Robert St. Clair Resigns Chamber Manager's Post

The resignation of Robert J. St. Clair as manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, effective March 1, was announced today by Dr. George N. Petroff, president. He will be succeeded by Assistant Manager John W. Hirlinger.

St. Clair indicated that his action was prompted for reasons of ill-health. He stated that he had been contemplating the move for the past six months.

Manager of the chamber since October 1952, St. Clair succeeded Morton T. Scott upon his death. He joined the staff in 1949 as assistant in charge of retail merchants' activities.

MIL

Hirlinger became associated with the organization in June, 1953, and in his capacity as assistant manager has earned the praise of directors for his activity in coordination merchant and civic affairs.

He is a graduate of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce National Institute and holds a bachelor of arts degree from Immanuel Missionary College.

In a statement today, Dr. Petroff expressed the appreciation of officers, directors and past presidents for St. Clair's "contributions to the chamber and his intense interest in community development."

Before his association with the Chamber, St. Clair was a member of the sales organizations of several large companies.

Officials said today that the organization has not yet selected a successor to serve as assistant manager.

Bids Requested for 80 Units on Year's Trial

Could Be Placed in Use in Time for August Primary Election

Steps toward equipping all voting precincts in the city with voting machines were taken by the Pontiac City Commission last night.

Six of the seven commissioners voted for the move, the only opposition vote coming from Commissioner Floyd P. Miles of District 4.

With bids to close Feb. 14, Mrs. Evans said she hopes Pontiac voters will be able to use the machines in the August primary election.

Exact cost of a year's rental will not be known until bids are submitted, but it is expected to be around $12,000.

After one year, the commission would decide whether to purchase them for permanent use. The rental cost for the year would be applied against the purchase price of the machines.

The decision to try out the machines stemmed from an April 9 deadline when the city would either have to split present precincts in accordance with the state law, or provide machines.

Willman told the commission that creating more precincts would add $7,000 to election payrolls. He said there is $48,000 allocated in the 1956 capital improvement fund toward the purchase of voting machines.

Commissioner John E. Carry said, "I have heard nobody talk against machines in my district and I hope ultimately we will be able to continue on and purchase these machines."

"I can't see how we can tell people the city doesn't have any money for other public improvement projects and then turn right around and invest $100,000 on something we don't need," Commissioner Miles declared.

Seeks to Soften Immigration Act

Ike Asks Congress to Admit More Aliens and Change Quotas

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today to overhaul the nation's immigration laws and admit additional aliens to the U. S. through more equitable use of the quota system.

• • •

The President, in a special message, recommended that the annual immigration ceiling be increased from 154,657 to approximately 220,000. He told Congress:

"Experience in the postwar world demonstrates that the present national-origins method of admitting aliens needs to be re-examined, and a new system adopted which will admit aliens within allowable numbers according to new guide lines and standards."

Eisenhower called for sweeping changes to eliminate what he called inequities and discriminations in the McCarran-Walter Act of 1952.

The chief executive recommended that Congress:

1. Change the immigration base from the 1920 census to the 1950 census as a determination for the "overall ceiling," increasing the present annual quota of 154,657 immigrations by 65,000.

ACTUAL IMMIGRATION

2. Distribution of the additional 65,000 among countries in proportion to actual immigration.

Detroit Not Liable for Injuries on Ice

DETROIT (INS)—The city of Detroit has disclaimed liability for injuries suffered on icy sidewalks Monday.

More than 500 Detroiters went to hospitals Monday with injuries suffered in falls and at least two fatal accidents were caused by ice which glazed most of the state.

Leo E. Lajoie, assistant Detroit corporation counsel, cited previous court decisions to uphold his position that the city is not responsible for injuries suffered by its citizens on ice-covered streets and sidewalks.

Lajoie said the city is responsible only in the case of defective sidewalks or negligent employes.

Marine City House Shattered in Sudden Blast

FATAL EXPLOSION — Firemen probe ruins of Marine City home in which Lawrence Lisee, 48, was killed and his wife, Cecilia, 41, and sons Lawrence Jr., 11, and Joseph, 8, were injured when an explosion leveled it early today. Part of the wall lies against a nearby home, which was damaged by the blast.

Home Explodes, Father Killed

MARINE CITY (INS) — A father was killed and his wife and two children were injured early today in a double explosion which literally tore apart their Marine City home.

Lawrence Lissee, 48, was found three and a half hours later, buried in the debris in the basement. His wife, Cecelia, 41, and children, Joseph, 8, and John, 11, were taken to Port Huron Mercy Hospital suffering from shock and burns.

The explosion scattered timbers and pieces of the house for 200 to 300 feet. Fire which followed leveled the house.

One section of the nine-room, two-story frame dwelling was torn off and hurled into the side of the home next door where Mrs. Florence Halliday, 60, a widow, escaped injury but suffered shock.

The rear section was blown into a field more than 50 feet away. Timbers and other debris were scattered over the area.

SAVES CHILDREN

Mrs. Lissee said she came to lying on the basement floor with the kitchen sink on top of her. She managed to get out and aid her children, who had fallen into the basement from the bedroom.

Firemen who fought the blaze said the double explosion broke windows throughout the city. The roar was reported heard five miles away.

After treatment, Mrs. Lissee said that when she turned on the kitchen hot water faucet only steam poured out. She hurried to the basement, she said, and shut off the oil burner which heated the home.

• • •

She awakened her husband, a day-shift employe at Chris-Craft Corp. in Algonac. She said she saw her husband go into the bedroom to check on the children and —"then the world exploded."

• • •

Fire Chief Albert Furtah said the blast may have been caused by a gas leak or an overheated oil water heater.

Solon to Submit Water Aid Bill

Broomfield's Measure Would Set Aside Fund for Communities

State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) will introduce a bill to the Legislature today which will expand the authority of the Water Resources Commission to study and assist local communities in solving water problems.

Broomfield's bill would set up a $200,000,000 revolving fund from which local units could borrow water and sewage financing money.

The Senator said his bill is similar to ones he introduced the last two years. "For this one we will have bi-partisan support," he said, "and realizing this will be an uphill fight, I am still hopeful for its passage."

A committee headed by Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh advocated setting up a separate commission to administer the program.

If passed, the bill will enable local communities to secure state financial assistance at the lowest interest rate possible, the Oakland lawmaker explained. It will extend the rate of the bonds to 35 to 40 years, cutting down on the payment rate, he added.

Broomfield also said he will confer with State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler tomorrow and recommend that his department survey Oakland County roads to see if more roads could be placed on state trunk lines.

Toastmaster for the annual Lincoln Day Banquet of the Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club will be Bruce Annett. The event will be at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 16 in the Elks Temple. Annett is a former president of the club, and a Pontiac realtor.

Storm Thwarts Voters

MULESHOE, Tex. (AP) — Not a single vote was cast Saturday at Bailey County bond and tax election called to provide funds for improving county roads. The reason was a blizzard that dumped from 16 to 24 inches of snow over the county, blocking all roads. County commissioners have ordered the election re-set.

Ike Indicates He'll Reveal Decision Before March 1

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower indicated today he will announce his decision on whether to run for a second term before March 1.

The chief executive told his news conference he has talked with dozens of his advisers about the decision which has Washington and the nation buzzing with speculation.

He sounded at times as if he leaned toward running again and at times as if he leaned in the other direction.

Eisenhower said he probably will trust his own feelings more than the report he receives from his doctors when he undergoes his "final" medical examination early next week.

Politics and the second term question mark again dominated the President's meeting with the press.

He made it quite plain that he would not ask Chief Justice Earl Warren or anyone else to seek the Republican nomination if he decides not to run himself.

But he praised Warren highly and said he would certainly not oppose him if the chief justice should become a candidate.

The President also was asked about his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, as a possible GOP candidate. He replied that as far as he knows Milton has no political ambitions.

On other subjects, Eisenhower made these points:

Church Bazaar Prize Winners Must Pay Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Taxes must be paid on prizes awarded at church bazaar drawings, the U.S. Tax Court ruled today.

"If the plan or scheme falls within the definition of a lottery, it is not rendered something else because it is conducted for a charitable or religious purpose," the court said.

"And the recipient of a lottery prize does not receive tax - free income because the sponsors conducted the lottery for a worthy purpose."

The upshot of the decision is that the former Diane M. Farnsworth, now Mrs. Duaine Solomon, must pay $59 in taxes on a government bond valued at $750. And her father Richard C. Farnsworth must come up with more tax money. This is because Diane's income for 1952, counting the bond, was more than $600. Thus, he loses her as a dependency credit for that year.

Authorize Bids for New Project Near City Hall

Begin Work in Spring on 3-Story Structure to House Police, Courts

A $750,000 Public Safety Building, the second milestone in the city's civic center program, will begin to become a reality this spring when workmen are expected to start work on the Pike-Parke street edifice.

The City Commission last night authorized the city manager to begin to take bids for construction of the three-floor structure which will house the police department, offices of the fire chief and staff and the municipal courts.

Bids are due by March 8, and according to city architect Leo J. Heenan, ground is expected to be broken within two weeks after this, when the City Commission executes the contract.

Heenan said the structure will be ready for occupancy by fall, 1957 or no later than spring of 1958.

The reinforced concrete frame building with light gray buff brick and aluminum sash, like the neighboring City Hall, is being financed entirely from the capital improvement fund.

FRONT ON PIKE

The building will front on Pike street and will have an entrance off Hill street. It will be approximately the size of the City Hall, also designed by Heenan, and will be located 140 feet north of the hall.

It will have a ground floor, first and second floor and space provided for a third level. The ground floor will house all the police cars, patrol wagons and an emergency squad room with a man on duty all the time ready to dispatch emergency vehicles.

Also included on the lower level will be a sound-proof five position pistol range provided with an automatic return of targets. The range is equipped so as to permit firing weapons as high in range as a sub-machinegun. It is also

Higher Prices Will Be Sought This Month

Milk Official Blasts 'Fair Share' Bargaining Group

By JIM BINDER
Asst. City Editor, Pontiac Press

An official of the Michigan Milk Producers Association lashed out at critics of the 17,000-member group's right to bargain for higher milk prices during a press conference in Detroit yesterday.

President Glenn Lake, a Lapeer County dairyman, told reporters that the "Fair Share Bargaining Committee," a group made up of MMPA members and other milk producers, is attempting to "hoodwink and bobby-trap dairy farmers by the use of distorted facts, half-truths, gilded promises and subterfuge."

At the same time, Lake indicated that the MMPA will seek an increase in milk prices that will mean $2½ million more a year to producer-members who supply the Detroit area.

Negotiations, he said, will begin Feb. 27 to seek a raise in the price to the producer at hearings before the Federal Milk Marketing Administration.

Although the association exercises no direct control over retail prices, officials admitted that the increase probably would be passed on to the consumer if approved.

RECENT SPEECH TARGET

Target of Lake's attack on the Fair Share group was a recent speech in which spokesman Homer L. Martin of South Lyon, told the MMPA's Romeo Chapter that the MMPA cannot bargain effectively for higher milk prices. Martin advocated an alignment with organized labor to obtain a different approach to negotiations.

Referring to the group, Lake said: "They profess to have as their objective a better price to producers. They propose to accomplish this by a strike using organized haulers as the 'big stick.' The (MMPA) has the same objective but proposes to accomplish it by ethical and practical means."

Lake denied the Fair Share's claim that the association's charter prevents it from bargaining. He added that the MMPA does not feel that it is compelled to accept the minimum price laid down by Federal order.

CITES PRICE SQUEEZE

Lake stated that dairy farmers are caught in a current "cost-price squeeze." Milk prices, he pointed out, have dropped 25 per cent since February, 1952, while many cost items have increased by 25 per cent.

Farmers are "bitter," Lake said, over the increase spread between producer and consumer prices.

STRIKE POSSIBLE

The official admitted that the MMPA might possibly call a strike of producers if the government turns down its request for an increase, although he said that members have not yet decided to do so if negotiations fail.

Of the association's total membership, 12,500 are suppliers to the Detroit area, comprising Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Washtenaw counties. Suppliers received about 10 cents a quart for milk in December.

The posted retail price, Lake said, was 22½ cents for standard milk, delivered, with discounts for quantity.

In regard to the association's position, Lake referred to previous attacks on MMPA policies:

"We have been attacked from within and without. Consumer groups have accused us of gouging them. The Detroit City Council caused an investigation during which they attempted to prove that we were a sprawling monopoly bringing in the Market Order to artificially enhance prices. Farmers attack us because the prices are not high enough."

Sanatorium Bill in Legislature

House Gets Proposal to Convert Institution for Mental Patients

A bill to convert the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium for use by mental patients was introduced into the Michigan House of Representatives yesterday.

The proposed measure was one of hundreds which poured into legislative hoppers as lawmakers worked in a frantic effort to meet today's deadline.

Both chambers adopted resolutions which will permit introduction of bills later in the week provided they were outlined to drafting clerks by today.

More than 85 bills were introduced in the house yesterday and the Senate received a flood of Legislation.

Late house bills included a measure establishing state scholarship board within the office of the state superintendent of public instruction.

Another late House bill would exempt food from the State Sales Tax. It came only a few days after the attorney general ruled such an exemption could be made without amending the Constitution.

The Lower Chamber also received a bill to establish a 15 million dollar sales tax equalization fund.

Also introduced in the house were bills to:

Establish a state-wide curfew for children under 16.

Allow townships of more than 10,000 population to establish civil service commissions.

Union Favoring Parking Project

Local at Fisher Body Tells City Commission in Resolution

Another local union came out in favor of increased municipal parking for the city at last night's City Commission meeting, as the commissioners heard a resolution from Fisher Body Division Local 596, UAW-CIO.

The communication, signed by President Harold A. Grant, said the union membership unanimously adopted the city's stand on public parking and declared the "prices charged by private parking interests were certainly too high for the working class of people."

"The City Commission has done a wonderful job in handling the city's affairs and should be highly commended by every citizen within this community, not only for its position on public parking, but also on other items that have greatly helped the citizens of this fine city," the communication read.

Repercussions from charges by Sam L. Stolorow, chief opponent of the city's proposed $600,000 parking program, were aired by Commissioner John A. Dugan (District 5).

"I hear I have been called a Socialist and a Communist," he said. "This doesn't surprise me for I warned earlier that this group that thinks more of the special interest group than the private investor, would begin this smear campaign."

tion to their actual immigration to the U. S. in order "to eliminate some of the inequity resulting from the fact that several countries have large quotas which they do not use while others have small quotas which are usually oversubscribed."

3. Creation of a special annual quota of 5,000 to be used for admission of aliens with special technical and cultural skills regardless of nationality or national origin.

4. A pooling of unused quotas from Europe, Africa, Asia and the Pacific Ocean area to permit their use in the following year on "a first come, first served basis among eligible applicants of the area, without regard to country of birth."

5. Elimination of the so-called mortgage on quotas system. Under this, visas issued under the Displaced Persons Act and other special acts are charged against immigration quotas with the result that the quota for Greece is now mortgaged until the year 2017. The President said that a number of other countries likewise are affected.

Eisenhower also strongly recommended that Congress give limited discretionary powers to the attorney general to grant relief for admission and deportation of aliens.

He said this would do away with the "undue and largely useless burdens placed upon Congress and the President by the avalanche in recent years of private bills for the relief of aliens."

In addition, the President called for repeal of the provision requiring the fingerprinting of every alien who applies for a visa to visit the U. S.

The Day in Birmingham

Chief of Police Submits Annual Crime Report

BIRMINGHAM — The annual report submitted by the Chief of Police indicates an exact balance between adults and juveniles arrested for certain crimes, with Chief Ralph Moxley indicating an increase of arrests from the previous year. 184 of each were arrested.

Printed with a brilliant blue cover, the police report shows a four per cent upward crime trend, with larcenies over $50 amounts taking the greater portion of that figure. There were no robberies or homicides during the year, he says.

However, a good many man-hours went toward the homicide late in the previous year in a local gas station, with one arrested suspect being released after investigation. Chief Moxley says almost 1000 man-hours went into the case's investigation, still unsuccessful.

An increase of over 27 per cent in the juvenile crime arrests was blamed by Moxley not on more cases, but greater effort of his police force of 35.

Of offences such as rape, burglary, larceny, and auto-theft known to the police, 71 of the 350 cases were cleared by arrest, the report states. There was only one rape case, with none the previous year. Auto thefts were up 19 per cent.

Mills to change Taliaferro Estates at Westchester Way and Maple from single residence to Business C, and of four property owners of the Hunter Boulevard frontage between Oakland and Madison for a business zoning rather than home use, has been referred to the planning board.

Employment of Matthew Carey as financial consultant for the second issue of automobile parking system revenue bonds, recommended by J. H. Purkiss, Jr., director of finance at Monday's commission meeting, has been tabled for a week at the suggestion of Mayor Charles Renfrew.

Purkiss's suggestion came with a review of fees paid Carey in the February 1955 sale of $260,000 of bonds, totaling $1,465. With the two contemplated issues, part of the continuing program of financing, his fee would be $1,495, Purkiss estimated.

Service for J. Jager Richards, 79, of 32411 Sheridan Dr., Beverly Hills, will be at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at Manley Bailey Funeral Home, and burial will be in West Park Cemetery in Cleveland. Mr. Richards died at the Curtis Rest Home, Avon Township, yesterday.

Born in Uxbridge, Canada, he was a member of Toronto's Church of Christ and of the Owen Steel Lodge No. 621, F&AM of Cleveland, where he retired in 1941 as district manager of the Pittsburgh Erie Saw Corporation. Before coming to Birmingham on Dec. 3, 1953, the Richards lived in Whittier, Cal.

Besides his wife, Ida, at the Curtis home, he leaves a son, A. C. Richards, at the Sheridan address, two daughters, Mrs. Helen Eikerberry, of Altadena, Calif., and Mrs. Florence Fowler, of Buffalo, N.Y., a sister, Mrs. Susie Daley of Nananee, Ont., six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

It will also have the juvenile division, the police women division, the weights and measure section, and a complete crime lab which will permit the department to perform ballistic tests plus others necessary in crime detection.

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers announced today the signing of two more players, bringing the total so far to 22 with 21 more to be signed in the next 21 days.

Latest to sign are catcher Red Wilson, who batted .220 in 78 games with the Tigers last year, and 1st baseman Wayne Belardi, who batted .229 in 74 games with Buffalo and had 10 home runs. Belardi also played in 51 games for San Francisco, batting .269 with 13 homers.

Democrats Plan Session on Governor's Program

Oakland County Democratic Committee has scheduled a conference here Saturday to explain and discuss the legislative problem backed by Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

The meeting, at 1:30 p.m. in the County Office Building, marks the kick-off of the 1956 local Democratic campaign, explained Conference Chairman Mrs. Harriett Phillips, of Huntington Woods.

"It will form the platform on which our candidates will be running," she stated.

Main speaker will be Secretary of State James M. Hare. Also attending will be State Reps. Leslie H. Hudson (Pontiac) and Walter T. McMahon (Hazel Park).

After hearing the governor's proposals outlined, the assembly will break up into discussion groups. Expected to attend are Democratic city, township and club chairmen; all members of the county committee, past candidates for office and potential candidates. The conference is one of 18 scheduled over the state this week.

Curry Faces Indictment on Murder Count in Hotel Room Death

A prosecution witness today testfied he saw John A. Curry, 27, severely beat a 57-year-old exbookkeeper only minutes before the victim's dead body was found in his room at Hotel Chapman late Jan. 18.

Curry, 125 N. Perry St., faces an indictment on a charge of first degree murder. His examination before Pontiac Municipal Court Judge Maurice E. Finnegan adjourned for lunch at noon after one and one-half hours of testimony.

Curry's roommate, Louis Hayes, 21, testified he and Curry visited the victim, Frank L. Beheydt, shorty after 10 p. m. to "get some money."

He said he saw Curry strike the man, then drag him to the floor where he struck him again and slammed his knees into his stomach.

Another witness, Pete Voydanoff, 895 Chalmers St., said Curry and Hayes stopped in his restaurant about 10 p. m. and he overheard Curry say, "I'm going to kill him."

Hayes admitted Curry earlier had told him he was going to "kill or beat" Beheydt.

Dr. John J. Marra, pathologist who performed the post-mortem examination, said Beheydt died because of a ruptured abdominal artery.

The case against Curry was presented by Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem. Attorney Philip Pratt acted for Hayes.

The show will run through Feb. 19.

The 12-day program also will include movies in the Rotunda Auditorium and an exhibit of design renderings of futuristic cars by the advanced styling section of Ford Motor Co.

Macomb Legislators Block Airport Plans

LANSING (AP) — Three Macomb County legislators introduced a bill today to block construction of a 9 million dollar airport in Warren Township, Macomb County.

The bill would require the Macomb County Board of Supervisors to approve the airport before any land could be condemned.

Under the existing law, the approval is not required if the project involves expansion of an existing airport. The city of Detroit has bought a small airport in the township and plans to expand it into a major area airport.

Rep. George Steeh (D-Mt. Clemens), one of the sponsors, said the city of Detroit had bought the small airport to circumvent the law requiring approval of the Board of Supervisors.

* * *

As the law now reads, he said, such approval is required only for new airports and not for expansion of existing ones.

2 Senate Bodies Probing $2,500

Row Over Jurisdiction to Investigate Charges by Sen. Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George (D-Ga) said today the Senate itself will have to resolve any further dispute over who is to investigate a $2,500 campaign contribution offered Sen. Francis Case (R-SD).

George said a special four-man committee set up by a 90-0 Senate vote yesterday expects Case and six subpoenaed witnesses to testify only at public hearings the group plans to open Friday.

But Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) said he planned to ask the Senate Rules Committee for its backing in an inquiry by its elections subcommittee.

TO SUBPOENA CONTRIBUTOR

Hennings and Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) voted yesterday to subpoena James M. Neff, attorney from Lexington, Neb., who offered the $2,500 to Case. Sen. Curtis (R-Neb), the third subcommittee member, protested the action as being "in defiance of the Senate."

Case had told the Senate last Friday he suspected the money was intended to influence him to vote for the natural gas bill passed by the Senate Monday. He voted against the bill.

