Rhee Predicts Thailand Next Victim of Reds

South Korean President Arrives on West Coast, Due in Capital Today

WASHINGTON (U P)—South Korean President Syngman Rhee is flying here today to meet with President Eisenhower on the troubled Asian situation and to express his fears that Thailand would be the next victim of Communist aggression.

Rhee told reporters at McChord Air Force Base, Wash., where his plane landed after a flight from Korea, that "It's no secret Soviet Russia is out for world conquest" and "Thailand will be the next victim."

Asked if Thailand would be a "military victim" he replied, "Your guess is as good as mine."

The South Korean president said he was "not writing off all Asia to the Communists," but added that most of the continent already was "gone."

He labeled the Indochina truce an "unfortunate thing."

"We've let Indochina go, and what else are we going to let go?"

Rhee declined to comment on this trip to see Eisenhower. "I would rather keep silent on that until I talk to President Eisenhower," he said in answer to questions on military assistance to his forces and possible renewal of the war against North Korea.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is heading a large delegation of U. S. officials and foreign diplomats who are greeting Mr. and Mrs. Rhee and their party on their arrival at national airport this afternoon.

Rhee, one of America's staunchest Allies but biggest problems in the Far East, will be the overnight guest of President Eisenhower. He will move into Blair House Tuesday for the rest of his five-day state visit here. He is scheduled to address a joint session of Congress Wednesday.

American officials preparing for the talks were not sure exactly what the peppy Korean leader would press for. But he is expected to warn that the United States (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Youth, 15, Is Held After Abduction

A 15-year-old Pontiac boy who was arrested Sunday on an anonymous tip has admitted the armed abduction of a young Pontiac couple Friday night, Pontiac Police said today.

The youth, in custody of Oakland County juvenile officials pending further investigation, admitted forcing Elliott Plante, 24, and Miss Janice Schwartz, 23, to drive him around Pontiac at gunpoint.

Detective F. J. Wirth said the youth refused to answer questions until he was identified by his victims Sunday, and refused to give a reason for his actions.

The boy, who said he threw his gun in the Clinton river after the couple left him near Paddock street, has no previous police record, Wirth stated. Further questioning is scheduled for today.

Red-Led Vietminh Strikes South of Cease-Fire Line

SAIGON, Indochina (AP)—Vietminh forces stabbed southward in Viet Nam over the weekend, striking far below the dividing line set in the imminent cease-fire.

The new attack, 180 miles northeast of Saigon, came as Peiping radio trumpeted a pledge by Red Vietminh chief Ho Chi Minh to "liberate" the lower half of the partitioned Indochina state.

In North Viet Nam, which formally passes into Vietminh hands tomorrow under the Geneva agreement, the French got ready to evacuate up to one million civilians and fighting men. The giant operation is set to begin Wednesday.

A French high command spokesman said the rebel attack in the South began Saturday. He said the Vietminh struck at Nha Trang, on the China Sea coast.

Rebel commandos sabotaged several bridges in Nha Trang after Vietminh artillery had bombarded the coastal town's defenses.

The rebels also attacked French and Vietnamese positions at Qui Nhon, 100 miles north of Nha Trang, and struck at Tuy Hoa, midway between the two towns.

Other Vietminh forces brought pressure on Cheo Reo, a post 60 miles southwest of Qui Nhon on central Viet Nam's plateau.

Gen. Paul Ely, French commander in chief in Indochina, warned the rebels to stop or face mass air retaliation.

The step of fighting in the South, just as the cease-fire is about to go into effect, appeared based on a Vietminh desire to show its strength to communities which will not be under their control.

Knowland Calls for Vote Today on Gag Motion

GOP Leader Concedes That Move Will Fail to Stop Senate Filibuster

WASHINGTON (U P)—The Senate agreed today to a two-hour debate limit on one amendment of the Atomic Energy bill. It was the first such agreement in the long filibuster.

WASHINGTON (U P)—Republican Senate Leader William F. Knowland demanded a showdown vote today on his move to choke off the Senate's history-making filibuster. But he conceded he would lose.

The House was expected to pass its atomic bill without fanfare today even though it opened debate after the Senate.

He called for action on the rarely used cloture or gag motion as the marathon debate on the administration's atomic energy bill ground into its third week following a Sunday recess.

Knowland admitted he couldn't muster the necessary two-thirds vote because of an expected coalition of those who are against the bill and those who traditionally oppose cloture. Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), a leader in the delaying action, agreed.

The Republican leadership's hopes for a July 31 adjournment were officially junked. Knowland said that President Eisenhower and the leadership agreed to keep Congress in session, if necessary, for several more weeks to end the filibuster and wind up work on Eisenhower's legislative proposals.

"There will be no surrender on this issue," Knowland told reporters after GOP leaders held their regular weekly White House conference with Eisenhower.

There were signs that the filibuster might be crumbling anyway in the face of a Democratic leadership decision Saturday night to back Knowland's effort to halt the debate. But the GOP leader was taking no chances.

"I will use every rule in the book to break this filibuster," Knowland said sternly. "To abdicate would be yielding with a gun at your back."

