Swollen Clinton Gives Up Body of Its 3rd Victim

A tragic chain of events ended yesterday with the recovery of the body of a 13-year-old boy from the Clinton River —the third victim claimed by the rain-swollen stream this week.

The body of Michael Rosario was found floating on the surface of the water about 12:20 p.m., just 24 hours after the body of his 8-year-old brother, Robert, was pulled from the river.

MICHAEL

★ ★ ★

It was shortly after the discovery of the younger boy that Pontiac Police Capt. Donny E. Ashley drowned, when a search craft capsized while combing the river near the old sewage treatment plant for Michael.

★ ★ ★

Two skin divers from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department narrowly escaped death later the same day while continuing the search operation.

POLICE THEORY

Pontiac Police Sgt. Carl F. Colando, who along with Capt. Raymond Meggitt recovered the body of Michael, theorized that the boys went wading in the river near Paddock and East Boulevard Monday, the day they were reported missing by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tiburcio Rosario of 330 Judson.

Colando said that both boys were without their shoes and socks when found.

★ ★ ★

Michael's body was recovered from the river where it flows past the old treatment plant, through a concrete causeway, and enters the natural river bed.

Deputy Wayne Brause, one of the skin divers who nearly became a victim of the turbulent rapids, was discharged from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday after being treated for exhaustion.

CAUGHT IN CURRENT

He and Sgt. Medward Tessier of the sheriff's department were caught in the whirling current and had to be rescued by officers on shore. Tessier was treated and released the same day.

Pontiac Police have instituted a 24-hour, two man honor guard for Ashley at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home, where a service will be conducted at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Lake Mishap Kills 7 Children, Man

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP)—Seven children on a holiday outing and a man who was giving them a boat ride drowned yesterday when their 12-foot outboard flipped over, hurling them into Lake Easy about five miles south of here.

The only survivor was an 11-year-old girl who clung to the overturned boat and was rescued by a vacationing deputy sheriff.

★ ★ ★

"When the first car got there, the families of the kids were wading around in the water crying and searching for bodies," said Capt. Earl Branch of the Polk County sheriff's department. "None of them could swim."

The families were making an all-day Fourth of July outing of it, said a nearby cottage owner. "They had set up their picnic stuff early in the morning."

LOADED INTO BOAT

Branch said William Harrell, 35, of Lake Wales, loaded the eight children into the boat for a ride around the small lake.

Raymond Parks of Winter Haven said he was fishing nearby when the boat started swinging toward the picnic site on the bank.

He said the boat rolled over in the middle of the turn, pitching its cargo of children into 15 feet of water about 100 yards from shore.

Branch said deputy Ray Greubel, who was camping with his family nearby, swam to the overturned boat and found Harrell and Venera Clay clinging to its side.

WENT UNDER

Witnesses said the girl lost her hold on the boat and both men attempted to save her. The deputy grasped the girl and brought her back to the boat, Branch said. But when he turned around, Harrell had gone under.

Greubel recovered a second little girl, but could not revive her when they reached shore.

The bodies were recovered during a three-hour search by divers and men in boats with grappling hooks.

★ ★ ★

The dead were listed as Harrell, Belinda Clay, 12, and her 14-year-old sister, Cynthia, of Lakeland; their cousin, Jimmie Elaine Clay, 9, and Sheila Jennings, 8, Carolyn Jones, 11, Cynthia Jackson, 7, and Rhonda Tucker, 10, all of Lake Wales.

'First-Ballot Win Near for Nixon'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Republican Conference said today Richard M. Nixon can nail down a first-ballot victory at the Republican national convention with 39 more votes.

"I believe that Dick Nixon is behind (in the polls) at the present time merely because he is not speaking out on the issues," Rep. Melvin Laird of Wisconsin asserted.

★ ★ ★

Asked how close Nixon is to winning the GOP nomination, he said, "He's about 39 votes short of a convention nomination on the first ballot as of today."

★ ★ ★

On the Democratic side, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy courted the farm vote in Iowa while Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey began two days of rest after hurrying through a speech in Philadelphia in which he had to compete with chanting antiwar demonstrators.

STOCKPILING PROPOSED

McCarthy proposed stockpiling of wheat, feed grains, soybeans and other agricultural products as he spoke in Corning, Iowa, where the National Farmers Organization has its headquarters.

The organization's collective bargaining approach was praised by McCarthy.

★ ★ ★

"American farmers are not asking for special treatment in society," he said. "They ask for prices which are just."

★ ★ ★

Humphrey's Philadelphia speech, delivered in front of Independence Hall, was not without political content.

★ ★ ★

As some 50 antiwar demonstrators chanted and marched nearby, their voices clearly audible to the crowd, Humphrey promised, "We shall make peace, above all things, our national purpose."

Humphrey Gaining Delegates in State

LANSING (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is gaining support among Michigan Democratic national convention delegates and now can expect nearly two-thirds of the state's 96 presidential votes, an Associated Press poll revealed today.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., will receive six votes, the poll disclosed, while nearly one-fourth remain uncommitted.

Here is how the tabulation breaks down:

★ ★ ★

Hubert H. Humphrey	63
Uncommitted	25
Eugene McCarthy	6
John Glenn	1
Edward M. Kennedy	1

Humphrey's total represents an increase of 25 votes over an AP poll conducted two weeks ago.

Despite a personal appearance before the delegation last Sunday, McCarthy increased his total by only one vote over the previous poll.

Most of Humphrey's increase can be attributed to McCarthy's visit. One previously uncommitted delegate, who asked not to be named, said "I think McCarthy really dug his grave Sunday with the Michigan delegation."

During his closed-door visit with delegates, McCarthy said that he could conceivably support Republican Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York for president under certain conditions.

Most of the uncommitted delegates say they are waiting for further developments before deciding whom to support.

'AMBIVALENT AT MOMENT'

"I'm really ambivalent at the moment,' said Albert Wheeler of Ann Arbor. Wheeler explained that Humphrey stresses civil rights and poverty, and downgrades the Vietnam war.

McCarthy, however, emphasizes the war and tends to downplay poverty and civil rights, Wheeler added. For that reason, he said, he had not made up his mind.

★ ★ ★

A few delegates list themselves, as uncommitted but say their minds are made up but that they refuse to divulge their choices.

★ ★ ★

A delegate who earlier stated he was for former Gov. G. Mennen Williams is now listed as uncommitted.

Michigan sends 102 persons to the Democratic national convention at Chicago in August. The delegation casts 96 votes. Each delegate gets 94-100 vote, while the national committeemen and committeewomen each receive one vote.

Mercury May Drop Into 40s Tonight

Cooler temperatures with little chance of rain is the outlook for the Pontiac area tonight and tomorrow.

Here is the official day-by-day U.S. Weather Bureau forecast:

TODAY — Clearing and cooler with lows of 47 to 54 tonight. Winds west to southwest at two to 15 miles per hour becoming northwest to north today and northeasterly at five to 10 miles tonight. Precipitation probability is 20 per cent.

★ ★ ★

TOMORROW — Mostly sunny and cool with highs in the low 70s.

SUNDAY — Partly cloudy and mild.

Low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 63. By 2 p.m. the temperature was 78.

Sniper Search Pressed

MASSILLON, Ohio (UPI) — A four-county search was pressed today for a sniper who shot a 9-year-old boy in the abdomen while he sat with a companion on a park bench here.

Michael Stano of Massillon was in "very critical" condition in Massillon City Hospital. Stark County Sheriff George Papadopulos said Stano was shot by a sniper standing about 250 yards from the boy.

Heart Recipient Is OK

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Heart transplant recipient George Henry DeBord, 46, of Helotes, Tex., remained in satisfactory condition today.

DeBord, a contractor, received a new heart Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

DeBord is one of three living human heart transplant recipients at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital. The other two, who received new hearts in May, are reported in excellent condition.

N. Viet Reportedly Ready to Compromise on 2 Issues

LONDON (UPI) — High Communist sources said today Hanoi is prepared to compromise on the terms of a phased American withdrawal from South Vietnam and a coalition government in Saigon — but on little else.

The regime of President Ho Chi Minh is ready to negotiate a cease-fire after a complete and unconditional halt of American bombing of North Vietnam, the sources said.

★ ★ ★

These negotiations would either precede or coincide with efforts to "reorganize" the Saigon government to turn it into a coalition "friendly" to Hanoi.

The informants, with special knowledge of North Vietnamese designs, said Hanoi's ultimate aim is the withdrawal of the United State from Vietnam. But there was considerable scope for compromise on this score.

'FACE-SAVING' DEAL?

Hanoi, the sources said, is prepared for a "face-saving" arrangement regarding American withdrawal.

Apparently Hanoi is thinking in terms of a gradual pullout, spread over a considerable though not clearly defined time.

★ ★ ★

This, the informants said "will be open to negotiation."

The informants said Hanoi will under no circumstances compromise on Washington's demand for a reciprocal gesture of De-escalation in return for a complete American bombing halt.

★ ★ ★

Just as Americans feel Hanoi is not yet ready to begin meaningful negotiations for a settlement, the Communists in turn claim the United States is not so far willing to commit itself to any firm course for peace negotiations.

No major move is therefore anticipated until later this year, or even next year, after the U.S. presidential election.

Soviets Launch Sputnik

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched another Cosmos satellite today and the Sputnik was reported functioning normally, Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said. The device, Cosmos 230, is sending information to a Soviet research center for evaluation.

All Are Saved as Bridge Falls

LONGVIEW, Wash (AP)—A wooden footbridge jammed with people watching fireworks collapsed last night, plunging scores of people into a lake near the center of Longview. All apparently survived.

Police Chief Ralph Benefiel said as many as 200 persons may have been on the bridge.

Skin divers scoured Lake Sacajewea today but said they found no bodies. Ambulances, hearses and even station wagons were pressed into service, hurrying 89 persons to two hospitals. Seven were admitted to St. John's Hospital for further treatment, two with broken legs.

The footbridge was 15 feet high, five feet wide and about 100 feet long. Water underneath was up to eight feet deep.

BYSTANDERS HEROES

Kenneth Dahl, Cowlitz County deputy coroner, said the bystanders probably saved many lives.

"When the bridge fell in, many people on the shore jumped in and started pulling people out," he said.

★ ★ ★

Many families were separated in the confusion. At one time the Fire Department said 25 people were missing, but by early morning the Police Department said everyone had been located.

Holiday Road Toll Climbs Steadily

By the Associated Press

The national toll of deaths in traffic mounted steadily today as millions of Americans returned to work after an Independence Day off and many others extended their holiday outings into the long weekend.

The total reached 216 by noon today.

Although showers dampened parts of the Southeast and portions of the mid-continent, dry weather offered good driving conditions over most of the country for the Fourth of July and today.

The National Safety Council has estimated that between 700 and 800 Americans may die in motor vehicle accidents in the weekend that began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Drowning and boating mishaps also accounted for a large number of accident deaths across the country. The latest figures show 23 boating deaths and 60 dead by drowning.

ESCAPE HATCH WORKS—Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., commander of the three-man crew to be sent aloft in the next manned Apollo shot, in September, climbs from the spacecraft during an emergency evacuation drill. The test was held yesterday at Cape Kennedy. Schirra has his hand on a lever which opens the capsule hatch in three seconds. It was designed after a fire killed three astronauts trapped in their capsule on a cape launch pad last year. The old hatch took 90 seconds to open.

Plan for Downtown Tops on Bill of Fare

The bill of fare: roast beef, potatoes and other culinary delights, plus a public presentation of the downtown plan which proposes to construct some $80-million worth of new buildings on downtown urban renewal land.

The time and place: 12:10 p.m. Tuesday at the Pontiac Elks Club. The charge: $2.25 per person.

★ ★ ★

Organizers of the community luncheon said anyone interested in the future of the downtown is invited. Tickets may be purchased at the Community National Bank offices on Perry and at the Pontiac Mall. Dickinson's men's shop, Hayes Jones Community Center, and Osmun's men's store, Tel-Huron branch, or at the door Tuesday.

N. Viet Missiles Miss Big Yank Bombers

SAIGON (AP) — Two enemy antiaircraft missiles were fired at U.S. Air Force B52 bombers attacking North Vietnam's southern panhandle yesterday, the U.S. Command reported today.

Spokesman said none of the eight-engine bombers was hit. The B52s have been fired upon before by the Soviet-made missiles on raids in North Vietnam's southernmost section, but none has been hit so far in the war.

The giant bombers are considered vulnerable to the enemy high-altitude missiles. U.S. fighter-bombers — faster, smaller and lower-flying — ordinarily attack known enemy missile sites before the B52s head for the DMZ or North Vietnam, and the B52s generally try to steer clear of these sites.

The B52s returned today to pounding enemy bases around Saigon in a massive allied campaign to head off a threatened attack on the capital. They flew five missions 28 to 30 miles northwest of Saigon.

ARMS SEIZED

On the ground, allied troops uncovered two more important enemy arms caches today, bringing the number found since Wednesday to five.

"We're getting better intelligence," a U.S. spokesman said. "We're getting it (the weapons) at the base camps before it can be moved."

* * *

One of the latest discoveries was made by U.S. 1st Division infantrymen in a complex of five bunkers and 150 feet of tunnels 33 miles north of Saigon. The cache contained 110 bazooka-type rockets, seven rocket launchers, an 82mm mortar and 24 shells for it.

* * *

BOOBY-TRAPPED BUNKERS

About 30 miles northwest of Saigon, other 1st Division troops gingerly probed booby-trapped enemy bunkers where they already had found a cache of more than 35 of the big Russian 122mm rockets plus more than 1,000 bazooka-type rockets.

* * *

The cache is only 10 miles from a big U.S. base at Dau Teng, which came under a 500-round rocket and mortar attack earlier yesterday.

Two other rocket caches were seized six miles east of Saigon Wednesday and yesterday.

Roeper School Names New Business Aide

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Roeper City and Country School announced this week the appointment of Anthony A. Haisch as Director of Business Administration and Development.

He assumed duties July 1 at the nonprofit, co-educational day school for nursery through high school age students.

* * *

Haisch, 28, of 32496 Chesterbrook, Farmington Township, comes to the school with a degree in Business Administration from Wayne State University.

He most recently served for six years with the Housing Division of the Detroit Public Schools.

FOR GIFTED STUDENTS

Roeper was organized in 1956 into a school for academically-gifted children. Enrollment the past year was 530 students, and is expected to be 570 this fall, a spokesman for the school said.

BIRMINGHAM — A record number of teachers new to Birmingham School District will be looking for housing in the next two months.

According to Kenneth Nagley, Assistant Superintendent, Personnel, the more than 300 teachers — most with families — represent a new high to the Birmingham District.

* * *

Especially needed are single room rentals for young men or women and one and two-bedroom furnished or unfurnished apartments. Many of the new school personnel will also be looking for homes to purchase, Nagley added.

Persons desiring to make any listings available are requested to contact the Personnel Office at the Board of Education Building, Nagley said.

27 Passengers Are Injured as Bus Misses Detour Sign

MACON, Ga. (AP) — A bus en route from Chicago to Miami apparently missed a detour near here Thursday night and overturned, injuring 27 persons, Bibb County authorities said.

* * *

Hospital authorities said only three persons were hurt seriously enough to be admitted to the hospital. Most of those injured suffered broken limbs, cuts and bruises, hospital authorities said.

Those admitted to the hospital were identified as Coy Harmon, 63, of Cleveland, Ohio; Gustia Roberts, 58, of Anniston, Ala.; and Jeannie Mae Davis of Macon.

The injured were taken to a hospital in four ambulances and two sheriff's cars.

MISSED SIGN

Police said the driver of the Greyhound bus apparently missed a detour sign at Bass Road and Georgia 87, slammed on the brakes, skidded and overturned down an embankment.

Officers said the driver, who was not identified, was not injured.

* * *

Officials said another bus was sent to the scene to take those passengers who were unhurt to their destinations. They said the first bus was badly damaged in the wreck and some of the passengers suffered broken bones when the bus bounced down the embankment.

WATERMELON AT CAPITOL—Twenty-three demonstrators for the Poor People's Campaign, including 12 children, were arrested yesterday at the Capitol in Washington, D.C., as they staged a watermelon picnic. The demonstration was an attempt to symbolize the way the poor have to live off nature in a land of abundance. The demonstrators arrived by mule train. They were charged with littering and unlawful assembly.

Area Girl Killed in 2-Car Crash

A Bloomfield Township girl was killed last night when the car in which she was riding struck a parked car in West Bloomfield Township.

Pamela Woods, 19, of 4361 Pine Tree Trail, Bloomfield Township, was a passenger in a car driven by Michael Watson, 20, of 6095 Wellesley, West Bloomfield Township.

* * *

According to West Blomfield Township Police, Watson's auto was traveling 35 to 45 miles per hour when it struck an unoccupied car parked on the shoulder of Walnut Lake Road, east of Middle Belt Road. The accident, which occurred about midnight is still under investigation.

Union Officials Rap Chicago Bus Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of Chicagoans returned from their Fourth of July holiday to cope with the fourth day of a wildcat strike by more than 1,000 bus drivers and motormen.

Leaders of the walkout against the Chicago Transit Authority met secretly with top union officials Thursday and were told to order their fellow dissidents back to work.

* * *

The union said it would act on their complaints only when the strike ended. The demand was rejected by the strikers.

CTA Chairman George L. Dement said Thursday night he was "kind of discouraged" at receiving no word of progress in resolving the dispute which interrupted service for some 600,000 commuters Wednesday.

BIG PROBLEM

Dement said service for the holiday operated at about 75 per cent. But he predicted today's transit problems would be as great as Wednesday.

"More and more drivers say they don't want to take buses," Dement said.

A CTA spokesman reported half a dozen instances where strikers boarded buses and convinced drivers to return immediately to terminals. Most of these occurred on the North Side, an area largely unaffected by the walkout that began Tuesday on the South and West sides.

James J. Hill, president of Division 241 of the Amalgamated Transit Workers, and some members of the striking faction, the concerned transit workers, met for 30 minutes in the union headquarters Thursday.

ABNORMAL PROCEDURE

"We have bent over backwards to resolve this," Hill said later. "I told their leadership that the best thing would be to go back to work and we'll all sit down and act on grievances and complaints according to our by-laws and normal union procedures."

NATIONAL WEATHER—Scattered showers and thundershowers are expected to develop tonight in the northern and central Appalachians, the southern Ohio Valley, the northern Rockies and Florida.

Prisoner Foiled in Jet Hijack Try

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A prisoner aboard an airliner carrying 71 passengers slipped away from his guards long enough to try a daring plot to hijack the plane. Then, he sat back between his guards and waited.

* * *

None of the other passengers aboard the Trans World Airlines plane knew of the threat made quietly yesterday by John Hamilton Morris to a stewardess:

"I've got dynamite in this bag. And my two buddies have guns. Turn this plane around and fly it to Hermosillo, Mexico."

ESCAPE ATTEMPT

Then, as Barron sat the Boeing 727 down at McCarran Field, Morris bolted for a door. His guards grabbed and subdued him.

Morris, 48, was taken to Clark County jail here and the plane, after an hour's delay, continued its flight to San Francisco.

* * *

A spokesman for the Federal Bureau of Investigation said Morris would appear before a federal grand jury to answer a possible attempted hijacking charge. He was being flown from prison at Leavenworth, Kan., to San Francisco for an appeal hearing on his 15-year sentence for bank robbery.

The New York and American stock exchanges are closed today to permit employes to catch up on paper work. However, The Press is carrying a listing of the weekly stock transactions on Page C-6 today. There will be no market page tomorrow. Normal stock listings will be resumed Monday.

Alabama Lawyer Spends an Hour Talking With Ray

LONDON (AP)—Alabama lawyer Arthur J. Hanes spent about an hour today in Wandsworth Prison, conferring with James Earl Ray, the man wanted in Tennessee to stand trial for the slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

When he came out of the jail gate, Hanes said: "He is feeling all right. His health is good. He is being well looked after. His mental attitude is good. We talked of many things."

* * *

Hanes, who said on arrival at London Airport earlier today that Ray might plead innocent through reason of insanity, was asked by a reporter if Ray showed any sign of insanity.

"None," he replied and emphasized that the plea of insanity was only one of a number which might be used.

'TO ME, HE IS SNEYD'

Hanes, former mayor of Birmingham, still insisted on calling Ray by the name under which he was arrested in Britain — Ramon George Sneyd — although the British court has accepted FBI testimony that he is Ray.

"This man to me is still R. G. Sneyd," Hanes said.

In the eyes of the British government, Hanes was only a private party and not a legal adviser in an official capacity. Home Secretary Jeames Callaghan, referring to Hanes, said he "did not qualify for the special conditions applicable to legal advisers under the statutory prison rules."

Before driving back to his hotel, Hanes said he would have another meeting with Ray Saturday morning. He was accompanied on the jail visit by Michael Eugene, one of the court-appointed British attorneys aiding in Ray's defense.

By decision of a British court last Tuesday Ray can be extradited as a fugitive criminal wanted for murder and armed robbery. But his defense lawyers have 15 days to lodge an appeal in a higher court, which would further delay him being handed over to the American authorities.

Threat by Controllers

Airport Slowdown Looms

CHICAGO (UPI) — A new organization claiming to represent half the air traffic controllers in the nation has called for a slowdown in handling takeoffs and landings because of increasing danger from crowding above airports.

The group, the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization (PATCO), issued its call yesterday at its first convention here. None of the nation's major airports reported a slowdown by today, but PATCO did not say one would begin immediately.

* * *

PATCO issued its slowdown call while warning of impending "disaster" in the nation's overcrowded airlanes. It said members would handle aircraft only with Federal Aviation Administration regulations on minimum distances required between planes.

"A six-month's survey of the current air traffic system indicates in many areas of the nation — especially in areas with high traffic flow — minimum separation between aircraft as prescribed by FAA regulations is not being maintained in order to keep up with the growing air traffic," PATCO said.

* * *

The president of the rival Air Traffic Control Association (ATCA) called PATCO's threat to slow down air traffic is a "form of illegal strike."

Ralph Grayson, president of the older ATCA, said in a statement that members of his organization will not participate in any slowdown. The proposal, he said, was "a form of illegal strike by public employes, and a threat to air safety."

Airline Post to TV Exec

A former Bloomfield Hills man, George B. Storer Sr., whose radio and television interests bought control of Northeast Airlines in 1965, has been elected board chairman of the airline.

Storer of Miami, Fla., is owner of Detroit's Channel 2, WJBK-TV. He succeeds James W. Austin as board chairman. Austin joined the company in 1957 and became chairman in 1966.

* * *

Storer's former position, chairman of the executive committee, is unfilled. F. C. Wiser, president, remains chief executive officer.

Two area residents have recently received promotions at the Chevrolet Motor Division.

Paul J. King, of Bloomfield Hills, chief experimental engineer for Chevrolet Motor Division, has been promoted to assistant chief engineer — passenger body, announced A. A. Mair, Chevrolet director of engineering.

NEW ASSIGNMENT

King, who will report to D.H. McPherson, chief passenger car engineer, in his new assignment, replaces Carl C. Jakust, who was transferred to the General Motors engineering staff.

An engineering graduate of Illinois Institute of Technology and Purdue University, King joined General Motors in 1947 and Chevrolet in 1954.

* * *

He is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and of Pi Tau Sigma, national mechanical engineering honor society. He lives with his wife and two children at 4376 Derry.

In another organizational change at Chevrolet, W. J. Polkinghorne of Franklin was promoted to staff engineer in the engine group where he will be responsible for all six-cylinder and V-8 engine designs.

U. OF D. GRAD

A Detroit Cass Technical High graduate, Polkinghorne received his BSME from the University of Detroit in 1954 and joined Chevrolet's College Graduate in Training program.

He lives with his wife and three children at 31625 Lela Lane and is active in Franklin civic and Boy Scout activities.

A. L. Stone, of 1636 Apple Lane, Bloomfield Hills, has been appointed general manager of the Aerospace Division of Sperry Rand Corporation's Vickers Division.

Stone has been associated with Vickers' aerospace activities since joining the company in 1951. For the past seven years he was divisional marketing manager for Vickers.

'Unexplainable' Mishap Kills Sky Diver

HOLT (UPI) — An "unexplainable" accident cost the life of a sky diver — a veteran with almost 250 jumps to his credit — when he missed his target by 300 yards and plunged into a water-filled quarry pit at an Independence Day celebration.

Ron Shafley, 31, Haslett, dropped 7,500 feet to his death as his wife watched from the spectators' area at the Holt Firemen's Association Fourth of July outing. He was the father of three small children.

Only minutes before, Shafley had made a jump safely with two other sports parachutists.

Bob Donley, 31, also of Haslett, said the accident was "unexplainable" because Shafley, a sky diver since 1964 and safety officer for the Lansing Sport Parchute Club, had made many jumps, including those into water.

Shafley's third jump Thursday was his last as he dropped into the quarry, filled with about 60 feet of water.

Betsy Robson, 28, East Lansing, was Shafley's partner on earlier jumps and the two came out of a small single-engine plane holding hands on the second jump of the day.

Miss Robson said the jumpers may have left the plane too soon on the fatal jump, putting Shafley off the target. As safety director, it was hits job to signal for the jump.

Observers said he did not become entangled in his chute but possibly could have blacked out before hitting the water.

More Talks Set Today in Seaway Strike

OTTAWA (UPI) — Representatives of nearly 1,300 striking workers have agreed to another meeting with the St. Lawrence Seaway officials in efforts to get the inland waterway working again.

* * *

The employes walked off their jobs June 21 to back demands for an 18 per cent increase in their average earnings of $3.10 per hour. They recently scaled their demands down to 15 per cent as opposed to an offer of 12 per cent by the Seaway Authority.

* * *

A Labor Department source said W. J. Smith, national president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers, relented Thursday and agreed to meet today with the Seaway Authority.

* * *

Earlier, Smith indicated he would refuse another meeting until Bryce Mackasey, acting minister of labor, agreed to chair it but Mackasey refused and reaffirmed the government's policy of nonintervention in the strike.

Municipalities' Tax Bills Reflect Increasing Costs

Area residents in cities and villages are finding out this week that local government is an increasingly expensive service.

Tax bills for cities and villages were due in the mail July 1. The bills in some instances list not only the cost of city or village government, but also school taxes, including the levy for Oakland Community College.

* * *

Despite increases in the tax base due to the state - required 50 per cent of market value evaluation and natural community growth, most of the tax rates are up from last year.

Just like in the big city, a large chunk of the increased revenue for Oakland County cities and villages is going for higher employe salaries as local communities attempt to remain competitive in the job market.

RATES, VALUATIONS LISTED

Listed are 1967 and 1968 tax rates and their respective assessed valuations for area communities. The listed tax rate is only the city or village rate and does not include the school rate that may appear on some bills.

SEN. PHILIP A. HART

Sen. Hart Asks Panel Look at War, Executions

By the Associated Press

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., Thursday suggested that President Johnson's commission to study violence should look into war and capital punishment along with other forms of violence.

Hart said: "We get body counts from Vietnam every night of the week. Every once in a while the state executes somebody who's guilty of a crime. That's violence. Why do we have to do these things? That also should be a part of this fight."

* * *

The senior senator from Michigan made his comments in an interview following an Independence Day speech in Farmington Township.

Hart is a member of the presidents commission on the Study of Violence, which was established in the wake of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy' assassination last month.

POSSIBLE ADVANCE

He said he doesn't anticipate the commission will give a solid answer to the problem of violence, but added, "I hope it will advance us some."

"We're going to have to try and understood ourselves as people just a little better," Hart said. "Why is it that we reach for a gun instead of turning the other cheek, for example."

* * *

He added, "I suppose history is full of efforts to understand this."

The senator predicted Congress will pass strong gun control legislation before the summer is over.

STUDENT GUESTS—Some 36 families of the Avondale School District are hosting 44 American Field Service-sponsored foreign students this weekend, including this sari-clad guest from India. Dispute Between Shelby, Dumping Firm Smoldering

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — An uneasy quiet now reigns over the dispute between township officials here and representatives of G & H Industrial Fill Co., a firm which provides free dumping privileges for Shelby Township residents.

The conflict came to a head this week with the circulation of letter by G & H accusing Supervisor Kirby G. Holmes and Trustee Clifton Pemberton of "constant harassment" of the the company in its operation of a dump on 23 Mile Road in Utica.

* * *

The argument was climaxed by a recent Township Board meeting at which over 100 people turned out for the confrontation between Supervisor Holmes and Mrs. Dorothy Kervin, owner of the firm.

Holmes noted that he had visited the dump four times in 14 months and "can see no way that this can be construed as 'constant harassment'."

Discussion at the meeting became quite heated as representatives on both sides of the dispute exchanged views.

Gary Kervin, Mrs. Kervin's son and spokesman for the group, was ejected from the meeting for speaking out of order a number of times, according to Holmes.

* * *

Holmes has met with Mrs. Kervin and said they have worked out a type of amnesty so that the township, for the time being, can still have its free dumping privileges, a service the firm has provided since its inception in 1956.

"The next move is up to Holmes," Mrs. Kervin said. "We've threatened to discontune the service, so his future actions will probably determine ours," she said

Wixom Drops Water Control

WIXOM — The City Council has turned over responsibility of present and anticipated city water systems to the Oakland County Department of Public Works.

