

Murdered Widow's Billfold Sought by Sheriff

Former Official, Civic Leader, 78, Stroke Victim

Alfred Gale Was Head of Waterford Township for 25 Years

Alfred Gale, Oakland County civic and political leader, died of a stroke at home yesterday afternoon. He was 78 and had been in ill health for nearly five years.

First president of the Oakland County Board of Education (from 1941 to 1946) he also served as supervisor of Waterford Township for 25 years and was a former chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

He served as a member of the Democratic State Central Committee in 1937, and had held various local and county governmental posts. He lived at 60 Vine-wood Ave.

Mr. Gale was born on a farm in White Lake Township Dec. 2, 1857 and moved to Waterford Township with his parents, William W. and Martha Haines Gale when he was 10 years old. June 8, 1906, he was married here to Lena Bartlett.

He was clerk of Waterford Township since 1911. Besides operating his farm, he served as an agent for several insurance companies.

As Waterford supervisor he worked on the Ways and Means and the Covert Road Bond Refunding Committees. For 41 years he lived at 740 Gale Rd. before moving to Pontiac in 1949.

The Gales celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary June 8.

Mr. Gale was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and was active on several church boards. He also belonged to Cedar Lodge No. 66, F & AM, at Clarkston.

He is survived by his wife and five children, Floyd Gale of Williamston, Mrs. Beulah Matucha of Kansas City, Kan., Robert I. Gale of Falls Church, Va., Mrs. Esther Mize and Charles Gale, both of Pontiac; seven grandchildren; one great-grandchild and a sister, Mrs. Nellie Stroup of Pontiac.

Service will be at 1:30 p.m. Saturday from the Farmer-Snowor Fu (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Stassen Opens Headquarters

GOP Lawmakers Label
His Dump-Nixon Drive
'Irresponsible'

WASHINGTON (INS)—Harold E. Stassen opened his "dump Nixon" headquarters here today amid charges by two Republican leaders that the move is "irresponsible."

The chairmen of the Senate and House GOP Campaign Committees castigated Stassen for his proposal to replace Nixon on the Eisenhower ticket with Massachusetts Gov. Christian A. Herter.

Sen. Andrew F. Schoeppel of Kansas, and Rep. Richard M. Simpson of Pennsylvania, joined in declaring that rank and file party members have become disgusted with Stassen's "antics."

They praised Nixon as "exceptional" and "trial-tested" and predicted he will win renomination "by acclamation on the first ballot" despite the irresponsible actions of Harold E. Stassen.

They said: "Yesterday we learned the President disagrees with Stassen. What is Stassen up to? We doubt that he is right and everybody else is wrong."

'Chesty' Puller Backs McKeon on Night March

Believes Corps Regrets
Against Sergeant

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—A crusty, bemedaled Marine hero, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. "Chesty" Puller, said today he thought the Marine Corps "regrets" the court-martial of S. Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon.

In a voice like a fog horn, the general told the seven-man court-martial panel, "I think from the testimony of Gen. Pate yesterday that he agrees and regrets that the Marine Corps ever ordered that this man be tried."

The Marines' commandant, Gen. Randolph McC. Pate, told the court yesterday he thought McKeon merited only a reduction in rank and a transfer.

McKeon is the former drill instructor who led a platoon of 74 recruits on a night disciplinary march into a tidal marsh where six drowned.

As a result, McKeon is charged with involuntary manslaughter, oppression of recruits and drinking on duty.

Puller, chest ablaze with eight rows of ribbons, appeared as an expert on Marine training methods at the trial of the 31-year-old native of Worcester, Mass.

DEFENSE RESTS
Immediately after Puller's testimony, defense attorney Emile Zola Berman of New York City said, "The defense rests."

The only Marine ever to hold five Navy Crosses and an Army Distinguished Service Cross, Puller spoke in his normal battle-field voice. For his testimony, the microphones were turned off.

Earlier, the high-domed hero was asked by Berman whether he thought the night march led by McKeon was good military practice.

Davisburg Farm Home Scene of Woman's Murder

SCENE OF SLAYING — In this farmhouse near Davisburg, 72-year-old Mrs. Florence Norton lived alone until her murder Sunday. Sheriff's deputies and State troopers believe she was murdered in the house and dragged to the small well shed at right, where her body was found yesterday by William Dexter, a hired hand on an adjoining farm. Reputedly wealthy, Mrs. Norton tended the 120-acre farm herself. (Another picture, page 2.)

Farm Combed for More Clues to Brutal Killing

Autopsy Shows Victim
Hacked About the Head
at Least Five Times

A missing black billfold remains the main clue in the ax-slaying of a 72-year-old widow on her farm near Davisburg.

Authorities believe Mrs. Florence Norton was slain for money. She was rumored to have a large amount at her home at 12175 Rattalee Lake Rd.

However, her attorney does not believe she actually had much cash on hand, according to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

An autopsy yesterday established that the victim had been hacked at least five times about the head and neck, and then dragged to the small well shed where a neighbor discovered her yesterday morning.

Teams of state police and sheriff's detectives continued today to comb the 120-acre farm for clues. Investigation until midnight yesterday did not pinpoint whether the murder occurred Sunday night or early Monday.

Det. Don Francis said reports that Mrs. Norton had been seen alive Monday would be investigated today. A neighbor who saw her Sunday afternoon talking to an unidentified driver of a car in her driveway will make a statement today at Ziem's office.

GAVE AUNT WALLET
The woman's niece, Mrs. George C. Inman, 2032 Garland St., will also make a statement. She reportedly gave her aunt the wallet and saw her Sunday morning at the farm.

One neighbor who tried unsuccessfully to locate Mrs. Norton Tuesday morning and another present after the body was discovered yesterday also will make statements.

A helper on the farm, Kenneth Aldrich, told Ziem this morning that Mrs. Norton had paid him by check for his work in harvesting hay last week. He did not know if she customarily kept her wallet on her person or in the house.

DRAWERS OPENED
Although several drawers in the four-room home were found open, authorities were not sure this indicated the place was ransacked.

The house was generally untidy inside. Neighbors said that Mrs. Norton had not kept up the place since the death of her husband, a cattle dealer, seven years ago.

Final Taps Blows for Drummer Boy Woolson
in Duluth

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Albert Woolson, last Union Army veteran of the Civil War, died today and the Grand Army of the Republic died with him. He was 109.

The old drummer boy, who was "starred to death" the first time he fired a cannon, outlived some 2,675,000 of the Boys in Blue.

Woolson died in St. Luke's Hospital where he had been confined several times recently because of lung congestion. Doctors said the congestion was brought on chiefly because of his advanced age.

He lapsed into a coma early Saturday. Since then he had been fed intravenously and had been given oxygen.

The old soldier showed remarkable stamina in recovering from his previous illnesses. Dr. Charles Bagley, his physician, said after Woolson showed good improvement in June that his "deep-seated interest and drive" kept him going.

Hospitalized in May, Woolson spent Memorial Day at his Duluth home, then returned to St. Luke's the following day. He had been confined since.

Thousands of cards and congratulatory messages, including ones from the White House, poured in for the kindly old man with a booming voice on his birthdays after he reached 100.

His 109th birthday was celebrated without what he referred to as "a lot of hullabaloo." His only public appearance was at a City Hall ceremony. He said shortly before that birthday his big problem was "I'm taking it too easy for my own good and that's not agreeable to my health."

Quiet Reigns in Moscow

MOSCOW (INS)—Automobile horns were mute in Moscow today as an anti-noise ordinance went into effect. The campaign to make the Soviet capital a city of quiet has been pressed by newspapers for the past several weeks.

Chicago Fluoridating Water

CHICAGO (AP)—Fluoridation of Chicago's entire water supply went into effect yesterday. Since May 1 only certain South Side neighborhoods had been receiving fluoridated water. Special equipment was needed at North Side pumping stations. More than 1,000 U. S. cities are fluoridating water supplies to curb dental decay among children.

Lad to Invade Female Domain in 4-H Contest

One young man who specializes in molasses cookies will take on the female competitors at the 20th annual 4-H Fair which opens Tuesday.

Paul Norland, 15, of 1950 Lone Pine Rd., Bloomfield Township, will be in there mixing dough and greasing cookie sheets.

And several young girls of the 4-H clubs are invading the previously male domain of showing animals for judging.

This all proves that 4-H work teaches the youngsters all types of skills, according to Sue Sturges, a County 4-H agent.

There is still one female-dominated activity—no boys will take part in the Dress Review Thursday night, in which the girls model clothes they have created themselves.

And the boys still have one stronghold—but no one knows how long it will last. There are no girls registered for the Tractor Field Day slated for Friday afternoon.

Mike Dietz Takes All-American Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—Mike Dietz of Lake Orion, Mich., whipped four strokes off Tam O'Santer's par with a 35-33-68 today to capture the early first round lead in the All-American golf tournament.

Dietz, 35, winner of the Michigan Open in 1952, dropped a 15-foot putt for a birdie 3 on the 4th hole and strung out 3 successive birdies beginning with the 10th with putts of 6, 8 and 35 feet.

Dietz didn't have a bogey on his card as he hit 16 greens in regulation, wandered into the rough only twice and had five one-putt greens.

2 Area Residents Killed, One Injured, in Car Crashes

Officials at the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office this morning were taking statements from drivers involved in two fatal accidents yesterday.

Dead are Scott Alfes, 42, of 47091 Dequindre Rd., and Max Allowitz, 47, of Oak Park.

Alfes was killed in a five-car crash on Auburn Avenue near Grand Trunk railroad tracks yesterday afternoon. Admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with multiple fractures and internal injuries, he died at 6:40 p.m. last night.

His wife, Ethel Alfes, 40, is in "fair" condition in the hospital with chest and internal injuries, and a fractured leg.

According to Pontiac Police, the accident apparently occurred when Thomas N. Tilant, 17, of Clifford, attempted to pass a car driven by Sharon Lee Wendler, 16, of 7275 Pontiac Lake Rd.

Miss Wendler was forced over the center line, police said, when she tried to pass a car ahead of her while Tilant was trying to pass her on the right side.

Over the center line, Miss Wendler's car caromed off one driven by Laura Marie Kici, 25, of Bloomfield Hills, and went on to hit the car in which Alfes and his wife were riding.

The Alfes' car then swung broadside in the road and was hit by one driven by Martha Freeman, 76, of Pontiac Township.

Allowitz was killed in a head-on collision with a city-owned garbage truck driven by Grant Washington, 47, of 124 Earlmore Blvd. The crash occurred on Telegraph road, near Elizabeth Lake road.

Washington Township police said

At Long Last! Warm Weather Is On the Way

The Weather Bureau predicts somewhat warmer weather for the Pontiac area tonight. The low will be 60 to 64.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and warmer with a high of 82 to 86. There is a possibility of thunder-showers tomorrow night.

The lowest temperature reading before 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 58 degrees. The thermometer registered 79 at 2 p.m.

State Gets Road Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan will receive $321,916 in federal funds for forest roads in the allocations made yesterday for highway building in 1956.

Political Thunder Bites the Dust

'IT AIN'T LEGAL, MISTER' — Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley and uniform Captain William Crisp eye a pile of confiscated political signs which blossomed on utility poles and public property in the city in violation of a city ordinance. According to Straley, this is the second such pile of signs torn down by police since the current campaign started. There's a $10 fine or 20 days in jail waiting for anybody caught putting up an illegal sign, the Chief says.

Huron Rezoning Tabled to Permit Study

Pro and con arguments on the proposed rezoning of 21 lots adjacent to the planned city park-library site opposite Pontiac High School were aired last night at a City Planning Commission public hearing.

The commission supported Commissioner William F. Kalwitz's motion that the proposal be tabled a month to allow consideration of future city plans and to obtain a clear definition of the proposal.

O. L. Beaudette has offered to deed his home and land in the West Huron block to the city, provided the entire 13-acre parcel eventually be converted to a city park.

Attorney Harold E. Howlett, ap pearing for Earle Kneale, owner of property at the corner of West Huron and Williams Streets, voiced opposition to the proposal to rezone the lots to residential, classification.

"It would result in the substantial confiscation of property,"

Howlett said, "Kneale cannot afford and does not intend to permit the confiscation of this property."

Gerard A. Poehlman, assistant manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, urged "the rezoning of this particular piece of property in the interest of the city of Pontiac."

ASKS TIME LIMIT

Henry Smith, city planner and secretary of the Planning Commission, assured some 15 persons appearing for the hearing, that "present property owners will be able to continue their present use indefinitely."

The proposed block is bounded by West Huron, Williams, West

Pike, and Franklin Boulevard. At present only seven of the 28 lots in the block are zoned Residential 1. Others are Residential 2 and Commercial 1.

Glen H. Griffin, owner of the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home, 46 Williams St., requested to know what time limit, if any, was placed on acquiring the Williams Street property.

Frank H. Marsh, chairman of the planning group, answered he was not positive about details of the Beaudette offer.

LOWERS VALUE

Howlett said, "The passage of this proposed ordinance would act as a condemnation of the property's economical use."

Two Races Narrowing as Presidential Pot Boils

Withdrawal of Senator ESTES KEFAUVER as a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination stirs new speculation.

The ADLAI STEVENSON camp infers that this action means their boy is destined to be an easy winner on the first few ballots and they strongly hint it will be number one. They are actuated largely by the fact that KEFAUVER withdrew in favor of STEVENSON.

However, the New York delegation is no whit daunted. "These delegates are now free to exercise their own opinions," says the Averell Harriman forces, "and we freely predict that half of them will land in our corner."

Well, they may.

No one forecasts for sure.

Supporters of KEFAUVER are hopeful that their candidate may be selected as the Vice Presidential nominee, basing this on his gracious withdrawal in favor of his prime opponent. ADLAI STEVENSON refused to be trapped by any premature announcements and cageily held his fire. There may be more horses to swap and the Illinois candidate wants his stable as full as possible right up to the last minute.

This is just common sense.

Also, there was action on the Republican front. President Eisenhower again declared that "Richard Nixon is completely satisfactory to me as a running mate," but he ducked complete endorsement. Political sagacity rules here as well as in the Stevenson camp. There are more bridges to cross and more camp fires to light.

Not so long ago, we remarked editorially that the coming campaign promised to be one of great interest and excitement.

We reiterate this sentiment. Current facts are actual proof.

A Loss to the Senate

For everyone who knew of his splendid record the decision of Republican Senator EUGENE D. MILLIKIN not to seek re-election, is regrettable.

Throughout his 14 years in the upper chamber, the Colorado lawmaker distinguished himself by the zeal and efficiency of his work. As chairman of the Senate's Finance Committee during the 83rd Congress and its ranking Republican in the 84th, he helped vitally to shape Administration fiscal policies.

It was apparent in this session, however, that the work of representing his state was becoming a burden to him. Badly crippled by arthritis, he cast most of his votes in recent months from a wheel chair.

The high esteem in which he is held by his fellow Senators of both parties was indicated during the final rush to adjournment. For two hours his colleagues stopped other work to laud his service to his party, the Senate and the Nation.

Not only will he be missed in the Senate, but in the post of chairman of the conference of Republican Senators, which he had held for 10 years.

Farm Land Values Up

Things are looking up for American farmers.

Back of this cheering fact can be discovered three important and helpful developments. Certainly not the least of these is the compromise reached by the Administration and Congress on the hotly debated farm bill. Also encouraging has been the upward trend of farm prices since the beginning of the year.

A third, and for many a surprising development, is the rise in farm land values. According to the Department of Agriculture's own figures these increased from $98.5 billion to $102.4 billion between March 1, 1955 and March 1, 1956.

At the end of 1953 farm lands were valued at $89.1 billion. This year's figures mean that farm realty has increased in value by 15 per cent in a little more than three years.

This, it seems to us, stands as a challenge to many statements by professional friends of the farmer. When it can happen in a period the early part of which was characterized by falling farm prices, things obviously have been better for farmers than some politicians have been saying.

The Man About Town Interest Lagging

People Threaten to Be Found Wanting in Duty

Summer: When it takes a big effort just to loaf.

Following an observation of the better part of a century, and a recent check in several parts of Oakland County, MAT feels that Old Man Apathy is a bigger menace in next Tuesday's primary than in any previous election. At one meeting of 50 odd men this week there wasn't even one who would agree to vote, but we extracted a good promise from a few of them. We're making the prediction that less than one third of the voters will visit the polls. MAT wants his readers to consider it a privilege and duty to vote, which it really is—if you're a good citizen.

An Oakland County summer camp this week is given over to the old people. It is the Detroit Salvation Army Camp near Lakeville, where

T. M. Larsen, Divisional Commander, tells me 120 people, none under 60, are enjoying themselves.

From Lapeer comes a letter from Blanchard Oshemo to the effect that he saw a mammoth and brightly lighted flying saucer speed across the northern sky just before 12 o'clock Monday night.

Bringing back our own recollections is a letter from Bradford Pennyman of Birmingham, who woefully asks if we remember that old copy book phrase:

"Next sunny August takes his turn, And better yet the sunbathers burn."

Pontiac's suburban Pleasant Ridge has a new city manager with the quite unusual name of Paul Foxworthy, who comes from Marine City.

A straw that bends over the edge of the glass without clogging is being introduced at Pontiac soda fountains.

A postcard picture of a Lake Huron bathing beach near Rogers City, from two of my young friends,

Max and Crissy Pelman, says, "Your warning was right. We should have brought an ice breaker."

Pet peeve: the motorist who passes me like a bullet when I'm driving 65, and a sticker on his back bumper tells me to "Slow Down and Live."

I like that letter just received from "One Who's Known It for Years," in commenting on the survey which shows Pontiac's importance as a shopping center.

After sending a certain couple a congratulatory note on their fortieth wedding anniversary,

J. M. Kellner of 70 Washington St., has received a reply signed by

Verbal Orchids to—

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Edmonson of Walled Lake; golden wedding.

Stassen May Hurt GOP Chances

WASHINGTON—Today the biggest political fact facing the Republican party in its 1956 campaign is that, under the guise of helping Eisenhower, there is a faction which is determined to force a split in the party.

The move to "get Nixon" and keep him from being renominated for vice president is out in the open and President Eisenhower himself has been caught in its meshes. For no president can be in the position of publicly dictating who shall be second man on the ticket with him. Hence, a dozen press conferences cannot put an end to the intraparty conflict that Harold Stassen has initiated.

Realizing this restriction, which every president must impose on himself just before a convention that is to renominate him, the anti-Nixon faction has a free field to make trouble for Eisenhower and endanger his chances of reelection. For the next few weeks, therefore, a member of the President's own official family "on leave of absence" will be giving aid and comfort to the Democrats by stimulating a disparaging campaign about the vice president in the face of the fact that Eisenhower himself speaks highly of the same individual. The Democrats naturally will take advantage of the split personality in the Republican party's leadership.

TRADITION OBSERVED

What Eisenhower said at his press conference, of course, follows the conventional and customary line—he doesn't "demand" or "request" that Nixon or anyone else be nominated for vice president. For the President himself, technically speaking, has not been renominated yet. There must be preserved, it seems, the fiction that national party conventions are "wide open" affairs never controlled by groups or leaders and subject only to the "free and untrammelled wishes" of more than 1,000 delegates.

This, of course, is the sheerest bunkum and Harold Stassen knows it, as does everyone who reads in the newspapers this week that Sen. Kefauver had withdrawn from the Democratic race in favor of Adlai Stevenson, even though a sizeable number of delegates were committed to the Kefauver banner. Delegates are not chosen by popular vote in many states, and delegations are not bound by the results of the primary elections, either.

The fight against Nixon has been a smear campaign from the start. It comes primarily from the "left-wing" and also from many of the groups which have been protesting against the efforts in Washington to get rid of Communists in government. As Sen. Mundt of South Dakota, Republican, expressed it, the Americans for Democratic Action, which master-minded the Stevenson campaign in 1952, is behind the anti-Nixon movement and is trying to dictate to the Republicans that they must get rid of Nixon. Mundt says it's probably because the ADA fears him most.

At present writing, most of the Republican delegates probably believe the President wants Nixon renominated. If the President, by so much as a nod to someone else or a phrase dropped carelessly in a press conference indicates some other preference, Stassen will be quick to cry out that this isn't dictation to the delegates but inspired advice in a "great cause."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Nutritional State Depends ---on Efficiency of Teeth

For years before my father succumbed to sarcoma (a type of cancer) of the intestine and abdominal wall, he cherished a theory that "all disease begins in the stomach," and accordingly he swallowed one or two teaspoonfuls of washed sterilized (oven-baked) white sand every day and he believed this kept him well—he urged me to follow his example and even to use the idea in my practice, but I never swallowed the theory or the sand. We still do not know the cause of cancer, so it is anybody's guess whether the sand eating had anything to do with the sarcoma.

From my eminence as a sophomore in medical school, I rejected Pa's theory and even cited the scientific fact that typhoid fever begins in the intestine—that's where the typhoid germs enter the blood. This didn't detain Pa. He came right back with, "And how did the germs get into the intestine, if not through the stomach?" Before I could dispose of that, father was describing how the gastric juice digests typhoid or other germs, just as it digests lean meat or egg albumen—if the stomach is in healthy condition . . .

It may be, as I have often been told, that I resemble my father. I hope I do, but in one way I know I don't—he had only three or four terms of schooling, while I had eighteen years of it. He was well read in history, biography, poetry, and I in nothing much except pathology and therapeutics. Pa gained a liberal education from his reading. My education was just medical.

Even so, I never could accept the notion that all disease begins in the stomach.

I have what I believe is a better theory I propound, one along the same line as father's but not quite so nutty—unless you regard everything unorthodox as nutty.

This is my theory: Premature old age begins in the mouth.

From my lifetime study, I believe a person's nutritional condition depends largely upon the functional efficiency of his or her teeth.

The chances are that the President will not say anything that will widen the split in his own party. Stassen will do that job, and Eisenhower will be helpless publicly to stop it.

Pass Crane Booklet On to Friends

Karen is a very influential teacher. But she doesn't stand in front of pupils in a classroom. No, she tactfully passes along the helpful advice which she senses will aid her neighbors and friends. In this respect every one of you readers can also be a wonderful educator, so follow Karen's policy.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
 Case S-328: Karen L., aged 56, is a good example of the intelligent modern widow, self-supporting and active in good causes.

"Dr. Crane, I wish to thank you for your splendid articles in our paper," she graciously commented.

"Indeed, your articles have been a life saver in teaching me how to adjust to life.

"For I was brought up in a convent and had the Victorian outlook. I was much in need of scientific counsel with a moral flavor.

"Now I have an opportunity to help other married couples, so I keep a file of your booklets and let my friends read them when I surmise they are in trouble.

"You say that our newspaper offers your column to help spread harmony and good will in family relations.

"So I am sure you approve of my passing your booklets around to others."

POWER OF GOOD

Yes, indeed, I heartily approve. These booklets are a non-profit educational adjunct of this column, so the more you can get out of them, the better.

Wants Harriman for Dem Nominee

Since no one has asked me my opinion on the Democratic nomination, I offer it freely. The man will be "Ave" Harriman and he'll make a great president. He has had more experience in government administration than all the other candidates combined and I'll toss in President Eisenhower as one to grow on. The New York Governor has really been around and he has been into government up to his eyes for years.

He knows more about foreign affairs than the next three men in the country combined. I got a smile at a crack one of his opponents made when he was told the New Yorker had thrown his hat in the ring. "Did he," queried the Republican, "throw in his wallet, too?" Ave labors under the handicap of extreme wealth, but there's another wealthy Democrat that has done a pretty tolerable job. I refer to our own G. Mennen Williams. Saily

Stan Swinton Says:

Nobody Asks Us to Camp Over There in America!

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U)—The 12 teen-agers were excited and very happy at the Rome airport.

They peeked at their passports, as do all new travelers, and giggled over the photos. The two girls wore pedal pushers and were very proud of them. Giuseppe sported a beard. Most of the other boys wore blue jeans, some faded and inches too short.