Knowland made it plain he would resume the grueling, round-the-clock sessions which kept the Senate going continuously—except for a brief technical break—for 85 hours, 48 minutes last week.

A cloture vote puts liberal Democrats on a tough spot—especially those who may be up for reelection this fall—since they are avowed foes of the filibuster technique and yet are opposed to what they describe as the "giveaway" power features of the atomic bill.

Plan Extensive U.S. Tour for Angel of Dien Bien Phu

(From AP & U P Dispatches)

NEW YORK—The heroic French nurse of Dien Bien Phu arrived at Idlewild Airport today as the guest of the United States.

Lt. Genevieve de Galard-Terraube landed at 8:52 a. m. (EDT).

The 29-year-old French air force nurse flew from Paris for a series of receptions in a 19-day tour of the country.

In New York today she will have a Broadway ticker tape parade and a reception at City Hall. Columbia University will award her a silver medalion for heroism.

Tomorrow she goes to Washington for another round of ceremonies, and Friday leaves on a tour that will take her to Cleveland, Chicago and San Francisco.

Before leaving Paris, she told newsmen she wanted no publicity on her trip, would appear on television as little as possible and planned to give no lectures.

She was invited by Congress to make the trip to the United States.

Four months ago, Lt. Galard-Terraube landed in a Red Cross helicopter to pick up wounded men at Dien Bien Phu and was trapped. For 51 days, while the fortress was besieged by communist-led Viet Minh troops and finally captured, the courageous flight nurse attended to the wounded and became famous around the world.

Shortly after she was released by her communist captors on May 24, the mademoiselle who was regarded as an angel of mercy by hundreds of men wounded in the Indochina battle said she hoped people would soon stop making such a fuss over her.

In spite of her modesty, Lt. Galard-Terraube has been showered with honors by her own government, and now will get the red carpet treatment usually reserved for visiting heads of state in this country.

Citizens of the township appearing at the meeting aroused by what they call the "injustice of summary firing without hearing," announced, after failure to get a board reconsideration, that they would hold a mass meeting tonight at 8 o'clock on the lawn of the township hall at the corner of M29 and Crescent Lake Rd.

In a statement, board members Louis G. Barry, Helen H. Reese, Robert Bliss and Oscar Loomis pin-pointed their reasons for supporting Van Atta's dismissal.

Van Atta was charged with "insubordination" for what the board called refusal to refrain from political campaigning.

Big 3 Draw Up Rejection to Soviet Conference Bid

WASHINGTON (U P)—The United States opened negotiations with Britain and France today on the wording of a diplomatic note rejecting Russia's bid for a European security conference.

Officials said the Allies regard the Soviet offer as an ill-disguised effort to throw a new block in the way of the European Defense Community. They said it will be turned down cold.

In Paris, officials said Premier Pierre Mendes-France is in no mood to venture into a new conference with the Communists when the western alliance might be jeopardized.

British sources claim London will back the United States in an outright rejection of the Moscow proposal. West Germany also was reported adamantly opposed on the grounds that a new East-West parity would deal a death blow to the European army plan.

In diplomatic notes to the Big Three, Russia declared Saturday that the Indochina truce reached at Geneva has opened the way for a settlement of other international issues.

It proposed that all interested European nations, plus the United States, hold a conference to iron out East-West differences.

It suggested that Communist China be invited as an observer.

A State Department source said the Big Three consultations are being conducted through normal diplomatic channels. He said officials have not had a chance to study the Soviet note fully.

But on first reading, he said, officials viewed it as similar to a Soviet conference proposal last March 31. At that time, the Big Three agreed it was "unnecessary to emphasize the completely unreal character" of the idea.

Carrier Fighters Blast Commies During Search

Yanks Were Scanning South China Sea Area for Airliner Survivors

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department reported today two U. S. carrier planes shot down two Chinese Communist planes which attacked them while the Americans were searching for survivors of a British airliner.

A department announcement said there were no casualties on the American side, and emphasized that the Red planes made their attack "over the high seas."

It said: "The United States plan to protest most vigorously 'against this further evidence of Chinese Communist brutality and their belligerent interference with a humanitarian rescue operation being conducted over the high seas.'"

The American fighters were from the two United States aircraft carriers ordered into the area Saturday to "protect further rescue and search operations" launched after Chinese Communist fighters shot down a British Cathay Pacific airliner on a flight from Bangkok to Hong Kong.

The Communist Radio announced today that the Peking government was apologizing to Britain for the attack on the airliner. It said the Red pilots thought the plane was Chinese-Nationalist.

Ten persons, including three Americans, apparently lost their lives after the airliner crashed into the sea. Latest reports indicate eight survived.

Following is the text of the State Department announcement, made in the name of Secretary Dulles and read to a news conference by Press Officer Henry Snydam:

"As I announced on Saturday, July 24, the secretary of defense has ordered two United States aircraft carriers to proceed to the scene of the Chinese Communist assault upon the British commercial airliner which resulted in the death of three Americans and the wounding of three others."

"The mission as stated then of these ships and their planes was to conduct and protect further rescue and search operations in the vicinity of the tragedy."