Maintenance, billing and water control in Wixom's subdivisions and homes was placed in the county's hands when it was determined that the city could not provide the needed personnel, equipment, facilities and experience, said city officials.

* * *

In reversing a March council decision to accept responsibility of all present and planned community water works, the city will retain complete ownership of the systems.

Council called the decision mutually agreeable to the county and the city.

* * *

Members said it would be unreasonable and impractical for Wixom to maintain a separately run water system when the county public works division could handle this and all other water systems conveniently.

Plan Chief Takes Farmington Council Seat

FARMINGTON — Frederick M. Seibert has been sworn in as a new member of the City Council here.

Seibert of 21626 Birchwood has served as chairman of the planning commission since 1965 and member of the board of zoning appeals. He is employed as a supervisor at Ford Motor Co. He replaces Hugo Peterson, who resigned early last month, and will serve as councilman until April 1971.

At its recent meeting, the council received a report that showed that last week's rainfall was the largest recorded in this city since July 1925. The previous high for a 24-hour period was 4.75 inches of rainfall. The recent storm equaled that record, with 4.75 inches of rain falling in one day.

Three areas reporting severe flooding were the Rouge Valley, Valleyview Apartments and Twin Valley Subdivision.

City Manager John Dinan and council members proposed recommendations to improve and widen ditches on Gill Road and are considering a plan to divert the water that endangers Alta Loma and Bel-Air Subdivisions during flood periods. City department of public works employes will also be trained as a storm crew.

Petitions submitted to the city requesting the use of the city park were discussed and okayed.

The Jaycees were granted permission to use the park for their annual picnic and softball game Saturday, July 13. The Farmington Area Recreation Commission will use the park facilities July 25, for track and field events.

2 Area Crashes Boost Road Toll

By The Associated Press

Michigan's traffic death toll for the long July Fourth holiday period rose to seven today when a Whitmore Lake man was killed in a fiery crash.

The Associated Press count of fatalities for the holiday period began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Traffic victims:

Joseph F. Howard, 25, of Whitmore Lake, whose car ran off a road, hit a tree and burst into flames today near Hamburg in Livingston County.

AREA GIRL

Pamela Woods, 19, of 4361 Pine Tree Trail, Bloomfield Township, passenger in a car that struck a parked car last night in West Bloomfield Township.

Wayne F. Kane, 24, of Buchanan, when struck by a hit-run vehicle last night while he was walking along a road near Buchanan.

* * *

Edward W. Bisesi, 34, of Westland, whose motorcycle whipped out of control and hit a utility pole last night in Elba Township of Lapeer County.

Jean Hopwood and Sue Bradley, both 17 and both of Port Huron, when their car was struck by an auto and burst into flames Wednesday night on a road in St. Clair County near Port Huron. A manslaughter charge was filed against Michael Platzer, 24, of Port Huron.

Daniel Moylon, 64, of Emmet, Kans., died today in a Grand Rapids hospital where he was under treatment for injuries suffered in a two-car crash in Newaygo County Thursday night.

Motorcyclist Dies in Elba Twp. Crash

A Westland man died last night from injuries received when he lost control of the motorcycle he was riding and crashed into a telephone pole on Hunt in Elba Township.

According to State Police at the Lapeer Post, Edward W. Bisesi, 34, was dead on arrival at Lapeer County General Hospital from head injuries received in the accident.

* * *

Witnesses told police Bisesi was going east on Hunt west of County Club Road when he lost control of his motorcycle on a curve.

Works for Drug Curbs

Legislator Wins Pharmacy Honor

REP. RAYMOND L. BAKER

State Rep. Raymond L. Baker of 32781 Grand River, Farmington, has been honored as Michigan's Pharmacist of the Year. The State Representative from Oakland County's 64th District was presented the award at the recent Michigan State Pharmaceutical Association's 85th Annual Banquet in Traverse City.

* * *

In presenting the award, MSPA President Charles C. Baumann, of Battle Creek, stated: "The association has selected a pharmacist who truly exemplifies how pharmacists can best serve the public and their profession."

As a member of the 1968 Michigan Legislature, Republican Baker introduced and saw passed three pharmacy bills providing for increased restriction of the dispensing of drugs in Michigan and sponsored the Pharmacy Practice Act which passed the Legislature in 1962.

Bloomfield Twp. Home Is Gutted by Costly Fire

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A fire early today gutted the home of Clayton Kerr of 2660 Robindale, but no injuries were reported.

According to firemen, damage to the $45,000 home was estimated at $30,000.

* * *

Firemen received the call at 1:53 a.m. They said it was brought under control after 45 minutes, although firemen remained at the scene until after 5 a.m.

Troy Engineer Cited

TROY — Jack Thompson of 6768 Fredmoor has been named the 1968 Outstanding Young Engineer by the Engineering Society of Detroit. He is a Chrysler Corp. engineering mechanics specialist. Thompson, currently a doctoral candidate in engineering at the University of Detroit, has developed computer programs and analysis for thermal stresses, structural comparisons, strength of composite wall toroidal vessals and automobile collisions.

Romney Is Assailed for Airport Bill Veto

The Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association has assailed Gov. George Romney's veto of a bill which would have permitted a vote of the people to determine whether Oakland-Orion Airport should be expanded.

The bill, introduced by Rep. Donald Bishop of Rochester, cleared both houses of the State Legislature before being vetoed by the governor last week.

Romney called the bill an attempt to take authority away from the County Board of Supervisors in decisions affecting the expansion of the former Allen Airport on Giddings Road.

Additional land puchases or construction by the county, in line with its announced master plan to make the facility a major airport, are stalled. Plans hinge on Federal Aviation Administration approval of the site.

VETO QUESTIONED

"I don't know what Gov. Romney means when he says the people of Oakland County have a system of checks and balances with their local county government," said Milton Vaverek, a director of the association.

"His veto of Bill 3632, which would have given the people of this county a chance to vote on the airport, denied us an opportunity to exercise the only system of checks and balances available to us — our elected representatives in Lansing."

* * *

Vaverek charged, "We don't have checks and balances in Oakland County because the majority of the members of the board of supervisors, who put us in the airport business, are not elected by the people."

He contended that those who were elected and most concerned about the airport were not even included in the planning for it.

U.S. Sub Program Blocked, Rickover Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civilians in the Pentagon and proponents of surface ships are blocking development of U.S. submarines while Russia is far ahead in numbers of undersea craft, charges Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover.

The principal tactic being used to delay submarine progress is "to study things to death," Rickover adds.

★ ★ ★

This is particularly true, he says, of his proposal for a new super quiet sub that could be used to track Russian missile-carrying submarines.

Rickover, known as the father of the nuclear submarine, commented in testimony before the Senate preparedness subcommittee in March and a transcript of the testimony was released Thursday night.

'MORE STUDIES'

He said the Navy agreed last December that it needed a new sub, but that Dr. John S. Foster, director of defense research and engineering and principal adviser to the secretary of defense on such matters, has kept asking for more studies.

"Since Dr. Foster got the problem, he has made four or five studies . . . what the next delaying tactic will be I simply don't know," Rickover said.

★ ★ ★

Foster, in a later appearance before the subcommittee, said he supported the effort to lower submarine noise levels but thought other things should be considered before building what might be an expensive, one-of-a-kind vessel.

He said the quieter sub would cost far more than the $85 million estimated for the latest Sturgeon-class submarine and that would be pretty expensive research.

The Soviets have more than 400 subs of all types, including nuclear-driven missile carriers.

★ ★ ★

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., subcommittee chairman, said the United States has 146, including 41 Polaris missile boats, and 105 attack subs of which 33 are nuclear-powered and the rest diesel.

He urged the Navy to offset the disparity in numbers between Russia and this country by maintaining "a clear overall qualitative advantage."

Back to Workaday World

Global Voyager Gets Cheers

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) — Alex Rose woke up today after a good sleep in a stationary bed, went back to work at his vegetable shop and dismissed his round-the-world solo voyage as a selfish project — not very important.

Lavish headlines and editorials celebrated his homecoming Thursday from his 28,500-mile voyage in the 36-foot ketch Lively Lady, and the cheers of a crowd of 250,000 echoed through this historic English seaport, his home town.

★ ★ ★

But Rose, 59, took it all as quietly as if it hardly mattered. He said he felt he had been a bit selfish — "just going off and doing something that I've always wanted to do since I was a child."

'BETTER MAN'

But he felt a better man. "One must have seen the shadows of life to appreciate the light," he said.

In 354 days at sea, Rose endured the ultimate in loneliness and stared death in the face.

★ ★ ★

Once he passed out from fumes while trying to repair the small engine which charged his batteries.

"I came to in about two hours," he said. "All I could do was lie on my bunk and recuperate. It was several days before I could raise an appetite."

TRICKY TIMES

At the tricky times, he prayed.

"Why not?" he said. "I said my prayers as sincerely and honestly as I could.

★ ★ ★

"I felt at times rather a hypocrite — asking for help when I needed it and not asking for help when I didn't need it. However, I felt my prayers were answered at times, and we got through."

His wife, Dorothy, stocked his ship and did it so well that he came home with enough food in the locker to last another six months.

Portsmouth, Britain's premiere naval port, gave him an outsize welcome — and kept the pubs open all afternoon — they normally close at 2:30 p.m. — to keep the festival spirit going. Boats by the hundred bobbed around the harbor as Rose and Lively Lady came back to base.

Waiting for Rose was a luncheon invitation from Buckingham Palace and a telegram from Queen Elizabeth II saying: "Warmest congratulations on your magnificent voyage. Welcome home."

★ ★ ★

Rose stepped ashore as easily as if he'd been out for an afternoon sail.

Frederick Shephard, 99, watched the arrival on television and derived considerable satisfaction. Shephard designed the boat 30 years ago.

★ ★ ★

"I never had any doubt she would make it," he said.

Tragedy Follows Drowning Warning

In a tragic twist of irony Wednesday, we ran an editorial warning people to stay away from rivers and drains while at the same time on the front page of Wednesday's second edition a tale of death on the Clinton River was unfolding.

It had been a near drowning earlier on another portion of that same river which prompted our editorial warning. Then, Wednesday, the reports of tragedy compounded began sifting into our news room. Two boys were lost and feared drowned. A search was initiated on the river.

Then, the body of one of the boys was discovered in the waters of the Clinton. Moments later one of the highest ranking officers in the Pontiac Police Department drowned when a search boat overturned. An Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy in the same boat narrowly missed drowning.

Later that afternoon, two skin divers from the sheriff's department found themselves gripped by the tricky currents and had to be pulled from the water.

As our reporters returned from the scene we asked: "Is the water really that turbulent out there?" The answer was always the same: "For the most part it looks calm and peaceful."

Herein lies a message for area residents. Beneath that calm and peaceful surface lurks deadly undercurrents. If this seemingly harmless river can claim a veteran police officer and seriously threaten experienced skin divers, it can surely devour the average adult or child. We are no match for it.

We repeat our warning. Stay away from these rain swollen rivers and drains. Warn your children. These peaceful waters are killers in disguise.

SNYC Drops Rate of School Dropouts

If the findings of four major U.S. cities are any indication, it would seem that education has received a large plus from efforts of the Schools' Neighborhood Youth Corps (SNYC).

The cities — Cleveland, Minneapolis, Pittsburgh and Washington — have reported drastic cuts in dropout rates last year as a result of the SNYC in-school program, a work-experience plan that provides part-time employment for students as long as they remain in school.

In Cleveland, a study showed that nearly everyone enrolled had demonstrated a marked improvement in social, academic, personal and vocational attitudes, as well as growth in work habits and job skills.

★ ★ ★

Cleveland's public schools graduated 1,850 students recently, with SNYC enrollees making up nearly 5 per cent of that total. Sixty per cent of SNYC graduates were slated for immediate employment and nearly 12 per cent went on to full-time college or technical schools.

These are students who may very well have been dropouts without the help offered by the Government-sponsored agency. The Economic Opportunity Act established the SNYC program, administered by the U.S. Department of Labor, Bureau of Work-Training Programs, for youths 14 to 21.

★ ★ ★

Other areas throughout the Country have reported gratifying results with the SNYC program. A survey of six school districts in Texas and Oklahoma revealed a marked cut in dropout rates among SNYC enrollees.

It would seem that the youth who is a potential high-risk dropout is, perhaps, not the stereotyped ne'er-do-well, but more of an individualist who needs a chance to show what he can do on the job.

SNYC gives him that chance. And we're all for it.

Vacationer's Prayers Brought Rain

By DICK SAUNDERS

I have a habit of learning something new on my vacations.

SAUNDERS

This year I learned that my prayers are heard only in Pontiac.

Through some unknown, mysterious procedure, my prayers are telegraphed back to Pontiac and reamplified for the benefit of whatever powers exist to answer them.

This time I was praying for rain.

In fact, we were considering smoke signals, rain dances, getting the car washed, hanging clothes out on the line to dry, and other numerous tricks guaranteed to produce cool waters from above.

We were near Festus, Mo., which is near Crystal City, Mo., which is about 500 miles north of Transylvania, La., and 35 miles south of St. Louis.

★ ★ ★

It was 95 outside and at least 100 dripping degrees in the trailer. It refused to even get cloudy, much less look like rain.

My wife was sweating. It was the first time in 11 years of marriage that she worked up a sweat over anything.

At least it gave me something to do — I mean sit there and watch her sweat. It was novel.

★ ★ ★

Then, last weekend, we returned home and there it was — all that rain we'd been praying for — right in our basement.

In a way it was a blessing. For months we've been putting off the job of cleaning out all the junk that has accumulated in the basement over the past few years.

Now we are forced to not only clean it up, but throw out literally everything within two feet of floor level.

★ ★ ★

One impression I returned with was how lucky we are to have such an excellent freeway system here in Michigan. Regardless of all the furor over poor secondary roads here, I am firmly convinced we have a system of primary roads second to none.

And they're free, which isn't the case with toll roads in many other states.

This year's jaunt took us through Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi and Louisiana.

★ ★ ★

I wasn't too impressed with Mississippi. If I had two weeks in which I wanted to do nothing, that's where I'd go. I got the feeling Mississippi might be a product of states rights.

The freeways are not the best and rest areas are totally without any rest room facilities save the nearest bush. And even the bushes looked like they would benefit from a little federal aid.

Highlight of the trip was the fourth annual National Ragtime Festival June 21 and 22 aboard the Goldenrod Showboat, moored in the Mississippi River at Jefferson Memorial Arch on the St. Louis waterfront.

★ ★ ★

It was a fantastic event with four jazz bands and numerous ragtime pianists all going simultaneously at various locations on the old riverboat.

The waterfront rocked to the happiest music on earth until 1 a.m. each night, sending ripples of joy through the lazy river that's almost as muddy as my basement.

Smoke Gets In Your Eyes

David Lawrence Says:

Suburbs May Hold Key to Vote

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The November 1968 election may disclose the effects of the most remarkable redistribution of the voting population that the United States has experienced in its history.

Up to now in many a state the electoral vote has been won by a majority largely contributed by one or two big cities where, since the 1930s, the Democrats have built up effective organizations and not only have gotten voters registered but made sure that they went to the polls on election day.

The huge majorities piled up in the cities have been counted on to offset Republican strength in rural areas.

Now things have changed. Instead of merely a contest between the rural and city vote, the 1968 election will be decided by three categories—the inner city, the suburban areas, and the rural districts which include the smaller cities and towns.

The fact is that, because of the shift of population from cities to the suburban areas, there are today 156.5 million Americans outside the large central cities—or nearly four persons to each one in the big cities. Voters divide in about the same ratio.

BIG FACTOR

This can have a very far-reaching significance in American politics. For the suburban and rural areas have traditionally tended to be Republican while the inner cities have generally been Democratic.

The population shift will be reflected largely among the dissidents inside the Democratic party.

Lots of them may choose to stay at home on election day, but more significantly many of them will not contribute money to the campaign or do much of the precinct work such as has been so helpful to the Democratic party in the past in carrying the large cities — and thus swinging the big electoral votes of the most populous states.

The redistribution of population is unquestionably an encouraging trend for the Republican party.

If it can manage to get through the convention without any deep-seated resentments, the chances are that the Republicans will cast a larger vote throughout the United States in the suburban as well as the rural districts than ever before.

This, together with the split in the Democratic ranks and the possible failure of many regular Democrats to go to the polls, could give the Republicans the biggest landslide they have had in many years.

The Overhead Church—It's Big, Still Growing

By DAVID POLING
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Since we have already discussed the underground church, let us take a more sacred topic, the Overhead Church. By overhead, I mean the cost, expense, load-charge that the headquarters of our national church bodies put upon the individual members. It is sizable and it is growing.

To keep things straight, let me say that this theme is already under discussion by our top leaders in executive positions with the denominational boards and agencies. It worries the brass in the National Council of Churches. The members of the Vatican community in Rome are quite aware of the problem and the one linked to it — how properly to give a public accounting of church assets.

★ ★ ★

The last 20 years have seen an immense growth in the buildings and staff that serve the constituent churches. Individual congregations expect more educational materials, films, program guides than ever before.

Radio and television have made new requirements upon the various denominations, as have expanded pension and health plans for church employes.

HUGE BUDGETS

The mission work of the churches requires competent administrators who know as much about foreign exchange as they do about foreign language.

Some of our denominations operate vast publishing houses with multimillion-dollar budgets committed to new books and new translations of the Bible.

★ ★ ★

One thing that has aggravated this problem of overhead is the number of mergers that have taken place within the Christian bodies. It is ironic that many people think that the ecumenical movement will effect vast economies in the operations of churches that merge. The opposite is true.

Up to this point, it is hard to recall any merger or consolidation of church bodies (including the recent Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren) where anyone lost his job. What is unfolding is a vast bureaucracy, nearly untouchable, filling the ranks of the overhead Church.

PROTEST EVICTION

Right now, residents of several apartment buildings adjoining the National Council of Churches on New York's Riverside Drive are protesting the eviction that is coming through the expansion of the ecclesiastical machinery.

The Inter-Church Center overlooking the Hudson is full. More space for executives must be found and the adjacent properties are first choice. It is a statistical nightmare to trace, identify and catalogue the new agencies and boards that unfold.

One aspect of church life that is under critical appraisal is the annual convention. Almost every denomination has a yearly national meeting and the cost of these week-long happenings runs into the millions.

With the increase of almost instant communication it seems unnecessary to have such expensive and unwieldy assemblies.

Comments on Remarks by Senator Griffin

It's time someone set the record straight concerning Senator Griffin's remarks about President Johnson's recent Supreme Court proposals. If Senator Griffin would take a course in American Government, I believe he would find that a "lame-duck" president is one who has been beaten at the polls but still holds office. There now exists no such thing as a lame-duck president. The Twentieth Amendment took care of that.

★ ★ ★

If it's ethics Griffin is concerned with, I suggest that he not forget how he became a senator. Surely Gov. Romney should have appointed a Democrat to fill the vacancy left by Senator McNamara. For Senator Griffin to ask the President to reserve these appointments for the next president seems to be a change in the rules of the game.

Why Must Teachers Live Near Their Work?

I am fed up with Waterford's board of education complaining it would like to hire Negroes to teach but cannot assure them of housing, and the Negro teachers making the same complaint. If the board is eager to hire Negro teachers and Negro teachers are bent on teaching in our schools, why can't they live in Pontiac or other areas that accept Negroes and still teach here? Hundreds of us drive into town every day to work. Are teachers so much better than we are? Are they really that eager to work here?

Discusses Value of Peace Talks With Reds

Our leaders in Washington should be dubbed the "Daffiness Boys of the 20th Century." By some mysterious line of reasoning, they expect to get an honorable peace out of the Communists. The only peace they will get out of the Reds will be some kind of a capitulation on our part. Madame Wellington Koo, wife of the former Chinese Ambassador to the U.S. and just returned from a visit to Southeast Asia, says the Communists will never stop the war in Vietnam as long as they can keep us spending $30 billion a year against their spending a paltry couple billion and at the same time killing thousands of Americans each year.

Inflation Brake

Newsday

For more than two years now, it has been evident that a tax increase was needed to counter inflation at home and strengthen the dollar overseas. But the combined reluctance of first the President and then the Congress to act, delayed final passage of a tax increase bill until recently.

★ ★ ★

The bill combines two actions designed to bolster the fiscal integrity of the nation, a 10 per cent income tax surcharge and a $6 billion cut in spending. Both will help flatten the inflationary curve, but there is no denying that this fiscal prudence comes late in the history of the current inflationary spiral.

Prices have already gathered a momentum that has pushed them upward at the rate of four per cent a year; interest rates have risen so rapidly that last month the Treasury was paying the highest rates of the century to borrow money; and overseas confidence in the dollar has been profoundly shaken.

★ ★ ★

No one knows if this $16 billion tax and spending-cut package will have sufficient braking power to halt the inflation. Certainly, it will help. The fact that a tax increase was enacted in this presidential election year shows that the Congress has awakened to the economic peril facing the nation. But the agonizing slowness of this congressional awakening shows that we are a long way from transforming text book economic theory into political reality.

Mergers . . .

Mainichi (Tokyo) News

Corporate mergers, much in fashion these days, culminated last month in the announcement of a plan to create the largest enterprise in Japan. Because of its record size, the merger is expected to have far-reaching repercussions on international markets as well.

According to the announced plan, which has yet to be finalized, the nation's two largest steelmaking concerns — Yawata Iron & Steel Co. and Fuji Iron and Steel Co. — intend to be incorporated into a single firm which will be three times bigger than its nearest rivals in Japan and rank as the world's second-largest steel company, next only to the gigantic U.S. Steel. The combined capital of the two steelmakers will total $637 million.

★ ★ ★

The planned merger, however, is a reunion of two brothers once separated forcibly by the Occupation Forces under the slogan of democratization of the Japanese economy after the war. It may therefore prove that blood is thicker than water, but it also contains elements of quarrels between brothers, which sometimes are more fierce than those between strangers. The long rivalry during the postwar years has made each the other's most deadly enemy. For these reasons, although the merger had often been the subject of rumors before, few outsiders gave it serious consideration.

★ ★

It would not be wrong to suppose that both Yawata and Fuji had been encouraged by the economic climate in Japan, but the recent changes in the steel industry itself are regarded as more responsible for their decision. The endless competition among big steel makers to expand their production facilities and market shares, according to most observers, has reached a very critical stage.

As 4th Is Celebrated

Nation on Parade

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, Ill. (AP) — There were charred gaps in the chicken wire and papier-mache float depicting the Iwo Jima flag raising, and the globe calling for world peace was blackened by the flames of the fire set by vandals.

The July Fourth parade judges noted the signs tacked to the damaged float: "Where was your child at 12:30 last night? Could he have burned this American flag and float?"

* * *

Bob Lierman, his wife, and 20 teen-agers worked late Wednesday finishing the float. After the vandals struck, Mrs. Lierman said, "We were heartbroken but our neighbors urged us to enter it in the parade anyway."

The judges awarded the Lierman float first prize.

London Bridge Pieces Picked Up

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—America's independence from England was observed by longshoremen by picking up the pieces of London Bridge.

The workmen unloaded 850 tons of stones from the historic Thames bridge which is being hauled to Lake Havasu City, Ariz., for reassembling over the Colorado River.

A Norwegian freighter brought the first stones of the 10,000-ton bridge to America, arriving Thursday—the Fourth of July. The stones, weighing between 200 pounds and three tons each, will be taken to Lake Havasu City by truck.

They're numbered to guide engineers in the reconstruction.

The bridge was purchased for $2,460,000 by the McCullough Oil Corp., developer of the river resort.

KISS FOR FIRST LADY—Alberto de Sarrustegui, assistant director of the Spanish pavilion at HemisFair, kisses the hand of Mrs. Lyndon Johnson as she and the President and a host of Latin American diplomats toured the San Antonio exposition. The President seems to be keeping an eye on things.

LBJ to Host Bolivia Chief, Then Head for Latin Talks

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, after observing an old fashioned Fourth of July, mixes relaxation with a little ranch-style diplomacy today before taking off for a weekend Central American summit conference in El Salvador.

The President and first lady flew to San Antonio Thursday and spent three hours at HemisFair where Johnson indulged in some traditional patriotic rhetoric, took in the sights and sampled a couple of rather drippy ice cream cones.

* * *

The President also issued a statement late in the day expressing deep concern over disruption by hecklers of a speaking appearance by presidential aspirant George Wallace.

Johnson today informally entertains President Rene Barrientos Ortuno of Bolivia at his ranch home. Barrientos was in Texas for Bolivia Day Saturday at Hamis Fair. The Latin chief executive once attended Air Force flight school at Randolph Air Force Base in San Antonio.

WILL LEAVE SATURDAY

Johnson will fly to El Salvador Saturday for talks with the chief executives of Guatemala, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and El Salvador. He will remain there until Monday.

Touring the fairgrounds with Johnson Thursday were about 40 diplomats, most of them ambassadors from Latin American countries.

* * *

The Johnsons made the 75-mile trip from their ranch by helicopter, landing in a parking lot at the world's fair. They drove to the American pavilion where the President received a 21-gun salute before delivering an eight-minute speech.

He said the nation will celebrate July 4th as long as it goes about "its proper business."

PROPER BUSINESS

"And that proper business is helping to depend and helping to enlarge the independence of man," he said.

Johnson said the theme of the Declaration of Independence, signed 192 years ago, is "political independence to insure individual independence."

* * *

"Each generation in America discovers this theme as if it were new," he added. "And in a sense it is new. The thrust of America always, then, is to expand and to adjust the concept of independence to a new and constantly changing era."

Town Strives Not to Split Orphaned 10

MADERA, Calif. (UPI) — "We want to stay together, father. Don't let them separate us."

That, said the Rev. Salvatore Bentivegena yesterday, was the tearful plea from the 10 orphaned children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Morris, killed Tuesday night in a head-on collision.

Relatives, parishioners at St. Joachim's Catholic Church and residents of this town of 16,000 are doing what they can to make the children's dream come true.

"We are all close," said Judy 16, a pretty, dark-haired high school junior. "That's why we all want to stay together."

While arrangements were being made for today's funeral, the town mobilized to see the children are not separated.

"Everyone's goal is to keep them together any way we can," said their aunt, Mary Lachawicz of Fresno.

The children, who range in age from 3 to 17, learned Tuesday night that their parents had just been killed in a four-car crash caused by a car headed the wrong way on a freeway. The driver of the wrong-way car was charged with drunken driving and manslaughter.

Relatives asked that the children, who remained in the family's yellow frame house just a block from the Madera Union High School attended by four of the girls, not be interviewed. Since the accident, the tree-lined street has been lined with cars of friends and neighbors wanting to help.

6 GIRLS, 4 BOYS

The children are Kathleen, 17; Judy, 16; Linda, 15; Carole, 14; Theresa, 12; twins Robert and Roberta, 11; Michael, 10; Jeffrey, 8; and Edward, 3.

"Nothing has been done legally yet," said Miss Lachawicz. "Somebody will have to be their legal guardian, but nothing has been decided yet. I can't say right now what will be done."

Already the children have offers to live with relatives in New Jersey; Concord, Calif.; and Fresno. A man in the foothill community of Twain Harte, Calif., has offered them a seven-room house.

In Madera, a trust has been set up in the name of the "Robert Morris Family" at the local bank. Maderans have overwhelmed the family with offers to assist in many ways.

Japan Vote Holds Key to U.S. Alliance

TOKYO (UPI) — Japanese voters Sunday will elect members of the upper house of parliament. Some observers say the outcome will be an indirect answer to whether Japan should remain in alliance with America.

The results of the election will have no direct bearing on the immediate future of the conservative government of pro-American Premier Eisaku Sato.

* * *

But a sharp loss in the number of seats for the ruling Conservative Liberal Democratic party would certainly touch off moves to oust Sato, who has been trying to keep Japan closely aligned to the United States through the controversial U.S.-Japan Security Treaty which gives America bases in Japan.

At stake are 126 of the 250 seats in the upper house of the Diet (parliament.) The upper house has no power since the prime minister, under the constitution, must be elected from the lower house.

UP FOR REELECTION

Yet the outcome will be very important to the 66-year-old premier, who is up for reelection as president of the ruling party this fall.

His failure to bring victory to his party in Sunday's election would spark his rivals within the party to start anti-Sato drives before the party convention, now scheduled for December.

* * *

Campaigning is being held in the wake of rising anti-American feelings among the Japanese people.

Recent incidents involving the United States led opposition politicians to voice anti-Americanism in this country which has remained in the protection of the United States since the end of World War II.

The strong Socialist party is trying hard to cash in on the anti-American mood and is calling for the abolition of the U.S.-Japan security treaty, due to become the subject of renewal in 1970.

The Communist party follows the same path.

* * *

Sato, in his fourth year as premier, says Japan has been able to enjoy prosperity in peace because of the security treaty. He says he intends to keep the military alliance with the United States even beyond 1970.

Last Week's Rain Costly to Farmers

EAST LANSING (AP)—Last week's heavy rainfall brought Michigan farming almost to a halt, says the state's crop reporting service.

"Less than one day was considered suitable for field work," it said. "Reports from virtually all areas of the state show surplus soil moisture conditions. In many areas, water was reported standing on low-lying fields or in low spots within fields."

It added most hay, cut before the rains and left in the fields, had been lost, while nitrogen deficiencies, believed caused by cool weather and excess moisture, are appearing in row crops.

