Little Opposition Seen to Viet Funds Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Initial reaction to President Johnson's announcement that he will seek a $73-billion defense budget indicates Congress will vote any funds needed to finance the war in Vietnam.

But requests for military spending not related directly to the war could run into tough opposition.

Johnson told a news conference Tuesday night that his requests for defense spending in the fiscal year beginning next July 1 will total $73 billion—an increase of about $5 billion over the current level.

He also disclosed he soon will ask Congress for a $9.4 billion supplemental defense appropriation for the current fiscal year.

At the peak of World War II, defense spending totaled about $88 billion a year. The Korean war peak topped $59 billion.

'NO TROUBLE'

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., a member of the Armed Services Committee, said in an interview the proposed defense budget "might be scrutinized a little closer than usual but I don't think there will be any trouble getting support for the war."

Stennis singled out military construction projects as an example of spending that might get a closer look.

Another Democratic member of the Armed Services Committee, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, said congressional action on the over-all defense budget will "depend on the justification" the administration presents but added he expects war spending requests to be approved. He noted that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara goes before the panel in closed session next Monday to start outlining the administration's case.

ANTIMISSILE DEFENSE

One Republican member of the committee, Sen. Jack R. Miller of Iowa, said that as long as Johnson justifies his requests for Vietnam spending, "I would anticipate that he would have no particular problem in getting them."

But Stennis and Miller said any request for funds for an antimissile defense system could touch off controversy.

"This antimissile missile matter is going to be a large item in controversy," Stennis said. "Heretofore I've supported large amounts but I think it ought to be carefully examined this year."

Arctic Cold Drops City Temperature to –3

City Commission Approves Appropriations for January

Temporary appropriations totaling $1,023,089 for the month of January were approved last night by the City Commission.

Recommended by City manager Joseph A. Warren, the appropriations are necessary because the 1967 budget has not been adopted.

ZOLTON FERENCY

A hearing was held last week on a propsed budget. The budget was ruled obsolete because it did not provide for the half-million dollars granted in wage adjustments and the expected transfer of Pontiac Municipal Airport to Oakland County.

Related Stories, Page A-11

The airport transfer, still being worked out by the respective administration staffs, has been approved by the two governing units involved.

In related business last night, Marvin M. Alward, director of finance, reported that the State Municipal Finance Commission has approved a borrowing of $2¼ million in tax anticipation notes.

YEAR IMBALANCE

The borrowing — an annual affair — is made necessary by the imbalance in the city's fiscal year and tax year. The fiscal year begins Jan. 1, but tax revenues are not received until July 1.

Thus, funds are needed for operating expenses until revenues start coming in.

Bids on the tax notes are to be received Jan. 30.

The city manager said last night that a revised 1967 budget would be presented next week.

Dem Leader Gets Support of Cavanagh

DETROIT (AP) — Democratic State Chairman Zolton A. Ferency, who says he hasn't decided whether to run for reelection, got some support from Mayor Jerome Cavanagh of Detroit yesterday.

The two men met for an hour in the mayor's office.

"My favorite candidate is the present state chairman," said Cavanagh.

Ferency, who lost a bid for the governorship to Republican Gov. George Romney in November, said he has talked to other Democrats around Michigan in seeking support for a third term.

"I've talked with labor leaders, farmers, union people and a lot of others," said Ferency.

JP Dismisses Pratt Charges

'Attorneys, Too, Have Constitutional Rights'

Charges brought against a Southfield attorney by grand juror Philip Pratt in October were dismissed yesterday by Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace Alice Gilbert.

The decision was made at the preliminary court examination of Frank E. Holtzman, who had been accused of perjury and obstructing justice.

Mrs. Gilbert ruled that "attorneys, too, have constitutional rights" and that those of Holtzman were violated when he wasn't advised of his right to have legal counsel when he appeared before Pratt.

Since he was not advised, Holtzman's testimony before Pratt on which the perjury charge was based was not admissible and could not be considered, according to Mrs. Gilbert.

She also agreed with Holtzman's attorney, Herbert Magnusson of Waterford Township, that the indictment charging ob-

Temperatures of 20 below and lower were common throughout the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Department stores in Milwaukee, Wis., reported a run on gloves and earmuffs yesterday.

A 20-mile wind, coupled with zero temperatures "just blew the heat right out of the buildings" according to a spokesman for the Wisconsin Gas Co.

POWER FAILURE

In Chicago, some 3,800 families were without electricity early this morning when a power line snapped on the Northwest Side. The accident was blamed on the cold weather by the Commonwealth Edison Co. The temperature dropped to 10 below at O'Hare International Airport.

Residents of 1,000 homes in the Chicago suburbs of Oakbrook, Villa Park and Elmhurst also were without power last night.

Sudden snow squalls lashed at the southeastern tips of Lakes Erie and Ontario causing locally hazardous driving conditions.

In Michigan yesterday, it took four diesel power units to haul the Milwaukee Road's three-car Copper Country Limited to the end of the rail line at Calumet, Mich. Two of the diesels were disabled plowing their way through snow from Chicago.

Cold and snow closed many schools throughout the state.

N. Viets Put Targets Amid People

WASHINGTON (AP) — The almost-daily U.S. bombing of North Vietnam apparently is forcing the enemy to disperse more of its antiaircraft batteries and key supply depots among heavily populated areas, reports Gen. Earle G. Wheeler.

"This is a rough game," the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said last night, "particularly if the targets happen to be antiaircraft batteries. If it's only a few barrels of oil, it doesn't make much difference."

Wheeler, who returned Friday from a week-long inspection trip to Vietnam, said "there seems to be a growing trend in this direction."

He added that the North Vietnamese know "our policy is not to attack populated areas per se."

The net result, he suggested, is that "in certain instances this makes installations immune to attack."

TRIBUTE

On the other hand, Wheeler said the enemy's efforts amount to a tribute to the effectiveness of U.S. bombing, which he praised as an "integral and indispensable part of our operations against the North Vietnamese."

★ ★ ★

"The effectiveness of our air campaign is made increasingly clear by enemy propaganda complaints," the nation's top general said in a speech to a dinner meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society.

"And now to escape it, and to seek more propaganda fuel, he appears to be placing his own population into hostage."

Judiciary Unit Dems to Judge Powell

WASHINGTON (AP) — The panel that decides on Adam Clayton Powell's qualifications to be a member of Congress apparently will include five Democrats from the House Judiciary Committee.

★ ★ ★

Speaker John W. McCormack, who has had trouble finding members willing to serve on the special Powell panel, reportedly has decided to select five Democratic members from the Judiciary Committee.

In refusing to seat Powell last week, the House voted to create a committee of five Democrats and four Republicans to investigate Powell's qualifications and recommend within five weeks whether he be seated or expelled.

McCormack said Tuesday he had decided who the Democratic members would be, but would not announce their appointments until the Republicans named their representatives.

★ ★ ★

Republican leaders, busy with their rival State of the Union message to be delivered tomorrow night, had not gotten around to selecting their committee members Tuesday. There was no indication they would follow McCormack's lead and name Judiciary Committee members.

ADAM CLAYTON POWELL

The Judiciary Committee is composed of lawyers and includes experts in constitutional law, which is liable to figure prominently in the Powell investigation.

The House, in holding up Powell's seating, is acting under its constitutional authority to judge its own members' fitness.

The Judiciary Committee also has helped produce all the recent civil rights bills, which would tend to neutralize any complaint Powell might make that he is being treated unfairly because he is a Negro.

The chairman of the Judiciary Committee, and expected to be chairman of the special Powell committee, is Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y. Celler is dean of the House and is now serving his 23rd term.

Celler took an active part in the House debate last Tuesday, urging that Powell be seated while his qualifications were investigated.

Cancer Fatal to Barney Ross

CHICAGO (AP) — Barney Ross, world lightweight and welterweight boxing champion during the 1930s, died today of throat cancer.

Ross died in his Lake Shore Drive apartment at 10:45 a.m.

Ross, 57, never knocked out in an 82-bout pro career, was unable to appear at recent benefits for him attended by boxing greats in New York and Chicago.

The plucky, little ex-fighter — dogged by ill fortune since his ring retirement in 1938 — recently was treated at the Veterans Administration Research Hospital. He was a Marine hero in World War II.

Ross is survived by his widow, Catherine; four brothers, Ben, Sam and George of Chicago, and Morrie of Los Angeles; and one sister, Ida Kaplan, Chicago.

A wave of bitter cold air sweeping in from the Arctic Circle during early morning hours plunged temperatures in downtown Pontiac to 3 below zero, the coldest day of the season. There is little relief in sight.

Temperatures dipped to 20 below zero in parts of Upper Michigan last night and ranged from 5 above to 12 below in Lower Michigan.

GMC Proving Grounds in Milford reported 7 below, and 4 below was reported at Pontiac Municipal Airport, Clarkston and Romeo.

The outlook for today and tomorrow showed little change, the U. S. Weather Bureau said.

Temperatures are expected to be 4 to 12 above in Lower Michigan today with a low tonight of 2 to 6 below zero in the Pontiac area.

CHANCE OF SNOW

There's a chance of snow or snow flurries tomorrow.

Friday's outlook is for fair and continued frigid weather.

Today's northwesterly to west winds at 8 to 18 miles per hour will diminish to southwesterly at 5 to 12 miles tonight.

The cold front, product of a marriage between arctic air and a gale-force northwesterly wind, moved into Michigan early Monday.

Race Strife, Strike Plague San Quentin

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — San Quentin Prison officials today tried to break what they called a hardened convict group's grip of terror over 900 Negroes who refuse to report to their prison jobs.

Interviewers tried to uncover the leaders of the strike and those responsible for earlier clashes in which one white prisoner was killed and another injured.

The strikers late yesterday heard an appeal from the warden over the prison radio system. No demands by striking convicts have been made public.

In a press release, Associate Warden James Park blamed "a combination of Black Muslims and a hoodlum element" for the trouble.

Park said, "We feel by and large that the vast majority of these men have been intimidated by threats and coercion by some 100 to 150 hard core prisoners."

Premier, Wife Tour Capital

Aussie Jeers Greet Ky

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — With miniskirted demonstrators chanting "one-two-three, go home, Ky," South Vietnam's premier charmed his way into Australia's capital today and pacified a news conference of tough and at times hostile questioners.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and his wife arrived in Canberra for a nine-day visit to Australia and New Zealand during which members of the opposition Labor party have pledged to stage demonstrations aginst the war and his visit.

Fielding every question at the news conference with smiling urbanity, Ky:

1. Insisted that his visit was not to bolster his regime but to thank the people of Australia for their sacrifices in behalf of his country.

2. Denied that Adolf Hitler was his hero, that he had ever fought for the Vichy regime in France—"I was only 12 years old"— or that he had ever taken part in the Algerian war for France.

3. Reaffirmed his intention to visit the United States after the Constituent Assembly finishes writing a constitution for South Vietnam. He said the trip would probably be at the end of this year.

4. Said he has no objection to the Vietcong's National Liberation Front participating in negotiations to end the Vietnamese war "so long as they are part of the Hanoi delegation."

PROTEST VISIT

Some 700 trade unionists and students turned out to protest Ky's visit with placards denouncing him as a Fascist, a killer and "baby burner."

"Waterside workers say keep killer Ky out," read a typical placard waved by the demonstrators.

Some of the demonstrators tried to bait the hundreds of extra police called on duty by waving Vietcong flags in their faces, but the tough Aussie cops stood their ground. There were no incidents.

Accompanied by his beautiful wife, Tuyet Mai, the premier was whisked about the city at such speed that he was barely cognizant of any public opposition.

MILD, ORDERLY

By Saigon standards, the demonstrations were mild and orderly. Many of the anti-Ky forces wore the international uniform of protest—beards, sandals, blue jeans and sweat shirts. Standing under the eucalyptus trees waving their banners of protest and chanting, they might have been transplanted en masse to the Berkeley Campus in California without changing their lines or their garb.

School Bus Report Cites High Cost of Expansion

BIRMINGHAM — A report on proposed expansion of the school bus system indicates it would almost double the cost of service.

The report was submitted to the board of education at last night's meeting.

It shows bus service cost $290,000 for the 1965-66 year and that an expanded program would add $275,000.

The proposed expansion of service would provide transportation for:

- All students from kindergarten to third grade, including those in the city, from one-half mile, added cost $164,898.
- City secondary students one mile away, $74,731.
- Junior high students, including city, 1¼ miles away, $15,811.
- Late bus for secondary schools, $19,637.

The report estimates about 60 more buses would have to be purchased. None of the added cost of operation would be provided for through reimbursement by the state, it was indicated.

TO BE CONSIDERED

The state reimburses for transportation outside the city limits only, for those elementary pupils one mile or more away, and for secondary pupils over 1½ miles away.

The board will consider the report along with the 1967-68 school budget this spring.

The board also heard a report on the problem of obtaining teachers for the district.

Kenneth Magley, director of personnel, indicated a continuing shortage exists in teachers for arts, music, crafts, etc., and for students needing special instruction.

"The supply of candidates in these areas is extremely limited . . . Although our announcement of vacancies has been widespread, we have had very little response," he reported.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Bids received by the board of education on construction of a swimming pool at Andover High were about $50,000 over estimates.

Total cost of project had been placed at $760,000. The board decided to meet with their architects to revise plans and attempt to allow construction to begin within 30 days.

Bids on an 18-room addition to West Hills School are to be called for Feb. 10.

Prosecution Nearly Done in Baker Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government aims to finish presenting its evidence today against Bobby Baker.

Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats, is accused of income tax evasion, larceny, larceny after trust, interstate transportation of stolen money and conspiracy. His defense will offer its side after the prosecution concludes in the U.S. District Court trial.

★ ★ ★

Wayne L. Bromley, a former Baker associate, admitted from the witness stand Tuesday that in preliminary investigations he lied to the FBI, Internal Revenue Service, Senate investigators, agents of the comptroller general and a grand jury.

"Have you been indicted for these false statements?" cried out Boris Kostelanetz, one of Baker's lawyers.

NOT INDICTED

"Unless it's happened in the last couple of days, sir, not to my knowledge," replied Bromley.

Bromley and Baker were former fellow Senate pages, went to the same law school and were fraternity brothers. Bromley became a lobbyist and remained a close associate of Baker for years.

★ ★ ★

He earlier testified that thousands of dollars from freight forwarders, Las Vegas financial interests and others were channeled through him to Baker.

He said under cross-examination Tuesday that he said falsely in the preliminary investigations that he knew nothing of Baker's financial affairs.

SPLIT FEE

Bromley testified that he split 50-50 with Baker a $5,000 fee for expediting a charter for the Redwood National Bank, San Rafael, Calif. But he testified that in the preliminary investigations he said Baker got no part of the money.

Briton: Found Secret Papers

LONDON (UPI) — A member of the staff of the London Times said yesterday he had found documents relating to U.S. guided missiles scattered on the sidewalk in a London suburb.

The Times said it turned the papers over to the British Ministry of Defense.

TOOK NOTICE

In dismissing the case against Holtzman, 47, of 22411 Twyckingham, Mrs. Gilbert said she also took notice that he was not summoned in the normal manner to appear before the grand jury.

"He wasn't subpoenaed, just merely asked," she said.

Holtzman, who has his law office in the Cadillac Tower, Detroit, was among the first three persons to be indicted by Pratt in his second judicial probe.

Charles J. Porter, special state attorney assigned to the grand jury, said it has not been decided whether or not charges will be reinstated against Holtzman, or if Justice Gilbert's decision will be appealed.

Fire Chief Warns

Use Extra Care in Heating

With temperatures hovering around zero, greater demands are being placed on home heating devices.

Dozens of house fires are caused each winter by the careless use of furnaces and heaters and Pontiac Fire Chief James R. White has urged extra caution as the key to safety.

He cited good housekeeping as "90 per cent of the battle in preventing heating fires."

Clean, well-maintained equipment, including chimneys and flues, is the safest kind, he pointed out.

Most of the fires in hot air heating are caused by closing registers which are on short leads from the furnace, he said. "This," he explained, "brings a buildup of heat in the lead, which can ignite partitions."

COAL FURNACES

He suggested that people with coal furnaces store the ashes in metal containers and urged continuous inspection of wiring in electrically heated homes.

"I also want to warn people with portable space heaters against fueling them while they're ignited," he added. "This is a most dangerous practice."

His list of general rules for all types of heating devices included keeping heaters away from flammable materials, keeping the devices clean and in top working condition and inspecting them often and carefully.

AF Orbits 8-in-1 Rocket for Communication Network

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force today launched eight satellites into space with a single rocket, aiming to weave a communications network around the globe to speed military messages between far-flung outposts. Emphasis will be on traffic between Washington and Vietnam.

A Titan 3 rocket blasted away from Cape Kennedy at 9:19 a.m. on the thundering burst of 2.4 million pounds of thrust. The Defense Department's most powerful booster was to hurl the satellites into separate orbits, stringing them like a pearl necklace around the equator at an altitude of 21,000 miles.

★ ★ ★

An Air Force spokesman reported the early phases of the flight were successful.

"It's moving out very nicely," he reported. "All systems are performing. It's on time and on the line."

IN ORBIT

Eight minutes after launching, the control center reported the upper stage of the Titan, called the transtage, had settled with its payload attached into an initial orbit about 100 miles above the earth.

About six hours after launching, spring devices were to kick the eight satellites free one by one so they gradually would drift apart to encircle the globe.

The 100-pound satellites were to join seven others launched by a Titan 3 last June. The first seven are relaying traffic through eight ground stations, including two in Vietnam.

The eight new satellites were scheduled to become operational next summer after testing.

ADVANTAGE

"Satellite communications give the military a great flexibility," said Col. Mitchel Goldenthal, commander of the Army Satellite Communications Agency, "especially in the type of war like Vietnam, where a brigade- or division-size group becomes an island of resistance."

★ ★ ★

"In such a case you want high reliability that you'll get your information through. You want tough, reliable communications. That's what satellites can provide. They are not affected by weather, sunspots or other propagations."

Township Spokesman Mum on Any Reasons

An interim supervisor on the threshold of beginning a new term has resigned with no reason being made public.

Duane K. Sanford, 32-year-old supervisor of West Bloomfield Township, has submitted a letter of resignation effective last Monday, the township clerk's office admitted today.

However, the spokesman for the clerk's office said no other information is being made public. The Township Board is scheduled to meet at 8 tonight.

Sanford of 5535 Wild Ridge has served as supervisor since John C. Rehard resigned last July. Running as a Republican, Sanford was elected to a full term in last November's election. The term would have begun in April.

★ ★ ★

He was unavailable for comment.

Sanford defeated his Democratic opponent Hugh L. Freeman of 3253 N. Elder, 4,469 to 2,022, last November.

POLL WINNERS

Two incumbent Republican trustees were also winners at the polls last fall as all available offices were filled by Republicans.

Southerner Faces 3 Charges Following Shooting Fracas

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — A man, subject of an all-night stake-out after he fired rifle shots from his home, was arrested today without resistance.

Robert Elrod, 30, was taken into custody by police as he and his wife drove to work.

He was charged with drunken driving, resisting arrest and threatening the life of an officer.

TRAFFIC CHARGE

About 15 deputy sheriffs, highway patrolmen and agents of the state law enforcement division surrounded Elrod's house Tuesday night after he fired rifle shots when an officer tried to arrest him on a traffic charge.

Officers tried to persuade Elrod to come out. When he refused, all but four left. The four deputies set up a watch.

Mrs. Elrod told police today that Elrod had gone to bed around midnight and slept most of the night.

Mrs. Elrod, when questioned by newsmen after the arrest of her husband, asked: "What is all the fuss about?"

No attempt was made to enter the house and take Elrod, officers said, for fear residents of the heavily populated area and Elrod's wife and children, aged 3 and 4, might be harmed.

Police said a highway patrolman chased Elrod's car off U.S. 1 about 11 p.m. and onto the street where Elrod lives.

★ ★ ★

Elrod stopped the car near his home, officers said, left the vehicle and ran into the house. As the patrolman approached, police said, Elrod appeared on the porch and fired shots from an automatic rifle.

W. Bloomfield Mail Taken; Teens Held

Three 17-year-old youths from Royal Oak are being held in Oakland County Jail, charged with stealing the contents of about 30 mailboxes in West Bloomfield Township.

The trio was arrested yesterday afternoon after an automobile chase in which township officers were assisted by Orchard Lake police and sheriff's deputies.

★ ★ ★

The mailboxes raided were in the West Acres Subdivision area, Commerce and Hiller. A quantity of mail was recovered in the suspects' car.

Possible federal charges are pending against the youths.

Vietcong Stronghold Raked by Fire Bombs

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — High-flying B52 bombers rained tons of fire bombs on Communist War Zone D today in an attempt to burn Viet Cong hideouts in triple canopy jungles 32 miles northeast of Saigon.

A U.S. military spokesman who observed the unusual incendiary bomb raid from a helicopter said "it looked just like the Fourth of July."

He said the huge eight-engine Stratoforts, flying out of sight at 30,000 feet, made 10 passes over a 30-square-mile area of the D Zone which the Viet Cong reportedly used for base camps and infiltration routes.

A few miles to the west of the zone, U.S. forces reported killing 20 more Viet Cong in Operation Cedar Falls in the "Iron Triangle" 20 to 30 miles north of Saigon. U.S. troops also uncovered a grave with 19 enemy bodies, and a spokesman placed the Communist death toll at 495 since the operation began Jan. 8.

SUCCESSFUL RAIDS

Only small, scattered ground fighting was reported elsewhere, but U.S. headquarters announced successful results from stepped-up air raids over North Vietnam Tuesday.

The headquarters said the Thai Nguyen railroad yard 40 miles north of Hanoi was heavily damaged by 16 flights of F105 Thunderchiefs bombers which pummelled the sprawling yard for eight hours.

3 Quintuplets Die in Germany

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP) — Three of the quintuplets born Tuesday to a German woman who had been given fertility injections died during the night, a spokesman for the Duesseldorf University Clinic reported today.

Prof. Gustav Adolf von Harnach, head of the children's clinic, said the survival chances of the other two infants were "extremely minimal."

They were being given artificial respiration, he said.

3 Join Staff of County's Prosecutor

They are Charles B. Woodruff, 33, of Birmingham; Alexander B. McGarry, 26, of Royal Oak; and Bruce T. Leitman, 26, of Ann Arbor.

Woodruff is a former insurance claims adjuster and law clerk for William L. Cahalan, recently named Wayne County prosecutor. McGarry had been in the labor relations department of Ford Motor Co. Leitman was a law research assistant at the University of Michigan.

Bronson said two others will soon join his staff, Arnold J. Shifman, 32, brother of Oak Park Municipal Judge Burton R. Shifman, and Dennis Donohue, 26, research clerk for Michigan Supreme Court Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Bronson's chief aide, Thomas Plunkett had been Kavanagh's clerk before becoming an assistant prosecutor in January 1965.

Other officers are scheduled to be elected at the next monthly meeting.

Draft Deferment Tests Set at 15 State College Sites

LANSING (UPI) — Fifteen college sites were named yesterday by the State Selective Service for students to take college draft deferment qualification tests in March and April.

Students who successfully pass the tests receive favorable consideration when the Selective Service issues college deferments. Class standing and grades are other major considerations.

Application forms for the tests are available at all Michigan local Selective Service board offices.

The tests will be given March 11, March 31 and April 8 at the 15 sites. Applications to take the test must be in by Feb. 10.

★ ★ ★

TEST SITES

The tests will be given in Ann Arbor, Berrien Springs, Dearborn, Detroit, East Lansing, Flint, Grand Rapids, Houghton, Kalamazoo, Marquette, Mount Pleasant, Saginaw, Sault Ste. Marie, Traverse City and Ypsilanti.

There are about 50,000 Michigan college men who have deferments compared with about 60,000 at this time a year ago.

AF Still Investigating Michigan UFO Pictures

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Air Force is continuing its investigation of photographs taken in Michigan last week of what appears to be an unidentified flying object, but has come to no conclusions, officers said Tuesday.

Spokesmen in Project Blue Book at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, the agency which investigates UFO reports, said they still had not viewed the original photographs taken last week near Selfridge Air Force Base near Mount Clemens, Mich.

Two boys took photographs of a hamburger-shaped object with a projection at one end. Wright-Patterson officers have been studying copies of the photographs, but have said they cannot make proper measurement evaluations or reach any definite conclusions until they look at the original prints.

Meanwhile, Dr. J. Allen Hynek of Evanston, Ill., chairman of the Astronomy Department at Northwestern University, said in a telephone interview with The Dayton Daily News Tuesday he did not mean to put an "authentic" stamp on the pictures.

Dr. Hynek has been consulted by the Air Force on UFO investigations in the past, but Project Blue Book officers said Tuesday he had not been consulted in regard to the Michigan photographs.

"All I said (to a reporter) was that at first glance the pictures do not appear to be an obvious hoax," Dr. Hynek said.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain is expected in the Gulf Coast region and the northern Pacific Coast tonight. Snow and snow flurries are forecast in the northern and central Plateau sections. It will be colder in most of the eastern third of the nation with warmer temperatures expected in the central Plains and mid-Mississippi Valley.

Board Will Review Plans for New Waterford School

Preliminary plans for Waterford Township's proposed new Crescent Lake Elementary School will be reviewed by the board of education at its 7:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow.

Budgeted for the new building, which was approved by school district voters last June 13 when they passed a $4.8-million bonding proposal, is $594,500.

The total project cost consists of $495,000 for construction and contingencies, $49,000 for equipment, $28,500 for architect's fees and $22,000 for site development.

To be located in the Crescent Lake Estates subdivision area, the school also will be used for development of an exemplary elementary school program in the district.

★ ★ ★

Federal funds to conduct the program are being sought through Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

SLATE BIDS OPENING

In other business tomorrow night, the board is slated to open bids for an interior remodeling project at Waterford Township High School.

The project includes creation of a second floor art center and homemaking facility.

Other alterations also are earmarked for the school.

Hebrew U. Gets Most of Estate

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Most of a $1.3-million estate has been willed by Samuel Sturman, a Rochester businessman, to an Israeli university.

Sturman directed in his will that the money be used to found a department or chair at Hebrew University to plan a model state in the Middle East "with justice and righteousness as its foundation."

Woodlands comprise 50 per cent of the area of Sweden. Another 9 per cent is lakes.

U.S. Charges Ex-Deputy in Negro Death

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Justice Department has filed a misdemeanor charge against a former Elmore County deputy sheriff, claiming he assaulted a Negro found dead in a cell at the county jail last Nov. 20.

The federal charge against Harvey King Conner was filed in U.S. District Court Tuesday and Conner was summoned to appear for arraignment March 1.

He is charged under a section of the U.S. code providing a penalty of up to one year in prison and a fine of $1,000 or both, court officials said.

The Justice Department contended in its charge that Conner, while acting as a duly appointed deputy, "did willfully assault, strike, beat and injure James Earl Motley...with the intent and purpose of imposing summary punishment on him and did thereby deprive James Earl Motley of rights secured and protected by the Constitution and laws of the United States."

Motley was arrested by Conner early Nov. 20 on charges of highway drunkenness and resisting arrest. The 27-year-old Montgomery construction worker was taken to the county jail at Wetumpka, where his body was found on the floor of a cell later that day.

An Elmore County grand jury returned a no-bill Monday after investigating the case for two days last week. Coroner Joseph Benson ruled earlier that Motley's death was accidental, listing the chief cause of death as "brain injury."

City High Schools Are Overflowing

Pontiac's high schools are bursting at the seams.

The City's oldest, Pontiac Central, has a reasonable capacity of 1,875 students and a total emergency capacity of 1,933. The current enrollment there is 2,147 students. That's 214 more than the emergency limits.

Why not bus some of them to our newer high school, Pontiac Northern?

The situation there isn't much better. Northern is currently 123 students over its total emergency capacity.

Faced with this booming student population, the Pontiac Board of Education and school administrators are now contemplating a third junior-senior high school on the City's East Side. The board announced last week it has an option to buy a 122-acre site for the projected school on the southwest corner of Featherstone and Opdyke.

The new facility would serve two purposes. It would take some pressure off our other two high schools and serve an area where most of this City's growth is destined to take place in the next ten years.

★ ★ ★

Most of the undeveloped land in Pontiac is in the East and Northeast parts of the City. Plans call for major sewers to be built in that area this year, thus setting the stage for development of these sections.

★ ★ ★

Our school officials are showing foresight in attempting to solve an existing problem as well as provide for a future need.

TV Falls Short of Educational Boon Foreseen

Only a few years ago, Americans waited expectantly for the revolution that television was supposed to work in the Nation's educational system.

Today, to be sure, some 10 million elementary, high school and college students, plus another million persons in the general population, are served in greater or lesser degree by the 115 educational television stations in the United States. ITV (instructional television) is a proved teaching tool.

★ ★ ★

Yet for all this, the most significant contribution television has made to education is that it has "displayed in public what had heretofore gone on behind too many closed classroom doors — uninspired teaching."

This indictment is contained in a 95-page report, "Learning by Television," published by the Fund for the Advancement of Education.

The authors of the report cite a survey made by the National Instructional Television Laboratory which found that of 150 filmed or taped programs available to elementary schools only a "startling" 9.2 per cent were fit for distribution. The rest were rejected because of "instructional ineffectiveness."

★ ★ ★

If television is ever to upgrade the quality of American education and encourage individual learning, instead of merely being thrown into the breach to alleviate problems caused by too few teachers and too many students, summarized the report, it will have to be used a lot more flexibly and imaginatively than it has so far.

NY Traffic Boss Copes With People and Cars

When 3.3 million persons enter an 11-square-mile area, you have a traffic problem. That many people enter the heart of Manhattan — south of 60th Street—every weekday. And it is up to HENRY A. BARNES, New York City Traffic Commissioner, to see that vehicular traffic in New York keeps moving—however sluggishly.

BARNES, now five years on the job, had worked traffic wonders in Baltimore. By installing electronic, self-monitoring traffic signals at major intersections, he cut the time required to negotiate a four-mile stretch of a Baltimore thoroughfare from 45 to 17 minutes.

In attacking traffic congestion, the commissioner finds no merit in proposals to ban all private motor vehicles from Manhattan. "Ban vehicles and you ban business," he said. "And if we put tolls on bridges into Manhattan, we would remove only 3 per cent of the cars."

Fortunately, the great majority of Manhattan's commuters arrive by bus, subway or railroad. It has been said that if all the people who use public transportation in New York were to drive to work, all of Manhattan south of 50th Street would have to be given over to multi-deck parking garages.

Then New York would not even be a nice place to visit.

Viet Talk on Merry-Go-Round

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — A year passes. The questions and answers about Vietnam begin again. The same voices speak.

MARLOW

They sound sometimes like an old record with the needle stuck — nothing has changed much.

That is, nothing has changed much in the arguments or the ones making them. There have been changes.

The United States has more troops in Vietnam, about 395,000 now to about 180,000 a year ago.

More than 6,630 U.S. military men have been killed in Vietnam since 1961, over 5,000 of them in the last year.

★ ★ ★

In fact, more American military men have been killed in Vietnam than in the Revolutionary War, the War of 1812, the Mexican War, or the Spanish-American War.

And, the longer the war, the more the damage to President Johnson's popularity and the greater the number of his critics.

The war itself looks no nearer an end than it did this time last year.

But the talking goes on, like the bombing of North Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Behind closed doors Monday, Secretary of State Dean Rusk spent four hours testifying about the war before the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee whose chairman, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, is one of Johnson's most persistent critics.

PUBLIC TO HEAR

Next Monday, Rusk will face the same committee in public. Last year he did the same.

At that time, Fulbright said the war did not involve the national interest of the United States.

He said it was the kind of war that keeps on escalating, hardly a prophetic statement since the war has been getting bigger year by year.

Monday, Fulbright, sounding exactly like himself of a year ago, said the fundamental issue is whether the war is in "our national interest."

STILL HIS ISSUE

Many things have happened in a year but Fulbright still makes that the basic issue.

But the claim that American national interest and security are the main reasons for this country's involvement in the war has been the Johnson administration's basic position from the beginning.

After talking privately to the committee Monday, Rusk talked to newsmen and said U.S. bombing of the north must continue while this country keeps trying "to find out" whether stopping the bombing would be a move toward peace.

★ ★ ★

If the north stops trying to seize South Vietnam by force, Rusk said, peace can come very quickly.

★ ★ ★

A year ago, he said if the armed attack against South Vietnam is brought to an end, peace can come very quickly.

The Way The Fortune Cookie Crumbles!

David Lawrence Says:

GOP Seeking Equal Treatment

WASHINGTON — Equal treatment — this is what all three television networks are being asked to give tomorrow to a "state of the union" message by the joint leadership of the Republican party in the House and the Senate.

LAWRENCE

The networks are willing to broadcast a half-hour program at various times convenient to their schedules on different days. But both Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan have insisted that it should be what is known as live coverage.

This means that the Republican leaders themselves would appear on the major television networks simultaneously and read the rebuttal to the message delivered by President Johnson last week.

The television networks were asked last year to broadcast a live television program, but they did not accede to the request.