"This government is now informed that two United States carrier-based planes of the rescue type, while conducting their missions of mercy and seeking possible survivors, were attacked over the high seas by two Chinese Communist fighter aircraft, apparently of the same type as shot down the Cathay Pacific commercial airliner."

"The United States planes returned the fire and the two Chinese Communist planes were shot down. There were no casualties on the United States side."

"The United States plans to protest most vigorously against this further evidence of Chinese Communist brutality and their belligerent interference with a humanitarian rescue operation being conducted over the high seas."

Birmingham Commission Will Discuss Mutual Aid by Five Fire Departments

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — A proposed plan for mutual aid by five fire departments in Birmingham, Pontiac, Royal Oak, Ferndale and Hazel Park will be presented to the City Commission at its meeting tonight.

Under the proposal, each city would provide assistance when called upon by the ranking officer of the fire department in the city needing aid.

The plan is designed primarily for use in emergency conditions when an individual city would not be able to provide sufficient fire protection for itself, according to City Manager Donald C. Egbert.

Also in the agenda are reports on improvements to Eton Park, sale of city-owned property on Lincoln and improvements to several city streets, plus a recommendation for awarding a paving contract for Lincoln and Pierce.

Other agenda highlights include an agreement with Bloomfield Township regarding sewage treatment in the Birmingham treatment plant, and a report on the city's water department improvement program.

must do something quickly to counteract the substantial economic and military strides the Communists are making in North Korea.

Yoon Chan Yang, South Korea's ambassador here, said in a week-end interview that American technicians in his country are losing "the battle of reconstruction" to the Communists in North Korea because of red tape, lack of coordination, and inter-agency jealousies.

He said this was one of the chief problems Rhee wanted to take up with the president. Rhee also is expected to renew a request, made earlier this month, for enough military aid to double South Korea's armed forces. He has warned that the North Koreans are rebuilding their defenses far faster.

Dulles agreed last August to hold high-level talks if the Korean peace talks failed. But the United States is dead set against any military action that would break the truce.

Rhee's continuing threats of war have been a big headache for U. S. diplomats. But he still is recognized as a vigorous foe of Communism and one of America's best friends in Asia.

"I have worried and even cursed him all day," one high-ranking official said. "Then I go home at night and say in my prayers, 'Thank God for Syngman Rhee!'"

Rhee lived for many years in Hawaii and the United States while he was in exile. He met Eisenhower when the chief executive flew to Korea to check on the peace prospects shortly after his election.

Rhee plans to leave Washington Saturday and then spend some time in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Dallas, San Francisco and Honolulu. He may stop off at Independence, Mo., to visit former President Harry S. Truman.

Miss Hickman polled the top figure of 31,746 pennies in claiming the title. Her prize is a week-long vacation donated by a Gaylord resort.

The CAI Fair pays for the week-long stay of a companion selected by the winner, and Miss Hickman picked her campaign manager, Natalie Sposato, to join her.

Special Tobacco May Foil Cancer

Believe Development of Less-Toxic Strains Could Be Solution

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—A try at making cigarettes safe from any threat of heart disease and cancer was proposed today by Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond of Yale University.

The answer, he said in a paper for the sixth International Cancer Congress here, could be to develop new types of strains of cigarette tobacco free of the agent or agents which some scientists suspect may be causing or contributing to heart trouble and cancer.

This might be accomplished in two years, but it might take as many as seven, the specialist said. Hammond is a biopetitioner at Yale and also director of statistical research for the American Cancer Society. He and Dr. Daniel Horn reported last month that men aged 50 to 70 who smoke a pack of cigarettes daily are about twice as likely to die of heart trouble or cancer of all types as nonsmokers.

Smoking a pipe or cigars seems not to carry much if any risks, said Hammond, a pipe smoker himself. The danger from cigarettes, he went on, could be in the special types of tobacco which have been developed for cigarettes.

These tobaccos, he speculated, could contain one or more chemicals which adversely affect the heart, blood vessels, lungs or other tissues of some people.

From the viewpoint of the public, "the happiest solution is to make smoking safe," Hammond declared.

Development of a "harmless strain of tobacco plant" would be more practical, he asserted, "than to use a highly toxic strain and then attempt to remove the harmful ingredients from the tobacco by chemical means or from the smoke by a filter or condenser."

He said the chemical composition varies considerably in different types of tobacco, even in different batches of the same general type.

Pipe-Smoking Denverite Blase About 102 Years

DENVER (AP)—On her birthday anniversary yesterday, Mrs. Louisa V. Jackson of Denver, a pipe-smoking great-grandmother, declared she wasn't impressed with being 102.

"My mother lived to be 111, and my grandmother 112," she scoffed.

51st Air Force Wing Will Be Modernized

TOKYO (AP)—The sharpshooting 51st Fighter Interceptor Wing, whose Sabre Jets ran up an impressive record of MIG kills during the Korean War, is being moved to Okinawa from Korea next week to be re-equipped with rocket-firing Sabres.

Gen. Earle Partridge, Far East Air Force commander, announced here today the move will strengthen rather than weaken air defense of South Korea.

Armistice terms prevent United Nations forces from introducing new combat materiel into Korea. Hence outmoded air groups are withdrawn to areas outside Korea for modernization.

