309 Massacred in Traffic During Holiday Weekend

From Our News Wires

Traffic	309
Drownings	100
Miscellaneous	49
Total	458

More than 300 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents across the nation during the two-day Memorial weekend. The tragic toll of dead was a record for the holiday and far exceeded the preholiday estimate of 260.

The National Safety Council attributed the record number of traffic deaths largely to extremely heavy travel and to a rash of multiple accidents that swelled the toll rapidly.

"It offers a grim challenge to every one concerned with highway safety to step up the unending efforts to hold down accidents despite mounting travel," a NSC spokesman said. "We can only hope the shock of this awful death toll will be reflected in fewer accidents during the rest of the year."

Other violent deaths — drownings and in miscellaneous types of accidents — also took a heavy toll.

The over-all accident death total for the 54-hour period from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Sunday also topped the toll of 385 for a two-day Memorial holiday period. That mark was set in 1953, when the traffic death toll was 241, the previous high.

★ ★ ★

Belated reports were expected to boost the totals.

The highway death total also was far ahead of the 262 counted by The Associated Press in a test period survey for a non-holiday weekend of 54 hours. The survey, covering the period from 6 p.m. Friday May 15, to midnight Sunday, May 17, also showed 32 drownings and 74 persons killed in miscellaneous types of accidents, for an overall total of 368.

There were several multiple-death auto crashes. In one of the worst, a mother and four of her five children were killed Sunday near Crown Pt., Ind. when their car was struck by a railroad train at a grade crossing obscured by high weeds.

FATHER, GIRL SURVIVE

The father and a daughter were the only survivors of the family of seven, and both were injured. The daughter, Faylene Brownfield, 9, was in critical condition. The father, Robert K. Brownfield, 30, Elliot, Ind., was seriously hurt.

Killed were Mrs. Louise Brownfield, 28, and the couple's four other children, Doyle, 10; Rebba, 4; Rickie, 3 and Barbara, 6 months.

California led the nation in highway fatalities with 28. Ohio had 21, New York 19 and Tennessee 14.

Only four states escaped death on the highways this holiday. The states were Delaware, Idaho, New Hampshire and Vermont.

In setting the record toll, more than five persons were killed in traffic every hour on the average during the holiday period between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

The tragic mark was reached despite one of the most intensive holiday crackdowns by police in motoring history. The Safety Council said it simply couldn't explain the jump in auto deaths.

UPWARD TREND

"There's a whole upward trend in highway deaths that's been going on since the first of the year," the Council said. "For some reason the toll just started going up again.

The Safety Council had predicted a traffic death toll of 260. It termed the record total for the two-day holiday "tragic."

The highways were jammed with cars — the council had estimated 40 million for the two-day period—in the first holiday weekend of the season.

Memorial Day in 1958 was on a Friday and in the three-day weekend holiday period auto accident deaths totaled 371. In other violent deaths, 132 persons drowned and 88 died in miscellaneous type accidents for an over-all toll of 591.

In a four-day Memorial Day weekend in 1957, the death toll in traffic was 413 and 660 in all types of accidents, both record marks.

Gives Memorial Day Address

HIGHLIGHT OF DAY — Sen. Philip A. Hart is shown here as he spoke to hundreds gathered at the veterans' plot in Perry-Mount Park Cemetery Saturday. His address at the graveside ceremony was the highlight of Memorial Day activities in Pontiac.

'Ideas Will Outweigh Arms,' Says Sen. Hart

In a Memorial Day address at the veterans' plot at Perry Mount Park Cemetery Saturday, Sen. Philip A. Hart told a crowd of several hundred that they could best honor the war dead by "practicing democracy" and warned that armed might would not promote world freedom.

"In this battle for the second half of the 20th century," Hart asserted, "the power of arms is not sufficient. The power of ideas will carry more weight."

"We can defend freedom best by promoting it right here at home, carrying its basic principals, and more important, practicing those principals in our community life."

Hart reminded his listeners of the many white grave markers of American soldiers throughout the world.

"Those white crosses the world over stand for men who thought our way of living was important enough to die for. They stand for white and Negro, for many religions," he emphasized.

"We can honor the heroic dead only if we strive constantly to better the lot of the living."

"You and all Americans must realize how small the world is growing. In only a few years even the most distant nations will be close neighbors, reached in a matter of hours."

HONOR HEROIC DEAD

Hart closed by calling on the public to "understand the common kinship of all people, honor the heroic dead 365 days a year remembering that when they went into battle, they went as defenders of freedom for all mankind."

Hart, a veteran himself, was introduced by Larry Payne, president of the Memorial Day Association. Following his speech the many participating veterans groups in Pontiac laid wreaths at the foot of the veterans' bier.

In attendance and riding at the head of the parade with Hart were other officials including Mayor Philip E. Rowston, members of the city commission, Floyd E. Cremer, parade marshal, and Harry J. Pattison, honorary parade marshal.

Prayers at the Civil War Monument, at Saginaw street and Oakland avenue, and at the cemetery service were offered by the Rev. Galen E. Hershey, president of the Pontiac Pastors Assn.

The parade leading up to services was a resounding success as thousands of onlookers, three and four deep in places, lined Saginaw from Whittemore to School streets.

Fair, Pleasant Weather Ahead

Partly cloudy and somewhat cooler is the U.S. Weather Bureau's forecast for Pontiac and vicinity tonight. The low will be near 54 degrees.

Tuesday will be mostly fair and pleasant with a high of 74.

★ ★ ★

For the next five days temperatures are expected to average near the normal 72-76 high and normal 50-55 low.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 66. At 2 p.m. the downtown temperature was 63.

Girl, 11, Drowns in Rescue Effort

Friend She Tried to Save From Gravel Pit Scrambles to Safety

An 11-year-old girl drowned yesterday in a Pontiac gravel pit as she tried to pull out a girl friend in the 30-foot deep hole.

The body of Peggy Stevens, 1025 Collier Rd., was recovered by Oakland County Sheriff's Department skin diver Bill Jackson in the pit between Collier road and Walton boulevard, a half mile from the girl's home.

★ ★ ★

She was rushed by a fire department inhalator squad to Pontiac General Hospital, but pronounced dead on arrival by Dr. Isaac Prevette, Oakland County deputy coroner.

She would have been 12 tomorrow. Pontiac police said the girl's parents died in an auto accident and she was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sanford.

The Sanfords left home Sunday morning. Peggy, her foster sister, Linda, 10, and Bob Hall, 7, Judy Hall, 10, and Mickey Hall, 8, of 1323 Collier Rd., went wading.

★ ★ ★

Judy said while they played she was pushed into the pit by Peggy who jumped in to rescue her. Judy managed to scramble out but was unable to save Peggy.

The girl's body is at Huntoon Funeral Home.

Slide Rough on Teeth

DAHLONGA, Ga. (UPI)—The 50-mile-an-hour "death slide" at the U.S. Army's Ranger School here is designed, the Army says, to separate the men from the boys. What it separated SKC Charles N. Natkong from yesterday was his false teeth, lost in mid-yell.

Rainier Plays Drums at 36th Birthday Party

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP)—Prince Rainier III played the drums far into Sunday night to celebrate his 36th birthday. His wife, Princess Grace, looked on indulgently.

Accompanying him at the guitar was Aristotle Onassis, the shipowner who owns part of Rainier's tiny principality.

★ ★ ★

The session was held in the select cabaret under the casino. The doors were closed to all but Rainier's party of 40.

"It was one of the warmest parties we ever attended," guests said. It lasted from midnight until about 6 a.m.

Earlier Rainier blew out 36 candles on a big chocolate cake at a reception atop the Hotel de Paris, Monte Carlo's luxury hotel.

Survives Frightening Ordeal

SAFE AND SOUND — Two-year-old Mitchell White appears little the worse for wear after being rescued from a hole about eight feet deep early last night across the street from his home. He is shown with his relieved parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer N. White, of 3659 Grafton Rd., shortly after being cleaned up following the mishap.

Team Rescues Orion Tot Wedged in 8-Foot Hole

Cries from a two-year-old youngster trapped in an eight-foot hole spurred three men on to a successful completion of parallel rescue ditch yesterday in Orion Township.

Mitchell White was caught with his arms over his head in a narrow hole made for a soil percolation test. Only the tips of his fingers could be touched from above, and fear of a cave-in made the rescue ditch necessary.

Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer N. White, of 2659 Grafton Rd., was playing in a field across the street from his home at 7 p.m. when he stepped into the hole.

He began screaming, and his cries were heard by a neighbor Fred Smith, who was working in his yard. Smith could not see where the sounds were coming from.

Seconds later he found the boy wedged in the hole. Smith tried to reach the boy but could barely touch his fingertips.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies arrived on the scene. Realizing that any effort to bring the boy to the surface from the top of the hole might cause it to cave in, Deputy Donald Hughson, Smith and another neighbor Robert Sizemore, began digging a trench to the boy's body.

★ ★ ★

In about four minutes they had the youngster's head free, and in another two minutes they were able to pull him out — more scared than hurt.

Members of the Lake Orion Rescue squad were also standing by with an inhalator in case it was needed.

The boy's father, returning from work at Pine Lake Country Club, saw the crowd near his house and his wife, Betty, with their youngest son in her arms. He did not realize what had happened until he heard his wife's account of the accident.

After a bath to remove the sand in his hair, ears and mouth, Mitchell clung to his mother.

★ ★ ★

Following the rescue many of the men in the subdivision began filling up all the holes which had been left open after the test borings were taken. A number of the parents plan to file objections to the parties responsible for leaving them uncovered.

The Whites have two other children, Sandra, 12, and another son, Mark, age 4.

Tornadoes Brush Over State While Storms Strike County

Tornadoes whizzed over Central Michigan last night while thunderstorms raked Oakland County and the southern portion of the state.

There were conflicting reports about whether any of the twisters touched ground. The only damage reported came from lightning and high winds.

The brunt of the squall-like storm struck north and west of Oakland County.

Fire caused by lightning destroyed a barn and eight head of cattle valued at $12,000 on the Osceola Township farm occupied by William Conine, three miles northeast of Howell.

Her telephone knocked out by the storm, Mrs. Conine had to drive to Howell to report the blaze shortly after midnight.

Howell firemen were able to prevent flames from spreading to two nearby barns.

Lightning set a barn ablaze near Yale, destroying some equipment and 160 bales of hay.

The storm came as a climax to a 9-hour alert in which the possibility of tornadoes was forecast by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

WEATHER WARNING

The alert was lifted at 9 p.m., only to be followed by a severe weather warning between Lansing and Detroit from midnight to 2 a.m.

Earlier Sunday, the Weather Bureau received reports of twisters touching down at Lupton in Ogemaw County and Davison in Genesee County, east of Flint.

Another funnel was sighted by two residents and a Bay County Sheriff's deputy west of Bay City. Witnesses said the funnel dipped toward the ground but never touched.

The Weather Bureau reported that radar soundings showed developing showers, thunderstorms and funnels near Owosso, Flint, Battle Creek, Lansing, Port Huron, Marlette, Hillsdale, Lapeer, Bad Axe, West Branch and Sebewaing.

A windstorm at East Tawas took the roof off a manufacturing plant.

Two houses were damaged in a severe lightning storm between Kalamazoo and Battle Creek.

Drop Charges Against Gullett

Judge Holland Claims Evidence Insufficient in Gambling Charge

Former Deputy Pontiac City Treasurer LaRue E. Gullett today was dropped as a defendant in the gambling conspiracy charge against him and four others.

Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland handed down his answer to a motion made requesting the charge against Gullett be dismissed.

★ ★ ★ ★

"A study of the record made at the time of the (lower court) examination, in the light of the applicable law, convinces this court that the evidence developed by way of circumstances, was not sufficient to hold the respondent LaRue Gullett for trial," Judge Holland ruled.

Gullett, 41, of 391 Dick Ave., his wife, Gladys J., 35, and three others were picked up last Aug. 29 when members of the State Police Rackets Squad swooped down in a series of surprise raids on a reported million dollars a year bookmaking ring in the Pontiac area.

★ ★ ★

Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said he would proceed with the trial of Mrs. Gullett, Basil W. Burke, 59, of 29 Salmer Ave., reported kingpin of the alleged ring, James "Chinaboy" Pruzor, 54, of 4 S. Saginaw St. and Charles D. Apley, 44, of 29 Salmer Ave.

Flames, Fumes Injure 27 More Trapped in Fire

'Belching Hell' Started With Collapse of Room Walled Off Years Ago

IRON RIVER—A "belching hell" of fire swept the underground works of the Sherwood iron ore mine today, killing four miners and injuring 27 others.

Several of the injured were reported suffering from burns and sulphur poisoning caused when a stope, a large underground room which had been mined out and walled off several years ago, collapsed with a roar.

Crumbling sulphurous slate spewed poisonous, highly inflammable fumes which caught fire and seared the lower works of the mine.

Thirty-five miners were trapped at the 1,200-foot level by fiery gases. All were brought to the surface, including the dead, by gas-masks-wearing rescue workers.

The dead were identified as Ingvar Wester, about 48, of Iron River; August Zuckal, 51, of Caspian; Einar Johnson, 59, of Crystal Falls, and Carl Rudy Anderson, 40, of Iron River, father of five children.

★ ★ ★

The mine is at nearby Mineral Hills. It is the property of the Inland Steel Co. Company officials declined immediate comment.

FACE BLACKENED

One of the rescued men, Keith Sleeman, brought to the surface with his face blackened by dust and gas, said he had stepped into a cutoff and "belching hell" went past him.

Another, Joe Mascotti, 45, said he started running when he heard the cave-in. He told of the fiery gas catching up to him. Mascotti said he pulled his coat over his head "and this probably saved my life."

Another miner told of walking a mile underground seeking a way out, only to find his way blocked. He was forced to return where he groped his way to the main shaft and was raised in the elevator cage.

Company rescue team dragged several of the injured up an incline at the 1,200-foot level where they also were brought to the surface by elevator.

POWERFUL VAPORS

One of the rescuers said powerful vapors came up the shaft. While riding the cage to the surface, another said he thought he would suffocate from the noxious fumes before reaching the top.

★ ★ ★

A witness said the stope apparently acted like a giant piston when it collapsed, shooting the suffocating fiery vapors through the bottom of the mine and upward through the shaft.

The rescue efforts were hampered by temporary power failures when flames burned through the cables. The inferno also knocked out pumps and lights.

Michigan has no state mine inspectors to help prevent mine accidents like one which occurred today at the Sherwood mine.

The State Labor Department said voters in counties where mines are situated elect their own mine inspectors.

Reps. Dominic Jacobetti (D-Negaunee), Gilbert L. Walles (D-Stambaugh) and 26 other democrats introduced a bill this session to set up a division of mine inspectors in the State Labor Department. The agency would inspect and supervise all mining operations to determine whether they were "reasonably safe."

The bill is in the House Labor Committee.

Inspections would be made at least once a month. Upon discovery of conditions "imminently dangerous" to mine employes, inspectors could order mines closed down immediately for as long as 30 days.

3 Detroit Newspapers Raise Prices to 8 Cents

DETROIT (UPI) — A one-cent increase in weekday editions went into effect today at Detroit's three major metropolitan newspapers. The new price is eight cents.

★ ★ ★

The two afternoon newspapers—the News and the Times—announced last week they would raise the price of daily editions while continuing to sell Sunday editions for 20 cents.

The morning Free Press made a similar announcement over the weekend.

Effective today the price of the Pontiac Press has been increased to eight cents a copy and 45 cents a week.

Personal Income in State on Rise

LANSING (UPI) — Another barometer has shown an upswing in Michigan's economic activity.

Total personal income in the state for March was $1,469,300,000 or up 12.3 per cent from March of 1958.

However, the figures, released by Business Week, also showed all other states registered an increase.

Expect Decision on Courthouse

Special Session of Supervisors Likely to Award Contracts

Contracts for the new Oakland County courthouse are expected to be awarded tomorrow when the Board of Supervisors meets in special session.

★ ★ ★

David Levinson, chairman of the Board's Special Courthouse Building Committee, said he would present recommendations then as to which of many bidding firms should be awarded construction contracts in the general, mechanical and electrical fields.

After reportedly failing to arrive at their recommendations in a closed meeting last week, Levinson's and two other committees have announced another meeting before tomorrow's full Board meeting to settle on the three big contracts.

It was learned last week that Levinson's group was studying the possibility of awarding the largest of the three contracts — for general construction — to a second low bidder from Pontiac instead of the low bidder from Detroit.

DEADLINE THURSDAY

Thursday is the deadline for acceptance of the bids, which were received April 21 $176,100 over architects' estimates.

Supervisors Tuesday will also take action on these matters relating to the long-awaited $3,000,000 courthouse:

(1) Set dates for sale of some 25 land parcels owned by the county which could bring in some $10,050 to help pay for the new building.

(2) Hear a recommendation that $174,924 be transferred from county "miscellaneous funds" to also finance the courthouse.

(3) Consider recommendation that a project supervisor be hired to coordinate construction of the courthouse.

(4) Authorize petition for the annexation to Pontiac from Waterford Township of a parcel of land needed to complete the County Service Center where the courthouse is slated to be built.

The Board of Supervisors will be asked tomorrow also to authorize the Department of Public Works to proceed with construction of a $560,000 sanitary sewer system to serve Michigan State University Oakland.

WAVERING LINE — Military precision is notably absent at London's Horse Guards parade, where these guardsmen go as wiggly as a platoon of rock 'n' rollers. They'd better get straightened out before their upcoming show and the annual trooping the color ceremony which marks Queen Elizabeth's official birthday.

Holiday Traffic Kills 13 on Michigan Roads

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents claimed 13 lives in Michigan over the two-day Memorial Day weekend — matching the total for last year's three-day holiday.

With five drownings and a stock car racing death, the weekend total reached 19 as thousands took refuge at lakes and picnic spots to escape humid weather.

The traffic toll put Michigan fifth in the nation in holiday highway deaths. California was first with 28.

After three years of impressive gain, Michigan is backsliding in the drive to lower the death rate on the highways.

Fatalities for the first five months of 1959 crept up to 471 as against 460 for the corresponding period last year, O. M. Lucas, State Police traffic safety statistician, reported today.

Actually, the unfavorable spread will increase when delayed reports on road deaths trickle in.

State experts who guided the safety campaign successfully through 1956, 1957 and 1958 are stumped as to what is happening. They called last week for suggestions and analysis from interested laymen.

Lucas said the provisional figure for May showed 111 died, or 19 more than the firm count for May a year ago. Deaths were up 32 in April. The effect was to more than offset a good January through March record.

"Increased travel undoubtedly had something to do with it," Lucas said. "I wonder if maybe apathy hasn't, too. Countrywide, fatalities were up in the first three months. The National Safety Council concluded apathy was one cause."

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday. It ended at midnight, Sunday.

Two-year-old Wayne William Corbett of Kent City, 15 miles north of Grand Rapids, was struck and killed Sunday by a motorist who failed to stop. The child ran across a highway near his home into the path of a car hauling a small two-wheeled trailer.

★ ★ ★

Hazel Fitzpatrick, 60, of Rapid City, was killed Sunday when she lost control of the car she was driving and struck another auto and a tree Sunday in Elk Rapids Township, Antrim County about one mile west of Kewadin.

HIT-RUN

Richard Miller, 38, of Detroit, was struck and killed Saturday night by a hit-run driver on Detroit's east side.

★ ★ ★

Dallas C. Eckert, 57, of Gary, Ind., was killed Saturday and his wife, Sally, was treated for shock when a tractor veered out of control, drove across the highway and sheared off the side of Eckert's car. The accident occurred on M60, six miles west of Niles.

Mary Lou Cenfalo, 18, c. Posen, and Elizabeth Kowalski, 17, of Hawks, were killed Friday night when their car collided with a train at Metz.

Betty Lou Brinkey, 13, of Troy, and Robert Seng, 18, also of Troy, were killed Friday night when their motorscooter and an automobile collided in Troy Township, near Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Deborah Sue Holmes, 22, of Benton Harbor, was killed Saturday in a head-on crash on M139 in Berrien County.

Lawrence Selinski, 30, of Livonia, was killed Saturday when his dump truck collided with a train north of Dundee, 15 miles west of Monroe.

ABUTMENT CRASH

Gerald Edward Bakko, 21, of Hancock, was killed Saturday when a car crashed into an abutment near Houghton in the Upper Peninsula.

Sarah Winrich, 30, of Lansing, was killed Friday night when the car in which she was a passenger hit a tree on a rural road near Big Rapids.

Walter Harris Jr., 24, of Saginaw, was killed Saturday when his car hit a tree on M81 east of the Saginaw city limits.

Drowning victims included:

Ronald Lee Strauss, 12, of Carney, drowned Saturday in the Menominee River at Penene Falls in Holmes Township, Menominee County. State Police said he fell from rocks into the water.

Thomas C. Schweder, 19, of Center Line, drowned Saturday in Independence Lake, Webster Township, Washtenaw County. State Police said the youth failed to come up after diving into the water. The body was recovered.

Ronald Brogan, 15, of L'Anse, drowned Saturday in Lake Superior when his raft struck a piling and overturned. His body was recovered.

★ ★ ★

Jane Liddecoat, two-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donald G. Liddecoat of Dearborn Township, drowned Saturday at Wampler's Lake, Lenawee County. The child had wandered away from a cottage. Her body was found by a neighbor.

Peggy Stevens, 11, of Pontiac, drowned Sunday when she fell into a water filled gravel pit on Pontiac's city limits.

Miscellaneous weekend accidents:

Wallace D. Celeske, 27, of Coopersville, was killed Friday night when his racing car smashed into a retaining wall during a stock car race in Grand Rapids.

U.N. Assistance Cut 5 Per Cent

Lack of Contributions Slashes Into Technical Aid Plans

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Plans for U.N. technical assistance next year have been cut back 5 per cent because governments' contributions are lagging.

★ ★ ★

The Technical Assistance Board, reporting this tonight, warned that further reductions will be necessary if it does not get a little more money.

In its annual report, the board went on to express hope that contributions would rise generally in the next few years to 50 million dollars annually.

Eighty-five governments gave $31,307,200 last year. By next Dec. 31, the report said, total contributions since the expanded program of technical assistance began in mid-1950 will have run up to 235 million.

★ ★ ★

The economic and social council decreed the expanded program 10 years ago next Aug. 15 to push the economic growth to underdeveloped countries by sending them experts and awarding fellowships to inculcate up-to-date techniques in industry, agriculture, education, medicine and the like.

The board, noting the anniversary, claimed progress in the 10 years. But it said, "no more than a beginning has been made."

"A formidable task lies ahead," it added. "For years to come the spectacle of poverty, hunger, disease, ignorance and social misery are likely to remain a challenge . . .

★ ★ ★

"These evils will not yield readily to the forces which have so far been mobilized against them.

"This conquest calls for an even greater national effort in the developing countries themselves and for an international effort involving a new order of magnitude of financial support."

The Day in Birmingham

West Lincoln Widening Due for Action Tonight

BIRMINGHAM — Tonight's City Commission meeting is expected to see the confirmation of the special assessment district role for the widening of West Lincoln avenue, between Pierce street and Southfield road.

Residents of the area still are strongly opposing a suggested 41-foot-wide pavement, and requesting commissioners to settle for 30-feet, an extension of 12 feet beyond the present paved width.

Approval of the 1959-60 city budget will be the subject of a second public hearing.

The budget totals $1,676,920, and according to City Manager L. R. Gare, it represents no increase in taxes. The rate will continue at $19.40 per $1,000 assessed valuation, he said.

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley will present the State Highway Department's suggestions for traffic control at the intersection of U.S.10, Lincoln and Woodward avenues to the commission tonight.

Work on the intersection is under way now. Its completion, according to Moxley, will create a whole new traffic pattern.

The Bloomfield Country Day School for Girls will be moved from its present location on the campus of the Detroit Country Day School, at 13-Mile and Lahser roads, the Board of Trustees has announced.

A new site for the Bloomfield school has been selected in Bloomfield Hills and preliminary plans for a new building have been prepared by the architectural firm of Eroh & Friedman.

The present building will be vacated by the girls' school at the end of the school year. Negotiations are currently under way which would see the Detroit Country Day School acquire the building.

The new location will be announced shortly, trustees said.

About 40 men and women are expected to attend the luncheon Wednesday when the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church honors the Golden Years Group.

