United Nations Seeking to Avert Mideast Blowup

U.S. Urges Sending U.N. Troops Into Gaza as Israel, Egypt Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Apprehensive after Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold's failure to get Israeli troops out of Egypt, U.N. diplomats cast about today for some way to avert a new Middle East explosion.

Forewarned that the report from Hammarskjold would spell out Israel's refusal to quit the critical Gaza and Aqaba Gulf areas without guarantees against Egyptian retaliation, Western diplomats studied a plan to empower the secretary general to deploy the U.N. force between Israel and Egypt.

The United States was reported to have advised Hammarskjold to send the emergency force into the Gaza Strip and the Sharm el Sheikh area until some more stable arrangement can be worked out.

The British also feel Hammarskjold has that authority.

Any move to station the U.N. forces in the two areas for any length of time appeared certain to run into furious opposition from Egypt, her Arab allies and probably the Soviet bloc.

Egyptian spokesmen have consistently maintained that the U.N. force must leave Egypt as soon as all invasion forces are out. Egyptian President Nasser was quoted as telling a group of Communist Chinese newsmen that any attempt by the Western Powers to "internationalize" Gaza and Egypt's Gulf of Aqaba coast "would lead to new trouble."

Hammarskjold has been trying for the past week to persuade Israel to get all her troops out of Egypt

Say Fluoridation Would Decrease Costliest Disease

LANSING (AP) — Michigan residents pay out some 31 million dollars a year for dental care made necessary by tooth decay, making it the most expensive of all diseases, the State Health Department reported today.

Dental decay also is the state's most widespread disease, affecting 95 per cent of the population, the department said.

Decay may be largely controlled among children, the department added, if they drink fluoridated water from birth and follow other rules of dental hygiene.

Statistics show half of all children have at least one decayed tooth when they reach their second birthday, the report continued. At the age of 17, the average youngster has seven decayed teeth and by the time he is 21 he has lost five teeth because of decay, the department said.

For Only the Bold: Snow, Cloudy, Cold

The outlook for tomorrow night is partly cloudy and cold with a low near zero.

Extensive slippery sections in Pontiac were reported by the State Highway Department this morning.

Preceding 8 a.m. the lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac was 17.

At 2 p. m. the mercury registered 23.

3 Still Missing After Smashup of AF Bombers

Another 2-Plane Crash Kills 3 Officers Near Texas Air Base

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Three survivors in "good condition" were picked up today after the collision and crash of two U.S. Air Force Stratojet bombers which carried six men.

They were identified by a Homestead Air Force Base spokesman as Maj. James McGree McFarland Jr., 37, of Watsontown, Pa.; Maj. Winfred E. Lynn, 33, of Paducah, Ky.; and Lt. James Edward Rose Jr., 28, of Dallas, Tex.

Those unaccounted for were Capt. James H. Parker of Rock Hill, S. C.; Lt. Earl S. Chrisawn Jr., Sumter, S. C.; and Maj. W. E. Norris of Lansing, Mich.

McFarland and Lynn were commanders of the two intercontinental bombers which crashed last night off Cuba's southwest coast. Rose was co-pilot in McFarland's plane.

Maj. Ralph Bryant, spokesman for the Homestead AFB, said the three men were being taken to a hospital as yet undesignated.

The U. S. Coast Guard sighted the three men on a life raft early today and an Air Force amphibian picked them up.

The Cuban navy reported finding the wreckage of one plane. It was located four miles from the little town of Santa Barbara, on the northwest side of the Isle of Pines. Residents of the town reported seeing parachutes after the two planes fell.

Surface craft of the Cuban navy were participating in search near the town.

Maj. James G. Cary and Capt. John N. Latham, aboard another plane in the mass refueling exercise, radioed last night they had seen what appeared to be a collision.

They told Homestead AFB interrogators later they saw "a ball of fire with wreckage separating

Mother to Be Buried Monday

Burned Child Battles for Life

A four-year-old child fights for her life today in a Detroit hospital as preparations are being made for her mother's burial.

Mrs. Sally Wilson, 24, of 4124 West Highland Rd., Highland Township, burned to death yesterday in a fire at her home which also injured her husband, four children and her father-in-law.

Christina, 4, is in "extremely critical" condition, according to Ford Hospital authorities. The little girl suffered severe burns over 45 per cent of her body.

"Her condition is so bad," a spokesman said this morning,

CHRISTINA WILSON

"that the skin grafting process cannot yet be started."

★ ★ ★

John Wilson, 26, suffered burns and deep gashes in his shoulder and right wrist in the pre-dawn hours yesterday as he entered his flaming home twice through broken windows to rescue his children.

WIFE TRAPPED

Flames, pushed by strong winds, swept the six-room wooden frame structure in minutes. Wilson's third attempt to enter the building to reach his wife, trapped in another bedroom, was foiled by flames.

Mrs. Wilson, expecting another child, was unable to climb out of the high windows of her bedroom. Firemen chopped down a wall to reach her and found her body on a bed.

Wilson, an auto dealer; his father, Webb, 73, who lived in a trailer behind the home, and three other children, Robin, 1, Dana Sue, 5, and John Jr., 2, are all in "satisfactory condition" at Pontiac General Hospital.

Fire officials believe an oil heater outside Mrs. Wilson's bedroom door exploded, spraying flaming oil throughout a portion of the house.

Funeral services for Mrs. Wilson will be held 1:30 Monday at the West Highland Baptist Church. The body may be viewed at the Richardson-Bird Funeral Home in Milford. Burial will be in West Highland Cemetery.

FBI Nabs Three Accused of Being in Red Spy Ring

NEW YORK (AP)—The FBI today cracked down on another alleged Russian spy ring, arresting a woman and two men. The agency hinted the roundup may involve others—including "Soviet officials."

Those taken into custody were identified as:

Jack Soble, 53, a native of Lithuania, and his wife, Myra, 52. Both are naturalized citizens.

Jacob Albam, 64, Lithauanian-born foreman of a Brooklyn tea and spice company, who entered the country in 1947 on a visitor's visa, married an American woman and has been seeking citizenship.

The three were taken to FBI headquarters here shortly before 8 a.m., the men in handcuffs.

FBI agents carried a quantity of paper boxes, contents of which were not disclosed, and a quantity of material described only as "papers."

Also brought in was a metal box, about a foot square and four inches high.

★ ★ ★

FBI men said the three would be arraigned later today.

The arrests were first disclosed in Washington by FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover.

SUPERVISED AGENTS

The FBI announcement said Soble is a native of Lithuania who entered the United States in 1941 on a visa issued in Kobe, Japan, and became a naturalized citizen, in 1947.

The FBI said Soble has long been involved in Soviet intelligence activity and at one time had under his supervision other Soviet agents in the United States.

★ ★ ★

Among those working under Sobel's direction, the FBI said, was Albam, also a native of Lithuania, who entered the United States originally in 1947 and who left a month after his marriage in 1948 to a citizen of the United States, thus facilitating his re-entrance to the country.

His 1951 application for citizenship has not been granted.

In addition to espionage conspiracy charges, Hoover said, the Sobles and Albam also were charged with conspiring to act as agents of the Soviet government without notification to the secretary of state.

★ ★ ★

The FBI said this is the first espionage conspiracy case developed since that of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg who were executed in New York on June 19, 1953.

35 Others Hurt, Missing

Plant Blaze Kills 4 Women, 1 Man

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Fire flashing through an old four-story loft building an hour before quitting time yesterday brought panic and death.

It was panic more than anything else, fire officials said, that killed those who failed to escape the inferno.

The building contained 112 workers.

Five are known dead, 4 are missing and believed dead; and 31 were injured, 9 critically.

The bodies of three women were removed from a fire escape while the blaze raged. A fourth died at a hospital.

Firemen entering the ruins today recovered the body of Joseph Nastri, proprietor of one of the dress factories in the building.

Occupants of the building made frantic efforts to flee the fire.

Police Question Youths on Fire

Damage Might Reach $40,000, Say Officials; All Rooms Vandalized

Pontiac State Police questioned and released two teenagers yesterday, and continued today to probe the possibility of arson in the blaze which destroyed the five-room frame wing of the Auburn Heights School, 260 Squirrel Rd. yesterday morning.

★ ★ ★

Damage has been estimated at between $25,000 and $40,000 by school officials, according to Detective Charles Leaf.

Leaf said two Avon Township juveniles had been questioned and cleared of suspicion, but that several other juveniles would be checked.

Although the charge of arson has been laid to the fire in the basement of the adjoining brick school building which was ransacked and vandalized, investigafors have not yet determined if the fire in the frame wing was set.

Destroyed in the pre-dawn blaze were three classrooms, a newly-equipped kitchen and a cafeteria.

★ ★ ★

Some 100 fifth and sixth graders housed in the three classrooms are on temporary vacation, and 500 others taught in the eight-room brick structure will be back at the books Monday.

Supt. of Avondale Schools Raymond Baker said a meeting would be held today to determine where to teach the 100 displaced students. He has received several offers of space, he added.

Leaf theorized the vandals might have been looking for money collected from a recent March of Dimes campaign in the school.

Every room and teacher's desk was ransacked, although nothing has been reported missing.

The fire that was set in the basement failed to spread because of the cement walls, ceiling and floor. It had been started in a coat rack housing raincoats used by safety patrol boys.

Agency Head Tells Editors

Newspapers at Peak in Public Confidence

EAST LANSING—Newspapers, despite the popularity of television and the rebirth of radio are at a record peak of public appreciation and loyalty, according to Ernest A. Jones, president of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc.

Jones, president of the national advertising agency, spoke to members of the Michigan Press Association, opening their eighty-ninth annual convention at Michigan State University.

Quoting studies of newspaper reading, Jones said that the printed word appears to have a special authority lacking in other forms of communication.

"The fact that a newspaper is printed enhances all its social and moral functions for its audience, the researchers find," Jones reported. "This accounts for the widespread reliance people place upon it.

"This authority, the researchers say, is by no means confined to news or editorial columns.

It spreads to all areas of the paper, the feature page, the sports and society pages and to the advertisements."

★ ★ ★

Television and radio, Jones believes, should be given credit for stimulating and expanding the newspaper business through whetting the appetites of viewers and listeners for detailed information.

"Every available measurement shows that appreciation of and loyalty to the daily newspapers are at record highs," he told the publishers.

Jones continued: "To my mind—and I believe the feeling is shared by many in the advertising business — television, radio and the newspapers complement each other. As one advances all advance. I see no quarrel between them because the capacity of the public for entertainment and information apparently is limitless and bounded only by the hours required for sleep."

GOLDEN ERA AHEAD

By 1970 Jones estimates the population of the United States will exceed two hundred million and present day college enrollment will have tripled.

"We are on the threshold of the Golden Era of Communication," he said. "Never before will there have been such a large and intellectually inquisitive audience. And never before will the rewards for serving it have been so great."

Diplomas went to 130 Pontiac High School seniors in midwinter commencement exercises at PHS last night.

★ ★ ★

Hundred of parents and friends turned out to hear commencement speaker, Dr. Henry H. Crane, pastor of Central Methodist Church in Detroit urge the graduates to "go on" regardless of what they encountered in the life ahead.

Awarding of the diplomas was handled by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer. Francis W. Staley, principal of Pontiac High, presented the class and gave special awards.

"The unpardonable sin," Dr. Crane said, "is quitting. God can't guide a motionless ship. Unless you're going somewhere, He can't help you.

'NONE IS ALONE'

"Nothing is really worth while unless it's difficult to achieve," he counseled, and his final words urged "togetherness". "No matter how much you want to live your own life, it's impossible. Everything we do affects those who love us."

Also on the program was Class President James Cornforth who thanked the schools and parents for their years of contribution to this commencement; Dr. Richard C. Stuckmeyer, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, who gave the invocation; and Louis H. Schimmel, president of the Pontiac Board of Education, who presided over the program.

The Pontiac High School band under the direction of Dale C. Harris provided music.

Dulles Asked for Guarantee

Morse Told That U.S. 'Won't Go It Alone' in Any Mideast Jam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles, urging senators to back the administration's Middle East resolution, bumped into a demand today for assurance Britain and France would support the United States in event of hostilities.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Morse (D-Ore) told Dulles he would want an amendment providing "some guarantees American boys don't go over there alone" to protect an oil supply vital to Britain and France.

Dulles said he questioned the wisdom of seeking British and French commitments in connection with the resolution, but told Morse that "we don't propose to go it alone."

"I hope and believe," Dulles added, "if there were an armed attack there would be action by the General Assembly of the United Nations that would result in other nations responding."

Dulles was again before a joint hearing by the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees. The secretary has encountered vigorous criticism there, contrasting sharply with the smoother sailing the resolution had in the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

★ ★ ★

The House group approved last night, without major change, the requested resolution to give President Eisenhower special military-economic powers to deal with the situation in the Middle East.

Leaders expect to call the resolution up in the House next Tuesday and predict its passage by Friday.

★ ★ ★

Prospects as to when the Senate may act are cloudy. Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) told reporters he expected the hearings by the two senate committees would continue "at least another two weeks."

California Solon Would Let Student Quit at 14

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Assemblyman Carlos Bee would permit a child to leave school at 14, or when he has finished the 8th grade.

Bee, a high school teacher, said on introducing the bill:

"The public schools should not be a baby-sitting agency for those students who are forced to go to school and are not willing to settle down."

Present law requires students to remain in school until they are 18 or graduate from high school.

Hold Singer for Trial in Gillespie Killing

DETROIT (AP)—Philip J. Singer, 38, Detroit warehouse worker, has been ordered held for first degree murder trial in the sex-slaying of Joann Gillespie.

The thin-faced one-time neighbor of the 18-year-old Detroit co-ed was bound over after examination yesterday before Recorder's (Criminal) Court Judge John A. Ricca.

"After listening to the evidence presented, I have no alternative but to hold him (Singer) for trial," Judge Ricca declared.

Defense attorney G. Leslie Field indicated Singer would plead he was "tricked, brain-washed and hypnotized" into signing a statement in the girl's slaying.

Field argued yesterday that Singer had signed the statement under duress. Judge Ricca ruled the statement was not made under duress.

Bill Would Junk Turnpike Setup

Legislators Say State Needs Cash; No Roads Ever Built

LANSING (AP)—A group of legislators today submitted a bill to junk Michigan's Turnpike Authority.

Eight Republicans and four Democrats introduced the bill which would repeal the 1953 act setting up the authority and transfer all its funds to the State Highway Department's share of the motor vehicle highway fund.

Rep. George A. Gillespie (R-Gaines) headed the group of 12 representatives sponsoring the measure.

"We feel there is no longer a need for the authority," Gillespie said. "The state needs the money and we might as well get it back now."

The Turnpike Authority was created to build turnpike projects in the state but has never built a single mile of highway.

George N. Higgins, former Republican senator from Ferndale, has headed the turnpike authority which was given an original grant of $500,000 by the legislature to start surveying toll road possibilities.

The Legislature later supplemented this with another grant of $150,000.

In Ferndale, Higgins said, "it's going to take a lot more than Gillespie's bill to kill the Turnpike Authority. We're coming up with a plan to build a north-south road and have money left over to build an east-west road."

Higgins added, "Gillespie has been in Charlie Ziegler's corner a long time. He doesn't worry about roads, doesn't know about roads, doesn't realize our problems."

Hillings to Address County Lincoln Club

Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club officers feel their speaker at next month's annual banquet is "one of Washington's leading young congressmen."

He is Patrick J. Hillings (R-Calif) scheduled to speak at Northwood Inn, Berkley on Feb. 11, the eve of Abraham Lincoln's birthday anniversary.

Hillings' appearance, president George F. Taylor predicted, will draw a capacity crowd of 500.

Once the youngest member of Congress, Hillings is known for his investigations of Communism here and in Europe. He represents Vice President Richard Nixon's old district, and was on Nixon's staff during the 1952 campaign.

He personally has visited Soviet Russia and five East European satellite nations, meeting Red officials and observing life behind the Iron Curtain.

★ ★ ★

As a subcommittee chairman, Hillings studied Communist penetration in the Western Hemisphere, making two trips to Latin America and holding hearings in Los Angeles and Washington.

Now serving his fourth term, Hillings was 27 when first elected. His total vote in the 1954 election was the largest ever received by any California congressional candidate with major party opposition.

Dondero Expects Non-Stop Traffic Atlantic to Pacific

George Dondero, who a few months ago voluntarily retired after serving 24 years in Congress as the eighteenth district's representative, confided to Pontiac Rotarians yesterday that he was "just a little tired, and a little lonesome."

Dondero said that his twelve terms in Congress were exciting ones. Things are a little quieter now, he admitted.

"I shall always in spirit be down in the capitol of the United States," said Dondero. "But because I am not in Washington does not mean that my years of service to you are over. I hope that I can still be of value to you people of this fine county that have supported me through the years."

He spoke of two great projects in which he played a major role in the House of Representatives; the legislation of the St. Lawrence Seaway and the 51-and-a-half billion dollar road bill.

Concerning the road bill, Dondero pointed toward the future:

"We are killing better than four people an hour in the nation daily. There are over 62 million cars on our streets and we need bigger and better roads to stop the slaughter on our highways. We hope to cut down at least 10 per cent of the deaths with the completion of the new roads built by the legislation of the new bill.

"We hope to see a non-stop road from the Atlantic coast to the Pacific coast. Don't be surprised if that comes within the next few years."

BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—A six-jet B47 plane flew from March Air Force Base, Calif., to Hanscom Air Force Base here today in slightly under four hours.

The craft left California at 5:17 a.m. (EST), and was over the field here at 9:13 a.m. It landed at 9:20 a.m.

The purpose of the flight was scientific study of the jet stream. The plane was piloted by Maj. Mont Smith of Arlington, Mass.

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today he believes Russian troops just inside the Communist perimeter already are equipped with nuclear weapons.

The West German government leader was replying to a question at his semimonthly news conference about Moscow's recent warning to the United States against equipping foreign bases with atomic-armed missiles.

RAHWAY, N. J. (AP)—A freight train and four cars of a passenger train were derailed in two separate wrecks a half mile apart here today.

No one was injured in either mishap but five of the six tracks of the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad were tied up.

GRAYLING (AP) — Fire that threatened to spread to other buildings in downtown Grayling today destroyed Dawson's Store, a combination dairy bar and appliance shop.

Firemen were able to prevent the flames from jumping to surrounding buildings. The fire was discovered about 2:10 a.m. but heavy smoke prevented firefighters from entering the building for an hour and a half.

Skid Row Man in Grimes Case

Bedwill Fails Lie Test; Denies Taking Sisters Out on Fatal Night

CHICAGO (AP)—The ever widening investigation of the murder of the Grimes sisters appeared centered today on further questioning of a young skid row dishwasher.

Sheriff Joseph Lohman said Bennie Bedwill, 21, has been identified by five persons as being in the company of the teen-age sisters in their disappearance Dec. 28. The nude, frozen bodies of Barbara Grimes, 15, and her 13-year-old sister Patricia were found Tuesday in a ditch along a road in suburban Willow Springs.

★ ★ ★

Lohman said Bedwill, whom he described as illiterate, was given lie detector tests and questioned for hours yesterday in connection with the slayings.

"He is definitely not telling the truth," Lohman told reporters. "He lied on so many points I can't enumerate them. He contradicts himself repeatedly."

The sheriff said Bedwill, formerly of Paris, Tenn., was held for further questioning today.

and falling." They said they surmised two aircraft had crashed into each other.

Unofficial reports said sizable fires were seen flaring up around an unnamed island off Isle of Pines.

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP) — Three Air Force officers were killed last night when two T33 jet trainers collided at 1,200 feet about five miles from Webb Air Force Base here.

Killed were: Lt. Kenneth A. Augason, 24, Salt Lake City, Utah; Lt. Carlton R. Virden, 24, Robstown, Tex.; and Lt. William H. Charbonneau III, 23, Yakima, Wash.

Charbonneau was flying alone and Virden was the pilot of the other plane.

Four Women Killed in Factory Fire blazing, piled from the building onto fire escapes.

One fire escape, supposed to lower to the ground, jammed, trapping the women against the building.

Raymond Washington, 47, who slid down a drain pipe from the third floor, said, "I looked up, and there was this fire escape, jammed.

"I felt awfully helpless. I felt I ought to do something, but I just couldn't do anything. There was nothing I could do." A few minutes later someone knocked out a pin with a hammer and the fire escape came down.

★ ★ ★

Fireman James Curry, one of the first up the fire escape, said five women jammed up on its fourth-floor landing.

FLAMES EVERYWHERE

"Their clothing was on fire and they were screaming," he said. "Their legs were caught between the steps of the fire escape and we had to pull them apart. I could hardly pull them apart."

"The flames were everywhere, coming out of doors and windows."

Firemen got three down. The other two burned on the fire escape.

The sprawling, 70-year-old loft building, near the harbor on the East Side, housed six separate shops. Two machine shops occupied the first floor, and the other three floors housed dress shops and a house slipper maker.

★ ★ ★

Dead were an 18-year-old bride of three months, Mrs. Angelina Di Rienzo; Mrs. Jessie Mongillo, 42, mother of a 15-year-old child; Miss Alma Bradley, 46, and Miss Grace Pitman, 42.

Three hours after the fire started it was still blazing out of control. A huge section of wall collapsed, leaving a wedge-shaped hole two stories deep which exposed the opposite wall.

No one knew how the fire started.

Walter Myjak one of the owners of a first-floor metal shop, said he heard a rumbling and opened the door of the elevator shaft.

"Red fire burst out at me," he said.

★ ★ ★

He tried to call the Fire Department but the phone was dead. He ran upstairs and kicked open a door to a dress-making shop.

He said he saw women jammed against an emergency door. They pounded frantically on the door, but in their panic forgot a lever had to be pushed to release the lock.

Fire Marshal Eugene Mulligan said "panic as much as anything else" accounted for the deaths.

The Day in Birmingham

Authority Warns Public on 'World's Fast Pace'

BIRMINGHAM—"Many of you face a future of from two to twenty years of widowhood," Dr. Robert Collier Page, noted authority on industrial medicine, told women of Thursday's and today's Town Hall audiences, "because of today's terrific pace."

He sketched the seven "health" phases of a person, and related them to the "health" phase.

"The able, ambitious go-getter in today's competitive business world is another odds-on favorite to die anywhere from ten to twenty years before his wife does," Dr. Page declared.

"This situation is not only uneconomic and a reckless form of extravagance with human resources, but wholly unnecessary. Business can, and eventually must correct this situation."

Calling the peptic ulcer a "Service Badge of Competition," Dr. Page showed the havoc it plays among industrial leaders.

