of "The Ten Commandments" has gone off—not to the bullrushes . . . but to the Michigan woods.

Charlton Heston, his wife and baby son are now mushing around in 10 inches of snow on 1400 acres of timber three miles from a phone.

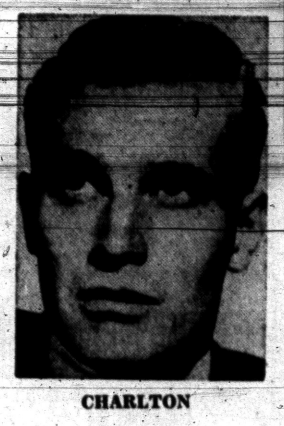

When Heston was on TV in New York the other night, his wife, up near St. Helen, Mich., 200 miles north of Detroit, drove 15 miles to a TV set.

"I live there, I vote there, my car's licensed there," Heston told me when we two country boys talked it over in Times Square. "I've got to figure out ways for my kid to spend more time there. Up there you just turn 'em loose. I got lost in the woods up there when I was nine years old. Well, sooner or later, you get unlost."

Heston bought the timber tract—very close to his birthplace—in '51 "with the first dough I made in pictures."

"We live in the woods in a lodge. To get there from here you fly to Willow Run, then fly in a puddle jumper to Bay City, then drive 80 miles.

"It's such bliss to have no phone, no radio, no TV. In town you get to be slaves to the phone. Yet if you're someplace where there's no phone, they get along without you—and it's good for your soul to realize you're not indispensable."

CHARLTON

Heston sells Christmas trees off the timberland, leases hunting and fishing rights, and rides skis when he's there — meanwhile reading scripts . . . and remembering his boyhood.

"I went to a one-room school nearby. There were 13 pupils in the eighth grade—and three were my cousins."

Another thing Heston does is regret he must return to New York or Hollywood where he has apartments. He'll be leaving the woods again in a couple of weeks to see Hollywood moguls about his next picture.

"I've no idea yet what it'll be," he said. "Moses is pretty tough to top!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Faye Emerson is replying on TV to the critics who murdered her play ("Protective Custody") . . . Jimmy Durante after years of throwing a phone at a big mirror at the Copa, as part of his act, finally cracked the mirror. Drummer Jack Roth couldn't field Jimmy's wild pitch . . . Jack Lescoulie canceled a Los Angeles trip to sub for Dave Garroway, hospitalized for two weeks with sacroiliac.

Lindsay Crosby, Bing's son, left Williams College . . . Jay Hoffer, ABC ad man, delivered his wife's baby dtr. himself when it arrived before the doctor.

Joni James and Tony Acquaviva, back from the honeymoon, are house-hunting in Connecticut . . . Imogene Coca's steady dates are with Jules Munshin . . . Rod Steiger bought six paintings here and took 'em along to London . . . Guitarist Mario Escudero, who opened at the Chateau Madrid last Wednesday, is the guy who had a cafe hassle with Gregg Sherwood in Florida.

Earl's Pearls . . .

It's easy to recognize good times — that's when people who used to go around barefoot start complaining about the price of shoes—Maurice Seitter.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Jean Shepherd thinks it's silly to spend billions to harness atomic energy—and then let Elvis Presley go to waste.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Taffy Tuttle described her ex-boy friend: "He had the kind of map that's given away free at gas stations."

It's George Gobel's observation: "Since the discovery of elastic webbing, women take up one third less space in the world." That's earl, brother.

Hollywood Headlines

Hitchcock Will Produce 'Wreck of Mary Deare'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The first important deal Benny Thau has made since he took over the production reigns of MGM is to sign Alfred Hitchcock to produce and direct "The Wreck of the Mary Deare."

Hitchy, master of suspenseful, romantic thrillers, will bring "Mary Deare" to the screen with an all-star cast to be filmed on the scale of "Mutiny on the Bounty" and "Captains Courageous."

"The Wreck of the Mary Deare" is based on a novel by Hammond Innes and it's just up Hitchy's alley, what with its criminal plot, sabotage of the ship and what have you. The starting date is after Hitchy finishes "Amongst the Dead" at Paramount with Jimmy Stewart."

Doris Day and Marty Melcher sat absolutely entranced by the dramatic story of Army Sgt. David Griner and his wife, Maria, on the "You're On Your Own" TV show—and the minute it was over Marty was on the telephone to buy it for Doris.

The story of David and Maria Griner is sort of a feminine reverse twist on Matt Cvetic's "I Was a Communist for the FBI" which Warners made into a movie.

Like Cvetic Maria was a registered Communist for 11 years and barred from entry into the U.S.A.—and all the while she was an undercover operator for Uncle Sam. Even her sergeant husband didn't know she was loyal to this country until the Pentagon gave permission to reveal it on the TV show.

BUSY, BUSY CUPID

Cupid is off to a flying start in '57. At a New Year's Day party the Harold Mirisches (he's one of the heads of Allied Artists) announced the coming marriage of their daughter, maxime, to young Philadelphia businessman, Jerome Siegel. Wedding is in June.

Although there's no official announcement yet—it looks as if Notre Dame's famed all-American Paul Hornung and Maureen Cassiday are a'headin' for a weddin.' Right after the East-West football game in San Francisco, he returned to visit Maureen's family.

And, in Las Vegas, Jack Dempsey was best man for his good friend Roland Barber (who just scripted "The Jack Dempsey Story" and wrote "Somebody Up There Likes Me."). Roland married Mrs. Pearl McNeil at the Desert Inn on Jan. 2. Jack introduced them.

I've just heard one of the nicest things about our most decorated war hero, Audie Murphy. When he was in Japan making "Joe Butterfly," he heard about a 13-year-old Japanese-American girl and of her eagerness to live in America, so he went to visit the child and her widowed mother.

Thanks to Audie, the little girl is now here and has entered school. Her mother is planning to come to this country as soon as she can make arrangements to live here. This is a wonderful thing for Audie to do.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Sir Cedrick Hardwicke, who had a bad time following surgery, is not allowed any visitors at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. Here's hoping he'll soon feel better.

Marlon Brando's business partner, George Englund, becomes a father for the third time in the spring.

The Piper Laurie-Gene Nelson idyll is colder than the Eastern winter weather. Piper takes off for New York to study at the Actors Studio for six months.

All the friends of Lola Albright and Jack Carson wish they hadn't started the new year so badly by separating.

Congratulations to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and the motion picture industry. Adela Rogers St. John has been invited to replace the late Ida Koverman as liaison between the two. Adela who is civic minded, will do a great job.

Mimi Henreid, 11-year-old daughter of the Paul Henreids, got off to a bad start in the new year when she fell from a horse at La Quinta and broke her arm.

The Rock Hudsons entertained Phyllis' mother and father from Montevideo, Minn., over the holidays. U-I's gift to their fair-haired boy was a $9,000 redecorating job on his home.

Candy Jones Conover, of the New York model agency, is here to investigate motion pictures and TV.

Quick Thinking Four-Year-Old Child Stops Fire

PORT HURON (AP) — Robert McCalla stepped out to the store Wednesday night, leaving his three small children alone, while he bought them an ice cream surprise. He may never do it again.

His two-year-old daughter, Rene, turned on the kitchen stove burner under a pan of grease. The grease erupted into flames.

His quick-witted, six-year-old son Robert Jr. quickly dialed the fire department on the telephone. He couldn't give them the address, but he managed to say the kitchen was on fire, and firemen traced the call.

Rushing to the scene, firemen didn't get there in time. McCalla's four-year-old daughter Reda had already put out the blaze with a kettle of water.

McCalla himself, who had run home when he saw the fire engines, arrived about this time with the ice cream. He vowed on the spot not to take his eyes off the kids again when he's baby-sitting. He and his wife work two different shifts.

Asks Government Grant

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Grand Rapids city commission decided by a 6 to 1 vote Wednesday night to instruct City Manager Donald M. Oakes to seek a federal grant of $250,000 for completion of the city's $5,000,000 secondary sewage treatment plant now under construction.

Sales Tax Revenues High at Year's End

LANSING (INS)—Michigan sales tax revenues were on the upgrade as 1956 ended.

December collections, for the first time in five months, showed an increase over the comparable 1955 month.

The collections totaled $28.4 million—three per cent about December the previous year. However, collections for the first six months of the fiscal year were $1 million lower than the same 1955 period.

Revenue commissioner Louis Nims said:

"What we are behind is entirely in the automotive field. From now on, our collections in that business should pick up and we hope to meet our goal of $320 million in revenue for the fiscal year."

A shortage of elephants in Burma is making it necessary to introduce logging with heavy mechanical equipment, and Australian methods are being studied, Rangoon reports.

If This Guy Robs You It Should Be a Pleasure

DENVER (AP) — Six women were held up on the street in a residential section yesterday and on all points they are in agreement.

It was the same man each time. He was a handsome blond, about 21, well dressed, with crew-cut hair. And he was "nice."

Pearl Olson said she surrendered $7. He insisted she keep $1 for carfare home. Mrs. Pauline Robinson handed over her purse but he refused it, saying: "Just your wallet, ma'am."

Pontiac Offers Adults Wide Choice

Pontiac adults wishing to complete their high school education or quench their thirst for knowledge can sign up next week for the winter term Adult Education classes sponsored by the Pontiac Public Schools.

This is the third term which will schedule classes for high school credit according to Raymond J. Graff, supervisor of senior high vocational education.

Sixty hours of instruction with satisfactory accomplishment are necessary to earn one-half unit of credit. Credit classes usually require six hours per week or two three-hour evening classes.

Registration for the 10-week term will be held Monday through Thursday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the office of the Vocational Building at Pontiac High School. Prospective students can also register Thursday evening, 7 to 9. Classes begin January 17.

"It is felt that there are a large number of adults in Pontiac who would like to complete their high school education. They should make these desires known as to the courses needed so that classes can be organized," Graff added. In most cases, a minimum of 12 people will be necessary to organize a class.

GREAT VARIETY IN CLASSES

Three-hour classes which will be offered include: water color painting, oil painting, leather craft, French, Spanish, shorthand, ceramics, lip reading, business English, office machines, public speaking, art metal works, parent education, jewelry making, tailoring and dressmaking, china painting, furniture refinishing, driver training, citizenship and Americanization.

Vocational and industrial classes to be conducted for four hours one night per week are: automotives, shop math, blue print reading, tool and die design, drafting, sheet metal layout, electrical maintenance, machine shop and welding. These are also non-credit courses.

Prospective students must be 16 years old and must not attend a regular day public school. Registration is not limited to Pontiac residents, Graff added.