★ ★ ★

The reason why the Republican leaders are insisting on live coverage is that this is one way by which the whole television audience could be mobilized at the same time.

When the President was speaking at 9:30 p.m. on the night of Jan. 10, there were no other programs competing with him on the three networks.

So, even though "equal time" may be given, the total number watching such a program is less when there are competitive shows being broadcast.

There is no law which requires simultaneous coverage by the networks.

The broadcasting companies of course, have a right to use their own judgment in making up their schedules.

Laws on the subject of "equal time" have been passed by Congress, but, generally speaking, these were presumed to apply only to speeches of candidates during the period of political campaigns.

The Federal Communications Commission, however, has proclaimed what is known as the "fairness doctrine." It declares that "equal time" must be given always for rebuttal under equivalent circumstances whether the original broadcasts were paid for or were free.

Perhaps one of the difficulties in the present situation is that the minority party cannot always select the individuals who are considered true spokesmen for the party.

In this instance, however, since the President has addressed Congress, it is natural to expect the Republican leaders of the House and of the Senate to represent the viewpoint of the members of their own party in Congress.

Maybe a reason why there has not been a live television program on the "state of the union" by Republican leaders is that they themselves have not dramatized their own method of rebuttal.

If the speech could be delivered in the House of Representatives — with members of the Republican party in Congress, as well as governors, mayors and other members of the party present — the occasion would be more widely publicized and might be coincidentally shown on all networks.

Bob Considine Says:

Johnson's Mail Is Filled With Viet Peace Plans

NEW YORK — President Johnson's mail is filled with suggestions on how to end the war in Vietnam. They range all the way from Charles de Gaulle's advice that we pull out — a familiar tactic with de Gaulle — to recommendations that we drop hydrogen bombs on Hanoi, Haiphong, Peking and Moscow.

CONSIDINE

Between those horrid extremes are hosts of alternatives:

Withdrawing into enclaves, pulling out but alerting Ho Chi Minh to the fact that we have many missiles aimed in his direction if he tries to take over in South Vietnam, bringing in the Nationalist Chinese, warning Red China that we'll send B52's against her hard-won atomic works if she doesn't cease and desist, a blockade of both friendly and unfriendly shipping coming into Haiphong, etc. etc.

Each adviser is certain in his own heart that the President must be some kind of a nut if he doesn't accept the proffered remedy.

★ ★ ★

Some peace plans have a topical ring.

CAMBODIANS' PLAN

A Cambodian student named Thuon Sopheasy, now studying in Southeastern University, Washington, D. C., suggested during the late lamentable Christmas season:

"While the war in Vietnam is growing fiercer and more dangerous for the whole world, and caused deep concern even to Pope Paul VI, is it possible for the United States to divert some of the billions spent on this war to buy millions of cans of food of all sorts and drop them all over North Vietnam during the Christmas and New Year truces?"

Obviously, the President could not have accepted such insane advice. If he had, he might have hit Harrison Salisbury of the New York Times on the head with a five-gallon tin of Spam.

It isn't a war that lends itself to easy solutions.

Prediction (and don't forget who gave you Custer over the Indians):

There's a good chance that LBJ, against whom much of it is aimed, will wind up winner in William Manchester's book.

The American people are stubborn cusses.

★ ★ ★

If they see a man being kicked when he is down, hell nor high water is able to restrain their support of him.

A simple little piece I wrote recently, asking that we lay off knocking the President, elicited more sympathetic mail than anything I've written in years.

Offers Word of Advice for 'Good Samaritans'

As The Press tells so often of ingratitude of hitchhikers, it brings to mind something Walt Mason wrote: "As I go driving up the pike, I hear a pilgrim say, 'Oh stranger, for the love of Mike, give me a ride, I pray . . .' My impulse is to take him in and let him ride in peace . . . But I have heard my lawyer cry, '. . . Do not pick up the wayside guy whatever else you do. You are responsible for him, when once he's in your wain, and if you chance to break his limb colliding with a train, he's probably a tinhorn sport who begs you for a ride, and he'll collect from you in court and cannot be denied.' . . ."

★ ★ ★

Comments on Service of Local Bus Station

Why was the Greyhound bus station not open January 1 and 2 to accommodate people traveling during the holiday weekend? The service they give is lousy. No wonder the bus drivers went out on strike — they had a good reason. If the people who run the station don't want to take care of the public and the business, why are they allowed to continue to hold the franchise?

Suggests Ordinance to Reward Citizens

The City of Pontiac has a moral obligation to those who assume a personal risk in law enforcement and should pass an ordinance to reward citizens for injury or property damage or death suffered while they are attempting to prevent crime or capture a suspected criminal.

★ ★ ★

These awards would permit payment of claims up to whatever amount the City would pass. They would be a matter of "grace" and not of "right," based on recommendations of the Director of Safety, City Solicitor and the City Manager.

★ ★ ★

The City of New York and Cincinnati have such ordinances. It is time the City of Pontiac updates itself with many other cities in the race to better itself and its citizens.

'Violence Result of Serving Wrong Master'

About all one reads these days is that someone has been stabbed, robbed, beaten or even killed. Even our police officers are attacked after a basketball game. Two men have been beaten and robbed on Baldwin.

★ ★ ★

People today are serving the wrong master. Violence is getting out of hand. Unless the law is enforced and criminals dealt with as they should be, these terrible things will never stop. If there was a turning to the Lord we would have a safer place to live.

Question and Answer

Why can't we get service for which we've already paid from our family photograph album plan? The plan states two portraits a year for eight years with 90-day interval between sittings, by appointment without cost or obligation. Unless, when calling for an appointment, you say you'll give an order, you're put on a waiting list, if and when they get caught up. I wrote the company and got no answer.

MRS. W. C.

REPLY

A lawyer could best advise you. There seems to be question of promises made by some salesmen for these photographic album plans. Upon examining your contract, you may find some of them are not in writing. And you may have trouble getting in touch with the salesman. The photographer to whom your plan was transferred says he's having more trouble with the company than you are, and he hasn't been photographing for them since November. Your contract is not with the local photographer, but with the company, and it's up to the company to make good. This may present a problem, as it sometimes does when dealing with firms that operate out of the state. There is a possibility of legal action to determine liability in this matter, but in the meantime, you will have to make arrangements, if any, with the company which sold you the plan.

Beatniks are all over America. A visitor might easily overlook them among the soaring rockets and skyscrapers. But the beatniks are there, popping out of the four corners of the United States, mostly on college campuses, in dirty tattered clothes, with long beards and distant dreamy eyes.

★ ★ ★

According to one theory, beatniks are the true representatives of "The Other America." They act as the spokesmen of America's neglected poverty-stricken masses. Public opinion does not find them to its liking. America is a mighty antiseptic land, there is no room for filth. Americans deplore the way these bizarre men with beards and decaying teeth and mouth odor flutter about in filth all over the United States and other parts of the world. America would rather drop a few bombs on these young subversives and proceed to disinfect the whole of mankind in vast dry-cleaning machines.

A second view holds that some young people have grown disillusioned and tired of things American. They dread automatic civilization, its massive apartment buildings, supermarkets, drugstores, cars, etc. They find tedium and lack of purpose in all the conflict and competition, in Bethlehem Steel and U.S. Steel and stainless steel, T.V. and 7-Up, Pepsi and Coca-Cola, Americanized Irishmen and Americanized Germans, Americanized classical music, General Motors and General Electric. Out of the boredom of all this emerged the beatniks.

These people refuse to carry the burden of overdeveloped America's horrid machine civilization. They have abandoned all the fundamental values and beliefs of their country in favor of Buddhism, Zen Buddhism, mysticism and the occult lore of the East. They are striving to find salvation for their souls.

Psychiatrist Testifies

'Chance of Strangler Cure Not Good'

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A state psychiatrist says the prospects for successful treatment of Albert DeSalvo, the self-styled Boston strangler, are not good.

Dr. Samuel Tartakoff, director of legal medicine for the Massachusetts Department of Mental Health, told a Middlesex County Superior Court jury Tuesday there is no specific treatment for DeSalvo's condition, which he described as a "character disorder."

★ ★ ★

"He is treatable," Tartakoff said, "in that the effort to treat him might be made, with no assurance as to whether there might be change."

He added: "The prognosis is not good."

CROSS-EXAMINED

Under cross-examination by defense attorney F. Lee Bailey, Tartakoff said DeSalvo had told him he expected to be confined for the rest of his life. "He expressed the hope that what psychiatrists might learn from him would help him or help others after him," Tartakoff said.

Tartakoff was the last witness heard by the all-male jury as testimony was completed in DeSalvo's trial on charges of attacking four women in their suburban Boston homes in 1964.

Attorneys for both sides were to start summations today, followed by the judge's charge to the jury. The case was to go to the jury in the afternoon.

None of the charges is related to the 13 stranglings in eastern Massachusetts between June 1962 and January 1964.

Bailey has based his defense of DeSalvo solely on the contention that the 35-year-old former contractor's helper was not legally sane at the time of the attacks.

Two psychiatrists called by the defense testified they believed DeSalvo was laboring under an irresistible impulse at the time of the attacks and that society's concepts of right and wrong were meaningless to him.

Three psychiatrists called by the state testified they believed DeSalvo did understand the difference between right and wrong, knew what he was doing was wrong and was not operating under any irresistible impulse.

Two of them, Tartakoff and Dr. Samuel Allen, acting medical director of the state hospital at Bridgewater where DeSalvo has been confined for more than two years, said in cross-examination they felt DeSalvo should be kept in a mental institution.

Ruling Hits Cars for Legislators

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley Tuesday ruled that 1966 legislative resolutions to assign a car to each law-maker are invalid.

Sen. Frank Beadle, R-St. Clair asked Kelley if the 1966 resolutions by both the House and Senate are binding upon the 1967 Legislature.

★ ★ ★

Kelley cited a 1935 State Supreme Court opinion which said "Legislative resolutions are not law, although they are entitled to respectful consideration. . ."

"The subject resolutions of the 1966 session of the Legislature were without legal force or effect, to the purposes intended, at the time adopted or any time thereafter," Kelley ruled.

COULD PASS BILL

A spokesman for the attorney general's office said the Legislature could still pass a bill giving members cars. Democrats controlled the Legislature when the resolutions passed last year.

With Republicans controlling the Senate and an even party split in the House, it is thought unlikely they will revive the attempt to get state cars for lawmakers. Any such bill also would have to have the approval of Gov. George Romney.

★ ★ ★

Phil Peck, deputy director of the Department of Administration, said no cars had been furnished legislators as yet under the resolutions. Their purchase was being delayed, Peck said, until it was learned how many lawmakers wanted cars so they could be purchased more economically in one bidding.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Morning Sickness Can Be Minimized

BRANDSTADT

Q—Is there anything I can take to prevent morning sickness? I had it pretty bad with my first pregnancy.

A — There is no way to prevent morning sickness but you can minimize it by taking frequent small feedings and avoiding rich, greasy foods.

There are several seasickness remedies that will help tide you over the weeks when this is a problem.

If, instead of morning sickness, the vomiting persists all day you may have to spend a few days in the hospital until this complication is controlled.

★ ★ ★

Some women have morning sickness with every baby and others only with their first.

Unfortunately, there is no test to determine to which group you belong.

Q—Is it possible to menstruate after pregnancy has started?

★ ★ ★

A—It is not uncommon after the start of a pregnancy for a woman to have a mentrual period, but the flow is usually less profuse than normally.

★ ★ ★

If a woman has a second menstrual period after she becomes pregnant her doctor should suspect some disease of the uterus as a cause of the bleeding rather than menstruation.

Q—When a woman has her tubes tied will this cause any physical or mental changes in her?

★ ★ ★

A—It will cause no physical changes and there is no reason why it should cause any mental or emotional changes except a greater freedom from worry, but this is hard to predict because such changes depend on many factors that are hard to evaluate.

Q—I am afraid to take any medicine while I am pregnant. I have been taking Fiorinal and Equanil. If I were pregnant would they harm the baby?

★ ★ ★

A — No woman who is pregnant should take any medicine except under careful medical supervision.

Fiorinal is a sedative usually given for tension headaches. It contains a barbiturate and so may be habit-forming. It will not harm the baby.

Meprobamate (Equanil) is a tranquilizer and might possibly retard the development of your baby in the uterus.

Q—Is it possible for a woman's cycle to be such that her time to become pregnant is during her menstrual period?

★ ★ ★

A—The idea that ovulation might occur with menstruation was exploded about 40 years ago.

It occurs in all women about midway between menstrual periods.

Q—Is it true that if young women indulge in sports involving jumping it will cause them to have difficulties in childbearing later?

A—No. Any kind of sport that increases a girl's physical fitness would be an asset to her.

'U. S. Economic Growth to Slow'

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond says the U.S. economy will slow from a growth rate of 8.5 per cent last year to 6 per cent this year.

Edward A. Wayne said "we cannot grow at unsustainable rates and we should not expect it."

Bus Contract Appears Near

Subsidy Is Increased $15,000 in Accord

The city may soon have a new contract with Pontiac Transit Corp. for local bus service.

The $20,000-a-year contract expired last June, and periodic negotiations have been carried out on a new contract.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren reported last night that a one-year contract, providing for a $15,000 boost in the city's subsidy, is being drafted by American Transit Corp., parent firm for Pontiac Transit.

Warren said the contract would cover from July 1 of last year to June 30, 1967, and would include a ceiling of $35,000 on the city's subsidy.

★ ★ ★

The city manager said Kenneth Totten, regional manager for American Transit, was also considering a City Commission suggestion that a five-year contract be worked out.

SUGGESTIONS

Warren further reported that several commission suggestions to improve local bus service would be considered by Totten and bus company officials.

★ ★ ★

The one-year contract is to be ready in about two weeks, according to Warren.

He added that he was optimistic that American Transit "is taking a greater interest in the operation here."

Legislative Confab Has Full Agenda

The prospects for fiscal reform, pro and con arguments on gasoline and weight tax increase, the consolidation of governmental services and unemployment and workmen's compensation will be discussed during the legislative conference in Pontiac next month.

★ ★ ★

The conference, sponsored by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce and the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with area service clubs, will be at noon Feb. 2 at Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake.

Recognized authorities chosen by the state C. of C. will serve on a panel and answer questions. There also will be round table discussions by businessmen attending the luncheon conference.

Tickets are available at the chamber office, 33 W. Huron, or through the service club. No tickets will be sold at the door. Tickets are $2.25.

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac conference is one of a series of legislative conferences to help provide businessmen with information that will make clearer current legislative matters that affect business operations.

Fatal Hit-Run Brings Prison

A White Lake Township man was sentenced yesterday to three months in the Oakland County Jail for the hit-and-run death of a pedestrian in Pontiac last summer.

In addition, Circuit Judge Frederick C. Ziem ordered Richard L. Alderman not to drink nor drive during a two-year probation period.

Alderman, 44, of 9074 Ashdown, pleaded guilty to negligent homicide last month.

Alderman was arrested at his home by Pontiac police after witnesses described his car as the one that struck down Virgil L. Dickerson July 22.

★ ★ ★

Dickerson, 48, of 4690 Pontiac Lake, Waterford Township, was fatally injured as he crossed E. South Blvd. in front of the GMC Truck & Coach plant.

Witnesses told police that the car ran two red lights before striking Dickerson.

Tower Operating

MUSKEGON (AP) — Muskegon County Airport's new $800,000 tower went into operation Tuesday night. It was built with federal, state and local funds and is to be dedicated in April or May.

Pontiac Joins 61 Municipalities

Reciprocal Pension Rights Plan OK'd

City Affairs

Pontiac municipal employes today can transfer their employment to Oakland County without loss of accumulated pension rights, after action last night by the City Commission.

Voting 5-2, the commission approved an administrative recommendation to permit city workers to be a part of the reciprocal pension system.

Commissioners Leslie H. Hudson and Robert C. Irwin cast the dissenting votes, claiming the reciprocal right was an item to be won by employes in future collective bargaining sessions.

While the commission majority did not dispute this point, most commissioners indicated they thought employes should have the transfer-without-loss provision.

★ ★ ★

Purpose of joining the reciprocal system, which includes 61 other municipalities, was to protect the pensions of Pontiac Municipal Airport workers due to be transferred to the county along with that facility.

BIDS TALLY

In other business last night, the commission received a tally of bids received on the sale of $1,014,000 in temporary loan notes for the R44 urban renewal project.

Submitting a bid of 2.82 per cent, John Nuveen and Co. was the low bidder, Four bids were received. Final approval of the loan note sale is to come next week.

The commission approved last night a contract for engineering work in conjunction with an estimated $100,000 worth of new construction at the city's two sewage treatment plants.

The contract on a "time and expense" basis was valued at about $8,000 by Joseph E. Neipling, director of public works and service.

RESIGNATION

In still other business, the resignation of William F. Davis from the city plan commission was received. After 18 years on the planning board, Davis resigned for personal reasons.

In related action, the commission appointed John L. Crump Sr., a 50-year-old GMC Truck and Coach Division worker, to fill the vacancy. Crump's term will expire in March 1968.

Two vacating requests were approved last night after public hearings. The alley right-of-way in the block bounded by Kennett, Joslyn, Montcalm and Glenwood was vacated, and a six-foot utility easement was vacated in a block bounded by First, Joslyn, Madison and Highwood.

★ ★ ★

Three reappointments were made last night to the Civic Improvement Advisory Committee. Appointed to new three-year terms were Rudolph C. Miller, Mrs. Golden Howard and Mrs. Cassie Jones. Their terms expired Jan. 1.

REZONING REFERRALS

Two rezoning petitions — one for the northwest corner of Joslyn and Brooks and one for a parcel on Waldon, between Joslyn and Giddings — were referred to the city planning commission.

City Commissioner Robert C. Irwin reported last night the campaign is mounting for a traffic light on West Huron in the vicinity of Webster School.

Irwin read a resolution passed by the executive board of the Webster School PTA that urges that the traffic light be erected.

★ ★ ★

The light was taken down when a pedestrian bridge was put up. State Highway Department officials so far have refused to replace the traffic signal.

City officials have protested that the light is needed to serve pedestrians and traffic entering West Huron.

OCC to View Lack of Practical Nurses

The practical nurse shortage and possible ways to confront it will be explored by an Oakland Community College advisory committee.

College trustees last night agreed with OCC President Dr. John E. Tirrell that a group of persons concerned with the problem should be organized to investigate the situation and offer suggestions.

The idea was prompted by a letter from the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees, in which OCC officials were urged to consider establishing facility for paramedical occupations.

Tirrell also suggested that the possibility of federal or foundation funding for the program be investigated.

★ ★ ★

Such a facility probably could not be opened before September 1968, he said.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the board learned that it will have to pay $29,320 to revise not - yet - completed building on the Orchard Ridge Campus to meet new requirements of the state fire marshal.

Although plans for the buildings previously had been approved by the state officials, revisions were ordered after a recent inspection, according to James W. Hobson, college treasurer.

These include replacement of just-mounted doors with safer ones, addition of more overhead sprinklers and cutting more doorways into the walls.

★ ★ ★

Expressing their displeasure at fire marshal actions one trustee labeled "arbitrary," the board members nevertheless approved the allocation.

WATER MAIN

They also agreed to spend another $13,877 to extend the campus water main closer to the future Farmington Township water supply line.

An $8,221 contract for the printing of the 1967 college catalog was awarded to the Ann Arbor Press, lowest of four bidders.

Trustees discussed in an executive session following their open meeting progress on the search for potential campus sites in southeastern Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

Tirrell noted professional appraisals have been made of two parcels being considered.

MEETING SOUGHT

The board received a letter from the Oak Park City Council seeking a joint meeting to discuss the possibility of establishing a college branch in that city.

Mentioned in the letter was the Light Guard Armory at 15000 W. Eight Mile.

Tirrell said he understood that the property was not available as late as last fall.

★ ★ ★

A meeting with the council is to be arranged within the next month.

Oakland Community College News

Romney Given Chairman Post

BISMARCK, N. D. (UPI) — Michigan Gov. George Romney yesterday was appointed chairman of one committee and a member of two others for the 1967 Governors' Conference.

★ ★ ★

Romney was named chairman of the state and local revenues committee and a member of the executive committee and the federal-state-local relationship committee.

★ ★ ★

There are eight committees as well as five special study committees which will prepare reports for submission to the National Governors' Conference in October, aboard a cruise ship to the Virgin Islands.

★ ★ ★

Gov. William Guy of North Dakota, chairman of the 1967 Governors' Conference, made the announcement of the appointments to the committees.

President Elected for Faculty Group

N. Jay Brantley has been elected president of the Oakland Community College Faculty Association, a new organization which represents 152 faculty members on both of the college's campuses.

Brantley is an assistant professor of accounting on the Auburn Hills Campus.

Mrs. Christine Harris was named treasurer and Judith Murray secretary of the group.

Program Funded

PETOSKEY (AP) — The Petoskey Regional Vocational Center has received $8,795 in matching federal funds to equip an auto mechanics laboratory.

Mrs. Williams is to be the principal speaker at the event in the Birmingham Community House.

Women

Assumes Office for Second Year

Mrs. Earl Floyd was reelected Tuesday night as president of the Pontiac Area Council of Camp Fire Girls at their annual meeting and dinner in the Waldron Hotel.

Assisting Mrs. Floyd will be Edward Sharpe, 1st vice president; Mrs. W. W. Ferguson, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Donald DeVoe, secretary and Dr. Ned Colbrun, treasurer.

★ ★ ★

Elected to the board of directors were Mrs. Leslie Seay, Mrs. Bernard Stickney, Mrs. William Wright, Mrs. John Vanderlind, Robert Kingsbury, Lloyd Smith and John Wilson.

★ ★ ★

Representing the Leaders' Associations and the Avon District committee on the board will be Mesdames John Fitzgerald, Howard Hissong, Melvin Norberg and Gilbert Petz.

FROM OEO

Guest speaker for the evening was Lawrence F. Watson, senior counselor for the Oakland County Commission on Economic Opportunity.

He is considered an expert in the field of juvenile delinquency and has been a guest lecturer at Harvard, Holy Cross and Brown universities. Topic of his discussion was preparing children for today's world.

★ ★ ★

Certificates of appreciation were presented by Mrs. Floyd to Westside Kiwanis Club, the Civitan Club of Pontiac, the Painters Union No. 22, Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Youth Organization, Grace Lutheran Church Youth Group and the Waterford Kettering Varsity Club for their services to the Camp Fire Girls' camp, Camp Oweki.

THANK-YOU

A special service award was presented to Willis Schnekenburger of Opdyke Road. Mr. Schnekenburger has been a volunteer supervisor of camp maintenance for more than eight years. He supervised the remodeling of the lodge and the nature-creative arts center.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. E. W. Darling, president of Region II Camp Fire Girls, Inc. was a guest.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ferguson, assisted by Mrs. Fitzgerald, was general chairman of the event.

The Pontiac Area Council of Camp Fire Girls is a member agency of the Pontiac United Fund.

Late Guests Still Rude

New 'Low' for Excuses

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In a recent column you said, "The reason some people are always late is because they are selfish, immature and inconsiderate."

ABBY

There is another reason you failed to mention. Some people who have been very poor and hungry in their younger years always come to parties late on purpose, because they don't want people to think they are starving for food. There was always plenty of food at our house, that is why I am always on time.

PROMPT

DEAR PROMPT: Well, now the cup of alibis overfloweth!

DEAR ABBY: I am writing in response to the woman who was criticized because her child was badly behaved in public. She said the boy was retarded, epileptic and nearly blind and no one wanted to sit with such a child so she had to take him wherever she went.

Well, Abby, there are people who will sit with retarded and otherwise handicapped children and adults. The United Cerebral Palsy association trains teenagers to care for the handicapped through their Monitor Training program. It includes how to remove and put on braces, handle wheel-chair patients and what to do in case of a seizure.

High school students attend a series of classes on Saturday mornings and hear lectures from doctors, therapists, and social workers. A list is kept of all who have completed the course, and they are called when needed. I took this course three years ago and I am glad I did. I have since worked as a volunteer with blind and retarded children.

Please advise that mother to contact her local United Cerebral Palsy Association. If none is in her area, perhaps she can get one started. Parents of handicapped children need to get away for a dinner and a show once in a while and I am sure there are other young people who would like to help them out.

SHARON GREEN, DALLAS

DEAR ABBY: I am a 28-year-old man who needs some womanly advice. About a year ago I got a little drunk and hooked up with a 40-year-old married woman. We were intimate right away and to make a long story short, she and her two sons, 12 and 14, moved into my apartment.

Her divorce came through after and we made plans to marry. Then I started finding out things about her that didn't add up. She said she lost her first husband in the war. I found out they were divorced and he's still living.

She told me her parents were both dead. I found out they are living right in this town, but she never sees them. She said she had no other children except the boys. I found out she has two older daughters, living with relatives.

When I brought up these things she said it is all in the past and she doesn't want to talk about it. Now I am wondering what kind of person would lie about things like that, and why! I care for her Abby, but should I marry a woman if I can't believe a word she says!

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: If you do, you ought to have your head examined.

MRS. EARL FLOYD

Capacity Crowd

Mrs. William Brace, chairman of the Jan. 25 brunch and fashion show for Pontiac - Oakland Town Hall, announces that all reservations have been taken.

Mrs. Bergin Is President of Board

Mrs. Gerald Bergin is the newly elected president of the League of Catholic Women board of directors. The annual board meeting was held Monday evening at a dinner in Fortino's.

Her three vice presidents are Mrs. Joseph Spadafore, Mrs. Lloyd Mountain and Mrs. Stanley Vitasinsky.

PEO Chapters in County Schedule Founders Day

The Oakland County Cooperative of PEO Sisterhood will commemorate the 98th anniversary of its founding at a luncheon next Wednesday in the Birmingham Community House.

Mrs. Edward W. Williams will discuss "Making Your Own Rainbow," following the 12:30 p.m. luncheon. A former lecturer at Wayne State University and the University of Chicago, Mrs. Williams is an authority on children's literature.

Also on the program will be a tribute to the founders by Mrs. Charles B. Cass and musical selections by Victor and Mary Louise Lindquist.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. F. J. Zoellin, chairman of the day, will be assisted by Mrs. H. R. Hynson, Mrs. Charles Matson, Mrs. Walter Anderson, Mrs. Hilmer Carlson and Mrs. Robert E. Harvie.

Reservations may be obtained by contacting Mrs. J. K. Harvey of Birmingham.

IOWA ORIGIN

PEO is an educational and philanthropic organization established in 1869 at Iowa Wesleyan College.

★ ★ ★

The group owns and fully supports Cottey College, a junior college for women in Nevada, Mo.

It also has an educational loan fund of more than $1 million dollars which assists American girls attending colleges in the United States.

★ ★ ★

Through PEO's International Peace Scholarship fund established in 1949, approximately 100 foreign students per year are awarded scholarships for graduate study in this country.

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Menopause is not an illness. It is as natural as puberty and pregnancy. However, it is a time of readjustment in the body, while progressively, one set of glands prepares to retire and another to take over the production of hormones. It is a time of imbalance in the system until nature gets things straightened out.

The age at which women have menopause varies greatly. About 50 per cent of women in Western civilization experience this change-over between the ages of 45 and 50, 25 per cent between 40 and 45, 12½ per cent after the age of 50 and 12½ per cent before the age of 40.

There is no way to predict when this will occur. Heredity may play a part. A woman may follow the pattern of her mother and sisters, although this is not always the case by any means.

It appears probable that a woman who has her first period early may have a late menopause, but there is no set rule.

NO SYMPTOMS

Only about 10 per cent of women have no symptoms at all while another 10 per cent have more varied and severe symptoms. The other 80 per cent experience one or more indications that nature is stirring things around.

Some of these indications are, irritability, sensitiveness when this is not the usual pattern of personality, unusual fatigue, hot flashes, insomnia, tension, headaches when she had not had any before, palpitation of the heart and many more.

★ ★ ★

This may sound formidable but actually most women have only a few of these and most of them can be controlled with modern therapy and medication, which your doctor will prescribe for you.

The better physical condition and the better outlook she has, the more easily she will breeze through this time of readjustment.

★ ★ ★

I think it is extremely important for a woman and her family, especially her husband, to be informed about one fact — premenstrual tension. Many women experience always a feeling of tension a few days before their monthly periods. However, this is more likely to happen as menopause approaches, sometimes years before.

Unless this is understood, it can cause real unhappiness in the family and particularly between the husband and wife.

KEEP IN MIND

There is another thing which every woman should keep in mind. Stay in close touch with your doctor, not because you are ill, but because he can probably prescribe medication which will make you comfortable.

Also, and even more important; this is the age group when other serious conditions are more apt to arise than in earlier years. If you have any unusual symptoms, have them checked. Don't neglect danger signals and blame them on menopause!

DOUGLAS LUND

JCs Present Service Award

Head of Rochester Schools 1st Recipient

ROCHESTER — Douglas Lund, who became superintendent of schools last July, last night was named as the recipient of the first Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service Award.

The award was made at the group's second annual Bosses' Dinner. Lowell Eklund, dean of continuing education at Oakland University, was guest speaker.

Presentation of a plaque was made by Alex Formicola, president, in recognition of Lund's longstanding community service career.

Lund came here in 1950 after graduation from St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn. He was employed as a teacher at Avon Elementary School and while there completed work for a masters degree from the University of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

In 1952 he was named principal of Harrison Elementary School and three years later was promoted to the position of director of elementary instruction.

PROMOTIONS

He was appointed director of the entire district in 1959 and assistant superintendent in charge of instruction two years later.

Last July 1 he was named to succeed Dr. William J. Early as superintendent.

Lund is a member of the Rotary Club, the Rochester Chamber of Commerce having served on its board of directors, and the American Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development.

He and his wife, Ann, live at 290 Reitman with their family. They attend Abiding Presence Lutheran Church.

Potatoes Down

LANSING (AP)—Stocks of fall potatoes held by Michigan growers, dealers and processors totaled 4.25 million hundredweight, down nine per cent from a year ago, as of Jan. 1, the Michigan Crop Reporting Service says.

Annexed Area in Farmington Gets Rezoned

FARMINGTON — The newly annexed 457 acres of former township property has officially been rezoned to conform to the city's master plan.

The City Council has zoned the residential area east of Drake as country estates and the area west of Drake near Halstead as planned use development.

Twenty acres on Grand River adjacent to the Chatham Hills subdivision were zoned for multiple dwellings, eight acres at Halstead and Grand River were zoned for commercial use and 19 acres also at Halstead and Grand River were zoned for education, research and office.

Frontage between Gill and Drake was zoned for commercial use including a 20-acre corner at Drake and Grand River.

★ ★ ★

In other recent action, the council appointed Mrs. Charlotte Bruce to the planning commission to replace James Cavanaugh who resigned last week.

NEGOTIATIONS

City Manager John Dinan announced that the city is completing contract negotiations with the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, which represents employes in the Department of Public Works and the sewer and water departments.

He said the final draft of the contract will be presented to the council in February for review and possible ratification.

The council also made the newly-annexed area part of voting precinct one until such time as the area develops to the point where a new precinct must be established.

★ ★ ★

Dinan said there are 161 voters in the area.

Avon Players Slate Comedy

AVON TOWNSHIP — The curtain will rise at 8:30 tomorrow night for a seven-night run of Avon Players' production, "Never Too Late," a Broadway comedy concerning aged parenthood.

★ ★ ★

Starring Tom King and Bonnie Stratton, the play features the talents of Blossom Cohoe, set designer; Betty Wattles, property chairman; Skip McCully, lighting director; Nancy Albyn, makeup department; and John Leopold, stage manager.

★ ★ ★

Also taking part are Dave Holderness and Clark Quinn, sound directors, and Dan Cavellero, Beth Hoheisel, Jarvis Lamb, Barbara Utech, Dawn Bourez and Marcia Quinn, publicity committee.

SLATE OPEN HOUSE — Utley-James, Inc., will mark the official opening of its new $350,000 central office and warehouse complex with an open house from 3 to 8 p.m. tomorrow. The company, one of the largest construction firms in Michigan, has been operating out of its new quarters at 1100 Opdyke, Pontiac Township, since Dec. 1.

Alcohol Case Brings Edict by Holly Chief

HOLLY — Persons supplying minors with liquor are facing a crackdown, according to Police Chief Omer Teeples.

He pointed out that earlier this week a 23-year-old man from Holly received a 60-day county jail sentence and $50 fine on the charge.

The case was heard before Independence township Justice of the Peace William Stamp in Clarkston, due to the illness of the township justice, he said.

Chief Teeples warned of even stiffer sentences on this violation which he termed a problem in the area.

New Quarters Due

Elks, Legion Homeless Now

ROCHESTER — Two of the largest organizations in the village are temporarily homeless — but due to move into new quarters within the next couple of months.

The Elks Lodge has sold its former temple at 204 W. Third to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Champion, 1909 Kingstree, Avon Township. Now known as the Champion Building, it is being used as a hall for rent and has been the scene of several youth dances.

The Elks, meanwhile, are looking forward to completion of their new $420,000 facility in the Mill Pond area off East University and Baldwin.

Spokesmen say that the club, while now homeless, should be ensconced in its new quarters next month and ready for dedication by March.