SHOW BUSINESS MEMENTO—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Kelly, of 492 Lowell St. proudly hold one of the few links they have to the 33 years they spent in show business. The flag used to be in their act "In Old Mexico" when they toured the country as the "Dancing Kellys" in vaudeville and repertory companies.

Dancing Kellys Happily Recall 33 Years in Show Business

"Looking back over it all now, I can only say that it was wonderful," says Mrs. Tillie Pauline Kelly, one third of the famed vaudeville act, "Dancing Kellys." Reminiscing over 60 years in show business and out of it, Mrs. Kelly, who will be 80 next November, and Arthur J. Kelly, who will turn 82 in January, have nothing but a picture of happiness.

For 33 of those 60 years Art and Till, along with their daughter Babe, toured America on almost every major theater circuit playing to both big and small houses with a dancing act that was "hard to follow," according to Mrs. Kelly.

"Our act had everything at that time: a child, a dancing dog, and plenty of pup put into the buck-and-wing," she recalls. "We always had to take last billing because other acts couldn't follow the fast pace we set."

Art and Till met at a dance in Grand Rapids and teamed up to walk away with all prizes for waltzing, buck-and-wing, and the cake walk. They later married and became professionals traveling all the theater circuits throughout the land.

"We played every city in the country that had a decent theater," Till remembers.

It was in Grand Rapids that the Kellys first drew "big pay," $90 a week. When "Babe" was born a third Kelly joined the act. Babe had her own solo spot in the show from the time she was three years old, and later gained the official title of the world champion buck-and-wing dancer.

When show business became pretty tough during World War I the Kellys left their show and bought a rooming house in Pennsylvania. At that time they only planned on a short vacation from the stage, but when they moved to Pontiac in 1923 and Mr. Kelly started to work at Fisher Body, they decided to stay here.

The Kellys bought a home at 492 Lowell, where they still live and on holidays all of the family gathers together to reminisce over the old days. Babe, who now lives in Keego Harbor, continued on the circuits after Art and Till quit and later opened a dancing school in this city which she ran for several years.

Her son, James, is currently the minister at the Silver Crest Baptist Church on the Dixie Highway. He too had a start in show business and spent some time in Hollywood.

Police Reunite Lost Berrypicking Couple

CUMBERLAND, Md. (AP)—Police received a report yesterday that an elderly man had walked out of the woods on Wills Mountain and said his wife had become lost while berry picking.

Desk Sgt. Charles C. Roby began organizing a search. Soon another call came in. The caller said an elderly woman had just reported her husband missing. Mr. and Mrs. Frank McMullen, both in their 70s, were reunited.

Mr. Kelly, who retired after 25 years with Fisher Body, and Mrs. Kelly, like to recall all of the famous acts they worked with and smile when they see some of the kids of their day as big stars on the stage and in television today. Eddie Cantor, George Price, Walter Winchell, Sid Grauman, Bert Lahr and many others were just starting out when the Kellys were performing three-a-day dates. The Kellys will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary next April, but meanwhile they enjoy watching all of the newcomers with a lot of talent. "Show business is for young people," Till believes.

"Today the young kids have all the benefits of those who have gone before and they are experts in their field before they even take to the stage. We see many of the young dancers doing the steps we used to do, but they have added things that make them more exciting, but we have nothing but happy memories of our golden years on the stage."

Shivers Faces Runoff Election in Third Texas Bid

Governor Eyes Eventual Victory

Loyalist Yarborough Also Predicts Win in Democratic Primary

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers, who led Texas Democrats' bolt to Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952, apparently faces a runoff election in his bid for an unprecedented third term.

His opponent, Ralph Yarborough, champion of the "Loyalists" who stuck with Democrat Adlai Stevenson in the presidential race.

Unofficial returns from Saturday's first Democratic primary gave the conservative Shivers a 17,158 lead over Yarborough, not enough in the four-man race to avoid an Aug. 28 second primary.

Yarborough, 51, who had condemned Shivers' breakaway from the party in 1952, predicted victory for himself Aug. 28. "The Democrats of Texas," he said, "will vote to regain control of their party."

Shivers appeared equally content. "I welcome the opportunity to continue the fight for Texas," he said. "We will keep running a good, hard, clean fight in this runoff and with the help of the people of Texas we will win it."

A runoff election is required when no candidate has a clear majority over all others. Arlon B. (Cyclone) Davis and J. J. Holmes polled 2.72 per cent of the vote tabulated thus far by the unofficial Texas Election Bureau and that was apparently enough to force a runoff between the two top men. Some 60,000 to 80,000 votes were still out.

Democratic nomination in the past has virtually assured election. A record 1,273,100 votes had been tabulated by last night. Shivers had 627,136; Yarborough, 610,578; Holmes, 19,115; Davis, 15,671.

Texas Republicans, who held their fourth primary in history Saturday, voted in small numbers. No count was made since the candidates were unopposed.

The bitter struggle between the conservatives and liberals—shown in the governor's race—overshadowed the sweeping victories of Senate Minority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson and House Minority Leader Sam Rayburn and the crumbling of the power of south Texas political boss George B. Parr.

