U.S., West Germany Expected to Reject Red Disarming Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer met today over a variety of subjects, probably including Russia's latest disarmament program.

Advance indications were they would agree to reject it.

Adenauer, who came to the United States primarily to get honorary degrees from Yale and Marquette Universities, arrived in Washington yesterday for talks with Dulles and others.

Soviet Premier Bulganin, in letters to Adenauer, President Eisenhower and other Western leaders, proposed that the United States, Britain and France reduce their armed forces in Germany as a "first step" to match announced Soviet plans for a 30,000-man cut-back in Russian troops there.

American officials have said they regard this proposal as a propaganda move timed to coincide with Adenauer's visit.

They said it ignored the question of controls and that it would leave Russian forces at Germany's eastern border in Poland while American troops would be expected to withdraw across the Atlantic.

Tomorrow, Adenauer will attend a luncheon given by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is substituting for the ailing President Eisenhower.

Dulles, in greeting Adenauer yesterday, paid tribute to the Chancellor's efforts in "building a new Germany and a new Europe and, what we hope, will be a new world."

The secretary greeted the Chancellor in the name of President Eisenhower and the American people as "a good friend whom we are happy to see again."

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's doctors said today the President passed his most comfortable night since his operation. His spirits are high and his morale good, they reported.

The 8:15 a.m. EDT medical bulletin was issued a few hours before Eisenhower, in Walter Reed Army Hospital, was to confer with his chief aide, Sherman Adams, on the outcome of a White House conference on the foreign aid bill.

The medical bulletin said: "The President had a more comfortable night than he has had to date."

"As of this morning his temperature is 99, his pulse is 80, his blood pressure is 132 over 70, and his respiration is 20—all of which indicates an essentially normal reaction at this time."

"His spirits are high. His morale is good."

The bulletin came three days after Eisenhower underwent emergency surgery to correct an intestinal block.

REJECTS RED OFFER

The doctors have estimated Eisenhower will be in the hospital until about June 24. They also have said it would be four to six weeks from last Saturday before he would be in shape to resume his full duties at the White House.

During his first brief conference with Adams, the chief executive did make one major decision. He rejected as "impracticable" at this time a Soviet Union proposal that all four top members of America's military command visit Russia simultaneously later this month.

GREAT INJURY

Administration civilian and military leaders urged Senate Republican and Democratic leaders today to restore at least 600 million dollars of the $1,100,000,000 slashed from the foreign aid bill by the House.

The Senate leaders said after a White House conference that Secretary of State Dulles and Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told them "great injury" would be done if 600 million dollars was not added to the $1,300,000,000 authorization measure passed by the House yesterday by a 273-122 vote.

President Eisenhower scheduled the White House session before he was stricken by his intestinal illness, and it was held despite his absence.

From his hospital bed, Eisenhower sent an oral plea through Sherman Adams, his chief assistant, for the full $4,900,000,000 he originally asked.

Adams presided at the meeting of the senators with Dulles and Radford.

At the hospital, Eisenhower was expected to walk twice today. He has been taking short strolls—with some assistance—in his hospital room daily since Sunday, traveling from his bed to an easy chair nearby.

Area Youngster Drowns in Well

Rodney W. Clyne, 3, Topples to His Death Near Avon Home

Three-year-old Rodney W. Clyne, the youngest of 10 children of an Avon Township family, drowned when he fell into a narrow well in the yard of his home at 269 Avon Rd. late yesterday afternoon.

The boy was recovered approximately five minutes after the accident by deputies from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department and a nearby resident through the use of garden hoses. All efforts to revive the child at the scene and later at Avon Center Hospital failed.

Rodney, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Clyne, was reportedly standing on the cover of the well dropping maple seeds when he apparently lost his balance and fell head first into the well. He was still clutching the seeds in his hand when brought out.

The Clyne boy dropped six feet to the water and was stuck in the narrow well with his head in the water, according to deputies Lyle Walmsley and Carl Raymond. They said Chester Bulak, a neighbor, was attempting to reach the child when they arrived.

Clyne had left for work 45 minutes before the incident. He said he had planned to board up the well after the garden season. His son had celebrated his third birthday last Saturday.

GLENN H. GRIFFIN
Glenn Griffin Wins School Board Post

A meager 364 voters cast ballots in the city's annual school election yesterday, re-electing Glenn H. Griffin to another four-year term.

Griffin, unopposed in the election, gathered 351 votes while two votes were write-ins and another was ruled invalid. Dr. Leonard F. Klausmeyer, Pontiac dentist, and Ralph Norvell, local insurance agent, received the write-in votes.

Vernon L. Schiller, treasurer of the Pontiac School District, said the turnout was "probably one of the lowest in recent years." He attributed it to the one-issue decision on the ballot.

Ballots were cast at 19 schools from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m.

Griffin's new term will expire on June 30, 1960, according to Schiller.

The Chief Executive is expected to receive permission to confer with Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the next day or two.

He also may be permitted to talk with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer during his current Washington visit.

NEW YORK (INS) — With smiles — and tears — ten young women from Hiroshima said goodbye this morning to the American "mommies" and families who cared for them while they underwent a year-long series of plastic surgery treatments for atomic bomb wounds.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Gov. Williams says he will ask the Legislature for a substantial increase in state unemployment compensation benefits.