Alcohol, which he described as "a wonderful medicine," he said should never be used other than for the pleasure one can derive from it. Drinking, used as a relief valve, becomes uncontrollable and has its own path to ruin. Employers and families can do much to keep many from following this path.

Obesity, he called the visual evidence of emotional disturbances . . . a functional illness, just as excessive drinking.

"Functional diseases, including psychiatric states, can be headed off before they are serious, if everyone is aware of what to look for and of their dangers," he said.

"Individuals must learn to know and analyze themselves, and then act sensibly. After all," he asked, "how can you, without health, live to retire? How can you, without health, even hope to enjoy the results of your labors?"

Louis A. Bauer, chairman of the Citizens Committee on Education, Birmingham school district, said today the report would be in the hands of members by mid-February.

Three subcommittee reports are due, the first dealing with present conditions, financing suggested improvements and what they are, has been turned over to the 16-member steering committee.

Chairman of the group which prepared the 80-page report is R. V. Kerley, who has been aided by Robert J. Brown, Mrs. F. J. Worden, Harold S. McFarland and Charles Morse.

When all reports are in they will be correlated and presented to the PTA Council and board of education by this independent fact-finding body.

Kirk-in-the-Hills Presbyterian Church's men's club is planning a dinner meeting and program for Monday, Jan. 28, to start at 6:30 p. m. "Has America's Post-War Economic Policy for Europe Been Worthwhile?", is the subject to be discussed by Elis S. Hoglund, vice president and assistant general manager of Overseas Operations for General Motors.

When the final figures were tallied, it was found that members of Birmingham's Rebekah Lodge had realized $575 on their Blue Crutch sale, March of Dimes feature.

P. G. Burnett, heading this year's march here said, "With the temperature not very far above zero these women had a pretty unpleasant job, but they stuck on it all day, manning street corner stations constantly. We cannot thank them enough for what they did and the discomfort they endured."

Your Income Tax

This is one of a series of articles prepared by the U. S. Internal Revenue Service to help you prepare your Income Tax Return.

CASUALTY

If you itemize deductions, you can deduct a net loss resulting from destruction of your property by fire, storm, automobile accident, or other losses resulting from natural forces. The amount of the loss is the difference between the fair market value of the item just before the casualty — less its fair market value immediately after the casualty — but not to exceed the adjusted cost of your property — less any insurance recovery.

Any destruction must not have been caused by an act of willful negligence on your part.

Property which is stolen, not mislaid or lost, is a deductible loss. You cannot claim a casualty loss for personal injuries—either to yourself or anyone else.

Further information on income tax problems is available, without cost, to taxpayers at the Internal Revenue Service office, 63½ West Huron St. Phone FE 2-0206.

Campaign Scribes Organize Clubs

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Hound's Tooth Club, Castle Rock Survivors Association and Truman Early Risers Walking Society of Independence, Mo., will have to move over.

Newsmen and aides who followed Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. Estes Kefauver on their opposing ways last fall have formed two new groups to share honors with those veterans of past election campaigns.

The Sky Scribers of 1956, who took part in Nixon's airborne operation, have just been issued membership cards. And the Kalispell Choral Society and Wyoming Sliding Chute Federation, which went with Estes, is planning a reunion.

What it adds up to is an outlet for the non-partisan fellowship which built up among scores of strangers thrown together for weeks or months in the same planes, trains and hotels while the candidates campaigned.

Nixon's 1952 travels were followed by formation of a club named after the hound's tooth, which President Eisenhower said his running-mate would have to be as clean as, when Democrats made much of a fund the Californian's friends had furnished.

Survivors of a Thomas E. Dewey campaign train mishap at Castle Rock, Ore., in 1944 banded into an association, and newsmen who went walking each dawn with Harry S. Truman when he ran for president in 1948 also got organized eventually.

The Kalispell Choral Society was the first to be formed this year. It traces back to the ear-rending singing of special songs marking such typical events as a Kefauver slight bound for Kalispell, Mont., but ending up in Missoula, Mont., instead.

★ ★ ★

Lack of such common comforts as a stairway to descend from some of the airliners which carried the Kefauver party brought about the Wyoming Sliding Chute Federation. Its name refers to the Tennessee Senator's smiling use of a sheet of canvas to debark from his plane at Rock Springs, Wyo.

Having no similar horrors to hark back to, Nixon's group settled on a name recalling only that its members wrote steadily in airplanes. Cards were issued at a reception Tuesday.

The Kefauver Campaign Followers will unite Feb. 11 in quiet dignity under strict rules banning handshaking or singing of the "Tennessee Waltz," theme song of the candidate's journey.

Train Runs Over Drunk

DETROIT (AP)—A hard sleeper is Frank M. Gentry, 36, who was pulled from between railroad tracks—still asleep—after 20 cars of a freight train passed over him. He was sentenced to 30 days for drunkeness Wednesday in recorders court.

Speeder Takes Longer

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP)—Normal driving time from Palo Alto to San Francisco via Bayshore Freeway is 35 minutes. Edward C. Bushee, 27, allegedly tried it at 80 to 90 miles an hour. It took him 53 minutes, including time out for three speeding tickets.

Show Gets Too Hot

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A showing of the Spanish film "Casa de Perdition" (House of Sin) got a little too realistic for about 75 customers. They fled the Little Ritz Theater as smoke and flames poured out of two of the theater offices. No one was injured.

Macomb Official Draws Fine, Jail

Councilman Little Cited for Contempt in Probe by Quinn Grand Jury

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — Warren Councilman Irvin G. Little was sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $1,000 yesterday for contempt of Judge Timothy C. Quinn's one-man grand jury.

★ ★ ★

Little was cited for contempt last Thursday by Judge Quinn who is conducting the grand jury investigation of alleged vote fraud in Warren and graft in St. Clair Shores.

Circuit Judge Edward T. Kane of Port Huron imposed the sentence after a four-hour hearing on the contempt citation brought against Little for his refusal to answer grand jury questions.

Judge Kane refused an appeal for a stay of execution.

Minutes before he pronounced sentence Judge Kane offered Little a chance to purge himself of the contempt charge.

★ ★ ★

Attorneys said they would appeal.

The 58-year-old Little is the second Macomb County public official to be jailed for contempt of the grand jury.

On the day Little was cited, Mayor Thomas S. Welsh of St. Clair Shores had just completed three days of a 60-day summary contempt sentence for his refusal also to answer grand jury questions.

Welsh now is free on bail pending an appeal.

Nurses' Ether 'Prank' Claims Second Life

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Death yesterday claimed the second of two nurses who were burned in an ether explosion caused by a "prank." The latest fatality was Charlotte Smith, 23.

Kathleen Oehler, 19, died Sunday of burns suffered in the incident at St. Joseph's Hospital Jan. 16.

Two registered nurses signed statements that each threw about half a pint of ether at the students just before the fire, without knowing Miss Smith was smoking, Fire Chief Earl McDaniel said. He quoted them as saying ether throwing was a nurses' "prank."

He said Margaret R. Donovan, 24, and Mary Frances Hutchinson, 26, signed the statements.

No charges have been filed. Police Chief E. C. Hale said police inquiry may be completed next week.

DETROIT (AP) — Axel S. Anderson, 60, labor relations supervisor for Dodge Truck Division of Chrysler Corp., died Wednesday following a long illness.

Turncoat Turns Back on Own Father; Leaves Home for Good After Brawl

ST. LOUIS (INS) — Arlie Pate, turncoat American veteran of the Korean war, has left home for good over a brawl with his father.

The 26-year-old Pate, who recently returned from Red China, turned up in St. Louis Wednesday accompanied by his brother, Don 17.

They had traveled 80 miles from Murphysboro, Ill., to St. Louis in a taxi cab Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

Sheriff Howard Cheatham of Murphysboro reported Arlie had left the family farm near Carbondale, Ill., and promised never to return in order to persuade his father, Daniel H. Pate, 54, to withdraw assault charges.

The sheriff said the father had hitchhiked into Murphysboro Tuesday, displayed two blackened eyes and a bruised face and swore out a warrant against his elder son.

Cheatham said he went out to the farm and arrested Arlie.

The sheriff said that when he returned to his office with Arlie, the father told his son:

"If you will leave the farm and never return, I'll drop the charges."

Cheatham said Arlie immediately agreed to go and added:

"The only reason I came back in the first place was to see mom."

Arli went back to the farm and packed a bag. He then sold some stock from the farm, cashed a $280 check in Carbondale and left with the younger brother for St. Louis.

Cheatham said Arlie and his father had been bickering since the son returned to the farm six weeks ago.

He said the elder Pate told him Arlie was trying to take over the farm.

Arlie was one of 21 American prisoners who originally refused repatriation when peace came to Korea in 1953.

He got homesick last fall and the Red Chinese allowed him to leave.

Baby Born in Car Running Light —Driver Ticketed

DETROIT (AP)— Gaetno Adragna got a traffic ticket and a new born nephew at the same time and place yesterday.

Adragna was taking his sister-in-law to the hospital for delivery of her baby. Police said he ran a red light and collided with another car.

Just then along came seven pound, seven ounce Joseph Adragna—minutes ahead of police. The officers gave the elder Adragna a ticket for running a red light, and then rushed baby and mother to a hospital where both were reported doing fine.

Explained Adragna: "My mother and sister-in-law kept screaming at me: 'You've got to hurry'. And I was so excited I didn't see the light."

Gomulka Returned to Power in Poland

Strange as it may seem, Sunday's election in Poland of Wladyslaw Gomulka, an avowed Communist, apparently is the best thing for that country at the moment.

Released from prison early in 1956, Gomulka is something of a hero to the Polish people because he championed their national independence and resisted dictation from Moscow. If he had been defeated or even weakened by anti-Communist votes, Moscow might have ordered the Red Army to maintain Russian control of Poland as it did in Hungary.

★ ★ ★

Gomulka had warned his countrymen of what might happen in case of his defeat and he was seconded by the best known political voice of Warsaw's Catholic Church. Poland's pro-Gomulka press which showed a degree of fairness unprecedented in Communist papers, had called for genuine national unity and support of the government.

★ ★ ★

For the time being the people of Poland, who are strongly anti-Communist, know that they have chosen only the lesser of two evils. The new regime must deal with an element which would like nothing better than to revert to the old Stalinist order.

$6 Million Look Into the Future

Waterford Township is studying plans for a $6 million water system. The plan was prepared after a year of engineering study, and contemplates utilizing the 15 township-owned wells now in use in a unified system to serve the entire area.

Waterford officials should be complimented for their foresight in making such a study and presenting a plan for solving one of the most vital problems of all growing areas.

Too often communities begin serious study of their water problem on a hot week end when the wells are giving up their last trickle.

★ ★ ★

The water reserve beneath Waterford Township is believed to be adequate for present needs of the some 9,000 commercial buildings and homes in the area. The current plan does not anticipate additional wells in the near future.

★ ★ ★

However, pumping stations and water mains are not the only essentials for an adequate water system. The quality and quantity of water available are of prime importance.

If Waterford's growth continues (and there is every reason to expect it will) the time will come when this area, along with Pontiac and other municipalities in this vicinity will find it economical and otherwise desirable to turn to the Great Lakes for their water supply.

★ ★ ★

Residents of Waterford might find it advisable, when approving a township water system, to make sure it is designed for easy adaptation to such a move if this becomes necessary.

In most cases the place a retired couple should choose in which to spend their so-called "golden years" should be at a considerable distance from all grandchildren.

Inquiry Should Continue

The Senate Government Operations subcommittee which has been holding hearings on possible labor union irregularities in the trucking industry, has run into difficulties.

Some witnesses have refused to answer questions on the grounds that the committee is exceeding its authority and invading that of the Senate Labor Committee. There have been charges of extortion, embezzlement from union pension funds and shakedowns of employers under threat of personal injury. Such activities, naturally, would discredit the whole labor movement.

★ ★ ★

Robert Kennedy, subcommittee counsel, says that he has AFL-CIO President George Meany's assurance of full co-operation. This should mean that union leadership acknowledges the subcommittee's jurisdiction. Chairman MacLellan of the Senate subcommittee says his intention is to "pursue the issues to a final conclusion."

Union members themselves would be the worst victims if the charges aren't thoroughly aired. Enough evidence already has been brought out to indicate a searching examination is urgently needed.

Some people are so nervous these days they have to take tranquilizers in order to go to sleep in church.

Once Over Lightly

David Lawrence Says:

You Can't Blueprint Advance Policy

WASHINGTON—When President Eisenhower said the other day that the Russian rulers are "unpredictable," he disappointed a lot of captious and carping critics in Congress and elsewhere who talk as if they really believe the making of foreign policy is just a mere matter of advance "planning."

A whole cult has arisen both here and abroad which takes potshots regularly at the Eisenhower administration either for doing too much or too little or for allegedly having no foreign policy at all. The favorite theme of the critics, when a climax comes in international affairs, is to say that no "planning" was done or that America failed to prevent this or that contingency, though few of the partisans who usually give vent to such quibbles face up to the main point.

It is that there are two parties to every controversy, and the United States hasn't any control over the enemy's operations. To the cry that America must somehow "make the Russians behave," there is always the question of whether anyone wants this country to go to war to coerce or compel the Russians to behave differently.

The critics give the impression that all the Department of State needs to do is press a button and out of some electronic device will flow different envelopes giving the prepared questions and answers in certain categories of world policy—just like the machine that pours out the answers to the $64,000 question on TV.

Mr. Eisenhower at his Wednesday press conference was asked whether there is a "marked hardening of relations between the United States and the Soviet Union" or an "intensification of the cold war" and whether he contemplated any discussion or correspondence with Soviet leaders looking toward easing tensions." To this he replied:

"Well, you are asking questions about matters that really have to be handled day to day as they come up. Now, I am not contemplating any correspondence for changing of attitude, because I know of no point at this time that would be a proper subject of communication. I can't really say that the Soviets are hardening their attitude or changing their attitude.

'VIEWS ABOUT PEACE'

"After all, we are dealing with people who are rather unpredictable and, at times, they are just practically inexplicable, so far as we are concerned. So you go along announcing your views about peace in the world, what you are striving to do, why you are doing it, and then, for the rest of it, you meet them from time to time, or your diplomatic representatives do, in order to see whether it is possible to ameliorate the situation in which we find ourselves."

★ ★ ★

No more comprehensive description of the way foreign policy has to be made in a troubled world could have been given. But the President in his brief answer took it for granted that his listeners understood what he meant when he said, "you go along announcing your views about peace in the world." For it means that, while there can be a lot of speech-making about basic principles, there is also a line beyond which the aggressor must not be permitted to go without military retaliation.

That line has been set by preceding administrations as well as by the present administration. It was crossed by the Communists in Korea and in connection with the Berlin blockade. It has not been crossed in Formosa.

But it is not realistic or practical to spell out exactly in advance everything the United States would do in certain crises. Members of Congress keep prodding administration officials nowadays unwittingly to give the enemy a blueprint of just what America will do in certain contingencies in the Middle East. No military commander fails for that kind of disclosure, and a "cold war" is no different in this respect from a "hot war."

Sometimes the petulant partisans in Congress today act as if it doesn't make any difference to them if they increase the dangers to their own government—just so long as they put the administration politically in a hole. But the American people who watch with dismay the tactics of the political saboteurs are inclined to trust the President's good sense, his patriotism and his caution and and restraint in one of the most complex adventures of all times—a heroic attempt to prevent a World War.

(Copyright 1957, New York Herald Tribune Inc.)

"First get that 'I could have had both of them' look off your face."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Modern Treatment Veers From Clamp to the Lamp

As any trick specialist or "clinic" racketeer will tell you at the drop of the hat, anything and everything I teach or recommend that doesn't jibe with established nineteenth century theory and practice, is crazy, dangerous, no good, or perhaps has been tried long ago and found waiting. Many real doctors are with me.

Please understand, I neither discovered nor introduced any of the methods I have advocated here. I merely investigated them, found some merit in them, and in accordance with the Hippocratic oath recommended them to the public.

The first of these modern departures that I hailed as good news to many sufferes was the chemical obliteration of varicose veins, that is, injection treatment which doesn't interfere with the patient's usual activities or occupation.

The next departure on which I clashed painfully (for me) with the old guard was the ambulant, office, injection treatment of piles (hemorroids). I urged this comparatively simple, painless and effective method as a boon for the thousands of pile sufferers who might otherwise be lured into the hospital to undergo the clamp and cautery atrocity.

EVERY MEANS

Naturally this didn't make the ever-ready operators love me. Indeed, they used every means available to them to silence me. In some areas they succeeded—a lot of people in those areas believe I turned up my toes years ago.

Don't get me wrong, knuckleheads. The ambulant office, injection treatment is the method of choice for internal (Bleeding) piles. It is not applicable to external piles. External piles can be cured only by surgery, under general or local anesthesia.

The gulf between the big shots and myself widened alarmingly when I discovered and recommended diathermy (electro-desiccation) as a safe, effective office procedure for infected tonsils—an alternative for the dangerous major operation known as tonsillectomy.

★ ★ ★

The diathermy method as an alternative for tonsillectomy has not been accepted by the majority of physicians, though some who speak with authority approve it as an alternative method when tonsillectomy, a major operation, is too great a risk.

I believe the medical profession and the public would be better off if tonsillectomy were banned and the infected tonsils of adults treated with diathermy and the enlarged tonsils of children treated with tonsillotomy.

More about tonsillotomy later.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Offers Tests for College Potential

Terry is puzzled. He doesn't know which fork of the educational road to take. So discuss his problem with youth groups. And send for the vocational tests mentioned below. They are good entertainment for young people's church groups, as well as helping in self-ratings.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-383: Terry T., aged 17, will finish high school in the middle of the year.

"Dr. Crane, what should I do?" he begged. "If I go to college in February, I'll miss most of the football excitement of the fall term.

★ ★ ★

"Besides, I'll then graduate in the middle of the year, too, and miss all the fun of commencement parties.

"For example, those of us who are finishing high school in February are relatively ignored. We lack the Prom and parties and publicity which the rest of the class get who graduate in June.

"So what would you advise? Wouldn't it be better to wait till fall and get a job meanwhile?"

WHAT ABOUT COLLEGE

Terry had a valid point, for those who graduate in the middle of the year, miss much of the excitement of the June commencement week.

In my own case, for example, I graduated at the end of January.

★ ★ ★

My fellow graduates and I got little more atttention than if we had simply finished the end of an ordinary semester.

Since I was short of funds, I got a job as a tree surgeon. I saved my money till September, and thus had a little nest egg when I entered Northwestern University.

Tuition in those days was about $250 per year, as I recall, instead of the present $700.

So, being an advocate of "horse sense" even then, and vitally concerned with saving every cent I could. I figured that it would cost me less cash to graduate in three years, instead of four.

COLLEGE FINANCES

For example, a semester's work consists of 15 hours recitation per week. So I loaded up with 19 and 20 hours of credit, for the extra charge for those additional hours and was only about half as much per hour.

One semester I even got credit for 23 hours, instead of the usual 15, for I had carried 20 hours of credit work and as Captain of the Northwestern University debate team that year, I was given an extra three hours credit, which was customary practice.

★ ★ ★

I mentioned this personal episode to show you that my interest in practical finance and gumption is not a recent personality trait.

And don't think modern youth can't work their way through college just because current tuition is much greater. For wages are likewise much greater.

In our cities, thousands of students hold full time jobs by day and then take four to eight hours of college work at night in the local university's evening division.

GO TO COLLEGE

If you are ambitious and can read fluently, then plan to go to college for at least one year, preferably on a campus so you can experience that type of social enviroment.

Thereafter, you can probably take your work in night school and be fully employed by day, if you must depend solely on your own resources.

In Terry's case, I suggested he wait till fall and earn money during the intervening months, for he was sincerely concerned with going ahead with his education.

If, however, a high school graduate might become dissuaded from going on, as by getting infatuated in love or being enamoured of a current well paying job, it would probably be wiser to go straight from high school to the university, even in the middle of the year.

For further specific advice, send for my "Vocational Guidance Kit," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It contains some pertinent tests to use in rating yourself as to your college capabilities.

They are also interesting party games for church young people's societies.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'TV Emcees Are Human; Just Overlook His Errors'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I would like to answer "Sunday Nighter."

I, too, am a TV watcher on Sunday nights and most every night in the week, also. I am glad to know that even though a person is an emcee on TV, he can make mistakes just like we ordinary and unglamorous folks.

So he fumbled, so what? The little boy did all right in the end and that's a happy ending. Why wish the poor guy out of his job because he's human? Aren't we all?

Do Unto Others

'Alaska, Hawaii Not Ready Yet'

The President's message suggests statehood for Alaska and Hawaii, but neither one is ready. Let's wait until they measure up. Also, we must remember that when we take in Alaska the borders of the United States of America are within a very few miles of Russia.

That isn't a pleasant contemplation, for there are often "border incidents" between friendly countries and no one can be friendly with the Russians, including the U.S.

'What of Things Yet Unexplained?'

I hear the U.S. Government has identified 99 per cent of the "flying saucers" and proved conclusively that they were other things such as cloud illusions, weather balloons, government testing balloons, atmospheric disturbances, etc. Still I would like to ask about that other one per cent. I don't believe the yarn about the "little brown men" but I believe we've had some kind of "visitors" that we don't understand.

Night Watchman

'Strip Weddings of Horn-Blowing'

I'm in favor of marriage. I think it's a noble institution and should be perpetuated for future generations. But I object to these bridal parties that drive up and down the main streets, blowing their horns continuously as ribbons and colors fly from their cars.

Marriage is a sacred thing. It isn't a Fourth of July celebration of Free Loader's night at the Lodge. Let's preserve the dignity of one of life's greatest milestones and act in accordance with the solemnity of the occasion.

And will someone please explain to me why they always do it on Saturday mornings, both winter and summer?

Calls 'Baby Doll' Smutty and Lurid

I just saw that movie, "Baby Doll," and it makes me wonder what this world is coming to. It was nothing but a bunch of smut and lurid insinuations, and there wasn't a decent purpose in the entire show. The only thing I can say for it is the acting was especially good. It had to be, because no one ever lived like that, and you'd have to be a good actor to play a part like that.

I wish to commend our City Manager Mr. Walter K. Willman and his staff for formulating the record budget of $5,381,799.

Can't Beat the Drums

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hauled into Municipal Court on a complaint filed by neighbors, movie stunt man Sidney Bernstein, 24, and his wife Caryl, 23, admitted that their bongo drum parties constituted a public nuisance. Judge Walter C. Allen gave them a suspended 90-day sentence on the condition they don't beat the drums after 9:30 p.m.

Surgeon General Hits Local Health Plans

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The surgeon general of the U. S. public health service says resistance by local public health administrators to new ideas and concepts may force the state or federal government to take over the program.