Johnson won nomination for a second term and Rayburn for his 2nd. Johnson had 818,216 votes to 318,004 for State Rep. Dudley Dougherty. Rayburn defeated A.G. McRae 29,520 to 9,950.

Incumbents generally piled up impressive leads in the Democratic primary. But Rep. Wingate Lucas lost the 12th (Fort Worth) District to Weatherford Mayor Jim Wright. Wright had 26,089 votes to 17,702 for Lucas.

Lundgren was elected yesterday at the Legion's 38th annual state convention. He succeeds Billy Wickens of Midland.

The 40-year-old druggist was elected in a spirited two-man race for the Legion's top state post. Lundgren defeated Clarke W. Wilbur, Grand Rapids manufacturer.

Says Public Misinformed on Problems of Delinquency

By KENNETH O. GILMORE

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Take away daylight saving and juvenile delinquency will come to a sudden end. Why? Because when it gets dark earlier children will go home and keep out of trouble.

This absurd-sounding advice is typical of the one-shot solutions people seriously submit as remedies for juvenile delinquency. Such wild ideas are continually presented to social workers, psychiatrists, legislators and public officials.

Irrational though well-meaning, they indicate how grossly misinformed the American public is about delinquency despite all that is written and said about it.

"We have the average parent so mixed up that he does not know whether to spank his child or not," Dr. Georges S. Stevenson, Medical Director of the National Association of Mental Health, told a recent Juvenile Delinquency Conference in Washington.

But individual crazy schemes are not the main worry of those working to halt juvenile delinquency. They are more concerned over a few widely-spread, phony cure-alls which are accepted by thousands of persons in communities, towns and cities across the nation.

Here are the five big fables of juvenile delinquency, according to Bertram M. Beck, Director of the Special Juvenile Delinquency Project at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

First on the list and perhaps more prevalent is the idea you can stop delinquency by getting tough with the delinquents. It is true that a few troublesome youngsters have to be treated harshly—but not all of them, emphasizes Beck.

"You have to handle a kid on the basis of what makes them tick," he says. The delinquent lives in a world full of hostility where one has to fight and grab. Thus in many cases the rough approach only confirms this attitude and generates more hostility.

Beck's second on the falsehood list comes under the heading of "punish the parents." This solution is based on the theory that if parents are help directly accountable for the behavior of their children they will make sure their offspring stay in line.

Such a tactic does not get to the heart of the matter, Beck points out, for a psychological difficulty cannot be outlawed. Take his example of a child left at home while his parents go out and drink. The child becomes a delinquent, does some damage and the parents are fined.

But leaving to drink is only symptomatic of the parents' feeling towards the child. Had they stayed at home it would have become evident in some other form. It is this feeling that cannot be controlled by law, says Beck.

The "keep them busy" school constitutes another fable of juvenile delinquency. Most of the recreational and social programs aimed at preventing delinquency are far off base, according to Beck.

This is because the hard core delinquent rebels and stays far away from any type of organized group. These programs do a good job in that they keep normal kids normal, observes Beck, but they never reach the really socially maladjusted youngster except by accident.

The fourth of Beck's fables concerns foreign born and minority groups. None of them, he says, has any inferior qualities that lead to juvenile delinquency, as many people believe.

A 40-year study in Chicago shows certain slum areas maintained the same high rate of delinquency as various immigrant groups moved through them. And when, for example, the Irish, Italian and Jews were able to improve their standard of living and assimilate into better communities, their delinquency rate dropped.

The fifth fable claims all delinquents come from slums. Most do, but by no means all of them.

"One of the newest wrinkles in the juvenile delinquency picture," notes Beck, "is the fact that the rate of delinquency has increased more rapidly in the less densely populated areas than in the urban communities."

Adlai Lashes GOP for Indochina Defeat

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Adlai Stevenson, breaking a five-day silence on the Indochina peace settlement signed in Geneva last week, yesterday charged that right-wing Republicans have "successfully identified negotiation with appeasement."

In his first and only major speech on an Alaska vacation, the unsuccessful Democratic standard bearer in the 1952 presidential campaign said of the Indochina settlement:

"This is the sorry sequel of all the foolish, boastful Republican talk about liberation of the enslaved nations, about unleashing Chiang-Kai-shek, seizing the initiative, a new look on foreign policy, no more little wars as in Korea, and, finally, that threatening talk by the secretary of state and the vice president about massive atomic retaliation which scared our Allies half to death, if not our enemies."

"All these bold words and ringing slogans of the past two years sound a little hollow now. The 'new look' collapsed at the first test. The administration was not prepared to fight, nor could it negotiate, because the right-wing-Republicans have successfully identified negotiation with appeasement."

"Unable to fight, unable to negotiate, unable even to speak with a coherent tongue, U.S. foreign policy defaulted and France salvaged what she could out of the endless, weary war in Indochina."

Not only did the Communists add valuable and strategic area to their domain, Stevenson said, but they threw the Western Allies into confusion and dissension. Russia's greatest goal and dearest dream.

said the Indochina settlement, which calls for the partition of Viet Nam into Communist and pro-Western halves, ended the shooting but Communist China "has staked out another menacing salient into free Asia and enveloped 13 million people."

