Jesus Asks Question

Jesus Forecasts Own Death

Rebel Teacher Faces Trial on Charge of Blasphemy

Editor's Note: This is the second of six articles in which reporter Ora Spaid takes an imaginary trip back more than 19 centuries to Jerusalem in the time of Christ's last seven days and reports on the events of that week, applying the style of today's news—and the journalistic skepticism.

By ORA SPAID

Pontiac Press Special Writer

JERUSALEM, Nisan 14 (Wednesday)—A solemn prediction of his own death was made today by Jesus, a Nazarene rabbi who has excited this city by defying its rulers.

His forecast of doom came at the time the Sadducee high priest, Caiaphas, announced that prosecution of the rebel teacher on a blasphemy charge would be delayed until after the feast of Pesach (Passover).

The 33-year-old Jesus told a group of his disciples that he would be "betrayed to be crucified" on Passover day, which begins at sundown tomorrow.

The decision to delay prosecution of Jesus was disclosed after a meeting of Sadducee priests in Caiaphas' palace. Caiaphas said Jesus told his disciples as they left the Temple yesterday:

"Do you see these great buildings? There will not be left here one stone upon another that will not be thrown down."

The high priest said the remark was equal to defiling the Temple and constitutes grounds for a charge of blasphemy under Jewish law. Blasphemy is punishable by death, but only if Rome approves the sentence.

Many observers here believe postponement of the charge until after the feast day was done for fear prosecution of Jesus might have incited rioting among the thousands of pilgrims crowding the city, many of whom support the Nazarene.

Hundreds of pilgrims, including members of the Jewish ruling classes, crowded the Temple yesterday to hear the rabbi, intense "Messiah."

He has established himself in the Temple after "cleansing" it Monday by whipping and driving out all money (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

40,000 Fans See Tigers, Orioles

Gromek Faces Larsen; Both Lineups Feature New Players

DETROIT (UP)—Veteran Steve Gromek pitched the first ball in 52 years to a Baltimore Oriole today in American League play as the Detroit Tigers and the former St. Louis Browns opened the season at Briggs Stadium before a crowd estimated at 40,000.

The umpire yelled out "play ball" after Detroit Common Council President Louis Mirani, subbing for Mayor Albert E. Cobo, tossed to Gov. G. Merwin Williams behind the plate in pre-game festivities.

With the temperature between 60 and 65 degrees and the sun breaking through a slight overcast, the throng of Tiger followers discarded coats and mufflers to give the stadium a festive hue of spring colors.

Assigned to the mound for Baltimore was Don Larsen, a big right-hander who as a Brownie last year had a 1-2 record against Detroit. Manager Jimmy Dykes switched at almost the last minute from Joe Coleman.

Manager Freddie Hutchinson and Dykes both presented the crowd with "new look" teams. Only three of Detroit's regulars from last season were in the lineup. Baltimore also had only three holdovers on the field from last year's Brownie team.

French Cut Off Vietminh Lines in Pincer Move

SAIGON, Indochina (U)—The French command announced tonight that French and Laotian forces, executing an enveloping movement, had sealed off the Vietminh's main communications route into south and central Laos.

The operation, carried out in extreme secrecy during the past ten days, was accomplished without a fight.

The communications route which the French and Laotians stopped up is a narrow pass in the limestone hills of central Laos which spills out to the north into the valley of Naphao.

New Commissioner Takes Over FHA, Probe Starts in Scandal-Rocked Agency

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today appointed Norman T. Mason, North Chelmsford, Mass. lumber company executive, as acting commissioner of the scandal-rocked Federal Housing Administration.

Mason replaces Guy T. O. Hollyday, Baltimore mortgage banker, whose resignation was announced by the White House late Monday.

At the same time President Eisenhower had ordered FHA files sealed for investigation of a multi-million-dollar home and apartment loan scandal.

Chairman Homer E. Capehart announced meanwhile that the Senate Banking Committee will hold up action on the administration's

Pro Tem Post Given to Dugan by Commission

Group Has 1st Meeting, Names 2 Supervisors, Re-appoints Five

By a unanimous vote of the new Pontiac City Commission last night William W. Donaldson, 48, was elected Pontiac mayor for 1954 through 1956.

John A. Dugan, 45, also was a unanimous choice for mayor pro tem.

The commission also named two new representatives to Oakland County Board of Supervisors and reappointed five present supervisors.

Donaldson is a native of Pontiac and was a city commissioner from 1944 through 1948, serving as mayor pro tem both times.

He attended the University of Michigan and received his degree from the University of Colorado. Donaldson has operated an insurance agency for the past five years.

The new mayor is president of the Pontiac Foundation and active in many other business and civic groups. He lives at 153 W. Lawrence St.

Dugan resides at 363 Nelson St. and is an executive board member of Local 633 UAW-CIO. He has been an employee of Pontiac Motor Division for 25 years. He is active in church and PTA functions.

Five of seven men were reappointed to serve as Pontiac representatives on the County Board of Supervisors for 1954. New supervisors named were Mrs. Lee Hill of 33 Carter St. and Francis H. Schneider of 783 Menominee Rd.

Vacation Dates Vary for 17,500 City Students

Easter vacations will begin this week for more than 17,500 Pontiac public and parochial school students.

Some 16,000 Pontiac Public School students will start their vacations after classes Thursday. They will return April 21.

Vacations for a total of 1,400 students of St. Michael and St. Frederick schools will start after classwork today and Wednesday, respectively. Classes will resume April 26 at both schools.

About 160 students of Emmanuel Christian School will observe the same schedule as public school students, while elementary students of St. Trinity Lutheran School will be on vacation from Thursday afternoon to April 20.

Cubs Visit Willow Run

Following its April theme on aviation, Den 2 of Waterford Center Cub Pack 61 visited Willow Run Airport recently. Mr. and Mrs. Sherman P. VanDeusen, of 1285 Airport Rd., both den leaders, and Mrs. Edgar Kelley, of 1168 Shoman, conducted the tour.

Pontiac's New City Commission Takes Office

City Valuations Up $20 Million

$195,588,000 Is Set on Real and Personal Taxable Property

A total valuation of $195,588,550 has been placed on the real and personal property in Pontiac this year by the Board of Tax Review. This is an increase of $20,584,515 over the 1953 figure.

A breakdown of the new total made by City Assessor W. Raymond Ransom shows real estate valued at $120,286,375, compared with $116,360,735 in 1953.

About $750,000 of the real estate increase was on General Motors Corp. property, the assessor explained.

The personal property figure has been increased from $58,633,300 to $75,302,175. The bulk of this hike, about $15,000,000, also has been set on GM property, Ransom stated.

The Board of Tax Review cut $488,925 off the assessor's original figure for real estate this year and shaved $127,900 from the assessor's total for personal property.

The city's figure will be submitted to the county for review, according to City Attorney William A. Ewart. The Oakland County Equalization Committee then studies figures set by all county townships and cities.

The county sets an "equalized" figure which in Pontiac's case is usually higher than the figure submitted, said Ewart.

Then if the units, or individuals in them, are dissatisfied they may appeal to a state board.

$80,000 'Underwear' Makes Gal Look Bulky

MILAN, Italy (U)—An attractive woman in a flashy car drove up to the Ponte Chiasso frontier post on the Italian-Swiss frontier yesterday. Police thought she looked excessively plump.

Closer inspection, they said, showed that instead of underwear "she was literally clothed in Swiss franks"—$80,000 worth of them. The police did not reveal her identity or what action they took against her.

Doing Under Two Federal Housing Programs

Under one program, many home owners have been "fleece" by high pressure home improvement salesmen. Under the other, FHA-insured loans have been made for $75,000,000 more than the cost of the projects.

Eisenhower ousted FHA Chief Guy T. O. Hollyday to make way for a full scale investigation of the agency's operations. Hollyday, an Eisenhower appointee, said he was still "most enthusiastic" (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

U.S., Britain, Plan NATO Alliance for Southeast Asia

LONDON (AP)—The United States and Britain agreed today to seek a Nato-type military alliance of 10 nations, pivoted on Southeast Asia, in an effort to safeguard peace from Indochina to New Zealand.

They declared Communist aggression, loose in Indochina, threatens to spread over all the rich lands extending to Australia, the Philippines and Thailand.

The decision to press for the formation of a new Southeast Asia defense system was announced in a joint

Russian Embassy Man Turns Over Documents, Reveals Traitors

CANBERRA, Australia (INS)—Australian Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies created a sensation today by announcing the desertion of a Soviet spy leader who turned over "a great number of documents" involving Australian traitors.

He told parliament that Vladimir Petrov, nominally third secretary of the Soviet Embassy in Canberra but authoritatively described as chief Soviet secret police spy in the Commonwealth nation where British atomic weapons are tested, has been granted political asylum.

The announcement was viewed as similar to the 1946 Canadian spy ring case where Igor Gouzenko, Soviet embassy clerk, broke with the Russian government and helped uncover an espionage operation extending to the United States and Britain.

A high official said Petrov's wife still was in the Soviet embassy. "I understand," he said, "that she has elected to stay there and she likely will go back to Russia."

Menzies told the lower house of parliament that asylum was granted at Petrov's request. He quoted him as saying:

"I no longer believe in Communism or Soviet leadership. I no longer believe in Communism since I have seen the Australian way of living."

Menzies' announcement was greeted by cheers from all sides of parliament.

Petrov was quoted as asking for protection and aid in establishing himself comfortably in Australia.

The Petrov case immediately aroused speculation whether Britain's atomic secrets as tested on the Woomera rocket range in Australia already were in possession of Russia.)

W. W. DONALDSON
Pontiac City Commission named him mayor at the organization meeting last night.

Mercury to Hit 72 Here on Wednesday

The fourth straight day of fair and mild weather is forecast for the Pontiac area Wednesday.

U. S. Weather Bureau observers predict slightly warmer weather tomorrow with a high near 72 degrees. A low of from 43 to 47 is expected tonight.

The temperature ranged from 36 to 56 degrees here yesterday. After a low of 43 degrees early today, the mercury rose to 67 at 2 p. m. in downtown Pontiac.

A five-day forecast predicts somewhat colder weather Wednesday night and Friday, with showers Thursday and Sunday.

$6.5 Million County Budget in Hands of Committees

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors today turned a tentative 1955 budget of $6,513,164.84 over to the Salaries and Ways and Means committees for study and a report next Monday.

In other action, the supervisors re-elected Floyd Andrews as their chairman and Delos Hamlin, as vice chairman. Andrews is an Independence Township supervisor and Hamlin is a supervisor at Farmington. Both were re-elected unanimously.

The supervisors will meet again Monday to pass a tentative county budget for next year.

They must approve a budget and get it to the county tax allocation board before that board meets Monday afternoon to start setting tax rates for the county—townships and school systems. Supervisors will pass a more detailed budget later this year.

The tentative county budget, roughed out by County Board of Auditors, is $65,597.44 higher than this year's expense sheet.

Auditors think the county has enough new homes, business and industry, so the tax rate can be held down to this year's 3 1/2 mills and still raise enough money to balance the budget.

County men expect to get $1,065,397.25 in fees and other receipts (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Bars Physicist From A-Work Pending Probe

U.S. Launches Inquiry Into Alleged Affiliations With Commies

WASHINGTON (U P)—The Atomic Energy Commission has ordered famed scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer barred from all atomic work and secrets pending a new investigation of alleged Communist links.

Oppenheimer, brilliant physicist who masterminded U. S. development of the A-bomb, was suspended as an AEC consultant Dec. 23 after he refused to resign in the face of the inquiry.

The action was disclosed Monday night only a few hours after an AEC security panel launched formal, secret hearings to determine whether the suspension should be made permanent.

The news struck the capital like a thunderbolt. It marked the first time that the loyalty of a U. S. scientist of Oppenheimer's imposing stature had been revealed under investigation.

In suspending Oppenheimer, the AEC cited information indicating he associated with known Communists in the 1940s, once hired Communists or former Communists for an atomic project, opposed H-bomb development, and delayed reporting a Red attempt to get secrets from him, although he called it "traitorous."

Most of the charges had been made before and Oppenheimer had been cleared. In a 4-page statement to the AEC last month, the 50-year-old atomic expert admitted some past associations with Communists but denied he ever was disloyal.

Informed sources revealed that Lewis L. Strauss himself ordered the new inquiry shortly after he became the new AEC chairman last July. He wanted further information in the case and the investigation was carried out under a 1953 security order requiring a review of cases involving sensitive positions.

These informants denied speculation that disclosure of the action was in any way connected with any impending statements of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

It was learned that official concern developed as results of the investigation were brought to Strauss' attention. It was suggested that Oppenheimer resign. When he refused, the suspension action was started.

It also was learned that the FBI and the Justice Department have been in on the reappraisal of the Oppenheimer matter. What action these agencies might take, if any, depends on what the AEC panel recommends.

Charles Renfrew Is New Mayor of Birmingham; Watkins in Pro Tem Post

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — Charles Renfrew, now in his third year as city commissioner, was elected mayor last night. Vincent Watkins was named mayor pro-tem.

Newly elected commissioners William Roberts and Robert Navin were sworn in, along with James Allen, who had previously filled a one-year vacancy.

Taking immediate steps to speed construction of two fire stations, the lawmakers authorized the hiring of Matthew Carey as financial consultant for issuance of $225,000 in bonds. Voters approved the bond issue last week.

In connection with the Adams road-blowers street station, commissioners approved changing the crossover and traffic signals from Hazel at US10 to Bowers-US10. Bowers will serve as the major east-west traffic artery for the station and the Hazel street intersection will be closed.

May 3 was set as a hearing date to determine the necessity of constructing sewers and paving on Bowers from Hunter to Adams. Construction of an eight-inch water main during the current construction season was also approved.

A May 10 hearing was called to establish zoning of the Porritt property, annexed to the city from Troy Township at last week's election.

Commissioners gave tentative approval to the design and layout of the plat, with formal approval to be made as each portion of the plat is recorded.

City Forester William Lebold warned residents today to require positive identification before allowing removal of supposed Dutch Elm diseased trees.

He said the Oakland County Foresters Assn. has learned that unscrupulous concerns are urging removal of trees that have not been tested by the State Department of Agriculture.

Election of officers is to take place at 8 tonight when the Junior Woman's Club meets at the Park street home of Mrs. James Lowman. Mrs. Frank D. Webb, president of the Birmingham branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Assn., will be guest speaker.

The Wichita Art Assn., now holding its Ninth National Decorative Arts-Ceramic Exhibition, has awarded its $100 first prize for ceramics to Clyde E. Burt, a student of Malja Grotell at Cranbrook Academy of Art. This is the fourth citation to be received by Burt during the past school year.

Closing 14 weeks of play in the YMCA Church Basketball League recently, First Presbyterian Church came from behind to defeat First Baptist Church 47 to 38. This gave the Presbyterians not only the regulation season pennant but the play-off trophy.

Bob Selvidge, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Selvidge of 3531 W. Maple, has been named to the dean's scholastic honor roll at Kemper Military School, Boonville, Mo., for the grade month ending March 27. He has been on the honor roll consistently during the year.

Bloomfield Village Girl Scout Troop 355 got to know its neighbors a little better yesterday when it visited Birmingham's police station and post office. The girls are rehearsing a play to be given for their mothers next month.

Easter vacation starts for students at Holy Name School following tomorrow's classes. Mother Praxides, principal, said school would reopen on April 26.

The building report for March shows 37 permits totalling $326,940 were issued, well below March 1953's 60 permits valued at $470,030.

The bulk of the month's valuation comes from nine new single-family residences, accounting for $184,000.

The second layman's breakfast, plus a brief Lenten service, will be held at 8:45 a.m. tomorrow at the Congregational Church. C. Phillip Bartlett, president of the Men's Fellowship, will lead the worship service.

Pontiac Deaths

Joseph C. Burkhardt

Joseph C. Burkhardt, 26, of 156 N. Paddock St., died at 3:30 p. m. Monday after he was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital.

Born July 27, 1927 in Knoxville, Tenn., he was the son of William and Etta Mays Burkhardt. He married Ruby L. Cardwell Jan. 25, 1948 in Roseville, Ga.

Mr. Burkhardt came to Pontiac a year ago and was a machine operator at Napco Detroit Co., on Dixie Highway. He was a veteran of World War II.

Besides his widow and parents he is survived by three daughters, Sandra, Rebecca and Linda Kaye; three brothers and five sisters in Knoxville.

Funeral will be Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. in the Farmer-Snover Funeral Home, after which the body will be sent to Knoxville for burial.

William J. Garwood

After an illness of several months, William J. Garwood, 56, of 973 Orchard Lake Ave., died at his home at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

Born in Toronto, Ont., July 7, 1897, he was the son of William and Eliza Buck Garwood. He married Myrtle Snowden in Detroit in 1933 and came to Pontiac from there three years ago.

Mr. Garwood, manager of Park-In Motel, was a veteran of World War I, having served with the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, and was a member of the Canadian Legion.

Surviving are three step-daughters, Mrs. Ruth Gibson, of Inkster, Mrs. Betty Borders and Mrs. Evangeline Neil, both of Detroit, and a sister, Mrs. Veltina Jeans, of Toronto.

The funeral will be held Thursday at the Sparks-Griffin Chapel, Dr. Tom Malone, of the Emmanuel Baptist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Parkview Memorial Cemetery.

Harold L. Hoover

Funeral for Harold Lawrence Hoover, infant son of Donald and Shirley Rouse Hoover of 27 Parkhurst St., will be Wednesday at 3 p. m. from the Hutton Funeral Home, Dr. Tom Malone of Emmanuel Baptist Church will officiate and burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

The baby was born Jan. 29, and died Monday at 9 a.m. at his home.

Besides his parents he is survived by a brother, Andy Lee, and a sister, Sandra Marie.

Penny Sue Schwartz

Prayer service was held today in the Pursley Funeral Home for Penny Sue Schwartz, infant daughter of Richard and Marlene Craven Schwartz, of 210 W. New York ave. The Rev. Paul R. Havens, of the First Methodist Church, officiated and burial was in Perry Mount Park Cemetery.

The baby was born Feb. 7, and died Sunday.

William E. Westfall

After an illness of a week, William E. Westfall, 83, of 498 Cameron Ave., died at 8:15 a. m. today.

Born in Troy, Ohio, on July 6, 1870, he was the son of Martin and Ellen Burkett Westfall. He married Anna Sleppy on March 26, 1892 in Dark County, Ohio, and came to Pontiac 10 years ago from Owendale. He was a retired farmer.

Besides his widow he is survived by six daughters and two sons. Mrs. Viola Reynolds, of Pontiac; Mrs. Marie Hunt and Mrs. Harrison Wolfe, of Tucson, Ariz.; Mrs. Harley Group, of Williams Lake; Mrs. Ray Lamham of Smith River, Calif.; Mrs. Carl Mow, of Clawson; Forest Westfall, of Rochester; and Orville Westfall, of Bancroft.

Also surviving are 26 grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Mr. Westfall was a member of the Reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints here.

The body is at the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home.

'GOP in Harmony'

NEW YORK (AP) — Leonard W. Hall, Republican national chairman, says there is "no split whatsoever in the Republican party on any issues as of the moment."

Georgescu Boys, Mother Reunite

Airliner Delivers Sons to First Family Meeting in Seven Years

NEW YORK (AP)—Away from prying eyes, Mrs. Lydia Georgescu was tenderly reunited today with her two sons who were hostages in Romania for seven years.

Government officials and crew, together with other passengers, understandingly first left the big Pan American plane that carried Constantin, 19, and Peter, 15, from London to Idlewild airport.

Then a public health official signalled to Mrs. Georgescu who had waited in air office. She walked toward the plane, then broke into a run. As she neared the craft's doorway, the older youth emerged from the cabin and embraced his mother.

Then they stepped within the plane and the little family group met privately for a few minutes. Also present was the boys' father, Valeriu Georgescu, 50-year-old oil company executive who met them in Munich yesterday.

After the reunion, the youths stepped from the plane and told reporters they were "proud" that their father, a naturalized American citizen, had refused to spy against the United States in their behalf.

The Georgescu case broke into headlines last year when the father disclosed to the State Department that a blackmail attempt had been made by a member of the Romanian legation.

The boys, rosy cheeked and healthy looking, smiled constantly during their impromptu meeting with the press alongside the plane.

