Air Secretary Pays Visit to Fort Custer

Secretary Talbott Quite Enthusiased Over This Site for New School

BATTLE CREEK (U)—Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott said Sunday that Battle Creek's closed Fort Custer was the best place he had seen for the new national air academy.

Flying in for an unexpected two-hour inspection of the virtually abandoned military post, Talbott said:

"There may be a better site-somewhere in the nation but I don't know where it is—I haven't seen it."

With Talbott were Michigan's U. S. Senators Homer Ferguson and Charles Potter, both Republicans. He was also accompanied by Lt. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon, special assistant to the academy.

Talbott said he would announce today the members of a five-man committee which will pick the site on congressional order.

However, Talbott said if the group fails to agree unanimously on a site, he will have to choose the location from the top three choices of the group.

The secretary called the topography at Fort Custer "terrific" and "excellent." He said the wooded areas and hills in the area impressed him as did the climate.

He said he favored an area with four definite seasons.

County's Oldest Resident Dies in Milford at Age 104

Oakland County's oldest resident, Mrs. Mary Palmer Crawford, died Sunday at her home in Milford at the age of 104. She had been in poor health only two and a half months.

She was one of the six children of Charles Palmer and was born in Devonshire, England, on July 21, 1849. The family came to the United States and located near Milford when she was five years old.

She lived with her parents on a farm on the Milford-New Hudson road until her marriage to Frederick Crawford in 1879 when they moved to the village, where he operated a harness shop until his death in 1923.

They had two children, Jennie and Harry. The latter died in 1940. For many years, Mrs. Crawford and her daughter, Jennie, have lived together at 312 Union St., in Milford. The daughter is her only survivor.

Until 1940 when she suffered a broken hip, Mrs. Crawford was active in church work in Milford. Following her injury she was hospitalized for 10 weeks, learning to walk again.

Mrs. Crawford, who was in her teens before the Civil War closed, vividly recalled incidents of those days, and the nation's sorrow following Lincoln's assassination.

She was member of the throng that greeted the arrival of the first railroad train in Milford. Her brother Charles met death in the Union Army at Gettysburg. Service for Mrs. Crawford will be at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home in Milford at two o'clock Wednesday. Burial will be in Oak Grove Cemetery in that village. The body will be at the home until Wednesday noon.

Public Meeting Scheduled to Explain Polio Vaccine

Questions about the safety of Dr. Jonas E. Salk's new polio vaccine today failed to halt plans to test the serum on 35,600 Oakland County school children.

County health officials and National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis personnel have called a public meeting for Wednesday night to discuss the vaccine tests with the public.

The meeting will start at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Stevens Hall at W. Pike and Williams Sts. Mrs. Stanley Watson is the chairman.

Health officials and National Foundation representatives will answer audience questions about the vaccine and the test.

Speakers Wednesday will include Dr. Robert J. Mason, president of the Oakland County Medical Society; and Mrs. John D. Monroe and J. S. Lambie, of the Oakland County Health Department.

National Foundation speakers will include Mrs. Hazel Boyington, of Livonia, state women's chairman; Mrs. Russell Hetzer, chairman of the test headquarters office; and Mrs. Ruth W. Marshall, executive secretary of the National Foundation's Oakland County chapter.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said today he would "wait until the facts are in" before condemning the vaccine. But he said not one drop of the serum will be given to any Michigan child "unless we get a written statement from the U.S. Public Health Service that it's absolutely safe."

In a meeting last week, the executive committee of the Michigan State Medical Society's council refused to recommend use of the vaccine "until we (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Secretary of State Hints at Possible Retaliation in Indochina

WASHINGTON (A P)—

Secretary of State Dulles told Congress today that the Chinese Communists are "coming awful close" in Indochina to the direct aggression which he has said might produce massive retaliation.

Dulles made this statement before a House Foreign Affairs Committee after saying freshly verified information showed that new Communist radar-controlled 37 millimeter anti-aircraft guns, which are bringing down French planes over Dien Bien Phu are "operated by members of the Chinese military establishment."

Dulles, testifying on next year's foreign aid program, also said a Chinese general with "nearly a score of Chinese technical advisers," is stationed at staff headquarters of Vietnamese forces attacking the French fortress.

He called direct participation by Chinese Communists in the flaming Southeast Asia war "rather ominous" and gave other examples.

He told the committee that Chinese Communist Gen. Ly Chen-hou is at staff headquarters of the Vietminh forces attacking the vital French Union stronghold, with "nearly a score of Chinese technical advisers."

Answering questions by Rep. Frances P. Bolton (R-Ohio) after he concluded formal testimony on next year's foreign aid bill, Dulles also said:

Numerous other Chinese Communist technical advisers are operating at division level with the Vietminh forces.

Dulles said this aid is in addition to the "artillery, ammunition and equipment generally which comes from Communist China."

He also said the Chinese Reds are maintaining communication lines for the Vietminh.

Dulles said that an "air and military build-up is probable" in North Korea

Turks Get Exuberant

ISTANBUL, Turkey (U)—Turkish papers said today crowds at Samsun, on the Black Sea, were so enthused over the visit of President Celal Bayar yesterday that they picked up his car with him in it and carried it 50 yards on their shoulders.

President to Talk to Nation Tonight

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower was reported ready today to preview with Republican congressional leaders major points he expects to make in a "let's-be-calm" address to the nation tonight.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said in advance of a White House meeting with Eisenhower that discussion of the general legislative program was in order.

It is scheduled for 8:30 p.m., EST.

In this area the address will be carried on all TV outlets, on WWJ, WXYZ and CKLW radio stations at 8:30 and rebroadcast on WJR at 10:30.

At the end there was a burst of applause, and McCarthy shook hands all around. It was too late for the morning paper wires when Charles R. Warm Weather Expected to Stay; Rain Predicted Partly cloudy skies and fairly warm temperatures are in store for the Pontiac area tonight and Tuesday, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

The bureau reports that there is some chance of thunderstorms tonight coupled with a low of 34 to 38 degrees. A high of from 38 to 62 degrees is expected Tuesday.

A weekend of fair but cool weather brought the mercury climbing Sunday, from a low of 17 to a high of 37 degrees. Saturday's temperatures ranged from 14 to 29 degrees.

At 8 a.m. today the reading was 30, but by 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac the mercury registered 36 degrees.

French Holding at Dien Bien Phu

High Command Claims 1,000 Vietminh Deaths During Latest Assault

HANOI, Indochina (U)—The French high command announced today the defenders of Dien Bien Phu had killed "more than 1,000" Vietminh troops trying anew to smash their way into the heart of the besieged fortress through its northwest corner.

Heavy fighting raged in that sector of the plain as the Communist-led rebels battled to widen the gap against a strong French Union counterattack supported by tanks, artillery and war planes.

The high command said the defenders plugged every breach made by the Vietminh in the northwestern defenses and the rebels left their dead dangling in the barbed wire barricades.

Thousands of the wildly screaming rebels drove into French positions in the northwest sector shortly after midnight.

They stated the vaccine is made of dead polio virus and dead virus cannot cause polio.

State Medics Delay Okay on Salk Polio Vaccine Use

LANSING (AP)—The executive committee of the Michigan State Medical Society Council today refused to recommend the use of the Salk polio vaccine.

But Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, refused to call off plans for a 12-county test of the vaccine scheduled to start in mid April in Michigan.

Dr. Heustis said that, as previously announced, the test will start only if his department has ironclad assurances from responsible authorities that the vaccine is safe.

"As has been previously announced," he said, "no vaccine will be distributed until this department is assured of its safety and until the questions raised by the medical society are answered."

He added that he was "confident we are going to get definite assurances, but if we do not get them, we will not use the vaccine."

"We are going ahead making plans for the test as if we are going to get those assurances," he said. "If we did otherwise, we might lose a year in getting the benefits of protection against polio for a lot of children. The only thing we have to lose is our effort."

In New York, three top authorities gave their positive assurance of the safety of the Salk vaccine after the Walter Winchell broadcast that it "may be a killer."

The safety statements came from the U. S. Public Health Service, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and Dr. Jonas E. Salk, himself.

They stated the vaccine is made of dead polio virus and dead virus cannot cause polio.

Two Proposals Spur Interest in City Election

Pontiac Citizens Select Municipal Judges and Commissioners Today

Good weather and the importance of two added proposals drew a heavier-than-average vote by 2 p. m. today in Pontiac's general election, according to reports from polling places and the city clerk's office.

Balloting among the city's 38,391 registered voters was expected to pick up steadily until the polls close at 8 p. m.

Some precincts reported more than twice as many voters as had balloted at a corresponding time in the primary election March 1, when the day's vote totaled 5,812.

Voters today will name one city commissioner from two candidates in each of seven voting districts and Pontiac's two municipal judges from four candidates.

Commissioners are selected by voters of their own district, while judges are elected in a citywide vote.

Voters will also rule "yes" or "no" on proposals to increase the property tax limit from $10 to $12.50 per $1,000 of assessed valuation—and to issue bonds for a $3,000,000 addition to Pontiac General Hospital.

A "yes" vote of 60 per cent of property owners balloting is needed to authorize the bond issue. A majority of votes cast by all city electors voting is required to pass the tax limit raise.

A property owner is defined as anyone in Pontiac paying city taxes, provided he is a registered voter. The husband or wife of any taxpayer also can vote, but those paying only special assessments are not eligible.

All electors will vote for a commissioner from their district, for two judges and on the tax limit proposal. Property owners will receive a third ballot containing the bond issue question.

All candidates are running on a non-partisan basis. Commissioners are elected for two years, judges for six.

Present commissioners are running for re-election in Districts 1, 4, 6 and 7. A write-in vote is expected in District 5 for Commissioner Ronald C. Hallenbeck who was defeated for nomination in the primary.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans warns that if voters are conscious of making a mistake while marking their ballots, they should ask for a new set of ballots.

Starting Today: The Saga of Sen. Joe McCarthy

McCarthyism, Thriving on Commie Threat, Is Nation's Top Controversy

(Editor's note: If you are old enough to read this, you are either for or against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and what he stands for. Just about every American is. Yet the four-year-old McCarthy story has unfolded in such a rushing and often confusing way that few newspaper readers have been able to keep it really straight. This is first of nine articles by Associated Press writers on the who, what, when and where of McCarthy and McCarthyism.)

By BEN PRICE
WHEELING, W. Va. (U)—McCarthyism was born here sometime between 8 and 9 p.m., Feb. 9, 1950. It was christened in 110 words.

In that hour Joseph R. McCarthy, junior, Republican senator from Wisconsin, delivered a Lincoln Day speech before the Ohio County Women's Republican Club of Wheeling.

At the end there was a burst of applause, and McCarthy shook hands all around.

It was too late for the morning paper wires when Charles R. Lewis, night editor in the Associated Press Bureau at Charleston, W. Va., received a telephone call from Norman L. Yost, managing editor of the Wheeling-Intelligencer. Yost, part-time AP correspondent at Wheeling, dictated a paragraph or two from McCarthy's speech.

SEN. JOSEPH R. MCCARTHY

As Lewis began writing the brief story, he came to a figure he questioned—205 Communists in the State Department? He called Yost back and asked him to verify it.

Yost told him to hold on and he would have his reporter check with McCarthy. In a moment he came back on the wire and said the figure was accurate.

Shortly after 2 a.m. the 110-word story clattered over the teletypes. It began:

"Sen. McCarthy charged in an address here tonight that 205 Communist party members are 'working and shaping the policy in the State Department.'"

The story continued, quoting McCarthy: "I have here in my hand a list of 205 that were known to the secretary of state (then Dean Acheson) as being members of the Communist party and who nevertheless are still working and shaping the policy in the State Department."

As soon as the State Department was advised of the story it said it knew of no Communists within its ranks, that it would fire any it could identify, and invited McCarthy to produce his list.

McCarthy, meanwhile, was flying to Salt Lake City. There, in a recorded radio interview Feb. 10 he commented on his Wheeling speech:

"Last night I discussed the Communist in the State Department. I stated I had the names of 57 card-carrying members of the State Department."

Fifty-seven or 205? A stirred nation fastened its eyes on the fast-moving senator and awaited his return to Washington.

Until Feb. 10, 1950, McCarthy had been known on Capitol Hill as a man who fought in 1947 to end rationing on sugar for industrial purposes, as a vigorous opponent of the Truman administration's public housing and as the man who denounced American investigators in the war crimes trial of the German storm troopers accused of shooting down 150 American prisoners and 100 Belgians at Malmédy crossroads in 1944.

Now McCarthy was in the banner headlines.

Soon he was to deny on the Senate floor, and later in a book and before a Senate committee, that he used the figure 205 at Wheeling.

Two radio men, James H. Whitaker and Paul A. Myers, both of station WWVA at Wheeling, were to swear that he did.

Whitaker and Myers signed affidavits that on Feb. 10, after reading a newspaper account of McCarthy's speech, they compared a recording used in a delayed broadcast with the script of the speech McCarthy had delivered to the station.