Mrs. Paul Marker, invitation chairman, said all church attendants over 70 years of age are invited.

Besides music, the program will feature film and tape recordings from Dr. and Mrs. Robert White, missionaries in Africa.

A special meeting of the Birmingham Board of Education will be held in Hill School at 8 p.m. tomorrow. Action on bids for the construction for the ground-water cutoff drains at Birmingham High School is scheduled.

Ten members of Birmingham Chapter 220, OES, will receive their proficiency cards at the meeting being held in the Masonic Temple at 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Presentation will be made by Richard Waldon, chapter patron.

Mrs. Lena Brown

Mrs. Lena Brown, 75, of Asheville, N.C., died Saturday at the home of Mrs. Carl Flintermann, 150 Lowell Ct., Bloomfield Hills, where she was employed as a cook.

Her body will be shipped to Asheville tomorrow for burial there. Local arrangements are being made by the William Davis Funeral home.

Mrs. Brown is survived by two sons.

Senator Says Hoffa Lies About Teamster Growth

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark) has described as false James R. Hoffa's claim that his Teamsters Union membership is growing.

★ ★ ★

Expulsion of the Teamsters from the AFL-CIO as a corrupt labor organization had been based in part on findings of the special Senate investigating committee which McClellan heads.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa recently released statements saying the union membership has grown to 1,632,000 since he took over as president early last year.

★ ★ ★

McClellan said in a statement released over the weekend that he had become suspicious of the figures and had proved them false by subpoenaing the union's membership and financial records and analyzing them.

★ ★ ★

The senator said the union's average monthly membership shrank from 1,417,500 in 1958 to 1,407,070 in the first four months of this year. McClellan said the totals are based on the union's per capita payments.

The union operated at a profit of $1,186,373.78 in 1957, McClellan said, but had a net deficit of $361,764.13 in 1958.

conspiracy to violate state gambling laws this month.

Although detectives found pieces of paper alleged to be racing slips in the Gullett home, Judge Holland said "there was no other testimony or evidence of any other kind implicating LaRue Gullett."

"The search also disclosed that Gladys Gullett was running a legitimate business keeping books," the judge ruled, with Apley being one of her customers for his gas station business.

Gullett's attorney, Howard L. Bond, asked the charge against his client be dismissed several months ago, claiming no evidence was presented to show participation by Gullett in any conspiracy or violation of law.

Taylor, in asking that the charge stand, said the prosecution had produced circumstantial evidence to link Gullett to the conspiracy.

Judge Holland, however, ruled Gullett "committed no overt act, nor is he connected with the commission of any overt act."

Taylor's case against Gullett centered mostly around Gullett purchasing racing forms and his association with Burke and the others.

Judge Holland said he dismissed the charge against Gullett, city official since 1955 before he was fired upon his arrest, considering, among other things, that "circumstantial evidence of a criminal conspiracy must be within safe bounds of relevancy and be such as to warrant a fair inference of the ultimate facts in order to justify a conviction."

Weather Bureau Starts Ranking Our Discomfort

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. Weather Bureau began reporting a "discomfort index" in a number of cities today with its hourly temperature and humidity readings.

The experimental index won't prove whether it's the temperature or the humidity that's getting the populace down, but it is designed to indicate how people react to the combination.

At "discomfort" 70, about 10 per cent of the people are expected to be uncomfortable; at 75, more than half are feeling the weather; at 80, nearly everyone is approaching downright misery.

New York City's 6 a.m. readings were: temperature 57; humidity 83 per cent; discomfort index, less than 60.

The index is figured by a mathematical formula based on a combination of the temperature, or dry bulb thermometer reading, and a wet bulb thermometer reading, which indicates humidity but is not the humidity percentage figure regularly issued.

Over 60,000 in State Now Belong to Knights

Saginaw (UPI) — Membership in the 151 Knights of Columbus councils in Michigan has passed the 60,000 mark, K. of C. Deputy Joseph J. Mainolfi reports.

The K. of C. will hold its 59th annual state convention on Mackinac Island June 11-13. Msgr. David P. Spelgatti, editor of the Marquette Diocesan weekly newspaper, will receive the state council's annual journalism award, Mainolfi said.

The world's first medical operation in which ether was used as an anaesthetic was performed in Jefferson, Ga., by Dr. Crawford W. Long in 1842.

Deluges New Orleans Area

Arlene Pelts Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Tropical storm Arlene, blowing itself out in central Mississippi today, left in its path high waters across parts of Louisiana, but little wind damage.

★ ★ ★

The season's first storm, now only a poorly defined area of squally winds and rains, apparently swayed in a northeasterly direction across Mississippi.

HARD HIT

The worst damage in Louisiana Sunday came from torrential rains which closed some main roads in the New Orleans area.

At Moisant International Airport, 10.92 inches of rain fell in a 24-hour period ending at 6 p.m. Sunday.

Rain clouds hovered over broad areas of the eastern half of the country today after drenching rains and strong winds hit sections of the mid-continent.

Showers and thunderstorms were in prospect from the lower Mississippi Valley to the Atlantic Coast and northward into the north Atlantic states. Heavy rain was indicated in parts of Tennessee and Mississippi.

STORMS STRIKE

A cold front extending from the northern Great Lakes region to northern Texas touched off thundershowers Sunday night, with heavy rainfall in some areas. More than two inches of rain fell within a short period near Camdenton in south central Missouri. Springfield, Mo., was soaked with nearly 2¼ inches.

★ ★ ★

A northerly flow of air cooled central parts of the country. Temperatures were from 10 to 15 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier from Kansas and the Texas Panhandle northeastward into Iowa and southern Minnesota. It was a little cooler along the north Atlantic Coast.

Warm and humid weather continued in the Southeast and northward to the lower Great Lakes with temperatures mostly in the 70s.

Elvis Is Singing a Happy Tune for Promotion, Raise

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)— Elvis Presley has had a promotion and a raise.

★ ★ ★

The 3rd Armored Division announced today the singer was promoted from private first class to specialist fourth class, a rank equal to corporal.

★ ★ ★

Elvis, who drives a jeep in Scout Platoon of the 32nd Armored Battalion, received a shining golden eagle arm patch and a considerable raise. For Pfc. Presley it was $99.37 a month. Now it's $122.50.

Joan Crawford Denies She's Broke

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Joan Crawford said today she is getting $60,000 a year from the soft drinks firm her late husband headed.

She gave the figure in commenting on a Los Angeles Examiner story quoting her as saying she is broke.

"I have had calls this morning from friends who are solicitous about my financial situation," Miss Crawford said in a statement issued by her studio.

"Due to the fact that Mr. Steele's estate (Alfred Steele, board chairman of Pepsi-Cola until his death several weeks ago) must go through probate, which will take about three years, I can understand that my financial status may be subject to some misinterpretation.

Need for Early Budget Puts Added Pressure on State

LANSING (AP) — Pressure for a tax much money they can count on settlement that once was a speck on the horizon fast was developing into a thunderhead as the 1959 Michigan Legislature launched its 21st week.

It is the necessity for adopting a 1959-60 state budget by June 30.

Unless budget bills are adopted by then, it won't make any difference whether the state treasury is bare or overflowing. None of the 113 state agencies legally can draw money to meet operating bills any way.

Excluding weekends, just 22 days will be left to do the job when lawmakers return to work at 8 p.m. today.

Not a single budget bill for the new fiscal year has emerged from committee. The over-all state expenditure plan, expected this time to top 400 million dollars, usually is spelled out in nine or ten bills.

Embarrassment already threatens 1959-60 welfare programs financed largely with federal funds. Under Uncle Sam's rules, state matching money for the first quarter should have been certified two weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

Some veteran lawmakers aware of the budget implications, have predicted a tax settlement could hardly wait beyond the first week of June or possibly the second.

Lawmakers like to know how before dividing it up.

There is another aspect to the budget pressure with political ramifications, one that shifts a shoe from Governor Williams to the legislators themselves.

In the treasury pinch of recent weeks, the heat has rested mostly on the governor for delaying payrolls and choosing which other obligations should be backed up.

Passing appropriations is strictly a legislative function. If they aren't hustled through in time, lawmakers will have a hard time diverting blame elsewhere.

If any tax settlement is imminent from the bipartisan legislative Tax Compromise Committee, its shape was not discernable.

The focus at the moment is on a 146-million-dollar tax package in the House that looked less like a compromise than a House power play calculated to neutralize one executed earlier by the Senate.

The plan embraced those personal and corporate income taxes riding piggyback on existing federal income levies.

Instead of figuring tax on growth for gross or on net income, it would be computed on the basis of $7 for each $100 of federal tax paid by an individual and $12 for each $100 federal tax liability on a corporation.

Errant Golf Ball Brings on Tiff With Homeowner

A West Bloomfield Township fireman was in hot water yesterday when he hit a golf ball into the home of Arnold Gravitt, 29, 608 Wyoming Ave.

The fireman, William Stewart, of Keego Harbor, told Pontiac police Gravitt came out on the Pontiac Municipal Golf Course demanding payment of $3 for "damages."

What disturbed him, Stewart said, was that Gravitt brandished a butcher knife.

Stewart paid the $3 and called police, who picked up Gravitt and booked him for investigation of assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

When questioned by police, Gravitt said, "I wasn't going out there without protection. After all, he had his golf clubs, y'know?"

Young Briton TV Addict

RUSHDEN, England (UPI) — Michael Robinson, 8, was found at his home by police after he had been reported missing from a hospital where he was under observation. Michael told officers he'd walked the six miles home to see some television shows. The hospital set was broken.

'We Adjust Pretty Readily,' Says Stylist

Why U.S. Cars All Look Alike

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon, who wants to go places, is getting a lot of mileage out of the vice presidency, and not just in distance traveled.

True, he's traveled a lot—more than 280,000 miles since he took office in 1953. Although this is much less than the 560,000 miles logged by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Nixon visited more countries: 54 to Dulles' 46.

★ ★ ★

In July, thanks to President Eisenhower's determination to make good use of his vice president, Nixon will chalk up another 10,000 miles when he goes to Moscow to open an American fair.

These trips have been good for Nixon politically, since they keep him in the public eye. None so far may have been so important for him as the trip to the Soviet Union may be.

★ ★ ★

There if he talks with Premier Nikita Khrushchev and comes away looking good from the American viewpoint, so much the better for him. He can hardly lose. Khrushchev wants a summit meeting with Eisenhower. He is not likely to jeopardize it by giving Nixon a hard time.

MORE GRAVY

If Nixon has a hand in arranging the summit meeting expected late this summer, that's more political gravy.

If anyone doubts Nixon is aiming at the Republican presidential nomination in 1960, all he needs to do is remember that Nixon last month added a veteran political campaigner to his staff: Herbert B. Klein, editor of the San Diego (Calif.) Union.

★ ★ ★

Klein will be Nixon's special assistant in charge of press relations — he was an assistant to him in the 1956 campaign for his re-election and in the 1958 congressional campaigns — and will accompany him to Moscow. He is understood to have signed up with Nixon through the 1960 campaign.

★ ★ ★

Through his Moscow trip, and no doubt others to follow, Nixon should be able for many months to stay in the spotlight better than the man considered his closest rival for the presidential nomination: New York's Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

ANSWER TO IKE

Nixon could ruin himself on his international trips if he made any slips. But he is careful and conservative, as he knows he has to be, since he is in a secondary position now and directly answerable to Eisenhower for what he says and does.

Even a disastrous trip turned out all right for Nixon. This was his journey last year to Latin America where he was stoned and spat upon. It brought him a lot of public sympathy, and no criticism except for making the journey in the first place. The State Department was blamed for that, at least for not knowing Nixon might get that treatment because of anti-American feeling there.

This country recognized that what happened to the vice president was not aimed at him personally but was a reaction to American policies in Latin America.

State Rep. Hunsberger of Grand Rapids Dies

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—State Rep. Glenn Hunsberger (R-Grand Rapids) was dead on arrival today at St. Mary's Hospital. He had served since 1955 as Kent County Third District representative.

Hospital attendants said cause of death was not immediately established.

★ ★ ★

A native of Allegan County's Leighton Township, he moved to Kent County and was Plainfield Township supervisor 31 years until he resigned in 1955 to take his seat in the Legislature. He formerly was a farmer and later a general contractor.

Hunsberger is survived by his wife and five children.

The federal government has six penitentiaries at Alcatraz, Calif.; Atlanta, Ga.; Leavenworth, Ken.; Lewisburg, Pa.; McNeil Island, Wash.; and Terre Haute, Ind.

Can't Compete With Cheaper Foreign Goods

British Import Thaw Won't Help U.S.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Britain is giving American businessmen more of a chance to sell their goods there.

* * *

But it comes at a time when Americans are increasingly worried about their chances to sell their goods abroad — or even at home when in competition with cheaper foreign made products.

Many hold that rising prices of American made goods have been more effective than import curbs of other lands in cutting down the volume of American export trade.

The British are freeing more American products from import curbs and raising the quotas on others, such as autos, on which restrictions are still maintained.

* * *

But Americans haven't sold the full quota of autos and some other products even under the old rules. It may take hard selling to increase the volume despite the invitation implied by the relaxing of restrictions.

* * *

Many American products face stiff tariffs abroad, with or without quotas.

Also they often are in competition with similar products made either in the country where they seek to sell U. S. goods, or in lands (like Japan and most of Europe) where they are made at less cost.

Some of these competing plants are American owned. U. S. corporations have invested billions since the war in building factories in England and West Europe. Most of these can sell products more cheaply than can the plants here of their parent companies.

NO RUSH TO BUY

It is for these reasons that many American businessmen doubt the British relaxation will bring any sudden increase of U. S. exports to the United Kingdom. Last year England took about one billion dollars of American products and sold us 821 million dollars of theirs.

This year British exports to the United States have twice set monthly records. In April, for the first time since 1865, its exports to us topped ours to England.

It is this, and the increasing strength of the pound sterling, that has led London to relax curbs on goods from the United States and Canada.

* * *

Official Washington is on record as welcoming the return of good health to the British economy, even if it has been accompanied by the loss of some gold from the U. S. treasury's hoard.

And American officials have urged Britain to relax the curbs on American consumer goods. The official Washington view is that any step in that direction is a good thing for all world trade. Also it weakens one of the talking points of opponents of any further liberalizing of American curbs or tariffs on foreign products.

The British are now expected to push their demands that the United States lower some of its barriers against them.

Mentioned are U. S. import curbs on zinc, lead and oil, the high tariff on wool imports after a certain amount of it has come in each year and the rejection of some low British bids for large electrical equipment to be installed here.

* * *

And the British press, at least, doubts if the relaxation over there will increase our exports much. The highest guess is that about 45 million dollars worth of more high style or luxury goods may enter in a year.

Parents Killed, Son Is Hunted

Two Bludgeoned to Death at Home With Crowbar

HOBART, Okla. (AP)—A prominent Oklahoma mental health worker and her dairy farmer husband were bludgeoned to death with a crowbar at their home near here Sunday night.

* * *

Officers are searching the state for their son who came home Friday on convalescent leave from a state mental hospital.

The victims were Elmer Brillhart, about 46, and his wife Florence, 45. State Crime Bureau agents and highway patrolmen sealed off the area around Hobart in the search for their son, Clark, 24.

Sheriff E. O. (Pete) Peters said young Brillhart told a neighbor, Rollie Duggan, that he had killed his parents. Then he drove off in their 1956 two-tone blue auto.

* * *

Dr. Wayne Boyd, superintendent of the Western State Mental Hospital at Ft. Supply, Okla., said young Brillhart was admitted to the hospital last Jan. 26 and had been released in the custody of his parents on convalescent leave.

Mrs. Brillhart was recognized in Oklahoma as one of the state's outstanding lay workers in mental health. She also authored nondenominational religious books.

The end apparently came quickly for the couple in the modernistic home on their prosperous 500-acre dairy farm in southwest Oklahoma.

Officers found Mrs. Brillhart's body slumped in her rocking chair, a needle, thread and sewing materials in her lap.

Brillhart was found in the hallway. Nearby was a small bloody crowbar.

Young Brillhart was a senior at Oklahoma State University, studying business administration, when he entered Western State Hospital.

Ceremony to Mark Shift to University

MOUNT PLEASANT (UPI) — Commemorative ceremonies will be held on the campus of Central Michigan College today, when it becomes Central Michigan University.

* * *

A number of state officials were scheduled to take part in the day's events.

Retiring President Charles L. Anspach will deliver his farewell address to the student body, and President-elect Dr. Judson also will appear on the program.

* * *

An afternoon baseball game is scheduled between Central Michigan varsity and alumni, and an all-college dance is scheduled in the evening.

Pipe Line Company Appoints Two Officers

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line Co. has announced election of James J. Trebilcott and Robert M. Hoffer as vice presidents.

At the same time, Hoffer was made a vice president of American Louisiana Pipeline Co. He had been controller of the two companies since 1957.

Trebilcott also was elected to the Michigan Wisconsin board of directors and renamed general manager of operations.

The companies are subsidiaries of the American Natural Gas Co., which also owns Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.

Wrong Word Costs Western Union High

DETROIT (AP) — A veterinarian has been awarded $25,000 damages against Western Union because one word was deleted from a telegram he received.

A U.S. District Court jury awarded the damages to Dr. Orville C. Krause, 35, of Armada, Mich., Friday after four hours deliberation.

Dr. Krause claimed in a four-day trial before Judge Arthur F. Lederle that he is partially disabled from the effects of a needless anti-rabies shot.

He said he was sent a telegram Dec. 24, 1957, by the Michigan public Health Service informing him that a test made on a cow's head he had sent in for diagnosis indicated the animal was not rabid.

Dr. Krause testified that when he received the telegram the word "not" had been omitted from the text. As a result, he said, he received an injection of anti-rabies serum. He claimed the injection left him with a permanent arthritic condition in his left shoulder.

Dr. Krause had asked for $200,000.

Role in 'Gypsy' Has Ethel Merman Soaring

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Back in the days when skirts were o'er the knees and spit-curls o'er the noggin, Ethel Merman had her tonsils removed.

This created a resounding vacuum that has blasted across Broadway for 30 years.

Today, the delightful detonator is appearing in her 13th consecutive standing-room-only smash hit; and Miss Merman is holding in her enthusiasm with all the restraint of a little leaguer with his first home run.

"I love it, I love it, I love it." Miss Merman mentioned casually the other afternoon as she commuted between phone and sofa in her hotel suite. "And look at this place, will ya? It's like a high-class funeral parlor, don't you think?"

She reached over to caress one of maybe 20 vases of wax flowers. "I can't take real ones. They're poison to my nose, get me al stuffed up."

PLENTY OF PLAUDITS

Her nose is okay, but Ethel's ego is considerably stuffed up by the plaudits for her new show, "Gypsy," in which for the first time she performs real drama. Not drawma. Drama, pronounced the old-fashioned low-falutin' way.

"I knew I could act, way back, but nobody else really thought so. I take that back. There was Josh Logan," Merman smiled fondly. "Back in 1939 I did a show called 'Stars in Your Eyes' which Josh Logan difected, and he gave me a gift.

"It said on it, 'To Sara Bernhardt Jr. from Josh.' How do you like that? He knew I could act, too!"

So encouraged is the best belter Tin Pan Alley ever had, she wants to do a straight dramatic role one day. "Now that I've broken the ice . . . why not?

FUTURE BRIGHT

"But right now all I want to play is 'Gypsy.' I've got a two-year contract, but they seem to think it might run longer, like 'Annie' ("Annie Get Your Gun"). It ran three years, and I never got tired of it. I'll never get tired of playing Mama either (She plays the mother of Gypsy Rose Lee in the current hit). I may even take it to London. I might even make a picture."

Ethel's first sojourn on Broadway was in 1930 when she blasted off about how "I've Got Rhythm," and her latest was last year when she concluded a run in "Happy Hunting." It lasted only 14 months, a relatively short stay for a Merman masterpiece, and just as well too.

"That was one show where I didn't look forward to going to the theater. That's unusual for me, cause I love this business. It was a good show, but it wasn't a great show — and I was sort of dying to get back on the boards with a great one to make up for it.

"That, baby, is why I love 'Gypsy.'"

Miss Merman's home, officially, is Denver, Col., since she married Bob Six, president of an airline. But she was so convinced this show would be a hit that she moved 16 paintings to decorate the walls of her New York hotel apartment, and took a last long vacation at Round Hill in Montego Bay before even beginning rehearsals.

Of course, she had a precedent of 12 straight Merman hit shows to give her confidence — but she denies that it was her own box-office appeal that made her sure of success.

"That's bunk," she said. "I read the book. I heard the music. And then I learned that Jerome Robbins would direct. That was the end, honey. Jerry Robbins directing — on Broadway, that's like working for God."

Seek Government Pay Raise

British Doctors Plan Strike

LONDON (UPI) — The British Medical Association today issued a detailed plan for a "strike" to be called by the 20,000 physicians in the National Health Service if negotiations with the government fail to produce a pay raise.

The doctors involved care for about 97 per cent of the nation's patients. According to the plan, medical service would be available during the strike, but patients would have to foot the bills now paid by the government and claim reimbursement from the government afterward.

"National Health Service practice throughout the country would cease," the association said, "and the government would be powerless to organize any effective alternate service."

The Health Service, started 11 years ago, pays doctors $2.50 a year for each patient on their treatment list, with an additional $1.60 a year for each 1,000 names on the list.

Each doctor is limited to 3,500 patients. Payment is made no matter how much treatment is given the individual.

The program costs about 2 billion dollars a year, 80 per cent being paid by tax money and the rest supplied by social security plans and the patients.

Contributions by patients include 14 cents for each prescription, whether it calls for aspirin or expensive drugs, and $2.80 for each series of dental treatments, whether for pulling one tooth or replacing a mouthful.

★ ★ ★

The doctors contend that the government is underpaying them, and negotiations on a pay increase have been going on for several months. The medical association has given no indication of when its strike plan would be carried out.

School Borrowing Tops $75 Million

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan schools have borrowed more than 75 million dollars to keep open since last June, pay teachers and meet obligations, Lynn M. Bartlett, superintendent of public instruction, said.

The money was borrowed on anticipated state aid payments, current local tax notes and local tax notes for the next fiscal year.

About 19 million dollars was borrowed by schools during the last fiscal year, he said.

"This is again an indication of the critical financial situation confronting most of Michigan's school districts," Bartlett said.

Clothes to Aid Needy

HAVANA (AP)—Needy Cubans may soon be wearing clothing of ex-president and Mrs. Fulgencio Batista. The government Thursday ordered personal garb left behind by the former dictator and his wife handed to the Social Welfare Ministry for distribution through public assistance centers.

Rivers, Harbors Group Work Deserves Praise

The National Rivers and Harbors Congress recently concluded its annual meeting in Washington, D.C. The purpose of this congress is to assist regional, State and local governments in developing their water resources

★ ★ ★

Its unique position is the product of a long tradition of close cooperation with top officials in the Legislative and Executive branches of the Government.

Close liaison is also maintained with the Corps of Army Engineers, Bureau of Reclamation and the other 40-odd Federal agencies dealing with the water problem in all its myriad aspects.

As a delegate to this year's meeting, I was extremely interested in discovering the successful work that has been accomplished in the past by this non-profit organization.

★ ★ ★

Water is probably one of the most important single natural resources this country possesses. It affects us all in one way or another. Here in Oakland County we are tremendously interested in water from the Great Lakes for our daily use.

More than any other single source, the National Rivers and Harbors Congress is given wide credit for guiding the development of our water and land resources.

★ ★ ★

It has helped bring about a larger degree of Federal participation in meeting State and local water problems—notably, in the fields of flood control, navigation, irrigation, conservation and power development.

Official analysis shows that the completed projects by the congress are now preventing flood damage averaging more than one-half billion dollars a year. They deserve great support for this vital and worthy public cause.

★ ★ ★

The PRESS is proud to be a member of this successful non-partisan organization and help participate in our Nation's urgently needed water development program.—J.W.F.

Most Important Girls' Career Is Homemaking

We are reproducing herewith an especially timely editorial from The Nashville Banner.

Homemaking and motherhood are more than a domestic station in life, with responsibilities to be lightly assumed. They are a career, requiring preparation—and when treated as less than that homes fail, children too often go astray, and families disintegrate. Nations can crumble the same way, and simultaneously.

