GEORGE STUART

Says Bakers Union Official Got $60,000 'Bite' Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate rackets probers today heard testimony that a national vice president of the Bakers Union, Max Kralstein, received some $60,000 proceeds from a June 1956 Waldorf-Astoria banquet held in his honor.

Joseph Tenczar, ousted business agent of a Brooklyn local, told the committee a story of "pressuring" of employers to buy tickets and advertising in connection with the banquet.

He said the employers so tapped were men with whom Kralstein regularly bargained for baking industry labor contracts.

Tenczar told about hitting some 60 employers for $25 banquet tickets plus $50 contributions for getting their names printed on a banquet souvenir program.

"I most certainly did," the witness replied.

Repeated Fifth Amendment pleas by George Stuart, resigned first vice president of the international union, halted efforts by the committee to question him yesterday about testimony that he had misused more than $40,000 of union money.

Stuart, who said he is now unemployed, used the amendment's protection against self-incrimination 23 times in 10 minutes.

Stuart paled and closed his eyes when Kennedy read off to him an Illinois statute which defines embezzlement under trust as larceny.

IMPROPER USE

Kennedy said that case after case of what he termed unauthorized and improper use of union funds by Stuart had occurred in Chicago. He said the money came from two now defunct locals when Stuart headed them as a union trustee.

With Stuart refusing to answer, the committee turned to other sources in presenting evidence that union cash was used to buy Cadillac automobiles for both Cross and Stuart.

Subpoenaed documents and staff investigators pictured Stuart as getting also a Chevrolet Corvette, a $375 cocktail set, $95 cuff links, a $780 pearl necklace-bracelet-earring set, clothing for himself, furniture for his home, and money that the staff investigators said they traced into his bank account.

Most of this money allegedly came from Locals 100 and 300, which have been merged into the big Chicago Local 1.

Meanwhile, in Tacoma, Wash., Federal Judge George Boldt is hearing arguments today on a petition of Teamster union President Dave Beck for permission to go to Europe next month.

Beck, under federal grand jury indictment for income tax evasion, has asked the court if he may leave its jurisdiction to attend an international transport meeting in Paris.

Put $1,100 Prize From Pot-O-Gold Into Your Pocket

Even though a winner wasn't found for last week's Pot-O-Gold puzzle, you still have a chance at the prize money, which amounts to $1,100 now. If you're interested in emptying the pot into your own pocket, turn to page 8 and try your luck at selecting the right numbers.

GI in Japan Denies Enticing Shooting Victim

Lawyer Readies Defense Despite Efforts in U.S. to Block Trial

CAMP WHITTINGTON, Japan (AP)—GI William Girard declared today Japanese charges that he enticed a woman scrap collector to her death were untrue. He said the fatal shooting was accidental.

The young GI added, however, that he expects a fair trial in Japanese courts.

Girard's Japanese lawyer and his U.S. Army legal adviser went ahead with plans to defend the 21-year-old soldier in the nearby Maebashi District Court despite legal moves by other lawyers in the United States to forestall the Japanese trial.

At the request of attorneys retained by Girard's family, a federal judge in Washington ordered the Army not to yield the soldier to foreign custody before a hearing Tuesday on an application for a writ of habeas corpus.

The Girard family's attorneys in the United States contended Girard shot a trespasser on a U.S. military base while he was on duty, and the U.S.-Japanese status of forces agreement provides only for the Japanese to try servicemen accused of offenses committed while off their bases and off duty.

U.S. authorities in Japan originally held a similar position resisting Japanese demands to yield Girard for trial.

But a decision by Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of Defense Wilson Tuesday to turn Girard over to Japanese jurisdiction in effect upheld the Japanese contention that while Girard was authorized to protect military property, he was not authorized to shoot.

Maj. Stanley Levin of Los Angeles, Girard's adviser, and Itsuro Hayashi, his chief counsel, said the legal action in the United States would not halt preparation for the Japanese trial. They described the habeas corpus request as a test of the constitutionality of DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — Flood waters were reported subsiding in the Southwest despite more rain today, but record crests were forecast for rampaging rivers in the Rocky Mountain region.

Heard Half Mile Away

Violent Car Crash Kills 5

McKEESPORT, Pa. (AP) — An auto crash so violent it awakened residents half a mile away took the lives of five teen-agers near this mill town last night.

"We were just out for a ride, just out for a ride," sobbed the 16-year-old driver, Bruce Wessel, who was one of the two survivors. He told police his auto was forced from the highway by another machine.

The car plunged down a 50-foot embankment and smashed into three trees. The top of the car was sheared away and all seven occupants were thrown out.

The dead, all from East McKeesport, were William Forman, 15, and his twin brother Earl; James Ginther, 15; James Beswick, 14, and Joseph Jones, 15.

Wessel and Charles King, 15, also of East McKeesport, were hospitalized in serious condition.

Dallas Bunnies Take to Smoking a Pack a Day

DALLAS (AP)— If a big red rabbit with a New Zealand accent hops up to you on a street corner and says, "Buddy, can you spare a match?" call the nearest VA hospital. Not for yourself. For the bunny. He's an escapee.

If you're the be-kind-to-animals type, give him a couple of cigarettes before he's carried away. He probably is crazy about them.

Dr. Robert H. Holland of the hospital's staff started the rabbits on their smoking binge about a year ago.

Dr. Holland said today that he and his staff hope to answer the question of whether cigarettes can cause lung cancer.

When a rabbit is put in his smoking box, a lighted cigarette is placed exactly two centimeters from its nose.

Resents Outside Probe of Police

Civil Service Chairman Calls Department Fight 'Our Own Business'

Pontiac Civil Service Commission Chairman Theodore Carlson thinks the fracas between the Pontiac Police Officer's Association and city police Chief Herbert W. Straley, is "our own business, and it is our duty to do any investigating."

Carlson's statement was made in regard to a suggested probe by the former Michigan State Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard into the records and activities of the Pontiac Police Department.

DEMAND PROBE

This idea arose after the police association, in preparing their charges and list of grievances against Straley last Friday, voted to demand that the Civil Service Commission or City Commission be responsible for an investigation of the department under the six-year reign of Straley. They hope such a probe would show cause to oust the chief.

They also voted to demand a probe into their own organization to defend themselves, since Straley publicly charged the group is "being led by a few disgruntled people who want to take over the department for their own benefit, forgetting loyalty and the serious responsibility they have as policemen."

Carlson who represents the firemen and police on the commission, said he didn't think it would be necessary to have Leonard

Thorpes Return Today

DETROIT (INS) — Confessed embezzlers Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thorpe were expected at Willow Run Airport today after a flight from justice that lasted 15 months.

The Thorpes, of St. Clair Shores, are being returned from Corpus Christi, Tex., where they were seized by FBI agents for embezzling more than $80,000 from the secretary of state branch office Mrs. Thorpe managed.

U. S. Senator Rotary Club Guest

Potter Sees GOP Pitted Against Labor Politics

By PETE LOCHBILER

Organized labor is the force Republicans must beat in the coming state and national elections, Sen. Charles E. Potter predicted in Pontiac yesterday.

Potter warned that the Republican economic philosophy of free-enterprise is pitted against union-favored socialism.

Calling the common workman "a pawn" used by politically ambitious labor leaders, Michigan's top GOP elective-officeholder said that a socialist-type national government is a possibility—perhaps by 1964—unless Republicans put a halt to organized labor's mushrooming victories in politics.

"And I definitely place Gov. Williams (a Democrat) as one of the figureheads in this movement," the senator added after an off-the-cuff speech before a turnout of about 75 members of the Pontiac Rotary Club.

Williams frequently is mentioned as a possible political contender next year against Potter, who was elected to his first term in the Senate five years ago.

MAY SEEK RE-ELECTION

Saying that he had never actually announced his intention to run for re-election, Potter let it be understood that he probably will be in the Senate race again next year.

★ ★ ★

The Cheboygan Republican told Rotarians that invasion of politics by such labor leaders as Walter Reuther, UAW president in Detroit and national AFL-CIO vice president, was a growing menace to business.

"Reuther decided he couldn't get what he wanted at the bargaining table, so he turned to power politics."

The labor leader, Potter said, is spending union dues of "hard working union members" on politics.

"It would cost Republicans $750,000-a-yea. to dulpicate labor's political propaganda program in Michigan," he said.

"Reuther wants a socialist-type of government, and he'll get it, too, unless those who believe in free enterprise unite with at least an equal diligence," Potter added.

"Too many Republican businessmen want to be mere political spectators," he said. "I'm convinced that the business community of this nation must work together to meet this political challenge, and work hard."

He blamed Republican "apathy at the polls" for recent election defeats at the hands of Michigan's Democratic Party-organized labor coalition, which Williams heads.

Potter also spoke concerning the national budget and the invocation of the Fifth Amendment by witnesses testifying in Congressional investigations.

Convinced the present budget will be trimmed by an additional $3 to $4.5 billion before it is approved by Congress, Potter pointed to the danger of underbudgeting for defense.

WANTS AID, NOT HANDOUT

Saying that U. S. military aid to foreign countries is a good investment, Potter added that direct grants, which amount to about one-quarter of the foreign aid program, are "of dubious value."

"Foreign nations don't think very highly of our country in its role of big, rich uncle," he stated.

The Senator hoped that in the future the courts would "tighten up" their interpretations of the Fifth Amendment, by which witnesses are guaranteed the right to refuse to incriminate themselves.

"I think everyone has a right to assume that a witness who invokes the Fifth Amendment is trying to hide the truth," he said.

The 40-year-old Republican, who lost both his legs in France during World War II, said the Rotary Club's invitation yesterday to speak on politics was a "highly unusual offer that I'm glad to take advantage of."

The senator was introduced by Harold A. Fitzgerald, Pontiac Press publisher, who cited Potter's "outstanding job" as a junior Senator.

Fitzgerald, who arranged Potter's visit here, said it was the second time in the club's history that it was honored by the appearance of a U. S. senator.

Methodists Ask Veto on Tax Bill

Fight Associating Schools With Whisky, Cigarettes

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. Williams was asked by Michigan Methodist Church leaders yesterday to veto a school aid bill which would raise 24 million dollars in cigarette and whisky taxes.

The church people said they objected to the association of liquor and tobacco taxes with education.

The request came in the form of a resolution passed at the Detroit annual conference of the Methodist Church. The resolution read in part:

"While we are in full accord with the public school system and favor any necessary taxation for its support, and while we do not object to the recent taxes levied on cigarettes and alcoholic beverages, we regret that these taxes are associated with our schools and the education of our children."

The state legislature May 25 approved a bill which would increase the tax on cigarettes by two cents a pack and boost the tax on liquor by four per cent.

The money raised by the new taxes would be earmarked for school aid. The bill requires only the governor's signature to become law.

The conference also urged legislators to sustain a gubernatorial veto. The conference represents Methodist churches in eastern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula.

Shiver and Shake, Says Weatherman

The weather man has predicted cooler temperatures and scattered showers for this area tonight, ending tomorrow. Tonight's low will be 54 to 58 degrees.

Saturday will be somewhat warmer with the mercury expected to reach a high near 73.

The U. S. Weather Bureau has reported temperatures will average 4 to 8 degrees below the normal high of 74 to 78 and normal low of 52 to 57 for the next five days. A warming trend is expected Monday, followed by cooler temperatures on Wednesday.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 50. At 2 p.m. the temperature was 57.

'Copter Saves Downed Flier; 1 Pilot Missing

Exercises Cut Short as 16 Ships Join Hunt Off Florida

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (INS) — The body of the second of two Navy jet pilots who crashed during naval maneuvers witnessed by President Eisenhower was recovered todays a few hours after the first flier was rescued from his tiny life-raft.

The pilot, Cmdr. J. E. Tefft, commander of Fighter Squadron 31 at Cecil Field, Fla., was picked up from a life raft 120 miles northeast of Mayport, Fla. He was reported in "very good condition" despite the ordeal of his night at sea.

Sixteen ships from the task group continued to search, meanwhile, for the remaining flier whose faster-than-sound Demon jet also crashed into the Atlantic.

The supercarrier Saratoga, serving as Eisenhower's flagship, sent a number of her planes to join the massive air-sea rescue operation shortly after dawn.

The President looked on from the flag deck this morning as the Saratoga launched a medium-range guided missile which could be used with atomic warheads against surface targets several hundred miles away.

TO BE DOWNED

The missile, which looked like a midget jet plane, was to be shot down later by smaller anti-aircraft missiles.

The rescue of the Navy pilot came after the guided missile cruiser Boston had informed the Valley Forge by radio that "we have a man in a life raft who is waving."

The twin crash cast a shadow over the Navy's big air show for Eisenhower and top brass and caused cancellation of three of the five items on this morning's wind-up program.

2 SHIPS STAY

Only two ships, the light cruiser Northampton and the destroyer Fox, remained with the Saratoga, which was circling on the fringe of the search area.

Just how much of the show planned for the President today would still go on was a question—since both the Boston and Valley Forge among the ships participating in the search were to have played major roles in demonstrations scheduled for this morning.

The fact that the two missing jets and a third which crashed near the Saratoga yesterday were the highly touted Crusaders added an ironic twist to the tragedy.

It had been a proud moment for the Navy yesterday when two of the swept-wing Crusaders landed on the Saratoga after streaking across the country from San Diego in three hours and 28 minutes.

The jets which landed on the Saratoga had flown non-stop from the carrier Bon Homme Richard in the Pacific, a transcontinental "first."

They averaged more than 650 miles per hour and hit a peak speed of over 1000 miles per hour.

The President's naval aide, Capt. E. P. Aurand, suggested it might have been a faulty batch of gasoline which caused the three planes from the same fighter squadron at Cecil Field, Fla., to crash on the same day.

Auto Industry Calls 'Speed' Dirty Word

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry says that from now on speed is a dirty word.

It is to be replaced in the trade's vocabulary by safety, reliability and comfort.

These directors include the presidents of the Big Three in the industry—General Motors, Ford and Chrysler—as well as top executives from every other volume producer of passenger cars.

If the decision is adhered to rigidly, the days probably are gone when car A will claim it won the Pike's Peak Race while car B says it swept the field at Daytona Beach.

The manufacturers have made wide use of race and contents results in their advertising.

ENGINES JUMP

Engines have jumped from a mere 80 horsepower before World War II to 300 plus in luxury models. Acceleration tests have been ballyhooed.

But at its annual meeting yesterday the association took action.

Its strongly worded resolution said that the manufacturers shouldn't take part, in any event even suggesting racing or speed.

And it barred the use of actual or comparative ratings of cars for speed, specific engine size, torque, horsepower or ability to accelerate or perform "in any contest that suggests speed."

CARS SAFE

Instead, the industry wants to emphasize that cars provide "safe reliable and comfortable transportation."

The automobile industry has come under heavy fire in recent years for increasing horsepower.

It has replied that much of the criticism has been unjust, that a lot more power is needed to run the heavier, gadget-laden cars of 1957 than it took to operate their counterparts of 10 years ago.

★ ★ ★

The board's resolution noted that it shares "the public interest in increasing the safety of highway travel."

Know the Weather

By E. R. SIMS

Do tornadoes occur over the ocean? Why is it that seamen seldom encounter vicious tornadoes?

Tornadoes do occur over the ocean. However, they are usually smaller than their land-bred cousins and they last only a few minutes, in most cases. The reason you do not hear sailors talking of tornadoes is that they refer to what actually is a water tornado by another name—waterspout.

The waterspout was once a great mystery to seafarers. Even today much of the ignorance which still prevails concerning tornadoes also prevails in connection with the waterspout. But it is pretty well established that waterspouts do not suck ocean water up into their funnels (except for a few feet) and that they are, in reality, ocean-going tornadoes.

Thus, the funnel, if it contains water, contains water from the clouds above, not from the ocean. And the old idea that a "spout" from the ocean was involved is completely erroneous.

Waterspouts, or ocean tornadoes, are sometimes awesome sights, to be sure, but they seem to be less vicious than the midwestern plains type and do little damage on the water.

Oakland Judge Will Head Pontiac Advisory Council

JUDGE ADAMS

At the annual meeting of the Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council held last night, Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams was unanimously elected president of the organization for 1957-59.

He will succeed Fred V. Haggard, the council's first president, who was honored preceding the business meeting at a testimonial dinner held at Waldron Hotel.

The Executive Committee of the council presented Haggard with an engraved desk set and pocket secretary, for his service as president.

Other officers elected by some 70 delegates were: Mrs. Socrates V. Sekles, vice president; Mrs. Neil Wasserberger, recording secretary; and Carroll Osmun, treasurer.

NAMED DIRECTORS

The following were elected to the council's Board of Directors: George Watson, with term expiring in 1958; Smith Falconer, 1959; Maurice J. Croteau, Mrs. George W. Gray, Sr., Mrs. Barney W. Habel, James Spence, Mrs. William Wright, Robert Stierer, and Haggard, 1960.

Other 1955-57 officers stepping down last evening were Mrs. William Wright, vice president; Mrs. Forrest Brown, secretary; and Dr. George N. Petroff, treasurer.

Following a preview of Pontiac's proposed civic auditorium, Mrs. Sekles, president of the Pontiac Foundation, accepted a $2,500 check from Mrs. Marian K. Jacobs, Mrs. Lillian K. Brenner, and Mrs. Ester K. Goldberg, daughters of the late Jacob Kovinsky.

Haggard told delegates that the 1956 "Outstanding Citizen" trophy went to Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein. It was awarded last week as Saperstein was leaving Pontiac.

In other business, William Wright, chairman of the council's Handicapped Rehabilitation Committee, announced that additional space must be found if Goodwill Industries activities here were to be expanded.

come in to investigate the situation.

LAWS CLEAR

"The civil service laws are clear as to what we as a commission and they (members of the police department) can and can not do including a code of ethics," Carlson said.

Although no formal charges and demands have been brought to the commission by the association, Carlson said if such an investigation was deemed necessary, the three men on the commission should be the ones to do it.

One of the five powers and duties of the civil service commission listed in Act 78, under which the police and fire departments are ruled, requires the commission to make investigations, "concerning all matters touching the enforcement and effect . . . rules and regulations" of the two departments.

POWER TO SUBPOENA

The act also gives the commission the power to subpoena witnesses and take testimony during the investigations.

Gerald Guinan, who represents the City Commission on the Civil Service Commission, said "the Civil Service commission was in no shape to make any statements regarding Leonard because nothing has been presented to or asked of us."

"I don't think the charges are too serious . . . but we will get to the bottom of the thing if the association bring the problem to us," he added.

The third member of the commission, Stuart Austin, said the commission had not met about the problem and were "letting it hang until the charges are presented to us."

City Manager Walter K. Willman commented on the proposed investigation by Leonard by saying:

"If and when any charges are brought out—and none have been to date—and they prove serious enough to warrant an outside investigation, I personally would have no objection."

Willman said that the proposed charges have been tried in the newspapers and not yet brought to the proper channels.

He added he has "the highest regard for Donald Leonard."

Man Crushed to Death by Oncoming DSR Bus

DETROIT (INS) — A factory worker in Detroit was crushed to death yesterday when he stepped off one DSR bus and dashed into the path of another at Van Dyke and Eight Mile.

Witnesses said Nick Stark, 64, of 11316 Paige, Warren, ran into the path of the bus. Driver of the coach was released after giving a statement to police.

Day Camp Spaces Completely Filled

All spaces in this year's Frog Hollow Day Camp for boys and girls, seven through 13, have been filled, Leonard T. Buzz, recreation supervisor of the Parks and Recreation Dept., has announced.

He said 504 registrations have been received for the seven camping periods sponsored annually by the department and the Board of Education.

Buzz said there was a waiting list of 100 children for the camp which opens June 24.

Molner Issues Warning on Rheumatic Fever

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit Health Commissioner Joseph G. Molner warns parents to watch their children for symptoms which might indicate rheumatic fever.

Molner said a close lookout is particularly essential if the child has recently recovered from "strep throat," tonsilitis or scarlet fever.

The commissioner said a youngster will recover from a sore throat in a few days, but if he or she happens to be susceptible, signs of rheumatic fever may appear two or three weeks later.

Driver's Leg Broken as Result of Collision

Calvin C. Barr, 46, of 2825 Devondale St., is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with a broken leg and lacerations received in an accident at Auburn and Adams Roads yesterday.

Barr's car collided with a car driven by Eloise Ramsey, 34, of 3153 Willett St. Miss Ramsey was uninjured.

Ships to Seek Clues

Dump Yields Weapon; Warrant Order Possible for One Suspect

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said that a warrant may be ordered today against one of two men being held for investigation. They are Elmer F. Martin, 33, of 264 N. Saginaw St. and Ollie Byrd, 37, of 2584 Eleven Mile road, Southfield Township.

Authorities had been working on the assumption, Ziem said, that a pen knife found in Martin's possession was the death weapon. But Martin yesterday explained he had used a larger knife, which he threw away at the scene, Ziem added.

Martin was to be asked to identify the larger knife before the prosecutor's office decides on a formal charge, Ziem said.

★ ★ ★

Margaret's Baby Inherits Truman as Middle Name

Newsman Clifton Daniel announced last night that his first child would be named for the grandfathers — Harry S. Truman of Independence, Mo., and E. Clifton Daniel of Zebulon, N.C.

Daniel said he and his wife, the former Margaret Truman, were "in perfect agreement" on the name.

He said they had held up the announcement until after former President Truman and his wife Bess arrived here yesterday to see their first grandchild.

Daniel, a member of the staff of the New York Times, said he had informed his parents by telephone about the decision on naming the baby, born early Wednesday at Doctors Hospital. The paternal grandparents are coming here later to see the child.

★ ★ ★

Truman has said he did not want the child named entirely after him — because it would be a handicap.

Moore Suspended for Missing Bout

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The National Boxing Assn. today suspended light heavyweight champion Archie Moore for failure to fight challenger Tony Anthony at Detroit in a title defense.

NBA President Floyd Stevens said the suspension automatically followed an Association mandate which ordered Moore to meet Anthony today according to an agreement after Anthony defeated Chuck Speiser.

"We had told Moore if he didn't fight Anthony we would suspend him and if he didn't defend his title within 30 days after June 7, we would vacate the title," Stevens said.

As GI in Japan Faces Trial

Fiancee Prays and Waits

This lament came tearfully today from the diminutive Japanese fiancee of William S. Girard, the Illinois GI accused of manslaughter in the slaying of a Japanese woman.

LOVES SOLDIER

Tiny Haru "Candy" Sueyama received newsmen in her cottage at Kagohara near Camp Whittington where Girard is quartered, and in halting English told of her love for the soldier.

Newsmen fresh from an interview with Girard said he told them he wanted to marry her as soon as he was free.

"I am so happy," she cried. I love him so much. But the important thing now is that he should be free."

PRAY FOR HIM

"I pray for him every day," she added holding her hand to her heart, . . . that God should make him free."