William A. Garling, 502 Bloomfield Ave.

After being elected, Mayor Donaldson and Mayor Pro Tem Dugan thanked their fellow commissioners and the voters of their districts who had named them to the commission.

The pair stated that hard work by the commission and cooperation with City Manager Walter K. Willman should bring Pontiac continued progress in the next two years.

Donaldson said he was asking the Chamber of Commerce to call a meeting of presidents of various organizations in Pontiac to help form a "Citizens Advisory Council."

Such a group, Donaldson explained, could bring problems before the people for discussion and help the commission in solving them.

2 Get Probation, Fines in Theft of 9 Evergreens

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Pleading guilty to larceny charges, Albert Karibian, 20, of Southfield Township and Ernest Trepton, 17, of Berkley, paid fines and cost assessments of $25 apiece, before W. Bloomfield Justice Elmer C. Dieterle yesterday.

They were ordered to make restitution and placed on 90 days probation after they were apprehended by Police Chief Clark Green for removing nine evergreen trees at Lahser and Hickory Grove roads. The trees had been planted on property owned by Melvin Raber, 102 Prall St., Pontiac.

Green said a complaint has been filed with juvenile authorities against a third boy, 16.

Pontiac Convict Escapes From Dehoco Monday

Pontiac Police were warned today that Frank Baize, 41, formerly of 119 Oak Hill St., has escaped from the Detroit House of Correction.

Baize, who fled Monday, was serving a 10 to 25-year term for armed robbery. He recently was transferred from Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

Mom, Daughter to Get High School Diplomas

OTSEGO (AP) — Mrs. Allen Kramer and her daughter, Luane, will graduate from Otsego High School in June. Their diplomas will be signed by their husband and father who is a member of the school board.

Mrs. Kramer, also taking an extension course from Western Michigan College, is completing the formal education interrupted by marriage.

GI Loans Easier to Get

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Veterans Administration said today it detects signs that more mortgage money is becoming available for GI housing loans in many parts of the nation.

2 Join Police Force

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Jay Harrison and Norman Dehnke have been added to the police department, Police Chief Clark Green announced today. The two 27-year-old patrolmen replace two men who have resigned.

KISS FOR MOM — The Georgescu teenagers, held in Communist Romania since 1947, plant long-awaited kisses on cheeks of their mother after arrival at Idlewild Airport in New York today from Germany. Valeriu C. Georgescu, the boys' father who refused to spy for Red Romania in return for the safety of his sons, is in rear. Boys are Peter on right, and Constantin.

Blind Man Suffers Double Loss

Man Loses Independence With Death of Guide Dog

The death of a dog has turned a blind Pontiac man's home into a prison.

"I don't get out much now," sighed Charles Spencer. "I've lost my independence—ever since they carried Fritz away."

Two weeks ago the big Doberman died, leaving his master in total darkness.

Since then Spencer has had to rely upon neighbors to take him from his home at 48 Virginia Ave. to downtown Pontiac to shop for groceries and to pay the bills.

The loss of Fritz also has made Spencer's household tasks even harder.

The 55-year-old man who lost his eyesight 30 years ago cares for his 82-year-old infirm mother.

He admits it takes longer to wash the clothes and mop the floors when you have to grope through the house.

But that doesn't discourage him nearly as much as the fact that he has become dependent on others.

"Independence means a lot to me," said Spencer. "It's awfully hard to explain. When you have to be dependent on other people you lose something. I guess maybe it's pride."

"Fritz used to help me lots. I could go downtown alone and do the shopping and pay the bills. It's harder now."

Spencer said he started out alone for downtown Pontiac shortly after Fritz died and ran into misfortune. "It wasn't much. I just stumbled into a fence. Yes, I skinned my leg."

Spencer said his sister, Mrs. Charles Custer of Berkley, is trying to get him another guide dog from the Pilot Dog organization in Ohio.

But so far they have received no reply. "I've had calls from people who want to help me," said Spencer. "I certainly want to thank them for their kindness. 'I think everything will turn out all right.'"

Red Skelton Hurts Back in Accident on Stairs

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Television comic Red Skelton was confined to his Brentwood, Calif. home today with a wrenched back suffered on the stairs of his home. Skelton's wife said the comedian tripped while carrying books and cameras up the stairs Sunday and wrenched his back when he twisted to keep from falling.

Marine Corps League to Sell Hawaiian Orchids

Orchids, now en route by air from Hawaii, will be sold here Friday and Saturday by the U. S. Marine Corps League of Pontiac, according to Anthony Renne, commandant.

The orchid sale, will be the first of its kind in Pontiac. Local chapter members selling the orchids will wear green or blue Marine Corps uniforms. Proceeds will be used for the detachment's charity program.

Spark From Light Bulb Starts Fire at Motor Inn

An electrical spark from a broken light bulb touched off a fire Monday causing about $130 damage to the Motor Inn Recreation at 18 S. Perry St.

A porter accidentally struck the bulb, hanging from a ceiling cord. Fire Marshal Charles Metz said the spark and hot wires probably set off old paint and thinner fumes in the unventilated storage room.

Scandal Rocks FHA, New Chief on Job

about the administration but refused to comment on his ouster.

Albert M. Cole, housing and home finance agency chief and Hollyday's superior, disclosed the scandal Monday and charged "gross negligence or collusion" by FHA officials.

He said Hollyday had condoned "illegal or unethical" actions by other officials of the agency who, he said, face "criminal" prosecution.

Cole did not identify the others involved but said "most" top FHA officials are under scrutiny.

He said some of the cases being investigated go back to the Truman administration and that "some" were in the Eisenhower administration.

One congressional source said the scandal "will put a real crimp" in the administration's $1,000,000,000 housing bill.

Chairman Jesse Wolcott (R-Mich.) of the House Banking Committee said, however, that "it will permit us to install safeguards we would not otherwise have included."

Under the program of insuring loans for large-scale apartment projects, the government guaranteed loans by private lenders to finance construction and agreed to pay off if the borrower did not. The program was discontinued four years ago.

The FBI and Cole's agency have already uncovered 251 cases of large housing projects where builders received government-insured loans substantially in excess of the cost of the projects.

Cole said there will be "many, many more" cases before the investigation is finished.

In the 251 cases cited, Cole said the builders had borrowed more than $75,000,000 above the actual cost of the projects. He said if the face value of the loans are not repaid and the government has to make up the difference it will mean a "substantial loss" to the taxpayers.

Rebel Teacher Faces Trial on Charge of Blasphemy

exchangers and sacrifice merchants. He then referred to the Temple as "a den of thieves."

Yesterday when a Pharisee asked Jesus who gave him authority to teach in the Temple, he replied:

"I will ask you a question. Answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things. Was the baptism of John from heaven or from men?"

None of the priests would answer his question.

Thaddeus, a Roman legionnaire on duty at the Temple, offered this explanation of the priests' refusal to answer:

John the Baptist is considered by Jews to have been a prophet. If the priests had said John's baptism was of men, the crowd would have been angered.

If the answer had affirmed John's divine baptism, Jesus could have justified his presence in the Temple as a follower of John.

Despite the rebuff of the priests, some observers feel the rabbi lost some of his popular support in another argument with the Jewish authorities. Several Pharisees and followers of the Jewish "king," Herod, asked him:

"Is it lawful to pay taxes to Caesar or not?"

Taxes exacted by the Roman Emperor are an explosive subject in Palestine. Jews have long contended the system of tribute required by the Roman Occupation is unfair and burdensome.

However, the Nazarene answered:

"Render . . . unto Caesar the things which are Caesar's, and unto God the things which are God's."

His reply is understood to have disappointed some of his followers who are strongly opposed to Roman taxation. A tax collector is known to be one of Jesus' backers.

Many pilgrims and their children have visited the rabbi at the Temple, and reports of healing "miracles" are numerous.

Jesus is spending nights in Bethany, near here, and walks to the city each morning.

Later today, a second meeting of high priests was held in Caiaphas' palace. Caiaphas refused to say what was discussed; or to comment on the presence of Judas Iscariot, one of Jesus' closest disciples, who was seen entering the palace grounds.

Trio Pleads Guilty to Entering Charge

Three Oakland County youths pleaded guilty Monday to entering without breaking and were assessed $7.50 costs each by West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

Richard E. Brancalone, 17, of 814 S. Washington, and Thomas Keefe, 17, of 914 Edgewood, both of Royal Oak, and John P. Kasten, 17, of 31880 Mt. View Lane, Franklin, pleaded guilty to entering a home at 25120 Franklin Park Dr., Southfield Township, with a key they found in the garage.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said the youths ran from the home, but stopped when the deputies fired two shots in the air. The trio carried a 50-foot extension cord and a pair of gloves from the home.

The FBI and Cole's agency have already uncovered 251 cases of large housing projects where builders received government-insured loans substantially in excess of the cost of the projects.

Cole said there will be "many, many more" cases before the investigation is finished.

In the 251 cases cited, Cole said the builders had borrowed more than $75,000,000 above the actual cost of the projects. He said if the face value of the loans are not repaid and the government has to make up the difference it will mean a "substantial loss" to the taxpayers.

No room charge for children under 14!

Witnesses Expected to Testify Today Against Ex-Lt. Shoulders

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (INS)—Eleven government witnesses were expected to testify today in the perjury trial of former St. Louis Police Lt. Louis Shoulders who broke the Bobby Greenlease kidnapping case.

The trial got under way yesterday before U. S. District Judge Albert A. Ridge after an all-male jury was selected to try the 32-year-old defendant.

Shoulders is accused of lying to a federal grand jury about his handling of the Greenlease ransom money after he and Policeman Elmer Dolan arrested Carl Austin Hall in a St. Louis apartment hotel last Oct. 6.

Dolan was convicted of a similar charge two weeks ago. Shoulders and Dolan took the grand jury that they took two suitcases and a briefcase containing about half of the record $600,000 ransom money to the Newstead Ave. Police Station at the same time they took Hall there for booking.

Several policemen testified that they saw no suitcases brought into the station with the prisoner.

Hall, who was executed in the Missouri gas chamber with his accomplice, Mrs. Bonnie Brown Healy, last Dec. 18, contended that nearly all the ransom was in his possession at the time of his arrest.

Some $303,720 of the ransom has never been recovered. Witnesses called by the government identified grand jury records and a scale model of the police station.

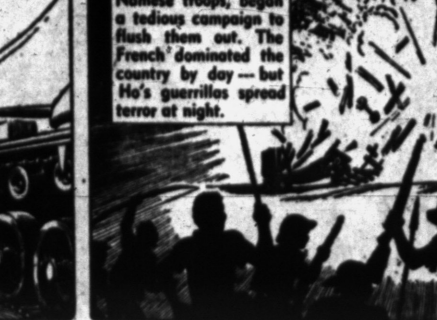

Seven railroad stations in London handle 887,000 incoming and outgoing passengers a day on 5-215 trains. The busiest station, Waterloo, has 664 trains in a 24-hour period and 54 trains in the heaviest hour.

INDO-CHINA—The World's Oldest War

Communism's all-out battle for Indo-China was on. But Ho's natives were no match for the French regulars. Viet Minh troops fought with old rifles, bows and arrows, even spears against French machine guns, artillery, tanks and planes.

The rebels fled to the jungle. The French, aided by loyal Viet Namese troops, began a tedious campaign to flush them out. The French dominated the country by day—but Ho's guerrillas spread terror at night.

Pan American to Fly Ocean Out of Detroit

DETROIT (UP)—Pan American World Airways will make a proving flight from Detroit to Gander, Newfoundland, Wednesday to demonstrate its eligibility for a new overseas route, an airlines spokesman said today.

The spokesman said the flight to Newfoundland will be made to show the Civil Aeronautics Administration that Pan American has considered all factors connected with a new service from Detroit to North Germany.

Pan American will introduce the new overseas flight April 30. It will become the first international airline to operate out of Detroit-Wayne Major Airport.

Despondent Job Seeker Kills Self With Fumes

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Walter E. (Red) Harris, 35, killed himself Monday, police said, by piping carbon monoxide fumes from his exhaust into his car.

He left a note for his father who lives in Kalamazoo. The note said: "This is the best for us all." Police said he had been living in his car since losing his job in an aircraft plant. They said he was also grieving over his divorce and his father's illness.

Mystery Hands in Auto Trunk Just a Buddy

MERIDEN, Conn. (UP)—Patrolman Leo M. Caponigro was walking his beat last night when an excited motorist came to him. "Officer, I just saw a car going down the street with two hands sticking out of its trunk," he said. "Just hands, officer, no body, no feet."

The motorist gave the policeman the registration number of the car and an hour later Patrolman Amos B. Guest located the car and its teen-age driver, who explained he had taken his friends out for a ride.

There were so many friends, he said, he had to put one in the trunk and instructed him to hold it open so he could get air.

Additional names have been added to the committees completing plans for the J-Hop "Southern Silhouette" at Pontiac High School. Workers for the Decorations are Myrna Paul, Carol Wray, Elaine Miller, Jerry Lawrence, Kathie Armstrong, Diane Sutter, Delores Ramsey, Mildred Todemy, Rita Brown, and Gloria Cooper.

Other paint and brush wielders are Janet Zatick, Esther Diem, Pat Wetter, Marilyn Bigham, Lili Fenchel, Judy Root, Henrietta Schaefer, Ann Davis, Helen Stringer, Barbara Schwalm, and Sharon Savege.

Selling tickets for the April 24 affair are Dick Morrison, Jim Wilcox, Marshall Katchka, Dick Blacklaw, Russ Anderson and Jim North.

On the Patrons committee is Barb Hess, chairman, with able assistants Sharon Redenius, Rowena Vaughan, Kathie Young, and Joan Skelly.

The group in charge of post-dance commitments includes Chairmen Nancy Austin, Helen Davis, Glenda McGinnis, and Carol Messer.

Boy's Concentration Results in Operation

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Michael Egan, 8, put a four-inch pencil in his mouth as he worked out a sticker on his fourth-grade arithmetic test yesterday in Southwest School.

"I let go and it went down my throat," he told a doctor. "I tried to cough it up but it went right down." It took surgery at St. Francis Hospital to get the pencil out of his stomach.

Country Needs Road Expansion

CIT President Claims U.S. Builds More Cars Than Highways

DETROIT (UP)—A Detroit financier told the Detroit Economic Club Monday that "since 1945 this country has built more miles of automobiles than miles of highway."

Arthur O. Dietz, president of the C.I.T. Financial Corp., said his recommendation was a 10-year, 50 billion dollar highway construction and modernization campaign to catch up.

He said the program would provide new help for "continued national prosperity and a better life for everyone."

But Dietz said, "the road deficiency" cannot be made up quickly no matter how much money is poured into the program. He said: "Maybe—just maybe—we could build up in a few years to an average annual expenditure of 7 or 8 billion dollars on new roads, to which 3 billion dollars must be added for current maintenance."

"The maximum addition, however, from one year to the next could hardly exceed one billion dollars."

But at that rate, Dietz said, his proposal would almost double the 1953 spending of 5.2 billion dollars. Dietz, president of one of the largest automobile finance organizations, said that federal and state governments would have to provide the bulk of the spending.

He said he didn't believe in excessive government spending or intervention in private business, "but I think we should distinguish between government spending which expands the operation of private business and that which competes with private business."

Music Camp Head Wants AF Letter

ANN ARBOR (UP)—Dr. Joseph E. Maddy, National Music Camp director, said yesterday he wants written assurance that planes will not disturb his camp before he withdraws objections to a proposed air base nearby.

The music camp at Interlochen in the Traverse City area is about four miles from the base site at Long Lake. Congress has already been asked to appropriate $8,000,000 for the base this year.

Dr. Maddy said, "I want it in writing. They say the planes will not disturb us. If that is the case, it is O.K. with us. But I would like a written guarantee. If those planes came directly over our camp it would ruin it. I understand the field can be built where that will not be the case."

He said he wrote his request to John M. Ferry, a special assistant to the Air Force secretary. Dr. Maddy had been quoted previously as withdrawing his objections to the base, after Washington reported the planes would not bother his camp.

Unarmed Robber Given 2 to 15 Years in Prison

Martin Carter, 27, of 133 Houston St., was given a 2 to 15 year prison sentence Monday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland for unarmed robbery.

Carter pleaded guilty March 8 to robbing two truck drivers of $85 on Telegraph road in Bloomfield Township last December. He will serve his sentence in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

Eye Missing 6 Years, Now He Wants It Back

OMAHA (UP)—Detective Inspector Harry Green got a letter from Albert Baker, Duluth, Minn., who wrote that he lost his plastic eye in the Omaha jail. He said he wants it back. "I think it was back in 1948," he said.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headache, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to over- or under-drinking may cause getting up at night or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—helps loosen kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today.

Pheasant Eludes Kettle; Windows Tell the Story

WINDSOR, Ont. (UP)—A misguided hen pheasant showed yesterday she lives by one natural law—the survival of the fittest and the fastest.

Crashing into a kitchen window at the home of Mrs. Raymond Pare yesterday, the pheasant soon found herself in Mrs. Pare's grasp. Mrs. Pare called the Windsor Star. A photographer came out, snapped a picture, then asked: "What will you do with it now?"

"Eat it," was Mrs. Pare's quick reply. The bird, which wasn't having any, jerked loose with a squawk and went back out the window, breaking another pane of glass on its way.

Cab Driver Mute in Assault Charge

LINCOLN PARK (INS)—A Lincoln Park cab driver stood mute yesterday at his arraignment on a charge of felonious assault in the stabbing of another cab driver early last Saturday.

Lincoln Park Municipal Judge Clyde W. Chapman set a bond of $3,000 for Otis Collins, 35, pending examination. Collins' brother, Richard, 27, charged with simple assault, was placed under $300 bond. The stabbing victim, Donald L. Rousse, 21, was struck in the back. Rousse told police he got in a fight with Otis Collins after refusing to join the Teamsters Union, AFL.

Adlai Rests Comfortably After Kidney Operation

CHICAGO (INS)—Adlai E. Stevenson, 1932 Democratic presidential candidate, reportedly was resting comfortably in Chicago's Passavant Hospital today after surgery for removal of a kidney stone.

His physician said the former Illinois governor is in good condition and is expected to remain in the hospital a week. He was operated upon Monday.

PORTABLE X-RAY—Eleanor Baran of the Argonne National Laboratory at Lemont, Ill., holds a new and inexpensive portable X-Ray unit recently developed by Argonne scientists. Although the entire unit weighs less than 10 pounds, the radioactive thulium provides rays comparable to a 100,000 volt X-Ray machine.

Discover Brain Secretes New 'Control' Chemical

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (INS)—Discovery that your brain secretes a chemical to protect you against the ravages of your emotions and especially against high blood pressure—was announced today by a Chicago scientist.

The new finding is startling evidence that your brain controls body functions through chemicals and hormones and not just through nerve connections.

It suggests, the scientist said, that the brain "forms the main line of attack and defense" in the struggle that goes on when the emotional strain of modern life starts to hit the body. It also points to a hopeful new line of attack against hypertension.

Dr. Alfred Leimendorfer of Chicago's Loyola University found the new—and still unidentified—chemical in the cells of a function point buried deep in the brains of cats and dogs. Other workers found it in human brain cells at the same point. The caudate nucleus.

When the chemical was extracted and injected into test animals, it produced a deep, long-lasting fall in blood pressure.

It is possible, he said, that the new brain chemical helps keep human blood pressure normal and that a lack or absence of it may be a cause of high blood pressure, one of the 20th Century's great killers.

The scientist speculated that emotional tensions like fear and worry may cause the brain to send signals to endocrine glands like the adrenal, ordering them to produce substances that raise blood pressure.

If this continues too long, your arteries can be damaged. This leads to permanent high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries, and often to fatal strokes.

At this point in this cycle, Dr. Leimendorfer believes, your brain may pick up signals of impending trouble—and secrete the pressure-dropping chemical.

Careful tests show that this brain balm is not any of the tissue substances already known to lower blood pressure. It is apparently brand new.

Governor Approves Soo Crossing Bonds

LANSING (UP)—Gov. Williams approved six legislative bills today, including one authorizing the International Bridge Authority to issue revenue bonds to build a bridge or tunnel between the American and Canadian Shulls.

Other bills signed: Provide for city civil defense directors to be appointed by the same method prescribed in local charters for the appointment of other municipal administrative officials.