"In Indochina," Stevenson said, "the West suffered its worst disaster since the loss of China." The blame, "the original sin," for the "misfortune" in Indochina rests with France, Stevenson said. Noting that England and Holland, at the conclusion of World War II, granted independence to many of their Asian possessions and by so doing prevented Nationalist uprising which the Communists would exploit, Stevenson said: "Had France done likewise and granted genuine independence in orderly, sincere stages to Viet Nam there very likely would have been no war in Indochina."

But he said the "blame for the collapse of our policy in Asia remains our responsibility." "And, he warned, 'we shall fail again and again unless we profit from this experience.'"

BERTRAM M. BECK—Five big fables are experts' big worry.

Burkemo, Harbert Reach PGA's Semifinal Round

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
ST. PAUL, Minn. — Tommy Bolt, a perfectionist among golf pros who can't understand why the galleries don't admire perfection, figures he made a lot of friends on the hot stretches of the Koller Course.

At least, Tommy was around to meet Chick Harbert, the man who persuaded him not to walk out on the tournament, in one of today's semifinals of the PGA championship. He wasn't hanging from a tree, as he had predicted.

The other 36-hole semifinal brought together defending champion Walter Burkemo and former Open champion Cary Middlecoff.

Bolt, whose temper operates on a hair trigger, battled anger and Sammy Snead all the way around the crowded little Koller Course yesterday and finally won out over both on the 39th hole.

Halfway through the match he threatened to walk out because of what he called unfair treatment by the galleries. Strangely it was Harbert who persuaded him to continue.

After a couple of club-throwing tantrums and an incident on the 18th green, when a few spectators applauded a missed Bolt putt, Tommy angrily proclaimed that he wouldn't tee off in the afternoon.

"They treat Snead like a favorite son, if I won they'd probably hang me from the nearest tree," he said.

But before the finish, the fans were cheering Bolt for his dogged persistence in sticking with the favorite and at the end he used up one of his rare smiles and remarked:

"I guess I made some friends out there this afternoon. But wait until you see the headlines tomorrow. They'll say 'Snead loses on the 39th'."

That's just about what Sammy did. He hit his second shot on the 39th like a duffer—smothering a wood shot on the 510-yard hole and sending it only about 80 yards. He took a bogey six to lose the hole as Bolt made his par-5.

Still it was great golf, overshadowed a bit by Bolt's flare-ups. From the fourth hole to the 39th, Bolt never was ahead. But he never let Snead get more than a two-hole margin, either. Then, two-down with only four holes to go, the unsmiling Bolt kept the pressure of steady pars on his tiring opponent and caught up at the 34th.

Harbert, who had said during the luncheon argument, "I don't want the guy I'm going to play tomorrow have an afternoon to rest," also had a full time job before he reached the semifinals. He beat Jerry Barber, the little Californian who takes off his spectacles while he studies his putts—and then usually sinks them—one-up over the 36 hole route.

The only easy victory went to Burkemo, the snub-nosed scrapper who thrives on match play. He caught Argentina's Roberto de Vicenzo on a bad day and trounced him, 5 and 4. Middlecoff, who almost blew his match twice on the front nine only to recover coming back, turned back Shelley Mayfield 3 and 1.

Burkemo, incidentally, is the current hot tip to become the first champion since Denny Shute to regain the PGA title. This is his fourth PGA championship. He went to the final against Snead the first time he tried it; lost in the third round of his second attempt and won last year. And with a year of regular tournament play, he has been shooting better golf than ever.

Solons Sweep Series, Push Tigers Deeper in the Mire

CINCINNATI — Riding the crest of the American League in the opening weeks of the season, Detroit Tigers arrived in Cincinnati today slowly sinking to the depths of the league standings.

Tigers tangled with the Cincinnati Reds tonight in an exhibition game for the benefit of sandlot baseball in the Ohio town. A similar game was played in Detroit recently.

On the just ended swing of the eastern teams, the Tigers sank to 5th place with 9 losses in 14 games.

And since they began their slide toward the bottom of the league May 28, Tigers have dropped 40 games and won but 21.

Although most teams have been having a field day entertaining Detroit, it was the last three games at Washington that did the most damage to the Tiger cause.

Sensors swept the series from Detroit, winning the finale 11-3 yesterday.

Sensors slammed sore armed Ted Gray and three other Tiger hurlers for 16 hits to drive into a 2-game lead over the hapless Bengals in the battle for the final berth in the 1st division.

Gray's 2nd start since May 16 ended abruptly in the 1st inning when he was relieved by George Zuverink with two outs and three runs in.

Big George was the only effective Detroit pitcher of the afternoon. He worked nearly five innings and gave up one run.

Dick Marlowe, 3rd Detroit hurler, was tagged for three runs and Ray Herbert was touched for four.

Down three runs in the 3rd inning, Tigers got one back on Bill Tuttle's single, a walk and another single by Ray Boone.

Detroit countered again in the 4th on hits by Frank Bolling and Harvey Kuenn.

Al Kaline slammed a long double—his 2nd of the game—in the 8th and rode home on a punt by Bolling for the last Detroit score.