Williams told the annual meeting of the Michigan CIO Council yesterday that his program will be submitted to a special legislative meeting starting Wednesday.

Published reports quoted the governor that he will ask an increase in weekly maximum benefits from the present $54 to a top of $90, but Williams said later he had no new dollar maximum in mind.

In Lansing, the governor said at his regular Tuesday news conference that he will propose computing weekly benefits under this formula:

A maximum of 65 per cent of a worker's average weekly wage or 66 2/3 per cent of the state average weekly wage in covered employment.

To this base figure would be added $5 for each dependent, except that no benefit check could exceed 90 per cent of the worker's average weekly wage.

The maximum benefit period would be 39 weeks, compared with the present 26 weeks.

The Legislature, with both House and Senate in Republican control, turned down virtually the same Democratic administration proposal at its regular session this spring.

In the meantime, unemployment has risen, particularly in the auto industry.

Last week, Rep. George W. Salade of Ann Arbor, a "Young Turk" Republican, filed in advance of the special session a bill calling for lengthening the benefit period to 32 weeks.

Williams' proposals drew applause from the 833 convention delegates, many of whom represented workers in the auto industry, where unemployment is highest.

"Of the more than 200,000 unemployed in Michigan, more than 25,000 have exhausted their benefits," he said. "This is a situation that cannot be allowed to continue."

The plight of the jobless worker affects everyone, said Williams, adding:

"We need a level of payments to protect not only the worker, but the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker."

Newly Divorced Playwright Flies to See Marilyn?

NEW YORK (INS) — Newly divorced playwright Arthur Miller, 41, arrived today at Idlewild Airport from Reno — reportedly for a romantic rendezvous with Marilyn Monroe.

There has been some speculation that Miller would wed Miss Monroe as soon as he obtained his divorce from the former Mary Grace Slattery. It was granted yesterday, ending a 15-year marriage.

The author of "death of a salesman" and other plays was close-mouthed about his plans when reporters questioned him.

Asked about persistent reports linking his name with Miss Monroe, he said:

"Sorry no comment. I've already talked too much."

He refused to say whether he'd even seen Marilyn, but according to sources in Hollywood, the blonde actress has told friends she intends to marry Miller.

Miller said he hadn't the "slightest notion" what a subpoena issued for him to appear in Washington before the House Un-American Activities Committee was about. He is due to appear in Washington next week.

Confirm Grant to City Airport

Pontiac Facility Shares in $1,998,750 Awarded Over Michigan

Pontiac's $31,500 share of a $1,998,750 federal grant for airport improvement in the state was confirmed today by the Civil Aeronautics Administration in Washington.

The money will be made available beginning July 1.

Pontiac's share will go toward installing runway lights on the east-west runway now under expansion to 4,000 feet. This is being done to allow larger aircraft to use the local field than now permissible under runway length limitations.

Manager Homer D. Hoskins said yesterday if the expansion is completed in fall, the lights will be installed then.

The latest federal grant brings to $153,000 the total the city has received this year. In February, $91,500 was allocated for expansion while $30,000, originally earmarked last year, was added to the 1956 grant.

Some of the other funds in the latest grant are: Lansing $153,000; Jackson, $94,000; Flint, $40,000; Detroit Wayne Major, $1,000,000; Ann Arbor, $9,000, and Muskegon, $80,000.

Detroit Police Search for Girl

Comb Northeast of City After Housewife Report of Probable Violence

DETROIT (INS) — A search team of 25 Detroit police failed to find any trace early today of a girl who may have been the victim of an attacker.

The hunt was launched on Detroit's Northeast side last night after a housewife reported seeing a boy about 16 accompany a girl about 14 into a wooded swamp and then come running out alone 20 minutes later with his shirt smeared with mud.

Police combed the area and approximately 50 boxcars at a nearby Grand Trunk siding, but failed to uncover a clue to the girl.

About 3 a.m., police received a report that Patricia Dickman, 16, who lives about a mile and a half from the scene, was missing.

Patricia roughly fits the description of the girl seen by the housewife but she has a previous history as a runaway.

Just Like a Man!

PLAINVIEW (INS) — Given a ticket for backing from her parking space into an oncoming car, an irate housewife told a policeman: "I think it's a crying shame you gave me a ticket and not the man I hit. He could see me backing out a lot better than I could see him."

Port Huron Offering Water to 3 Counties

PORT HURON (AP) — Port Huron's City Commission last night reaffirmed an offer to furnish water to Wayne, Oakland and Macomb county communities facing a water shortage.

City Manager Jay Gibbs said the city could increase its intake capacity from Lake Huron to supply between 30 and 40 million gallons daily to other communities without diminishing Port Huron's supply.

Under the proposal, communities purchasing the water would be required to build pipelines linking their distribution system with the Port Huron water system.

Gibbs said letters outlining the proposal would be sent to various municipalities in the three-county area.

Carnival Here Minus Chimp Which Bit Girl

The Elks lodge annual carnival will open today without its star chimpanzee.

The 160-pound side-show performer, named Cheeta, bit a nine-year-old girl during a Port Huron showing Saturday.