★ ★ ★

The Homer Wing Post No. 172 of the American Legion has announced the purchase of the former Michigan Bell Telephone equipment building at Walnut and W. Third.

NEW COMPLEX

Its former home on West University has been torn down to make way for a modern shop and office building complex.

Some remodeling of the old Bell building is taking place, spokesmen said, but the post expects to be installed in a few months.

Post meetings have been conducted at Stemmer's Catering Hall for the past year and a half.

Lapeer Bank OKs Dividend

LAPEER — Stockholders of the First National Bank of Lapeer have approved payment of a 5 per cent dividend to stockholders of record Dec. 31, 1966. A similar dividend was paid a year ago.

A director was added to the board in the person of Ted Ongena, manager of Lapeer Manufacturing Co.

Reelected to the board were Leon T. Bishop of Almont, Glenn Lake of North Branch, George Matthews of Imlay City, Earl Bennington, C. A. Laesch, H. M. Myers, W. A. Myers Sr., Olaf Moore, C. M. Ruhmann, Destain Steward Jr., and Arthur Williams, all of Lapeer.

Laesch was named chairman of the board; Ruhmann, president; W. A. Myers Sr., vice president; Williams, vice president and cashier; Steward, vice president; L. H. Wiggins, vice president; and David A. Paul, assistant vice president.

★ ★ ★

Also elected to positions were Norma L. Roney, Shirley McKillop, and Rena Tyrell, assistant cashiers; Bjarne Magnusson, auditor; and James Chapman, Jean Rea and Lyle Allen, branch officers.

TRUST OFFICERS

Ruhmann, Williams and Wiggins are trust officers.

Reports indicated that the bank ended the year with total resources of $28,028,200, a gain $600,000 over the previous year. Earnings climbed from $190,000 to $210,000 after taxes.

Library Campaign Kicked Off

CLARKSTON — The Clarkston Women's Club has kicked off a campaign to bring the township a new library, Mrs. Richard Johnson, club president has announced.

The present library, located in the old school next to the township hall, has been deemed inadequate.

Its capacity is 900 square feet, while state library officials have estimated 7,000 square feet should be provided to meet needs of the population.

Some 8,500 volumes are kept in the present structure where only 5,000 can properly be handled.

A tentative fund goal of $75,000 to $100,000 has been set. Some funds are expected to be realized from grants by either federal or foundation agencies.

JOINED SYSTEM

The library has recently been in a position to offer highly increased services. It has joined in the Wayne County Library System which offers use of films and other services.

Formerly the township belonged to the North Oakland Library Contract System which was disbanded.

The library has a budget of $16,000 per year from the Independence Township general fund, but no millage is provided.

★ ★ ★

The women's club has provided an initial $500 for planing. A meeting is set for tomorrow at the library with fund drive and library advisory board members to map out further plans.

COORDINATOR

Mrs. Kenneth Valentine, 7684 Phelan, is coordinator of the fund drive. Other chairmen are to be chosen.

★ ★ ★

In the last 10 years of the library's operation, yearly circulation figures rose from about 1,000 books to 19,522 borrowed last year.

Residents Protest Trailer Park

ALMONT — Residents here apparently don't want a trailer park within the village limits.

Protests against proposed rezoning which would permit a mobile home park on 40 acres in the northwest quarter of the village were voiced by 26 residents at the council meeting last night.

Nevertheless, the council, acting on the advice of its attorney, went ahead with plans to hold a public hearing on an ordinance designed for that purpose.

Verne Messer, clerk, said that the proposed ordinance would allow trailer parks in commercial areas. He said, if it should be approved, a second public hearing would be necessary to rezone the land in question from residential to commercial.

Objections to the park dealt with the idea that such a development would increase the population more than the tax base.

Donald Burley, leader of the objectors and also village assessor, turned in his resignation to the council.

Adult Classes Offered

ROCHESTER — Interested in bridge? The stock market? Yoga? Or watercolor painting?

Walter Cooper, the community schools director, invites residents to try any one of a number of adult education courses which commence next Monday and Tuesday.

Registration has been set for 7 to 9 p.m. both nights in the Senior High School gymnasium lobby.

A course in parent observation of the preschool child will be offered at Woodward School from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturdays for a period of 10 weeks, Cooper said.

★ ★ ★

Parents and their small children are both expected to attend.

EXPECTANT PARENTS

There's a course for expectant parents being offered at West Junior High School from 7 to 8 p.m. both Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Another class dealing with the art of antiquing will be offered from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. on Wednesdays at West Junior High School.

There'll be sewing courses for all stages of seamstressing, cake decorating, ceramics, china painting, knitting, sketching, upholstery, and woodshop for those interested.

A rifleman's workshop is slated from 7 to 10 p.m. Wednesdays at Central Junior High School.

Silk screening will be offered from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesdays and private pilot ground school will convene from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Tuesday both at West Junior High School.

Avon Bid Withdrawn

Rezoning Protest Fizzles

AVON TOWNSHIP—Some 75 people who attended a Zoning Board of Appeals meeting prepared to protest proposed rezoning on Sheldon Road found they had nothing to protest.

At stake had been the plan of contractor Sidney Weinberger to remove soil and level some 90 acres for a proposed subdivision site.

The protesters, having followed the application since last November, were surprised to learn that Weinberger had withdrawn his request a few hours before the meeting.

Objections as stated by the group had been to the sand and gravel truck traffic such an operation would engender.

★ ★ ★

A request to fill in old gravel pits on property along Brewster Road was tabled by the board.

TRAILER BANK

A public hearing to allow the National Bank of Detroit to set up a temporary trailer office at the corner of Livernois and Walton was set for 8:30 p.m. Feb. 13.

'Other Deductions' Need Special Note

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The final classification for deductions on your income tax return is labeled "Miscellaneous Deductions." Enter here all proper deductions you couldn't fit into any other grouping.

If any of these are elements in your return you may list here:

- Child care or invalid cash payments.
- Storm, fire, flood, auto accident or theft losses not covered by insurance.
- Unreimbursed work expenses, such as the purchase and cleaning of required uniforms and special work clothes, purchase of rubber and asbestos gloves, safety equipment, tools and supplies, deductions of or damage to your employer's property.
- Union dues.
- Fees paid an employment agency to obtain a new job.
- Educational expenses, if the prime purpose of the training was to maintain or improve your skills required on your job or if it was to meet your employer's specific job requirements.
- Alimony, if paid periodically to your former wife in accordance with a court decree or legal separation agreement. (She must include such alimony as income on her return.)
- Unreimbursed entertainment expense required by the nature of your work.
- Expenses incurred in connection with the production or collection of income. If you are an investor you may deduct fees paid an investment counselor or for subscriptions to financial publications and for the rental of a safety deposit box for the protection of your securities.

Tax counsel fees paid a tax adviser.

CHILD CARE:

Any woman may obtain a child care deduction of up to $900 for the care of children or disabled dependents if the expenses were incurred in order for her to go to work or to seek work.

Unless the child being cared for is physically or mentally incapable of self-support, the youngster must be under 13 to qualify.

Where one child is involved, the maximum child care deduction is the lesser of the actual expense or $600. If two or more children are being cared for, the maximum is $900.

★ ★ ★

A working wife who has a husband able to work must file a joint return before she can claim this deduction. And in their case, the deduction is reduced by the excess of their combined income over $6,000. Since the maximum deduction is $600 if one child is involved, it would be ruled out if combined income is as much as $6,600 or if two or more children were being cared for and the combined income was $6,900 or more.

CASUALTY AND THEFT LOSSES:

Such losses are deductible after you have absorbed the first $100 of each loss yourself. Any insurance recovery must be deducted from the total loss.

The loss is determined by comparing the actual value of the item immediately before the casualty and its actual value immediately afterward. In no event may it exceed the adjusted basis of the property (generally its purchase price).

The $100 rule does not apply to losses of business property.

U. S. Generosity Impresses German Girl

At school in her native Hamburg, Germany, Franziska Moysen, 16, heard a great deal about America.

She read this country's history, learned its language and often saw movies depicting its way of life.

Now an exchange student at Pontiac Central High School she has been most impressed by one quality of this country since her arrival five months ago — the generosity of the American people.

"People here," she said, "make friends very quickly and everyone seems interested in each other."

★ ★ ★

Judging by her counselor's account of why she was chosen from her school for the Youth for Understanding program, Franziska would have no problem making friends anywhere.

LEADERSHIP QUALITIES

She was described as possessing leadership qualities, an ability to assimilate facts and an easy way with people.

She's had no problem getting along with her American "family," the John Appletons of 23 Hudson.

"We'll hate to say goodby to her when the year is over," said Mrs. Appleton.

★ ★ ★

HELPING HAND

Fellow students helped her find her way from class to class, showed her the procedure for buying books and generally took an interest in her which surprised her.

"There was one girl," she recalled, "who became terribly excited when she heard I was from Germany and she led me around all day pointing out things of importance at school."

In December she saw a more dramatic kind of generosity in action when workers of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. made a special Christmas for the 32 Bay Mills Indian families.

Appleton, who is associated with Michigan Bell, took the family to the Bay Mills reservation where thousands of pounds of gifts — mostly clothing and food — were delivered to the Indians.

'GREATEST DAY'

"They came to the town hall," she remembers, "the children smiling as though it were the greatest day they'd ever had. The gifts lighted their faces. It was a warm feeling."

The friendliness of the people she's met hasn't dispelled all her feelings of strangeness in this country.

"There are things I just can't get used to," she said. "No matter how much we learned in school, we never knew enough about America and what it's really like.

"When we drove in from Metropolitan Airport and I saw the skyscrapers in downtown Detroit, I didn't know what they were for. In my country we have mostly apartment buildings for residences, but none are so big and the businesses aren't housed like that."

'NOT DONE'

Seeing food thrown away also surprised her.

"Though my country isn't poor," she said, "this is simply not done there."

She recalled an incident in grade school when a slice of bread was found in a trash can and all the students were brought to see the waste and to be lectured by the teachers.

Along with her studies, Franziska plays on a girls' basketball team and sings in her church choir.

She has one other pastime — judo — a carry-over from her membership in a Hamburg sports club.

When she mentioned to Mrs. Appleton that she held a green belt in the sport, she was asked to demonstrate.

"I showed her an O-Goshi," Franziska said. That's something like what Mrs. Appleton exclaimed when she was flipped over Franziska's back in the dining room.

It's still nearly six months until she'll return to Hamburg and in the meantime Franziska will pursue one goal.

"I want to learn as much as I can about this country," she said.

"and I want to meet more of its people."

'Brain Drain' to Be Studied

By Science Service

ITHACA, N.Y. — A method for predicting "brain drain" or the migratory habits of scientists and technicians is under way at Cornell University.

Sociologist Robert McGinnis is in the process of converting the life histories of 224,000 people into mathematical terms.

The names are from the National Science Foundation Register of Scientists and Technicians, compiled every other year.

Once the life histories are translated into numbers, they will be analyzed by a computer, said McGinnis.

The results should enable government and academic planners to know what to expect in getting and keeping scientific personnel.

Besides the U.S. study, McGinnis also plans a trip to Yugoslavia to study international labor mobility. He said he and his Cornell colleagues have also contacted other Eastern European countries for the study.

Hepatitis Hits 35 at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — An estimated 35 students have withdrawn from Michigan State University this term because of infectious hepatitis, reports Dr. James Feurig, director of the MSU Health Center.

Feurig said nine cases have been diagnosed at the center since the start of the term. He said although there is concern, this by no means represents an epidemic on the campus.

★ ★ ★

The State Health Department said it had no reports of an outbreak of the disease throughout the state. The disease, an inflamation of the liver, often is accompanied by an upset stomach, a feeling of distress and cramps.

There's Nothing Like Good Soup

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Not one to complain unduly about the conveniences in much of today's food preparation, I do have a few ideas about things made "from scratch."

I think that the canned and frozen soups and the soup mixes we can buy are excellent and offer limitless opportunity for interesting combinations. But I still like homemade soup.

Right now, I'm collecting items for a soup pot. Everytime I have some leftover vegetables or a bit of gravy, they go into a covered container in the freezer.

One Saturday when I'm home, they'll all simmer together, perhaps with a soup bone. Can't you smell that good fragrance?

A hearty soup can be the mainstay of a meal; don't hesitate to serve it to company.

Sunday night supper in front of the fireplace with big bowls of homemade soup, hot bread and a simple dessert is all any gourmet could want.

★ ★ ★

WESTERN VEGETABLE SOUP

1-2 beef shanks
1 15-ounce can kidney beans
½ cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, mashed
1 large or 2 small potatoes, peeled and cut in chunks
2 cubes beef bouillon
2 cups water
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon sweet basil
¼ teaspoon cayenne
1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
1½ quarts hot water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 small head of cabbage (1-lb.)
½ cup macaroni

In large kettle or french fryer, sprinkle the bottom with salt. Put on medium heat. Add beef shanks. Brown the shank on each side.

Add kidney beans with juice, onion, garlic, potato cubes and beef bouillon cubes dissolved in 2 cups hot water. Cook, covered, over medium heat until potatoes are soft. Remove garlic.

Add basil, cayenne, tomato sauce, water and lemon juice. Let the mixture simmer for at least an hour. But flavor is better if simmered for a couple of hours. Stir occasionally to prevent the vegetables from sticking on the bottom.

Fifteen minutes before serving, add cabbage that has been coarsely chopped or shredded and uncooked macaroni.

This makes about 1 gallon of delicious thick soup. Serve with chunks of hot buttered dark bread and a tossed green salad.

Onions, the experts tell us, are high in sugar. This explains why they burn so easily when cooked over high heat. Keep the heat down.

Freshly made onion soup is a delight to eat. Serve it the way the French do, with a thick slice of toasted bread sprinkled with grated cheese on top.

TRADITIONAL FRESH ONION SOUP

⅓ cup butter or margarine
5 cups (about 2 pounds) thinly sliced onion
4 cans (10½-ounce) undiluted beef bouillon
1 soup can water
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
6 to 8 French bread slices, 1-inch thick
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Heat butter in large skillet. Add onions; saute over moderate heat 30 minutes, stirring often. In medium-sized saucepan combine onions, bouillon, water, salt and pepper. Bring to boiling point. Reduce heat; cover and simmer 1 hour.

Toast bread. Place toast in one large or in individual casseroles. Add soup; sprinkle toast with cheese. Serve with additional cheese, if desired. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Another hearty soup that will be welcome on these winter days is Minestrone. This recipe calls for Michigan's dry navy beans. The soup will be just as good the second or third day, if kept refrigerated in between servings.

MINESTRONE

1 pound dry navy beans
1 beef bone (preferably marrow)
2 quarts water
¼ cup diced salt pork
1 cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1 cup diced carrots
1 cup diced potatoes
1 cup finely shredded cabbage
½ cup diced celery (include some chopped tops)
1 small zucchini squash, sliced thin
3 sprigs parsley, minced
1 cup cooked macaroni (cut in ½-inch pieces)
1 cup cooked tomatoes
¾ cup fresh peas
Salt and pepper to taste

Cover beans with water and soak overnight. Drain, measuring liquid and add enough water to make 2 quarts. Cook slowly, skimming and stirring occasionally till beans are tender, about 1½ hours.

Meanwhile fry salt pork in skillet till slightly rendered, then add all remaining ingredients except macaroni, tomatoes, peas and seasoning. Simmer about 5 minutes, stirring constantly, till vegetables are softened but not browned.

Remove bone from soup, scooping marrow if any, into soup. Add pork and vegetables and simmer covered about 30 minutes, stirring often.

Finally add macaroni, tomatoes, peas and seasoning. This is a thick soup and may be thinned anytime during cooking with a little water or tomato juice. Simmer 15 minutes longer. Serve with grated cheese.

Makes 10 mugs or 5 whopping bowls.

WESTERN VEGETABLE SOUP

Freeze Concentrated Soups in Foil

Make your soups in concentrated forms (as a base or stock) and freeze them. Days, weeks, even months later, you can serve delightful homemade soups by reheating these concentrates, diluting them with water, milk, broth or other liquid.

Save leftovers. The end of a roast, chicken carcass, trimmings from meat and poultry, ham bones or leftover vegetables can be wrapped in foil, labeled and frozen until you have the time and inclination to make the soup.

When the soup is made, cool it as quickly as possible to insure the utmost in flavor saving. (For extra quick cooling, place the pan in ice water.)

Select containers which will hold the amounts needed for the number of people you expect to serve. Pint or quart size bowls, pans or baking dishes you have on hand make excellent freezing containers.

Use foil to line the containers. Once the soup is frozen, all you need to do is tug the frozen block from the container, overwrap it with foil and label it with date and contents.

Return it to the freezer and you have freed the container for other uses in the kitchen.

The easiest way to make a foil lining is to shape the foil over the back of the container, then slip it inside. As you pour the cooled soup into the container, be sure to leave some area at the top to allow for expansion.

KEEP LEVEL

Take extra precaution to place soup on a level surface in the freezer when it is still liquid so it will not spill over and will freeze into a flat-surfaced shape for easy storing.

When the time comes to serve the soup, remove frozen block from the freezer and peel off the foil. Should the foil stick, just quickly run cold water over it and this will separate the foil from the contents.

Place the frozen contents in a saucepan and heat very slowly. As the mixture thaws, start adding the liquid your recipe calls for until the soup reaches the consistency you wish.

TRADITIONAL FRENCH ONION SOUP

Spread Marmalade Into Pan

Here's a moist quick bread that lunchbox carriers will love.

Carron Marmalade Bread

¼ cup shortening
½ cup brown sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1¼ cups mashed cooked carrots
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2½ cups sifted all purpose flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped nuts
¼ cup carrot or orange marmalade

Cream shortening, add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Add egg, carrots, milk and lemon juice; beat well.

Sift flour, baking powder, baking sofa and salt together. Add sifted ingredients and nuts to carrot mixture and mix only until ingredients are combined.

Spread carrot or orange marmalade evenly over the bottom of greased 8x4x3-inch loaf pan. Turn batter into pan and bake at 350 degrees for one hour.

Remove from pan, invert on cake rack and cool before serving.

Wine Sauce Is Delicious

In a large open pan bring 1½ cups dry white wine to quick boil. Boil for a few minutes ¾ pounds thinly sliced fresh or canned mushrooms cooking rapidly only four minutes.

Mix two tablespoons cornstarch with two tablespoons water until smooth. Stir this into 1½ cups rich chicken broth and add ½ teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon frozen chives. Carefully add this to the hot mushrooms and wine, stirring rapidly over low heat.

Use whisk or fork and stir two tablespoons unsalted butter into the sauce and simmer three minutes. Do not boil. Serve in heated bowl.

Delicious with Cornish Hens, Filet Mignon, Filet of Sole or what have you. It makes everything taste better!

Several Ways to Use Up Fish

Leftover cooked fish fillets in the refrigerator? If they have been broiled without a coating or steamed, they may be flaked and then heated with cooked rice, melted butter and seasoning.

Garnish the dish with slices of hard-cooked egg and call it "Kedgeree." Nice for brunch or for Sunday-night supper.

Orange Pieces Improve Slaw

One medium-sized orange, about three inches in diameter, will provide the daily dietary allowance or more. And, that same three-inch-through-the-middle orange contains only about 70 calories.

Vitamin C — or ascorbic acid — is needed every day, because our bodies will not store it up. Oranges are one of our major sources of Vitamin C, both because they contain a rich amount and because they are a common item in most people's diets.

Because we usually eat oranges or their juice raw, we get more of the food value. Vitamin C is "sensitive," particularly to heat, and much of the value can be lost during cooking.

But that needn't limit your uses of fresh oranges to out-of-hand eating. A crispy fresh salad with orange as a star ingredient, for example, will contribute richly to your family's diet. Try, for example, this appetite-refreshing slaw.

Citrus Cole Slaw

2 cups shredded green cabbage
½ cup fresh orange sections
2 tablespoons plus 2 teaspoons chopped green peppers
1 teaspoon minced onion
2 tablespoons plus 2 teaspoons mayonnaise
4 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
1 teaspoon fresh orange juice
½ teaspoon sugar
Rounded ¼ teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
2 teaspoons salad oil
Pimiento for garnish

Combine cabbage, orange sections, green pepper and onion. Blend together mayonnaise, lemon and orange juices, salad oil, sugar, salt and pepper. Add dressing to the vegetable mixture, and mix well.

Refrigerate at least half an hour before serving. Garnish as desired with pimiento. Makes 4 servings.

Paint Designs

Sugar cookies can be decorated with designs of colored sugars. Just bake cookies, "paint" design with corn syrup and then sprinkle with sugar. Shake off the excess.

YOUR CHILD MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS
1 OUT OF 3 DOES

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms...ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge ... small, easy-to-take tablets ... special sizes for children and adults.

MEAT COOKERY Quiz

Q. What's the name of this cut of meat?

A. Ham half, butt half.

Q. Where does it come from? How is it identified?

A. It is the upper half of the ham containing approximately half of the center section. The round bone which shows is part of the leg bone. The pink color is characteristic of ham and other cured pork cuts.

Q. How is a whole or a half ham prepared?

A. Roasting (baking) is the most popular method. Determine before baking whether the ham is the "fully-cooked" variety which is roasted only to an internal temperature of 130 degree F. for serving hot, or a "cook-before-eating type" which is cooked to 160 degree F. internal temperature. The average weight of a half ham is 5 to 7 pounds. Allow 22 to 25 minutes per pound at 325 degree F. for a "cook-before-eating" ham. For a "fully cooked" ham half allow 18 to 24 minutes per pound at the same oven temperature. Place the half ham on a rack on an open shalow pan for roasting.

Corned Beef Filling

Offer Guests These Sandwiches

Corned Beef Sunburst Sandwiches are perfect for a party and ideal for a Sunday night treat just for the family.

★ ★ ★

The bit of "fussing" required to ready the bread for its filling is offset by the ease with which the corned beef mixture is prepared.

★ ★ ★

Sunburst Sandwiches

20 slices white bread
2 packages (3 ounces each) cream cheese, softened
3 hard-cooked eggs
1 can (12 ounces) corned beef, unchilled, flaked
⅓ cup chopped celery
¼ cup pickle relish
⅓ cup mayonnaise

With a large cutter (about 2¾-inches in diameter), cut large circles from bread. Spread with cream cheese.

With a 2-inch cutter, remove center from half the circles, leaving rings about ¾-inch wide.

Press egg yolks through a sieve. Dip cheese side of rings in the sieved yolks and place cheese side up on top of large circles.

Combine chopped egg whites, corned beef, celery, pickle relish and mayonnaise. Fill centers with corned beef mixture. Garnish with sliced olives or a dab of mayonnaise.

Remaining small circles of bread may be used to make small sandwiches, using any leftover corned beef and yolk mixtures.

STUFFED TOMATOES—Slim salty anchovies are crisscrossed over fresh tomatoes stuffed with a cheese and crumb mixture. They brighten dinner plates in winter weather.

Fresh Tomatoes Possible Year-Round

Thanks to modern technology and fast transportation, it is now possible to enjoy fresh tomatoes any month in the year, almost as many in January as in July.

Americans love fresh tomatoes and use some 2,386 million pounds of the handsome fruit annually.

If a mature, well-formed tomato isn't quite red enough, it should be allowed to remain at room temperature, in a good light, but not "window-silled" in hot direct sunlight.

Once they are red-ripe, refrigerate them and use them within a few days.

Stuffed Tomato Italienne

6 tomatoes
¼ cup chopped fresh onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 cups soft bread crumbs
2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
¼ teaspoon oregano leaves
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese
1 can (1¾ oz.) Anchovies
1 tablespoon butter

Cut stem end off tomato; scoop out pulp and save to use later. Saute onion in butter. Add bread crumbs, parsley, oregano and pepper until lightly browned. Stir in cheese and ½-cup tomato pulp. Fill tomatoes.

Top each tomato with ½-teaspoon butter. Place anchovies crisscross over each tomato.

Bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) 25 to 30 minutes. 6 servings.

Husband Thinks That Bride's Cooking Is Poisoning Him

By VIVIAN BORWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

When asked how her marriage was working, a bride of six months replied that her husband acted like she was trying to poison him.

"Oh, not with arsenic or anything like that," she hastened to explain. "Just ordinary kitchen ignorance will do him in, he thinks."

Well, now, it seems that if she serves him a salad—egg, tuna—he'll ask how long she has had it out of the refrigerator (mayonnaise can go bad in a heated room, he'll say.)

This precipitated a heated discussion and she told him "a little learning is a dangerous thing."

He won't eat mushrooms unless he inspects them before she cooks the dish.

If he finds something—milk, butter—on the counter, he'll insist that she throw it away "Because bacteria has been forming."

He won't eat uncooked meat that has been in the refrigerator more than a few days and when she shapes something into croquettes or meat balls it's just like fashioning a whodunit—it'll surely create intrigue.

KEEP VITAMINS

She's up on the a-b-c's of vitamins with such remarks as "did you scrape the carrots or cut away all the good part?"

He watched while she cleaned strawberries to make sure she pulled the stems rather than cutting off the tops and advised her that she'd waste a lot of potatoes unless she got a potato peeler.

"About the only fancy thing I've done is cut green beans in a French style, but he wants to have them snapped," she says. "And there is no way to cook pork that he approves of . . ."

To top everything, he's so cholesterol-conscious that he wants a steady diet of veal, vegetables, fish and chicken; drinks skimmed milk and won't eat a sauce made with cream or butter.

He doesn't like flour used in anything, uses honey in place of sugar and eats only whole wheat bread.

What should she do, she asks. "It's hard enough to learn how to cook, but having a master chef - dietitian second-guessing you is pretty hard to take."

Well, if it's any comfort, this intense interest in food wears off after a while. But he has developed a batch of good food habits, even though he is slightly off base on the bacteria count, and his petty remarks may be annoying.

ASK FOR HELP

Meanwhile, the "show me" technique can work wonders. When he suggests doing something in a different way, just say "show me."

He'll soon get tired of the potato peeler, and bean snapping.

Fears of food spoilage may be parlayed into a brand new freezer (where you can keep meat, bread, vegetables) until you want to use them.

And what man so bacteria-conscious would deny his wife the pleasure of a dishwasher within which she can dry the dishes without using a germ-catching dish towel?

Candy 'Spoon'

Give your pre-school age child a treat. Make her a cup of hot chocolate with a red and white peppermint stick popped into the cup. She'll have fun stirring and tasting the chocolate as the candy melts to flavor the drink.

Dealers Display Newest Models For Shoppers At The Pontiac Mall During The Fifth Annual Automobile Show

Auto Show: Seller's Joy

By DAVID J. COOK

Auto shows in postwar America have become the vehicle for introductions of new cars by both manufacturers and dealers.

New models — in ever higher numbers — are displayed to the public not unlike prize stamps at a philatelists' convention.

The fifth annual exhibit at the Pontiac Mall shows again that today's consumer (anyone with a driver's license and some without) has a collector's interest in the newest cars.

Pontiac area dealers who have their washed-and-waxed finest on display through Saturday have been rewarded with attentive perusal from shopping crowds.

The fact that the same models had been in dealer showrooms since last fall seemingly had no effect on the enthusiasm and interest of those in attendance.

THE FAVORITE

In America in 1967, nearly everyone 16 years or older either owns or drives a car. By virtue of that, apparently, everyone has an opinion, a favorite . . . certain tastes.

For some, it was a squat sports roadster with real wire wheels.

Others were attracted to bigness, to power and, in some cases, to a compromise of the two with economy.

★ ★ ★

Some gingerly opened the heavy doors of $7,000 luxury models and for a few brief minutes lost themselves in the plushness of cushioned bucket seats.

Participating dealers are Autobahn Motors, Inc., 1765 S. Telegraph; Matthews-Hargreaves, Inc., 631 Oakland; Jerome Motor Sales, 1980 W. Wide Track; Pontiac Retail Store, 65 Mount Clemens; Downey Oldsmobile, 550 Oakland; and Grimaldi Imported Car Co., 980 Oakland.

Others are Oliver Motor Sales, Inc., 210 Orchard Lake; Oakland Chrysler-Plymouth, 724 Oakland; John McAuliffe Ford, Inc., 630 Oakland; Spartan Dodge, Inc., 855 Oakland; and Lloyd Motors, Inc., 1250 Oakland.

GM Truck to Display Vehicles

The biggest and most elaborate vehicle display ever presented by GMC Truck & Coach Division of General Motors will be exhibited at four western sports and vacation shows early this year.

Featuring a sleek cutaway pickup, a "Camper Cruiser" pickup equipped to carry a 10½-foot camper body, a 351M show engine, and eight giant backlighted color transparencies, the 1,000-square-foot exhibit will appear at the following shows:

Recreational Vehicle Show, Anaheim, Calif., Stadium, Jan. 20-29; San Francisco Sports & Boat Show at Cow Palace, Feb. 3-12; Portland Boat, Trailer and Sport Show at Memorial Coliseum, Feb. 17-26; and Pacific Northwest Vacation and Travel Show at Seattle Center, March 31-April 9.

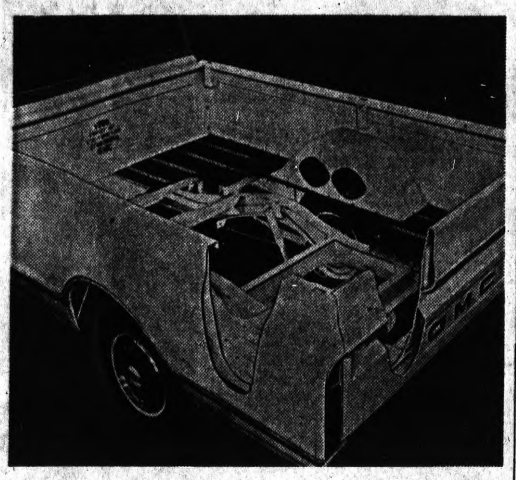
"Our all-new recreational exhibit emphasizes the division's continuing efforts to provide sports and outdoor enthusiasts with the most up-to-date vehicles available for their specialized requirements," said Robert C. Stelter, general sales manager of GMC Truck & Coach.

He said the feature display is a half-ton Custom CM 1590 pickup that has been cut away to reveal double wall side panels and tailgate, 3,500-pound-capacity rear axle, 2,500-pound rated progressive leaf rear springs, dual self-adjusting hydraulic brakes, Delco double-acting shock absorbers and other standard GMC truck equipment.

HIGHLIGHT

Another highlight will be the Super Custom CM 2590D Camper Cruiser three-quarter-ton pickup equipped for 10½-foot camper bodies.

Most colorful supplemental displays — in addition to the glamor engine — will be the back-lighted color transparencies. These 4 by 5-foot photographs mounted in attractive light boxes show GMC recreational vehicles in typical western scenes.



INSIDE STORY — This cutaway pickup truck will be a highlight of the GMC Truck & Coach Division recreational vehicle exhibit being displayed early this year in four Western sports and vacation shows.

IN SNOW COUNTRY — Squaw Valley, Calif., ski slopes (home of the 1960 winter Olympic Games) provides a picturesque background for this three-quarter-ton GMC "Camper Cruiser" pickup equipped with a 10½-foot Avion body. The picture and other colorful transparencies appear in the new GMC Truck recreational vehicle exhibit touring Western states this year.

Dog Clinic Dates Set for North County Areas

Dates have been set for 12 dog clinics to be held in several northern Oakland County communities and at the animal shelter, 1200 N. Telegraph, for the purpose of issuing 1967 licenses and inoculating dogs against rabies.

★ ★ ★

The first clinic will be held Jan. 2 at the animal shelter. Clinics also will be conducted at the county facility Feb. 12 and Feb. 26.

★ ★ ★

Other scheduled clinics in chronological order are:

- Feb. 4 — Wixom municipal building, 49045 Pontiac Trail.
- Avon — Rochester precinct hall, 276 W. Auburn.
- 5 — White Lake Township community hall, M59 at Porter.
- 11 — Highland Township fire hall, Highland.
- 18 — Holly Township fire hall, Holly. Farmington Township fire hall, 21420 Wheeler.
- 19 — Brandon — Ortonville fire hall, Ortonville.
- 25 —Oakland Township, Goodison. Novi Township hall, 25850 Novi.

In addition to the clinics, 1967 dog licenses can be purchased weekdays at the animal shelter and at the treasurer's office in the following communities: Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Pontiac, Rochester, Sylvan Lake, Troy and Waterford Township.

Required by law, licenses cost $1 for male and spayed female and $2 for an unspayed female. Deadline for purchasing licenses at these rates is Feb. 28.

Beginning March 1, rates will jump to $5 and $7.50.

★ ★ ★

Dogs must be inoculated against rabies before a license will be issued. All veterinarians provide this service.

16,590 LICENSES

Last year, 16,590 licenses were granted at regular fees, while 5,800 were issued at the penalty rates.

★ ★ ★

The 22,390 licenses granted last year far exceeded the 1965 total of 16,734.

Negroes Bypassed on Decision-Making

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG, JR.
Executive Director
National Urban League

Many of the key decisions affecting our lives are taken by nonelective officers and boards.