Those 'Killed' by Lightning May Be Alive

NEW YORK (UPI) — At the funeral of a man struck by lightning, a nun said his "road to heaven" had been a short one.

"Fantastically short," agreed Dr. Helen B. Taussig who is among the most distinguished of American Medical scientists. But unlike almost all such roads, she said, this one can be "a two-way street."

* * *

She is embarked on a campaign to make the news common property so a person "killed" by lightning is no longer assumed to be irrevocably dead by the first persons to reach the scene.

He looks dead, to be sure. The passage of an electrical current of the intensity of lightning through his body may have instantly stopped heart action, breathing and all metabolism.

RESPIRATION

But the apparatus is rarely damaged, and it can be started up again by artificial respiration, Dr. Taussig said, provided it is applied soon enough and is maintained long enough. This may be several hours and, in some few cases, days and weeks after the "dead" person reaches a hospital and a mechanical respirator.

Dr. Taussig's scientific renown stems from her lifesaving work with "blue babies." She is professor of pediatrics emeritus at the Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, where over the years she made herself an outstanding authority on congenital heart defects. Of late she has been studying human encounters with lightning.

* * *

In many instances, she found, the hearts and lungs started up again on their own, accounting for the statistical fact that more persons survive such encounters than are killed by them.

She was appalled to find that in almost all recorded deaths the victims were assumed to have been "instantly killed" and no one tried to revive them.

Egypt Said Willing to Let U.N. Troops Return

By The Associated Press

Senior diplomats say Egypt has offered to take back a United Nations peace-keeping force on its soil as part of an Arab-Israeli settlement, but meanwhile a boost in Egyptian military spending was reported in Cairo.

Diplomats in London said the readiness of Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser to restore a U.N. peace force under some guaranteed form of tenure has been conveyed to the mission of U.N. envoy Gunnar Jarring.

* * *

It was deemed a hopeful development because Nasser's expulsion of U.N. troops was a major factor in the train of events that led to the six-day Middle East war of June 1967.

Efforts toward a settlement have been stymied by Israel's refusal to give back captured Arab lands without direct negotiations with the Arabs, and the Arabs' refusal to meet face-to-face with the Israelis. The United Nations has called for Israel to withdraw from captured territory and for the Arabs to end their belligerency toward Israel.

PROSPECTS BRIGHTEN

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart told newsmen Thursday prospects for progress in the Middle East seem better.

One encouraging development, he said, was a statement attributed to Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad that "we recognize realities and Israel is one of them. Now we want peace."

But the Egyptian government, in announcing a $4.6-billion budget Thursday, said it was geared mainly to "sacrifices to enhance military expenditure and to liberate Arab lands occupied by Israel."

No defense figures were disclosed, but semiofficial sources said this year's defense appropriation is the highest in Egyptian history.

SPECIAL FUND

A special $93.25-million emergency fund was created to consolidate the armed forces and popular resistance against the Israeli occupation of the Egyptian Sinai Peninsula and the east bank of the Suez Canal.

The fund would be raised largely as contributions from Arab oil states, donations from private citizens and a civil defense tax.

* * *

Nasser conferred for the second day today with Soviet leaders in Moscow, and observers said that the visit could provide a chance for Egypt and its Soviet patron to weigh any new efforts to end the Middle East stalemate.

However, it was understood Nasser also would ask for more Russian arms and aid.

'WARM' MEETINGS

Nasser conferred Thursday with Leonid I. Brezhnev, Communist party general secretary, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai V. Podgorny. An official announcement said only that the meetings were "warm and friendly."

A week ago Kosygin discussed the Middle East with Jarring.

* * *

Following the talks with Nasser, Kosygin is expected to fly to Stockholm next week for a second round of talks with Jarring.

Leadership Hassle Is Brewing in CORE

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP) — Delegates to the 26th annual convention of the Congress of Racial Equality are uncertain over who will be their new national director.

Roy Innis, considered the most likely to succeed Floyd B. McKissick as national director, ran into increased opposition as the convention entered its fourth day.

* * *

McKissick, at a testimonial dinner Thursday in his behalf, told about 300 persons that he "might come back" after a slipped spinal disc is corrected.

Innis, 34, the associate national director, automatically becomes acting director Monday, the day after the convention ends.

NIXON SUPPORTER?

The bid to make him permanent director is being fought by some CORE members who resent reports that Innis endorsed former Vice President Richard M. Nixon for president. Innis has denied the report repeatedly.

* * *

About a dozen CORE members came to the banquet hall Thursday with pictures of Nixon, apparently to hold a pseudo-Nixon rally to embarrass Innis, but the rally didn't materialize.

NEA Hits Alleged Bias at Dallas Bar, Seeks Probe

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The National Education Association has filed a protest with the State Department and has asked for a probe by the Justice Department because an African nation's official said he was refused service in a Dallas bar.

The incident took place near the Municipal Auditorium where about 8,000 NEA members are holding a national convention.

A guest of the convention, Mooki Vitus Molapo, first secretary of the Embassy of Lesotho, said he was refused service because he is black.

* * *

Molapo quoted a waitress in the place as saying, "Can't you see that you're black? We don't serve blacks in here."

Sam M. Lambert, NEA executive secretary, asked the State Department to make an official apology to Molapo's ambassador in Washington.

Dallas officials, to whom the NEA also complained, said they were investigating the incident.

NEA President Braulio Alonso said delegates aroused over the incident might move for early adjournment of the convention, scheduled to run through Saturday.

"We have never met at a place that has racial discrimination, and Dallas apparently has plenty of it," Alonso said.

A Junior Editors Quiz About FAIRY TALES

QUESTION: Why did people imagine there were fairies?

* * *

ANSWER: Did you ever lie awake at night hearing little pattering sounds which sounded like tiny footsteps? You knew some small creature was making them. Yet they didn't sound like an animal's steps, they seemed to walk, just like a very small man.

You could see him in your mind—perhaps he was trying to play some trick on you—you could see his long nose as he went poking into other people's business—his impudent grin.

Of course, these sounds perhaps were only those of a mouse, but your imagination had created a fairy.

In earlier times, before there was scientific knowledge, people of many nations created fairies in some such way as this, by using their imaginations with little regard to actual fact. As a whole, fairies were often called the little people. The French called theirs fee, the Italians fata, the Spaniards hada.

It was thought that little people had magical powers and liked to interfere in human affairs, for example, by turning people into animals (upper right).

But fairies could be good, too. Many children have gone to sleep dreaming of a beautiful, white fairy who would watch over them and push the nightmares away.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize).

Strong Gag Control No Joke

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Most lobbyists work behind the scenes, but Jim Atkins, lobbyist for the National Association of Gag Writers, conducts his business right out in the open.

WEST

Which probably is a mistake on his part.

Some of the stuff Atkins comes up with would be better left unseen. Or at least unheard.

When I ran into Atkins in the lobby the other day, he told me he was lobbying against gag control legislation.

OPPOSED TO BAN

"Our association is opposed to any move to ban the sale of mail order gags," he said.

"A bill like that hasn't even been introduced," I said.

* * *

"That shows what a good lobbyist I am," he said.

Atkins pointed out that many gag writers do most of their business by mail. He said it would be a great inconvenience if comedians had to buy all of their gags over the counter.

"Perhaps so," I said, "But you will have to admit that a lot of gags being sold nowadays are a crime."

* * *

Atkins took exception to my remark.

* * *

"Gags don't kill people," he retorted.

* * *

"That's certainly true of most gags," I said.

DIFFERENT APPROACH

Atkins said the Gag Writers Association favors a different approach to the crime problem. He is lobbying to have Congress revive the National Crime Commission.

* * *

Only instead of making a study of crime, as it did the last time, the commission would take over operation of the Mafia.

* * *

"With the government running crime," he said, "the underworld would soon get bogged down with a lot of forms and committee meetings. The crime rate would drop overnight.

"We also have a plan to combat unorganized street crime. All Congress needs to do is pass a law making everyone a presidential candidate and then we would all be protected by the Secret Service."

I said, "You are obviously a very busy lobbyist. What else are you lobbying for?"

* * *

"We want to change the form of protest demonstrations," Atkins said. "Take the Poor People's Campaign, for example. It wasn't too successful because they had poor people picketing the Agriculture Department.

* * *

"Our plan is to use comedians as pickets. They would surround the department and tell old jokes to everyone going in and out. I can assure you this would make the department take action."

Teaching Is Topic

EAST LANSING (AP) — A Connecticut man billed as "one of the world's great piano teachers" will offer instruction to 100 college and private teachers from across the country July 16-18 during the 13th annual piano teachers conference at Michigan State University. The teacher is Dr. Bruce Simonds of New Haven.

Teen Beauties Have Big Appetites, Goals

By The Youth Service

American teen girls may settle, to their mothers' dismay, for a cup of coffee and a slice of toast in the morning.

But for several European beauties interviewed in a coffee shop in a New York City hotel, breakfast was a big event. And just as well, with the TV and promotional travel ahead of these contestants for the Miss Teen International Pageant.

* * *

Fresh strawberries and sliced ham were the favorites. Elena Pedemonte, the Italian winner, tried French toast, and found it too sweet. She asked the name for regular toast, and ate two helpings.

At breakfast, Miriam Dornkin, the Israeli winner, acted as interpreter for Leonor Rivera of Spain, who spoke no English.

OPPORTUNITY TOPIC

The talk ranged over career opportunities in their various countries. With the exception of Spain, where Leonor said most girls stay at home, even if university-educated, the others told of increasing opportunities.

Elena from San Remo, Italy, told of many opportunities in modeling, acting and teaching. She herself inclines to modeling or acting.

* * *

Ireland's Annette O'Donovon, who wishes to be an interpreter, spoke of the many women in medicine and nursing, and on the other side of the coin, the eminence of Irish designers.

Miss Israeli said "everyone works in Israel, and I want to be a book translator, not just for the money alone, but for the good feeling."

The solution to summer heat may be right at your feet. All you need to do is cool and dry the air in your home.

If you have a forced air heating system, you have ductwork. And a furnace blower. So you're already moving and filtering air.

That's a big part of an electric central air conditioning system. All that's left is to cool the air and wring the steamy dampness out. Just add two compact units—cooling coil and condenser—and, presto, your heating system becomes a cooling system too. A system that cools, dehumidifies, cleans and quiets your home. For less money. It's as easy as that.

That's right. Electric air conditioning costs less to buy, less to install, less to operate than the flame type.

Electric cooling works efficiently, like your refrigerator. Cools a 1,200-square-foot house for as little as $24.00 per season.

Call an air conditioning contractor, right away. He'll give you a free estimate and show you how electric central air conditioning is well within your reach.

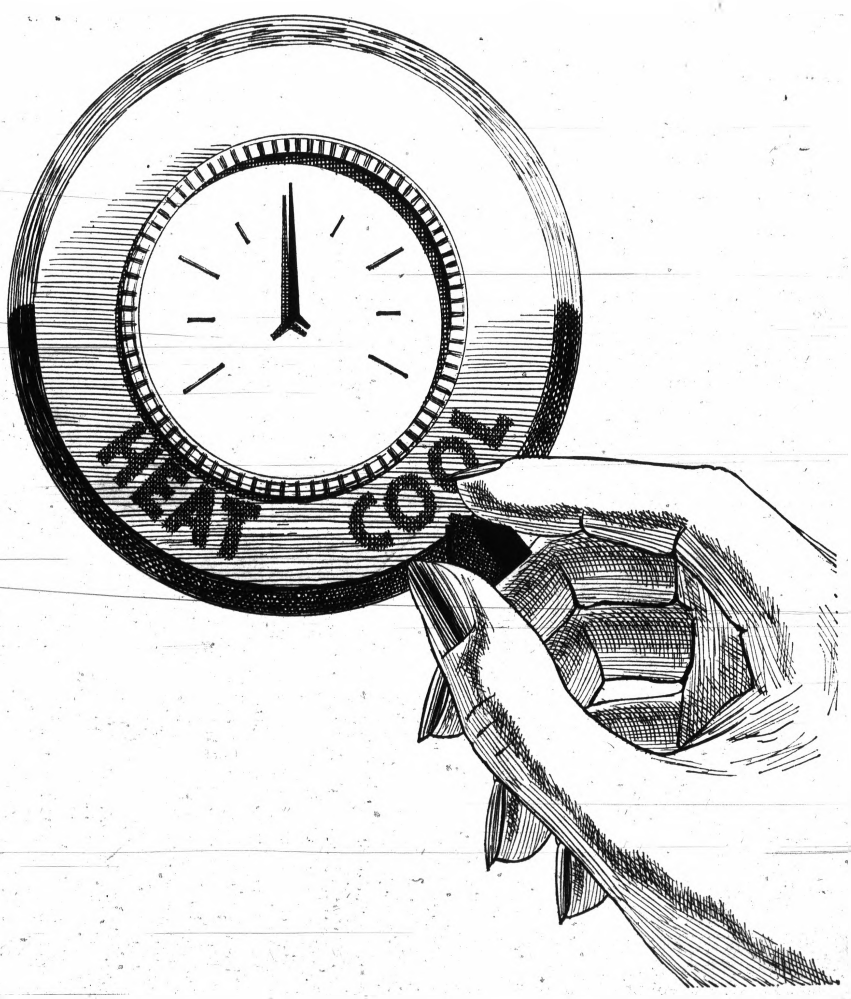
Electric Central Air Conditioning is within your reach.



Several Cities Showing Interest in Local-Level Gun Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several of the nation's biggest cities have gun control laws, and more cities and towns are considering them. But advocates of local laws are quick to point out they cannot be fully effective without interstate sales restrictions.

The city council of Washington this week gave tentative approval to an ordinance requiring licensing of pistols, rifles and shotguns and permits for carrying them.

It is similar to one recommended by the Metropolitan Washington Council of Governments which includes 15 cities and counties.

Several cities, including New Haven, Conn. and San Antonio, Tex., have indicated their interest in city gun laws, the National League of Cities says. It notes that New York, Chicago and Philadelphia already have enacted strict gun control laws. One has been proposed in St. Louis.

The league has started working on a model gun control ordinance and plans to meet with state attorneys general to draft complementary state and local laws.

* * *

The executive committee of the league last May called for federal regulations to keep firearms out of the hands of those likely to misuse them.

* * *

It said that local ordinances were relatively ineffective "because of the ease with which firearms may be acquired in other jurisdictions and through the mails."

The omnibus crime control bill signed recently by President Johnson bans mail order sales of pistols. Both the House and Senate Judiciary committees have before them bills that would ban the mail-order sales of rifles and shotguns.

The President also has asked for a law requiring registration of weapons and licensing of owners. The question of whether this proposal should be tacked onto the long-gun measure was considered by the Senate Judiciary Committee last Thursday, but the committee postponed any action until next week.

ANGELO ANGELOF

Dim Picture of Park Sniper Put Together

NEW YORK (AP)—A blurred picture emerged today of the Central Park sniper as a nervous, secretive man with a quick temper who apparently stole a gun from a friend and used it to kill one person and wound three others in a wild shooting spree Wednesday.

Police said Thursday that the 45-caliber Smith and Wessen 1917 Army-type revolver which the sniper used before he was shot down by police belonged to Kiril Dimitroz of Jackson, N. J.

* * *

Dimitroz, like the sniper, Angelo Angelof, was from Bulgaria. He told police Angelof had visited him about 10 days ago, but said he was not aware the revolver was missing until investigators told him.

* * *

The New Jersey man said, however, that he was not really friendly with Angelof but with the latter's roommate, a man identified by police sources as Kyril Dikov, about 45. Dikov was in St. John's Hospital in Queens, where he was being treated for hand injuries suffered in an industrial accident.

* * *

Police said Angelof waylaid Lilah Kistler, 24, in a Central Park rest room and, after shooting her to death, climbed to the roof of the building. During a gun duel with police, he shot Charles Bach, 80, and seriously wounded him. Two policemen suffered minor injuries.

In announcing they had traced the gun, police said they had been aided in their work by the fact that New York and New Jersey have strict gun registration laws.

Smash-Burn Forays Hit Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Three fire-bombings were reported and scores of windows were broken by more than 100 youths on the Minneapolis south side Thursday night.

The trouble started about 10:30 p.m. after a Fourth of July fireworks display at a city park. One hour after the initial outbreak, police set up a command post near the trouble area.

* * * *

The fire-bombing occurred as the crowd split in two directions, tying up traffic for several blocks.

Paterson, N.J. Streets Quiet; 24 More Held

PATERSON, N.J. (AP)—A third night of disorders subsided following a short rain today after rock-throwing and window-smashing spread outside the Puerto Rican section.

Police reported that 24 persons, all adults, had been arrested Thursday night and today, bringing the total for the three days to 54. They were charged with varied counts of resisting arrest, malicious mischief and loitering.

* * *

Three Paterson hospitals reported treating about three dozen injured persons. Many of the injured, however, did not report to hospitals. Some 20 persons were injured, including several policemen, in the previous nights of violence.

* * *

Helmeted police displayed shotguns in a show of strength, but no shooting was reported Thursday night. There had been one report of shooting by police early Thursday to discourage youths throwing missiles from rooftops.

TEAR GAS EFFECTIVE

Police used tear gas to break up large crowds. "The tear gas is very effective," Deputy Police Chief Angelo Esposito said.

Militants Seek Closed Street

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A permanent ban on regular traffic along a main street leading to the University of California was demanded today by young militants following a July Fourth "happening" allowed by the City Council.

A crowd estimated at nearly 5,000 milled back and forth Thursday along a two-block area of Telegraph Avenue, claimed by an activist coalition as "our street."

* * *

The spirit was one of a victory celebration.

They had battled the City Council for a permit to close off the street and the council relented after first denying that and other demands.

132 ARRESTS

Mass gatherings in the street a week ago touched off police sweeps and strict curfews and resulted in 132 arrests.

The first rally, spearheaded by the Young Socialist Alliance without a permit to block Telegraph, was held to protest the "De Gaulle government's treatment of French students."

* * *

Thursday's demonstration billed as political, featured rock bands and skits ridiculing police. It ended without any disturbances. Monitors directed traffic on the fringe of the rally area, and no police were seen.

* * *

The crowd began diminishing when speakers began attacking the Vietnam war, the de Gaulle government and police, but picked up again when the bands returned.

Mrs. Francis C. McMath of Birmingham (right) is looking up at a delicate chandelier as she rides the escalator in the new Hudson store. Other Meadow Brook festival committee members, Mrs. Floyd W. Bunt, Bloomfield Hills (left) and Mrs. Harry N. Wieting, Sandhurst Road, who also toured the nearly completed store, are helping with arrangements for the July 15 benefit party.

Black Tie Preview Gala One 'Night to Remember'

Something new in benefit parties will take place July 15. The J.L. Hudson Company will host a private black tie preview party for 250 couples in their newest store on 14 Mile Road and I-75.

The event, billed as "A Night to Remember," will benefit the Meadow Brook Music Festival. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Hudson Jr. and the Virgil E. Boyds, chairmen of the Festival, are chairmen of the evening.

DINNER

After a reception and cocktails in the dramatic West Court, guests will dine overhead on a teak-railed balcony. Jack Brokensha and his group will play during the cocktail hour.

The musical portion of the evening includes Duke Ellington and his orchestra who will play in the enclosed mall that adjoins the store.

EHRLING

In a change from his usual role as conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Sixten Ehrling will perform as piano soloist with violinist Mischa Mischakoff.

Other festival executive committee members working on party arrangements are Mesdames: Frederick Cody, Donald Dawson, John S. Judd, Marvin L. Katke, F.C. McMath, Gilbert F. Richards, W. F. Skinner, Joseph G. Standart Jr. and Harry N. Wieting.

The new Hudson store will open to the public July 22.

Can't Specify 'No Silver' on the Invitations

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: In a few weeks my husband and I plan to celebrate our silver wedding anniversary. We have a tentative guest list of 130 guests. Although I would love silver gifts, I have no room for them.

* * *

How can I tell good friends this? Someone told me it would be proper to have "No silver, please" printed on the invitations. Is this so?

* * *

I have always felt the silver wedding anniversary came too late in most couples' lives. By the time 25 years rolls around most women have accumulated whatever silver they need and have had time to use. A bride say of five years would certainly appreciate gifts of silver more than one who has been married 25 years. What do you say? — Mrs. P. Re

* * *

Dear Mrs. R.: I agree with you, but I'm afraid we're too late to change so many years of "silver" anniversaries.

* * *

One has every right to say "No gifts, please" on an invitation. However, one cannot suggest to guests what to give or not to give. To put "No silver, please" indicates that you are requesting a gift of another sort. So either accept the silver or settle for no gifts at all.

* * *

One alternative—tell a few good friends or relatives that you'd rather not receive silver. The word will get around.

NO CARD

Dear Mrs. Post: My son, who will be married two years in July, is a sensitive person. Would it be proper to send him an anniversary card, even though his wife has just walked out on him? It is just temporary—so she says.

* * *

He has been brought up in a family that always sends cards for every occasion. — Mrs. Y.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Y.: Family tradition or not, don't send your son a card at this time. An anniversary card carries congratulations for a happy event, and surely a marriage without a wife is not one to be celebrated. Ask him for dinner or to visit, to occupy his mind, but don't otherwise remind him of his trouble.

Betrothal Announced

Bride-elect Alpha Dee Nunley, an alumna of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Tex., and her fiance, Daniel James Spence, who is studying at Washtenaw Community College, Ypsilanti, are planning to wed Aug. 3.

* * *

Eventful Weekend Set at Interlochen

INTERLOCHEN—The National Music Camp is to provide a variety of musical and dramatic entertainment for the thousands of visitors expected up in the north country for the holiday weekend.

Beginning with the performance of Agatha Christie's thriller, "The Mousetrap," the calendar lists concerts by the camp's symphonic orchestras and bands, and, on Sunday afternoon, the Michigan All-State band's final concert.

* * *

"Mousetrap," which deals with a group of strangers stranded in a boarding house during a snowstorm, is to run through Saturday.

The prime time concert, at 8 p.m. Sunday in the Interlochen Bowl, has the World Youth Symphony playing virtually the same concert it is to give at Ravinia (Chicago) on July 28 under the baton of Dr. George C. Wilson.

* * *

On the program are Richard Strauss' "Death and Transfiguration," Hovhaness' Variations and Fugue, Barber's Symphony No. 1, and Reveultas' "Sensemaya."

Dr. Edwin Kruth of San Francisco State College, making his bow at Interlochen, is to conduct the All-State band in the Bowl at 3 p.m. Sunday in a program including Creston's "Celebration" overture, the Leidzen arrangement of Bach's Toccata and Fugue in D minor and Sousa's "Semper Fidelis."

* * *

Other concerts, all contributing toward making it a musical weekend for residents and visitors over the four-day holiday period, will be by faculty members at 8 p.m. tonight and by student ensembles.

Either One Will Do

In Absence of Friend; Seek Enemy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who is highly successful in his field, well educated, well traveled, and respected in this community, BUT when he is present, no one else can get a word in.

ABBY

I cannot recall ever having been in this man's company when he didn't take the floor and hold it all evening. Granted, he IS charming and entertaining, but there have been times when other interesting guests could have added something worthwhile to the conversation. But this man's voice is the only one that's heard.

Just what does one do about a person like this?

IRKED

DEAR IRKED: In the absence of a "friend" to tell this boor that his manners need manicuring, an enemy will do. A guest who comes to the party and hogs all the conversation is no better than one who hogs all the food.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I and our three children (ages eight, 10, and 13) were invited to a relative's home for supper recently. She had one large table set for the adults and another one for the children.

My daughter, age 13, came to me and said she wasn't going to sit with the "babies." (Two of her 12-year-old cousins were sitting at that table and they didn't complain.) I told her not to make a fuss and to go sit down and be quiet. Being a very head-strong child, she raised her voice a bit and said she would rather go home. Well, I wasn't about to take her home and I couldn't let her walk home alone at night, so in order to avoid a scene I told her to go get her chair and to sit by me, which she did.

I dislike scenes in public and I still think I did the right thing. My husband said I should have told the spoiled little stinker to either sit where she was put or to go into the bedroom and sulk. What is your opinion?

BROOKLYN

DEAR BROOKLYN: With such a smart husband, why are you writing to Dear Abby?

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO C.C.K.: There are exceptions, of course, but the true index to a man's character can usually be found in the health of his wife.

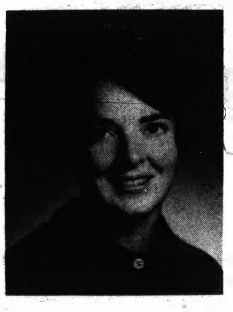
Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, in care The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Vows at Bride's Home

Mrs. John A. Timmer of Oakley Park Road, Commerce Township, and Berkley Voss, Keithdale Road, were married on Wednesday. The wedding, attended only by members of both families, took place in the bride's home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Umbach of Saginaw announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to David Dahline, son of the Orrin Dahlines of 25 Mile Road, Avon Township. She is a graduate of Lutheran Hospital of Nursing, St. Louis, Mo., and her fiance attends Concordia Lutheran Seminary, St. Louis. December vows are slated.

The engagement of their daughter, Sharon Kathleen, to Luke MacDonald Little Jr. is announced by the Alexander E. Scotts of Detroit. He is the son of the Luke M. Littles of Inwoods Circle. The couple, seniors at Michigan State University where she is affiliated with Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and he, Psi Upsilon fraternity, is planning to wed in the spring.



Early September vows are planned by Terrie Ann Van Meter and George E. Marks. The bride elect, a graduate student at Michigan State University, is the daughter of the Carlton J. Van Meters of Albion. Her fiance, who also attends MSU, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Marks of East Commerce Road, Commerce Township.

Luncheon Slated by Monnett Club

Members and guests of the Detroit Monnett Club will gather Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. in Orchard Lake Country Club for a luncheon.

Present and incoming freshman girl students, as well as the mothers of all Ohio Wesleyan students, are invited.

* * *

Mrs. Ralph Fox and Mrs. F. H. Mellinger will act as hostesses. Mrs. Mellinger recently received the Monnett Award for an outstanding alumna contribution.

Mrs. Phillip Meek and Mrs. John W. Sigler of Birmingham are taking reservations for the luncheon.

Tailor to the Rescue

Professors aren't the only absentminded individuals. Vladimir Ashkenazy who is appearing at the Meadow Brook Festival this week discovered Wednesday afternoon that he had forgotten to bring his white dinner jackets.

* * *

Harwood Tailors on West Huron Street came to the rescue and fitted him with several jackets to take care of all his performances. He appeared Thursday evening, impeccably clad.

Ashkenazy Scores Triumph Playing Mozart Concerto

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL

Last night at Meadow Brook, pianist Vladimir Ashkenazy and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Sixten Ehrling, achieved a definitive artistic triumph.

New York Times critic, Harold Schonberg, has called Mr. Ashkenazy "the greatest living pianist of his generation," a tribute to a young man that was more than justified with his performance of Mozart's D Minor Concerto.

* * *

The work has a deceptively simple sound, an intimate quality, an emotional impact, which is hard to define and harder still to interpret.

Mr. Ashkenazy, in minute and tender ways, gave a performance that was unmatched in delicacy and purity, yet full and fiery as a polished gem.

PURE TONE

To begin with, he has a tone like liquid silver, bright and translucent, with enough depth and penetration to be heard in the far reaches of any concert hall.

He plays without seeming effort, and his uncluttered approach has a freshness, a controlled eagerness, a complete naturalness that add up to spiritual perfection.

His polished technique and infinite tonal color are the background for his intrinsic fine taste and controlled emotionalism.

* * *

BACH FIRST

The concert opened with Bach's Third Brandenburg Concerto.

It is the only time this seaon when Mr. Ehrling will be conducting Bach, and perhaps it is just as well. Bach is clearly not Mr. Ehrling's cup of tea.

* * *

Aaron Copland's Third Symphony occupied the second half of the program.

Mr. Ehrling plunged into the work with might and main, his hands flying and his energetic dancing style very much in evidence.

In his work, Copeland uses a more or less classic framework to present his contemporary themes and developments.

The result is a charged dynamic expression of modern musical thought, agitated, brash, lonely, seeking, at times wryly humorous, at others broad and dignified.

In spite of some overtoning in the brass section and harshness in the strings, the total effect was a vibrant musical picture of contemporary America.

The fourth movement had the grandeur and eclat which were the mark of a fine symphony, beautifully performed.

* * *

The concert will be repeated this evening. On Saturday, Mr. Ashkenazy will perform Prokofief's Second Piano Concerto, and the orchestra will be heard in Brahms' Fourth Symphony and Respighi's "Pines of Rome".

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

The dictionary says a vacation is "freedom from duty, a rest." Yet some folks take their responsibilities and duties right along with them. The man may take a little work along with him while the woman has the same care of young children under much more difficult conditions that when at home.

Which do you need most — a change of scenery or a change of pace or just plain rest? A change of scenery is restful unless one tries to change it too fast and too often. Perhaps the majority of people need a combination of change of scenery and rest. This you can get if you land in some delightful spot and remain there for the duration.

* * *

It is surely not restful to have to drive many hundreds of miles each day. That's meeting deadlines! You are under pressure. If it is rest you need, maybe you would find it by sleeping late in the morning and lying in the hammock in your own back yard.

