Ike's Report Slated Tonight

Vote on Steel Offer Is Set for Jan. 11-13

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government poll of Steelworkers on whether they want to accept management's last offer will be conducted Jan. 11-13 if there is no settlement meantime of their labor dispute, it was announced today.

Stuart Rothman, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, said the agency is making plans to conduct an election during that three-day period if necessary but hopes the need for it will be removed by a union-management agreement.

In other developments:

1. President Eisenhower, just back from his 22,000-mile good-will trip to three continents, held a conference with three Cabinet members and four other officials on the bogged down efforts to end the steel dispute.

2. Union and management bargaining teams met in a session called by the Federal Mediation Service, but without any sign that they were making any progress. After a fruitless two-hour meeting the negotiations were recessed until Sunday.

3. Union President David J. McDonald said the first returns from a postcard poll the union is taking of its members are overwhelmingly against accepting the latest offer of the steel companies.

To get reports on the steel situation, Eisenhower called in Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers, and Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller.

Also sitting in on the huddle were Philip Ray, undersecretary of commerce; Dr. Raymond Saulnier, Eisenhower's economic adviser; Wilton B. Persons, Eisenhower's top assistant; and White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty.

APPEAL UNHEEDED

At the time Eisenhower left Dec. 3 on his 11-nation tour, he appealed in a farewell address to the American people for a settlement of the steel dispute before his return. He suggested round-the-clock negotiations until an agreement was reached — a proposal that was never put into effect.

Rothman's announcement of the prospective dates for a government poll on the industry's latest offer said that "The magnitude of this task is such as to require close cooperation with the NLRB on the part of both employers and the union." He added that both parties have assured him of such cooperation.

Rothman said there would be approximately 600,000 eligible voters in 420 plants and other facilities located in all parts of the United States. Ninety-six companies were named in the injunction which halted the strike for an 80-day period.

Steel management calculates its latest offer—formally advanced in November—would give union members about 30 cents an hour more over three years.

This figure would be partly in higher wages and partly in increased fringe benefits.

The 30-cent estimate is disputed by the union. It figures the worth at 22 to 24 cents an hour.

The average steel wage under the old contract was $3.11 an hour.

McDonald said the union's postcard poll is running 93 per cent against accepting the management offer.

He said 35,000 postcards have been tabulated so far and that all but 7 per cent supported the union leadership's rejection of the industry's settlement terms.

McDonald said the members voting in the postcard poll do not sign their names and are not identified in any way, thus making it a secret ballot.

Pontiac Grocer Beaten, Robbed

Suffers 'Severe Head Injuries'; Wife Rushed to Hospital

An elderly Pontiac grocer was slugged and robbed shortly past noon today in his market at 510 S. Paddock St.

John Mekras, 72, suffered what doctors at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital described as "severe head injuries."

His wife Eva, 62, collapsed and was also rushed to the hospital. It was believed she may have suffered a heart attack.

The elderly couple live above their store, John's Grocery.

Five carloads of Pontiac police and detectives converged on the scene.

A witness told them two Negro men ran from the store and drove south of Paddock in a black 1952 Pontiac.

The men were wearing shop caps, but police had no other immediate details.

Detectives said the men evidently struck Mekras over the head with some sort of blunt instrument. They took an undetermined amount of money from a cash register.

Police were unable to question the store owner or his wife extensively. The injured man told officers he couldn't remember what happened.

All area police were notified to be on the lookout for the suspects' car.

Authorities believed the suspects may have been heading toward Detroit.

A BOGUS CHRISTMAS — Charged with writing more than $500 in bad checks, Mrs. Betty Lou Zograph, 26, of Center Line, said, "I guess I just wanted to have one Christmas when I could spend lots of money." Held at the county jail for 33 hours before being released today on personal bond, Mrs. Zograph is shown here in her jail cell looking at a photograph of her five children.

'Christmas With Money' Puts Mom of Five in Jail

By HARVEY ZUCKERBERG

A Center Line woman's five children, ranging in age from six months to five years, had their Christmas toys and new clothes taken away from them early yesterday.

The presents will be used as evidence against their mother, Mrs. Betty Lou Zograph, 26, of 7270 Weigand St. charged with writing bad checks.

"I guess I just wanted one Christmas when I could spend lots of money," she sobbed when arrested at 2:30 a.m. in a motel at Eight Mile and Dequindre.

Redford post State Police Detective George Craft said the tearful woman told him she and her children had been staying in the motel room three weeks.

"The room was crowded with $500 worth of merchandise and the five kids," Craft said.

Mrs. Zograph, who said she has been separated from her husband for four months, claims to be four months pregnant.

Richard Zograph, 26, briefly was reunited with his estranged wife at the motel when he was called to "come get the kids." Mrs. Zograph was taken to Oakland County Jail.

She was arraigned yesterday in the Southfield Municipal Court of Judge Clarence A. Reid and stood mute on a charge of issuing checks without sufficient funds. A plea of not guilty was entered for her.

Mrs. Zograph spent 33 hours behind bars when she was unable to post $500 surety bond.

At 12:05 p.m. today she was set free, with the pledge she will appear at an examination set for 9:30 a.m. Monday in Reid's court. Said Reid:

"The Prosecutor's Office called and asked if I would be so inclined to change the surety bond to a personal bond which would set her free on her pledge to appear Monday.

"She doesn't have a previous record and she's got five kids now and is four months pregnant. We thought she should spend Christmas with her kids."

Returns Home With Message of Good Will

Greeted in Washington by Thousands Echoing Recent Cheers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower, back home with his countrymen's cheers echoing ovations he received overseas, will give his first report to the nation today on his 23,000-mile "peace and friendship" mission.

Eisenhower planned to discuss his 19-day trip, at least briefly, in his annual message at the lighting of the national Christmas tree on grounds south of the White House. The broadcast will be carried by radio-television networks at 5 p.m. EST.

The chief executive, bearing a message of "Merry Christmas and good will" to all Americans from himself and the people he visited on his three-continent tour, landed at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., at 11:25 p.m. EST last night.

After receiving a kiss from Mrs. Eisenhower and a rousing welcome from some 200 greeters headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Cabinet members and members of Congress, the President drove to the White House for further applause from several thousand sparkler-waving admirers.

The welcome home, late at night in sub-freezing weather, fell short of the plans of capital officials. But Eisenhower, chipper after a 10½-hour flight from Morocco, waved with enthusiasm and was full of smiles at the White House door.

At the airport, the President said he had arrived too late at night "for an erudite and informative speech."

"I do want to say one thing," he said. "Everywhere we went,

First Lady Greets Her Family

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was a happy family reunion at Andrews Air Force Base Tuesday night when Mamie Eisenhower, gaily dressed in Christmas red, warmly greeted her returning husband, son and daughter-in-law.

She hugged them all and held onto the President's arm in the crush of high ranking well-wishers.

It was obvious Mrs. Eisenhower was pleased at her husband's jovial, ruddy appearance. She had expressed worry over his arduous trip.

For 33-year-old Barbara Eisenhower, who accompanied her famous father-in-law on the 22,000-mile mission, it was the end of the most fabulous journey of her life. Her husband, Maj. John Eisenhower, served as his father's aide on the tour.

PARTY'S OVER

Barbara returns today to her role as housewife and mother with her four children in their home near Gettysburg, Pa.

She brought home a collection of exotic gifts and memories of elephant rides, snake charmers, cheering millions and strange lands.

Back home, she jokingly told Vice President and Mrs. Richard M. Nixon she was having trouble remembering to say hello after her efforts at greeting in the languages of the 11 countries she visited.

Barbara had stayed out of the limelight in Washington and had never ridden on a jet plane before this journey. She returned a veteran of motorcades, fanfare and huge crowds.

Looking happy, she said she wasn't a bit tired because "I slept on the plane."

She wore a bright blue coat and carried a small Christmas package. She said it was a present for Mamie she wanted to bring personally.

David Levinson Named Head of Ways, Means Committee

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

David Levinson—a veteran of 26 years on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors—has been appointed chairman of the influential Ways and Means Committee.

Levinson's appointment came during one of the biggest committee personnel changes in the Board's history. They were announced by Delos Hamlin, chairman.

A Birmingham supervisor since September 1933, Levinson, 63, replaces Fred W. Smith, former Royal Oak supervisor, as Ways and Means chairman. Smith was not reappointed to the Board after serving 28 years.

Levinson, a real estate appraiser, has been a member of the Ways and Means committee, considered one of the more important of the Board's 29 standing committees. It works side by side with county auditors in drafting the yearly county budgets.

The new head of the committee was chairman of the Board in 1940-41, 1941-42 after being vice chairman. Levinson also heads the special county building committee which spearheaded construction of the new courthouse.

Hamlin also named two new members to the Ways and Means committee. They are Arno L. Hulet, Bloomfield Township supervisor and new vice chairman of the Board, and Harry Horton, a veteran of 14 years as Royal Oak supervisor.

HULET SUCCEEDS THATCHER

Hulet, by reason of his new vice chairmanship, succeeds Hiland M. Thatcher, former West Bloomfield Township supervisor who resigned from the Board to win a new job as county road commissioner Dec. 14.

Horton replaces Smith on the Ways and Means seven-member committee.

With Horton's shift to this committee, his place on the Buildings and Grounds Committee will be taken by Robert J. Huber, Troy supervisor.

Replacing Thatcher and Smith as two of Oakland's representatives on the six-county Supervisors Inter-County Committee will be Southfield Supervisor and Mayor Donald L. Swanson and Maurice J. Croteau, Pontiac supervisor.

Other changes announced by Hamlin were:

Buchanan Is Found Guilty and Banished From Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — American newsman James Buchanan today was under orders to get out of Cuba after being convicted of helping an American escape from a Castro prison.

A five-man military court in Pinar del Rio convicted the 43-year-old correspondent for the Miami Herald Tuesday night, gave him a suspended sentence of 14 years and ordered him deported within 24 hours.

"That's good," said Buchanan and left Pinar del Rio for Havana to catch a plane for Miami.

Buchanan was charged with concealing facts about the escape earlier this month of Frank Austin Young of Miami, who broke out of a Pinar del Rio prison after being sentenced to 3 years in prison for leading an armed anti-Castro band.

CAUGHT WITH BANDAGES

Buchanan was arrested as he approached Young's hotel room hideout with bandages for the fugitive's injured leg.

In Miami, Lee Hills, executive editor of the Herald and the Knight newspapers, said his organization is "absolutely convinced" that Buchanan "was 'guilty' of nothing except covering a legitimate news story in Cuba."

Hills said the Herald "will continue to cover all legitimate news in Cuba in the future as it has in the past."

The five-man military court was hastily summoned Tuesday although other tribunals were in recess for the Christmas holidays. Earlier in the day the U.S. State Department sent a note to the Cuban Ministry of State presummably requesting expeditious handling of Buchanan's case.

The trial lasted only a few hours.

The prosecution asked for a 20-year sentence. But Oscar Fernandez Jordan, the civilian prosecutor, said Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime would "show its benevolence" by deporting Buchanan.

He accused the editors of the Herald of sending Buchanan to Cuba to help Young flee the country.

than 200 flights were delayed or rerouted at La Guardia and Idlewild airports.

Many schools, including 500 in the New York metropolitan area, closed.

Herds of wild deer came out of the woods near Yorktown, N. Y., to forage for food. The animals halted traffic in some spots.

The 16-hour snowfall in New York City was the worst since February 1958. Seven inches was reported in Manhattan.

The sun shone brightly after the storm. Temperatures dropped swiftly during the night.

As the storm moved out of the Northeast, a fresh snow storm developed in the upper Mississippi Valley. It moved slowly eastward from Iowa and Minnesota through Wisconsin and northern Illinois.

The storm headed into northern Indiana, Michigan and northwest Ohio, with snow, freezing rain and sleet indicated. A belt of sleet or freezing rain appeared likely to precede the snow storm into western New York and Pennsylvania.

Wisconsin and northeast Iowa were hit by the heaviest snow covering in the Midwest, from four to seven inches. Falls in Minnesota and Illinois were more than two inches.

Straley Order Hearing Is Set

Approval Would Put Former Chief Back in Charge of Police

A court hearing has been set for next Tuesday in Ionia when attorneys will argue an order which could reinstate Herbert W. Straley as Pontiac police chief.

Ionia County Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis set 1 p.m. as the time attorneys for and against Straley's reinstatement will appear before him.

William A. Ewart, Pontiac city attorney, will oppose the order mailed to the judge yesterday by Clarence L. Smith and Philip Pratt, Straley's attorneys.

The order was forwarded after Ewart refused to agree on its contents.

Ewart's major objection is that the order does not include sections of Judge Davis' opinion upholding Straley's appeal which explain the reasons behind the court's ruling.

Judge Davis two weeks ago reversed Straley's firing by the Civil Service Commission last April on the grounds that Straley had committed no acts of misfeasance or nonfeasance within a 90-day period before the filing of charges with the Commission.

Approval of the order by the judge would put Straley back in command of the police department.

Death Claims Father of Judge Hughes

Funeral service for Oakland County Circuit Judge Theodore F. Hughes' father, William O. Hughes, 77, of Trenton, will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at the Sawyer Funeral Home, Berkley.

Burial will follow in Roseland Park Cemetery, Berkley.

The elder Mr. Hughes died of a heart attack Monday at his home.

He was a retired salesman with the Berkley Realty Co. and had been employed by the Socony Oil Co. of Trenton previously for a number of years.

Surviving besides Judge Hughes are his widow, Marjorie, another son, Charles of Trenton and two sisters.

GM VP's Son Unconscious After Crash

Injured yesterday when his auto crashed on the Lodge Expressway in Detroit, Cyrus W. Osborn, 18, of Bloomfield Hills, remained unconscious today at Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital.

His condition is listed as "serious."

According to Detroit police, the youth, son of General Motors Corp. Vice President Cyrus R. Osborn of 125 Martell Dr., was fleeing police when his car, traveling about 70 m.p.h., went out of control, crashed into a utility pole and flipped over several times.

Young Osborn was rushed to the hospital with head injuries, cuts on both legs and chest and possible internal injuries.

His father is in charge of engine divisions and overseas operations at GM.

people sent this back — a message of Merry Christmas and good will to all the people of the United States. And in that message I join myself."

Eisenhower's return was marked by warm acclaim from members of both parties in Congress. Some Democrats, however, said that the trip in itself, without further U.S. action, would not solve the international problems facing this country.

BACK TO WORK

The President, back at his desk, had some touchy domestic issues to deal with—primarily the steel strike which could resume Jan. 26 when an 80-day stay-at-work order runs out.

Before leaving Washington Dec. 3, Eisenhower called for round-the-clock bargaining by steel management and union in hope their dispute would be settled by the time he returned home. His plea went unheeded.

Eisenhower also will be faced with the customary presidential chores connected with the reconvening of Congress on Jan. 6. These include his state of the union message and his budget for the 196. fiscal year.

To rest up from his grueling 11-nation trip, and to get in shape for the congressional session ahead, Eisenhower is planning a post-Christmas vacation trip, probably to his favorite golfing site at Augusta, Ga.

On his return last night, the 69-year-old President looked less weary than many of the aides and newsmen who had accompanied him.

She told them that Justewicz walked directly in front of her car and she applied the brakes but could not stop in time to avoid hitting him.

He suffered fractures of the right knee, left leg, and pelvis, plus head injuries. He was pronounced dead at 7:20 a.m.

The driver, a nurse at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, was also on her way home from work.

Brigitte Bardot May Give Birth to Twins

PARIS (UPI)—Paris buzzed today with speculation that Brigitte Bardot may be expecting twins.

The speculation was touched off by the delivery yesterday of two cradles to Miss Bardot's home.

Miss Bardot's physicians refused to comment on the subject. One, Dr. T. Laennec, however, disclosed that Miss Bardot would become a mother sooner than had been expected.

"We broke up about a year ago . . . over money, I guess."

"We moved into the motel because it was closer to the stores."

OTHER SHOPPING CENTERS

The original complaint came from the J. L. Hudson Co. in the Northland Shopping Center.

The distraught mother said she purchased goods on bad checks also at the Eastland, Eastgate, Southgate and Highland Park shopping centers.

"I only had $10," said the once happy housewife. "I opened an account at one bank and bought 20 checks for $2.50.

"Each time I bought something I would pay for it with a check written for $5 to $15 more than it cost and get some cash that way.

"Nobody ever questioned my checks. The banks never asked me either. When I used up the first batch of checks I just opened accounts at two other banks with a small deposit.

"I thought I could get away with it through Christmas. But I knew I would be caught."

EXPECT MORE COMPLAINTS

Police say they expect to receive more complaints as the bad checks go through the banks' clearing processes.

If Monday's hearing determines there is sufficient evidence, Mrs. Zograph will be bound over for trial in Oakland County Circuit Court.

The charge constitutes a felony. If found guilty, she could be sentenced to two years in jail.

Detroit Bids Farewell to Kerns Store Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—Kerns Department Store, a landmark for downtown Detroit shoppers 77 years, closes its doors for good at midnight tonight, just 24 hours before Christmas.

Samuel R. Greenbaum, attorney for the store, said several people are considering the 10-story building on bustling Woodward avenue for a store site.

Kerns was purchased in September by a group of Ohioans.

Peiping Paper Reveals 'Attack'

Says Rightists Forced Commune Mess Halls to Close

TOKYO (AP)—The Peiping People's Daily has belatedly reported what it calls a malicious attack on the leadership of the Chinese Communist party last summer by "a small bunch of right opportunists" in Hunan, Mao Tze-tung's native province.

An article in the Nov. 30 edition, a translation of which reached Tokyo today, said the rightists got control of some counties in Hunan, forced many public mess halls in peasant communes to close, "went openly on the road to capitalism" and created a chaotic condition in the countryside.

Another Chinese publication, the Changsha New Hunan, quoted the commander of the Hunan military district, Yang Mei-sheng, as saying the dissidents attempted to win over armed forces in the area.

The People's Daily, which speaks for Red China's ruling party, disclosed the revolt occurred prior to—and may have precipitated — the extraordinary midsummer session of the party Central Committee.

This secret conference gave Mao's controversial peasant communes a vote of confidence and denounced as "rightist opportunists" party members who attacked them.

Teamster Local Trustees to Go

Units in 12 Areas Will Gain Freedom After Supervised Elections

WASHINGTON (UPI)—U. S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts Tuesday approved the release of 12 Teamsters Union locals in eight states and Canada from trusteeship once closely supervised local elections have been held.

He instructed Teamsters President James R. Hoffa to order the locals to "cooperate fully" with an agency to be selected by court-appointed monitors to supervise the elections.

This probably will be the Honest Ballot Assn., a private group which helps organizations conduct elections.

Letts also ordered the locals to submit full audits to the monitors. He said the monitors should make sure the auditing is done by firms independent of the local unions. He specified that they be members of the American Institute of Certificated Public Accountants.

Dancing Dottie Will Take to Ice for Exhibition

MALDEN, Mass. (AP)—Remember Dottie Ferragamo, the mother whose backyard dancing—in a bikini—was such a neighborhood sensation last summer?

Well, she's taken up skating now, and is planning a backyard rink exhibition for her New Year's Eve guests.

The 33-year-old mother of three will do her skating act in black leotards and a heavy sports sweater.

If the rink isn't frozen over, Dottie says she'll perform for her guests anyway, with a new dance she calls the "Astronaut Roll."