Their pinched faces and narrow chests were a tip-off to poverty and undernourishment. Back home I would have figured them as slum kids off for fresh air camp.

Giuseppe, who sat beside me in the old two-engine Yugoslav plane, fumbled with his seat belt with growing embarrassment. I offered to help.

"Thank you," he said gratefully. "You see this is my first time in an airplane, although I am president of the Partisan Sons of Term."

"That's an important job," I said. "Are your friends from Term, too?"

"No, they are all presidents of local federations of Partisan children. We are going to Bulgaria as guests of the comrades there. We are going to a big vacation camp on the Black Sea for six weeks."

Through coincidence, for the next four hours of chatting with Giuseppe and his friends in the intimacy of an airplane, I was to learn a partial answer to a question many Americans ask themselves:

"How are new Communists made in Western Europe by Moscow?"

Giuseppe was taken aback when I told him I was an American newspaperman. Then, as if to let me know he didn't think being an American was too bad, he said:

"Rocky Marciano is an American—an Italo-American."

I asked if he liked sports.

"Oh, yes. Cycling, soccer and boxing. Skiing, too."

"You should have seen Toni Sailer win the downhill at the Cortina Olympics," I said.

"Were you there?"

"Yes," I replied.

"The Russians were very strong. They won the Olympics. You must have seen them?"

"They were good in cross-country skiing and hockey," I said. "But nobody wins the Olympics." He looked at me wisely and said nothing.

By then the youngsters were sky-larking. One kept opening the door to the pilot's compartment so they could watch him at work.

"Other Partisan sons and daughters have been invited to camps in Hungary," Giuseppe volunteered. "The Communist nations are all comrades and they invite us as comrades even if Italy is not as far advanced."

"Maybe you better wait and see Bulgaria before you decide," I said.

"How would you like to visit the United States?" Giuseppe thought a minute and then smiled.

"I would like to go very much, to see Hollywood and meet Rocky Marciano. However, nobody ever asked us to go to a camp in America. The Bulgarians and Hungarians and Russians ask us."

At Belgrade, the youngsters waved friendly goodbyes to me — and headed cheerfully toward the Bulgarian indoctrination camp where they would be told that the America, which never invited them, was a place of evil.

EDUCATION IS ENDLESS

Father S. J. Kinnavey, of St. Ambrose College employed these medico-psychological booklets to help in conducting a seminar for the Catholic priests who were to instruct parishioners in the Pre-Cana and Cana Conferences so widely instituted by the Catholic Church.

So education spreads in a miraculous fashion. Truth marches on. We are all constructive teachers if we pass along even one little fragment of truth to help our neighbors.

All of you readers are thus educators, even though you may not have visualized yourself in the role of a professor.

Wisconsin, incidentally, is a very progressive state. Some years ago I was informed by one of the officials of the State Board of Education, that the high schoolers of Wisconsin had been surveyed.

"Where did you obtain your scientific sex information?" they were queried. "From physicians, teachers, parents, older brothers or sisters. Scout leaders or where?"

And of a large list of such sources, the investigators were surprised to find the daily newspaper rated third highest! To end up with third ranking, it had received many first places.

NEWSPAPER UNIVERSITIES

Puzzled, the investigators called in many of the students to be sure they understood the question.

"How could you rate the newspaper as the source of your scientific sex education?" these high schoolers were asked.

Then it was found that thousands of copies of my newspaper booklet "Sex Problems of Young People" were circulating among the high school youth of Wisconsin.

Having obtained those booklets from their local newspaper, the youth very properly credited the newspapers with being the source of their scientific sex education.

So never think that education is limited just to official school rooms!

If you have young folks to advise, send for that booklet "Sex Problems of Young People," enclosing a stamped return envelope plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long stamped self-addressed envelope and 50c to cover trying and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets. (Copyright 1956)

Security for You

Few Healthy Men Retire Past Age Requirements

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

The main reason men drawing Social Security payments give for retiring is that they're no longer able to work.

Few who are in good health retire because they want more leisure or because they feel they've worked long enough.

These are some of the findings of a 1951 survey made of men who at the time were drawing Social Security benefits. The full survey results were released only last year.

Whether a survey today would show similar results is an open question. Chances are it would.

In their order of importance, the survey showed these to be the reasons men gave for retirement:

Unable to work—40.8 per cent.
Job discontinued—20.5 per cent.
Reached company retirement age—10.7 per cent.
Considered unable to work by employer—6.6 per cent.
Didn't know or didn't remember why job lost—6.2 per cent.
Retired for miscellaneous reasons—5.7 per cent.
Retired, but looking for work—4 per cent.
Retired voluntarily in good health—3.8 per cent.

Muskegonite Leaves Grant to UM Studies

MUSKEGON (U)—A former Muskegon building inspector has left upward of $6,000 to University of Michigan cancer and heart research and $500 to a young neighbor who had both legs removed to relieve a heart defect.

Claude Nuell, 74, who died of cancer June 21, left an estate valued at $12,000 in personal property.

His will, filed for probate today, bequeathed $500 to 10-year-old Billy Skipper, who is learning the use of artificial limbs at Mary Free bed children's clinic in Grand Rapids following an earlier amputation.

The boy, long a sufferer of a blood circulation fault, and Nuell shared a common bond as patients under doctors' care, relatives said.

Nuell's will left about $6,000 to the university hospital where he received medical care during his illness. The remainder of the estate went to his widow, relatives and Lake Harbor Methodist Church.

Czechs Ship 100 New Jets to Aid Egypt

BERLIN (INS)—Czechoslovakia was reported today to be rushing delivery of nearly 100 MIG-15 jet fighters and light bombers to Egypt following an urgent appeal from President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Semi-official Czech sources in East Berlin also said a ship had left the Polish Baltic port of Szczecin for Alexandria loaded with light tanks, anti-aircraft weapons and light and heavy guns.

In London, during a House of Commons debate last night Laborite MP Col. George Wigg charged Britain has no planes in the Middle East that can match the best in the Egyptian Air Force.

Wigg claimed Britain has "not one squadron of sweptwing fighters in the Middle East."

A Helpful Fellow Heck!

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (U)—Mrs. Anna Bulgaria withdrew $300 from her savings account, walked to her automobile and encountered a man who told her the tie rod on the car was out of order.

"He offered to fix it for me," she told police. "He tinkered around with it for a while, then asked me to hold a wrench on a certain bolt."

Finally she got tired, dropped the wrench and opened the car door. The man was gone. So was her pocketbook with the $300.

Adlai's Strength Up in New Phone Poll

CHICAGO (U)—Adlai E. Stevenson today showed a gain in strength in a new Associated Press poll of Illinois delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

A telephone survey was made in the wake of the withdrawal of Sen. Estes Kefauver from the contest for the party's presidential nomination.

The latest tabulation—in terms of votes to be cast at the convention—gave Stevenson 30 and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri 1. In a mid-June poll, Stevenson had 19½, Symington 1 and Kefauver 1.

In the latest survey, delegates with 9 votes reported they were undecided and others with 5½ votes chose to remain silent on their preferences.

The balance of the delegation, representing 18½ votes, could not be reached.

Laughing Whitefish Falls

LANSING (U)—Gov. Williams has disclosed he is negotiating to preserve a scenic waterfall in Alger County, and in passing, took a swipe at legislative penny-pinching for making these steps necessary.

Involved is a 640-acre tract, the setting of Laughing Whitefish Falls. The Celotex Corp. of Chicago recently bought the falls as part of a huge timberland purchase from the Ford Foundation in the Upper Peninsula.

Williams said he has appealed to O.S. Mansell of Chicago, Celotex president, to give the falls and surrounding acreage to the state.

They had a "friendly talk," the governor said, and plan to discuss the matter further at a meeting in Chicago the week of Aug. 12. Williams said the falls site was one of the spots he had in mind when he asked the Legislature earlier this year for one million dollars to buy more property for state parks.

CHIDES LAWMAKERS

"The Legislature cut the request to $378,000 and so earmarked it that such acquisitions as Laughing Whitefish were impossible," he said.

"The same thing is going to happen to other spots of great value to the public as tourist attractions unless the Legislature wakes up to the need for more recreation lands," he said.

"It is my hope that the Celotex Corp., as a public service, will make some arrangement with the state for the preservation of the lovely Laughing Whitefish area as one of our natural shrines.

"My conversation with Mansell has encouraged me in this belief."

Williams said that if Celotex decided the tract was too valuable for its timber resources to permit an outright gift he had hopes of making some sort of land barter. State owned lands adjoin the Celotex purchase at some points.

Honduran Revolt Quelled,
30 Killed in Seven Hours

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (U)—Extra troops patrolled the Honduran capital today in the wake of an abortive seven-hour revolt that claimed at least 30 lives. But citizens used to sporadic outbreaks went about their business as usual.

Authorities rounded up 130 suspects for questioning in connection with the attempt against the harassed regime of Honduras' constitutional dictator, chief of state Julio Lozano.

A government spokesman said the revolt began at 1:30 a.m. yesterday when 400 troops stationed at the San Francisco armory attempted to seize the city.

The government brought up infantry and opened fire on the armory until the rebels ran up the white flag at 9 a.m. Cleanup squads were sent through the city to run down rebel remnants.

Business returned to normal. Villeda Morales denied the charge in San Jose, Costa Rica, where he has lived since the Lozano regime exiled him last month on charges of plotting against the state.

during the afternoon and pedestrians filled the streets.

One government announcement accused followers of defeated presidential candidate Roman Villeda Morales of joining with Communist elements to spark the revolt.

A government spokesman said ringleaders in yesterday's uprising included the temporary commander of the army, an officer named Santos Osorio Paz. The spokesman also accused "Ezequiel Escoto, newspaper columnist for the liberal newspaper El Pueblo and a known Communist sympathizer, and Carlos Somoza, an alleged labor agitator responsible for many recent disturbances among Honduran laborers."

Woolson's Passing Tolls Death Knell for Once-Powerful 400,000-Man GAR

NEW YORK (U)—The obituary of encampments never became noted for high jinks, in the way the Grand Army of the Republic was written today.

It was born April 6, 1866, at Decatur, Ill., and died at Duluth, Minn., with the passing of its last survivor, Albert Woolson.

It is fitting that Woolson, the last GAR member, should also have been the last living man of the more than two million who wore the Federal blue in 1861-65.

Today's generation saw the grand army as old men, their individual feebleness increasing as their collective number dwindled. Save for the halos bestowed by history and grandfathers' tales, there was no vestige and valor of their youth.

In that youth, they had marched and fought in a war that even today exercises a peculiar and undying hold on the American imagination. They had been part of a great past. In 1865, at the grand review in Washington, soldiers going home from the war paraded on Pennsylvania avenue, 60 men abreast, for six hours one day and for seven the next.

ALBERT WOOLSON

POWER AT POLLS

The voting power of such a multitude was not overlooked by politicians. Nor were the veterans unaware of it. It had been thrust to their attention during the war by the many ways in which their favors at the ballot box had been sought, perhaps most notably by the ease with which home furnishings were obtainable around election time.

When the boys came home, they were cheered, paraded, dined, wine and feted. The undying gratitude of their nation, their states and their communities was pledged to them. But the ex-soldiers were not long in discovering that undying gratitude would not pay grocery bills.

Jobs were hard to get. So many jobless veterans were roaming the streets that fears of a crime wave were voiced. The veterans retorted that employers were discriminating against them. The numbers of crippled added to the problem (50,000 men, North and South, came home minus arms or legs).

In such trouble circumstances, the veterans were in a receptive mode when politicians reminded them, "in union there is strength." In the 1866 election, veterans organizations were a dime a dozen. Most of them died out in a few years. The GAR survived.

The Grand Army wasn't intended to be a political unit. Dr. B. F. Stephenson, former surgeon of Illinois Infantry who is honored as the founder, is supposed to have envisioned a great brotherhood of former soldiers, bonded together by mutual affections and memories. It didn't turn out quite that way.

states as in Illinois, the Grand Army in its early years was little more than an instrument of the BACK GOP.

The Democrats were in the business of organizing veterans too—and they had some success—but they could not offer a military hero like U. S. Grant as a rallying point, and the background influences of the war tended to throw the former soldiers into Republican arms. "Vote as You Shot," was a watchword.

The GAR's violently partisan political capers alienated—as many veterans as they attracted. There were rumors it was a secret political society plotting to take over the government. This rumor was not quieted by the weird mumbo-jumbo of rituals and secret signs.

Under such discrediting, undermining influences, the Grand Army's membership nosedived, from 240,000 to 25,000 in the early 1870s. Then the tide turned.

The ritual system was abolished. Partisan activity was soft-pedaled as veterans took over control from the politicians. The charity and relief programs for which the GAR became famous got under way.

The GAR was always generous with its own funds in aiding needy and crippled veterans. As early as 1873, when the national treasury was operating on a deficit, individual posts reported $48,000 spent in relief work.

The membership rolls increased steadily to the 1890 peak of more than 400,000. After that, age and declining vigor took inevitable tolls of GAR influence and activity. GAR incidents like the time a GAR guard patrolled Confederate graves in Arlington to see that no flowers were placed on them.

The 1938 meeting at Gettysburg was the last time the veterans of both sides met publicly together. North and South had met previously in peace at Gettysburg, in 1913 the 50th anniversary of the battle. That reunion attracted 53,407 veterans. In 1938, only 1,845 were able to get there, although nearly every state was represented. The proceedings proved a fitting requiem to the veterans' story with the dedication of the dent Roosevelt to "peace eternal, Eternal Light Memorial by President in a nation united."

The Rev. C. J. Widdifield, pastor of All Saints Episcopal Church, 171 W. Pike St., told Pontiac Police yesterday thieves who broke into the church Tuesday night ransacked desks but took nothing. Detectives are investigating.

Sewage Water Slated for California Oranges

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (U)—The Talbert Water District in Southern California's Orange County expects to get started this year as the first district in the United States organized to reclaim irrigation water from sewage.

Most of the ground water wells in the Talbert district have been ruined by intrusion of sea water. The farmers voted to pay an as-essment of $80 an acre to get their sewage treatment plant.

Getting in Trouble? Blame Your Conscience

By PHYLIS BATTLE
NEW YORK (INS)—Conscience—that still, small voice in the psyche that keeps warning us not to do things we know are wrong—got a belting around this week.

No less an authority on right-and-wrong than the Rev. Dr. Robert J. McCracken of New York's Riverside Church did the job. He pointed out that the old saw, "Let your conscience be your guide," can be a dangerous maxim indeed for a man whose conscience is unenlightened.

"There are all too many whose conscience tells them at the age of 50 exactly what it told them at 20," said the doctor. And the "rudimentary" conscience which one develops as a child will not necessarily stand up through the years.

In other words, there are too many grown men who will forego the temptation to smoke cornsilk behind barns, but will blithely stroll the moonlit path behind the country club with another man's wife. The theory, here, is that his conscience allows it.

BLAME FATHER

Thirty years ago papa warned against the cornsilk habit. But at the same time, he urged gentleness toward womanhood.

A sluggish conscience can re-enforce a great many things. And childhood, at the taboos and loving recommendations which were placed upon my foolish girl's nog-gin, I can only assume I would be in a devil of a spot if allowed to follow my six-year-old conscience.

SIGN OF TROUBLE—The way this campaign poster in St. Louis, Mo., was placed has the candidates involved unhappy. The poster was placed on top of a "Caution Children" traffic sign. Motorists can't miss the political plug—but they might not miss the children.

For one thing, I would do practically nothing on Sundays—no movies, cards, dancing, concerts, ball games. But I could love everybody in sight.

This would cause a batch of trouble.

I would do unto others always as others do unto me.

This would, upon occasion, have led to my being libelous or bankrupt.

TIMES DIFFER

When slapped, I always would turn the other cheek; in New York you can get seriously injured that way. And when crossing streets I always would look both ways first; in New York the pedestrians would trample you to death.

The polite, kind, good advice of childhood must be revised slightly to be practicable in the world in which one later lives and works. The taboos must be thought out carefully, and corrected to fit the times. For, as a man named Michel de Montaigne said back in the 16th Century, when conscience was every bit as troublesome as it is today:

"The laws of conscience, which we pretend to be derived from nature, proceed from custom."

Japanese War Criminal Freed

U.S. Commutes Penalty Against Soldier Jailed for Killing Iowa GI

WASHINGTON (AP)—American justice has freed a Japanese soldier serving 30 years in a Tokyo prison for the execution of an U. S. Army captain during World War II.

Sgt. Seitaro Fujita was granted a parole July 15 and has been released from Tokyo's Sugamo Prison, where he spent more than 10 years at hard labor for the execution of Capt. Burton C. Thomson, Suez City, Iowa.

Last March, George Cochran Doub, then U. S. attorney for the District of Maryland and now an assistant attorney general with the Justice Department, wrote the U. S. Clemency and Parole Board urging Fujita's release.

Doub prosecuted the government's attempt to retry John David Provoo, former Army sergeant charged with treason while a prisoner of the Japanese during World War II.

Provoo later won his freedom in Baltimore federal court on several technicalities concerning his trial and long imprisonment.

Doub wrote the clemency board:

"Further imprisonment of Fujita, a Japanese enlisted man with only six years' schooling, carrying out in the presence of his superior officer a military order, originating with his battalion commander... and provoked by an American prisoner of war, Provoo, seems a grotesque travesty of justice..."

"Fujita had never even seen Thomson prior to his arrest" and "the fact that Fujita transmitted Provoo's charges against Thomson to his superiors was as natural an act as the succeeding reports... in the chain of command... and was not a war crime..."

Capt. Thomson, executed on Corregidor Island in the Philippines May 20, 1942, allegedly had refused Japanese demands for food from a hospital he commanded.

Junior College Unit Named by Williams

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has announced establishment of a 24-member junior and community college study commission.

He asked Gordon Reichmiller, assistant superintendent of schools in Highland Park, to serve as chairman. He did not list the others asked to serve on the commission.

Williams said the commission will study the number of community colleges that would be needed, what curricula they should offer, their costs and other problems.

"I trust the commission will be able to provide me with a report well before the opening of the next legislative session," Williams said.

"We cannot overlook the immediate need to incorporate our junior and community colleges into our total education system and to do it in the proper fashion."

Juke Box Czar to Pay Half Million to Be Alone

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (U)—Millionaire juke box distributor Jean J. Minthorne will pay $409,000 over the next 10 years to live alone after 31 years of marriage.

This figure was set in court yesterday after Minthorne's wife Marian, 46, won a separate maintenance decree.

She testified that Minthorne, 52, moved out of the Beverly Hills family home last Nov. 9, telling her he no longer loved her and wanted to be alone.

The $409,000 will come from the various business enterprises which she helped her husband establish during their marriage.

Just What Is Going On—and Why?

Kefauver, Stassen Actions Bewilder Political Sages

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (U)—What a switch in men and parties!

Ten days ago, so far as is known, Harold E. Stassen and Sen. Estes Kefauver still yearned to move their furniture into the White House. Now Stassen says he has given up on the presidency permanently. Kefauver has given up on it this year, at least.

Nine days ago this month's political conventions looked like a picnic for the Republicans, a cat-and-dog fight for the Democrats. Now the opposite may be true, thanks to Stassen and Kefauver.

When the sun came up July 23 this was the picture:

1. Stassen, a presidential candidate in every election since 1944, wasn't running this year. He didn't have a chance anyway. President Eisenhower was running. There was no reason to think Stassen still didn't have the bug for 1960. Meanwhile, he seemed content with his job as Eisenhower's special assistant on disarmament.

2. The Republicans' professional politicians seemed to have everything so neatly arranged that the delegates to the convention, opening Aug. 20, would have trouble finding something to do until the time came to rubber-stamp the Eisenhower-Nixon ticket again.

Before sundown July 23 Stassen began talking so loudly and long that the Republican convention may turn into a contest over the vice presidency.

Stassen said private polls showed Vice President Nixon would be a "burden" on the ticket—he says now Nixon would lose millions of votes—and should step aside in favor of Gov. Christian A. Herter of Massachusetts as Eisenhower's running mate.

Republican pros jumped him in a hurry, even suggested he resign. Instead, he talked more. Now Eisenhower has permitted him a month's leave to go out and stir up Republican delegates against Nixon.

Then on Sunday Stassen said he is not only not a candidate to be Eisenhower's running mate this year but has forever taken himself out of consideration for the presidency and vice presidency.

Yesterday, before the sun came up, this was the Democratic picture:

A hot convention, opening Aug. 13, with Adlai Stevenson and Kefauver the front-running contenders for the presidential nomination and New York's Gov. Averell Harriman and others scrambling for it too.

Stevenson had a good edge in indicated strength but Kefauver, who practically exhausted himself in 1952 and again this year in pursuit of the Democratic nomination, still hoped, or so it seemed, he'd be tapped.

Yesterday Kefauver, suddenly and unexpectedly, announced he was quitting the race in favor of Stevenson and would give him his support. He said he realized he didn't have a chance.

Harriman says he's still running. So there may still be a fight at the convention. And a struggle over a civil rights plan, between Northern and Southern Democrats could bust the convention and the party wide open.

But at the moment things look calmer for the Democrats. Kefauver and Stevenson had nice things to say about each other. This was a switch from their bitterness in the primaries. Kefauver weeks ago had said he had been unpleasant about Stevenson only because "I got mad and lost my head."

Social Security Extended to GIs

Ike Signs Bill to Lure More Men Into Service, Kills Free Insurance

WASHINGTON (U)—Starting Jan. 1 all servicemen will come under the Social Security system and benefits will be increased for many survivors of persons who die on active military duty, or as a result of such service.

Signing legislation authorizing this program, President Eisenhower said that "for the first time in many years Congress has given a measure of financial security to the families of our soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines."

The bill—aimed in part at making the military service more attractive as a career—ranked high on Eisenhower's legislative program.

In its first year, the increased benefits will cost an estimated 458 million dollars. The costs were expected to decline slightly after that.

A Veterans Administration spokesman estimated "a few hundred thousand" widows, orphans and dependent parents of deceased veterans would benefit.

Military personnel brought under the Social Security system will contribute part of their pay, and the government also will pay toward their credit.

The bill also ends, as of Dec. 31, the right of service personnel to $10,000 in free life insurance. And it provides that after that date discharged personnel will no longer be allowed to buy low-cost government life insurance, unless they are disabled.

Reciprocal License Okayed in 15 States

CHICAGO (U)—Representatives of six Midwestern states have drafted an agreement for reciprocal truck licensing throughout 15 central states.

The agreement would permit an Illinois trucker to operate in the other 14 states on his Illinois license alone.

Illinois would extend the same courtesy to truckers licensed in other states in the compact.

The six states represented at the meeting today were Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Michigan, Missouri and Kentucky.

The other nine states involved in the compact are Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Arkansas, Texas and Oklahoma.

Montreal adopted a sales tax in 1935, New Orleans in 1936, the City of Quebec in 1940, and five other Quebec municipalities between 1941 and 1943. No other cities imposed sales taxes until after World War II.

Bob Considine Says:

Vice President Spot to Spark Conventions

NEW YORK (INS)—People... places... things... Every man I've ever met would like to be a Lewis Cotlow. He is the only friend of mine living a double life with no chance of being said. Lew is a successful New York insurance broker who is as much at home with the stone age people of the upper Amazon as he is on Pine Street, in the lee of the Wall Street palisades.

Member of the Explorers Club, Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of Great Britain, and past president of the Adventurers Club and the Circumnavigators Club, Lew has produced a new best seller in Zanzibuku. His tricolor production of the same dramatic record of his third big expedition will open here the middle of the month.

We saw a watermelon type wedge-sample of Zanzibuku ("Dangerous Safari") at the Explorers Club dinner at the Waldorf last spring and it appears to be Cot-low's best. There's one shot of a rhino charging a jeep that will keep me from ever joining Cotlow on any expedition harder than shaking for the drinks in some str-conditioner.

Still, it must be nice to lead Lew's kind of life. Cotlow is one New Yorker I've never seen bored. Gored, perhaps, but never bored.