You can divide people into two classes. There are camping people and non-camping people. The camping folks find the primitive outdoor life exhilarating regardless of any hardships involved. They practically swing from tree to tree.

The non-camping folks do not find the rugged life of the camper appealing. They prefer taking walks in the woods, or fishing in a nearby stream or lake, and then returning to the comforts of a good motel or hotel or inn. They have no compulsive urge to fight mosquitoes and sleep on uncomfortable beds and be awakened at dawn.

How much money do you want to spend? You can count on it! Any trip away from home will cost more than you figured it would. For less than a trip would cost you might have a restful and lovely vacation right at home. How about getting some help with the children? How about Mamma and Papa having a few nights out at some delightful restaurant or for an evening of dancing?

* * *

The point I am trying to make is that a vacation is such an individual thing. What delights one person will bore another. What one person finds restful another may find exhausting. This is especially true of sightseeing. You can divide people into the sightseers and non-sightseers, too.

Most people have only one vacation a year, and it is important that they get from it what they most need or want. Therefore, it is well worthwhile giving it some serious thought.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Thompson of Red Arrow Drive, Commerce Township announce the betrothal of their daughter, Janice Ruth, to Theodore J. Jancha. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Jancha of Holt. The couple attends Alma College where she is a sophomore and he a senior.

Area Twins Are Elected

Twins Marian and Marie Olsen of Grand Rapids were elected co-presidents of the Michigan Twins Association in their annual convention recently at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Detroit.

Other co-officers who will serve during the coming year are: Florine Kolb and Mrs. Francine Poyer of Bay City, vice presidents; Mesdames Robert Ballard of Drayton Plains and Russell Carlisle of Pontiac, secretaries; and Robert and Richard Tenniswood of Rochester, treasurers.

Also among the some 100 sets of twins attending from Ohio, Wisconsin, Michigan and Pennsylvania, were Floyd and Lloyd Bartley of Pontiac and Lake Orion and David and Daniel Williams of Rochester.

Julie and David's Wedding Plans Follow Election

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Julie Nixon says she and fiance David Eisenhower are going to wait until after the November election to make their wedding plans.

Julie, daughter of Republican presidential hopeful Richard M. Nixon, appeared with David at a news conference Thursday during a political visit.

* * *

Asked if there were plans for a White House wedding, Julie said, "I really think my father is going to be elected but we'll have to make wedding plans after the election.

David, grandson of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, scored a personal political first during the day by kissing a baby at a Republican rally in Hillsville.

WILLIAMS-HOOD

For her wedding Saturday to Michael Howard Williams, Delores Diane Hood chose a traditional wedding ensemble fashioned from Chantilly lace over taffeta. Her illusion veil was capped with a pearled butterfly headpiece and she held white carnations with lily of the valley. Honor attendants for the daughter of the Delos C. Hoods of Westview Street, Independence Township, and son of Mrs. Gilbert Williams of Elwood Street and the late Mr. Williams were Dorothy Hood and Kerry Richmond. Following vows in Community United Presbyterian Church, the newlyweds joined a bridal party of eight in the receiving line at Waltz Hall. They then departed for a honeymoon at Sandusky, Ohio.

Denise Patton Is Honored at Bridal Shower

The Oakshire Street home of the James B. Knapps was the setting for a recent miscellaneous mother-daughter shower for bride-elect Denise Patton.

Co-hostess for the affair was Vivienne Hutchings of Coleman.

Guests included Mrs. Curtis E. Patton of Hammond Lake, mother of the bride elect, Mrs. Jerome Stewart and daughter Peggy of Dearborn, and Mrs. Frank Voit and daughters Diane and Carol of Grand Blanc.

Miss Patton will wed Donald Jones of Chicago Aug. 3 at All Saints Episcopal Church.

When a tear accidentally gets in an otherwise good pair of sheer curtains; cut a pretty butterfly from pastel material. Stitch over hole, add another butterfly or two where there aren't any holes, spacing them attractively. Fix all other curtains to match. Chances are the curtains will be more attractive than before one became damaged.

This Is Ma's Good Example Caper

By BETTY CANARY

I have never chased a child around a doctor's office. My attitude has been that a few words of comfort accompanied by the simple truth was the way to approach shots and stitches and it has paid off for me.

However, one never knows when all those words of cheerful truthful comfort will came a'haunting. They came to me as I stood at the bathroom mirror holding the filling from my molar.

"Oh, oh," I whimpered "Look here!"

"What is it, mother?" Babs asked.

"See my tooth? Oh, dear! See my tooth?"

"Call the dentist!" she said, sympathetically.

"Tomorrow, maybe."

"Right now! Remember the motto in the kitchen. You always read it to me!"

"Oh, you mean 'I ought; therefore I will.' Well, I don't think Immanuel Kant meant a broken filling."

"It will just take a minute to fix it and you'll be good as new!"

"All right," I said.

"It will just hurt a TINY bit and then it will be over!"

"All right!"

I accepted her offer to go with me to the office because just having her along would give me companionship.

Not that I really needed companion ship on the long drive because, after all, who is concerned about having a little filling put in one's tooth? (See mother set a good example?)

"You don't have to cry," she said in her own heartless fashion. "It is mostly your imagination that hurts!"

* * *

"Just as you tell me — there are some things we MUST do!"

"Of course."

"You are a big, brave girl.

aren't you?" she chattered. "And, it is better to have a tiny filling than to lose a tooth!"

* * *

I hadn't thought of that! Maybe he will have to pull it! I forced myself not to faint. I will show her my courage, I thought.

"Of course!" I said, cheerfully. (See mother be brave?)

Afterwards, in the waiting room, Babs greeted me happily. "There!" she said, "it wasn't anything, was it? Didn't hurt, did it?"

"Of course not!" I said. (Hear mother lie?)

Easy-Iron Sheers

To iron a sheer blouse or dress, pin a dampened turkish towel firmly to the ironing board cover and iron the garment over it. This method gives better results than placing the cloth over the garment, for this allows you to see the material while ironing it and keeps you from ironing wrinkles in the clothing.

BIRRELL-BINE

Birmingham's St. Regis Catholic Church was the setting for Friday vows exchanged by Nancy Marie Bine and Duane Birrell. Their parents are the Russell E. Bines of Birmingham and the Robert Birrells of Keego Harbor. The bride selected a gown of peau de soie with an elbow length veil of illusion. Shirley Anne Bine and Carl Henry Sturgeon stood as honor attendants for the pair later feted at a reception in Roma Hall, Livonia. Bette Anne Bine was her sister's bridesmaid and ushering was Jackie Birrell. The newlyweds are honeymooning at Niagara Falls.

AGAJEENIAN-DOMZAL

Susan Gail Domzal and Timothy George Agajeenian were united in marriage Saturday in St. John's Episcopal Church, Royal Oak. Parents of the couple, later feted at a reception in Pine Knob Ski Resort, are the Henry Domzals of Troy and the George V. Agajeenians of Parkman Drive. Alencon lace with pearl and crystal beading highlighted a gown for the bride who carried white roses, carnations and ivy. Honor attendants were Helen Zbudowski Benjamin McKerricher with others, Nancy and Barbara Agajeenian and Ralph Kalajian and Jack Master.

Nurturing Self-Trust Is Vital to Young

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

At 19, I'm a most unhappy girl. Why, I don't know. I've even thought of suicide or joining a hippie group. My mother is so overwhelmed by her own problems, I can't talk to her and I have no communication with my father.

I have no grownup to appeal to but you. Maybe I should leave home and go out on my own. Is there something wrong with me? If so, where do I get help?

* * *

ANSWER: No, child, there's nothing wrong with you. Which is exactly what these scary thoughts of suicide are trying to tell you. For all they are is another deeper aspect of your desire to leave home, to discard the life you're living to find a new one that is more promising and meaningful. You're just a lovely little butterfly struggling to pull out of its confining chrysalis in order to spread its wings in the sun.

* * *

Which is not to say that you don't need what you call "help."

* * *

What I want you to first do is to borrow a book from the library called "NEUROSIS AND HUMAN GROWTH" by Dr. Karen Horney, a noted psychoanalyst. For what we're really talking about is obstruction to your growth — and trust of these almost-ready wings of yours. So let what this wise woman says about that trust of the deep self work in you.

* * *

Then when you've really heard her, come to a city, find a job and then locate a psychoanalyst (one you IMMEDIATELY like) who will begin to educate that all-important self-trust.

Myself, I think that all you sensitive young people need this education. I think this because the time you live in faces you with a double problem.

First, you have to manage the realization that we parents are not the gods of your childhood's fancy — but are just people whose love and solutions are not so reliable as you thought they were.

* * *

And this realization, though normal to people of your age, is hard to live through. But then you look around the world about you — and are compelled to realize that its solutions to its difficulties are unreliable, too. So you don't know where to look for any trustworthy answer.

The hippies just quit looking for it. But for you there's another place to find the trust. It's in yourself.

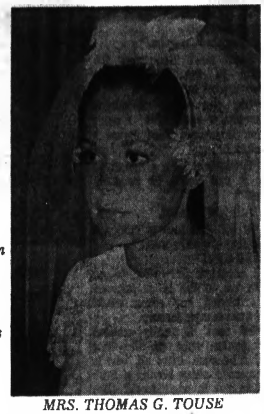
Folk-Hymns Used in Youth Service

HOMEWOOD, Ala. (AP) — Folk-hymns and a folk-band made up of four guitars and a banjo were used in a confirmation service for 216 persons at Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church here.

* * *

Rev. Peter McDonald, assistant pastor at the church, said permission had been granted for the unusual twist because the church realizes that "youth ought to be given a more important role in worship services." This kind of music, he added, is more meaningful to them.



Jill Elaine Rudduck, daughter of the M. Stephen Rudducks of Huff Lake, exchanged vows Saturday with Thomas Glenn Touse of Flint. His parents are the Glenn Touses of Ypsilanti.

MRS. THOMAS G. TOUSE

Touse Vows Exchanged

On Saturday Afternoon

Redford Presbyterian Church was the setting for Saturday afternoon vows exchanged by Jill Elaine Rudduck and Thomas Glenn Touse of Flint.

A silk organza cage highlighted with Venetian lace was chosen by the bride who completed her ensemble with a full veil of illusion secured by a band of daisies.

She held a nosegay of carnations and baby's breath.

Mrs. William Sniechowski was matron of honor with bridesmaids, Vicki Griem and Mary Ann Carson.

David Egger stood as best man with ushers, Robert Flanders and William Sniechowski.

* * *

A garden reception in the home of the bride's parents, the M. Stephen Rudducks of Huff Lake, feted the couple before their departure on a Bermuda honeymoon.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Touse of Ypsilanti.

Purchasing Tag Proves Useful

When buying household utensils, appliances, or linens, be sure that you save all the tags. Write on each one of these informative tags or labels, just what merchandise it refers to, the store where bought, and the date of purchase.

* * *

As time goes by, you will find yourself referring to these tags. They help you to know if the article is worth the money you paid for it. And you will know just what firm you will want to patronize in making a replacement.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer,

I am just a beginner with my sewing, but I am a budding genius with enthusiasm and too much courage. I would like to make a pair of shorts like some I have seen in an expensive sportswear shop but can't find a pattern like them. They were made of a wide striped cotton and the lines formed a "V" at the center front and back and sides. Is it possible to achieve this or am I attempting to do the impossible?

Mrs. R. M.

Dear Mrs. R. M.:

Your letter was great, and some day you'll end up on the best-dressed list because you have the courage to do the unusual. Since you mention cotton fabric, I am sure this was a regular striped fabric that has been cut on the bias instead of the straight grain.

* * *

To find the bias of the fabric, fold over one corner so that it forms a right angle. The fold of the fabric is now the true bias. Place the arrow indicating the straight grain, even with the new fold line. This will form a perfect "V" for the center front and center back of your shorts. I would underline anything cut on the bias and cut the underlining the same and treat the two layers of fabric as one.

Dear Eunice Farmer,

When I went to school, we were taught to give everything a very sharp press. We had this pounded into our heads with every garment we made. Now the patterns call for a bias strip in the hem, plus underlining, and I am finding it very difficult to get a sharp hem in my dresses. Why do they want this extra material in the hem? It only makes it thicker.

Mrs. D. E. H.

Dear Mrs. D. E. H.:

I'm happy you wrote to me. It just proves one thing, you must be constantly on your toes with the new changes. No matter when you learned to sew, new fabrics and new styles present new construction.

Today, the sharp ironed look in hems is "out"! We want a rounded, soft appearance to the hem as well as most of the seams. Underlining helps give this look as well as the bias fold of fabric that is often suggested to keep the hem from becoming too flat.

This Type Mortgage Not Too Available

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

Some friends of ours were talking about "flexible-payment mortgages," where payments can be increased or decreased according to your high and low income years.

FEELEY

Can you tell us more about this? Are such mortgages generally available?

A.R.B., New York

Dear A.R.B.:

The flexible-payment, or variable payment, mortgage arrangement was described by a mortgage-broker friend of mine as "an ingenious solution to a problem that doesn't exist."

Other brokers and insurance lenders support his position. They contend that this type of mortgage, which isn't in operation at the present time, is unnecessary. Open-end contracts (already in existence) allow homebuyers to pay off a mortgage as soon as they're able, or extend it in order to reduce monthly payments if the cost becomes too stiff.

Fewer than 10 per cent of the mortgages today are being written for 20 years. The average homemaker pays on his mortgage for 10 to 12 years, then makes a change. He then either puts his equity into another larger home or is forced to move for business reasons. Some 37 million people a year move, and the majority of them are young homeowners — the very couples who might benefit most by the flexible-payment mortgage.

However, there's another point of view. One young couple I sounded out on the subject feels that a mortgage that's set up on a low-payment basis for the first five years has an advantage. The beginning payments, being lower than the usual equal-payment arrangement in use today, would be in line with a young husband's income.

Then in five or 10 years, when it's likely that his income will have increased, he can assume higher monthly mortgage payments with ease.

Thus the flexible-payment mortgage — wsich does montain some features of the equal-payment mortgage where the amount allocated to principal and interest vary each month — strikes some people as more attractive than simply taking on a long-time mortgage in the first place.

The reaction of a couple in their 50s who are comfortably established now, is that if they had it to do over again, and the flexible-payment mortgage were available, they'd take it.

"We could increase our payments now and thereby pay off our mortgage more quickly, which is really what we want to do. But we just don't do it!" said the wife. "But if an increase in our monthly payments were necessary at this point — because our mortgage contract so stated — then we'd come up payment after retirement.

Another couple, looking toward retirement in 10 years, sees the flexible-payment mortgage in a favorable light. They can afford fairly large monthly payments now — but would like to have the advance planning for a small-scale payement after retirement.

Who knows what might be involved in refinancing later on? Interest rates may be higher then or money may be too hard to get.

Soviet Pressure on Czech Liberals Increasing

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

News Analysis

The liberal reform movement in Czechoslovakia's ruling Communist party is facing increased Moscow pressure. An unrelenting Soviet attack, with singular openness, is supporting the conservatives who have a stake in the hard line and want no part of reform.

Moscow thus presents an odd spectacle these days. On its left, Red China blasts away at the Soviet leadership as a bunch of revisionists seeking to restore capitalism. At the same time, Soviet ideological artillery thunders at Prague, accusing those who stand for liberalization there of revisionism and of endangering the authority of Communist parties throughout the bloc.

* * *

The Kremlin seems intent on making it a long, hot summer for the Prague liberalizers. The pressure shows no sign of letting up. Almost daily the Soviet press carries suggestions only thinly veiled that Czechoslovakia is on the verge of counterrevolution and that something should be done about it.

The campaign continued into July with a big blast in Izvestia assailing those Czechoslovak writers who, it claimed, sowed distrust of the Soviet Union, downgraded the Soviet "liberation" role in World War II, endangered the authority of the Czech Communist party and belittled the party's role in the past 20 years.

'VAST CAMPAIGN'

A Prague radio correspondent in Moscow characterized all this as a "vast campaign." He took particular note of many meetings organized around the Soviet Union in support of the People's Militia in Czechoslovakia. That was organized 20 years ago when the Czechoslovak Communist party was taking over the country. It is armed. It has privileges it wants to protect, and it is considered the most hidebound of conservative Communist organizations in the country. There have been suggestions from reformist Czechoslovaks that this military arm of the party should be demobilized or at least put under government control rather than the control of the party alone.

The campaign is echoed elsewhere in Communist Eastern Europe by attacks on "rotten bourgeois liberalism and abstract humanitarianism."

FEARED IN BULGARIA

"From the way the press presents events," wrote a Yugoslav correspondent from Bulgaria recently, "it is clear that the Socialist development in Czechoslovakia is feared here, and those aspects of the development are disapproved which Bulgaria's leadership dislikes and does not want to have at home."

A frequent target of Soviet anger is a leading figure in the Czechoslovak Writers Union, Jan Prochazka. Because of his liberal views, he is being attacked constantly as a revisionist, ignorant of Marxism-Leninism, who is against the working class "and its vanguard, the Communist party," and who is "yearning for the return of capitalism."

* * *

Another target is Cestmir Cisar, a party secretary and a spokesman for the new wave. To Pravda, he is a revisionist because he protested that during the Stalin era, only the Stalinist interpretation of Marxism-Leninism had been permitted in the Communist world.

A recent Moscow broadcast referred to Western press reports that Warsaw Pact military maneuvers in Czechoslovakia were a form of pressure. It said: "The knights of psychological warfare in the West are attempting to influence some weak elements in Czechoslovakia, to sow distrust and suspicion not only toward the Soviet Union but toward the Czechoslovak government, and finally to drive a wedge into Czechoslovak-Soviet relations."

The Soviet onslaught is having some effect, apparently. In mid-June, when the "People's Militia" held a 10,000-strong rally at Prague airport, Alexander Dubcek, present chief of the party who deposed the old hard-line regime, felt constrained to say that the militia was not connected with "the deformations" of the past 20 years. He suggested that the liberalizers themselves were endangering liberalization by wanting to go too fast. Dubcek was well aware of the role of the "People's Militia" in the past as the military arm of the party and a pillar of strength for the old Stalinist setup.

* * *

The result of the Soviet campaign may be, at the least, a slowing down of the reform movement. Czechoslovak leaders obviously are apprehensive that if their reform goes too far or too fast, the Russians will take steps, possibly by helping the conservatives to power again.

U.S. Burns Old Ship for Unpaid Debts

PAGO PAGO, American Samoa (AP) — A dignified old ship, the interisland freighter Manua Tele, was towed out to sea Wednesday and burned, for nonpayment of debts.

The ship was owned by natives of Manua Island north of here. But the old minesweeper was ordered auctioned off to satisfy a $9,000 debt to the U.S. government for repairs.

* * *

A sixth grade class in San Francisco made the only bid — $73.60.

Not enough, said the government. So the ship was stripped of salvage, towed eight miles to sea by a Coast Guard cutter and scuttled.

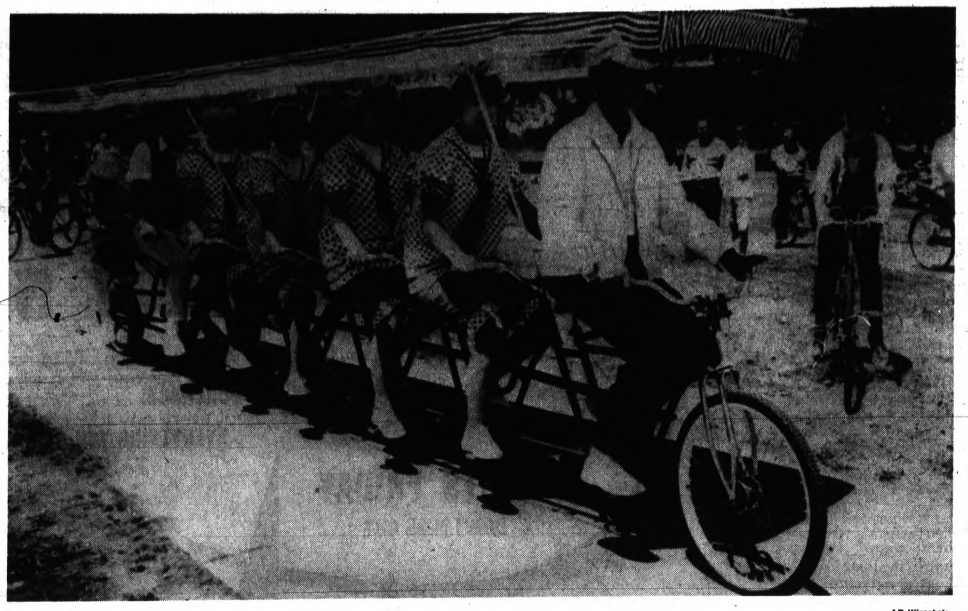
Holiday Scenes of Fun, Sorrow —and a Little Bit of Politics, Too

Pontiac Press Photo by Rolf Winter

HEADING HOME—The imagination of children, being as unfathomable as it is endlessly unique, leads us only to speculate what role Timmy Turner, 5, is playing as he pulls his brother, Tom, 4, in what could be a Venetian galley, Roman chariot, stagecoach or out of power putt-putt boat. The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jim T. Turner of 248 S. East Blvd.



AP Wirephoto

AP Wirephoto

AIR CRASH—Six persons and eight race horses were killed on the eve of the Fourth of July holiday when a freight aircraft crashed into parked aircraft at London's Heathrow airport. Two British European Airways "Trident" airliners were hit by the freight plane, which crashed while making a landing approach.

AP Wirephoto

FIREWORKS VICTIM—Michael J. Balters, 17, of Omaha, Neb. spent yesterday in a hospital bed as a result of a fireworks explosion that cost him his right hand and injured his eyes. Three other youths also were injured when a box of fireworks being held by Balters exploded. One had tossed a firecracker in the air, and it landed in the box. As in Michigan, fireworks are illegal in Omaha.

MINNESOTA CAMPAIGN—Former Alabama Gov. Wallace answers questions during a news conference in Minneapolis while supporters raise a sign in the background. Wallace brought his third-party campaign to Minnesota to launch a drive for 2,000 signatures to put his name on the state's ballot in the November general election.

CHOP, CHOP — Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York is running hard for the Republican presidential nomination. Mosquito Inspectors Don't Let Work Bug Them

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mosquito inspectors in south Florida marshes have an itchy job: Getting bitten.

But the three men who stand for 60 seconds and let salt marsh mosquitoes suck blood as they are counted say the work doesn't bug them.

★ ★ ★

"I don't like to be bitten, to be honest with you, but that's part of the job," said inspector Ben Cohen, 62.

"You have to be interested in it and like it to do it," said inspector Bill Sims, 66.

BITES PER MINUTE

The men measure their work in "bites per minute," shortened on reports to b.p.m.

James Heidt, chief of the Dade County Mosquito Control Division, said the rest of his 38-man crew, slathered with insect repellent and wearing long sleeve shirts, sprays any area where the count goes over 10 b.p.m. "Hot" areas, over 20 b.p.m., get extra treatment, Heidt said.

★ ★ ★

"The checkers can't use repellent," said Heidt, "that would defeat the purpose."

"Sometimes, before I open the door of my car, they are swarming all over me," said Sims, who has been doing the job for 15 years. "I've seen them land so fast you couldn't begin to count them. I go no farther, turn around and get out of there."

NO IMMUNITY

Like the other inspectors, foreman Eugene Evans, 66, wades into the marshes wearing short sleeves. He says there is no immunity, no special chemistry for the job.

★ ★ ★

"I'm human," said Evans. "The mosquitoes bite me. I've got blood and feeling." All the men advise against scratching, claiming that the itch vanishes in less than an hour.

★ ★ ★

Heidt said the county used 250 counting stations to check on the need for sprays. More scientific methods, such as 10 "killing jars" and a truck that traps the flying insects with a funnel on the roof are used, but Heidt said the best procedure is the old one: "Put a man out there to count then as they land on him." Heidt said the counter must be male because mosquitoes don't light so readily on women.

Cohen said there is a procedure to guard against letting a mosquito vote twice for his own extinction. "We try to swat them and knock them down so they don't alight again and make us count them double," he said.

Runaways Linked With Delinquency

By The Youth Service

One of the earliest manifestations of juvenile delinquency is running away from home, according to James A. Hildebrand, a detective with the police force in New York City.

In a study of runaways in a low income, high crime area of the city, as compared with a middle-income section, he found the runaway rate in the high crime section twice the city's rate, and six times the rate of a middle-income, residential neighborhood.

★ ★ ★

The factors, he reports, that appear to influence these runaways are family instability, neighborhood deterioration, low income level and economic dependency, and a low level of education.

Home Not a Home Until It Is Planted

Do you remember a few lines of a poem which ran something like:

"The soul needs beauty to keep it alive

As the heart needs love to quench its pain.

And man needs courage to dream again."

It's not a home until it's planted and we do need beauty, inside and out. We love our family and home and can express that impressively with a yard and garden of flowers.

Sometimes we may travel away, on vacations or otherwise, finding something to bring back to make home more livable and attractive.

All-America Selections, current flower winners as the best of their kinds, are planted in demonstration gardens from Bermuda to Honolulu, in Canada and over the United States.

Thousands of visitors see these well labeled award varieties in the many famous botanical, park and institutional gardens.

Varieties of individual choice may be noted and purchased conveniently from reliable garden seed firms. Even if one has not had the success desired and needs the courage to dream or plant again, a gardener has that courage. Garden and gardener improve, always dreaming again for a more exciting, beautiful garden.

After all, gardening is the greatest hobby on earth and the whole family can take part. We all should have a dream of a garden.

Plants of the dewberry propagate naturally as the tips of their canes turn downward toward the soil in late summer and root.

Pontiac Press Photo

SUMMER BEAUTY — White sculpture accents the landscape of the Palle Schierups of West Bloomfield Township. An avid gardener, Schierup took time out from his greenhouse duties last winter to create the mosaic-on-clay pots grouped around the fountain. All of the geraniums, are from cuttings rooted in his greenhouse.

Reel Mowers Gaining Fans

The reel-type lawn mower may become more popular because of a demand for quality lawns and safety, says mower-maker Elnar Jacobsen.

"Long associated with the quality turf of golf courses, fairways and greens, the reel mower leaves a better looking, greener lawn because it shears the grass blade instead of fracturing or tearing it," he adds.

* * *

"Reels also provide an argument for economy since they have approximately twice the useful life of a rotary mower.

In fact, many 15-year owners boast of still using their first and only reel mower."

SAFETY

Many swapped last year from rotary to reel, partly because of the safety factor.

We consider the reel safer because there is less danger from flying objects and because the cutters are in full view of the operator.

Incidentally, the power mower industry expects sales to exceed 5 million units for the first time in 1968 (4.9 million last year).

* * *

Riding mower sales continue to climb. There are about 25 million power mowers now in use in this country.

Compost Can Boost Soil Effectiveness

Compost is truly helpful in the soil. Like any other form of humus it adds body to sandy soils. It retains moisture instead of letting it all run through.

In heavy soils it improves drainage by loosening it and discouraging compaction. It also encourages the growth of helpful bacteria which help make fertilizers available as well as releasing a small amount of plant food from itself slowly.

* * *

Compost is easy to make say garden experts. Merely collect all leaves, stems, vegetable tops from the kitchen, weeds and garden waste that does not harbor insects or diseases — burn that.

Then, selecting a level spot out of sight, make a layer of this material about 6 inches deep over the entire area and keeping the pile flat on top.

FERTILIZER

Next sprinkle over this about a cupful of any good all-purpose fertilizer per bushel of waste and, except in limestone country about the same amount of finely-ground limestone.

After this fork on another layer, as before, and repeat the fertilizer, sprinkling, too. Then follow with another layer, etc. When your pile gets 4 to 5 feet high stop and make another pile.

The top should also be kept slightly hollowed to help retain moisture, wheather applied artificially or as natural rain to make its decay possible.

In warm weather no covering is necessary. However, when cold weather arrives a sheet of black plastic thrown over the pile retains much of the heat and moisture, and collects some heat from the sun, too, thus, enabling the necessary decomposition to take place later into the season.

After about three months, turn it over. Start at one end with a sharp green thumb spade or shovel and cut vertically down through the pile.

This mixes all the layers and materials thoroughly and then throw it on a new pile, also keeping this one flat on top.

WATER

If necessary, water from time to time, as needed. In warm weather the material should be ready for use in an additional 2 to 3 months.

For rhododendrons and similar acid-soil plants keep your pile acid by using oak leaves and omitting the lime.

Philodendron Proves a Haul

It recently took three men to carry a giant philodendron that had decorated a Hackensack, N.J., barber shop for more than two years.

The philodendron had grown to a length of 85 feet when the shop moved.

Day Lily

Boon to Carefree Gardening

There is no showier, more dependable and less troublesome plant than the modern daylily or hemerocallis.

It blooms in mid-to-late summer. It survives heat, cold in winter, indifferent soil, little or no care and has a long blooming season of bright, cheerful colors: yellows, creams, oranges, tans, browns, maroons, greenish tints to almost lavender-pinks and reds. Daylilies are long-lived perennials and almost no pests or diseases trouble them.

* * *

Likewise, the choice of kinds is almost endless and will fit any taste. There are tall ones 4 feet high and miniatures; early, mid-season and late-bloomers; circular flowers and pointed or star-shaped ones. For those in the milder climates there also are evergreen sorts to add touches of life to drab winter gardens.