Following tonight's exhibition, Tigers return to Briggs Stadium for a long stand, beginning with a two-night double header Tuesday against the Philadelphia Athletics.

Detroit also will play host to Boston, Washington, New York and front-running Cleveland.

Home stand will wind up when the Tigers take to the road again Aug. 13 for a visit at Chicago.

Stengel Sees Tight Finish to AL Race

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK (UP) — "Taking one saved me. Now I gotta play very good ball the next 10 days to hold my own in the league."

Casey Stengel was reviewing yesterday's series finale with Cleveland as he sat in the Yankee clubhouse. He looked tired when he started but he soon was bouncing around with his familiar gestures. The Yanks had cut Cleveland's lead to 1½ games by winning the last game of the series to Casey's vast relief.

"This has to go down to the last weeks," he said. "This club (Cleveland) can't blow up. They got too many men who can hit the ball over the fence. They got some pretty good young pitchers to go with those older fellows (Early Wynn, Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia).

A fellow asked if this Cleveland club was better than the team that failed in the last three years.

"I'd have to say they're better in some ways. They got good spirit and their power is more experienced. Doby (center fielder Larry Doby) used to strike out more and he used to misjudge a ball now and then.

"When they played another fellow in left, I won't mention his name, we used to go from first to third on a hit. Now this man (Al Smith) throws us out."

"We're three games behind on the losing side and that's very bad, especially in the second half of the season. Both teams (Cleveland and Chicago) play me in the West and they don't have to play one another for a little while. They'll be all ready."

This next club (Chicago) is laying in for the next week. I'll probably see Trinks, Pierce and maybe Harshman. They tell me he struck out 16 in Boston. If that is so, he'll probably pitch against me.

"I'm all waiting for us. When you play games like I played the last two days, you get tired. They want to see you tired. That's why they scheduled all those games that way, if you want to know. Very bright people."

The Yanks hit the road tonight for Chicago where they open a three-game series tomorrow night. Then it's three in Baltimore, three in Cleveland and three in Detroit before they stop off at Cooperstown for the Hall of Fame Exhibition, August 9.

Stengel was full of praise for rookie Bob Grim, who shut out the Indians for four innings of relief to win his 11th game.

"If it wasn't for Grim and Johnny Sain, you wouldn't see Stengel standing here so freely," he said.

"It's very seldom you pick up a man like Grim. I guess you'd have to say we were lucky. I pitched him against Brooklyn in the spring and he got them out. I told Jim (Coach Jim Turner) I kind of like that boy. So did Jim."

"If you notice, we didn't pitch him against the big clubs very much. But now he's ready to work in where he can go against the big fellows."

The last little speech was delivered with one foot in the shower. It was the exit cue.

Smooth, Unhurried Swing Is Symbolized by Picture

By SAM SNEAD

Wind Up for Power

Today's player has wound all of his muscular power for a long wood shot. Note (A) how his wrists are cocked, his shoulders (B) have completed a 90-degree turn, and his hips (C) have turned 45 degrees.

Our player is poised at the top of his backswing. The whole operation of the golf swing stops momentarily here, but you should make no effort to stop.

The principle of a smooth, unhurried swing is symbolized by this picture. It's an idea that should be with you at all times—don't think of the swing as raw power, but rather as a beautiful combination of rhythm and timing.

After you have reached this point in your backswing, start the downswing with your wrists still cocked and with a slight tug of your left hand. On the way down forget about distance, remember only that the swing should flow. You will find that as your timing and rhythm increase, your shots will become longer. But don't think about distance—just swing smoothly, and let the shots fall as they may.

Costa and Andrews in Favorites Spots

NEW YORK (UP) — Lightweight Vic Toweel of South Africa, ex-world bantamweight champion, is an 11-5 underdog for his American debut tonight against young Carmelo Costa in their television (ABC) 10-round at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena.

However, in tonight's other TV (Dumont) fight at St. Nicholas Arena, light heavyweight contender Paul Andrews of Buffalo, N. Y., is a prohibitive 5-1 favorite to beat veteran Yvon Durelle of Chatham, New Brunswick.

1st Baseman Who Failed to Make Good Pitches Near-Record Strike for Chisox

By BOB HOOBING
BOSTON (UP) — Jack Harshman of the Chicago White Sox, who couldn't make the grade with the New York Giants as a first baseman, has added a near-record 16-strikeout performance to his impressive first season as a major league pitcher.

The 6 foot 2 lefthander struck out

16 Boston Red Sox batters in hurling a five-hit, 5-2 victory in the first game of a doubleheader yesterday—Falling two short of the modern big league mark of 18. Cleveland's Bob Feller turned the trick in 1938 against Detroit.

Before this season, Harshman's only major league pitching consisted of six innings with the New York National Leagueers in 1952. And it wasn't encouraging. He gave up 12 hits and 10 earned runs in those six.

Prior to '52 he had been a first baseman since he broke into professional ball in 1945 with the San Diego Padres of the Pacific Coast League. He started as a regular for the Giants in 1950 but was benched for poor hitting when the club lost its first 11 games.

Yet today Harshman, 27-year-old San Diego southpaw with powerful wrist action to snap off his breaking pitches, has appeared in 20 games and has a 7-4 record for the pennant-hopeful White Sox currently in third place.