They attested that McCarthy used the 205 figure and neither could recall any mention of the figure 57. They said McCarthy read the script, but McCarthy later said in a Senate speech that he did not. Soon after, the tape was erased for re-use.

Frank Desmond, reporter for the Intelligencer, at first said he covered the McCarthy speech and would stick by what he had written—205.

Later, in a deposition taken in a law suit brought by McCarthy against Sen. William Benton, Desmond testified that since he had an advance copy of the speech he hadn't followed the words closely and couldn't be sure what McCarthy actually said.

McCarthy has written in his book, "McCarthyism, the Fight for America," that before he began his attack on what he called the "Communist conspiracy," he was

Hotel Man Finds Strength for Problems in Prayer

By FRANK KRIDEL
New York City Hotel Owner-Manager

My wife and I were just opening the door to our hotel apartment when the special fire alarm installed there began to ring. One, two, three—one, two, three—a third alarm some place in New York City.

We stayed motionless and continued to count the bells to identify the box and location of the fire.

"See you later, dear," I said, dashing away. My wife mumbled something about dinner being on its way, but she is a good sport about these things. In fact, she often dashes off with me.

Why do I, a hotel man, have this special fire bell equipment? Because I am an honorary deputy fire chief here in New York. And how did I get started as a fire chaser? Well, the story began many years ago.

As a boy the neighborhood fire house was my club. Here I would spend my leisure hours listening to the firemen and following the great engines. As a young business man I kept up those associations, and the firehouse became the focus of my friendships.

At 17, I started out on my own and got a job with a banking company at $15 a week. I had been with this company about seven years when the depression came.

Then my company began taking over hotels right and left. As their hotel representative, I found myself directly operating many of these hotels, including the Ambassador, Lincoln, Delmonico, Ritz Tower and others.

I learned a lot in those early years, not only about business

Boys' Home Escapee Caught by Deputies

Two juveniles, one an escapee from the Boys' Vocational School in Lansing, were arrested in a stolen car Sunday by Sheriff's Deputies Jack Davis and Everett Fredericks.

The youths, and several other juveniles were found in the car while it was parked in front of Cal's Barber Shop in Walled Lake. The escapee at first gave deputies the identification papers of a Farmington youth, but the deputies, who earlier had received a radio description of the escapee, brought him to jail where he admitted his true identity.

He is now in the Oakland County Children's Home. The other juvenile, from Walled Lake, who was at the wheel of the stolen car, was turned over to State Police for questioning. The others were released.

and hotel management, but also about people from all walks of life. As well as catering to royalty and VIPs, we had to handle suicides, throw out opium smokers and spot the phonies. I became rather cynical about our society, as a whole, and decided that the life of a bachelor was for me.

With three such vital interests as hotels, fire departments and sports, I reasoned that my life was full. But I was soon to learn, through bitter disappointment, that something else was still missing. Events took a curious way to disclose this to me.

Of all the hotels I managed, the 1,400-room Lincoln was my favorite.

In 1938 the owners decided to liquidate their real estate holdings, and gave me first chance to buy the Lincoln at $400,000 over the mortgage. But I couldn't quite raise this amount. When the hotel was sold and the new owners entered, it broke my heart.

A deep and bitter disappointment forced a man to re-examine his beliefs and convictions. Some of mine underwent a bit of change during the next few years.

I was invited to a dinner one night back in 1942 by the famous deputy fire commissioner, Dr. Harry M. Archer, and his wife Emeline. "Your companion is a charming widow," they assured me. Her name is Violet Emerson, known as "Bibs."

Frankly, I didn't look forward to that particular arrangement, and Bibs told me later that she wasn't too happy about the prospect of their bachelor friend as a dinner partner either. Before the evening was over, however, my philosophy about bachelorhood was being restudied.

As a matter of fact, the very next day I took her over to meet Capt. Charles Kuehhas and the boys of Fire Truck 24. They fell for her too. Often during our courtship we chased fires together, winding up tired, clothes saturated with smoke, in some all-night coffee shop.

With my marriage to Bibs in 1943, and the close association with our minister, the missing elements in my life were falling into place.

When facing a tough decision or opposition, when concerned over the health and problems of a loved one, or when generally in need of spiritual guidance the three of us would get together for prayer and discussion.

One of the crucial decisions of our lives came in 1944—whether or not to buy the Hotels Martinique and Concourse Plaza in New York City. I had been managing both hotels since 1939, and they were now offered to me for purchase.

Together, my wife, my minister and I asked God's assurance that we were on the right track. Then we prayed for wisdom and strength to properly handle the new venture and responsibility.

Now I know that my former disappointment just conditioned me for a brighter and happier future, for my goal was reached the hard way rather than being handed to me.

Running a hotel is an exciting job. You will meet and deal with all types of people. There are countless decisions to be made. The tension and activity can shake a man to pieces. It may get to me some day, but I don't think so, and here's why.

Every morning before starting the day, my wife and I sit in our living room and have a period of quiet meditation. During that period we pray together about all the problems of the day.

Before going to bed, no matter how late it is, I have learned first to relax my mind completely. Then, as I read some Scripture passages, my mind becomes saturated with their great ideas.

These devotions, and a regular attendance at church, keep my sense of serenity and provide me with a balance for living.

Blow-Out Blamed for Crash Injuring 3

A blow-out was given as the probable cause of an accident on Green Lake road just north of Pontiac trail Sunday afternoon when three youths were injured as their car hit a tree, according to West Bloomfield Township Police.

Antone Szalma, 16, of Detroit, the driver, and Dwight Gadberr, 15, of 2976 Crumb, Walled Lake, were treated at Pontiac General Hospital.

Another passenger, Bradley Wagner, 18, of 2825 Parkhill, Farmington, is in good condition today with multiple bruises and a dislocated hip, according to the hospital.

The present London Bridge is still called New London Bridge, although it is 123 years old.

Accident Injures Couple

Charlie Arnold, 23, of 135 N. Jessie St. and his wife, Nina C., 17, were treated at Pontiac General Hospital Sunday night after Arnold lost control of his car on North Squirrel road in Pontiac Township and hit a tree. He told Oakland County sheriff's deputies that he was going too fast to make a curve south of Walton boulevard.

Electric Code Promotes Safety

150 Pontiac Electricians Must Follow Standard Adopted by City

Parts of the 1953 National Electric Code, now the standard for electrical installations in Pontiac, are aimed at promoting greater safety, according to John W. Emerson, city electrical superintendent. All of the city's approximately 150 licensed electricians must conform to the code, Emerson said.

"Nearly everyone has experienced an electrical shock at some time . . ." Emerson said. "Effective grounding is regarded as the best method of reducing this hazard."

The trend is to higher voltages which make for economy in electrical systems, the superintendent said. He expects a future increase in voltage for appliance use from the present 120 to 240 volts.

"When using more current, better grounding methods must be used to preserve safety," he added.

"The home laundry has been one of the locations where precautions are necessary because water greatly increases the severity of a shock."

A new plug receiver is now generally available which allows washing machines and other laundry equipment to be grounded through the attachment cord, the superintendent said. This will make grounding protection available when the laundry outlet is installed.

Provisions for use of the grounding cords will be effective July 1. Portable tools, especially electric drills, will be made safer by use of the new device, Emerson added.

Three Hospitalized by Head-on Collision

A two-car head-on collision early Sunday morning in White Lake Township hospitalized three persons, when one auto crossed the center line in front of another, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital was Harold Russ, 34, of 4661 Fiddle, Waterford Township, who suffered face cuts and hip and knee injuries.

Vernon Hitchcock, 36, driver of the car which crossed in front of Russ' auto, is in Pontiac General Hospital with multiple cuts and bruises of the face and chest, and rib fractures. His wife, Audrey, 28, has multiple face cuts and a rib fracture. All three are in good condition today, according to the hospital.

The accident occurred on Elizabeth Lake road west of Williams Lake road.

Hunting Ban Rule Dies in Committee

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Waterford Township won't be able to ban hunting next fall, Supervisor Lloyd Anderson disclosed today.

A proposal passed in January by the township board, which would have made hunting or firing of arms in the township punishable by a $100 fine or 90 days in jail or both, died in a state senate committee recently.

Anderson said a measure to ban hunting and firing of arms must be passed by the legislature before being presented to voters of the township.

Two Injured in Collision in Royal Oak Saturday

Two persons were injured in a head-on collision Saturday night on Stephenson Hwy. at 12-Mile Rd., according to Royal Oak Police.

Glen Noble, 22, of 320 Romeo Rd., Leonard, was driving south on Stephenson when his auto collided with one driven by Mrs. Olga Sekulich, 42, of 3971 Thomas St., Berkeley, police said.

Noble and Mrs. Sekulich were admitted to St. Joseph-Mercy Hospital where they are reported in good condition. He received head injuries and she was admitted with leg injuries.

Waterford Wins in Speech Tests

Township High Students Take Four 'First's' in UM Contest at Farmington

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Waterford Township High School students won four of five possible first places in the second semester district speech contest sponsored by the University of Michigan Friday at Farmington High School. Students from Walled Lake, Farmington and Plymouth high schools were also entered.

First place winners for Waterford were Pat Lohff, Jerry Smith, Myles Watkins and Ira Gould.

Second places were won by Jeanne Shunck, Connie Jones and Jack Mitchell. A third place was won by Gloria Rose.

The four first place winners will represent Waterford in the regional contest to be scheduled in late May.

Students gave 10 minute speeches including humorous, interpretive and extemporaneous types, original oratory and oratorical declamations. They were judged on suitability of selection, interpretation, delivery and choice of selection.

Dems Demand Free Time to Air Answer to Nixon

DETROIT (U)—Michigan Democrats demanded free radio and television time today to answer Vice President Nixon's Saturday night speech in Detroit.

Democratic State Chairman Neil Staebler of Ann Arbor made the demand in a telegram to Gayle V. Grubb, manager of WJBK-TV, Detroit, originating station for Nixon's speech. The talk was carried over half a dozen television stations and 29 radio stations. Said Staebler:

"We request equal time for the purpose of presenting the Democratic Party's position on several of the political issues raised by Vice President Nixon."

Grubb said he was not prepared to comment immediately. He said he wished to study the demand.

Nixon, in a speech obviously bearing White House approval, said the existence of the hydrogen bomb might by itself prove the "greatest force for peace in world history."

The vice president, addressing a banquet honoring Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), also spoke in support of the administration's "massive retaliation" policy in military tactics.

He said this policy has "reduced to a minimum" the chance of Red China's sending troops into the Indochina War.

If the Democrats get free radio and TV time to answer Nixon, former Democratic Sen. Blair Moody of Michigan would be considered the choice as speaker.

Coincidentally, Moody, now a community weekly newspaper publisher, made public a letter to President Eisenhower questioning whether America's defense buildup was "as swift and efficient as it could be."

Moody's letter was dated April 2. He said he withheld its public on Congress for action to provide:

1. Maximum retaliatory striking power at the earliest possible date.
2. An "adequate" defense arm as soon as possible.
3. An early air warning system.

As his letter went out, Moody also commented that he "hoped" Nixon was right when he said the H-bomb may be a force for peace.

Roosevelt High Honors Students

Beverly Watts Named Valedictorian, Second Goes to Gordon Veal

KEEGO HARBOR—Honor students were announced for the Roosevelt High School senior class last week by Donald Weed, principal.

Beverly Watts was named valedictorian and Gordon Veal was selected as class salutatorian.

Beverly, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Watts, of 1924 Cass Lake Rd., attained a scholastic average of 3.4. She is the president of the Roosevelt branch of the National Honor Society.

Beverly represented her school as the DAR Good Citizenship Pillgrim last month. She plans to attend Michigan State Normal College at Ypsilanti where she will study for a career in teaching.

Gordon, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Veal, of 3037 Kenrick St., has an average of 3.2. He is also a member of the Roosevelt branch of the National Honor Society. He plans to attend Michigan State College next fall.

Both honor students spent their entire school days here.

NBC Symphony Loses Toscanini

Conductor Leaves Post Quietly After 17 Years With Orchestra

NEW YORK (U)—Arturo Toscanini, whose name means the finest in music to millions, has retired as conductor of the NBC Symphony Orchestra.

The 87-year-old maestro left his post quietly and without making a special occasion of his last concert, an all-Wagner program in Carnegie Hall yesterday.

NBC said he planned to leave the United States in May or June for a visit to his native Italy. It was understood he has at present made no commitments for any future concerts anywhere.

Official word of his retirement was withheld until after the final concert. NBC said this was done at the veteran conductor's request to avoid a sentimental demonstration by the audience or orchestra, formed 17 years ago especially for his use.

Without turning to the audience or a nod to anyone, Toscanini left the podium as soon as the last note of the concert's final number died.

He shut himself in his green room in Carnegie Hall and refused to return to the stage despite lengthy cheering and applause by the audience.

NBC said he did not come out because he was too moved and had even canceled a dinner party because of the emotional strain of the occasion.

David Sarnoff, chairman of the board of RCA and NBC, released the letter in which Toscanini told him "the sad time has come when I must reluctantly lay aside my baton and say goodbye to my orchestra."