The uses of daylilies are just as varied. They may be planted in borders around the vegetable garden, in beds against the house, in borders to help outline walks or driveways, in shrub borders to lengthen the season of bloom and with annuals to lend variety and a feeling of permanence.

FULL SUN

For the best results give them a spot with full or nearly full sun, in a good, well-drained soil that is reasonable retentive of moisture.

As for varieties there are actually thousands of different kinds. All one needs to do is to visit a local nursery or garden center with a good selection of them.

The following is a list of the favorite, good-quality inexpensive varieties, according to the American Hemerocallis Society: Satin Glass, Sea Gold, Cart Wheels, Annie Welch, Frances Fay, Full Reward, Luxury Lace, Hortensia, Lime Painted Lady, Angel Robes, May Hall, Alan, Jake Russell, Rare China, Curls, Mary Lawrence, President Rice, Bess Ross, Lexington, William Muson, Crestwood Ann, Nob Hill and Grecian Gift.

* * *

To get best results it pays to prepare the soil properly. Dig up the area at least a full green thumb spade deep, incorporate at least a 1-inch layer of some form of humus and three to five pounds of a good, all-purpose vegetable fertilizer. If the soil is unduly acid, add lime as needed.

Rake the surface smooth, let the soil settle for a few days and then plant at the same depth as the plants grew in the nursery. Thereafter, merely water during periods of drought and hoe or cultivate to keep down weeds.

Root Cuttings for Inside Bloom

Try something different. Save some of your morning glory vines for indoor bloom next winter.

Root the cuttings in sand and transfer to large pots when an adequate root system has formed.

Use Newspaper to Bleach Celery

Celery may be bleached snow white in just two weeks by wrapping a newspaper around it.

Hold the paper in place with rubber bands.

Then as soon as you uncover a bleached stalk, move the newspaper up the row to the next unwrapped stalk.

Wrap about two dozen stalks to start with, leaving just the tops or the upper leaves of the stalks sticking out about two or three inches above the paper.

When preserved in glycerin the foliage of aucuba turns black, mahonia, tan; and cotoneaster and leucothoe, brown.

Pot Plants to Try in Subdued Light

Where there is little light, potted dieffenbachia or philodendron will do quite well.

* * *

A large schefflera, or Australian umbrella plant, will decorate a dimly lighted foyer or entrance hall.

Annual Festival

The Michigan Horticultural Society will again sponsor its annual Harvest Festival Sept. 10, 11 and 12 at Detroit's Belle Isle Casino.

When traveling keep your eyes open for seed pods and heads that will make interesting additions to your fall floral arrangements.

Bluegrass From Sweden

The pedigreed genetic stock of a promising new bluegrass, 0217 brand Fylking Kentucky bluegrass, was brought to America from Sweden several years ago. Fylking has now been under observation in this country for nearly a decade, — long enough to show that it "cuts the mustard" as an all-around lawngrass.

The tedious buildup of sufficient seed supplies has been underway for the last few years, to cope with anticipated demand almost sure to arise with so excellent a performer as Fylking.

There are two unique feature about this handsome bluegrass, its low dense growth, and its resistance to disease. The bright green leafblades, unmarked by lesions, are on short leaf stalks, and thus escape the mower even when it is set low.

* * *

Not only this, but the blade itself bends backward and downward more than customary with most bluegrasses, and underlies the mower's cutting edge. Some think you might even use Fylking for a golf green!

It is a bluebiood of the bluegrass clan. Thus, it spreads by rhizomes, weaving one of the strongest sods underfoot for any turfgrass species. Selected and watched over as it has been, Fylking is as attractively uniform as it is dense.

It is docile yet responsive in handling. As bluegrasses generally are, features much admired in a lawn grass. Fylking's color is good; green, of course, just like a grass should be, but sparkling because it is essentially unblemished by disease

To preserve evergreen foliage for dried arrangements use a solution of one-third glycerin and two-thirds water.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The need for automobile parking space in Los Angeles is so acute that tearing down the central library to make a parking lot is under consideration.

Segregation, Isolation Seen as Top School Challenges

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the last of five stories summarizing the report of the Pontiac School District Citizens Sturdy Committee on Equality of Education Opportunity. Today's article is a summary.)

By DICK ROBINSON

Racial isolation exists in the Pontiac school system and is getting worse, concludes a citizens study committee.

"Racial imbalance results in the denial of equal educational opportunities to the great majority of minority group children and there is social unrest concerning it," the Citizens Study Committee on Equality of Educational Opportunity (CSC) says.

* * *

The committee reports racial isolation at all levels — student, teacher, administrative — and virtually at all schools.

The situation is getting worse even when "there is a growing awareness on the part of those isolated of the gap between policy and practice in this respect," according to the committee.

PRIMARY CHALLENGE

School segregation and isolation is the primary challenge facing the school system, CSC's report states.

This problem also was brought out in Pontiac at the recent Michigan Civil Rights Commission (CRC) hearing on education.

* * *

"The State Board of Education and the Michigan Civil Rights Commission hold that the segregation of students in educational programs seriously interfere with the achievement of the equal opportunity guarantee of this state," the two organizations jointly said two years ago.

* * *

"Segregated schools fail to provide opportunity for the full development of human resources in a democratic society.

CALL FOR EFFORTS

Although they recognize that racial imbalance is related to residential segregation patterns, the state board and CRC urge local school districts to reduce or eliminate segregation.

The citizens committee found that:

- Percentage of nonwhite school children is increasing.
- Schools have become more segregated.
- The placement of teachers at schools is largely done by ethnic background.
- Negro teachers and administrators have little chance for advancement.
- In-service training for teachers, administrators and even students is not what it should be.
- Predominately Negro school generally have larger classes than predominately white schools.
- Achievement levels of students in predominately Negro schools are below those in mostly white schools.
- School attendance boundaries "separate whitness from blackness."
- Counseling, community-school and community human relations programs need expansion and upgrading.

* * *

CSC reminds the school board that initiated the study, which suggests that the board doesn't intend to delay an attack on the problem.

* * *

The committee warned that if the board doesn't act quickly, "external legal forces may be brought to bear."

'MUST ACT'

"The district must not allow its fine reputation to be tarnished by either failure to recognize its problems or failing to do anything about them until it is too late," the reports advises.

* * *

"We as citizens look to you, the board and the administration, for leadership — to put a halt to denial of equality of educational opportunity through the practice of racial isolation in our schools, to lead us from separation in your field or responsibility (education) into a school system that knows no color line, where mutual respect and brotherhood cannot only be taught from the books in the classroom but can be actually experienced in the schools."

Banker Tells of Losing Bundle at Gin Rummy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A single evening of gin rummy at the Friars Club in Beverly Hills cost him $50,600, a real estate investment banker says.

Richard Corenson testified Wednesday at the conspiracy trial of five men accused of cheating by flashing signals from ceiling peepholes installed at the club and several hotels.

* * *

A defendant, Benjamin J. Teitelbaum, 53, won $30,000 in the game, but still has not cashed a $10,000 check, the banker testified. He said Irving Link, Teitelbaum's early partner, cashed checks for $7,600 and $13,000, although the second check, left blank, was to go to restaurateur Al Mathes.

Corenson said he and his partner, Joseph Benaron, who lost $3,345, had started the game on April 10, 1963, by winning rapidly.

A HEADACHE

"After approximately 45 minutes, Mr. Link developed a headache and Mr. Mathes took his place," Corenson related.

"Our luck reversed, and Mr. Benaron and I lost."

* * *

A prosecution witness, George E. Seach, testified he was at a ceiling peephole sending electronic signals to Mathes, who relayed them to Teitelbaum by kicking him under the table. But the signals were being relayed too slowly and Mathes took over the play, Seach said.

* * *

Millionaire shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, husband of actress Debbie Reynolds, testified he could have lost up to $200,000—the approximate amount of a fund he set aside for gin rummy losses.

PULLING OUT — A crane pulls a communications van from its bunker at Khe Sanh as U.S. forces shut down the base. Normally mounted on the back of a truck, the van was moved underground during a 77-day North Vietnamese siege of the Marine outpost early this year. The base had straddled a reported infiltration route near the Vietnam demilitarized zone but was abandoned as North Viet tactics changed.

U.N. Book Gives Facts on Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Soviet Union boosted its rate of production per person half again as much as the United States in a recent four-year period. Japan, Nationalist China, Bulgaria and Romania did better than both of them.

That was reported in the latest issue of the U.N. Statistical Yearbook, a 784-page compilation of figures supplied by more than 150 countries and territories and put in order by the Statistical Office here.

* * *

A comparative table showed that from 1963 to 1966, per capita product rose 14 per lent in the United States, 2 per cent in the Soviet Union, 27 per cent in Japan, 28 per cent each in Bulgaria and Chinese Nationalist Formosa, and 32 per cent in Romania.

The yearbook, dated 1967, pointed up three recent trends —more synthetic fibers for clothing, more electricity from nuclear reactors and more tourist travel everywhere.

OUTPUT RISES

Between 1963 and 1966, it showed, world output of the newer noncellulose synthetic filaments like nylon and orlon rose 85 per cent; output of the older cellulose filaments, rayon and acetate, rose 10 per cent, and industrial use of raw wool rose less than half of one per cent.

In 1958, the volume indicated, Britain, the United States and France produced 474 million kilowatt hours of electricity with nuclear reactors.

* * *

By 1966, 10 countries were producing an annual 32,935 million kilowatt hours of electricity that way.

Neither figure included nuclear energy in the Soviet Union, which wraps up its statistics on that in a general total on electricity from thermal plants, however fueled.

NUCLEAR FUEL

Of all the electricity produced with nuclear fuel in 1966, Britain turned out 21,009 million kilowatt hours, the United States 5,521 million, Italy 3,863 million, France 1,395 million, Japan 584 million, West Germany 265 million, Canada 161 million, East Germany 96 million, Sweden 36 million and Belgium 5 million.

The yearbook brought out that between 1963 and 1966, the number of tourists almost tripled in Portugal, Syria, Iraq, Iran and South Korea and more than doubled in Venezuela, Jamaica, Malta, Tunisia, Turkey and Kuwait.

* * *

In the same period, tourist visitors to Bulgaria rose 257 per cent, Hungary 174 per cent, Czechoslovakia 138 per cent, Yugoslavia 96 per cent, the Soviet Union 55 per cent and Poland 46 per cent.

But Canada, with a more modest percentage increase, still led the world in the number of tourists with 35,474,500 in 1966, compared with 31,947,100 in 1963.

U.S. LOW

Down the line were Spain with 13,835,300, Italy with 13.3 million, Franch with 11.8 million, Scandinavia with 10.58 million and the United States with 8,194,000.

World population was estimated at 3,353 billion in mid-1966. It was up about 5½ per cent from 1963, while 1966 world food production was up about 8 per cent from that year.

N.Y. Pet Dealer Reports Monkey Sales Are Booming

NEW YORK (AP) —"A monkey in every home" is Henry Trefflich's slogan.

It figures, since monkeys were the best-sellers among the 25,000 animals, birds and reptiles Trefflich sold from his downtown Manhattan shop last year.

* * *

"The monkeys sell for anywhere from $35 and up," Trefflich said. "I sell a lot of them to private homes. Some people like to dress them up like children.

"But it's not just monkeys. You'd be surprised how many private people buy my animals. It's unbelievable. I sell lion and tiger cubs to private homes every day of the week."

TIGERS COST MORE

A lion cub costs about $450. Tigers are rarer, so they cost from $1,500 to $2,000.

Trefflich, who says he handles "anything from a hamster, $2.50, to an elephant, $3,500," deals with zoos as well as individual customers, and he's planning on expanding his single store into a nationwide franchised chain.

* * *

His plans reflect the optimism of the nation's pet industry, whose volue is estimated to have more than doubled since first becoming a billion-dollar industry in 1962.

Edward Silverberg, vice president of Puppy Palace Enterprises, Inc., Philadelphia, said his firm, which sells pure-bred pups and accessories for them, currently had about 30 outlets in operation and "we hope to have 72 around the country by the end of the year."

Milan J. Greer, who recently sold the 9,000th kitten from his Fabulous Felines shop in mid-town Manhattan, said "our business is fantastic and it keeps on increasing."

Industry sources estimate the nation's current pet population at 33 million cats, 31 million dogs, 20 million birds, and 650 million fish.

The amount Americans can spend on buying a pet varies widely.

Greer, who sells only pedigree cats, offers a range of $75 for a Persian to $500 for a snow Abyssinian. He sold 976 kittens in 1967.

PRICE FOR PUPS

Puppy Palace's pups range from $75 for a toy fox terrior to $500 for an old English sheepdog. The firm offers 23 different breeds, with poodles the best seller. They range from $150 to $300.

A spokesman for Cats Magazine estimated Americans, who spent $200 million to feed kitty in 1967, will spend $250 million this year as well as another $200 million on cat toys, litter and trips to the veterinarian.

An investigation by Chase Manhattan Bank economists showed "puppy love costs Americans $3 billion per year," with $550 million alone going for processed dog food and another $450 million for dog items such as collars, sweaters, and shoes.

Ben Richter Co., a New York-based wholesaler of cat and dog furnishings, offers such items as dog wigs for $10, a dog dinner jacket for $20, and perfume at $2.50.

Named to Board

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney has announced two reappointments to the State Board of Boiler Rules. Renamed were Leo J. Brannick, 41, of Jackson, and William A. Wrase, 46, of Muskegon. The reappointments are subject to Senate confirmation.

Junior Year Abroad Has Impact on U.S. Students

By Gilbert Youth Service

What impact does the junior year of study abroad have on students?

Richard T. Stavig, director of the Kalamazoo Foreign Study Program, reports there are both direct and indirect benefits.

* * *

"One of the most exciting things that happens," says Stavig, "is the self-discovery these students make. There aren't traditional campus activities to escape to.

"Faced with another culture, and having to depend on themselves for social relationships in a foreign land, the students begin to find out what makes them tick.

DIRECTION CHANGE

"This may mean they will change career directions. Many shift majors so they can have the experience of going abroad again, of working with the Peace Corps or another agency overseas.

"In a foreign environment, the students come to grips with what's essential and what isn't, of the values with which they have been brought up which may not now be meaningful."

* * *

Originally the junior year abroad was intended for the language student.

Now Stavig finds majors of all types interested in learning about the economics, culture, art and history of a given country.

Perforce they must learn the language, but it becomes a means, not an end to itself.

At Kalamazoo College, the first to offer a formal study program in Sierra Leone, Kenya and Portugal, over 90 per cent of the student body goes abroad.

The Gourmet Adventures of Jayson's

Dancers, like actors, are full of superstitions, and these extend from the bath to the stage to the kitchen. The question is whether or not to eat before a performance! Some dancers advocate a hearty meal, but most wouldn't dream of eating. They all have their own special formula for quick energy and have devised some ingenious snacks before dancing. Alexandra Danilova, formerly prima ballerina of the Ballets Russes, used to stir up two raw eggs in a cup of bouillon before performing. Edward Villella partakes of honey in the dressing room because he says, it "enters the bloodstream in two minutes" and therefore is fast energy.

Need Nine-Run Inning

Tiger Homers Pace 13-10 Win

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's hardhitting Tigers staged their own Fourth of July type fireworks yesterday as they hit a club record-tying six home runs while outlasting the California Angels 13-10.

The Tiger onslaught included three homers hit in a nine-run second inning, biggest out burst this season by the American League leaders.

* * *

Both teams had their hitting shoes on, with 11 pitchers being cuffed about in the free-swinging affair that saw the Angels belt three circuit clouts of their own.

Norm Cash and Jim Northrup each hit a pair of home runs, with Willie Horton and Bill Freehan also hitting for the distance for the Tigers. Don Mincher hit a pair for the Angels and Jim Fregosi added another.

FOUR STRAIGHT

The Tigers, whose hitting outburst enabled them to sweep a four-game series from the Angels, hoped for more of the same tonight as they take on Oakland in the opener of a four game series. Mickey Lolich (6-4) has the call for Detroit with Jim Hunter (8-5) due to work for Oakland.

Detroit, which won the opening three games in pitching duels, unleashed its most devastating attack yesterday as it kept its American League lead intact, 8½ games ahead of second-place Cleveland.

* * *

Bill Rigney's California club, which had a rough time getting base hits in the opening three games, set the tempo for the holiday clash as it picked up four quick runs in the second inning, sending Tiger starter Joe Sparma to an early shower for the 10th game in a row.

The Tigers sent 14 men to bat in the big second inning, with Angels starting pitcher Sammy Ellis needing help from four relief pitchers before the uprising was put down.

SEASON HIGH

Freehan, Cash and Horton all hit for the distance in the big second. The nine-run outburst was a high for the season, topping the eight runs the Tigers banged across April 16 in the fourth inning of a game with the Red Sox.

The slugging tempo did not ease off, as Cash and Northrup hit back-to-back homers in the sixth inning while Northrup added another in the eighth.

Detroit needed all its runs, for California, down 9-4 in the third, kept battling back. The Angels' last threat came in the ninth when Ed Kirkpatrick singled and scampered home on Fregosi's home run blast that ran his hitting streak to 14 games and made it a 13-10 game.

John Hiller, fifth Tiger pitcher of the day, was rushed in and got the next three men to save the win for Dennis Ribant 2-1 who worked only two thirds of an inning. Tom Burgmeier 1-3 took the loss, although facing just one hitter.

The six home runs that sailed out of Tiger stadium tied a club record, set in 1937 against St. Louis Browns and again in 1954 against the Philadelphia Athletics.

TRIPLE GIVES TIGERS LEAD—Jim Northrup (center) arrives at third base as the ball (left) bounces away from California third sacker Woodie Held during Detroit's season-high nine-run second inning yesterday at Tiger Stadium. Northrup tripled to deep right-center field to drive in two of his five runs for the game and put the Tigers ahead, 6-4. It came on the first pitch after Dick McAuliffe stole third base while pitcher Marty Pattin held the ball. The Angels began the wild inning with a 4-0 lead, but ended up 13-10 losers.

Swinging Big Sticks on Warwick Links

By FLETCHER SPEARS

GRAND BLANC — A couple of veterans who have made little noise on the circuit touched off the fireworks here yesterday in the opening round of the $125,000 11th annual Buick Open.

Swinging the big sticks on the first tour of the 7,001-yard Warwick Hills course were Californians Butch Baird of Carlton Oaks and Rod Funseth of San Jose with four-under-par 68s.

That twosome led a par-busting assault on the Warwick layout that saw 25 players crack par-72 and another 11 equal it.

A shot behind the leaders was the foursome of Marty Fleckman, 24, who turned pro last year after a brilliant amateur career; Rod Horn of Kansas, a newcomer to the tour; veteran Don Fairfield of California; and Harold Henning of Johannesburg, South Africa.

* * *

And among a bunch at two-under-70 were defending champion Julius Boros, 48, of Mid Pines, N.C., and that talkative Mexican American Lee Tevino, 28, winner of the U.S. Open title, who is playing the Warwick Hills course for the first time.

NEITHER SPECTACULAR

Funseth is 35, Baird is 31 and neither is among the first 60 names on the PGA 1968 money list. This year, Funseth has collected a little over $13,000 while Baird hes picked up just slightly more than $4,000.

* * *

Of course, past records don't count here, so both are in line for what could be their richest payday on the tour. First prize in the tournament is $25,000, plus the use of a new automobile for five years.

WITH SNEAD

"I normally don't play well here," Funseth said of Warwick after finishing his round. "But I was playing with Sam Snead (76) and I had to look halfway decent . . . it helped being paired with him.

* * *

"I've been in a bad mood since I got here because I usually don't play well on this course . . . it's just not my type of course. But when you are putting it helps your whole game."

Funseth had five birdies on putts ranging from 25 feet to 18 inches and collected his lone bogey at No. 11 when his ball landed in a bunker.

MAKES CORRECTION

Baird, who said he has played better the last month after making a slight correction in his grip, had a 67 in sight but bogeyed the final hole.

Old Playing Style Yields Sub-Par 70

GRAND BLANC — "I'm hitting it terribly and I'm really thinking of quitting for awhile," said Dave Hill of Jackson following his two-under-par 70 here yesterday in the opening round of the $125,000 Buick Open.

"It's embarrassing the way I've been hitting," he said while discussing the sub-par round that placed him only two shots back of the coleaders — Butch Baird and Rod Funseth, both of California.

"I haven't been playing well since 1962," said Hill, who now plays out of Jackson Country Club. His brother, Mike, carded a 75 yesterday.

SOMETHING GOING

"But just maybe I have something going here," Davey continued. "I'm going back to my old way of playing . . . at least I think that's what I'm doing. I just spread my feet a little further apart and swing."

* * *

While the 31-year-old Hill admitted to just "three bad shots" in the round of 70, several other Michigan players were having more difficulty with the Warwick Hills course.

Santiago Sidelined From All-Star Tilt

BOSTON (UPI) — Jose Santiago, looking forward to pitching in his first All-Star game, will be able to only watch it instead.

He's developed a sore elbow and will be replaced by teammate Gary Bell.

Red Sox Manager Dick Williams, who will also manage the American League All-Star squad in Houston's Astrodome Tuesday night, removed Santiago from the game Thursday because of Jose's ailment.

Pontiac Press Photo by Ron Unternahrer

Sets Firecracker 400 Record

Cale Yarborough Enjoys Fast Living

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — For William Caleb Yarborough speed is a way of life— the normal, slow way of doing things just doesn't agree with this son of a South Carolina tobacco farmer.

Yarborough—just "Cale" to fans of late model stock car racing—fractured the auto racing record book Thursday when he breezed to a 167.247 miles an hour victory in an accident-free Firecracker 400.

* * *

That's about 14 miles an hour faster than it has ever been done before and eclipses all-time race records at Daytona and even Indianapolis.

Cale's reaction? A smile on his boyish face and a prediction that he'll snap the magic 190 m.p.h. mark in qualifying here next February if the rules aren't changed on him.

But it is not just at the wheel of his Mercury—which easily outpaces the two-engine plane Cale pilots—that Cale Yarborough dwells on speed.

The 29-year-old has a young dry cleaning business. Even that sideline business pushes speed under the name "60-Minute Dry Cleaners."

His pit crew fills the 22-gallon gas tank and changes two tires in about 18 seconds, fast enough for Cale to turn the trick Thursday four times without giving away a lead or a lap. He was out front for 142 of the 160 laps. He has 1968 winnings of $96,781.

* * *

Despite his 5-foot-7, 215-pound build, Cale also is fast on his feet. In high school back in his home town of Timmonsville, S.C., Cale was an all state fullback and went on to play semipro ball.

If being first has become a habit for Cale, being second is becoming almost as much of a habit for Lee Roy Yarbrough of Columbia, S.C.—no relation but driver of a Mercury that is twin to Cale's.

Le Roy was second at the Daytona 500 in February, the Atlanta 500 in April and again Thursday in the Firecracker 400 which Cale called "the easiest big race I've ever won."

Yarbrough was two laps back at the Firecracker finish but still captured $8,595 for his trouble.

The Yarborough-Yarbrough Mercurys continued Ford Motor Co.'s domination over the Plymouth-Dodge entries although each side on the corporate battle took five slots in the top 10.

Mercurys were one-two with David Pearson of Spartanburg, S.C., in a Ford finishing third.

Lack of Hitting Evident

Aaron Living Up to Statement

By The Associated Press

The All-Star voters, Hank Aaron said about his selection to the National League team, must have voted the first day of the season.

Aaron showed again Thursday why he made that quip.

* * *

Atlanta's erstwhile batting terror grounded into double plays his last two times at bat as the San Francisco Giants trimmed the Braves 6-4 and tied them for second place.

Aaron's lack of hitting has been evident all season. True, he has hit 15 home runs, second best in the league, and driven in 43 runs, sixth in the NL.

But a large portion of those RBI has not significantly aided the Atlanta attack, and he's hitting an incredibly low .231. That compares with his .316 lifetime average, tops among active players.

STARTING LINE-UP

Still his fellow players voted him into the starting line-up for the All-Star game in Houston next Tuesday.

Against the Giants Thursday, the 34-year-old Aaron singled in the fifth inning, stole second and scored on Joe Torre's single. But it was a different story each of the other four times he batted, especially the last two.

Coming to the plate in the seventh with Felipe Alou at first base, and the game tied 4-4, Aaron grounded a Frank Linzy pitch to shortstop Hal Lanier, who promptly turned it into a double play.

BASES LOADED

By the ninth inning the Braves were trailing 6-4, but they rallied and loaded the bases with one out on a walk to Mike Page and singles by Alou and Clete Boyer.

Up stepped Aaron needing only a single to tie the game. Instead he bounced back to Linzy, who flipped to Dick Dietz at the plate for one out, and Dietz fired to first for the final out.

In other NL games, St. Louis edged Los Angeles 3-2, Pittsburgh nipped New York 3-2 before losing 4-3, Philadelphia downed Chicago 7-4 after losing 6-2 and Cincinnati defeated Houston 7-4.

* * *

Mike Shannon's two-run homer in the eighth broke a 1-1 tie and sent the league-leading Cardinals to their fourth straight victory over Los Angeles. Len Gabrielson made it close for the Dodgers with a homer in the bottom of the inning.

Eighth-inning doubles by Donn Clendenon and Bill Mazeroski carried Pittsburgh past New York in the first game and handed Jerry Koosman his fourth loss against 11 victories. Koosman drove in one of the Mets' runs with a single. Maury Wills stole three bases for the Pirates in the game.

The Mets came back in the nightcap behind Don Bosch, who socked a two-run homer in the third, then doubled and scored in the fifth, Cleon Jones added a homer for the Mets.

'Fuzzy' Thurston Quits Pro Football

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Fred "Fuzzy" Thurston, believed to have played on more National Football League championship teams than any other man, announced his retirement from the Green Bay Packers Thursday.

Thurston, a 33-year-old offensive guard, said the "hardest part of this decision, of course, will be missing my first training camp in 13 years as a professional football player."

Pros Feel Wimbledon Prizes Thin

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The professional tennis stars, only partly successful at the first-ever open Wimbledon, may press for bigger prize money next year.

George MacCall, the promoter who runs the National Tennis League, said its organization would have lost $20,000 by entering its stars in the Wimbledon tournament — even if they had cleaned up all the prize money.

* * *

One of MacCall's stars, Australian Rod Laver, plays in today's final. None of the other five reached the quarter-finals.

MacCall said: "We have to support Wimbledon, which is a symbol of world tennis. But we can't go on supporting Wimbledon at a loss."

MacCall reportedly has suggested that next year prize money should be distributed among professionals—and registered amateurs playing for prize money—according to the order in which they finish. At present, if an amateur wins the prize money goes back into the kitty.

LESS THAN HALF

The All-England Club, which runs the Wimbledon tournament, offered $62,400 in prize money altogether. At present, it looks as if almost half of it will not be paid out because amateurs did better than many of the pros.

In today's men's singles final Laver faced Tony Roche, another Australian who is a member of the rival "Handsome Eight" troupe. They are battling for a first prize of $4,800 with $3,120 going to the runnerup.

* * *

The two defeated semifinalists were American amateurs—Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Clark Graebner of New York—so the tournament officials saved a total of $3,600 there.

There's also a 50-50 chance that the women's first prize of $1,800 will go back into the pot. The final will be played Sunday between the defending champion, Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., who is under contract to MacCall and is going for the prize, and Australian amateur Judy Tegart, who is competing for expenses only.

* * *

Mrs. King overcame her old professional rival, Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain, 4-6, 7-5, 6-2 Thursday.

Miss Tegart upset United States Wightman Cup star Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex. 6-3, 6-1.

SF 49ers Trade Monty Stickles, May Lose Parks

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League have traded veteran tight end Monty Stickles to New Orleans and may lose former star pass catcher Dave Parks to the same club.

* * *

Genral Manager Jack White confirmed today that Stickles has been traded to the Saints, but declined to say for whom. The Saints are to report that.

Saint quarterback Bill Killmer, a former 49er, said his club is dickering with Parks, who played out his option with the 49ers last season and is a free agent.

The 49ers still are negotiating with Parks, who has said he would sign for the best offer.

Great Lakes Drag Scheduled at Ubly

Ubly Dragway Saturday and Sunday will be host to the Great Lakes Championship Drag Races for the fifth year in a row.

More than 300 leading drag strip machines will compete for the purse in excess of $10,000. More than 10,000 persons are expected at Ubly for the annual weekend.

* * *

Time trials will commence at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow and the first round of eliminations will start at 8:30 p.m. Qualifying and time trials will resume 10 a.m. Sunday and the finals are set for 1:30 p.m.

Deadline Nears for Net Tourney

Despite a strong early surge of entries, officials of the ninth annual Oakland County Open Tennis Tournament are hoping for a late rush of applications before the 4 p.m. Wednesday deadline.

* * *

None of the defending champions has submitted an entry. Play will begin next Friday night and continue Saturday and Sunday, plus the following weekend.

Oakland University's courts are reported ready to offer fine playing conditions for the prep boys (17 and under), senior men (35-and-over) and men's combatants.

DOUBLES PLAY

In addition to singles for each age level, there are also junior doubles and men's doubles. The entry fee is 50 cents per individual per event.