Dottie's bikini dancing delighted the neighborhood males, but their wives—well that was something else again. It's all right with her husband, Michael.

Trying to Head Off Europe Trade War

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Now it's out in the open—the prospect of a trade war in Europe and between Europe and the United States and Canada.

A group of experts will meet soon to try to stave it off. If they fail the world could be divided into blocs fighting each other economically just at the time that the Soviet Union says it is ready to take on the West herself in an economic war.

Already two blocs have been formed in Europe. Others are under way in Central America, South America, Africa and Southeast Asia. A return to protectionism is being discussed by many groups in the United States.

The United States has been losing gold and runs the risk of losing more because other nations have been taking in more dollars from us than they have been with us.

This is called imbalance of payments. And Washington has been worrying about it for some time. The drain of gold has slowed to a trickle, but other nations have been building up dollar reserves which at any time under our laws they could turn into our Treasury for more gold.

The United States' financial position took a turn for the better last summer as exports rose, the Commerce Department says. But there's no assurance that this will continue long.

The feuding European nations are the six Common Market partners — West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg; and the seven in the European Free Trade Assn. England, Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Austria, Switzerland and Portugal.

There's a chance they can reach economic agreement, barring discrimination against the goods of any of the 13. But there's a fear that they can't, or won't.

And there's an even stronger possibility that they might set up tariff walls against outsiders, keeping the rich European market largely to themselves. Ever since the war, many American firms have found this market all but denied to them.

It's a long way from the immediate postwar ideal of working toward the freest possible trade and payments systems and in time making them worldwide.

Register, NAACP Tells South's Negro

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Some 1,700 Negro ministers throughout the South are being asked by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People to encourage every church member to become a registered voter during the first half of 1960.

Promotional literature distributed here by Kelly M. Alexander of Charlotte, N. C., chairman of the NAACP voter registration committee, says:

"If one-half of all the church members in the South were to become registered voters, overnight we would have more than three million Negro voters in the South. The effect of this number of Negro voters upon the political picture of the nation would be tremendous.

"It would lead to a better way of life for every segment of our population, black or white."

Holly Hikes Village Employes' Pay

Will Require $3,000 Yearly

Council Grants First Wage Increase Since 1957 Adjustments

By JIM LONG

HOLLY — Village employes here were granted a pay raise—the first in two years—by councilmen last night.

The over-all pay boost will affect 17 persons now on the payroll. It will cost the village an additional $3,000 annually.

Council authorized the new wage scale to go into effect the first of the year.

The personnel committee of the Council made the recommendations.

Its report to the Council noted, "There have been no wage adjustments in the village since 1957 and we have intentionally made an effort to hold the line on pay raises due to the general economic condition of the area during the recession in 1958."

ONE QUESTIONER

Only Councilman John M. Van Deusen questioned the pay raise.

He said he felt that the salary of the village manager was too high for Holly, with a population of only 3,000.

Village Manager Norman E. Tufford earns $7,800. The new wage scale would bring him to $8,600, including a $600 transportation allowance.

When other members of the Council told Van Deusen that villages smaller than Holly were paying managers as high as $9,000 to $10,000 a year, he dropped his questioning.

Other annual wage adjustments were: Police Chief, $500; sewage plant operator, $200.

Patrolmen were given a $2.50 a week increase, radio operators, $5 a week; office clerk, $5 a week.

It was noted that patrolmen, when joining the department, receive a basic uniform and are given $50 a year uniform maintenance allowance.

In another action, the Council authorized drilling of a test well on an acre of land in the northwest section of the village.

The well will be drilled early next year.

The land is leased to the village with the option to purchase should the well prove a success. The Adelphian Academy owns the land at the end of Winifred drive.

Drilling of the well, which would be the village's fourth if successful, was recommended by consultant Dr. William G. Kech.

Kech was hired to study possible well sites when the village experienced a dry spell the past summer.

Will Help Put Up Recreation Structure

Avon Accepts Free Building Aid

AVON TOWNSHIP — The offer of architects and engineers who have volunteered to help plan a new recreation building in the township park was accepted by the Avon Township Board last night.

The professionals who offered their help on the proposed project are all members of the Northwest Avon Inter-Association Council.

Board members asked the group to begin by estimating the cost of a two-story building with the main floor to cover 15,000 square feet.

The township has a $30,000 grant to be used for recreational purposes, but it is possible that the voters will be asked for one or a half mill to support the proposed project, township officials believe.

In other action, the plat for University Hills No. 1 subdivision was approved subject to approval of plans for a water system there by the township engineer. It is located near Avon and Old Perch roads.

The Township Board also approved the plat for Avon Manor Estates No. 2 providing that a surety bond be posted pending completion of its water system. This subdivision is at John R and Auburn road.

Board members also agreed to extend the tax payment deadline to Feb. 15 at the request of Township Treasurer Helen V. Allen.

The Reciprocal Heating Board of Examiners of the City of Pontiac was designated the examining board for applicants for heating contractors' licenses in Avon Township.

This arrangement will be in effect until the township establishes its own board of examiners.

SUGGEST NAME

The Board also voted to send a letter to the Rochester Board of Education suggesting that the new grade school, now in the planning stage, be named in honor of the late Howard L. McGregor. Mr. McGregor and his son, Howard L. McGregor Jr., donated the plot where the new school will be built.

The inefficient operation of two township dumps was brought to the attention of the Township Board by Inspector Charles Bratton and a representative of the Oakland County Health Department. They said they found garbage littering one dump site and refuse not being covered as required at the other.

The matter was turned over to the township attorney for a recommendation at the next meeting.

An amendment to that portion of the zoning ordinance governing erection of billboards in the township was suggested as a result of a request to put one up at Grant and Auburn roads.

Township Attorney Rex Bebout said they could not be prohibited but could be regulated by ordinance. The matter was referred to the zoning committee for a recommendation.

Threatens Row in Pontiac Twp.

Trustee Warns He'll File Complaint Unless 'Drastic' Action Taken

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — A Pontiac Township trustee today is threatening to file a complaint with the Oakland County prosecutor unless some agreement can be reached regarding township operation.

George E. Lyle, who was elected to the Township Board last spring, has sent a letter of complaint to Supervisor Leroy Davis, Clerk Greta Block and Treasurer Goldie Mailahn.

In it he lists what he says are five causes for "drastic action."

He charges that a complete detailed list of expenses is not furnished each month for information and approval of the Township Board and that mail addressed to the Board is being withheld from the trustees.

Further, he complains that a budget has not been furnished to the trustees for the past three years and that access to the township offices is being denied to trustees by withholding of keys.

His final complaint is that contracts above $500 are being awarded without bids.

Lyle added that he "deeply regrets" having to resort to this action but that he can see no other way to obtain the information.

Supervisor Davis said today that he has not yet received the letter, and upon learning its contents he said, "I don't worry about him. Some of the charges are false."

Mrs. Block echoed, "All of them are," and Mrs. Mailahn contended that Lyle is asking that things be done when he "doesn't do his own work."

The treasurer said that Lyle is secretary of the Building and Grounds Committee and that he has not turned in minutes of that group's meeting.

It is expected that the letter will cause considerable comment from both sides at the next township meeting Jan. 11.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY — Friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Hether, 5176 Somerton St., Troy, will hold an open house from 1 to 5 p. m. Sunday at Brown City VFW Hall to celebrate the couple's 50th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Hether have lived in the area all their lives. He is a retired postal carrier. They have raised five children and have 21 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Southfield Appoints New Chief of Police

SOUTHFIELD — The City Council has confirmed Milton Sackett's appointment as chief of police effective Jan. 1.

Sackett, 30, has been captain and acting police chief here since Philip J. LaVigne retired from the top post earlier this year.

Heading the 27-man police department will earn Sackett an annual salary of $6,890. He said the force would be increased to 30 members by the first of the year.

When Sackett started with the department in 1954, he and LaVigne were Southfield Township's only policemen.

8,000 Statements Mailed

White Lake Twp. Taxes Fall

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Some 8,000 tax statements have been sent to residents of six school districts here.

Township Supervisor Edward Cheyz said that in all six, the county operation tax rate has fallen from $6.90 to $6.35 per $1,000 of assessed valuation.

The county special education and all school district operating taxes also have dropped he said.

"Only in the school districts that have voted for extra operating millage have taxes gone up slightly," Cheyz said.

The breakdown per $1,000 in assessed valuation for residents in the six districts are Holly, $33.90; Huron Valley, $32.95; Clarkston, $34.10; Waterford, $35.65; Walled Lake, $30.05; and Dublin $36.30.

The total actually spread over the six school districts is $502,735, he said.

The county special education tax amounted to $7,861, Cheyz reported.

He added that the White Lake and Duck Lake drain tax was $371.

Tax on the Pontiac Lake level control was $11,375. This was $315 less than last year, he said.

The deadline for paying the taxes is Jan. 20.

Walled Lake to Borrow $500,000

Approves School Loan

WALLED LAKE — Borrowing of $500,000 by the Walled Lake Consolidated School District to add a new wing to the recently completed Clifford H. Smart Junior High School was approved yesterday by the State Municipal Finance Commission at Lansing.

A part of the loan, all of which will be raised through floating a general obligation bond issue, will be used to construct a wing on Union Lake Elementary School. Both additions are expected to be completed by June 1960, according to the school superintendent's office.

The presently approved borrowing constitutes the balance of a $2 million bond issue, and is the last in a series.

Altogether, borrowing of $6,885,000 by school districts throughout the state was approved yesterday by the commission.

Thank Heaven, Girls Prefer Dolls

Look Out, Mom, It's a Rocket!

By LOIS MCKEE

DETROIT (UPI) — The new year will find many a mother ducking miniature "interspace rockets" if Christmas toy sales are an indication.

Buyers for major department stores in the metropolitan area said a new ballistic missile layout ranked very high in the sales to Santa's helpers."

The toy, which sends pint-sized missiles into space from miniature launching pads, joined the old favorite toys for boys while girls stuck with the traditional choice — dolls.

But this year, the buyers noted, the girls' favorites in toys leaned toward the economy size. Sales of giant dolls which the very young can walk with and exchange clothes with, shared the spotlight of toys for girls, along with giant stuffed animals, many of them comparing in size with a great Dane dog.

TRADITIONS UPHELD

Boys' choices along with the new missile center stuck to traditionals also—the erector sets, guns and holsters, planes, boats, printing sets and cars and trucks of all shapes and sizes.

But the "do-it-yourself" trend, which invaded the adult world several years ago, this year took a high place in boys' toy sales. Buyers said the maze of "build-an-anything" kits sold on a large scale for the first time this year.

The girls mimicked adult habits this year, also, with the introduction of doll houses equipped with Danish modern furniture and outdoor swimming pools.

Salesgirls asked aboout certain kinds of toy department items said they often inquired "How old is the child?" only to find the shoppers were buying for "grown-up kids." Especially prominent in this group were action games such as battery-powered tabletop hockey, baseball and football sets.

Adult interest in craft sets, word puzzle and skill games was believed to account for a good portion of the sales in those "toys."

Buyers noted the varieties of painting sets had competition in sales this year from the recently-introduced mosaic art kits.

The store spokesmen noted sales were "normal" on old standbys such as baby dolls, tea sets, cap guns, rifles, kaleidoscopes and desks.

And generally, they noted, sales were as high or higher than in previous years despite the recent steel strike and layoffs which resulted from it.

U.S.-Euratom Authorizes 23 Research Contracts

BRUSSELS (AP)—The U.S.-Euratom Joint Research and Development Board announced Tuesday that 23 contracts for research and development work, totaling about $3,500,000 have been authorized within the community and the United States in the past six months.

Fourteen Euratom communities and eight U.S. organizations are represented in the nuclear projects authorized.

China Prisoners Face Lonely Yule

Five Americans Will Be Given No Luxuries —It's Just Another Day

HONG KONG (AP)—It will be another lonely Christmas for five American prisoners in Communist China.

Christmas cards from home may provide the only Yuletide touch to set the day off from the thousands of days they have served and have yet to serve.

The modest Red Cross parcels they receive will concentrate as always on basic necessities. There is no room for Christmas luxuries.

Even gaily colored Christmas wrappings may be suspect or cause complications or delay.

This will be the eighth Christmas behind Red China's prison bars for John T. Downey of New Britain, Conn., and Richard Fecteau of Lynn, Mass., U. S. Army civilian employes sentenced to life imprisonment and 20 years, respectively, on charges of espionage.

It will be the ninth Christmas in jail for Robert McCann of Altadena, Calif., and Hugh F. Redmond Jr. of Yonkers, N.Y., American businessmen serving terms of 15 years and life imprisonment, respectively, on similar charges.

Roman Catholic Bishop James E. Walsh of Cumberland, Md., has been held incommunicado since October 1958 on unspecified charges.

These five Americans will probably spend most of this Christmas Day reading, with one hour out for exercise.

As far as can be ascertained, that is the routine they follow every day. And as far as the Chinese Communists are concerned, Christmas Day is just another day.

Lots of Healthy Berries Around for Christmas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plenty of cranberries—free from weed-killer poison—are available for Christmas dinners, Sec. of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming said today.

Flemming sent letters to federal agencies, including public health service hospitals, urging them to use tested cranberries on holiday menus.

Human Consideration Comes Before Cash

LEO DUROCHER is credited with the phrase "Nice guys finish last," and that might be stretched to cover the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital situation.

The State Health Department has discontinued payments for welfare patients at that hospital, saying that the hospital is overcrowded and does not meet the required standards.

The amount of cash is not a small item, $34 per day per welfare patient. But the hospital won't turn away those that need its healing facilities and personnel. Administrator Sister Mary Xavier says that it would violate the principles of the hospital to turn anyone away.

A solution hasn't been reached but we credit St. Joseph hospital for standing by its guns and continuing to care for those who need it. This is humane treatment on the top level and is exactly what the community has long since come to expect from this well-run, well-established and competent institution. Maybe some officials somewhere don't like crowding and we assure them St. Joe doesn't, either. But we're proud that St. Joe lets compassion come first.

Henry P. Gaukler Jr.

Pontiac is suffering abnormally through unfortunate deaths at the Holiday Season.

HENRY P. GAUKLER JR., member of a well known pioneer family of Pontiac and vicinity, has been claimed by the Grim Reaper following an operation and after a brief illness.

The Gaukler Storage and Moving Company has been an integral part of this community for many, many years. Completely established in his own right, Mr. Henry Gaukler was a member of a distinguished group of Pontiac residents who have long been active in the affairs of this general area.

Genial, likeable and "a friend of everyone," the city suffers another wrench in this untimely demise. Only 41, Mr. Gaukler was struck down just when his lifetime was becoming its most productive and when it gave fine promises for even better accomplishments in the time ahead. No city can afford to lose good men at this early age and we are especially unfortunate in the loss of HENRY P. GAUKLER, JR.

Contentment of All Will Insure Peace

United Auto Workers president, WALTER REUTHER, says that the free world's most important job is to "wage a mass offensive against poverty, hunger, ignorance and disease. I believe one cannot make peace and freedom secure when a large part of the world's population is well fed and the other half goes hungry."

Everyone can buy this.

Right here we face one of the world's most pressing and titanic problems. The globe unites in this battle wherever it exists.

Law Should Allow Test for Intoxicated Drivers

Michigan law enforcement officials aren't going to give up on having the Legislature legalize chemical testing of drivers for intoxication.

The Senate passed such a bill this year, but it died in the House Judiciary Committee. However, a like bill will be submitted again. Perhaps passage will allow more police officers to issue tickets for drunk driving and make them stick, rather than bring the distinctly different but often considered lesser charge of reckless driving.

There are reliable measuring devices available, and with 42 per cent of the state's traffic fatals being caused by drinking drivers, it's time we used 20th century methods to deal with this problem.

"THERE are 15 different kinds of rain," says a meteorologist. All of of them, however, are alike in that they are wet.

To Send 1959 Yule Card to State's Oldest Resident

Success: What more people would be if it didn't require such an effort.

This is your final chance to gladden the heart of Michigan's oldest resident by sending her a 1959 Christmas card. She is

Mrs. Eliza Beaumont Taylor of our own Oakland County, who celebrated her 110th birthday last week.

This column is conducting its annual greeting card shower for her, and it already has assumed quite large proportions. We wish to make it larger than ever before.

The Highland post office is ready to do its duty, if you will do yours. She loves every card and missive that she receives. Get yours into the mail at once. If you're too late to do otherwise, send her a New Year's greeting. Send her some recognition anyway. She's expecting you to do it.

The Pontiac city directory does not list any members of

has a number of representatives. And there are no Kringles.

Fearing that the snow would not last until Christmas, the children of

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Parkinson of Waterford gathered enough to make a six-foot snow man.

Another Santa Claus letter in the true Christmas spirit comes from who asks only for a small doll for herself and a real bone for her dog.

"Betty Louise,"

A native of Oakland County was

Miss Maud E. Bird

who died Sunday at Sterling. Born in 1879 at Oxford, she taught in the schools there and at Ortonville, also in Detroit.

Assure a Merry Christmas in your home by keeping the children off the ice on our lakes. None of them are safe.

The snow machines on the ski slopes at Mount Holly, according to

Mort Graddis,

are having some difficulty in keeping up with the whims of the weather.

The Christmas tree with 1,014 lights and house lined with 420 more at the home of

Joe Haas

in Holly will continue the illumination until after Jan. 1.

The family cat in the home of

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Brearley at Lake Orion doesn't like this Christmas spirit. She refuses to enter the house since the Christmas tree was set up, but sleeps and eats in the garage.

"An' I Thought I Was Going to Be So Comfortable"

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Erases 'Hate America' Theme

WASHINGTON — Despite the platitudes in the official communiques, something dramatic and of far-reaching significance that couldn't be put into words was accomplished by President Eisenhower's 22,000-mile tour of 11 nations in Asia, Europe and Africa.

LAWRENCE

Good will toward America was manifested on every side. The unselfish purposes of the United States were recognized.

No longer can it be said by wishful partisans in American politics that America is "hated" everywhere abroad.

Millions of people in all the countries visited had an opportunity to show their friendship for the American people.

Eisenhower was the symbolic recipient of bouquets of appreciation for the interest the United States has taken in countries, large and small, many of which have received economic aid from this country in the struggling years of their existence.

Critics, of course, have not been silent. The London "Daily Herald," organ of the Socialist Labor Party, for instance, called Eisenhower's visit to Spain a "blunder."

It declared that "Those who believe in freedom feel betrayed," and didn't want to see Eisenhower "hobnobbing" with Gen. Franco.

But this same "left-wing" newspaper cheered Prime Minister Macmillan's visit to dictator Khrushchev, ignoring the protests at the time of many exiles from the Communist-dominated countries.

Eisenhower didn't make his trip to give sanction to this or that form of government in any country.

His cordial reception of Nikita Khrushchev here last September and the forthcoming visit which Eisenhower will pay to the Soviet Union next spring are intended to emphasize a people-to-people relationship.

Everywhere on his trip just completed the President referred to this theme because he knows that authoritarian forms of government are temporary and that eventually the nations of the world must inevitably find their salvation in free governments.

President Eisenhower proved an extraordinary ambassador of good will. His personality is just the kind that exudes friendliness and geniality.

His record as the supreme commander of the Allied forces in Europe in World War II gave him a prestige broader than any other visiting dignitary could enjoy today in those same countries.