Speaking of big game hunting, Dan Eisenberg, who runs the "Forgotten Fortune" series for Editor Warden Woolard of the Los Angeles Examiner, is about to be

Simple Solution

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The staff of St. Mary's Hospital was frantic when 7-year-old Jimmy Lopez, his comic books and his cleaning tissue disappeared. They found Jimmy, who was recovering from tonsillitis, at home. "They said I could go home but I got tired of waiting and went," he said, after walking the four miles from the hospital.

featured in a 26-week TV series. Eisenberg has conducted the Traders Company of America for the past 33 years. It searches out missing persons, mainly heirs, husbands and/or wives on the lam, lost uncles (if rich enough), even tombstones. He figures he has dug up or interred about 500,000 people in that time.

There's now going to be more interest in the vice presidential race at Chicago and San Francisco than in the contest for the top spot. Looking back on American political history, this is almost like saying that the big interest in the American and National League pennant races this year is who finishes second in each loop.

Sen. Estes Kefauver's sudden capitulation to Adlai Stevenson ("I had my doubts about him but he has developed into a formidable campaigner who can define the issues clearly") is hailed in the Stevenson camp with almost the consternation that Harold Stassen's anti-Nixon campaign hit certain Republican quarters.

Kefauver has been saying for four years, that he has no interest in the vice presidency. Stassen has removed himself from political ambition "forever." Yet the feeling persists that neither move was a complete surprise, despite the furor each act caused. It just doesn't seem possible, in politics at least, that men as personally ambitious as Kefauver and Stassen, and with their followings, would engage in such apparent bridge-burning without hope of future gain.

How much did the steelworkers lose by striking? The precise truth may never be known. But in April the average weekly wage was $100.04, with take-home pay of $86.54 after deductions for taxes and social security. The 1952 strike lasted 54 days, for an average loss of $622. During the most recent strike, management pointed out the worker would need more than 11 years to recover his losses from an 8-week strike which resulted in a 3-cent hourly gain.

Nasser hasn't been the same since he gave a news conference to some newspaper junketeers in 1955 and Harry Reutlinger of the Chicago American said to him, at the end of Nasser's remarks on land reform, "I guess you're going to whack up that land among your relatives, eh?"

Milk Subsidy Pared

LONDON — The British Government has announced that, as part of its economic retrenchment program, the consumer subsidy will be reduced from $104,000,000 to $56,000,000, adding almost a cent a quart to the consumer price of milk. The cut will not affect the school-milk or fare-milk programs.

Only New Zealand and the United States have a generally established 40-hour work week. Most other industrial nations have a 48-hour work week.

Germans' FlightBureaucracy, Justice
Abuses Have Prompted
Western Movement

BERLIN (AP)—The chief of the East German Communist party said today "cold-blooded bureaucracy" and abuses of justice have prompted the mass flight of refugees from East Germany to the West.

Party boss Walter Ulbricht called for improvement of conditions in the Soviet zone of Germany in a speech to his party's central committee. It was printed in the official Communist organ Neues Deutschland.

In line with the current campaign in the Soviet satellites to allay public unrest, Ulbricht said conditions should be bettered to attract "youths, members of the intelligentsia and skilled laborers" to East Germany.

Ulbricht also reported 80 East German Communists blacklisted by the party during the Stalin era have been cleared in a review of past injustices.

He acknowledged the sudden attack by Soviet leaders on Stalin caused confusion in East German party ranks. But Ulbricht, long a follower of Stalin, praised the present Soviet leaders for helping strengthen the Communist party.

In Prague, the Czechoslovak Parliament gave the Communist government a unanimous vote of confidence.

Though the debate on government policy was a novelty in recent history of the satellite nation, the outcome was as expected.

The parliamentary debate and other new tokens of softening of iron rule in other Communist nations were viewed in Vienna as efforts to prevent more workers' bread-and-freedom uprisings such as occurred in Poznan, Poland, June 28.

In Budapest, Hungary's prosecutor acknowledged that thousands had been executed or imprisoned unjustly but promised a better future.

AFTER THE BRAWL IS OVER — This wild melee, looking like the brawl to end brawls, is actually a staged fight scene, being filmed in Elastree, England. The shenanigans are necessary for a scene in the film, "The Good Companions." Out of the dangerous-looking pile-up of stars and extras, the actors emerged unscathed.

U.S. to Stay Neutral
During Doria Probe

NEW YORK (AP)—Counsel for a House subcommittee will be assigned as observers at the Italian and Swedish investigations of the Andrea Doria-Stockholm crash in which the Italian liner was sunk.

Rep. Herbert C. Bonner (D-N.C.), who opened a House Merchant Marine Committee study yesterday, said there might be open hearings in Washington on the crash.

But the committee, Bonner said, wanted "to avoid throwing any weight one way or the other with respect to court litigation."

Bonner predicted it would take at least a year for the committee to prepare a report on the question of maritime safety. Subcommittee members yesterday visited the damaged Swedish liner Stockholm, in a Brooklyn drydock for repairs to its shattered bow. Later, members interviewed officials of the Italian Line.

British Coal Ship Sinks off Australian Harbor

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—The 640-ton British coal ship Birchgrove Park sank today six miles off the entrance to Sydney Harbor. Seven were known dead, one was missing and six were rescued.

Survivors, picked up after clinging to wreckage for eight hours, were not able immediately to give a coherent account of what had happened.

One theory was that the collier struck a mine that had broken away from a wartime field. Naval riflemen destroyed a floating mine in the same area last month.

'Buzz Boys' Bailed

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Birney T. Havey, accused of "buzzing" the city in his low-flying plane June 29, has been freed on bail to await Circuit Court trial in September on a charge of endangering lives. Havey and a companion on the flight, Frederick Sergeant, also are awaiting Municipal Court trial on a charge of drunkenness.

Ike Flashes Old Humor at First Press Conference Since Illness

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower dramatically dedicated his life to his country yesterday during a discussion of his health at the first presidential press conference since his ileitis operation.

Asked bluntly about his chances of living out a possible second term, Ike soberly replied that he thinks it is not too important to an individual how his end comes. It is the country that matters.

Stressing his deep desire to "rebuild" the Republican party, he added simply that the GOP still thinks he is important to the party and to the country. For that reason, he said, he made up his mind that he should try.

STILL HAS GRIN
Ike's double-breasted suit hung loosely on his thinned-down frame, and his voice lacked the resonance of old, but he was still the master of his famed boyish grin as he withstood a barrage of excruciatingly personal questions.

With a patience newly acquired, Eisenhower said he feels good, but not as well as he did a year ago.

Under ordinary circumstances, the simple candor of the reply would have stayed further questioning. This was not such an occasion. For weeks the entire world had been hanging on the presidential health bulletins, and this was the first opportunity to query the famous patient in person.

A newscaster, apologizing for the delicacy of the subject, asked whether printed reports were true.

Brisk Business Done in Tape Recordings

BERLIN — The European Tape Institute, a West Berlin enterprise, is doing a brisk international business in tape recordings. It has a collection of more than 1,000 different titles, in many languages.

Included are folk music, classical and popular music, political speeches, papers by scientists and physicians, interviews, features, reports, and stories on many subjects. Tapes can be bought or rented.

that Ike is suffering from dysentery.

An explosive "no" was the reply. A year ago, such a highly personal question would have been a signal to set Ike's quick temper aflame. Today, after a momentary pause, he added amiably that although doctors had warned this might happen, it had not occurred.

Just an hour before the conference, three doctors who re-examined the President had pronounced him "in fine shape." They said Ike's "bowel tone" has been good and that the lower colon area bypassed in the ileitis operation is functioning normally. They found "no heart deterioration" and decided that his lost weight is nothing to worry about.

Ike, standing throughout the half-hour conference, leaned occasionally on the desk with its telegraphic yellow blotter. More often, however, he crossed his arms above his chest, or thrust one hand loosely into a pant's pocket.

DIDN'T READ PAPERS

His own health seemed to give Ike little concern. He observed that he has improved every day since the operation, and that although doctors have warned him not to expect robust health until four months from that date, he is not prevented from "going ahead and doing my work."

A flash of the old good humor came when a reporter asked whether he underwent "a long period of indecision after the operation," before deciding to continue the presidential race.

Grinning, Ike retorted that when you're hurting like he was, you don't read the papers. Consequently, he was unaware of all the renewed interest in his intentions at the time.

Then, gently tweaking the press, he reminisced that for three weeks after leading the Battle of the Bulge, he saw no American papers. Not until then, he chuckled, did he become "frightened" and discover we were "getting whipped."

A bit proudly, Ike reminded that ileitis is considered a "young man's disease," and doctors know of only four other cases involving such an operation on anyone of his age. In none of these, he added firmly, has there been a recurrence of the ailment.

Writ to Paint House Granted by Judge

DETROIT (AP)—Attorney Damon Keith got his nephew to paint his house—on a writ of habeas corpus. The nephew, Harold Harris, was being held for investigation when Keith showed up and asked that the youth be released to his custody. "I want him to finish painting my house," said Keith. The judge said, "I admire your honesty" and released Harris on the writ.

The peculiarly lettered sign was put on the new highway by the Illinois State Highway Commission, as part of a series of visual testing on roads throughout a large area.

Refugees Flee From Red China

'Easy' Exit Permits Resulting in Crackdown of Communist Rulers

HONG KONG (INS) — More than 40,000 Chinese have fled to Hong Kong from Communist China in the past three months and alarmed Red authorities have ordered a crackdown on "easy" exit permits.

According to Hong Kong officials, most of the refugees have entered the British crown colony in search of employment. Southern areas of the Red China mainland have been in the grip of mass labor layoffs.

Hong Kong, however, which is itself partially on the Chinese mainland, has already taken in more than a million refugees and is ill-equipped to accommodate more.

British officials discouraged the flow several years ago because of lack of housing and severe water and food shortages in the colony.

The Communists helped by imposing severe travel restrictions. Recently, a new flow of refugees started when the Chinese Communists suddenly relaxed these same restrictions.

WHY BAN WAS EASED

There are two reasons the Communists eased their ban. One was because of a "new look" whereby the Reds invited overseas Chinese to return to the homeland for visits and relaxed their own ban on outside trips.

Secondly, the Chinese were believed to be anxious to thin out overcrowded cities like Canton by encouraging old people and other unproductive citizens to leave, even if it meant going to the British colony.

Hong Kong authorities have taken no new measures to restrict the continuing inflow of Communist victims, but an authority said if the present rate continues the British may have to act.

NO JOBS AVAILABLE

He said it was likely that most of the 40,000 who have entered in the past three months would find it virtually impossible to get jobs and probably would find it necessary to return to Communist rule. Meantime, Communist authorities, apparently embarrassed over the large number of persons who have taken advantage of the easy travel conditions to abandon the mainland, are starting to crack down.

The refugees invariably tell a story of hardship and misery under the Communist regime and say they are reluctant to return to their homes because of mass unemployment.

Tennessee Primary to Have Quiet Tone

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (U)—Tennessee vote today in Democratic and Republican primaries that have aroused scant interest.

The reason for the quiet tone was the lack of a governor's race for the first time in years. The two-year governor's term was abolished and Gov. Frank Clement was elected to a four-year term in 1954.

Seven of Tennessee's nine congressmen, including both Republicans, were unopposed for renomination.

Rep. Percy Priest of the 5th Dist. (Nashville) drew opposition in the Democratic primary from Richard Fulton, young Nashville businessman.

In the 6th Dist. Rep. Ross Bass had two Democratic opponents — Pat Sutton, who represented the district 1945-54, and Bill Carrigan, a onetime radio disc jockey.

Nominees also were to be chosen for the 33 State Senate and 99 House seats.

Horse and Buggy Invite

CAROL (U)—Two 4-H Club members from Tuscola County, Robert Griffith, 18, and Clyde Fletcher, 14, are on a 108-mile trip in an old-fashioned horse and buggy. They plan to invite Gov. Williams to the Tuscola County Fair Aug. 20-23. The pair left Caro Monday on their one-horsepower jaunt and expect to arrive in Lansing Friday.

Lubec, Me., is the most easterly town in the United States.

Capac Couple Gassed Accidentally at Home

CAPAC (U)—Claude Robinson, 77, and his 74-year-old wife, Clayton, were found dead in their Capac home last night.

Coroner Arthur Smith ruled the deaths were accidental. He said the couple had asphyxiated. Gas jets were partially open.

U.S. Secretary of the Interior Fred A. Seaton is a newspaperman.

Steel Talks to Continue

NEW YORK (U)—Further negotiations were expected today in efforts to effect complete agreement on steel contracts and get some 650,000 striking United Steelworker members back to work after more than a month of idleness.

Southern Dems Hold Meeting

Statement of Principles for Party Unity Issued at Solidarity Confab

ATLANTA (U)—Democratic leaders of 11 Southern states at a Southern solidarity conference early today unanimously approved a statement of principles which they said would be a long step toward party unity at the Democratic National Convention.

The conference, called to forge a solid Southern front on the touchy civil rights issue, declared that "with mutual understanding, the Democratic National Convention can write a platform acceptable to the South and to the nation."

"We are closer to unity than ever before," Gov. Marvin Griffin of Georgia declared enthusiastically after adoption of the conference statement.

Hammered out by a subcommittee after nearly five hours of work, the statement generally followed the mild tone adopted by seven Southern Democratic state chairmen meeting here last month.

Gov. George Bell Timmerman Jr. of South Carolina, who presided, set the theme for the conference when he said in his opening statement that the purpose of the meeting was to "try to work together to secure a platform which would be acceptable to the South and to the nation, working within the framework of the Democratic party."

Skin Diver Dies While Practicing for Aqua Pictures

NANTUCKET, Mass. (U)—Lack of oxygen in the blood was blamed today for the death of a skin diver while practicing dives before taking underwater pictures of the sunken liner Andrea Doria.

William Edgerton, 23, of Belmont, died shortly after he was pulled from the waters of Nantucket harbor.

He was one of a group of about 20 in a privately financed expedition to film the liner which plunged into 225 feet of water 45 miles south of Nantucket after a collision with the Swedish liner Stockholm last week.

Dr. Christian J. Lamberton, a physician member of the expedition, said one of the valves on Edgerton's breathing apparatus somehow became partially closed.

Good Intent Leads to Death of Infant

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (U)—A mother's attempt to make her infant daughter more comfortable as they rode in the family auto resulted in the child's death, police said.

Officer Howard Rarick of nearby Orwigsburg said Mrs. Anna Shoener was driving near her home with 5-week-old Janet Elaine propped on the seat beside her. She noticed the sun glaring into the child's eyes.

As she tried to move the baby, the auto mounted a curb and struck a tree, fatally injuring the child, Rarick said. Mrs. Shoener suffered fractures and cuts.

Radford ROK Bound

TAIPEI, Formosa (U)—Adm. Arthur W. Radford left today for South Korea. He told newsmen the Chinese Nationalists during his visit had asked for more military aid, a request the chairman of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff said he gets everywhere he goes.

FINAL EXAM — Donald Oliver of Louisville, Ky., takes his final test with his dog from the Leader Dogs for the Blind School in Rochester. Oliver comes down the steps of Kresge's, final exam ground for the students at the school, as his German shepherd, Mark, leads the way. This is Oliver's first leader dog. He returns to Kentucky today where he sells for Blind Industries. Oliver has no worries about his new friend. "I'm very well satisfied . . . even better than I expected," he said.

Final Exam in City Store Ends Leader Dog Course

Yesterday was a big day in the lives of 11 blind people taking instructions from the Leader Dogs for the Blind School in Rochester. A new life with more freedom and ease of mobility was opening up for them as they took their final test in downtown Pontiac using a leader dog.

Training ground in Pontiac for the 11 was Kresge's, at the corner of Saginaw and Huron. Around the counters and up and down the stairs were just a few of the maneuvers the 11 were requested to perform.

The 11 split up today for their homes all over the country, ranging from Costa Rica to Oklahoma, Texas and Kentucky.

Just one lives in Michigan. The four weeks course they've just finished at the Leader Dog school gave them each a dog and taught them how to depend on the dogs for their free movement.

The Rochester School is staffed by executive director Harold L. Pocklington; a kennel manager and five instructors who live with the blind students and train them as they become acquainted with their dogs.

The four week course costs $150 for a blind person. This includes board, room and the dog, says Instructor Vincent Syracuse. It costs $1,250 to completely train one man and one dog.

There's no profit, and sometimes money problems arise, he said. The school is supported by contributions from the Lions Club and the Pontiac United Fund.

Dogs which are later trained to become dependable leaders are donated by the public. Pocklington says there is not much trouble with shortages of dogs. If the occasion does arise, appeals are made and new dogs are sent to the school immediately.

The dogs must be from one to two years of age and friendly. Pocklington emphasized. Dogs required for leaders are German Shepherds, collies, and the retriever breeds. The dogs are guaranteed for eight years.

The school's accommodations for 18 persons. The four week courses are repeated every month.

Plane Victim Found in Lake, 2 More Sought

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind. (AP)—The broken body of one of three victims of a private plane crash was recovered Wednesday. Search continued today for the other two victims and the plane.

A Coast Guard cutter towed ashore the body of Bruce Skamser, 37, of Des Plaines, Ill., pilot of the Beechcraft Bonanza that plunged into Lake Michigan off nearby Beverly Shores Sunday.

Joe Phillips, owner of an airport here, spotted Skamser's body from the air. It was floating about 400 yards from the beach and 1 1/2 miles west of where the burning plane hit the water.

Martin Crane of Park Ridge, Ill., and Jack Smith of Chicago, were flying to Michigan with Skamser to inspect a school project for their firm, General Door & Enclosure Co., Chicago.

Truck, 2 Cars Crash; 3 Killed

2 Injured Include Man
From Michigan; Mother of 2 Dies

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—Three young Erie women were killed and two men injured early today in a three-way crash at the intersection of routes 5 and 98, about 8 miles west of Erie.

State police said the collision involved a tractor trailer owned by Trans-American Trucking and two autos. The dead were in one car.

They were identified as Brenda Howell, 16, Sandra Lee Chase of Erie, and Mrs. Nanette Caughlin, 19, mother of two, of Lake City, a suburb of Erie.

Miss Chase apparently died instantly. Miss Howell died in an ambulance en route to a hospital and Mrs. Caughlin died in Hamot Hospital.

WYANDOTTE MAN HURT

Injured were Gordon Seal, 26, of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, and Woodward Cantrell, 42, of Wyandotte. Cantrell was driving the tractor trailer. Both men were admitted to Hamot Hospital. A third man—unidentified—escaped injury. Details of the crash were not available. First reports said the tractor trailer hit the car with the three women and it hurtled into the path of the other auto.

Pastel Colored Shrimps Seen in '57 Catches

WASHINGTON (AP)—Shrimp with heads of pastel colors may be turning up in the catches of shrimp trawlers next year.

The Fish and Wildlife Service said today biologists of the Institute of Marine Science of the University of Texas have discovered a safe and simple way of identifying shrimp for study through use of dyes.

The dyes are introduced into a shrimp's body by hypodermic needle or through food. They color only the head of the shrimp, not the edible portions.

So far blue and red dyes have been used successfully. Some shrimp have shown the coloring for as long as 215 days, and through two molts on their shells.

Because shrimp molt periodically as part of their growth process, the usual methods of tagging have been only partially satisfactory in making studies of movements and migrations.

A service spokesman said the color experiments have reached the stage, where it may be possible some time next year to catch and dye shrimp in quantity and release them. Records would be kept so as to provide data on any which were caught again.

The shrimp fishery is America's largest in terms of money paid for the product at the boat—more than 70 million dollars a year. Most of the nation's production is in the Gulf of Mexico.

Does Capital Soothsayer Sway Politics?

WASHINGTON (INS)—An amateur seeress may have played a role in Sen. Estes Kefauver's decision to withdraw from the presidential race and dramatically throw his support to rival Adlai Stevenson.

The sequence at least makes intriguing study. Nearly a year ago, Kefauver's titian-haired wife, Nancy, had her fortune told by Mrs. Jeane Dixon, Washington seeress who frequently reads for ambassadors, cabinet officers and White House occupants.

Nancy wanted to know whether her husband's chances looked sufficiently bright for her to leave their four children for an extended period, and help campaign. Jeane, after solemn consultation with the crystal ball, told her: "The Senator will not receive the nomination, but he will win second place on the Stevenson ticket."

Mrs. Kefauver sat out this year's primary campaign, except for brief appearances with her husband in Florida and California.

Several months ago, while reading for a group at a party, Jeane was asked by Kefauver whether, or not, Kefauver issued his now-famed apology at that time, and publicly "regretted" any ill-advised words spoken during the heat of the Florida campaign.

Stevenson easily won the California primary, and former President Harry S. Truman, by now alarmed, secretly dispatched former national chairman Frank McKinney to New York to negotiate with Carmine de Sapio for a Harriman-Kefauver ticket.

For a while the deal showed signs of jelling. It collapsed two weeks ago at the time of the testimonial dinner in Washington for Sen. Walter George. During the dinner, Kefauver's campaign manager, F. Joseph (Jiggs) Donahue, was observed in close consultation with Jake Arvey Chicago political boss who helped put over Stevenson four years ago.

As is customary in politics, both Stevenson and Kefauver vigorously deny that any agreement has been made to give Kefauver the vice presidential nomination if, as expected, Adlai wins top honors.

Still Can't Trace Cancer Smoking

2-Year Tobacco Study
Fails to Yield Answer,
Research Goes On

NEW YORK (INS)—The chairman of the Scientific Advisory Board of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee has declared the role of smoking as a cause of lung cancer remains an unsolved question.

Dr. Clarence Cook Little added in his 1956 report on two years of medical research "it cannot be said that smoking has been absolved from suspicion; neither have the charges that smoking has a role in lung cancer causation been proven."

Little's report emphasized that attempts to evaluate results of more than 50 research projects now under way, would be "extremely premature."

He said the research program must be measured in terms of progress rather than in conclusive findings.

HUNT FOR 2 YEARS

The Scientific Advisory Board, organized two years ago by the Tobacco Industry Research Committee, undertook a research program to search for answers to health problems, relating to tobacco use.

The committee contributed $1,000,000 for research but the board was given complete freedom in its activities. Scientists were permitted to publish findings when they were ready.

To date, more than $1,200,000 has been granted to scientists in 18 states for research. The grant-

Plan Avon School

Rochester Buys Nine-Acre Site

Area of Christian Hills to Be Served; Accept Bid for North Hill Add

ROCHESTER—Site for an elementary school on Avon Road for the Christian Hills subdivision area, and acceptance for a bid for building the North Hill school addition were among Board of Education actions here last night.

Budgeting for new schools presented problems for the board, with bids for a new gymnasium for the new high school coming in about 25 per cent above the expected figure.

In the North Hill school addition case, the new bids received were in line with the budget and were $20,000 less than previous bids received for that project.

The North Hill addition will be done by McHugh Construction Co. of Royal Oak for $207,000.

Bids for the gymnasium were turned over to the school's architect, H. E. Beyster, for study and revision, according to Supt. Donald E. Baldwin.

The new site, purchased last night, is the Forcher property, a nine-acre plot on Avon Road, a quarter mile east of Crooks Road.

The future elementary school would serve Christian Hills students who now have no school in their immediate area, and those of another subdivision being built up at present.

MFC Approves Imlay Bond Sale for Sewage Care

IMLAY CITY—Village manager David Firestone has announced that the State Municipal Finance Commission has approved the bonds for the sewage treatment plant for this village.

He expects the plans to be available by Aug. 24.

Next procedure is to open the bids and sell the bonds, he says, and if all goes on schedule, construction could start in October.

White Lake Splits Into Two Precincts

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—Residents of White Lake Township will vote in two precincts for the first time this Tuesday, but both voting places will be in the Town Hall at 7325 Highland Road.

Precinct No. 1 voting will be in the fire hall and No. 2 in the assembly room.