Police Inspector Clark M. Wheaton said the manager of Happy Land Shows had been told the sideshow and the chimpanzee had been barred from Pontiac.

According to Wheaton, John F. Reid of Detroit said the animal had never bitten anyone before. But Vice Squad Lt. William F. Nesbitt is ordered to make arrests if the act goes on, Wheaton said.

The 18-year-old chimpanzee reportedly leaped from the stage to bite the girl, severing one finger and mauling one hand. She is recovering in Port Huron General Hospital.

The carnival is scheduled to continue one week.

Talos May Replace Nike as Future Defense Weapon

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) said last night the Military Appropriation subcommittee will halt the Army's Nike missile program if tests show the Talos, developed by the Air Force, is the better weapon.

He said he plans to have Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson testify as to the Nike-Talos issue. Wilson's position has been that there is no use quarreling about "paper" missiles.

He contended that both are in the development stage and this work should be completed before determining what should be done about them.

Chavez told newsmen: "It looks from the evidence at the hearings that the Talos is a better weapon than the Nike. The Nike is a good weapon, not obsolete whatsoever, and it can be of substantial use for defense."

the tests indicate the Talos is the better weapon, as it looks now, then it appears the committee will recommend only that weapon be produced in the future."

The Nike program has cost about $80 million dollars up to now. The administration is asking several hundred million more dollars in the current defense budget for expansion of the Nike program.

Chavez indicated his committee decided to wait the outcome of the tests before deciding whether additional funds should be allowed.

CHIEFS AGREE

The Senate chairman declared all three service chiefs were in agreement that the Talos will prove to be the better weapon.

Present at the closed hearings were Gen. Maxwell Taylor, Army chief of staff; Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief, and Adm. Arleigh Burke, Navy chief. They were called in connection with inter-service feuding over roles and missions which has centered on the dispute over missile development.

Twining told newsmen as the three left: "We are all in agreement, we always have problems but we work them out. We see nothing insurmountable."

The Air Force general, chosen as spokesman by the other two, said there was discussion of the Talos and Nike differences.

Chavez, questioned about differences among the services, reported that "the boys say they are as happy as larks—they are not squabbling any more."

Williams Asks Hike in Jobless Benefits

the present $34 maximum weekly payment, and the average is $31.

State benefits in Michigan, he said, have not kept pace with the rising cost of living nor with the plan's purpose of providing unemployed workers with two-thirds of what they earned on the job.

Williams' proposal came only hours after Detroit's Common Council backed a plea of Walter Reuther, United Auto Workers president, for a 30-week maximum period for unemployment benefits. The Council unanimously adopted a resolution supporting the proposal.

Reuther's proposal did not name specific figure for an increase in the amount of the payments.

Gus Schoole, president of the CIO Council, opened the convention with a blast at the Michigan Federation of Labor, which he said has resisted unity moves.

It was the first public admission by either a CIO or AFL official that state groups have founded in their merger efforts following consolidation of the two national organizations last December.

THREAT LESSENS

In Lansing, the threat of a ruckus over distribution of state road monies at the special session was lessened today.

Representatives of the County Road Assn. of Michigan and the Michigan Municipal League met Monday with Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler and decided against trying to revise the existing allocation.

Out of the conference came a recommendation for a couple of minor amendments to the 1935 highway bonding act in addition to the one Gov. Williams had in mind in calling the Legislature back into session.

Under one of the proposals, borrowing pursuant to the 1935 act would be limited to projects that could be serviced by one-fourth of the highway construction fund.

This was suggested by John Jacoby, adviser to the Wayne County Road Commission, as a means of improving marketability of bonds issued.

In his call, the governor tried to narrow consideration of the road issue to removing defects of the 1935 law that apparently would make any bonds issued under it unsaleable.

However, there had been some talk that an attempt might be made to throw open the entire highway finance question with a view to increasing the county share of road revenues.

State highway revenues are divided among the state, counties and cities under a formula giving the state the lion's share.

D'Amato Sees Moore as 'Easy' Problem

NEW YORK (U)—The Floyd Patterson camp—meaning manager Gus D'Amato—thinks old folks Archie Moore will present a relatively easy problem.

Easier, that is, than Hurricane Jackson.

"We think Moore is an easier, far easier, fighter for Patterson than Jackson was," snapped D'Amato today. "We certainly will not consider it a lucky break for us if we have to put off the fight until a later date."

D'Amato was referring, of hand, a direct result of the Jackson fight last Friday.

AF Drops Bid for Funds to Build Jet Base in State

WASHINGTON (U)—The Air Force has dropped a request for money to build a controversial jet fighter base in Michigan.

Maj. Gen. Lee B. Washburn testified the Air Force still needs the base, however, and still wants to build it in Kalamazoo County instead of Manistee County.

But most of $12 million dollars earmarked last year for a base has been spent on other projects, he said.

Col. John N. Ewbank said a jet interceptor base in the general area of Traverse City, Mich., is needed to "provide defense in depth to the metropolitan Chicago and Detroit areas" in event of an enemy air attack.

A dispute over the base site has blocked Air Force planners for more than two years.

He is a member of the Pontiac Police and Fire Trial Board, St. Vincent Catholic Church, Elks, Kiwanis, and the Scholarship Committee of the Urban League Guild. He is also vice president of YMCA "Camp Mahn-Go-Tah-See."