Auto Research Advances

Huge Car Crash Machine Planned for MSU Campus

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State University is planning for a huge machine that will be able to stage violent head-on auto crashes without spilling a drop of blood.

The 40-foot high laboratory testing machine will require a special three-story building for its quarters. The machine is a device designed to exert force on various materials to test their strength and usefulness.

Top engineers will meet on the MSU campus Thursday to discuss what they should expect from the machine. Representatives of major automotive manufacturers, Dow Chemical Co., Timken-Detroit Axle Co., American Bridge Co. and the State Highway Department will attend the meeting.

* * *

The machine is expected to cost up to half a million dollars and will be more advanced and complete than any other now in existence. It would be housed in the applied mechanics wing of the proposed new four million dollar mechanical engineering building.

Planned features will include the ability to exert loads of up to a million pounds up to 50 times a minute or smaller loads as fast as 500 times a minute.

Heat and cold chambers would have temperatures ranging from 120 degrees below zero to 1,200 degrees Fahrenheit.

* * *

What a Bloody Story

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Mrs. Nora Smith, back home yesterday after being out of town three weeks, took one look at her living room and telephoned police. "There are blood stains on my wall and some of it is dripping down from the attic," she said. Det. B. G. Thurman investigated, found the "blood" to be brick stains which had seeped through the chimney wall from melting ice and snow.

Prayers Offered for Mindszenty Prison Release

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Prayers were offered today for Josef Cardinal Mindszenty, primate of Hungary, on the sixth anniversary of his sentence to life in prison.

* * *

Hungarian Communist officials arrested the cardinal in 1948 and sentenced him on Feb. 8, 1949, on charges of treason, espionage and illegal financial deals.

EFFORT TO DISRUPT

Pope Pius XII called an extraordinary consistory of cardinals then to express his sorrow. The Pope called the sentence an effort to disrupt the Roman Catholic Church in Hungary.

The Hungarian Ministry of Justice announced last July 16 on the eve of the Geneva summit conference that Cardinal Mindszenty was being transferred from prison to an "ecclesiastical building."

* * *

Two months later the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano, noting the absence of Hungarian reports on the cardinal's whereabouts or condition, said the announcement of his release may have been export propaganda.

The cardinal, reported in ill health in the past, will be 64 March 3.

They're Getting Faster Each Time Another Is Made

CHICAGO (AP)—A manned rocket plane that could soar some 140 miles at a speed of about 3,500 miles an hour might be possible, a Navy officer says.

Speaking at a meeting of Navy officials and midwest industrial leaders, Rear Adm. Rawson Bennett II said yesterday:

"A feasibility study done for the Office of Naval Research has shown that it should be possible to build, with a motor now available, a manned rocket plane that could fly to 750,000 feet at a speed of about Mach 5, and land safely."

Mach 5 would be between 3,500 and 4,000 miles an hour.

Bennett, chief of naval research and development, said:

"If such an aircraft were built it would be strictly a research vehicle to study problems of high-altitude flight, such as nearly weightless flight at the edge of the earth's gravitational field."

Child Gobbles Up $7,000 Worth in 18 Years

That it costs a family with an annual income of $6,500 about $800 to bring a baby into the world, including the cigars the proud papa passes around.

* * *

That it costs — according to a Redbook Magazine Survey —$7,000 merely to feed a child during its first 18 years. What do kids eat today anyway — orchids?

UP THEY GO

That in 1932 the Polish Olympic team ran up the 1860 steps in the 102-floor Empire State Building in 21 minutes flat. Russia, of course, will beat the record — just as soon as it builds a skyscraper that tall.

* * *

That the number of girl "office boys" has tripled since 1940.

That while industry prefers women office workers, men still held 354,000 of the 390,000 federal government clerical posts as recently as 1950.

30-MINUTE STEAK

That it took an industrial worker 49 minutes to earn the price of a pound of round steak here in 1929. Today he does it in half an hour. But don't let your butcher know this — you have enough trouble with him already.

That A. H. Berwald, a 73-year-old pencil manufacturer, tests his pencil leads by leaning out his 10th floor office window and dropping them to the sidewalk. Incidentally, pencils will not only write under water — they work equally well when submerged in molasses. Try it and see.

* * *

That a pencil has been developed that will even write on your gums. Dentists use them.

STILL A SHORTAGE

That despite all the new labor-saving business machines that have been invented, there is still a shortage of 600,000 office workers in the United States.

That many modern roads in France follow the old routes of Napoleon's military campaigns.

That there is no tide in the Mediterranean. I have thos on the authority of the French government tourist office, which didn't bother to explain why.

That Jane Froman, the singer, is allergic to ostrich feathers.

SHE SAID IT

That opera star Blanche Thebom believes more American wives learn about culture from their husbands than vice versa. Now if a mere man said a thing like that he'd be denounced as an unbearable male prig.

* * *

That a recent comic book style treatment of "The Story of Jesus" sold half a million copies in two weeks, believed to be an all-time record for any so-called "comic book."

That Hildegrade, veteran performer though she is, still recites the prayer of St. Francis of Assisi just before going out to face a new audience.

* * *

CHEER FOR BRONX

That few people can name offhand the only one of New York City's five boroughs that is actually on the mainland of the United States. It's the Bronx.

That a feeble-minded person can become insane, but a normal adult person, though his mental condition may deteriorate, never actually becomes "feeble-minded."

That the "coffee break," so popular with office workers today, originated in Turkey, where the first coffee house opened in 1554.

AMAZING!

BUT THE TRUTH ABOUT O-JIB-WA

Mrs. Charles Scott, 9 Edgemont, Battle Creek, Michigan, recently wrote us the following about O-JIB-WA BITTERS.

"O-Jib-Wa Bitters has certainly been a Godsend to me, so I welcome the opportunity to tell others about it. I was afflicted with canker sores in my mouth, throat and even my eyes constantly for 16 years. I took all kinds of tests and treatments, costing over $2,000 without finding out what was wrong, or receiving any relief at all. I couldn't go anyplace, or do anything, except stay home and brood about this terrible condition. I began to think I was doomed to this life of misery, and frankly, at times, life seemed hardly worth living. I was very nervous and always hungry, but I would eat, and then could hardly keep it down. I also had large red blotches on my body, which would dry and flake off. I finally got so sick that I was forced to stay in bed for over two weeks. All I could eat was baby food and had to drink liquids through a straw. While in bed, I developed arthritis. One day I picked up the newspaper and saw an advertisement for O-JIB-WA BITTERS, so thought I would try it for my arthritis. To my surprise, in one week, my mouth was all healed, the red blotches were gone, and my arthritis was all better. In 16 years I did not have a minute's relief from those canker sores, and now they were gone. I was truly amazed. This was seven years ago, and I have not had a canker sore since. I recommended O-JIB-WA to a girl in St. Joseph, Michigan, who was afflicted with the same kind of sores in her mouth, and it cleared them up for her in a week also. I always keep O-JIB-WA BITTERS in the house, because once in awhile I get a little lame, and this wonderful medicine always takes care of it in about a week. I just can't speak too highly of this medicine, and what I have told you is God's truth."

Farm Surplus Going on Credit

Stock Piles of Produce Will Be Sold on Time to Speed Disposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department has announced it will offer its stocks of surplus farm products for sale on credit.

Heretofore, all sales from its eight-billion-dollar surplus stockpile had been for cash. The decision to extend credit was made in an effort to speed up disposal of surpluses, which, officials said, are helping to depress farm prices and incomes.

The credit will be extended to commercial exporters who furnish assurance of payment by a U. S. bank through the issuance of a letter of credit, or in another acceptable form.

Credit will be extended up to three years, but those taking advantage of the offer will be required to pay interest.

The annual interest rates until further notice will be 3 per cent for periods of credit up to six months, 3.5 per cent for periods from over six to 18 months and 4 per cent for periods from over 18 to a maximum of 36 months.

The department said that since the program is designed to 'promote additional export sales through extension of credit to exporters, it is expected that maximum credit benefits will be passed on to the foreign importer.

The department said the credit program is expected to result in savings to the government through reductions in storage costs on commodities which are expected to be sold as a result of today's action.

New Processor Cuts Military Paper Work

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new electronics processing system which literally feeds on military red tape and paper work has been unveiled at the Western Joint Computer Conference.

Members of the Radio Corp. of America engineering team which helped develop it said the system, named "Bizmac," may revolutionize military logistics by converting months of military supply paper work into minutes of push-button operations.

VFW Awards Medal to General Gruenther

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Veterans of Foreign Wars last night honored Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther for his "outstanding contribution to our national security."

Timothy J. Murphy, VFW commander in chief, gave him the organization's Gen. Omar N. Bradley gold medal award at a VFW dinner in honor of members of Congress who have served in the armed forces.

Special Witness Cloaked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Internal Security subcommittee declined "for security reasons" to name in advance a witness called to testify today at a public hearing.

Chairman Eastland (D-Miss) described the hearing as the first in a series in which he said the subcommittee will try to determine "to what extent Soviet power operates through the Communist party here and to what extent other organizations have been devised to effectuate its purposes."

Gov. Griffin's Regime Harassing the Press

Latest news from Georgia indicates that the larger newspapers of that Southern State, which have been critical of him, are now having their troubles with Gov. Marvin Griffin.

From reliable sources have come reports that the situation amounts to downright harassment of the press. Existing law requires that any suit against a newspaper must be brought in the county where it is published.

The Governor's latest idea is embodied in a bill already rammed through the House at Atlanta. It would expose newspapers that circulate in more than 10 counties to lawsuits in every one of Georgia's 159 counties in which they have 50 or more subscribers.

Reportedly little effect has been made to hide the real objective of this bill. Obviously, it seeks to invite a lot of trifling libel suits and to force the larger newspapers to maintain a veritable army of lawyers running hither and thither to defend suits.

State Senator Walter Harrison who opposes this bill has given the Governor some good but still unheeded advice. He has reminded him that every time newspapers have criticized wrongdoing in state government, they have been referred to as "them lyin' newspapers."

He also urged the Griffin supporters "to lay low with trying to suppress the news, because all over the state suspicions have been created by such legislation as this. It makes people think there is something in the closet that needs to be hid."

If this bill is passed by the Senate, the newspapers can fight it in the courts. The vital point is that they never should have to do so.

Pay-As-We-Go Road Gets Ike's O.K.

President Eisenhower is a political realist.

For that reason he has bowed to the political facts of life in Congress and has abandoned his own bond plan of financing the projected long range Federal highway program.

The political facts of life are that the Democrats control both Houses of Congress. Moreover, they flatly refuse to accept the President's financing proposal.

This left Mr. Eisenhower only one choice — give up the sorely needed highway program or agree to the Democrats' demand that the whole project be placed on a pay-as-we-go basis.

Announcement of the change of policy was made by House Minority Leader Martin. Under questioning he explained that the pay-as-we-go financing plan means higher taxes. Nonetheless he sees a good chance for the program to get through Congress.

Just what form the taxes will take and how large, will be up to the House Ways and Means Committee. Democrats are talking about $12 to $15 billion in new taxes to finance a 15 year program. So far tax suggestions have included a one cent increase in the Federal gasoline tax and higher levies on diesel fuel for trucks and on truck tires.

As far as the public is concerned, there isn't any doubt about its attitude. The people not only want but demand the long overdue new roads and are willing to pay for them.

Sweden's Auto Problem

Latest news from Sweden indicates that we Americans are far from alone in having auto problems.

The hard working thrifty people of that beautiful Scandinavian country own 635,000 automobiles. That is one car for every 10 Swedes. Like us, they worry about such things as more and better roads, parking facilities and many others which bob up to plague motorists.

Unlike us, their number one problem is what to do about car thefts. At present Sweden has no law to discourage that evil and it is flourishing. The only charge that can be lodged against a car thief is that of "unauthorized borrowing," and most of those so accused are let off on suspended sentences.

What Swedish motorists not only need but want is an auto theft law with teeth in it and it's a fairly safe guess it won't be long before they have it.

The Man About Town

Early Kind Words

Historians Realized Value of Life in Oakland County

All work and no play: What makes Jack a dull boy—and Jill a rich widow.

Even its early historians appreciated the value of Oakland County. As a sample, the following is taken from a history issued over a half century ago: "Not everyone can be born in Oakland Country, and not everyone can reside here, or even visit its beautiful hills, dales and placid, smiling lakes. But those who sigh for a home where industry is repaid a thousandfold, or those who long for the pictured natural beauties of other lands, can find within the borders of this favored spot of the old Wolverine State the aim of their ambition, and the delight which contents a real lover of nature under her most alluring aspects."

Although thickly populated almost the entire distance, there is no incorporated city or village on the Dixie Highway in the 28 miles between Pontiac and Grand Blanc.

Those confirmed globe trotters,

Mr. and Mrs. W. Walter Smith,

Sign noted at a Boy Scout picnic in Florida:

Although Oakland County now is considerably industrialized, I am told by

Lyle Abel,

County Agricultural Agent, that its annual farm production runs close to $10 million.

'Twas exactly a half century ago that the first start was made to get a post office building for Pontiac, when a Pontiac resident, introduced a bill in Congress to appropriate $100,000 for that purpose. There was a lot of red tape to be unwound, and the present building was not erected until 1912.

A recent "short" in The Press indicated that the ironwood tree grows only in Florida. Several readers, including of Pontiac Motors, have stated that it also grows in Michigan—which MAT knows to be true. In fact, it is quite numerous in Oakland County. It is correctly named, as it is very tough, and will not float in water.

When he was a mere lad,

of Waterford recollects that his grandfather told him that in his youth the young folks would ride their horses to a point on the old Saginaw Trail, now the Dixie Highway, about 20 miles northwest, where there was a tavern that had a dance floor on springs. They would dance all night on its waving motion, riding back the next day.

Florida real estate operators now call it

David Lawrence Says:

U. S. Well Aware of Soviet's Strategy Behind Those Non-Aggression Pacts

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles will not be in a hurry to answer the second Bulganin note, because they perceive clearly the propaganda nature of the document.

* * *

For the Soviet Union has a selfish objective in proposing a "non-aggression" pact to the United States at this time. It is assumed by Moscow that, if such a pact were signed, America would be compelled by world opinion to stop all experimentation with atomic weapons and to abandon all overseas bases. This would grant to the Soviets a free hand secretly to continue development of atomic bombs and also would give them undisputed control of bases of their own in satellite countries from the Baltic to the Pacific.

This writer happened over the weekend to be studying a thick volume issued by the British foreign office entitled "Documents on British Foreign Policy—1919 to 1939," and came across the text of a very interesting speech by Molotov—then, as now, the Soviet foreign minister.

It was delivered on August 31, 1939, before the Supreme Council of the U.S.S.R. and was unanimously approved. A "non-aggression" pact between the Soviet Union and the Nazi government in Berlin had just been signed on August 23. The reasoning in the Molotov speech is revealing, and some of its phrases are the same familiar ones which still come from the Kremlin. Molotov said in part:

"You are aware that the Anglo-French-Soviet negotiations for the conclusion of a pact of mutual assistance against aggression in Europe began as far back as April last . . . The negotiations continued four months . . . These negotiations encountered the obstacle that Poland, which was to have been guaranteed jointly by England, France and the U.S.S.R., refused to accept military assistance on the part of the Soviet Union . . .

SOVIET INTERESTS FIRST

"The resolve to conclude a non-aggressive pact between the U.S.S.R. and Germany was adopted after the military conversations with England and France had reached a deadlock, owing to the insuperable difficulties mentioned above. Because these negotiations showed that there was no basis for concluding the pact of mutual assistance, we could not refrain from considering other measures to ensure peace and to remove the threat of war between Germany and the U.S.S.R. If the governments of England and France did not wish to reckon with this, that is their business. Our duty is to think of the interests of the Soviet people, of the interests of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics." (Lengthy applause.)

The next day—September 1, 1939—Hitler invaded Poland, and World War II began.

The British and French were stunned by the announcement of the signing of the pact. Their military mission was still in Moscow, where it had been for four months engaged in friendly conversations with the Moscow government while the Communists had been secretly negotiating behind their backs with the Nazi government in Berlin.

The Russian objective, of course, was to make sure, by collusion with the Nazis, that Poland would fall into the hands of the Soviet rulers. The British had objected to a Russian request to permit an invasion of Poland's sovereignty. So Moscow promptly made a bargain with Hitler which allowed the Russians to grab not only a large part of the Polish territory but also Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia, which had been independent. In exchange Russia was to refrain from helping Britain and France.

When Hitler became tired of the constant pressure from Moscow throughout 1940 and 1941 to extort from him more and more concessions to Soviet power in the Balkans, he decided that he, too, had been doubled-crossed.

He then ordered the attack on the Soviets in June 1941. This forced an alliance of convenience between the Soviet Union and Britain and later with the United States as Japan in December 1941 forced America into the war by an attack on Pearl Harbor. An uneasy alliance prevailed as the Communist regime pressed constantly for more and more authority over Central Europe and finally got at Yalta, early in 1945, concessions from Britain and the United States which enabled the Moscow government to achieve a stranglehold on Poland and subsequently the Balkans.

* * *

So "non-aggression" pacts to which the Russians are signatories are merely devices to advance the territorial and political interests of the expanding empire of the Soviet Union—an aggressor government which has been guilty of repeated acts of duplicity and faithlessness for more than 22 years.

Doctor Proposes Tests for Low Blood Sugar Level

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

"After 25 years of dragging around half dead (half her life) my sister read Dr. E. M. Abrahamson's Body, Mind and Sugar," says a reader.

She had been to some of the best "clinics" in the country. Then the reader goes on to say that only when her sister consulted a physician—who was alert to the possibility was her trouble diagnosed as hypoglycemia, which means low level of sugar in the blood.

In a healthy person there is between 80 and 120 milligrams of sugar in 100 cubic centimeters of blood, approximately ¼ grain to the fluidounce.

If the blood sugar level becomes much lower than this, the individual is certain to suffer serious consequences unless he or she gets sugar, candy, sweetened drink or other food immediately.

Preferably glucose, dextrose fruit sugar (levulose) or sucrose (cane or beet sugar) because the pure sugar is most quickly converted into blood sugar.

The doctor prescribed a diet pretty much the same as the diet Dr. Abrahamson gives in his book.

The diet calls for seven or eight, well, not meals but partakings of food or drink daily.

Probably a lot of persons would be found to have hyperinsulinism, hypoglycemia, low blood sugar, if they were given six-hour glucose tolerance test.

The test for hypoglycemia (hyperinsulinism, low blood sugar) is more troublesome.

For this the patient takes home the glucose solution, chills it in the refrigerator, drinks it at 5 a.m. reports to the laboratory at 9:30 a.m.

Blood samples are taken at 10 and 11 a.m. although the diagnosis of hypoglycemia is confirmed if the 10 a.m. blood shows less than 70 mg. sugar per 100 c.c.

On the other hand if the 10 and 11 tests both show more than 70 mg. of sugar the patient does not have hyposglycemia.

The reader's sister found following diet not quite so easy as rolling off a log.

You have to avoid absolutely:

Wines, cordials, cocktails, beer. Well?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Young, Careless Drivers Should Use Time Better

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Last week Elizabeth M. Denison wrote you in regard to safe driving. I think it is about time for a few parents to wake up and become aware of what their boys with cars are doing after school.

The same thing happened to my husband in Rochester as he was coming home from work. They acted in the same manner as if it were a big joke. We have three children and it is far from funny to be forced into the ditch with a new car to avoid hitting a car full of boys who seem to have nothing better to do. I am afraid of what would have happened if the car had been full of gasoline.

I am afraid those boys would have been paddled regardless of how old they were, because my husband would have gone after them. It really makes me sad, when we have so many fine boys, that they are not taught to make good use of their spare time.

France's Mollet Regime Seems Doomed at Start

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

French Premier Guy Mollet's coalition regime has gotten off to a wobbly beginning, and its days seem to be numbered.

* * *

The Socialist Premier who flew dramatically to Algiers on a peace mission was the target of a barrage of ripe tomatoes, stones and stink bombs from angry French settlers.

The violent demonstration obtained the first scalp from Mollet's cabinet, that of Gen. George Catroux, who promptly resigned as new resident minister for Algeria before ever assuming the post.

Catroux, a distinguished 79-years-soldier, was under attack from the French settlers and Paris rightists even before Mollet flew to Algeria. Mollet rejected the general's offer to withdraw. But after his hot reception in North Africa he accepted the resignation.

* * *

The million settlers in Algeria feared that any negotiations Catroux might undertake would result in their being overwhelmed by the 8,000,000 Moslem majority in Algeria.

Paris rightists have referred to Catroux, despite his protestations, as "the scuttler," because of his conciliatory negotiations with Moslems in Morocco.

MAYOR OBJECTED

Jacques Chevallier, the youthful mayor of Algiers, helped protect Mollet from the settlers' mob Monday. But even the mayor, regarded as a "progressive figure," objected to the Catroux appointment.

* * *

It is a minority administration and its chances of long survival, let alone of effective government, are very slim.

* * *

His financial principles made him reject the Finance Ministry post. His well-known opposition to European union prevented him from being given the Foreign Ministry.

APPROVAL NEEDED

France soon must decide whether to approve the supra-national nuclear pool proposed by the action committee for the United States of Europe. Mollet approves, but Mendes-France does not.

* * *

The old issue of state aid for Catholic schools will arise again soon. The Socialists will insist on bringing it up, but Mendes-France is against raising this hot issue.

The rightist followers of anti-tax leader Pierre Poujade can be depended on to fight the new government.

The Communists supported the investiture of Mollet's regime. But that support will be short-lived once the government raises any issue of Western foreign policy which the Reds oppose.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Pitfalls of Salesmanship Lie in Failure to Consider It on Professional Level

Paul is a talented sales manager, and salesmen are the "sparkplugs" of civilization. They really deserve the major credit for winning our wars. Salesmanship is a great profession and not a catch-all for misfits or failures from other fields of endeavor. Scrapbook this Case Record and its follow-up tomorrow.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-369: Paul R., aged 34, is a brilliant sales manager.

"My greatest problem with new salesmen," he began ruefully, "is how to get them to memorize a canned sales talk.

"They seem to think I am making much ado about nothing when I warn them of its importance.

