Kidnap Hoaxers Face Jail Term for Ransom Plot

Cooked Up Plan in Bar to Kid Cops, Pals Say; FBI to Join Hunt

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—A longshoreman and a railroad clerk face up to 25 years in prison if convicted of tormenting Mrs. Beatrice Weinberger with a false claim they held her kidnaped baby boy.

The two men, both unemployed, were to be arraigned today in Ridgewood Felony Court, Queens.

They are charged with trying to extort $5,000 from the heartbroken mother and giving false information about a kidnaping.

Meanwhile, there was no trace of 5-week-old Peter Weinberger or any solid evidence he is still alive. The blue-eyed baby was snatched from his carriage in the patio of the Weinberger home here last Wednesday.

* * *

Last night police sent out a 13-state alarm asking that doctors, hospitals, nurseries and adoption agencies be alerted to look out for the baby. The alarm described his feeding formula, which included five drops of Dozex, a vitamin B12 compound.

The FBI plans to enter the case in force tomorrow—one week after the kidnaping. Under the Lindbergh law, the FBI can move into a kidnaping case after seven days or after the victim has been transported across state lines.

Arrested were Robert F. Giebler, 27, longshoreman, Jackson Heights, Queens, and Gordon T. Rowell, 24, railroad clerk, Sunnyside, Queens. Both are married and Wiebler has three children.

Police said the two hatched the hoax in a Queen bar Sunday night.

The two allegedly made four telephone calls to the Weinberger home Sunday night and early yesterday. They told Mrs. Weinberger she would find her infant son in a

GOP Legislative Leaders Gather With Ike

President Tells Party He Feels Better Than He Did in February

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower is going to run for a second term.

Republican Senate Leader Knowland disclosed this at a dramatic news conference on the Gettysburg College campus today.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty stood by nodding.

Knowland said the President told a meeting of Republican congressional leaders he feels in better shape than he did when he made his Feb. 29 announcement that he would seek re-election.

"We are looking forward to a very vigorous and active campaign under his leadership," Knowland said.

"Are you telling us," a reporter asked, "that the President is going to keep his hat in the ring?"

"I'm telling you precisely that," Knowland replied.

He added that Eisenhower "left no doubt in anyone's mind" that he will run again despite his June 9 intestinal operation.

Eisenhower himself appeared before reporters and photographers before and after an hour strategy session with the Capitol Hill leaders.

He looked a little pale and obviously had lost weight. The rough-textured sport shirt he wore was loose around his neck.

But his color was better and his step was firmer than when he left Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington a week ago last Saturday.

Knowland was asked whether Eisenhower had given thought to his decision to run again in the light of his recent illness, which followed by nine months his Denver heart attack.

IN THE RACE

"The fact remains he's in the race," Knowland replied.

The senator said he regarded Eisenhower's comments today as a "continuation" of his Feb. 29 announcement that he would accept renomination.

Knowland also was asked whether Eisenhower had authorized him to make the statement.

"No," Knowland replied, "but he knew we were going to meet the press afterward and he knew we always try to make frank reports."

The congressional leaders and White House aides taking part in today's meeting flew from Washington.

Obviously they were enjoying their excursion. There was a good deal of banter among them.

Girl Scout Campers End First Roundup

By JANET ODELL

Five thousand girls sang the words to Taps. A bugler echoed the notes. The first Senior Girl Scout Roundup was officially over. Ending on an inspirational note, the camp will start closing today.

Scouts from the West began departing from the Highland area campsite early today. Big green buses once again shuttle between Detroit where special trains wait to carry the girls home. Eastern girls will leave tomorrow.

Yesterday the gigantic packing bee went on. Equipment which fit easily into shipping cases for the trip here somehow swelled and refused to be crammed into the same space.

Many teenagers sent their souvenirs and extra clothing home by mail.

Clouds which spilled rain yesterday gave way by early evening. A brisk breeze brought out blankets for sitting in the outdoor arena. Visitors had thronged into camp all day. They were still arriving when the program started.

After community singing, led by Eleanor Thomas, music consultant on the national Girl Scout staff,

Pictures pages 7, 15.

Mrs. Roy F. Layton, national president, introduced Rabbi Max Schenk of Brooklyn, New York, who gave the invocation.

Dorothy Fields, Broadway author, gave her version of "The Girl Scout Story." She was assisted by members of a Girl Scout choral reading group and chorus. The Flint Symphony orchestra accompanied.

Girls in blue uniforms like those of the original 1912 troop paraded across the green and yellow stage, followed by later Scouts in khaki and the present-day girls in green. The 32 Scouts from guest countries also participated at the Roundup. The pageant was climaxed by the entire camp's converging on the field for the singing of "God Bless America."

Tomorrow the flags on the mall will fly for the last time. Material in the exhibition tents will be packed. Girls will replace the turf they removed for campfire sites and bury ashes. By nightfall only staff tents will be left in the meadows where for ten days a Tent City of 5,000 Girl Scouts had been established.

Wet Weather Helps

LANSING (AP)—Wet weather is holding Michigan's forest fire losses down to almost nothing. The State Conservation Department said last week's damage amounted to only three acres.

'I'm Not Tired,' Walking Vicki Tells Searchers

Little Vicki Talbot decided to walk home from Pontiac to her home near Drayton Plains yesterday afternoon and gave police from three departments a hectic two hours.

* * *

She was with her mother, Betty, visiting at 104 Mary Day Ave., according to Det. Thomas Mitchell. Mrs. Talbot went in the house he said, leaving Vicki, 4½, asleep in the family car.

Vicki woke up, Mitchell said, and decided to go home. She started off across the business section of town, alone and apparently unafraid.

Her mother discovered the girl gone and summoned police at 4:30 p.m. Police cars from Sylvan Village and the Oakland County Sheriff's Department joined seven Pontiac police cars in the search.

At about 6:30 p.m., a Pontiac Township couple, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Good, were driving on Opdyke road and spotted Vicki, still headed home near Pontiac road. she had accomplished three and one-half miles on foot.

They picked the little traveler up and notified authorities. Later Vicki told Mitchell, "It was a long walk, but I'm not tired."

Propeller Rips Into Plane Cabin

Woman Killed, 10 Hurt in Canadian Accident Over Michigan

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—A propeller tore loose from a four-engine Trans-Canada airliner yesterday and disintegrated while the plane was flying at 8,000 feet over Michigan.

One blade ripped through the cabin, killing a woman passenger and injuring 10 other persons.

The turbo-prop Vickers Viscount, which carried 30 passengers, was about 35 miles southwest of here when the accident occurred.

The pilot made an emergency landing at Windsor Airport on two engines.

Trans-Canada officials said it was the first serious accident the line has had with the speedy British jet-prop airliner since it was put in service in North America 15 months ago.

Killed was Mrs. Robert J. Lippert, 31, whose husband is a doctor at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. She was from Hanover, Ont.

Mrs. Lippert's two sons, Robbie, 3, and Richard, 14 months, suffered shock and were among five persons taken to a hospital.

* * *

GOING TO TORONTO

The aircraft was en route from Chicago to Toronto. The propeller blade tore a hole about two feet square on the right side of the fuselage and about one foot square on the opposite side.

Mrs. Lippert apparently was in the direct path of the blade. It sheared off about a foot of the top of seats on both sides of the aisle.

One passenger, A. J. Danley of Clintonville, Wis., said he heard a "tremendous explosion" when the propeller broke loose.

* * *

"I thought maybe the whole plane had exploded," he said. "The stewardess was remarkably cool. She said everything was going to be all right, but it was going to be a little rough. It was."

The rush was on Monday as 319 last-minute voters registered for the Aug. 7 primary at the Clerk's office.

* * *

Voters packed the clerk's office which stayed open until 8 to handle registrations. About 150 registered between 6 p.m. and closing time.

To encourage voters to register Mrs. Evans established registration booths in both city banks. About 364 voters used these facilities during the two weeks they were set up.

During the days which the clerk's office offered extended hours, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Monday, the office took in 527 new registrations.

Pot-O-Gold Still Growing

$600 for Some 'Pioneer'

That familiar mood of expectancy fell over the room where POT-O-GOLD judges held sway this morning as the usual Tuesday deadline neared for the receipt of entries in Puzzle No. 6.

The mood isn't very new, and as yet it hasn't been dispelled to the satisfaction of those who conduct a weekly hunt for a winner—in fact, the first one has yet to come forward with a correct solution.

If this is the week, the reward to Winner No. 1 will be $600, plus another $25 if he or she is a Press reader of record. You can be that "pioneer" if you get your last week's entry to us on a postcard bearing a Tuesday postmark.

Democrats Pick Clement as Convention Keynoter

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee, regarded as friendly to Adlai E. Stevenson, was selected yesterday to keynote the Democratic National Convention.

The young governor was named by the party's Convention Arrangements Committee after a three-hour meeting.

Clement, a fiery orator and considered a possible vice presidential candidate, did not receive a unanimous vote of the committee, National Chairman Paul M. Butler said.

Butler said the committee's 13 members gave a "full discussion of each of 17 or 18 possible selections." Clement was picked, he said "because of his familiarity with the issues and his capacity to discuss them fluently and capably, and the impression he has made around the country."

Although Clement has shied away from publicly committing himself to any candidate, he has expressed himself as friendly towards Stevenson.

At the recent Governors' Conference, he described Stevenson as the "greatest candidate ever to be denied the presidency of the United States."

Democratic leaders apparently closely considered Clement's views on the potentially explosive segregation issue within the party.

GOV. FRANK CLEMENT

The Tennessee governor has avoided taking strong stands either way.

He was quoted at the Governors' Conference as saying that no public schools in Tennessee had been or would be desegregated without a court order.

Theater Trip Planned to Spoil You

Rock Hunter may or may not have been spoiled by success.

If he was, however, his handsome head would ride no higher in the clouds than those of the 60 persons who will discover the answer to a question posed by the title of a popular Broadway play in September.

The Press wants these 60 to achieve that end for participants in The Pontiac Press Theater Special, planners have left unexplored few features that promise traveling comfort and convenience.

Careful attention to details is one of the ways we make sure that everyone who makes the six-day trip into America's largest metropolis enjoys each minute of his or her stay to the utmost.

Theater-goers will find, for example, that luggage ceases to be a problem from the moment they board their chartered bus in Pontiac to the time they step into their rooms at New York's luxurious Paramount Hotel after a fun-packed trip from Detroit on the swift Empire State.

Even such items as tipping become the responsibility of the expert guides who will go along. To these friendly "genus" every single excursionist will be an Aladdin with a magic lamp.

But we're inviting our "special 60" to do more than just bask in comfort. New York City has much to be seen—like the five top Broadway shows that will highlight the trip:

"No Time for Sergeants" — the hilarious story of a good-natured farm boy (Andy Griffith) and his ups and downs after being drafted into the Air Force.

"Damn Yankees" — Gwen Verdon stars in this musical about a Washington Senators fan who options his soul to the devil to win the pennant from the New York Yankees.

"The Most Happy Fella" — about 235 songs are included in the score of this musical about the misfortunes of an elderly grape-grower who wins a young and beautiful mail-order bride.

"New Faces of '56" — made up of talented Broadway newcomers, this new musical revue features a series of sketches which include everything from satire to tragedy.

"Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" — a satire on life in Hollywood, and its effect on a newcomer to the position of movie

Polio Immunity in County Climbs

5,321 Protected, Authority Says

75,629 Others Need One More Salk Shot to Be 'Safe'

Oakland County children completely protected by Salk polio vaccine increase in number daily as the Oakland County Health Department strives to bring about complete immunity from polio.

Some 5,321 children have had three shots and officially are safe from the crippling disease, reports Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director.

The report says 75,629 children have had two shots. About 15,000 of these probably are receiving the third shots now in time for the 1956 polio season, Dr. Monroe said.

He estimates about 2½ per cent of the children in the eligible age group (one through 14) and pregnant women have received three shots and about 35 per cent in this same group have received two shots.

Private physicians gave 90,407 shots and clinics conducted in the county by the health department gave 10,286 shots, last year, statistics from Dr. Monroe and the polio vaccine center reveal.

From Jan. 1 to date, eight cases of polio were reported in Oakland County. Although five victims were eligible to receive Salk vaccine, none had taken it. Two of the five cases were reported as paralytic poliomyelitis.

Dr. Monroe said, "We want to strongly emphasize the fact that none of these five children in the eligible age group who contracted poliomyelitis, had received any of the Salk vaccine. We again urge all parents to see that children who are eligible begin immunization immediately."

The health department will continue distributing vaccine, Dr. Monroe said.

"We are expecting additional funds from the state within the next few weeks. If and when these come through we will allot more of the vaccine. We are expecting another shipment this week," he added.

Words of advice about polio were issued this week by Dr. F. S. Leeder, chief of the State Health Department's disease control section.

He says keep children from getting overtired or chilled, keep them within their normal circle of playmates and make sure they have a regular rest period.

4 Tiger Bidders Await Approval

Syndicate Names Given to Commissioner Frick in Surprise Move

DETROIT (INS)—In a surprise move, Detroit Tiger president Spike Briggs today submitted to baseball commissioner Ford Frick the names of four syndicates bidding for the American League franchise.

The four bids submitted to Frick in Washington, where he and Briggs are attending the All-Star game were Bill Veeck, bidding $5,250,000, Jack Cooke, $5,180,000, Bob Goldstein, $5,050,000 and Fred Knorr, $5 million.

Unconfirmed reports from individuals closely associated with the club said Knorr, head of radio station WKMH in Dearborn, appears to have the best chance.

Briggs' action came as a complete surprise in Detroit. As late as last Saturday he said it would be impossible to have the bids processed to a degree where they could be submitted to the commissioner for approval before July 15.

Both the Knorr and Cooke groups have asked that Briggs be retained in an executive capacity within the Tiger organization. Veeck had indicated earlier that he would keep Spike in the front office.

The submission of the bids to Frick and the American League clubowners is a screening process which will determine if any of the bidders are objectionable.

Final decision on a new owner rests with the trustees of the estate of the late Walter O. Briggs. An executive committee of Spike Briggs, Harry Sisson, Tiger treasurer, and Charles T. Fisher was named by the trustees to conduct the bidding and report to them.

80,000 Out of Work

Steel Strike in Tenth Day

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

DEADLOCK—Steel strike continues into 10th day without move by either side for resuming negotiations. Government mediators preparing new effort to get talks going again Thursday.

EFFECTS—Some 30,000 miners at coal pits owned by steel companies laid off today at end of annual vacation. Layoffs in other steel-allied industry spreading slowly after initial furloughs to nearly 50,000 workers, mostly in transportation fields.

SUPPLIES—Government moves again to conserve available steel for essential defense production; new order requires companies still operating, about 10 per cent of national steel capacity, to set aside more of product for vital work.

ISSUES—United Steelworkers called out 650,000 members on strike after failure to agree with major companies on terms of new contract to replace one that expired July 1.

Chief points in dispute were length of contract and amount of immediate "package" increase. Union rejected last company offer for 52-month pact which included 7.3 cent hourly wage boost and was valued by companies at 17 2-3 cents hourly for first year.

USW appraised first year boost at 14 cents called contract offer too little and too long; has announced neither wage increase it seeks nor length of contract it will accept. Workers were averaging $2.46 hourly before strike began.

Nixon En Route to Washington

Ends Talks on Cyprus and Turkish Problems in Middle East

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — U. S. Vice President Richard Nixon took off for Washington early today after a night of talks with Turkish leaders about Cyprus and Turkey's economic difficulties.

Nixon told airport reporters he, President Celal Bayar and Premier Adnan Menderes also had discussed "the general world situation, especially the new tactics of the Communist leaders."

Nixon added he found Turkey's officials "very realistic about the so-called Soviet new look."

"Like us," he said, "they are glad to hear words but are looking for deeds before relaxing military preparedness."

Nixon's plane will make a three-hour refueling stop at Majorca, in the Balearic Islands, where the vice president will confer with Spanish Foreign Minister Alberto Martin Artajo.

U.S. sources said "no special significance" should be read into the meeting.

Nixon is winding up a rapid round-the-world trip which in the past week has taken him also to the Philippines, South Viet Nam, Formosa, Thailand and Pakistan.

Election Laws Full of Holes, Wiley Charges

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) has charged American election laws are "full of more loopholes than a Swiss cheese" when it comes to revealing sources of campaign contributions.

* * *

He urged passage in the Senate Monday of an "honest elections" law to uncover names of campaign donors—including $150,000 he claims is being used against him in the Wisconsin senatorial primary.

Wiley faces a battle for the nomination against Rep. Glenn R. Davis, who is endorsed by the state GOP leaders.

The new elections law would expand legislation to cover primaries as well as final elections, thus including the reported anti-Wiley contribution.

Wiley added: "This $150,000 mystery is but a symptom of something even more serious—deep behind the scenes—the arrogant grabbing for power on the part of a few reactionary would-be bosses . . . determined to sabotage Dwight D. Eisenhower and his team."

With a campaign goal of $75,812 for the 1956-57 drive, Arthur Rose Jr., of Independence Township yesterday was elected chairman of the Oakland County Township United Fund drive.

In accepting the appointment, Rose said he will "give immediate attention to developing a strong campaign committee" to coordinate efforts of all parts of the county organization.

Forty voluntary service organizations are expected to participate in this year's drive.

"The dollar goal this year is higher than at any previous time," Rose said. "It is essential that we keep pace and move ahead with it."

Rose, who has served the campaign for three years as a director and member of the executive committee, is district sales representative for Electric Refractories and Abrasives Co.

Total operating revenues of United States railroads last year are estimated at $10,100,000,000, an increase of 7.7 per cent above 1954. Freight accounted for the bulk of these revenues, increasing 9½ per cent to $8,500,000,000.

Higgins to Open County Office

Plans to Keep Contact With Voters if Sent to Washington

Republican Congressional candidate George N. Higgins said yesterday he will open a permanent Oakland County office if elected to Congress.

* * *

Speaking at a luncheon in Waterford Township given by 19 of the County's 24 township supervisors, Higgins said a two-man staff would provide local service and information for citizens and groups with federal problems.

The office would have a direct line to him in Washington, he said. He agreed to establish a local advisory committee to test local opinions on legislative problems.

Higgins, who served eight years on the County Board of Supervisors has served three terms in the State House of Representatives and four terms in the State Senate.

The luncheon was organized by Floyd Andrews of Independence Township, a former chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

Jury Acquits Prophet Jones

Disciples Sing, Dance as Leader Is Cleared of Morals Charge

DETROIT (INS)—The Rt. Rev. James Jones, known as "Prophet Jones," a religious leader from Detroit, was acquitted Monday of a morals charge in Recorder's Court.

Minutes after the acquittal, the Prophet led 150 of his followers in a patriotic demonstration on the courthouse steps that tied up traffic on busy St. Antoine street in downtown Detroit for 30 minutes.

His followers chanted, "All is well. All is well," and sang—"God Bless America."