Expect Attempt to Halt Rezoning

Residents of Anderson's Western Addition subdivision on the city's southwest side are expected to put in their last bid tonight before the City Commission to block a proposed rezoning in their area.

The rezoning is but one of the many items on a lengthy 36-point agenda facing the commissioners at their weekly meeting. It is scheduled to begin at 8.

The residents, who have appeared twice before the commission, seek to stop a City Plan Commission and City Commission approved rezoning to Residential 3 of five lots of the addition.

They are opposed to the rezoning, as it would allow construction of a multiple-dwelling apartment building which, they claim, would lower the value of their property.

A report from the City Plan Commission approving the rezoning will precede a public hearing on the matter.

Similar opposition to rezoning of Commercial 1 part of lots 62-66 of the Hillside Manor Subdivision and lots 8-9 of Elkins Subdivision are up for adoption following public hearings set for tonight's session.

The commissioners are expected to pass a resolution setting next week's meeting for Monday, June 18 instead of Tuesday. This will allow for sale of $2,000,000 worth of bonds for the Pontiac General Hospital addition.

Supreme Court Rules on 'Risks'

Gives Attorney General Power on Deportation; Clarifies Federal Jobs

WASHINGTON (U)—The Supreme Court has adjourned for the summer after ruling 5-4 that the Attorney General may properly weigh data from secret informants in deciding whether to suspend a deportation order.

The dissenters used such words as "un-American" and a "strange case in a country dedicated by its founders to the maintenance of liberty under law."

In another major decision just before winding up its 1935-36 term, the court ruled 6-3 that federal employers holding jobs which are not sensitive and do not involve policy making may not be fired primarily on security grounds.

Justice Clark protested for the minority that the decision "might leave the government honey-combed with subversives." He was joined by Justices Reed and Minton.

There was no estimate from the government as to what proportion of federal workers might be affected.

At any rate, the decision seemed likely to require a considerable revision of the security program, designed to keep off the payroll those who are disloyal or who are poor security risks because, for example, they gossip or drink too much.

She'll Sell Killarney Lakes

Shure, the Shame of It Brings Tears to Me Eyes

KENMARE, County Kerry, Ireland (U)—Tis a hard thing to have to tell, but Missus Beatrice Grosvenor confirmed today she wants to sell Killarney.

There'll be tears in the beers of the Boston Irish and keening by tenors in Timbuctu but, says Mrs. Grosvenor, what must be must be.

The British tax man wants 70,000 pounds ($196,000) inheritance duty on the family estate.

She hates to do it, but the 40-year-old Mrs. Grosvenor has had to put the famous Irish beauty spot on the block to raise the money.

Her Kenmare estate embraces all of the Killarney lakes, three picturesque mountain-ringed bodies of water in central County Kerry. Mrs. Grosvenor said she will have to sell 8,300 acres, including the vast, 18-bedroom Kenmare House, the country seat of her late grandfather, the Earl of Kenmare.

The mistress of Killarney said she hopes to receive an offer for the property from the Irish government or perhaps "from a wealthy American of Irish descent."

She didn't mention a price — but that tax figure gives some indication.

The Killarney Tourist Development Co. promptly announced it will bid for the scenic area.

Hazel Park Youths Begin Life Terms

Three Hazel Park youths will begin life sentences today in the Ohio Penitentiary in Columbus for the hold-up killing of an Ohio tavernkeeper Jan. 24.

The trio, Bernard Harris, 18, Willie Thomas, 20, and James Thornton, 18, had been sentenced to serve their terms in the Mansfield Reformatory by Common Pleas Judge Jacob T. Koenig.

Sheriff Robert Davidson of Auglaize County found out that under Ohio law the reformatory could not accept the youths.

New commitment papers were drawn up yesterday and signed by the new county clerk of courts, Cade Schulenberg. Transfer of the three had been delayed previously when the former clerk died.

Escape Horrid Death

PORT TALBOT, Wales (U)—John James and David Burns were rescued alive today after being buried up to their necks for more than nine hours by sliding iron ore. Hundreds of tons of rock imprisoned the two workers in a blast furnace bunker. They were finally lifted out and taken on stretchers to a hospital.

The Soviet group was invited to America by the National Council of Churches. A delegation from the council visited Russia in March.

The Russians flew in from Washington yesterday and visited Trinity Church in lower Manhattan for the regular noon service.

In the evening the Russians were entertained at the Rainbow Room in Rockefeller Center, and attended a stage show.

Self-Taught Violinist 'Disturbs the Peace'

OKLAHOMA CITY (U)—While Felix Czajkowski fiddled, his neighbors burned.

In fact, tempers got so hot, the Oklahoma City man was hauled into court on a disturbance charge. One neighbor testified she didn't believe Czajkowski knew one note from another and that he screamed on his violin "constantly."

Another claimed he played the fiddle "from early afternoon and sometimes all night long and danced and jumped on the floor."

Czajkowski told Police Judge Mike Foster:

"I'm a country-style violinist. I've never had any instructions on the violin."

Judge Foster fined the 42-year-old Czajkowski $7 for disturbing the peace.