YOUNG

A libary board decides when libraries open and close, the board of a charitable organization decides what services it will provide and where, a zoning commission can alter the future of a neighborhood by its decisions.

Because of the far-ranging influence of these bodies, it is essential that all elements of the community be represented in their membership.

Unfortunately, as in so many other areas of American life, Negroes are often excluded. This means that plans and decisions vitally affecting the lives of many Negro citizens are made in their absence.

There is a double tragedy here. First, this separation between the decision-makers and the community encourages a feeling of alienation and powerlessness. Second, it results in a misuse of human resources, as the talents of the Negro community are neglected and underutilized.

★ ★ ★

The many Negroes who have established their leadership and capabilities, both on the job and in the many fraternal and charitable organizations which perform such excellent work, could contribute a great deal to the community at large.

VAST POOL

In addition to this vast pool of underutilized leadership, the Negro community includes still more people who have the qualities so sorely needed by these institutions, but lack the training.

To help develop this latent leadership, the Urban League has a 10-city Leadership Development Program.

About 1,800 people are being trained in community organization and leadership and civic affairs, and then attempt to gain appointment to the boards which influence their lives.

A study made to establish the need for this program showed that city after city had no nonwhite participation boards like the board of elections, the Civil Service Commission, the zoning commission, and other institutions, including private charitable groups.

The program is aimed mainly at people who have never involved themselves before in the life of the community — ordinary people who were surprised to find that they too, could do something of importance and help their friends and neighbors.

One man got so involved in the program that he decided to run for office and was elected mayor of his town. A mother on welfare became a member of her city's poverty program committee. A housewife was appointed to the Goodwill Industries Board.

In one city, some people in the program decided their neighborhood needed a better recreational program for kids and drew up plans for such a program, which was funded by the city.

In all of the participating cities there are many examples of individuals who had ability and leadership qualities and who just never made full use of them getting appointments to citywide boards and representing their community.

Despite the obvious need for minority representation, and despite the availability of people willing to serve, many agencies are still blind to the need to mend their ways.

I recall one man in the program who was a civil servant in a large city and expressed an interest in working with a charitable agency.

After going through the training course and presenting himself to the group, he was told that it was agency policy to start volunteers at the bottom of the ladder and then let them work their way into decision-making posts.

"One look at their waiting list showed me that it would be five to 10 years before I could get such a post" he said. This means that it would be five to 10 years before that agency would have even taken Negro representation on its board, despite the fact that a third of the people living in that city are Negroes.

These organizations must come to realize that without making a place for minority groups, they are cutting themselves off from the community they serve.

In a time of change, these organizations cannot afford to sit still.

AEC Sees Unpolluted, Junkless Society

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Imagine bright vast unstained cities springing from deserts and other regions now considered "unfit for living."

Their vigorous and healthy citizens wouldn't know what you were talking about if you mentioned such things as junk heaps, poisonous air, or foul water.

This vision of an unpolluted and "junkless society" and ample clean living space in erstwhile uninhabitable areas comes from the presumably hard-headed Atomic Energy Commission.

The AEC this month is observing the 20th anniversary of its birth. The commission first went to work on Jan. 1, 1947.

Twenty years later, the AEC said, "the peaceful atom is in the midst of its greatest period of growth."

ATOM PREDICTIONS

By 2000 A.D. atomic energy according to a recent AEC estimate, will be generating 50 per cent of all the electricity used by the United States.

For the years ahead, the commission also sees use of the atom to power plants producing fresh water from the ocean, to drive rockets to the the moon and planets, and to stockpile foods preserved by irradiation.

"In the more-distant future," the AEC said, "there may be huge new cities built in areas now considered unfit for living.

"Giant nuclear reactors, which will pollute neither air nor water, will supply cheap power to air-condition the city, fuel its homes, and recharge the batteries of its electric—and pollutionless-cars."

Lunar Landing Sites Eyed

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Aided by 28,635 photographs, space officials now have a leading candidate for the spot where the first astronauts will land on the moon.

It is not a spectacular spot, full of jagged mountains or huge craters, but a bland, smooth plain, located just a few miles north of the lunar equator and about one-third of the way in from the righthand edge.

It has no name, and space officials simply refer to it by the unromantic title of IIp2, meaning the second primary landing site out of the 13 photographed by Lunar Orbiter II.

IIp2's smoothness, in fact, is the very reason that it seems promising. For a safe landing, nothing looks worse than boulders, craters and rays all over the place.

The landing spot should have no more than a seven-degree slope, which means a rise of less than one foot for every eight feet horizontally, says Dr. Leonard Reiffel of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

NO WORRIES

Nor should there be any rocks bigger than two feet across, he said, because "we don't want to worry the radar altimeter" in the Apollo spacecraft.

The next Lunar Orbiter, scheduled to he launched between Feb. 3 and 7, will probably photograph IIp2 again, along with several other sites at which scientists want another look.

Orbiter 1 photographed it too, and the next Surveyor will probably land softly in the vicinity.

Apollo landing sites will be picked in bunches of three, spaced 26 degrees apart to give the astronauts several passes if they need them.

Each site will measure about three by five miles, and before astronauts land on it they will have flown computer simulations of the whole mission, using detailed maps made from Orbiter and Surveyor photographs.

Bath School Closed After Bomb Scare

BATH (AP)—School officials in Bath, where a bomb destroyed a school and killed 45 persons in 1927, sent pupils home a little early Tuesday while police checked a telephone report of another bomb.

State Police said no bomb was found.

Andrew P. Kehoe, a farmer, demolished the Bath school with dynamite 40 years ago.

AF Successfully Tests Minuteman 2

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — After a six-month delay because of warhead development problems, the Air Force Tuesday night launched a Minuteman 2 intercontinental missile on a 5,000-mile test flight.

Officials reported the booster scored its 16th straight success but they released no details on performance of the new Mark 12 warhead.

The Mark 12 underwent its first flight test last July but did not meet all objectives and modifications were made. The warhead is designed for faster and more elusive delivery of a nuclear warhead.

Chinese Reportedly Stealing Soviet Rockets to Vietnam

LONDON (UPI)—Communist diplomatic sources reported today that Peking was stealing Soviet rockets en route to North Vietnam across the Red Chinese mainland.

The sources said the Chinese were using the rockets to bolster their own missile program.

The rockets were described as SAM2s, Russia's most advanced surface-to-air missiles which Hanoi is using against American warplanes. The SAM2s are equipped with the latest electronic gear and guided by radar.

The sources confirmed recent rumors that Peking "grabbed several of these rockets" as they were passing by rail across the Communist mainland to Hanoi and seized their technological equipment for the development of their own rockets.

★ ★ ★

The confirmation came amid increasing indications that Red China has double-timed its own missile development program. Peking announced that one of its recent nuclear tests was carried out from a rocket in flight.

SPEED SCHEDULE

China watchers believe Peking may now have medium-range ballistic missiles in operation within two or three years and intercontinental rockets by the early 1970s — an advance by several years on previous assessments.

Communist diplomats said the Chinese have been helped in their efforts by "stealing" Russian rocket equipment as they apparently did during the development of their atomic bomb.

The Russians have all along insisted they never gave the Chinese the know-how to produce an A-bomb. While admitting that they supplied Peking nuclear reactors, the Russians have insisted that this was merely to help the Chinese develop nuclear energy for peaceful purposes.

★ ★ ★

The fast-moving development in Chinese rocketry is ostensibly worrying Moscow, especially in the light of mounting Sino-Soviet hostility which is expected to grow in intensity if Mao Tse-tung emerges as the victor in the current power struggle in China.

CHANGED MARKINGS

Some time ago the Chinese were reported to have changed labels and markings on Soviet and East European arms for North Vietnam in transit, so as to make them to be of Chinese origin.

Later, they delayed the passag by all sorts of bureaucratic measures.

Communist sources disclosed that more recently they actively sabotaged Soviet arms in transit to make them appear inferior or faulty on arrival in Hanoi.

The Chinese virtually have stopped all passage of Soviet arms through the mainland of China. "Practically nothing goes through," the sources said.

Fire Kills Navy Reserve Chief

GLENVIEW, Ill. (AP) — Rear Adm. Richard L. Fowler, 53, chief of U.S. naval air reserve training, died in a fire early today in his home at Glenview Naval Air Station.

Fowler's wife, Mederies, 50, was seriously burned. His son, Richard, 12, and daughter, Julia, 16, suffered minor cuts and burns.

Fowler directed 18 naval air stations and training units throughout the United States. His command included some 29,000 selected air reservists and more than 9,000 active airmen.

The fire broke out in the living room of Fowler's two-story frame house at the air station, about 20 miles northwest of Chicago. Firemen carried Fowler out through a window of his bedroom, directly over the living room where the fire began. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

Authorities said a burning log or an ember from the living room fireplace may have started the blaze.

Fire Check of Cobo Hall

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Jerome Cavanagh and the Detroit Fire Commission Tuesday ordered a thorough inspection of Detroit's huge convention center — Cobo Hall.

The inspection comes in the wake of a $100 million fire which heavily damaged McCormick Place, Chicago's exposition hall, Monday.

Fire Marshal Bernard G. DeCoster will conduct the inquiry. Reportedly, one of the recommendations will be installation of a sprinkler system on the upper levels of the mammoth building.

Underground sections of the hall have sprinkler systems.

WOES OF WINTER — Ice on the fire hydrant in foreground indicates the frigid weather in which Des Moines, Iowa, firemen fought this spectacular blaze yesterday. Flames destroyed a three-story frame house, owned by the Iowa Society of Christian Churches.

Revival Expected

'Frozen Man Still Has Life'

DETROIT (UPI) — A physics professor said yesterday there is still life in the body of a California man who was quick frozen after his death last week.

Robert C. Ettinger of Highland Park Community College said he was confident the man who was frozen will be returned to life at some point in the future.

Ettinger, who helped develop the body freeze theory, witnessed the experiment.

"There is good reason to believe that most of the cells of his body are still alive. And this is the basis of the project."

★ ★ ★

"The consensus of experts is that at liquid oxygen temperatures, no further deterioration of the cells occurs," he said.

MAY BE THAWED OUT

The unidentified man, a cancer patient, was frozen when he died.

The theory holds that he may be thawed out at some future date when a cure for cancer is discovered.

Ettinger said the body will be placed in a $4,000 cylinder where it will be kept at 196 degrees below zero, centigrade.

★ ★ ★

The body was drained and filled with chemicals before the freezing process began.

"My first day went about as I expected," he said. "No problems."

The fact that Amerson was the first Negro sheriff in Alabama since Reconstruction caused not the slightest noticeable reaction in this unhurried rural town 40 miles east of Montgomery.

"Every one has been cooperative," said Amerson, 33, an ex-paratrooper and former postal worker who defeated two white candidates last year to win the top law enforcement office in Macon County, population about 27,000 and 83.5 per cent Negro.

ELECTIVE OFFICES

Six elective offices in the city and county are held by Negroes.

Amerson, who was sworn Monday, officially began his duties Tuesday.

Benefits-Hike Cost Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Social Security Administration says a 20 per cent average increase in Social Security benefits as proposed by President Johnson would cost $3.2 billion the first year.

It said that lifting the minimum monthly payment from $44 to $70 as Johnson suggested would cost about $700 million.

★ ★ ★

Other items in the President's proposed $4.1 billion Social Security increase package would be relatively inexpensive, officials said in answer to questions from Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del.

The agency did not say how it is proposed to finance the increases.

MORE MONEY

But experts at the Capitol who work on such legislation say they understand more money would be raised through a combination of increases in the rate of the payroll tax and the wage base on which the tax is paid.

★ ★ ★

Employers and employes each now pay 4.4 per cent on the first $6,600 in the employe's wages each year.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial production continued to level off in December, says the Federal Reserve Board.

Figures released Tuesday showed that the output of the nation's mines, mills and factories rose one-tenth of 1 per cent during December to 158.7 per cent of the 1957-589 base period. The December output was 6.5 per cent above December 1965.

The level was just short of October's record of 158.8. The index reflected the general economic slowdown experienced late last year.

The board said auto assemblies during December changed little from November's rate but that schedules for January indicate a 9 per cent decline.

Production of color television sets advanced but other household goods dropped.

Output of industrial and commercial equipment maintained a record pace, but iron and steel production and output of construction materials declined.

Auto Union Talks Overshadow Safety Issue

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's auto makers, already locked in a struggle with the federal government over safety, face a new fight that may be shorter but more explosive.

The four major companies and the United Auto Workers Union, AFL-CIO, will start in a few months to negotiate a new labor contract covering more than half a million people in the United States.

Although the current agreement does not expire until Sept. 6, both sides already are tooling up.

By April, when the UAW convenes a special collective bargaining convention in Detroit, the battle lines will be drawn for a confrontation which, regardless of outcome, will have impact on almost every pocketbook in the land.

★ ★ ★

Industry and union figures started skirmishing with public statements as early as last October. And the tone of their comments has contributed to warnings from officials in Washington that 1967 may be the roughest year in many on the entire national labor scene.

AP Wirephoto

UNIONISTS IN SPOTLIGHT — With 1967 expected to be one of the roughest years in labor-management history, these two labor leaders — AFL-CIO President George Meany (left) and UAW President Walter Reuther — can be expected to hold the spotlight during much of the year. The four major auto companies open negotiations with Reuther's auto workers' union in a few months.

'REAL RUGGED YEAR'

"I think it's going to be a real rugged year," William E. Simkin, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said in December.

Federal mediators have played a part in auto talks only once in the service's 19-year history, but it's a safe bet they'll be ready this year if needed.

Simkin rang in the new year by calling his 260 regional mediators to Washington for a three-day review of upcoming negotiations in various important industries.

★ ★ ★

Close scrutiny is known to have been given auto talks, which pit the country's second largest union against an industry regarded as the best barometer of national prosperity.

UNION SQUABBLES

Adding to the air of uncertainty that surrounds the approaching talks, besides public skirmishing, are indications of what the union goals will be, plus some internal union squabbling.

Speeches and statements by UAW President Walter Reuther and his top aides indicate that the prime targets will be a big wage hike, a shift from hourly pay to salaries and wage parity for Canadian workers who earn far less than their American counterparts.

Just which one the union considers most important traditionally is as hard to predict as which of the Big Three auto makers it will single out in the final days of bargaining as the firm that will set the pattern for industrywide settlement.

In 1964, it was Chrysler. Agreement on a package worth between 55 and 60 cents was reached before the deadline. But the union had placed settlement of at-the-plant issues, like free parking and cafeteria space high on its list of priorities and the industry was crippled by local strikes when they were not resolved.

NOT NEW ISSUES

None of the top three issues apparently on the agenda this year is really new. But union sources point out that the emphasis is likely to be.

A demand for salaries to replace hourly wages comes close to being new, but it is generally regarded as an extension of something the union has been after for years—guaranteed annual income.

Under the 1964 contract, supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB), when coupled with whatever state unemployment compensation is available, guarantee a worker 62 per cent of his straight hourly pay for up to 52 weeks.

★ ★ ★

Most observers agree that the UAW will continue to make gains in this area, but probably would have to abandon its other demands to win full salaries or what would, in effect, amount to 100 per cent guaranteed annual wages.

In the area of wage parity, the demand is old but the emphasis isn't.

Putting the spotlight on this issue is the 1965 Canadian-American tariff agreement which abolished tariffs on imports and exports of cars and original component parts.

The agreement has been a boon to the industry and to the customer. It has kept costs down.

★ ★ ★

But the union contends it has led to layoffs on both sides of the border.

The average hourly straight time pay in the United States for workers classified outside the skilled category is $3.22. For skilled workers it's $4.16. The industrywide average for all classes including premiums paid for night and odd-hour work is $3.38.

The UAW says skilled workers in Canada are $1 an hour behind their American brothers and that other workers are 41 cents behind.

Although the issue has been on the table since 1939, the union made its biggest gains in 1964, closing the skilled gap by 19 cents and the gap between others by 11 cents.

★ ★ ★

The tack the industry is likely to take in presisting this demand was summed up by a source in one of the Big Three.

'CANADIAN ISSUE'

"This is a question that more properly belongs with the Canadian companies," he said, adding: "For a starter, take a look at what wage hikes of this size would do to the Canadian economy."

The wage parity issue is likely to be complicated by the union's third probable demand — a big wage boost.

About 20 cents of the 1964 pact was earmarked for wages, an amount equal to that put aside for pensions.

★ ★ ★

Wage increases usually claim the lion's share of the contract, but in 1964 emphasis was placed on pensions and they were nearly doubled in the final settlement.

FULL PAYMENT

Although workers started taking home bigger pay checks right away, they didn't get any hourly increase for a year.

That was because the 6-cent hike scheduled for the first year of the contract was swallowed up when the companies took over full payment of medical and life insurance.

Two cents of this was left over and was added to a negotiated 9-cent hike last year.

Workers also got a 7-cent hike in 1965 and also have gotten some 16 cents an hour over the past three years in cost of living increases.

LOST GROUND

Despite this, the rank-and-file reportedly feels that it gave up a big wage increase for pensions in the '64 contract and wants to make up lost ground this year.

Like most big unions in this day and age, the UAW has been talking up what it claims is its right to a bigger share in profits.

The auto workers, in a statement last fall, referred to the "fantastic profitability" of the industry.

This was an obvious reference to the fact that the industry enjoyed its best year ever for sales and production in 1965, its second best in 1966 and is headed for what many believe will be its third best in 1967.

COST ITEMS

The probable UAW goals, however, all are high cost items that will be dumped on the bargaining table at a time when the industry is spending vast sums to meet government demands in the safety field.

The companies already have said the customer will have to pay for added safety features and they can be expected to hand him at least part of any increased labor costs.

The industry can be expected this year in particular to resist anything that would push the cost of your new car any higher than it now seems bound to go.

★ ★ ★

Further complicating the auto labor picture is a controversy between skilled workers and those outside the skilled category, including some semi-skilled.

Current Books

The Right To Bear Arms, by Carl Bakal (McGraw-Hill $6.95): The theme of Bakal's book is that no such right exists.

At issue is the Second Amendment to the Constitution, which reads: "A well-regulated militia, being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms, shall not be infringed."

Although his program is never specifically stated, it is clear he favors federal law requiring registration of all guns and restriction of their sale through some system of permits or licenses.

In support of his view, he cites figures on the firearms fatalities — homicides, suicides and accidents — which give the United States the highest gun-death rates in the world.

"The Right to Bear Arms" is a persuasive expression of a point of view reinforced in recent years by such events as the assassination of President Kennedy and the grim toll of the Austin sniper.

The Ninety and Nine. By William Brinkley. (Doubleday. $5.95.)

In telling the story of men on an LST on the Anzio Beachhead run in World War II, Brinkley has produced an immensely attractive and readable novel.

Fewer writers could translate the many faces of war — the savagery and humor, the tender and the antic, the bureaucracy and the purpose — into a 393-page novel so rich in dialogue and incident.

If you are tired of sick fiction, if you want an utterly readable book which produces both laughter and suspiciously moist tear ducts, this novel is for you.

A Certainty of Love. By Alfred Coppel. (Harcourt, Brace. $4.50).

The hero, and narrator, of this poignant love story is Robert Gilman, an American free-lance writer living on the Swiss border near Italy.

During the war, when he had been a bomber pilot, he had acquired a deep hatred for the Germans, particularly because they had slaughtered his bombardier.

So when he meets a fragile young German, Elisabeth Breck, he is doubly sure that he wants no romantic attachment, Elisabeth has some nasty memories of her wartime childhood in Berlin and a postwar affair with an American who had hated her.

In this unlikely confrontation, the two cannot resist being drawn together, despite their misgivings.

Coppel writes with a clean, graphic style. He holds the emotional content of the story to a subdued key. With these effective means he presents a novel that is well done.

GI Delta Battalion on Touchy Mission

RACH KIEN, South Vietnam (AP) — She was a slim, pretty farm girl and her eyes were frozen in fear.

Her hands were bound behind her.

★ ★ ★

A knife flashed forward and stopped short of her chest.

A Vietnamese soldier swished the blade from side to side and then pointed it steadily at her as he snarled questions. She stuttered answers in a hoarse whisper.

JEERS

Other Vietnamese soldiers called remarks, punctuated by jeers and laughter.

★ ★ ★

A squad of 12 American infantrymen had brought in the girl because she lacked identification credentials. They shuffled around, not knowing what to do, not understanding a word of what was said. An interpreter stood by passively, seemingly confused.

The Americans were from A Company of the 2nd Battalion, 14th Infantry, 25th Infantry Division on a two-day operation just south of their base camp at Rach Kien, on the northern fringe of the Mekong River Delta.

The battalion's mission was to experiment and find ways of beating the Vietcong in the delta.

OBSERVE CLOSELY

High up American military and political strategists were keeping the outfit under close scrutiny. What the 2nd Battalion learned would be applied as American forces pushed farther south.

The mission was a touchy one combining military tactics with civic action programs aimed at winning the people.

★ ★ ★

The troops were under strict orders—from the high U.S. Command in Vietnam—to do everything possible to avoid hurting civilians, to avoid alienating them.

The GIs were not to shoot first and were to make sparing use of artillery and air support.

TO WIN CIVILIANS

The men were told repeatedly that success in the Mekong Delta hinged on winning the civilians to the government side. The delta is the nation's richest and most densely populated area. The Vietcong have become deeply rooted into the countryside and among the people.

The rice paddies were thick with mud, sometimes chest deep. Snipers picked away at the 2nd Battalion from countless patches of trees that dotted the paddies. To reach the treeline meant crossing swampy open flatlands.

★ ★ ★

A company of Vietnamese troops was assigned to help the battalion in this terrain. They were known as PRUS—provincial reconnaissance unit—and they lived alongside the Americans, ate with them, and were considered an integral part of the program to find techniques for defeating the Communists and winning the people in the delta.

★ ★ ★

The PRU outfit may be an unusual one to be working on such a sensitive mission. Not long ago the outfit was known as a CT-counterterrorist-unit. It was specially trained to give Vietcong terrorists their own medicine-assassination, destruction and terror.

TATTOOED

On their camouflaged shirtfronts the PRUS wear an emblem with a skull and crossbones. Their ranks include ex-criminals and ex-Vietcong—on whose chests the government has tattooed "sat Cong,"—kill Cong—to prevent them from returning to their former comrades.

An element of this company of PRUS met the farm girl as the GIs led her toward their encampment.

After several minutes of haranguing by the knife-wielding interrogator, the Americans took the girl with them.

She trembled the rest of the afternoon. She toyed with the cans of C-ration food given her and seemed near tears much of the time.

GIRL QUESTIONED AGAIN

Next morning she was picked up by an American helicopter and flown to Rach Kien for questioning by intelligenc especialists.

★ ★ ★

She was released within minutes when it was established she didn't have an identification card because she was under 16 and thus not required to have one.

★ ★ ★

The American battalion commander, Lt. Col. Charles Gillis, Colorado Springs, Colo., describes the job facing his men at Rach Kien as one of the toughest imaginable.

Famed Ballintubbe Abbey in County Mayo, Ireland, celebrated its 750th anniversary in September. Partially ruined for years, it is now being restored.

AP Wirephoto

A POINTED QUESTION — A Vietnamese interrogator swishes a knife back and forth menacingly as he questions a young girl about the location of Vietcong units in the area. The girl was apprehended by an American patrol because she did not carry an identification card. It was learned later that she was too young to own one.

Many Coronaries Preventable

By Science Service

BOSTON — The "sudden death" of nearly half of the 500,000 heart attack victims in the United States each year does not come unannounced if the signs are recognized.

In some 40 per cent of the cases (which are related to abnormal rhythm), death might be prevented.

The electrocardiograph shows easily recognized abnormalities of heart rhythm—interruptions of the regular flub-dub of the heart beat that can be corrected in time to forestall a full-blown coronary.

No change in the rhythm pattern, however harmless it seems, should go untreated, Dr. Bernard Lown, director of the coronary care unit of Peter Bent Brigham Hospital here, says in a report in the current Journal of the American Medical Association.

Though sudden death "appears to be the hallmark of coronary artery disease," says Dr. Lown, he firmly believes that such "death . . . is not unannounced."

Junior Editors Quiz on SINGING

QUESTION: Why is it so much fun to sing?

ANSWER: Singing is one of the most satisfying ways of expressing warm human feelings. An expert has defined song as combination of feeling or poetry with music, adding that this combination of ingredients gives a special richness and interest to singing.

Our artist has illustrated this idea. In our picture the poetic or feeling part is the sense this group of friends has of the pleasure of comradeship in a cozy setting around a camp fire. The music expresses this comradeship because it is a tune they all know and can sing to, besides having a gay, rhythmical swing.

Many human emotions may be expressed by singing. The feeling may be one of romantic love, it may be of sadness or longing, it might be of determination, such as the singing of soldiers, or it might be man's deep feeling for religion expressed through uniting one's voice with one's neighbors' voices on Sunday morning. But whatever the emotion, the right music will enrich it, seeming to help us to live our lives more deeply, making life more memorable for us as we go.

FOR YOU TO DO: You don't have to be a great musician to enjoy singing. Just join in with the group—they'll carry you right along.

Dirksen to Rap LBJ Plan

GOP Fights Wider Red Trade

WASHINGTON (AP) — Shying away from frontal attacks on President Johnson's Vietnam policies, Republicans in Congress are mounting an assault on his proposal to expand East-West trade while the war goes on.

They oppose widening trade with the Soviet Union and other Iron Curtain countries that are furnishing military equipment and supplies to North Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen said he isn't pleased with Johnson's East-West trade proposals. He said he plans to discuss them and the operation of Reciprocal Trade Act in the GOP "State of the Union" report Thursday night.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., veteran member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in a separate interview he is appalled by some of the items already being shipped behind the Iron Curtain.

ARMS FROM RUSSIA

"We're doing this in the face of the fact that every sophisticated weapon being used to kill our boys in Vietnam is furnished by Russia," he said. "The deaths of many of them could be marked 'made in Moscow'."

Mundt said administration officials are going to face questioning about some of the more than 400 "nonstrategic" items the President said in his State of the Union message had been removed from export control.

In his appearance Thursday night with House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan, Dirksen is expected to reiterate general support of the President's course in Vietnam while reserving to the Republicans the right to criticize some of the methods he is using.

'REFLECTS MAJORITY'

Mundt, who wants wider bombing of military targets in North Vietnam, said he thinks the Dirksen position on Vietnam reflects majority opinion among Senate Republicans.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., a foreign relations committeeman who opposes expansion of the war, said he feels there is more apprehension among Republicans now about the course the war is taking.

"But we are not in a position to attack the President's basic decisions," he said. "We can discuss them and perhaps influence future moves somewhat, but the decisions are the President's.

"I think every Republican — and every Democrat for that matter — would like to see the war ended on an honorable basis as quickly as possible. But unfortunately we have not been able to come up with any practical alternative to the President's course."

Hoffa Firm on Wage Demands, Hopes to Win Without Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters union President James R. Hoffa says he hopes to win some 7 per cent in wage hikes for 500,000 trucking industry workers without a strike.

But "we have no way to control the inflationary spiral that has taken place in the United States," Hoffa said, indicating the Teamsters won't scale down their demands without a stiff fight.

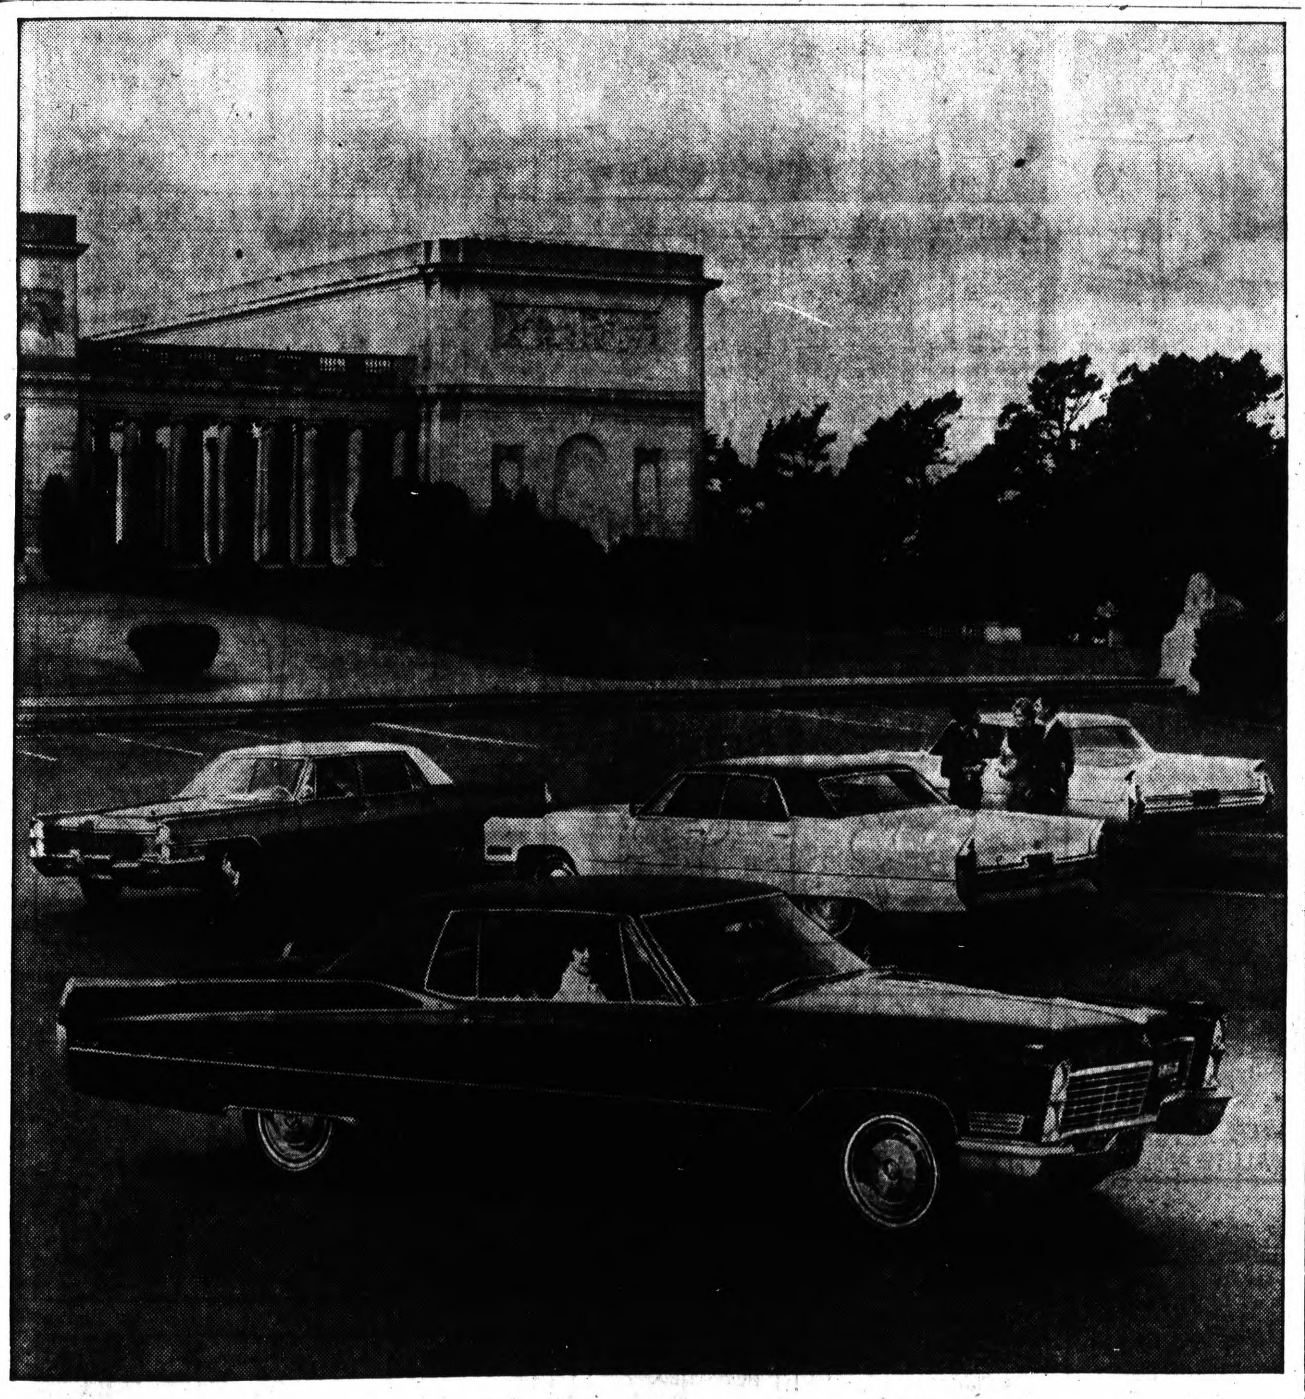
Trucking workers now make from $3.32 to $5 per hour, plus extra mileage pay for drivers and various fringe benefits. Hoffa said the new demands ranged from 5 to 7 per cent in wages and 2 per cent in fringe benefits.

Although Hoffa has previously said he would never call a nationwide trucking strike, the contract negotiations that opened formally Tuesday are shaping up as tougher than three years ago when the Teamsters won their first national trucking contract.