The NBC orchestra will continue playing under other conductors through the spring. Plans after that are still to be announced.

ROKs Arrest 28 Spies

Phonomania Teenagers Are Driving Parents Mad

By LAURA E. HOBSON

By International News Service I watched a mother glow with joy and pride over her three-year-old the other day, because the dear little girl had answered the phone all by herself, and talked for 10 full seconds before going mute.

"Just wait 10 years," I wanted to tell the mother. "Then you'll glow so hard, you'll do a perpetual burn."

That happy mother didn't realize what a snake in the grass every toddler and post-toddler actually is when making its first acquaintance with the wonder and glory of the telephone.

Nor does she suspect that when the dear little tot finally turns 12 or 14, they'll be verbal marathon runners who can keep going forever, as long as a tempting black mouthpiece is held out in front of their noses.

It's a compulsive sort of thing, a modern juvenile disease, and my own name for it is "phonomania." Doses of reason won't work, nor the bitter pills of scoldings.

Tearing the phone out by the roots is bad etiquette for parents, and cutting the wires is on a par with snipping the nose off to spite the face.

Speaking of etiquette, the rules these young dial devotees follow are as rigid as anything ever practiced by the old "Four Hundred."

"Hello" is forbidden. "Hi" is old hat. If the desired voice answers the call, a 12-year-old's opening gambit is apt to be, "What say you come over here?" A 17's is "What say I come over there?"

Even when the answer is an immediate and soul-satisfying yes, proper usage demands that you go right on gabbing for the required 30 minutes.

That 30-minute rule applies equally to members of either sex, and anybody who tells me that girls and women are greater gabbers than boys and men should just try to dial my number during any spring, summer or Christmas vacation when my two sons are home from school all day.

Just as there are junior driving licenses for teenage motorists, I long to see special junior telephone numbers, preferably with coinbox attached.

These would be such electronic miracles that after three minutes of gab, a mechanical voice would chant, "Goodbye now—I'm paying for this out of my own allowance."

But my real wish, my secret wish, is that back in 1876 there never had been any genius named Alexander Graham Bell.

About 400 million acres in the United States are classified as cropland.

Rioters Attack Laniel, Plevin

Anti-EDC Mob Kicks,
Slaps French Premier and Defense Minister

PARIS (AP) — Premier Joseph Laniel nursed sore shins today and Defense Minister Rene Plevin a slapped face after a yelling mob set on them in protest at the proposed European Defense Community.

The 100 or so rioters — identified as supporters of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, Monarchists and possibly some Communists — broke up a solemn ceremony yesterday at the Arc de Triomphe honoring the defenders of Dien Bien Phu, the Communist-besieged fortress in Indochina.

With only a thin line of police and a handful of troops on hand, the demonstrators rushed the official party as it started to leave the ceremony.

Somebody kicked Laniel in the shins. A police flying wedge got him to a police car which the rioters then tried to overturn. The straining policemen counterbalanced the pushing throng and the chauffeur finally rammed the car through the crowd.

Plevin was stranded under the arch alongside France's national shrine, the tomb of the unknown soldier and its perpetual flame honoring the nation's war dead.

Screaming "Resign!" the crowd hurled stones which missed him. Two or three knocked off his hat and glasses. Someone slapped him twice. Another grabbed a handful of his hair.

Pale and seething, Plevin stood with the police in the center of the crowd until reinforcements finally arrived — almost half an hour later.

The rest of the crowd of about 1,000 watched the attacks with detachment and made no move to intervene. They dispersed after Plevin departed. Police arrested seven of the demonstrators.

The rioters tossed anti-EDC leaflets in the air, shouted anti-EDC slogans and yelled "Vive (long live) Juin." This referred to Marshal Alphonse Pierre Juin, who was dismissed from his French military posts last week for failing to meet with Laniel and Plevin to explain an anti-EDC speech.

IN CHARGE — Maj. Gen. Clark L. Ruffner is the new commander of the U. S. Army in the Pacific area, with headquarters at Ft. Shafter, Hawaii. He succeeds Lt. Gen. John W. O'Daniel, who was previously assigned to the military advisory group in Indochina.

Driver Mistakes Gears and Drives Into Bedroom

GRACEMONT, Okla. (AP) — A 52-year-old student driver mistook his reverse gear for his low gear yesterday, backed up 190 feet, and landed in the bedroom of a nearby home.

Investigating officers said the car of Earl Lee Carter of Ponca City zoomed backwards perfectly between two telephone poles, climbed up the porch of a residence, smashed through a door and window, and was stopped by two beds.

Damage to the house was estimated at $500, to the car $25. No one was injured.

3 Detroiters Held for Operating Still

YPSILANTI (INS)—Three Detroiters were in custody of Ypsilanti State Police today following a raid on a still in Sumpter Township.

Charged with operating the still are Benjamin Edwards, 31; Willie George, 39, and James Brumfield, 28.

They were arrested as they attempted to escape in a car at a farmhouse.

The police raiders, alerted by an anonymous tipster, destroyed a 275 gallon cooler, 100 pounds of sugar and 300 gallons of mash.

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday Parable Is Story of Father More Than Prodigal Son

The following is a summary of the sermon preached Sunday morning in Wilson Avenue Methodist Church by the Rev. Eaton Hazard. His theme was "Redeeming Love."

The church was incorporated in 1918 and the Rev. Mr. Hazard came as pastor in 1952.

Dickens, when asked what he considered the most touching story in literature, replied: "The story of the Prodigal Son."

This parable is not about a father who had two sons, one of which was good and the other bad. Rather, it is the story of a father whose great love was not properly understood or appreciated by his two sons.

The great trouble with the world today is that men do not give due consideration to the plan of salvation which is possible through the wisdom and love of our Heavenly Father.

Surely the world needs to be saved! The headlines of our daily newspapers give sufficient evidence of this fact.

And the world is still made up of individuals such as were in the mind of one who wrote that Jesus came to seek and to save the lost. Man is running away from God these days, saying: "Give me what is due me." Trying to find satisfaction in substitutes, he is running away from life that is worth while, with little or no place in his thinking for God, for faith, or salvation.

Redemption never comes by force. So the desire for freedom

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In case after case, pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—discovery of a world-famous research institute. Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form under the name of Preparation H. Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guarantee.

REV. EATON HAZARD

from restraint, for self expression, are the dominating forces in many a man's life.

When the prodigal son, fed up with material and sensual things of life, returned home, he discovered an altogether different father awaiting his return than he expected to find. He knew his father to be a good man, but he hardly hoped for forgiveness; he had not counted on being re-instated in the family circle.

The elder brother also saw a different kind of father. He was moved to anger and jealousy through what he thought was folly on the part of his father. The elder brother, like a host of people today, could not get the idea of redemption.

Such fail to believe that God knows what is best for us, and that He can and will make things right, if we return to Him.

To be redeemed from sin, from frustration, from fear, or from false ideologies in life, means to be put back into the will of God, from which one has strayed, or which one never properly considered.

There is room in the universe for but one will, the will of God! Christians have long expressed this truth in song: "Our wills are ours, to make them Thine." Harmony in life is found only where God's will directs the affairs of men.

When we read the newspaper headline: "Fear of H-Bomb May Kill Future Tests," we wonder if the world will some day get to the place even beyond that of the prodigal son, where there is no point of return!

But Christ offers hope. The father in the parable said to the elder son: "This thy brother was dead, and is alive again; was lost, and is found." Many an "elder brother" today does not know the relation of Good Friday to Easter. Without redemption we must cancel the testimony: "Is alive again!"

Truman Comments on H-Bomb, Peace

ST. LOUIS 48—Former President Truman says he hopes the hydrogen bomb will be a contribution to peace but he "knows too much about the bomb to talk about it."

Truman, at a brief press conference last night after a testimonial dinner honoring Rabbi Samuel Thurman of St. Louis, said:

"We made every effort possible to get disarmament and the outlawing of lethal weapons for peace. The Russians always refused and we met over 250 times."

"If the hydrogen bomb can bring about peace, it is one of the greatest things in the world and worth all we've spent for it."

The former President, in a speech at the dinner, stressed the importance of organizing the "moral, God-fearing forces" to bring about peace and freedom in the world.

About 1,000 persons attended the dinner, honoring Rabbi Thurman for 40 years service to his congregation.

Mrs. Ernest Kanzler Found Dead in Pool

HOBE SOUND, Fla. 48—Mrs. Ernest Kanzler, 63-year-old wife of a former Ford Motor Co. executive, drowned yesterday in the swimming pool of their Jupiter Island estate.

A yard man found Mrs. Kanzler's nude body in the water at 8 a.m. Coroner Harry C. Beckman said she died by drowning and had been dead about five hours.

Mrs. Kanzler, the former Josephine Clay, was a sister of Mrs.

Edsel Ford. Her husband was a long-time associate of Henry Ford. Kanzler said he saw his wife for the last time about 11 p.m. Saturday, when he retired to his study after a quiet evening at home. He said she left the house for a walk around the grounds.

Her bathing robe and slippers were found beside the pool.

Bob Considine Says:

TV Showing of H-Bomb Film Fell Flat on Its Face

NEW YORK (INS) — Although they say that one picture is worth 10,000 words, the movie of the hydrogen bomb did its best to prove that saying wrong.

The film succeeds brilliantly in that it gives away no information to the Russians. It falls abysmally, however, in its primary purpose of giving the American people a little jab in the arm concerning civil defense.

If the film producers had been ordered to hold heavy, opaque curtains in front of the action they could not have obscured things more than they did by hiring Reed Hadley to narrate the epic. Perhaps that's a bit unfair to Hadley. The script called for a gabby commentary and a series of cliché inquiries.

After half of the film had slipped by one began to wonder if the bomb ever would get on.

The hope of the producers was that the preliminary gab and view of incomprehensible dials would instill in the viewers an unbearable tension—due to reach its zenith when the thing goes off. Instead, they succeeded only in making one grumble "get on with it." When the thing did go off there was a feeling of "so this is new?"

I saw the color preview of the film the other day, and it fell far below expectations. Its effect has been diminished a hundred times more by its TV presentation, wherein it is reduced to black and white and cramped on to a small screen.

There appears to be much confusion among the civil defense people. The New York City Civil Defense chief said after seeing the film that the only hope of New York's 8,000,000 in the event of an H-attack would be to get out of town.

But then he said that evacuation of cities was out of the question. Shelters were still the thing. He made no mention that if a shelter had been dug under Elugelab it would have had to be 18 of more stories deep to have protected its people from complete annihilation or cremation.

Now the emphasis has shifted to a new and expanded alarm system which will have to be pretty miraculous. If New York City was given a 15-hour warning of an impending H-attack it could evacuate only two or three million of its 8,000,000 people.

Where they would go also would be something of a problem. At least one New Jersey suburb has rehearsed shooting refugees through the town—and not letting these hypothetical escapees hesitate or stop.

A final word about the first words of this piece, the most impressive parts of the film were some spoken statistics at the end—when we are told that you could put 14 Pentagon buildings in the bomb crater, and that the malevolent wings of the cloud spread out 100 miles. Even more impressive was an unspoken fact: that what millions saw this past weekend was but a furtive glimpse of the Model T of the hydrogen age.

Reports Airlines Set Safety Mark

WASHINGTON (UP) — Planes, official publication of Aircraft Industries Association, reports that for the second consecutive year America's scheduled airlines established all-time safety records on domestic and foreign routes.

Flying giant American-built air transports, the airlines, carried nearly 31,000,000 passengers more than 18,000,000 passenger-miles in 1953 with a fatality rate of 0.48 per 100,000,000 passenger-miles. This compares with a rate of approximately 2.80 per 100,000,000 passenger-miles for automobiles and taxis, according to Planes.

The publication also reported that the Military Air Transport Service airlifted more than 500,000 passengers, including patients, during the year without a single fatality. In addition, MATS carried 164,000,000 pounds of high-priority cargo and mail.

Germans Once Again Do Business in Iraq

BAGHDAD (UP)—The Germans are back in Iraq in business and other fields for the first time since early in World War II, when Iraq broke off diplomatic relations with Nazi Germany and later declared war.

The first major deal in the economic field was the award recently to a German firm of a development board contract for construction of two bridges in Baghdad. In mid-January a four-man archaeological mission of Deutsche Archeologische arrived here to resume excavations their institute began before the war.

City Hopes it Won't Get What It Needs for Awhile
MASSILON, Ohio (UP) — This city needs a new system of storm sewers, but it hopes they won't be built for a while.

The reason they are not being built is that the city treasury can't stand it. Only a federal program of matching funds could put across the $304,000 system. Such a program probably would not go into action until unemployment became acute. That's why officials are not looking forward to it, although it is needed.

The last major storm sewer was put in under the long-defunct Works Progress Administration (WPA). The city has grown since then and suffers when heavy rains hit it.

Guess how much is enough to cover your next hospital bill!

- ☐ $10 A DAY?
- ☐ $20 A DAY?
- ☐ $30 A DAY?
- ☐ $40 A DAY?