Forbid any railroad, except by permission of the Public Service Commission, to construct tracks closer than 14 feet between the centers of parallel tracks. The law now provides for 13-foot centers.

Make it illegal to falsely claim motor fuel tax refunds.

Allow township supervisors to employ attorneys to represent the township board.

3 Youths, 1 Man Fined $25 Each at Walled Lake

Three Walled Lake youths were fined $25 with costs each yesterday for having alcohol in their possession and a fourth was fined $25 with costs for contributing to the delinquency of minors.

John Wilson Jr., 17, of 1420 Ladd Rd., Roy Fairchild Jr., 18, of 1006 Oakley Park Rd., and Ralph Sparks, 17, of Willow Camp Cabins, all pleaded guilty to the liquor charges, and Sparks' brother, J. T., 25, was fined for contributing.

State's Budget Looks Balanced

According to Estimates, Michigan Will Be in the Black Next Year

LANSING (UP)—State Fiscal officials agreed today Michigan probably will have a balanced budget next year, no matter whose revenue estimates you take.

Their comments followed the statement of Sen. George N. Higgins (R-Ferndale) in the closing hours of the 67th Legislature Saturday that the Legislature had balanced next year's budget. Higgins presented a new and higher estimate of revenues to support his statement.

Louis M. Nims, state revenue commissioner, said, "It looks like we will end up this fiscal year with enough surplus to put next year's budget in the black."

State Controller John W. Lederle estimated the surplus would be about one million dollars, or $300,000 above the total of next year's budget approved by the Legislature.

Lederle and Nims participated in the revenue estimates which Gov. Williams submitted to the Legislature and which were three million dollars less than Higgins estimated.

By CAROLE URICH
Wife of Rev. John Urich
In March 1951, my husband, John Urich, was summoned to Grace and St. Paul's Lutheran Church in New York City on a six month trial basis. Not many ministers go through a trial period before they are called. But it was different for John and me.

We are both blind. So we were really on trial.

Before we faced the challenge, we looked at the whole situation as we always do when we have to make a turn in the road.

Now, how can sightless people look at anything? I'll tell you how: For the blind, or the seeing, there is always an inner light, if they want to look for it. It's the luminous hand of God pointing the way.

"No congregation is going to call a blind pastor just because he is able to make it to and from the pulpit on Sunday morning," John said. "We have work to do."

We got busy at once. John organized a church cabinet of people representing all the varied activities of the congregation. It gave a focus and a sense of direction to everything the church did.

John began by perking up the teenage group and the young adults, and I organized a young girls' choir, began playing piano for the kindergarten, and organ for Sunday School.

We met at the Kansas State School for the Blind, and were married when John was a senior and I a junior at the University of Kansas.

There wasn't enough money for both of us to attend school. I knew I could cook and iron without that A.B., so I settled for the MRS. degree.

I earned some extra money ironing shirts. John and I earned a bit more singing and playing our songs at club meetings and churches. We learned early not to worry. We knew God was on our side.

After John graduated from the University, we went to Washington where he got a job as a telephone operator. He worked at it for four years, and his work was always so perfect no one ever had to do any erasing.

One day John told his pastor of his secret desire to be a minister. Dr. Oscar Blackwelder hesitated for less than a second and said: "John, I know you can."

A year later my husband entered the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Philadelphia. Because there were no text books in Braille at the Seminary, John collected volunteers to read the regular text-books to him. Often they studied long into the night, and I'd make the coffee for them. At graduation in 1950, John was eighth in the entire student body.

For nine months after graduation John was a substitute for pastors who were ill. He did very well, but everyone was doubtful about a blind minister. Then John was given his six months trial.

Grace and St. Paul's is an old church, one of the oldest in New York. Though it has 400 members, only one third of them live in Manhattan. The rest are still loyal members, but they've moved to outlying sections of the city, and across the river into New Jersey. John began visiting them, when they were in need, whether he was summoned or not. Bonnie, our seeing-eye dog, always goes with him.

They travel by subway, bus and ferry to reach his scattered flock. John carefully rehearsed all phases of his church service. Handling Communion, for example, loomed as a very difficult problem since he would have to serve the wine cups and bread on a precision basis.

Then, thank God, one of the congregation came up with an idea. Inside the Communion rail, a cord was tacked to the floor; pegs placed on the cord in the exact positions where members of the congregation would be kneeling.

By moving his foot along the cord and touching the pegs, John knew exactly where to stop. On his first Communion Sunday John didn't spill a drop.

Soon teenagers and young adults started to invite us to their events. Sometimes it would be a dinner or a play, or baseball, which is John's first love in sports. He's a Giant fan.

For three mornings a week, John was supplied a secretary, who reads the mail, and then John answers it. She fills out the certificates for weddings, baptisms, and funerals and John arranges his schedule for them.

Finally, the six month trial period was up, and Hans Classen, president of our church, called John to a general meeting. I shall never forget that night.

Hans Classen stood up and his voice rang clear and certain across the crowded room. "John Urich, we are proud to call you as our permanent pastor."

I could sense John turning pale. Afterwards friends confirmed that he really did. I heard him swallow hard and ask for a glass of water.

"Well, do you accept?" the presi-

Truman Blasts Wild Charges

Ex-President Claims
'Political Bogeymen' Try to Kill Freedom

FULTON, Mo. (INS)—Former President Harry S. Truman charges that "political bogeymen" are trying to destroy the freedom of Americans with a "torrent of wild charges" against the integrity of their institutions.

Truman hurled the charge in an address last night at Westminster College in Fulton, Mo., from the same platform where Prime Minister Winston Churchill delivered his famous "Iron Curtain" speech eight years ago. The ex-chief executive, in the first of two lectures sponsored by the John Findley Green Foundation, told his audience that "political bogeymen" are making a mockery of the very institutions they so callously pretend they are seeking to preserve.

Truman avoided direct mention of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), but he inferred the Wisconsin "Republican senator is threatening to undermine the respect and confidence Americans must have in one another."

Junkmen Make Junk by Ripping Rain Spouts

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two young junkmen were fined $75 each in Northeastern police court yesterday for making their own junk. It was testified they took three copper rain spouts off garages, mashed them and tossed them into their junk wagon. The spouts were worth $10 apiece.

dent asked with a smile in his voice.

"From the bottom of our hearts, Mrs. Urich and I thank you," John said. "I accept."

"Thank you, dear God," I whispered, and I felt the tears of thanks roll down my cheeks. We learned later the vote had been unanimous.

When we got home that night, I sat right down at the piano and played: "God Bless This House," and John sang it. Then he added "And God bless our church."

If the congregation had any doubts during the trial period, they were gone: They knew that John needed no seeing-eye dog to lead them in God's way.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Fort Ziegenhardt's Fall

The inevitable has happened at the Lapeer County farm home of CHRIS and PAUL ZIEGENHARDT.

There never was any doubt that the crude fort they built in their farm yard and their 19 year long fight against an insurance assessment eventually would collapse. The only question was when.

The answer came with the arrival at dawn of 36 State troopers and sheriff's deputies. Methodically, smoothly and without any interference from neighbors they carried out a State Supreme Court eviction order.

This, we hope, indicated that a final chapter is being written in a fight which has kept some Lapeer County farm folk seething since 1935. We hope, too, that the brothers, now in their seventies, will realize at last how tragically expensive to them has been their acceptance of bad advice.

The assessment they fought so long and bitterly totaled only $280. According to reports the brothers spent $18,000 fighting it and in the process lost a 240 acre farm valued at $40,000.

Besides, their unbelievable stubbornness and willingness to accept the false idea that State law couldn't touch them, have cost the State dearly. Not only has the case been in and out of the Supreme Court several times, but it even for a time threatened a breakdown of law and order in Lapeer County.

It's a widely known fact that ignorance of the law is no defense. This case proves that defiance of the law can be disastrous.

Our Finest Export

When someone says that America's most valuable export is agricultural know-how, it is bound to attract attention at home and abroad.

The statement is all the more interesting and important when it is made by a man like Dr. VINCENT CARDON, former research director for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The fact that he made this statement before leaving for Rome to join U. N.'s Food and Agriculture Organization is likely to win it increased attention in many underdeveloped countries.

Dr. CARDON reminded the magazine Country Gentleman that most of our farm animals and plants originally were imported from Europe, Asia and other parts of the world. Over the years our farmers have improved these animals and plants by scientific breeding and feeding and much of the world wants to share in these improvements.

"I see the FAO as a great clearing house for agricultural knowledge," said Dr. Cardon. "It is the least expensive and most effective method we can adopt to help lift living standards throughout the world. And a well-fed world is likely to be a more peaceful world."

This sounds like down-to-earth common sense.

Better Anti-Red Laws

Attorney General BROWNELL's nationwide telecast was a workmanlike report on the Administration's achievements and needs in combatting subversion and home front Communism.

Details on security risks removed from Government and Communist leaders convicted and jailed, were purely factual. But these served to show that the Justice Department, our Courts and the FBI have made far more progress against this internal menace than has been realized generally.

In addition Mr. BROWNELL left the impression that given some better legal tools, these agencies can cope with Communist problems entirely within the framework of our Constitution.

Among new laws suggested were the death penalty for peacetime as well as wartime espionage and elimination of the statute of limitations in such cases. Other proposals include measures to prevent witnesses from pleading self-incrimination to avoid testifying, and to legalize evidence obtained by wire tapping in espionage cases.

There may be some question whether Congress is willing to write all of these proposals into law and of course all should be given careful Congressional scrutiny. In our view, however, the Attorney General's aim is wholly in the national interest.

Loyal citizens want our Justice Department, our Courts and the FBI to have every legal anti-Red weapon that can be forged without violating our Federal Charter.

SOME are beginning to fear that our military "New Look" may turn out to be a bright orange radioactive cloud that envelopes the earth.

"A MAN can't enjoy anything he can't understand," asserts a psychologist. Oh, no? What about life, money and women?

A Pontiac family must find a new garbage disposal place. Finding a lot of garbage strewn along the fence rows of his farm near Holly, Walter Kalkas pieced together some of the torn paper scraps in the mess, and made out a Pontiac name and address on a phone bill. He called them up and told them to either come and remove the garbage or face arrest. The same day the wife and a neighbor woman made the 20 mile drive and did a good clean up job.

Robert White Says People Should Okay Bingo If Played for Charitable Purposes

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be printed if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

I would like to voice the views of a very conscientious group, the Oakland County Charitable and Non-Profit Bingo Association. As chairman of this group, I have put forth much effort studying this issue. I sincerely believe that if the opponents of charitable bingo would go forth in their own community with their eyes open and see the many worthwhile projects that have been created and carried on by this game they would have a far different attitude.

Many of the recreational activities and educational programs, all helping to curb juvenile delinquency, are sponsored by clubs which are solely supported by bingo.

It is difficult for me to believe that if people knew these facts they would want to curtail such worthy causes. It is hard to comprehend why some people object to the people of Michigan voting on this important question.

Our petition now being circulated does not write a new law permitting open gambling; it definitely entrusts our law makers to license and regulate bingo and raffles to assure that they are for charitable and non profit purposes.

We believe that if people authorize this amendment to the constitution, the legislators have the ability to regulate it so that there will be no commercial gambling.

Waterford.

Propaganda Line by Reds Inside U. S. Insidious, Dangerous, All Too Effective

By DAVID LAWRENCE
 WASHINGTON — Just what do 25,000 Communist agents throughout the United States do every day?

Lately there has been a tendency in some quarters to say that 25,000 is only a small number out of an adult population of 100,000,000 and hence the menace can be regarded as relatively insignificant.

This correspondent has just completed a survey among authoritative sources concerning the activities of the 25,000 Communist agents, as the facts have been given to officials in the executive and legislative branches of our government.

In the first place, any cause or organization engaged in pursuing an objective would count itself lucky in having 25,000 full-time representatives to carry on its work.

Every one of these 25,000 is known to have at least 10 friendly contacts, bringing the circle of influence up to at least 250,000. These agents live in every state in the union and influence opinion in every community.

The tactics of the 25,000 are varied. They range from the making of telephone calls to radio and television stations immediately after controversial speeches have been made to the constant writing of letters of propaganda to the daily newspapers.

In many instances, this correspondent has answered letters of that type only to have them returned by the post office authorities with the statement that no one of the name given is known at the address.

If American newspapers published the addresses of persons who write them on highly controversial subjects, the neighbors could readily determine whether such letters are genuine or fictitious. This would reveal whether persons engaged in supporting Communist agents' activities are deceiving the press.

The 25,000 agents have their contacts in the press, the radio, the churches and the colleges, but they are concentrating for the most part now on national and local organizations within which they seek to influence the passage of resolutions.

The latest edict from Communist headquarters to the 25,000 agents calls on Communists in all districts in the United States to launch a program bombarding newspaper editors with statements that the Communist party does not advocate the overthrow of the American government by violence.

In a few weeks from now many fellow travelers will take up this line and soon organizations which on their face are not connected remotely with the Communists will take up the cry.

The success of the 25,000 Communist agents in getting petitions signed and literature distributed is very marked. In the month of August 1952, there were 400,000 pieces of literature distributed on the Rosenberg case and 50,000 signatures obtained.

These petitions are never signed by the Communist party itself but by some "front" organizations with respectable-sounding names. The mailing lists are obtained from phone books and public records.

Sub-agents are given copies of mimeographed letters to be used by those replying, and resolutions are drafted for passage in labor unions, educational organizations, civic clubs, church groups, etc.

Whispering campaigns are a favorite form of Communist-agent activity. Lately attention has been concentrated on rumors concerning the Indochina War, just as was the case during the Korean War.

As soon as a few American technicians went to Indochina, the Communist agents stirred up opposition in various ways.

Some idea of the control which the Communist leaders have over the rank and file can be derived from the fact that from Dec. 27, 1953 to Jan. 17, 1954, a large number of pickets on the Rosenberg case operated around the clock every day.

They were aided by persons in other lands. Communications of Movin' three times is equal to one fire or about two weekend visits, by Cousin Lottie and her younguns.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Tomboys Often Arouse Jealousy of Other Women

Paula is a former tomboy, but she is not what we psychologists call the "sex deserter" type of female. The latter imitates masculine habits and wears masculine apparel in the hope of avoiding unfavorable comparison with beautiful women. She deserts her sex.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case K-374: Paula G., aged 29, is a very popular housewife, with two children.

"But, Dr. Crane, something is wrong with me," she confessed, "for I don't feel at home in women's groups."

"Oh, the women are polite and so am I, but I just don't feel that sense of belonging to their realm."

"And many wives are unduly jealous of me because I mingle easily with men and am rather popular with the male sex."

"I grew up without sisters. All my childhood was spent with boys. I was a typical tomboy. So do you think that is the reason why I feel more at home with men and may incur the jealousy of my own sex?"

Yes, tomboys often arouse the jealousy of other women after they grow up. For the tomboy type of girl is a better student of masculine psychology.

Having played with boys in grammar and even high school, she understands them better. And she also is more familiar with their masculine sports.

For she may have had to fill-in at baseball or even on their football teams. Thus, she got acquainted with the male sex before boys had any significant romantic regard for girls.

So she was admitted to the camaraderie of boys and thus knows how to talk their language.

Later, when she is thrown with young women of 18 to 20, she may feel somewhat ill at ease. Even though the tomboy develops into a very feminine looking wife, she may still lack a sense of comradeship with her own sex.

The chit chat and gossip of other females in the powder room at a formal dance, may thus be alien to the former tomboy.

She'd prefer to be engaging in repartee with the young men out in the ballroom.

And she may be able to start up conversations naturally and gracefully, while her feminine comrades stand relatively tongue-tied and shy.

So these other girls subconsciously resent her easy way of "getting around" men. They often condemn her for being bold and flirtatious.

The tomboy, in turn, will sense this veiled hostility and may then delight in gaining the attention of the husbands or sweethearts of these other females.

Some girls, however, feel they lack the beauty and attractive figures that a normal woman should have, so they subconsciously acquire masculine habits and try to hobnob exclusively with males.

They may affect ultra short hair bobs, and smoke or drink and tell risqué stories. Basically, they want to desert their own sex so they will not suffer by being compared with more beautiful women.

Soap 'n' Water Are Powerful Enough So Why Spend Hard Cash on Antiseptics?

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

The trouble with wisecracks (I'm afraid they'll get mad if I call 'em morons) is that they confuse disinfectants with antiseptics. The more so, the better the nostrum vendors like it.

An antiseptic is an agent that opposes or retards decay or spoilage, or slows or reduces the growth or multiplication of germs.

A disinfectant is anything that removes infection, usually by destroying germs (germicide).

An antiseptic is ordinarily used in or on the body. A disinfectant is used on inanimate objects or surfaces. In twentieth century practice, that is.

In the nineteenth century there was as much confusion in the medical mind as there is today in the popular mind about antiseptics, germicides and disinfectants.

Probably a good many of you credulous patients and your doctors regard me as a queer geezer with a lot of peculiar notions. From your viewpoint that may be right. After all, I do roll some-salts every morning. I use only soapy water as a mouth or tooth-wash and never brush my teeth. You may or may not take seriously my advice about the germ-killing nonsense.

I know this is still a free country, so long as Sen. McCarthy doesn't spring a coup d'etat, but now that we have come to the point I want to tell you what I think about killing germs.

I have already indicated that I don't believe one should kill animal, bird or fish for sport, only for food, or in self-defense.

Germs are a form of life, perhaps more vegetable than animal, but it is all right to kill them; for it is always in self defense.

In the nineteenth century doctors were as intent on killing germs as people are today.

Essential properties of the operating theater in the gay nineties were two dangerous germ-killers, namely, phenol (carbolic acid) and corrosive sublimate (bichloride of mercury), and one less dangerous but more spectacular disinfectant, hydrogen dioxide (peroxide).

Early in the twentieth century all antiseptics, germicides or dis-

Sometimes non-athletic boys will likewise shun their own sex because they haven't big biceps and bulging, footballer's shoulders.

So we have many sex-deserters among both sexes. But the typical tomboy girl with normal feminine adult charms, actually has an asset in being able to understand men and start conversations gracefully.

But she must always be liberal with compliments and show considerable attention to the other women in the crowd so the latter will not misconstrue her interest in men.

The tomboy girl, after she matures, often makes an ideal teacher of a boy's class in Sunday school, for she can participate in their play with less awkwardness. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3-cent stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.) Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAKER

International News Service
 If the missus starts attic-polishing this week just take your foot in hand and sprawl.

That's because Cornell nuclear mechanics say there's a fine layer of atomic dust on everything in the world. Next time you write your name on the piano you'd better rush your finger to the digitarium.

That last hydrogen bowser fused an archipelago, bent the ocean and set the international date line back 35 minutes, 12 seconds and the corner drugstore.

The scientists admit this fissioned smog is harmless under ordinary conditions. But we advise the missus to use a Geiger counter for lumps under the carpet.

Life is getting more complicated than the backroom of a bicycle repair shop. Anybody shaking a dust rag out of the window is violating section 2, clause 5, of the haphazard security act.

Beating a rug over the backyard clothesline violates the rights of fishing minorities. You've got to have a government permit to go dust-mining.

Following the instructions of the Einstein cook book you can heat the house by radiant fission. Beat the whites of two Higgs to an incandescent glimmer, stir with a sixty-foot spoon, let it boil for two longs and three shorts, heave it out the kitchen window and sound the all-clear on a jet nutmeg grater.

We are living in an atomic age these formulated days. There's percentages, prescriptions, codes, re-actions and tolerances filtering through the chicken wire in the conservatory.

The morose dust is the top soil of eternity powdered with the pestle of curiosity in the mortar of research. It sparkles like ground rhinestones when sprinkled tightly on waffles. By next year the government hopes to have it both alternating and direct.

How are you going to have a bomb-proof cellar when your furnace is liable to vote the straight Democratic ticket any shovelful?

So don't go wackish if the missus runs you out of the house. She's fighting a rear-guard action against science.

Infants were excluded from operating rooms and as asepsis became the imperative principle of surgery and obstetrics.

Absolute cleanliness, that is. Keep the germs out and there need be no attempt to kill 'em.

Aseptic technique is composed of equal parts of knowledge, skill and conscience. Few other than medical students and students of nursing master it.

When a Saireygamp comes bearing a "powerful" smelling "antiseptic" the patient is out of luck.