When all is said and done, the value of the trip comes in its aftereffects. Militarily it is important for the United States to maintain air bases in Morocco and Spain.

It is important to have Allies in countries like Pakistan, Iran and Turkey, and it is vital to the future of Southeast Asia for the United States and India to be getting closer together in an economic as well as a political sense.

Much has been said, incidentally, about the so-called change in American policy toward India. Nehru for the last few years has been pursuing a "neutralist" course.

It has been argued that America finally decided in recent months not to be hostile to neutralism.

Quite the opposite has happened. It is India herself which has awakened to the dangers of neutralism.

In a broad sense, American diplomacy has been alert and flexible and those who say that all this couldn't have happened if John Foster Dulles were still secretary of state will not find any agreement on that point from President Eisenhower himself.

For he knows from intimate conversations he had with Mr. Dulles that the latter favored flexible policies but felt the occasions must be timely and carefully selected.

Mr. Dulles was dedicated to the people-to-people approach which now has been developed so effectively by the President's memorable tour.

Dr. William Brady Says:

For Peptic Ulcer? Eat Anything If You Chew It

Very early editions of Little Lesson No. 3, So You Have Indigestion? (for a copy of the present edition send me 35c and a stamped envelope bearing your address) included several pages of diet lists and lists of foods the peptic ulcer patient may or may not eat.

These cut and dried lists were deleted from later editions, not because peptic ulcer (gastric or duodenal) has gone out of fashion, but because we know more about ulcer, diet and nutrition than we knew when you and I were young, Maggie.

DR. BRADY

I'm afraid I'll have to define the word gastric, lest some readers misunderstand. It refers to the stomach and not to gas. For that matter, the presence of more than the ordinary or normal amount of gas in stomach and/or bowel is incidental, insignificant and never accounts for pain, colic or more than momentary, minor discomfort.

Patients who complain about "gas on the stomach" or become greatly concerned about "that gas pressing on the heart" are not so sick as they are troubled with thick coming fancies.

In the first place, as analysis shows, that "gas" is mostly air swallowed by the worried or anxious patient; or in some instances it is simply carbon dioxide (carbonic acid) gas generated in the stomach by the chemical reaction of the normal acid of the stomach (hydrochloric acid) with the bicarbonate of soda, saleratus or similar stuff taken by the poor geek to "correct acidity."

The first essential for successful management of peptic ulcer is to keep efficient the only part of the entire digestive process over which one has any control.

That, as I explain in the free pamphlet Yankee Stomach, (free, that is, if you provide stamped envelope bearing your address), is oral digestion. Salivary digestion goes on in the mouth during mastication and continues for half an hour or longer after the morsel is swallowed, if the food has been properly masticated.

And so we go to the dentist — and go regularly and thankfully if we really value health, vite, efficiency and longevity.

The great doctors of former times — Cruveilheir, Ewald, Sippy and others — restricted the diet of ulcer patients with little or no knowledge or consideration for nutrition. They were preoccupied with control of stomach acidity and prevention of irritation of the ulcer.

The elaborate diet they prescribed were theoretically as impressive as were the algebraic modified milk formulas the baby specialists of the day prescribed. Practically there was little evidence that ulcer patients derived much benefit from following the very rigid schedules.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Druggist's Price Can't Be Compared With Institution'

Let's not crucify the local druggists by implying that they charge twice as much for tranquilizers as the Pontiac State Hospital. Most, if not all, drug manufacturers sell a product to a tax supported institution for less than the independent druggist has to pay.

The independent druggist must pay his share of the "anonymous psychiatrist's" salary, the hospital pharmacist's salary and all other. He also pays his share of the total operating expense.

If institutions added taxes, employe salaries, charities, operational costs, bad debt losses, etc., to their cost, the price to the patient would not differ much. Let's keep our comparisons fair.

'What You Give May Help Child'

Today my three children each received a Christmas gift signed "From Daddy." However, their father is in prison in Illinois. He was one of two young men who, in the line of duty and attempting law enforcement, were involved in the unfortunate accident which resulted in both men receiving prison sentences. (Your paper carried an editorial on this in July 1958.)

My children and I are living with relatives in Pontiac and our holiday won't be the same this year. The gifts, so happily received because they were signed "From Daddy," were sent by the St. Louis, Mo., Salvation Army post.

If the public would only remember the good deeds done by such organizations, I'm sure many could be made happy, both in giving and receiving. When passing the Christmas kettles in your shopping area, remember you may help gladden a sad child's heart.

'Humans Should Come First'

The most pitiful part of the story of overpopulation is that in countries where such conditions exist, there is great architecture worth untold billions of dollars while multitudes of poor and needy people die every day of hunger.

I'm positive this Great and Gracious God of ours doesn't need or want great buildings but rather men and women, boys and girls dedicating their lives to Him.

I wonder if we, too, in America aren't worshiping our god of men and materialism and giving God second best. America was founded on the Bible, and if we again turn to it, all our problems, including birth control, can be solved.

Another Questions State Equalization

Dec. 15 you printed a letter on real estate tax equalization. I also wish to understand this equalization process whereby some board or group decides what rate each town or city shall pay.

Who are they, and what method do they use in determining that, for example, Oak Park pays less than Birmingham by means of a different assessment rate? It sounds discriminatory and undemocratic.

Such items as have been published regarding current rates have never made the process clear. Please do us the favor of printing a good explanation.

A week ago it said in "And in Conclusion" that the jeers of the week went to the Alfred Hitchcock TV program. That one was pretty terrible, but last week's was even worse. This program shows how fast you can go from the top to the bottom in TV. Someone ought to write Hitchcock and tell him to take a little personal interest in this.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

These Questions Are Universal

After Glen Long introduced me to the crowd of 1,000 women, he left me alone to answer their varied queries. Scrapbook these with yesterday's list so you can see some of the typical problems besetting modern American women. They are duplicated hundreds of times in every city, for psychological problems are as common as medical ailments.

By GEORGE W. CRANE

Case D - 433: Glen Long, aged about 30, is the handsome Managing Editor of the Spartanburg Herald.

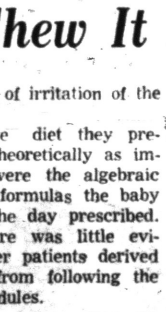
When Phil Buchheit, the dynamic publisher, scheduled me for a large "Women Only" clinic, he asked Glen Long to introduce me.



CRANE

After a very gracious send-off, Glen departed, leaving me alone as the only male in this large gathering of women.

Following my 45-minute talk, we held a forum, and some of their questions which I didn't have time to answer, are listed below.

Please notice how sincerely these women are trying to create happy homes. This serious mood is typical of the thousands of letters that they send me each week via this column.

WOMEN'S QUESTIONS

"How can I get my daughter more interested in her school work and in going to college at least for one year?"

"Why does my husband constantly find fault and try to correct me in front of the children?"

"Can pregnant mothers mark their babies?"

Why do some husbands maintain ultra secretiveness about where they are going and seem to delight in keeping their wives ignorant of where they can be reached?"

"How do you explain a wife who loves dogs and cats but hates children?"

"How can you help a child with a severe inferiority complex?"

"Should a child be punished for falling down in his school marks?"

"What's wrong with a 14-year-old who plays hookey and doesn't want to go to school? He is also rebellious when corrected by his teacher."

"My 10-year-old girl wishes to be a boy and refuses to wear girl's clothing except under coercion. She is crazy about horses and seems to want to be a cowboy."

"How can I help my husband quit drinking? He says he wants to do so, but never does."

"My husband puts his parents ahead of myself and our children and is always ready at their beck and call. Is that right?"

"How can I get my husband to take me dining and dancing occasionally?"

"At the age of 50, my husband suddenly told me he didn't love me any more and has started running around with girls half his age? Why?"

"After my six-year-old was sick for three weeks, he cried and didn't want to go back to school. Why?"

"My husband has a severe inferiority complex, so how can I help him overcome it?"

How can you get your children to help around the house without making them do so, or paying them for each task?"

"What makes a husband a veritable miser with money?"

"My husband spends all his spare time hunting or fishing and deserts me and our three children. Shouldn't he try to include us occasionally?"

"Is it better for a widow to live with her grown children or remain alone in the old homestead?"

"I'm a shy girl, in love with a shy boy, so how do I stand a chance against the popular girls?"

"What can I do with a gifted child who is lazy and then, when his grades drop, refuses to let me help him?"

"Is 56 too early for a woman to lose sex desires, and how should I manage a husband of 58?"

"How can I get my husband to read ALL of your newspaper columns, instead of just the ones in which some of my faults are mentioned?"

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Ross Manchester Will Head Group; Turnout Is Disappointing

At an organization meeting this week, Ross S. Manchester, a 26-year-old real estate salesman from Pontiac, was elected chairman of the city's chapter of "Citizens for Michigan."

Manchester, of 70 Edison St., immediately expressed disappointment at the turnout of only about 20 at the chapter's first meeting.

In blaming the small gathering on the approaching holidays, Manchester said he believed this won't be the pattern in the future.

Elected secretary-treasurer of the city group was Edward W. Keehn of 183 Pingree St., a student at Michigan State University Oakland.

At its next meeting in January, the group will establish groups for study of the state's government structure, finances and services.

It will be part of an over-all study of the state's governmental and economic troubles by similar citizen groups across Michigan.

Williams Giving Books About Self for Christmas

LANSING (AP)—Some 2,000 persons on Gov. Williams' Christmas list have begun receiving advance copies of his biography — "Mennen Williams of Michigan; Fighter for Progress."

The book, termed a "campaign biography" was written by Frank McNaughton, a Chicago free lance writer, who has authored books on Harry S. Truman. It is scheduled to be issued Jan. 28 by Oceana Publications, Inc., of New York.

In previous years, Williams has given Christmas gifts such as small desk calendars, fountain pens and toilet articles.

Wilson Meat Strike Likely to Go Into '60

CHICAGO (UPI) — A federal mediator said today negotiations to end a 55-day, nationwide strike against Wilson & Co. have "made headway," but that bargaining probably will continue into the new year.

Federal mediator Douglas D. Brown said he should know by the end of bargaining sessions today whether a settlement can be reached before the new year.

If not, he said, negotiations probably will be recessed for the holidays.

'Bugged' Milk Lessening, U.S. Scientists Report

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Government scientists announced yesterday that the danger of milk contamination by insecticides was being reduced rapidly.

At the same time, milk industry leaders said that in most cases where insecticide residues were found in milk, they were too small to be a health danger.

Santa and the ICE KING

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

CHAPTER 15

The Ice King looked sheepish. "You are right," he said. "I had forgotten it's August and supposed to be summertime in Northern lands. I'm not needed there at all."

"So," said Santa, "you and the Ice Queen can stay here and make winter for the South Pole lands. Then, in December, when it's summertime at the bottom of the world, you and the Queen can come North and make winter at the top of the world."

"How wonderful!" exclaimed the Queen. "That way we'll always be together!"

"And we'll be able to make winter all year 'round," said the King happily.

"And no one will hate you," said Santa, "because everyone will have warm weather for half the year."

"HOORAY!"

Oonik could hold himself in no longer. "Hooray!" he shouted, jumping up and down. "Everything is settled. Let's hurry home and tell my people the news."

"They already know," said Santa, "for the Ice King has already been some days away from his job. But you are right, and I, too, must hurry back to my shops for I've a whole year's work ahead of me and summer, if it has come, is almost gone."

The Ice King laughed. "Don't worry," he said. "I couldn't be surprised if we're very slow coming up from our honeymoon and winter will have a late start this year in Eskimo land."

Santa and Oonik and Keotuk got on the sled but the polar bear wouldn't get on. He stood between the Ice King and the Ice Queen and refused to be coaxed away.

"Leave him here," said the Queen and King. "We three will rule the winters together."

So Oonik and Santa left them there and headed back for Santa Land. When they arrived they found that, sure enough, the snow had already begun to melt and the frozen sea had broken up.

The fairy land workers rushed out to greet them. "You did it!" cried crooked-legged Tweedleknees. "You conquered the Ice King!"

MADE FRIENDS

"Not conquered," said Santa with a smile. "We just made friends with him."

"MERRY CHRISTMAS to all!" Oonik shouted from his kayak.

Mrs. Claus came running from the house. "Oh, Santa," she cried. "My rheumatism is all gone. And guess what? I saw birds yesterday — flying up from the South! Oh, summer is really here!" She caught Oonik up in an embrace. "You poor hungry boy —you come right in and I'll fix you some gingerbread men."

But, Oonik remembered the gingerbread he had had on the trip and he said, "Thank you ba, I must be on may way. My people will be starting for their summer hunting grounds and I must be there to help them."

"Ha!" scoffed Tweedleknees while Santa disappeared into the toy shop. "How will you get home? The ice on the sea is broken up and your sled will do you no good."

Oonik had really thought Santa would take him home so now he was crestfallen and worried.

Tweedleknees slapped him on the back. "Cheer up!" he shouted gleefully. "I have made you a boat!"

Then he took Oonik to the water's edge and showed him a kayak — the strongest, tightest, most beautiful kayak any Eskimo ever had. It had two holes in its seal skin top. Oonik fitted himself into one hole and Keotuk fitted into the other.

"Don't forget the paddle," called Santa running down from the shop. "It's a very special paddle for a very special boy. Stroke but once and it will carry you across the widest sea."

Oonik reached up for the paddle and his whole face shone with astonished pleasure.

"Why it's—it's just like Christmas!" he exclaimed.

"And why not?" smiled Santa. "It's been a cold, cold summer!"

Then he and Tweedleknees and Mrs. Claus and all the Santa folk cried "Merry Christmas!" Oonik shouted "Merry Christmas to all!" and gave one push with his paddle and sped home across the summer sea.

Canada, U.S. Will Build 45 New Radar Stations

OTTAWA (UP)—Canada and the United States have agreed on construction of 45 new radar stations to fill the gaps in the Pinetree Air Defense Line in Canada, a Defense Department spokesman said today.

Work on determining the sites has started, the spokesman said. Estimated cost of the project will run into millions of dollars.

The gap-filling stations are intended to overcome one of the chief loopholes in the Pinetree radar system: inability to detect aircraft with any degree of accuracy below an altitude of 2,000 feet.

Says New Cars Raise Traffic Toll

Iowa's Gov. Loveless Says They're Not Built Strongly Nowadays

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Gov. Herschel C. Loveless charged Tuesday that Iowa's increasing traffic death toll was due, in part, to the fact that American-built cars just aren't constructed the way they used to be.

Loveless said, "The auto makers seem to be more interested in power than they are in safety.

"Although the prime responsibility for auto accidents rests with the driver, the failure of the cars to stand the impact of collisions is also a cause of the increased deaths on Iowa highways," Loveless said.

The Democratic Iowa governor said he expects to bring up the subject during the February meeting of the executive committee on the National Governors' Conference.

"Car manufacturers are now depending on the shaping of the exterior pieces to hold the car together rather than depending on framework," he said.

"There is nothing to indicate that mechanical failure has caused accidents," the governor said. "Mechanically, the cars are generally of sound construction," he said.

"It is the construction of the body itself that isn't strong enough," he said.

The governor said car manufacturers "must accept the responsibility of constructing as safe a vehicle as it is possible to build."

French Woman Will Be Married to Dead Fiance

PARIS (UPI) — Irene Jodar, 18, of Frejus will get her wish to marry a dead man — the fiance who died in the floodwaters of the collapsed Malpasset Dam.

The National Assembly cleared away legal obstacles yesterday by amending the law which permits betrothed French women to marry soldiers killed on the field of battle.

The amendment authorized the President of France to give permission for any marriage between a living person and the dead.

President Charles de Gaulle already has indicated he will give his approval to the "marriage" of the grieving Irene and the dead Andre Capra, 22. Capra drowned while helping in rescue work in Frejus.

During his visit to the battered city last week, De Gaulle told Irene he would see what he could do to help her.

"tI was my dearest wish to be Andre's wife," Irene told De Gaulle. She added: "I will be at least his widow."

To Start Jet Service Between Chicago, East

CHICAGO (UPI) — United Air Lines will inaugurate the first pure jet service between Chicago and Washington, D.C., and Baltimore on Jan. 2, the airline announces.

The daily flights will connect San Francisco with Chicago-O'Hare International Airport and Baltimore's Friendship Airport.

The airline will utilize new DC8 105-passenger planes for the flights to the Washington area, which up to now has been serviced by piston and prop-jet planes.

Civil War Vet on Last March

Thousands Pay Silent Tribute at Williams' Military Funeral

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Green-clad Army infantry troops escorted the body of Civil War veteran Walter W. Williams through downtown streets today to a Baptist church where he was eulogized as one of mankind's immortals.

Thousands stood in silent tribute as the military procession left the Civil Courts Building where the body of the 117-year-old Confederate lay in state.

Williams, last survivor of the War Between the States, died Saturday. Doctors said death followed complications arising from old age.

Two platoons of picked 4th Army troops marched behind the gleaming black hearse bearing the old soldier to the cream-colored brick South Main Baptist church.

Behind them marched a firing squad and a 25-man fife and drum corps from Mount Vernon, Ohio.

Eight uniformed military pallbearers accompanied the body on foot. Honorary pallbearers rode in a limousine leading the procession.

The procession was to leave the church immediately after services for Franklin, Tex., 125 miles north of here where military rites were to be administered at graveside.

Lou Costello's Daughter Assigned Two Guardians

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A judge has named two guardians for the late film comedian Lou Costello's youngest daughter, Christine, 12.

Appointed Tuesday were Costello's brother, Pat, as guardian of the girl's estate, and her older sister, Patricia C. Mobley, 22, as guardian of her person.

Judge Frank S. Balthis was told Christine will inherit property from her father's $200,000 estate and from that of her mother, Anne Costello. Another daughter, Carol, 20, also survives.

The comedian died last March 5; his widow died Dec. 5.

Wesley, Watts, Luther Among Them

Many Pen Joyous Yule Carols

(Editors Note: The words to "Joy to the World" were written by Isaac Watts in 1719. A century and a half later the music was added by a Massachusetts man. The intervening period was one of the most fruitful for carol writers. This is the second of three articles on how our Christmas carols were born.)

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN
AP News Writer

Isaac Watts, often called the "Father of Hymnody," came into the world when Christmas carol singing was regarded as "ye work of ye devil."

It was the latter half of the 17th Century, a time of great religious upheaval in Europe. Calvin's insistence that "the Bible alone" be used in public worship had driven popular hymns out of many churches, particularly in England among the strict Puritan sects.

Instead of hymns, the congregation chanted selected passages from the Scriptures, usually the Psalms. The clerk intoned the first line in a monotone and the people, as Watts once complained, responded with "dull indifference."

Watts, one of nine children, was the son of a boarding house keeper and deacon of the Independent church who had twice gone to prison for his religious beliefs.

As a boy, Isaac had stood with his mother outside the prison gates to sing hymns to his father and the other inmates. His parents managed somehow to scrape together enough money to encourage his love of music with piano lessons.

His career as a hymn writer began when he complained one day about the uninspired songs heard in the church the family attended at Southampton.

"Then make some better ones," challenged his father.

Watts, although in poor health most of his life, responded by writing more than 600. At first they were called "Watts' Whims," but their popularity grew rapidly. When Benjamin Franklin set up his printing press at Philadelphia in 1741, the first book issued was "Watts Psalms and Hymns."

