Indict Detroiters in International Narcotics Ring

3 Ex-Policemen Among
62 Named in New York
$20 Million Conspiracy

DETROIT (AP)—Three former Detroit policemen have been named as co-conspirators but not defendants in connection with a multi-million dollar dope ring.

The ring was reported smashed at New York yesterday when federal indictments naming 62 persons—46 defendants and 16 co-conspirators—were opened.

Federal officials said the ring smuggled up to 20 million dollars worth of narcotics into this country annually for the past seven years.

The Detroit men, who have served prison terms on narcotics charges, are Clarence E. Wilson, Henry Marzette and Williams Frank. They and nine New York men were convicted in 1956 when the Detroit segment of the ring was crushed by Detroit police and federal agents.

The fact that the three were named co-conspirators and not defendants led to speculation that they may have assisted authorities in securing indictments against the others.

Frank and Marzette were members of the Detroit Police Narcotics Bureau when they were caught. Williams, who was taken at the same time, had left the department a few years earlier.

Authorities said the men worked with three candy store operators who sold narcotics to patrons.

LEADER TO SURRENDER
In New York Harry Stromberg, alleged mastermind of the ring, promises to surrender today to federal authorities.

U. S. Atty. Paul W. Williams said last night that an attorney for the Russian born, 54-year-old Stromberg, alias Nig Rosen, arranged for surrender in Williams' office.

The indictment was returned Aug. 27, but kept sealed for eight days to permit arrests.

The indictment, unsealed before U.S. District Judge Edward Weinfeld, charges the syndicate smuggled about 50 pounds of heroin—plus large amounts of cocaine and opium—each month from France and other countries.

OPERATING SINCE 1950

Williams said the ring began operating in 1950 and has been under investigation for four years. He said the probe leading to the indictment involved U. S. agents and police in France, Britain, Italy, Belgium, Germany, Turkey, Cuba, Mexico, Venezuela and Canada.

Arms Talks as Good as Over

West, Russian Deadlock
on Who Will Take Lead
in Ending Negotiations

LONDON (AP)—The five-power London disarmament talks apparently were as good as over today with the usual lack of agreement. The West and the Russians were even deadlocked over who would take the initiative in ending negotiations.

Another meeting of the U. N. disarmament subcommittee was scheduled today despite the latest Soviet assertion that there was "no room for further discussion" of Western proposals.

That Soviet view was put forward last night at a Russian Embassy news briefing shortly after Valerian Zorin, the Soviet disarmament delegate, again told the subcommittee the Western proposals were not acceptable.

A Soviet spokesman told reporters there was no basis for negotiation in the package plan presented last week by the United States, Britain, France and Canada, the subcommittee's four Western members.

The Russians still demand an immediate and unconditional ban on atomic tests and the use of atomic weapons, the latter the West's only counter to the numerically superior Communist armies.

Zorin complained that the Western proposal for a two-year halt to nuclear weapon tests is "tied up in a maze of conditions which rob it of its essential value."

Ike on Vacation Eyes Explosive Integration Issue

Wire Asks Halt to FBI
'Interference' in School
Crisis at Little Rock

NEWPORT, R. I. (INS)—Vacationing President Eisenhower kept a watchful eye today on the explosive potentialities of Little Rock's school integration crisis.

The chief executive was expected to confer early with Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. on the next government move in face of continuing defiance of a court order to integrate the schools.

Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus urged Eisenhower, in a telegram last night, to stop "unwarranted interference" in the controversy by FBI agents, ordered by Brownell to investigate the situation.

Eisenhower's headquarters said today it is "not correct" that federal authorities have discussed the possibility of taking Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas into custody in the Little Rock school integration case.

"That rumor is not correct," said White House press secretary James C. Hagerty in commenting on a telegram Faubus sent to the President last night.

Hagerty also said there is no truth to what he called another report "to the effect that U.S. marshals or their deputies have been ordered to escort Negro children to school" in Little Rock.

CLOUDS VACATION

The tense situation in the Arkansas capital cast a shadow over the start of Eisenhower's long-delayed vacation and served to dramatize once again that the President of the United States never can take a complete holiday from the cares of office.

The chief executive planned to get in the first round of golf of his day-old vacation this morning after signing another batch of the bills dumped on his desk when Congress adjourned.

There are only about 35 legislative actions still awaiting Eisenhower's signature, but included are three major bills—civil rights, immigration and the pay boost for postal workers and classified federal employees.

The Eisenhowers settled down in a comfortable old 12-room house on Coasters Island in Narragansett Bay yesterday for an expected stay of at least a month.

The first lady hopes to explore some of the historic shrines around Newport in the next week or so while her husband sharpens his golfing game at the Newport Country Club.

Eisenhower planned to play this morning in a foursome including his new secretary, James C. Hagerty; Howard Cushing, president of the country club; and Norman Palmer, the club pro.

DETROIT (AP)—A 17-year-old strawberry blonde from Detroit has been crowned Miss Michigan State Fair of 1957 by Gov. Williams. Carol Joyce Conley, a high school senior, was selected from 39 other girls last night for the honor. Miss Conley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Conley, stands 5 feet, 4 inches tall, weighs 112 pounds and measures 35-23-35.

Sleeping Late Is Outlawed Until Next June

Shoots Himself, Dies in Hospital

Held Woman Physician

in Her Office

DETROIT (AP)—The former husband of a Detroit woman physician died yesterday of gunshot wounds in what police said was a suicide after he terrorized and shot his ex-wife.

Sym Bloch, 50, head of a Detroit commercial publishing company, died of a wound in the right temple. Doctor Sadie Thumlin, 55, divorced from Bloch two years ago, was shot in the right hip.

Police said Dr. Thumlin told them Bloch held her captive for 10 hours at her office yesterday and quoted Bloch as having told her "I'm going to kill myself."