Aziz Haisha Murder Trial Outburst Brings Warning

DETROIT (U)—Under a stern warning against further outbursts, the Haisha murder trial moved into its fifth day today.

During yesterday's session Maurice Hamilton, 20, one of the defendants, interrupted the proceedings when he jumped to his feet and shouted that a prosecution witness on the stand at the time was the actual killer.

Hamilton and Mrs. Victoria Hermiz, about 30, are charged with first degree murder in the slaying of her husband, Aziz Hermiz Haisha, 38. Haisha was stabbed to death as he lay in bed the night of Feb. 9.

The principals in the case are members of Detroit's small Iraqi colony.

The man Hamilton accused of the killing is Azzawi Haisha. He is Mrs. Hermiz' brother and a second cousin of the victim.

LEAPS TO FEET

When Azzawi took the stand to tell of identifying the body, Hamilton rushed toward the bench, shaking his fist at the witness, he declared:

"Ladies and gentlemen, this guy killed Aziz Hermiz. I know. I was there."

Georgia Bank Robber Flees in Hail of Bullets

STOCKBRIDGE, Ga. (U)—A wide search was in progress today for a bandit who tried to rob the Citizens Bank of Stockbridge yesterday and was driven off by the blazing pistols of the bank president and his wife.

The robber apparently was wounded before he escaped in a car from this town about 25 miles southeast of Atlanta.

Mrs. Charles T. Loder, 45-year-old cashier and wife of the bank president, said the man looked very much like the gunman who robbed the bank of $4,500 May 4, 1935, and never was captured. "I shot four times," she said. Loder, 46, said he fired at the man five times.

Name the Tune! Saginaw Family Will Know It

SAGINAW (U)—Name a tune, any tune, and chances are someone in the John Hedrich family can pick up a musical instrument and play it.

All seven Hedrichs, from 8-year-old Jimmy up to mother and father, are musicians. They play drums, violin, French horn, guitar, accordion, banjo and mandolin.

Musical music all day long with everyone practicing a different tune sometimes gets on mother Hedrich's nerves.

"I've had to leave the house because I couldn't stand it," she says. "But I knew if I stopped them they'd lose their interest so I never did."

Egypt Said to Acquire Warships From Red Bloc

CAIRO, Egypt (U)—Egypt is believed to have added ships to the planes and other arms she has received from the Communist bloc.

A brief official statement said "new units for the Egyptian navy arrived in Alexandria harbor to reinforce the Egyptian navy." It did not give the number, type or origin of the units.

It was recalled here, however, that dispatches from London more than a week ago reported two destroyers flying the Polish ensign had passed through the English Channel. British newspapers speculated then that the vessels were included in the Soviet bloc arms deal with Egypt.

Hills Vote Okays Sale; Incumbent to Stay

BLOOMFIELD HILLS (U)—With only 34 voting of the Bloomfield Hills 3,500 registered voters, the unopposed school board incumbent, David W. Lee, kept his post, and permission to sell Pine Lake School was granted.

Pine Lake School has served its area from 60 to 70 years, but now houses an Episcopal mission. Sale might be to the congregation for a church and later a recreation hall, or to a Pine Lake organization for a recreation center.

Solon 'Shocked' at Airport Aid

Rep. Meader Hits CAA on Big Detroit Share, None to Willow Run

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Meader (R-Mich.) said today that he is "shocked" that the Civil Aeronautics Administration has allotted another million dollars to Detroit-Wayne Major Airport.

"I am at a loss to understand," he said, "how the CAA can continue squandering money on Wayne Major Airport in the face of the airlines' refusal to use it."

The CAA yesterday earmarked $1,998,750 for construction work at 23 Michigan airports. Wayne Major gets an even million for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Meader said Wayne Major received $975,000 in federal money in February. Now, he declared, it again "gets the lion's share of Michigan airport aid money while Willow Run airport, currently used by the air carriers serving Detroit, receives no allocations at all."

Nine of the 10 airlines now using Willow Run for their Detroit terminal have rejected a government panel's recommendation that they move to Wayne Major, leaving Willow Run for military aircraft.

American Airlines has indicated a willingness to make the move.

Willow Run, site of a World War II bomber plant, is owned by the University of Michigan.

Meader said he is sure that a house government operations subcommittee which opens hearings on the federal airport aid program on June 25 "will thoroughly explore the CAA's reasoning on this and other phases" of the program.

Windsor Merchants Charge U.S. Money

WINDSOR (AP) — After dropping the practice for almost six months, Windsor stores have again begun to charge discounts on American funds.

Two of the three big food chains in the city said today they were now charging one cent on the dollar for American currency, but were not worrying about small change.

It is expected, as in the past, that other stores will follow suit. This is the first time such exchange has been charged, generally, since the American and Canadian dollars reached par in mid-October, 1955.

Aged Pensioner Caught Making Counterfeit Bills

DETROIT (AP) — Social Security and old age assistance payments were not enough to furnish 71-year-old Paul Eifert with what he considered a fair standard of living, so he began turning out homemade $10 bills.

Eifert's 82-year-old partner Paul Carro was put on probation for one year. He was arrested May 8 and accused of passing a bogus $10 bill at Ft. Miami race track in Toledo, Ohio.

New Patterns, Styles, Fabrics

Gay Sports Shirts Sure to Please Dad

This is the year when the whole family can go to town on sports shirts for Dad.