Boundary line between the precincts is M-39 (Highland Rd.) from the east town line to Elizabeth Lake Road; Elizabeth Lake Rd. from M-39 to Oxbow Lake Rd. and Oxbow Lake Rd. to the south town line. The south and east area is precinct 1.

Prior to the close of registrations for the election, there were 175 new registrations this year.

Our Lady Parish Plans for Annual Festival

ORCHARD LAKE—Plans are well under way for the annual festival and chicken dinner to be held Aug. 25 and 26 in the parish hall, and sponsored by Our Lady of Refuge Parish.

Committees are functioning to cover the various activities, among which will be movies for the children.

Report on Convention

LAPEER—Reports on the Michigan convention of Business and Professional Women's Clubs will be given when the BPW club meets at 6:30 p.m. Aug. 13 at Forest Hall for a potluck dinner. At the conference last weekend at Kellogg Center, East Lansing, were Lucille McCarty, Leona Hevener, Evelyn Kelleghan, Iva Mundie and Theresa B. Butts.

RHEA MCCASLIN
The engagement of Rhea McCaslin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward McCaslin, 2950 Hartline, Rochester, to Walter Patton Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Patton, of Richmond is announced. They have not yet set their wedding date. Both attended Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, for a year.

Luther League Plans Fund Raising Events

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Members of the Luther League of Christ Lutheran Church will be combing their neighborhoods Saturday from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. to collect old newspapers, magazines, etc., for their paper drive.

On Sunday they will be attending the district Luther League picnic at Pontiac Lake Recreation Area. This will include many groups from Wayne and Oakland counties. Local members are to meet at Christ Lutheran Church at 2 p.m. and go together.

Milford to Vote on Gas Franchise

Villagers to Have Say Tuesday on Township, Village Service

MILFORD—When residents of Milford go to the polls Tuesday, they will have the opportunity to vote on whether or not they want natural gas in their community.

The Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. is willing to spend some $330,000 to extend service from their dual pipeline, which passes two miles north of Milford. This line now supplies gas to Ann Arbor area residents.

An ordinance was passed by the Township Board and the Milford Village Council recently, granting a gas franchise to the company. Before the franchise can go into effect, however, the action must be approved by three-fifths of the voters at the primary election.

Gas would be available to homes, schools, factories and other business establishments, if the special proposal were approved.

Work on a new pipeline from Louisiana, which is nearing completion makes it possible for the big expansion program now in effect. It will boost Michigan Consolidated gas supply 70 per cent, according to company officials.

Registered voters who live in the village have the legal right to cast two votes regarding the approval of gas franchise.

It was necessary for the company to apply for two different franchises; one to extend service to the village and the other to extend its service to the entire township.

Township Supervisor, Howard Reid explained that voters residing outside the village may only vote once. Primary voting will take place at the Book Building on Main street.

Marlene Reiter's Troth Is Revealed

WEST BLOOMFIELD—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reiter of Twin Beach, are happy to announce the engagement of their daughter, Marlene Joy to Charles R. Barriger, son of Mr. & Mrs. Claude Barriger of Keego Harbor. A September wedding is planned.

MR. AND MRS. LLOYD FISHER

Keego Harbor Residents United in Home Wedding

KEEGO HARBOR—Ruth Lucille Millmine wore Chantilly lace and carried white carnations and pink rosebuds as she married Lloyd P. Fisher at his home, 3059 Cass Lake Ave., Keego Harbor at 5 p.m. Saturday.

The bride, who has been living in Keego Harbor, is the daughter of Mrs. Pearl Gilbert, 6327 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Township, and John Gilbert of Waterford. The bridegroom's parents are Mrs. Jack Williams of Clarkston and the late George Fisher.

The Rev. Paul T. Hart of the First Church of Christ officiated at the ceremony before 65 guests.

The bride's gown was styled with a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves and had a full, floor-length tulle skirt. Her long veil was held by pink rosebuds.

She was attended by Mrs. Ivelene Weishuhn of Lake Orion and, as flower girls, her two daughters, Violet and Janet.

George J. Fisher of Pontiac was best man.

After the ceremony, guests were provided a buffet luncheon.

ing the district Luther League picnic at Pontiac Lake Recreation Area. This will include many groups from Wayne and Oakland counties. Local members are to meet at Christ Lutheran Church at 2 p.m. and go together.

Harvest Themes Last Westacres Dance on Friday

WESTACRES—The Harvest Hop tomorrow evening at the Westacres Clubhouse will complete the series of seven teenage dances sponsored throughout the summer by the Westacres Women's Club.

The Hop is being planned by Marge Roemer's committee.

The "Velvetones" band will be disbanded as players visit their various homes before returning to Alma College this fall.

Led by Tom Dodd, formerly of Westacres and now of Clarkston, the band is credited with adding to the dances' popularity with floor show talent.

A male quartette, "The Crystals," from St. Frederick's School in Pontiac, will star Friday, along with a comedy dance team and imitator Ken Hanson.

Chaperones for the evening will be the Joe Narrins and the Jim Blains.

Janie Readies Her 'Princess' for 4-H Fair

ROCHESTER—Jane Booth, 13, Rochester 4-H member who won a Chester White sow pig as third prize in a national contest last fall, is training her sow, named "Jane's Ajax Princess," for the Oakland County 4-H Fair.

Jane took a pig born this spring rather than one born last fall so that she might have time to find a place to keep her prize. Jane lives in town.

Coming to her aid was Lyle (Red) Knapp, who loaned her the use of a box stall in his horse barn.

"Baby," as Jane's pig is called for short, weighs 120 pounds. She enjoys daily brushings and her baths in preparation for the coming fair but she shows a decidedly strong will and stubborn streak when it comes to the showmanship lessons.

She will be making her debut at the 4-H Fair, which runs from Tuesday through Saturday of next week at the fairgrounds on Perry Street.

$1,500,000 BUILDING RISES—This new school on Scripps Road just off M-24 in the Orion School District will house about 900 students. Being built with mid-year opening expected, it will feature modern shop equipment, a sizable gymnasium, and a library complete with courtyard for sunny-hour reading.

Completion of New Lake Orion High School Due by January, '57

LAKE ORION—A new $1,500,000 high school being built on Scripps road a short distance from M24 on rolling acres, will center the Orion school district population.

Completion is expected for the second semester of the coming year. It will house eighth through twelfth grades.

Its 40-acre site was donated by the late A. F. Greiner, who was a professor at the University of Michigan, his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Markwood.

'South of Lake Orion village, it is a block from the highway, where school officials feel it will be easily accessible but far enough from dangerous traffic.

Designed by Eberle M. Smith Assts., Inc., the contemporary-type school will stand amid many large trees being saved by builders in both its campus and courtyard areas.

A 500-foot passageway will connect its units and shield children unloading from buses.

On one story, it will have four wings connected by a long central section housing special education room, a library with a courtyard for sunny weather reading, and general and counselors offices.

Pastor Takes Radio Position

LAPEER—While the Monroe Street Methodist Church seeks a replacement for the Rev. Everett A. Smith, the Rev. Mr. Smith has accepted a position with Radio Station WMRP.

The station whose call letters stand for Methodist Radio Parish, Inc., will give him the task of arrangement of programs news and general announcing.

He resigned his parish after an eight-year pastorate because of health reasons. He and his wife will remain residents of Lapeer.

Assisted by his wife, the Rev. Mr. Smith began his ministry in a little mission work just south of Swartz Creek in 1929. In 1930 he became pastor of the Huron Street Church in Flint and in 1933 of the Genesee Methodist Church. In 1936 the Richfield Street Church was added to his duties and in 1943 he went as pastor of the Marine City Methodist Church. He was there until 1949 when he came to Lapeer.

Seeking his successor, the district superintendent of the Port Huron District, Dr. Arthur Smith of Port Huron is aiding the local committee, which is headed by Kenneth Daly.

Members are Mrs. J. A. Hoffman, Mrs. Arthur Hungerford, Oscar Erickson and Alfred Phillips. They will visit various churches to hear ministers who may be interested in changing their residence. When a decision has been reached, the appointment will be announced by Bishop Marshall R. Reed of the Detroit Conference.

Newlyweds Let Off Steam, Sail on Sea of Matrimony

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (U)—A wealthy Englishman and his bride were off to a secret honeymoon site today after a Mississippi River sandbar wedding party that ran on far past midnight.

Christopher Bailey, 25, of Monmouthshire, son of a shipbuilder, was married to Sarah McMaster of London yesterday on the main deck of a river excursion boat. A bale of cotton served as the altar.

The brief, simple ceremony was the only solemn moment in the carnival event. The husband didn't last long. The fashionably dressed crowd of about 150 on the Memphis Queen II pitched in to celebrate.

At the request of the groom, hot dogs were the main entrée at the wedding supper. Huge bonfires flared for the roasting.

The marriage was a double one—the first by a Tennessee justice of the peace, Frank Norfleet, a Memphis cottonman; the second by R. E. L. Wilson, Ark., a plantation owner and also a justice of the peace.

Two ceremonies made it absolutely legal, since the Memphis Queen was gliding along the middle of the broad, brown river, right on the Tennessee-Arkansas state line.

The groom, clad in a crisp suit of white, a black stovepipe hat and an auburn wig, arrived for the wedding in an ancient London taxi, accompanied by bagpipers and the best man, Sidney West Jr. of Memphis.

The bride's arrival was more sedate. Daughter of an athletic goods manufacturer, she wore a waltz-length gown of seafair green designed by her uncle Victor Stiebel, a London couturier. With her was her fiancé's sister Elaine.

The novel wedding was planned by Bailey's friends here when, during a brief visit, he "fell in love" with the mile-wide river and its tree-lined banks.

As Bailey himself summed it up, "It was a good show."

There's the same amount of protein in a rounded half cup of creamed cottage cheese as there is in three ounces of cooked lean meat or poultry.

SKY SAUCERS AWAY—There may be a flying saucer in your future. Norwegian-built saucer, above, is a model of a new plane designed by Sigurd Tjosvoll of Oslo. The round craft has two "wings" which rotate in opposite directions. Tjosvoll calls it the "Plane for the People," as it is expected to cost only $1,150 when put on the market.

The most popular container of honey—16-ounce bottle—holds the essence of two million blossoms.

Washington College in Maryland is the only one to hold that name with the consent of George Washington.

Device Has 'Memory'

NEWTON HIGHLANDS, Mass.—A new office automation device manufactured here, has a memory that's a lot better than an elephant's. It can file away as much information as can be crowded on 40,000 punch-cards. When an answer is needed or files need dating up, its central brains can rack its memory at a rate equal to shuffling through 4,000,000 cards in less than 10 minutes.

A LOT OF BULL—The largest steer ever to appear at Chicago's Union stockyards gives the small fry plenty to gape at. Constructed of fiberglass and plastic, the model is 25 times larger than life size. It stands nine feet three inches tall, is 18 feet long and eight feet wide. Anatomically perfect in every detail, the huge steer, designed as an educational display in tribute to the cattle industry, emits audible moos, heart beats and breathing sounds.

$2.5 Billion Earmarked for Road Jobs in Nation by Commerce Department

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Commerce Department yesterday allocated to the states more than two and one-half billion dollars for highway construction in the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The department said it is the largest amount ever provided for roads at one time by any nation in history.

The new allocation is the second under the federal highway legislation authorizing a $3 billion dollar program over the next 13 years.

The first apportionment of one billion 125 million dollars for the current fiscal year was made by Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks on June 29 after President Eisenhower signed the law.

Weeks said the second installment on the program makes it possible for states to have under way at the same time preliminary planning, contract awards and actual construction.

PROJECT PROCESSED

The Bureau of Public Roads has set up standards for construction in improving the 41,000-mile interstate system.

The bureau said projects are being approved as rapidly as they are submitted by the states and commitments already exceed 600 million dollars.

Weeks pointed out the allocation of funds to states for the next fiscal year ordinarily would not have been made until late 1956.

But he explained: "Congress indicated its desire that the federal highway program go forward with the maximum possible speed and similar views... were expressed by the chief executive officers of state highway departments at their recent meeting in Chicago."

Under the new apportionment, one billion 700 million dollars will go to the interstate system on which the federal government is paying 90 per cent of the cost. The remainder of the funds will be divided as follows: $382,500,000 primary; $212,500,000 urban highways; and $255,000,000 farm to market roads.

Car Radio Used in 1901

NEW YORK—Guglielmo Marconi pioneered in the automobile-radio field in 1901 by installing mobile radio equipment in a steam-powered automobile to conduct experiments in wireless telegraphy. His equipment was bulky, using up most of a large vanlike vehicle and having an aerial that looked like a tall chimney when not collapsed for travel.

Publishes Late Today:

Boston Post Sale Rumored

BOSTON (U)—The Boston Post published two hours late today amid new reports the 125-year-old morning newspaper is up for sale.

The publication delay was caused when labor unions refused for several hours to go to work in a dispute involving back pay.

After missing the first of its three editions, the Post came out in 18 pages, compared with 28 each in the Globe and Herald and 44 in the Daily Record.

A city room spokesman said truck schedules were rearranged in an attempt to get the Post to all its distribution plants.

For several hours it appeared there would not be enough time to put out the paper—which less than a month ago suspended publication for one day.

CLOSED MEETING

However, at 10 p.m. (EDT) last night, city editor John Mannon emerged from a closed door meeting with heads of the Post's labor unions and announced the paper would be published.

After the meeting, C. Stanley Whyte, president of Local 13 of the International Typographical Union, told newsmen:

"Publisher John Fox has agreed to give fifty (Frank L.) Kozal irrevocable power of attorney to sell the Post at the earliest possible date to any responsible party."

He said also that five union leaders would fly to New York today to sit in on preliminary talks with a New York interest which he said wishes to buy the paper.

Whyte said the "interested" group is headed by Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. and Jesse Frieden, a New York attorney.

In New York, Roosevelt refused to comment.

Many of the Post's 800 employees walked out yesterday after protesting that publisher John Fox failed to pay them back salaries at 3 p.m. as promised.

Fox could not be reached for comment.

Post employees said they would not work unless they were paid. Later, the employees agreed to return to work on a reported promise they would receive their current salaries today.

No New Polio Cases Reported in County

No new polio cases were reported this week by the Oakland County Health Department. The number for the year thus far remains at eight in the county.

There were 17 cases of polio reported at this time last year by Dr. John D. Munroe, health director.

Father Denied Custody of Daughter in Bad Axe

BAD AXE (U)—A circuit judge has blocked efforts of Willard Alexander of Fort Smith, Ark., to obtain custody of his 11-year-old daughter, Suzanne Marie Alexander. The child has been reared by a maternal aunt since the age of 21 months.

Circuit Judge Arthur M. Back denied the petition today. Instead, the judge ruled, the child will remain with Mrs. Elizabeth Masa of Bad Axe, in accordance with a consent divorce decree, Dec. 29, 1955.

The decree, agreed to by Alexander and his divorced wife, Rose Marie of Hamtramck, specified Mrs. Masa would raise the child.

Named to Jury Group

LANSING (U)—Gov. Williams today appointed Adam Przybylski of Wyandotte, to the Wayne County Board of Jury Commissioners. Przybylski succeeds Albert B. Buday, whose term expired. The appointment requires Senate confirmation.

Three Seeking GOP Nomination

This is the last of eight articles on Oakland County candidates for local, state and national offices in the August 7 primary election. Previous articles have reviewed Democratic and Republican candidates for county offices, the county's six state representative posts, and 19th District State Senator, and Democrats running for nomination as 18th Congressional District U.S. Representative.

Three candidates are in the race for Republican nomination as 18th Congressional District U.S. Representative.

The retirement of Rep. George Dondero, Oakland County representative for 24 years, has left an open field for Republicans hoping to succeed him. Since his retirement, Dondero has indicated no preference between the candidates. Brief biographies of the candidates follow.

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD
State Sen. William S. Broomfield, 34, of Royal Oak, is seeking the GOP nomination to succeed Rep. George A. Dondero.

Elected senator in 1954, Broomfield previously served three terms in the Legislature. He was the youngest man in Michigan's legislative history to serve as Speaker pro tem of the House. Broomfield attended Royal Oak schools and served in the Air Force during World War II. A graduate of Michigan State University, he is married and has two children.

GEORGE N. HIGGINS
Chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority George N. Higgins, a former Oakland County State Senator, also hopes to succeed Rep. George A. Dondero.

Higgins, 55, of Ferndale, served six years as a state representative and six years as state senator before his MTA appointment in 1954. While in Lansing, Higgins served as chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee.

A former city commissioner and supervisor from Ferndale, Higgins, who has a farm in Springfield Township, is married and has four children.

CLAUDE E. SADLER
A former newspaper publisher from Royal Oak is the third Republican candidate for nomination to succeed U.S. Rep. George A. Dondero.

Claude E. Sadler, former mayor of Marion and publisher of newspapers in Marion and Cadillac, now is a member of the board of directors of an area advertising agency and a free-lance writer.

Sadler, who attended junior college at Kokomo, for three years, holds memberships in Kiwanis, the Royal Oak Chamber of Commerce and Oddfellows. A parishioner of the Methodist church, he is married and has four children.

Man, Wife Testify They Saw Airliners Collide 70 Miles From Site of Crash

WASHINGTON (AP)—Testimony by federal investigators posed the possibility today that two airliners may have remained locked in fatal embrace for miles before they plummeted into Grand Canyon June 30, killing 128 persons.

The chance that this happened was suggested by the statement of a young couple that they saw two airplanes, corresponding to the description of the Trans-World Airlines Constellation and the United Air Lines DC7, come together at a point perhaps as much as 70 miles from the area where the wrecks finally were found.

Appearing as witnesses yesterday before an investigating panel of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Siefer of Ottawa, Ohio, testified that:

On vacation, they were driving westward between Flagstaff and Winslow, Ariz., when through a hole in the clouds they caught a glimpse of two aircraft flying generally eastward.

fueling of aircraft. Siefer said he had seen refueling only in movies.

CAB chairman James R. Durfee told Siefer he and his wife "are the only two people alive today" who have reported seeing the collision and that "what you say here is very important."

WAITED AWHILE
Questioning sought to bring out why the Siefers waited for days before telling about what they had seen.

Siefer said although he was certain he saw the planes collide, it was not until sometime later he heard about the missing airliners and connected the two incidents in his mind. His wife testified that when they saw the two planes "it occurred to me that they were just passing each other at the time." But after they learned of the collision, she testified, "I said to my husband I'll bet those were the planes."

Investigators, in the opening day of the public hearing, succeeded in hearing only 9 of the scheduled 32 witnesses. The long list remaining includes witnesses for the two airlines, searchers who found the wreckage and Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) officials and experts.

Pickers Deny Rioting Charges

Two Plead Innocent After Plant Rumpus at Traverse City

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—The president of striker-picketed Cherry Growers, Inc., and a plant worker pleaded innocent yesterday in municipal court on assault and battery charges stemming from picket line incidents.

A. J. Rogers, plant president, accused of striking a picketer, was ordered to return for a hearing Aug. 6. Plant employee Bracken Gilmore, accused of bumping his auto against three pickets, was ordered to appear Aug. 16.

The cherry processing plant, operated by area farmers who own the cooperative enterprise, ran at full operation yesterday. Meanwhile, company officials and representatives of the striking Local 1710 of the Retail Warehouse, Distributors and Suppliers Union conferred with state labor mediators in attempts to end differences.

Some 200 plant workers went on strike Tuesday, demanding a 20-cent hourly pay boost and a seniority clause in a new contract with the firm.

The processing plant obtained a court order from Circuit Judge Charles L. Brown, restraining mass picketing and requiring strikers to refrain from interfering with anyone wishing to enter the plant to work.

PATHS CROSS
One plane, which Siefer said was a DC7, was flying above the other as their paths came together. He said he was certain the aircraft "collided." After the two planes "locked together" or "merged" they continued soaring on until the couple lost sight of them. They saw no fire, smoke or falling debris.

The interval during which the aircraft were visible through a hole in the clouds lasted only about 10 seconds, Siefer estimated.

If the couple actually saw the collision from the point they described, a possibility existed that some or perhaps all of the 128 persons aboard the planes survived for long, awful moments as the two aircraft soared on a long trajectory, tangled inextricably and helplessly.

However, there also was the possibility that by chance the Siefers had seen two other aircraft whose paths were near or which might have been engaged in maneuvers.

CAB interrogators suggested this at one point in their questioning. They asked Siefer if he ever had seen a mid-air re-

Burn Cross at College Told to Enroll Negroes

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Hooded figures burned a 12-foot cross on the campus of Lamar State College of Technology last night.

Witnesses said four to six hooded figures planted the cross and set it afire, then fled in a car. Lamar Tech was ordered Monday by U.S. Dist. Judge Lamar Cecil to open its doors to Negroes this fall.

Plastics Use Surging to Records Annually

BOSTON—If the entire production of plastics in the United States in 1952 had been dumped on a pile, it would not have weighed six million pounds. Twenty years later the industry still had not reached a half-billion pounds a year.

Now the total is increasing by more than 500 million pounds a year and the industry's forward pace is six times that of industry as a whole. Production in 1954 amounted to 2.7 billion pounds. Last year it zoomed to 3.6 billion, more than 22 pounds for each person in the country. The estimate for this year is 4.1 billion.

Cities Levy Sales Tax

CHICAGO — Municipal sales taxes are now imposed in nearly 900 municipalities in the United States. The sales taxes yield a total of about $300,000,000 a year.

Hollywood to Do Picture on Spig Wead, Film Writer

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A decade or two ago, a familiar figure on the MGM lot was a crusty Navy man turned screen writer, Spig Wead, who hobbled about on two canes.

His inventive mind came up with aircraft carrier battle plans that the brass couldn't ignore.

"Wead's condition was that he be allowed to assume active duty. He did, and expended all his energy. His doctor, who is helping us with the picture, said he would have lived much longer if he hadn't gone on active duty," Schneer said.

Beef Exports Rise
PARIS—France has been a net exporter of meat since 1949. In 1955 it exported slightly more than 222,000,000 pounds of beef and imported only 8,600,000 pounds compared with exports of 163,000,000 pounds and imports of 9,500,000 pounds in 1954.

Disney Sued by Actor for Violation of Privacy

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Kirk Douglas has sued Walt Disney for $415,000 over films showing the actor riding on Disney's miniature train.

Douglas' complaint said Disney violated the actor's right of privacy by taking the films surreptitiously during a social visit he and his family paid to the Disney home last April 4.

Named with Disney as defendants were the ABC network, which showed the films; three sponsors and three advertising agencies.

Douglas contends his earning power as a movie actor is based on the kind and number of appearances he chooses to make, and the amount of money he receives for such appearances.

He was born Frank Wead, Schneer explained, but his Amapolis nickname was Spig and that stuck with him to the end of his days. Spig was one of the great naval names of World War I. But something happened to cut his sea career short.

"He was living in a new house in San Diego," Schneer related. "He got up in the night to look at one of his daughters and was going back to bed when he slipped and fell downstairs."

Wead broke his back. The doctors told him he would be forced to face the life of an invalid, but he refused to accept their decision. He taught himself to walk, slowly and painfully, with the aid of canes.

His Navy career apparently doomed, he turned to writing, especially about flying, which he loved. He was associated with some of the memorable air pictures of the 30s and 40s. Among his credits: "Hell Divers," "Test Pilot," "Dive Bomber," "The Citadel," "They Were Expendable," "Casting Zero," "Blaze at Noon," "A Yank at Oxford."

It was natural that the dedicated Navy man would urgently desire to take an active part in World War II. His physical condition made that seem impossible. But

FURY AT GUNSIGHT PASS

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

XXXX
The intercom buzzed, and Gentry leaned forward to hear the voice issuing from it.

"Murdered girl in park near Second St. and Second Ave. Reported by Cassidy on beat. Throat is cut."

Gentry jerked his head up to glare at Shayne. "So it wasn't a 45 after all. Another knife job." Shayne was already moving toward the door, and Gentry hurried after him. "You don't know it's the same girl," Shayne flung over his shoulder angrily.