YOU COULD PICK any one of these figures and still be miles away from a correct answer! The fact is, there just isn't any way of predicting a hospital bill! Yet, when you can't tell how much a hospital bill will be, how can you be sure your family is adequately protected?

And think of how important adequate protection is . . . with one in every three families facing a hospital bill each year!

Would you feel adequately protected if the hospital services you needed were to cost $25 a day or more . . . yet, to pay for these services, your protection allowed you only $10, $15, or some other limited amount per day?

On the other hand, wouldn't you feel adequately protected if you knew that in case of illness, you'd be automatically entitled to needed hospital services themselves?

You can have adequate protection easily . . . and at low cost. But the only way you can get it is through Blue Cross . . . the plan that pays off in the hospital services you need.

Blue Cross is the most successful idea ever devised for protection against hospital bills. Not for profit, it is the only organization for hospital care officially approved by the American Hospital Association. Over 3,000,000 Michigan people have Blue Cross. Chances are, your neighbor has it. Talk it over with him—and see if he doesn't agree that there is no finer protection at any price!

Hospital Service Protection . . . the Blue Cross way

When you become a member of a Blue Cross Group it is like becoming the "owner" of a wide range of hospital services in advance of need. Ownership entitles you to bed and board, expensive extras like oxygen, drugs and medicines, operating room and so forth. And every enrolled member in your family is entitled to the same services.

Blue Cross hospital service benefits apply at over 200 Blue Cross participating hospitals in Michigan alone . . . with over 95% of the general hospital beds in the state.

Doctor Bill Protection . . . the Blue Shield way

There is no problem of unpredictable cost, however, when it comes to paying doctor bills. Because, in almost every case, your doctor can tell you beforehand what his charge will be. The thing he can't tell you, however, is when you are going to need his services. So, against that need, Blue Shield offers a smart way to safeguard your savings . . . to take doctor bills in your stride.

Blue Shield offers two basic plans—one, a straight surgical plan, the other, a medical-surgical plan. Under either plan, Blue Shield pays generous, specific amounts directly to your doctor for thousands of surgical procedures, including maternity care. And in non-surgical cases, under the medical-surgical plan, Blue Shield also pays liberal amounts for your doctor's visits to you in the hospital. Often the doctor's full bill is covered.

The cost is low

For only pennies per day, Blue Cross - Blue Shield entitles you to the most complete protection against hospital and medical bills it is possible to obtain. One way you can help keep the cost low is by using Blue Cross - Blue Shield only when necessary. It is in your own best interest not to ask your doctor to put you in the hospital for diagnostic treatment which could just as easily be performed in his office.

There's no red tape!

Blue Cross - Blue Shield never require a physical examination or health statement. And, when you have to use Blue Cross - Blue Shield, there are no claims to make . . . no long waits for payment. All you do is present your Identification Card to your hospital or doctor, and Blue Cross - Blue Shield pay them directly.

How to get Blue Cross - Blue Shield

Ask your employer or your union representative how you can get low-cost Group Enrollment. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Check your Farm Bureau. Write or phone your nearest Blue Cross - Blue Shield office.

City Crew Sprays Trees to Kill Dutch Elm Disease

A two-man Parks and Recreation Department crew today began spraying some of the 3,000 city-owned elm trees to kill the beetles which spread Dutch elm disease, according to William Aho, city forester.

The trees will be sprayed again after the leaves come out, Aho said. As another part of the preventive program, the city's Boy Scouts are surveying Pontiac's east side for dead elm wood which may harbor the beetles.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army and Air Force today announced the names of 67 more men presumed to have died in Korea. All had been listed as missing in action for a year or more.

Among 30 names made public by the Army were two Michigan men:

Pfc. Norman C. Bedell, son of Mrs. Sarah J. Bedell, Ann Arbor.

Cpl. Curtis J. Wells, son of Mrs. Emma Wells, Harbor Beach. Included in the Air Force list of 37 were two Michigan men:

Capt. Earnest R. Oyler, husband of Mrs. Cecile G. Oyler, Jackson.

2,600 Americans Are Buried in North Korea; Removal Held Up

WASHINGTON (INS)—Communist obstinacy today is preventing recovery of bodies of 2,600 American servicemen known to be buried in Korea—and there is no certainty they ever will be brought to U. S. soil.

Although more than eight months have passed since the signing of the Korean armistice, carrying a provision to permit graves registration teams of each side to enter the territory of the other, the subject is still being "negotiated."

Col. John D. Martz Jr., in charge of graves registration, said negotiations are "extremely delicate." He declined to talk about what issues are holding up an agreement to implement the provision of the armistice agreement for recovering the bodies.

In indicating uncertainty about an agreement ever being reached, Martz recently told a Capitol Hill committee: "What the future will be in that respect we cannot predict."

The neutral commission is to set procedures, and under the agreement is to provide a time limit for recovering the bodies.

Even after the Communists and UN forces agree on a neutral commission procedure, there is still the problem of dealing with South Korean President Syngman Rhee, head of a sovereign country who is determined to prohibit North Korean Communists from entering his borders for any reason.

The armistice agreement provides also that each side shall furnish to the other all available information about places of burial of the dead servicemen of the other side.

Paul E. Moros' Plan to Reside in Lansing Home

Planning to reside in Lansing are Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Moros, who were married March 27 in Birmingham.

The bride, the former JoAnne Frazier, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Frazier of Ferndale, and the E. Moros, of Edgelynd drive are the bridegroom's parents.

For the 8 o'clock double-ring ceremony, the bride wore white Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The long sleeves were pointed over the wrists, and pearls and paillettes ornamented the V-neckline. Tiers of tulle which fashioned the skirt fell in to a train.

A matching lace cap held her illusion veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses and freesia with white satin streamers.

In Wedgwood blue were the honor matron, Mrs. Fred Maynard of Ferndale, and the other attendants, Fay Garwood, Judy Trager, Mrs. Cal Landsmeyer and Mrs. Jerry DuBois.

John S. LaMonte was best man and ushers were Richard Guy, Robert Frazier, Mr. DuBois and David Zamek.

C. Lloyd Stait sang the wedding recital accompanied by Rodney Peterson.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. JoAnne attended Wayne University and Paul is a student at Michigan State College.

Rumors, Big or Small, Seem to Travel at Speed Second Only to Light

Don't Label Fear, Anger a 'Complex'

Woman Cannot Be Herself by Denying Natural Emotions

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mrs. B., a working mother, is having a bad time in her office. A former friend who used to lunch with her no longer speaks to her. Her response to a "good morning" is to turn her back. If, catching her eye across their desks, Mrs. B. smiles, the former friend's face goes stiff and closed. This snubbing is making Mrs. B. so nervous she's losing weight.

"People have always frozen up on me like this," she writes me. "I have an inferiority complex. Up to now, I've tried to hide it by appearing sure of myself."

Will Mrs. B. please stop thinking of fear and anger as an "inferiority complex"? It's much too impressive a name for these common human feelings.

Mrs. B. is in trouble because she is already so scared of her fear and anger toward people that she has to pretend she doesn't feel them. She has to smile and appear friendly to them when she doesn't want to.

So it isn't wise to give the imposing name of "inferiority complex" to feelings which she needs to accept naturally and simply. It's just an excuse to make her acceptance of those feelings more difficult than it is.

Though I can't tell Mrs. B. how to behave toward unkindness, I can tell her what I would do in her situation. I would say to myself, "I don't like this. I shall not again encourage snubs by beaming at them. So I shall not smile or say 'good morning' to unkindness again."

This decision would unite my feeling and my action. I would be myself because my feeling and my action had become one.

If our feelings and actions do not jibe, we cannot possibly be sure of ourselves.

Of course Mrs. B. is unsure of herself. Her actions toward her former friend belie her feelings. Where did she learn to falsify resentment with smiles and friendliness? What has associated honest anger with such catastrophe that she has to pretend it's something else?

The sky will not fall if Mrs. B. rejects unkindness. But if she won't rally the courage to test her right to be herself, how can she ever discover that such courage is the secret of freedom from "inferiority complexes"?

It is not because we become fearful or angry that others treat us contemptuously, but because we deny the truth of what we are. They "freeze up" on us out of distrust of our sincerity.

They think, "You cannot be loyal to yourself, so how can you be loyal to me?"

Exquisite old patterns that exemplify quality craftsmanship now are making silverplate history in an unprecedented revival event. These old favorites, (left to right) Marquise, first introduced in 1932; Ambassador in 1920, and Lovelace in 1936 are among the 10 popular patterns being reactivated by a leading silverplate company in a unique "Your Favorite Pattern" event.

This is the first time that silverplate patterns have been reactivated. The millions of women who started their family silver in the 20s and early 30s now have an opportunity to complete services in their favorite pattern. The seven other patterns are Anniversary (1922), Ancestral (1924), Argosy (1926), Legacy (1928), Silhouette (1929), Her Majesty (1930) and Sylvia (1934).

Take Time to Find Costume Toppers

After you've assembled the major items in your spring costume, take a few hours to stroll around the shops.

You'll probably spot just the scarf, pin, gloves or flower that will give the finishing touch to your ensemble. But that does take leisurely looking.

Try It Make Cigar Box Guitar

I hope that you have had the fun of being part of a rhythm band at some time. These bands are fun for all, for homemade instruments are used. You can blow into bottles, use pie plates with bottle caps, pan lids to bang together, and how about a cigar box guitar?

You will need a cigar box, some rubber bands and a small piece of wood for a bridge. This is not the kind of a bridge that people use to walk over, but a bridge that string go over for tone.

The bridge can be made from soft wood, and you can make it go about half way across the cigar box. Whittle it so that the top is more narrow than the bottom. Smooth it with sandpaper to give it a finished look, then make four notches in the top.

Use a jig saw to cut a half oval in the lid of the box. This should go about half way across and should be about an inch and a half wide at the widest part. Set the bridge about 2 inches down from this.

Use rubber bands of regular length, and put these around the box the long way. Set the bridge in place and have the rubber bands run through the notches. This makes a good strumming instrument. Sing and play for fun.

"For very little money, I gave the four living room lamps beautiful new shades. The family was delighted, and my friends all complimented me."

"Then, of course, I wanted to do more and more. I made shades for friends, and a couple of them paid me a small fee."

"Next, I read the chapter on lamp shades—how to make the lamp itself as well as the shade. The author said that the homemaker who wanted to make money should make the whole lamp and shade together."

"He gave excellent ideas on cheap household items which can be made into lamps, old bottles, jam jars, vases, and so forth. And he told how to wire the base. It really isn't very hard, and it's such fun!"

"I have made quite a few sales, and the pin money helps a lot. But most of all, it's a wonderful hobby."

"Everywhere I go, to the five and dime or the florist's or a friend's house, I'm always on the lookout for something that would make a good lamp!"

"So you see," this young wife concluded, "you never know. If I hadn't complained about our lampshades, and my husband hadn't gotten me a stocking present, I would have missed the most thrilling hobby in the world!"

Soap Dishes May Be Extinct

NEW YORK (INS)—Fifty years from now, people may have to go to a museum to see a soap dish. So says Allen Smith of the Dow Chemical Co., who predicts homes of the future will use detergents only.

Smith told the National Home Laundry Conference in New York that people will some day use toilet bars resembling soap but made from synthetic detergents.

And he said eventually homes may have a central supply of an all-purpose liquid detergent piped to showers, wash basins, sinks and household washers.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

She Sympathizes With AF on Its Ocean-Hopping Tale

I sympathize with the United States Air Force which recently denied indignantly a rumor concerning its members in Great Britain that had been started by a woman's speech in Germany, picked up and printed by a columnist in America, read into the Congressional Record by a representative from Ohio, reprinted in a magazine with international circulation that reached a member of the British Parliament, who asked questions about it in the House of Commons!

This may be some sort of record for rumor-hopping, considering that the false report had to cross the Atlantic Ocean twice, but the truth is, once any rumor, however slight, starts, it travels at a speed that seems second only to that of light.

The rumors about myself that made me feel such rapport with the Air Force weren't so extensively circulated, I being unimportant. All the same, I was definitely agitated when reporters called to learn details of my death and, later, to verify the names of the twins I never had.

MISS MCBRIDE

Wood Glue Is Important in Repairing Makes Furniture Joints Firm When Applied Just Right

By HUBBARD COBB

When it comes to furniture repairs, one of the handiest items of them all is a good wood glue.

Using modern wood glues, you can make a joint so strong that it will be actually stronger than the wood it is holding together. But it's got to be used just right.

First of all, the old glue must be removed from the two surfaces that are to be joined together. This can be done by softening the glue with a cloth dampened in warm water or by sanding.

It's also important that the two surfaces be smooth. This does not apply, however, to a split in a leg or panel where if the surfaces were sanded smooth the pieces would not join together properly. It does apply where two perfectly flat and even surfaces are fitted to one another.

Each of the surfaces to be joined should receive a thin coat of glue. We have found that the best way to apply this coating is with an old paint brush. This insures getting the entire surface coated with a thin layer of glue.

Once the two pieces are put together, pressure must be applied at once to hold the joint good and tight. If nails or screws are to be used in addition to the glue, install them now before the glue has set.