Jones cried as the jury of seven men and five women pronounced him innocent of charges of gross indecency involving a police officer.

His followers, who had packed the courtroom, broke into wild applause and rushed to embrace him. Jones commented:

"All I can say is God bless America. Only in America can this happen."

Pals Facing Prison for Ransom Hoax

Queens church if she paid the $5,000 ransom, police said.

Twice the 32-year-old mother took $5,000 and drove off from her home in desperate hope of embracing her baby again.

* * *

The first telephone call ordered her to drop the money in a parked car in Queens. She spent an agonizing 70 minutes at the location but no one showed up. Then she returned home.

Later, another call told her to leave the money in a Queens bar. Again the contact failed.

A telephone operator informed police that in collecting overtime charges from a pay phone she had heard conversation about the Weinberger case.

Police rushed to a Queens bar where the call was made. They soon picked up the two men in the neighborhood.

RUN AROUND FOR COPS

"They said they weren't interested in the money," Deputy Police Inspector Raymond V. Martin said. "They just wanted to see the cops run around."

Inspector Stuyvesant Pinnell of the Nassau County police said again today that a church or synagogue would be the best medium to deal through from the kidnapers standpoint.

Churches and synagogues in a large section of Long Island have been keeping their doors open night and day in hope the kidnaper might leave the infant in one of them with assurance of not being nabbed.

Fanfare Galore! Shriners on March

DETROIT (AP)— Fifty-thousand whoop-it-up Shriners from all parts of North America treat Detroit to the show for which they're famous today—a 4½-hour parade that has few rivals anywhere in the world.

Clowns, horses, marching bands, motorcycle corps, floats, Indians, camels, bucking autos, and thousands upon thousands of Shriners in red fezzes and colorful Oriental garb will parade through downtown streets to Briggs Stadium where they'll stage mass reviews and demonstrations.

Police estimate half a million spectators will line the parade route, Deputy Police Supt. Miles L. Furlong said 500 officers have been assigned to the job of keeping order.

The Day in Birmingham

City to Support County in 4-Lane Roadway Plan

BIRMINGHAM—County plans for a Southfield Expressway with four lanes and making four-lane primary roads of parts of 16 Mile, 14 Mile, and Coolidge roads won Birmingham support last night.

Commissioners voted approval of the details as suggested in City Manager D. C. Egbert's report at last night's commission meeting.

Under the plan, Southfield Expressway would extend north on the present Southfield to a point north of Nine Mile and then skirt the east limits of the City of Lathrup Village and cross Southfield again just north of 12 Mile Road.

The Expressway would then extend northwesterly crossing Maple at Lahser road, and, Egbert says, "would provide relief for U.S. 10."

Plans for 14 Mile road would make it a four lane route from Stephenson Highway to Southfield, and as two lanes from Orchard Lake to Walled Lake.

"The traffic situation in this immediate area requires that 14 Mile Road be a two lane primary highway from Southfield to Orchard Lake for east and west traffic and to relieve Maple avenue," Egbert says.

Coolidge Road, which would be a major city street with four lanes from U.S. 10 to South Boulevard, is now mainly without any permanent pavement. It should be developed with Birmingham's support as well as Royal Oak and Troy, Egbert says, especially because of Troy industries.

He urged a mutual understanding between the three cities on Coolidge Highway's design.

A four-lane 16 Mile Road is planned from the Macomb County line (Dequindre) to the Southfield Expressway at Lahser.

Schedules call for grading this season from Lahser to U.S. 10, plans detail. Some doubt is present, Egbert said, as he urged city pressure for the project, due to plans for the Evergreen Interceptor, part of which will be within the road's right-of-way between the River Rouge and Chesterfield.

* * *

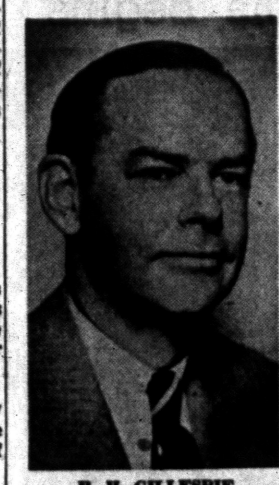

When the length of Southfield is improved from 14 Mile Road to Lincoln Avenue this year, the city will assume jurisdiction according to Leon V. Belknap, engineer-manager of the county road commission. He advised the city last night that the county will share the $35,400 estimated cost of the county road project.

* * *

Commissioners voted unanimously for the appointment of Harold Schone, Oak Park City Manager as Birmingham's new city manager. He will replace D. C. Egbert, who leaves August 1.

Discussion of the Sewage Treatment Plant's purchase by the North Evergreen Sewage Disposal Authority did not bring forth any resolutions on the matter last night.

Rebels Ambush Convoy, Kill 7; Troops Mop Up

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — Several thousand French troops swept through a rugged mountain area south of Algiers today where a French convoy was ambushed with 7 dead and 11 wounded.

The convoy was part of a big French drive into the region between Blida and Palestro yesterday, scene of frequent attacks on French patrols. The ambush took place near Palestro, 35 miles southwest of this capital city.

In other action last night, a French farmer and his housekeeper were killed when nationalist rebels attacked a farm at Corso, 20 miles east of Algiers.

The schedule of events has been planned to allow everyone plenty of free time to venture forth on their own to see other sights in the city's fabulous downtown area.

How can we spoil you? — The procedure is simple and the cost is very, very low.

Clip out the application form on Page 2 of today's Press and mail it or bring it to us, along with a check or money order for $140. But, hurry, because reservations will be made on a first-come, first-served basis until a total of 60 is reached.

Deadline for receipt of applications will be July 30. No places will be reserved after that time except when cancellations make it possible to make replacements from a waiting list.

The $140 charge is the result of much trimming on the part of planners to make it possible for people in almost all income groups to attend the plays. The Press makes no monetary profit whatsoever.

Recommended Rezoning of Block Before City Commissioners Tonight

A City Plan Commission recommendation that sections of the block bounded by West Huron, Williams, West Pike and Franklin boulevard, be rezoned to Residential 1, will receive the attention of the City Commission tonight as they convene to take action on a 23-point agenda.

The city commissioners are scheduled to hear three other reports from the plan group. One involves the approval of an ordinance to rezone to Residential 3 lots 89-99 of the Washington Park Subdivision.

A second concerns the planning commission's deferment of an amendment to the city's building zone ordinance regarding hospitals and schools in all city districts.

Thirdly, the City Plan Commission will recommend to the commission that the northeast side of Norton avenue from Florence to Johnson avenue be rezoned to Commercial 2.

City Attorney William A. Ewart is slated to give four reports to the commission. Two involve deeds regarding the Glenwood extension and the others concern agreements for purchase of city property by Anthony Tassi and Ward E. Partridge.

A public hearing will be conducted on a special assessment roll for a sidewalk and related work on the north side of Virginia avenue from the Pontiac, Oxford, and Northern Railroad to Saginaw street.

The hearing was deferred from last week upon the request of Commissioner Floyd P. Miles.

Three resolutions to receive similar assessment rolls and five confirmations of public improvement projects will also be acted on by the commission this evening.

A communication from Police and Fire Trial Board member T. L. Larsen submitting his resignation from the board will be aired at the meeting.

The commissioners are also expected to take action on the expired term of trial board member James Flanary, whose term expired in May.

A request from the Sunnyvale Chapel, 4311 Pontiac Lake Rd., that permission be granted to hold street meetings in Pontiac, has a place on the agenda.

The commissioners will hear a bid from Anthony Tassi for the purchase of nine lots in the Marquette Subdivision in the amount of $5,000.

Phones Replace Alarm Boxes

New Hookup in Sault Speeds Police, Firemen to Emergencies

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Every one of the 28 outdoor phones in the bright red boxes has a number that spells trouble.

The phones are on direct lines to police headquarters and are installed at strategic points all over Sault Ste. Marie. They are for use by anyone who spots trouble.

Installed by Michigan Bell Telephone Co., the phones will speed up reporting of crime, fires or accidents.

The phones, usually placed on a telephone pole, are answered immediately by the police switchboard. By the direct call method, emergencies can be reported in detail by eyewitnesses.

City Manager Ralph E. Speer says, "Not only will this new system provide better protection for Sault citizens than the old pull-type alarms did, but it will be more economical."

The switchboard operator can note the caller's number and send a car to the scene while still taking down details. By the time the report is finished, a car might be on the scene.

At the fire department, the exact nature of the fire will be known and the right amount of equipment can be sent out. This should eliminate the need for sending out a lot of expensive equipment needlessly.

Fire Chief Edwin Peterson calls it "the fastest and most reliable means of sounding fire and police alarms yet developed."

This symposium will bring together at the University of Michigan, scientific leaders in all fields of botany and zoology.

Work to Cut Down Child Poisoning

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Public health nurses are cooperating with Butterworth Hospital in a program to prevent child poisoning accidents in the home.

Dr. Winston B. Prothro, city-county health officer, reported the hospital has treated 106 children, five years and under, for accidental poisoning in the past year.

He said the nurses make home calls, after a report from the hospital emergency room, to assist parents in preventing a recurrence of the mishap. Most involved in the accidents were aspirin, rubbing alcohol, ant poison, lighter fluid, bleach and furniture polish, Prothro noted.

He said most child accidental poisonings result from substances obtained in kitchens.

Fonda Claims Tension Makes Actors 'Ill'

NEW YORK (AP)—There is a saying that, except for doctors, actors are among the world's worst hypochrondriacs.

It is easy to see how a doctor, surrounded all day by ill health can become a hypochrondirac. Let him get even a degree of fever, and he can suspect a thousand things that may be wrong with him.

But why actors?

"It's the tension they live under," said Henry Fonda. "The theater is exacting. The necessity of making eight performances a week—month after month if you've got a hit play—gets you to worrying about your health.

"Even a sneeze will start you to brooding. Gradually, against your own better judgment, you turn into a kind of hypochondriac."

Fonda himself, however, seems to have the durability of a draft horse. He played "Mister Robert" on Broadway more than 1,000 times without missing a performance.

After appearing in more than 60 films and dozens of plays, Fonda has joined the growing ranks of stars who have formed their own companies to produce their own pictures.

He is refreshingly frank about why he finally turned producer.

"It's about the only way you can make any money and save it," he said. "You pay regular income tax on your salary. But on the profits of a picture you make as head of your own company you have to pay only a corporate tax. There's a big difference."

His first venture will be certainly modest from a financial standpoint. He is starring in a screen adaptation of Reginald Rose's television play, "12 Angry Men," a psychological study of an all-male jury trying a slum kid for murder.

The film is being shot in a studio here on a budget of $370,000 — an amount Cecil B. DeMille might spend on a single scene.

So far Fonda says he hasn't found much difficulty adjusting to his dual role as producer-actor.

"In both jobs you have the same problem — trying to find something that excites you and you want to do," he said.

"Eventually, if I go on, however, I'll need someone to take over some of the producing problems which I won't have time to handle."

Fonda, who came from the Nebraska prairies, started out to be a newspaperman but, fortunately, couldn't find a job in that field. He worked as a physical training instructor, iceman, window dresser, garage mechanic and clerk before he became an actor.

Now ranked with Frederic March as one of the most versatile men in his profession, he is deeply serious about acting. The tribute he draws most often from other actors is this: "The guy has integrity."

Critics often have remarked that, like his friend, Jimmy Stewart, he has the ability to look effortless.

"It should look effortless," he admitted. "It shouldn't look like acting. But if it actually is effortless, there is something wrong somewhere. It's hard work. If you're worth your salt as an actor, you can't let yourself get mechanized, no matter how many times you play the same role.

"Every actor, I would think," he said quietly, "has it—the fear of not being adequate.

Fonda relaxes by drawing. He uses colored pastel crayons instead of oil paints.

"That's what the kids leave around the house," he explained.

Trading Post Is A Busy Place

Imagine the corner drug store, the town's only restaurant and the general store, all rolled into one. Then you'll have a picture of the Trading Post at the Senior Girl Scout Roundup.

Two 40x80 tents house the Snack bar and the Trading Post proper. Simple, unpainted wooden counters with Masonite tops were put in, cash registers set up, and the store was in business.

At one end there is a drug counter. Cosmetics are a popular item with the 5,000 teenage girls who must keep up appearances, even in the wilderness.

The photographic department has done a thriving business. They have all but depleted the stock of film from several wholesalers. In addition to camera supplies, this department offered 24-hour developing service. Souvenir pictures and aerial views of the camp are also on sale.

About thirty different items were offered in the souvenir section, ranging from imported French tiles to plastic coins bearing the Roundup seal.

Newspapers from Pontiac and Detroit sold "like hot cakes," as the Scouts hunted for pictures of themselves and their friends in Roundup stories. This department also handled a number of the Girl Scout publications.

A complete line of camp clothing and essential camp equipment took up the space of several counters. This stock has been almost completely sold out.

Virginia R. Hughes of the national Girl Scout staff is in charge of the Trading Post and the Snack Bar. She has been assisted by Frances Pearson, also of New York, thirty resident volunteer workers and up to twenty commuter volunteers each day.

Chances for Rearming Japan Soon Beaten Down as Socialists Gain Votes

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese Socialists, riding a strong neutralist wave, have won enough seats in the upper house of Parliament to smash Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama's plans for speedy rearmament.

With only one seat at stake in Sunday's elections still undecided, Hatoyama's Conservative coalition held 164 of the 250 seats in the House of Councilors.

Although the government thus had a solid 78-vote majority in the upper house, a leftist gain of 12 new seats made it impossible for Hatoyama's forces to muster the two-thirds membership in both houses needed to cancel the anti-war clause of the constitution adopted during the U.S. occupation.

The provision renouncing war as an instrument of national policy has kept Japan's military forces down to small defense units. The leftist gain was a blow to the U.S. government, which had hoped the election outcome would begin to set the stage for revision of the constitution and subsequent Japanese military expansion.

"I personally think we got licked," declared Nobosuke Kishi, secretary general of Hatoyama's Liberal-Democratic party. "We'll have to accept it as sharp criticism of the Conservatives."

The Socialists immediately demanded election of a new lower house, the more important legislative branch which names the government. With 300 of the 467 seats in that chamber, Hatoyama's forces also lack a two-thirds majority there but he had planned to call new elections if things had gone his way in the upper house voting.

The nearly complete tabulations gave these results:

Conservatives: Liberal - Democrats, 60 seats; progovernment minor parties, 14; holdovers serving until 1959, 90.

Leftists: 49; Communists, 2; Socialists, supporting independents, 1; holdovers 33.

Indicative of popular sentiment was the outcome of the 52 races decided by nationwide voting rather than on a district basis. Of these the Socialists won 21, the Liberal-Democrats 18 and minor parties the rest.

Sharon, 15, copped the Michigan senior title in competition with 100 others Saturday in the 15-or-over class. Arlene, 14, won the junior open crown and finished second in the state for girls under 15.

Marilyn, 11, was tied for third in state competition in the younger division. The top three in each class are eligible to twirl against the best in the nation.

Sharon was presented a handsome trophy and a check for $50 to cover her expenses to St. Paul. Arlene also a trophy for winning the junior open. The girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Dreyer.

Relatives Show No Emotion

67 Air Disaster Victims Buried at Mass Funeral

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz. (AP) — Two men of God saw the Grand Canyon air disaster as a possible beacon to progress in the air at a mass funeral and burial attended by friends and relatives of the crash victims yesterday.

* * *

Sixty-seven coffins were lowered into the ground on a pine-covered knoll of the Flagstaff Cemetery. They symbolized the bodies of the 70 victims aboard the Trans World Airlines plane that presumably collided with a United Air Lines DC7 on June 30, killing all 128 board. Remains of three victims were sent home for burial.

"Someone asks: 'Where was God when these two planes came together?' " said the Rev. Wyburn Skidmore of the Protestant Flagstaff Federated Church.

* * *

"Ah, he was in the same place as he was when Jesus Christ was hanged on a cross. His heart knows agony along with ours.

"This sudden agonizing loss is not altogether bad because much progress may result from it."

Elder Delbert L. Stapley of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-Day Saints in Salt Lake City said God "is not responsible for these tragedies, but imperfect man is victimized by his own inventions."

* * *

Such disasters serve a purpose of stressing the need for advances in technology, the Mormon elder said, and "the sacrifice of life therefore is not always in vain."

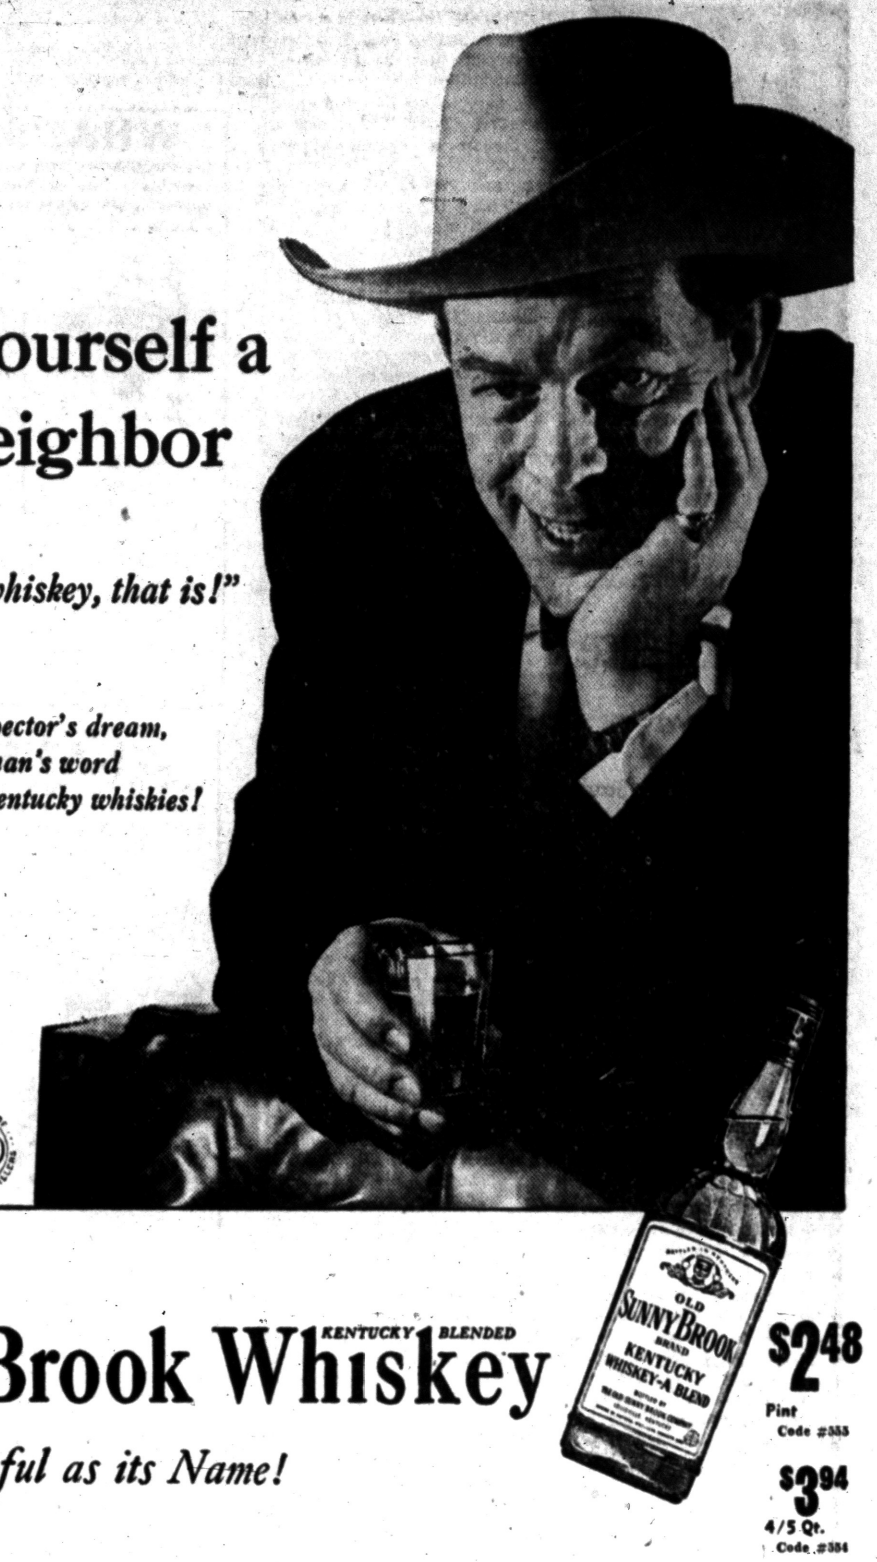

Most of the 1,500 at the funeral stood and listened without any display of emotion. Few of the mourners wept.