Try to get this fact through your head—plain water, normal salt solution (teaspoonful table salt in pint of boiled water) or soap and water will remove any germs that can be removed from wound, mucous or skin surface.

And no antiseptic, no matter how powerful it smells or looks, can have any effect on germs which have invaded body tissues, so why pay tribute to the nostrum vendor?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

McCarthy Aides to Confer Today

Cohn, Carr to Discuss Plans for Backing Up Blackmail Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Senate investigating subcommittee aides go before their bosses today to discuss how they hope to back up the "blackmail" charges they helped Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) level at Army officials.

The two, Chief Counsel Roy M. Cohn and Chief of Staff Francis P. Carr, are key figures in the McCarthy-Army row which the subcommittee plans to explore in public sessions starting April 22.

McCarthy has stepped temporarily from the subcommittee's chairmanship while his fellow members investigate the dispute. He was reported "somewhere in Arizona" nursing a throat ailment.

Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, a storm center in the dispute, was said to have agreed at a closed meeting with the subcommittee yesterday to give the senators an advance statement "of all the accusations" the Army will make against McCarthy, Cohn and Carr, together with a list of prospective witnesses.

Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel for the inquiry, told a news conference he thought Carr and Cohn would appear as counsel for McCarthy. He withdrew that interpretation, however, when Sen. Mundt (R-SD) said McCarthy himself had not made exactly clear whether they would have authority to speak for him.

Mundt, presiding over the inquiry, told newsmen the idea of getting the advance statements is to try to prevent either side from gaining unfair advantage by springing a "surprise package" of testimony.

3 Youthful Burglars Sentenced to Prison

Three Royal Oak Township youths were sentenced to Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson Monday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland for breaking and entering in the nighttime.

William Brecht, 20, of 25418 Rialto was sentenced to 2 to 15 years while James Morgan, of 26459 Lorany, and Richard Crowley, of 804 11-Mile Rd., both 17, were sentenced to 18 months to 15 years.

The three pleaded guilty in March to breaking into a Royal Oak Township lumber company in February. Police said the youths also admitted five other breaks.

Bad-Check Passer Sentenced to Prison

Paul J. Kutter, 56, alias Jack Kellogg, of Detroit, was sentenced to 3 to 14 years in prison Monday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland for passing a bad check.

Kutter, who pleaded guilty April 5 to passing a $36 check here last November, will serve his term in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

Kutter, also admitted passing about 35 checks during 1953 in Pontiac, Detroit, Berkeley, Royal Oak and Jackson, which totaled about $1,000, police said.

Prison Sentence Meted for Unarmed Robbery

Lewis A. Denman, 29, of Farmington, was sentenced to 1 to 15 years in Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson Monday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland on a charge of unarmed robbery.

Denman pleaded guilty April 5 to trying to choke Detroit cab driver Clarence Sheffer with a necktie March 25 in Southfield Township. When Sheffer broke away Denman drove off in the cab and was arrested a short time later by Royal Oak Township Police.

Clerk Discourages Would-Be Robber

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—The young man had been in the telegraph office several times before to inquire about a money order.

But this time he wore a white mask over his face, related Mrs. Eva Brooks, 56, and said: "Open the safe."

"It is open," Mrs. Brooks replied. "But what do you want to do this thing for? You'll regret it all your life."

The man fled. Police picked him up minutes later and held him for attempted robbery.

Her Mail-Boxer Fails to Please Timid Mailman

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — When the postman constantly failed to stop by the mailbox of a Galveston woman, she called the post office to find the reason why.

She was told that her dog had driven the mailman away — but that he would deliver her mail if she tied up the dog.

She agreed to this. And so yesterday the postman stopped at her house.

But he wasn't too happy about the situation.

County Republican Women to Sponsor Breakfast, Style Show May 10

On Wednesday, Thursday PTAs to Hear Speakers

Guest speakers are lined up for various PTA meetings Wednesday and Thursday. Mrs. Max Williams, chairman of Michigan Federation of Women's Clubs United Nations Division and a member of the Speakers' Research Committee for the United Nations in New York, will address Owen PTA Wednesday at 7:30.

"Paths to Peace and Security" is the topic she has chosen.

Dr. Edith Roach Snyder will direct community singing. John Kettula will conduct the meeting, and homeroom fathers will serve refreshments.

Willis PTA will hear Mrs. Stanley Watson, chairman of the public education division of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, explain details of the polio tests to be given soon. The meeting will be held Wednesday at 2 o'clock, with an executive board meeting at 1:45 in the library.

Mrs. Watson will speak on the same subject Thursday at 2:30 before members of Central School PTA in the kindergarten room. A social hour will follow the meeting.

For the Thursday meeting of Crofoot School PTA, Dr. Helen M. Tewes will be guest speaker.

Dr. Tewes is from the University of Michigan Extension Service. The meeting will be at 2 o'clock.

Now Cotton Is Imitating Cashmere

NEW YORK (INS) — Cotton is more like cashmere every day. The word from cotton producers today is that they have now added rabbit's hair to the sturdy stuff which used to be made into house-dresses.

And the rabbit's hair combines with the cotton yarn in a weave that can hardly be distinguished from luxurious cashmere, which generally sells for more than twice as much.

This new fabric fakery is just one of the 1954 "improvements" which have made cotton the fastest-growing fashion fabric of the year.

In other cotton manufacturing concerns, silk has been added to cotton to give it a lush look of wool gabardine, or of fine wool chifons.

The only drawback in these cotton innovations is that the newcomers are not washable.

Stiffen Hairbrush

If the bristles on your hairbrush have gone soft, you can stiffen them up by rinsing them in a water solution of alum after you've washed the brush.

Cellophane, balloons and Easter goodies all go into the makeup of the Easter baskets being put together by members of Guild Three, All Saints Episcopal Church. Mrs. Palmer Strang (left) of Ascot road and Mrs. John Walker (right) of Drayton Plains put the finishing touches on two of the baskets.

Guild Makes Gay Baskets for Easter

Members of Guild Three of All Saints Episcopal Church are busy making and taking orders for Easter baskets, an annual project of the group.

Bunnies are made of balloons to decorate the baskets, which are filled with chocolate candies, eggs, and various toys in a nest of excelsior, and covered over with colored cellophane, to delight children on Easter morning.

On the basket committee are Iva Pinkston, Mrs. Bruce Hubbard, Mrs. Palmer Strang, Mrs. Chester Hall and Edna Pinkston, who took charge of ordering supplies and making the baskets.

Baskets may be ordered from any member of the guild, or by calling the church. They may be picked up at the church Friday.

Low Calorie Meals Are Demonstrated

Oakland County extension groups attended a recent demonstration of low calorie meals in Consumers Power Company auditorium.

The Oakland County agent included a discussion of complete broiler meals, low-cost desserts with a low calorie count, distinctive vegetable dishes and the use of gelatin by the calorie-conscious eater.

Anticipating Easter, Jimmy and Susan Nye eye the contents of one of the holiday baskets. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. James Nye of Elsinore drive.

Have It Ready for Illnesses

Guard Your Thermometer

Take good care of your clinical thermometer so you will always have a safe, clean temperature guide during illness.

After using, wash a fever thermometer in lukewarm, not hot, water and soap.

Rub it with a soapy piece of cotton using a circular, not perpendicular motion, to clean the grooves thoroughly. Rinse the thermometer in cool water, wipe dry, and store in its container.

If you want to keep it handy during an illness, stand it in a safe place in a small drinking glass, with cotton in the bottom to protect the tip.

When the illness is over, wash the thermometer thoroughly with soap and stand for one hour in a 20 per cent solution of alcohol.

To read a fever thermometer, hold it between thumb and forefinger just below eye-level, and twist it slowly several times until you see the broad line of the mercury. The heavy black dashes that run perpendicular to the mercury signify degrees.

Only every other one is numbered. Each degree is divided by four fine dashes, each marking two decimal points of a degree.

Find the heavy dash nearest the place where the mercury has stopped. Count the fine dashes above this degree until you see the exact spot where the mercury ends.

By adding these spaces to the full degree, you will know how much fever is shown. There is a red dash at 98.6 because fever begins above that figure.

Before using a thermometer, shake it to bring the mercury down below this danger signal.

Committees to Be Named in the Future Monday Gathering Presided Over by Mrs. Randall

The May Breakfast and style show sponsored by the Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County will be held May 10 at Northwood Inn.

Announcement of the affair was made Monday afternoon when the federation's April meeting was held at Hotel Waldron. Committees will be appointed at a later date.

Mrs. William Randall of Royal Oak conducted the meeting in the absence of Mrs. William Kennedy, president.

Mrs. Harry Henderson of Southfield was the secretary pro-tem and Mary Chapman, treasurer pro-tem. Mrs. Duncan McVean led the pledge to the flag.

A report on national affairs was given by Mrs. Ferdinand J. Henkle of Royal Oak, and Mrs. Henderson told of her recent trip to Washington, D.C., for the national conference.

Citizenship was the topic chosen by Miss Chapman, and Mrs. Sadie Williams spoke on county affairs. Mrs. Everett Reece invited the members to the countywide conference to be held Monday at 10 a.m. in the CAI Building in Waterford. Mrs. Lynn Allen is luncheon reservation chairman.

It was announced that the Southfield Club will meet in the Birmingham Community House May 6 and the Royal Oak Club will have a round table discussion on April 22 at the Women's Club.

Mrs. Ralph Cook of Ferndale, a member of the State Central Committee, reported on the work of the committee.

The Pontiac Republican Women's Club canceled the April 9 box social.

Suitable Shoes Are First Step for Happy Feet

Suitable shoes are the first step toward foot-happy days. According to foot specialists, this means comfortable shoes that are well-constructed with supple leather uppers that allow roominess across the toes, and flexible leather soles that preserve the shape of the shoe and act as shock absorbers.

Even if you're the most sedentary type, you'll do more walking now that sunny days are upon us again. So, besides comfortable leather shoes, foot doctors advise a nightly pep bath for tired feet — a handful of bicarbonate of soda and Epsom salts mixed in a basin of warm water.

The best way of putting new life into your step is a few simple exercises that work all the tiny muscles and ligaments that have stiffened during the winter months for want of practice.

You might start off with something as easy as toe-wiggling, which you can do at odd moments during the day, even with your shoes on.

Curling and uncurling your toes will strengthen your muscles and your arch structure as well as whipping up blood circulation. You can also limber up the foot muscles by walking 50 steps on your toes, and rotating the big toe by hand is a bunion-prevention measure especially recommended after a long day in high heels.

City PTA Council Outlines Its Scholarship Policies

Final discussion of the policies governing the teacher scholarship was held when Pontiac Council of PTA met Monday afternoon at Whitfield School.

The schools of Pontiac, through the PTA Council, have dedicated the month of April to fund-raising for this scholarship.

Each school plans its own project, the total receipts to be donated to the scholarship fund which will send a graduate of Pontiac High School through college and into a career in teaching.

This continuing scholarship is a constructive effort by the PTAs of Pontiac to alleviate the critical teacher shortage in this state.

It was decided that the amount of $300 per year will be granted, not loaned, to the scholarship winner.

Qualifications required of the students include:

1. Must be a student of Pontiac High School with an average or better academic record, and planning on going into the teaching profession.
2. This student must like children, be socially well-adjusted, have a good personality, initiative, resourcefulness, be morally and spiritually sound and in good physical condition.
3. Race, creed or color to make no difference.
4. The economic status of parents or guardian of a worthy boy or girl is to be considered.

5. The student must attend an accredited college in Michigan.

Recommendations for this student are to be made by the principal of Pontiac High School, the president of the PTA Council, an elementary principal, the finance chairman of the PTA Council and senior counselors.

The committee will review the progress of the student at the end of each year.

Mrs. William Wright and Mrs. William Minalek were chosen as delegates to represent the Pontiac PTA Council at the Program Planning Institute to be held in Detroit on May 3.

Three Members of Smith Faculty to Talk April 29

Three educators from Smith College faculty are slated as speakers for the Smith alumnae program, "College for a Day," April 29 at Kingswood School Cranbrook. The educators are coming from Northampton, Mass., to offer the public a few hours of post-college education from 10:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. Luncheon is included.

Nora M. Mohler, one of the speakers, is a professor of physics and a Smith faculty member since 1927. Author of many articles in her field of radiation research, she has chosen the topic "Atomic Energy, Threat or Promise" for her lecture.

Daniel Aaron, director of the American studies program at the college, specializes in intellectual, social and literary history of America, and he will speak on "The American-ness of American Literature."

Marine Leland, associate professor of French, was educated in Canada, France, Spain, Germany and the United States. She will explain the impact of radio and television on French-Canadian civilization.

Tickets for the non-profit program may be obtained through Mrs. William Spinning in Birmingham.

Orchard Lake Club Plans April Opening

Orchard Lake Country Club will hold a spring opening party April 24, with a dinner and dancing. Reservations may be made at the club.

A bowlers' party is planned for May 7, with dancing from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Dinner will be at 7:30.

PTA Activities

Eastern Junior High School PTA will meet Wednesday at 7:30 in the school auditorium for election of officers. Waldo, Wash. will discuss a discussion and show a film on adolescent needs. Students are welcome.

Emerson Executive Board of Emerson School PTA will meet Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. with Mrs. Fred Henry, 832 Cameron Ave.

Ensemble Entertains Junior Club

Monday Gathering Attended by Guests From Musicales

Members of the Tuesday Musicales Workshop Ensemble were guest artists at the Monday evening meeting of the Junior Pontiac Women's Club.

Mrs. Ronald Hodge presided at the business meeting, which was held in the Rose Kneale Room of Stevens Hall.

Tickets for the City Federation's style show and card party were distributed by Mrs. Eugene Wellman, who announced that proceeds from the party will go to the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children.

Mrs. R. R. Dougherty, program chairman, introduced Mrs. George Putnam who conducted the ensemble in a cantata, "Wind of the West."

Taking part in the cantata were Mrs. Gordon Woolcock, Mrs. A. J. Willoughby, Mrs. John Wiley, Mrs. John Nicolls Jr., Mrs. Charles D. Wright, Mrs. Donald V. White, Mrs. T. E. Nelson and Mrs. Ralph Norvell.

Members of the social committee included Mrs. Roy J. Wright, Mrs. Irene Albright, Mrs. Marjorie Cotterman, Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson, Mrs. Philo Nye, Hazel Potts, Mrs. John Sheehan, Mrs. Floyd Schoonover and Mrs. Harry Aten.

Artists Welcome New Members

Four new members were welcomed into Pontiac Society of Artists recently at Mrs. L. L. Sterling's home on Lorraine court.

Mrs. Homer Russell, Mary Meitsch, Mrs. Charles W. Goforth and Paul B. Taylor are the new members.

Plans were discussed for a forthcoming exhibit of members' work at Pontiac City library May 23. Mrs. Chadd Mellinger was elected treasurer to fill a vacancy.

Mrs. Norton Re-elected

Children's Aid Gathers

Hotel Waldron was the setting for the Friday afternoon meeting of the Michigan Children's Aid Society. Mrs. Bert E. Norton presided at the meeting and was re-elected president.

Other officers elected were W. E. C. Huthwaite, vice president; William MacDonough, secretary, and Mrs. Barney W. Habel, assistant secretary. Milo Cross was elected as treasurer.

Annual reports showed that 31,834 days of care have been given to 198 different children. It was shown that 470 units of medical work have been accomplished.

Plans were made to entertain the boarding parents at a dinner May 25. The society is a United Fund organization.

MRS. BERT E. NORTON

Class Entertained by Glen Robertsons

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Robertson of West Walton boulevard were hosts to the Fellowship Class of the Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church on Friday evening.

Mrs. Galen Dawson assisted the hosts. Devotions were given by Mrs. George Hollis, who used Easter thoughts and quizzes on the subject.

Mrs. Robert Ryan offered the prayer. Appointed to the committee for the nursery were Mrs. Leonard Mayes and Mrs. Harold Pearsall. Sein Win, one of the foreign students from the University of Michigan entertained this weekend in Pontiac homes, was a guest of the group.

Plans Easter Dance

"Young Adults Club of the YMCA has planned an Easter dance for Thursday at the Y. June Newcombe is chairman of the dance, which will preview new record selections.

Guard Rings of Palladium Add Sparkle

NEW YORK — A pair of connected guard rings set with colored stones designed to accommodate a diamond ring is the latest idea introduced by a jewelry designer here.

Known as insert guards, the bands are joined together at the bottom of the shanks by a narrow palladium bar, with sufficient space to fit a diamond ring. The guards are made in palladium, and are available set in emeralds, rubies or sapphires, either natural or synthetic.

Principal purpose of the connected guards is to provide a snug fit for the diamond ring, which was not always possible in the past with individual guard bands.

By placing the three rings closely together, the colored stones tend to accentuate the sparkle of the diamonds, thereby making them appear larger than they actually are.

The trio of rings also combines to make a fashionably smart and colorfully appealing design. In addition to making "small gems big and big gems bigger," the insert guards may be used with round, emerald, baguette or marquise diamonds.

Mrs. Robertson Is Host to Group

Mrs. Don Robertson was hostess in her home on Henry Clay avenue for the meeting of the December Group. She was assisted by Mrs. Merle Voss.

Mrs. Edward Auchard and Mrs. T. J. Lassen attended the meeting as guests. Mrs. E. L. Guy gave the group stewardship report.

Mrs. Leslie Ellis used "The Democratic Church" as her Bible study topic. The missionary education report was given by Mrs. Reynolds Brewer. She told about the Spanish-Americans in Texas and Mexico.

Fashions for Young Set Swing in Focus

Designers are bringing Easter glamour to the younger set with grown-up styling.

Princess and empire lines are adapted for girl's figures and full, full skirts are made to be worn over their own peek-through crinolines and additional puffs. Can-can ruffles are used at times for added skirt fullness.

The sleeveless look dominates the spring fashion picture, but very brief sleeves are shown with new treatments. These include tiered ruffles, tulip cuffs, bow-tied shoulders and abbreviated cap sleeves.

Necklines make headlines with cowls, bertha and ruffled collars, the little boy and soft cape collars. Many are scooped both back and front — harbingers of impending warmer weather.

All that glitters is not gold—it's rhinestones, pearls and jeweled pins, too. But golden touches appear at the waistline, in beautifully detailed buttons, or in the fabric itself. These jewel touches place emphasis on pockets, collars, belts and bodice.

One polished cotton dress boasts its own bejeweled shrug sweater. Gold blends with white on an embossed nylon print to carry a subdued glitter through the whole dress.

Designers focus attention, too, on the beautifully executed details of their spring line. Belts in leather, clear plastic, grosgrain and velvet appear as accents in cummerbund and contour shapes.

Three-tiered pockets star in hearts and geometric patterns. Appliques and fine French ribbon lend an ethereal spring touch to bodices and skirts. Scallop add a fluffy feminine touch to over-skirts and aprons.

Crisp silky cottons and nylons lead the Easter parade in the newest roles. Embossed patterns emphasize the 3-dimension textures in basket weaves, puckers, florals and geometrics — sometimes are combined for exciting effects.

Prints are important in this collection and include Victorian motifs along with modern interpretations of flora and fauna. An outstanding group is the confined disciplined vegetable series of beets, peas and asparagus interpreted in a young but sophisticated manner.

Novelty stripes and prints are matched with solids on many dresses — some giving a two-piece effect, others for contrast trim.

Colors are borrowed from the Easter bunny's palette — with pink and yellow vying for the number one spot.

Standish Group Meets on Friday

The Standish Group met Friday afternoon with Mrs. Howard George on Spence street for a luncheon. Mrs. Carl Malkin was cohostess.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Dan Kinney, and Mrs. Sol Kline presided at the meeting. Plans were made for a money-making project. A social hour followed the meeting.

Mrs. Roy Bennett will open her home on Chamberlain street for the next meeting.

Housewife Gets Job by Translating Club Work Into Business Terms

Another Obtains Typewriter Free

By ANNE HEYWOOD
Here are some job-hunting tips which readers have been kind enough to pass along to other women with job-hunting troubles.

"I was the housewife who had never worked," Mrs. M. B. writes, "at least, according to the employers who interviewed me."

"Actually, I raised four children, doing all my own work, and also did a lot of fund-raising for the local Community Chest."

"But none of this seemed to mean anything to employers, not even the fact that I had been program chairman and membership chairman of our women's club."