The music we hear today to "Joy to the World" was added more than 150 years after Watts wrote the words. It was composed in about 1870 by Lowell Mason of Medfield, Mass., and based somewhat loosely on themes found in Handel's "Messiah."

DIED IN 1748

When Watts died in 1748, his place in the world of religious music had already been preempted by Charles Wesley, brother of John Wesley, the founder of Methodism.

The brothers went to America in 1735 as missionaries to the new colony at Georgia, where Charles was to be secretary to Gen. James Oglethorpe.

Ill health forced him to return less than a year later, but he never forgot the marvelous singing of the German Moravian colonists.

The Moravians, a devout sect who later moved to Pennsylvania, gave Charles Wesley the inspiration for his life work.

He published his first hymns at Charleston, S. C., and was brought before the grand jury in Savanah for introducing "Unauthorized Hymns into the Worship."

As the "Poet Laureate of Methodism," he wrote more than 6,000 hymns, finding inspiration almost anywhere and writing with ease under the most difficult conditions. Once he fell off his horse while accompanying brother John on an evangelical mission and complained that the resulting injury "spoiled all my hymn writing for that day."

LUTHER WROTE CAROLS

Martin Luther, the great German reformer, was also a prodigious author of Christmas carols, but it is doubted if he wrote "Away in a Manger," sometimes known as "Luther's Cradle Hymn."

"The carol, in the opinion of most authorities, originated among German Lutherans in Pennsylvania and was taken back to Germany in the 1840s.

He wrote "From Heaven Above to Earth I Come," his most famous carol, as a Christmas cradle song for his son Paul. Bach harmonized this song for his Christmas oratorio.

German soldiers sang in the trenches during a Christmas lull in the Franco-Prussian War of 1870. French soldiers responded with Adolphe Adam's "Canticle of Christmas," better known as "O Holy Night."

Tomorrow: "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

U.S. Military to Quit Morocco

5 Bases to Be Vacated by 1963, According to Ike-Mohammed Pact

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP)—United States forces will begin to depart from Morocco in the immediate future, and will complete withdrawal by 1963, a joint communique from President Eisenhower and King Mohammed V said Tuesday night.

United States forces man five bases at Nouasseur, Port Lyautey, Sidi Slimane, Bem Guerig and Boulhaut. They cost 400 million dollars.

The communique said immediate steps will be taken to release the airfield at Boulhaut, and this will be achieved not later than March 31, 1960.

Washington officials previously had announced a decision to leave the bases, as urged by the Moroccans ever since they gained their independence. The U.S. bases in Spain will take over part of the burden the stations in Morocco have borne.

With the approval of France, which then ruled Morocco, the bases here were set up in a crash program under the impetus of the Korean War.

Papal Christmas Message Calls for True Peace

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII in his annual Christmas message to the world today called on its leaders to fashion a true peace.

"There is not a state of war," said the 78-year-old ruler of the Roman Catholic Church, "but neither is there peace."

Pope John spoke in Italian in response to Christmas greetings from the College of Cardinals. His message was broadcast by the Vatican radio and was also carried over various European networks hooked in with the Vatican station.

Ship Overhaul Overzealous?

GAO Says Navy Does Its Best Job on Vessels for Our Allies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy overhauls ships being transferred to foreign allies until they are in better condition than those in the U.S. Fleet itself, the General Accounting Office said today.

GAO, Congress' financial overseer of operations in the executive branch, said the Navy has overcharged the mutual security program for some of the materiel going into foreign aid. It's pretty much a matter of bookkeeping, all within the government, but GAO said refunds from the Navy were in order.

The Navy contested the GAO Criticism, which was contained in a report to Congress.

GAO cited repair bills of $590,000 to $635,000 for LST's going into military foreign aid. The last overhaul of the same ships while they were part of the U.S. Fleet, it said, cost from $149,000 to $172,000. It gave no dates.

'NOT ACCURATE'

The Navy said, however, the comparison was not accurate because it was hampered by shortage of maintenance funds while it still held title to the ships.

It cited several reasons for doing an especially thorough job on ships going abroad. These included the increased age of the ships, the probability that they would be operating at greater distances from yards and parts depots and would not be overhauled as often, and a desire to keep the receiving country from feeling that it was getting inferior or worn-out materiel.

Additionally, the Navy said, labor costs rose about 50 per cent between the times of the overhauls compared.

The U.S. government first minted five cent pieces in 1794. Today Americans spend the equivalent of 68,000,000 five cent pieces a day for their newspapers.

Editors Pick Moon Hit as No. 2

K's Tour Tops AP '59 Story Poll

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's September tour of the United States has been chosen the biggest story of 1959 by news editors in the annual poll of The Associated Press members.

Second was the spectacular Russian moon probes — they hit it with a rocket Sept. 14, the day before Khrushchev's arrival in the U. S., and later succeeded in taking the first picture of the lunar backside.

Both events had sobering aspects for the Western world.

The Khrushchev tour gave the American people their first close-up look at their arch-enemy in the Cold War as he moved from coast-to-coast, now affable, now ominous, never indifferent.

PERSONALITY

He showed himself to be a man who could be charming, crude, witty, dour, threatening — and, most important, dangerously quick - tempered for the leader of one of the world's greatest powers.

The visit enabled Americans to make a new assessment of Khrushchev and he emerged as a tough, highly competent and dangerous antagonist, far from the buffoon he has been pictured in the past.

The Russian moon probes indicated that the Russians are considerably ahead of the United States in rocketry.

The Sept. 14 rocket was the first man-made object to land on the moon and the probe of Oct. 6, equipped with a camera, was the first to orbit the moon, transmitting its picture by radio.

1. Khrushchev's visit to U.S.
2. Russian moon probes.
3. Castro gains power in Cuba; troubles mount.
4. Strike closes steel mills.
5. TV quiz show scandals.
6. Eisenhower's increased role in nation's foreign affairs.
7. Death of Dulles; Herter appointed Secy. of State.
8. Nixon's tour of Russia.
9. Formal statehood for Alaska, Hawaii.
10. Congress passes new labor relations law.

CASTRO'S TROUBLES

Dr. Fidel Castro's ouster of the Batista regime in Cuba on Jan. 1 and his troubles during the year was the editor's choice as the third top story of the year.

Castro, whose long, seemingly hopeless revolt against strongman Batista gained him world sympathy, turned admiration into disillusionment in a welter of summary executions and angry taunts at the United States.

The editors' top choices in domestic stories, Nos. 4 and 5 in the poll, had a negative quality.

The first was the steel strike, the longest (116 days) steel shutdown in history, which slowed the American economy before a government injunction sent the workers back to the mills. The strike may resume when the injunction expires in January.

Next came the TV quiz show scandals, which actually began a year early but reached a climax in 1959 when Charles VanDoren, once the nation's intellectual hero, admitted having been given the answers.

SIMILAR SUBJECTS

Like the top two, the sixth and seventh stories on the editors' poll were closely allied.

President Eisenhower's growing direction of the country's foreign affairs, illustrated by his personal diplomacy jaunts through Europe, Asia and Africa, was No. 6.

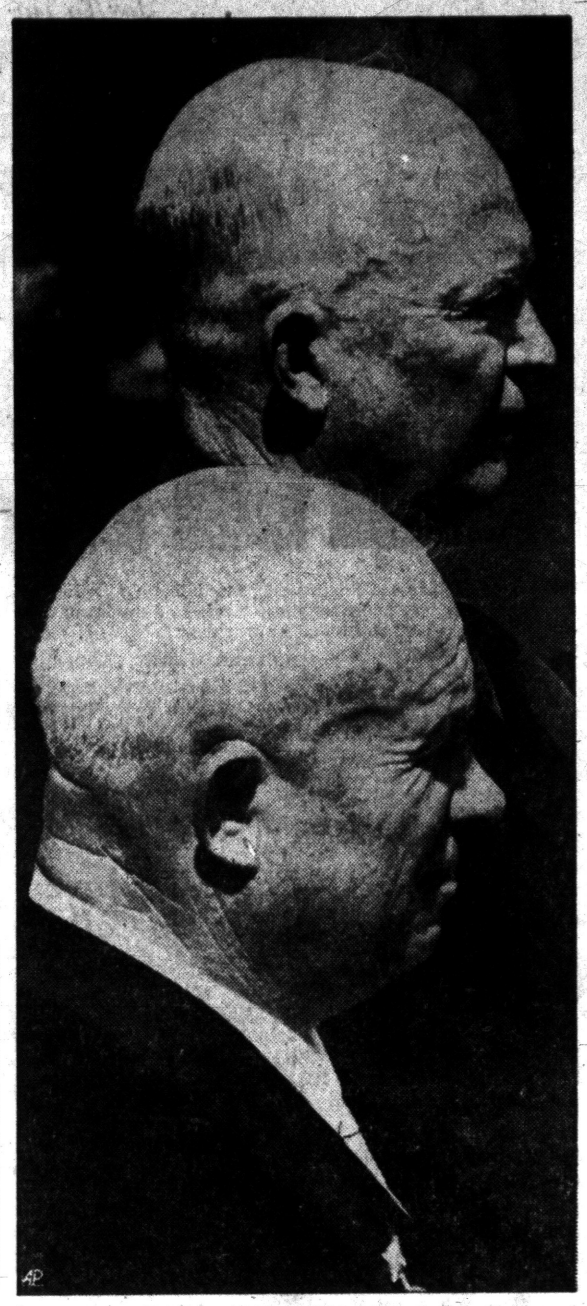
But had it not been for the death of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Ike probably would not have stepped into the breach. Dulles' death and the appointment of Christian Herter as his successor was No. 7.

Other choices in the editors' top ten:

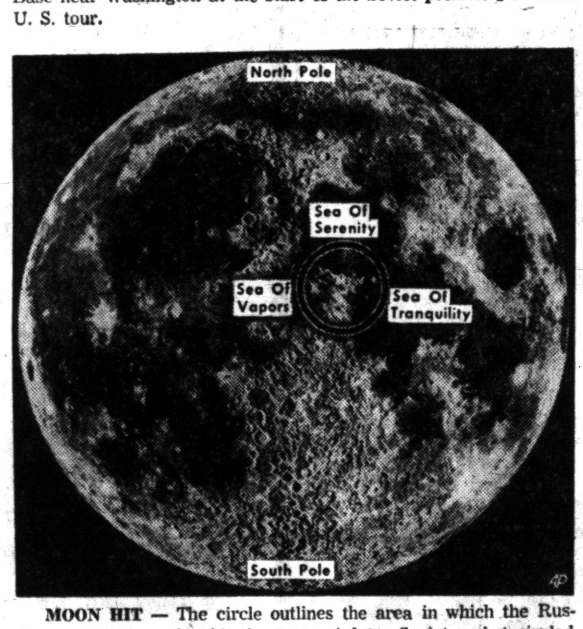
8. Vice President Nixon's tour of Russia, during which he opened the American fair in the Soviet capital and engaged in a public verbal joust with Khrushchev.

9. Statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, which formally became the 49th and 50th states of the union when Eisenhower signed their statehood bills. They were the first new states in 47 years.

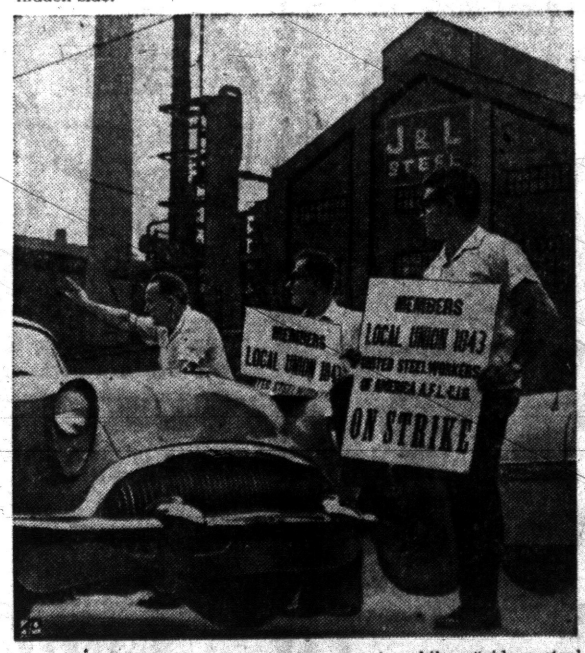
10. The new labor relations law, the first passed by Congress since Taft-Hartley in 1947. Passed after mounting indications of corruption among organized labor's leadership, it placed added restrictions on unions, particularly their leaders.



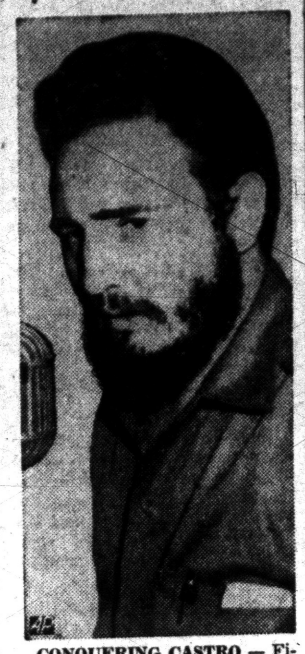
TOURIST KHRUSHCHEV — Nikita Khrushchev, foreground, and President Eisenhower stand bareheaded at Andrews Air Force Base near Washington at the start of the Soviet premier's historic U. S. tour.



MOON HIT — The circle outlines the area in which the Russians said their rocket hit the moon. A later Soviet rocket circled the moon and sent back to earth the first picture of the moon's hidden side.



STEEL STRIKE — Pickets stop an automobile outside a steel mill in Hazelwood, Pa., during the four-month steel strike. The strike ended, at least temporarily, when the government-invoked Taft-Hartley Law was upheld by the U. S. Supreme Court.



CONQUERING CASTRO — Fidel Castro, at the end of his first year of rule in Cuba, faces problems both at home and abroad.

FALLEN QUIZ CHAMP — Charles Van Doren is pictured in a 1956 kinescope of the television quiz show, "Twenty-One."

Morse Entered in '60 Primary

Says He Objected to Supporters Listing His Name on the Ballot

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) stepped into the race for the Democratic nomination for president Tuesday with an announcement that his name will go before Oregon voters in the state's May 20 presidential preference primary.

"Although I would have preferred not to have entered in the Oregon race, I shall not run away from a good political fight if it is inevitable," Morse said in a statement.

Morse, 59, who has been elected to the Senate both as a Republican and as a Democrat, said that his political supporters are entering him in the Oregon primary against his wishes.

He said Democrats in the District of Columbia also have urged him to enter the May 3 presidential primary here, and that he will decide later whether to do so.

"I am sure that most professional politicians who usually are in control of political conventions would suffer political nightmares if my name were placed on the District primary ballot," Morse said.

"It is true, as many of my friends there (Oregon) as well as in the District have pointed out to me, that there is a need for a nationwide debate on the many important political issues that confront the Democratic party in the historic election of 1960.

"The Democratic party needs to return to the constitutional liberalism of Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman. Its candidates need to take an unequivocal stand on each of the issues that face our country in these critical times."

Morse said that his District of Columbia backers "were kind enough to say that my record of 15 years in the Senate has been one of unflinching support of the liberal policies for which the Democratic party should stand in 1960."

Watch Market in Mid-January

New Dynamism May Be Ahead for Formerly Depressed Groups

NEW YORK (UPI)—Some of the formerly depressed groups could be quite dynamic in January, notes Trendex.

"It will be important to watch internal market action very carefully in the second half of January when a sudden reaction from a blow-off could appear," it warns.

As for the long term, there will be less selectivity in 1960 with "no major top expected in the near future."

Richard T. Leahy of J. W. Sparks & Co. says Harris-Intertype has returned to a strong support area and is showing some powerful rebounding tendencies. "The shares appear to have attractive capital gains possibilities."

Disposable income should show an increase of about $20 billion over 1959, even without a cut in personal taxes, and spending should rise about 6 per cent, according to the International Statistical Bureau.

Hornblower & Weeks comments on Glidden Co.: It has a well-diversified business which has been strengthened in recent years by the elimination of low-profit operations, the buildup of more profitable divisions, and the development of many new products. The common stock of this company, the firm points out, appears relatively attractive for investment.

Standard & Poor's outlook picks Continental Insurance as its stock of the month. Says the stock is attractive for both income and gradual appreciation.

The Fitch survey reports: A generally bright news picture in the immediate days ahead "should prove conducive to a favorable correlation between business and stock market trends. Under the circumstances, a policy of selective accumulation of equities in favorable situated industries continues to be recommended."

Federal Court Explores MBS Reorganization

NEW YORK (UPI)—The voluntary reorganization of the Mutual Broadcasting System goes into Federal Referee Asa Herzog's court today for finalization.

MBS President Robert F. Hurleigh, former newscaster, who assumed the presidency of the trouble-ridden network on July 1, said the purpose of the reorganization was to put Mutual back on its feet.

"We are now in business to stay," Hurleigh said. "At the start of the year, MBS was losing about $110,000 a month. We've trimmed that to $20,000 a month—but we still have an operating deficit."

Britain Sells Japan 1st N-Power Station

TOYKO (AP)—The British are selling Japan its first commercial nuclear power station. A 56 million dollar contract signed Tuesday covers the purchase of a 150 million watt nuclear power generator and help in building the station.

The plant will be set up Tokai, a village about 70 miles from Toyko, where an experimental reactor is now in operation.

R. N. Millar, who signed for the British General Electric Co.—Simon-Carves Atomic Energy Group, told newsmen the reactor could supply the home and family needs of a normal community of 100,000 persons.

New Cement Plant Fires Up in Dundee

DUNDEE (AP)—Smoke started pouring Tuesday from a 350-foot stack at the new 25-million-dollar plant of the Dundee Cement Co., which expects within three weeks to be turning out cement at the rate of five million barrels a day.

The stack leads from one of the plant's 460-foot long kilns in which the company started producing clinker from a limestone and clay mixture known as slurry at a temperature of 2,500 degrees.

Clinker will be stockpiled until cement production starts with the addition of gypsum.

When in full operation the Dundee plant will employ 175 persons.

Guardians Cry Pentagon Foul

Watchdogs of Treasury Unable ot Obtain Key Reports on Spending

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower has refused again to give the Comptroller General confidential administration reports on foreign aid operations, the White House disclosed Tuesday.

The President forbade the release of such reports to Comptroller General Joseph Campbell, who had asked the International Cooperation Administration (ICA) for its evaluation reports on programs in Iran and Thailand.

In a related development, the General Accounting Office (GAO) complained to Congress that the Pentagon has bottled up two secret reports which would help determine whether U.S. military aid to Europe is being managed efficiently.

Campbell, who submitted the complaint to Chairman William L. Dawson (D-Ill), bitterly attacked the Defense Department. Pentagon officials have contended that the GAO, which keeps track of government spending, had no right to the information and, in fact, had a lot of nerve to ask for it.

The question of how much information Congress should be given on overseas programs arose several times during the last session of Congress.

PRIMARY CANDIDATE — Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) poses with his granddaughter Judith Morse Eaton in his Senate office as he announces he will run in the Oregon presidential primary next May at the urging of backers. He said he would have preferred not to enter the Oregon race. But he added he would not run away from a good political fight if it is inevitable.

Michigan Liquor Sales Rise Sharply in 1959

LANSING (UPI)—Liquor sales are more than seven million dollars higher the first 11 months fo 1959 than in the same period in 1958, the State Liquor Control Commission reports.