Never before has there been such a wide variety of colors, fabrics and styles from which to choose; and never before have designers spent so much time, thought and travel on sports shirt styling.

The trend this year is strictly international. You'll find both Oriental and continental influences in the current shirt lineup, as well as patterns and colors inspired by the South Seas, the Caribbean islands, India and Hawaii.

With the lazy days of summer here, what better Father's Day gift could a thoughtful family provide than a colorful wardrobe of new miracle fibers used in the smart, cool leisure shirts to encourage Dad to relax and enjoy life?

Once he has tried the new styles, it's a pretty safe bet that he will enjoy wearing them and will secretly admire the dashing look they give him.

He'll realize that the new Italian styling emphasizing width of shoulder and open collar makes him look more broad-shouldered and athletic.

He'll appreciate the smooth feel of the fine Egyptian cottons, the featherweight wool blends and the new miracle fibers used in the fabrics, even though he may not understand all their finer points of spot and wrinkle resistance and easy washability.

If Junior wants to make Dad proud as a peacock, he can do it by saving his pennies to buy matching sports shirts for himself and Dad.

This kind of gift carries with it an implicit compliment, indicating a boy's desire to look like his father—and nothing could be guaranteed better to make any Dad throw out his chest and glow with pride.

Darkness Leads Her to the Light

By ANNE HEYWOOD

William James said, "Compared to what we ought to be, we are only half-awake. We are making use of only a small part of our physical and mental resources. Stating the thing broadly, the human individual thus lives far within his limits. He possesses powers of various sorts which he habitually fails to use."

I think of this whenever I visit Mrs. B.

Mrs. B. is a woman in her early 50's, with a full and exciting life. She seems to accomplish about four times what the average woman attempts to do.

Mrs. B. has a successful career, a rich home life with her husband and visiting grandchildren, and more friends than anyone I know. She takes on the volunteer jobs that nobody else will touch and helps young people along with a vigor that is almost incredible.

HOW SHE DOES IT

What is her secret?

Mrs. B. had a three-year period of blindness, when she was in her early 30s. She was in an accident, and lost her eyesight.

The injury was thought to be permanent, so she made the heartbreaking adjustment to a world of darkness.

"I learned then," Mrs. B. told me, "how many more strengths and faculties we have than we ever use."

MR. and MRS. FOSTER R. GIBSON

Couple Exchanges Vows in St. Benedict Ceremony

A ballerina-length gown of lace and tulle was worn by Norma Joan Lowe for her marriage Saturday in St. Benedict Church to Foster R. Gibson.

The lace bodice was styled with a basque waistline, long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists and a mandarin collar. The bouffant skirt was composed of tiers of nylon tulle over slipper satin.

She wore an imported handmade headpiece of seed pearls and orange blossoms which held a fingertip veil of silk illusion.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lowe of Saint John, New Brunswick, Canada. The bridegroom, of South Francis street, is the son of the John Gibsons of Beaver Creek, Minn.

Mary T. Murphy of Lower Lappan, New Brunswick, served as honor attendant. Her other attendant was Mrs. Otis Caswell. They wore gowns of Nile green crystal-ette with square necklines and small cap sleeves. Their bouffant skirts were worn over hoops.

Earl D. Gibson of Beaver Creek, Minn., was best man. Ushers were Leon E. Verwey Jr. and Roger J. Reid.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lowe wore a flowered coral "Without sight, I had to use all my other faculties just to survive. I began to be able to call on abilities I never dreamed I had."

After three years, a new operative technique was tried, with the slim chance that it might restore her sight. Mrs. B., having nothing to lose, went through a series of eye operations.

A NEW WORLD
"And they were successful," she told me, "leaving me with moderately good vision. It was like discovering a new world."

"But, by that time, I was in the habit of using all my resources. That habit stayed with me and has enriched my life beyond belief."

Mrs. B. is an example of what we could all be if we would honestly dig deep and use our mental and physical faculties to the hilt.

The next time you feel that something is too difficult, too far beyond you, don't let it go at that.

Give it a try and you'll find that you can accomplish far, far more than you have ever believed.

THE BEST of DAMON RUNYON

Big Boy Blues

By DAMON RUNYON

Evidence that Joe and Ethel Turp, whom you meet in this and several other selections in this series, were perhaps Damon Runyon's favorite characters, next to My Old Man, is that he made the Turps the principals in a long series of his daily columns and in his weekly contributions to Pictorial Review.

He endows the Turps with the traits of which he wrote with sentiment in his earliest fiction. They obviously were folks whom he cherished, as he did My Old Man.

Brooklyn

Dear Sir:
The other night my wife Ethel was reading the evening paper and she ses strike, strike, strike. That is all you can read nowadays. Strike, strike, strike, strike. Everybody is on a strike. I don't know what the world is coming to.

I ses well, don't worry, beautiful. I ses the world always comes out all right and Ethel's moms who was sitting there sewing ses out of a clear sky, I was on a strike once. Ethel's pops got up and ses I think I'll go down to Schultz's for a beer before I turn in. Ethel's moms ses he doesn't like to hear this story. Don't stay too late, pops.