Additional classes will be held winter term if there is a sufficient demand and adequate facilities. Information concerning courses is available by contacting the vocational education office.

Two India Quints Die, Third Given Little Hope

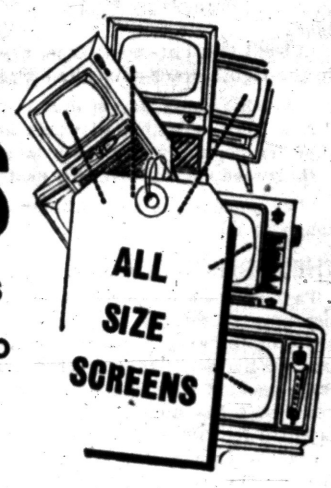

MADRAS, India (AP)—Two of India's first quintuplets are dead and little hope is held for a third girl. Hospital authorities said the other two babies are in normal health.

The five girls, first quints reported in Indian medical history, were born on New Year's Eve to a 29-year-old Indian servant woman named Kamalam at Pendichery, 85 miles southwest of Madras.

Return Middleweight Fight Arranged

NEW YORK (AP)—A return bout between newly crowned middleweight champion Gene Fullmer and dethroned Ray Robinson was just about set today for New York in mid-March.

Fullmer okayed the second fight, promoter Jim Norris wants it, and there was every indication that the 36-year-old Robinson would officially say yes this afternoon.

Robinson, who lost his title on a unanimous 15-round decision at Madison Square Garden Wednesday night, met with his brain trust last night and scheduled a press conference for the afternoon (1 p.m., EST) to announce his verdict. He had planned to do that Thursday but he remained in seclusion instead, nursing his wounds and wounded pride.

George Gainford, "chief adviser" in the Robinson camp, said, however, the Sugar Man had told him he wanted the rematch at the earliest possible date. Ernie Braca, a co-manager, later declared Robinson wanted to have a round table discussion with his advisers before committing himself.

Robinson, himself, indicated right after his losing effort he was eager for the chance to win the title for the fourth time as well as to earn another big payday. He collected a handsome $138,190 while Fullmer received only $20,915. Robinson got 47½ per cent of the gate and $60,000 of the radio-television money. Fullmer netted only 12½ per cent of the gate. For the return each will get 30 per cent.

Norris said about 5,000 fans had been turned away in the surprise sellout Wednesday. The fight lured 18,134 cash customers and grossed $194,645. The radio and television receipts were $100,000 even though New York and Philadelphia were blacked out.

"We could draw between $250,000 and $275,000 for the return at the Garden in the middle of March if we have another local blackout of TV," said Norris. "That, however, is up to the sponsors."

"We're ready," said Fullmer's manager, Marv Jenson. "We want the big money now.'

Gainford, meanwhile, let loose another blast at Fullmer for "illegal punching" and at Referee Ruby Golstein's officiating.

Big George claimed again that Fullmer hit low, dropped Robinson with a "half butt and push," used rabbit punches (blows to the back of the neck) and rubbed the laces of his gloves against Robinson's face.

Fullmer flatly denied the charges. He said he hit Robinson mostly on the side of the head and ears when Sugar Ray tried to tie him up inside.

Goldstein backed up Fullmer.

"There were no rabbit punches," said the referee. "Fullmer might have hit him on the side of the head but that was because Robinson was holding him and ducking his head in to avoid Fullmer's punches. Fullmer was just too strong for Robinson. He's not the Robinson of old. He and Benny Leonard were the greatest fighters I've ever seen but Wednesday it was an older Robinson.

"As long as Fullmer wasn't holding, he was allowed to punch with a free hand. Robinson was doing the holding. He couldn't keep Fullmer away. Why should I have kept Fullmer from fighting in close. That's the way he fights and it's his strength.

"Robinson made no complaints to me about rabbit punching and his handlers made no complaints during the fight except that Fullmer had too much grease on his forehead. After the fight was over, they complained about the low punching.'

* * *

Fullmer, meanwhile, prepared to cash in with appearances on network television shows over the weekend. He will enplane to Salt Lake City Monday enroute to his West Jordan, Utah, home.

After a week's rest, he'll return to his job as an apprentice welder at a Gingham, Utah, copper mine. He receives $17.96 a day.

"It gives me something to do and I enjoy it," said the modest, 25-year-old ex-GI. "I like to keep busy. A guy has to have a full life. I enjoy the work and the people."

PUNCHOSCOPE TESTS FULLMER — An electronic device called the "Punchoscope" predicted Gene Fullmer's victory over Ray Robinson after the machine had tested the speed and power of the punches of the two fighters. Here is the gadget when Fullmer took the electronic test. The machine recorded a speed of 30.4 miles an hour and an impact of 1,260 pounds in Fullmer's right hand punch.

Chiefs Go for Fifth

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Pontiac High School's basketball team could put a dent in its cage record book with a victory at Bay City Central tonight.

Not since 1933-34, the first year in the Saginaw Valley Conference, has a Pontiac basketball team been able to win its first five games of the season, and only twice in the 22 years have the Chiefs been able to muster five straight on any streak.

In the 1939-40 season, Pontiac hit a streak of eight straight mid-season victories in posting an overall 14-4 record, and in 1950-51 under coach Art Van Ryzin the Chiefs also hit a five-game skein in the middle of the season.

Presently, PHS has taken four straight to start the 1956-57 campaign. This equals the 1949-50 season when the Chiefs won their first four before bowing to Arthur Hill.

Another honor, with a victory, would go to coach Van Ryzin. This is Van Ryzin's 11th season at the helm, and the Edsel Ford win was the 100th in his career against 83 losses. So tonight the Chiefs could present him with his 101st victory to start the New Year.

Winning at Bay City tonight will not be an easy task. The little court of the Wolves has been the doom of many basketball teams.

"It is one of the toughest places to play," said Van Ryzin, "and they are always rough at home."

Bay City started the season with a 58-49 victory at Owosso and then returned to the home court to lose a 57-53 decision to Flint Central. The Wolves gave a taller Saginaw quintet a rough time on the Trojan court before bowing 61-55.

In each game, the Wolves were outshot from the floor by wide margins, but accuracy at the free throw line has given Bay City a great portion of its total points.

Van Ryzin plans to start Dick Whitmer and Terry Zellhart at the forwards with Dave Diehm and Larry Peet at the guards and Hud Ray at center.

Zellhart has been away from practice sessions since the December 21st encounter at Edsel Ford with the chicken pox.

With Roosevelt Alexander gaining experience with the reserve team, Van Ryzin plans to use Jim Skinner and Dave Simmons in the secondary forward roles.

PROBABLE STARTING LINE-UP:

PONTIAC	Pos.	BAY CITY
Whitmer (6-2)	F	Busch (6-2)
Zellhart (6-2)	F	Kanicki (6-2)
Ray (6-5)	C	Lodewyk (6-5)
Diehm (5-10)	G	Crampton (5-10)
Peet (5-8)	G	Ebright (5-8)

Cage Giants Take Lumps on College Court Scene

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This looks like one season Dayton Coach Tommy Blackburn isn't going to pull a rabbit out of the hat.

The little guy with the ready smile has shrugged off graduation losses in the past and with some rebuilding magic has managed to keep the Flyers among the giants in college basketball. In his decade at Dayton, Tommy has a .732 winning percentage and going into this season had suffered only one losing year, his first, when the record was 12-14.

With big Bill Uhl, Ray Dieringer and Jimmy Paxson gone from last season's NIT runner-up squad, this figured to be Blackburn's toughest season. And that's what it looks to be. Even early victims won't stay dead.

Duquesne, another fallen giant, took an 88-45 thumping from the Flyers in the Blue Grass tournament at Louisville last week, but last night the Dukes up and bopped the Flyers at Dayton, 79-71. Duquesne, led by Dave Ricketts' 23 points, took a 33-24 lead at the half and never trailed from there on in as Dayton's record sunk to 5-6.

It was one of a number of surprises last night. Xavier of Ohio upset Western Kentucky, ranked 14th in this week's Associated Press poll, 87-79; Utah State rocked Utah 68-64 in overtime; Bradley battered St. John's of Brooklyn with ease 97-78; Florida State, after nine defeats in a row, won its first of the season with a 108-96 job on Furman for third place in the Senior Bowl tournament.

In "form" games, 17th-ranked Oklahoma City whipped Arizona 80-55; Wake Forest, No. 18, defeated George Washington 72-54, and Spring Hill repeated as the Senior Bowl champ with an 83-79 decision over Morehead, Ky.

Bradley led 47-38 at the half, then made it a 17-point bulge within 90 seconds after the intermission. Barney Cable led Bradley with 20 points, but Bernie Pascal of touring St. John's was tops with 21.

Oklahoma City started a line-up averaging 6-7 and out-rebounded Arizona 54-27. Lyndon Lee scored 22 and 6-10 Hugh Reed added 20 for the Chiefs.

Elsewhere, Rice opened its Southwest Conference season with a 53-39 victory over Texas A & M in a battle of zone defenses. Georgia Tech had a breeze defeating Howard, Ala. 95-54. Colorado built a 60-38 lead and hung on to beat Miami, Fla. 73-66, Miami, Ohio defeated Marshall 93-77 in a Mid-American conference game. And Holy Cross, after four consecutive defeats, dropped previously unbeaten Massachusetts 111-96 with Joe Hughes scoring 27 and George Waddleton bagging 26.

IN THE FOLD — Paul Foytack, promising pitcher of the Detroit Tigers, was the latest to sign his 1957 contract with the Bengals. He won 15 and lost 13 last year with the 5th place Tigers.

Big 10 Action Opens for 'M'

Wolverine Coach Puts Cagers Through Heavy Workouts

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Coach Bill Perigo has been cracking the whip over his Michigan basketball stalwarts this week in an effort to snap them out of their doldrums before the Big Ten season.

The Wolverines open the conference campaign tomorrow at Indiana in a game which will be televised back to Michigan, starting at 2:30 p.m. EST.

Perigo is disappointed in the lethargic showing of his cagers in their last two outings.

Michigan lost to Washington of St. Louis in overtime and then defeated Yale, but was far from impressive in doing so.

"Perhaps we were out of condition in those last two games," Perigo said while sending his team through an extra-long workout. "We've got to regain the spark of our earlier games."

The Wolverine coach was referring to the Pittsburgh game in particular. Michigan was aroused against the Panthers while winning handily by 15 points.

In practice, Perigo has been experimenting with Jack Lewis, who broke up the Yale game with 15 points, as one of his starting guards.