In addition, contestants must provide two new tennis balls for each event up to the semifinals. Some will be on sale at the courts.

All entries must be submitted (or postmarked) by 4 p.m. Wednesday to The Press sports department or the cosponsoring Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department office at City Hall.

Funseth, Baird Lead Tourney

He played the back nine first, picking up birdie putts on 11, 13 and 16 to go three under. Then on the front nine, he banged home an 11-footer for a bird on the first hole and a 10-footer at No. 3 to go five under.

* * *

Needing only a 7-iron shot to the green and two putts for a par on No. 9, Baird's shot hit the tree guarding the right side of the green. It fell down two feet off the putting surface. He chipped up and two-putted for a bogey.

"I hit it bad," said Baird of the 7-iron approach. "It was the worst shot I hit all day."

BOROS 'BETTER'

Boros, who won last year with a 283, used 32 putts in carding his 70 and indicated he was playing better than he had been in the past six weeks.

* * *

The popular, smooth-swinging Boros picked up four birdies and a pair of bogeys. Both of the bogeys came after he strayed into some of the plentiful sand on the course.

In 15 tournaments this season, Boros has won $50,973, his best effort coming at Phoenix and the Tournament of Champions where he took second.

* * *

Fleckman also missed a chance to tie for the lead when he three-putted the 18th for a 69. His only other bogey, at No. 9 was the result of a three-putt effort.

Second round of the tourney was slated today, with the low 70 plus those within 10 shots of the leader playing the final 36 holes.

Putter, Wedge Earn 1st Win at Idyl Wyld

Mrs. David Mortimer used her wedge and putter to have a strong start and posted her first win of the season Wednesday during the Women's Metropolitan Golf Outing at Idyl Wyld Golf Course.

Playing the back nine first, the Birmingham woman shook off a penalty shot on the 11th hole when her ball went in the water to edge Mrs. Midge Cova of Novi by one stroke.

* * *

They were the only two members to break 90 on the unusually high-scoring day. Mrs. Mortimer chipped very well on the back nine to go out with a 43, and needed only 14 putts all day for an 88 over-all.

The WMGA members will try Arrowhead Golf Course next week.

TEEING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

GRAND BLANC—For the past four years, no one would have dared suggest that the tournament record set by Old Folks Julius Boros in the Buick Open could be broken.

Ol' Julie set the 72-hole mark of 274—a blistering 14-under-par for the Warwick Hills Country Club —while he was winning his first Buick crown in 1963.

And the only person to come anywhere near that mark was the late Tony Lema, who turned in a 277 while taking the 1964 crown.

All records fall, sooner or later, and this just might be the year Julie's mark bites the dust.

TWO REASONS

There are a couple of reasons for suggesting that a record score is likely. One is the new look of Warwick, and two, the skill the pros possess as they do battle here for $125,000 in prize money.

* * *

The change in the course that could make a record effort easier is that the greens are now larger, making it a layout for the good putters and there are a number of them moving about on the pro golf circuit.

Pontiac's Gene Bone, now head pro at Bay Pointe Golf Club near Walled Lake, is a former head pro at Warwick and he mentioned the larger greens after a practice tour of the course on Monday. He noted at that time the good putters could score.

And so it is. When Butch Baird and Ron Funseth, neither of whom has performed any startling feat on the tour, carded four-under-par 68s yesterday, each needed only 28 putts.

Although they've chopped more than 200 yards off the course since Julie set his record, it's still a long walk, measuring 7,001 yards.

TIGHT IN SPOTS

And the course is still tight in spots and demanding. But the greens are larger, giving the players an easier target. The results of the first round would indicate the course is playing much easier.

For the first round, 25 players were under par. Last year with the revamping of the course just about half done, only seven were under par.

So the move for a record score is not unlikely. Granted, it'll take some classic play on the part of the Bairds and Funseths. There are a number of good putters in the tournament and it wouldn't be too surprising if Ol' Julie himself were in there making a run at his own record come Sunday. He shot a 70 yesterday. When he set the 274 mark, he turned in rounds of 66, 71, 68 and 69.

DIFFERENT LOOK

Lee Trevino, the 28-year-old U.S. Open champion, likes to laugh and gag it up with the golf fans but he has a serious side, too, and he showed it in the first round of the Buick event yesterday.

"I didn't joke much with the crowd today," he said after the round. "I usually gauge how much of that I do by the playing partners I have. Johnny Pott and Bruce Crampton were playing with me today and they take their game seriously so I didn't clown around. I have two sides to my nature and I can be serious."

Baltimore Slips By Chisox

Wild Pitch Gives Cleveland Triumph

By The Associated Press

A wild pitch by reliever Al Worthington let in the winning run for the Cleveland Indians Thursday as they beat the Minnesota Twins 6-5 with a four-run eighth inning burst.

* * *

Worthington's wild pitch was his first offering after relieving Ron Perranoski with the score tied 3-3 and the bases loaded. The batter, Joe Azcue, then doubled to add two more runs to Cleveland's margin.

* * *

Going into the eighth, Dean Chance had a 3-2 lead and had given up only three hits. Vern Fuller and Lee Maye singled to start the rally, and Russ Snyder singled home the tying run and brought Perranoski to the mound. Max Alvis fanned, and a wild pitch by Perranoski advanced both runners, leading to an intentional to Lou Johnson to fill the bases.

In came Worthington for the costly wild pitch.

* * *

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings, Boston defeated Oakland 7-2 and Washington whipped New York 4-2.

PAIR OF HOMERS

Brooks Robinson tagged a pair of homers for the Orioles but Baltimore didn't beat the White Sox until the 12th when Fred Valentine led off with a triple and then strolled home following two intentional walks and one unintentional one.

Chicago had tied the game with two out in the ninth and Pete Ward on first when Bill Voss was hit in the head by a pitch and Duane Josephson followed with a double. Voss suffered a fractured right cheekbone.

* * *

Chicago Manager Eddie Stanky ordered Mark Belanger and Dave Johnson intentionally walked following Valentine's triple in the 12th. Then Don Buford drew the third walk that forced Valentine home.

Ed Stroud slashed two doubles and two triples and scored twice, leading Washington past the Yankees. The four hits gave Stroud 11 hits in 21 at bats against the Yankees this season.

STARTS RALLIES

Stroud's first double set up Washington's first run and his second two-bagger touched off a two-run Senator rally in the sixth. He tripled and scored on Cap Peterson's single in the eighth.

Reliever Juan Pizarro drove in two runs and pitched one-hit ball for 6 2-3 innings, striking out seven, helping the Red Sox whip Oakland. Pizarro took over in the third for Jose Santiago, whose sore elbow forced him to retire. Santiago has been replaced on the All-Star team by Boston teammate Gary Bell.

Sandy Places Not Dandy for Pontiac's Gene Bone

Pontiac's Gene Bone checked in with an 81, closing out his round with a bogey-5 after rapping his approach shot into a trap on the left side of the green.

SANDY PROBLEMS

Sand bothered Bone all day, particularly the fairway bunkers. On the par-4, 398-yard No. 6, Gene was in two traps with bad lies in both. He wound up with a triple-bogey seven.

* * *

Bill Mattson, head pro at Shenandoah near Walled Lake, got a spot in the tournament when a touring pro pulled out and he came through with a 75.

Oakland Hills Mike Souchak, winner of the recent Michigan Section PGA championship, was five strokes off the pace at 73, while a host of state players were in the 74s.

Among the 74 shooters were Bill Bladorf of Grosse Ile, former Colorado PGA and Open champion; Walter Burkemo of Detroit Golf Club, former national PGA titlist; and Glenn Stuart of Grand Rapids.

Michigan's amateur champion Lynn Hanson, 20-year-old Michigan State University junior, didn't fare well. He was in with an 80 and with little hope of making the cut. The low 70 plus those within 10 shots of the leader will play the final 36 holes.

Young John Grace of Grosse Pointe, a student at University of Houston, led the amateur scorers with a 75 and he stands a good chance of making the cut today.

Jim St. Germain, a student at Eastern Michigan University, had a 79, and Peter Green, winner of the Michigan Medal Play and the Horton Smith Memorial this year, checked in with an 81.

Cowboy Gridders Open Against Nebraska

Wyoming Coach Hopes to Avoid Trap

LARAMIE, Wyo. (UPI) — Getting trapped by snow storms is getting to be a habit for Wyoming football Coach Lloyd Eaton, but in the heat of this summer, he has only one thing on his mind—whipping his old boss on the football field next fall.

Eaton's Cowboys Sept. 14 will meet neighboring Nebraska, led by former Wyoming Coach Bob Devaney. Eaton apprenticed as a defensive specialist under Devaney at Laramie from 1957 to 1961 before taking over and building the best six-year record in the school's history.

* * *

The coach, who led Wyoming to a 10-1 record and a Sugar Bowl bid in 1967, has come up with a 43-37—2 record since 1962, topping Devaney's five-year Cowboy record of 35-10—5.

Eaton likes to take advantage of the outdoor opportunities offered by his adopted state, but at times Wyoming weather has not been as friendly as its people.

Two years ago, Eaton still was not in Laramie the day before fall practice began. He was fishing in the 12,000-foot snowy mountain range when a blizzard struck, delaying him.

Eaton made it back for practice that time, but he wasn't so lucky this spring.

He was stranded for 24 hours in a blizzard that piled 20-foot snowdrifts on the road between Thermopolis, Wyo., and Laramie. But the unshakable coach kept cool and said he passed the long hours working on plays.

Wyoming's opener this fall at Nebraska will be the first meeting of the two schools in 34 years and in addition to the teacher-pupil match, Wyomingites hope to prove to their neighbors their state has big-time football too.

GRID BLIZZARD

The meeting in 1934 turned out to be a Wyoming disaster with the Cornhuskers taking a 40-0 win.

The soft-spoken Eaton, 50, came to Wyoming under Devaney from Northern Michigan College where his team ran up a 7-0-1 record in 1956.

Previously, the Belle Fourche, S. D., native led Alma College to a 40-20-2 record from 1949 to 1955.

First-Place Bengals Build Beautiful Black-Blue Bulge

NEW YORK (NEA) — A baseball manager once said that when you're in first place, hamburger tastes like caviar and your life looks like Gina Lollobrigida. Caviar and Gina are very big in Detroit this season.

The Tigers, which came within one game of hoisting the American League pennant last year, are showing a disdain for drama by attempting a wire-to-wire race. They have built their lead by avoiding losing streaks of more than three games.

One-third of their wins have come when the club was tied or trailing in the seventh inning or later. And in nearly all of their one-run victories, the winning score came on their final turn at bat.

TARGETS

It is understandable, then, that the team doing the most hitting is the one getting hit the most. Catcher Bill Freehan, the AL's top vote-getter for the All-Star game, has been nailed a dozen times.

Don Wert was hit five times before getting a trip to the hospital. Al Kaline suffered a broken arm when hit by a fast ball in a twinight game at Oakland several weeks ago.

* * *

"We had eight hit batsmen in a recent series with the White Sox," said manager Mayo Smith. "But that's what you expect when you're in first place. However, it's usually accidental.

"Some pitchers do throw at the batters and we can usually tell who they are. There's no doubt in mind that Wert was hit accidentally (by Hal Kurtz) at Cleveland. That kid was just wild, he'd been throwing them in the dirt.

TWILIGHT

"Kaline got hit because he just couldn't see the ball. It should be a crime to play those 6 p.m. games. Any pitcher that starts a twinight game should throw a perfect game."

But even the loss of Kaline hasn't slowed the Tigers. With Kaline back in action, having been moved to first base, the Tigers could clinch it in mid-August.

* * *

Kaline and his teammates will be the first to tell you it's the pitching that has made the real difference.

"Especially the relief work," says Al. "Late in the games last year it seemed like we were either way ahead or way behind. But this season, going into the late innings, if we're not ahead we're tied or only a run down.

"Even though I've gone several weeks without playing, I feel I'm still making a contribution to the team. I guess I could be down at the beach or someplace. I believe all the guys are confident; not overconfident but we're obviously in better shape than anyone else."

BULLPEN

John Hiller and Pat Dobson have been the heroes of the bullpen, backing up starters Denny McLain, Mickey Lolich, Joe Sparma and Earl Wilson.

McLain was the AL's first 10-game winner this year and won 15 of his first 19 starts. McLain also feels personally responsible for losing the pennant last season. He lost four starts in September because of two dislocated toes, the result of hopping off a couch at home after his foot had gone to sleep. He says he's positive he would have won at least one of them had that not happened.

* * *

But these are good times for the Tigers and last season's misfortunes are this year's laughs. "People said that I probably kicked a bar stool or something," says McLain.

NFL Has Off-On Player Strike

Decision Not Clear Until Camps Open

By the Associated Press

The strike—if there is one—of the National Football League Players Association now has reached the wait-and-see stage.

"Nobody is on strike now," veteran tackle Alex Karras said in Detroit.

"We won't know until Sunday when San Francisco goes into camp if there's a strike at all.

* * *

"All of the players will be on strike if there is no settlement before next week."

John Gordy, president of the Players Association, is maintaining official silence, but scores of players have said they received telegrams from him ordering them not to report until negotiations can be worked out with the owners.

The only official comment since the break-up of a meeting between player representatives and an owners group last weekend came from Art Modell, NFL president.

PENSION PLAN

He said the players had rejected the owners' offer, particularly in the area of improved pension benefits. They apparently agreed on most, if not all, other points.

San Francisco has the first camp opening (for rookies) Sunday. Rookies are not members of the Players Association.

International Race Loosens

Rochester Wins Two; Toledo Victorious

By United Press International

The Rochester Red Wings loosened up the tight International League race Thursday by sweeping a holiday doubleheader 5-2 and 3-1 from the Jacksonville Mets to take undisputed possession of first place.

In other action, Toledo blanked Louisville 5-0, Columbus split a twin bill with Buffalo, taking the first game 9-0 and losing the second 2-1 and Syracuse beat Richmond twice 8-3 and 4-3.

* * *

Toledo's Dick Drago pitched his second shutout of the year, both of them against the Colonels, as he upped his record to 9-4.

Kalamazoo Holds Big Advantage in Team Tennis

CHARLESTON, W. Va., (AP) Each team played six matches here today in the final round of the week-long National City Team Tennis Tournament.

Kalamazoo, Mich., went into the championships round virtually assured of the title after picking up two more victories in Fouth of July action to increase its points total to 30.

Washington, D.C., victim of both Kalamazoo sweeps, was in second place with 24 points, followed by Baltimore with 20, Chicago with 14, Cincinnati with 13 and Charleston with 12.

Mrs. Berning Fires 69

READING, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Susie Maxwell Berning had little chance to brag about the two-under-par 69 which gave her the lead after the first round of the 16th annual U.S. Women's Open Golf Championship.

Her husband of seven weeks quickly brought her out of the clouds by disclosing he had to stop playing golf with his bride because he consistently defeated her and deflated her ego.

* * *

Dale Berning is a 6-handicap golfer who is in the real estate development business in Nevada. He was a one-man gallery Thursday as his wife charged around the tough, 6,232-yard Moselem Springs Golf Club course to gain a one-stroke lead over four-time national champion Mickey Wright.

"We picked up a few people on the last six holes," said the 29-year-old Berning, "but most of the spectators appeared to be asking 'Who is Mrs. Berning?' and figuring she'd fold."

They apparently forgot that Mrs. Berning was the same Susie Maxwell who tied for second in last year's Open, two strokes behind winner Catherine Lacoste of France.

The 33-year-old Miss Wright, all-time leading money winner among distaff golfers, shot a 34-36—70 in her bid for an unprecedented fifth national title. She won in 1958, 1959, 1961 and 1964.

Another stroke back on the wings of a 36-35—71 round was Carol Mann, the leggy Towson, Md., lass who appears to have recovered from muscle spasms which hobbled her game.

Ruth Jessen, who has undergone three serious operations since 1963, carded a 35-37—72 and Marilynn Smith of Jupiter, Fla., a 37-35—72.

When an expert stops to think over a play of the hand you can be sure of two things. The first is that he has something to thing about, and the second is that he will probably solve his problem.

When an ordinary player stops to think you can be equally sure that he has something to think about but you can't always be sure he will solve his problem.

★ ★ ★

There is nothing wrong with the North-South bidding. South has almost enough to open with a forcing two bid and can certainly afford to go to a slam after North jumps to game.

The slam also is one that will make. Unless all three trumps show up in one hand there is no defense. Even with all trumps in one hand, South makes his contract if he guesses which opponent will hold the queen.

★ ★ ★

The play starts with West opening his ace of clubs and continuing the suit. South is in with the king and right here is where South should take a little time to decide whether to lead the ace or a low spade.

★ ★ ★

An expert would surely lead the ace of spades. He would note that West had a club suit headed by the ace but had not got into the bidding against vulnerable opponents.

That might indicate to some players that he did not also hold the queen of spades but to an expert it would indicate that West would be most unlikely to hold no spades at all. People try to get into the bidding when they are not vulnerable and when they think they don't have much defense.

The queen of an opponent's bid suit represents possible defense. No cards in an opponent's bid suit represents a possible cheap save.

Therefore the expert would lead his ace of spades at trick three and pick up the queen when East showed out.

♥♦CARD Sense♠♣

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
	1 ♣	Pass	1 ♥
Pass	1 ♠	Pass	3 ♦
Pass	4 ♣	Pass	?

You, South, hold:

♠A 4 ♥K Q 10 9 8 ♦K J 6 5 ♣K 8

What do you do now?

A—It looks as if your partner has some sort of black two suiter. Bid five clubs. He will go to six with good clubs and two aces.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of opening one club your partner opens one diamond. You hold the hand shown above. What do you do?

Condemnation Control
63031B (Sec. 3) 3rd
ORDER FOR HEARING ON PETITION
Court No. 68-46950
State of Michigan—In the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland.

In the matter of the petition of the Michigan State Highway Commission for condemnation of private property for highway purposes in Bloomfield Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

Present: Hon. Robert L. Templin, Circuit Judge.

The above matter having come before this Court upon the filing of a Petition by the Michigan State Highway Commission for the acquisition of certain property in connection with the relocating, establishing, opening and/or improving of Highway U.S. 24 in the Township of Bloomfield, Oakland County, Michigan, as a limited access highway, as more particularly described in said Petition, stating that the private property described in the Declaration of Taking is necessary to be taken for said public improvement and praying for a hearing thereon to determine several matters including the date upon which the petitioner may take possession of such private property and the date for the impaneling of a jury to determine the just compensation for the taking of such private property.

On motion of Richard L. Roberge, Assistant Attorney General,

It is Ordered that the description of the property and names of the parties in interest as set forth in the Declaration of Taking filed in this cause are incorporated by reference and made a part of this Order.

It is Further Ordered that service shall be made in accordance with the provisions of Act 295, Public Acts of 1964, as amended, on each person named in the Declaration of Taking as an interested person.

It is Further Ordered that as to those parcels where personal service cannot be made in accordance with the provisions of Act 295, Public Acts of 1964, as amended, a copy of this Order including a copy of the description of the property to be taken and the names of the persons having an interest in each such parcel shall be published in The Pontiac Press, a newspaper published and circulated in this County, once in each week for three weeks consecutively.

It is Further Ordered that on July 26, 1968, at 9:00 o'clock in the forenoon, there shall be a hearing in the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland, in the City of Pontiac, before the Honorable Robert L. Templin, Circuit Judge, for the following purposes:

1. To enter defaults on all parties in interest not appearing at said hearing and direct payment to them of the amount of the estimated just compensation as set forth in the Declaration of Taking filed in this court and cause;

2. To fix the date on which the petitioner may enter the property and take physical possession thereof;

3. To enter an order where requested by the parties in interest, for the payment of the estimated just compensation placed on deposit with the Treasurer of the State of Michigan;

4. To set a date certain for the impaneling of a jury and trial as to the parcels on which compensation is being contested.

ORDINANCE NO. 58
An Ordinance creating a system of public recreation and playgrounds and for the creation of a recreation board to administer the same.

THE CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF WATERFORD ORDAINS:

ARTICLE I General

Section 100. Short title.

This ordinance shall be known as the Recreation System Ordinance.

Section 101. Purpose:

This ordinance is hereby enacted in conformity with the provisions of Act 156 of Public Acts of 1917, as amended, for the purpose of providing public recreation facilities for the people of the Charter Township of Waterford.

ARTICLE II Recreation Board

Section 200. There is hereby created a Township Recreation Board consisting of seven (7) members, each of whom shall be appointed by the Township Board to serve until July 1, 1970. Each member thereafter appointed shall serve for a term of two (2) years.

Section 201. The term of any member appointed to the Township Board may, whenever the Board feels that such action is necessary in the best interest of the recreation system, be terminated at any time and the vacancies thus created shall be filled by a new appointment.

Section 202. The Township Board shall appoint one such member from the Board of Directors of the Community Activities Inc., a non-profit corporation of Waterford Township School Board; one member from the Township Board of the Charter Township of Waterford and the remaining four members shall be persons who are residents of the Township of Waterford.

Section 203. All members of the Recreation Board shall serve without remuneration.

Section 204. Any member so appointed to the Recreation Board shall serve until his or her successor is duly appointed by the Township Board.

ARTICLE III Recreation Directors and Assistants

Section 300. The Township Board may employ such director and such assistants as from time to time may, in the discretion of the Board, be necessary to conduct such recreation system, and effectuate the purpose of this ordinance.

ARTICLE IV Rules

Section 400. Rules and regulations governing operation of said system.

The Recreation Board shall, subject to the approval of the Township Board, adopt such rules, regulations and policies as may be necessary for the operation of such recreation system.

ARTICLE V Expenditure of Funds.

Section 500. The Recreation Board may expend such funds as are necessary for the operation of said recreational system, provided, however, that the Recreation Board shall not, at any time, obligate the Township or Waterford Township Schools in excess of the funds appropriated by the Township Board. All such expenditures shall be for recreational purposes and in accordance with the respective budget procedures of the Township.

ARTICLE VI Reports and budget requests.

Section 600. The Recreation Board shall prepare for the Township Board, an annual report of its activities.

Section 601. The Recreation Board shall, prior to August first of each year, submit to the Township Board, a proposed budget for the next ensuing year.

ARTICLE VII Repeal.

Section 700. Any ordinance, together with amendments thereto, heretofore enacted under Act 156 of Public Acts of 1917, as amended, is hereby repealed.

Section 701. Any and all resolutions of the Township Board heretofore passed in connection with Act 156 of Public Acts of 1917, are hereby rescinded.

Section 702. This ordinance effective upon publication.

By Order of the Township Board of the Charter Township of Waterford.

Introduced and published June 27, 1968.

SPRINGFIELD TOWNSHIP
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING
JULY 29, 1968

Springfield Township Hall, 650 Broadway, Davisburg, Michigan at 7:30 P.M., D.S.T., for amending Township Zoning Ordinance #4.

Definition—Lot (not in platted subdivision)

A lot is hereby defined as a parcel of property having frontage on a public street or on a public road to conform with the residential zoning within the district wherein said parcel is situated, or on a private road that conforms with the specifications and construction standards of the Oakland County Road Commission in effect at the time a building permit is sought. All private roads are to be held in fee simple or unrestricted easement by the person applying for a building permit over all that portion of said roadway that abuts the building lot and, in addition, every all that portion of said private roadway which extends into a public road from the lot for which a building permit is sought.

Pre-existing Non-conforming Parcels: Existing parcels of land which otherwise comply with this ordinance but have less than the required amount of road frontage as required above which were in existence prior to the effective date of Zoning Ordinance #4 will be permitted the use of said non-conforming road width for the purpose of erecting one (1) dwelling only on said parcel of land regardless of the size of said parcel. All non-conforming road frontages herein described must be recorded in the name of the lot-holder and the use of same for access to any other parcel by different owners will be considered a violation of this ordinance and building permits will not be issued.

All private roads shall from and after the effective date of this amendment to Springfield Township Zoning Ordinance #4 be of sufficient width and construction to conform to public road standards and specifications and the submission of any request for a building permit must be accompanied by a notarized certificate of a registered civil engineer attesting to the fact that said roadway or easement conforms in every respect to the standards set by the Oakland County Road Commission for a public road in this type use and purpose in effect at the time application for a building permit is made.

Notice Is Further Given that the tentative text and any maps of the Zoning Ordinance to be amended may be examined at the Springfield Township Clerk's Office, 650 Broadway, Davisburg, Michigan; during regular office hours each day Monday through Friday until the date of the Public Hearing.

Ocean Oddities . . .

Strange creatures living in the sea are under constant study by scientists striving to learn the secrets of life under water. These unusual examples were photographed at Miami's Seaquarium. The sting of the exotic lion fish (above) has been known to be fatal. The two-headed baby seahorse (center) was found in Biscayne Bay and reportedly was the first on record. It lived only a short time. Another shocker is the Portuguese man-of-war (right). It looks like a pretty purple bag floating on the ocean, but the long streamers dangling in the water can deliver a sting that is painful to swimmers and fatal to many small fish.

State Woman's Projects Benefit GIs

Thousands of Servicemen Won't Forget Jo

OWOSSO (AP) — Once you've met Miss Josephine McDonell, you're not apt to forget her. And a lot of GIs who have never met her won't either.

She's insistent about the single "n" in her last name and the use of the "Miss" with it.

Despite the fact that she's as proper as an old-line English aristocrat — which she is — you find it's easier to call her "Jo."

And "Jo" she is to thousands of soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines who have benefitted from this unusual woman's devotion to support of the armed forces by the folks at home in war and peace.

Her current and biggest project is financing free telephone calls home for low-ranking servicemen in Vietnam and Korea.

* * *

It's an outgrowth of a similar project she's sponsored annually at Christmastime. After the sharp escalation of the war in 1967, she turned it into a year-around project known as "Jo's Operation Telephone Home."

CONTRIBUTIONS

She receives funds from individuals and organizations from all over and makes them available to the military units to pay for the calls, which cost an average of $20 for five minutes on commercial lines.

Where commercial lines aren't available, the military shortwave system is used to get the call to U.S. soil, usually at a West Coast military station, and Jo's Operation picks up the tab from there to the GI's home.

Recipients of the calls are chosen by lot within their unit, or selected in case of a family tragedy or birth of a child.

Jo, who's proud of her 67 years, her outsized hats and her brilliant attire, pays all the administrative costs of her fund herself.

She works closely with the military to make sure her campaign satisfies all regulations. She receives gifts of $5 or more at her Owosso Hotel suite.

She's earned a roomful of citations and plaques for her service. The most recent is from men abroad the USS Ticonteroga, an aircraft carrier. The men call themselves "Tico Tigers" and dubbed her an honorary "Tico Tigress."

Termites Don't Worry Governor

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Gov. Samuel Shapiro of Illinois said recently during a trip here that he wasn't particularly concerned about the termites in his state's century-old executive mansion in Springfield.

"I learned recently that termites are considered as delicacies in Rhodesia," Shapiro told newsmen. "We may have a good thing going."

Grant for Aged

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Economic Opportunity has awarded a $31,000 grant to the Gogebic-Ontonagon Community Action Agency in Bessemer. The grant is to aid services for the aged.

Cash for Library

Post Office Ups Mailing Weight Limit

Mailers now are able to send 30-pound parcels between first-class post offices 150 miles or more apart, according to the Post Office. The weight limit had been 25 pounds.

* * *

This is the second of five increases in size and weight limits for parcels. They take effect annually until 1971, when a 40 pound, 84-inch maximum size will be authorized between all first class post offices. The size limit is now 72 inches in combined girth and length.

* * *

The next increase, next July 1, will raise the weight limit from 30 to 40 pounds. On July, 1970, the size will be increased to 78 inches and on July 1, 1971, the size is scheduled to be increased 84 inches.

Parcels weighing up to 40 pounds can be mailed between first class post offices less than 150 miles apart.

* * *

Packages addressed to or from second, third, and fourth class post offices, overseas APOs and FPOs, of Alaska and Hawaii are not affected by the increase in size and weight provisions of the Public Law 89-593, which became effective Jan. 15, 1967.

Parcel post mailings to and from these offices remain at 70 pounds and 100 inches.

A Look at TV

Fall Lineup Foreboding

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Proof that regular television series are mere filler is found in next season's three-network schedule. Only 20 new series will be attempted by the major broadcasting organization, most of them the usual run-of-the-mill stuff. More and more energy is being directed, instead, at future and fresher forms of television.

* * *

Well, that's the optimistic way of looking at it. Until the inspiration for these newer forms finds full flower, we must steel ourselves over the summer for the annual fall deluge. Here are some of the new series we can expect:

- The Phyllis Diller show. Weekly hour of variety.
- "Julia." Diahann Caroll as a young widow, a registered nurse in the health office of an industrial corporation. She has a 6-year-old son. Half-hour.
- "The Name of the Game." 90 minute series revolving around the activities of a vast publishing empire. With Robert Stack, Anthony Franciosa, Gene Barry.
- "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir." Half-hour comedy about a young widow's adventures with her children and housekeeper in a home still inhabited by the spirit of its former owner, a formidable clipper ship captain. With Hope Lange and Edward Mulhare.
- "Land of the Giants." Hour program about space travelers who are suddenly flung into a land in which everything is mammoth in size and they are tiny.
- "The Outcasts." Story of the relationship of two men, one white and a former Virginia aristocrat, the other a black ex-slave who becomes a bounty hunter, in the West following the war between North and South. One hour weekly, with Don Murray and Otis Young.
- "The Mod Squad." Three young people, working for the police, penetrate the world of crime effectively because of their knowledge of the contemporary turned-on scene. One hour.
- "That's Life." Robert Morse in a musical comedy series tracing the lives of a young couple from courtship to wedding to honeymoon and the first married years. One hour.
- The Don Rickles Show. The noted insult comedian brings his brand of humor to a game show with celebrities, of which he is host. Half-hour.