"So they learn a few paragraphs; then they figure they can improvise the right answers on the spur of the moment when they later encounter prospects.

But, Dr. Crane, as you have so often warned, a person can't rely on inspiration of the moment. So please offer some hints to salesmen, both for my own crew and also for the other sales managers all over America."

SALES PSYCHOLOGY

Since I taught the psychology classes on "Sales & Advertising" for many years in leading American universities, I always welcome a chance to deal with this vital subject.

* * *

And it really is "vital," for the late Dr. Glenn Frank called the salesman the "sparkplug" of civilization.

For the salesman is the man who coaxes most of us into safeguarding our family by life insurance.

He has taken the inventions of cloistered scientists and made them standard household equipment, such as our electric stoves, lights, radios, TV sets, vacuum sweepers, washers, toasters, carpets, etc.

Every history textbook should thus include at least a full chapter lauding the salesmen, for they really won all of our wars for us.

Our brilliant generals and admirals usually get the headlines in those history texts.

* * *

But it was our tremendous American productive capacity which tipped the scales in World War I and World War II, as well as all of our other wars since the American Revolution.

For those salesmen forced vast factories to mushroom up to meet the peacetime need for tractors and airplanes and trucks and meat and clothing and the vast array of American merchandise.

Then, when war broke, it was a simple matter to convert those factories into war plants where our ordnance was produced that equipped not only our own 12 million men, but also those of England and Russia, too.

Please remember that the Russians rode victoriously into the Balkans on American-made tanks and trucks!

Russian communism is riding high today because American salesmen in our peacetime "free enterprise" system, forced the factory development that bailed Russia out of the war victoriously!

SALES PITFALLS

The pitfalls that beset salesmen are these: (1) Culls and failures in other fields often think they can fall back into sales work and be successful.

* * *

Salesmanship, however, is a professional career, like medicine or law, and requires brains, vigor and intelligent training. Selling is not a catch-all or wastebasket into which can be dumped the misfits of life.

(2) Salesmen should memorize a canned sales talk. This doesn't mean they will use it in 1-2-3 order for a gifted memorizer can re-synthesize the paragraphs to meet spontaneous situations that arise.

But he must have the memorized sentences and paragraphs! You can't rely on spur-of-the-moment genius to make you successful. A memorized sales talk is much like the internship of a medical graduate.

(3) A salesman must be adept with the "pause and praise" strategy, which will be outlined more fully tomorrow.

Send for my booklet "Sales & Advertising Strategy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

FBI Agent Causes Stir for Cautious Policemen

On the third floor they found their man. He was an FBI agent going to a private industrial school which has special equipment needed to clean exceptionally dirty machine guns.

British Seeking Lead in Europe

London Journal Says Plan for Economic and Political Power Studied

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today British government leaders are studying a far-reaching proposal to link the British Commonwealth politically and economically with Western Europe.

* * *

The Times, in a dispatch from London, said the plan is still in the preliminary stages and has not advanced to the point of Cabinet discussion. It added, however, that it is being weighed seriously by British statesmen at high government levels.

* * *

Western Europe is becoming increasingly divided, restless and unhappy as the East-West cold war continues. British statesmen believe the division of Germany and continuing political instability in France are the two gravest problems in the West European political picture.

* * *

The British statesmen say a dynamic new leadership is imperative if free Europe is to be prevented from sinking into neutralist inertia or drifting into active cooperation with the Soviet bloc. It is becoming increasingly accepted in London that Britain not only can but soon must show that leadership.

* * *

By establishing such a union Britain might restore much of her former wealth, prestige and power in world affairs, British circles feel. In addition, Western Europe's technical and material skill could double or triple the present slow rate of commonwealth development.

BIG SPLASH — Thirteen cars of a Southern Railway freight train jumped the tracks on this trestle spanning the Watauga River near Johnson City, Tenn. Seven cars toppled into the water, 30 feet below. Trainmen said they believed a brake beam broke, causing the derailment. The cars carried sand, cinders and wood. The train was en route from Bristol to Knoxville.

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—Homer Oaks, 34, died Monday night in a fire that broke out in his small cottage in Benton Township east of Benton Harbor.

Firemen said the fire apparently started from a cigarette that fell on a chair pillow.

Mink Gifts Given to Solons but No Probe Scheduled

LANSING (AP)—Mink gifts were passed out to state legislators yesterday but there will be no no investigation.

Rep. James Goulette (R) gave more than 100 mink bow ties to House members and committee clerks.

Goulette made the gifts because he introduced the 200th bill. Introducers of bills No. 100 and 200 traditionally pass out favors in the House.

Bomb Scare in Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The 2,600 students of Las Vegas and Rancho high schools were dismissed from classes at noon yesterday following a bomb scare which school authorities termed a "probable hoax." BOTTLE BABY — "Fluffy" is all toes when it comes to handling a bottle. The stray feline, adopted by the Frank De Pasquales of Cleveland, is fast learning the art. Gorged at last with plenty of milk inside and out, Fluffy stares in glassy-eyed contentment (right).

UM Research Team to Launch Rockets

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Rocket research teams will launch about 25 rockets this summer in continuing studies of the upper atmosphere by the University of Michigan.

The rockets, shooting 80 to 150 miles above the earth, will carry instruments to record air temperature, pressure and density.

Rocket studies by the university were praised recently as paving the way for the United States' earth satellite program. The first satellite is scheduled for launching in the 1957-58 International Geophysical Year.

Since 1946 U of M experts have designed, built and installed complex equipment in about 40 rockets, including giant German V2s tested in this country.

Rockets launched this summer will include six carrying seven-inch "sounding spheres" dropped at 400,000 feet. From radio equipment recording the rate of fall, engineers will figure air density and temperature.

Other rockets will carry equipment giving a mile-by-mile picture of atmospheric pressure and temperature by recording the rush of air past small holes in the rocket nose.

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Three Battle Creek youths pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny from a government reservation Monday before Judge W. Wallace Kent. They admitted taking $300 worth of recreational equipment from Percy Jones Hospital Jan. 10.

Martin Expects to Present 'Suitable' Farm Legislation

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leader Martin said at the White House Tuesday "we hope Congress can do such a good job" on farm legislation that President Eisenhower "won't even have to think about a veto."

* * *

The Massachusetts lawmaker expressed the hope to newsmen after he and other GOP congressional leaders had conferred with the President for an hour at their regular weekly meeting.

Martin said the administration's farm program was the principal topic. But he added in response to a question that there was no mention of the Senate Agriculture Committee's action last Saturday in voting to restore rigid price supports on cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts.

The committee vote, still subject to change, in effect would scuttle the administration-backed system of lower flexible price supports and return to a program of support at 90 per cent of parity.

Parity is a formula designed to assure farmers a fair return in relation to the cost of things they buy.

Eisenhower in the past has spoken out strongly against any return to the rigid price support program but Martin said the President "kept very quiet" regarding that issue today.

* * *

Asked whether he thought the President would veto any farm bill providing for a return to rigid supports, Martin smiled and said:

"We hope Congress can do such a good job that the President won't even have to think about a veto."

* * *

The principal feature of the administration's farm program is a proposal for creation of a soil bank aimed at reducing huge crop surpluses. The program tentatively approved by the Senate committed embraces that plan along with other measures.

Oxford Outlaws 'Cat's' Dancing

University's Jazz Club Won't Get Hep Set for Its Swinging Stomps

OXFORD, England (AP)—The hep set from Oxford University reported today the joint is jumping, but strictly from anger.

• • •

An advanced student of jazz seized a scribe's ear and poured it on like this:

"Dig me, man. Those squares won't let us cats rock!"

He was trying to say, in his plaintive way, that those crazy profs have nixed jiving it.

Or to break it all the way down, the Oxford proctors have ruled that dancing is not permissible at the University Jazz Club.

The proctors are the official guardians of law, order and rectitude at the ivy-festooned old center of culture. Their main job is to see that the undergrads don't stay out too late, but they also have general supervision of campus club activities.

• • •

The jazz club originally was set up last year for listening only, and the proctor - approved rules so provided. Recently the membership has grown, feet have become increasingly restless, and finally the proctors were asked to loosen up a bit and okay a little polite shuffling.

The reply was a cold "No."

"The club," said a proctorial spokesman, "was set up as a center for the appreciation of jazz, to study the theory—you could say, I suppose, to study its jungle background.

"We see no reason to alter the rules."

• • •

If students must dance, the spokesman continued, there's always the ballet club.

Confusing? Houses Rest on Wrong Lots

DECATUR (AP)—Six citizens of this southwestern Michigan village posed a complicated problem for the Village Council.

The councilmen listened intently as the citizens explained it Monday night:

A check of the records showed that their houses, from eight to 80 years old, were on the wrong lots. The corner houses were okay, but as for the houses in between on Champion Street, they came out wrong no matter how you counted the lots.

The discrepancy was discovered when a man bought a house and discovered that lot 15 was listed on the tax books as lot 14.

The councilmen shrugged their shoulders and said they could do nothing to straighten out the mixup.

The village attorney, Sheldon Rupert, suggested the property owners hire a lawyer to arrange an exchange of deeds until each owns the land beneath his house.

To Get Radar Unit

PETOSKEY (AP) — Peterson and Westberg, Inc., a Cadillac firm, has been awarded a contract for construction of the radar gap filler unit near here at a cost of $46,731. The contract, awarded by the Army engineers, includes only the building. The unit will house equipment to convert radar signals into impulses which will be sent over leased telephone wires to a filter center in the reporting of airplanes in the area.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

THE GREAT LAKES — 3

Lake Michigan

Lake Michigan is the only one of the Great Lakes without a Canadian shore. The states touching it are Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Lower Michigan.

Junior Editors in Wisconsin know that Green Bay, the oldest town in the state, has the largest fresh water fishery center in the world. The French explorer Jean Nicolet steered his canoe into Green Bay in 1634.

Other cities familiar to Wisconsin Junior Editors are Appleton, Ashland, Beloit, Merrill, Warsaw, Wisconsin Rapids and, of course, Milwaukee which is the gateway of Great Lakes shipping.

Illinois has only a short shore line on the Lake, but that small space contains Chicago, largest city in the state and second largest in the United States.

There are Junior Editors in Alton, Bloomington, Champaign, Mattoon, Moline, Rockford and Waukegan.

Only a small bit of the Northwestern corner of Indiana touches Lake Michigan but it contains important industrial and agricultural centers. Two cities where Junior Editors live are Muncie and Michigan City.

Although Lower Michigan has the Lake as its western border we will tell you more about the state when we come to Lake Huron tomorrow.

Junior Editors pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned and in case of duplication of ideas, the first submission will be accepted.

Tomorrow: Lake Huron

Cautious Superlatives Spoken in Miami

By JOE HAAS

MIAMI BEACH—In this breeding ground of superlatives they do not use them loosely. There's so much competition that nobody dares to claim something that isn't. He knows that tomorrow's paper will put him in the midget class.

Some of the superlative claims go unchallenged. First, there's the climate, sometimes a little wobbly, but 95 per cent of the time on the ideal—74 right now.

Then there's the air and water. If there's any humidity, the natives know it only means better breathing tomorrow. The humidity only serves to make it more appreciated.

Among the untold thousands here for a winter vacation, most of them are running around in bathing suits. But less than 10 per cent of those so attired ever get wet.

They just lie on soft cushions around the pools, so when they go home they can lie about how they got that way. Mighty few of them ever feel the glorious push of the buoyant ocean rollers always beckoning them.

The above mentioned superlatives come natural. Getting down to the man made stuff, there's the billion dollar 10-mile stretch of resort hotels. The whole wide world has nothing else to even challenge it.

The Fabulous Fontainebleau, which is our home for nine days, now is recognized among these 200 hotels as their topmost. Its 16 floors of genial, unsurpassed hospitality curve majestically above the ocean and bay. It cost over a million dollars per floor—and is worth it.

We are on the ocean side of the eleventh floor, and have the privacy of a room space larger than our entire red-box home in Holly.

Our private veranda overlooks a scene, night and day, that will be memory tickling as long as we shall live. A bank of noiseless elevators passes our back door. In fact, everything about the place is noiseless. We haven't heard any lousy modern music from any of the hotel's numerous orchestras, heard a radio or watched TV since we came—but all are at our free disposal in our own rooms or otherwise. There is absolutely nothing that jars in any way.

In this pile of luxurious living are lobbies, mezzanines and dining rooms said to be unmatched in the entire world. It is a quiet home of elegance.

In the eating line you can get a good breakfast for $1.10, a luncheon as good but with a menu for that hour for $1.50, and an ample dinner for $2.00—if you watch your step.

But if you pretend to belong to the big-spend class, whether or not that's your place, for dinner or some of the other meals the sky if the limit. Tipping is usually with noiseless money.

Liquor is everywhere, but you are not snubbed if you do not order it, and we can find no cut rates. We haven't seen a drunken person.

At the lower prices mentioned above, being the only ones in which we are getting a personal contact, the food and service are all that could be desired. The menus quite favorably match those at our favorite eating spots in Pontiac and environs.

The luncheon prices run about the same as at our Pontiac City Club, and Howard Heidenbrand's setting is even plushier, both on the floor and above it than where the same price meals are served at the Fontainebleau where the food and service are no better.

Am giving the club this plug because I came away before the January luncheon bills were mailed out, and after paying for this room, my bill stands a good chance of being a collector's item.

The clientele of the Fontainebleau mostly includes wholesome happiness seekers in an environment more conducive to that end than in the area of their homes.

However a large majority of those here talk more about financial percentages in February than we do about baseball percentages in July in Pontiac. But it all is a part of their good time.

Getting back to superlatives, you must say them quick around Miami Beach, or they'll be outmoded. There's a resort hotel under construction, near the Fontainebleau, to open next December, and another down the Florida Keys, that will be strong rivals to this tower of elegance and all the other accessories that make it outstanding.

These joyous, highly entertaining and restful nine days are made possible for us by some heavy adjustments in the family budget covering a period of at least two years.

The 1955 budget held us down to a regular daily diet of nothing but hamburger, bread, potatoes and water. Late in the year it became necessary to cut out the hamburger and potatoes.

Our 1956 home budget restricts us to pig hocks, bread, cabbage and water. But after checking out here and getting home it may be necessary to eliminate the hocks. Anyway, it's worth it?

Study Gay Color for New Buses

Newer Detroit Vehicles Have Pink Ceiling, Gray and Turquoise Seats

DETROIT (INS)—Detroit Transit System officials are thinking about changing the color scheme of the city's buses.

The three members of the DSR commission say they will meet next Monday to look into the possibility of doing over the entire fleet.

* * *

The idea for a new color came after Commissioner Samuel T. Angott saw the chartreuse trimmed with green applied to the fleet of streetcars now being prepared for shipment to Mexico City.

However, the city's newest buses have pale pink ceilings and are decorated with gray and turquoise and boast plastic seats of a new "breathable" material.

Meanwhile, DSR General Manager Leo J. Nowicki has announced 45 new buses will be put into operation on the Gratiot line March 25, replacing streetcars.

Three weeks later 75 new coaches will take the place of trolleys on the Woodward line.

The Department of Public Works is ready to remove safety zones and pave over the tracks immediately after the streetcars are pulled off the two streets.

Sunday Inauguration Shifted to Monday

WASHINGTON (INS) — The House has approved a resolution setting Monday, Jan. 21, as the date for next year's inauguration of the President and vice president.

The date is a day later than the one fixed in the Constitution but Jan. 20, 1957, falls on a Sunday.

Another resolution passed by the House provides for the electoral college to meet and choose the next President and vice president on Jan. 7. That is a day later than set forth in the Constitution since Jan. 6 also falls on Sunday.

Union Will Fill War Chest With Voluntary Donations

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Leaders of the AFL-CIO today planned the biggest political warchest in organized labor's history for use in the coming presidential election campaign.

* * *

James L. McDevitt, codirector with Jack Kroll of the organization's political branch, the Committee for Political Education (COPE), proposed a record budget for this year.

* * *

How much money was projected for political expenditure was kept secret but McDevitt indicated it would surpass, perhaps come close, to doubling, the peak spending of approximately $850,000 by both the national AFL and CIO in the 1954 congressional campaigns.

VOLUNTARY GIFTS

The AFL-CIO proposes to raise the money from voluntary contributions of union members. There is no legal ban on raising or spending such funds.

In addition, the AFL-CIO plans to tap its 140 unions for sums from their treasuries for "political education," acquainting union members with records of respective candidates, including members of Congress seeking re-election, and data on political issues.

Under the Taft-Hartley law, money taken from union treasuries is prohibited from being used for political purposes in behalf of candidates for federal office, including Congress and the presidency.

Several AFL-CIO chiefs interviewed in advance of their political pow-wow today said they intended to review the political situation state by state and make preliminary choices between potential rivals. The result of this was not expected to be made public.

THE OBJECTIVES

These leaders said their objectives are as follows:

1. Coordinate state and local AFL-CIO organizations into effective, doorbell-punching political machines.

2. Concentrate on congressional races, minimizing participation in strictly local political races, on the theory that Congress is labor's prime concern.

3. "Get after" all unions to provide the funds and manpower to do a real vote-getting job.

Sentiment appeared to be closely divided among AFL-CIO leaders on whether to make a formal choice this fall between Democratic and Republican presidential nominees. Both the separate AFL and CIO came out for the Democratic nominee, Adlai Stevenson, in 1952.

Joey Faye Leaves Gotham Prison in Big Limousine

* * *

After eight years in prison, the aging Fay hurried through the cold dark into a limousine where his wife awaited him in front of the grim, gray walls of the state's "Siberia."

* * *

However, reporters and photographers trailed the car to a garage about eight miles down the highway toward Plattsburgh, and there Fay talked a little.

Asked whether he had lost weight he replied:

"Yes, I've lost a little, but I feel good."

* * *

Fay appeared jovial. He smiled and shook hands with news photographers and said "Call me Joe" when they addressed him as Mr. Fay.

* * *

The 64-year-old Fay was sent to Sing Sing Prison, near New York City, eight years ago for extorting $368,000 from construction contractors while he was vice president of the Operating Engineers Union (then AFL).

Place Farmington Man on One Year Probation

Walter E. Cox, 31, of 21325 Hamilton, Farmington, has been placed on one-year probation and assessed $150 court costs by Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Cox pleaded guilty Jan. 23 to violation of the financial responsibility law. He had been restricted to driving his own auto, but admitted operating another when arrested last Nov. 27.

Walled Lake Resident Injured in 2-Car Crash

Paul D. Thompson, 19, of Walled Lake, today was reported in critical condition, suffering injuries in a two-car accident near Grand Rapids Monday night which State Police said killed four persons.

Selfridge Orphan 'Airman of Month'

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — An orphan who grew up in the VFW Children's Home in Eaton Rapids was named outstanding "Airman of the Month" for January at Selfridge Air Force Base.

He is Technical Sgt. Robert G. Nickerson, intelligence operations technician with 4602nd Air Intelligence Service Squadron.

Nickerson, 29, was chosen for the regular monthly award on the basis of general all-around excellence as a soldier.

He is married to the former Audrey Jeffrey of Eaton Rapids. They have four children.

Nickerson was born in California. His mother died when he was a child and in 1940, on the death of his father, a World War I veteran, the boy was sent to the VFW home.

He enlisted as an aviation cadet on his graduation from his school in 1943. He left the service in 1947 and enrolled in the Michigan National Guard but enlisted in the Air Force again in 1951.

He served in Seoul, Korea; Tokyo, Lake Charles, La., and Oscoda Air Force Base before coming to Selfridge.

UM Will Study Michigan Lakes

Research Team Plans Survey of Water Plant Growth This Summer

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A University of Michigan researcher will use radioactive tracers this summer to tell which Michigan lakes are good producers of food, and which are bad.

* * *

It should provide some interesting data for sportsmen and fisheries too.

George H. Lauff, zoology instructor and research associate for the National Science Foundation, will study several lakes, ranging in size from small bogs to Lake Huron.

Lauff explained the chain of life in a lake depends on the great mass of microscopic plants. He plans to study the primary productivity of these plants — the rate in which they convert sun energy — into a form that can be used in the aquatic food chain.

For instance, he adds, a lake may not have the necessary food elements for growth — or on the other hand, it may be choked with too many plants. It would be similar to a farm, overgrown with inedible weeds.

FUNDS AVAILABLE

Some $25,400 from the university's Michigan Memorial Phoenix Project has been set aside for Lauff's work as part of the program of research into the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

It will work something like this. Lauff and his associates will choose a group of lakes in the region around the university's biological station near Cheboygan.

They will then sample the water at various levels in the lakes. Radioactive carbon, in carefully specified amounts will then be added to each sample. During the process of growth, plants take in carbon. The amount of radioactive carbon in the plants after a short period of time will be measured.

Lauff says the process will yield valuable information on the basic natural occurence of photosynthesis. It will also help fisheries especially those in the Lake Huron area, find the best time to take advantage of a particular stage in the lake's food chain.

Sales Show Increase

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Grand Rapids department store sales in December were up 46 per cent from November and 6 per cent above December, 1954, the Federal Reserve Bank said Tuesday. The report said yearly sales were 4 per cent above 1954.

Military, Political Study for Dealing With New Crisis Opens at Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—A survey of American, British and French military and political capabilities for dealing with any new Middle Eastern emergency begins today.

The three - nation conference opening at the State Department was initiated by President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Eden at their conferences here last week.

Advance developments indicate that both Israel and the Arab states are becoming concerned over the steps which may be decided on. Both sides appear to be taking the position that proper and effective actions may be taken only within the United Nations Charter.

The task assigned the conferees, whose sessions may go on for several weeks, is to find ways of putting teeth into a 1950 American-British - French declaration. It pledged that steps would be taken in or out of the U.N. against either side which threatened or used force in Palestine.

Open warfare there was ended by truce eight years ago, but there have since been many incidents threatening resumption of general war.

Eisenhower and Eden said the risk of war had been increased in recent months by the sale of Communist arms to Egypt and Russian overtures to other Arab states.

They called the conference to discuss (A) ways of lessening the risk of war and (B) possible steps if fighting threatens or breaks out.

Detroiter, 2 Youths Held in Assault Count

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit man and two youths were held by police today in connection with the beating of a New Boston restaurant owner and his family Sunday by a gang of young hoodlums.