Expect 44 to Make Browse-Cutting Trip

A caravan of some 44 "interim woodsmen" was all set today for the 6th annual deer browse-cutting expedition to Gladwin County. The crew is drawn from membership of Oakland County Sportsmen's club. It will head north at 5 a.m. Saturday, from the OCSC clubhouse, wind up at the Tittibawassee resort, where headquarters will be set up. Any others wishing to make the trip should be at the clubhouse not later than 5 a.m. Saturday.

Cutting operations will last all day, leaving early Sunday for ice-fishing or rabbit hunting. Party returns Sunday evening.

Boyce Sees Improvement Ahead for PHS Tankers

By H. GUY MOATS

There'll be some decided improvement in Pontiac High School swimming team's performances during the second half of the season, beginning middle of the month. That's what Coach Robert (Des) Boyce says, and the Chiefs' mentor will be disappointed if it doesn't come about.

"We haven't laid off steady drills, during the holiday period," Boyce explains. "The squad has worked out every day during the vacation, and I believe it will show considerable improvement. We're getting better all the time."

One of Boyce's top problems is prepping somebody to fill Jim Cornforth's swim trunks after the ace freestyler and all-around tanker retires because of midterm requirements. When Jim leaves, Capt. Dennis Simonson, Chiefs' top man and a senior, will be the only varsity letterman remaining.

"Jim will be a hard man to replace," Boyce says.

"But we'll have everybody else back next year, and with this year's experience we should have a very strong squad," the coach added.

Chief tankers return to action Jan. 11 at Flint Northern in a night match, then complete the first round of Saginaw Valley competition against Saginaw High at Saginaw. The Northern match will be the first between the schools, as this is the Vikings' first year in the tank sport.

Currently Arthur Hill and Flint Central are leading the circuit, without a loss. Bay City and Saginaw have lost one. Pontiac is winless in three SVC starts.

Executive Reports

Boys Safer on Gridiron

CHICAGO (INS) — High school boys are safer playing football than they would be if they were engaged in many other teen-age activities.

This statement was made by H. V. Porter, executive secretary of the National Federation of State High School Associations, which opened its sessions in Chicago yesterday.

Backing Porter up was W. M. Runyon of Chicago who reported there were only 10 high school football fatalities in 1956 throughout the country.

Runyon pointed out that some 6,000 youths in the 15-19 age group died in accidents during the same period.

Unseeded Venezuelan Continues Surprises

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Iyo Pimentel of Venezuela is continuing to knock off the seeded players in the Dixie tennis tournament.

Set Senior Bowl Lineups

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — Opposing Senior Bowl coaches today named potent offensive line-ups for tomorrow's game. They also announced rugged defensive units designed to stop the high-powered scoring machines.

Experts rated the North and South squads about even and shied away from picking a favorite.

Coach Joe Kuharich's Yankees, with Purdue's Len Dawson doing the tossing, are expected to go to the air more than the Rebels. Kuharich, Washington Redskin coach will use bruising fullback John Bayuk of Colorado to keep the South's defense honest.

Flanking Bayuk will be halfbacks Terry Barr of Michigan and Jim Podoley of Central Michigan.

With breakaway runners Del Shofner of Baylor and George Volkert of Georgia Tech at halfback, the South will probably do more running, although quarterback Charley Curtis of Texas Christian will do his share of passing.

Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns installed All-America Don Bosseler of Miami, Fla. at fullback.

Kuharich has Brad Bomba of Indiana and Bob Khoenle of Purdue at ends; Bob Pollack of Pittsburgh and Bill Underdonk of West Virginia, at tackles; Don Gilkey of the University of California and Ed Voytek of Purdue at guards, and Joe Amstutz of Indiana at center.

The South will run behind Jack Johnson of Miami, Fla., and Buddy Cruze of Tennessee, ends; Earl Leggett of Louisiana State and Sam DeLuca of South Carolina, tackles; Dalton Truax of Tulane and John Barrow of Florida, guards, and Joe Williams of TCU, center.

The strength of the squads is indicated in the fact that some of the best ground-gainers in the nation will play defense.

The south's defensive unit:

Ends: Roy Wilkins of Georgia and John Gordy of Tennessee; tackles: Little All-America Don Owens of Mississippi Southern and Bill Hudson of Clemson; middle guard: All-America Bill Glass of Baylor; line-backers: Bill Livingstone of Southern Methodist and Jack Pardee of Texas A&M; wingbacks: Wade Mitchell of Georgia Tech and Joel Wells of Clemson, and deep backs: Jim Harris of Oklahoma and All-America John Majors of Tennessee.

Ends: Joe Kopnisky of West Virginia and Steve Junker of Xavier, Ohio; tackles: George Strugar of Washington and Bill Michael of Ohio State; middle guard: Dick Stapp of Colorado; linebackers: Vince Scorsone of Pittsburgh and Ted Ringer of Northwestern; wingbacks: Jim Hunter of Missouri and Jim Crawford of Wyoming; deep backs: Milt Plum of Penn State and Vic Zucco of Michigan State.

Majors and Shofner will handle the South's punting Plum, Dawson and Gilkey will kick for the North. Conversion attempts will be by Mitchell and Harris for the South, and Dawson, Plum and Crawford.

A near capacity crowd of 36,000 is expected in Ladd Stadium to see the 50 college seniors turn pro.

Mutual will broadcast the game. There will be no television.

The kickoff is set for 1:30 p.m., CST.

Top NCAA Scorers

Wilt Leads, Ebben Is 4th

NEW YORK (AP)—With a surprising plunge in scoring all around the nation, there's just no one to challenge Wilt Chamberlain, the Kansas wheat shock, for the individual lead in major college basketball.

The big sophonore, bouncing back from a low 12-point effort against Iowa State to score 81 against Oklahoma and Colorado as the Jayhawks won the Big Seven tournament last week, still has a comfortable edge with his 34.0 average. Chamberlain has scored 306 points in his nine games through last Saturday according to NCAA service bureau statistics released today.

Grady Wallace of South Carolina is next at 30.3 while Columbia's little Chet Forte third at 27.7 Bill Ebben of the University of Detroit is fourth with 27.1

* * *

The scoring "slow-down" also shows up in the fact only 45 players have averaged 20 or more points a game so far. In recent seasons the number has been much higher, with 67 managing it last season. Usually there are at least a couple of teams averaging nearly 100 points a game. Now there are only two at even 90. Ohio University is the leader at 91.0 followed by Morehead (Ky) State (with a 99.6 average at this point last season) with 90.4.

Scoring Leaders:

Player, School	G	FG	FT	Pts.	Avg.
1. Ch'berlain, Kan.	9	107	92	306	34.0
2. Wallace, So. Car.	10	115	73	303	30.3
3. Forte, Columbia	9	94	61	249	27.7
4. Ebben, Detroit	9	86	72	244	27.1
5. Ros'bluth, N.Car.	11	97	98	292	26.5
6. Ashm're, Miss.S.	8	83	46	212	26.5

Close Contests in NBA Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The pro league of basketball — the National Basketball Assn. — has been in business only 11 years, but already it has an old adage: "The only safe lead is a one-point lead at the final buzzer."

The Fort Wayne Pistons and Philadelphia Warriors proved it last night as they came from well behind to edge closer to the leaders in the NBA's division races.

Fort Wayne, trailing by 21 points in the second quarter and by 16 at the half, caught up in a third period surge, then used George Yardley's field goal with 22 seconds to play to defeat Minneapolis, 104-102.

Lowly Hawks Gain 3-3 Tie on Montreal Ice in Lone NHL Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Chicago Black Hawks, who'll meet the New York Rangers Saturday in the first hockey game ever televised nationally, slowed the powerful Montreal Canadiens' drive toward the top of the National Hockey League last night.

Beaten 6-2 at Chicago by Montreal Tuesday, the last-place Hawks were expected to go quietly, especially with the Canadiens' on home ice. But Chicago jumped into a 2-0 lead in the first period and it took an all-out Montreal comeback to produce a 3-3 tie.

The one point for the tie gave the third-place Canadiens 44 in the standings. They trail Detroit's league leaders by three points and runner-up Boston by two. It was the only game scheduled.

Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, most prolific goal-getter in NHL history, scored two of Montreal's goals while Don Marshall got the other on a breakaway while his team was shorthanded.

Hank Ciesla, Jack McIntyre and Harry Watson scored for Chicago.

Nicaraguan Explodes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Kid Centella, Nicaragua lightweight, exploded a left to the jaw of Art Ramponi in the fifth round last night and the Oakland boy lost by a technical knockout. Centella weighed 136½, Ramponi 135.

Prep Cage Leagues Have Heavy Card

By BILL CORNWELL

Championship intentions will come into sharper focus this evening when high school basketball teams throughout the Oakland County area engage in their 1st strenuous night of conference action.

The emphasis is on league play tonight. Full schedules are listed in the Inter-Lakes, Eastern Michigan, Oakland B and Southern Thumb conferences, with lighter programs offered in the Saginaw Valley and Suburban Catholic loops.

Greatest attention locally will be directed at the Inter-Lakes Conference and Walled Lake in particular.

Walled Lake's court will be the scene of an important struggle between the undefeated Vikings and defending champion Berkley. Even at this early date, the contest could have title implications.

Berkley and Walled Lake have a rematch later in the season on the Berkley floor, but the Vikings would much rather get the jump on the Bears at home than risk all in enemy territory.

VIKING KINGPIN — Leading Walled Lake in tonight's crucial Inter-Lakes Conference basketball game with invading Berkley is center Larry Hughes. The Viking star is one of Oakland County's top scorers with 70 points in three games for a 23.1 average.

The Vikings have stormed past three non-league foes and one conference opponent, Southfield. Berkley dropped close non-league decisions to Fordson and Ferndale before thumping Waterford in its opening league test.

Agile Larry Hughes, scrappy John Walker and Walled Lake's great balance will be pitted against Lance Gentile, Jim Zalenski and Berkley's formidable height.

Waterford, with Chuck Gillis showing the way, hopes to get back on the winning trail at Van Dyke. The Skippers, carrying a 1-1 record, may have their hands full with the Abes, who are an improved club this season.

"Dark horse" Farmington plays host to winless Southfield in the remaining Inter-Lakes contest.

Lake Orion, its early season title hopes rudely jolted by Madison, tries to revive its chances tonight against visiting Clawson in the No. 1 Oakland B attraction.

Troy, popular favorite for the Oakland B crown, puts an unbeaten loop record on the block against invading Roseville while dangerous Madison greets a graduation - riddled Fitzgerald team.

The Eastern Michigan League lifts the lid on the 1957 title chase with Mt. Clemens at Birmingham, Port Huron at Ferndale and Hazel Park at East Detroit.