Dr. Thumlin said "I tried everything I could think of to delay and talk him out of it, but it didn't work."

Det. Harry Galloway said police scientific tests showed definitely that Bloch fired the gun.

Senior Citizens Honored Today at State Fair

DETROIT (AP)—The state's older residents were the guests of honor today at the 108th annual Michigan State Fair.

The day was officially titled "Old Timer's Day" and the older folks attending were the special objects of attention as well as awards.

Special awards went to the oldest married couple, the oldest man and woman, the man with the longest mustache and the woman with the prettiest hat.

A 1,025-pound Aberdeen Angus steer owned by Michigan State University was auctioned off yesterday by the governor and drew the top dollar of $2.45 a pound.

A 100-pound grand champion Hampshire lamb owned by Michigan State University was sold for $1.65 a pound.

Arkansas Troops Trying to Stop Press Interviews

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Armed National Guardsmen called out to prevent integration at Central High School today tried to break up a New York newspaperman's interview with persons in a shouting, turbulent segregationist crowd.

It was the third morning that hundreds of whites had appeared in front of the school in apparent support of Gov. Orval Faubus' conflict with a federal court order to integrate the 2,000-pupil white school immediately.

None of the nine Negroes, who were turned away by the cold steel of Guardsmen yesterday, showed up this morning.

ESCORT NEGROES
Six Negroes, identifying themselves as Arkansas Baptist College students, were escorted from the school area. They said they came to the school to see what was happening.

A guard officer told them, "It'll be best if you turn around and walk the other way."

The Negroes complied.

U. N. Health Group Says:

Fluoridation Halts Decay

GENEVA (AP)—A report by the World Health Organization says only fluoridating of drinking water can halt tooth decay on a large scale.

The report declared the "effectiveness, safety and practicality of fluoridation as a means of preventing dental caries (cavities) is now established."

The report was based on a survey of fluoridation programs in 17 countries, some of them in progress more than 12 years.

The survey showed the "prevalence of dental caries in permanent teeth of children decreased some 60 per cent," the report said.

Peak Enrollment Expected in City and Waterford

Pontiac, Township Have Added 161 Teachers
as Classes Begin

A freckled-faced red-haired boy with freshly scrubbed elbows and his little neighbor, a cute girl with neatly braided pigtails skipped along the street this morning on their way to prepare themselves to face the world.

They were two of more than 31,200 youngsters from 5 to 18 years expected to quench their thirst for knowledge during the 1957-1958 school year in the public and parochial schools of Pontiac and Waterford Township.

Classes for all Pontiac public schools except kindergarten officially began today.

Approximately 2,000 kindergartners will register today and tomorrow.

Pontiac public schools are expecting an increase of more than 450 students over last year which should bring the total to 18,900. Waterford also anticipates an increase of 300, which would mean 18,300 students will attend the township schools.

The people who make hard things easier—the teachers will total at least 1,160, according to school officials.

Ex-Area Man in Plane Crash

Air Force Transport
Lands Short at Field,
Bursts Into Flames

A former Ferndale man and eight other Air Force crewmen escaped death when their Globemaster transport crashed and burned while landing at an airport near Binghamton, N. Y. last night.

Capt. William Sneed, 36, the co-pilot, is the son of Mrs. Marie A. Spencer, of 113 S. Maple Ave., Royal Oak. Stationed at Larson Air Force Base, Washington, Sneed suffered face, body and head lacerations and was reported in fair condition.

He reported to the Air Force how the transport, flying from Larson AFB, landed short at Broome County Airport, broke up and burst into flames.

Five aboard the plane, including Sneed, got out of the wreckage themselves. The other four were pulled out by an airport crew.

Married and with two children, the co-pilot telephoned his wife after the accident, saying he luckily was "the least hurt of the crew," his mother said.

Sneed is a native of Ferndale. He lived with his mother at 931 W. Lewiston and graduated from Lincoln High School.

He has been in the Air Force since his original enlistment in 1942. He saw combat in Europe during World War II.

Mrs. Spencer is the wife of a Detroit radio station engineer.

Waterford Resident Feared Drowned

A 39-year-old Waterford Township man is one of two fishermen feared drowned on Ogontz Bay near Escanaba.

Earl Bishop, 58, of Ishpeming, and his son-in-law, Arthur McHenry, of 6547 Saine Rd., were last seen yesterday morning when they left Indian Point near Escanaba.

Their 14-foot boat was found empty on the shore of St. Vital's island, four miles off Indian Point. Sheriff's deputies and Conservation Department men launched a sea search. Ogontz Bay is part of Big Bay de Noc.

Wilson Agency Bought by GMT

Truck Outlet at Cass and Oakland Will Be Factory Branch

Establishment of a GMC Truck retail branch in Pontiac succeeding the Wilson GMC Company at 675 Oakland Ave., was announced today by R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager for the GMC Truck & Coach Division.

Manager of the new Pontiac retail branch is Stanley R. Turner, former national used truck manager for the division.

Purchase of the Wilson truck agency, one of the most modern in the nation for GMC trucks, was made by GMT Truck & Coach when Wilson decided to devote his time to other business enterprises that needed his full attention.

Although the entire sales and service staff will remain under the new ownership, Fred Walker, agency manager and co-owner, is retiring from truck sales activity to enter other private business.

Located at Cass and Oakland avenues, the agency facilities include 16 truck service stalls, a mono-rail conveyor for lifting bulky truck parts to a balcony storage area, and a huge parts department.

STANLEY R. TURNER

Two 50-foot-wide cement driveways provide easy access to the building from both avenues.

A huge lubrication pit 50 feet long can accommodate, at one time, one 45-foot tractor-trailer combination, two medium sized trucks or three small trucks and is one of the most modern truck servicing features in the state.