The man, Charles Valentine, 25, denied any connection with the attack on Frank Gavel, Gavel's wife and their sons, Frank Jr. and Robert. Officers said Valentine told them he was in the restaurant at the time of the beatings.

* * *

Police did not release the names of the two youths being held.

The Gavel family was attacked by a gang of between eight and 10 young men. Gavel required hospital treatment after being knocked unconscious.

Mrs. Gavel said she thought the fight was staged to cover up a robbery.

'Doesn't Anybody Care?' Bill Cullen Is Miffed

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Speaking of the secrets on the "I've Got a Secret" TV show, panelist Bill Cullen and his new bride, Ann Macomber, have just celebrated a whole month of wedded ecstasy and nobody's so much as thrown rice pudding at them.

★ ★ ★ ★

I met the bride—a beautiful brunette ex-Los Angeles model—and Bill was there, too, of course. He's the nosy type.

BILL

"We did it kind of quiet-like because I wanted to tell my ex-wife about it first," said Bill. "Then it was the day before Christmas and there was hardly anybody around. I thought I was going to have to sign the papers myself."

Supreme Court Judge Morris Eder married them, explaining that his marriages always last. He mentioned several celebrities he's married, including Milton Berle, who's been married three times. Bill and Ann gave him a fishy eye when he mentioned Berle.

Ann's the daughter of Heinz Roemheld, a composer of "Ruby," and was married once before. Bill, an ex-Pittsburgher who does the "Pulse" radio show plus his own TV show for RCA, said he was sort of glad to let people know about it.

LAURA

"At first," he said, "I wanted a lot of secrecy about it, but when I got a lot of secrecy, I yelled, 'HEY, DOESN'T ANYBODY CARE?'"

At the Central Park Zoo a sign scrawled on a cage says, "Don't stand too close. Feeding yourself to the animals is forbidden" . . . Inventions That Ought to Be Invented: "A stringless violin so a person can practice while the rest of the family watches" . . . It being examination time, these boo-boos appeared on English papers: "A famous king couldn't walk. He had an abbess on his knee." Also: "Many stores sell furniture on the extortion plan."

Joan Crawford sat in Ruth Gordon's chair backstage at "The Matchmaker" and said, "I hope some of your talent rubs off on me" . . . Laura Sands, a B'klyn classmate of comic Morty Gunty, is singing at the Vogue Room.

Dagmar gave a party for the cast of "The Amazing Adele," which collapsed in Boston . . . Nanette Fabray (of the Caesar show) signed her first record contract . . . John Raitt of "Pajama Game" caught a cold — and Julie Wilson, whom he smooches in the show, has one now, too . . . Buddy Hackett, a huge hit at the Copa, raps H'wood drive-in restaurants: "It's tough when you're hungry—and don't have a car."

Influenced by Gino Prato

Cobbler's Love of Opera Carries Him to $32,000

NEW YORK (AP)—A second Italian-born cobbler has won $32,000 by displaying an amazing knowledge of opera on the television quiz program The $64,000 Question.

• • •

Michael della Rocca, 54, a promoter of amateur opera performance in his Long Island neighborhood, reached the halfway mark last night on the CBS show.

He hinted that he would seek the help of Gino Prato and might try for the grand prize next Tuesday night.

Prato, 55-year-old Bronx shoemaker, won $32,000 in his chosen opera category last August, and quit rather than risk his winnings by trying for $64,000.

If Della Rocca tries for the $64,000 he can take an expert of his own choosing into the program's soundproof booth to help him with the answer.

Della Rocca, Baldwin, N.Y., father of five, answered questions about six operas by composers of various nations in his third appearance on the program.

• • •

After winning, he said it was because of Prato that he tried the $32,000 question.

• • •

"To be frank with you," he said, "I wanted to leave it at $16,000 . . . but Gino and I have so much in common—both Italian, both shoemakers, both opera lovers, both American citizens—and both won the $32,000.

"Next week, maybe me and Gino have something very, very special to tell."

• • •

Master of ceremonies Hal March described to Della Rocca scenes from operas composed by a German, a Russian, an Irishman, a Czechoslovakian, a Frenchman and an American.

In each case Della Rocca was called on to give the name of the opera, the composer and the name of a principal character in the scene described.

Postal Rate Hike Seen Doomed

Party Leaders Predict Defeat of Eisenhower Request for Increase

• • •

After a closed-door huddle yesterday with Postmaster General Summerfield, influential members of the Republican Policy Committee predicted there would be no rate - boosting action in the House this year.

Democratic leaders have made the same prediction in private.

PLAN OUTLINED

Summerfield outlined to the GOP committee his proposal to increase most postal rates. Included would be a 1-cent boost in the present 3-cent cost of mailing a letter.

Last Wednesday, President Eisenhower urged Congress to approve higher postal rates aggregating 406½ million dollars a year. He sent along a report that the mail service now is losing a $1,000 a minute.

• • •

The House Appropriations Committee said last week the postal operating deficit — the mail-handling cost in excess of revenues from postage—will come to about 470 millions this year. The committee called for postal rate increases in approving a $3,618,699,000 bill to finance the Post Office and Treasury departments in the bookkeeping year starting July 1. The House passed the appropriations bill yesterday and sent it to the Senate.

Stevenson Ends California Tour

Declares He Is Confident of June Primary Win Over Kefauver

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—An expression of confidence in victory and a promise to leave "agility in tottering on the brink of war" to Republicans ended Adlai Stevenson's eight-day California campaign swing last night.

• • •

"I am confident," he said in response to a news conference question as to how he felt about his June 5 Democratic presidential primary contest in California with Tennessee's Sen. Estes Kefauver.

The reference to the "brink of war" statement attributed to Secretary of State Dulles in a magazine article was made by Stevenson in a brief public talk that concluded the campaign.

He told the crowd, estimated by police at between 2,000 and 3,000, that the Democratic party was as eager as the Republican to keep the country from war and give it prosperity.

• • •

"Peace and good will on earth," he said, "will be our goal as long as we live, and we will not get it by boasts and bragging. Prosperity will not come by slogans or huckstering, but only when we pursue it with determination and a sense of social justice."

After resting for three days at nearby Rancho Santa Fe, Stevenson will go to the Pacific Northwest. He is scheduled to speak in Portland, Ore., Feb. 11 and Seattle Feb. 14.

Hollywood Headlines:

New Star Carol Ohmart to Tackle First Comedy

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—One of the few actresses to step into a star part in her very first picture, Carol Ohmart has gone heavily dramatic in both of her pictures—first in "Scarlet Hour," and currently in "Step Down to Terror," her loan-out picture with Tony Quinn.

Now Carol comes home to Paramount and to comedy. She asked that she be given a chance to show what she could do, so she'll have the top role in "The Fullback Wore Satin."

The story by Melvin Palmer is about a clothes designer who's sent to create new uniforms for a football team. She falls for the fullback who thinks her ideas are terrible.

For the past two years Jackie Gleason has been very close to making a deal for a motion picture but something has always happened to prevent his coming to Hollywood.

Now, once again Jackie's mentioned loudly for "The Cheese Stands Alone," the film version of a novel by Michael Drury.

The producer, Herbert Bayard Swope Jr., says that the character in the story is more like Gleason than Gleason himself. The tale is a serious one about the trials and tribulations of a top TV comic.

ZANUCK'S PLANS

Darryl Zanuck returned home today from New York where he announced that he would take a four-month leave of absence and step down from his key spot as production head of 20th Century-Fox.

I asked Darryl if he is going to make "Island in the Sun" and "The Sun Also Rises."

He said: "It has not been determined whether these pictures will be made as 20th Century-Fox productions or whether I will make them independently. In either case, they will be 20th releases.

What is not generally known is that Darryl is the No. 1 stockholder of 20th Century-Fox and also vice president, and whatever decisions are made he will still be a part of 20th.

Heretofore, Jonie Tapps' chores at Columbia studio have been musicals. He steps out of this class to produce "The Missing Witness," a thriller-chiller.

"The Missing Witness" is on the order of "Drive a Crooked Road," which was a sleeper and won Mickey Rooney more praise than he'd had in many a day.

Since "The Good Shepherd," in which Jack Lemmon will costar with Humphrey Bogart, will not go before the cameras until late summer, Jack is top choice for "The Missing Witness."

FRACTURED ANKLE

Jean Simmons is sure that her expected baby will be a girl. As soon as she finishes "Hilda Crane" she'll make no more pictures until after the baby is born.

Saw Natalie Wood coming out of Noel's candy store with a red heart under one arm and Tab Hunter on the other.

Mrs. Mary McNulty, Penny Singleton's mother, has been seriously ailing.

Hal Goodman, TV writer, and his wife, the former Natalie Chapman who was Imogene Coca's secretary before her marriage, expect a baby next August.

Mala Powers does the leading femme role in "You Can't Take It With You," in a Screen Gems TV series.

The raves about Cyd Charisse in "Meet Me in Las Vegas" are the talk of the moment.

Donald O'Connor's Hollywood office was robbed but the thieves didn't get any money. His files were rifled and music copies strewn all over the place.

And then I tried Ben-Gay", writes Mrs. Henry Super of San Francisco, Cal.: "With one application and the aid of my heating pad, the pain and soreness were relieved. After the second application, I awoke the next morning with not a sign of pain or soreness. I feel I can't praise Ben-Gay enough. I'll keep it handy always."

Countless people, like Mrs. Super, rely on Ben-Gay for fast relief from muscle aches and pains — and for good reason! Ben-Gay is different from any other pain-relieving product. It contains up to two and one half times more of two famous pain-relieving agents than any of five other widely offered rub-ins! When you rub in Ben-Gay, two things happen. First, extra blood is brought coursing up through the affected area. Second, a pain-deadening action starts instantly to bring warm, soothing relief.

Baltimore Mom Still Is Critical

One Child Dead, Others Serious After Dramatic Rescues From Fire

BALTIMORE (AP)—Mrs. George A. Bausman, who dropped three of her children from a blazing second-floor apartment into the arms of passers-by yesterday and then jumped from the building with her clothes afire, remained in critical condition today.

* * *

One of the children the 27-year-old housewife dropped from a front window, 4-year-old John, died later in Maryland General Hospital. So did John B. Green, 55, Mrs. Bausman's father, who had been carried out by firemen.

Edward, 3, and Joseph, 2, were reported in serious condition at the hospital. A fourth child, 4-month-old James, was rescued by Irvin Livik, a neighbor. The two oldest children, George, 8, and William, 7, were in school at the time.

Mrs. Bausman jumped from her row-house apartment to the sidewalk some 20 feet below, suffering injuries as well as burns. A neighbor, Mrs. Estelle Sheerer, said she "looked like a Christmas tree" when she fell.

Witnesses said the three children were caught by two unidentified men, while Mrs. Bausman's fall was broken by the crowd on the sidewalk.

Williams Recommends Petroleum Board License Gasoline Operators in State

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams has recommended establishment of a State Petroleum Board empowered to license gasoline refiners and wholesalers and to obtain reports of their price-setting policies.

The recommendation fell short of a suggestion for state price controls on gasoline made by Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh in a 265-page report just issued.

The governor said the proposed petroleum board would act as a "watch dog" agency, continually reviewing gas pricing policies and keeping its finger on proposed gas price increases.

"The drastic remedy of price controls should be considered only if it becomes unmistakedly clear that there is no other way to protect the consuming public," the governor said.

The proposed petroleum board would have the power to obtain information on the industry which cannot now be obtained, Williams said.

If the agency found the public was being "gouged" it would report its findings to the Legislature, he added.

BILL BEING FRAMED

A bill establishing such an agency is being prepared and will be introduced in the Legislature before today's deadline, William said.

Kavanagh made seven recommendations in his report on gasoline prices.

They were:

1—Creation of a petroleum board with power to regulate all activities of the petroleum industry in the state, with authority to set wholesale and retail prices.

* * *

2—Enactment of a law requiring every person or firm engaged in the petroleum industry to register and obtain licenses from the petroleum board.

* * *

3—A law requiring gas station operators to post the octane rating and name of the refiner of gasoline on every pump.

* * *

4—Authorization of the petroleum board to require oil and gas firms to file in reports any information requested.

* * *

5—Employment of the petroleum board to investigate pricing practices of firms in the state.

* * *

* * *

7—Authorization for periodic reports by the board to the Legislature on its findings.

Kavanagh said his investigation of gasoline prices, started last summer, did not reveal any instances of "drastic gouging" on the part of gasoline firms.

"We did find practices that we feel caused an increase in the cost of gasoline in Michigan compared to the cost in other states, however," he said.

The attorney general said he found a "near monopoly" in the handling of the industry from refiners through the wholesale and jobber levels.

He said he found no evidence of monopoly on the retail level.

The governor said there may be a case for posting the price and quality of gasoline sold on pumps.

* * *

"But it is clear that any monopolistic practices in Michigan are not the fault of the filling station operators," the governor said. "I don't believe we should do anything that would make life more difficult for them. Our attention ought to be directed toward the refiners and wholesalers."

Paris announced a small plane called the 'Flying Saucer" that will make almost 40 miles to a gallon of gasoline and costs only $1,143.

Worker, Wife Die as Bus-Home Burns

BIRCH RUN (AP) — A roving oil company worker and his wife died as they slept last night when fire broke out in the converted bus they used as a home.

Firemen in this Saginaw County community said Garland Stafford, 48, and his wife, Blanche, 38, probably suffocated. Their bodies were found in a bed they had installed in the bus.

The vehicle was parked five miles east of here behind the farm home of Burton Loomis. He spotted flames in the bus and summoned firemen.

Stafford, driller for Collins Oil Drillers and Contractors of Mt. Pleasant, was employed on a drilling job in Tuscola County.

Anniversary Dinner Set by Church

Congregationalists to Celebrate With Program Tonight

Tonight will mark the 125th anniversary observance of the First Congregational Church. The event will be celebrated with a dinner and program at the church.

* * *

The Rev. Malcolm K. Burton will give the invocation and the birthday cake will be cut by the person in attendance who joined the church at the earliest date, assisted by the next oldest member.

Charles G. Uligian is chairman of the anniversary program, with guests to be introduced by the Rev. Mr. Burton. Mrs. Theodore Wiersema will direct a hymn sing accompanied by Charles A. Wilson.

During the membership roll call, members will stand when the chairman gives the name of the pastor during whose ministry they joined. These activities will be followed by a historical sketch.

* * *

Members who are participating in the portrayal of the organization of the church and the people they portray are Robert Reynnells, as the Rev. Isaac W. Ruggles, Richard Canfield as Samuel Bent, Victoria Canfield as Mrs. Samuel Bent, Susan Canfield as Mary K. Bent, Robert Boyce as Joseph Rhinehardt, and Geraldine Boyce as Mrs. Joseph Rhinehardt. Hedwig Gaff will sing a solo.

SECOND PORTION

"The Church is Challenged" is the second portion of the program. Besides the roles of the Rev. Mr. Ruggles and Samuel Bent, the first elder of the Presbyterian Church will be portrayed by Irving Gillies and the second elder by Howard McIntyre. The choral group will present "Faith of Our Fathers."

* * *

The third portion will be "Guarding the Purity of the Church," with the role of the Rev. A. H. Fletcher taken by Robert Gaff. Brother Waldron will be played by Paul Taylor, Brother Adams by Ralph Dawe, Brother Pier by Mr. Gillies, Brother VanValkenburgh by Mr. McIntyre and Church Clerk A. P. Frost by Jack Moore.

An abstract from the first 30 years of the church will be given by Jack Moore and a lecture preparatory to the Lord's Supper will be given by Robert Gaff in the role of the Rev. Mr. Fletcher, with the choral group singing "The King of Love My Shepherd Is."

Mrs. Stanley Kipp and Mrs. Ivan Knight are dinner co-chairmen. Mrs. George Olson is dining room chairman and Mrs. Carmi Odell and Mrs. Robert Haskins are handling table arrangements.

* * *

Mrs. C. Wales Goodwin is chairman of the anniversary committee assisted by Mrs. Dora Dawson, Mrs. Howard McIntyre, Mrs. Fred Conner, Mrs. David Edwards and Mr. Wilson.

Mrs. McIntyre is the author and director of the historical drama, with Richard Hathaway and Roger Moore serving as stage managers.

Ask the Man

When the contractor comes to install tile on the walls and floors of bathroom and kitchen, consult him about surfacing closet shelves in various nooks and crannies. They'll be easy to keep clean, durable and stainproof.

Participating in the play presented Tuesday evening at Lincoln Junior High School were (left to right) Melvin Norberg of East Brooklyn avenue, Don North of Oakland avenue and Mrs. Kenneth Lyons of First avenue. The event was a play following the annual Founders' Day dinner of the Pontiac Council of PTA on its 33rd anniversary.

600 Attend Founders' Day Dinner

Over 600 PTA members met at Lincoln Junior High School Tuesday evening for the annual Founders' Day dinner of the Pontiac Council of PTA on its 33rd anniversary.

Guests introduced by Mrs. William Wright, council president, included Mrs. Mark Goddard, director of District Seven of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers; Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac schools, and Mrs. Whitmer; Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, administrative assistant; Warren Abbott, assistant principal of Washington Junior High School, and Mrs. Abbott; J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Cox.

Louis Schimmel, president of the Board of Education, and Mrs. Schimmel; Mrs. Harry E. King, vice president of the Board of Education and past president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers; Dr. Walter L. Godsell and Glenn Griffin, members of the Board of Education, and Mrs. Godsell and Mrs. Griffin were others.

Also introduced were Mrs. William Mihalek, Mrs. Cyril Davis, Vera Mae Adams, William Wright, principal of Linda Vista School; Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Oak; Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Sanderson and the Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, pastor of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. Allebach.

The Rev. Mr. Allebach gave the invocation.

* * *

Past presidents of the Pontiac Council of PTA were introduced. They were Mrs. Leon Wolverton, Mrs. Gordon Rice, Mrs. Frank Schmidt, Mrs. Lee Hill, Mrs. Park Buchner, Mrs. Paul Gorman, Mrs. Donald North and Mrs. King.

GIVES GREETINGS

Mrs. Goddard brought greetings from the MCPT to this group, commenting that the Pontiac PTA Council is the largest council in District Seven and is doing a tremendous job.

* * *

Dr. Whitmer also spoke. He said that schools are as effective, strong and useful as their support by people, and the interest shown by this large group was a good demonstration of the assets of the Pontiac schools.

Mrs. Mihalek opened the program. A play, "Our School Today," directed by Vera Mae Adams, demonstrated the modern school to a mother new to the community. She is concerned about the problems of her children and their adjustments to new surroundings. Before enrolling her four children in the new school, she visits the principal to know more about his school and to tell him about her children.

In the daily routine of the school day, incidents and visits of children to the principal's office demonstrated the methods and teachings on the kindergarten, third grade, eighth grade and high school levels.

* * *

A visit of six kindergarten children and their teacher to the principal's office showed him the progress made by them in preparing their picture books on the different methods of transportation.

SEES THE WORK

It gave the parent the opportunity to see and understand what a year in kindergarten does for most 5 year olds. Many things must be learned before they are ready for an actual introduction to academic subjects such as reading and writing as taught in the first grade.

* * *

This readiness program teaches them to work individually and together to follow simple instructions, and to gain a speaking vocabulary which will let them talk about their activities in a logical sequence.

Enacting the role of principal was Melvin Norberg of Hawthorne PTA. Mrs. Kenneth Lyons, president of LeBaron PTA, played the part of Mrs. Newcomer.

Mrs. John Kish, kindergarten teacher of Malkim School, and six of her pupils presented the skit for their grade level. Children in the presentation were Charlotte Wood, Joey Watson, Carl Domke, Kathy Hoisington, Sandra Bolog and Terry Lynn Kelly.

* * *

A group of third grade students with their teacher, Mrs. Arthur Bell of Webster School, demonstrated how in their social studies they were learning about the history of Pontiac, from very early times of the first roads, industries and schools to the present time.

There are five pages in today's Women's Section

DIFFERENT RATES

The principal emphasized that parents must remember that children grow at different rates, that they need encouragement and a challenge to work at their own best rate, but we can't expect equal achievement from all.

* * *

An eighth grade student, played by Jane Saari of Lincoln Junior High school, and her teacher, played by Mrs. Cecil Mullinix of McCarroll PTA, bring about discussion of the eighth grade student.

A high school boy, played by Jim North, illustrated how students are encouraged to use initiative in their school work, and to relate subjects and extra-curricular activities where possible.

Other questions arising to a new parent in the community concerned the school housing and building program and how it is being financed.

* * *

Dr. Hufziger told of the present building program and demonstrated with a plastic model of the multi-purpose buildings soon to be built at several schools.

FINANCIAL SETUP

Louis Schimmel gave the financial structure of the school building program in this community. He stated that good, intelligent planning over a 10-year period of time is bringing a good educational program, good teachers and curriculum to our children.

* * *

Approximately a million dollars a year is spent on schools, and industry takes up about half of the tax burden, with the average taxpayer paying $18 or $20 a year for schools, he explained.

Assisting Mrs. Mihalek were Mrs. Wayne Weaver, Mrs. Cleatus Garner and William Wright.

Mrs. Francis Oak was general chairman of this Founders' Day dinner. She was assisted by Mrs. Weaver, guest table and invitations; Mrs. Leonard Saari and Mrs. Robert Lake, decorations; Mrs. Russel Bell and Mrs. George Gray, reservations; Mrs. Richard Stark, hospitality; Mrs. Paul Arndt, coffee; Mrs. Roland Stephison, cleanup, and Mrs. Lyle Dusenbury, publicity.

Workshop Held Tuesday

A series of four workshops for board and committee members of the Northern Oakland Girl Scout Council began yesterday at the Waterford CAI Building. The course stresses complete understanding of the Council program in order to accomplish the most for the girls.

* * *

Highlighting the afternoon session was a panel on "Our Place in the Community."

Participants were Mary Ellen Wyngarden, executive director of the Camp Fire Girls; Robert Glenn, of the administrative board of the United Fund; E. H. Leland, executive director of Boy Scouts; Leonard Jagels, executive director of the Catholic Family Service and William Shunck, superintendent of Waterford Township schools.