The Maples, sporting a 3-1 record, are favored to dispose of the Bathers and strong East Detroit should have no trouble with the Hazel Park squad. Undefeated Port Huron gets the nod over Ferndale, but the Railsplitters could be dangerous on home ground.

New Haven and Almont, apparently making a habit of fighting for league honors, collide in the top Southern Thumb game. The two schools were co-champions in football and now are racing for basketball laurels with unbeaten marks. Brown City at Dryden and Memphis at Capac round out the Southern Thumb slate.

Bloomfield Hills entertains A. E. Smith of Wyandotte in a Southeast Suburban Conference game.

Tonight's other area games are Wyandotte at Royal Oak, Shrine at St. Theresa, Armada at Imlay City and Saginaw S. S. Peter & Paul at Marlette.

Beginners' Tow Ready for Use at Skiing Area

One new tow was ready today for weekend skiiers at Mt. Holly recreation area. And the report from the Mt. Holly operators for weekend prospects are encouraging. Skiing will be good, to excellent.

Wind-blown, or manufactured snow was reported to be covering Mt. Holly's slopes to a depth of from eight to 24 inches.

* * *

The new tow is on the beginners' slope. There are four other tows in operation also, at the area. The beginners' slope is in a special section by itself, east of the main slope. Area has only one really hard run, in the Slalom Bowl, where a steep drop winds up in a restricted, tree spotted section. It is strictly for racing workouts.

Johnny Podres Signs Dodger Pact for '57

NEW YORK (INS) — Southpaw Johnny Podres, who in 1955 helped pitch the Brooklyn Dodgers to their first World Series championship, will receive an estimated $18,000 for his services this year.

The 25-year-old hurler okayed his 1957 contract yesterday in a telephone conversation from his Witherbee, N. Y. home.

Johnny, whose two complete-game wins (third and seventh) over the Yankees chiefly accounted for the Brooks' first world title, was granted a medical discharge from the Navy last October because of an arthritic back condition.

Despite the ailment, Podres posted a 14-1 record at the Norfolk Training Station. His lone defeat was a 1-0 effort during which he struck out 25 men in 12 innings.

SAFETY MEASURE — Sidney LeJune at Tropical Park in Florida models a new helmet type cap designed to protect jockeys in case of a spill. Under the silk covering is a strong fiber crown held on by a leather strap protecting the neck and chin.

Wings' Dea, McNeil Candidates

Rookie Award Eluded NHL's Best

DETROIT (AP)—The four players generally regarded as the finest National League stars in the past decade never won the Calder Memorial Trophy given the outstanding rookie in the league.

Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay of the Detroit Red Wings, Jean Beliveau and Maurice (the Rocket) Richard are ranked — without much argument — as the league's best in the last ten years. But none of them ever won the Calder trophy.

Two other NHL all-stars, Detroit's Red Kelly and Montreal's Doug Harvey, were also passed over for the Calder Trophy.

And a lot of players who won the award with brilliant first-year efforts were out of the league in almost no time.

The reason for all this is simple, say veteran hockey observers: Too often the widely publicized and bearlded rookie doesn't win it because the fans, the writers and others expect too much of him. He's under tremendous pressure and people are likely to point out his shortcomings rather than his stronger points.

Too, many times the player with the greatest potential comes into the National Hockey League rather young and is competing against rookies who are more mature, players who have had more time to develop poise and polish in the minor and amateur leagues.

Some of the players who won the Calder trophy and who are still competing in the NHL are Terry Sawchuk of Boston, Glenn Hall of Detroit and Gump Worsley of New York — all goalies — and Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion of Montreal.

Then there was Jack Gelineau of Boston, the 1950 Calder winner. He was out of the league by 1952 and out of hockey altogether two years later.

There are about five top candidates for this year's Calder award. Two of them — Bill Dea and Bill McNeill — are with the Red Wings. Other top candidates are Ed Chadwick of Toronto, Larry Regan of Boston and Forbes Kennedy of Chicago.

Overtime Scrap in City League

The first overtime game of the season highlighted Thursday night's City League basketball program in the Pontiac High School gymnasium.

A 4-2 edge in the first extra period gave the Calgon Kids a 49-47 triumph over the Pontiac Police in a nip - and - tuck National League thriller. The two teams ended regulation play in a 45-45 deadlock.

Roger Reynolds sparked the Kids with 25 points while John Bridgewater tallied 15 for the Police quintet.

In the other National League game, Chuck Franklin netted 16 points to lead Griff's Grill to a 44-34 victory over the Pontiac Merchants.

City League action resumes Monday night. Two adult games are in the offing at PHS and the Class D clubs come back into the picture at Lincoln.

MSU Team Strength Beats N. Carolinans

EAST LANSING (AP)—North Carolina State, swimming with only four men, won six of ten events, but bowed to team strength and lost 54-30 to the Michigan State tank team here last night.

The North Carolina quartet paced by NCAA champion Dick Fadger was entered in only seven of the ten events.

Fadger, national 200-yard breast stroke titlist, set a new MSU pool record in his specialty with a time of 2:23.7. The old pool record was 2:29.1 set by Paul Reinke of MSU last year.

Blair Stays in Melbourne

MELBOURNE (AP) — American hammer thrower Cliff Blair disclosed today to the Melbourne Herald the real reason why he chose to stay in Australia—and yes, you guessed it.

The girl is 18-year-old Lucille Jost of Hawthorn, a Melbourne suburb.

Blair, of Hingham, Mass., was ordered home by U.S. Olympic officials shortly before the Olympic Games began because he wrote articles for a Boston newspaper. But Blair refused to go.

Now he plans to stay in Melbourne, "indefinitely," he told the Herald, although "nothing definite has been arranged" between himself and Lucille.

Blair has a return ticket to the United States which is valid for a year, but he will not use it unless he cannot get a satisfactory job in Melbourne. He told the Herald he is hopeful of representing Australia at the 1960 Olympics.

Former MSU Gridder Joins Canadian Pros

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP) — Chuck Frank, a former Michigan State University football player, has been signed to a professional contract by the British Columbia Lions of Canada.

Coach's Scoring Touch

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Jackie Gordon, playing coach of the Cleveland Barons, holds scoring records for three American Hockey League teams. In 1949-50, Gordon had 83 points to lead New Haven. The following season he led Cincinnati with 65 points. In 1953-54 he rang up 102 points to set a Cleveland scoring record.

Ivory Plays Winter Polo

Jack Ivory, the finest professional polo player ever developed in Michigan, will act as playing promotor for the 75th consecutive season of high-goal polo at the Aiken (S. C.) Polo Club this winter.

The brawny shotmaker left for Aiken Saturday to get ready for the new season, which will open Sunday, Feb. 10. Ivory plans to present 10 Sunday afternoon games that will bring together the finest teams and the best players in the game.

He has made elaborate preliminary preparations to mark three quarters of a century of Aiken polo with the best Winter program offered there.

He will also seek to try to lure many of the game's best to the Pontiac area this spring and summer for games at the new Ivory Polo Grounds on Cooley Lake Road where his Ivory Rangers will play their first full season in 1957. Ivory and his brother-in-law, Mac Stefani, have been the mainstays of the powerful Rangers since the late thirties.

Only Mt. Holly Runs

Are You Hoping to Ski This Week? — Go North

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

In Michigan this week you have to go north if you want good skiing.

Lack of snow kept four southeastern Michigan ski areas out of operation, although good ice fishing and skating was reported.

The only southeastern area open to skiing was the Mt. Holly area, 20 miles north of Pontiac on U.S. 10. Skiing was good to excellent there on an eight to 24-inch manufactured snow base with two inches of new snow. All tows were operating.

In the Houghton-Hancock area of the Upper Peninsula, the Michigan Tech ski area reported four inches of powder snow over 12 inches of packed base. Skiing was excellent, with night skiing Wednesday night. All tows are operating.

The east Michigan tourist council reported by areas:

SKYLINE near Roscommon — Six-inch base with two-inch powder snow. Skiing excellent. Snowing at time of report.

GRAYLING Winter Sports Park, Lovell's Winter Playland and Lake Valley Ski Resort, all near Grayling — Four-inch base with six inches of loose snow. Snowing at time of report. Skiing excellent.

(Grayling's toboggan slide and ice rink open this weekend.)

SNOW VALLEY, Otsego Ski Club, Water Ski Village, Sylvan Knob, Au Sable Ranch and Ski Club and Gay El Rancho Ski Club, all near Gaylord — Six to eight-inch packed base with four inches of new powder snow. Snowing at time of report. Skiing good.

FULTON LAKE Snow Bowl near Houghton Lake — Five-inch packed base. Skiing fair to good.

GRISWOLD MOUNTAIN near Indian River — Six-inch hard packed base with two inches of fluffy snow. Snowing at time of report. Skiing excellent.

SNOWSNAKE Mountain between Clare and Harrison — Three-inch base with two inches of top snow. Skiing fair to good.

MIO MOUNTAIN near Mio — Four-inch base with two inches of fresh snow. Skiing excellent.

BLACK MOUNTAIN Ski Area between Cheboygan-Onaway-Rogers City — Seven-inch base with five inches new snow. Snowing at time of report. Skiing excellent.

SHERIDAN VALLEY, Woodridge Ski Area and Silver Beach Ski Resort, all near Lewiston — Six-inch base with two inches of fresh snow. Skiing excellent.

OGEMAW HILLS near West Branch — Four-inch base. Skiing fair.

Special Events: Jan. 6—Diamond Derby speed skating championships at Hoyt Park, Saginaw.

Aragon, Pilot Go Before Jury

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Boxer Art Aragon and ex-gambler Mickey Cohen appeared before the county grand jury yesterday as witnesses in the probe of an alleged fixed fight involving Aragon and Dick Goldstein in San Antonio, Tex.

Cohen's appearance was brief and his testimony concerned itself chiefly with an accusation that police "are conspiring to take my life." Before he entered the jury room he squared off in the corridor with a policeman, but the fight like the Aragon-Golstein fight, didn't come off.

Cohen challenged Sgt. William Foreman to "take off your badge," but the officer kept it on.

Last week Golstein told the jury that Aragon summoned him to his home Dec. 7 and offered him $500 to lose the San Antonio fight, which was cancelled at the last moment when Aragon was found to have a fever.

Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson said he had a "hunch" Cohen was connected with the alleged fight fix.

The grand jury has postponed action, pending the appearance of other witnesses from San Antonio. Aragon and Golstein, both of Los Angeles, are welterweights.

Pros Set Up Camps for Annual Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — East and West squads established camps today for the annual Pro Bowl football game in Memorial Coliseum, Jan. 13.