MOVIE STARS

Before the TV interview, she knelt down before a miniature Buddhist shrine on the table. She closed her eyes and crossed her arms in prayer.

DON'T KNOW

She was asked what she thought about the American decision to turn Girard over to Japan for trial and said:

"I don't know . . . I don't know."

Pointing to a Japanese newspaper, she said:

"I read in paper Girard get lawyer in States."

Then she raised her hands, crying:

The Day in Birmingham

Area Psychiatrist Starts Family Study Program

BIRMINGHAM—Dr. J. Clark Moloney, Birmingham psychiatrist and active in the founding of the Cornelian Corner of Detroit, Inc., has urged early reservations for the seminar scheduled for June 15 and 16. Limited to 100, seminars will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. at Christ Church Cranbrook. Dr. Hyman S. Lippman, will conduct the seminar, speaking on "The Family Milieu of the Delinquent Child."

The Cornelian philosophy of child development and mental health advocates a warm relaxed and psychologically satisfying relationship between mother and child. The family milieu has many facets for thought and discussion in this relation. Dr. Lippman is clinical professor of psychiatry and pediatrics and professor of social work at the University of Minnesota. He also is director of the Wilder Child Guidance Clinic at St. Paul.

Reservations may be made through Jean Ruehle, 9325 Bishop Rd., Detroit 24.

GI Denies Luring Japanese to Death

Hayashi said the case probably would not go to court for two months because of the time needed to prepare the defense. In the meantime, Girard remains in U.S. Army custody at this camp of the 1st Cavalry Division. He has been restricted to camp more than four months while the case developed into a hot international issue.

In a news conferepce arranged by Levin and Hayashi, Girard denied the accusation that he enticed Mrs. Naka Sakai, 46, onto an Army firing range last Jan. 30 before firing a blank rifle cartridge from a grenade launcher. Japanese newspapers have asserted Girard threw shells to the ground for Mrs. Sakai to retrive and then shot her.

"I did not scatter any shells," Girard said.

"I don't know if I can express the right words," the soldier continued. "I was pretty well shook up and very sorry" at the death of Mrs. Sakai.

Girard said he hoped to visit the dead woman's husband to pay his condolences.

Asked how he felt about the possibility that he might be imprisoned in a Japanese jail, Girard said: "I'll worry about that if the time comes."

The charge against him, equivalent to manslaughter, carries a maximum penalty of 15 years imprisonment.

Except for the denial that he scattered empty cartridges to lure Mrs. Sakai, Levin advised Girard not to answer other questions about details of the shooting.

The GI said he thinks Japanese "are very nice people."

He praised the loyalty of his Japanese fiancee Haru (Candy) Sueyama, and said he hopes to marry her "when this is all over with."

Levin said both he and Hayashi "are fully satisfied that there will be a completely fair and open trial in Japan, and so is Girard."

To Fill McCarthy Seat

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Wisconsin voters will vote in a special election Aug. 27 to fill the U. S. Senate vacancy caused by the death of Sen. Joseph McCarthy. The term will expire in January 1959.

WESLEY D. JOHNSON

Named as Assistant at Children's Home

Wesley D. Johnson, an employe of Oakland County Children's Home four years, has been named assistant superintendent.

Johnson, 30, will take over the job held since last October by Gordon L. Morrison, who has resigned to return to university studies, Superintendent William O. Moulton Jr. announced.

The new assistant has been head boys' supervisor since October 1954.

MARIE LEBLANC

Service will be at 11 a.m. tomorrow from the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. for Miss Marie LeBlanc, 71, of 94 Colorado, Highland Park. Burial will be in Romeo.

Miss LeBlanc, a beautician, died yesterday in Highland Park General Hospital. There are no survivors.

MRS. JOHN H. PRATT

A former resident of Birmingham, Mrs. John H. (Thelma) Pratt, 36, of G-5306 Lippincott Bldg., Flint, died suddenly yesterday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. She was a member of the Lutheran Church.

Service will be held at 1 p.m. Monday from the Manley Bailey

Fire loses averaged $6.25 for each of the 12 alarms answered in Birmingham last month, according to Chief Park H. Smith. He said the trucks went out on 12 calls where damages totaled $75 to building contents only.

The department made two gas investigations, four miscellaneous runs, and answered three first aid calls.

In an unusual public endorsement, Ernest W. Seaholm, retiring president of the Birmingham Board of Education, this week asked voters to elect Bennett W. Root to fill the vacancy on the board.

Seaholm called the 40 year old Root, "the logical candidate." He said all candidates are qualified but Root is the one to elect."

Norway to Accept U.S. Missiles Offer

OSLO (AP)—The Norwegian government says it will accept a U.S. offer of guided missiles to bolster Norway's defense forces.

★ ★ ★

Defense Minister Nils Handal told Parliament last night the new equipment would in no way change the defense character of this country's armed forces.

Norway was among the nations the Soviet Union warned recently against allowing atomic missile bases to be established on their territory.

The United States has offered Norway equipment for a guided missile Honest John battalion which fires ground-to-ground targets and a battalion of ground-to air Nike Ajax missiles.

★ ★ ★

Start Harbor Deepening

CHEBOYGAN (AP)—Work has begun on a contract for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers to clear and deepen Cheboygan Harbor to 21 feet. The same depth will be established in the Cheboygan River along a 7,000-foot channel extending to the Straits of Mackinac.

Swim Pool Claims Refugee Tot's Life

SEA CLIFF, N. Y. (AP)—The 23-month-old daughter of a Hungarian woman refugee drowned last night in a swimming pool.

Mrs. Borbala Palfavi, her husband and her child Maria were staying at the home here of Dr. Kalman Istok, a physician of Hungarian birth who provides shelter for a group of Hungarian refugees.

★ ★ ★

A number of children were romping in the vicinity of the pool when Maria fell in. She was pulled out of the water in less than a minute. But efforts by firemen failed to revive her.

U.S., Reds Poles Apart on Halting A-Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and Russia appeared to be about as far apart as ever today on the issue of calling off atomic weapons tests.

Statements made at almost the same time by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and President Eisenhower dramatized the deadlock which stands in spite of much recent optimism here about the possibility of a "first-step" disarmament agreement with the Russians in the next year or so.

Furthermore, President Eisenhower's expressed interest in ridding the world of atomic weapons—judged by all available evidence—seems to be a long way from realization.

In answering questions at his news conference yesterday, Eisenhower said he would "like to allay all anxiety in the world by a total and complete ban on all testing, based upon total disarmament" in the field of nuclear weapons.

But he emphasized the requirement of an effective inspection system. He repeatedly stated that so long as there remains a chance that atomic weapons would be used in war, tests must be continued.

Early in his news conference he summarized the United States policy on testing in these words: "I have tried, and this government has tried, to make the abolition of tests a part of a general system of disarmament, controlled and inspected disarmament.

"If we can do that, we will be glad enough and very quickly to stop tests. But we do have the job of protecting the country."

The Soviet position, which American officials say always contains a considerable element of propaganda when stated publicly, was set forth by Bulganin in a message to a meeting of the International Labor Organization at Geneva.

"The Soviet Union . . . is ready," he said, "to conclude an appropriate agreement on the whole problem on disarmament as well as on its particular aspects, including an agreement on the immediate cessation of nuclear weapons tests."

He said that Russia has long sought "prohibition of atomic and hydrogen weapons." He did not emphasize as the President had done the element of inspection and policing.

★ ★ ★

In some ways the ideas expressed by Eisenhower seemed to harden the American position on testing, if they reflected any change at all.

'Kingfish' Gets Married

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tim Moore, 69, better known as the Kingfish of the Amos 'n' Andy show, is getting married today to Mrs. Vivian J. Gravens, 39.

About three-fourths of the U.S. supply of linseed oil and linseed meals comes from Minnesota mills.

Jury Canceled as Man Pleads Guilty to Charge

The jury ordered to hear the March 4 drunk driving case against a Roseville man Wednesday was canceled after the accused pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of reckless driving.

Paul J. Killen, 38, of 15406 Hill Ct., Roseville, paid a $100 fine instead of 20 days in jail Wednesday when he appeared before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum.

Chalks Outstanding Record in Survey of 548 Comparative Cities

Pontiac Cited for Low Fire Loss

There are four main reasons why the Pontiac Fire Department chalked up an outstanding record in 1956, as compared to 547 municipal fire departments in a recent national survey.

Pontiac Fire Chief John F. Schroeder pinpoints the survey's high rating of the local department to the department's efficient fire-fighting training program and increased fire marshall inspections.

Quick action of the men to get to the fires before they are out of control and "just plain luck" in not having any large fires in 1956, were also factors, he added.

The study, based on data from municipal fire departments by the National Fire Protection Association, shows Pontiac ended the 1956 year with a $352 loss per building fire compared to the $1,075 average of the other cities, all over 20,000 in population.

BETTER THAN 1955

Pontiac also improved her own 1955 record which was $417 per fire.

A total of $136,000 overall loss was estimated in the 385 building fires in the city, compared to the $182,770 in 1955.

On a per capita basis, according to the study, this loss was equivalent to $1.63 per person, well below the $4.39 per person average of the other cities.

The national report added that relatively few fires broke out in Pontiac in 1956—385, compared to 439 in 1955. This indicated "good prevention measures."

MANY CAR FIRES

Automobile fires kept Pontiac firemen busy throughout the year. About one out of five involved an automobile.

Malicious false alarms, distinguished from false alarms turned in through mistakes totaled 100 in Pontiac or about 8 per cent of the fires.

Schroeder said he thinks the new $100,000 station which opened two weeks ago at Genesee avenue and Huron street, can cut fire loss down even more in 1957, provided there aren't any disasters.

Station 5 will take much of the load off of the downtown station, since it will cover territory west of the Huron street railroad tracks to the ~~northern boundary of the~~ city.

Previously, station 1, located downtown, had to handle fires here. Schroeder said the new station would also cut time in reaching fires.

TOKYO (INS)—"Daughters for sale."

It is an old cry in the Orient. Now, more and more hardpressed Japanese families are resorting to this ancient, illegal and immoral practice to make ends meet.

Japanese authorities said today that poor crops and slim fish catches, especially in Hokkaido, are responsible.

More than 15,000 young girls, social welfare officials said, were "sold" in 1956, double figures of the previous year. They said the total for this year will go higher although precise statistics have not been compiled for any part of 1957.

Ostensibly the girls—whose average age last year was 22—are sold to prospective employers to work as waitresses, maids, or factory girls until they earn enough to pay off their "sale" price.

OPERATE UNDER COVER

The girl-buying rings, which operate covertly throughout the nation, usually pay $50 to $80 to a poverty stricken family for a healthy, strong "specimen."

★ ★ ★

The family is promised that as soon as the girl has earned this amount of "advance salary" she will be returned to the farm or fishing village.

But, authorities said, more than 80 per cent of the girls wind up, not in the jobs they were slated for, but in red light districts in Tokyo and other large cities.

Buyers of daughters oftimes make no attempt to hide their intentions when they willingly pay up to $300 for a particularly pretty young maiden.

The rural families don't see their daughters again for many years because a considerable number become virtual slaves in bars, restaurants or houses of prostitution.

Completely at the mercy of cafe or brothel owners, their clothing, lodging and meals are deducted from their salaries with the result that they earn little toward paying off their debt to their bosses.

Often, the authorities said, the girls actually sink deeper and deeper into debt.

Police officials said it is difficult for them to curb the tragic practice because all parties to the daughter sales are interested in keeping it secret.

Sons are sold, too, to be kept virtual slaves as laborers.

Most rural families, which have been selling daughters to geisha houses for 300 years, do not attach any evil significance to the practice.

For the farmer or Fisherman, it is a ready means to stop-gap funds and at the same time it reduces the number of mouths to feed from his meager rice supply.

City Man Bound Over on Morals Charge

Alex James Ragan, 453 Orchard Lake Ave., was ordered committed to the Oakland County Jail by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum until Monday when the accused failed to furnish a $3,000 bond after he waived examination and was bound over to the higher court.

Schimmel and Oliver Deserve Re-Election

This year it's different.

W. S. Downes has challenged the school board and offered two opposition candidates. The Press has looked into the school matter. We pay a lot of taxes as a corporation; and so do the 250 individuals that work down here.

SCHIMMEL

We're vitally interested.

We believe the Pontiac schools have been carefully, capably and efficiently administered.

Louis H. Schimmel, a candidate, is one of the outstanding school finance men in the United States. We don't confine the area to Michigan or the Middle West, and this opinion is shared by bond men with whom we've conferred. Getting his services on the school board "for free" is one of the greatest breaks local taxpayers ever had.

Robert B. Oliver is a lifelong resident of Pontiac and has followed the progress of education for years and years, just as his father did before him. Mr. Oliver is a Pontiac business man of unquestioned reputation and honesty.

★ ★ ★

Here are two outstanding men with fine school experience. We haven't a thing in the world against either of their opponents, but we gravely question whether the Downes' selections have had as much general business training; and we are certain they are far, far shy of the great school experience that accrues to the incumbents.

OLIVER

★ ★ ★

The new schools in Pontiac ARE NOT WASTEFUL AND FULL OF FRILLS. The easiest way in the world to settle this question is to TAKE A FIRST HAND LOOK YOURSELF.

Can you find gingerbread?

We couldn't. And we looked.

Can you see wasteful construction?

We couldn't. And, again — we looked.

★ ★ ★

The new buildings are plain, serviceable and without ornament. Furthermore, after discussing the costs of one story and two story schools, we are convinced that there is very little difference in the long run. Both types offer some financial advantages. It is easy enough to emphasize one and ignore the other.

The charge of "costly buildings" seems to be completely exploded upon examination.

This newspaper favors low taxes.

We favor less governmental spending. But we simply cannot see how the school board has failed in its duty to the taxpayers in the current new schools.

The area is growing rapidly and needs the best trained and most experienced men on the school board that we can get.

Schimmel and Oliver richly deserve re-election.

Like Father—Like Son

In his current testimony before the Senate Committee, he threw further shame and embarrassment on the union. His conduct in general was about what you'd expect from one with his background. He had most of the disagreeable features of his father with a few new ones of his own tossed in for "good measure."

★ ★ ★

"The Fifth Amendment may have to be amended," said one sober faced Senator after listening to the guff and cheap chatter of a cheap individual. "It's original purpose has been lost sight of."

Perhaps he's right.

The United States still comes first.

Nothing to Worry Us in Our Fuel Future

Some experts warned 25 years ago that we might run short of fuel in the not too distant future.

But now, with a population of 170 million, scientists say we have lots of fuel beneath the earth. U.S. geologists think we have enough coal, oil, gas and related reserves to meet the country's needs at an ever expanding rate for the next 1,000 years.

Coal, our greatest source of fuel, is being moved today by cheap waterway and sometimes by pipelines in a semi-fluid form. Users are finding cheaper and more efficient ways of burning this fuel. The oil industry is expanding tremendously with many chemical by-products being developed.

Geologists are confident that in addition to known reserves, there are vast supplies still untapped. These could be developed to more than keep pace with our rising consumption. We also have large stocks of low grade coal and oil shale.

In addition to all this, atomic and solar energy are being tested and may be available at a competitive cost in a few years. Science and industry working together are solving many of our problems.

David Lawrence Says:

Ike's Press Conferences Poor

WASHINGTON — If ever there was an example of how presidential press conferences, with their impromptu questions and spur-of-the-moment answers, tend to produce ambiguities and inferences that promote friction and misunderstanding here and abroad, it was this week's session at the White House with the newsmen.

LAWRENCE

Thus, the President's remarks on the Khrushchev broadcast and trade with Red China, unfortunately, were given a meaning in subsequent press dispatches which the President could hardly have intended to convey.

UNUSUAL EFFORT

Eisenhower, when asked, for instance, about the Soviet spokesman's broadcast last Sunday over the Columbia Broadcasting System, said:

"A commercial firm in this country, trying to improve its own commercial standing, went to unusual effort to get someone that was — who really made a unique performance in front of our people, and he could do that because this is a free country."

Now, the President thought that, by the use of the word "commercial," he was making a distinction between the case of a private, as contrasted with a governmental, operation. But some of his hearers, who seemed sensitive about the word "commercial" — maybe because they think it is tainted with some kind of materialism that reflects on their profession—promptly got irritated.

NOTHING DEROGATORY

Nothing in a derogatory sense was intended by the President, as the further context of his remarks plainly showed, when he drew a distinction between the enterprise of a private organization in this country and the necessity of some such initiative coming from the analagous set-up abroad—which happens to be government-controlled in the Soivet Union.

Had the President revised the transcript of the press conference to emphasize private initiative, there would have been no misunderstanding. For the President's real meaning was brought out in the continuation of his remarks as follows:

"Now, if the President of the United States should go to Russia and ask for full time, let's see what he would get: First of all, there are 14 television stations, and there is radio coverage. I would say that if the Soviet Union — in return for that courtesy — of themselves wanted to ask an American, no matter who it might be, because, after all, you know Khrushchev is not the head of the state—except in power—but if they should invite an American to come, and guarantee that there would be no jamming, that there would be no interference, that they wouldn't put up counter-attractions to take people away from their radios, and all that sort of thing, for that time—if you can believe that that will happen—I can tell you this, that somebody in this government would be glad to accept."

Now, the big news in that answer is that the American government really does want a chance to reply and yet doesn't feel that it should beg for radio or television time, but that the facilities should be offered on the initiative of the Russians.

Mention of the point about private or "commercial" initiative in America was related solely to a matter of procedure — not substance. The fact remains that the American government now has challenged the Soviet Union to open up her facilities for a reply by some spokesman for the United States.

There was an ambiguity, too, in the President's answers about trade with Red China. He said:

"Now, frankly, I am personally of the school of thought which believes that trade, in the long run, cannot be stopped. You are going to have either just authorized trade or you are going to have clandestine trade. You can stop the shipments from here, that is in the law, and that will be continued as long as it is in the law."

These are subjects that call for more cautious and unambiguous treatment in press conferences.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Extra Sensitive to Pain? Try Calcium, Vitamin D

Some individuals seem less sensitive to pain than others. A big strong man may holler more over a bellyache or complain more about a headache or neuralgia or a little excavation by the dentist than a frail, gentle woman.

DR. BRADY

I quote from Bastedo's Materia Medica, Pharmacology and Therapeutics, an authoritative textbook not available to the public:

"Calcium chloride, gluconate, and lactate are employed to relieve pain in inoperable cancer and in ureteral (kidney) or biliary (liver, gallstone) colic."

Intravenous injection of a solution of calcium has given the greatest relief to the painful cramps of black widow poisoning.

I quote from Brady's Why Have Headache?, a pamphlet available to any one who sends me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and asks for it:

"For most migraine" (periodic sick headache) I advise high calcium diet . . . supplemented by extra rations of calcium and vitamin D."

NEED VITAMIN D

Incidentally, I believe some do not derive full benefit from either a high calcium diet or from calcium supplements because they fail to get enough vitamin D to insure good metabolism or utilization of calcium. This applies, whether calcium is used as medicine or as an essential nutrient.

★ ★ ★

I hope no reader gets the impression that a dose of calcium will relieve headache, neuralgia, or other ache or pain. I say nothing of the kind.

I merely emphasize one of the physiological functions of calcium, namely, it keeps the pain threshold high. In other words, if you get an adequate daily ration of calcium and vitamin D, all your aches and pains will very likely be little ones.

(1) Necessary for clotting blood

(2) Necessary for vigorous contraction of heart muscle.

(3) Regulates excitability of nerve fibers and nerve centers — "steadies" the nerves.

Volumette XXVI of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health is The Calcium Shortage — for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope. It describes the high calcium diet and tells how to supplement the ordinary diet to correct or prevent numerous common ailments.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

Readers Declare Hospital Comes Before Auditorium

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

When I lived in San Francisco, I occasionally observed the wife of a crippled professional street beggar picking him up "from work" in their Cadillac. Is there not a similar incongruity here in Pontiac? One moment our City fathers are begging 1½ million dollars to finish our hospital, and the next day they are grandly announcing a four million dollar civic auditorium project.

If completion of the hospital is not more important to Pontiac than building a "white elephant" auditorium by 1961, then I guess we just do not need the completed hospital as badly as we have been led to believe—so I, for one, hereby cease worrying about it.

A. C. Roberts

As a person interested in the growth of Pontiac, let's forget the Civic Center until the Hospital and sewer problems are solved and are operating.

F. H. H.

★ ★ ★

What in the world is that strange looking structure over the proposed Civic Center? Since it apparently serves no purpose and certainly doesn't add to the appearance of the building, just what is it doing there? I've heard several people wondering the same thing. For the price of that we could probably add a few rooms to the hospital.

Man Comments on Advertising

It is easy to see why The Pontiac Press wins so many honors for newspaper composition. I refer to page 4, May 28. On this page is a large gasoline ad, a large whisky ad and a large ad by a grave marker and cemetery monument manufacturer. That set up should have saved careless holiday drivers some time. On the opposite page, you will see an undertaker looking for business.

'No Presidents Are Flawless'

A recent writer seems to think FDR was the mirror of perfection, but historians resist mirrors of perfection and are ruthless in tearing down character, from Presidents right on down the line. Crime breeds crime. It may be that historians of the next decade will declare it was the violence of goon squads (destroying mostly property of opposition Republicans) during Roosevelt's administration in 1936 and 1937 that was the father of crime and vandalism of 1957.

There's a parallel between Emperor Octavian and Roosevelt. Both set themselves up as deities. Octavian set up a statue of himself. FDR's "statue" is that he can do no wrong for millions of U.S. citizens. No President is worth adulation. They all have their flaws.

'Go Bare Legged With Discretion'

We are beginning to see some of the silly signs of summer. I'm not opposed to girls and women going without stockings, but somehow the sight of two lily white legs paddling around the center of the city leaves me limp and cold.

If a girl wants to go bare legged, it certainly has popular approval today, but she ought to get some decent degree of tan so she doesn't look like a hospital case that sneaked out the rear door.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Women Must Plan for Life Alone

Martha felt bereft when Hank married Nancy. For Martha had failed to take out "emotional insurance." So she was unprepared for the shock. Widows and those due to retire on Social Security should study this case carefully and build up "emotional insurance."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case V-305: Martha R., aged 58, is the mother of Hank, the bachelor who finally married Nancy, as described yesterday.

★ ★ ★

"Oh, Dr. Crane, I feel completely lost," Martha exclaimed and began to cry.

CRANE

"What am I going to do now that Henry and Nancy have married? I wanted them to live with me, for this is a large apartment, but they have picked out an apartment of their own.

"It is so terribly lonely here. I have looked after Henry ever since his father died 17 years ago.

"So I don't think I can stand it to be alone'"

INSURE YOUR EMOTIONS

Stellar salesmen sell us fire and theft and life insurance, but millions of us then pay no attention to our "emotional insurance."