Mrs. E. J. Lally Jr., president of Northern Oakland Girl Scout Council; and Mrs. Evelyn Copeland, moderator executive director of Northern Girl Scout Council, were others.

Panelists first explained the purposes, aims and programs of their organizations and then discussed common problems. They talked of ways of working together to help children. They also examined volunteer and professional relationships in each agency.

SEE COMMON PROBLEMS

The participants discovered that the most common problem was the growth of the area and keeping up with it. According to utility company figures, there will be no leveling off in this northern Oakland section for the next twenty to thirty years.

The next session will be held February 14 at the CAI Building and will accent recruitment. Mrs. Copeland and Carolann Bingham, field director, are in charge of all the workshops.

Wrong Pace Can Spoil Right Work

By ANNE HEYWOOD

When you hate the work you do, chances are you want to change to something violently different. But, more often, a minor alteration is all that's indicated.

* * *

Many times it isn't the work itself that bores you, it's the atmosphere or the pace.

For example, one girl may have a secretarial job in a high-pressure, deadline kind of field where everyone dashes around in high speed. She may hate it and be nervous and miserable.

But instead of giving up secretarial work forever, she may change to the same kind of job only in a field which is more leisurely, where people take their time and there is no deadline—and she may be happy as can be.

I remember a girl who did just this.

DROVE HER CRAZY

First, she worked for a weekly magazine and it drove her crazy. Then, she moved into a book publishing house, where they didn't have to get a magazine out every week and where people worked more steadily and less in spurts.

* * *

She loved it, yet another girl would find it dull as dishwater and prefer the "challenge" of the magazine.

So, before you give up a field forever, see if it isn't just the pace of the office which goes against your grain.

Then, there is the matter of atmosphere.

* * *

Some girls work in a do-good health organization, or in an academic office, and find it too static and "ivory tower" for them. But put them in a real live-wire sales organization, and they'll love it.

Others cannot stand the "huckster" atmosphere and want only to work in a field which, to them, has real significance.

STUDY SITUATION

Next time you decide that you hate your job and would like to give up secretarial work forever—or bookkeeping or selling or whatever—Study the situation carefully and think twice.

* * *

The skills you have built up are, after all, a bird in the hand. To give them up and learn new ones may be awfully hard.

Instead, determine whether the atmosphere or the pace of your present office is alien to you and change to one that is different.

And even then, give yourself a three-month cooling-off period, to be sure that you really have tried your best to like the present job.

* * *

Job changing is a lot like major surgery—if it has to be done, do it, but when in doubt, delay!

Princess' Taste Cited in Court

LONDON (INS) — Princess Margaret's taste in fashion has been cited to make a point in a damage suit now being tried in Nairobi, Kenya.

* * *

Dispatches from the East African colony said today that a picture of Margaret wearing slingback shoes was used as evidence in the Supreme Court there by an orthopedic surgeon.

The surgeon, testifying for the defense in a suit for damages by a woman who fell on a hotel staircase, said that Margaret "considered beauty and safety, but decided that beauty was more desirable."

* * *

Barbs Hit Mates, Children Alike

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Six types of married people who fail their mates are listed in the current Redbook. Here's how they are compiled by the University of Chicago's Family Study Center:

* * *

The Interpreters who always know how their mates feel about everything; the wives who say, "Ed just hates to go out nights, don't you, dear?"

But they don't limit this domination to Ed. They're also the parents who say, "Joan can't stand those brawls the young crowd is giving at the club, can you, dear?" meaning, "Better not want to, if you know what's good for you, my girl."

The Romantics who hide almost blank ignorance of each other behind display of baby talk, public kissing and the protest, "We have the ideal marriage."

SMACK YOU DOWN

The Squelchers who smack you down before somebody you want to like you with some devastating criticism, like, "Oh, I didn't know you read a book, honey."

But your youngsters don't escape the squelcher's needle any more than you do. He's the father who sneers, "If your grandmother had seen you crying over that cut last night, she wouldn't think you were such a big boy."

The Ammunition-Collectors who ask, "Can you imagine a grown man wanting to chase a little ball around a field?"—and having betrayed you into innocent comment, use what you've said to reinforce attack on their mates' favorite pastime or hobby.

But the wives who ask this question are, sure as little apples, going to be the mothers who also ask, "What do you think of a 12-year-old girl who still expects somebody else to make her bed?"

* * *

The Women-Haters who laugh off all their wives' opinions as too feminine and flighty to be taken seriously but who get very serious indeed if you question their male superiority.

But the men who laugh off women's opinions as too feminine to matter also laugh off children's as too childish to matter—and are the fathers who scoff, "Oh, so you've picked your political candidate, have you? Ha, ha, ha."

The Self-Sacrificers who get everything they want by keeping their spouses under perpetual obligation for "all that I've done for you."

Patricia Recknagel Wed in Lake Orion Ceremony

Honeymooning in Florida and Washington, D. C., are Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Ketter who were married Saturday morning in a Nuptial High Mass in St. Joseph Catholic Church, Lake Orion.

* * *

The bride is the former Patricia Recknagel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy O. Recknagel of Lake Orion. The bridegroom, of Oakland avenue, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ketter of Iola, Kan.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor-length bouffant gown of Chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice featured a scoop neckline trimmed with iridescent sequins and a basque waistline. The long sleeves ended in points at the wrists.

* * *

ATTEND BRIDE

Mrs. Patrick Sweeney of Lake Orion, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Joseph Laveque of Clarkston, cousin of the bride, were the bridal attendants. They were gowned identically in ballerina-length dresses of red velvet, and they carried heart-shaped bouquets of white carnations with a center of red carnations outlined in white velvet.

* * *

Charles Ketter was best man, and ushers were Orval Russell and James Recknagel of Lake Orion, brother of the bride.

A reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall with Mrs. Recknagel greeting the guests in a gown of blue velvet with pink accessories and a corsage of pink feathered carnations and pink roses.

* * *

Mrs. Ketter wore a dress of turquoise chromspun acetate with matching accessories and a corsage of white feathered carnations and white roses.

TRAVEL SOUTH

For their honeymoon trip to Florida and Washington, D. C., the bride chose a blue knit suit with pink and black accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

On their return the newlyweds will reside in Pontiac.

MRS. RICHARD J. KETTER

'Big as a Drum' Hats Have Forward Pose

For 1956's flight-headed hats, puffed high by organdy, chiffon, net and tulle, that look as airy as cotton candy or an Escoffier souffle—hair must look as neat as if it were painted on, and make-up as flawless as a priceless piece of Chinese porcelain.

Some hats will be as big as a drum, as tall as a shako, but most will have a forward pose. Some will be so far head-on, says Factor, your eyebrows will almost be obscured.

Cotillion Club to Hold Dance This Evening

Cotillion Dance Club will hold its third dance of the season this evening in Oakand Hills Country Club with dancing from 9 until 12 o'clock. A canape party will precede dancing.

* * *

Welcoming the couples will be Mr. and Mrs. William J. Dunseith, Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Schramm, Mr. and Mrs. John Riley and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boynton.

* * *

The Valentine motif will be carried out in the ballroom decorations. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. W. Ross Thompson planned the attractive decorations.

Styling . . . Is Our Specialty!

You'll adore our longer-than-short hair style . . . 'cause it's so flexible . . . has so many variations. Let us individualize your hair styling.

'But He's Five Inches Shorter Than I Am!'

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Hindsight is better than foresight, they say. It's easy enough to rehash things you did or said, to look back and figure out why it happened.

You can see, in your memory, how one thing led to another until you were prompted or forced to look ahead and know with certainty that things are going to turn out as they eventually do.

Torturing yourself with worrisome thoughts once a thing is done gets you nowhere. When you make a decision, stick to it, even though you're plagued with doubts.

Rehash the situation rationally and coolly just once more, then forget it. There's no use, really, in crying over milk that's spilled. As this girl is doing.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I was told a while ago that a boy who was a good friend of mine liked me. Well, I had always liked him — with one reservation. He's 5 inches shorter than I am!

"Whenever I walked anywhere with him I feel so self-conscious. So I never admitted to anyone that I liked him. Now we just say 'hi' when we meet, and I often wonder if I was wrong.

"My mother and my friends always teased me about having such a little boy friend. But please tell me if I was wrong in brushing him off?"

Answer: The fact of the matter is that you discouraged him. You felt too uncomfortably conscious of your towering height when you were with him. Though you liked his personality, his character and the way he did things, you couldn't quite go all out for him.

You couldn't stand the teasing that made you feel sure everybody was noticing you together and commenting unfavorably on the appearance you made. You liked him. But you were ashamed to be seen with him.

So you hid your liking, and passed up what might have been a lot of fun. That's what has you worried now. A muffed romance that was all your doing.

But there's no use in fretting about it now. Though you may still like him, have you throttled that shame and fear of being the girl of a short boy? Have you overcome your own self-consciousness?

If you had a second chance with him would you be able to enjoy his company, his friendship and his admiration with absolutely no reservations of any kind?

Frankly, I doubt it. Those subconscious feelings of yours would again ride you hard. You couldn't be wholehearted about it.

So, though you might have been wrong to let your pride get in the way, it might have been the only decision you could make. Stick to it.

Chapeaux Stress Beauty

PARIS (INS) — The prettiest spring chapeaux in Paris have been designed to give hat-conscious ladies allure and beauty.

Svend has the most romantic looking hat in town. It is a large slouch hat of natural, rough straw. Through its wide wavy brim he has slotted the long stems of three tulips. Their yellow blooms trim the upper side of the brim.

• • •

Achille, another male hat designer, has made head-covers in what he calls the "skyscraperline," which tapers off to look like the top of the Chrysler building in New York. A chic one in fine Panama straw colored like cream-of-wheat is built in three "stories" that narrow down as they move upwards. The back is open in a reversed V-slit trimmed with buttons and corresponding buttonholes.

Achille also has a very sophisticated hat for dressy occasions. It is a huge black straw cloche worn straight and deep to cover the nose. A wide-spread reversed V opening in front, filled-in with a black coarse net, permits the wearer to see.

• • •

Clouds of chiffon or veil are draped on some of Claude Saint-Cyr's latest creations. The most feminine is a large hat with a white chiffon puff as the crown and a narrow brim of black velvet.

Household odors that plague even the best of homemakers can now be banished with room fresheners that require just a press of the finger against the spray button.

Homemade Bread Is Still Tops

Make Four Loaves in Five Hours With This Recipe

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We're off on another crusade to get more women to make their own bread. Today we have the capable assistance of Mrs. Phoebe Van Dusen who loves to make bread and shares one of her best recipes.

Mrs. Van Dusen is a practical nurse and has less time for baking than she would like. She enjoys the time she spends with her grandchildren. High among her list of favorite leisure time activities are sewing and singing with the Pontiac Mothersingers.

FIVE HOUR BREAD
By Mrs. Phoebe Van Dusen

1 cup milk, scalded
3 cups cold water
1 yeast cake
3 tablespoons shortening
3 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon salt
7-8 cups sifted flour

Add shortening, sugar and salt to scalded milk. Add cold water. Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water and add. Add enough flour, beating well, to make a soft batter like pancake batter. Cover and let rise in a warm place one hour. Add enough more flour to make a dough you can knead. Knead at least 10 minutes. Cover and let rise another hour, or until double.

Divide dough into 4 loaves. Put in greased bread pans. Let rise until double, about ½ hour. Bake at 350 degrees for 45-50 minutes, or until hollow sounding. Remove from pans at once.

Sunset Club Plans Valentine Party

When the Sunset Club, sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation, met in the Wilson School, plans were completed for a Valentine party to be held on Feb. 16.

Mrs. Charles Little and Mrs. William Holthusen entertained the group with several readings.

Bangs and curls brushed toward the face give a busy appearance to the be-spectacled face. Glasses and hairstyles should combine to flatter a face shape.

Guest Feels Behavior Was Rude

Sister of Hostess Leaves Company to Watch TV

By EMILY POST

A reader writes me as follows: "Recently I went to visit a friend of mine who lives with her sister. I went at the invitation of one of the sisters although I know both of them equally well.

"Both sisters greeted me cordially but soon afterwards the one sister excused herself and went into another room to watch television and didn't come back into the living room until I was almost ready to leave. When she returned she said that her favorite programs were on and she never missed them.

"I was very much put out over this as I do not go to this house often and think she could have been courteous enough to visit with me for the time I was there even though she was not the one to invite me. Wasn't this very rude on her part, or am I just being oversensitive?"

Answer: You are just being oversensitive. After all, the sister who invited you stayed with you.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Must a stag have been introduced to a girl in order to cut in on her partner at a dance? I mean, is not the fact that they both have been asked by the same hostess a proper introduction?"

Answer: At a dance of any size a man must have been introduced to the girl he cuts in on. At a dinner or a very small party of a dozen or so, the roof of a friend serves as an introduction.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I saw a movie recently in which one of the players dipped his fingers into the sugar bowl and helped himself to a cube of sugar.

"I have always thought that this was incorrect and that one must use sugar tongs. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: It is entirely correct to take lumps of sugar in your fingers to put in your own cup. (Sugar for others must of course be taken from the sugar bowl with tongs or spoon.)

REST

Much is said about diet and exercise, mudpacks and hairdos. But seldom do we hear about the advantages of rest and sleep. We are inclined to think of rest, relaxation and sleep as luxuries we can't often afford. Whereas they are really more important than food. Scientists say that we can live 60 days without food but only ten days without sleep. Eight hours is sufficient for the average person but do not limit yourself to this amount if you need more. People vary in their requirements according to their work and physical conditions. There are many reasons for insomnia, but worry and lack of fresh air are two common ones.

A calmer mind and a little exercise in the fresh air each day will often work wonders. You can do it if you try. You wouldn't think of planning your day without leaving time to eat and if you are wise you will give rest and recreation the same consideration.

Argentina, Mexico Take Korean POWs

NEW DELHI (AP)—Argentina and Mexico have agreed to receive the last batch of 20 former Korean War prisoners left behind in India, the government announced today.

Of the original 88 prisoners who came here 23 months ago after refusing to go to either South Korea, Nationalist China or to the Communists, 6 have been repatriated, 7 are remaining in India, and 55 were handed over to the Brazilian Embassy Monday.

Argentina will take 12 of the rest and Mexico 8.

Ford Motor to Erect Plant in Indianapolis

DETROIT (INS) — Ford Motor Co. announced today that Indianapolis, Ind., has been chosen as the location for its new steering gear and cold heading plant.

The announcement was made by Ford Vice President S. W. Ostrander, who said the company is negotiating to purchase 170 acres near the eastern city limits of Indianapolis for the plant site. Ostrander said the plant will provide employment for about 3,000 workers.

The new steering gear and cold heading plant is the 37th new unit to be announced or completed by Ford since 1946 and is the latest project in the company's $3.7 billion postwar expansion.

Two Milford Musicians Among Six Representing State at Conference

MILFORD — Six student musicians from the entire State of Michigan have been chosen to attend the Music Educators National Conference at St. Louis, Mo. and two of the six are from Milford High School.

* * *

Ariel Haddrill and Sue Bourns, both tenth graders, have had first ratings in one instrument or another every year since they were in the fifth grade.

They are both members of the Ann Arbor Youth Symphony orchestra and at the present time, hold first-chair positions in the All-League band.

The Music Educators National Conference is celebrating its 50th anniversary beginning April 13th through the 18th. The local students will be competing with other musicians from all over the United States in both band and orchestra playing, according to Phyl Haddrill, Milford High band director.

Next Saturday the girls will attend the District Solo-Ensemble Festival at Ypsilanti, along with 54 other entries from the Huron Valley school system.

A "dress rehearsal" will be held tonight at the Bertha Baker school beginning at 8. There will be five playing rooms in operation and the audience may enter and leave between numbers.

To make the Wednesday night performance more authentic, student musicians from Ann Arbor will act as judges and over 100 pupils are expected to participate, according to Haddrill.

Committee on Boundaries to Hear From Both Factions

ROCHESTER—An issue that began over two years ago in study and discussion is only a little farther along now than it was then. The issue is that of incorporation of Rochester to a city and annexation of a portion of Avon Township.

Two factions on the issue have developed over the two year span. Those backing incorporation are called the Rochester Progress Committee. They elected officers in December, 1955.

The opposing side formed late in December of last year under the name of Rochester Avon Protection Committee.

Several public meetings in the early part of '55 served to acquaint Rochester and Avon residents with a recommendation for incorporation-annexation and provided them with an opportunity to further explore other possibilities.

Proposed boundaries set by city backers for the new Rochester would go one-half mile west of Livernois including the new high school; ½ mile north of Tienken road including the North Mill subdivision, the proposed Wrigley Super Market and National Twist Drill Co.; one-quarter mile east of the present village including portions of the Parke Davis property and south limits would be the same as the present. It would not include the South Hill area.

RECOMMEND ANNEXATION

The Progress Committee composed of members of the Village Council and other interested citizens recommends annexation because:

1. The new income brought into Rochester would be substantially in excess of that required to extend to the entire new area the same general expense services that the inhabitants of the village enjoy.

2. The excess of new income over the increased expense incident to the furnishing of such services will be sufficient to justify the immediate installation of a program of local improvement in the new area and the carrying forward of that prgoram.

3. The prgoram of local improvements will ultimately eliminate Rochester's fringe area problems.

* * *

Advantages to the fringe area citizens who would become residents of Rochester are these, say the city backers:

1. Better road maintenance.
2. Services including sewers, water, trash and garbage collection.
3. Street lights
4. City police and fire protection.

New citizens would no longer pay a township tax and there would be no increase in tax for present village residents.

Petitions for city incorporation and annexation of fringe areas were filed in the office of the county clerk on Dec. 2, 1955. Signatures of 154 residents accompanied the petitions.

Village Manager Robert Slone has said, "The development for this area is not in the future. It is upon us today—at this time! The time has come when these areas needing municipal services must become a part of us."

PROTECTION ORGANIZES

Several public meetings have organized the Rochester Avon Protection Committee, which is against incorporation.

Members of this faction are concerned with the idea of a possible tax increase for the newly annexed citizens of Rochester.

Mrs. Thelma Spencer, Avon deputy township clerk, said "Avon Township including the village of Rochester's whole assessed valuation (as equalized) is now approximately $19,000,000 and if the village became a city and took in the proposed area in the township, the township would stand to lose a little more than half or about $10,000,000."

The Protection Committee is now challenging the legality of the petitions submitted to the County Board of Supervisors through their attorney, Everett Hays.

* * *

The entire issue is at rest at present before the Committee on Boundaries of Cities and Villages of the Board of Supervisors. The Boundaries Committee has delayed a decision on the issue until all the facts can be presented to them from both sides.

Rochester and Avon officials feel that the forthcoming primary election in Rochester Feb. 20 will give a fair estimate of how citizens regard the annexation-incorporation issue as members of each group have filed for seats on the Village Council. There are five seats vacant.

In the meantime, the Protection Committee has scehduled another group meeting for 8 p.m. Monday in the Avon Township Hall.

Negro Girl Renews Fight to Attend Alabama School

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (INS) — A Negro coed resumed her fight today to attend the University of Alabama from which she has been barred on the grounds that her presence sparked three days of rioting.

* * *

Autherine Lucy, 26, who was excluded from classes "until further notice" by the Board of Trustees as a safety measure Monday night, yesterday gave the university 48 hours to readmit her as a student or face new legal action.

At the same time, the Alabama State Legislature at Montgomery cheering the cry, "To Hell with the Supreme Court!", passed a resolution commending the university trustees for excluding Miss Lucy from classes.

The series of rock and egg-throwing demonstrations also had reverberations in Washington where Sen. Harley Kilgore (D-WVa) called on the FBI to investigate what he determined "the deplorable situation" at Tuscaloosa.

* * *

The disturbances began on the campus Friday night with a cross-burning incident hours after Miss Lucy attended her first class. They ended early Tuesday when the decision to suspend Miss Lucy was announced.

ACTION CONDEMNED

* * *

Miss Lucy's attorney, Arthur D. Shores, notified school officials that unless the first Negro student to attend Alabama in its 125-year history is reinstated within 48 hours he will take further legal action.

This probably would be a request for a federal contempt citation against university officials. It would be filed in the Federal Court where Miss Lucy in a three-year fight won an order directing the university to admit her last week.

The university's faculty, by a voice vote that indicated a wide split in faculty sentiment, refused to approve a resolution deploring the lack of police protection and the trustees' surrender to "mob rule."

Charles D. Farris, assistant political science professor, asked Dr. Oliver C. Carmichael, university president, at the meeting attended by 400 faculty members why "only the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had asked the governor to call out the National Guard," why university and Tuscaloosa police had failed to provide adequate protection for Miss Lucy and why the administration had not asked for extra protection.

'CANNOT ANSWER'

Dr. Carmichael replied:

"I cannot answer your questions. Let's close the meeting."

* * *

Another professor jumped up to protest "letting the mob rule the university." The rest of his remarks were drowned in applause.

The protest resolution, offered by Farris despite Dr. Carmichael's obvious displeasure, met with a smattering of applause. But observers said it received the "ayes" of only about a fifth of the faculty members present.

Both the Alabama Senate and House passed a resolution commending the university trustees for barring Miss Lucy.

The House yesterday passed a Senate-approved bill proposing that Alabama parents be given their choice of three types of schools for their children—all-white, all-Negro and integrated.

If signed or ignored by the governor (in either event it takes effect), the proposal goes before the voters in referendum next Aug. 28. The House vote was 99-1 in favor of the bill. Last month it passed the Senate 33-0.

He Also Can Get Blind Drunk on Way to Station

PARIS (AP) — Any Parisian who rides the subway these days can get a glimpse of what the inside of his stomach may look like if he keeps guzzling wine. Or he can examine a human liver slowly falling to pieces in a bath of alcohol.

* * *

CAN LOOK ON

More than six billion liters of alcoholic drinks are consumed each year in France. A liter is a little larger than a U.S. quart.

Two million Frenchmen tip up more than two liters of wine a day.

* * *

Pontiac Division Opens New Pedestrian Bridge

A 300-foot pedestrian bridge from the engine plant of the Pontiac Motor Division to the employes' parking lot has been opened.