More than 60 of the nation's top professionals were arriving to start training for the seventh annual all-star contest. The East will do its work at Southern California's Bovard Field, and the West will train at Gilmore Field, home of the Hollywood Stars' baseball club. The squads are made up of 32 players each.

Jim Lee Howell, coach of the New York Giants, the National Football League champions, will tutor the East squad, and the West will be coached by Paddy Driscoll of the Chicago Bears.

New Aid Plan Studied by PCC

Presidents' Council, However, Refuses to Ease Penalties

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference today tackled the intricate problem of financial aid for football players and other athletes after knocking down any possibility that previously assessed penalties would be eased.

A recommendation by the powerful Presidents' Council, composed of leaders of the nine member schools, proposes a new aid plan based on need with financial assistance through grants-in-aid during the seasons of competition.

In opening action of its two-day special meeting yesterday, the conference, by a single vote, maintained the round-robin schedule for football and unanimously acted to boost scholastic standards for athletes.

The round-robin, which went into effect this past season, requires all conference schools, except Idaho, to play each other annually. This means at least seven conference contests.

A plan, backed by UCLA and Southern California with support of Washington and California, would have reduced the requirement to five.

New Role for Mikes—Underdog to Freds

For the first time in qiute a spell, St. Michael's basketball team will find itself an underdog against St. Frederick when the two bitter foes slug it out tonight in a Suburban Catholic League battle at Pontiac High.

St. Fred has taken repeated lumps from the Shamrocks for the past several years in all forms of athletic endeavor. In fact, victories have been few and far between at the southside school for a long time.

But for once, at least, the Rams are going to enjoy the favorite's role, if such a position can be considered a blessing.

Despite the fact that the Mikes have a perfect 3-0 record compared to St. Fred's 3-d mark, the northsiders occupy the underdog spot because of a height disadvantage and seemingly less scoring punch.

St. Mike, defending SCL co-champion with Highland Park St. Benedict, owns victories over Detroit St. Agatha, Hazel Park St. Rita and Center Line St. Clement, the latter two in league play.

The Rams have disposed of St. Rita, Ferndale, St. James and Royal Oak St. Mary while bowing to St. Benedict for their only loss. Their league record is 1-1.

Tonight's game will be the first severe test of the season for the Mikes, who so far have encountered rather anemic opposition. The stiffest portion of their schedule is still on the way.

A scoring duel of four-way proportions can be expected when the two quintets square off.

St. Fred boasts Oakland County's leading scorer in center Bill Mountain, a 6-2 sharp-shooter who has chalked up 10 points for an average of 25 per game. Teammate Tom Derocher has collected 57 counters for a 14.1 average.

Hoping to match the St. Fred duo is the Shamrocks' double-barreled threat of Chuck Brown and Dan Dropps. Brown is credited with 44 points, a 14.2 average, while Dropps has made 39 markers for a 13-point average.

This will be Mountain's only crack at the Mikes in his basketball career. The senior transfer student from Pontiac High will be ineligible when the two schools meet again Feb. 8.

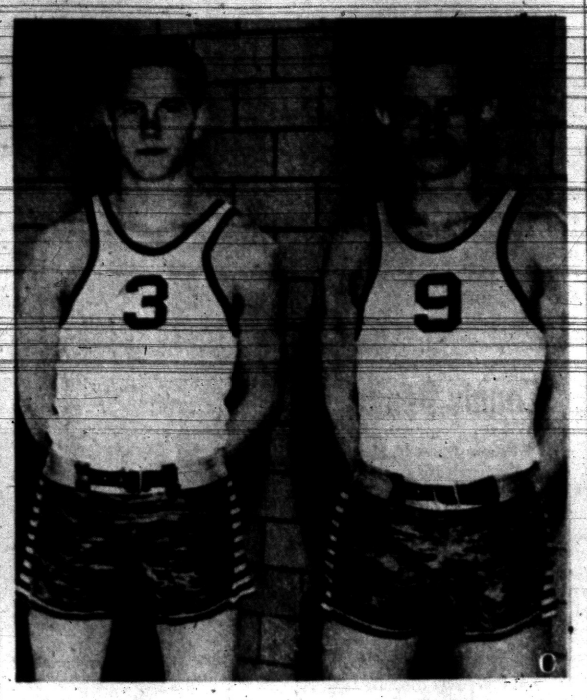

St. Mike and St. Fred met only once last season and the Shamrocks won, 44-39. The possibility of a rematch in the district tournament went awry when Almont sidelined the Rams in the tourney opener.

The junior varsity squads will begin festivities at 7 o'clock with the main attraction getting under way about 8:15.

MSU Opens Big 10 Race With Purdue

EAST LANSING (AP) — With all preliminaries over, Michigan State jumps into Big Ten basketball play here Saturday night against Purdue.

The odds-makers overlooked the Purdue Boilermakers when trying to figure the favorites before the start of the season. But Purdue, with a 6-1 early season won and lost record, may prove to be one of the surprise packages of the conference.

Michigan State has a 4-3 record, including two of three in the Big Seven Invitational Tourney against strong competition last week.

Purdue has a well-balanced scoring attack with three men averaging over double figures in the seven games.

Bardstown Gets Top Weight for Widener Race

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Top weight of 126 pounds has been assigned to Bardstown for the Feb. 23 running of the mile and a quarter Widener at Hialeah.

The Calumet Farms horse, who won five stake races last year, was given two pounds more than Needles, the 3-year-old champion and biggest money winner of 1956 with $440,850.

Trezevant Leader in St. Pete Tourney

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Jim Trezevant Jr. of Tampa began the second round of the New Year's invitational golf tournament today with a one-stroke lead over Art Ruffin of Wilson, N.C.

Trezevant shot 70 over the 6,409-yard, par 72 Lakewood Course.

Ruffin came in with 71, a stroke better than Johnny Ireland of St. Petersburg. Eight players shot 73.

Frank Strafaci of Miami Beach, a pre-tournament favorite, remained within striking distance at 75.

Defending champion Bob Goalby of Belleville, Ill., shot a 78 and dropped almost out of contention in the 72-hole tournament.

Petoskey Will Have Harness Races Again

PETOSKEY (AP)—Harness racing is scheduled to return to the Emmet County Fair this year after an absence of seven years. The fair board has voted to revive the sport, planning a two-day session during the week of Aug. 19 with three $800 races each day.

The move is subject to approval of financial aid from the state. Northwestern Michigan Racing Assn. Secretary E. J. MacIllMurry explains that the state will supply 75 per cent of the daily purses up to a $1,000 purse and aid in track remodeling and restoration from pari-mutuel funds.

Canadian Outdoorsmen Are Biggest Spenders

TORONTO, Ont. (INS) — Canadians spent more money on hunting and fishing last year than they spent for all spectator sports combined, including baseball, hockey and football.

This was the finding of a recent Canadian outdoor survey comparable to the national U.S. survey conducted recently.

It was pointed out by Lake Erie District Forester J. K. Reynolds, of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, that:

"One-in-every three households contained one or more persons who fished or hunted. This figure holds true for small communities and towns, but changes to one-in-six in large cities and one-in-two in rural areas.

"One out of every five persons over 12 years of age fished or hunted. Eleven per cent fished, three per cent hunted, seven per cent did both. Two largest groups among the estimated 25 million sportsmen were fresh water anglers and small game hunters.

"In the U.S. the total amount spent — nearly three billion dollars — by hunters and fishermen is approximately equal to the amount they are willing to pay for public utilities, including gas and electricity!"

Golfing Wars Begin

154 in Los Angeles Test

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The 1957 golfing wars get under way today with 154 players on the firing line and taking dead aim at the top money in the $35,000 Los Angeles Open.

This is the 31st annual Los Angeles fixture, the kickoff tournament on a rich winter trail and the main target is the $7,000 top money to the winner.

The scene is the Rancho Municipal golf course in West Los Angeles, an estimated 6,900 yards of challenge which Lloyd Mangrum tamed completely a year ago in winning the LA Open for the fourth time.

Mangrum's four official trips around the place last year were done in 272 strokes, 12 under Rancho's par 36-35—71.

Tommy Bolt made one round trip in a sensational 63 and finished in third place, and just yesterday a 24-year-old newcomer in pro circles, Gay Brewer, did the job in 64.

Brewer, 24, the ex-Kentucky amateur champ now playing for the Cincinnati Country Club, missed only one green, scored seven birdies and never had a putt of more than 10 feet.

It netted Brewer $400 out of a $2,500 pro-amateur purse which was offered in addition to the $35,000 for the four-day tournament proper.

With the exception of Jimmy Demaret, Ted Kroll and Peter Thomson of Australia, all of the 25 top money winners of the 1956 season are here.

The former winners on deck are Mangrum, Bolt, Gene Littler, and Fred Wampler.

Top notchers of the past year include Cary Middlecoff, the National Open champion; Jack Burke Jr., the Masters and PGA champion and such other genuine threats as Mike Souchak, Julius Boros, Ed Furgol, Dow Finsterwald, Mike Fetchik, Shelley Mayfield, Art Wall Jr.

Bo Wininger, Doug Ford, the Hebert brothers, Jay and Lionel, Fred Hawkins, Billy Casper, Dick Mayer, Arnold Palmer—these, too, pose a challenge in any tournament.

70 to Get GOC Awards

Milford Banquet to Be Saturday

Major Faulhauber Will Give Skywatchers Bars; Highest 3,500 Hours

MILFORD — Annual awards will be made tomorrow night at 8 at a party for the Ground Observer Corps in the Presbyterian Church here.

Major Robert Faulhauber of the Grand Rapids Filter Center will be the main speaker.

More than 100 volunteers now "skywatch" 24 hours per day here according to Mrs. Marge Stetler, director. However, many more are needed to fill emergency vacancies.

Mrs. George Seeley will receive her 3500-hour bar and Mrs. Stetler will be awarded a 2500-hour bar. Mrs. Harold Reed has 1500 hours to her credit and Mrs. William Stalcup has 1000 hours.

Four people to be awarded a 500-hour bar are: Mrs. Charles Kitley, Mrs. Gus Easterle, Cecil Stetler and Clarence Travis.

There will be seven 250-hour bars; 45 100-hour medallions and ten will receive their sterling wings.

A new electronic sound detector has been installed in the Milford GOC Post which recently was moved from Lovejoy Hill to the Huron Clinton Metropolitan property.

The detector picks up the sound of planes within a radius of three miles, then rings a bell to warn the watcher who is on duty.

All visitors are welcome to attend the party and get first hand information as to what the GOC accomplishes.