Dr. Leroy Burney told the University of Michigan's Institute on Public Health Administration yesterday that unwillingness of local health officials to keep up with progress and to experiment with new techniques results in "wasteful expenditure of tax funds."

Commenting that chronic disease, mental illness and the health of the aging are the foremost community health problems, Dr. Burney warned that "health officers can no longer ignore the accumulation of findings in those fields simply because they do not apply to the comfortably familiar fields of communicable disease control, and child health."

"Unless more economical and effective methods are found and widely applied, the growing population of elderly persons and disabled people of all ages requiring prolonged (medical and hospital) care will continue to bankrupt themselves, and ultimately bankrupt many local governments and voluntary health insurance plans," he said.

New Cars How Long? —Short in This Crash

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Automobile salesman John Szekely and his boss, Merrill H. Craig, each was ferrying a new car from here to Craig's salesroom in Saratoga Springs.

Just north of this city yesterday, a big dump truck loomed up in front of Szekely. The car he was driving crashed into the rear of the truck. Seconds later, the boss's car hit Szekely's in the rear.

Both cars were severly damaged. Craig was cut on the chin.

Careless? No, Carless; Samaritan No Help

DETROIT (AP)—When Charles P. Henderson saw the stalled auto on Detroit's snow streets, he eased his car up behind it and started to push. He was just being neighborly.

Half a block later, the car jumped the curb and stopped at a mailbox. Henderson thought there must be something wrong with the driver. He got out to see. But there was no driver.

Suddenly, huffing and puffing, up ran Ben Smith. He'd left his stalled car to call a tow truck.

DOWN IN DAVY JONES' LOCKER — 5
A Hammerhead Shark

Your deep sea tropical tank will not be complete without a shark. Here is one of the hammerhead variety. He got his name from his strange head, shaped like a hammer. Underneath he has a wide mouth to swallow most fish and long, sharp teeth to cut up his bigger prey.

At the top is a ribbon-like fish called a spotted moray. Also pictured is a yellow and black angel fish. The moray is orange, the shark a light green.

Color the picture and paste it down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully. Put a black thread into each fish at the holes marked by the arrows. Like your other fish these can be lowered into the tank or suspended by slipping the thread into one of the notches in the cross bars over the tank, which we made earlier this week.

If you are using a glass tank instead of the cardboard one, lay three strips of cardboard across it from side to side. Fold the ends down on the outside of the tank and paste them in position with gummed tape.

(First to submit this idea was Glover Parham Jr. of Birmingham, Ala. If you send in your suggestions to Junior Editors care of this newspaper you may win the $10 award, too. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Weil's Disease Back After 4-Year Lapse

DETROIT (INS) — Three cases of Weil's disease, first since 1952, were reported in Detroit during 1956. One of the cases was fatal.

Weil's disease, a jaundice-like infection, is usually spread by rats, not by direct contact, but often by swallowed food and water infected by rats.

The Health Department said that the best way to control the disease is by eliminating rats. This can be done by removing rat harborages, such as piled lumber.

Proper rat-proofing of buildings, including garages, is also important.

Storage of food products, garbage and all refuse containing food particles should also be taken care of properly. This includes cans, bottlse and paper in which food has been wrapped.

Price of Dog Licenses Increases After May 15

Dog owners in Pontiac are encouraged to purchase 1957 dog licenses at the city clerk's office before the May 15 deadline, City Clerk Ada R. Evans, said.

After that date, the price will be raised to $3 instead of the present $2 charge, Mrs. Evans said.

The clerk's office is in the City Hall. It is open five days a week from 8 a.m. until 5.

Defenses to Get Potent Missile

'Hercules' to Put More Muscle in Michigan's Air-Interceptor Arm

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's air defenses are being bolstered by a more deadly and wider-ranged guided missile — the Hercules — the Army reports.

★ ★ ★

Installation is expected in the Detroit area.

The Army report said that the Hercules is capable of striking at enemy aircraft 50 miles away, compared to the 25 mile range of the Ajax missile, used heretofore in the Nike defense system.

The Hercules is also controlled by a better electronic system, known as the Missile Master.

The new electronic brain collects target information by radar, computes information and electronically locks it on an interceptor path.

★ ★ ★

The Army anti-aircraft command said the changeover to the new missiles will be made as soon as possible. Other areas in for the change are New York, Boston, Pittsburgh, Buffalo - Niagara, Chicago - Gary, Cleveland, Milwaukee, Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Carnegie Course to Be Sponsored by City Jaycees

The Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce will once again sponsor a 14-week series in the Dale Carnegie course in human relations, Charles Brodbent, chairman of the event, announced yesterday.

The first of 14 weekly night classes will be held at 7:30 on Feb. 5 in the Civic Room of the Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Assn. building, 761 W. Huron St.

Cost for the course is $125 per person and it is open to the general public, Brodbent said. If husband and wife take the course together, the price is reduced, he added.

All interested in taking the course have been urged to attend the first meeting.

Instructors are past graduates of the course, the chairman said.

To Vote on School Fund

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Kent County Board of Education has approved a future vote on a proposal to establish a program of special education for handicapped children of the county. The proposal includes a half-mill limit on any tax increase. The Grand Rapids School District will vote on the issue April 1.

South Pole Station Named to Honor Amundsen, Scott

(AP)—A fur-hooded band of American scientists and Navy men has dedicated the U.S. station at the South Pole. They named it after the Norwegian and British explorers who made the first successful race to the bottom of the world.

The ceremony here, on a bleak promontory 800 miles north of the polar base, christened the station the U.S. Amundsen-Scott South Polar International Geophysical Year Station.

★ ★ ★

Norwegian Roald Amundsen discovered the South Pole in December 1911. British Capt. Robert Falcon Scott got there a month later. He perished on his return trip.

★ ★ ★

Eighteen U.S. scientists and Navy men will gather data for the geophysical year at the polar station. Since it is difficult to reach the station which is on a 10,000-foot-high snowy plateau, the dedication was held at the main American antarctic base here.

A Marine color guard in dress blues stood at attention as Rear Adm. George J. Dufek, commander of Operation Deep Freeze, declared:

"I am proud to report that the IGY South Pole base has been placed in commission to support the International Geophysical Year."

★ ★ ★

Congratulatory messages were read from President Eisenhower and Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, veteran South Pole explorer and over-all commander of the Navy's antarctic program.

★ ★ ★

Representatives of Norway and Britain were guests for the occasion. They read messages from King Haakon VII of Norway and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

British and Norwegian flags flew beside the Stars and Stripes. The temperature was in the middle 20s—a balmy summer day by antarctic standards.

The scientists at Amundsen-Scott expect to be the first men in history to stay through the long winter night at the South Pole. They will record the weather, probe the ice crust, and study other phenomena.

City Can't Contract to Insure Pensions

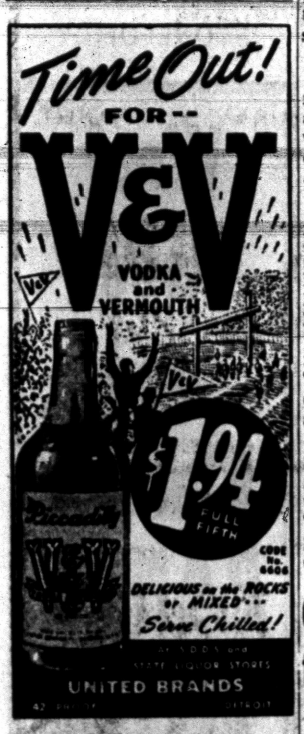

LANSING (AP) — City governments may not contract with insurance companies to guarantee payment of pensions to city employes, in the opinion of Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh.

Kavanagh issued the opinion yesterday in reply to a query by state Sen. Lynn O. Francis (R-Midland). Francis said Bay City was considering a plan to put money with a legal reserve life insurance company to guarantee pensions to city policemen and firemen.

Kavanagh said a court decision established that any pension granted by public authorities is not a contractural obligation, and that it may be terminated at the will of a municipality.

It costs about $500 a year to operate a tractor on an American farm today, reports the North Carolina State College School of Agriculture.

500 Pounds Meat Simmered at Once in Ortonville Kitchen

Family Link Turns Out 35 Types Homemade Sausage

By MARTHA LEWIS
Ortonville Correspondent

ORTONVILLE—In these days of mass production it is interesting that this town has acquired an enterprise novel to the community —a sausage kitchen in the Green Lake Market, a mile south of here.

It is the project of Ray Campbell, who is assisted by his wife and his parents, the Jack Campbells.

The modernly-equipped, gas heated sausage kitchen contains an automatic chopper and air-compression sausage and frankfurter stuffer.

A huge kettle in which the lunch meats are cooked will hold five hundred pounds of meat. All lunch meats are cooked, smoked and cooled before being placed in large coolers. There are two of these, measuring 10 by 12 feet.

The two smoke units will each hold 1,200 pounds of meat and the chopping machine will handle 100 pounds of meat every 15 minutes.

Ray will tell one seriously, "I have worked with meats all my life." Actually, he has had 10 years' experience, having begun at the age of 13, assisting after school in an abattoir.

Following high school graduation Ray managed a locker plant for more than a year, then served a four-year apprenticeship in the trade of sausage and lunch meat making.

At the present time 35 varieties of lunch meats are made in his kitchen, where cleanliness prevails and grade A meats are always used.

For these, he states there are 14 different seasonings. While chopping and mixing, he informs that temperature is very important. This he controls by using shaved ice.

"If the temperatures raise a few degrees too high, or the cooking time is off, the meats are ruined."

Asked if he had perfected any special variety, Ray said, "you never become a specialist in this field as there is always something to be learned about meat, but my aim is to improve a good product if possible."

He considers the weekly output of 1,200 pounds of sausage good business.

Campbells, with their little daughter and his parents, came from Memphis (Mich.) over a year ago. They live in thei rnew home on East Ridge Road here.

AFL-CIO Heads Face Squabble

Old Rivalries Smolder; Senate Racket Probe Challenges Policies

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Talk among AFL-CIO leaders attending winter meetings here pointed today to a rocky road immediately ahead for the year-old merged labor organization.

A squabble loomed among big AFL-CIO unions over whether organized labor should cooperate with a thorough-going investigation of alleged union racketeering shaping up in Congress.

★ ★ ★

A second point of probable conflict is a growing scrap among former AFL and former CIO unions in their age-old jurisdictional battle. AFL-CIO President George Meany is trying to iron this out, but dep-rooted rivalries are smoldering.

A third factor pointing to strife is the approaching deadline next December for merging rival AFL and CIO state and local groups in the big industrial states. Only a score of the least industrialized states have completed mergers.

★ ★ ★

All three are explosive issues that could lead to possible withdrawal or suspension of some major unions from the AFL-CIO family.

The U.S. Senate is about to trigger off in Washington a probe of alleged union corruption. The Senate Investigations subcommittee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) already has held a set of preliminary hearings at which several union officials refused to testify.

James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers and an AFL-CIO vice president, said he wants to take up with the AFL-CIO Executive Council next week the refusal of some union officials to testify before congressional committees.

250 Hear Homer Martin

ROMEO — "We want a contract with sales agencies at a price which we can sell our products," Homer Martin, organizational director of the new Dairy Farmers Cooperative Assn. of Michigan told some 250 milk producers meeting in Romeo High School last night.

"You've had time to examine your leadership in the Michigan Milk Porducers Assn. You know its program. If you want to fight it and stand up for your rights, join us!" he urged the assembly. There was not a single dissenting vote by the dairy farmers who joined in mass protest against the recent price cut. In class 1 (drinking milk) a number stood in line at the close of the session to sign contracts with the new association.

Martin, former UAW-CIO International president, said 66.92 per cent of class 1 milk was sold for $5.35 in December — according to the price agreement established by MMPA and the creameries last September. The agreement was scheduled to expire March 1.

"The other day, without a delegate meeting or taking a vote, MMPA negotiated a cut down to $5. The farmer is taking a slash of eight cents per hundred-weight," Martin reported.

★ ★ ★

MMPA directors have revealed that milk check prices last week gave farmers a price of $4.98 for base milk. Reason given was the slump in sales of class 1 milk. Despite increase of population in Detroit, the cut is attributable mainly to Toledo dealers who can buy class 1 milk cheaper than Detroit dealers they said.

It was MMPA that lobbied in the state Congress to have a bill passed so that milk could be shipped in without test, Martin retaliated. He called MMPA's "Toledo Story" a "lame excuse to bring price down — to pacify the producers. Those dealers in Toledo don't get more milk than they need because they operate on an individual handler pool basis."

At last night's meeting, DFCA secretary, Sam Bailo, started gathering support for a new group, called the MMPA Refund Committee. This committee is designed to aid those former MMPA members who have money in equity in the association which they have been unable to collect, he said.

Dairy farmers were present last night from at least eight counties including St. Clair, Livingston, Sanilac, Tuscola, Macomb, Washtenaw, Lapeer and Oakland.

"We have one hundred men and women working in the state distributing contracts for membership in our new organization. We want five hundred by our first annual meeting March 1," Martin said.

"We are the fastest growing farm cooperative in the United States," he added after introducing the new association's county chairman.

★ ★ ★

Martin and Bailo are on a nightly speaking tour covering several counties in southeastern Michigan as their new cooperative gains impetus by promising dairy farmers an agency for collective bargaining in the milk industry.

Police Officers to Meet Board

Committee Appointed to Plan Rule Revision at Next Session

After a 3½ hour meeting Thursday, the Pontiac Police Trial Board and three members of the Pontiac Police Officers' Association unanimously agreed to meet with the chief of police to plan revisions and additions of "outmoded" rules and regulations concerning trial board proceedings and rules.

February 7, the next regular meeting of the trial board, has been tentatively set as the time.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, approximately 75 of the 115 petitions seeking civil service to replace the present trial board authority on the April city ballot, have been returned according to Detective Herbert C. Cooley, president of the association. The petitions circulated by the association are to be returned by February 1.

Cecil Mullinix, vice-chairman of the trial board, said he was pleased with the meeting and thought certain revisions were needed.

★ ★ ★

Those appointed by the association to work with the trial board on rules are Officers Forrest C. Hatfield, Thomas E. Larrison, Sgt. James Carr and Cooley.

2 Workers Hurt in College Blast

Explosion Blows Roof Off Residence Building at Western Michigan

KALAMAZOO (AP) — An explosion blew out a wall and shattered windows in a new student residence building at Western Michigan College today. Two workmen were reported seriously hurt.

The blast came as a gas clothes dryer was being connected in the central utility room of the 2-story, 12-unit residence hall.

The injured men, both suffering from second and third degree burns, were identified as Lyle Gunnett, 34, of Kalamazoo, and David L. Patchett, 24, of rural Martin.

Witnesses said one of them was blown from the biulding. Both were listed in critical condition at Bronson Hospital.

A fire departmnet spokesman said the blast occured while Gunnett and Patchett were taking a break from the dryer installation work. He said one of the men apparently attempted to light a cigarette and ignited gas fumes.

★ ★ ★

The blast shattered 100 windows in the Smith-Burnham mens' dormitory 300 yeard away. College officials estimated damage at 'close to $100,000.

They said at least two-thirds of the nearly completed apartment building would have to be rebuilt.

Uninjured workmen said the blast "lifted the roof" off the structure and "blew the center right out of it."

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass
Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Here Are Correct Puzzle Answers

The following are answers and explanations for Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 33 which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

1. HOAX is apt. Most, not some, mother must coax a child to eat, for children are noted as finicky eaters. Some mothers HOAX the child, telling him he is eating something he likes, to fool him.

2. FIN is right. As long as there are all kinds of fans; electric and others, we can't say any FAN has a spreading formation. This clue is true of any FIN, however. FINs must be shaped that way, real or not.

3. FILLY must be chosen. There is no logic to the statement that folly can run its course at the race track. It can run riot at the track and still not reach its end, for there is no defined limit to FOLLY, or foolishness. A course run by a FILLY at the race track is precisely the type of course a FILLY is bred to run.

4. PARK is better. To know something about PARK would be to be aware of its facilities, its games, sports, rides, picnic grounds, etc., that are available. If you came for a picnic in a PARK that forbids picnicking, you would be disgruntled. You don't have to know anything about pork to enjoy it thoroughly. It is often enjoyed and even mistaken for chicken.

5. PICK is appropriate. Pink means to stab or pierce with a rapier, and a duellist would often do this to his opponent. However, the duellist who could PICK or select his opponent would be able to choose one whom he could defeat.

6. MARKED is the choice. Masked cannot be chosen because the party may well be a masquerade party at which all guests would be MASKED, and in this case no sensation would be created. A MARKED man is one who has committed an unusual deed, perhaps a crime, and he would surely create something of a sensation at a party.

7. MUD is likely. Most children would enjoy playing with a mut or mongrel dog if there was one around. But comparatively speaking, there is more MUD available than there are muts. And certainly most children enjoy playing with MUD.

8. MORAY is certain. A single wound is suitable for "brief contact," because a MORAY is a salvage eel. A foray, if it is an attack, or warlike raid, can result in many wounds, even though contact is brief. If it is a plundering foray, it is very possible that no one gets hurt, just robbed.

9. WORD is right. Since a ward is an indentation in the key (or a corresponding one in the lock), and any key has several wards, one would not be enough. The one WORD that would be sufficient for the right key refers to the breaking of a coded message. One WORD solved leads to success.

10. MIND must be chosen. As long as anything is called a find, it must have been found. You do not seek that which has been found. A good MIND is certainly sought for in the laboratory. In fact, many lab workers are given tryouts, and the best, of course, will be kept.

11. WISP blows the easiest. A slip may blow easily, depending on what kind of slip it is, and where it is. But any kind of WISP will blow away, being subject to the lightest air currents.

12. BUTTLE is sensible. To bustle, in the appropriate sense, is to work briskly. A trained valet will do this much more than "on occasion." There may well be occasion for the valet to BUTTLE (act as a butler). A valet is not a butler, but it is conceivable that one can do such work.

13. REACH is suitable. Conscientious implies a sailor who works or is on naval duty. Such a sailor would make every effort to REACH his boat properly: on time, and prepared for duty. Any prudent sailor, conscientious or not, will beach his boat properly. Besides, a boat that can be beached is a small one, and is very likely to be personal property.

14. JOT is right. A tot is a child. As such, no question of his importance can ever depend on mere size. All sizes count. A JOT is a small amount. A small amount of radium is more important than a small amount of lead. Since JIT is a vague amount, even JOTs of the same substance may have no importance, depending on the substance.

15. BACK is good. There is no reason for a test pilot to go out of his way to BANK (tilt) a plane. It is an easy maneuver, much easier than the rigorous testing in general. If he is enthused about an advanced design he may certainly go out of his way to BACK it, offer his fullest support for its acceptance.

16. TRAGIC is the word. The very fact that they attended is sufficient proof that all the audience thought enough of the play that was gratis (free of charge) to give it an hour or more of precious time. We do know that some people prefer happy endings, and the clue refers to them. Not everyone who attends a play knows whether it will be a tragedy or not.

Pontiac Symphony Pays Last Tribute to Toscanini

Orchestra's Third Concert of Season Considered Excellent, Creditable

By DORA DAWSON

The Pontiac Symphony Orchestra in its concert Wednesday evening in Lincoln Junior High School paid its loving tribute to the memory of Arturo Toscanini, greatest of conductors, with Grieg's "The Last Spring," pure melody which seems to express regret and resignation.

The third concert of this season then took up its program, opening with the delightful overture to the "Marriage of Figaro," played with spontaneous verve.

Paula Bookstein, violinist and member of the orchestra, was soloist in a Mozart concerto in A major, and immediately proved her fine ability and training, with excellent intonation, smooth and certain bowing and flexible phrasing. The cadenza solo parts were finished productions.

The first part of the program closed with the Intermezzo by Mascagni, a lovely, prayerful composition that is gracious in its effect and spirit on both the musicians and the audience.

To the credit of Francesco DiBlasi, conductor, four numbers played in the second part stirred the audience to great appreciation.

"The Swan of Tuonela" by Sibelius is a hauntingly beautiful composition in which the English horn (alto oboe) solo was played by Lare Wardrop of Detroit with tones of such beauty and minor quality that they live in the memory until heard again.

★ ★ ★

Contrast makes compositions stand out. Interesting, indeed, was Aaron Copeland's "Quiet City," where one feels that he has grasped now and then with interruptions, trumpet skillfully played by James especially with blaring of a Tamburini of Detroit and the contrasting quieting tones of the English horn, Mr. Wardrop again in solo part. In listening, one realized that this musical expression, extremely modern, revealed a stimulating creation.

Next came the "Torgot Dance" by Riisager, who evoked all the fury and wildness of horses racing, stamping and clashing in a wild Asiatic dance on the plains. Here again was definite character and comprehension of what might be expressed through musical sounds.

The program closed with the stirring rhapsody "Espana" by Chabrier.

In all of these more modern numbers, which often are more difficult than traditional musical compositions, the orchestra met the exacting demands and, with the leadership of Mr. DiBlasi, produced another excellent and creditable concert.

Weekend in the Country

Ike Going to Camp David

WASHINGTON (INS) — President and Mrs. Eisenhower were scheduled to leave the White House at 10 a.m. today for a weekend at the presidential retreat near Thurmont, Md.

★ ★ ★

The Eisenhowers planned to take a brief look at their Gettysburg farm, now closed for the winter, before continuing to the lodge in the Catoctin Mountains.

Before leaving, however, the President had two appointments scheduled. They were with former Massachusetts Gov. Christian A. Herter, who becomes under-secretary of state next month, and with Central Intelligence Agency chief Allen Dulles.

Assistant White House News Secretary Murray Snyder said the presidential couple plans to return from the mountain retreat — Camp David — on Sunday evening.

★ ★ ★

He added: "There will be no meetings and no news forthcoming."

Teenage Girls Act Older

(What does the American teenage girl want from life? The University of Michigan Institute for Social Research recently conducted an exhaustive national survey of the "needs and interests" of adolescent girls. The results provided the best profile available of American girls today. The director of the research project, Dr. Elizabeth Douvan, tells in the following article what the center learned of the girls' attitudes about dating, plans for education, work and marriage, their hopes and worries and relations with parents and friends.)

By DR. ELIZABETH DOUVAN
(For International News Service)

The American teenaged girl is precocious in social development, compared to boys of her own age. She is probably also more mature in some ways than her mother was as the same age.

★ ★ ★

In a study we have recently conducted for the Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., we interviewed 2,000 American girls between the ages of 11 and 18.

The girls were chosen by a scientific sampling method that insures representation of all girls in this age group who attend school. From these 2,000 interviews we gain a picture of attitudes and activities of adolescent girls in America.