★ ★ ★

When Hank first came to my office about his problem of whether to marry or not marry, I realized that a second problem would soon develop if he left his doting mother.

For Hank had served as both crutches to her emotional life, whereas she had been only one crutch to his, while various sweethearts took turns in being the other crutch.

Martha is naturally shocked in her emotional outlook and panicky. She has been carrying almost all her emotional eggs in one basket and now that basket is gone.

She should have foreseen this ultimate disaster 17 years ago when her husband died. Alas, she withdrew from social and church life to a large degree.

★ ★ ★

TEAM WORK SPELLS JOY

God expects us to rely on each other in teamwork. And our team associates include not just our immediate family, but should certainly involve church friends and office or factory associates.

It is psychologically dangerous to withdraw from human contacts and try to live alone.

So when you lose your wife or husband, or find that your only child is taken suddenly by death, by all means go forth and cultivate more active social contacts to make up for the loss.

Never crawl within your shell and thus become eccentric and biased.

If a wife, like Martha, loses her husband, it is perfectly proper for such a woman to expend love and care on her living child. But she should always take out "emotional insurance."

★ ★ ★

This means, she should deliberately plan for the time when she should push her child out into a home of its own.

And to help bolster her own emotional needs in such a crisis, she needs active particiaption in the Women's Society of her church, plus other neighborhood and civic duties.

Every able-bodied person should also have a job. Even if you have plenty of money to meet your living expenses, you should have some absorbing full-time hobby.

If you folks who are soon to retire on Social Security, wish to take out emotional insurance, then plan ahead for that hobby. You can't be healthy or happy just marking time, waiting for the Grim Reaper.

Shift your interests, if need be, but stay in the harness. Die with your boots on.

In short, keep producing something, whether it be quilts and knitted socks, or bird houses, fishing poles or prize contest entries.

In Martha's case, therefore, I helped her get active in a church. She also joined the Red Cross and worked with those jolly women.

And I encouraged Nancy and Hank to call her for advice and solicit her suggestions and have dinner with her at least once per week.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long, 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

I WAS CRIPPLED WITH ARTHRITIS UNTIL I TRIED O-JIB-WA BITTERS

"I could barely walk or raise my arms because of Rheumatism and Arthritis," says Mrs. Frank Gaeman, 611 Wisconsin Avenue, Gladstone, Michigan.

I had been bothered slightly with rheumatism and arthritis for six or seven years, when suddenly two years ago, it became so severe that I was confined to bed for days at a time. My hands were stiff and I couldn't raise my arms to my head. My legs would get cramped so bad, that I could barely walk. My husband had to do the housework, and wash the dishes, as I was unable to do any of it. Believe me, I was really suffering terribly. Then I read about O-JIB-WA BITTERS in my newspaper and decided to try it. It took about a month before the pains and cramps were gone. Soon I was back doing my own housework and a lot of things that I believed I would never be able to do again. I'm getting around fine now, and just finished washing the walls and ceiling of my kitchen. Why I'm even able to get out and help other people with their housework that are ailing with one thing or another. Last winter I shoveled the snow from my walks, and that's pretty good for a lady going on 72 years old, who just a year ago was in bed, all crippled up with arthritis. I give O-JIB-WA BITTERS full credit for putting me back on my feet. I am always recommending O-JIB-WA BITTERS, and it's helped lots of people around here. I'm sure anyone trying this truly wonderful medicine which contains no pain killing dope, will be as happy with the results as I was."

Sergeant Slays Noncom, Officer

Uses Army Rifle to Kill Both After Reprimand for Mistakes on March

FT. Riley, Kan. (AP)—The Army said today a veteran sergeant ducked out of drill in the handling of the M1 rifle and used one of the weapons to kill his lieutenant and his first seargeant because they reprimanded him.

Sgt. 1. C. Paul A. Barrier, 29, Jacksonville, Fla., surrendered at the provost marshal's office yesterday a few minutes after the shootings. The Army sent him to the hospital for a mental examination and did not file any charges immediately.

The victims were 2nd Lt. Jerry Humphrey, 22, Auburn, Neb., and M. Sgt. Ralph H. Stilson, 29, Flatrock, Mich., both members of Company B, 29th Infantry.

Army authorities said Barrier had been censured Tuesday by Humphrey and Stilson for mistakes made during a field march. Sgt. James Hicks said Barrier told him Tuesday night: "I'm going to kill that lieutenant and the sergeant too."

Eyewitnesses said the 5-foot-11, 170-pound Negro walked into a building where Humphrey was about to lecture a class.

Sgt. James C. Kersh, Brandon, Miss., said he met Barrier in the building latrine and saw him load the rifle. Kersh said he grappled with Barrier and was struck in the face by the rifle butt.

Barrier stepped out of the latrine, dropped to a crouch and fired a single shot. Humphrey was struck in the chest. He sank to the floor as he gasped: "May the Lord forgive him."

Barrier ran about two blocks to the orderly room of Company B, where Stilson was seated at a desk talking on the telephone.

Witnesses said Stilson saw Barrier shove the rifle through the door and shouted: "No, no!" he was killed instantly.

Barrier hitched a ride to the provost marshal's office and gave himself up, saying: "I just shot two men."

Barrier has been in the Army 8½ years and was a squad leader. He has two sisters living in Jacksonville, Fla.

Investigators said no ammunition was used in the rifle drill and Barrier was not supposed to have any. They said he apparently had secreted three rounds obtained while he was stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Austrians to Get Back Confiscated Property

DETROIT (AP)—Norman H. Birnkrant, Austrian Counsul in Detroit, said Thursday that Austrian property in the United States which was confiscated by the American alien property custodian during World War II is scheduled to be returned to its owners.

He said persons, corporations and other entities in Michigan may direct their claims for property to him at the Austrian Consulate in Detroit.

Deaths Elsewhere

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Harry S. Rogers, 66, president of the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn since 1933, former dean of engineering at Oregon State College, and one-time on the faculties of the universities of Iowa, Wyoming, Washington, and Lafayette, died yesterday. He was born in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

ERIE, Pa. (AP)—The Rev. Demosthenes Chiamardas, 93, reportedly the first Greek Orthodox clergyman to be ordained in the United States, who came to this country in 1905 from his native Greece, died yesterday.

★ ★ ★

NEW YORK (AP)—Ella Flesch, 55, Hungarian-born dramatic soprano, former member of the Metropolitan Opera, and for many years a member of the Vienna and Munich opera companies before coming to the United States in 1939, died yesterday. She was born in Budapest.

Mounting Prize in Pot-O-Gold Now at $1,100

Think what you could do with $1,100. It's not a bad thought, is it? Well, your thoughts could become a reality if you're the one who picks the right numbers to form a correct solution for this week's Pot-O-Gold contest. Read the rules and clues carefully and see what you can come up with — besides having fun, you just might win the money.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Who Is Disabled? Only SS Man Knows

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

(This is the second of three columns on the details of the new Social Security disability benefit program which goes into effect July 1.)

How disabled does a person have to be to draw Social Security disability payments?

To understand what I mean, you have to start with the Social Security law. The heart of the disability program is found there in these words:

"The term 'disability' means inability to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of any medically determinable physical or mental impairment that can be expected to result in death or to be of long-continued or indefinite duration."

SATISFY DEFINITION

Thus, if a person has a disability which satisfies this definition he's disabled enough to draw Social Security payments.

This may seem fairly clear, but it isn't. You'll see why in a minute.

Congress left it to the Social Security Administration to define such terms as "substantial gainful activity," "medically determinable physical or mental impairment" and "long-continued or indefinite duration."

ASKS THEM HOW

Recently, I asked them how they were applying the terms.

Take the term "substantial gainful activity." Here's what I was told:

"In applying the definition to actual cases, it is not construed to mean that complete and irrevocable helplessness must be demonstrated. However, congressional deliberation did indicate . . . it refers to inability to engage in any substantial work, not merely the kind of work the applicant last engaged in."

★ ★ ★

When I tried to pin the definition down more, I was told that the facts in each case would have to be considered.

Now, take the term "medically determinable physical or mental impairment."

The Social Security people told me they had worked out a set of medical "guides" for making decisions on this.

They described the guides as "clinical descriptions of a number of disabling conditions that demonstrate great severity from the point of view of anatomical damage or functional loss."

WON'T RELEASE

But, they refused to release publicly more concise information about the guides. To do so, they said would open the door to all sort of misunderstandings.

They added that the guides were not rigidly or mechanically used; that each case of "mental or physical impairment" is judged on its own merits.

They also said that the determination of a disability is not solely a medical finding.

"Where an individual's condition is different or less severe," they said, "than that described in the medical guides, special attention is given to factors such as the individual's previous education and skills, his age and his job adaptability."

★ ★ ★

The Social Security people came up with a fairly clear definition of this one—compared with the others. They said it means the disability "should be likely to continue for an extended period after application or, to result in death."

See what I mean about chasing butterflies?

Probably, the best advice a disabled person can follow if he thinks he's eligible for Social Security payments is: File your application and wait for a decision.

(Next: How Large Are Disability Payments?)

Northwest Michigan Leads in Cherries

The survey also predicted the red tart cherry yield would fall short of the 1956 production which was about two-thirds of an average crop for the area.

Clarence Mullett, district horticultural agent at Traverse City, reported the results after his survey on the effects of weather on orchards in the Grand Traverse-Leelanau County regions.

The two counties grow three-fifths of the state's sweet cherries. Michigan produces three-quarters of the total United States sweet cherry crop.

Picnic Opens Summer for Lake-Landers Club

First summer meeting of the Lake-Landers social club, sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept., will be a picnic Sunday.

The club was formed two years ago and organized to provide a chance for single adults to get together.

Members attending the picnic have been asked to meet at 2 p.m. in the Robert Hall parking lot on Saginaw street for transportation as a group. Persons wishing to join the club have been encouraged to phone the city department at the City Hall.

Jury to Rule on Charge of 1st Degree Murder

A Circuit Court jury yesterday was asked to rule on Robert Skinner, 54, of Detroit, charged with first degree murder in the shotgun slaying of a Royal Oak Township man April 20.

Skinner, of 20012 Roselawn Ave., pleaded self-defense during trial before visiting Judge Howard Carroll, of Mt. Clemens.

Skinner is accused of killing Minor Montgomery, 45, of 10431 Fanwood. The Detroiter maintained that Montgomery was going to stab him.

Doctor's Home Treatment Rinses Away Blackheads

by Claire Hoffman

A LEADING New York dermatologist has developed a simple medicated home treatment that rinses away blackheads and whiteheads in a matter of minutes.

I saw it demonstrated recently on five women and two teenage boys. The results were almost breathtaking. Blackheads really rinsed away. In fact, many could be seen on the cleansing tissues that finished each treatment.

But this wasn't all! I saw enlarged pores reduced, and rough, muddy complexions made cleaner, clearer and smoother-looking. In the case of two older women, I saw flabby, sagging skin tighten and wrinkles flatten and fade . . . After seeing these results, I can well understand why so many beauticians are now acclaiming this doctor's treatment one of the most important beauty discoveries of the century.

Anyone Can Use It

The treatment starts with a thorough skin cleansing. A special laboratory-developed whipped cleansing cream is used that takes off not only surface dirt, but also softens and loosens pore-caked grime with its emollient action. It liquefies as soon as it is applied and literally floats the dirt right off your face.

After this is tissued off, a delightful mint-scented cream is applied. Within 2 or 3 minutes an absorbing agent called Argilla dries and turns this specially medicated cream into a plastic-like masque. As it firms and hardens, its suction action draws on waste matter in the pores . . . In 8 or 10 minutes you simply rinse the masque away with lukewarm water which dissolves it immediately. When you wipe your face, you can see blackheads and other pore "filler" actually come off on your washcloth. And your skin feels clean—really clean—and refreshed and smooth, like velvet!

The third step in the treatment is an exhilarating application of a unique antiseptic astringent — a facial "mint julep" that sponges and tightens emptied pores and leaves a protective invisible film that helps guard your skin against dust, dirt and bacteria for hours and hours.

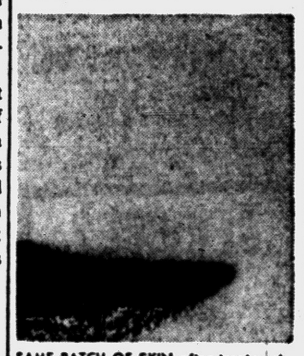

Nothing Else Like It

Even after a single treatment, women who have been troubled by blackheads for years see a marked improvement. Many find it hard to believe their eyes. Some blackheads and whiteheads just rinse away. Others are softened and made ready to be drawn out by future treatments. Enlarged pores appear to be smaller. The skin looks smoother and firmer — feels fresher and more alive!

In short, after a single treatment taking only 15 minutes, you can expect to see results that normally you would not dare hope for even after many weeks . . . but don't expect everything at once. Damage done by years of neglect can't be undone in a day. Yet with 3 or 4 treatments a week, you may confidently look forward to startling complexion improvements within 30 days.

Then one treatment a week — or every second week — will probably be all your skin will need to keep it clear, lovely and healthy looking.

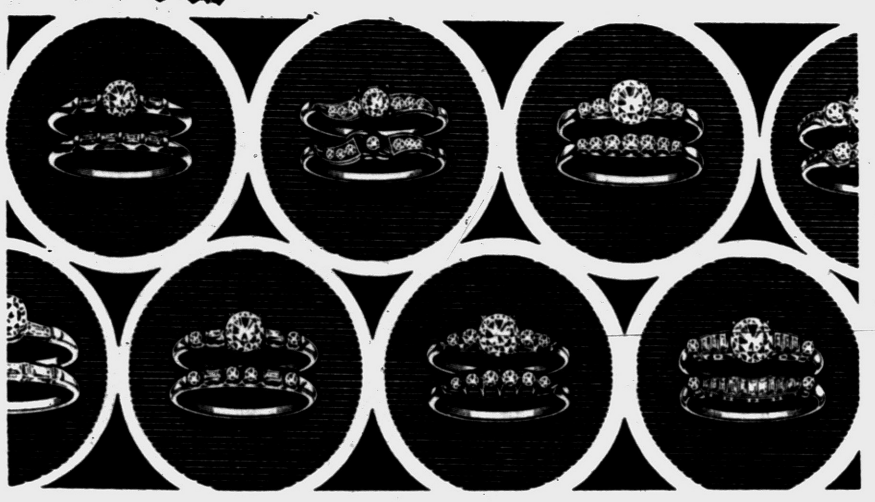

The medically developed products used in this treatment are manufactured and quality-controlled by QUEEN HELENE. They are Queen Helene Whipped Cleansing Cream, Queen Helene Medicated Masque and Queen Helen Penetrating Astringent. The three items are sold as a complete skin and beauty kit for 3.98 plus tax. Quite a bargain when you think of what it will do for a person's good looks — and self-esteem!

See Blackheads "Wipe Off"
On Your Washcloth
in 15 minutes

In only 15 minutes the gentle suction-action of your Queen Helene treatment "draws out" blackheads . . . and without any digging or squeezing.

1 First apply Queen Helene Whipped Cleansing Cream. This liquefies instantly on your skin and softens pore-caked dirt with its rapid emollient action. You tissue off all but a thin film which prepares your face for the masque.

2 Now smooth on the Queen Helene Medicated Masque. As the absorbing agent, Argilla, in this plastic-like cream makes it harden into a masque, its powerful drawing action gently pulls out blackheads and other pore impurities.

3 After about 8 or 10 minutes, rinse off the masque with lukewarm water. It dissolves in seconds. Then apply Queen Helene Mint Julep Astringent—a special penetrating antiseptic that helps close emptied pores, tones up your complexion, and gives protection against dirt and bacteria for hours.

OPTIMIST CLUB HONORED — Harold Davis (left), president of the Pontiac Optimist Club, yesterday received a citation from the National Recreation Assn. in recognition of the 13 years the club has provided leadership and funds for recreation facilities here. Making the presentation at the Elks Temple was David R. Ewalt, director of the city Parks and Recreation Dept., which nominated the club for this national award.

Elect Policemen to List Changes

Association Picks Four to Draw Up Grievances for Civil Service Group

Four officers of the Pontiac Police Department were named today as permanent representatives of their entire association to be responsible for drawing up and formally presenting any grievances to the Civil Service Commission.

Those four who received the highest number of votes during the three-day election held throughout the department were: Sgt. William K. Hanger, traffic and safety bureau, 56 votes; Detective Richard G. Evans, 55; and Detective Sgt. Raymond E. Meggitt, detective bureau, 50; and Lt. Donney E. Ashley, uniformed patrol bureau, 36.

Two alternates were also chosen by the 85 officers of the 177 eligible to vote. They were Patrolman Wayne E. Long and Marvin T. Blum, who received 26 and 25 votes respectively.

The four officers will first have the task of formally demanding an investigation of the police department's activities and records under Police Chief Herbert W. Straley, and present a list of grievances against him. This meeting is scheduled for June 19.

Concerning one of the recent issues brought up during the verbal battle between Straley and the association, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem yesterday began a series of meetings with officers of the Pontiac vice squad to investigate alleged numbers racket activity in the city.

Ziem said he interviewed Lt. William F. Nesbitt, who heads the squad, and plans interview with other officers Tuesday.

Ziem stated that he does not intend to make public the details of the interviews, but added that "nothing startling" came out of yesterday's meeting.

"Our interest lies in the present and future operations of any vice activity in Pontiac," he said.

Honorary Degrees for 4

MT. PLEASANT (UP)—Four Michiganders will receive honorary doctor of law degrees Sunday at Central Michigan College's spring commencement. They are Carl Allen Gerstacker and Everett N. Luce, both of the Dow Chemical Co. of Midland; William A. Neithercut, a Flint attorney; and Mabel E. Rugen, a University of Michigan public health professor.

Helpful Employe Gets to Heart of the Matter

Michael P. Gorman, one of the loaders, came up with a solution that won him $12.50 and a certificate of merit for a beneficial suggestion.

Reds Shell Quemoy

TAIPEI (UP) — The Chinese Nationalist Defense Ministry said Chinese Communist batteries fired 38 shells at the Nationalist offshore island of Quemoy today but caused no casualties or damage.

Senator Says $100,000 Spent to Make VIPs More Comfortable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ellender (D-La) said today the Defense Department "has spent $100,000 for plush seats in helicopters to carry VIPs (very important persons) around."

★ ★ ★

"They did it without even consulting Congress," Ellender said in an interview. "It's just an example of what the military does when it has all these billions to play around with."

★ ★ ★

Ellender is a member of a Senate Appropriations subcommittee now considering Defense Department requests to restore 1¼ billions of the more than 2½ billion dollars cut out by the House when it passed the biggest annual money bill.

"I am convinced that we could cut another two billions out of the bill without jeopardizing our national security," Ellender said.

Ellender said he has obtained information from the Defense Department that the $100,000 was spent for special seats for nine helicopters.

"These were not the two special helicopters ordered for the White House," Ellender said. "I expect to get into details on them and the plush seats when we resume hearings next week."

Aussie Lottery Winner Felled by Heart Failure

SYDNEY (AP)—Herb Chun, who won 30,000 pounds ($67,200) in a recent lottery, died of heart failure today. He was the fourth winner of a big Australian lottery to die this year.

William Lane, a bush country wanderer, died of cancer six weeks after he collected 100,000 pounds ($224,000).

Arthur Dyer was knocked down and killed by an automobile in Sydney three weeks after winning 12,000 pounds ($26,880).

★ ★ ★

The fourth victim was Harold Richards, who won 78,000 pounds ($174,720), moved to a new house and died suddenly.

Man Is Found Innocent of Causing 5-Car Crash

Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum found a Pontiac man innocent yesterday of failing to yield right-of-way to a funeral procession and causing a five-car accident May 13.

James T. Crump, 36, of 251 Earlmore St., was released after trial in Municipal Court.

Two persons, a passenger and a driver, received minor injuries in the collision at Huron St. and Cass Ave.

It's Only Sure Cure Known

'Try Glue, Elmer' Doctor Suggests

By ELMER WHEELER

The doc had just handed me a bottle of glue and I was bewildered.

"Yes, son," he said. "A bottle of ordinary glue, the only sure way known to medical science to keep hair from falling." He spoke almost kindly. "You've been through all sorts of treatments to keep your hair, from tonic to salve from barber to hair men. But you've never been to me for shock treatment."

My eyes brightened. What was he leading up to? Did he still have a cure up his sleeve?

He assured me he didn't have any sure cure at all. No one had. But that he knew what caused many forms of baldness and some were curable.

"You mean not wearing hats," I said, informing him I had gone through that stage until some guy (who worked for a hat firm) told me it was dirt, sun and grime that caused falling hair. Then I started to wear hats again.

HAT NOT THE REASON

He assured me that perhaps lack of circulation in the scalp caused some forms of hair troubles; but seldom was wearing — or not wearing—a hat the true cause of baldness.

Then it must be diet, I shot in.

"Could be, could be," he said, and told me lots about how poor diet and malnutrition can weaken the system to a point where things happen to a body, like rashes on the skin and falling hair.

He told me how the body was made up of iron, calcium, phosphorus, minerals of all sorts, and if these are lacking in the system, even the eyes grow weaker, not to mention hair falling out from lack of "food."

"When the system is run down from lack of proper foods," he told me, "then the weakest part of the body begins to feel the effects in a hurry, and the scalp, tightly drawn over the head, is one of the weakest parts of a human's body."

He told me that eating was a habit like breathing, only that many people eat the wrong foods. That leaving the table feeling full didn't mean we got the right foods in us containing needed minerals and vitamins to keep us from falling apart.

That a fellow with a full stomach can actually be starving himself to death from lack of minerals and vitamins.

As he described a man's body, it sounded like a chemical reprint from the steel works. The body contains such things as copper, iron, manganese, cobalt and silicon, to mention a few metals.

He said that a Dr. T. E. Lawson has estimated that if we decomposed a man, we would be able to extract:

"Why not take this chemical stuff then," I asked him, "put it into a salve and rub it into the scalp?"

He laughed. He assured me that the chemicals had to come from inside, from the foods we eat.

He told me of skin diseases such as beriberi, that come from lack of such vitamins as B-1. He told me how old age comes from lack of certain hormones, and that old age can come to hair, too, from lack of foods needed to nourish the scalp and keep it alive, active and youthful.

He told me how Casimir Funk, back in 1912, coined the word vitamin. It comes from "Vita," the Latin word for life, and is added to "amine," which is the name of a group of chemicals.

But he informed me you can't rub them on the noggin and nourish the hair. Moreover, he said vitamin D requires sunshine on the body to make it work. He used a fancy word, "synthesize."

Any good diet book, he told me, will give me all this information without my paying him by the hour to learn about diet, or I should talk to John Shulak, who had done a great research job on hair.

GOP Workers Support Budget

Some Argue Congress Doesn't Reflect Opinion of Rank-and-File

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower picked up fresh support for his $71,800,000,000 spending program among Republican party workers today.