United Air Lines said it would have an announcement on its funeral plans today. An inquest into the UAL crash was scheduled to begin at the Coconino County courthouse.

Washington Shows No Gratitude to Griffith

By BOB CONSIDINE

WASHINGTON (INS) — There's always a lot of blubbery sentimentality in sports, but it's good stuff that warms the cockles of the tear ducts and never does anybody anything but good.

It must be handled in big league style to be properly moving. When Babe put his arms around Lou Gehrig at the Yankee Stadium, the day Lou made a little farewell talk to baseball and life, and burst into tears, it was as touching a scene as anything one could conjure in his mind.

It stood in prestige and class, let us say, almost with the burial of the Unknown Soldier here at Arlington three decades ago at the conclusion of the war that ended all war.

There would have been a modest moment of that nature here at the Clark Griffith Memorial All-Star Game. Something called the Home Plate Club of Washington, a sort of demobilized Salvation Army came up with a commendable idea some time back:

A fund to strike a bust to Clark Griffith. Old Griff stubbornly kept Washington in the majors for generations by blending the best characteristics of a shrewd baseball mind with a lively traffic in Hessians, sub-scale wages and emigration from Latin America.

Be that as it may be, he was an authentic Grand Old Man, mentioned and revered in the same breath with Connie Mack.

His death last fall produced an epidemic of breast-beating and sad and fond remembrances usually reserved for war heroes and revered movie stars.

GOAL OF $7,500

The goal for the Griffith effigy was set at $7,500. In Washington, $7,500 has about the same importance fiscally as a bead of sweat dropped into Niagara Falls.

But the society in charge of the fund could not raise the money in time to erect the bronze at Griff's old ballyard and unveil it at the first all-star game ever given a man's name. Class told, and there was none here.

Worse, falling a couple of grand short, there has been a most humuliating campaign going on here to raise the additional cash. It has taken on about as much dignity as emanated by those short fat ladies who beg for wholly anonymous charities in the theater district of New York.

Old Griff was a severe man with a buck, except where his family was concerned, but he must be grieving about this really shocking state of affairs, and the abysmal refusal of his relicts to throw in a couple of G's to end the agony, get the thing unveiled, and add a monument to a town that needs another one pretty badly.

However, what can be expected of a resignedly small-time operation which tried to pick up a buck or two in spring training by selling old baseballs, and exists chiefly on the reputation of its guests?

PRESIDENTIAL HELP

Clark Griffith made baseball "the national pastime" by conning the President of the United States into serving as the sponsor of his opening games.

He started with Taft and never missed one through Eisenhower. Baseball prospered as a result.

But a town that stayed big league largely because of him, a town from which a tramp like Tito was sent a billion dollars, can't build a wonderful old guy a two-by-four head.

GM Truck and Coach Gains in First 6 Months

Once again when Pontiac Motor Division slackens its pace, General Motors Truck & Coach leaps to the fore and takes up a lot of the slack.

It shows a three per cent gain.

This is cause for jubilation.

In fact, it's a life saver in the employment situation in the general Pontiac area.

★ ★ ★

Oddly, over the years that same situation has arisen many times. The late William L. Day, general manager a quarter of a century ago when Oakland (now Pontiac) was in a slump, observed that the truck plant seemed to forge ahead at a normal or better than normal pace.

★ ★ ★

Over an extended period of years Pontiac is fortunate to have had this true. It has meant a lot in the overall picture in this vicinity. While we may lack a diversity of industry, we are fortunate to have a marked diversity within the industry that we do possess.

★ ★ ★

Since World War I, the automotive interests have been the national leader in all manufacturing. They led the way. Pontiac is plain lucky to have had this great pace setter so ably represented here.

★ ★ ★

Most Chambers of Commerce spend a large part of their waking moments in stupendous and lavish campaigns to attract new industries. Pontiac has had a man sized job just keeping up with the great giant that was handed to us on a silver platter.

It came willy nilly.

We merely bowed — and said "thank you."

And often we forgot the thanks.

Yes, the Truck & Coach division has been invaluable over the years as a steadying influence and a magnificent balance wheel.

We're All Profiting By His Many Patents

In the passing of Lloyd G. Copeman, this area loses an inventive genius with an international reputation.

He held hundreds of patents.

In fact, they outnumbered those granted to the great Edison. Most of these were conceived and worked out at his farm home just over the line in Lapeer County. There is hardly a life in our nation or major part of the world that is not influenced by what he patented. General Motors and other large corporations have paid him millions in royalties.

★ ★ ★

His patents included such things as the flexible rubber ice trays in your refrigerator, electric stove, pinless clothes line, adhesive products, tamper proof envelope, auto grease system, bread toaster and a cigarette lighter that works.

He was a great lover of our native wildlife, and rescued animals from traps in the woods near his Metamora home, and made pets of them. He enjoyed forceful feeding of fowls and would raise a gosling into a goose before it had time to shed its down and grow feathers.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Copeman became wealthy, but got his greatest joy out of the satisfaction of seeing the common people enjoy the products of his genius.

His financial benevolences covered a wide range.

Vacation Season Is On

July has brought the Michigan tourist season to its peak.

The late Spring had held it back, and there were long faces on resort and motel owners for many weeks. But now the cars are flocking in from every State in the Union, and all is rosy again.

This tourist business is no minor affair in Michigan. It brings millions of dollars into the pockets of residents of the State, so when it slumps it is indeed a serious matter for many who are directly interested in and dependent on it for their livelihood.

This year there seemed to be no Spring, so far as normal weather was concerned. And so the tourist business was in the doldrums. But come June 30, warm weather and vacation time arrived at the same moment, and the flood of incoming cars began.

There was no gradual start. It came with a rush. One week there was nobody, or so it seemed. Then all at once here it was. Thousands of tourists were on the highways. "No vacancy" signs began to appear along the wayside.

★ ★ ★

Stores were filled, bright colored bathing suits dotted the shores of our Great Lakes and the smaller inland lakes. Bait shops suddenly were doing a thriving business. In short, a busy, happy Michigan Summer season was on its way.

In a Few Well Frozen Words—

David Lawrence Says:

A Third Term for Eisenhower?

WASHINGTON—Because there is such a widespread assumption, even among Democrats, that President Eisenhower will be elected for a second term, there has begun lately some discussion as to whether or not the Constitution should be amended to permit him to run for a third term.

* * *

This is not as far away as it might seem. The present trend of discussion on Capitol Hill points to some kind of world crisis for 1960.

Presumably by then the Soviet government will have caught up with America in air power and in nuclear weapons, and it could conceivably happen that there would be a demand from the American people that Ike should continue on in the White House.

The twenty-second amendment, which became effective on Feb. 26, 1951, prevents Eisenhower from becoming a candidate for a third term, but it does not disqualify Harry S. Truman because the language specifically exempted the incumbent President.

As long as Truman is eligible, there are those who feel that Mr. Eisenhower should also be. The commission to exempt Truman was made largely to win Democratic support in Congress, inasmuch as a two-thirds vote of both houses of Congress was required.

ONE FROM EACH PARTY

But such a personal exception violates the principle of the anti-third term amendment itself and the only way to equalize this is to permit one Republican as well as one Democrat to be eligible for a third term. For at the time the amendment was submitted, the Republican Party was out of power.

If the Constitution were to be amended, moreover, the process would have to start in 1957. It took from March 1947 to February 1951 to get the twenty-second amendment ratified by three-fourths of the states. If an amendment were proposed in the 1957 session of Congress, it would probably be 1959 before final action would be taken by the states.

Naturally there would be opposition from some Democrats who fear Ike's vote-getting powers, but it would hardly be justified because the purpose of the amendment would merely be to equalize an unequal situation between the major parties.

Truman himself probably would be the first to endorse the idea for, it will be recalled, it was General Eisenhower's magnanimity and friendliness to the then President which caused him to refrain from running against Truman in the 1948 contest. He might have won.

The story is told that Truman at Potsdam in 1945 told the victorious American Commander that there was no honor which he would not help the general to attain. It was then that Ike expressed his unwillingness to run for the presidency in 1948.

IKE 69 IN 1960

At the time of the nominating conventions in 1960, Ike would be only 69 and, if elected, he would be 70 at his third inauguration.

But Truman today is 71 and is eligible. Chancellor Adenauer is 80 and going strong. Winston Churchill was 79 when he withdrew from the Prime Minister's portfolio.

In this era of vitamins and advances in medical care, 70 is not considered a mark of ineligibility for active service in many lines of business. Each case is individual. The prognosis of Ike's doctors is that, with the excellent care given him in the White House, he may live on considerably beyond his second term.

The American people are never much concerned about the age of their Presidents—nor have they in the past been impressed with the argument that a chief executive has to have the physique or the health of an athlete or that he has to spend every minute of his working hours on the job.

There have been some "full time" Presidents—and Harry Truman was one of them—who didn't require more than a few minutes in which to make some of the gravest errors that have been committed in the Presidency.

The true story of the influence of the Truman staff on the then President has never been told. It isn't the time that a President takes to study a situation or to decide on it which counts but the amount of acumen and judgment he brings to the job in the first place.

If Ike in his second term keeps the nation at peace and is able to maintain a deterrent force sufficiently large to prevent any other nation from starting a war, the chances are that in 1960 there will be a considerable demand to have him continue in office.

* * *

It may be, therefore, that the nation's principal concern in another year or so will be whether Ike will be eligible to run for a third term. Because of his devotion to public service, it can be assumed that he himself will not initiate retirement as long as he feels able to serve the American people.

(Copyright 1956, New York Herald Tribune Inc.)

Dr. William Brady Says:

Alcohol Just as Harmful as Any Dreadful Narcotic

"He will not go to A. A. or permit our pastor to talk with him. He is 44 years old and has made us all so unhappy. My father drinks to extremes and . . ." (Signed, Doris B....).

I told this unhappy child that there is no medicine that can be given secretly and, in my opinion, no medical treatment is likely to do any good, such medicine as antabuse, for example, unless the addict is voluntarily or by court order under absolute control of the physician.

I said I believe that any addict whose use of alcohol or other narcotic becomes such a problem should be committed to an institution for a term sufficient for a course of medical treatment, with or without all the help religious or spiritual advisers, Alcoholics Anonymous, family and friends can give.

If the drinking continues after such treatment, the addict might deserve a second chance, but not a third. On third conviction sentence to institutional control for not less than five years should be automatic. Whatever the inmate can earn while incarcerated should go to support his family and pay for his care.

In God's name, exclaims a correspondent we'll call Alanon, what could be more tragic than such a sentence?

I think the situation described by Doris B. is more tragic than that.

Far from being harsh in dealing with addiction to this narcotic, we Americans are generally too complacent about it. For instance, a newspaper report said the parents of 50 of the 70 boys and girls of the graduating class in a suburban high school were fighting the parents of the other 20 children for the privilege of setting up a bar on the premises where the parents themselves could be bartenders and serve drinks at the annual post-graduation party. This, they maintained, would be the best way to prevent what another newspaper in the same area calls "the annual outbreak of drinking and other reckless behavior which accompanies high school graduation festivities."

Oh, no, these wishy-washy parents insist, positively no liquor would be served to graduates under 18—about half of the graduates are 17.

There is no need to identify the city from which the story comes. The same parental attitude prevails in many communities.

It's something to think about when you have a moment of leisure and no narcotic handy.

If you have young children of your own, or if you have grandchildren or nephews or nieces or pupils or young friends and are not yourself an addict, it has implications far more appalling than the falling of an atomic bomb. Consider what is happening, or rather what has happened to France.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Case Records of Psychologist

Wife Should Hold Purse Strings

Benny might easily have had a divorce if he hadn't listened to his wife's advice. Smart husbands compliment their wives by letting the latter serve as the family treasurer. Men with inferiority complexes or jealous males are usually the ones who hang on to the purse strings tightly. Run your home on the budget plan outlined below. You'll be happier and more solvent.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-308: Benny O., aged 31, has been married 6 years.

"Dr. Crane, our home has almost been wrecked," his wife told me.

"For Benny handles all the money and we are constantly broke. He is good hearted, so his pals borrow from him to tide them along till pay day.

* * *

"But most of them never repay the loans Benny makes to them. And Benny is an easy mark for salesmen.

"He never looks beyond the first down payment. So we owe so many payments every month on TV and a car and a host of other items that we can't even pay our rent. In fact, we have had to ask his father for loans just to meet household expenses.

"Finally, I read one of your columns where you said a wife should be the treasurer of the family corporation.

"Benny and I had just had a big quarrel that same day, so I showed him your newspaper article. He threw up his hands and told me it was O.K. with him. So he let me take over.

"Well, it took me several months to get us fairly well adjusted. But now things are running smoothly.

BUDGET BEAUTIES

"Benny and I agreed if we could meet all our bills and still have any surplus at the end of each pay check, then we'd divide the balance equally.

* * *

"I give him an allowance for carfare and lunch money. Then I pay all the bills. Last month we had a balance of $17.20 left over, so he took his $8.60 and I took mine.

"Our home life is now so much happier. We don't quarrel about money matters. And we are not oppressed by worries lest bill collectors will be ringing our doorbell.

"Dr. Crane, I wish you'd tell your readers about our case, for we might easily have ended in a divorce if Benny hadn't let me serve as the treasurer.

"Men are not as good bargain hunters as women. They are soft touches for scheming pals at the place where they work. And they don't read the newspaper ads as thoroughly and find out where the best bargains can be found.

"So it is really to their advantage to let their wives act as bookkeeper and treasurer.

"Maybe some men get a mistaken idea that they must hold on to the purse strings to show their masculine authority. Possibly men with an inferiority complex feel that way.

"But it is a compliment to a wife when her husband trusts her with the pay check and lets her run the household's finances. It actually makes her love him more, instead of less, so please tell husbands that fact."

WOLF STORY

"Love flies out the window when poverty stalks in the door," runs an old story.

Romance cannot attain its highest state when the wolf is at the door.

So profit from Benny's experience. Young husbands should make their wives the treasurer of their family as soon as they return home from the honeymoon.

Oh, there may be occasional exceptions where coddled girls of rich parents have no money sense at all, and thus are irresponsible.

But even in such cases, any smart girl can soon learn to run her home on a budget, so husband and wife can work together for a few months on the budget plan until the coddled girl becomes efficient in money matters.

When you budget, too, you'll find serious "leaks." For instance, the average cigarette smoker burns up about $100 yearly. And alcoholic drinks are an unwarranted expense.

So, too, are items like new cars when a used car more nearly matches your budget conditions. Send for my "Budget Booklet," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. Try its advice for just 90 days.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Patients Deserve Apology After Holiday Complaints'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

On July Fourth more than 1500 patients of the Pontiac State Hospital participated in their annual out-of-door carnival and picnic. Of particular importance is the fact that for most of the patients, this is the only day in the entire year that they are able to be out of doors.

As master of ceremonies I was, with all others involved, particularly disturbed by the selfish and unenlightened attitude of certain residents of Indian Village who complained to the Pontiac Police about the noise. On a holiday traditionally given to some noise and at 10:00 o'clock in the morning, this seems to me to be an unexcusable attitude.

I personally feel that to the extent the enjoyment of the patients was lessened, those who complained owe them a written apology, and I should think they ought to do something to redeem themselves in the eyes of their neighbors.

Of course, the patients hope that all those residents who lined Elizabeth Lake Road to view the evening display of fireworks given for the hospital residents were just the ones who in the morning complained the loudest. They would like to return good for evil, you know.

Congress May Be Forced to Act on Tax Limitation

It may not be a great while before Congress submits to the states a proposed amendment to the Constitution to limit income taxes.

The reason for this is that an amendment, proposed by the Western Tax Council in 1938, has already been passed by the Legislatures of 31 of the 48 states.

If one more state ratifies, which is by no means unlikely, it would become mandatory on Congress to call a Constitutional Convention for the purpose of amending the Constitution.

Such a convention could not, probably, be limited to the single subject of income taxes, and other amendments might be submitted which would, if ratified, remake our government in other important particulars.

* * *

Congress would not care to see this happen, we believe; it would prefer to submit an income tax limit amendment itself.

25 PER CENT LIMIT

The proposal of the Western Tax Council is that a limit of 25 per cent be put upon the power, unless the limit is set aside by a three-fourths vote of both Senate and House.

* * *

The present income tax has 20 per cent as its lowest rate and 87 per cent as its highest.

Could the federal government collect sufficient revenue from an income tax with a top bracket of 25 per cent? That, of course, is largely a matter of opinion.

Frank F. Packard, head of the Western Tax Council, argues in an article in the National Review that it can. His view, which very many people share, is that the current income tax rates are so high as to be unproductive and that lower rates would actually produce more money.

* * *

This is not mere theory; it actually happens. Between 1925 and 1930, the top income tax rate was progressively lowered from 40 per cent to 24 per cent to 20 per cent while the personal exemption was raised from $2,500 to $3,500.

* * *

Revenues produced by the tax grew from $2,584,000,000 to $3,040,000,000. Only once, when the shift was made from 24 per cent to 20 per cent, was there a slight drop in revenue and that was more than made up the next year.