One of the servicing advantages is a dust-free room for repairing Diesel injectors, and also carburetor repair.

What are the "horse latitude" belts? Where are they and what weather characteristics do sailors know them by?

The horse latitudes, as sailors have termed them from ancient days, lie between the broad areas of prevailing westerly winds and the trade winds. That is, they are found at about thirty degrees north and thirty degrees south of the equator.

The weather at this latitude, and some distance above and below the thirty degree mark, is almost always calm. It was poor weather for sailing vessels in the old days.

One theory is that air which has risen and dried out at the equator settles here—both thirty degrees north and south of the equator. The trade winds are found between the horse latitudes and the equator and come from the east. The prevailing westerly winds begin where the horse latitudes end, and extend toward the poles to about latitude 60 degrees.

American Airmen Praise Sleek Soviet Jet Airliner

McGUIRE AIR FORCE BASE, N. J. (INS) — American airmen today highly praised the sleek Soviet jet airliner which landed in New Jersey last night with 24 cases of vodka and employees of the Russian U. N. delegation.

The twin-jet TU104 touched down at McGuire Air Force Base at 9:43 p.m. (EST). The swift TU104, only type jet in commercial service anywhere, was the first Russian plane to land on American soil since World War II.

The craft made the 5,570-mile flight from Moscow in 13 hours and a few minutes air time. The total time, with fueling stops in in Pontiac and 78 in Waterford have been signed. An increase of 13 teachers in Pontiac brings the total to 742. Waterford now has 375.

Waterford junior and senior high school students began classes today. Township elementary students registered today and will officially start school tomorrow.

Two new elementary schools, located at 400 W. Kennett Rd., and 510 Bay St., will soon be ready for business.

The opening of the Kennett road school, which will accommodate more than 300 children, delayed by a slow-up in sewer and water line connections to the school, has been set tentatively for Monday.

The fortunate students who will attend a brand new $438,500 school in the Herrington Hills subdivision will have to wait until early October before they can move in. They will attend Willis and Mark Twain Schools temporarily beginning today until the new school, which will hold 360 students, is ready for occupation.

Two new primary institutions of learning will be ready for business in Waterford tomorrow. The new elementary schools are the Henry R. Schoolcraft School, on Maceady Lake drive near Williams Lake road, and the William Beaumont School on Elizabeth Lake road near Lockhaven road.

Another $2 million junior high school is under construction on Hatchery Road near Crescent Lake road, and should be ready for operation by next September according to William Shunk, superintendent of Waterford schools.

Pontiac's Central, McCarroll, Lebaron and Emerson elementary schools will have cafeterias in the multi-purposes rooms this fall for the first time.

Students at the Hawthorne, Willis and Malkin schools in Pontiac are requested to bring their own lunches temporarily until the cafeterias in these schools are ready.

History was recorded today when Pontiac High School swung into a three-shift program for the first time.

Francis W. Staley, principal of the high school, today estimated there would be an increase of more than 400 high school students this year compared to last year.

The switch from the single shift operation was dictated by increased enrollment when more than 1,000 students will enter grade 10B.

The three shifts will be staggered one hour apart. Some students will start at 7:30 a.m. and leave at 2:30 p.m.; some 8:30 to 3:30; and others 9:30 to 4:30.

"By staggering the load, we will make additional rooms available," Staley added. Five more teachers have been added to the high school staff.

London, Iceland and Labrador, was 21 hours, 54 minutes.

U. S. defense personnel tracked the Soviet plane by radar on the last stages of its flight, a routine procedure for all planes entering the American Air Defense.

MET HEADWINDS

The plane battled strong headwinds most of the way and landed in a sprinkle of rain at McGuire. Another TU104, presumably bringing the head of the Soviet delegation to the forthcoming U. N. General Assembly, will arrive in this country next week.

Three American Air Force men boarded the TU104 at Goose Bay, Labrador, to help the Russian crew with U. S. flight rules and signals.

They were Capt. Harold G. Renegar, 33, of Keller, Texas; Capt. Boris N. Dubson, of San Francisco, and M. Sgt. Gaylor E. Robinson, 33, of Marietta, Ga. Renegar described the craft as "a fine airplane." He said he was particularly impressed with the interior. "It compares very favorably with interiors in our planes."

Dubson handled the radar on the Soviet craft. "It (the radar) was better in some ways and not so good in some other ways as ours," he said, adding, "It's a terrific airplane. There's no doubt about it."

Aircraft designer and builder Alexander P. DeSeversky looked at the Russian plane and declared, "At the moment, it's the best."

Seversky, a consultant of the U. S. Air Force, added: "We must admit they are ahead of us . . . at the moment. But it is interesting to know in the planning stage we have much better."

The plane swept in out of the darkness with engines slow but screaming. It taxied to the flood-lighted apron in front of the operations building where hundreds of newsmen and Air Force personnel were waiting.

On its silver side, in Russian, was the name Aeroflot, the Russian National Airline which operates the plane. And on its swept-back tail was painted a bright red flag embossed with a gold hammer, sickle and star.

First to step from the plane was Alexi Semenov, who identified himself as a representative of the Soviet Airline. He said: "Let this flight be the flight of peace . . . of the beginning of regular flights between the Soviet Union and the United States."

HUNGARIANS PICKET

Three Hungarian pickets stood outside the airport gates in protest against the Soviet action in Hungary last fall.

The Russians had asked to land at New York International Airport (Idlewild), protesting that McGuire, 78 miles from New York, was too far.

But the Port of New York Authority, which controls the civilian airports, said it could not break its rule concerning jet aircraft.

This provides that no jet can land at the commercial fields without first having undergone a noise-level test. A French jet was cleared for landing at Idlewild after extensive noise tests, but American and British planes have been turned down.