An important part of social maturity is taking on regular responsibility. Most of the girls in our study have regular tasks to do at home, and a majority of them do some work away from home — for at least a few hours a week.

These outside jobs are often babysitting and running errands, but when they reach 16, many girls hold jobs in offices and stores.

★ ★ ★

Most girls begin dating around 14—and they most often date only on weekends. Very few of them go steady, and the majority of steady daters are girls over 16. Most girls think that the steady date should be postponed until a girl has a chance to be friends with a number of boys.

CLOSER TO GIRLS

Although dating is very important to girls during adolescence, in general they are closer to their girl friends than to the boys they date.

Their friendship with other girls are based on mutual trust and understanding, and they confide in each other. Around the age of 14, girls begin to form stable relationships outside their own families. They have a rigorous code of ethics about friendship.

At the same time that she begins to build strong friendship ties, the girl also yields some of her childhood dependence on her own family. By the time she reaches 16, the average girl is making many of her own choices — about her friends and her activities.

She still wants her parents to set broad rules and standards for her. But in her day-to-day activities, she makes her own decisions. Her parents, in most cases, are encouraging her to do so.

★ ★ ★

How do girls look at the future? What do they want their lives to be like? We found two major themes running through girls' discussion of their future lives. The first is the strong emphasis on feminine ideals and values. The second is the very common desire for social mobility.

★ ★ ★

The jobs that girls hope to have when they reach adulthood express their femininity. They do not choose the traditional professions of doctor and lawyer. Rather, they select jobs that require moderate training and involve working with interesting people.

FAMILIAR TASKS

The most popular jobs are professionalized versions of tasks that women have always performed in the home. Teaching, nursing, and secretarial work are the three most common job aspirations. Girls, much more often than boys, choose a particular job because of a desire to help others.

★ ★ ★

Nearly all girls expect to work for a time when they finish school. But their central goal is to marry and to have children. This is clear in their plans and daydreams about the future. The most popular dream of the adolescent is about getting married and having a home.

Finally, girls reveal their femininity when they name their adult ideals. The person they most want to be like is a woman within the family. The average girl chooses her own mother as an ideal, rather than someone famous. Only one girl in a hundred picks a glamor ideal—like a movie star.

And the reasons they give for choosing a particular ideal stress femininity. They admire women who are kind and helpful to others, and women who are good wives and mothers.

★ ★ ★

Although she wants to be like her mother, the American girl often rejects her family's social position. She hopes for a way of life and social status higher than her parents have known.

This desire for social mobility is seen in her plans for education and work. It shows up again when she describes the kind of man she wants to marry.

WANT EDUCATION

Most girls expect to finish high school, and plan to go on for additional training. Many plan to go to college. The desire to go to college is not often a wish for particular training. Much more often it is a wish for a social experience leading to a pattern of life.

★ ★ ★

The way of life girls want most clearly emerges when they speak of their future mates. The typical girl wants to marry a professional man.

She wants him to be the kind of man who will do well in a profession. He is to be energetic and resourceful, and also must be able to get along well with other people. Very few girls want to marry manual workers or farmers.

These are the things girls want in the future. They enter girls' dreams. More common current concerns, however, are their looks and their popularity ratings, particularly with boys.

Begum Khan Steals Show at Ike's Diplomatic Party

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS)—The bedazzling Begum Aga Kahn stole the show last night at the first White House diplomatic reception since President Eisenhowers' heart attack.

★ ★ ★

The foreign ambassadors were resplendent in their gold-encrusted diplomatic uniforms and colorful decorations. Their wives were jewel-bedecked and stunning, but it was to the 6-foot Begum—the former "Miss France"—that all eyes turned as soon as the Eisenhower handclasp had been received.

Towering above most of the men, in her emerald green sheath studded with matching beads, the wife of the spiritual leader of Ismali Moslems flashed a 52-carat diamond ring, an unbelievable necklace embracing hundreds of glittering diamonds, and a smile to dazzle that most sophisticated of all audiences.

This was her first visit to America; and she was obviously making the most of it. As diplomats crowded around, she exlaimed delightedly: "I'm madly in love with America. Now I see America, I must come again. My husband loves life—perhaps we come in October."

★ ★ ★

When a guest inquired as to the health of her aging, rotund husband she beamed: "His health is good; otherwise I would not be here."

"You know," she continued, chuckling, "I'm his nurse. I nurse him from morning to night. Thank God he's all right and I can be here."

SWORDS CLANGED

Fruit juice flowed like wine from two enormous punchbowls purchased during the Abraham Lincoln regime. Diplomats in full-dress regalia clanged their swords against their knees as they reached across the tables for dainty cakes and sandwiches.

Only Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zaroubin, sporting white-tie-and-tails but no decorations, seemed to stand alone—the loneliest man in the gay assemblage.

Promptly at 9 p.m. the red-coated Marine Band struck up "Hail to the Chief," as Ike in white tie and Mamie in her citron Inaugural Ball gown strode down the red-carpeted stairs to greet the brilliant assemblage.

Some of the diplomats, however, were not so prompt. The Eisenhowers had already taken their places in the oval Blue Room to launch the receiving line before the Japanese ambassador and his kimona-clad wife tripped hurriedly into the White House. Twenty minutes later, the French ambassador and Madame Alphand arrived.

★ ★ ★

As the guests shook the presidential hand and passed into the State dining room, they found—for the first time in memory of Washington old-timers—another receiving line in progress.

This was formed by Vice President and Mrs. Nixon, with an occasional assist from Secretary of State and Mrs. John Foster Dulles.

NEW BALL GOWN

Second Lady Pat, unlike the First Lady, was wearing a brand new ball gown of beige and gold brocade, designed by Elizabeth Arden. With it she wore her inaugural necklace of rhinestones and pearl pendants.

★ ★ ★

The diplomatic reception, always the most colorful of the White House season, seemed even livelier than usual after the two-year respite.

Although dean of the diplomatic corps Munthe de Morgenstierne, the Norwegian ambassador, had outgrown his diplomatic uniform during the interim, and had to wear his soup-and-fish, most of the envoys outshown their wives with the brilliant plummage of their hats and the colors of their sashes.

Pair Can Work Together Happily

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"No husband can teach his wife how to drive," an irate woman writes, "and no husband and wife could work together successfully in a business. I've seen plenty of couples try it, and they were at each other's throats in no time.

★ ★ ★

"Why do you keep telling us about couples who have successful retirement businesses?"

For each couple that bickers, I can give this reader a couple who work together serenely, happily and successfully. But there are certain very important points which must be borne in mind.

Here is a checklist for husbands and wives who want to work together — or any family members, for that matter!

1. Is the project of real interest to both of you? A shop or business which you embark on just for money, with no real interest, will tire, bore and irritate you and you'll be screaming at each other in no time.

So be sure you like, and are deeply interested in, the venture.

★ ★ ★

2. Have you enough capital to help you through the first year?

Too little money is a major reason for the failure of many new businesses. It is also a terrific strain to the parties involved.

NERVES WORN THIN

I've known couples who started with too little capital and, while they sometimes slid through and made a successful business, their nerves had worn so thin that they were hardly speaking to each other.

★ ★ ★

3. Do you plan to handle different capacities and are your duties and responsibilities well-defined in advance?

If you are wise, one will handle buying, bookkeeping, accounting and records, while the other handles sales, advertising and display. At any rate, both shouldn't try to do the same things or you'll get in each other's hair.

4. Do you have a healthy after-hours social life? Too often, when couples begin a business, they drop everything else from their lives.

Naturally, you'll be working hard, but there's no need to talk shop incessantly, nor to live your business waking and sleeping.

★ ★ ★

Even if you work late, try to drop the shop when you close it up. A change of pace in conversation and dates with friends are absolutely essential if you're to remain friendly with each other.

SUCCESSFUL PROJECT

If these points are remembered, most couples can carry on a successful project.

★ ★ ★

If you are thinking of a retirement project, send me a stamped self-addressed envelope care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my list of recommended books in the field.

Other Actresses Disagree With Grace

Stardom, Families Mixed

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Grace Kelly has junked her career for marriage and motherhood, but most other Hollywood beauties are convinced they can have all three!

★ ★ ★

"I wouldn't give up my career for my children," actress Janet Leigh declared, "because I don't think it's necessary.

"I think I can be a better mother by having a lot of other interests and being in the swim of things."

This realistic attitude is reflected by numerous other top film actresses who recently had children, including Yvonne de Carlo, Shirley Maclaine, Debbie Reynolds, Marge Champion, Jean Simmons and Gale Storm.

★ ★ ★

Princess Grace seems to be quite alone in her determination to give up her career for the homey delights of husband and child.

DEBBIE DETERMINED

New mama Debbie Reynolds, whose Carrie Frances, along with Lucille Ball's 4-year-old Desi, was one of the most publicized babies in the world until Grace's Princess Caroline came along, says having children isn't going to affect her career one bit.

★ ★ ★

"My children will arrive just as they will," Debbie said positively, "but I don't intend giving up my career for them because I have worked long and hard at it and fortunately I am able to make movies and still have a lot of free time.

Most of the expectant mothers of Hollywood have no reluctance about working and being pregnant all at the same time.

Shirley Maclaine was on location in "Around the World in 80 Days" when she discovered she was going to have a baby.

"For three months I thought I had the virus," she laughed, "and then I found out there was a baby on the way. After that I did two TV shows and was back at the studio doing some dubbing 10 days after the baby was born.

"I don't know why people should make such a fuss over having children. It's the easiest and most natural thing in the world!"

★ ★ ★

More film stars are having children now than ever before in the history of Hollywood and Marge Champion thinks it's because movietown beauties are "more realistic."

NORMAL LIVING

Hollywood doesn't have the wild reputation it once had," she observed. "And I think the public heartily approves of entertainers having home lives similar to their own."

The time is past when a star like Francis X. Bushman was literally ruined after it was disclosed the matinee idol was married and had six children!

Nowadays, if stars do not have kids of their own they adopt them as evidenced by Jane Russell, June Haver and Dale Evans.

Even Yvonne de Carlo, who never stopped traveling long enough to marry and have children, finally wed stunt man Bob Morgan and now has a 5-month-old son, Bruce.

★ ★ ★

"My life is really complete now," the brown-eyed actress said. "The only difference in my career is that instead of running all over the world to make films, I'll just make them in Hollywood, or as close to Hollywood as possible."

Homemakers View Furnishing Films

Modern Homemakers Extension Club gathered at the home of Mrs. Volly Yaniszesky on North Avery road to view four movies of home furnishings.

Mrs. Daniel Peterson and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson showed the pictures at the Tuesday night event. Mrs. Norman Seator was guest. A program on safety will be held Feb. 9 at the home of Mrs. Herman Stein on Coseyburn drive.

Tell Angry Child How YOU Feel

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Gary was balancing himself on the sofa arm when his mother came into the living room. As he expected her to applaud his skill, he was shocked when she rushed at him crying "Can't I take my eyes off you a minute?"

Swept from his glorious, commanding height on the sofa arm, he was overcome with bitterness at her interference in his life. Launcing a kick at her, he flung himself into a tantrum.

★ ★ ★

His mother said, "You're angry with Mommy. You hate her. That's all right. All little children sometimes get angry with their Mommies."

But this child-guidance formula, guaranteed to soothe Gary didn't. It made him madder. Losing all pateince, he launched another kick at the interfering creature who wasn't satisfied with telling him what to do but had to tell him how he felt as well.

An angry child is quieted not by what we say but by the feeling behind what we say. If we truly feel it is all right for Gary to resent us, he is comforted to hear us say so.

★ ★ ★

He is relieved to know that, though anger has betrayed him into trying to kick us out of his life, we intend to remain in it and take care of him. He is inexpressibly soothed to learn that his anger doesn't impress us.

POOR FORMULA

But when, like Gary, he feels we are afraid of it, the child-guidance incantation can serve us no better than the sorcerer's magic served the apprentice in the fairy-tale.

Inexperienced parents usually feel a little scared of their youngster's anger. When this is true, let them not lie—and pretend they feel it is quite "all right."

★ ★ ★

Instead of telling Gary what he feels, let them tell him what they feel. Let them say, "I don't want to hurt you. No matter how you kick and scream, you are safe as a little nut in its shell with me."

To make a child believe that his anger at us is innocent and quite all right, we have to first acknowledge our own family angers.

It means that behind our rages at our own parents, our own brothers and sisters — the very feelings of which we felt most ashamed and were punished for —we have discovered not badness at all, but fear of betrayal, of being abandoned.

It is the tenderness we have been able to feel toward our own childhood anger that we give to the anger of our youngster.

When Does Housemaid Receive Tip?

Are Dinner Guests Supposed to Leave Some Money?

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "Every once in a while we are invited to my uncle's house for dinner. He has a maid who is paid by the week and receives a very good salary. She does not, however, live in the house.

"I noticed the last time we were there for dinner that one of my cousins gave the maid a tip. It never occurred to me to tip a maid in a private house and I wonder if this is proper and expected?"

Answer: A tip to a maid in a private house should never be given unless you are a house-guest for at least over one night.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My brother introduced me to a business associate of his the other day, as follows: 'Mr. Smith, may I introduce you to my sister.' He did not mention that my name is Mrs. Jones. I say this introduction was in adequate. He says the fact that I am his sister was all that mattered. Which of us is right?'

Answer: If you were unmarried, he would be right. But since you are married and have a different name, you are right. To say "my sister" would naturally indicate that your name is the same as his. He should have added after "my sister, Mrs. Jones."

Hankering for fur? Very narrow leopard belts provide a dressy look for the straight black sheath and at a reasonable price, too.

The BOUFFANT HAIR STYLE trend has grown into a more practical and wearable flair for now into spring.

But Interest in Religion Declines as They Grow Older

Most Teenagers Attend Church Services Regularly

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

Before you wash your hands of the current generation and bemoan the future of America, listen for a moment to what the nation's young people have to say about religion.

★ ★ ★

Are teenagers really interested in religion? Do they ever talk about it when the gang gets together? How do they stand on church attendance?

To get answers, we ran several surveys throughout the country and sampled teenaged opinion on religion in general and on their own religious experiences in particular.

We found that the overwhelming majority of young people regularly attend some religious service.

Counting all faiths, the total church attendance among teenagers surveyed was 61 per cent, a 2 per cent increase since we made a similar survey two years ago.

★ ★ ★

The current study indicated that Catholic youngsters regularly attend their church in the largest numbers, with Protestants second and Jewish boys and girls a somewhat distant third.

LESS INTERESTED

Three out of four of those who did not regularly attend church felt that they had a religion.

The survey showed, however, that as the teenager gets older, he or she becomes less interested in religion. The biggest drop was experienced in the 17 to 23-year-old group or those out of school and working.

★ ★ ★

Are teenagers serious about religion? Yes, answered 71 per cent of the boys and 67 per cent of the girls.

Do young people try to understand and follow what their religion teaches? Again, the boys led the girls by a 64 to 61 per cent score.

In analyzing their own age group, 29 per cent thought teenagers today were more religious than their predecessors, 14 per cent thought they were less religious and 55 per cent saw no change between the present and the past generation.

★ ★ ★

Do teenagers regard themselves as more religious than adults? No, not for the most part.

Only 17 per cent regarded themselves as more religious than adults. Nearly 82 per cent gave the nod to adults. About 1 per cent had no opinion.

An MIT student and his girl friend meditate in the new non-sectarian chapel on the Cambridge, Mass., campus.

Do they ever discuss religion when the gang gets together? Four out of five answered that the subject comes up "from time to time," although it is far from being a regular topic of discussion.

Girls (83.2 per cent) are more inclined to discuss religion than boys (78 per cent) and tend to regard it as a more important subject of conversation than the boys do.

★ ★ ★

"We talk about death and what comes after," said a Midwestern high school junior. "Sometimes you just want to ask your friends what they think about God and evil and other things taught in church."

Despite the high figures on church attendance, only one out of four teenagers said they would end up in church if the choice was between going out on a date or attending a religious service.

Boys (82 per cent) would be a little more inclined to skip church for a date than girls (79 per cent).

★ ★ ★

A question on whether being loyal to his religion makes a teenager more or less popular with his crowd brought very few answers.

About 10 per cent said it made a teenager more popular and a surprising 13 per cent said it made him less popular. The rest either had no answer or said it made no difference in popularity.

Teenaged opinion was sharply divided on whether the churches were making sufficient effort to attract young people.

★ ★ ★

"Right at the moment," confessed an 18-year-old Little Rock, Ark., girl, "church bores me a little."

But another girl in the same city answered, "I don't know about others but I'm completely satisfied with my religion."

A 19-year-old Butler, Mo., girl thought that the approach of her church was "too harsh and demanding, rather than filled with love and forgiveness. Religion seems to be frightening away teenagers instead of pulling them in."

★ ★ ★

In general, the survey answers indicated that church-sponsored youth activities are on the increase throughout the country and are gaining in popularity among young people.

But in many cases the answers showed that the teenager wants religion but he is not sure whether religion wants him.

A Springfield, Mo., girl, age 19, said she thought religion "should be on a more intellectual level and not so flowery and emotional."

Several teenagers in various parts of the country said flatly that "religion does not appeal to the younger element."

They suggested that churches put more emphasis on teenaged problems and attempt more social and recreational programs for young people.

"I know in my church," said an 18-year-old Arkansas girl, "more programs should be organized for teens."

Up-in-Back Is Paris Hair Trend

PARIS (INS)—A top Paris hair stylist forecasts that women will wear their hair "back and up" this spring.

Guillaume is the hair artist who thinks women will be showing the nape of the neck in a feminine and pretty manner in 1957.

But don't ask him about hair lengths, because this is the kind of answer you'll get:

You can't measure hair styles by inches," he emphasized. "It's all a matter of individual proportions, just as it is with the skirt length. Generally speaking, however, the fashion in Paris is for slightly longer hair cut in a way to permit different hairdos."

He stresses the importance of an adaptable hairdo for the smart woman with these words:

"Women do take the trouble to change clothes when they go out in the evening. They ought to realize the magic power of hair and change their coiffures as well."

Guillaume says the fashion trend today is toward the "natural look" in hair styles, but adds:

"Be bolder with your hair. Wear it fluffier for a youthful look during the day, but very neat and more ornate in the evening."

Fine filet is also fascinating to crochet — particularly this lovely basket-and-butterfly design. You'll receive many admiring comments when your friends see this beauty on your table!

Pattern No. 5680 contains crochet directions for scarf measuring approximately 15" x 34"; stitch illustrations; filet diagram.

Send 25c in coins, your name, address and the pattern number to Anne Cabot, The Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Now available—the colorful 1957 Needlework Album containing dozens of lovely designs from which to choose more patterns in crochet, embroidery and knit — plus three gift patterns, directions printed in book. Only 25c a copy!

Mustard Plaster Tip

Doctors advise washing the skin gently with soap and water immediately after removing a mustard plaster. Follow up by applying petroleum jelly and cover with a clean warm cloth.

TEENAGE FUN

Up until the big thaw the first of this week, skijoring has been major outdoor activity for a group of teenage Bloomfieldites — and who knows, by this weekend they may be at it again.

Included in the group, all of whom keep their horses at the Grant Stables on Squirrel road, are Susan and Peter Fisher, Howie Miller, who comes in from Rochester; Heather Campbell, Bobbi Couzens, Randi Grant and Debby and Cindy Scott.

Incidentally, the Scott girls and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl E. Scott, are no longer lone residents at Woodcrest Lakes, the old Briggs property. Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGinnis moved into their new house last summer, and within hailing distance from them are Mr. and Mrs. Washburne Wright.

Another new resident on the property is sculptor Marshall Fredericks and his family. The former Walbri stables are being used as a studio by Mr. Fredericks, and his house is on the site of the old greenhouses.

Newlywed Couple to Live in Redford

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald H. Thompson of Draper avenue announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Peggy Ann, to John Alan Walker. Mr. and Mrs. George C. Walker of Highland Park are John's parents.

The couple attends Eastern Michigan College where John will be graduated on Saturday. They will make their home in Redford where he has accepted a position in the public school system.

When a recipe specifies "lightly beaten eggs," the eggs should be beaten only until the yolks and whites are just mixed.

Booster Class of First Methodist Church will meet Saturday at 8 p.m. at the church.

Mother Should Put Home Above Civic Leadership

Community Interest Doesn't Make Up for Neglecting Her Family

By RUTH MILLETT

It's fine for a mother to be a civic leader. But the fact that she is president of this and head of that doesn't make up to her children for her neglect.

For instance: Dorothy has a mother who is intelligent, charming and a hard worker in civic affairs. She leads a busy life and feels she is making the most of her life.

But Dorothy doesn't have it so good. As a plain-looking teenager who is shy and unsure of herself, she needs a mother's help, wisdom, encouragement and just plain contriving to become one of the teenage crowd.

She needs a mother to help her pick out just the right clothes, to see that she has the most becoming hair style; to be at home to listen to her problems and help her work them out; to make it easy for her to entertain her friends; to do all of the things a wise and observing mother can do to help a daughter find a place for herself in her own teenage world.

But Dorothy's mother doesn't have time for these things. In fact, she is so busy "doing good," she doesn't even have time to see how much Dorothy needs her or how badly Dorothy is being cheated in comparison with other girls her age.

When a woman neglects her first job, that of being a wife and mother and homemaker, there is nobody to take over.

But other jobs can be filled by someone else. So every mother, before taking on an outside activity, ought to ask herself one important question: "Can I do it without neglecting the job that only I can do?"

Consult Doctor About Acne Scars

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "We three are friends with different problems and we hope you can help us. First, recently you mentioned that acne scars could be removed. Is there a doctor in this city who does this? Is it expensive and how long does it take?"

A. The correct answers to your questions would depend on your individual problem and situation. You should discuss these with a dermatologist or plastic surgeon. If you wish, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and I will send you the name of one who is well-qualified.

★ ★ ★

"Could you recommend some exercises for developing one breast? One is smaller than the other."

A. Raise the arm on the small side overhead. Bend the elbow slightly and at the same time clench the fist HARD and turn the elbow in toward the face a little. Hold. Relax and continue.

Another: Stand facing someone. Bend the elbow of the arm on the small side, hand shoulder height, palm facing forward. Place your hand against the hand of the one facing you.

Ask her to push her hand toward you as you push yours toward her. She should not push so hard that you are unable to move your hand forward. In other words, you move your hand forward against resistance. Relax and continue.

★ ★ ★

Q. "I am 18 years old, 5 feet 4 inches tall and weigh 120 pounds. I have an average, but slightly-toward-heavy, build. Am I overweight?"

A. Unless your frame is very heavy you are some overweight, from 5 to 10 pounds.

This exercise is calculated to develop one breast. In this position, clench the fist hard. Hold. Relax and continue.