Although there was some dissent voiced at the GOP national conference Eisenhower will address later in the day, several influential delegates said they do not believe the congressional revolt against the budget represents rank-and-file sentiment.

★ ★ ★

Vice President Nixon told the conference yesterday the country ought to be thankful the Democrats don't control the White House. He said they would have spent 40 billion dollars more than the Eisenhower administration has since 1953.

★ ★ ★

His remarks were greeted by warm applause. But there was no evidence he had stirred any fresh interest in the 1960 presidential nomination race. Most delegates had their minds on next year's congressional elections.

National Chairman Meade Alcorn expressed confidence the GOP has reopened the pocketbooks he said had been closed to the party recently because of the budget controversy.

FISHING QUIZ

QUESTION: Where do men fish with bows and arrows?

ANSWER: Natives on the Andaman Islands in the Bay of Bengal, and probably in other primitive places, still fish with bows and arrows.

The Islanders are short, dwarf-like people, not much taller than four feet. They do not have hooks and lines for fishing but they are expert bowsmen. Balancing themselves upright on the long prows of their wooden canoes, they draw back their powerful bows and shoot with remarkable accuracy. Excellent swimmers, they leap into the water and retrieve the fish. These islanders also are excellent boat builders, fashioning their canoes out of single hallowed logs with primitive stone tools.

Chapter 11

As each day brought us closer to the middle of April, when John Mathers' colony was scheduled to reach the valley, I felt more depressed. This was the year of change; our life here would never be the same again, it seemed.

To make it worse for me, I had no one to talk to. I hadn't seen Kathy Morgan for weeks. Gene Dillingham was the same as he had been, sometimes coolly courteous, sometimes glumly sullen. I was on speaking terms with Alec Dodson and that was all, for he had made it clear more than once that I could expect no help from him or the cattlemen's association. Curly King would listen, but he was only a kid. I was afraid to speak out to him because he might talk out of turn.

Sarah Pardee was the one I should have been able to talk with, to tell her all my anxieties and fears. I couldn't even mention it to her; I didn't know what she would do, but I did know what she would think and say. Not once during the winter had she mentioned John Mathers in my hearing, but I usually went to Carlton for the mail and I knew she had received at least two letters from St. Louis, both addressed in a clear, feminine hand.

The tension grew in me day by day until I could hardly eat, and I lay awake on my bunk more hours than I slept. I faced an impossible situation. So did Sarah. She couldn't fire me. She couldn't even get rid of me, now that she had given me half the Box P. On the other hand, I couldn't live on the same ranch with her if I killed Mathers or some of his men.

I knew what must be done: I had to stop Mathers before his colony reached the valley. I kept telling myself that, but what would happen after Mathers was turned back? I didn't even try to guess. I thought only as far as the day the shots would be fired, when men would be killed. Beyond that I could not think at all. I was like a sleepwalker moving toward a wall which barred his passage.

The 14th of April came with patches of snow still lingering in the valley and on the slope above us. There was no word from Coley Alton. I think Sarah was suffering from the uncertainty as much as I was, but she wasn't able to talk about it, either.

Our eyes met briefly after supper that night. I saw the pale, drawn expression on her face as I left the house. My food lay in my stomach as it it were lead.

The fifteenth, and still no word . . . Then it came, on the night of the sixteenth, some time after midnight. I was awake, my thoughts plodding along the eternal treadmill, when I heard a horse outside. I had kept my gun under my pillow ever since the night Dillingham had stopped beside my bunk. I picked it up and tiptoed to the door and opened it. Someone was dismounting in front of the bunkhouse.

★ ★ ★

I called, "Who is it?"

"Pablo. Is that you, Senor Beeson?"

It was Coley Alton's Mexican boy, all right. I recognized his voice. "Yeah, it's me," I said.

"Senor Alton, he say tell you they come. Feefty wagons."

I took a long breath, the tension going out of me. I asked, "Are they camped at the trading post?"

"Si."

★ ★ ★

"They'll start up the canyon tomorrow?"

"Si."

"All right, Pablo. Tell your boss I'll be down in a few days and pay him what I owe him."

He wheeled away without another word, his chore finished. I went back inside and woke Curly and Dillingham. We dressed silently in the darkness, pulled on our sheepskins, and took our Winchesters off the wall near the door. As we left the bunkhouse, I wasn't sure whether Dogbone was awake or not. I hope he wasn't. If he was asleep, he couldn't tell Sarah anything; and the less she knew, the better.

A few minutes later we rode out of the yard and headed northwest toward the valley end of the canyon, the night cold and star-eyed and without a moon. We angled across the low ridges that were the lower slopes of the Cedar Hills. Hours later, with the first opalescent hint of dawn touching the eastern sky, we heard the murmur of the creek, still low because the spring runoff had not started.

None of us had spoken since we left the ranch. Now Dillingham asked, "How are you figuring on handling this, Will?"

"We'll stop at those rocks yonder and leave our horses," I said. "We'll circle them and stay in the brush on the other side until they show up."

"Then what?"

"We'll burn a little powder, and maybe Mathers will decide this climate isn't good for him."

"You think it'll be that easy?"

"We'll find out," I answered.

I knew it wouldn't be that easy, but it would buy time. These pilgrims had come a long ways; they'd be tired and a little shooting ought to scare them. The chances were, Mathers hadn't told them that they'd have to fight. He'd probably repeated what the law said and he would have described the valley, but it wasn't likely he'd told them about me and what I had said to him that day on the river below Alton's Trading Post.

Delay would disorganize them. If I could get a chance to talk to some of them, I could cut the ground out from under Mathers. They'd turn against him and go back. Maybe it wouldn't work that way, but it was the best I could do.

Dillingham said, "I've got a better idea, Will, one that'll work."

"I don't want it, Gene."

"You'll listen!" he said with sudden savagery. "I knew Joe Pardee better than any other man. I know how he thought and what he would have done. He'd have hit 'em at the other end of the canyon before they got started, and he'd have hit 'em hard, so hard they'd forget about coming up here."

I ignored him. Probably Joe would have done exactly what Dillingham said. With the odds fifty to three, and with Mathers warned, Joe might have fired from ambush and killed half a dozen men. He'd have cut their hearts out with that first volley. But it would have meant six dead men . . . Was the valley worth that big a price?

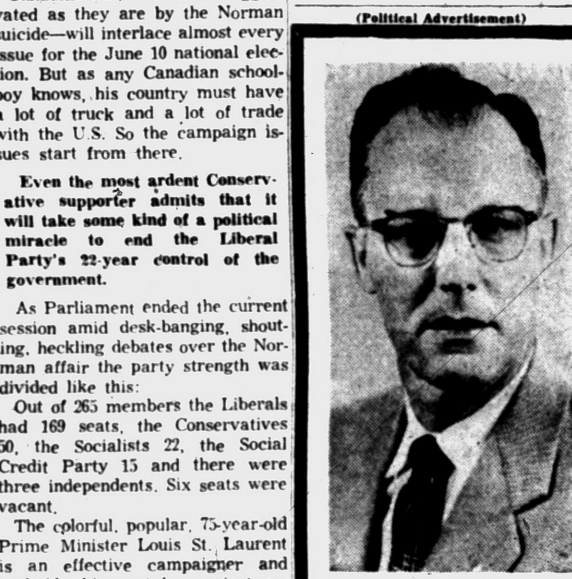

I turned to look at Gene Dillingham's tall, square shape in the saddle, shocked by the thought which had just crossed my mind. Last fall I would have tried to do what Joe would have done, but not now. I'd changed, but I wasn't sure why. Maybe it was the absence of Joe's domineering personality.

There was only one thing I could do and still be able to live with myself. I'd hold the valley without bloodshed if I could, and the way to do that was to throw a little lead close to Mathers' head as soon as he showed up. He'd turn and run if he were driving the first wagon. Any man would.

Now, as we rode in silence, I realized how much I had changed. I was Will Beeson, Box P's foreman, and I wanted to be Will Beeson, not Joe Pardee's shadow trying to make every decision as Joe would have. I was trying to protect the Box P, Sarah's ranch and mine, and that was all. But I couldn't help wondering what I'd be doing now if I hadn't changed.

"You can't hold us off! If we have to use force, we will!" is Mathers' challenge as "Gunlock" continues here tomorrow.

CANADA'S ST. LAURENT AND IKE — Canada's Conservatives claim the Prime Minister has been too pro-American.

Norman Suicide Becomes Issue in Canadian Election

OTTAWA (NEA) — Conservati Party leaders speak wistfully of 1911 when they won an election on the simple, dramatic issue of "no truck or trade with the United States."

Canadian-U.S. relations—aggravated as they are by the Norman suicide—will interlace almost every issue for the June 10 national election. But as any Canadian schoolboy knows, his country must have a lot of truck and a lot of trade with the U.S. So the campaign issues start from there.

Even the most ardent Conservative supporter admits that it will take some kind of a political miracle to end the Liberal Party's 22-year control of the government.

As Parliament ended the current session amid desk-banging, shouting, heckling debates over the Norman affair the party strength was divided like this:

Out of 265 members the Liberals had 169 seats, the Conservatives 50, the Socialists 22, the Social Credit Party 15 and there were three independents. Six seats were vacant.

The colorful, popular, 75-year-old Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent is an effective campaigner and probably his party's greatest asset.

There has been some apparent political jockeying on the Norman case, with no clear-cut issue yet emerging.

Diefenbaker leaped on the case anyway, saying that a weak stand by Pearson when the first U.S. charge against Norman was made in 1951 encouraged the second charge by the U.S. Senate Subcommittee.

Diefenbaker scored when he forced Pearson to admit that the security information warning was just a gesture because there had never been a real case of mishandling Canadian information given to the U.S.

Diefenbaker, however, was loudly booed by both sides during this debate when he referred to the U.S. as a "friendly government."

At the same time many Canadians were shocked when Pearson did admit at another desk-banging session that Norman had associated with Commies as a young student.

A fear in the election is that the Conservatives could lose seats and cease to be a clear-cut opposition, with splinter parties resulting.

TO THE PONTIAC SCHOOL BOARD

(1) You owe it to your children as well as your pocketbook to get a dollar's value for a dollar spent.

(2) The North and Northeast sections of Pontiac should have someone looking out for their interests, as this is a vastly expanding section of our city. The present School Board consists of five members living on the West side of the city. This seems almost like "Taxation Without Representation" for a good deal of the people.

(3) The present School Board will not even consider a two-story school building even when the facts prove without a doubt that a two-story school is much cheaper to build and maintain than a one-story school. As an example of this, we note that Royal Oak is just finishing a two-story constructed school and also a one-story school. The two-story school cost $12.50 per square foot compared to the $14.89 per square foot for the one-story school. On this particular two-story school, which is the Kimball High School having a square footage of 333,000, the savings would amount to almost $800,000. Should not our School Board consider this kind of savings worth discussing?

Pauling Controversial Figure

Scientist Achieves Fame

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

Twenty-six years ago a New York newspaper reported the award of an American Chemical Society prize to Linus Pauling, "barely thirty," and added:

"It is predicted by eminent scientists that Dr. Pauling will rise in fame rapidly and probably will win the coveted Nobel Prize for science."

PAPER PROPHETIC

The scientists of 1931 and the newspaper were prophetic. Linus Carl Pauling was awarded the Nobel Prize for chemistry in 1954. The award cited his work into the nature of the chemical bond that holds molecules together.

Pauling had long since gained the fame predicted for him. Before receiving science's highest accolade, and since, he also has become known as a controversial figure in the wider domain of the humanities.

Yesterday Dr. Pauling announced from Pasadena, where he is head of the division of chemistry and chemical engineering at California Institute of Technology, that 2,000 American scientists have signed an appeal urging international agreement to halt the testing of hydrogen bombs.

DEATHS CAUSED

Dr. Pauling, a bio-chemist, has been a leader of the group of scientists who maintain that radioactivity from bomb tests already is causing the deaths of large numbers of people. Opposed to this group are scientists in and out of the Atomic Energy Commission. The latter contend that the level of radioactivity has not reached the danger point and is not likely to at the present rate of bomb tests.

Pauling has been taxed with alleged left-wing associations by congressional committees. He was a vice president of an international scientific group headed by a Communist. But Pauling flatly denied he had ever been a member of the Communist Party.

In 1952, Pauling was three times denied a passport to travel to scientific meetings. On the fourth application he received a "limited passport."

Pauling is married and the father of three sons and a daughter.

Actress Expecting

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Jeanne Crain and her husband, Paul Brinkman, on the brink of divorce a year ago, are expecting their fifth child in November, her agent says. The couple hurled bitter charges at each other when Miss Crain filed for divorce, but the suit was dropped after a New Year's Eve reconciliation.

Take Body From Lake

HOUGHTON LAKE (AP) — The body of Robert Bonner, 35, of Okemos, who drowned last Friday in Houghton Lake, was recovered yesterday after being spotted by a state police search plane. Bonner fell from his outboard motor boat in rough water.

June Ushers in Hurricane Season; Many Start to Haul Out Storm Shutters

MIAMI (INS) — The 1957 hurricane season "blows in" officially this month, the cue for weather-wise residents of the Atlantic seaboard and Gulf Coast states to haul out their storm shutters.

Whether they'll need them this year is problematical, but those who have felt the fury of the roaring tropical storms will leave nothing to chance.

FORECASTER WARNS

The man responsible for warning the populace of the oncoming howlers, which often generate winds of well over 100 miles per hour, is the Miami Weather Bureau's chief forecaster, Gordon Dunn.

The veteran meterologist says his staff will not be able to get a line on which sections of the coasts—if any—will be most vulnerable to hurricanes this year "until at least mid-July or early August."

He explained that weather-wise, the "Azores-Bermuda anticyclone" (a pressure area) must be studied before it can be determined whether the storms will head for the Atlantic seaboard or farther south to Florida and the Gulf Coast states.

FLOWS CLOCKWISE

The pressure area, Dunn said, flows in clockwise circulation and its normal position in mid-summer should be near latitude 35, longitude 38.

"Two years ago," he pointed out, "the area was about 10 degrees north of its normal position—and the East coast had a bad season. Last year, the position was normal and we had a relatively light season for the storms."

Florida—generally regarded as the "home" of the hurricane—has been spared a severe howler for the past six years. Dunn noted the peninsula should receive one powerful hurricane "every three years," but pointed out he was merely quoting statistics, not "predicting" such an occurrence.

MILD DECADE

Dunn said it may be that Mother Nature is planning a mild decade hurricane-wise and that last year was a sign of things to come.

He said there was some evidence to support the belief that a "rough decade" may be followed by one relatively mild.

The veteran forecaster said although the "season" open June 17 the months most likely to produce a powerful hurricane are August, September and October.

* * *

He said this is because the temperature of the ocean water does not reach a compatible temperature for the storms to spawn until mid-August, and by the end of October the ocean is relatively cool again.

As usual, the 1957 hurricanes will bear female names in alphabetical procession. This year's lineup is:

Audrey, Bertha, Carrie, Debbie, Ester, Freida, Gracie, Hannah, Inga, Jessie, Kathie, Lisa, Margo, Netty, Odelle, Patty, Quinta, Roxie, Sandra, Theo, Urdine, Venus, Wenda, Xma, Yasmin and Zita.

The Sudan has removed import restrictions on foodstuffs, cars and cigarettes.

Canadian veterans of World War II have received about $303 million dollars discharge payments.

Of the amount claimed, about sixty per cent went to furniture and home repairs.

Over 1,000 guests attended the annual tea for local branches of Women's National Farm and Garden Association held at the Alfred Wilson estate in Rochester.

Rochester Branch Is Hostess

1,000 Enjoy Benefit Tea

Meadowbrook Hall, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wilson in Rochester, was the setting for the Thursday afternoon tea held by members of Rochester Branch of Women's National Farm and Garden Association. Over 1,000 members and guests toured the home and gardens of the estate.

★ ★ ★

The benefit affair was held to increase funds for the association's scholarship fund and for its 4-H projects.

Mrs. Fred Noyes and Mrs. Florence Hoyt were general chairmen, assisted by members of the Rochester Branch who served as hostesses.

As guests toured the home and viewed the collection of paintings and pieces of art gathered by the Wilsons on their tours abroad, they also enjoyed the music provided by Robert Howland at the pipe organ.

Representatives of garden clubs throughout the state, as well as many state officers, were present for the affair. Mrs. Wilson, Dr. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones and all vice presidents of the Rochester Branch presided at the tea tables during the afternoon.

Pictured in front of a fountain on the Wilson estate is Mrs. Myrene Taylor of Rochester who served as a hostess during the afternoon.

Girl Prefers to Stay Out of Wedding

She Seeks Way to Decline Duties as Maid of Honor

By EMILY POST

A reader asks: "Is it possible to refuse to take part in a wedding? If so, how can this be done graciously? A girl I know, but who is not an intimate friend, is going to be married in the not-too-distant future and I have heard indirectly that she is planning to ask me to be her maid of honor.

"While I am flattered to think that she likes me well enough to want me to take part in the wedding, I do not feel that I want to go to the expense of buying bridesmaid's clothes for someone who is not an intimate friend. I would very much appreciate your help in this matter."

Answer: The only thing you can do is to tell her that much as you would like to take part in her wedding, you really can't afford to buy bridesmaid's clothes at this time and regret that you have to refuse.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what is correct in regard to marking silver for a wedding present? As a young woman (many years ago) when I sent a wedding present of silver to a bride-to-be, I was told that the correct marking was with the bride's maiden initials.

"I have heard that this is no longer correct and that silver should be marked with her future initials. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: It is much more practical to mark it with the initials which will be hers when she is using the silver. In other words, her married ones. Marking silver with the bride's maiden initials was an old rule which in time has proven very inconvenient.

Pine Lake Club Has Guest Day

Fifty-eight contestants played for low putts, low gross and low net score when Ladies Guest Day for golfers was held Thursday at Pine Lake Country Club.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Siver, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom, attended the couple for the May 31 ceremony.

Mary is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Magerman of Perry street. Mr. and Mrs. John L. Moore of Hospital road are Robert's parents.

Leal Eames Group Hears U. N. Report

Members of the Leal Eames Group of First Presbyterian Church gathered at the home of Mrs. Martha Mock on Dwight avenue for their recent meeting. Ethel Graham assisted the hostess.

A report on "The United Nations and Us" was presented by Mrs. Clarence Norton. Plans were made for a work meeting to be held at the church on Wednesday.

Secretaries Gather

Mrs. John House was in charge of arrangements for the picnic dinner held by Pontiac Educational Secretaries Association Wednesday at Avon Park. In charge of the program for the affair were Mrs. Gerald Lampson and Jane McGuire.

Runover heels may spoil a well-groomed effect. They also are a threat to posture and are tiring to feet and ankles.

Heim of Paris Introduces New Coverups for Beach

PARIS (INS)—To be fashionable in 1957 you might mark on your memo pad a "sand coat," "sprawlers" and a "buoy skirt" as well as a swimsuit when you go shopping for beach clothes.

Jacques Heim has come up with an armful of new styles designed for play, sports and life on the beach.

The "sand coat" is a front-slit garment held by straps on the bare shoulders. Made of cotton chiffon or nylon organdy it is meant to "screen" the swimsuit-clad feminine anatomy.

Another version of Heim's "sand coat" is styled like a little girl's pinafore apron. It is slit at the back and fastened on top by one button. You slip it on when playing ball on the beach.

The "buoy skirt" is the most practical beach innovation from Heim. It is made to match the swimsuit in fabric or at least in color. It's a bubble-shaped skirt with rounded edges overlapping in front.

By hiding the lower part of the swim or sunsuit it combines with the suit top to give a "dress-look," so you can sit in the cafe or walk off the beach while being decently covered.

Newlywed Barcomes Reside Here

In a ceremony performed June 1 by Justice Willis Lefurgy, Mrs. Mary Etta Jackson became the bride of William Richard Barcome.

Mr. and Mrs. William Eastham attended the couple. An afternoon reception was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Whitehead, brother-in-law and sister of the bridegroom, in their home on Stout street.

Professor Talks at Zonta Club's Bosses' Dinner

Sixty-five members and guests attended the annual Bosses' Dinner sponsored by Zonta Club of Pontiac. The Thursday dinner was held at Kingsley Inn with Professor E. C. Prophet as speaker.

Professor Prophet, associate professor of geography at Michigan State University, chose "What We Have Taken Out and Put Back Into Michigan in the Past 40 Years" as his topic.

He spoke of the lumber industry and how it has been rebuilt since 1910. He also told of the copper and iron ore available in Michigan and the use of lower grade ores.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. L. Raymond Sampson, first vice president, gave the welcome address and Professor Prophet was introduced by Mrs. C. E. Wait, program chairman.

Couple's 'Dates at Home' Keep Romance Blooming

Pair Tied Down With Two Children Still Enjoys Moonlight and Roses

By RUTH MILLETT

Just because a young married couple is tied down with small children doesn't mean they can't manage to keep some moonlight and roses in their marriage.

A wife writes to tell me how she and her husband contrive candlelit dinners for two, even though they can't afford a babysitter.

She says: "When we were first married it wasn't hard to manage an evening out at least once a week.

"But with our budget stretched to cover two children, there isn't enough money for us to hire a sitter and have dinner at a nice restaurant more than a few times a year.

"But we didn't want to give up those 'dates' we enjoyed so much. So once a week we set the stage for a date at home.

"We give the children their supper and put them to bed and then together we cook a wonderful dinner, served on a small table in the living room, by candlelight, of course, and with dreamy dance music playing.

"During these evenings we save for ourselves we don't talk about anything unpleasant or any serious problems. But we do a lot of talking—the kind we never seem to have time for during the rest of our hectic week.

"The reason I am telling you about it is because I know a lot of young couples think they can't have any fun or gaiety if they can't afford to get away from home.

"Maybe some of them would like to try our 'date-night-at-home' plan. It's amazing how much it does keep a married couple feeling close together and very much in love."

Some young couples complain about being "tied down." Others discover that any period of marriage can be romantic if a couple has a little imagination and a zest for living in the present.

Bran Cereal Is New in Fruit Bread

Mrs. Kinkle Makes 2 Loaves at Once to Satisfy Demand

By JANET ODELL

We have given you recipes for banana bread before. But this one is really different for it includes bran. Mrs. Francis Kinkle who is today's cook says she usually makes two loaves at one time, so popular has it become.

Mrs. Kinkle helps at the Waterford library and belongs to a book review group. Her hobby is crocheting. She is happy to have one granddaughter (and a grandson), since she herself has three boys.

BRAN BANANA BREAD
By Mrs. Francis Kinkle

¼ cup lard or other shortening
½ cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup bran
1½ cups mashed bananas
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon soda
½ cup chopped nut meats

Cream shortening and sugar. Add egg and beat well. Add bran, bananas and flavoring. Sift flour, baking powder, soda and salt. Add to first mixture with nut meats. Line loaf pan with waxed paper. Pour in batter and bake about one hour at 375 degrees. Makes one loaf.