★ ★ ★

That is the essence of a timely and admonitory message delivered by Dr. WALTER R. COURTENAY, Presbyterian minister.

★ ★ ★

Marriage and its obligations are not trivialities. They are the most important ties, and duties, that can be undertaken in solemn covenant. And with awareness of their sanctity both parties owe at the same time the devotion and preparation that will contribute to their success.

★ ★ ★

Building a home is more than the construction of a house. Into it must go expertness acquired by study and training.

That denotes a sense of responsibility that will shape the character of children. It is an enterprise of partnership — and though Dr. COURTENAY'S remarks were addressed primarily to the Motherhood phase of that, they involved no less the fact of joint responsibility. Because of the occasion, it is a direct question: If girls are not being adequately prepared for their main task on earth, that of wife and mother, whose task is it to prepare them?

Hear the conclusion:

★ ★ ★

"Of one thing I am sure: If we do not do something drastic and thorough about preparing our young people for marriage, and our girls for the task of home-making, mind-making, community-making, it will not make too much difference who wins the cold war for America already will have been lost."

Also, if you will address a card or letter to "Patient," and send it in care of the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium or Pontiac State Hospital, they will see that it is delivered to a person who'll greatly appreciate it.

Also a Victim

David Lawrence Says:

Minor Agreement Ahead at Geneva

GENEVA — Two contradictory conclusions can be reached as this correspondent leaves the scene of the four-power conference after three weeks of firsthand study and private talks with various officials of Western countries.

One is that the conference is a complete failure, and the other is that nothing is a failure which involves continuous talk rather than war between two adversaries.

LAWRENCE

Within a few days the Geneva sessions will end with a communique that will gloss over the true deadlock on fundamental issues. A minor agreement will be made to recognize formally the previous rights of the Western countries in their sector of Berlin.

★ ★ ★

It will be hailed as an "interim solution." It will have one advantage—it will confirm the legal rights of the West and set them forth more clearly than was done in the fuzzily worded agreements after the end of World War II.

But basically what was the conference all about? Nikita Khrushchev issued an ultimatum last October demanding that the Western troops get out of their part of Berlin and then abandoned the demand temporarily when he got his way—a four-power conference and a promise of a "summit" meeting.

Judged by what has been revealed here, even a "summit" meeting is foredoomed to failure, too, in the sense that no solution of Europe's over-all problem is likely to be agreed upon.

★ ★ ★

When such a "summit" meeting—which would last just a week or so — is over, the same subjects will be turned over to another foreign ministers' conference to be discussed further.

For already the West has found itself approving of protracted and prolonged negotiations that may extend over a period of years.

What is all this getting the people of the world? Is there any chance of a program of disarmament to relieve taxpayers of their big burdens? Is there a possibility of a ban on the further production of nuclear weapons, as the United States has advocated?

★ ★ ★

The answer is that, when it suits Khrushchev to make a concession that is in his own interest, he may give a crumb here and there in exchange for something he really wants.

But the over-all picture will not change as a result of mere negotiations. The reason is that Western pressure upon Khrushchev is not military and cannot be, and no other pressure from the outside is being exerted that seems likely as yet to affect him.

What then is the answer, and from whence will it come? This correspondent is convinced the answer will come from the peoples behind the Iron Curtain and particularly from the people in the Soviet Union itself.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev himself is trying desperately to get world prestige. The West is involuntarily helping him. He is not popular inside the Soviet Union or with the members of his own party.

He is regarded as something of a clown by lots of his own people. To the outside world he is a man with immense power. But his power could crumble overnight if the 200,000,000 people inside the Soviet Union decided to ditch him.

Are there any outward signs of it? Revolutionaries don't advertise in advance their plans or their feelings. Prior to the outbreak against the Czar in 1917, there were no such signs either, but, when the revolt came, the army and the secret police went over to the revolution instantly.

★ ★ ★

There are those in the West who think Khrushchev can be converted to reasonableness and decency. There were in the 1930s many who thought "you could do business with Hitler."

There is only one possible advantage in talking to a dictator, and that's of limited scope.

It is to use the occasion to publicize before the whole world the cause of freedom — not with the idea of penetrating the deaf ears of the dictator himself but to instill courage and hope in the hearts and minds of all the peoples behind the Iron Curtain who must some day exert their true power to attain their freedom.

Smiles

An Ohio girl had a drunk arrested for hugging her. She was really up in arms.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Many Ailments Can Cause Pain in Pit of Stomach

The stomach is an organ in the great body cavity, the abdomen, (with the accent on the do).

The belly is front wall of the abdomen.

Discomfort felt in the "pit of the stomach," the depression just below the end of the breastbone, is generally called stomachache and discomfort felt elsewhere in the abdomen is generally called bellyache.

DR. BRADY

Now it is a physiological or anatomical fact that ache, pain or other discomfort from disease or derangement of internal organs is felt only in the walls of chest or abdomen. The internal organs have no sensory nerves. Thus it is necessary to anesthetize only the chest or abdominal wall in order to operate on internal organs.

The internal organs have sympathetic or autonomic nerves, however, and these nerves are alert against injury even though the patient be deeply anesthetized. And so the surgeon works as gently as possible in order to prevent or minimize shock and favor a smooth, uneventful convalescence.

Even though one feels ache, pain or discomfort in the "pit of the stomach," the region of the solar plexus, a substation of the sympathetic nervous system for the control of pretty much everything in the abdomen, that doesn't signify that the trouble is in the stomach.

FIRST TO SIGNAL PAIN

Nearly always the pain of acute appendicitis is first felt in the pit of the stomach, as is the first discomfort of gallstone colic. Indeed, so many minor and major ailments masquerade at first as "stomachache" that we might well discard the concept of "stomachache" and designate any ache, pain or discomfort felt from breast level to hip level just "bellyache," and leave diagnosis of the nature of the trouble to the doctor.

Appendicitis and gallstone colic or gall-bladder inflammation are only two of the many causes of bellyache. This being a health column I shall not mention other causes.

For pamphlet about common stomach complaints send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for Yankee Stomach. In my lexicon any resident of North America is a Yankee.

Howl of Protest Follows Teachers' Raise Request

The Pontiac teachers' union has beat Hoffa, Lewis, Beck, Reuther, Bridges and all the rest. They want a contract to guarantee their pay will be doubled in ten years. What an awful nerve.

★ ★ ★

Do ministers ask for anything like that? Do clerks, general managers, janitors, vice presidents, piano players, lawyers or anyone else? Does anyone in the world have his wages or income doubled in ten years by guarantee?

And who will pay this deadly bill for the school people? The poor, old taxpayers, that's who. They may have less income themselves or they may have a ten per cent increase over the ten years, but they must let the school folks pile it on like kings even if it takes their homes away by taxation.

★ ★ ★

I do not believe a group of leaders who make such demands is to be trusted on the committee. I know teachers that shouldn't even be kept on the payroll after ten years, and if they do stay, their pay should be cut in half for poor work and inefficiency but under this plan they would have their pay doubled in ten years just because they belonged to the grabbers.

★ ★ ★

Seven neighbors discussed this Saturday night and if the school board ever falls for a selfish deal like this the roar that goes up will close the schools entirely until common sense comes back and we may need quite a few new teachers to boot.

We from other countries are not jealous because there's no reason. We have more and better entertainments and luxuries than the USA will ever have. Our cities have atmosphere, are equipped with beautiful parks, fountains and buildings. Our stores are exclusive and cars are plentiful. We like to travel and do it every year, no matter how small our income is.

Smaller cities have their own legitimate theater and opera house with professional actors and schools provide student tickets for them. There are outdoor cafes with several musicians, quaint cafes and unique wine-houses where nobody gets drunk. We dress up to go out. We get a good education because we have to learn and our teachers are personalities.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

Deceit is the false road to happiness; and all the joys we travel through to vice, like fairy banquets vanish when we touch them. —Aaron Hill.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Snoring Mate Needn't Disturb You

Albert's wife offers a very common complaint. But it usually is unwise to let a devoted couple begin to separate, even via twin beds not to mention twin bedrooms. So employ the strategy mentioned below to solve this bedroom problem. And use the technique outlined in the nonprofit booklet in order to relieve wifely jitters.

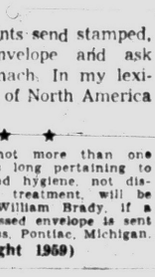
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B - 449: Albert G., aged 38, illustrates a common domestic problem.

"Dr. Crane," his wife began, "would you recommend separate bedrooms for us?

"Albert snores so loudly he keeps me awake. Or, if I finally do fall asleep, his snoring will often waken me.

"Then I lie there nervous and jittery, thinking of all the work I must face tomorrow. And the harder I try to go back to sleep, the more attention I pay to his snoring.



DR. CRANE

"So aren't separate bedrooms our only solution?"

CURE FOR SNORING

Snoring afflicts both husbands and wives, especially if they are rather plump and thus inclined to sleep on their backs.

★ ★ ★

In this posture, the lower jaw tends to drop open. And the soft palate then vibrates during the act of breathing.

It isn't necessary to separate a devoted husband and wife by the twin-bedroom method to combat this nuisance habit of snoring.

Instead, you can fit the snorer with a little cap that has rubber flaps to hold the chin in place. You can make such a device very easily with a flat strip of rubber from an old inner tube.

Our department stores also sell a special type of pajama adapted for snorers.

It has a little pocket in the center of the back. A whistling rubber ball is buttoned therein. When the snorer then rolls upon his back, he compresses the rubber ball and it emits a shrill whistle, thus waking the victim.

PIONEER SNORE STOPPERS

But far back in Colonial Days in New England, the ingenious pioneers developed another solution for this problem.

They sewed a prickly knot of wood in the middle of the back of the snorer's night shirt.

As soon as he rolled on his back, one of the sharp points of this knot produced pain. It felt as if he were lying upon a porcupine, so he quickly turned over to sleep on his side.

Before urging a devoted wife to resort to separate bedrooms, therefore, we Marriage Counsellors would advise some of these other methods.

★ ★ ★

And the innocent mate can also employ several additional devices to safeguard his or her own slumber.

Ear plugs are one simple remedy which will greatly reduce the "buzz saw" effect of a snoring partner.

And if you will eat a little cereal or some hot milk toast prior to retiring, you will sleep more soundly.

A lot of jittery, high strung wives would sleep like the proverbial log if they learned how to release their frustrated erotic energy, as indicated in the booklet mentioned below.

For sexually satisfied mates seldom complain about insomnia or snoring partners!

But if you do awaken to the tune of a "buzz saw," keep a bedside radio on hand and tune in to some soothing music which will drown out the snorers sound effects.

Meanwhile, don't fret unduly about insomnia, for you get most of the effects of slumber, though wide awake, if you just lie abed for the horizontal plane rests your heart.

Send for the booklet "Sex Problems in Marriage" enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20 cents (non-profit). It can stop your bedroom jitters.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Berlin Deadlock Break Predicted

Geneva Ministers Hope Closed Session Today May Bring Results

GENEVA (UPI)—High western officials today predicted an early break in the East-West deadlock over Berlin.

★ ★ ★

The Western foreign ministers were meeting in secret at the Soviet villa today with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and the hoped-for break could come then.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was reported to feel the break will come before the middle of the week and that enough progress might be made to justify a summit conference.

A London newspaper reported that Herter has "set a time limit" of 12 days for the foreign ministers' conference in Geneva.

The News-Chronicle correspondent at the conference said Herter informed Gromyko "that he cannot stay on in Geneva longer than the end of next week."

★ ★ ★

The Western foreign ministers still expect the Soviets to agree not to disturb the status of West Berlin despite Soviet Premier Khrushchev's declaration that he won't bargain for a settlement.

The Western delegates assume Khrushchev is still anxious for a summit conference. Herter made it clear to Gromyko that unless the Red threat to West Berlin is lifted, President Eisenhower would not attend a summit meeting.

Khrushchev in a speech in Albania Saturday said the Western proposal to the conference for Berlin and German reunification "does not contain a single element for negotiations."

'NOT FOR BARGAINING'

He also blasted Western determination to make concessions to the Soviets only if the Soviets come up with matching concessions.

"This is the approach of the horse dealer," said Khrushchev. "We have no reasons to make any concessions, since our proposals were not made for bargaining."

★ ★ ★

The Soviets are standing on their original proposal to end the occupation of Berlin, make West Berlin a demilitarized "free" city and conclude separate peace treaties now with West and East Germany.

★ ★ ★

The Western ministers nevertheless believe that in order to get agreement to hold a summit conference, Gromyko will give them firm assurance the Soviet Union will not take any action to change the status of Berlin or increase pressure on the Western powers to get out of the Communist-surrounded city.

★ ★ ★

The conference entered its fourth week today.

In a side development, British delegates at the Big Four talks expressed astonishment at a London report suggesting Selwyn Lloyd's days as foreign secretary are numbered.

British officials said there is "not the slightest chance" that Lloyd will be moved from his post before Britain's general election due sometime before next May.

The London Times report caused a buzz of speculation among American, French, German and even Soviet delegates not only about Lloyd's own future but also about the nature of the policies he has been advocating.

In London, responsible sources described the London report as completely untrue.

Coffee Output Up, Prices Trend Down

ROME (UPI)—Your cup of coffee should cost less.

A survey by the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) today showed increased production in 1958-59, and a continuation of the fall in prices which began in 1957.

★ ★ ★

"The general fall in world coffee prices has been reflected in retail prices in the principal consuming countries," the FAO said.

"In the United States retail prices were the lowest since 1950."

This is not happy news for the coffee producer.

FAO said world coffee production for the current crop year is provisionally estimated at 3,300,000 metric tons—9 per cent higher than in the preceding year.

Much of the gain was because of a big Brazilian crop—1,680,000 metric tons. African production was expected to be nearly 7 per cent higher than in 1957-58, Asian production up 4 per cent.

Physicians Mum on 'Violent Spells'

Gov. Earl Long Resting

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Doctors at John Sealy Hospital said Sunday that Gov. Earl K. Long of Louisiana was resting and "presently not under therapeutic care."

Hospital physicians refused comment on a report from what the Galveston Daily News called a "reliable source" that Long had a "couple of violent spells."

The newspaper said its source was "extremely reliable" but refused use of his name.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Sen. Russell Long (D-La), the governor's nephew, told Louisiana legislators his uncle might be away and Lt. Gov. Lether Frazar might be acting governor "for a considerable period of time."

Dr. John B. Truslow, the hospital's administrator, explained that the governor was taking no medication or curative treatment but merely nursing care while physicians continue a physical examination.

★ ★ ★

Long's nephew told legislators that his uncle went to the hospital for psychiatric care because his duties as Louisiana's governor "have been more than he could bear."

Dr. Truslow said the governor, who came to the psychiatric clinic Saturday following a vituperative outburst before the Louisiana Legislature, also has a slight bronchial congestion.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Long and other relatives have refused to talk to newsmen. The hospital said the governor's wife was refusing telephone calls.

Senator Long told the Legislature in Baton Rouge little they did not already know. Political friends, opponents and Louisiana newspapers had urged the governor to seek rest and treatment after his sometimes incoherent, 1½ hour outburst.

★ ★ ★

The quick, belatedly announced flight to Galveston has been called a maneuver to block Long's removal. Because Frazar already is acting governor, Long's foes are believed to face more trouble in any attempt to oust the 63-year-old political warhorse.

At odds with the Legislature over rejection of some of his program, Long last week also said federal agents were investigating his income.

★ ★ ★

His brother, who gave him his first political job in 1927, was former U.S. senator and Louisiana Governor Huey P. (Kingfish) Long, who met death by an assassin's bullets in the state capitol in 1935.

★ ★ ★

In his speech to the Legislature, which ended with him ashen and shaking, the ill governor said he would run for a fourth term. He said he planned to resign shortly before the end of his present term to make himself eligible. By Louisiana law, he could not succeed himself.

Texas Plane Crash Kills 5 Near Airport

SUGAR LAND, Tex. (AP) — Five persons were killed near here early today in the crash of a light plane.

The plane crashed shortly after taking off from the Hull Airport.

The pilot of the plane was tentatively identified as Ralph Flores, manager of the Hull Airport.

Names of the other victims were not immediately available.

Van Cliburn Confesses That There Is a Girl

LONDON (AP)—Van Cliburn, 24-year-old American pianist here for a recital, told British news girls today there is a girl in his life. He might even ask her to marry him.

"But I can't tell you her name, because I don't want her to know, just yet," he said. "She's American, and I've known her seven months, and she's not a musician even if she thinks she is."

Cliburn will give a full recital program at the Royal Festival Hall next Sunday. Before then he will dash off for a recital in Paris Thursday, and later will play at the La Scala Opera House in Milan and in Lisbon.

Missionaries Torn Apart

Reds Subject Christians to Diabolical Tortures

WASHINGTON (AP) — "They stop the noses of the people and pour water in their mouths. Every time the person breathes, he swallows water. After he swallows enough water, his stomach swells up, and then they stand on it."

The Rev. Tsin-tsai Liu told Congress this and other tortures have been used by the Communist governments of Red China and North Korea in their efforts to stamp out Christianity.

★ ★ ★

Four other Asian church leaders told the House Committee on Un-American Activities of Communist atrocities.

"All the elderly people 60 years of age and above who cannot work are put in the old people's 'Happy Home.' They are given shots. They are told these shots are for their health. They die within two weeks," said the Rev. Shih-ping Wang, East Asia director of the Baptist Evangelization Society International.

★ ★ ★

A woman evangelist, Kim Keum Sun, was tied between two horses which "were sent running in different directions," said Kyung Rai Kim, Christian leader in South Korea and chief of the religious section of the Kook Do Daily News in Seoul.

His sister-in-law was dismembered by horses tied to her neck, arms and legs, the Rev. Samuel W. S. Cheng testified.

Burglars Busy Over Weekend

Numerous Break-Ins Reported to Deputies During 2-Day Holiday

Burglars kept Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies busier than highway traffic did over the Memorial Day holiday weekend.

★ ★ ★

Saturday deputies investigated a breakin at the Springfield Hardware, 9419 Dixie Highway. Independence Township. Reported stolen were 60 pocket knives, 19 hunting knives, an undetermined amount of .22 caliber ammunition, $3 cash, and other miscellaneous items valued at $75.

Vending machines were the only object of attack by burglars who broke into the Sunoco Service Station, at Walton boulevard and Perry street, and the Oaken Bucket Restaurant, Walton and Pontiac road, in Pontiac Township, Saturday.

An undetermined amount of cash and cigarettes were taken by burglars, deputies said.

★ ★ ★

Thieves broke into a cottage at 565 Army Rd., Addison Township, owned by Samuel Soyk, of Detroit. Soyk told deputies that a $60 power lawn mower, $35 radio, and other miscellaneous items were stolen.

★ ★ ★

The farm home of Marvin Atcheson, at 5280 N. Oxford Rd., Addison Township, was reported broken into Sunday. A total of $120 cash, $20 of it from children's piggy banks, and a diamond-ruby ring of undetermined value, were stolen, deputies reported.

A store at 1672 Auburn Rd., Avon Township, was entered and thieves escaped with various items including two boxes of cigars, five cans of lighter fluid, 3½ cases of soft drinks, and 24 pies.

The breaking and entering of a model home in the Chapel Hill Subdivision, Bloomfield Township, was discovered Sunday. Stolen were numerous light fixtures, draperies, a mirror and lamp, and an intercom system and two speakers.

★ ★ ★

Deputies said it was the worst weekend string of breakins reported this year.

Marine Engineers in 2 Unions Merge

DETROIT (AP) — Two AFL-CIO unions, the Brotherhood of Marine Engineers and the Marine Engineers Beneficial Assn., announced they had merged yesterday.

The new organization will represent 10,000 members — Marine Engineers on American Flag vessels on the three coasts, the Great Lakes and inland rivers.

The Brotherhood of Marine Engineers voted 310-57 to merge. The MEBA favored the union 3,100 to 761.

BME members will come under local 101 on the MEBA with jurisdiction in the Great Lakes area and offices in Detroit, Buffalo and Duluth.

Local officials hope to organize Marine engineers on the Great Lakes in the enlarged labor group.

King Impressed by 'Great Heart' of Americans

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Belgium's King Baudouin, impressed "by the great heart and friendliness of the American people," flew home today, his three-week tour of the United States behind him.

★ ★ ★

The slender, bespectacled King, at 29 still a bachelor, said he was sorry to go. He wrung the hand of everyone within reach, thanking all for "the great visit."

During the trip he dined with President Eisenhower, addressed Congress and danced with movie actress Debbie Reynolds.

★ ★ ★

He said in a prepared departure statement: "I shall always remember my visit to your country with warmth and affection."

Informally, sometimes in French but mostly in English, he told his well-wishers he had a wonderful time and wished he could stay even longer. "But I have a job to do in my own country," he said.

Renault 6th on List of World Car Makers

PARIS (AP) — The nationalized French Renault automobile works climbed to sixth place among the world's manufacturers of cars in 1958, Renault said today.

★ ★ ★

The firm's annual report said Renault produced 430,736 vehicles last year, an increase of 28 per cent over 1957. Of the total 1958 production, 170,634 cars were exported.

Renault said figures for the first three months of 1959 showed even higher export figures. During this period, 53 per cent of all cars turned out by Renault were sold abroad. Renault is at present exporting 540 cars a day to the United States and 280 to Germany.

3 County Men Rape Suspects

Held for Investigation in Kidnaping of 2 Girls, Assault of 1

Three Oakland County men were held today for investigation on charges of kidnaping two 16-year-old girls and raping one of them.

★ ★ ★

Held in Macomb County Jail are Donald G. Franks, 25, of 581 Grampian Rd., Lake Orion; Frederick Fink, 25, of 333 Terry St., Rochester, and Russell Gagon, 28, of 588 South Blvd., Avon Township.

State Police Officer Francis Pronger of the Center Line Post said the girls were walking near their Sterling Township homes shortly after 9 p.m. when three men pulled up and forced them into a car.

Pronger said the men drove to a wooded area near 23 Mile road, where one of the girls escaped and fled to a nearby house, where she telephoned her father.

★ ★ ★

Driving to the scene, the father caught up with the car, Pronger said, forcing it to a halt at the side of the road.

In a scuffle that ensued when the father attempted to seize the ignition keys from the men's car, the other girl escaped, Pronger said.

The three men were able to drive away but the father got their license number, Pronger said.

★ ★ ★

Fink was picked up shortly afterward and the other two men were arrested after Fink was questioned by Center Line State Police.

Number of milk cows in the United States has decreased in recent years but milk production has increased.

Program for Talented Pupils Also

Plan Summer School Here

An "enrichment" and remedial summer school program for Waterford Township school pubils in the 4th, 5th and 6th grades has been scheduled from June 22 to August 1, according to superintendent William Shunck.

Not only is this program designed to boost a child's academic qualificatinos, but will make possible the opportunity of learning more in various subjects than is presented in classrooms during the school year, Shunck said.

For the child who is talented in science, the program will offer an opportunity to learn more science than has been possible in the regular elementary program. Similarly, some of the newer work in arithmetic will be available for those with unusual ability in arithmetic, Shunck pointed out.

At the presentime, there is no consistant art program for talented children in the elementary school. Such a course will be available in Waterford Township this summer.

★ ★ ★

A new theory attempted at Crary Junior high last year, promoting conversational French for smaller children, was so successful that this subject will be continued this summer.

The speech correction course enrollment, is wide open from preschool children through the senior high school grades. Interested parents have been asked to consult the speech correctionist of the child's neighborhood elementary school.

The Board of Education has approved the superintendent's recommendations that each child may enroll for only one course ($25 for six-weeks session) and classes will be held from 9 to 12 daily.

Classes will be limtied to 25 pupils, and the teaching staff will be selected from the present school personnel as much as possible, Shunck concluded.

2 Children Perish in Detroit Home Fire

DETROIT (UPI) — Two Negro children died today in a fire at their home on the Detroit East Side.

Victims were Eve Sherman, 10, and Gaylord Sherman, 5.

One fireman, Edward Quirk, suffered severe burns on his left hand while fighting the flames. He was taken to Receiving Hospital for treatment.

The fire was at 3690 Sylvester. It was still burning at 8:30 a.m., and further details were not immediately available.

Attempt to Free Boat Causes Seaway Block

MASSENA, N. Y. (UPI) — St. Lawrence Seaway shipping was halted near here today while three tugs renewed the battle against wind and current to free the grounded Greek freighter Andora.