In most cases no other fastening but the glue is required. In this case, you need some form of pressure on the joints.

Clamps are ideal for this purpose but most homes don't have the various types and sized of clamps required for furniture repair. You can do just as well with stout cord wrapped around the joint and then tightened further with a stick in the same fashion as used with a tourniquet.

When you have several joints to make up on the same piece, do them all at the same time. Once the piece has been trussed up, leave it alone until the glue is absolutely hard.

Thinks Dogs Should Be Left Home

Housewife Resents Visitors' Bringing Hair-Shedding Pet

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter gives me this advice: "I really do think that you would be doing a great service to many of your readers if you would write something in your column about the people who take their dogs with them everywhere they go."

"I have in mind some people who never go anywhere without their dog. It is a shaggy dog and sheds hair all over the house, and for days after they've been here I find hairs on my furniture, on the rug and everywhere."

"It isn't that I dislike dogs; in fact, I have owned several, but I never took them into other people's houses with me."

"Don't you agree with me that dogs should be left at home when one is going visiting? Is there any tactful way of suggesting that such a rule should be enforced?"

Answer: To this, I think it depends on the breed of dog and obviously on his training. A big shaggy one that quite evidently has been neither thoroughly brushed nor trained to stay at his master's feet should not be taken into the houses of others.

But what to suggest that you do is very baffling, unless you are quite willing to risk losing the friendship of the dog owner and say frankly, "I know I am wrong to get cross, but it upsets me terribly when I have spent hours getting muddy paw marks and hairs not only out of the rug, but also my best furniture, only to have them all tracked up again."

According to etiquette, this is not correct advice, but for practical result it is the only way to protect your house and save yourself from unceasing work.

Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me if it is proper to say "God bless you" or "Gesundheit" after someone sneezes? Several of my friends always say it, but I myself have never been in the habit of saying this.

They think I am very rude because I don't. Will you please give me your opinion?

Answer: Although it is definitely more friendly to say it than not, if it is not your natural impulse to do so, it might seem an affectation. In no case is it a requirement.

It's Girl's Turn to Patch Up Romance

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Ron and I have been going together off and on for nearly three years. We used to quarrel a lot and each time he would go with someone else, or I would, then he'd come back to me and make up."

"But after our most recent quarrel this particular girl has started to go with Ron. She has fought with her boy friend and I guess she's lonely and is passing the time with Ron, though I'm not so sure she loves him."

"And I do — I love him very much. And it's been a month now and he hasn't come back to me. I'm going crazy."

"How am I going to get him back? And if you think he isn't coming back — how am I going to forget him?"

You and Ron have done a lot of quarrelling and making up in the past. You don't say who did the breaking off. But it was Ron who came crawling back humbly to ask forgiveness every time. He may be waiting this time for you to do a little crawling for a change, particularly if that last battle was your fault.

And while he's waiting, he's being distracted by another girl. And there's something artificially bright and gay about a girl who is caught on the rebound.

Are you going to let her go on distracting him without making your presence felt? Are you going to wait until she makes up with her own boy friend and then dash in and scoop up the pieces of Ron?

Why not give him a can right now and ask him to come over so you can talk to him? You do the humble crawling this time. You apologize, tell him how much you've missed him. See if you can't patch things up for yourself — before that distraction of his takes a turn for the permanent.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Last week when we had a date Bob was very quiet. He finally told me there was another girl. I took it as well as I could — didn't lose my temper or anything."

"He said he had gone with this girl before he met me and when they broke up he told her any time she wanted to go steady again, it would be okay."

"He started to go with me then. And now she wants to go steady with him. So he broke up with me."

"But he told a close friend of mine that he wasn't going steady yet because he can't make up his mind. I'd give anything to go with him again."

"He's always very nice when he sees me, so maybe that's hopeful. Is there anything I can do?"

Maybe you can help him make up his mind by exerting a little pressure in your own behalf. Whip together a party — just two or three couples — and invite him.

When you call him, tell him you understand he isn't going steady with anybody in particular, so you hope he'll come. Be your own sweet self to him and maybe he won't slip through your fingers when beckoned by that other girl!

Planning to reside at Jacksonville, Fla., are Mrs. and Mr. Edward James Gamble, who were married Saturday evening at Kirk in the Hills.

The bride is the former Lois Ann Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Murray Kennedy of Bloomfield Hills, and Edward is the son of Mrs. Edward James Gamble of Dearborn and the late Mr. Gamble.

For the 7 o'clock ceremony, the bride wore a gown of dupioni silk fashioned with a fitted bodice and yoke of Alencon lace. The full skirt ended in a chapel train and her fingertip veil was held with a Juliet cap of lace trimmed with seed pearls. Her bouquet was of white camellias and stephanotis.

Susan Kennedy attended her sister as honor maid in a yellow ballerina-length gown of antique taffeta. In similar gowns were the other attendants, Sally Gleason, the bride's cousin from Detroit; Mrs. Carl R. Withers of Warrensville Heights, Ohio; Mrs. H. Kendall Clark of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Kenneth D. Sands, also of Ann Arbor.

Clifford Dean of Chicago was best man, and seating the guests were Mr. Withers, Lt. John G. Hayward of Royal Oak, Ens. James H. Griggs of Monrovia, Calif., and Ens. Harvey Gerry of Scarsdale, N. Y.

The Rev. Harold C. DeWitt performed the service. For the occasion, the bride's mother wore a powder blue Chantilly lace and chiffon gown with blue accessories and a corsage of demure roses.

Mrs. Gamble chose champagne-colored Chantilly lace and chiffon with violet accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses and violets.

For the wedding trip, the new Mrs. Gamble wore, a gray wool dress with white pique trim and a sheared raccoon jacket.

MRS. EDWARD JAMES GAMBLE

Married Saturday evening at Kirk in the Hills were Lois Ann Kennedy, daughter of the Wallace M. Kennedys of Bloomfield Hills, and Ens. Edward J. Gamble, son of Mrs. Edward J. Gamble of Dearborn and the late Mr. Gamble.

Pontiac Women's Chorus Presents Sunday Concert

Program of Spiritual Music Sponsored by Auxiliary of St. Andrew Church

By DONNA ANDERSON

The spirited "Let All Things Now Living," a traditional Welsh melody arranged by Gwynn S. Bement, opened the Sunday evening concert of the Pontiac Women's Chorus.

Held in St. Andrew Episcopal Church of Drayton Plains, the concert was sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the church.

It was interesting to note the similarity of form of "Divinum Mysterium," a 13th Century plain song, to the contemporary "Benedictus Es Domine."

The chorus pointed out in its programming that modern composers still find the smooth progress of the Gregorian church music a medium for their endeavors. The familiar 16th Century Palestrina work, "O Bone Jesu," concluded the first part of the program.

James Vandersall, violinist, soloed in the interlude with "Cavendish" by Ralf.

A spiritual, "Steal Away," arranged by Roy Ringwald, opened the second half of the program, followed by the traditional and timely "Let Us Break Bread Together," Charles E. Hutton, director of the chorus, took the solo part in another spiritual, "Sometimes I Feel Like a Motherless Child."

Mrs. Carl Leonard, soprano, chose "Beside the Still Waters" for her solo of the evening. She also took the solo part in a Howarth arrangement of Sullivan's "The Lost Chord."

The organ prelude, "Ave Maria Stella" by Guilman, and the postlude were played by Ivan Rouse Jr., organist at St. Andrew Episcopal Church.

The chorus, which is sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Park and Recreation, is planning its annual spring concert for May 26. Dorothy L. McKibben is accompanist for the chorus.

Nancy Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Holmes of Lima, Ohio, became the bride of William C. Sproull Jr. Saturday at Christ Church Cranbrook. William is the son of the William C. Sproulls of Birmingham.

MRS. WILLIAM C. SPROULL JR.

Nancy H. Holmes Speaks Vows in Christ Church

BIRMINGHAM — At an afternoon wedding on Saturday in Christ Church Cranbrook, Nancy Hopper Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Holmes of Lima, Ohio, was married to William Cargill Sproull Jr.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Sproull of Shirley drive. Mr. and Mrs. Holmes formerly lived in Birmingham.

The bride's gown was fashioned of candlelight Italian silk taffeta. Folds of taffeta on the fitted bodice were accented by flowers of lace encrusted in seed pearls. The sleeves were long and the skirt with unpressed pleats fell into a cathedral train.

A Juliet cap of heirloom Duchesse lace held a two-tiered fingertip veil of illusion, and calla lilies in a cascade arrangement formed the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. John B. Thomas of Pasadena, Calif., was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. William John Holmes of Lima, Ohio, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. H. J. Quinn, sister of the bridegroom. They all wore sheath cocktail dresses of pale pink pure silk with scoop necklines and bustle effect in the back of the skirts.

Completing their outfits were tiny latic ecaps of pink straw cloth and bouquets of violets.

S. Gordon Saunders Jr. was best man and ushers included Robert N. Woodruff Jr., Mr. Holmes, Mr. Quinn and James O'Brien of Chicago.

The bride's mother wore an ice blue jacket dress embroidered in silver with a small matching hat. She pinned violets to her purse.

Mrs. Sproull's gown was of aqua lace with mink bands on the sleeves and she wore a small hat of matching velvet leaves. Her flowers were brown spray orchids.

For the wedding trip South by motor the bride wore a light gray flannel suit, navy hat and accessories, and a cherry red topcoat. The couple will live on Cherry Tree lane in Ann Arbor.

Couple Wed in Eastern Ceremony

David Bruce Miller Claims His Bride in Endicott, N. Y.

The Rt. Rev. Walter M. Higley, suffragan bishop of the Diocese of Central New York, officiated Saturday evening when Barbara Ann Patch became the bride of David Bruce Miller.

Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Patch of Endicott, N. Y., and the Frank H. Millers of Chippewa road are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. John Waddicor assisted with the ceremony, which was solemnized in St. Paul Episcopal Church of Endicott before 200 guests.

For the 8 o'clock service the bride chose a wedding gown of embroidered net over satin. The strapless dress was covered by a fitted jacket with long sleeves and a Peter Pan collar.

Her satin Juliet cap was ornamented with seed pearls and held a fingertip veil, and her bouquet was composed of tiny white rosebuds and valley lilies in a cascade of trailing English ivy.

Mrs. Donald R. Mills of Jenkintown, Pa., wore a yellow embroidered eyelet dress in a ballerina length with a matching Dutch cap and carried a cascade of Talisman roses and English ivy for her duties as honor matron.

In similar gowns of aqua were Mrs. Douglas Miller of Flint and Rita McCabe of Endicott. They carried cascades of yellow roses and ivy.

Douglas Miller was best man for his brother and ushers were the bride's brother, F. David Patch of Endicott, and Richard McNary.

A dress of steel blue silk with white accents, a white flower hat and a corsage of pink camellias were worn by the bride's mother. Mrs. Miller wore sea foam green with a flower hat.

After a reception at Hotel Frederick, the new Mrs. Miller changed to a coral linen suit with white accessories for the wedding trip to Florida.

They will reside in Indianapolis where David is to be stationed with the Army. The bride is a graduate of Centenary Junior College in Hackettstown, N. J., and the bridegroom is a graduate of Michigan State College.

MRS. DAVID B. MILLER

A Florida honeymoon is planned by Mr. and Mrs. David B. Miller who were married Saturday in Endicott, N. Y. The bride, the former Barbara A. Patch, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Patch of Endicott, and David is the son of the Frank H. Millers of Chippewa road.

Devoted to Fund-Raising

April Named PTA Month

Mayor Arthur J. Law has proclaimed April as Fund-Raising Month in the interest of scholarships sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association of Pontiac. This resolution was adopted by the Pontiac City Commission at a recent meeting.

The Pontiac Council of PTA in sponsoring a teacher scholarship hopes to help some deserving high school graduate through college and to a teaching career.

Its effort to make this scholarship available to this year's graduates has the support of all the public schools in Pontiac.

Varied fund-raising projects are planned by each school, the total receipts to be donated to the scholarship fund. Some schools have already completed their projects.

Any individual wishing to donate to this fund, which will be administered according to the policies of the PTA Council, may do so through his local PTA or by contacting Mrs. Donald North, council president.

Sorority Accepts Four New Pledges

Four new pledges were accepted by Beta Alpha Chapter, Sigma Beta sorority, Sunday in a candlelight pledge ceremony.

The four are Goldie Palaian, Barbara McSkulin, Shirley VanHorn and Mary Murphy. Jo Halveron was hostess to the group in her Waterford home, and she will be hostess for the next meeting April 14.

To Be Wed in Toledo

Lois A. Stachler Honored

Mrs. M. M. Rickner and Helen Rickner were hostesses at their Chippewa road home Saturday afternoon at a shower for Lois Ann Stachler of Toledo, Ohio.

Helen will be maid of honor May 8 when Lois speaks her vows with Maxium A. Morrow, son of the Edward Morrrows of Bloomfield Hills, at Blessed Sacrament Church in Toledo. Lois is the daughter of the Victor Stachlers of Toledo, formerly of Pontiac.