Covered to protect plant personnel from inclement weather, the bridge spans the main vehicle traffic artery to the parking area across from the plant.

Plans for the insulated walk were announced Oct. 7, 1955, by General Manager R. M. Critchfield.

Besides affording protection to users, the bridge is also designed to relieve congestion and eliminate safety hazards involved in crossing the traffic route.

The walk enters the plant at the mezzanine floor between Plant 9 and the main cafeteria, eliminating the necessity of employes having to walk two flights of stairs to reach the parking area.

The bridge has a ground clearance of 14 feet and is equipped inside with fluorescent lighting and exhaust-fan ventilation.

The division is currently engaged in a parking facility expansion project which will add 225,000 square feet to the lot, bringing total capacity to 8,606 automobiles.

Missile Research Chief Reported Fuming at AF

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force's top research chief is reported to be demanding a showdown with superiors on the status of this country's guided missile program.

* * *

Trevor Gardner, assistant secretary for research and development was said to be ready to resign because of dissatisfaction with the service's research program, especially in guided missiles.

He was reported to have gone to Miami to see Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson who is vacationing there.

Friends said several months ago that Gardner, who became assistant secretary more than a year ago, was then privately expressing displeasure with the Air Force's attitude toward research.

* * *

At a news conference last summer in California, Gardner said he believed the Air Force should seek 100 to 200 million dollars in extra funds for research during the present fiscal year which ends next June 30. Later, Air Secretary Donald Quarles let it be known that no supplemental money would be requested.

Gardner also has been described as unhappy over Wilson's refusal to spell out in more detail the work of the services particularly the Air Force, in such fields as ballistic missiles.

The present Air Force spending budget for research is 551 million dollars. It has asked for 610 million in the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

Before Gardner came to Washington he was head of developmental engineering on research and atomic bomb projects that the California Institute of Technology and under contracts with the government.

Gardner is a native of Cardiff, Wales. He became a naturalized American citizen in 1937.

President Eisenhower's nomination of Gardner to be assistant secretary ran into trouble in the Senate in 1954 because of Gardner's interest in the defense of atomic scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer. Oppenheimer, who helped develop the first atomic bomb, has been barred from official secrets by the Atomic Energy Commission on the ground he is a security risk.

THE POWERHOUSE
By JIMMY POWERS

The baseball writers have selected a mighty fine gent named Tom Yawkey as a target for their fistful of rose petals. Couldn't have picked a better all-around man for the William J. Slocum award.

Yawkey took quite a shellacking in the papers as he poured more than $4,000,000 into the Red Sox. He was called everything from a simpleton to a spoiled rich man's darling. You know how some of that egg-head stuff goes. Frank Stranahan does, too. In certain quarters a wealthy man automatically becomes fair game for every slanted bit of writing in his village. But Yawkey hung in there even though his hired hands and executives have come up with one lone pennant since 1933.

Tom first thought the road to Pennantville was paved with money and started spreading it around the American League to acquire finished diamond products like Lefty Grove, Jimmy Foxx and Joe Cronin. Then, after emptying a vault or two with little artistic gain in the standings, Yawkey hit upon the Branch Rickey of roll-your-own.

SCOUTS SCOURED COUNTRYSIDE FOR BOSOX TALENT

Red Sox scouts were instructed to roam the countryside looking for fuzzy-cheeked youths who could hit, throw, run and slide.

When it seemed that Yawkey's saplings were ready to sprout, the Hitler mob and assorted gangsters started rolling through Europe and Asia. Needless to say, the devastations of war scorched Yawkey's fields.

After the surrender, Yawkey abandoned his earlier scheme and started playing the bonus baby market like a daily double addict who knew all the answers.

Results bordered on the perilous. In no time the Boston clubhouse resembled a Back Bay Ding Dong School as a group of teen-agers, their pockets stuffed with money and marbles, arrived in Fenway Park.

Once again Yawkey did an about-face and began to refurbish the farm system, and if last season is any portent, then the Red Sox have found the key.

Howe Joins Select '300' Club

DETROIT (AP)—Gordie Howe, ace right winger for the Detroit Red Wings, stood among the all-time greats of the National Hockey League today, one of the three men in league history who have hit the 300-goal mark.

The milestone marker came against the Chicago Black Hawks last night in typical fashion, with big No. 9 driving toward Chicago goalie Al Rollins at top speed and firing from point-blank range.

As a partisan crowd of 10,420 broke onto a happy roar, Howe, grinning broadly, raised his stick in a gesture of triumph, wheeled sharply and returned to the net to retrieve the puck as a souvenir.

The marker was a long time coming. Howe had to wait out five scoreless games before connecting at 6:33 of the first period. He tallied again in the second period and Lorne Ferguson's goal in the third gave the Wings a 3-2 victory and pulled them back into a second place tie with the New York Rangers.

• • •

Other NHL clubs were idle last night.

Howe's goals also boosted him back into a tie with Montreal's Jean Beliveau for the NHL scoring lead with 60 points. The big right winger won the scoring title four seasons running before dropping into 5th place last year.

Howe joins Nels Stewart and Maurice (Rocket) Richard in the exclusive "300" club. Stewart had a record of 323 when he retired after 15 years with the Montreal Maroons, Boston Bruins and New York Americans. Richard, still going strong in his 14th season with the Montreal Canadiens, his collected a fabulous 450.

• • •

Now 28, Howe broke into the NHL 10 years ago after playing one season with the Detroit farm club in Omaha. The Wings had taken an interest in him two years earlier when he showed up at a training camp as a strapping youngster from Sakatoon, Sask.

The Rangers, to their everlasting regret, had turned him down as showing too little promise when he tried to join the New York club the year before.

Howe was not long in establishing himself as one of the NHL's top players. He's the only ambidextrous player in the league and his hard-driving, consistant play makes him a natural for the rough-and tough tactics of big-time hockey.

Already he's eyeing bigger targets.

"After all this fuss to get the 300th," he said in his dressing room last night, "now I've got to start looking for No. 400." Then, in a obvious reference to "The Rocket," six years his senior but still in top form, he added: "Looks like I've got to get going to be No. 1."

CLEAN SWEEP — Les Hornick puts a broom to the stone as Don Brunton (left) sweeps the ice during a practice session for Detroit Curling Club members. The club formed in 1875 has 300 members and six rinks. The sport runs during a five month season in the Motor City. The Detroit club claims to be the oldest organized curling club in the United States.

Dryden Captures 1st Win

Almont, Memphis, and Dryden racked up victories in Southern Thumb League basketball games Tuesday night.

Lee Hartway tossed in a two-pointer in the last minute of play to give Almont a 63-61 decision over visiting New Haven. Hartway and Bob Wentworth each netted 20 points for the winners and New Haven's Al Siefert took scoring laurels with 26.

Memphis remained in a 2nd place tie with Almont by whipping Capac, 66-53, at Memphis. Jim Burns sparked Memphis with 26 points while Capac's Bill Ogden scored 19.

Dryden's cagers posted their 1st league win of the season by lacing invading Brown City, 67-42. The defeat pulled Brown City into a deadlock for the cellar with its conqueror. Clare Wentworth was the big gun for Dryden with 25 points.

Braves Lose Mentor

Ghianni Quits Coaching to Get Into Business

After more than four years of what is regarded as one of the finest Pontiac junior high school sports coaching job, Em Ghianni, easy-going Washington Junior High mentor, today announced his resignation.

Ghianni will leave the public school physical education department on March 1. He will become Western Michigan district sales manager for the Walter Vallet Water Heating Co. of Detroit. The post will necessitate removal of "Em" and his family to Grand Rapids, he says.

During his work at Washington, Ghianni has set up a truly enviable record of 83 wins, 9 losses and 3 ties for his basketball, football and track teams.

He was unbeaten in football, in which his team scored 369 points against 54 for opponents. In nearly five years of basketball Braves won 42, lost only 3. Wins included three Junior High League titles. Current squad has gone six straight without a loss. His track teams won 15, lost 2 duals, but won 3 league titles and 2 all-around Junior Olympic crowns.

Ghianni was all-city fullback at Hutchinson School, Buffalo, N.Y., then played frosh ball at U. of M. The war took him for three years, in one of which he was a 1st lieutenant of infantry overseas. After his tour of duty Em went to MSC, graduating in 1948. Later he took his master's degree in phys-ed at U. of M. The Ghiannis have two sons, Eric and Timmy Champ.

"I'll miss the coaching work, but this is an opportunity I feel should not be ignored," Ghianni said today.

Lions' Profits for '55 Season Under '54 Total

Loss of TV Revenue One Reason; Cochran Joins Staff

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions, though finishing at the tail-end of the National Football League Western Division standings, showed a profit of $105,000 for the 1955 season.

Lions President Edwin J. Anderson, announcing the figure yesterday, said the profit compared with $178,000 for the 1954 season when Detroit won the division title.

He said the chief reason for the decline was the loss of network television revenue, which brought in more than $100,000 in the 1954 season.

Anderson also pointed out that operating expenses climbed, largely because of salary increases for players and personnel, and revenue from exhibition games went down.

A 5 per cent dividend for stockholders was declared last week.

A vacancy in the Lions coach staff resulted with the resignation of Paul Christman, who worked part-time with Detroit last season. Parker said the rest of the staff will remain the same.

Gavilan Loss Causes Stir

Boycott of British Boxing Looms

LONDON (AP)—An American boycott of British boxing loomed today as Kid Gavilan's manager bitterly denounced last night's decision against his fighter as "deplorable."

• • •

"I am going to see the British Boxing Board of Control about this ridiculous decision," said Yamil Chade, Gavilan's manager. "We shall ask them to reverse the referee's verdict. I thought Gavilan won nine rounds with one even."

Eleven thousand fans in Harringay Stadium roared their disapproval last night when young Peter Waterman's hand was lifted in triumph after 10 rounds of bruising action during which Gavilan apparently had things his own way. The victory extended the Briton's unbeaten record to 32. He has fought one draw.

• • •

Chade had to be restrained by the stewards when the decision was announced. He tried to get into the ring to protest. Almost all of the newsmen around ringside thought Gavilan had won. The Associated Press card had 6-2-2 for the former welterweight titleholder from Cuba.

• • •

Lew Burston, a representative of the International Boxing Club who regularly books foreign bouts for American fighters, said afterwards "if the (British) commission don't do anything about this, no American fighters will come to England in the future."

Gavilan himself took the defeat calmly.

• • •

"I won eight of the 10 rounds," he said. "I was the most surprised man in the stadium when the referee raised Waterman's hand. But I'm still going to get back my welterweight title."

• • •

The score card of the lone official, Referee Ben Green, was not made public as is the practice in England.

But the booing and the catcalls lasted for 10 minutes after the verdict was announced.

• • •

The 21-year-old Waterman laughed off the post-bout commotion.

• • •

"I took a lot of Gavilan's blows on my arm," he said. "I thought I punched more cleanly. Gavilan did a lot of slapping."

But the opinion of the British boxing writers who covered the fight was reflected in a story by Desmond Hackett of the London Daily Express who called the decision "one of the worst I have ever known."

SPORTS OF ALL SORTS — Among sports figures huddled at the Father and Son Banquet last night at the Elks temple were Lou Creekmur, star of the Detroit Lions, Spike Briggs, president of the Tigers and boxing's Chuck Davey. Over 750 attended the affair with representatives from various sports in attendance.

750 Jam Elks Temple Affair

Father-Son Banquet Is Filled With Host of Sports Celebraties

Sports celebraties from all fields including football, baseball, basketball, bowling, golf gathered at the annual Father and Son Banquet held last night at the Elks Temple.

It was termed by officials as the most successful banquet in history as more than 750 persons jammed the dining hall.

Master of Ceremonies Lyall Smith of the Free Press presented the array of sports and political personalities to the crowd, which included some 250 youngsters who swarmed the guest table for autographs.

Microphone comments from the various sports figures came from Spike Briggs of the Detroit Tigers, Lou Creekmur of the Lions, Chuck Davey of boxing fame, Bob Devaney of MSU, Wally Fromhart from U of D and Lt. Governor of Michigan Phil Hart.

Drawings were held for the youngsters with different sports items given as souvenirs.

Others who attended were Frank Waters of Hillsdale, Glenn Johnson, Michigan Amateur golf champ, Lloyd Brazil and Bob Calihan of U of D, Frank Mitzel, president of the American Bowling Congress, Charlie Gehringer, Fred Ziem, county prosecuting attorney, circuit judges Clark J. Adams and H. Russel Holland, and many others.

Tankers' 'Big One'

PHS, 'Jacks Point for Record Meet

Two of the state's admittedly best prep swimming teams collide headon, Friday afternoon in Pontiac High School pool.

And from the lineup of talent the Chiefs and Arthur Hill will toss into the West Huron pool, there is bound to be at least four, and possibly more records smashed. That's the observation of astute Robert (Des) Boyce, Chiefs' mentor.

"Arthur Hill beat the 1955 state championship Battle Creek club, 54-30, recently, and that's a real achievement," Boyce pointed out today. "They are the only team to stop us this season." Boyce added. He thinks the Chiefs have improved greatly since that loss and are now capable of making a hot battle of it, Friday.

Pontiac aims for its 5th Valley win. It is in 2nd place, a meet back of unbeaten Arthur Hill.

"We figure this is the big one," says Boyce. "Arthur Hill has the 'horses.' We have some good ones, too."

Out of eight events listed for Friday's dual here, the PHS coach figures at least half will have new marks for the pool.

They include the 100-yard backstroke in which ace Tom Cross may erase the old mark; the 100-yard breaststroke, where Bob Keavy and Art Manwell (AH) tangle in what could be a terrific record battle; the individual medley, with 'Jacks' Jim Schadt capable of a record effort, and the 240-yard medley relay, with either team a possible record-breaker.

It's Hot Stove League Time and—

You're the Manager

(Third of a Series)

Jim Hegan of Cleveland had his worst season at the plate in 1955, hitting only .220 in 116 games. However, the big catcher is known as a good clutch hitter.

AL LOPEZ

Here's a situation involving Hegan. Indians' manager Al Lopez used the correct strategy in this case. What move would you have made?

(R) stands for a righthanded batter or pitcher.

The Indians and New York Yankees are tied 6-6 in the bottom of the eighth at Cleveland. Bob Grim (R) is pitching for the Yanks. There's one out when Al Rosen and Ralph Kiner each hit singles and Ferris Fain walks, filling the bases. Hegan (R) is the next scheduled batter with Sam Dente (R) to follow.

Would you:

A. Have Hegan try a squeeze bunt?

B. Let Hegan swing away?

C. Put in a lefty pinch-hitter for Hegan?

Result: C—Bob Lemon, a lefty hitter, batted for Hegan and hit a sacrifice fly, scoring Rosen. Indians won 7-6 (Aug. 27).

Boxer Cleared in Ring Death

Ruling Made Following Inquest Into Death of TKO Victim

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A medical examiner has cleared Baltimore middleweight Rudy Watkins of blame for the death of Philadelphia boxer Robert Perry following a bout between the two at the Camvoria Athletic Club here in January.

• • •

The ruling by Medical Examiner Dr. Joseph W. Spelman yesterday followed his inquest into the bout in which the 21-year-old Perry was the victim of a sixth-round TKO. Perry died Jan. 29 of a brain injury, little less than two days after the fight.

• • •

A state athletic commission physician testified that Perry was in excellent condition before the fight. Dr. William Strickand said he examined Perry again after the fight and found his pupils dilated but that this condition cleared up while he was still in his dressing room.

• • •

Watkins, also 21, testified that Perry appeared to be getting stronger after a first-round knockdown "until he lowered his guard in the sixth and I connected with an uppercut."

• • •

The referee told the examiner that he watched Perry closely after he was knocked down in the first round and that he appeared to be in excellent condition.

Whispell at Muhlenberg

Spring Grid Tackle Fatal to Texas Prep

He walked to the sidelines, motioned to another player to take his place and collapsed. He died about 30 minutes later in a hospital.

Asst. Coach Charles Haynes said Brown suffered a head injury. The boy was not allowed to play football last fall because he had suffered an injury to his head in junior high school the year before.

Patterson Puts $50,000 Tag on Hurricane Bout

IBC Director Scoffs at Guarantee Figure Wanted for Fight

And that means any kind of a fight—not just with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano.

Patterson's manager Cus D'Amato, who has been feuding with the powerful International Boxing Club announced that he wanted $50,000 to match his man against Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson.

"Ha," countered Harry Markson, managing director of the IBC. "What promoter can guarantee even a Patterson (admittedly a hot drawing card) $50,000. That amounts to 30 per cent of a $150,000 net gate. Who is drawing that kind of money for a non-title fight in these days of television?"

D'Amato, if he is serious about leading Patterson to a title bout with Marciano, is getting himself more and more entangled on the ropes.

Harrington Stops Chaves

IOC Confirms

Squaw Valley Site for '60

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Squaw Valley will be the site of the 1960 Olympic Winter Games unless something unexpected happens.

• • •

This is the gist of a statement today by Avery Brundage, American International Olympic Committee president after inspecting this Austrian mountain town's winter sport installations.

• • •

Brundage was accompanied by other IOC officials.

Brundage told reporters Innsbruck can get the games only if Squaw Valley, Calif., misses the IOC deadline for submitting financial and preparatory guarantees for the games.

• • •

He added that representatives of the State of California already have informally given these guarantees at Cortina. He said the only thing left now is a receipt by the IOC of these guarantees by April 1956-the IOC deadline.

Brundage advised Innsbruck however, to submit an application for the 1964 Winter Games. He said the application must be filed before 1959.

John Kirk fired 32 points through the hoop to lead Cranbrook to 75-50 victory over Patterson Collegiate of Windsor on the Crane court last night.

• • •

This total was two short of the school record and the win gave the Cranes a 4-5 mark for the season.

Herb Stanton and Owen Fett followed with 15 and 14 points respectively.

Two-Year-Olds in Annual Test at Florida Oval

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Two-year-old thoroughbreds foaled in Florida have their annual outing at Hialeah Park today and King Hairan is a 6-5 choice to win the 3-furlong dash.

• • •

If all 16 go to post, the race will have a gross value of $20,725 with $15,150 going to the winner.

• • •

King Hairan, judged the "best in show" at the Florida thoroughbred breeders' affair last month, was by Dickey Stables and is a son of King's Stride-Lady Hairan.

Australian Horse Pointed to as Threat in Widener

MIAMI (AP)—Those who are shopping around for a horse to beat Nashua in the Widener Handicap a week from Saturday are tipped herewith that they might do much worse than take a flyer on a strapping Australian visitor named Prince Morvi, who will carry only 118 pounds in the $100,000-added event, or nine fewer than Nashua, counting Eddie Arcaro.

• • •

It quite probably is a terrible tip, but it's the one culled from a number of sources when we asked if the golden horse might just possibly run into some unexpected opposition in his 1956 debut as a 4-year-old. Actually, it is a bit difficult to make out a case for the big animal from Down Under, a full-grown 6-year-old, but they say you'll never get anywhere around a race track unless you're willing to listen once in a while.

Prince Morvi was flown to this country last November after he had won several of his homeland's most important stakes, including the Victorian Derby at Melbourne. The Aussies consider him a whopper of a horse, and so, evidently, did Frank Rand, the American shoe magnate who brought him over here on lease and is listed as his owner.

• • •

In his first American test on grass last Saturday, a mile and one-eighth event in which he was asked to go a distance for the first time since last September in Australia, the Prince was beaten by three-quarters of a length by Lough Ree after being shut off in a big way at least once. His rider, Pete Anderson, was burned up and insisted he had been aboard much the best horse.

Spartan backfield coach Sonny Grandelius will appear in the Pontiac area twice on a banquet tour. Tonight he will be the principal speaker at Avondale and next Monday he and Lou Creekmur will be guest speakers at St. Benedict's athletic banquet.

Royal Oak Municipal Judge Fletcher L. Renton reports a 29 hand of cribbage. Did it on the jack of spades with the five turning up. He has been playing 30 years, having played about 10,000 games, but never saw a perfect hand before. He was playing with Burton Rodger, Detroit bank manager. Judge Renton said he thought of the possibility of a 29 before making the cut and he couldn't believe his eyes when he saw it. His opponent made 27 with the hand.

Record fish, for individual anglers, are becoming rather common in the Pontiac area. For instance, A. P. Jones, 4980 Sherbourne Drive, Elizabeth Lake, reported last of the week that he had taken a 12-inch yellow perch, "my biggest perch." A minnow on a handline did the trick through Elizabeth Lake's ice.

Biggest pike ever taken from Middle Straits Lake by Arnold Richardson, or his family, was the 36-inch-long, 11-pounder the 28-year old fisherman reported that he speared a few days ago. The family lives at 3538 South Union Lake road, Walled Lake.

Aragon Breaks With Pilot, Wins Over Tiscareno

The end for both came last night at the Legion Stadium. For Roche it was the finish of a relationship with the golden boy that stretched back some seven years.

* * *

* * *

Although Roche received the one-third manager's share of the Los Angeles fighter's purse, he did not appear in this corner. Art, never at a loss for words, gave himself the usual pre-fight pep talk while standing in the ring. Termination of the Aragon-Roche contract had been announced after the contracts for this fight were drawn.

Grill Five Tightens Grip on Lead With 41-38 Win

Griff's Grill stretched its National League lead to two full games last night with a 41-38 victory over the runner-up Independents in a city adult basketball game at Jefferson Junior High.

The Independents fought the Grill cagers to a 17-17 standoff at halftime, but a 13-point 3rd quarter by the loop leaders provided the eventual margin of triumph.

Ron Sandage and Steve Kebler each tallied 18 points and Dale Davis notched 17 for Louie's club, which gained its 2nd win in nine games.

The Police Association stayed atop the Class D American League standings with a 44-18 decision over the Lakesiders and the Boys' Club moved into 2nd spot on the strength of a 48-18 win over the Lakers in contests at Eastern.

In 'D' National division games the Hot Shots and Aces kept on the heels of the front-running Meteors. The Hot Shots walloped Central Christian, 47-20, and the Aces cut down Pulver Tire, 35-26.

Baldoni Meets Jones in Televised Bout

Baldoni, a 23-year-old former Marine from Wilkes-Barre, Pa., has won 29 of 36 bouts—19 of them by knockouts.