* * *

The Revenue Act of 1954, which cut the rates, though not very sharply, has not brought in less revenue than its predecessor, but more.

But, say objectors, that was because business was better. Yet the reason business was better was, in part at least, tax relief.

The proponents of the 25 per cent limit say that a drastic reduction in the top income tax rates would be such a stimulus to business that it might well produce more revenue than the current rates.—Los Angeles Times.

FULTON AND HIS FOLLY—Janice Bligh of Brewer, Maine, and Carolyn Sleeper of Orono, Maine, portrayed the roles of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fulton in Saturday's Americana festival at the Girl Scout Roundup. Behind them is a replica of Fulton's Folly, The Clermont. The painted flat was mounted on the side of a jeep and driven across the arena.

Important Item -- Make Believe in Duffle Bags of Many Scouts

By JANET ODELL

Little girls love to dress up in costumes or their mothers' cast-off clothes and make-believe. Big girls—the age of the Scouts at the Senior Roundup at Highland—like to dress up in costume and make-believe.

Saturday's Americana festival and Monday's presentation of the Girl Scout story gave the campers a chance to put on costumes and make up and take part in a play. Nearly half of the 5,000 campers participated in these two pageants.

Attics were ransacked for old-time clothes. Nancy Day of Watertown, Mass., furnished dresses for several members of her troop.

Donna Wickett of Old Town, Maine wore one of the gowns, a wool challis, sprigged with little blue flowers. Another girl wore what looked like a brocaded silk wedding gown.

Where actual costumes were not available, the ingenuity of the girls and their mothers' skillful fingers made reasonable facsimiles. Authentic costumes, however, were packed into the duffle bags of Scouts from Florida.

They brought colorful Seminole Indian dresses while the girls from Mexico City had beautiful hand-embroidered Mexican dresses and suits.

Indians in Arizona made papoose cradles for the girls from that region to bring to the Roundup. Several attics must have yielded the flapper dresses of the 20s, worn in one scene at Saturday's pageant.

There were incongruities, but no one seemed to care. It was the overall effect that mattered. Maybe a coke in the hand of a cave man, wearing a leopard skin, was out of character. But the day was warm.

Zippers up the back of demure Pilgrim dresses made them fit better, although many years had passed between the landing of the Pilgrims and the invention of the zipper.

The southern belle looked lovely. Only if you sat on the roof of the control tower could you see the straps of her green bathing suit worn under the white dotted net dress. No one appeared to notice the Berumda socks on many of the Indians.

Make-believe had worked its magic.

Europe's Reigning Movie Queens: Part Two

Loren—Study in Perpetual Motion

SOPHIA LOREN—Like flipping pages of a calendar.

This is the second of a series of six articles by Joe Hyams, Hollywood correspondent of the New York Herald Tribune, who has interviewed Europe's top feminine movie stars to find out the secret of the charm of the European woman.

By JOE HYAMS

Despite her impressive physical endowments, Italian film star Sophia Loren is the least beautiful European glamour girl I talked with.

* * *

She has a long nose and a bad chin line, which makes it difficult to photograph her in profile. In full face she is handsome, with tremendous tourmaline eyes and a full mouth.

An interview with Sophia is like flipping the pages of a Petty girl calendar. After a few minutes you wonder how many more interesting poses the artist can think of—but Sophia never seems to run out of ideas.

Whenever possible, Sophia turns full face toward the camera or the interviewer. While her body is performing some remarkable gyrations her head remains on a constant level and her eyes are in placid contradiction to the rest of her.

DECIDES ON FILMS

Like most film stars Sophia has the right to approve all pictures taken of her during a film. Unlike Gina Lollobrigida, her principal competitor in Italian films, who thinks of herself as "the girl next door" Sophia considers herself as "the girl a man would like to have next door."

Most of the pictures Sophia approves for publication are therefore glamorous and/or "sexy."

Sophia, who is only 22, knows herself and her limitations extremely well. She has a magnificent figure — Marlon Brando once said it was "unbelievable."

Her clothes are designed to set off her wasp waist and hour glass proportions; 38, 24, 38. To minimize the imperfections in her face, she accents her mouth and eye makeup and draws attention to her body by wearing a bare minimum of clothing and keeping in constant motion.

* * *

For example, our interview on the set of Stanley Kramer's "The Pride and the Passion" was conducted during a lunch break. Sophia, who was in costume for her role as a Spanish peasant, was wearing a skirt and a low-cut off the shoulder blouse.

Her posture was magnificent. She sat soldier-straight with shoulders back, chest forward and head erect. Within that framework she achieved as many as five different poses a minute, all graceful and each more breathtaking than its predecessor.

Every movement and gesture was carefully thought out and planned. Even her simple act of breaking a cookie in half seemed to have about it a mysterious aura of sex. Her bites on the cookie were a lesson in exquisite and delicate etiquette.

Seated, Sophia, who is a large girl, gave the impression of being a fragile doll, unlike Gina, who is smaller but more earthy in appearance.

Perhaps even more than Gina, Sophia is a product of wisely planned publicity.

WRITER IS ESCORT

Although she claims to have never spent a lira on publicity, publicly Sophia is usually accompanied on press interviews by Basilio Franchaina, a well-known Italian producer-writer who works for Carlo Ponti, who controls her contract.

Before an interview, Sophia likes to have questions submitted to her in writing. She then discusses them with Mr. Franchaina, who writes out the answers.

Although her English is now quite adequate, Sophia will usually refer tricky questions during an interview to Mr. Franchaina for "translation." The system works something like this:

Question in English to Miss Loren relayed through Mr. Franchaina for translation: "What do you consider glamour?"

Mr. Franchaina in Italian to Miss Loren: "I think luncheon will be served in a few minutes. I don't know about you, but I'm hungry."

Mr. Franchaina in English to reporter: "Sophia says she believes that glamour is what you think you want to have before you work in films."

In fairness to Miss Loren, however, she can and does think for herself, though her quotes are not as good copy as Mr. Franchaina's.

The secret of Sophia's glamour seems to lie in a combination of two things: parts in films calling for a maximum of exposure and a minimum of ability and a well conducted publicity campaign.

Sophia is well aware of the see-saw nature of a career built on such a flimsy base and she is earnestly studying to become an actress. She told me she wants to "get rid" of her body.

"It is a distraction to photographers," she said. "I would like all pictures taken of me in the future to be of my head only.

"Publicity is important, but that is past. What is important now is to be an actress. In 10 years I hope that everyone will say I am a great actress and I will be remembered for that and not for my bosom."

Australia Warns on Disarmament

Tells U.N. Not to Shun Asia Area Where Red Influence Is Strong

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Australia warned today against any big-power disarmament agreement that would leave the Communists with the largest military forces in Asia.

Australian Delegate E. Ronald Walker delivered the warning to the 12-nation U.N. Disarmament Commission. The commission is discussing the unsuccessful London talks of its five-country subcommittee held March 19-May 4 by Britain, Canada, France, the Soviet Union and the United States.

Walker remarked that disarmament proposals advanced by both major Western powers and the Soviet Union emphasized the European and North Atlantic area. He conceded that was probably now "the determinant area in terms of world strategy and military and economic power."

But he said any formula fixing the size of various countries' forces must "take account of the responsibilities of the great powers in relation to collective security problems in Asia as well as in other areas."

Workers OK Contract

DETROIT (AP) — Square D Co. workers have ratified a two-year contract providing a 12-cent hourly wage increase and fringe benefits. The United Auto Workers union represents 1,100 hourly rated workers at the plant.

And Only Student Can Hear Mistakes

Noiseless Pianos Mean Apartment Peace

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Apartment dwellers live in cardboard boxes, and people who live in cardboard boxes should never throw voices.

* * *

You chastise your husband in the typical modern apartment house, and the strong language goes crashing through the kitchen wall into the Joneses' parlor.

You wash the dog in the bathtub and his yips go bellowing down the drain through the Browns' radiator.

You let your kid practice the piano and 18 families are going to complain to the police how loud and lousy he plays.

* * *

"That's the worst part of this business—all these children want to get culture," complains a superintendent we know. "They start drumming on the piano at 6:30 in the morning before any decent adult is awake, and everybody climbs all over me to get 'em to shut off the noise.

* * *

"But how can you tell a kid to stop practicing ?His mother'll look at you and say how do you think Rubinstein got started, you big baboon, you want to fight progress?"

BRIGHTER FUTURE

This particular superintendent may not benefit immediately from a new invention just announced in Chicago—but his job may be easier in the near future.

* * *

For the Ruldolph Wurlitzer Company (which has produced a great number of pianos which are shattering apartment dwellers' nerves today) has come out with a new noiseless model, guaranteed to annoy no one but the person who plays it.

* * *

The ingenious instrument is an electronic job equipped with a knob which enables the pianist (or his mother) to tune the volume up to "loud" or down to utter silence.

When the piano is tuned down to noiselessness, the artiste may slap on earphones and flip a switch that enables him or her to listen in on his or her own performance.

* * *

"That way," points out a sly salesman, "only the student can hear the mistakes . . . and he doesn't need to squeal on himself."

PIANOS PLENTIFUL

The National Piano Manufacturers Association has pointed out that 178,000 new pianos were sold last year. And nearly 75 per cent of these were purchased by parents for the use of their kids.

* * *

Obviously, this being the case, a "peaceful piano" was in order.

Besides being pianissimo when need be, this model pianoforte is lightweight and portable.

Its legs unscrew and come off so if a family has a genius in the apartment, the prodigy can play noiselessly to his heart's content during a restless night in bed.

There is just one catch. There are only 64 keys on the keyboard, rather than the conventional 88.

* * *

But, as the Wurlitzer people point out, how often does one use the tinkly upper octave or the thumpy lower octave anyway? Especially kiddies, in the scales stage.

It is conceded that this is no grand piano. But for this, harried parents and harassed neighbors may humbly give thanks.

With pianistic peace on earth finally on the way, there remains only one dilemma. This is a less frequent—but infinitely more piercing—problem, and it must be faced.

* * *

Statewide Alert Out for Escaped Convict

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—A prisoner being returned to jail after sentencing broke from sheriff's deputies and escaped in downtown Battle Creek Monday.

Douglas Drumm, 27, of Albion, had just been sentenced to 2 to 5 years for breaking and entering.

As he and the police guard stepped from the court house, Drumm bolted and ducked down an alley. Officers didn't shoot because of the crowds.

A statewide alert was sent out because Drumm might have escaped in a car reported stolen soon after the break.

The first U.S. census in 1790 listed 3,929,214 people.

Man Pleads Guilty to Bad Check Count

The first member of an alleged check forgery ring to be arraigned pleaded guilty Monday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

The man, Fred Bartz, 40, of Detroit, will be sentenced July 16 by Judge Clark J. Adams. He is being held in Oakland County Jail under $10,000 bond.

* * *

Police say the ring, equipped with phony check plates and printing apparatus, passed more than $10,000 in bad checks since January.

Two other accused members, John Weightman, 39, of Farmington, and John Freeman, 48, of Berkley, demanded examination at their justice court arraignments.

Telegraph-Long Lake Crash Injures Woman

Mrs. Nellie Hacken, 57, of Colon, is in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with spine injuries received in a three-car accident in Bloomfield Township Sunday.

The woman was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Willie, 57. Other drivers were Thomas Patten, 35, of Flint, and Robert N. Caville, of Detroit.

Police said the crash occurred at Long Lake and Telegraph Rds. intersection.

The police report listed his age as 73.

Young-at-Heart Cyclist

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—E. J. Edgar is under treatment at a hospital for a hip injury resulting from a fall while he was trying to learn to ride a bicycle.

The police report listed his age as 73.

Death Struck All Classes in Grand Canyon Crash

(First of a 2-part Series)
By BILL BECKER
Associated Press Reporter

For the 128 victims of history's greatest airline catastrophe, death came swiftly in the Grand Canyon of Arizona.

* * *

But it will be a lingering sorrow for at least twice that many kin, including some 150 children left fatherless, motherless or both.

Whether from California, New Jersey, Ohio or Missouri, most of the passengers aboard the colliding Trans World and United airliners June 30 had growing families broken asunder in a few shattering seconds.

* * *

To the breaking of dozens of homes can be added the loss of brilliant careers.

The two planes bore a cross-section of the American public: industrial tycoons, a Wall Street broker, a young mathematical wizard a scholarship winning stewardess, a farm agent, a service station operator, engineers, lawyers, hucksters, housewives and eager kids getting the trip as a summer reward.

For several, children and adults, it was the first flight.

* * *

At least two servicemen were flying home on emergency leave to be at the bedside of sick relatives. Other young men were getting out of the service or returning from special duty on the West Coast.

One-month-old Howard Maag was sitting in his mother's lap aboard the TWA plane.

Dennis Phelan, 31, a fresh-faced TWA engineer, was especially anxious to get home. He had been working on a new project at San Diego when he received a telephone call from Kansas City that his wife Dorothy, 21, was about to give birth to their second child.

John E. Yaeger, 39, a Tiltonville, Ohio, chemist, was speeding home to his wife and six children via United. On the other plane hurtling through the thunderheads sat William H. Markey, 46, of St. Louis, director of financial services for the Catholic Hospital Assn. He had five youngsters.

Sixteen children perished in the accident. At least two families were wiped out.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kite of Prairie Village, Kan., were going home with their daughters, Sharon, 10, and Linda Jo, 6, who had realized their dream of seeing Disneyland. The Maag baby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Maag of Los Angeles, also were killed.

Another Los Angeles man, Richard H. Payne, changed places with his wife at the last moment. He was taking 14-year-old Dick and 9-year-old Monica for a summer visit on their aunt's Iowa farm.

The tragedy was the second blow recently for plumber Howard Laxton.

Last Thanksgiving his 3-month-old baby died. His wife Lois and their 5-year-old son Michael were flying to their former home in Cape Girardeau, Mo., to locate living quarters before he joined them. Mrs. Laxton was pregnant.

Both Mrs. Laxton and Bessie Whitman, 36, St. Louis, got aboard on last-minute cancellations. Another late boarder was Andrew Nasalroad, 31, Pacoima, Calif., service station operator. His brother had talked him into visiting with his wife and two children in Missouri before they were to come home this week.

* * *

All these were among the 70 persons on the TWA Super Constellation. Up front sat Capt. Jack Gandy, 41, Mission, Kan., father of four; his copilot Jim Ritner, 31, Fairmont, Mo., father of three; and two flight engineers, Forrest Breyfogle, 37, Kansas City, and Harry H. Allen, 34, Los Angeles, each twice a dad.

Two fathers also sat the controls of the United DC7. Capt. R. F. Shirley, 48, Los Angeles, and First officer Bob Harms, 36, Burbank, each left a widow and a daughter.

Peter Austin Whyte, 15, member of a prominent Detroit family, was going back to start his first real job after being given a trip to see friends on the West Coast.

Too young for big dreams were Jeffrey Crider, 5, Granada Hills, Calif., and Carol Church, 6, San Diego. The latter died with her grandfather, Albert Vogt, Evanston, Ill.; Jeffrey with his mother.

* * *

Aboard United, Navy S3C Christopher Balsat, 19, was rushing to the bedside of his father who had undergone a series of major operations in Fostoria, Ohio.

Aboard TWA Air Force Pfc. Robert Sontag was flying to his mother's bedside in Little Rock, Ark.

A few seats away Bob Beatty, 23, looked forward to his first glimpse of his second child, only 6 weeks old, in Wichita, Kan. Beatty had just been detached from the Air Force as a staff sergeant.

* * *

Aboard the same plane a former Navy commander, John N. Payne, 44, national secretary of the Propeller Club of the U.S., an organization of shipping men.

Payne, father of four, was en route home to Orange, N.J., after a business trip. Shortly before his departure from Los Angeles he reminisced with an old friend, City Editor Agness Underwood of the evening Herald-Express, about a ball he and a former Navy pal had attended with Mrs. Underwood years ago. The friend had been killed just before World War II.

* * *

"His plane went into a dive and never came out of it. It nosed right in," Payne said.

Designer Finds U.S. Women Are Short-Waisted

A high-waisted look is effected by a drawstring in this sand-colored silk satin evening coat. Nettie Rosenstein designs two deep folds to give a flat panel look to the back. The coat is lined with matching silk taffeta and interlined, for warmth, in soft lamb's wool.

Satin touches for a slim, fitted suit of black ribbed worsted is the idea of Paul Parnes, designed by Beni Claire. Black silk satin is used for the turned-back cuffs, piping for the collar and jacket closing.

Coats Gain in Fullness and Luxury

Unified Trend Set by Monte Sano and Originala

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS) — Two of America's top coat makers today led off the display of fall fashions with a united coat policy: More luxury and more fullness in back.

* * *

Originala and Monte Sano and Pruzan, the first two firms to show their new styles to 250 editors attending National Fashion Press Week, agreed on new back fullness, expecially when bloused.

Originala preferred coats with plenty of back sweep, and coats with full skirts under luxurious fur collars.

Lavish fur trimmed almost every Originala coat, with blue fox and lynx used for shawl collars on cashmere, and sable and mink appearing as lapel revers. To heighten the sense of luxury, Originala added jeweled pins to coat collars, sometimes right onto the fur.

* * *

Monte Sano and Pruzan also favored the bloused back and big collar for fall coats, but with a switch. Instead of letting the full backs flare out, this firm captures the fullness at the back hemline with bows, puckers or banding.

The fullness starts not from the shoulders but from high empire waistlines, and usually accompanies a very trim, controlled front line.

HUGE REVERS

Monte Sano and Pruzan showed back blousing on three - quarter coats and suit jackets as well, and new huge revers in front. The revers, often as wide as the shoulders, looked effective on hipbone-length jackets as well as great-coats.

* * *

Originala, famed for a lean coat with tiny collar that buttons all the way up the front, retained this model for 1956, but made the pockets low.

Nettie Rosenstein, whose name is practically synonomous with "the little black dress," was the first dress designer to show her fall collection to the fashion editors.

This year, Miss Rosenstein and "the little black dress" are closer than ever before. She likes black for everything, and makes it look new again.

* * *

All the Rosenstein dresses are narrow, and the silhouette remains high-busted. There are tiny bolero tops, with black ribbons or seaming to mark the high waistline on the black dresses.

There are panels at side or back for flare to skirts. And there are a few new-looking tunics, gathered to fall just above the hemline.

* * *

Just to emphasize the "little black dress," this collection adds "the big black coat." Big collars and hoods top the black coats over Rosenstein black dresses for fall.

Three-quarter length coat with sectional seaming in natural camel hair comes from Originala's fall collection. The flat, slim sleeve is set into over-the-shoulder folds.

Ava, Rubi Said to Be Romancing

Columnist Expects Wedding Bells for Actress, Playboy

NEW YORK (INS) — The New York Journal-American said today that movieland's Ava Gardner plans to wed Porfirio Rubirosa, Dominican Republic playboy-diplomat, as soon as she can shed Frank Sinatra.