Equipment Funds

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Northwestern Michigan College has received $10,000 in matching funds from the Michigan Division of Vocational Education. The funds will be used for equipment to train medical and dental assistants, secretaries and electronics technicians.



First choose Cadillac. Then choose the year.

The decision to purchase a Cadillac—regardless of model or year—is the wisest move a motorist can make. Cadillac's remarkably luxurious interiors and superb driving qualities are unmatched. Cadillac's renowned durability, craftsmanship and advanced engineering also give it long-lasting value—and its owner loyalty ranks highest in the world of luxury motoring. You, of course, are best prepared to judge which model is most suited to your needs and your budget. But avoid compromise with a lesser make. For no other car at a comparable price can provide you greater pleasure and satisfaction than the Standard of the World. And, of course, most previously owned Cadillacs—even those several years old—feature a complete complement of conveniences such as power brakes, steering, windows and seats to provide more driving pleasure than many of today's new automobiles. See your authorized dealer and let him help you select your favorite model . . . whether it be new or previously owned. Then all the wonderful rewards of Cadillac ownership can be yours to enjoy as soon as today or tomorrow.

Jim says: "You played with Benito Garrozzo and Omar Sharif in New York last month. What did you think of their game?"

Oswald: "Garrozzo' is just as good as you would expect a World's Champion to be. He is also about as nice as any bridge player I have ever met. Sharif plays very well but is not as good as Garrozzo. He is just as nice to play with."

JACOBY

Jim: "Today's hand is one you played as Garrozzo's partner in a short team match at Tobias Stone's apartment. He was North, wasn't he?"

Oswald: "Yes. The bidding shows his style. In spite of the fact that West opened and rebid Garrozzo thought we might have a slam. In stead of jumping right to four spades he gave me two slam invitations by bidding both of West's suits."

Jim: "All you could do was keep rebidding your hopeless spade suit. Was he afraid that you might get discouraged and pass?"

Oswald: "No. He did put a lot of pressure on me but I am too old to start passing my partner's forcing bids."

Jim: "I see that four spades made easily. What happened at the other table?"

Oswald: "Loen Yallouze, who is in America with Benito and Omar, held the West hand and opened one heart. The American expert sitting North doubled and Omar Sharif with the courage of Genghis Khan (another of his starring vehicles) stuck in a three-heart bid. South and West passed and North merely bid three spades."

Jim: "I guess South did some soul searching and passed."

Oswald: "Right, so we gained six International Match Points."

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Thursday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21 - Apr. 19): Stick up for rights, principles. But also be aware of consequences. Family members, security could be involved. Don't overspend on home comfort. Key is MODERATION.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 - May 20): You finish rather than start projects. Day highlights completion, especially where travel is concerned. Relative may appear upset. This passes. You benefit through discussion.

GEMINI (May 21 - June 20): Conflict appears . . . but this is only surface indication. You can resolve it by making minor concession. Behind-scenes influence is obvious. Be knowledgeable, confident.

CANCER (June 21 - July 22): Your intuition can win or lose money. To be on winning side utilize past experience, don't go too far afield. If you stick with proven area, you become happier, also.

LEO (July 23 - Aug. 22): If you can perceive undercurrents you gain objective. Otherwise you retreat and repeat lessons . . . and mistakes. Don't accept superficial answers, explanations. Do stress sound judgment.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 - Sept. 22): Breakthrough indicated. Your feeling of being pressed, restricted very evident . . . but major advances build in your favor. Know this and act accordingly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 - Oct. 22): If you study investment possibilities . . . there is opportunity for profit. Realize certain amount of risk is involved. Be sure you know what you can afford . . . what must be conserved.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 - Nov. 21): Element of uncertainty should not be regarded as negative. Confide in loved one. Clear air via frank discussion. You are going places . . . so cast off non-essentials.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 - Dec. 21): Keynote of day for you is perceptivity, REALIZATION. You can get to bottom of puzzle — and pieces fall together. Can be day of great attainment, accomplishment.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 - Jan. 19): Pressure can build with regard to member of opposite sex. Today you might face moment of truth. Important to be true to yourself. Analyze own feelings . . . then act upon convictions.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 - Feb. 18): Be subtle . . . don't force issues. Some around you have their backs up. Know this and use indirect approach. Then you get results even better than anticipated.

PISCES (Feb. 19 - Mar. 20): Some friends may advocate course that results in excessive spending. Depend upon your own resourcefulness. Otherwise expense could go for naught. Stress INDEPENDENCE.

Big Cut in Cases of Cancer Seen

MONTREAL (AP) — The head of the Department of Experimental Biology at the Weizmann Institute in Israel, Dr. Isaac Berenblum, says the incidence of cancer throughout the world may be reduced by 75 per cent in the next decade.

Berenblum told the Canadian Society of the Weismann Institute that current discoveries in the field of cancer lead to this conclusion.

Hospitals Complain About Medicare's Paperwork

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN
AP Science Writer

CHICAGO — Six months after the advent of Medicare, hospital administrators across the country are complaining more about a flood of paperwork than about any rush on hospital beds by the elderly.

An Associated Press survey turned up scattered reports of overcrowding caused by Medicare patients, and showed that the aged are entering hospitals in greater numbers, and staying longer.

★ ★ ★

But, as Edward J. McGeachey of the Maine Medical Center in Portland said:

"If a pail of water is filled, you can't put any more in."

In addition to bemoaning the volume of federal forms accompanying Medicare, hospital administrators complained that the government sometimes has been slow to pay its bills.

NO DISLOCATIONS

Still the survey uncovered no serious dislocations in medical care, as had been feared by opponents of the health plan, under which Social Security funds are used to help those over 65 pay hospital and doctor bills.

Even the nation's doctors, who led opposition to Medicare, now voice few objections, publicly or privately, says Dr. Charles L. Hudson, president of the American Medical Association.

★ ★ ★

In a recent interview in Washington, Hudson said Medicare had caused little disruption of the basic relationship between doctor and patient.

"In the beginning, there were some rebellious ones who spoke as if they wouldn't cooperate," he said, but now "I just don't hear the number of remarks.

"There are not so many who say they won't participate."

MOVE TO EXPAND

Hudson hastened to add that doctors still fear there will be a move to expand Medicare, and "we would abhor a national health plan" under which the federal government would pay all medical bills for all Americans.

A point of principal concern voiced by hospital administrators in most areas of the nation is the shortage of nursing home beds for Medicare patients who require extended care.

This second phase of the Medicare program became effective only Jan. 1. The next three or four months are the periods of greatest hospital occupancy, with flu and other respiratory diseases at a peak.

Generally, the increase in over-all hospital occupancy has held close to the 5 per cent predicted by Social Security Administrator Robert M. Ball before the Medicare program started July 1.

There are scattered exceptions, but no specific reports of patients suffering from serious neglect because of an insufficient number of beds.

4 TO 6 WEEKS

In Columbus, Ohio, for example, some patients have waited four to six weeks for elective surgery, such as correction of hernias.

Ronald Boyington, director of staff services at the 645-bed Tampa (Fla.) General Hospital, said admissions for elective surgery have had to be canceled every day because Medicare patients require longer hospital stays than younger patients.

★ ★ ★

"It (surgical capacity) was critical here before Medicare," he said. "Medicare has greatly aggravated the problem. We simply cannot admit as many patients."

Administrator Francis Houghton of Rutland (Vt.) Hospital said that between 50 and 60 per cent of the hospital's patient population is 65 years or older, compared with 25 per cent before Medicare, and "adult medical-surgical beds are at a premium."

Robert D. Dann, administrator of Hackley Hospital in Muskegon, Mich., said several prospective patients have been "bumped" by others requiring emergency surgery.

Sister Mary Placide, controller of St. Mary's one of the largest hospitals in Knoxville, Tenn., said the hospital has been jammed since Medicare went into effect. "We have patients in the halls now," she said.

Similar situations prevail in several Chicago hospitals, but from all sections of the country, hospital administrators report no serious overcrowding.

Clifton Gaus, administrative resident of Pittsburgh's Presbyterian University Hospital, said "the criticism that the hospitals would be flooded with people has since been proved wrong."

Pete Geilich, assistant administrator at Parkland Hospital in Dallas, Tex.: "The situation is improving. The paperwork and reimbursement problem is smoothing itself out."

★ ★ ★

Charles Brooks, public relations executive at Washington Hospital Center, the capital area's largest nongovernment hospital, agreed.

"We are not overcrowded," he said. "The paperwork load has improved decidedly with a better understanding of procedures. Reimbursement now is improved and we are getting payments in 12 to 15 days."

Chesley Wilson, public relations director for the American Hospital Association, said "we have heard of no crisis anywhere. The length of stay of Medicare patients have caused some concern but has not placed a severe crush on the beds available."

INTERMEDIARY

Sheldon Garber, a spokesman for the Blue Cross Association, an administrative intermediary for Medicare: "We have seen no evidence of serious dislocations generally in the national picture."

Some hospital spokesmen were critical of some phases of the program.

Sister Mary Walters, administrator at St. Francis Hospital in Topeka, Kan., said: "The paperwork for outpatients is often more costly than their medical bills."

Sister Ingeborg Blomberg, administrator of Immanuel Deaconess Hospital in Omaha, contended that Medicare is not picking up some overhead costs formerly shared by all hospital patients and that it appears her institution will lose money on Medicare patients.

Stuart D. Ogren, executive secretary of the Virginia Hospital Association, said some financial and administrative problems related to Medicare had forced some Virginia hospitals to borrow from banks to meet their payrolls.

MOVING IN REVERSE

The patient load trend has been moving in reverse for many hospitals that once catered principally to charity patients. With Medicare benefits available, the patients are going to private hospitals. Among cities reporting this trend are New York, Louisville, Ky., and Los Angeles.

An unanswered question is how successful nursing homes will be in relieving the load of Medicare patients who need less than full hospital care.

★ ★ ★

A study by the American Hospital Association showed that the national "patient day load" for persons over 65 was 28.2 per cent in July, the first month of Medicare; 28.6 per cent in August and 30 per cent in September.

The average length of stay in the over-65 age group ncreased from 11.2 days per admission in July to 12 days in August and 12.5 days in September.

Unusual Exercises Speed Mental Growth of Retarded Boy

By JOHN McALEENAN
Staff Writer of "Today"
Written for The Associated Press

EAU GALLIE, Fla.—Eighteen times a day, a kitchen timer calls with an irritating buzz to Mike McLester, 6.

On the first signal at 8 a.m. Mike climbs up on a table and goes through the business of learning to crawl. On another, he sits patiently on the floor while his mother stuffs his mouth full of peanut butter.

Wehn another buzz is heard, he grips a pencil and draws endless circles on paper.

These unusual exercises, and many more, are speeding Mike's mental growth. In just 10 months, he actually has become 18 months older, neurologically.

BRAIN DAMAGE

Because of brain damage, Mike is mentally retarded. The program he is following, with help from his parents and volunteer workers, is a brain rehabilitation concept called "patterning."

It started 10 months ago and Mr. and Mrs. Fred McLester have two more years to go with Mike in the program. It's hard and sometimes frustrating work, but the result might be a boy with normal abilities.

★ ★ ★

Doctors a thousand miles away, at the Philadelphia Institute for Rehabilitation of Brain-Injured Children, are directing the work with Mike.

The object is to program the brain like a computer, "teaching" it by repeating certain functions over and over again. The institute says 86 per cent of the patients have "been returned" as productive members of the human society."

LONG WAIT

When he was 3, Mike had not talked. One doctor advised the family to "shut up for awhile" and give Mike a chance to talk. Another said it would only take time.

But if Mr. and Mrs. McLester had just shut up and waited, they would have waited forever.

They took Mike to the University of Florida Medical School two years ago and learned that he was mentally retarded. They took him back home knowing that some day they would have to put him in a home that takes care of such children.

But they loved him too much for that. They took him to Philadelphia when he was 5. His "neurological" age then was 26 months.

TOUGH TREATMENTS

After weighing the expense of the program, the work and the sacrifices, McLester decided: "Mike has got to have a chance. If it doesn't work, no one can say we didn't give him that chance."

The treatments have been hard and demanding. Sometimes, Mrs. McLester must yell at Mike.

Mike's father loves pro football, used to live for Sundays when he could watch the games on television. Now, because music or commercials might interrupt the patterning, the set remains dark.

★ ★ ★

Mike's sister, Mary, 10, had to sacrifice the parental attention she craved so they could devote more time to her brother.

But today, neurologically, Mike has grown to 44 months old.

For two more years, the life of the McLesters must revolve around the raucous calls of that kitchen timer. Each time it buzzes, it signals the start of another patterning program.

Mike can run and walk, but six times a day he gets up on that table and practices crawling.

"We take the children back to the day they were born, a doctor explained. "In patterning, basic functions are taught again.

USE OF TONGUE

Mike's mouth is stuffed with peanut butter after each crawling exercise so that he will use his tongue.

He learns to pick out round objects surrounded by square and rectangular ones. He picks coins up off the floor and puts them down again.

★ ★ ★

Twice last year, Mike received a "neurological" report card. He has scored all A's.

Soon there will be audio, visual and reading exercises.

• Sometimes, he says very clearly, "I love you, Mommy."

★ ★ ★

"Sometimes, after this is over, the child not only makes a complete recovery but is brighter than a normal child the same age," Mrs. McLester said.

"Can you imagine that? It would be a miracle."

Saginaw Game Set for Afternoon

Pontiac Central Officials Make Move to Curb Rowdyism

In a move to curtail increasing rowdyism after home basketball games, Pontiac Central has changed next Tuesday evening's encounter with highly rated Saginaw to 3:30 p.m. and will close the doors to the public.

★ ★ ★

"Only students with identification cards and accredited representatives of the press and radio will be permitted," said Principal Francis Staley.

An incident following last Friday's 59-57 win over Flint Northern triggered moving the Saginaw game to the afternoon.

A crowd estimated by police at nearly 300 gathered at Huron and Franklin and pelted officers with snowballs. Sheriff's deputies were called in to help quiet the trouble.

"The incident last week wasn't serious," said Staley, "but it could have been. We'll have no more incidents like that or we may have to cancel the remainder of our games.

"The problem is being caused by only a few, and most of them are outsiders. We have many fine students who are embarrassed by incidents such as last week."

FIRST SUCH MOVE

This is the first time in Pontiac Central's long history that such a move has been made involving an athletic contest. However, it won't be a first in the Saginaw Valley Conference.

Saginaw High made a similar move for one game early last season after having post-game troubles. No more serious problems were encountered when the Trojans finished out the season as regularly scheduled.

★ ★ ★

No decision on future PCH home games will be made until after next week's tilt with Saginaw, according to Staley.

Other remaining home dates are with SVC foes Bay City Central and Handy and Midland and city rival Northern. The three conference schools will only play at night.

"This means that we would have to forfeit those games," said Staley. Night road games probably will remain as scheduled.

Adults who have purchased advance tickets for the Saginaw game will be able to get refunds.

★ ★ ★

Last season extra police had to be called in to help disperse a crowd of troublemakers after the Flint Southwestern game and two seasons ago an incident took place following a visit by Saginaw that required extra action by school officials and police.

Chiefs on Target in Routing Roseville; Kettering Keeps Rolling

PCH Quintet Romps to Easy 85-69 Victory

Alton Wilson, Hill Spark Attack; Team Record Now 6-2

Chiefs Alton Wilson and Prentice Hill put their Pontiac Central scoring attack in a war dance tempo Tuesday night and PCH overran host Roseville, 85-69.

The output was Central's best of the season, gave it a three-game winning streak and raised the season record to 6-2.

★ ★ ★

Wilson and Hill, who haven't combined for less than 33 points in any PCH victory (and didn't total 30 in either defeat) had their best dual effort of the campaign.

Each scored 24 points while taking 25 shots apiece among the Chiefs' 86 attempts in the game. Hill was hitting from the outside and Wilson drove very well.

It was a bucket by Hill at the 5:12 mark in the second quarter that put them ahead to stay, 23-22, after trailing, 17-14, following the first quarter.

Mitch Redmon hit six points after coming off the bench to spark Roseville in the opening stanza. But personal fouls cost the Wildcats in the middle two sessions when their frontcourt regulars had to sit out the action.

REBOUNDING

This enabled PCH to control the backboards. Wilson nabbed 19 to lead that phase of play, sub Frank Russell hauled down 15 and Gordon Hamilton 11. Russell added eight points for his top showing of the campaign.

Hamilton also had his best scoring night, making five of 10 shots and 14 points. The winners outshot their hosts both from the field and at the foul line.

The biggest lead was 61-40 for Central as the third period ended. Earlier, the Wildcats (1-7) had cut their deficit to 37-34, but the Chiefs then staged a 24-6 massacre that settled the outcome.

Randy Matiyow, Roseville's leading marksman with 20 points had 13 of them in the final period. Central now will return to Saginaw Valley Conference play Friday night at Bay City Handy.

'SEAMINGLY' UNUSUAL—Lake Orion's Rick Toles (40) appears to have a basketball for a head as he controls the ball during this play last night against Oxford's Wildcats. Ted Pearson (53) and Ken Shamblin are the Oxford players surrounding Toles, who hit 14 points in his best output this season. The Dragons, also, hit a high of 66 points but still suffered their ninth loss against one win.

Oxford Slips Past Lake Orion, 69-66

Oxford and Lake Orion both lost eight-point leads but the Wildcats finished strong to take a 69-66 basketball victory home from the Orion gymnasium last night.

The nonleague encounter is the only scheduled meeting between the neighborhood rivals this winter and it proved an exciting one for the fans.

In other area games, Linden moved up its home game with Ortonville Brandon and mowed down the Blackhawks, 72-46, and Warren Lincoln handed Utica its second 59-53 loss of the campaign.

At Lake Orion, the host Dragons pulled in front by eight in the opening half as Bill Foss tallied 10 of his 19 points.

Down 36-34 at intermission, Oxford threw a pressing defense at Orion and assumed an eight-point margin in the third quarter.

But the hosts rallied, went ahead, 64-63, and had the basketball with 1:11 to play. They lost possession and Ken Marsh sank two free throws for Oxford.

Ted Pearson then added two more charity tosses to the winners' total and Marsh hit a field goal. Judd Bankert's two free throws with 10 seconds to play for Orion closed the scoring. The losers had 21 turnovers in the contest.

Roy Kibbe held Roger Miller of Oxford to 14 points while producing 15 markers in his best effort this season.

Linden took a 22-8 first-period lead over its visitors from Ortonville and then never let the Brandon cagers closer than nine points the rest of the night.

The winners had a 33-15 field goal edge. Gary Burt was the only Blackhawk in double figures. He had 10 points. A 16-for-40 foul line effort, also, hurt the losers.

Utica dropped its second game of the season as Lincoln dominated the backboards and kept a 10-point lead most of the second half. Bob Hoder led the upset with 23 points, 19 in the first three quarters. Jim Jilek and Gerry Lane had 16 each for Utica.

The Chieftains fell into a second place tie with Fraser (another upset loser last night in the Bi-County League) but will resolve that Friday night. Lakeview (5-1) now has a one-game lead in the race.

FILLS IN — Kettering's Bill Penoza entered the game against North Farmington last night when two teammates encountered personal foul troubles and he hit eight points in the first half for his second-best effort of the season.

Captains Trim N. Farmington Second Time

Winners Up Record to 7-0; Losers Left With 2-5 Mark

Undefeated Waterford Kettering indicated Tuesday night its main improvement from the start of the season is getting the job done quicker.

The Captains upped their record to 7-0 with a 65-60 win over North Farmington, a team WKHS needed one overtime period to defeat, 64-60, in the season opener.

Enjoying an Associated Press state preps' top ten rating for the first time in its history, Kettering seemed en route to an impressive triumph.

WKHS built a 57-44 lead for three quarters' work, but found itself outscored 10-2 in the first five minutes of the last quarter as the Raiders displayed an effective pressing defense.

KEY BASKET

Dick Miceli finally eased the pressure with a basket for the Captains to make it 61-54. The versatile sharpshooter then grabbed the rebound on the next missed shot.

The Captains sprang a fast break on North Farmington with Miceli feeding Ralph Windeler for a layup that upped the lead to nine points and only two minutes to play.

That was enough to insure the victory, Kettering led all the way in recording its fourth straight and sixth over-all win in the eight-game cage series with the Raiders.

The lead was generally five-six points for much of the initial half. Dave Cox had 13 points, Jack McCloud and Bill Penoza eight each in the opening 16 minutes.

★ ★ ★

Personal fouls hampered both teams. Pete Evans left WKHS' lineup and Jim Rulapaugh departed from the visitors' attack early in the closing half; while Bob VonBargan and Cox fouled out in the fourth period.

Ninth-rated Kettering and North Farmington (2-5) will return to league play Friday night.

All Star Game Tonight

Plan for Stocking Ice Teams Near

MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League's Board of Governors has stolen the spotlight from tonight's 20th annual All Star Game.

Announcement was expected early today of the league's plan for stocking the six new expansion franchises which begin playing next season.

President Clarence Campbell said Tuesday that the board had reached agreement in principle on the stocking plan and that final ratification was expected at today's meeting.

Speculation centered around a proposal which would allow the NHL's six present teams to protect 11 players — six forwards, four defensemen and one goalie — with the expansion teams picking from the remaining personnel.

BACK-UP

The stocking plan will also have a back-up feature to reinforce the six new clubs with additional players after their first year.

The six new teams which start play next October are Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Minneapolis-St. Paul, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Under the NHL's expansion program, each team's owners paid $2 million for 20 players and the franchise.

Meanwhile, Toe Blake, coach of the Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens, and Detroit's Sid Abel, who'll handle the All Stars, plotted strategy for tonights game.

★ ★ ★

"If we lose tonight," mused Abel, surveying an All Star roster that included his own Gordie Howe and Chicago's Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita on the first line, "you can't blame the players."

Abel will use Rod Gilbert of New York with Toronto's Frank Mahovlich and Dave Keon on another line and his own Alex Delvecchio and Norm Ullman with Bob Nevin of New York on a third unit. Murray Oliver of Boston will be a swing man.

★ ★ ★

On defense, the All Stars will have New York's Harry Howell and Jim Neilson working together and Pierre Pilote and Pat Stapleton of Chicago teaming. Allan Stanley of Toronto is the fifth defenseman.

DRAGON CHARGE — Lake Orion guard Jess Harper drives for the basket during last night's game with Oxford. He had eight points for his top effort this season, but it wasn't enough to prevent a 69-66 loss.

Trio Paces Local Junior College '5' to 102-87 Victory

A strong three-man offensive —particularly in the second half —led Michigan Christian Junior College to a 102-87 cage conquest at Grand Rapids Baptist Bible College Tuesday night.

The Warriors led, 39-38, at intermission in the state Christian College Athletic Association clash. Jerry Olson (17 points), Ray Hudson (15) and Jerome Shoemaker (13) led MCJC in the final half as it pulled away from the home quintet.

Olson finished with 32 points, Shoemaker 21 and Hudson 19 for the winners. Paul Grewe tallied 27 and Al Meredith 22 for Baptist Bible. Michigan Christian is 3-2 in the league and a strong contender for a playoff berth.

Terrell, Promoters Talk

Ads Rile Title Contender

HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay took a holiday from training today and Ernie Terrell, angry about being second banana on the billboards, talked to promoters of their Feb. 6 heavyweight championship showdown fight about changes he wants in the advertising campaign.

Shortly after Clay carved his 578½-pound 25th birthday cake, a gift from the Astrodome proprietors Tuesday, Terrell was telling a news conference, "Either they give me equal billing or 48 hours from now I am going to pack my bags and go home."

★ ★ ★

Later, Terrell pushed the starting time for the 48 hours back to this morning and the Houston Sports Association, proprietors of the fight site, the Astrodome, agreed to talk.

Plastered across Houston are 250 billboards giving both fighters names in the same size lettering, but featuring a drawing of Clay and none of Terrell.

On the side of 150 buses are miniatures of the billboard, and 300 indoor signs have Clay's picture and Clay's name larger by far than Terrell's name.

"This is absolutely and positively ridiculous," Terrell, the World Boxing Association champion, said. "According to this, Clay has the fight already won."

★ ★ ★

Coach Calls Prep Better Than Lew

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Jim McDaniels, at 7 feet, is Kentucky's tallest schoolboy basketball player, almost as big as UCLA's Lew Alcindor.

McDaniel's coach at Allen County High School says his boy is a better shot.

Versatility makes McDaniels a hot item, posing some problem of where to play him.

McDaniels operates in the pivot where he's averaged 41.6 points and 26 rebounds per game in leading the Patriots to a 15-0 record.

★ ★ ★

"It would take a college coach only a week to make Jim into a forward," said former Allen County Coach Jimmy Bezzell. He cited McDaniels' quickness, lack of weight (195) and a "fine shooting touch."

That makes McDaniels a much-sought college prospect.

LOST COUNT

"I've lost count in the last two years just how many letters we've received concerning him," said his coach, Tommy Long.

"He's got everything it takes, and has a tremendous attitude," said Coach John Oldham of Western Kentucky University.

★ ★ ★

Long is particularly impressed with McDaniels' outside shooting ability. In this phase, Long rates his star above Bob Unseld of Louisville and Alcindor.

"Take them 10 feet away from the basket and I think McDaniels could beat either of them," Long said.

If McDaniels is given a choice of the position in college, he'll stay at center.

"I like it under the basket more, I just feel more comfortable, more at home."

Pistons' Player Trade Fizzles

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Pistons meet the Philadelphia 76ers here tonight and if that isn't bad enough, the Pistons aren't sure whether they'll have Ray Scott or Rudy LaRusso or neither as a forward.

Philadelphia, which has won 42 games and lost only four this season defeated New York 119-111 Tuesday night.

Boston downed Chicago 109-101 in the other National Basketball Association game.

The Pistons worked a three-cornered swap for LaRusso earlier this week, but LaRusso announced, "After thinking about it all night I decided that for personal reasons I could not join the Detroit team. I am retiring from the NBA."

Pistons captain Ray Scott was dealt to Baltimore for LaRusso. Baltimore got LaRusso from Los Angeles in a trade for Mel Counts.

But LaRusso balked and apparently the trade is off.

"I wouldn't have my heart in it if I went there," LaRusso explained. "It would be an injustice both to the Detroit club and myself for me to report."

MANY FACTORS

LaRusso said there were many factors involved in his decision, chiefly the fact that he would have to leave his family behind for the remainder of the season. His wife is expecting their first child in about two months.

LaRusso has averaged 14.2 points per game for the Lakers this year. The eight-year veteran has been a strong rebounder.

At Philadelphia, the 76ers hit on 10 of their first 12 shots as they built a 23-7 lead in the first five minutes. Wally Jones paced Philadelphia with 27 points. Walt Bellamy and Cazzie Russell each collected 18 for the Knicks who lost their second game in a row.

At Chicago, Bailey Howell fired in 30 points as the Celtics claimed their 31st victory. Chicago's Jerry Sloan scored 28.

Detroit '5' Routs Foe

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit College of Business raced to a 48-18 halftime lead in dumping Western Ontario Tech 97-34 Tuesday night for its ninth basketball victory in 11 starts.

Eaglets Keep Hex on FOLS, 80-76

St. Mike Pins 69-53 Setback on Emmanuel

Victory Puts OLSM Nearer First Place in Catholic League

Orchard Lake St. Mary continued its domination of Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows and unbeaten St. Michael dominated the backboards in victories Tuesday night.

OL St. Mary stopped Sorrows' determined bid to end that series' jinx, 80-76, in a key Northwest Parochial League tilt that left the two contenders with a pair of losses each.

St. Mike ventured outside the Macomb Catholic League for a 69-53 win over Emmanuel Christian's Lancers. The Mikemen controlled the rebounds at will.

OLSM moved within a half game of Sorrows with a late rally that pulled out the victory. The Eaglets and FOLS exchanged the lead 14 times in the first half.

Then after St. Mary took a 63-56 lead into the fourth period, the Lancers ran off 10 straight points for a three-point lead. The home team finally regained the lead at 73-72 on a Tim Megge field goal.

12 STRAIGHT

Terry Shaw and Rich Mrozinski (who made 7 of 8 from the field in the final half) then added field goals and Megge a free throw to clinch the victory, OLSM's 12th without a loss over Sorrows.

The Eaglets shot a sizzling 21 of 31 from the floor in the final half. Mrozinski played his best game, grabbing 16 rebounds and matching his season high of 19 points. Greg Fior had 18 rebounds for the winners.

St. Mike had a rough start at Emmanuel, trailing 12-9 after one period. Big Bill French (6-5) then connected for 11 points in the second quarter and the Shamrocks pulled safely ahead.

St. Mike took 48 shots in the opening half while the Lancers had only 51 in the entire game. The Mikemen continually had followup shots thanks to their backboard strength.

The winners now are 10-0 for the year. Emmanuel had 25 turnovers in the game, including three straight to start the second half that enabled the visitors to expand quickly their 10-point halftime cushion.

Cage Streaks End for County Squads

Several streaks came to an end in southern Oakland County basketball games Tuesday.

In the top game, Hamtramck stopped Ferndale's winning streak at four in a row with a 60-52 victory on the Eagles' court.

Cranbrook had a three-game success string snapped at Oak Park, 72-51, in an afternoon game; and Royal Oak Kimball dropped Port Huron Northern, 74-49, to end a four-game losing skid.

The Cosmos of Hamtramck, second-rated in Class A by the Associated Press, trailed, 46-45, when Ferndale's 6-6 center Bob Kirsten fouled out early in the final quarter.

The unbeaten visitors spurted ahead, 51-46, but Ferndale rallied to trail, 51-50, with 2½ minutes remaining.

PULLS AWAY

Then Hamtramck iced the win as Jim Smith and Ike Blessitt notched layups and Dennis Mock a three-point play. Smith led all scorers with 19 points. Charles Puckett hit 15 for the Eagles (5-2).

Cranbrook stayed close to host Oak Park until Ed Randle fouled out early in the second half. The Redskins then pulled ahead steadily.

Paul Tarnoff and Bryan Harbin, both playing their best games of the season with 14 and 19 points respectively, each hit eight points in the final quarter for Oak Park.

The winners closed with a 22-9 final period. Oak Park capitalized on Cranbrook's mistakes getting 73 field goal attempts to the visitors' 47. The Cranes (3-3) led, 14-7, in the first period. Oak Park ended a five-game losing spell.

★ ★ ★

Kimball's Brent Terry erupted for 21 points in his top effort this season and Knights tallied 74, their best team total of the campaign, to outshoot PHN's Huskies.

The winners took eight more shots from the field and hit seven more field goals than Port Huron Northern in the game.

Utica Tankers Extend Streak

Chieftains Swim Past Harper Woods, 74-31

Unbeaten Utica stretched its school swimming record to seven in a row Tuesday night with a 74-31 conquest of Harper Woods.

★ ★ ★

The Chieftains opened by winning the 400-yard medley relay, then took first and second places in the first four individual events to grab a commanding lead quickly.

Capping the victory was a school record 3:53 timing in the concluding 400-yard freestyle relay. Mike Newman, Dave Hirschman, Al Jennings and Larry Merritt comprised the team.

Hirschman also was on the winning medley relay unit, while Larry Merritt also won the 50-yard freestyle. Bill Martin was on the medley relay team and won the 100-yard butterfly.

Freestylers Randy Collins, Mike Jones and Alan Foster were individual winners, along with medley swimmer Bill Frye and diver Fred Perhay. Steve Porter and Al Zsido completed the medley relay team.

Utica Friday will visit Warren Cousino with whom it is tied for its league lead.

Indian Sextet at Springfield Again Rebels

TORONTO (AP) — The Springfield Indians of the American Hockey League are ready to quit while their lawyer, Alan Eagleson of Toronto, takes their case to court in an effort to smash the iron hand of owner Eddie Shore.

Eagleson was to leave here early today to meet the Springfield players in Hershey, Pa., where they are scheduled to play against the Bears tonight.

★ ★ ★

"I am hoping to call a meeting of all the owners of the American League to spell it out to them why these boys are going to quit rather than continue with Shore," Eagleson said.

Shore could not be reached for comment.

★ ★ ★

The team walked out on Shore in December after four members were suspended but returned without missing a scheduled game on Eagleson's advice.

ENDED STRIKE

"When the team ended their strike just before Christmas, I told them to hold on until Jan. 20 in the hope Shore would mend his ways," Eagleson said Tuesday. "Now they have called me to say they can't take any more."

★ ★ ★

He said the situation has become so intolerable that the players would rather quit and wait for the result of court action in order to prevent future players from coming under Shore's control.

New Team Atop Rec Cage Loop

There's a new leader in the International Basketball League.

Lee's Lawn and Garden knocked Local 596 out of the top spot last night by posting a 68-63 decision, and Coulacos Insurance (2-0) took over first by beating Town & Country, 48-41.

James Miracle tossed in 23 points and teammate Boyd Daniels added 17 to pace Lee's (2-2). Walt Johnson pitched in 25 for the losers (2-1).

Bill Hayward and Bill Buck tossed in 15 points apiece for Coulacos while Dave Burhans led Town & Country with 10.