Q. "I am 12 years old. I think I am too small, so will you tell me what's wrong? Here are my measurements—bust 29, waist 24½, and hips 32½ inches."

A. Your waist and hips are in good proportion. A small bust is natural at your age. In a few years it will fill out. Don't worry!

★ ★ ★

Q. "We are having a house built and will be moving in soon. Is it correct to send out invitations to a housewarming or should we make a public announcement?"

A. You can send out invitations or telephone your friends and invite them.

Q. "I am 26 years old, 5 feet 5 inches tall and weigh 135 pounds. I have been on a diet and have lost 12 pounds recently. How much more do you think I should lose to be just right for my height? My measurements are bust 36, waist 25, hips 37½ inches. What should they be?"

A. Your weight is just about right unless you have a very small build. If so, you might lose another five pounds for perfection. Your measurements are in good ratio. You might concentrate on hip-slimming exercises for a little loss in that measurement, but you now are within the allowable for a good figure.

★ ★ ★

If you would like our leaflet for bust development send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Peel Yams Wrap Up and Bake

Mrs. Dodd Keeps Potatoes Moist in Aluminum Foil

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

It's such fun when homemakers give us new recipes they've just discovered. If you like sweet potatoes, you'll want to try this method of baking them.

Mrs. James Dodd is today's cook. Although her own family is grown up, she has children around all the time—her grandchildren and other children for whom she cares. She is a devoted church worker. Sewing is one of her pastimes.

BAKED SWEET POTATOES
By Mrs. James Dodd

Allow one sweet potato for each serving. Peel the potatoes. Place on a square of aluminum foil. Add a small pat of butter to each side, season with salt and pepper. Close the foil around the potato. Bake in a 400 degree oven about one hour, or until potatoes are tender. They will keep warm in the foil wrappers if second helpings are desired.

New Style Craze in Spain Features Old-Type Cape

Designer Bases Exciting Collection on Students' Garb of Middle Ages

MADRID (AP)—To be in fashion in Spain in the winter of 1957—and particularly if it's after five—you have to date yourself circa 1600.

Jose Maria Marbel, young Madrid designer, takes you right back to the universities of medieval Spain by basing his entire collection on the "eslavina," a short cape worn by students here during the middle ages.

Made of velvet and brocade for evening wear and fashioned of tweed, fur or fleecy wool for daytime, the student cape lent an indisputable Spanish flavor to the collection unveiled here recently. Scarcely a dress walked alone without being topped by an adaptation of the "eslavina."

Different in cut from the capes that swept the Paris openings, Marbel's "eslavinas" were cut close to the body in front and flared into fullness in the back. Some of them sported giant, loose collars, lending them the cocoon-type look.

In fact Senorita Madrid certainly will be cozy and snug this winter if she follows Marbel's advice. Almost every one of his coats and suits were fur-lined and definitely fur-trimmed. Many of his dress-coat ensembles featured hamster fur lining, reminiscent of grandfather's winter coat.

One of the most attractive creations shown was a stone-grey herringbone tweed suit topped with a hipbone-length "eslavina" lined in Black Persian lamb and topped with a square-brimmed fur toque.

The Moorish influence was apparent in Marbel's festive dresses. Adaptations of the harem's skirt appeared in every one of his chiffon gowns. All of these were also highlighted by giant roses veiled with the transparent material.

PHS Students Weary From Excess Exam Studies

By JACK HENDRICKSON

Students at Pontiac High School were like walking "Zombies" this week.

It seemed they were afraid to open their mouths for fear of leaving an escape route for all the knowledge they had crammed into it in the two weeks before exams this week. Teachers were more quiet than usual, too.

However, John Youngpeter's Biology Club is working on its projects for the coming annual April Science Fair. The particular project which interests the class is the experiment of feeding algae to mice as a supplement to their diet. Jerry Powers and Ronald Hoekman are in charge of this project.

On some chicken farms algae is used in the chicken feed. It was found that the chickens gained by more than four per cent over the chickens on a regular diet. Some live stock farms also use it.

Algae has a possibility of being food for human consumption. Right now it is being used in flour in Japan. Algae, in biological terms, is one celled plants; "moss" or "pond scum."

It will be a good thing for our increasing population. For algae can be grown at 30 to 40 tons per acre a year, as compared to grain yielding only two to three tons per acre for the same time.

COCHAIRMEN OF FAIR

Jim Shaw and Jim Livingstone are co-chairmen of the 1957 science fair, Apr. 12 and 13. They are inviting elementary schools to enter projects for the first time this year.

Youngpeter hopes to encourage an interest in science in elementary school also, and an active interest by making projects. Anyone interested in science may enter projects in the fair.

BIOLOGY EXPERIMENT — Whether rats will thrive on algae is the experiment now being performed by Pontiac High School's biology classes. Above teacher John Youngpeter, (center) checks the experimental rats along with students Philip Francis (left) and Jim Livingstone (center). This is one of the projects that will be shown at the annual PHS Science Fair coming in April.

This being the first year for the PHS Future Homemakers of America Club Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, club adviser, is having the officers from the Avondale FHA Club install the Pontiac High School FHA officers.

Since this installation will be held on Feb. 14 they will have a Valentines party afterward.

Student Union officers Harry VanMatre, student manager; Pat Clark, treasurer; and Helen Seybert, cashier, under the leadership of faculty advisor Ralph Rotsel, have once more broken all previous membership records. Some 1846 students paid their fees to help the Student Union in its continuing growth.

Joke books for the Dearborn Veterans Hospital are in their final stage in Iama C. Hook's Latin Club. They will be sent to the hospital through the Red Cross.

Latin Club plans include a Roman Festival for the celebration of Easter, their biannual publication Epistolae Scholae for easter, and some charitable cause to donate the "Minerva's Money for Mercy" fund.

Neil Gray is organizing the Foreign Language Department, of which he is chairman, for the annual Poetry Recital late in May to be held at Michigan State Normal.

He is getting the French club and his own Spanish Club to prepare skits, songs and poetry. College students will give them a tour of the campus, put on a play for the visitors entertainment, and serve refreshments.

At Marion Lahner's next Projectionists Club meeting they plan to show a short film taken recently at John Maturo's "Pizza Party" for the graduating class.

St. Michael Senior Receives Award

By JUDY NIEDJELSKI

The Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow in St. Michael High School is Loretta Lauinger.

She received the highest score in a written examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes, administration Dec. 4, to senior girls in the graduating class.

Her examination paper will be entered in competition to name this state's candidate for the title of All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow and will also be considered for the runnerup award in the state. For her achievement she received an award pin.

Monday morning, Margaret Mary Holland, Dean of women at Nazareth College, gave the senior girls a preview of college life.

The Sodality at St. Michael sponsored a "tag day" on Wednesday. Proceeds went to the Hungarian Relief Fund.

Special Programs Honor Students

9-A Graduates Head for High School

This was graduation week for all the 9A students who leave for Pontiac High School to begin the second semester.

Special graduation programs were held in all five of the city's junior high schools on Wednesday and Thursday of this week and parents and friends attended.

AT EASTERN

Autographs and farewells, class wills and prophecies, are highlighting this week's news at Eastern. Seventy-three ninth graders will leave to enter Pontiac High School next week.

A special 9A edition of the school newspaper, the Arrow, appeared Thursday morning in time to be circulated and autographed by the departing 9A's.

Graduation exercises were held in the auditorium at 10 a.m. Thursday with the Rev. Edward W. Auchard, associated pastor of Pontiac's First Presbyterian Church giving the graduation address.

Students enjoyed a holiday Thursday afternoon and Friday while teachers toiled over semester averages and completed record files and report cards which will be given out next week.

Two new teachers will join Eastern's teaching staff Monday morning. They are Mrs. Ruth Scribner who will teach Seventh and Eighth grade speech and Donald Friebe, typing instructor.

Eastern's basketball team defeated Lincoln by a score of 47-38 Tuesday afternoon. The Junior Varsity team lost by a score of 33-32.

New hall guard, noon guards and alternates for the new semester were elected Wednesday.

AT WASHINGTON

Monday morning during first hour a newsfilm, put out by the Detroit News, was shown to all the students. These films are of news events which occured during the previous month.

Looking for its third win in four starts the Washington basketball team played Madison, Tuesday on Washington's court. This was the Brave's second home game.

Wednesday evening a dance, put on by the ninth grade, was held in the school's gym from 7 to 9. It was called the Sno-Ball and all decorations, refreshments, and planning was done by the ninth grade.

Thursday was the big day for all 9A's. — graduation day. In all there were 37 students who are leaving Washington, all of them from homeroom 217.

Wednesday was a big day at Washington. In the morning an Honor and Awards assembly was held. This assembly honored 105 boys and girls who would receive gold and silver W's. There were two girls who received their gold W with guard. They were Mary Conrad and Eleanor Miteff. The gold W and guard is the highest honor you can receive at Washington and it is the goal of every student.

AT LINCOLN

Lincolnites are closing the first semester today, and after a weekend of rest will be ready to start the second semester on Monday. When greater and finer experiences in education will be in store for them.

The 9A's, 74 strong, marched across the Lincoln stage for the last time, as the graduation processional led them to seats of honor. State Representative Leslie Hudson gave the class a fine talk on the values of an educational background in making a life happy and successful. Jerry Smith directed the chorus in appropriate music for the graduation. Last farewells were said and the group left for an orientation lecture at their new school, Pontiac High, with all the best wishes of the whole school.

The Railsplitters closed the basketball season with two games at Eastern Junior High on Tuesday after school. The Varsity lost to the Easterners by a score of 47 to 38. The Junior Varsity picked up a close game from the second team at Eastern by a single point — 33-32.

With the loss of the 9A cheerleaders, new apprentices have been working hard to be named to the squad. The field of contenders has been narrowed down to six hardworking contestants who practice daily on old and new yells. Sharon Mondy has been directing the trainees—Sandra Puckett, Sara Wood, Georgia McSkulin, Peggy Wilson, Madeline Nance, and Janet North. The final squad will be named at the beginning of the next semester. John Buchanan is sponsor of the squad.

The Inaugural Ceremony was televised on Monday in the auditorium with the civic and social studies classes as special guests. It was a unique educational experience for all citizens to be able to view this historic event. Several questions arose which caused much discussion: Should a TV audience rise when the "Star Spangled Banner" is played: Should a TV audience rise as a tribute to the President?

AT MADISON

The speech class at Madison under the direction of instructor Patricia Clark, last week presented a complete play over the public address system of the school.

The radio-type play told the story of a boy who quit school and the troubles he ran into.

Midwinter Exam Blues Hit Hard!

Midwinter blues hit area school students this week as final semester exams cropped up. A slight vacation gave the needed rest however before second semesters begin on Monday, and students still found time to plan and attend dances.

AT CLARKSTON

The students of Clarkston High School had the privilege of seeing a movie with the title of "Our Mr. Sun," presented by the Student Council.

The movie was about what "Our Mr. Sun" really did and will continue to do for us. The movie was for an educational purpose.

The Hi-Y held a meeting in the Clarkston High School Gymnasium at 7 p.m. on Thursday. Morie Tubergan from the YMCA in Pontiac was there to show the members a movie on the functions of the Hi-Y clubs. After which the members enjoyed themselves in a game of volleyball.

The Hi-Y collected the sum of "$37.26" from the March of Dimes dance they held at noon last Friday, in the gymnasium.

The Debate Team of Clarkston is putting a dance on tonight. The name of the dance is the "Semester Stomp" and it will be the last dance of the first semester.

AT AVONDALE

Students at Avondale High School are busy preparing for the annual formal Junior Prom to be held tomorrow night from 9 to 12 in the gym.

A change in the staff of the school paper has been made by William Lyle who appointed Bill Johnson editor-in-chief with Anne McKinnon as managing editor and Carol Hennin, business manager.

Officers elected at the meeting of the Future Teachers Club last Monday are as follows: president, Carol Atwood; vice president, Frank Harris; secretary, Anne McKinnon, and treasurer, Annette Wheeler.

Dr. T. Larkin of Michigan State University will show a film to the student body next Wednesday. The film on teaching will be shown to create student interest.

Avondale's freshman debators, Irvin Gingrich and Dale Stuart, will journey to Troy Monday. The debate will determine which school will gain possession of the gavel. The gavel will then be displayed in the trophy case.

'Dale' basketball players will travel to Fitzgerald tonight as they enter the second half of the league competition. The team is holding a second place tie with Madison.

AT LAKE ORION

Candidates for the Lake Orion queen to be crowned at half-time in the game Friday between Roseville and Orion are: Judy Harry and Eleanor Gingell, seniors; Sharron Lamothe and Mary Lynn Shoup, juniors; Gail Cook and Beth Woodward, sophomores; Penny Christopher and Elaine Powers, freshmen.

On Monday, at the invitation of the executive board of the Class B League, officers and advisors of the seven schools represented will organize an Oakland County B League Student Council and elect their officers.

Eugene Sura, assistant principal of Lake Orion High School will be the chairman. The group is being formed to correlate student councils, to foster closer relations among the schools and to promote exchange assemblies.

Thursday night's band booster meeting in which all three bands participated was a real treat for those who attended.

Tuesday night at 7:30 James Hoag, Jean Wertenberger, Eugene Sura and Roy Vanette met with the students interested in further education. They discussed how to enroll and courses offered in various fields and colleges available in the business, academic, and technical areas.

Halls at St. Fred Quiet

By MARGARET DRAKE

Nancy Tracy, a senior, was awarded the Betty Crocker Homemaking award at St. Frederick. Nancy scored highest and is eligible for the All-American Homemaking Awards and will participate in state contests.

★ ★ ★

All was quiet in the hall of St. Fred as students layed down their books and prepared for the annual retreat which ended this afternoon. This was a welcome rest after exams earlier this week.

Tonight the boys' basketball team meets St. Mary of Royal Oak. Hopes are high because of last week's victory over St. Rita. Sunday the girls' team challenges their toughest rivals, St. Mary of Mt. Clemens. They too are hopeful after victories over St. Michael of Pontiac and St. James of Ferndale.

Last night the team played Pontiac High girls in a scrimmage game.

The Social Workers Club held a meeting Tuesday to draw up and ratify their constitution. The club will tour various institutions throughout the Pontiac area. They have also planned a tour of Carmel Hall in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Plans are being made by classes and the various organizations for many pre-Lenten socials sandwiched between bake sales and sports events.

Dock Facilities OK'd

DETROIT (AP) — Construction of permanent docking facilities in Detroit for the Great Lakes passenger ship Aquarama has been approved by the Common Council.

It voted to accept $39,680 from the Michigan-Ohio Navigation Co. as three years' advance rental on the dock, to be built at the foot of 24th street. The ship will operate between Cleveland and Detroit starting this summer.

Monroe Might Annex

MONROE (AP) — Proposals to annex portions of Frenchtown and Monroe townships to the city of Monroe are under study by the board of supervisors.

County Law Group Elects President

Waterford Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta Wednesday was elected president of the Oakland County Law Enforcement Association.

The association, comprised of law enforcement heads from each police department in Oakland County, met at the Sheriff's office to ratify a proposed constitution and a set of by-laws.

Other officers elected were Walled Lake Police Chief James Decker, first vice-president; Farmington Police Chief Joseph DeVriendt, second vice-president; Wolverine Lake Police Chief Theodore Robertson, secretary, and Oxford Police Chief Albert Roberts, treasurer.

Elected to two-year terms on the board of directors were Capt. Oliver Lemeaux, of the Pontiac Police Department, and James Parker, police chief of Holly. Serving one-year terms will be Oakland County Sheriff's Safety Director Stephen Navarre and Capt. Robert Richardson, of the Madison Heights Police Department.

★ ★ ★

Four major purposes of the association were outlined at the meeting.

1. For the separate police agencies in the county to know each other better.

CHIEF FRANK VAN ATTA

2. To work out common problems.

3. To encourage cooperation among all law enforcement agencies.

4. In order to have a representative body to Lansing to present suggested legislation as a unit when the occasion demands it.

The association, conceived only a month ago, already has begun work on two projects "of immediate consideration."

Steps have been taken for this organization to work in conjunction with the Oakland County Judicial Association to set up a traffic school for violators.

Under the program, the violator would be put on probation, in many cases, instead of receiving a fine or jail sentence.

As soon as a probation officer is appointed, the program will begin. It is anticipated that such an officer will be named by February 1.

Steps have also been taken to establish a central file system for the county to be located in the Sheriff's office. This too will be an Oakland County first in the state.

★ ★ ★

With the central file system, judges and justices will be able to obtain reports on violators appearing before them in a matter of minutes by phone. It now often takes hours to receive a report on a violator by teletype from Lansing.

★ ★ ★

It was announced today that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors allotted $4,720 for the establishment of this central file system in the Sheriff's office. The system should be ready for use in a few months, a spokesman said.

The law enforcement association will hold meetings on the second Wednesday of every month. The next meeting will take place Feb. 13.

Skinny Chickens Topic at Scheduled Meeting

LANSING (AP)—Skinny southern chickens will be among the subjects discussed at the 43rd annual conference of the Michigan Weights and Measures Association Jan. 29-31 at Grand Rapids.

Miles A. Nelson, Association president and head of the foods and standards division of the state agriculture department, said southern states have been sending poultry into Michigan as much as five per cent short weight.

Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee have been the principal offenders, he said.

The increasing use of pre-packaging scales in food industries will be another conference topic.

But What About Love?

TOKYO — Crown Prince Akihiti of Japan, describing the kind of wife he wants: "A girl who has both parents living, is good looking, not too tall, but slender, able to make witty remarks, a sports lover and music lover and capable of playing hostess at a reception."

Guard Rejects Idea of 6-Month Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Guard chiefs of nearly all the states reject the Pentagon plan to require six months training for all new guard enlistees starting April 1.

They want youths under the age of 18½ years—which is the draft minimum—let off with an 11 weeks course that would fit into a school vacation.

A spokesman said the vote was unanimous yesterday at a meeting here attended by adjutants general and other National Guard general officers from 47 states and territories.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh, president of the National Guard Assn. which sponsored the meeting, proposed the alternative 11 weeks plan for guardsmen from 17 to 18½ years old. He said it will be pushed in Congress when a House Armed Services subcommittee starts hearings Feb. 4 on reserve programs.

Walsh has contended the six-month training requirement, which already applies to recruits in other reserve components, would wreck guard recruiting.

'The FBI Story — G-Men Go to War

Move Quickly Against Aliens

(Editor's Note: The following article is the seventeenth in a series of exciting episodes taken from "The FBI Story," by Pulitzer-Prizewinner Don Whitehead.)

★ ★ ★

By DON WHITEHEAD

The torpedo planes and dive bombers hit the fleet at Peal Harbor first.

Then came the horizontal bombers and after them a third wave of dive bombers. From 7:55 a.m. until 9:45—110 minutes—they blasted the fleet and strafed the neat rows of Army, Navy and Marine planes parked on the aprons of airfields.

The bombs were still falling when the Honolulu special agent in charge, Robert L. Shivers, called FBI headquarters in Washington. It was Sunday, Dec. 7, 1941.

★ ★ ★

The telephone girl at headquarters switched the urgent call to the FBI's private line to New York City, where J. Edgar Hoover had gone for the weekend.

Then she put in a call to Griffith Stadium, where other top officials of the FBI were watching the pro football game between the Washington Redskins and Philadelphia Eagles. Assistant to the Director Edward A. Tamm reached the telephone in time to hear Shivers tell Hoover:

★ ★ ★

"The Japanese are bombing Peal Harbor. There is no doubt about it—those planes are Japanese. It's war. You may be able to hear the explosions yourself. Listen!" Shivers held the telephone to an open window and Hoover and Tamm heard the crash of bombs and the explosions of the warships.

PLANS INTO EFFECT

The FBI director ordered Shivers and Tamm to put into effect immediately the war plans which had been worked out months before.

Tamm rushed back to the box and whispered to his colleagues, "The Japs are bombing Pearl Harbor! Come on!" In New York City, Hoover was sped to La Guardia field to catch a plane back to Washington.

Two days earlier, Hoover had instructed his agents to be ready at any time for "the immediate apprehension of Japanese aliens in your district who have been recommended for custodial detention."

Now the whole FBI organization was alerted. Each office knew precisely what to do.

★ ★ ★

The FBI had been preparing for two years for this emergency.

After the outbreak of war in Europe, Hoover had put men to work studying ways and means to avoid the mistakes made by the Department of Justice and the Bureau in World War I — mistakes such as the mass roundups of enemy aliens without proper hearings, the "slacker raids" and the uncontrolled operations of the vigilante groups who had trampled on civil rights.

ALIENS ROUNDED UP

Quietly the FBI had been assembling a list of aliens who were anti-American or who were likely to prove most dangerous in time of war.

The list included some 770 Japanese. FBI field offices knew precisely who these people were and where they could be found.

★ ★ ★

When President Roosevelt ordered the detention of enemy aliens that Sunday evening, across the nation and in Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rico, FBI agents began the roundup which was to be followed the next day by the arrest of German and Italian enemy aliens.

But this time, in sharp contrast to World War I days, the machinery existed for each arrested alien to have a hearing before a civilian board and to be represented by counsel.

The FBI agents also had the help of squads of local police who had studied wartime problems in the FBI-conducted schools started in anticipation of the emergency.

★ ★ ★

The roundup was a remarkable performance in speed and coordination. The careful advance preparations made it possible to take into custody 3,847 enemy aliens in the first 72 hours of the war with no violence.

★ ★ ★

President Roosevelt had given Hoover verbal instructions to take charge of censorship. Hoover's idea was that the Director of Censorship should be a civilian appointed by the President, and that the Army, Navy, FBI and other governmental agencies concerned with censorship should have only advisory powers.

OFFICIALS CONFER

On Monday, Dec. 8, Hoover called a conference of representatives from the State, Post Office, Treasury, and War departments, the Navy, the Federal Communications Commission and the Office of Facts and Figures, and laid his plan before the group.

He suggested that thought should be given " . . . to the problem of obtaining voluntary and cooperative self-censorship by the press and radio . . . "

He said that in his opinion no censorship program would succeed without public support — and that this support could best be gained by enlisting the help of the press and radio in an advisory capacity.

Hoover won backing for his position and the conference also approved his suggestion that the Director of Censorship should be a newspaper executive.

It was recommended that "a permanent Director of Censorship be promptly designated and that he be a civilian, preferably, with newspaper experience and very definitely with executive capacity."

★ ★ ★

This description was tailored to fit Byron Price, executive news editor of The Associated Press, and President Roosevelt named Price to take over the job on Dec. 16.