All shipping was stopped at 6 a. m. when a mile and one-half of cable was fastened to the 422-foot grain ship from a winch. Indications were the shipping would be blocked until sometime in the afternoon. The vessel has been hard aground since May 23.

The first successful submarine telegraph cable was laid between Dover, England and Calais, France in 1851.

Sly Nikita Keeping West in Need of Tranquilizers

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)— The sly one is Nikita Khrushchev. He has everyone hopping and no one knows why.

What he said is well known, but not why he said it.

★ ★ ★

This is a fact apt to be obscured in all the millions of words coming out of the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in Geneva.

Those ministers, after almost three weeks of getting nowhere, flew here for John Foster Dulles' funeral. They flew back Thursday to resume their talks Friday.

★ ★ ★

But since the Western ministers only know what Premier Khrushchev demanded — demands that brought on the conference—but don't know why, they are really working in the dark.

Last Nov. 27 he called on the Western Allies to get their troops out of Berlin and sign a peace treaty with Communist East Germany.

Since then there have been all kinds of guesses as to his reason. But one thing is sure: With a few words he put the West on the defensive and it is still there.

★ ★ ★

When Khrushchev made his demands, he also indicated he was willing to back them up by a showdown with the West.

The West could have said: "All right, mister, show your muscle. You want trouble? Start it. We're not budging and we're not even going to discuss it. We're in Berlin and we stay there."

Instead, to avoid the showdown, the Western Allies agonized themselves for months on how to find some peaceful solution to the challenge Khrushchev raised. They finally proposed the Geneva conference to discuss Berlin and other things.

★ ★ ★

In the end, the Big Four may reach some minor agreement on Berlin, with the West making some concession in return for some Soviet concession.

But since Khrushchev started with nothing—the Allies were in Berlin—any concession from the West will be good horsetrading for him.

It's possible he never thought through his demands at all but simply made them to keep the West jumpy and off balance.

On Nov. 27 he gave the Allies six months to get their troops out of Berlin. They looked on that as a deadline, which would have been May 27. It excited them.

★ ★ ★

Later Khrushchev casually brushed aside the thought they had to be out of Berlin absolutely by May 27. He said he just picked the six months' idea off the ceiling. Maybe that's where he got his original idea, too.

The Communist world has kept the West jumpy for almost a year anyway.

Last July, when the Middle East was on fire because of the revolt in Iraq, the United States sent Marines into Lebanon to protect it.

★ ★ ★

That kept the West on edge, since no one knew what the Soviets might do. It probably made the Soviets edgy, also. If so, the Communist world didn't stay edgy long.

Within a few weeks the Red Chinese were creating a crisis for the United States by shelling the offshore islands of the American ally Chiang Kai - shek, on Formosa. That took some months to quiet down.

For a while, though, the United States was concerned, and deeply so, that it might be involved in fighting both in the Middle East and Asia.

The crisis in both places had hardly died down before Khrushchev made his pitch on Berlin. And the West has been fully concerned about that ever since.

Khrushchev may have the notion that if he can keep the West fully occupied somewhere — as in Berlin—it won't have time for, from his viewpoint, mischief somewhere else.

These were some of the guesses on why he raised the Berlin issue:

★ ★ ★

To gain recognition for the East German Communist regime and strengthen its grip on the East German people; to strengthen, if the West backed down on Berlin, the Soviet grip on the whole satellite world; to try, by this simple maneuver on Berlin, to split the Allies or probe a bit to see where divisions lay.

Since everything was quiet and he had nothing to start with, anything he gains out of his Berlin demands will be so much gravy.

War 'Enemy' Invades South Carolina Town

SOUTHERN PINES, N. C. (AP)—About 120 swaggering, green-uniformed troops patroled this pleasant resort community one day recently. The flag of the "aggressor" — a white banner with circle, sword and hammer in black —flew over City Hall.

With this comic-opera seriousness, Southern Pines got a glimpse of what life would be under enemy rule. The capture of the town was part of joint Army-Air Force maneuvers, Exercise Dark Cloud-Pine Cone II, centered at nearby Ft. Bragg.

General of the brigade Felix Desperator, his scarlet cap and scarlet epaulets gleaming, assembled the townspeople and read them pseudo proclamations declaring martial law and imposing a sundown curfew.

Gen. Desperato posted men at street intersections and diverted traffic from the center of town, where the troops were encamped on the mall.

Soldiers stripped the badge from Police Chief Ed Newston and threw him into jail, along with Mayor Robert Ewing and members of the City Council. There they remained for about two hours—until mock trials began in a closed courtroom.

Newton and other city officials were sentenced to be executed.

Shortly before noon, U.S. forces staged a propaganda attack. Helicopters dropped leaflets which bore a picture of a man being hung and warned Southern Pines citizens:

"Support the aggressors and sign your death warrant."

★ ★ ★

Fifty-caliber machine guns, mounted on jeeps, opened fire with a deafening chatter, shooting blank ammunition at the helicopters.

The aggressor troops took over the school, the post office, newspaper, radio station and post office, as well as all municipal offices.

Police telephone switchboards were swamped with telephone calls as Southern Pines residents —though amply warned in advance of the war games—sought permission to break the sundown curfew.

NOT NEEDED

But they didn't need it. For the enemy troops planned a stealthy withdrawal from town at dusk.

The occupation of Southern Pines set the stage for its liberation tomorrow by U.S. troops, thus giving civil affairs military government personnel from St. Bragg an opportunity for field training in municipal governing.

★ ★ ★

The Southern Pines episode was but a sidelight of the war games, an exercise designed to test the "brush fire war" capabilities of the Strategic Army Corps and the Tactical Air Command.

★ ★ ★

The exercise, which began May 23 and will end Saturday after a big paratrooper assault, involves about 20,000 men and some 300 aircraft.

Six Middies Choose Army at Graduation

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—An admiral's son who doesn't like the water and five other midshipmen are making naval history—by becoming officers in the U.S. Army.

They'll make the switch immediately after graduation from the academy this week.

It's by choice.

★ ★ ★

And although they give a variety of reason, it boils down to the fact that they prefer Army service to the Navy.

Marshall H. Wooldridge of Bethesda, Md., 24-year-old son of Admiral E. Tyler Wooldridge, has never made any bones about his preference for the infantry. His parents long ago accepted the fact. The boy just doesn't like the water.

★ ★ ★

The switch-over is natural for Paul F. Keefe of Baltimore and Arthur Emerson of Coke, Va. Their fathers were Army colonels.

The other three graduating middies making the switch are John M. Rourke of Springfield, Ill.; Michael Joseph Cronin of Red Bank, N.J. and James W. Tritz of Humboldt, S.D.

Windsor Won't Ask Detroit Help Protecting Queen

WINDSOR (AP) — Windsor police will do their protecting of England's Queen Elizabeth II on her visit July 3 without neighboring Detroit's aid.

★ ★ ★

The Canadian city's police commission, reversing prior policy for visits by royalty, has rejected a proposal by Windsor Police Chief Carl W. Farrow to invite Detroit police to help handle the crowds.

Crown Attorney J. S. MacDonald opposed the idea. He said it could lead to complications if a Canadian citizen were arrested by an American policeman.

★ ★ ★

Detriot police were in Windsor at the time of the visit of King George and Queen Mary and also when the present queen, then a princess, visited Windsor.

Journey To Love

By Virginia Nielsen

© 1959 by Virginia Nielsen. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

(THE STORY: Kathie Ebberts has inherited $1,500 and a deed to some Hawaiian land. Her boy friend Buck Landers wants her to marry him. She is willing, but wants to spend the money for a honeymoon in Hawaii. He says, "Are you crazy?"

CHAPTER IV

When Kathie came downstairs the next morning, Mrs. Jensen was in the kitchen preparing breakfast. The older woman gave her a curious look as she said, "Buck's come and gone. He said to tell you the chores are done."

Kathie stopped still, surprised and hurt. She was not later than usual. Buck must have come a full hour early this morning. And he had not waited to see her.

★ ★ ★

He was still angry then. He had wanted to avoid her.

She sat down at the table, but her appetite was gone. She had been long enough under the influence of her hard-headed old uncle to feel in her heart that Buck was quite right about the money. It had been an impulsive suggestion on her part, and Buck should not have taken it so seriously. She had intended to tell him so this morning.

But discovering that he deliberately had come and gone early to avoid seeing her this morning brought her resentment flooding up again. It seemed to her that Buck was too anxious about the money.

The oatmeal seemed tasteless, and she pushed back her dish. Her coffee was too hot, and she stirred it absently. She realized Mrs. Jensen was speaking but she hadn't heard a word.

"I'm sorry," she apologized. "What did you say, Mrs. Jensen?"

It was then that Mrs. Jensen advised Kathie to take her money to the bank in town.

It was just an hour later when Kathie left the farm, bouncing along the road in the dilapidated old truck. It was 9:45 when she turned the corner into the main street of town and first saw those thrilling words. Hawaii Calls YOU! in the window of a travel agency.

AT 11 O'CLOCK

By 10 o'clock, Kathie had finished at the bank. And five minutes later, taking a deep breath, she entered the offices of the travel agency. At 11 o'clock, she emerged, still in a daze. In her purse was a ticket for passage on the next sailing of the Lurline.

★ ★ ★

"You're so lucky to get a cancellation like this!" the girl at the agency had told her.

There was also a card with a name scrawled across it. The girl had a friend who worked in a dress shop who could tell Kathie just what clothes she would need.

It was midafternoon before Kathie found herself on the country road again, going home. The seat beside her was piled high with boxes, and every time Kathie looked at them, she quaked with terror.

At last, as she half feared it would, the enchanted excitement that had carried her along from the moment she read that stirring Hawaii Calls YOU! was wearing off. It had been a long day, and now, Kathie was realizing, there would be the piper to pay.

"You've gone and bought a trousseau!" Mrs. Jensen cried excitedly, when Kathie got back to the farm.

'COULD BE'

Kathie said cautiously, "It could be one." For a honeymoon in Honolulu, perhaps, she added to herself. But mentally cataloging her purchases, she realized they were not what Buck would call practical for a farmer's wife. "Several playsuits," the saleslgirl had decreed. "At least one swimsuit—"

★ ★ ★

"Your money is safe."

"It's safe," Kathie said evasively. It was in the bank. But in a day or two, Kathie had planned, she'd go back to the bank and turn it all into travelers' checks to take with her on the trip.

As in a dream, she remembered the pictures the travel bureau clerk had shown her of the vessel on which the girl had pointed out to her—Kathie's—stateroom.

It now seemed utterly incredible that Kathie should ever see the Lurline, let alone board it. But there was the ticket in her purse.

"Here comes Buck," Mrs. Jensen said, peering out the window toward the farm buildings.

"Oh dear!" said Kathie.

EARLY BIRD

He came out of the barn with the milk buckets in his hands and headed toward the house.

"You're an early bird today!" Mrs. Jensen cried archly, when he entered the kitchen, her eyes darting from one young face to the other.

★ ★ ★

"Hello, Buck," Kathie said in a small voice.

"Hi," he said, unsmilingly.

Mrs. Jensen excused herself and Kathie and Buck were left alone. Buck, looking at the boxes still lying on the kitchen table, said, "I see you've been shopping."

★ ★ ★

Kathie stiffened. There was something in the way he said it, as though she had no right—Again she had the thought that Uncle Job's money was a matter of too much concern to Buck.

"Yes," she said, noncommittally.

Buck looked straight at her from under the heavy brows. "Did you buy a wedding dress?" he asked.

Kathie's heart turned guiltily over. She shook her head. "Just—clothes," she said.

★ ★ ★

"You're still thinking about Honolulu!" he accused her, suddenly. "Aren't you?"

★ ★ ★

In answer, Kathie opened her purse and took out the ticket. He looked down at it, his tanned jaws knotting savagely below his lean cheeks. "So now you're going alone!" he said.

Poplarville Deal May Push U. S. Anti-Lynching Law

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Mack Charles Parker, 23-year-old Negro rapist lynched by a hooded mob at Poplarville, Miss., April 25, will not have died in vain if some Senate Republicans and Democrats have their way.

They made it clear this past week that they hope to use Parker's death as tragic evidence of the need for a federal anti-lynching law and stronger civil rights legislation.

Parker was dragged screaming from the Pearl River County, Miss. jail on the eve of his trial for raping a pregnant white woman in the presence of her 4-year-old daughter.

His body, shot twice, was found on the Mississippi side of Pearl River near Bougalusa, La. May 4, by FBI agents and state highway patrolmen.

The Senate GOP Policy Committee — denying any political motivation — decided to put the heat on Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex) for an early vote on pending civil rights bills.

★ ★ ★

On the Democratic side — and drawing potent opposition from their Southern colleagues — Northern liberals Paul H. Douglas (Ill) and Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn), co-sponsors of strong racial rights measures, said Congress "can't go home" until it does something.

Developments burgeoned swiftly after Attorney General William P. Rogers pulled 40 FBI agents out of Poplarville.

He announced that their intensive probe of Parker's death had "clearly established" no violation of the federal Lindbergh kidnaping law or the only other statute under which the government could have acted — where police act in collusion with a lynching party.

Rogers did what he regarded as the next best thing. He had FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover turn over to Mississippi Gov. J. P. Coleman a summary of all evidence gathered in the case and the names of the 10 or 11 suspects who took part in the lynching.

★ ★ ★

Coleman had risked political oblivion by asking the FBI to track down Parker's killers. He is no integrationist but was determined to erase the blot from Mississippi's escutcheon. He aroused the ire of Circuit Judge Sebe Dale by impounding the FBI evidence for the regular County Grand Jury which meets Nov. 2.

Coleman said the law requires the data be kept secret. Judge Dale, who refused to summon a special Grand Jury, said Coleman "had no right" to withhold the evidence from the district attorney and county prosecutor.

Coleman summed up his position with these words:

"Who ever put this black mark on us could not have done more violence to our institutions if they had dynamited the Capitol."

Sen. Douglas said the FBI withdrawal demonstrated the need for a federal anti-lynching law.

★ ★ ★

Sen. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala) disputed this. "There is one lynching in a number of years," he said. "To pass a law to prevent something as infrequent as that doesn't make sense. I'm convinced that Gov. Coleman will use every recourse to solve the crime."

Douglas, whose Douglas-Humphrey-Javits bill is the key pending civil right smeasure, said "we'll await with interest to see if there is any state action."

Sen. Jacob K. Javits (R-NY), ardent pleader for civil rights causes, suggested the Senate GOP Policy Committee action and won quick endorsement.

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen (Ill) said there would be a "pretty concerted effort" in behalf of a strong bill starting next week. He, Javits and other Republicans thought the FBI withdrawal had given them a good "selling point."

Whichever way the pendulum swings, Parker's death has brought civil rights into sharp focus as a major election issue. The Dirksen-Javits GOP group has made this evident. Sen. Humphrey who aspires to the White House, is equally determined to sell his Democratic colleagues a broad-gauge program.

First Russian Vessel to Sail on Great Lakes

NEW YORK (AP) — The first Soviet ship to arrive in New York waters in 10 years docked at Stapleton, Staten Island, Friday.

The 5,900-ton freighter Ivan Moskvin brought 850 tons of crated exhibits to be shown at the Soviet Union's exposition June 30 to Aug. 10 in the New York Coliseum.

The Moskvin has been granted permission to sail through the new St. Lawrence Seaway, the State Department said.

The 5,900-ton ship will be the first merchant vessel ever to fly the hammer and sickle on Lake Ontario and Lake Erie as she steams to her next port of call — Sarnia, Ont.

Woman Finds Way to Make Cells Grow in Test Tube

BAR HARBOR, Maine (AP) — A woman scientist at the Roscoe B. Jackson Memorial Laboratory is credited with discovery of a combination of chemicals that will support animal cell life in a test tube.

The American Cancer Society announced the discovery Sunday saying it was of particular value in cancer studies.

★ ★ ★

The research was performed by Dr. Charity Waymouth, who came here from her native England in 1952 and has been growing mouse cells for seven years.

In the past year the cells have been growing on 40 simple compounds, including ordinary table salt, dextrose and nine vitamins.

What's more, the ACS says, the cells have been growing at an "explosive" rate — increasing seven or eight fold every week. This is comparable to growth under natural circumstances.

"Dr. Waymouht's culture medium opens the way to precise studies of the basic chemistry of life," the society says.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Waymouth's culture medi- associate of Dr. Philip R. White, a pioneer in efforts to produce chemical nutrients for animal cells. The work was supported by an ACS grant given to Dr. White.

Ore Carrier Purchased From Cleveland Firm

DETROIT (AP)—Purchase of the ore carrier Peter White from Cleveland-Cliffs Steamship Co. was announced yesterday by Browning Lines.

Built in 1905, the ship has a keel length of 504 feet and a capacity of 9,000 tons. Troy H. Browning, president of the purchasing firm, said the vessel will be renamed.

The ship was named after an Upper Peninsula pioneer who helped conceive the canal at Sault Ste. Marie and helped to organize Northern Michigan College at Marquette.

"What's it like up there?"

It's not a place to spend a week end, that's for sure.

The cold is murderous, the air is shot with deadly cosmic rays and the low pressure problems are out of this world.

How do we know? From the kind of signals sent back to earth by a special radio transmitter inside the satellite. Two Bell Telephone inventions are being used in American satellites. Both of these inventions were developed to improve your telephone service.

One of the devices is the transistor . . . a mighty mite, no bigger than a bean, that amplifies the radio signals. Transistors, which are used in certain types of telephones, obviously make the most of the very limited space inside our satellites.

The other telephone invention is the solar battery. First used experimentally to power a telephone line in a rural area, it is now supplying power for the radio in one of our satellites. Or, to be more accurate, it is drawing power from the sun, so that it remains active many months after ordinary batteries are lifeless.

The transistor and the solar battery are small in size but huge in importance. The Bell Telephone research that produced them is constantly seeking new ways to keep your telephone service the best in the world.

Close Friend Comes First This Time

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My friend's daughter is being married the same day as my cousin. This cousin and I have not been very close through the years. As I cannot attend both weddings I was thinking of sending regrets to my cousin's wedding and accepting the invitation to my friend's daughter's wedding.

"My sister says 'relatives come first' and that it would be very belittling to our family to place a friend before a relative. To me a close friend is more important than a relative who didn't know I existed for years. Under the circumstances, wouldnt' it be proper for me to accept the invitation to my friend's daughter's wedding rather than my cousin's?"

Answer: In general your sister is right, but in your case I think your choice may be in favor of the close friend you see constantly, rather than the distant cousin who is almost a stranger.

"Dear Mrs. Post: After the bride and groom dance the first dance together, is he then supposed to dance with the mothers, and if so, which mother is first?"

Answer: If he knows that it will please them, and not embarrass them to dance on an empty floor before all the guests, he should ask the bride's mother to dance, and after a brief turn, dance also briefly with his own mother.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Aren't sympathy cards which people sometimes send to the bereaved supposed to be acknowledged? A friend of mine thinks it necessary only to thank for flowers, spiritual bouquets and handwritten notes and that sympathy cards rank with get-well cards and other greeting cards which require no acknowledgement. Please settle this difference we have."

Answer: Your friend is right; acknowledgement of a printed card with no handwritten message, is not necessary. When next you see the sender of such a card you thank her verbally.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what is the correct name to use on the ribbon that is put on a wreath of flowers sent to the dead? For example: If an uncle dies, should the names on the ribbon be "Uncle" or "Niece?" "

Answer: Usually just a card with the name of the sender is attached to the flowers, but if you choose to have a ribbon put on it, it should read "Uncle" and not "Niece."

Event Set in Pontiac Wednesday

About 250 women are expected to attend the United Fund Drive luncheon Wednesday at Elks Temple. Special guests will be the women who will be working on the community drive this fall.

The chairmen of the Pontiac, Waterford and Lake Angelus Divisions and the Pontiac Area Women's Division chairman will be announced at the noon luncheon.

Guest speaker will be Dr. R.C.S. Young of Birmingham, educator, youth counselor and lecturer, who will speak on services of the United Fund. Deputy administrator of the nation's civil defense program in World War II, Dr. Young is a prominent Rotarian and serves as a consultant on higher education to business institutions.

★ ★ ★

Born in Scotland, Dr. Young has had a full career. After service with the Gordon Highlanders in World War I, he came to the United States where his first job was as a worker in a Flint auto factory.

For the past 17 years, he has traveled widely and lectured throughout the United States and Canada. Appearing mainly before business, civic and religious groups, he directs his efforts to "rebuilding the climate for the American way of life in world leadership."

Attendance is by invitation and guests are urged to return their reservation cards or to phone UF headquarters so that suitable arrangements can be made. Mrs. Donald White, chairman of the Women's Division in the 1958 drive, is in charge of luncheon arrangements.

Robert R. Eldred, general chairman of the United Fund's 1959 drive, said the purpose of the luncheon is to thank those who worked in the Women's Division last year and to make plans for this year's drive.

Swimsuits to Control the Figure

NEW YORK (NEA)—The shimmering colors of the air and the shifting colors of the sea are reflected in swimsuits the girls will be wearing this summer.

The gleam of pink, the reflection of sunny yellow, the foaming green-blue of the sea itself will lend their own particular radiance to the beaches of this country. For most designers feel that these brilliant shadings are best in keeping with colors produced by nature.

★ ★ ★

Sleek, one-piece swimsuits will, despite the bikini talk, be the choice of most girls. There's a sound reason for this. Swimsuit designers have put years of trial-and-error into producing suits that do the most in streamlining a figure. They have turned out suits with built-in bras and girdles that can smooth out lumps, make a waist look smaller and even conceal heavy thighs.

★ ★ ★

Such figure control is not possible in the bikini. A couple of scraps of cloth are not calculated to turn the girl with the figure that's less than perfect into a beauty. They're far more likely to make her resemble a sausage tied about the middle.

★ ★ ★

There are, of course, pretty versions of the two-piece swimsuit that will find favor. But these retain many of the figure control aids of the one-piece sheath. And like the one-piece suit, they're calculated to make a girl look prettier, not lumpier.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Tennyson Wismer of Grand Blanc was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Jody Bennett, the bridegroom's sister; and Sharon Nelson. They wore embroidered nylon organdy gowns of white over pink irridescent taffeta accented by pink cummerbunds. Their headpieces were matching pink bows with pink circular veils.

★ ★ ★

Matron of honor carried a basket of pink carnations and rosebuds and the attendants carried baskets of pink carnations.

Susan Tressell, flower girl, wore a floor length gown of white nylon organdy over pink taffeta and a pink tulle bonnet with lily of the valley.

★ ★ ★

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. Before leaving for a Florida honeymoon, the bride changed to a turquoise blue, pure silk dress with white accessories and the pink rosebud corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Dress-Up Leather With Embroidery

A dressy, feminine look has now been achieved in, of all things—leather. One surprising example is a white kidskin jacket with all-over schiffli embroidery in black.

This striking jacket is pretty and practical, because it can be washed by sponging the surface with warm soap or detergent suds.

This floral print, satin finished cotton features the new "dust ruffle," sleeve. The dress is designed with an outward curving neckline.

Club Federation Convention Starts Tomorrow

3,000 Women to Shatter Kitchen Malarkey

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The ladies are coming to town today to pooh-pooh all that malarkey about a woman's place being solely in the kitchen.

★ ★ ★

To show just how far afield the little woman can go, some 3,000 of them are converging on Los Angeles for Tuesday's opening of the General Federation of Women's Clubs annual convention.

When President Chloe Gifford, a Lexington, Ky. attorney, brings the women to order, delegates representing 11½ million members in 60 countries are expected to be on hand.

TO BRING UP BAGS

They'll discuss everything from the quality of television to the effects of smog, from cheesecake to better citizenship, and the use of plastic bags which have recently caused a number of children's deaths across the United States.

One motion to be offered before the convention will be aimed at banning the bags or enforcing a more stringent law on their use.

★ ★ ★

Another motion will call for amendment of U.S. copyright laws so that composers can earn more royalties from the juke box operators who distribute their music.

Contrary to what some men might think, the women are going to do more than talk. They'll listen, too.