Mary McHugh of Toledo will be bridesmaid and Ellen Mertes, also of Toledo, will be flower girl. Attending the bridegroom as best man will be Alrman I. C. Thomas A. Stachler, and seating the guests will be James and Carl Morrow, with James Morrow as ringbearer. Twenty-five guests were present at the shower.

Rural Setting Used for Dance

Decorations of fences, chickens and horses set the scene for the Friday evening dance of the Merry Mixers Club held in the Waterford CAI Building.

Callers for the evening were Lee Kaines, Paul Bond, Warren Allen, Bruce Allen and Hal Brown.

On the guest list were Mr. and Mrs. Guy Patten, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bergman, the Russell Blacketts and the Ralph Reinharths.

Lodge Entertained

Past officers entertained members of Pontiac Rebekah Lodge 450 Friday evening in Malta Temple. Mrs. Howard Smith was chairman.

My recipe for
COCONUT COOKIES ... always successful in my
ELECTRIC RANGE

When Mrs. Harold Dietrich can take time from her publishing business and club activities she goes hunting with hubby. It was on a hunting trip that she got this delicious Coconut Cookie recipe from Mrs. Murphy, a cook in a lodge up north. When Mrs. Dietrich slips a batch of these cookies into her electric oven she knows that they'll be ready to serve in a matter of minutes—always golden brown and perfect.

Why be an oven pecker ... or a lid lifter? Your electric range can do your watching for you—and better than you can. Surface-unit and oven temperatures are scientifically controlled. There are no guesswork adjustments. You simply snap a switch to the exact heat needed and walk away. Be sure! Be modern! Cook electrically!

"MRS. MURPHY'S" COCONUT COOKIES

Time: 8 min.

Temp: 425°F.

1 cup shortening	1 teaspoon baking powder
1 1/2 cups brown sugar	1/2 teaspoon soda
1 egg	1 teaspoon salt
1 1/4 cups pastry flour, sifted	1 1/4 cups quick-cooking rolled oats
	1 cup coconut

Cream shortening and sugar together. Add egg and beat until light. Sift flour, baking powder, soda and salt together. Add to first mixture. Add oats and coconut. Mix well. Roll into balls, place on ungreased cookie sheet, flatten slightly. Bake. Cool slightly before removing from cookie sheet.

Catholics Cheer Sen. McCarthy

Enthusiastic Audience Mobs Senator in Effort to Shake Hands

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) got an enthusiastic reception yesterday from a Roman Catholic audience that later nearly crushed him in efforts to express congratulations.

The senator's half-hour speech was addressed to some 6,000 persons, including Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York at a communion breakfast of the City Police Department's Holy Name Society.

The audience frequently interrupted with lengthy applause.

As McCarthy neared the end of his talk, in which he promised to continue fighting communism at home and abroad, his listeners shouted "Keep going," "You're only warming up" and "Keep giving it to them."

Afterward the crowd pressed so close, trying to shake his hand, that he was practically carried from the room as police body guards kept off the crowd. Some of the audience cheered, "McCarthy for president!"

The senator was introduced by the Rt. Rev. Joseph A. McCaffrey, retiring police chaplain, as a man who "has fought untruth with truth, disloyalty with loyalty, treason with patriotism and godlessness with godliness."

After McCarthy's speech, Cardinal Spellman said Mass. McCaffrey's remarks made it unnecessary for the cardinal to comment on McCarthy's speech.

The audience cheered loudly when the cardinal added: "Sen. McCarthy has told us about the Communists and the Communist methods. I want to say I am not only against Communists but also against the Communist methods."

Lost: 1 Parked Car 1 Driver's License 1 Friendly Cop

CHICAGO (AP)—A police squad car stopped Herbert Livermore, 35, on a North Side street because he was running without lights. The officers decided he should do no more driving that night.

One policeman parked the car, handed Livermore the keys, wrote down the location of the car on the back of his driver's license, and put him aboard a homeward-bound bus.

Livermore lost the license. He doesn't know the policeman's name.

He can't find the car. He has combed the streets and alleys. Police won't put it on their stolen car list because he has no evidence it has been taken from the parking place.

The insurance company won't honor a claim that it is a stolen car, for the same reason.

But he has to keep up payments to the finance company—or lose the car even if it should be found.

That is the story behind the ad in today's Chicago Tribune:

"Police officer who parked my car Feb. 25, call Selley 2-5229. Reward."

SAFE DRIVER—Fred M. Copenhagen, a Pontiac Motor Division driver for 27 years, this month completed his 517,203rd mile of accident free driving. Copenhagen, of 4000 Farmer, Drayton Plains, has received several commendations for his spotless record of commercial driving. His record is equal to 20 trips around the world.

Total of Papers Runs Under '53

Higher Rates Allowed by State Accounts for Larger Intake

Customers paid $18,199 to have 13,102 deeds, mortgages and other papers recorded at Oakland County Register of Deeds office in March—some $6,300 more than in March 1953.

Orrin McQuaid, register of deeds, said last month's number of papers was a little under last March's total of 13,170.

Higher fees set by the Michigan Legislature accounted for the rise in cash receipts.

More deeds, mortgages and chattel mortgages but fewer photostats and discharges passed through office workers' hands last month.

March deeds totaled 2,665, filed for $4,401.80 in fees, as against the 2,502 deeds that cost customers $2,926 to file last March.

Office workers handled 1,217 mortgages for $4,035.70, compared to 1,135 for $3,302.50 in March 1953.

Chattel mortgages totaled 5,915, about 150 more than the March 1953 total of 5,766. Fees came to $5,915, compared to $2,893 last March.

Co-ed Works on Thesis, Later Plans to Wear It

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Joan Zepers is one girl who can write her thesis and wear it, too.

The 21-year-old senior at Mount Mary college decided on this thesis title: "The Execution of an Original Costume with Accessories." That means she's making a four-piece "correlated" wardrobe.

It consists of a simple sheath dress of medium blue; a matching jacket which turns the dress into a suit; a gaily striped sheer dress to be worn over the sheath, and a white jacket that also tops the sheath.

But Joan also has woven the one and one-half yards of white wool material for the one jacket, made the buttons for the suit and a matching bracelet and earrings from ceramic clay, and made a purse from pigskin.

She designed all the clothes and accessories.

"I had to write a paper, too," the Burlington, Wis., girl said. "I explained the different steps and processes I went through to make each piece."

The cost of the entire outfit: $38.

Call for 150 Donors to Give Blood Today

Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, today appealed for 150 "walk-in" blood donors to fill out the schedule for today's Red Cross "bloodmobile" visit here.

The mobile unit will take blood donations at Pontiac Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave., from 2 until 5 and from 6 until 8 p.m. Mrs. N. E. Durocher, Red Cross blood donor recruitment chairman, said only 100 people have made appointments to give blood today.

Failure to Name City Snags Toll Calls

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. today urged Pontiac area residents to give the name of the city they're calling when making long distance calls.

"We have exchanges with the same names in several Michigan towns," Edward Novak, Michigan Bell's Pontiac manager, explained. "We've had cases where customers wanted Woodward numbers in Battle Creek, but they didn't name 'Battle Creek'—and they wound up talking to Detroit."

Woodward is only one of several "name's the same" exchanges.

There are Temple exchanges in Detroit and Midland; Federal in Pontiac and Lansing; and Empire in Grand Rapids and Commerce. The telephone company plans to open a Liberty exchange in Royal Oak and a Cherry exchange in Wyandotte soon—and there are now Liberty and Cherry exchanges in other cities.

Novak suggested the long-distance caller name the city first, then give the exchange and the telephone number.

The Bell manager reminded local people that there are no longer any restrictions on long distance calls.

"During World War II," he said, "we asked people not to make any calls that weren't absolutely necessary—we were short on equipment and had to keep lines open for war calls. Now we've plenty of circuits and we're anxious to have people use them."

Novak said a recent survey in Philadelphia showed quite a bit of confusion about when the telephone company's lower night prices go on.

"Your toll call will cost 30 to 25 per cent less," he said, "if you place it between 6 p.m. and 4:30 a.m. or on Sundays, rather than during weekday hours." The lower rates go for Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day as well, he said.

Novak pointed out that the telephone company's prices for long distance calls are going down, not up—and it doesn't take as long to place a call.

"A station-to-station call from Detroit to San Francisco would have cost $13.45 in 1920," he said, "and $3.75 in 1941. Today it costs just $2.35 for the first three minutes."

It took an average of a minute and a half in 1943 to place a long distance call. Now it takes less than one minute, Novak said.

"Despite the fact that we have equipment that has cut down the amount of work that the operator has to do," Novak said, "we actually have more operators than before because the number of calls is growing daily. And person-to-person calls must always be handled by operators."

800 Police Lead Raids 24-Million-Dollar-a-Year Smuggling Ring Broken

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—The U. S. Army says sweeping raids yesterday in France and West Germany have smashed a 24-million-dollar-a-year smuggling ring.

A spokesman said scores of persons—among them American civilians, Germans and stateless persons—were nabbed in the roundup by more than 800 American, German and French police in eight cities.

More than $175,000 worth of contraband currency, jewels, gold, cigarettes and vehicles were confiscated.

Army officials said it was one of the largest smuggling rings uncovered in Europe since the war. They said it had operated for several years in France, Switzerland, Germany and Belgium and had headquarters in Paris, Zurich, Munich and Frankfurt.

OLD HABIT—Sawing wood at the age of 97 is nothing amazing for Wallace A. Bentley, of New Marlboro, Mass., who is working on his ninth cord of wood since winter's beginning. Born Aug. 27, 1856, he saws about two hours each day for exercise. He attributes his longevity not to the sawing; that comes "natchrel"—but tobacco chewing since he was 8.

DOG-ON-IT—The life of a dog around Cleveland, Ohio, anyway, seems to be one of heartbreak and eviction. Puddles, the pup, above seems to be in a pathetic plight—two kittens have cheated her out of house and home and are taking all the chow. Cracker, her mother, adopted the kittens when mama cat proved unmotherly, and now the pup has to take a back seat at feeding time.

EVICTED—Spot (a coon dog?) above, is also leading a dog's life. Recently a masked racoon named Rakky moved into Spot's private house built by his master, Nick Tucci. Spot, who doesn't look too happy, has been living upstairs ever since.

PORTRAIT IN THREAD—Maria Esther Carrera, 24-year-old artist of Chihuahua, Mexico (left), did this portrait of President Eisenhower. It is unique in that it was done on muslin on an old-fashioned treadle sewing machine. A copy of Norman Rockwell's painting of the President, the portrait was completed in two weeks. The artist and Mrs. Eisenhower display the portrait in the north portico of the White House.

THE EASTER BIRD

Hal Boyle Says:

No 'Earthshine' on Moon; It's as Dry as the WCTU

NEW YORK (U)—It may be old stuff to you, but nobody ever told me before that—

In this one world of ours there are still more than 1,000 separate languages or dialects. So no wonder it's hard to tell what the other fellow is trying to say.

The number of blind people in the United States has risen from 225,000 in 1948 to more than 308,000. And two-thirds of them are elderly. A lady named Mrs. Rita Schaible, in the General Electric plant at Schenectady, turns out mirrors so tiny it takes half a dozen to cover the head of a pin. They are used in scientific laboratory work. Guess what her hobby is? Fine sewing.

Lovers who are moonstruck on a summer night would be ever more dazzled if they were actually on the moon looking down at the earth. For the earth would look 80 times as bright to them as the moon does to us here. No, Wilbur, they don't peddle cheap bottled earthshine on the moon. The moon is as dry as the WCTU.

The Pilgrims were the first group to practice communism in America. They agreed that all crops belonged to the colony as a whole, not to the individuals who planted them. The result was hunger. In 1623 they changed systems, let each individual grow his own corn, trade or sell his surplus. And just look how the country has grown. When the Pilgrims gave up communism, nobody lost out but the Indians.

If you are looking for a wedding anniversary present for your wife, an English firm is offering fine hairbrushes at $650 each, guaranteed to last a lifetime—yours or hers. It isn't the satinwood backing or 22-carat gold screws that make such a brush so costly. It's the bristles. They come from wild boars in the Siberian tundra, and the boars must be at least 10 years old. As Siberians get hungry and eat most boars before they even are big enough to run very fast, the bristles are so scarce that—well, why not buy your wife a pocket comb anyway? It is estimated an American family with a $300 a month income spends about $1,000 a year for food. Back in 1900 housewives baked 95 per cent of the nation's bread, now they bake only 5 per cent. But don't jeer at mother; how can she bake bread when she's busy repairing the vacuum cleaner?

A resort owner estimates that 1 of every 20 girls vacationing in the Catskills will meet and fall in love with a man she will eventually marry. But couldn't a girl do better than that by taking a cruise on a Navy submarine?

For some reason, the biggest sales of retail jewelry are made in the fall of the year. Now wouldn't you have guessed June? The average house in America is 29 years old, proving that the ordinary home really does outwear the mortgage on it.