Fall Gowns to Feature Built-In Fur

NEW YORK (INS) — The most chic way to wear your furs next fall will be to wear them as part of your dress: A leopard halter on your evening gown, perhaps, or a broadtail blouse for your little black suit.

This fashion prescription, at $500 up, is eing offered by designer Bill Blass. His new clothes for Anna Miller feature fur built in.

The leopard halter, for instance, actually is the halter top to a chiffon evening gown. The fur bosom tops a flowing full-length skirt of beige chiffon. There's no back at all to the bodice, but the deep front V of the leopard is slightly obscured by a cowl of chiffon.

Blass, who also puts mink necklines on dinner dresses, thinks broadtail is better for suits. He adds a short-sleeve front-button blouse of black broadtail to a black wool suit.

Chatting just before the cooperative picnic dinner at the Critchfield home Thursday afternoon are (left to right) Mrs. Paul Rohl of Franklin, Mrs. George Wright and Mrs. Charles W. Hester of Birmingham and Mrs. Earl Brumblett of Bloomfield Hills. Mrs. Critchfield is hostess each spring to the women's unions of the church at their final joint meeting.

Permanent Alteration Made Gradually

Electrolysis Can Change Hairline

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I have a very ugly hairline. It comes so far down on my forehead that it makes me look like an idiot. This has been a source of great embarrassment to me and has even affected my life because it has made me shy.

"I have not made friends or gone out as I would have. I am not bad looking. I do not mean to be conceited but I do have nice features. What can I do, if anything, about this?"

A. Hairlines can be changed with electrolysis. The hair is permanently removed. You can have any hairline you wish. The nice part of this is that it is done gradually and on both sides of your forehead so that the change is so slow people hardly notice it until you are near the result you wish.

Since this is affecting your life so drastically, I hope you will have it done. It is fairly expensive but you can have it done a little at a time.

Q. "Why is it bad for the hair to wash it in hard water?"

A. This sort of water is much more alkaline. It is difficult to get a good lather and also to rinse the soap off the hair.

Q. "What can I do to get rid of bunions? What causes them?"

A. Bunions usually come from the habit of wearing incorrectly fitted shoes for years. They may also come from weak arches. You should see a chiropodist or podiatrist.

Q. "What are the most becoming colors for a woman who has blue eyes and fair skin but fairly dark hair? Mine is not black but dark brown."

A. You will be able to wear most colors. However, you will find blues, gray-blues, periwinkle, red, soft pink, melon and some yellows most flattering.

Q. "I do not like my figure but it is mostly my bone structure. I don't suppose there is any way to change the bones."

A. No, your bones are with you for life, except that you can change them over the years with poor posture. The person who slumps habitually will have an abnormally curved spine, for instance. Stand up straight and tall.

Q. "My breasts are always congested before my menstrual periods but about three months ago a lump came and remained. Is this serious?"

To avoid an abnormally curved spine, always stand up straight and tall.

A. I wish that you had given me your name so that I could have written directly to you immediately. The chances are that the lump is harmless, but should it be cancer, early diagnosis and removal are essential.

Let me impress on all women again that they must go immediately to their family physician when any lump appears. If he thinks that you should have an examination by a specialist, he will send you to one.

Every woman should have a semi-annual physical checkup anyway, during which the bust and pelvis are examined. The large percentage of cancer in women occurs in the uterus and the breasts. In both cases the chances of cure are excellent if gotten in time. Why not give yourself this break?

Advance Note on Men's Shirts

Advance note on men's shirts for fall: The fancy fabrics will be bigger than ever, with lots of checks, stripes and novelty weaves. The deep British-type stripes appear to be gaining in favor.

Plastic Covers Keep Car Clean

That also means little feet on car seats to smudge the upholstery, more sticky fingers en route, more dust on the roads.

So look quick at the new types of washable plastic seat cover materials. Some resemble expensive quilting or tufting, and have foamy underlayers to cushion you comfortably.

Grace Kelly's 'Friend' Does Book About Her

Police Douse Fireworks Sale by Schoolboy, 14

DETROIT (AP) — Free enterprise, say Detroit police, has its limits. And it doesn't include the selling of fireworks by a 14-year-old in the schoolyard of a Detroit grade school.

Officers yesterday put a damper on the teenager's operation when they caught him selling firecrackers to his school chums. They got to the young entrepreneur somewhat late, however. He had only a handful of packages left of his original batch of 239 packages. He had hawked the rest to his fellow pupils.

One competitive-minded 13-year-old bought $9 worth at the going price of two bits a pack and set up shop a short distance away, trying for a middleman's cut of five cents a package on his investment.

Police ticketed Mrs. Mary Biondo for violating a city ordinance against fireworks. They quoted her as saying she had bought the firecrackers for $33 and had given them to her 14-year-old son to sell to his friends.

Large Yacht Stolen; Five Boys Arrested

HONOLULU (AP) — Police arrest five teen-age sons of Air Force families yesterday after a stolen $140,000 yacht went aground on a reef off Waikiki Beach.

The boys, ranging in age from 14 to 18, told authorities they planned to go to the South Seas in the 63-foot brigantine, California. They were arrested as they returned to shore in a stolen motorboat used to tow the California from the yacht harbor.

T. S. Applegate, owner of the big three-master which was left lying on its side 300 yards offshore, said a "Major salvage job" was indicated. The vessel was insured.

3 Young Brothers Perish in Apartment Blaze

CHICAGO (AP) — Three young brothers perished early today in a fire which swept a three-story apartment building on the near North Side.

Victims were the sons of C. W. Yates, 44, and aged 7, 9 and 13. Further identification was not immediately available. Police said a fourth son, about 20, was injured when he leaped from the family's second-floor apartment.

Scholarships Awarded to Outstanding PHS Students

By JACK HENDRICKSON

Pontiac High School students have been gathering the loose ends and reviewing this week for the coming exams, for the underclassmen that is. This week, too, was the last official week of school for the June graduates.

Many scholarships have been awarded to the 1957 graduates for their outstanding scholastic record and their contributions to the school.

Receiving the Y-Teen Scholarship Award is Patricia Zielke; the Hi-Y Scholarship, Kenneth Bogard; PTA Scholarship, Richard Lantz; Pontiac School Maintenance, Helga Falk; Urban League, Carolyn Rush.

Sara McCarroll Foundation, Mary Moore (January graduate); Michigan H. S. Scholarship, Michigan College of Mining, Sara Higgins; State Board of Education, Central Michigan College, Sharon Bedford; Honor Scholarship, Tenn. Wesleyan College, Sylvia Jean Wallis; and Pontiac Memorial Scholarship, Judith Campbell.

Group awards included: Michigan State University Scholarships, Donald Braunagel, James Clancy, Loretta Young, Roland Williams, and Carolyn Rush; and the Regents-Alumni-University of Michigan Scholarships, Judy Elwell, Donald Lovse, Sharon Wall, Myra Goines (January graduate), Constantine Sousanis, Frederic Young, Carl Helferich, and Sharon Troxell.

However, Wednesday, everything broke loose! For the seniors, the caps and gowns arrived and were distributed.

For the boys who participated in spring sports, the awards assembly in which letters and numerals were awarded. For the entire school, the long awaited Quivers yearbooks were distributed.

Also in the assembly was Snooky Lanson, singing star of the "Lucky Strike Hit Parade." Snooky sang two numbers, then told the audience of his weekly routine on the "Hit Parade" program. He then asked the audience what they would like to hear. The majority of requests were rock 'n' roll numbers.

Wednesday, too, Jefferson Junior High was host to the PHS A Capella Choir, ensembles, and soloists.

Vickie Vandecar and Kenneth Bogard sang a duet "Vienna, City of My Dreams," and Jack Hutchings sang "Come Back to Sorrento."

At the recent Annual Spring Publications Banquet the new staffs of Quiver and Tomahawk were announced.

Editor-in-Chief of Tomahawk is Harry VanMatre, with Sara Hetherington as associate editor. Jeanette Ohanesian, news editor, will be assisted by Bill Bank. Feature editor is Marjorie Crowder, with Grace Stevens and Judy Johnson, assistant feature editors.

Sports editor for the coming year will be Dick Reynolds. Ellen Taylor and Gail Gibson are business co-managers.

Alan Higgins will again assume the duties of advertising manager, and circulation manager will be Myrna Light. Her assistants will be Nancy Campbell and Olivia Cervantes.

Business manager for the coming semester is Joyce Reynolds. Dick Elsholz will serve as advertising manager, assisted by Sharon Freeman and Loren Hines.

Rhoda Goldberg and Sharon Warren are organization co-editors. Seniors will be handled by Sue Whitfield, assisted by Delores Shea. Stephen Lewis is boy's sports editor and Santhy Annas girl's sports editor.

Administration will be handled by Jane Arnold, assisted by Phyllis Peters, and underclassmen will be done by Marjorie Moran assisted by Doris Reed and Sue Rhew.

At the banquet, Jeannette Ohanesian and Emmanuel Williams received scholarships to Michigan State University for a two week Journalism Workshop June 24 to July 5.

The scholarships were given by the Pontiac Press and presented by Robert Tarr, managing editor. The press has sent many PHS students to journalism workshops in the past two years.

St. Frederick's Graduation Held Thursday Night

By MARGARET DRAKE

Sixty-five St. Frederick High School seniors received their diplomas Thursday evening. The commencement address was delivered by the Rev. Fr. Francis Orlik at St. Vincent de Paul Church.

★ ★ ★

After graduation, the seniors attended a commencement dance sponsored by their parents. More than $100 in prizes were given the graduates.

★ ★ ★

The last few days have been busy ones for the seniors. This morning they were honored at the sophomore-senior breakfast, following which they left for a trip to Bob-Lo Island.

Tuesday, the entire school anxiously awaited the yearbooks, and all agreed they were well worth waiting for.

★ ★ ★

Honor Students Receive Awards at Junior Highs

★ ★ ★

May 31 the election for student council officers was held at Washington Junior High after a week of vigorous campaigning. The election was close with Donna Douglas winning the presidency; Mary Jo Whitfield as the new vice president, and Jeanne Gliskey as secretary-treasurer.

Tuesday morning the student body enjoyed the Spring Concert given by the Girls' Glee Club, Ninth Grade Chorus, and the Girls' Ensemble, under the direction of Faith Cook and Gordon Wilder. There was also a piano duet by Gary and Deanna Relyea.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Washington's Hall Guards enjoyed the Tiger game Wednesday in recognition for their faithful service during the past year. Twenty-two boys and their sponsor, W. W. Abbott, made the trip.

A Gold "W" was presented to 25 other students, Silver "W" to 47, and certificates to 61.

AT LINCOLN

Lincolnites know the final exam schedule and are busily cromming for the semester tests. Each class period has been given a day for final exams, so the students can plan on having only one or two tests a day. All work has to be completed by Thursday noon, June 13.

Twenty-two members of the Journalism Club with their president, Sharon Mondy, and their sponsor, Mrs. Gladys Wilkinson, enjoyed a conducted tour through The Pontiac Press on Tuesday afternoon. After seeing the newspaper in action, the group completed the afternoon with a theater party.

All the 9-A's comprising eight homerooms spent Class Day at Walled Lake Amusement Park when chartered buses picked up the group at noon and returned them to Lincoln at 5.

★ ★ ★

Chaperoning the group were Mrs. Ann Elms, Miss Maria Jackson, Mrs. Esther Mountain, Mrs. Alice Allen, Mrs. Evelyn Allen, Miss Miriam Bruder, Paul Atkins, and John Buchanan. It was hard to tell who had more fun—the teachers or the students!

★ ★ ★

Not all the thrills come i nthe big league games, for Lincolnites had plenty of excitement when the 9A's gave the men faculty some real competition in the annual baseball game.

★ ★ ★

George Gary captained the teachers to a 19 to 12 victory over the 9A's led by Tom Devaney and Gordon Stevens. Hefty Earl Hewitt knocked out a home run. Charles Kimbrell umpired the game.

★ ★ ★

The 101's with their teacher, Sue Eckley, traveled to Cranbrook by school bus today for a tour through the Cranbrook Museum. The seventh graders plan on having a bus picnic included in the trip.

★ ★ ★

Many class picnics are being held in various recreational spots in the vicinity of Pontiac, but the one that pleases the teachers the most is the annual faculty frolic which includes the families of the teachers and staff.

★ ★ ★

This year the affair was held in the yards of Mrs. Mildred Wiersema and Beryl Roush, who have adjoining lawns. The group enjoyed games, stunts, and a picnic dinner, including custom-served steaks.

★ ★ ★

The Camera Club, sponsored by James Burke, has had an outstanding exhibit of the work of its members on display in the lobby of Lincoln.

★ ★ ★

Several students have demonstrated the technique of enlarging pictures and have their samples in the display cases. Sharon Hadden, Charles Spatariu, Myron Vandecar, and John Motley prepared pictures.

★ ★ ★

The Honors and Awards Assembly given Thursday and today paid tribute to the exception talents and scholarship of students from all grades. The coveted Gold "L" and Guard was bestowed upon 18 students; the Gold "L," upon 11 students; and the Silver "L," to 46 students.

★ ★ ★

Ralph Forman, assistant principal, was in charge of the ceremonies. The Honors and Awards Committee is composed of Mrs. Myrtie Meabon, Forest White, and James Burke, and the following students: Jane Saarl, Shirley Parent, Jerry Menter, Jennifer Marion, and Sharon Baker.

AT EASTERN

★ ★ ★

This week's assembly consisted of an honors and awards program in which 73 boys and girls were awarded the Bronze "E," 56 the Silver "E," 19 the Gold "E," and 17 the Gold "E" and Guard.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Graduation exercises will be held on Thursday, June 13, with approximately 275 ninth graders being awarded diplomas. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, will deliver the graduation address.

Area High Schools Eye Commencements

Rehearsals for graduation and the awarding of honors to outstanding students kept seniors busy at area high schools this week.

Wearing their caps and gowns for the first time the Walled Lake senior class processed into the auditorium this afternoon for their swing-out program.

Witnessing the ceremonies and the awarding of the highest honors were senior parents and friends.

Heads of departments gave pins and medals to those seniors who had been outstanding in their work during their high school years.

For the first time since the awards have been made one girl received three of the coveted subject awards. Jan McBroom received the English, vocal music, and National Honor Society.

Others were Lloyd Sappington, math; Janice Grove, social studies; Tom Westerdale, science; Richard Greig, industrial arts; Judy Warwick, librarian; Barbara Counts, typing; Delores Conklin, shorthand; George Bender, bookkeeping; Nancy Gotham, general commercial; Mike Muth, art; and Marilyn Glowacke, journalism.

In addition to the subject awards, nine seniors who have earned at least 70 activity points for participation in extra curricular activities were awarded the "W.L." pins.

In order to make the award fair for girls, boys may apply only 40 of their sport points toward the pins. Those who won the prized pins were Bill Brown, Jim Donovan, Jan McBroom, Lloyd Sappington, Terry Dixon, John Walker, Tom Westerdale, Gary Zehnder, and Marilyn Glowacke.

Following the program, the senior sponsors were presented with gifts from the class. Then underclassmen who had witnessed the affair returned to their classes, and seniors and parents were guests at a tea sponsored by the sophomore class.

AT LAKE ORION

Lake Orion High School closes its doors for the summer today.

Graduation was Wednesday night, and the rest of the school received their report cards today.

The "Pajama Top Bop" Student Council dance to put the school activities to sleep for the summer netted $122 profit, so the Student Council donated the balance of $61 to reach the goal of $1,400 for the electric score board so it can be installed before next year.

The yearbooks arrived Monday and were being passed furiously between exams in an effort to get every possible signature in the last minutes of school time.

The Awards Assembly was a real event with students who had earn their letters and pins in all phases of school achievement being presented their awards of recognition before the student body.

Seniors received theirs again before parents on Class Night, Tuesday which proved to be a hilarious evening.

Announcements of scholarships were made by James Hoag, school principal.

Val Joan Urban and Steven Ruebelman received the University of Michigan Regents scholarships, and also the Teacher's Club scholarships, totaling $450, toward their education; Linda Moehlman won the State Board scholarship to Eastern Michigan College; Robert Hampton, the State Board scholarship to Northern Michigan College; Ed Braid, a 4-H Scholarship to Michigan State University.

AT CLARKSTON

The graduating class of 1957, is preparing for the baccalaureate ceremony to be held at 3 p.m. Sunday. The Rev. Mr. W. K. Richards, of Clarkston, will deliver the sermon at this affair.

Monday evening, the commencement will be held either at the football field, if the weather is fair, or in the school gymnasium.

Principal speaker will be Dr. Carl Gross, professor of education at Michigan State University.

There are 67 seniors in the graduating class.

TWO BY TWO — Clarkston High School graduates rehearse their formal march down the aisle in preparation for the bacealaureate and commencement exercises. The former will be held Sunday afternoon and the latter, Monday evening. There are 67 graduates.

Waterford High Senior Wins Two Scholarships

By JEAN HOFFMANN

One of Waterford Township High School's most outstanding graduates has received a Michigan State freshman scholarship, and a $500

BARBARA HUTCHINGS

scholarship award from the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Barbara Hutchings, 17, who lives with her mother, Mrs. Margery Hutchings, at 27 Ramona Terrace, is a British subject, and is looking forward to becoming an American citizen when she is 18.

For the four years that Barbara has attended school here, she has maintained a better than B plus average, along with participating in many extra-curricular activities.

Barbara has a flair for dramatics, and was the winner of the Original Oratory Contest sponsored by the University of Michigan.

Barbara plans on eventually becoming a teacher, majoring in drama, speech and journalism.

Copies of the 1957 Senior Magazine were given to seniors last Wednesday, and were sold to underclassmen the remainder of the week. The magazine features various activities of the last of the year, such as the senior trip, senior skip day, awards assembly, scholarships, and spring sports.

Seniors held their annual Cap and Gown Dance on Thursday evening. A record dance, the event also featured movies of the senior trip, entertainment from the senior class, and refreshments. General chairman was Julie Hickman.

Underclassmen held elections for next year's class officers on Thursday. Candidates were chosen under a new petition system. Each person running for an office filed a petition with the signatures of 15 per cent of the class. When more than three candidates received the quota of signatures, primaries were held.

Elections were recently held for next year's editors on the school paper and yearbook. Waterlog co-editors are Darlene Dahl and Brenda Lewis. First semester editor of the paper is Jean Hoffmann, and second semester, Joyce O'Neil.

Officers for G.A.A. were announced at the annual banquet, held on May 29. President, Carole Moore; secretary, Janet Delbridge; and treasurer, Char Pankner.

Highlight of the evening was the announcement of the Outstanding Senior G.A.A. Girl, Gail Mitchell. Guest speaker for the event was Jean Leedty, physical education instructor at M.S.U.

At a formal candelight service on Monday, the Thespians will initiate 12 new members. The 7:30 ceremony will be followed by dinner at Howard Johnson's.

To qualify for membership, a student must have earned 20 points in Dramatics Club. These points are awarded for participation in plays, help with staging and sets, and work on club committees.

New Thespians include Pat Noe, Stephanie Hill, Bill Barnett, Grace Williamson, Bob Boyd, and Margaret Meston. Also being initiated are Flo Hirneison, Judy Dommer, Mary Beechum, Brenda Lewis, Ruth DeGrow, and Dayton Thomason.

Speakers, Rites Scheduled

St. Michael Graduation Set for Sunday

By JUDY NIEDJELSKI

Sunday, the St. Michael seniors will attend the 7:30 Mass in a body after which they will go to St. Michael Hall where they will partake of breakfast prepared by the ladies of the Altar Society.

PATRICIA MARTIN

After breakfast Daniel Dropps will introduce the speakers. Cordial greetings will be extended to the priests, sisters, parents, classmates, and friends by Patricia Martin, salutatorian of the class.

Loretta Lauinger, valedictorian will present the intellectual aspect of our high school years. Other speakers on the agenda are Annette Couture, Sharon Moore, Gary Sabourin, Thomas Harding and Judith Niedjelski.

Father O'Reilly will then offer his greetings to the group and present the Honor Certificates, Perfect Attendance Awards, and prizes for services over and above the call of duty.

At 8 p.m. the seniors will assemble in St. Michael Church, and renew their Consecration to their class patron, Saint Joseph.

Rev. Fr. Michael O'Reilly will address the graduates and present the diplomas. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament will bring to a close the graduation exercises for the class of '57.

Hints on Vegetable Gardens Given

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
Assistant County Agricultural Agent

Where time or space limits a person's opportunity to do much gardening, the use of successive plantings and improved varieties often help.

BEANS

First plantings are usually the first week in June. Succeeding plantings should be at 10-14 day intervals until July 15. Harvest date is 51-70 days after planting.

LIMA BEANS

Handled much as green beans, only one crop of limas is usually grown because they require 65-88 days until harvest.

BEETS

Should have been one of the earliest crops because they can stand light frosts. They may be harvested in 51-60 days after seeding. This permits repeated small plantings until July 15.

BROCCOLI

A plant considered an excellent source of those vitamins associated with green plants, and also, has a high mineral content. It survives the heat and dry weather very well. Usually two crops are grown, spring and fall.

The early crop is started in hot beds, the fall crop seeded in late May or early June. The head is harvested just before the buds start to grow. Maturity is 60-80 days.

CABBAGE

May be grown to mature at any season. A second seeding in early June will produce a fall crop. Two side dressings of fertilizer made at monthly intervals after transplanting will greatly improve quality.

SWEET CORN

This plant lends itself very well to a multiple planting routine. Successive ripening may be achieved by planting varities which mature at different dates, or by using one variety and making successive plantings.

The days of maturity will be mentioned on the package. If you wish to use just one variety, a good general rule is to make your second planting when the second leaf is easily seen on the first planting. This should give one week's difference at harvest date.

CUCUMERS

Do best in well fertilized sandy soils. An additional fertilizer application when the blossoms appear and watering during dry weather increase production tremendously. These are warm weather plants, to be sown in early June.

MELONS

Respond in well fertilized sandy soils. They too need a long warm growing season, so hot bed plants may be of considerable advantage. For both of these crops, side dressings with nitrogen at blossoming time and irrigation during dry weather greatly improve yield.

ONIONS

May be easily grown from either seed or small onions called "sets." In any event they should be planted extremely early, to be followed by successive plantings until late June. If you buy onion plants, they will be sweet spanish, to be grown for the bulbs.

RADISHES

Are almost strictly grown during the cool season, that is, as spring crops. Summer plantings grow well, but tend to become strong and woody. These do well when 10-14 day plantings are made through April and May and early June. Fall plantings are equally successful, starting in late August.

TOMATOES

Are extremely tender plants and are usually planted as transplants from hot beds. Some allow them to trail, while others train them to stakes or fences.