Olivet Quintet Romps

OLIVET (AP)—Olivet reeled off 20 straight points early in the game and went on to wallop Grand Valley 94-72 Tuesday night in a college basketball game.

Star Garners Award

NEW YORK (UPI) — Green Bay quarterback Bart Starr, the National Football League's most valuable player and leading passer in 1966, was named winner Monday of the December voting for the 17th annual S. Rae Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year award.

In National Balloting

Orioles Top Sports Team

NEW YORK (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles, who ran away with the American League baseball pennant and then chased the Los Angeles Dodgers out of the World Series in four games, have been overwhelmingly selected the outstanding sports team of the year for 1966.

★ ★ ★

The Orioles piled up 918 points as 232 of the voters in a nationwide Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters picked them first. Votes were tabulated on the basis of 3 points for first, 2 for second and 1 for third.

★ ★ ★

The Green Bay Packers, National Football League champions, were a distant second with 69 first-place votes and 423 points. The voting took place before the Packers beat the Kansas City Chiefs of the American Football League in the first Super Bowl last Sunday.

Notre Dame's top-ranked college football team was third with 58 top votes and 418 points.

FIRST FLAG

The slugging Orioles, led by Frank Robinson, Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell, won their first pennant since the old St. Louis Browns moved to Baltimore in 1953. By mid-season, the Orioles had piled up a 13-game lead and breezed home.

They capped the season with a four-game sweep of the favored Dodgers in the World Series. Los Angeles, pitching with Sandy Koufax and Co., was supposed to dazzle Baltimore's sluggers, but the Orioles' pitching turned out to be the difference.

Veteran Moe Drabowsky hurled 6 1-3 shutout innings of relief in the first game victory and youngsters Jim Palmer, Wally Bunker and Dave McNally followed with shutouts that broke the record for consecutive shutout innings.

EMU Routs Wayne State

YPSILANTI (AP)—Despite 30 points by Marty Letzmann, Eastern Michigan humiliated Wayne State 106-65 in a basketball contest Tuesday night.

Wayne trailed 45-35 at the half. During one 5½-minute spurt, EMU outscored the Tartars 22-3.

Roy McMeely topped Eastern with 22 points as five of his teammates scored in double figures.

Eastern is 12-3. Wayne is 3-6.

2nd Operation for Golf Great

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Walter Hagen, one of the all-time greats of golf, was reported in good condition Tuesday in Munson Hospital, where he underwent four hours of throat surgery Monday.

It was the 74-year-old Hagen's second throat operation. He had a cancerous larynx removed 19 months ago.

IN TROUBLE — Pontiac Central's N. Z. Bryant (on bottom) found himself in trouble at this phase of his 120-pound match with Pontiac Northern's Ben Moon last night on the Central mat. Moon took a 5-1 decision in this struggle and Northern won the dual encounter, 34-8.

Skating Titles at Stake

Ice Spotlight Shines on Kids

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — The real kids among America's youthful dandies on ice grab the opening spotlight today in the U.S. Figure Skating Champion ships.

Most interest in the four-day competition at the Ak-Sar-Ben Coliseum will center on senior singles defenses by brilliant teen-agers Scott Allen and Peggy Fleming, seeking their third and fourth national titles, respectively.

★ ★ ★

Allen, from Smoke Rise, N.J., and Miss Fleming, Colorado College freshman, will get down to business later in the week, but junior men and junior ladies begin compulsory figures competition today.

The program for a field of more than 130 top skaters also gets cranked up today with initial rounds for gold dance and senior pairs competition.

WORLD MEET

After Saturday's night wind-up, America's squad is expected to be named for the world meet at Vienna Feb. 28-March 4.

It was almost six years ago, Feb. 15, 1961, to be exact, that all 18 members of the America's figure skating team were killed in a plane crash near Brussels, Belgium, while en route to the world meet at Prague.

That tragic blow, along with retirement of Carol Heiss and David Jenkins, left the United States without an Olympic gold medal winner since 1960.

However, a great resurgence was led by Miss Fleming, current world champion, and winner of the past three national meets, and Allen, seeking to become the first national men's repeater since David Jenkins wrapped up a four-year reign in 1960.

STRONG RIVALS

America's top men prospects for the 1968 Winter Olympics at Grenoble, France, also include three strong rivals of Allen here — Detroit's Gary Visconti, 1965 national champion; John Misha Petkevich of Great Falls, Mont., a last year's national junior titlist, and W. Patrick Lalor of Talleyville, Del., current Eastern junior champion.

In the 1964 Olympics, Allen won the bronze medal for third and Miss Fleming placed sixth.

★ ★ ★

Western Michigan Wins 6th Straight

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Western Michigan broke a 14-all tie early in the game and upended Detroit 76-69 Tuesday night for its sixth straight basketball victory and its second this year over the Titans.

The Broncos, with Reggie Lacefield and Ron Kidney leading the way, built up a 41-33 halftime lead and were never headed in winning their eighth game in 12 starts.

Lacefield and Kidney each netted 21 points.

Jerry Swartzfager topped Detroit with 17 points. Al McIntosh added 16 and Bruce Rodwin scored 15.

Test for MSU Tankers

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State's unbeaten swimming team will be after one of its rare victories over Michigan in the Spartan pool this Saturday. Michigan, runnerup in the Big Ten the last five years, has beaten MSU in 40 of their 43 meetings.

Almont, Armada Pursue Capac

Chase Continues in Southern Thumb

The Southern Thumb League cage race reached its midpoint last night with Almont and Armada still pursuing unbeaten Capac in a three-team race.

The league-leading Chiefs, whose only loss was in a non-league outing, tomahawked New Haven, 75-44, with Cliff Leitz swinging the most damaging blows with a 32-point effort.

Almont stayed one game behind by dumping Memphis, 63-50, in a big second-half outburst. Armada remained third, a game behind Almont, with an 83-70 triumph over Brown City.

Dryden stayed winless as Anchor Bay took a 69-58 win in the other league game.

Almont won its fourth straight in a 6-2 season by pounding Memphis, 33-20, in the second half. The Raiders broke a 30-30 halftime tie with an 18-11 third quarter as Terry Wallace and Dick McEwan each hit six points in the spree.

McEwan finished with 14 and Frank Bacholzky 13 for the winners, but Memphis's Gary Jeffrey had 16 for game laurels.

Lee Thompson pumped in half of his 28 points and Carl Reiter had eight of his 18 in the second quarter as Armada took a 43-30 intermission advantage over Brown City.

Dryden fell behind, 21-13, in the opening period and never could catch Anchor Bay. The Tars' 6-6 sophomore center Jerry Martin dominated the backboards and was impressive offensively as he tallied 23 points to lead all scorers.

No. 18—BANKING THE BALL

Bank shots should be used only as a last resort. In other words, if it's possible, cue the object ball into a pocket without playing a bank shot.

★ ★ ★

On certain angles, you can bank the ball by hitting the cue ball in the center. When the object ball is not in line for a natural bank shot, then you must use English to adjust for the difference in the direction the object ball must travel.

To lengthen the angle hit your cue ball about ¼-inch on the side away from the pocket. To shorten your angle, hit the cue ball about ¼-inch toward the pocket. I suggest that you practice and experiment with these shots until you have a good idea of how much English you must use.

Potent PNH Trims Central on Mat, 34-8

Pontiac Northern's wrestling squad ran its unbeaten streak to 7-0 last night by downing city rival Central, 34-8.

The Huskies, rated as one of the top mat teams in the state, took 10 of the 12 matches, the first seven in a row.

Central, now with a 4-2 record, won the 145-pound event and the heavyweight clash in which Charles Mason pinned Northern's James Corr at 5:30.

Scoring a pin for the Huskies was Frank Lafferty who disposed of Bill Gottschall at 5:10 of their 180-pound scrap.

A big match remaining on the PNH schedule is the Feb. 3 home encounter against unbeaten Walled Lake. Central entertains Kettering tomorrow.

Don't Read It!

More Michigan drivers buy the Exchange policy at the Auto Club than any other automobile insurance policy sold in the State.

Then, the majority don't read it.

We think it's because the words used in the policy are not nearly as familiar as our reputation for leadership, integrity, fair-dealing and value.

If you have one of our policies, you should read it—sometime. It's full of advantages you may have forgotten about.

If you don't have an Exchange policy, buy one! It's a most interesting story of protecting your car and yourself.

Sunday's Pontiac Kennel Club Show Draws 652 Dogs

Press Trophy Is Top Award

CAI Building Site of Unbenched Match

A total of 652 dogs will vie for the Pontiac Press Best-in-Show Trophy Sunday at the CAI CAI building.

Interest in The Pontiac Kennel Club's annual indoor all-breed show reached a point where the maximum number of entries that could be accepted was reached 24 hours before the deadline.

★ ★ ★

This will be an unbenched show which means that the dogs can be removed from the building at 6841 Williams Lake, Waterford Township, when eliminated from competition. The show is licensed by the American Kennel Club and judging will get under way at 9 a.m.

The best-in-show selection is expected to be made about 6 p.m.

There are 79 different breeds entered. German Shepherds top the list with 45. Other breeds with over 20 entries are Golden retrievers, Irish setters, English springers, Great Danes and toy poodles.

★ ★ ★

The junior showmanship competition will start at 3:15 p.m. There will be no obedience trial because of space limitations.

Following is the judging schedule with the number of entries in parenthesis:

Flint Hunter Is Expert

Call Him 'Webfoot'

FLINT (AP) — They call him "webfoot."

And you have to concede that the nickname is as appropriate as the duck call he habitually hangs from his neck when behind the counter of his sporting goods store.

★ ★ ★

Ducks have done much to mold the life of Arthur L. Beauchamp, a champion duck caller.

"I was bitten early by the drake," Beauchamp says. "And he hasn't let go."

Even so, Beauchamp has turned his back on his first love many times during his 50 years.

It happened once during the year of the auto sit-down strike —hardly the best time for an Arkansas farm boy to go knocking on plant doors in Flint for a job.

But it also was a year when industrial amateur boxing was in full bloom in Michigan. A fellow who had a good punch just might knock a little louder than the average person.

At the urging of a brother-in-law in Flint, Beauchamp left Arkansas State College after two years there and headed to Michigan.

His mild manner belies the fact that he once was on his way to being a top-notch fighter. Take a second look at his 6-foot-2 frame, over which he spread 192 pounds at age 21, and you can believe he was an aggressive youngster.

His hopes were jarred when physicians prevented him from continuing.

"They claimed I had a bad heart," Beauchamp said.

He married Edna E. McDaniel here in May 1939.

In April 1940, things began looking up. He became an insurance agent and did so well that in February 1941, he was placed in charge of the company's Flint office. Six years later he was named district manager in charge of offices in Flint, Pontiac and Lansing.

Success didn't spoil Beauchamp — just his opportunity to spend time in the duck marsh.

To understand his deep-seated love for his sport, you have to see the Arkansas pin-oak country and thrill to the hundreds of thousands of ducks that blacken the skies over the oak flats every winter.

★ ★ ★

The sight captured the imagination of Beauchamp when he was little more than a tot. He learned to "talk" them down through the oak openings with his home-made duck call.

★ ★ ★

"The kid" never lost his love for duck hunting when he moved north. He found that ducks fly in Michigan, too.

Since sports had been his life, Beauchamp abandoned insurance and became a jobber in sporting goods in 1948.

Each fall he trails migrating mallards to his native state, where he operates a 1,000-acre duck camp near Des Arc during the Arkansas waterfowl season.

He had a reputation as a caller even as a lad, but it was many years before he sought national recognition.

WON TITLE

The place to do it is at the World's Champion Duck Calling Contest at Stuttgart, Ark.

He placed twice in the contest before defeating a former champion in 1954 to win the event. The next year several world champions were called to compete for the title of champion of champions. Beachamp defeated the same caller to capture that honor. He held the title from 1955 to 1960, when he retired from competition.

ARTHUR L. BEAUCHAMP

Takes Time to Produce Good Catches

"If a fellow has the fortitude and time to stay at it, he'll catch some good bluegills."

That was how conservation officer Dick Peterson of Milford summed up the ice fishing in his area.

★ ★ ★

"The fish aren't biting very fast, but what are being caught look good," he pointed out. He singled out Elizabeth, Union and Kent as the better panfish lakes.

Pike action in the area is slow. However, good catches were made last weekend at White and Orion.

A group of four Pontiac men took 50 panfish Sunday at Buckhorn Lake. Hal Martin landed a 6½-pound northern on a tip-up and several other good pike were taken by members of the group.

★ ★ ★

Perch are hitting on Anchor Bay in about six feet of water a half mile off Cotton Road and off shore from Selfridge Field. Fishing at Saginaw Bay has slowed.

★ ★ ★

Good catches of crappies are being made at night with minnows at Union Lake. There is little trout activity. Lake Nepessing in Lapeer County is still good for browns averaging 12 inches.

Rabbit hunters with dogs are doing fair in the Holly recreation area and the Deford game area.

Citizens Recreation Group to Organize

A citizens advisory committee with the goal of mobilizing financial support for Michigan's new 10-year, $377 million recreation program will be officially formed in Lansing Jan. 24.

Its organizational meeting will be held in Parlors A and B of the Civic Center, starting at 9:30 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Representatives from more than 120 organizations, associations and public and private agencies have been invited to take part in its formation.

★ ★ ★

James L. Rouman executive director of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, is serving as the committee's interim chairman.

Junior Indoor Shooting Sectional Set at OCSC

The Oakland County Sportsmen's Club will sponsor a National Rifle Association junior sectional national indoor small-bore rifle championship Jan. 28-29.

Sixty or more of these sectionals are held annually throughout the nation. They provide competition on the national level without extensive travel plus double NRA awards and special OCSC awards.

★ ★ ★

Any boy or girl who is not 19 years old may fire in the sectional and may also fire as members of a team composed of four shooters, representing a single NRA junior rifle club or the junior division of a club affiliated with the national association.

Any 22 caliber rimfire rifle may be used. Palm rests and Schuetzen type butt plates will not be permitted. Adjustable butt plates may be used by competitors.

All triggers must have a pull of three pounds or more.

Rifles will be available for use by competitors.

Rifles with metallic sights only will be fired by single loading at A-17 targets 50 feet from the shooter. Ten shots each will be fired from prone, standing, sitting and kneeling positions.

Entries can be mailed to Cash Bond, 2 Delaware, Pontiac, 48053. Included must be the name, address, age, sex, whether the shooter is lefthanded and the desired day and relay.

Following is the shooting schedule for both days:

Safety checks on rifles and trigger weighing to 8:33 a.m. for relays No. 1 and No. 2 each day.

1st relay of 12 competitors — match No. 1 start 8:40 a.m.; 2nd relay of three (3) teams—match No. 2, 9:40 a.m.

3rd relay of 12 competitors—match No. 1, 10:40 a.m.; 4th relay of 3 teams — match No. 2, 11:40 a.m.; 5th relay of 12 competitors — match No. 1, 12:40 p.m.

6th relay of 3 teams—match No. 2, 1:40 p.m.; 7th relay — match No. 1 (Saturday only), 2:40 p.m.; 8th relay—match No. 2 (Saturday only) 3:40 p.m.

Wild Turkeys Confirmed in Huron County

Huron County at the top of the Thumb may not have many pheasants left, but it does number a couple of unusual species among its game bird population.

The Conservation Department confirmed last weekend that a flock of wild turkeys does exist in the northwestern part of the county near the Saginaw Bay marshes.

★ ★ ★

"We could say that there are about 200 birds," said Howard Greene, Pontiac Lake district office game biologist, who was along on the investigation, "but the flock could be only 100. In any event, they aren't overrun with turkeys up there."

Greene said that department officials were able to track down the source of the birds. A dozen turkeys hatched from eggs by a private citizen were released about 12 years ago.

Greene and other biologists jumped one large flock, the first official sighting by conservation personnel.

An even rarer specie known to roam the flatlands of Huron County is the prairie chicken, almost extinct in Michigan. About a dozen birds are in this flock.

BREAK NEW GROUND — Snowmobiles are opening new avenues to the outdoors in Michigan. The Conservation Department and State Police now are using the vehicles, but say misuse could bring new enforcement problems. Harold Dykema, conservation biologist, is shown using a snowmobile to check habitat conditions near Grayling.

Snowmobiles Open 2 Different Paths

LANSING (AP) — Snowmobiles are plowing new and exciting paths to open Michigan's outdoors to more enjoyment.

They also are posing new law enforcement problems for state and local police and the State Conservation Department.

★ ★ ★

Some people drive them just for the excitement of zooming at speeds up to 60 miles an hour over snow-covered fields and through the woods of the northland.

They are catching on fast with hunters and fishermen.

The snowmobiles run on treads and are considered motor vehicles—which require licenses — by the Secretary of State's office.

So there is no accurate count of how many now are being operated in the state.

One dealer, however, estimated the number in the tens of thousands.

HIGH PRAISE

State Police and the State Conservation Department both operate and have high praise for the mobile little vehicles. But both admit they are bringing up new problems in law enforcement.

State Police Director Col. Fredrick Davids said northern posts have been authorized to buy or lease the snowmobiles. They have proved invaluable in rescue work during some of the blizzards that occasionally hit Northern Michigan, Davids reported.

Police have had to chase the snowmobiles off the highways.

"They are a real danger there — the same as the minibike," Davids said. "They are so low down on the road it is difficult for the driver to see them."

Cases already have been reported on snowmobiles and cars colliding. Like cars, they can be dangerous on lake ice. One carrying a family group of three went through the ice of Lake St. Clair. The mother was rescued but the father and daughter drowned.

Weekend Festival at Houghton Lake

Over 15,000 people are expected to attend the Tip-up Town Festival this weekend at Houghton Lake.

Although fishing will be the major attraction, other activities have been planned. there will be a village on the ice, parades, snowmobile races, ice sculpture and dancing.

There was some concern earlier than there wouldn't be sufficient ice for driving on the lake. But the recent cold spell has eliminated this problem.

TU Chapter Slates Meeting Jan. 25

Michigan's role as a leading sport fishing state will be the key point of discussion when Paul Young Chapter of Trout Unlimited holds its winter meeting Jan. 25 in Detroit.

Dr. Wayne Tody, chief of the Conservation Department's fish division, will discuss salmon fishing in Michigan. Sen. Gordon Rockwell, chairman of the Senate Conservation Committee, is listed among the speakers.

There will be a panel discussion on Michigan's fish management policy, possible changes and the role of trout and salmon anglers in formation of this policy.

Tickets for the meeting at the Harmonie Club can be obtained from H. M. Goodhue, Cadillac Motor Division, 2860 Clark, Detroit.

ON FILM — Cecil Rhode, veteran Alaskan wildlife photographer, brings the Wally Taber Safari Show to Walled Lake High School tomorrow at 8 p.m. Rhode's is shown holding a 47-pound lake trout that was caught while filming the Safari show. The program has been arranged by the Multi-Lakes Conservation Association and tickets will be available at the door.

Warm-Up Trial Set

A warm-up shooting dog trial for pointing breeds is scheduled Sunday at the Dixon farm near New Haven. It is sponsored by the German Shorthaired Pointer Club of Michigan.

Compatibility of Spacemen Important

By Science Service

ST. LOUIS — Some personality types should never be closed up together in a space capsule, according to a Navy experiment on 18 pairs of young sailors in boot camp.

★ ★ ★

Two dominant men, not surprisingly, cannot tolerate isolation with each other, found psychologists William W. Haythorn, director of behavioral sciences at the Naval Medical Research Institute and Irwin Altman, also with NMRI and a professor at American University in Washington, D. C.

Of the four pairs who broke out in fisticuffs, during their 10 days in a small room, were three pairs both high in dominance.

The second worst combination was a driving "go-getter" and one who was not.

★ ★ ★

In this case, the achiever viewed the other man as lazy, while he, in turn saw the achiever as an "eager beaver" bucking for promotion, said Drs. Haythorn and Altman.

★ ★ ★

The psychologists tested in different combinations four personality types — achievers, those with a need for affection. In each category, there was at least one incompatible combination.

Quake Recorded

HONG KONG (AP) — An earthquake described as intense was recorded at 8:50 p.m. Tuesday by the Royal Observatory seismographs, an observatory spokesman reported today.

★ ★ ★

The spokesman said the epicente, was estimated to be in the Pacific about 1,900 miles northeast of Hong Kong.

Trade Week's Heaviest

Stock Mart Rally Roars Along

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rally roared on early this afternoon. Trading was the week's heaviest.

The ticker tape ran four minutes late. Profits were taken on many recent gainers and some of the best early gains were sliced, but the market was still clearly ahead.

Gainers outnumbered losers at a ratio of about three-to-two as profit taking tripped up some early winners.

A bandwagon psychology was operating in Wall Street and many ordinary investors as well as institutions were climbing aboard the bull market, afraid that delay would cause them to miss out on the rise.

Behind the market was the slowly reversing money situation, now becoming easier even though interest rates remained high and money was still not as available as business would want.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point were scattered through many groups. Fractional gains were preponderant.

Prices were generally higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange. Esquire and Syntex gained about 3. Up a point or so were California Computer, Acme Missiles, Dome Petroleum, National Video and Simmonds Precision. Off about a point were Dennison and Louisiana Land. Solitron Devices lost a fraction.

Neutral Zones Ours--Israeli

Eshkol: Won't Discuss Control With Syria

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Israel today warned it would not discuss the sovereignty of disputed demilitarized zones when it meets with Syria to seek a cease-fire along their 48-mile border.

Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol said the zones were in Israeli territory.

No date or place has been set for the first meeting of the Israeli-Syrian Mixed Armistice Commission (MAC) since 1957.

Meeting informally yesterday, both sides agreed the format talks should deal only with arrangements for farming in the demilitarized zones, sites of almost daily armed clashes since Jan. 1.

★ ★ ★

Official Israeli sources said no difficulties were expected in drawing up an agenda. They warned Israel would leave the talks if Syria attempts to broaden them to include the status of the demilitarized zone.

The sources explained the thorny demilitarized zone issue was the reason Israel had refused to attend MAC meetings for the last 10 years.

Thief Takes $140 in Coins

A coin collection totaling $140 was reported stolen yesterday in the breaking and entering of a Commerce Township home.

William Keller of 1559 Robell told Oakland County sheriff's deputies all but $4 of the missing money was in change.

★ ★ ★

Entry was apparently made by reaching through a milk chute and opening a rear door, according to investigators.

$4,500 Blaze Hits House in Pontiac

A fire of undetermined origin yesterday caused an estimated $4,500 damage to a two-story frame house at 255 Osmun owned by Mrs. Florence Breckenridge. There were no injuries.

★ ★ ★

Three fire vehicles under the direction of Chief Charles Marion answered the alarm at 5:56 p.m. The blaze was extinguished in about 90 minutes.

Some $3,500 of the damage was to the building, the remainder to contents, including carpeting and furniture, firemen said.

Foe of Topless

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — State Sen. John D. Calandra says he will offer an amendment to the state's statutes that would prohibit topless waitresses. The Republican senator said "There can be no excuse for the topless waitress other than greed."

GOP District Meetings at Area School

Republicans in the 18th and 19th congressional districts of Oakland County will hold their spring conventions Jan. 31 at Walled Lake High School, 2978 S. Commerce, it was announced today.

The conventions, which will convene separately at 7:30 p.m., are for the purpose of electing delegates to the state spring convention, to be held at Cobo Hall in Detroit Feb. 24 and 25.

★ ★ ★

Delegates to the state convention are elected by the precinct delegates are apportioned by legislative district on the basis of the Republican vote for secretary of state in the last election.

The 18th congressional district will send 110 delegates to the state convention, and the 19th district will send 57.

Schools Ask Big Increase

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A near 50 per cent increase will be asked for Michigan's intermediate school districts, Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, said Tuesday.

Polley told intermediate school district administrators meeting at Grand Rapids that he will ask a budget increase from $2.25 million to $4.25 million for the 60 intermediate school districts.

Current state payments meet only about 30 per cent of the operating costs. This will up the state's share to about 50 per cent, Polley said.

Polley said an amendment would be proposed to remove an inequity of payment in the current intermediate district formula.

BOOST COLLEGE—William H. Coleman, vice president for planning and development of the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine in Pontiac, accepts a check for $4,800 for the general advancement of the school. Proceeds of a fashion show sponsored last fall by the Tri-County Osteopathic Women's Auxiliaries, the funds were presented yesterday by (from left) Mrs. Paul L. Ruza, Mrs. James Grekin, Mrs. Gary Bergman and Mrs. Allan Fox. Mrs Bergman, wife of a Detroit Red Wing hockey player, represented the wives of sports celebrities who modeled in the fashion show.

'Improvement' by Airport Firm

State Unit Plans New Look in 6 Months

Ruling that it now finds the safety and service performance of Airport Service Lines, Inc., adequate, the State Public Service Commission scheduled a new evaluation of the operation in six months.

The airport service firm, with headquarters in Pontiac, provides limousine service from Metropolitan and Willow Run airports to northern parts of the metropolitan area.

Commission Chairman John Tormey said a series of complaints from the public about the company's service led to commission hearings that ended two months ago.

Tormey noted that the firm had upgraded the quality of its performance in safety and service.

★ ★ ★

Louis Linteau, president of the Transportation company located at 615 E. Tennyson, said that the series of hearings spanned 15 weeks.

Linteau sad the hearings were based on 13 citations accumulated between 1959 and 1966. He termed the complaints minor in scope.

Three Steal $400 at City Station

Three men reportedly stole $400 from the cash register of a service station at 161 W. Huron last night.

Attendant Robert Pugh, 20, of 154 Lincoln told city police he was servicing a customer's car when the men entered the station. He said he discovered the theft as they drove away.

Boys' Club in Area Accepting Members

The Boys' Club of Waterford Township, which is currently conducting a revamped program at the Community Activities, Inc., building, 5640 Williams Lake, is now accepting membership registrations.

★ ★ ★

Boys, 8 to 18 years old, can register from 10 a.m. to noon Saturdays, 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays or when club activities are in progress at the CAI building, according to John H. Stefanski, president of the board of directors.

Cost of a one-year membership is $1, said Stefanski.

At a meeting last night, the board announced the club will offer seven activities at the outset of the program.

★ ★ ★

Scheduled from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. each Monday and Thursday is indoor hockey.

PROJECT DEVELOPMENT

Offered from 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays will be a project development program, consisting of mechanics, woodworking and electronics. Stefanski said a second session will be added.

Basketball will be available from 3:30 to 8 p.m. each Wednesday. From 9 to 11 a.m. Saturdays, air rifle target shooting will be conducted.

Archery is the seventh activity offered by the club, but no specific time has been set.

★ ★ ★

All activities will be held at the CAI building and will be under supervision.

Heiress Lost Aboard Plane

MIAMI (UPI) — Mrs. Audrey Bruce Currier, granddaughter of the late Andrew Mellon and one of the nation's wealthiest heiresses, was missing today with her husband on a flight between San Juan, Puerto Rico and St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands.

★ ★ ★

Two amphibious Coast Guard planes from San Juan began a search at dawn for Mrs. Currier and her husband, Stephen, who heads the private management firm of Currier & Co. in New York.

★ ★ ★

The couple left San Juan yesterday afternoon in a chartered single-engine piper Apache piloted by a man identified only as Mr. Watson and failed to arrive in St. Thomas, V.I., as scheduled. The Coast Guard said the Curriers were the only passengers on the plane.

Bridge Falls, Cars Plummet

ROME (UPI) — The automobiles purred along the Appian Way and onto the "bridge of suicides." Suddenly they vanished.

The central section of the 113-year-old Ariccia Bridge in the Alban Hills 16 miles south of Rome had collapsed last night.

At least two cars drove into the gap and plummeted nearly 200 feet to the valley below. The break in the bridge was virtually invisible in the darkness.

Firemen recovered two bodies. They said the cars were "rumpled like paper" and might contain other victims.

Truck Burns

THREE RIVERS (AP) — A tractor-trailer dumping scrap paper at the city land fill caught fire Tuesday. Damage was estimated at $2,000. Firemen said sparks from a nearby fire jumped to the scrap paper, igniting the truck. There was no injury.

Kelley Orders Building Firm Investigation

LANSING (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley today ordered a full scale investigation of the relationship of the Holloway Construction Co. and the State Highway Department.

There have been allegations that the firm has received excessive "overrun" payments from the department for road work.

The probe is closely related to a $1.2 million "overrun" payment being sought by the firm in the State Court of Claims, for a road-building job in Berrien County.

Kelley noted that the legal controversy between the department and the company has been the subject of "repeated questions, suspicions, innuendous and rumors for some five years."

★ ★ ★

Kelley said, "I have directed that a full scale investigation be undertaken of the allegations of wrongdoing in regard to this and related matters."

Princess Hits News With Short Skirt

LONDON (AP) — A member of Britain's royal family has finally appeared in public in a miniskirt. Well, almost a mini.

Princess Anne is the hem blazer.

Returning to Benenden School Tuesday, the queen's 16-year-old daughter wore a skirt at least two inches above her knees — some said it was as high as four — white net stockings, a military type jacket and boots.

★ ★ ★

"At least, a real royal fashion swinger," said the Daily Mirror.

"Swinging princess in the rocker look," exclaimed the Daily Mail.

"Her swinging highness goes back to school," said the Sun.

★ ★ ★

"The up-to-the-minute princess," headlined the Sketch.

Back at school today, Anne was wearing the Benenden uniform — straw hat, skirt below the knees and low-heeled shoes.

'Quake Shakes Siberian City

MOSCOW (UPI) — An earthquake shook the Siberian industrial city of Chita today, the Soviet news agency, Tass reported.

Tass said the earth tremor registed a force of 5 on the 12-point Mercalli scale. There was no report of damage or casualties.

★ ★ ★

The epicenter of the earthquake was said to be located in the Amur region where the tremor hit with a force of 7 to 8 points.

The latest population estimate of Chita, located on the Trans-Siberian Railroad about 3,000 miles east southeast of Moscow, was 150,000, according to a 1946 count.

The original Siamese twins were Chang and Eng Bunker who were born in 1811 in Siam (Thailand). They married the Yates sisters in 1843 and between them fathered 22 children.

White House Raves Greet 'Hello, Dolly'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Carol Channing got a kiss from President Johnson, her show "Hello, Dolly" got a birthday cake and the White House social season got off to a rollicking start Tuesday night.

There were cheers and hurrahs from the audience for a 30-minute performance of excerpts from the hit musical which provided Johnson with his 1964 campaign song, "Hello, Lyndon."

★ ★ ★

There were so many raves that Miss Channing told the President "Isn't it lovely. You don't have any critics here."

"We don't huh?" the President replied.

'BIG DADDY'

"Operation Big Daddy," Miss Channing called it, as she brought a touring troup of 25 to give the President his first chance to see the long-running musical.

The cast played the White House between stops at Greensboro, N.C., and Dayton, Ohio, where it is due today.

★ ★ ★

The show provided the after dinner entertainment at a black tie dinner the Johnsons gave in honor of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Chief Justice Earl Warren and House Speaker John W. McCormack.

Warren called the evening "great fun." Humphrey termed it "The best ever."

BLEW KISSES

As the show came to a close, Miss Channing, in her red-sequined and bejeweled satin gown with a huge red feathered hat on her tangerine-colored hair, waved and blew kisses to the 190 guests, including New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and threatrical personalities Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, Joan Crawford, Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and Marge and Gower Champion.

Then the White House staff wheeled up a six-tiered rose decorated cake with four candles to mark the start of the show's fourth year.

Miss Channing bubbled: "Dear Mr. President, we're all so touched — you knew we were coming."

"As I look at all your warm and friendly faces," she added, "I'm grateful to the Great Society — you sure know how to spread it around."

Chinese Feud Is Deadlocked

Red Leaders Unwilling to Force Showdown

TOKYO (AP) — Red China's feuding Communist leaders appeared deadlocked in their power struggle today with each unwilling to compromise or to force a showdown.

A week after Mao Tse-tung issued a virtual ultimatum to the followers of President Liu Shao-chi, there was every indication it had been ignored and that Mao's boast of support from the armed forces had not budged his opponents.

Mao's New China News Agency referred in one dispatch to "the bastions in which counter-revolutionary revisionism has entrenched itself" and refrained from proclaiming final victory over what it called the "latest counter attack" by Mao's opponents.

The Peking correspondent of the Japanese newspaper Yomiuri reported that the upheaval on the mainland seemed to have "passed its peak" and that tension was subsiding in Shanghai, Nanking, Peking and other cities.

CHANGED ATMOSPHERE

He credited the changed atmosphere to Mao's personal assumption of leadership.

But the available evidence pointed out a pause only.

In Shanghai, where Mao's official news outlets admitted anti-Mao strikes and sabotage had occurred, Liu's followers presumably were clinging to the municipal party apparatus.

Official organs for the past week charged that Shanghai party leaders had turned workers against Mao by promising them higher wages and better working conditions. But the dispatches did not say these leaders had been replaced. The implication was that they were holding on to their jobs.

It was doubtful that such a situation could continue long. Shanghai, a city of eight million, is the commercial hub of China. Industrial and commercial unrest there could poison the country's business life and compel Mao's faction to force a showdown there.