* * *

Cholly Knickerbocker, the newspaper's society columnist, said "this bombshell was exploded" to him by one of Rubirosa's closest friends who returned to New York from Paris yesterday.

He said the couple met there only a couple of weeks ago and fell madly in love.

Knickerbocker's story continued: "My informant said not even Zsa Zsa Gabor in her heyday made the impression Ava's made on lover boy. And as for Ava, she confided to friends that even Sinatra hasn't got what makes Rubi tick . . .

* * *

"Ava's flock of past loves has read like who's who. Rubi's list of conquests reads like a talent scout's address book.

"More recently, Ava, who likes to live in Spain on earnings of a quarter million dollars per picture, has been linked with Dominquin, the Mickey Mantle of the Spanish bull ring.

"Rubi's previous wives have been Flor Trujillo, daughter of the Dominican dictator; Doris Duke, the tobacco heiress, and Mrs. Gottfried von Cramm, better known as dime-store heiress Barbara Hutton."

Separates Made for Any Taste– Sissy or Sleek

NEW YORK (NEA) — Summer separates can be slick and sleek or sweet with ruffles and lace.

They may be simple (sleeveless with a neat small collar), elegant (the white chiffon shirt for evening) or sweet (the sissy shirt with tiny ruffles edged in lace). And skirts may be wide or straight as an arrow.

Actually, there's a difference between blouses and shirts. Some women buy one type, some another and some have both in their wardrobes.

The difference lies in the detailing and cut, and shirts, no matter what the fabric, are always cut on more tailored lines than the blouse.

Anklets for Beach

Latest things for beach wear are golden anklets adorned with tiny bells to set off a smoothly tanned ankle. These were originated by Jacques Heim.

Hannah Troy Introduces New Sizing in Fashions

Claire McCardell Gives Elegance to Her Casual-Looking Collection

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — That long-stemmed American beauty also has a short waist, says designer Hannah Troy, who has been measuring customers all over the country to arrive at her new sizing, shown today to some 250 members of the nation's fashion press.

"At least half of the women in the country don't fit into regular sizes," says Hannah. "They have long legs, but their waistlines are shorter, so that when they buy a readymade dress they have to spend half again the original price on alterations."

So, going by her statistics, Mrs. Troy shows half her collection in the new shorter-waisted proportions, and all of it in what she calls the "well-shaped look" — carefully curved and constructed clothes built to flatter the feminine figure, whatever its size. She clings for the most part to the sheath silhouette, but softens it with drapery, floating panels and other devices to forestall austerity.

Claire McCardell, high priestess of the casual look, manages to give her offhanded outfits a new look of elegance this year, by subtle variations in cut, by use of luxurious fabrics and by highlighting a series of dinner-at-home gowns dramatizing the "Empress Josephine look." These are long and flowing outfits falling loose and free from a sash or belt just below the bust, presented in such lush fabrics as heavy satin, brocade and jersey sparked with gold or silver threads.

More in her usual breezy manner is her "Carpetbagger coat," in cotton print with wool fleece lining, fastened in front with three buckles

Ernsts Entertaining at Reunion Today

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ernst of Fiddis avenue entertained at a reunion for retired railroad employes today. Their guests were 70 retirees from Owosso, Durand and Detroit.

A special train from Durand brought guests to the reunion, which featured a noon luncheon and a meeting.

Light Furniture Stressed

HIGH POINT, N. C. (AP) — Furniture with a feeling of lightness, and of clean, simple design that will harmonize with modern or traditional style, is featured at the summer furniture and rug market which opened here Monday.

* * *

The 10-day show is expected to attract almost 6,000 retailers from the Southeast to the 14-story Exposition Building, and to other display buildings and private showrooms of furniture manufacturers.

They will buy from the wares of between 350 and 400 manufacturers. Homemakers will be able to see the new furniture in the stores within three months or so. Leo Herr, manager of the Exposition Building, said that prices appear to be fairly stable.

* * *

Italian provincial, which was the outstanding trend at the last show here in January, continues in popularity. But many manufacturers have scaled the proportions down a bit.

On the other hand, Heer said, there also appears to be a trend away from the severe compactness of recent years.

He added that with business surveys showing that people are getting away from boxlike houses toward more spacious types, furniture designers have been able to give their size-chopping blue pencils a rest.

Double-duty pieces also are being shown: A chest that is at home in a bedroom or an informal dining room, or a room divider that is a combination buffet and hutch cupboard.

View Shocks You? Then Profit by It

Nothing is as devastating as a full-length view, front, back and side, in those department-store mirrors.

But it's helpful, too, because it shows you how to correct figure and hair faults you didn't know you had.

For a living room catch-all you can buy a small laundry basket, paint it shiny white, the frame and handles in a gay color, and use it for newspapers, magazines and mending kit.

Be Sure Shoes Fit

Exercise caution in buying shoes in an air-cooled store. If they feel the least bit uncomfortable, you may be sure they'll be worse when you step out into the summer heat and your feet swell.

Young Blueblood's Hijinks Attract Official Frowns

London Debutantes Whoop It Up and Shock Mayfair

(London's wildest debutante "season" in years is producing big headlines and —according to a Laborite member of Parliament — "resentment among the working people." Here is a report on the shenanigans of Britain's society youth who are making the "roaring 20s" appear quiet.)

By ALEC KITROEFF

LONDON (INS) — "We raised cain in our day, certainly, but I never came home with my dress torn off my back as my daughter did the other day."

* * *

The speaker is a distraught matron of the fashionable Mayfair set in London's West End.

The daughter is one of London's debutantes of the class of 1956. Ostensibly, "debs" are a group of wealthy, sometimes titled young women of 18 or 19 who are being introduced to society as young ladies fit for marriage to the wealthy, sometimes titled men of Britain.

Thus far this year, these young "ladies" and their escorts have turned water hoses on the Thames River police, torn varying amounts of each other's clothing off, danced on rooftops, and thrown champagne glasses out of windows.

* * *

And these are only the incidents of which reporters have learned. What makes them do it?

REJECTION SEEN

When asked for the reason, an eminent London psychiatrist advanced this theory:

"To my mind, it is a subconscious rejection by the girls of the entire 'debutante system,' which is something more or less than a glorified mating rite.

* * *

"The girls resent the idea that at a set time and date, they are unleashed upon eligible males and subsequently become the raw material of the season's matchmaking maneuvers by Mayfair hostesses.

"The opportunities for today's girls to plan their lives and futures without any conventional barriers are limitless.

"They get a natural psychological urge to shock and frighten both their parents and the entire system that has forced them to become debutantes."

* * *

Arthur Lewis, a Laborite MP who recently raised the subject of these "mad parties" in Commons, is not concerned about the whys and wherefores of the debs' behavior.

POOR EXAMPLE

He is much more worried about the effects it is having on Britain's working classes who are daily being urged to spend less and tighten their belts to curb inflation.

* * *

"How can the government expect them to listen to these admonitions when it allows these youngsters to fritter away so much time and money on these parties," he said to this correspondent.

"They go down to a working class quarter and keep people awake into the early hours of the morning with their singing and dancing. And when they get drunk enough, they tear the place apart.

"It's creating a great deal of resentment among working people and quite rightly too. If working class people did a fraction of what goes on at these deb parties, they'd land in jail soon enough."

* * *

"There's no excuse for it," Lewis went on. "And it's nothing a stiff fine or two won't cure. Working people think, with some justice, that police just don't take action because the persons involved are titled and wealthy."

NO. 1 VICTIMS

Mayfair hostesses are the No. 1 victims of the "maddest season," though they don't view the problem either from a psychological or class angle. Most of them are just plain scared by uncontrollable youngsters who may suddenly turn a sedate ball into a drunken brawl.

Many of the noisiest outbreaks have occured under the noses of outraged but helpless matrons at what were supposed to be formal and dignified dances. The damage to the feelings of the hostess frequently is matched by the damage to furniture, glassware, carpets and curtains.

The debs themselves shake off the public outcry with a toss of their pretty heads.

And if there is any subconscious rejection of the "debutante system" in 18-year-old Marianne Ford's psychological makeup, it certainly isn't showing.

* * *

"I've been looking forward to my coming-out season for years," she says. "Everyone told me it would get to be a bore after a while. It isn't, it's just marvelous!"

NOT THAT BAD!

Felicity Drew, also 18 and a businessman's daughter, said about her party which was one of those discussed in Commons:

"I mean, I know there are 13½ dozen champagne glasses at the bottom of the Thames but everyone enjoyed themselves so it couldn't have been all that bad!

"Perhaps turning a hose on the river police wasn't too kind, I felt sorry for them myself. . . . Perhaps if we'd asked an MP to the party everything would have been all right."

Marianne, on the other hand, thought drenching the police was "jolly good form."

"Why, the other day we dropped empty petrol cans on the police and they didn't seem to mind a bit," she said.

* * *

Altogether, the debs consider they're just having a whale of good fun and as long as nobody gets hurt at the parties why make such a fuss about them?

CAREFUL ABOUT SITES

However, since the questions in the House, Debs have been careful to keep their parties confined to districts where the only resentment or complaints they are likely to arouse are from those who didn't get invited.

* * *

And if they want to go badly enough they can always gate-crash as many did recently at a party given by Princess Beatrice of Hohen-Loe, a niece of the Duke of Edinburgh.

The princess said the man who swam in the nude in the apartment-block swimming pool was nobody she knew.

MR. and MRS. FRANKLIN MOUSER

Barbara A. Hayes Weds at Home of Grandmother

In a ceremony performed Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. L. W. Vaught of Mount Clemens street, Barbara Ann Hayes became the bride of Franklin E. Mouser.

Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ulas Hayes of Yale and Frank is the son of Mrs. Walter A. Millage of Brooklyn avenue and Woodrow Mouser of Ruth avenue.

The Rev. G. J. Bersche of Christian Missionary Alliance Church performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of 100 guests.

For her wedding, the bride chose a ballerina-length gown of white lace and net over taffeta. The bodice was fashioned with a round neckline trimmed in shirred net and short puffed sleeves.

Her fingertip veil of silk illusion was fastened to a tiny white velvet cap trimmed in rhinestones. She carried an arrangement of red and white carnations with white satin streamers on her white Bible.

Darla Fulmer of Yale wore a gown of blue net over satin and carried an arrangement of blue and white flowers for her duties as bridal attendant.

Ronald Mouser served as his brother's best man.

Mrs. Hayes received her guests at the reception held immediately following the ceremony wearing a navy blue dress with matching accessories and a pink and white corsage.

Mrs. Millage chose a gown of blue silk print and a blue and white corsage for her son's wedding.

Following a brief wedding trip, the newlyweds will make their home in Pontiac.

Married at Memorial Baptist Church Saturday were Juanita K. Betz and Kenneth A. Pearson. Juanita is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Tharp of South Marshall street and Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Pearson of Tex avenue.

Juanita K. Betz Becomes Bride in Baptist Service

As she approached the altar for her marriage Saturday evening at Memorial Baptist Church, Juanita K. Betz wore a floor-length gown of embroidered tulle over satin in a redingote efefct.

* * *

Juanita became the bride of Kenneth A. Pearson in an 8 o'clock ceremony performed by the Rev. G. H. Rapelje.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Tharp of South Marshall street, and Kenneth's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Pearson of Tex avenue.

An embroidered collar accented the neckline of the fitted bodice. Juanita carried a bridal bouquet of white feathered carnations and roses.

* * *

A gown of light blue crystalette was worn by Darlene Tharp for her duties as maid of honor. Attendants Mrs. Gerald E. Starkweather and Laura Pearson wore pink and mint green crystalette, respectively. Matching picture hats and carnation bouquets completed their costumes.

Best man was Roger Pearson and ushers were Ray Carter and Dale LaGest of Lake Orion.

For the reception held in the church parlors Mrs. Tharp greeted her guests wearing a pink lace dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Pearson wore blue linen with white accessories.

When the newlyweds left on their honeymoon trip to New York state, the new Mrs. Pearson was wearing a pink linen sheath dress with matching accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet. They will reside on East Beverly avenue.

Wash Vases Daily With Soda Water

Your vases will not only look prettier, but will make a better showing of your flowers if you wash them daily in a quart of water to which you add two tablespoons of soda.

Vases won't get that unpleasant stale odor if you wash them this way daily and your flowers will last much longer.

"Kool Krisp" Fruits Star on Summer Menus

Try Melons 'n' Fruits In Colorful New Ways

By KATHRYN KENNEDY
Wrigleys Food Reporter

The wonders of summertime—sweet black cherries, powdery blueberries, crimson tangy strawberries, melons of many hues including deep green watermelons, sun-toned cantaloupes and sea-green honeydews, golden apricots, deep-toned plums and juicy ripe peaches—these and many others show Mother Nature at her very best.

Picked at the peak of ripeness and rushed to the Kool Krisp counters of Wrigley stores from many parts of the country are these appetizing fruits of summer that fit into any portion of your menus, from appetizer to dessert—from breakfast to midnight snack.

* * *

LUSCIOUS, vine-ripened western cantaloupes are truly an "any-time-of-the-day" food. Chilled contaloupes are an excellent breakfast fruit, a refreshing appetizer for lunch or dinner and a perfect dessert for any meal.

In addition, they are very nutritious—high in vitamins and yet low in calories.

The cantaloupes being featured on the Kool-Krisp counters now are the "jumbo" 23 sizes. This means the number of cantaloupes that can be packed into a box. The lower the number, the bigger the fruit—size 36 means 36 melons to the case—size 23, only 23 melons to the case. That's why they're called "jumbos."

Try halves of ripe, golden cantaloupes or cool, green honeydews filled with sliced strawberries with a sprinkling of lime juice if you'd like a sensational flavor combination.

Watermelon, the melon with the million-dollar scent, has triple appeal—to the eye, the nose and the taste. And now's the time to eat your fill for the season is short and they'll never taste better.

The next time you have a party, try serving a watermelon bowl filled with assorted melon balls. Cut the melon almost in half and scoop out little balls from the rich red meat. You can get the melon ball cutter at the dime store.

THEN SCOOP out balls from cantaloupes and honeydew melons and arrange in the bowl. For a fancy edge, use a sharp knife to make a saw-toothed border around the watermelon. Chill well before serving and garnish with whole strawberries and fresh mint leaves To keep the watermelon from toppling over, cut a thin slice from the underside, just enough to let it rest flat on the serving tray.

A watermelon bowl can also double as a punch bowl for your favorite party beverage. Cut the melon as for the fruit bowl, scoop out the fruit and chill both. Serve the fruit in chilled slices or chunks and fill the bowl with punch and ice.

A nice combination is ginger ale and orange sherbet in the proportions of one quart of sherbet to two quarts of chilled ginger ale. No ice is necessary with this type of punch because the sherbet chills the ginger ale as it melts.

Fruit is a natural dessert, juicy, healthful, nutritious and delicious. What could be better than a beautiful watermelon scooped out and filled with an assortment of cantaloupe, honeydew and watermelon balls and luscious ripe strawberries? Or smaller melons cut to hold sliced strawberries or blueberies and lime wedges.

Ice Cream Leads Dessert Parade

When it's warm and you want to be cool—ice cream is the answer.

Especially Top Frost ice cream with the delightful smooth texture and richer flavor. This exceptional ice cream, so reasonably priced, so readily available in protective paraffined cartons from the freezer section of your Wrigley store and so easy to serve anytime, is a popular favorite with everyone who has tried it.

Top-Frost combines the qualities of creamier, finer texture of hand-packed ice cream, and the flavor-freshness of that packed at the freezer.

IT HARDLY NEEDS "dressing up", for its exceptional flavor is a treat to enjoy. But, there are many delicious dessert combinations where the ice cream makes a fine flavor addition.

Crushed strawberries or raspberries head the list of good things to do with ice cream. And halves of ripe, golden cantaloupe, filled with vanilla ice cream, have been a popular combination far more than a half century.

Cool, green honeydews, Casabas, or Persian melons, served a-la-mode are perennial treats of the melon season.

Cantaloupe served with strawberry, vanilla or pistachio ice cream with a topping of fresh sweetened strawberries is a wonderful combination.

Or try honeydews served with peach ice cream and sliced peaches.

Another combination dessert that is sure to please is warm gingerbread or juicy apple pie topped with vanille ice cream.

* * *

Ice cream pies using prebaked plain pastry, cereal or graham cracker crusts are nice to have on tap in the freezer. Just pile slightly softened ice cream into the pie crust and pat it down smoothly. Top with whipped cream if you wish and serve with fresh fruit.

For a delicious variation, fill a baked meringue shell with chocolate ice cream and garnish it with shredded coconut. Just before serving dribble rich chocolate sauce over the top.

Frosted Melon Makes Cool Hit

A Frosted Honeydew Melon will make limp appetites pop up like daisies after a rain when you bring it to the table in all its chilly glory.

FROSTED HONEYDEW MELON

1 medium sibe honeydew melon
1 pkg. raspberry fruit gelatin
8-oz. pkg. cream cheese
Milk

Peel the whole melon, cut a slice from one end and remove the seeds; fill the cavity with water, pour it out and measure it. Stand the melon upside down to drain well. Prepare sufficient raspberry gelatin to fill the cavity of the melon, using the amount of water poured from it as a guide to the amount needed. Fill the melon with the gelatin and place it in the refrigerator until gelatin is firm. Soften cream cheese with a small amount of milk, whipping it until light and fluffy. Frost the entire outside of the melon with this whipped cream cheese and place on a chop place garnished with crisp lettuce leaves. Serve it sliced with French dressing.

"Kool Krisp" Keeps Fruits Super Fresh

Of all the food displayed in your Wrigley Store, none is more carefully tended than the fresh fruits and vegetables on the Kool Krisp produce counters.

It has always been the constant aim of Wrigley's to bring to you the very best from farm and orchard, picked at the peak of ripe perfection. Rushed to the stores in refrigerated cars and trucks, the produce is then kept moist and fresh in sparkling clean, Ice Channel counters. These are thin racks of crushed ice placed at intervals, an exclusive feature developed by Wrigley's.

Because of this careful attention to the selection and the protection given it in the stores, Kool Krisp has come to mean top quality fruits and vegetables throughout Michigan.

Milford Baptists to Dedicate Unit

Pastor and Two Guests to Conduct Ceremonies on Anniversary

MILFORD—When members of the First Baptist Church dedicate the first unit of their new house of worship tonight, it will be just a hundred years from the dedication of their first church.

The dedication service will be at 7:30 p.m. with the Rev. David D. Allen, vice-president of the Detroit Bible Institute and pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church, Hazel Park, as featured guest speaker.

The Rev. Robert Hall, pastor of the church, will conduct the program, along with church officers. The Rev. L. P. Burcker, editor of the Fundamental Fellowship will speak briefly in the formal service of consecration.

The church was organized in 1835 with a membership of 13. One hundred years ago the present house of worship was completed and dedicated and later moved to its present location, where two rooms were added on in the early eighties.