REUTHER COMING

One of the speakers, who has caused some consternation to a few California delegates, is Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers. Reuther is to appear Thursday night on a labor-management symposium with Charles Sligh, executive vice-president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

Last month, the San Gabriel, Calif., division of the women's federation wired national headquarters, asking that someone other than Reuther be invited to appear as the voice of organized labor.

★ ★ ★

Other convention speakers will include Gen. C. V. R. Schuyler, U.S. chief of staff at SHAPE headquarters; author-lecturer Col. Serge Obelensky, and Dr. Lyman Ginger, past president of the National Education Assn.

Wondering what to wear over your summer outfits when its too warm for a coat, but not warm enough for bare shoulders? Here's a suggestion. A short-sleeved cardigan. This one is made dress-up with an embroidered blossom on the front.

Poor Working Gal

Some grooming duties are simpler for full-time housewives than for the women who keep their jobs after marriage.

The homebodies can shampoo and set their hair during the afternoon — sparing their husbands the sight of pin curls or curlers.

Fresh as a summer breeze is this cotton print dress designed by Lanz. Ricrac trims the top, the arms and hem of the dress and the waistline is accented by a belt of the same material. Can be purchased locally.

Sun May Abuse Your Skin

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many folks fail to realize that our skin is a very important part of us. The lungs, kidneys and skin throw off body waste materials. The skin also helps regulate the body temperature. It acts as a sort of raincoat, keeping external fluids from our tissues and preventing the escape of important body fluids.

The skin is composed of three main layers, the epidermis or outer covering, the dermis which lies just under the epidermis, and the subdermis or the lower skin level.

Severe sunburn can be much more serious than many understand.

The top layer varies in thickness (from one-thirty-second to ⅛ inch) and is only a small part of the skin. This outer layer is composed mostly of dead cells. These are being constantly sloughed off as new cells push their way upward.

DERMIS

The dermis contains hair follicles, blood vessels, nerves and nerve endings, along with elastic fibers running in all directions. These latter give the skin its elasticity.

The subdermis is made up mostly of fatty tissue and is lacking in some portions of the body such as the eyelids.

When we think of the skin in terms of a vital organ and know how complex it is, we realize that its care is most important not only to appearance but to health. Yet many people abuse their skins with extreme suntanning each summer. Severe sunburn can be much more serious than many understand.

With the current fad of suntanning to a burnt toast shade, it is important that women recognize the dangers involved. The irritation of severe sunburn interferes with many of the skin's functions.

Also extreme and continued exposure to the sun may be one of the factors in the formation of cataracts and in skin cancer. People such as sailors, farmers and ranchers, whose work keeps them in the sun much of the time are more inclined to these conditions.

Continuous exposure to the sun may cause the skin to become very dry and leads to a thickening and darkening of the epidermis. If a large portion of the skin is injured by sunburn, the results may be severe and even fatal. Even with a fairly severe sunburn over a fairly large part of the body, there may be symptoms of nausea and headache and fever.

Tomorrow: Just what suntan and freckles are.

Gals Like Having Their Own Money

By RUTH MILLETT

"Don't think most of us working wives wouldn't quit our jobs tomorrow. We'd spend all our time keeping house if our husbands would promise us a certain amount of spending money to call our own," says one of my women readers.

"But," she goes on, "if we quit working, we would have to account for every cent we spend."

She also claims she knows quite a few husbands who say they wish their wives would stop working. But when these husbands start figuring out how the family can get by on one pay check, they never mention giving up any of their own small luxuries. They say the wife can get by with fewer clothes, let the cleaning woman go, won't need lunch money, etc.

"With all the plans for economizing going one way, a woman figures she's better off holding onto her own pay check," says this reader.

There's truth to what she says. Many women do work because they like to have a little money to call their own. They can spend this on things they want. But this might be impossible to justify if the cost came out of their husband's pay check.

It's also true that a great many men quickly get used to the little luxuries made possible by their wives' pay checks. They don't always offer to give up these luxuries when the talk gets around to whether or not the wife should quit her job.

★ ★ ★

Undoubtedly, a lot of women go on working year after year so that their husbands can have the extras they have grown accustomed to. Too, the women can have the independence of some money in their handbags.

Does Color Flatter?

When you're shopping and you find yourself drawn to a specific color, be certain that it flatters your skin tone. An easy test is to drape the material over your shoulder so it is close to the skin. Get as much light on it as possible before you buy a dress, sweater or skirt.

When your kitchen drawers bulge at the seams, it's time to take inventory. Sort through the items you have stored and dispose of the ones you never use.

Cranbrook Students' Work on Exhibit Till September

The 1959 exhibition of work by students at Cranbrook Academy of Art opened Friday. It will be on view to the public until Sept. 21. The galleries are open daily except Mondays and major holidays from 2-5 p.m. Admission is free.

The exhibition is designed, planned and installed by students from the academy's seven departments: painting and sculpture, design, architecture, ceramics, metalsmithing, weaving, and textile design. This year it occupies the three large upper galleries.

Also on view in the lower galleries is an exhibition of children's work from the Young People's Art Center, sponsored jointly by the Junior League of Birmingham and the academy galleries and paintings by adult students in classes taught by Fred Mitchell and John Strickland.

Cure for TV-itis May Lie in Ourselves

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

If, while we're reading a magazine story, our best friend drops in, we put aside the magazine. We're interested in the heroine's conflict in the magazine story. But we are more interested in our friend. Unlike the fictional lady, our friend will show some interest in us. She'll not just tell us about her experiences at her husband's business convention, but will listen sympathetically to what happened to us at the PTA meeting. Our existence is important to our friend. So we turn from the fictional character to greet our friend enthusiastically.

Does this clarify anything for a reader who writes, "How do you stop children looking at TV? It's a serious problem in my family. We can't pry our younger boys from the set even at dinnertime."

If we are more interesting to children than the people in cartoons, Westerns and old movies, they will pry themselves away from TV sets just as we reject the magazine heroine for our friend.

Now let's not all go up in smoke. We are sometimes bound to be too preoccupied, too tired to give anything of ourselves to children. We don't feel like inviting their confidences, telling them stories, making a game of setting the table with them. Like the magazine heroine, we're interested only in our own existence.

But under these circumstances, we have to accept the fact that we bore Betty and Stuart, and instead of resenting their absorption in TV, see it as a natural response to our lack of interest in them.

This isn't easy to do. It's much easier to complain of TV's hold on Betty and Stuart than to say to ourselves, "Obviously these youngsters prefer the company of Bugs Bunny and Bette Davis to mine. They prefer sharing experiences with shadows on a screen to sharing them with me. "Why?"

Everybody prefers to live himself than to watch other people doing it. Today "experts" give us many complicated psychological reasons for children's absorption in TV, comics, etc.

I think the answer's quite simple. Unreal life has been allowed to become more interesting than the real.

Drop-In Visit May Be Inopportune

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In the good old pre-TV days, when we'd drop in on friends or neighbors for a short visit, we used to have the pleasure of a quiet chat. Now in almost every home we must compete with that loud-mouthed box in the corner. Don't you think it would be nice if they either invited us into another room or turned off the TV set? A word from you might help.

OLD-FASHIONED

ABBY

DEAR O.F.: People who surprise their friends with drop-in type visits shouldn't be offended if they receive a noisy reception from "that loud-mouthed box in the corner." It is a "quiet" way of informing the unexpected guests that they should have called first. Many people do not like to turn off their favorite programs, and an uninvited guest has no right to expect it.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I'm a divorced woman who married a divorced man. I never mention my ex-husband's name to my present husband, but he is always comparing my cooking, housekeeping and I hate to tell you what else to his ex-wife's. Not only that, but he still wears the wedding ring she gave him. He uses the excuse that he can't get it off his finger since he put on weight. Is there a way he could get it off his finger if he really wanted to? Or does he think I am going to bury him with it?

JUST PLAIN MAD

DEAR JUST: A jeweler could file the ring off your husband's finger. If he's smart, he'll bury the hatchet and the ring with it.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago, my 10-year-old grandson received some foreign looking stamps, fastened on sheets from someone in New York. They sent a letter along stating these were "approvals" and they had been informed that the boy was interested in stamp collecting. These stamps were lost. Now he is getting letters from a lawyer demanding the return of the stamps or money. The boy never asked for those stamps and no postage was sent for their return. Can they do anything to a child for losing unsolicited stamps?

MRS. Y.

DEAR MRS. Y: No one (adult or child) is responsible for the return of anything that is sent to him in the mails if he did NOT order it.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: A new girl has come to work in our office. She could be popular except for one obnoxious trait. Whenever a question comes up like the spelling or meaning of a big word, she jumps in with the answer. They have nicknamed her "The Walking Encyclopedia." I know two men (both very eligible) in the office who could get interested in her but they are afraid to go out with this "brain." How can I tell her for her own good it isn't smart to know all the answers all the time? Or am I wrong?

TRYING TO BE A FRIEND

DEAR TRYING: Tell her (privately) that "Encyclopedias" are reference books—and reference books are never taken out.

'An Odd Little Topper'

Union Suit New at-Home Wear

By MARY PRIME

NEW YORK (UPI)—Before long, the well-dressed hostess may entertain in her underwear — providing it's long and designed by Bonnie Cashin.

Miss Cashin resurrected the old-fashioned union suit, gave it a new look, and showed it as at-home wear at the opening of her fall collection.

The union suit is intended for "those who enjoy collecting odd little toppers," the designer said. But if you don't have a fancy top, you can come as you are — in a choice of two styles.

One is a form-fitting, one-piece jersey reaching the wrists and ankles and tied at the waist with a narrow leather thong, dyed to match the jersey. The suits come in a variety of colors.

★ ★ ★

The other style is for ski bunnies, spectator sport enthusiasts, or gorilla fanciers. The suit is one-piece with a drop seat, hood, and tab which can button across the mouth for warmth. It's made of shaggy black mohair, lined with cotton.

'QUEEN KONG'

"I call it 'Queen Kong,'" said Jane Trahey, commentator for the show.

Miss Cashin, who designs for Philip Sills, a leather manufacturer, combined leather and wool in most of her clothes. She showed a suede dress with knit back, and reversible coat with black and white checked tweed on one side and red leather on the other.

A mustard kid coat with a seal collar was designed for "those who spend the winter with a built-in draft as their nearest companion."

Another coat, nicknamed "Hurricane Hannah," came in black kid, lined with pile one-inch thick.

★ ★ ★

The California-born designer showed a variety of ponchos, her trade mark. The newest version is a short poncho that is worn either snapped at the side like a jacket or "wild and free blown."

Other ponchos included a suede suit with poncho jacket, a hooded ski-lift coat of red kid, lined with mohair, leather capes lined with borgana or raccoon, and long, plaid, tent-like "bench warmers" which gather at the neck and snap down the front.

Jackets included mohair kimonos longer suit jackets which double as toppers, and a yellow quilted suede—"the chicest straight jacket of the season," said Miss Trahey.

Dresses included a suede chesterfield coat-dress with velvet collar, zippered suedes, bright jersey tube dresses belted in matching leather, and mohair casing dresses with no seams. "They just kinda happen — on round needles," Miss Trahey explained.

Colors included persimmon, ginger, green tea, cayenne, kumquat, saffron, new barley (a greyed-brown), and Irish mist (a soft green-grey).

Ports of Cleveland, Toledo Take Seaway Rush in Stride

CLEVELAND (AP) — Lake Erie ports have felt the rush of expanded saltwater traffic from the St. Lawrence Seaway, but have escaped most of the headaches that might have been expected.

★ ★ ★

In the first month since the seaway opened, 89 foreign flag vessels have called with cargoes at Cleveland. In the same period last year there were 62. And the pace is expected to accelerate as the summer advances.

Except for one hitch that delayed the unloading of a shipment of steel, there have been no serious dockage problems in this port.

And at Toledo, the other principal port for saltwater traffic on Lake Erie, the physical problems of clearing cargoes have been handled easily.

★ ★ ★

Seaway traffic has run into some snags in other sections. Three score ships were stalled at Montreal when the seaway opened, because of ice jams. More recently, there have been stoppages in the Welland Canal.

JAMS AT DETROIT

And at such ports as Detroit there have been dock troubles. At one time there were six foreign vessels lined up waiting for dock space at Detroit. Several vessels, including the Santa Regina, first American freighter into the seaway, had to cancel their Detroit stops.

★ ★ ★

The one delay at the port of Cleveland made the brand new, 451-foot Makefjell a day behind schedule. After unloading 10 tons of general cargo she was scheduled to leave 260 tons of steel at another dock. She had to wait until another freighter got rid of steel shipment, as the steel requires heavier cranes and cannot be dumped on just any pier.

Otherwise Cleveland's port has had few difficulties. Long a port of iron ore, she has shared saltwater traffic a good many years. The only difference is that in past years only the small freighters could get into the lakes—about 250 feet long and with a 14 foot draft. Now ships of 730 feet and a draft to 24.6 feet can make the trip.

The other Erie ports handle fewer foreign vessels, and the seaway has not had much effect on them yet.

Foreign cargoes are expected to hit heavier tonnages during June, as the larger vessels begin making the rounds. In the entire 1958 season Cleveland had 412 foreign ships in its port, but the tonnage was only 79,121 tons.

Toledo, like Cleveland, has long enjoyed saltwater business from small freighters, in addition to bustling bulk commodity traffic as the No. 1 coal shipping port on the Great Lakes and as a grain-shipping center.

BUSY HARBOR

Last year, 156 ocean-going vessels took a total of 32,977 net tons of general and miscellaneous cargo in and out of Toledo harbor. This figure does not include 15,-go handled by the port.

Toledo Marine Terminals, 257 tons of Canadian general cargo which does most of the general cargo business at Toledo, can service four vessels of over 258-foot-length at one time. Last year, the Terminals handled approximately 41,000 gross tons of import-export cargo, including both overseas and Canadian shipments.

While declining to state exact tonnage, a spokesman for the Terminals said its import tonnage has increased 267 per cent and its export tonnage is up 116 per cent in the first 25 days of the current shipping season over the same period last year.

★ ★ ★

As of yesterday, the Terminals had handled 26 vessels, including 12 over the 258-foot length. In the corresponding period of 1958, the Terminals handled 20 ships.

★ ★ ★

Foreign ships also have been loaded or unloaded this season at the Presque Isle Terminal, Anderson Elevators' marine leg and Norris Grain.

Mooring is no problem with many "waiting" berths available at such places as Toledo harbor warehouses and the foot of Madison Avenue.

A city dweller who recently moved to the suburbs says his new home is "only 15 minutes from town — by telephone" . . . It's not the minutes you put in at the dinner table that make you fat — it's the seconds." — Earl Wilson.

School Aid Bill Past 1st Hurdle

House Committee OKs Plan for $9 Increase in State Per-Pupil Rate

LANSING (AP)— Safely past its first legislative hurdle, a bill to raise state school aid an average of $9 per pupil will get another going-over by House budgetmakers this week.

★ ★ ★

The measure came out of the House Education Committee late last week, the first school aid bill to clear a legislative committee this year. It will go to the House Ways and Means Committee before moving to the House floor for debate.

★ ★ ★

The bill would raise the school aid formula from a base of $190 per pupil to $210. But, a boost in the deductible millage formula from 2¾ to 3½ mills — a boon to poorer districts — would hold the actual enrichment to about $9 per child.

The average school district collects about $151.50 in state aid. The proposed formula would raise it to $161 at a cost of 16 million dollars.

★ ★ ★

Additionally, 14 millions will be needed to take care of an anticipated 70,000 enrollment increase in raising over-all school aid to about 331 million dollars.

★ ★ ★

Thus, state spending for schools will figure strongly in deciding the size of the 1959-60 state budget and tax programs.

UAW Backs Canadian Small Car Demand

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers' executive board announced support for demands by the union's Canadian locals that the Big Three build small cars for the Canadian market.

★ ★ ★

The board said increasing sales of imported European cars in the U.S. and Canada has had a more serious effect on employment in the Canadian auto industry than in the United States.

★ ★ ★

It said the employment problem facing Canadian workers would be "even more acute" if the Big Three fails to produce new small cars in Canada.

The UAW said small cars produced in Europe took 11 per cent of the Canadian auto market in 1957, 18 per cent in 1958 and "many economists predict they will take as much as 30 per cent in 1959."

★ ★ ★

Chrysler, Ford and General Motors have announced plans to enter the small car production field this year. Previously, the Big Three imported small cars made by foreign subsidiaries or produced under agreement with foreign auto companies.

★ ★ ★

The UAW said additional job opportunities for Canadian workers would vanish if Canada were "caught in a small car squeeze between the United States and British and European imports."

Ike Greets Dawkins and Cadet Editor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two young Michigan men, soon to be college graduates, paid a call at the White House recently and left a copy of their yearbook.

Both were warmly received by President Eisenhower.

The callers were Peter Dawkins of Royal Oak, first captain of the cadet corps, and Gerald P. Stadler of Flint, editor of "The Howitzer," yearbook of the U.S. Military Academy.

President Eisenhower is a 1915 graduate of the academy at West Point, N.Y.

Dawkins is highest ranking cadet, senior class president, in the top strata scholastically, and is a football All-America who captained the 1959 Army team.

Visitor Doesn't Knock

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—Charles M. Anderson of Hastings, Neb., a winter visitor in Scottsdale, paid an unexpected visit to postmaster O. C. Wilson.

Anderson drove to the front of the post office building, hit the accelerator pedal instead of the brakes and his auto blasted through the wall of the postmaster's office. Wilson was knocked from his chair, but was not injured.

The numerous lakes cover 14,-000 square miles of the area of Sweden.

Lucky the Collie Earns Name on 2 Death Escapes

SOUTHHAMPTON, England (AP) — Lucky is a dog.

A playful black-and-white mixture of Collie and Labrador, he was fished out of the sea a mile off this bustling international port one day last week.

The two seamen who found him took him to an animal shelter where Superintendent Bert Butler said:

"He was so far gone that when I managed to revive him I gave him the name 'Lucky.'"

But it seemed Lucky had been snatched from death at sea to death on land. For he may have jumped from a passing ship. And the law says any dog landing in Britain must be quarantined for six months.

★ ★ ★

And there was no one to pay the 42 pounds ($117.60) quarantine bill. If he wasn't claimed, he would have to die.

Dog lovers reacted promptly. Money poured in. First to offer the full 42 pounds and a home was American-born British screen writer William Rose, who wrote the script of "Genevieve."

His shy 9-year-old daughter has set her heart on having lucky Lucky as a pet. And she'll get him too, after the quarantine period is over.

Area Burglars Clean Out Home

Furniture, TV, Stove, Refrigerator, Steaks Among Stolen Items

Three burglaries which occurred in the area sometime Saturday night included the sacking of a house in Oakland Township, State Police of the Romeo Post reported today.

★ ★ ★

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bechler at 796 N. Rochester Rd. was virtually gone over with a fine-tooth comb by thieves.

They removed the entire dining room suite; a three-piece bedroom suite, including springs, mattress and bedding; a television set; a nine-foot refrigeration unit; a kitchen stove and numerous smaller items.

The intruders dumped everything out of the refrigerator except 90 pounds of steak which they took with them.

Entry to the house was apparently made by forcing the latch on a bedroom window, according to investigating officers.

The Bechler family was in Algonac for the Memorial Day weekend.

★ ★ ★

A relative of the Bechlers, from Detroit, stopped by and found the back door ajar. He went to a neighbor's house and they called the police.

Residents of the area were unable to report any unusual activity during the night.

Thieves entered the Ennis Plumbing shop at 4562 Custer St. in Avon Township Saturday night by breaking the window in a door, police said. They rifled drawers and cabinets apparently looking for money, but took nothing, the report said.

Two cigarette machines, a pin ball machine and a juke box at Tony's Drive-In at 2790 Auburn Rd., Shelby Township, were looted Saturday night. An estimated $140 was taken, police said.

The forced entry was discovered by Mrs. Tony Disloli, wife of the owner.

Members of the cast rehearsing this comic scene are, from left, Beth Hoheisel, Mrs. Paul E. Stratton Jr., and Charles Stewart. The play will be presented Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings in the auditorium of Rochester Junior High School. Curtain time is 8:30 o'clock all three nights.

★ ★ ★

The contest will be divided into three categories: bathing suit, talent and formal wear. The 10 girls will be judged on specific qualifications in each category, according to Mrs. Oscar J. Sorenson Jr., contest chairman.

Aspirants for the crown are Barbara Kaster, Carole Bird, Sandra Rock, Linda West, Nancy Pompa and Carolyn McPeters. Others are Sandra Ruffner, Janice Ray Baene, Patty Towianski and Beatrice Bissett.

For the talent show portion of the competition, the contestants may sing, dance, play a musical instrument, give a dramatic reading or recite a poem.

★ ★ ★

Winner of the contest will reign over the Kiwanis Club's "Family 4th O-Ram-A" celebration to be staged Independence Day on the high school athletic field.

She will also receive a complete wardrobe and will be considered to represent the village in other queen contests throughout the state.

Woodruff, past president of the Rochester Women's Club; Mrs. Dorothy Seiffert, owner of the Dorothy Seiffert Model Agency, Detroit and Jack Taylor, vice president of the Rochester Branch of the National Bank of Detroit and past president of the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce and Rochester Rotary Club.

★ ★ ★

The two from out-of-town are Bob Maxwell, television and radio personality and Mrs. Robert K. (Rhea) Vietor, Women's Editor of The Pontiac Press.

Fred Noyes of Rochester, an executive of the Jam Handy Corp., Detroit, will act as master of ceremonies. The event will be held in the cafeteria and lounge of the high school.

House to Debate 3 State Bills for Marine Safety

LANSING (UPI) — Three bills aimed at strengthening Michigan's marine safety laws were expected to come up for debate in the House early this week.

★ ★ ★

The recent drowning of five persons in Lake St. Clair has given added emphasis to the proposed legislation. There were five drownings this weekend, but they were not caused by boating accidents.

One of the three boating bills would extend local law enforcement power to include water safety on the Great Lakes. Inland lakes are the only ones covered by state law. Life preserver requirements also would be spelled out.

Registration of all power boats used on the Great Lakes or inland waters would be required by another bill on the House calendar.

★ ★ ★

A third bill would require that all marine accidents be reported to State Police. Reports now cover only fatal boat accidents.

Lake Orion Deadline Set to File for School Board

LAKE ORION — Deadline for filing for the two vacancies coming up on the Board of Education of the Lake Orion Community School District is 4 p.m. June 13, according to Hugh Brady, secretary of the board.

The two members whose terms expire June 30 are Dan Abbey and Brady. Brady has filed for re-election but Abbey has announced he will not run again.

Nominating petitions are available from the office of the superintendent of schools. They must bear the signatures of not less than 50 registered voters for the candidate's name to appear on the ballot in the July 13 election.

The petitions must be turned in to Supt. Arlie A. Reed or to Brady by the June 13 deadline.

Also on the annual election ballot will be the question of whether to sell the former Eaton and Howarth school buildings.

★ ★ ★

The last day residents of the school district may register to vote in the forthcoming school election is July 3. They may do so at their respective township and village halls, the same as for other elections.

Lewis Accuses Ike of Siding With Steel

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis has accused President Eisenhower of siding with the steel magnates by talking of the possible inflationary effects of a steel wage and price increase.

★ ★ ★

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers union, appearing in a television interview (NBC-Meet the Press) Sunday, said that for the first time in six years Eisenhower had interfered in a labor-management dispute before the negotiations had been concluded.

"In effect, what he's telling the American worker is that he can't participate in the advantages of the economy on the same basis as the employer," Lewis said. "He eliminates the workers from participating in the benefits of free enterprise, capitalism, and our way of life."

CAIRO (UPI) — A pickpocket, pursued by police through the city zoo, threw away the evidence as he ran. Officers spent three hours getting three curious monkeys to relinquish the stolen wallet.

Mrs. Dodge Plans 'Girls' Town, U.S.A.'

PALM BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — Pretty Gregg Sherwood Dodge, wife of auto heir Horace Dodge II, plans to meet with Gov. Leroy Collins in Tallahassee tomorrow to ask him for 1,000 acres of public land to establish a "Girls' Town, U.S.A."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Dodge, who stepped from a chorus line to wed the auto heir, announced plans yesterday to devote the rest of her life caring for homeless girls at a project patterned after the famous Boys' Town in Nebraska.

She said she already has raised $2,500,000 in cash and pledges for the project. "We have several sites in mind now and it's up to the governor to determine which one can be released to us," she said.