Because tomato fruits will not set or develop naturally unless night temperatures are near 60 degrees, setting out extremely large plants very early does not have all the advantages it might seem. Every grower should rely upon two plantings, a small planting of early variety for early fruit and mid-season variety for heavy yields.

Don't Plant Seed Deep

One of the main reasons for the unsuccessfulness of plants or flowers is the fact that the seeds are often planted too deep. A good rule to follow is to plant the seed no more than three times as deep as the seed is thick.

OPERATION APPLE POLLEN—Standing in an apple orchard, Joseph Strack fires a 12-gauge shotgun loaded with special shells containing apple pollen. This unusual system has been employed by the owner of the Winconsin orchard for the past four years, to make sure his McIntosh apple trees are properly pollinated.

Slopes and Terraces Justify the Expenses of Soding

Unless good quality sod is available and complete coverage is needed immediately, the expense of sodding is seldom justified except on steep slopes or terraces where washing may be a serious problem.

To sod, prepare and fertilize the seedbed in the same manner as for seeding. Firm the seedbed with a roller after final hand raking.

Sod should not be cut more than one inch thick. Sod cut ¼ inch thick will knit to the underlying soil faster than thicker sod.

Lay the sod pieces as you would lay brick and fit them together as tightly as possible. After laying the first strip, place a broad board on the sodded strip. Kneel on this board, and move it forward as the job progresses. This eliminates tramping on the prepared seedbed.

★ ★ ★

After the sod is laid, tamp it lightly and topdress it with a small amount of topsoil. Work the topdressing into the cracks between the sod pieces with a broom or the back of a wooden rake. Keep the soil moist until it is well established.

Surrender Flag Not Up Yet!

You'll Be Surprised There Is Still Time to Start Gardens

To look across the fence and see your neighbor's garden all sprouted and growing beautifully even before you have turned a spadeful of dirt in your own yard is a pretty discouraging thing. But it's not time to run up the flag of surrender.

You have some advantages even yet. In the first place, that nice crop of weeds that has gotten started can be killed as you till your soil, and they won't be offering competition later to your seedling flowers.

Next, you'd be surprised how rapidly seeds germinate and how seedlings make speedy starts in soil that is thoroughly warm. A month from now you might find it difficult to tell the difference in planting dates between your neighbor's garden and your own.

Pink Pansy Variety Is Rare and Large

Pink is a rare color among pansies. One lovely variety, Pansy Swiss Giants, of which blossoms can be grown to exceed six inches in diameter, have edges of the petals in a lighter tone of raspberry rose while the centers are dark velvety blotches.

This contrast enhances the charm of the flower. A solid bed of this variety, planted in the shade, can be kept blooming all summer, if the faded flowers are kept picked off.

Today iris ranks among the most impressive of all garden flowers. The introduction of new breeding lines has resulted in a vast array of new and brilliant colors, and larger and more beautiful flowers.

Now Small Marigolds Have Been Developed

A delightful group of highly decorative small flowered marigolds has been developed in the last few years. The increased color range extends from bright yellow to darkest maroon, with many attractive blends of yellow, red and orange.

Their great variety lends interest to bowl arrangements and there is no better subject for the cutting garden than a mixture of small flowered marigolds.

Nicholas Longworth is said to be the "father of American grape culture." He was leader of a group of horticultural experts in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Army Scientists Create Cheap Way to Produce Metal Castings

WATERTOWN, Mass. (AP)—Army scientists at the Watertown Arsenal revealed today that they have developed a technique in the making of metal castings which is expected to save American industry millions of dollars.

The invention will be available to all American industries making castings.

★ ★ ★

The new process for making sand molds for castings uses low-cost waterglass to hold the sand together. It may save at least 90 per cent of the cost of such molds.

Philip Carbonaro, director of the arsenal's Rodman Laboratory, said the new process will lend itself to automation, introducing still further foundry efficiency—and savings. The process will especially benefit smaller firms.

"Resinless shell moldings," is the term applied to the process. It was invented by Paul J. Ahearn, of the laboratory's experimental foundry branch.

The biggest complaint against present molds has been the relatively high cost of resin. In addition, transportation of resin includes a fire hazard-adding cost to its use. And in certain types of steel, the transformation of the resin in the mold into gas creates a rough casting.

Water glass is abundant and cheap.

Benny Hooper Heading for Vacation in Hills

WERNERSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Benny Hooper, the youngster who survived 23½ hours of living burial in a well last month, was headed here today for a vacation in the Pennsylvania hills.

The family of the 7-year-old accepted a personal invitation from Daniel Burack of Galen Hall Hotel and Country Club. They planned to arrive late today.

Odds Favor Girl to Cop Crown in Spelling Bee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sorry, fellows, but the odds are 2-1 that by nightfall a girl will be crowned champion speller of America.

Sixty-seven youngsters from all over the country compete today in the 30th National Spelling Bee, a tongue-twisting marathon that would drive adults to cover.

Girls outnumber boys 40-27. In 29 previous bees, the little women have won twice as many championships as the boys.

Finalists this year, including 1956 runner-up Sandra Owen of Navarre, Ohio, spelled their way to Washington in community and regional contests that attracted some five million contestants.

Entries cannot be over 15 or beyond eighth grade.

★ ★ ★

The championship is worth $1,000, a weekend in New York, a cup, ruby-set gold medal and a plaque for the winner's school. The champ can't flunk a word. One miss and a contestant is out until the field is narrowed to two. Then when one fails, the other must correct that misspelling and score with an additional word.

★ ★ ★

Entries are sponsored by 64 newspapers in this country and the Stars and Stripes, European edition.

Doctor Blasted on Pill Charges

Athletes, Officials Deny Record-Breaking Feats Due to Stimulants

NEW YORK (INS)—Dr. Herbert Berger is making "no further comment" after being blasted by the athletic world for charging that the four-minute mile and other "super" performances are due to the use of potent pep-up pills.

Dr. Berger failed yesterday to make a counter-attack to the angry blasts from track stars, coaches, athletic commissioners and sports doctors who denied his accusation that stimulants are being used indiscriminately by the nation's professional, collegiate and high school athletics.

Dozens of newsmen, television cameramen and photographers assembled at the Americain Medical Association convention to consult the physician at a scheduled press conference but Dr. Berger did not show up.

Came to U.S. on Honeymoon

Observe 65th Anniversary

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A couple who came to Grand Rapids from the Netherlands on their honeymoon plan to celebrate their 65th wedding anniversary next Monday.

★ ★ ★

Schrier retired at 73 after 48 years as a finisher or two Grand Rapids furniture firms. He still keeps busy tending a large vegetable garden in his yard and maintains an immaculate yard with a variety of flowers.

Mrs. Schrier still carries on her own housekeeping duties, except for some help at housecleaning time.

Each has returned to the Netherlands on visits, but agree that they have no desire to trade their life in the United States for their old home overseas.

Anniversary celebration plans include an open house reception at the home of their son, Homer. The couple also are parents of two married daughters. Their family includes six grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

CAB Orders Firms to Stop Deception

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board has ordered six associated ticket agencies in Florida, New York and Detroit to "cease and desist" from unfair and deceptive practices.

★ ★ ★

The CAB ruled yesterday that three of them—Southeast Airlines Agency, a Florida corporation; Southeast Airlines Agency Corp., a New York corporation; and Detroit Southeast Agency, Inc., a Michigan corporation—falsely held themselves out as airlines, sold deceptive documents purporting to be tickets, failed to provide promised service, and failed or refused to make timely refunds.

A fourth, Southeast Airlines Agency, Inc., a Michigan corporation, illegally held itself out as an airline, the CAB said.

The board found that two concerns which succeeded to and took over the four Southeast agencies—Atlantic Aircoach Agency, Inc., a Florida corporation, and Atlantic Aircoach Agency of Illinois, Inc., violated the regulations in their own names by holding themselves out as airlines.

There were only two independent nations, Turkey and Persia, in the Near East at the end of World War I. Today there are ten.

Detroit Building Dips

DETROIT (AP) — Contracts for future construction in Detroit declined 17 per cent in April compared to last year, F. W. Dodge Corp. reports. Residential building dropped 36 per cent while contracts in the non-residential category increased 59 per cent over a year ago.

Audrey Hepburn to Star in 'Diary of Anne Frank'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Audrey Hepburn will star in "The Diary of Anne Frank" for George Stevens. George has a one-track mind and has always held out for her through thick and thin.

She will certainly bring a real knowledge to this role because she was in Holland during part of the Nazi occupation.

"The Nun's Story" won't go until January so Audrey will have time to play in "The Diary of Anne Frank" before she reports at Warners for "Nun."

I suppose that George, who has been in Holland scouting locations, will get Joseph Schildkraut for the father. Joe played it on the Broadway stage with Susan Strassburg.

Best news I've heard in a long time is that Anna Kashfi, the East Indian girl who has been sick for so long, is well enough to have an important role in "Reminiscences of a Cowboy."

She was supposed to go into "Don't Go Near the Water" at MGM when she was taken sick. Now she has been borrowed from MGM by Columbia.

And, I always say if you try hard enough anything is possible. Jack Lemmon made up his mind that he wanted to play the role of the author, Frank Harris, in "Reminiscences of a Cowboy." (Glenn Ford has the other top role). And now producer Julian Blaustein and director Delmer Daves have decided Jack is okay.

TO TRY NITERIES

Wanda Hendrix, who gave up her career when she married wealthy Jim Stack, brother of Bob Stack, will invade the nitery field. She has been preparing her act with Vick Knight, president of Key Records, for months.

Wanda will sing as well as dance, and she plans to break in her act when she and Jim go to their summer place at Lake Tahoe next month.

Vick is credited with giving Dinah Shore her first big break when he was producing the Eddie Cantor radio show He also produced "Halls of Ivy" and brought out "Flat Foot Floogie with a Floy Floy" years ago.

The most ardent twosome in town, Liliane Montevecchi and Dr. Rex Ross, will be separated for a month. Liliane leaves for Paris June 18 to join Marlon Brando and Montgomery Clift in "The Young Lions." She will play Francoise.

Marlon and Monty are already in Paris, and I'm told that Monty, who greatly admires Marlon, is working like a beaver and has lost all of his old nervousness which was so difficult for the cast while he was making "Raintree County."

ALLENS EXPECTING

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: A telegram from Jayne Meadows and Steve Allen confirms they are expecting their first child early in October. They lost a baby last year.

Dorothy Lamour sends words from New Orleans that despite her broken ankle she's going to New York to start rehearsals for the Broadway show "Roger Sixth."

Terry Moore's husband, Eugene McGrath, was decorated by the president of the Republic of Panama. And why do you think he received this honor? Because he was able to borrow two million dollars from Uncle Sam to build waterworks and sanitation!

This is one session I'd love to be in on. Elvis Presley has accepted Yul Brynner's invitation to come to the Brynner house and play a guitar duet. "The Brothers Karamazov Rock" maybe?

Pontiac's Athletic Future—Progress or Chaos?

(This is the last of a two-part series dealing with athletic and recreational problems in Pontiac mainly with that of the high school. Facilities and organizational problems complete this series.)

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Where does Pontiac go from here? After 61 years of athletic mediocrity the answer to this question lies only in the responsible hands of the school system and the community.

The choice is between status quo and progress. The new high school, a couple new tennis courts, a rebuilt swimming pool, are by no means the cure-alls, nor should Jesse MacLeay, the new football coach, be hailed as the "messiah" who will deliver Pontiac to gridiron glory.

These are the necessary tools however, and to go with them there must be simultaneous support in the school system and the city.

A program which will coordinate athletics and recreation from the elementary to the senior high levels, along with a more explicit tie-in with the city's department of recreation, is the only root which will eventually bear fruit.

The start must come with additional and improved facilities. The city has facilities and the school system has its own facilities. Many are inadequate. Hesitance on either part to formulate a coordinating program would tend to push Pontiac deeper into athletic chaos.

President Eisenhower's physical fitness program has stressed the need for community support to develop a well rounded athletic and recreational program. It urges tie-ins from individual to family programs. At stake is the country's most precious asset — the American youth.

Where do we start? The new senior high school is a long way from being constructed and even though the outlined plans will serve the school's own needs five years hence what about today's youth?

To begin, the facilities at the present high school must be rebuilt or reconditioned to meet today's standards and needs.

The antiquated swimming pool serves only the purpose of having a varsity team. Its' deteriorated mechanism, diving boards and limited seating make it useless to the community. It offers no appeal or hope for prospective championship swimmers.

There are no intra-mural softball fields, tennis courts or layouts for volleyball, soccer, handball and other recreational needs.

To go with the need for facilities, there must be adequate organization. An entirely new philosophy must be initiated, one which will have coherence to the level of the boy. For integral success it must also benefit the girls.

Presently, the five junior high schools operate in near autonomy in their athletic and recreational outlets. The athletic setup of the junior high schools attempt to mirror senior high varsity and junior varsity teams with league play, cheerleaders, and championships.

By this system actually the only advantage is the development of a few skills for a select few on either the varsity or junior varsity.

But what of the boy who fails to make the team? Because he is unable to compete against an overly mature boy he subsequently finds himself left off the squad of 30 or 35.

This is a harmful situation. That particular boy, discouraged in his attempt to make the football or basketball team as a 7th or 8th grader, may never again offer himself as a candidate for an athletic squad.

There are hundreds of boys in this situation, and as result they are lost as far as being prospects for senior high varsity teams.

No boy, who has the desire to play football, basketball or any other sport, should be deprived of that right because the other boy is 20 pounds heavier or three inches taller.

The boy who is a 90-pounder as an 8th grader may be the 190-pounder as a 11th grader, but because he was cut from a junior high team, he was deprived of gaining the fundamentals which may have made him a first string player in high school.

Pontiac's competitive junior high program has been rebuked by other communities which have junked similar situations for a program aimed at developing skills at each individual level.

The Pontiac school system is striving as well to junk the present program. It has no other alternative, because it has an obligation to every boy, not a select few.

The survey of junior high participation warrants a change. Statistics of 1955 showed that of approximately 1,800 boys in junior high schools, 845 came out for football. Before the season ended only 236 remained, and of this total only 33 reported for the 1956 PHS football team.

The result was obvious. It was another dismal season added to the other 12 since the present junior high program was set up in 1944.

A new program is under consideration and it should be given every opportunity to develop.

The essence of proposed junior high reorganization would allow every boy to participate regardless of numbers. The boy would play against other boys of equal weight and age and rather than cutting any youngster and destroying his confidence, as many teams as necessary would be organized on each level.

In other words, a team would constitute 25 boys, and if 125 of the same age and weight limitations came out, then that particular league would have five teams. This would be the same in the other age and weight categories of the boys.

Instead of having just two teams at each junior high, the number could increase to unlimited proportions. Total participants would rise from 300, likewise, to unlimited numbers.

It would be the same in other sports. Facilities would have to be adjusted to accommodate greater numbers, but in its finality, the prospective crop for Pontiac High athletics would be greater. And it would especially be advantageous with two high schools.

These and other problems circumvent the Pontiac athletic picture. It will take years to sprout, but this is the time to seed.

White Sox Continue Hot AL Pace, Phils Rolling

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maybe those Philadelphia Phillies aren't kiddin'. When they can take five of seven from Cincinnati and Brooklyn, and Robin Roberts gives up just one home run in 20 innings, it's no joke to the other contenders.

★ ★ ★

The Phillies did just that last night, with Robin — the gopher ball king — holding the robust Redlegs to eight hits while his mates came through with three home runs to beat the National League leaders 6-2.

That gave the Phillies the series 2-1 and shoved them within 1½ games of Cincinnati again, although they remained in third place. The Dodgers, also 1½ out, retained a five-percentage point edge over Philadelphia when their game with the Chicago Cubs was postponed by fog (that's right, pal — fog).

Fourth place Milwaukee lost to the New York Giants 2-0, and stayed three games back. St. Louis, 5½ games behind in fifth, swatted Pittsburgh 6-0.

Things aren't as close in the American League. Chicago's White Sox continued their breakneck pace, defeating Boston 3-2 for a three-game sweep and their fourth in a row. Second place New York, five games back, slugged Cleveland's third place Tribe for the third day in a row, this time 14-5 on 20 hits that plunked the Injuns 8½ games behind.

Detroit replaced Boston in fourth, only a half game away from the Tribe, with a 7-6 victory over Washington. Baltimore defeated Kansas City 8-3.

Roberts gave up nothing louder than a triple while gaining his eighth complete game, tops in the majors, and drawing up to the .500 mark for the first time this season with his sixth victory. It was his third in a row. Only Brooklyn's Roy Campanella has managed to tag him for a home run in his last 20 frames — but it was the 15th off Robin, high in the majors.

A two-run homer by Minnie Minoso in the seventh won for the White Sox, who have lost only five of their last 25. Jim Wilson gained his sixth victory with a seven-hitter, holding Ted Williams (.393) hitless. Dave Sisler was the loser. Mickey Vernon drove in both Boston runs.

Fullmer, Jones Tangle Tonight

Gene Rated 9-5 Pick as Champ Conquerors Meet at Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Gene Fullmer and Tiger Jones, a pair of middleweights who have the rare distinction of defeating Sugar Ray Robinson, clash tonight in a 10-rounder at Chicago Stadium.

Fullmer is a 9-5 favorite in the nationally broadcast and televised scrap—NBC, 9 p.m. EST. He defeated Jones at Cleveland on April 20, 1956.

Only 37 days ago in the same ring, Fullmer was knocked out in the fifth round by Robinson's left as Sugar Ray regained the middleweight crown. The West Jordan, Utah, mauler had lifted the title from Robinson in New York last January 2.

This will be Fullmer's first bout since he was sent sprawling and he must win to continue in contention. He is rated No. 1 contender in the latest National Boxing Assn. rankings.

THURSDAY'S HOME RUNS

From The PRESS BOX

The biggest crowd of the season will be on hand tonight for the Yankee game, providing the club gets cooperation from the weatherman. The Tigers expect upwards of 45,000 spectators. The game has been a sellout for three weeks.

To go with Michigan State, the U. of D. may have Navy and Maryland on its football schedule either 1959 or 1960. Titan coach Wally Fromhart noted this last night when he gave Alumni leaders a color film showing of his secret spring game held in April.

Chance to Move Up Depends on 4-Game Series

Yankees Sweep Indians Three Times; Bunning Gets Assignment

DETROIT (AP)— Since talk is cheap, it won't cost anything to point out that the Detroit Tigers could move into a tie for second place in the American League by sweeping the four-game series starting tonight with the New York Yankees.

By edging the Washington Senators 7-6 yesterday on an eighth-inning home run by Frank House, the Tigers crept to within one-half game of the third-place Cleveland Indians, who are another 3½ games behind the world champion Yankees.

The club's most effective pitcher, lanky Jim Bunning, will oppose Don Larsen, the Bombers' perfect-game righthander who has been something short of sensational since his World Series spectacular.

Since it was announced that six Yankee players — Yogi Berra, Mickey Mantle, Billy Martin, Whitey Ford, Hank Bauer and Johnny Kucks — were fined a total of $5,500 for the ill-famed "Copacabana capers," the New Yorkers have swept a series from Cleveland, scoring 34 runs in three games.

After the Bunning and Larsen duel tonight, it's anybody's guess about the pitching plans for the remaining thre games. Tighe probably will use Paul Foytack, Duke Maas and Frank Lary to round out the series, and Yankee pilot Casey Stengel may call on Ford, Bob Turley and rookie Ralph Terry.

Tigers Win, 7-6 as House Raps His 4th Homer

Sleater Gets Victory as Hoeft Is Knocked From Hill

And Washington pitchers had stopped the Detroit Tiger catcher cold until yesterday's windup game of the three-contest series. House couldn't have picked a better time to explode with his three-for-four performance that included a game winning home run in the eighth inning.

The veteran receiver kept alive a second-inning splurge with a single and the Tigers went on to score four runs; he drove home Harvey Kuenn with a sixth-inning single and then broke a 6-6 deadlock with his fourth home run of the campaign and the 7-6 victory.

"I wouldn't lie to you," said House, "I hit a fast ball. It doesn't matter what it was, though, as long as it went over."

The home run put the first blemish on reliefer Bud Byerly's gopherball record and rewarded Tiger southpaw Lou Sleater with his second victory for nearly six sparkling innings of work.

Byerly succeeded Pedro Ramos, the Senators' leading home-run-giver-upper, after Sleater singled to start the seventh. The Tigers went on to score the tying run because of an error by Washington infielder Herb Plews. And Byerly, who hadn't yielded a home run in 24 2-3 innings, took his first beating after two triumphs in relief.

House, whose batting average fell off 40 points in the last three weeks, got back up to the .262 mark and Sleater's record climbed to 2-0. The chunky lefty took over in the fourth inning after the Nats rattled six runs and six hits off starter Bill Hoeft and limited his foes to three hits the rest of the way. He added two singles to the Tigers' 12-hit attack, too.

Hoeft, relying on breaking stuff because his fast ball was missing its usual hop, yielded a first-inning, two-run homer to Roy Sievers and then couldn't protect a 4-2 lead. The Tigers scored four times in the second inning as Jim Finigan drove in two runs with a double — his third base hit in Detroit colors — and Hoeft batted home two more with his first Major League home run.

10 Bouts Are Scheduled for Waterford June 15th

Pairings have been made for the benefit boxing bouts to be held Saturday night, June 15th at Waterford High School under the sponsorship of the Williams Lake Swim Club.

Amateur fighters from Detroit, Jackson, Monroe, Windsor and Pontiac are listed on the card.

Eggleston is the present Golden Gloves champion of Michigan and he went all the way to the national finals of the AAU in Boston before being eliminated.

The Police Athletic League of Windsor will send two of its leading amateurs into the ring that night. Phil Parent, 135-pounder of Windsor will meet Bill Chapman of Detroit, and in the 160 pound division Jerry Hastings of Windsor will face Don Cole of Pontiac Boys Club.

Proceeds of the bouts will go toward building facilities for the Williams Lake Club Swimmers. John Duffy is matchmaker and Frank Spraker is chairman of the program.

Tickets are available in the city at Griff's Grill and Capitol Barber and will also be sold at the Waterford High box office.

The fights get under way at 8:00 p.m. on the 15th.

PAIRINGS FOR THE CARD:

What Is It?

If It Isn't Sore Arm

DETROIT (AP) — Southpaw Bill Hoeft insists his arm isn't sore. Manager Jack Tighe says Hoeft pitches "like a fellow who has a sore arm." Trainer Jack Homel says that if Hoeft's arm is sore, "I'm not treating him."

If Hoeft's arm isn't sore — and he's the best source for that kind of information — everyone wants to know why the big left hander isn't throwing with his customary speed.

"I'd tell you if it were sore," said Hoeft after being driven from the box yesterday. "It feels good and strong — but I realize I'm not throwing with the same speed as I did last year. Why — I don't know. The ball just isn't going in there like it should — so naturally I'm depending more on breaking stuff."