Sales through November totaled $139,855,031, compared to $132,692,207 through November last year, a net sales increase of 5.4 per cent.

Scowling Williams Inks Tax Package

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's temporary 47-million-dollar a year new tax program was officially in the statute books today.

So was authority to wring 40 million dollars in emergency cash from the veterans trust fund.

Terse and scowling, Gov. Williams signed the six-bill package yesterday, at the same time assailing it as "miserable, inadequate and unfair."

"I am not signing them because I approve of this tax program," he said. "But when the Legislature adjourned last week, it left me no choice. If I do not sign these bills, they will not become law."

New or higher taxes will go into effect Jan. 1 on beer, liquor, cigarettes and other tobacco products, and telephone and telegraph bills. They will produce 34 million dollars a year.

A one-mill addition to the four-mill corporation franchise fee, retroactive to July 1, will yield another 13 million dollars annually.

All the new taxes will exxpire June 30, 1961.

2-Year Contract Ends 8-Day Strike, Provides 2 Six Cent Wage Hikes

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — The buses start rolling again today in Grand Rapids.

Ending an eight-day strike, drivers and mechanics employed by Grand Rapids City Coach Lines Inc. yesterday accepted a two-year contract. It provides a six cent hourly wage increase immediately and another six cent increase in 1961.

The company's 115 drivers had been paid a maximum of $1.94 an hour for a 48-hour week. The 35 mechanics earned a top of $2.31 an hour for a 40-hour week.

The buses carry an estimated 28,000 persons daily. During the strike, motorists picked up people stranded by lack of bus services. Some bus riders formed car pools.

A strike of bus drivers and mechanics is continuing at Saginaw, Kalamazoo and Pontiac. The cities have been without bus service since Dec. 7.

If Star Glows, You Have Been Lit Up Already

BALTIMORE (UP)—Chief Magistrate Joseph Kolodny began using his Christmas star today to separate the fakers from the straight talkers in police court.

Since Monday, Kolodny has been stamping a star on the hand of every man coming before him on a drunk charge.

If the man asks to be with his family because of Christmas, his request is granted.

The star, which can't be washed off, is invisible except under ultraviolet light.

From now until Christmas, every defendant holds his hand under Magistrate Kolodny's lamp. If a star is there, he gets 90 days.

Nov. 5, 1960—That's When Elliotts Meet

But They Will Be on Opposite Sides of Field

Brothers Are Big Ten Football Foes as Pete Accepts Illinois Job

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Bump Elliott and his brother Pete will be on opposite sides of a gridiron for the first time Nov. 5 when Michigan plays Illinois.

But the brothers, as close as two brothers can be, will start competing when the recruiting season for high school products opens next year.

Pete stepped down as head coach at California yesterday to accept a similar vacancy at Illinois. Bump has just completed his first season as coach at Michigan.

Bump, who heads Michigan's stepped up recruiting program, has found Illinois a fertile field for football players. Many of the players on the 1959 Wolverine varsity and freshmen clubs were lured from the Illini's back door.

What'll happen if the Eliott brothers start competing in the same recruiting area for the same players promises to be interesting.

Bump, the day he was named Wolverine coach in November of 1958, said he hoped he'd never have to oppose his brother. At that time, Pete's California team was bound for the Rose Bowl. It seemed reasonable then to assume that Michigan and California would clash in some future Rose Bowl.

"I hope that never happens," said Bump as he sat in his living room enjoying his new promotion. "I don't want to have to coach against Pete."

Bump was in Miami Beach, Fla., and unavailable for comment when Pete was named to the Illinois post.

In San Francisco, Pete said the new rivalry with his brother won't lead to any family feud.

"It's going to be different, being on opposite sides," Pete said. "We've always been very close and there's no chance for a change in our respect and friendship for each other.

"Even with the intense football rivalry, this will never change. It'll be a normal rivalry and not a family feud."

One of the reasons reportedly ventured for leaving California was difficulty in recruiting top-flight players. California has extremely rigid enrollment requirements.

"More athletes are eligible to get into most of the Big Ten schools," said Pete. "Like the Athletic Assn. of Western Universities, it is a matter of individual schools."

Pete said he believes California will have fine teams in the future, however.

Bump and Pete, a year apart in age, grew up together around Bloomington, Ill. Their father, the late Dr. J. Norman Elliott, encouraged them to play sports together. They always were teammates in grade school and high school.

The brothers were reunited at Michigan after the war. They were teammates again on the last of Fritz Crisler's powerful football machines.

They went through the 1947 season together with Michigan's unbeaten Big Ten champions and played in the Rose Bowl as teammates. Pete, a three-sport athlete, is the only Michigan player ever to win 12 varsity letters.

When they left school, Bump and Pete went into coaching together. Both served on the Oregon State staff under Kip Taylor. In 1951, their paths separated.

Pete went to Oklahoma as an assistant and on to Nebraska and California as head coach. Bump went to Forest Evashevski's Iowa staff and then returned to Michigan as an assistant under Bennie Oosterbaan.

Cincy Ace Hits 42 in 86-71 Victory, 6th Straight

'Big O' Rolls Over Bradley

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati's No. 1 rated Bearcats and their "Big O," Oscar Robertson, continue to be the scourge of the college basketball courts.

The unbeaten Ohioans, called by some the greatest college cage team ever assembled, faced their biggest test of the young season last night and came through with their sixth straight victory.

The victim was previously undefeated Bradley. The Braves, ranked fifth nationally, gave it a good try. Trailing by only 38-35 at the half, Bradley trimmed Cincinnati's lead to a point, 44-43 and had visions of a mighty upset. But the Bearcats surged back with nine straight points and were never threatened again as they registered an 86-71 triumph.

As expected, Robertson was the big gun. He hit with 42 points to match his season's scoring average. The high-scoring All-America didn't really get going until the second half.

Held to a "mere" 18 points in the first half, Oscar stormed the basket for 24 markers after intermission. He also had 13 rebounds and eight assists in the last half.

The team itself wound up with a 55 per cent field goal shooting average on 38 of 69 while Bradley, which saw its six-game winning streak come to an end, had a 37 per cent mark on 27 of 73. Bobby Joe Mason led Bradley with 21 points.

Other teams in the Associated Press top ten fared well. Ohio State's third ranked Buckeyes rebounded from Monday's loss to Utah with a 91-79 triumph over Brigham Young. St. Louis, ranked seventh, whipped Kansas 66-53. Eight-ranked Georgia Tech, toppled from the unbeaten list by SMU Monday, edged Texas Tech 63-60 for its seventh victory in eight starts. Ninth-ranked Indiana defeated a stubborn Butler team 91-85 in the Hoosier Classic. Notre Dame downed Purdue 82-79 in the other half of a doubleheader played at the Butler fieldhouse in Indianapolis.

In other major games, Kentucky won from Temple 97-92, Marquette turned back Stanford 63-50, Santa Clara beat Connecticut 54-47, Fordham drubbed Pittsburgh 80-68, Oklahoma City whipped Texas Christian 74-63, Iowa conquered Loyola of New Orleans 68-60, Dayton flattened St. Mary's of Texas 79-53, Washington toppled Northwestern 67-61, Utah State took Idaho 73-61 and Virginia Tech won the Watauga Invitational tourney by beating East Tenn. 74-56.

Bob Nordmann scored 20 points to lead St. Louis to its seventh victory in nine starts. The 6-10, 270-pound center was held without a field goal for nearly 10 minutes as Kansas, trailing 29-21 at halftime, tied the score 42-42. Then Nordmann stuffed in two field goals within one minute and the Billikins opened a six-point bulge as they handed the Jayhawks their third loss in eight games.

Indiana's Hooseries roared to their fifth victory in six starts Despite a 36-point performance by Ken Pennington of Butler. Huge Walt Bellamy and Frank Radovich had 45 points between them for the winners.

Notre Dame's victory over Purdue was highlighted by 31 point performances by Mike Garney of the Irish and Terry Dischinger of the Boilermakers. Notre Dame meets Indiana in the final game tonight.

Temple overcame two Kentucky leads—one of 11 points and one of 13—but an uninterrupted 14-point spurt by the Wildcats gave them a 68-55 second half lead which they protected to the bitter end. Kentucky's Bill Lickert scored 27 points but lost scoring honors to Temple's Bill Kennedy, who tallied 29. It was Kentucky's fifth victory in eight games.

Baltimore, New York Dominate Honor Team Picked by Writers

NEW YORK (AP)—Jarrin' Jimmy Brown was the only unanimous selection in the Baltimore and New York dominated 1959 All-Pro football team picked for The Associated Press by NFL writers today.

The Colts and Giants, who meet for the NFL championship in Baltimore Sunday, captured 12 of the 22 positions on the offensive and defensive squads. Baltimore landed seven berths and New York five. Cleveland, San Francisco and the Chicago Bears took two each and Los Angeles, Green Bay, Detroit and Pittsburgh one apiece.

Linebacker Joe Schmidt was the only Detroit Lion on the honor squads.

Brown's backfield mates included Johnny Unitas, the peerless passer; Lennie Moore, his Baltimore teammate, and Frank Gifford, the Giants' superlative triple threat.

Del Shofner of Los Angeles, who vied with Berry for league pass catching honors, won the other end berth on the offensive squad. Jim Parker, the 270-pound Colt tackle, headed a devastating line that included Rosey Brown of the Giants at the other tackle position, Green Bay's Jim Ringo at center, and guards Stan Jones of the Bears and Jim Ray Smith of the Browns.

The defensive line with Huff as the spearhead included Gino Marchetti of Baltimore and Andy Robustelli of New York at ends, Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb, Baltimore's man mountain, and San Francisco's Leo Nomellini at tackles, Bill George of the 'bears at middle guard and Schmidt of the Lions.

The defensive backfield consisted of Jimmy Patton of the Giants, Andy Nelson of the Colts, Jack Butler of the Steelers and Abe Woodson of the Forty Niners.

Celts Win 13th Straight at Expense of Pistons

DETROIT (UPI) — If last night's National Basketball Association doubleheader at Detroit's Olympia Stadium was any indication, the NBA's Eastern Division is better than the Western Division from top to bottom.

The New York Knickerbockers, cellar dwellers in the East, whipped the last-place Cincinnati Royals of the West, 127-119, in the opener.

The Boston Celtics, leaders in the East and currently riding a 13-game winning streak, whipped the Detroit Pistons, number two among Western teams, 136-104, in the second game.

Both of the Eastern aggregations made it look easy.

The Royals challenged New York once in each quarter. They even tied the score with 12 minutes left to play in the game, but two quick baskets by Charley Tyra killed the threat and gave the Knicks the win.

Cincinnati's Jack Twyman with 35 points was high for both teams, but New York had three men over 20 points.

Jack George and Kenny Sears tied for Knick scoring honors at 24 points, and Willie Naulls had 22. Tyra had 18 and Richie Guerin 14 for New York while Phil Jordon had 26 for the Royals.

It was a terrific defense in the two middle periods that gave Boston the runaway win over the Pistons.

The Celtics, led by ball-hawking big Bill Russell around the basket, throttled the Detroit attack and held it to just 21 points in each of the second and third periods.

Again it was a balanced attack that netted the win for an Eastern team.

Bill Sharman had 26 points to lead Boston, Tom Heinsohn had 25, K. C. Jones 18 and Bob Cousy 17 for the Beantowners. Rookie forward Bailey Howell netted 25 points to lead the Pistons.

It was the second NBA doubleheader of the season for the Motor City, and drew only 6,123 fans compared with more than 9,000 for the first.

But in that one, Wilt Chamberlain and the Philadelphia Warriors in one game and Elgin Baylor and the Minneapolis Lakers in the other were the drawing cards.

HUSKIE DOWNFALL — Pontiac Central added another athletic victory over Pontiac Northern last night by defeating the Huskies in a wrestling match. In the top photo, just like in the days of the gladiators when "thumbs up" meant the victim was to live and "thumbs down" meant death. Jan Lawrence of PNH appears to be giving the "thumbs up" sign. Next to him are Dave Fox and George Green. In the bottom photo Northern's Ken Kimmel is the victim of a pin to Art Fowlkes of PCH in the 103 pound class. Central won a close match, 25-21.

PCH Beats PNH Matmen

Pontiac Central won its third athletic event of the season against Pontiac Northern by defeating the Huskies, 25-21 in a wrestling match last night.

The Chiefs have already won a swimming meet and a basketball game this season against PNH. The mat victory now gives PCH a total of 150 points in the bid for the Press All-Sports trophy.

Last year, the wrestling match was the only victory PNH scored over PCH. The win last night evens the mat series with Northern and the two teams will meet again later in the season.

Central got off to a fast start last night with Bob Kaiser, Art Fowlkes and Del Sanborn scoring victories in the first three matches.

Kaiser gained a decision over Ben Chancey in the 95 pound class, Fowlkes pinned Dan Kimmel in the 103 pound event and Sanborn pinned Dan Scott in the 112 pound division.

Northern came back and won the next three division with Mal Oswalt pinning Barry Whittaker, Ralph Clauson gaining a win over Ermino Trevino and Stan Hertel getting a decision over Mike Duff.

Two matches considered upsets were Adolphus Houston's win over Jerry Heard and Henry Smith's decision over Jan Lawrence, each gaining three points for PCH.

Northern took the top weight classes with Dave Fox pinning Ron Jenkie in the 180 pound division and George Green pinning Tom Eichorn.

All matches were very close and the excitement of fans and players ran high as the two schools closed athletic competition for the Christmas holidays.

'Defective' Head Protector Brings Suit by Parents

DALLAS (AP)—Parents of a youth killed by a baseball in a kids' ball game last spring have sued a national sporting goods firm for what they term a "defective head protector the boy was wearing."

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Johnson. They asked $52,035 damages as result of the death of their son May 5.

Named as defendant was the Rawlings Sporting Goods Co., Inc.

The boy, Phillip Michael Johnson, 13, was struck in the head by a pitched ball while at bat in a game at a recreation center May 4.

In their petition the parents said the sporting goods firm had a duty to use reasonable care and skill in designing its baseball protective helmet.

The parents claim the helmet was "structurally weak, not being able to withstand a blow by a baseball thrown 50½ feet away by a 12 or 13-year-old boy in that when it was so struck it shattered and disintegrated."

De-Sta-Co Hockey Team Defeats Monarchs, 4-2

Detroit Stamping Co. handed the Detroit Monarchs a 4-2 licking last night in a Detroit Senior Hockey League game at the Farwell ice rink on 8-Mile Rd. The Monarchs were city champions last season.

John Sanderson scored two goals and Al Crawford and Don Airde each tallied once for the winners as they squared their season's record at 2-2. It was the 1st loss for the Monarchs in four outings.

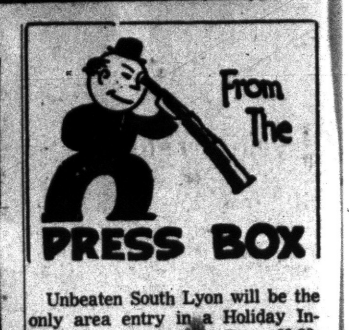
De-Sta-Co's next game is scheduled Monday night at the State Fair arena at 9:30 against Standard Forge.

Elks Gain 42-39 Win in Overtime

Elks No. 723 was forced into overtime for a 42-39 victory over Lee's Sales last night in a Class D City League basketball game at Lincoln Junior High. The score was 36-36 at the end of regulation time.

Fred Brown, Paul Harris and Allen Manley each bagged a field goal in the overtime session to earn the decision for the Elks. Lee's led at halftime, 21-15. Brown paced the Elks with 14 points and Lee's Larry Bland netted 11.

Welden's Sporting Goods handed Eastside Shopping a 44-33 defeat in the other Class D game. Dan Jensen tallied 12 points to lead Welden's while George Mayes collected 11 for Eastside.



Unbeaten South Lyon will be the only area entry in a Holiday Invitational at Chelsea Dec. 28-30. The Lions play Brooklyn opening night and are certain to play two other games. Other participants will be Chelsea, Saline, Napoleon, Jackson St. Mike, Vandercook Lake and Pinckney.

Imlay, Dryden Cage Winners

Spartans Beat Marlette in Overtime; Cardinals Top North Branch

Imlay City rallied for a 60-52 overtime conquest of Marlette and Dryden handed North Branch a 54-47 beating in the non-conference high school basketball games Tuesday night.

A foul shot by Doug Perkins and Bob Maison's layup bucket of Perkins' intentionally missed 2nd charity toss in the final two seconds of regulation play brought Imlay a 52-52 tie and forced the game into overtime.

Imlay blanked Marlette during the three extra minutes, 8-0, to win its 2nd decision in five starts.

Three Imlay cagers hit double figures, paced by Gene Thompson with 16 points.

All five Dryden starters hit double figures and accounted for every point as the Cardinals whipped North Branch for the 2nd time this year. Dryden led all the way and the score was 32-22 at halftime.

Carl Grondin and Bob Burnett had 12 points apiece for Dryden while Lyle Frampton of North Branch took individual laurels with 15. Dryden's record now stands 3-2.

All-Star Pin Points

ARROW—Billy Welu demonstrates the 12-o'clock thumb position rolling a straight ball.

STRAIGHT BALL
By BILLY WELU

The best way to develop accuracy for the beginner or casual bowler is to start with a straight ball.

There is a slight danger of a straight ball backing up but that can be overcome with a little care and experience. Once you have mastered a straight ball, experiment with the more advanced hook, or even the curve if you so prefer.

The straight ball is one delivered straight to the pins. It should be released from the right side of the alley, aimed at the 1-3 pocket, and it can be delivered from almost any point. Use the 12 o'clock method.

There is no turning or twisting of the hand, no play of the fingers. This is the only delivery in which the thumb and the other finger, or fingers, come out virtually at the same time.

To overcome the tendency to back up, throw the ball a little faster, if you can, without trying to blast away.

Especially for the beginner, the straight ball is the best for spares.

Experts sometimes flatten to a straight ball for some spares.

An interesting tournament with a holiday flavor comes up at Lakewood Lanes next week when the AJBC eliminations are held there.

Youngsters up to 18 years old have a chance to shoot for top local honors and a golden opportunity to go on to the national. The latter representatives must be sanctioned keglers.

It is another of several good moves by proprietors and other local bowling enthusiasts, such as tourney co-directors Bob Brown and Virginia Menzies, to help the young participants.

Glancing back on past performances of such Bowlerama standouts as Joe Tinson and Joe Myers, meet officials can expect plenty of excitement next Tuesday. Deadline for entering is Monday.

Harry Thomas, head man at Star Lanes, had a Christmas party for his junior bowlers recently. Even their parents and pals were invited.

Monroe Moore must be getting pretty anxious for the holidays to roll by with the highlight of his keg career coming up from Jan. 6 to the 15th at Omaha, Nebraska.

That's when "Mo," the former manager at Auburn Lanes now at Huron Bowl, competes in the 19th annual BPAA All-Star tournament against the nation's greatest.

He will be among 240 men — 19 from Michigan — aiming for a record $10,000 first prize in the game's richest match game event. Billy Welu edged Ray Bluth by one Petersen point to win a year ago.

Talented QB's to Spotlight Pro Title Tilt

Unitas Was 'Unwanted' and Conerly Had Been Rejected by Fans

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Baltimore Colts and the New York Giants go at it Sunday for the pro football championship and the outcome depends on a young man nobody wanted and an old gaffer nobody believes.