LIU UNDER ATTACK

So far it has not been able to do so or has not wanted to.

President Liu has been under attack in Red Guard wall posters for almost two months and in party cells for at least six months. That he and his followers have resisted the attacks for so long, and in a Communist state, testifies to their strength.

★ ★ ★

They appear to hold positions of such strength in the party that it seems to be more a case of Mao rebelling against them than their rising against him. Mao's supporters call themselves "revolutionary rebels."

★ ★ ★

One of the current targets of Red Guard posters is Marshal Chu Teh, the venerated 80-year-old father of the Chinese Red army. The Japanese Kyodo News Agency said he was attacked for the third day in a row, with a poster charging he had sought to undermine Mao for almost 40 years.

Pact Without U.S., Canada 'a Mistake'

ROME (AP) — NATO Secretary-General Manlio Brosio of Italy warned today against any European security pact excluding the United States and Canada.

Speaking at a ceremony marking the transfer of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's defense college from Paris to Rome, Brosio said that such a security arrangement "would just play into the hands of the Soviet Union and make it ultimately the arbiter and the master of Europe."

★ ★ ★

Brosio cited Moscow's proposal for a conference of European nations on European security and said without the participation of America and Canada, any security pact "would be for the free countries of Europe a fool's paradise."

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MOTHER and Grandmother, Ida Mae Witt, who passed away January 18, 1966.
God saw you getting weaker
So He did what He thought best
He came and stood beside you
And whispered come to rest.
You wished no one a last farewell
Not even to say goodby
You had gone before we knew it
And only God knows why.
Sadly missed by children and grandchildren.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ADA E. (Nell) Burder, who passed away Jan. 18, 1965.
Sadly missed by Dad, sisters and brothers and families.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF ADA Ellen Burder, who passed away January 18, 1965.
Nothing can every take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps her near.
Sadly missed by husband, sons and families.

Rebellion in the U.S. Is Seen

By DICK WEST
United Press International

WASHINGTON — There probably are only a handful of people outside Red China who really understand what is going on in that convulsive country.

And inside Red China, apparently, the number is even smaller.

WEST Dispatches from in and around the People's Republic make it clear that a campaign is under way to purge opponents of the great proletarian cultural revolution. Whatever that is.

It is likewise evident that a militant youth group called the Red Guard is attempting to enforce the thoughts of Mao. Whatever they are.

But beyond this point, the situation becomes confusing. And small wonder.

★ ★ ★

Most of the information on the extent of un-Mao thinking comes from wall posters that appear in great numbers in Peking and other Chinese cities.

LIKE U.S. POSTERS?

I have never seen a Chinese poster but if they are anything like American posters they couldn't be of much help to anyone trying to figure out which way the fortune cookie crumbles.

Suppose that a foreign journalist came to the United States and began writing dispatches based on what he saw on posters. They might read something like this:

"WASHINGTON — The Great Society cultural revolution in America appears to be either gaining or losing ground, depending on how one interprets the thoughts of Lyndon.

★ ★ ★

"Much depends on whether the movement is being supported or opposed by a militant youth group known as 'The Dodge Boys.' This correspondent has seen many posters urging Americans to 'Join the Dodge Rebellion.'

"Although no reports of armed clashes have been received here, the Dodge Boys obviously are engaged in an ideological struggle with a more conservative faction called "Tareyton Smokers."

"Both capital and countryside are plastered with posters bespeaking the Tareyton group's determination to fight rather than switch.

"Thus far it is unclear which — or, indeed, if either—faction is in harmony with the thoughts of Lyndon.

"Posters of any type are theoretically in conflict with the Lady Birdification program which has been a prominent part of the Great Society cultural revolution.

"The picture is further complicated by posters in some areas reading: 'You don't have to be Jewish to love Levy's rye bread.' This has a conciliatory tone that may, in the long run, be significant."

Frosh Norms Are Compiled

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — More than 15 per cent of U.S. college freshmen said they participated in organized demonstrations last year—almost as many as said they smoked regularly (16.6 per cent).

These two not necessarily related facts emerged from a vast army of facts collected on last year's freshmen by the American Council on Education, whose goal is to compile national norms on the educational and career plans, attitudes and behavior of college students.

Somewhat surprisingly, freshmen at public universities were least active in demonstrations, while those at Catholic colleges were most active, the council discovered.

It also found that 63.5 per cent of the total one-million-plus freshmen attended church regularly, 53.5 drank beer, and 20.6 admitted to cheating on exams.

Dog Saves Family From Home Blaze

MARION, Ind. (AP) — A canine alarm that wouldn't be turned off saved four members of a Grant County family from possible death in a fire.

James Davidson said his great Dane, Spike, came into his bedroom barking and whining Tuesday, but he pushed the dog away. He said Spike then hit him in the face with his tail until Davidson got up.

★ ★ ★

The house was full of smoke. Davidson woke up his wife and they and their two small children fled to a neighbor's home. Fire destroyed the Davidson house within a short time.

Bomb Wrecks Detroit Laundry

DETROIT (AP) — A bomb shattered windows and caused extensive damage to a Detroit self-service laundry Tuesday, but no one was injured.

Joseph R. Siciliano of Dearborn, owner of the laundry, said he had no idea why his business was bombed.

Police said bomb fragments would be analyzed.

$9-Million Pay Hike Sought

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's major city employes' union asked for a $9-million pay hike Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

The wage demand was made by Council 77 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO. The union claims to represent 10,000 of the city's 26,500 employes.

★ ★ ★

With $15-million wage boosts already sought by policemen and firemen, Al Legatt, the city's labor relations director, predicted all demands for municipal pay increases could total $33 million.

Manpower Funds

SAULT SAINTE MARIE (AP) — The federal government has granted $28,265 to War Memorial Hospital under the Manpower Development Training Act to be used for a nurses aide and orderly training program. The Michian Employment Security Commission will administer the program to train 120 persons.

Robbery Suspect Admits Intoxication

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Bryce A. Sabourin, 43, Rose City, Mich., held on a robbery charge, pleaded guilty in City Court Tuesday to public intoxication and was sentenced to jail for 30 days.

A hearing on the robbery charge was continued pending filing of a federal bank robbery charge.

Police arrested Sabourin shortly after the First Federal Savings and Loan Institution was robbed of $3,500 Monday. He was held under $50,000 bond.

Friends Pour Tribute on Joe at His 65th Birthday Party

By EARL WILSON

MIAMI BEACH — Comedian Joe E. Lewis, on his 65th birthday, looked around Jilly's South at all the 25 Go-Go Girls and the liquor bottles, and said to his host, Frank Sinatra, "This is a helluva way to start me off on Medicare!"

WILSON

Sinatra and his bride Mia Farrow were giving Joe E. a testimonial party for 150 people, which included Mia presenting Joe E. with a garnet birthstone ring. Frank, in a short talk, said that comedian Lewis was one of his greatest friends, after which Joe E. told Mia, "Tell him to stop praying to himself."

Jackie Gleason, in a brocade dinner jacket, attended the festivities, but left after an hour because he had three poodles to sit with—so he said.

Then there were Fred Brisson, Jos Kipness, Monte Proser, Denny Phipps, Jack Entratter, jockies Johnny Sellers and Con Errico, Ben Marden, Judge Abe Marovitz of Chicago, Dean Martin's daughter Gail, Joe Namath, photographer Bill Mark, Seymour Weiss of New Orleans and Skinny D'Amato of Atlantic City, Harry Stevens, Sheila MacRae, Mickey Hayes and Joe E.'s girl friend Lynn Palmer.

Sinatra went so far as to sing some special material songs for Joe E., with the guests making jokes about both after each stanza.

Frank walked around among the tables at the restaurant, talking to the guests, and mentioning that he hopes to be in New York in mid-summer for his picture, "The Detective." Mia said she doesn't anxiously await any films in Europe, "because I don't want to leave my fella," but that she'd be interested if he could make more suitable production arrangements.

Sinatra introduced his bride around to many of his old-time friends who hadn't met her previously. He seemed to be tweaking her cheek and bestowing affection in various ways, all of which she seemed to enjoy.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Sidney Lumet may not direct the "Funny Girl" film following a "difference of interpretations" with producer Ray Stark . . . The Crystal Room celebrated its court victory by rushing the topless waitresses back to work, along with the topless show. (Pat LaSorsa—"Miss Simmer Down"—who'd been a stripper there the night before, is now a waitress. The owner says, "She's very versatile").

★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A wedding ring is a small hoop through which the biggest man can be made to jump.

EARL'S PEARLS: An out-of-town visitor said, "New York's a nice place to visit—but I wouldn't want to breathe here."

Marty Ingels signed for seven appearances on the Phyllis Diller TV'er, says she's "a beautful person, inside." She answers, "Leave it to me to be born inside out" . . . That's earl, brother.

Percy Slaying Still Has No 'Hot' Suspect

KENILWORTH, Ill. (AP) — The chief of police, a courteous, soft-spoken man, fingered his bow tie and considered the question. "We don't," he said, "have what we could call a real hot suspect."

★ ★ ★

That is the status of the search for the murderer of 21-year-old Valerie Percy, five months after the fact.

★ ★ ★

"There are more than 1,000 items of physical evidence in this case," said Police Chief Robert Daley in an interview. "There are some items we regard as clues. But there is nothing we think of as a real good lead."

Snow splotches the two acres of lawn around the $200,000 mansion where a killer bludgeoned and knifed to death Valerie Percy last Sept. 18.

There are no other surface changes at the home of Valerie's father, millionaire Charles H. Percy, now a U.S. senator, or in Kenilworth, a Chicago enclave for the very rich on the shore of Lake Michigan.

Occasionally, Chief Daley, commuting 55 miles each morning to his job, drives past the 17-room limestone mansion, set off from the main road by its private drive. Trees and hedges form a covering maze for the house, named Windward.

For Daley and for his 14-man force there is another kind of maze involving Windward — one formed by the massive file of information on the unsolved slaying of Valerie Percy.

On Sept. 17, Daley, a 34-year veteran of the force, seven years its chief, was planning retirement, approved by the Village Board for Nov. 1.

★ ★ ★

But in the murky dawn of the following Sunday morning, an intruder cut his way through a patio door of Windward, crept upstairs and killed the blue-eyed, 5-foot-6 Valerie, whose father then was the Republican candidate for the Senate.

Networks Eye GOP Rebuttal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are getting a mixed reaction from networks to their request that the GOP rebuttal to President Johnson's State of the Union message be televised and broadcast live.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen and House GOP leader Gerald R. Ford are to speak at 9:30 p.m. EST Thursday night.

The American Broadcasting Co. said Tuesday its network will give the Republicans 30 minutes of time at 11:30 p.m., but added "We are not giving this time in rebuttal. It is unrelated so far as obligation to the State of the Union."

The Columbia Broadcasting System said it met its responsibilities by giving the GOP a half-hour program Monday night. CBS said it would film and record Thursday night's presentation for possible use on newscasts.

The National Broadcasting Co. said it is still negotiating with the Republicans for a broadcast time.

Mutual Broadcasting System said its radio stations would carry the message live and in full.

Congress Urged: Curb Auto Master Key Sales

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The president of the National Automobile Theft Bureau said today car thieves are using master keys easily purchased through the mails.

Michael J. Murphy, in testimony prepared for delivery before the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee, called for a federal law prohibiting "the discriminate sale of master keys in interstate commerce."

Murphy said, "interrelated federal and state laws making it illegal to sell, possess, or receive master keys unless they are for legitimate users is the key to halting the growing master key problem."

He testified as the subcommittee moved into its second day of hearings on the problem of auto theft. The Justice Department said yesterday it also was considering legislation to regulate the sale of master keys.

Murphy said mail order firms in Pennsylvania, Maryland, Florida and California solicit sales of master keys by direct mail and through advertisements in national magazines.

"The ads state that the sets are for legitimate use only, but we have found that nearly anyone can obtain complete sets with ease," he said.

He said members of his staff, listing their home addresses, purchased the master keys without trouble.

"We have no figures to support our contention that a growing number of thieves are also among the customers, but our agents and the police with whom we work point to a rising number of stolen cars recovered which show no signs of forcible entry, an increasing number of cars stolen from once comparatively safe parking lots and garages, and frequent arrest of persons in possession of master keys," Murphy said.

★ ★ ★

He said the bureau has been successful in recent years in getting car manufacturers to make it as difficult as possible for car thieves.

Congress Is Likely to Vote Any Viet Funds

MAKE OVER PAGES

. WASHINGTON (AP) — Initial reaction to President Johnson's announcement that he will seek a $73-billion defense budget indicates Congress will vote any funds needed to finance the war in Vietnam.

But requests for military spending not related directly to the war could run into tough opposition.

Johnson told a news conference Tuesday night that his requests for defense spending in the fiscal year beginning next July 1 will total $73 billion—an increase of about $5 billion over the current level.

He also disclosed he soon will ask Congress for a $9.4 billion supplemental defense appropriation for the current fiscal year.

At the peak of World War II, defense spending totaled about $88 billion a year. The Korean war peak topped $59 billion.

'NO TROUBLE'

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., a member of the Armed Services Committee, said in an interview the proposed defense budget "might be scrutinized a little closer than usual but I don't think there will be any trouble getting support for the war."

Stennis singled out military construction projects as an example of spending that might get a closer look.

Another Democratic member of the Armed Services Committee, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, said congressional action on the over-all defense budget will "depend on the justification" the administration presents but added he expects war spending requests to be approved. He noted that Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara goes before the panel in closed session next Monday to start outlining the administration's case.

ANTIMISSILE DEFENSE

One Republican member of the committee, Sen. Jack R. Miller of Iowa, said that as long as Johnson justifies his requests for Vietnam spending, "I would anticipate that he would have no particular problem in getting them."

But Stennis and Miller said any request for funds for an antimissile defense system could touch off controversy.

"This antimissile missile matter is going to be a large item in controversy," Stennis said. "Heretofore I've supported large amounts but I think it ought to be carefully examined this year."

Mercury Dips to 3 Below in City

Deep Freeze Is Gripping Middle U.S.

By The Associated Press

Arctic air put a hammerlock on a giant stretch of the nation's midsection today as the winter's worst cold wave spread from New England to the Rockies and headed south.

Temperatures of 20 below and lower were common throughout the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Department stores in Milwaukee, Wis., reported a run on gloves and earmuffs yesterday.

A 20-mile wind, coupled with zero temperatures "just blew the heat right out of the buildings" according to a spokesman for the Wisconsin Gas Co.

POWER FAILURE

In Chicago, some 3,800 families were without electricity early this morning when a power line snapped on the Northwest Side. The accident was blamed on the cold weather by the Commonwealth Edison Co. The temperature dropped to 10 below at O'Hare International Airport.

Residents of 1,000 homes in the Chicago suburbs of Oakbrook, Villa Park and Elmhurst also were without power last night.

Sudden snow squalls lashed at the southeastern tips of Lakes Erie and Ontario causing locally hazardous driving conditions.

In Michigan yesterday, it took four diesel power units to haul the Milwaukee Road's three-car Copper Country Limited to the end of the rail line at Calumet, Mich. Two of the diesels were disabled plowing their way through snow from Chicago.

Cold and snow closed many schools throughout the state. At Pentwater, in western Michigan, Doris Lundberg took in seven children stranded when a school bus stalled in drifts Monday night.

A wave of bitter cold air sweeping in from the Arctic Circle during early morning hours plunged temperatures in downtown Pontiac to 3 below zero, the coldest day of the season. There is little relief in sight.

Temperatures dipped to 20 below zero in parts of Upper Michigan last night and ranged from 5 above to 12 below in Lower Michigan.

GMC Proving Grounds in Milford reported 7 below, and 4 below was reported at Pontiac Municipal Airport, Clarkston and Romeo.

The outlook for today and tomorrow showed little change, the U. S. Weather Bureau said.

Temperatures are expected to be 4 to 12 above in Lower Michigan today with a low tonight of 2 to 6 below zero in the Pontiac area.

CHANCE OF SNOW

There's a chance of snow or snow flurries tomorrow.

Friday's outlook is for fair and continued frigid weather.

Today's northwesterly to west winds at 8 to 18 miles per hour will diminish to southwesterly at 5 to 12 miles tonight.

The cold front, product of a marriage between arctic air and a gale—force northwesterly wind, moved into Michigan early Monday.

Utica Rejects Renewal Plan

Property owners of the Macomb County city of Utica yesterday rejected by the narrow margin of 68 votes a federally financed urban renewal project. The vote was 283 to 215 against the renewal project.

Proposed as a cure for the ills which have beset its 1.2 square miles, urban renewal would have cost Utica's 3,000 residents $300,000.

The $300,000 figure represents a fourth of the total project cost estimated at $1.2 million which would have turned the old downtown business district into a mall-type shopping center.

Centrally located between two fast-growing municipalities — Shelby Township and the new city of Sterling Heights — Utica has shown little sign of progress.

Stanley Swierczynski, urban renewal director, said he doubted another presentation for federal aid would be made in the near future.

REHABILITATION

If renewal ever comes to Utica, Swierczynski feels it will be on a smaller scale and more than likely through rehabilitation rather than rebuilding.

He said that of the $80,000 survey and planning grant, received from the Federal government, the city has spent all but about $15,000.

Had the vote been favorable, the original grant would have been included as part of the project and split on a three-fourths to one-fourth basis with Utica bearing the lesser share, Swierczynski said.

★ ★ ★

"As it now stands Utica won't have to repay the money," he added, "but the debt will be held in abeyance to be charged off on some future federal project involving the city."

ZOLTON FERENCY

Dem Leader Gets Support of Cavanagh

DETROIT (AP) — Democratic State Chairman Zolton A. Ferency, who says he hasn't decided whether to run for reelection, got some support from Mayor Jerome Cavanagh of Detroit yesterday.

The two men met for an hour in the mayor's office.

"My favorite candidate is the present state chairman," said Cavanagh.

Ferency, who lost a bid for the governorship to Republican Gov. George Romney in November, said he has talked to other Democrats around Michigan in seeking support for a third term.

★ ★ ★

"I've talked with labor leaders, farmers, union people and a lot of others," said Ferency.

MEET FEB. 18

Democrats meet Feb. 18 in Grand Rapids for their annual convention and selection of a state chairman is among the items to be decided.

Before their meeting, Cavanagh told newsmen: "I don't know it he (Ferency) is a candidate . . . he made a good race for governor . . . I have great respect for him and consider myself a friend."

Ferency said a candidate for the chairmanship would need a month to campaign for the $22,000-a-year post.

N. Viets Put Bomb Targets in Populous Areas---Wheeler

WASHINGTON (AP) — The almost-daily U.S. bombing of North Vietnam apparently is forcing the enemy to disperse more of its antiaircraft batteries and key supply depots among heavily populated areas, reports Gen. Earle G. Wheeler.

"This is a rough game," the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said last night, "particularly if the targets happen to be antiaircraft batteries. If it's only a few barrels of oil, it doesn't make much difference."

Wheeler, who returned Friday from a week-long inspection trip to Vietnam, said "there seems to be a growing trend in this direction."

He added that the North Vietnamese know "our policy is not to attack populated areas per se."

★ ★ ★

TRIBUTE

On the other hand, Wheeler said the enemy's efforts amount to a tribute to the effectiveness of U.S. bombing, which he praised as an "integral and indispensable part of our operations against the North Vietnamese."

"The effectiveness of our air campaign is made increasingly clear by enemy propaganda complaints," the nation's top general said in a speech to a dinner meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society.

"And now to escape it, and to seek more propaganda fuel, he appears to be placing his own population into hostage."

Wheeler's remarks apparently were aimed at the controversy that flared over U.S. bombing attacks on the Hanoi area last Dec. 13 and 14.

Communist news agencies charged that more than 100 civilians were killed or injured in the raids and U.S. officials placed two key targets off-limits.

In a related development, President Johnson announced he will ask Congress for a $73 billion defense budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, about $5 billion over the current level.

Current spending will be increased by $9.4 billion under a supplemental appropriations request soon going to Capitol Hill, Johnson said.

JP Dismisses Pratt Charges

'Attorneys, Too, Have Constitutional Rights'

Charges brought against a Southfield attorney by grand juror Philip Pratt in October were dismissed yesterday by Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace Alice Gilbert.

★ ★ ★

The decision was made at the preliminary court examination of Frank E. Holtzman, who had been accused of perjury and obstructing justice.

Mrs. Gilbert ruled that "attorneys, too, have constitutional rights" and that those of Holtzman were violated when he wasn't advised of his right to have legal counsel when he appeared before Pratt.

Since he was not advised, Holtzman's testimony before Pratt on which the perjury charge was based was not admissible and could not be considered, according to Gilbert.

★ ★ ★

She also agreed with Holtzman's attorney, Herbert Magnusson of Waterford Township, that the indictment charging ob-

Judiciary Unit Dems to Judge Powell

WASHINGTON (AP) — The panel that decides on Adam Clayton Powell's qualifications to be a member of Congress apparently will include five Democrats from the House Judiciary Committee.

★ ★ ★

Speaker John W. McCormack, who has had trouble finding members willing to serve on the special Powell panel, reportedly has decided to select five Democratic members from the Judiciary Committee.

In refusing to seat Powell last week, the House voted to create a committee of five Democrats and four Republicans to investigate Powell's qualifications and recommend within five weeks whether he be seated or expelled.

McCormack said Tuesday he had decided who the Democratic members would be, but would not announce their appointments until the Republicans named their representatives.

★ ★ ★

Republican leaders, busy with their rival State of the Union message to be delivered tomorrow night, had not gotten around to selecting their committee members Tuesday. There was no indication they would follow McCormack's lead and name Judiciary Committee members.

ADAM CLAYTON POWELL

The Judiciary Committee is composed of lawyers and includes experts in constitutional law, which is liable to figure prominently in the Powell investigation.

The House, in holding up Powell's seating, is acting under its constitutional authority to judge its own members' fitness.

The Judiciary Committee also has helped produce all the recent civil rights bills, which would tend to neutralize any complaint Powell might make that he is being treated unfairly because he is a Negro.

The chairman of the Judiciary Committee, and expected to be chairman of the special Powell committee, is Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y. Celler is dean of the House and is now serving his 23rd term.

Celler took an active part in the House debate last Tuesday, urging that Powell be seated while his qualifications were investigated.

Premier, Wife Tour Capital

Aussie Jeers Greet Ky

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) — With miniskirted demonstrators chanting "one-two-three, go home, Ky," South Vietnam's premier charmed his way into Australia's capital today and pacified a news conference of tough and at times hostile questioners.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and his wife arrived in Canberra for a nine-day visit to Australia and New Zealand during which members of the opposition Labor party have pledged to stage demonstrations aginst the war and his visit.

Fielding every question at the news conference with smiling urbanity, Ky:

1. Insisted that his visit was not to bolster his regime but to thank the people of Australia for their sacrifices in behalf of his country.

2. Denied that Adolf Hitler was his hero, that he had ever fought for the Vichy regime in France—"I was only 12 years old"— or that he had ever taken part in the Algerian war for France.

3. Reaffirmed his intention to visit the United States after the Constituent Assembly finishes writing a constitution for South Vietnam. He said the trip would probably be at the end of this year.

4. Said he has no objection to the Vietcong's National Liberation Front participating in negotiations to end the Vietnamese war "so long as they are part of the Hanoi delegation."

PROTEST VISIT

Some 700 trade unionists and students turned out to protest Ky's visit with placards denouncing him as a Fascist, a killer and "baby burner."

"Waterside workers say keep killer Ky out," read a typical placard waved by the demonstrators.

★ ★ ★

Some of the demonstrators tried to bait the hundreds of extra police called on duty by waving Vietcong flags in their faces, but the tough Aussie cops stood their ground. There were no incidents.

Accompanied by his beautiful wife, Tuyet Mai, the premier was whisked about the city at such speed that he was barely cognizant of any public opposition.

MILD, ORDERLY

By Saigon standards, the demonstrations were mild and orderly. Many of the anti-Ky forces wore the international uniform of protest—beards, sandals, blue jeans and sweat shirts. Standing under the eucalyptus trees waving their banners of protest and chanting, they might have been transplanted en masse to the Berkeley Campus in California without changing their lines or their garb.

Prosecution Nearly Done in Baker Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government aims to finish presenting its evidence today against Bobby Baker.

Baker, former secretary to Senate Democrats, is accused of income tax evasion, larceny, larceny after trust, interstate transportation of stolen money and conspiracy. His defense will offer its side after the prosecution concludes in the U.S. District Court trial.

★ ★ ★

Wayne L. Bromley, a former Baker associate, admitted from the witness stand Tuesday that in preliminary investigations he lied to the FBI, Internal Revenue Service, Senate investigators, agents of the comptroller general and a grand jury.

"Have you been indicted for these false statements?" cried out Boris Kostelanetz, one of Baker's lawyers.

NOT INDICTED

"Unless it's happened in the last couple of days, sir, not to my knowledge," replied Bromley.

Bromley and Baker were former fellow Senate pages, went to the same law school and were fraternity brothers. Bromley became a lobbyist and remained a close associate of Baker for years.

★ ★ ★

He earlier testified that thousands of dollars from freight forwarders, Las Vegas financial interests and others were channeled through him to Baker.

He said under cross-examination Tuesday that he said falsely in the preliminary investigations that he knew nothing of Baker's financial affairs.

SPLIT FEE

Bromley testified that he split 50-50 with Baker a $5,000 fee for expediting a charter for the Redwood National Bank, San Rafael, Calif. But he testified that in the preliminary investigations he said Baker got no part of the money.

Briton: Found Secret Papers

LONDON (UPI) — A member of the staff of the London Times said yesterday he had found documents relating to U.S. guided missiles scattered on the sidewalk in a London suburb.

It said the documents, some of which were marked "secret," were charred as if an attempt had been made to burn them.

The Times said it turned the papers over to the British Ministry of Defense.

struction of justice was improperly drafted.

TOOK NOTICE

In dismissing the case against Holtzman, 47, of 22411 Twyckingham, Mrs. Gilbert said she also took notice that he was not summoned in the normal manner to appear before the grand jury.

"He wasn't subpoenaed, just merely asked," she said.

Holtzman, who has his law office in the Cadillac Tower, Detroit, was among the first three persons to be indicted by Pratt in his second judicial probe.

Charles J. Porter, special state attorney assigned to the grand jury, said it has not been decided whether or not charges will be reinstated against Holtzman, or if Justice Gilbert's decision will be appealed.

AF Orbits 8-in-1 Rocket for Communication Network

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Air Force today launched eight satellites into space with a single rocket, aiming to weave a communications network around the globe to speed military messages between far-flung outposts. Emphasis will be on traffic between Washington and Vietnam.

A Titan 3 rocket blasted away from Cape Kennedy at 9:19 a.m. on the thundering burst of 2.4 million pounds of thrust. The Defense Department's most powerful booster was to hurl the satellites into separate orbits, stringing them like a pearl necklace around the equator at an altitude of 21,000 miles.

★ ★ ★

An Air Force spokesman reported the early phases of the flight were successful.

"It's moving out very nicely," he reported. "All systems are performing. It's on time and on the line."

IN ORBIT

Eight minutes after launching, the control center reported the upper stage of the Titan, called the transtage, had settled with its payload attached into an initial orbit about 100 miles above the earth.

About six hours after launching, spring devices were to kick the eight satellites free one by one so they gradually would drift apart to encircle the globe.

★ ★ ★

The 100-pound satellites were to join seven others launched by a Titan 3 last June. The first seven are relaying traffic through eight ground stations, including two in Vietnam.

The eight new satellites were scheduled to become operational next summer after testing.

ADVANTAGE

"Satellite communications give the military a great flexibility," said Col. Mitchel Goldenthal, commander of the Army Satellite Communications Agency, "especially in the type of war like Vietnam, where a brigade- or division-size group becomes an island of resistance."

★ ★ ★

"In such a case you want high reliability that you'll get your information through. You want tough, reliable communications. That's what satellites can provide. They are not affected by weather, sunspots or other propagations."

Fire Chief Warns

Use Extra Care in Heating

With temperatures hovering around zero, greater demands are being placed on home heating devices.

Dozens of house fires are caused each winter by the careless use of furnaces and heaters and Pontiac Fire Chief James R. White has urged extra caution as the key to safety.

He cited good housekeeping as "90 per cent of the battle in preventing heating fires."

Clean, well-maintained equipment, including chimneys and flues, is the safest kind, he pointed out.

★ ★ ★

Most of the fires in hot air heating are caused by closing registers which are on short leads from the furnace, he said. "This," he explained, "brings a buildup of heat in the lead, which can ignite partitions."

COAL FURNACES

He suggested that people with coal furnaces store the ashes in metal containers and urged continuous inspection of wiring in electrically heated homes.

"I also want to warn people with portable space heaters against fueling them while they're ignited," he added. "This is a most dangerous practice."

★ ★ ★

His list of general rules for all types of heating devices included keeping heaters away from flammable materials, keeping the devices clean and in top working condition and inspecting them often and carefully.

Vietcong Stronghold Raked by Fire Bombs

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — High-flying B52 bombers rained tons of fire bombs on Communist War Zone D today in an attempt to burn Viet Cong hideouts in triple canopy jungles 32 miles northeast of Saigon.

A U.S. military spokesman who observed the unusual incendiary bomb raid from a helicopter said "it looked just like the Fourth of July."

He said the huge eight-engine Stratoforts, flying out of sight at 30,000 feet, made 10 passes over a 30-square-mile area of the D Zone which the Viet Cong reportedly used for base camps and infiltration routes.

A few miles to the west of the zone, U.S. forces reported killing 20 more Viet Cong in Operation Cedar Falls in the "Iron Triangle" 20 to 30 miles north of Saigon. U.S. troops also uncovered a grave with 19 enemy bodies, and a spokesman placed the Communist death toll at 495 since the operation began Jan. 8.

SUCCESSFUL RAIDS

Only small, scattered ground fighting was reported elsewhere, but U.S. headquarters announced successful results from stepped-up air raids over North Vietnam Tuesday.

The headquarters said the Thai Nguyen railroad yard 40 miles north of Hanoi was heavily damaged by 16 flights of F105 Thunderchiefs bombers which pummelled the sprawling yard for eight hours.

3 Join Staff of County's Prosecutor

They are Charles B. Woodruff, 33, of Birmingham; Alexander B. McGarry, 26, of Royal Oak; and Bruce T. Leitman, 26, of Ann Arbor.

Woodruff is a former insurance claims adjuster and law clerk for William L. Cahalan, recently named Wayne County prosecutor. McGarry had been in the labor relations department of Ford Motor Co. Leitman was a law research assistant at the University of Michigan.

Bronson said two others will soon join his staff, Arnold J. Shifman, 32, brother of Oak Park Municipal Judge Burton R. Shifman, and Dennis Donohue, 26, research clerk for Michigan Supreme Court Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Bronson's chief aide, Thomas Plunkett had been Kavanagh's clerk before becoming an assistant prosecutor in January 1965.

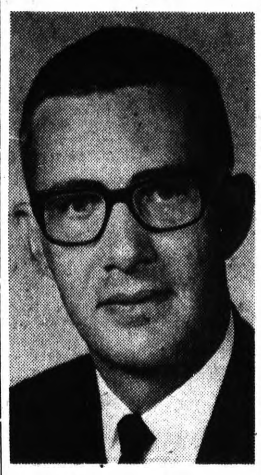
Other officers are scheduled to be elected at the next monthly meeting.

3 Quintuplets Die in Germany

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP) — Three of the quintuplets born Tuesday to a German woman who had been given fertility injections died during the night, a spokesman for the Duesseldorf University Clinic reported today.

Prof. Gustav Adolf von Harnach, head of the children's clinic, said the survival chances of the other two infants were "extremely minimal."

They were being given artificial respiration, he said.



DUANE K. SANFORD

Township Spokesman Mum on Any Reasons

An interim supervisor on the threshold of beginning a new term has resigned with no reason being made public.

Duane K. Sanford, 32-year-old supervisor of West Bloomfield Township, has submitted a letter of resignation effective last Monday, the township clerk's office admitted today.

However, the spokesman for the clerk's office said no other information is being made public. The Township Board is scheduled to meet at 8 tonight.

Sanford of 5535 Wild Ridge has served as supervisor since John C. Rehard resigned last July. Running as a Republican, Sanford was elected to a full term in last November's election. The term would have begun in April.

★ ★ ★

He was unavailable for comment.

Sanford defeated his Democratic opponent Hugh L. Freeman of 3253 N. Elder, 4,469 to 2,022, last November.

POLL WINNERS

Two incumbent Republican trustees were also winners at the polls last fall as all available offices were filled by Republicans.

Draft Deferment Tests Set at 15 State College Sites

LANSING (UPI) — Fifteen college sites were named yesterday by the State Selective Service for students to take college draft deferment qualification tests in March and April.

Students who successfully pass the tests receive favorable consideration when the Selective Service issues college deferments. Class standing and grades are other major considerations.

Application forms for the tests are available at all Michigan local Selective Service board offices.

The tests will be given March 11, March 31 and April 8 at the 15 sites. Applications to take the test must be in by Feb. 10.