The home would be non-sectarian and non-profit. Mrs. Dodge said the home would aim at providing a home-like background for "lost, frightened, abandoned girls from 10 to 18 who need care and help." She said each resident would have her own room to decorate to suit her own taste and each would graduate with training for a job.

Mrs. Dodge said she will seek the advice of such people as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and the staff of Boys' Town.

New Hope for Polio Victims

Develop Nylon Muscles

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Nylon tendons triggered by an electronic switch may raise the hopes of disease victims left with paralyzed hands.

Doctors say the artificial muscles will allow polio victims and others with immobile hands to feed themselves, sew, write, or shave with a firm, sure touch.

Fingers they say, will flex in a normal way.

★ ★ ★

A model improved by Baylor University College of Medicine laboratory workers was unveiled Sunday at the Texas Institute for Rehabilitation and Research.

A light plastic cast supports the inner side of the hand. Four nylon threads attached to the muscle of the arm are threaded through the plastic to rings that fit around the finger joints.

Demonstrations showed the fingers may curl around large objects or small, picking them up with ease. Sense of touch is preserved despite paralysis.

Power steering equipment includes a small device the size of a flash light battery called an electropneumatic microswitch. Also included is a two-inch valve attached to a six-inch tank of carbon dioxide.

Motion to set off the apparatus takes only a faint, flickering movement in one finger or arm. That fires the electrical switch which opens the valve and lets gas into the nylon muscle. Or the switch can be operated manually by any other part of the body.

★ ★ ★

Push the valve down and it lets in any degree of gas and powers the fingers. Up, and it shuts off, conserving its supply.

Developed by the National Foundation's Rancho Los Amigos Hospital near Los Angeles, the device was improved by Baylor's Dr. L. A. Geddes and Thorkild Engen of the institute.

It has not yet been used on patients. Researchers say its full potential has yet to be explored.

7 Nations Meet on Free Trade

European Countries Not in Common Market Try to Crack Barriers

STOCKHOLM (AP — Experts from seven European countries met here today to have a try at removing old trade barriers without damaging the finances of the nations concerned.

★ ★ ★

Forty officials of Britain, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Austria, Switzerland and Portugal—known as "the outer seven" — started closed-door discussion of ways to clear obstacles to a free trade area including all Democratic West European states.

The purpose of the talks, still at a nonpolitical level, is to form a new common market to match the European economic community of West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxemburg—the inner six.

A Swedish informant said the ultimate aid is to bring together all 17 member countries of the organization for European Economic Cooperation (OEEC)—including both the outer seven and the inner six—into one large free trade area.

★ ★ ★

The forming of a second common market, now under debate, is only one step along this road, said the source close to the Swedish government.

"It is hoped that the trade barriers within the outer seven can be pulled down at the same speed as the barriers are removed within the inner six," this source said.

"A possible merger sometime in the future would thereby be simplified."

★ ★ ★

The proposed new market of the outer seven would have a population of about 90 million compared with the nearly 165 million of the European common market.

Glenn H. Curtiss won $10,000 from the New York World for the first continuous air flight — 137 miles from Albany, N. Y., to New York City on May 29, 1910, in two hours and 32 minutes.

Ike's Note Read at Rededication of Calvin Chapel

GENEVA (AP) — President Eisenhower sent a personal message to a ceremony today rededicating as a place of worship the 11th century chapel where John Calvin preached the Reformation.

The chapel, known as the Calvin Auditorium, was subjected to incongruous transformations during the last century and in recent years had been allowed to fall into decay.

★ ★ ★

The World Presbyterian Alliance, largely on the initiative of the Rev. Harrison R. Anderson of Chicago, collected $160,000 from congregations throughout the world for its restoration. Anderson's church contributed $15,000.

Anderson read a letter at the dedication ceremony from "a fellow American, a fellow Christian and a fellow Presbyterian" — President Eisenhower.

The auditorium was built about 1060 as a private chapel for the Catholic prince-bishops who were Geneva's spiritual and temporal rulers until the Reformation. Calvin and John Knox preached there and held Bible classes.

★ ★ ★

For her wedding, the bride wore a floor-length gown with a Chantilly lace bodice and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil was fastened to a pearl tiara and she carried a bouquet of white carnations.

★ ★ ★

Wanda Bayliss of Troy served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Candace Hopp of Utica and Dolores Hopp of Troy.

Duties of best man were performed by Curtis Nunley of Detroit. Ray Schmidt and John Northey, both of Troy, were ushers.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors before the couple parted on a wedding trip.

Freedom Brief for Paraguay

Stroessner Breaks Up Congress, Again Grabs Total Power

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Paraguay's brief experience in more liberty under dictator Alfredo Stroessner is over.

An attempt by the government to raise bus fares in Asuncion by less than two cents provided the spark that brought Stroessner's iron hand crashing down again.

Stroessner dissolved Paraguay's one-house Congress and reimposed the state of siege — modified martial law — which had been lifted only a month ago. Informed sources said 15 or 16 congressmen had been arrested, including some from Stroessner's own Colorado party. The administration said only three legislators were being held.

★ ★ ★

The state of siege has been in force for 15 years except for brief periods. Stroessner, elected president without opposition, is often called South America's last remaining dictator.

★ ★ ★

Stroessner has been under pressure from many quarters, including the United States which has supplied Paraguay with 21 million dollars in aid.

★ ★ ★

The government chief had promised to relax other restrictions. Diplomatic sources said they had been told he would issue decrees providing for freedom of the press and amnesty for political exiles in the near future.

UAW Votes to Back Steelworkers Union

DETROIT (UPI) — Officials of the United Auto Workers Union have announced their intention to give "moral, organizational and financial" support to the United Steelworkers Union in the event of a steel strike.

The UAW international executive board voted on the stand at its quarterly meeting last Thursday but withheld notice of its decision until late yesterday.

Another resolution adopted unanimously by the board called on both the "executive and legislative branches of government to institute corrective action to restore the economy to a full employment, full production basis."

The board also voiced support of the AFL-CIO legislative program urging enactment of measures providing a minimum wage of $1.25 per hour; more federal aid for school construction; scholarship programs, and higher salaries for teachers.

High Court Nullifies Firing U.S. Employe

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today ruled invalid the dismissal of an Interior Department employe whose earlier discharge as a security risk had been rescinded and security charges expunged.

Justice Harlan delivered the 5-4 decision. Justice Frankfurter wrote a dissenting opinion in which Justices Clark, Whittaker and Stewart joined.

★ ★ ★ ★

The employe, William Vincent Vitarelli, was first discharged in 1954. He was then an Interior Department education and training specialist on the Pacific island of Korot.

He was alleged to have had Communist affiliations, but denied the charge.

In 1956, the Supreme Court ruled in another case that an executive order authorizing security dismissals could not be applied to employes holding nonsensitive jobs.

Michigan Industry Vital in Army Missile Plans

LANSING — Michigan industries will play a "substantial role" in the Army's missile program in the years ahead, the commanding general of the Army Ordnance Missile Command said.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Gen. J. B. Medaris, here to speak during Lansing's Centennial Celebration, said Michigan firms have had more than $284 million of Army middle work during the last three years.

Waterford to Offer Varied Activities

Prepares Big Recreation Program

Accenting June, National Recreation Month, the Waterford Township Recreation department has set up a summer program filled with interesting activities, according to Director Thomas Belton.

★ ★ ★

There will be swimming instruction at five township beaches, scheduled playground activities at ten elementary schools, a Day Camp from July through August and baseball leagues for men and boys at various fields in the area.

For men who desire not-so-strenuous activities, there will be an evening horse shoe league, and a newly organized "Blooper Ball" league, under lights at the Drayton Ball park.

For women desirous of shedding a few pounds, there is the Fashion Your Figure club, which is one of the oldest and most popular women-recreational activities in the township. Besides exercising—educational programs concerning figure fashions will be presented.

Hiking, nature study, woodcraft and over-night campouts at Teeple Lake under experienced adult supervision will be part of the day camp program.

RETURN AT 4 P.M.

Children in the 8-14 age bracket will be transported from their designated schools at 8 a.m. to the Highland Recreation area and returned at 4 p.m. daily for a one week period throughout the summer.

Supervised playground activity will begin June 22 through Aug. 7. Children will participate in Arts & Crafts, athletics, quiet games and have special projects such as pet shows, bicycle parades, hobo hikes and dramatics.

One of the most important recreations scheduled is the swimming instruction given by qualified Red Cross instructors, with lifeguards on duty at all times.

★ ★ ★

Separate classes for beginners, intermediates, junior swimmers, senior swimmers and those interested in learning speed-swimming will get under way June 29, continuing through Aug. 14.

A special adult class will be held at Pontiac Lake from 9 to 11 a.m. Saturdays, with a small registration fee to cover part of the expenses.

With the elementary school softball season drawing to a close, a new baseball league will be organized for the first time for boys 18 years old and under, according to Belton.

EXPECT 2,000

A complete time-and-place schedule will be announced just prior to the beginning of each program and more information may be obtained at the Recreation office at the Community Activities Center. Some 2,000 participants are anticipated.

"The main concern of our department is to promote the leisure time needs of Waterford Township citizens," Belton said, and added, "How recreation is pursued is important to health of mind, body and real satisfactions in life, and it is hoped that at least one member of each family will benefit from our program this summer."

Leftists Win as Singapore Given Semi-Independence

SINGAPORE (AP) — The left-wing People's Action Party (PAP) overwhelming victors in the election of Singapore's new legislative Assembly, today refused to form a government unless Gov. Sir William Goode releases seven party leaders jailed after bloody labor riots three years ago.

★ ★ ★

PAP Secretary General Lee Kwan Yew demanded the release after the governor asked him to form a new government.

★ ★ ★

Chief Minister Lim Yew Hock of the People's Alliance resigned today to pave the way for Lee's appointment.

After a government is formed, Goode is to proclaim Singapore's new constitution making the British island colony at the tip of the Malayan Peninsula a semi-independent state. Britain will retain control of defense, including the big naval base, and foreign affairs.

★ ★ ★

In the voting Saturday the PAP won 43 of the 51 Assembly seats.

Lee is considered a moderate leftist. He announced his party "does not propose to be, or even appear to be, the handmaid of the Communist party."

The PAP includes a considerable faction of rabble rousing fellow travelers, led by the party members whose release Lee demanded. They are expected to make a strong challenge for control of the party.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, the governor retains power to suspend the constitution. And Lee's announced goal is to unite Singapore with the Federation of Malaya, whose political life is dominated by anti-Communists.

Warden De Witt Sinclair described the executions as "strictly routine."

Harley A. Conner, a white farmer convicted of fatally shooting Gilchrist County Sheriff Mark Read, was the first to die.

Frank Peterson, convicted of the ax slayings of a Bonifay farmer and his infant daughter, was next to go.

★ ★ ★

The last to die was John Frazier, convicted of drowning a woman in Union County.

Tormenting Rectal Itch Stopped In Minutes

Science Finds New Healing Substance That Promptly Stops Itching and Pain of Piles

New York, N. Y. (Special) — One of the most common afflictions is a condition known as "itching piles". It is most embarrassing for the victim during the day and especially aggravating at night.

No matter what you've used without results — here's good news. For the first time, science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to promptly stop the burning itch and pain. It actually shrinks hemorrhoids — without surgery. Medical science has proved this substance produces a remarkably effective rate of healing. Its germ-killing properties also help prevent infection.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations. This improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of months! Among these sufferers were a wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' duration.

The secret is this new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institution. This substance is now obtainable in ointment or suppository form known as Preparation H.® Ask for Preparation H suppositories (convenient to carry if away from home) or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Three more holes-in-one were scored at Oakland County golf courses over the weekend.

Art Solow, swimming coach at Royal Oak Kimball High School, yesterday tried his hand with an 8-iron on Rochester Golf Club's 146-yard 4th hole and knocked it into the cup for the club's 2nd ace of the year. He fired an 87.

BAD SPILL — Jockey Ralph Neves and his mount Rhin take a bad spill when the horse clipped the heels of another horse at Hollywood Park Saturday. The veteran jockey remained in critical condition in a hospital today after undergoing brain surgery.

'Ruthless' Deane Beman British Amateur Victor

SANDWICH, England, (AP) — Deane Beman, youngest American to win the British Amateur golf title, gained a reputation in Britain as an ice cool character who played the course and paid no attention to his opponents.

★ ★ ★

The 21-year old University of Maryland student from Silver Spring, Md., defeated Bill Hyndman, 43-year-old Abington, Pa., insurance broker 3 and 2 in the final Saturday. Then both took off for home a few hours later for Monday dates in qualifying rounds for the U.S. Open.

British sportswriters described Beman as "tightlipped", "ruthless" and even as a "demon golfer."

★ ★ ★

Sydney Spicer, writing in the London Sunday Express, said:

"Beman, small and wiry and almost expressionless whatever the situation, gave a magnificient exhibition of the short game—even by the American standards. He hit the ball firmly and with a penetrating flight. In every respect he is the type of ruthless competitor who makes our job of catching up with American golf so difficult."

★ ★ ★

Beman's success in the British Amateur followed a 9-3 U.S. victory over Britain in the Walker Cup at Muirfield, May 15-16.

The Young Marylander, a member of the Walker Cup squad, was dropped from the foursomes but won his singles match.

His victory at Sandwich was a triumph for personal planning and determination.

"Soon after we arrived at Muirfield for the Walker Cup, I was playing my worst golf in three years," Beman said. "I knew I had little chance of getting into the foursomes.

"So I set out on a rigorous training schedule, hitting as many as 300 or 400 practice shots a day, all aimed at getting my game in shape and winning a place in the singles.

"My game improved every day. I made the singles and won my match.

"Then I came down from Scotland to Sandwich for the British Amateur and again I worked to a planned routine. This time I tried to pace myself so that I reached my peak in the later rounds.

"It all worked out perfectly. In the final against Bill Hyndman I played just about as well as I can play."

Beman was the 11th American to win the British title, first competed for in 1885.

Whitt Cashes In on Hot Streak

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Golf pro Don Whitt is in a hot streak and he's making it pay off handsomely. In six days he's added $6,300 to his bankroll.

Many tournament players have been saying that all the stockily built Whitt needed was a tournament victory and he'd be on his way.

Whitt apparently proved the point yesterday by capturing the Kentucky Derby Open. Only last Monday he came through in the Memphis Open after a playoff.

Whitt's 72-hole total was 274, a stroke better than runner-up Jim Ferree playing out of Crystal River, Fla.

Rodger Ward's Big 'Risk' Is U.S. Treasury

Past Drivers Passed Up Circuit Following Speedway Victory

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Rodger Ward, loaded down with loot from the richest auto race ever run, will go right on competing in the world's most dangerous sport.

★ ★ ★

Ward and his car owner, Leader Cards, Inc., of Milwaukee, won $106,850 in the 43rd 500-mile race Saturday. The World War II fighter pilot's take under the customary contract would be 40 per cent, $42,740.

That means Ward will be risking his neck largely for the U. S. Treasury the rest of this season—but his pretty brunette wife, Jo, says he probably would race for nothing.

"I'm going to make the rest of the USAC championship races and possibly some sports car events if I can get a good car," Ward said.

★ ★ ★

His next race will be the 100-miler at Milwaukee next Sunday. The last two Indianapolis winners, Sam Hanks and Jimmy Bryan, passed up the rest of the circuit after their big winnings at the speedway.

It took Ward nine attempts before he won the big pot. Only a dedicated race driver would have continued after his experience in the 1955 Memorial Day classic. His front axle broke, triggering the four-car crash that killed two-time-winner Bill Vukovich. He entered the 500 again the next year and finished eighth—his best until last Saturday.

Ward escaped injury in another sensational crash April 4 at Daytona Beach, in a 50-mile event that followed the world's record 100-miler in which he finished second to Jim Rathmann of Miami.

★ ★ ★

Ward seemed headed for a "bridesmaid's" season when he finished second to Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill., in another championship race April 19 at Trenton, N.J. He put an end to that pattern last Saturday.

Ward set a new speedway record of 135.857 miles an hour, beating Jim Rathmann by 23.27 seconds or about a mile. Rathmann's speed of 135.619 also topped Hank's 1957 record of 135.601.

It turned out to be a four-car race and Ward got a big assist from his smooth pit crew and air jacks which were installed in his A. J. Watson-built car. He made three stops for fuel and tires in a grand total of one minute and 13 seconds.

★ ★ ★

Johnny Thomson of Boyertown, Pa., the fastest qualifier, had to make four pit stops, broke a torsion bar spring and finished third.

★ ★ ★

Ward let Rathmann, Thomson and Pat Flaherty of Chicago, the 1956 winner, do most of the fighting for the lead in the first half of the race while he conserved his tires to save a pit stop.

★ ★ ★

Flaherty crashed into the main-stretch wall on his 163rd lap of the 200-lap race but escaped injury. Ward led the last 115 laps.

★ ★ ★

There were six mishaps, injuring two drivers and a crewman, but no fatalities. Two drivers had been killed in practice runs earlier in the month, bringing the speedway toll to 50 deaths in 50 years.

★ ★ ★

Ray Crawford, Pasadena, Calif., and Mike Magill, Haddonfield, N.J., were injured Saturday in wrecks and a crew man suffered burns when the car of Dick Rathmann, San Gabriel, Calif., caught fire in the pits. Dick suffered slight burns but declined medical aid.

BIG WELCOME — Deane Beman got a big welcome from University of Maryland students at the Washington National Airport when he arrived yesterday with the huge cup symbolizing the British Amateur Golf Championship. He defeated American Bill Hyndman in the finals.

Total Purse in '500' Is Record for Classic

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Rodger Ward of Los Angeles, who captured the 500-mile auto race Saturday at record speed, picked up the biggest check ever paid to an auto race winner — $106,850.

The total purse of $338,150 was also a record.

The biggest purse previously paid in the Memorial Day classic, world's richest speed event, was $305,217 last year. The previous high for the winner was $105,574, paid to Jimmy Bryant in 1958.

This year's purse included $219,975 paid by the Speedway; $30,525 in return of entry fees; $30,000 in lap prizes donated by Indianapolis citizens, and $57,650 contributed by firms in the automotive and fuel industries.

Ward received $60,925 from the Speedway; $19,500 in lap prizes, $150 for each lap he led, and $26,425 in accessory prizes. He also won the Buick pace car and a roomfull of trophies, clothing tools and other awards from racing fans.

The purse actually is paid to the cars, rather than the drivers, who customarily receive 40 per cent.

Other top winners: second, Jim Rathman, Miami, $39,800; third, Johnny Thomson, Boyertown, Pa., $32,425; fourth, Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill., $15,475; fifth, Paul Goldsmith, St. Clair Shores, Mich., $11,975; sixth, Johnny Boyd, Fresno, Calif., $8,475; seventh, Duane Carter, Indianapolis, $7,275; eighth, Eddie Johnson, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, $6,625; ninth, Paul Russo, Webster Groves, Mo., $6,325, 10th, A. J. Foyt, Houston, Tex., $6,575.

Bobby Grimm of Indianapolis, king of the county fair dirt tracks was awarded the Stark & Wetzel prize as outstanding rookie in the 500-mile race.

Grim suffered a dislocated shoulder when he held up his hand to signal the car behind him that his engine had failed. He was running sixth at the time at 212 miles.

★ ★ ★

Grim won by a thin margin over Chuck Arnold of Stamford, Conn., in voting by the "Rookie of the Year" committee of newsmen and racing officials. Arnold completed the race and finished 15th.

Snead, 476 Others Try Open Qualifying Today

By The Associated Press

Golfing maestro Sam Snead — still seeking to add the U.S. Open championship to his numerous golfing laurels—Faces the rigors of final sectional qualifying today along with 476 other hopefuls.

Snead joins such other luminaries as newly crowned British Amateur champion Déane Beman; Masters champion Art Wall Jr.; Bill Hyndman, who lost to Beman in the British Amateur final, and Arnold Palmer, one of the leading performers along the pro circuit, in the battle to get into the tournament proper.

This is the second round of eliminations for the main event at the Winged Foot Club, Mamaroneck, N.Y., June 11-13. Only 131 spots remain open for the nearly 500 golfers who will be competing at 13 locations across the country.

Twelve will be held today. The 13th—at Atlanta—was put off until Tuesday because of rain.

The two largest groups will be at Springfield, N.J., where Hyndman will be vying for a spot, and at Cincinnati, where the touring pros will shoot over the 36-hold route. The class of the field, however, appears to be at Washington, D.C., where Snead, Beman, Wall and Palmer are entered.

Seven former Open winners are among the 19 on the exemption list and already have their places in the Open's championship flight.

Heading the exempt pack are the last five champions—Tommy Bolt, Dick Mayer, Cary Middlecoff, Jack Fleck and Ed Furgol—along with Ben Hogan and Julius Boros.

★ ★ ★

Hogan and Boros earned their positions by being among the low 10 scorers and ties in last year's Open. Also included in that group are Gary Player, Gene Littler, Walt Burkemo, Bob Rosburg, Jay Hebert, Dick Metz, Don January, Frank Stranahan and Tommy Jacobs.

Also escaping the rigid double qualifying which has trimmed the field from an original cast of 2,402 are U.S. Amateur champion Charlie Coe, who competed on the Walker Cup team with Beman and Hyndman; PGA champion Dow Finsterwald, and Claude Harmon, head pro at the host club.

A field of 17 pros and nine amateurs will bid for six Open berths in the Michigan sectional trials today at Grosse Ile Golf and Country Club.

Leading the field will be John Barnum, Chick Harbert, Pete Cooper, Max Evans and Gene Bone of Pontiac, all pros. Bone was medalist in the local qualifiers on May 18.

Additional qualifying sites include Los Angeles, Denver, Chicago, Kansas City, Buffalo, Memphis, Fort Worth and Portland, Ore.

Cranes Win 2 of 3 Weekend I-L Events

Two of three weekend contests in the Interstate Prep Athletic league were victories for Cranbrook's athletes.

Crane thinclads added the league title with a 99¼-point win at Cleveland Univ. School, winning by a wide margin over four other schools. Cranbrook won 10 firsts in its 3rd major meet title. The Bloomfield Hills school won its Class B regional, the Central Michigan spring "B" meet and was 2nd in state Class B. Meet ended Cranes' track year with a 7-1 dual mark.

Barney Crouse's 100-220 wins provided the only "double."

An 11th inning single gave Shadyside a 8-7 baseball win. The count was 7-7 at end of regulation seven frames. Winning pitcher was Ken Salmon who gave up 10 hits. Roger Rothenburger was the loser, allowing 11 blows.

Cranbrook netters won the 2nd singles (Tom Bray), first doubles (Chick-Cudlip - Ron Reider), and the 2nd doubles (Marvin Bookstein-Tom Groff).

Maxwell Blasts Indians With 'Sunday Punch'

7-4 Win Puts Bengals Just Single Game Out of 4th Place

DETROIT (AP)—Four weeks under the calm guidance of Jimmie Dykes and the Detroit Tigers are ready to climb into the first division.

The genial cigar-chewing veteran took over as manager four weeks ago yesterday — the day Bill Norman was fired. The Tigers were a bedraggled, bewildered baseball team which had lost 15 of 17 games, when Dykes stepped in.

Today the turnabout Tigers were three games under the .500 mark, a game out of the first division, 5½ games out of first place. Dykes has them back in pennant contention. They have won 18 and lost eight with him in control.

Solid pitching and power hitting is the blend accountable for the Tigers' remarkable rise. Detroit had neither during the opening weeks of the season.

★ ★ ★

Dykes admits he is as baffled as every one else about the Tigers' about face.

"I don't know what it is," he said yesterday after the Tigers beat Cleveland 7-4 on Charlie Maxwell's ninth-inning homer. "But we've been getting real good pitching. They said we didn't have any home run hitters. Well, that was wrong."

The Tigers had only 12 home runs in the 17 games under Norman. Now with 46 games gone, they've belted 51. The Detroit mound corps had a 6.57 earned run average after the 15-3 pasting which caused Norman's downfall May 2. The staff's earned run average has been shaved to 4.88 in the last four weeks.

★ ★ ★

Not that Maxwell doesn't play the other six days in the week, but Paw Paw always seems to do best on Sunday and yesterday was no exception.