TEMPORARY SETUP

Byron Price set up his censorship organization on the broad base of voluntary cooperation. It was an organization which could be (and was) dismantled immediately after the emergency had ended.

The grave security responsibilities place on the FBI in war forced Hoover to relax temporarily the rule that new agents had to have a law degree or be accountants.

Scores of agents were needed merely to run down the torrent of rumors of espionage and sabotage.

The rumors went like this: Huge arrows had been cut in the cane fields in Hawaii by Japanese field workers, arrows pointing to military targets; Japanese fishing boats in Hawaii were furnishing food and fuel to enemy submarines; A Japanese fifth column was waiting on the West Coast to rise and give help to an invading army; Japnese - Americans were going to poison the water reservoirs on the West Coast; and Japanese truck gardeners were loading their produce with arsenic.

The FBI, military intelligence officers and local law enforcement officers tracked down the rumors and found them false. There was no enemy sabotage after the Pearl Harbor attack — those who might have been saboteurs were rounded up too swiftly. But each report had to be checked.

Bob Considine Says:

It's King Sa'ud--Not Saud, Never Al

NEW YORK (INS)—King Saud, en route to the U. S. to visit President Eisenhower, isn't named King Saud at all. He is actually King Sa'ud Ibin 'Abd al-Aziz al Sa'ud. Not one of his four wives or 40 sons calls him Al, careful research indicates.

★ ★ ★

He is 55, the eldest living son of the late King Sa'ul Ibn Abid al-Aziz al Faisal, and though one of the last absolute monarchs left on earth isn't as absolute as the old man. He rules his oil-soaked sun-seared land (big as Texas, California and Oklahoma lumped) with the assistance of an advisory council.

He has a deal with the Arabian American Oil Company that would make a fight manager faint. It's a 50-50 deal on the profits end. Last year his bit came to around a quarter of a billion. That's about $5,000,000 a week, take home.

Sa'ud has two hats, as the military people would say. Under the law known as the Shari'a, based on the Koran, he is the head of all branches of government affecting his seven or eight million subjects.

He hears all petitions, for the Koran says the mangiest nomad is the spiritual equal of the King. The nomad just has a bad agent, that's all.

★ ★ ★

Before taking off for the U. S., Sa'ud personally reviewed the cases of every person in prison in Saudi Arabia. He pardoned many, and Saudi authorities swear that there were only 40 persons canned in the entire land when he left. None was a political prisoner.

The penalties for misdemeanors and felonies which in this country may result in a slap on the wrist are so severe in Saudi Arabia that — well — the wrist may not be left. Thievery is practically unknown. There is no juvenile delinquency.

★ ★ ★

King Sa'ud's other hat, if that's a proper term for a man who probably never wore one in his life, is that of custodian of the Moslem Holy Places — Mecca and Medina.

The pilgrims among the world's 335,000 Moslems once were the chief income of the government of the present king's father, but that was before oil. Sa'ud is not a religious leader in the sense of the Aga Khan, but is expected by all Moslems to live the exemplary life.

Sa'ud travels through the country much more than his father did. He is pictured as a man who wants to leave something substantial behind him in the way of buildings, roads, schools, hospitals, public buildings and palaces.

★ ★ ★

He has built hospitals before there were doctors and nurses to man them, government buildings before there were clerks to make them tick.

Finding and training such a middle class is a colossal task which may need more time than the Prophet has allotted Sa'ud Ibin 'Abd al-Aziz al Sa'ud. But when that day arrives, he must figure, the stages will be ready.

PRIVATE RAILROAD

He owns, among such things as a private railroad and an array of air-conditioned Cadillacs, an airline equipped with Convairs. It has proved of great benefit to the almost roadless country. But the schedules can be uncertain.

★ ★ ★

Some time back, a plane loaded with travelers and stuffed with their baggage was about to take off when the tower ordered it back to the ramp. One of the King's kid brothers drove up with an air-conditioned party, ordered everybody off, had the baggage removed, and took off for a gazelle hunt.

Sa'ud is a mild one compared to the old man. The founder of the dynasty, who stood 6-4 in his prime and must have been tough as nails, got his start in the dynasty business by successfully storming the fortress and garrison at Riyadh the day Sa'ud was born.

He personally slew the Riyarh governor and kept advancing until he gutted the No. 2 strongman, El Raschid. That made him chairman of the board, one of the great success stories of our time.

Musical Trio Plays at Bloomfield Inn

The Hi-Fi's, a musical trio, will play at Bloomfield Inn for four weeks, starting Jan. 28. The trio includes Jimmy Jewhurst, pianist and leader; Joe Williams and Paul Chapman. Chapman recently was singer and master of ceremonies at Windsor's Elmwood Casino. The three have made several Decca recordings while playing together.

An Egyptian-Polish air agreement will bring airline service between the countries.

Bridge Spans 20 Years

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—The Redwood Empire Assn. is going to hold a huge celebration May 27 to commemorate the 20th anniversary of the opening of the Golden Gate Bridge. Police record 163 suicide leaps off the span.

Police Seek Pay Hike

MONROE (UP) — City policemen have asked the Monroe City Commission for shorter hours and higher pay. They seek a 40-hour week instead of the present 44 hours and a boost in base pay from $4,600 to $5,300 a year.

The African animal, the okapi, must have a house full of relatives. It has the head of a giraffe, ears and eyes of a donkey, neck of a horse, body of an elk and striped legs of a zebra.

Hollywood Headlines

Story by Jon Lindbergh Will Be Made Into Movie

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — I'm interested to learn that Jon Lindbergh, 23-year-old son of Anne and Charles Lindbergh, now a lieutenant in the U. S. Navy, has inherited his mother's writing talent as well as his famous father's adventurous spirit.

In the March issue of Water World magazine, young Lindbergh has a factual yarn, "Underwater Hunts," dealing with his experiences with a demolition team in Japan. Robert Petersen, publisher of the magazine and himself just 30 years old, has decided to finance this story as a feature movie.

Petersen has had several conferences with Jon, who lives with his wife and two children in Coronado, about working on the script and possibly appearing in the picture. Not as the star (he hasn't had that much dramatic experience) but in a lesser role.

★ ★ ★

Et tu Brutus? Now comes Bob Hope with a juvenile delinquent story. He plans to star in "Juvenile Jungle" for the Bob Hope TV Enterprises. This will be a movie, not a television show. He'd like to have Natalie Wood and Marlon Brando, but who wouldn't?

At any rate, if Bob does his "Juvenile Jungle," you can bet your life he'll find an original angle.

Speaking of Bob, Eddie Fisher does a straight comedy spot on Bob's TV show tomorrow night, and, according to Robin himself, Eddie is just great. We'll certainly have a look.

TYRONE'S PLANS

Ty Power writes that between packing and unpacking for traveling he would like me to know what's going on. He says that he and Ted Richmond go to Sweden to see about Stockhom as a location for a future picture.

"Then we head for Salzburg, Austria," said Ty, "where I am getting an award for 'The Eddy Duchin Story.' It was suggested I play a piano solo, but I'm not about to shatter anyone's illusions so I declined — politely, I hope."

The ghost of Mozart would certainly rise up in Salzburg if Ty did play the piano!

★ ★ ★

In 1957, Audrey Hepburn should emerge an even bigger star. Someone who saw "Love in the Afternoon" tells me that it is one of the greatest comedies ever made, and in "Funnyface," both Audrey and Fred Astaire are delightful.

But the one who really surprises everybody is Kay Thompson, Roger Eden, who has such a wonderful sense of comedy, has given Eloise's mother a leeway she's never had in any other picture and it pays off in big dividends. "Funnyface" is a picture no one will want to miss.

★ ★ ★

Last week, Guy Madison reached the ripe old age of 35, so he feels it's high time that he takes the chance of displeasing his young "Wild Bill Hickok" fans by doing a really gutty role.

So Guy has chosen as his next independent picture, "The Hard Man." He plays a character who kills because he lives under the compulsion that since he's the son of a famous outlaw he is destined to do so.

GABLE REFUSES

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Clark Gable turned down $125,000 from a national magazine for the rights to his life story. Reason: Clark says his life isn't over yet.

★ ★ ★

Henry King in London to huddle with Darryl Zanuck about a femme star for "The Sun Also Rises." Last word is that Ava Gardner isn't going to do this one, either.

★ ★ ★

One reasoon Big Crosby would love his song "True Love" to win an Academy Award is because the composer, Cole Porter, has never won an Oscar, although Cole is certainly one of our most distinguished song writers.

Feb. 3 is the date of John Derek's marriage to Ursula Andress. Takes place in Nevada but not Las Vegas.

Right Answers Can Make You Richer by $500

That $500 in the pot can easily be yours . . . just read the clues and rules below and send us the correct solution for this week's puzzle. If you have the 16 answers right and if no one wins last week's puzzle, you can walk away just that much richer. Even with a winner for Puzzle No. 33, the right answers will still bring $100. What do you have to lose?

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

Orchestra Not on Menu So He Gets His Own

NEW YORK—Life was never like this back on the farm in Ohio.

Jackie (Diamond Jim) Gleason came in for lunch, but he didn't order food—he ordered an orchestra.

"We don't have orchestras on the menu, Slob!" he was told. "If you had any class, you'd bring your own . . . you crumby creep."

"Why, you miserable . . . say, that's a bully suggestion," murmured Jackie.

To Counterbalance Tito Visit

May Invite Franco to U. S.

WASHINGTON (INS) — Reliable sources said today that some administration officials are considering inviting General Francisco Franco to the U. S.

The Spanish leader's trip, sources explained, would counterbalance opposition, mainly Catholic, to the impending visit of Yugoslav President Josip Broz Tito.

State Department officials have been increasingly alarmed at the tide of opposition, especially in Congress, to the Tito visit.

According to administration officials, it is planned to have Tito visit President Eisenhower in mid-April while Congress is in recess over Easter.

Officials favoring the Franco trip, sources said, are suggesting that announcement of it be made before Tito is formally invited.

This, it is hoped, would soften the anti-Tito opposition.

Franco his desired to visit the U. S. ever since 1953 when the arrangement was made to build a series of American air bases in Spain.

★ ★ ★

Sources said that consideration for Franco's invitation is being made on the highest levels of the administration, between the State Department and the White House.

Plan to Supply More A-Arms

U.S. Military to Expand Delivery of Weapons of Nuclear Type

WASHINGTON (INS)—U.S. Military plans call for expanding delivery of atomic explosives to the armed forces from the current trickle to a comparative flood this year.

Defense officials said today that the big break—expected in about three months—will come in an announcement that nuclear warheads will be provided for air defense fighter wings in thick-walled underground storage bins at air bases in the U. S. and abroad. Extensive efforts will be made to convince the public that such weapons cannot explode spontaneously, and that every precaution is being taken against other types of accidents.

The worldwide deployment of America's nuclear might so far has been largely hidden behind official phraseology. It states that various weapons are "capable" of delivering atomic explosive but does not specify whether the bombs of warheads are available for the purpose.

The U. S. Army has deployed its atomic-capable Honest John and Corporal rockets and its 280-millimeter cannon in Europe and the Far East. But an official statement cannot be obtained as to whether nuclear explosive is available in Europe or to Air Force and Navy planes and missiles around the globe.

Six-Jet B47 Plane Flight May Set Speed Record

MARCH AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—A six-jet B47 plane left here today on a flight planned for scientific studies of the jet stream, but which also was expected to set a transcontinental speed record.

If a record is made, the plane will land at its home field, Manscom AFB, Bedford, Mass., in something less than 3½ hours.

A National Guard F86 single jet flew from California to New York in about 3½ hours a year ago.

El Salvador's first TV station will operate shortly in San Salvador.

Both Father and Son Kill Deer Same Spot

NEWBERRY, S. C. (AP) — Deer, it seems, can be hit in the same place twice.

A father and son—both natives of this region—proved it by killing deer three years almost to the day apart.

To mark the spot of their accomplishment, they notched their initials in an old holly tree in a swamp area near here. One inscription reads W.F.B., 11-11-53, and the other H. S. B., 11-12-56.

First Japanese Guest Loved U.S.

By RELMAN MORIN

NEW YORK (AP)—Just 100 years ago at this time, an eager young man in Japan was brimming with excitement about a long voyage. He was going to the United States.

★ ★ ★

A little earlier, Commodore Perry had "opened" Japan — somewhat forcibly—ending its 250 years of self-imposed isolation from the rest of the world. During that time, no Japanese could legally leave the country. After Perry, a treaty was written and relations with America began.

A century has passed now, 100 years of give and take, including a fearful war, and today the two countries are linked again. Superficially, no two people seem less alike. But underneath—well, here is the young man's story:

His name was Yukichi Fukuzawa and he was a man of wide-ranging curiosities. Everything interested him, the sciences, languages, government, manners, customs. He came to America in the first ship, built and navigated entirely by Japanese, to cross the

★ ★ ★

How would they be received? The answer came quickly.

"They (the Americans) did everything for us," he wrote, "and they could not have done

He describes the lengths to which the people in San Francisco went to provide them with food comparable to their own diet and —"knowing our habits"—facilities for a Japanese-style bath. He used a charming Japanese expres-

It was as if our host had put us in the palm of his hand to see that we lacked nothing."

★ ★ ★

Adventure meets him at every turn. Ice even in summer, and floating in champagne, at that. Ladies present at receptions. Having learned to smoke, he lights a cigar but can't find an ash tray. "I put it in my pocket and presently my clothes were in flames."

In Washington, however, he finds something that tunes in perfectly with his deepest sensibilities. The Japanese venerate their great men, and he is impressed with the statutes of George Wash- Founding Fathers, now he feels completely at home.

But the forms of government in a democracy baffle him.

"I was told that this man and that man were 'enemies' in the House. But these 'enemies' were to be seen at the same table, eating and drinking with each other. It took me a long time before I could understand these separate and mysterious facts."

★ ★ ★

And to show how little the world has changed in 100 years, a Russian tried to persuade him to be a spy for Moscow!

The time came to go back to Japan. In San Francisco, meanwhile, their ship had undergone extensive repairs.

"When the ship was ready, and we were preparing to sail on the homeward voyage, we inquired how much we should have to pay for the repairs and other expenses. We were met with a kindly smile, and were obliged to sail away with our obligations unpaid."

★ ★ ★

What was the result of all this?

At home, Fukuzawa became one of the leaders—often at the risk of his life—in the struggle between those who feared and hated foreigners and the group advocating closer relations with the United States and the other Western nations. There is no way of knowing how many of his people he converted during his years of teaching and writing.

There are still more like him today on both sides of the Pacific, people who see the deep similarities, not the surface differences, between two races.

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Being the hotbed of professional sports, there should be no reason why Detroit couldn't handle an entry in the National Basketball Association.

The NBA like all of the other pro sports has made big gains in recent years and the situation now is entirely different from the picture 10 years ago when play-for-pay basketball failed in the Motor City.

Everything wasn't always cream and honey for pro football and many pessimists were doubtful the Lions would be able to exist not too far back.

Back in 1935 a pro football game between Detroit and Green Bay drew 1,200 people and even as late as 1949 there was a crowd of 6,177 watching the Lions and Packers.

But pro football battled its way. It had a chance in Detroit. There was only one team and the facilities were available to make it go. For years the Lions played at U. of D. stadium where capacity was only 22,000.

★ ★ ★

But with growth there were still larger facilities available and into Briggs Stadium they moved.

This wasn't the case with basketball. There were two teams in the pro circuit in Detroit. Neither of them was winning and neither had a "home" court.

Teams fell along the way in the NBA, just as the Bulldogs, Yanks, Texans and others failed in the NFL.

NBA AT STABLE POINT

Reorganizing the football teams and going all out through TV and other promotions was the NFL's lifeline.

Now the NBA is doing the same, and its two-division league has enjoyed its most stable season.

Each basketball team plays 36 home games and average attendance last year varied from 3,500 to 7,500 in the different cities. This year the league has reported increases throughout the circuit.

★ ★ ★

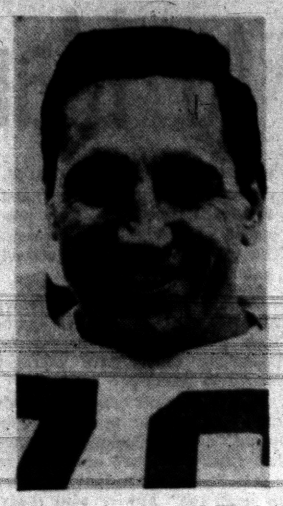

The influx of heralded college stars like Bill Russell, Bob Cousy, Willie Naulls, Jim Paxson, Bob Leonard and others along with weekly television viewing has been a big factor.

The Ft. Wayne Pistons, currently one of the contenders in the Western Division of the NBA, see a future in Detroit's professional atmosphere.

Even a bad start in Detroit would hardly bother the franchise as long as millionaire industrialist Fred Zollner is behind the club.

★ ★ ★

The circumstances are different than they were 10 years ago. Detroit has taken to professional sports, and would be the only city, except for New York, in the country of major status to have the complete cycle, of baseball, football, basketball and hockey.

Wings Rip Hawks, 6-2; Tie Montreal

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — Four of the National Hockey League's most feared siege guns directed their firepower at goalie Al Rollins last night.

Gordie Howe triggered the 1st two shots and a 3rd period bombardment nearly dismantled the Chicago netminder as the Detroit Red Wings routed the Black Hawks, 6-2, before 11,514 spectators in Olympia Stadium.

The convincing victory vaulted the Red Wings into a tie for 1st place with the Montreal Canadiens. Each club has 58 points.

Detroit's triumph was not as one-sided as the score would indicate. The luckless last place Hawks were only trailing by a 3-2 margin until the Detroit artillery exploded with three goals in the final five minutes and three seconds.

The famous production line of Howe and Ted Lindsay and the younger unit of Earl (Dutch) Reibel and Norm Ullman wreaked all the havoc on the Hawks.

Howe chalked up two goals and two assists, enabling him to tie Montreal's Jean Beliveau for the NHL scoring leadership with 58 points. His goals were the 28th and 29th of the season.

Lindsay was credited with one goal and two assists, giving him 57 points and 2nd place in the scoring race. Ullman collected one goal and two assists to boost his season's total to 42 points, good for 3rd position. Reibel fired two goals, numbers 10 and 11.

The Wings applied constant pressure in the 1st period, but couldn't dent Rollins until Howe let go with a vicious blast from the Chicago blue line at 13:42. Rollins partially stopped the shot, but the force of the drive carried the puck between his pads and into the net.

Assisted by Lindsay and Ullman, Howe recorded his 2nd goal at the 3:11 mark of the 2nd period with a 20-foot sizzler which found the left-hand corner of the cage.

Chicago bounced back into contention on Hank Ciesla's 8th goal of the campaign. Ciesla took Harry Watson's rebound and punched it by Glenn Hall at 15:51.

Then Reibel entered the picture. With assists from Billy Dea and Billy McNeill, Reibel slapped the puck past Rollins with only six seconds remaining in the 2nd stanza.

The Hawks wasted little time in the 3rd period. Only 34 seconds had elapsed when Jack McIntyre took Nick Mickoski's pass and rammed a blistering 30-footer into the right-hand corner of the net.

McIntyre's tally cut the Wing advantage to 3-2 and ignited the closing surge. Lindsay scored from directly in front of the cage at 14:57, Reibel clicked on a 25-footer at 17:14 and Ullman backhanded one past Rollins with just 10 seconds left in the game.

Hall Honored, Red-Faced

DETROIT (AP)—Red Wing goalie Glenn Hall had an embarrassing moment during last night's 6-2 victory over Chicago.

Just before the third period started, Hall was presented with a plaque at mid-ice for an outstanding contribution to Detroit hockey during 1956. The Sports Guild made the presentation.

Just 34 seconds later, Chicago's Jack McIntyre circled around Detroit's Marcel Pronovost and blasted the puck past Hall for the Hawks' second score that brought the Detroit margin to one goal.

It probably was one of the most decisive goals scored this season against the young Wing goaltender, but he let no more past him, making 27 saves in the Detroit triumph.

TIED FOR LEAD — Detroit's Gordie Howe, one of the National Hockey League's all-time scoring greats, posted two goals and two assists last night to tie Jean Beliveau of Montreal for 1st place in the NHL point-making race. Each player has scored 58 points. Howe's efforts sparked the Red Wings to a 6-2 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks on Olympia ice and deadlocked them with the Canadiens for the NHL lead.

Machen Favored to Whip Maxim

Experts Pick Young KO Artist as 4-to-1 Choice in TV Bout

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Joey Maxim, former world's light heavyweight champion, will be giving away 10 years and about nine pounds tonight when the sly veteran tries to avoid the knockout punches of undefeated Eddie Machen, one of the top heavyweight title contenders.

★ ★ ★

Their 10-round bout at Miami Beach Auditorium will be telecast and broadcast nationally, NBC, starting at 10 p.m., EST.

★ ★ ★

Machen, one of the youngsters who are shoving the oldtimers aside in the heavyweight division, will be gunning for his 20th straight victory and his 15th knockout. The California Negro is 24 and local oddsmakers figure he is a 4-1 favorite to whip his 34-year-old opponent.

Maxim hopes to take advantage of his vast edge in experience, gained through 17 years in the ring and more than 300 professional and amateur bouts.

Australians finished one-two-three in the 100-meter freestyle swim at the 1956 Olympics.

Rosen Ready to Quit Tribe

5 Yankees Holdout

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's not serious yet, but a batch of holdouts is taking shape—most of them on the New York Yankees' roster — as major league baseball edges closer to spring training. And one of the holdouts, Cleveland's Al Rosen, may make it permanent.

Kerby Farrell, the Indians' new skipper, indicated strongly that Rosen, the veteran infielder who has been much abused by Cleveland fans, has decided to quit. In discussing the Tribe's 1957 outlook, Kerby said "I certainly hope Rosen changes his mind about retiring. I would like to have him."

Rosen, who will be 32 March 1, has received a contract for his 10th season with the Indians, but hasn't signed. It's been reported for months that Rosen has told his friends he's quitting, but the club is playing it cool — insisting that until Rosen refuses to sign he hasn't quit.

★ ★ ★

Most of the holdouts are the Yankees' worry. The world champs haven't been able to satisfy Mickey Mantle, Don Larsen, Hank Bauer, Johnny Kucks or Bob Grim —but Lee MacPhail, new director of personnel, says everything will work out fine.

Mantle, however, mentioned yesterday in Tulsa on his way home to Commerce, Okla., that "I may be around this vicinity playing golf all spring." The Hick, triple-crown champ, insists he and the Yanks aren't even "close" on terms. He wants about $59,000. The club has mentioned $42,000 or so.