"After being laughed out of quite a few interviews, I finally got smart. I was being interviewed for a sales job in cosmetics, and I really did want it.

"But I knew I was older than they preferred, and all my experience had been volunteer."

"Well, when this man asked me why I thought I could handle such a job, I said: 'You may laugh at my experience as club chairman, but what it amounts to is that I've spent my life persuading women to do what I wanted them to do. I know I could persuade them to buy your cosmetics!'"

"And he hired me!"

Thank you, Mrs. M. B. You've made a very good point. Translate your volunteer work into terms that make sense to the employer, and you've got your job.

Another reader, Mrs. L. L., has another good pointer.

"I was trying for a typing job," she says, "but we had no typewriter at home, and no money to buy or even rent one.

"I knew that my job-hunting letters, most of them to box number ads from the paper, would have to be typewritten. What to do?"

"I finally got a brain storm. I put an ad in our local paper saying I would type half days for one week for an employer free, if I could use his typewriter the other half of the day."

"Got several takers, and was able to write all my job-hunting letters on someone else's typewriter, and I got a job!"

When a severe obstacle stands in your way, don't just give up and consider it hopeless.

Instead, try to think of it as a challenge, and the chances are that some solution will pop in your head.

Ask Politely for the Use of Telephone Don't Just Demand That Other Party Get Off Line

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter makes this complaint: "The other day on our telephone — which is a party line — I waited 45 minutes before I could put through my own call. Every time I lifted the receiver I could hear the same woman talking."

"Finally I became so exasperated that I asked, 'Won't you please get off the line?' Don't you think, Mrs. Post, that I was justified in the face of such inconsiderateness, to say what I did, or was my behavior inexcusably rude as my husband seems to think?"

Answer: This is one of those questions of "the how" rather than of "the what." In a courteous, appealing voice, you could very well have exclaimed, "I'm so sorry to interrupt you, but it is very important that I get a message to my husband (or doctor, or whoever). May I please have a free line for a very few minutes?"

I am sure this would be answered with a courteous "Oh certainly" or "I'm sorry" and a released wire.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to write thank-you notes to the members of my husband's family who sent flowers to the funeral? My husband died recently and his sister and her husband sent a very beautiful floral piece, and I would like to know if it is necessary for me to write and thank them for it?

Answer: It is not necessary to write thank-you notes to members of the immediate family since you will certainly see them and tell them verbally that you thought their flowers beautiful.

If any of them are ill or living so far away they were not able to come to the funeral, you would then, of course, tell each of them about the beauty of their flowers in letters of appreciation, rather than of thanks.

Dear Mrs. Post: What should I do in return for shower parties

Brother and sister are ready to lead the parade of Easter fashions in their matching gray kasheen flannel coats. White faille on the double collar and turn-back cuffs dresses up the single-breasted girl's coat, while the double-breasted boy's coat features silver military buttons, flap pockets and a grouponp back slit. There's a matching Eton cap and a bonnet for these ensembles.

Putting-Off Will Result in Nagging

Doing Your Tasks Promptly Prevents Mom's Pestering

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD
You heard your mother — you know you did. You were looking straight at her. She had your complete attention, you took in every word she said and you understood completely what she had in mind.

There was something specific you were to do. Tidy up your room, set the table, bring in the trash cans from the curb before the company came — whatever it was. It was a chore with your name on it.

There was nothing back-breaking about it. Nothing you really loathed. Just something you considered relatively unimportant. So you said to yourself "that's for later." And busily set about doing something you considered really important.

Until mother's voice — that reminding voice of hers calling your name with the upswing on the end that questioned where you were and what you were up to. You hate to hear your name pronounced in such fashion, so you pretended you didn't hear. Pretended to yourself you didn't know why she wanted you.

Impatiently came mother's voice again. This time louder, more emphatic — complete with reminder of undone chore. No response from you. You were much too busy.

Third round, mother's voice had taken on that familiar edge. It was clipped, brisk, authoritative — something about doing it right now, at once, immediately.

This you had to acknowledge — so your muffled voice (to make her think you were awfully busy cleaning out your closet) answered "in a minute, mother."

But your minute was too long for her. This time there was no doubt about it. She was annoyed. She wouldn't wait any longer.

And she was only half as annoyed as you were. Here she's spent all that time keeping at you with interruptions. If you could have been left alone you could have finished whatever was so important. But she kept nagging at you. Nag, nag, nag!

When she gave you that chore, you knew you ought to do it for her. You knew you had to do it eventually.

Putting it off just kept it hanging over your head. Putting it off just whipped mother into a froth of impatience. Probably threw her time schedule out of whack and interfered with her work. Wore her out keeping after you.

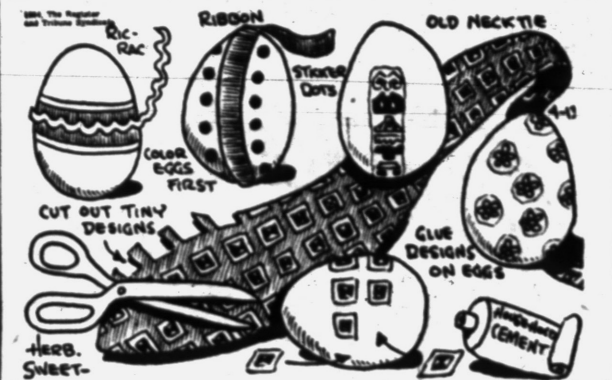

There'd be less nagging around your house — and more respect for your time shown by your parents — if you'd organize yourself and your chores so you could get them out of the way willingly and cheerfully the first time you're asked. Even without being asked.

Forgetting, postponing things you know you have to do finds parents riding you just when you have other plans.

Responding quick like a bunny to that first call is the way to end the nagging around your way. And win you that time for yourself you consider so precious.

Try It Paste Fabrics on Eggs

We all like to make our Easter eggs different, and in some sections of the country the cities and towns sponsor Easter egg shows where anyone can put his eggs on display for all to enjoy.

From time to time we have had a great many suggestions, but here is one that is unusual. To make these egg designs, you will need Mother's scrap bag and a pair of scissors. I would suggest that you use white eggs if they can be found, for the contrast of the colors on the white eggs is good.

Many years ago part of the Easter fun was wrapping the eggs in printed dress materials and boiling them. When the eggs were done, they were unwrapped and the colors of the material had faded onto the eggs. This old trick cannot be used nowadays, for our materials are colorfast, but we can use tiny designs from materials.

Clip the designs from the goods and paste in patterns right on the hard-boiled eggs. Cut out dots, squares and stripes, then paste the material and press to the egg. I have shown several ideas in the drawing.

Don't overlook Dad's worn out ties, and the flowers from discarded handkerchiefs are grand. Rickrack looks good when put on top of ribbon. Use your ideas for colorful Easter eggs.

being given for me? Do I give presents to the hostesses, or what?

Answer: Further than saying "Thank you" and showing your appreciation, nothing is expected of you. At least, not until the occasion arrives when you can give a shower for your hostess, in return.

Wear Jewelry

Don't be afraid of jewelry. Because so many women tend to overdo, don't you underdo. Most costumes are enhanced by the wearing of one or two pieces of jewelry.

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

Most women know better than to ask another woman the point-blank question, "How old are you?" But those who are really curious don't let that stand in their way.

way. They keep asking questions and doing mental arithmetic—until they are able to figure out a woman's age.

Only trouble is, it is so obvious what they are doing, that they might as well ask the forbidden question.

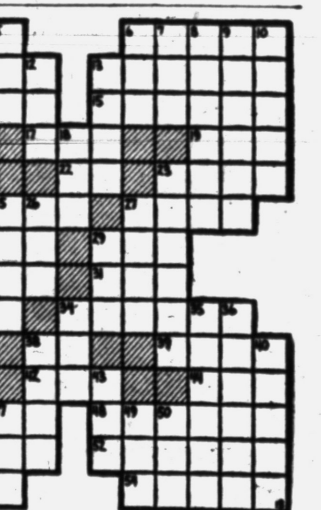

Exhibit to Tour U.S.

During the next three years, Americans will be treated to an exhibition called "Scandinavian Design," which will travel to 23 museums in the United States. The organizations responsible for the exhibition are primarily the non-profit Societies of Crafts and Industrial Design in each of the four Scandinavian countries.

Dampness Peels Paint Off Ceiling

Look for Source of Water and Correct Condition

By HUBBARD COBB

One of the many things that upset people is why, for no apparent reason at all, a section of paint on a ceiling will start to blister and peel.

Well now, if the paint has been on the ceiling for any length of time and the remaining paint seems to be in good condition, the chances are that this little condition is due to water getting absorbed by the plaster.

Before you go about repainting this area you had better find out just how water happens to be reaching this portion of your house.

Most damp spots on plaster ceilings are due to leaks in the roof and these, as we've said before, are often difficult to locate.

Many damp spots on ceilings are caused by leaky radiator shut-off valves. Water drips from the valves, seeps through the floor and reaches the ceiling. Besides spoiling the ceiling, the water also leaves a bad spot on the floor directly under the valve.

Leaks in water and heating pipes running through a ceiling are often the cause of the trouble and these can be difficult to deal with.

A peeling ceiling directly under a bathroom usually indicates that water splashed from the tub or shower is finding its way through the floor. Filling all seams between walls, fixtures and floors helps eliminate this condition and so does asking people not to splash water about.

Leaks in the plumbing system are something else to think about, but if this is the cause, the chances are that the ceiling will always be damp and never dry out.

But no matter what the source of the water, don't waste time touching up or repainting the ceiling until you've caught the water at the source, and don't put it off too long for if you do the plaster or ceiling material may be damaged beyond repair.

This mother duck and her brood of ducklings are all set for the Easter parade. Even the children could make ducklings like these, using colored tissue paper for the wings and tail and fastening them to the eggs with cellophane tape. The heads are made of yellow construction paper or any heavy paper. Mother is really an Italian basket carrying a load of dyed hen eggs.

Fabric Coverings Unify Appliances, Room Decor

By ELIZABETH HILLIER

What can be done about a big, too-shiny-white and conspicuous refrigerator in a kitchen that has natural wood cabinets? How can an air-conditioner look as if it belongs to a well-dressed window?

These are problems to be reckoned with now that natural wood cabinets have become big favorites.

ites, and air-conditioning units speed their way into more and more homes.

Designer Dave Chapman came up with one solution, making it possible to match these bulky appliances to other colors and patterns in the room.

New refrigerators are designed, and new air-conditioners, too, can be decorated with fabric.

Either the upper or lower panel of the refrigerator, or both, trades gleaming stand-out white for the kitchen curtain pattern, or, instead of fabric, a sheet of hard-finish plastic in a color from the room scheme.

The tops of Chapman-designed freezers do the same thing, and the air-conditioners take a wrap-around of drapery fabric.

About 83 million watermelons were consumed in the U. S. in 1951.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Atomic Fears Strengthen American Love of Country

When I used to go down the bay at daybreak on the revenue cutter, a young newspaper reporter assigned to meet incoming celebrities, I always asked one stock question and so did the other reporters: "What do you think of America?"

Since the incomers had seen only the skyline of New York up to then, this was rather a silly inquiry and sometimes we got polite answers, sometimes rude ones. Often, too, we were treated roughly in the books the visitors wrote about America after stays that ranged from three weeks to as much as three months.

After several years of this I decided I was just as well equipped as the traveling authors to write a book about America, and I did it. Now more than ever I want to write about America because I love her even better as time goes on and I see wider sweeps of her and compare her with the rest of the world.

It seems to me that right now other Americans are taking a good long look and finding—some with surprise—that we have a mighty nice place here and we would like to linger awhile though the chances seem to be against it.

The other day I read the sickening prediction of Prof. Herman Oberth, the man who invented the German V2 rocket, that another 12 months research will make it possible for rockets loaded with atomic bombs to devastate any spot on earth in 45 minutes. So it's anybody's guess where the world is headed, and the anxiety makes up edgy.

But regardless of its other implications, the arrival of the atomic age has at least caused us to realize that we have something worth preserving here. True, we've made plenty of mistakes—cut down too many trees, ruined farmlands, squandered coal and oil supplies, smoked up our cities. We're bigoted in spots, selfish, boastful and overbearing sometimes.

Still, we can't do our share in this present world crisis if we go to moaning too low, or become too obsessed with the conviction that we deserve nothing but trouble and end up afraid to move because we might make another mistake. To be saved, you certainly need a conviction of sin, but salvation is achieved by action, not by despairing and decrying.

It's not enough either to say that, at our worst, America is still the best place on earth to live in. With all our opportunities, we certainly could have been a lot better.

And we can do better—it's not too late yet. Even the gloomiest predictors give us 12 months. Imagine what we could do with even a year if we determinedly set to work and devoted ourselves to promoting world prosperity, understanding and peace.

Whatever the Name, Dish Is Good

Mrs. F. P. Brooks
Bakes Whole Meal
in Casserole

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Food Editor When Mrs. Frank P. Brooks gave us this recipe for a casserole dish, we accidentally reversed the title, calling it a one-meal dish instead of a one-dish meal.

She says it is such a good combination that any family the size of hers will eat it up in one meal. So we're letting the reversed name stand.

Currently Mrs. Brooks is a career woman as well as a homemaker. She is interested in Girl Scouting and in PTA work.

Her chief hobby is basket weaving, a craft in which she has become proficient. She uses her skill in basketry to make articles for her family's use, for gifts and to teach the craft to Girl Scouts.

ONE-MEAL DISH

By Mrs. Frank P. Brooks

3 onions, sliced
3 pounds ground beef
1 can peas
Any leftover gravy you may have Salt and pepper
A little chili powder
15 good-sized potatoes
Butter or margarine

Peel, boil and mash the potatoes (or use leftover mashed potatoes). Fry the ground beef and diced onions together until brown. Add peas, gravy, seasonings and mix thoroughly.

Place in a greased casserole. Cover the meat mixture with the mashed potatoes as a crust. Dot with butter. Bake 30 minutes in a 375-degree oven. Makes six generous servings.

AFL Willing to Back Jimmy Roosevelt

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The AFL's California Labor League for political education closed its meeting last night with an endorsement of the candidacy of James Roosevelt, seeking the Democratic nomination in the state's 26th District. Also endorsed was incumbent Rep. Robert L. Condon, Contra Costa Democrat.

Both men were informed recently that the National Democratic Committee would not support them.

Roosevelt is campaigning despite a separate maintenance suit earlier this year in which his wife charged him with adultery. Condon had been banned by the Atomic Energy Commission from witnessing atomic tests at the Nevada Proving Grounds.

To Seek U.S. Sales With Plastic Renault

DETROIT (INS)—French auto magnate Pierre Lefaucheur disclosed today his company is planning to build a plastic-bodied Renault sports car to be introduced for sale in the U. S. within six months.

Lefaucheur, president of Regie Nationale des Usines Renault of France, appeared in Detroit to inspect latest assembly line techniques.

He said the projected Renault sports model was an effort to capture more of the American market for his firm. Lefaucheur did not mention what price range the car would enter.

Renault, France's biggest auto maker, sold only 200 autos in the U. S. last year. The 56-year-old company employs 33,000 workers and produces 800 vehicles a day including trucks and buses.

Taint So, Says Man, 109, Reported to Be Dead

ENID, Okla. (AP)—A report of the death of Loby Porres, who claims to be 109, turned out to be greatly exaggerated.

"I'm not dead," he told officers who came to his home yesterday. They found him sitting in bed.

"He said he intended to live at least until Dec. 17—his 110th birthday. He guessed neighbors reported him dead when they saw him collapse carrying a load of wood."

FIVE LEADING AUTO EDITORS GO OVERBOARD FOR NEW MERCURY!

New 161-horsepower Mercury with ball-joint front wheel suspension gets top marks for performance, efficiency, economy and handling ease

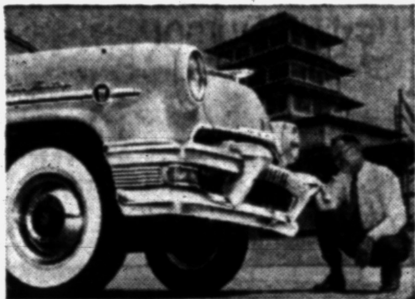

"HOT AS STRAIGHT TABASCO ON-THE-ROCKS"

Tom McCall MECHANIX ILLUSTRATED

"The place where Mercury really shines this year, aside from its speed-over-the-ground performance, is in its handling and roadability. It's a page . . . out of the Lincoln book."

"The guy who buys a '54 Merc will be getting a really new car, not a warmed-over old one. Some of Merc's competitors are . . . overdue for a change . . . the buyer of these competitors will be as out-of-date as an Indian-head penny—and when he goes to trade in, they'll talk to him in pennies."

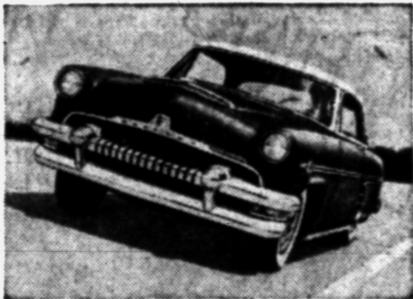

"161-HP PUSH, BUT DRINKS NO MORE GAS THAN BEFORE"

Wilbur Shaw POPULAR SCIENCE MONTHLY

Read these revealing quotes from Wilbur Shaw, President of the Indianapolis Speedway.

"Three years ago a Mercury engineer told us that his men would never be satisfied until they designed an engine that ate up a lot less of its own power than the ones then on the production line. Well, they've done it!"

"When I drove the car on the . . . test track in Dearborn, Mich., and again on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, I was struck by the smoothness of the power pick-up."

"THIS CAR IS A KNOCKOUT! . . . AND REAL EASY TO DRIVE"

Walt Woron—Don MacDonald

MOTOR TRENDS

"You'll like the 1954 Mercury, particularly if you like power that'll make you sit back in your seat when you stomp the throttle."

"If there is no other reason for the increase in horsepower (now 161) the added acceleration for passing is enough."

"Lincoln-type ball-and-socket joints on Mercury's front wheels eliminate familiar kingpin, reduce much front end vibration."

"EXCEPT FOR LINCOLN—THERE IS PROBABLY NOT A SINGLE PASSENGER CAR ENGINE THAT CAN COME UP TO ITS STANDARD FOR SHEER RUGGEDNESS"

Griff Bergeson CARS

"The intake manifold on the new Mercury is definitely one of 1954's engineering highlights. No other manufacturer of V-8 engines has produced such a logically correct version."

"One of the best engineered power plants in the industry, regardless of price."

Summer's A-Comin' In

Sun Lovers Rush Outside to Perform Spring Chores

Life began moving out of doors as spring weather moved into Pontiac Monday.

Storm windows were being taken down in large numbers, lawns were being raked and rolled along with many other springtime chores.

E. J. Finn, of 2630 Fremont Ave., defies April rain by washing his car while Mrs. William Timman, of 2886 Orange Grove Rd., Williams Lake, takes in her washing after it had dried in warm spring sun.

Officials to Hear About Vaccine

County Doctors Meeting in Lansing for Briefing on Polio Test

Oakland County Health leaders will go to Lansing Wednesday to learn whether Dr. Jonas E. Salk's new polio vaccine is completely safe and when the serum will arrive.

Dr. John D. Monroe, director of the County Health Department, said officials from all Michigan counties taking part in the polio test are invited to the meeting.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, Michigan Health Commissioner; representatives from the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis, which is paying for the tests; and other state and national officials will answer the doctors' questions.

Attending with Dr. Monroe will be Dr. Robert Mason, president of the county medical society and Drs. J. S. Lambie, C. A. Neale, and Frank Condon, all deputy Oakland County health directors.

County officials hope to start giving the first of three shots in the test to some 36,000 children in the first, second and third grades the last week in April. Only youngsters in these grades whose parents ask they take part will be given the shots.

Half the test group will get the vaccine, half an inactive liquid. Both are in vials with code numbers. No one will know which youngsters are getting the serum until sometime later, when researchers will check to find out how many children in each group are stricken with polio this season.

River Barges May Aid Transit in Pittsburgh, Pa.

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (UP)—Commuters to the city's business and shopping center soon may be "cruisin' down the river," if a proposed plan for high-speed passenger barges is put into effect.