SYLVIA S. BOKOR

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bokor of West Commerce road, Milford, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sylvia Suzanne, to Glenn Raymon Coffey, son of Mrs. Dora Adams of Milford and Mr. Glenn L. Coff of Waterford Township. No date has been set for the wedding.

Overheated Furnace Causes Fire in Home

Careless smoking and an overheated furnace were blamed for two fires extinguished by Pontiac firemen Thursday afternoon and early today. Total damages for the fires were estimated at $3,525.

The more serious blaze of the pair occurred yesterday when a two-story apartment house at 434 S. Saginaw St., was badly damaged. Mrs. Ruth Pettiford, 53, one of the occupants, was given oxygen when overcome by smoke.

According to firemen, the fire broke out in the basement near the furnace and spread rapidly. Damages included $2,500 to the building and $1,000 to contents.

Today's blaze occurred at 1273 Mt. Clemens St., where a dropped cigarette set a davenport on fire causing $25 in damages. The one-story frame home is owned and occupied by the Herbert Wildgoose family.

Holly C. of C. Reorganizing

Addis New President; Village Candidates File for Primaries

HOLLY—A proposed reorganization of the Holly Chamber of Commerce was started Thursday evening with the election of a practically new set of officers.

Raymond E. Addis, owner of a general insurance agency, was chosenpresident. The new vice president is Louis Shwartz, local iron and metals dealer.

Leo N. Reed, who has a dry cleaning business, is the new secretary. The only officer re-elected was Maurice H. Bennett, cashier of the First State and Savings Bank, who was continued as treasurer.

In the Holly primary election on Feb. 18 Village President Paul Cohee will be opposed by Aram Krikorean. Clerk George Patterson and Assessor Aubrey Butler will be unopposed.

For treasurer, Edward Topolinski and Harry Summers will oppose each other in the March 11 village election.

In the primary the candidates for the three positions, who have filed petitions are: Worth Hitchcock, William Alberts, Harry McDaniels, Samuel Wright, Max Freeman and Leo Oberheim.

Club to Meet, Bring Families in Gingellville

GINGELLVILLE—Gordon Knickerbocker Spirit No. 79 of the Metropolitan Club will meet at Gingellville Community Center at 8 p.m. Monday, with their families as guests.

Officers to be installed by Richard Anderson, district representative of the National Spirit, of Berkley, will include: Harold Gingell, president; Wilson Church, vice president; Everette Strine, secretary; Carl Daniels, financial secretary, and Michael Flood, sergeant at arms.

Also Ora Wright, three-year auditor and hospital chairman; Robert Williams, two-year auditor and William Walrath, one-year auditor.

Baby Dies of Suffocation Due to Virus Infection

A 17-month-old White Lake Township infant was pronounced dead of a severe virus infection at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday after succumbing at his home during a suffocating spell.

Theodore Shelton, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Niles Shelton of 9192 Cooley Lake Rd., failed to respond although an inhalator, rushed to the Shelton home by the White Lake Fire Department, was used.

The child previously had been suffering from a bad cough.

Add Junior Pool to Civic Center

Oak Park Planning 2 Swim Sites, Library and Community Hall

OAK PARK — Plans are under way to add a "junior-sized" swimming pool to the $890,000 civic center now under construction here.

This is in addition to the deep water pool already planned for the center, city manager, John D. Dinan said this morning.

Bids for the completion of the center will be opened Jan. 28, Dinan said.

Cost of both pools will be $165,000.

The junior pool will contain about 1,800 square feet of swimming surface, and the deep water pool will have about 9,400 square foot swimming area.

The center will boast a new library, community building and a park shelter building. The cost of the library will be $200,000 and the community building will cost $225,000.

The entire construction is expected to be completed by next September, Dinan said.

Arrange Vote in Lake Orion for Trustees

LAKE ORION — Village Council here Wednesday authorized a primary election because four trustees had filed petitions for the three vacancies.

In addition to Grover Shimmons, Carroll Kirkpatrick, and Robert S. Hauxwell, incumbents, the name of G. Eugene Thompson will appear on the ballot for trustees.

Waldo Carl Leipprandt, for village president; Mary Parkinson, clerk; Geraldine J. Campbell, treasurer, all incumbents, and Geraldine Storey for assessor complete the names to appear on the village ballot.

Thieves in Local Store; Goods and Money Taken

Pontiac police today are investigating the breakin of a city department store which netted burglars miscellaneous articles and cash valued at $169 between Wednesday night and Thursday morning.

The missing articles from the Andrews Five and Ten Cent Store, 526 N. Perry St., include four dozen men's wallets, 12 dozen pairs of ladies' hose and one pen and pencil set. The cash, taken from a desk drawer, totaled $20.

'Uncle Sam' Retires Now as Postman

ROMEO—"Uncle Sam" has retired.

Samuel W. Turrell, 63, has left his job as a postman after 32 years with the local department. Turrell started as a mail clerk, and in 1935 he became a carrier on a rural route. It was then he began to be called "Uncle Sam' by the farm children along his route.

A Veteran of World War I, Turrell served with the Red Arrow Division in France, Belgium and Germany. He is married, has a son, Phillip, and three grandchildren. The Turrell home is at 223 S. Main St.

His retirement became effective Jan. 1.

Air Charge of Vote Fraud in Annexation by Northville

Testimony of an alleged vote fraud by at least two of the six eligible Novi Township voters who cast ballots in the annexation of a small 95-acre parcel of township land north of Eight Mile road to Northville city was heard yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Three other voters may have been indirectly influenced at the special election June 21, Pontiac attorney Glenn C. Gillespie alleged, by a Detroit firm which wants to subdivide the area.

The township voters favored annexation, five to one. Northville voted overwhelmingly for it.

Certification of the results has been held up until trial of a civil suit, begun yesterday before Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty. The suit asks the election be declared void.

It was filed by the Warren Products Co., a small steel stamping firm at 637 E. Eight Mile Rd. in the disputed area. Gillespie and Jack Hartrick, the company's counsels, said annexation means overburdening municipal taxes.

Northville is the principal defendant. City attorney, Philip R. Ogilvie has as partners in the case David Pence and Ralph Becker of Pontiac and Aloysius J. Suchy, representing the Wayne County Board of County Canvassers, named as a secondary defendant.

Three of the voters took the stand yesterday to deny hotly any complicity in a conspiracy. They are Conrad Burkman, 535 E. Eight Mile Rd.; William Samples, who lived at 525 E. Eight Mile; and Samples' wife, Lena.

The fourth voter, Conrad's father, John C. Burkman, of the same address, admitted on the stand he signed agreements with the building company "to procure and vote for" the annexation or pay damages.

The fifth voter, Burkman's wife, Ruth, allegedly signed the same agreements.

The sixth voter was identified as Larry F. Kubiac, a night watchman who lives at the Warren plant. He presumably voted against the annexation and was not called as a witness.

The six voters were the only ones living in the area. Only Burkman was expected to be called again as the case resumes today.

In his brief, Gillespie alleged the Burkmans influenced the vote of their son and of the Samples as part of the agreements with the Detroit firm, the D&R Building Co., 19740 James Couzens Highway.

At the time of the election, the Samples lived in a home rented from the Burkmans. They now live in South Lyon.

Judge Doty must rule whether alleged criminal acts, unproved in a criminal court, can figure in a civil court decision. Defense attorneys argue that they can't.

Gillespie argues that votes obtained by fraud should not be counted, thus changing the results of the election.

He further argues that there were election irregularities by the state and that the annexation boundaries were fixed to include the Warren plant and the two parcels owned by the Burkmans, but to exclude all other adjoining residences.

Acquit Local Woman of Morals Charge

Mabel M. Craig, 31, who gave her address as a downtown hotel, was acquitted yesterday before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum after being arrested Dec. 15 in an after-hours drinking place here.

The woman was one of four persons arrested by Pontiac police on illegal and morals charges.

The arraignment of Marie Davis, 34, who gave her address as 76 Wessen St., was put over one week. Both Donald R. Simmons, 23, of 37 Park Pl. and William H. Stratton, 64, of a Wessen address, pleaded guilty Dec. 15 and paid $25 and $100 fines, respectively. Simmons was charged with loitering, while Stratton was charged with illegal sale of liquor.

Properly Fattened Cow for Los Angeles Seal

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The new official seal of the County of Los Angeles will include the figure of a cow, a plump, robust-looking cow, after a second try by the artist.

The Board of Supervisors approved the new design yesterday. It features the goddess Ceres, for the bountiful earth; the cow, a fish, a Spanish galleon, oil wells, engineers' instruments and the Hollywood Bowl.

* * *

Millard Sheets, director of the county art institute, previously submitted a sketch but the supervisors said the cow was a seedy looking character with a scrawny foresection and a droopy head. They asked Sheets to revamp the beast.

Wheat Decline Caused by Rain

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat dropped on the Board of Trade today following rains overnight in parts of the Southwest and a forecast of more to come.

Other cereals opened steady, but after the first few minutes eased slightly in sympathy with the decline in wheat. Trading again was fairly active in all pits.

Aside from the weather there wasn't much news to influence the market, although the trade noted the government continued to sell grain from its stocks to exporters at competitive bid prices.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to 1¼ lower, March $2.41; corn unchanged to ⅜ lower, March $1.36 ⅜; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, March 78 ⅜; Rye unchanged to ¼ lower, March $1.46 ¾; soybeans ⅛ lower to ⅛ higher, January $2.48, and lard 5 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $15.15.

Wayne Court Eyes Probe of Dearborn

DETROIT (INS) — The Wayne County Circuit Court bench was to meet today to consider a petition asking that the one-man grand jury be enlarged to include the city of Dearborn.

The petition was filed yesterday by attorney James Thomson, a long-time political foe of Dearborn Mayor Orville Hubbard.

Judge Miles N. Culehan, to whom Thomson's petition was referred by Judge Theodore R. Bohn, the one-man juror, said the bench probably won't act on the request until it gets an opinion from the prosecutor.

The mayor and police chief of River Rouge appeared before the jury yesterday. Judge Bohn's inquiry originally was authorized to probe Ecorse and Taylor Township, later being empowered to look into River Rouge and Inkster.

DETROIT EGGS

DETROIT, Jan. 4 (AP)—Eggs, f. o. b. Detroit; cases included, federal state grades:

Whites, Grade A jumbo 45-53 weighted average 48½; large 32-39 wtd. avg. 37½; medium 29-34 wtd. avg. 32½; small 28. Grade B large 33-36 wtd. avg. 35.

Browns: Grade A jumbo 43-49 wtd. avg. 45; large 30-37½ wtd. avg. 36; medium 29-33 wtd. avg. 32; small 23. Grade B large 29-35 wtd. avg. 34½. Checks 24.