"I'm betting," Gentry challenged him grimly. "You want to risk any dough on it?"

Shayne snorted loudly and went out the side door to his parked car.

Spotlights made dazzling bright the cluster of men gathered about a park bench 40 feet down the path.

Shayne pulled in behind the ambulance and got out. He stood for a moment beside his car as though nervously himself for the ordeal, then strode slowly down the path, his face set and expressionless.

HOW LONG AGO?

Three policemen standing in front of the bench looked at him silently. A white-coated ambulance attendant knelt beside the bench.

Shayne peered over his shoulder and saw the girl's face. He was steeled for the shock and there was only a faint grimace on his trenched face as he recognized her.

He stepped back and asked gruffly, "How long ago, Doc?"

The kneeling intern shrugged and answered without looking up. "As near maybe."

Gentry hurried up the path. The police chief looked at him questioning, and Shayne nodded and said stiffly, "I'm glad I didn't put up any money."

Gentry called to him sharply. "Shayne! Take a look at this."

He turned to see the chief holding a sheet of paper in his hands.

"It is Nellie Paulson after all. Here's a receipted bill from the Hibiscus for last week's rent on room 316. And there's some other stuff in her handbag. It's Nellie all right."

Shayne strode back savagely. "It can't be. We had it worked out that it had to be the Barnes girl."

"Take another look at her," invited Gentry. "You sure she's the one that—"

"Of course I'm sure," burst out Shayne. "I don't need another look. So she's Nellie Paulson. And the same job has been done on her as on the one that came out of the bay. I'd say it looks as though she tried to come back for some more protection from me."

"Yeah," grunted Gentry. "You took the words right out of my mouth. Getting so it's kind of risky being a client of yours, don't you think?"

"Well, now we know who she is anyway. That gives us something more definite to work on."

"Tough way of getting a positive identification. If we wait long enough, maybe we'll stumble over a few more bodies and get them identified. Then we may be able to figure it out."

Strain deepened the trenches in Shayne's cheeks at the chief's tone of acid sarcasm. He said quietly, "Right now I'm wondering why an ex-GI with a 45 under his belt uses a knife instead of the gun."

"For one thing it's a little bit quieter. Let's say he just carries the gun along to frighten private detectives with so they let them walk out into the night to kill off their clients."

"Let's say that," Shayne agreed flatly. He hesitated, rubbing his jaw, moving off the path to let stretcher-bearers from the ambulance go past. "I'd like to get the maid over from the Roney to look at both of them and see if either one are the persons who have been living there as Charles and Mary Barnes."

FINGERPRINTS CHECK?

"Oh, we'll pin down an identification all right," said Gentry bitterly. "As fast as they get killed off, we'll find out who they are."

Shayne continued to disregard his tone. "One thing you didn't get around to telling me back in the office, Will. Did the dead man's fingerprints check with the set in 316?"

"Yes. He's definitely been in 316 since the maid cleaned the room in the middle of the afternoon."

Shayne sighed and started down the path toward his car. Will Gentry clumped along silently behind him. At the sidewalk, Shayne stopped and said, "Let's save the hard feelings until this is over, huh?"

Gentry unexpectedly stuck out his hand. He said, "Sure. Then I'm going to pull your license."

"I think maybe I'll turn it in without waiting for you to pull it, Will." Shayne took his hand absently and without much vigor. "They found no weapon, huh?"

Gentry shook his grizzled head. "Almost exactly the same sort of wound as the other. One fast slash with a mighty sharp knife. You go any ideas, Mike?" The question was almost an entreaty.

"Only one and it's not much good. Something I should have done before. You still got that picture I gave you at the morgue?"

"It's back in my office."

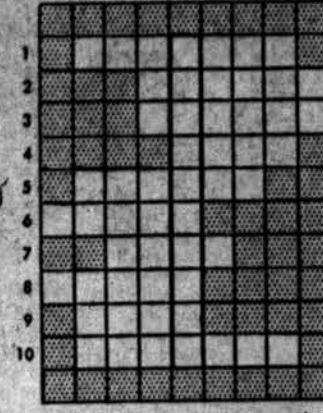

Shayne said, "If you're going back now, I'll pick it up."

Opera Will Recreate Old Colorado Days

CENTRAL CITY, Colo. (INS)—The fabled days of gold and silver mining in the ore-rich Colorado Rockies will be recreated on stage this summer at the Central City Opera House.

"The Ballad of Baby Doe" will be presented at the rustic old theater located in the town that once was the focal point of rich bonanza strikes.

Creators of the historically-based opera to be presented the first time July 7 are Pulitzer Prize-winning composer Dr. Douglas Moore and nationally-known librettist John Latouche.

H. A. W. Tabor, famous "Silver King" of Colorado's mining history, and his wife Augusta are joined by the celebrated sweetheart of the era, blue-eyed Baby Doe, as the leading character of the story.

Barbecue School Is Held Locally

"Barbecuing meat and poultry out of doors can be fun for the amateur chef," says Bob Deans, of the animal husbandry department of Michigan State University who conducted a barbecue demonstration July 31 at the 4th Fair grounds in Pontiac. "With a portable charcoal grill you can move your kitchen into the backyard, or out to the park where family and friends can enjoy the pleasures of eating in the fresh air."

Almost any tender cut of meat can be barbecued successfully. To insure tenderness, be sure the meat is of U.S. choice grade. Smaller cuts of meat that are ordinarily broiled, such as steaks, chops, kabobs, etc., may be grilled right over the coals, turning frequently. The larger cuts of meat that are usually roasted in the oven, such as leg of lamb, ham, or whole chickens should be placed on a spit and rotated frequently.

All sorts of equipment for barbecuing were demonstrated from inexpensive folding units to elaborate outfits with electric spits and counter space.

Oakland County Agricultural

Agent Lyle Abel used his home-made grill for barbecuing chickens for the audience to sample. By sawing an oil drum in half the long way and making metal grids to fit the tops, he has two grills large enough to barbecue chicken for 50 people.

Mr. Abel arranged the chicken halves on a grill about 1 1/2 to 2 feet over a charcoal fire. "Slow cooking is the secret to successful barbecuing of chicken," Abel claims. Generous swabbing of each piece of chicken with melted butter and frequent turning is necessary to avoid scorching.

About half way through the cooking period, he started an auxiliary charcoal fire in another place so he could revive the dying coals if necessary. When the drumstick bone could be turned easily, the chicken was done, and was golden brown, and still juicy.

The folks who watched the various meats grilling enjoyed sampling the results. Some preferred the pure meat flavor, without the use of sauces, while others enjoyed the beef ribs that had been basted with barbecue sauce.

Here's the recipe for a sauce that's easy to make yet very tasty.

Tart Barbecue Sauce
1 onion chopped
2 tablespoons oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 cup tomato catsup or chili sauce
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup chopped celery (optional)
Salt and Cayenne to taste
Brown onion in oil, add remaining ingredients. Simmer 30 minutes. Makes 2 cups.

To serve with your outdoor meal, Mary Hixon, home demonstration agent, suggests baking potatoes in foil. Just wrap the washed potatoes in a double thickness of aluminum foil and place on the coals for about 40 minutes.

This is a good time of year to roast corn on the cob, too. Here's a simple way: First remove the one or two outer leaves, then soak the ears of corn in cold water for 30 minutes. Then snip off the corn silk that hangs from the end and bury the corn in the coals. In 15-18 minutes the roasted corn should be ready to eat.

The most important rules for outdoor cooks to remember are: (1) Wait until the fire burns down before starting to cook (about 30 minutes to an hour). (2) Watch the meat so that the fat doesn't flare up in the fire. Keep the food high enough from the coals so it won't cook too rapidly.

Sponge-Bar Cookie Has Chewy Base

A delicate sponge cake top and a chewy fruit-and-nut bottom makes a delectable bar cookie.

Fruit and Nut Sponge Bars
1 cup sifted cake flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup seedless raisins (rinsed and drained and chopped)
1/2 cup pitted dates (cut in thin strips)
1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat eggs until thick and pale yellow colored; beat in confectioners' sugar, vanilla and melted butter all at one time.

Fold in raisins, dates and walnuts. Turn into buttered cake pan (9 inches square).

Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 25 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan; cut into 24 bars; dust with confectioners' sugar. Store in tightly covered container.

Sausage-Prunes Good

Stuff large cooked pitted prunes with a tiny cocktail sausage and heat in a buttered baking dish in a hot oven. Nice with a before-dinner beverage.

PUFFED RICE FLOWER POTS — When you serve ice cream for a children's party, make miniature flower pots of puffed rice and marshmallows and fill them with chocolate ice cream. With pipe cleaners and gum drops make little flowers to stick in the chocolate "earth." Do ahead of time and store in the freezer.

Squeals of Joy Will Greet 'Flower Pot' Party Treat

The all important event of the year for a child is the day of his very own birthday party. That is the day when he can invite the friends of his choosing and select the foods of his liking.

One of the best finales to a child's birthday party is a tray full of blooming Puffed Rice Flower Pots.

There'll be a squeal of delight when the children see this novelty dessert set before them. And Mom, too, will rejoice in the ease of preparation of this fanciful dessert. No candy syrup to boil, no thermometers necessary!

Simply melt the marshmallows and butter in a double boiler, add the peppermint flavoring and pour over the heated puffed rice. With greased fingers, press the coated kernels into custard cups to give the shape of flower pots.

PREPARE AHEAD
Long before party time, the

Deviled Celery Soup Is Food for Angels

New twist for a cream soup, one that will make a hit with the "little angels" in your family!

Deviled Celery Soup
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed cream of celery soup
1/2 cup milk
1 egg (3/4 ounces) deviled ham
Minced parsley or chives

Newer, Better Waldorf Salad

A long-time summer favorite is a bright Waldorf Salad, occupying the center of a party luncheon buffet or served as a side dish in curly lettuce cups.

There's something new in Waldorf salad this year, an ingredient that just naturally adds tang and flavor as well as crunchy crispness to this cooling dish.

Canned peanuts, straight from your pantry shelf are sprinkled in at the last minute to charm the palate with the perfect combination of peanuts and apples—they are truly go-getters.

Virginia Waldorf Salad
4 cups diced red apples, unpared
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 cup mayonnaise
2 cups celery, diced
1 cup raisins
1 1/2-ounce can peanuts
Lettuce

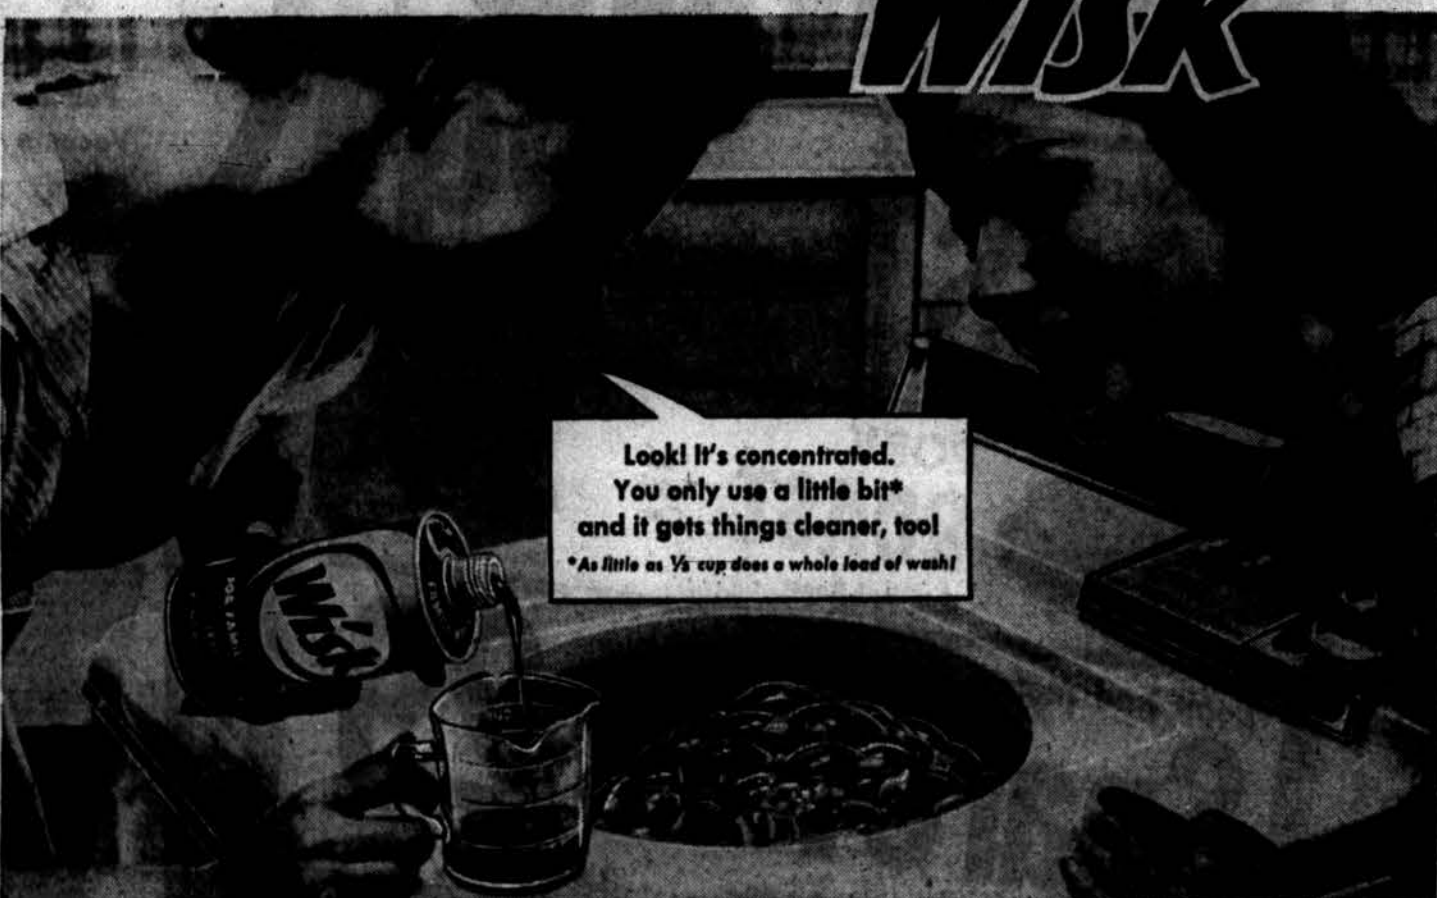

In bowl, combine apples, lemon juice and mayonnaise. Add celery and raisins and chill until serving time.

Just before serving, mix in one cup peanuts. Spoon salad into individual lettuce cups and garnish with remaining peanuts and if desired, sprigs of mint. The lettuce cups may be arranged on a large platter for buffet serving or placed individually on salad plates.

Pre-Cook Eggs

Hard-cook a batch of eggs. Use some of them for creamed eggs on toast for lunch one day; store the rest in the refrigerator and have ready for egg salad or sandwiches the next day. Saves pot-washing and helps keep the kitchen cool.

Cook, Refreeze Frozen Foods

With home freezing activities in full swing, it is a good idea to double check the far corners of the freezer in search of packages that may have been put away last year and forgotten. Uncooked foods that are reaching their time limit in the freezer should be put to immediate use if the economy of home freezing is to be maintained. If it is not practical to serve them to your family before their freezing time limit expires, there is another way to make use of uncooked vegetables, meats, berries, and fruits.

INSTRUCTION TO RULE
Provided the foods have been frozen uncooked, they can be thawed, cooked and refrozen.

Home economists advise that this rule about refreezing thawed foods does not apply to those which are taken from the freezer raw, and then cooked and refrozen, ready to freeze again immediately.

Should a search of the freezer yield a quart or two of uncooked vegetables and some raw lamb or beef chunks. A tasty casserole can be concocted, cooked and frozen in square, waxed-board containers with rigid plastic lids. Casseroles and stews keep in the freezer up to one month.

Raw chicken or other poultry that has outlived its rightful stay in the freezer may be thawed and cooked, then sliced and put into moisture-proof waxed-board containers and then frozen.

A quart or two of sliced meat comes in handy for unexpected guests, and can be stored at zero temperature for around six weeks.

Uncooked frozen fruits and berries can be put to uses that are bound to draw cheers from the family. Strawberries, blackberries, and raspberries make delicious jam, some to eat immediately and some to package and freeze for later enjoyment.

Pie, one of the fastest moving commodities in most households, can be made from uncooked frozen fruits and berries, too. And although the family might be willing to polish off two or three pies at one sitting, a smart planner will put a couple in the freezer.

Vary Chicken Flavor
You can change the flavor of broiled chicken by varying the seasoning you add to the melted butter with which you brush or baste the chicken during the cooking. Here are possibilities: Parsley, minced garlic or onion; fresh or dried tarragon; a mixture of paprika and dry mustard.

FRUIT WHEAT FLUFF—This Fruit Wheat Fluff is a perfect summer dessert. So airy-light, it just slips down. So high in nutrition, it's almost a meal. Rich in protein from gelatin, milk and wheat germ, and boosted with wheat germ's vitamin B-1, it helps keep energy high and dispositions sweet in hot weather.

2 Vitamin-Packed Desserts to Balance Summer Meals

Nothing tempts appetites in hot weather as much as cool, refreshing desserts. So wise homemakers pack summer desserts with extra nutrition to help balance light eating.

Two desserts in the "extra-nutrition" category are Fruit Wheat Fluff and Strawberry Wheat Germ Bisque.

These delicious desserts supply many vital nutrients that are needed to boost light summer meals.

And best of all, these extra-nutrition desserts are so easy to prepare! You can make them in a few minutes in the cool of the morning, and then let the refrigerator take over.

Fruit Wheat Fluff
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 package strawberry-flavored gelatin
1 cup hot water
1 cup lemon juice
1 cup orange juice
1 can evaporated milk
1 cup sugar
1 cup graham cracker crumbs
1 cup wheat germ, rolled fine

Chill milk thoroughly. Mix each package of gelatin with 1 cup hot water, 1/2 cup lemon juice and 1/4 cup orange juice. Set until almost thick and whip each separately.

Beat milk for 5 minutes; add sugar and beat for another 5 minutes. Combine each flavor of

Strawberry Wheat Germ Bisque
1 can evaporated milk
2 10-oz. pks. frozen strawberries or 1 qt. fresh strawberries, sweetened and crushed
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup Wheat Germ Crunch

Freeze evaporated milk in refrigerator tray. Remove frozen milk from tray into bowl, break up with a fork and whip. After milk has started to thicken, add lemon juice. Whip until milk stands in peaks.

Fold in well-drained berries. (If using frozen berries, add 4 tablespoons confectioners' sugar.)

Top with Wheat Germ Crunch. Freeze. Makes 8-10 servings.

WHEAT GERM CRUNCH: Combine 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 cup butter or margarine and 1 tablespoon water; cook over low heat until mixture is brittle when a small amount is dropped into cold water. Stir in 2-3 cup wheat germ quickly; spread out on waxed paper to cool. (Use left-over Crunch for pudding or dessert topping.)

Vitamins Going Down the Drain?
DALLAS, Tex. (INS)—Even an expert cook can devastate a vegetable.

Tips on the buying and boiling of root (bulb) and green vegetables are offered by Orne McClellan, Dallas County demonstration agent, who warns that too often taste and economy are poured down the drain along with vitamins and minerals.

Vegetables should be added to briskly boiling, lightly salted water—just enough to prevent sticking to the pan.

The kettle should be covered—to speed cooking, conserve vitamins and save fuel.

All vegetables should be cooked only until tender—and then served at once.

USE FRESH
Green vegetables should be used as fresh as possible since vitamins disappear as vegetables wilt and wait.

Green vegetables should be washed quickly, never soaked.

In cooking root vegetables, they should be pared thin, if at all. To keep whole beets from losing their bright red color during cooking, do not peel and leave on an inch or two of stem and taproot.

Don't throw away the liquid from cooking pared vegetables. The surplus juice can be used in soup, gravy or a vegetable cocktail.

Serve Salads on Hot Days

Weather too hot for cooking? Then turn to cool salads for the main dish, and make them hearty with canned meats. Here corned beef and tongue are suggested for a chef's salad, deviled ham is used in a jellied salad layer to top tomato aspic, and luncheon meat slices "sandwich" a favorite potato salad.

No matter how hot the weather and how jaded the appetite, protein foods are a recommended part of the daily diet. Meat is a major protein food, and with some 113 varieties of canned meats, this food value can be effortlessly provided of a summer day.

Many meats in cans are particularly suited for salads as they are ready right from the can to use cold. The chef's salad combines greens and julienne style strips of corned beef, tongue and Swiss cheese. The deviled ham is blended with green pepper and celery and mayonnaise and chilled with unflavored gelatin as the top layer of a tomato aspic. The novel luncheon meat sandwiches with their potato salad fillings are a meat and vegetable one-course.

DEVILED HAM AND ASPIC
Ham Layer:
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 can (4 1/2 ounces) deviled ham
1 teaspoon minced onion
1/4 cup finely chopped sweet pickle
1 1/2 cups finely shredded cabbage

Sprinkle gelatin on cold water to soften. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Add salt and lemon juice; cool. Gradually stir into mayonnaise.

Mix in ham, onion, pickle and cabbage. Turn into 5-cup mold; chill until almost firm.

Tomato Aspic Layer:
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1 1/2 cups tomato juice, divided
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Sprinkle gelatin on 1/2 cup of the tomato juice to soften. Place over boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Stir in remaining 1 1/2 cups tomato juice, salt, Tabasco and lemon juice; mix well. Spoon on top of almost firm first layer; chill until firm. Unmold; if desired, garnish with salad greens. Yield: 8 servings.

Quick Chef's Salad
Salad greens (romaine, lettuce, endive)
1/2 pound sliced Swiss cheese
1 can (12 ounces) tongue or corned beef, chilled
French dressing

Wash and dry greens. Tear leaves into bite-size pieces into salad bowl. Cut tongue or corned beef into slices, then into 1/4-inch wide strips. Cut cheese into 1/4-inch strips. Arrange on top of salad greens. Add French dressing just before serving and toss lightly. Yield: 4 servings.

Luncheon Meat Potato Salad Sandwiches
2 cups cooked sliced potatoes
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion

Place potatoes in mixing bowl; add onion, vinegar, salad oil and salt; toss lightly with two forks being careful not to break potatoes. Cover and chill. Add celery, green pepper and mayonnaise; toss until well mixed. Cut luncheon meat into 12 slices. Make 4 sandwiches, using 3 slices luncheon meat and 2 layers potato salad for each sandwich. Fasten with toothpick. If desired, garnish with radishes and salad greens. Yield: 4 servings.

Seedless Grapes Ideal With Any Fruit Salads
Canned seedless grapes make a nice addition to fruit salad. Mix lime flavored gelatin as directed on the package. When it starts to thicken, add drained grapes, pieces of drained canned apricots and sliced banana.

Chill until firm and serve with mayonnaise or cream cheese dressing.

When cheese is being cooked, the heat should be kept low. Cheese needs just enough heat to melt and blend with other ingredients. High heat or cooking too long will make cheese tough and stringy.

The best time to grate or grind cheese is when it's cold and firm. Cheese warmed to room temperature is best for cutting and slicing, as it won't crumble.

If cheese develops mold, the mold can be scraped off and the rest used without harm.

Mandarin Compote Easy to Prepare

Here's a simple but delicious compote making use of fresh and handy canned fruit.

Mandarin Berry Bowl

1 cup cultivated blueberries (washed and drained)
1 can (11 ounces) mandarin oranges
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Have blueberries and oranges chilled; place berries and orange segments in glass serving dish. Stir orange syrup and vanilla together; pour over fruit. Makes 4 servings. Recipe may be doubled.

Chop bologna and add to mashed hard-cooked eggs; season with salt, pepper, pickle relish and mayonnaise. Good sandwich filling!