W. N. Burt Jr., veteran riverman and president of the National Barge Co., said the use of sleek passenger barges on the Ohio, Monongahela and Allegheny Rivers would help ease Pittsburgh's congested traffic problem.

Burt has informed city planners that an investment group has offered to advance $1,000,000 to finance the project. The barges, which would reach speeds of 25 miles an hour, also could be used to ferry sightseers around Pittsburgh's redevelopment at the Gateway Center and State Point Park.

"This idea of using barges for mass transportation has never been tried before, with the exception of Venice," Burt said.

The plan calls for three terminal points, one for each river, located within 30 miles of Pittsburgh. Suggested as terminal sites were the communities of Tarentum, Elizabeth and Rochester, Pa. Among the chief advantages of such a barge service would be low operating costs and high mobility, according to Burt.

Rep. Bennett Proposes Broader Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Bennett (R-Mich.) has proposed a broadened social security program under which the pension eligibility age would range from 65 to 62.

His bill would lower from 65 to 55 the age at which widows would be eligible for a retirement pension.

"By the time the average person reaches age 62, he has completed 40 years or more of active labor," Bennett told the House yesterday.

"It is only fair then that he should be able to retire at that time and enjoy the fruits of his labor."

An earlier retirement age, he added, "will provide an incentive for older workers to give up their jobs . . . in favor of the younger generation."

Bennett's measure would increase maximum retirement benefits for a man and his wife from the present $128 a month to $162.75, and maximum survivor benefits

Use of Trucks for Short Mail Hauls Seen as Big Saving

WASHINGTON (AP)—The trucking industry said today that if it were permitted to handle all mail for distances up to 300 miles, the Post Office Department would save 85 million dollars a year and service would be faster and more reliable.

The claim was based on a 48-page report prepared by John M. Redding, former assistant postmaster general in the Truman administration, for the Independent advisory committee to the Trucking Industry, Inc.

The committee represents labor, carriers and manufacturers. The directors are Dave Beck, president of the AFL Teamsters Union; B. M. Seymour, president of Associated Transport, Inc.; Roy Fruehauf, president of the Fruehauf Trailer Co.; and Walter F. Carey, board chairman of the American Trucking Assn.

The Redding report urged legislation by Congress to give the post office authority to put bulk mail on trucks instead of trains, especially for distances up to 300 miles.

It said experience has proved trucks are more economical than trains for mail hauling.

"The post office must make a choice," Beck said in remarks prepared for a news conference.

"If it does not apply these obvious economies, it will place unjustifiable obstacles of lost time and money against American industry and communications, especially newspapers and other periodicals."

Noting that the postal deficit for last year was more than 650 million dollars, Beck said a shift from trains to trucks for mail hauls of under 300 miles would save $1 for every $8 of the deficit.

The report prepared by Redding also urged that airplanes be used for all non-local mails "whenever this would advance delivery" and said the post office should use the transportation "best suited to each specific mail-carrying job."

Postmaster General Summerfield has turned to planes for carrying 3-cent letter mail between a few selected cities.

Cancer Smears Tried on Human

Scientist Trying to Test Effect of Cigaret Tars on Own Body

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP)—A cancer research scientist is acting as a human guinea pig in an effort to determine if cigaret tars and chemicals can produce cancer. It was disclosed here.

Dr. William E. Smith told the 45th annual convention of the American Assn. for Cancer Research Monday that the scientist, who prefers to remain anonymous, volunteered to have seven different cigaret tars and chemicals painted on his body.

Dr. Smith, of the Memorial Hospital and Institute of Industrial Medicine of New York University, said that at the end of a one week test there was an enlargement of certain areas of the cells of the scientist's body.

The same condition also occurred in mice and rats when known cancer-producing chemicals were used, Dr. Smith said. Loss of hair and disappearance of the sebaceous glands which secrete fatty matter in the body were not detected in the human guinea pig although they were produced in the mice and rats, he added.

The scientist, Dr. Smith said, currently is undergoing a one-month test. The same cell enlargement was noted again, he told the group.

Dr. Smith said an 80-day test on humans would be more accurate. He pointed out that the three conditions appeared in mice after four days and that man's life span is 20 times longer.

RALPH T. NORVELL

Commercial Division UF Chairman Picked

Ralph T. Norvell will be commercial division chairman for this fall's Pontiac Area United Fund campaign, Frank S. Lyndall, campaign chairman, said today.

Norvell served last summer on the United Fund's budget committee and was co-chairman of the commercial division for the 1931 fund drive.

A member of the board of directors of two United Fund agencies, Pontiac Boys' Club and YMCA, Norvell has lived in Pontiac since 1946. He is secretary-treasurer of the Austin-Norvell Insurance Co.

are, from left: Aine, 14; Cecilia, 13; Rosaleen, 12; Kathleen, 11; Margaret, 10; Thomas, 8; Patrick, 7; Michael, 5; Bryan, 4; Sean, 2, and Seamus, 13 months.

Renewals Slated on 'C' Licenses

Request to Reconsider Building Permit for New Plant Expected

Routine business is scheduled for the first regular meeting tonight of the new Pontiac City Commission. A communication is expected from the attorney for F. G. VanHorn and Sons asking the city to reconsider action taking March 23 revoking a building permit for a ready mix concrete plant at 115 W. Walton Blvd.

Applications are scheduled for renewal of present Class "C" liquor-by-the glass and tavern licenses for 1934.

An application is scheduled from Wrigley's Inc. for a new SDM package beer and wine license at 45 S. Telegraph Rd.

A report is expected from the City Plan Commission regarding a request to rezone to C-1 a part of a block on the north side of West Huron street.

Resolutions are scheduled for receiving special assessment rolls prepared by the city assessor for recap and related work on:

Walton from Perry to the west city limits.

S. Boulevard from the Belt Line Railroad to Ogden.

Paddock from the Michigan Airline Railroad to Jessie.

A resolution is slated for receiving a special assessment roll for curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Hazel Bend from Belmont to Jessie.

A public hearing followed by approval is expected on an ordinance to rezone to M-1 property located in the southwest quarter of section 18 and the northwest quarter of section 19 totaling about 1,400 acres.

Authorization of a land contract is expected with Edward C. Lee for purchase of lots 482 and 483 of Perry Park Subdivision No. 1 and lot 1, except the west 20 feet, of Mt. Clemens Hills Subdivision.

Approval of a land contract is expected with Hugh C. Lee for purchase of parts of lots 19, 20, 21, 22 and 23 of Mt. Clemens Hills Subdivision.

Public hearings are scheduled on:

Intention to construct curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Sumner from Baldwin to Baginaw.

A special assessment roll for curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Wisner from Cass to Short.

Grand Rapids Pushing 3 Parking Proposals

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)—The city's automobile parking authority stepped up the time table for two downtown parking ramp proposals and off street parking for all the city's outlying business areas.

The authority set a 30-day deadline for a progress report on the planning of the construction.

NEW CITY WATER WELL—A crew is shown drilling the first of three new water wells near Silver Lake. The wells are expected to up Pontiac's potential water supply about 25 per cent and produce an estimated 2,700,000 gallons a day. The wells will cost about $80,000. City officials hope the wells will be in operation before summer's peak demand.

MOMS Unit 21 to Meet

Lapeer Farm Trial Begins

Third of 10 Defendants in Obstruction of Justice
Case Faces Court

LAPEER (AP) — The trial of W. Lee Mathews on charges of obstructing justice in a nearly 3-year-old eviction proceeding begins today in Circuit Court before an 11-member jury.

The jury of six women and five men will hear the case, since another man, accepted by prosecution and defense, became ill before the swearing in Monday. Both sides agreed to go on without him.

Mathews is the third of 10 men to be tried in the case. It began with an abortive attempt to evict the late Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens from her farm home on June 2, 1932.

The first two men were convicted. Mathews is a 60-year-old Brown City farmer. Sheriff Clark Gregory charged Mathews with joining the group which, he said, obstructed the eviction attempt by manhandling law officers.

Attorneys Leo Hoffman, of Allegan, son of Rep. Clare Hoffman (R-Mich.), and Clem Block, of Grand Rapids, are representing Mathews. Prosecutor George Lutz and Special Prosecutor Carl Williams oppose them.

Brothers Chris and Paul Ziegenhardt, evicted last week in a similar case, watched the selection of the jury Monday.

Sheriff Gregory said the Ziegenhardts' cattle and farm equipment would be sold at auction April 20.

Proceeds will settle a debt to Mrs. Grace White. She bought both the Stevens and Ziegenhardt farms at auction.

Then she obtained a $3,750 writ for the unpaid rent covering the period the brothers occupied the farm from the time of the sale until their eviction.

Township Plans New Fire House

Annual Budget Allows
$32,500 for Building,
Equipment

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A new fire station serving Green Lake area residents may be under construction by summer. Frank Hallett, West Bloomfield Township clerk said today.

Approved at the annual township meeting Monday night was $32,000 for a fire hall, and equipment.

An additional $1,000 was earmarked for radio equipment for the new truck or trucks for the station.

The total budget approved for the township was $182,865.

Other capital improvements besides the fire station and equipment include $10,000 for roads and $5,000 for miscellaneous expenses.

Three voting machines may be purchased out of the last fund, Hallett said, if revenues permit. Otherwise, they will be rented.

Also in the budget were $44,365 for general government expenses, $6,100 for building inspection, $26,965 for fire department and $20,700 for public safety.

Township board meeting times were changed to the second Wednesday of each month at 8 p. m.

West Bloomfield Firemen Go to 277 Fires in Year

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Fire bells changed here 277 times during the past year.

That's the number of calls answered by the township fire department in the 12 months ending March 23, Chief Ben J. Moshier reported last night.

The figure represents an increase of 74 over the previous 12-month period.

Held for Arraignment in Rochester Breakin

Two Rochester youths charged with breaking into the Rochester Recreation at 430 Main St. on April 9, waived examination yesterday and were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment there April 19.

James G. Maybee, 17, of 2627 Frank St., and Ernest Preston, 18, of 3299 Rochester Rd., are being held in Oakland County Jail. The two were unable to furnish $1,000 bond each set by Avon Township Justice Luther C. Green.

According to Rochester Police Chief Sam Howlett, the youths are accused of taking $97 during the nighttime break-in. Maybee was arrested the following day by Sgt. Robert Werth and Patrolman Vivian Moore. Preston was picked up a few hours later by Patrolman Raymond Russell.

The Adjutant General's Office—the heart of the Army's administrative operation—receives on an average of more than 45,000 pieces of mail every day.

I PUT MY CRUTCHES AWAY AFTER USING O-JIB-WA BITTERS

"I was completely off my feet and thought I would never walk again," says Mrs. Catherine Bolke, 23795 Hazelwood Street, Hazel Park, Michigan.

"A year ago last October, my back became stiff and I couldn't bend over. I almost lost the use of my entire body, and was put to bed. At first the pains were worse, but gradually they eased up. I began to move around and was able to sit in the living room and sew. After a while I could get around on crutches, but the pains were still quite bad. To my surprise, just three months from the time I started taking O-JIB-WA BITTERS, I was better and put my crutches away as I could walk again without them. Now I walk several blocks to church every Sunday and even go down the stairs to the basement to do my washing. My right leg is still a little stiff, but it is getting better every day. I sleep well at night and my appetite has improved. Words fail to express my appreciation, and I am certainly glad to recommend O-JIB-WA BITTERS to anyone."

Potter Praises Aid to Disabled

Solon Lauds Maryland on 25-Year Program of Helping Handicapped

BALTIMORE (AP) — Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich.), whose legs were amputated in World War II, congratulated Maryland last night on the job the state does for its handicapped.

Sen. Potter was the main speaker at a dinner celebrating Maryland's 25th year of helping the blind, the sick, and the crippled learn how to work with their handicaps and make a new life.

The senator congratulated Maryland on the progress it has made, but he told state leaders that they still had more work to do before they helped all the handicapped.

He said that the administration's program contemplates 10 million dollars a year for three years to grants to help states build facilities for the aid and training of the handicapped.

The plan, he said, would help about 200,000 persons by 1959. He added:

"Let me emphasize this point; all the federal government can do to expand rehabilitation programs is to encourage the folks back home to do the job and to offer financial incentives to get them to move."

"The rehabilitation of the handicapped is the responsibility of the local community. It cannot be shifted to any other place."

9-Year-Old Dies of Kerosene Burns

DETROIT (UP)—Thomas Thaxton, 9, died in Providence Hospital Monday of burns suffered in the explosion of a can of kerosene at his home here.

The boy's father, Garnett, 41, and his brother, Donald, 8, also were burned in the explosion Sunday night.

Thaxton remained in serious condition at Henry Ford Hospital. Donald was in critical condition at Providence Hospital.

5 Men May Use Senate Seat in 6-Year Term

WASHINGTON (INS) — As a result of the death of Sen. Dwight P. Griswold (R-Nebr.), it is conceivable that five men will have served in one of Nebraska's two senatorial seats during the six-year term.

The late Sen. Kenneth S. Wherry was elected to the term beginning Jan. 3, 1949. Upon his death, Fred A. Seaton, assistant defense secretary, served as senator until the next election, on Nov. 5, 1952.

Griswold was then elected to fill Wherry's unexpired term. Now, Gov. Robert B. Crosby will appoint a successor to Griswold to serve until the November elections.

The fifth senator — possibly Seaton — will be elected in November for the remainder of the term which runs until next Jan. 23.

3 Firemen Injured in Lansing Blaze

LANSING (AP) — Nine firemen were overcome by smoke in fighting a blaze that caused an estimated $25,000 damage in a North Lansing business district early today.

Three of the firemen were hospitalized. The other six were relieved of duty and sent home.

Principal damage from the fire was at the E. H. Rowley Co., the artificial limbs and braces firm.

The apartments and an adjoining store suffered smoke and heat damage.

Firemen fought the blaze for three hours. It broke out shortly after midnight. The cause was not determined.

Taken to Edward W. Sparrow Hospital after being overcome by smoke were Fire Lt. George Scarlett and Firemen Hobart Martin and John Devlin.

Highland Park Soldier Shot in Fight With MP's

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Army disclosed Monday that a Highland Park soldier was shot and critically wounded by a military policeman in Columbia, S.C. Army spokesman said Pfc. Thomas E. Ward was wounded in the neck during an affray when he and a companion were stopped on the street by two military policemen. The MP's said the two soldiers were allowing women companions to wear their uniform jackets.

Water Survey Killed by Apathy

Insufficient Enthusiasm by Affected Counties Blamed by Broomfield

Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said today a lukewarm attitude by officials in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb Counties was responsible for defeat of his water supply survey bill.

The bill, which asked for a special appropriation of $37,750 to launch the survey, was voted down by the Senate during the last day of the session last week.

Broomfield said only one city manager wrote Lansing to emphasize the need for passage of the bill in his particular community.

"If I'd had the same support from other officials in three counties the survey would have become a reality," Broomfield said. "Defeat of the bill delays the long-range planning for an adequate water supply at least a year."

The survey was intended to include a review of the water supplies in the three counties and recommendations for solving the problem of dwindling water resources.

"Inadequate water supply is an acute problem and this survey must be made eventually if residents hope to overcome the situation," Broomfield said.

Present population of Uruguay is about 2,353,000 persons.

Spencer Tracy Back at Fox After 15 Years

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Spencer Tracy, doing his first loanout in 15 years, is happy to be back at the studio where he says he was once fired.

Tracy, long a member of the MGM star team, is doing "Broken Lance" for 20th Century-Fox. The price for his services is probably around $150,000. But that's not the reason for his satisfaction. A couple of decades ago, when the studio was just plain Fox, he was under contract there.

"They fired me," he said. "Those were the days when I was still drinking, and I got drunk now and then. But never on a picture—always between. Anyway, they worried about me."

"I was all set for a big, expensive picture. But they came to me and asked if I was going to behave. I told them, 'That's a heck of a way to let me to behave! If you're worried about me, why don't you let me go?' "That's all they needed. I wasn't a box office star or anything, and they were happy to see me go. I was out of the studio the same day."

"But one thing pleased me about the whole affair. At 8 o'clock that night, my agent took me over to MGM to have a talk with Louis B. Mayer. At 9 o'clock I was signed to a contract, and I've been there ever since."

The rest, of course, is Hollywood history. Within three years, Tracy had won two Oscars for "Captains Courageous" and "Boys Town." His former bosses at Fox must have been burning.

"But they had the last word," Tracy admitted. "Somebody discovered that I still owed the studio a picture. So I went back and did 'Stanley and Livingstone' in 1939."

Tracy, who ranks with beer as one of Milwaukee's most notable products, is still going strong, having turned 54 last week. His hair is white, but he still has his youthful bounce and lively sense of humor.

There had been reports that he would be leaving MGM, along with Clark Gable, Greer Garson and other long-time stars. Tracy is now one of the longest last stars on the lot. He said:

"Will I sign again? I don't know. At first I didn't think I would because I didn't think they wanted me. Nobody said anything about staying. I think that's why a lot of actors leave."

"But we have started having talks, and something may come of it. I still have three pictures to make for them. After that, who knows?"

Dulles and Eden Resume Talks

Secretary Reportedly Agrees to British Plan to Delay Asian Action

LONDON (INS)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles resumed discussions with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden today amid reports that the U. S. had accepted a British compromise on pre-Geneva Indochina policy.

Dulles and Eden took up the Korean problem this morning. This afternoon, the U. S. diplomat goes to Paris for talks with the French government.

Dulles was said to have been prepared to reassure Eden today that the U. S. would agree to delay sending a "united action" warning to Communist China until the Geneva Far Eastern conference has taken up the Indochina question.

In return, some diplomatic quarters said, Eden indicated he would support the U. S. plan for the formation of a new defense organization to bulwark Southeast Asia against further Communist aggression.

Such a "Far East NATO," these circles said, would be negotiated if the Soviet Union and Red China made no concrete proposals for Asian peace at the Geneva parley.

This defense pact would reportedly include the U. S., Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and the Indochina associated states, Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia.

Dulles and Eden were guests at 10 Downing St. last night at a 2½-hour dinner given by Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill.

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—A full-scale commencement exercise—complete with speakers, a band and refreshments—was held here yesterday for 20 young men graduating from high school.

After the ceremonies the graduates went back to finish out their turns in the State Reformatory for Males. They had been awarded certificates for completing study courses equivalent to high school while in jail.

Blast Kills Five in N. Carolina

Search Debris for 6th Victim of Explosion in Downtown Goldsboro

GOLDSBORO, N. C. (INS)—Searchers combed the rubble of two shattered furniture stores in downtown Goldsboro today for a possible sixth victim of an explosion which killed five persons and injured 25 others.

Police believe at least one other person is in the debris.

Authorities said the blast of undetermined origin was followed yesterday by a fire that consumed the two-story brick and wood building. Two adjoining buildings were damaged and windows throughout the business district in the town of 21,000 population were smashed.

The dead were identified as M. W. Edwards, 60, owner of one of the stores; Eunice Collins, 34, cashier, both of Goldsboro; Luther Demings, 16, Four Oaks, N. C.; Bernice Smith and Troy E. Holmes, about 50, manager of one of the stores.

The explosion was the third in a series which has rocked Goldsboro within the past six months.

Major Leagues' Baseball Wars Open Today on All Fronts

Prediction!

40,000 Crowd Expected for Orioles' Debut

Tigers' Gromek Choice to Face Dykes' Outfit in Briggs Stadium

DETROIT (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles returned to action on the American League scene today after a 52-year absence.

They met the Detroit Tigers in the season's opener at Briggs Stadium. A crowd of 40,000 was expected to show up in sunny 60-degree weather.

The Orioles' last season in the American League was in 1902. Five decades later Baltimore returns to big league status, inheriting the personnel and problems of the 1953 last-place St. Louis Browns.

"These boys want to play ball," Manager Jimmy Dykes said. "They won't have to look at those empty stands in St. Louis anymore. With the people of Baltimore behind us, we should do well."

Dykes was undecided about his starting pitcher. It depended on the weather. If it was warm, it would be Duane Pillette, who had a 7-13 record last season. If it was chilly, Don Larsen, a 7-12 hurler, would be the nomination.

Hot or cold, Detroit's starting pitcher was scheduled to be Steve Gromek, the 34-year-old veteran who was given a new lease on life when the Tigers acquired him last June. Gromek had only a 7-9 record last season but was particularly effective this spring.