Total weekly receipts of government grade eggs Dec. 29 through Jan. 4 were 9,106 cases.

Commercially graded:

Whites: Grade A extra, large 37; large 31½-34½; medium 28½-31. Grade B large 30-31.

Browns: Grade A extra large 36-37; large 31-33½; medium 27½-30; small 23-26. Grade B large 26-31.

Comment: Market weak with prices ranging 1 to 5 cents lower but mostly 1 to 2 cents lower. Supplies of large continue liberal and burdensome. Balance of offerings are in moderate supply and generally ample although extra large and jumbo short in some instances. Trade slightly improved at the lower prices. Prominent retail sales noted at 43 to 45 cents on grade A large.

Oils Dominate Rise in Market

NEW YORK (AP) — Oils continued to lead the stock market as it rose in active early trading today.

Pivotal stocks rose from fractions to around a point.

Still riding high on yesterday's announcement of a hike in crude oil prices, the oil issues were traded more heavily then the rest of the list.

Amerada was up 3½ at 124 on an opening block of 3,300 shares, keeping around 2 points of this gain in later trading. Texas Co. was up around a point while fractional gains were made by Gulf Oil, Standard Oil (New Jersey), Royal Dutch and Sinclair.

High-priced Superior Oil of California lost 15 of the 105 points it gined yesterday as profits were taken.

Douglas was a conspicuous gainer among aircrafts, rising around 2. Boeing gained a fraction while United Aircraft eased.

American Telephone resumed its advance with another rise of around a point. U. S. Steel, Youngstown and Bethlehem were ahead fractionally. Motors and leading rails were steady.

Reunification of Korea Asked in U.N. by U.S.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United States was slated to urge today that the U. N. Assembly call anew for union of divided Korea into one independent, Democratic nation.

U.S. Delegate Edward S. Greenbaum was expected to submit to the Assembly's top Political Committee a resolution restating the basic U. N. goal for Korea, long blocked by the Communists.

Reg. communication of Pontiac Lodge No. 21, F. & A. M., Fri., Jan. 4, 7:30 p. m. William H. Anderson, W. M. —Adv.

News in Brief

Thieves got only $3 in change in a breakin at the Auto Electric Store, 367 S. Saginaw St., between Wednesday night and Thursday, Pontiac police said today. The money was taken from a stamp fund and gum machine in the ransacked office.

Donna A. Tamm, 27, of 2329 Earlmont Rd., Berkley, waived examination and was bound over to Circuit Court on a larceny from a building charge Thursday. She was jailed under $1,000 bond by Farmington Township Justice Allen C. Ingle to be sentenced Jan. 14.

Two 15-year-old Milford youths were lodged in the Oakland County Juvenile Home last night after admitting the theft of gin and whiskey from a home at 3100 Central Blvd., Milford. Apprehended at a theater last night, the boys told Sheriff's deputies they got drunk on the liquor.

Waterford Club Hands 'Oscar' to Gerald Terrian

"Oscar" of the week for the Waterford Toastmasters' Club was presented to Gerald A. Terrian, 1370 Silverbell Rd., at last night's meeting, Elmer Lepp, president, said today.

Mrs. Gertrude Nethercott, charter member of the Pontiac Toastmistress Club spoke to Waterford members about organizing a Waterford Toastmistress group. Her talk preceded a drive to form such a club, Lepp said, on Feb. 28.

The Pontiac group at that time will send a delegation to the launching of the women's organization, Lepp added.

Information concerning the formation of the new Waterford Toastmistress Club may be obtained by contacting Lepp at 2809 Private Dr., Milford.

Federal Highway Program May Give Jobs to 440,000

CHICAGO (AP)—The projected new federal aid highway program was pictured by a General Motors executive today as contributing substantially to the nation's economic development as well as providing cheaper and safer highway travel.

William F. Hufstader, vice president in charge of GM's distribution staff, said in an address prepared for delivery to a luncheon meeting that an estimated 440,000 workers will be directly employed in highway construction at the peak of the program.

The luncheon meeting was one of a series preliminary to the opening tomorrow of the Chicago Automobile Show.

The 15 million dollar show, to run through Jan. 13, is expected to draw a record crowd of half a million visitors.

It will present all the new model American-made 1957 model cars displayed early last month at the New York show plus many foreign-built makes that were not shown at the eastern presentation.

Hufstader is a long time leader in highway improvement and in traffic safety activities.

Urging wholehearted support for what he referred to as the 33 billion dollar program, Hufstader said: "such actions as unwarranted efforts to influence route locations, to modify the principle of planned access or to divert funds from major to minor roads must be vigorously opposed by the weight of public opinion."

The new highways to be built, Hufstader said, "will give tremendous impetus to our further economic development.

The new modern roads already built, such as the New York Thruway, have dramatically demonstrated how much they can do to promote prosperity in the areas they serve.

This is just a sample of the beneficial impact that a well-designed, well-integrated nationwide system of highways will have on our whole economy."

Angry Residents Hit Parking Ban

Commissioners Plan Traffic Count Along East Boulevard

A group of angry East Boulevard residents reluctantly must await a traffic count before they see whether parking will be restored to their street between Whittemore and South Boulevard.

City Commissioner Gilbert W. Long (District 7) last night informed the commission he had received a protest petition signed by 150 persons against the parking ban in the nine-block area.

Some 25 persons living in the area appeared before the commission to support the protest. They wanted to see parking returned to the west side of East Boulevard.

This was removed because of increased vehicular traffic, City Manager Walter K. Willman said.

To ease complaints, parking is allowed, Willman reported, during the hours of six to 11 p.m. Residents objected to this also as they said many visitors remained after the 11 o'clock hour.

"We can't intelligently appraise this situation until we get a report from our traffic engineer," said Commissioner Philip E. Rowston.

Grand Trunk Western Appoints Auditor

Harold F. McAuley has been appointed auditor of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad, succeeding Charles DiMarco, who has retired on the company's pension plan. McAuley has also been appointed treasurer of both the Detroit and Toledo Shore Line Railroad and the Detroit Terminal Railroad.

Other appointments announced by the GTW accounting department were those of Lawrence C. Pleger as auditor of disbursements and Reid G. Robson as auditor of revenues.

McAuley began his railroad career as a clerk in the revenue department at Detroit in 1920 and advanced through several positions to become general accountant in 1945. He was promoted to disbursements accountant in 1950 and has been revenue accountant since 1955.

Pleger entered GTW service as a mail clerk in the revenue department at Detroit in 1923 and after several promotions, became traveling accountant in 1940, general accountant in 1950, and has been disbursements accountant since 1955.

Robson first came to the Grand Trunk as a clerk in the revenue department at Detroit in 1925 and has specialized in mechanized accounting. In 1955 he was appointed machine method analyst.

Start Monopoly Trial of Vanadium Firms

DENVER (AP)—The federal government Monday will begin its trial of two huge industrial firms on charges of price fixing and monopoly.

The charges against the Union Carbide & Carbon Corp. and the Vanadium Corp. of America first were filed here in 1948. Also named defendant is a Union Carbide subsidiary, Electro Metallurgical Sales Corp.

The major firms are the chief U. S. producers of vanadium, an alloy used in toughening steel.

The government charges that Union Carbide, its subsidiary and the Vanadium Corp. formed an unlawful combination to conspire to monopolize and fix prices in the purchase and sale of vanadium ore. It contends the agreements between the companies began in 1933 and extended to June 1, 1946.

Two other Union Carbide subsidiaries, U. S. Vanadium Corp. and Electro Metallurgical Co., have been dismissed from the main case but remain listed as "co-conspirators."

800 Hungarians Go Back Home

Disillusioned Refugees Choose to Live Behind Iron Curtain

VIENNA (INS)—Some 800 Hungarians who fled to Austria have returned to their Soviet-controlled homeland this week, disillusioned with their brief glimpse of the West.

A refugee official said the repatriates included single youths and family groups and that all returned to Hungary of their own free will.

He said they gave varying reasons, but that it appeared most of them were disappointed with conditions in the crowded refugee camps and saw little opportunity to get visas to other countries.

The refugees have been given little or no information about new quotas opening up in Western countries, particularly in the United States.

Card of Thanks 1

IN GRATEFUL APPRECIATION for the kindness and sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement. The family of the late Clara May Newby wishes to thank publicly all whose messages, cards, flowers and offers of assistance helped to lighten our sorrow.

Her children and grandchildren.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR beloved husband and father, Carl E. Aderholt, who passed away Jan. 4th, 1951.
Broken is the family circle.
Our dear one is passed away;
Passed from earth and earthly darkness
Into bright and perfect day;
But we all must cease to languish
O'er the grave of him we love,
Strive to be prepared to meet him
In the better world above.
Sadly missed by Wife and Children.

IN MEMORY OF MY HUBBY Kenneth A. Clark Sr. who passed away 1 yr. ago today.
Knowing you as we did you would not wish any tears, but it's lonesome honey without you and it will be throughout the years.
Sadly missed by wife Helen and children Vicki, Ronnie, Betty and Kenneth Jr.

Ida Lupino, Howard Duff Launching Television Show

Elections Unit Plans Action on Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Elections subcommittee meets today to consider what to do about political committees which have not yet submitted requested campaign fund reports.

Chairman Gore (D-Tenn) said in advance of the closed door meeting that "only a relatively few delinquents" have failed to file the reports his subcommittee asked for during the election campaign.

Gore said the group has not yet had to subpoena any records and he hopes it will not be necessary. But John P. Moore, the subcommittee's special counsel, told a reporter the issuance of subpoenas is "one of the possibilities that may be considered" at today's meeting.

Moore declined to name any of the political groups which failed to send in the requested information. He said most of them are state and local organizations which had campaigned for slates of candidates — both Republican and Democratic — rather than for senatorial or presidential aspirants alone.

A car buyer in South Africa now must make a down payment of at least 45 per cent and pay the balance within 18 months, under a new law passed in Pretoria.

NEW YEAR ENTRY — This is a scene from "Mr. Adams and Eve," new CBS-TV comedy series starring Ida Lupino and Howard Duff. Starting tonight at 9 o'clock as a replacement for "Crusader," the filmed show centers around the activities of a movie star couple, both at home and at the studios.

Comedy Series Starts Tonight

'Mr. Adams and Eve' Will Satirize the Lives of Its Stars

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Tonight, Ida Lupino and Howard Duff will bravely debut in a new TV show that is a light-hearted spoof of their own lives.

The show is called "Mr. Adams and Eve" and it takes over for "Crusader" at 9 o'clock on CBS.