★ ★ ★

A student's deferment is reviewed each year by the Selective Service.

TEST SITES

The tests will be given in Ann Arbor, Berrien Springs, Dearborn, Detroit, East Lansing, Flint, Grand Rapids, Houghton, Kalamazoo, Marquette, Mount Pleasant, Saginaw, Sault Ste. Marie, Traverse City and Ypsilanti.

There are about 50,000 Michigan college men who have deferments compared with about 60,000 at this time a year ago.

Birmingham Area News

School Bus Report Cites High Cost of Expansion

BIRMINGHAM — A report on proposed expansion of the school bus system indicates it would almost double the cost of service.

The report was submitted to the board of education at last night's meeting.

It shows bus service cost $290,000 for the 1965-66 year and that an expanded program would add $275,000.

The proposed expansion of service would provide transportation for:

- All students from kindergarten to third grade, including those in the city, from one-half mile, added cost $164,898.
- City secondary students one mile away, $74,731.
- Junior high students, including city, 1¼ miles away, $15,811.
- Late bus for secondary schools, $19,637.

The report estimates about 60 more buses would have to be purchased. None of the added cost of operation would be provided for through reimbursement by the state, it was indicated.

TO BE CONSIDERED

The state reimburses for transportation outside the city limits only, for those elementary pupils one mile or more away, and for secondary pupils over 1½ miles away.

The board will consider the report along with the 1967-68 school budget this spring.

The board also heard a report on the problem of obtaining teachers for the district.

Kenneth Magley, director of personnel, indicated a continuing shortage exists in teachers for arts, music, crafts, etc., and for students needing special instruction.

"The supply of candidates in these areas is extremely limited . . . Although our announcement of vacancies has been widespread, we have had very little response," he reported.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Bids received by the board of education on construction of a swimming pool at Andover High were about $50,000 over estimates.

Total cost of project had been placed at $760,000. The board decided to meet with their architects to revise plans and attempt to allow construction to begin within 30 days.

Bids on an 18-room addition to West Hills School are to be called for Feb. 10.

Southerner Faces 3 Charges Following Shooting Fracas

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — A man, subject of an all-night stake-out after he fired rifle shots from his home, was arrested today without resistance.

Robert Elrod, 30, was taken into custody by police as he and his wife drove to work.

He was charged with drunken driving, resisting arrest and threatening the life of an officer.

TRAFFIC CHARGE

About 15 deputy sheriffs, highway patrolmen and agents of the state law enforcement division surrounded Elrod's house Tuesday night after he fired rifle shots when an officer tried to arrest him on a traffic charge.

Officers tried to persuade Elrod to come out. When he refused, all but four left. The four deputies set up a watch.

Mrs. Elrod told police today that Elrod had gone to bed around midnight and slept most of the night.

Mrs. Elrod, when questioned by newsmen after the arrest of her husband, asked: "What is all the fuss about?"

No attempt was made to enter the house and take Elrod, officers said, for fear residents of the heavily populated area and Elrod's wife and children, aged 3 and 4, might be harmed.

Police said a highway patrolman chased Elrod's car off U.S. 1 about 11 p.m. and onto the street where Elrod lives.

★ ★ ★

Elrod stopped the car near his home, officers said, left the vehicle and ran into the house. As the patrolman approached, police said, Elrod appeared on the porch and fired shots from an automatic rifle.

W. Bloomfield Mail Taken; Teens Held

Three 17-year-old youths from Royal Oak are being held in Oakland County Jail, charged with stealing the contents of about 30 mailboxes in West Bloomfield Township.

The trio was arrested yesterday afternoon after an automobile chase in which township officers were assisted by Orchard Lake police and sheriff's deputies.

★ ★ ★

The mailboxes raided were in the West Acres Subdivision area, Commerce and Hiller. A quantity of mail was recovered in the suspects' car.

Possible federal charges are pending against the youths.

AF Still Investigating Michigan UFO Pictures

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The Air Force is continuing its investigation of photographs taken in Michigan last week of what appears to be an unidentified flying object, but has come to no conclusions, officers said Tuesday.

Spokesmen in Project Blue Book at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, the agency which investigates UFO reports, said they still had not viewed the original photographs taken last week near Selfridge Air Force Base near Mount Clemens, Mich.

Two boys took photographs of a hamburger-shaped object with a projection at one end. Wright-Patterson officers have been studying copies of the photographs, but have said they cannot make proper measurement evaluations or reach any definite conclusions until they look at the original prints.

Meanwhile, Dr. J. Allen Hynek of Evanston, Ill., chairman of the Astronomy Department at Northwestern University, said in a telephone interview with The Dayton Daily News Tuesday he did not mean to put an "authentic" stamp on the pictures.

Dr. Hynek has been consulted by the Air Force on UFO investigations in the past, but Project Blue Book officers said Tuesday he had not been consulted in regard to the Michigan photographs.

"All I said (to a reporter) was that at first glance the pictures do not appear to be an obvious hoax," Dr. Hynek said.

The college's first students began classes in the fall of 1965.

The commencement date was authorized by the OCC Board of Trustees last night, with further plans to be made in the near future.

Romney Names Guard Chief

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney today announced the appointment of Maj. Gen. Clarence C. Schnipke as director of the Department of Military Affairs.

Schnipke has been acting director since Romney fired department head Maj. Gen. Ronald McDonald in the wake of a National Guard scandal more than a year ago.

'Other Deductions' Need Special Note

By RAY DE CRANE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The final classification for deductions on your income tax return is labeled "Miscellaneous Deductions." Enter here all proper deductions you couldn't fit into any other grouping.

If any of these are elements in your return you may list here:

- Child care or invalid cash payments.
- Storm, fire, flood, auto accident or theft losses not covered by insurance.
- Unreimbursed work expenses, such as the purchase and cleaning of required uniforms and special work clothes, purchase of rubber and asbestos gloves, safety equipment, tools and supplies, deductions of or damage to your employer's property.
- Union dues.
- Fees paid an employment agency to obtain a new job.
- Educational expenses, if the prime purpose of the training was to maintain or improve your skills required on your job or if it was to meet your employer's specific job requirements.
- Alimony, if paid periodically to your former wife in accordance with a court decree or legal separation agreement. (She must include such alimony as income on her return.)
- Unreimbursed entertainment expense required by the nature of your work.
- Expenses incurred in connection with the production or collection of income. If you are an investor you may deduct fees paid an investment counselor or for subscriptions to financial publications and for the rental of a safety deposit box for the protection of your securities.

Tax counsel fees paid a tax adviser.

CHILD CARE:

Any woman may obtain a child care deduction of up to $900 for the care of children or disabled dependents if the expenses were incurred in order for her to go to work or to seek work.

Unless the child being cared for is physically or mentally incapable of self-support, the youngster must be under 13 to qualify.

Where one child is involved, the maximum child care deduction is the lesser of the actual expense or $600. If two or more children are being cared for, the maximum is $900.

★ ★ ★

A working wife who has a husband able to work must file a joint return before she can claim this deduction. And in their case, the deduction is reduced by the excess of their combined income over $6,000. Since the maximum deduction is $600 if one child is involved, it would be ruled out if combined income is as much as $6,600 or if two or more children were being cared for and the combined income was $6,900 or more.

CASUALTY AND THEFT LOSSES:

Such losses are deductible after you have absorbed the first $100 of each loss yourself. Any insurance recovery must be deducted from the total loss.

The loss is determined by comparing the actual value of the item immediately before the casualty and its actual value immediately afterward. In no event may it exceed the adjusted basis of the property (generally its purchase price).

The $100 rule does not apply to losses of business property.

U. S. Generosity Impresses German Girl

At school in her native Hamburg, Germany, Franziska Moysen, 16, heard a great deal about America.

She read this country's history, learned its language and often saw movies depicting its way of life.

Now an exchange student at Pontiac Central High School she has been most impressed by one quality of this country since her arrival five months ago — the generosity of the American people.

"People here," she said, "make friends very quickly and everyone seems interested in each other."

★ ★ ★

Judging by her counselor's account of why she was chosen from her school for the Youth for Understanding program, Franziska would have no problem making friends anywhere.

LEADERSHIP QUALITIES

She was described as possessing leadership qualities, an ability to assimilate facts and an easy way with people.

She's had no problem getting along with her American "family," the John Appletons of 23 Hudson.

"We'll hate to say goodby to her when the year is over," said Mrs. Appleton.

★ ★ ★

Franziska's first experience with American generosity came when she started classes at Central in September.

HELPING HAND

Fellow students helped her find her way from class to class, showed her the procedure for buying books and generally took an interest in her which surprised her.

"There was one girl," she recalled, "who became terribly excited when she heard I was from Germany and she led me around all day pointing out things of importance at school."

In December she saw a more dramatic kind of generosity in action when workers of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. made a special Christmas for the 32 Bay Mills Indian families.

Appleton, who is associated with Michigan Bell, took the family to the Bay Mills reservation where thousands of pounds of gifts — mostly clothing and food — were delivered to the Indians.

'GREATEST DAY'

"They came to the town hall," she remembers, "the children smiling as though it were the greatest day they'd ever had. The gifts lighted their faces. It was a warm feeling."

The friendliness of the people she's met hasn't dispelled all her feelings of strangeness in this country.

"There are things I just can't get used to," she said. "No matter how much we learned in school, we never knew enough about America and what it's really like.

"When we drove in from Metropolitan Airport and I saw the skyscrapers in downtown Detroit, I didn't know what they were for. In my country we have mostly apartment buildings for residences, but none are so big and the businesses aren't housed like that."

'NOT DONE'

Seeing food thrown away also surprised her.

"Though my country isn't poor," she said, "this is simply not done there."

She recalled an incident in grade school when a slice of bread was found in a trash can and all the students were brought to see the waste and to be lectured by the teachers.

★ ★ ★

Along with her studies, Franziska plays on a girls' basketball team and sings in her church choir.

She has one other pastime — judo — a carry-over from her membership in a Hamburg sports club.

When she mentioned to Mrs. Appleton that she held a green belt in the sport, she was asked to demonstrate.

"I showed her an O-Goshi," Franziska said. That's something like what Mrs. Appleton exclaimed when she was flipped over Franziska's back in the dining room.

It's still nearly six months until she'll return to Hamburg and in the meantime Franziska will pursue one goal.

"I want to learn as much as I can about this country," she said.

"and I want to meet more of its people."

'Brain Drain' to Be Studied

By Science Service

ITHACA, N.Y. — A method for predicting "brain drain" or the migratory habits of scientists and technicians is under way at Cornell University.

Sociologist Robert McGinnis is in the process of converting the life histories of 224,000 people into mathematical terms.

The names are from the National Science Foundation Register of Scientists and Technicians, compiled every other year.

Once the life histories are translated into numbers, they will be analyzed by a computer, said McGinnis.

★ ★ ★

The results should enable government and academic planners to know what to expect in getting and keeping scientific personnel.

Besides the U.S. study, McGinnis also plans a trip to Yugoslavia to study international labor mobility. He said he and his Cornell colleagues have also contacted other Eastern European countries for the study.

Hepatitis Hits 35 at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — An estimated 35 students have withdrawn from Michigan State University this term because of infectious hepatitis, reports Dr. James Feurig, director of the MSU Health Center.

Feurig said nine cases have been diagnosed at the center since the start of the term. He said although there is concern, this by no means represents an epidemic on the campus.

★ ★ ★

The State Health Department said it had no reports of an outbreak of the disease throughout the state. The disease, an inflamation of the liver, often is accompanied by an upset stomach, a feeling of distress and cramps.

Jim says: "You played with Benito Garrozzo and Omar Sharif in New York last month. What did you think of their game?"

Oswald: "Garrozzo is just as good as you would expect a World's Champion to be. He is also about as nice as any bridge player I have ever met. Sharif plays very well but is not as good as Garrozzo. He is just as nice to play with."

JACOBY

Jim: "Today's hand is one you played as Garrozzo's partner in a short team match at Tobias Stone's apartment. He was North, wasn't he?"

Oswald: "Yes. The bidding shows his style. In spite of the fact that West opened and rebid Garrozzo thought we might have a slam. In stead of jumping right to four spades he gave me two slam invitations by bidding both of West's suits."

Jim: "All you could do was keep rebidding your hopeless spade suit. Was he afraid that you might get discouraged and pass?"

Oswald: "No. He did put a lot of pressure on me but I am too old to start passing my partner's forcing bids."

Jim: "I see that four spades made easily. What happened at the other table?"

Oswald: "Loen Yallouze, who is in America with Benito and Omar, held the West hand and opened one heart. The American expert sitting North doubled and Omar Sharif with the courage of Genghis Khan (another of his starring vehicles) stuck in a three-heart bid. South and West passed and North merely bid three spades."

Jim: "I guess South did some soul searching and passed."

Oswald: "Right, so we gained six International Match Points."

Saginaw Game Set for Afternoon

Pontiac Central Officials Make Move to Curb Rowdyism

In a move to curtail increasing rowdyism after home basketball games, Pontiac Central has changed next Tuesday evening's encounter with highly rated Saginaw to 3:30 p.m. and will close the doors to the public.

★ ★ ★

"Only students with identification cards and accredited representatives of the press and radio will be permitted," said Principal Francis Staley.

An incident following last Friday's 59-57 win over Flint Northern triggered moving the Saginaw game to the afternoon.

A crowd estimated by police at nearly 300 gathered at Huron and Franklin and pelted officers with snowballs. Sheriff's deputies were called in to help quiet the trouble.

"The incident last week wasn't serious," said Staley, "but it could have been. We'll have no more incidents like that or we may have to cancel the remainder of our games.

"The problem is being caused by only a few, and most of them are outsiders. We have many fine students who are embarrassed by incidents such as last week."

FIRST SUCH MOVE

This is the first time in Pontiac Central's long history that such a move has been made involving an athletic contest. However, it won't be a first in the Saginaw Valley Conference.

Saginaw High made a similar move for one game early last season after having post-game troubles. No more serious problems were encountered when the Trojans finished out the season as regularly scheduled.

★ ★ ★

No decision on future PCH home games will be made until after next week's tilt with Saginaw, according to Staley.

Other remaining home dates are with SVC foes Bay City Central and Handy and Midland and city rival Northern. The three conference schools will only play at night.

"This means that we would have to forfeit those games," said Staley. Night road games probably will remain as scheduled.

Adults who have purchased advance tickets for the Saginaw game will be able to get refunds.

★ ★ ★

Last season extra police had to be called in to help disperse a crowd of troublemakers after the Flint Southwestern game and two seasons ago an incident took place following a visit by Saginaw that required extra action by school officials and police.

Chiefs on Target in Routing Roseville; Kettering Keeps Rolling

PCH Quintet Romps to Easy 85-69 Victory

Alton Wilson, Hill Spark Attack; Team Record Now 6-2

Chiefs Alton Wilson and Prentice Hill put their Pontiac Central scoring attack in a war dance tempo Tuesday night and PCH overran host Roseville, 85-69.

The output was Central's best of the season, gave it a three-game winning streak and raised the season record to 6-2.

★ ★ ★

Wilson and Hill, who haven't combined for less than 33 points in any PCH victory (and didn't total 30 in either defeat) had their best dual effort of the campaign.

Each scored 24 points while taking 25 shots apiece among the Chiefs' 86 attempts in the game. Hill was hitting from the outside and Wilson drove very well.

It was a bucket by Hill at the 5:12 mark in the second quarter that put them ahead to stay, 23-22, after trailing, 17-14, following the first quarter.

Mitch Redmon hit six points after coming off the bench to spark Roseville in the opening stanza. But personal fouls cost the Wildcats in the middle two sessions when their frontcourt regulars had to sit out the action.

REBOUNDING

This enabled PCH to control the backboards. Wilson nabbed 19 to lead that phase of play, sub Frank Russell hauled down 15 and Gordon Hamilton 11. Russell added eight points for his top showing of the campaign.

Hamilton also had his best scoring night, making five of 10 shots and 14 points. The winners outshot their hosts both from the field and at the foul line.

The biggest lead was 61-40 for Central as the third period ended. Earlier, the Wildcats (1-7) had cut their deficit to 37-34, but the Chiefs then staged a 24-6 massacre that settled the outcome.

★ ★ ★

Randy Matiyow, Roseville's leading marksman with 20 points had 13 of them in the final period. Central now will return to Saginaw Valley Conference play Friday night at Bay City Handy.

'SEAMINGLY' UNUSUAL—Lake Orion's Rick Toles (40) appears to have a basketball for a head as he controls the ball during this play last night against Oxford's Wildcats. Ted Pearson (53) and Ken Shamblin are the Oxford players surrounding Toles, who hit 14 points in his best output this season. The Dragons, also, hit a high of 66 points but still suffered their ninth loss against one win.

Oxford Slips Past Lake Orion, 69-66

Oxford and Lake Orion both lost eight-point leads but the Wildcats finished strong to take a 69-66 basketball victory home from the Orion gymnasium last night.

The nonleague encounter is the only scheduled meeting between the neighborhood rivals this winter and it proved an exciting one for the fans.

In other area games, Linden moved up its home game with Ortonville Brandon and mowed down the Blackhawks, 72-46, and Warren Lincoln handed Utica its second 59-53 loss of the campaign.

At Lake Orion, the host Dragons pulled in front by eight in the opening half as Bill Foss tallied 10 of his 19 points.

Down 36-34 at intermission, Oxford threw a pressing defense at Orion and assumed an eight-point margin in the third quarter.

But the hosts rallied, went ahead, 64-63, and had the basketball with 1:11 to play. They lost possession and Ken Marsh sank two free throws for Oxford.

Ted Pearson then added two more charity tosses to the winners' total and Marsh hit a field goal. Judd Bankert's two free throws with 10 seconds to play for Orion closed the scoring. The losers had 21 turnovers in the contest.

Roy Kibbe held Roger Miller of Oxford to 14 points while producing 15 markers in his best effort this season.

Linden took a 22-8 first-period lead over its visitors from Ortonville and then never let the Brandon cagers closer than nine points the rest of the night.

The winners had a 33-15 field goal edge. Gary Burt was the only Blackhawk in double figures. He had 10 points. A 16-for-40 foul line effort, also, hurt the losers.

Utica dropped its second game of the season as Lincoln dominated the backboards and kept a 10-point lead most of the second half. Bob Hoder led the upset with 23 points, 19 in the first three quarters. Jim Jilek and Gerry Lane had 16 each for Utica.

The Chieftains fell into a second place tie with Fraser (another upset loser last night in the Bi-County League) but will resolve that Friday night. Lakeview (5-1) now has a one-game lead in the race.

FILLS IN — Kettering's Bill Penoza entered the game against North Farmington last night when two teammates encountered personal foul troubles and he hit eight points in the first half for his second-best effort of the season.

Captains Trim N. Farmington Second Time

Winners Up Record to 7-0; Losers Left With 2-5 Mark

Undefeated Waterford Kettering indicated Tuesday night its main improvement from the start of the season is getting the job done quicker.

The Captains upped their record to 7-0 with a 65-60 win over North Farmington, a team WKHS needed one overtime period to defeat, 64-60, in the season opener.

Enjoying an Associated Press state preps' top ten rating for the first time in its history, Kettering seemed en route to an impressive triumph.

WKHS built a 57-44 lead for three quarters' work, but found itself outscored 10-2 in the first five minutes of the last quarter as the Raiders displayed an effective pressing defense.

KEY BASKET

Dick Micell finally eased the pressure with a basket for the Captains to make it 61-54. The versatile sharpshooter then grabbed the rebound on the next missed shot.

The Captains sprang a fast break on North Farmington with Micell feeding Ralph Windeler for a layup that upped the lead to nine points and only two minutes to play.

That was enough to insure the victory. Kettering led all the way in recording its fourth straight and sixth over-all win in the eight-game cage series with the Raiders.

The lead was generally five-six points for much of the initial half. Dave Cox had 13 points, Jack McCloud and Bill Penoza eight each in the opening 16 minutes.

★ ★ ★

Personal fouls hampered both teams. Pete Evans left WKHS' lineup and Jim Rulapaugh departed from the visitors' attack early in the closing half; while Bob VonBargan and Cox fouled out in the fourth period.

Ninth-rated Kettering and North Farmington (2-5) will return to league play Friday night.

Terrell, Promoters Talk

Ads Rile Title Contender

HOUSTON (AP) — Cassius Clay took a holiday from training today and Ernie Terrell, angry about being second banana on the billboards, talked to promoters of their Feb. 6 heavyweight championship showdown fight about changes he wants in the advertising campaign.

Shortly after Clay carved his 578½-pound 25th birthday cake, a gift from the Astrodome proprietors Tuesday, Terrell was telling a news conference, "Either they give me equal billing or 48 hours from now I am going to pack my bags and go home."

★ ★ ★

Later, Terrell pushed the starting time for the 48 hours back to this morning and the Houston Sports Association, proprietors of the fight site, the Astrodome, agreed to talk.

Plastered across Houston are 250 billboards giving both fighters names in the same size lettering, but featuring a drawing of Clay and none of Terrell.

On the side of 150 buses are miniatures of the billboard, and 300 indoor signs have Clay's picture and Clay's name larger by far than Terrell's name.

"This is absolutely and positively ridiculous," Terrell, the World Boxing Association champion, said. "According to this, Clay has the fight already won."

★ ★ ★

All Star Game Tonight

Plan for Stocking Ice Teams Near

MONTREAL (AP) — The National Hockey League's Board of Governors has stolen the spotlight from tonight's 20th annual All Star Game.

Announcement was expected early today of the league's plan for stocking the six new expansion franchises which begin playing next season.

★ ★ ★

President Clarence Campbell said Tuesday that the board had reached agreement in principle on the stocking plan and that final ratification was expected at today's meeting.

Speculation centered around a proposal which would allow the NHL's six present teams to protect 11 players — six forwards, four defensemen and one goalie — with the expansion teams picking from the remaining personnel.

BACK-UP

The stocking plan will also have a back-up feature to reinforce the six new clubs with additional players after their first year.

The six new teams which start play next October are Los Angeles, San Francisco-Oakland, Minneapolis-St. Paul, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Under the NHL's expansion program, each team's owners paid $2 million for 20 players and the franchise.

Meanwhile, Toe Blake, coach of the Stanley Cup champion Montreal Canadiens, and Detroit's Sid Abel, who'll handle the All Stars, plotted strategy for tonights game.

★ ★ ★

"If we lose tonight," mused Abel, surveying an All Star roster that included his own Gordie Howe and Chicago's Bobby Hull and Stan Mikita on the first line, "you can't blame the players."

Abel will use Rod Gilbert of New York with Toronto's Frank Mahovlich and Dave Keon on another line and his own Alex Delvecchio and Norm Ullman with Bob Nevin of New York on a third unit. Murray Oliver of Boston will be a swing man.

★ ★ ★

On defense, the All Stars will have New York's Harry Howell and Jim Neilson working together and Pierre Pilote and Pat Stapleton of Chicago teaming. Allan Stanley of Toronto is the fifth defenseman.

DRAGON CHARGE — Lake Orion guard Jess Harper drives for the basket during last night's game with Oxford. He had eight points for his top effort this season, but it wasn't enough to prevent a 69-66 loss.

Trio Paces Local Junior College '5' to 102-87 Victory

A strong three-man offensive —particularly in the second half —led Michigan Christian Junior College to a 102-87 cage conquest at Grand Rapids Baptist Bible College Tuesday night.

The Warriors led, 39-38, at intermission in the state Christian College Athletic Association clash. Jerry Olson (17 points), Ray Hudson (15) and Jerome Shoemaker (13) led MCJC in the final half as it pulled away from the home quintet.

Olson finished with 32 points, Shoemaker 21 and Hudson 19 for the winners. Paul Grewe tallied 27 and Al Meredith 22 for Baptist Bible. Michigan Christian is 3-2 in the league and a strong contender for a playoff berth.

PROTECTS NET — Goalie Paul Cragin of Cranbrook blocks a Brother Rice scoring bid in yesterday's game. The Cranbrook netminder kept the Warriors at bay as the Cranes posted a 5-0 victory. Peter Hatch hit three goals while Rich Bosley and Peter Robinson one apiece as the Cranes upped their record to 4-2-1.

Trade Week's Heaviest

Stock Mart Rally Roars Along

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market rally roared on early this afternoon. Trading was the week's heaviest.

The ticker tape ran four minutes late. Profits were taken on many recent gainers and some of the best early gains were sliced, but the market was still clearly ahead.

Gainers outnumbered losers at a ratio of about three-to-two as profit taking tripped up some early winners.

A bandwagon psychology was operating in Wall Street and many ordinary investors as well as institutions were climbing aboard the bull market, afraid that delay would cause them to miss out on the rise.

Behind the market was the slowly reversing money situation, now becoming easier even though interest rates remained high and money was still not as available as business would want.

Gains and losses of fractions to a point were scattered through many groups. Fractional gains were preponderant.

Prices were generally higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange. Esquire and Syntex gained about 3. Up a point or so were California Computer, Acme Missiles, Dome Petroleum, National Video and Simmonds Precision. Off about a point were Dennison and Louisiana Land. Solitron Devices lost a fraction.

Neutral Zones Ours--Israeli

Eshkol: Won't Discuss Control With Syria

JERUSALEM, Israel (UPI)—Israel today warned it would not discuss the sovereignty of disputed demilitarized zones when it meets with Syria to seek a cease-fire along their 48-mile border.

Israeli Premier Levi Eshkol said the zones were in Israeli territory.

No date or place has been set for the first meeting of the Israeli-Syrian Mixed Armistice Commission (MAC) since 1957.

Meeting informally yesterday, both sides agreed the format talks should deal only with arrangements for farming in the demilitarized zones, sites of almost daily armed clashes since Jan. 1.

★ ★ ★

Official Israeli sources said no difficulties were expected in drawing up an agenda. They warned Israel would leave the talks if Syria attempts to broaden them to include the status of the demilitarized zone.

The sources explained the thorny demilitarized zone issue was the reason Israel had refused to attend MAC meetings for the last 10 years.

Thief Takes $140 in Coins

A coin collection totaling $140 was reported stolen yesterday in the breaking and entering of a Commerce Township home.

William Keller of 1559 Robell told Oakland County sheriff's deputies all but $4 of the missing money was in change.

★ ★ ★

Entry was apparently made by reaching through a milk chute and opening a rear door, according to investigators.

$4,500 Blaze Hits House in Pontiac

A fire of undetermined origin yesterday caused an estimated $4,500 damage to a two-story frame house at 255 Osmun owned by Mrs. Florence Breckenridge. There were no injuries.

★ ★ ★

Three fire vehicles under the direction of Chief Charles Marion answered the alarm at 5:56 p.m. The blaze was extinguished in about 90 minutes.

Some $3,500 of the damage was to the building, the remainder to contents, including carpeting and furniture, firemen said.

Foe of Topless

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — State Sen. John D. Calandra says he will offer an amendment to the state's statutes that would prohibit topless waitresses. The Republican senator said "There can be no excuse for the topless waitress other than greed."

GOP District Meetings at Area School

Republicans in the 18th and 19th congressional districts of Oakland County will hold their spring conventions Jan. 31 at Walled Lake High School, 2978 S. Commerce, it was announced today.

The conventions, which will convene separately at 7:30 p.m., are for the purpose of electing delegates to the state spring convention, to be held at Cobo Hall in Detroit Feb. 24 and 25.

★ ★ ★

Delegates to the state convention are elected by the precinct delegates are apportioned by legislative district on the basis of the Republican vote for secretary of state in the last election.

The 18th congressional district will send 110 delegates to the state convention, and the 19th district will send 57.

Schools Ask Big Increase

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A near 50 per cent increase will be asked for Michigan's intermediate school districts, Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, said Tuesday.

Polley told intermediate school district administrators meeting at Grand Rapids that he will ask a budget increase from $2.25 million to $4.25 million for the 60 intermediate school districts.

Current state payments meet only about 30 per cent of the operating costs. This will up the state's share to about 50 per cent, Colley said.

Polley said an amendment would be proposed to remove an inequity of payment in the current intermediate district formula.

BOOST COLLEGE—William H. Coleman, vice president for planning and development of the Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine in Pontiac, accepts a check for $4,800 for the general advancement of the school. Proceeds of a fashion show sponsored last fall by the Tri-County Osteopathic Women's Auxiliaries, the funds were presented yesterday by (from left) Mrs. Paul L. Ruza, Mrs. James Grekin, Mrs. Gary Bergman and Mrs. Allan Fox. Mrs Bergman, wife of a Detroit Red Wing hockey player, represented the wives of sports celebrities who modeled in the fashion show.

'Improvement' by Airport Firm

State Unit Plans New Look in 6 Months

Ruling that it now finds the safety and service performance of Airport Service Lines, Inc., adequate, the State Public Service Commission scheduled a new evaluation of the operation in six months.

The airport service firm, with headquarters in Pontiac, provides limousine service from Metropolitan and Willow Run airports to northern parts of the metropolitan area.

Commission Chairman John Tormey said a series of complaints from the public about the company's service led to commission hearings that ended two months ago.

Tormey noted that the firm had upgraded the quality of its performance in safety and service.

★ ★ ★

Louis Linteau, president of the Transportation company located at 615 E. Tennyson, said that the series of hearings spanned 15 weeks.

Linteau sad the hearings were based on 13 citations accumulated between 1959 and 1966. He termed the complaints minor in scope.

Three Steal $400 at City Station

Three men reportedly stole $400 from the cash register of a service station at 161 W. Huron last night.

Attendant Robert Pugh, 20, of 154 Lincoln told city police he was servicing a customer's car when the men entered the station. He said he discovered the theft as they drove away.

Boys' Club in Area Accepting Members

The Boys' Club of Waterford Township, which is currently conducting a revamped program at the Community Activities, Inc., building, 5640 Williams Lake, is now accepting membership registrations.

★ ★ ★

Boys, 8 to 18 years old, can register from 10 a.m. to noon Saturdays, 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays or when club activities are in progress at the CAI building, according to John H. Stefanski, president of the board of directors.

Cost of a one-year membership is $1, said Stefanski.

At a meeting last night, the board announced the club will offer seven activities at the outset of the program.

★ ★ ★

Scheduled from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. each Monday and Thursday is indoor hockey.

PROJECT DEVELOPMENT

Offered from 7 to 9 p.m. Mondays will be a project development program, consisting of mechanics, woodworking and electronics. Stefanski said a second session will be added.

Basketball will be available from 3:30 to 8 p.m. each Wednesday. From 9 to 11 a.m. Saturdays, air rifle target shooting will be conducted.

Archery is the seventh activity offered by the club, but no specific time has been set.

★ ★ ★

All activities will be held at the CAI building and will be under supervision.

Heiress Lost Aboard Plane

MIAMI (UPI) — Mrs. Audrey Bruce Currier, granddaughter of the late Andrew Mellon and one of the nation's wealthiest heiresses, was missing today with her husband on a flight between San Juan, Puerto Rico and St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands.

★ ★ ★

Two amphibious Coast Guard planes from San Juan began a search at dawn for Mrs. Currier and her husband, Stephen, who heads the private management firm of Currier & Co. in New York.

★ ★ ★

The couple left San Juan yesterday afternoon in a chartered single-engine piper Apache piloted by a man identified only as Mr. Watson and failed to arrive in St. Thomas, V.I., as scheduled. The Coast Guard said the Curriers were the only passengers on the plane.

Bridge Falls, Cars Plummet

ROME (UPI) — The automobiles purred along the Appian Way and onto the "bridge of suicides." Suddenly they vanished.

The central section of the 113-year-old Ariccia Bridge in the Alban Hills 16 miles south of Rome had collapsed last night.

★ ★ ★

At least two cars drove into the gap and plummeted nearly 200 feet to the valley below. The break in the bridge was virtually invisible in the darkness.

Firemen recovered two bodies. They said the cars were "rumpled like paper" and might contain other victims.

Truck Burns

THREE RIVERS (AP) — A tractor-trailer dumping scrap paper at the city land fill caught fire Tuesday. Damage was estimated at $2,000. Firemen said sparks from a nearby fire jumped to the scrap paper, igniting the truck. There was no injury.

Kelley Orders Building Firm Investigation

LANSING (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley today ordered a full scale investigation of the relationship of the Holloway Construction Co. and the State Highway Department.

There have been allegations that the firm has received excessive "overrun" payments from the department for road work.

The probe is closely related to a $1.2 million "overrun" payment being sought by the firm in the State Court of Claims, for a road-building job in Berrien County.

Kelley noted that the legal controversy between the department and the company has been the subject of "repeated questions, suspicions, innuendous and rumors for some five years."

★ ★ ★

Kelley said, "I have directed that a full scale investigation be undertaken of the allegations of wrongdoing in regard to this and related matters."

FINE SHOES BUILT ON AUTHENTIC U. S. NAVY LASTS

Important—these lasts are AUTHENTIC, not "navy type," not "navy style." You get the same fine shape and ease of fit specified by the Navy. Plus super-fine Goodyear welt construction, supple leather uppers, oak-bend leather soles, split cowhide lining, flexible fibre insoles.

Black or brown.

Mail and phone orders promptly filled. 682-1010