Match Play to Start in 38th Women's Meet

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Match play was on the program in the 38th annual Women's Championship of Palm Beach Golf Tournament today with Marge Burns of Greensboro, N.C., leading the field.

A 73 over the 6,008-yard Palm Beach Golf Club course yesterday gave Miss Burns the lead over 85 others. She had an even par for the first 15 holes but bogeyed the last three.

The top 64 players will compete in match play today, with 32 in the championship flight.

Ousted Cherberg Tells of Player Fund

SEATTLE (AP)—The University of Washington's football problems, described by investigating legislators as "badly bungled," get another review tonight by a board of regents worried by possibly damage to the school's academic and athletic reputation.

The regents called the meeting yesterday after John Cherberg, the coach who was fired last month after being rehired in December, told of a fund used for payments to football players.

* * *

Cherberg, testifying before a committee of legislators considering whether to call a full-blown investigation of the university's athletic policies, accused a number of persons of conspiring to get him.

These included R. C. Torrance, a Seattle printing company executive active in alumni affairs, and Jim Sutherland, backfield coach fired by Cherberg last fall and since hired as head coach by Washington State College.

Cherberg said "I was fired because Torrance was faced with having to give up this so-called fund that he operates."

* * *

The fund, Cherberg said, was used to pay for trips by football players, vacations for the players' wives, new cars and other purposes.

"Team morale," he said, "was hurt considerably because some boys were receiving money from the fund and some were not."

* * *

Last fall, he related, when some players backed him up in a revolt started by disgruntled team members, they were cut off from the fund checks.

H. P. Everest, vice president of the university and one of the men Cherberg holds responsible for his ouster, announced after the fund was discussed that the regents will meet tonight.

Road Isn't Long—as Fate Points

By GRANTLAND RICE

There's always one answer to sob or to song—
The road isn't long;
Tomorrow—tomorrow—tomorrow—and then
The sunset is over in one flaming thrust;
The deep twilight fades into darkness again
Where the hurt and the heartache find covering dust;
And the dreams that we knew
Are gray ghosts that gather where darkness is deep,
To haunt us no more all the far ages through,
As we find the last solace of silence and sleep.
The fogs and the mists shroud the sigh and the song,
But the road isn't long.

The breaks may be right or the breaks may be wrong—
But the road isn't long;
The sunrise is shining a moment or two—
The storm flames are flashing where lightning rides high—
We fall and we rise till the finish is due
By the bank of the river where Charon floats by;
For all it's a fight—
The tears blend with laughter—and weakness with might—
Where gray Fate is pointing the way we must go—
The pace may be set by the swift and the strong—

Florida Tennis Meet Continues After Rhubarb

The rhubarb followed a match which David Harum of the University of Miami team lost to Peter Scholl of Duisburg, Germany, 6-4, 6-4.

The Pirates in 1902 won the National league pennant by 27½ games under the management of Fred Clarke.

Only five teams have batted .300 or better in World Series competition.

Clarkston meets the Drug quintet in a showdown battle next Monday night in the 7:15 opener. The Merchants face J & A at 8:30.

Glynn Retires From Cage Game After 15 Years

For more than 15 years city league basketball fans have watched J.H.P. (Pat) Glynn in ebullient action as coach of Class A clubs. Now, Pat has retired from the nerve-testing job of handling such teams. This winter is the first Pat has not been around.

Pat handled three teams in those years. First it was the Moose, then the Kaycees and finally (for 8 years) Shaw's Jewelers. Many fine players have passed in and out of this cage picture, as members of Pat's teams.

Pat's teams won seven championships here, were runnersup in other city and state tourneys.

SCL Race Goes Down to Finish

Eaglets Create 4-Way Stymie for Loop Lead by Trouncing Dales

Orchard Lake St. Mary easily disposed of Ferndale St. James last night in a Suburban Catholic League basketball game at Orchard Lake to move into a 4-way tie for 1st place and bring the title race down to the wire.

Fr. John Rakoczy's Eaglets whipped the Dales, 56-38, thereby matching St. Michael, Highland Park St. Benedict, and Royal Oak St. Mary with a 7-2 record. Each team has one league game remaining.

St. James played deliberate basketball in the 1st half in an attempt to slow down the Eaglets, but still trailed at halftime, 20-14. The Eaglets started to roll in the last two quarters and the issue was never in doubt.

Competing in foil will be the men's teams of Bob McDonald-Jim Elmore and Dick Byers-Wally Gannon and the woman's tandem of Barbara Hagerman and Mary Saghy.

Gannon and Eldon Gardner, fencing instructor at the PHS classes, will demonstrate with the saber. Gardner will describe the fine points of the fencing art.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

STRAIGHT OR HOOK? — An Ohioan writes that he dropped 20 points off his average since his bowling has been reduced from three leagues to one a week. "I've lost control of my hook," he says. "Shall I change to a straight ball?"

Definitely change to the straight ball, and I'm sure that even though strikes may show up less frequently, better spare shooting will add measurably to your average. The hook ball, calling for meticulous control, is for the bowler who is able to get in not less than 20 games a week, in league or practice.

In reverting to the straight ball, with the simple grip that points

the thumb straight forward at the pins from start to finish of the swing, as sketch shows, I suggest you concentrate on two things: Slow down your footwork to coordinate better the swing with the stride, and follow-through with as much reach as possible for accuracy.

Remember also to face the spare pins squarely for a direct hit. In shooting the No. 7 pin, for instance, turn your body toward it, angling from the far right side of the alley and do the opposite, from the left side of alley-center, in knocking down the No. 10. Most important: A reaching follow-through!

Waterford Trims Avondale, 71-53

By BILL CORNWELL

Waterford's basketball team made certain Tuesday night that last-second heroics were not necessary to dispose of Avondale.

Such was not the case last night. Waterford chalked up a dozen points on the scoreboard before the Jackets could tally a counter and the Skippers raced into a 35-24 lead at halftime.

* * *

Don Beedle's cagers meshed 23 points in the 3rd quarter to widen the gap and three times during the 4th period they were in front by 20 points.

The game was marred by 47 personal fouls, 26 against the aggressive Skippers. The winners were accurate from the charity stripe, dumping in 23 out of 34, while the Jackets were making 21 in 40 attempts.

Chuck Gillis pumped in 23 points to spark the Waterford attack. Teammates Gary Meeker and Cecil Dumbrigue scored 16 points apiece in giving impressive performances for the Skippers.

As usual Jerry Paul led the Yellow Jackets. The sharp-shooting forward meshed six baskets and 12 free tosses for 24 points. Lynn Wright picked up 14.

It was Waterford's 7th win in 11 games. The setback dropped Avondale below the .500 mark with a 5-6 record.

NORTH BRANCH DROPS FIRST

Lapeer and Imlay City came through with victories as expected, but North Branch took it on the chin for the 1st time this season.

Lakeville's rangy quintet turned the trick on North Branch, upsetting the Broncos on their own court, 61-57. The Broncos had won 11 straight.

* * *

It was a case of 'turn about fair play," since North Branch had handed Lakeville its 1st loss, 55-52, in an earlier meeting at Columbiaville.

Lapeer built up a formidable 39-16 halftime margin and coasted to a 74-64 victory over Caro. Tom Wilson collected 25 points to lead the Panthers to their 11th triumph in 12 starts. Turner bucketed 35 points for visiting Caro to take scoring honors.

* * *

Larry Dorow tallied 20 points as Imlay City trimmed invading Goodrich, 66-44, for its 11th win in 13 tries. Lynn Cummings scored 15 for Goodrich.

Ortonville fought off a last quarter surge by Oxford for a narrow 68-66 verdict at Ortonville. Bob Hutchings headed Ortonville's attack with 16 points while Thomas topped the Wildcats with a 24-point effort.

League-leading Port Huron defeated hapless Hazel Park in an EML tilt at Port Huron, 56-49, and Mt. Clemens suffered a 72-49 shellacking in its non-loop invasion of Hamtramck.

HURONS KEEP EML LEAD

East Detroit downed Ferndale, 42-36, in an Eastern Michigan League basketball game Tuesday night at Ferndale.

The Shamrocks' victory in the tight defensive struggle was their 4th in seven games and broke a tie for 3rd place between the two schools.

Ron Emerick led East Detroit with 17 points while Jerry Fry was tops for the Railsplitters with 12.

In Bi-County League action Don Sharpe poured in 40 points to lead Lake Shore's 95-47 conquest of South Lake. Elmer O'Banion notched 22 points as Center Line trounced Eastland, 66-44, and Warren smothered Lakeview, 81-36.

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Bill Pfluger scored 72 points to lead Eden to a 97-55 victory over Paint Rock last night.

Pfluger hit 32 field goals for approximately 85 per cent of his shots. He hit 8 of 9 free throws.

Pfluger has played in 18 games this season getting 655 points for better than 36 points per game despite the fact that he has been bothered with two bad knees and a sprained ankle most of the season.

Wolverine Sextet Takes 6-3 Licking

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan, smarting under its worst Inter-Collegiat Hockey League beating of the season, looks for revenge tonight in a battle with league-leading Coloado College.

The Tigers roared to a 6-3 victory over the Wolverines last night in the 1st of their two-game set.

Colorado's Clare Smith opened the scoring at 29 seconds of the 1st period and the Tigers worked to a 6-1 lead early in the 3rd stanza before Michigan rallied for two more goals.

Smith and Don Herfack both tallied twice for Coloado.

Southfield Romps Bentley

Bentley, Suburban Six leader, fell under a whopping 41-21 deficit at intermission and never could catch up despite a blazing finish. It was the 3rd loss in 13 games for the Livonia cagers.

Diminutive Ken Moser sparked the Jays with 12 field goals and six free throws for 30 points. The victory was Southfield's 9th in 13 starts. Ron English and Bob Alex each scored 19 to top Bentley.

Farmington of the I-L was crushed by Wayne, 60-37, in a non-league tussle at Wayne. Don Nichols tallied 15 points for Farmington, which dropped its 7th decision in 13 games. Ken Nicola paced the winners with 16 points.

A tall Mount Clemens St. Mary quintet spanked Roseville of the Oakland B in an out-of-league scrap at Roseville, 72-57. St. Mary's Frank Schwark and Roseville's Len Martyniak engaged in a scoring duel with Schwark winning, 28 to 26.

Boardman Wins Upset Decision

Bud Smith, Lightweight King, Angered by Loss to 'Unknown'

* * *

"Just say I'm plenty peeved, that's all," Smith said after dropping a divided decision to 19-year-old Larry Boadman of Marlborough, Conn., in a non-title 10-rounder last night at the Boston Garden.

* * *

"I think I won the fight easily and all I want to think about now is my fight here with Tony De Marco next month." he added. "I still would like to go up into the welterweight class."

Smith, who won the lightweight crown from Jimmy Carter last June in Boston, floored Boardman for compulsory eight counts in both the first and ninth rounds, but the young Connecticut battler came back swinging both times to earn the votes of two officials.

* * *

Referee Joe Zapustas and Judge Jim Shaughnessy voted for Boardman, 94-93 and 95-94, respectively. Judge Joe Heirty scored it 98-95. The Associated Press also had the champion in front, 96-94.

Facts About the Outdoors

Conservation Department geologists note that peat forms at the rate of about one foot in 300 years. The maximum thickness of peat deposits measured in the state is 60 feet, indicating a period of 18,000 years of accumulation.

Michigan's deepest inland body of water is Torch Lake in Antrim, Charlevoix and Kalkaska counties. Maximum depth of the lake is 285 feet. Superior is the deepest of the Great Lakes, with soundings of more than 1300 feet recorded.

* * *

More than 200,000 trout fishermen test their skill each year in Michigan. Approximately half of the state's 36,000 miles of streams are trout waters.

* * *

Porcupine Mountains state park, in Gogebic and Ontonagon counties, is one of the largest state parks in the United States. Its 42,000 acres feature the state's tallest mountains, virgin hardwood forests, scenic Lake of the Clouds and winter sports.

* * *

* * *

Federal taxes on fishing tackle are turned over to individual states under the Dingell-Johnson act to provide better sports fishing. Michigan received $240,000 under the program in 1955, third largest among the states.

Upstate Man Aids Fish Count

LANSING—Niquolae A. Johnson of Kawkawlin, has rejoined the staff of the Institute for Fisheries Research assigned to creel census on Pontiac Lake, Oakland County and Whitmore Lake, Washtenaw County, according to Conservation Department Director Gerald E. Eddy.

Johnson is a veteran of World War II, having served with the U. S. Army Signal Corps. He attended Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant.

Angler Can't Figure Odds for Taking State's Sturgeon

By JACK PATTERSON

Probably because of a picture of a 163 pound sturgeon, published recently, we've received quite a few queries lately as to whether the odds are tipped sufficiently in the fisherman's favor to make pursuit of these fish worthwhile. Well, who knows? Chances of taking a fish over 100 pounds in any given day, or weekend, or even in a season, may be very slight.

On the other hand, the 1st hour on the ice might see the fisherman tangled up with a monster. So how can you compute odds? Like spearing pike, or hunting deer, there can be no guarantee of success.

* * *

But armed with the knowledge that he is in a spot where sturgeon are likely to pass by, and knowing that the fish can be, and are, speared, the fisherman is happy because the possibility of success exists. That's about all he asks.

If his luck is running good and a fish comes within range and he doesn't foul up his end of the job, he's got himself a fish.

If not, he's not hurting particularly, except that if he goofs with the spear when a big fish is on target, he'll hate himself for days. So forget about odds and if a crack at Michigan's biggest fish sounds attractive, go to it.

PATTERSON

Probably the best sturgeon lakes that are easily accessible are Burt, Mullet and Black. Perhaps because we've fished it more, we might give Black lake a little edge, particularly near where the Black river runs out. Maybe not the best place for a really big one, but who's going to kick about any legal (42 inch) sturgeon? Particularly, reduced to steaks and grilled with almond butter. The remainder of February is open for sturgeon on inland lakes.

Perch fishing comes and goes on Saginaw Bay but at most any time is good enough to well repay the patient fisherman for any trouble he's been put to. Biggest play, but not necessarily the best fishing, is on weekends of course, but even though there are many fishermen, it's a pretty big bay and the perch aren't too choosy about where they hang out, most of the time.

Locally Pine, Upper and Middle Straits are producing fair to good bluegill fishing with pike coming along at a pretty good clip in both Upper Stratis and Pine. Elizabeth lake is turning out some very good bluegills.

* * *

It's still Union lake for ciscoes and some rather nice perch are coming from Square lake. Orchard lake has some very good perch but they are not always easy to come by. A spot that will be excellent for several days will suddenly cool off and may not recover for the rest of the season. Why this should be we don't know.

* * *

The Silver lake chain has been producing some fair to very good bluegill fishing, although how it continues to do so with the number of fishermen it attracts is a mystery.

New Personnel Officer Named to Region Post

Fred Jacobson Takes U. S. Wildlife Place at Minneapolis

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Appointment of Fred Jacobson as personnel officer for U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Region 3, was announced Tuesday by Daniel Janzen, Region 3 director.

Jacobson, who has been with the service for six years, has been game management agent in Fremont, Ohio, since 1952. Earlier he held a similar post in Marshall, Mich., after a period of service with the Wisconsin Conservation Department.

He will report here about Feb. 10. In his new post he will have charge of the federal personnel management program covering more than 400 fish and wildlife employes in Region 3.

The region covers Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Missouri.

A successor to Jacobson in Ohio is expected to be named this week.

Firemen Hold 2nd Fox Hunt This Weekend

ROCHESTER—Second fox hunt of the season, sponsored by Rochester Fire Department, will be held Sunday, Feb. 12. The hunt will be held on an 800 acre site in this vicinity.

Hunters will meet at the American Legion Hall, West Fifth at 9 a.m. and be taken to the acreage by bus.

Following the hunt a dinner will be served in the Legion dining room. Proceeds from dinner tickets will be used for the department's charities.

FARM FORESTS — Hundreds of Michigan farmers are taking part each year in a program to improve timber management on small land holdings which make up about 28 per cent of the state's forest land. Conservation Department foresters assist farmers and other landowners by recommending management practices for continuous forest production.

Expert Claims Phychology Can Fool Fish

UM Man Tells How to Make Use of Unusual Kinds of Bait

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Those fish are wily devils, but a little bit of fish psychology and you can fool them. That's the word from a University of Michigan fisheries expert.

Ice fishermen have become concerned, says Prof. Karl F. Lagler, with the cost of bait. He has a couple of ways to help them out of their predicament.

Use natural bait at first, he says. That'll get them coming to your ice hole. Then use artificial bait, or even a piece of the first fish you caught. They're not choosy, just hungry.

No sense in irritating the wife by putting your bait in the refrigerator either, Prof. Lagler says. All it really needs to keep between fishing trips is to be kept in the cellar at about 60 degrees.

And when you take your can of bait out on the trip, be sure to keep it insulated so it won't freeze. Store up bait, Lagler says, in the summer. Some he suggests are corn borers "mousies," a rat-tail maggot or some fly lavae, are good.

Another thing, he says, keep moving. "In winter even more than summer, it doesn't pay to be a one-spot fisherman. Fish move about even less when its cold," the professor says.

Fishing Strictures Eased on St. Clair

LANSING (AP)—The State Conservation Department today issued an emergency order lifting fishing restrictions on large areas of Lake St. Clair.

The department said it took the action to prevent a "fish kill" threatened by the build-up of ice on the St. Clair River.

The order permits fishermen to take any species between the north and south channels, including Goose Bay Muscamoot Bay but not including the channels themselves.

Winter Gives Outdoor 'Bugs' Many Fine Shots

By MORT NEFF

Never in the history of amateur photography has there been as much activity as now exists among "shutter bugs" the whole world over. Both still and movie cameras are clicking merrily through the winter months in an effort to capture the world of fun outdoors, with all of the artistry of nature at her best to help them!

Snow laden trees, the cream-puff effect of drifted snow along a woodland stream, frost-covered trees, the glittering results of an ice storm — a whole world of contrasty light and shadow encourage photographic composition at this season of the year.

NEFF

And for action there's nothing to beat the confident skiier skimming down a long "schuss," or the graceful gyration of a figure skater caught in mid-air. Ice fishermen can tell a story on film, too.

If your photography lies mainly in the field of black and white you must have discovered the sensational new Tri-X film, and its astounding light sensitivity.

An ordinary lens will serve this film, stretching the photographic day into many extra hours, giving superb detail in deep shadow when all other films are sheer disappointment.

In our own motion picture work for television, Tri-X has been the answer to a long awaited prayer. Hunting scenes in deep, cedar-covered swamp, action inside a fishing shanty, indoor scenes with normal room lighting all come to life on movie film with Tri-X.

Your reflex camera, or your 35 mm miniature can use this film to great advantage, too. If you're technically minded the emulsion speed is between 200 and 300 Weston — and if you want to make the most of the film be sure to use the light meter, and obey it to the dot!

Naturally this means you can "stop down" your lens to a higher number on you "f" stop scale, and this is very beneficial to picture quality. Your depth of focus will greatly increase, and the entire composition will be in sharp focus throughout.

The first thoroughbred meeting at Laurel in Maryland was opened on Oct. 2, 1911.

Bonn Financial Aid to Allied Troops to End

BONN, Germany (AP) — The West German government will refuse to pay any more toward support of Western troops in Germany after next May, a Finance Ministry spokesman announced.

He said the Western Big Three had requested negotiation with West Germany but Finance Minister Fritz Schaeffer will not agree to further payments after the present arrangement ceases May 5.

Didn't Get Very Far

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Johnny Becker, 12, of Montgomery, set out for California with 8 cents in his pocket. He didn't quite make it. The boy had only 3 cents left—having bought a candy bar en route—when an unidentified motorist notified Columbus police of his intentions. He was returned to his parents.

Caracas is said to be the fastest-growing city in the world. Its population has grown from 694,000 in 1950 to a million last October.

Losses Evident in Grain Market

CHICAGO (AP) — A nervous and lower market developed in grains on the Board of Trade today, losses running to more than a cent in some deliveries.

* * *

There wasn't much bullish news to inspire buying. Even soybean oil, which has been smacking out new seasonal highs almost daily for the past week, succumbed to mild selling pressure. That depressed soybeans.

The market received support on the way down from buying orders placed under the previous session's close. This made for a fairly active trade.

Mollet Peace Talks Confined to Colonists

* * *

Mollet's contacts in his two-day-old peace mission were confined largely to the local French. The few Moslems he has met have been men without much influence. Several thousand French-appointed Moslem officials have resigned their posts and others have taken to the hills.

* * *

* * *

Mollet promised last night he would name a new minister for Algeria soon in place of 79-year-old Gen. Georges Catroux. The Premier allowed Catroux to withdraw without ever coming to Algiers after French settlers rioted Monday in protest.

Coast-to-Coast Call Saves Actress' Life

NEW YORK (AP)—A transcontinental telephone call to police here early today — saying that an apparently hysterical woman had called Beverly Hills — sent officers to the apartment of a young brunette who had taken sleeping pills.

* * *

The New York Daily News said the call from Beverly Hills was made by producer Fred Finkelhoffe, former husband of singer Ella Logan.

The attractive brunette, Cynthia Sargent, 23, of 3 E. 63rd St., Manhattan, was identified by the News as a Broadway actress, Mrs. Cynthia Douglas Sargent, divorced from television writer Herbert Sargent.

* * *

The woman, quoted by police as saying she had taken two sleeping pills and had had "a couple of drinks," was taken to a hospital. Doctors applied what they described as a "partial stomach pump."

Episcopal Churches to Convene Monday

A short talk will be given the parish and mission Women's Auxiliaries by Enwin Pugh of Wales. His topic will be "Young Girls in the Episcopal Church."

At the 12:15 luncheon, Mrs. Dorothy Dengler will conduct a discussion on "Recovery of Family Life Through Maturity of Women." Children will be cared for in the nursery at no charge.

Reservations must be in to Mrs. Homer Harbage, 591 Lenox St., FE 4-8112 by Thursday.

Hospital Medicine, Food Tax Squabble Cleared

LANSING (AP)—The state revenue commissioner said today the current controversy over sales tax on hospital food and medicine was caused by a "misunderstanding."