The Port Authority said it was willing to make the test on TU104 at its own expense. If the test is made and proves favorable, permission may be granted for the other TU104 to land at Idlewild and for the first one to move to the New York field.

Troops Interfere With Newsmen

you do anything that might be inciting a breach of the peace."

The crowd cheered lustily when Clinger, the state adjutant general, called the press conference.

The Guard was called out Monday night when U. S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies ordered Central High integrated. He repeated the order yesterday.

Up to 370 armed Guardsmen—under the command of Gov. Faubus and not federal military authorities—have remained on the campus since Monday.

In his telegram to the President last night, Faubus urged Eisenhower to take action that would halt the threat of "interference of federal agents" in the question of whether Negroes and whites shall attend classes together at the Little Rock high school.

He said also that he had reliable information that "federal authorities in Little Rock have this day been discussing plans to take into custody by force the head of a sovereign state."

As the governor's message was on its way to Eisenhower, Mayor Wepford Mann of Little Rock issued a statement accusing Faubus of "creating tensions where none existed" in calling out National Guardsmen to prevent integration.

The governor termed the situation "explosive."

He also told the President that he had information that federal agents might be planning to arrest him.

Faubus had defied the order of U. S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies for integration of nine Negroes among 2,000 white students at the high school. When the Negroes tried to get in yesterday morning, Guardsmen refused them admittance.

No federal agents took part in the incident.

One of the Negro students said the group would try again today. A small force of Guardsmen were placed around the governor's mansion yesterday and another group was stationed at the city's only other white high school—Hall High, which so far has had no Negro enrollments.

Faubus' telegram said he had reliable information that "federal authorities in Little Rock have this day been discussing plans to take into custody by force the head of a sovereign state."

Asked to comment on the telegram, U. S. Atty. Osro Cobb said he knew of "no such conference." Cobb also remarked about the wiretapping statement: "Such a belief is wholly unwarranted."

Faubus told Eisenhower that the situation in Little Rock was growing more critical because of "impending unwarranted interference of federal agents."

He told the President that if these "actions" continue, or if his executive authority as governor to maintain the peace was breached he could no longer be responsible for the results.

Faubus has pointed to other communities in Arkansas where schools have integrated peacefully. In these instances, he has noted, he did not interfere. He said the federal district judge acting in the Little Rock case did not understand the situation.

Maple-Bates Alley Issue Facing 2nd Long Study

BIRMINGHAM — Plans for the Maple-Bates alley took a nosedive this week and the situation is now just about where it was when the issue came up.

The resolution approving the necessity has been rescinded and the alley now faces another extensive period of study.

It was approved by Commissioners in spite of a majority of property owners' objections. Officials felt that even though there are some undesirable aspects, the alley was justified as a traffic relief feature for Maple avenue.

Currently, a study has shown that the S. S. Kresge Building can, with minor changes, make use of the alley. Their lack of participation has been one of the sore spots with other property owners who felt the cost would be greatly reduced with the company's inclusion.

Commissioners now are planning to review records of all past discussions and actions, further study on the site and a complete new program of setting up the alley's construction.

Held on forgery charges by Birmingham Police, Robert Daniel Lawson, 25, of no known address, has waived examination and is bound over to circuit court. Bond has been placed at $10,000.

Police said Lawson is a parole violator in Detroit, on the same charge. He was arrested in Birmingham after he allegedly stole a check from D. F. Cooper, 1887 Washington Blvd., by whom he was employed. The man reportedly cashed the check locally.

Det. Lt. Merlin Holmquist said Lawson also had stolen four tires and sold them to a friend.

City Manager L. R. Gare has received approval on his request for an appropriation of $12,700. The money will be used for the purchase of outfit "B" of the Quanton Lakes Estates.

Development of the land will be taken over by the city, partly as a flood control measure along the Rouge.

Assistant City Manager Robert Kenning has been named to represent the city of Birmingham on the South Oakland County Garbage and Rubbish Authority.

Detroit gambler Earl E. Atwood left a downtown Detroit hotel just an hour before the time police figure he was killed and dumped in Waterford Township last Thursday.

This was the latest development by police following the discovery of Atwood's body Friday morning in the yard of the Airport Ready-Mix and Building Supply Co., 3770 Airport Rd.

He had been shot in the head. A witness has told Detroit police that Atwood was seen in a Michigan Avenue bar last Wednesday and Thursday.

Police say he checked in and out of the Hotel Eddystone, on Park Avenue, Detroit, twice within the two-day period.

Oakland County Sheriff's detectives and Waterford Township police are cooperating with Detroit police in the investigation. They are confident now that Atwood spent all but his last hour in Detroit, and was hiding from someone.

Waterford Police Capt. Millard Pender said today that Atwood made three phone calls while at the hotel, calling his home once and his brother, Raymond, twice.

Atwood left his home last Monday, ostensibly to visit his mother in Indianapolis. His brother said Atwood did not seem worried.

No Decision Reached on Hospital Appeal

No decision has been handed down by the Michigan Supreme Court on the appeal of six Pontiac General Hospital doctors that the hospital be prohibited from enforcing certain disputed regulations there.

A spokesman for the court said the case was heard yesterday. A decision might be made either today or tomorrow on whether the six plaintiffs will be granted a show cause order against the hospital.

The doctors, Roy V. Cooley, Robert W. Albrecht, Douglass A. Haddock, Maolin Han, Rodman C. Jacobi, Leonard Blackwell, claim the medical staff's by-laws deprive them of unrestricted surgical privileges.

The defendants say the rules are necessary to protect the general public's health, welfare and safety.

Work Bench Kills Boy

DETROIT (AP) — Three-year-old James Bailey of Van Buren Township was killed Wednesday when an iron work bench toppled over him. Key to Spellman's Career Is His Habit of Being Ever Busy; No Minute Is Lost

(This is the fourth of five articles in which a famed writer describes the full, often dramatic life of Francis Cardinal Spellman, who will observe the 25th anniversary of his consecration as a bishop on Sept. 5.)