French Trade Moves Will Be Scrutinized

GENEVA (AP) — The council of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade—GATT—set up today a 21-nation working party to examine restrictive trade measures taken by France. It is to meet here Thursday and make its first report July 19.

A final communique did not condemn French action but, apparently at the insistence of the United States, spelled out that this decision in no way affects the individual rights of GATT member nations to take countermeasures.

* * *

The compromise text was generally regarded as favorable to France. It acknowledged the French argument that it was "a unique complex of circumstances which led the government of France to introduce the measures, including the long stop in production in May and June and the immediate and considerable increase in the production costs of enterprises."

But it also termed "regressive" some of the measures, referring to the 6 per cent rebate to exporters—against GATT rules.

VERBAL PROMISES

The council put on paper verbal French promises that import quotas will cease by Dec. 31 at the latest, and the export subsidies by Jan. 31, 1969, "other than on agricultural and energy products."

The United States originally wanted the communique to spell out that France had violated GATT rules. But Ambassador Philip H. Tresize waived this demand in return for the final sentence of the text "declaring that nothing in the decision affects the rights of contracting parties under the general agreement."

This means the United States still could retaliate unilaterally against the French measures.

The communique acknowledged that the French measures "will be applied without discrimination." Heinz Dittmann, assistant secretary-general of GATT, praised the "responsible cooperation of the French government".

'NO RETALIATION'

He added that he was confident that there will be "no retaliation right now" by other GATT members.

But he stressed that the council has had to act swiftly for fear of a possible chain reaction to the French measures.

* * *

He also said the French crisis "does not set a precedent." He said this was made clear so that the world did not get the idea that every time a country was faced with internal upheaval it could automatically impose trade restrictions.

In Brussels, sources said France will be authorized today to restrict its steel imports from other member countries of the European Common Market until Jan. 1, 1969.

MUCH GRUMBLING

Despite a great deal of grumbling by the partners and the six countries, industries, the Market executive commission's final decision will not be changed, the sources said.

College-Donor Bill Now Law

State Taxpayers May Deduct Contributions

LANSING (AP)— A measure allowing Michigan taxpayers to lower their state income tax bills by contributing to colleges and universities has become law without Gov. George Romney's signature, the executive office said today.

It allows individual taxpayers a credit of half the amount contributed, providing the credit does not exceed $100 or 20 per cent of the tax due, whichever is less.

* * *

The limit on the credit of a corporation or financial institution is 10 per cent of the year's liability or $5,000, whichever is less.

Romney said he had mixed feelings about the bill, favoring it as an incentive for private aid to public and private institutions of higher learning, but opposing it as an "erosion" of the state's tax base.

'NOT PRECEDENT'

"On balance," Romney said, "I have concluded that the desirable public purposes which will serve by permitting this bill to become law outweigh its disadvantages.

"By withholding my signature, however, I wish to make it completely clear that I do not regard this measure as a precedent for further erosions of Michigan's state income tax base," he added.

* * *

He said it was too early to tell how much revenue the new law will cost the state. He added that if contributions "do not substantially exceed deductions, then this provision should be repealed."

Also permitted to become law without Romney's signature was a measure authorizing the State Department of Conservation to condemn property on behalf of iron mining firms for processing low-grade ore.

REQUIRED PURCHASES

The iron firm would be required to purchase at least 75 per cent of the needed land, and land in cities and villages would be exempt from the condemnation provisions.

A firm would have to demonstrate that the land was needed for water supply areas, settling ponds or basins in order to prevent water pollution.

* * *

"Unless some type of relief is granted," Romney said, "we may be faced with the alternatives of either more pollution or a reduction of expansion of the low-grade mining industry which has contributed much in recent years to the economic rebirth of the Upper Peninsula."

War Claims Kin of Westmoreland

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — The Fayetteville Observer said today that word has been received in Fayetteville of the death in Vietnam of Lt. Col. Frederick Van Deusen, brother-in-law of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. Army chief of staff.

He was the son of Col. ret. and Mrs. Edwin R. Van Deusen of Fayetteville, and brother of Mrs. Westmoreland.

Police Official Gives Rifle to Trapped Man

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A gunman who has held out for three days against a police siege and even got authorities to help marry him to his hostage, an 18-year-old girl, now has a high-powered rifle given to him by the police commissioner.

Commissioner Norman T. Allan said today he was forced into the action when Wally Mellish, 23, pointed a shotgun and pistol at his new bride and demanded the rifle.

* * *

"I had to make an agonizing decision," Allan said. "To refuse meant death for her and the baby."

Mellish is holding both his wife, the former Beryl Muddle, and her 10-week-old son as hostages.

BREAKS PROMISE

Allan and the Rev. Clyde Paton, a Anglican priest, entered the suburban Sydney house where Mellish is holding out to reason with him Thursday.

Mellish had broken his promise to surrender if he was allowed to marry Miss Muddle, whom he seized at gunpoint Tuesday.

* * *

The Rev. Mr. Paton performed the ceremony Wednesday and Allan, who was unarmed, was a witness.

Allan said today that in addition to the high-powered Armalite rifle and 200 rounds of ammunition for it, Mellish has a shotgun, a .303 rifle and a pistol. Mellish's wife said he also has a box of grenades.

'ONLY CONCERN'

"My only concern is for the lives of that girl and her baby," Allan said. "I'll do anything to grant any request to protect them. I have the responsibility of seeing that the baby and the mother are not killed through any action of mine. . . .

"If we have to wait seven days we will wait. We cannot use tear gas. How would an 18-year-old girl and a baby stand up to high-density tear gas?"

The house still was surrounded by police today.

Carnival Take Goes for Blind

CREVE COEUR, Mo. (AP) — A three-day back-yard carnival conducted by children in the St. Louis suburb of Creve Coeur netted more than $100 for the Missouri School for the Blind. The carnival, held in the yard of Bobby Golbart, featured 16 booths, refreshment stands and a general store. Bobby and his grade school chums solicited prizes from local merchants.

Noblesse Oblige

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Sir Lancelot has come to the rescue of the police department's mounted patrol. The noble name belongs to a bay gelding donated by Michael J. Davies, of Sea Island, N.J., who read of the department's need of horses for its park patrol.

The American Bonsai Society, a nonprofit organization of individuals interested in the art of miniature trees, was founded in 1967 and now has more than 500 members.

Committee on Elegant Diet Creates Some Plush Menus

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The Committee for Elegant Diets, which scorns all those high-protein, low-carbohydrate mishmashes, has come up with one that fine ladies such as the Duchess of Windsor might try at Le Pavillon . . . Scotch salmon, artichoke vinaigrette, lemon sherbet with strawberries in cassis, champagne Taitinger blanc du blanc, and cafe filtre . . . this is what Mrs. Edwin Hilson might have for dinner while Jackie Kennedy is dieting on caviar, asparagus, Dom Pernignon champagne, petit fours and cafe espresso . . . Practically no calories, and so inexpensive, too, you know.

* * *

Cindy Adams phoned her husband Joey Adams about 5 a.m. in Shady Grove, Md. — and a girl answered.

Joey was rehearsing with a chorus girl, Darcy Brown, who'd taken over Betty Grable's part in "Guys and Dolls" after Miss Grable suffered a cut nose and an injured eye that required five stitches when she tried to avoid falling on top of her pet poodle and crashed onto the edge of a table in her room.

The Darcy girl who knew most of the part from watching got a standing ovation. Miss Grable's returning to Las Vegas, and Miss Darcy'll play the week with Joey at the Camden, N. J., Music Fair. Miss Grable was married 25 years ago to Harry James and that may have been on her mind when she fell.

* * *

Mia Farrow now has a choice of movies since "Rosemary's Baby." One she's mentioned for is "True Grit," a Western she'd do with John Wayne . . .

Some of the very top N.Y.C. night spots are listed as being nicked for police payoffs in a new cop scandal . . .

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Raquel Welch got miffed at the photographers chasing her in Spain where she's doing "100 Rifles" and swung a bottle at one . . . Joey Heatherton tells this on herself: since being told she resembles Marilyn Monroe, she usually poses for pictures with a wide-open smile. Recently asked for a slightly more serious picture, she produced one—with a wide-open smile . . . Bob Hope's been ordered to slow down—so he's starting his new movie, "How to Commit Marriage."

Buddy Hacket showed up for Mayor Lindsay's TV show in yellow turtleneck, gold slacks and blazer. The mayor, in Brooks Bros. suit, murmured, "I'm afraid I'm underdressed" . . . Erroll Garner wonders if, when the new gun law's passed, Trini Lopez'll have to register his mgr., Bullets Durgom.

The prisoners appearing in Woody Allen's "Take the Money and Run" (on location in San Quentin) get $7.50 a day . . . Beatle George Harrison will play sitar expert Ravi Shankar's student in the film "Messenger Out of the East" . . . Sessue Hayakawa (of "River Kwai") is doing TV commercials for an insurance company, and a movie tough guy—very big once—is an unbilled blink-of-the-eye player in an auto tire commercial.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A judge (says Jimmy Wong) told a man, "Your wife says you beat and punched her senseless — is that true?" The man said, "Ah, judge, are you gonna believe someone who's that punchy?"

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "A cemetery is a place where a lot of careless drivers stop." — Dr. O. A. Battists.

EARL'S PEARLS: A new law is supposed to keep gambling out of Wisconsin, but, notes Ben Bergor, "there are just as many marriages now as there were before."

A fellow complained that he can't communicate with his teen-age son: "How can you have a man-to-man talk with someone who's wearing one earring?!" That's earl, brother.

Search Is Resumed for Missing Plane

TOWANDA, Pa. (UPI)—A party of 75 persons and eight planes were to resume today their concentrated search of this mountain area for a private plane missing on a flight from New York to Florida.

The plane, carrying Dale Sleight of Honeoye Falls, N.Y., the pilot, his wife and two children, left Honeoye Falls at 5:15 a.m. on Wednesday and has not been heard of since then.

The Civil Air Patrol said Sleight did not make scheduled radio checks at Williamsport and Harrisburg and did not stop as scheduled at Raleigh, N.C., en route to St. Augustine, Fla.

Similar searches were launched in New York, Virginia and North Carolina.

Actors Distribute Antigun Publicity at Holiday Rallies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — More than a dozen Hollywood actors passed out antigun information at Fourth of July rallies throughout the Los Angeles area Thursday.

The actors set up booths at entrances to Dodger Stadium, the Coliseum and the Sports Arena.

MISSING SOMETHING?
You may be missing real top-notch performance from your TV set if your antenna is not in good condition. There is no real substitute for a well engineered and properly balanced TV antenna system. Common annoyances from improper antennas are ghosts, double images, flickering pictures, flashes across the screen, and snow. The abuses of wind and weather must be compensated for with periodic maintenance. Consult your TESA of Oakland County Service Dealer for competent advice concerning your antenna problems.

What Is It We Miss About Childhood?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Anyone over 30 who has trouble falling asleep at night usually turns his restless thoughts back to his childhood.

BOYLE

He remembers it with a vague sense of loss, as mankind remembers lost Eden—with a pang.

Most people like to recall their childhood as a happy time, and their minds obligingly turn away from the woes they knew when very young.

But was anyone's childhood ever as happy as he later in life prefers to recall it? No, indeed. In this respect memory is a soft liar.

NOT PERFECT

The secret heart of any child is hardly bathed in constant self-smile. He approves of himself far less than the grown-ups around him do, for he never is quite as innocent as they think him to be.

They tend to regard him as either a perfect angel or a little devil, depending on the day or what they know about his conduct at the moment. But the child himself is haunted by the knowledge that he is never a perfect angel, although he may for fleeting seconds wistfully yearn to be one.

* * *

Every child is troubled by hidden guilt, which comes early to the human race. He always has done something wrong which his parents haven't yet found out, and so he feels like an uncaught criminal always in peril of being discovered and punished.

This self-knowledge of guilt and fear of retribution is the sword of Damocles that hangs in the soul of every child. It keeps him uneasy, no matter how small his transgression may be, and shuts him from the paradise in which his deluded parents thinks he dwells.

Well, then since children are actually hypocritical little worry-warts, just like grown-ups, what is there truly about childhood that makes adults look back upon it with such fondness? Wherein lies its real magic?

The real magic of childhood lies in the fact that it is the only period of existence when you look at life as if you were seeing it through a magnifying glass. Everything is bigger, closer up, and more emotionally affecting. Everything is sharply accented.

* * *

Your thoughts are more fanciful and exciting; your sensations are more thrilling; you feel more keenly and deeply alive than you ever will again.

You bump your knee and roll in the grass with an agony worse than any human being ever bore before. You taste an ice cream cone or a watermelon, and no Caesar in ancient Rome ever knew such an orgy of taste, though he banqueted on peacock tongues.

'FIRST TIME'

Whatever happens to you occurs as if it were happening for the first time since the globe started spinning. No rainbow has any dust on it, every plush-covered caterpillar is a monster of mystery.

You look around you, and beauty, joy, terror, awe and ecstasy — they are everywhere. You wade mind-deep in wonder.

* * *

Slowly as we go through life, cobwebs accumulate on all these feelings. We see through the magnifying glass no more. The monsters become less fearsome, the joys less stirring. We tend to turn from live sparks to dull clods, more moved by threnody than thrill.

This is what we miss most about our vanished childhood that view through the magnifying glass, that bonfire rapture of being which, when it goes, comes not again.

Industrial Art Students Plan for the Future

By Gilbert Youth Service

Students of industrial design, their ideas free from conventional thinking, have been busy at drawing boards in three different colleges creating revolutionary blueprints for the year 2000.

At the University of Cincinnati, a team of four students designed a modular home which could expand or contract according to the size of the family.

* * *

Others worked on the problems of food preparation, seeing food being prepared by a completely automated system. Computers take care of ordering, storage, inventory and billing. Disposable dishes and tableware are tossed into a garbage disposal unit.

At the Philadelphia College of Art, students worked on the safety problems of the home, and came up with tubs and sinks that are soft rather than hard.

SELF-CLEANING FLOOR

They also devised a self-cleaning floor, that when stepped on, sent the dirt cells into a lower area later to be removed by vacuum or water.

They also created a mechanized unit which would contain information on entertainment, purchasing, personal communications and intercommunications in the home, controlled simply by verbal commands.

*

University of Illinois designers came up with bathroom sinks that fold back into the wall when not in use, a gas-fired incinerator that could be loaded inside the home, and a centralized power source of air, rather than electricity, for kitchen appliances like mixers and blenders.

The program is carried on by Armco Steel, a company which hopes to turn some of these revolutionary ideas into reality.

Swollen Clinton Gives Up Body of Its 3rd Victim

A tragic chain of events ended yesterday with the recovery of the body of a 13-year-old boy from the Clinton River —the third victim claimed by the rain-swollen stream this week.

The body of Michael Rosario was found

MICHAEL

floating on the surface of the water about 12:20 p.m., just 24 hours after the body of his 8-year-old brother, Robert, was pulled from the river.

★ ★ ★

It was shortly after the discovery of the younger boy that Pontiac Police Capt. Donny E. Ashley drowned, when a search craft capsized while combing the river near the old sewage treatment plant for Michael.

Two skin divers from the Oakland County Sheriff's Department narrowly escaped death later the same day while continuing the search operation.

POLICE THEORY

Pontiac Police Sgt. Carl F. Colando, who along with Capt. Raymond Meggitt recovered the body of Michael, theorized that the boys were wading in the river near Paddock and East Boulevard Monday, the day they were reported missing by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tiburcio Rossario of 330 Judson.

Colando said that both boys were without their shoes and socks when found.

Michael's body was recovered from the river where it flows past the old treatment plant, through a concrete causeway, and enters the natural river bed.

Deputy Wayne Brause, one of the skin divers who nearly became a victim of the turbulent rapids, was discharged from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday after being treated for exhaustion.

CAUGHT IN CURRENT

He and Sgt. Medward Tessier of the sheriff's department were caught in the whirling current and had to be rescued by officers on shore. Tessier was treated and released the same day.

Pontiac Police have instituted a 24-hour, two man honor guard for Ashley at the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home, where a service will be conducted at 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Mercury May Drop Into 40s Tonight

Cooler temperatures with little chance of rain is the outlook for the Pontiac area tonight and tomorrow.

Here is the official day-by-day U.S. Weather Bureau forecast:

TODAY — Clearing and cooler with lows of 47 to 54 tonight. Winds west to southwest at two to 15 miles per hour becoming northwest to north today and northeasterly at five to 10 miles tonight. Precipitation probability is 20 per cent.

HOW SWEET IT IS—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey nibbles on some candy as he listens to Philadelphia Mayor James Tate on the speakers' platform in front of Independence Hall at Fourth of July ceremonies yesterday.

Humphrey Gaining Delegates in State

LANSING (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is gaining support among Michigan Democratic national convention delegates and now can expect nearly two-thirds of the state's 96 presidential votes, an Associated Press poll revealed today.

Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., will receive six votes, the poll disclosed, while nearly one-fourth remain uncommitted.

Here is how the tabulation breaks down:

★ ★ ★

Hubert H. Humphrey	63
Uncommitted	25
Eugene McCarthy	6
John Glenn	1
Edward M. Kennedy	1

Humphrey's total represents an increase of 25 votes over an AP poll conducted two weeks ago.

Despite a personal appearance before the delegation last Sunday, McCarthy increased his total by only one vote over the previous poll.

Most of Humphrey's increase can be attributed to McCarthy's visit. One previously uncommitted delegate, who asked not to be named, said "I think McCarthy really dug his grave Sunday with the Michigan delegation."

★ ★ ★

During his closed door visit with delegates, McCarthy said that he could conceivably support Republican Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York for president under certain conditions.

Most of the uncommitted delegates say they are waiting for further developments before deciding whom to support.

'AMBIVALENT AT MOMENT'

"I'm really ambivalent at the moment," said Albert Wheeler of Ann Arbor. Wheeler explained that Humphrey stresses civil rights and poverty, and downgrades the Vietnam war.

McCarthy, however, emphasizes the war and tends to downplay poverty and civil rights, Wheeler added. For that reason, he said, he had not made up his mind.

★ ★ ★

A few delegates list themselves, as uncommitted but say their minds are made up but that they refuse to divulge their choices.

★ ★ ★

A delegate who earlier stated he was for former Gov. G. Mennen Williams is now listed as uncommitted.

Michigan sends 102 persons to the Democratic national convention at Chicago in August. The delegation casts 96 votes. Each delegate gets 94-100 vote, committeewoman each receive one vote, while the national committeeman and

'First-Ballot Win Near for Nixon'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the House Republican Conference said today Richard M. Nixon can nail down a first-ballot victory at the Republican national convention with 39 more votes.

"I believe that Dick Nixon is behind (in the polls) at the present time merely because he is not speaking out on the issues," Rep. Melvin Laird of Wisconsin asserted.

★ ★ ★

Asked how close Nixon is to winning the GOP nomination, he said, "He's about 39 votes short of a convention nomination on the first ballot as of today."

★ ★ ★

On the Democratic side, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy courted the farm vote in Iowa while Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey began two days of rest after hurrying through a speech in Philadelphia in which he had to compete with chanting antiwar demonstrators.

STOCKPILING PROPOSED

McCarthy proposed stockpiling of wheat, feed grains, soybeans and other agricultural products as he spoke in Corning, Iowa, where the National Farmers Organization has its headquarters.

The organization's collective bargaining approach was praised by McCarthy.

★ ★ ★

"American farmers are not asking for special treatment in society," he said. "They ask for prices which are just."

Humphrey's Philadelphia speech, delivered in front of Independence Hall, was not without political content.

★ ★ ★

Holiday Road Toll Climbs Steadily

By the Associated Press

The national toll of deaths in traffic mounted steadily today as millions of Americans returned to work after an Independence Day off and many others extended their holiday outings into the long weekend.

The total reached 193 by 10 a.m. this morning.

★ ★ ★

Although showers dampened parts of the Southeast and portions of the mid-continent, dry weather offered good driving conditions over most of the country for the Fourth of July and today.

The National Safety Council has estimated that between 700 and 800 Americans may die in motor vehicle accidents in the weekend that began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Drowning and boating mishaps also accounted for a large number of accident deaths across the country. The latest figures show 21 boating deaths and 53 dead by drowning.

Lake Mishap Kills 7 Children, Man

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP)—Seven children on a holiday outing and a man who was giving them a boat ride drowned yesterday when their 12-foot outboard flipped over, hurling them into Lake Easy about five miles south of here.

The only survivor was an 11-year-old girl who clung to the overturned boat and was rescued by a vacationing deputy sheriff.

★ ★ ★

"When the first car got there, the families of the kids were wading around in the water crying and searching for bodies," said Capt. Earl Branch of the Polk County sheriff's department. "None of them could swim."

The families were making an all-day Fourth of July outing of it, said a nearby cottage owner. "They had set up their picnic stuff early in the morning."

LOADED INTO BOAT

Branch said William Harrell, 35, of Lake Wales, loaded the eight children into the boat for a ride around the small lake.

Raymond Parks of Winter Haven said he was fishing nearby when the boat started swinging toward the picnic site on the bank.

★ ★ ★

He said the boat rolled over in the middle of the turn, pitching its cargo of children into 15 feet of water about 100 yards from shore.

Branch said deputy Ray Greubel, who was camping with his family nearby, swam to the overturned boat and found Harrell and Venera Clay clinging to its side.

WENT UNDER

Witnesses said the girl lost her hold on the boat and both men attempted to save her. The deputy grasped the girl and brought her back to the boat, Branch said. But when he turned around, Harrell had gone under.

Greubel recovered a second little girl, but could not revive her when they reached shore.

The bodies were recovered during a three-hour search by divers and men in boats with grappling hooks.

★ ★ ★

The dead were listed as Harrell, Belinda Clay, 12, and her 14-year-old sister, Cynthia, of Lakeland; their cousin, Jimmie Elaine Clay, 9, and Sheila Jennings, 8, Carolyn Jones, 11, Cynthia Jackson, 7, and Rhonda Tucker, 10, all of Lake Wales.

200 Are Saved as Bridge Falls

LONGVIEW, Wash. (AP)—Police said an estimated 200 persons were dumped into Lake Sacajewea when a jam-packed wooden bridge collapsed at the end of a fireworks display in downtown Longview last night.

Police Chief Ralph Benefiel, who made the estimate today, said about 90 persons were treated for injuries, but most of them were released shortly afterward.

★ ★ ★

He said there were no reports of any deaths. More than two dozen were reported missing, but police said they believed most, if not all, of these became separated from their families in the panic.

Thousands of spectators jamming the small manmade lake in the center of this southwest Washington city of 27,000 added to the confusion and hampered rescue operations.

HOSPITALS BUSY

St. John's Hospital and Cowlitz County General Hospital both reported injury cases were continuing to arrive after midnight, two hours after the 15-foot high bridge dumped its load into the water.

More than 75 police, sheriff's officers, state troopers and firemen joined in rescue work and the task of dispersing the massive crowd of excited spectators.

★ ★ ★

Divers began probing the waters, described as up to seven feet deep, shortly before midnight and continued the work today as wreckers pulled broken timbers and other debris from the water.

The bridge ran about 100 feet across a narrow section of the lake.

Witnesses said only about 15 feet of the bridge remained standing above the water.

Many families were separated in the confusion. Loudspeakers were pressed into service on fire trucks to call for missing persons and to ask the crowds to disperse.

★ ★ ★

Kenneth Dahl, Cowlitz County deputy coroner, credited bystanders with possibly saving lives and more serious injuries.

"When the bridge fell in, many people on the shore jumped in and started pulling the other people out," he said.

Prisoner Foiled in Jet Hijack Try

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A prisoner aboard an airliner carrying 71 passengers slipped away from his guards long enough to try a daring plot to hijack the plane. Then, he sat back between his guards and waited.

★ ★ ★

None of the other passengers aboard the Trans World Airlines plane knew of the threat made quietly yesterday by John Hamilton Morris to a stewardess:

"I've got dynamite in this bag. And my two buddies have guns. Turn this plane around and fly it to Hemosillo, Mexico."

ESCAPE ATTEMPT

Then, as Barron sat the Boeing 727 down at McCarran Field, Morris bolted for a door. His guards grabbed and subdued him.

Morris, 48, was taken to Clark County jail here and the plane, after an hour's delay, continued its flight to San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the Federal Bureau of Investigation said Morris would appear before a federal grand jury to answer a possible attempted hijacking charge. He was being flown from prison at Leavenworth, Kan., to San Francisco for an appeal hearing on his 15-year sentence for bank robbery.

Authorities said the two deputy marshals assigned to guard Morris agreed to let him go to a rest room at the front of the plane but didn't realize that he instead stopped and talked with the stewardess in the first-class compartment between the cabin section and the pilots.

Several Las Vegas police officers had entered the plane before the passengers realized what had happened.

ESCAPE HATCH WORKS—Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., commander of the three-man crew to be sent aloft in the next manned Apollo shot, in September, climbs from the spacecraft during an emergency evacuation drill. The test was held yesterday at Cape Kennedy. Schirra has his hand on a lever which opens the capsule hatch in three seconds. It was designed after a fire killed three astronauts trapped in their capsule on a cape launch pad last year. The old hatch took 90 seconds to open.

Plan for Downtown Tops on Bill of Fare

The bill of fare: roast beef, potatoes and other culinary delights, plus a public presentation of the downtown plan which proposes to construct some $80-million worth of new buildings on downtown urban renewal land.

The time and place: 12:10 p.m. Tuesday at the Pontiac Elks Club. The charge: $2.25 per person.

★ ★ ★

Organizers of the community luncheon said anyone interested in the future of the downtown is invited. Tickets may be purchased at the Community National Bank offices on Perry and at the Pontiac Mall, Dickinson's men's shop, Hayes Jones Community Center, and Osmun's men's store, Tel-Huron branch, or at the door Tuesday.

N. Viet Missiles Miss Big Yank Bombers

SAIGON (AP) — Two enemy antiaircraft missiles were fired at U.S. Air Force B52 bombers attacking North Vietnam's southern panhandle yesterday, the U.S. Command reported today.

Spokesman said none of the eight-engine bombers was hit. The B52s have been fired upon before by the Soviet-made missiles on raids in North Vietnam's southernmost section, but none have been hit so far in the war.

The giant bombers are considered vulnerable to the enemy high-altitude missiles. U.S. fighter-bombers — faster, smaller and lower-flying — ordinarily attack known enemy missile sites before the B52s head for the DMZ or North Vietnam, and the B52s generally try to steer clear of these sites.

The B52s returned today to pounding enemy bases around Saigon in a massive allied campaign to head off a threatened attack on the capital. They flew five missions 28 to 30 miles northwest of Saigon.

ARMS SEIZED

On the ground, allied troops uncovered two more important enemy arms caches today, bringing the number found since Wednesday to five.

"We're getting better intelligence," a U.S. spokesman said. "We're getting it (the weapons) at the base camps before it can be moved."

* * *

One of the latest discoveries was made by U.S. 1st Division infantrymen in a complex of five bunkers and 150 feet of tunnels 33 miles north of Saigon. The cache contained 110 bazooka-type rockets, seven rocket launchers, an 82mm mortar and 24 shells for it.

* * *

BOOBY-TRAPPED BUNKERS

About 30 miles northwest of Saigon, other 1st Division troops gingerly probed booby-trapped enemy bunkers where they already had found a cache of more than 35 of the big Russian 122mm rockets plus more than 1,000 bazooka-type rockets.

* * *

The cache is only 10 miles from a big U.S. base at Dau Teng, which came under a 500-round rocket and mortar attack earlier yesterday.

Two other rocket caches were seized six miles east of Saigon Wednesday and yesterday.

27 Passengers Are Injured as Bus Misses Detour Sign

MACON, Ga. (AP) — A bus en route from Chicago to Miami apparently missed a detour near here Thursday night and overturned, injuring 27 persons, Bibb County authorities said.

* * *

Hospital authorities said only three persons were hurt seriously enough to be admitted to the hospital. Most of those injured suffered broken limbs, cuts and bruises, hospital authorities said.

Those admitted to the hospital were identified as Coy Harmon, 63, of Cleveland, Ohio; Gustia Roberts, 55, of Anniston, Ala.; and Jeannie Mae Davis of Macon.

The injured were taken to a hospital in four ambulances and two sheriff's cars.

MISSED SIGN

Police said the driver of the Greyhound bus apparently missed a detour sign at Bass Road and Georgia 87, slammed on the brakes, skidded and overturned down an embankment.

Officers said the driver, who was not identified, was not injured.

* * *

Officials said another bus was sent to the scene to take those passengers who were unhurt to their destinations. They said the first bus was badly damaged in the wreck and some of the passengers suffered broken bones when the bus bounced down the embankment.