The Duffs are type-cast as a couple of film stars, and they will be accused of having some of their antics taken from life. Some are.

"It's sort of a satire of ourselves," Duff explained between takes.

For instance, Ida's mother, an extraordinary woman, will be portrayed by Lee Patrick. Ida told some stories about her mother:

How she sent Ida a note from Las Vegas with a newspaper photo of Ida and the comment: "You look very good, dear, for a woman your age."

How she replied to a magazine writer who coyly asked for her favorite actress: "Why, Barbara Stanwyck, of course."

"We're happy as clams," Ida declared. "We've never gotten along so well."

"Let's face it — we have to," Howard laughed. "We've got too much invested here."

They have 38 half-hour films to do, and Ida crossed her eyes to register fatigue as she contemplated it.

"Sure, it's hard work," Howard added. "But we're having fun together. And we're building up an investment. This is the only way we can establish some sort of future for ourselves and the kid."

The kid is Bridget, 4, and their company is named after her.

Ike to OK Poland's Plea for Surplus Farm Goods

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration was reported ready today to let Communist Poland buy surplus U. S. farm goods with dollars at world market prices.

This would be the first step, officials said, in the Eisenhower program of helping any country that breaks away from Moscow during the initial stages of its economic estrangement from the Soviet bloc.

The Commerce Department is expected to announce shortly the lifting for Poland of export licensing restrictions which barred Poland and other Iron Curtain countries from buying surplus U. S. farm goods for dollars at world prices.

The restriction, imposed as administrative policy two years ago, dealt specifically at that time with butter cheaper than the American otherwise the Reds could buy U.S. butter cheaper than the American housewife could. Domestic farm prices, propped up by U.S. farm subsidies, are generally higher than world market prices.

In preliminary talks at Warsaw between U.S. and Polish officials, the Poles have sought wheat, cotton and farm and factory machines.

The Poles emphasized they wanted trade — not aid which would require them to make a political commitment to the United States.

WANTED — The FBI has added the name of Ben Golden McCollum to its list of "Ten Most Wanted Criminals." McCollum replaces Charles Edward Ranels, who was apprehended by FBI Special Agents at Pine Bluff, Arkansas, Dec. 16.

Army Wrinkle-Chaser Is Out of the Groove

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — The Army has come up with a lot of new wrinkles in recent years. Now it has found a man who can chase them—but it isn't making use of his particular talent.

The wrinkle chaser by trade is George R. Hamann, 32, of Rawlings, Mo. He got the title chasing wrinkles out of leather boots in a shoe factory with a hot air jet.

Classification experts here worked through the entire list of more than 800 Army occupation thing to match Hamann's. His assignment: communications section wireman.

O'Shea Pleads Guilty to Shooting Boys' Tires

VAN NUYS, Calif. (AP) — Actor Michael O'Shea has pleaded guilty to illegally discharging a gun within the city limits, a misdeanor punishable by up to six months in jail.

His probation hearing and sentencing were set yesterday for Jan. 21.

Actress Virginia Mayo, O'Shea's wife, accompanied him to Municipal Court. He was arrested Nov. 7 after firing a .22 rifle at tires of a tractor being driven by two boys near his ranch home in Van Nuys. At the time he said he had become "fed up" with the noise.

Girl for Barbara Ruick

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Barbara Ruick and her husband John Williams are the parents of a 6-pound, 13-ounce girl, born yesterday at St. John's Hospital. The baby is their first.

Police to Be Midwives

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—First aid in childbirth has been included in the course of instruction being given 34 state police trainees. Maj. W. C. Thomas, executive officer of the state police, said, "After all, a life saved in such a manner is just as important as one saved on the highway."

Mefer Receipts Secret

BUTLER, Pa. (AP)—The city fathers have banned publication of parking meter receipts. Mayor Walter Schweppe explained several meters had been broken and looted after figures showing how much the meters take in were published.

Man Lives 5 Hours; Cut in Two by Engine

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP)—John Bobbitt, 46, was cut in two by a switch engine yesterday but amazed doctors by clinging to life more than five hours.

Through three of those hours he talked with his wife, a minister and doctors, who told him almost from the outset he would die. He did not appear in much pain. Then doctors gave him an anesthetic and he died two hours later.

"I never heard of such a thing," said Dr. J. W. Well. "Most people injured in that way are dead when you see them."

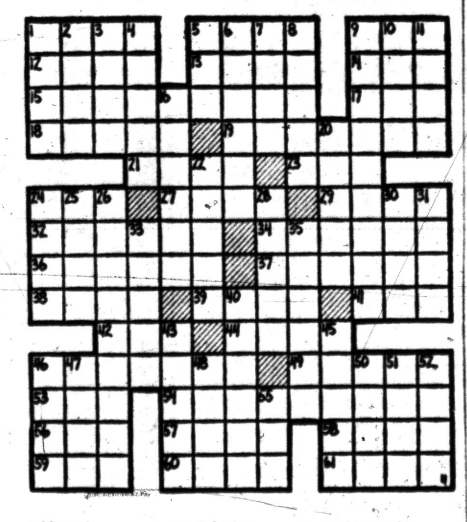

Dr. Well said the crushing injury, across the abdomen, sealed off blood vessels and there was almost no bleeding.

Coroner Henry H. Sweets said Bobbitt told several persons he threw himself in front of the switcher. Relatives said he had been nervous recently.

Police Push Search for Missing Girls

CHICAGO (AP)—Police intensified their search today for two missing teen-age sisters who failed to return home last Friday night after leaving to attend a movie.

More than 150 policemen were directly involved in the hunt for the girls, Barbara Grimes, 15, and her sister Patricia, 14.

Capt. John McCarthy said police have investigated scores of reports that the girls had been seen in various places in the city and suburbs. However, he said, police concentrated their work on the city's South Side in the belief that the girls are staying close to home.

Slate Road Conference

IONIA (AP)—County road commissioners, engineers and superintendents from eight West Michigan counties are scheduled to meet at Ionia today for a conference on 1956 road legislation and prespective legislation for 1957. The conference area includes Oceana, Newaygo, Mecosta, Muskegon, Montcalm, Ottawa, Kent and Ionia counties.

Pooch Population Promised Plenty of Pleasures

It Looks Like Gr-r-r-reat Year for Dogs

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Everybody is making predictions about what 1957 holds for adults and children (E.G., a sucker'll be born every minute, while a baby will be born every eight seconds) — but nobody's talking much about dogs.

This is a decided oversight, since research proves that the canine population of the U. S. will pass the 25-million mark next year. Also, since it is now an established fact that dogs are not only man's best friend, but also the advertising business's second most effective seller, running just behind women's legs and way out in front of bawling babies.

"Today's pets are as much in demand in the advertising world as pretty girls," claims an outfit called the AGAA, or the "American Guild of Animal Artists."

"The liquor industry," it goes on, "is especially partial to canines. Note that a pair of scotties sells scotch, a couple of wolfhounds sells vodka, and collies or shepherds are almost always used to interest people in those men of distinction who might look more alcoholic than distinguished if merely photographed with a glass in hand.

"It's the canine, not the cocktail, that gives these men their air of serenity in front of the hearth."

CANINE ACTORS

Then there are all the Rin Tin Tins, the Lassies and the multitude of other dog actors who give cereal and soup and horsemeat manufacturers such solid solace. What of them in the coming year?

Will it be a good year for dogs, both amateur and professional?

After a little research, through the AGAA and various other folks dedicated to dog futures around town, we have come up with a few facts of which your dog should be apprised . . .

1.) The Animal Guild is planning to firm up its long struggle to achieve higher minimum wages for canines in both the advertising modeling and acting professions. This will also embrace the problem of bonus bones and double doggie dinners for overtime.

2.) The AGAA also plans to establish homes for aged animal actors, and certain retirement benefits for dogs, such as satin couches in parlors to curl up on and the abolition of small, mean children.

TRAVELING DOGS

3.) Swissair informes that a record number of canines will travel in 1957, and that they have established deluxe kennels in most of their transatlantic DC 7Cs.

4.) Harry Miller, director for the Gaines Research Center and affectionately called "dog's best friend" — by the company's advertising department, what else? — predicts that in 1957 the dog population will reach an all-time high. Yet scarcely one will be named Fido.

The most popular names will be snooty, owing to the fact that there is a larger ratio of purebred dogs in the U. S. today than at any other time in history. One-third of the nation's canines now can trace their lineage more precisely than the most blueblooded master.

5.) The ASPCA promises it will continue to look after what will doubtless be a record year in the number of dogs lost by careless owners, and a manufacturer in New York indicated dogs will have heat-controlled, air-cooled houses this year with "magic eye" doors for extra convenience.

All in all, looks like a gr-r-r-reat new year.

Kansas' Gov. Hall Resigns; Goes to Supreme Court

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Gov. Fred Hall resigned Thursday and was appointed to the Kansas Supreme Court, the state's highest tribunal.

It was a rapid-fire maneuver by three Republicans just 11 days before Hall was scheduled to surrender the governorship to Democrat George Docking.

Chief Justice William A. Smith, who has been in ill health, resigned to Hall. Hall then announced his own resignation, automatically elevating Lt. Gov. John McCuish to chief executive. As soon as McCuish was sworn in, he announced appointment of Hall to succeed Smith.

McCuish will serve as governor only until Jan. 14. Hall will serve until the 1958 general election.

Sanitarian in New Post

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Edward Stockton, former Calhoun County chief sanitarian, has taken up new duties as chief sanitarian for the Grand Rapids and Kent County health departments. He replaces W. W. Joy, who took a post with the University of Michigan School of Public Health.

THE STORY OF THE CALENDAR

The Roman Calendar

The ancients had so many methods of telling time that it became confusing when traveling from one place to another. Some countries told time by the moon, others by the sun. Still others combined the two systems.

Julius Caesar, leader of the Roman world at that time, decided to make a uniform calendar. With the aid of an astronomer, Sosigenes, he put his new calendar into use in the year 46 B. C.

The year before it went into effect was called "The Last Year of Confusion." It had 445 days.

Caesar tossed out the lunar (moon) calendar and started one with a year of 365 days, or 12 months. It wasn't exactly correct so he added a few extra days every so often to adjust it. This calendar lasted until 1582.

The picture shows Julius Caesar looking at some of the calendars prepared for him. In those days notes were scratched on wax tablets with a sharp pointed instrument called a stylus, the forerunner of our modern pens. Permanent records were kept on papyrus strips wrapped around wooden or metal rolls. A scroll case containing several scrolls is on Caesar's table.

(June Sands of Houston, Tex., first submitted this idea. If you have a good one it may be worth $10. Send it care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)