★ ★ ★

Larsen, the perfect-game pitcher of last fall's World Series, said Wednesday he might "end up tending bar" considering what the club offered. Yesterday, Larsen said the comment was made on a golf course, wasn't meant for publication and that he was "pretty mad about it."

Although having returned the first offer unsigned, Larsen said he expects to reach an agreement on his salary. Friends say he wants $27,500, about twice his '56 pay.

Tabori Makes Indoor Debut in U.S. Mile

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Laszlo Tabori, sandy-haired and spindly legged Hungarian runner, makes his American indoor mile debut tonight, still a little nervous about the short straightaways and sharp turns on the boards.

Tabori, who left his native land for the Melbourne Olympics and chose not to return because of the Communist oppression in Hungary, arrived here last night to take part in the 13th annual Philadelphia Inquirer Games in which he will run his first U.S. mile.

Maple Diver Returns

Birmingham high's swimming team expects to get some material help in point-making from the return to varsity action of diver John Hyde. Hyde left the squad early in the season, but has just returned and is in good condition.

Hyde is regarded as the Maples' top springboard performer. He will get his first test tonight against the strong Royal Oak team.

Senior Golfers Tee Off Today

Birmingham's Watrous Among Favorites in $8,500 PGA Event

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) —Defending Champion Pete Burke may be in for some rough going in the $8,500 PGA Senior golf tournament which opened today.

Burke, from Cold Springs Harbor, N.Y., won with 215 last year but Leo O'Grady, pro at the PGA national course, said practice rounds have been so low he believes it will take 211 to win this year.

★ ★ ★

Denny Shute of Akron, Ohio, and Al Watrous of Birmingham, Mich., have shot 67s in practice over the 6,589-yard, par 72 course.

Two newcomers to the tournament, Jack Ryan of Louisville, Ky. and Willie Goggin of New York, also rank among the favorites. They have just reached the 50 yard mark required to play in the Seniors event.

★ ★ ★

A record field of 222 has entered the 54-hole, three-day tournament. The previous high was 201 last year.

The winner gets $1,000, the Teachers Trophy and a trip to England to play the British Senior champion next summer.

Fullmer to Fight in Non-Title Bout

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — "The only way we'll lose this fight is if they dig up the James boys to steal it from us."

★ ★ ★

After a quick glance around the gym to make sure the gamed, but long dead outlaw brothers were not listening in, fight manager Jake Mintz admitted he thinks Wilf Greaves "has a chance" in his Monday night 10-round, nontitle bout with middleweight king Gene Fullmer of nearby West Jordan.

★ ★ ★

Greaves eagerly began workouts yesterday under the eye of Mintz and afterward, the chunky Canadian-born slugger from Pittsburgh said he felt fine, but hoped Fullmer "isn't too tough."

Aggies Complete Staff

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Two youthful coaches, J. T. King of the University of Texas, and O. A. Phillips of Nederland High school, were named yesterday to fill out the 1957 football coaching staff of Texas A&M College.

Elks Meet Resumes

Local Keg Team Defends Title

Another action-packed weekend of bowling is on tap at the Elks alleys and Huron Bowl beginning tomorrow at 2 p.m. when the 37th annual Michigan Elks Tournament resumes.

It will be the 2nd weekend of competition in team, singles, and doubles play in the event which runs through March 10 under the sponsorship of Pontiac Lodge 810.

★ ★ ★

Several more of the 106 teams entered from Pontiac will be taking part Saturday and Sunday along with keglers from Detroit, Flint, Petoskey and Battle Creek.

Local bowlers made up most of the opening slate last weekend and took tourney leads in doubles and team play. Detroiter John Gavie dominated the singles.

Featured attraction for the sessions will be Sunday afternoon when the 1956 team champion Chuck's Shack contingent returns for a 2nd try at the coveted title. The locals were handicap victors playing as the Little Horns last year.

★ ★ ★

Local Exalted Ruler Jack Bender, Detroit stars Herb Case and Hal Allen, and Bob Nisbet of Battle Creek, are some of the many well known keglers bowling here this weekend.

Another, not previously mentioned, is Ron Rothbarth, who has been outstanding in city leagues for many years.

Cash awards will go to the top tourney finishers in all six divisions covering actual and handicap play for singles, team and doubles.

★ ★ ★

An all-events trophy will also be presented the individual who compiles the largest number of overall points. Gavie took a good lead towards that goal last Sunday.

★ ★ ★

R. D. Bonnell, National President of the Elks Bowling Association, Michigan leader Robert Managh, and state BPOE secretary are presiding over this largest Elks tournament in state history. Pontiac is the 1st city to host the event four times.

The former Long Beach, Calif., professional, 29 years old, had three birdies yesterday on each nine as he bolted into a two-stroke lead in the field of Whittier, Calif., Arizona Open champ; Tom Nieporte of Bronxville, N.Y., 1951 NCAA titleholder; Bill Johnson of Provo, Utah, and Los Angeles' Smiley Quick.

★ ★ ★

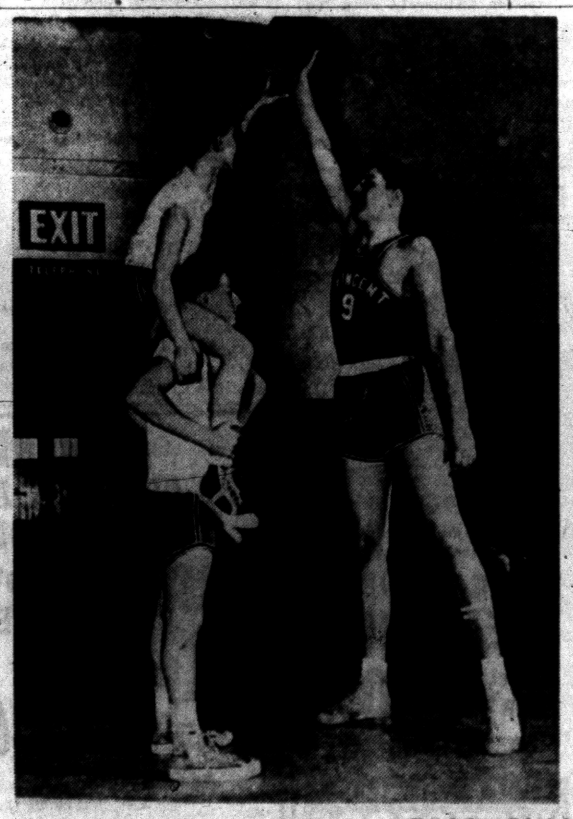

The defending champion, Paul O'Leary of Bismarck, N.D., had a 74.

Bob Boughner of Whittier was the low amateur with a 71.

Maturity Field Dwindles to 11

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP)—The starting field for tomorrow's $168,230 Santa Anita Maturity has been scaled to 11 and the net to the winner will be $91,810.

Some rain was forecast for today, with the skies clearing Saturday. The track was muddy yesterday but the footing could be firm by race time.

Lampe stands 6-feet-8 and the trio are 8th grade students at St. Vincent de Paul in Syracuse. In his first attempt at basketball he is scoring 28 points a game.

Bragan Pinning Hopes on Youth

4th Place Is Pirate Aim

(Fifth of a series of managerial view on the pennant races, written under the manager's own bylines.)

By BOBBY BRAGAN

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Goal of the Pittsburgh Pirates for 1957 is 4th place.

Right now I would have to pick Brooklyn, Milwaukee and Cincinnati to battle out among themselves for the pennant. There is quite a gap between the first three clubs and the other five. If we should get off to a fine start again, who knows what could happen?

The Cardinals, like the Pirates, are building for youth, but I believe we might have an edge on them or are at least as good as they are. I think we're strengthened over last year even if we don't make any trades. That's because we're more experienced. Our 25-year age average makes it so.

Our team's biggest weakness last season was lack of depth in our pitching staff which we hope to augment with the addition of Bob Garber, Bob Purkey, Joe Trimble, a sound Dick Hall and Vernon Law minus a broken bone in his foot.

★ ★ ★

Louis Arroyo figures to be better with a year of work perfecting his screwball and bonus boys Laurin Pepper and Art Swanson should be more confident with a year of bench experience at Pittsburgh. We also are giving a trial to Paul Miner, the left-hander who pitched for Chicago last year.

Our lack of power, rather our dependence upon Frank Thomas and Dale Long to do it for us, told on us last year but we are hopeful that either John Powers or Emil Panko, may provide additional punch. Powers hit 39 homers and Panko hit 36 homers at New Orleans last year.

We have Paul Smith coming back out of the army and I know what he can do. He swings a good bat, maybe not much power, but he gets a piece of the ball and he can help us either at first base or the outfield.

We've got to get more hitting out of our catcher, whichever one ultimately wins the No. 1 job. We hope Dan Kravitz, with added experience at Hollywood and the Dominican Republic, will be ready defensively.

We also have Dick Rand who used to be in the Cardinal organization. I like Kravitz' power. If he can't beat out Jack Shepard or Hank Foiles for a regular job, Kravitz could come in handy as a pinch-hitter. I plan to carry three catchers.

I think our infield is set with Long at first, Bob Mazeroski at second, Dick Groat at short and Thomas at third. The outfield is our strongest department. I don't know of any in the league that is better than ours. Bob Clemente in right, Bill Virdon in center and Lee Walls in left can do everything well. They're fast, have good arms and can hit big league pitching."

Area Skiing OK but Conditions Spotty Upstate

By H. GUY MOATS

With the arrival of heavy snowfalls early in the week, and an accompanying drop in temperature, winter sports areas around Oakland County continued to report good sport for riders of the waxed staves.

Mt. Holly reported good skiing over a 12-inch base, which could be even better with some powder-snowfall. All tows are in operation.

Similar conditions were reported for Teeple Hill (Pontiac Ski Club), Kensington and other park areas where winter sports facilities are available. Mt. Holly is north of Pontiac, on the Dixie. Teeple Hill and Kensington are west of Pontiac, at Highland Recreation area, and 3½ miles southwest of Milford, respectively.

But in upstate sections, reports Thursday afternoon indicated, conditions were spotty, good in some areas, limited, to poor in others.

For instance, at Boyne City's Avalanche hills skiing was fair but needs more snow.

Boyne Mt. at Boyne Falls — good.

Duffy Again Says 'No'

DETROIT (AP) — Coach Hugh (Duffy) Daugherty has said again he has no intention of quitting his job at Michigan State University to take a football post elsewhere.

At a meeting of the Detroit Athletic Club Beavers yesterday, Daugherty said of the reported offers:

"I can't deny that such offers flattered me. But I owe a lot to Michigan State. The Spartans made me head coach a few years ago when no other school ever had heard of me. It will take me a long time to repay that debt."

Daugherty has been mentioned repeatedly in connection with half a dozen top coaching jobs this winter. The most persistent rumor has linked him to the University of Southern California.

Daugherty has been attending various banquets en route to East Lansing after coaching the North team in Miami's North-South football game.

"They (USC) talked to me," he admitted, "in Florida, of all places."

Top Weekend Activities for Outdoor Enthusiasts

ALL OUTDOORS, Mich. (INS)—Proper equipment and good weather this weekend could make it the top ice fishing period of the season.

However, there are plenty of other attractions to keep the outdoor enthusiast busy if the fish stop biting.

A brief warm spell earlier in the week caused excitement among perch fishermen from Grosse Ile to Sebewaing and Mitchell's Bay in Lake Saint Clair to Grand Rapids.

Ice conditions are about ideal since the snow and water on most of the ice is frozen into a new surface.

Bud Thede said ice at Sebewaing is safe but that inexperienced fishermen should not drive their cars on it. One car cracked through Tuesday, making it the fourth break-through of the season.

★ ★ ★

Lakes in the Pontiac area report improved fishing. Crappies are biting well and pike fishing is "beginning to pick up." Best baits are small minnows, mousies and corn borers. Another good bait is a fish eye and a Russian spoon.

Metropolitan Beach is the scene Saturday of the 5th annual ice fishing derby expected to draw thousands of fans.

There will be awards and trophies.

The Michigan Tourist Council reports skiing around the state ranges from none at all to good.

Black Mountain, Gaylord and Indian River sections are in good conditions while others are poor.

In West Michigan, Holiday Hills, Hickory Hills, and Manistee are either closed because of lack of snow or are in poor shape. Other facilities are fair to good.

St. Louis Fete Honors Stan 'The Man' Musial

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Stan Musial was feted last night as a man who some day may be looked upon as the greatest baseball player of all time.

The 36-year-old star, whose name is peppered through baseball's record book, cast back across 14 seasons with the St. Louis Cardinals for his biggest thrill and said:

★ ★ ★

"It's just putting on the uniform—to know you are a big league ball player."

There was a quiver in his voice as he accepted the Humanitarian Award bestowed by the St. Louis Advisory Board of the American Medical Center.

"This isn't my farewell party," he said. "I'm going to play a couple more years—for sure."

Some 700 persons paid $25 a plate to honor him, with the proceeds going to the Medical Center's non-sectarian hospital at Denver.

★ ★ ★

Warren Giles, president of the National League and one of the many speakers who heaped praise on Musial all evening, looked into the future and said Musial "because of his great contribution, plus his record and personality, could be chronicled as the greatest player of all time."

Chiefs Favored to Mark Up 8th Win

By H. GUY MOATS

Forewarned against the dangers of overconfidence, Pontiac High School's all-winning basketball Chiefs tonight shoot for their 8th victory in an unbroken string.

The club directed by Art Van Ryzin has rolled along to its finest skein of victories in the school's history, so far. It is rated one of Michigan's top prep outfits. It is the Saginaw Valley's leader, and opposes one of its toughest rivals and highly regarded league foes in Chuck Fowler's Arthur Hill Lumberjacks.

Pontiac's victory string began last Dec. 4 with a 45-42 win over a difficult Catholic Central team. Chiefs then traveled to Saginaw for the Valley loop opener against Arthur Hill, tonight's foe. The PHS crew just trampled all over Fowler's charges to the tune of 58-39, in the Dec. 7 setto. Then came Flint Central's Indians, swinging their tomahawks for an upset that didn't materialize. Chiefs took this one 64-48 and by that time began to realize they were off on a bright trail that could lead to the school's first SVC title.

Subsequent victories over Bay City Central (too close) 57-54, against Flint Northern (54-41) and finally Saginaw High, 64-59 produced a perfect halfway mark. Tonight's game opens the second half battle.

On the way Pontiac defeated Edsel Ford 49-37 for a 7-game point total of 391 against 335 for opponents. Chiefs have averaged nearly 60 points per game.

Fowler says his club is as ready as it is possible to get a cage squad "up." He believes his team has finally "jelled" after a slow start. "Sure, we're going to try to beat you" Fowler said today. "Maybe we can make it tough, force you to go way out to beat us.

"Of course, if there's any overconfidence, we're going to try and make the most of it. But Pontiac hasn't beaten any Valley clubs too badly, except us, and they probably know they can't rest on their oars now. Every team in the league is 'up' for them."

To all of which Van Ryzin probably agrees, while pointing out that the Chiefs should control the boards, with Hud Ray and Jim Skinner on the job. "Right now we are about as good as we will get with our scoring," Art commented, and added "but we'll be tougher on defense, rest of the way in."

Only one mishap has touched the Pontiac crew in its preparation for tonight's game. Speedy Charley Barge turned an ankle Wednesday, but will be ready to go by game time, Van Ryzin says.

Tonight's starters:

PONTIAC		ARTHUR HILL
Skinner	F	Rifenburg
Whitmer	F	Allison
Ray	C	Appold

Key Games in Inter-Lakes, Oakland-B, W-O

League Races at Mid-Point

By BILL CORNWELL

League leaders seek to strengthen their mid-season grip on 1st place tonight in high school basketball games throughout the Oakland County area.

A heavy 31-game program is on the docket as five conferences swing into their 2nd round of action. Two other leagues are nearing the end of the 1st round.

Aside from undefeated Pontiac's Saginaw Valley scrap with invading Saginaw Arthur Hill, the spotlight is trained on the Inter-Lakes and Oakland B-circuits.

Unbeaten Walled Lake visits Van Dyke as the Inter-Lakes loop winds up its 1st round. Waterford, tied with Southfield for the basement, faces a difficult assignment at Farmington while the Jays play host to runner-up Berkley.

Avondale and Madison, deadlocked for 2nd place, steal the thunder in the Oakland B loop.

The revitalized Jackets invade Fitzgerald for a return match and Madison entertains front-running Troy. Lake Orion, stung by two straight Oakland B reversals, greets Roseville.

St. Michael and Orchard Lake St. Mary clash at Orchard Lake in the Suburban Catholic League's top engagement. St. Mike can share a possible three-way tie for 2nd spot by upending the Eaglets.

St. Frederick, the 3rd team with a chance to share 2nd position, travels to Royal Oak St. Mary as high-scoring Bill Mountain closes out his prep career.

Clarkston, smarting from last Friday's loss to pace-setting Northville, goes to Clarenceville, Holly hosts Milford and the Mustangs visit Brighton in Wayne-Oakland Conference activity.

Surprisingly strong Utica, undefeated in six games, continues defense of its Bi-County League title against invading Center Line while Birmingham journeys to Ferndale for the No. 1 offering in the Eastern Michigan circuit.

Unbeaten Imlay City faces a severe threat to its South Central conference lead at North Branch and Millington promises a rough evening for Oxford on the Wildcat court. Southern Thumb contests are Capac at Almont, Memphis at New Haven and Armada at Brown City.

Tonight's best attraction among the independents matches Rochester and Romeo on the Falcon floor in a return encounter. The Falcons, beaten only once in eight starts, handcuffed Romeo in their 1st meeting.

Bloomfield Hills moves into Huron Township for a Southeast Suburban Conference tilt. Other games of interest are Lapeer at Flint Tech, Oak Park at Clawson and Shrine at Lourdes.

Argentine Golf Pros Take Lead

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — Defending champ Roberto DeVicenzo and Antonio Cerda, a pair of Argentines, found their favorites role challenged by practically the whole field today as they entered the second round of the fifth Jamaica Open golf tournament.

★ ★ ★

DeVicenzo, who plays out of Mexico City, and Cerda were home with three-under-par 65s after the first round yesterday, but had to share the lead with a pair of young U.S. pros, Stan Dudas of North Hills, Pa., and Frank Harned of West Orange, N.J.

★ ★ ★

The par 68 Constant Spring Course wasn't much of a mystery for the rest of the pack, either, with Bob Watson of Irvington-on-Hudson, N.Y., home with a 66 and Chick Harbert of Detroit next with 67. Herman Barron, White Plains, N.Y., and Doug Sanders, Cedartown, Ga., matched par with 68s.

Tombstone Smith Buries Don Jordan

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California welterweight champion Tombstone Smith, 146½, too big and too tall, scored his 15th straight win Thursday night in a well boxed 12-rounder for the state title against Don Jordan, 142. Both are from Los Angeles.

Jordan, unable to solve Smith's plodding attack, pressed for a knockout in the early rounds, but he couldn't send the big punch home, and wilted perceptibly in the latter rounds.

The verdict was unanimous. Referee Frankie Van voted 118-110; Judge Dynamite Jackson 116, and Judge Jack McDonald 117-109.

Top Spartan Scorer Missing for Gophers

EAST LANSING (AP)—Guard Jack Quiggle, the top Spartan scorer, will be missing when the Michigan State basketball team travels to meet Minnesota at Minneapolis tomorrow night.

Coach Forddy Anderson said Quiggle will be left behind "for breaking training rules" but will rejoin the squad for a return meeting with Ohio State at East Lansing Monday night.

Anderson wouldn't elaborate on how Quiggle broke training rules.

Musclemen at 'Y' Tonight

Eleven Pontiac men are entered in the Junior Michigan Weightlifting and Physique championships to be held tonight at the local YMCA starting at 7:30.

A record total of 34 young men will be competing for 21 trophies in seven weight classes and three physique divisions.

The Pontiac participants will include San Savas, 123, Dennis Roberts, 132, Sam Karagulieff and Rod Morrill, 148, Bill Copeman and Tom Beaudoin, 165, Doug Hills, 181, Vern Post, 198, and heavyweight Cal Rhodes.

Dennis Simonson and Morrill are contestants for the physique awards. Other strongmen will be on hand from Waterford Township, Detroit, Flint, Dearborn, Bay City, Linden and Lansing.

★ ★ ★

A feature of the evening will be an exhibition of muscle routines by Detroiter Vic Seipke, the Junior Mr. America camp who holds many titles. He will also judge the physique contest. Tickets may be obtained at the Y.

AH to Dedicate 'Olympic' Pool

Formal dedication of the fine new Olympic-type swimming pool at Arthur Hill High School has been set for Sunday, Jan. 27. Formal exercises have been set for 2:30 p.m., with open house following.

The Saginaw school's pool was completed in time for use this winter, after a long period of construction. It is the pride and joy of the Saginaw Valley Conference's most winning tank coach, Dave Gainey. Gainey's aquatic team is as yet unbeaten in the conference, and only Saturday lost its first meet of the season at Battle Creek 63-33. Loss snapped a win skein in the 7th start.

Warriors Up Lead in East Division

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The complexion of what was once a tight battle for second place in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn. suddenly has taken on a decided Philadelphia hue.

From a half-game lead over the New York Knickerbockers, the Warriors burst into a 1½-game advantage last night as they defeated the St. Louis Hawks 107-96 while the Knicks were dropping a 115-97 decision to the Syracuse Nationals.

YEAR'S TOP FIGHTER — Floyd Patterson, 22, the world's heavyweight boxing champion, holds the Edward J. Neil Memorial award presented him as the "fighter of the year" at last night's Boxing Writer's dinner in New York. Patterson is the youngest ever to hold the heavyweight title.

25 Shoot Under Par at Thunderbird

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The elite of professional golf could look forward to another easy ride around the Thunderbird Country Club today but things will toughen up a bit tomorrow.

Competing in the $15,000 Thunderbird Invitational, Cary Middlecoff of Dallas and newly turned pro Ken Venturi led the way into the second round of the tournament today, each boasting 66's, five under par for the course.

Par is 36-35—71 and the course is 6,843 yards.

The pins were easily spotted in deference to the three club members playing with each pro in the 36-hole best ball pro-amateur side attraction. But for the final two rounds—when the locals drop out—the pins will be harder to see from the fairways.

No less than 25 of the 43 invited players shot under par yesterday, topped by Middlecoff with his 35-31—66 and the 25-year-old Venturi, playing his second event as a professional, with 33-33—66.

★ ★ ★

"The pros," said one skeptic, "are slipping. Last year 26 were under par the first day."

Included was the leader and ultimate winner, Jimmy Demaret, who had a 64.

Yesterday Sir James had 36-33—69, and noted, "I got off slow starting but warmed up coming back."