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS)—The luncheon of lamb, broccoli, a potato and a pudding was finished. Francis Cardinal Spellman had talked of many things in his easy way as the meal was served and the dishes taken away by two silent Irish maids.

He had had his usual morning of work, and a long afternoon and evening of it would follow the short prayer of thanksgiving which he delivered after the meal. But while the food was there and we were seated he spoke in the way of a man whose interests run the spectrum of human endeavor.

But at last he gently pushed back his chair from the table, and led us out of the subdued dining room at his Residence. A member of the residence staff, returning from answering the door, smiled as he passed the Cardinal. He was carrying an armful of mail and a magazine, U.S. News and World Report. Someone else reminded him that he had an appointment.

"Jim Bishop did a piece about the kind of life I lead from day to day in 'The Sign' Magazine a few years ago," His Eminence said, trying to be helpful. "Maybe you can look it up."

We did and found it exhausting: up at 7 a.m., mass in his private chapel, light breakfast, his people calling in 15-minute intervals with reports on the enormous charitable, spiritual and educational work of the 4,717 square miles of archdiocese, pleas for aid in matters ranging all the way from new hospital construction to marital discord, and the parade of dignitaries.

MORE OF THE SAME

In the afternoon, more of the same, with a visit to this or that church, university, school, Catholic charities headquarters, or some such, thrown in. Dinner at 6:30 with fellow workers and, sometimes, a visiting dignitary or old friend from any farflung part of the world. Then the saying of the rosary after dinner, before

3 HOUR RITUAL

Religious ceremonies the next morning, including a three-hour ritual at Our Lady of the Gulf. Speaker at luncheon for Bishop Bowers, and presented him with $5,000 for mission work. Trip to Gulfport, trip to Biloxi, both in Mississippi. Dinner with men at Keesler Air Base, late prayers and benediction. Off to New York early the next morning, after 5:45 mass. Jim Bishop concluded: "The writer, in personal conversation with His Eminence, looked for signs of wear but found none. The Cardinal is buoyant, almost boyish in his enthusiasms and his energy. He seems to have time for everyone and everything, and the only person worn out was one tired Bishop—the author."

Msgr. John K. Cartwright, of St. Matthew's Cathedral in Washington, D. C., long-time friend of the Cardinal, says of him:

"One of the most remarkable things about His Eminence is the manner in which he stays in touch with what is happening through the world as well as what is happening here in America. It prepares him for any event, here or abroad."

"His energy, of course, is legendary. The key to his whole career is his habit of being constantly busy. His whole life is scheduled. No minute is wasted."

GI's Accuser Set to Testify

Soldier Says He Saw
Girard Lure Women
Onto Firing Range

MAEBASHI, Japan (U)—The soldier who said William S. Girard tossed out shell casings to lure Japanese brass scavengers onto a firing range will testify Saturday in the trial of the Ottawa, Ill., GI.

Girard's trial on a manslaughter charge resumes tomorrow for three days after a recess since its opening Aug. 26. He is accused of luring Mrs. Naka Sakai, a brass collector, to her death last Jan. 30.

Prosecutors announced today that Specialist 3.C. Victor Nickel, of Inkster, Mich., will be one of three witnesses summoned when the court convenes Saturday on Hill 655 outside of Maebashi. The session will be held on the firing range where Mrs. Sakai was fatally struck in the back with an empty cartridge casing Girard fired from a grenade launcher.

Nickel's statement saying Girard asked him to toss empty shells toward Mrs. Sakai and another brass picker was presented to the U. S. Supreme Court by the U. S. Army during a battle over which nation should try Girard. Nickel has refused to comment on the case since he was first named as the man with Girard when the fatal shot was fired. An associate prosecutor, Kakuichi Sugimoto, said Nickel's testimony "will be most interesting."

The other two witnesses summoned to Saturday's session on the firing range are Hidetsugu Onozeki, 29, a farmer, and Kuji Sakai, 26, who is not related to the victim.

Japanese police have quoted Onozeki as saying Girard "enticed and induced" him and Mrs. Sakai before shooting at them. Kuji Sakai is called an eyewitness to the shooting.

Six pharmaceutical houses began work on a vaccine in May.

Unique Bookcase, Door Requires Little Effort

Here's a novel and useful idea for a youngster's room: make the closet door do double duty as a bookcase.

The unique bookcase-door saves floor space. It also adds a bright touch to the room.

Building material dealers carry the ideal door for this purpose—a stock, five-panel door of ponderosa pine listed as N.D. 107 in the U. S. Department of Commerce commercial standards.

To convert the door, simply knock out the five panels and replace them with "boxes" about eight inches deep. These will hold books of most sizes and will not interfere with space in the average closet.

Standard, one-inch lumber can be used for the boxes. For strength, brace the corners of each box with angle irons which can be attached to the inner side of the door with metal shelving brackets. To carry the extra weight of the books, the door should be hung on three heavy-duty hinges.

Door and shelves may be stained to show grain or painted to harmonize with other room colors.

Will Investigate Migrant Labor

Gov. Harriman Promises
No Whitewash in Probe of Camp Conditions

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (U)—Gov. Averell Harriman has approved a one-man probe of conditions in New York State migrant labor camps. He promises there will be "no whitewash."

The recommendation for the probe was made yesterday by the Interdepartmental Committee on Migrant Labor, which is made up of heads of seven key agencies dealing with migrants.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People says the Negroes in some of the 1,004 camps in the state are exploited and held in virtual peonage.

Harriman ordered the interdepartmental committee into action after the NAACP leveled its charges last week. The committee met here yesterday. Herbert Hill, the NAACP's labor secretary, was the only witness. At the outset he said he was "fearful of a whitewash" by the committee.