Article Is a Catchall of Ideas

Pontiac Press Home Editor

It's time for a this-and-that article again. I collect miscellaneous bits of information all the time and like to share it with you occasionally.

How many of you are reducing on the Formula Diet? Developed by the Rockefeller Institute, it has been featured in several magazines lately.

What we want to talk about in connection with it is this: the dextrose called for in the formula can be your old cooking friend, corn syrup. The same company that makes the corn syrup also makes the corn oil you need to complete the formula.

There's a new cookie on the grocer's shelves for you dieters also. All of us in the editorial office sampled a box one day recently. The cookies are crisp and rich-tasting; best of all, they have only 14 calories per cookie. One more item for dieters, and we'll stop. Rennet desserts are both low in calories and high in food value. Made with milk, they furnish important minerals and vitamins.

By using Eggnet Powders and Tablets, Sherbet and Freezing mixes, you will have a variety of tasty custards, sherbets and frozen desserts.

Do you know that you can get a sausage stuffer attachment for your electric meat grinder? The company which started making the stuffers because of demand says it is amazing to see how many women make sausage at home. Here's your chance, gals; stuff your own!

Nowadays, when you go picnicking, you can carry a full meal with you and have both hot and cold foods. There is a new insulated bag available with compartments for hot and cold foods.

These slipped compartments can be used separately, as can the slipped outer bag which is also insulated. This newest boon to picnickers is called a Nappy Two Temp.

Things on the food shelves that have caught my eye lately include: fluffy peanut butter... a frozen fruit punch that has papaya juice in it - it's good... corn bread mix complete with a pan for baking... cookies that look and taste like sugared doughnuts... a new brand of canned asparagus to be used especially for salads... and frozen waffle and pancake batter in a can with a pouring spout.

Whipped Potatoes Broiled in Cream, Parmesan Cheese

All our taste-testers liked these potatoes!

Creamy Parmesan Potatoes
1 package (12 ounces) frozen whipped potatoes
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
White pepper
1/2 cup grated Parmesan or Romano cheese
3 tablespoons light cream

Heat potatoes according to package directions adding butter or margarine, salt and pepper to taste; turn into heat-resistant glass pie plate (8 1/2 by 1 1/4 inches). Mix grated cheese and cream; spread over potatoes. Broil until topping is lightly browned. Serve at once. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Note: For a party, heat 2 packages of the potatoes together, doubling butter and salt called for. Turn into 9 1/2 by 1 1/4 heat-resistant glass pie plate. Use 1/2 cup grated cheese and 1-3 cup light cream for topping. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

TUNA MOUSSE — Get in the summer swim by serving tuna in salads. A creamy Tuna Mousse, chilled in a ring mold, surrounds bright wedges of tomato. Add a plate of thinly sliced cucumbers.

Chef Has Winning Way of Preparing Tuna Mousse

In Palm Springs, California, the temperature averages about 91 degrees in mid-summer. But John Leonhardt, chef of the Tennis Club there, knows how to turn his guests' thoughts from the heat.

He gives us his refreshing recipe for Tennis Club Tuna Mousse. It's been adapted to family size for your own hot weather meals.

Tuna Mousse
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1/2 cup boiling water
2 6 1/2-ounce cans chunk-style tuna, drained
1/2 cup dried celery
1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1 3-ounce package cream cheese, crumbled
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
Soften gelatin in cold water. Add boiling water and stir until gelatin is dissolved.

Combine remaining ingredients and mix well. Add gelatin mixture and mix well. Turn into 8-inch ring mold. Chill until firm.

Unmold and garnish with crisp salad greens, if desired. Serves 6-8.

Tuna Salad Loaf
2 6 1/2-ounce cans chunk-style tuna, drained
2 cups thinly sliced celery
2 cups pimientos, cut in strips
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup grated onion
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup finely bread crumbs
1 cup grated processed American cheese (about 1/2 pound)

Combine all ingredients; mix well. Turn into lightly greased 8x4x3 inch baking pan.

Bake in hot oven (450 degrees) about 20 minutes, or until lightly browned. Chill thoroughly.

SKILLET CLUB FOR MEN

By Frank Kohler

CHICKEN TETRAZINI!

CHICKEN TETRAZINI has stood out in our memory ever since Armand Turk introduced it to us. He used to be "head yard-master," years ago, in the beautiful main dining room of the old Ritz-Carlton in Philadelphia.

This makes a fine party dish for a large group and will serve about eight.

USE TWO CHICKENS

Start with two chickens weighing about 2½ pounds each. Cut the chickens each in eight pieces, cover with boiling water, add a bit of salt, then simmer until meat is tender. Cool the chickens in the broth, then remove them.

Take meat from bones and dice or, preferably, shred. Return meat and bones to the pot, cover, bring to a boil, and let boil hard until liquid is reduced to about two cups of broth.

Strain and save the broth. Wash one pound of fresh mushrooms and slice them thin, and saute them nicely in four tablespoons of butter.

Break one pound of spaghetti in pieces about two to three inches long, and cook as directed on the package, in boiling salted water. Drain and rinse. Now make a sauce as follows:

3 tablespoons sweet butter
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups of the above chicken broth
1-½ cups rich sweet cream, scalded
1-2 cup (or to taste) sherry
Salt and pepper
1 teaspoon monosodium glutamate powder (MSG)
1 egg yolk, well beaten
¼ cup grated Swiss cheese
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Melt butter in a saucepan, and blend in the flour, then blend in the strained broth, stirring constantly and cooking slowly until smooth. Let it boil up once or twice, then stir in the sauteed mushrooms and the cooked and drained spaghetti; in the other, stir the chicken.

Divide the sauce into two parts. In one, mix the sauteed mushrooms and the cooked and drained spaghetti; in the other, stir the chicken.

Pour the spaghetti into a baking dish and spread it so it covers bottom and sides of the dish, leaving a suitable excavation in the middle. Into this, carefully pour the chicken mixture.

SPRINKLE AND BAKE
Sprinkle the works with the grated cheese, then bake at 350 degrees for about 15 minutes, until the top is nicely browned. Serve from the dish in which it is cooked. A light dusting of paprika is permissible.

With this, we always had some of the Major Grey type chutney — that's the one with the lumps of fruit in it — hot buttered peas, and a sharp tossed salad.

If you start this meal with a jellied cold soup, such as tomato maitre d'hotel (which we just buy in cans, chill well and serve in chilled cups) and construct a well-tossed salad of suitable greens with chopped onion, pepper and celery and a tart french dressing, you can finish with a fine chilled piece of melon — maybe cantaloupe, or berries, a la mode. Then you'll agree that you've had a meal as is (or was) a meal.

Did You Know This?
All frozen meat should be stored at 0 degrees F or lower. It is best not to refreeze meat after thawing. Sausage and ground meat may be stored from 3 to 6 months; fresh pork from 3 to 6 months; lamb and veal from 6 to 9 months and beef from 6 to 12 months.

Add Grated Lemon Rind With Blueberry Muffins

Next time you bake blueberry muffins, try adding a teaspoon of grated lemon rind to the batter. Or after you have spooned the blueberry muffin batter into the wells of the baking pan, sprinkle it with a tablespoon of sugar mixed with a teaspoon of grated lemon rind.

Want a wonderful Sunday breakfast? Serve blueberry gridle cakes with maple syrup and crisp strips of bacon, pan-fried ham or golden-brown sausage links.

A blueberry sauce will add allure to old-fashioned cottage pudding, vanilla pudding or custard, paper-thin French pancakes or French toast. Serve any of these combinations for dessert.

Baking an open-face blueberry pie. Use the scraps of pastry left from the crust for pretty decoration. Roll out the pastry leaving and then cut out in leaf shape using a cardboard pattern. Put the pastry leaves on a small baking sheet and bake them at the same time as the pie, removing them from the oven when they are golden brown. Arrange the pastry leaves over the pie just before serving. Vanilla ice cream eats well with this pie!

Quick and easy: beat heavy cream until stiff adding sugar and vanilla to taste; fold in a generous amount of blueberries. Spoon into sherbet glasses and top with crushed macaroni crumbs.

Roll our rich blacuit dough and spread with soft butter. Sprinkle the dough with sweetened blueberries and roll up jelly-roll fashion. Bake, cut into slices and serve warm with cream.

Fill cream puffs with a custard filling into which you have folded blueberries.

Good luncheon salad: fresh pineapple, bananas and blueberries. Serve with crisp greens and cottage cheese.

A Birthday Hint

Birthday party coming up? Frost a layer cake and mark the initials of the birthday boy or girl in the center of the cake with small pieces of semi-sweet chocolate. Add birthday candles.

MSU Researchers Find Spoilage Factor

EAST LANSING, (INS) — Two Michigan State University researchers have discovered that many of the organisms that cause spoilage in cottage cheese can be controlled by adding sorbic acid during the cheese making process.

Dr. L. G. Harmon and M. D. Bonner said cottage cheese can be kept from spoiling for still longer periods by impregnating packaging material with sorbic acid.

Sorbic acid—a white crystalline substance from the unripe berries of the mountain ash—has been approved by the Federal Food and Drug administration for this use. Other scientists are experimenting with the substance in controlling spoilage organisms in other kinds of foods.

The acid also can be added in the water that washes the curd during manufacturing to inhibit some organisms which cause spoilage.

Broil Coconut Pears

Pears, fresh or canned, are mighty good when sprinkled with confectioner's sugar, cinnamon and coconut that has been lightly browned, either in the broiler or oven. It's a keen combination to serve with a scoop of vanilla ice cream.

"Kool Krisp" Ice Channels Keep Wrigleys Produce Moist and Fresh

The next time you shop in Wrigley's pay particular attention to the Kool Krisp fruit and vegetable counters. There you will find the reason why the cool, fresh moist green vegetables and fruits are always so appetizing looking. Why they taste so good. Notice the narrow metal racks filled with finely crushed ice that separate the carrots from the cucumbers, the tomatoes from the radishes and lettuce. These are called Ice Channels, a scientific feature developed by Wrigley's experts and used on the Kool Krisp counters of all Wrigley stores. Placed at intervals on the produce counters, these rustproof "ice channels" are packed to the brim with cool, humidifying crushed ice which allows cool and moist air to circulate through the garden-fresh foods, keeping them in perfect condition for your table. This is the modern way Wrigley's keep Kool Krisp fruits and vegetables fresher—a plus value you get nowhere but Wrigley's!

Club Steak Hits the Spot

Ask any man what he had for dinner last night and watch him name the meat! Meat plays a large part in determining whether the meal is a success.

A club steak is certainly one meat cut any man will remember. So whether you're a bride of one month or a homemaker with 20 years experience, it will be an easy task to present him with this evening specialty—club steak.

Reba Staggs, meat expert, mentions that club steak is the smallest steak in the short loin.

The beef club steak in appearance resembles a rib pork or lamb chop. Each has the rib bone and the large meaty section on one side of the bone.

To prepare this delicious meat cut, simply ask your meat dealer to cut a club steak between 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick.

Steaks cut less than 1 inch thick should be panbroiled, since broiling thin steaks tends to cook them too well on the inside before the steak is browned on the outside.

To panbroil, simply place the steak in a frying-pan. Brown on both sides. Reduce the heat and cook slowly until the meat is done, turning occasionally.

Pour off the drippings as they accumulate. Do not overcook. Season with salt and pepper. Allow 4 to 6 minutes for rare steak and 8 minutes for medium-done steak.

A club steak cut 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick will provide 1 to 2 servings.

Try Potato Chips With Tuna Salads

Ever tried potato chips in tuna salad? Makes a nice chewy combination! Use your own favorite salad mixture, or combine tuna broken in chunks, pickle relish, pimiento, onion, celery and cabbage mixing lightly with a mayonnaise and lemon juice dressing. Add crushed potato chips just before serving.

Good Nibbling

Lightly brown bite-size shredded wheat cereal in butter and sprinkle with a favorite seasoning. Good for nibbling and to serve with a hot or chilled soup. Delicious, too, with tomato juice.

Food Editor, Off to Cape, Cleans Out Refrigerator

Pontiac Press Home Editor
By the time you read this article in the Market Basket your Food Editor and her family will be on Cape Cod. We are paying our first visit to the New England states.

Getting ready to go away for a time is like eating rolls and butter at a party. You have a little butter left so you take another roll. Then you need more butter to finish the roll.

Not wanting to leave anything in the refrigerator, I tried last week to make our food come out just even. It wasn't easy, believe me.

I was reduced to buying just half a dozen eggs. When Monday morning came, and there was still one egg left that no one would eat for breakfast, I hard-cooked it and took it along for our first picnic lunch.

I thought I had bought the right amount of bacon to last the few days we would be eating it. Miss Teenager had friends in for lunch and wanted bacon and tomato sandwiches. Result was I had to buy more bacon and a couple of tomatoes for salad over the weekend.

The milk problem wasn't bad. We have four cats, so there is never any surplus milk. I merely closed my eyes and added what little cream remained in the bottle to the cats' milk.

Butter and margarine went in the freezer, as did the maple syrup. So did the tomato juice that no one drank. We took the bread along for sandwiches.

I buy coffee in the bean, since I grind my own. That will keep nicely in a metal container. That last bit of meat loaf went in the cats' dish, too. I suppose I could have made a sandwich out of it for future eating. But once in a while I get tired of trying to be efficient.

The little jars I always keep in the back of the refrigerator came in for some scrutiny. Out went that custard cup full of freezing that I had been sure I would use if I kept it.

Into the freezer went nuts, candied fruit and raisins. The mayonnaise I had to give to the neighbors. It won't freeze. I was afraid to leave it at room temperature for any length of time.

When we get home, I can stock the refrigerator from scratch. What a shopping spree I'll have. And think what it will do to my budget. But it's only once a year.

Lemon Wedges Point Up Veal

Lemon flavored veal chops — doesn't that sound like a refreshing main dish? It is — and an easily prepared one, too.

After dredging in flour and browning in fat, the chops are topped with lemon slices and allowed to simmer gently until done. That's all there is to it!

Braised Veal Chops

4 ribs or rib veal chops, 1/2 to 3/4 inch thick
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons pepper
2 tablespoons lard
1 small onion
1 bay leaf
1 cup water
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Coat chops with flour which has been mixed with thyme, salt, and pepper. Brown chops in hot fat; top each with a slice of lemon. Add bay leaf, water and Worcestershire sauce; cover and simmer 45 to 60 minutes, or until tender. Four servings.

Brightens Up Rice

Brighten up that cooked rice to serve with chicken or ham! Add sliced pimiento - stuffed olives, minced parsley or green onions, strips of green pepper and pimiento or a little chili sauce or catchup.

SUMMER SKILLET, SWEET AND SOUR —
Serve this tasty canned luncheon meat main dish in the attractive skillet in which it was cooked. Quickly prepared, this summer entree owes its sweet-sour flavor to the spices, brown sugar and vinegar in which the protein-rich canned meat was cooked.

Canned Meats in Summer Room Temperature Eliminate Cooking Chore Best to Store Bread

Having a head-start on cooking is important these summer days. No one likes to spend a lot of time cooking in hot weather, and yet everyone wants to serve hearty, nourishing meals. One of the best ways to lessen cooking time, and still serve wholesome meals, is to use canned meats, ready-cooked for quick serving.

Meats in cans have the same essential proteins, the complete proteins, which other meats have. When you serve canned meat, you're getting not only good nutrition, but also a good-tasting meat that needs no further cooking.

A canned meat also is the basis for a taste tempting hot main dish. Summer Skillet, a hearty canned luncheon meat dish for dinner, takes only a small amount of cooking time. In this recipe, the sweet and sour flavor of vinegar, brown sugar, and spices blends well with the rich flavor of the luncheon meat.

COLUMBIA, Mo. (INS) — Properly wrapped bread in clean, dry containers may be stored satisfactorily at room temperature. Warm weather brings with it the problem of keeping bread free of mold, and a Missouri University extension nutritionist said that refrigeration is not the best solution for its temperatures step up staling.

Well ventilated bread boxes offer a better means of storing and such containers should always be placed away from heat-producing equipment, she said.

Dryness, cleanliness and adequate ventilation of all storage boxes is requisite to keeping bread free of mold.

Summer Skillet, Sweet and Sour
3 12-ounce cans luncheon meat
1 large onion, chopped
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 tablespoon vinegar
1/2 teaspoon allypice
1 1/2 cups cooked rice (1/4 cup raw rice)
1/4 cup seedless raisins
1 cup bouillon

Cut meat into 1/2 inch cubes. Brown meat, onion, and green pepper 10 minutes in a large skillet. Add remaining ingredients and cook 5 minutes longer, or until heated through. 6 servings.

Summer Fruits, Berries Are Cooling — Healthy Too

Summer berries and fruits add pleasure and health to hot-weather menus. Here are two light recipes we've found delicious.

Blueberry Souffle, Custard Sauce
Crush 1 pint fresh blueberries and mix with 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice. Combine 3 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 2 tablespoons cornstarch and stir into the blueberries. Cook until clean and thickened. Cool.

Beat 4 egg whites until frothy and add 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar and beat until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually beat in 1/4 cup sugar and fold into cooked berries. Turn into a 6-cup casserole.

Place in a pan of hot water. Bake in a preheated slow oven (325 degrees F.) 45 minutes or until done.

Serve with custard sauce. Serves 8.

Custard Sauce

Combine 1/4 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch and 1/16 teaspoon salt in a saucepan. Gradually beat in 3 egg yolks and 1 1/2 cups milk. Cook over low heat or hot water until the mixture coats a metal spoon, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat. Cool. Add 1 tablespoon vanilla extract. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

Fresh Lemon Cream

Combine 1 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Beat in 1 egg. Gradually stir in 1 cup water and 1/4 cup fresh lemon juice.

Cook over low heat or hot water (not boiling) until thickened. Remove from heat. Cool.

additional whipped cream and garnish with a sprinkle of grated lemon rind, if desired. Makes 6

Keep Only Two Days
Chicken broth that is not being served right after it is prepared should be cooled rapidly at room temperature for no more than half an hour and then refrigerated. The chilled broth should not be held more than two days.

Quick Sunday Snack
For Sunday, have for the hungry youngsters a speedy snack. Spread crunchy peanut butter on bun halves or slices of raisin bread. Top with a spoonful of marshmallow cream.
Place on shallow baking pan or cookie sheet and broil under a low flame until brown. Serve with a tall glass of chocolate milk.

Gov. Williams Signs Three More Bills

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today put his signature on three more bills produced by the legislature in its off-and-on special session.

He signed a bill appropriating an additional $31,600 for the state's program of providing free polio vaccine to private physicians and health clinics.

The money will allow the state to provide three doses of vaccine for all children one through 14 years old and pregnant women.

He signed a bill authorizing formation of corporations to sell water to townships. The measure allows the corporations to take water from the Great Lakes and Lake St. Clair.

A third bill repeals an act incorporating the public schools of the township of Vienna, Montmorency County.

Cholera Kills 2,000

PATNA, India (AP)—An estimated 2,000 persons are reported to have died of cholera during July in the East Indian state of Bihar. The casualty estimate was based on unofficial reports from various parts of Bihar reaching Patna, the state capital.

Phony Found Out

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Hector Orozco Rodriguez has been charged with posing as a doctor for six years after flunking out of the National University's medical school. He was employed by the government Health Ministry and Social Security Institute.

Expects Good Primary Turnout

Michigan Election Boss Predicts Local Scraps Will Spur Interest

LANSING (AP)—Robert R. Montgomery, state Elections Bureau chief, today estimated 1,200,000 persons will vote in Tuesday's primary.

The primary vote was 893,944 in 1934, an "off year," and 1,436,546 in 1932, the last Presidential election year.

Montgomery said he looks for a fairly good vote despite complaints by both Democratic and Republican party leaders of apathy.

There is only one statewide contest, matching Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit, and Donald S. Leonard, former state police commissioner, for the Republican governor nomination.

GOOD SCRAPS LOCALLY

Montgomery based his estimate in part on the observation that at one level or another there are contests on both Republican and Democratic sides in nearly every county.

Local and congressional scraps probably will bring out voters who would stay at home otherwise, he said.

His vote estimate amounts to about 38 per cent of the April 9 registration figure, the latest available.

Grand Rapids 'Cut-Ups' Pay Out $206 in Fines

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Two Grand Rapids youths were fined a total of more than $206 yesterday in police court after pleading guilty of being disorderly by snipping a lock of hair from the head of an 18-year-old girl.

Frank Conner Jr., 17, and Harold Bacon, 17, were fined $100 each plus court costs.

The girl told officers she had accepted a ride Sunday with one of the boys, whom she knew, and was taken to a lonely spot where four other youths appeared. She said she was knocked unconscious when she resisted as several youths held her while one cut her hair.

IN THE DOGHOUSE — Canadian soldiers at Camp Gagetown, New Brunswick, have developed a novel punishment for GI's involved in traffic mishaps and other minor misdeeds. Penalty is a spell in the doghouse, built especially for the purpose. Above, S/Sgt. Bob Weatherill, from Coldwater, Ontario, tests the structure, with condolences being offered by Sgt. John Sawchuck, of Barrie, Ontario.

Navy Plans to Establish Five Bases in Antarctica

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Navy announced plans today to establish five scientific bases on the Antarctic continent — one at the South Pole — this fall.

The second phase of "Operation Deep Freeze" will involve 12 ships, 38 planes and 3,525 men.

The plans will include eight Air Force "Globemasters," capable of carrying 35 tons of cargo each. These, assigned from Donaldson Base at Greenville, S.C., will transport and drop by parachute most of the 500 tons of materials for the south polar base.

Skid-equipped Navy planes, meanwhile, will land at the pole with construction crews transported from McMurdo sound. The base at McMurdo, along with Little America V, was established on the coast of Antarctica last year in the first phase of "Operation Deep Freeze."

MAN OCCUPIES AREA

The dramatic operation will mark the first time man has set foot at the South Pole since Norwegian Roald Amundsen and Englishman Robert Scott raced to the spot by dogsled in 1911-12. Amundsen came out alive, but Scott and his party perished.

This time modern accommodations for 15 men will be built at the pole for use of scientists during international geophysical year studies that begin July 1, 1957.

The studies are to provide the first observations of sunspots, cosmic rays and magnetic effects from the bottom of the world. Four more outlying bases will be built by the U.S. A total of 45 observation posts will be set up by the 11 nations cooperating in the Antarctic program.

COLD DUTY

Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd will again serve as "officer-in-charge," while Rear Adm. George J. Dufek will be in active command of the task force on the second phase of the operation.

The first plane was carried out by seven ships and 1,000 men who left last fall under the same command. They deposited 1,000 tons of building materials and left 100 men, mainly construction workers, to "winter over" at McMurdo and Little America V.

The construction crews are to begin work as soon as the six months of Antarctic daylight starts in October. Ships, however, will not be able to get through the ice Heating, Cooling, Plumbing Month; Anybody Care?

LANSING (AP)—This is "Plumbing, Heating, Cooling month," in case anybody's interested.

It was designated such by Gov. Williams in a solemn proclamation which had nice things to say about good furnaces, good air conditioning and good bathroom fixtures.

The Governor said 27 million American homes have no bathroom facilities of any kind. And he said, just as many have no central heating plants.

"The absence of such conveniences serves us as a reminder that our housing needs have not yet been fulfilled," Williams said.

Democrats, Republicans Hold Union Hall Debate

DETROIT (AP)—Another union hall debate between Republicans and Democrats was held yesterday. Republican state chairman John Feikens faced August Scholle, state CIO president.

Scholle accused the Republican Party of taking orders from General Motors.

Feikens, taking the rostrum in the local 331, United Auto Workers hall, said that the only way for Northern Negroes to end Southern control over congressional committees is to vote Republican.

Scholle denied that the CIO was committed solely to Democratic candidates. He said the union had no objection, for example, to members supporting Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor), seeking reelection to the state House, or Rep. James Goulette, Iron Mountain Republican.