The probable lineups:

Joe Page Makes Grade With Pittsburgh Pirates

PITTSBURGH (INS)—Lefty Joe Page, the once "gay reliever" of the New York Yankees, became a member of the Pittsburgh Pirates bullpen staff today.

General manager Branch Rickey also announced that Paul Smith, 23-year-old infielder-outfielder from Wilkensburg, was optioned to Havana.

Bevo Francis Expelled

RIO GRANDE, Ohio (AP)—Rio Grande college of Ohio has expelled Bevo Francis, the shy, gangling farm boy who put the school on the map because he played a great game of basketball.

Francis, an awkward hill-country lad who speaks slowly when he speaks at all, in two years changed Rio Grande from a school without a basketball court to one with a big-time basketball program.

Last night the school's Committee on Instruction issued a statement saying Francis had been dropped from the rolls because of "an excessive number of unexcused absences, failure to make up more than one of his missed mid-term examinations and failure to attend any classes in the last two weeks."

The announcement appeared to

As for Bevo—his real name is Clarence—he was "out fishing" at the time, apparently unaware of the commotion caused by his expulsion.

Francis, a 20-year-old sophomore who learned his basketball by shooting at a hoop in a hayloft, holds the small college season scoring record. The 6-foot-9 center scored 1,255 points last season for a 27-game average of 46.5.

He scored 113 points against Hillsdale College of Michigan Feb. 2.

What will Bevo do now? Oliver wasn't talking about the offers Francis has had to play basketball for pay, but he said: "Bevo won't go hungry."

Santee to Get Another Shot at Dream Mile

Kansas Ace Is Voted Permission to Enter Cunningham Event

By SKIPPER PATRICK
LAWRENCE, Kan., April 13 (AP)—Santee is going to get another shot at the 4 minute mile Saturday.

The slim, high-stepping University of Kansas great today was voted permission by his coach and squadmates to pass up one of the team batons to run the Glenn Cunningham mile at the 29th Kansas Relays which open with half of the decathlon events Friday.

Bill Easton, Kansas coach and director of the relays, said Santee, a senior, requested permission to run the mile named for another Kansas great of past years.

Santee, who holds the American mile record of 4:02.4 set at Compton, Calif., last June has devoted all his efforts the past three years in the big midwestern relays—Texas, Kansas and Drake—to baton tricks with his team.

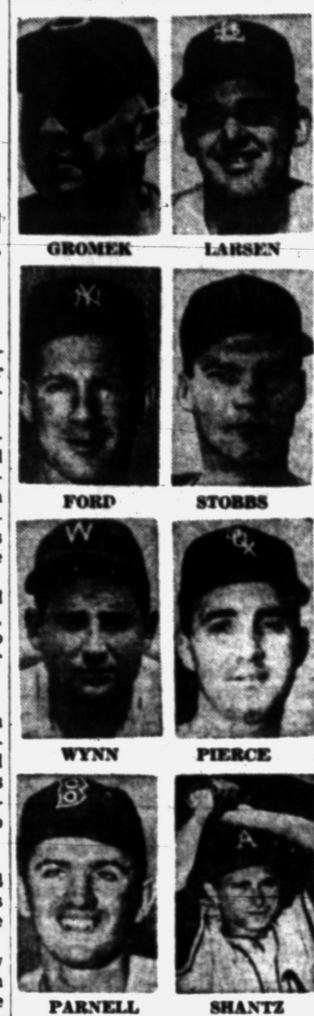

Easton said Santee likely would be used in two of the four relays—four mile, two mile and the sprints and medley.

With Santee in the field, a new mile record for the Cunningham event is practically assured. The present mark of 4:10.1 was set by Blaine Riedel of North Texas State and tied by Don Gehrmann of Wisconsin in 1949.

West has predicted for more than a year that he would run the mile "under 4 minutes" when both he and conditions were just right.

He won't say he'll do it Saturday, but he's very fond of his own cinders.

Detroit Seeks Clincher Tonight

Wings Can End Cup Series, but Must Win on Enemy Ice

MONTREAL (AP)—Needing only one victory to win the coveted Stanley Cup, Detroit's power-packed Red Wings take on the Montreal Canadiens tonight in the sixth of their best-of-seven final series.

Coach Tommy Ivan's Wings lead the Canadiens 3-2, but they've never finished up a Stanley Cup series on enemy ice, so they have a jinx working against them.

The Canadiens have won the last two Stanley Cups, but their backs are to the wall this year. They must win not only tonight, but also in Detroit on Friday if they can draw it out to the full seven games.

Determine Is Assigned 126 Pounds for Derby

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—Determine, co-second choice in the Kentucky Derby future book, has been assigned 126 pounds for the $25,000 added Bay Meadows Derby Saturday.

That's the same weight all colts carry in the Louisville race May 1.

Determine, the yearling money winner, will give 6 to 15 pounds to the other 16 eligibles in the Meadows 1 1/2 mile race.

Rocky's Sparring Mate Beats State Champion

DETROIT, April 12 (AP)—Toxie Hall, 193, of Chicago, stablemate and chief sparring partner of Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano, scored a technical knockout over Michigan Heavyweight Champ Embrel Davidson last night at Motor City Arena.

Davidson, 210½, Detroit, claimed that both his hands were injured and refused to answer the bell for the seventh round.

Newcomer Given Berth on NBA All-Star Squad

NEW YORK (AP)—Four repeaters and one newcomer—Harry Gallatin of the New York Knickerbockers—make up this year's National Basketball Assn. All-Star team.

In addition to Gallatin, the team, announced yesterday, includes Bob Cousy of Boston, Neil Johnston of Philadelphia, George Mikan of Minneapolis and Adolph Schayes of Syracuse.

Lou Boudreau played his college basketball for the University of Illinois.

Slaughter's Role as Yankee One of Interesting Factors

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—The major leagues today opened what promises to be one of the most interesting baseball seasons in many years.

Rarely has a campaign opened with so many vital questions to be answered. The latest and perhaps the most important is: How much will Enos Slaughter help the New York Yankees?

Did the five-time pennant winning Yankees insure another flag when they acquired the 38-year-old Slaughter from the St. Louis Cardinals? Or did they blow their chance when they sold pitcher Vic Raschi to the Cardinals a month ago?

Can Brooklyn, with a new manager, make it three in a row in the National League or will old age finally creep up on the Dodgers? Can the Milwaukee Braves withstand the loss of slugger Bobby Thomson and give the Dodgers a run for their money?

Can the Boston Red Sox hang on until Ted Williams recovers from his fractured collarbone to spark them with his big bat? Can newcomers Dave Philley and rookie Rudy Regalado supply what the Cleveland Indians lacked the past three years when they finished second to the Yankees?

Will the shift from St. Louis to Baltimore give the lowly Browns (now Orioles) the same shot in the arm that the Braves got last year when they were moved from Boston to Milwaukee?

The answers to these questions will be some time coming, starting tomorrow.

For the first time in years all 16 clubs started the campaign on the same day. Some 215,000 fans were expected to see the eight inaugurals that featured five new managers, a new city and a number of new faces.

A sellout crowd numbering 30,000 was assured for the big Washington opener. President Eisenhower threw out the first ball. Last year the President whacked an umpire in the back with one of his opening pitches. He was "posing" for photographers. He promised to make his tosses all strikes this year.

The National League's largest crowd—some 35,000—figured to sit in for the renewal of the city feud at the Polo Grounds with the Giants in against the favored Dodgers.

Sal Maglie, who has beaten the Brooklyn 18 times in 24 outings, was ready to test his aching back. Carl Erskine, the Dodgers' World Series hero, would be Maglie's opponent.

Eisenhower Opens 1954 Ball Season in Capitol

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower gets the 1954 major league baseball season off to its traditional start today, throwing out the first ball for the game between the World's Champion New York Yankees and the Washington Senators.

A contingent of official Washington planned to be among the 30,000 expected to jam Griffith stadium for the official opener.

The American Broadcasting Co. made arrangements to carry the game on its national television network.

The White House said Mrs. Eisenhower would accompany the President if the weather was favorable. The forecast was for a sunny day with temperature going as high as 67 degrees.

The Senate scheduled no session today and the House planned no business.

Hopful Reds Open Schedule Against Braves

CINCINNATI (AP)—This isn't actually a legal holiday in Cincinnati but it's the nearest thing to it.

People who probably won't see a baseball game all summer get a bit worked up because it's the opening of another National League season with Cincinnati's Redlegs meeting the Milwaukee Braves.

Interest may wane quickly but at least for today there is hope. It's the hope that maybe this might be the year the Queen City's Reds will win their first pennant since 1940 or that they will finish in the first division for the first time since 1944.

A capacity crowd of around 30,000 was assured. The high schools closed at 1 p.m. so the kids with tickets could get to the game.

The biggest "if" in the Cincinnati picture will be the pitching. No one questions the team's power with Ted Kluszewski, Gus Bell and Jim Greengrass as the leaders.

Matthews, Cockell to Meet in London Bout

SEATTLE, April 13 (AP)—A trans-Atlantic telephone call Monday put the clincher on a June 1 return bout in London between Seattle's Harry (Kid) Matthews and British Empire heavyweight champion Don Cockell, Matthews' manager announced.

Jack Hurley said he talked with British promoter Jack Solomons and agreed to Solomons' "very good" offer for the outdoor match.

The conversation simply carried out Hurley's previously announced intentions.

PBF Re-Elects 1953 Officers

Pontiac Baseball Federation held its 1st meeting of the year last night and unanimously re-elected all officers for the coming season.

Re-elected officers are Charles Irish, president; Hercules Renda, vice president; and Dave Ewalt, secretary treasurer.

Five teams—including General Motors, Ben Jerome, Pontiac Jets, Avondale Merchants and an unsponsored team—have indicated desires to enter the Class A League this summer. Any sponsor wishing to take over the unsponsored team should contact George Shanks at Federal 3-7319.

UM Nine Is Winner Over Wayne, 9-1

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Dick Peterjohn's three hit pitching and three other factors gave Michigan's NCA champion baseball team a 9-1 win yesterday over Wayne University.

The three other factors were 11 Michigan hits, three Wayne errors, and five walks from Wayne pitchers.

Michigan didn't get or need a hit in the sixth inning when a run scored on two Wayne errors. It was Michigan's eighth win against two losses in spring games.

Brighton built up a 7-2 lead.

Clarkston 9 Loses, Viking Skipper Golfers Winners

Clarkston High dropped its opening baseball game of the season Monday at Brighton despite a pair of home runs.

Clarkston threw a scare into the Bulldogs by scoring four runs after two were out in the 7th inning. Al Warman hit a two-run homer in the 7th inning rally.

Lakers Win NBA Title

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The old pros on the Minneapolis Lakers today etched another championship into one of the biggest success stories in basketball history.

The Lakers won their third consecutive National Basketball Assn. title last night by beating Syracuse 87-80 in the decisive seventh game of the final playoffs.

Alston Makes Debut Today

New Dodger Manager Sends Carl Erskine Against Maglie

NEW YORK (AP)—Rookie Manager Walter Alston of the Brooklyn Dodgers will make his National League debut today when he leads his team across the river to tangle with the hated New York Giants in the official opener for both clubs.

Carl Erskine, ace of the Brooks' staff and a 20-game winner last year, will go to the mound against Sal (The Barber) Maglie. Game time is 1:30 p.m. (EST).

A crowd of about 35,000 will be in the Polo Grounds stands when Mayor Robert Wagner tosses out the first ball.

Clarkston 9 Loses, Viking Skipper Golfers Winners

Clarkston High dropped its opening baseball game of the season Monday at Brighton despite a pair of home runs.

Clarkston threw a scare into the Bulldogs by scoring four runs after two were out in the 7th inning. Al Warman hit a two-run homer in the 7th inning rally.

On the prep golf front, Inter-Lakes Conference teams were busy Monday. Walled Lake and Southfield played a 6-man, 18-hole match at Edgewood with the Vikings winning 521-535. However, Southfield's Bob Turner was medalist with 82.

Bob Shaver, Dick Hartle and Mike Ryan each carded 83s for Walled Lake.

Waterford defeated Farmington, 172-206 in a 9-hole, 4-man match at Pontiac Country Club. Jack Reynolds' 37 was low for the Slippers, while Paul Thomas shot a 44 for Farmington.

Driver Trophy Announced

Trophy for the best driver of the year at Land O' Lakes Speedway this season will be presented by Pontiac merchant, Sam Benson, it was announced today.

JUNIOR "EXPERT"—With the start of the American League baseball season in Detroit, Paul Saghy Jr. (above), 4114 Lanark, Watkins Lake, does a little "experting" on Tiger prospects. The 14-year-old fan is a student at St. Frederick's School.

'Junior Expert' Sees Fifth Place Possible for Tigers

(Editor's Note: Paul Saghy Jr., a 14-year-old St. Fred's student who lives at 4114 Lanark, Watkins Lake, is an aspiring ball player and writer or broadcaster. Here are his observations on the Detroit Tigers' prospects as the 1954 season opens.)

By PAUL SAGHY

"If you follow the prediction experts, you'll see that they have credited our Tigers to only an 8th place finish in the standings this year. I can see them finishing no worse than 6th or possibly 7th. "They may even climb into 5th place if they have the kind of team I think they have."

"Harvey Kucum is hitting the ball at his usual brilliant pace and is refusing to fall into the '2nd year flax.' Billy Hoelt seems to be getting better with the years. Last year he was the best 7-inning pitcher in the league. He now tips the scales around 185 and that should help him become a 'double-figure' winner."

"And of course the unpredictable Ned Garver is not to be forgotten. He has told Freddie Hutchinson that his trick knee was not bothering him. Even though he has been unimpressive this spring, he could become a big winner."

"So, all in all, I'd be not one bit surprised if the Tigers should move up to 5th place by the end of the season."

Slammin' Sammy Beats 'Yips' and Hogan

Sprinter Dazzles Texas Fans

AUSTIN, Tex., April 13 (AP)—A tall ranch boy who is just learning how to run has University of Texas track fans in ecstasy these days. It's no wonder. The youngster, J. Frank Daugherty, who lives on a 3,000-acre spread near Olton, Tex., has thrice raced 100 yards in 9.5 seconds and has done 220 yards in 20.5.

The slowest he has run the 100 in college is 9.7 and his worst 220 has been 20.7.

What he needs is competition.

All he's been getting is from a teammate, Bob Whilden, and Whilden hasn't threatened to beat him. In the Southwest Conference a freshman can participate in only five meets. Daugherty has been in four and will wind up his schedule May 6 in a triangular meet among Texas, Texas A&M and Rice. But he could, if invited, get permission of the conference to run in the Coliseum Relays at Los Angeles. There are no freshman divisions in the Kansas or Drake Relays, so the Los Angeles meet is his only chance.

He definitely will compete in the national AAU junior and senior divisions in June. Then he'll be running on a sprint relay team with the Texas varsity men, among whom are Dean Smith, who has a 9.4 hundred this season. Daugherty has a natural sprinter's stride and is one of the best prospects in the country, says Clyde Littlefield, Texas coach who has produced a half-dozen 9.4 sprinters in his 35 years at the university.

When a high school senior, Daugherty got some instructions on how to run from coaches and track officials who saw he didn't even know how to use starting blocks.

He injured his knee playing football and went to a doctor in Dallas who recommended "straight running" to work it out. So Daugherty gave up football and stuck strictly to track.

Slim Turnout Begins Mikes' Diamond Drills

St. Michael coach Bob Mine-weaver greeted a slim turnout of 16 candidates yesterday as Shamrock baseball practice opened at the Columbia-Joslyn north diamond.

Six of the players reporting were lettermen, including catcher Bud Schwartz, pitcher Dave Smith, infielders Joe Wilhelm, Bob Anderson and Marty Keller and outfielder Bill Hall.

Russ Shindorf, regular outfielder last season, hasn't yet reported.

Mikes will practice this afternoon and tomorrow and then take a 4-day layoff. Drills will be held at 1 p.m. next week during the school's Easter vacation.

Shamrocks open their schedule May 29 against St. Rita.

ABC Bowler Misses '300'

No. 7 Pin Refuses to Fall, Costs 'Perfect Game'

SEATTLE, April 13 (AP)—A stubborn No. 7 pin that wavered momentarily but refused to fall kept Dale Carter of Bremerton, Wash., from becoming the 14th man in American Bowling Congress history to roll a 300 game.

Although Carter failed to make the perfect game ranks, his 299, first of this year's 51st tournament, was only the 15th of its kind rolled in the World Series of bowling. Carter, a 27-year-old Bremerton roofer, would have been the second man of the 1954 tourney to hit a Perfecto. Tony Sparano of Rego Park, N.Y., turned the trick March 31.

Argentine Fighter Wins Over Turner

BROOKLYN, N.Y. (AP)—Eduardo Lausse is not another Luis Firpo but he looks like an exciting fighter.

The latest import from Buenos Aires won an unpopular split decision last night over case Turner of St. Louis in a good 10 round middleweight scrap at Eastern Parkway Arena. Lausse weighed 160½, Turner 159 pounds.

"I was nervous," said Lausse through an interpreter after the match. "It was almost like fighting for a championship."

Lausse showed an odd style, fighting in spirited flurries and then covering. He landed the more solid punches in the bout. It was his 15th straight win, bringing his record to 47-5-2 in 54 pro fights.

Slaughter Deal Again Shows Powerful Influence of Yankees on Major Leagues

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—No matter how glib the avowals of other National League clubs that they couldn't have used County Slaughter, the baseball public is not going to believe them and is, once again, taking a bilious view of the Yankees' ability to sneak veteran stars who figure to help them out in the rival league.

Either of two clubs which expect to challenge the Dodgers—Milwaukee and New York—would have been strengthened for the race starting today if it had Slaughter available to play right field for even 100 games. Either team could have afforded his $30,000 salary, considering the prize at stake. But neither could have gotten him, and knew it, and so their later protestations that a 38-year-

Sluggish Tests His Left Shoulder in 70-Minute Drill in Boston

BOSTON (AP)—A sun-tanned and optimistic Ted Williams says he may fool the doctors and be ready to help the Boston Red Sox by May 15.

The $100,000-a-year baseball slugger tested his fractured left shoulder in a 70-minute drill at Fenway Park yesterday and expressed satisfaction with his progress. So did his doctor, Russell Sullivan.

Williams, who suffered the injury March 1 in a fall while trying for a sinking line drive at the Red Sox Florida training camp, underwent X-rays and then got into uniform yesterday.

He swung a bat in a pepper game for 48 minutes and wound up the session by jogging a couple of laps around the park. He said later:

"I felt a slight twinge of pain in the collarbone when I had to reach up or out for a ball. Otherwise, it felt great. I loosened up as I kept swinging."

Ez Charles' Rating Is Boosted by NBA

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Boxing Assn. figures that if anyone is going to take Rocky Marciano's heavyweight championship away from him it'll be Ezzard Charles.

Charles, who once held the title himself, gets the next shot at Marciano's crown in a 15-round bout at Yankee Stadium June 17. If Charles wins, he'll become the first heavyweight ex-champion to regain his title.

The NBA boosted Charles to "logical contender" in its spring ratings. This is the highest rating any challenger has been given since Marciano won the title in 1952.

Area Students at 'M' Get Athletic Letters

Five Pontiac area students at the University of Michigan were awarded athletic awards during the 1953-54 winter sports seasons.

Burwell O. (Bumpy) Jones, Pontiac, received a swimming letter and was named captain for next year's team. Other Pontiac boys receiving awards were Arthur G. Sweet, manager, and Ron Pudduck, swimming numerals.

Swimming numerals went to Alan Hanselman and a wrestling award was presented to Robert G. DeLoch of Farmington.

Bradley Gets Van Atta

old Slaughter didn't fit into their plans were so much top dressing.

It would be difficult to convince any fairly intelligent fan that there was no connection between the earlier deal which sent pitcher Vic Raschi from the Yankees to the St. Louis Cardinals and this latest remarkable demonstration of Yankee influence.

It would be equally futile to suggest to him that the Cleveland Indians, the Chicago White Sox or the Boston Red Sox could have bought Slaughter's supposedly faded

TWO FOR YANKEES—Enos Slaughter, veteran National League outfielder who was traded by the St. Louis Cardinals to the New York Yankees, poses with Yank manager Casey Stengel last night in a Washington hotel lobby. Slaughter flew to Washington in time for today's season opener which pits the Yankees against the Washington Senators. While almost all of the Yankee team was eating dinner, Stengel stayed in the hotel lobby to greet his newest player.