The first modern high class hotel in America was the Tremont House in Boston, opened in 1829. It was the first to have a lobby—and the first to have clerks who did not also have to act as bartenders. The old Everett Hotel here was the first to put in electric lights, back in 1882. But no hotel will claim the honor of being the first to originate the idea of charging $10 for a $2 room.

Reibel's Play Sunday Gets Rookie Out of 'Doghouse'

Hutch Nearly Set on Starting Lineup

Still Uncertain on Left Fielder, Opening Hurler

Rookie Kaline, Veteran Bob Nieman Battling for Position

COLUMBIA, S. C. (U)—With opening day only a week away, manager Fred Hutchinson of the Detroit Tigers today seemed set with his starting lineup except for two positions — left field and pitcher.

As the Tigers wind their way north, Hutchinson must decide whether to go with veteran Bob Nieman or rookie Al Kaline as his left fielder, and he must choose an opening-day pitcher from a staff which looked anything but sensational in the sunny southland.

At the moment, Billy Hoelt and Steve Gromek have the inside track on the choice assignment.

These were Hutchinson's main problems as the Tigers met the Philadelphia Phillies in this Carolina city.

The rest of the Tiger lineup should read as follows:

1B—Walt Dropo
2B—Frank Bolling
SS—Harvey Kuenn
3B—Ray Boone
RF—Jim Delsing
CF—Bill Tuttle
C—Matt Batts

It is almost a necessity for the Tigers to get away to a decent start. Their attendance has been lagging the last two years, and another bad start could be disastrous. That is why Hutchinson is carefully picking his opening-day lineup.

In left field it's a matter of Nieman's experience but slow-footedness against Kaline's inexperience and outstanding defensive ability. Nieman has shown he can hit a long ball, one of Detroit's most crying needs. Kaline, on the other hand, has surprised with his spring hitting power.

Gromek, who looked strong in the deep south, may get the opening day spot because of his experience. The 33-year-old right-hander has been Detroit's best pitcher this spring.

Tigers are grooming the younger Hoelt for great deeds, and this may be the year they push him into the No. 1 spot by giving him the opening-day job.

Ned Garver is a 3rd possibility. The curve-balling righthander always had uncanny success on opening day. But that was when he was with the St. Louis Browns. He pitched last year's opener for the Tigers — and lost 10-0.

Hutchinson still shakes his head at the memory of that dismal night in St. Louis.

Golden, Levine Winners of Indoor Tennis Titles

CHICAGO (U)—Grant Golden and Dorothy Levine made a Chicago sweep of Western Indoor Tennis singles championships Sunday.

Golden, National Clay Courts and defending champion, defeated Oscar Johnson of St. Louis in the final at the Broadway Armory, 6-2, 6-4, 6-3.

Andy Payton of Ann Arbor, Mich., and Stanley Drobac of East Lansing, Mich., won the men's doubles from a Chicago team, Charles Hare, one-time Davis Cup player and Olen Parks.

The Cleveland Indians didn't win the American League pennant in 1953 but six of their eight farm teams won flags in their respective leagues.

SIT-DOWN STRIKE—Bobby Bragan, colorful manager of the Hollywood Stars, goes on a sit-down strike to protest umpire's decision in 9th inning of an exhibition game with Los Angeles at Long Beach, Calif., Sunday. He was ejected from the game when he protested plate umpire Emmett Ashford's ruling that Angel outfielder Bob Usher was hit by a pitched ball. Here, Bragan carries his complaint to umpire Al Mutart.

Hawks Purchase Toronto Player

Leafs Send Bobby Hassard to Chicago for 'Over $20,000'

CHICAGO (UP)—The Chicago Black Hawks aren't waiting until the June draft to get new players for the 1954-55 National Hockey League season.

Hawks acquired Bobby Hassard, 25, from the Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday in an "over $20,000" straight cash purchase.

Bill Tobin, Chicago general manager, said he will comb the entire league for new talent in an attempt to bolster the last-place Hawks' roster.

Hassard, a center, was acquisition number one. The Toronto youngster was injured most of the season, appearing in only 26 games. But he scored 31 points in the 1952-53 season after coming up from Pittsburgh.

Tobin said the Hawks may be able to buy better players now instead of waiting until the NHL launches its draft in June.

Pontiac YMCA Prep Swimmers District Kings

Pontiac YMCA swimmers took their first places and four seconds in the district championships, prep division, held in the local pool Saturday afternoon.

Pontiac winners included Dennis Roberts in the 20-yard free style (12 seconds), John Friedly in diving, and the 80-yard free style relay team of Alex Maxim, Friedly, Michael Goodsell and Roberts.

Others qualifying for the state championships at Jenison Fieldhouse next week are Goodsell (3rd in 20-yard free style), Bruce Norvell and Maxim (2nd and 3rd in 20-yard breast stroke), Jim Verner (2nd in 20-yard back stroke) and Dick Richards (2nd in diving).

Pontiac's 60-yard medley relay team of Richards, Norvell and Don Maxim also took 2nd place and qualified for the state meet. Pontiac beat Saginaw to win the district title, 29-22.

Pontiac junior and intermediate teams were unopposed so qualified for the state meet automatically.

Led in Strikeouts

The strikeout champions of the American league in 1953 were the Cleveland Indians who whiffed 683 times, according to the official league statistics.

Davey-Dreyer Bout Heads Week's TV Boxing Card

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Chuck Davey, striving to regain a place in the welterweight divisions' top ten, takes on Gerry Dreyer, former British Empire 147-pound champion—from South Africa, at the Oakland, Calif., Civic Auditorium Wednesday night.

The ten rounder will be telecast by CBS, starting at 10 p. m., EST. Davey is a 2-1 favorite.

Friday night's radio-TV bout will be beamed out of New York's St. Nicholas Arena where lightweights Paolo Rosi of Italy and Eddie Compo of New Haven tangle in a ten rounder. Compo is the choice.

Jolting Joe Miceli, winner of four straight including three knockouts, is favored to beat Steve Marcello, Providence, R. I., at Boston Saturday night (ABC-TV, 9 p. m., EST).

Elimination Races Held

Fourth elimination races of the 4th roller skating period were held Saturday at Pontiac Rolladium. Winners included Dewayne Presson and Sharon Green in Class A, Lynn Johnson and Sandra Smith in Class B and Charles Cole and Vicki Littlefield in "C."

7th, faces Jimmy McCoy, Eureka, Calif., at San Jose, Calif., Tuesday night and middleweight Bobby Dykes, Miami, meets Joe Rindone, Boston, at Miami beach Tuesday night in other leading bouts.

Ex-Oklahoma Frosh Is Key Razorback

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (U)—Buddy Bob Benson, who quit the University of Oklahoma football team after his freshman year, is expected to be a key man for the Arkansas Razorbacks next fall.

The triple-threat tailback established himself as the fleetest Razorback in spring practice.

Benson, who sat out a period of ineligibility here last fall, says he switched schools because he prefers the single wing formation, which Arkansas uses, to Oklahoma's split T. His home is at DeQueen, Ark.

Fine Grid Record

Texas university has lost only 16 football games in the past 13 years and the records show that 10 of these were by a margin of less than one touchdown.

Finnerty Looks for 14th Win

DETROIT (UPL)—Bob Finnerty, a rising Cleveland welterweight, will bid for his 14th victory in 15 bouts tonight when he meets undefeated Duke Harris at the Motor City Arena.

Detroit fans previously have seen Finnerty knock out Frank August of Pontiac and Chuck Price. The young Irishman has won nine bouts by knockouts.

Undefeated in eight fights, Harris caught some attention when he fought top-ranking Henry Bronko to a draw. Harris sent Bronko to the floor in the opening round.

In addition to Finnerty-Harris eight rounder, a four-round preliminary pitting middleweight Larry Harvey of Detroit against Bobby Jackson of Cleveland and two five-round bouts round out the card. Fights will be televised.

3-Fold Problem Faces Daugherty, Staff Changed, 7 Vets Gone, Frosh Crop Poor

EAST LANSING (UP)—A three-fold problem will greet coach Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty when spring football practice opens at Michigan State College April 12.

Daugherty, who inherits MSC's Rose Bowl champions when head coach Clarence (Biggie) Munnn moves up as athletic director, face the 20-day practice session with a reshuffled coaching staff, the pickings from the weakest freshman team in years, and the loss of seven key veterans.

When the Spartans romped to a share of the Big Ten championship last season they had Munnn at the helm, Daugherty as line coach, Earle Edwards as end coach, Steve Sebo as backfield coach and Don Mason, Bob Devaney, Dan Devine and John Kobs as assistants.

Since then, Michigan State has been given this new look:

Daugherty, head coach; Mason, line coach; Devine, backfield coach; Devaney, end coach, and Everett J. (Sonny) Grandelius, William F. Yoeman, Burt Smith, and Kobs as assistants.

Michigan State's 40-man freshman squad of last year—compared to 70-man teams of previous years offers little to fill the shoes of graduated first stringers Tom Yewic, Don Dohoney, Even Stonac, Billy Wells, Larry Fowler, Jim Jebb and Jim Neal.

Spartans will be without the services of a topflight quarter back during spring practice. Best quarterback prospect, sophomore Earl Morral, is on the baseball squad along with John Matsock, 1953 reserve field general who is being groomed to fill Billy Wells' slot at right half.

Michigan State spring drills will terminate May 8 with the annual intra-squad game, climaxing a three-day coaching clinic headed by Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson and UCLA's Red Sanders.

'Golden Greek' to See Much Action for Bosox

By ED CORRIGAN
AP Sports Writer

Harry Agganis, the Golden Greek from Boston University, found himself in a peculiar spot a year ago. He was having trouble deciding whether to join the National Football League or take a try at professional baseball.

Even two days ago, he probably wasn't quite sure. But today he cast his lot with the Boston Red Sox.

Sox and with only one year of professional experience behind him, he is in line to be at least the part-time first baseman for Lou Boudreau's outfit.

"And," said Boudreau, "if he happens to go on a hot batting streak, he may play all the time. Harry has shown me enough now. He has made my team. He'll start at first base against all right-handers. I know he hit left-handers well at Louisville in the American Assn. last year, but they might be a little rough on him in the majors."

Right now, the 23-year-old Harry is hitting .323 against major league pitching on the grapefruit circuit. If he makes out, the Red Sox will have more than realized the $30,000 bonus they paid him in 1952.

Agganis won yesterday's ball game for the Red Sox when he drove in two runs in their 3-2 victory over Atlanta of the Southern Assn.

The amazing Bob Friend and his equally amazing Pittsburgh Pirates continued their rampage by shutting out the Philadelphia A's 2-0. Friend held the A's to four hits and now has tossed 19 straight scoreless innings.

With two out in the ninth inning, the New York Yankees scored seven runs and thereby saved themselves the ignominy of being beaten by Savannah of the Sally League. The final count was 11-8. Ed Lopat, who is scheduled to start the opener for the Yanks, was unimpressive for the first five innings.

The Philadelphia Phillies were set down with four hits by Jack Urban of the Birmingham Barons of the Southern Assn. 2-1.

The Milwaukee Braves whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers 18-14 in a three-hour contest. This one was all hitting and no pitching. Both starters, Bob Buhl of the Braves and Billy Loes of the Dodgers, were hit hard. Eddie Mathews, the major leagues' home run king last year, hit his fifth round-tripper in as many days.

The Chicago White Sox scored three times in the eighth inning to turn back the St. Louis Cardinals 8-5. The Cards got some solace by making a triple play in the first inning.

Wally Westlake hit a home run and a double to lead the Cleveland Indians to an 8-4 victory over the New York Giants. Bob Feller, permitting only three hits in five scoreless innings, was the winner—his first triumph of the spring. The Chicago Cubs thumped the Baltimore Orioles 10-2 with a seven run outburst in the seventh. The Cincinnati Redlegs downed the Washington Senators 10-4 with Wally Post, who couldn't make the team last year, leading the assault with a three-run homer, two doubles and a single.

Santee, Kansas Teammates Eye More Records

Jayhawk Ace Anchors Three Winning Units in Texas Relays

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UP)—Wonderful Wes Santee, the burr-haired Kansas flyer who was a sensation in the Texas Relays, will lead his record-shattering aggregation into the 19th Kansas Relays here April 17 with eyes on more new marks.

Kansas squad has its eyes especially on the distance medley, a race from from which the team withdrew in last weekend's Texas track and field meet to concentrate on other races.

Current National Collegiate and American mark is 9:56.3, held by Michigan's 1952 team.

Kansas squad of Frank Cindrich, Lloyd Koby, Art Dalsell and Santee has already run the event in 9:51.4 for a new American indoor record at the Michigan State Relays. Runners want to crack the outdoor standard at their home track meet.

At Austin, Tex., Saturday, Santee anchored three winning relay teams. His sprint medley squad came home in 3:02.2 to eclipse a world mark set by New York University in 1950, and Santee's anchor half-mile was unofficially clocked at 1:47.7. The Kansas 2-mile team set a new Texas mark of 7:34.1. The 3rd winning team failed to break a record, but it was Santee's great running that brought the squad home in front of a 4-mile time of 17:15.6.