Harshman, an earnest 185-pounder mixing an occasional fast ball with curves, sliders and screw balls, struck out every Boston starter yesterday at least once and got Billy Conzolo four times. He retired the last 13 men in order.

While he tied Feller 1937 for the most strikeouts against a Red Sox team record of 15 held by Ed Walsh 1908 and 1910 and Jim Scott 1913, Harshman's feat was most amazing because it occurred at Fenway Park. He did it despite the fact he faced seven right-handers aiming for the cozy left field wall.

Throwing strikes is the most important thing in pitching, not speed," said Harshman after the game. "Every pitcher finds out you can't just throw a fast ball by everyone. My control was better than usual today. My slider was my best pitch—it was able to get it over on the outside and inside."

Jack says he was convinced by Nashville General Manager Larry Gilbert in 1951 to switch to pitching because his hitting was not good enough to make him big league timber as a first baseman. He pitched his first game for Jacksonville of the Sally League in 1950 when the club ran short of hurlers and stopped Augusta on four hits.

Caddies in Rich Chicago Event Eye Cash Rewards

CHICAGO (INS) — Caddies who serve the star golfers at the Tam O'Shanter tournaments looked forward today to substantial windfalls, in addition to their regular earnings.

Pro golfers will split $205,000 in prize money at the George S. May program which runs from Aug. 5 through Aug. 15—and some of it will find its way into the pockets of the caddies.

Winners of the so-called "world championship" tourney at Tam and the All-American competition have been known to tip their club carriers as much as $300. Gratuities of several hundred dollars are common among successful contestants.

This is not surprising when it is realized that the winner of this year's championship will receive $50,000.

Tam caddy-master Fred Seibel has a merit system in operation at the course which rates the boys according to their reliability and efficiency of performance.

Tam's top caddy is Bob Stanek, an 18-year-old recent high school graduate. He is eligible for one of the five Chick Evans college scholarships awarded annually by Tam. The scholarships have a $4,000 estimated value and are good for four years in college.

Dodgers Scent Opportunity to Cut Giant Lead

Brooks Hope to Make NY 3rd in Row at Win Expense, Today

BROOKLYN (UP) — Four games behind the sagging New York Giants, the rebounding Brooklyn Dodgers have a chance to make it three in a one-night stand against their interborough rivals today.

Apparently back in winning form, the defending National League champion Dodgers will try to break a long standing jinx. Opposing them will be Sal Maglie, an old Dodger killer. The 38-year-old Giant righthander has never lost to the Dodgers at Ebbets Field. Ten times he has whipped them in their own back yard.

Manager Walter Alston, still confident his charges will catch the Giants, has named Carl Erskine, his ace, to oppose Maglie. The young righthander has a lifetime edge over all National League clubs except the Giants. They have beaten him four times in five starts this season.

During the past week, the Dodgers chopped three games off the Giants' once awesome seven-game lead. They come home following a Western swing that saw them win seven while losing six but the Giants fared far worse. After winning their first game in St. Louis to boost their margin to seven games, the Giants dropped 8 of their next 12 games, including their last 4 in a row.

The Dodgers were expected to have their regular lineup intact for this important game. Jackie Robinson, though still hobbled by injuries, will be in left field and Junior Gilliam, who sat out the final game on the road, will be back at second. Either Billy Cox or Don Hoak will be at third.

George Moore Wins Feature at M-59 Track

George Moore of Lake Orion won his 2nd feature event of the season, last night before a crowd of 2,500 at the Pontiac M-59 Speedway.

It was the 1st time for Moore in the winner's circle since early in the season. He nipped Chuck Partello of Rochester in a close finish in the 25-lap event.

Partello won the trophy dash and the 5th heat.

Joy Fair of Pontiac set a new record in the pursuit race, touring the 12 laps in four minutes 3.36 seconds. Bill Hasselle of Troy won the 15-lap semi-final and the 2nd heat, while other heat winners were Don LeMarbe, Joe Doyle and Johnny Wallace.

A special attraction was the appearance of the five finalists in the "Miss Pontiac" contest, sponsored by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Old Timers

Gingerville Oldtimers and Lake Orion Oldtimers will play a donkey softball game Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. at the Gingerville field. Public is invited to attend.

'Campy' to Undergo Examination Again

BROOKLYN (UP) — Roy Campanella, still worried about his slowly-healing left hand, said today he would be examined by three nerve specialists this week.

The Brooklyn Dodgers' All-Star catcher said the numbness in the hand following an operation last May 4, is getting worse instead of better. He is most concerned about the apparent atrophy of the muscle between the thumb and knuckle which gives a hand most of its gripping power.

The styling and engineering refinements in a few cars have progressed markedly in recent years. But some cars have fallen behind. When the manufacturers of such cars try to "catch up" by introducing radically different models... their current-model cars will suffer greatly by comparison and lose a great deal of the trade-in value they should retain normally. Ford has been a leader in setting the styling trend... and in developing engineering advancements that make for better performance and more pleasurable driving. So you can count on the Ford you buy NOW to hold onto its full share of normal trade-in value!