Although Dykes doesn't go in much for stastics, consider these: In seven Sundays Maxwell has belted six of his nine home runs and has accounted for 16 of his 39 RBI's. His Sunday average — 10 for 31 — is .322 compared to .246 for the other six days.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps most important, the Tigers have developed a knack of bouncing back from tough losses. Yesterday's victory, after the Tigers lost a heart-breaker to Chicago Saturday, was typical. It pleased Dykes immensely.

"That was a big one," he said after 27,706 came out to welcome the Tigers home from a three-week road trip. "The fans were ready to run us out of town when we went behind 3-0 in the first inning. But we fooled them. Now they know what to expect from the Tigers.

"My pitchers have developed confidence and the whole team's more relaxed."

Dykes first message to the Tigers four weeks ago was to stop pressing and relax.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers are playing with an easy confidence long foreign at Briggs' Stadium.

★ ★ ★

"Dykes helps build the confidence," said Maxwell, who returned to left field the day Dykes arrived after a long spell on the bench. "He put me out there and forgot me. That way you know you can have an off day and be in there tomorrow without worrying about your job.

"I hadn't felt that way for two years."

Look Out! Yanks Escape From Cellar

Basement Door Opens as N.Y. Clobbers Nats

Yankees Follow Tigers in Surge for Return to First Division

By The Associated Press

Yankee Haters arise! The battle has not been won. The enemy is not dead. He has escaped from the American League cellar.

The Washington chapter is to blame. They forgot to lock the basement door over the long weekend. Casey Stengel's men swept three in a row and charged into sixth place right behind Detroit, blinking in daylight after 11 days in the dungeon.

New York clobbered Washington twice on Saturday, scoring 22 runs, and won Sunday's single game 3-0 on Bill Skowron's three-run homer in the ninth and Bob Turley's two-hit pitching.

The Yanks still are four games under .500 but the league is beginning to come back to them. Cleveland, still in first place, is only six games away. The Yanks still have 112 games to play.

Cleveland held its one-game lead over Chicago because the White Sox were thumped early and late by Kansas City. The A's knocked out Early Wynn while scoring five runs in the second and added four more in the sixth on Preston Ward's grand slam homer for a 9-1 decision.

Baltimore dropped Boston into last place, five percentage points behind Washington, when Hal (Skinny) Brown beat the Red Sox 2-1. Brown staggered through the first two innings and settled down to pitch a four-hitter.

Camilo Pascual did his very best to keep the Yanks in last place, matching Turley's two-hit shutout for the first eight innings. There were two out in the ninth when Mickey Mantle doubled to right center.

After Yogi Berra was walked intentionally, Skowron lined Pascual's second pitch into the left center bleachers for his eighth home run.

Turley, still far behind his 1958 pace, recovered from his recent wildness and walked only one. It was his fourth victory (he's lost six) and Pascual's fifth defeat.

Whitey Herzog's single with the bases loaded and Dick Williams' double each drove in two runs for the A's in the big second inning. Ward's grand slammer came off Barry Latman who replaced Wynn in the second. Ned Garver, who hasn't lost to Chicago since July 4, 1957, won his fourth with a four-hitter.

Baltimore left 15 on base in beating Boston. Al Pilarcik's double followed by Willie Tasby's single broke a 1-1 tie in the sixth. Ike Delock was the loser.

Face Continues Bullpen Wizardry

Pirates Also on Move in NL

By the Associated Press

It has been a year and two days since Roy Face lost a ball game. The Pittsburgh relief ace picked up his seventh victory of 1959 Sunday while the Pirates were closing in on the National League over Cincinnati.

Face lost to Milwaukee, May 30, 1958. He won five last year and seven this year for a 12-0 record. During that period he has appeared in 61 ball games. No wonder Manager Danny Murtaugh insists he has the best bullpen man in baseball.

It was Face's three innings of shutout pitching that helped the Pirates pull out of a wild 14-11 second game with Cincinnati after the Pirates had won the opener 6-2.

★ ★ ★

The Pirates thrust last winter's deal down the throats of the Reds as Smoky Burgess and Don Hoak, traded to Pittsburgh by Cincinnati, each hit three home runs. Bob Skinner contributed a pair, including a grand slammer, in the frantic second game.

While the Pirates continued to move up after their sorry start, both the second-place San Francisco Giants and fourth place Los Angeles Dodgers also closed in on Milwaukee. The Giants turned back Chicago 6-3 and the Dodgers nipped St. Louis 5-3 while the Braves were splitting two with the last-place Phils.

At the close of the holiday weekend, the Braves led the Giants by 2½ games, the Pirates by 4½ and the Dodgers by 5 games.

Robin Roberts shut out the Braves with four hits, 6-0, in the opener, his first complete game since April 22. It was his 209th major league triumph.

★ ★ ★

Warren Spahn moved up to tie Hall of Famer Carl Hubbell with 253 National League victories by throwing a four-hitter at the Braves while winning 2-1.

In contrast to the homer-packed games at Cincinnati, strikeout pitching predominated in California. Johnny Antonelli struck out 11 although he needed relief help from Stu Miller when the Cubs started to kick up in the ninth. Two Dodger pitchers, Sandy Koufax and Danny McDevitt, whiffed 14 Cardinals and St. Louis pitchers turned in nine strikeouts. The two-club total of 23 tied a National League record.

Roberts bested Lew Burdette in the first game at Milwaukee where 28,590, largest crowd at County Stadium since opening day, saw the two active NL pitchers with the most victories—Roberts and Spahn.

Spahn got all the help he needed when Wes Covington hit a two-run homer off Ray Semproch in the first. The lone Phil run off Spahn was a pinch homer by Gene Freese, his fifth of the year.

SLIDING INDIAN — Cleveland catcher Eddie Fitzgerald slides safely into third base in the first inning as the throw from outfielder Harvey Kuenn gets past Tiger thirdbaseman Eddie Yost. The Tigers won the game at Briggs Stadium, 7-4, on Charley Maxwell's 9th inning homer.

Andonian Paces Sylvan Golfers

Mike's 71 Highlights Victory Over Morey's in Publinx Loop

Pontiac's Mike Andonian, state public links golf champion for the last three years, fired a 71 Sunday to lead Sylvan Glen to a 13½-8½ victory over Morey's in the Michigan Publinx League.

A blistering pair of sub-par rounds by Ty Caplin of Idyl Wyld and River Bank's Lee Gohs highlighted other league competition yesterday.

Caplin shot 66 to pace his Idyl Wyld team to a 14½-7½ triumph over Brae Burn and Gohs also carded 66 as River Bank defeated Bald Mountain, 12-10. Paul Bada and Dick DeWitt, both from Pontiac, led Bald Mountain with 73 and 74, respectively.

Rochester's squad broke into the win column with an 18-4 rout of Glenhurst. Roy Iceberg of Pontiac paced the winners with a 76.

Mickey Wright Predicts Win, Makes It Good

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Long-hitting Mickey Wright won the $6,000 Virginia Beach women's invitation golf tournament yesterday and simultaneously gained stature both as golfer and as prognosticator.

★ ★ ★

On the eve of the first round of the 54-hole tournament for lady professionals last Thursday, the blonde Bonita, Calif., swatter had predicted she could shoot a 207 and that it would win.

She did, and it did.

One stroke behind Beverly Hanson of Indio, Calif., going into the final 18 holes over the par 35-34—69 Cavalier course, Miss Wright nosed to victory on a closing 70 after previous rounds of 70 and 67. Her payoff was a check for $997.50.

City Horseshoe Loop Under Way Tomorrow

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's annual City Horseshoe League competition starts tomorrow and Thursday at Oakland Park at 7 p.m. Pitching is scheduled in both singles and doubles.

League play will run through Aug. 18 and Aug. 20 with playoffs slated Aug. 25 in singles and Aug. 27 for doubles. An open city tournament is being planned for the Labor Day weekend in both singles and doubles.

Hayes Wins Both Hurdles

Jones Is Double Winner

MODESTO, Calif. — Pontiac's Hayes Jones, Eastern Michigan College speedster, was the only double winner as he broke one record and tied another at the 18th annual California Relays Saturday.

Oregon and Texas stole the team honors as unheralded Roscoe Cook, 20-year-old Oregon flash, streaked to a :9.3 100-yard dash mark.

Jones captured both hurdle events, breaking the meet mark in the 220-yard lows with a fine :22.5. The Pontiac flash also equalled the relays record in the 120-yard high hurdles with a :13.6 effort.

The University of Texas Relay team clipped a tenth of a second from the world record for the 440-yard relay. The Longhorn quartet of Wally Wilson, Eddie Southern, Hollis Gainey and Ralph Alspaugh zipped the quarter mile in :39.6 seconds, erasing the mark set here last year by Abilene Christian.

★ ★ ★

Two other Oregon runners turned in great performances. Junior Otis Davis won the 440 in :46.2 seconds, the fastest quarter mile time this year. Freshman Dyrol Burleson won the open mile with 4:06.7, matching his own record for a freshman mile, set earlier this year at the Drake Relays.

In winning the century, Cook bested three men who had already tied the world record — Norton, Olympic champ Bobby Morrow and Morrow's former teammate from Abilene Christian, Bill Woodhouse. Cook finished a long stride ahead of Norton.

Lawler Sets IC4A Hammer Mark

Irish Lose a Copper, Gain Olympic Hopeful

NEW YORK (AP)—Ireland has lost a traffic cop but gained a potential Olympic champion.

"No more directing traffic on O'Connell Street in Dublin for me," said 25-year-old John Lawlor of Boston Univ. after winning the Intercollegiate AAAA hammer throw Saturday with a record toss of 208 feet, 8½ inches.

★ ★ ★

The throw was one of two records posted as Penn State easily won the team title with 46½ points. Lawlor's throw bettered the meet record of 199-5½ he set in the trials on Friday and matched his week-old collegiate mark.

"I think he is good for 225 feet, perhaps this year," said Coach Ed Flanagan, famous for his hammer coaching technique. World record holder Harold Connolly (225-4) learned how to toss the 16-pound ball under Flanagan's direction.

"All John needs to do is to perfect his technique," Flanagan added." He already has the power, speed and size (6-3, 228 pounds). But I'm not rushing him. He should reach his peak by the 1960 Rome Olympics."

Lawlor is attending Boston Univ. under a grant-in-aid scholarship. His major is geology.

The other IC4A record which went by the boards also was bettered by an athlete to whom the U.S. can look for no help in the Pan-Am Games and the Olympics. Basil Ince of Tufts, who lowered the 27-year-old 440-yard mark to :46.9, is a native of Trinidad.

Like Lawlor, the 26-year-old history and government major who enters Georgetown in the fall for the study of law, thinks he has not reached his peak. Ten days ago Ince did :46.7 in the New England Championships. The world record is :45.7.

Penn State won five individual titles. Ed Morgan took the mile (4:09.3) and 880 (1:50), Bob Brown the 100 (:09.9), Dick Englebrink the 2-mile (9:08.9) and Bob Szeyller the 220-yard low hurdles (:23.1).

Admits Cryptic Haze

Congress Confused

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress, as some of its members and others have suspected, may not always know what its doing.

What amounts to at least a partial confession of congressional fallibility on this score has come from the House Judiciary Committee.

It is a bill to make other bills say what they mean, or anyway to let congressmen know what they are reading.

★ ★ ★

"I'm surprised someone hasn't done something about this before now,' observed Chairman Emanuel Celler (D-NY).

Bills are the raw material of the nation's laws.

For instance, H.R. 4345 says in its entirety:

"An act to repeal clause (9) of subdivision A of section 39 of the Bankruptcy Act (11 U.S.C. 76A (9)), respecting the transmission of papers by the referee to the clerk of the court.

★ ★ ★

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that clause (9) of subdivision A of section 39 of the Bankruptcy Act, (11 U.S.C. 67A (9)), as amended, is hereby repealed and clause (10) of such subdivision is renumbered (9)."

★ ★ ★

This means referees in bankruptcy would not have to transmit "forthwith" to court clerks various bonds and documents in their possession.

What Celler and his committee want to do is to change House rules to require that bills revising existing law also carry the wording of existing law, and by italics or other typographical devices show what the amendments actually would do.

Celler confesses he doesn't know what is in most bills that come to his committee by the thousands each session.

"I have to have somebody dig out the code (U.S. Codification of Laws) to find out what they refer to, and then tell me," he said.

A Fair Look at Cuba: No. 3

Reds Undermining Labor Unions

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Special Correspondent

HAVANA — Fidel Castro's Cuba, officially committed to democratic freedoms, nevertheless puts out a huge welcome mat for Communists in many vital spots, and allows Havana to serve as crossroads for Red agents from the four corners of the globe.

Castro and most of his top officials deny any bond with communism.

Yet most of those I interviewed either evaded or could not answer my questions as to why Communists enjoy open season in Cuba, free to bore into labor unions, second level government posts, the army itself.

And this is a bare 90 miles from Florida.

At least two Red Chinese agents are here, posing as reporters for Peiping's New China news agency. Russian agents pose as "trade union" delegates. In the LaCabana fortress prison Dominican and Nicaraguan Red units hatch plots for invading their countries.

Hospitable Havana seems a veritable haven for Communist Latin American intrigue now that the lid is on in Mexico.

Standing in strategic position as chief of Cuba's armed forces is Fidel's brother Raul, a fiery U.S. hater. He denies he's a Red, says if he becomes one he'll declare it "right out in front of everybody."

★ ★ ★

But he talks and acts like a card-carrying, party-line Communist, and so does his wife, the beautiful Vilma Espin. Both are said to have had sabotage and guerrilla training in Red Czechoslovakia. At 27 he's described as tougher, colder and less generous than his brother.

In the labor field, Cuban Reds, who collaborated with the deposed Dictator Batista, have the green light to work their way into key unions. Anti-Batista labor leaders, whose only offense is opposing communism, are barred from running for union office.

David Salvador, a man little connected with labor but who worked with both Batista and the Reds, was named by Castro as general secretary of the Cuban Confederation of Labor.

★ ★ ★

Salvador invited three Soviet police agents — Ivan Firapov, Timofei Eremeev and Vadim Listov — to travel through Cuba as representatives of bogus state-dominated Soviet trade unions.

Anti-Red labor leaders estimate the Communists control at least 14 Cuban unions, including those in such industries as sugar, food, tobacco, hospitals, hotels, drug laboratories, airlines and printing.

REDS RACE TIME

Said Angel Confino, Cuba's most respected labor leader:

"The Communists are racing against time to gain complete control of the labor unions. Chaos, hunger and unemployment are their natural allies."

Confino himself is on Castro's blacklist because he backs the Autentico party, Cuba's only genuine democratic opposition. He can't run for office in the Electrical Workers' union he's led for 25 years.

Possibly the two most sinister figures in Castro's entourage are Maj. Ernesto ("Che") Guevara, commander of the LaCabana fortress, and Carlos Franqui, editor of Castro's newspaper, Revolucion.

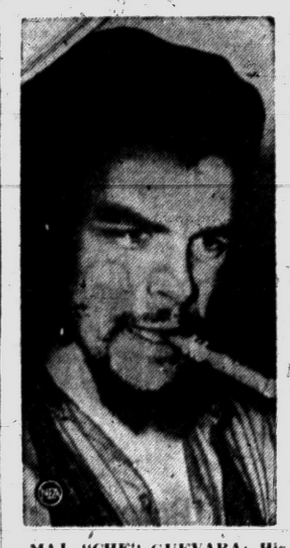
Guevara, a man in his early 30's, first came to the attention of U.S. intelligence when he appeared as an adviser to the pro-Red president of Guatemala, the late Jacobo Arbenz Guzman.

RED AGENT?

On the latter's overthrow, Guevara dropped from sight for years, to reappear as a power behind Castro. Experts on communism believe him a Soviet secret police agent.

Guevara said this of himself:

"I've been asked so many times whether I am a Communist, and I reply: 'My actions speak for themselves.' If you ask me am I a member of the Cuban Communist party the answer is no."



MAJ. "CHE" GUEVARA: His actions do the talking.

CARLOS FRANQUI: His hatred is almost pathologic.

CARIBBEAN CROSSROADS: A bare 90 miles from Florida.

No Soviet agent ever belonged to the party of the nation in which he operates.

★ ★ ★

Editor Franqui, tense and ascetic looking, once worked as a proof reader on the Red newspaper, Hoy. Today he denies any affiliation. But his hatred of America, shared by other Castro leaders, is nearly pathologic.

In my interview with him he asked: "Why discuss communism? Why not discuss something positive?"

When I agreed to talk of "something positive," he queried in petulance: "Why does the United States support the (Dominican) dictator Trujillo with arms and money for an invasion of Cuba?"

★ ★ ★

Two recent occasions have seen Franqui's paper mildly assail Communists in Cuba as "divisionists." Yet no great significance is attached to this.

Many well-informed Cubans hold the view that the Communists already have fastened so firm a grip on the labor unions, units of the army, and some segments of government that Fidel Castro will be unable to balk them.

HOLD KEY SLOTS

In government, they have many secretaries, and in the army, many lieutenants working for the Red cause. As an anti-Communist labor leader told me: "A secretary in a strategic place is more important than a cabinet minister. Thirty lieutenants are more important than a general."

★ ★ ★

Thus for the present the Communists are content to stay in the background. There is no known Red in Castro's cabinet.

Guided by the brilliant Prof. Carlos Rafael Rodriguez, one of Moscow's master minds in Latin America, the Reds are not likely to repeat the mistake they made in Guatemala, and make open bid for power too soon.

At the core of Cuba's story is the matter whether Castro can prevent the Communist bid from ever being made. All his denials of Communist attachment tend to get lost in spongy double-talk. The clear-cut answer is never quite voiced.

To a cheering Havana throng he declared his revolution has a political philosophy all its own, "neither Communist nor capitalist." He added:

★ ★ ★

"I do not know whether the slanderers of our revolution, who say it is Communist or infiltrated by communism, think mainly of the fact that we do not persecute or execute Communists."

What onlookers think mainly of is the unquestioned sharp advance of Communist penetration on many critical Cuban fronts. Even Castro's reforms bear a Red stamp.

And what many Cubans — and outsiders in America and elsewhere — are asking is: why does a man who says he's devoted to freedom give the agents of tyrrany so much headway? And how do you halt an advance that has gone so far?

The answers lie in the unplumbed mystery of Castro himself.

NEXT: The riddle of Castro.

Monty Is Hot Favorite for Top Canada Post

LONDON (UPI) — The London Daily Herald said that retired Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery was "a hot favorite" for the post of Canada's governor general.

The pro-Laborite newspaper said Montgomery is the only Briton on the list of possible successors to Vincent Massey, who retires next September. Montgomery, who was closely associated with Canada's armies during the war, refused to comment on the report.

AIN'T TALKING — Two-year-old Robert Maynard Jr. of Buffalo, N.Y., was a tight-lipped visitor at a police station. The youngster, found a block from his home in pajamas, was brought to the station by Patrolman Donald C. Farr, but refused to utter a sound. His frantic parents rushed to the station to report their missing child, only to find him seated quietly on Farr's lap.

John Ford Will Produce New Adventure Movie

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — John Ford, who can pretty well write his own ticket with any company, is taking his next production, "Captain Buffalo," right to Jack Warner. This goes into production in July, and some tests have already been made.

"Captain Buffalo" is described as a big adventure story written by James Warner Bellah and Willis Goldbeck.

My goodness, its been many a day since I heard the name Willis Goldbeck. Willis also will co-produce "Buffalo" with Pat Ford (Johns boy), with John, of course, as executive producer.

Jeffrey Hunter has been pencilled in by John for one of the top roles. That's because Jeff did such a good job in "The Searcher."

The "Peter Gunn" TV series, which nabbed eight Emmy nominations, will be made into a feature length movie.

Blake Edwards, who took "Peter Gunn" to MGM, is now looking about for ideas for a movie which he will write and direct.

Craig Stevens, the TV series hero will also star in the movie. Craig has hankered for just such a break for years. His wife, Alexis Smith, may also be in the movie.

Barbara Rush, who is up to her neck in fittings for her trousseau, looked like a dream girl in her summer gown. She's slimmer than ever. "Tell me how you get rid of all that weight and how much you lost?" I asked.

"I lost 30 pounds," she said, "and it wasn't easy. I lived on eggs, tomatoes and apples and ate no dinner. The heavy dinners are what pile on the avoirdupois. I took vitamins, too, to keep up my strength."

and a wafer at five o'clock, you too can be a slim princess.

A very nice surprise awaited Natalie Wood and Bob Wagner when they walked into their new home in Beverly Hills, even though it was practically empty of furniture. They were served a complete dinner, topped by champagne and caviar. The donor was Mike Romanoff, their new neiighbor across the street.

Betty Grable follows Jayne Mansfield into the Tropicana in Las Vegas June 24. Nice date for Betty because her old man, Harry James is tootin' the horn down the street at the Flamingo Lounge — and doing very well I might add.

Joan Crawford Broke, Takes Small Film Role

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Movie star Joan Crawford says she is broke, the Los Angeles Examiner said today.

Miss Crawford is here to play a small part in a film.

She is the widow of Alfred Steele, chairman of the board of Pepsi-Cola Co., who died of a heart attack several weeks ago.

★ ★ ★

The Examiner quoted Miss Crawford: "I haven't a sou to my name. Uncle Sam has every penny. Alfred, before his sudden death, thought he was leaving me with plenty, but it wasn't to be that way. It all went for income taxes and debts."

They Don't Want Unions

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A collective bargaining study made by Prof. John W. Riegel, director of the University of Michigan Bushows that four out of five scientists and engineers oppose collective bargaining for themselves. The 105-page study is based on interviews with 277 non-supervisory professional employes in 10 large firms.

Pictures were transmitted electrically for the first time in 1925.

Foolproof Method Coming Slowly

Air Safety at Least 5 Years Away

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A leading research organization has warned that a foolproof method of preventing air collisions still is five years away from achievement.

★ ★ ★

The Cornell-Guggenheim Aviation Safety Center, in its ninth annual survey of aviation safety projects, listed air traffic control as the most pressing problem for the third consecutive year.

It said the Federal Aviation Agency is "taking aggressive action" in this field, but added, "There will be an interim period of several years, with a minimum of five, until the ATC problems are adequately solved."

The report noted that for the first time "ample funds and aggressive management are now available to find solutions." But it added that the aviation industry should lay immediate plans to avoid the complacency of the 1948-1955 period "which led to our present dilemma in traffic control."

UNSOLVED GOODS

The survey cited these as major unsolved research goals in helping reduce the ail collision menace:

—Better altimeters (altitude measuring devices): "The problem of altimeter accuracy is assuming vital importance. Many of the errors existing in altimeters have been reduced in the most modern systems, but serious ones remain."

—Fast development of a proximity warning indicator: "As necessary as a stoplight or turn signals on a car to supplement traffic control on airways or for areas where control is absent." (The FAA announced last week formation of a special government-industry crash program to develop such a device.)

The Cornell-Guggenheim report disclosed there are now more than 600 aviation safety research projects under way in the United States, Canada, Great Britain and The Netherlands. About 130 are brand new.

The report bluntly declared that the aviation industry has failed to incorporate many research developments into new transport planes.

Particularly mentioned were new achievements in reducing the possibility of fire in a crash landing, through impact-resisting fuel tanks.

The report also said research has shown that better protection for passengers is available by using stronger seats, belts, doors, floors and cabin structures.

The FAA and the aviation industry, the report remarked, "have a grave moral responsibility to see that new designs are compaible with the best available data"—a broad hint that new airliners have not utilized proven research findings.

The survey said survival of passengers depends largely on "built-in protection" because 65 to 70 per cent of accidents occur away from airports where crash rescue crews are not on hand.

It also called for perfection of a battery-operated rescue beacon to expedite search and rescue work, particularly in the Aretic.

Despite the work yet to be done in air safety, the survey said, the airlines have achieved remarkable success. In 1958, it noted, U. S. domestic and international airlines flew 48 million passengers more than 32 billion passenger miles, with a loss of 124 lives in six fatal accidents.

That meant a rate of one fatality for every 500,000 passengers flown —a 20 per cent improvement over the 1955-57 average.

42 Oakland Men Due for Draft Call in July

A call to Michigan Local Boards to deliver 560 registrants for army induction in July including 42 from Oakland County, has been issued by the State Selective Service Headquarters in Lansing.