The Ashland, Kan., flyer's mile in that race was clocked at 4:05.8, and his great finishing kick brought the crowd of 10,000 fans to its feet cheering. Santee was named the outstanding performer at the Texas event.

MUCC Urges Spring Bear Season in Two Counties

KALAMAZOO (UP)—The Michigan United Conservation Clubs has urged the state conservation commission to authorize a spring bear hunting season in Schoolcraft and Chippewa counties.

The MUCC adopted a resolution Sunday asking that the two counties be exempted from the commission's ban against spring and summer bear hunting in the Upper Peninsula.

Club members said various sportsmen's organizations had scheduled several events in anticipation of a bear season. They said it would be "inconvenient and costly" to cancel their programs.

Rep. Kenneth O. Trucks (R-Baldwin) told the group that if he is re-elected to the legislature he will work for a law prohibiting Sunday hunting in all southern Michigan counties. Thirteen counties already ban hunting on Sunday. Trucks is chairman of the house conservation committee.

Today's sketch shows Gibson apparently frozen as body weight rests on right foot in third step

Note fingers are on right (outside) of ball. Two subsequent sketches from action photos will show Gibson staying down for the slide to brace the left side.

Jones Risking High Ranking With 'Rookie'

4th-Rated Middleweight Meets Ex-Gloves Champ at Parkway

BROOKLYN (UP)—Ralph (Tiger) Jones, fourth-ranking contender for Bobo Olson's middleweight crown, risks that ranking tonight as a heavy favorite over Billy (Wildcat) McNeece of Central Islip, N. Y., in the featured 10-round bout at the Eastern Parkway Arena.

Only four weeks ago in the same ring, Jones scored a stirring knockout over Bobby Dykes of Miami.

McNeece, a former Golden Gloves champion, has been defeated only once in his brief professional career, but will be appearing in a main event bout for the first time.

McNeece is managed by shrewd Irving Cohen, pilot of former middleweight champion Rocky Graziano.

Jones, of Yonkers, N. Y., has had 41 pro fights, winning 35 of them—eight by knockouts. In addition to Dykes, he has beaten former NBA welterweight champion Johnny Bratton and Danny (Bang Bang) Womber.

On the current list of middleweight contenders, he is out-ranked only by Joey Giardello, Rocky Castellani, and Randy Turpin.

Stroh's Still Leader in ABC Pin Tourney

SEATTLE (UP)—The Stroh's team of Detroit maintained its lead in the open division today as the bowling balls rolled on in the American Bowling Congress tourney.

Stroh's score of 3,084 still dominated play Sunday, with Wisconsin Bridge and Iron Co. of Milwaukee running second at 2,984. King Louie Shirts of Chicago remained at third and E and B beer of Detroit at fourth.

The leaders—Singles—Tony Sparando, Rego Park, N. Y., 723; doubles—Harry Wheeler, John McGrew, Indianapolis, 1,307; all-events—Tony Lindemann, Detroit, 1,926.

'A Lot of Middleweight'

Writer Says Olson Would Be Hard to Beat in Any Period of Ring History

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW-YORK (UP)—After a week-end of quiet meditation, the only conclusion we've been able to come to is that Bobo Olson, the current 160-pound boxing champion, is a whole lot of middleweight and that it will be a long time before they ask another welterweight to try to whip him.

The man from Honolulu would have been a hard one to take in any period of boxing's history, including the bare-knuckle days, in which he would have revealed. There undoubtedly have been periods in which he would not have held the title, but not one in which he would not have been a highly respected contender.

It was a grievous mistake to have picked Kid Gavilan to beat him, especially since the odds in Olson's favor never wavered from the day the match was made. It was a case of seeing the Cuban in the mind's eye slicing up men of his own weight and not quite appreciating what he was running into in Olson.

There still is a feeling of disappointment that Gavilan did not until the final round open up with the brilliant two-fisted flurries for which he has been noted. It would at least have made for a more exciting fight. But there also is a sneaking feeling that he might have been stopped if he had chosen sooner to exchange with the tattooed boy.

It was not, as a matter of fact, until Gavilan put on his final desperate rally that the crowd in the Chicago Stadium and the great television audience had a chance to see Olson at his best. One felt that was what the more rugged champion had been waiting for all along. Faced with everything the Cuban could throw, he refused to cover up or accept a clinch and instead stood squarely and threw in those murderous short blows that must have felt like rocks to Gavilan.

That must be the explanation of why Gavilan and his advisers chose to try to steal the title with a left hand alone. They had a strong suspicion what would happen if the Hawk attempted to arch his customary rights to Olson's head. His body, including those jolly extra pounds about his middle, would never have survived 15 rounds of the punishment it would have been asked to absorb.

Frost, Chemical Reaction Believed Fatal to Deer

LANSING (UP)—Conservation department game biologists have come up with a plausible sounding theory to explain the mysterious deaths of about 40 deer last fall in Kalkaska, Missaukee, Otsego and Ogemaw Counties.

The deer, probably only a small percentage of the total which succumbed to the strange ailment, were found dead in the woods without a mark on them.

Biologists have been busy with scalpels and microscopes, and they have come up with this one certainty—all the dead deer had enlarged arteries and they had died when an artery ruptured and produced an internal hemorrhage.

Without being able to prove it, the biologists theorize that frost was the chief culprit.

Frost combined with exactly the right temperature and development stage of plants to set up a short-lived chemical reaction in plants that the deer were feeding on.

Deer ate the fleetingly poisonous plants at just the right time, and the acid caused their blood vessels to swell out of all proportion.

Then these deer needed only a slight bump against a tree branch, a stump or perhaps another deer to rupture the blood vessel.

Internal bleeding quickly killed them off.

Japan's Parliament Asks U. N. Control of A-Power

TOKYO (UP)—Japan's upper house today unanimously passed a resolution appealing to the United Nations to establish "effective international control over atomic energy."

The lower house passed a similar resolution Thursday.

The upper house resolution also asked for "a ban on atomic weapons tests." Twenty-three Japanese fishermen were showered with radioactive ash in the U. S. hydrogen test blast March 1 in the Pacific.

CHOSEN—Samuel P. Sears, a trial lawyer from Boston, Mass., will direct the investigation into Sen. Joseph McCarthy's dispute with the Army. He is selecting his staff, which will hold public hearings concerning the controversy.

Mixture Curbs Breast Cancers

X-Rays and Hormones Wipe Out All Traces in 9 Out of 12 Women

LOS ANGELES (INS)—A radically new mixture of hormones and X-rays described today has wiped out all traces of cancer in nine of the first 12 women treated for dangerous breast tumors.

The same new treatment—tried on 58 women apparently doomed by hopelessly advanced, wild-spreading breast cancers—has kept 31 alive, active and fairly happy for periods ranging up to eight years.

Although these patients were so cancer-riddled that no further treatment seemed possible, at least three now have no sign of malignancy, seven to eight years later.

Four Los Angeles scientists described these results today in a first report to science writers touring research centers under sponsorship of the American Cancer Society.

The new hormone-and-radiation mixture, discovered by accident, cannot in any sense be called a cure since in most advanced cases it brings better palliation and control of cancer rather than complete eradication.

Drs. Ian McDonald, Pierre Haig, Lewis W. Guise and Sidney Zuckerman of Los Angeles County Hospital and the University of Southern California also emphasized that no certain conclusions can be drawn—yet—from the results in the nine patients with less advanced breast cancers.

The new treatment is unusual because it employs just a touch of X-rays—one low-power exposure a year on the average—instead of the massive doses usually employed.

Michigan Game Bag Is High Each Year

LANSING (UP)—Enough meat is taken by hunters in Michigan in each year to provide food for an estimated 28,500 average sized families for a year, according to state conservation officials.

The officials said about 10,000 tons of meat are taken by Michigan hunters annually.

In addition, enough furs are taken from muskrat, beaver and mink to make an estimated 14,600 fur coats. They said the total value of the meat and hides would be about $15,800,000.

That would make Michigan's wildlife crop almost equal to the value of the state's sugar beet, rye, barley and soybean crops.

Ford Chauffeur Dies

DETROIT (UP)—Arthur Fausser, 60, died Sunday of a heart attack. He was the long-time chauffeur to Mrs. Edsel Ford and her late husband. Stricken at the Edsen Ford estate in Grosse Pointe Shores, Fausser died after admittance to Henry Ford Hospital.

Since the end of World War II, U. S. state and local jobholders have increased about 1 1/2 million.

Mr. DA Finds God Through Jane Russell

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—David Brian, whose Mr. District Attorney TV show makes its debut in 95 cities this week, told today how finding God has helped his life and career.

And how Jane Russell helped him in his quest.

Brian's acting fortunes have never been better. He recently did two top pictures and the Mr. D.A. series offers him his biggest opportunity as a money maker. But a couple of years ago, his career was in the doldrums.

"I was under contract to Warner," he recalls, "and I was miserable. They were putting me into one role after another as an unmitigated heel. I had to play guys with no redeeming features at all, characters that were merely a convenience to move the plot along. I took a suspension or two and finally got my release."

"I was worried about my future. That was something I had never done before. When I was acting on the stage in New York, I figured the future would take care of itself. I would go happily along for a nine-month run in a play. Then, when the two-week closing notice was posted, I'd start saving my money. But it seems that the higher you go up the ladder, the more you worry."

"I began to drink more than I should. Oh, I was never a problem drinker. In New York, I would never think of going into a bar alone for a drink. It was always a social thing with me. But as I got more concerned about my career, I drank more and more, mostly as a nervous reaction."

He freely admits that Jane Russell is responsible for the change in his life.

"I scarcely knew her," he told me, "but she knew all about me. She's amazing that way. She finds out just who is ready and needs to hear the word of the Lord. She asked me if I would like to attend a meeting of the Hollywood Christian Group."

"At first I put her off. 'Finally, my wife (actress Adrienne Booth) and I attended a meeting. I was hooked. I found what I was seeking for—peace of mind. It was a revelation.'

Hospital Refuses to Cut Welfare Patients Rate

MT. PLEASANT (UP)—The Central Michigan Community Hospital told Isabella County welfare commissioners that it would not lower its $10 daily rates for welfare patients.

The commission said recently that it would not pay bills over $8 a day. The statement was part of an economy drive due to an increase in welfare cases.

Traffic Control Gadget Is Colorful

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UP)—Milwaukee claims the world's biggest "pinball machine"—a traffic control with 60 lights, bells and arrows on 11 poles. It operates on the new Juneau Avenue bridge.

Flashes of red, green and yellow lights and arrows and a cacophony of bells tell motorists what to do when:

- (1) The bridge is opened to permit the passage of boats on the Milwaukee River.
 - (2) Brewery trucks leave their platforms to enter the street.
 - (3) Brewery trains pass over the crossing's five tracks.
 - (4) The bridge opens for boats, and trains move on any of the crossings simultaneously.
- When trains, boats and trucks all pass at once, the contraption goes off like a pinball machine on the jackpot number.

It has been estimated that there are about 10 billion tons of gold contained in the sea waters of the world.

Grain Trading Slows to Walk

CHICAGO (AP)—After an early flurry in grain trading, the pace slowed to a walk on the board of trade today. Prices showed a mixture of ups and downs as compared with Friday's closing.

Scanty moisture reports from the southwestern winter wheat belt gave a little early strength to that market, but failure of predicted export business to materialize removed some buying incentive.

Corn fell off a little under the influence of a good weekend run of 340 cars of cash corn offered by the CCC at Baltimore was a further depressant.

Prices near the end of the first hour were on wheat 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, May $2.20, corn was 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, May $1.53; oats were unchanged to 1/4 lower, May 75c, rye was 1 cent lower to 1/4 higher, May $1.08; soybeans were 2 cents higher to 2 1/2 lower, May $3.61 and soybean meal was 2 to 4 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $19.32.

Dog Takes 80-Mile Trip to Return to Masters

ST. LOUIS — The Joseph Pott family gave their pet mongrel away two months ago but Red wasn't satisfied. He broke the chain, attached to his collar on a farm near Flat River, Mo., and made the 80-mile trip to St. Louis. The Potts say he's home to stay.

A fathead is also a cyprinoid fish (a kind of carp) that lives in Mississippi valley streams.

22-Year Wait Pays Off for Oklahoma Mechanic

SHATTUCK, Okla. — Twenty-two years ago a man promised Walter E. Brown, "If I ever get the money I will send it to you." The man owed Brown $75 for gasoline and automobile repair bills. Brown received a letter last week from the man. It contained $75. He didn't recall his name or how much was owed.

An average adult breathes about 425 cubic feet of air in 24 hours.

Russians Question Japs About U. S. Installations

TOKYO — Twelve Japanese fishermen said today their Russian captors had questioned them for 13 days about American forces stationed on the northernmost Japanese main island of Hokkaido. They were released last night. The crews of two fishing boats were captured by Soviet patrol ships March 23 off Russian-occupied Kunashiri Island. Their boats were given back to them when they were freed.

To Wed Movie Actor

BOSTON — Miss Patricia Kennedy, 28, daughter of former Ambassador and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, will be married to movie actor Peter Lawford, 31, on April 24 in New York City.