Eight pros were immediately behind Venturi and Middlecoff starting off today. They were Mike Souchak, Art Wall Jr., Dick Mayer, Gardner Dickinson, Julius Boros, Billy Maxwell, George Bayer and Fred Hawkins, all at 67.

★ ★ ★

Hawkins, slender El Paso, Tex., player, had a right to moan. He came to the 18th hole six blows under par. He got upset when a car cut just behind him on a service road, drove to the 10th tee instead of the 18th green and had to settle for a double bogey six and a round of 34-33—67 that could have been a 34-31—65 or better.

★ ★ ★

Seven players were tied at 68. They were Bo Wininger, Shelley Mayfield, Dave Douglas, Ellsworth Vines, Jerry Barber and two international contestants, Harry Weetman of England and Stan Leonard of Canada. Another foreigner, Eric Brown of Scotland had a 72.

Gibson and Fry in Net Finals

MELBOURNE (AP)— Althea Gibson of New York and Shirley Fry of St. Petersburg, Fla., continued their domination of Australian tennis today by reaching the finals of the women's National championships at Kooyong Courts.

Miss Fry beat Beryl Penrose, the 1955 Australian women's champion, 6-3, 6-4 while Miss Gibson defeated Lorraine Coughlan 7-5, 6-3 in the other semifinal.

In their march to the final, neither Miss Fry nor Miss Gibson lost a set.

HEAVENLY SPORT — Jackie Jensen, outfielder for the Boston Red Sox, and his wife, the former Zoe Ann Olson, Olympic diving champion, pause for a rest after skiing at Heavenly Valley, Calif. They have just purchased a home in this area because they are both ardent ski fans. Jensen, the first to sign with the Red Sox, inked his contract for a reported $25,00.

Few Winning Teams Among State Quints

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A few winning teams and a batch of losing ones—that's the Michigan college basketball picture at the mid-year point.

At the halfway mark, the state has nine collegiate quintets with winning records, one with a .500 mark and 10 more below the break-even point.

While the four top teams — Wayne State, Detroit Tech, Albion and Kalamazoo — have a combined record of 36 victories and nine losses, the four on the bottom of the list have won only 7 while dropping 40.

Ferris has only one win against 10 losses. Hillsdale and Lawrence Tech had only 2 wins apiece in their first 13 contests, and Michigan Tech was able to manage just 2 victories in 10 starts.

★ ★ ★

While most teams are breaking their schedules for the between-semesters vacation, the action this weekend will be plentiful although just one league contest—Michigan State at Minnesota in the Big Ten—is scheduled.

Wayne State, the state leader with an 8-1 record, could pull a major upset by whipping Canisius on the New Yorkers' floor Saturday night. Detroit has a chance to pick up on its 6-8 mark when the Titans entertain Delaware, trounced earlier in the season by Michigan.

Olivet (3-7) and Ferris will meet each other twice in four days, tangling Saturday at Olivet and next Wednesday at Ferris.

Michigan teams trail out-of-state opponents in victories, 53 to 59. Home teams hold a 114 to 49 margin.

Though the Titans have lost 8 of 14 games, they lead their opponents in scoring 1058 to 998. And though Forddy Anderson's Michigan State Spartans have lost 7 times while winning only 4, they have outscored their foes 812-796.

Wayne State is Michigan's defensive leader, allowing nine opponents an average of just 59.4 a game. Northern Michigan owns the most powerful offense, averaging 82.6 in five games.

Aussie Cycle Team Takes Lead in Race

CLEVELAND (AP)—An Australian team, including one of the fastest sprinters on the track, was out in front today in the six-day bicycle race here after 679.4 miles.

Alfred Strom and John Tresidder moved ahead of the German team of Herbert Weinrich and Heinz Zoll to lead by one lap in the race that continues until 11 p.m. Monday.

Gala Weekend Promised at Annual Ice Carnival

A gala weekend for all fans of the flashing blades is in store in Pontiac.

It's the weekend of the annual City Ice Carnival, scheduled Saturday and Sunday at the North Side skating rink, Montcalm and Edison streets.

Co-sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department and the North Side Community Club, the carnival will offer a variety of attractions for the ice skating enthusiast.

Races for boys and girls of all ages, figure skating competition, exhibition hockey, the silver skates derby, an ice show and the crowning of the 1957 Ice Queen are the highlights of a crowded program.

Preliminary racing trials are slated Saturday afternoon, starting at 1:30. All contestants must participate in the qualifying events to be eligible for Sunday's final trials, which get under way at 1:30 p.m.

Qualifying events in figure skating and the silver skates derby are on tap Saturday night with all final competition Sunday afternoon.

Nestor's All-Stars, Junior Hockey Tournament champions, will meet an all-star team in an exhibition game Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

The carnival will be brought to a climax on Sunday evening with the presentation of an ice show by the Pontiac Ice Skating Club at 7 o'clock and the coronation of the new queen at 8.

Miss Suzanne Danner, 1956 Ice Queen, will reign over the show from a throne constructed of five tons of ice.

Public skating will be permitted each night at the conslusion of festivities.

'Cap' Holliday Honored

J. Earl "Cap" Holliday, known as "Mr. Bowling" in state Elk circles was honored with a handsome plaque in recognition of his long years of work recently at the state tourney here. The presentation was made by State Elks Bowling President Robert Managh. "Cap" is honorary chairman of the event which he helped bring to Pontiac.

TV Bowling Match

DETROIT (AP)—Andy Varipapa of Brooklyn and Bill Welu of Houston meet Saturday evening on "Bowling Champions" from Detroit.

Welu recently had a 750 series on a Chicago television bowling show and is a member of the five-man national match game championship team. The match begins at 5:30 p.m.

'Not Welcome' Sign

Major Player Gets Thumb

CHICAGO (AP)—Ernie Banks, Chicago Cub shortstop, and several unidentified minor league baseball players, have been told they are not welcome to continue their practice of working out in the University of Chicago fieldhouse.

In barring them from the fieldhouse, assistant athletic director Kyle Anderson said that the arena had become overcrowded during class hours. He also indicated that the action stemmed from a coaches agreement to refuse to aid major league scouts or other professional baseball people in any way.

This agreement was reached earlier this month in St. Louis by the American Assn. of College Baseball Coaches, of which Anderson is secretary-treasurer.

★ ★ ★

It was in retaliation to the major leagues action in ending a protective rule which forbade scouts from signing a college player from the start of his sophomore year until he was graduated or had reached the age of 21.

Walter Hass, Chicago athletic director, said he was unaware of Anderson's action.

Paramount News Quits Operations in Mid-February

NEW YORK (AP) — Paramount News will discontinue operations Feb. 15.

A spokesman said the newsreel arm of Paramount Pictures was going out of business "in line with the changes in communications methods these days and Paramount's policy to diversify investments."

★ ★ ★

"While Paramount News is still showing a profit," he said, "the returns, unfortunately are not commensurate with the time, energy and investment in the newsreel."

The newsreel laboratories will continue to be used for film processing by Paramount Pictures.

Paramount News was formed about 30 years ago and had been issuing films to theaters twice a week.

Steel Price Dip Lowers Market

NEW YORK (AP)—A sudden dip by steel shares turned a previously mixed market to the downside in moderate trading early this afternoon.

* * *

Key issues were down from fractions to around 2 points.

The market was mixed at the opening and in later dealings a lower tendency began to develop. The decline by steels tipped the scale definitely downward.

Some specialities moved to the upside against the trend but the decline was general, affecting most leading rails, motors, chemicals and manufacturing stocks.

* * *

In view of the market's spotty performance on low volume this week, Wall Street observers felt that the usual pre-weekend caution by traders was influencing prices.

Bethlehem Steel dropped more than 2. U. S. Steel and Youngstown were each down more than a point. Republic steel lost about a point.

Chrysler was another 1-point loser. Ford and General Motors were fractional losers. But Studebaker-Packard was up a fraction on exceptionally heavy turnover.

* * *

Pivotal rails displayed a run of minus signs. New York Central and Chesapeake & Ohio declined about a point each while southern Pacific was off a major fraction.

Du Pont and American Cyanamid dropped more than a point each. Smaller losses were taken by Union Carbide and Allied Chemical.

Westinghouse was off close to a point, General Electric a major fraction, Royal Dutch, Standard Oil (New Jersey), U. S. Gypsum, Douglas Aircraft, Caterpillar and Zenith dropped a point or so.

Federal Government Biggest Car Buyer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is still the biggest customer of the automotive industry—despite a cutback in car buying last year of 15,650 units.

The General Service Administration reported yesterday that the Department of Defense reduced its 1955 fleet by 18,107 to a total of 98,169 in 1956.

Civilian agencies, the GSA said, bought 2,457 more cars in 1956 than in 1955, to make up part of the defense department's cut back. In 1956, civilian agencies operated 97,379 vehicles.

The post office and agriculture departments showed the biggest increases, the GSA said.

Arrest Navy AWOL Working in Pontiac

A deserter since Oct. 15, 1956 from the Navy's New London, Conn. submarine base was arrested in Pontiac yesterday, according to Charles W. Brown, special agent in charge of the Detroit FBI office.

Sheriffs to Pursue License Fee Hike

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Sheriffs' Association has agreed to seek legislation to boost driver license fees to $3 with $2 of the money to be returned to the local issuing office.

Directors were instructed to work with the association's legal counsel to draw up the proposed law.

Present license fees are $3 for the first license and $1.50 for a three-year renewal.

The sheriffs were unanimous in declaring they needed more help in patrolling county highways. They cited statistics showing that approximately 75 per cent of the fatal accidents in Michigan occur on rural highways.

The sheriffs estimated that if the measure passes, between 200 and 400 more deputies could be added to the sheriff's departments in Michigan's 83 counties.

1956 Sees Increase in One-Way Streets

More than 2½ miles of city streets were converted to one-way operation during 1956 as the traffic engineering department continued its attempts to iron out traffic problems in Pontiac.

A total of 2.56 miles were changed in the central downtown area as a start of a program which will see many more converted this year, Theodore M. Vanderstempel, city traffic engineer, said.

As part of this program, 1,070 new signs were erected last year. Some 228 older street and traffic signs were replaced with newer ones, Vanderstempel said in his annual report to the city manager.

After a considerable debate, the traffic department had a traffic signal installed at Perry and Madison at the new Madison Junior High School.

Many parents had urged this move as a safety measure for the school children.

Other projects of the department, organized in January 1955, was the painting of 54 miles of pavement markings for traffic purposes.

Kids Lead Police Fantastic Chase

9, 13-Year-Old Youths Roar Over 45 Texas Frightening Miles

GRAPEVINE, Tex. (AP)—A couple of Fort Worth brothers who "just didn't want to be stopped" led police on a 100 m.p.h. car chase yesterday. It ended when the 1947 car the boys, 9 and 13 years old, were driving quit running.

"It's a miracle someone wasn't killed or hurt," said Highway Patrolman Dan Nowlin, who took part in the chase.

He said the boys covered a 45-mile stretch of busy road in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. They traveled at "fantastic speeds" through small towns, he said.

He said the boys, Donald, 9, and Ronnie Walden, ran away from home in Fort Worth in their dad's car.

He said he and McKinney policeman Jack Sullivan were cruising three miles south of McKinney, 50 miles from Fort Worth, when they saw a "driverless" car speeding southwest.

"A little sandy-red head raised up over the steering wheel and looked at us as it passed," Nowlin said.

The officers gave chase and were hitting 100 miles an hour when they drew alongside the sedan which Ronnie was driving.

"He ran us off the road and kept going," Nowlin said. "The 9-year-old was navigating for his big brother. We could see his head bob up now and then. He would tell the driver how close we were and which way to swerve to drive us out. The big one drove like a professional race driver.

"We never stopped him," Nowlin said. "The engine quit running on that old car."

The boys were taken to police headquarters and were released to their parents. No charges will be filed, Nowlin said.

They told officers, "We just didn't want to be stopped."

List Civic-Aid Goals for 1957

Jaycees Set Sights on 'Service'

The Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce, and its 120 members, is moving ahead and setting its sights on another year of community service, according to President Melvin Eller, of 1057 James K Blvd.

Hopes for donating a Jaycee room at the new Pontiac General Hospital have been expressed as a top 1957 goal, Eller said.

This week has been proclaimed "Jaycee Week" by Mayor William W. Donaldson, as the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce celebrates its founding in St. Louis in 1920. The local chapter became active in 1923.

The annual events of the Builder's Show in April, the Teenage Rodeo of driving skills, golf and tennis tournaments as part of a national program, and Easter egg hunts, again will be part of Jaycee activities.

★ ★ ★

"We will continue our efforts to help the Pontiac Foundation in its goals," Eller explained. The Jaycees contributed $1,000 in December toward a civic auditorium in Pontiac.

HELP IMPROVE PARK

Each year members aid, with the cooperation of the Parks and Recreation Dept., in the improvement of Jaycee Park at th corner of Walton and Joslyn. In 1956, members turned over $2,000 to the city department for this purpose.

Under the leadership of Clyle R. Haskill, Jaycees expect to initiate a new bicycle safety program for children, which the national organization undertakes annually.

Plans have just been disclosed for a 14-week Dale Carnegie course in human relations to be sponsored by the local group for the third time.

★ ★ ★

Eller said the Jaycees would continue looking for new members between the ages of 21 and 36 years. "Members do not have to live in the city to quality," he stressed.

Family Living Study Begins Feb. 14

Plan Leadership Program in Waterford

An entirely new type of study program is being introduced in the Waterford Township area by a group of parents, teachers and PTA presidents.

A Leader Training Program will begin Feb. 14 to train people to direct groups and organizations in home and family living discussions.

Mrs. Esther Middlewood, state director of mental health education, will direct the two-year course, with meetings once a month. The program will cover methods for the use of films, use of pamphlets, and lectures followed by discussions.

Mrs. Ralph Bergemann, chairman of the Program Planning Committee explained that the new course is primarily designed to train individuals in leadership in the community, concerning up-to-the-minute problems.

THREE-WAY TRAINING

However, the overall program helps the individual develop self-confidence in public speaking, trains him to be a film moderator, and equips him for leadership in any area topic, Mrs. Bergemann said.

The leadership training course will develop around subjects of "high interest" to the group. There will be no text books and the group will participate in topic discussion immediately.

"This type of program is becoming increasingly popular with educational discussion groups," Mrs. Bergemann said. "A great deal of self-understanding is gained through audience-participation," she added.

INVITATIONS SENT OUT

Letters have been sent to all PTA presidents, school principals and invitations have been sent to those who have taken part in study groups before and wish to improve their leadership abilities.

Each school area has been urged to have a representative enroll in the course to learn more of child growth, development, discipline and behavior patterns.

At 1:30 p.m. Wednesday the 18 members of the Program Planning Committee will meet at the Leggett school and complete the final plans for the new training course.

Zhukov Visits Nehru on Good Will Mission

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru said goodby to one high Communist visitor today and then had another to lunch.

Nehru first gave a hand-shaking farewell to Communist Chinese Premier Chou En-lai, who left by plane for Nepal. Then he got together with Soviet Defense Minister Georgi Zhukov for what officials described as a "courtesy" visit at Nehru's residence.

The Nehru - Zhukov meeting came 24 hours after the Russian marshal arrived. Communist sources in New Delhi say Zhukov is on a good will mission to explain Soviet policy in Hungary and ease Asian criticism.

If Needed or Not, Car Gets Repaired

YONKERS, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Marjorie Guerrieri left her car in a parking lot next to a hospital. A patient in the hospital, who had a car in the lot almost like Mrs. Guerrieri's, chose this time to phone a garage and arrange for a repair job.

The garage picked up Mrs. Guerrieri's car.

While police were following up her car theft report, the car was getting a motor overhaul, fender repairs, new mirrors and a polish job.

Then the garage returned it to the parking lot.

The reconditioning job didn't cost Mrs. Guerrieri a cent.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Part in 'Eloise' Leads to Films

Fats Domino to Enliven Perry Como Show on February 2

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Julius La Rosa plays his first TV dramatic role (a dual role, in fact) on NBC's Feb. 4 "Matinee Theater." About rogues who prey on a pop singer . . . (Hey, Julie'll literally be a "pop" singer around July 4).

"Eloise" may not have satisfied too many critics (we enjoyed it) but it made Evelyn Rudie a star (this talented tyke will be George Gobel's guest Saturday), and now Inger Stevens, who played the maid in the Kay Thompson cartoon for sophisticates, has been discovered directly from "Eloise" for a Bing Crosby movie and then a Danny Kaye conniption.

Things too tranquil around the Perry Como Show? Wait 'til Feb. 2—Fats Domino (go-go-go!) . . .

Jim Lowe, the CBS disc jockey whose song "Green Door" sold more than 2,250,000 records, made more than $100,000 therefrom . . .

Robert Montgomery loses his razor sponsor and gets an after-shave lotion instead, which is fancy fiscal chronology . . .

RETURNING TO AIR

CBS commentator Bill Leonard returns to the air Feb. 13 after his heart mends carefully in Haiti . . .

One of the simplest, loveliest songs we've heard in years is "From the First Hello to the Last Goodbye," a Johnny Burke words-and-music solo. Jane Morgan's Kapp recording of same is a jim-dandy . . .

It was recorded, oddly enough, at Brooklyn College's cafeteria with students singing a warm and wonderful accompaniment.

Dave Garroway's "Today" is a nice unpretentious show in its sixth year instead of the fantastically over-ambitious mixup of machines, men and publicity promises when it started . . . It's now a pleasant program in which to get the skimmed news, whether, mild interviews and a neat geniality.

Perry Como won three of the key classifications in Radio-TV Daily's annual poll of the country's critics: "Man of the Year," "Musical Show of the Year" and "Male Vocalist of the Year." Dinah Shore won two: Woman of the Year and Female Vocalist of the Year."

Two other classifications we agree with: "Playhouse 90" as TV's "Dramatic show of the Year" and John Frankenheimer as Director of the Year. All of the top 10 weekday shows were soap operas.

ANOTHER PROMOTION

NBC executive Robert D. Levitt again has been promoted—to president of NBC's big film subsidiary, California National Productions.

The Roger (NBC producer) Gimbels are expecting to use some of the family stores' triangular dry-goods.

Is there a TV trend toward chubbier models? Away from the stylishly scrawny? (Good!)

Philco has a radio guaranteed for five years . . .

AEC Setting Up Spring A-Tests

New Series in Nevada Will Prove 'Low-Yield' Nuclear Devices

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission is setting up a new series of atomic tests, presumably to include such defense weapons as nuclear antiaircraft missiles and artillery.

An AEC announcement last night gave no dates, but said the tests will begin late in the spring at the Nevada proving grounds west of Las Vegas. Four previous series of tests have been conducted there, the last in the spring of 1955.

★ ★ ★

The announcement said the new series will involve "low-yield nuclear tests."

This presumably means that the explosions will be not much more than 30 kilotons. A kiloton is the equivalent of the energy released in explosion of 1,000 tons of TNT.

★ ★ ★

The commission, obviously sensitive to concern over radiological fall-out from nuclear explosions, emphasized that "tests of high-yield devices are not conducted in Nevada." In general, a "high-yield" explosion is of H-bomb proportions, producing forces as high as 17 million tons of TNT.

The AEC announcement of the new test series came only four days after, the commission said, the Russians had conducted "another nuclear weapons test in their current series" which started last year. But the American test series this spring was not prompted by the latest Soviet firing. Plans were started as soon as the 1955 series was completed.

'60 Navy Task Force Nuclear Powered?

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP)—Rear Adm. Hyman G. Rickover predicts by the early 1960s every naval vessel authorized for construction will be propelled by nuclear power.

"The ultimate objective in the development of nuclear power for the Navy is the nuclear-powered task force capable of remaining at sea indefinitely without refueling," he said last night at an American Legion meeting.

"Such a task force has become possible by the proved use of nuclear power for submarines. It will be widely dispersed over an ocean area as large as the state of Maine and would be able to control an area of 60,000 square miles," he said.

Rickover is chief of naval reactor development.

'Do It Yourself' Breed of Dogs to Catch Rabbits

LANCASTER, Ky. (AP)—Old gun-toting methods of rabbit hunting in Kentucky are out of the question now for a Lancaster veterinarian.

An aunt brought Dr. M. B. Marx a rare Ibiza hound—supposed to be capable of finding and catching a rabbit by herself.

The dog is one of only 10 such hounds in the United States, according to Dr. Marx. He expects her pups, if and when she has any, to be worth $500 each.

The breed supposedly originated on the Meditarranean island from which it got its name.

Jury Orders Haircut

DALLAS (AP) — Robert Townson, 18, was given a three-year suspended sentence and $5 or a haircut. The jury foreman told Townson's attorney "we don't like his Elvis Presley haircut and want you to see that he gets it cut." The youth was charged with breaking into a cement company.

Lana to Debut Live on TV

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lana Turner will make her first live television appearance next month. Except for filmed sequences, she has never been on TV, NBC announced yesterday that her debut will be March 10 as a guest star on the Bob Hope show.

Operation Postponed for Ralph Edwards

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ralph Edwards' trip to the hospital has been postponed. Edwards, emcee of the NBC-TV show "This Is Your Life," was to have entered Good Samaritan Hospital for a minor operation but his physician decided that a slight infection would not be ready for surgery until Sunday, a spokesman said.

Royal Air Force Dedicates Bells of Rebuilt Church

LONDON (UP)— "Oranges and lemons say the bells of St. Clement's."

For the first time in 16 years, the bells of St. Clement Danes rang out that old nursery tune. And for Londoners it was a sound as sweet as bird song in spring. For this rhyme tells of the distinguishing sounds of all the old bells of London.

★ ★ ★

The church has stood dark and empty since it was gutted by fire during a Nazi air raid in 1941. Its graceful tower by Sir Christopher Wren still carries the scars of war. So at today's dedication of the recast bells, they were not hoisted aloft but arranged in a circle in front of the building.

★ ★ ★

St. Clements, now undergoing reconstruction, is to become the church of the Royal Air Force. Ultimately the finished structure will contain an organ paid for by $75,000 contributed by members of the U.S. Air Force from all parts of the world. The organ, a symbol of comradeship of the USAF and the RAF, will be dedicated to American servicemen who died in Britain in World War II.

★ ★ ★

With its new designation as the airmen's church, St. Clements has an older tradition—as the church of London's flower girls.

One of them, 80-year-old Miss Dinah Wilson, decorated the front of the battered building with oranges and lemons for today's ceremony. After the bells rang out there was a pause, and then came the answering sound from the other end of the strand.

"You owe me five farthings say the bells of St. Martin's."

That is the line in the nursery rhyme that applies to the bells of St. Martin's church, at the other end of the strand.