Hoeft, a 20-game winner last season, has started eight times and finished only once.

Son of Citation Runs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Manteau, a son of the great Citation, triple crown winner in 1948, may enter the picture for the $100,000 Belmont Stakes June 15, it was indicated today from Washington Park in Chicago.

The 3-year-old bay colt is expected to start in the $50,000-added Chicagoan, the Balmoral-at-Washington Park feature at one mile tomorrow.

'Walking Horse' Owners Place in Kalamazoo Show

Among the placements in the recent Polio Benefit horse show at Kalamazoo were two Pontiac area riders and their Tennessee walking horses. Sue Braid and her mare, Midnight Lady Moon, placed third in the open walking horse class. Mrs. Edna Harris of Lake Orion, with My Friend Flica, were fourth in walking horse pleasure class.

Both are members of the Walking Horse Association of Michigan, formed to aid in the return of the walking horse to its former high status, and to help curb some abusive practices used in showing this breed.

Revival of Football Favored at Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—For the first time a prominent faculty member of the University of Chicago has come out publicly for reviving football at the school after a lapse of nearly 20 years.

Robert M. Strozier, dean of students, said in an address last night at the 45th annual dinner of the Order of the C:

"I wish to state without equivocation that I favor the return of football to the University of Chicago as soon as possible."

Area Publinxers in Match Play

By BILL CORNWELL

The 31-year-old Pontiac High School mathematics teacher was scheduled to meet Frank Frisinger of Ann Arbor this morning in his 1st 18-hole match.

Match play is being conducted this year for the 1st time in the Publinx Golf tournament. Andonian won the state title last year in 72-hole medal play with a one-under-par 279 over Rolling Green's par 70, 5,409-yard layout.

Sixty-three golfers block Andonian's path to a 2nd consecutive state publinx championship following Thursday's 36-hole qualifying rounds. Andonian, as defending champion, was exempt from qualifying.

Bob Nodus, Michigan State University golfer, was medalist in yesterday's qualifiers. The 22-year-old senior, who lives in Crystal, fired a three-under-par 137 on rounds of 68-69. His score was the only sub-par total in the trials.

Jim Selzer, former Flint Northern golf coach who won the state title in 1955 and finished 2nd last year, placed 3rd in the qualifiers with 70-74—144. Royal Oak's Don Nelson was runner-up yesterday with 71-72—143.

Another ex-champion, Roy Iceberg of Pontiac, wound up in a tie for 5th spot by shooting 72-74—146. Fred King and John Lock, both from Dearborn, tied for 4th at 145.

Charles Barker of Pontiac was in a three-way deadlock for 6th place with 147 on cards of 73-74.

Other Oakland County scores included a 74-74—148 by Jim Pertain Jr. of Royal Oak; Bob Brooks of Birmingham, 74-76—150, and Ron Mueller of Royal Oak, 73-78—151. All of them entered match play today.

Three former state publinx champs were absent as the field swung into match competition. Jay Law of Utica, whose three crowns are more than anyone else can boast, failed to enter, along with John Tews of Bay City and Jack Gregory of Detroit.

Paul Bada of Pontiac, one of the hottest golfers in Oakland County last year, also failed to enter as did Glenn Harding, Pontiac insurance salesman.

Morning and afternoon matches, all of 18-hole distance, were scheduled to reach their climax Sunday afternoon with the championship final.

Scores included:

Bob Dodus, Crystal	68-69—137
Don Nelson, Royal Oak	71-72—143
Jim Selzer, Flint	70-74—144
Fred King, Dearborn	71-73—145
John Lock, Dearborn	72-73—145
Roy Iceberg, Pontiac	72-74—146
Carl Mueller, Saginaw	72-74—146
Tom Miller, Saginaw	74-72—146
Charles Barker, Pontiac	73-74—147
Jerry Hutchinson, Saginaw	75-72—147
Chuck Adams, Detroit	72-75—147
Jim Pertain, Jr., Royal Oak	74-74—148
George Sidlow, Saginaw	73-75—148
Walt Hadzlek, Detroit	75-73—148
Al Pazen, Detroit	74-74—148
Doug Woody, Detroit	77-78—149
Dallas Space, Ann Arbor	74-75—149

Famous Golf Shots

Wrong Course Shot Won Open Title for Furgol

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (AP)—The fairway on the 18th hole of the lower course at the Baltusrol Golf Club is separated by a winding stream. Actually the hole has two fairways, the one that catches the good tee shots and the one that catches the second shots between the stream and the green.

Despite a withered left arm, Furgol normally hits a golf ball about as straight and as far as most of the top pros. But this day on the 18th hole at Baltusrol he made history after his tee shot hooked into the woods between the upper and lower courses.

Furgol decided to play a provisional tee shot. However, upon reaching his first shot in the woods he saw an opening to the left. It was the 18th fairway of the upper course. It was inbounds, but Furgol wanted to make certain. He asked a member of the rules committee if he could play out of trouble. He could.

So Furgol, who hurt his arm in a fall from a playground parellel bar at Utica, N. Y., in 1928 when he was 11, used his head. He decided to play safe yet try to get as much distance as possible.

He took his eight iron and sent the ball flying 130 yards to the upper course fairway. It was the shot which put him in position to par the 545-yard par 5 hole and card a 284 for his first major triumph.

When it was all over Furgol was so happy at winning $6,000 all at once, that he gave $1,000 to his caddie.

Baptist Routs Gidley in Waterford League

Emmanuel Baptist exploded for six runs in the 2nd inning, then coasted to a 7-1 victory over Gidley Electric behind the six-hit pitching of Harlan (Fat) Keith in last night's Waterford League softball game at Drayton Plains.

Arlo Flesher was the victim of the uprising, which featured a triple and two singles, one walk, two wild pitches, a passed ball and four errors. Keith struck out eight and lost his shutout in the 7th.

At the same time there will be two-bird handicap shoots for women and junior marksmen.

Giants Topple Jewelers, 6-4

Five-Run Rally in 5th Hands Shaw's 1st Loss in City Baseball Loop

The Michigan Giants, who hadn't won in three tries, rose up and smacked down previously unbeaten Shaw's Jewelers, 6-4, in a rain-shortened City League baseball game Thursday night at Wisner Field.

Trailing by a 4-1 score entering the top of the 5th inning, the Giants drove starting pitcher Dick Goldsworthy from the mound and before relief hurler Herman Bishop could put out the fire, five runs had scored and nine men had batted.

Charley McGuire, who relieved starter Jim Moore for the Giants in the 1st when Shaw's scored three runs, blanked the Jewelers in their half of the 5th. Then the rains came, handing the Giants and McGuire victory No. 1.

Two walks, Herb Moore's triple, a double by Sam Woodmore and singles by Ernest Nelson and Chet Woodmore featured the Giants' five-run rally. Bishop was tagged with the defeat.

Today's City League game on the Wisner diamond pits Griff's Grill against CIO Local 594 at 5:30 p.m.

Commissioner's Attorney Disagrees

Lawyer Calls Yankee Fines Illegal

NEW YORK (AP) — Prominent constitutional attorneys took opposite points of view today regarding the legality of fines imposed by baseball club owners and officials upon the players.

Frederic A. Johnson, New York lawyer who represented player Danny Gardella in his suit against baseball several years ago, believes that baseball fines are illegal, violating the due process clause of the federal and state constitutions.

Louis Carroll, attorney for Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick and the National League, asserts the fines are perfectly legal, emphasizing provisions for such are stated plainly in the owner-player contract.

Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-NY), head of the House Judiciary subcommittee scheduled to open its congressional probe of sports a week from next Monday, thinks fining of players by owners is legal but "deplorable."

Commissioner Frick and player's attorney J. Norman Lewis declined to comment, as did other promient baseball officials contacted.

Anyway, whether it's legal or not, the players have no intention of challenging it.

Speaking for the six members of the New York Yankees who were fined a total of $5,500 by club owner Dan Topping for their part in a night club fracas a month ago, team player representative Jerry Coleman said: "The players have accepted the fines as part of the proper baseball procedure.

"I do not know personally whether they feel the fines were exorbitant but I'm certain our fellows are willing to let the matter drop without the slightest thought in mind of bringing it to court."

Five of the Yankees, Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Billy Martin, Whitey Ford and Hank Bauer, were assessed $1,000 each. Johnny Kucks was assessed only $500 presumably because his earnings are not as high as the others.

"Baseball has no right whatsoever to impose fines on players," asserted Johnson. "It is entirely in arbitrary action. To impose a penalty without a hearing violates the due process clause of the federal and state constitutions. This is the clause that protects an individual from losing his life or his property without the due process of law."

"I think it is part of the baseball structure to permit an owner to fine the players," said Rep. Celler. "However, this is another illustration that the players are just peons for the owners. Why the players allow themselves to be tossed about is beyond my comprehension."

Big Inning Wins for Tavern Nine

Richard's Gets 7 Runs in 7th to Nip Eddie's for Softball Victory

Richard's Tavern staged a seven-run rally in the bottom of the 7th inning to nose out Eddie's Bar, 10-9, in a hectic City League softball game last night at Beaudette Park.

Only one hit was made in the wild inning, a single by Marv Caswell, and 11 men batted. Fred Foster scored the winning run on an infield error, the 4th miscue of the inning.

Five walks, a hit batsman, a wild pitch, a passed ball and a balk by pitcher Wilbur Wright were other features of the stanza. Kenneth Fall, who relieved Wright, was charged with the loss. Lloyd Harper pitched the distance for Richard's.

Elmo Burgess hurled a nifty three-hit shutout as the Pontiac Police defeated Deni's Corner, 7-0. It was Deni's 1st setback.

Franklin Products banged out 15 hits to trounce Pontiac State Hospital, 14-6, and Louie's Tavern scored early and hung on to down the CIO Local 653 by a 5-3 score.

Local All-Star Vote Gives Tigers Support

Win or lose, the Detroit Tigers still have the hearts of baseball's younger set.

According to the all-star balloting being conducted by the Press for the July 9th classic, Tiger players are getting strong support in the voting.

On the first day's balloting, Tiger shortstop Harvey Kuenn walked off with the honors by getting 17 first place votes of the 18 counted.

Local fans appear to be split in the Ray Boone-Vic Wertz battle at first base, and also locally Reno Bertoia is pushing George Kell at third base.

National League's strongest vote getters on the first ballots were Stan Musial at first, Willie Mays in center field and Redleg Ed Bailey the catcher.

The National statistics will come out of Commissioner Ford Frick's office. Positions of players who often are used at several spots, will be those positions played at as of the game June 2nd.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

2nd Base—Fox (16) and Bolling (2).
Rightfield—Kaline (17), Bauer (1).
Catchers—Berra (12), House (2), Triandos (2) and Lollar (2).

NATIONAL LEAGUE

2nd Base—Schoendist (10), Temple (5) and O'Connell (1).

Dodgers' Choice —Fog or Smog

NEW YORK (INS) — The Brooklyn Dodgers, who are considering moving to Los Angeles with its smog, had their Thursday night game at Ebbets Field with Chicago called off because of fog — the first such postponement in Major League history.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Grand Slam by Wood Wins Church Battle

A grand slam home run by pinch-hitter Jerry Wood paced Central Christian to a 9-5 victory over First Presbyterian in Church League games last night. Liberty Baptist Christian Missionary Alliance and St. Luke Methodist were other winners.

Don Kak swatted a 3-run homer to aid the Central Christian cause. Jim Stewart hurled a three-hitter as Liberty Baptist walloped Columbia Ave. Baptist 12-2. D. Badder allowed only 2 safeties as Missionary downed Oakland Ave. U. P. by 9-2 and St. Lukes tripped the Salvation Army 9-5. Russ Poole hurled the victory.

Furgol Leads Money Winners and Spenders

Who Says Golf Pros Rich?

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Golfdom's touring professionals, even the best, don't get rich on tournament golf.

Furgol fired a 2-over-par 73 in yesterday's first round over the 6,620 - yard Firestone course. A pace of 67 was set by Gay Brewer Jr. of Cincinnati, Charles Sifford of Philadelphia and Tommy Bolt of Los Angeles.

★ ★ ★

Of the 130 in the field, 30 cracked par and 19 others matched it. Furgol's score put him in a 12 - way tie for 62nd place.

Relaxing afterward, Furgol was thinking about the expense of the game, rather than his poor start. He said:

"This is an aggravating business at times. In the last eight years I've won $125,000 in prize money (an average of $15,625 a season and I'm broke. You just can't imagine the expense involved in playing the complete tour."

Ed pocketed $26,125 last year and is up to $13,616 this season, but he said:

Winner of the National Open and "professional golfer of the year" in 1954, Furgol plays at least 40 tournaments a year and in 13 years as a tourist he has played every tournament to the bitter end, never having picked up his ball.

"You have to get a new car every year. Counting the added cost over the trade-in value and the airplane fares you spend between $5,000 and $7,000 a year for traveling alone.

"Counting practice and play, a caddy averages $10 a day. The more you win, the more the caddy gets—which is as it should be. Insurance of various kinds cost at least $500 a year, and tips to waiters, locker room attendants, bell boys add up to between $600 and $1,000. Even telegrams and telephone bills run between $500 and $700.

"I'd say that due to increased costs, including a hike in entry fees, a player who goes the whole tour and lives well will spend at least $20,000 a year. You just can't make it on less and do things as they should be done."

To be in the running for the $2,800 first prize Sunday, Furgol must survive a slash of the field to the 90 low-scoring pros and 10 amateurs today and elimination of another 30 pros after Saturday's round.

And the three leaders may be hard for the others to catch. Brewer led National Open qualifiers last Monday with 133 for 36 holes; Bolt won the first Rubber City Open three years ago with a 23-under-par 265; and Sifford, only Negro in the tournament, is in his fourth term as Negro national champion.

She Fires 68

Wiffi Smith Leads LPGA

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The kids who gave women's professional golf a much-needed transfusion of new blood in the last year or so apparently have reached the stage where they're taking over from the gals who started the business.

★ ★ ★

The scores on the first round of the Ladies PGA championship—the No. 2 event in importance on the entire women's pro tour—should be sufficient indication. But they're not isolated examples; they just bear out what has been happening since the start of the current season.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Mary Kathryn (Mickey) Wright, age 22 years, 3 months; pro since 1954; score 71.

★ ★ ★

The scores themselves are rather amazing. Up to yesterday no woman had shot a competitive round under 70 at Churchill Valley, a tight little course with lots of hills and a twisting creek that can catch many unwary shots. Four of them broke that record and the tournament par in yesterday's opening round. The ones who did all figured they can save a few more strokes unless a change in weather brings different playing conditions.

★ ★ ★

And of the six leaders, four are under 24 years old and only three can be listed among the "old guard" of women's pro golf. The three include Mrs. Hagge, who turned pro at a very tender age and who reached her peak performance last year when she won eight tournaments and more than $20,000.

★ ★ ★

Miss Smith, termed by some as the most refreshing personality in women's golf, has won only one event, but she has been out of the money only once in 16 tournaments since she turned pro.

This Phil Fan Should Have Stayed in Bed

★ ★ ★

Harrison lost his head for a moment that night and reached out of his box seat to brab a ball that was bouncing by. If he hadn't touched it, it would have been a one-run triple by Granny Haniner.

★ ★ ★

But, in view of Harrison's interference, it was ruled a no-run double. Philadelphia lost the game 4-2, but they could conceivably have won it had Harrison been safely in bed at his home in Wilmington, Del.

The fan was booked on a disorderly conduct charge and removed from the stadium. He had to be. Other Phillies fans were threatening him with bodily injury.

He failed to show up at a hearing yesterday, which was probably just as well. About 50 grimfaced fans were on ha d there, too.

★ ★ ★

Magistrate Vincent A. Dean marked the hearing sheet "failed to appear." And the district attorney's office today was seeing what it could do to get Harrison into cout.

Moore May Accept Latest Fight Offer

MANNHEIM, Germany (AP)—Archie Moore, world lightheavyweight champion, said today he was waiting for his manager to "forward the papers here" after declaring that he probably would accept an offer of $100,000 to meet Tony Anthony of New York for the title.

★ ★ ★

Anthony put himself in line for a championship shot by knocking out Chuck Spieser in Detroit April 5, and the National Boxing Assn. had given Moore until today to sign for a title bout.

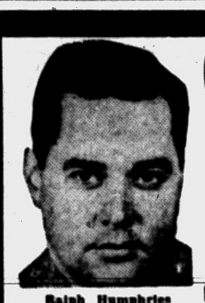

★ ★ ★

Ace for 75-Year-Old

CHICAGO (AP) — Charles F. Eldridge, 75, scored a hole-in-one on the 145-yard No. 2 at the Walnut Hills Country Club. It was the second ace of his golf career. Two years ago, also in June, he scored his first — on the same hole.

FACTS

Facts You Should Know About Your Pontiac School System Before You Vote Monday, June 10th

because there have been some criticisms and inaccurate statements made recently regarding the Pontiac Schools, we feel compelled to

SET THE RECORD STRAIGHT

(All data from the public records of the Board of Education)

School Planning Is Based on Facts

A study of school needs for the 10 years 1954-1964 has been made and published in "The School Plant Needs of Pontiac." Copies are available in the library and schools.

The facts in this study are the basis for budget making each year, for all school rehabilitation, and all new construction.

The New Senior High Will Be Built

Money is available to build the school, and construction will begin this summer.

The school would have been started earlier but the pressure of elementary schools created greater needs.

The Madison Junior High School

Madison was designed to house a good junior high educational program, and be expanded from 625 to 1,000 capacity by adding classrooms. The final building will be a well organized unit. Gym, cafeteria, library, and such service facilities are adequate for 1,000 pupils.

The first unit cost $1,313,000 which is $15.10 per square foot. The "Engineering News Record," May 1955, reported the average square foot costs in the five midwestern states at $15.89.

Construction of New Multi-Purpose Rooms

Wilson	Webster	Wisner
McConnell	Bagley	Owen
Longfellow	Whittier-Jefferson	Whitfield

Crofoot	Willis	McCarroll
Central	LeBaron	Malkim
Emerson	Hawthorne

To equalize educational opportunity for all children, and in response to parent request, the Board of Education pledged the construction of multi-purpose rooms where none existed on passage of the 8.75 mill levy.

This pledge has been carried out. The average cost has been $137,000 excluding accompanying building alterations and other construction.

Site Acquisition

School sites are purchased after a survey of enrollments indicates a need for a school. Two elementary and one junior high site has been purchased in the last year and one-half. Enrollment projections indicate that schools will be needed at each site in the next four years.

High School Coaching Staff

The seven men on the football coaching staff are all full time teachers in the system. They are paid a fee above their regular teacher's salary for football coaching duties.

The Construction Program Since 1954

The construction program in the last 3 years has —kept pace with enrollment increases of 2,238

—made up a deficience of 600 pupil capacity

—made possible the elimination of about 900 pupil capacity in obsolete facilities

Financing Construction of Schools

The construction of buildings is paid for partly out of current taxes, and by selling short term bonds which will be paid off before the voted levy expires. There is no long term debt.

The total debt for all buildings constructed or under construction is $4,430,000. The total cost of all construction, site purchase, site development, building equipment, and architects fees since 1954 is $6,274,846.17.

Operating Cost

The operating deficit of $750,000 that developed in 1953 and 1954 has been paid off.

The operating budget of the schools is balanced.

The cost of operating schools over the country is increasing due to enrollment gains, increasing teacher salaries, and price increases.

Teachers' Salaries

The Pontiac Teachers Salary Schedule has been kept competitive with the Oakland County area. This is necessary to employ and keep good teachers.

Since 1954, beginning salaries have had to be raised by $650, and maximum salaries by $1,000. The range now for a teacher with an A.B. degree is from $4,350 to $6,500.

School Pupil and Teacher Growth

Between 1954 and 1957, enrollments will have increased by 2,283 pupils and 126 teachers have been added — 69 in grade school classrooms, 27 in junior and senior high classrooms, 14 for handicapped children, and the remainder in music, art, physical education, etc.

Improving the Educational Program

Many ways are being used to improve the educational program.

Reading improvement courses have been introduced in junior and senior high schools.

Summary

The present School Board is to be commended on their development of an effective and sound school program. A sound basis on which to meet future needs has been established.

Your schools are serving our children well. The Program of the School Board deserves your support.

Oakland's Justices Elect, Change Name

Helmar G. Stanaback, of Lake Orion, was elected first-vice president; William H. Stamp, of Clarkson, second-vice president; George E. Feldman, of Walled Lake, secretary; and Albert C. Carr, of Birmingham, treasurer.

The name of the organization was changed from Oakland County Judicial Assn., Ingle said, to make it more descriptive.

Most of the county's justices belong to the group to work on mutual problems.

Oils Continue at Top of List

The general run of key stocks posted fractional gains but among the oils the gains went to as much as 2 points or so.

The oils continued to benefit from optimistic forecasts on their long-run prospects. Rails were depressed by a drop in April of the estimated net income for Class I railroads. The aircrafts were still under the spell of disarmament and budget talk.

Amerada was a 2-point gainer in the oil group. Fractional gains were made by Standard Oil of Indiana, Socony-Mobil and Shell Transport & Trading.

Gets Land for College

DEARBORN (AP)—The Ford Motor Co. has given 75 acres of the Fair Lane estate to the Dearborn Board of Education to be developed as a new campus for Henry Ford Commuinty College. The land is adjacent to a tract given to the University of Michigan last December.

Grains Showing Slight Upswing

★ ★ ★

Some wheat selling was believed due to trade fears of a wet harvest, which would force farmers to market their grain instead of putting it under loan. Corn sales were influenced by favorable harvesting weather and fairly high government sales of about 425,000 bushels.

Soybeans were slightly firmer than grains, gaining about a cent. There was fairly heavy trading in the July delivery.

Near the end of the first hour old style wheat was ¼ to ⅝ higher, July $2.02⅛; new style wheat was ¼ to ⅝ higher, July $2.02⅝; corn was ⅛ to ⅜ higher, July $1.26¾; oats were unchanged to ¼ lower, July 62½; rye was ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, July $1.14¼; soybeans were ¼ to 1 cent higher, July $2.33½; and lard was 3 cents a hundred pounds lower to 2 cents higher, July $12.97.

Bell Employes Fete Retiring Repairman

John L. Hall of Lake Orion, a veteran of 45 years as a Michigan Bell Telephone Co. repairman, retired recently and was honored at a luncheon attended by 200 of his friends and fellow workers.

HALL

Chrysler Plant Returns to Normal Production

DETROIT (AP) — Normal production was expected at Chrysler Corp.'s Eight Mile Road stamping plant today, following an off-and-on wildcat strike that has hampered output since Tuesday.

About 3,100 employes were involved in the walkouts that stemmed from the disciplinary layoff of a chief steward of the United Auto Workers union. Chrysler yesterday sent home 7,400 other production workers because of a parts shortage.