WATERMELON AT CAPITOL—Twenty-three demonstrators for the Poor People's Campaign, including 12 children, were arrested yesterday at the Capitol in Washington, D.C., as they staged a watermelon picnic. The demonstration was an attempt to symbolize the way the poor have to live off nature in a land of abundance. The demonstrators arrived by mule train. They were charged with littering and unlawful assembly.

Area Girl Killed in 2-Car Crash

A Bloomfield Township girl was killed last night when the car in which she was riding struck a parked car in West Bloomfield Township.

Pamela Woods, 19, of 4361 Pine Tree Trail, Bloomfield Township, was a passenger in a car driven by Michael Watson, 20, of 6095 Wellesley, West Bloomfield Township.

According to West Blomfield Township Police, Watson's auto was traveling 35 to 45 miles per hour when it struck an unoccupied car parked on the shoulder of Walnut Lake Road, east of Middle Belt Road. The accident, which occurred about midnight is still under investigation.

Union Officials Rap Chicago Bus Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of Chicagoans returned from their Fourth of July holiday to cope with the fourth day of a wildcat strike by more than 1,000 bus drivers and motormen.

Leaders of the walkout against the Chicago Transit Authority met secretly with top union officials Thursday and were told to order their fellow dissidents back to work.

* * *

The union said it would act on their complaints only when the strike ended. The demand was rejected by the strikers.

CTA Chairman George L. Dement said Thursday night he was "kind of discouraged" at receiving no word of progress in resolving the dispute which interrupted service for some 600,000 commuters Wednesday.

BIG PROBLEM

Dement said service for the holiday operated at about 75 per cent. But he predicted today's transit problems would be as great as Wednesday.

"More and more drivers say they don't want to take buses," Dement said.

A CTA spokesman reported half a dozen instances where strikers boarded buses and convinced drivers to return immediately to terminals. Most of these occurred on the North Side, an area largely unaffected by the walkout that began Tuesday on the South and West sides.

James J. Hill, president of Division 241 of the Amalgamated Transit Workers, and six members of the striking faction, the concerned transit workers, met for 30 minutes in the union headquarters Thursday.

ABNORMAL PROCEDURE

"We have bent over backwards to resolve this," Hill said later. "I told their leadership that the best thing would be to go back to work and we'll all sit down and act on grievances and complaints according to our by-laws and normal union procedures."

Synthetic 'Pot' Stirring Concern

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal narcotics agents are concerned about the possible appearance of man-made marijuana which is colorless and odorless but so powerful only two or three drops in a cigarette can produce the same kick as natural marijuana, the Washington Post said today.

"Smuggling in synthetic marijuana could make the $350-million a year heroin business look like peanuts," the paper quoted a narcotics agent as saying.

* * *

"And it would be easy," he added. "A little alcohol and some coloring and it could be brought in as after-shave lotion."

The Justice Department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs plans to send Congress fresh legislation to cover the sale and use of marijuana made in a laboratory, the Post said. Currently, federal law covers only natural marijuana which is grown.

VERY EXPENSIVE

Federal officials say marijuana was first made synthetically four years ago by an Israeli chemist. They say it is still extremely expensive to produce, the major factor that has kept it from the illegal drug market.

Federal officials fear, however, that the price is bound to come down as more chemists tinker with it.

* * *

"When this happens we may be in very deep trouble," one agent said.

Ray's U.S. Lawyer Arrives in London for First Meeting

LONDON (AP) — Arthur J. Hanes, the Birmingham, Ala., lawyer retained to defend the accused assassin of Martin Luther King Jr., arrived in London today and said he would have a first meeting with him within hours.

But Hanes insisted the man he would be seeing was Ramon George Sneyd, not James Earl Ray as claimed by the U.S. government and accepted by the British court which agreed to extradite him last Tuesday.

Hanes said his client might plead innocent or innocent by reason of insanity to charges brought against him.

He added: "Of course, he may not be extradited. I am not certain that he will be."

'HE IS SNEYED'

Regarding the identity of the man wanted in the slaying of King, Hanes said: "He is Ramon George Sneyd as far as I am concerned."

King was assassinated April 4 in Memphis, Tenn., and a world-wide manhunt began for James Earl Ray.

Ray was arrested at London Airport June 8 by Scotland Yard agents and accused of using the name of Sneyd and possessing an unlicensed gun. Those charges are still pending.

After a two-day hearing at Bow Street Court, London's chief metropolitan magistrate, Frank Milton, ordered Ray extradited as a fugitive criminal wanted for murder and armed robbery in the United States.

Ray's court-appointed British lawyers have 15 days in which to appeal to a higher court. They said they intended to file an appeal.

Hanes, pressed about who was paying for his services, replied: "No one, no organization, only Sneyd himself has contacted me. He has indicated that he is a position to pay. He may be able to raise money from his family.

* * *

"This is a challenge and it is a big case. The man called on me for assistance; the man needs help. I would do the same for anyone, black or white. I am made that way."

Threat by Controllers

Airport Slowdown Looms

CHICAGO (UPI) — A new organization claiming to represent half the air traffic controllers in the nation has called for a slowdown in handling takeoffs and landings because of increasing danger from crowding above airports.

The group, the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization (PATCO), issued its call yesterday at its first convention here. None of the nation's major airports reported a slowdown by today, but PATCO did not say one would begin immediately.

* * *

PATCO issued its slowdown call while warning of impending "disaster" in the nation's overcrowded airlanes. It said members would handle aircraft only with Federal Aviation Administration regulations on minimum distances required between planes.

"A six-month's survey of the current air traffic system indicates in many areas of the nation — especially in areas with high traffic flow — minimum separation between aircraft as prescribed by FAA regulations is not being maintained in order to keep up with the growing air traffic," PATCO said.

* * *

The president of the rival Air Traffic Control Association (ATCA) called PATCO's threat to slow down air traffic is a "form of illegal strike."

Ralph Grayson, president of the older ATCA, said in a statement that members of his organization will not participate in any slowdown. The proposal, he said, was "a form of illegal strike by public employes, and a threat to air safety."

Airline Post to TV Exec

A former Bloomfield Hills man, George B. Storer Sr., whose radio and television interests bought control of Northeast Airlines in 1965, has been elected board chairman of the airline.

Storer of Miami, Fla., is owner of Detroit's Channel 2, WJBK-TV. He succeeds James W. Austin as board chairman. Austin joined the company in 1957 and became chairman in 1966.

Storer's former position, chairman of the executive committee, is unfilled. F. C. Wiser, president, remains chief executive officer.

Roeper School Names New Business Aide

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Roeper City and Country School announced this week the appointment of Anthony A. Haisch as Director of Business Administration and Development.

He assumed duties July 1 at the nonprofit, co-educational day school for nursery through high school age students.

* * *

Haisch, 28, of 32496 Chesterbrook, Farmington Township, comes to the school with a degree in Business Administration from Wayne State University.

He most recently served for six years with the Housing Division of the Detroit Public Schools.

FOR GIFTED STUDENTS

Roeper was organized in 1956 into a school for academically-gifted children. Enrollment the past year was 530 students, and is expected to be 570 this fall, a spokesman for the school said.

BIRMINGHAM — A record number of teachers new to Birmingham School District will be looking for housing in the next two months.

According to Kenneth Nagley, Assistant Superintendent, Personnel, the more than 300 teachers — most with families — represent a new high to the Birmingham District.

* * *

Especially needed are single room rentals for young men or women and one and two-bedroom furnished or unfurnished apartments. Many of the new school personnel will also be looking for homes to purchase, Nagley added.

Persons desiring to make any listings available are requested to contact the Personnel Office at the Board of Education Building, Nagley said.

Two area residents have recently received promotions at the Chevrolet Motor Division.

Paul J. King, of Bloomfield Hills, chief experimental engineer for Chevrolet Motor Division, has been promoted to assistant chief engineer — passenger body, announced A.A. Mair, Chevrolet director of engineering.

NEW ASSIGNMENT

King, who will report to D.H. McPherson, chief passenger car engineer, in his new assignment, replaces Carl C. Jakust, who was transferred to the General Motors engineering staff.

An engineering graduate of Illinois Institute of Technology and Purdue University, King joined General Motors in 1947 and Chevrolet in 1954.

* * *

He is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and of Pi Tau Sigma, national mechanical engineering honor society. He lives with his wife and two children at 4376 Derry.

In another organizational change at Chevrolet, W. J. Polkinghorne of Franklin was promoted to staff engineer in the engine group where he will be responsible for all six-cylinder and V-8 engine designs.

U OF D GRAD

A Detroit Cass Technical High graduate, Polkinghorne received his BSME from the University of Detroit in 1954 and joined Chevrolet's College Graduate in Training program.

He lives with his wife and three children at 31625 Lela Lane and is active in Franklin civic and Boy Scout activities.

A. L. Stone, of 1636 Apple Lane, Bloomfield Hills, has been appointed general manager of the Aerospace Division of Sperry Rand Corporation's Vickers Division.

Stone has been associated with Vickers' aerospace activities since joining the company in 1951. For the past seven years he was divisional marketing manager for Vickers.

* * *

Holding a BS degree in industrial management from the University of Southern California, Stone also is a graduate of UCLA's executive program.

He is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers, the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics, the American Ordinance Association, the National Aviation Club and the Association of the United States Army.

WELCOME-HOME KISS—Alec Rose gets a welcome-home kiss from his wife after he arrived in Portsmouth, England, yesterday to end a solo, round-the-world yacht trip. Mrs. Rose holds a congratulatory telegram from Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

Back to Workaday World

Global Voyager Gets Cheers

PORTSMOUTH, England (AP) — Alex Rose woke up today after a good sleep in a stationary bed, went back to work at his vegetable shop and dismissed his round-the-world solo voyage as a selfish project — not very important.

Lavish headlines and editorials celebrated his homecoming Thursday from his 28,500-mile voyage in the 36-foot ketch Lively Lady, and the cheers of a crowd of 250,000 echoed through this historic English seaport, his home town.

* * *

But Rose, 59, took it all as quietly as if it hardly mattered. He said he felt he had been a bit selfish — "just going off and doing something that I've always wanted to do since I was a child."

'BETTER MAN'

But he felt a better man. "One must have seen the shadows of life to appreciate the light," he said.

In 354 days at sea, Rose endured the ultimate in loneliness and stared death in the face.

* * *

Once he passed out from fumes while trying to repair the small engine which charged his batteries.

"I came to in about two hours," he said. "All I could do was lie on my bunk and recuperate. It was several days before I could raise an appetite."

TRICKY TIMES

At the tricky times, he prayed.

"Why not?" he said. "I said my prayers as sincerely and honestly as I could.

* * *

"I felt at times rather a hypocrite — asking for help when I needed it and not asking for help when I didn't need it. However, I felt my prayers were answered at times, and we got through."

His wife, Dorothy, stocked his ship and did it so well that he came home with enough food in the locker to last another six months.

Portsmouth, Britain's premiere naval port, gave him an outsize welcome — and kept the pubs open all afternoon — they normally close at 2:30 p.m. — to keep the festival spirit going. Boats by the hundred bobbed around the harbor as Rose and Lively Lady came back to base.

Waiting for Rose was a luncheon invitation from Buckingham Palace and a telegram from Queen Elizabeth II saying: "Warmest congratulations on your magnificent voyage. Welcome home."

* * *

Rose stepped ashore as easily as if he'd been out for an afternoon sail.

Frederick Shephard, 99, watched the arrival on television and derived considerable satisfaction. Shephard designed the boat 30 years ago.

* * *

"I never had any doubt she would make it," he said.

U.S. Sub Program Blocked, Rickover Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civilians in the Pentagon and proponents of surface ships are blocking development of U.S. submarines while Russia is far ahead in numbers of undersea craft, charges Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover.

The principal tactic being used to delay submarine progress is "to study things to death," Rickover adds.

* * *

This is particularly true, he says, of his proposal for a new super quiet sub that could be used to track Russian missile - carrying submarines.

Rickover, known as the father of the nuclear submarine, commented in testimony before the Senate preparedness subcommittee in March and a transcript of the testimony was released Thursday night.

'MORE STUDIES'

He said the Navy agreed last December that it needed a new sub, but that Dr. John S. Foster, director of defense research and engineering and principal adviser to the secretary of defense on such matters, has kept asking for more studies.

"Since Dr. Foster got the problem, he has made four or five studies . . . what the next delaying tactic will be I simply don't know," Rickover said.

* * *

Foster, in a later appearance before the subcommittee, said he supported the effort to lower submarine noise levels but thought other things should be considered before building what might be an expensive, one-of-a-kind vessel.

He said the quieter sub would cost far more than the $85 million estimated for the latest Sturgeon-class submarine and that would be pretty expensive research.

The Soviets have more than 400 subs of all types, including nuclear - driven missile carriers.

* * *

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., subcommittee chairman, said the United States has 146, including 41 Polaris missile boats, and 105 attack subs of which 33 are nuclear - powered and the rest diesel.

He urged the Navy to offset the disparity in numbers between Russia and this country by maintaining "a clear overall qualitative advantage."

THE PONTIAC PRESS, FRIDAY, JULY 5, 1968 B—1

Mrs. Francis C. McMath of Birmingham (right) is looking up at a delicate chandelier as she rides the escalator in the new Hudson store. Other Meadow Brook festival committee members, Mrs. Floyd W. Bunt, Bloomfield Hills (left) and Mrs. Harry N. Wieting, Sandhurst Road, who also toured the nearly completed store, are helping with arrangements for the July 15 benefit party.

Black Tie Preview Gala One 'Night to Remember'

Something new in benefit parties will take place July 15. The J.L. Hudson Company will host a private black tie preview party for 250 couples in their newest store on 14 Mile Road and I-75.

The event, billed as "A Night to Remember," will benefit the Meadow Brook Music Festival. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Hudson Jr. and the Virgil E. Boyds, chairmen of the Festival, are chairmen of the evening.

DINNER

After a reception and cocktails in the dramatic West Court, guests will dine overhead on a teak-railed balcony. Jack Brokensha and his group will play during the cocktail hour.

The musical portion of the evening includes Duke Ellington and his orchestra who will play in the enclosed mall that adjoins the store.

EHRLING

In a change from his usual role as conductor of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, Sixten Ehrling will perform as piano soloist with violinist Mischa Mischakoff.

Other festival executive committee members working on party arrangements are Mesdames: Frederick Cody, Donald Dawson, John S. Judd, Marvin L. Katke, F.C. McMath, Gilbert F. Richards, W. F. Skinner, Joseph G. Standart Jr. and Harry N. Wieting.

The new Hudson store will open to the public July 22.

Can't Specify 'No Silver' on the Invitations

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: In a few weeks my husband and I plan to celebrate our silver wedding anniversary. We have a tentative guest list of 130 guests. Although I would love silver gifts, I have no room for them.

★ ★ ★

How can I tell good friends this? Someone told me it would be proper to have "No silver, please" printed on the invitations. Is this so?

★ ★ ★

I have always felt the silver wedding anniversary came too late in most couples' lives. By the time 25 years rolls around most women have accumulated whatever silver they need and have had time to use. A bride say of five years would certainly appreciate gifts of silver more than one who has been married 25 years. What do you say? — Mrs. P. R.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. R.: I agree with you, but I'm afraid we're too late to change so many years of "silver" anniversaries.

★ ★ ★

One has every right to say "No gifts, please" on an invitation. However, one cannot suggest to guests what to give or not to give. To put "No silver, please" indicates that you are requesting a gift of another sort. So either accept the silver or settle for no gifts at all.

★ ★ ★

One alternative—tell a few good friends or relatives that you'd rather not receive silver. The word will get around.

NO CARD

Dear Mrs. Post: My son, who will be married two years in July, is a sensitive person. Would it be proper to send him an anniversary card, even though his wife has just walked out on him? It is just temporary—so she says.

★ ★ ★

He has been brought up in a family that always sends cards for every occasion. — Mrs. Y.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Y.: Family tradition or not, don't send your son a card at this time. An anniversary card carries congratulations for a happy event, and surely a marriage without a wife is not one to be celebrated. Ask him for dinner or to visit, to occupy his mind, but don't otherwise remind him of his trouble.

Betrothal Announced

Bride-elect Alpha Dee Nunley, an alumna of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, Tex., and her fiance, Daniel James Spence, who is studying at Washtenaw Community College, Ypsilanti, are planning to wed Aug. 3.

★ ★ ★

Their parents are the junior J. A. Nunleys of Lubbock, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Spence of Cloverpart Street, Avon Township.

Eventful Weekend Set at Interlochen

INTERLOCHEN—The National Music Camp is to provide a variety of musical and dramatic entertainment for the thousands of visitors expected up in the north country for the holiday weekend.

Beginning with the performance of Agatha Christie's thriller, "The Mousetrap," the calendar lists concerts by the camp's symphonic orchestras and bands, and, on Sunday afternoon, the Michigan All-State band's final concert.

★ ★ ★

"Mousetrap," which deals with a group of strangers stranded in a boarding house during a snowstorm, is to run through Saturday.

The prime time concert, at 8 p.m. Sunday in the Interlochen Bowl, has the World Youth Symphony playing virtually the same concert it is to give at Ravinia (Chicago) on July 28 under the baton of Dr. George C. Wilson.

★ ★ ★

On the program are Richard Strauss' "Death and Transfiguration," Hovhaness' Variations and Fugue, Barber's Symphony No. 1, and Revueltas' "Sensemaya."

Dr. Edwin Kruth of San Francisco State College, making his bow at Interlochen, is to conduct the All-State band in the Bowl at 3 p.m. Sunday in a program including Creston's "Celebration" overture, the Leidzen arrangement of Bach's Toccata and Fugue in D minor and Sousa's "Semper Fidelis."

★ ★ ★

Other concerts, all contributing toward making it a musical weekend for residents and visitors over the four-day holiday period, will be by faculty members at 8 p.m. tonight and by student ensembles.

Either One Will Do

In Absence of Friend; Seek Enemy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who is highly successful in his field, well educated, well traveled, and respected in this community, BUT when he is present, no one else can get a word in.

I cannot recall ever having been in this man's company when he didn't take the floor and hold it all evening. Granted, he IS charming and entertaining, but there have been times when other interesting guests could have added something worthwhile to the conversation. But this man's voice is the only one that's heard.

Just what does one do about a person like this?

IRKED

DEAR IRKED: In the absence of a "friend" to tell this boor that his manners need manicuring, an enemy will do. A guest who comes to the party and hogs all the conversation is no better than one who hogs all the food.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I and our three children (ages eight, 10, and 13) were invited to a relative's home for supper recently. She had one large table set for the adults and another one for the children.

My daughter, age 13, came to me and said she wasn't going to sit with the "babies." (Two of her 12-year-old cousins were sitting at that table and they didn't complain.) I told her not to make a fuss and to go sit down and be quiet. Being a very head-strong child, she raised her voice a bit and said she would rather go home. Well, I wasn't about to take her home and I couldn't let her walk home alone at night, so in order to avoid a scene I told her to go get her chair and to sit by me, which she did.

I dislike scenes in public and I still think I did the right thing. My husband said I should have told the spoiled little stinker to either sit where she was put or to go into the bedroom and sulk. What is your opinion?

BROOKLYN

DEAR BROOKLYN: With such a smart husband, why are you writing to Dear Abby?

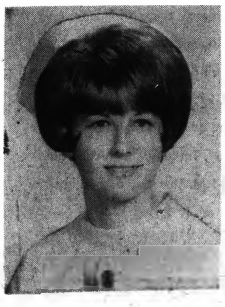
★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO C.C.K.: There are exceptions, of course, but the true index to a man's character can usually be found in the health of his wife.

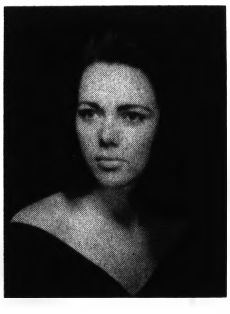
Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, in care The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Vows at Bride's Home

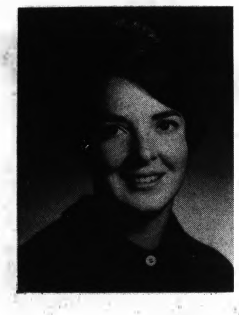
Mrs. John A. Timmer of Oakley Park Road, Commerce Township, and Berkeley Voss, Keithdale Road, were married on Wednesday. The wedding, attended only by members of both families, took place in the bride's home.



Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Umbach of Saginaw announce the engagement of their daughter, Margaret, to David Dahline, son of the Orrin Dahlines of 25 Mile Road, Avon Township. She is a graduate of Lutheran Hospital of Nursing, St. Louis, Mo., and her fiance attends Concordia Lutheran Seminary, St. Louis. December vows are slated.



The engagement of their daughter, Sharon Kathleen, to Luke MacDonald Little Jr. is announced by the Alexander E. Scotts of Detroit. He is the son of the Luke M. Littles of Inwoods Circle. The couple, seniors at Michigan State University where she is affiliated with Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and he, Psi Upsilon fraternity, is planning to wed in the spring.



Early September vows are planned by Terrie Ann Van Meter and George E. Marks. The bride elect, a graduate student at Michigan State University, is the daughter of the Carlton J. Van Meters of Albion. Her fiance, who also attends MSU, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Marks of East Commerce Township.

Luncheon Slated by Monnett Club

Members and guests of the Detroit Monnett Club will gather Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. in Orchard Lake Country Club for a luncheon.

Present and incoming freshman girl students, as well as the mothers of all Ohio Wesleyan students, are invited.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ralph Fox and Mrs. F. H. Mellinger will act as hostesses. Mrs. Mellinger recently received the Monnett Award for an outstanding alumna contribution.

Mrs. Phillip Meek and Mrs. John W. Sigler of Birmingham are taking reservations for the luncheon.

Tailor to the Rescue

Professors aren't the only absent-minded individuals. Vladimir Ashkenazy who is appearing at the Meadow Brook Festival this week discovered Wednesday afternoon that he had forgotten to bring his white dinner jackets.

★ ★ ★

Harwood Tailors on West Huron Street came to the rescue and fitted him with several jackets to take care of all his performances. He appeared Thursday evening, impeccably clad.

Ashkenazy Scores Triumph Playing Mozart Concerto

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL

Last night at Meadow Brook, pianist Vladimir Ashkenazy and the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Sixten Ehrling, achieved a definitive artistic triumph.

New York Times critic, Harold Schonberg, has called Mr. Ashkenazy "the greatest living pianist of his generation," a tribute to a young man that was more than justified with his performance of Mozart's D Minor Concerto.

★ ★ ★

The work has a deceptively simple sound, an intimate quality, an emotional impact, which is hard to define and harder still to interpret.

Mr. Ashkenazy, in minute and tender ways, gave a performance that was unmatched in delicacy and purity, yet full and fiery as a polished gem.

PURE TONE

To begin with, he has a tone like liquid silver, bright and translucent, with enough depth and penetration to be heard in the far reaches of any concert hall.

He plays without seeming effort, and his uncluttered approach has a freshness, a controlled eagerness, a complete naturalness that add up to spiritual perfection.

His polished technique and infinite tonal color are the background for his intrinsic fine taste and controlled emotionalism.

★ ★ ★

The orchestra's accompaniment for the concerto was a thing of beauty, elegance and clarity. It was clean, inspired and moving, with Mr. Ehrling's pianistic background supporting the soloist like another pair of hands.

BACH FIRST

The concert opened with Bach's Third Brandenburg Concerto.

It is the only time this season when Mr. Ehrling will be conducting Bach, and perhaps it is just as well. Bach is clearly not Mr. Ehrling's cup of tea.

★ ★ ★

Aaron Copland's Third Symphony occupied the second half of the program.

Mr. Ehrling plunged into the work with might and main, his hands flying and his energetic dancing style very much in evidence.

In his work, Copeland uses a more or less classic framework to present his contemporary themes and developments.

The result is a charged dynamic expression of modern musical thought, agitated, brash, lonely, seeking, at times wryly humorous, at others broad and dignified.

In spite of some overtoging in the brass section and harshness in the strings, the total effect was a vibrant musical picture of contemporary America.

The fourth movement had the grandeur and eclat which were the mark of a fine symphony, beautifully performed.

The concert will be repeated this evening. On Saturday, Mr. Ashkenazy will perform Prokofief's Second Piano Concerto, and the orchestra will be heard in Brahms' Fourth Symphony and Respighi's "Pines of Rome".

WILLIAMS-HOOD

For her wedding Saturday to Michael Howard Williams, Delores Diane Hood chose a traditional wedding ensemble fashioned from Chantilly lace over taffeta. Her illusion veil was capped with a pearled butterfly headpiece and she held white carnations with lily of the valley. Honor attendants for the daughter of the Delos C. Hoods of Westview Street, Independence Township, and son of Mrs. Gilbert Williams of Elwood Street and the late Mr. Williams were Dorothy Hood and Kerry Richmond. Following vows in Community United Presbyterian Church, the newlyweds joined a bridal party of eight in the receiving line at Waltz Hall. They then departed for a honeymoon at Sanducky, Ohio.

Denise Patton Is Honored at Bridal Shower

The Oakshire Street home of the James B. Knapps was the setting for a recent miscellaneous mother-daughter shower for bride-elect Denise Patton.

Co-hostess for the affair was Vivienne Hutchings of Coleman.

Guests included Mrs. Curtis E. Patton of Hammond Lake, mother of the bride elect, Mrs. Jerome Stewart and daughter Peggy of Dearborn, and Mrs. Frank Volt and daughters Diane and Carol of Grand Blanc.

Miss Patton will wed Donald Jones of Chicago Aug. 3 at All Saints Episcopal Church.

When a tear accidentally gets in an otherwise good pair of sheer curtains, cut a pretty butterfly from pastel material. Stitch over hole, add another butterfly or two where there aren't any holes, spacing them attractively. Fix all other curtains to match. Chances are the curtains will be more attractive than before one became damaged.

This Is Ma's Good Example Caper

I have never chased a child around a doctor's office. My attitude has been that a few words of comfort accompanied by the simple truth was the way to approach shots and stitches and it has paid off for me.

However, one never knows when all those words of cheerful truthful comfort will came a'haunting. They came to me as I stood at the bathroom mirror holding the filling from my molar.

* * *

"Oh, oh," I whimpered. "Look here!"

"What is it, mother?" Babs asked.

"See my tooth? Oh, dear! See my tooth?"

"Call the dentist!" she said, sympathetically.

"Tomorrow, maybe."

"Right now! Remember the motto in the kitchen. You always read it to me!"

"Oh, you mean 'I ought; therefore I will.' Well, I don't think Immanuel Kant meant a broken filling."

"It will just take a minute to fix it and you'll be good as new!"

"All right," I said.

"It will just hurt a TINY bit and then it will be over!"

"All right!"

I accepted her offer to go with me to the office because just having her along would give me companionship.

Not that I really needed companion ship on the long drive because, after all, who is concerned about having a little filling put in one's tooth? (See mother set a good example?)

"You don't have to cry," she said in her own heartless fashion. "It is mostly your imagination that hurts!"

* * *

"Just as you tell me — there are some things we MUST do!"

"Of course."

"You are a big, brave girl, aren't you?" she chattered. "And, it is better to have a tiny filling than to lose a tooth!"

* * *

I hadn't thought of that! Maybe he will have to pull it! I forced myself not to faint. I will show her my courage, I thought.

"Of course!" I said, cheerfully. (See mother be brave?)

Afterwards, in the waiting room, Babs greeted me happily. "There!" she said, "it wasn't anything, was it? Didn't hurt, did it?"

"Of course not!" I said. (Hear mother lie?)

Easy-Iron Sheers

To iron a sheer blouse or dress, pin a dampened turkish towel firmly to the ironing board covers and iron the garment over it. This method gives better results than placing the cloth over the garment, for this allows you to see the material while ironing it and keeps you from ironing wrinkles in the clothing.

BIRRELL-BINE

Birmingham's St. Regis Catholic Church was the setting for Friday vows exchanged by Nancy Marie Bine and Duane Birrell. Their parents are the Russell E. Bines of Birmingham and the Robert Birrells of Keego Harbor. The bride selected a gown of peau de soie with an elbow length veil of illusion. Shirley Anne Bine and Carl Henry Sturgeon stood as honor attendants for the pair later feted at a reception in Roma Hall, Livonia. Bette Anne Bine was her sister's bridesmaid and ushering was Jackie Birrell. The newlyweds are honeymooning at Niagara Falls.

AGAJEENIAN-DOMZAL

Susan Gail Domzal and Timothy George Agajeenian were united in marriage Saturday in St. John's Episcopal Church, Royal Oak. Parents of the couple, later feted at a reception in Pine Knob Ski Resort, are the Henry Domzals of Troy and the George V. Agajeenians of Parkman Drive. Alencon lace with pearl and crystal beading highlighted a gown for the bride who carried white roses, carnations and ivy. Honor attendants were Helen Zbudowski Benjamin McKerricher with others, Nancy and Barbara Agajeenian and Ralph Kalajian and Jack Master.

GRANADA

IRONSTONE

New from Taylor, Smith & Taylor's "Designer Series" Collection comes this colorful portfolio of flamencan motifs. Inspired by the flavor of Mediterranean handicrafts, these beautiful patterns reflect the artisan's devotion to individuality. No two pieces are identical, each a precious artifact inherited from the potter's wheel. Only TS&T's craftsmanship can lend such fashion to your dining table.