Snead's Putter Behaves in 3rd Masters Victory

Two-Under-Par 70 Is One Stroke Under Card Compiled by Ben

By MERCER BAILEY

AUGUSTA, Ga., (AP)—Sam Snead, the drawing West Virginian, made two conquests in winning his third Masters golf championship—he beat Ben Hogan by one stroke in their 18-hole playoff and also licked a bad case of "Yips."

"Yips" is a word Snead uses to describe putting fitters, and he said before the tournament he was in the midst of the worst yips of his career.

Sam handled his putter adequately yesterday and came home in two-under-par 70 to Hogan's 71. The victory bracketed Snead with Jimmy Demaret as a three-time Masters winner. Hogan, too, was seeking his third Masters title, and had hoped to become the first man ever to capture two in succession.

"It was just a question of who got the breaks," Sam said after defeating the little Texan who swept the Masters, U. S. Open and British Open last year.

One of the breaks in Sam's favor came on the 10th hole, where he chipped in from 50 feet for a birdie-three to go ahead of Hogan for the first time.

He used a six-iron off the tee and the ball landed back of the green behind a little hump. He used the same club for his chip shot.

"I told that six-iron, 'You put me over here, now you get me outta here,'" Sam said, with a broad grin.

This was the third time these two great golfers had met in man-to-man competition, and Snead has come out on top every time. He beat Ben in a San Francisco match play tournament before the war and again in their 1950 playoff for the Los Angeles Open crown.

Snead picked up $5,000 for his victory and Hogan got $3,125. Each also got an undisclosed percentage of the playoff gate.

65-Year-Old Enters Annual Boston Marathon

BOSTON (AP)—Clarence De Mar, 65-year-old "Grand Old Man of Marathon Racing," has finally made the 58th annual race April 19 official by mailing his entry. It'll be the 33rd BAA start for the famed seven-time winner.

De Mar said yesterday: "I do not choose to retire yet."

The veteran racer—who first won this 26 miles and 385 yard grind way back in 1911—divides his time between farming and the printing trade.

His last BAA triumph was in 1930.

Senators' Owner Recalls 'Telling Off' Roosevelt

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Clark Griffith, not one to be awed by presidents of the United States, says he once told Franklin D. Roosevelt to stay away from the baseball season opener—and made it stick.

Griffith said it was early during World War II, either in 1942 or 1943.

"Roosevelt was a good baseball man and a great friend of mine," Griffith said. "He greeted me as usual and I gave him his pass and he said he'd be at the ball park on opening day."

"I said no he wouldn't. Roosevelt said: 'Why not?' I said there was a war on."

"He said: 'Who's running this show,' and I said: 'You're running the country, Mr. President, but I'm running my ball club.'"

"Roosevelt laughed and slapped his side. 'I know who you've been talking to,' he said, 'that blasted Secret Service. They told me I couldn't go but I didn't think they'd go behind my back like that.'"

"That's what they did. They came up to me and told me they'd been trying to keep him from going but that he insisted. So they told me I was the only one who could tell him off."

Griffith paused, amid laughter, and wound up:

"I did it. He sent out a substitute."

'Duffy' Makes 1st Appearance as MSC Coach

Spartan Players Pose for Pictures and Start Workouts

EAST LANSING (AP)—I hope this is the beginning of a successful career for both of us," Coach Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty told 156 Michigan State football hopefuls at the opening of spring practice.

Daugherty was making his first appearance with his team as head coach. Biggie Munn, who turned the team over to his former line coach after a successful seven-year stint, was away on a speaking engagement.

After a few pictures were taken, Daugherty and his assistants started working with their material— anxious to make the most of the two hours allotted for practice.

Daugherty had 18 of the 21 lettermen with the Rose Bowl championship team back for the first day. Spring sports and other distractions cut three from the list.

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Tom Nickloff, 21, co-captain and end on the 1953 Southern California University football team and a Los Angeles Rams pro draft choice was in a hospital in serious condition today with injuries received in an automobile crash last Saturday night.

Nickloff suffered a broken right leg, broken right hand and concussion. His car failed to make a turn on the Palm Springs cutoff.

Charge Hungarian Players Disappeared

VIENNA, April 13 (AP)—A Vienna newspaper alleged today that three Hungarian soccer players had disappeared in Austria over the weekend, but Austrian authorities said they could not confirm the report.

The Wiener Montag team in Linz yesterday, was changed at the last minute "because three of the guest players disappeared."

The manager of the Hungarian provincial team said none of his players was missing. He said he left two of his men in Budapest because they weren't fit.

English Team Wins

LONDON (AP)—England's Ann Haydon and Kathy Best defeated the powerful Japanese women's doubles team of Yoshiko Tanaka and Hideko Goto today in the world table tennis championships. The scores were 21-10, 21-10, 19-21, 21-12.

Babies Become Persons, There's the Rub for Dad

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Something has happened in our house that I am not sure I can face.
I would just as soon not talk about it at all—but it seems that there is nothing else I want to talk about more.
"The basic thing about you, Rover," said my wife, Frances, "is that you are a coward."
"I still can't figure how you went through the second World War without catching jaundice, which I understand turns people yellow."

"I don't doubt you have physical courage, whatever that is, and I suppose that is what you must have demonstrated on the battlefield, or they wouldn't have let you stay overseas with the soldiers for four years."

"The thing about you, Rover," my wife continued, "is that you are a moral coward. You may be able to face a loaded gun without fear (Boyle's note: She is mistaking her with a captain I introduced her to who once won the Medal of Honor in a few moments of abandonment), but you can't face tomorrow. Anybody who loves yesterday as much as you do has to be a coward."

I suppose she is right. A woman who puts up with the same man 16½ years in a row probably has ceased him pretty well.

But to get back to what happened in our house. It's the baby. Eight months ago a surprising thing interrupted our lives.

A sleek black limousine pulled up to our door, from which alighted a five-week old baby girl, clad—naturally—in a small and untrusive mink diaper. We are unable to prove this because my wife who, unfortunately for her, is allergic to mink, discarded the damp diaper and surrounded the infant with a local towel.

We came to love the baby, and she gained weight—a sure sign of prosperity, even among the young—and bowed her head and took the name of Margaret Tracy Ann Kathleen Boyle. Or, as we call her, Tracy.

Well, you know how this life is. You try to plot and plan it, and suddenly, a stranger comes in and changes the whole tempo.
Tracy, that infantile betrayer, will soon be 10 months old, and the signs of decrepitude accompany everything she does.

She came to us as a baby, and now she is turning into a human

Chinese Atlas Stakes Claim on Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP)—The Chinese Communists have issued a map in an atlas which shows Hong Kong as part of China. This is one of the first Red claims on the British crown colony.

The map was issued last August but the revised border was noted only recently by the Nationalist news agency, Central News. "Hong Kong and Kowloon are territories lost to us as a result of unequal treaties, and are still occupied by British imperialists as a political, commercial and military base for aggression against the Far East," the atlas says.

being. This was not part of the bargain, and she has broken the rules. It is so much more difficult to love a human being than a baby.

"Listen, proud flesh," said Frances. "Quit yearning for yesterday. Tracy has to grow up. It's her duty. Don't you want her to walk and talk like normal people?"

Oh, no, angel, not like the others. Grow feathers. Fly . . . fly . . . always fly. Daddy will catch you if you fall.

Grains Add Pep but Not Much

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains moved up a little on the board of trade today after some early hesitancy. Gains were not very large but they sufficed to send May and July soybeans into new high ground since 1948.

Dealings were only moderately active. At the start the feed grains had the steepest undertone, partly reflecting very light receipts of cash corn, but later wheat made a strong showing. A couple of nearby lard contracts again went to new seasonal highs.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1 to 1½ higher, May $2.14, corn ½ to 1½ higher, May $1.51½, oats ¼ to 1½ higher, May 75½, rye ¼ to 1½ higher, May $1.06½, soybeans ¼ lower to ½ higher, May $3.81 and lard 3 cents lower to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $21.10.

McCarthy's Loaded Questions Terrifying to Witnesses

BY BELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—People who have been targets in Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's investigation of communism struggle for words when they try to tell how it feels to be on his subcommittee's witness stand.

Questioning by McCarthy and his counsel has been called "an ordeal . . . a thoroughly terrifying experience."

A lawyer who represented a witness wrote: "It smacks of the star chamber and the inquisitions of old and what you hear about the Iron Curtain countries."

A former State Department officer said: "I choked up for several minutes . . . I just couldn't speak."

A newspaper editor, recounting his reaction to a statement by McCarthy, said: "His words registered slowly. I must have looked baffled as well as astonished, almost incapable of trusting my own senses."

These expressions came, of course, from witnesses under investigation, not those put on the stand to give testimony against them.

Acts as a Prosecutor; Should Only Investigate

Through speeches and statements in the more public phases of his activity, McCarthy has generated fierce feelings the four years since he first began talking about communism and Communists in government.

But even more violent emotions have been aroused in the rooms where he holds his meetings. He has been accused of mishandling witnesses there, and of violating the first principles of American justice.

The stated purpose of the subcommittee is to investigate "the operations of all government departments at all levels"—in short, to gather information but not to prosecute.

Over and over again, people have come from these hearings asserting that:

1. McCarthy plays the role of prosecutor, not investigator.

2. He takes the position that a witness is guilty of something and places on the witness the burden of proving his own innocence.

3. He violates the boundary between investigation and persecution.

But McCarthy Claims Hearings Extra Fair

During the uproar over McCarthy's questioning of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, the Chicago Tribune commented editorially:

"It seems to us that Sen. McCarthy will serve his cause better if he learns to distinguish the role of investigator from the role of avenging angel."

The Tribune generally has supported McCarthy.

McCarthy's view is that he grants a witness more latitude than the witness would have in a court of law. He had this exchange with Reed Harris, former deputy director of the International Information Administration:

Harris: "As I have said before, sir, I do not feel that there is a fair atmosphere where the prosecutor and the judge and jury are consolidated, in effect, in one person and where the whole staff, legal staff, is devoted to the prosecution."

McCarthy: "I must interrupt you, Mr. Harris. I would like to ask you what additional privileges you want. We have been conducting a very unusual hearing, one that would never get in a court of law because you would not be accorded these privileges."

"In a court of law you would be allowed to come in and refute what has been said at the end of the hearing. We are allowing you to break in whenever you want to. We have given you the right to have counsel. We have told you you can suggest any witnesses you want to call, that we would call them. We intend to do that."

Has Right to Blow Up Claims Former Aide

A Washington lawyer, Francis Flanagan, was chief counsel on McCarthy's staff for years.

Flanagan says: "I think he's been unfairly criticized for his methods. If on occasion a senator or counsel loses his temper that's a reflection of the human element. Any lawyer, questioning a difficult or intractable witness, may sometimes blow up."

A New Jersey lawyer, Harry Green, was counsel for a witness called by McCarthy's subcommittee when McCarthy was investigating what he called "the earmarks of espionage" at Ft. Monmouth.

Green wrote in the New Jersey Law Journal:

"Counsel for the witness is immediately told off, as follows—'You will be permitted to sit with your client. You may consult with each other, but you are not to participate in any other manner in the hearing.

"You are not to ask questions, you are not to cross-examine, you are not to make objections, you are not to argue. You may remain under these conditions."

"Your client is then subjected to a hydra-headed interrogation from all around the table, and to say that he is confused is to put it mildly."

Confident Businessman Suggests His Method

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Gordon S. Carboneau is so well satisfied with his first venture in creating optimism in the business world that he is seeking to extend his one-man campaign to his customers and suppliers.

Recently he paid out $250 in cash to employees of his electronic parts business for keeping scrapbooks of encouraging news clippings. He is starting another contest for his employees next month and is urging his business contacts to do likewise. "Let's be confident," he says.

Green says he told the committee that that was not fair. His article continues:

"Why not ask my client if he was a Communist? Silence. I then turned to my client and asked him to state on the record whether he was a Communist . . . and client stated emphatically that he was not."

Sees Witness as Guilty Despite Denial on Oath

Regarding the charge that McCarthy sometimes takes the position a witness is guilty until proven innocent, Green cited this statement of his client, which he called "an inquisitorial example":

"I am troubled by what a witness testified to yesterday. I asked him if you were a Communist and he refused to answer upon the ground that it might incriminate him. Why should he refuse to answer? It seems to me from this that you are a Communist."

Nancy Coleman Feels Right at Home on TV

-- Today's Television Programs --

Has 2 Families, on Stage and Off

Knows How to Act as Mom in Valiant Lady, a Daytime Serial

NEW YORK — Nancy Coleman plays the title role in "Valiant Lady," the television daytime dramatic series — and she feels right at home in the part.

In her television role, Helen Emerson, she's the mother of three. In real life, she's the wife of drama critic Whitney Bolton and the mother of twin girls, aged nine.

Says Nancy: "It's like having two broods of children. When I face those young actors in the studio, I find them echoing the same enthusiasm, the same complaints and the same sort of childish unreasonableness that I get at home from the twins."

"In all my years of acting on the stage and screen I've never felt so much at home as I do in Valiant Lady."

Miss Coleman made her Broadway stage debut 15 years ago as the late Gertrude Lawrence's daughter in "Susan and God." She attained star billing in 1941 in Liberty Jones and, in the same year, went to Hollywood and won acclaim for her work in Warner Brothers' "King of the Roar."

A string of films followed, including RKO's Morning Becomes Electra in 1946.

In 1950, the family moved from the West Coast to Sea Cliff, N. Y., into a late Victorian house overlooking Hempstead Harbor.

She returned to the stage in the 1953 season, starring in the "Sacred Flame" and replacing Martha Scott in "The Male Animal." On television, she has appeared on many of the major dramatic shows.

Playing Valiant Lady means following a new and rigorous schedule. It means getting up at 5:30 a. m., an hour-long ride to Manhattan in her station wagon and hours of rehearsal and script study.

"It's sort of changed things around at home," says Nancy. "but the twins are being great sports about it. They went through a rigorous ordeal for their own air debut, and they're being very reasonable about giving me time to get off to myself to study my scripts in the afternoon and early evening."

Reuther Assails Give-Away Plan

Union President Urges GOP to Fulfill Pledges of Tax Relief

WASHINGTON (INS) — CIO President Walter Reuther called the administration's tax revision bill today a "give-away program" for groups who "need no tax relief."

In a statement for delivery before the Senate Finance Committee, Reuther urged that Congress boost personal exemptions $200 this year and $400 next and eliminate from the bill tax relief on dividends and corporate depreciation.

The union president said the Republicans have forgotten their 1953 campaign denunciation of "double taxation" on bread, hats and automobiles and now are worried about "multiple taxation of dividends to stockholders." The pending bill would exempt the first $100 of dividends from any tax and exempt 10 per cent of dividends above $100.

Referring to the dividend and broadened depreciation features, Reuther said:

"If these two provisions were removed and some of the other noxious provisions... corrected, our economy, in my judgment, would be on the road toward not only recovery from the present temporary downturn in employment and production, but well on its way toward our long-range goal of expanding and improving the standard of living of the American people by maintaining maximum production, employment and purchasing power."

DETROIT (UP) — The body of Elmer Bjorquist, 62, a missing Toledo, Ohio, sailor, was found Monday in the Great Lakes Engineering Co. slip. Bjorquist disappeared from his ship here last Nov. 13.

EASTER, 1898 — This elaborate Easter egg was created by Carl Fabergé, jeweler to the Czarist Russian court in 1898. Czar Nicholas II presented the gift to the Dowager Empress Marie Feodorovna. Rose diamonds, rubies, pearls and other gems adorn the egg. Three oval miniature portraits of the Czar and his daughters, the Grand Duchess Olga and Tatiana, emerge from inside the egg at the touch of a push button.

Funeral Service Set for Nebraska Senator

WASHINGTON (INS) — Funeral service for Sen. Dwight P. Griswold (R-Neb.), who died early Monday, will be held Wednesday afternoon in his home town of Scottsbluff, Neb.

Members of the immediate family will accompany the body aboard a Military Air Transport Service plane today.

The 60-year-old three-time Nebraska governor died at Bethesda Naval Hospital after suffering a heart attack as he and Mrs. Griswold drove home from a dinner party Sunday night.

Ventriloquist's Missing Auto, Dummy Sought

KALAMAZOO (UP) — Police searched today for Phillip Morris Smith's friend and co-worker, a dummy called "Smitty."

Smith, a ventriloquist here for a show at Kalamazoo High School, reported Monday that "Smitty" was stolen along with his car.

He can always get a new car, Smith said, but it will be more difficult to replace "Smitty," a red-haired figure dressed in a sailor's uniform.

Unwilling Hitchhiker Rescued by Police

DETROIT (AP) — A trailer truck was stopped Monday and a badly injured man rescued from beneath the trailer.

Semiconscious, he had been gripping a projection barely ahead of the wheels.

At Receiving Hospital the man was identified as Thomas Harrison, 57, an auto factory worker. He had suffered a fractured pelvis and other injuries.

Because of Harrison's condition, police were unable to get any details from him. The truck driver said he did not know how it happened. He was not held.

Walled Lake Grocery Robbed of $3,000

Over $3,000 was taken yesterday from a safe at the Lakeside Grocery at 155 Ladd Rd., Walled Lake, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Detectives Delos Anderson and Leo Hazen, who investigated the complaint of Glenn Butmyer, the owner, said the safecracker drove a pin out of the combination dial to force open the safe.

Jail Escapee Arrested, Found Guilty in Holdup

GRAND HAVEN (UP) — Irwin Slack, 25, Grand Haven jail escapee, was found guilty of an armed robbery Monday by a circuit court jury which deliberated an hour.

Sentencing was set for later this month.

Slack was arrested Nov. 5 after the robbery and assault of Harold VanRaalte, a Korean veteran. He was held in the county jail from where he escaped on Feb. 7. He was re-arrested two weeks later in New York City.

Water Department Buys Trench-Digging Machine

The Pontiac Water Department has purchased a $15,000 machine which can dig 1,200 feet of trench in one day. It will be used for digging water-main trenches according to Joseph W. Gables, acting water superintendent.

The new machine replaces a smaller, worn-out machine which has been breaking down constantly, Gable added.

Quebec supplies about two-thirds of the world's asbestos.

SELF-STYLED SPY — Ludmila Sergeevna Mikailova, 28, who is under orders to be deported for alleged Communist activity, says she is a former Russian spy, and wants to give information to the FBI. She is free on $1000 bond after being arrested in Washington, D. C., at the request of California authorities who said she left the state without permission of immigration officials.

Communist Vote Seen as Protest

Reds Capture 6 Seats of Fifteen in Nazareth, Home of Jesus

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (U) — Communist candidates today won 6 of the 15 seats on the Municipal Council of Nazareth—the town where Jesus Christ was reared.

Three Roman Catholics, three Moslems and three Eastern Orthodox representatives were also elected, Nazareth is the largest Arab town in Israel.

All parties except the Communists promised to take special care of the holy places. Without exception, all promised to work for the abolition of the Israeli military administration, which the Moshe Sharett government says is necessary on security grounds.

In Tel Aviv, political circles hailed the results as a Communist victory.

Editor Ezeriel Carlebach, commenting in the newspaper Maariv, said the Communists themselves were surprised by the large following—3,034 out of 7,900 votes cast. Eighty-four per cent of the electorate went to the polls.

A leading article added: "Are all those who voted Communist actually Communists, Marxists? The reply is no and no. But voting for the Communists is a clear expression of opposition to the state of Israel. Voters for the Communists voted against the Jews without any camouflage."

Japs to Investigate Radioactivity in Sea

TOKYO (U)—Japan will send a government survey ship to the central Pacific soon to investigate the effects of American hydrogen bomb tests on sea water and fish. Kyodo news agency reported today.

Some Japanese scientists have expressed fear that the hydrogen bomb tests would contaminate fish in the area. The result has been falling fish prices in this fish-eating nation.

Three Japanese ships have destroyed all or part of a tuna catch made in the Bikini area because the fish were radioactive.

A Welfare Ministry official told Kyodo the survey would be undertaken "because of the possibility of sea and air currents in the area becoming contaminated with radioactivity."

American scientists have said there is no such danger.