Lakes Fishery Units Locate Office at UM

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Another Great Lakes group has located on the University of Michigan campus.

The joint U. S.-Canadian Great Lakes Fisheries Commission said yesterday that it would set up its headquarters at the university. Earlier the Great Lakes Commission, an organization of several lakes states, had opened university offices.

The Fisheries Commission, established by treaty last year, was designed to coordinate and conduct research on control of the parasitic sea lamprey. Its office here will be staffed by an executive secretary and administrative assistant, not yet named.

Among the members of the six-man commission is Mayor Claude Ver Duin of Grand Haven. The commission operates under a $1,000,000 grant. It will cooperate with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service office in Ann Arbor and certain University research groups.

About five million families in the U. S. have two or more automobiles.

Saginaw Widows Sue

SAGINAW (AP)—Widows of two telephone repairmen who were electrocuted last October have filed Circuit Court suits seeking $375,000 damages. Defendants are the Saginaw County Agricultural Society and the Hugh Laundra Electric Corp. of Saginaw. Mrs. Michael C. Sakowski and Mrs. Dwight W. Rogers allege negligence, saying Michigan Bell Telephone Co. was not notified a cable had been moved near high tension lines. The two men were killed Oct. 7 while checking a switchboard at the fairgrounds.

So's a Good Boss, Say Stenos

Good Secretary Is Hard to Find

Seems as though the wishful dream of most businessmen these days is not a sports car, not a swimming pool—just a good secretary.

That this dream is growing more and more difficult to attain is attested by the following plaintive note from a New York public relations office:

"For the past month we've been attempting to fill a position in our office. We're looking for a bright girl for a junior secretarial spot."

"So far we've interviewed at least 200 girls. Of the 200 some 150 were primarily concerned with whether or not we have air-conditioning. (We don't have.) A dozen or so thought it might be nice if they could knock off around 4:30 daily for the rest of the summer. A couple said yes, they'd like the job—if they could start about three weeks from Friday."

But if bosses are having trouble getting a secretary—to say nothing of the perfect one—it seems there is another side to the coin. The secretaries say a lot of bosses leave a lot to be desired too.

At a recent meeting of 40 of them, a secretarial snoop named Suzy sat in, assigned to the job by the editors of the trade magazine of the Bureau of Business Practice.

These are the things the girls wish their bosses wouldn't do:

Jangle keys or change in the pocket while dictating.

Pace up and down a large office, often out of earshot, while dictating.

Look out the window and dictate to the wild blue yonder.

Blame the secretary when they just plain forget something.

Refer to the secretary as "my girl".

Go rummaging through the files leaving them in a mess.

Forbid the secretary to clean up his desk.

Ask her to do personal errands during her lunch hour and then complain if she is 10 minutes late.

Club Told Need to Aid Handicapped Vanderlind Asks Volunteers to Help Disturbed Children

John Vanderlind, psychiatric social worker from Pontiac State Hospital, was speaker at the Wednesday evening meeting of the American Business Woman's Association held at Hotel Waldron.

Mr. Vanderlind spoke of the many activities planned at the hospital for emotionally handicapped children and of the active part they have been taking in the 4-H work.

The speaker told of the great need for volunteer workers to assist with the different age groups of children.

Plans were made for the national convention of American Business Women to be held in Denver, Colo., in October.

Incorporate Ruth Fair Designs

Ruth Fair, Dallas designer who for 15 consecutive seasons has attracted national attention, has announced plans for the expansion and incorporation of her firm.

The growth of the business, established as a hobby nine years ago, has reached the point where production facilities must be expanded in order to serve present accounts and make Ruth Fair designs available in cities where there has been no previous outlet, Mrs. Fair explained.

Such an undertaking places the scope of R. Fair Company beyond that of a one executive operation, she added.

Ike Clark and Bill Whitened have been named officers in the newly-formed corporation. Clark now heads the firm as president; Whitened as secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Fair as vice president and designer. Mrs. Fair will devote her entire time to designing and store contacts.

The new collection which Mrs. Fair is now designing will be launched Aug. 15, and will be approximately the same size.

There will be no change in policies, but in line with expanded production facilities, the selling staff will be increased.

Ian Meredith will become associated with R. Fair Company as a sales representative. He will assist Mrs. Fair in showing the collection to present accounts, and will represent the line at the Mid-winter and Holiday Market in Dallas, Aug. 19 to 23.

Convention Fashion Tip—Politically to Be Simple!

WASHINGTON (INS)—If you are going to one of the political conventions, you'll do well to leave behind dresses with bold stripes or large prints.

This is the advice of Miss Bertha S. Adkins, assistant to the chairman of the Republican National Convention. With the heavy television coverage in store for convention-goers, Miss Adkins has assembled tips from TV experts on how to look your best if the cameras swing your way.

TIPS 'BIPARTISAN'

She passes on the tips for Democrats and Republicans alike. Here they are:

Think in terms of "simplicity" of dress. Avoid large prints and bold stripes. Black without too much sheen may be worn. Medium tones in all colors televise accurately.

Women's hats should permit the wearer's face to be completely visible. Avoid large brims and veils, which cast shadows on the face.

Do not wear white close to the face or hands, such as in hats, collars, gloves and handbags. It detracts from the skin tone.

Due to strong highlights, plastic or patent leather purses should be avoided. The same applies to shiny gold or very bright tones in costume jewelry. Pearls are always good.

REGULAR MAKEUP

As for makeup, women appearing on black and white television can wear regular street makeup, natural looking and without sheen. Use medium shade of true red lipstick. Go easy on eye shadow. Miss Adkins did not overlook the men delegates, either. For

Easy to Launder Quilted Skirt

A favorite is the lightweight cotton quilted skirt that launders easily and dries "ready to wear!"

A safe method is to wash it by hand or machine in lots of lukewarm soap or detergent suds, and rinse it well.

Then squeeze and hang it wet so that wrinkles will smooth away under the weight of the dripping water.

From time to time, squeeze out the moisture that collects at the hemline, and shake the skirt to fluff up the inner batting. It will dry nicely puffed and smooth.

Personal News of Interest in Area

Jane Schimmel is spending the balance of the summer vacation from her teaching position in San Francisco with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schimmel of West Troquois road.

En route here she toured Mexico, visiting in Mexico City, Acapulco, Vera Cruz and Taxco.

Before returning to the coast Jane will also visit with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Swengros, who recently moved into their new home on Eileen drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Offer of Bloomfield Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Holman of Birmingham have returned from a trip through the Smoky mountains and Kentucky.

They visited relatives in Columbia, Tenn., and at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Daily Showers, Keep You Fresh

Ever notice how well groomed nurses look? It's because they're trained to know that cleanliness is essential to hygiene, both for themselves and their patients.

Nurses, who rarely have time for long baths, compensate by taking numerous showers to freshen up. That's a good thing to remember during warm weather.

A morning shower and evening shower will keep you fresh and cool even when the mercury gets out of hand.

Club Open to Retired Teachers

Jessie M. Brewer Heads Local Group, Formed Last April

Twelve retired Pontiac Public School teachers met in April with the purpose of organizing a Pontiac Retired Teachers' Club. Jessie M. Brewer acted as chairman with Inez Slater, secretary, and Maude VanArsdale, treasurer.

At the election of officers Miss Brewer was named president, with Mrs. Albert Kohn serving as vice president, Inez Slater, secretary, and Maude VanArsdale, treasurer.

A committee was appointed to prepare a constitution, to be presented at the October meeting. Serving on the committee are Mrs. Harry Bashore, Mrs. Robert Fawcett and Mrs. Albert Kohn.

The local club is affiliated with both state and national organizations. The work of the organization is to provide social and educational activities for members and to promote legislation that concerns retired teachers.

Membership is open to all retired teachers living in Pontiac and vicinity.

Mrs. Harry Bashore was hostess to members at a cooperative luncheon meeting Wednesday at her home on Dixie highway.

Bridge Luncheon Follows Golf for Niblick Club

Luncheon and bridge followed the regular weekly round of golf when members and guests of Niblick Golf Club met Tuesday at the Pontiac Country Club.

Mrs. Lynn Allen presented guest prizes to Mrs. Guy Moats, Mrs. Charles Manz, Mrs. Sydney Baer and Mrs. David Warriolow.

Other guests present were Mrs. Norman Durocher, Mrs. William Herman, Mrs. Cecil McCallum and Mrs. Paul Fox of Tulsa, Okla.

Members receiving prizes were Mrs. George Hubbard, Mrs. Dorothy Holloway, Mrs. Oswald Burke, Mrs. Arthur Barnes and Mrs. Allen.

Wedding Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boughner of Whittemore street has announced the marriage on March 2 of their daughter, Judy, to David Blower. He is the son of Mrs. Earl Blower of Central street and the late Mr. Blower. The couple is residing on Whittemore street.

Members of the Pontiac Retired Teachers' Club know that a little pleasure along with business adds to the success of the organization, and they enjoyed their first social get-together Wednesday. Unpacking their picnic basket for the cooperative luncheon are (left to right) Jessie Brewer of Norton avenue, president; and Mrs. Albert Kohn of Garland avenue, vice president.

Plan Works for on-the-Shelf Girl No Place for 'Lone Wolf' in Today's Marriage Setup

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Evidently one can feel old at any age. I always have contended that age is much more a state of mind and of health than of years. The following letter is from a 17-year-old girl.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I was chunky as a little girl. Then came the first teenage years. When I was 12 I hated the way I looked. I was so fat through the middle that I had trouble buying pretty dresses like my friends wore. Everyone said I would out-grow it."

"By the time I was 14 the other girls had pretty figures but I was fatter. When I was 15 my friends were having dates but I had none. I know that the kids at school did not mean to be mean but they kidded me about how fat I was."

"Mrs. Lowman, I might as well have been 50 as 15 for all the fun I had, and I was so miserable. I was ashamed of the way I looked and because I never had a boy ask me for a date."

"I guess I just sort of gave up. I stayed away from the gang as much as possible. It wasn't hard to do since all my girl friends were interested in their boy friends."

DOCTOR AGREED

"I had been reading 'Why Grow Old?' for a long time and one day you wrote about the overweight girl. Last January mother said that I could write for your Marathon booklet. My doctor said it was all right for me to cut my calories to 1800 each day. He told me what foods I must have each day."

"I was so desperate and so full of hope at the same time that I stuck to it and lost 25 pounds. You were never fat like I was when I was 12. I will never know what this has meant to me because I bet you

The average teenager is very sensitive about her appearance.

"I went to my senior high school dance at the end of school this year with one of the most attractive boys in my class. I am so happy. I think life is just wonderful!"

Overweight and physical defects are usually much more damaging to the personality of a teenager than to that of the mature woman. The average teenager is very sensitive about her appearance. Many mothers make the mistake of failing to realize what really serious repercussions these can have on the future of their daughters.

If you missed Marathon in January and would like to have my Eight-Week Self-Improvement Marathon booklet send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Small Details Important When Hunting for Job

In addition to a gal's clothes, other things she takes with her to a job or school interview this spring are important parts of her presentation.

The first matter is cigarettes. Even if a teenager is allowed to smoke by her family, this is one time not to do it.

There are a variety of reasons for this, but probably the most important one is that the interviewer might get the idea that the teenager couldn't do without a cigarette for even a half an hour.

If the job or school is interested in seeing art work, records, references or other sheets of paper that a gal doesn't want to part with, she ought to take such things along in a neat folder or notebook.

They should not be folded or stuffed into a pocketbook. They should be organized.

A pen and a small notebook are good things to take along, even if one doesn't have to use them.

They can come in handy for jotting down phone numbers or additional material that's needed.

Wife Has Right to Expect Much More Than Meal Ticket From Life Partner

By RUTH MILLETT

Women no longer have to marry or stay married just for a meal ticket.

But there are plenty of husbands who still act as though they do. Husbands who think their only responsibility in marriage is earning a pay check.

These are the husbands whose wives can't talk over a problem with them. If they try to they are told they are nagging or cut off with the lordly command, "I don't want to discuss it."

These are the husbands who never bother to show their wives any appreciation. They reason that they earn the pay check and what their wives do is their part of the marriage contract.

That might be all right if marriage were just a business arrangement but since it is supposed to give both partners a feeling of being loved, appreciated, admired and respected it isn't enough for a marriage partnership.

REFUSE TO GO OUT

These are the husbands who refuse to take their wives anywhere. It never seems to dawn on them that a wife might be just as anxious to get away from home, her place of work, as the husband is to get away from his office or factory.

"These are the husbands who grudgingly dole out money to their wives instead of realizing that just because he earns the pay check he has no right to feel it belongs to him. He is earning 'our money' just as she is keeping 'our house,' but that doesn't occur to him."

These are the husbands who don't want to be bothered with the children, whose wives are forever having to say, "Don't bother your father."

These men must think their wives married them for a meal ticket, and will stay with them just to keep it.

At least they seem to think that supplying one is their only responsibility for helping to make a marriage happy.

Women's Orbit Growing

NEW YORK (INS) — A group of 17 women who last night received "Women of Achievement" awards from the American Federation of Sorority Clubs, agreed that the role of women is more important this political year than ever before.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, one of the 17 outstanding women honored, said:

"This is a very important period for women. All women are tremendously interested in achieving a free and peaceful world. The present struggle going on in the world is primarily for freedom. In this, women have both a great stake and a tremendous influence."

Mrs. Roosevelt noted that women have a large role in new governments in Asia and Africa and that these governments seem to be "moving forward in proportion to the number of women they have."

OLDER WOMEN NEEDED

Mrs. Roosevelt said that older women particularly are important in politics today. She explained, "The older woman has time to do things in politics a younger woman cannot do."

Assistant to the secretary of labor for women's affairs, Mrs. Alice K. Leopold, another of the eight women who were present to receive their awards, told newsmen she thought "the most gratifying role a woman can have in politics is to participate in community affairs."

Jessie M. Vann, publisher and president of the Pittsburgh Courier, said that women may someday fill top level government posts, but expressed the hope:

"I hope we never elect them just because they are women. Male or female, white or colored, leaders should be selected on the basis of ability, on what they have to contribute."

Chicken Variety

For a change, substitute pineapple chunks for the eggs in your favorite chicken salad recipe. Remember to use rather large pieces of fruits and meats, because they are attractive and easy to eat.

Suds baseboards every time you scrub the floor. Use a brush to get into cracks, but avoid letting excess water seep in.

Love for Unwanted Child Will Come

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Writes Mrs. H. "Our daughter's doctor has told her she's pregnant. She is terribly upset. She's got a good job, and she and her husband wanted to postpone a child, but she keeps saying she isn't ready for this baby."

"Her rebellion worries me. Isn't it dangerous? Don't psychologists say that unwanted babies become 'problem' children?"

Some psychologists do say this. They are probably the same ones who get so excited and sympathetic over children's first day of school.

They reserve their tenderness for the six-year-old girl's fear of new experience, having very little for the 26-year-old girl's fear of hers.

FEELINGS DEVELOP

In her sensible book, "Don't Be Afraid of Your Child," she says: "It has been my experience that mothers who carry a child through nine months of pregnancy want their children, even though there may be overt reasons and motives against bearing and raising a child at this particular time.

"The fact of not wanting a baby in the beginning of pregnancy does not prevent the development of warm maternal feelings in young mothers, particularly when they in turn find tolerant support from those nearest them."

It's not "tolerant support" of this young woman to threaten her with the psychological bogey man of a "problem child" as punishment for her fearful feelings toward a still theoretical experience.

So-called "wanted babies" are a comparatively modern luxury. Until the development of planned parenthood, women bore many, many unwanted babies. Surely they didn't all become "problem" people.

Though we can't check on the "wantedness" of such men as Socrates, Lincoln, Edison and Dr. Freud himself, the chances are that they and other benefactors of the human race were not all wildly welcomed by their mothers.

EARNED WELCOME

The chances are that, like grown-ups, the unwanted but beguiling babies had to earn their welcome.

So let's keep our balance to help steady this daughter—at a time when she's struggling to absorb the shock of discovering a marriage can produce a child.

Only hostility will translate her understandable disturbance as final rejection of her coming child. Love will look upon it quite differently.

Love will see her disturbed protests as a trusting search for our ability to dispel her fear of new experience—and to permit the joy and pride waiting behind it to break out like the rising sun.

Bus Seating Etiquette Explained

Give Strange Girl 'Companion' Place, Male Escort Told

By EMILY POST

"What is proper in the following situation? A boy and a girl enter a bus and the girl finds a seat and the boy stands talking to her. Meanwhile another girl, a stranger, gets into the bus and stands next to the boy."

"The seat next to his girl friend is then vacated. May the boy take this seat besides his girl friend or must he let the strange girl, standing next to him, sit down in it?"

Answer: He must offer it to the strange girl. If she were not nearby, he could take it.

Dear Mrs. Post: "My son eloped with a girl who lives in another city. I met the girl two or three times but her family are complete strangers to me. I would like to know what my obligations are toward her family."

"Am I supposed to write her mother a letter? If so, will you please give me some idea of what to say."

Answer: After you have welcomed the daughter-in-law, you should write her mother and say that you hope to meet her soon and say something nice about your daughter-in-law.

Dear Mrs. Post: "I work in an office with 15 other employees. I would like to invite them to my wedding but do not feel that I can ask their husbands and wives too as the cost will run too high."

"Will it be improper to invite the employees only? Please let me hear from you as I have to send my invitations within the next week."

Answer: One invitation to the office saying that you would be glad to have any of them come who would like to would be quite proper. But do not send an individual invitation without including husband and wife.

City Panhellenic Seeks Winner

Pontiac Panhellenic scholarship award will be given on Sept. 1 to an outstanding Pontiac senior college girl. The selection of the winner is based on scholarship, character, extra curricular activities and economic need. Sorority affiliation is not necessary for this scholarship.

The scholarship committee is composed of Mrs. R. L. Bronoel, Mrs. William Brace and Mrs. Thomas Moffat.

Persons interested in applying for this scholarship may contact Mrs. Bronoel at her home on Pioneer drive.

Don't Pack Trunk for Weekend Trip

Weekend trips to the lake call for only a small wardrobe. Swimming togs, shorts, jeans and shirts are all necessary.

One change of sport clothes for adults and two for children should be enough. With the addition of underwear and pajamas, your weekend wardrobe should be complete.

FOR PLAYTIME PEP Creamettes for LUNCH

Standaway collars flatter the plump provided they are not bulky. It takes a tall woman and a long neckline to carry bulky collars.

Cowl necklines, draped high or low, soften the slim silhouette in fall dresses. For coats in the luxury fabrics, standaway necklines follow this same softer idea. The short, plump figure should choose the smaller standaway neckline to avoid bulk.

Find True Serenity in Busy Life

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There's an old proverb which says, "Be very careful what you ask of life because, alas, you're apt to get it."

So often I've seen people scheme and work and pray for a thing and then be perfectly miserable when it comes along.

I thought of that recently when my son and I were driving along a country road and stopped to pick up some beautiful vegetables from a roadside stand.

The stand was owned by a charming elderly couple. You could see they loved the work, and were proud of their stand and their lovely vegetables.

LEARNED STORY

When I asked how they got started, I learned their story.

"My husband and I," the woman said, "always dreamed of retiring to the country and to peace and quiet."

He was a traveling representative for a big company and we had lived all over the world. We had a hectic social life and often were with people day and night for weeks.

"Our idea of heaven was to be all alone with the birds and flowers, not a soul around and not a bit of chatter!"

DREAMED OF RETIRING

"Yes," her husband added, "I used to dream of retiring away from people. After all, I spent my whole working life in the people business, so to speak, and never had time to laze around and read and just think."

"Well, we did—three years ago—and it was disastrous!"

The woman smiled. "After the first few weeks, I thought we'd go crazy. There was nobody around, except an occasional neighbor. It was awful."

So we decided that, the following summer, we'd start some kind of roadside stand, just so passers-by would stop and pass the time of day!

WORKS FINE

"And it's worked wonderfully."

Tweeds Lighter

This fall's tweeds for men will feature lighter patterns, paler colors and a variety of textures ranging from fine smooth weaves to rough, nubby Donegals. These tweeds will be seen in small all-over patterns, shadowy checks and over-checks, crossway web effects, herringbones and nubs in flattened to slightly raised, surfaces.

"We hired college boys to do the real farming. They stay here all summer, which is nice."

"We read up and studied about how to operate a roadside stand and we've been pretty successful. But the best part is, we have lots of people stopping by all day, and plenty of conversation!"

"If anyone had told us we'd do this — after all the years we dreamed of peace and quiet—we'd have thought they were crazy."

If you're interested in setting up a roadside stand, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of this newspaper and I'll send you my pamphlet on the subject.

Clean Lace Hats With Sudsy Sponge

White hats made of real starched lace, or the plastic straw-like lace, can be spot-cleaned with a sponge dipped into stiff soap or detergent suds.

Use as little water as possible, and lots of suds; then wipe with a clean, damp sponge.

Give this spot-sudsing treatment as soon as needed and your white lace bonnet will be as practical as it's pretty—and my, oh my, is it pretty!

A person can worry himself thin about almost anything except losing weight.

Use Light Perfume

Fragrance worn during business hours is "correct" and appreciated by employers. Wear light, refreshing scents before five, and reserve the heavy sultry perfumes for the evening hours.

Educated sweaters go back to school this fall in new miracle yarns which can be washed in a jiffy, dried without blocking and retain their shape and color. Pictured are a boy's turtle-neck pullover in cable stitch and girl's pebble-stitch cardigan with brass buttons, both in the new bulky style, in tycora, newest in the synthetic yarn lineup. They require a minimum of care.

Glass Gets Midas Touch

NEW YORK (INS)—Glassware manufacturers have decided that the one thing almost every woman loves is gold — and that's what they've used to trim their products.

The glasses on display at the eighth annual National China, Glass and Pottery Show are all gold-edged in one way or another, and usually in combination with black.

MEDALLION MOTIF

One new pattern, for instance, uses a medallion motif—first one row of black medallions against clear glass, then a row of gold medallions against a black stripe.

The seven wonders of the world are featured in black and gold on another set. Next to each of the wonders is lettering describing which it is. The coasters which go with this set are bordered in black and feature a bas relief section of the globe.

Coins are the theme of another glassware pattern—each coin is gold and framed in black. Next to the coins are the amount and mint year.

Another black-and-gold combination features the marquee of famous night spots. The center marquee is white and blank so the host can write in the name and drink of the glass's user.

Another glass design leaves out the black and sticks to just plain gold in a very large Greek key design.

To make your summer auto trip more comfortable for your children, make a play area in the back seat by putting a crib mattress on top of suitcases placed between the seats.

Lady Docker's Fripperies Cost Husband Job

Gold Plated Cars 'Too Much'

LONDON (U. P.)—Britain's No. 1 headline hunter, Lady Docker, turned sweetly penitent for the stockholders, but it wasn't good enough. Hubby didn't get his $129,000 job back.

Norah's husband Sir Bernard Docker was ousted two months ago from the managing directorship of the 70-million-dollar British Small Arms Corp., makers of the Daimler luxury automobiles among other things.

The other directors contended the Dockers had tried to stick the company for nearly $170,000 worth of "frumpies," including five Daimlers (several gold plated and one upholstered in zebra skin; Norah said mink was too hot to sit on), all sorts of fancy feminine apparel and a trip to Grace Kelly's wedding.

Seeking reinstatement at a stockholders' meeting yesterday, Sir Bernard explained: "The publicity which my wife and I have had, which has been very considerable, I felt would inspire people to buy the car."

Lady Docker, who once slapped an attendant at the Monte Carlo casino, told the group her "whole idea has been to help the company."

"If I have tripped up in any way and let anybody down, I am sorry," she went on. "I did not mean it. I have always wanted to help all of you, especially my husband."

John Y. Sangster, a quiet financier who replaced Sir Bernard as head of the company, conceded the Dockers "did attract attention and publicity." But "in the view of your board it is not the right sort of publicity," he added.