"In the last four and a half years, membership has grown to the largest in its history for both church and Sunday School," says Mr. Hall. "This made it necessary to build this first unit which is exclusively a Sunday School unit."

The new building contains 13 separate classrooms, large assembly room, kitchen and rest rooms, and the Annex which contains the nursery.

Ground was broken for the new building on July 10, 1955, in a formal ceremony, and construction began a month later.

Public Sentiment Adds to Traffic Troubles

Art, history and sentiment are three factors which sometimes stand in the way of cities seeking to ease their traffic jams. The experiences of municipal authorities in San Francisco, Washington and Boston are told in the second of five articles on a nationwide problem.

By JACK LOTTO
INS Staff Writer

Art lovers, the history-minded and sentimentalists have created roadblocks in the fight by San Francisco, Washington, D. C., and Boston to break traffic bottlenecks.

* * *

The opposition to the elimination of the colorful but outdated San Francisco cable cars has bordered on the fanatical. For many years the city announced plans to get rid of the cars which blocked traffic and were more expensive to operate than buses. Each time authorities backed away.

Finally, the municipal railway gradually did away with all but two of the hill climbers. There was a resultant speedup in traffic on streets where the tracks of the cable cars had run.

The overall problem in San Francisco is particularly acute because the city, like many others, is the center of a fantastically-growing area.

RUNS IN THE RED

Geography plays a hand in the traffic problem. The city is accessible through normal land routes on only one side. The Golden Gate Bridge and the Bay Bridge are on the verge of becoming inadequate.

Fares on the municipally-owned railway have been 15 cents for some time and there is no indication of any forthcoming increase, although the system runs in the red every year.

In Washington, architects and art-lovers—and politics—are complicating the traffic situation. Since 1941, traffic officials report, there has been a 72 per cent boost in traffic over Washington streets.

TROLLEY PROBLEM

More than 220,000 vehicles daily use the four bridges crossing the Potomac between Virginia and the District. When officials decided a fifth was necessary, it took years before a final site was decided upon because the Fine Arts Commission, among others, couldn't agree where the bridge should go up.

As if the situation isn't muddled enough, traffic experts insist the District should do away with the streetcars of the privately-owned Capital Co. (CTC). Buses, it was pointed out, can wiggle through traffic, while trolleys cannot.

The sentimentalists raised a howl which up to now has successfully blocked any thought of discarding trolley lines in large numbers.

One important step taken as an emergency measure to ease the traffic congestion during the war years was found so effective it is still in use.

This is the staggering of working hours for government employes. Traffic engineers found the system reduced peak travel by more than 50 per cent.

TEN YEAR PLAN

There is a ten-year plan under way for trying to ease the Washington situation by constructing one inner and one outer loop expressway. They would skirt the downtown area and outer fringes of the city. Progress has been slow because of the need to go to Congress for every penny of the money needed.

Three municipally - owned fringe parking lots have been opened with free parking spaces for suburban motorists who use buses to carry them the rest of the way into town. This plan has not been a rousing success. The number of CTC passengers has decreased sharply since 1949. At that time it carried 395 million riders; today the figure is 217 million. Fares have doubled from ten cents at the war's end.

One of the biggest controversies in Boston is whether to build a big parking garage under Boston common.

Opponents, who contend that the construction of a garage for 800 cars would mar the historic beauty of the old common, have thrown up every roadblock they can muster. The question is before the courts.

STARTED LATE

The rebuilding of Route 128 to bypass the tangle of central Boston has eased the situation for the through driver. Some 40,000 autoists who daily had to fight through the narrow, winding streets up until 1951 now use the $67,000,000 six - lane, toll - free expressway daily.

Although Boston is the nation's 10th largest city and an important sea, rail and air terminal, it did not spend large sums of money on traffic improvements until after World War II.

The municipally-operated system of subways, elevated railways, buses, and trolleys take nearly a million persons in and out of the city daily. Another million make the trip by auto.

When the "el" was taken over by an act of the state legislature 10 years ago, the fare was 15 cents per ride. Today it is 20 cents.

Under the state law, the system must be self-sustaining and if it racks up a deficit, it can raise the fares.

Death Penalty Dope Bill Waits President's Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has sent the White House a bill prescribing stiffer penalties, including death, in the hope of discouraging the peddling of narcotics.

The measure is expected to be signed into law by President Eisenhower since it carries out recommendations made early this year by a Cabinet committee.

The bill, passed by the Senate and House yesterday, would increase present penalties for narcotics law violations and permit the death sentence for persons who sell or give heroin to children under 18. The death penalty would apply when recommended by juries in states permitting capital punishment.

Without a jury's recommendation, the penalty for the heroin law violation could be 10 years to life, even for a first offense. In addition, the bill would outlaw heroin in this country except for research and require all heroin to be turned over to the Treasury Department within 120 days.

Penalties for dope peddling are more than doubled by the bill. They are increased from the present 2 to 5 years for a first offense to 5 to 10 years and from the present 5 to 10 years for a second offense to 10 to 40 years for a second or subsequent violation. Maximum fines are increased from $2,000 to $20,000.

Eisenhower ordered a narcotics study late in 1954 by a five-department Cabinet committee in an effort to stamp out dope addiction and the crimes it causes.

Proponents of the bill, along with Harry J. Anslinger, chief of the Federal Narcotics Bureau, contend the new law will make dope peddling unpopular in the underworld.

Sen. Daniel (D-Tex), author of the Senate bill and chairman of a Senate committee which investigated illegal narcotics traffic on a national scale, said the measure "will be the biggest blow ever dealt the . . . traffic in the United States."

Rochester Eyes Parking, Wider M-150 and Paving

ROCHESTER—Paving of several main streets, widening of M-150 for some distance, and properties available for off-street parking were discussed at last night's Village Council meeting.

Bids for asphalt surfacing of a number of village streets were opened at Monday's regular meeting of the Village Council. The low bid for the project was that of A & A Asphalt Paving Co. of Birmingham, totaling $19,780.65.

* * *

Specifications called for a new two one-half inch asphalt for North Oak Street from the Glendale intersection for 280 feet north; North Pine Street from Glendale 150 feet north; Alice Street between First and Fairview Streets; Fairview between Helen and Alice Streets; and First, between Helen and Alice streets.

Resurfacing of Water Street between Third and Fourth Streets and on Helen Street between Third and Fifth Streets, is also included.

Plans for widening of M-150 from the South end of the bridge at Diversion Street to Avon Road were described in a letter and blueprints from the Michigan State Highway Department. Width will be 47 feet, or four lanes rather than the present three, tapering into the two lane width at Avon Rd.

The contract for installing the new deep well turbine pump at the Water Works was awarded to the Poe Co., of Berkley, low bidders.

The Off - the - Street Parking project which was recently brought before the council by the Rochester Chamber of Commerce was reviewed by Manager Robert Slone.

Two local realtors, Max Hartwig and Leslie E. Hopkins, presented for options, seven pieces of property for the consideration of the council.

Hartwig listed two houses and lots of the O. P. Gibbs Estate on East Fourth Street opposite the village offices which would give approximately 6,000 square feet for parking, at $15,000.

Also offered was the Hall property at 411 East Street with a 60-foot frontage, and 115 foot depth at a cost of $8,950.

Hopkins offered four pieces of property, including the Lionel Smith house and lot at 421 East St. for $16,000, the house and lot known as the old Folino property on East Street at $7,875, T. Barnett place at $10,000 and the adjoining one at $7,875.

The council will take several weeks to consider the properties.

Truckers Warn About Accidents

'Can Be No Vacation From Safe-Driving Practices'

DETROIT (INS) — The Michigan Trucking Industry says that the excessively-high traffic toll can be reduced greatly if every vacation driver realizes that there can be no vacation from safe-driving practices.

* * *

L. D. Rahilly, president of the Michigan Trucking Association, says:

"It is this idea that the industry hopes to convey to everyone traveling by car this summer as part of its courtesy and safety campaign for July."

Rahilly declared:

"There is no denying that vacations are intended as periods of relaxation, but relaxation behind the wheel can be fatal. Somewhere on your trip—and possibly for a good part of it—you will be driving in heavy traffic. You can never predict what the other driver will do. It's up to you not only to drive safely yourself, but to be alert in order to avoid the other driver's mistakes."

The MTA official added:

"You may be driving in unfamiliar territory. In that case, you must be ready to cope with the hazards of the road as they appear. Lastly, you will be a guest in the other driver's territory. Be a good guest and obey the traffic laws meant for both you and him."

* * *

Rahilly urged all who will take their vacations shortly on the highway to heed these basic principles for a safe, trouble-free holiday, and concluded:

"Take time to enjoy your vacation."

Sen. George to End Career With Social Security Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) said today he hopes to cap his 34-year Senate career with a victory for his proposal to set up a program of Social Security benefits for disabled persons.

* * *

George, retiring from the Senate at the end of this year at 78, introduced yesterday the compromise amendment on which the Democrats are pinning their hopes for a Senate triumph on the disability program.

"If we can get this through, then I am ready to go away from the Senate," George said. He told a reporter he does not regard his plan as a final answer to the disability question, adding:

"But it will be liberalized and improved over the years, just as other parts of the Social Security law have been."

* * *

George has been either chairman or a member of the Finance Committee, which handles Social Security legislation, through the 20 years the system has been in existence.

The veteran Southerner said he believes his compromise will win the support of most Democrats and also of a number of Republicans, despite Eisenhower administration opposition to the disability program.

The Social Security bill, of which George's proposal would be a part, is one of the major pieces of business remaining for the 1956 session. It now is expected to come up for Senate debate next week.

* * *

The disability program is a new concept. The Social Security system heretofore has provided only retirement and survivor benefits.

Pierce Takes Mound Against Power-Laden NL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The selection of Pittsburgh righthander Bob Friend and Chicago White Sox lefthander Billy Pierce as the starting pitchers for today's annual All-Star game brought no change in the 6-5 odds favoring the American League over the Nations.

A sellout crowd of nearly 29,000 was certain to jam Griffith Stadium for this 23rd playing of the mid-summer contest between the leagues.

In addition, millions throughout the country arranged to see it and hear it on television and radio with the proceeds going to the player's pension fund. Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick was designated to throw out the first ball at 1 p.m. EDT.

* * *

Fair weather with temperature in the 80s was predicted. Should the weather turn out to be rainy, an attempt will be made to play the game tonight or, failing that, on Wednesday.

* * *

Manager Casey Stengel of the American League team had no trouble deciding on Pierce as his starter but Walter Alston, the National's skipper, did not settle on Friend until he was convinced the Pirate ace was fully recovered from a mild throat ailment that had sent him to bed Sunday.

"I talked with Friend," Alston said, "and he assured me he was feeling fine. He said there's nothing wrong with his throat. He has a little soreness there but it doesn't bother him at all."

* * *

Stengel, explaining the choice of Pierce over his own Yankee Whitey Ford, said: "Pierce has the best record in the league. I know he pitched Sunday but he went only five innings and that shouldn't bother him at all. I've got to start him after what he did against those guys (National League) before. He's pitched six innings against them and they haven't scored against him yet."

* * *

Stengel, a man of many innovations, said he may throw three southpaws against the power-laden National Leaguers. His plan was to follow Pierce with Ford and Herb Score, the Cleveland fireballer.

Stengel's plans were subject to change, however, if Alston decided to send in his available righthanded hitting lineup as soon as possible. And the Dodger boss indicated he planned to do just that after the third inning. Under the rules he must play the players named in the fan vote for at least three innings.

* * *

Alston said he wasn't sure who would follow Friend to the mound. He thought he would use a lefthander for the middle three innings but added:

"It all depends on the moves Casey makes. That is, what players he has in the game as it goes along."

Friend's work was cut out for him since six of the American's starters bat lefthanded, including the switch-hitting Mickey Mantle.

The left-handed Pierce will face five righthanders in the Nationals' lineup.

Alston defended his choice of the right-handed Friend against the AL's stacked southpaw batting order by saying:

"I know they've got a bunch of left-handed hitters in the starting lineup, but it's no advantage pitching a lefthander against guys like Williams, Berra and Mantle. They will hit anybody, whether he's a lefty or righty."

Stengel's selection of Mantle did not come as much of a surprise since Mickey played four innings against Washington Sunday and reported his injured knee gave him no trouble.

"I'll play," the 24-year-old slugger said after the game. "I'm all right. I left the game because the brace was too tight on my leg."

The American reserves include Gil McDougald, Ray Boone, Charlie Maxwell, Vic Power, Harry Simpson, Sherman Lollar, Billy Martin, Roy Sievers and Piersall.

Although the American holds an over-all edge of 13 victories to 9, the National has won 5 of the last 6, including 4 out of 5 against Stengel. The Nationals won last year 6-5 in 12 innings on Stan Musial's home run.

Local Jaycee Teams Fall in Kazoo Meets

KALAMAZOO — Tennis ace John Cook and golfer David Britigan lead their front-running Kalamazoo teams into the final rounds of the Michigan Jaycee Junior Golf and Tennis Championships today.

Britigan fired a three-over-par 74 over the wind and rainswept Kalamazoo Country Club course yesterday to grab a first place tie in the golf tourney with Bill Stacy of Grand Rapids. They led 138 other teenage entries in the 36-hole competition.

John Walsh of Lansing captured the No. 3 spot with a 75, Bud Badger of Bloomfield Hills was 4th with a 76 and Nick Berlich of Ypsilanti 5th with a 78.

Kalamazoo's four low entries turned in an aggregate score of 312, edging the Grand Rapids team by one stroke. Detroit had 314, Ypsilanti 324 and Jackson, the defending champion, 326 for 5th place.

* * *

In the tennis competition, Cook, the No. 1 seed, breezed past Cal Darby 6-1, 6-0, then trounced Ken Kaiser of Battle Creek, 6-0, 6-0.

Pontiac's representatives bowed out early. All were eliminated in 1st-round matches.

Jerry Bunce of Pontiac was defeated by Tom Henderson of Jackson 7-5 and 6-4. Marshall Howrigan of Plainwell defeated Jack O'Dea by default, and Richard Nixson of Jackson turned back Harry Beam 6-1, 6-1.

Kalamazoo netters also held the lead in the team standings with 14 points. Holland had 9 points, Grand Rapids 8, Saginaw 7, Bay City 6 and Monroe 5. Other teams failed to score.

* * *

Pontiac and Waterford Jaycee golf teams were out of the race for team honors, with John Wefflaufer of Waterford and Dick Weyand of Birmingham (representing Pontiac) still in contention for individual honors.

Wefflaufer and Weyand each fired 78. Pontiac team-total was 333 with Dick Cream's 80, Dick Whittier's 86, Russ Porteous' 89 and Dick Singleton's 102 along with Weyand's 78.

Waterford team-total stood at 335 with Cleland Charboneau hitting 85 and Frank Syron Jr. and Ed. Tokarsky each recording 86 in Monday's first round.

All-Star Notes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has been buckling down for weeks in a drive to adjourn some time this month.

But after all, baseball is the national pastime.

And not since 1937 has Washington had a major league All-Star game all its own. So . . .

The Senate recessed yesterday until tomorrow.

The House scheduled a noon session amid considerable talk of getting it over with as quickly as possible.

* * *

First the question was: Will Mickey Mantle play or not? Then the Yankee home-run slugger talked his way into going four innings against Washington on Sunday with no apparent serious effects on his sprained knee. Now the question is: How long will Mantle be able to play?

Fans weren't the only ones asking. Someone wanted Chuck Dressen, Washington's manager and an AL coach, to pick the winner.

"I'll tell you," Dressen said, "when we know how long Mantle will last."

* * *

Musial is nowhere near a grandfather himself, but at 35 he's the oldest National League player in today's game. He also sets a record for All-Star longevity. This marks his 13th appearance in the summer classic. It's No. 12 for the American League's Ted Williams, Boston's homer hitter.

* * *

At the last minute officials decided to put 500 standing-room-only tickets on sale, starting just a half-hour before game time. The limit was two to a customer. An almost certain sellout would make the paying crowd number just under 29,000.

* * *

Will Harridge, the American League president, received a sterling silver bowl from the league's club owners in honor of his 25th anniversary as their boss.

* * *

Texas can be proud of the National League All Stars. It provided four of them: Ernie Banks, Frank Robinson, Ed Mathews and Roy McMillan. No other state could say the same.

GETS POST—Joe (Flash) Gordon, who recently quit as coach with the Detroit Tigers after an argument with Spike Briggs, was named yesterday as manager of the San Francisco Seals. He replaced Eddie Joost who was fired from the job.

FRIEND AND FOE—Pittsburgh Pirate ace righthander, Bob Friend (left), lines up against his foe, Billy Pierce who started for the American League today in the annual All-Star game being played at Griffith Stadium in Washington. Pierce is the leading pitcher in the Major Leagues. He has a 13-3 record with the White Sox. Friend is 11-7 for the Pirates.

Buc, Redleg Crowds Boom

NL Attendance Up

NEW YORK (AP)—The drawing power of Mickey Mantle and the New York Yankees, renewed fan interest in Pittsburgh and Cincinnati and a tumbling turnstile count in Kansas City are reflected in a midseason survey of Major League attendance figures.

The survey, by the Associated Press, also discloses that the National League, with a total of 4,038,907 customers, is more than 400,000 ahead of its 1955 figures in a like number of home dates. The American League, showing an attendance of 3,992,960, is more than 200,000 behind at the gate.

While the tight National League pennant race largely is responsible for the senior loop's gain, the Yankees are the prime reason the AL does not show a more marked decrease.

Casey Stengel's Bombers, comfortably in front in the flag chase, have attracted 676,638 fans at home for a gain of only 29,082. But with Mantle as the big attraction, the Yankees have played before 797,024 on the road for an average of better than 22,000 a game. The Yanks have attracted high single game crowds in every AL city except Detroit.

* * *

The Pirates, who were in the thick of the National League race until recently, already have surpassed their home attendance of last season. With 552,666 already in the till, Pittsburgh should double its attendance of '55 when it wound up with 469,397.

Cincinnati's surprising Redlegs have pulled 497,193 fans through the Crosley field turnstiles for a gain of almost 125,000. They had 373,412 at this time a year ago and finished with 693,662.

* * *

Kansas City's huge decrease may be an indication the novelty of Mapor League ball is wearing thin in the A's backyard. Kansas City was one of eight big league clubs to exceed the million mark in 1955, collecting 1,393,054 customers.

Long Shot at Northville

Chief Mite finished third. Rex Desota covered the mile in 2:07 4-5 and paid $46. The 3,704 customers bet $195,229.

State Asks Delay of Field Training

LANSING (AP)—The State Conservation Department today asked dog owners to delay field training beyond the July 15 legal opening.

The department said wet weather this spring delayed the hatch of pheasants and many small birds would be endangered by dogs if training begins on schedule.

State law prohibits any training of dogs in open fields from April 15 to July 15. This closed season is designed to protect young game birds and animals.