Hill had accused operators of some upstate camps with maintaining a "20th Century slave racket."

The committee suggested that it appoint an "impartial person" to conduct the probe with instructions to report to Harriman within a month. Harriman said he would go along with the recommendation although he felt the committee could do it as well.

The group also made six other recommendations for improving the labor camp system. These were similar to a program advanced by Hill.

The recommendations ranged from improvements in housing and sanitary conditions to laws strengthening state agencies' power to curb any exploitation of workers.

Harriman said only one recommendation would need further study—consideration of financial aid to camp operators for the construction, maintenance and service of labor camp facilities.

struction, maintenance and service of labor camp facilities.

The governor said it involved a constitutional question.

James H. Brunson, 37, of Augusta, Ga., who had alleged that he and other Negroes were mistreated at an upstate migrant camp this summer, did not attend.

Honored for Stork Duty

DETROIT (U)—Four Detroit patrolmen were honored Wednesday with department citations for attendance at emergency births. The four have delivered a total 23 babies in scout cars and patrol wagons on the way to hospitals. They are Frank Lewandowski, 56, who has delivered 12; Carl Bangert, 41, eight; Woodrow Webb, 34, two; and James Schweiger, 27, one.

Best Identification Tag Soon May Be Your Ears

By RENNIE TAYLOR
Associated Press Science Reporter
BERKELEY, Calif. (U)—Don't lend anyone your ears. They may be your best identification tag.

University of California researchers, spurred by the suggestion of a Chicago photographer of babies, are about to start a research project to determine whether the human ear changes shape during the course of life. If they find it does not change contour, and that is what they fully expect, they plan to set up a system which could supplement or even compete with the fingerprinting as a means of identification.

The ear system might become the most nearly foolproof way of identifying babies and conceivably it could be a great help in criminology, said Dr. Douglas Kelley. After talking with Manuel Zimberoff, the photographer, Dr. Kelley said he was ready to get behind a one-year investigation to evaluate the ear identification idea.

Zimberoff said he got the idea from reading an account of the work of Alphonse Bertillon, French anthropologist who originated the fingerprinter system. Bertillon mentioned ears as a possible standard of identity. The photographer developed an ear camera which can be used inside the hospital delivery room. As soon as possible after delivery a rectangular cardboard frame is hung over the infant's right ear. It is marked off both ways in millimeters or fractions of an inch to give accurate measurements.

A card bearing the family name of the baby, the name of the hospital and the date is set within camera range. A click of the shutter records the whole thing before the infant leaves the delivery room.

Zimberoff, whose business is photographing new-born infants, not just their ears, said he has supplied the identification equipment to scores of hospitals throughout the country and permits its use at no profit to himself. He has a patent on the ear camera and some other equipment features.

Cites Rights as Governor

Faubus Appeals to Ike

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — The following is — in part — the text of Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus' telegram to President Eisenhower, urging that the government reconsider its order that Little Rock schools integrate immediately:

"I was one of the soldiers of your command in World War II. I spent 300 days in combat in an infantry division defending our country, its people and their rights on the battlefield.

"The question at issue in Little Rock at this moment is not segregation vs. integration. Peaceful integration has been accomplished for some time at the University of Arkansas, state-supported colleges and a number of public schools.

"This week, peaceful integration was accomplished in three more schools. It is impossible to integrate some of our schools at this time without violence.

"The Supreme Court recognized that conditions in each community must be considered and I have interpreted your public statements that you are in agreement with this premise.

"The question now is whether or not the head of a sovereign state can exercise his constitutional power.

ARREST RUMOR

"I am reliably informed that federal authorities in Little Rock have this day been discussing plans to take into custody, by force, the head of a sovereign state.

"This would be in complete disregard of the constitutional guarantees of the separation and independence of the branches of government and the rights and powers of a state.

"As the duly elected governor and representative of the people of Arkansas I can no more surrender these rights than you can surrender the rights of the duly elected chief executive of our nation.

"To do so would set a precedent that would jeopardize the rights and powers of the governor of any state.

"I have reasons to believe that the telephone lines to the Arkansas executive mansion have been tapped — I suspect the federal agents. The situation in Little Rock and Arkansas grows more explosive by the hour.

"As governor of Arkansas, I appeal to you to use your good offices to modify this extreme stand and stop the unwarranted interference of federal agents in this area so that we may again enjoy domestic tranquility and continue in our pursuit of ideal relations between the races."

Pontiac Is Host to Urban League

Hold Banquet at Home of Dr. McNeill; Boards Attend Reception

With the annual conference of the National Urban League proceeding at a rapid pace in Detroit, the Pontiac Urban League played host to festivities last night.

A banquet was given coupled with a business meeting, for the National Board of Trustees at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Howard H. McNeill, of Hickory Grove road, Bloomfield Hills.

Dr. McNeill, aside from being on the Pontiac league's board of directors, also serves as one of the 41 national trustees.

A reception for all board members from the 62 cities having local leagues followed the banquet and meeting.

Members of the Pontiac league have been attending meetings and social gatherings since the conference officially opened Tuesday. The theme of this year's conference is "Resolving The Racial Crisis—A Challenge To Interracial Teamwork."

The Pontiac delegation, made up largely of board members, is being led by president Norman H. Kujala.

Panel discussions have been held each day on such subjects as housing, community services, integration and the nation's manpower needs.

Yesterday morning a plenary session summarized the current events in the wake of the Supreme Court decisions on desegregation.

A highlight of the conference will take place tonight as events draw to a close. Michigan's Lt. Governor, Philip A. Hart, will address the closing banquet, at which time the League will receive a citation from the American Heritage Foundation.