Oakland boards 65 and 67, located in Pontiac will account for nearly 75 per cent of the county quota. Board 65 will send seven men while 67 will send 22.

Oakland board 66, in Royal Oak, will account for the other 13 men.

State headquarters said volunteers were expected to fill more than a half of the July quota. Wayne County boards will call for 220 registrants with the remainder coming from outstate boards including 19 from the Upper Peninsula.

It's Now Illegal to Tattoo Girls, Boys in Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The Florida House unanimously passed a bill today making it illegal to tattoo boys and girls under the age of 18.

The original bill, introduced by Rep. Doyle Conner of Starke, put only girls under the tattoo ban. House speaker Thomas D. Beasley at first sent it to the public amusements committee for study.

"Would you please explain to the House what prompted you to introduce this bill?" Rep. Frank Marshburn asked Conner.

Conner said he understood that some young girls who had been tattooed were sorry about it later on when it was too late.

The House accepted an amendment to include boys under 18 in the bill's provisions. Conner's original bill provided maximum penalties of a $500 fine and six months in jail for anyone who "tattoos the body of a female less than 18 years of age."

Stocks Push Up to New Record

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market pushed further into record high ground early today in moderately active trading.

Gains of pivotal issues were mostly narrow and stayed generally within a 1-point range.

More expensive or more volatile issues made wider moves.

International Business Machines, which rose 68½ points last week, added another 10 points or so.

Fast-stepping Zenith jumped about 5.

A slightly higher tone prevailed among steels, motors, farm equipments, electronics, chemicals and oils. The pattern was mixed for rubbers, rails, airlines and aircrafts. Coppers drifted to the downside.

Weakness Hits Grain Futures

CHICAGO (AP)—Weakness spread through the grain futures market today with wheat, rye and soybeans down major fractions of a cent in active selling during the first several minutes of dealings on the Board of Trade.

Favorable weather and crop conditions again were the bearish influences.

★ ★ ★

In a new departure from long established practice, the Board of Trade opened two wheat contracts for trading more than a year ahead. The July and September deliveries from the 1960 crop went on the board. The July opened at $1.80 a bushel.

Wheat was ⅛ to ½ cent a bushel lower after about an hour, July $1.83⅝; corn unchanged to ¼ lower, July $1.24½; oats unchanged to ⅜ lower, July 62¾; rye ¼ to ⅞ lower, July $1.19⅜; soybeans ⅛ to ¾ lower, July $2.20.

Billy Graham Bids Goodbye to Australia

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Billy Graham was flying to Europe today, his three-month revival campaign in Australia and New Zealand a huge success.

★ ★ ★

About 5,000 people stood in a heavy rain at the airport to say goodbye to the American evangelist.

★ ★ ★

Graham planned to spend a few days in Zurich, then join his wife for a holiday in Britain.

Organizers said the total attendance at Graham's three months of meetings totaled 2,217,500. Decisions for Christ totaled more than 140,000.

Neves Is Winning Fight With Death

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Jockey Ralph Neves, once declared dead after a 1938 racing spill, today was again cheating the dark horseman.

★ ★ ★

Doctors say the rail-running daredevil who underwent brain surgery after another spill Saturday, has a good chance to recover.

But whether the "Portuguese pepperpot" will ride again is doubtful, doctors say.

Neves, 41, suffered a fractured skull and two broken vertebrae when his mount, Rhin, fell in the third race at Hollywood Park.

The five Great Lakes comprise the world's largest accumulation of fresh water. They cover 95,000 square miles, equal to the combined area of Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxemburg and four countries the size of Denmark.

Four children left alone in a home police officers called "unbelievably filthy" were taken to the Oakland County Children's Home yesterday pending an investigation.

★ ★ ★

Police were called to the home at 406 W. Bloomfield St. after a neighbor complained.

The four children — three boys and a girl — range from 2 to 6 in age. They told officers their mother left them often and they had not eaten for some time.

★ ★ ★

Police recommended a full investigation into the case. The woman who complained to police said she found the children wandering in the streets.

Pioneer Autoworker Ends Career Here

An early automobile pioneer has said goodby to friends at Pontiac Motor Division, bringing down the curtain on a colorful 48-year career which spanned the birth and development of both the Oakland Motor Car and the modern day Pontiac.

★ ★ ★

Floyd E. (Shorty) Loree, 5641 Williams Lake Rd., Drayton Plains, Friday retired from Pontiac Motor Motor with more years of consecutive service than any other hourly employe now on the payroll.

"It doesn't seem like 48 years has passed," says Loree. "A variety of interesting assignments has made the time go fast."

Loree got his first taste of work in the early 1900s, bolting buggy wheels after school for the old Pontiac Buggy Company. On June 30, 1911, after completion of his schooling, he officially became an employe of the healthy young Oakland Motor Car Company.

★ ★ ★

"I first polished brass on the Oaklands as they came off the line," Loree recalls. "Then I operated the first spray gun in the paint department, applying one coat of lead, a coat of 'rough stuff,' and four coats of color with ovens between each coat.

"The job paid good at 25 cents an hour, 60 hours per week. The best suit of clothes cost only $15; shoes were $3 and you could eat all you wanted for 15 cents."

In 1915 Loree joined the ranks of the Oakland test drivers. "We took a chassis from the assembly line, installed a pair of bucket seats, hooked a gallon gas can to the carburetor, added a set of old tires and wheels, then cranked her up and circled the plant for two to three miles."

★ ★ ★

Loree's proficiency behind the wheel was soon recognized and, in 1916, he was transferred to the Administration Building, as a full-time driver. Famous names including Sloan, Kettering, Mott, Durant and Du Pont became familiar faces to Loree during his chauffeuring stints between Pontiac and Detroit.

In 1924 the GM Proving Ground was added to Loree's itinerary and he thrilled many visitors with his driving skill over the new test tracks. In 1929 and 1930 he organized a mail route to hasten GM correspondence by automobile between plants in Detroit, Pontiac, Flint and Lansing.

Loree's Oakland and Pontiac assignments, served under 11 different general managers, also included duties with sales promotion, the courtesy department, and tool engineering. Since 1945 he has been a utility clerk in the material department.

The 68 year-old automobile veteran was born May 1, 1891, on Oakland avenue. He is married and has two daughters and a son.

Work on Streets May Get OK

Waterford Board Sets Final Hearing Tonight on Blacktopping

There is a good possibility that the Waterford Township Board will set the wheels in motion for blacktopping three streets when they meet at 7:30 tonight, according to Clerk James Seeterlin.

★ ★ ★

The final assessment roll hearing for blacktopping Lansdowne and Marion streets will be held and if there are no objections to the established special assessment district, the board will take action to acquire $33,000 in paving bonds.

The board will also discuss the possibility of accepting construction bids for the project and borrowing money from the general fund before the bond money has been received in order to project the paving immediately.

Another controversial issue will be up for discussion after township attorney Paul Mandell presents an opinion regarding a recent township zoning change.

★ ★ ★

Mandel was authorized to present a report on whether or not the rezoning of a lot on Walton boulevard at Clintonville road from residential to commercial was legal due to a change in township administration.

A former board had turned down the zoning change and owner of the property, G. E. Gifford had again asked to have his land rezoned commercial.

Three weeks ago the present board approved the change without first referring it back to the township zoning board. Last week area residents questioned the legality of such action.

In other business the board will consider asking for bids for workmans compensation insurance policies to be opened June 29. Last year's premium was $2,033.

New Talks Seen in Strike of Michigan Carpenters

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — New negotiations were expected to be resumed this week in an effort to end a month-long strike of carpenters in southwestern Michigan.

★ ★ ★

The striking carpenters voted Saturday to continue the strike rather than accept a 25-cent wage increase package. Some 2,000 members of nine local unions in eight cities voted to reject the offer made by the Southwest Michigan Contractors Association.

An average automobile requires up to seven miles of wire for its electrical system with about 8,300 parts in up to 180 different assemblies.

★ ★ ★

All of the injured parties were taken to Pontiac General Hospital. One of the drivers, Rodney A. McCullough, 16, of 3225 Middle St., Milford, suffered facial injuries and is listed in satisfactory condition today.

McCullough's auto was pushing a stalled car when it was struck from behind by a car driven by Jerry C. McFarland, 19, of 245 S. Edith St.

McFarland and two of his three passengers, Linda M. Gratopp, 18, of 60221 Mt. Vernon Dr., Rochester, and Merel L. Evans, 21, of 450 Irwin St., were treated for minor injuries and released.

★ ★ ★

The third rider, Carol L. Zuris, 17, of 559 Ellis St., Rochester, was admitted with back injuries and is reported in satisfactory condition today.

McFarland told deputies he had just passed another westbound auto and as he pulled back into his lane he saw the McCullough car ahead of him, but couldn't stop in time.

Rescue Wagon to Save Lives in County

Something new in the line of ambulances has been added to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department.

A $6,000 Pontiac station wagon converted into an ambulance was presented to the department Saturday as a gift from the Pontiac Motor Division.

The sleek new vehicle, first of its kind, will be used by the sheriff's safety division. It is equipped with oxygen, an inhalator, first aid kits, fire extinguishers and specialized equipment for removing injured persons pinned in or under overturned vehicles.

The ambulance will be used for both traffic and water accidents, said Sheriff Frank W. Irons. It will enable deputies to give emergency treatment to victims at the scene of an accident prior to the arrival of a doctor.

A six-man deputy crew currently is undergoing a special first aid course before being assigned to the rescue wagon.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR son and brother, James Robert Mazza, who passed away May 31, 1951.
Treasured memories no one can steal,
Death is a heartache no one can feel;
The shock sudden, the pain severe,
Little we thought death was so near.
His thought for others, so many knew,
The wave of his hand and gentle smile;
Will never be forgotten.

Actress Kay Kendall Feared Seriously Sick

LONDON (UPI) — Actress Kay Kendall was "smiling and cheerful" today in her hospital bed, but fears grew that her illness might be far more serious than at first believed.

Miss Kendall, wife of actor Rex Harrison, had to step out of work on the Paris-made movie "Once More With Feeling" with only six days' work left to go when she became ill last week.

Spokesmen for London Clinic where she was under treatment said she had a "good night," but that no diagnosis of her illness had yet been made.

State FEPC Gets New Executive Head

LANSING (AP) — A leader in the campaign for orderly school integration has been named executive secretary of the Michigan Fair Employment Practices Commission.

The commission announced the appointment of Dr. Frederick B. Routh, for the past five years assistant director of the Southern Regional Council with headquarters at Atlanta, Ga.

Routh, 36, is a native of Wyandotte and studied at the University of Miami and New York University. He has lectured on human relations at universities in this country and Europe.

He succeds John G. Field, who resigned in January to become an aide to Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich). The position currently pays $10,000 a year. A budget request asks a raise to $12,500 for the next fiscal year.

Filipino Congress Works on Devaluating Peso

MANILA (UPI) — The Philippines congress met in special session today to take up President Carlos P. Garcia's controversial call for a technical devaluation of the peso.

The measure was expected to be passed by a reluctant Congress despite strong opposition from many legislators, important business groups, the opposition liberal party and the powerful sugar bloc.

President Garcia's pet bill would slap a 40 per cent maximum premium or surcharge on the sale of U. S. dollars to importers by the central bank.

The Philippine peso, long pegged to an official rate of two for one U. S. dollar; would thus be devalued for all practical purposes to 2.80 pesos for one U. S. dollar.

Space Monkeys Under Scrutiny

Both Fine After Trip, but Long-Term Effect Will Be Observed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Able and Baker, the little monkeys rocketed into space aboard an American missile, will be kept under observation for some time to see if they develop any follow-up effects from their trip.

★ ★ ★

Scientists say the two weren't hurt a bit by their 1,500-mile flight. But they want to keep the monkeys under long-term observation to make sure the radiation or weightlessness of space travel didn't cause harm that might show up later.

Future checks on Able will be made at the Walter Reed Army Research Institute here, and on Baker at the Navy's aviation medicine installation at Pensacola, Fla.

★ ★ ★

Doctors said at a news conference here Saturday that physiological changes recorded in the monkeys' conditions during the flight were extraordinarily small.

Heartbeats of the monkeys accelerated as their Jupiter missile took off early Thursday from Cape Canaveral, Fla., and swiftly increased its rate of speed. The heart beats and respiration returned to near normal during the flight, then speeded up again as the missile dropped back from its top altitude of about 300 miles and plunged into the Atlantic Ocean.

Marks on Dam Spur Fears Lake Held 5 Bodies

CONCHAS LAKE, N.M. (AP) — Searchers today probed the waters of Conchas Lake after marks clawed on the face of a concrete dam led them to the second of five probable drowning victims Sunday.

The body of W. O. Wright, 39, of Friona, Tex., was recovered Sunday morning from 40-foot deep water below fingernail markings on the slightly sloped inner surface of Conchas Dam.

Grappling operations were begun after discovery of the marks and Wright's body was brought up. Apparently he had been swept against the dam or had swam there and attempted frantically to get a safe hold.

Still missing and presumed drowned were a Santa Fe, N.M., man, his 12-year-old son and a Los Alamos resident.

It was not determined whether the drownings were the result of a boating collision or of two separate accidents on the wind-tossed water of the lake.

Spring Campout Held by State Naturalists

More than 150 naturalists, both professional and amateur, attended the annual spring campout of the Michigan Audubon Society, sponsored over Memorial Day weekend by the Pontiac Audubon Society.

The campout was on Lake Tamarack, west of Ortonville.

About 100 different species of birds were identified, said Alton Maddon, science teacher at Pontiac Northern High School.

This is an impressively high number for this time of year, said Maddon, co-chairman of the campout. Besides birds, the campout group studied bogs, flowers, rocks, reptiles, trees and other aspects of nature.

Natural scientists from various Michigan institutions of study were present as guest lecturers.

Even Theater People Get Tickets Mixed Up

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — How do you like this for an embarrassing experience? Debbie Reynolds and Bob Neal went to see Ethel Merman in "Gypsy" and found themselves in the wrong seats.

WILSON

An usherette moved them "right down to the middle of the middle," as Debbie tells it. The curtain went up — and about 15 minutes later, an usherette flashed her flashlight and beckoned them out—right in front of a whole theater.

The tickets were really for the next night —and the rightful owner of the seats had appeared. Embarrassed, and red-faced, they left, went for dinner, then on to meet Eva Gabor —where Debbie and Eva chattered in Hungarian accents for the amusement of people who told Debbie that her "What's My Line?" Hungarian impersonation was one of the best ever seen on that show.

"Vot you mean, Dolling?" said Debbie. "You hof oxcent, not me, svethot." . . . . . .

'Crash Program' Set Up by Young Auto Designers

In thousands of home workshops all over the nation, automotive "crash programs" will be in effect for the next several days.

In charge are boys between the ages of 11 and 20 years who are putting the finishing touches on models which express their conception of how the car of the future should look.

★ ★ ★

These youthful car stylists are competing in the annual Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition.

To enter the competition — where $115,000, including $38,000 in university scholarships are awarded — the boys are required to submit their models with postmarks no later than midnight Friday.

Most of the young stylists will work up to the final hour putting the finishing touches on their "dream cars" before sending them to Guild Headquarters at the General Motors Technical Center.

★ ★ ★

Professional automotive designers judge the models with an eye toward their practicability, artistic merit and originality, while industrial arts instructors grade the miniature masterpieces on the fine details of their construction.

To date, the Craftsman's Guild has awarded 198 university scholarships worth $564,000 since its origin in 1930. National awards for the best models include eight university scholarships in the Junior (12 through 15 years old) and Senior (16 through 19) Divisions.

In each age group the awards will be: First — $5,000 scholarship; Second — $4,000; Third — $3,000; Fourth — $2,000.

★ ★ ★

Ten additional $1,000 university scholarships will be awarded on the basis of styling and design achievement. Residence and age classifications do not affect these awards.

State and regional winners in the competition will be announced early in July while the winners of the 18 university scholarships will be disclosed at the annual Guild Banquet on July 28.

Duplicate awards will be made to General Motors employes' sons if they place among the winners, thus insuring that all awards will be open to boys outside GM.

U.S. Will Rest Case in Mack Trial Soon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Government prosecutors expect to rest their case against former Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack and Miami attorney Thurman A. Whiteside this week—the ninth since the start of the conspiracy trial.

Today the jury hears excerpts from testimony Mack gave before House influence investigators last year. The investigation sparked Mack's resignation from the commission and the indictment and trial of Mack and Whiteside.

Mack and Whiteside are charged with conspiracy to swing the award of TV channel 10 in Miami to Public Service Television Inc., a national airlines subsidiary. The government charges Whiteside channeled money to Mack to influence his vote as a commissioner.

Russian Experts to Build Road for Afghanistan

MOSCOW (AP) — Russia has signed an agreement with Afghanistan for building a 500-mile road through Hindukush, the great mountain barrier that directed many early invasions away from what is now India and Pakistan.

A Tass report said the road will be surveyed by Russians and built under the direction of Russian engineers.

Say Ex-Convict Admits 8 Hours of Rape Terror

TEMPLE CITY, Calif. (UPI)—A pretty 18-year-old blonde was kidnaped at gunpoint yesterday from her date's car and held eight hours by a rapist.

★ ★ ★

Nancy Gottfredson of South Pasadena said her attacker raped her, forced her to pose in the nude while he took photographs and threatened her life before releasing her in nearby Alhambra.

A suspect, Robert A. Smith, 32, an ex-convict who served prison terms both for robbery and rape, was arrested 15 minutes after the girl's release.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff's deputies said Smith surrendered meekly and admitted the rape-kidnaping.

Dynamite Blast Rips Tennessee Coal Mine

CLINTON, Tenn. (AP) — "I guess they ruined me this time," said Paul B. Ross after six dynamite explosions ripped his independently operated strip coal mine Sunday night.

Ross, his family and his mining operation had been the target of five previous attacks including shooting ambushes, explosions and fires.

★ ★ ★

No one has been injured in any of the attacks but Ross said the latest blasts extensively damaged equipment at his Double Camp Mining Co.

★ ★ ★

The explosions, about 45 miles northwest of here in the Rosedale area, were the latest in a series of violent incidents reported since the start two months ago of a United Mine Workers Union drive to organize nonunion mines in east Tennessee.

Says U.S. Could Fly Atom Plane Within 18 Months

WASHINGTON (AP)—With high priority, the United States could be test-flying atomic-powered bomber planes within 18 months, Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) said today.

"I know they can do it," the chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee said in an interview. "It would cost a large sum, but not excessive when compared with some weapons systems now under way. They could get enough prototypes to have a real test."

Russell said the cost of such a program is a military secret.

He added that he doubts the Pentagon will yield to pressures from Capitol Hill to expedite the program on such a basis.

There has been a long-standing argument over whether this country should rush an atomic-powered plane to completion just to be ahead of the Soviets, or whether it should hold out for one with basic military usefulness.

Lt. Gen. Roscoe C. Wilson told a House Appropriations subcommittee recently an atomic plane may be five years away.

Russell said that pace is too slow and contended the first such plane could be flying by December 1960 if the administration would give it the priority of a crash program.

Italy's Ponte Vecchio Getting Big Overhaul

FLORENCE, Italy (UPI)—Workers have started a general overhaul and reinforcing of the picturesque shop-lined Ponte Vecchio (old bridge) across the Arno river.

The bridge, which dates back to 1362 and is a major tourist attraction, has been closed to vehicles for more than a year because of its shaky condition.

Suspected Thug Free on Bail

Frankie Carbo, Linked to Boxing Underworld, Will Face Extradition

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)— Frankie Carbo, alleged underworld boxing kingpin with a reputation for disappearing after indictments, was free in $25,000 bail today somewhere in New Jersey.

★ ★ ★

Carbo, at 54 a mysterious man with a long police record, had been sought since last July.

★ ★ ★

Police caught up with him Memorial Day. At first bail was denied, and a handcuffed Carbo, obviously distressed, shuffled off to jail. But inally Judge Benjamin Dzick of Camden County Court fixed the bail and ordered Carbo to remain in the state. His bail will stand until June 30 when he'll face extradition proceedings now being arranged by New York state.

★ ★ ★

Carbo was indicted by a New York grand jury on charges of conspiracy and illegal managing and matching of prizefighters. He also is wanted by the federal government on income tax evasion charges.

★ ★ ★

Carbo was surprised by six policemen in the swank home of William Ripka, a Camden haberdasher.

★ ★ ★

Carbo tried to sneak out a rear entrance. Police said later that he told them he thought men of the dreaded Mafia had come to rub him out.

Dinah Shore Show Not Too Marvelous for Words

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dinah Shore, TV's prime example of perpetual emotion, locked shut her season last night — by turns, wistful, tender, anticipatory, rapt, earnest, bewildered, fluttery, gleeful, nostalgic, eager, fevered, skittish, euphoric, cordial, thrilled, fervent, madcap, sadcap and gladcap.

Before everybody hates me — okay, okay, you do already — I should confess that I enjoy the NBC-TV Dinah Shore show more often than not.

Its parts are assembled with skill and some taste and, quite obviously, a good deal of hard work. It is usually a little skimpy on comedy, but its singing and dancing skirt the predictable with awesome frequency and the show is mounted with a good deal of inventiveness.

Last night's closer was, with the exception of its comedy, a pretty typical Shore offering.

It was afflicted with that gee-whiz, yum-yummy air that backs me off from Shore shows, but this was more than balanced by its crispish pace, its striking sets and the freshness of its planning.

★ ★ ★

Except for a superb comic exercise by Elaine May and Mike Nichols, the rest of the show's content was pretty thin. But all of it was coated with such a high gloss that it was impossible not to feel some attraction toward the whole business.

★ ★ ★

The Channel Swim: The June 9 ABC-TV Sugarfoot show, "Wolf," will have two actresses playing the same role — Connie Stevens and Judy Nugent.

Miss Nugent had to be substituted for Miss Stevens during the filming of the episode when Miss Stevens was thrown by a mule and then underwent an appendectomy. Miss Nugent will be seen in all the close-up shots; Miss Stevens in the long ones.

'Y' Summer Fun Club Now Signing Youngsters

Registrations are still being accepted at the Pontiac YMCA for the annual Summer Fun Club program, Robert Wisdom, youth director announced.

Deadline for registering is June 15. Wisdom said a limited number of registrations are still open. He urged parents to sign up youngsters as soon as possible.

The minimum age for participating in the program is 8 with children 13 and 14 accepted by the 'Y.'

A few leadership positions in the program are open to interested students of high school age, Wisdom said.

The fee for joining the summer program is $8 for 'Y' members and $9 for non-members.

★ ★ ★

The six-week program runs from June 29 through Aug. 7.

Groups will take trips to the Detroit Zoo, Cinerama, Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum. A carnival for the youngsters will be held on July 29.

The summer club program offers gym, swimming, handicraft, woodshop, trampoline, outdoor sports and many other activities, Wisdom said.

Boys in the program will participate Mondays and Fridays, girls Tuesdays and Thursday. Wednesdays will be devoted to co-educational trips on chartered buses.

The last two days of the program will feature an open house at the 'Y' for parents of summer club participants, giving dads and moms an opportunity to inspect the building facilities and activities.

READY FOR SUMMER FUN — Eight-year-old Jerry Sullenberger, 208 E. Iroquois Rd., and his sister Janet, 13, sign up for the YMCA Summer Fun Camp. Accepting their applications is Robert Wisdom, youth director.

Plan Rate Cut for Safe Drivers

Insurance Companies Get Merit Scheme OK on Trial Basis

NEW YORK (AP) — Safe drivers may be rewarded soon with cheaper auto insurance rates.

★ ★ ★

Two big bureaus, which once set the rates for some 400 auto insurance firms, are letting their member companies try out new policy schemes on their own.

★ ★ ★

The bureaus — the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters and the National Automobile Underwriters Assn. — decided the move would sharpen "competitive effort" and stimulate new insurance plans.

★ ★ ★

The new plans, insurance men expect, will involve merit ratings which scale insurance premiums according to the driving records of the policyholders.

★ ★ ★

Drivers free of accidents get rate reductions while those with poor accident records are penalized.

★ ★ ★

Already, two companies have said they will test merit ratings.

Travelers Insurance Co., the nation's largest fire and casualty underwriter, has announced it will try out a "safe driver" plan in four states—Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota and Nebraska.

Aetna Casualty and Surety has said it will develop experimental policies, involving merit ratings, for marketing in several states.