You could debate from now until the final whistle about the comparative strength of the defensive lines or the rival merits of the offensive platoons. It would be as decisive as any discussion comparing John L. Sullivan and Ingemar Johansson.

Because in the final analysis the game is going to be decided by and between young Johnny Unitas and Charley Conerly, the Methuselah from Mississippi.

Surprising scores from week to week more than hint that there is little to choose these days when two pro teams collide. Primarily it depends on which quarterback has the most magic at the moment and Conerly himself explained that, for this reason, "You can easily be a hero today and a ham tomorrow."

Both he and Unitas have sliced the ham mighty thin this season. For it was their talents in tossing the ball and directing the attack which led their teams back to a second straight championship meeting. The Colts took it, 23 to 17, the last time out on a sudden death verdict and are three point favorites to do it again.

That's because of Unitas, the 26-year-old who makes Horatio Alger look like a pessimist. Johnny had been turned down more times than a Bowery panhandler before Baltimore picked him up for a telephone call and started him to stardom. As a high school lad he drew rejection at Indiana and Notre Dame before winding up at Louisville.

His pro life was more of the same. Pittsburgh drafted him and cut him loose. The Browns turned a deaf ear to his pleas. Then, when he was playing sandlot ball for $6 a game and a cold shower, the Colts picked him up as a backstop for the wondrous George Shaw of Oregon. Four games later Shaw was hurt, Unitas stepped in and Shaw never got back. Because Johnny has been phenomenal, his latest mark being a record 32 touchdowns in one season and 37 straight games in which he has pitched at least one touchdown.

On the other side is Conerly, the quiet man who never alibis in defeat nor orates in victory and who, at 38, is the league's oldest player.

There are some who still reject Chuckin' Charley as one of the great quarterbacks in pro football annals. It has, in his 12 years with the Giants, become a habit to belittle him. Because back in 1952, when the Giants had no ends to catch the ball and no guards to keep out the onrushing tacklers, Charley ate the ball often and took the brunt of the disdain heaped upon the team.

"Conerly must go," huge banners shouted at every game.

"It was so bad that several times I thought of quitting," he admits.

But Conerly hung on and, when the ends and the guards were obtained, year after year clung to the quarterback post. This fall he was serious, speaking without rancor, when the Giants obtained the same Shaw displaced by Unitas at Baltimore.

"After 12 years, we finally have a quarterback," Charley said.

Gowens Flunks

MSU Weakened by Losses

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan State's defending champion basketball team may have received its death blow before the Big Ten season even gets under way.

The Spartans, who lost their first game after four victories Monday to Brigham Young, 79-75, found yesterday they also will lose the services of junior center Art Gowens.

Gowens is the third team member and second starter to be declared ineligible as the result of failure in the classroom fall term.

Earlier junior guard Jim Bechinski and sophomore forward Bill Pauline were declared ineligible. Gowens' grades were held up in "a not unusual manner," according to a spokesman, until yesterday.

Then it was found he flunked economics.

All three can play in three more games, California tonight, Butler Dec. 28 and Wisconsin Jan. 2. The Wisconsin game will be telecast.

But with Gowens gone, it will be a patchwork MSU team that faces the remainder of the tough Big Ten schedule.

Gowens, at six-feet, two-inches was the shortest center at MSU in recent history, is the team's leading scorer. Starting forward Horace Walker, also 6-2, has sometimes played center and may take over Gowens' spot. But then a reserve would have to replace Walker at forward.

Dave Richey has shared guard duty with Bechinski and is expected to take over full duties when winter term begins.

Emmanuel Ace Tops County

Green First in Scoring

A senior playing on Pontiac's newest high school baseketball team heads Oakland County in scoring as most of the teams prepare to break classes for the holidays.

Sonny Green has rung up 80 points in Emmanuel Christian's first three games in varsity ball although two have been defeats. He has tallied 26, 29 and 25 in that order despite the fact he has yet to play a full game.

Crusader coach Gerald Spangler has kept Green out of considerable action because he will not have the standout much longer. Sonny will be ineligible soon because of too many semesters.

Jeff Brady of Oxford follows Green's 26.7 average with a 24 mark. Troy's Bud Acton has 23.3 Stan Gracki of Royal Oak Shrine 21 and Doug Christie 19.7 for St. James completing the top group.

Unbeaten Ortonville and Hazel Park dominate the top 25 in the county with three representatives each.

Ice Fishing for Trout Opens First of the Year

By the Press Outdoor Editor

This corner has been asked whether or not area anglers may take rainbow trout by ice-fishing on certain designated lakes, and when such fishing is legal.

This page recently listed the Oakland county waters which have been opened for rainbow hook-and-line ice-fishing, on direction of the Conservation Department, a departure from former winter fishing regulations. The department mentioned some 30 or more area lakes in this connection.

Now here's where the difficulty has been experienced.

Rainbow fishing is NOT NOW permissible for the area. Failure to ascertain the facts, or check the announcements, may have caused some to jump the gun, thus becoming liable for action from the Conservation Department officers.

BECOMES LEGAL JAN. 1, 1960

Under the regulations rainbow fishing becomes legal first of the new year. Fishermen will be allowed to take the scrappy trout, however, only during the first two months, January and February.

Remember, don't take trout while ice fishing until the start of the new year!

State experts point out that the number of fish taken by ice-fishing cannot damage existing populations as practically all rainbow in these waters are planted fish. Large numbers are planted each spring, prior to opening of the regular season.

Bowhunters Paul Shultz of Ohio, and Marion Billitier of Ypsilanti bagged unusual trophies during the recent deer season. Working a swamp area on the AuSable, Shultz almost stepped on a big, coiled rattler. He managed to draw his bow, nailing the snake as it started to strike. Billitier got a rare one, too, downing a running coyote at 20 yards, near Mio.

ORION MAN LIKES APPALOOSAS

There are several area residents interested in breeding a rising favorite among saddle horses the Appaloosa. One of them is Jack Bedford of Predmore road, Lake Orion.

"We have three mares just now," says Bedford. "Two have been bred and we're waiting to see what happens. We'd like to start a stable on a small basis. But there had been no stud close to this section, making it inconvenient to go long distances for the service."

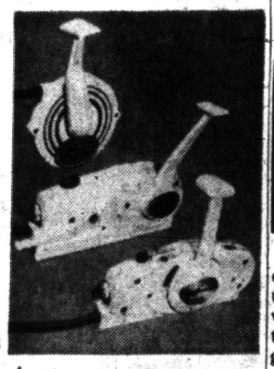
Among new gadgets designed to simplify operations of outboard power plants, is the good-looking job just announced by the Kiekhaefer Corp.



This single-lever remote control is designed to give the operator of a boat the convenience and safety of one-hand operation. It controls both throttle and gear-shift controls on both manual and electric starting models. The device is said to greatly simplify outboard operation, replacing the two-lever system in which throttle and shift are operated separately. Picture shows, from top—devices for two-cylinder, four-cylinder and six-cylinder motors.

A new gun, one of the "ultimates" among shotgunners, will soon be offered by Winchester in its custom 21. This "double" in 12, 16 and 20 gauges, will be available on special order, only, and the reason is easy to understand.

Built to the customers' specifications, finished like works of art, these guns carry price tags to fit—from $1,000 to $2,500 and $3,500.

QUAIL HUNTER NEEDS SHARP REFLEXES

Most bird hunters will agree with the statement of Pontiac shotgunner Fred Edwards that quail shooting is one of the most exciting of field activities.

The explosive character of the little, feathered bombshells' breaks from cover, after holding tight until one almost plants a boot on them, is well known. And it's that blast-out from cover that demands hair-trigger reflexes, and sharp judgment. It's like Fred says:

"A successful quail hunter must have quick reflexes. He must be equipped with a good 'shooting eye' as these birds are such fast and tricky targets."

Sees Park, Hunting, Fishing Gains

Eddy Scans Next Decade

By GERALD E. EDDY
Michigan Conservation Director

LANSING (UPI)—As we look toward the New Year of 1960, we are also looking at the new decade coming up.

In a way, what happens in 1960 will be like a forerunner of what will probably happen throughout the decade of the 1960's.

For one thing, Michigan is probably going to set another attendance record in state parks in 1960. We set one last year and for many previous years. And the whole decade may expect to be "littered" with these annual camping and picnicking records.

Also, certainly, we can expect increases in hunting pressures. One steady increase in recent years is in deer hunting activity.

With the establishment of sound deer management in recent years, hunters numbers have been on the increase and the take-home of venson has also been on the upswing. What's more, all this is very good for the deer herd.

Ruffed grouse appear to be on the upswing, and 1960 promises good hunting.

We expect some increase in other small game hunting activity.

Fishing activity, on the other hand, sagged again in 1959. Why this should be the case is uncertain. However, field workers feel that motor boating and water skiing may be drawing some waterborne interests away from fishing and discouraging others.

And what this says of 1960 can be said with growing emphasis for each of the coming years during the entire decade.

Hunter's Inventive Genius Backfires

Inventive hunters often come up with some wierd ideas. One fellow from the south part of the state was nabbed in Lake County by conservation officers after he removed the pellets from a shotgun shell, then slipped an arrow into the barrel ahead of the shell. He didn't even have a hunting license.

MBH Bobcat Hunt Set for Onaway

Bowhunter 'Special' Jan. 9-10

Outdoors history was written last winter when 60 bowhunters on snowshoes tackled three feet of snow in the Upper Peninsula wilderness in what is believed to be the first organized archers-only bobcat hunt ever held anywhere.

Next month, the Michigan Bow Hunters Association will repeat that unique outing when it holds the first of two similar bobcat hunts scheduled for this winter.

The dates will be Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 9 and 10. The small city of Onaway in Presque Isle County will be the hunt headquarters, with veteran outdoorsmen from that area supplying their trained bobcat hounds and guiding the archers.

This winter's second Bow Hunter cat hunt will return to the Upper Peninsula, and is planned for late February.

Hewitt Gall of Onaway, the Michigan Bow Hunters representative for Presque Isle County, and his wife Liz are coordinating plans for the upcoming hunt with the Onaway Chamber of Commerce.

Last February, at the initial MBH bobcat chase near cedarville in Mackinac County, the bowmen — most of whom had never been on snowshoes before — hiked miles through rugged swamps and forests following the packs of hounds. On both days, the bobcats took refuge in piles of glacial rocks where they were safe from both the hunters and the dogs.

But although "skunked" by the cats, the bowhunters could claim some sort of a record for the most people on snowshoes in one place at one time.

Chances are snowshoes will come in mighty handy next month at Onaway, too.

Plans call for the assignment of small groups of archers to each guide and his dogs. Hunting will be concentrated in choice bobcat country near Onaway in Cheboygan and Presque Isle counties.

There will be no registration fee, although a Michigan Bow Hunter membership — which can be obtained at the hunt — is required. As in all such MBH events, no firearms will be permitted.

Bow Hunter officials recommend that advance reservations for hotel or motel accommodations be made, since the skiing season may be in full swing at that time. Requests should be sent to the Onaway Chamber of Commerce.

Hunters Stick to Old Red Standby

Outdoorsmen Pass Up Yellow Togs

By JERRY CHIAPPETTA

ALL OUTDOORS (UPI) — Ever wonder where the yellow went?

That's not part of a toothpaste commercial, but a question concerning the yellow hunting clothing. Except for a few rabbit hunters seen recently, this writer has come across only one big game hunter in Michigan this year wearing a new yellow outfit.

The gent in the bright yellow was a newcomer to the sport and bought the flashy suit at the urging of a sporting goods dealer who was overstocked.

Numerous tests in U.S. Army bases and at a number of universities have proved beyond doubt that yellow or the fire colors and bright oranges are easiest to see in natural outdoor surroundings. Except for some parts of the north country and in Canada where yellow is the predominant color of the outdoors, this is the safest color to wear.

So, why then weren't more yellow outfits seen.

Puzzled by this question, several dealers in sporting goods were questioned in the Detroit area. One, noted himself as a writer and hunter and fisherman, George Pfeiffer, had a few comments. He said:

"Human nature is defeating yellow as a safety color. Psychologists say yellow just isn't a pleasant color. How about the term, 'yellow coward'?

"On the other hand, red has virility, ruggedness and reminds us of the good old days."

Red is also representative of that warmth of the campfire and the "warmth of friendship" associated with the outdoor sports.

Unless yellow outfits are purchased by wives and non-hunters for hunters, it isn't expected too many will be seen again next season either.

Wearing a yellow suit might also peg you as a rookie in the sports afield while putting on the traditional "hunter's red" will make you "one of the boys." Who likes to be different?

Some hunters, when asked why they weren't wearing yellow, said it frightened game and reduced their chances for scoring.

One Robin Hood Gets a Scare

Broken Bowstring Sent Bruin, Nimrod Flying

Nearly every bow and arrow deer season produces its share of unusual hunting stories. This year was no exception. Here is one of the best, as reported to the Michigan Bow Hunters Association:

Archers generally account for few bear each fall, and two big blackies fell to bowmen this season across the Straits. A Toledo, Ohio, hunter, Richard Nagy, dropped a 373-pound trophy almost on the spot near Naubinway with a 40-yard heart shot, and Robert Snyder of Three Rivers downed a 325-pounder near Lake Gogebic.

But a third hunter who bumped into a bruin in the woods wasn't certain if he liked the idea or not.

Bill Durban of East Detroit, hunting near Curran, had been in his blind just scant minutes when a big bear sauntered to within a few yards of him. Durban aimed, started to draw his arrow and the bow string broke. The startled bear went one way, with the somewhat shaken archer retreating in the other direction.

Goose Kill Up at Fennville

FENNVILLE (UPI) — Final reports from the Fennville Game Refuge showed today that geese hunting for 1959 topped all previous records in both number of permits issued and geese bagged.

Jay Laarman, game biologist for the Southwest Michigan refuge, said 18,344 permits were issued to hunters this year as compared to a 1958 total of 15,286. He said the take of Canada, Hutchins, blue and snow geese reached 1,583, which was a new record for that area.

Game officials felt that the upswing at the Fennville Refuge and the comparative downtrend at the Swan Creek station were due to the peculiar feeding pattern set up by the geese this year.

Hard to Understand Distrust for Boats

NEW YORK (NEA) — With millions of families about today, it is hard to understand the distrust once felt for small pleasure boats.

For the first Motor Boat Show in New York in 1905 a tank was constructed in old Madison Square Garden. Boats were displayed afloat, to demonstrate to the public that they wouldn't sink.

Even at that, one critic claimed the boats had to be pumped out every so often, to keep them from sinking.

Feathers Aid Hearing

While birds have regular ears, their acute awareness of sound is aided through sensory feathers, especially their tail feathers.

Record Plantings for State Forests

LANSING — The largest forest planting in any one season in Michigan's state forest history was made this fall when 13,035,800 trees were planted on 17,040 acres.

Mostly red pine, with lesser amounts of white and jack pine, the trees were planted on 18 of 22 state forests; seven in the Upper Peninsula and eleven in the northern Lower Peninsula. Acreage planted varied from 200 to 2,200 per forest and totals for the Upper and Lower Peninsulas were about equal.

6 Win Pro-Marksman Junior Rifle Rates

Half of the class of 12 basic rifle training students at OCSC's early class completion, have won their pro-marksman certificates, in all four positions, instructor Kyle V. Wharff reports.

Top shooters on position night were William Wolfram (425x500), Steve Alix (369), Paul Friday (324), Wendell Banks (306). Wolfram also fired 169 for five shots (4 positions), for graduation night, with Alix getting 151 and Ann Bigham 143.

December and January classes are filled, Wharff states.

Audubons Hold Annual Survey

Expect Between 60-100 Bird Counters to Take Part in Sunday Trip

Annual winter survey of wild birds in this area will be held Sunday by the Detroit Audubon Club, including many area bird lovers. It is expected, says Mrs. Neil Kelley, whose husband heads the survey, that between 60-100 will take part in the outing that last year checked some 8,000 birds, including 45 species.

Sunday's survey will be made in a circle of 15 miles diameter centering on Big Lake road and Ormond road in White Lake Township. The 15-segmented area takes in Highland Recreation, Pontiac Lake and Holly Recreation areas.

Count will start at 7 a.m. and watchers will spend eight hours in the field, as part of a National and Canadian survey. A qualified leader will direct each segment's work. Totals will be struck at a meeting at Cranbrook Cabin, to follow the field work. Groups will list all species heard, or seen.

Sports Car Club Plans Ice Races During January

Several items of unusual importance are scheduled for members of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Road Racing club, during January, including the annual meeting when 1960 officers will be named. This session takes place on Jan. 6 at the Waterford clubhouse.

First race events for the new year will be the ice races on nearby Townsend lake, and at Lake Orion. The "home ice" tests are scheduled for Jan. 10. The Lake Orion runs will be on Jan. 30-31, and will be part of a big ice carnival, under auspices of Lake Orion boosters.

Teaching Safety Pays Off

ROSELAND, N. J. (AP)—A youngster with a rifle can prove a danger—or an asset to a community.

Ten years ago Roseland police confiscated 60 rifles from teenagers who had been on a shooting spree.

Now 70 youngsters handle rifles with no objection from police.

The difference is that a young secretary, Miss Winnifred Carr, has aimed their sights at safety.

The youngsters, aged 9 to 18, belong to her junior and senior rifle clubs.

"When youngsters learn safety and respect for guns, the whole world will be a lot safer," says Miss Carr.

Miss Carr learned to shoot a rifle while working as a secretary for an ammunition and gun dealer. She has become New Jersey and Florida state women's champion in small-bore rifle firing

Newest in Pleasure Boating

Water-Jet Drives Boat

NEW YORK (AP)—Newest thing in pleasure-boating — jet propulsion.

A jet-propelled boat, with a V-8 interceptor engine with 135 horsepower, will be exhibited at the National Motor Boat Show in New York's Coliseum Jan. 13-24.

The exhibitor (Turbocraft Division of Indiana Gear Works) said 10,000 of such craft of various sizes will be built in 1960.

The boat can travel 40 miles an hour and boasts unusual maneuverability. It is supposed to be able to do a complete turn-about in a single hull length at full speed without turning over.

The propulsion system utilizes a three-stage axel flow pump, sucking water through an intake flush with the keel and discharging it at a rate of 3,000 gallons per minute through a nozzle on the transom. It generates a thrust of more than 800 pounds.

There is no rudder or propeller, making it possible to run the boat through water less than three inches deep.

The cost: between $3,390 and $3,590.

Grand Rapids Bids for College

Would Donate a Park; Other Areas Also Offer Regional School Sites

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — Ideas were developing today on where to locate a proposed new four-year state college in southwest Michigan.

The latest idea called for using Aman Park, west of Grand Rapids, for the higher learning institution now under study by a special legislative committee.

Z. Z. Lydens, a member of the Grand Rapids City Planning Commission, suggested the city donate the 324-acre park to whatever authority might be constituted to establish the college.

"Aman Park meets virtually every requirement for the proposed area college campus," he said.

Dr. John X. Jamrich of Michigan State University outlined the possibilities and needs for such a college at a recent meeting of the special committee.

L. William Seidman, chairman of the special committee, called Lyden's proposal "an exciting idea." He said Aman Park is in the approximate area suggested for the college by Jamrich.

The city of Grand Haven has approved a proposal to offer 180 acres on the north shore of the Grand River for the proposed new college. Adjoining land could be made available to expand the campus, the Grand Haven City Council said.