Commissioner Louis M. Nims said the State Revenue Department had no intention of taxing meals and medicine furnished to patients.

He said the department will, however, insist that hospitals pay sales tax on medicine furnished outpatients from the hospital pharmacy.

Nims said the department had received complaints from druggists that some hospitals did not charge sales tax on prescriptions to outpatients, while druggists themselves do.

Unemployment in North Ireland Tops in Isles

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—The man in the muffler and the man in the cap stand idly on the corner. They've been there two hours now—just as they have stood there every day for a year and more. They are two of Northern Ireland's 28,000 unemployed.

That figure is 8 per cent of the working population — eight times the unemployment rate in the rest of the United Kingdom.

In Londonderry, with 50,000 population, people talk of old men who have never had a job except in the two world wars. Belfast, despite its booming shipyards, has nearly 11,000 out of work. In the villages even farm workers are idle.

The main reason is the decline of linen. Northern Ireland's biggest industry next to shipbuilding. Irish linen has lost ground to new textiles and to competition from Czechoslovakia and Japan. This decline in turn has hit the farms which grew the flax.

Britain's wartime minister of production—Oliver Lyttelton, now Lord Chandos—heads a development council trying to bring new industry to these six counties. Soon Chandos will go to the United States to tell American businessmen that Ulster is a fine field for development.

Claim Cows Captured

AMMAN, Jordan (INS) — Jordan said today that a party of Israeli infiltrated the Arab state Monday night south of Lake Tiberias (the Sea of Galilee) and captured 30 cows.

Stock Market Drifts Aimlessly

* * *

Prices became thoroughly mixed after an opening which was mostly lower. There was some improvement after the first hour but then prices backed away into general irregularity.

* * *

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 10 cents at noon to $177 with the industrials advancing 40 cents, the rails down 20 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Volume for the day was estimated at close to 2,000,000 shares compared with 2,060,000 yesterday.

* * *

Steels were down as a group but chemicals were chiefly ahead.

Few standouts appeared in the market. Texas & Pacific Railway held on to a two-point gain. American Distilling was off around 2 following news of a 100 per cent stock dividend. The stock has been strong recently, possibly in anticipation of the actual announcement.

Police said Humphrey slashed his wife Helen, 48, with a paring knife Friday night at Pontiac State Hospital. A hospital employe, she has lived on the grounds since separating from her husband two months ago.

Injuries Hospitalize Township Sledder, 12

A 12-year-old Waterford Township boy who was playing in the road with his sled yesterday evening was reported in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital this morning.

Hospital officials said James Luther Jr. suffered a fractured right leg when he and his sled were hit by a car driven by Eugene L. Berg, 31, also of Waterford Township. The accident happended on Merry road near Pontiac Lake road.

Berg told Waterford Township police he was driving south on Merry Road, and saw James when his car topped a hill in the road. James had been sledding down the other side of the hill.

Due to the ice, Berg was unable to stop, he said.

Burglary Counts Jail 2 Grand Rapids Men

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Two Grand Rapids men who police say have admitted 24 burglaries in western Michigan, waived municipal court examination yesterday on a charge of breaking and entering.

Earl Cool Jr., 25, and Richard D. Dean, 31, were bound over to circuit court under $2,000 bond each by Muncipal Judge John C. Loucks. They particularly were charged in the burglary of a local plumbing firm where $240 worth of merchandise was stolen.

Police said the pair also admitted burglaries in Grand Rapids, Marion, Lake View, Cutlerville, Remus and Hershey.

The expedition, which scaled the peak on the Argentine-Chilean border reported it rises 23,573 feet above sea level. It had previously been listed at 22,539.

Pontiac City Affairs

Approve New Formula for Improvement Costs

As the result of action taken last night by the City Commission, all future public improvement projects within the city will be adjusted according to a newly adopted public improvement formula.

The formula will provide for uniformity of assessment and was necessitated because of increased operating costs. It becomes effective as of yesterday and will not affect jobs where engineer estimates have already been presented to the Commission.

The new schedule remains the same as last year's except for five exceptions, City Manager Walter K. Willman explained. Assessment per front foot for sanitary sewers will be increased from $2.50 to $3. Storm sewer assessments per square foot of area will jump from three cents to four cents.

Other changes will be: six cents per square foot of area for combined sewers (formerly five cents); curb and gutter and related work will be $2.50 per front foot ($2); while the assessment for grading and graveling, per front foot, will be boosted from $1.20 to $1.50.

Other business taken up on the lengthy 46-point agenda last night, included adoption of resolution authorizing the city attorney to prepare two deeds, one for the purchase of a parcel of land by Detroit Edison Co. and the other to liquidate an encumbrance caused by a 1922 deed.

The Commission also instructed the City Plan Commission to investigate whether lot 16 of assessor's plat 147 could be sold for commercial use, and accepted a resolution from the board approving the replatting of Green and Sarko No. 1 plat.

The commissioners also concurred with the planning commission's recommendations for street layout and suggested names for the Pontiac Knolls subdivision.

In other action, the commission heard the second reading and held a public hearing on rezoning to residential 3 lots 14 to 26 Pither's Addition and lots 35 to 37 of assessor's plat 27.

Upon the recommendation of Commissioner Floyd P. Miles, a report, second reading and public hearing was deferred for two weeks for rezoning to manufacturing 1 of lots 145 to 147 of the Dixie Highway subdivision.

The present three-man Board of Review was reelected to another term by the City Commission last night. The members are: W. G. Kehoe, Vernon K. Archer and James F. Spence.

Approved last night were engineer's estimates for 10 blacktopping projects within the city totaling $32,018.48. Public hearings will be held Feb. 14 on the paving jobs.

Beverly avenue from Baldwin to University; Blaine avenue from Oakland to Montcalm; Burt avenue from Montcalm to Hillside drive and Hillside from Burt to Summit street; Cornell avenue from Baldwin to University; Drexel avenue from Paddock to South boulevard; Elm street from Jessie to Sanford; Fourth avenue from Joslyn to Fuller; Gerdon Street from Oakland to Corwin; Going street from South boulevard to Prospect; and Hamilton and McNeil streets from Baldwin to Rundell.

The commissioners also declared public necessities for some 45 public improvement projects for sections of the city. A public hearing will be held at next week's City Commission meeting on the same jobs.

Reynolds Tobacco Co. reported today record net earnings of $54,267,837, or $5.05 per common share, in 1955 compared with $44,826,793, equal to $4.19 per share the previous year. Sales increased from $614,373,776 in 1954 to $666,425,772 last year. Board Chairman John C. Bronx Returns Dem to Seat in Congress

NEW YORK (AP)—A Bronx congressional seat remained Democratic today after a special election that gave James C. Healey a 3-1 victory over his two opponents.

Only a small portion of registered voters went to the polls, and registration had been light in the first place.

Healey, law secretary to Bronx Borough President James J. Lyons and a Democratic district leader for 12 years, will complete the unexpired term of Sidney J. Fine, who vacated the seat upon election to the State Supreme Court bench last November.

The Republican percentages have dropped from 24 in 1952 to 18 in 1954 and 13 in yesterday's election. The Liberal party, whose activities are limited to New York state, received the remaining percentages in each of the three years.

Dog Rescued After 5-Week Stay in Cistern

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP) — Lassie is back home, apparently none the worse after a 5-week stay at the bottom of a dry cistern 30 feet deep.

* * *

Buddy and Junior Gibbons reported their medium-sized mongrel, with collie characteristics, missing Jan. 1. Last Sunday, a worker discovered a deep cistern under a house next door to the Gibbons' residence and caught the gleam of two eyes. Firemen were called and rescued the emaciated dog.

* * *

AEC Accepts A-Power Bids

Seven Proposals Given as 2-4,000 Kilowatts Plant Operation

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Atomic Energy Commission announces it has received seven proposals to develop, design, construct and operate small capacity nuclear power plants.

* * *

An AEC spokesman said cost estimates will be made available after detailed analysis of the projects, which call for plant capacities ranging from 2,000 kilowatts to 40,000 kilowatts.

The proposals being studied were submitted by:

1. Chugach Electrical Association, Anchorage, Alaska, and Nuclear Development Corporation of America, 10,000 kilowatts.

2. Holyoke, Mass., 15,000 kilowatts.

3. Orlando, Fla., 25,000 to 40,000 kilowatts.

4. Piqua, Ohio, 12,500 kilowatts.

5. Rural Cooperative Power Association, Elk River, Minn., 22,000 kilowatts.

6. University of Florida, Gainesville, Fla., 2,000 kilowatts.

7. Wolverine Electric Cooperative, Hersey, Mich., 10,000 kilowatts.

* * *

The AEC said each proposal "will be evaluated to determine whether it constitutes an acceptable basis for negotiating a contract for a fixed amount of assistance."

Gas Advocates Hit by Staebler

State Dem Leader Calls for Election Defeat of Six Republicans

LANSING (AP) — The Democrats set out today to make political capital of six Republican votes from Michigan which helped send the Harris - Fulbright gas bill through Congress.

* * *

Democratic State Chairman Neil Staebler said his party will make a "major campaign issue" on the matter in an attempt to enlarge the state's Democratic minority in the national House of Representatives.

Staebler identified the six Michigan congressmen who voted for the bill as Reps. Clare E. Hoffman, Jesse P. Wolcott, Alvin M. Bentley, Ruth Thompson, Elford A. Cederberg and George A. Dondero.

"These six Republicans," said Staebler, "would rather make the oil and gas interests richer than protect the wage earner and housewife in their districts who use gas for heating or for cooking.

ON SLUSH FUND?

"We're going to tell every gas-using householder in these six districts that their Republican congressmen voted for a higher gas bill for them."

The controversial bill would remove federal control of gas pricing at the well. Sen. Francis Case (R-SD) said he was offered a $2,500 campaign contribution if he would vote for the bill.

Staebler said Case's statement "will naturally make the voters in these six Michigan districts wonder whether their congressman is on any similar slush fund list."

He said the bill passed the House in 1955 by exactly six votes.

* * *

"Had these six Republican congressmen from Michigan voted against it the bill would have been defeated," he said. "Every Michigan Democratic congressman voted against it."

Spinster Adopts Seven Shoshone Children

LEMONT, Pa. (AP)—A young and unmarried woman chiropractor, already the foster mother of two children orphaned nine years ago, heads for Idaho soon to collect seven little Indians whom she intends to adopt.

* * *

The whole happy brood will be turned loose in Dr. Imogene Barker's five-bedroom house which, she says, "we can fix up here and there to accommodate all nine children and a married couple now living with me."

"We all agree it will be a lot of fun," she said. "They need help, and I can give it to them. That's all there is to it.

MUST NAME THEM

"If there is one thing that troubles me, it is that the Indian children will all have to have their names changed from their tribal ones. I frankly admit it's going to be some task to find suitable names for these four girls and three boys."

Nine years ago Dr. Barker, 27, took on the job of rearing two children whose father died in a hospital where she had been training. The children, both boys, are now 11 and 13.

* * *

The Indian children, who are of the Shoshone tribe, are from 1 to 11 years old and live on a reservation at Fort Hall, Idaho. Dr. Barker said she became interested in them when she heard a talk by a missionary at a church in nearby State College in this central Pennsylvania region.

HAVEN'T THE NERVE

She promptly agreed to adopt two children in a family whose difficulties were described as acute. Later, however, she found out there were seven children. Unhesitatingly, she consented to take them all.

"So far," she said, "I haven't told my parents about adopting all seven. I haven't the nerve. But I'm sure they'll be glad to hear the news anyway."

Her parents live in White Plains, Md., where Dr. Barker was born. Dr. Barker said she expects to go to Fort Hall next month.

She will bring the children home in a stationwagon which a car dealer in this town of about 1,000 population supplied at special bargain terms. Other business and professional men in Lemont also have offered to lend a hand with donations of money, clothing, food and household goods.

THEY NEED HELP

"They need help, and I can give it to them. They need religious and other training; I can give it to them. Their people need religious training and I intend to send the children to Bible schools that they might return someday and give that training to their people."

5 Clubs Endorse Parking Project

Service Groups Favor $600,000 Proposal for More Spaces

Five Pontiac service clubs that have been in existence in the city for a total of 141 years, representing 500 men, today joined forces with 24 other organizations in supporting the city's need for additional municipal parking.

The "Committee For Five Cent Parking" received signed resolutions from Kiwanis, signed by secretary William Coulacos; Rotary Club, signed by James Slattery, secretary; Lions, by president Harry F. Vernon; Exchange Club, signed by president Leslie R. Ware; and Optimists, signed by president Dave R. Ewalt.

All very active in civic affairs to benefit the city, Optimist's major program centers around parks improvement in providing Pontiac children with playground facilities.

Exchange works closely with the Salvation Army program, Lions aid blind people in and around Pontiac by sponsoring dances and classes in Braille, while Rotary is known for their Junior Achievement program plus their learn-to-swim project.

Kiwanis assists youthful organizations of the United Fund and works with the Boys Club, Girl and Boy Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and Camp Mahn-Go-To-See activities.

C. of C. Stresses Good of Economic Education

EAST LANSING (AP) — Economic education is a new and growing field of importance in chamber of commerce work, a chamber of commerce officials workshop was told yesterday.

Speaker at the workshop was Walter F. Carey, Flint businessman and chairman of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce Transportation and Communications Committee.

"An increasing number of local chambers are devoting a major part of their time to economic education," Carey said.

"This puts to work the best leadership in the community to find new ways to reach more and more people with facts about our economic system."

Clerk Faces Charges

WHITE CLOUD (AP) — Sheridan Township Clerk Jake Reimink will undergo Justice Court hearing on charges of vote fraud Feb. 17. Reimink, who previously waived the hearing, asked and was granted the justice hearing by Circuit Judge Earl C. Pugsley. Reimink is accused of filing and certifying petitons for seven township officers after the deadline in 1955.

Ludington OKs Raises

LUDINGTON (AP) — Ludington's city commission has voted to increase the salaries of the city clerk and city treasurer $400 to $4,500 a year effective May 1.

Lansing Hikes Price

LANSING (AP) — The price of garbage has gone up in Lansing.

The city council voted to up garbage can rental from $4 to $6 and the city fathers still say they are losing $100,000 a year on collections.

Negroes at North Carolina Discover Little Prejudice

CHAPEL HILL, N.C. (AP) — Three Negro undergraduates have been absorbed in the 6,500-member student body at the University of North Carolina—with no more violent campus reaction than raised eyebrows.

Not even startled expressions follow Leroy and Ralph Frazier and their friend John Lewis Brandon across the campus of this 161-year-old traditionally white Southern university.

The quiet end to segregation was thrown into sharp relief this week by turmoil at the University of Alabama, where rioting students greeted the admission of a Negro coed.

The brothers live within a couple of blocks of North Carolina College in Durham, a state-supported institution for Negroes. Brandon, 18, also lives within easy distance.

WANTED BEST

They trained their sights on the University in Chapel Hill, some 12 miles distant.

L. B. Frazier Sr. explained why he wanted his sons to go to the white university, "I wanted them to have the best education the state had to offer."

In an appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court in this same case, Atty. Gen. William B. Rodman has asked the court to reverse as erroneous its historic decisions that school segregation is unconstitutional.

NO DECISION

While the legal fight remained unsettled, Brandon and the Frazier brothers went through the usual hectic introduction to college for freshmen.

COLLEGE OUTLOOK

The university administration has taken this view. "We treat them like any other students," said Dean of Students Fred Weaver. "There is no special treatment for them and no special requirements."

Negroes have been admitted to the graduate level at the university since court action forced open the doors in 1951, a fact which may have smoothed the way for the undergraduates.

A degree of segregation is still practiced by the university administration in housing. On-campus Negro students share a four-room section on the third floor of Steel dormitory, overlooking the central campus.

Dean Weaver said the presence of Negroes apparently has caused no student problems. None have been brought to his attention.

IN SELLING USED CARS—

WHY DO YOU SAY
"YOUR USED CARS ARE BETTER?"

We believe that our Used Cars are better (notice: we don't say best), because we have confidence in the methods we use to make them better. We have confidence in our policy of disposing of all low quality cars through wholesale outlets only. Our low grade cars are never offered for sale locally. We have confidence in our pricing policies which bring you top quality cars at fair prices. There may be lower priced cars, but we know that if other prices are lower than ours the cars must be of a lower quality. We say that our cars are better because we do everything in our power to make them better, and we know that with few exceptions, we do offer the better Used Car for You.

Indictment for Theft to Lose Teacher Job

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Board of Education last night suspended grade school teacher Lorraine Staker and said it intends to dismiss her.

* * *

Her attorney Emmett Hagerty said he would fight the board's edict in Superior Court.

Miss Staker's record as a teacher since 1945 has been called exemplary by school administrators.

* * *

The 45-year-old teacher was among five persons charged with receiving stolen goods. All said they were innocent.

Perry Defeats Gleason Again

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — Geroge Gobel expects a $2,000,000 takehome in '56, including a big raise from NBC when his contract is up for renewal in a few months . . .

Perry Como's TV star rose even higher than ever Saturday night . . .

Perry's first half-hour beat "Stage Show" 40.6 to 12.5. The second 30 minutes put Perry eight points atop "The Honeymooners," 32.2 to 24.2, in the Trendex count . . .

Como leaped to fourth on the new ARB rating; Ed Sullivan Show, $64,000 and Peter Pan were just ahead; Person-to-Person, Hit Parade, Climax, Lux Theater, Gobel and Phil Silvers marched merrily just behind . . .

"Climax" sneaked past "Dragnet" again after a temporary resurgence of popularity when Jack Webb switched from 9 p.m. to 8:30 to start (and try to get) even with the popular drama series.

PLENTY OF MONEY

'Lillian Gish, who plays Mrs. Lincoln in "The Day Lincoln Was Shot" Saturday on Ford Star Jubilee, doesn't have to act for her supper—Lillian and sister Dorothy's mother took half their salaries when they were making big money to buy Hollywood real estate . . .

The Gish girls now own acres of valuable business properties in and around Beverly Hills, rented out on super-safe 99-year leases for a luxurious security . . .

We never argue with success, only try to understand it, so Lawrence Welk's fantastic Saturday night audiences on ABC do not make us irritated in the least simply because the Welk shows are not our special dish of TV . . .

Best we can see is that the people of the show are pleasant, inoffensive, provide a sweetly rudimentary brand of lively dance music — and perhaps the word "dance" is the key . . .

NBC won't take the customary easy summer. Nine color spectaculars will be aired to keep whatever viewers remain . . . Biggest revelation in that department was last summer's fantastic audiences rolled up by the new $64,000 Question."

MISER LEGEND

We're sure she doesn't need the money, so maybe Mary Livingston Benny is doing those oil commercials to further the Jack Benny-miser legendry . . .

The "Robin Hood" theme song may be this year's "Davy Crockett." Six versions have been waxed; latest, Frankie Laine's . . .

When Imogene Coca and Max Liebman reunite Feb. 26 for an NBC spectacular, we don't know who'll need the other more.

Philco made up its corporate mind even before Ike—bought ABC radio-TV coverage of both the national conventions and election night already . . .

NBC's "Weekday" hired a head shrinker to gab about criminology. He's Dr. Douglas Kellet of the University of California, and he starts radio couching tomorrow during the "College at Home" segment . . .

Bob Considine Says:

Will Ike Resign and Hand Reins to Nixon?

NEW YORK (INS) — If President Eisenhower's doctors inform him that his heart cannot stand another term in the White House, he might decide to retire immediately in favor of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

* * *

The President's doctors, headed by heart specialist Paul Dudley White, are expected to give Eisenhower definite word on his probable future health some time before the end of this month, perhaps early next week.

If the word is optimistic, many feel the President will accept the Republican convention's draft. If not, a close associate suggests, he may give serious thought to transferring his heavy duties and responsibilities to the 43-year-old Nixon.

* * *

Such a move would be without precedent in the history of the nation. But it was portrayed today as one of the major alternatives which the President will be forced to consider in the interests of his country, his party and his health.

IN THE CONSTITUTION

The Constitution provides that "in case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the vice president . . ."

* * *

If Eisenhower resigned he would inform Secretary of State John Foster Dulles. Dulles, in turn, would be required to relay the information to Sen. Walter George of Georgia, president pro tem of the Senate, and House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas.

Chief Justice Earl Warren also would be informed, completing the spread of the word to all three branches of the government.

Both houses of Congress would then produce a joint resolution "taking cognizance" of the President's forced retirement. Upon adoption of the resolution, Nixon would be sworn in as President.

* * *

Eisenhower repeatedly has shown his respect for the young Californian who has become the favorite target of Democratic thrusts. Even before the heart attack, Nixon was prforming tasks never before entrusted to a vice president.

* * *

In Eisenhower's absence at the Big Four meeting in Geneva, Nixon presided over meetings of the Cabinet, the National Security Council, and the weekly meeting with legislative leaders. He has traveled extensively in the role of "personal representative" of the President.

Eisenhower has on several occasions since his heart attack spoken of Nixon in glowing terms at White House press conferences and elsewhere.

STRONGER POSITION

One New York Republican, when informed of Eisenhower's possible decision, said:

"I'd hate to see the President forced to make such a hard decision. But it would probably give him additional years of life as an elder statesman, and at the same time it would put the Republicans in a much stronger position next November than they would be if they had to present a comparatively unknown nominee to the voters.

But another Republican leader, reached by phone in Washington, said:

"Nothing short of a question of his survival would induce Eisenhower to step down before his term is up. If he did, and Nixon became President, and something happened to Nixon, Speaker Rayburn would become President and the Democrats would have control of the White House without a contest. I'm sure the President will bear that in mind if his medical report is discouraging."

He told intimates in early September that as he grew older it became increasingly difficult for him to reach the physical and mental peak demanded of him before he had to make a major decision. He estimated that he averaged 10 such decisions every day.

'Pioneers for Kefauver' Open Office in Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—The "Pioneers for Kefauver" opened a campaign headquarters in Detroit yesterday to boost the candidacy of Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) for the Democratic nomination for president.

John Danta of East Detroit was in charge of the headquarters and said Kefauver would be welcomed next Saturday when he comes to Michigan to address a rally of Seventh Congressional District Democrats at Utica.