Field of Nine Is Likely for Hollywood Race

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—A field of eight or nine is likely for Saturday's $100,000 Hollywood Gold Cup at a mile and one quarter.

Swaps, after resting his split heel since the American Handicap July 4, had a long gallop yesterday. Trainer Meshach Tenney plans to blow out the big fellow Thursday.

Accepting the issue with Swaps will be Porterhouse, Llangollen Farm's winner of the $100,000 Californian; Bobby Brocato, standout horse of Santa Anita's winter meeting; Mister Gus, Honey's Alibi, Blue Volt, Alidon, Six Fifteen and possibly Colonel Mack.

Gets Unanimous Decision

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Jesse Bogart of Monterrey, Mexico, won a unanimous 10-round decision Monday night over Al Juergens, Texas welterweight, champion, in a non-title bout.

Field Day for Sluggers in City Softball League

Pontiac City Softball League had a "hitting ball" for itself yesterday, in the four games played on the North Side and Beaudette fields. Altogether the hitters banged out a total of 75 safe blows, a fair proportion being extra-basers.

Richard's Tavern, 17-9 victor over Drive-In Cleaners, compiled 14 blows in the 25-hit performance. Twenty hits were registered in the other regular league scrap at North Side, in which Oxbow Lake Pavilion smothered Franklin Products 15-8. Each club got 10 hits, but an equal number of miscues afield hurt the Franklin club. Oxbow's Toth, with five for six was the top performer.

On the Beaudette diamond Lunsford Market divided a twin bill, taking a close one from Drayton Drugs 5-4 and losing the other to Walled Lake Market 5-1.

Lunsford came from behind a 4-0 count in the final frame to win the nightcap. Drugs had scored three times in the first inning and then collected one more in the top of the 7th that looked good enough to win.

* * *

But the Lunsford crew staged an outburst, with five hits and five runs to snatch a late victory.

Troy Pounds Out Decision

NEW YORK (INS)—Middleweight Willie Troy of Washington pounded out a close decision last night over Jerry Leudee of New Haven, Conn., in a 10-round slugfest at St. Nick's arena.

* * *

Troy, weighing 161¾, got the nod from judge Leo Birnbaum and referee Davye Feld. Judge Frank Fuliam called it a draw. Leudee weighed 163¼ for the fight.

Course Record Set at Farmington Club

In play only about a week the Farmington Golf Club today had a 68 course record to shoot at. Jimmy Johnson, pro at the new layout, turned the 37-par course (twice around the 9 holes) in 36-32—68. On the way Jimmy fired six birdies including the last three holes on his 2nd round.

Joost Is Ousted

Gordon Gets Frisco Post

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Joe (Flash) Gordon, former Yankee star and Detroit Tiger coach, takes over as manager of the San Francisco Seals today following the sudden ouster of Eddie Joost as pilot of the seventh-place Pacific Coast League club.

* * *

Seals President Jerry Donovan said Joost was fired because "Eddie wasn't getting the best potential out of the club." The Seals are 14 games behind Seattle, the league leader.

* * *

Gordon was a diamond star when he played second base for the New York Yankees from 1938 to 1946, taking part in five World Series and eight All-Star games. He is 41.

* * *

Gordon recently quit his coaching job with the Detroit Tigers after a tiff with the club president, Walter "Spike" Briggs, who criticized Gordon's coaching abilities.

* * *

When the change was announced at a news conference, Joost simply shrugged his shoulders and asked: "What can I say? I'm out. That's it."

* * *

Joost took over management of the Seals last spring after their purchase by the Boston Red Sox, for whom he played shortstop.

Amateurs Qualify 3 Days

NEW YORK (AP)—Sectional qualifying rounds for the 56th U.S. Amateur Golf Championship will be scattered over three days at 31 locations, the U.S. Golf Assn. revealed today.

The qualifying rounds at San Francisco will be held August 21, those at Chicago, Portland, Ore., and Salt Lake City August 27 and the others August 28.

The 36-hole sectional tests will reduce the field to 200 players for the championship at the Knollwood Club, Lake Forest, Ill., Sept. 10-15.

Exemption from sectional qualifying is granted to all former American and British Amateur champions who enter, along with the 1955 Canadian Amateur champion.

San Francisco's Harvie Ward, who won at Richmond, Va., last year by handing William Hyndmann III of Philadelphia 9-and-8 beating in the final, is expected to defend the title.

CANNON BALL BAIT—Jimmy Curry, member of the Canadian Dare Devils, will be cannon ball bait tonight at the Pontiac Speedway when the stuntmen and local hardtop drivers stage their double-featured program. Curry is shot out of the giant 10-ton cannon to a ramp 85 feet away. Twenty-eight stunt events along with the 30-lap Michigan Golf Cup Derby are on the schedule for tonight.

Racing and Dare Devil Stunts

Double Feature at Pontiac Speedway

A double feature in auto racing is slated tonight at the Pontiac Speedway with the Michigan Gold Cup Stock Car Derby and the Canadian Dare Devils sharing the spotlight.

Cherokee champion race driver, Joie Chitwood who is the owner of the Canadian stunt troupe, will present a two-hour 28-event program at the M-59 track starting at 8:00 p.m.

Featured in the troupe is the "cannon shot," which is the actual shooting of a new convertible from the mouth of the world's largest cannon onto a landing ramp 85 feet away. Jimmy Curry, of Montreal, is the driver of the convertible in the cannon shooting stunt.

* * *

Among the stunts is a spectacular automobile roll over in which a sedan is rolled side over side until it is pulverized into a mass of junk.

The "rollover" stunt-man is Jean DuBois, a 23-year-old daredevil from St. Johns, Quebec.

* * *

Pyramid motorcycle riding complete with acrobatics by the "Montreal Motorbatics" headed by Herri LaFave, former member of the Canadian Police motorcycle team, is also one of the highlights of the program.

Local drivers, including the 16 high-point racers, will take part in the program for the first running of the Michigan Gold Cup Derby.

The drivers will go in a 30-lap race for $300 in prize money and the coveted cup.

Six of the top drivers who will compete include Ben Howell, Chuck Partello, Rusty Kelly, Marv Main, Johnny Wallace and Chuck Powers.

Tonight's program is the mid-season point of hardtop racing at the Pontiac Speedway. In event of rain the program will be held Wednesday night.

Fights July 27th

Benefit Boxers Workout

Training has begun at the Auburn Heights and Pontiac Boys' Clubs for the benefit boxing show which will be held at Wisner stadium Friday night, July 27th.

The show, which is being staged for the purpose of raising funds to obtain equipment for the newly formed Auburn Heights Club, will feature 14 bouts, along with a wresting exhibition and clown tag boxing between fights.

Stephen Navarre and Jim Savage, members of the Oakland County Sheriff's department, have been assisting in the promotion of the Auburn Heights Boys' Club, which presently makes its headquarters in the American Legion Hall.

* * *

"We have about 150 members, which is much more than the available equipment we have to accommodate them," said Navarre.

* * *

Tickets have been placed on sale at numerous business establishments around Pontiac.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

They called Bill Veeck a showboater. Because of his promotional stunts at Cleveland and St. Louis, he became known as the Barnum of Major League baseball.

Actually, it made no difference to Veeck what he was called. He has only to point to the figures.

BILL VEECK

Now Veeck is making a serious bid to return to the big leagues. He is reported to have made the top offer for the Tiger franchise.

For a ball club in second division there hasn't been exactly a dire need for fans. Let the Tigers win a few and the fans start streaming.

So, actually what the "big top" at Michigan and Trumbull needs is a Tiger-tamer and not a ticket seller.

★ ★ ★

With the situation as it presently stands, Veeck's association with the ownership of the club wouldn't really hurt the Detroit show.

He is one guy who should know the financial value of a Major League team, and if the syndicate he heads actually made a bid of over five million dollars, then it should seem apparent that this is one time he isn't clowning.

★ ★ ★

Before the bidding started, Spike Briggs, president of the Tigers thought the franchise would bring at least $4,500,000. Veeck's offer is said to be around $5,250,000.

One thing Briggs was sure to mention was that "he was hopeful of staying on" with the new owners in some capacity, preferably in the same position as president.

Another member of the three-man committee, which has been screening the bids of the eight syndicates, is Harry M. Sisson, who is also expressing his desire to stay with the club as secretary and business manager.

★ ★ ★

So as it appears, part of the terms in the sale seem to lie in the "rider" clause.

Five of the eight syndicates supposedly have asked Briggs and Sisson to stay with the club, but has the highest bidder made the offer to them?

It would seem unlikely for Veeck to make such an offer. This was made quite clear at Cleveland when some of the stockholders in the club tried to put a damper on Veeck's authority.

★ ★ ★

We doubt very much if Veeck would want any of the old regime around should he get control of the Tiger franchise.

With Veeck in the driver's seat, Briggs and Sisson may see the handwriting on the wall because Spike was using a subtle tone when he hinted that the franchise would not especially have to go to the highest bidder.

One way for Briggs to retain the presidency of the club would be to sell the franchise to the Knorr Broadcasting Corporation of Dearborn, which is said to be the fourth highest bidder at $5,000,000.

The reason is very simple. It is somewhat common knowledge that Briggs is listed by the Federal Communications Commission as one of the stockholders of the Knorr corporation, holding about 141 of the 1,875 shares of stock.

Last year he became a member of the Knorr board of directors.

Michigan Golfers Trail in Publinx

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The South and the West set the pace today as the 31st annual Amateur Public Links Championships went into the second and crucial round of qualifying play.

With Californian Scotty McBeath of Palo Alto holding a one-stroke lead among the individuals and the Memphis, Tenn., team ahead of the field, the play today determines the team championship and which 64 golfers will enter tomorrow's match play.

McBeath, 34, a sporting goods salesman who does most of his golfing on the weekends, fired a three - under - par 69 over the Harding Park Course yesterday. The 15th to complete his round among the 150 public course players entered, he saw his top spot hold up.

Tied in second place with 70 were Lt. Dick Stearns of Portland, Ore., the Air Force champion, and Fred Corvi, of San Francisco, an airport bus driver.

Defending champion Sam Kocsis of Detroit soared to a 77 but didn't appear agitated. Kocsis had thought Harding was not too tough.

"I'll do better and in the match play," he said. Then he spent the afternoon on the practice tee.

Other Michigan linksters ran into plenty of trouble. Jim Seltzer, Flint Northern golf coach who won the 1955 Michigan Publinx title, found the national meet rough as he carded a 39-41—80.

The 1956 Michigan champ Mike Andonian of Pontiac had a 38-41—79 and Roy Iceberg, also of Pontiac, fired a front nine 36 and faltered with a back nine 45 for an 81.

Fred King, 19-year-old Dearborn High School ace shot a 39-41—80, with two other Michigan players Dick Preston and Bill Schwope getting 84 and 88 respectively.

Ed Briegel of Ann Arbor shot a 78. These scores will have to be considerably improved in the second round of qualifying in order to move into the championship flight.

The fourth par-breaker over the 36-36—72 Harding layout of 6,683 yards was Vern Callison, a tavern owner from Sacramento, Calif.

Then the Southern contingent put in its appearance. Eddie Langert and Shedric McKain, both of Memphis, had 72, along with Daniel Sikes Jr., of Jacksonville, Fla.

The Memphis team, composed of Langert, Gene Frase and Junie Buxbaum had an aggregate of 218 to lead the team play by a fat six strokes with Portland, Ore., second. Frase and Buxbaum both fired first round 73s.

Most figured a 36-hole score of 154 or better after today's 18 would make the match play rounds.

Veteran Andy Swedko of Sharpsburg, Pa., who won the Publinx in 1939 and has played in 18 of them, was along with Kocsis with a 77.

Two rounds of match play will be completed at 18 holes both Wednesday and Thursday with 36-hole semifinals on Friday and finals at the same distance Saturday.

Two-Way Tie in Pro-Am

By H. GUY MOATS

While the defending champions, Bob Inman and Ben Smith stayed away from Tam O'Shanter, yesterday, most of the other 49 teams in the Michigan Pro-Amateur Golf Championship tested the layout in a "Metro" pro-am event.

Wally Burkemo and Bob Rosen played into a tie for top spot with Bob Keller of Red Run and amateur Ferd Henkel at 62, a nine - under - par best-ball card. Wally and Rosen had finished early, and it looked like they would take down the top cash all alone. Late in the afternoon Keller and Henkel came home with another 62 to take an equal share of the purse, $245.

Fifty-two pros and 146 amateurs took part in the event, preliminary to today's 36 - hole championship marathon for a field of 50 of state's leading pros and an equal number of top amateur shotmakers. This also is a best-ball (4-ball event) at medal play.

Inman of DGC and Smith of Detroit, the defending champions, won the title at Tam a year ago, in a rainstorm with an 18-hole card of 67.

Play got underway at 8 a.m. today, with players leaving both the 1st and 10th tees simultaneously, to speed the action.

Boys' Club 9 Plays Rochester in Finale

Pontiac Boys' Club and Rochester tangle at Washington Junior High's diamond Wednesday at 5:30 p.m. The game is the windup for the two teams for the 1st half of the Junior American Legion Baseball loop. Winner goes to the 18th District zone playoffs July 18-20.

Teams are currently tied at the league top.

Rochester defeated Pontiac 4-3 in their only prevous meeting this season. Whitey Larson or Gerry Orr are mound choices for Pontiac.

Forfeit 'A' Game

When L. C. Anderson Jets Class A City Baseball League club couldn't collect enough players to make up a full team for last night's scheduled game, they were charged with a forfeit.

Jets had only eight players when game time came around at Wisner field. Umpires Fife and Swindell awarded the game to Elks No. 723 nine, which was ready to play.

Lane Puzzles Favored Dupas

Muskegon Fighter Gets Split Verdict in Bout in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Michigan's Kenny Lane said today he was ready to pit his puzzling southpaw style against "the best in the division" after an upset victory over second - ranked lightweight contender Ralph Dupas of New Orleans.

* * *

The muscular Lane probably earned a spot among the division's top 10 with his 10-round showing against the stylish Dupas last night. He ran up a top-heavy margin in the early rounds and nullified Dupas' speed in the late rounds with superior punching power.

* * *

Dupas opened the first round faster than usual but slackened during the middle rounds while Lane worked on his midsection with ripping rights and an occasional left-hand shot to the head.

* * *

Dupas went all out in the 10th and opened a cut over Lane's right eye, but the attack was too late.

The verdict was split. Judge Phil Gaffney and Referee Pete Giaruso voted for Lane and Judge Eddie (Kid) Wolfe for Dupas. The AP card had Lane a 6-4 winner.

Seixas Back in Action in Western Net Meet

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Top-seeded Vic Seixas of Philadelphia swung into action today in the Western Tennis championships which saw only one ranked U.S. player eliminated in the opening day's play.

Allen Morris of Atlanta, seeded No. 5, yesterday fell before Joaquin Reyes of Mexico City, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Morris and Seixas will team in the men's doubles, which start this afternoon.

The original 1876 baseball was the same size as the major league ball used today, with a circumference of 9 to 9¼ inches.

'Biggest' Game in City Loop Slated Today

City Softball League offers what director Jim Jones says is "the biggest game of the year" tonight, at Beaudette Park.

The contest, sure to attract a big audience, Jones says, pits Shaw's Jewlery and the General Motors clubs. The opponents are tied at the American circuit's top with 9-2 records.

"Importance of this game," Jones explains, "lies in the advantage the winner will have going into the last third of the season." The clubs are hot rivals and usually turn in excellent performances.

Night's 2nd contest sends Elks No. 810 against Sam Benson's club at 8:30 p.m. Feature is due to begin at 7 o'clock.

Shutouts Highlight Junior Loop Action

Monday's round of play in the area junior baseball loops saw four shutouts—one by a whopping 20-0 count — plus several other games with high scores.

Other blanks were administered by Pontiac Boys Club (E) team over Clarkston Merchants 3-0, by Class E Gingellville over Mets (8-0) and by Boys Club No. 1 over W. Side Kiwanis (6-0). In the Class E tilt between Indians and Wing Lake, former's Taylor (in 2nd) and Ryan (in 6th) contributed home runs towards the 18-4 victory.

Professor Gives a Few Tips

Small Points in Fishing Are Neglected

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Are those wily fish eluding you? Do you wonder where the fishing went?

Maybe, says University of Mjchigan professor Karl F. Lagler, you're forgetting some of the "small" points in fishing that make or break a successful season.

"Too many people," says prof. Lagler, "concentrate on the big things of fishing, like wangling a time to go, finding a boat to go in, a place to go, and outtalking the wife, who'd rather go on a picnic."

In their efforts to get to where the fish are, he says, anglers forget such things as accuracy, stealth, wise choice of lures and bait, and other factors.

Learn, says prof. Lagler, to cast accurately. Overshooting or undershooting yor target louses up the good holes and tears down your self confidence. Practice casting at a target in the backyard until you've mastered the fundamentals. He careful not to hit the wife's washing.

Next important is stealth. Wear dark clothes, says the university's dept. of fisheries head. Stay low in the boat. "The only noise a fish should hear is that of your lure falling on the water."

The choice of lures, says the professor, is very important. For instance: "if you're fishing in weedy waters don't use a lure that is constantly hanging up. Try a good weedless lure with a pork chunk."

Other tips: Don't use a shallow running lure in deep water. In calm water try a topwater splasher. Vary its action. Try a noisy retrieve, then a fast one, then a quiet slow one.

Try different colors too. Scientists don't know why, but fish are sometimes attracted to different colors. And when you get that strike, don't be afraid to slam home that hook.

If you still don't catch any fish, try golf or tennis.

Pappy Waldorf Gets California Warning

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—University of California authorities, angered by a $25,000 fine for violation o fPacific Coast Conference rules on aid to athletes, publicly warned football coach Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf that a further violation "will not be tolerated"

However, Waldorf will remain as head football coach. His contract runs one more year, his tenth here.

The Conference fined the Bears Sunday "for the part played by the head coach in illegal financial aid to athletes for the last three years."

Doctoring Your Golf Game

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: No grip comfort.

DIAGNOSIS: Right thumb contact.

TEATMENT: You may have heard it said that golf is a right-handed game played with the left hand. I don't altogether agree with that theory—through experience.

I've learned that golf is a two-handed game and as such a proper grip, firm but not tight with both hands, is necessary: I used to swing with a loose right hand on the backswing, then tightened it on the down-swing.

Now I make both hands get into the act immediately. As sketch shows I use the standard over-lap, in which the little finger of the right hand overlaps the index finger of the left. The shaft runs through the lower part of the palm to give me a good hold while the middle, third, and little fingers—the three fingers that are constantly on the club throughout the backswing and through the ball.

With the right hand (notice sketch) I grip more with the fingers, but most importantly I feel pressure on the index finger, looping it around the shaft much like the action of pulling a trigger. I then fit the thumb on the end or tip of the index finger to form a sort of "lock." This I maintain through the swing, firmly, and in that way I assure grooved swinging that is constant and two-handed. Make a study of your grip. Take enough time to see that it's right.