Ethel ses, why moms, I never knew you worked at anything besides keeping house for pops and her moms ses Oh, I did a few things besides that. I worked quite a little before I got married and Ethel ses what union did you belong to? Her moms ses I didn't belong to any union. Ethel ses then how could you go on a strike?

AGAINST COOKING FOR POP

Moms ses I went on a strike against cooking for your pops and that didn't call for any union. I found out he played a kind of trick on me and while it was years ago before you was even born I haven't got over it to this day. But whenever I bring it up, your pops thinks of an excuse to leave the house like he did just now.

I ses I should think he would, moms. I ses a subject can get a little tiresome after it has been used for years but why did the cooking for pops cause you to strike? I ses you are the greatest cook I ever saw in my life and Ethel would be second best if she would only concentrate. Ethel ses I hate cooking. Her moms ses daughter, you keep hating it and never mind what Joe ses about concentrating.

She ses I hated cooking, too, and the only reason I did it when I first married your pops was because we was very poor and could not hire anyone to do it or go out to meals. Your pops loved my cooking and he was always telling me that it was almost as good as his sister Martha's cooking. She was married to a police inspector over in the Bronx and I never saw her very often but your pops was always telling me what a wonderful cook she was and how her cooking was probably responsible for her husband's success.

SURELY A DEAD HEAT

Moms ses your pops talked

Moms ses it really was quite a job cooking for Pops because he was such a heavy feeder.

about Martha's cooking so much that I was very jealous of her and I made a regular study of cooking. I almost lived in the kitchen because I wanted to become a better cook than Martha. After your pops commenced to do very well he would sometimes take me to a restaurant for a meal but he always criticized the food and told me it couldn't compare with my cooking and of course that made me feel nice.

Once in a while I would ask him if I wasn't getting better than Martha and one day he ses maybe I wasn't getting better but that it was surely a dead heat and that pleased me so much I forgot about suggesting that we could afford to hire a woman to come in and help me with the cooking because it had really become quite a job as your pops was quite a heavy feeder.

Then one day when your pops was at work his sister Martha came to this very house to see me and she was really a fine-looking woman with a big hat and a nice fur coat and when I told her your pops ses I was a tie with her on cooking she looked at me in a funny way and ses I can't cook a lick. I can't even boil water. I never cooked a meal in my whole life and I hope I never have to start.

Moms ses that is when I went on a strike because I could see that your pops had made up a story to keep me steaming in that hot kitchen learning to cook and I guess I would be on a strike to this day only after about a week of going to restaurants for meals I couldn't stand their cooking any longer.

Yours truly,
JOE TURP.

Tractors Fail to Supplant Use of Camels

ROME (AP)—Tractors are replacing horses on farms all over the world but camels are more than holding their own in Asia and Africa, the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization reports.

There are now 7,100,000 tractors in the world, exclusive of Russia, which did not provide any figures. The number of tractors is increasing at the rate of nearly 500,000 yearly, FAO said.
The number of horses dropped to 59,100,000 by 1954 from a pre-war figure of 74,700,000 — again exclusive of Russia. But camels, used as pack and draft animals in Asia and Africa, increased 24 per cent there over pre-war to a total of 9,700,000.

The common cold is more frequent among women than among men.

There were 10 deaths for every billion passenger miles of domestic scheduled airline operation in 1955.

'New' Betty Hutton Goes for Money Instead of Art

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Betty Hutton is making her first picture in four years, and others should do as well on their film returns.

During her heyday at Paramount, the blonde bombshell did two or three pictures a year on a flat salary of $5,000 a week. Now she's costarring with Dana Andrews in "Spring Reunion" at $100,000 plus 20 per cent of the gross. The salary alone comes to around $20,000 a week.

"Not bad for a comeback," she laughed between takes.

DIFFERENT BETTY

It's a different Betty you see these days. No more the frantic confessions, the tension on the set. She's smooth, easy-going and sure of herself.

"For one thing, I know what I'm doing," she explained. "We had two weeks of rehearsals with Dana, the director, Bob Pirosh, and with the camera crew. We went over the scenes thoroughly so we come to work knowing what we're going to shoot."

"That never happened at Paramount. I'd come to the studio and walk right into some guy's arms. After four or five love scenes, I'd say to him, 'By the way, my name's Betty Hutton.'"

ANOTHER REASON

There's another reason for the change in Betty's attitude. She has a different approach to her work. "This time I'm going for the money," she said frankly. "Nuts to art: I've had my share of that."

She said that her husband Alan Livingston, former Capital Records biggie and now a top man with NBC, convinced her to change. This came after her much-publicized retirement.

"You can't quit this way," he told her. "You think you've been licked. You'll never be happy until you realize you aren't licked. Try it again, but this time go for commercial success. Then you can quit after two or three years and be contented."

Takes Broken Leg to Stop Bob Dawson's Title Quest

It took a broken leg to shelve one of the area's most rugged golfing individualists, and stymie his hopes for a "sweep" of the Michigan Seniors, the Western Seniors and the National Seniors events.

R. J. (Bob) Dawson got off to a bad start when he was forced to quit the Michigan Seniors tourney at Black River, Port Huron a week ago. Bob played only six holes when his left leg gave way under him.

Examination revealed a broken leg.