Tell of Crawling to Escape Death

Two Witnesses Testify in Pontiac Township Murder Examination

Two material witnesses to a killing testified yesterday they crawled away on their stomachs to escape death themselves.

Thomas Squires, 27, of Wyandotte, and Joseph Wells, 19, of Detroit, testified at the pre-trial examination of Lee Harris Jr., 25, Pontiac Township man accused of the first-degree murder of Eddie Hick, 28, of Wye Mills, Pa.

Harris lives in a trailer at the Glenview Trailer Park, 2300 Shimmings Rd. The victim was shot to death in front of Harris' trailer Aug. 26.

Squires and Wells testified before Township Justice Robert Hodge that they had driven with Hicks to the trailer the night of the killing. Squires admitted he had a grudge against Harris and planned to fight him.

But as they pulled in front of the trailer and Hicks, the driver, was getting out of the car, three shots rang out, the two men said.

The victim fell to the ground, shot once in the back. His two companions testified they hurried out the other side of the car and crawled away through the brush in order to escape injury themselves.

Assistant Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry said he also plans to call several sheriff's deputies as witnesses before the examination ends, probably today.

Harris' attorney, Clarence L. Smith, indicated the accused man will not take the stand to testify in his own defense.

Court on Porch Rules Against 'Spot' and 'Susie'

DETROIT (U)—Court convened yesterday in the front yard of Mrs. Florence Bittkofer—in full view of her angry neighbors and her puzzled dogs.

Mrs. Bittkofer's defense was simple: "Spot is a good dog. My dogs don't bite anybody."

But the neighbors said Mrs. Bittkofer's two dogs—and their six puppies—were a nuisance. They said the dogs barked at night and often rushed at them.

Judge John D. Watts of Detroit's Traffic and Ordinance Court went to Mrs. Bittkofer's yard to hold the hearing after she said she was too ill to come to his courtroom. She was charged with harboring a nuisance.

Spot and the other dog, Susie, maintained a discreet silence. But Mrs. Bittkofer, 46, had plenty to say. At one point Judge Watts warned her: "Be quiet or you'll go to jail."

Mrs. Bittkofer lost the case. Judge Watts found her guilty but referred her to a probation officer. He ordered Spot and Susie sent to the Michigan Humane Society pound. The puppies had been given away.

The crowd drifted away and Mrs. Bittkofer sat sobbing on the steps of her front porch.

The two men were involved in an auto collision June 20 on M59 near Woodstock drive. McCurry died July 21. The examination was continued from last week.

Computers Gain in Popularity

Mechanical Brain Units Soon Will Be Tailored to Needs of Small Firms

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (U)—Big mechanical brains are catching on with big business. So now the makers of electronic computers are turning to the needs of smaller or medium sized firms.

"Within five years small and computers will revolutionize office and factory paper work, and the computer will be as familiar a piece of office equipment as the adding machine and the desk calculator are today."

This is the view of Maurice Horrell of Los Angeles, general manager of the computer division of Bendix Aviation.

Philip M. Zenner, president of Royal McBee, points out that 99 per cent of the businesses in this country have fewer than 1,000 employees. Their problems become more complicated all the time and their need for more and earlier information is just as great as for the giant corporations.

His firm literally is pushing a $39,600 computer about the size of an average desk and which rolls on casters.

Stanley C. Allyn, chairman of National Cash Register, Dayton, Ohio, which is bringing out this fall a middle size computer in the $40,000 price range, says a clerk can record electronically at the cash register checkout point such information as color, size, style, season, manufacturer of goods.

Burroughs also has a computer in the $40,000 range and other electronic devices in the middle price range.

On the engineering side, Bendix has a computer for companies having between 25 and 300 engineers. Its makers say it can solve problems in a fraction of the time it would take crews of civil engineers and surveyors in the field. Small computers also may be just the ticket for oil surveys, since they strike at the engineering shortage by stretching out the engineer's ability to perform.

Thirty Cars Destroyed in Big Rapids Blaze

BIG RAPIDS (INS) — Thirty cars were destroyed early today in a $200,000 fire in Big Rapids. Ten of the autos were new.

The blaze razed the Triangle Auto Sales Co. in the heart of the city. No one was injured but persons living above adjoining buildings were evacuated.

Police said the fire apparently started in a repair shop in one corner of the building. Several explosions during the fire were believed caused by gasoline and other inflammables in the garage.

Fire companies from Reed City, Morley, Cadillac and Mecosta assisted the Big Rapids department.

Home Business Has Parasites, Too

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Too many of us keep our amateur standing long after we've really become professionals.

This is especially true of women who make products at home. They begin making them without charge for friends and relatives and continue to do so long past the time when they ought to be charging money.

That's Mrs. Y's problem.

SPECIAL HOBBY

"My children are grown and have homes of their own, now," she writes, "and I am indulging an interest I've always had, interior decorating."

Through the years I've read

Same Toys Normal

It is perfectly normal for little boys to play with the same types of toys as little girls do. Sex interests in children usually don't diverge until age four or five; if the little fellow is permitted a normal boyhood, he'll give up dolls and other feminine toys naturally, at the proper time.

up on it and have kept scrapbooks. I learned to make draperies, slip covers and all kinds of home furnishings.

"I'm especially interested in slip covers. They can make or ruin a room, and for such a small amount of money, relatively speaking.

"I have made beautiful covers for my own furniture and also made some for my daughter, daughter-in-law, friends and neighbors.

"But while I love making them," Mrs. Y. continues, "I'm beginning to resent doing it for free. My neighbors start by just asking my advice, but, before the job is done, I end up

USO Needs Hostesses

Calling all single girls between the ages of 18 and 26. You are needed by the USO of Pontiac to serve as junior hostesses for dances which will be held for men at Nike Bases in Auburn Heights and Commerce.

Single girls over 26 may serve as senior hostesses for the Sept. 24, Oct. 22 and Nov. 19 dances.