Norman Matthews, UAW vice president and officers of Chrysler UAW Local 212 ordered the workers back to their jobs.

Matthews said the layoff and related production standard problems will be processed through regular grievance channels.

Supreme Court to Hear Appeal

Jury Convicted Attorney in Non-Fatal Shooting; Hearing Date Not Set

The Michigan Supreme Court has granted Fenton attorney Clifford B. Dye leave to appeal his conviction March 1, 1956 of assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Dye, 55, was convicted following a nine-day jury trial in which he was accused of the non-fatal shooting of William C. Clark, 28, following disputes between the two over management of a Fenton farm leased by Clark from Dye's sister.

Sentenced by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams to a 2-to-10 year prison term, Dye, who once was the Fenton Village attorney, has remained free under $10,000 bond pending the outcome of the high court appeal.

A retrial motion was denied by Judge Adams last summer.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said he was informed yesterday of the Supreme Court's decision to hear the case.

No date has been set for the appeal.

Dies After Car Crash

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Raymond A. Harkins, 45, of nearby Dexter Township died in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Wednesday night of internal injuries suffered when the car in which he was riding went off a rural road near Portage Lake and smashed into a road sign and six mailboxes.

Shopping Center to Open in Fall

Miracle Mile, Now Near Completion, Will House More Than 54 Stores

The new Michigan Miracle Mile Town and Country Shopping Center, being constructed at Telegraph and Square Lake roads, is progressing according to schedule and will open in September, the developers report.

The center will house 54 local stores, and many large chain stores. Howard W. Verwohlt, leasing representative, said two rooms are still available for lease, as well as a few rooms in the specialty shop section.

Developers, Don M. Casto and Don M. Casto Jr. of Columbus, Ohio, have plans to develop the remaining 65 acres abutting the present 50-acre site.

The center will have a 5,000-car blacktopped parking lot.

Stierer, Euler to Attend Planning Conference

Robert A. Stierer, Pontiac assistant city manager, and Harold B. Euler, representing the Downtown Pontiac Assn., will attend the 1957 National Citizens Planning Conference of the American Planning and Civic Assn.

The conference will be held June 10-12 at Little Rock, Ark.

He has served the past four years as assistant manager in the company's home office in Detroit.

Those attending are Maurice Schlussel, Joseph McCoy, Frederick Cooley, John Ohanesian, Fred Ritchie, Floyd Blanzy, John LeBlanc, Robert Benedict, and Alois Vinder, manager of the Pontiac office.

Started as Stock Boy, Irelan Plans to Retire

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Frank H. Irelan, general manager of Delco Products Division of General Motors Corp., yesterday announced he would retire next Feb. 1, shortly after he reaches the corporation's retirement age of 65.

★ ★ ★

Irelan, who started with Delco Products as a stock boy 42 years ago, has served as a member of the Dayton City commission and the board of education.

Car Air Conditioning Rough on Engines?

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Automobile air conditioning may make summer motoring comfortable but two engineers say it's tough on car engines and radiators.

★ ★ ★

J. G. Lillard and T. G. Lipscomb, engineers for the Humble Oil and Refining Co., in Bayton, Tex., said car air conditioning presents troubles with vapor locking and stalling and calls for increased maintenance of car fuel systems.

★ ★ ★

Their report was contained in a technical paper presented to the summer meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers yesterday.

Car air conditioning, they said, is increasing in popularity and by 1962 about 25 per cent of all new cars will be so equipped.

Air conditioning imposes additional work on radiators and engines which tend to run warmer than non-air conditioned cars, they said.

Crowded space under the car hood they added, prevents adequate ventilation with the result that vapor locking causes engine stalling, oftentimes at traffic intersections when a car begins to move.

The first Ph. D. degree presented in the United States was at Yale in 1861.

Inkster Road Quarters Sold to Builder

Boys Republic Moves to $1 Million Home

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Boys Republic is observing its 50th anniversary by moving from its historic quarters at 22305 Inkster Rd. here to a new, million dollar home at 28000 Nine Mile Rd.

There are 13 new buildings, including three resident cottages on the new, 80 acre-tract. These will accommodate 70 boys, which will be capacity for the school.

★ ★ ★

In addition to the three resident cottages, new buildings include an administrative and clinic building; infirmary; three staff houses; three dining rooms; a school building including four class and four vocational rooms and a remedial classroom and library.

There is also a gymnasium and outdoor swimming pool. A maintenance building and a garage are included on the grounds.

The new buildings, to be formally dedicated in late September, were financed by a grant of $513,000 from the Metropolitan Detroit Fund. Added to this was $225,000 received from the sale of the old property to Slavik Builders of Detroit, and money from the Boys Republic Endowment Fund.

WALLED LAKE — At a time when most school districts are asking for increases in taxes, the Walled Lake Board of Education is asking its electors to go to the polls on Monday and approve a decrease in the school tax rate of $2.42 per thousand of equalized valuation.

On the ballot it will look as if an increase is being sought, as voters are being asked to vote four mills for operating and to rescind a two mills for operating levy which was passed a year ago.

The decrease has been pledged by Board resolution when, if the operating millage is passed, the Board will reduce the levy for debt from the present 13 mills to less than nine.

This debt reduction is possible because the indebtedness is being reduced faster than anticipated due to the increased valuation in the district, officials explain. However, since construction funds cannot be used for any other purpose according to state law, the electors must approve operating funds before the reduction can take place.

Supt. Clifford H. Smart, the Board, and the Save Our Schools Committee have urged a large turn-out at the polls which will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. and that residents vote "yes".

About 12 per cent of the total working population in the U. S. are engaged in agriculture.

ELEANOR ARNO

EUGENE MACHESNEY

At a recent award assembly at the West Bloomfield Township high school, Eugene Machesney and Eleanor Arno were announced as the most representative boy and girl of the senior class. Miss Arno, who entered the school system in 1955, also received a scholarship to Michigan State University. Fourteen other students were given recognition in the National Honor Society, awarded scholarships, and top athletes named.

Battle Looms on Foreign Aid

Ike's Foes Now Turn to Over-All Cutting After Earlier Defeat

WASHINGTON (AP)—Opponents of President Eisenhower's foreign aid program — defeated in attempts to deny him longer range authority — concentrated their fight today on reducing its $3,865,000 total.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved late yesterday the two-billion-dollar revolving fund Eisenhower asked to make long term, low-interest loans over a three-year period for economic development abroad.

It also voted him authority to continue military assistance and defense support to free world allies for at least two more years. Until now, that authority has been granted on a year-to-year basis.

This left opponents little to fight over in the committee except funds to be authorized for military aid and defense supports, a special fund for emergencies, technical assistance and other phases of the program.

The committee wrote in some restrictions, including one which would set up an advisory committee to help guide the policy of the fund.

The administration victory on military assistance and defense support authority was only a partial one. Eisenhower had sought permanent authorizations, with no money ceilings.

But if the committee's action is approved by the Senate and House, the State and Defense departments can plan their aid programs for two years ahead, and assure allies they can count on help for at least that long.

It also permits the President to submit next year's requests for such spending as part of the Defense Department budget, and to keep money voted for those years "until it is expended."

Social Security Puts 10-Millionth Person on Rolls

NEW YORK (AP) — A 36-year-old widow with two children yesterday became the 10-millionth American to receive federal social security payments.

She is Mrs. Jane Gavin of Ozone Park, Queens. Her husband Joseph, 36, a World War II veteran, died in a train accident April 20. Their children are Patricia, 10, and Joseph, 7.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Gavin received her first monthly check of $200 from Marion B. Folsom, secretary of health education and welfare, at a little ceremony.

★ ★ ★

In a letter to Mrs. Gavin, President Eisenhower wrote in part:

". . . This money is not charity. In his daily work, out of his regular wages, your husband earned the monthly checks which will be coming to you now while your children are growing to maturity. You can accept them proudly."

With normal life expectancy the Gavin family eventually may receive more than $37,000 in benefits.

City Sailor Shows Some Improvement

Pontiac sailor John R. Cooper, 23, of 122 Glenwood Ave., injured Wednesday in an auto crash in Seattle, Wash. that killed another sailor, has been removed from the critical list.

★ ★ ★

Pipefitter 1.C. Cooper showed some improvement, a doctor said, but still was not "in satisfactory condition."

Three other shipmates of the hydrographic ship Requisite were injured in the crash.

Rochester Boy Injured, Run Over by Truck

A 1½-year old Rochester boy, Allen DeLong, son of Mr. and Mrs. George DeLong, of 1774 School Rd., was injured yesterday when he was run over by a truck driven by Leo Chriscaden, of 5550 Van Dyke Rd., Disco.

★ ★ ★

The child was playing near his home where Chriscaden and DeLong were using the truck. They both told Oakland county deputies that they did not see the boy around them when they backed the truck up, but the child had crawled under the truck and was run over by a front wheel.

★ ★ ★

He is officially listed as "fair but improving" by officials at the Avon Center Hospital, after his case was diagnosed as "three broken ribs, internal injuries, and the remote possibility of a fractured spine."

Ginger Rogers Files to Divorce 4th Husband

Miss Rogers, 45, charged cruelty in her complaint filed yesterday in Superior Court in nearby Santa Monica. She said that the 30-year-old Bergerac "wrongfully inflicted grievous mental suffering" on her. No specific acts were cited.

They married in Palm Springs Feb. 3, 1953. Miss Rogers' previous husbands were actors E. J. Culpepper, Lew Ayres and Jack Briggs. It was Bergerac's first marriage.

Dairy Farmers Meeting in Owosso

1st Convention Slated

The first convention of the Dairy Farmers Cooperative Assn. of Michigan will be held June 11 in the National Guard Armory in Owosso.

Following registration, scheduled to start at 9:30 a.m., the agenda for the all-day session will include election of county and state officers and presentation of the organization's constitution, by-laws and amendments to the membership.

DFCA President Arnold Wyss of Capac will be the presiding officer. He will also welcome the president, secretary and treasurer of the recently-formed National Dairymen's Assn., who are expected to be present.

Sam Bailo of South Lyon is DFCA secretary and is currently serving as vice president of the new national organization.

South's Leaders Predict Victory

Expect Enough Support in House for Passage of Jury Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leaders of the Southern bloc in the House today predicted victory in their effort to attach a jury trial amendment to the civil rights bill.

Passage of the bill next week is tacitly conceded. But a bitter fight is ahead in the Senate, where previous civil rights measures have foundered.

The big House fight is over the Southern attempt to amend the bill to provide mandatory jury trials for people accused of violating federal court orders issued in support of voting or other rights.

"I think we've got it," Rep. Willis (D-La) told a newsman. Willis concentrated on the jury trial issue yesterday in delivering what amounted to the keynote speech for the Southerners.

Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss) said, "It looks pretty favorable."

Rep. Abernethy (D-Miss.) said an actual count showed 240 votes in the House—22 more than an absolute majority—for the amendment. But he conceded it might not be possible to hold all the Republicans the Southerners are counting on. President Eisenhower and the Republican House leadership opposed the amendment.

Holly Voters to Elect Two of 5 Candidates

HOLLY—At the annual election of the Holly Area Schools Monday, two trustees will be chosen to serve on the board of education for three years. There are five candidates: Robert S. Brummeler, James Gleason, John Eby, Buell Starr and Roland Harmes. The two members of the board whose terms of office are expiring are not candidates for re-election.

Avondale Group Sets Production

Players Elect Heads Mrs. Albert Stokes, Paul Grosse

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Avondale Community Players, recent producers of "Pilate," are now planning their next production, "Abie's Irish Rose," which will be presented in early fall.

Matthew A. Vance will have charge of this performance.

New officers recently elected for the coming year are Mrs. Albert Stokes, president; Paul Grosse, vice president; Janie Levigne, secretary; Amy Cooper, assistant secretary, and Mrs. Grant Graham, treasurer.

A drive for members and patrons will be conducted during the summer months from Avon and Pontiac Townships and surrounding areas.

The two-fold purpose of this organization is to provide social opportunities and cultural values through its activities and to serve as a medium through which drama in its various phases will be presented in the community.

The next meeting will be held Monday at Avondale High School on Auburn road.

Tops in Politics, He's a Flop Down on Farm

★ ★ ★

Mayor Max Strother of East Lansing collected one and one-tenth pounds from a Guernsey, and Annetta Stamm, 17, Michigan Dairy princess, placed third by draining a Holstein of one pound even.

The competition was arranged by the June Dairy Month Committee of metropolitan Lansing.

Farmers Sign 21,300,000 Acres in Soil Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—A final report showed today that farmers signed agreements to take 21,300,000 acres of land out of production of surplus crops this year under the soil bank program.

If all comply, they will get payments from the agriculture department totaling slightly more than 614 million dollars.

The agreements by crops included: wheat, 12,785,000 acres for potential payments of $230,848,000; corn, 5,235,000 acres and payments of $196,617,000.

MR. AND MRS. LEE ROY WOLFE

58 YEARS TOGETHER — Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Wolfe, 479 Oakwood Rd., Ortonville, are observing their 58th wedding anniversary today. It was on June 7, 1899, that he and Wealtha Lepein spoke their vows at Fargo. Mr. Wolfe was born here and was a farmer until his retirement 30 years ago. Members of the Methodist Church, both have been active as Sunday School teachers. They have four children: a son, Ross of Cleveland; Mrs. Gladys Schank of Zephyrhills, Fla., Mrs. Irma Diekason of Ortonville, Mrs. Frances Auten of Royal Oak, and nine grandchildren.

CBS-TV Schedules Panel on Khrushchev

NEW YORK (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System has scheduled a panel discussion next Sunday entitled "Comment on Khrushchev."

Last Sunday the network presented a Moscow-televised interview with Nikita S. Khrushchev, Russian Communist party leader, down a CBS offer to comment on the interview.

CBS announced yesterday that "comment on Khrushchev" will be televised from 3 to 4 p. m., EDT, and broadcast by radio from 10:05 p. m.

Panelists will include George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO; Dr. Philip E. Mosely, director of studies for the Council on Foreign Relations; and Harrison E. Salisbury, staff member of the New York Times and its former Mosco wcorrespondent. Acting as mediator8 will be Dr. Lyman Bryson.

Mother Nearly Drowns, Fails to Save Daughter

AMITYVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — A mother who couldn't swim almost drowned last night in a futile effort to rescue her 3-year-old daughter who had fallen into an 18-foot deep canal.

Caesar's Plight Recalls Others

Many of Video's Stars Have Dimmed or Faded After Getting Awards

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Is there a case to support an Emmy jinx?

What brings it to mind is the cancellation of Sid Caesar's Saturday night show. Last week he offered his polished comedics for the last time. He has been released after a long association with NBC.

This one is a puzzler. Caesar's Hour took top honors in this year's TV Academy Awards, dragging down five Emmies. The show has been hailed by most critics as the most consistently funny on TV.

Is the Caesar satire too smart for average viewers? It's possible, though audiences are becoming more sophisticated each year. Perhaps after seven or eight years in weekly TV, Sid's face and manner have become too familiar to viewers. Whatever the cause, I hope he won't be gone long from the home screen. He's too good to be lost.

The big winner in 1954 was Danny Thomas, whose show has never been able to garner a solid rating despite its good quality.

Of course, there is no Emmy jinx, any more than there is an Oscar jinx. There are simply performers engaged in a highly competitive, unstable business. Today's award winner can be tomorrow's cancellation.

Nest of Baby Robins Too Much for Science

Driver Returns to Courtroom 9 Months Late

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—John W. Betters, 20, was brought into District Court last Aug. 25 on a charge of reckless driving.

"Why didn't you come back when I told you to?" asked the judge.

"I still had the same clothes on," the youth replied.

Judge De Pasquale fined him $100 and costs and said the fine would have been $50 if he appeared right the first time.

B. and K. Launch Talks With Finns

HELSINKI (AP) —Soviet Premier Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev opened talks with their Finnish hosts today. A joint stetement on broader Finnish support for Soviet foreign policy may result.

Premier V. J. Sukselainen and Foreign Minister Johannes Virolainen headed the Finnish team of negotiators for the talks behind nlocked doors in a government building. 7

Little was known about the precise agenda for the discussions. The Finns, however, expected the Russians to bring up a number of foreign policy issues.

Outstanding among these is the basing of atomic weapons, or guided missiles which can be equipped with atomic warheads, in NATO countries. This includes Norway and Denmark, Scandinavian neighbors of Finland and Russia.

Reds to Release 2 U.S. Students

Pair Had Wandered Into Hungary in Search of Excitement

BUDAPEST (AP) — Two University of South Carolina students held in Communist Hungary since May 26 will be released today, the Hungarian government informed the U.S. legation.

On a hiking tour in Austria, they disappeared over the Hungarian border and up until early this week Hungarian officials disclaimed any knowledge of their whereabouts. A girl at an Austrian youth hostel where they had been staying said they told her they were going into Hungary "for excitement."

★ ★ ★

The Hungarian Foreign Ministry informed the legation the 20-year-old youths would be put across the border into Austria at the little frontier town of Hegyeshalom, the main road and rail point between Hungary and Austria.

The Foreign Ministry's report to the legation that the pair were being expelled from the country was the first Hungarian admission that they were in the country.

★ ★ ★

The ministry said nothing about the state of their health, but a legation official said he assumed they were all right.

Gets Kansas Contract

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The Federal Bureau for Indian Affairs has awarded a $393,000 contract to the C. L. Mahoney Co. of Kalamazoo for installation of a central heting plant at Haskell Institute of Lawrence, Kan. The bureau said the Michigan firm's bid was the lowest of eight submitted.

School Board Official to Be Graduated, Too

GAYLORD, Mich. (AP)—Ray McKinley, a 66-year-old Gaylord lumber company executive and a member of the local school board, will graduate from high school himself tonight.

He dropped out of school during his senior year in 1909 to help in his father's print shop and never returned until last fall. For the past six years, he has handed out diplomas to other graduating students.

Here Are Right Puzzle Answers

A. (1) REGULAR. Even experienced builders have difficulty in laying REGULAR, or even, floors. Tegular, or tiled, floors are simple to do with do-it-yourself tiles, ready to lay.

B. (2) DEARTH. The Hearth, or fireplace, has been giving way to other heating methods over a long period of years. DEARTH, or scarcity of food, is decreasing due to present-day prosperity. While the hearth is less prevalent, it is not as directly connected with "present-day" economy as DEARTH is.

C. (6) DOGGISH. Good-natured people avoid the DOGGISH, or ill-tempered, because they would find it difficult to escape arguments and unpleasantness. Hoggish people are generally granted their way by the good-natured, and are endured for other qualities.

D. (8) WIGWAG. To Zigzag while rolling down a hill may do more harm than good, unless the other drivers know the reason for it. Hence, to WIGWAG or signal and thus notify the others of the danger, would be the better procedure.

E. (10) GUERILLAS. Gorillas are difficult to capture mainly because of their agility and strength. GUERRILLAS, usually fighting near their homes, naturally select terrain where they can maneuver to their advantage, and know the best spots for hiding. Hence they can avoid capture for unlimited periods.

F. (11) SONORIFEROUS. A man with a highly sensitive nervous system would find noises bothersome. Hence, SONORIFEROUS is the choice. He would react well to the right sort of sedation, and sedatives are of course Soporiferous or sleep-inducing.

G. (13) VAPID. The introductory word "even," used to suggest that something mentioned as a possibility constitutes an extreme case, points toward VAPID or extremely tasteless food which can certainly be improved by spices. Sapid dishes already have strong and agreeable flavor, so that the statement about improvement would not have the same force.

H. (15) HAGGARD. If one is worn with anxiety, or HAGGARD, he cannot keep his mind on so frivolous a sport as a scavenger hunt and would be a wet blanket to the rest of the group. The Laggard may very well fit, since speed is not so essential as agility of mind in determining where to find the curious objects

I. (18) LEOTARD. Leopard is associated mainly with one type of performer—the strong man. LEOTARDS are one-piece garments worn by dancers, acrobats, aerialists, etc. Thus, "many circus performers" indicates LEOTARD.

J. (19) BUCKBOARD. The BUCKBOARD, or carriage, would find deep mud difficult to traverse for its wheels would sink in the mire. The Duckboard, a plank used to cross over muddy places, would not be affected by the depth of the mud. Only a great expense of mud would be hard to cover by a duckboard.

K. (21) CINCTURE. A Tincture, such as iodine, is used for curative purposes or to prevent infection. For relief in certain physical discomfort, the CINCTURE or girdle is used.

L. (24) STOCKADE. A Blockade is a military operation in itself, designed to isolate the enemy. A STOCKADE is a fort used for defensive operations, and is thus a "factor."

M. (25) FORGONE. Foregone ambitions, those which merely have passed with time, are rarely regretted since they were only the dreams that go with youth. However, FORGONE (relinquished or renounced) ambitions might be regretted as too hasty decisions.

N. (27) LADRONE. The Padrone or exploiter of immigrant labor, is not difficult to arrest once the illegality of his acts is suspected. The LADRONE, or highwayman, is harder to arrest, for he is in hiding as a fugitive from the law.

O. (29) ISOLATION. Most people enjoy being alone at times, find peace in short periods of ISOLATION. Insolation, or treatment of disease by sunbaths, is medical therapy not synonymous with "sun-bathing" and not a "normal desire."

P. (32) HACKBUT. The blast from a HACKBUT—an old type of firearm—is bound to startle. The blast from a Sackbut—an old type of trombone—is to be expected, since "blast" is the term for the sound made by blowing a wind instrument and does not necessarily indicate a loud noise.

Q. (33) HE-MAN. The adulation of admirers frequently makes the virile and often egotistic HE-MAN evaluate his talents too highly. The ordinary Human more frequently knows the extent of his powers — despite his sometimes vain talk.

R. (35) GRANDSTAND. Bandstand indicates only one type of entertainment—music—too narrow an interpretation for "people who prefer outdoor entertainment." The GRANDSTAND offers possibility of many more outdoor amusements.

S. (37) HIGH-BLOWN. Bombastic and flowery orators are High-Flown, and as such do not underestimate their audiences at all. In fact they expect them to understand some pretty difficult language. It is the HIGH-BLOWN, or conceited speaker who looks down upon and underestimates his audience.

T. (39) BANDAGE. Bondage is the very act of restricting freedom of action, leaving no doubt in the matter. A BANDAGE "may serve" to restrict freedom of action, as when it is applied to a leg or an arm.

Woman in Store Outsmarts Bandit for Fourth Time

CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. Helen Rejlek, a clerk in a Loop candy store, disobeyed her boss again last night, resisting a holdup by a young man, the fourth time she has outsmarted bandits in five years.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rejlek described last night's attempted holdup:

The young man ordered a box of candy, pulled a gun from his pocket and said: "I'm nervous. Give me the money."

She said there was "only $26 in the register. I've been ordered by the boss not to resist bandits. But it seems I always do."