Story of the break, which has kept Dawson on the sidelines for the nationals this week in New York, started away back in the early spring. It may keep him out of the Western at Indianapolis on June 21-22.

Bob wasn't too happy about it. "Look, I had hopes this year of making the grand slam, but I guess it's out now. And I didn't know I had a broken leg, even though I had played some golf before coming home from Florida."

Way it happened, Bob says, was all the fault of one of those powered golf carts that many golfers are using these days. Dawson was backing his cart into the garage at St. Petersburg, Fla., when he apparently hit the wrong lever. The cart hit a wall, bounced back, Bob felt a jolt on his left leg. He treated the bump as a bruise.

"I was going all right at Port Huron when the leg caved in," Bob says. Now he hopes it will heal so he can at least try the Western event. "I don't like to be fenced in," he remarked after mentioning the injured leg was not in a cast.

Bob will be 75 July 25. He is a former Western champ in his age class, winning at Chicago five years ago.

Fading Braves in 2nd Division

Conley's Failure Goes Along With Trouble at the Plate.

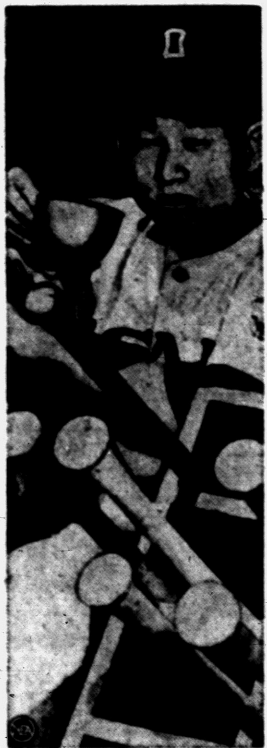

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves, who lost their home-hitting ability when they came home June 1, left first place a week ago and hit the second division last night after losing to last-place Philadelphia 6-2.

Accompanying the Braves' batting troubles has been the failure of lanky righthander Gene Conley, whose return from the sick list was supposed to give Milwaukee a cast-iron pitching staff.

Since the first of June, Conley lost to Pittsburgh 4-2, bowed to Brooklyn 5-2, and was charged with last night's defeat.

Last night Conley gave up only 1 hit and faced only 12 batters in the first 4 innings, then fell apart in the fifth. He retired from the game in the next inning after allowing another double and a single.

Masters golf champion Jack Burke has averaged 71.15 strokes per 18 holes for his first 39 rounds in 1956.

Good Churches, Grid Teams Built on Same Plans

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—University of Oklahoma football coach Bud Wilkinson told a church group here yesterday "There's no NCAA to stop the proselytizing of Christians." Wilkinson apparently was referring to a National Collegiate Athletic Association crackdown on pay for college athletes.

The successful mentor spoke to about 300 members of the Oklahoma Episcopal churches "Building for Christ" organization.

"Good football teams are built by good personnel, confidence in the coaching staff, and the will to succeed. The same three things will build anything else, including the church," Wilkinson said.

Overlaps in Schedules for Coast's 1957 Racing

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The California horse racing board has approved 1957 racing dates with several overlaps at the state's tracks. The schedule announced yesterday for thoroughbred racing: Santa Anita, Dec. 26, 1956, through March 11, 1957, 55 days; Bay Meadows, Feb. 22-May 11, 53 days; Hollywood Park, May 9, July 23, 55 days; Del Mar, July 24-Sept. 9, 41 days; Tanforan, Sept. 9-Oct. 26, 42 days; Golden Gate, Oct. 28-Dec. 14, 42 days.

Bass Are Funny Fish

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP)—Sam Floca fished all afternoon at the Temple Country Club lake with no luck. At dusk he gave up and started rowing across the lake to the dock.

Floca heard a sudden splash and a thump. He turned around to find a 3½-pound bass flopping around in the boat.

Corn, Soybeans Show Upswing

CHICAGO (AP)—New crop corn and soybeans were purchased on the Board of Trade today in view of the continued hot, dry weather in the Midwest.

Prices of these new crop futures were lifted a cent or more in moderately active dealings. Wheat tended down more as harvesting expanded under ideal weather conditions for this type of work. Oats and rye held steady.

Lakes Ore Shipments Reach Highest Point

CLEVELAND (AP)—Iron ore shipments on the Great Lakes for the week ended yesterday totaled 2,890,429 tons, the highest of any week during the 1956 navigation season, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Assn. reported.

The shipments brought the 1956 total to 22,661,738 tons, which exceeds last year's tonnage at this date by 3,063,702 tons.

If the present rate of shipments is maintained, tonnage this year will top the 27,450,000 tons hauled last year and may come close to equalling the all-time high of almost 96 million tons set in 1953.

Security for You Preparing Retirement? Then Make Plans Ahead

"Retirement occurs in two stages for most of us: We retire in our 40s from our first job—raising a family. We retire in our 60s from our paying job."

With that, a friend who has been working with the problems of retirement for years launched into his pet theory.

How does he suggest that the planning be done? For him, that's an easy question. He compares the problem of the people in their late 40's to that of the veteran baseball pitcher. The pitcher "pitches with his head" after he loses his speed. He develops control and smartness. The aging person should develop new interests and new friends, set his sights on new horizons.