Seidman also reported that the community of Allendale, located on M50 between Grand Rapids and Grand Haven, "has expressed interest" in providing a campus for the college.

The college would serve Kent, Muskegon, Ottawa, Newago, Allegan, Barry, Montcalm and Ionia counties. It was estimated the college could have an enrollment of 4,000 to 6,000 by 1965 and 7,000 to 10,000 by 1975, mainly commuting students.

Bandit's Jewel Loot at Least $200,000

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A bandit who robbed a downtown jewelry store of between $200,000 and $300,000 in gems—while a uniformed policeman stood outside—was sought today.

The well-dressed gunman entered the Paul de Vries-Louis & Co. store during the Christmas shopping rush Tuesday night.

Monroe Hospital Hassle May Soon Be Broken

MONROE (UPI)—A hassle between Monroe's two denominational hospitals which has blocked issuance of federal funds for hospital construction here may soon be broken.

Trustees of the Lutheran operated Monroe General Hospital said they are willing to set aside plans for a new building and support a large non-denominational hospital.

The General Hospital and Mercy Hospital, operated by the Catholic Sisters of St. Joseph, have tried to get federal aid for expansion of the hospitals.

But the State Office of Hospital Survey and construction said funds are available for only one hospital at Monroe. The agency administers federal funds for hospitals.

Watch Out for Those Mail Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission offered a free lesson Tuesday to students thinking of signing up in correspondence schools. FTC's lesson: First ask a lot of questions.

Charles R. Moore of the commission's legal staff said, "Even some of the better correspondence schools have grossly misrepresented their courses."

Speaking at an FTC-sponsored conference on deceptive selling practices, Moore suggested, "Do not hesitate to press the salesman for all the facts, and if he is evasive, it is a good sign that a trick is involved."

One of the misrepresentations most frequently encountered, Moore said, "is that the salesman is associated with civil service and guarantees employment by the federal government."

He suggested that prospective students might well ask a salesman for names of graduates who found good jobs as a result of their courses. He said they might check at the other end also — with firms they hope may employ them after they finish the course.

Other appropriate questions, he said, are about the college degrees held by members of the faculty, size of the plant and number of courses offered. In case of doubt, he said, students should inquire of their state accrediting agencies, Better Business Bureaus and FTC itself.

Moore said the FTC these days does not often encounter "outright diploma mills" but does run into exaggerations about the value of courses offered, at $100 to $500, and about resulting job opportunities.

Soybeans Flurry; Grains Are Stagnant

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybean futures had a brief flurry of firmness today in early transactions on the Board of Trade but the grains remained virtually stationary in slow dealings.

Soybeans were ahead major fractions at their best but settled back within a few minutes. Some of the buying was credited to the government report that soybean crushings during November amounted to 35,793,000 bushels, up almost a half million from October.

The same report showed, however, that inventories of both soybean meal and soybean oil also were larger. The soybean oil stocks at mills were shown to be a large 127,400,000 lbs while meal stocks increased 3,000 tons to 75,600.

After about an hour wheat was ⅛ to ⅜ cent a bushel lower; March $2.01⅛; corn unchanged to ⅛ higher, March $1.12½; oats unchanged to ⅛ higher, March 74¾; rye ¼ higher to ½ lower, March $1.27¾; soybeans unchanged to ¼ higher, January $2.10¾.

Pig Crop to Fall Sharply in '60

Farmers Irked Since Prices Took Extreme Drop This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers plan a sharp reduction of 11 per cent in the 1960 crop of pigs, influenced apparently by a big drop in prices this year.

The Agriculture Department reported a survey shows that a crop of 52,000,000 head is in prospect compared with 58,607,000 produced last spring.

The reduction will be reflected in marketings for slaughter — and in prices — during the late summer, fall and early winter of 1960.

Shorter supplies normally bring firmer prices.

The report has political implications because about 75 per cent of the nation's hogs are produced in the traditionally Republican midwestern corn belt. There have been reports of widespread farmer dissatisfaction in that area.

If the prospective reduction in production comes about, prices of hogs could be expected to rebound considerably from present levels by next year's election time.

Robinson Studio Moves to Modern Huron St. Site

One of Pontiac's oldest established firms, Robinson's Studio, has moved to a new and modern location at 518 W. Huron St.

Ralph D. Robinson opened his first photographic studio on N. Saginaw street 40 years ago. He moved to a building at 20 E. Huron about 20 years ago and remained there until the present move.

Richard H. Frye is co-owner of the new establishment. Frye formerly worked for Robinson for 10 years and has spent the past six years free-lancing.

The new building is a remodeled two-story home at the corner of Thorpe street and Huron. The building is more compact and offers better parking facilities for customers, says Robinson.

Detroit Living Cost Bucks National Trend

DETROIT (AP) — While the nation's cost of living index eased upward from October to November, Detroit's declined .6 per cent, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports.

The November index for Detroit was 124.1 of the 1947-49 base period. It means what could have been bought then for $100, now costs $124.10. It is .6 per cent higher than it was November a year ago.

The bureau reported Detroit food prices declined 1.0 per cent, apparel .8, transportation and other goods and services .7, personal care .3 and housing, .2. Some other items were up.

Little Change in Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — A scattering of issues responded to investment or specualtive demand in an irregular stock market early this afternoon.

The major sections of the market were pretty firm on balance although small gains or losses were the rule among pivotal stocks.

A wide range of recommendations on the buy or sell side affected secondary stocks, some of which showed gains ranging to as much as 4 while others were off 2 points or so.

Steels, motors, rails, oils, nonferrous metals and aircrafts were mixed. Drugs continued to show moderate improvement. Rubbers were up a bit. Many electronics issues took small losses. Airlines were steady.

American Tobacco advanced about 2 points on overnight news of a 2-for-1 stock split proposal.

American Viscose was a 2 point loser on news of another round of price cuts in nylon tire yarn, emphasizing the competition between nylon and viscose or rayon for this market.

General Time, touted recently in Wall Street, jumped more than 4. High-priced International Business Machines made a 4-point gain, routine for this stock.

Reynolds Metals was up about 3 and Alcoa around 2 as interest in the aluminums revived.

Vick Chemical and U. S. Gypsum dropped about 2 apiece. J. P. Stevens, which has reported a substantial rise in earnings, advanced more than a point.

American Machine & Foundry was off ½ at 49½ on a block of 10,000 shares, then erased the loss and moved to a fractional net gain.

Alleghany Corp. was up a bit following news of settlement of a long-standing stockholder suit. Hupp Corp., yesterday's most active stock, continued briskly traded and was ahead fractionally as Wall Streeters anticipated some fresh news about the company.

Gains of around a point were made by Goodyear, DuPont and Pfizer. General Electric was down more than a point.

Both Sides Claim Victory

Court, Press in Standoff on Suppression Eruption

DETROIT (UPI)—The first round in the battle between four federal court judges and Detroit's three daily newspapers in the suppression of a civil suit was over today and both sides could claim at least partial victory.

Judges Theodore Levin, Thomas P. Thornton, Clifford O'Sullivan and Ralph M. Freeman were winners because the suit in question is still suppressed.

And the papers were winners because they printed details of the suit obtained from independent sources without being cited for contempt of court.

The judges imposed the press blackout one week ago today on a suit involving the nationally-known Giffels & Rossetti, Ind., architectural and engineering firm, and Victory E. Vallet, retired president of the company.

An audit has uncovered a shortage of more than $800,000 in company funds prior to the retirement of Vallet and he is being asked for an accounting.

Suppression of the suit and simultaneous issuance of an order by the judges citing their "inherent right" to suppress details of any civil suit brought immediate protests from the afternoon News and Times and the morning Free Press.

Although warned by Chief Judge Levin that they might be found in contempt of court, the newspapers printed as many details of the suit as they could procure.

The News, in a front-page editorial, invited a contempt citation.

"Our purpose is to procure, ultimately, an appellate court ruling on the right of federal judges, at the mere request of a favored litigant, to arbitrarily deny public access to documents which are normally part of the public records of a public court," the News said.

But the judges ruled yesterday that the papers were not in contempt of court for printing details of the suppressed suit.

The judges said they were satisfied that details made public by the papers did not come from the files and records of the court.

However, the fight is far from over.

Harvey Patton, managing editor of the News, said the paper will continue its challenge of the press blackout "every day, 24 hours a day."

He said, "We're going to keep printing everything we can legally get our hands on. We will print what we believe the public is entitled to know."

The Times and the Free Press said they, too, will continue to print all the news they can obtain.

Rocky Urges Jailing of Teen-Age Hoods

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Fifteen-year-old hoodlums involved in crimes of violence could be sentenced to regular prisons under terms of a program Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller recommended today to combat juvenile delinquency.

Children's Court judges would decide whether the youths were mature for their age and belonged in a regular prison rather than in training schools.

The recommendation stemmed from an increase this year in the number of 15-year-old boys who committed murder, manslaughter, rape and other major crimes.

Rockefeller also proposed jobs, work camps and better probation facilities to stem juvenile delinquency.

Judges Reverse Order to Close Packing House

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A panel of federal judges today reversed Gov. Orville L. Freeman in closing the strikebound Wilson and Co. meatpacking plant at Albert Lea, Minn.

Three judges decided unanimously that the company is entitled to reopen its plant, closed when Gov. Freeman declared martial law Dec. 11.

Freeman and the National Guard were enjoined from interfering with the company's right to have "free and unlimited access to and egress from the plant and property."

Pontiac City Affairs

Slate Perry Street Rezoning Hearing

During a brief meeting last night, city commissioners set Jan. 17 for a public hearing on a proposal to rezone 15 acres on North Perry street for a bowling alley and, possibly, a neighborhood shopping center.

The land, on the north side of Perry between Giddings and Pontiac roads, is presently zoned commercial.

The owners, Julius and Louis Koprince, said they have tentative plans for a shopping center. The Koprince brothers have a bowling alley in downtown Pontiac.

An ordinance amendment to rezone the land was introduced last night.

In another zoning matter, commissioners sent to the planning commission a request for rezoning of five lots at the southwest corner of Elizabeth Lake road and Murphy street from residential to personal service.

A set of professional offices is planned for the site, said the Rev. Lyal H. Howison, pastor of First Free Methodist Church. The church owns the lots.

Commissioners read two messages from the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board, expressed thanks for the action annexing to Pontiac the Oakland County Service Center area where a new courthouse is being constructed.

The Commission was also told of county plans to have its Road and Plan Commissions make a cost-location study for a main entrance road to Michigan State University Oakland.

City commissioners initiated the idea earlier this year, recommending that the road extend westward from the campus towards Pontiac.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, who has visualized an extension of Mt. Clemens street to the Squirrel road campus, said he was "particularly pleased to see progress being accomplished."

Mayor Philip E. Rowston said he was "very glad" the Mt. Clemens street proposal was being considered.

A request was approved to transfer the ownership of the tavern and SDM liquor license at 369 E. Pike St. from Albe J. Croteau to Gladys M. Rowley.

Wrap Up 2nd Larceny Trial

Royal Oak Township Goodfellow Verdict Is Likely Today

The trial of Royal Oak Township Police Captain William Ware on a charge of larceny by conversion was expected to wind up today in the courtroom of Township Justice Lonnie C. Cash.

Ware was one of 12 men arrested by State Police and rackets squad investigators Dec. 14 on charges of pocketing money taken in the sale of Goodfellow newspapers.

The money is used to help needy children at Christmas.

Ware, acting police chief, is the second police officer to stand trial. Previously Sgt. James Gatewood was found innocent by Cash.

USED MARKED BILLS

Detectives from the Redford Post based their case on the charge that Ware was given a $5 bill and six $1 bills, all marked and none of which appeared in the money turned in to officials as his collection.

The bills were given him for papers by plainclothesmen, police said.

They also stated that there were no bills higher than $5 in denomination in his receipts, contending that he couldn't have given the marked bills in change.

Ware's trial lasted throughout the day Tuesday. Cash is expected to hand down a verdict this afternoon.

The dozen arrested and charged included five policemen, three firemen, a constable and three citizens.

Police said they paid out $57 in marked currency for the papers and got only $6 of the bills back in receipts.

When the men were arraigned before Cash Dec. 15, all but one citizen pleaded not guilty.

The man who pleaded guilty was fined and placed on probation.

Two Children Win Yuletide Awards From Bell Co.

Two Pontiac children won top awards in the fifth annual "What Christmas Means to Me" art contest sponsored by The Michigan Bell, the employe publication of Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Cynthia Vivian, 7, of 2515 Ivanhoe St., was a grade 2 merit award winner for her drawing of the Virgin Mary and the Christ Child. Her accompanying note read: "I made this picture because it has Jesus and Mary in it and reminds me of Christmas."

Charlene Whipple, 11, of 988 Arlene St., was a grade 6 honorable mention winner for her drawing of several sheep on a hillside, with the Star of Bethlehem shining down on them.

Charlene's accompanying note explained her drawing: "The sheep in this picture are the sheep the shepherd left to go see the Baby Jesus in Bethlehem. I also drew it because I was thinking of the shepherd boy who gave a little lamb to the baby Jesus to keep Him warm."

Race Project Is Shielded by Court

DEERFIELD, Ill. (AP)—A temporary federal court order has been issued restraining officials of this all-white village from harassing or interfering with construction of a proposed interracial housing project.

But Judge Joseph Sam Perry who issued the order in Chicago Tuesday refused, pending a hearing Dec. 31, to block the Park Board's moves to take over the subdivision for recreational purposes.

The Park Board Tuesday night instructed its attorneys to proceed with court action to have the land condemned and turned over to the village.

"We feel this land is needed for school and park recreational facilities," said James Mitchell, board president.

Voters in Deerfield, a Chicago suburb of 10,000, on Monday approved by a 2 to 1 margin a $550,000 bond issue to buy property for parks. This would include a 23-acre subdivision where a builder said Negroes would be permitted to buy 10 or 12 of 51 homes planned. Mitchell said bonds to buy the 23 acres would not be issued until court litagation is finished.

Following the bond issue vote, the builder filed a $750,000 suit before Judge Perry against the village and a number of its residents.

Three Are Injured in 4-Vehicle Pile-Up

A pile-up involving three cars and a truck at Cass avenue and Sanderson street shortly after 4 Tuesday afternoon injured three Pontiac residents, according to Pontiac Police.

Treated at Pontiac General Hospital and released were Mollie B. Banush, 45, of 78 Summit St., Lempi C. McMurray, 57, of 603 Lenox St., and Mrs. Leonard Laity, 54, of 139 Pingree St.

Laiti was a passenger in the McMurray car. Other drivers who were uninjured were William N. Beaired, 59, of 12 Clarence St., and Willmonte Wood, 28, 120 N. Jessie St., driver of the truck.

Now He Can Write From Experience

A Farmington free-lance writer for the automotive industry was able to write his own testimonial today on the safety of American cars.

Walter Thomas, 32, of 29767 Woodbrook, Farmington, was driving north on Southfield road between Tireman and Joy roads in Detroit last night when his car hit a patch of ice and went into a spin.

While spinning, the 10-month-old Thunderbird crashed through a barricade guarding a 20-foot excavation dug for the installation of a water main.

Thomas said his car "dropped neatly" into the ditch, landing half on its side and half on its top.

"I was lucky the top didn't collapse falling from that height," Thomas said. "The door did jam, though, and I had to crawl through a side window."

Only damage to Thomas was a few bruises.

Williams Eyes Seventh Term

Sounds Out Top Dems on Possibilities Linked to Candidacy

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams is pressing hard toward a decision on whether to seek a seventh term, a course viewed by political friends as very unlikely until recent weeks.

Strong new evidence that he is studying the question intensively came to light yesterday.

Close associates disclosed that in the last two weeks the governor quietly called Democratic chairmen and vice chairmen in all 83 counties to Lansing in a systematic political "stock taking."

The series of evening huddles at his home was devoted to soundings on the situation of the Michigan Democratic Party generally as well as on next year's candidacy.

TWO QUESTIONS

But Williams reportedly focused in individual interviews with local party leaders on two questions:

1. How would a seventh term candidacy be received?

2. Assuming he stepped out, which other possible candidate could command strongest grass roots level support?

The governor pretty much has kept his own counsel on his findings. Presumably, some disclosures will come when he huddles with his cabinet and other close political allies next Tuesday.

Poison Raisin River; No Danger Foreseen

LANSING (AP)—A deadly concentration of poisonous chromium wastes is floating down the Raisin River today. But state officials said there was no danger to the water supplies of communities along the river which flows through southeast Michigan into Lake Erie.

A steam pipe at the Hurdlock Co. in Adrian broke Monday, allowing the chromium to seep into the river. It posed a threat to the downstream communities of Blissfield, Deerfield and Dundee.

However, the State Water Resources Commission said communities could avoid contamination by simply closing the intakes to their water treatment plants while the waste floated through their areas.

This was done when the poisonous concentration passed Blissfield last night and similar procedures will be followed today when it approaches Deerfield and Dundee.

Eventually, the wastes will flow past Monroe and into Lake Erie. There is no danger to Monroe which does not draw its water from the river.

Once the wastes reach Lake Erie "for all practical purposes" they will be rendered harmless by dilution, said Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner.

Two County Court Reporters to Bow Out

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Dorothea Daniell and Helen Calbert have for a combined total of 48 years lived up to what some parents demand of their children — they should be seen and not heard.

As two veteran Circuit Court reporters, Dorothea and Helen have been inconspicuously at their desks in Courtrooms No. 1 and 2 hurriedly writing almost every word spoken.

The two reporters are very seldom heard. Their job is to hear and record.

Come Dec. 31 their jobs as reporters, which began with appointments by the governor in 1925 for Mrs. Daniell and 1945 for Miss Calbert, will be over. They are retiring after compiling nearly half a century with the pen and pad parade of testimony.

Although they play quiet, undramatic roles in the routine of a court case, their jobs are most essential. They serve as the second set of ears for the judges and juries.

Together they have served five circuit judges.

Their jobs over the many years have entailed taking down every word of testimony of witnesses, questions and arguments by attorneys, and instructions and comments from the judges. They do it with amazing speed, accuracy and calmness. Both use Gregg shorthand.

Miss Calbert has been Judge Frank L. Doty's reporter since 1945. Before then, she was the judge's secretary, a position she started at in 1929. Judge Doty is retiring Dec. 31, too.

THE HARD WAY

After some apprentice work in the clerk's office, Mrs. Daniell "learned the hard way" in becoming a reporter when she took over suddenly from late Judge Frank Covert's regular reporter. Her experience kept the job for her.

She has since served as reporter for retired Judge Goodloe Rogers, the late Judge George B. Hartrick and now Judge William J. Beer.

Along with Judge Beer's court officer, John Dwyer, who is retiring the end of the year also, Dorothea, Helen and Judge Doty will be honored next Tuesday at a testimonial luncheon to be given by fellow Circuit Court employes.

Neither of the veteran reporters can tell you how many words they've converted into seemingly meaningless symbols, or how many trials they've recorded.

"But I've indexed 8,000 notebooks," chimed in Mrs. Daniell, "and that is only up to the middle of this year." She and Helen have been busy these past days filing away these important notebooks and typewritten transcripts of some of the trials.