Mussello The Magnificent

Jimmy, who is anxious to grow big and strong, is much interested in Mussello the Magnificent, who has a show at the carnival.

Mussello is tall and has powerful muscles, and he can lift big iron weights. He wears a leopard skin, scarlet arm bands with jeweled buckles around his upper arms, and similar ones around his legs and he has scarlet leather shoes.

Jimmy has tied his sweater over his shoulder like Mussello's leopard skin, and is pretending he can lift weights too.

For your own carnival, color this picture and then paste it down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully. Attach Mussello's arms with brass fasteners or bent pins through the indicated holes, so he can raise and lower his arms.

Cut slits in the hands as shown. Put short loops of string onto the weights and then hang them from his hands. Fold forward down the center line, so Jimmy can face his hero.

Bogart's Growls Prove That He's Getting Better

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—When I told Judy Garland I was going to pay a call to her neighbor Humphrey Bogart, she said:

"I hear he's growling at people again. That's awfully good news. I went to visit him after he got home from the hospital, and he was very sweet and nice. I said to myself, 'oh, dear, he really is sick!' "

* * *

His other pals will be happy to know that Bogart is grumbling and surly once more. When I found him in his den, he muttered, "Well, how is the kept press?"

But it has been a long haul. On March 1, he underwent major chest surgery. For Bogart, who says he had never been sick before, it was his toughest fight.

* * *

He still hasn't recovered. He is slim as a reed at 120 pounds, the months of treatment having destroyed his appetite. But 10 days aboard his yacht had brought his color back.

And he's growling again.

"Television!" he snorted. "I don't go out at night, so there isn't much to do but watch television. Most of the stuff is pretty lousy. Stupid stories acted by guys who are trying to be Marlon Brando. Oh, once in a while you see something good, but not very often."

* * *

This got him onto a tirade about the new school of so-called realistic acting.

"I'm fed up with this bunch of back - scratching, nose - picking young actors," he declared. "They think that's acting, just to make themselves look repulsive."

* * *

About the James Dean craze: "You'd think he was the only actor who ever lived. The fact is that there are a lot of good young actors. There's Anthony Perkins, son of my best friend, Osgood Perkins. Paul Newman's a good man, and Monty Clift is no slouch, when he's working. Not to mention Marlon Brando."

He still has little strength or appetite, but he said he expected to get back to work by September.

"I've got 30 pounds to gain, but I think I can do it by then," he said. "I plan to make 'The Good Shepherd' at Columbia if I can postpone 'Melville Goodwin, USA' for Warner."

Stocks Unruffled by Ike's Intent

NEW YORK (AP)—The news that President Eisenhower had reaffirmed his intention of running again left the Stock Market unruffled this afternoon.

The market was up a bit at the start, turned mixed right before the announcement, rose slightly on the news and then backed away again.

There was a brief pickup in trading volume on the rise then turnover slackened as prices settled down again.

Leading issues maintained gains of fractions to around a point, the same range as before. There was a liberal scattering of small losers, too. A few exceptions gained around 2 points or better.

The Presidential news has been anticipated for some time, brokers said, and in the past four days, especially, the rising markets have been based to some extent on expectation that Eisenhower would re-state his intention to seek a second term.

Most steels were ahead fractionally as the second week of the strike progressed without any hint of an immediate settlement. Even the rails were up a bit on average after yesterday's retreat while the market was rising. Aircraft stocks slipped around a point.

Motors were generally uneven but Chrysler picked up around a point in fair activity.

Santa Fe was up close to a point and Union Pacific gained fractionally. Other rails showed fractional gains and losses.

Bus Line to Pay 320 Pct. Profit

Deal Hinges on OK From U.S. for Wolfson to Sell Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Financier Louis E. Wolfson stands to make an estimated 320 per cent profit if Congress approves sale of Washington's Capital Transit Co. for 13½ million dollars.

New York financier R. Roy Chalk and Morris Fox, a Washington trucker, agreed to pay that price for the transit firm which Wolfson interests have controlled for seven years.

The deal is subject to approval by Congress, which would have to grant a new franchise to the Chalk-Fox group, and by holders of two-thirds of the CTC stock. Stockholders will meet Aug. 3.

Wolfson and his associates acquired control of Capital Transit for $2,200,000 in 1949. Since then, they are estimated to have received about $5,300,000 through dividends, sale of nonoperating property and disposal of shares.

The Wolfson interests at last report held some 31 per cent of CTC's stock, which would make their share of the sale price about four million dollars. Coupled with returns already realized, this would bring their gross return — before taxes—to some $9,300,000.

Wolfson paid $20 a share for CTC stock but it has since been split four ways. His per share cost thus equals $5, compared with a sale price of $14.

Congress controls the franchise for transit service in the capital and last year it voted to terminate CTC's franchise as of AUG. 14. This action came during a 52-day strike of operators and mechanics last summer.

Maryland Endorses Pan-American Line

WASHINGTON (INS) — Maryland's two senators appealed to the Civil Aeronautics Board today to certify Pan American World Airways as a third carrier on the New York to Miami air route.

* * *

A major part of their argument was based on the fact that PAA proposes to use Friendship International Airport as its terminal point for Washington and Baltimore passengers.

They also cited safety by use of less congested facilities and savings in federal subsidies as arguments for PAA's case.

Three other airlines—Northeast, Delta and Braniff—are seeking the right to compete with National and Eastern Air Lines on the heavily-traveled East Coast route.

FAVORS DELTA

Final arguments opened today before the five-man board and are expected to run through Friday. A CAB spokesman said the decision should not be expected for two or three months.

In his recommendations after public hearings, CAB examiner Thomas Wrenn favored Delta as a third carrier to increase service at points along the way from Boston to Miami.

Sen. John M. Butler (R-Md) pointed out to the board that the East Coast not only is the heaviest traveled route in the world but that 20 per cent of the traffic is international and must change carriers to go overseas.

Butler said PAA is the only one of the applicants which could provide through service to Europe and Latin America.

GM Opposes O'Mahoney Bill

Proposal Now Obsolete in Face of Revised Code of Dealer Contracts

General Motors today officially opposed the O'Mahoney Bill now before Congress.

* * *

"The legislation is unnecessary and undesirable," Vice President William F. Hufstader, head of the GM distribution staff, told a special subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee.

Hufstader said a recent survey of GM dealers in all divisions showed dealers have "no concern about our selling agreement."

"They have on their minds three important problems," Hufstader said. "Bootlegging, territory security and improper advertising are the major concerns now facing our dealers.

Hufstader added the revised GM selling agreement offers dealers one and five year agreements or agreements of indefinite term cancellable by the dealer without cause on 30 day notice or by GM on 90 day notice.

Countering claims that the revised agreement might be abandoned in the absence of legislation, Hufstader reviewed GM's long record of continual improvement in dealer relationships.

* * *

"At no time has General Motors voluntarily eliminated or minimized, either by contract or policy, any right or privilege enjoyed by the dealer and regarded by the dealer group as beneficial or important to it," Hufstader concluded.

NBC Introduces Special Gadgets

Tiny Two-Way Radio, Portable TV Will Help Convention Reporters

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—While the 1956 national political conventions may not be the greatest shows on earth, they're going to be the most thoroughly covered shows on earth by television and radio.

* * *

All the networks are loaded with all sorts of engineering plans. Now comes NBC with a small gadget that could make a big stir. Convention candidates be warned. Purify your thoughts and watch your language or the Transceiver will get you.

The Transceiver is a pocket-sized two-way radio, much smaller than the "walkie-talkie" and "beer mug" models used in previous convention coverage. The tiny two-way unit, about the size of a woman's formal handbag, will be used by NBC reporters on the convention floor.

If the Transceiver doesn't catch you, then the new one-man portable television cameras may. These are only a bit larger than your youngster's toy death ray gun. Cameramen can poke them into crannies of the convention halls and environs that are inaccessible to the bulkier standard studio equipment.

Politicians speaking off the cuff should beware of microphones hidden under the cuff. For NBC reporters will be equipped with hips pocket wire recorders with wrist-watch and tie-clasp microphones.

* * *

No sir, the only way to assure the secrecy of anything will be not even to open your mouth.

In previous conventions, reporters assigned to outlying beats often had trouble in learning what was happening inside the convention hall. But not this year. NBC reporters will be provided with a new model "personal" television receiver weighing just 22 pounds and having eight - inch screens which will keep them in touch with the convention floor.

* * *

A team of more than 30 NBC news commentators and reporters will cover the conventions from caucus to ruckus. The total staff for the network will number about 400. NBC is considering insuring this expensive staff and equipment for five million dollars with Lloyd's, by the way.

CAMPAIGN GEAR—Chet Huntley, anchor man for NBC's television coverage of the August political conventions, shows special equipment for the job. In his left hand is the Transceiver, a two-way radio which will be used by reporters on the convention floor. In his right hand is a portable TV camera, powered by a pack on his back.

Bulganin, Khrushchev Become Party Boys

By EARL WILSON

MOSCOW—Nobody can call Mr. Bulganin and Mr. Khruschev party poopers.

The Russian leaders demonstrated their suavity and cleverness at the big July 4 lawn party at the American embassy. They scintillated in their ad libbing like Abbot and Costello or Olsen and Johnson. They extended themselfs to be affable to every Tom, Dick and Harry.

BULGANIN & KHRUSHCHEV

I was standing alongside them and urged an American friend of mine, who speaks Russian, to ask Mr. Khruschev if he was elbow-bending with vodka.

"No, veesky," he boomed happily.

"And do you prefer that to vodka?"

"With the host, yes — at home, no," he answered with a grin, lifting his glass high.

A New York professor of neurology approached timorously, hoping just to peer at them, and found himself in deep conversation.

★ ★ ★

Was it true that in Russia anybody can call a psychiatrist to treat him at any hour of the day or night?

Bulganin grinned. "I don't know—they haven't had me examined that way yet," he chuckled.

Mr. Molotov seemed to be having an excellent time wtih the Americans, and recalled how I once asked him at a San Francisco press conference whether you pronounce "vodka" with a "v" or a "w".

"It was the most interesting question anybody asked me," he said, with which I had to agree.

We all talked to the brother act to our hearts' content, and also shot pictures of them for half a hour. They posed willingly, and the amateur photogs—including Kate Roosevelt, Jimmy Daughter, and Mike McCrary, Tex's son—had a field day.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Bulganin was the straight man and stage manager, carefully making sure everybody had been greeted, while Mr. Khrushchev stayed close to the liquid refreshments.

The tourists were dumfounded with the hospitality. My son Slugger, 13, suddenly found himself shaking hands with a man who asked him his name.

"Veelson," my son said.
"Mine is Bulganin," the man said.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Elvis Presley, who's 21, expects to be drafted this year. (Some music lovers are afraid he won't be) . . . The Russians have invited our Army Chief of Staff to view their big October military maneuvers . . .

Suzanne Bernard, one of the sparkplugs of "New Faces," collapsed on stage during her number . . . Showgirl Sigyn Lund, heiress to the Swedish-American Line dough, zips around town on a motorcycle with Steven McQueen (of "Hatful of Rain") . . .

Nancy Kelly returns to town next week after her long "Bad Seed" tour . . . Errol Flynn's ex-wife, Lili Damita, is steadying with wealthy South American Guillermo Sueros . . . Constance Bennett may whip her cafe act into a one-woman B'way show . . . Author Paddy Chayefsky is moving his family to H'wood during the filming of his newest, "Bachelor Party."

EARL'S PEARLS . . . Safety note: It takes a train an average of 14 second to pass a crossing — whether your car is on the crossing or not.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Live within your income, and you'll live without worry—and a lot of other things."—Morty Mantell.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Murray Posner hears that in Texas an underprivileged family is one with only two cars in its three-car garage.

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

THE STORY: A frightened woman has appeared at Mike Shayne's hotel. She tells the private detective she found her murdered brother in a room at the Hibiscus Hotel. When she went to call for help, the body disappeared and she was pursued by a scar-faced man. Mike gives the woman a note of introduction to his sweetheart and secretary, Lucy Hamilton.

X

At that moment there was the sound of loud footsteps in the hall outside. They stopped at his door and there was an authoritative knock.

* * *

She shuddered and cringed away from the door, staring at it as though she expected it to come crashing inward momentarily.

"It must be he! I knew he'd follow me here. Don't let him in. Please don't let him in."

Shayne started toward the door. She grabbed him and tried to hold him back as there was another knock and a harsh voice demanding, "Open up, Shayne."

"Please," she cried piteously, clinging to him, "I'll die if you let him in."

Shayne looked down at her curiously. Her face had gone all to pieces with terror. She clung to him limply as a rag doll.

AND STAY THERE!

Shayne put his hands on her shoulders and turned her about. "Go in the kitchen. There's a latch on the inside. Lock it and stay there until I call for you to come out." He gave her a gentle shove, stood there and watched her scurry back to the kitchen and close the door.

The knocking and demands for entrance continued at the front door and he turned and stalked to it grimly, jerked it open to confront a tall young man with a scarred face who stood on the threshold.

The scar stood out pale and white against the suffused flesh of the man's cheek.

10:20 P.M.

The face, almost level with Shayne's, was red and contorted with anger or some other emotion, but it was not fearsome or hideous as the girl's description had led Shayne to expect. Indeed Shayne perceived it would have been a pleasant, almost handsome face of a well set-up man in his early 30's.

The scar ran diagonally from the left corner of his mouth upward to the point of a rather high cheek-bone, and Shayne guessed that normally it would not draw too much attention.

Shayne stood flat-footed and immobile in the doorway, glowering at his visitor who moved to push forward, demanding "Where is she? What's happened to Nellie?"

Shayne put a big hand against the younger man's chest and pushed him backward. He growled. "You haven't been invited in. What do you mean by this ruckus?"

TRY YOUR LUCK

"You're Shayne aren't you?" The young man glared back at him defiantly and his hands balled into fists. "I'm coming in whether I'm invited or not, and no two-bit private dick is going to keep me out."

Shayne studied him speculatively, his gray eyes bleak and trenches deepening in his cheeks. He said, "Whenever you're ready to try your luck, bud."

For a long moment their eyes locked and held. The younger man's blood - shot and humid, Shayne's coldly challenging, then with a supreme effort of will, his visitor forced his body to relax. He unballed his fists and said hoarsely, "Im sorry I tried to barge in. I'm Pert Paulson and I'm so worried about Nellie I'm just about off my rocker."

WHERE IS SHE?

"So, that makes two of you," Shayne thought to himself. Aloud, he said, "That's better. Keep it that way and maybe we'll get along." He swung abruptly on his heel to let Paulson enter. He made to attempt to conceal the bottle of sherry and the glass the girl had used.

"So her name is Nellie?" said Shayne pleasantly. "Funny, but I just now realized she didn't tell me."

"Where is she? What's happened to her, Shayne? What made her act that way when she saw me?"

"She told me several things," Shayne dropped into a chair with his glass. "I assure you she's perfectly okay and I will produce her whenever you convince me it's safe to do so."

"Safe?" snorted Paulson angrily. "Why is she afraid of me?"

"Suppose you sit down and tell me."

DON'T YOU SEE.

With a lingering look at the three closed doors leading off the sitting room, Paulson sat stiffly on the edge of the chair in front of the redhead.

"I don't know. Unless she's really slipped a cog this time." Paulson's eyes burned into Shayne's. "Don't you see—"

"I don't see very much right now," Shayne interrupted him. "So far as I could tell she made at least as much sense as you do. Try to go me a coherent story."

"Did she tell you about screaming and running from me in the hotel the moment she saw my face?"

"And about you chasing her down the back stairs and through the alley, and how she escaped from you by hailing a cab. How'd you manage to reach her here?"

* * *

"I got the license number of the cab and found the driver and asked him. She knows I'd never do anything to harm her." Bert Paulson looked younger than his 30 years at that moment. Young and hurt and completely bewildered.

All in Perspective

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Get married early, and mind your own business, was the advice given by Nathaniel S. Clunet, on his 90th birthday. Clunet got married when he was 35.

Australia to Have First Commercial Television

CANBERRA (INS) — Australia's first regular commercial television station will go on the air from Sydney on Sept. 16.

A second TV station will go on the air from Melbourne in November, before the start of the Olympic games there.

The Sidney station will be operated by Television Corporation Limited and will use TCN as its call letters. It'll be on 14-and-one-half hours weekly for the first six weeks and then will go on a 24 hour per week schedule.

Every state has a law requiring the registration of births.

Run Buses Despite Boycott, Whites Ask

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The Tallahassee Junior Chamber of Commerce has started a move to get city buses rolling again.

The Jaycees called upon the Cities Transit Co. yesterday to resume bus operations on a segregated basis, and asked other civic clubs to make similar requests.

The transit firm suspended operations July 1 because of economic losses resulting from a boycott by Negro riders.

The Jaycees said bus transportation should not be denied white citizens in a city the size of Tallahassee because Negroes refuse to ride. Tallahassee has a population of about 40,000.

In another resolution, the Jaycees asked the City Commission to check whether Negroes operating car pool cars without city permits were violating any city laws.

West to Greet Woman Soviet

British Ready Welcome for Russia's No. One Female Politician

MOSCOW (AP) — The West this week gets its first close look at Wkaterina Furtseva, the world's No. 1 woman Communist.

* * *

Mrs. Furtseva will head a 16-member delegation on a visit to Britain at the invitation of the British Parliament. The group, which includes members of the Supreme Soviet (Parliament), leaves Moscow by plane tomorrow.

Reaching heights no other woman has attained in the Soviet government structure, Mrs. Furtseva is first secretary of the Moscow city Communist party group, a Supreme Soviet deputy and a candidate member of the Communist party's powerful Presidium.

* * *

Mrs. Furtseva, who looks much younger than her 46 years, took over the post as secretary of the Moscow city party organization March 31, 1954. It is the largest party group in the Soviet Union and the secretary's post is one of the most important jobs in the land. Among those who held it in the past is Soviet party head Nikita S. Khrushchev.

* * *

A stury, well-proportioned woman, Mrs. Furtseva has light blond hair waiving softly away from her face and gathered in a bun at the nape of the neck. She uses no makeup and has sparkling blue eyes.

She also has a lusty sense of humor which she brings into play at official receptions where she always engages Western correspondents in conversation.

* * *

Over the past year marked improvement—by Western standards—has been noticed in her style of dress. Her wardrobe for public appearances now includes a considerable number of well-tailored suits, her usual costume.

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Members of the Loyal Orange Lodge, some 1,200 strong, will hold their annual celebration here Thursday. The day-long festivities recall the victory of William of Orange in the Battle of the Boyne in northern Ireland in 1690.

The celebration features a parade complete with fife and drum corps, banners and a marshal on a white charger. The marchers will come from Ontario, the Soo area, Detroit, Port Huron and Flint.