It is planned that hostesses will leave the YWCA by bus at 7:30 p.m. and return from the dance at 11 p.m. Interested girls may contact the YWCA.

The next step is to take a decorating course—at your local high school if they give one or a good correspondence school course. If you feel educated, if you have studied it seriously, you will take yourself more seriously. And so will other people.

Finally, don't count on friends for customers—not until after you're really successful.

Instead, check with your local department stores and decorators and see if they can use a good slip cover maker. Or, if you want to be entirely on your own, advertise in your local newspaper.

Rich Tarts Will Melt in Your Mouth

Mrs. Fuller Uses Baking Powder in Easy-Do Crust

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Little tarts that melt in your mouth will be yours if you follow this recipe from Mrs. Fred Fuller of Cass Lake. She says they travel well, wrapped in aluminum foil. Mrs. Fuller, a charming vivacious woman, loves to entertain and to cook in her remodeled kitchen. She's an active Girl Scout leader and works in Civil Defense and with the Pontiac General Hospital Auxiliary.

BUTTER PECAN TARTS

By Mrs. Fred Fuller

Pastry:
1 cup shortening
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons water

Sift dry ingredients together. Add shortening and blend to consistency of cornmeal. Mix egg, vanilla, vinegar and water. Gradually add liquid to flour, mixing with a fork.

Place in wax paper and form into a ball. Roll out lightly and cut into circles to fit large tart pans. Fill and bake 30-35 minutes in 350-degree oven. Makes 16 tarts (3-inch ones).

Filling:
3 eggs
1 cup pecans, chopped fine
1 cup dark corn syrup
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 cup sugar
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
Beat eggs slightly. Combine all ingredients. Pour into unbaked tart shells.

Versatile Dryers Sport Novelties

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (INS)—Versatility of new clothes dryers is seen in some designed for all fabrics which will fluff dry clothes with or without heat. Some types will dry the most delicate fabrics without tumbling.

One manufacturer has a device to sprinkle clothes automatically and germicidal lamps may be obtained for other models. In addition there are devices to scent clothing with a pine odor.

The messy look haunts many women. It comes from too much jewelry, fussy accessories, bad handling of color, hats full of feathers and bows and veiling. To look chic and neat, keep things simple.

Well Cut Clothes Asset in Business

Working Girl Should Look Smart

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The business woman should strive for good grooming and smartness rather than for glamor. This does not mean that her clothes or makeup should be dull. Attractive clothes and attractive makeup are assets in any job but they should be conservative rather than extreme. Save extreme or exotic make-up, frilly blouses, garish costume jewelry and elaborate dresses for hours outside the office.

The woman with a job usually has more money to spend on her clothes than the average woman in the home. She will need to spend more on her clothes because she is a representative of the business firm for which she works and her appearance is important not only to her but to her employers.

At least one suit is the basis of her wardrobe. This should be an in-between suit, not severely and mannishly tailored but not dressy. Attention should be given to the material and the cut of the suit.

The material should be attractive, wrinkle resistant, comfortable and smart. The suit should be well cut.

A suit like this can serve many purposes. It can be worn at the office, and then with a few quick changes it can go out for the evening. Dressier blouse, shoes and hat, white gloves, and dressy ornament or earrings, and you are ready for dinner, the theater, or even a dance date.

Dressy sweaters also can be employed for evening wear. The suit is more flexible if the skirt is not severely straight up and down.

Daytime, well cut dresses of wool also are suitable. The dresses and suits should be in one of the dark shades. Bright colors are not so appropriate for work and are too easily remembered.

Clothes should be comfortable. Tight garters and girdles are distracting and may lead to varicose veins. Clothes or shoes that are poorly fitted lead to fatigue and poor judgment.

Be sure that your stockings are long enough. If not this also will tire you. If you are on your feet much, avoid high heels. Extremes are not best looking anyway for working hours.

The working woman's clothes must be smart but practical and adaptable.

If you would like my leaflet "The Most Attractive You," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 72 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press. (Tomorrow: "Going Barefoot Can Be Splendid Arch Exercise.")

Elizabeth J. Taylor and Charles E. Sornig were married Saturday in St. Michael Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Taylor, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Anton Sornig.

MR. and MRS. CHARLES E. SORNIG

Elizabeth Taylor Speaks Vows in St. Michael Rite

St. Michael Church was the setting for the Saturday wedding of Elizabeth Jean Taylor and Charles Edward Sornig. The Rev. Norman Thomas solemnized the Nuptial High Mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Taylor of Rose court, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Sornig.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of imported French lace and nylon tulle over satin. The full skirt swept into a chapel-length train. A crown of seed pearls and sequins held her fingertip veil of French illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations and red roses.

A sister of the bride, Mrs. William Hockenberry, was the matron of honor. She wore a yellow chiffon over taffeta gown and carried a cascade bouquet of yellow carnations.

Mary Louise and Sally Ruth Taylor, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore Nile green gowns fashioned like that of the honor attendant. They carried cascade arrangements of green carnations.

GOWNED IN WHITE Joy and Jan Taylor, sisters of the bride, wore white lace over nylon dresses and carried baskets of rose petals for their duties as flower girls.

Serving as best man was William Hockenberry. The guests were seated by Kenneth Rogers and Gary Sabourin.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Taylor chose an aqua sheath accented by a corsage of pink carnations.

Following an afternoon reception at the Taylor home the new Mrs. Sornig changed to a gray princess-style dress with white accessories.

sories and a corsage from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will live on East New York avenue.

Longer for trim is more flattering to the short full figure. The slender, with no hip problem, stops for trim at the waistline.

When you greet an acquaintance, call him by name. "Hello, Bill" or "Good morning, Mrs. Brown" sounds much more friendly than just "Hello" or "Good morning."