MEMORABLE TRIALS

Sensational trials neither can forget: Helen singles out the 1952 murder by Robert Hearn of a Ferndale gas station attendant, while Dorothea says she will never forget the long, colorful trial of Harry Fleisher and four others for the holdup of the old Aristocrat Club in Pontiac.

Both have transcribed every imaginable crime. Some have been just in a day's work, while others of the more heinous crimes would make the ordinary woman get up and leave the courtroom.

"We've learned to put it out of our minds as quickly as we hear it," Helen says of these trials.

Extreme concentration — where they must learn to blot out other noises and disturbances in the courtroom—is the number one prerequisite for top-notch reporters like Dorothea and Helen. A distraction could mean a missed word of testimony.

Although they seldom have to stop a witness or attorney for a repeat, the two reporters will if they have to.

"You have to get it, that's all," Helen relates. "And if someone is speaking too fast or with such an accent you can't understand them, you ask them to repeat."

TECHNICAL TROUBLE

The most troublesome testimony comes during the trials of technical matters, where persons toss out engineering jargon. This sometimes causes Helen and Dorothea to raise an eyebrow and often seek clarification.

Mrs. Daniell of 262 S. Josephine Ave., and Miss Calbert of 8515 Ortonville Rd., Independence Township, seem to have medical terms conquered.

Along with her skills as a reporter, Dorothea has acquired a knack of sensing impending legal objections. When she does, she turns down the corner of the page where the questionable testimony is so she'll be able to rattle off the statements when called upon.

Deciphering a mass of symbols into understandable language—and in the same words of the actual testimony — without pausing, will mystify those not trained in this form of shorthand.

Reading back testimony must be without emphasis.

This skill led Dorothea to tell how she somewhat "resented" Supreme Court Justice John D. Voelker's reference in his "Anatomy of a Murder" where the reporter in the novel was reading back testimony "in the monotone all court reporters seem to believe necessary."

"What does he want us to be—dramatic?" Dorothea questioned.

DO YOU REMEMBER WHEN? — There's time for reminiscence when you're going through drawer after drawer of testimony taken during 48 years as reporters for the Circuit Court. That's what Mrs. Dorothea E. Daniell (left) and Miss Helen M. Calbert are doing as they put the finishing touches on their memorable careers. Both will retire from county service Dec. 31.

Gilda Gray Is Dead--- She Shook Up Nation

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Gilda Gray, the shimmy dancer of the 1920s who gave America more shakes than bootleg whisky, is dead.

She died of an apparent heart attack Tuesday while visiting a friend. The petite blonde always had been coy about her age. Estimates ranged from 59 to 68.

Her death closed another chapter of the dizzy decade which acclaimed F. Scott Fitzgerald, jazz, near beer and raccoon coats. She was a top star in the golden era of vaudeville which produced Al Jolson, Will Rogers, Gallagher and Shean, and Sophie Tucker.

Years later she said of her fabulous heyday: "They might roar more today, honey, but we had more fun."

The girl with the wiggly hips, who thrilled tired businessmen with a wicked Charleston atop a speakeasy table, faded into obscurity with the depression. She reputedly made millions but was living in a furnished room at the end.

TALKED OF COMEBACK

As recently as five years ago, she talked of a comeback: "It will be a big act, honey, something big." But it never materialized.

She was born in Krakow, Poland. Her real name was Maryanna Michalska. Her parents were killed during a revolution and she fled to America with her foster parents.

She sang and danced in Milwaukee saloons at 14. She could hardly speak English but her slithering dances needed no translation.

She said the word "shimmy" was coined when: "I shook my chemise like this and tried to pronounce the word, but a customer thought I was saying 'shimmy' and that's how it all began."

FOLLIES GIRL

She graduated from speakeasies to George White's Scandals, Shubert musicals, Ziegfeld's Follies and the silent screen.

She married and divorced three husbands—John Gorecki, a Wisconsin politician; Gaillard Boag, a New York night club owner, and Hector Briecendo, a Venezuelan diplomat. She had a son, Martin, by Gorecki.

She filed a million-dollar suit against Rita Hayworth, alleging theft of her dance in the 1949 film "Gilda." The suit was dropped in 1954.

Despite ill health in recent years, she retained her trim figure. Two years ago, she expressed pleasure that skirts were becoming shorter.

"Perhaps men will again be eying pretty girls' legs," she said hopefully.

DEATH TAKES SHIMMY DANCER — Gilda Gray, who died Tuesday at about 65, is shown both as she appeared in her heyday (the 1930s) and at the time of her death. She was coy about her age.

Many Drivers Using Expired Licenses

LANSING (AP)—About 30 per cent of Michigan's motorists are driving on expired licenses if a spot check made by the secretary of state's office is any indication.

A four day check on 1,100 drivers seeking renewal of operator and chauffeur licenses showed 323 had been driving on expired licenses, about half for a month or more. Many had let their renewal slide for more than a year.

If it weren't for the state's bad financial condition, Sec. of State James M. Hare said, he might mail reminders to motorists as the expiration date approached.

"There is no reason why the citizen shoudn't bear this responsibility," he said.

Almost 400 Language Fellowships on Tap

The office said first preference going to students of Chinese, Hindu, Russian, Urdu, Portuguese, Arabic and Japanese.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR wife and mother, Mrs. Karen V. Nelson, who passed away Dec. 23, 1952.
Sleep on, dear mother, it has been seven long years
Since you left our hearts filled with sadness and tears.
Yours was a heart so jolly and gay,
Scattering sunshine all along the way.
You know how we loved you, yes, love you yet.
Though God took you from us, we can never forget.
Where sweet flowers are ever blooming and banks are ever green;
The flowers we place upon your grave,
May wither and decay,
But love for you who sleeps beneath will never fade away.
Time speeds on, seven years have passed
Since death its gloom, its shadow cast within our home.
Where all seemed bright,
And took from us a shining light.
We miss that light and ever will,
Her vacant place theer is none to fill.
Down here we mourn, but not in vain,
For up in heaven, we will meet again.
Sadly missed by husband, Victor, and children, Victor A., Vern, and Doris E.

Information Booths Used by 760,000

LANSING (AP)—A record 760,000 visitors stopped at State Highway Department tourist information centers during the past year, the department reported today.

The four centers gave road and tourist information to nearly 225,000 more persons than were served by three centers in operation last year.

The new Buffalo station, at the Indiana border, did the biggest volume of business with 460,000 queries.

The new information center at the Straits of Mackinac bridge, opened last May, served 185,000 visitors during its eight months of operation.

U.S. Outspends Allies for NATO

Yet Ike May Request Even More Money to Offset French Laxity

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is now spending 10 per cent of its national production for defense, more proportionately than any of its NATO allies.

Even so, President Eisenhower may ask Congress to appropriate more money for NATO.

Reports from Paris hint that French President Charles de Gaulle's opposition to integrating French forces with NATO's might result in greater U. S. aid to the other Atlantic allies.

Figures supplied by the Pentagon show that France is spending 6.8 per cent of its production for defense, Britain shells out more—7.5 per cent, but all other NATO countries spend below 5 per cent.

Altogether in the past eight years, the United States has spent 340 billion dollars on its own military forces and 22 billion dollars on military aid abroad.

During the same period, the military budgets of this country's 14 NATO allies totaled 101 billion dollars.

Some observers believe another reason Eisenhower may seek more NATO money from Congress is the weakening of French forces in West Germany.

France was committed to maintain four divisions there but withdrew three because of the fighting in Algeria. Only one of them was later replaced. Thus France has only two divisions in Germany, compared to five American and four British divisions.

Johnson Also Dem Prospect

Louisiana Congressman Tabbed for Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Influential Democrats today tabbed Rep. Hale Boggs of Louisiana as likely choice for permanent chairman of the Democratic national convention next year.

Although it is still early, the affable 45-year-old Southerner and vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee is reported to have the inside track to date to succeed House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas as chairman.

Rayburn, the Texas veteran who has wielded the gavel over Democratic conventions since 1948, is expected to step aside because of a personal interest in the outcome. He has been pushing a fellow Texan, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, for the party's presidential nomination.

In the role of convention strategist for Johnson, Rayburn probably will lead the Texas delegation to Los Angeles and occupy a seat on the convention floor.

In the opinion of many Democrats, Boggs would be a natural for the tough job of handling the convention and the frequently unruly delegates.

A major qualification would be his familiarity with the parliamentary rules of the House of Representatives, which are the rules governing convention procedure. Boggs has frequently presided over major legislative debates in the House with a firm hand and authoritative gavel.

Boggs could be expected to have Rayburn's support for the chairmanship. Also, it is reported that no objections have been registered by the potential candidates for the nomination.

Boggs' Southern origin seems likely to be both an advantage and a handicap to him.

As a Louisianan and resident of New Orleans, Boggs' election as permanent chairman would go well with the South. It might even offset some of the chill generated by National Chairman Paul Butler's intimations the Democratic party could get along without the South.

On the same score, Boggs' candidacy could be expected to stir up some measure of opposition among extreme liberal elements of the party on the issue of civil rights.

Although Boggs has stood with his fellow Southerners against racial intergration, he has never been associated with Dixiecrat extremists. His voting record in the House is regarded as consistently liberal.

There was such a jam of well-wishers—David Niven, Sammy Davis, Jr., Moss Hart, Rita Gam, Anatole Litvak, Sam Spiegel—and Adlai, having paid his respects, was getting out via a narrow aisle between electrical switches. "We're really behind the footlights, aren't we? he laughed.

He was one of the guests "Baby" had invited to a supper party afterward. The photographers, at first electrified by this, were later quite let down. "We got them to pose giving each other an opening night kiss," gloomed one, "but they wouldn't hug. It didn't look friendly enough!"

Brought Gains and Setbacks

State Police Will Recall '59 as a Mixed Up Year

LANSING (AP)—State Police made more than 235,000 arrests this year, set up a new blockade system, saw one of their number murdered by a gunman, and nearly doubled the size of their skin-diving squad.

These were some of 1959's highlights for the elite of Michigan's law enforcement agencies.

Not so encouraging was failure of the state to cut its traffic fatality toll despite strong efforts by troopers and county and local enforcement officers.

Based on figures to date, Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said approximately 1,450 persons will meet death on Michigan highways —75 more than the 1958 toll.

SAME DEATH RATE

Even with a 5 per cent increase, however, Michigan will record the same death rate of 4.6 per 100 million miles of travel as last year, the lowest on record.

Projected figures also show 64,600 persons injured in 198,000 accidents — increases of 12 and 11 per cent respectively.

Because of the state's cash crisis, department strength fell from 1,129 to 1,107, not including civilian employes. Vacancies were not filled.

In what Childs described as "one of the most brutal crimes in the 42-year history of the department," Trooper Albert W. Souden, 29, of the Brighton post was kidnaped and shot to death Sept. 3.

His body was found four days later in dense underbrush near Argentine.

He was the ninth State Police officer to be slain by gunshot in the line of duty. His accused slayer, Alvin Knight, 48, of Argentine, is scheduled for trial on a first degree murder charge in February.

Taking over the job of recording water accidents, State Police reported 313 persons drowned in 446 accidents.

Totals will go up slightly by the end of the year.

56 SKIN DIVERS

The department's skin-diving squad was nearly doubled, now numbering 56 men.

A new blockade system for the Lower Peninsula speeded up the time for setting up road barriers against fleeing criminals.

A radioed code number now automatically designates the location and law enforcement agencies involved, with State Police headquarters at East Lansing serving as the nerve center.

A new post building costing $87,750 was erected at Grand Haven, replacing rented quarters.

Bernstein Christmas Show Keeps Ambitious Promise

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—We were promised "the most magnificent music possible in keeping with Christmas" for last night's Startime show.

Happily, this ambitious promise by Executive Producer Hubbell Robinson, was fulfilled.

The one-hour colorcast on NBC-TV offered rich and varied seasonal music, splendidly performed by Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic, Marian Anderson, the St. Paul's Boys' Choir of London and the Schola Cantorum of New York.

Joseph Welch was the host of this film-and-tape Robert Saudek Associates production.

I especially enjoyed the performance of Bach's "Magnificat" by the Philharmonic and the Schola Cantorum. Bernstein's brief oral interpretations added to my enjoyment.

"It is the supreme expression of that basic paradox inherent in all great religious works: the coincidence of pride and humility. In this sense, it is the very essence of the Christmas spirit," he said.

Bernstein, incidentally, demonstrated that he is a man of discretion and discipline.

Some of his critics charge that in his TV appearances, he tends to be a wee bit too flamboyant, thereby overwhelming the music he performs with his physical and oral pyrotechnics.

If last night's hour lacked that sense of compelling excitement that Bernstein usually imparts to his TV offerings, the reason is obvious: the more familiar Christmas music needed no extra flourishes on his part.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: An expanded schedule of hour-long programs in the informational-cultural vein, including more in the CBS Reports! series, will become a weekly prime time offering next fall, CBS-TV announced today. The programs will occupy a set spot in the nighttime schedule.

Larry Blyden and May Flickett have been signed for "One Loud Clear Voice," NBC-TV's Sunday Showcase presentation for Jan. 17. The teleplay deals with a political reformer who becomes a political boss.

Bob Hope's NBC-TV special on Wednesday, Jan. 13, will consist of films taken during his Christmas junket to Alaska. Entertaining the troops with Hope will be Jayne Mansfield, Frances Langford and Jerry Colonna.

A series of screen tests to discover new TV talent begins Tuesday in New York City, with NBC-TV executives conducting the search.

Milk Is Tainted in Eleven Cities

1958 Survey Reveals Pesticide Traces, but No Cancer Threat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The government disclosed Monday that a 1958 survey showed some milk in 11 cities across the nation was tainted with substantial amounts of chemical insect killers.

The pesticides were DDT and other agents containing chlorine.

Officials of the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), which surveyed milk in 17 cities in all, said there was no evidence the insect killers cause cancer in human beings.

A spokesman for the agency said the milk situation was not "a serious problem from a public health point of view but nevertheless one worth working on."

The FDA survey covered 936 samples of milk. It found 28 samples, or 3 per cent, had substantial residues of the pesticides. The report defined "substantial" as one part or more in 10 million.

CITIES LISTED

Cities in which substantial residues were found were Washington, Providence, R.I.; Buffalo, N. Y.; Cincinnati, Ohio; Denver, Wichita, Kan.; New Orleans, New York, Trenton, N.J.; San Francisco and Seattle.

Wichita and San Francisco had five tainted milk samples each. The other 14 cities had three or fewer each.

The FDA spokesman said the agency already has begun a major drive to prevent use of chlorinated pesticides which lead to contamination of milk.

Laboratory animals given large doses of the chemicals have developed various ailments, depending on the animal and the chemical.

There is no proof that the relatively small amounts of the chemicals a person might get from drinking tainted milk would be harmful. However, the FDA has ruled that milk with even faint traces of chlorine pesticides or antibiotics should not be sold for human consumption.

The spokesman said the agency is working on a tighter regulatory program but has not yet announced details. Seizure of tainted milk and prosecution of offending farmers and dairies are possibilities. The agency has jurisdiction only over milk moving in interstate commerce.

Bread, Water Judge Sterner 2nd Time

BATTLE CREEK (UPI)—Two youths were given longer sentences yesterday when they appeared before Calhoun County Circuit Judge Alfonso Magnotta, who previously sentenced them in his "experiment" with young offenders.

Richard Lee Babic, 16, was given a 7½ to 15 year term in Southern Michigan Prison for violation of probation.

William L. Einhardt, 17, was sentenced to 30 days in solitary confinement in the county jail for drinking and violating the city's curfew laws.

Babic was the first of several youths given the judge's experimental treatment of solitary and a "bread and water" diet.

He previously sentenced the boy to 45 days in solitary and bread and water for breaking and entering in the nighttime.

Magnotta ordered Babic placed on five years probation at that time. But on Dec. 20, he was arrested for several breaking and entering cases and crashed a stolen car while being chased by police.

ACCEPTS CHECK — The Rev. Frederick Delaney, pastor of Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church, accepts check for $2,400 raised by pupils of the school for the purchase of stage equipment for the new high school. Marie Steele presents the check in behalf of the pupils as Patrick Wolfe and Marylea McDuffie look on.

Students Hit Goal in Waterford Twp.

The supersalesmanship of some 250 pupils of Our Lady of the Lakes Parochial School in Waterford Township has raised $2,400 for stage equipment in their new high school.

The $600,000 school adjoining the present building on Dixie Highway is scheduled to open next September. It will accommodate pupils moving to higher grades, according to the pastor, the Rev. Frederick Delaney.

At the present time the school building back of the church has enrollment of pupils from the fifth through the 10th grades. As soon as the high school is completed, church officials will focus their attention on fourth, third, second and kindergarten educational facilities, Fr. Delaney said.

Funds for the state equipment were raised by selling Christmas cards and specially-made Christmas dolls.

After the quota had been set by the children themselves last July, an intensive fund raising campaign got under way.

Each classroom was sparked into action by "competitive angles" geared to keep each child interested in reaching the $2,400 goal, according to Sister Mary Anthony in charge of the project.

"We never dreamed we would reach this goal in one campaign," she said.

A party for the top pupil-salesmen was held Monday in the parish hall of the church. Marie Steele was honored as having produced the most revenue. Her sales totaled $163. Patrick Wolfe with $150 and Marylea McDuffie with $105 were next.

Some of the funds are still to be accounted for, but only the $2,400 quota is earmarked for the stage equipment, Sister Anthony said.

Christmas Toy Sales Reported Up 8 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Commerce Department has come up with some happy Christmas statistics for the nation's youngsters.

The department announces that the sale of toys and games this year is up at least 8 per cent over 1958. Furthermore, the survey predicted "the sales prpspects for 1960 appear excellent."

Gore Warns Ike on Foreign Aid

Says Congress May Act Unless President Releases Figures

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) says the Senate will make its own evaluation of this country's foreign aid program.

The statement was in answer to a refusal by President Eisenhower to make available to congressional agencies confidential reports on the program.

"President Eisenhower would be well advised to reconsider, for I think his cooperation is going to be neessary to avoid severe action by Congress," Gore said Tuesday.

He added: "This is not an area in which a presidential veto will survive. In this case it is the Congress that can say no."

Gore recently completed a five-week tour to countries where U.S. aid funds are sent.

Santa Needs Helpers With Ike's Gifts

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower got enough gifts on his three-continent tour to give Santa Claus a king-size backache.

Kings, presidents of other nations, prime ministers and the common people showered him and members of his family with presents all along the route.

The collection includes exquisite silver pieces, Oriental rugs, a handsome desk with mosaic inlays, two baby gazelles, a horse with a richly tooled saddle—and two 39-foot cigars.

Not even Eisenhower's aides handling the cataloguing of the gifts would venture a guess on how many he received. They have been so busy packing them for shipment from Europe, Asia and Africa that there is no chance of getting anywhere near a complete list.

In Asia a few days ago the President said he had been overwhelmed by the generosity of his hosts. He said he planned to send most of the gifts to the Eisenhower museum in Abilene, Kan.

Eisenhower also was a bearer of gifts on his 22,370-mile tour. To each of his official hosts he gave Steuben glassware, cameras, transistor radios, and silver-framed photographs of himself. Photographs traditionally are exchanged by guest and host on such visits.

Only in France was there no exchange of gifts. The reason: Eisenhower visited Paris for the four-power Western summit conference and was not the state guest of President Charles de Gaulle.

An average of 59,000 people were admitted to hospitals in the United States each day in 1958.