"The stockholders agreed 240-66. The Dockers won't starve. Both are independently wealthy, their holdings including 100,000 shares of BSA stock. And Norah, whose blonde beauty belies her 50 years, had a philosophic last word: "We put up a good fight, and we did our best in the circumstances."

Scent Fur Linings

There is a safe way to scent furs. Spray the linings of your coat, jacket, or stole, but never apply fragrance directly to the fur itself. Try tucking sachet pillows into the pockets, too, and truly you will have fragrance wherever you go.

Accent Cologne

Perfume should be worn with cologne or toilet water. Cologne of toilet water slathered all over the body as the foundation of your fragrance, and perfume touched to the pulse spots—inside wrists, elbows, throat, temples—as the accent to your fragrance.

If you get caught in a summer shower, your shoes will dry more quickly if they are stuffed with paper or rags.

Swim Suit Features Tiny Watch

CHICAGO (INS)—Men soon can have time as an alibi in watching pretty girls in bathing suits.

The latest swim suit features a watch—a real one, strategically attached to show off hourglass curves as well as hours.

As shown today at the National Jewelry Fair in Chicago, the tiny round watch is centered in a sunburst of golden aquinas that decorates the bosom of the suit. In another version, the watch is sewn to the skirt right at the most graceful curve of the hip.

The suit is the joint enterprise of two men—Chet Hansen, vice president of the Gruen Watch Co. of New York City, and Fred Cole, a former actor turned bathing suit tycoon, of Los Angeles, Calif.

SHOWN ACROSS NATION

It was shown to jewelers from all over the country in a white elasticized cloth shot with gold metallic threads, but Hansen said it will be adapted in other swimwear materials as well.

The watch, said Hansen, is waterproof and shockproof, so women can dive or swim in it without harming the innerworkings. It's self-winding and can be detached because it is only stitched to the suit.

The suit with the "built-in" watch will be shown in department stores late in August but is chiefly aimed at the winter resort crowd, said Hansen. It sells for about $50.

Two of the most essential factors toward enhancing a child's appreciation of music is that he be exposed to good music and the music be presented by someone who is enjoying it.

A trim, tailored pajama should be in every young miss' wardrobe. The fabric is a no-iron challis fabric with nylon content. Delicate lace-edgings are even on the pajama legs.

Buy Them Washable

Clothes and home furnishings that are a pleasure to live with, that can be kept fresh and lovely with easy home care, that can be kept clean just by laundering with suds and water, are always the best buy.

Rattle That Bib!

You'll crow over a new bib that both protects and entertains baby at the same time.

Old Pros Win Big Ones

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Brooklyn's Dodgers are winning the big games again in the National League pennant race, but look who's doing it for 'em—one-time nemesis Sal Maglie and Dale Mitchell, who wasn't even in the league two days ago.

The two old pros, with a combined age of 75, were the big guns as the third-place Dodgers knocked off Milwaukee again 3-1 last night, moving to within three games of the first-place Braves.

Maglie, 33, needed help and missed his 100th victory, but he was the Barber of old, calming the Braves on five hits and leaving seven runners stranded while protecting a 1-0 lead before running out of gas in the seventh inning.

Mitchell, 33, was the guy who won it, chopping a pinch RBI single in his first appearance since being picked up by the Dodgers from the Cleveland Indians.

Originally scheduled for Glen Oaks course, yesterday, the 18-hole medal tourney has been set for Aug. 29. Site remains the same, according to Pontiac's Perc Secord, long time top contender in the tonorial golf ranks.

"Those who did appear yesterday, played a practice round headed by 56-year-old Jack Gundry of Royal Oak (operates a shop in Birmingham). Jack is a tough competitor, hitting 37-42-79 in the practice round."

Barbers' Links Test Put Back to Aug. 29

Because of the light field of entries for the events, yesterday's state senior men's barbers golf championship was put back to a late August date. It is hoped that a good field will be signed by that time.

BROOKLYN (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers had beaten the Milwaukee Braves 3-1 in a bitter game, the National League pennant race had reverted to the "dogfight" look it had at the All-Star break but the Dodgers clubhouse was more concerned with the beater Milwaukee pitcher, Lew Burdette.

While the usual shouts of congratulations went to former American Leaguer Dale Mitchell and relief pitchers Clem Labine and Roger Craig, Jackie Robinson said:

"I don't want to accuse Burdette of throwing a spitball. But I'll say one thing—he's got the best one I've ever seen."

"That's quite a sinker he throws," Pee Wee Reese chimed in. He smiled when he said it.

Brook Manager Walt Alston injected a touch of humor into the situation.

"I really couldn't tell from the bench," he said. "But I did tell the umpire (Frank Secory) that I had instructed my batters to leave the box every time Burdette brought his hands to his face."

Maryland ranks sixth in racing attendance and wagering of the states that permit it.

Now...for the first time...you don't have to change tires on the road!

GOOD YEAR TIRES

After a puncture or blowout, a "tire within a tire" lets you drive in safety...at legal speeds...for 100 miles or more!

See in the demonstration test above how the new Captive-Air Safety Tire—slashed through with a knife—carried this car for 110 miles!

The car you see in the circle is coming off New York's Triborough Bridge—with a gaping hole in its right front tire. We cut a two-inch slash right through the side of that tire . . . but we know that both driver and car are safe. The reserve air in the inner chamber lets the car thread safely through heavy traffic without danger or delay. Fact is, that car rolled on for three hours—covered 110 miles. No damage to the tire other than the cut. Here's dramatic proof you no longer have to change a tire along the road!

NEW NYLON Captive-Air Safety Tire by GOOD YEAR

This amazing new tire development is backed by Goodyear's 22 years and millions of miles of LifeGuard experience . . . over a year of scientific road tests . . . over 8 months of consumer tests!

The new Nylon Captive-Air Safety Tire—inspired by Goodyear's famous double-air-chamber LifeGuard—lets you ride safely and securely on two independent cushions of air. If the outer tire is cut, torn, or blown out, the reserve air in the inner tire supports your car. You can drive at legal speeds for 100 miles or more . . . without the danger of tire-changing in heavy traffic . . . without costly towing charges or road repairs.

This new tire also gives you the powerful, live-action traction of the new Twin-Grip tread, the brawn of 3-T Nylon Cord, and Grip-Seal construction for extra protection against punctures. We have only a limited supply! Be sure to see the Captive-Air Tire soon!

Triple-tempered 3-T Nylon Cord body gives you greater strength and safety.

Exclusive 2-ply Nylon safety unit gives you a "tire within a tire" for proved protection against the dangers of puncture flats and blowouts.

If a blowout or puncture should occur anywhere in the tire, this reserve air supports your car for 100 miles or more . . . until you reach a convenient tire service station.

Inner chamber inflated to 24 lbs. pressure.

Outer chamber inflated to 24 lbs. pressure.

For Sale — One First Baseman for $200,000

LOS ANGELES (U)—Want to buy Steve Bilko, the burly Los Angeles first baseman who is leading the Pacific Coast League in homers with 46?

The price is "not less than $200,000," Angel President John Holland said yesterday. He added that several major league clubs have made inquiries about Bilko, who is closing in on Tony Lazzeri's Coast League record of 60 home runs in one season.

Bilko was up previously with the Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals but he had trouble meeting the low-and-away curve. He is hitting .371 for the Angels.

Konno Drafted Into Service

Swimming Ace to Miss Final Olympic Trials Next Week

DETROIT (U)—Former Olympic champion Ford Konno says he may miss the 1956 Olympic swimming team tryouts next week because he has been drafted into the Army.

Konno, who won the 1,500-meter championship at Helsinki in 1952, said yesterday his draft board had ordered him to report for induction Monday. Final trials begin here Tuesday.

The Hawaiian-born former Ohio State University star said the notice was sent to his home last week while he was competing in the National AAU championships in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio.

"I didn't find out about it until Sunday because my wife didn't want to upset me with the news," he said.

Konno said he had asked his draft board whether induction could be delayed.

He is one of about 100 early arrivals working out in Detroit pools in preparation for Olympic team bids.

4 Unseeded Players in Quarter-Finals

CHICAGO (U)—Four unseeded players join the tournament's four top-ranked stars today in the quarter-finals of the National Girl's 15-and-under tennis championships.

The outsiders who crashed through the third round are Helen Lowry of Middletown, Ohio; Bonny Mencher, Forest Hills, N.Y.; Carol Prosen, Orlando, Fla., and Gay Miller of Lagrange, Mo.

Miss Lowry today faces top-seeded Nancy Richey of Houston in the quarter-final feature. Filling out the bracket, Miss Prosen meets No. 2 Virginia Hesse of Hamtramck, Mich.; Miss Mencher faces No. 3 Helen Weill of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Miss Miller takes on No. 4 Karen Hantze of San Diego.

Big Turnout Seen for GMC Grid School

MOUNT PLEASANT (U)—Central Michigan College expects one of the largest turnouts in the history of the Michigan High School Coaching School to be held at the College Aug. 13-17.

Forrest Evashevski, one-time Michigan great and now coach at Iowa, heads the football program. Bucky O'Connor, the Hawks' basketball coach, will lead the basketball discussions.

Bears Tiny at Birth

The Alaskan brown bear is the size of a rat at birth. Cubs are usually born while the mother is denning up for the winter and when she leaves the den, they weigh 15 to 20 pounds.

Junior Tourney in 3rd Round

Aussie Last Foreign Netter at Kazoo

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (U)—Red-headed Rod Laver, Australian southpaw, is the last survivor of the four foreign-seeded players in the National Junior and Boys tennis championships. enter the fourth round.

The 17-year-old Laver meets a formidable opponent in sixth-seeded John Skogstead of Coral Gables, Fla. Yesterday, Laver eliminated Wayne Peacock, Wisconsin State champion from Wauwatosa, 6-4, 6-4. Skogstead playing with a back injury, defeated Alan Roberts of Brooklyn, N.Y., 6-2, 6-1.

Skogstead, also 17, wrenched his back in the Western Tournament at Champaign, Ill., last week and has withdrawn from doubles to concentrate on singles.

Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn, top-seeded junior, seeks his fourth straight set victory of the tournament off Ed Atkinson of Los Angeles, who is ranked 14th in a field of 128 players.

Second-seeded Don Dell of Bethesda, Md., meets Robert Folz of Phoenix, Ariz., and third-seeded Norman Perry of Los Angeles plays Roy Anderson of Wilmette, Ill., in other feature matches.

In boys singles, third seeded, Bobby Siska of San Francisco, who won the Western Boys title a week ago, meets Francisco Castillo, of Hamtramck, Mich., in the third round. Siska, who white-washed his first two opponents, defeated Hugh Lynch of Bethesda, Md., 6-2, 6-1 yesterday.

Castillo, a transplanted Columbian, ousted stubborn Dave Christman of South Bend, Ind., 6-2, 4-6, 6-1.

Paul Palmer of Phoenix, Ariz., top ranking entry in the boys division, plays Neal Marcus of Tampa, Fla., and Ray Senkowski, another Hamtramck entry, meets

John Karabasz of Coral Gables, Fla.

KALAMAZOO—Here are the summaries of yesterday's play for Michigan competitors in the National Junior and Boys Tennis Championships:

BOY SINGLES (15 and under)

Chester Babinski, Hamtramck, defeated Ned Haglund, Beckley, W.Va., 6-1, 6-4.

Lejeune Blocks Hartack, 'Shoe's' Racing Sweep

CHICAGO (U)—Jockey S. Lejeune probably will remember yesterday as the day he kept Willie Hartack and Willie Shoemaker from sweeping the nine-race card at Washington Park.

Lejeune, astride Guillo, nosed out Shoemaker, up on Peter Parment in the fifth race. Shoemaker won three of the other eight races, Hartack the other five.

2 New Sports at Western

KALAMAZOO (U)—The athletic board at Western Michigan College has approved the addition of swimming and wrestling to the Intercollegiate Sports program.

The University has just completed a new $1,500,000 physical education building for men. An excellent swimming pool and wrestling facilities are included in the new structure.

wrestling give Western teams in all sports recognized by the Mid-American Conference, of which Western Michigan is a member.

Roy Wietz, for about 15 years an instructor in wrestling in Western's physical education classes, will coach the wrestling squad. Edward Gabel will be the swimming coach.

Broncos now will compete in nine sports.

New York Printers Hold Tourney Lead

CINCINNATI (AP)—Half the starting field had been eliminated today in the 42nd Union Printers baseball tournament.

Today's four-game program, featured by defending champion New York's 12-2 shellacking of Detroit. New York is now 3-0 in the two-defeats-and-out tournament. Detroit is 2-1, the same record of the three other survivors — St. Louis, Washington and Baltimore.

Tam's Jackpot Up for Grabs

CHICAGO (AP)—Golf's more youthful pros were given a good chance to outdo the so-called old guard as prospecting started today in the $146,200 Tam O'Shanter tournament.

Fellows like Dow Finsterwald, leading money winner, British Open champion Peter Thomson, Gene Littler, Arnold Palmer, and Mike Souchak were eager to crash through on top.

The youngest player ever to win the "World championship" and its fabulous prize, which now totals $50,000, was Bob Toski. He was a mere youth of 27 when he took it in 1954.

The winner's share of this one for men pros is a $3,420 pittance. Women pros shoot for a top prize of $1,000. Men amateurs and women amateurs go for merchandise awards.

All four groups play in separate sections simultaneously through 72 holes of medal play ending Sunday.

They must compete in the All-American to be eligible to get a spot in the "World championship."

—the granddaddy of golf's big money meets with a cash prize purse of $101,200 for men pros and $15,000 (winner's share of $6,000) for women pros.

The "World" stampede of 72 holes starts next Thursday. Doug Ford and Patty Berg return to defend their pro titles in the All-American. Doug Sanders and Wiffi Smith did not report in and their men's and women's amateur honors are up for grabs.

Sanders and Miss Smith also won the "World" amateur division last year while Miss Berg also took the women's pro crown.

Julius Boros was the big "World" winner, carting off the $50,000 in cash and picking up $1,000 each for 56 exhibitions under contract to tournament sponsor George S. May.

Even though Boros was out of tournament action much of the time while fulfilling the exhibition tour in three countries, he was able to tie Ben Hogan for second place in the recent National Open.

Although Finsterwald, Thomson, Littler, Palmer and Souchak are rated high in the field, most of the favoritism centers on Lloyd Mangrum, the course record holder with a 9-under-par 63; Cary Middlecott, National Open champ; Jack Burke, Masters and PGA title winner, and other seasoned campaigners.

Most all of the big name players are on the scene except Hogan, who has refused to return to Tam after winning the 1951 "World" crown.

Only once in the history of the meet has a player won the men's pro title of both the All-American and "World." Mangrum accomplished it in 1948.

The men's pro field in the All-American numbers 156. Eighty-four of the players were exempted from qualifying. The other places were filled in 18-hole trials which ended yesterday with co-medalists Gene Webb of St. Louis and Ernie Tardiff of Kankakee, Ill., each with 67's.

Here are the scores of Michigan qualifiers in the Tam O'Shanter golf tournament:

New Leader in Waterford Rec

Lakeland Pharmacy took over 1st place in the Waterford Township Softball League with a 6-0 whitewashing of Drayton Drug in their crucial battle Wednesday night at Drayton Plains.

The Pharmacy now holds a half-game edge over Drayton. Lakeland boasts a 13-3 record while Drayton is 13-4. The league winner qualifies to enter the Class B district tournament; the runner-up team enters the C ranks.

Don Herr pitched a sparkling 5-hit shutout, although Chuck Rock came on in the 7th to dispose of the last two batters. Paul Atkins rapped out two of the loser's hits.

Lakeland made six safeties, two by Bill Troyer, off the slants of Arlo Fletcher and Jack Nelson. The winners tied the decision with three runs in the 4th inning. Chuck Cooper driving home two with a single. Harold Horn homered over the fence in the 5th.

The title fight continues tonight when Lakeland meets the VFW at 7 o'clock and Drayton tangles with Gidley Electric at 8:30.

Jets Drop 8-6 Game to Elks

A four-run rally in the 6th inning by the Anderson Jets went for naught as they dropped an 8-6 decision to Elks No. 723 in a Class A City Baseball League slugfest Wednesday night at Walsner Field.

The Jets' four-run uprising in the 6th was a case of "too little and too late." The Elks scored twice in the 1st stanza and four times in the 4th to take a commanding lead. Their single run in the 6th left the Jets' outburst one tally short and they added another counter in the 7th for good measure.

Pitching took a decided back seat in the game as each team collected 10 safeties. Catcher Ernest Nelson was the big gun for the Elks. He slammed an inside-the-park homer with a mate aboard in the 4th and tripled home another runner in the 6th. LeRoy Baines clouted a two-run homer in the 6th for the Jets.

Monroe Moore hurled the distance for the losers. Bill Hurd started on the mound for the Elks, but gave way to John Jackson during the Jets' husky 6th inning. Hurd was credited with the win.

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Down hill Top

DIAGNOSIS: Play the ball back

TREATMENT: Don't gamble for distance on a downhill shot by using a wooden club, unless the slope is hardly noticeable and the lie is good. Then a No. 3 or 4 wood could be used, but I recommend the irons, graduating from the No. 2 down to the No. 6, depending on the depth of the slope.

In the sketch, for example, the slope is abrupt and I am using a

No. 6 iron in order to get the ball up into flight. With a straight-er-faced, longer iron there's the

on the left leg entirely, as sketch shows. The right leg is kicked inward. Grip the club about two or

steeper the slope, the shorter the grip.

As body balance is of first importance, there is hardly any pivot.

The left arm comes up abruptly and is pulled down sharply so that the ball is hit with a descending blow. Stay down to the shot, and the club will follow out after the ball in a low arc for control.

Honesty Basis of New PledgeOlympic Entries Are Required to Declare Amateur StatusCHICAGO (U)—A new amateur pledge taken by entries in the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne "is a matter of personal honesty" and is designed to thwart athletes attempting to use the Olympics as a springboard to professional careers.The pledge, which Chicago's Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, says was written into the books after "several years' consideration," requires contestants in the games to declare on their entry blanks:"I, the undersigned, declare on my honor that I am and intend to remain an amateur and fulfill the conditions stipulated by the Olympic rules."The new rule, according to Otto Mayer of Lausanne, Switzerland, chancellor of the International Olympic Committee, was adopted in January.Brundage, reportedly a strong supporter for its adoption, said yesterday that "The man who signs the pledge is the only one who knows whether or not he will turn pro in the future—it's a matter of personal honesty."He declined comment on the possible effect of the new pledge on the U.S. boxing team to be chosen at San Francisco in October, but asserted that the IOC might have taken a different course if the rule failed to achieve its purpose.Crosby to Hold

Frick would require him to dispose of stock in one of the clubs
"within a reasonable time," Cros-

Seizure of Private Land Permitted by British Law

LONDON (INS) — Millions of Britons were reminded with a shock that an Englishman's home is not necessarily his castle when the government recently ordered a white-haired woman and her daughter off their own farm.

Lady Marjorie Garbett and Miss Susan Garbett were dispossessed under a law passed by the 1947 Labor Government which allows the Ministry of Agriculture to evict anyone whose land is not being properly farmed, even if they own the land.

The two women receive no government compensation for the property, since it is not actually being seized. They can only sell or rent it to someone who, in the opinion of the Ministry, will farm it correctly.

Two agents of the Ministry of Agriculture and four policemen and price supports and "has a right to expect efficiency in return."

A majority of Britain's national press has jumped to Lady Garbett's side with indignantly-worded editorials. The Daily Express called the eviction "a scandal and a scar on British justice," and the News-Chronicle commented:

Grace Watkins Dies

MANCHESTER (AP)—Funeral services will be held today for Mrs. Grace Watkins, 80, widow of Whitney Watkins, former state senator and commissioner of agriculture from the 10th District and former head of the West Michigan Fair. Mrs. Watkins died Monday at her home.

FUN IN THE BACK YARD—
The Round-About

Here is a simple way to have fun in your own back yard, on a round-about which is easy to make. A strong wooden box forms the center and across it is placed a long board rounded at the ends and tapered in the middle. A bolt and washer holds it in place, so it will turn easily when pushed. Blocks of wood at each end form handles.

This cut out will show you how it works as Dick and Doris spin around.

Color it with your crayons and paste it down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully. Put the base together by folding back the side panels and folding the top down. Paste the flaps on the side panels under the top. Then fold the foliage flaps forward.

Put the board across the top of the box and fasten it with a brass fastener or bent pin. Cut the little tabs around the heavy edges and fold up, as shown in diagram A, so they will provide hand holds.

Paste the two sides of the girl together as far down as the waist. Set her astride the seat and fasten her hands to the hand hold. Do the same with the boy. Then start them spinning round.

(Gwen Johnson, Fairfield, Ala., gains the Junior Editors $10 award for her suggestion. If you have an idea send it in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures).

Crime and Education
Closely Tied in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (U)—The amount of crime in this country is closely related to the degree of education, according to a report by the government statistical office.

During 1935, 27,943 persons were sentenced for various crimes.

Of these 9,541 had no school instruction; 8,988 went to school three years; 3,200 had six years of schooling; 260, nine years; 53 went to university and 52 completed professional training. No scholastic record was available for the others.

Toll Traffic Mover

ROCKFORD, Ill. (U)—While Richard E. Arms, city-county planner, was attending a meeting on how to move traffic by state toll roads, his car was tagged for obstructing traffic. Police Officer James F. Vesely called a wrecker to tow away Arms' car, and Arms paid Traffic Sgt. Charles E. Berve a $5 fine.

Briton Patented Safety
Glass 50 Years Ago

LONDON — Laminated safety glass, patented 50 years ago, went unnoticed for some years. John Wood, an Englishman, in 1905 took out a patent on a sandwich of glass, glue and celluloid.

Later in France chemist Eduard Benedictus, working in a Paris laboratory, dropped a bottle containing nitrocellulose from which the solvent had evaporated. The glass broke, but did not shatter. His accident led to the limited manufacture in 1913 of a lamination of two sheets of glass and a cellulose plastic interlayer.

Whaling Ships Visited
Antarctic in 1890's

STAVANGER, Norway — As early as the 1890's the Norwegian whaling operator Christian Christensen had sent two expeditions to the antarctic.

Rumors of abundant whale stocks in those waters were verified and pelagic whaling was begun in 1904. The following year Christensen changed the whole method of whaling by sending a factory ship to the antarctic.

Travels 30,000 Miles to Earn College Degree

BRIDGEWATER, Va. (U)—The Rev. Max William Fisher thinks he may have set some kind of record to get a college degree. He drove 30,000 miles during a four-year period to get to his classes at Bridgewater College.

During this period, Rev. Fisher served as pastor of two churches and supported his family of eight, including six children ranging in age from 2 to 12.

Rev. Fisher was pastor of a small Church of the Brethren in Pendleton County, W. Va., his first year when he attended Bridgewater three days a week and drove 104 miles each trip. He traveled 9,360 miles that year.

Then he moved to Fuiks Run in Rockingham County, Va. From Fuiks Run, it was a 64-mile trip. The next three years, Rev. Fisher drove 17,280 miles.

Martin Heinrich Klaproth first identified uranium in 1789 while studying ores of the Jachymov silver mines of Bohemia.

Teens May Object, but —

PHILADELPHIA (U)—Rutledge, Pa., a suburban of about 1,000 near here, believes children should be neither seen nor heard. It enforces a curfew which provides that all children under 18 must be off the streets by sundown. Parents of second offenders under the ordinance can be fined $100.

New Drought Area Grass

DALLAS (U)—The Renner Research Foundation here reports that one of South Africa's forage plants, Columbus grass, shows excellent prospects for dry areas of the Southwest. U.S. Experimental yields at the foundation have reached six tons an acre, a good crop for the area.

Teddy in Office Again

PHILADELPHIA (U)—President Roosevelt holds office here. He is Theodore Roosevelt, III, grandson of President Theodore Roosevelt, and president of the Americans for the Competitive Enterprise system, a national citizens organization.
